

103^D CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

H. J. RES. 205

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES

OCTOBER 27 (legislative day, OCTOBER 13), 1993

Received

JOINT RESOLUTION

Designating the week beginning October 31, 1993, as “National Health Information Management Week”.

Whereas accurate, timely, and complete medical records and related health information are vital in planning and providing for quality health care for the people of the United States;

Whereas such records and information are vital to providing health care to an individual beginning at the birth of the individual and continuing throughout the life of the individual;

Whereas public concern about the quality, appropriateness, and effectiveness of health care is escalating;

Whereas specific skills in evaluating and reporting the results of health care are required to provide public accountability;

Whereas equitable third-party reimbursement for health care is dependent on health information that is collected, analyzed, classified, verified, and disseminated;

Whereas public awareness of patient rights, including the right of a patient to access the patient's own medical information, is increasing;

Whereas the needs and requirements for health information of the health care industry and the use of the information by the industry are changing rapidly;

Whereas the rate of such changes will continue to increase as new health care technology is used and new health care reform policies are promulgated;

Whereas the 35,000 members of the American Health Information Management Association are the health information leaders of the United States; and

Whereas such members have demonstrated commitment to, and expertise in, health information management: Now, therefore, be it
