

103^D CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

H. R. 2447

To amend the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 to establish and strengthen policies and programs for the early stabilization of world population through the global expansion of reproductive choice, and for other purposes.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

JUNE 17, 1993

Mr. BEILENSON (for himself and Mrs. MORELLA) introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs

A BILL

To amend the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 to establish and strengthen policies and programs for the early stabilization of world population through the global expansion of reproductive choice, and for other purposes.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the “International Popu-5 lation Stabilization and Reproductive Health Act”.

1 SEC. 2. AUTHORITIES RELATING TO UNITED STATES POPU-
2 LATION ASSISTANCE.

3 Part I of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 is 4 amended—

5 (1) in section 104(b), by striking “on such 6 terms and conditions as he may determine” and in-7 serting “in accordance with the provisions of chapter 8 12”; and

9 (2) by adding at the end the following new 10 chapter:

11 “CHAPTER 12—UNITED STATES
12 POPULATION ASSISTANCE

13 “SEC. 499. DEFINITION.

14 “For purposes of this chapter, the term ‘United 15 States population assistance’ means assistance provided 16 under section 104(b) of this Act.

17 “SEC. 499A. CONGRESSIONAL FINDINGS.

18 “The Congress makes the following findings:

19 “(1) Throughout much of the world, the lack of 20 access of women, particularly poor women, to basic 21 reproductive health services and information under-22 mines women’s struggle for self-determination, con-23 tributes to death and suffering among women and 24 their children, puts pressure on the land, forests, 25 and other natural resources on which many poor
26 families depend for their survival, and in other ways

1 vitiates the efforts of families to lift themselves out 2 of the poverty in which over 1,000,000,000 of the 3 world's more than 5,000,000,000 people live.

4 “(2) During the 1980s, nearly 800,000,000
5 people, a number three times greater than the popu-6 lation of the United States, were added to the 7 world's population.

8 “(3) Birthrates in many developing countries 9 are declining too slowly to prevent a near tripling of 10 the world's population before stabilization can occur, 11 and although birthrates in some countries have de-
12 clined faster in recent years than anticipated, world
13 progress toward stabilization was noticeably slower 14 in the 1980s than in the 1970s.

15 “(4) After more than a quarter century of expe-16 rience and research, the actions needed to bring 17 about a rapid decline in birthrates are well docu-
18 mented. The ability to exercise reproductive choice 19 must be expanded, and such expansion should occur 20 through broader dissemination and choice of contra-21 ceptive services that involve the community and are 22 sufficient to meet the needs and values of those who 23 use them.

24 “(5) Although a number of religious and cul-
25 tural barriers to family planning remain, attitudes

1 toward modern contraception have changed over the 2 last decade, and in many countries a large and 3 growing unmet desire exists for deferring or prevent-4 ing pregnancy among women and men who are too 5 poor to pay the full cost of services.

6 “(6) Although many social and economic factors 7 affect desired family size, organized, accessible, and 8 affordable family planning programs have the most 9 rapid and strongest effect on birthrate because they 10 enable women and their families to determine the 11 timing and number of their children. Widespread 12 voluntary adoption of modern family planning meth-13 ods and their successful long-term use depend on the 14 quality of reproductive health care services offered 15 and their responsiveness to individual and commu-
16 nity needs and values.

17 “(7) Millions of women, most of them mothers, 18 are killed or injured each year as a result of unsafe
19 abortions. The availability of safe and effective fam-20 ily planning methods and services can help prevent 21 many of these tragedies.

22 “(8) The impact of human population growth,
23 combined with widespread poverty and unsustainable
24 patterns of natural resource consumption, is evident
25 in mounting signs of stress on the world’s environ-

1 ment, particularly in tropical deforestation, erosion
2 of arable land and watersheds, extinction of plant
3 and animal species, global climate change, waste 4 management, and air and water pollution.

5 “(9) Traditionally, United States population as-6 sistance has not focused on achieving specific goals
7 with respect to international population stabilization
8 or the expansion of reproductive choice. The absence 9 of clear goals in those areas has led to a lack of cri-
10 teria for allocating funds and evaluating program 11 success.

