PROCEEDINGS AND DEBATES OF THE 105th CONGRESS, SECOND SESSION

Vol. 144

WASHINGTON, MONDAY, JULY 20, 1998

No. 97

House of Representatives

The House met at 12:30 p.m. and was called to order by the Speaker pro tempore (Mr. STEARNS).

DESIGNATION OF SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore laid before the House the following communication from the Speaker:

WASHINGTON, DC,
July 20, 1998.

I hereby designate the Honorable CLIFF STEARNS to act as Speaker pro tempore on this day.

NEWT GINGRICH,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

MORNING HOUR DEBATES

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the order of the House of January 21, 1997, the Chair will now recognize Members from lists submitted by the majority and minority leaders for morning hour debates. The Chair will alternate recognition between the parties, with each party limited to 30 minutes, and each Member, except the majority leader, the minority leader, or the minority whip, limited to 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from California (Mrs. CAPPS) for 5 minutes.

THE NEED FOR MANAGED CARE REFORM

Mrs. CAPPS. Mr. Speaker, on behalf of the patients of the Central Coast of California and all across America, I rise today to say that enough is enough. With only 36 days left in this Congress, the House has yet to debate and vote on real managed care reform. The leadership has consistently blocked efforts to bring a comprehensive HMO or health care reform bill to the floor, and the American people deserve better.

Instead, this week the House will vote on partisan bills that have just been slapped together, and not the bipartisan patients' rights measures that already have significant support here in the House and all across this country. As a nurse, I know firsthand the importance of accessible, quality, patient-centered health care. Basic patients' rights can mean the difference between life and death.

As I meet with constituents in my district, no matter what the occasion, they very often come forward to me with their concerns about their health care. Sometimes these are dramatic stories which make the news, which horrify us all. More often, though, they are individual instances of promises not kept, compromised outcomes, resources depleted, and care that is just halfway good.

My fellow nurses tell me with great sadness in their voices how it hurts to deny basic health care needs; to send frail, elderly patients home alone, so dizzy they cannot even stand. Surely we can do better than this in this great Nation, with the medical resources that we have at our disposal.

Before us today, before us this week, we have the opportunity to consider landmark legislation which will allow people to choose their own doctor, which will end oppressive gag rules so patients have access to all critical treatment options, and perhaps, most importantly, which will give patients legal recourse when insurance companies deny necessary medical coverage.

Mr. Speaker, today I will be among the first to sign the bipartisan HMO reform discharge petition. This petition will allow an open debate on health care proposals that will enable doctors and patients to make essential medical decisions. If patients can sue their doctors for poor care, they should be able to sue the big insurance bureaucrats who pull the strings and are behind these cost-cutting decisions which do affect the quality of care.

As one of three nurses in Congress, I feel it is my duty to speak out. Our health care system needs serious medicine, not a political placebo.

Mr. Speaker, 230 of my colleagues, Democrats and Republicans alike, have already cosponsored both the Patients' Bill of Rights and the Patients' Access to Responsible Care Act. I strongly encourage all 230 Members to sign this discharge petition today, so we can finally pass comprehensive, bipartisan managed health care reform legislation this year.

OUR NATION'S SECURITY DEPENDS ON RESTORING OUR MILITARY FORCES

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker's announced policy of January 21, 1997, the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. JONES) is recognized during morning hour debates for 5 minutes.

Mr. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I have three military bases in my district in eastern North Carolina: Camp LeJeune Marine Base, Cherry Point Marine Air Station, and Seymour Johnson Air Force Base. Perhaps that is why I continue to join many of my colleagues who come to the floor on a regular basis to talk about the current deplorable state of our military.

I hope my colleagues and I do not speak in vain, but rather that the President and his advisers will heed the concerns of the Congress and the American people, and make sure our military is adequately prepared to defend the freedoms of this great Nation.

Mr. Speaker, when I returned home over the Fourth of July break, and each time I go home, I am reminded of how we take our Nation's military for granted. Many times when traveling in my district I have had the honor of meeting and talking with the men and women who currently and courageously serve our Nation, as well as some of the 77,000 retired military in the Third District of North Carolina.

These are the brave men and women who, serving now or in the past, dedicated their lives to preserving peace for all America. Yet, despite the enormous responsibility they have to protect our Nation's security, they are faced with drastic cuts in defense spending, and struggle every day to do more with less.

Mr. Speaker, the reality of these cuts is frightening. Our U.S. forces are 32 percent lower than 10 years ago. In 1992, when President Clinton took office, we had 18 army divisions. Now we have 10. In 1992 we had 24 fighter wings. We now have 13. In 1992 we had 546 Navy ships. Now we have just over 300.

Mr. Speaker, I am noticing an alarming trend. Perhaps this administration does not realize that cutting back on the Nation's defense capabilities threatens our ability to protect our Nation. The men and women who serve this country cannot do the job without adequate resources and without adequate forces.

It is time for the administration to make national security a priority. We cannot continue to sit idly by and allow the American people to rest in a false sense of security. The truth is, while the threat to our Nation's security grows, our military forces continue to decline.

As a Member of Congress, and like so many American citizens, I am concerned about the fact that the United States does not have a capable missile defense system, and quite frankly, America is neither prepared nor equipped to handle the threat of a ballistic missile attack.

A bipartisan commission recently issued a report confirming that a ballistic missile threat to the United States is greater than we imagine, and perhaps, even worse, that threat is growing. The report says that we have failed to understand the degree to which our Nation's security is threatened, but the threat is real.

Mr. Speaker, if there was an accident today and a Nation mistakenly launched a ballistic missile at the United States, we would have 15 minutes to act. But whether we had 15 minutes or 15 days, the issue is not time, the issue is that the United States does not have a capable missile defense system. We do not have an adequate system because we do not have the funding.

Just 2 months ago the House passed the defense authorization bill for fiscal year 1999. The administration's request for the defense budget request this year represents the 14th consecutive year of real decline in defense spending.

I want to repeat that, Mr. Speaker. The administration's request for the defense budget request this year represents the 14th consecutive year of real decline in defense spending. In fact, the defense budget request is the lowest real level of U.S. defense spending since before the Korean War. This trend cannot continue.

Mr. Speaker, the Cold War is over, but the threat to our Nation's security is ever present. Despite what the commission reports as a very real and growing threat, defense has been cut nearly in half under the Clinton administration alone. We cannot continue to stand by and let the American people assume our military has the necessary means to defend the freedoms of this Nation.

I urge my colleagues to call upon the administration to take responsibility for our Nation's decline in defense, and work with Congress to restore a military force that is capable and ready. We owe it to the American public and we owe it to ourselves. Most importantly, our Nation's security depends on it. May God bless America.

ANNOUNCING HEARING ON H.R. 836, FILIPINO VETERANS EQUITY ACT

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker's announced policy of January 21, 1997, the gentleman from California (Mr. FILNER) is recognized during morning hour debates for 5 minutes.

Mr. FILNER. Mr. Speaker, I want to again remind the Members of this House that on Wednesday, July 22, at 10 in the morning, there will be a hearing before the Committee on Veterans Affairs.

This is not just a normal oversight hearing, not just a normal markup of an ordinary bill, but the culmination of more than 50 years of struggle for justice and honor will be presented at this hearing.

A 15-year battle for justice and honor will be coming to a head at this hearing, because more than 50 years ago, the brave Filipino soldiers of World War II, soldiers who were drafted into our Armed Forces by President Roosevelt, soldiers who exhibited great courage at the epic battles of Bataan and Corregidor, were unceremoniously deprived of all their veterans' benefits by the Congress of 1946.

Whereas there were almost a quarter of a million soldiers who were involved at that time, there are less than 75,000 alive today. Their last wish, Mr. Speaker, their last wish is to have the honor and dignity that was due them restored by this Congress, the honor and dignity of being recognized as veterans of World War II.

The chairman of the Committee on Veterans' Affairs, the gentleman from Arizona (Mr. STUMP), will be conducting this hearing. The subject will be H.R. 836, the Filipino Veterans Equity Act, sponsored by the distinguished chairman of the Committee on International Relations, the gentleman from New York (Mr. GILMAN) and myself.

Almost 200 cosponsors are part of this bill now, and what this bill says is that we will restore dignity and honor to these proud veterans. We will remedy historical injustice. We will make good on the promise of what America is.

Let me just remind my colleagues that President Truman, in 1946, recognized the injustice that was being done by the Congress at that time. Here is what he said in a statement back in February of 1946. I am quoting President Truman:

Filipino army veterans are nationals of the United States and will continue in that status until July 4, 1946. They fought as American nationals under the American flag and under the direction of our military leaders. They fought with gallantry and courage under the most difficult conditions during the recent conflict. Their officers were commissioned by us. Their official organization, the Army of the Philippine Commonwealth, was taken into the Armed Forces of the United States by executive order of President Roosevelt on July 26, 1941. That order has never been revoked or amended. I consider it a moral obligation of the United States to look after the welfare of the Filipino army veterans.

That moral obligation remains with us in this Congress, as it did with the Congress of 1946. At this hearing on Wednesday, July 22, at 10 in the morning, a living history, a living American history, will be presented to the American public. We will have testimony by survivors of the infamous Death March from Bataan in 1942.

Brigadier General Nanadiego, who is now a special presidential representative for the Office of Veterans Affairs at the Embassy of the Philippines, will give his emotional story. He was on the Death March, where thousands of people died during the days that that march was taking place. There was brutality, there were assassinations, there was much suffering on that march.

General Nanadiego survived that march, survived conditions in the prisoner of war camp, and then joined the guerrilla resistance movement until the Philippines was in fact restored to its independence, first under General MacArthur, and then getting its own independence a little later.

We will hear testimony this Wednesday from Lieutenant Colonel Edwin Ramsey, an American officer in the Philippines who escaped after the fall of Bataan and organized guerrilla action in the Philippines for several years. It was that guerrilla action that held up the advance of the Japanese for much longer than American analysts thought, and allowed us to prepare the Philippines for MacArthur's return a few years later.

Let us recognize the bravery and gallantry of the Filipino veterans. Let us pass H.R. 836. Let us give equity now to these brave veterans of World War II.

NIH MUST ESTABLISH PRIORITIES BASED UPON NEED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker's announced policy of January 21, 1997, the gentleman from Florida (Mr. STEARNS) is recognized during morning hour debates for 5 minutes.

Mr. STEARNS. Mr. Speaker, no one, including myself, would ever fault the National Institutes of Health, NIH, and the valuable research being done by them. I know how important NIH is to our Nation's future, including its economic well-being. Advances in medical research to prevent, cure, or at least minimize the degree of financial devastation caused by such diseases experienced in the United States is a major reason why it is so necessary that we fund these vital research projects.

That being said, however, I must admit that I have been troubled by several newspaper stories I have read recently concerning the manner in which NIH chooses its spending priorities. One such article appeared in the Washington Post on July 9, and used as its source a recently released report from the Institute of Medicine, IOM.

The roughly 200-page report, entitled "Scientific Opportunities and Public Needs," warns that NIH must do a better job of justifying its spending decisions or it could lose its historically elevated credibility. The premise of the report is that political pressures often play a crucial role and can influence funding decisions.

I have always steadfastly defended the work being done at NIH, and assured its critics that, contrary to what they may think, this was not true. However, when I read the conclusions made by the IOM, I decided to look into this report further. I have with me, Mr. Speaker, a chart. Let us take a look at this chart prepared by the Institute of Medicine on NIH spending priorities.

As Members will note, heart disease is the number one killer in America; 732,400 people die. The spending is $852 million; cancer, 534,300 die. We spend $2,571,000,000.

Let us go further down and look at AIDS-HIV. It is listed as the eighth leading cause of death. It kills 42,100 a year, yet it receives $1.4 billion. The death figures are for 1994 and the spending priorities are for 1996.

Mr. Speaker, in other words, NIH spends approximately $43,000 per death researching AIDS and HIV, while heart disease, which kills over 20 times as many people each year, receives only $1,160 per year per death. Heart disease was the number one killer in 1995, 1996, and 1997. Research dollars at NIH do not reflect this.

According to a Centers for Disease Control, CDC, 1997 report, the top five killers are: cardiovascular disease, one; two, cancer; three, stroke; four, chronic lung disease; five, accidents. Mr. Speaker, note that HIV-AIDS does not even appear in the top five killers, but receives almost the top funding from NIH.

It is very difficult to justify such types of funding disparities. Other diseases, such as diabetes, were responsible for causing 56,700 deaths in 1996, making it the sixth leading cause of death in the United States. By contrast, diabetes research received only $299 million research dollars.

Not only has scientific research made important strides in identifying the causes of certain diseases, it has also launched tests of new drugs to enhance recovery from stroke and spinal cord injury and produce a new drug for the treatment of epilepsy.

In these days of trying to balance the budget, we must not lose sight of the fact that by delaying the onset of diseases such as Alzheimer's, stroke, and cardiovascular disease, we would save almost an estimated $35 million through a reduction in the need for nursing home care.

Now, to my way of thinking, that is not a small amount of money. However, this can only occur if the huge spending increases that NIH receives do in fact flow to all the institutes, so that all the diseases benefit from these new sources of dollars.

I respect the work being conducted at NIH and believe it has some of the finest first-class scientists and researchers in the world. I would caution, however, that the articles of criticism about the way it runs its shop are becoming more and more frequent. They also need to restructure their priorities based upon the needs. That is my message this afternoon.

Congress has an obligation to ensure that all of its citizens are represented, and this includes how their tax dollars are being spent, especially when it comes to funding for biomedical research.

DISCHARGE PETITION ON PATIENTS' BILL OF RIGHTS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker's announced policy of January 21, 1997, the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. GANSKE) is recognized during morning hour debates for 5 minutes.

Mr. GANSKE. Mr. Speaker, today I am initiating a discharge petition to force the House to debate House Resolution 486, a rule for consideration of managed care reform bills.

House Resolution 486 provides for the consideration of the Dingell-Ganske Patients' Bill of Rights, and would allow both the manager's substitute amendment and a substitute by one of the leading Republican advocates of managed care reform, the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. CHARLIE NORWOOD).

The gentleman from Georgia (Mr. NORWOOD) could offer the bill developed by the Hastert task force or some other reform plan. Finally, the rule provides for one motion to recommit, with or without instructions.

Mr. Speaker, this week the House may debate House Resolution 4250, the patient protection bill developed by the Hastert task force. This bill just became available for review a few days ago. It has serious problems. It is not the best bill.

I have many concerns which I will not outline today, but let me give just one example. A year or so ago when we passed patient protection legislation as part of the Medicare reform bill, we banned what are called gag rules. These are rules that HMOs set up that prevent doctors or nurses or other health professionals from telling the patients all of the information or treatment options they need.

In our Medicare bill, we said that HMOs could not prohibit or restrict communications. Those last two words are important, "or restrict." They are in the bill that I support, the Patients' Bill of Rights. However, in the Hastert bill, the word "restrict" was taken out.

What that means, then, is that an HMO could erect a thousand hurdles that your doctor or nurse would have to jump over to try to tell their patients all of their treatment options. That would be okay, as long as the HMO did not prohibit those types of communications. That is a serious, serious loophole in the legislation, and it is one of the many reasons why I think it is not the best legislation.

I am saying, Mr. Speaker, that it is my intention to testify before the Committee on Rules and to ask that they permit the Dingell-Ganske Patients' Bill of Rights to be offered as an amendment, not merely as a motion to recommit or as a part of some other procedural move. If the Committee on Rules makes such an amendment in order, I can always take my name off this discharge competition.

Mr. Speaker, there are only 33 legislative days left this year. The clock is ticking on our patients. There are many other Republican Members who are concerned that the debate on patient protection legislation be timely and fair.

If the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. DINGELL) and I are not permitted to offer the Patients' Bill of Rights as an amendment, then I will seek to collect Republican signatures on this petition to bring the best HMO reform bill before the House for a fair vote.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 12 of rule I, the Chair declares the House in recess until 2 p.m.

Accordingly (at 12 o'clock and 55 minutes p.m.), the House stood in recess until 2 p.m.

AFTER RECESS

The recess having expired, the House was called to order by the Speaker pro tempore (Mr. STEARNS) at 2 p.m.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend James David Ford, D.D., offered the following prayer:

We are instructed in the Psalms in the scriptures, "Be still, and know that I am God."

With so many voices to be heard and many lessons to be understood, it is no wonder that Your still strong voice, gracious God, is not heard. May this moment of prayer allow us to be still and focus on the clarity of Your forgiving word and the soothing comfort of Your eternal voice. We pray with earnest hearts that we will continue to listen to Your good graces, O God, so that Your peace that passes all human understanding will be with us now and until our last day. Amen.

THE JOURNAL

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair has examined the Journal of the last day's proceedings and announces to the House his approval thereof.

Pursuant to clause 1, rule I, the Journal stands approved.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. TRAFICANT) come forward and lead the House in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Mr. TRAFICANT led the Pledge of Allegiance as follows:

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

A message from the Senate by Mr. Lundregan, one of its clerks, announced that the Senate had passed without amendment bills of the House of the following titles:

H.R. 1439. An act to facilitate the sale of certain land in Tahoe National Forest in the State of California to Placer County, California.

H.R. 1460. An act to allow for election of the Delegate from Guam by other than separate ballot, and for other purposes.

H.R. 1779. An act to make a minor adjustment in the exterior boundary of the Devils Backbone Wilderness in the Mark Twain National Forest, Missouri, to exclude a small parcel of land containing improvements.

H.R. 2165. An act to extend the deadline under the Federal Power Act applicable to the construction of FERC Project Number 3862 in the State of Iowa, and for other purposes.

H.R. 2217. An act to extend the deadline under the Federal Power Act applicable to the construction of FERC Project Number 9248 in the State of Colorado, and for other purposes.

H.R. 2841. An act to extend the time required for the construction of a hydroelectric project.

The message also announced that the Senate had passed with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested, bills of the House of the following titles:

H.R. 434. An act to provide for the conveyance of small parcels of land in the Carson National Forest and the Santa Fe National Forest, New Mexico, to the village of El Rito and the town of Jemez Springs, New Mexico.

H.R. 765. An act to ensure maintenance of a herd of wild horses in Cape Lookout National Seashore.

H.R. 3616. An act to authorize appropriations for fiscal year 1999 for military activities of the Department of Defense, for military construction, and for defense activities of the Department of Energy, to prescribe personnel strengths for such fiscal year for the Armed Forces, and for other purposes.

H.R. 4101. An act making appropriations for Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies programs for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1999, and for other purposes.

The message also announced that the Senate insists upon its amendment to the bill (H.R. 3616) "An Act to authorize appropriations for fiscal year 1999 for military activities of the Department of Defense, for military construction, and for defense activities of the Department of Energy, to prescribe personnel strengths for such fiscal year for the Armed Forces, and for other purposes," requests a conference with the House on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses thereon, and appoints Mr. THURMOND, Mr. WARNER, Mr. MCCAIN, Mr. COATS, Mr. SMITH of New Hampshire, Mr. KEMPTHORNE, Mr. INHOFE, Mr. SANTORUM, Ms. SNOWE, Mr. ROBERTS, Mr. LEVIN, Mr. KENNEDY, Mr. BINGAMAN, Mr. GLENN, Mr. BYRD, Mr. ROBB, Mr. LIEBERMAN, and Mr. CLELAND, to be the conferees on the part of the Senate.

The message also announced that the Senate insists upon its amendment to the bill (H.R. 4101) "An Act making appropriations for Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies programs for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1999, and for other purposes," requests a conference with the House on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses thereon, and appoints Mr. COCHRAN, Mr. SPECTER, Mr. BOND, Mr. GORTON, Mr. MCCONNELL, Mr. BURNS, Mr. STEVENS, Mr. BUMPERS, Mr. HARKIN, Mr. KOHL, Mr. LEAHY, Mrs. BOXER, and Mr. BYRD, to be the conferees on the part of the Senate.

The message also announced that the Senate passed bills and a concurrent resolution of the following titles, in which concurrence of the House is requested:

S. 638. An act to provide for the expeditious completion of the acquisition of private mineral interests within the Mount St. Helens National Volcanic Monument mandated by the 1982 Act that established the Monument, and for other purposes.

S. 1069. An act entitled the "National Discovery Trails Act of 1997".

S. 1132. An act to modify the boundaries of the Bandelier National Monument to include the lands within the headwaters of the Upper Alamo Watershed which drain into the Monument and which are not currently within the jurisdiction of a Federal land management agency, to authorize purchase or donation of those lands, and for other purposes.

S. 1403. An act to amend the National Historic Preservation Act for purposes of establishing a national historic lighthouse preservation program.

S. 1418. An act to promote the research, identification, assessment, exploration, and development of methane hydrate resources, and for other purposes.

S. 1510. An act to direct the Secretary of the Interior and the Secretary of Agriculture to convey certain lands to the county of Rio Arriba, New Mexico.

S. 1683. An act to transfer administrative jurisdiction over part of the Lake Chelan National Recreation Area from the Secretary of the Interior to the Secretary of Agriculture for inclusion in the Wenatchee National Forest.

S. 1695. An act to authorize the Secretary of the Interior to study the suitability and feasibility of designating the Sand Creek Massacre National Historic Site in the State of Colorado as a unit of the National Park System, and for other purposes.

S. 1807. An act to transfer administrative jurisdiction over certain parcels of public domain land in Lake Country, Oregon, to facilitate management of the land, and for other purposes.

S. 2057. An act to authorize appropriations for fiscal year 1999 for military activities of the Department of Defense, for military construction, and for defense activities of the Department of Energy, to prescribe personnel strengths for such fiscal year for the Armed Forces, and for other purposes.

S. 2058. An act to authorize appropriations for fiscal year 1999 for defense activities of the Department of Energy, and for other purposes.

S. 2059. An act to authorize appropriations for fiscal year 1999 for military construction, and for other purposes.

S. 2060. An act to authorize appropriations for fiscal year 1999 for military activities of the Department of Defense to prescribe personnel strengths for such fiscal year for the Armed Forces, and for other purposes.

S. Con. Res. 105. Concurrent resolution expressing the sense of the Congress regarding the culpability of Slobodan Milosevic for war crimes, crimes against humanity, and genocide in the former Yugoslavia, and for other purposes.

THE PROPER ROLE OF THE GOVERNMENT

(Mr. GIBBONS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. GIBBONS. Mr. Speaker, during this appropriations season here in Congress, we should all remember exactly why we are here and what promises we made to the American people. Those promises are to reduce the size and the scope and the power, especially the power, of the Federal Government over our lives.

Some people believe that government was solely created to correct the wrongs in people's lives. However, I think that is only half right. I look at the government's responsibility from a different perspective.

Over the last 40 years, government has shown that its one-size-fits-all approach rarely if ever solves problems, whether it is here in Washington or in my district in Nevada.

Government provides little opportunity to create wealth, and over the years has become very effective at taxing one person's wealth and giving it to another. Sure, government has a role to play in helping people who are truly in need by providing needed resources to State, county and local governments so they can create targeted local solutions to those in need.

I urge my fellow colleagues to remember that government must never become counterproductive or create unnecessary entitlement programs without proper responsibility.

AMERICA'S TRADE DEFICIT

(Mr. TRAFICANT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. TRAFICANT. Mr. Speaker, America had a $15.7 billion record deficit in May. Billion. The formula says for every $1 billion in deficits, America loses 20,000 jobs. So in May, check the formula, America lost 314,000 jobs. These are not burger flippers or chicken skinners. These are manufacturing jobs, folks. It is getting so bad China today has a 34 percent tariff on most American products. After all this, the White House by whatever name you want to call it once again wants most-favored-nation trade status for China. Unbelievable.

Who are the trade advisers at the White House, a bunch of proctologists, ladies and gentlemen? This is out of hand. Think about it. While Congress is debating campaign finance reform that was promulgated because of illegal Chinese contributions, the Chinese keep kicking our assets all the way to the bank. Beam me up. We need a proctologist.

KYOTO TREATY

(Mr. KNOLLENBERG asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. KNOLLENBERG. Mr. Speaker, the Kyoto treaty on climate change would have a crippling effect on the American economy. This fatally flawed agreement would kill millions of American jobs and diminish the standard of living in this country. Confronted by strong bipartisan opposition in both the House and the Senate, the Clinton administration has repeatedly assured Congress that it would not attempt to implement the Kyoto treaty until it has been ratified by the Senate. Now, despite this promise, there is strong evidence that the EPA has initiated and taken regulatory and other actions that are inconsistent with the administration assurances. This week, when the House considers the fiscal year 1999 VA-HUD bill, we will have the opportunity to ensure that the President keeps his word. This bill prohibits the EPA from using taxpayer dollars to issue rules or regulations to implement the Kyoto treaty until it has been ratified by the Senate. Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to protect our economic interests by supporting the effort to stop the EPA from ramming the Kyoto treaty through the back door.

CAMPAIGN FINANCE REFORM

(Ms. WOOLSEY asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. WOOLSEY. Mr. Speaker, when are we going to address campaign finance reform? When are we going to talk about the way campaign finance works? Particularly when are we going to talk seriously about taking soft money out of campaigning?

Soft money disenfranchises the average person. The reason we do not have 80, 90 percent voter turnout is that the people of this country, particularly the young people, believe that they have not invested money in our campaigns, therefore, they do not think they should come to the polls. They do not have a voice.

That is wrong, Mr. Speaker. We have to address campaign finance reform, we have to do away with soft money, and we have to get everybody in this country that is eligible to vote.

ON WOMEN'S HEALTH

(Ms. NORTON asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. NORTON. Mr. Speaker, I come to the floor today in the name of the Bipartisan Women's Caucus to thank the House for the vote last Thursday to cover contraceptive prescriptions for Federal employees, the pill, the diaphragm, intrauterine devices, Norplant and Depo-Provera. Some plans covered no contraceptive prescriptions. None of these prescriptions promote abortions. All preserve women's health.

Without contraception, of course, abortions are promoted, and some of these devices in fact lead to abortions because they are not as effective as others. That is why women need these choices, at least these choices when deciding something as central to their health as preventing abortions and deciding whether or not to bear a child. Every woman has had some contraceptive device that does not work for her. With this bill, we have passed one of the most significant women's health bills in many years.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the provisions of clause 5 of rule I, the Chair announces that he will postpone further proceedings today on each motion to suspend the rules on which a recorded vote or the yeas and nays are ordered, or on which the vote is objected to under clause 4 of rule XV.

Such rollcall votes, if postponed, will be taken after debate has concluded on all motions to suspend the rules but not before 5 p.m. today.

CHILD NUTRITION AND WIC REAUTHORIZATION AMENDMENTS OF 1998

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 3874) to amend the Child Nutrition Act of 1966 to make improvements to the special supplemental nutrition program for women, infants, and children and to extend the authority of that program through fiscal year 2003, as amended.

The Clerk read as follows:

H.R. 3874

SEC. 107. CHILD AND ADULT CARE FOOD PROGRAM.

(a) ELIGIBILITY OF INSTITUTIONS.—Section 17(a)(1) of the National School Lunch Act (42 U.S.C. 1766(a)(1)) is amended to read as follows:

“(1) an institution (except a school or family or group day care home sponsoring organization) or family or group day care home—

“(A)(i) shall be licensed, or otherwise have approval, by the appropriate Federal, State, or local licensing authority; or

“(ii) shall be in compliance with appropriate procedures for renewing participation in the program, as prescribed by the Secretary, unless the State has information indicating that the institution or family or group day care home’s license will not be renewed;

“(B) if Federal, State, or local licensing or approval is not available—

“(i) shall meet any alternate approval standards established by the appropriate State or local governmental agency; or

“(ii) shall meet any alternate approval standards established by the Secretary after consultation with the Secretary of Health and Human Services; or

“(C) if the institution provides care to school children outside of school hours and Federal, State, or local licensing or approval is not required for such institution, shall meet State or local health and safety standards; and”.

(1) by inserting after the third sentence the following: “An institution moving toward compliance with the requirement for tax exempt status shall be allowed to participate in the program for a period of not more than 6 months unless it can demonstrate to the satisfaction of the State agency that its inability to obtain tax exempt status within the 6-month period is beyond the control of the institution in which case the State agency may grant a single extension not to exceed 90 days.”; and

(2) by striking the last sentence.

(d) USE OF FUNDS FOR AUDITS OF PARTICIPATING INSTITUTIONS.—Section 17(i) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1766(i)) is amended by striking “2 percent” and inserting “1 percent”.

(e) PERMANENT AUTHORIZATION OF DEMONSTRATION PROJECT.—Section 17(p) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1766(p)) is amended by striking paragraphs (4) and (5).

(f) TRANSFER OF HOMELESS PROGRAMS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Section 17 of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1766) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(q) PARTICIPATION BY EMERGENCY SHELTERS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, an emergency shelter shall be eligible to participate in the program authorized under this section in accordance with the terms and conditions applicable to eligible institutions described in subsection (a).

"(2) LICENSING REQUIREMENTS.—The licensing requirements contained in subsection (a)(1) shall not apply to emergency shelters or sites operated by such shelters under the program.

"(3) ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS.—

"(A) HEALTH AND SAFETY STANDARDS.—An emergency shelter and each site operated by such shelter shall comply with State or local health and safety standards.

"(B) MEAL REIMBURSEMENT.—

"(i) LIMITATION.—An emergency shelter may claim reimbursement—

"(I) only for meals and supplements served to children who have not attained the age of 13 and who are residing at an emergency shelter; and

"(II) for not more than 3 meals, or 2 meals and a supplement, per child per day.

"(ii) RATE.—A meal or supplement eligible for reimbursement shall be reimbursed at the rate at which free meals and supplements are reimbursed under subsection (c).

"(iii) NO CHARGE.—A meal or supplement claimed for reimbursement shall be served without charge.

"(4) DEFINITION OF EMERGENCY SHELTER.—As used in this subsection, the term 'emergency shelter' has the meaning given such term in section 321(2) of the Stewart B. McKinney Homeless Assistance Act (42 U.S.C. 11351(2))."

(2) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—(A) Section 13(a)(3)(C) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1761(a)(3)(C)) is amended—

(i) in clause (i), by adding "or" at the end;
(ii) by striking clause (ii); and
(iii) by redesignating clause (iii) as clause (ii).

(B) Section 17B of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1766b) is hereby repealed.

(g) PARTICIPATION BY "AT RISK" CHILD CARE PROGRAMS.—Section 17 of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1766), as amended by this Act, is further amended by adding at the end the following:

"(r) 'AT RISK' CHILD CARE.—

"(1) IN GENERAL.—Subject to the conditions in this subsection, institutions that provide care to at risk school children during after-school hours, weekends, or holidays during the regular school year may participate in the program authorized under this section. Unless otherwise specified in this subsection, all other provisions of this section shall apply to these institutions.

"(2) AT RISK SCHOOL CHILDREN.—Children ages 12 through 18 who live in a geographical area served by a school enrolling elementary students in which at least 50 percent of the total number of children enrolled are certified eligible to receive free or reduced price school meals under this Act or the Child Nutrition Act of 1966 shall be considered at risk.

"(3) SUPPLEMENT REIMBURSEMENT.—

"(A) LIMITATION.—Only supplements served to at risk school children during after-school hours, weekends, or holidays during the regular school year may be claimed for reimbursement. Institutions may claim reimbursement for only one supplement per child per day.

"(B) RATE.—Eligible supplements shall be reimbursed at the rate for free supplements under subsection (c)(3).

"(C) NO CHARGE.—All supplements claimed for reimbursement shall be served without charge."

SEC. 108. MEAL SUPPLEMENTS FOR CHILDREN IN AFTERSCHOOL CARE.

Section 17A of the National School Lunch Act (42 U.S.C. 1766a) is amended—

(1) in subsection (a)(2)(C) to read as follows:

"(C) operate afterschool programs with an educational or enrichment purpose."; and

(2) in subsection (b), by striking "served to children" and all that follows and inserting "served to children who are not more than 18 years of age."

SEC. 109. UNIVERSAL FREE BREAKFAST PILOT PROJECTS.

Section 18(i) of the National School Lunch Act (42 U.S.C. 1769(i)) is amended to read as follows:

"(i) UNIVERSAL FREE BREAKFAST PILOT PROJECTS.—

"(1) IN GENERAL.—

"(A) GRANTS TO STATES.—(i) Subject to the availability of advance appropriations under paragraph (8), the Secretary shall make grants to not more than 5 States to conduct pilot projects in elementary schools under school food authorities located in each such State—

"(I) to reduce paperwork;

"(II) to simplify meal counting requirements; and

"(III) to make changes that will increase participation in the school breakfast program.

"(ii) The Secretary shall select States to receive grants under clause (i), and make grants to such States, in the first fiscal year for which appropriations are made to carry out this subsection.

"(B) GRANTS TO SCHOOL FOOD AUTHORITIES; DURATION OF PILOT PROJECTS.—(i)(I) A State receiving a grant under subparagraph (A) shall make grants to school food authorities to carry out the pilot projects described in such subparagraph.

"(II) The State shall select school food authorities to receive grants under clause (i), and make grants to such authorities, in the first fiscal year for which the State receives amounts under a grant.

"(ii) A school food authority receiving amounts under a grant to conduct a pilot project described in subparagraph (A) shall conduct such project for the 3-year period beginning in the first fiscal year in which the authority receives amounts under a grant from the State.

"(C) PARTICIPATION LIMITATION.—A school food authority conducting a pilot project under this paragraph shall ensure that some elementary schools under such authority do not participate in the pilot project.

"(2) WAIVER AUTHORITY.—

"(A) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in subparagraph (B), the Secretary may waive the requirements of this Act and the Child Nutrition Act of 1966 (42 U.S.C. 1771 et seq.) relating to counting of meals, applications for eligibility, and related requirements that would preclude the Secretary from making a grant to conduct a pilot project under paragraph (1).

"(B) NON-WAIVABLE REQUIREMENTS.—The Secretary may not waive a requirement under subparagraph (A) if the waiver would prevent a program participant, a potential recipient, or a school from receiving all of the benefits and protections of this Act, the Child Nutrition Act of 1966, or a Federal statute or regulation that protects an individual constitutional right or a statutory civil right.

"(3) REQUIREMENTS FOR PARTICIPATION IN PILOT.—To be eligible to participate in a pilot project under this subsection—

"(A) a State—

"(i) shall submit an application to the Secretary at such time and in such manner as the Secretary shall establish; and

"(ii) shall provide such information relative to the operation and results of the pilot as the Secretary may reasonably require; and

"(B) a school food authority—

"(i) shall agree to serve all breakfasts at no charge to all children in participating elementary schools;

"(ii) shall not have a history of violations of this Act or the Child Nutrition Act of 1966 (42 U.S.C. 1771 et seq.); and

"(iii) shall meet any other requirement that the Secretary may reasonably require.

"(4) SELECTION OF PILOT ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS.—To the extent practicable, a State shall select school food authorities to participate in the pilot program under this subsection in a manner that will provide for an equitable distribution among the following types of elementary schools:

"(A) Urban and rural elementary schools.

"(B) Elementary schools of varying family income levels.

"(5) REIMBURSEMENT RATES.—A school food authority conducting a pilot project under this subsection shall receive reimbursement for each breakfast served under the pilot in an amount equal to the rate for free breakfasts established under section 4(b)(1)(B) of the Child Nutrition Act of 1966 (42 U.S.C. 1773(b)(1)(B)).

"(6) COMMODITY ENTITLEMENT.—A school food authority conducting a pilot project under this subsection shall receive commodities in the amount of at least 5 cents per breakfast served under the pilot. The value of such commodities shall be deducted from the amount of cash reimbursement described in paragraph (5).

"(7) EVALUATION OF PILOT PROJECT.—

"(A) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary, acting through the Administrator of the Food and Nutrition Service, shall conduct an evaluation of the pilot projects in each of the school food authorities selected for participation. Such evaluation shall include—

"(i) a determination of the effect of participation in the pilot project on the academic achievement, tardiness and attendance, and dietary intake of participating children that is not attributable to changes in educational policies and practices; and

"(ii) a determination of the effect that participation by elementary schools in the pilot projects has on the proportion of students who eat breakfast.

"(B) REPORT.—Upon completion of the pilot projects and the evaluation, the Secretary shall submit to the Committee on Education and the Workforce of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Agriculture, Nutrition, and Forestry of the Senate a report containing the evaluation of the pilot required under subparagraph (A).

"(8) REIMBURSEMENT REQUIREMENT UNDER BREAKFAST PROGRAM.—(A) Except as provided in subparagraph (B), a school participating in a pilot project under this subsection shall receive a total Federal reimbursement under the school breakfast program in an amount equal to the total Federal reimbursement for the school in the prior year under such program (adjusted for inflation and fluctuations in enrollment).

"(B) Funds required for the pilot project in excess of the level of reimbursement received by the school in the prior year (adjusted for inflation and fluctuations in enrollment) may be taken from any non-Federal source or from amounts appropriated to carry out this subsection. If no appropriations are made for the pilot projects, schools may not conduct the pilot projects.

"(9) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—

"(A) IN GENERAL.—There are authorized to be appropriated such sums as may be necessary to carry out this subsection.

"(B) REQUIREMENT.—No amounts may be provided under this subsection unless specifically provided in appropriations Acts."

(1) PHYSICAL PRESENCE REQUIREMENT.—Section 17(d)(3) of the Child Nutrition Act of 1966 (42 U.S.C. 1786(d)(3)) is amended by adding at the end the following:

"(C)(i) Except as provided in clause (ii), each applicant to the program shall be physically present at each certification determination in order to determine eligibility under the program.

"(ii) A local agency may waive the requirement of clause (i)—

"(I) if required to do so by requirements under the Americans with Disabilities Act;

"(II) with respect to a child who was present at the initial certification visit and who is receiving on-going health care from a provider other than such local agency, if the agency determines that the requirement of clause (i) would present a barrier to participation; or

"(III) with respect to a child (aa) who was present at the initial certification visit, (bb) who was present at a certification determination within the 1-year period ending on the date of the certification determination described in clause (i), and (cc) who has one or more parents who work, if the agency determines that the requirement of clause (i) would cause a barrier to participation."

(2) INCOME DOCUMENTATION REQUIREMENT.—Section 17(d)(3) of the Child Nutrition Act of 1966 (42 U.S.C. 1786(d)(3)), as amended by paragraph (1), is further amended by adding at the end the following:

"(D)(i) Except as provided in clause (ii), in order to be eligible for the program, each applicant to the program shall provide—

"(I) documentation of household income; or

"(II) documentation of participation in a program described in clauses (ii) and (iii) of paragraph (2)(A).

"(ii)(I) A State agency may waive the requirement of clause (i)—

"(aa) with respect to an applicant for whom the necessary documentation is not available; or

"(bb) with respect to an applicant, such as homeless women or children, for whom the agency determines the requirement of clause (i) would present a barrier to participation.

"(II) The Secretary shall prescribe regulations to carry out division (aa)."

(b) EDUCATION AND EDUCATIONAL MATERIALS RELATING TO EFFECTS OF DRUG AND ALCOHOL USE.—Section 17(e)(1) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1786(e)(1)) is amended by adding at the end the following: "A local agency participating in the program shall provide education or educational materials relating to the effects of drug and alcohol use by a pregnant, postpartum, or breastfeeding woman on the developing child of the woman."

(c) DISTRIBUTION OF NUTRITION EDUCATION MATERIALS TO STATE AGENCIES ADMINISTERING THE COMMODITY SUPPLEMENTAL FOOD PROGRAM.—Section 17(e) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1786(e)) is amended—

(1) by redesignating paragraphs (4) and (5) as paragraphs (5) and (6), respectively; and

(2) by inserting after paragraph (3) the following:

"(4) The Secretary may provide nutrition education materials, including breastfeeding promotion materials, developed with funds appropriated to carry out the program under this section in bulk quantity to State agencies administering the commodity supplemental food program authorized under sections 4(a) and 5 of the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973 at no cost to that program."

(d) IDENTIFICATION OF RECIPIENTS PARTICIPATING AT MORE THAN 1 SITE.—Section 17(f) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1786(f)) is amended by adding at the end the following:

"(23) Each State agency shall implement a system designed to identify recipients who are participating at more than 1 site under the program."

(e) IDENTIFICATION OF HIGH RISK VENDORS; COMPLIANCE INVESTIGATIONS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Section 17(f) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1786(f)), as amended by this Act, is further amended by adding at the end the following:

"(24) Each State agency—

"(A) shall identify vendors that have a high probability of program abuse; and

"(B) shall conduct compliance investigations of such vendors."

(2) REGULATIONS.—Not later than March 1, 1999, the Secretary of Agriculture shall promulgate final regulations to carry out section 17(f)(24) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1786(f)(24)), as added by paragraph (1).

(f) REAUTHORIZATION OF PROGRAM.—Section 17(g)(1) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1786(g)(1)) is amended in the first sentence by striking "1995 through 1998" and inserting "1999 through 2003".

(g) PURCHASE OF BREAST PUMPS.—Section 17(h)(1)(C) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1786(h)(1)(C)) is amended—

(1) by striking "(C)" and inserting "(C)(i)"; and

(2) by adding at the end the following:

"(ii)(I) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, with respect to fiscal year 2000 and subsequent fiscal years, a State agency may use amounts made available under clause (i) for the purchase of breast pumps.

"(II) A State agency that exercises the authority of subclause (I) shall expend from amounts allocated for nutrition services and administration an amount for the purchase of breast pumps that is not less than the amount expended for the purchase of breast pumps from amounts available for nutrition services and administration for the prior fiscal year.”.

(h) NUTRITION SERVICES AND ADMINISTRATION.—

(1) ALLOCATION OF AMOUNTS.—Section 17(h)(2)(A) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1786(h)(2)(A)) is amended in the first sentence by striking “1995 through 1998” and inserting “1999 through 2003”.

(2) LEVEL OF PER PARTICIPANT EXPENDITURE.—Section 17(h)(2)(B)(ii) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1786(h)(2)(B)(ii)) is amended by striking “15 percent” and inserting “10 percent (except that the Secretary may establish a higher percentage for small State agencies)”.

(i) CONVERSION OF AMOUNTS FOR FOOD BENEFITS TO AMOUNTS FOR NUTRITION SERVICES AND ADMINISTRATION.—Section 17(h)(5)(A) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1786(h)(5)(A)) is amended in the matter preceding clause (i) by striking “achieves” and all that follows through “such State agency may” and inserting “submits a plan to reduce average food costs per participant and to increase participation above the level estimated for such State agency, such State agency may, with the approval of the Secretary,”.

(j) INFANT FORMULA PROCUREMENT.—Section 17(h)(8)(A) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1786(h)(8)(A)) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(iii) A State agency using a competitive bidding system for infant formula shall award contracts to the bidder offering the lowest net price unless the State agency demonstrates to the satisfaction of the Secretary that the weighted average retail price for different brands of infant formula in the State does not vary by more than five percent.”.

(k) INFRASTRUCTURE AND BREASTFEEDING PROMOTION/SUPPORT ACTIVITIES.—Section 17(h)(10)(A) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1786(h)(10)(A)) is amended by striking “For each of fiscal years 1995 through 1998,” and inserting “For each fiscal year through 2003.”.

(l) CONSIDERATION OF PRICE LEVELS OF RETAIL STORES FOR PARTICIPATION IN THE PROGRAM.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Section 17(h) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1786(h)) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(11)(A) For the purpose of promoting efficiency and to contain costs under the program, a State agency shall, in selecting a retail store for participation in the program, take into consideration the prices that the store charges for foods under the program as compared to the prices that other stores charge for such foods.

“(B) The State agency shall establish procedures to insure that a retail store selected for participation in the program does not subsequently raise prices to levels that would otherwise make the store ineligible for selection in the program.”.

(2) REGULATIONS.—Not later than March 1, 1999, the Secretary of Agriculture shall promulgate final regulations to carry out section 17(h)(11)(A) of the Child Nutrition Act of 1966 (42 U.S.C. 1786(h)(11)(A)), as added by paragraph (1).

(m) MANAGEMENT INFORMATION SYSTEM PLAN.—Section 17(h) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1786(h)), as amended by this Act, is further amended by adding at the end the following:

“(12)(A) In consultation with State agencies, retailers, and other interested persons, the Secretary shall establish a long range plan for the development and implementation of management information systems (including electronic benefit transfers) to be used in carrying out the program.

“(B) Not later than 2 years after the date of the enactment of this paragraph, the Secretary shall submit to the Committee on Education and the Workforce of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Agriculture, Nutrition, and Forestry of the Senate a report on actions taken to carry out subparagraph (A).

“(C) Prior to the date of the submission of the report of the Secretary required under subparagraph (B), the cost of systems or equipment that may be required to test management information systems (including electronic benefit transfers) for the program may not be imposed on a retail food store.”.

(n) USE OF FUNDS IN PRECEDING AND SUBSEQUENT FISCAL YEARS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Clauses (i) and (ii) of section 17(i)(3)(A) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1786(i)(3)(A)) (i) and (ii)) are amended to read as follows:

“(i) not more than 1 percent (except as provided in subparagraph (C)) of the amount of funds allocated to a State agency under this section for supplemental foods for a fiscal year, and not more than 1 percent of the amount of funds allocated to a State agency under this section for nutrition services and administration for a fiscal year, may be expended by the State agency for allowable expenses incurred under this section for supplemental foods and nutrition services and administration, respectively, during the preceding fiscal year; and

“(ii)(I) a State agency may expend, from amounts allocated to the agency for nutrition services and administration, an amount equal to not more than 1 percent of the total amount of funds allocated to the agency under this section for a fiscal year for allowable expenses incurred under this section for nutrition services and administration during the subsequent fiscal year; and

“(II) with the prior approval of the Secretary, a State agency may expend, from amounts allocated to the agency for nutrition services and administration, an amount equal to not more than one-half of 1 percent of the total amount of funds allocated to the agency under this section for a fiscal year for the development of a management information system, including an electronic benefit transfer system, during the subsequent fiscal year.”.

(2) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—Section 17 of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1786) is amended—

(A) in subsection (h)(10)(A) (as amended by this Act), by inserting after “nutrition services and administration funds” the following: “and food benefit funds”; and

(B) in subsection (i)(3)—

(i) by striking subparagraphs (C) through (G); and

(ii) by redesignating subparagraph (H) as subparagraph (C).

(o) FARMERS MARKET NUTRITION PROGRAM.—

(1) MATCHING FUND REQUIREMENT.—Section 17(m)(3) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1786(m)(3)) is amended in both the first and second sentences by striking “total” each place it appears and inserting “administrative”.

(2) RANKING CRITERIA FOR STATE PLANS.—Section 17(m)(6) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1786(m)(6)) is amended—

(A) by striking subparagraph (F); and

(B) by redesignating subparagraph (G) as subparagraph (F).

(3) REAUTHORIZATION OF PROGRAM.—Section 17(m)(9)(A) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1786(m)(9)(A)) is amended by striking “1996 through 1998” and inserting “1999 through 2003”.

(p) DISQUALIFICATION OF CERTAIN VENDORS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Section 17 of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1786) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(o) DISQUALIFICATION OF VENDORS CONVICTED OF TRAFFICKING OR ILLEGAL SALES.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in paragraph (5), the State agency shall permanently disqualify a vendor convicted of trafficking in food instruments (including any voucher, draft, check, or access device, including an electronic benefit transfer card or personal identification number, issued in lieu of a food instrument pursuant to the provisions of this section), or selling firearms, ammunition, explosives, or controlled substances (as defined in section 102 of the Controlled Substances Act) in exchange for food instruments.

“(2) NOTICE OF DISQUALIFICATION.—The State agency shall provide the vendor with notification of the disqualification and shall make such disqualification effective on the date of receipt of the notice of disqualification.

“(3) PROHIBITION ON RECEIPT OF LOST REVENUES.—A vendor shall not be entitled to receive any compensation for revenues lost as a result of the disqualification under this subsection.

“(4) HARDSHIP EXCEPTION IN LIEU OF DISQUALIFICATION.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—A State agency may permit a vendor that would otherwise be disqualified under paragraph (1) to continue to redeem food instruments or otherwise provide supplemental foods to participants if the State agency determines, in its sole discretion according to criteria established by the Secretary, disqualification of the vendor would cause hardship to participants in the program authorized under this section.

“(B) CIVIL MONEY PENALTY.—Whenever a State agency authorizes a vendor that would otherwise be disqualified to redeem food instruments or provide supplemental foods in accordance with subparagraph (A), the State agency shall assess the vendor a civil money penalty in lieu of a disqualification.

“(C) AMOUNT.—The State agency shall determine the amount of the civil penalty according to criteria established by the Secretary.”.

(2) REGULATIONS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Not later than March 1, 1999, the Secretary of Agriculture shall promulgate final regulations to carry out section 17(o) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1786(o)), as added by paragraph (1).

(B) ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENT.—The final regulations described in subparagraph (A) shall include criteria for determining the amount of civil money penalties in lieu of disqualification and for making hardship determinations under such section.

(q) STUDY AND REPORT BY ECONOMIC RESEARCH SERVICE.—Section 17 of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1786), as amended by this Act, is further amended by adding at the end the following:

“(p) STUDY AND REPORT BY ECONOMIC RESEARCH SERVICE.—

“(1) STUDY.—The Secretary, acting through the Administrator of the Economic Research Service, shall conduct a study on the effect of cost containment practices established by States under the program for the selection of vendors and approved food items (other than infant formula) on the following:

“(B) Access and availability of prescribed foods.

“(C) Voucher redemption rates and actual food selections by participants.

“(E) Participant use and satisfaction of prescribed foods.

“(F) Achievement of positive health outcomes.

“(G) Program costs.

"(2) REPORT.—Not later than 3 years after the date of the enactment of the Child Nutrition and WIC Reauthorization Amendments of 1998, the Administrator shall submit to the Secretary of Agriculture, the Committee on Education and the Workforce of the House of Representatives, and the Committee on Agriculture, Nutrition, and Forestry of the Senate a report containing the results of the study conducted under paragraph (1)."

(r) COLLECTION AND USE OF PENALTIES FROM VENDOR AND RECIPIENT FRAUD AND ABUSE.—Section 17 of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1786), as amended by this Act, is further amended by adding at the end the following:

"(q) USE OF PENALTIES FROM VENDOR AND RECIPIENT FRAUD AND ABUSE.—Amounts collected from penalties from vendors and recipients relating to violations of any provision of this section (including any regulation established to carry out this section) for fraud and abuse under the program may be used for nutrition services and administration and food benefits only for the 1-year period beginning on the date on which amounts under the penalty are received."

(s) MAXIMUM AMOUNT OF FINE FOR CERTAIN VIOLATIONS UNDER THE PROGRAM.—Section 17 of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1786), as amended by this Act, is further amended by adding at the end the following:

"(r) MAXIMUM AMOUNT OF FINE FOR CERTAIN VIOLATIONS UNDER THE PROGRAM.—The maximum amount of a fine with respect to the embezzlement, willful misapplication, stealing, obtaining by fraud, or trafficking in food instruments of funds, assets, or property that are of a value of $100 or more under the program shall be $25,000."

(t) CRIMINAL FORFEITURE.—Section 17 of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1786), as amended by this Act, is further amended by adding at the end the following:

"(s) CRIMINAL FORFEITURE.—

"(1) IN GENERAL.—In imposing a sentence on a person convicted of an offense in violation of any provision of this section (or any regulation promulgated under this section), a court shall order, in addition to any other sentence imposed under this section, that the person forfeit to the United States all property described in paragraph (2).

"(2) PROPERTY SUBJECT TO FORFEITURE.—All property, real and personal, used in a transaction or attempted transaction, to commit, or to facilitate the commission of, a violation (other than a misdemeanor) of any provision of this section (or any regulation promulgated under this section), or proceeds traceable to a violation of any provision of this section (or any regulation promulgated under this section), shall be subject to forfeiture to the United States under paragraph (1).

"(3) INTEREST OF OWNER.—No interest in property shall be forfeited under this subsection as the result of any act or omission established by the owner of the interest to have been committed or omitted without the knowledge or consent of the owner.

"(4) PROCEEDS.—The proceeds from any sale of forfeited property and any monies forfeited under this subsection shall be used—

"(A) first, to reimburse the Department of Justice for the costs incurred by the Department to initiate and complete the forfeiture proceeding;

"(B) second, to reimburse the Department of Agriculture Office of Inspector General for any costs the Office incurred in the law enforcement effort resulting in the forfeiture;

"(C) third, to reimburse any Federal or State law enforcement agency for any costs incurred in the law enforcement effort resulting in the forfeiture; and

"(D) fourth, by the State agency to carry out the approval, reauthorization, and compliance investigations of vendors."

SEC. 203. NUTRITION EDUCATION AND TRAINING PROGRAM.

Section 19(i) of the Child Nutrition Act of 1966 (42 U.S.C. 1788(i)) is amended—

(1) by striking paragraphs (1) and (2);

(2) by redesignating paragraphs (3), (4), and (5) as paragraphs (1), (2), and (3), respectively; and

(3) in paragraph (1) (as redesignated)—

(A) in the paragraph heading, by striking "1997 THROUGH 2002" and inserting "1999 THROUGH 2003"; and

(B) by amending subparagraph (A) to read as follows:

"(A) IN GENERAL.—There are authorized to be appropriated to carry out this section such sums as are necessary for fiscal years 1999 through 2003."

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. GOODLING) and the gentleman from California (Mr. MARTINEZ) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. GOODLING).

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.R. 3874, the Child Nutrition and WIC Reauthorization Amendments of 1998. This bill makes important changes to our Nation's vital child nutrition programs. Members who have worked with me during my years in Congress know that I consider these to be some of the most important programs serving our Nation's children. My support of these programs comes primarily from my years as an educator where I learned firsthand that children who did not consume nutritious meals did not perform very well in school.

I am most pleased that this year we have been able to work in a bipartisan manner with USDA and the nutrition community to craft the legislation before us. We need to work together to ensure our Federal child nutrition programs are effective in providing nutritious meals to participants while increasing accountability and effectiveness.

There is no new spending in this bill. Every new cost provision has an offset. The bill before us today strives to maintain program integrity by fighting fraud and abuse in the WIC program. The Committee on Appropriations has identified problems within the WIC program that this bill addresses. The WIC program has helped improve the health of pregnant women and of infants and children. It has made tremendous strides in reducing the number of low birth weight babies and birth defects caused by poor nutrition. Addressing issues of fraud and abuse will only help ensure that program dollars provide important nutrition services to participants while not being wasted on individuals who illegally benefit from the program.

The bill also makes numerous changes to nutrition programs that provide greater flexibility to States and local providers. I understand the burden placed on schools operating multiple nutrition programs.

I believe some of the most important flexibility provisions contained in this bill are those that support a seamless nutrition program for schools operating a variety of child nutrition programs. These provisions allow schools currently offering meals under the School Lunch Program, School Breakfast Program, Child and Adult Care Food Program and the Summer Food Service Program to apply for a single monthly claim for all meals using a single, common claiming procedure; to have meal patterns be consistent throughout all meal programs, including current offer versus serve rules; and to have a single permanent agreement between school food authorities and the States' Departments of Education.

Another important provision seeks to address problems of juvenile crime by providing a snack to children participating in afterschool programs, with an educational or enrichment purpose, keeping them at the school rather than on the streets.

Over the past few years, I have sought to make our Nation's child nutrition programs more effective in providing important nutrition services to children. Our main goals must remain to provide nutritious meals to children and their families and to allow those closest to the children the flexibility to determine how to most effectively serve their needs. The bill embraces those principles and deserves our support.

I want to commend the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. CASTLE), who carried the load to a great degree in the subcommittee; the gentleman from California (Mr. RIGGS), the chairman of the subcommittee; the gentleman from California (Mr. MARTINEZ); and the gentlewoman from California (Ms. WOOLSEY), who knows a good bit about nutrition. When it comes to campaign finance, well, but nutrition, yes.

I urge my colleagues to support this important legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

□ 1415

Ms. WOOLSEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 3874 for the reauthorization of the child nutrition programs. I also rise to compliment the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. GOODLING), the chairman, the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. CASTLE), the subcommittee chairman, and the gentleman from California (Mr. MARTINEZ), our ranking member, for a very positive effort.

This was a bipartisan effort that has resulted in a very good bill. This is a good bill that will benefit children in schools and children in child care facilities across America. I am pleased that it includes my pilot program for universal school breakfasts.

It also includes a provision from my bill to increase the number of schools that can participate in the Child and Adult Care Food Program and raise the age of students who are eligible for snacks in these programs.

The school breakfast pilot project will allow five elementary schools nationwide to make school breakfasts available to all of their students free of charge, not based on economic status, all students. We already have two studies which prove that children who eat breakfast improve both their grades and their classroom behavior.

But in today's world, where two working parents are the norm and long commutes are common, more and more families are out the door and on the road early in the morning with no time to sit down for breakfast. Whether we like it or not, many of these children arrive at school hungry. So, unless you want to pass a law requiring every family to feed their children breakfast before they go to school in the morning and then hire a bunch of breakfast police to enforce it, we need to look at schools and school breakfast programs in a different way.

Of course, I believe that this will be a better bill if, in the end, it includes the Senate's language on the school breakfast program. Both the Senate and the administration support a fully funded pilot program, so the House can, I hope, agree and defer in conference.

Mark my words, Mr. Speaker, the next time we reauthorize child nutrition programs, the legislation will include school breakfasts for all elementary school children, because I am confident that this pilot project will prove that school breakfast is not a welfare program. It is an education program.

I am also pleased that H.R. 3874 will make it easier for schools and community organizations to offer after-school programs to teenagers. This bill does this by raising the age of eligibility for after-school snacks from 13 to 18 years old, which makes it much more affordable to offer programs. We know that the vast majority of juvenile crime and teen pregnancies occur after the school bell rings and before the dinner bell rings. We desperately need more after-school programs for adolescents.

But feeding adolescents, even when it is just a snack, can be very expensive. H.R. 3874 will open the Child and Adult Care Food Program to low-income teens and to more after-school programs.

This is not "Twinkies for teens". The Police Athletic League and other law enforcement organizations have strongly endorsed the benefits of after-school programs for adolescents. H.R. 3874 will make more of these programs possible.

Before my enthusiasm causes any of my colleagues on the other side of the aisle to reconsider their support of this bill, thinking that it might be too generous, let me say that it certainly does not do everything that I would want it to do and everything that I think should be included. In particular, I hope that we can continue to work together to expand the Child and Adult Care Food Program to more low-income children, those who are in for-profit child care centers.

H.R. 3874 is a good bill. It is a bill that will benefit millions of children. Children are 25 percent of the population in America, but they are 100 percent of America's future. This bill is a sound investment in our children and our future. I urge my colleagues to support it.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of the time.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time he may consume to the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. CASTLE), who played a major role in crafting this legislation.

Mr. CASTLE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. GOODLING) has been, as he indicated and as many have told me, a long-time supporter of child nutrition programs for the entire time he has been in this Congress which has been a number of years now. I think all the country and all the children of the country should appreciate that.

I, too, rise in strong support of H.R. 3747, which is known as the Child Nutrition and WIC Reauthorization Amendments of 1998. I am pleased to state, as we have seen on the floor today, that this a bipartisan bill worked out over many long hours of negotiations with members on the committee, the nutrition community, and the United States Department of Agriculture. In fact, Shirley Watkins who heads this for the Department of Agriculture, wrote a letter to me saying: I appreciate you and your staff including the Department of Agriculture in the effort to enact an excellent child nutrition program. You have our commitment to work with you to expeditiously complete the enactment process. Thanks for your continued support.

Obviously, we would like to thank the gentleman from California (Mr. MARTINEZ), the gentlewoman from California (Ms. WOOLSEY), the gentleman from California (Mr. RIGGS), and their staffs for working with us to reach this bipartisan agreement on this legislation.

When we say bipartisan agreement, it is not quite that simple. I remember the gentleman from California (Mr. MARTINEZ) being across the table asking me rather hard questions, and the gentlewoman from California (Ms. WOOLSEY) and others, as a matter of fact, sort of coming at me with, can we not do more here or there? But it worked out in the long run, and that is what counts, and we appreciate all of their concern.

We know we have not addressed everyone's ultimate concerns, but I believe we do have a good bill that will go a long way towards improving our Nation's child nutrition programs by reducing red tape and bureaucracy, fighting and punishing fraud and abuse, giving program providers more flexibility, ensuring our Nation's children have access to healthy meals in school, in child care settings, in after-school programs and during the summer months, and providing low-income pregnant and postpartum women, their infants and young children access to nutritious foods.

Of great significance is the fact that we have been able to make these important changes and save money at the same time. This bill would save a total of $69 million over 5 years.

While this legislation contained numerous changes to Federal child nutrition programs, I would like to focus on what I consider to be the key provisions of the legislation.

The first provision deals with the provision of snacks to children in after-school care programs. I share the concerns of many Members of this body with respect to juvenile crime that occurs between the hours school ends and their parents return home from work. In fact, I just had a round table in Delaware about this just moments before I came down here. Beyond crime, unsupervised youth may be involved in other undesirable behaviors, such as using drugs and alcohol, smoking, or engaging in sexual activities.

Parents, schools, and communities throughout the United States are seeking solutions to this problem. Many families would like their children to be involved in structured activities after school, but they simply cannot find affordable options.

In response, many schools and communities are setting up after-school programs with an education or enrichment program. H.R. 3874 supports these programs through amendments to two nutrition programs, allowing the provisions of snacks to children in after-school programs.

First, it amends the Child and Adult Care Food Program to assist organizations operating in high poverty areas to provide a snack to at-risk children through age 18 who are enrolled in after-school programs.

Second, it amends an after-school care program under the School Lunch Act to permit the provision of snacks to children through the age of 18 who are participating in after-school programs with an educational or enrichment purpose. I believe that these changes will contribute to ongoing efforts to reduce juvenile crime and drug and alcohol abuse and prevent teen pregnancy.

Another important provision in this legislation recognizes how hard private, nonprofit organizations have worked to overcome their past history of program abuse and operate quality summer food programs to provide meals to low-income children during the summer months when school is not in session. As a result, we lift remaining restrictions on their participation in this program.

Finally, we have modified the WIC program to provide greater flexibility to States and local providers in meeting the needs of program participants and to address concerns raised about fraud and abuse.

Antifraud provisions contained in this legislation include: disqualifying

WIC vendors convicted of trafficking in WIC food instruments or the sale of firearms, ammunition, explosives, or drugs in exchange for WIC food instruments; requiring individuals to be physically present in order to be certified for the WIC program benefits; requiring WIC participants to have income documentation; requiring States to take into consideration the prices stores charge for WIC foods in relation to prices charged by other stores in making vendor selections.

It allows States to keep any collections and recoveries of improperly paid benefits for use no later than the Federal fiscal year following recovery. It raises the maximum fine for trafficking and other violations under WIC from $10,000 to $25,000.

Mr. Speaker, these are but a few of the highlights of the child nutrition bill we are considering today. This is a good bipartisan bill that will strengthen the child nutrition programs. I encourage my colleagues to support this important legislation.

