20th CONGRESS,
2d SESSION.

H. R. 396.

JANUARY 28, 1829.

Read twice, and committed to a Committee of the Whole House to-morrow.

Mr. M'KEAN, from the Committee on the Post Office and Post Roads, to which had been referred the case of Johnson Goodwill, reported the following bill:

A BILL

For the relief of Johnson Goodwill.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Postmaster General be, and he is hereby, authorized and directed to pay unto Johnson Goodwill two hundred dollars, being the amount of a reward offered by Julius Guiteau, postmaster at Buffalo, in the State of New York, for the recaption of Henry Bainbridge Cox, a mail-robber.