12 “SEC. 499B. DECLARATION OF POLICY.

13 “(a) IN GENERAL.—The Congress declares that to 14 reduce population growth and stabilize world population 15 at the lowest level feasible and thereby protect the global 16 environment, to provide greater self-determination for 17 women, and to improve the health and well-being of the 18 world’s families, a principal objective of the foreign policy
19 of the United States shall be to assist the international 20 community to—

21 “(1) achieve universal availability of high qual-22 ity family planning services through a wide choice of 23 safe and effective means of contraception, including 24 programs of public education and other health and

1 development efforts that enable individuals to choose 2 smaller families;

3 “(2) ensure that all individuals and couples, re-
4 gardless of age or marital status, are able to exercise
5 their right to decide whether and how many children 6 to have and their right to reproductive health by im-
7 proving the quality and accessibility of accountable
8 family planning and reproductive health programs;

9 “(3) improve reproductive health, especially of 10 women and young people, through maternal and 11 child health and nutrition services, and through sex-12 uality and gender education services, especially for 13 young people; and

14 “(4) achieve population stabilization at a level
15 consistent with the maintenance of the natural re-
16 source base and with investment in human re-
17 sources, within a broad strategy to adjust consump-18 tion levels and patterns in all countries.

19 “(b) FINANCIAL TARGETS.—The Congress estab-
20 lishes a target for global expenditures in developing coun-21 tries from all domestic and international sources by the 22 year 2000 of at least $11,000,000,000 for population pro-
23 grams described in section 499C, and establishes a goal
24 for United States population assistance by the year 2000

1 of $1,400,000,000 in constant 1990 dollars, not including 2 funds available for other reproductive health programs.

3 “SEC. 499C. AUTHORIZED ACTIVITIES.

4 “United States population assistance is authorized to 5 provide—

6 “(1) support for the expansion of quality, af-7 fordable, voluntary family planning services, which 8 emphasize informed choice among a variety of safe 9 and effective family planning methods and closely re-10 lated reproductive health care services, including the 11 prevention and control of sexually transmitted dis-
12 eases and reproductive tract infections;

13 “(2) support for adequate and regular supplies
14 of quality contraceptive and other commodities, com-15 prehensive counseling, appropriate followup, and 16 support for programs that emphasize the use of the 17 mass media to improve public knowledge of contra-18 ceptive methods and related disease prevention 19 methods and where they may be obtained and to 20 promote the benefits of family planning and repro-
21 ductive health to individuals, families, and commu-
22 nities;

23 “(3) support to United States and foreign re-24 search institutions and other appropriate entities for 25 biomedical research to develop and evaluate im-

1 proved methods of safe and effective contraception
2 and related disease control, with particular emphasis 3 on methods which—

4 “(A) are likely to be safer, easier to use,
5 easier to make available in developing country
6 settings, and less expensive than current 7 methods;

8 “(B) are controlled by women, including 9 barrier methods and vaginal microbicides;

10 “(C) are likely to prevent the spread of 11 sexually transmitted diseases; and 12 “(D) encourage and enable men to take 13 greater responsibility for their own fertility;

14 “(4) support for field research on the character-
15 istics of programs most likely to result in sustained 16 use of effective family planning in meeting each indi-17 vidual’s lifetime reproductive goals, with particular 18 emphasis on the perspectives of family planning 19 users, including support for relevant social and be-20 havioral research focusing on such factors as the 21 use, non-use, and unsafe or ineffective use of various 22 contraceptive and related-disease control methods;

23 “(5) support for the development of new evalua-
24 tion techniques and performance criteria for family

1 planning programs, emphasizing the family planning
2 user's perspective and reproductive goals;

3 “(6) support for research and research dissemi-4 nation related to population policy development, in-5 cluding demographic and health surveys to assess 6 population trends, measure unmet needs, and evalu-7 ate program impact, and support for policy-relevant 8 research on the relationships between population 9 trends, poverty, and environmental management, in-10 cluding implications for sustainable agriculture,
11 agroforestry, biodiversity, water resources, energy
12 use, and local and global climate change;

