A BILL

To amend trade laws and related provisions to clarify the designation of normal trade relations.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

1 SECTION 1. FINDINGS AND POLICY.

2 (a) FINDINGS.—The Congress makes the following
3 findings:

4 (1) Since the 18th century, the principle of 5 nondiscrimination among countries with which the 6 United States has trade relations, commonly re-
7 ferred to as “most-favored-nation” treatment, has 8 been a cornerstone of United States trade policy.

9 (2) Although the principle remains firmly in 10 place as a fundamental concept in United States
11 trade relations, the term “most-favored-nation” is a 12 misnomer which has led to public misunderstanding.

13 (3) It is neither the purpose nor the effect of 14 the most-favored-nation principle to treat any coun-
15 try as “most favored”. To the contrary, the principle 16 reflects the intention to confer on a country the 17 same trade benefits that are conferred on any other
18 country, that is, the intention not to discriminate
19 among trading partners.

20 (4) The term “normal trade relations” is a 21 more accurate description of the principle of non-
22 discrimination as it applies to the tariffs applicable
23 generally to imports from United States trading
24 partners, that is, the general rates of duty set forth
25 in column 1 of the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of 26 the United States.

1 (b) POLICY.—It is the sense of the Congress that—

2 (1) the language used in United States laws,
3 treaties, agreements, Executive orders, directives,
4 and regulations should more clearly and accurately
5 reflect the underlying principles of United States
6 trade policy; and

7 (2) accordingly, the term “normal trade rela-8 tions” should, where appropriate, be substituted for 9 the term “most-favored-nation”.

10 SEC. 2. CHANGE IN TERMINOLOGY.

11 (a) TRADE EXPANSION ACT OF 1962.—The heading
12 for section 251 of the Trade Expansion Act of 1962 (19 13 U.S.C. 1881) is amended to read as follows: “NORMAL
14 TRADE RELATIONS”.

15 (b) TRADE ACT OF 1974.—(1) Section 402 of the 16 Trade Act of 1974 (19 U.S.C. 2432) is amended by strik-
17 ing “(most-favored-nation treatment)” each place it ap-
18 pears and inserting “(normal trade relations)”.

19 (2) Section 601(9) of the Trade Act of 1974 (19
20 U.S.C. 2481(9)) is amended by striking “most-favored-na-
21 tion treatment” and inserting “trade treatment based on 22 normal trade relations (known under international law as 23 most-favored-nation treatment)”.

24 (c) CFTA.—Section 302(a)(3)(C) of the United 25 States Canada Free-Trade Agreement Implementation

1 Act of 1988 (19 U.S.C. 2112 note) is amended by striking
 2 “the most-favored-nation rate of duty” each place it ap-
 3 pears and inserting “the general subcolumn of the column
 4 1 rate of duty set forth in the Harmonized Tariff Schedule
 5 of the United States”.

6 (d) NAFTA.—Section 202(n) of the North American
 7 Free Trade Agreement Implementation Act (19 U.S.C.
 8 3332(n)) is amended by striking “most-favored-nation”.

9 (e) SEED ACT.—Section 2(c)(11) of the Support for 10 East European Democracy (SEED) Act of 1989 (22
 11 U.S.C. 5401(c)(11)) is amended—

12 (1) by striking “(commonly referred to as ‘most 13 favored nation status’)”, and

14 (2) by striking “MOST FAVORED NATION
 15 TRADE STATUS” in the heading and inserting
 16 “NORMAL TRADE RELATIONS”.

17 (f) UNITED STATES-HONG KONG POLICY ACT OF 18 1992.—Section 103(4) of the United States-Hong Kong
 19 Policy Act of 1992 (22 U.S.C. 5713(4)) is amended by 20 striking “(commonly referred to as ‘most-favored-nation 21 status’)”.

22 SEC. 3. SAVINGS PROVISIONS.

23 Nothing in this Act shall affect the meaning of any 24 provision of law, Executive order, Presidential proclama-
 25 tion, rule, regulation, delegation of authority, other docu-

1 ment, or treaty or other international agreement of the 2 United States relating to the principle of “most-favored-
3 nation” (or “most favored nation”) treatment. Any Execu-
4 tive order, Presidential proclamation, rule, regulation, del-
5 egation of authority, other document, or treaty or other 6 international agreement of the United States that has 7 been issued, made, granted, or allowed to become effective
8 and that is in effect on the effective date of this Act, or 9 was to become effective on or after the effective date of 10 this Act, shall continue in effect according to its terms
11 until modified, terminated, superseded, set aside, or re-
12 voked in accordance with law.
