

health insurance for their families because they are less likely to work for a firm that offers insurance, and if such insurance is offered, it is often too costly for lower income workers to purchase.

(8) In 1993, 61 percent of uninsured children were in families with at least one parent working full time for the entire year the child was uninsured, and about 57 percent of uninsured children had a family income at or below 150 percent of the Federal poverty level.

(9) If Congress eliminates the Federal guarantee of Medicaid, an estimated 4,900,000 children may lose their guarantee of health care coverage, and those same children may be added to the currently projected 12,600,000 children who will be uninsured by the year 2002.

(10) Studies have shown that uninsured children are less likely than insured children to receive needed health and preventive care, which can affect their health status adversely throughout their lives, with such children less likely to have routine doctor visits, receive care for injuries, and have a regular source of medical care.

(11) The families of uninsured children are more likely to take the children to an emergency room than to a private physician or health maintenance organization.

(12) Children without health insurance are less likely to be appropriately immunized or receive other preventive care for childhood illnesses.

(13) Ensuring the health of children clearly increases their chances to become productive members of society and averts more serious or more expensive health conditions later in life, and ensuring that all pregnant women receive competent prenatal care also saves social costs.

(14) Although the United States has made great improvements in health care coverage through the Medicaid program, it is still the only developed nation that does not ensure that all of its children and pregnant women have health care coverage.

(15) The United States should not accept a status quo in which children in many neighborhoods are more likely to have access to drugs and guns than to doctors, or accept a status quo in which health care is ensured for all prisoners but not for all children.

(b) SENSE OF THE SENATE.—It is the sense of the Senate that the issue of adequate health care for our mothers and children is important to the future of the United States, and in consideration of the importance of such issue, the Senate should pass health care legislation in the 105th Congress that will ensure health care coverage for all of the United States's pregnant women and children.

DORGAN (AND FRIST) AMENDMENT NO. 3688

Mr. KENNEDY (for Mr. DORGAN, for himself and Mr. FRIST) proposed an amendment to the bill S. 1028, supra; as follows:

HELMS (AND KASSEBAUM) AMENDMENT NO. 3690

Mrs. KASSEBAUM (for Mr. HELMS, for himself and Mrs. KASSEBAUM) proposed an amendment to the bill S. 1028, supra; as follows:

Amend Title III—Miscellaneous Provisions, Section 302(a) by striking “two part study” on line 19, and inserting “three-part study” and adding Section 302(d):

“(d) EVALUATION OF ACCESS AND CHOICE.—Not later than June 1, 1998, the Secretary of Health and Human Services shall prepare and submit to the appropriate Committees of Congress a report concerning—

(1) an evaluation of the extent to which patients have direct access to, and choice of, health care provider, including specialty providers, within a network of providers, as well as the opportunity to utilize providers outside of the network, under the various types of coverage offered under the provisions of this Act;

(2) an evaluation of the cost to the insurer of providing out-of-network access to providers, and the feasibility of providing out-of-network access in all health plans offered under provisions of this Act.

(3) an evaluation of the percent of premium dollar utilized for medical care and administration of the various types of coverage offered, including coverage which permits out-of-network access and choice of provider, under provisions of this Act.

BURNS (AND HARKIN) AMENDMENT NO. 3691

Mr. BURNS (for himself and Mr. HARKIN) proposed an amendment to the bill S. 1028, supra; as follows:

On Page 71, line 19, add the following:

“SEC. 302.5. REIMBURSEMENT OF TELEMEDICINE.

The Health Care Financing Administration is directed to complete their ongoing study of reimbursement of all telemedicine services and submit a report to Congress with a proposal for reimbursement of fee-for-service medicine by March 1, 1997. The report shall utilize data compiled from the current demonstration projects already under review and gather data from other ongoing telemedicine networks. This report shall include an analysis of the cost of services provided via telemedicine.

ADDITIONAL STATEMENTS

NATIONAL RECORDS AND INFORMATION MANAGEMENT DAY

• Mr. FRIST. Mr. President, I rise today to note the observance of National Records and Information Management Day which occurred on April 2, 1996 while the Senate was in recess. The management and control of information are increasingly critical to every industry, business and government agency, and the systematic creation, distribution, storage and retrieval of records are of critical importance to the continued and efficient operation of any good organization.