13 “(7) support for research and public informa-
14 tion dissemination on the health and welfare con-
15 sequences of unsafe abortions and for the equipment 16 and training necessary for the medical treatment of 17 the complications of unsafe abortions;

18 “(8) support for special programs to reach ado-
19 lescents and young adults, regardless of marital sta-
20 tus, before they begin childbearing, including health 21 education programs which stress responsible parent-22 hood and the health risks of unprotected sexual 23 intercourse, as well as service programs designed to 24 meet the information and contraception needs of 25 adolescents and young adults; and

1 “(9) support for a broad array of governmental 2 and nongovernmental communication strategies de-3 signed—

4 “(A) to create public awareness worldwide;

5 “(B) to generate a consensus on the need 6 to address reproductive health issues and the 7 problems associated with continued world popu-
8 lation growth;

9 “(C) to emphasize the need to educate men 10 as well as women and mobilize their support for 11 reproductive rights and responsibilities; and 12 “(D) to make family planning an estab-

13 lished community norm.

14 “SEC. 499D. TERMS AND CONDITIONS.

15 “United States population assistance is authorized to 16 be provided subject to the following conditions:

17 “(1) Such assistance may only support, directly 18 or through referral, those activities which provide a 19 broad range of contraceptive methods permitted by 20 individual country policy and a broad choice of pub-21 lic and private family planning services, including 22 networks for community-based and subsidized com-
23 mercial distribution of contraceptives.

24 “(2) No program supported by United States
25 population assistance may deny an individual family

1 planning services because of such individual's inabil-
2 ity to pay all or part of the cost of such services.

3 “(3) Family planning services and related re-4 productive health care services supported by United 5 States population assistance shall maintain the high-
6 est medical standards possible under local conditions 7 and shall ensure regular oversight of the quality of 8 medical care and other services offered.

9 “(4) United States-supported reproductive 10 health programs shall in each recipient country sup-11 port to the extent possible an integrated approach, 12 consistent with respect for the rights of women as 13 decisionmakers in matters of reproduction and sexu-
14 ality, for the provision of public and private repro-15 ductive health services.

16 “(5) United States population assistance pro-
17 grams shall furnish only those contraceptive drugs
18 and devices which have received approval for mar-
19 keting in the United States by the Food and Drug 20 Administration or which have been tested and deter-
21 mined to be safe and effective under research proto-22 cols comparable to those required by the Food and 23 Drug Administration or have been determined to be 24 safe by an appropriate international organization or

1 the relevant health authority in the country to which 2 they are provided.

3 “(6) Reproductive health services supported by 4 the United States shall be designed to take into ac-
5 count the needs of individuals and couples, including 6 the constraints on women’s time, by involving com-7 munities, particularly representatives of women,
8 through appropriate training and recruitment ef-
9 forts, in the design, management, and ongoing eval-10 uation of services. The design of such services shall 11 stress easy accessibility, by locating services as close 12 as possible to potential users, by keeping hours of 13 service convenient, and by improving communica-
14 tions between users and providers through commu-
15 nity outreach and involvement. The evaluation of re-16 productive health services also shall not use as a 17 measure of program success the degree of longevity 18 or permanency of any contraceptive method.

19 “(7) United States population assistance to ad-20 olescent fertility programs shall be provided in the 21 context of prevailing norms and customs in the re-22 cipient country.

23 “(8) None of the funds made available by the 24 United States Government to foreign governments, 25 international organizations, or nongovernmental or-

1 organizations may be used to coerce any person to un-
2 dergo contraceptive sterilization or involuntary abor-
3 tion or to accept any other method of fertility 4 control.

5 “SEC. 499E. ELIGIBILITY FOR POPULATION ASSISTANCE.

6 “(a) ELIGIBLE COUNTRIES.—Notwithstanding any 7 other provision of law, United States population assistance
8 shall be available, directly or through intermediary organi-9 zations, to any country which the President determines 10 has met one or more of the following criteria:

11 “(1) The country accounts for a significant pro-12 portion of the world’s annual population increment.