Mr. MARTINEZ. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I might consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in very, very strong support of this legislation to reauthorize WIC and make important changes, as was outlined by the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. CASTLE), in school nutrition programs.

It is a demonstrated fact, and I do not think anybody can contradict it, that those children who do not receive adequate nutrition in their early years will struggle throughout their lives.

We also know that hungry children cannot learn. The school lunch program was created actually to address the malnutrition of our Nation's soldiers. Staggering numbers of young men drafted to serve in World War II lacked the health and strength required to defend this country.

Today, we acknowledge that the education of our children is even more important for the future security of the United States, and thus we reaffirm our commitment to the child nutrition programs.

Perhaps the most crucial years for children to receive proper nutrition are from the time they are conceived through their preschool years. Recent studies have confirmed that significant growth occurs in early childhood, and if children lack the nutrition to develop fully, they will likely experience lifelong difficulties.

The special supplemental nutritional program for women, infants, and children, or WIC as it is better known, provides mothers with access to healthy foods and nutrition education when they are pregnant, and continues this assistance throughout the infancy and the early years of their children.

Once children are in school, the national School Breakfast and Lunch Program helps to ensure that children have the nutrition necessary to learn. It is only fitting that the effort to continue the Federal Government's dedication to the health of our children is and was bipartisan.

Throughout the years, Congress has united to strengthen these child nutrition programs by assessing the issues of meal standards, food safety, program eligibility, cost containment efforts, and accountability. The bill before us continues these efforts to enhance the nutrition programs while incorporating provisions to address the needs of today's children.

Many of these ideas were first articulated in the reauthorization legislation that was introduced by myself on behalf of the administration, H.R. 3666. In addition, the inclusion of many of the innovative changes in the legislation before us today was made possible by the tireless efforts of the gentlewoman from California (Ms. WOOLSEY) and the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. CASTLE).

Last year, the gentlewoman from California (Ms. WOOLSEY) introduced H.R. 3086, the Meals For Achievement Act, which called for the creation of universal breakfast program and the provision of nutrition support for after-school programs. I am proud to be an original cosponsor of that legislation. Through the diligence of the gentlewoman from California (Ms. WOOLSEY), these proposals are reflected now in H.R. 3874.

The importance of after-school programs to the safety of our children cannot be denied. A recent Justice Department study confirms that most juvenile crime is committed between 3 p.m. and 6 p.m. That is why helping communities increase the number of after-school programs is a priority of the Clinton Administration and many Members of this Congress.

H.R. 3874 expands the Child and Adult Care Food Program to enable schools and community organizations serving at-risk teenagers after school to provide healthy snacks. Thus, these after-school provisions furnish an added incentive to young people to get off the streets and into positive programs that help put them on the path to successful, healthy futures and enterprises.

I am equally pleased that we were able to work together to include in H.R. 3874 a universal breakfast pilot program. Children miss breakfast for a variety of reasons, but they all need to start the day with a nutritious meal in order to be ready to learn.

Of course, we can only be sure that the pilot will take place if it is a mandatory program. Unfortunately, the language in H.R. 3874 only authorizes discretionary funding.

The Senate committee, however, approved by unanimous vote legislation that will authorize a mandatory universal breakfast pilot. Recently, the administration strongly endorsed the Senate's language. It is my hope that in conference the House will recede to the Senate's position on this matter.

Thus, we can be certain that universal breakfast programs will proceed and ultimately affirm that providing breakfast for all children is a means to ensure education success in this country.

Before I close, I must also thank the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. GOODLING) and the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. CASTLE), who have worked so closely with this side of the aisle to fashion legislation that all Members can support and support proudly. I urge my colleagues to support its passage.

Mr. RIGGS. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.R. 3874, the "Child Nutrition and WIC Reauthorization Amendments of 1998." This is a strong bipartisan bill that makes important changes to our nation's child nutrition programs.

While many Members contributed to this legislation, including Representative MARTINEZ, I particularly thank Congressman MIKE CASTLE. He has performed a tremendous job in putting together this legislation.

Congressman CASTLE already has outlined many of the key provisions of this legislation. Let me focus on several key provisions.

As a former member of the House Committee on Appropriations I know the WIC program is being closely monitored. We took all possible steps necessary to insure the integrity of this program. In addition to the provisions outlined by Congressman CASTLE, I added three provisions to H.R. 3874 to help reduce fraud and abuse.

One provision would require State WIC agencies to design and implement systems to identify recipients who might be participating at more than one site. We need to guard against the potential for participation at multiple WIC sites.

State WIC agencies also would have to identify vendors that have a high probability of program abuse and follow up with compliance investigations. Right now WIC agency oversight of vendors varies considerably from State to State, but identification and investigation of high-risk vendors should be at least a minimum standard.

A criminal forfeiture amendment provides that those convicted of trafficking face forfeiture of property associated with the trafficking. This is now the rule for the Food Stamp program.

I also strongly support the afterschool care provisions included in this legislation. Last year, the House passed H.R. 1818, the Juvenile Crime Control and Delinquency Prevention Act of 1997. This legislation authorized a variety of activities aimed at preventing juvenile crime.

Several of the witnesses who appeared before our Committee on the issue of juvenile crime spoke about the need for high quality afterschool care programs to provide educational and enrichment activities for youth during the hours when they are most likely to engage in delinquent activities. This legislation would support afterschool programs through federal reimbursement for snacks in afterschool care programs operated by schools, which have an educational or enrichment purpose. It also would reimburse for free snacks for at-risk children ages 12–18 in afterschool programs in low-income areas through the Child and Adult Care Food Program.

Mr. Speaker, this bill also includes a variety of other provisions that streamline federal child nutrition programs and provide state and local providers additional flexibility in providing services to program participants. It is a good bill that deserves the support of all Members.

I encourage my Colleagues to support H.R. 3874.

Mr. PAUL. Mr. Speaker, Congress should reject H.R. 3874, a bill reauthorizing the Women's, Infant, and Children's (WIC) program and other childhood nutrition programs, and the flawed redistributionist, welfare state model that lies behind this bill. Although the goals of this legislation are noble, the means toward achieving the goals embodied therein are unconstitutional and ineffective.

Providing for the care of the poor is a moral responsibility of every citizen, however, it is not a proper function of the Federal Government to plunder one group of citizens and redistribute those funds to another group of citizens. Nowhere in the United States Constitution is the Federal Government authorized to provide welfare services. If any government must provide welfare services, it should be State and local governments. However, the most humane and efficient way to provide charitable services are through private efforts. Among their other virtues, private charities are much more likely to provide short-term assistance rather than fostering long-term dependency upon government programs.

Mr. Speaker, I know that you, and many of my colleagues, understand that private charities are also much better able to target assistance to the truly needy than government programs, which are burdened with bureaucratic rules of eligibility, as well as procedures designed to protect the "due process" rights of recipients, which cannot be adequately changed to meet unique individual circumstances. Thus, many people who are genuinely needy do not receive needed help. In fact, more than 40 percent of all families living below the poverty level receive no government assistance. Private charities can also be more effective because they do not have to fulfill administrative requirements, such as the WIC program's rebate system, which actually divert resources from the needy.

Private charities are also able to place an emphasis upon reformation of personal behavior while not imposing the controls on personal life that government programs, such as WIC, impose on the program recipients. When a pregnant woman signs up to receive WIC vouchers, she is trading away a large amount of her personal freedom. Her choices of where to shop will be restricted to WIC-approved vendors and her choice of what foods to buy will be restricted to those foods which match the WIC nutrition specifications. WIC recipients are also required to participate in WIC parenting and nutrition classes.

As an OB/GYN I certainly recognize the importance of proper nutrition for pregnant women and young children. However, as a constitutionalist, I strenuously object to the federal government coercing pregnant women into accepting such services and restricting their choices of food products. The founders of this country would be flabbergasted if they knew that the federal government had monopolized the provisions of charitable services to low-income women, but they would be horrified if they knew the federal government was forbidding poor women from purchasing Post Raisin Bran for their children because some federal bureaucrats had determined that it contains too much sugar!

Mr. Speaker, the fact that the manufacture of foods such as Raisin Bran battle to get their products included in this program reveals the extent to which WIC is actually corporate welfare. Many corporations have made a tidy profit from helping to feed the poor and excluding their competitors in the process. For example, thanks to the WIC program, the federal government is the largest purchaser of infant formula in the nation.

According to the Congressional Research Service, food vendors participating in WIC received 9.86 billion in Fiscal Year 1997—75% of the total funds spent on the WIC program! This fiscal year, producers of food products approved by the federal government for purchase by WIC participants are expected to receive $10 billion dollars in taxpayer dollars! Small wonder the lobbyists who came to my office to discuss WIC were not advocates for the poor, but rather well-healed spokespersons for corporate interests!

Any of my colleagues who doubt that these programs serve the interests of large corporations should consider that one of the most contentious issues debated at Committee mark-up was opposition to an attempt to allow USDA to purchase non-quote peanuts (currently the only peanuts available for sale are farmers who have a USDA quota all other farmers are forbidden to sell peanuts in the US) for school nutrition programs. Although this program would have saved the American taxpayers $5 million this year, the amendment was rejected at the behest of supporters of the peanut lobby. A member of my staff, who appropriately asked why this amendment could not pass with overwhelming support, was informed by a staffer for another member, who enthusiastically supports the welfare state, that the true purpose of this program is to benefit producers of food products, not feed children.

The main reason supporters of a free and moral society must oppose this bill is because federal welfare programs crowd out the more efficient private charities for two reasons. First, the taxes imposed on the American people in order to finance these programs leave taxpayers with fewer resources to devote to private charity. Secondly, the welfare state erodes the ethic of charitable responsibility as citizens view aiding the poor as the government's role, rather than a moral obligation of the individual.

The best way to help the poor is to dramatically cut taxes thus allowing individuals to devote more of their own resources to those charitable causes which better address genuine need. I am a cosponsor of HR 1338, which raises the charitable deduction and I believe Congress should make awakening the charitable impulses of the American people by reducing their tax burden one of its top priorities. In fact, Congress should seriously consider enacting a dollar-per-dollar tax credit for donations to the needy. This would do more to truly help the disadvantaged than a tenfold increase in spending on the programs in HR 3874.

In conclusion, Congress should reject HR 3874 because the programs contained therein lack constitutional foundation, allow the federal government to control the lives of program recipients, and serve as a means of transferring monies from the taxpayers to big corporations. Instead of funding programs, Congress should return responsibility for helping those in need to those best able to effectively provide assistance; the American people acting voluntarily.

Mr. KUCINICH. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in strong support of H.R. 3874, the Child Nutrition and WIC Reauthorization Amendments of 1998. This bill not only reauthorizes the expiring WIC, Summer Food Service, State Administrative Expenses, and Commodity Assistance programs, it also makes some important improvements to them. We've increased State's flexibility in administering these programs, expanded eligibility and services for after school programs, and taken steps to reduce fraud in the WIC program. My colleagues have even managed to orchestrate a savings of $69 million over five years. This is a good bipartisan bill that will help millions of children, but I think it could have gone farther.

There is something missing from the bill that would increase participation in the Summer Food Service Program. This bill removes many barriers for sponsors of the program, thus encouraging more organizations to join. Because of expanded outreach efforts by state agencies and anti-hunger groups, many more small community-based organizations and private non-profit institutions are eager to provide summer food service programs.

However, many of these organizations lack the resources to purchase needed equipments such as milk coolers, ovens, microwaves, serving utensils, and food storage equipment. They also need funds to advertise and promote their programs. These one-time, non-recurring costs are often more than small organizations can handle.

Over 80% of children who are eligible for this program remain unserved by it. It's not because there isn't a need for more summer food sponsors, and it's not because these kids aren't hungry. The Second Harvest National Food Bank Network recently found, among those food banks reporting seasonal changes in requests for emergency food, nearly half report that requests for emergency food for children increase during the summer months when school is out.

In my district in Cleveland, for example, 63% of the local charities reported an increase in the number of children requesting emergency food assistance during the summer. Over half of the kids requesting emergency food received free or reduced price school meals and are eligible for participation in the summer food service program, but only 11.3% actually participate. During school, these low-income children receive up to 1/2 of their nutrients from school meals. During the summer, they do not have access to school breakfasts or lunches.

Offering sponsors a boost to help them get started would be a relatively inexpensive way, especially given the savings from the bill, to encourage more organizations to establish summer food service programs. A grant program to help defer the one-time costs associated with beginning a summer food program would allow more organizations to participate in low-income and rural areas that are typically underserved by this program.

I had hoped to work with my friends on the other side of the aisle to bring a grant program like this back to the Summer Food Service program before we brought this bill to the floor. And while it is not a particularly expensive concept and even though no one seems to be philosophically or ideologically opposed to the idea, we were unable to resolve the issue to include it in this bill. I think that is unfortunate for the millions of kids for whom summer vacation means hunger instead of fun.

I'd like to thank the Food Research and Action Center for their support and tireless efforts to increase the reach and scope of programs like Summer Food Service. And I encourage my colleagues to continue our work on this issue. I think there is a lot more we can do for these kids. The Summer Food Service Program is one of the least known and most underutilized of the federal nutrition programs. There is no reason for so many children to be hungry and under-nourished during the summer when we could increase participation in the program by offering one-time grants to help more sponsors get started.

Mr. BILIRAKIS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to express my strong support for H.R. 3874, the Child Nutrition and WIC Reauthorization Amendments of 1998.

I have always been a strong supporter of WIC because it gives women and young children access to the foods necessary for healthy development. WIC provides specific nutritious foods to at-risk, income-eligible, pregnant, postpartum and breast feeding women, infants and children up to five years of age. WIC gives women and young children the means to obtain highly nutritious foods like iron-fortified infant formula, calcium-rich milk, eggs, juice, and cereal.

During pregnancy, one of the most fragile periods in a woman's life, WIC enhances dietary intake, which improves weight gain and the likelihood of a successful pregnancy. After birth, WIC continues to promote the health of infants and is responsible for reducing low birth weight and infant mortality. Children who participate in WIC receive immunizations against childhood diseases at a higher rate than children who are not WIC participants. WIC also helps to reduce anemia among children.

As we know, children receiving nutritious meals are in a better position to focus on their daily studies. Proper nutrition is an integral part of our children's educational experience. In fact, WIC has been linked to improved cognitive development among children. WIC children are more prepared to learn compared to those children who lack proper nutritionally balanced diets.

In short, WIC is supported by many people and continues to be a popular program. It yields tremendous returns on our investments and improves the health and well being of pregnant women, infants and children. I urge my colleagues to show their support for the WIC Program by voting in favor of H.R. 3874.

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Speaker, thank you for the opportunity to speak on this important issue. I support this bill which will guarantee that families are able to access the food they need. In addition, this program will extend funding for state school lunch programs and provide low income families' children with a national food program.

H.R. 3874 reauthorizes this program through 2003 to allow the Women, Infants and Children (WIC) nutrition program provides nutrition, education and supplemental food to low-income pregnant and post-partum women, infants and children up to age five. These necessary services are provided free of charge to eligible individuals and families. This bill also contains a number of other provisions including ones that extend funding for administration expenses for the State school lunch program and reauthorize a national summer food program for children of low income families.

In my own homestate of Texas, in the 18th Congressional District, a total of 109,596 women, infants and children receive WIC services each month. This means that in Harris County, TX 12,917 pregnant women, 5,259 breast feeding mothers, 9,448 postpartum mothers, how have recently given birth, and 29,934 infants, and 52,038 children can receive the help that they need. One-seventh of the State of Texas' 683,000 WIC recipients reside in Harris County, TX.

This program is not as glamorous as others—the WIC program is formula, milk, juice, and bread. The majority of those served are poor infants and children, those who are most often overlooked. To cut the WIC program does not materially reduce the numbers of women, infants and children who are in need. This program is one of the best run, most efficient and effective programs that the Federal Government has initiated.

According to the Government Accounting Office, for every dollar spent on the WIC program the tax payer saves $3.50. This is the reason the WIC Program received very strong bi-partisan support throughout its history.

We must continue to support this program. What can be more important than making sure our country's children are healthy and safe? I strongly support this bill and I encourage my colleagues to support it as well.

Mr. MARTINEZ. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. GOODLING) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 3874, as amended.

The question was taken.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, on that, I demand the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 5 of rule I and the Chair's prior announcement, further proceedings on this motion will be postponed.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks on H.R. 3874.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Pennsylvania?

There was no objection.

SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING ACCESS TO AFFORDABLE HOUSING AND EXPANSION OF HOMEOWNERSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Mr. LEACH. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and agree to the concurrent resolution (H. Con. Res. 208) expressing the sense of the Congress regarding access to affordable housing and expansion of homeownership opportunities.

The Clerk read as follows:

H. CON. RES. 208

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), That it is the sense of the Congress that—

(1) the priorities of our Nation should include providing access to affordable housing that is safe, clean, and healthy and expanding homeownership opportunities; and

(2) these goals should be pursued through policies that—

(A) promote the ability of the private sector to produce affordable housing without excessive government regulation;

(B) encourage tax incentives, such as the mortgage interest deduction, at all levels of government; and

(C) facilitate the availability of capital for homeownership and housing production, including by continuing the essential roles carried out by the Federal National Mortgage Association, the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation, and the Federal Home Loan Banks.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. LEACH) and the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. FRANK) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. LEACH).

(Mr. LEACH asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. LEACH. Mr. Speaker, this, I believe, is a non-controversial bill. It underscores principles critical to the American family—the desirability of achieving the dream of home ownership for as many Americans as conceivably possible.

On this front, there is some good news, and also some challenging circumstances. The good news is that home ownership is going up in America, almost 1 percent in the last 4 years, until today it reaches approximately 66 percent of the American public. The principal reason for this relates to lower interest rates caused by restrained monetary policy and the movement from a deficit to a surplus fiscal policy.

It also relates to aspects of tax policy, the importance of quasi-governmental institutions like Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac that have served as extraordinarily helpful intermediaries in housing finance, and to certain housing programs of the Federal Government itself.

But what this bill, and it is a small bill, does is simply underscore what are the great principles of American housing, and underscore it in such a way as to make it clear that this Congress is not going to be backed down from those principles, particularly the principle that relates to the interest deduction for home ownership mortgage loans.

Mr. Speaker, recognizing that this is an exceptionally modest bill, but also one that relates to a subject very important to the heart of the American people, I would urge its adoption at this time.

Mr. FRANK of Massachusetts. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Minnesota (Mr. MINGE).

Mr. MINGE. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Massachusetts for yielding me time.

Mr. Speaker, I have faced repeated requests from communities that I represent for action at the Federal level to make sure that we have adequate affordable housing in this country. Indeed, I have held four forums on this subject in communities in my district. It is in this context that I have come to recognize the importance of these programs that the Federal Government has sponsored over the years, and, as a consequence, I rise in support of House Concurrent Resolution 208, introduced by my colleague the gentleman from New York (Mr. LAZIO) of New York.

All Americans should have an opportunity to obtain decent and affordable housing. However, the Nation's housing problems have increasingly been concentrated in two segments of the population, first time home buyers and low income households.

A much smaller portion of young households own their own homes today than they did in 1980. Shortages of housing resources for both down payments and monthly mortgage payments are largely responsible for this trend.

Furthermore, growing numbers of less fortunate citizens are forced to spend a very large portion of relatively small budgets to rent apartments, and many these housing units suffer from physical inadequacies as well. Homelessness can be a ragged-edge consequence of formidable social and housing hurdles faced by the most disadvantaged portions of our population.

Mr. Speaker, in order to attain our national housing goals, there is a need for a voice for housing in community development at the Federal level. We can take the first step today by voicing our support for this resolution.

Mr. LEACH. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to briefly note that this bill is brought to us by the distinguished gentleman from New York (Mr. LAZIO), the chairman of the Subcommittee on Housing and Community Opportunity, who has devoted a great deal of time and effort to not only this bill, but other housing legislation. I apologize that the gentleman has been detained intransit, but I wanted to reference the gentleman from New York (Mr. LAZIO) because of his leadership on this issue.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Washington (Mr. METCALF).

(Mr. METCALF asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. METCALF. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding me this time.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Concurrent Resolution 208. As cochair of the Housing Opportunity Caucus, I share the goals of the gentleman from Iowa (Chairman LEACH) and the gentleman from New York (Chairman LAZIO) of expanding access to affordable housing and home ownership opportunities.

Two years ago, the gentleman from New York (Mr. LAZIO), the gentleman from Connecticut (Mrs. JOHN-SON), the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. WELLER), the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. ENGLISH) and I formed a caucus to spotlight the need for housing in this Nation.

Working cooperatively, we have discovered we can create programs that increase the production of affordable housing. For example, the low income housing tax credit is one of the few Federal programs that encourages the creation of new rental housing without excessive government regulations. Since its inception, this program has generated thousands of housing units for working parents who are struggling to pay the increasing rents.

To help achieve the American dream, we cannot simply stop at making rental housing more affordable. We have to help families own their own homes. We can achieve this by continuing the support for the mortgage interest deduction, reducing Federal barriers to home ownership, and ensuring that financing is available. The mortgage revenue bonds and FHA guarantee of loans have helped low income families finance their home affordably.

This Congress can and should do more to increase the access to housing. H. Con. Res. 208 is not just a simple statement in support of housing as a national priority, it is a statement of our vision to help make the American dream a reality for more people. I ask my colleagues to support this important resolution.

Mr. FRANK of Massachusetts. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I must say that I owe an apology to the supporters of this. Having first read it, I was inclined to regard it as fairly trivial. It is a resolution with no binding impact. It seemed to me to just be sort of cheerleading.

I was somewhat struck that in the week in which we are passing a housing appropriation bill which severely diminishes funds that should be available for people at the low brackets, we are celebrating the importance of affordable housing. In fact, there is a great inconsistency between the legislation we will be adopting, which significantly underfunds affordable housing and will allow the gap to greatly widen for those who need it.

But it is not nearly as trivial as I thought. Indeed, there are some very interesting things. I notice on page 2, lines 4 through 6, the following: "Encourage tax incentives such as the mortgage interest deduction at all levels of government." The gentleman from Washington also mentioned the low income tax credit.

I guess, Mr. Speaker, when the House passes this today, the appropriate phrase will be, if I may lapse into a little bilingualism, "sic transit gloria flat tax."

We have heard a lot about the flat tax, and it seemed to be an idea that had some support in some Republican circles. But those circles appear not to be included in the circle of influence today.

The mortgage interest deduction is, of course, the biggest bump in the flat tax. The mortgage interest deduction is very different than a flat tax, and I am struck that the House is today apparently repudiating the notion of a flat tax, because it is citing not simply the fact of the mortgage interest deduction, which is a major bump in that flatness, but it is celebrating the principles of using the Tax Code to achieve social purposes. What we are saying here is home ownership is a good thing, and let us use tax incentives to change what the economy might otherwise do.

Now, I am for the mortgage interest deduction myself. I supported putting a cap on it, but I think it ought to exist. I was not sure whether my Republican colleagues remain as loyal to that as they apparently are.

Mr. LEACH. Mr. Speaker will the gentleman yield?

Mr. FRANK of Massachusetts. I yield to the gentleman from Iowa.

Mr. LEACH. Mr. Speaker, I would be delighted to respond to the gentleman. As the gentleman knows, there is a lot of controversy within the country and some differences of judgment within the party on the flat tax, but it is my belief that the majority of Republicans strongly support maintaining the mortgage interest deduction, even if there is a movement towards a flat or a flatter tax.

Mr. FRANK of Massachusetts. Mr. Speaker, reclaiming my time, I would thank the gentleman. I would say this is a day for people to come together. I was particularly pleased to see the gentleman from Iowa expressing his support for Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac and his talk about the essentiality of this role.

I will have to say this though. It seems to me you can be for the mortgage interest deduction and a flatter tax, but you cannot be and still remain within the confines of the English language for the mortgage interest deduction and a flat tax. It is very unflat, and, indeed, it is not simply the flatness of the mortgage interest deduction, it is the notion that it is legitimate to use the Federal Tax Code to achieve policy goals.

Indeed, not just the Federal Tax Code. I notice this also encourages the mortgage interest deduction to be maintained "at all levels of government." So apparently this is a case where the Federal government is also giving some advice to State and local governments. Apparently the people who drafted this believe that State governments, left to their own, probably would not get the Tax Code right. So here is a little advice to the States to follow the Federal example.

As I said, I am supportive of this, but I think we ought to note that it is very much a deviation from the notion of a flat tax.

I also noted, because I agree with the gentleman from Washington who talked about the low income housing tax credit, another bump, not as big, because it is the low income people and we would, of course, not do for low income people anything of the magnitude of the mortgage interest deduction, but it is another deviation from the principles of the flat tax.

So I am in favor of this. The other thing though I do want to stress so that no one misunderstands, subparagraph (A), just before repudiating the flat tax, it says "promote the ability of the private sector to produce affordable housing without excessive government regulation."

Now, obviously no one is for more excessive government regulation. I am against excessive government regulation.

But lest anyone think that means no government regulation, let us remember that last week we celebrated in this House the passage of a new government regulation of the private housing market, the bill to reform private mortgage insurance. That is private mortgage insurance, a part of the private sector, and we passed a Federal bill here which I supported, and I thank the chairman for bringing it forward, to increase regulation.

So lest anyone think that there is an objection to excessive government regulation, meaning they are opposed to regulation in general, let me remind them that this House, which is about to pass this resolution, passed the bill reforming private mortgage insurance. The House and the Senate did it, and what that was was a new regulation. Previously there was no Federal regulation of private mortgage insurance that I am aware of, and we now have federally regulated private mortgage insurance. I am glad of that. I think people should understand that.

We also, by the way, have decided that the private insurance market does not work too well without us, so we are about to pass, and I voted for it in full committee, a very significant government intervention into the flood insurance field. So once again, I would not want anyone to think that just because we say we are against excessive government regulation, we think we can leave the private sector to its own devices. We reformed the private mortgage insurance; we are going to reform flood insurance.

So I want to note that sometimes, and I say this in defense of my Republican colleagues, sometimes they may appear more monochromatic than they in fact are. There might be people who just read the headlines and listen to the TV news, and they may get the sense that this is a group of flat-taxers and people who never want to see any kind of regulation. Instead, we have a group that now tells us that the mortgage interest deduction is very important, not just at the Federal level but at all levels; a group that decided that we better reform private mortgage insurance; a group that has decided that the flood insurance plan does not work on its own, the private flood insurance, and we better get involved.

So I am delighted to support this resolution, not just because of what it says but because it does advance a goal, which is having people understand the true diversity ideologically of the Republican Party.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. LEACH. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2½ minutes to the gentleman from Nebraska (Mr. BEREUTER), my distinguished colleague.

(Mr. BEREUTER asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. BEREUTER. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the remarks of the gentleman from Massachusetts, and I appreciate the distinguished chairman of the full committee for yielding me this time.

I appreciate the gentleman from Massachusetts recognizing the ideological diversity of the Republican Party. Most of the people that are in favor of the flat tax, that is to say an unadapted flat tax, are would-be Presidents or would-be, frustrated elected officials who cannot get elected. But when I speak at my town hall meetings about this subject, I warn people about the loss of the mortgage interest deduction and about the fact that middle income Americans would pay a lot more income taxes, proportionately, under an unadapted flat tax.

But back to the subject at hand in a direct sense and that is, I rise in strong support of H. Con. Res. 208 as a cosponsor of the resolution. It expresses a sense of Congress that affordable housing is a national priority. I would like to commend the distinguished chairman of the subcommittee, the gentleman from New York (Mr. LAZIO), for introducing this bill.

I could list a number of reasons for support of this legislation, but I will list only three. One, the goals of the Housing Act of 1949 include among other things, the provision of a decent home and suitable living environment for every American, have not yet been met. Much still needs to be done to ensure affordable homeownership for American families, and H. Con. Res. 208 is a step in the right direction. It reminds us of those responsibilities.

Two, as referenced by the chairman, the distinguished gentleman from Ohio (Mr. Leach), our country is in the midst of a booming economy, and that has resulted in an impressive 66 percent of all American families owning their homes, which is a record rate. However, this economic prosperity also increases the overall demand for both existing and new construction, which in turn results in a lower supply of affordable homes to be purchased. As a result, there is a substantial shortage of affordable housing in America.

I would say a third reason to support H. Con. Res. 208 is to respond and assist State programs focused on providing affordable housing. Reasons for these legislative actions include the lack of Federal emphasis and resources for affordable housing. I think it is fair to say that is an accurate criticism. It is a criticism that could well have fallen upon previous administrations as much as it falls on this one; it could fall on previous Congresses in recent times as well as it can fall on this one.

For those three reasons, among others, this Member endorses H. Con. Res. 208. Of course, the private sector is still the main provider of affordable housing. However, government should continue to play an important role in providing or facilitating affordable housing.

I urge my colleagues to vote "yes" on H. Con. Res. 208.

Mr. FRANK of Massachusetts. Mr. Speaker, I would inform the gentleman I have at most one more speaker, so I will reserve the balance of my time at this time.

Mr. LEACH. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. DAVIS), our distinguished colleague.

(Mr. DAVIS of Virginia asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. DAVIS of Virginia. Mr. Speaker, I want to just once again thank the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. LEACH), chairman of the full committee, and thank the gentleman from New York (Mr. LAZIO) for introducing this resolution.

I am pleased to have the opportunity today to speak in favor of H. Con. Res. 208, which establishes this body's commitment to making housing a national priority. In a couple of minutes I can only begin to describe the importance of housing in this country, but housing has impacts far greater than can be succinctly described here.

Let me say that when we take into account not only the economic benefits of housing, such as increased job opportunities and tax revenues, but the proven positive impact on communities and families and homeownership, we cannot afford to deny housing a top spot on our national agenda.

One brief but illustrious example of the impact of housing on our economy is an estimate that the construction of 1,000 single family homes generates 2,448 jobs in construction and construction-related industries, not to mention more than $79 million in wages and more than $42.5 million in Federal, State and local tax revenues.

Housing is an important issue in each and every congressional district in this country, and decent shelter is one of the basic necessities of this life. We owe it to American people to take this issue to heart and help make sure that every citizen's needs are considered.

Yes, we have the VA-HUD appropriation bill on the floor this week, but this resolution talks not just about government's direct involvement with negotiations but public and private partnerships that can result, affecting the costs of land through zoning laws, through our own Federal largesse; the cost of construction, the cost of money, and the cost of regulations. Even local governments, with permitting and processing and moving those time periods through, have an effect on housing.

With every level of government working together with the private sector, and of course encouraging the home mortgage interest deduction, which I think is critical if we are going to remain the country in the world with the highest percentage of homeownership, I think all go into this ingredient. I think the resolution addresses all of these.

For these reasons I urge my colleagues to support H. Con. Res. 208.

Mr. LEACH. Mr. Speaker, I yield 6 minutes to the gentleman from New York (Mr. LAZIO), the distinguished chairman of the Subcommittee on Housing, who is principally responsible for this legislation, and in fact its architect.

Mr. LAZIO of New York. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding me this time. I appreciate not just the gentleman yielding to me, but the support that he has lent to the concept of boosting homeownership in America and our efforts to try to do the same.

Last year, Mr. Speaker, I had the great pleasure of helping to construct a home in Washington, D.C., with Members on both sides of the aisle. It was a great bipartisan effort to try and build a home through the Habitat for Humanity. One of the great pleasures as we neared the end of the day in construction was a statement by the woman who was going to go into that house, who said to me, "I never thought I would ever see the day where I would be able to put a key in the door and actually own my own home. The more I rented, the less money I had to buy a house." What a happy day it was for her. That really speaks to the essence of homeownership throughout America.

Every American has the same goal in achieving the American dream, to own their own home, a home that is safe, clean and affordable. By increasing homeownership, we can bring families closer together.

This resolution is an important first step in removing the many roadblocks that stand in the way of this worthy goal. Quite simply, it expresses the sense of Congress that the priorities of the United States should include providing access to affordable housing that is safe, clean, healthy and affordable, as well as making homeownership more accessible.

This resolution expresses that these goals should be pursued through policies that do three things: First, promote the ability of the private sector to produce affordable housing without excessive government regulations. Secondly, we encourage tax incentives, such as mortgage interest deduction, at all levels of government. Lastly, we will facilitate the availability of capital for homeownership and housing production.

Owning one's own home means one can take care of one's family and achieve a better quality of life. Last year for the first time in history the homeownership rate reached 66 percent, largely because of moving toward a balanced budget, decreasing pressure on interest rates, bringing those interest rates down and making homeownership more affordable.

Through the dedication and the hard work of public-private partnerships, communities and individuals, we will accomplish our aim of solidifying a strong foundation for sustaining homeownership into the next century. These statistics mean that we are making headway in the area of providing decent, safe, affordable housing for all Americans, but we are not yet there. Even with these important gains, however, young households, especially young married couples, are still 4 to 9 percent below their peak homeownership rates. Shortages of household resources for both down payment and monthly mortgage payments are largely responsible for this trend.

I also would mention, Mr. Speaker, that among African-American and Hispanic heads of household and female heads of household, while overall homeownership rates are up by 66 percent, those numbers are down in the 40 percent range, so we have a lot of room to grow.

Our most pressing housing challenges are increasingly being faced by first-time home buyers and low-income households and rental housing. As we have seen, fewer young Americans are able to afford their own home than in 1980. But what is worse is that growing numbers of less fortunate citizens are forced to spend very large portions of small budgets to rent apartments that are physically inadequate.

The struggle of many Americans to buy or rent a home is unnecessary. There is an undeniable direct relationship between safe housing and positive economic, social and political outcomes that stabilize neighborhoods and communities and benefit all members of our society. We in Congress need to give Americans the tools they need to be in control of their family's housing.

This resolution must serve as a foundation upon which we build a coherent, coordinated national housing policy that represents the wealth of individual dedication and community spirit that characterizes our great Nation. We cannot be satisfied with an all-time high homeownership rate. We cannot be satisfied with anything less than providing every available opportunity for all Americans to obtain decent, affordable housing for every American citizen.

This Thursday the Subcommittee on Housing will hear testimony regarding H.R. 3899. That is called the American Homeownership Act, legislation that I and a number of our colleagues introduced in May. The American Homeownership Act represents a continued commitment to expanding homeownership opportunities into the next century. It recognizes that homeownership helps provide the building blocks for family security and stability, a healthy and prosperous community, and a strong and vibrant Nation.

Our proposal will eliminate the bureaucratic red tape and excessive regulations that stifle homeownership, will preserve and protect opportunities for seniors to remain in their own homes, near families and friends, by making FHA-insured reverse mortgage programs permanent. We will expand opportunities for low-income families by allowing public and assisted housing assistance to be used for down payments and monthly mortgage payments. We will give local communities greater flexibility to tap into Federal block grants for affordable housing development, reclaiming distressed neighborhoods and empowering local community development organizations.

This is what we stand for, Mr. Speaker. The resolution before us today is a complement to this proposal and others designed to provide all Americans every possible opportunity for achieving the dream of owning a home.

I would ask each Member of this body to think about the importance of housing to every single person in our Nation. How else can we directly make a positive change in the lives of all Americans than by improving their access to safe, clean and affordable housing. Let us pledge here today to all Americans that we understand the critical importance of housing, and that we in Congress are finally getting things done.

Mr. FRANK of Massachusetts. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I agree with all the positive programs that the gentleman from New York mentioned, and I will be supporting them.

My problem is I think there are couple of gaps. Years ago when we had the failure in the savings and loan industry, and then in the commercial bank area, many less in the commercial bank area, this Congress, through the Subcommittee on Housing and Community Opportunity took the lead in establishing affordable housing programs for both what was then the Resolution Trust Corporation, dealing with the S&L crisis, and the FDIC's resolution entity as well.

What they did was to take the houses that had come into the inventory of the Federal banking regulators and sell them to low-income people at a reduced rate. That is, we did not auction those off. We set them aside so that low-income people could buy them. They were not given away; they bought them. But they bought them at less than they might have to buy at open auction. Unfortunately, when the current majority took over the Congress they effectively ended those programs by not appropriating for them.

So I would hope we would go back to that. I would hope we would say to the extent that there is a Federal housing inventory taken over by banks or taken over by HUD, we would also reinstitute programs which made that available to lower income people, because there is this danger that we will increase the difficulty for people at the lower end.

It is obviously important to maximize home ownership across the board, but we should not forget people at the low end. Indeed, the one question I had, and we will pursue this on Thursday, when the gentleman from New York said we would allow people to use some of their rental assistance, public housing assistance, to buy housing, I am all for that. But it ought not to come at the expense of existing housing. There are ways to do that that would not cause problems, but there are ways that could cause problems.

If, in fact, the result is that less money is available for maintaining existing assisted and public housing, we will have some problems. So, I do want to add to the ability of lower-income people to own their own homes, but not in a way that is going to exacerbate the problems of the people who rent. Because a certain percentage of the people, because of the circumstances they live in, are going to continue to be renters.

And, yes, it is important to promote home ownership. The gentleman said, and the language said affordable housing for everyone. Some percentage of that is going to be rental housing, and we are not now doing nearly enough to help people at the low end live in decent, affordable rental housing.

So I hope that we will not forget that, that we will not go forward with home ownership in ways that will exacerbate that. The resolution, as it is stated, is a reasonable one. I welcome the repudiation of the flat tax that it includes. I think we will be doing people a service by making clear that the flat tax is a rhetorical symbol, but the presidential campaign of 2000 to the contrary notwithstanding, as the gentleman from Nebraska stated, it is not to be a reality and people ought not to worry too much about it, and we can go forward with a series of programs which would include home ownership.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. LEACH. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Speaker, in closing let me just stress first that there are 170 cosponsors of this bill. It is a bipartisan piece of legislation. And, secondly, I am pleased that the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. FRANK) has offered his support. I believe he has raised a series of thoughtful perspectives that do deserve review.

Let me just stress, this bill underscores that mortgage deductions are key to housing and should be protected. Most of us on this side of the aisle would like to see the Tax Code simplified and the riddance of hundreds of thousands of deductions that currently are in the Tax Code, whether in the context of a flat tax or the maintenance of a progressive tax. But the majority on this side of the aisle, I believe, also insists that whatever happens to the Tax Code, that key deductions like mortgage interest deductions, like charitable giving, for instance for churches, be maintained.

Yes, the gentleman has correctly noted that there can be a role for regulation, just as there is a role for taxes in American society. But too much regulation, just as too much taxation, can be counterproductive and constrain economic growth.

The gentleman has pointed out quite correctly that this House last week passed a bill on private mortgage insurance. He joined us and we are proud of passage of that legislation. In one sense one can argue that it is a governmental intrusion in the markets. In another sense, however, it should be stressed that what we did in that legislation is take the effect of cost of regulation off of the American consumer at such a point in time that a given percentage of the mortgage deduction had been paid.

Mr. FRANK of Massachusetts. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. LEACH. I yield to the gentleman from Massachusetts.

Mr. FRANK of Massachusetts. Mr. Speaker, I know we are trying to reach common ground here, but that simply defies the English language. What we did with PMI was a government regulation of a private operation.

Now, I agree it was beneficial. I had always been for it. But it was not undoing of regulation as we used the word. What we did was to pass a government regulation establishing new rules for what has heretofore been an entirely private set of transactions. I am glad we did, but that is what we did.

Mr. LEACH. Mr. Speaker, reclaiming my time, it is odd to be in an argument about an issue which we both support. But I would simply say it took a burden off the American people and that was a very appropriate thing to do.

Mr. FRANK of Massachusetts. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman would again yield, yes, I agree. Government regulation often has the effect of unburdening people who should not be burdened.

Mr. LEACH. Mr. Speaker, fair enough. If I could proceed on my own time, let me point out that in a broad macroeconomic way, this Congress, in less than 3½ years, has moved from a fiscal deficit to a fiscal surplus, something absolutely disbelieved by the American public, disbelieved or doubted, I think, by many in this body, including some in the party who helped to achieve this.

At this point we have three options. One of those options is to put forth a tax cut, because we are in a surplus circumstance. This is a credible option.

Another option is to keep the status quo and continue to pay back some of the enormous debts that have been built up over the last several decades. This, also, is a credible option.

The third option is to increase spending because we are in a surplus situation. That is an option that this side of the aisle thinks is less credible. And so, I would suggest to my colleagues, as we move forth in all areas of Federal spending, we are going to have to be very careful to restrain the budget.

In this regard, we are talking this afternoon about housing. One of the great reasons that there is more private home ownership in America is that there are more jobs because of a growing economy and there is lower cost to finance because of a more restrained fiscal and monetary policy. This side of the aisle is very, very concerned that we do not upset this mix of fiscal and monetary policy that has turned around our economy.

So, Mr. Speaker, in conclusion I would just like to stress that the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. FRANK) is entirely correct that we still have a problem of affordable housing in this country especially for lower income levels of America. We have just passed a housing bill that is largely the framework, in a budget sense, of what the administration has suggested, although spending is not as high as the gentleman from Massachusetts would like. But we have tried to work with the administration in a responsible way.

In fact, we have authorized higher dollars for spending on senior housing and for housing for people with disabilities than proposed by the administration. We are proud both of the spending and the tax restraints that have been put into place and we are proud of the principle undergirding this piece of legislation. I would urge my colleagues to adopt it.

Mr. RILEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of homeownership. That is a simple, but extremely important, statement.

Homeownership cuts across party lines, Mr. Speaker. It gives all Americans hope that they too can reach the American dream.

I can't imagine a member here today who does not believe that homeownership should be a national priority. It is important that the House keep this priority for all Americans in mind when considering this legislation.

We must remove unnecessary regulatory barriers that drive up the cost of homeownership. Housing accounts for 12% of our nation's economy and even modest decreases in the cost of a new home will open the door to homeownership for families who are now priced out of the market.

We must never push out of sight the need to focus on raising the nation's homeownership rate and allowing our nation's families and communities to be strengthened. Please join me in supporting H. Con. Res. 208.

Mr. WELLER. Mr. Speaker, I come to the well today to commend my friend from New York, Chairman LAZIO for moving this important resolution to demonstrate the federal governments' commitment to safe and affordable housing.

I believe that home ownership is a key part of achieving the American Dream. Increased homeownership leads to stronger families, stronger communities and local economic growth development. That is why we must work to reverse the decline in homeownership among those of us under 40 years of age. Making homeownership more affordable is a critical factor in our effort to turn this trend around.

I am happy to report that the 104th Congress made great strides in making homeownership more affordable. For example, I offered an amendment that would reduce the cost of homeownership by $200 a year for first time buyers using the FHA program. This provision was part of the FY 1998 VA-HUD Appropriations.

While we all recognize the need to make government smaller, smarter and more effective, I am committed to saving and improving programs that provide an indispensable service. That is why I authored legislation to make the FHA Single Family Program a government corporation. My legislation ensures that FHA's mission will continue and that the program will be given the latitude to create new products to meet market changes. It will remain independent of federal bureaucracy and will have to remain self sufficient. This format will keep FHA mortgages affordable and will remove taxpayer liability. FHA has made the dream of homeownership a reality for 250,000 families and individuals each year who would not otherwise have been able to afford a home; primarily first time buyers, minorities and those with low and moderate incomes. We must do everything we can to preserve and improve upon this success story.

FHA's Title One program is yet another success story that has been under utilized in recent years. The program provides opportunities for families to buy older homes, rehabilitate them and breathe new life into tired communities. While the Title One program increased its volume by 73% from 1994 to 1995 for a total of $1.324 billion, there were only $273.3 million in Illinois. Many former industrial communities that spread across this region could be revitalized with an infusion of additional Title One loans.

There also remains a national need for affordable rental units. Each year 100,000 units are lost to demolition, abandonment or a higher use of income going to meet non-housing expenses such as food and health care. The Low Income Housing Tax Credit has been responsible for financing the construction of units to replace that are lost each year. In addition to providing affordable housing, the success of this credit can be seen in the thousands of jobs it has helped create. This credit is a fine model of the public private partnership that we want to foster. It empowers local communities to address housing needs with minimal federal bureaucracy.

My Colleagues and I have founded a housing opportunity caucus to promote programs like the Low Income Housing Tax Credit, FHA Single Family and Title One Programs and other as building blocks for creating sound and compassionate housing opportunity policy that fosters homeownership as an opportunity for all Americans.

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this bill, which expresses the sense of Congress, that we must work towards providing access to safe, healthy and clean accommodations for all Americans.

The goals of this resolution are admirable. Adequate housing is an issue which has been unjustly ignored for too long by this Congress. I have always sought to ensure that the children of this great National all have access to safe and secure shelter, and this resolution, in my opinion, is a step in ensuring just that.

My district, which lies in the City of Houston, is suffering from a housing crisis. Thousands of families are currently on waiting lists for public housing. In fact, a recent report had this figure at over 6,000 people. For those families who have already endured the wait and are currently living in public housing, many have found the accommodations, unsafe, hazardous, and woefully inadequate. Public Housing has merit, but it is not the best solution for every family with a housing deficiency.

Not all government action has been fruitless, however. We have had remarkable success with Federal programs which work in partnership with private entities. One example is the Department of Housing and Urban Development's Section 8 Housing Program. Under this program, certificates or vouchers are issued to needy families who pay too large a part of portion of their income in rent. The voucher that they receive is for a modest amount, and just brings the rent down to a manageable level.

One of the reasons that this program is so successful is because Section 8 families are allowed to stay in private housing. That not only means that Section 8 landlords get a fair shake in the deal, but it also means that the individual families who use the vouchers have some choice in where they live, work, and raise their children.

Just within the last few weeks, I have worked closely with the people at Fannie Mae in my district. They recently undertook the responsibility of funding a study that would look closely at how their corporation, and other mortgage financiers, can enter the urban market in a successful and lucrative manner. I look forward to the results of that study, and to the benefits I believe it will bring to my community, in the form of more options for prospective homeowners who have typically been excluded from the American dream.

We must work closely together here in the House in order to find viable and workable solutions for our housing deficiencies. This problem afflicts all of our districts, and we must take a pro-active stance if we are going to bring some sort of relief to our constituents. I hope that this resolution signals a step in that direction.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. STEARNS). The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from New York (Mr. LEACH) that the House suspend the rules and agree to the concurrent resolution, H. Con. Res. 208.

The question was taken.

Mr. FRANK of Massachusetts. Mr. Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 5 of rule I and the Chair's prior announcement, further proceedings on this motion will be postponed.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. LEACH. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks on the concurrent resolution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from New York?

There was no objection.

WAR RISK INSURANCE REAUTHORIZATION ACT of 1998

Mr. DUNCAN. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 4058) to amend title 49, United States Code, to extend the aviation insurance program, and for other purposes.

The Clerk read as follows:

H.R. 4058

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. AVIATION INSURANCE PROGRAM AMENDMENTS.

(a) REIMBURSEMENT OF INSURED PARTY'S SUBROGEE.—Section 44309(a) of title 49, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

“(a) LOSSES.—

“(1) ACTIONS AGAINST UNITED STATES.—A person may bring a civil action in a district court of the United States or in the United States Court of Federal Claims against the United States Government when—

“(A) a loss insured under this chapter is in dispute; or

“(B)(i) the person is subrogated under a contract between the person and a party insured under this chapter (other than section 44305(b)) to the rights of the insured party against the United States Government; and

“(ii) the person has paid to the insured party, with the approval of the Secretary of Transportation, an amount for a physical damage loss that the Secretary has determined is a loss covered by insurance issued under this chapter (other than section 44305(b)).

“(2) LIMITATION.—A civil action involving the same matter (except the action authorized by this subsection) may not be brought against an agent, officer, or employee of the Government carrying out this chapter.

“(3) PROCEDURE.—To the extent applicable, the procedure in an action brought under section 1346(a)(2) of title 28 applies to an action under this subsection.”.

(b) EXTENSION OF AVIATION INSURANCE PROGRAM.—Section 44310 of such title is amended by striking “1998” and inserting “2003”.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Tennessee (Mr. DUNCAN) and the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. BORSKI) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Tennessee (Mr. DUNCAN).

Mr. DUNCAN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, this bill reauthorizes the War Risk Insurance program for 5 years. The Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure unanimously approved H.R. 4058 on June 25.

This bill is very similar to legislation, S. 1193, which the House passed on November 12, 1997. S. 1193 provided a short extension of the program in order to give us time to develop an alternative to borrowing authority that would help ensure that air carrier insurance claims could be paid in a timely manner.

The War Risk Insurance Program expires on December 31 of this year. Our borrowing authority proposal was opposed by the administration last year, so we worked with the administration and others in developing this alternative. H.R. 4058 would reauthorize the War Risk Insurance Program for 5 years until the year 2003. It also includes a provision that would allow an air carrier to be reimbursed almost immediately from its private insurance company should the Federal Government be unable to pay promptly because of some unforeseen circumstance or because the insurance fund had been depleted.

In short, if the Federal Government does not pay promptly, the airline can get the prompt payment from its private insurance company. The insurance company's prompt payment would then eventually be reimbursed by the Federal Government.

The War Risk Insurance Program is vitally important to this Nation and to our national defense. It was first authorized in 1951 and over the years has been improved upon during the reauthorization process.

The subcommittee held a hearing on this program in May of last year and has made great progress on this program.

The War Risk Insurance Program was used extensively during operations Desert Shield and Desert Storm to ensure aircraft carrier and troops and supplies to the Middle East. Without this program, the military would have had to buy more aircraft for this purpose, which would have cost taxpayers billions of dollars. Instead, commercial aircraft, with the protection of war risk insurance, were willing to take on these dangerous missions.

This is a good bill, Mr. Speaker, a needed bill, and I strongly urge its adoption.

Mr. BORSKI. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

(Mr. BORSKI asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. BORSKI. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.R. 4058, a bill to extend and improve the War Risk Insurance Program. This is a little known but very important program. It ensures commercial airline flights to high risk areas, such as countries at war or on the verge of war, where commercial insurance companies will not provide insurance. These flights must be directed to supporting the foreign policy or national security of the United States.

Its largest, most recent use, was to support operation Desert Shield and Desert Storm, ferrying our troops and equipment to the Middle East.

The bill before us today extends this program into the year 2003. It also provides us with a solution to a problem left unresolved from last year. During one of the Subcommittee on Aviation's hearings last year, GAO identified that there was a need for air carriers purchasing premium insurance to have a better guarantee that if they suffered a claim in excess of the amount in the aviation insurance fund they would be assured of complete and immediate reimbursement.

Without this guarantee, significant problems could be created, especially for a small airline where the loss of one aircraft could be devastating. The solution contained in this bill would address this issue by making it easier for an airline to obtain prompt payment insurance from a commercial insurance company. Such insurance would ensure that the airline could obtain reimbursement for its loss from the insurance company quickly, even if the FAA's insurance fund was insufficient and Congress failed to replenish it promptly. The commercial insurer could then recover the money it paid to the airline when money was appropriated to replenish the insurance fund.

I want to commend the gentleman from Tennessee, Chairman DUNCAN, and the gentleman from Illinois, Mr. LIPINSKI, the distinguished ranking member, for having the patience to find an acceptable bipartisan solution to this issue, and I strongly urge all Members of the House to support H.R. 4058 because of its importance to our Nation's foreign policy efforts.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. DUNCAN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I simply want to thank my good friend, the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. BORSKI) for assisting us on this legislation, and I have no other speakers at this time so I simply urge support for this very important legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Tennessee (Mr. DUNCAN), that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 4058.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the bill was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. DUNCAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members be given 5 legislative days in which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on H.R. 4058, the bill just passed.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Tennessee?

There was no objection.

EXPRESSING CONDOLENCES TO THE STATE AND PEOPLE OF FLORIDA FOR LOSSES SUFFERED AS A RESULT OF WILD LAND FIRES

Mrs. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and agree to the concurrent resolution (H. Con. Res. 298) expressing deepest condolences to the State and people of Florida for the losses suffered as a result of the wild land fires occurring in June and July 1998, expressing support to the State and people of Florida as they overcome the effects of the fires, and commending the heroic efforts of fire fighters from across the Nation in battling the fires.

H. CON. RES. 298

Whereas during June and July 1998, wild land fires destroyed approximately 500,000 acres of land in northeast and central Florida, having an aggregate value of more than $276,000,000;

Whereas the fires have affected 67 counties in the State of Florida;

Whereas the President of the United States issued a major disaster declaration for the State of Florida;

Whereas the fires have damaged at least 367 homes and 33 businesses;

Whereas the fires have caused business closures and have aggravated drought conditions, which will have a long-term impact on the economy of the region;

Whereas the fires have caused injuries to at least 95 people, the majority of whom are firefighters;

Whereas approximately 7,000 firefighters from 46 States have braved extreme conditions to assist firefighters in Florida in fighting the fires;

Whereas many agencies of or established by the Federal Government, including the Federal Emergency Management Agency, the Forest Service, the Department of Defense, the Department of Transportation, AmeriCorps, the Small Business Administration, the General Services Administration, the National Guard, the American National Red Cross, and the Civil Air Patrol, have contributed vital support functions in response to the fires; and

Whereas many State and local government agencies have also contributed vital support functions in response to the fires: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), That the Congress—

(1) expresses deepest condolences to the State and people of Florida for the losses suffered as a result of the wild land fires occurring in June and July 1998;

(2) expresses support to the State and people of Florida as they overcome the effects of the fires;

(3) commends the heroic efforts of firefighters from across the Nation in battling the fires; and

(4) commends the many agencies of or established by the Federal Government and the many State and local government agencies that have contributed vital support functions in response to the fires.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. STEARNS). Pursuant to the rule, the gentlewoman from Florida (Mrs. FOWLER) and the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. BORSKI) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Florida (Mrs. FOWLER).

Mrs. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I rise today as my State and district, and the Chair's State and district, are beginning a healing process following weeks of widespread wild land fires and months of drought conditions. Floridians have been dealing bravely with fires that have threatened their homes and property as well as their own health and safety.

Months of hot and dry weather encouraged fire to spread to every county in the State, with some of the worst fires in Flagler and Volusia Counties which I represent. The fires devoured nearly one-half million acres, bringing with them tremendous, searing heat.

Long after some of the most visible scars will be gone, the State will continue to feel the effects of the wildfires. Estimates are that it may take as many as 100 years for some of the burned acreage to return to normal. In a single word, it was a disaster.

My purpose in rising today is to urge the passage of this resolution thanking the thousands of fire fighters and emergency personnel from Florida and more than 40 other States who worked around the clock in the most dire of conditions to save the lives of Floridians. Many of those injured in the fires were fire fighters who had left their families and traveled long distances to lend a hand to their fellow fire fighters in Florida.

This resolution expresses condolences to Florida citizens for losses suffered as a result of the wildfires, a State-wide aggregate of $276 million and rising. The recovery has just begun and many forms of assistance will continue to be available.

I want to thank the residents who helped their neighbors when entire counties were evacuated with very little advance warning. I was very heartened with the generosity from total strangers and businesses.

I especially would like to express gratitude to Bill and Betty Jane France, who own the Daytona Beach International Speedway. Set to have the first night race ever at the track, with more than 150,000 people to attend, the Frances and Speedway president John Graham decided to postpone the Pepsi 400 to protect the safety of the fans. Beyond that, they turned their racetrack into a staging area for the National Guard to respond to fires in the area, and provided temporary housing at the track for evacuees and fire fighters in the area, giving them bedding and meals at the track's expense.

Ernest Hemingway once said that, "Courage is grace under pressure." The conditions which residents, businesses and emergency personnel endured were more than just pressure, but courage is a good word to describe their individual heroism and their determination.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. BORSKI. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

(Mr. BORSKI asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. BORSKI. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to join the gentlewoman from Florida (Mrs. FOWLER) in supporting this concurrent resolution.

We have all been moved by the pictures and stories of the devastation in Florida. While wildfires may be a natural occurrence, they are not natural to the lives of those who live and work in their path.

These first caused a great deal of suffering, property loss and damage to the Florida economy. Yet, the people of Florida fought back to protect themselves and their livelihoods. I want to commend my colleagues from Florida for their interest in the struggle of those involved, and it is most fitting that the Congress express its support to the State of Florida and its people.

In particular, Mr. Speaker, I want to commend my colleague the gentlewoman from Florida (Ms. BROWN), who introduced this resolution, and the gentlewoman from Florida (Mrs. FOWLER), who is managing this bill. The entire Florida delegation deserve our acknowledgment on behalf of their efforts for Florida and in bringing this resolution to the floor.

Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from Florida (Ms. BROWN).

Ms. BROWN of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank my colleagues and the great people they represent for supporting this resolution and the people of Florida.

The State of Florida has been experiencing a terrible destruction due to wild land fires and drought. This terrible natural disaster has created an incredible hardship on the residents, businesses, and disaster relief agencies and personnel in Florida.

My colleagues and I from the Florida delegation and the Task Force on Wildfires have introduced this House Concurrent Resolution to express our deepest condolences to the State and to the people of Florida who have experienced financial loss and emotional pain associated with the devastation of nearly a half million acres of land.

This resolution also expresses sincere gratitude to the fire fighters, including the 7,000 fire fighters who came from 46 States from around this country to help manage and put out these fires. Just recently, the Emergency Support Transportation staff are scheduling the return of equipment and personnel from North Dakota, Virginia, Maryland, North Carolina, and Louisiana. I thank all of these people who have traveled from these and other places for their tremendous courage and spirit of patriotism.

Mr. Speaker, in tragic situations like these it is wonderful to see the entire Nation mobilized in this way to help fellow Americans. This resolution also thanks the numerous Federal agencies, including FEMA, the Department of Defense, National Guard, the Department of Transportation, AmeriCorps, and other agencies such as the Red Cross who helped in these endeavors.

The Department of Defense sent Marines from North Carolina and other support staff, and more than 1,500 Florida and Georgia Army National Guard troops were activated and deployed to support fire fighter operations. The Naval Air Station Jacksonville in my district was the base support for the Defense Coordinating Element provided by the Department of Defense.

The U.S. Forest Service sent more than 1,400 fire fighters as support crew to help in this effort. The Civil Air Patrol has flown more than 23 missions in support of the fire fighting effort. And the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has provided 565,000 pounds of ice to the fire fighter crews.

Mr. Speaker, these are a few of the many examples of support and great deeds that occurred in fighting these fires. In the face of crises, this response was very effective and helped to get these fires under control. On behalf of the people of Florida, I thank all of these great people and institutions for their hard work.

Mr. BORSKI. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from Florida (Mrs. THURMAN).

Mrs. THURMAN. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate this, and I certainly appreciate my colleagues bringing this to the floor today. This is a really important issue for all of us from Florida.

I, too, would like to offer my deepest appreciation to all of the men and women who have left their families and who have risked their lives to fight these deadly blazes.

These disastrous fires have uprooted hundreds throughout Florida. For some of us who have visited the sites of the worst fire outbreaks, I can tell my colleagues it is absolutely heart-wrenching. These people, my neighbors, my constituents, never thought their lives would be affected by a fire. One hundred ninety-three people, many of whom are fire fighters have been injured. More than 337 homes have been destroyed and 33 businesses have been decimated.

I hasten to think about the damage and destruction that would have befallen Florida without the decisive action by these fire fighters. Throughout this ordeal, in an amazing expression of unity and compassion, 7,000 men and women from 46 States have shown the world what it really means to care about their neighbors. And believe me, all Floridians are appreciative.

When I was in Deland, Florida, a few weeks ago, I met with both the fire fighters and with members of the community they were defending. I wish I could share with my colleagues the images of not only the anguish of these events, but also the expressions of gratitude, the joy of knowing these men and women were defending their community against these blazes.

These brave fire fighters all over the country have risked everything, and I want to let them know that America appreciates their courage and their diligence.

For the Floridians whose homes and business have suffered irreparable damage, I want them to know their government will not forget about them. We will continue to provide as much support as needed. I am delighted Members of Congress have come together to set aside additional resources to combat future fires.

This week the House will consider the Interior appropriations bill. I am delighted the bill currently includes $23.5 million for cooperative fire protection, $2 million for volunteer fire assistance, and about $21.5 million for State fire assistance.

Again, to the men and women who have come to fight these fires, I would like to thank them from the bottom of my heart. They have truly made a difference in the lives of our constituents.

Mr. BORSKI. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Florida (Ms. BROWN).

Ms. BROWN of Florida. Mr. Speaker, again, I thank my colleagues and the great people they represent for supporting this resolution and the people of Florida.

We in Florida will rebuild what has been destroyed and continue to make our way in life. I think that times like this bring people together from all walks of life, and it shows what a wonderful spirit America has.

On behalf of the people of Florida, I thank America for their support.

Mrs. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from Florida (Mr. STEARNS).

Mr. STEARNS. Mr. Speaker, I thank my colleague for yielding me this time, and I rise today also in support of H. Con. Res. 298, of which I am a cosponsor.

I think it is only fitting that we pass this resolution and recognize the damage inflicted upon our home State of Florida in the fires of the past 2 months. In doing so, of course, we also honor those who acted valiantly against terrible odds, terrible odds, to save lives and property.

The district I represent was also affected, although not as much as others. Thankfully, the damage was minimal. Many towns in my district served as a haven for the many thousands of evacuees who fled these fires.

Palatka and Ocala residents opened their doors to over 2,000 evacuees streaming in from nearby Flagler County and other fire-stricken areas. I am proud to represent this district with so many fine people residing there.

Across the State, thousands pitched in to assist the fire fighting effort. Private contractors volunteered machinery and manpower to fight the flames and, of course, transport water. Churches, schools, motels, businesses, all of them opened their doors to shelter evacuees. Donations poured in to aid the victims and help the brave emergency workers and fire fighters.

Mr. Speaker, the outpouring of goodwill and assistance we received came from within our State, from the Federal Government and many other States, but even foreign countries also offered aid.

As we reflect on our ability to respond to natural disasters, we should be prepared for future fire outbreaks. As a member of the House Fire Services Caucus, I recognize a coordinated effort of all available resources is necessary to successfully battle these blazes.

On June 25th, 1998, I joined with fellow Members of the Caucus at a press conference highlighting our new task force and initiated actions on wild land fires. We contacted Defense Secretary William Cohen, requesting the cooperation and assistance of the Defense Department and, of course, the U.S. National Guard, to identify assets that can be used and made available for fire fighting purposes in the future.

This resolution commends the heroic efforts of all our fire fighters who came from across the Nation. In this resolution we also recognize how well local, State and Federal agencies and departments responded to this terrible tragedy.

Finally, Mr. Speaker, we express our sorrow that so many Floridians experienced so much loss. As Florida begins the long, long process of recovery, we can evaluate how we responded to these blazes. Hopefully, in the future, we can prevent such losses.

Mr. Speaker, let us pass this resolution today and let Floridians know that the Nation recognizes their heroism and sympathizes with their losses.

Mrs. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to note that all 23 members of the Florida delegation are cosponsors of this legislation and we are all deeply appreciative of all of the efforts that were given to the State of Florida.

