10 or vary the premium, for an individual based on the health 11 status, medical condition, claims experience, receipt of

1 health care, medical history, anticipated need for health
2 care services, disability, or lack of evidence of insurability.

3 (b) TREATMENT OF PREEXISTING CONDITION EX-
4 CLUSIONS FOR ALL SERVICES.—

5 (1) IN GENERAL.—A health plan may impose a
6 limitation or exclusion of benefits relating to treat-
7 ment of a condition based on the fact that the condi-
8 tion preexisted the effective date of the plan with re-9 spect to an individual only if—

10 (A) the condition was diagnosed or treated
11 during the 3-month period ending on the day

18 birth, was covered under the plan; or

19 (D) the limitation or exclusion does not 20 apply to pregnancy.

21 (2) CREDITING OF PREVIOUS COVERAGE.—A 22 health plan shall provide that if an individual under

1 existing condition shall be reduced by 1 month for 2 each month in the period of continuous coverage.

22 pose a lifetime limitation on the provision of benefits
23 under the plan.

17 a fair chance of enrollment regardless of the method by 18 which the individual seeks enrollment.

19 (d) RENEWAL OF POLICY.—

20 (1) SMALL GROUP MARKET.—A health plan is-
21 sued to a small employer or an individual purchaser 22 in the small group market shall be renewed at the 23 option of the employer or individual, if such em-24 ployer or individual purchaser remains eligible for 25 coverage under the plan.

1 (2) LARGE EMPLOYER MARKET.—A health plan
2 issued to an individual eligible for coverage under a
3 large employer plan shall be renewed at the option

7 plan may refuse to renew a policy only in the case of—

8 (1) the nonpayment of premiums;

9 (2) fraud on the part of the employer or indi-

6 standards within 6 months after the date of enact-

6 market disruption and maximize coverage rates.

7 (3) Uniform age categories and age adjustment
8 factors that reflect the relative actuarial costs of 9 benefit packages among enrollees. By the end of the 10 3-year period beginning on the effective date of this 11 section, for individuals who have attained age 18 but