13 “(2) The country has significant unmet needs
14 for methods of contraception, prevention and treat-15 ment of sexually transmitted diseases and acquired
16 immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS), and obstetric
17 and gynecological care, and requires foreign assist-18 ance to directly implement, expand, or sustain qual-
19 ity reproductive health services for all its people.

20 “(3) The country demonstrates a strong com-
21 mitment to population stabilization and to com-
22 prehensive reproductive health care strategies 23 through policies, programs and the commitment of 24 domestic funds to improve service and make services 25 more widely available.

1 “(b) ELIGIBILITY OF NONGOVERNMENTAL AND MUL-
2 TILATERAL ORGANIZATIONS.—In determining eligibility
3 for United States population assistance, the President
4 shall not subject nongovernmental and multilateral organi-5 zations to requirements which are more restrictive than 6 requirements applicable to foreign governments for such 7 assistance.

8 “SEC. 499F. PARTICIPATION IN MULTILATERAL ORGANIZA-
9 TIONS.

10 “(a) FINDING.—The Congress recognizes that the re-
11 cent attention in government policies toward population
12 stabilization owes much to the efforts of the United Na-
13 tions and its specialized agencies and organizations, par-14 ticularly the United Nations Population Fund.

15 “(b) AVAILABILITY OF FUNDS.—United States popu-16 lation assistance shall be available for contributions to the 17 United Nations Population Fund in such amounts as the 18 President determines would be commensurate with United 19 States contributions to other multilateral organizations
20 and with the contributions of other donor countries.

21 “(c) PROHIBITIONS.—(1) The prohibitions contained 22 in section 104(f) of this Act shall apply to the funds made 23 available for the United Nations Population Fund.

24 “(2) No United States population assistance may be 25 available to the United Nations Population Fund unless

1 such assistance is held in a separate account and not com-
2 mingled with any other funds.

3 “(3) No funds may be available for the United Na-4 tions Population Fund unless the Fund agrees to prohibit 5 the use of those funds to carry out any program, project, 6 or activity that involves the use of coerced abortion or in-7 voluntary sterilization.

8 “(d) ALLOCATION OF FUNDS.—Of the funds made 9 available for United States population assistance, the 10 President shall make available for the Special Programme 11 of Research, Development and Research Training in 12 Human Reproduction for each of the fiscal years 1994 and 13 1995 an amount commensurate with the contributions of 14 the other donor countries for the purpose of furthering 15 international cooperation in the development and evalua-16 tion of contraceptive technology.

17 “SEC. 499G. SUPPORT FOR NONGOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZA-
18 TIONS.

19 “(a) FINDINGS.—The Congress finds that—

20 “(1) in many developing countries, nongovern-21 mental entities, including private and voluntary or-22 ganizations and private sector entities, such as the 23 International Planned Parenthood Federation and 24 the Planned Parenthood Federation of America, are 25 the most appropriate and effective providers of Unit-

1 ed States assistance to population and family plan-2 ning activities; and

3 “(2) in particular, organizations and groups
4 founded by women or in which women have signifi-
5 cant and meaningful participation, and which are 6 committed to promoting women’s reproductive health
7 rights through client-oriented programs and activi-8 ties, have proven the most effective of all.

9 “(b) PROCEDURES.—The President shall establish 10 simplified procedures for the development and approval of 11 programs to be carried out by nongovernmental organiza-
12 tions that have demonstrated—

13 “(1) a capacity to undertake quality, effective, 14 client-oriented reproductive health and population 15 activities which encourage significant involvement by 16 private health practitioners, employer-based health
17 services, unions, and cooperative health organiza-
18 tions; and

19 “(2) a commitment to quality, client-oriented 20 reproductive health care for women.

21 “(c) PRIORITY FOR NONGOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZA-22 TIONS.—The largest share of United States population as-23 sistance made available for any fiscal year shall be made
24 available through United States and foreign nongovern-25 mental organizations.

1 “SEC. 499H. REPORTS TO CONGRESS.