Mrs. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today as my State and district are beginning a healing process following weeks of widespread wildland fires and months of drought conditions. Floridians have been dealing bravely with fires that have threatened their homes and property as well as their own health and safety.

Months of hot and dry weather encouraged fire to spread to every county in the State with some of the worst fires in Flagler and Volusia counties which I represent. The fires devoured nearly one-half million acres, bringing with them tremendous, searing heat.

Long after some of the most visible scars will be gone, the State will continue to feel the effects of the wildfires. Estimates are that it may take as many as 100 years for some of the burned acreage to return to normal. In a single word, it was a disaster.

My purpose in rising today is to urge the passage of this resolution thanking the thousands of firefighters and emergency personnel from Florida, and more than 40 other States, who worked around the clock in the most dire of conditions to save the lives of Floridians. Many of those injured in the fires were firefighters who had left their families and traveled long distances to lend a hand to their fellow firefighters in Florida.

The resolution expresses condolences to Florida citizens for losses suffered as a result of the wildfires—a statewide aggregate of $276 million. The recovery has just begun and many forms of assistance will continue to be available.

I want to thank the residents who helped their neighbors when entire counties are evacuated with very little advance warning. I was very heartened with the generosity from total strangers and businesses.

Pfizer, Incorporated responded quickly to my request for a donation of eyedrops to help firefighters working in the thick smoke. Mr. Wayne Weaver, owner of the Jacksonville Jaguars, worked with NFL Charities and Commissioner Tagliabue to each donate $100,000 to the American Red Cross's wildfire disaster relief efforts. Mr. Weaver is also working on an effort to have season ticket holders donate their tickets to either the Jaguars/Giants game or the Jaguars/Cowboys game to local firefighters and their families. The resolution we are considering today also gives due credit to the American Red Cross, which as always, was on the scene to lend comfort, supplies, and advice to the thousands of residents evacuated from their homes.

I would like to express gratitude to Bill and Betty Jane France who own the Daytona Beach International Speedway. Set to have the first night race ever at the track, with more than 150,000 people to attend, the Frances and Speedway President, John Graham, decided to postpone the Pepsi 400 to protect the safety of fans. Beyond that, they turned their racetrack into a staging area for the National Guard to respond to fires in the area and provided temporary housing at the track for evacuees and firefighters in the area, giving them bedding and meals at track's expense.

Ernest Hemingway once said that "courage is grace under pressure." The conditions which residents, businesses, and emergency personnel endured were more than just pressure, but courage is a good word to describe their individual heroism and their determination.

Mr. MICA. Mr. Speaker, I would like to take this opportunity to express my deepest thanks to all the firefighters who fought tirelessly for weeks against the recent wildfires in Florida.

This summer has been a trying time for the people of Florida. The citizens of my State have witnessed record high temperatures and a desert-like climate. A lack of rain over the past several months has caused the rural areas of Florida to become so dry that they are ignited into blazing infernos with the slightest hint of flame.

The country watched on television and read in the newspapers for weeks how my State burned at the mercy of these devastating fires. Seminole and Volusia Counties, two of the counties in my District, were hit hard. Businesses were lost, homes were destroyed, and natural areas annihilated.

But the destruction in my District was no different than the destruction throughout the rest of the State. Florida cried out with a plea of "Please help."

And people from across this Nation called out resoundingly—"We're on our way".

And they came. They came from Georgia and Alaska. They came from North Carolina and Alabama. They came from 47 States in the Union. Out of the devastation of these fires came the tremendous courage and help of thousands of Americans who worked valiantly throughout this tragedy.

In total approximately 7,000 firefighters risked their own lives to save the lives and homes of the people of Florida. Fortunately out of 170 injuries that these firefighters suffered only one was serious.

Greg Born, from Alabama, suffered the worst injuries of the firefighting effort. While in the field he was struck by a falling tree. The weight of the tree broke his arm and fractured his neck. He is still in a cast and neck brace.

To Greg and all the other brave souls that fought the wildfires in Florida I say thank you, and if your States are ever in need you can call on us. We'll be there.

To the citizens of my district who opened their homes, their helping hands, and their hearts I say "thank you"!

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. I rise today to offer my most heartfelt sympathy to the victims of the fires that are ravaging parts of Florida. Recent comments by the director of emergency management services for Brevard county seem to say it all: "This is a war."

He sounded like a soldier whose position was about to be overrun by enemy forces. "We've got fronts on the north and the south."

The destruction has already climbed into the millions. The fires have destroyed, for example, more than $190 million of commercial timber. Drought conditions have caused more than $135 million in damage to crops like corn, cotton, and peanuts.

Many houses and private property have been destroyed, and thousands of people have been displaced, or forced to temporarily relocate to avoid the wildfires. Recently, about 40,000 residents of northeast Florida were forced to flee in the wake of wind-swept embers as brushfires consumed—or threatened to consume—many rural areas.

In early July alone, Volusia and Brevard counties have been experiencing the worst of about 1,600 fires of varying sizes and degrees of containment that raged around the State. And, just like my home State of Texas, with no rain or lower temperatures in sight, state officials said the situation may worsen before it gets better.

Thus, in the past month, the State of Florida has suffered from an onslaught of drought and wild fires, leading to the destruction of 500,000 acres of land, 367 homes and 33 businesses, and the injury of 95 people, the majority of whom are firefighters.

H. Con. Res. 298 expresses Congress' deepest condolences to the State and people of Florida for the losses suffered as a result of the wild land fires occurring in June and July; and it expresses congressional support to the State and people of Florida as they overcome the effects of the fires.

This measure also commends the heroic efforts of firefighters from across the Nation who have traveled to Florida to battle the fires, and commends the many government agencies who have also lent their support. It is a good piece of legislation that deserves to be supported.

Mr. Speaker I urge my colleagues to adopt H. Con. Res. 298.

Mrs. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I have no further speakers at this time, and I would just strongly support the passage of this resolution.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. BORSKI. Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. BE-REUTER). The question is on the motion offered by the gentlewoman from Florida (Mrs. FOWLER) that the House suspend the rules and agree to the concurrent resolution, H. Con. Res. 298.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the concurrent resolution was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mrs. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks on H. Con. Res. 298, expressing condolences to Florida.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentlewoman from Florida?

There was no objection.

RELATING TO THE IMPORTANCE OF JAPANESE AMERICAN RELATIONS

Mr. BEREUTER. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and agree to the resolution (H. Res. 392) relating to the importance of Japanese-American relations and the urgent need for Japan to more effectively address its economic and financial problems and open its markets by eliminating informal barriers to trade and investment, thereby making a more effective contribution to leading the Asian region out of its current financial crisis, insuring against a global recession, and reinforcing regional stability and security, as amended.

H. RES. 392

Whereas the maintenance and improvement of a very positive international relationship between the United States and Japan is vital to the two countries and to the entire global economic and trading system;

Whereas the United States-Japan Security Alliance and close economic cooperation have underpinned the security, stability, and prosperity of the Asia-Pacific region, thereby allowing that region to enjoy unmatched economic growth and development for nearly three decades;

Whereas the current financial crisis in Asia threatens the foundation of Asia's unmatched peace and prosperity, the stability of the global economic system, and related vital American security and economic interests;

Whereas, although the Government of Japan's $128,000,000,000 economic stimulus and tax reduction package of April 24, 1998, includes numerous provisions designed to promote consumer spending and industrial growth, it is by no means clear that these measures will restore economic growth or will be targeted at the most productive sectors of the economy;

Whereas Japan's generous contributions to second line credits for the three International Monetary Fund program countries, South Korea, Thailand, and Indonesia, totaling $19,000,000,000, and its substantial structural adjustment loans and export credits to Indonesia, have helped contain the financial crisis, but are an inadequate alternative to a strong Japanese economy;

Whereas Japan accounts for three-fourths of the total East Asian Gross Domestic Product and therefore has the potential to help pull the region out of the financial crisis by serving as its "engine of growth", just as the United States, by being an "engine of growth" and having open markets, earlier assisted Mexico emerge from a substantial financial crisis;

Whereas a further weakening of the yen could trigger a round of competitive devaluations among Japan's Asian neighbors;

Whereas deteriorating economic conditions and ongoing financial market turbulence in Asia make it increasingly important that Japan play a leadership role in helping to restore confidence in the economic future of the region;

Whereas that regional leadership role coincides with Japan's stated goal of promoting strong domestic demand-led growth and avoiding a significant increase in its external trade surplus;

Whereas Japan's continued economic stagnation depresses the level of its imports from the United States and other countries in the Asia-Pacific region, thereby forcing its neighbors in the region to rely more heavily on their exports to the United States for growth;

Whereas weakened economic fundamentals in Japan and an accommodative monetary policy, coupled with a robust United States economy, have weakened the value of the Japanese yen against the United States dollar and therefore stimulated a rapid expansion of exports and a fast-growing merchandise trade surplus with the United States, which increased from $48,000,000,000 in 1996 to $55,000,000,000 in 1997;

Whereas the bursting of Japan's investment bubble in 1991 has been accompanied by protracted asset-price and balance sheet adjustments by Japanese financial institutions, leading to a scarcity of credit and weak growth;

Whereas policies favoring low interest rates had encouraged, until recently, excessive private sector lending to overly indebted enterprises in Indonesia, Korea, and Thailand, and thereby contributed to the private debt crisis in the region;

Whereas past efforts to stimulate recovery through deficit spending targeted at the construction sector have proved inadequate and failed to accomplish their desired objectives;

Whereas inadequate deregulation initiatives have failed to restore vitality to the Japanese economy, while truly significant deregulation could add as much as a percentage point or more to Japanese economic growth; and

Whereas the continued failure of the Government of Japan to properly recognize and remedy the aforementioned policies will both prolong the Asian financial crisis and contribute to the inevitable rise in the American trade deficit with Japan, thereby potentially undermining American domestic support for close economic, political, and security cooperation and coordination between the United States and Japan at a critical point in history: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the House of Representatives that Japan should urgently undertake the following steps to enhance alliance cooperation and raise Japan to the position of regional partnership that it should enjoy by virtue of its economic size, technological achievements and its democratic political system:

(1) Undertake a broader and faster deregulation of its economy, in order to improve long-term growth prospects and promote opportunities for foreign firms, improve transparency and disclosure, reward innovation and competition, and reduce systemic risk.

(2) Further open its distribution system to eliminate exclusionary and discriminatory business practices that are not only limiting imports but stifling economic growth and competition in Japan.

(3) Fully honor and implement its bilateral trade agreements with the United States as well as its multilateral trade commitments.

(4) Take other aggressive steps to reduce numerous barriers to imports and foreign investment and seek to lower its current account surplus to 2 percent or less of gross domestic product.

(5) Move promptly to dispose of nonperforming bank loans by disposing of nonperforming real estate and other loans and by allowing the market to determine the real value of these assets and loans.

(6) Take immediate steps to address systemic problems in the banking system, close insolvent banks, and recapitalize weaker banks with banks that have strong fundamentals and good management.

(7) Address its fiscal problems in a manner that does not jeopardize economic recovery, with an emphasis on significant and meaningful tax cuts and a comprehensive stimulus package that restores economic confidence and avoids the traditional sectorally-oriented approach of the past.

(8) Adopt all appropriate policies to strengthen the Japanese yen.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. STEARNS). Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Nebraska (Mr. BEREUTER) and the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. HAMILTON) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Nebraska (Mr. BEREUTER).

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. BEREUTER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks on H. Res. 392.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Nebraska?

There was no objection.

Mr. BEREUTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, the people of Japan have spoken to their government officials about the need for economic reform. It is now more important than ever that the House of Representatives send a clear and unequivocal message seconding that call for reform by unanimously approving House Resolution 392.

The House resolution emphasizes the importance of U.S.-Japan relations and stresses the urgent need for Japan to more effectively address its economic and financial problems and open its markets by eliminating informal barriers to trade and investment.

This Member introduced the resolution on March 24, 1998. The House Committee on International Relations adopted it by voice vote on June 5. This resolution's arrival on the floor is particularly timely, I would think, for, as Clyde Prestowitz said in his July 17, 1998, opinion piece in the Washington Post, "It is important that the United States and other countries move quickly to reinforce and elaborate the message of the Japanese electorate." That message, of course, was a demand for change in light of the continuing Asian economic crisis.

The Asian financial crisis represents a serious threat to the economic growth of the United States and the global economy. Approximately one year ago, Thailand's financial crisis was described by the President of the United States and many other experts as a few small glitches in the road. Now, one year later, Japan and Hong Kong are in recession, Indonesia's 32-year leader Suharto is gone, Russia stands in desperate need of more international assistance, and the world is pleading with China not to devalue its currency.

Despite Federal Reserve Chairman Greenspan's intentional down playing of the crisis so as not to disrupt the markets further, the Asian financial crisis threat is real, significant, and unfortunately not a short-term problem. This resolution states that Japan plays a crucial stabilizing role in the Asian-Pacific region and, therefore, must make a more effective contribution to leading the Asian-Pacific region out of its current financial crisis, insuring against global recession and reinforcing regional stability and security.

This resolution notes that Japan has generously responded to the Asian financial crisis by providing $19 billion in second-line credit to the Republic of Korea, Thailand, and Indonesia. Nevertheless, it also urges Japan to be more directly involved in helping the ailing Asian economies by opening its markets, deregulating its economy, eliminating barriers to trade, fixing its financial sector, adopting permanent tax cuts, and strengthening the yen.

Japan is the world's second largest economy and accounts for an amazing three-fourths of the total East-Asian gross domestic product. It certainly has the potential to play a leading role in pulling the region out of the financial crisis by serving as its engine of growth, or at least a second engine of growth along with the United States.

The United States' response to the Mexican crisis is a good example of how Japan could jointly serve with the United States and Europe as the engines of growth for Korea, Thailand, Indonesia and the region. The regional leadership role that this resolution calls on Japan to accept is entirely consistent with Japan's stated goal of promoting strong domestic demand-led growth and avoiding a significant increase in external surplus. Yet, Japan is in a full-blown recession, 7 years of stalemate, with zero growth projected for 1998, followed by as much as a 2 percent contraction in 1999.

Already, Japan's imports from most of its Asian trading partners have dropped substantially in the first quarter of 1998. For example, compared to the same period in 1997, Japan's first-quarter imports from Indonesia declined 46.5 percent, Japan's imports from Thailand declined 39.7 percent, and its imports from South Korea declined 38.5 percent.

These weak economic fundamentals for Japan, coupled with a robust United States economy, have already weakened the value of the Japanese yen vis-a-vis the dollar. The weak yen has, in turn, stimulated a rapid expansion of exports and a fast-growing merchandise trade surplus with the United States, which increased from $48 billion in 1996 to $55 billion in 1997 and is on a record surplus pace in 1998.

Although the United States was able to almost unilaterally absorb Mexico's imports after the peso crisis, the United States simply cannot economically or politically absorb all the additional imports from the Asian-Pacific region stemming from the financial crisis. Mostly because of the Asian financial crisis, the IMF estimates that the U.S. trade deficit with the world, already at $178 billion in 1997, could grow as much as an incredible $50 to $100 billion in 1998. And that is the growth, $50 to $100 billion.

U.S. officials representing both Republican and Democrat administrations have long called for Japan to deregulate its economy and remove informal barriers to trade. More recently, U.S. Treasury and Federal Reserve officials have called upon Japan to take the tough steps necessary to reform the financial sector of the economy. Nevertheless, knowledgeable Japan observers have been underwhelmed by the scale and scope of the proposed reforms in Japan, including the financial sector big bang and a bridge bank to close bankrupt financial institutions. To paraphrase Secretary Rubin, it is time for Japan to move beyond virtual reform to real reform.

Moreover, Japan's political leaders have stubbornly refused to abandon their export-dominated economic model while undermining Korea, Thailand and Indonesia's recovery from the Asian financial crisis. For example, Japan's current account surplus with the world has risen from $65.8 billion in 1995 to $93.5 billion in 1997, and is expected to exceed $100 billion in 1998.

This resolution reinforces the administration's strategy to focus on key deregulation and competition policy initiatives in Japan. For example, it urges Japan to undertake a broader and faster deregulation of its economy, open its distribution system, and eliminate exclusionary and discriminatory business practices. These initiatives are aimed at helping highly competitive U.S. companies in sectors such as financial services, telecommunications, pharmaceuticals, construction materials, and consumer goods gain access to the Japanese consumer.

Furthermore, this resolution calls upon Japan to take other steps to reduce numerous non-tariff barriers to imports and foreign investment. It also addresses reform of the financial sector in Japan by calling upon that country to promptly dispose of non-performing bank loans while taking other necessary steps to reform the banking system.

Long before Prime Minister Hashimoto's very public wavering on tax cuts for Japanese, this resolution stressed the need for Japanese officials to enact permanent tax cuts for individual Japanese citizens.

Finally, this resolution properly, I think, recognizes that Japan must immediately adopt all appropriate policies to strengthen the yen. An excessively weak yen threatens not only the entire Asian-Pacific region but also global trade and stability.

Mr. Speaker, the world is closely watching Japan to determine if that country's leaders can steer the world's second largest economy out of recession. The implications of their actions or inactions are enormous for Japan itself, for the regional and global economy, and for the United States. If Japan's newly elected leaders and a prime minister yet to be elected choose the right path, they can help ensure that the Asian financial crisis is a temporary setback on the road to further economic liberalization and democratization in Asia. But if they choose the wrong path, they have the potential to prolong the crisis and perhaps even contribute to a global economic slowdown that will have a significant impact on the United States and a very negative one.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support the resolution.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H. Res. 392. I commend the gentleman from Nebraska (Mr. BEREUTER) and the gentleman from California (Mr. BERMAN), the ranking member of the Subcommittee on Asia and the Pacific, for introducing this resolution. It is a very good one. It is carefully drafted. It is balanced, and it certainly is timely.

No country can do more than Japan to help Asia's crisis economies recover. Consistent with its role in the region as the dominant economy, Japan has pledged more than any other country to the multilateral financial packages system for Thailand, Korea, and Indonesia. I would hope that the Japanese government and the people of Japan will note that H. Res. 392 applauds these generous contributions and recognizes the positive economic steps that Japan has undertaken.

The resolution also strongly reaffirms the importance of the U.S.-Japanese relationship. Over the long run, however, export growth and new private investment will be more critical than multilateral aid to economic recovery in Asia. As long as its economy remains stagnant and its financial institutions remain in crisis, Japan cannot be the customer and the investor that Thailand, Korea, and Indonesia need. The United States then will become the region's importer of last resort.

H. Res. 392 calls for Japan to implement policies that will get its economy humming and put its financial system in order. These policy recommendations closely parallel the ones conveyed by the administration recently and repeatedly, and many prominent Japanese have urged their government to take these same steps.

As the recent elections in Japan demonstrate, Japanese citizens also see the urgency of reforms.

□ 1545

We support Japan's efforts to make these important reforms. I think this is a responsible resolution, it conveys an important message, and I urge its adoption.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. BEREUTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from Arizona (Mr. KOLBE).

(Mr. KOLBE asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. KOLBE. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding me this time.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this resolution and commend the gentleman from Nebraska for drafting it. For too long we in the United States have misjudged, the U.S.-Japan relationship. In fact, I think Japan has misjudged the relationship as well. I remember just a few years ago, as I think many in this body remember, U.S.-Japan relations, particularly our trade relations, were very much at the forefront of American political thinking. One could not turn on a television, could not open a newspaper, could not buy a magazine or look at what was the latest on the New York Times best seller list without reading about the coming Japanese century or how America was losing its trade war with Japan. The Japanese economy was the envy of Asia, emulated by its neighbors and held up as a model for economic growth in the 21st century. At that time the Japanese economy was seen as a danger to our own economic prosperity.

How quaint that picture seems today. How almost we wished that that were the case again today. But today it is a vastly different picture. Today we find a Japan that seems to be mired in perpetual economic stagnation. Year after year of a no-growth economy is beginning to take its toll as unemployment continues to rise and credit becomes more difficult to attain. Underlying it all is a massive public debt, estimated by some to be as much as 250 percent of the gross domestic product; over $600 billion in nonperforming bank loans; corporate liabilities exceeding equity by an average of four to one; and an overvalued property market. Yet most Japanese seem unable or unwilling to acknowledge the extent of the economic crisis or the impact it is having on the rest of us in this globe that we all occupy.

If you walk down the streets of Tokyo today, you do not find a populace in fear for the future. Stores are filled with the latest merchandise, public works projects continue and virtually everywhere you look are the signs of a prosperous and successful society. There seems to be little concern for the future, or perhaps an unwillingness to admit it. There seems to be a quiet contentment with the prospects of subpar economic growth into the near future. This, Mr. Speaker, is not and must not be acceptable to the rest of the world, for our futures depend on the Japanese ability to solve their economic problems.

It is time for Japan to recognize its pivotal role in Asia. Japan must confront honestly its own domestic economic problems and assume its proper leadership role in southeast Asia and the rest of Asia. Japan can help pull Asia out of its economic doldrums and help to serve as one of the world's leading engines of economic growth. But it can do so only if the Japanese government and people have the political courage to do that.

This resolution that my colleague has drafted calls upon Japan to continue deregulation of its economy, to open its market to foreign goods as well as adopt policies to strengthen the yen. I fully support these efforts and hope my colleagues will support this important resolution.

Mr. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I yield 4 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from Michigan (Mr. LEVIN), a member of the Committee on Ways and Means.

(Mr. LEVIN ASKED AND WAS GIVEN PERMISSION TO REVISE AND EXTEND HIS REMARKS.)

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the distinguished gentleman for yielding me this time. I am pleased to join my other colleagues here in support of this resolution.

Several months ago, this resolution and one by the gentleman from New York (Mr. HOUGHTON) and myself were introduced in this body. That was before the crisis in Japan reached its present peak and before its recent election. It may well have been that several decades ago Japan may have benefited from its economic policies, its closed, sheltered, highly regulated economy. But increasingly Japan has been paying a heavy price: Its consumers because they were paying prices too high; the subduing of competition, the evolution of Japan in a highly structured way that made it hard for outsiders to enter. Increasingly, also, there was tension that rose and rose between Japan and other countries.

For over 10 years, a number of us have been urging Japan to open up their economic system. We talked about a number of their sectors where there was almost an iron curtain, an iron economic curtain, flat glass, autos and auto parts, film, paper and forest products, telecommunications, insurance, medical equipment and others. Those efforts were often simply given a cold shoulder by the Japanese and often were controversial within this Chamber. But time I think has shown how vital it was for Japan years ago to shift gears from its closed economic system, its system that essentially was structured like cartels and to move to open markets.

This is really the time for it to de-regulate, to open up. The yen is so weak they do not have to fear a flood of imports from other countries. This is the time for Japan to act. It is not only a matter for the Japanese but for all of Asia and for this country. Secretary Rubin and Larry Summers and others representing the administration have worked diligently, as has our U.S. Trade Representative, trying to impress upon the Japanese that this is the time for courage, for boldness, for action, for the political system of that country to rise to the occasion.

There is a crisis, an economic crisis in Asia today that in some respects is toned down but is in danger of flaming up again if Japan does not act. As a key Asian nation, Japan really must not only look to others but mainly to look to itself and to act. This resolution as the other one I mentioned urges the Japanese to rise to this occasion. Much of the world as well as their own economy will be affected. I rise in support and hope that this time, unlike many other previous occasions, that words from this Congress will be heard in Japan.

Mr. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. BEREUTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume in closing.

Mr. Speaker, I want to thank, first of all, the distinguished ranking member of the International Relations Committee, the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. HAMILTON) for his excellent remarks, for his support, and also the distinguished gentleman from Michigan, member of the Committee on Ways and Means, for his insightful and very welcomed remarks.

I would like to give just a couple of examples, in closing, about the difficulties we face in market access today in Japan. We heard a lot about the American flat glass industry some time ago. In fact, in 1996, the USTR deputy, Ira Shapiro, testified before the Ways and Means trade subcommittee that United States flat glass exports to Japan had increased 93 percent as a result of USTR's negotiated glass agreement with that country. That is true, but it most certainly does not tell the whole story. That 93 percent increase now gives us a total market share of 1 percent in Japan, a whopping 1 percent of the Japanese market.

Over in the area of financial services, specifically in the insurance sector, Japanese companies control 98 percent of the life business in Japan and 97 percent of the non-life business in the primary insurance sector. USTR recently concluded that Japan has not implemented the deregulation provisions of the bilateral insurance agreement and has taken actions to undermine, in fact, the U.S. market share in the third sector.

Finally, I would mention that since 1991, seven out of 10 new medicines launched in Europe and the United States remain unavailable in Japan. So we have major problems in pharmaceutical market access in that country.

These are examples of just one of the things that we are urging the Japanese to do, and, that is, to open up their markets, remove nontariff barriers and give access to their consumers to American products and to products from throughout the world.

Mr. Speaker, the chairman of the House International Relations Committee, the distinguished gentleman from New York (Mr. GILMAN), is involved in a traffic delay at this point. He is supportive of the resolution. He wanted to have that support expressed. His entire statement will be made a part of the record as a part of the request of general leave.

Mr. Speaker, I thank my colleagues for their support. I urge unanimous support for the resolution to recognize that Japan is a very important economic player in the world, the second largest economy, to recognize the positive steps they have taken but to also suggest very substantial directions that they need to take in order to make sure that the Asian financial crisis does not worsen.

Mr. GILMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of House Resolution 392 urging Japan to more effectively address its financial and economic problems. I would like to compliment my colleague, the gentleman from Nebraska, Mr. BEREUTER, who serves as Chairman of the Asia and Pacific Subcommittee, for his leadership in sponsoring this resolution and in bringing it to the floor today.

As we begin to debate the status of our trading relationship with China and the impact of the President's recent trip to that country, we should not lose sight of the importance of the United States-Japan Security Alliance and its key role in underpinning the security and stability of the Asia Pacific region.

Especially in light of the Asian financial crisis, which is slowing our economic growth and increasing our trade deficit to record levels, we must ensure that our two countries work together to reduce market barriers, to resolve mounting financial and bad loan problems and to increase trade and investment throughout Asia.

Considered by the Asia and Pacific Subcommittee on May 14, and the full International Relations Committee on June 5, this resolution can serve as a policy blueprint and a road map to better relations when a new Japanese Prime Minister takes office in the very near future.

Acknowledging the key role Japan has played in extending $19 billion in the form of second line credits to South Korea, Indonesia and Thailand, it asks Japan to more directly help the ailing Asian economies by stimulating its economic growth, reforming its financial sector and taking other similar measures to strengthen the yen.

With United States exports to Japan down some 11 percent in the first 5 months of this year and with the overall trade deficit expected to top $200 billion for the year, there are mounting concerns that declining wholesale prices indicate that Japan is in the grip of a growing deflationary spiral.

With Japan's overall bad debt burden now estimated at $250 billion, it is vitally important that the newly established Financial Supervisory Agency take swift and decisive measures to close insolvent institutions and restore confidence in its ailing financial sector.

Accordingly, I look forward to working with my colleagues on the committee, other interested members, and Administration officials in ensuring that the United States and Japan treat our economic relations—and our overall relationship—with the priority they deserve.

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I strongly support this measure. We should encourage the continued viability of the Japanese economy not only because Japan represents one of America's economic allies but also because the detrimental impacts of the Japanese economic crisis directly affects both the American and global markets.

The current crisis occurring in Japan is both real and severe. In its June 1998 monthly report, Bank of Japan noted that Japan's economic conditions continue to decline. Production continues to deteriorate. This problem exacerbates the employment and income crisis currently existing. The report also stated that public-sector investment has bottomed out while growth in net exports has peaked as exports to other Asia countries declined. Private consumption likely will not recover in the near future and housing investment continued to decrease.

It is imperative that we strongly urge Japan to resolve its current crisis. By advising Japan to undertake a broader and faster deregulation of its economy, Japan could regain economic stability and would promote long-term growth and foreign investment. Japan must also eliminate its exclusionary, and sometimes discriminatory, business practices, as well as its numerous barriers to imports and foreign investment, to foster global trade and domestic, economic growth.

Moreover, Japan must restructure its banking system by instituting changes such as the closing of insolvent banks and the recapitalization of banks. Disposal of nonperforming bank loans is equally important to Japanese recovery.

We must recognize the strong ties that bind American and Japanese economies and how this relationship affects the global market as a whole. The status quo cannot continue, and without drastic changes to its economic approaches, Japan will no longer participate as a valued actor in international trade. All of the measure's recommendations, as well as the others proposed by this legislation, are needed to return Japan to financial stability.

Mr. BEREUTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. KOLBE). The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Nebraska (Mr. BEREUTER) that the House suspend the rules and agree to the resolution, House Resolution 392, as amended.

The question was taken.

Mr. BEREUTER. Mr. Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 5 of rule I and the Chair's prior announcement, further proceedings on this motion will be postponed.

AFFIRMING UNITED STATES COMMITMENT TO TAIWAN

Mr. BEREUTER. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and agree to the concurrent resolution (H. Con. Res. 301) affirming the United States commitment to Taiwan.

The Clerk read as follows:

H. CON. RES. 301

Whereas at no time since the establishment of the People's Republic of China on October 1, 1949, has Taiwan been under the control of the People's Republic of China;

Whereas the United States began its long, peaceful, friendly relationship with Taiwan in 1949;

Whereas since the enactment of the Taiwan Relations Act in 1979, the policy of the United States has been based on the expectation that the further relationship between the People's Republic of China and Taiwan would be determined by peaceful means;

Whereas in March 1996, the People's Republic of China held provocative military maneuvers including missile launch exercises in the Taiwan Strait, in an attempt to intimidate the people of Taiwan during their historic, free, and democratic Presidential election;

Whereas officials of the People's Republic of China refuse to renounce the use of force against democratic Taiwan;

Whereas Taiwan has achieved significant political and economic strength as one of the world's premier democracies and as the 19th largest economy in the world;

Whereas Taiwan is the 7th largest trading partner of the United States;

Whereas no agreements exist between the People's Republic of China and Taiwan that determine the future status of Taiwan; and

Whereas the House of Representatives passed a resolution by a vote of 411-0 in June 1998 urging the President to seek, during his recent summit meeting in Beijing, a public renunciation by the People's Republic of China of any use of force, or threat of use of force, against democratic Taiwan: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), That Congress—

(1) affirms its longstanding commitment to Taiwan and the people of Taiwan in accordance with the Taiwan Relations Act (Public Law 96-8);

(2) affirms its expectation, consistent with the Taiwan Relations Act, that the future status of Taiwan will be determined by peaceful means, and that the people of both sides of the Taiwan Strait should determine their own future, and considers any effort to determine or influence the future status of Taiwan by other than peaceful means a threat to the peace and security of the Western Pacific region and of grave concern to the United States;

(3) affirms its commitment, consistent with the Taiwan Relations Act, to make available to Taiwan such defense articles and defense services, including appropriate ballistic missile defenses, in such quantities as may be necessary to enable Taiwan to maintain a sufficient self-defense capability;

(4) affirms its commitment, consistent with the Taiwan Relations Act, that only the President and Congress shall determine the nature and quantity of defense articles and services for Taiwan based solely upon their judgment of the defensive needs of Taiwan;

(5) urges the President, once again, to seek a public renunciation by the People's Republic of China of any use of force, or threat of use of force, against the free people of Taiwan; and

(6) affirms its strong support, in accordance with the spirit of the Taiwan Relations Act, of appropriate membership for Taiwan in international financial institutions and other international organizations.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Nebraska (Mr. BEREUTER) and the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. HAMILTON) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Nebraska (Mr. BEREUTER).

Mr. BEREUTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

(Mr. BEREUTER asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. BEREUTER. Mr. Speaker, as chairman of the Subcommittee on Asia and the Pacific, I rise in support of H. Con. Res. 301, affirming our commitment to the people and government of Taiwan. This resolution is intended to repair the damage done by President Clinton's comments on Taiwan during the recent U.S.-China summit.

The Subcommittee on Asia and the Pacific held a hearing on U.S.-Taiwan relations on May 20, 1998. At that hearing, administration witnesses offered repeated reassurances that Taiwan's interests would not be sacrificed during the June 1998 summit in Beijing. However, the President's statements in Shanghai regarding U.S. policy in regards to Taiwan, when he expressed what is known as the "three nos," has caused considerable consternation both in Taipei and in this capital. As the foreign power most closely involved in PRC-Taiwan relations, the goal of U.S. policy has centered on easing tensions and striking a proper balance between China and Taiwan. Since 1972, through Republican and Democrat administrations alike, the United States has maintained the "one-China policy." Our policy has been that the United States acknowledges that all Chinese on either side of the Taiwan Strait maintain that there is but one China and that Taiwan is a part of China. And the U.S. consistently has expressed its interest in a peaceful settlement of the Taiwan question by the Chinese themselves.

Mr. Speaker, there is a great difference between this position and the President's statement of June 30, where he said, "We don't support independence for Taiwan, or two Chinas; or one Taiwan, one China."

As we have seen, Beijing has used these comments to increase pressure on Taiwan to begin talks on reunification. Beijing hard-liners may again choose to test our commitment that Taiwan's future be determined through peaceful means and take steps which may lead us into war.

□ 1600

As you are aware, Mr. Speaker, the United States and China came dangerously close to war over Taiwan a bit more than 2 years ago, in 1996, when the U.S. found it necessary to send aircraft carrier task forces, two of them, to the region.

In May 1996 the first fully democratic presidential elections ever held by a Chinese society took place on the island of Taiwan. Today, the United States and Taiwan share a vibrant mutually beneficial trade relationship. Almost 20 years after the enactment of the Taiwan Relations Act, our unofficial relations with the people of Taiwan are stronger and more robust than ever.

This Member would congratulate the gentleman from Texas (Mr. DELAY), the distinguished majority whip, for offering this legislation reaffirming America's willingness to stand by its commitment to the people of Taiwan. Working together, the gentleman has made it possible for the resolution before this body today to be a strong affirmation of long-standing U.S. policy and the "one China policy."

This Member wants to express his deep appreciation for the sponsor's effort to work with this Member to ensure the broadest possible support for H. Con. Res. 301. I urge my colleagues to support passage of H. Con. Res. 301.

Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that I be permitted to yield the balance of our time to the gentleman from Kansas (Mr. SNOWBARGER) and that he be permitted to yield time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Nebraska?

There was no objection.

Mr. BEREUTER. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H. Con. Res. 301. The resolution is, I think, in many respects a constructive restatement of our long-standing commitment to the well-being of the Taiwanese people.

I want to commend the resolution's author, the gentleman from Texas (Mr. DELAY), for his willingness to take the views of others into account during the drafting process. I want, also, to thank the gentleman from Nebraska (Mr. BEREUTER) for his work and his cooperation in drafting the resolution.

The resolution, among other things, affirms the U.S. commitment to Taiwan without going beyond current U.S. policy or forcing the President to do anything. The resolution restates what has been U.S. policy since the adoption of the Taiwan Relations Act 19 years ago. It does not change or modify that policy. Its sole purpose is to ensure that there is no misunderstanding here or abroad regarding the extent of our support for the people of Taiwan.

I do believe that we would send an even clearer message if the wording of the resolution tracked in every respect the wording of the Taiwan Relations Act. I do also believe, however, that this resolution is constructive. It restates what has been the law of the land over the past 19 years and what has been the policy of every administration during that period.

Americans have watched with pride and admiration as Taiwan in recent years has evolved into a full-blown political democracy. This resolution represents another effort to voice that pride and admiration. I support its adoption.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SNOWBARGER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. DELAY), the majority whip.

Mr. DELAY. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding to me, and I really appreciate the gentleman from Nebraska and all the hard work that he has done in putting this resolution together.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today to lend my voice to the chorus of protest that has grown out of President Clinton's public repudiation of our friend and ally, Taiwan.

The United States has always insisted that the future of Taiwan be resolved by peaceful means with the full participation of the people of Taiwan. In short, we believe that the Taiwanese people have a right to determine their own future without the threat of outside influence or the use of force.

Taiwan is a shining example of freedom and democracy in a part of the world sorely in need of role models. It should be the strong and fast policy of the United States to encourage democratic societies, particularly in the face of repressive authoritarian regimes.

Unfortunately, President Clinton went beyond the "three noes," virtually foreclosing the option of Taiwan's self-determination. The insistence of the Clinton Administration that it merely reiterated long-standing U.S. policy is simply wrong. No President has ever used words like the words used by President Clinton while he was in China.

The United States now finds itself in a position of selling offense missile technology to the People's Republic of China while denying defense weaponry to Taiwan. This, in my opinion, is a dangerous policy.

President Clinton has upset the balance of power in one of the most sensitive areas of the world. The United States must do everything in its power to ensure that the People's Republic of China knows that we will not tolerate the use of force in the Taiwan Strait.

By introducing this legislation with the gentleman from Kansas (Mr. SNOWBARGER) and the gentleman from Florida (Mr. DEUTSCH), I hope to send China's leaders a very clear message: Taiwan is our friend and ally. We will not tolerate the use of force in the Taiwan strait. The people of Taiwan must determine their own future.

I urge the Members of this House to support this resolution. If the United States does not stand by its friends and promote democracy, equality and freedom in the face of oppression and the illegitimate use of force, we cannot expect the rest of the world to do the same.

Mr. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself 3 minutes.

Mr. Speaker, it may be helpful to read what the President said in Shanghai. I quote him:

Meeting with President Jiang, I had a chance to reiterate our Taiwan policy, which is that we do not support independence for Taiwan, or two Chinas, or one Taiwan, one China. And we do not believe that Taiwan should be a member of any international organization for which statehood is a requirement.

Our policy has been that we think reunification has to be done peacefully. That is what our law says, and we have to encourage the cross-strait dialogue. And I think it will bear fruit if everyone is patient and works hard.

I think it is important to note here that "no support for Taiwanese independence" has been U.S. policy since the 1972 Shanghai Communiqué. I think it is correct to say that President Clinton is the first U.S. President explicitly to state opposition to Taiwan's independence. It has been our policy since 1982 under President Reagan, for "no support for two Chinas or one China, one Taiwan." That was explicitly articulated by President Reagan in 1982. "No support for Taiwanese membership in organizations for which statehood is a requirement" has been U.S. policy since the Carter Administration.

The Secretary of State has articulated the so-called "three noes" policy. I think it is also correct to say that promoting reunification is not U.S. policy. Contrary to what the President said, the word does not appear in the Taiwan Relations Act.

The Taiwan Relations Act reads that, and I quote, "The future of Taiwan will be determined by peaceful means." It does not prejudice what the future of Taiwan should be, and I understand that the word "reunification" might be seen as doing so. It would have been better to phrase that sentence in terms of the language of the Taiwan Relations Act, which says that the future of Taiwan will be determined by peaceful means.

I do think, however, that the net result of all of this is that U.S. policy towards Taiwan remains unchanged.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SNOWBARGER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from New York (Mr. SOLOMON), chairman of the Committee on Rules.

Mr. SOLOMON. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding the time, and I rise in strong support of this resolution. I commend the gentleman from Texas (Mr. DELAY), certainly the gentleman from Kansas (Mr. SNOWBARGER), and the gentleman from Nebraska (Mr. BEREUTER), as well as the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. HAMILTON), an outstanding and respected Member of this body, for bringing this resolution here today.

Mr. Speaker, this resolution emphatically reaffirms the support of Congress for the Taiwan Relations Act, and that is the law of the land, and it expresses again our unswerving support for the free people of Taiwan to determine their own future without military pressure or coercion from Communist China.

Mr. Speaker, the President's recent statement undercutting Taiwan, a statement made in the presence of the Chinese Communist dictatorship, represents an unprecedented departure from U.S. policy and, again, from U.S. law.

By endorsing Beijing's interpretation of the "one China" doctrine, and doing so barely 2 years after Communist China conducted defensive military exercises and missile launchings in the vicinity of Taiwan, President Clinton contradicted 26 years of U.S. foreign policy and commitments by five Presidents.

Moreover, his statement came only days after this House voted unanimously to urge that he seek a public renunciation by Communist China of the use of any force or threat of force against Taiwan. That renunciation is yet to be heard, Mr. Speaker.

So that is why we are here today again. This resolution reaffirms the commitment of this Congress to the terms of the Taiwan Relations Act, the law of the U.S. land. It puts us on record again in support of making available to Taiwan such defensive articles and defensive services, including appropriate ballistic missile defenses, in such quantities as may be necessary to enable Taiwan to maintain a sufficient self-defense capability. Again, that is U.S. law. No President has the right to overrule it.

The resolution goes on, Mr. Speaker, to restate, and we ought to listen to this, U.S. policy in support of an appropriate membership for Taiwan in international organizations and financial institutions.

Here is the Taiwan Relations Act I just pointed to, Mr. Speaker. Quoting directly from section 4(d)1, it says, "Nothing in this Act may be construed as a basis for supporting exclusion or expulsion of Taiwan from membership in any international financial institution or any other international organization." That again is the law of the land. No President has the right to overrule it.

Mr. Speaker, I urge the strongest possible support for this resolution. We all regret the circumstances that make it necessary. But let us send a clear and powerful statement to Beijing. Let there be no doubt in Beijing that America stands with its friends, and real and proven friends at that, not the pretenders for the moment.

Mr. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the distinguished gentleman from Ohio (Mr. BROWN).

Mr. BROWN of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, I thank my friend from Indiana for yielding to me. I rise also in support of H. Con. Res. 301. I would hope that the passage of this resolution today would lead to stronger American support, support from this Congress, support from the administration, and inclusion in the World Health Organization of the country of Taiwan.

I am disturbed that a nation of 21 million people does not have the opportunity to exchange information in the world health community with physicians and scientists from other developed and underdeveloped countries, but especially developed countries, exchange information about disease and viruses and all the kinds of things that can happen.

As we see around the world more people traveling across borders, more food sold and bought from country to country, and, as a result, more disease transmitted between and among peoples and between and among nations, admission of Taiwan in the World Health Organization will not just help the 21 million people of Taiwan, it will also help the rest of the world gain from the information they can get from physicians and from medical and health researchers and from public health agencies in Taiwan. So it is certainly something we should do for Taiwan, but it is something Taiwan wants to do for the rest of the world.

I realize I said I support H. Con. Res. 301. I hope that it does lead down the road to a stronger support from our government for including Taiwan in the World Health Organization.

Mr. SNOWBARGER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. BILBRAY).

Mr. BILBRAY. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of this resolution. I just feel that we need to send a very clear message, and I think Congress and the administration must stop sending these mixed messages around the world about what our relationship is with Taiwan, and the Taiwanese people's place in the world.

The fact is there are those forces all over the world who would like to deny national sovereignty to certain people, and, frankly, the Taiwanese are one to which I think the United Nations and many other agencies have denied recognition of their national sovereignty. We may want to raise concerns about certain activities that China may be involved with, be it with its neighbors to the south or be it internal, but I think one of the things we need to send, quite clearly, is a message to China saying the people of Taiwan have proven themselves over the last decades, and have earned the right to gain the title of sovereign nation unto themselves. I do not think anybody can claim that the people of Taiwan have not earned that much, through their actions and through their efforts.

Mr. Speaker, I want to point out that one of the things that is not brought up enough about America is the fact that we have consistently, not always but consistently, tried to support democratic republics around the world, and I think that the fact is that we need to send a clear message when it comes to Taiwan, that Taiwan is a nation moving toward the ideal democratic republic that we always talk about, that we always say we would like to see mainland China move toward. What a mixed message we send, if we tell the rest of the world and the people on mainland China that the democratic Republic of Taiwan is going to be sold down the river to mainland China's tyranny, because it is politically expedient for the people of the United States or politically expedient for people around the world. What a mixed message, if we do not stand strongly and speak clearly that the people of Taiwan have proven they cannot only defend their right to national sovereignty, their little island in the world, but also that they are continuing their movement toward what we all want the rest of the world to be, and that is a democracy that works, functions, and allows representative government to prosper.

Mr. Speaker, I think that it is clear that the administration and Congress had to stop sending mixed messages, and has to send a very strong message, not just to Taiwan, but to Beijing, that there is a political and military reality called Taiwan, and we should not only respect this reality, we should embrace it.

Mr. SNOWBARGER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 4 minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. ROHRBACHER).

Mr. ROHRBACHER. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of the DeLay legislation. Today we are setting straight what exactly is and making clear what exactly is the policy of the United States of America.

During the President's recent visit to the mainland of China, he said some things that perhaps he meant, and I am sure he did sincerely mean these things, but they have sent a confusing message, and his misstatements could lead to an unnecessary crisis unless this body reaffirms exactly what American policy is.

Let us remember that during the Truman years, when President Truman was President of the United States, Korea was accidentally left outside of the U.S. defense perimeter in a briefing of what our policy was in Asia. In very short order, the communists in North Korea, I might add, aided by the communist regime in Beijing, the Communist Party that still controls the mainland of China, invaded South Korea, and the United States was engulfed in a conflict that cost over 50,000 American lives.

That is why it is important for us to state very clearly what the policy of the United States is, and the policy is not just an unfortunate and thoughtless utterance by the President of the United States about reunification and other things that he stated there during his many photo ops. Instead, what the policy of the United States is is a consistent policy and a consensus among the Executive Branch and the Legislative Branch, as well as the many different decisionmakers we have in the democratic process.

The communist Chinese in Beijing should understand that America remains committed to all the provisions of the Taiwan Relations Act. There has been no evolution out of the Taiwan Relations Act that will permit the communist Chinese, for example, to use force against Taiwan. Through no thoughtless talk of reunification should it be misunderstood that the United States is any less committed to opposition to the use of force in the Taiwan Straits than we were last year, 10 years ago, or 10 years before that.

Consistent with that, the DeLay legislation underscores that the people of Taiwan have a right to determine their own destiny, free from the threat of force and violence from the communists on the mainland of China. Thus, the no-use-of-force provision of the Taiwan Relations Act is reaffirmed, and while the mainland of China is still being controlled by a communist dictatorship, America reserves the right to provide the democratic people on Taiwan with the weapons they need to defend themselves; for example, a missile defense system, which is purely a defensive system, which, according to the Taiwan Relations Act, is acceptable.

Also part of the DeLay legislation is that we consider that in those bodies, those world bodies, especially the World Health Organization and such where it does not require statehood to be a member, that Taiwan and the democratic people of Taiwan should be included.

Mr. Speaker, we must make sure that the communist Chinese do not misunderstand what has happened by a misuse of the words by our President. Already, however, I might add, and in closing, that people all over the world, especially in Asia, are seeing what the President did in China as an act of weakness. In Thailand and elsewhere, in Japan, people are cutting their deals with the communists when they see weakness on the part of the President of the United States. An action now with the DeLay legislation will reaffirm the legislative strength in reaffirming our policies in Asia. I ask for the support of the DeLay legislation.

Mr. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. SNOWBARGER. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Speaker, for 20 years the United States has had a consistent policy toward the dispute between China and Taiwan. We have long acknowledged that China's position is there is one China and that Taiwan is a part of China, but we have never endorsed the Chinese position. Now, true, this is a nuance, but we are familiar with the importance of the nuance in both international and interpersonal relations.

We all have acquaintances who hold strong beliefs that we are not willing to agree to but do not directly challenge. Nations behave in the same way. We have never said that China's position is also the position of the United States; that is, until June 30, 1998, when the President suddenly and unilaterally announced a new policy, or what appears to be a new policy.

I personally regret the necessity for the House to have to consider this resolution, but Congress must set the record straight and reassure the world that the United States will not turn its back on our friends and that we will maintain the longstanding policy which has kept the judicious balance between China and Taiwan and has kept peace in the Taiwan Straits for many years.

The question remains whether the President's endorsement of mainland China's views on Taiwan was simply a monstrous gaff, as one writer has said, or whether this was a deliberate attempt to steer the United States policy in a new and dangerous direction in violation of the Taiwan Relations Act and the "Six Assurances" to Taiwan. It clearly ignores recent resolutions and letters from Congress calling on the President to refrain from compromising Taiwan.

It is odd that the President, knowing full well that there is overwhelming Congressional opposition to his new position, chose to make his statement the way he did. In response to a question of whether the Sino-U.S. relationship would eventually eclipse the U.S.-Japan relationship, the President responded with a resounding endorsement of China's Taiwan policy. When Japan is reeling from an economic crisis and feeling snubbed by the President's refusal to visit Japan while in East Asia, the President not only failed to use this opportunity to reassure Japan that we see Japan as our friend and ally, but he deliberately went out of his way to imply that not only is China more important than Japan, but that we should turn our back on Taiwan as well.

So how does the White House justify this monstrous gaff? Why did the President do this? According to Mike McCurry, the President said these things for "no particular reason. He knew he would have the opportunity to do it, and the opportunity arose today."

That is just incredible. The President must learn to be more careful, because the world takes very seriously what he says. Whether it the First Lady announcing that Palestine should be a state or the President announcing that Taiwan should not be, the world reacts to these words, and it is irresponsible for the President to radically change U.S. foreign policy for no particular reason.

Once again, it falls to Congress to undo the damage. This resolution reconfirms America's policy of recognizing that the Chinese feel a certain way, without endorsing that position. It reaffirms the importance of the Taiwan Relations Act, and it reaffirms our commitments to the people of Taiwan and the democracy flourishing there.

This is a matter of vital principle for the United States, and I ask all of my colleagues to support H. Con. Res. 301.

Mr. Speaker, I might comment that the gentleman from New York (Mr. GILMAN), the chairman of the Committee on International Relations, was detained in traffic, but he does support the bill and will insert his statement in the RECORD at a later point in time.

Mr. DEUTSCH. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that I may reclaim 2 minutes of the time on this side of the aisle.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. STEARNS). Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Florida?

There was no objection.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Florida (Mr. DEUTSCH) is recognized for 2 minutes.

Mr. DEUTSCH. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this resolution. I think that it is clear the position of the Congress in terms of Taiwan. The Taiwan Relations Act is the law of the land.

I would differ with some of my colleagues on the other side of the aisle as to exactly what the President's statements meant. I think there is some ambiguity there, but I do not think this Congress should be ambiguous at all in our position in support of the continuation of what that law says. It is absolutely clear, the unanimous support that came out of the United States Senate. Hopefully we will see very large support on this side as well.

In the 6 years I have been in Congress, probably the most dramatic time that occurred was before the elections in Taiwan, when China made threatening comments and, to this country's credit, and to this Congress' credit and to the President's credit, a United States aircraft carrier was put in between those two countries. Really it was a reaffirmation of the Taiwan Relations Act.

By calling black "white" does not make it white. We are clear in terms of history the reality of what Taiwan is, and to say that it is not a separate entity and is part of China automatically does not make it part of China.

I think what is clear and what our position is is that the people of Taiwan are the people to decide what their future will be. If they choose at some point in time to enter into a direct relationship with the people of China, then that will be their choice. If they choose to continue their present status or if they choose some type of independent status, that is their choice to continue.

But I think this Congress, in terms of our role, in terms of supporting really democracies around the world, which is no clearer goal in terms of our foreign policy, when we cut through everything else in terms of what our goals as a country, as a society should be, those are goals we share.

I urge the support of all of my colleagues for the resolution.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H. Con. Res. 301, a resolution affirming the United States' commitment to Taiwan.

I want to commend the Majority Whip, the distinguished gentleman from Texas, Mr. DELAY for introducing this timely resolution, and I am proud to be an original co-sponsor of this very important legislation.

It is absolutely critical that the House of Representatives make a strong statement in support of Taiwan—especially in light of President Clinton's regrettable comments during his recent visit to the People's Republic of China.

Despite any denials, it is clearly plain for all to see that the President was making a concession to the Chinese on the future of Taiwan. Though the policy shift might be regarded by some as slight, the Administration has clearly moved in the direction of accepting Beijing's position on the status of Taiwan.

This was virtuously a "sell-out" of one of the world's most vibrant democracies and sends a dangerous signal to other burgeoning democracies that might look to the U.S. for moral support.

The President should again review the Taiwan Relations Act, which is the law of the land. It makes no mention of peaceful "reunification." It calls only for the future of Taiwan to be determined by peaceful means.

The Presidents—Nixon, Carter and Reagan—have issued communiques spelling out U.S. policy towards China. None ever mentioned the new "Three No's."

The so-called "Three No's"—No independence for Taiwan; no two China's or one China, one Taiwan; and no U.S. support for Taiwan to join international organizations where statehood is a requirement for membership—are Beijing's policies—not ours.

At least they weren't until the President spelled them out in Shanghai. No U.S. president has ever made such a public statement with regard to Taiwan—especially not while standing on the Chinese mainland.

President Clinton's words will have a great impact on the future of Taiwan.

They may well embolden Beijing to continue to exercise another "No" that the President should have—but did not mention—no use of force.

The President's failure to mention this most important "No" only increases the likelihood that we will have to address this issue sometime in the future.

Regrettably, the President seems to have forgotten the storm clouds of conflict which covered the Taiwan Strait in the spring of 1996 when the Chinese launched missiles across the Strait into international air and sea lanes in an effort to influence the first democratic elections in Chinese history.

Also apparently forgotten was the deployment of two U.S. carrier battle groups and 15,000 American sailors and marines to the vicinity of the Taiwan Strait in response.

It was dismaying and disheartening to see that this Administration has opted to side with authoritarianism and oppression over democracy and freedom.

I would remind the Administration that the United States has never "accepted" Beijing's claims of sovereignty over Taiwan. It has only "acknowledged" the PRC's position. Until now.

Regardless of how the White House spins the President's statement, the Administration has now in effect recognized Beijing's version of a One China policy. The Chinese will not permit the President's statement to be forgotten.

The future of Taiwan must be settled peacefully and not by one side dictating terms to the other. Regrettably, the President's statement has seriously undermined the possibility for a peaceful resolution of Taiwan's future by severely weakening Taiwan's bargaining position and enhancing the threat of the use of force by the PRC.

At a minimum, the statement has limited Taiwan's options for participating in international fora to the detriment of Taiwan and the world community. Taiwan's future is a decision for the 21 million people of Taiwan to decide.

I regret the President's comments and I am concerned for the consequences they may bring. Accordingly, I urge my colleagues to support this important resolution. It deserves bi-partisan support. Let us tell the Administration and the Chinese that we stand resolute on Taiwan.

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this resolution, which expresses the sense of Congress, that Taiwan be recognized as a separate and distinct entity from the People's Republic of China.

The United States has had a working relationship with Taiwan for almost half a century. During that time, we have developed strong economic, political, and social ties with the government and people of Taiwan, and I hope that we will be able to continue that partnership over the next millennia.

Unfortunately, our relationship with Taiwan has undergone strains at certain times. We are in the unenviable position of trying to maintain relations with China, while they are trying to assert their sovereignty over that of the Taiwanese. A careful balance must be maintained, and measures such as this are often necessary to provide reassurances to one side. This is one of those occasions. However, I want to emphasize that the passage of this resolution does not signify an end of relations with China, but it does identify that we are acutely aware of the plight of our friends in Taiwan.

I look forward to making sure that these tensions in the East do not escalate to the level of war. We must remain vigilant during our negotiations with China and cannot allow unfettered acts of aggression to go unnoticed. We must also use the means available to us to convince China that peace is the only option available to them.

American interests in Taiwan are firmly entrenched, and need our protection. Many do not realize, that our trade with Taiwan eclipses that of other nations of which we are far more protective. We must do better than this. It is my hope that this resolution will send a signal to the Taiwanese government that we value their friendship, and will work actively to preserve their interest and ours.

I urge my fellow colleagues to support this resolution, for the well-being, not only of the people of Taiwan, but also for all the people of the region.

Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Concurrent Resolution

301, which reaffirms the commitment of the United States to Taiwan under the Taiwan Relations Act.

I commend the authors of the resolution, the gentleman from Texas, Mr. DELAY, and the gentleman from Kansas, Mr. SNOWBARGER. I further commend the Chairman and ranking member of the House International Relations Committee, Mr. GILMAN and Mr. HAMILTON, and the Chairman and Ranking Member of the House International Relations Subcommittee on Asia-Pacific Affairs, Mr. BEREUTER and Mr. BERMAN, and our other colleagues that have worked toward adoption of this important measure. I am proud to join our colleagues in support of the legislation.

Mr. Speaker, the United States has had a long, close and enduring relationship with Taiwan dating back to the end of World War II. With our support, Taiwan has risen from the ruins of war to become one of the world's most compelling success stories.

Today, Taiwan has the 19th largest economy in the world, is America's 7th largest trading partner, and possesses tremendous foreign exchange reserves on a par with Japan. Taiwan has also made great strides toward democratization, with free and fair elections being held routinely at the local and national levels—culminating in the historic presidential election in 1996.

Clearly, Mr. Speaker, the people of Taiwan must be congratulated for the outstanding accomplishments of their thriving and prosperous democracy of 22 million people. All Americans should take pride in and share the achievements of our close friends.

When the stability of our friends in Taiwan was threatened by China in spring of 1996, I supported the actions taken by the Clinton administration in sending the Nimitz and Independence carrier groups to the Taiwan strait to maintain peace. China's missile tests and threatened use of force contravened China's commitment under the 1979 and 1982 Joint Communiqués to resolve Taiwan's status by peaceful means. The Joint Communiqués, along with the Taiwan relations act, are the foundation of our "One China" policy, which fundamentally stresses that force should not be used in resolution of the Taiwan question. Clearly it is in the interests of the United States and all parties that the obligation continue to be honored.

President Clinton's summit meeting in China achieved several important goals. In the process, however, I do not believe that the welfare and interests of the people of Taiwan were sacrificed.

The United States has shown in recent years that the use of force by China against Taiwan will not be tolerated. The legislation before us reaffirms that fact, and that the United States remains committed to the proposition that the Taiwan question should be resolved peacefully by the people on both sides of the Taiwan strait.

Mr. Speaker, I urge our colleagues to support House Concurrent Resolution 301.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. All time has expired.

The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Nebraska (Mr. BEREUTER) that the House suspend the rules and agree to the concurrent resolution, H. Con. Res 301.

The question was taken.

Mr. BEREUTER. Mr. Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 5 of rule I and the Chair's prior announcement, further proceedings on this motion will be postponed.

BORDER SMOG REDUCTION ACT OF 1998

Mr. BILBRAY. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 8) to amend the Clean Air Act to deny entry into the United States of certain foreign motor vehicles that do not comply with State laws governing motor vehicle emissions, and for other purposes, as amended.

The Clerk read as follows:

H.R. 8

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the "Border Smog Reduction Act of 1998".

SEC. 2. AMENDMENT OF CLEAN AIR ACT.

Section 183 of the Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. 7511b) is amended by adding the following new subsection at the end:

"(h) VEHICLES ENTERING OZONE NONATTAINMENT AREAS.—

"(1) AUTHORITY REGARDING OZONE INSPECTION AND MAINTENANCE TESTING.—No non-commercial motor vehicle registered in a foreign country and operated by a United States citizen or by an alien who is a permanent resident of the United States, or who holds a valid visa for purposes of employment or educational study in the United States, may enter a serious, severe, or extreme ozone nonattainment area from a foreign country bordering the United States and contiguous to such nonattainment area more than twice in a single 12-month period, if State law has requirements for the inspection and maintenance of such vehicles under the applicable implementation plan in the nonattainment area. The preceding sentence shall not apply if the operator presents documentation at the United States border entry point establishing that the vehicle has complied with such requirements that are in effect and are applicable to motor vehicles of the same type and model year.

"(2) SANCTIONS FOR VIOLATIONS.—The President of the United States may impose and collect from the operator of any motor vehicle who violates, or attempts to violate, paragraph (1) a civil penalty of not more than $200, except that in any case of repeated violations or attempted violations such penalty may not exceed $400.

"(3) STATE ELECTION.—The prohibition set forth in paragraph (1) shall not apply in any State which elects to be exempt from the prohibition. Such election shall take effect upon the President's receipt of written notice from the Governor of the State notifying the President of such election.

"(4) STATE ELECTION FOR OTHER NONATTAINMENT AREAS.—

"(A) IN GENERAL.—In the case of a State that is contiguous with a foreign country and that contains an ozone nonattainment area (other than an ozone nonattainment area to which paragraph (1) applies), such State may elect for the prohibition described in such paragraph to apply in the State, or may elect to establish in accordance with subparagraph (B) an alternative approach to facilitate the compliance, by motor vehicles registered in foreign countries and entering such nonattainment area, with the motor vehicle inspection and maintenance requirements in effect under the applicable implementation plan in the nonattainment area and applicable to motor vehicles of the same type and model year.

“(B) ALTERNATIVE APPROACH.—An alternative approach by a State under subparagraph (A) is established in accordance with this subparagraph if the Governor of the State submits to the President a written description of such approach and the President approves the approach as facilitating compliance for purposes of such subparagraph.

“(C) EFFECTIVE DATE REGARDING STATE ELECTION.—If a State makes an election under subparagraph (A) for an alternative approach, the alternative approach takes effect in the State one year after the date on which the President approves the approach. If the State makes the other election under such subparagraph, the prohibition described in paragraph (1) takes effect in the State 180 days after the President's receipt of written notice from the Governor of the State notifying the President of such election.

“(5) ALTERNATIVE APPROACH REGARDING SERIOUS, SEVERE, AND EXTREME AREAS.—In the case of a State containing an ozone nonattainment area to which paragraph (1) applies, paragraph (4) applies to the State to the same extent and in the same manner as such paragraph applies to States described in such paragraph, subject to paragraph (3).

“(6) DEFINITION.—For purposes of this section, a serious, severe, or extreme ozone nonattainment area is a Serious Area, a Severe Area, or an Extreme Area as classified under section 181, respectively, other than any such area first classified under such section after the date of the enactment of the Border Smog Reduction Act of 1998.”.

SEC. 3. GENERAL PROVISIONS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The amendment made by section 2 takes effect 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act. Nothing in such amendment shall be construed to require action that is inconsistent with the obligations of the United States under any international agreement.

(b) INFORMATION.—As promptly as practicable following the enactment of this Act, the appropriate agency of the United States shall distribute information to publicize the prohibition set forth in the amendment made by section 2 and its effective date.

SEC. 4. STUDY BY GENERAL ACCOUNTING OFFICE.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Comptroller General of the United States shall conduct a study of the impact of the amendment made by this Act, as described in subsection (b).

(b) CONTENTS OF STUDY.—The study under subsection (a) shall compare the potential impact of the amendment made by this Act on air quality in ozone nonattainment areas affected by such amendment with the impact on air quality in the same areas caused by the increase in vehicles engaged in commerce operating in the United States and registered in, or operated from, Mexico, as a result of the implementation of the North American Free Trade Agreement.

(c) REPORT.—Not later than July 1, 1999, the Comptroller General of the United States shall submit to the Committee on Commerce of the House of Representatives, and the Committee on Environment and Public Works of the Senate, a report describing the findings of the study under subsection (a).

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. STEARNS). Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from California (Mr. BILBRAY) and the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. BROWN) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from California (Mr. BILBRAY).

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. BILBRAY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks on H.R. 8, and to insert extraneous material on the bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from California?

There was no objection.

Mr. BILBRAY. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

(Mr. BILBRAY asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. BILBRAY. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of the Border Smog Reduction Act of 1998.

