A BILL

To facilitate the establishment of community development financial institutions.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the “Community Develop-
5 ment Banking and Financial Institutions Act of 1993”.

6 SEC. 2. FINDINGS AND PURPOSE.

7 (a) FINDINGS.—The Congress finds that—

1           (1) many of the Nation's urban and rural com-
2           munities and Indian reservations face critical social 3           and economic problems arising in part from the lack 4           of economic growth, people living in poverty, and the 5           lack of employment and other opportunities;

6           (2) the restoration and maintenance of the 7           economies of these communities will require coordi-
8           nated development strategies, intensive supportive
9           services, and increased access to capital and credit 10          for development activities, including investment in 11          businesses, housing, commercial real estate, human 12          development, and other activities that promote the 13          long-term economic and social viability of the com-
14          munity;

15          (3) in many urban and rural communities, low-
16          and moderate-income neighborhoods, and Indian res-
17          ervations, there is a shortage of capital and credit
18          for business and affordable housing;

19          (4) access to capital and credit is essential to 20          unleash the untapped entrepreneurial energy of 21          America's poorest communities and to empower indi-
22          viduals and communities to become self-sufficient; 23          and

24          (5) community development financial institu-
25          tions have proven their ability to identify and re-

1        spond to community needs for capital, credit, and 2        development services in the absence of, or as a com-
3        plement to, services provided by other lenders.

4        (b) PURPOSE.—The purpose of this Act is to create
5        a Community Development Banking and Financial Insti-
6        tutions Fund that will support a program of investment 7        in and assistance to community development financial in-8        stitutions. The Community Development Banking and Fi-
9        nancial Institutions Fund will provide financial and tech-
10       nical assistance, including training, to community develop-
11       ment financial institutions, serve as a national information
12       clearinghouse, and be an institutional voice for community
13       development. The community development financial insti-
14       tutions that the Community Development Banking and 15       Financial Institutions Fund supports will provide capital, 16       credit, and development services to targeted investment
17       areas or populations, and will promote economic revitaliza-