2 “The President shall prepare and submit to the Con-3 gress, as part of the annual presentation materials on for-4 eign assistance, a report on world progress toward popu-5 lation stabilization and universal reproductive choice. The 6 report shall include—

7 “(1) estimates of expenditures on the popu-
8 lation activities described in section 499C by na-
9 tional governments, donor agencies, and private sec-
10 tor entities;

11 “(2) an assessment by country of the availabil-12 ity and use of all methods of contraception and 13 abortion, whether lawful or unlawful in that country;

14 “(3) an analysis by country and region of the 15 impact of population trends on a set of key social, 16 economic, political, and environmental indicators,
17 which shall be identified by the President in the first 18 report submitted pursuant to this section and ana-19 lyzed in that report and each subsequent report; and 20 “(4) a detailed statement of prior year and pro-

21 posed direct and indirect allocations of population
22 assistance, by country, which describes how each 23 country allocation meets the criteria set forth in this 24 section.”.

1 SEC. 3. AUTHORIZATIONS OF APPROPRIATIONS.

2 Section 104(g)(1) of the Foreign Assistance Act of 3 1961 (22 U.S.C. 2151b(g)(1) is amended by amending 4 subparagraph (A) to read as follows:

5 “(A) $725,000,000 for fiscal year 1994 and 6 $800,000,000 for fiscal year 1995 to carry out sub-7 section (b) of this section; and”.

8 SEC. 4. ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT INITIA-
9 TIVES TO STABILIZE WORLD POPULATION.

10 (a) CONGRESSIONAL FINDINGS.—The Congress
11 makes the following findings:

12 (1) Women represent 50 percent of the world’s 13 human resource potential. Therefore, improving the 14 health, social, and economic status of women and in-15 creasing their productivity are essential for economic 16 progress in all countries.

17 (2) Throughout the world, women who partici-
18 pate in the social, economic, and political affairs of 19 their communities are more likely to exercise their 20 choice about childbearing than women who do not 21 participate in such activities.

22 (3) Effective economic development strategies
23 address issues such as infant and child survival
24 rates, educational opportunities, especially literacy
25 programs, for girls and women, and gender equality 26 in development.

1 (4) Comprehensive population stabilization ef-
2 forts which include both family planning services
3 and economic development activities achieve lower 4 birth rates and stimulate more development than 5 those which pursue these objectives independently.

6 (5) The most powerful, long-term influence on 7 birthrates is education, especially educational attain-8 ment among women. The education of women also 9 has a strong influence on other aspects of family
10 welfare, including child survival. World-wide statis-
11 tics, however, indicate that the number of school-age 12 children, especially girls, not attending school is 13 growing annually.

14 (6) Each year, nearly 15,000,000 children
15 under the age of 5 die, most from preventable
16 causes. Wider availability of vaccines, simple treat-17 ments for diarrheal disease and respiratory infec-
18 tions, and improved nutrition could prevent many of 19 these deaths.

20 (7) Each year, 500,000 or more women world-
21 wide die from complications related to pregnancy, 22 childbirth, or illegal abortion. Another 10 million 23 women annually suffer long-term illness or perma-
24 nent physical impairment from such causes.

1 (8) In many countries, high levels of mortality 2 and morbidity among women of childbearing age are 3 directly related to inadequate or inaccessible repro-4 ductive health care services.

5 (9) Many women are their family's principal 6 caregiver and chief source of economic support. The 7 death of a mother substantially increases the risk of 8 neglect, abandonment, or death for her young 9 children.

10 (10) Malnutrition and anemia are widespread 11 among poor women in their childbearing years, yet
12 the worldwide campaign to encourage breastfeeding
13 has devoted little attention to the nutritional needs
14 of nursing mothers, or in the improvement of nutri-15 tional and health levels of women in general.

16 (11) During the 1990s, women, especially in 17 Africa, face substantially increased risks of death or 18 disability from sexually transmitted diseases. During 19 the 1990s, more than 3,000,000 women in Africa 20 will die of the acquired immune deficiency syndrome
21 (AIDS), leaving more than 5,000,000 orphans.