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 8 is a bipartisan, common sense bill which will improve and protect both the environment and the public health by requiring the Federal Government to participate in the enforcement of existing air pollution control laws at our borders, laws which have been de facto mandated from the Federal level. At the heart of this bill is a basic issue of fairness, in addition to a clear opportunity to improve the public health and protect the air quality.

The chairman of the Subcommittee on Oversight and Investigations, the gentleman from Texas (Mr. BARTON) was an original cosponsor of the bill and brought back much information from Texas. I would like to point out the help I received from the gentleman from Florida (Mr. BILIRAKIS), and the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. BLILEY), both of whom provided encouragement and extensive work during this process. Their support has been second to none. I also appreciate the hard work of their staffs that they devoted to H.R. 8.

I would also like to thank my colleague, the gentleman from Texas (Mr. REYES), a new addition to this Congress, whose firsthand experience along the border has been extremely beneficial and has complemented the extensive input that I have received from the Customs and the INS agents in the San Diego region. I am also grateful for the support of my colleagues from the California delegation who have helped me out immensely in this process, and also my colleagues on the Committee on Commerce.

I would specifically like to thank my subcommittee colleagues who took the time away from their own districts and families to attend an informative field hearing on this issue which was held in San Diego on November 18, 1997: the gentleman from Florida (Mr. BILIRAKIS), the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. BROWN), the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. GANSKE), and the gentleman from Texas (Mr. GREEN).

I would also like to emphasize the ongoing dialogue that I have had with the Administration on this bill, specifically the Office of U.S. Trade Relations, and the Environmental Protection Agency. My dialogue with EPA Administrator Carol Browner and Assistant Administrator Richard Wilson dates back to the 104th Congress when I first introduced this legislation.

In meetings last fall, I received some very insightful and appropriate perspective from our Trade Representative, Ms. Barshefsky. In the time since, there has been what I would term a very productive and fruitful exchange with the Administration, which has helped to refine and polish H.R. 8 into the bipartisan legislation which was unanimously approved by voice vote on June 24 by the full Committee on Commerce.

I particularly appreciate assistant administrator Mr. Wilson's help on this item, who met with me and staff on May 20 of this year. At that meeting, we reviewed a modified draft of H.R. 8, which I had prepared and provided to him in advance, and which he and his staff agreed addressed a number of questions which EPA had previously expressed about the bill. In this meeting, Mr. Wilson stated to me that “if the bill as now written were to come before the President, we (EPA) would not recommend a veto.” Mr. Wilson further stated that at that time the EPA would favor an “opt-in” approach for other States, which was in fact adopted during the committee consideration of H.R. 8.

I recognize and share the EPA's concerns about the “opening-up” of the Clean Air Act, and I would like to again state clearly my resolve, which has also been clearly stated by the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. BLILEY), that it is my intention, and also the intention of all of us who support it, to keep this bill as it currently is: a narrow, bipartisan rifle-shot to improve the Clean Air Act.

The Border Smog Reduction Act is a simple but practical bill, which will increase the overall effectiveness of our air pollution control strategies by providing the Federal Government with the authority, which it currently lacks, to help States enforce existing law. H.R. 8 will ultimately allow Customs officers to deny entry into the United States to foreign registered commuter vehicles which have not been brought into compliance with our emissions control requirements.

As the Customs officers have explained to me, this authority will be consistent with existing Customs pollution control requirements as they now pertain to vehicles which are being imported for sale. H.R. 8 provides ample opportunity for the operators of these commuter vehicles to have them brought into compliance prior to the law taking effect.

I would emphasize here that H.R. 8 is directed only at foreign-plated commuter vehicles driven into the United States each day by foreign nationals or U.S. citizens for the purpose of employment or education. It will be the responsibility of the drivers of the vehicles to demonstrate compliance with applicable State laws, or risk fines and denial of access via that vehicle into the United States.

H.R. 8 does not specifically require the impoundment of vehicles; Customs officers already have that authority to do so under existing civil penalty procedures and can employ this at their discretion. Customs agents have told me that once this bill has been implemented, and border commuters are made aware of and understand the new requirements, it is unlikely that commuters with vehicles which are not in compliance will repeatedly attempt to drive those vehicles across the border. Those that do would eventually be denied access to the U.S., be subject to fines from Customs, and potentially to the impoundment of the vehicles in question, again at the discretion of the Customs agents, but only after repeated attempts to violate the law.

H.R. 8 will initially take effect in California only. However, it is not exclusively U.S.-Mexico border legislation. I specifically made certain that H.R. 8 extends enforcement authority to all border States that may at some point wish to take advantage of it, and allows them to have the flexibility to use it as they see fit, depending on the unique situations that exist and vary from State to State. Other border States which in the future may choose to take advantage of the authority provided them by this bill could adopt either the California program, or develop their own alternative in partnership with the Federal Government. However, the bill imposes no mandates or requirements on eligible border States.

Let me at this point again specifically thank the men and women of the Immigration and Naturalization Service and the Customs Department who actually man the ports of entry at San Ysidro and Otay Mesa, and whose expertise and perspective was essential in helping me to refine H.R. 8 since I first introduced the bill in the 104th Congress.

Mr. Speaker, I have here letters from the National Treasury Employees Union Chapter 105, and the American Federation of Government Employees Local 2805 in support of H.R. 8, and I would ask to include them in the RECORD at the appropriate time. I also have several other documents, including resolutions of support from the Air Pollution Control Districts of San Diego County, Riverside County, and San Bernardino County which I will include also in the RECORD:

NATIONAL TREASURY EMPLOYEES
UNION, CHAPTER 105,
San Ysidro, CA, May 14, 1998.

Hon. BRIAN BILBRAY,
Forty-ninth Congressional District, Washington, DC.

DEAR CONGRESSMAN BILBRAY: On April 17, I met with you and your staff in San Diego regarding H.R. 8, the Border Smog Reduction Act. This meeting was to clarify questions about H.R. 8. It was also to determine if the everyday line inspectors thought the bill was workable and could be effectively implemented, without having a negative impact on the primary mission of Customs, drug interdiction, or creating longer traffic waits at the border.

In our meeting you clarified that this bill would only target, and be applicable to, foreign plated commuter vehicles being driven across the border by U.S. citizens, resident aliens, or aliens with a valid visa for purposes of employment or educational study in the United States. This bill would not impact vehicles which are properly registered in California as such vehicles already have emission certification. H.R. 8 would not affect the residents of Mexico who cross into and out of the United States on a daily basis, to do everyday business, nor would it affect tourists who come across the border to shop, visit friends or family and so forth.

We also talked about how H.R. 8 would work, and what the requirements of the Customs Inspector would be regarding the vehicles in question. It was further clarified that under the bill, the responsibility of the inspector would be to check if the vehicle was registered in California, therefore having smog certification. This could be done via computer or physically seeing proof of registration. If the vehicle was not registered in California the driver would have to show the inspector some documentation verifying smog certification. If it could not be proven that the vehicle in question was either registered in California or had smog certification, after the third attempt to enter the United States, the vehicle would be denied access to the United States and redirected to the country of origin.

We discussed the need for incorporation into the bill of a 60-90 day "grace" period, between the enactment of the bill into law and its actual implementation. This period would be used as an educational and awareness-raising process to inform the regular border commuters whose vehicles would be required to comply with H.R. 8.

Given the above understanding, implementation of H.R. 8 is a practical reality, and would simply build upon Customs' existing pollution control enforcement practices. Currently we are required to ensure that vehicles which are manufactured in Europe, Japan, Mexico, or elsewhere meet both United States and California auto emission and safety standards prior to being driven into the United States by United States citizens or foreign nationals residing in the United States.

If these vehicles are found not be in compliance, do not have the required safety features, such as safety glass, nor an Air Pollution Control device installed, they are returned to the country of origin. This is allowed to happen once. If a United States citizen, or foreign national residing in the United States, attempts to drive the vehicle in question across the border into the United States, and the vehicle cannot be shown, by physical inspection, to meet Department of Transportation safety standards nor have an air pollution device installed it is seized by Customs.

H.R. 8 would merely expand Customs existing authority to enforce air pollution standards, by requiring compliance of foreign-plated vehicles driven into the United States by United States citizens, or by foreign nationals with visas for purposes of employment or education. Based on our discussion and my own years of practical experience at the border, I believe that this bill can work and will serve to reduce air pollution from these cross border mobile sources. This bill will not result in excessive or unrealistic work load for individual Customs line inspectors. Nor will the bill interfere with our primary mission, seizure of narcotics or other contraband, or cause excessive traffic wait times. NTEU Chapter 105 still supports H.R. 8. Please let me know if I can be of additional assistance on this important matter.

Sincerely,

ROBERT CLARK,
President NTEU 105.

AFGE LOCAL 2805,

San Diego, CA, June 12, 1998.

Hon. BRIAN P. BILBRAY,

U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

DEAR REPRESENTATIVE BILBRAY: On June 8, 1998, Local Vice President Anthony J. Cerone and I met with you at your San Diego office.

At that meeting we presented our affirmative position on H.R. 3251. That law would define "severe economic conditions" and establish a standard for formulating annual pay raises for federal employees under the Federal Employees Pay Comparability Act. This law would benefit San Diego County's 160,000 federal employees, our families, and the local economy. We are encouraged that you will support this critical piece of legislation.

You also introduced and explained H.R. 8, the Border Smog Reduction Act, to us. This Amendment to Section 183 of the Clean Air Act was authored by you. We believe this legislation would effectively eliminate a portion of the vehicle exhaust producing pollution at our international land ports of entry. Daily our immigration inspectors are exposed to high levels of these pollutants.

In August of 1997, the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH), conducted a health hazard evaluation at the San Ysidro, California, International Port of Entry. That study determined that immigration inspectors are exposed to carbon monoxide levels that are "... above NIOSH criteria". We believe this U.S. government agency study conclusively supports your position in creating and introducing legislation, H.R. 8, that would protect our employees, our citizens, and our environment.

In behalf of the 3,000 employees of this local and those of the western region, I fully support this valuable piece of legislation and am committed to assisting you in its passage. If there is any further assistance I can render in your pursuit of this bill, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

R. MICHAEL MAGEE,
National Vice President, Western Region.
NATIONAL INSTITUTE FOR OCCUPATIONAL SAFETY AND HEALTH (NIOSH)
INS INSPECTIONS AT THE SAN YSIDRO POE

In August of 1997, NIOSH representatives conducted a health hazard evaluation at the San Ysidro Port of Entry (POE). We looked into employee and management concerns about exposure to vehicle exhaust and noise. This sheet summarizes our evaluation and findings.

WHAT NIOSH DID

We focused on worker exposures in the primary and pre-primary inspection areas of lanes 1-24.

We tested the air for vehicle exhaust emissions. The specific chemicals we tested for were carbon monoxide, carbon dioxide, lead, and hydrocarbons (benzene, ethyl benzene, total xylenes, toluene, hexane, pentane, octane, and heptane).

We measured noise levels inspectors encounter during the day. We measured noise levels in each inspection booth.

We looked at the ventilation systems providing air to the 24 inspection booths.

We looked at the ventilation systems removing air from the 24 inspection lanes.

WHAT NIOSH FOUND

(The full report lists the actual chemical levels NIOSH found and explains how those chemicals may affect the health of the exposed employees.)

Inspectors were exposed to one-minute peaks of carbon monoxide that are above NIOSH criteria.

Job rotation reduced carbon monoxide exposures to acceptable levels for the whole work day.

The levels of carbon monoxide were higher in the pre-primary inspection area than they were in the primary inspection area.

Lead, carbon dioxide, noise, and hydrocarbon levels were below all exposure criteria.

The supply air to booths 1-24 is not balanced. Some booths get too much air, others don't get enough.

The exhaust air vents in lanes 1-24 is not strong enough to remove vehicle exhaust emissions.

WHAT TO DO FOR MORE INFORMATION

We encourage you to read the full report. If you would like a copy, either ask your health and safety representative to make you a copy or call 1-800-35-NIOSH and ask for HETA report # 97-0291-2681.

WHAT INS MANAGERS CAN DO

Local exhaust ventilation and booths should be built in the pre-primary inspection area.

INS inspectors should be limited to one 15-minute shift per day in the pre-primary inspection area until appropriate exhaust ventilation and booths can be built.

Any INS inspector who works for 15-minutes in the pre-primary inspection area should not work around automobile exhaust for any other part of the work shift.

The exhaust ventilation in lanes 1-24 should be increased to capture more vehicle exhausts.

The supply ventilation to the booths should be balanced so that air flow is equal in each booth. This should help reduce noise levels in some booths.

The set point on the canopy dilution fans should be lowered from 35 ppm to 25 ppm of carbon monoxide.

A hearing conservation program should be started for officers who qualify their weapons on a firing range.

An ongoing program of evaluating personal carbon monoxide exposures should be started.

WHAT INS EMPLOYEES CAN DO

Don't work for more than 15-minutes in the pre-primary inspection area, until local exhaust ventilation and booths can be built.

If you work in the pre-primary inspection area for 15-minutes, don't work in any other area of vehicle exhaust exposure for your entire work shift.

Spend as much time as possible in the booths when conducting inspections.

Pregnant workers, and workers with heart disease or respiratory disease are more susceptible to carbon monoxide. Consult your doctor about your personal situation.

Inspectors should avoid changing ceiling dampers in the booths.

SUPERVISORS ENDORSE BILL REQUIRING VEHICLES CROSSING U.S. BORDER TO BE SMOG-CERTIFIED

San Diego—The county Board of Supervisors today took aim at regional air pollution, and voted to support federal legislation requiring U.S. Customs agents to deny entry to vehicles that do not meet California emission standards.

The bill (H.R. 8), introduced by Congressman BRIAN BILBRAY, would apply to those who possess a valid green card and commute to work regularly in San Diego. It would not apply to those who periodically cross the border for tourism- and commerce-related purposes.

"Our border with Mexico is a vibrant region, and our neighbors in Mexico are part of San Diego's economic vitality," said Congressman BRIAN BILBRAY, who testified before the Board. "However, that does not mean that environmental laws and standards should only be honored by San Diego commuters and ignored by commuters from Mexico. This legislation will allow Customs officials to enforce our clean air laws, so that we all breathe cleaner, healthier air."

"Air quality in San Diego County continues to be a high priority for this Board, and this bill will serve to improve air quality in the San Diego-Tijuana air basin," said Supervisor Greg Cox, who represents southern San Diego County, including the San Ysidro and Otay Mesa ports of entry.

In San Diego, the legislation would require Customs officials to inspect cars headed northbound for the proper emissions inspection sticker. If cars entering the United States have not been "smogged" to California air quality standards, drivers will be given written notice, and it will be recorded by Customs officials.

After the initial warning and notice, drivers without a properly smogged vehicle, who try to cross the border will be denied on the second attempt. Customs officials will be able to impound the vehicle and/or fine the driver on the third attempt to enter the U.S. with proper smog certification.

The bill is expected to be deliberated by Congress next spring.

MOJAVE DESERT AIR QUALITY MANAGEMENT DISTRICT,
Victorville, CA, April 28, 1997.

Hon. BRIAN BILBRAY,
U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

DEAR REPRESENTATIVE BILBRAY: Enclosed please find a Resolution of the Mojave Desert Air Quality Management District supporting a change in the law to require certain motor vehicles entering the United States on a regular basis to comply with California or other applicable state motor vehicles emission laws. The proposal has been introduced in H.R. 8 (Bilbray, Barton, Bono, Calvert, Condit, Cunningham, Filner, and Hunter).

The legislation is trying to address the problem created by the residents who live in the communities near the United States-Mexico border, register their vehicles in Mexico, and escape compliance with state motor vehicles emission laws. Many such residents cross the border on a daily basis for work, school, or travel extensively in the United States and who contribute substantially to the region's air pollution problems.

The legislation provides for education and then progressive enforcement. Enforcement would include giving of notice, imposing fines, and eventually impounding the non-compliant vehicles.

On behalf of the citizens of the Mojave Desert Air District, I am urging you to support H.R. 8 because it would help California comply with the requirements of the Federal Clean Air Act. If you have any questions, please feel free to call me or Fazle Rab Quadri, District Counsel, at 760/245-1661 extension 5034.

Sincerely,

LARRY BOWDEN,
Chair Mojave Desert AQMD.

Enclosure

A RESOLUTION OF THE GOVERNING BOARD OF THE MOJAVE DESERT AIR QUALITY MANAGEMENT DISTRICT IN SUPPORT OF H.R. 8-BORDER SMOG REDUCTION ACT OF 1977.

On March 24, 1997, on motion by Member LOUX, seconded by Member WILSON, and carried, the following resolution is adopted:

WHEREAS, the Federal Clean Air Act (FCAA; 42 U.S.C. §§7401 et seq.) requires the designation of air quality control regions in regards to the National Ambient Air Quality Standards (NAAQS) (FCAA §107(d); 42 U.S.C. §7407(d)); and classification in regards to ozone and its precursors (FCAA §181(a); 42

U.S.C. §7511(a)) as promulgated by U.S. EPA; and

WHEREAS, many persons, either residing in the United States or in the border communities in Mexico register their motor vehicles in Mexico; and

WHEREAS, the San Diego Air Pollution Control District has found that roughly 70,000 commuter vehicles registered in Mexico cross the border into the United States on a daily basis and produce thirteen percent (13%) of the region's total; air pollution; and

WHEREAS, many of these persons work, attend educational institutions or travel extensively within Southern California; and

WHEREAS, many of the motor vehicles utilized by these persons to commute and travel within Southern California do not comply with California standards for motor vehicle tailpipe emissions; and

WHEREAS, these unregulated, noncompliance motor vehicles are detrimental to the efforts of the local air districts to comply with the mandates of the FCAA; and

WHEREAS, motor vehicles emit Volatile Organic Compounds (VOC) and Oxides of Nitrogen (Nox) which are precursors to ozone formation; and

WHEREAS, nine percent (9%) of the VOC and nine percent (9%) of the Nox generated in the South Coast Air Quality Management District is attributable to non-commercial motor vehicles registered both in the United States and Mexico; and

WHEREAS, ten percent (10%) of the VOC and four percent of the Nox in the Mojave Desert Air Quality Management District (MDAQMD) is attributable to non-commercial motor vehicles registered in the United States and Mexico; and

WHEREAS, these detrimental effects are compounded within the MDAQMD due to the overwhelming impact of transported air pollution from upwind area; and

WHEREAS, area in the MDAQMD is designated non-attainment for NAAQS and classified Severe-17 for ozone thereby requires extensive efforts to reduce air pollution; and

WHEREAS, U.S. Representatives Brian Bilbray (R-49-CA), Joe Barton (R-6-TX), Sonny Bono (R-44-CA), Ken Calvert (R-43-CA), Gary Condit (R-18-CA), Randy (Duke) Cunningham (R-51-CA), Bob Filner (D-50-CA), and Duncan L. Hunter (R-52-CA) have introduced a bill H.R. 8, which would amend the FCAA to allow the denial of entry into the United States by certain foreign motor vehicles that do not comply with State laws governing motor vehicle emissions; and

WHEREAS, the enactment of H.R. 8 would benefit all non-attainment areas in border regions of the United States as well as those areas directly impacted by transported air pollution from such non-attainment areas.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Governing Board of the Mojave Desert Air Quality Management District respectfully urges the California delegation to support and the United States Congress to enact H.R. 8 or other legislation which lessens the impact upon non-attainment areas of foreign motor vehicles which do not comply with State laws governing motor vehicle emissions.

PASSED, APPROVED AND ADOPTED by the Governing Board of the Mojave Desert Air Quality Management District.

I, Linda Beck, Clerk of the Governing Board of the Mojave Desert Air Quality Management District, hereby certify the foregoing to be a full, true and correct copy of the record of the action as the same appears in the Official Minutes of said Governing Board at its meeting of March 24, 1997.

CLERK OF THE GOVERNING BOARD,
Mojave Desert Air Quality Management District.

RIVERSIDE COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS,
Riverside, CA, June 16, 1997.

Hon. MICHAEL BILIRAKIS,
Chairman, House Commerce Subcommittee on Health and Environment, Rayburn House
Office Building, Washington, DC.

DEAR CHAIRMAN BILIRAKIS: The Riverside County Board of Supervisors supports legislation introduced by Congressman Bilbray which would amend the Clean Air Act to deny the entry of certain foreign motor vehicles which do not comply with State laws governing motor vehicle emissions.

Congressman Bilbray's H.R. 8 would assist the County's in its efforts to reduce air pollution from motor vehicles and ensure greater public health and environmental protection resulting from cleaner air. Many vehicles crossing the border from Mexico do not meet State and local Federal air quality requirements control standards. The support of the Federal government would be beneficial to local agencies such as the County in its attempt to enforce State laws regarding vehicle emissions and emission controls, inspections, and State vehicle registration laws. Additionally, this legislation would improve the region's air quality, moving the County a step closer in meeting the requirements of the Clean Air Act.

Please take action as soon as possible on Congressman Bilbray's measure or similar legislation which would prohibit the entry of foreign motor vehicles which fail to comply with State laws on motor vehicle emissions.

Sincerely yours,

ROGER F. HONBERGER,
Washington Representative.

RESOLUTION 97-130

SUPPORTING THE BORDER SMOG REDUCTION ACT
OF 1997

Whereas, the Environmental Protection Agency requires States to adopt vehicle emissions standards to attain healthful air quality; and

Whereas, States have implemented these standards through the smog certification process coupled with vehicle registration; and

Whereas, foreign residents who commute to work or to school in the U.S. are required to register their vehicles in their State of employment in order to comply with applicable clean air laws; and

Whereas, due to lack of enforcement, many of these commuters drive cars which do not meet the smog standards required by the State in which they work or study; and

Whereas, a study by the San Diego Air Pollution Control District identified that commuter vehicles that cross the border on a regular basis produce 13% of the region's total vehicle air pollution; and

Whereas, the emissions produced by these vehicles is detrimental to the efforts of otherwise stringent compliance plans; and

Whereas, proposed legislation would require border commuter vehicles to meet emissions standards or be denied access into the U.S.; now therefore,

Be it resolved that the Board of Supervisors of the County of Riverside, State of California, assembled in regular session on May 27, 1997, does hereby support the Border Smog Reduction Act of 1997; and be it further

Resolved that the Clerk of the Board forward copies of Resolution 97-130 to the County's Washington Representative for distribution to appropriate members of Congress, Congressional staff and committees.

IMPORTED SMOG—VEHICLES FROM MEXICO ADD TO PROBLEM

With California cracking down on smog-belching vehicles in its Smog Check II program, government must make sure that commuters who live in Baja California but work on this side of the border also comply with state emission limits.

Currently, Mexican residents and Americans who live in Baja are supposed to register their vehicles here if they work on this side of the border. That means they are supposed to comply with California's smog standards.

But many don't, because the rules are not well enforced. Many daily commuters drive cars registered in Mexico. And some U.S. residents register their cars in Mexico to avoid smog inspections and costly repairs in California.

A study by the San Diego Air Pollution Control District showed that about 7,000 vehicles with Mexican plates, driven by commuters, cross the border each day. These cars and trucks produce 13 percent of the total vehicle air pollution in our county. That's an astounding figure. Something needs to be done about it.

The county Board of Supervisors this week endorsed legislation by Rep. Brian Bilbray, R-Imperial Beach, that would allow federal border inspectors to crack down on cars that are registered in Mexico but are driven by people who work north of the border. Bilbray, who is running for re-election, says border inspectors already have the computer technology to make such checks.

This is a good idea, one that Congress should pass next year. If U.S. residents who properly register and maintain their cars must comply with our state's rigorous smog standards, then those who come here to work from Mexico must too.

BORDER TOUR BOOSTS BILL TO COMPEL REGISTRATION OF MEXICAN CARS HERE

(By Steve La Rue)

Congressmen from Florida, Ohio, Iowa and Texas stood in clouds of auto exhaust at the San Ysidro border crossing yesterday and said they understood what Rep. Brian Bilbray, R-Imperial Beach, has been talking about.

They voiced support for Bilbray's bill to allow federal officers at the border to enforce a law that requires commuters from Mexico to register their vehicles in California.

The measure also would have the effect of requiring these vehicles to have smog checks every two years. Vehicle-related air pollution could be cut as much as 13 percent as a result, studies suggest.

"Existing law requires international commuters to have their cars registered and smogged (in California), and that law is not being enforced," Bilbray said.

"With economic opportunities should also come environmental responsibilities."

The occasion was a morning border tour for five members of the House Commerce Subcommittee on Health and the Environment, who later met at the County Administration Center to hold the bill's first formal hearing.

Bilbray's bill would allow the U.S. Customs Service to impound vehicles registered in Mexico and fine their drivers if they attempt to commute into the United States in cars that do not meet emission standards. The drivers would get two warnings before their cars were impounded.

The law would affect at least 7,000 of the roughly 45,000 vehicles that cross the border at San Ysidro each day, said Rudy Camacho, Customs Service director for Southern California. Tourists would be exempt.

Mexican-registered vehicles produce disproportionate volumes of smog, experts say, because many are not engineered to comply with California standards or are not well-maintained or have been stripped of smog control devices.

Currently, federal border officers have no power to detain drivers of Mexican-registered vehicles on environmental grounds, Camacho said.

Subcommittee Chairman Mike Bilirakis, R-Fla., said, "We don't want to do anything to prevent Mexican nationals from coming here and making their living."

But the U.S. environmental laws "are tough on our own citizens and, darn it, ought to be just as tough on those who cross the border and make a living here," he said.

Bilbray's bill is expected to clear the subcommittee next year.

BILBRAY URGES CRACKDOWN ON TRANSBORDER POLLUTERS—BILL WOULD STOP VEHICLES AT BORDER TO PROTECT AIR

(By Pat Broderick)

Shocked. That's how U.S. Rep. Brian Bilbray described the reactions of congressmen who accompanied him Nov. 18 on a tour to examine transborder air pollution.

"This morning, we saw gross polluters," the San Diego Republican said in an interview following the tour. "We watched smog and pollution flying out of vehicles (crossing the border)."

"It was eye-opening for the members of Congress who came. Anyone with a pair of eyes or a nose will understand that this pollution needs to be addressed."

He was accompanied by Congressmen Mike Bilirakis, R-Fla., chairman of the House Commerce Subcommittee on Health and the Environment; Greg Ganske, R-Iowa; Sherrod Brown, D-Ohio; and Gene Green, D-Texas. They were briefed by U.S. Customs Service officials during the tour.

Bilbray said he is trying to shore up support for HR-8, the Border Smog Reduction Act he's cosponsoring, along with Congressmen Joe Barton, R-Texas; Sonny Bono, R-Calif.; Ken Calvert, R-Calif.; Gary Condit, R-Calif.; Randy Cunningham, R-Cal.; Bob Filner, D-Calif.; and Duncan L. Hunter, R-Calif.

Introduced Jan. 7 in the House of Representatives, HR-8 would amend the Clean Air Act to deny entry into the United States to any foreign vehicle that doesn't comply with state laws governing motor vehicle emissions.

Currently, Bilbray said, there is nothing customs officials can do to stem the rising tide of polluting vehicles.

"Technically, people who are coming to work with unregistered cars are in violation of existing statutes," Bilbray said. "But customs agents who have witnessed this are not authorized to turn cars back. They have no authority to address any of those environmental issues."

Consequently, he said, the lack of enforcement has led to a critical pollution problem. According to a fact sheet on HR-8:

A study by the San Diego Air Pollution Control District found that, in San Diego County, some 7,000 commuter vehicles registered in Mexico cross the border on a daily basis. The commuter population alone produces 13 percent of the region's total vehicle air pollution.

Mexican residents, including some Americans who live in Mexico but commute to work or to school in the United States, are required to register their vehicles in their state of employment to comply with clean air laws.

Due to lack of enforcement, many of these commuters drive cars that don't meet the smog standards required by the state in which they work or study.

A majority of these cars are registered in Mexico, some by U.S. residents who do so to avoid expensive vehicle emission control inspections and repairs required by the state, according to the fact sheet.

"I have neighbors who had done this," Bilbray said.

HR-8, he said, would give commuters three chances to come into compliance with the law.

Noncomplying Mexico-registered vehicles would be noted in the computer at the U.S. border point of entry and the driver would be warned.

Drivers who attempt to enter the United States more than twice in a single 12-month period would be found in violation of the law, and be subject to a fine of $200.

If the fine isn't paid at the time entry is attempted, customs would be authorized to impound the car until the fine is paid.

But Peter M. Rooney, secretary for the California Environmental Protection Agency, said that impounding cars isn't the answer.

Rooney recalled the march last year of 15,000 irate Californians to the state Capitol building when they heard rumors their cars could be impounded for smog check violations.

"It was an all-day rally, a cross-section of California," he said, "solid citizens who felt deeply that confiscating people's cars is not the proper way for government to respond to social issues."

Pointing to the fact that California has the nation's strictest pollution standards for autos, he said, "We don't exclude others from coming in."

As for possible solutions, Rooney said he expected that new cars being sold in Mexico are of higher quality than older ones, potentially easing the cross-border problem. The cleaner California fuel, he added, also could have an impact.

"If American petroleum companies start selling fuel in Tijuana and Mexicali, we have the opportunity to have fuels that are formulated for California to be sold there and get the benefit."

Overall, Rooney said, there only is so much a state can do to ensure air quality.

"I don't think the state of California is in a position to step into an area that has a cross-border jurisdiction," he said. "We do have the duty to our citizens to make the air as clean as possible. But there are certain limits to what we can do."

"We hope the citizens of San Diego will maintain their vehicles at a level that is in the best interest of everyone, and that the fuel in this state is cleaner fuel. But on the other side of the border, it's out of our control."

Meanwhile, Bilbray said he hoped that the shocked response of his fellow congressmen during the tour will lead to bipartisan support of the bill, and perhaps, action by March.

"Without this bill, you've got a huge gaping hole in air pollution strategies," Bilbray said.

BILBRAY PUSHES FOR LAW ON BORDER EMISSION STANDARDS
(By Chris Diedoardo)

SAN YSIDRO.—Although thousands of illegal immigrants and hundreds of pounds of illicit narcotics cross the border with Mexico every year, Rep. Brian Bilbray, R-San Diego, has declared war on a new enemy: smog.

"Gentlemen, this is what we call no-man's land," Bilbray said to a group of congressmen visiting the clogged vehicle intake lines at the San Ysidro border crossing on Tuesday. "While we generally don't think of the U.S. Customs Service as an environmental agency, they really need to be."

The delegation was in town to drum up support for H.R. 8, which is intended to bar Mexican vehicles from the U.S. that don't meet California's emissions standards.

"Current air pollution laws say if you work in San Diego, your car is supposed to be smogged in San Diego County," Bilbray said.

Unfortunately, since the U.S. Customs Service currently lacks authorization to inspect incoming vehicles to determine if they are in compliance, Bilbray said thousands of commuters from Mexico are evading the regulatory net.

"With the rights of economic opportunity come environmental responsibilities," Bilbray said. "And you have a lot of U.S. residents that register their cars in Baja California to avoid California's regulations."

"There's a real fairness issue here when California and the Environmental Protection Administration are talking about stricter smog regulations and yet you've got people who aren't playing by the rules now."

Under the provisions of the bill, drivers who couldn't produce proof the vehicle was in compliance with state law the first two times they crossed the border would be given verbal warnings. On the third attempt, they would be denied entry and either fined or face the impound of their vehicle.

Although tourists and those visiting relatives would be exempt from the proposed requirements, some observers wonder if it will be viewed as another de facto barrier between the two nations.

Bilbray dismissed such suspicions as groundless.

"Anybody can take anything as an 'anti-measure,' he said. "It's a pro-environmental measure."

"No matter what country you come from the laws ought to be enforced and the environment protected."

According to a recent study by the San Diego Air Pollution Control District, 7,000 commuter vehicles cross at San Ysidro and Otay Mesa every day. In the district's view, that traffic accounts for 13 percent of the region's air pollution.

But others question whether Bilbray is trying to cage the wind.

"There's a reason behind registering the car in Tijuana and not in the U.S. and it's an economic reason," said Lourdes Sandoval, a spokeswoman for the Mexican Consulate in San Diego, who added that those factors would probably preclude most commuters from bringing their vehicles up to code.

"It will be very difficult to enforce," Sandoval said. "And the amount of people that would be covered under this bill is so small that I don't think it would affect the pollution in San Diego."

Another concern is the additional burden the bill would place on customs officers, who already must deal with between 40,000 and 45,000 cars per day.

"It would take a little extra time," said Bobbie Cassidy, a spokeswoman for the customs service, as she pointed to the seemingly endless lines of vehicles waiting to enter the U.S. Tuesday morning. "But you can see what a little extra time with each car would create."

Rudy Camacho, director of the San Diego field office, said he agreed but that the problem would be mitigated with the passage of time.

"It will be interesting," Camacho said. "Initially, it will be a time-intensive operation which would drop off as people learned the requirements."

However, Bilbray wants to give Camacho and his officers some high-tech help, courtesy of Tucson-based Remote Sensing Technologies.

The Tucson-based firm manufactures remote emissions sensors, which can determine how much carbon monoxide a vehicle is releasing into the atmosphere.

Under Bilbray's plan, one or more of the devices would be installed in the secondary inspection area, where they would function as a secondary line of defense.

"You cannot fool the system," said Nirranjan Vescio, RST's director of marketing. "There are many pieces of information it looks for before it makes a judgment."

However, as the sensors were being demonstrated several customs officers were busy in the secondary inspection area in pursuit of a different type of information.

Though the timing was ironic, it offered Camacho a golden opportunity to state what his agency's main priority was.

"I don't want my boys looking for emissions when they should be looking for dope," he said, after several agents seized 177 pounds of marijuana hidden inside a car's tires and behind the dashboard.

PANEL OKS BILL TO CURB BORDER'S SMOG-BELCHERS
(By Dana Wilkie)

WASHINGTON.—It soon could be easier to crack down on smog-belching cars that come from Mexico into San Diego County under a bill that passed a key House committee yesterday.

The legislation by Rep. Brian Bilbray, R-Imperial Beach, would let border agents fine drivers and eventually impound cars if the vehicles were not registered in California with proper smog-check certification.

As "someone who's lived with all these (pollution) problems my whole life, I'm excited" about passage of the legislation, Bilbray told the House Commerce Committee, which approved his bill on a unanimous voice vote.

"For those of us along the frontier, we felt for so long that nobody gave a damn, that it was sort of like this part of America was sold out," he said.

The legislation, which applies only to California, requires approval of the full House, and then would move to the Senate. Final action is unlikely until late summer or early fall.

Mexican-registered vehicles produced disproportionate volumes of smog, experts say, because many are not engineered to comply with California standards, are not well-maintained or have been stripped of smog-control devices.

Bilbray's legislation would affect at least 7,000 of the estimated 45,000 vehicles that cross the San Diego-Tijuana border each day. Drivers would get two warnings before their cars were impounded.

Bilbray, a member of the committee, said fines and impoundments of smog-belching cars could cut vehicle-related air pollution as much as 13 percent.

California law already requires international commuters to have their cars registered in California and checked every two years to make sure that emissions do not exceed California limits.

Federal border agents, however, have no power to detain drivers of Mexican-registered vehicles on environmental grounds. Bilbray's legislation, HR-8, would give them that authority.

The congressman said it is simple for agents to ensure that border commuters have had smog checks simply by entering license plate numbers into a computer database.

Some lawmakers said they were concerned that the bill does not address commercial vehicles, only passenger cars. A Bilbray aide explained that including commercial vehicles would open "a Pandora's box of problems" which could hinder cross-border commerce under the North American Free Trade Agreement.

Rep. Ron Klink, D-Pa., expressed worry that Bilbray's legislation might distract border agents from the more pressing duties of intercepting illegal drug traffic and illegal immigrants.

"I have concerns about the smog coming from the tailpipes of these vehicles, but in the whole scheme of things it seems . . . less of a priority," Klink said.

Bilbray assured him that U.S. Customs Service agents do not believe that the legislation would create "unacceptable or unrealistic workloads . . . nor interfere with" the interception of illegal drugs and illegal immigrants.

BORDER SMOG BILL WINS BIPARTISAN BACKING IN HOUSE COMMERCE MARKUP

[By Neil Franz]

Rep. Brian Bilbray (R-Calif.) succeeded on Wednesday in gaining the support of key Democrats for an amended version of the Border Smog Reduction Act, and the House Commerce Committee was at press time preparing for what seemed a noncontroversial final vote. Addressing concerns of "opening up" the Clean Air Act, which H.R. 8 amends, Chairman Tom Bliley (R-Va.) pledged to do everything in his power to keep the bill narrow and suggested the House leadership proceed on the floor under suspension of the rules.

Written by Bilbray, who represents the San Diego area, H.R. 8 changes the CAA to deny entry into the United States any foreign vehicles that do not comply with state laws governing motor vehicles emissions. Some Mexicans, as well as Americans, who live in Mexico but commute to the United States are apparently ignoring the federal law's directive to have their vehicles registered in their working state—controlling the tailpipe emissions being the focus—because federal agents are not permitted to enforce the mandate, Bilbray said. State officials do not have authority at the border on the issue, while Mexico is notoriously loose in comparison on environmental standards.

The bill "makes a great deal of sense," said Rep. Henry Waxman (D-Calif.).

Resulting from a number of concerns expressed at a June 19 subcommittee markup, Bilbray added a major qualification: the legislation only applies to the California border and states may choose to "opt in" on the mandates of H.R. 8, not "opt out." States may also choose to develop their own plan to address the problem, subject to approval of the president. The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and many Democrats had noted serious reservations about the broader implications of the original H.R. 8; Michigan Rep. Bart Stupak (D) sought to exempt all states bordering Canada, where air pollution is less of a concern.

HOUSE PANEL OKS BILL TO BAR U.S. ENTRY OF CARS INTO OZONE NONATTAINMENT AREAS (By Cheryl Hogue)

Federal border crossing officials could prevent cars from regularly crossing from Canada or Mexico into U.S. areas that violate federal ozone standards, under legislation approved June 24 by the House Commerce Committee.

Under its carefully worded provisions, only California would automatically be covered by the bill (H.R. 8). But other states ask to be covered, according to the bill, which was approved by voice vote.

The prohibition would apply only to cars crossing into U.S. regions contiguous with ozone nonattainment areas in states requiring inspection of tailpipe emissions, according to the measure. It would apply only to noncommercial vehicles that go over the border more than twice during any 12-month period.

As introduced, the bill applied to both Canada and Mexico. But the Commerce Subcommittee on Health and Environment amended the bill to apply to "a foreign country bordering the United States . . . other than Canada."

But the bill's sponsor, Rep. Brian Bilbray (R-Calif.), offered an amendment, adopted by the full committee in a voice vote, that would make no exception for cars coming from Canada. But the amendment also narrowed the legislation to apply automatically only to states with an I/M program and to nonattainment areas classified as serious, severe, or extreme. A Bilbray staffer said only California now meets all these criteria.

ELECTION OF COVERAGE

Bilbray said H.R. 8 is aimed at commuters who live in Mexico and work in California. However, he said, the bill allows other border states with I/M programs voluntarily to elect to have the prohibition apply to their ozone nonattainment areas not classified as serious, severe, or extreme but that are contiguous to the border.

Under Bilbray's amendment, a state electing this coverage could also come up with "an alternative approach" to its I/M program "to facilitate compliance by motor vehicles registered in foreign countries." This alternative approach would have to be approved by the federal government before border agents would begin turning cars away, according to the amendment.

Bilbray said these alternative plans could apply to emissions from commercial vehicles—as well as noncommercial ones—registered in a foreign country.

IMPLEMENTATION.

Bilbray said unions representing border patrol employees have told him in writing that the bill could be implemented in California without increasing agents' workloads, distracting them from seizing illegal drugs, or causing excessive lines at border crossings.

For each vehicle crossing the border now, license plate numbers and the jurisdiction issuing the plate are entered into a computer, Bilbray said. Border patrol computers are already linked to the California data base for emission inspections, he said, so that checking whether a foreign-registered car had passed a California emission inspection would be automated.

Under current federal law, U.S.-border agents can stop entry into California of cars that have not passed state emission inspections only if the vehicles will be sold in the state, Bilbray said.

CLEAN AIR ACT AMENDMENT

H.R. 8 would add a new provision to Section 183 of the Clean Air Act.

California Rep. Henry Waxman, the senior Democrat on the Commerce Committee, said he did not want the bill to be "a vehicle for other Clean Air Act amendments."

Rep. Thomas Bliley (R-Va.), chairman of the Commerce Committee, said he would do everything he could "to see that this bill is not expanded in any way."

Bilbray said he, as author of the legislation, wants the bill to remain as narrow and focused as possible.

NAFTA EFFECT ON AIR QUALITY

The committee also adopted by voice vote an amendment to H.R. 8 that would require the General Accounting Office to study the effects of the North American Free Trade Agreement on air quality around the border. Rep. Sherrod Brown (D-Ohio) offered the amendment.

Brown said his amendment was not designed to prejudge NAFTA's environmental effects. However, the trade deal has significantly increased traffic, especially commercial vehicles, crossing the U.S.-Mexico border, he said.

BILBRAY, BILEY PREP SMOG BILL FOR QUICK FLOOR VOTE (By Neil Franz)

A fast-moving House bill would amend the Clean Air Act, a legislative move feared by most environmental groups. But after winning bipartisan backing on June 24 for the Border Smog Reduction Act and easily clearing the measure from the full House Commerce Committee, Chairman Tom Bliley (R-Va.) pledged to do everything in his power to keep H.R. 8 clean and narrow. He, along with Health and Environment Subcommittee Chairman Michael Bilirakis (R-Fla.) and the bill's author, Rep. Brian Bilbray (R-Calif.), also suggested the House leadership proceed under suspension of the rules for a quick floor vote.

What happens if H.R. 8 reaches the Senate floor, though, is beyond Bliley's reach, he said. Democrats on the panel continually expressed their concerns about seeing the bill transform into a vehicle for "opening up" of the CAA.

Introduced early last year by Bilbray, who represents the San Diego area, H.R. 8 changes the act to deny entry into the United States any foreign vehicles that do not comply with state laws governing motor vehicle emissions. Some Mexicans, as well as Americans, who live in Mexico but commute to the United States are apparently ignoring the federal law's directive to have their vehicles registered in their working state—controlling the tailpipe emissions being the focus—because federal agents are not permitted to enforce the mandate, Bilbray said. State officials do not have authority at the border on the issue, while Mexico is notoriously loose in comparison on environmental standards.

The bill would therefore allow federal agents to enforce the states' standards for non-commercial vehicle emissions, thus helping to reduce smog. (Bilbray said he wishes to address the noncompliance of commercial vehicle emissions crossing the border at another time.) The CAA now only allows federal agents to prevent vehicles not registered in the states from crossing the border for sale.

The bill "makes a great deal of sense," said Rep. Henry Waxman (D-Calif.).

A study by the San Diego Air Pollution Control District found that roughly 7,000 commuter vehicles registered in Mexico cross the border every day. The study further said this Mexico commuter population produces, by itself, 13 percent of the region's total vehicle air pollution. The California Air Resources Board of the state's Environmental Protection Agency has pledged its support for the legislation, as have the Southern California unions of federal border officials, Bilbray said.

Resulting from a number of concerns expressed at a June 19 subcommittee markup, Bilbray added a main criterion to the bill: the legislation only applies to the California border and states may choose to "opt in" on the mandates of H.R. 8, not "opt out." States may also develop their own plan to address the loophole in the CAA, subject to approval of the president. The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and many Democrats had noted serious reservations about the broader implications of the original H.R. 8; Michigan Rep. Bart Stupak (D) sought to exempt all states bordering Canada, where air pollution is less of a problem.

SMOG INTERVENTION—BILL WOULD AIM AT NABbing MEXICAN POLLUTERS

As the largest city on the border, San Diego suffers disproportionately from the growing volume of air pollution generated by Mexican-registered vehicles that lack adequate smog controls. That's why San Diegans should cheer the House Commerce Committee's approval this week of a bill by Rep. Brian Bilbray, R-Imperial Beach, to crack down on Mexican-registered polluters.

California law requires Mexican-based autos that commute daily into the state to meet California emission standards. Most of these vehicles are owned by workers who live in Mexico but have jobs in California. They include both American and Mexican nationals.

The problem, however, is that U.S. border agents have no legal authority to stop border commuters who lack California smog-check certificates. Bilbray's legislation would close that enforcement loophole, empowering U.S. agents to impound the vehicles of border commuters who are repeat offenders of California's air pollution laws.

He estimates the crackdown on Mexican-based polluters would curb vehicular smog in San Diego by as much as 13 percent—a very significant amount, considering that autos account for the lion's share of our air pollution.

With the Commerce Committee's approval of the bill, it is expected to win passage on the House floor later this year. But it has no champion in the Senate. Without one, it will die when Congress adjourns in the fall.

Bilbray's proposal applies to border crossings in California only. Thus the only senators with a stake in it are California Democrats Dianne Feinstein and Barbara Boxer. Our hope is that they will team up to win Senate approval of the House bill so that San Diegans can breathe a bit easier.

Mr. BILBRAY. Mr. Speaker, I would also like to emphasize my appreciation for the cooperation and assistance which has been provided by the California Air Resources Board and the California EPA. The support and the perspective of these agencies have been invaluable in this process.

With the increased enforcement under H.R. 8, gross-polluting vehicles will be either repaired and brought into compliance, or simply left parked in the driveway. This will have the initial direct effect of removing the disproportionately high emissions of these vehicles from our air, and hopefully the long-term, indirect effect of increasing binational use of San Diego's public transit system which runs directly to the border. In both situations, the health of the people of both San Diego and Tijuana benefit, particularly vulnerable populations like children and the elderly, as does the environment of the entire region.

Mr. Speaker, I urge the support of my colleagues for this common sense and fair piece of legislation named H.R. 8, the Border Smog Reduction Act of 1998.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. BROWN of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise to express my support for H.R. 8, the Border Smog Reduction Act. I would like to thank the gentleman from Florida (Mr. BILIRAKIS) and the gentleman from California (Mr. BILBRAY) for working with me, with the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. DINGELL) and with the gentleman from California (Mr. WAXMAN) during the Committee on Commerce's consideration of H.R. 8 to make several important improvements in the legislation.

During consideration of this legislation by the Committee on Commerce, my colleagues agreed to an amendment which I offered to study the effects of the North American Free Trade Agreement on air quality in communities along the United States-Mexico border. The provision requires the General Accounting Office to conduct a study comparing the potential effect of this legislation on air quality in ozone non-attainment areas with air quality in these same areas caused by vehicles registered in or operating from Mexico as a result of implementation of NAFTA.

In November of last year, the Subcommittee on Health and the Environment held a field hearing in San Diego to hear from witnesses on the effect of transborder air pollution caused by commuter vehicles on the air quality of our border region. While in San Diego I had the opportunity to see firsthand the thousands of trucks, many owned by American corporations, crossing our border, most of the time without inspection. Four years after the passage of NAFTA, environmental conditions on the Mexican border have further decayed, air and water quality in particular.

It is difficult to imagine that increased commercial truck traffic, much of it brought on by NAFTA, is not adding significantly to the non-attainment problems in southern California. Many of us argued during the NAFTA debate that this agreement would bring more air and water pollution to an already troubled area. Nothing at that time was done inside the parameters of the NAFTA agreement.

I am hopeful that our proposed GAO study will shed some light on the effect this increased traffic under NAFTA is having on air quality in our border areas. Should this study conclude that the North American Free Trade Agreement has, in fact, added to the ozone nonattainment problem in areas like San Diego, I am hopeful my colleagues will work with me to address this situation.

As passed by the House Committee on Commerce, H.R. 8 will allow States with serious ozone nonattainment areas located on our southern border to require foreign registered vehicles entering these areas to meet State or local vehicle emissions standards. The legislation would prohibit entry into the United States of vehicles which do not meet these standards more than twice in a one-year period. H.R. 8 would allow other States located along the border the option of designing an alternative approach to requiring foreign registered vehicles to comply with States' vehicle emission requirements.

Again, I would like to thank my colleagues on the Committee on Commerce for working with me to address the concerns that many of us had with this legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. BILBRAY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. LEWIS), the dean of the California delegation.

Mr. LEWIS of California. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate my colleague for this very thoughtful piece of legislation. I appreciate the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. BROWN), the ranking member of the subcommittee, for his assistance as well as this bill has gone forward.

There is something wrong with this picture, Mr. Speaker and Members. First, I think most people understand that particularly in the summer months, citizens in southern California become especially concerned about our air. As the weather warms up, something seems to be ever present, and oftentimes in my own valley in San Bernardino County one can hardly see the mountains. Yet over the years we have made very significant progress as it relates to cleaning the air, particularly cleaning the impact upon the air that comes from mobile sources.

The American automobile newly produced today is a clean automobile, and yet shift the scene just a bit to the south. Cars and trucks standing in line in both directions on the border puffing smoke, and the air can absolutely be cut with a knife at this time of the year.

To suggest that those vehicles that are commuting across our border should not meet the same standards required by American vehicles is absolutely not acceptable. This legislation will take a significant step in the direction of solving that problem.

Currently, California law requires that foreign-plated vehicles which commute daily into the State must meet California vehicle standards. However, the law is not being enforced by Federal agents at the border who do not have the authority necessary. This bill would provide for that authority. It would lay the foundation to see that foreign-plated vehicles which do not meet our standards do not cross our borders.

It is, as the author has suggested, a common sense bill which in a very practical way addresses this very serious difficulty. The gentleman from California (Mr. BILBRAY) should be commended for this work. It is a reflection of his past background as a member of the Air Resources Board in California. He brings that talent to the Congress and continues to work on the fight for clean air at home as well as across the country.

Mr. BROWN of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from California (Mr. FILNER).

Mr. FILNER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. BROWN) for yielding me this time.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.R. 8, the Border Smog Reduction Act.

As a border Congressman, I am glad to join my colleagues as an original cosponsor of this legislation to address the critical issue of unsafe emissions from vehicles that cross the international border into California.

Mr. Speaker, I am the Representative whose district contains the two major border crossings between Mexico and California. In that position, I am fully aware that our location presents our community with a wealth of unique cultural, social, economic and political opportunities. I believe this is one reason San Diego is called "America's Finest City."

However, this proximity to our Nation's border also presents us with unique challenges. One such challenge we must address is the emission of vehicles that enter our State from Mexico, but do not meet our State's strict emission standards.

It is an increasing economic reality of life at the border that commuters from both nations drive across that border to jobs in the other country and return to their home nation in the evening. Officials of the San Diego Air Pollution Control District estimate that of the approximately 45,000 vehicles that cross the San Ysidro border crossing in my district each day, about 7,000 are commuters.

It is currently against State law for any car or truck to drive on our roads and highways without the required smog certification. Despite this, however, and partly due to Mexico's more lax emission standards, countless cars stream across into California spewing unsafe pollutants into our air. Unless these vehicles are stopped for other violations, these emissions go unchecked and unstopped.

The legislation before us today is simply about the personal responsibility of the owners of these polluting vehicles. Our legislation will allow border officials to deny entry into our community any commuter vehicle that is not in compliance with our State laws governing motor vehicle emissions.

Mr. Speaker, other border States should be aware that the bill addresses only our situation in California, and does not impose requirements on any other State.

I also want to assure motorists in the San Diego border area that this legislation affords a 6-month grace period for owners to obtain certification that their vehicles meet California State standards.

Mr. Speaker, my constituents in San Diego and Chula Vista and National City deserve clean air. By requiring greater responsibility by auto owners, I believe this legislation will help us achieve our goal of cleaner air for all our communities. I urge my colleagues to support these efforts.

Mr. BILBRAY. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from California (Mr. DREIER), the soon-to-be chairman of the Committee on Rules.

Mr. DREIER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from California (Mr. BILBRAY), my soon-to-be friend, for yielding me such time as I may consume. He has been a friend and will continue to be a friend in large part because while his Dear Colleague letter said that this is to deal with border pollution, frankly those of us from the area that the gentleman describes as northern California, which is Los Angeles, are actually in fact the beneficiaries of this, too.

Because clearly as we have looked at those automobiles which continue to pump out horrible pollutants, we have seen many of them on the freeways of Los Angeles. And so I simply want to rise and congratulate the vision of the gentleman from California (Mr. BILBRAY) to not only address the needs of the San Diego area, but I believe that they really transcend those.

I also am particularly privileged to be here with the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. BROWN), my very good friend. He and I for years debated the North American Free Trade Agreement. I have come to the conclusion that we today are able to look at issues like those that have been raised in the area of air quality by the gentleman from California (Mr. BILBRAY) because of the fact that the North American Free Trade Agreement has focused attention on improving air quality and other environmental concerns.

So, I simply want to say that as we look at the challenge that is ahead of us of improving our environment, there is no one who has been there on the frontline doing it more diligently than the gentleman from California (Mr. BILBRAY).

Mr. Speaker, a spectacular editorial was written by the San Diego Union-Tribune and should be included in the RECORD, so I submit that editorial for inclusion at this point in the RECORD.

[From the San Diego Union-Tribune, June 27, 1998]

SMOG INTERVENTION—BILL WOULD AIM AT NABBING MEXICAN POLLUTERS

As the largest city on the border, San Diego suffers disproportionately from the growing volume of air pollution generated by Mexican-registered vehicles that lack adequate smog controls. That's why San Diegans should cheer the House Commerce Committee's approval this week of a bill by Rep. Brian Bilbray, R-Imperial Beach, to crack down on Mexican-registered polluters.

California law requires Mexico-based autos that commute daily into the state to meet California emission standards. Most of these vehicles are owned by workers who live in Mexico but have jobs in California. They include both American and Mexican nationals.

The problem, however, is that U.S. border agents have no legal authority to stop border commuters who lack California smog-check certificates. With the Commerce Committee's approval of the bill, it is expected to win passage on the House floor later this year. But it has no champion in the Senate. Without one, it will die when Congress adjourns in the fall.

Bilbray's proposal applies to border crossings in California only. Thus the only senators with a stake in it are California Democrats Dianne Feinstein and Barbara Boxer. Our hope is that they will team up to win Senate approval of the House bill so that San Diegans can breathe a bit easier.

Mr. Speaker, the editorial points out the fact that the gentleman from California (Mr. BILBRAY) has been working for a long period of time on this issue, and it ends with a very important message. After this measure passes the House of Representatives, it is going to need to go through the United States Senate. So I would implore our colleagues in the other body to move as expeditiously as possible on this very important measure.

Mr. BROWN of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. BILBRAY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. GANSKE).

Mr. GANSKE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from California (Mr. BILBRAY) should be commended for this piece of legislation. I have stood at that border crossing in San Ysidro, and the smog is awful there. It just does not make sense that U.S. citizens, who have to spend a lot of their money making sure of the air quality coming out of their cars, should be seeing the cars that are registered south of the border coming across that border crossing and spewing a whole bunch of smog into the environment. It is just not fair.

This legislation takes care of that and makes it so that those cars that are not attaining the air quality standards of this country cannot come into the country. This is something that is worked out on a State-by-State basis.

It is a good piece of legislation. Every one of our colleagues should support this, and I commend the gentleman from California for bringing it to the floor.

Mr. BILBRAY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 4 minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. ROHRABACHER), the most dynamic representative of the Surfing Caucus.

Mr. ROHRABACHER. Mr. Speaker, that was "the most dynamic," not the best surfer in the Surfing Caucus. The most dynamic member of the Surfing Caucus.

Mr. Speaker, Mexico is our neighbor and I rise in strong support of this amendment by the gentleman from California (Mr. BILBRAY) concerning our neighbor and our neighbors in Mexico.

Like all neighbors, there are issues that deal with neighborhood effect, whether it is just an American neighborhood or whether it is a neighborhood with people who actually are a part of another Nation.

Air and water pollution happens to be within that context of a neighborhood effect, and we must be neighborly, and we have tried to be neighborly with our Mexican neighbors. But we also have to watch out for the interests of our own people.

Mr. Speaker, what is unfortunate is that in recent years it seems that we have been treating our own people worse than what we treat people of another country, in this case Mexico.

I might add that this is not totally inconsistent with what our government seems to be doing in many areas of the world, which is treating our own people with more restrictions and with a harder hand than we treat people of other countries. I do not know why that is. That seems to be the way it is in many situations.

It is only good and proper that the people of Mexico who travel to the United States almost on a daily basis have the same standards, pollution standards, that they have to deal with with their automobiles as we do. Otherwise, what will be the result?

I would like to look at one result that the gentleman from California (Mr. BILBRAY) has not looked at so far. Yes, we are talking about air pollution and it is wrong that there are cars from another country coming in that do not have the same standards as our own automobiles, and, yes, we do not want to have air pollution, but we also want to maintain an amicable relationship with these people who are our neighbors.

How long will people have good will towards someone when they see automobiles coming down their streets pumping pollution? How much longer will the people of the various communities near the border or even further north into Los Angeles and Orange Counties have a spirit of good will towards the people of Mexico if they see a car coming from Mexico spilling this pollution into the air and putting contaminants into the lungs of our children and our families, when they themselves, of course, must go through stringent regulation and go through time and effort and expense to see that their own automobiles are not polluting and not, thus, affecting the health in a detrimental way of their neighbors who are American citizens?

No, if we let this go on, there will be a breakdown in the good will of people who are our neighbors, who are our friends, who should be our friends and it is up to us to ensure that this spirit of friendship, as well as neighborliness, is present, and to do that we must be scrupulously fair and must insist on fair and equal not only treatment and not only rights but responsibilities of people who come into our country and do so on a daily basis to work.

Finally, I would like to note that the gentleman from California (Mr. BILBRAY) has been providing leadership on issues of cross-border pollution control since early in his career. Most people in this body may not realize that he was mayor of Imperial Beach when there was pollution coming down from a stream from Mexico into the United States into his community, and when some bureaucrats got in the way of correcting that situation, the gentleman from California (Mr. BILBRAY) got onto a bulldozer and used that bulldozer to prevent that stream from sending its polluted waters into the American territory. This made him famous among the people of his area and eventually landed him here in Congress.

All of us have a chance now to join the gentleman from California in this issue of cross-border pollution and watch out for the interests of the American people, which is after all our primary job as Members of the United States Congress.

Mr. BILBRAY. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to thank my colleague from the Surfing Caucus for his kind words. Sadly, the pollution has closed our beaches in Imperial Beach this weekend so there are still battles to be fought there. I would just like to ask the ranking member if he has any more speakers or if he would like to make a closing statement?

Mr. Speaker, at this time I would ask for support of H.R. 8, but let me just point out, again, that, first of all, I want to apologize. I think we should all apologize to the people that live on the border region, that this body has had to spend 3½ years talking about doing something to help the environment and we have not taken action. It happens to be the nature of the creature. Congress moves slow. The Federal Government moves slow and let us just hope that the Senate will take up this bill and move it forward.

At the time that Smog Check 2 is going to be mandated, is being mandated, by the Federal Government on the people of California, it is essential that we get H.R. 8 through to show fairness and equity and we believe that everyone should be responsible for the environment, no matter where they live or where they commute in from.

Mr. Speaker, I would ask for the passage of H.R. 8 and ask for unanimous support from Congress as we received it from the full committee, and I thank the ranking member for his help today here on this bill.

Mr. BROWN of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, I urge Members to support the bill.

Mr. PACKARD. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to commend a fellow San Diegan, Congressman BRIAN BILBRAY (R-CA), on his leadership in helping to reduce air pollution in southern California. Mr. BILBRAY's legislation, The Border Smog Reduction Act of 98, H.R. 8, is a bipartisan approach to improving border air quality and strengthening our pollution control strategies in the state of California. It is focused on foreign commuter vehicles which often emit a disproportionately high level of pollutants along the border region. Mr. Speaker, enacting this legislation could curb vehicular smog in San Diego by as much as 13 percent.

Many of the Mexican-registered vehicles, while driven by individuals who come legally into the U.S. for work or for school, lack the same smog controls required on all cars registered to the state of California. This bill would allow the Customs Inspector to require a smog certificate for any vehicle before entering into the United States and would empower border agents to prohibit any car from entering without one.

I support this bill, as it will target and reduce a known and identified source of air pollution. It will improve air quality in the environment, and will benefit children and other vulnerable populations on both sides of the border.

Mr. Speaker, I strongly support the Border Smog Reduction Act of 98 and urge the support of all other members as it will improve our overall environment and public health.

Mr. CUNNINGHAM. Mr. Speaker, I rise to support H.R. 8, the Border Smog Reduction Act of 1998. Introduced by my San Diego congressional delegation colleague, Representative BRIAN BILBRAY, H.R. 8 is a practical and bipartisan approach to improving border air quality and strengthening our air pollution control strategies. It will give the federal government the authority it needs to help enforce state vehicle emissions requirements, without imposing new mandates or burdens on local government or the business community.

In California, H.R. 8 will help to reduce high levels of smog-forming compounds from commuter vehicles driven across the border every day by people coming in to work or going to school legally in the U.S. Under existing state law, these vehicles are supposed to be in compliance with California's strict emission standards. But most presently are not, due to the current inability to enforce state law at the border. H.R. 8 will extend this enforcement ability to federal border inspectors at the points of entry, who will have the authority to ultimately turn away foreign-registered vehicles which cannot be shown to be in compliance with these emissions standards.

H.R. 8 does not restrict an individual's legal access to the U.S. It is focused on gross-polluting commuter vehicles which emit a disproportionately high level of pollutants along our border region. In San Diego County, stringent controls exist on all stationary sources, and all cars must be smog tested to standard in order to be registered. H.R. 8 will simply help to level the playing field, and target and reduce a known pollution problem. While it would initially apply only to California, other border states are given the flexibility to implement the authority of the bill as they might see fit in the future. It is important to note that H.R. 8 places no new mandates or requirements on other states.

I am pleased to be a cosponsor of this measure, and I urge all of my Colleagues to support this common-sense legislation.

Mr. WAXMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak on H.R. 8, The Border Smog Reduction Act of 1998.

I want to commend Chairman BLILEY, Chairman BILIRAKIS, Representative BILBRAY, Representative BROWN, and Representative STUPAK for working together to perfect this bill. H.R. 8 has been significantly improved from the version originally introduced.

As currently written, this legislation will make a modest improvement over current law authorizing the federal government to assist States in efforts to control air pollution from vehicles registered in foreign countries.

This legislation is not perfect and I remain concerned about an approach which statutorily restricts vehicles from entering the San Diego border more than twice in any one year. I question whether it will be possible to inspect and repair vehicles commuting daily from Mexico in only two visits. It's not difficult to imagine a host of problems when this plan is actually implemented.

Additionally, I think it's a mistake to exclude commercial traffic in San Diego from federal enforcement, when light-duty commercial traffic is responsible for the same types of air pollution problems that noncommercial traffic is. In effect, this legislation will focus on pollution from commuting workers and students, while ignoring pollution from commercial vehicles.

