Mr. PELL (by request) introduced the following bill; which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations

A BILL

For reform in emerging new democracies and support and help for improved partnership with Russia, Ukraine, and other new independent States.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLES.

4 This Act may be cited as the “Act for reform in 5 emerging new democracies and support and help for im-
6 proved partnership with Russia, Ukraine, and other new 7 independent States” or the “FRIENDSHIP with Russia,
8 Ukraine, and other new independent States Act”.

1 TITLE I—POLICY OF FRIENDSHIP AND CO-
2 OPERATION BETWEEN THE UNITED
3 STATES AND RUSSIA, UKRAINE, AND
4 THE OTHER INDEPENDENT STATES OF
5 THE FORMER SOVIET UNION

6 SEC. 101. FINDINGS.

7 The Congress finds that—

8 (1) the Vancouver Declaration issued by Presi-
9 dent Clinton and President Yeltsin marked a new 10 milestone in the development of the spirit of co-
11 operation and partnership between the United States
12 and Russia, and the Congress affirms its support for 13 the principles contained therein;

14 (2) the Vancouver Declaration underscored—

15 (A) that a dynamic and effective partner-
16 ship between the United States and Russia is 17 vital to the success of Russia's historic trans-
18 formation;

19 (B) that the rapid integration of Russia
20 into the community of democratic nations and 21 the world economy is important to the national 22 interest of the United States; and

23 (C) that cooperation between the United
24 States and Russia is essential to the peaceful
25 resolution of international conflicts and the pro-

1 motion of democratic values, the protection of 2 human rights, and the solution of global prob-
3 lems, such as environmental pollution, terror-
4 ism, and narcotics trafficking;

5 (3) the Congress passed the FREEDOM Sup-
6 port Act, as well as other legislation including the 7 Soviet Nuclear Threat Reduction Act of 1991 and 8 the Former Soviet Union Demilitarization Act of 9 1992, to help meet the historic opportunities and 10 challenges presented by the transformation that has 11 taken place, and is continuing to take place, in what 12 once was the Soviet Union;

13 (4) the process of reform in Russia, Ukraine,
14 and the other independent States of the former So-
15 viet Union is ongoing, and the holding of a referen-16 dum in Russia on April 25, 1993, that was free and 17 fair, and that reflected the support of the Russian 18 people for the process of continued and strengthened
19 democratic and economic reform, represents an im-
20 portant and encouraging hallmark in this ongoing
21 process;

22 (5) in support of this process, it is important
23 that reformers and democrats in the independent
24 States of the former Soviet Union recognize the re-
25 solve of the people of the United States to do busi-

1 ness with these States in a new spirit of friendship
2 and cooperation, and the support of the people of 3 the United States for continued democratic and eco-
4 nomic reform; and

5 (6) there remain in force many statutory provi-
6 sions that are relics of the cold war, and repeals or 7 revisions of these provisions can play an important 8 role in fostering and strengthening the bonds of 9 trust and friendship, as well as mutually beneficial 10 trade and economic relations, between the United 11 States and Russia, the United States and Ukraine,
12 and the United States and the other independent
13 States of the former Soviet Union.

14 SEC. 102. STATUTORY PROVISIONS THAT HAVE BEEN AP-
15 PLICABLE TO THE SOVIET UNION.

16 (a) IN GENERAL.—There are numerous statutory 17 provisions that were enacted in the context of United 18 States relations with a country, the Soviet Union, that are 19 fundamentally different from the relations that now exist
20 between the United States and Russia, between the United 21 States and Ukraine, and between the United States and 22 the other independent States of the former Soviet Union.

23 (b) EXTENT OF SUCH PROVISIONS.—(1) Many of the 24 provisions referred to in subsection (a) imposed limitations
25 specifically with respect to the Soviet Union, and its con-

1 stituent republics, or utilized language that reflected the 2 tension that existed at that time between the United 3 States and the Soviet Union. Other such provisions did
4 not refer specifically to the Soviet Union, but nonetheless
5 were directed, or may be construed as having been di-
6 rected, against the Soviet Union on the basis of the rela-
7 tions that existed at that time between the United States
8 and the Soviet Union, particularly in its role as the leading 9 communist country.

10 (2) The provisions referred to in paragraph (1) in-11 clude, in addition to those revised or eliminated by this 12 Act—

13 (A) the Joint Resolution providing for the des-
14 ignation of the third week of July as “Captive Na-
15 tions Week” (Public Law 86–90);

16 (B) the Communist Control Act of 1954 (Public
17 Law 83–637);

18 (C) provisions in the Immigration and National-
19 ity Act (Public Law 82–414), including sections
20 101(a)(40), 101(e)(3), and 313(a)(3);

21 (D) section 2 of the Joint Resolution to pro-
22 mote peace and stability in the Middle East (Public
23 Law 85–7);

24 (E) section 43 of the Bretton Woods Agreement
25 Act (Public Law 79–171); and

1 (F) section 804 of the Foreign Relations Au-
2 thorization Act, Fiscal Year 1986 and 1987 (Public
3 Law 99-93).

4 (c) FINDING AND AFFIRMATION.—The Congress
5 finds and affirms that provisions such as those described 6 in this section should not be construed as being directed
7 against Russia, Ukraine, or the other independent States
8 of the former Soviet Union, connoting an adversarial rela-
9 tionship between the United States and these States, or 10 signifying or implying in any manner unfriendliness to-11 ward such States.