22 (b) DECLARATION OF POLICY.—Congress declares
23 that, in order to further the United States foreign policy 24 objective of assisting the international community in 25 achieving universal availability of quality family planning

1 services and stabilizing world population, additional objec-
2 tives of the foreign policy of the United States shall be—

3 (1) to expand basic education opportunities for 4 girls and women;

5 (2) to reduce the gap between male and female
6 levels of literacy and between male and female levels 7 of primary and secondary school enrollment;

8 (3) to help ensure that women worldwide have 9 the opportunity to become equal partners with men 10 in the development of their societies;

11 (4) to reduce global maternal and infant mor-12 tality rates; and

13 (5) to improve worldwide overall reproductive 14 health, maternal and child health status, and quality 15 of life.

16 (c) AUTHORIZED ACTIVITIES.—United States devel-
17 opment assistance shall be available, on a priority basis, 18 for—

19 (1) countries which either have adopted and im-
20 plemented, or have agreed to adopt and implement, 21 strategies to help ensure, by the year 2000—

22 (A) the completion of primary school edu-
23 cation by no less than 80 percent of the coun-
24 try's primary school-age children;

1 (B) the reduction of adult illiteracy by at 2 least one-half the country's 1990 level; and

3 (C) the elimination of the gap between 4 male and female levels of literacy and between 5 male and female levels of primary and second-6 ary school enrollment;

7 (2) governmental and nongovernmental pro-
8 grams which, with respect to a targeted country, are 9 intended—

10 (A) to reduce significantly malnutrition 11 among the country's children under 5 years of 12 age;

13 (B) to maintain immunizations against 14 childhood diseases for significant segments of 15 the country's children; and

16 (C) to reduce the number of childhood
17 deaths in the country which result from diar-18 rheal disease and acute respiratory infections;

19 (3) governmental and nongovernmental pro-
20 grams which are intended to increase women's pro-
21 ductivity through improved access to appropriate 22 labor-saving technology, vocational training, and ex-
23 tension services and access to credit and child care; 24 and

1 (4) governmental and nongovernmental pro-
2 grams which are intended to increase the access of 3 girls and women to comprehensive reproductive 4 health care services pursuant to subsection (d).

5 (d) SAFE MOTHERHOOD INITIATIVE.—(1)(A) The 6 President is authorized to establish a grant program, to 7 be known as the Safe Motherhood Initiative, to help im-
8 prove the access of girls and women worldwide to com-9 prehensive reproductive health care services.

10 (B) Such program shall be carried out in accordance 11 with this section and shall be subject to the same terms, 12 conditions, prohibitions, and restrictions as are applicable
13 to assistance made available under sections 499D, 499E, 14 and 499F of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961.

15 (2) Eligible for assistance under this section are com-
16 prehensive reproductive health programs which empha-
17 size—

18 (A) contraceptive services;

19 (B) prenatal care and screening for high risk
20 pregnancies, and improved access to safe delivery
21 services for women with high risk pregnancies;

22 (C) supplemental food programs for pregnant 23 and nursing women;

24 (D) expanded and coordinated programs to pre-25 vent, detect, and treat sexually transmitted diseases,

1 including acquired immune deficiency syndrome
2 (AIDS), reproductive tract infections, and other 3 chronic reproductive health problems;

4 (E) programs to eliminate traditional practices
5 injurious to women's health, including female genital 6 mutilation; and

7 (F) improvements in the practice of midwifery, 8 including outreach to traditional birth attendants.

9 (e) REPORTS TO CONGRESS.—(1) Not later than De-10 cember 31, 1994, the President shall prepare and submit 11 to the Congress a report which includes—

12 (A) estimates of the total financial resources 13 needed to achieve, by the year 2000, the specific ob-14 jectives set forth in subsection (c) with respect to 15 education, rates of illiteracy, malnutrition, immuni-
16 zation, maternal and child mortality and morbidity, 17 and improvements in the economic productivity of 18 women;

19 (B) an analysis of such estimates which sepa-20 rately lists the total financial resources needed from 21 the United States, other donor nations, and non-gov-22 ernmental organizations;

23 (C) an analysis, by country, which—

24 (i) identifies the legal, social, economic,