Notwithstanding these reservations, I commend Representative BILBRAY for resolving most of my concerns. I am especially pleased that California will have the option of changing their program from the prescriptive one mandated in this legislation.

I also want to commend Representative BROWN for a study he has sponsored that will analyze the impacts on air quality associated with the passage of the North American Free Trade Act. This will provide critical information for future efforts to control the adverse environmental effects of foreign diesel trucks entering our country.

Mr. BROWN of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. BILBRAY. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from California (Mr. BILBRAY) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 8, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

FEDERAL RETIREMENT COVERAGE CORRECTIONS ACT

Mr. MICA. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 3249) to provide for the rectification of certain retirement coverage errors affecting Federal employees, and for other purposes, as amended.

The Clerk read as follows:

H.R. 3249

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE; TABLE OF CONTENTS.

(a) SHORT TITLE.—This Act may be cited as the "Federal Retirement Coverage Corrections Act".

(b) TABLE OF CONTENTS.—The table of contents for this Act is as follows:

Sec. 1. Short title; table of contents.

Sec. 2. Definitions.

Sec. 3. Applicability.

Sec. 4. Restriction relating to future corrections.

Sec. 5. Irrevocability of elections.

TITLE I—DESCRIPTION OF RETIREMENT COVERAGE ERRORS TO WHICH THIS ACT APPLIES AND MEASURES FOR THEIR RECTIFICATION

Subtitle A—Employee Who Should Have Been FERS Covered, But Who Was Erroneously CSRS Covered or CSRS-Offset Covered Instead

Sec. 101. Elections.

Sec. 102. Effect of an election to be transferred from CSRS to FERS to correct a retirement coverage error.

Sec. 103. Effect of an election to be transferred from CSRS-Offset to FERS to correct a retirement coverage error.

Sec. 104. Effect of an election to be transferred from CSRS to CSRS-Offset to correct a retirement coverage error.

Sec. 105. Effect of an election to be restored (or transferred) to CSRS-Offset after having been corrected to FERS from CSRS-Offset (or CSRS).

Sec. 106. Effect of election to remain FERS covered after having been corrected to FERS from CSRS-Offset (or CSRS).

Subtitle B—Employee Who Should Have Been FERS Covered, CSRS-Offset Covered, or CSRS Covered, But Who Was Erroneously Social Security-Only Covered Instead

Sec. 111. Elections.

Sec. 112. Effect of an election to become FERS covered to correct the retirement coverage error.

Sec. 113. Effect of an election to become CSRS-Offset covered to correct the retirement coverage error.

Sec. 114. Effect of an election to become CSRS covered to correct the retirement coverage error.

Subtitle C—Employee Who Should Have Been Social Security-Only Covered, But Who Was Erroneously FERS Covered, CSRS-Offset Covered, or CSRS Covered Instead

Sec. 121. Uncorrected error: employee who should be Social Security-Only covered, but who is erroneously FERS covered instead.

Sec. 122. Uncorrected error: employee who should be Social Security-Only covered, but who is erroneously CSRS-Offset covered instead.

Sec. 123. Uncorrected error: employee who should be Social Security-Only covered, but who is erroneously CSRS covered instead.

Sec. 124. Corrected error: situations under sections 121-123.

Sec. 125. Vested employees excepted from automatic exclusion.

Subtitle D—Employee Who Should Have Been CSRS Covered or CSRS-Offset Covered, But Who Was Erroneously FERS Covered Instead

Sec. 131. Elections.

Sec. 132. Effect of an election to be transferred from FERS to CSRS to correct a retirement coverage error.

Sec. 133. Effect of an election to be transferred from FERS to CSRS-Offset to correct a retirement coverage error.

Sec. 134. Effect of an election to be restored to FERS after having been corrected to CSRS.

Sec. 135. Effect of an election to be restored to FERS after having been corrected to CSRS-Offset.

Sec. 136. Disqualification of certain individuals to whom same election was previously available.

Subtitle E—Employee Who Should Have Been CSRS-Offset Covered, But Who Was Erroneously CSRS Covered Instead

Sec. 141. Automatic transfer to CSRS-Offset.

Sec. 142. Effect of transfer.

Subtitle F—Employee Who Should Have Been CSRS Covered, But Who Was Erroneously CSRS-Offset Covered Instead

Sec. 151. Elections.

Sec. 152. Effect of an election to be transferred from CSRS-Offset to CSRS to correct the retirement coverage error.

Sec. 153. Effect of an election to be restored to CSRS-Offset after having been corrected to CSRS.

Subtitle G—Additional Provisions Relating to Government Agencies

Sec. 161. Repayment required in certain situations.

Sec. 162. Equitable sharing of amounts payable from the Government if more than one agency involved.

Sec. 163. Provisions relating to the original responsible agency.

TITLE II—GENERAL PROVISIONS

TITLE III—OTHER PROVISIONS

Sec. 301. Provisions to permit continued conformity of other Federal retirement systems.

Sec. 302. Provisions to prevent reductions in force and any unfunded liability in the CSRDF.

Sec. 303. Individual right of action preserved for amounts not otherwise provided for under this Act.

Sec. 304. Extension of open enrollment period to employees under the Foreign Service Retirement and Disability System.

TITLE IV—TAX PROVISIONS

Sec. 401. Tax provisions.

SEC. 2. DEFINITIONS.

For purposes of this Act:

(1) CSRS.—The term “CSRS” means the Civil Service Retirement System.

(2) CSRDF.—The term “CSRDF” means the Civil Service Retirement and Disability Fund.

(3) CSRS COVERED.—The term “CSRS covered”, with respect to any service, means service that is subject to the provisions of subchapter III of chapter 83 of title 5, United States Code, other than those that apply only with respect to an individual described in section 8402(b)(2) of such title.

(4) CSRS-OFFSET COVERED.—The term “CSRS-Offset covered”, with respect to any service, means service that is subject to the provisions of subchapter III of chapter 83 of title 5, United States Code, that apply with respect to an individual described in section 8402(b)(2) of such title.

(5) EMPLOYEE.—The term “employee” means an employee as defined by section 8331 or 8401 of title 5, United States Code, and any other individual (not satisfying either of those definitions) serving in an appointive or elective office or position in the executive, legislative, or judicial branch of the Government who, by virtue of that service, is permitted or required to be CSRS covered, CSRS-Offset covered, FERS covered, or Social Security-Only covered.

(6) EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR.—The term “Executive Director of the Federal Retirement Thrift Investment Board” or “Executive Director” means the Executive Director appointed under section 8474 of title 5, United States Code.

(7) FERS.—The term “FERS” means the Federal Employees’ Retirement System.

(8) FERS COVERED.—The term “FERS covered”, with respect to any service, means service that is subject to chapter 84 of title 5, United States Code.

(9) GOVERNMENT.—The term “Government” has the meaning given such term by section 8331(7) of title 5, United States Code.

(10) OASDI TAXES.—The term “OASDI taxes” means the OASDI employee tax and the OASDI employer tax.

(11) OASDI EMPLOYEE TAX.—The term “OASDI employee tax” means the tax imposed under section 3101(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (relating to Old-Age, Survivors and Disability Insurance).

(12) OASDI EMPLOYER TAX.—The term “OASDI employer tax” means the tax imposed under section 3111(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (relating to Old-Age, Survivors and Disability Insurance).

(13) OASDI TRUST FUNDS.—The term “OASDI trust funds” means the Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund and the Federal Disability Insurance Trust Fund.

(14) PERIOD OF ERRONEOUS COVERAGE.—The term “period of erroneous coverage” means, in the case of a retirement coverage error, the period throughout which retirement coverage is in effect pursuant to such error (or would have been in effect, but for such error).

(15) RETIREMENT COVERAGE DETERMINATION.—The term “retirement coverage determination” means a determination by an employee or agent of the Government as to whether a particular type of Government service is CSRS covered, CSRS-Offset covered, FERS covered, or Social Security-Only covered.

(16) RETIREMENT COVERAGE ERROR.—The term “retirement coverage error” means a retirement coverage determination that, as a result of any error, misrepresentation, or inaction on the part of an employee or agent of the Government (including an error as described in section 163(b)(2)), causes an individual erroneously to be enrolled or not enrolled in a retirement system, as further described in the applicable subtitle of title I.

(17) SOCIAL SECURITY-ONLY COVERED.—The term “Social Security-Only covered”, with respect to any service, means Government service that constitutes employment under section 210 of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 410), and that—

(A) is subject to OASDI taxes; but

(B) is not subject to any retirement system for Government employees (disregarding title II of the Social Security Act).

(18) THRIFT SAVINGS FUND.—The term “Thrift Savings Fund” means the Thrift Savings Fund established under section 8437 of title 5, United States Code.

SEC. 3. APPLICABILITY.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Subject to subsection (b), this Act shall apply with respect to any retirement coverage error that occurs before, on, or after the date of enactment of this Act, excluding any error corrected within 1 year after the date on which it occurs.

(b) LIMITATION.—Nothing in this Act shall affect any retirement coverage or treatment accorded with respect to any individual in connection with any period beginning before the first day of the first applicable pay period beginning on or after January 1, 1984.

SEC. 4. RESTRICTION RELATING TO FUTURE CORRECTIONS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Except as otherwise provided in this Act, any individual who, on or after the date of enactment of this Act, becomes or remains affected by a retirement coverage error may not be excluded from or made subject to any retirement system for the sole purpose of correcting such error.

(b) COORDINATION WITH OTHER LAWS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Nothing in this Act shall be considered to preclude an election under the Federal Employees’ Retirement System Open Enrollment Act of 1997 (Public Law 105-61; 111 Stat. 1318) or any other voluntary retirement coverage election authorized by statute.

(2) REGULATIONS.—The Office of Personnel Management shall prescribe any regulations which may be necessary to apply this Act in the case of any individual who changes retirement coverage pursuant to a voluntary election made other than under this Act.

SEC. 5. IRREVOCABILITY OF ELECTIONS.

Any election made (or deemed to have been made) under this Act by an employee or any other individual shall be irrevocable.

TITLE I—DESCRIPTION OF RETIREMENT COVERAGE ERRORS TO WHICH THIS ACT APPLIES AND MEASURES FOR THEIR RECTIFICATION

Subtitle A—Employee Who Should Have Been FERS Covered, But Who Was Erroneously CSRS Covered or CSRS-Offset Covered Instead

SEC. 101. ELECTIONS.

(a) APPLICABILITY.—This subtitle shall apply in the case of any employee who—

(1) should be (or should have been) FERS covered but, as a result of a retirement coverage error, is (or was) CSRS covered instead; or

(2) should be (or should have been) FERS covered but, as a result of a retirement coverage error, is (or was) CSRS-Offset covered instead.

(b) UNCORRECTED ERROR.—If, at the time of making an election under this section, the retirement coverage error described in paragraph (1) or (2) of subsection (a) (as applicable) has not been corrected, the employee affected by such error may elect—

(1) to be FERS covered instead; or

(2) to remain (or instead become) CSRS-Offset covered.

(c) CORRECTED ERROR.—If, at the time of making an election under this section, the retirement coverage error described in paragraph (1) or (2) of subsection (a) (as applicable) has been corrected, the employee affected by such error may elect—

(1) to be CSRS-Offset covered instead; or

(2) to remain FERS covered.

(d) DEFAULT RULE.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—If the employee is given written notice in accordance with section 201 as to the availability of an election under this section, but does not make any such election within the 6-month period beginning on the date on which such notice is so given, the option under subsection (b)(2) or (c)(2), as applicable, shall be deemed to have been elected on the last day of such period.

(2) CSRS NOT AN OPTION.—Nothing in this section shall be considered to afford an employee the option of becoming or remaining CSRS covered.

(e) RETROACTIVE EFFECT.—An election under this section (including an election by default, and an election to remain covered by the retirement system by which the electing individual is covered as of the date of the election) shall be effective retroactive to the effective date of the retirement coverage error (as referred to in subsection (a)) to which such election relates.

SEC. 102. EFFECT OF AN ELECTION TO BE TRANSFERRED FROM CSRS TO FERS TO CORRECT A RETIREMENT COVERAGE ERROR.

(a) APPLICABILITY.—This section shall apply in the case of any employee affected by an error described in section 101(a)(1) who elects the option under section 101(b)(1).

(b) DISPOSITION OF CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE CSRDF.—

(1) EMPLOYEE CONTRIBUTIONS.—

(A) TRANSFER TO OASDI TRUST FUNDS.—There shall be transferred from the CSRDF to the OASDI trust funds an amount equal to the amount of the OASDI employee tax that should have been deducted and withheld from the Federal wages of the employee for the period of erroneous coverage involved.

(B) RULE IF THERE ARE EXCESS CSRDF CONTRIBUTIONS.—

(i) IN GENERAL.—Any excess amount described in clause (ii) that is attributable to an employee described in subsection (a) shall be forfeited.

(ii) EXCESS AMOUNT DEFINED.—The excess amount described in this clause is, in the case of an employee, the amount by which—

(1) that portion of the employee’s lump-sum credit that is attributable to the period of erroneous coverage involved, exceeds (if at all)

(2) the total of the amount described in subparagraph (A) plus the amount that should have been deducted under section 8422 of title 5, United States Code, from the pay of the employee for the period of erroneous coverage involved.

(C) RULE IF LUMP-SUM CREDIT IS LESS THAN TOTAL EMPLOYEE CONTRIBUTIONS TO OASDI AND CSRDF THAT SHOULD HAVE BEEN MADE.—

(i) IN GENERAL.—

(I) SHORTFALL TO BE MADE UP BY AGENCY.—If the amount described in subparagraph (B)(ii)(I) is less than the total amount described in subparagraph (B)(ii)(II), an amount equal to the shortfall shall be made up (in such manner as the Commissioner of Social Security shall prescribe) by the agency in or under which the employee is then employed, out of amounts otherwise available in the appropriation, fund, or account from which any OASDI employer tax or contribution to the CSRDF (as applicable) may be made, except as provided in subclause (II) or clause (iii)(I).

(II) REDUCTION FOR DEPOSIT DUE.—In any case in which a deposit is required under clause (ii), the amount required to be made up under subclause (I) shall be reduced by the amount of the deposit so required (but not below zero).

(iii) DEPOSIT REQUIREMENT.—

(I) IN GENERAL.—To the extent that the shortfall under clause (i) is due to the any lump-sum credit received by the employee (for which an appropriate deposit under section 8334(d)(1) of title 5, United States Code, has not been made), the employee shall be required to repay an amount equal to the amount of such deposit, except as provided in clause (iii)(I).

(II) TREATMENT AS A DEBT DUE.—If an employee fails to pay the amount required under subclause (I), that amount shall be recoverable by the CSRDF under the same authorities (including to waive a right of recovery) as described in section 114(b)(2). For purposes of any exercise of authority under the preceding sentence, the Director of the Office of Personnel Management shall be considered the head of the agency concerned.

(iii) SPECIAL RULES.—

(I) DEPOSIT FOR FERS DEDUCTIONS NOT MANDATORY.—Nothing in this subparagraph shall, in any situation described in clause (ii), be considered to require any agency make-up payment (or employee repayment) of any portion of the lump-sum credit (beyond any amount necessary in order to permit the transfer described in paragraph (1)(A)) which would be assignable to amounts that should have been deducted under section 8422 of title 5, United States Code, from pay of the employee involved.

(II) AUTHORITY TO MAKE FERS DEPOSIT.—An employee under this section who has received a lump-sum credit (described in clause (ii)(I)) may not be credited, under chapter 84 of title 5, United States Code, with any period of service to which that lump-sum credit relates unless the employee deposits into the CSRDF an amount equal to the percentage of such employee's basic pay (for such period of service) that should have been deducted under section 8422 of such title 5.

(D) DEFINITION OF LUMP-SUM CREDIT.—For purposes of this paragraph, the term "lump-sum credit" has the meaning given such term by section 8331 of title 5, United States Code, except as the context may otherwise indicate.

(E) PROVISIONS RELATING TO THE APPLICATION OF THIS PARAGRAPH IN OTHER SITUATIONS.—

(i) GENERAL AUTHORITY.—To the extent necessary to permit the operation of this paragraph in any situation covered by any other provisions of this Act (which incorporate this paragraph by reference), any necessary technical and conforming amendments to this paragraph not otherwise specifically provided for (such as citations to appropriate provisions of law corresponding to provisions cited in this paragraph) shall be made under regulations which the Office of Personnel Management shall prescribe.

(ii) SPECIAL RULE.—

(I) DEPOSITS NOT PRECLUDED BY FERS RESTRICTION.—Nothing in section 8424(a) of title 5, United States Code, shall, in any situation covered by this Act, prevent the making of any deposit (and crediting, for retirement purposes, of service for the corresponding period of time) to the extent that the deposit relates to the period of erroneous coverage involved.

(II) EXCEPTION.—The preceding sentence shall not apply in any situation in which the employee involved was erroneously FERS covered, and remained FERS covered after the rectification provided for under this Act.

(2) GOVERNMENT CONTRIBUTIONS.—

(A) TRANSFER TO OASDI TRUST FUNDS.—There shall be transferred from the CSRDF to the OASDI trust funds the excess of—

(i) the amount of the OASDI employer tax that should have been paid with respect to the employee for the period of erroneous coverage involved, over

(ii) the amount of the OASDI employer tax that may be assessed under section 6501 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 in connection with such employee, determined in such manner as the Secretary of the Treasury shall by regulation prescribe.

(B) RULE IF CSRDF CONTRIBUTIONS ACTUALLY MADE ARE LESS THAN TOTAL GOVERNMENT CONTRIBUTIONS TO OASDI AND CSRDF THAT SHOULD HAVE BEEN MADE.—

(i) IN GENERAL.—If the total Government contributions to the CSRDF that were made with respect to the employee for the period of erroneous coverage involved are less than the amount described in clause (ii), an amount equal to the shortfall shall be made up (in such manner as the Commissioner of Social Security shall prescribe) by the agency in or under which the employee is then employed.

(ii) DESCRIPTION OF AMOUNT.—The amount described in this clause is the total of—

(I) the amount required to be transferred under subparagraph (A), plus

(II) the amount that should have been contributed by the Government under section 8423 of title 5, United States Code, for such employee with respect to such period.

(iii) SOURCE OF PAYMENTS.—Any amount required to be paid by an agency under clause (i) shall be payable out of any appropriation, fund, or account available to such agency for making Government contributions to the CSRDF or the OASDI trust funds (as appropriate).

(c) MAKEUP CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE THRIFT SAVINGS FUND.—

(I) IN GENERAL.—An employee to whom this section applies is entitled to have contributed to the Thrift Savings Fund on such employee's behalf, in addition to any regular employee or Government contributions that would be permitted or required for the year in which the contributions under this subsection are made, an amount equal to the sum of—

(A) the amount determined under paragraph (2) with respect to such employee for the period of erroneous coverage involved;

(B) an amount equal to the total contributions that should have been made for such employee under section 8432(c)(1) of title 5, United States Code, for the period of erroneous coverage involved;

(C) an amount equal to the total contributions that should have been made for such employee under section 8432(c)(2) of title 5, United States Code, for the period of erroneous coverage involved (taking into account both the amount referred to in subparagraph (A) and any contributions to the Thrift Savings Fund actually made by such employee with respect to the period involved); and

(D) an amount equal to lost earnings on the amounts referred to in subparagraphs (A) through (C), determined in accordance with paragraph (3).

(2) AMOUNT BASED ON AVERAGE PERCENTAGE OF PAY CONTRIBUTED BY EMPLOYEES DURING PERIOD OF ERRONEOUS COVERAGE.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The amount determined under this paragraph with respect to an employee for a period of erroneous coverage shall be equal to the amount of the contributions such employee would have made if, during each calendar year in such period, the employee had contributed the percentage of such employee's basic pay for such year specified in subparagraph (B) (determined disregarding any contributions actually made by such employee with respect to the year involved).

(B) PERCENTAGE TO BE APPLIED.—

(i) IN GENERAL.—The percentage to be applied under this subparagraph in the case of any employee with respect to a particular year is—

(I) the average percentage of basic pay that was contributed for such year under section 8432(a) of title 5, United States Code, by full-time FERS covered employees who contributed to the Thrift Savings Fund in such year and for whom a salary rate is recorded (as of June 30 of such year) in the central personnel data file maintained by the Office of Personnel Management; or

(II) if such average percentage for the year in question is unavailable, the average percentage for the most recent year prior to the year in question that is available.

(ii) PERCENTAGE CONTRIBUTED.—For purposes of clause (i)(I), the percentage of basic pay for each employee included in the average shall be determined by dividing the total employee contributions received into the Thrift Savings Plan account of that employee during such year by the annual salary rate for that employee as recorded in the central personnel data file (referred to in clause (i)(I)) as of June 30 of such year.

(C) LIMITATIONS.—In no event may the amount determined under this paragraph for an individual with respect to a year exceed the amount that, if added to the amount of the contributions that were actually made by such individual to the Thrift Savings Fund with respect to such year (if any), would cause the total to exceed—

(i) any limitation under section 415 or any other provision of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 that would have applied to such employee with respect to such year; or

(ii) any limitation under section 8432(a) or any other provision of title 5, United States Code, that would have applied to such employee with respect to such year.

(3) LOST EARNINGS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Lost earnings on any amounts referred to in subparagraph (A), (B), or (C) of paragraph (1) shall, to the extent those amounts are attributable to contributions that should have been made with respect to a particular year, be determined in the same way as if those amounts had in fact been timely contributed and allocated among the TSP investment funds in accordance with—

(i) the investment fund election that was accepted by the employing agency before the date the contribution should have been made and that was still in effect as of that date; or

(ii) if no such election was then in effect for the employee, the investment fund election attributed to such employee with respect to such year.

(B) INVESTMENT FUND ELECTION ATTRIBUTED.—For purposes of subparagraph (A)(ii), the investment fund election attributed to an employee with respect to a particular year is—

(i) the average percentage allocation of TSP contributions among the TSP investment funds from all sources, with respect to that year, except that the investment fund election attributed to contributions in years prior to 1991 shall be the G Fund; or

(ii) if such average percentage allocation for the year in question is unavailable, the average percentage allocation for the most recent year prior to the year in question that is available.

(C) DEFINITION OF INVESTMENT FUND ELECTION, ETC.—For purposes of this paragraph—

(i) the term "investment fund election" means a choice by a participant concerning how contributions to the Thrift Savings Plan shall be allocated among the TSP investment funds;

(ii) the term "participant" means any person with an account in the Thrift Savings Plan, or who would have an account in the Thrift Savings Plan but for an employing agency error (including an error as described in section 163(b)(2));

(iii) the term "TSP investment funds" means the C Fund, the F Fund, the G Fund, and any other investment fund in the Thrift Savings Plan created after December 27, 1996; and

(iv) the terms "C Fund", "F Fund", and "G Fund" refer to the funds described in paragraphs (1), (3), and (4), respectively, of section 8438(a) of title 5, United States Code.

(4) MAKEUP CONTRIBUTION TO BE MADE IN A LUMP SUM.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Any amount to which an employee is entitled under this subsection shall be paid promptly by the agency in or under which the electing employee is (as of the date of the election) employed, in a lump sum, upon notification to such agency under subparagraph (B)(ii) as to the amount due.

(B) BOARD FUNCTIONS.—The regulations under paragraph (6) shall include provisions under which—

(i) each employing agency shall be required to determine and notify the Federal Retirement Thrift Investment Board, in a timely manner, as to any amounts under paragraph (1)(A)–(C) owed by such agency; and

(ii) the Board shall, based on the information it receives from an agency under clause (i), determine lost earnings on those amounts and promptly notify such agency as to the total amounts due from it under this subsection.

(5) JUSTICES AND JUDGES; MAGISTRATES; ETC.—The preceding provisions of this subsection shall not apply in the case of any employee who, pursuant to the election referred to in subsection (a), becomes subject to section 8440a, 8440b, 8440c, or 8440d of title 5, United States Code.

(6) REGULATIONS.—The Executive Director of the Federal Retirement Thrift Investment Board shall prescribe any regulations necessary to carry out this subsection.

SEC. 103. EFFECT OF AN ELECTION TO BE TRANSFERRED FROM CSRS-OFFSET TO FERS TO CORRECT A RETIREMENT COVERAGE ERROR.

(a) APPLICABILITY.—This section shall apply in the case of any employee affected by an error described in section 101(a)(2) who elects the option under section 101(b)(1).

(b) EFFECT OF ELECTION.—In the case of an employee described in subsection (a), the following provisions shall apply:

(1) Section 102(b) (relating to disposition of contributions to the CSRDF), but disregarding provisions relating to transfers to OASDI trust funds.

(2) Section 102(c) (relating to makeup contributions to the Thrift Savings Fund).

SEC. 104. EFFECT OF AN ELECTION TO BE TRANSFERRED FROM CSRS TO CSRS-OFFSET TO CORRECT A RETIREMENT COVERAGE ERROR.

(a) APPLICABILITY.—This section shall apply in the case of any employee affected by an error described in section 101(a)(1) who elects the option under section 101(b)(2).

(b) SAME AS IN THE CASE OF AN ELECTION TO RATIFY ERRONEOUS CSRS-OFFSET COVERAGE.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The effect of an election described in subsection (a) shall be as described in section 101(b)(2), except that the provisions of section 102(b) shall also apply.

(2) APPROPRIATE PERCENTAGES TO BE USED IN DETERMINING EMPLOYEE AND GOVERNMENT CONTRIBUTIONS TO CSRDF.—For purposes of paragraph (1), section 102(b) shall be applied by substituting "the relevant provisions of section 8334(k)" for "section 8422" and "section 8423".

SEC. 105. EFFECT OF AN ELECTION TO BE RESTORED (OR TRANSFERRED) TO CSRS-OFFSET AFTER HAVING BEEN CORRECTED TO FERS FROM CSRS-OFFSET (OR CSRS).

(a) APPLICABILITY.—This section shall apply in the case of any employee affected by an error described in paragraph (1) or (2) of section 101(a) who (after having been corrected to FERS coverage) elects the option under section 101(c)(1).

(b) DISPOSITION OF CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE CSRDF.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The provisions of section 102(b) shall apply in the case of an employee described in subsection (a), subject to paragraph (2).

(2) NO TRANSFERS FOR AMOUNTS ALREADY PAID INTO OASDI, ETC.—For purposes of paragraph (1), section 102(b) shall be applied in conformance with the following:

(A) NO DOUBLE PAYMENTS INTO OASDI.—To the extent that the appropriate OASDI employee or employer tax has already been paid for the total period involved (or any portion thereof), reduce the respective amounts required by paragraphs (1)(A) and (2)(A)(i) of section 102(b) accordingly.

(B) APPROPRIATE PERCENTAGES TO BE USED IN DETERMINING EMPLOYEE AND GOVERNMENT CONTRIBUTIONS TO CSRDF.—Substitute "the relevant provisions of section 8334(k)" for "section 8422" and "section 8423".

(C) APPROPRIATE LUMP-SUM CREDIT TO BE USED.—The appropriate lump-sum credit to be used under this subsection shall be determined in accordance with regulations to be prescribed by the Office of Personnel Management.

(D) PROVISIONS TO BE APPLIED WITH RESPECT TO THE TOTAL PERIOD INVOLVED.—Substitute "total period involved (as defined by section 105)" for "period of erroneous coverage involved".

(c) DISPOSITION OF EXCESS TSP CONTRIBUTIONS.—

(1) GOVERNMENT CONTRIBUTIONS.—All Government contributions made on behalf of the employee to the Thrift Savings Fund that are attributable to the total period involved (including any earnings thereon) shall be forfeited. For the purpose of section 8437(d) of title 5, United States Code, amounts so forfeited shall be treated as if they were amounts forfeited under section 8432(g) of such title.

(2) EMPLOYEE CONTRIBUTIONS.—The election referred to in subsection (a) shall not be taken into account for purposes of any determination relating to the disposition of any employee contributions to the Thrift Savings Fund, attributable to the total period involved, that were in excess of the maximum amount that would have been allowable under applicable provisions of subchapter III of chapter 83 of title 5, United States Code (including any earnings thereon).

(d) DEFINITION OF TOTAL PERIOD INVOLVED.—For purposes of this section, the term "total period involved" means the period beginning on the effective date of the retirement coverage error involved and ending on the day before the date on which the election described in subsection (a) is made.

SEC. 106. EFFECT OF ELECTION TO REMAIN FERS COVERED AFTER HAVING BEEN CORRECTED TO FERS FROM CSRS-OFFSET (OR CSRS).

(a) APPLICABILITY.—This section shall apply in the case of any employee affected by an error described in paragraph (1) or (2) of section 101(a) who (after having been corrected to FERS coverage) elects the option under section 101(c)(2).

(b) DISPOSITION OF CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE CSRDF.—The provisions of section 102(b) shall apply in the case of an employee described in subsection (a), subject to the same condition as set forth in section 105(b)(2)(A).

(c) MAKEUP CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE THRIFT SAVINGS FUND.—Section 102(c) shall apply, except that an agency shall receive credit for any automatic or matching Government contributions and any lost earnings paid by such agency as part of any corrections process previously carried out with respect to the employee involved.

Subtitle B—Employee Who Should Have Been FERS Covered, CSRS-Offset Covered, or CSRS Covered, But Who Was Erroneously Social Security-Only Covered Instead

SEC. 111. ELECTIONS.

(a) APPLICABILITY.—This subtitle shall apply in the case of any employee who—

(1) should be (or should have been) FERS covered but, as a result of a retirement coverage error, is (or was) Social Security-Only covered instead;

(2) should be (or should have been) CSRS-Offset covered but, as a result of a retirement coverage error, is (or was) Social Security-Only covered instead; or

(3) should be (or should have been) CSRS covered but, as a result of a retirement coverage error, is (or was) Social Security-Only covered instead.

(b) UNCORRECTED ERROR.—If, at the time of making an election under this section, the retirement coverage error described in paragraph (1), (2), or (3) of subsection (a) (as applicable) has not been corrected, the employee affected by such error may elect—

(1)(A) in the case of an error described in subsection (a)(1), to be FERS covered as well;

(B) in the case of an error described in subsection (a)(2), to be CSRS-Offset covered as well; or

(C) in the case of an error described in subsection (a)(3), to be CSRS covered instead; or

(2) to remain Social Security-Only covered.

(c) CORRECTED ERROR.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 6 months after the date of enactment of this Act, there shall be submitted to the Congress a proposal (including any necessary draft legislation) to carry out the policy described in paragraph (2).

(2) POLICY.—Under the proposal, any employee with respect to whom the retirement coverage error described in paragraph (1), (2), or (3) of subsection (a) (as applicable) has already been corrected, but under terms less advantageous to the employee than would have been the case under this Act, shall be afforded a reasonable opportunity to obtain treatment comparable to the treatment afforded under this Act.

(3) JOINT ACTION.—This subsection shall be carried out by the Director of the Office of Personnel Management, in consultation with the Executive Director of the Federal Retirement Thrift Investment Board and the Commissioner of Social Security.

(d) DEFAULT RULE.—In the case of any employee to whom subsection (b) applies, if the employee is given written notice in accordance with section 201 as to the availability of an election under this section, but does not make any such election within the 6-month period beginning on the date on which such notice is so given, the option under subsection (b)(2) shall be deemed to have been elected on the last day of such period.

(e) RETROACTIVE EFFECT.—An election under this section (including an election by default, and an election to remain covered by the retirement system by which the electing individual is covered as of the date of the election) shall be effective retroactive to the effective date of the retirement coverage error (as referred to in subsection (a)) to which such election relates.

SEC. 112. EFFECT OF AN ELECTION TO BECOME FERS COVERED TO CORRECT THE RETIREMENT COVERAGE ERROR.

(a) APPLICABILITY.—This section shall apply in the case of any employee affected by an error described in section 111(a)(1) who elects the option under section 111(b)(1)(A).

(b) MAKEUP CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE CSRDF.—Upon notification that an employee has made an election under this section, the agency in or under which such employee is employed shall promptly pay to the CSRDF, in a lump sum, an amount equal to the sum of—

(1) the amount that should have been deducted and withheld from the pay of the employee for the period of erroneous coverage involved under section 8422 of title 5, United States Code; and

(2) the Government contributions that should have been paid for the period of erroneous coverage involved under section 8423 of title 5, United States Code.

(c) MAKEUP CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE THRIFT SAVINGS FUND.—Section 102(c) shall apply in the case of an employee described in subsection (a).

SEC. 113. EFFECT OF AN ELECTION TO BECOME CSRS-OFFSET COVERED TO CORRECT THE RETIREMENT COVERAGE ERROR.

(a) APPLICABILITY.—This section shall apply in the case of any employee affected by an error described in section 111(a)(2) who elects the option under section 111(b)(1)(B).

(b) MAKEUP CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE CSRDF.—Upon notification that an employee has made an election under this section, the agency in or under which such employee is employed shall promptly pay to the CSRDF, in a lump sum, an amount equal to the sum of—

(1) the amount that should have been deducted and withheld from the pay of the employee for the period of erroneous coverage involved under section 8334 of title 5, United States Code; and

(2) the Government contributions that should have been paid under section 8334 of title 5, United States Code, for the period of erroneous coverage involved.

(c) MAKEUP CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE THRIFT SAVINGS FUND.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Makeup contributions to the Thrift Savings Fund shall be made by the employing agency in the same manner as described in section 102(c) (but disregarding subparagraphs (B) and (C) of paragraph (1) thereof, and the other provisions of section 102(c) to the extent that they relate to those subparagraphs).

(2) APPROPRIATE PERCENTAGES, ETC. TO BE USED.—For purposes of paragraph (1), section 102(c) shall be applied—

(A) by substituting “section 8351(b)” for “section 8432(a)” and by substituting “CSRS covered and CSRS-Offset covered” for “FERS covered” in paragraph (2)(B)(i) thereof; and

(B) by substituting “section 8351(b)(2)” for “section 8432(a)” in paragraph (2)(C)(ii) thereof.

SEC. 114. EFFECT OF AN ELECTION TO BECOME CSRS COVERED TO CORRECT THE RETIREMENT COVERAGE ERROR.

(a) APPLICABILITY.—This section shall apply in the case of any employee affected by an error described in section 111(a)(3) who elects the option under section 111(b)(1)(C).

(b) MAKEUP CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE CSRDF.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Upon notification that an employee has made an election under this section, the agency in or under which such employee is employed shall promptly pay to the CSRDF, in a lump sum, an amount equal to the sum of—

(A) the amount that should have been deducted and withheld from the pay of the employee for the period of erroneous coverage involved under section 8334 of title 5, United States Code; and

(B) the Government contributions that should have been paid under such section for the period of erroneous coverage involved.

(2) AGENCY TO BE REIMBURSED FOR CERTAIN AMOUNTS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The employee for whom the payment under paragraph (1) is made shall repay to the agency (referred to in paragraph (1)) an amount equal to the OASDI employee taxes refunded or refundable to such employee for any portion of the period of erroneous coverage involved (computed in such manner as the Director of the Office of Personnel Management, with the concurrence of the Secretary of the Treasury, shall by regulation prescribe), not to exceed the amount described in paragraph (1)(A).

(B) RIGHT OF RECOVERY; WAIVER.—If the employee fails to repay the amount required under subparagraph (A), a sum equal to the amount outstanding is recoverable by the Government from the employee (or the employee's estate, if applicable) by—

(i) setoff against accrued pay, compensation, amount of retirement credit, or another amount due the employee from the Government; and

(ii) such other method as is provided by law for the recovery of amounts owing to the Government.

The head of the agency concerned may waive, in whole or in part, a right of recovery under this paragraph if it is shown that recovery would be against equity and good conscience or against the public interest.

(C) TREATMENT OF AMOUNTS REPAID OR RECOVERED.—Any amount repaid by, or recovered from, an individual (or an estate) under this paragraph shall be credited to the appropriation account from which the amount involved was originally paid.

(c) MAKEUP CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE THRIFT SAVINGS FUND.—In the case of an employee described in subsection (a), makeup contributions to the Thrift Savings Fund shall be made in the same manner as described in section 113(c).

Subtitle C—Employee Who Should Have Been Social Security-Only Covered, But Who Was Erroneously FERS Covered, CSRS-Offset Covered, or CSRS Covered InsteadSEC. 121. UNCORRECTED ERROR: EMPLOYEE WHO SHOULD BE SOCIAL SECURITY-ONLY COVERED, BUT WHO IS ERRONEOUSLY FERS COVERED INSTEAD.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in section 125, this section shall apply in the case of any employee who should be Social Security-Only covered but, as a result of a retirement coverage error, is FERS covered instead.

(b) AUTOMATIC EXCLUSION FROM FERS.—An employee described in subsection (a) shall not, by reason of the retirement coverage error described in subsection (a), be eligible to be treated as an individual who is FERS covered.

(c) DISPOSITION OF EMPLOYEE CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE CSRDF.—There shall be paid to the employee, from the CSRDF, any lump-sum credit to which such employee would be entitled under section 8424 of title 5, United States Code, to the extent attributable to the period of erroneous coverage involved.

(d) DISPOSITION OF TSP CONTRIBUTIONS.—

(1) GOVERNMENT CONTRIBUTIONS.—All Government contributions made on behalf of the employee to the Thrift Savings Fund that are attributable to the period of erroneous coverage involved (including any earnings thereon) shall be forfeited in the same manner as described in section 105(c).

(2) EMPLOYEE CONTRIBUTIONS.—Notwithstanding any other provision of this section or any other provision of law, any contributions made by the employee to the Thrift Savings Fund during the period of erroneous coverage involved (including any earnings thereon) shall be treated as if such employee had then been correctly covered.

SEC. 122. UNCORRECTED ERROR: EMPLOYEE WHO SHOULD BE SOCIAL SECURITY-ONLY COVERED, BUT WHO IS ERRONEOUSLY CSRS-OFFSET COVERED INSTEAD.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in section 125, this section shall apply in the case of any employee who should be Social Security-Only covered but, as a result of a retirement coverage error, is CSRS-Offset covered instead.

(b) AUTOMATIC EXCLUSION FROM CSRS-OFFSET.—An employee described in subsection (a) shall not, by reason of the retirement coverage error described in subsection (a), be eligible to be treated as an individual who is CSRS-Offset covered.

(c) DISPOSITION OF EMPLOYEE CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE CSRDF.—There shall be paid to the employee, from the CSRDF, the lump-sum credit to which such employee would be entitled under section 8342 of title 5, United States Code, to the extent attributable to the period of erroneous coverage involved.

(d) DISPOSITION OF TSP CONTRIBUTIONS.—In the case of an employee described in subsection (a), section 121(d)(2) shall apply.

SEC. 123. UNCORRECTED ERROR: EMPLOYEE WHO SHOULD BE SOCIAL SECURITY-ONLY COVERED, BUT WHO IS ERRONEOUSLY CSRS COVERED INSTEAD.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in section 125, this section shall apply in the case of any employee who should be Social Security-Only covered but, as a result of a retirement coverage error, is CSRS covered instead.

(b) AUTOMATIC EXCLUSION FROM CSRS.—An employee described in subsection (a) shall not, by reason of the retirement coverage error described in subsection (a), be eligible to be treated as an individual who is CSRS covered.

(c) DISPOSITION OF CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE CSRDF.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—In the case of an employee described in subsection (a), section 102(b) shall apply.

(2) IRRELEVANT PROVISIONS TO BE DISREGARDED.—For purposes of paragraph (1), section 102(b) shall be applied disregarding the provisions of paragraphs (1)(B)(ii)(II) (to the extent they relate to amounts that should have been deducted under section 8422 of title 5, United States Code) and (2)(B)(ii)(II) thereof.

(d) DISPOSITION OF TSP CONTRIBUTIONS.—In the case of an employee described in subsection (a), section 121(d)(2) shall apply.

SEC. 124. CORRECTED ERROR: SITUATIONS UNDER SECTIONS 121-123.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 6 months after the date of enactment of this Act, there shall be submitted to the Congress a proposal (including any necessary draft legislation) to carry out the policy described in subsection (b).

(b) POLICY.—Under the proposal, any employee with respect to whom the applicable retirement coverage error (referred to in section 121, 122, or 123, as applicable) has already been corrected, but under terms less advantageous to the employee than would have been the case under this Act, shall be afforded a reasonable opportunity to obtain treatment comparable to the treatment afforded under this Act.

(c) JOINT ACTION.—This section shall be carried out by the Director of the Office of Personnel Management, in consultation with the Executive Director of the Federal Retirement Thrift Investment Board and the Commissioner of Social Security.

SEC. 125. VESTED EMPLOYEES EXCEPTED FROM AUTOMATIC EXCLUSION.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Nothing in this subtitle shall, by reason of any retirement coverage error, result in the automatic exclusion of any employee from FERS, CSRS-Offset, or CSRS if, as of the date on which notice of such error is given (in accordance with section 201), such employee's rights have vested under the retirement system involved.

(b) VESTING.—For purposes of this section, vesting of rights shall be considered to have occurred if the employee has (by the date as of which the determination is made) completed at least 5 years of civilian service, taking into account only creditable service under section 8332 or 8411 of title 5, United States Code.

(c) ELECTIONS.—

(1) ERRONEOUSLY FERS COVERED.—Any employee affected by an error described in section 121 who is determined under this section to satisfy subsection (b) may elect—

(A) to be treated in accordance with section 121; or

(B) to remain FERS covered.

(2) OTHER CASES.—Any employee affected by an error described in section 122 or 123 who is determined under this section to satisfy subsection (b) may elect—

(A) to be treated in accordance with section 122 or 123 (as applicable); or

(B) to remain (or instead become) CSRS-Offset covered.

(d) EFFECT OF AN ELECTION TO BE TRANSFERRED FROM CSRS TO CSRS-OFFSET.—In the case of an employee affected by an error described in section 123 who elects the option under subsection (c)(2)(B), the effect of the election shall be the same as described in section 104.

(e) DEFAULT RULE.—If the employee does not make any election within the 6-month period beginning on the date on which the appropriate notice is given to such employee, the option under paragraph (1)(B) or (2)(B) of subsection (c), as applicable, shall be deemed to have been elected as of the last day of such period. Nothing in this section shall be considered to afford an employee the option of becoming or remaining CSRS covered.

(f) RETROACTIVE EFFECT.—An election under this section (including an election by default, and an election to remain covered by the retirement system by which the electing individual is covered as of the date of the election) shall be effective retroactive to the effective date of the retirement coverage error to which the election relates.

(g) SPECIAL RULE IN CASE OF DISABILITY.—If, as of the date referred to in subsection (a), the employee is entitled to receive an annuity under chapter 83 or 84 of title 5, United States Code, based on disability, or compensation under subchapter I of chapter 81 of such title for injury to, or disability of, such employee, subsections (a) and (b) shall be applied by substituting (for the date that would otherwise apply) the date as of which entitlement to such annuity or compensation terminates (if at all).

(h) NOTIFICATION.—Any notice under section 201 shall include such additional information or other modifications as the Office of Personnel Management may by regulation prescribe in connection with the situations covered by this subtitle, particularly as they relate to the consequences of being vested or not being vested.

Subtitle D—Employee Who Should Have Been CSRS Covered or CSRS-Offset Covered, But Who Was Erroneously FERS Covered InsteadSEC. 131. ELECTIONS.

(a) APPLICABILITY.—This subtitle shall apply in the case of any employee who—

(1) should be (or should have been) CSRS covered but, as a result of a retirement coverage error, is (or was) FERS covered instead; or

(2) should be (or should have been) CSRS-Offset covered but, as a result of a retirement coverage error, is (or was) FERS covered instead.

(b) UNCORRECTED ERROR.—If, at the time of making an election under this section, the retirement coverage error described in paragraph (1) or (2) of subsection (a) (as applicable) has not been corrected, the employee affected by such error may elect—

(1)(A) in the case of an error described in subsection (a)(1), to be CSRS covered instead; or

(B) in the case of an error described in subsection (a)(2), to be CSRS-Offset covered instead; or

(2) to remain FERS covered.

(c) CORRECTED ERROR.—If, at the time of making an election under this section, the retirement coverage error described in paragraph (1) or (2) of subsection (a) (as applicable) has been corrected, the employee affected by such error may elect—

(1) to be FERS covered instead; or

(2)(A) in the case of an error described in subsection (a)(1), to remain CSRS covered; or

(B) in the case of an error described in subsection (a)(2), to remain CSRS-Offset covered.

(d) DEFAULT RULE.—If the employee is given written notice in accordance with section 201 as to the availability of an election under this section, but does not make any such election within the 6-month period beginning on the date on which such notice is so given, the option under subsection (b)(2) or (c)(2), as applicable, shall be deemed to have been elected on the last day of such period.

(e) RETROACTIVE EFFECT.—An election under this section (including an election by default, and an election to remain covered by the retirement system by which the electing individual is covered as of the date of the election) shall be effective retroactive to the effective date of the retirement coverage error (as referred to in subsection (a)) to which such election relates.

SEC. 132. EFFECT OF AN ELECTION TO BE TRANSFERRED FROM FERS TO CSRS TO CORRECT A RETIREMENT COVERAGE ERROR.

(a) APPLICABILITY.—This section shall apply in the case of any employee affected by an error described in section 131(a)(1) who elects the option available to such employee under section 131(b)(1)(A).

(b) MAKEUP CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE CSRDF.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Upon notification that an employee has made an election under this section, the agency in or under which such employee is employed shall promptly pay to the CSRDF, in a lump sum, an amount equal to the excess of—

(A) the amount by which—

(i) the amount that should have been deducted and withheld from the pay of the employee for the period of erroneous coverage involved under section 8334 of title 5, United States Code, exceeds

(ii) the amount that was actually deducted and withheld from the pay of the employee for the period of erroneous coverage involved under section 8422 of such title (and not refunded), over

(B) the amount by which—

(i) the amount of the Government contributions actually made under section 8423 of such title with respect to the employee for the period of erroneous coverage involved, exceeds

(ii) the amount of the Government contributions that should have been made under section 8334 of such title with respect to the employee for the period of erroneous coverage involved.

(2) AGENCY TO BE REIMBURSED FOR CERTAIN AMOUNTS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The employee for whom the payment under paragraph (1) is made shall repay to the agency (referred to in paragraph (1)) an amount equal to the OASDI employee taxes refunded or refundable to such employee for any portion of the period of erroneous coverage involved (computed in such manner as the Director of the Office of Personnel Management, with the concurrence of the Commissioner of Social Security, shall by regulation prescribe), not to exceed the amount described in paragraph (1)(A).

(B) RIGHT OF RECOVERY; WAIVER.—If the employee fails to repay the amount required under subparagraph (A), a sum equal to the amount outstanding is recoverable by the Government from the employee (or the employee's estate, if applicable) by—

(i) setoff against accrued pay, compensation, amount of retirement credit, or another amount due the employee from the Government; and

(ii) such other method as is provided by law for the recovery of amounts owing to the Government.

The head of the agency concerned may waive, in whole or in part, a right of recovery under this paragraph if it is shown that recovery would be against equity and good conscience or against the public interest.

(C) TREATMENT OF AMOUNTS REPAYED OR RECOVERED.—Any amount repaid by, or recovered from, an individual (or an estate) under this paragraph shall be credited to the appropriation, fund, or account from which the amount involved was originally paid.

(c) DISPOSITION OF EXCESS TSP CONTRIBUTIONS.—Section 105(c) shall apply in the case of an employee described in subsection (a).

SEC. 133. EFFECT OF AN ELECTION TO BE TRANSFERRED FROM FERS TO CSRS-OFFSET TO CORRECT A RETIREMENT COVERAGE ERROR.

(a) APPLICABILITY.—This section shall apply in the case of any employee affected by an error described in section 131(a)(2) who elects the option available to such employee under section 131(b)(1)(B).

(b) EFFECT.—The effect of an election referred to in subsection (a) shall be substantially the same as that described in section 105.

SEC. 134. EFFECT OF AN ELECTION TO BE RESTORED TO FERS AFTER HAVING BEEN CORRECTED TO CSRS.

(a) APPLICABILITY.—This section shall apply in the case of any employee affected by an error described in section 131(a)(1) who elects the option under section 131(c)(1).

(b) EFFECT.—The effect of an election referred to in subsection (a) shall be substantially the same as that described in section 102.

SEC. 135. EFFECT OF AN ELECTION TO BE RESTORED TO FERS AFTER HAVING BEEN CORRECTED TO CSRS-OFFSET.

(a) APPLICABILITY.—This section shall apply in the case of any employee affected by an error described in section 131(a)(2) who elects the option under section 131(c)(1).

(b) EFFECT.—The effect of an election referred to in subsection (a) shall be substantially the same as that described in section 103.

SEC. 136. DISQUALIFICATION OF CERTAIN INDIVIDUALS TO WHOM SAME ELECTION WAS PREVIOUSLY AVAILABLE.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this subtitle, an election under this subtitle shall not be available in the case of any individual to whom an election under section 846.204 of title 5 of the Code of Federal Regulations (as in effect as of January 1, 1997) was made available in connection with the same error pursuant to notification provided in accordance with such section.

Subtitle E—Employee Who Should Have Been CSRS-Offset Covered, But Who Was Erroneously CSRS Covered Instead

SEC. 141. AUTOMATIC TRANSFER TO CSRS-OFFSET.

(a) APPLICABILITY.—This subtitle shall apply in the case of any employee who should be (or should have been) CSRS-Offset covered but, as a result of a retirement coverage error, is (or was) CSRS covered instead.

(b) UNCORRECTED ERROR.—If the error has not been corrected, the employee shall be treated in the same way as if such employee had instead been CSRS-Offset covered, effective retroactive to the effective date of such error.

(c) CORRECTED ERROR.—If the error has been corrected, the correction shall (to the extent not already carried out) be made effective retroactive to the effective date of such error.

SEC. 142. EFFECT OF TRANSFER.

The effect of a transfer under section 141 shall be as set forth in regulations which the Office of Personnel Management shall prescribe consistent with section 104.

Subtitle F—Employee Who Should Have Been CSRS Covered, But Who Was Erroneously CSRS-Offset Covered Instead

SEC. 151. ELECTIONS.

(a) APPLICABILITY.—This subtitle shall apply in the case of any employee who should be (or should have been) CSRS covered but, as a result of a retirement coverage error, is (or was) CSRS-Offset covered instead.

(b) UNCORRECTED ERROR.—If, at the time of making an election under this section, the retirement coverage error described in subsection (a) has not been corrected, the employee affected by such error may elect—

- (1) to be CSRS covered instead; or
- (2) to remain CSRS-Offset covered.

(c) CORRECTED ERROR.—If, at the time of making an election under this section, the retirement coverage error described in subsection (a) has been corrected, the employee affected by such error may elect—

- (1) to be CSRS-Offset covered instead; or
- (2) to remain CSRS covered.

(d) DEFAULT RULE.—If the employee is given written notice in accordance with section 201 as to the availability of an election under this section, but does not make any such election within the 6-month period beginning on the date on which such notice is so given, the option under subsection (b)(2) or (c)(2), as applicable, shall be deemed to have been elected on the last day of such period.

(e) RETROACTIVE EFFECT.—An election under this section (including an election by default, and an election to remain covered by the retirement system by which the electing individual is covered as of the date of the election) shall be effective retroactive to the effective date of the retirement coverage error (as referred to in subsection (a)) to which such election relates.

SEC. 152. EFFECT OF AN ELECTION TO BE TRANSFERRED FROM CSRS-OFFSET TO CSRS TO CORRECT THE RETIREMENT COVERAGE ERROR.

(a) APPLICABILITY.—This section shall apply in the case of any employee affected by an error described in section 151(a) who elects the option available to such employee under section 151(b)(1).

(b) MAKEUP CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE CSRDF.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Upon notification that an employee has made an election under this section, the agency in or under which such employee is employed shall promptly pay to the CSRDF, in a lump sum, an amount equal to the amount by which—

(A) the amount that should have been deducted and withheld from the pay of the employee for the period of erroneous coverage involved under section 8334 of title 5, United States Code (by virtue of being CSRS covered), exceeds

(B) any amounts actually deducted and withheld from the pay of the employee for the period of erroneous coverage involved under such section (pursuant to CSRS-Offset coverage).

(2) AGENCY TO BE REIMBURSED FOR CERTAIN AMOUNTS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The employee for whom the payment under paragraph (1) is made shall repay to the agency (referred to in paragraph (1)) an amount equal to the OASDI employee taxes refunded or refundable to such employee for any portion of the period of erroneous coverage involved (computed in such manner as the Director of the Office of Personnel Management, with the concurrence of the Commissioner of Social Security, shall by regulation prescribe), not to exceed the amount described in paragraph (1)(A).

(B) RIGHT OF RECOVERY; WAIVER.—If the employee fails to repay the amount required under subparagraph (A), a sum equal to the amount outstanding is recoverable by the Government from the employee (or the employee's estate, if applicable) by—

(i) setoff against accrued pay, compensation, amount of retirement credit, or another amount due the employee from the Government; and

(ii) such other method as is provided by law for the recovery of amounts owing to the Government.

The head of the agency concerned may waive, in whole or in part, a right of recovery under this paragraph if it is shown that recovery would be against equity and good conscience or against the public interest.

(C) TREATMENT OF AMOUNTS REPAID OR RECOVERED.—Any amount repaid by, or recovered from, an individual (or an estate) under this paragraph shall be credited to the appropriation, fund, or account from which the amount involved was originally paid.

(3) DEPOSIT TO BE BASED ON AMOUNT OF REFUND ACTUALLY RECEIVED.—For purposes of applying sections 8334(d)(1) and 8339(i) of title 5, United States Code, in the case of an employee described in subsection (a) who has received a refund of deductions that are attributable to a period when the employee was erroneously CSRS-Offset covered, nothing in either of those sections shall be considered to require that, in order to receive credit for that period as a CSRS-covered employee, a deposit be made in excess of the refund actually received for such period, plus interest.

SEC. 153. EFFECT OF AN ELECTION TO BE RESTORED TO CSRS-OFFSET AFTER HAVING BEEN CORRECTED TO CSRS.

(a) APPLICABILITY.—This section shall apply in the case of any employee affected by an error described in section 151(a) who elects the option available to such employee under section 151(c)(1).

(b) DISPOSITION OF CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE CSRDF.—In the case of an employee described in subsection (a), the provisions of section 102(b) shall apply, except that, in applying such provisions—

(1) "the applicable provisions of section 8334" shall be substituted for "section 8422" in paragraph (1)(B)(ii)(II) thereof; and

(2) "the applicable provisions of section 8334" shall be substituted for "section 8423" in paragraph (2)(B)(ii)(II) thereof.

Subtitle G—Additional Provisions Relating to Government Agencies

SEC. 161. REPAYMENT REQUIRED IN CERTAIN SITUATIONS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—An individual who previously received a payment ordered by a court or provided as a settlement of claim for losses resulting from a retirement coverage error shall not be entitled to make an election under this Act unless repayment of the amount so received by such individual is waived in whole or in part by the Office of Personnel Management, and any amount not waived is repaid.

(b) REGULATIONS.—Any repayment under this section shall be made in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Office.

SEC. 162. EQUITABLE SHARING OF AMOUNTS PAYABLE FROM THE GOVERNMENT IF MORE THAN ONE AGENCY INVOLVED.

The Office of Personnel Management shall by regulation prescribe rules under which, in the case of an employee who has been employed in or under more than 1 agency since the date of the retirement coverage error involved (and before its rectification under this Act), any contributions or other amounts required to be paid from the then current employing agency (other than lost earnings under section 163(a)(2)) shall be equitably allocated between or among the appropriate agencies.

SEC. 163. PROVISIONS RELATING TO THE ORIGINAL RESPONSIBLE AGENCY.

(a) OBLIGATIONS OF THE ORIGINAL RESPONSIBLE AGENCY.—

(1) EXPENSES FOR SERVICES OF FINANCIAL ADVISOR.—The Office of Personnel Management shall by regulation prescribe rules under which, in the case of any employee eligible to make an election under this Act, the original responsible agency (as determined under succeeding provisions of this section) shall pay (or make reimbursement for) any reasonable expenses incurred by such employee for services received from any licensed financial or legal consultant or advisor in connection with such election.

(2) SPECIAL RULE.—Such regulations shall also include provisions to ensure that, to the extent lost earnings under the Thrift Savings Fund are involved in connection with a particular error, the original responsible agency shall pay (or reimburse any other agency that pays) any amounts to the Thrift Savings Fund representing lost earnings with respect to such error.

(b) ORIGINAL RESPONSIBLE AGENCY DEFINED.—For purposes of this Act, the term "original responsible agency", with respect to a retirement coverage error affecting an employee, means—

(1) except in the situation described in paragraph (2), the agency determined by the Office of Personnel Management to have made the initial retirement coverage error (including one made before January 1, 1984); or

(2) if the error is attributable, in whole or in part, to an erroneous regulation promulgated by the Office of Personnel Management, such Office.

(c) PROCEDURES FOR IDENTIFYING THE ORIGINAL RESPONSIBLE AGENCY.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of this section, the original responsible agency, in any situation to which this section applies, shall be identified by the Office of Personnel Management in accordance with regulations which the Office shall prescribe.

(2) FINALITY.—A determination made by the Office under this subsection shall be final and not subject to any review.

(d) IF ORIGINAL RESPONSIBLE AGENCY NO LONGER EXISTS.—If the agency which (before the application of this subsection) is identified as the original responsible agency no longer exists (whether because of a reorganization or otherwise)—

(1) the successor agency (as determined under regulations prescribed by the Office) shall be treated as the original responsible agency; or

(2) if none, this section shall be applied by substituting the CSRDF for the original responsible agency.

(e) SOURCE OF PAYMENTS IF ERROR DUE TO ERRONEOUS OPM REGULATIONS.—In any case in which the Office of Personnel Management is the original responsible agency by reason of subsection (b)(2), any amounts payable from the Office under this section shall be payable from the CSRDF.

TITLE II—GENERAL PROVISIONS

SEC. 201. IDENTIFICATION AND NOTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Office of Personnel Management shall prescribe regulations under which Government agencies shall take such measures as may be necessary to ensure that all individuals who are (or have been) affected by a retirement coverage error giving rise to any election or automatic change in retirement coverage under this Act shall be promptly identified and notified in accordance with this section.

(b) MATTER TO BE INCLUDED IN NOTICE TO INDIVIDUALS.—Any notice furnished under this section shall be made in writing and shall include at least the following:

(1) DESCRIPTION OF ERROR.—A description of the error involved, including a clear and concise explanation as to why the original retirement coverage determination was erroneous, citations to (and a summary description of) the pertinent provisions of law, and how that determination should instead have been made.

(2) METHOD FOR RECTIFICATION.—How the error is to be rectified under this Act, including whether rectification will be achieved through an automatic change in retirement coverage (and, if so, the time, form, and manner in which that change will be effected) or an election.

(3) ELECTION PROCEDURES, ETC.—If an election is provided under this Act, all relevant information as to how such an election may be made, the options available, the differences between those respective options (as further specified in succeeding provisions of this subsection), and the consequences of failing to make a timely election.

(4) ACCruED BENEFITS, ETC.—With respect to the (or each) retirement system by which the individual is then covered (disregarding the Thrift Savings Plan), and to the extent applicable:

(A) A brief summary of any benefits accrued.

(B) The amount of employee contributions made to date and the effect of any applicable disposition rules relating thereto (including provisions relating to excess amounts or shortfalls).

(C) The amount of any Government contributions made to date and the effect of any applicable disposition rules relating thereto (including provisions relating to excess amounts or shortfalls).

(5) THRIFT SAVINGS FUND.—With respect to the Thrift Savings Fund, the balance that then is (or would be) credited to the individual's account depending on the option chosen, with any such balance to be shown both in the aggregate and broken down by—

(A) individual contributions,

(B) automatic (1 percent) Government contributions, and

(C) matching Government contributions, including lost earnings on each and the extent to which any makeup contributions or forfeitures would be involved.

(6) OASDI BENEFITS.—Such information regarding benefits under title II of the Social Security Act as the Commissioner of Social Security considers appropriate.

(7) OTHER INFORMATION.—Any other information that the Director of the Office of Personnel Management may by regulation prescribe after consultation with the Executive Director of the Federal Retirement Thrift Investment Board and such other agency heads as the Director considers appropriate, including any appeal rights available to the individual.

(c) COMPARISONS.—Any amounts required to be included under subsection (b)(4) shall, with respect to the respective retirement systems involved, be determined—

(1) as of the date the retirement coverage error was corrected (if applicable);

(2) as of the then most recent date for which those benefits and amounts are ascertainable, assuming no change in retirement coverage; and

(3) as of the then most recent date for which those benefits and amounts are ascertainable, assuming the alternative option is chosen.

(d) PAST ERRORS.—All measures required under this section shall, with respect to errors preceding the date specified in section 206(e) (relating to the effective date for all regulations prescribed under this Act), be completed no later than December 31, 2001.

SEC. 202. INDIVIDUAL APPEAL RIGHTS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—An individual aggrieved by a final determination under this Act shall be entitled to appeal such determination to the Merit Systems Protection Board under section 7701 of title 5, United States Code.

(b) NOTIFICATION APPEALS.—The Office of Personnel Management shall by regulation establish procedures under which individuals may bring an appeal to the Office with respect to any failure to have been properly notified in accordance with section 201. A final determination under this subsection shall be appealable under subsection (a).

SEC. 203. INFORMATION TO BE FURNISHED BY GOVERNMENT AGENCIES TO AUTHORITIES ADMINISTERING THIS ACT.

(a) APPLICABILITY.—The authorities identified in this subsection are:

(1) The Director of the Office of Personnel Management.

(2) The Commissioner of Social Security.

(3) The Executive Director of the Federal Retirement Thrift Investment Board.

(b) AUTHORITY TO OBTAIN INFORMATION.—Each authority identified in subsection (a) may secure directly from any department or agency of the United States information necessary to enable such authority to carry out its responsibilities under this Act. Upon request of the authority involved, the head of the department or agency involved shall furnish that information to the requesting authority.

(c) LIMITATION; SAFEGUARDS.—Each of the respective authorities under subsection (a)—

(1) shall request only such information as that authority considers necessary; and

(2) shall establish, by regulation or otherwise, appropriate safeguards to ensure that any information obtained under this section shall be used only for the purpose authorized.

SEC. 204. SOCIAL SECURITY RECORDS.

Notwithstanding any limitations in section 205 of the Social Security Act regarding the modification of wage records maintained by the Commissioner of Social Security for purposes of title II of such Act, the Commissioner of Social Security shall modify the wage record of each employee affected by a retirement coverage error to change, add, or delete any entry regarding service as an employee to the extent necessary to carry out the purposes of this Act or the Social Security Act.

SEC. 205. CONFORMING AMENDMENTS RESPECTING SOCIAL SECURITY COVERAGE AND OASDI TAXES.

