

104TH CONGRESS
2D SESSION

H. R. 3655

To amend title 18, United States Code, to reform Federal prisons.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

JUNE 13, 1996

Mr. TATE introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary

A BILL

To amend title 18, United States Code, to reform Federal prisons.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE AND FINDINGS.

4 (a) SHORT TITLE.—This Act may be cited as the
5 “Federal Prison Reform Act of 1996”.

6 (b) FINDINGS.—The Congress finds that—

7 (1) criminals have become an increasing threat
8 to our personal safety;

9 (2) law-abiding citizens feel less secure and
10 more afraid because of the threat of crime, especially
11 violent crime;

1 (3) unless criminals face serious consequences
2 for their actions, they will continue to threaten our
3 communities;

4 (4) criminals should pay dearly for violating our
5 laws and threatening our communities;

6 (5) Federal prisons must enforce real punish-
7 ment by ending the use of amenities, such as exer-
8 cise equipment, cable television, and pool tables; and

9 (6) prison incarceration should focus on the de-
10 velopment of a meaningful work ethic through hard
11 labor and stress the importance of responsibility,
12 self-control, discipline, and respect for law abiding
13 Americans.