The organizations that excel today and tomorrow will be those recognizing information as a major resource and structuring it as efficiently as they do their assets. An effective records management program assures the availability of information as a basis for sound decisionmaking by providing security and control against loss by mismanagement, natural disaster, theft or inadvertent destruction. All Americans should recognize the significant and important role that records management professionals render in maintaining appropriate business, civic, and government records. I commend businesses such as ARMA International who have brought National Records and Information Management Day to my attention and wish them every success as they educate the business community regarding the importance of records management. •

EARTH DAY/ARBOR DAY TRIBUTE TO THE CITY OF DETROIT

• Mr. LEVIN. Mr. President, I rise today to pay tribute to the city of Detroit for its efforts to beautify its neighborhoods and improve its natural environment. The city of Detroit on Earth Day/Arbor Day, Monday, April 22, 1996, is holding a ceremony kicking off a week long program to plant trees in parks around the city.

For its tree planting efforts, Detroit, for the ninth time, has been named a Tree City USA by the National Arbor Day Foundation. Detroit recognizes the importance that trees play in not only making our communities more attractive, but by providing tremendous environmental benefits as well. Trees produce oxygen, help clean the air, provide a habitat for wildlife and provide humankind with great visual beauty.

The city of Detroit recognizes the importance of tree planting and is committed to the continuation of its exemplary reforestation programs. I am proud of the efforts of my home city and I ask that my colleagues join me in congratulating the city of Detroit. •

THE ANTITERRORISM BILL

• Mr. MACK. Mr. President, I wish to apologize for my absence during consideration of the conference report to S. 735 due to the passing of my father. I believe that this is an essential piece of legislation to address the current deficiencies in our judicial system which made it that much easier for the tragedy in Oklahoma City to take place. In addition, this bill makes much-needed revisions to the current habeas corpus system in our country. •

STEVE JESSMORE

• Mr. LEVIN. Mr. President, I rise to honor Steve Jessmore of Saginaw, MI, who has been awarded the Robert F. Kennedy Journalism Award for outstanding coverage of the problems of the disadvantaged. Mr. Jessmore won the award in the photojournalism category for his photo essay, "Blind Faith."

"Blind Faith" follows the life of Carl, a yellow labrador retriever puppy raised by a Carrollton Township elementary school class. Carl was trained as a leader dog for the blind and eventually placed with a visually impaired man in Kansas City, MO.

Judges for the Kennedy award included journalists from the Washington Post, Knight Ridder, CNN, the Wall Street Journal, and NBC. "Blind Faith" has also won the national Lincoln University of Missouri 43d Annual Unity Awards in Media, as well as several other awards in State, regional, and national contests.

"Blind Faith" marks the first time that someone has followed the story of a leader dog since 1939, when the Rochester-based nonprofit organization that trained Carl was founded. The photos from "Blind Faith" will now be permanently on display in the Robert F. Kennedy collection of the John F. Kennedy Library in Boston.

On hearing that he had won the award, Jessmore said, "I'm real happy that so many other people get to see it now, because it's such a tremendous, positive story—kids learning early how to help other people."

I know my Senate colleagues join me in honoring Steve Jessmore for his outstanding work in the field of photojournalism. •

WHITEWATER INVESTIGATION

• Mr. GLENN. The Whitewater investigation is the longest running congressional inquiry in the recent past. At 20 months, it exceeds Abscam—9 months—the POW/MIA hearings 17—months and Watergate 16—months. It has cost the American taxpayers over $30 million which could have vaccinated 107,000 children, paid the Medicare costs of 9,200 seniors, and provided health care for nearly 7,000 families.

Mr. President, I was disappointed to learn that an agreement had been reached to continue the Whitewater investigation. Because I thought it was a poor use of the taxpayer's money, I voted against the original resolution and had the current resolution been brought to a rollcall vote, I would have voted to discontinue proceedings dealing with Whitewater.

The Whitewater investigation duplicates the ongoing independent counsel's investigation and wastes the limited time we have left in this session to pass important legislation. The independent counsel has full authority and budget to continue the investigation as long as he thinks is practicable. Calling an end to the Senate Whitewater