(a) SOCIAL SECURITY COVERAGE.—Section 210(a)(5)(H) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 410(a)(5)(H)) is amended—

(1) in clause (i) by striking “or” at the end;

(2) in clause (ii) by striking the semicolon and inserting “, or”; and

(3) by adding at the end the following:

“(iii)(I) described in section 111(a)(3) of the Federal Retirement Coverage Corrections Act, on or after the effective date of an election (or deemed election) by such individual under section 111(b)(2) of such Act,

“(II) described in section 131(a)(1) of such Act, on or after the effective date of an election (or deemed election) by such individual under subsection (b)(2) or (c)(1) of section 131 of such Act, or

“(III) described in section 151(a) of such Act, on or after the effective date of an election (or deemed election) by such individual under subsection (b)(2) or (c)(1) of section 151 of such Act;”.

(b) OASDI TAXES.—Section 3121(b)(5)(H) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 is amended—

(1) in clause (i) by striking “or” at the end;

(2) in clause (ii) by striking the semicolon and inserting “, or”; and

(3) by adding at the end the following:

SEC. 206. REGULATIONS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Any regulations necessary to carry out this Act shall be prescribed by the Director of the Office of Personnel Management, the Executive Director of the Federal Retirement Thrift Investment Board, the Commissioner of Social Security, the Secretary of the Treasury, and any other appropriate authority, with respect to matters within their respective areas of jurisdiction.

(b) MATTERS TO BE INCLUDED.—The regulations prescribed by the Director of the Office of Personnel Management shall include at least the following:

(1) FORMER EMPLOYEES, ANNUITANTS, AND SURVIVOR ANNUITANTS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Provisions under which, to the maximum extent practicable and in appropriate circumstances, any election available to an employee under subtitle A, B, D, or F of title I shall be available to a former employee, annuitant, or survivor annuitant.

(B) SUBTITLE C SITUATIONS.—Provisions under which subtitle C of title I shall apply in the case of a former employee.

(C) SUBTITLE E SITUATIONS.—Provisions under which the purposes of this paragraph shall be carried with respect to any situation under subtitle E of title I.

(2) FORMER SPOUSES.—Provisions under which appropriate notification shall be afforded to any former spouse affected by a change in retirement coverage pursuant to this Act.

(3) PROCEDURAL REQUIREMENTS.—Provisions establishing the procedural requirements in accordance with which any determinations under this Act (not otherwise addressed in this Act) shall be made, in conformance with the requirements of this Act.

(4) AUTHORITY TO MAKE ACTUARIAL REDUCTION IN ANNUITY BY REASON OF CERTAIN UNPAID AMOUNTS.—Provisions under which any payment required to be made by an individual to the Government in order to make an election under this Act which remains unpaid may be made by a reduction in the appropriate annuity or survivor annuity. The reduction shall, to the extent practicable, be designed so that the present value of the future reduction is actuarially equivalent to the amount so required.

(c) DEFINITIONS.—For purposes of this section—

(1) the term “annuitant” means any individual who is an annuitant as defined by section 8331(9) or 8401(2) of title 5, United States Code; and

(2) the term “former employee” includes any former employee who satisfies the service requirement for title to a deferred annuity under chapter 83 or 84 of such title 5 (as applicable), but—

(A) has not attained the minimum age required for title to such an annuity; or

(B) has not filed claim therefor.

(d) COORDINATION RULE.—In prescribing regulations to carry out this Act, the Director of the Office of Personnel Management shall consult with—

(1) the Administrative Office of the United States Courts;

(2) the Clerk of the House of Representatives;

(3) the Sergeant at Arms and Doorkeeper of the Senate; and

(4) other appropriate officers or authorities.

(e) EFFECTIVE DATE.—All regulations necessary to carry out this Act shall take effect as of the first day of the first month beginning after the end of the 6-month period beginning on the date of enactment of this Act.

SEC. 207. ALL ELECTIONS TO BE APPROVED BY OPM.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, no election under this Act (other than an election by default) may be given effect until the Office of Personnel Management has determined, in writing, that such election is in compliance with the requirements of this Act.

SEC. 208. ADDITIONAL TRANSFERS TO OASDI TRUST FUNDS IN CERTAIN CASES.

If the Commissioner of Social Security determines that the payment of the OASDI taxes described in this Act did not result in a credit to the OASDI trust funds of an equal amount, the Commissioner of Social Security shall notify the Secretary of the Treasury of the amount of any shortfall. Promptly upon receiving such notification, the Secretary of the Treasury shall transfer an amount equal to such shortfall from the general fund of the Treasury to the OASDI trust funds.

SEC. 209. TECHNICAL AND CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.

(a) AMENDMENT RELATING TO LIMITATION ON SOURCES FROM WHICH CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE THRIFT SAVINGS FUND ARE ALLOWED.—Section 8432(h) of title 5, United States Code, is amended by striking “title.” and inserting “title or the Federal Retirement Coverage Corrections Act.”.

(b) DESCRIPTION OF AMOUNTS COMPRISING THE THRIFT SAVINGS FUND.—Section 8437(b) of title 5, United States Code, is amended by striking “expenses.” and inserting “expenses), as well as contributions under the Federal Retirement Coverage Corrections Act (and lost earnings made up under such Act).”.

(c) ADMINISTRATIVE EXPENSES.—

(1) THRIFT SAVINGS PLAN.—Section 8437(d) of title 5, United States Code, is amended by inserting “(including the provisions of the Federal Retirement Coverage Corrections Act that relate to this subchapter)” after “this subchapter”.

(2) CSRS, CSRS-OFFSET, FERS.—Section 8348(a)(2) of title 5, United States Code, is amended by striking “statutes;” and inserting “statutes (including the provisions of the Federal Retirement Coverage Corrections Act that relate to this subchapter);”.

(3) MSPB.—Section 8348(a)(3) of title 5, United States Code, is amended by striking “title.” and inserting “title and the Federal Retirement Coverage Corrections Act.”.

TITLE III—OTHER PROVISIONS

SEC. 301. PROVISIONS TO PERMIT CONTINUED CONFORMITY OF OTHER FEDERAL RETIREMENT SYSTEMS.

(a) FOREIGN SERVICE.—The Secretary of State shall issue regulations to provide for the application of the provisions of this Act in a like manner with respect to participants, annuitants, or survivors under the Foreign Service Retirement and Disability System or the Foreign Service Pension System (as applicable), except that—

(1) any individual aggrieved by a final determination shall appeal such determination to the Foreign Service Grievance Board instead of the Merit Systems Protection Board under section 202; and

(2) the Secretary of State shall perform the functions and exercise the authority vested in the Office of Personnel Management or the Director of the Office of Personnel Management under this Act.

(b) CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY.—Sections 292 and 301 of the Central Intelligence Agency Retirement Act (50 U.S.C. 2141 and 2151) shall apply with respect to this Act in the same manner as if this Act were part of—

(1) the Civil Service Retirement System, to the extent this Act relates to the Civil Service Retirement System; and

(2) the Federal Employees' Retirement System, to the extent this Act relates to the Federal Employees' Retirement System.

SEC. 302. PROVISIONS TO PREVENT REDUCTIONS IN FORCE AND ANY UNFUNDED LIABILITY IN THE CSRDF.

(a) PROVISIONS TO PREVENT REDUCTIONS IN FORCE.—

(1) LIMITATION.—An agency required to make any payments under this Act may not conduct any reduction in force solely by reason of any current or anticipated lack of funds attributable to such payments.

(2) ALTERNATIVE REQUIRED.—In the circumstance described in paragraph (1), any cost savings that (but for this subsection) would otherwise be sought through reductions in force shall instead be achieved through attrition and limitations on hiring.

(b) PROVISIONS TO PREVENT UNFUNDED LIABILITY.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of section 8348(f) of title 5, United States Code, any unfunded liability in the CSRDF created as a result of an election made (or deemed to have been made) under this Act, as determined by the Office of Personnel Management, shall be considered a new benefit payable from the CSRDF.

(2) COORDINATION RULE.—Paragraph (1) shall not apply to the extent that subsection (h), (i), or (m) of section 8348 of title 5, United States Code, would otherwise apply.

SEC. 303. INDIVIDUAL RIGHT OF ACTION PRE-SERVED FOR AMOUNTS NOT OTHERWISE PROVIDED FOR UNDER THIS ACT.

Nothing in this Act shall preclude an individual from bringing a claim against the Government of the United States which such individual may have under section 1346(b) or chapter 171 of title 28, United States Code, or any other provision of law (except to the extent the claim is for any amounts otherwise provided for under this Act).

SEC. 304. EXTENSION OF OPEN ENROLLMENT PERIOD TO EMPLOYEES UNDER THE FOREIGN SERVICE RETIREMENT AND DISABILITY SYSTEM.

Section 860 of the Foreign Service Act of 1980 (22 U.S.C. 4071i) is amended by inserting after the first sentence the following: “The Secretary of State shall, in addition, issue regulations providing for an election for coverage under the Foreign Service Pension System for employees covered under the Foreign Service Retirement and Disability System comparable to the election provided for by the Federal Employees' Retirement System Open Enrollment Act of 1997.”.

TITLE IV—TAX PROVISIONS

SEC. 401. TAX PROVISIONS.

(a) PLAN QUALIFICATION.—No retirement plan of the United States (or any agency thereof) shall fail to be treated as a qualified plan under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 by reason of any action taken under this Act.

(b) TRANSFERS.—For purposes of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, no amount shall be includible in the gross income of any individual by reason of any direct transfer under this Act between funds or any Government contribution under this Act to any fund or account, and no amount shall be subject to tax under subtitle C of such Code by reason of any such transfer or contribution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. STEARNS). Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Florida (Mr. MICA) and the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. CUMMINGS) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Florida (Mr. MICA).

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. MICA. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks on H.R. 3249, as amended, the bill under consideration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Florida?

There was no objection.

Mr. MICA. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I come before the House this afternoon to present the Federal Retirement Coverage Corrections Act. This legislation is critically important to thousands of our Federal employees. This is a piece of legislation that has very strong bipartisan support. Both Republicans and Democrat members of our Subcommittee on Civil Service of the Committee on Government Reform and Oversight are original cosponsors of this bill.

I want to take first a moment, Mr. Speaker, to thank the distinguished ranking member of the Subcommittee on Civil Service, the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. CUMMINGS), for his leadership on this issue. He and I have worked very closely on this bill, and I appreciate the hard work that he has put forth. I also want to commend the work of both the majority and minority staff on this issue. I know the gentleman from Maryland is truly personally dedicated to bringing real relief to victims of these errors and the victims who testified before our Subcommittee on Civil Service.

I also commend the distinguished gentlewoman from Maryland (Mrs. MORELLA). The gentlewoman has always been a forceful advocate for our Federal employees, and on this issue that is no exception. She has been a true leader and champion. The Federal civil service employees who were misclassified, and their families, have benefitted greatly from her strong determination and her leadership in trying to right these wrongs.

I also want to take this opportunity to thank the distinguished chairman and ranking member of the Committee on Government Reform and Oversight, the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. BURTON) and the gentleman from California (Mr. WAXMAN), for their support.

Likewise, I appreciate the cooperation of the chairman and ranking member of the Committee on Ways and Means, the gentleman from Texas (Mr. ARCHER) and the gentleman from New York (Mr. RANGEL). Staffs of the Committee on Ways and Means and the Joint Committee on Taxation provided invaluable guidance on tax and Social Security issues involved in crafting this legislation.

Mr. Speaker, let me take a few minutes to explain why it is so important for the House to pass this bill today. An estimated 18,000 Federal employees have been placed in the wrong retirement system because Federal agencies, quite frankly, made mistakes. Federal agencies fouled up. The vast majority of these errors involved assignments to the Civil Service Retirement System, CSRS, or the Federal Employees Retirement System, generally known as FERS. But other agency blunders wrongly excluded some employees from both retirement systems. Still others were included in retirement when they did not qualify at all.

When these errors are discovered, and I say are discovered because not all of them have been discovered, current law requires agencies to move them into the right retirement system. These corrections are especially harmful to employees who are moved from Civil Service Retirement, the old system, into FERS, the new system.

Unlike the Civil Service Retirement System, which is the stand-alone system, the new system, FERS, consists of three components: the FERS basic annuity, Social Security, and the Thrift Savings Plan, or TSP. Without adequate Thrift Savings Plan accounts, employees will not have adequate retirement income, but current corrective procedures do not make the victim's TSP account whole. As a result, unless Congress acts, many victims of these errors will receive much less when they retire than they were really entitled to.

H.R. 3249 provides a comprehensive solution to all of these errors. Although its details are complicated, it rests on a few basic, simple, straightforward principles.

This bill recognizes that most victims of these agency errors had a legal right to participate in one of the Federal retirement systems. Therefore, each of these victims should have an opportunity to elect to participate in that system. They also have a right to receive approximately the same retirement benefits they could have earned if the agency had not erred.

But the bill also recognizes that these victims have relied on the benefits promised under the system to which they were assigned. Accordingly, victims are generally given a choice to remain in the system in which they were mistakenly placed.

Mr. Speaker, every victim should have a realistic opportunity to the retirement correction that best addresses their unfortunate circumstance. Therefore, this legislation provides fair, make-whole relief.

The importance of this make-whole relief cannot be overemphasized. Without it, the choices offered by this bill would be nothing but a cruel hoax for many of our Federal employees. Lower-income employees, and those who have been in the wrong system for a lengthy period, would be especially hard hit.

Let me cite an example described by the American Foreign Service Association. For about 10 years a foreign service officer was erroneously enrolled in the wrong system. When the error was discovered, he was switched to the right system. He was also told that he would have to contribute $65,000 to $75,000 to catch up on his Thrift Savings Plan account. In addition to that retroactive contribution, he would also have to make current contributions to the TSP. Mr. Speaker, few Federal employees could afford to meet such a burden. That is why this bill's make-whole relief is absolutely imperative.

Mr. Speaker, this legislation also protects the integrity of Social Security trust funds and prevents employees from incurring unfair tax burdens because these agency errors are corrected.

This has been, as I said, a joint effort, a bipartisan effort, to correct a wrong that was done to our Federal employees and Federal workers. This is, indeed, an effort to correct that situation, and this corrective legislation deserves the support of every Member of the House.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. CUMMINGS. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I am pleased that the gentleman from Florida (Mr. MICA), the chairman of the subcommittee, and I were able to work in a bipartisan way to bring this bill to the floor for a vote today. This legislation addresses a problem that he and I made a top priority for this session of Congress. It establishes a comprehensive framework to make whole those employees who were placed in the wrong retirement system by the Federal Government.

Few things in life are more important to a working person than having an adequate and secure retirement plan in place to provide for their future or that of their spouse. When a worker's retirement security is jeopardized by an employer's administrative error, tremendous emotional and financial pain can result unless a remedy is available that ensures its prompt and fair correction and avoids economic harm.

At the hearings on this matter last summer before the Subcommittee on Civil Service, we heard the testimony of four employees who had been the victims of enrollment errors made by their employing agencies. In each case the employee was initially placed in the Civil Service Retirement System, then years later informed that they should have been in the Federal Employees Retirement System, better known as FERS. Afforded no recourse or options, these employees were dumped into FERS and confronted with the need to make thousands of dollars of retroactive payments into a newly established Thrift Savings account.

Hundreds of other fellow employees have found themselves in the same situation over the past 10 years. Most have been forced to rearrange their lives and financial plans to rectify a problem not of their own making. Many without financial means have had to work beyond their planned retirement dates to build a full annuity. At least one had to sell his home to raise funds to make his thrift account whole.

Our committee, our subcommittee, heard them, we felt their pain, and we assured them that we would act. This situation was intolerable, and all of us felt the same way on our subcommittee. We made a very strong promise, which we have kept to those witnesses who shared their tragic stories at that hearing that day, that we would find a remedy. I believe that with the enactment of H.R. 3249, a solution will finally be at hand.

The Federal Retirement Coverage Corrections Act would essentially permit those who have been the victims of an enrollment error to remain in the retirement system they were mistakenly placed in or to be covered by the system they should have been in. It would also hold the government financially responsible for making whole an affected employee's Thrift Savings Account. Together, these provisions will end the harm now being done by the existing rules governing the correction of these errors.

In constructing this legislation, the chairman of the subcommittee sought to achieve accountability by holding those agencies guilty of making enrollment errors responsible for the cost of their corrections, and I applaud him for that. While I agree that accountability is a worthy goal, I, nevertheless, have been troubled that the resulting budgetary pressure could lead some agencies to initiate unplanned layoffs. I told the chairman I did not want our efforts to help out one group of employees while making victims of another.

Because he was willing to work with me on this matter, we have been able to reach a compromise that achieves what each of us wanted: Simply, accountability and job security. Reductions in force to pay expenses associated with the implementation of this act would be prohibited. Agencies would be required to realize any savings necessary to avoid RIFs through attrition and limitations on hiring.

Mr. Speaker, I thank the chairman of our subcommittee for bringing this important bill before the committee. My thanks to all of my colleagues on the Subcommittee on Civil Service for their steadfast commitment to addressing the problems caused by retirement coverage errors, and for you unanimously supporting the bill at the subcommittee's markup.

Finally, my thanks to our staff and that of the Office of Legislative Counsel for their tireless work in crafting H.R. 3249. All of their efforts were essential to what we have accomplished here today.

H.R. 3249 is a lengthy and complex bill which has evolved a great deal since our drafting began last fall. The subcommittee's work in this regard has benefitted considerably from the input of the Office of Personnel Management, the Social Security Administration, and the staffs of several other congressional committees.

□ 1715

I very much appreciated all of their comments and suggestions.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. MICA. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to yield 5 minutes to the distinguished gentlewoman from Maryland [Mrs. MORELLA], a leader in our Subcommittee on Civil Service.

Mrs. MORELLA. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding me the time.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in very strong support of H.R. 3249. It is very important legislation to remedy retirement enrollment errors. I want to add my very strong thanks to the chairman, the gentleman from Florida [Mr. MICA] and to his staff for the enormous work that they have done on this legislation.

I also want to thank the gentleman from Maryland [Mr. CUMMINGS], the ranking member. I want to also thank the Committee on Government Reform and Oversight chair and ranking member, and also the Committee on Ways and Means.

So my colleagues can see, this has been a very important bipartisan effort involving a number of committees but emanating from problems that Federal employees had and in the subcommittee markup.

At the Subcommittee on Civil Service hearing last year, we heard some horror stories of those who were placed in the wrong retirement system. We cannot make up for the pain caused by these errors, but we can indeed prevent more errors from occurring and provide as fair a remedy as possible, which is what this legislation before us does.

We must move forward quickly to remedy the errors of the past and to prevent future suffering, especially as more employees discover they are in the wrong system during the current retirement open season.

Many, possibly thousands, of Federal employees who have been hired since the inception of FERS have been erroneously placed in CSRS. Many of them do not even know that they are in the wrong system, and serious financial consequences that await them if no legislation is enacted are going to be tremendous.

Those who have discovered their retirement errors have been deprived of critically important retirement and tax benefits and they have been subjected to severe strain and they have incurred tremendous legal expenses.

So, Mr. Speaker, the legislation before us truly makes whole those Federal employees who have already been corrected, many harmed really, such as one of my constituents, Barry Schrum. Under this bill, employees may choose to remain in the retirement system in which they were mistakenly placed or to be covered by the system in which they should have been placed. If an employee chooses FERS, this legislation makes them whole by making up lost earnings in their thrift savings plans in those accounts. I am pleased that this legislation will ensure that agencies are not unduly burdened by this legislation in making employees whole again.

So again, I want to congratulate all involved, particularly the leadership that came from the chairman and the ranking member of the subcommittee and the staffs that have made it all possible. Very important legislation. I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting this legislation.

Mr. CUMMINGS. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I also want to thank the gentlewoman from the District of Columbia [Ms. NORTON] of our subcommittee and the gentleman from Tennessee [Mr. FORWARD] who worked very hard to make sure that this legislation was as good as it is.

I also would like to reiterate the fact that we did work in a bipartisan way and it shows. This effort and the effort of our Subcommittee on Civil Service shows what good things can happen when we join hands and work together to lift up the lives of Americans and all people of the world.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. MICA. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Speaker, first I want to take a moment to also thank again the gentlewoman from Maryland (Mrs. MORELLA) for her leadership on this issue and several members of our subcommittee who are not with us this afternoon who also provided leadership, the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. PAPPAS) and the gentleman from Texas (Mr. SESSIONS), who also supported and help craft this legislation.

Mr. Speaker, as we conclude our debate here this afternoon and presentation, H.R. 3249 will bring long overdue relief to the thousands of victims who have been misclassified because of Federal agency errors. Many of these errors have festered for more than 10 years and the procedures for correction available under current law do more harm than good.

These errors in current procedures have really had devastating effects on individuals in our Federal employ, both financially and emotionally. It is imperative that Congress act now. As time goes by, the cost of making employees' thrift savings accounts whole actually increases and the burden for the Federal Government increases. So does the human toll taken by these agency errors.

H.R. 3249 is a fair bill. It provides each affected employee with a real choice. Employees may elect to change their retirement enrollment or employees may ratify the agency errors by choosing to remain in the system in which they are mistakenly enrolled.

The make-whole relief that guarantees freedom of choice, even for those with low incomes, is adapted from an IRS review procedure. Surely, our Federal employees and retirees deserve no less than what the IRS has prescribed as a remedy for employees who are so aggrieved or abused in the private sector.

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 3249 is supported by many organizations. It is supported by the Senior Executive Association, the National Federation of Federal Employees, the American Foreign Service Association, the National Association of Letter Carriers, the National Association of Postmasters of the United States, and the Federal Managers Association.

All Members should join with the hundreds of thousands of employees of these organizations with our Federal employees and retirees and support this long overdue reform. I urge their support this afternoon for H.R. 3249.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. MILLER of Florida). The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Florida (Mr. MICA) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 3249, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 5 of rule I, the Chair will now put the question on each motion to suspend the rules on which further proceedings were postponed earlier today in the order in which that motion was entertained.

Votes will be taken in the following order: H.R. 3874, on which the yeas and nays are ordered; House Concurrent Resolution 208, on which the yeas and nays are ordered; House Resolution 392, on which the yeas and nays are ordered; and House Concurrent Resolution 301, on which the yeas and nays are ordered.

The Chair will reduce to 5 minutes the time for any electronic vote after the first such vote in the series.

CHILD NUTRITION AND WIC REAUTHORIZATION AMENDMENTS OF 1998

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The pending business is the question of suspending the rules and passing the bill, H.R. 3874, as amended.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. GOODLING] that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 3874, as amended, on which the yeas and nays are ordered.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were— yeas 383, nays 1, not voting 50, as follows:

So (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was agreed to.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

The title of the bill was amended so as to read: "A bill to amend the National School Lunch Act and the Child Nutrition Act of 1996 to provide children with increased access to food and nutrition assistance, to simplify program operations and improve program management, to extend certain authorities contained in those Acts through fiscal year 2003, and for other purposes."

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, on rollcall No. 297, on H.R. 3874, The Child Nutrition and WIC Reauthorization Amendments of 1998:

My son's LDS missionary farewell in Salt Lake City was Sunday afternoon July 19 which precluded my return to Washington on Sunday. The first flight Monday, July 20 caused me to be just minutes late for the vote.

Had I been present, I would have voted yes.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

Mr. HORN. Mr. Speaker, on rollcall No. 297, on H.R. 3874, The Child Nutrition and WIC Reauthorization Amendments of 1998, I was unavoidably delayed on official business. Since I strongly support the Women, Infants, and Children and other nutrition programs, if I had been present, I would have voted "Aye".

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

Mr. DIAZ-BALART. Mr. Speaker, had I been present for the vote on H.R. 3874, The Child Nutrition and WIC Reauthorization Amendments of 1998, I would have voted "aye".

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

Mr. MENENDEZ. Mr. Speaker, during today's rollcall vote number 297, I was unavoidably detained due to a late flight. Had I been present, I would have voted "yes."

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the provisions of clause 5 of rule I, the Chair announces that he will reduce to a minimum of 5 minutes the period of time within which a vote by electronic device may be taken on each additional motion to suspend the rules on which the Chair has postponed further proceedings.

SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING ACCESS TO AFFORDABLE HOUSING AND EXPANSION OF HOMEOWNERSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. HULSHOF). The pending business is the question of suspending the rules and agreeing to the concurrent resolution, House Concurrent Resolution 208.

The Clerk read the title of the concurrent resolution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from New York (Mr. LAZIO) that the House suspend the rules and agree to the concurrent resolution, House Concurrent Resolution 208, on which the yeas and nays were ordered.

This will be a 5-minute vote.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yeas 390, nays 0, not voting 44, as follows:

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

Mr. OWENS. Mr. Speaker, I was unavoidably detained earlier today and missed several roll call votes. Had I been present, I would have voted in the following manner:

1. H. Con. Res. 301—A resolution regarding U.S. Commitment to Taiwan—roll call #300—Yea.

2. H. Res. 392—A resolution relating to the importance of Japanese American Relations—roll call #299—Yea.

3. H. Con. Res. 208—A resolution expressing the sense of the Congress regarding access to affordable housing and expansion of home ownership opportunities—roll call #298—Yea.

4. H.R. 3874—"The Child Nutrition and WIC Reauthorization Amendments Act"—roll call #297—Yea.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

Ms. KILPATRICK. Mr. Speaker, due to events in the 15th Congressional District of Michigan, I was unavoidably detained for several House roll-call votes. Had I been present, I would have voted "aye" on final passage of H.R. 3874, the Child Nutrition and WIC Reauthorization Act; H. Con. Res. 208, Sense of the Congress Resolution Regarding Access to Affordable Housing; H. Res. 392, Relating to the Importance of Japanese American Relations; and H. Con. Res. 301, Regarding the Commitment of the United States to Taiwan.

REPORT ON H.R. 4274, DEPARTMENTS OF LABOR, HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES, AND EDUCATION, AND RELATED AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 1999

Mr. PORTER, from the Committee on Appropriations, submitted a privileged report (Rept. No. 105-635) on the bill (H.R. 4274), making appropriations for the Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1999, and for other purposes, which was referred to the Union Calendar and ordered to be printed.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. HULSHOF). All points of order are reserved on the bill.

PERMISSION FOR MEMBER TO BE CONSIDERED AS FIRST SPONSOR OF H.R. 1050

Ms. LEE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that I may be considered as the first sponsor of H.R. 1050, which was a bill originally introduced by Representative Dellums of California, for the purposes of adding cosponsors and requesting reprintings pursuant to clause 4 of rule XXII.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from California?

There was no objection.

SUBMISSION BY SECRETARY OF ENERGY OF PLAN FOR DISPOSITION OF DEPLETED URANIUM HEXAFLUORIDE

Mr. WHITFIELD. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to take from the Speaker's table the Senate bill (S. 2316) to require the Secretary of Energy to submit to Congress a plan to ensure that all amounts accrued on the books of the United States Enrichment Corporation for the disposition of depleted uranium hexafluoride will be used to treat and recycle depleted uranium hexafluoride, and ask for its immediate consideration.

The Clerk read the title of the Senate bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Kentucky?

Mr. STRICKLAND. Mr. Speaker, reserving the right to object, in order to allow the gentleman to explain his request, I yield to the gentleman for an explanation.

Mr. WHITFIELD. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the gentleman from Ohio's request for an explanation.

Mr. Speaker, this bill requires the Secretary of Energy to submit a plan to ensure that monies already accrued by the United States Enrichment Corporation are utilized for their intended purpose, and that is the cleanup of depleted uranium hexafluoride waste. The corporation is nearing privatization. Without congressional action, there is no mechanism to ensure that monies will be available to deal with the cleanup of depleted uranium.

Since the bill was passed in the Senate, the Committee on Commerce has had discussions with the Department of Energy, the Department of Treasury, and the Office of Management and Budget to discuss this legislation. It is my understanding the administration has no objection to S. 2316, and I recommend its approval by the House to ensure that the money accrued by USEC will be spent for its intended purpose.

Mr. STRICKLAND. Mr. Speaker, further reserving my right to object, I yield to the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. BUNNING) for a further explanation.

Mr. BUNNING. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Ohio for yielding.

I also would like to strongly support Senate bill 2316, which will ensure that the funds collected over the years by the U.S. Enrichment Corporation for the cleanup of spent uranium canisters in Paducah, Kentucky will be used for their intended purpose.

This bill will not only save American taxpayers millions of dollars in possible future cleanup, but more importantly, it protects hundreds of jobs in my State.

By passing this bill today, the House will set in motion a plan that will one day lead to the construction and operation of a new uranium cleanup facility in Paducah, Kentucky and Portsmouth, Ohio that will treat and recycle depleted uranium hexafluoride. This will clearly make our community safer from this environmental hazard.

I am glad to see that the House is taking quick action on this matter, because without our effort the nearly $400 million in cleanup money that has been set aside by the USEC could be lost.

I would like to thank the majority leader; the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. BLILEY); the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. KASICH); the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. DINGELL); and all of those that had something to do with bringing this bill to the floor in this expedited manner.

Mr. STRICKLAND. Mr. Speaker, further reserving my right to object, although I do not intend to object, I would like to take an opportunity to thank my colleagues, the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. WHITFIELD), the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. BUNNING), and the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. BAESLER) for working with me to make this unanimous consent possible.

What this will accomplish is very important. It means that money that was collected for the cleanup will be used for its intended purpose. Jobs will be created in the Piketon, Ohio and the Paducah, Kentucky communities, jobs that are desperately needed by those who may lose their jobs as a result of the privatization of this industry. These are men and women who have helped our country win the Cold War and we need to look out after their well-being.

This bill will also make it possible for our constituents in Piketon, Ohio, and Paducah, Kentucky to live in safer, healthier communities, and for that we should all be thankful.

Mr. BAESLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in strong support of S. 2316, a bill critical to Kentucky families. While plans for privatization of the United States Enrichment Corporation (USEC) are underway on Wall Street, folks in Kentucky are worried about their future. If the USEC is privatized, hundreds of jobs could be lost between two facilities located in Portsmouth, Ohio and Paducah, Kentucky. Passage of this bill is essential to show these hard working families that privatization can also mean job creation.

Fees have been collected from utility customers of the United States Enrichment Corporation to pay for the cost of cleaning up depleted uranium hexafluoride "tails" or waste. If USEC is privatized, the money that has already been set aside would revert back to the U.S. Department of Treasury. It would be an injustice and simply unfair if the money is not used for its intended purpose of cleaning up the tails—55 percent of which are stored in Paducah. Under this legislation, the money from the fee collection would be used to construct an on-site facility for disposing of the tails and, importantly, this site could re-employ those workers who would be displaced upon privatization. In addition, by creating the facility on site, the risks involved with the transportation of hazardous wastes are eliminated.

Uncertainty and fear have invaded these communities whose jobs and livelihoods are tied to the USEC. Families are worried about their future. Today, in Congress, we have the opportunity to provide some hope for these individuals. Passage of S. 2316 will fence off approximately $400 million to be used to clean up the tails. Between construction, operation, and management of these facilities, hundreds of jobs can be created. This legislation is one small way we can help build a bridge to provide continued employment in the community. It is an opportunity to show these families we care about their future.

Mr. STRICKLAND. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my reservation of objection.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Kentucky?

There was no objection.

The Clerk read the Senate bill, as follows:

S. 2316

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. UNITED STATES ENRICHMENT CORPORATION.

(a) PLAN.—The Secretary of Energy shall prepare, and the President shall include in the budget request for fiscal year 2000, a plan and proposed legislation to ensure that all amounts accrued on the books of the United States Enrichment Corporation for the disposition of depleted uranium hexafluoride will be used to commence construction of, not later than January 31, 2004, and to operate, an onsite facility at each of the gaseous diffusion plants at Paducah, Kentucky, and Portsmouth, Ohio, to treat and recycle depleted uranium hexafluoride consistent with the National Environmental Policy Act.

(b) LIMITATION.—Notwithstanding the privatization of the United States Enrichment Corporation and notwithstanding any other provision of law (including the repeal of chapters 22 through 26 of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 (42 U.S.C. 2297 et seq.) made by section 3116(a)(1) of the United States Enrichment Corporation Privatization Act (104 Stat. 1321-349), no amounts described in subsection (a) shall be withdrawn from the United States Enrichment Corporation Fund established by section 1308 of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 (42 U.S.C. 2297b-7) or the Working Capital Account established under section 1316 of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 (42 U.S.C. 2297b-15) until the date that is 1 year after the date on which the President submits to Congress the budget request for fiscal year 2000.

(c) SENSE OF THE SENATE.—It is the sense of the Senate that Congress should authorize appropriations during fiscal year 2000 in an amount sufficient to fully fund the plan described in subsection (a).

The Senate bill was ordered to be read a third time, was read the third time, and passed, and a motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. WHITFIELD. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and to insert extraneous material on S. 2316, the Senate bill just passed.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Kentucky?

There was no objection.

MODIFICATION TO ORDER OF THE HOUSE OF FRIDAY, JULY 17, 1998 REGARDING FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF H.R. 2183, BIPARTISAN CAMPAIGN INTEGRITY ACT OF 1997

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to correct an amendment that was included in the unanimous consent for the campaign reform procedure on the Shays-Meehan bill. That request is that Amendment No. 2 by the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. SMITH) was duplicated and repeated as Amendment No. 34, when, in fact, the content of Amendment No. 34 is different than was accepted in the unanimous consent, and I would like to correct it with the amendment which is, in fact, the substance of Amendment No. 34.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Clerk will report the modification to the amendment.

The Clerk read as follows:

Modification of Amendment No. 34 offered by Mr. SMITH of Michigan: Add at the end of title V the following new section (and conform the table of contents accordingly):

SEC. 510. REPORTS ON FEDERAL POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENTS CARRIED BY RADIO STATIONS, TELEVISION STATIONS, AND CABLE SYSTEMS.

Title III of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (2 U.S.C. 431 et seq.), as amended by sections 101, 401, and 507, is further amended by adding at the end the following section:

“REPORTS ON FEDERAL POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENTS CARRIED BY RADIO STATIONS, TELEVISION STATIONS, AND CABLE SYSTEMS.

“SEC. 326. (a) IN GENERAL.—In such manner as the Commission shall prescribe by regulation, prior to the dissemination of any Federal political advertisement, each operator of a radio broadcasting station, television broadcasting station, or cable system shall report to the Commission the true identity of each advertiser and the cost, duration, and other appropriate information with respect to the advertisement.

“(b) FEDERAL POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT DEFINED.—In this section, a ‘Federal political advertisement’ includes any advertisement advocating the passage or defeat of Federal legislation, any advertisement advocating the election or defeat of a candidate for Federal office, and any advertisement characterizing the positions taken by such a candidate.”.

Mr. THOMAS (during the reading). Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that the amendment be considered as read and printed in the RECORD.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from California?

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Speaker, reserving the right to object, I once again thank the gentleman from California (Mr. THOMAS) for his efforts to try to expedite the process to enable the majority leader's word to be honored and that we complete campaign finance reform, and to acknowledge that the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. SMITH) had requested three amendments, and one of them was, in fact, duplicated and therefore we needed to make that correction, so I thank the gentleman.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. SHAYS. I yield to the gentleman from California.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry to say that from an administrative point of view we are double-checking another amendment and there may be a need to offer another unanimous consent. This particular amendment is in the first batch. We hope that we will have an accurate list, and everyone will be informed, if, in fact, it is not accurate, and we will supply the correct text. Since all of them believe they were included, it was simply an administrative error in the compilation of the list, and I thank the gentleman for yielding.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my reservation of objection.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from California?

There was no objection.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The amendment will be reported, as modified.

REPORT ON H.R. 4276, DEPARTMENTS OF COMMERCE, JUSTICE, AND STATE, THE JUDICIARY, AND RELATED AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 1999

Mr. DELAY, from the Committee on Appropriations, submitted a privileged report (Rept. No. 105-636) on the bill (H.R. 4276) making appropriations for the Departments of Commerce, Justice, and State, the Judiciary, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1999, and for other purposes, which was referred to the Union Calendar and ordered to be printed.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. All points of order are reserved on the bill.

BIPARTISAN CAMPAIGN INTEGRITY ACT OF 1997

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. HULSHOF). Pursuant to House Resolution 442 and rule XXIII, the Chair declares the House in the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union for the further consideration of the bill, H.R. 2183.

□ 1828

IN THE COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

Accordingly, the House resolved itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union for the further consideration of the bill (H.R. 2183) to amend the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 to reform the financing of campaigns for elections for Federal office, and for other purposes, with Mr. MILLER of Florida (Chairman pro tempore) in the chair.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. When the Committee of the Whole House rose on Tuesday, July 14, 1998, pending was Amendment No. 11 by the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. PICKERING) to Amendment No. 13 by the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS).

Pursuant to the order of the House of Friday, July 17, 1998, no further amendment to the Amendment No. 13 by the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS) shall be in order, except those 55 amendments placed at the desk pursuant to that order.

Those amendments shall be considered in the order listed, may be offered only by the Member designated, or his designee, shall be considered read, shall be debatable for the time specified, equally divided and controlled by a proponent and an opponent, and shall not be subject to a demand for division of the question.

Pursuant to that order, the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. PICKERING), and a Member opposed, each will control 5 minutes on the pending amendment.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. PICKERING).

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I have a parliamentary inquiry, for the sake of this debate.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore (Mr. MILLER OF FLORIDA). Will the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. PICKERING) yield for the purpose of a parliamentary inquiry?

Mr. PICKERING. Yes, I yield to the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS).

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, just to clarify how we are allocating time, are we under the requirement of 10 minutes? And does someone need to claim time if not in opposition, at least claim the time?

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Time is controlled 5 minutes on each side. The gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. PICKERING) controls 5 minutes and an opponent.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I claim that 5 minutes.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS) will be recognized for 5 minutes.

MODIFICATION TO AMENDMENT NO. 11 OFFERED BY MR. PICKERING TO THE AMENDMENT IN THE NATURE OF A SUBSTITUTE NO. 13 OFFERED BY MR. SHAYS

Mr. PICKERING. Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent that my amendment be modified with the additional language at the desk. This language was printed under the unanimous consent agreement in Friday's CONGRESSIONAL RECORD.

The CHAIRMAN. The Clerk will report the modification to the amendment offered by the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. PICKERING).

The Clerk read as follows:

Modification to amendment No. 11 offered by Mr. PICKERING to the amendment in the nature of a substitute No. 13 offered by Mr. SHAYS: The amendment is modified as follows:

In section 319(b) of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as proposed to be inserted by the amendment—

(1) strike "was aware of a high probability" and insert "should have known"; and

(2) strike the period at the end and insert the following: "except that the trier of fact may not find that the defendant should have known that the contribution originated from a foreign national solely because of the name of the contributor.".

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Mississippi?

There was no objection.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The amendment is modified.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. PICKERING) for 5 minutes.

Mr. PICKERING. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, I rise today to complete the debate that we started the other night on the amendment now before the House which will take away and close the loophole that will allow those who take contributions from foreign sources the legal defense of willful blindness.

We used this illustration to show probably the best picture describing in a thousand words what can only be seen in this picture, and that is the expression and the term "willful blindness," the "Don't Ask, Don't Tell" policy of foreign campaign contribution.

What we want to do is stop the flow of illegal foreign contributions into our election process, to stop the money changing in our temple and to stop the money changing in our election and campaign process from foreign sources.

I appreciate the support from both sides of the aisle on this amendment because I do think we can close the loophole and stop many of the practices that we saw in the last presidential and campaign cycle, examples like the fund-raising in the Buddhist Temple, Charlie Trie bringing envelopes of cash and suspicious money orders to the DNC, Johnny Chung funneling cash provided by the Chinese military officer to the DNC.

Because, Mr. Chairman, what is at stake is our national security. As we have seen the proliferation and the nuclear proliferation issues in Asia and China and Iran and Pakistan and India, we want to make sure that these contributions or these types of contributions do not influence decisions and policies in this administration or any others to come. We want to clean the temple, we want to clean the process, and we want to have integrity in our election process.

I accept, and I gladly accept, the cooperation from both sides of the aisle on this amendment. I look forward to the acceptance in a few minutes.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself 2 minutes.

Mr. Chairman, I would point out that we are again debating campaign finance reform and our effort to restore integrity to the political system, and the bill that is before us would ban soft money, the unlimited sums that individuals, corporations and labor unions and other interest groups give to the political parties that then get rerouted right back down to candidates.

We require that the sham issue ads be noted as campaign ads and legitimate campaign ads and that it come under campaign law.

We codify Beck, which gives individuals, not a member of a union, the right not to pay an agency fee for political activity, and we improve the FEC disclosure and enforcement.

In addition, we ban districtwide frank mailing 6 months to an election. Finally, we require that foreign money and fund-raising on government property be illegal.

The amendment before us offered by the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. PICKERING) is a good faith attempt to make sure that the intention of this bill is carried out, and we concur with it. We concur with the language that he has chosen to use, which is instead of "a high probability," that contribution originated from a foreign national, we would strike out that and say the individual "should have known." We concur with that.

Mr. Chairman, I think this is a good amendment and should be adopted.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. PICKERING. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes time to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. DELAY).

Mr. DELAY. Mr. Chairman, I rise again in support of the Pickering amendment. Last week I rose to support this amendment and I understand that some of my comments at the time caused some concern in some quarters. Of course, I had the Clinton scandals in mind when I first spoke in favor of this amendment.

Evidence shows that the Clinton-Gore reelection effort and the Democrat National Committee purposely sought foreign money in an effort to bypass our election laws. As far back as 1992, the Clinton-Gore campaign was raising money from foreign sources. It was in this context that I made my remarks last week.

In no way was it my intention to suggest impropriety on the part of anyone other than those persons working for the Clinton-Gore campaign and the Democrat National Committee, and involved in the solicitation of illegal foreign donations.

Let me take this opportunity to once again offer my sincere apologies to anyone whom I may have inadvertently offended. I would like to note, however, that it was the height of hypocrisy for the DNC to attack me for reading the names of those who funneled illegal money into the DNC and the Clinton-Gore campaign. After all, the DNC was the ones who broke the law and they have never offered anything other than arrogant, evasive justifications.

There have been seven people charged by the Justice Department for laundering illegal campaign funds from foreign sources to the DNC, and the DNC has returned millions in illegal contributions since the 1996 elections.

Mr. Chairman, at some point during the debate on campaign finance reform I am going to offer a sense of the Congress amendment that an independent counsel should be appointed to investigate the abuses by the Democrat National Committee. I hope the Members will support my amendment. In the meantime, I support the amendment offered by the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. PICKERING) and urge its adoption.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. MEEHAN).

Mr. MEEHAN. Mr. Chairman, let me just say to the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. PICKERING), we enjoyed working with the language. I think to take "high probability" and insert "known or should have known" certainly makes a lot more sense in terms of coming up with a section of the law that would be enforceable, whether it is civilly or criminally.

I do wish, however, that as we work through these amendments, and many of the amendments are being proposed to the Shays-Meehan legislation by people who I suspect ultimately will actually oppose campaign finance reform, I would like to encourage those Members who are able to work out agreement on amendments to actively consider supporting the Shays-Meehan legislation.

This is an amendment we have agreed to. I think it is a good amendment. Most of us think it is a good amendment. But if we really want this amendment to become part of law, what we really need Members to do is to support the Shays-Meehan legislation, which is a bipartisan piece of legislation. It has support on both sides of the aisle.

It would make soft money illegal. It would also crack down and require disclosure on sham issue ads. It would give the FEC the teeth that they need to enforce the laws that are already on the books. I think many of us on both sides of the aisle have witnessed over the last year or two all kinds of areas where we need to make improvements in our campaign finance laws. The best way to make those improvements is by supporting the Shays-Meehan legislation.

I believe that we are at a point in time that we are on the verge of having a majority of the Members of this House who support that legislation. So, I look forward to working with both sides of the aisle on amendments, amendments that we can come to an agreement on. But I would hope that the authors of these amendments, many of whom I suspect have no intentions of supporting the Shays-Meehan legislation, will consider changing their view ultimately on our bill and having a strong bipartisan vote in favor of Shays-Meehan at the end of this legislation.

Mr. PICKERING. Mr. Chairman, parliamentary inquiry. How much time do I have remaining?

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore (Mr. MILLER of Florida). The gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. PICKERING) has 1 minute and the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS) has 1½ minutes remaining.

Mr. PICKERING. Mr. Chairman, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. MCINTOSH).

Mr. MCINTOSH. Mr. Chairman, I applaud the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. PICKERING) for bringing this amendment to the floor and wholeheartedly support it. What it says is that a political party official, if he should have known that a contribution originated from a foreign source, he or she cannot use the willful blindness as a defense. That seems to have happened at least once and we think many times in the various investigations in campaign irregularities that we have been doing in the Committee on Government Reform and Oversight.

According to one Associated Press report, a memo exists that proves that President Clinton was personally aware that hundreds of thousands of dollars were being funneled into his campaign from Indonesia as early as 1992 and yet they claim innocence, ignoring the fact that that knowledge was there.

This amendment would clarify the law that one cannot say, as that knowledge comes to them, willfully ignore it and continue to accept those donations. I think it is time that we put that into the law and show and learn from these scandals that ignorance is not going to be a defense for violating the law.

I applaud the gentleman from Mississippi for bringing forward this amendment and urge my colleagues to vote for it.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I yield the balance of my time to the gentleman from California (Mr. FAZIO).

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The gentleman from California (Mr. FAZIO) is recognized for 1½ minutes.

Mr. FAZIO of California. Mr. Chairman, I think the bipartisan agreement on this amendment, which has been made between both sides, is an important step toward improving an already excellent bill. I only wish that many of the people on the majority side of this aisle had taken upon themselves the responsibility to promote the enactment of the Shays-Meehan bill, because it fundamentally improves campaign finance reform and law, and we need to pass it.

Many of those who have been advocating this amendment, of course, see it as a poison pill and do not intend to support the underlying law that it amends. But I think it is also important to point out that there has been no evidence at this point in any of the proceedings that have been held in this city that this administration in any sense knowingly and willfully participated in the receipt of funds from foreign sources.

In fact, I think if you look closely at the record, you will find that the DNC has gone a long way to exhaustively investigate those who have donated to it and has implemented a series of new vetting procedures for donors and guests so that none of these kinds of mistakes could be made again in the future. Those are already in place.

If we really look at the Republican Party's conduct in this same area, we will find just as much opportunity to improve procedures and to improve their party's approach to the receipt of funds that were ultimately determined to have come from foreign sources.

There are no elements of this debate that are free from the need to support fundamental reform like Shays-Meehan.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. All time has expired.

The question is on the amendment, as modified, offered by the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. PICKERING) to the amendment in the nature of a substitute offered by Mr. SHAYS.

The question was taken; and the Chairman pro tempore announced that the ayes appeared to have it.

Mr. PICKERING. Mr. Chairman, I demand a recorded vote.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 442, further proceedings on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Mississippi will be postponed.

It is now in order to consider the amendment by the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. SMITH).

AMENDMENT OFFERED BY MR. SMITH OF MICHIGAN TO THE AMENDMENT IN THE NATURE OF A SUBSTITUTE NO. 13 OFFERED BY MR. SHAYS

Mr. SMITH of Michigan. Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment to the amendment in the nature of a substitute.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Amendment offered by Mr. SMITH of Michigan to the amendment in the nature of a substitute No. 13 offered by Mr. Shays: Add at the end the following new title:

TITLE —PENALTY FOR VIOLATION OF FOREIGN CONTRIBUTION BAN
SEC. —01. PENALTY FOR VIOLATION OF PROHIBITION AGAINST FOREIGN CONTRIBUTIONS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 319 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (2 U.S.C. 441e) is amended—

(1) by redesignating subsection (b) as subsection (c); and

(2) by inserting after subsection (a) the following new subsection:

“(b) Any person who violates subsection (a) shall be sentenced to a term of imprisonment which may not be less than 5 years or more than 20 years, fined in an amount not to exceed $1,000,000, or both."

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall apply with respect to violations occurring on or after the date of the enactment of this Act.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Pursuant to the order of the House of Friday, July 17, 1998, the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. SMITH) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

MODIFICATION TO AMENDMENT OFFERED BY MR. SMITH OF MICHIGAN TO THE AMENDMENT IN THE NATURE OF A SUBSTITUTE NO. 13 OFFERED BY MR. SHAYS

Mr. SMITH of Michigan. Mr. Chairman, I have a modification at the desk. It is in writing and I ask unanimous consent that it be agreed to.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The Clerk will report the modification.

The Clerk read as follows:

Amendment, as modified, offered by Mr. SMITH of Michigan to the amendment in the nature of a substitute No. 13 offered by Mr. SHAYS: Add at the end of title V the following new section (and conform the table of contents accordingly):

SEC. 510. PENALTY FOR VIOLATION OF PROHIBITION AGAINST FOREIGN CONTRIBUTIONS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 319 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (2 U.S.C. 441e) is amended—

(1) by redesignating subsection (b) as subsection (c); and

(2) by inserting after subsection (a) the following new subsection:

"(b)(1) Except as provided in paragraph (2), notwithstanding any other provision of this title any person who violates subsection (a) shall be sentenced to a term of imprisonment which may not be more than 10 years, fined in an amount not to exceed $1,000,000, or both.

"(2) Paragraph (1) shall not apply with respect to any violation of subsection (a) arising from a contribution or donation made by an individual who is lawfully admitted for permanent residence (as defined in section 101(a)(20) of the Immigration and Nationality Act)."

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall apply with respect to violations occurring on or after the date of the enactment of this Act.

Mr. SMITH of Michigan (during the reading). Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent that the modification be considered as read and printed in the RECORD.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Michigan?

There was no objection.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Is there objection to the initial request of the gentleman from Michigan?

There was no objection.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The amendment is modified.

The gentleman from Michigan (Mr. SMITH) is recognized for 5 minutes.

□ 1845

Mr. SMITH of Michigan. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, the 1996 elections were marked by many questionable financial tactics in fund-raising for political purposes, but I think the one that must concern us is the vast amounts of illegal donations by foreign contributors. The American people learned of the antics of those such as John Huang, Charlie Trie, and Johnny Chung, all of whom helped funnel illegal foreign funds into the American political process in 1996. So far, Trie, Chung and five others have been indicted for their roles.

Current law prohibits foreign nationals from donating to candidates for Federal office, yet it is clear that the penalties are not adequate to deter violations of this nature. This is, I think, made even more difficult by the location of the wrongdoers: outside of American soil. This means that penalties for this particular type of violation must be strengthened, and that is what my amendment does. It increases the maximum penalty from $25,000 to $1 million, and it increases the maximum jail time up to 10 years, at the discretion of the judge.

Indeed, this is one of the recommendations of the Senate Committee on Governmental Affairs report: that we increase the allowable penalties. Under my amendment, those who violate the prohibitions against contributions from foreign nationals will be subject, again, to a jail sentence of up to 10 years and/or a fine not to exceed $1 million. I think this common sense measure will serve to deter foreign nationals from illegally donating to American elections, and those who would knowingly assist them.

Mr. Chairman, we cannot honestly say we have begun to fix the problems with our campaign finance system until we have made some effort to stifle the problem of illegal foreign donations, and I urge my colleagues to put the House on record as being as repulsed and outraged by the scandal of foreigners seeking to influence the American political system as I am, and I hope we would all vote for this amendment.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore (Mr. MILLER of Florida.) Is there a Member in opposition to the amendment?

The gentleman from California (Mr. FARR) is in opposition to the amendment and claims the time in opposition?

Mr. FARR of California. Yes, Mr. Chairman. I move to strike the last word.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. There is 5 minutes in opposition to the amendment. Is there someone who claims the 5 minutes?

Mr. FARR of California. I will accept the 5 minutes.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. FARR of California. I yield to the gentleman from Connecticut.

Mr. SHAYS. We do not need to be in opposition to claim the time, if no one is in opposition. So is the gentleman claiming time in opposition or just claiming the 5 minutes?

Mr. FARR of California. I am claiming the 5 minutes.

The CHAIRMAN. The 5 minutes is reserved for opposition.

Mr. FARR of California. Then I will claim the time in opposition.

Mr. FARR of California. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I rise because I want to speak with some concern about the implementation of this amendment, and I would like the author to just answer a couple of questions here.

It says in the amendment, "Any person who violates the subsection shall be sentenced for a term of imprisonment," and with the gentleman's amendment the term of imprisonment is not more than 10 years and a fine in an amount not to exceed $1 million.

Mr. SMITH of Michigan. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. FARR of California. I yield to the gentleman from Michigan.

Mr. SMITH of Michigan. It is an option. And/or, or both, yes.

Mr. FARR of California. I understand that. The point that I would like clarified is that it goes to a foreign national. What is the gentleman's definition of a foreign national? There is a lot of confusion as to what is a foreign national.

Mr. SMITH of Michigan. If the gentleman will continue to yield, the definition would be exactly the same as under current law. We have made an exception for the amendment that was passed last week for resident aliens or green card holders.

Mr. FARR of California. But those are not foreign nationals. So a foreign national would be a person who is coming to this country but does not have a green card? For example, a tourist could be a foreign national?

Mr. SMITH of Michigan. That is correct.

Mr. FARR of California. And I am just curious as to why this penalty is a more severe penalty than if an individual was caught as an illegal alien. If a person crosses the border with no papers, they are not entitled to be in this country, they are not a tourist and they come to this country and they are caught, even if they were doing this kind of activity, being involved in a campaign, which I cannot imagine that, but if they were, the penalty here is more severe. Why is that?

Mr. SMITH of Michigan. The penalty is not more severe. The option is more extensive. So in the eyes of the court, if they decide that the violation is egregious enough, they have an option of a greater penalty than under existing law.

Existing law has a maximum penalty of $25,000 and a maximum jail sentence of not to exceed 1 year in jail. So we give the court greater latitude of increasing that to not more than.

Mr. FARR of California. Could the gentleman, for clarification, explain to me what type of person and contribution would trigger violation of this law?

Mr. SMITH of Michigan. Well, certainly if we look at the activities of Charlie Trie or John Huang or Johnny Chung, these individuals that now have been indicted for illegal contributions under existing law. Again, we do not change any of the definition in existing law, who falls under this act and who might be subject to these violations.

Mr. FARR of California. If a person came here, under the debate we are having on the floor now, under H-1B waivers, which are essentially the way we try to import high-tech people, professional engineers, scientists who are not American citizens to work with high-technology companies in America, if one of those while here in this country contributed, would they be in violation of the gentleman's amendment?

Mr. SMITH of Michigan. They would be in violation of existing law, is my understanding. But if they have a green card, I have exempted these types of individuals from the more extensive parameters of the law under my amendment.

But if the gentleman would look to existing law, it is my understanding that these individuals now, not green card holders, but under the amendment we passed last week, we extended it to green card holders, and under that provision I have exempted that type of individual from the greater penalties.

Mr. FARR of California. Has anyone under existing law been convicted?

Mr. SMITH of Michigan. They have been indicted under existing law. I am not familiar whether they have been convicted or not. There was a guilty plea this afternoon, I understand.

Mr. FARR of California. Never before in the history of this country has there been a violation of this law until the election of 1996?

Mr. SMITH of Michigan. I am sorry, could the gentleman say that again?

Mr. FARR of California. In the history of election reform law, going back to the mid-1970s, there has been nobody convicted in violation of this law?

Mr. SMITH of Michigan. I am not familiar. I do not know the answer to that.

Mr. FARR of California. That is existing law. And then the gentleman is making existing law much tougher; is that correct?

Mr. SMITH of Michigan. I would suggest I am not making existing law more tougher, but if the court decides, for lack of a better word, that the violation is egregious enough or the amount of the contribution or the potential for influence is egregious enough, that court would now have an option that is greater than under existing law.

So existing law limits the sentencing term to 1 year and/or not more than $25,000, and as the gentleman understands, this amendment simply increases that option but has no minimum obligation.

Mr. FARR of California. But as I understand it, this goes to the key of the gentleman's amendment.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The time of the gentleman from California (Mr. FARR) has expired.

The gentleman from Michigan (Mr. SMITH) has time remaining.

Mr. FARR of California. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. SMITH of Michigan. I yield to the gentleman from California.

Mr. FARR of California. As I read it, under existing law the penalties, in the gentleman's opinion, are very weak; nobody yet has been convicted. The gentleman stiffens the penalties and broadens the scope. And my comment on that, and I think that is correct, my comment is I think the gentleman is opening up a real Pandora's box because I do not know how people can go about being involved in an election process.

Mr. SMITH of Michigan. Reclaiming my time, I would say so far Trie, Chung and six others have been indicted for their roles of violating this part of our law.

Just today, Howard Glicken, a fundraiser and friend of the Vice President, pleaded guilty to soliciting $20,000 in foreign contributions.

Mr. CAMPBELL. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. SMITH of Michigan. I yield to the gentleman from California.

Mr. CAMPBELL. Mr. Chairman, I thank my colleague from Michigan for yielding just to say one quick thing. The sentencing guidelines still apply. And as I understand the gentleman's intention, he does not repeal, alter or adjust in any way the sentencing guidelines.

So the Federal judge's discretion will be as full as it was before. The upper level is permissibly higher, but the criteria applied by the sentencing judge will be the same because those are set by the sentencing guidelines.

I offer that as a way of assuaging some of the concerns of my colleague from California.

Mr. DELAY. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. SMITH of Michigan. I yield to the gentleman from Texas.

Mr. DELAY. Just very quickly, I appreciate the gentleman from Michigan bringing this amendment. Normally I would have a little heartburn over this amendment, but I have to say that since we seem to be moving towards Shays-Meehan, with more regulations, more laws, and more ways to break the law rather than opening up the process, as we suggested in the Doolittle substitute, if we are going to do this, then we ought to do it with very strong, tough penalties.

The gentleman from Michigan has brought an amendment that imposes some very, very tough penalties for egregious violations of the law. I just appreciate the gentleman for bringing this amendment and I support the gentleman's amendment and ask our colleagues to support him.

Mr. SMITH of Michigan. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman from Texas.

Mr. FARR of California. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. SMITH of Michigan. I yield to the gentleman from California.

Mr. FARR of California. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman for yielding. The point made by the gentleman from California (Mr. CAMPBELL), under the gentleman's law, I think it does not give the discretion the gentleman talks about, because this bill says "Any person who violates it shall be sentenced to a term."

Mr. SMITH of Michigan. Reclaiming my time, my language is optional.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. SMITH), as modified, to the amendment in the nature of a substitute offered by the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS).

The amendment, as modified, to the amendment in the nature of a substitute was agreed to.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. It is now in order to consider the amendment by the gentleman from Texas (Mr. DELAY).

AMENDMENT OFFERED BY MR. DELAY TO THE AMENDMENT IN THE NATURE OF A SUBSTITUTE NO. 13 OFFERED BY MR. SHAYS

Mr. DELAY. Mr. Chairman, I offer Amendment No. 3 to the amendment in the nature of a substitute.

The CHAIRMAN. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Amendment offered by Mr. DELAY to the Amendment in the Nature of a Substitute No. 13 offered by Mr. SHAYS: Add at the end the following new title:

TITLE _____SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING FUNDRAISING ON FEDERAL PROPERTY

SEC. _____01. SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING APPLICABILITY OF CONTROLLING LEGAL AUTHORITY TO FUNDRAISING ON FEDERAL PROPERTY.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

(1) On March 2, 1997, the Washington Post reported that Vice President Gore "played the central role in soliciting millions of dollars in campaign money for the Democratic Party during the 1996 election" and that he was known as the administration's "solicitor-in-chief".

(2) The next day, Vice President Gore held a nationally televised press conference in which he admitted making numerous calls from the White House in which he solicited campaign contributions.

(3) The Vice President said that there was "no controlling legal authority" regarding the use of government telephones and properties for the use of campaign fundraising.

(4) Documents that the White House released reveal that Vice President Gore made 86 fundraising calls from his White House office, and these new records reveal that Vice President Gore made 20 of these calls at taxpayer expense.

(5) Section 641 of title 18, United States Code, (prohibiting the conversion of government property to personal use) clearly prohibits the use of government property to raise campaign funds.

(6) On its face, the conduct to which Vice President Gore admitted appears to be a clear violation of section 607 of title 18,

United States Code, which makes it unlawful for "any person to solicit . . . any (campaign) contribution . . . in any room or building occupied in the discharge of official (government) duties".

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that Federal law clearly demonstrates that "controlling legal authority" prohibits the use of Federal property to raise campaign funds.

The CHAIRMAN. Pursuant to the order of the House of Friday, July 17, 1998, the gentleman from Texas (Mr. DELAY) will control 5 minutes, and the gentleman from Maine (Mr. ALLEN) will control 5 minutes in opposition.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Texas (Mr. DELAY).

Mr. DELAY. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I offer this amendment in order to clarify some comments made by the Vice President last year.

For Richard Nixon it was, "I am not a crook." For Bill Clinton it was, "I didn't inhale." For AL GORE it was, "No controlling legal authority." Sometimes our leaders say things they wish they would not have said. I am guilty of such at times. The Vice President's comments, though, regarding the various campaign abuses of the Clinton-Gore campaign, will be forever etched in the memory of the American people.

This amendment is very simple. It says that when it comes to our campaign laws, there is a controlling legal authority. It is called "the law".

□ 1900

At least 3 criminal statutes address the use of the White House for political purposes. Section 600 of Title 18 prohibits the promising of any government benefit in return for any kind of political support or activity.

Section 607 of Title 18 prohibits solicitation or receipt of contributions for Federal campaigns in Federal buildings.

Section 641 of Title 18 prohibits the conversion of government property to personal use.

According to the White House and the author of this so-called reform bill, these laws do not apply to Mr. GORE because he was raising campaign funds for the Democratic National Party and not the Clinton-Gore Re-election Campaign.

Well, that argument has no controlling logic. None other than Abner Mikva, the President's own legal counsel, issued a legal admonition that said, "campaign activities of any kind are prohibited in or from government buildings," he wrote. "This means fund-raising events may not be held in the White House; also no fund-raising phone calls or mail may emanate from the White House," he continued.

He did not contend that the White House or Members of Congress can raise soft money on government properties.

But even if that is true, the facts are that GORE also raised hard money from the White House. The Associated Press reported that around the time that the Vice President was making fund-raising calls from the White House last year, GORE was advised that the Democrat media fund for which he was soliciting was spending hard money.

Mr. Chairman, the law, the controlling legal authority on this matter, prohibits the use of Federal property to raise campaign funds, period. But that did not stop the White House from holding the infamous White House coffees.

During January of 1995, President Clinton also authorized a plan under which the Democratic National Committee would hold fund-raising coffees and sleepovers in the White House. During 1995 and 1996, the White House held 103 of these coffees. 103.

To quote the New York Times, "the documents released by the White House themselves make explicit that the coffees were fund-raising vehicles." They also make clear that the Democratic National Committee was virtually being run out of the Clinton White House despite the President's initial efforts after the election to draw a distinction between his own campaign organization and the committee.

These reports make it obvious that the coffees, which President Clinton directly authorized, were nothing but fund-raising events.

According to the New York Times, the Democratic National Committee raised $27 million from 350 people who attended White House coffees.

