the other side saying she did not have the procedure outlawed in this bill, she did. She wrote us and told us that today and she testified that she did.

My colleagues, I am down to the last 60 seconds. This is what Coreen Costello said. Please listen:

When families like ours are given this kind В of tragic news the last people we want to В seek advice from are politicians. We talk to В our doctors, lots of doctors. We talk to our B C families and other loved ones, and we ponder long and hard into the night with our God.

Coreen asks us to vote against this bill.

It will deny women a life saving and health saving option in a tragic emergency situa-D tion. You would not do it to your own wife. D You would not do it to your own daughter. I D ask you, please, do not do it to America's wives and to America's daughters.

There is no true life exception. It was В a partial exception. It was different в than the normal Hyde language. So в this is indeed a radical proposal. Please B vote "no" on final passage. President B Clinton will veto this bill.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from New Hampshire is recognized for 2 minutes.

Mr. SMITH. Madam President, the House of Representatives recently voted overwhelming by a two-thirds majority to ban partial-birth abortion. The vote on the ban was 288–139.

This is not a radical extreme bill. It was supported by liberal Democrats such as PATRICK KENNEDY; liberal Republicans, moderate Republicans, such as SUSAN MOLINARI; pro-choice, prolife. It is not a radical bill. RICH GEP-HARDT supported it and others.

We have added a life-of-the-mother exception which was requested by some of my colleagues on both sides of the aisle. We did that. I hope we can get a similar, bipartisan overwhelming majority here in the Senate like we had in the House to stop what I believe is a very cruel practice.

Let me conclude on this point, because Senator BOXER and I have been debating this on and off for several days now. The photograph that is being displayed here is of a woman who went through a terrible ordeal. We all know that. We have great sympathy for what she went through. But she did not have the partial-birth abortion. She did not have a partial-birth abortion. This would not have stopped the procedure that Coreen Costello had.

I urge my colleagues to vote for final passage. I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. All time has expired.

The bill having been read the third time, the question is, Shall the bill pass?

The yeas and nays have been ordered. The clerk will call the roll.

The legislative clerk called the roll.

Mr. FORD. I announce that the Senator from New York [Mr. MOYNIHAN] is necessarily absent.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Are there any other Senators in the Chamber desiring to vote?

The result was announced—yeas 54, nays 44, as follows:

Moynihan

So the bill (H.R. 1833), as amended. was passed.

Mr. SMITH. Madam President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the bill was passed.

Mr. FORD. I move to lav that motion on the table.

The motion to lay on the table was agreed to.

Mr. BINGAMAN addressed the Chair. The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from New Mexico.

ORDER OF PROCEDURE

Mr. BINGAMAN. Madam President, I wish to state a couple of questions and ask for the majority leader's response, if I could, at this time.

Madam President, I know that there has been an agreement worked out with regard to the voting on the nominations and on the START II Treaty. I know that yesterday we had another discussion on the Senate floor, and the majority leader referred to his intention to, also in addition to the nominations for ambassadors, clear the rest of the items on the Executive Calendar before we left.

I just wanted to once again ask for his assurance that that is his desire and his intention before we adjourn this fall.

Mr. DOLE. Madam President, if the Senator will yield, I will just say, as I did yesterday, that it is certainly my hope that we can clear everything on the Executive Calendar before we leave this year.

I cannot give a 100 percent guarantee. Somebody might have a hard hold on something. They may not be able to get it up, and we might not be able to get cloture. But my view is we ought to accommodate where we can the executive branch, and I have always tried to do that.

Mr. BINGAMAN. I appreciate that very much. I certainly agree that that is an important thing to do.

The other issue I wanted to clarify is that the agreement calls for us to proceed to consider START II before we go out of session this year. Yesterday, again the majority leader said that it was his intent that we complete action on START II. I think it is very important that we do that.

Again, I would just ask if it is his view that we can go ahead and get that treaty voted on and sent on before we go off on the holidays.

Mr. DOLE. Again, let me indicate that I hope to take it up before Christmas. I would like to complete action before Christmas. If not, we will do it as quickly as we can when we are back here.

But I think we need to take a look at the calendar. A week from today will be the 15th. One week later is the 22d. Next week we have this State Department reorganization, Bosnia, and rangeland reform. Again, it is a question of whether we can do it.

I am advised by the distinguished chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee that he does not know of any amendments to the START II Treaty. There may be amendments. But it may not take more than a couple of hours.

So, certainly, I would like to dispose of it before we leave from here this year. We will make every effort to do SO.

Mr. BINGAMAN. Madam President. let me just say that I appreciate the fact that we do have an agreement in this unanimous-consent agreement to bring it up before we conclude the session and move to the consideration of it.

I am encouraged by the statement and by the indication of the Senator from North Carolina, the chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, that he thinks we can move to it very expeditiously.

I appreciate the majority leader's very good work on the issues. I appreciate the Senator from North Carolina, and I also, of course, appreciate the Senator from Massachusetts, who I know has worked very hard to get this agreement and, of course, the Democratic leader as well.

So thank you all.

I no longer object to proceeding on the flag amendment. I know the majority leader intends to do that tomorrow. I have no objection.

UNANIMOUS-CONSENT AGREE-MENT-SENATE JOINT RESOLU-TION 31

Mr. DOLE. If there is not, I ask at this time then that the cloture vote scheduled for Friday be vitiated, and I