What about the Lincoln Bedroom sleepovers? Is that not Federal property? President Clinton also entertained 938 overnight guests in the White House during his first term.

This, too, became a means of fund-raising. When the original plan to hold coffees was suggested to the President, he not only approved it but also originated the idea of the overnight visits.

On the memo suggesting the plan, he wrote, "Ready to start overnights right away. Get other names at 100,000 or more, 50,000 or more."

The New York Times reports that these guests donated over $10 million to a Democratic Party from 1992 to 1996.

The controlling legal authority, known as the law, prohibits the use of Federal Government property from raising campaign funds. The American people do not buy the argument that there is no controlling legal authority.

So, Mr. Chairman, there is a controlling legal authority, no matter what Mr. GORE believes. It is called the law. And the Vice President has the responsibility to follow that law no matter how old or inconvenient it may be.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself 2½ minutes.

Mr. Chairman, this body makes laws. We do not generally try to interpret them. And when we do interpret them, we do not do very well in a number of cases. And this proposed amendment is one case where we are not doing very well, in my opinion.

Now, I recognize that this is a sense of Congress, that is, this amendment if attached to the Shays-Meehan substitute would not be binding law. This is a sense of Congress. We are not really here making campaign finance reform law. We are trying to embarrass the Vice President. That is what we are trying to do here today, at least those on the other side are.

Now, I know that the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS) and the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. MEEHAN) are willing to accept this amendment. It is kind of hard to explain the other side of it. And I understand that. There are many people on this side of the aisle who will vote for it, and they will vote for it because it ought to be the law and it ought to be clearly the law that they do not do fund-raising on Federal property.

But the fact is that the law is not that clear. We are talking about the Pendleton Act. That is what controls fund-raising from Federal property. And not once in the history of this Republic has someone been prosecuted for fund-raising from Federal property.

There is case law out there which suggests that the point of solicitation is not on the Federal property if you are making a telephone call but it is where the call is received. The fact is the law is not clear. But it ought to be clear, and that is why it is important that we pass campaign reform in this session.

That is why it is important, despite the objections on the other side, that we go further than the Pendleton Act, that we have a soft-money ban, that we deal with issue advocacy, and that we tighten up these campaign abuses that have occurred not just on one side, not just with Democrats, but with both sides and with Republicans as well as Democrats.

That is what we need to do here. We need real campaign finance reform. And those who have been pushing this particular amendment have not been supporters of real campaign finance reform.

Mr. CAMPBELL. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. ALLEN. I yield to the gentleman from California.

Mr. CAMPBELL. Mr. Chairman, I want to put the gentleman from Maine (Mr. ALLEN) on notice that I am opposed to his view.

On the distinction of the gentleman as to the origin of the phone call, if the phone call is for private purpose or political purpose, it would then violate the laws against embezzlement, which is to use Federal property for personal purpose.

So as to the phone call not being on government property, they would run smack into the embezzlement law even if they got outside the Pendleton Act.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Chairman, reclaiming my time, the fact is that we are governed by the Pendleton Act and the Pendleton Act is not clear.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. ALLEN. I yield to the gentleman from Connecticut.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I just would say that I am very comfortable accepting this amendment. It is a sense of Congress. And I think it is very clear, and I agree with the comments of the gentleman, we need to clarify the law.

The bottom line is that if we ban soft money, it is rare that we are going to have a President and Vice President, a Speaker, however, seek to raise money on government property for a $5,000 PAC contribution. So I think we get at the problem by substantive change in the law. So I just make that point to my colleagues.

But I do think the sense of Congress is correct that even if the Vice President did not think it was illegal, I think it was clear that he knew it was wrong and it should not have taken place.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Chairman, I yield the balance of my time to the gentleman from California (Mr. FAZIO) who is a strong advocate of campaign finance reform.

Mr. FAZIO of California. Mr. Chairman, as we have already adopted the Cox amendment that clarifies the law, this amendment is entirely superfluous and offered only for political purposes. And it strikes me as highly hypocritical for any Member of this body who has been engaged in raising soft or hard money in the system we currently have in place to stand before his colleagues and a national audience and criticize the Vice President because he did something that has clearly under the law never been prosecuted.

The Pendleton Act, over 100 years old now, has never been used to prosecute anyone for the solicitation of funds from an office. I think we now have a clear understanding of what is appropriate. But we could find the names of at least 3 sitting Republican senators who have admitted raising funds in their offices on the telephone.

This is not a partisan issue. We are moving in the direction of reform. And for the gentleman from Texas (Mr. DELAY) to bring this amendment now is simply to try to imply that there is only one party or perhaps one individual that must alter behavior. We have all must do that.

This administration, including the Vice President, has been out front in advocating campaign finance reform, the Shays-Meehan bill the centerpiece of that effort.

I would urge all those Members who wish, in retrospect, to imply that they are above any kind of campaign misdeed to get behind reform and put their name down on the list of those who are willing to embrace change and not use this simply as an opportunity for political bashing.

Mr. DELAY. Mr. Chairman, I yield 15 seconds to the gentleman from California (Mr. CAMPBELL).

Mr. CAMPBELL. Mr. Chairman, I thank my colleague for yielding.

What is wrong is clear. What is wrong is to use Federal Government property for personal advantage. And to say that it does not violate the Pendleton Act or that no one has been prosecuted under the Pendleton Act ignores the fundamental truth that there are clear statutes barring the use of Federal Government property for personal purposes and there have been many prosecutions under that statute. What happened violated that law.

The CHAIRMAN. All time has expired.

The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Texas (Mr. DELAY) to the amendment in the nature of a substitute offered by the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS).

The question was taken; and the Chairman announced that the ayes appeared to have it.

Mr. DELAY. Mr. Chairman, I demand a recorded vote.

The CHAIRMAN. Pursuant to House Resolution 442, further proceedings on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Texas (Mr. DELAY) to the amendment in the nature of a substitute offered by the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS) will be postponed.

It is now in order to consider the amendment offered by the gentleman from Colorado (Mr. MCINNIS).

AMENDMENT OFFERED BY MR. MCINNIS TO THE AMENDMENT IN THE NATURE OF A SUBSTITUTE NO. 13 OFFERED BY MR. SHAYS

Mr. MCINNIS. Mr. Chairman, as the designee of the gentleman from California (Mr. COX), I offer amendment No. 56 to the amendment in the nature of a substitute.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Amendment offered by Mr. MCINNIS to the amendment in the nature of a substitute No. 13 offered by Mr. SHAYS:

Add at the end the following new title:

TITLE _____PROHIBITING SOLICITATION TO OBTAIN ACCESS TO CERTAIN GOVERNMENT PROPERTY

SEC. _____01. PROHIBITION AGAINST ACCEPTANCE OR SOLICITATION TO OBTAIN ACCESS TO CERTAIN GOVERNMENT PROPERTY.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Chapter 11 of title 18, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

“§ 226. Acceptance or solicitation to obtain access to certain government property

“Whoever solicits or receives anything of value in consideration of providing a person with access to Air Force One, Marine One, Air Force Two, Marine Two, the White House, or the Vice President’s residence; shall be fined under this title, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both.”.

(b) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of sections for chapter 11 of title 18, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new item:

“236. Acceptance or soliciting to obtain access to certain government property.”.

The CHAIRMAN. Pursuant to the order of the House on Friday July 17, 1998, the gentleman from Colorado (Mr. MCINNIS) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent that I may claim the time in opposition.

The CHAIRMAN. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Connecticut?

There was no objection.

Mr. MCINNIS. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, what has spurred my interest in this was an article in the Washington Post on tax day, on Tuesday, April 15, the day all of the citizens in this country have to pay their taxes. Let me read this article, or at least summarize a couple of paragraphs:

In the two years before President Clinton’s 1996 re-election, 56 campaign fund-raisers and big-money donors hopped rides with him aboard Air Force One. Between January 1, 1995, and November 6 of last year, 477 people traveled as guests aboard the presidential jet, Air Force One, according to a review of Air Force’s One manifest compiled by the White House. But Clinton aides decline to release the complete list and instead provided names only of those who contributed more than $5,000 to the Democratic National Committee or who raised $25,000 for the Democratic National Committee or the Clinton-Gore Re-election Committee. Many of these people have no history with the President, and their presence on Air Force one could add to suspicions that the plane was used as a vehicle to court and pay thanks to big donors.

Air Force One is not Clinton charter airlines. It is not to be used by the President to court the big donors across this country. That jet does not belong to the President of the United States. That jet belongs to the people of the United States. And it should be used in its official capacity.

My amendment, Mr. Chairman, really is quite simple. My amendment simply says, and let me read the amendment, “whoever solicits.” “Whoever.” So it could be the Democratic National Committee. It does not need to be the President or the Vice President who is doing this. It can be the Democratic National Committee.

Whoever solicits or receives anything in value in consideration for inviting a person with access to Air Force One, Marine One, Air Force Two, Marine Two, the White House, or the Vice President’s residence shall be fined under this title and imprisoned for not more than a year or both.

We could talk for the next hour about the Lincoln Bedroom. We could talk for the next hour in much more detail about the abuse, in my opinion, of Air Force One, Air Force 2, Marine One. And of course, Mr. Chairman we do not know the extent of the abuse because the Clinton administration will not release the manifest in total so that we can assess that.

At any rate, I cannot imagine anybody on this floor voting against this amendment. I am going to ask for a rollcall because I want to see somebody stand up and justify that we should go ahead and sell Air Force One to the big donors in this country. I am going to test them.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

□ 1915

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. FARR), my Peace Corps friend.

Mr. FARR of California. Mr. Chairman, I have a question of the author. Why did he exempt the legislative branch from this? The only branch that uses the aircraft he is intending is the executive branch. Why is the legislature exempt? When people are on CODELs or on missions with corporate members or interested American citizens who may be suggesting that if you come with me we perhaps can play a golf game somewhere. That is something of value. Your amendment says receives anything of value. It does not define it. It could be a baseball cap. It could be anything. And then it exempts Congress. It exempts the legislative branch. Why does he not include the legislative branch in here if it is as strong as he thinks it should be?

Mr. McINNIS. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. FARR of California. I yield to the gentleman from Colorado.

Mr. McINNIS. Obviously we do not exempt Congress. Congress may not be included here, but the gentleman has every right.

Mr. FARR of California. Why not include Congress?

Mr. McINNIS. If the gentleman wants to handle the two-way conversation strictly on his side that is one point, but let me respond to the question that he has asked.

Mr. Chairman, the gentleman is not prevented in any way whatsoever from offering his own amendment to put the congressional or the legislative body in there, number one. Number two, I have never ridden on Air Force One as he knows. I do not know many Republicans that have.

Mr. FARR of California. Reclaiming my time, I think this amendment, it says receives anything of value, and it only applies to the executive department. We are here talking about congressional campaign finance reform, applying to this House of Congress. These amendments, and I might support this amendment, but I think it is diverting the attention, it is trying to say that the problem is all in the executive branch and that there are no problems here in Congress and that we do not need to spend time debating it.

I think this amendment is exactly what is going on here. People want to not pay any attention as to what the problems are in this Congress. If the gentleman was sincere about trying to stop solicitations using Federal property including aircraft, it would apply to the legislative branch as well.

Mr. McINNIS. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

The gentleman makes a nice speech, and I dare him to vote "no" on this thing. I do not think he will because I know he thinks it is right. It is the right thing to do. Number two, I would recommend that the gentleman read the rules. Under congressional rule we are not allowed, I cannot call one of my big donors and say some, "Come on, we're going to go on a congressional CODEL." That is against the rules. That is already in place.

Number three to his point, this does not only apply to the executive branch as he has just stated in his comments. Let me read it for you.

Whoever, whether it is the Democratic National Committee, whether it is AL GORE, whether it is the chairman of the Democratic National Committee, whether it is a State chairman of the Democratic Party, whoever solicits or receives anything of value in consideration of providing a person with access to Air Force One, et cetera, et cetera. The legislative branch is covered. It is in our rules.

If he will take a look at any of the CODELs he has been on, my bet is he has never been on a CODEL where he has had a big donor to his race or anybody's race on that airplane, with the exception maybe one Member contributing to another Member, he has never been on a plane under those kind of circumstances.

He is going to vote for this. Who would not? It makes sense. The article appeared on Tax Day. That is what is ironic about this. I read the article on Tuesday, April 15.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself 2 minutes.

Of course people are going to vote for this amendment. But the sad thing is the gentleman who is offering this amendment is not going to vote for the bill. We are faced with 55 amendments, most of them intended to embarrass or imply that a problem just exists on one side when the bottom line is we know we have problems on both sides of the aisle and we have got to deal with them.

I would just rise again to say what I have said before, I really believe that some on the other side of the aisle need to be willing to do a little more investigating but a lot on my side of the aisle need to do more about reforming the system.

We do ban soft money. Once we ban the unlimited sums from individuals, corporations, labor unions and other interest groups, once we ban that, we take away a gigantic incentive to call someone from any government property or to reward someone with any government activity, plane, boat, house, you name it. A $5,000 PAC contribution is not something that most people would probably seek a reward for or take the time of important people. But when one is seeking to raise soft money, $100,000, $200,000, $300,000, a half a million, a million or more, it does become somewhat of a distraction.

The Meehan-Shays substitute bans soft money. It recognizes those sham issue ads as what they are, campaign ads, and then they come under the campaign laws. People have a voice but under the campaign law. We codify back. We have FEC disclosure enforcement. We ban the franking 6 months to an election. And we make it clear in our legislation that you cannot raise foreign money and you cannot raise money on government property. We already make that clear.

This legislation reinforces it and seeks to suggest it happens on one side of the aisle, and I am sure my colleague believes that most does. But the bottom line is that we have got to keep together a unity between Republicans and Democrats who want campaign finance reform and not get baited into getting in arguments over which side does it and which side does not.

I agree with the gentleman from California (Mr. FAZIO), campaign finance reform is important. The focus that I have and I hope others have is on a bipartisan basis to eliminate many of the abuses we see.

Mr. FAZIO of California. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. SHAYS. I yield to the gentleman from California.

Mr. FAZIO of California. Mr. Chairman, I want to thank the gentleman from Connecticut for putting this all in context, and that is, that we are all here trying to come up with improvements in the existing system. We know that abuses, if that is what we want to call them, occur on both sides of the aisle and have done so historically.

As we are talking about the alleged misuse of Air Force One, I noted that in the newspaper today, the story was congressional use of corporate aircraft, in this case the tobacco industry. If we want to focus on the problems of Congress, and I think that is what we are here to do, we ought to really begin to look internally and look at our own approach to political activity. I think there are probably a number of other amendments that could be concocted and offered on this bill if we simply wanted to change the subject. I do not want to change the subject. I want to pass Shays-Meehan. I want people on both sides of the aisle to focus on what can be done to improve this system without offering extraneous, politically-inspired amendments that change the subject.

Mr. McINNIS. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Of course the gentleman from California, I find it a little ironic. He is criticizing the Republicans on tobacco money. Between 1987 and 1997 he took $75,800 from tobacco companies.

The second thing I want to point out, the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS) is very clear in saying that I am not going to vote for his bill. The gentleman from Connecticut is not going to vote for my bill. The bill I am on is the Doolittle bill. I think that is the bill that is going to bring us campaign reform. But he is not going to vote for it. He is going to oppose it.

I do not think he should stand up here and say that I am not voting for his bill and make it look like I am against reform. His bill is like wildflower mixed with a bunch of thistle in it. It is not a good bill. Mine is.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore (Mr. MILLER of Florida). The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Colorado (Mr. MCINNIS) to the amendment in the nature of a substitute offered by the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS).

The question was taken; and the Chairman pro tempore announced that the ayes appeared to have it.

Mr. MCINNIS. Mr. Chairman, I demand a recorded vote, and pending that, I make the point of order that a quorum is not present.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 442, further proceedings on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Colorado (Mr. MCINNIS) to the amendment in the nature of a substitute offered by the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS) will be postponed.

The point of no quorum is considered withdrawn.

It is now in order to consider the amendment offered by the gentleman from New York (Mr. PAXON).

AMENDMENT OFFERED BY MR. PAXON TO THE AMENDMENT IN THE NATURE OF A SUBSTITUTE NO. 13 OFFERED BY MR. SHAYS

Mr. PAXON. Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment to the amendment in the nature of a substitute.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore (Mr. HEFLEY). The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Amendment offered by Mr. PAXON to the amendment in the nature of a substitute No. 13 offered by Mr. SHAYS:

Add at the end the following new title:

TITLE ____—UNION DISCLOSURE

SEC. ____—01. UNION DISCLOSURE.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 201(b) of the Labor Management Reporting and Disclosure Act of 1959 (29 U.S.C. 431(b)) is amended—

(1) by striking “and” at the end of paragraph (5); and

(2) by adding at the end the following:

“(7) an itemization of amounts spent by the labor organization for—

“(A) contract negotiation and administration;

“(B) organizing activities;

“(C) strike activities;

“(D) political activities;

“(E) lobbying and promotional activities; and “(F) market recovery and job targeting programs; and

“(8) all transactions involving a single source or payee for each of the activities described in subparagraphs (A) through (F) of paragraph (7) in which the aggregate cost exceeds $10,000.”.

(b) COMPUTER NETWORK ACCESS.—Section 201(c) of the Labor Management Reporting and Disclosure Act of 1959 (29 U.S.C. 431(c)) is amended by inserting “including availability of such reports via a public Internet site or another publicly accessible computer network” after “its members.”.

(c) REPORTING BY SECRETARY.—Section 205(a) of the Labor Management Reporting and Disclosure Act of 1959 (29 U.S.C. 435(a)) is amended by inserting after “and the Secretary” the following: “shall make the reports and documents filed pursuant to section 201(b) available via a public Internet site or another public accessible computer network. The Secretary”.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Pursuant to the order of the House of Friday, July 17, 1998, the gentleman from New York (Mr. PAXON) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

Mr. MEEHAN. Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent to control the 5 minutes as an opponent.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Massachusetts?

There was no objection.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from New York (Mr. PAXON).

Mr. PAXON. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, disclosure is the key to real reform. We have put forth many amendments to do precisely that. Mine this evening focuses on the largest player in American politics, the organized labor bosses. Together in the last cycle they controlled over $300 million spent on American politics according to Rutgers University. According to a former top official of the Teamsters Union, in fact, that number was over $400 million. Yet much of the information regarding their expenditure, where it comes from and how it is expended, goes undisclosed.

Currently the Department of Labor requires some limited reporting but it is spotty, it is disorganized, no two unions in fact report the same information in the same way. It is done purposefully, it is done so that the American voter and taxpayer and citizen cannot know how much they are spending.

My amendment does three things simply. First, it amends the LM-2 form submitted by the unions currently with the Department of Labor. Two, it requires functional accounting for uniform categories of spending for the previous year which is not now required. And, number three, of course, it requires the posting on the Internet of all this information.

Mr. Chairman, this is logical. We have a player spending hundreds of millions of dollars. Put it on the Internet. Let the American people see what is being spent, how it is being raised. That is all we are asking. It is called disclosure. How can anybody oppose full disclosure?

As a matter of fact, this Congress has already helped. We appropriated last year half a million dollars to the Department of Labor to set up such a database. This Congress wants to have that information to the American people, and I am certain whether it is union members or the American people, they would love to have it. This amendment just simply allows us to get that information out there.

In conclusion, Mr. Chairman, let us let the light of day shine on the American political system. Let us put this information out there once and for all. It is an amendment we should all be able to agree on and move forward with.

Mr. Chairman, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from Florida (Mr. MILLER).

Mr. MILLER of Florida. Mr. Chairman, by the time we are done debating campaign finance, it will probably be the longest debate the House has seen in a long time. Throughout this debate, one particular theme has resounded again and again, disclosure. We take it as self-evident that the American people should be able to know who is spending money to impact elections and to whom they are giving it. For if we have full disclosure, then the voters can take that knowledge with them into the voting box.

However, up to this point the issue of disclosure has focused primarily on campaign spending by special interest groups or corporations. No one has yet tried to stand up and help those workers that provide a substantial amount of their monthly income to the unions that represent them.

That is why I support this amendment. Union members have very limited means to find out how their dues are spent. They just have to hope it is being spent wisely. This amendment would remedy that requirement of unions and require them in an annual disclosure form that they already complete to specify how they spend money on different activities. As dues-paying members, union workers have a right to know how much money their union spent on such functions as contract negotiations or strike activities. This disclosure would empower both those workers currently in unions and those that are considering joining unions.

Let me clear up one misconception. This amendment would not impact those smaller unions. It would only affect those unions with annual receipts over $200,000.

In the 1996 election cycle, unions used over $35 million to run issue ads in congressional districts against Republicans; $35 million. This despite the fact that over 25 percent of union members are Republicans.

How can we give these members and the American people a voice? One answer is disclosure. The American people and even more importantly union members themselves have a right to know how much money the unions are spending on different activities. That is what this amendment will do, allow people as well as union members who are directly impacted by the spending to see how unions are allocating their money and how much they are spending on these political activities. This is good policy and should be a fundamental part of any campaign finance reform. I ask my colleagues to support this amendment.

Mr. MEEHAN. Mr. Chairman, I would point out to the gentleman from Florida, there is not a better way to get disclosure than to vote for the Shays-Meehan bill, which provides disclosure on issue advocacy.

Mr. Chairman, I yield 1½ minutes to the gentlewoman from Connecticut (Ms. DELAURO).

Ms. DELAURO. Mr. Chairman, I rise in opposition to the Paxon amendment. The Paxon amendment is an assault. It is an assault on the rights of working men and women in this country. It says that working men and women will be disenfranchised.

Let me just say this, that union members, in fact, know where and how their money is being spent. They make the decisions as to what is being done. This would require only labor unions to report on political activities, not the big money interests, the special interests, not the multimillion dollar corporations, only labor unions. The fact of the matter is, is that corporations outspent labor unions 11 to 1 in the 1996 election.

If we take a look at today's Washington Post, we will also find out that there was the tobacco industry that provided more subsidized travel than any other industry to the Republican Party. They made their corporate jets available to Republican lawmakers and GOP committees for dozens of flights in the past year.

We want to be equitable in this effort. As my colleague from Massachusetts pointed out, Shays-Meehan, in fact, does deal with disclosure. This is an amendment that discourages American workers from participating in the national political process. It is an effort to cut them off. It silences their voices, leaving decent pay, a safe workplace, secure retirements vulnerable to their opponents. It is the American families who will suffer with the result of this amendment.

Shays-Meehan does not pose such a threat. It protects the voices of America's working men and women. Vote against the Paxon amendment and support Shays-Meehan.

Mr. MEEHAN. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1½ minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. FAZIO).

Mr. FAZIO of California. Mr. Chairman, I am strongly opposed to this amendment because it does not treat all those who use Treasury funds of any kind equally and equitably under the law. This particular amendment is targeted at the Republican Party's bugaboo, always said to be big labor.

But, in fact, what it really does is try to impose a burdensome and inefficient and difficult system of accounting on one of the many players in the political system in this country, one that, by the way, was outspent by business and corporations 11 to 1 in the last election cycle in 1996.

Shays-Meehan goes after all of the various parts of the political equation in campaign finance reform equitably and evenhandedly. It bans soft money. It goes after those who misuse issue advocacy for political purposes, intrusive purposes in a political campaign. But it does so in ways that make corporations and unions live under the same law.

There are other improvements in this bill that frankly will be somewhat opposed by people in the labor movement because, for example, internal communications are going to be required to be disclosed in a more timely way. But it also imposes the same requirements on corporate internal communications.

So what we have in the bill that we have been debating is an evenhanded and fair-minded approach. This amendment is an effort to take a shot at a political opponent, and it is offered by one who does not oppose reform in the first place.

Mr. MEEHAN. Mr. Chairman, may I inquire of the Chair how much time is remaining on each side?

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore (Mr. HEFLEY). The gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. MEEHAN) has 1¼ minutes remaining. The gentleman from New York (Mr. PAXON) has 45 seconds remaining.

Mr. MEEHAN. Mr. Chairman, I yield 30 seconds to the gentleman from California (Mr. CAMPBELL).

Mr. CAMPBELL. Mr. Chairman, I thank my colleague for yielding to me. I would support the content of my friend from New York's amendment if it was applied to the National Labor Relations Act. But, it is way beyond campaign finance reform. For example, it requires disclosure that I happen to support—how much of a union's money goes to a strike versus how much goes to organizing. I would like to see that part of the law. I would like to see the laborers of this country know where their dues are spent. But it is not campaign finance reform. And, by putting it into this bill, it breaks the coalition that is essential for Shays-Meehan to become the law of this country. I strongly oppose this amendment for that reason. We must be about our business today. Our business is campaign finance reform.

Mr. MEEHAN. Mr. Chairman, I yield the remainder of my time to the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS).

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, under Meehan-Shays, we require disclosure by both unions and corporations. Current law requires only a very narrow disclosure by unions and corporations of money spent on internal or in-kind activities.

Under current law, unions do not have to disclose money spent on voter registration drives or get-out-the-vote drives aimed at their members, nor do corporations. Under our bill, they would.

Under current law, unions and corporations do not have to disclose money spent on setting up or administering their PACs. Under our bill, they would.

Under current law, unions and corporations do not have to disclose money spent on a communication to their members urging the election or defeat of a candidate. So, for instance, if a union has a two-page ad urging a vote for a candidate in a 16-page newsletter, it would not have to be disclosed. Under our bill, any communication to members for the purpose of influencing an election would have to be disclosed.

Our bill significantly expands the disclosure requirements on unions and corporations by their internal activities. Further, disclosure under current law is on a quarterly basis; under our bill, it is on a monthly basis, and within 24 hours in the last 20 days of the election on the Internet.

Mr. PAXON. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, in conclusion, I appreciate the gentleman from California agreeing with the intent of this measure, to try to bring about full disclosure in the American political system. We think this is the right place. We are debating campaign finance reform. $300 million to $400 million spent by the union bosses taken involuntarily from the members' pockets, should that not be part of the disclosure? Of course it should be. Should it not be presented on the Internet so the American people can determine how it is spent? Of course it should be should.

This is the amendment that goes to the heart of campaign finance reform. Anybody who believes in reform has to support this motion. I urge my colleagues to support it. We are going to have a chance to do that in a recorded vote.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from New York (Mr. PAXON) to the amendment in the nature of a substitute offered by the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS).

The question was taken; and the Chairman pro tempore announced that the yeas appeared to have it.

Mr. PAXON. Mr. Chairman, I demand a recorded vote.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 442, further proceedings on the amendment offered by the gentleman from New York (Mr. PAXON) to the amendment in the nature of a substitute offered by the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS) will be postponed.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore (Mr. MILLER). It is now in order to consider the amendment by the gentleman from Colorado (Mr. HEFLEY).

Mr. HEFLEY. Mr. Chairman, first of all, I have two amendments at the desk. Amendment No. 33, I am going to give the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS) and this body a present by withdrawing that amendment, because I believe the amendment by the gentleman from Colorado (Mr. MCINNIS) covered that, so I will withdraw number 33.

AMENDMENT OFFERED BY MR. HEFLEY TO THE AMENDMENT IN THE NATURE OF A SUBSTITUTE NO. 13 OFFERED BY MR. SHAYS

Mr. HEFLEY. Mr. Chairman, I offer Amendment No. 34 to the amendment in the nature of a substitute.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The Clerk will designate the amendment to the amendment in the nature of a substitute.

The text of the amendment to the amendment in the nature of a substitute is as follows:

Amendment offered by Mr. HEFLEY to the amendment in the nature of a substitute No. 13 offered by Mr. SHAYS:

Add at the end the following new title:

TITLE—PROHIBITING USE OF AIR FORCE ONE FOR POLITICAL FUNDRAISING

SEC. 01. PROHIBITING USE OF AIR FORCE ONE FOR POLITICAL FUNDRAISING.

Title III of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (2 U.S.C. 431 et seq.) is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

“PROHIBITING USE OF AIR FORCE ONE FOR POLITICAL FUNDRAISING

“SEC. 323. (a) In General.—It shall be unlawful for any persons to provide or offer to provide transportation on Air Force One in exchange for any money or other thing of value in support of any political party or the campaign for electoral office of any candidate, without regard to whether or not the money or thing of value involved is otherwise treated as a contribution under this title.

“(b) AIR FORCE ONE DEFINED.—In subsection (a), the term ‘Air Force One’ means the airplane operated by the Air Force which has been specially configured to carry out the mission of transporting the President.”

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Pursuant to the order of the House of Friday, July 17, 1998, the gentleman from Colorado (Mr. HEFLEY) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent to claim the 5 minutes in opposition.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Connecticut?

There was no objection.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS) will be recognized for 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Colorado (Mr. HEFLEY).

Mr. HEFLEY. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, this amendment, again, I think, is about common sense. It reads: If the President, Vice President, or the head of any executive department uses Air Force One for transportation for any travel which includes a fund-raising event for the benefit of any political committee or party, such political committee shall reimburse the Federal Government for the actual costs incurred as a result of the use of Air Force One.

In plain English, this simply means that if you are going to use Air Force One and part of that is for political purposes, then you pay the cost of it. It is estimated that the cost is about $36,000 an hour to operate Air Force One.

This amendment will apply to whoever holds the office. So we have had a lot of partisan back and forth here this afternoon or this evening, but this amendment applies to whomever holds the office regardless of party affiliation. However, the current administration's blatant abuse of this practice compared to past White House occupants gives the Congress strong reason to accept this amendment.

Currently, the amount that is reimbursed to the taxpayers for use of Air Force One is based on a secret formula created by the Clinton Administration and the Democratic National Committee. The formula supposedly calculates what percentage of the trip is for political purposes and what percentage is for official purposes.

This amendment stipulates that any excursion that includes any fund-raising activity must be reimbursed for the entire trip. No formula. No ambiguity. If the President wants to fly to Ohio to pitch his child care initiative, that is fine. He can use Air Force One to do that. But if while he is there he wants to drop by, as he did recently, to raise $850 thousand in one evening for the DNC, then under this amendment, the DNC would have to reimburse the taxpayers.

This is not a partisan amendment. But I will conclude with some of the figures that signify the amendment is particularly relevant under this administration. Under Presidents Reagan and Bush, reimbursement payments were made a total of 60 times in a 12-year period. Under the Clinton administration, prior to the 1996 election, 145 such payments were made in only 4 years.

I urge adoption of the amendment and reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I am delighted to yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. FAZIO).

Mr. FAZIO of California. Mr. Chairman, I appreciate the gentleman yielding to me.

Mr. Chairman, I want to ask the author of the amendment if he would explain to me what is different from existing laws. As I understand it, we have always required that every President, going back as far as I can remember, reimburse part of the cost of any trip that involves any kind of political activity while he is on an official trip.

What the gentleman seems to be saying is that any political activity automatically makes the entire trip a political trip, even if there is a great deal of official duty and activity taking place.

Would the gentleman give me some sort of an answer?

Mr. HEFLEY. Mr. Chairman, if the gentleman will yield, that is correct. The gentleman understands it exactly.

Mr. FAZIO of California. Reclaiming my time, then, what the gentleman is saying is that the approach that has been the time-honored bipartisan approach which has given both Republican and Democratic Presidents the opportunity and flexibility to include various kinds of activities in their schedule when they travel around the country, would no longer be allowed.

I am sure that the Secret Service and others who worry about the security of the President would have serious concerns. What this amendment really would purport to do, I believe, is to eliminate the President's ability to be involved in, at any affordable sense, any kind of political activity around the country.

I would assert that maybe in the current environment where the White House is held by a Democrat this would be a very attractive amendment to people on the Republican side of this aisle. But I think people ought to be thinking of the long-term implications of what we are doing here.

I realize that those who do not support Shays-Meehan are simply trying to roll hand grenades here on to the floor to complicate the passage of real campaign finance reform. But in this instance, among others, what we are really doing is something that I think your own party leaders, if the Republicans were to retake the White House, would find totally unworkable and impossible to live with. What I hope my colleagues will do is think long-term and put aside the momentary political advantage.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I am happy to yield 1½ minutes to my colleague, the gentleman from California (Mr. FARR).

Mr. FARR of California. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS) for yielding.

Mr. Chairman, I have a question. The language in here says that it includes any fund-raising event for the benefit of any political committee of a national political party. If the President was to fly to the gentleman's district to do a campaign event for him, this would not apply because his campaign is not a national political committee?

Mr. HEFLEY. Mr. Chairman, if the gentleman will yield, I cannot tell him for sure about that.

Mr. FARR of California. Well, that is exactly what it says.

Mr. HEFLEY. I am not arguing with the gentleman. I said I cannot tell him for sure whether that is or not. I assume it might be.

Mr. FARR of California. The other question is why does it only apply to Air Force One? Why does it not apply to Members of Congress?

Mr. HEFLEY. I listened to the gentleman's comments about that on a prior bill, and it seemed to me to be kind of foolish questions in that Congress does not control any airplanes. The administration controls airplanes. Congress does not control airlines.

If the gentleman wants to reclaim his time, I will respond later.

Mr. FARR of California. I would like to reclaim my time. Because the gentleman flies home every weekend on the taxpayers' money, he may be home on the taxpayers' money doing a political campaign event. That is his transportation to his district.

□ 1945

So if the President goes to your district and does a political event, he is penalized; the payment for all of that is paid for by your amendment. But if you do it on the taxpayer's dime every weekend, you do not have to pay for it. So you are exempting Congress from this. It is a double standard again. It is again bashing the White House, because this bill is about Congressional campaign finance reform, and I do not know whether the gentleman is even intending to vote for the bill.

I think these are dilatory amendments, I think you are exempting Congress, and I think it is wrong.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, I have a feeling that this amendment will pass because Members do not want to vote against an amendment that sounds good, but I am trying to think that some day we may have someone else in the White House, and I would put myself in that position and say I think this is bad law.

I think it is a politically good amendment. I think it is bad law. I think the President should have to reimburse for the first class passage, but I do not think we want to encourage a President to go commercial. Obviously they cannot. I think it will inhibit the ability of the President to get around and speak as a President chooses to speak.

I am sure this is good politics, but I think this does harm to the bill. I am not suggesting that it is a killer amendment, but I wish it was not being introduced, because I think its intention is simply to make the bill less palatable to Members on either side of the aisle.

The bottom line is, a President of the United States should have the ability to travel around the country, and it is regrettable that they have to have so much communication material, it is regrettable they need to fly on a government plane, but the fact is they do. Like my colleague from California points out, we get sent home and we get to do a lot of things back home for political purposes, and our flight back home is paid for.

So I have tremendous respect for the gentleman who is introducing this amendment, but I do regret that he has introduced it.

Mr. HEFLEY. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Chairman, let me very quickly say in closing in response to the concern of the gentleman from California (Mr. FARR), it is my understanding that we can rent government cars, we can lease government cars as Members of Congress for official business. I did that at one time. I have not done it in years. At one time I did that. It was also my understanding when I did that that I could not go to Salida, Colorado, and hold town meetings in the morning in that government car, and then in the evening hold a fund-raiser for my campaign. I am still in the government car, and I could not reimburse the government for the percentage of time for that government car. I do not know whether that rule has changed or not.

But if you cannot do that with a government car, but you can do it with Air Force One, I think the double standard that you keep referring to here is in application today. I think this would help in that double standard.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Colorado (Mr. HEFLEY) to the amendment in the nature of a substitute offered by the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS).

The question was taken; and the Chairman announced that the noes appeared to have it.

Mr. HEFLEY. Mr. Chairman, I demand a recorded vote.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 442, further proceedings on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Colorado (Mr. HEFLEY) to the amendment in the nature of a substitute offered by the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS) will be postponed.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. It is now in order to consider the amendment offered by the gentlewoman from Kentucky (Mrs. NORTHUP).

AMENDMENT OFFERED BY MRS. NORTHUP TO THE AMENDMENT IN THE NATURE OF A SUBSTITUTE NO. 13 OFFERED BY MR. SHAYS

Mrs. NORTHUP. Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment to the amendment in the nature of a substitute.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Amendment offered by Mrs. NORTHUP to the amendment in the nature of a substitute No. 13 offered by Mr. SHAYS:

TITLE—PROHIBITING USE OF WALKING AROUND MONEY
SEC. .01. PROHIBITING CAMPAIGNS FROM PROVIDING CURRENCY TO INDIVIDUALS FOR PURPOSES OF ENCOURAGING TURNOUT ON DATE OF ELECTION.

Title III of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (2 U.S.C. 431 et seq.) is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

“PROHIBITING USE OF CURRENCY TO PROMOTE ELECTION DAY TURNOUT

“SEC. 323. It shall be unlawful for any political committee to provide currency to any person for purposes of carrying out activities on the date of an election to encourage or assist individuals to appear at the polling place for election.”.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Pursuant to the order of the House of Friday, July 17, 1998, the gentlewoman from Kentucky (Mrs. NORTHUP) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

Is there a Member seeking to control the time in opposition?

Mr. MEEHAN. Mr. Chairman, I rise in opposition to the amendment.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. MEEHAN) will be recognized for 5 minutes in opposition.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Kentucky (Mrs. NORTHUP).

Mrs. NORTHUP. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, I have opposed the Shays-Meehan bill for a couple of reasons. First of all, I believe that it chills free speech, that it has the effect of trying to keep people who want to influence public policy from having their voice heard.

Furthermore, I feel that it has the effect of encouraging people to have their voice heard in elections by contributing to organizations that are, in a sense, “blind organizations,” organizations that the public will not know who they are, what they stand for, who contributes, or how much, and that that is a worse campaign finance system than what we have.

I do not believe you can call this reform; I just believe you can call it change. In my opinion, it is a worse change, a change for the worse.

However, if we are going to do anything in changing campaign finance, we ought to close the abuses that exist today, that are widespread and blatantly wrong, and that is the ability to spend cash, what is commonly referred to as “walking-around money,” that is used for vote buying. This is done in many different parts of the country, and it is done with the use of cash.

All my amendment would do would be to require that any money used for getting out the vote, that it be done in the form of a check, so that it would be visible and we would know to whom the money was paid.

Obviously we all believe that if somebody is going to drive a van for the day and go down to the local nursing home in order to provide transportation to the polls, that that is a good thing to do and that would be a good expenditure of campaign funds. This is just to make sure that people cannot get the money in unrecorded amounts and to unrecorded people.

It is part of the premise of this bill that we would have visibility, that the voters, that the public, that the people in this country would have visibility about who is spending money on campaigns and how they are spending it. So I would be surprised to find anybody that supports Shays-Meehan opposed to disclosure of this kind.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. MEEHAN. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, I wish that the authors of amendments who get up to say they are against Shays-Meehan would find another vehicle to drag down debate. We have been debating this bill for quite some time now, and the author of the amendment says that she is against it, but here is an amendment anyways.

This could be an amendment that we could all agree upon. I would ask the gentlewoman if somebody is working on a get-out-the-vote effort and wants to buy coffee for people at a polling station, and, let us say, the coffee stand will not accept a check, how does one get around those types of expenditures, small disbursements like that?

The gentlewoman may know that under the FEC law now, there are certain amounts of money, under $200, that are made available. It is required under the FEC that receipts get kept, and clearly they should be kept. But what does one do about that election day activity, with voter apathy and voter turnout going down dramatically, about these type of efforts to get people out to vote? Could the gentlewoman's amendment in some way accommodate these types of efforts?

Mrs. NORTHUP. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. MEEHAN. I yield to the gentlewoman from Kentucky.

Mrs. NORTHUP. Mr. Chairman, I am surprised to hear the gentleman asking that and asking if one could buy donuts. Actually in Kentucky, where we have a more similar bill to Shays-Meehan than anywhere else, you cannot buy donuts.

Mr. MEEHAN. Mr. Chairman, reclaiming my time, I am not asking the gentlewoman whether or not one can buy donuts. I am asking whether or not under the gentlewoman's amendment, would one be able in any way to get cash, if cash was required to go buy a cup of coffee or donuts for poll workers? I am not asking whether one can buy donuts. Let us keep it professional.

Mrs. NORTHUP. Mr. Chairman, if the gentleman will yield further, whoever uses the money has to be given the money in the form of a check, so that if you are going to haul voters, for example, a check would be written to you. You could then not give voters or anybody else cash. Obviously if you wanted to fill up your van with gas, you could turn that in as an expense and the campaign can reimburse you.

This is just to make sure that you cannot have what goes on, like $300 cash to the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. MEEHAN), and then the gentleman gives out $50, $25, $10, $5, and it does not have to be recorded. The end receiver of the money is not on record.

Mr. MEEHAN. Mr. Chairman, reclaiming my time, so when a campaign worker goes out and is trying to get people to go to the polls, the campaign or the party would give a check and the person would go, presumably, to a bank to cash the check. What if somebody did not have a bank account? Just so I am clear. We could support the amendment, but if somebody did not have a bank account or checking account, what would they do?

Mrs. NORTHUP. Mr. Chairman, if the gentleman will continue to yield, they would cash it wherever they cashed any other check. If they have a welfare check, they have to cash it somewhere. If they have a paycheck, they have to cash it somewhere. They can get a money order. You can give them a money order. That is legal. All you could not do is give a check to somebody and have them then pay cash around to unrecorded people.

Mr. MEEHAN. Mr. Chairman, reclaiming my time, would the gentlewoman have a de minimis amount of money that would be acceptable for donuts or something like that? Is there some amount there where we could reach an agreement? The amendment sounds like a good idea.

Mrs. NORTHUP. Mr. Chairman, it says specifically here that anything that encourages or assists individuals to appear at the polling place is not forbidden. All you could not do is give somebody cash. In other words, on the campaign form the final receiver of money is written there, because it has to be given to them by money order, check, whatever.

Mr. MEEHAN. Mr. Chairman, reclaiming my time, this sounds like an amendment that we could support. But these amendments, sometimes we need to go through the process to make sure. We have a situation where voter turnout in this country is an embarrassment, and I would not want to see us support any kind of an effort that would try to reduce activity at polling places, getting people to the polls.

Mrs. NORTHUP. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, I understand the concern of the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. MEEHAN) and I appreciate the gentleman rethinking or willing to reevaluate this. I want to assure the gentleman and the other supporters of the bill that we were very careful to draft this in every way possible so that there would not be any dampening effect on encouraging people to vote; only in making sure that there is not cash out on the street floating around that can be exchanged for votes. That is what we are trying to get to.

We think that the easiest way to try to address that is to make sure that anybody that receives money would have to be paid and recorded on the campaign files.

Mr. FARR of California. Mr. Chairman, will the gentlewoman yield?

Mrs. NORTHUP. I yield to the gentleman from California.

Mr. FARR of California. Mr. Chairman, I like what the gentlewoman just said, but I do not think that is what the language put in here says. It says "provide currency to any person for purposes of carrying out activities on the date of an election to encourage or assist individuals to appear at the polling place for an election."

I think what the gentlewoman said is to give money directly to anybody to go to a polling place, but this is any activities.

Mrs. NORTHUP. Mr. Chairman, reclaiming my time, it is currency. You cannot provide currency. I think the gentleman is missing that word. It does not say you cannot provide donuts. You cannot provide currency.

Mr. FARR of California. Mr. Chairman, if the gentlewoman will yield further, it says "for carrying out activities on the date of the election." Is not "activities" broader than just going to the polls, driving somebody? I am trying to think of the League of Women Voters issues. We are trying to get people to the polls. Those are activities. All of that is related to the election day.

Mrs. NORTHUP. Mr. Chairman, reclaiming my time, but you can provide a check to somebody that is driving somebody. You can provide a check to somebody to buy donuts. You can give a check to somebody to buy gas. What you cannot do is give somebody $200.

□ 2000

Mr. FARR of California. Mr. Chairman, I agree with that. Why does not the gentlewoman just say that?

Mrs. NORTHUP. Mr. Chairman, it says that. "One cannot provide currency."

Mr. MEEHAN. Mr. Chairman, I yield 30 seconds to the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS).

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I reluctantly oppose this amendment, and I am surprised that the gentlewoman from Kentucky who talks about rules and regulations has come up with the biggest rule and regulation. We are basically saying that everything would have to be in a check.

Not everybody in my district has a checking account. Some people drive to the polls, they have money, they take it and they go to the gas station and give money to the gas station attendant.

This has, I think, serious unintended consequences. It probably is going to pass because it has a good name to it, but it really is regulation beyond my comprehension, and I think a bit foolish.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. All time has expired.

The question is on the amendment offered by the gentlewoman from Kentucky (Mrs. NORTHUP) to the amendment in the nature of a substitute offered by the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS).

The question was taken; and the Chairman pro tempore announced that the yeas appeared to have it.

Mrs. NORTHUP. Mr. Chairman, I demand a recorded vote.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 442, further proceedings on the amendment offered by the gentlewoman from Kentucky will be postponed.

SEQUENTIAL VOTES POSTPONED IN COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 442, proceedings will now resume on those amendments on which further proceedings were postponed in the following order: amendment offered Mr. WICKER of Mississippi; amendment offered by Mr. STEARNS of Florida; amendment, as modified, offered by Mr. PICKERING of Mississippi; amendment offered by Mr. DELAY of Texas; amendment offered by Mr. MCINNIS of Colorado; amendment offered by Mr. PAXON of New York; amendment offered by Mr. HEFLEY of Colorado; amendment offered by Mrs. NORTHUP of Kentucky.

The Chair will reduce to 5 minutes the time for any electronic vote after the first vote in a series.

AMENDMENT NO. 59 OFFERED BY MR. WICKER TO THE AMENDMENT IN THE NATURE OF A SUBSTITUTE NO. 13 OFFERED BY MR. SHAYS

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The unfinished business is the demand for a recorded vote on the Amendment No. 59 offered by the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. WICKER) to the amendment in the nature of a substitute No. 13 offered by the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS) on which further proceedings were postponed and on which the ayes prevailed by voice vote.

The Clerk will redesignate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Amendment No. 59 offered by Mr. WICKER to the amendment in the nature of a substitute No. 13 offered by Mr. SHAYS: Add at the end the following new title:

TITLE—PROHIBITING USE OF WHITE HOUSE MEANS AND ACCOMMODATIONS FOR POLITICAL FUNDRAISING

SEC. 01. PROHIBITING USE OF WHITE HOUSE MEALS AND ACCOMMODATIONS FOR POLITICAL FUNDRAISING

(1) IN GENERAL.—Chapter 29 of title 18 United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

“§612. Prohibiting use of meals and accommodations at White House for political fundraising.

“(a) It shall be unlawful for any person to provide or offer to provide any means of accommodations at the White House in exchange for any money or other thing of value, or as a reward for the provision of any money or other thing of value, in support of any political party or the campaign for electoral office of any candidate.

“(b) Any person who violates this section shall be fined under this title or imprisoned not more than three years, or both.

“(c) For purposes of this section, any official residence or retreat of the President (including private residential areas and the grounds of such a residence or retreat) shall be treated as part of the White House.”.

(b) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of sections for chapter 29 of title 18, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new item:

“612. Prohibiting use of meals and accommodations at White House or political fundraising.”.

AMENDMENT OFFERED BY MR. STEARNS TO THE AMENDMENT IN THE NATURE OF A SUBSTITUTE NO. 13 OFFERED BY MR. SHAYS

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore (Mr. BARR of Georgia). The unfinished business is the demand for a recorded vote on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Florida (Mr. STEARNS) to the amendment in the nature of a substitute No. 13 offered by the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS) on which further proceedings were postponed and on which the ayes prevailed by voice vote.

The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Amendment offered by Mr. STEARNS to the amendment in the nature of a substitute No. 13 offered by Mr. SHAYS: Amend section 506 to read as follows (and conform the table of contents accordingly):

SEC. 506. BAN ON CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS BY NONCITIZENS.

Section 319 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (2 U.S.C. 441e) is amended to read as follows:

“CONTRIBUTIONS AND DONATIONS BY NONCITIZENS

“SEC. 319. (a) PROHIBITION.—It shall be unlawful for—

“(1) a noncitizen, directly or indirectly, to make—

“(A) a donation of money or other thing of value, or to promise expressly or impliedly to make a donation, in connection with a Federal, State, or local election to a political committee or a candidate for Federal office, or

“(B) a contribution or donation to a committee of a political party; or

“(2) a person to solicit, accept, or receive a contribution or donation described in paragraph (1) from a noncitizen.

“(b) TREATMENT OF NATIONALS OF THE UNITED STATES.—For purposes of subsection (a), a ‘noncitizen’ of the United States does not include a national of the United States (as defined in section 101(a)(22) of the Immigration and Nationality Act).”.

Mr. BERRY and Mr. DICKS changed their vote from "no" to "aye."

So the amendment to the amendment in the nature of a substitute was agreed to.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

Mr. KLECZKA. Mr. Chairman, I was unavoidably detained on rollcall vote 301, the Wicker amendment. Had I been present, I would have voted "aye".

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, for the purposes of taking up a rule, I move that the Committee do now rise.

The motion was agreed to.

Accordingly, the Committee rose; and the Speaker pro tempore (Mr. LAHOOD) having assumed the chair, Mr. BARR of Georgia, Chairman pro tempore of the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union, reported that that Committee, having had under consideration the bill (H.R. 2183) to amend the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 to reform the financing of campaigns for elections for Federal office, and for other purposes, had come to no resolution thereon.

REPORT ON RESOLUTION PROVIDING FOR CONSIDERATION OF H.R. 4193, DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR AND RELATED AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 1999

Mr. HASTINGS of Washington, from the Committee on Rules, submitted a privileged report (Rept. No. 105-637) on the resolution (H. Res. 504) providing for consideration of the bill (H.R. 4193) making appropriations for the Department of the Interior and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1999, and for other purposes, which was referred to the House Calendar and ordered to be printed.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. HASTINGS of Washington. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on H. Con. Res 301.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Washington?

There was no objection.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

Mr. BARRETT Of Wisconsin. Mr. Speaker, I was unavoidably detained in my district earlier today, and I missed four votes. If I had been here, I would have voted the following: On rollcall No. 297, H.R. 3874, I would have voted "aye". On rollcall No. 298, H. Con. Res. 208, I would have voted "aye". On rollcall 299, H. Con. Res. 392, I would have voted "aye". On rollcall 300, H. Con. Res. 301, I would have voted "aye".

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

Mr. LAMPSON. Mr. Speaker, on June 25, 1998, on rollcall vote 274, I am recorded as not voting. I was hosting the Vice President in my district on that afternoon. This bill provides for restructuring the management of the Internal Revenue Service by establishing an oversight board to oversee the agency's operations. Along with expanding certain taxpayer rights, the conference report also reduces from 18 months to 12 months the time a taxpayer must hold an investment before being eligible for the 20 percent tax rate on capital gains.

Had I been recorded on that vote, I would have voted "aye".

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

Mr. MALONEY of Connecticut. Mr. Speaker, I was unavoidably detained for recorded votes earlier today. If I had been present for the following votes, I would have voted as follows: Rollcall 297, H.R. 3874, "aye"; rollcall 298, H. Con. Res. 208, "aye"; rollcall 299, H. Res. 392, "aye"; rollcall 300, H. Con. Res. 301, "aye".

BIPARTISAN CAMPAIGN
INTEGRITY ACT OF 1997

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. LAHOOD). Pursuant to House Resolution 442 and rule XXIII, the Chair declares the House in the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union for the further consideration of the bill, H.R. 2183.

□ 2125

IN THE COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

Accordingly, the House resolved itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union for the further consideration of the bill (H.R. 2183) to amend the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 to reform the financing of campaigns for elections for Federal office, and for other purposes, with Mr. BARR of Georgia (Chairman pro tempore) in the chair.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. When the Committee of the Whole House rose earlier today, the amendment offered by the gentlewoman from Kentucky, Mrs. Northup, has been disposed of.

It is now in order to consider the amendment by the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. GOODLATTE).

AMENDMENT OFFERED BY MR. GOODLATTE TO THE AMENDMENT IN THE NATURE OF A SUBSTITUTE NO. 13 OFFERED BY MR. SHAYS

Mr. GOODLATTE. Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment to the amendment in the nature of a substitute.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The Clerk will designate the amendment to the amendment in the nature of a substitute.

The text of the amendment to the amendment in the nature of a substitute is as follows:

Amendment offered by Mr. Goodlatte to the amendment in the nature of a substitute No. 13 offered by Mr. SHAYS:

Add at the end the following new title:

TITLE —VOTER REGISTRATION

(2) Section 7(a)(6)(A) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1973gg-5(a)(6)(A)) is amended by striking "assistance—" and all that follows and inserting the following: "assistance a voter registration application form which meets the requirements described in section 5(c)(2) (other than subparagraph (A)), unless the applicant, in writing, declines to register to vote;"

(c) OTHER CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—(1) The National Voter Registration Act of 1993 (42 U.S.C. 1973gg et seq.) is amended by striking section 6.

(2) Section 8(a)(5) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1973gg-6(a)(5)) is amended by striking "5, 6, and 7" and inserting "5 and 7".

SEC. —02. REQUIRING APPLICANTS REGISTER-ING TO VOTE TO PROVIDE CERTAIN ADDITIONAL INFORMATION.

(a) SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Section 5(c)(2) of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 (42 U.S.C. 1973gg-3(c)(2)) is amended—

(A) by striking "and" at the end of subparagraph (D);

(B) by striking the period at the end of subparagraph (E) and inserting "; and"; and

(C) by adding at the end the following new subparagraph:

"(F) shall require the applicant to provide the applicant's Social Security number."

(2) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—Section 5(c)(2)(A) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1973gg-3(c)(2)(A)) is amended by inserting after "subparagraph (C)" the following: ", or the information described in subparagraph (F)".

(3) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall take effect January 1, 1999, and shall apply with respect to applicants registering to vote in elections for Federal office on or after such date.

(b) ACTUAL PROOF OF CITIZENSHIP.—

(1) REGISTRATION WITH APPLICATION FOR DRIVER'S LICENSE.—Section 5(c) of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 (42 U.S.C. 1973gg-3(c)) is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

"(3) The voter registration portion of an application for a State motor vehicle driver's license shall not be considered to be completed unless the applicant provides to the appropriate State motor vehicle authority proof that the applicant is a citizen of the United States."

(2) REGISTRATION WITH VOTER REGISTRATION AGENCIES.—Section 7(a) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1973gg-5(a)) is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

"(8) A voter registration application received by a voter registration agency shall not be considered to be completed unless the applicant provides to the agency proof that the applicant is a citizen of the United States."

(3) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—Section 8(a)(5)(A) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1973gg-6(a)(5)(A)) is amended by striking the semicolon and inserting the following: "; including the requirement that the applicant provide proof of citizenship;"

(4) NO EFFECT ON ABSENT UNIFORMED SERVICES AND OVERSEAS VOTERS.—Nothing in the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 (as amended by this subsection) may be construed to require any absent uniformed services voter or overseas voter under the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act to provide any evidence of citizenship in order to register to vote (other than any evidence which may otherwise be required under such Act).

SEC. —03. REMOVAL OF CERTAIN REGISTRANTS FROM OFFICIAL LIST OF ELIGIBLE VOTERS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 8(d) of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 (42 U.S.C. 1973gg-6(d)) is amended—

(1) by redesignating paragraph (3) as paragraph (4); and

(2) by inserting after paragraph (2) the following new paragraph:

"(3)(A) At the option of the State, a State may remove the name of a registrant from the official list of eligible voters in elections for Federal office on the ground that the registrant has changed residence if—

"(i) the registrant has not voted or appeared to vote (and, if necessary, correct the registrar's record of the registrant's address) in an election during the period beginning on the day after the date of the second previous general election for Federal office held prior to the date the confirmation notice described in subparagraph (B) is sent and ending on the date of such notice;

"(ii) the registrant has not voted or appeared to vote (and, if necessary, correct the registrar's record of the registrant's address) in any of the first two general elections for Federal office held after the confirmation notice described in subparagraph (B) is sent; and

"(iii) during the period beginning on the date the confirmation notice described in subparagraph (B) is sent and ending on the date of the second general election for Federal office held after the date such notice is sent, the registrant has failed to notify the State in response to the notice that the registrant did not change his or her residence, or changed residence but remained in the registrar's jurisdiction.

"(B) A confirmation notice described in this subparagraph is a postage prepaid and pre-addressed return card, sent by forwardable mail, on which a registrant may state his or her current address, together with information concerning how the registrant can continue to be eligible to vote if the registrant has changed residence to a place outside the registrar's jurisdiction and a statement that the registrant may be removed from the official list of eligible voters if the registrant does not respond to the notice (during the period described in subparagraph (A)(iii)) by stating that the registrant did not change his or her residence, or changed residence but remained in the registrar's jurisdiction."

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—Section 8(i)(2) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1973gg-6(d)) is amended by inserting "or subsection (d)(3)" after "subsection (d)(2)".

SEC. —04. PERMITTING STATE TO REQUIRE VOTERS TO PRODUCE ADDITIONAL INFORMATION PRIOR TO VOTING.

(a) PHOTOGRAPHIC IDENTIFICATION.—Section 8 of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 (42 U.S.C. 1973gg-6) is amended—

(1) by redesignating subsection (j) as subsection (k); and

(2) by inserting after subsection (i) the following new subsection:

"(j) PERMITTING STATES TO REQUIRE VOTERS TO PRODUCE PHOTO IDENTIFICATION.—A State may require an individual to produce a valid photographic identification before receiving a ballot (other than an absentee ballot) for voting in an election for Federal office."

(b) SIGNATURE.—Section 8 of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1973gg-6), as amended by subsection (a), is further amended—

(1) by redesignating subsection (k) as subsection (l); and

(2) by inserting after subsection (j) the following new subsection:

"(k) PERMITTING STATES TO REQUIRE VOTERS TO PROVIDE SIGNATURE.—A State may require an individual to provide the individual's signature (in the presence of an election official at the polling place) before receiving a ballot for voting in an election for Federal office, other than an individual who is unable to provide a signature because of illiteracy or disability."

SEC. 05. REPEAL OF REQUIREMENT THAT STATES PERMIT REGISTRANTS CHANGING RESIDENCE TO VOTE AT POLLING PLACE FOR FORMER ADDRESS.

Section 8(e)(2) of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 (42 U.S.C. 1973gg-6(e)(2)) is amended—

(1) by striking "(2)(A)" and inserting "(2)"; and

(2) by striking "election, at the option of the registrant—" and all that follows and inserting the following: "election shall be permitted to correct the voting records for purposes of voting in future elections at the appropriate polling place for the current address and, if permitted by State law, shall be permitted to vote in the present election, upon confirmation by the registrant of the new address by such means as are required by law."

SEC. 06. EFFECTIVE DATE.

The amendments made by this title shall apply with respect to elections for Federal office occurring after December 1999.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Pursuant to the order of the House of Friday, July 17, 1998, the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. GOODLATTE) and a Member opposed each will control 20 minutes.

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent to claim the time in opposition.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Michigan?

There was no objection.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. GOODLATTE).

Mr. GOODLATTE. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, I rise today to offer an amendment to the Shays-Meehan substitute. This amendment contains common sense reforms that will restore integrity to our elections.

Mr. Chairman, voting is the most important responsibility of any citizen in a democracy. Many brave men and women have given their lives to protect our right to vote, to determine for ourselves the shape and direction of our government.

When individuals are allowed to abuse our electoral process, it destroys the integrity of our democracy. It erodes public confidence in the system and sends a signal to the American people that their vote does not count. It suggests that government is not really the people's but rather a tool of those who would corrupt it for their own personal gain. This breeds cynicism and destroys the motivation of our citizens to participate.

This amendment addresses the real problems of voter fraud that demean our democracy. In the past several years, Congress has tried to make it easier for American citizens to participate in the democratic process by enacting legislation which relaxes regulation and voting requirements.

We can all agree that this is a noble and responsible goal. In this effort, however, Congress has denied the States the ability to maintain reasonable requirements that protect the security and integrity of our elections. Therefore, we must act now to restore vital protections that ensure our elections will truly represent the will of the people.

This amendment restores integrity in our electoral system by targeting three major areas, the voter registration application process, the maintenance of voter rolls, and voting on election day. It is modeled after legislation I introduced last year and is also similar to legislation considered by the House earlier this year.

To address shortcomings in the voter registration system, the amendment requires anyone registering to vote to show proof of their citizenship. To make this provision feasible and to further improve the registration process, it repeals the Federal requirement that States must permit individuals to register by mail.

Let me be clear on this point. This amendment does not prevent States from allowing voter registration by mail. It simply gives States a choice by removing the current Federal mandate of mail in registration.

□ 2130

Currently there is no way to ensure that individuals registering by mail are actually United States citizens or if they are even who they say they are. The American people may be shocked to know there is essentially nothing to prevent an individual from mailing in a registration card with phony information and being allowed to vote.

Second, the amendment includes provisions to improve the ability of State election officials to maintain accurate voter rolls. It allows, not requires, but allows a State to purge the rolls or remove the names of voters from the Federal election rolls if they have not voted in two consecutive Federal elections and do not respond to a confirmation notice.

In addition, my amendment addresses the problem of double voting by repealing the provisions of current law that allow individuals who have recently moved within a county or district to vote at the voting location of either their old or their new address.

To combat voter fraud on election day, my amendment implements two important provisions. First, it permits, but does not mandate, that States require voters to sign their name before entering the voting booth. Then, if it becomes necessary to investigate an election, States will be able to compare the signatures on the voting lists with the signatures on the voter registration forms to verify identity.

Second, my amendment permits, but does not mandate, that States require individuals to produce photo ID's in order to vote in a Federal election. The amendment also includes a provision clarifying that none of these provisions interfere with the law governing overseas and military voting.

Mr. Chairman, the American people expect their elections to be clean, fair, and honest. This amendment restores the prestige that has long been an integral part of our Nation's electoral process.

I urge my colleagues to support this common sense amendment protecting our elections from fraud and abuse.

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

(Mr. LEVIN asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. Chairman, this proposal has nothing to do with campaign reform. What it would do would be to turn back a law that we passed a few years ago.

Why is it being done? It was said in a different time that money is the mother's milk of politics, but, unfortunately, increasingly there has been a poisoning of politics by money. Now, in order to thwart the effort to take the endless flow of money out of politics, to have responsibility and accountability, the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. GOODLATTE) is essentially presenting a poison pill, a poison pill to bring down Shays-Meehan. He knows very well, as should anybody who votes for it, that Shays-Meehan cannot become law with this provision in it.

The President has made clear his position about the motor-voter bill. It is very clear on this side of the aisle where we stand, and I am hopeful that those on the majority side who really want Shays-Meehan will say this: Look, we will argue motor-voter, but some other day.

The bill before us relates to the flow of money into politics. There are endless electoral provisions, endless, that could be brought up at this point that are not essentially related to money.

So what does this bill do? It essentially requires Social Security numbers on voter registration applications. Though there is question whether that is even constitutional, I think it is bad policy. You talk about intrusion by the Federal Government, and you want that requirement? You do not want to leave it to the States?

Also, there is a requirement regarding photo identification. Now, look, under present law, States can provide or require that kind of identification, as long as it is done in a uniform, non-discriminatory way and in compliance with the Voting Rights Act. Essentially, the gentleman from Virginia

(Mr. GOODLATTE) wants to repeal this part of the Voting Rights Act.

Also the provisions regarding mail-in requirements, now, I understand why some people do not like this. There are some who have made a calculus that the more who vote, the worse it is for them.

But that is violative of the democratic process, in my judgment. We should all be for encouraging more voters, not less. There are also provisions here about dropping people from the rolls for not voting, and I understand there is some controversy about this, about the law that we passed several years ago. But let us take it up in a forum, in a format, that does not threaten this bill.

Mr. Chairman, I would just close with this: We have an opportunity to act. Everybody sitting in this body knows better than anybody else the contamination caused by the endless anonymous flow of money. Everybody, worthy people who know more than virtually anybody else about this. And we should be the ones leading reform, not the ones waiting for an uprising.

This amendment, if adopted, would kill Shays-Meehan. If attached to the freshmen bill, if that were to come up, it would kill it. I think that is perhaps why it is being introduced here.

Mr. Chairman, I urge its defeat. Let us take up campaign finance reform as promised, and we will take up these other issues some other day.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. GOODLATTE. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself 30 seconds.

Mr. Chairman, our act only amends the so-called Motor-Voter Act, which is superseded by the Voting Rights Act, which is not affected by this legislation in any way, shape or form.

Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Florida (Mr. MCCOLLUM).

Mr. MCCOLLUM. Mr. Chairman, I rise to strongly support this amendment by the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. GOODLATTE). The gentleman and I have worked for a long time about trying to take fraud out of the motor-voter laws and out of the laws that exist today, the potential for fraud, throughout this Nation. I know the gentleman has no intention to offer this for any other purpose than to advance that cause.

There are two provisions within the gentleman's amendment identical to those which I put in in a separate bill for a separate session of Congress, two provisions that are supported by all 67 supervisors of elections in the State of Florida, both Democrat and Republican.

One of those that they all find critical to being able to fight voter fraud is to be able to purge the rolls every couple of years. They are not now permitted to do it. The cost that they have, they are enormous in carrying these rolls. There are many duplications on those rolls.

It is ridiculous to require that you cannot purge, and that is what the law today says, you cannot remove names. If proper notice is given, like the Goodlatte amendment requires, and confirmation notice follows it up, everybody is given an opportunity, if you have not voted in two consecutive Federal elections, the supervisor's office should certainly be allowed to purge the role and eliminate the name.

The other is the Social Security card question. Right now most supervisors do not feel that they have the authority to require the production of a Social Security number when somebody registers to vote. Having that number on record is very essential to avoid the duplication that occurs. Potentially when people have the same names, it is very, very bad. Twenty-one Jane Smiths do exist out there. What about people in other counties?

It is very important to have that provision in the law, and I strongly urge the adoption of this amendment for both of those reasons, but I fully support the entire provisions that are in this amendment, and urge a yes vote on the Goodlatte amendment.

Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman for yielding me time.

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. Chairman, I yield 4 minutes to the gentlewoman from California (Mrs. CAPPS).

(Mrs. CAPPS asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. CAPPS. Mr. Chairman, I rise today in support of the bipartisan Shays-Meehan campaign finance reform bill. Since my first day in office, I have been working hard with these two colleagues and many others to deliver meaningful, sensible reform of our beleaguered campaign finance system for the American people.

I am dismayed that some Members of this House have played partisan politics with common sense legislation. The amendment currently under debate is another attempt to derail Shays-Meehan and kill finance reform. The Goodlatte amendment would effectively repeal the mail-in registration provision of the motor-voter law.

During my recent special election, a massive vote-by-mail drive conducted both by my campaign and my opponent's campaign led to overwhelming voter participation. In fact, our special election witnessed the highest voter turnout in a special election in the history of elections in California. Without mail-in registration, many hard working men and women would not have been able to vote.

Registering to vote and getting to the polls is often difficult for people who struggle to balance their jobs with the need to drive their kids to and from school and other activities. Terminating mail-in registration would also, for obvious reasons, disenfranchise elderly and disabled voters. The current motor-voter law has been tremendously successful. Currently we have the highest percentage of voter registration, 73 percent, since reliable voting records were first made available in 1960.

Mr. Chairman, do we only want people to register to vote who are young, able-bodied and have flexible schedules? Clearly the answer is no.

I am also very concerned with the provision in this amendment which would allow States to require a photo ID in order to vote. A variant of this idea was implemented during my special election in March, and it had disastrous results.

The Secretary of State of California asked poll workers to request that voters voluntarily submit their driver's licenses to clean up the voter data base. This seemingly innocent request led to many troubling incidents. One elderly Santa Barbara woman went to her polling location only to be told she could not vote because she failed to produce a driver's license.

This woman, who no longer drove a car, had voted in every election as long as she could remember. She no longer had any need for a photo ID and was distraught when told she could not vote. Finally a poll worker allowed the woman's husband to vouch for her identity.

In addition, poll workers did not consistently enforce the Secretary of State's request. Voters in areas that have larger Hispanic populations were required to show driver's licenses more often than voters in more affluent, predominantly white neighborhoods.

This program, which was scheduled to be implemented throughout the State, has since been cancelled. Actually voter registration, when effectively implemented, provides the voter with all the ID necessary. If you are adequately registered, you have the right to vote.

Requiring voters to show a photo ID is intimidating to new voters who are still unsure of the process. This action inadvertently leads to discrimination against voters of different races and nationalities. In all likelihood, someone who looks like me would not be asked to produce a photo ID at my polling location, but a Latino American or Asian American would be.

We need to be implementing laws that encourage voter participation, rather than chasing away eligible voters already engaged in the process. I urge a no vote to this amendment, and I hope we will pass the Shays-Meehan bill very soon.

Mr. GOODLATTE. Mr. Chairman, it is my pleasure to yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. SMITH).

Mr. SMITH of Texas. Mr. Chairman, I thank my friend from Virginia for yielding me time.

Mr. Chairman, I strongly support the Goodlatte amendment to restore integrity to elections. There is no more revered right of citizenship than the right to vote. The 1996 Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act made it both a Federal crime and a deportable offense when noncitizens vote.

Allowing noncitizens to vote cheapens the right for the rest of us. There is currently no satisfactory way for local registrars to ensure that there are no noncitizens on their voting rolls or for the Justice Department to enforce the penalties. Attempts have been made to check voting rolls against Immigration and Naturalization Service records in order to identify noncitizens. However, INS data, at best, can only tell us that a voter is a legal immigrant or a citizen. INS data cannot tell us whether a voter is in fact an illegal alien.

I want to thank my friend from Virginia (Mr. GOODLATTE) for offering this amendment. The enactment of the motor-voter law and the loosening of voter registration requirements have released a flood of voter irregularities and illegalities across the country. Not only has motor-voter failed to increase voter turnout, it in fact has encouraged voter fraud.

I urge my colleagues to support this amendment and let the American people know that we will protect and honor their right to vote, and restore integrity to the election process.

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. MENENDEZ).

Mr. MENENDEZ. Mr. Chairman, it is ironic in a bill designed to encourage the faith of the American people in the political process we would see an amendment like this that is a veritable wish-list of provisions to discourage voter participation. Our rate of voter participation is low enough as it is. We should be encouraging people to get involved, not throwing up roadblocks.

□ 2145

This amendment actually allows the State to remove one from the voter rolls if one fails to vote in two consecutive elections. Now, I wish everyone would vote in every election, but since when does one have to vote in every election to maintain one's right to vote, or in every two elections? I think most Americans would find that outrageous. This is a constitutional right we are talking about taking away, and why? Because the person missed an election? Voter registration by mail is an important option for people who are homebound or who have limited access to transportation. Why would we take away that option? What evidence is there that this is encouraging voter fraud?

Perhaps worst of all, this amendment gives the States free rein to require additional information to vote, including a photo I.D. and so-called proof of citizenship, yet we already know from the now totally discredited Dornan investigation that our, meaning the Federal Government's current records, produced all sorts of mistakes. Nuns and our own military men and women were falsely accused of illegal voting. We know that selective enforcement of such I.D. will be applied to those who may not have blond hair or blue eyes or otherwise be considered typically American. Is that the type of system we want to make nationwide? I hope not.

The question is, are we going to encourage voter participation and make it convenient for our citizens to vote, or are we going to turn the voting process into a system of government background checks, interrogations and false accusations?

The ballot box should be a place of sanctity and freedom, not of distrust and suspicion.

This amendment should be defeated. It is anti-voter, it is anti-participation, and it is anti-democratic.

Mr. GOODLATTE. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Arizona (Mr. HAYWORTH).

Mr. HAYWORTH. Mr. Chairman, I thank my friend from Virginia for yielding me this time.

Mr. Chairman, I rise tonight in strong support of this amendment, because far from being a poison pill, it carries to the logical conclusion what we should all be about in this Chamber, and that is the elimination of corruption in the campaign and election process. The election is the logical culmination of the campaign. Mr. Chairman, we should stand foursquare for the legitimate rights of United States citizens to vote in open and honest elections. The Goodlatte amendment helps ensure this.

Mr. Chairman, I have spent part of this weekend in the Pleasant Valley of Arizona in the tiny hamlet of Young, and people there came and asked me, they said, "When we go to the city and go to buy something at a grocery store with a check, we have to show two forms of identification. But under current United States law, we require no identification to claim citizenship to vote."

Mr. Chairman, reasonable people would call for this rational reform for open, fair and free elections.

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. FARR), a leader in this entire effort.

Mr. FARR of California. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman for yielding me this time.

I am sitting here tonight wondering what is happening to us. Have we become so suspicious of our own country that we do not believe in democracy anymore? This debate is supposed to be about campaign finance reform, and now we are debating an amendment that says we do not trust the people who are asking to participate in our democracy.

The gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS) and I were both in the Peace Corps. We were so proud of talking about what is the governance structure of this country. I have to tell my colleagues that this amendment tonight is going too far. This says we do not trust the people out there; we do not want to be a government by the people.

We are sitting here in this room with all of these law-givers around us, and I realize that not one of them, except for Thomas Jefferson, was a citizen. But how could we prove he was a citizen, because when he was born, there was no country. So the people we respect we now deny with these kinds of amendments in saying that if one is an American, one has to prove it.

Which one of us walks around with any kind of proof that shows that you are an American citizen? Show me. There is not one thing on your body that has it. Not a driver's license, not a credit card. It does not say you are a citizen of America, but this amendment is going to require it, an I.D. with a photo. One has to have a Social Security card and put down Social Security numbers, driver's license numbers?

The American public is going to say, what are you doing to us? Is this what you require of us to participate in a democracy that is of the people, by the people and for the people? My God, this is the country that did away with literacy tests to allow people to vote, and poll taxes, and now we are putting it back on in indirect ways.

We should look before we leap with these kinds of amendments. This is a bill about congressional campaign reform, about finance reform, about how we pay for elections; not how we distrust the voters of America. I think we are doing a pretty good job and I think our forefathers would be ashamed of us in thinking of this kind of an amendment.

Mr. GOODLATTE. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. TAUZIN).

Mr. TAUZIN. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman for yielding me this time.

Mr. Chairman, we recently had an election in Louisiana under the "motor voter" law. That election left us with a huge and extended voter inquiry by the Senate committee questioning the outcome of that Senate race. The reason that happened in our State was, the allegations of people registering improperly and then voting multiple times by simply changing outer garments and coats and walking back in the polls and voting again, the reason all of that happened was because the election safeguards in our State completely broke down. The Senate committee that investigated that election ended up saying, "We cannot tell you whether or not voter fraud occurred in Louisiana, because all of the systems by which we ought to be able to tell whether it occurred broke down."

A newspaper in Lake Charles using the motor voter law attempted to register 21 fictitious individuals and ended up registering 19 successfully. One of them was a dog, and anyone representing themselves to be that person that was a dog could have shown up on Election Day in Louisiana and voted because this was no requirement in the law then to produce any photo I.D. Since that time, the Federal Government has finally allowed Louisiana to require a photo I.D. It is now the law of Louisiana, now approved by the Justice Department in our State following that terrible, indeed questionable election in Louisiana.

What this amendment does is to do two things that I think are vitally important to improve the motor voter law in our country. It says that the States can indeed provide mail balloting if they want to, mail registration, but that if they do, proof of citizenship should be required.

We ought to know who is registering. We should be able to prove who we are; and then, secondly, when one shows up to vote, there ought to be some identifiable photo, just as one would present a photo when one checks one's luggage at an airport or try to buy tobacco in a grocery store, some identifiable indication of who you are, that you are the person who is registering. Those two changes are critical for valid elections in America.

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. CAMPBELL), surely a leader in the campaign reform effort.

Mr. CAMPBELL. Mr. Chairman, I thank my generous friend for his kind comments.

If I might engage the author for just a second of clarification, I would be so grateful, if he would care to respond. I would inquire of the gentleman, does the gentleman's amendment require the use of the Social Security number in order to vote?

Mr. GOODLATTE. Mr. Chairman, if the gentleman will yield, the amendment does call for a Social Security number and proof of citizenship to register to vote.

Mr. CAMPBELL. Mr. Chairman, reclaiming my time, I appreciate the gentleman answering me. The gentleman from Virginia has been honest and fair in his representation of his amendment; nevertheless, it greatly troubles me, and I am sorry that the gentleman added that to his bill. We should not require the use of the Social Security number in that way.

I will tell my colleagues why. First of all, it gets pretty close to the national I.D. and I have always tried to prevent that from happening. Secondly, the Social Security number is a matter of privacy to a whole lot of us, and if we require it, we are going to have that on the voter registration rolls and people are going to find out what one's Social Security number is, and from that a lot of things can be done to identify somebody that they may not otherwise have.

It probably is not the gentleman's intention, but he moves us one step along the way that motor voter moved us, and I voted "no" on motor voter because I thought it was too much Federal intrusion into States' rights in establishing what are the qualifications for voting.

The Constitution says that it is the States that are responsible for determining the qualifications for electors. The Constitution says it is the same qualifications as electors for the most numerous branch of the State legislature. So we in California, we get to decide that. You in Virginia and in your legislature would get to decide that. But motor voter said no, we are going to have Federal rolls.

Well now, again, no doubt with the best intentions, I think the gentleman from Virginia is moving us farther along that way by saying the Federal Government mandates that this shall also be a qualification for election, namely the use of a Social Security number, even though the Constitution says for Federal elections, for Federal elections, it is the business of the States. I regret I must oppose this amendment.

Mr. GOODLATTE. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume to quickly say that this in no way establishes a national I.D. card. This is simply for the purpose of the security of the ballots.

I agree with gentleman's concern about the motor voter laws that mandated so many requirements on the States, and this repeals a great many of those mandates upon the States, and it does not use that number for any purpose, nor does it permit it for any additional purpose other than an establishment of the individual's citizenship in this country.

Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from California (Mr. ROHRABACHER).

Mr. ROHRABACHER. Mr. Chairman, I rise in strong support of this amendment. What we are talking about is the elimination of what we Californians who are aware of what is going on call the illegal alien voter registration act, which was called by this body the motor voter act.

This amendment makes real the alleged purpose of the bill that we are talking about. We are talking about reforming the political process to ensure that election results will reflect the will of the American people. Well, there is nothing better that we can do to accomplish this end than to protect the rights of our own people by making sure that the election process and the sanctity of the ballot is protected, to ensure that American votes are not made meaningless by the votes of millions of noncitizens, many of whom have come here illegally.

Back in 1993 when the Democratic Party controlled both Houses of Congress, they established rules that went far too far to open up the system, and thus they left the system opened up to incredible abuse. We are trying to bring balance back to that, ensure the sanctity of the ballot for the will of the American people. Support this amendment.

Mr. LEVIN. Could I ask the Chairman once again to give us the time remaining on each side?

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The gentleman from Michigan has 6½ minutes remaining; the gentleman from Virginia has 7 minutes remaining.

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1½ minutes to the distinguished gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. Jackson-Lee).

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman for his kindness.

I wonder what President JOHNSON would have thought as he signed the Voter Rights Act of 1965, where so many people had been left out of the circle of empowerment, were denied the right to vote, but on the sweat and tears and the advocacy of those who watched and walked, those of us who looked like me were able to vote.

This is legislation is the killer weed legislation. It is to destroy campaign finance reforms. It stings and it hurts. It denies truck drivers and welfare mothers and laborers and domestics who have inflexible time the ability to go and vote. It purges people from the right to vote, from the voter polls, and it is unconstitutional.

A 4th Circuit case in 1993 said that if you require someone to use their Social Security number in order to vote, you deny them the right of the 1st and 14th Amendments. It is unconstitutional. We know what you are saying here. People with different names, people that come from different walks of life, whose skin color is different, this is to get these kinds of folk off of the polls.

What are we talking about here in America? The right to vote. My view is that all Americans want everyone to have the right to vote, yes, and to vote legally.

□ 2200

The States can determine whether one is legally able to vote. They can require ID when voters go to the polls. Mr. Chairman, this is not campaign finance reform. It is killer bee legislation. It is destructive legislation. It destroys the right to vote. It infringes on privacy.

It says to those who could be intimidated, "We will intimidate you," and it says to those who died for those to vote that their life was in vain.

Mr. Chairman, I ask my colleagues to vote against this bill that destroys democracy in America.

Mr. GOODLATTE. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. HORN).

Mr. HORN. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. GOODLATTE) for yielding me this time, and I congratulate him on his proposal.

Mr. Chairman, I grew up in California where we had honest elections. We did not at the turn of the century, but a great progressive Republican governor, Hiram Johnson, turned that State around.

We no longer have honest elections in parts of California. The fact is in my own district, a section of San Pedro, the person who was the assassin of the Mexican presidential nominee happened to live in my district. He registered twice. He was not an American citizen.

I think anyone who says, hey, that it does not matter whether a voter is a citizen, I cannot believe it. People come here to become citizens. My father was an immigrant and his proudest day was when he became a citizen and could vote.

There is no reason we should not require proof. Photo ID? We do not get on an airplane flight in this country without showing a photo ID. Do my colleagues who oppose this amendment mean to say that an airplane flight has greater weight than proof of citizenship in an election at the polls? Of course the proof of citizenship should be there.

The fact is we just voted for a proposal to stop the walking around money. Now we know in Texas and other areas there is great use of some of the walking around money. People coming across the border. The Duke of Duval County decided Texas elections by hundreds and thousands of votes that he illegally put on the rolls.

On the purging of the rolls, I recall our friends on the other side of the aisle who in 1993 dominated that Congress. When it was put to them: Should we not purge the rolls at least in 5 years or 10 years? "No, you cannot do it," they said. How about 25 years? "No, you cannot do it." How about 50 years? Can we not say that those people who have never voted for 50 years and are still on the rolls must not still be around? "No," we were told by the then majority "sorry, cannot do it." And then we got to a hundred years in an amendment offered by the distinguished gentleman from Louisiana [Mr. LIVINGSTON] who knows where fraud is.

Mr. Chairman, I would say let us back citizenship when it comes to American elections. Let us have honest elections.

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from California (Ms. WATERS).

Ms. WATERS. Mr. Chairman, this is a poison pill proposal designed to kill campaign finance reform. Pure and simple. But what is amazing about what the Republicans are doing here tonight is that it is anti-American, that it disregards States rights, that it is an intrusion into the privacy of American citizens.

Just a little while ago we voted with the Republicans to deny the right to spend one dollar to help a senior citizen to the polling place on Election Day. Now we have a proposal that would say voters have to present a Social Security number and card and proof of citizenship. Well, all of this is undermining the voting rights of all of our citizens and, of course, the Voting Rights Act that so many fought and even died for.

What are my colleagues on the other side doing? Are they taking us back to the time that many of us know too much about? Literacy tests? Poll tax?

Well, some of us and our forefathers have been in this struggle. They have been in this fight to get rid of that kind of discrimination and marginalization and denial. Some of us even joined to help our friends in South Africa against national ID, known as pass laws. We are not going back there.

Mr. Chairman, if this is some attempt to kill the bill, let me just tell my colleagues this. It does not matter whether or not they are able to convince people on this floor to vote for this kind of anti-American proposal. We will beat them in the courts on this, because this is unconstitutional.

So I would hope that my colleagues would live up to who they are supposed to be. I cannot imagine what the American people will think about the kinds of things that they are doing that are so anti-American. This is unconstitutional, and I ask for a "no" vote.

Mr. GOODLATTE. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. EHLERS).

(Mr. EHLERS asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. EHLERS. Mr. Chairman, a very fundamental question in the American democracy is how do we ensure that voters are legal voters? What is the purpose of voter registration? It is, pure and simple, to prevent fraud.

We have to recognize that the laws of this land are written to control the bad folks, not the good folks. And I do not think it is an insult to Americans to have voter registration. But if we have registration, there has to be some requirement that the people have met the requirements of the registration laws. How do we do this? By checking identification when someone registers to vote.

If we prohibit that, if we have simple mail-in voting registration for anyone that wishes, then why have registration at all? Why not just simply use the poll directory or the telephone directory and check people off on that as they vote?

If we are going to have a voter registration and the purpose of it is to prevent fraud, we have to ensure that fraudulent behavior does not take place and this bill will do that.

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the distinguished gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS), co-author of this legislation in the battle for reform.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. LEVIN) for yielding me this time.

Mr. Chairman, I voted for the motor voter bill and I did so as a Member who represents Stanford, Norwalk, and Bridgeport. I represent the problems that we have in urban areas and the need to encourage people to register and vote.

I am troubled that this amendment requires a Social Security number to register to vote. I am troubled that the State would put more requirements on voter ID. States are allowed now to have voter IDs, but there are certain requirements that they be done uniformly.

I believe if citizens have not voted they should not be dropped from the rolls. I just happen to believe that. And this would allow States to drop voters who happen not to vote.

It would repeal the Maryland registration, which has done a wonderful job of registering not just Democrats, as everyone feared, but Republicans and Independents. In fact, more Independents have registered than Democrats or Republicans. I think this has increased involvement in the process, and I regret sincerely that in a vote on campaign finance reform we have this issue which is dealing with something very, very different.

Mr. GOODLATTE. Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. Chairman, I yield the balance of my time to the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. DAVIS).

(Mr. DAVIS of Illinois asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. LEVIN) for yielding me this time.

Mr. Chairman, I rise today in opposition to any measure that seeks so-called citizenship verification. At a time when voter turnout is lower than low, we must encourage rather than discourage citizens of this great Nation from voting.

Clearly, the history of discrimination against voters in this country should admonish this Congress that State and local governments may interpret Federal laws differently. Yet this amendment would allow States the privilege of requiring voters to provide proof of citizenship and a Social Security number when registering to vote.

I ask is this flawed process of verifying citizenship just another version of modern day Jim Crow? How many of our citizens are supposed to provide proof citizenship when neither the INS nor the Social Security agency kept naturalization records until 1978?

So I ask this Congress since when has a citizen's honor not been enough? When a person swears that they are indeed a citizen of the United States of America, they do so with the understanding that if they are incorrect they are perjuring themselves.

I say let us go forward, Mr. Chairman, and not backwards. Let us vote down this amendment and move America into the 21st century with democracy, equality and justice for all.

Mr. GOODLATTE. Mr. Chairman, for the purpose of closing the debate, it is my pleasure to yield the balance of my time to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. DELAY), the majority whip.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The gentleman from Texas (Mr. DELAY) is recognized for 4 minutes.

Mr. DELAY. Mr. Chairman, I really appreciate the gentleman from Virginia bringing this because it is amazing to me only the supporters of Shays-Meehan can define what reform is. Anybody else that brings anything to this bill are not supporters of reform.

Well, I say that we just think reform is maybe a little bit different than the supporters of Shays-Meehan, and this is a perfect campaign reform bill.

Let us just get rid of all the red her-rings that have been put out in this debate. This is not national ID cards. This is not using Social Security numbers to vote. This is not even a poison pill. What this is talking about is that just like if you were getting a driver's license, you have to prove that you are a certain age. You have to bring a birth certificate. You have to prove that you know how to drive to get your driver's license.

For the most important act that Americans can do, the right to vote, you would think that it would be an honor to bring proof of citizenship to the table when you are registering to vote; not every time you vote. When you do go vote you pull out your driver's license or whatever to show that you are indeed the person that you say you are standing in front of the voting election judge and proving that you are that person.

What is wrong with that? It is very simple. Since enactment of the motor voter law, we have seen an increase in voting fraud across this country, and much of the increase is due to the provisions of the bill that prohibits States from removing registrants who fail to vote or who are unresponsive to voter registration correspondence.

Because of the lack of fraud provisions in the motor voter law, we have the modern world's sloppiest electoral system, according to political scientist Walter Dean Burnham. The year-long investigation of the Dornan-Sanchez House race established 624 documented cases of noncitizens voting, noncitizens voting, in American elections; another 124 voters cast improper absentee ballots; an additional 196 votes may well have been legal but only circumstantial evidence existed.

As of 1994, in Houston County, Alabama, a man who has been dead for 7 years has been recorded as voting regularly by absentee ballot. In Washington, D.C., an astonishing 1 of every 6 registered voters cannot be reached at their address of record. The city has lost 100,000 people since 1980, but registration has shot up to 86 percent of eligible voters from only 58 percent.

Felons, dead people, nonresidents and fictitious registrations clog the rolls in Washington, D.C., where anyone can walk up and vote without even showing an ID. The Miami Herald has found that 105 ballots in last year's undisputed mayoral election was cast by felons. Last month, a local grand jury concluded that absentee ballot fraud clearly played an important part in the recent City of Miami elections. This called into question the legitimacy of the results.

Nine dead San Franciscans in 1997 were recorded as casting votes from beyond the grave in the June 49ers Stadium election, according to an analysis of city voter files and death records.

Everyone supports the right to vote, but an equally important right is the guarantee of elections that are fair and free of fraud. Without the Goodlatte amendment, a growing number of States cannot guarantee the integrity of their results and that inevitably will lead to an increasing cynicism and disenchantment with the process. Let us help end voter fraud in America and adopt the Goodlatte amendment.

Mr. DELAY. Mr. Chairman, I rise in support of the amendment offered by my friend from Virginia, Mr. GOODLATTE. This amendment includes several anti-fraud provisions targeting both illegal registration and illegal voting.

Since enactment of the Motor Voter law, we have seen an increase in vote fraud across the country. Much of the increase is due to the provisions of the bill that prohibits States from removing registrants who fail to vote or who are unresponsive to voter registration correspondence.

Because of the lack of fraud provisions in the Motor Voter law, "We have the modern world's sloppiest electoral systems," according to political scientist Walter Dean Burnham.

The yearlong investigation of the Dornan-Sanchez House race established 624 "documented" cases of non-citizens voting. Another 124 voters cast improper absentee ballots. An additional 196 votes may well have been illegal, but only circumstantial evidence existed.

As of 1994, in Houston County, Alabama, a man who has been dead for seven years has been recorded as voting regularly by absentee ballot.

In Washington, D.C., an astonishing one of every six registered voters can't be reached at their address of record. The city has lost 100,000 people since 1980, but registration has shot up to 86% of eligible voters from only 58%. Felons, dead people, non-residents and fictitious registrations clog the rolls in Washington, where anyone can walk up and vote without showing I.D.

The Miami Herald has found that 105 ballots in last year's disputed mayoral election were cast by felons. Last month a local grand jury concluded: "absentee ballot fraud clearly played an important part in the recent City of Miami elections." This "called into question the legitimacy of the results."

Nine dead San Franciscans in 1997 were recorded as casting votes from beyond the grave in the June 49ers stadium election, according to an analysis of city voter files and death records.

Everyone supports the right to vote, but an equally important right is the guarantee of elections that are fair and free of fraud. Without the Goodlatte amendment, a growing number of states can't guarantee the integrity of their results, and that inevitably will lead to an increasing cynicism and disenchantment with the democratic process.

The Goodlatte amendment will help end voter fraud in America. I urge its adoption.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. All time has expired.

The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. GOODLATTE) to the amendment in the nature of a substitute No. 13 offered by the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS).

The question was taken; and the Chairman pro tempore announced that the ayes appeared to have it.

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. Chairman, I demand a recorded vote.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 442, further proceedings on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Virginia will be postponed.

□ 2215

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore (Mr. BARR of Georgia). It is now in order to consider the amendment by the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. WICKER).

AMENDMENT OFFERED BY MR. WICKER TO THE AMENDMENT IN THE NATURE OF A SUBSTITUTE NO. 13 OFFERED BY MR. SHAYS

Mr. WICKER. Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment to the amendment in the nature of a substitute.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Amendment offered by Mr. WICKER to the amendment in the nature of a substitute No. 13 offered by Mr. SHAYS:

Add at the end the following new title:

TITLE _____—PHOTO IDENTIFICATION REQUIREMENT FOR VOTERS

SEC. ____01. PERMITTING STATE TO REQUIRE VOTERS TO PRODUCE PHOTOGRAPHIC IDENTIFICATION.

Section 8 of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 (42 U.S.C. 1973gg-6) is amended—

(1) by redesignating subsection (j) as subsection (k); and

(2) by inserting after subsection (i) the following new subsection:

The CHAIRMAN. Pursuant to the order of the House of Friday, July 17, 1998, the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. WICKER) and a Member opposed each will control 20 minutes.

Mr. WICKER. Mr. Chairman, after consultation with the other side, I ask unanimous consent that all debate on this amendment be limited to 10 minutes, 5 minutes per side.

The CHAIRMAN. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Mississippi?

There was no objection.

Mr. WICKER. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, I appreciate the opponents of this amendment agreeing to a further limitation on time to speed the debate along. We have already debated, actually, a good bit of this amendment in the previous amendment.

What this amendment amounts to is simply a portion of the amendment offered by the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. GOODLATTE). It is that portion permitting States to require voter I.D. This amendment does not deal with citizenship requirements, it does not deal at all with registration, it simply says that States have a right to determine when someone comes to vote that they are who they say they are and that they may do so by the means of photo I.D.

Mr. Chairman, this is not a mandate on States, which some of my colleagues are very fearful of, but simply permission. It is the essence of Federalism. One of my colleagues from the minority side of the aisle mentioned the issue of States rights. I was delighted to hear her say that just a few moments ago. This is Federalism. This permits States, if they choose to, to require photo I.D.

We have heard a lot of talk during the course of this debate over time about corruption of our political process. I am one, Mr. Chairman, who feels that there is corruption in our political process, but it is not caused by too many commercials being run on TV, it is not caused by too much money being available to buy too many advertisements. The corruption is in voter fraud.

In far too many States and districts there are ineligible people voting. There are people going to the polls saying they are someone and, indeed, it turns out that they are not eligible to vote. Now, none other than the distinguished Professor Larry Sabato, from the University of Virginia, concurs in this feeling. Professor Sabato believes that the enactment of the Federal Motor Voter Law of 1993 will cause an increase in voter fraud. This amendment amends only a small portion of the Motor Voter Law. And, as I said, it takes that portion of the Goodlatte amendment and allows States the right.

We have heard the information provided by the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. TAUZIN) tonight about the Louisiana election, and the Louisiana legislature in response to the allegations there. They may have thought, we do not know exactly what the facts are, we do not know who was right and who was wrong, but we do want to prevent this in the future. And what was the solution of the Louisiana legislature? It was to permit voter photo I.D. In Florida, the State legislature was so horrified at the 1997 mayoral election that the legislature there enacted photo I.D. The State of Hawaii already has such a requirement on the books.

We are simply saying that other States should feel clear and unrestricted in also pursuing that course and should not feel that the 1993 Motor Voter Law prevents them from doing so. In the United States of America we require a photo I.D. for millions of people to do any number of acts: To cash a check, to board an airplane, or to buy a beer. Why can States not require a photo identification for participating in Federal elections, one of the most solemn acts of citizenship?

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. MEEHAN. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

This amendment, like the previous amendment, has nothing to do with campaign finance reform. States already are able to require identification at the polls. They simply cannot discriminate in the way that they apply the information that is required. Under Federal law presently States can require identification at the polls, but with a very important caveat: So long as such a requirement is applied in a way that is uniform and does not discriminate in compliance with the Voting Rights Act.

I would remind the gentleman from Mississippi that this country has a history and a record of discriminating against the rights of people to vote. That is why the Voting Rights Act was adopted in this country. This amendment would overturn and eliminate the protections that are in the Voting Rights Act against discrimination. It has nothing to do with campaign finance reform and would overturn very important protections against discrimination in this country. That is why this amendment is unnecessary.

Once again we have a sponsor of an amendment that does not support campaign finance reform putting up another obstacle towards passing this bill. And as we approach the hour of 10:30, there are still more efforts to water down and try to find a way to put up an impediment to passing campaign finance reform.

Mr. Chairman, I yield the balance of my time to the gentleman from South Carolina (Mr. WATT), a member of the Committee on the Judiciary.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. WATT) is recognized for 3 minutes.

Mr. WATT of North Carolina. Mr. Chairman, they say those are fighting words down there where I come from, when you say somebody is from South Carolina.

(Mr. WATT of North Carolina asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. WATT of North Carolina. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman for yielding me this time.

We were rocking along here, I thought, talking about campaign finance reform, and all of a sudden we took off in a whole different direction. We are talking about reform, yes, maybe, but what voter I.D.s have to do with campaign finance, what registration requirements have to do with campaign finance, I am having a little trouble connecting up.

If we are going to talk about these kinds of issues, let us remind ourselves what democracy is all about. It is about allowing people and encouraging people to vote, not putting impediments in the way, not discriminating against citizens, not singling some people out and saying we do not like the way they look so we are going to deprive them of the right to vote by making them produce some kind of arbitrary identification or Social Security number or something.

A couple of years ago the South African folks finally had a democratic election. Do my colleagues think South Africa ever required anybody to register to vote? No. I always wonder, why is it necessary to even have a registration? If we allowed this identification process, and we did it in tandem with abolishing registration, then maybe it would be a good thing. Because people could show up, if they were citizens of the United States, and say I am a citizen, I have not registered, that is arbitrary, let me vote. That would further democracy.

But when we start putting impediments in the way of registration and then putting more impediments in the way of voting after one has registered, then we have to wonder, is this about reform, does it have anything to do with finance, is it even about democracy? And that is what we have got to keep our eye on; to encourage people to participate in our democracy, not put our country behind any other country in the world. When people talk about democracy, they ought to instinctively think about the United States of America. We should not allow them to instinctively think about a new democracy which has had only one election.

Mr. Chairman, we should defeat this amendment and pass the Shays-Meehan bill.

Mr. WICKER. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself the balance of my time, and in that 1 minute I have to close let me point out a couple of things.

My friends on the other side of the aisle say we are talking about campaign finance reform, not voter fraud. I have the title of this bill right here, Mr. Chairman. It is H.R. 2183, the Bipartisan Campaign Integrity Act. The Campaign Integrity Act. I submit to my colleagues that if anything threatens the integrity of our elections in the United States of America, it is campaign fraud.

All this amendment does is, I will quote, "Permitting States to require voters to produce photo identification." And I quote, "A State may require an individual to produce a valid photographic identification before receiving a ballot for voting in an election for Federal office."

Mr. Chairman, this goes to the precious commodity of democracy in the franchise in this Nation. It is a very simple amendment and I move its adoption.

The CHAIRMAN. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. WICKER) to the amendment in the nature of a substitute offered by the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS).

The question was taken; and the Chairman pro tempore announced that the ayes appeared to have it.

Mr. CAMPBELL. Mr. Chairman, I demand a recorded vote.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 442, further proceedings on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. WICKER) will be postponed.

It is now in order to consider the amendment offered by the gentleman from Kansas (Mr. SNOWBARGER).

AMENDMENT OFFERED BY MR. SNOWBARGER TO THE AMENDMENT IN THE NATURE OF A SUBSTITUTE NO. 13 OFFERED BY MR. SHAYS

Mr. SNOWBARGER. Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment to the amendment in the nature of a substitute.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Amendment offered by Mr. SNOWBARGER to the amendment in the nature of a substitute No. 13 offered by Mr. SHAYS:

TITLE—ENHANCING ENFORCEMENT OF CAMPAIGN LAW

SEC. .01. ENHANCING ENFORCEMENT OF CAMPAIGN FINANCE LAW.

(a) MANDATORY IMPRISONMENT FOR CRIMINAL CONDUCT.—Section 309(d)(1)(A) of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (2 U.S.C. 437g(d)(1)(A)) is amended—

(1) in the first sentence, by striking “shall be fined, or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both” and inserting “shall be imprisoned for not fewer than 1 year and not more than 10 years”; and

(2) by striking the second sentence.

(b) CONCURRENT AUTHORITY OF ATTORNEY GENERAL TO BRING CRIMINAL ACTIONS.—Section 309(d) of such Act (2 U.S.C. 437g(d)) is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

“(4) In addition to the authority to bring cases referred pursuant to subsection (a)(5), the Attorney General may at any time bring a criminal action for a violation of this Act or of chapter 95 or chapter 96 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.”

(c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall apply with respect to actions brought with respect to elections occurring after January 1999.

The CHAIRMAN. Pursuant to the order of the House of Friday, July 17, 1998, the gentleman from Kansas (Mr. SNOWBARGER) and the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS) each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Kansas (Mr. SNOWBARGER).

Mr. SNOWBARGER. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I rise tonight to offer an amendment to the Shays-Meehan substitute to address a serious problem with our Nation's campaign finance system.

This problem really hit home to me as we were investigating various things in the Committee on Government Reform and Oversight this year. Among the thousands and thousands of documents that were presented to us from the White House was a memo from the Clinton-Gore campaign which indicated in the memo that about $1 million was set aside in the campaign budget to pay fines.

□ 2230

In the margin of that document was the word “ugh” written in the President's handwriting.

It seemed to me at that point in time that one of the problems that we have with our current campaign finance system is the enforcement of that system. If it is merely a matter of making sure that they have enough money in their budget to cover the fines, then obviously the fines are not much of a deterrent to behavior that is possibly illegal.

Far too often Federal regulations have unintended consequences, and our campaign finance system is just one acute example of that. It is complicated. It is difficult to navigate. And in fact, the average first-time candidates have to consult both a lawyer and an accountant before mounting a serious campaign, and this is a serious problem I would like to see changed.

However, I think the biggest problem is that the system is not accountable and we need to make it more transparent and violations of existing law severely punished. My amendment tonight accomplishes one of these important goals by increasing the punishment options available to judges.

The current penalty regime for willful and knowing violations of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 provides for up to 1 year of imprisonment for these types of willful violations. My amendment would simply increase the penalty discretion available to judges to no more than 10 years and no fewer than 1 year. Hopefully, this will allow the judge to take all factors into account. And more importantly, Mr. Chairman, my amendment will force candidates that want to play fast and loose with the rules to think long and hard before they decide to engage in what I would term playing fast and loose.

One other provision of my amendment would allow the Justice Department the option of taking direct jurisdiction and not waiting for a referral from the Federal Election Commission before starting an investigation and a prosecution.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, I oppose this amendment, and I would like to explain why. First, under the present law the fine is $10,000 or 200 percent of the fraudulent contribution; and we increase that to $20,000 or 300 percent in our legislation.

But if I am reading this legislation properly, I think the gentleman from Kansas (Mr. SNOWBARGER) has a mandatory sentence of not less than a year, not fewer than 1 year, and not more than 10. And if the gentleman were willing to eliminate the mandatory sentence and reduce it to 5 years, I think we could find an accommodation. But it is a concern that there would be a mandatory minimum.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SNOWBARGER. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Just in brief response, Mr. Chairman, the requirement of a minimum amount of time is, in essence, what the bill is all about. What we are suggesting is that if somebody willfully violates the campaign finance laws, that there ought to be a criminal penalty for this and not just fines.

As I indicated earlier, one of the reasons that fines do not seem to work is that all they need to do is create a larger budget and raise enough money to pay those fines and that is not much of a deterrent to complying with whatever campaign finance law we have in place.

I can appreciate the offer of the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS) and thank him for it, but I think it is the essence. Perhaps the upper limit could be reduced to a lesser amount. But I think the key to this bill is the minimum of one year and to stick with that.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

The CHAIRMAN (Mr. BARR of Georgia). The Chair will inform that the gentleman from Kansas (Mr. SNOWBARGER) has 1½ minutes remaining and has the right to close, and the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS) has 4 minutes remaining.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I yield 4 minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. CAMPBELL) to flesh out a little bit more what the amendment does.

Mr. CAMPBELL. Mr. Chairman, I might be able to support it. I just wanted to ask a couple questions.

As the gentleman knows, we passed the amendment of the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. SMITH) earlier tonight. It is my understanding that his amendment brought the penalty for knowing violations of the foreign contributor provision up to 10 years. And what the Snowbarger amendment does is to amend the more generic part of the campaign finance bill so that all provisions will have an enhanced penalty.

The distinction, though, between the Smith and the Snowbarger amendments, Mr. Chairman, as I see it is that, whereas the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. SMITH) might have allowed a judge to say, well, this is something that perhaps should get less than 1 year, the gentleman mandates that it must be at least 1 year. And if I am correct about that, I would just like to know that.

And secondly, whereas the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. SMITH) did not speak about the question about giving the Attorney General the prosecutorial discretion, the Snowbarger amendment does, and that the Attorney General may proceed if the FEC is deadlocked, whereas otherwise under the Smith amendment it would require a referral by FEC to the Department of Justice.

If I am correct or incorrect in those two major distinctions between the Smith amendment and the Snowbarger amendment, I would appreciate hearing so.

Mr. SNOWBARGER. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. CAMPBELL. I yield to the gentleman from Kansas.

Mr. SNOWBARGER. Mr. Chairman, the gentleman is accurate that there is within the discretion of the Department of Justice the ability to take on one of these campaign finance cases without a referral, as the gentleman indicated with the deadlock.

The gentleman is also correct that there is a minimum amount of time that is required. As I indicated to the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS) earlier, if there is a problem with the maximum time period that is allowed in there, I do not mind working with that.

But I think it is important that we have a minimum time period. I think that candidates that are faced with the possibility of jail time are going to be much more cautious.

Mr. CAMPBELL. Mr. Chairman, I believe that the gentleman had already answered the question, but I will just put it in this final form.

I think the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. SMITH) did us a service. I supported his amendment. But it was an important part of my support and perhaps that of others that the trial judge did have discretion to take into account the sentencing guidelines.

I am a bit troubled that the judge's discretion is taken away at least insofar as it must be 1 year. Nobody has any sympathy for an intentional violator of the law. I know that is true of all of us. But I am concerned about taking away the trial judge's discretion where in her or his discretion the appropriate sentence ought to be time in jail but not a full year.

And I would yield the remainder of the time that was yielded to me to the author of the amendment to explain, if he could, why he does not urge upon us in the House tonight to give the trial judge discretion under the sentencing guidelines for that occasional case when it might be just to do so, to have the full panoply of discretion, as we agreed was the case with the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. SMITH).

The CHAIRMAN. The gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS) has 1 minute remaining.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I understand the gentleman from Kansas (Mr. SNOWBARGER) wants to close and he has 1 minute remaining as well; is that correct?

The CHAIRMAN. The gentleman from Kansas (Mr. SNOWBARGER) has 1½ minutes remaining and has the right to close.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I yield 30 seconds to the gentleman from California (Mr. CAMPBELL).

Mr. SNOWBARGER. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. CAMPBELL. I yield to the gentleman from Kansas.

Mr. SNOWBARGER. Mr. Chairman, we currently have discretion of the judge to grant between zero jail time and 1 year.

I think that the fact that there is a possibility of no jail time still would weaken any campaign finance law that we have to pass. I think it is important that there be a mandatory jail time provided.

Mr. CAMPBELL. Mr. Chairman, reclaiming my time, because the gentleman was going to conclude to say that it probably would be better if we left the discretion of the judge to go from zero to 10, I am not sure it is enough to defeat his amendment but he might want to consider that. I appreciate his answers.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself the 30 seconds remaining.

I know what the gentleman is trying to achieve. I think he does achieve it with the sentence potential of zero to 5 years and increased fines. I am just troubled that it would be a mandatory sentence, and would at this time oppose his amendment and vote against it. Obviously, we would love to find an accommodation, but I guess that is not possible.

Mr. CHAIRMAN. The time of the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS) has expired.

The gentleman from Kansas (Mr. SNOWBARGER) is recognized for 1½ minutes.

Mr. SNOWBARGER. Mr. Chairman, again I just want to reiterate, what we are trying to do here is to make sure that there are sufficient penalties in the law to deter people from committing campaign finance law violations.

Thus far, we have put a system of fines in place. Sometimes those are large fines, other times lesser fines that are meted out. But the fact of the matter is the fine system has not stopped the violations of current campaign finance law. There is no reason to believe that fines alone would deter future adherence to the law, whatever that law might change to.

It is exactly for that reason that I think it is important that people understand there are serious consequences, there is jail time that is going to be required, there is serious jail time that is going to be required. And I would ask that my colleagues seriously consider this amendment, which I feel would put tough penalties into whatever version of campaign finance we end up with and, very frankly, would encourage us to pursue this under current law as well.

The CHAIRMAN. All time has expired.

The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Kansas (Mr. SNOWBARGER) to the amendment in the nature of a substitute No. 13 offered by the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS).

The amendment to the amendment in the nature of a substitute was agreed to.

The CHAIRMAN. It is now in order to consider the amendment offered by the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. WHITFIELD).

AMENDMENT OFFERED BY MR. WHITFIELD TO AMENDMENT IN THE NATURE OF A SUBSTITUTE NO. 13 OFFERED BY MR. SHAYS

Mr. WHITFIELD. Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment to the amendment in the nature of a substitute.

The CHAIRMAN. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Amendment offered by Mr. WHITFIELD to the amendment in the nature of a substitute No. 13 offered by Mr. SHAYS:

Add at the end the following new title:

TITLE —BAN ON COORDINATED SOFT MONEY ACTIVITIES BY PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES

SEC. 01. BAN ON COORDINATION OF SOFT MONEY FOR ISSUE ADVOCACY BY PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES RECEIVING PUBLIC FINANCING.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 9003 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (26 U.S.C. 9003) is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

“(f) BAN ON COORDINATION OF SOFT MONEY FOR ISSUE ADVOCACY.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—No candidate for election to the office of President or Vice President who is certified to receive amounts from the Presidential Election Campaign Fund under this chapter or chapter 96 may coordinate the expenditure of any funds for issue advocacy with any political party unless the funds are subject to the limitations, prohibitions, and reporting requirements of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971.

“(2) ISSUE ADVOCACY DEFINED.—In this section, the term ‘issue advocacy’ means any activity carried out for the purpose of influencing the consideration or outcome of any Federal legislation or the issuance or outcome of any Federal regulations, or educating individuals about candidates for election for Federal office or any Federal legislation, law, or regulations (without regard to whether the activity is carried out for the purpose of influencing any election for Federal office).”

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendment made by this section shall apply with respect to elections occurring on or after the date of the enactment of this Act.

The CHAIRMAN. Pursuant to the order of the House of July 17, 1998, the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. WHITFIELD) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

Which Member will oppose the amendment and be recognized for 5 minutes?

Mr. MEEHAN. Mr. Chairman, I do not have any objection to this amendment. I just wish the sponsor of the amendment will vote for our bill once we accept the amendment so we can get it passed and really have it become law. I do not know if he would change his mind on that.

The CHAIRMAN. Does the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. MEEHAN) claim the time in opposition to the amendment?

Mr. MEEHAN. Mr. Chairman, I cannot because I support the amendment.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent that the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. MEEHAN) be allowed to claim the time.

The CHAIRMAN. Without objection, the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. MEEHAN) claims time.

There was no objection.

Mr. WHITFIELD. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, I appreciate the gentleman for agreeing to accept the amendment. And if that is the case, I would be happy to have it accepted and sit down and listen to someone else talk about their amendment.

Mr. MEEHAN. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I just want to say that I am delighted to accept this amendment and I hope that the acceptance of this amendment results in us growing in even broader and more bipartisan basis support amongst my colleagues so that we can pass the Shays-Meehan bill.

I think all of us have seen over a period of the last several months support for our bill growing enormously, and I hope that accepting this amendment results in the gentleman supporting our bill and getting many of his colleagues to support the bill.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. WHITFIELD. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, I would just make one brief comment. I appreciate the acceptance of this amendment.

My real purpose in introducing this amendment, offering this amendment, was to be sure that in the presidential elections the candidates for President are the only Federal candidates that receive public funds; and initially, when they agree to accept these public funds, they also agree that they will not go out and raise additional money.

In recent presidential elections, that rule has really been violated by both sides. And during the hearings on the campaign finance abuses on the Senate side, Senator THOMPSON of Tennessee, who chaired that committee, pointed out very clearly that in the 1996 campaigns that it was not unusual that the President sat down and coordinated these ads, in fact, added the ads, in fact, decided where the ads of issue advocacy would be placed.

And while the Shays-Meehan bill talks a lot about abolishment of coordination, abolishment of soft money, the fact that the presidential campaigns are included under the Internal Revenue Code, I just want to be very certain that the presidential campaigns were included in this legislation. And that was my purpose in introducing the amendment. I appreciate very much his acceptance of it.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore (Mr. BARR of Georgia). The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. WHITFIELD) to the amendment in the nature of a substitute No. 13 offered by Mr. SHAYS.

The amendment to the amendment in the nature of a substitute was agreed to.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. It is now in order to consider the amendment offered by the gentleman from California (Mr. CALVERT).

AMENDMENT OFFERED BY MR. CALVERT TO THE AMENDMENT IN THE NATURE OF A SUBSTITUTE NO. 13 OFFERED BY MR. SHAYS

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment to the amendment in the nature of a substitute.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Amendment offered by Mr. CALVERT to the amendment in the nature of a substitute No. 13 offered by Mr. SHAYS:

Add at the end the following new title:

TITLE —RESTRICTIONS ON NONRESIDENT FUNDRAISING

SEC. —01. LIMITING AMOUNT OF CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATE CONTRIBUTIONS FROM INDIVIDUALS NOT RESIDING IN DISTRICT OR STATE INVOLVED.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 315 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (2 U.S.C. 441a) is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

“(1) (i) A candidate for the office of Senator or the office of Representative in, or Delegate or Resident Commissioner to, the Congress may not accept contributions with respect to an election from persons other than local individual residents totaling in excess of the aggregate amount of contributions accepted from local individual residents (as determined on the basis of the information reported under section 304(d)).

“(2) In determining the amount of contributions accepted by a candidate for purposes of this subsection, the amounts of any contributions made by a political committee of a political party shall be allocated as follows:

“(A) 50 percent of such amounts shall be deemed to be a contributions from local individual residents.

“(B) 50 percent of such amounts shall be deemed to be contributions from persons other than local individual residents.

“(3) As used in this subsection, the term ‘local individual resident’ means—

“(A) with respect to an election for the office of Senator, an individual who resides in the State involved; and

“(B) with respect to an election for the office of Representative in, or Delegate or Resident Commissioner to, the Congress, an individual who resides in the congressional district involved.”.

(b) REPORTING REQUIREMENTS.—Section 304 of such Act (2 U.S.C. 434) is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

“(d) Each principal campaign committee of a candidate for the Senate or the House of Representatives shall include the following information in the first report filed under subsection (a)(2) which covers the period which begins 19 days before an election and ends 20 days after the election:

“(1) The total contributions received by the committee with respect to the election involved from local individual residents (as defined in section 315(i)(3)), as of the last day of the period covered by the report.

“(2) The total contributions received by the committee with respect to the election involved from all persons, as of the last day of the period covered by the report.”.

(c) PENALTY FOR VIOLATION OF LIMITS.—Section 309(d) of such Act (2 U.S.C. 437g(d)) is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

“(4)(A) Any candidate who knowingly and willfully accepts contributions in excess of any limitation provided under section 315(i) shall be fined an amount equal to the greater of 200 percent of the amount accepted in excess of the applicable limitation or (if applicable) the amount provided in paragraph (1)(A).

“(B) Interest shall be assessed against any portion of a fine imposed under subparagraph (A) which remains unpaid after the expiration of the 30-day period which begins on the date the fine is imposed.”.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Pursuant to the order of the House of Friday, July 17, 1998, the gentleman from California (Mr. CALVERT) and the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from California (Mr. CALVERT).

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, in the 103d Congress I served on the House Republican Campaign Finance Task Force. As a member of that task force, I pressed for language to require that candidates receive half of the campaign funds from people they are seeking to represent. My amendment today would require candidates to adhere to this 50 percent rule.

The public's perception is that elected officials are beholden to the special interests that they believe finance the campaigns. As long as the public has this perception, it is important that every person running for public office restores confidence in our system. By requiring all candidates for office in the House of Representatives and the Senate to raise at least half of their campaign funds from individuals in the districts they represent, my amendment goes a long way toward restoring the people's trust.

The amendment is simple and straightforward. On the first report to the Federal Election Commission after an election, candidates would have to show that they raised a majority of funds for that election from individuals within their own district for House candidates or within the State for senatorial candidates. Money from political parties will be considered 50 percent in-district money and 50 percent out-of-district money. If it is determined that they have not met this requirement, they will be subject to a fine by the FEC of two times the amount of the margin between in-district contributions and the contributions from outside the district. Candidates will have 30 days from that determination to pay the penalty interest-free. If the deadline passes without payment, interest will begin to be assessed.

As Members of Congress, we owe it to our constituents to provide them with the security of knowing they are electing people to Congress to represent them, not special or remote interests.

Mr. Chairman, I urge the passage of this amendment.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, I rise in opposition to this amendment, not because I do not think it is offered in good faith but because I disagree with the general thrust of limiting campaign contributions to a district. I believe the gentleman will face some constitutional hurdles given that it is within district, not within State. The gentleman, in other words, seeks to have 50 percent of all the contributions come within the district. I believe the courts would determine that within district would be a constitutional problem but within a State it would probably not be.

But, further, I seek to share and acknowledge the fact that we ourselves had attempted to do something similar to this in a larger Meehan-Shays proposal and realized that we simply could not build a coalition of support to pass this legislation. It may seem frustrating for some to argue against an amendment based on the fact that we then cannot pass the overall bill, but that is the reality. The fact is that if this amendment were to pass, it would be a very dangerous amendment for the purposes of putting a real dagger in a compromise that is in fact Meehan-Shays.

I also would say to Members that I speak as one on this issue who raises literally 99 percent of my money within district. I am amazed that that is the case, but in fact it is the case. If I were to acknowledge why, it would be that I come from a very wealthy district, if not the wealthiest district in the country, within the top five. If it is not considered the wealthiest, it is that I have the very wealthy but I also have a number of poor who live in Stamford, Norwalk and Bridgeport, my three urban areas. So it is without reluctance that I do oppose this amendment.

I would just acknowledge that for some in Congress, they can raise all the amount of money they need to within their district. I could probably raise all the money I need to if everyone on Round Hill Road in Greenwich contributed to my campaign. That four-mile stretch of road contains a tremendous number of wealthy people. I do not even have to go outside a community. I can focus within a particular town. But there are some Members who live in very, very poor districts. They would be highly vulnerable to a wealthy candidate who has wealth in that district and knows that that opponent not only does not have wealth but has nowhere within that district to raise the kind of sums necessary to compete with that wealthy individual.

I do not criticize the intention of my colleague. I know that they are done in good faith. In fact, the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. MEEHAN) and I and others attempted to do the same thing. But then the more we analyzed it, we realized that it was clearly unfair to some Members and to some challengers, not just Members, and furthermore that we would not be able to build the kind of coalition we need to pass meaningful campaign finance reform.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume. I would say to the gentleman from Connecticut, as he knows, I have been in favor of this concept since I first came to Congress almost 6 years ago. I am happy to hear that he raises 99 percent of his campaign contributions within his congressional district. I would dare say that there are some folks here that raise 99 percent of their campaign contributions outside of their congressional district. And so at what level is a fair and reasonable amount to raise within your own congressional district?

I would think that most Americans, and I have seen polling documents as all of us have, that most Americans believe that you should raise at least half of your campaign contributions within your congressional district. The argument that folks in poorer districts would not be able to raise funds, all I would say is that all people who would run in that seat are playing under the same limitations, so that the playing field is leveled.

I think it is important that people back home realize that the people who are elected to Congress at least represent them, if money is important and the reason we are here tonight on campaign finance reform is that we are going back and building the base within our own congressional districts and raising money back home. I think in years past, that was the case. We have gotten away from that. I think that this amendment will go a long ways to bringing back confidence within the system. I would urge my colleagues to support this amendment.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I yield 4 minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. FARR).

Mr. FARR of California. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS) for yielding me this time and I thank him for cosponsoring this legislation, the underlying legislation on campaign finance reform.

Mr. Chairman, I have great respect for the gentleman from California (Mr. CALVERT). He and I are cochair of the State society for California. Like him in the bill that I authored, H.R. 600, a comprehensive campaign reform, I really looked at this, because this is one of those issues where it really sounds good. But let me tell the gentleman from California why it is rejected. It is rejected because as he knows under Federal law, you do not have to live in the district to file for candidacy. What happens is that you can take a district that is a poor district under his law, say that 50 percent of the money has to be raised there, and you can shop around. So in a district in the inner city of Los Angeles or in the inner city of any large area where you do not have a large economic base, you look at the candidate who files and you say, well, that candidate is going to have to raise money to get elected. I am going to be a candidate who is going to use my own money. I am rich. I am going to go down there and file for the candidacy in that election. I want it. I can buy that election, because I do not have to raise a dime of money inside the district because I am not going to ask anybody for contributions.

There is the inequity, is that you set up a system which is designed to hurt minorities, because those are the people that often get elected from these inner city districts, and for people that are trying to get started in politics. I cannot think of any of us in this room that did not begin when we decided to get into public life, whether it was at the mayor's level or at city council or school board or county commissioner or even running for county sheriff by which this rule would not apply. You could raise money outside your district for any of those local offices.

But when you began this venture of getting into politics and noted that the average congressional campaign in America cost $600,000, that is a lot of money, and you began to say, "Where am I going to get that money?" You say, "Well, let's go to my family, let's go to my friends that I went to school with, to high school and college with, maybe that I was in the service with." The gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS) and I have mentioned before, we were both in the Peace Corps.

So people like that went out, and that is where you began your nest egg of how you are going to run for office. And you are soliciting money from people who know you best, who have actually worked with you, they know you better than anyone because you are just saying, "Based on what you know of me, please help me." Those moneys may not be coming from your district.

I think that this amendment where it sounds good is really kind of a poison pill. I think it is frankly, and I hate to say it this way, but I think it is really un-American. Because it does not apply to people in local office, it does not apply to people in State office, and essentially are we not trying in America to say that we want you to participate in government, we would love to have people running for office, and that we ought to be removing barriers, not creating more?

I think that is why I am so concerned about some of these amendments. I am concerned about the message that we are giving in this great land of America about what we think democracy is. We are selling it short. We are cheapening it. We are distrusting it. We are saying we do not believe the voters. If you make one false move, you do not have an ID, you do not have a picture, you are elderly, you are locked up in a nursing home, you do not have a driver's license, you do not have any proof of citizenship because maybe you are in States, many States did not file birth certificates earlier than about 1910. So if you were born before that, you would not have any proof of citizenship.

So what we are doing is we are making it more and more difficult, and I think requiring, as I said, it sounds good, 50 percent, but if you are in a district where you do not have a lot of wealth and you as a candidate do not have any wealth or you are new to the business, you are not going to be able to raise funds, and you cannot run for office under this amendment.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume. I would say to the gentleman that how much should the threshold be? If it is not 50 percent, should it be 40 percent? Should it be 30 percent? Should it be 20 percent? There are people who are elected to Congress who raise 95 percent of their money outside of their congressional districts. Is that what American people out there expect from their candidates? I do not think so.

I would point out to the gentleman that there are people who run for public office who are not from an area. The gentleman is correct. You do not have to have residency requirements as a requirement to run for congressional office, many of whom move into a congressional district and raise 95 percent of their money from outside of the district and a local candidate is not given the opportunity to get elected within the congressional district in which they reside, because they do not have the resources.

But I would say if there is a problem with a self-funded rich candidate running for such a seat, and I would say that that is a problem for any of our seats if someone of such wealth decides to run, in that case the party can add funds to the race. I would also accept a perfecting amendment that would waive this rule at a certain threshold of funds, say $100,000 is thrown in by a wealthy candidate.

But I would say that whatever district that a Member of Congress represents, he or she represents, if a wealthy candidate decides to run, you are in trouble under existing campaign law and will continue to be in trouble in the future.

□ 2300

Mr. FARR of California. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. CALVERT. I am happy to yield to the gentleman from California.

Mr. FARR of California. Mr. Chairman, in the H.R. 600 that I drafted, what it said is we put limits on what you could spend, because that was the real problem. In that, we said, if you were a wealthy candidate, you can only spend $50,000 of your own money.

Mr. CALVERT. Reclaiming my time, I understand, under the Constitution that the other gentleman pointed out, that we cannot restrict an individual from spending his or her own money. However, that is one of the reasons why I would accept a perfecting amendment that would waive the rule at a certain threshold and allow for dollars to be raised outside of a district if, in fact, that occurs.

But getting back to the point that I am trying to get at, that people within congressional districts expect their Members to represent their interests within their district. I would say that Members of Congress who raise 95 percent, 90 percent, 80 percent of their dollars outside of the congressional districts that they represent do not represent the districts as well as someone who raises at least 50 percent of their monies from their district.

I would hope that we would pass this amendment. I think the American public would be for it.

Mr. MEEHAN. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. CALVERT. I am happy to yield to the gentleman from Massachusetts.

Mr. MEEHAN. Mr. Chairman, if we pass this amendment, is the gentleman going to support the Shays-Meehan bill?

Mr. CALVERT. I may. I may support the amendment. I do not know what the final bill is going to be after all the amendments are over with.

Mr. MEEHAN. Who does at this point? I am happy to hear that the gentleman has an open mind. Part of the problem is, if we pass the gentleman's amendment, the bill is going to die.

What we are trying to do is send a bill over to the other body that has a bipartisan consensus for both sides of the aisle. That is what we are attempting to do. Going through that process, we were unable to do that with this particular amendment.

I happen to take more than 50 percent of money from people from my district, and over 90 percent of my money is from my home State. But what we are trying to do here is pass a comprehensive, fair campaign finance reform bill. The only way to get that done is to work with Members on both sides of the aisle. This particular amendment will defeat our bill.

Mr. CALVERT. Reclaiming my time, I think that it is important to raise a significant amount of money within our congressional district. I would hope that most Members feel the same way about that. I would hope that that they would vote for this amendment.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I yield 4 minutes to the gentleman from Maine (Mr. ALLEN), the freshman leader on campaign finance reform and, frankly, just a leader, be he freshman or seasoned veteran.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman for yielding and for his continuing leadership on campaign reform.

I have been the democratic chair of a bipartisan freshman effort on campaign reform for the last year and a half. I point that out because the only way to do campaign reform is on a bipartisan basis.

This amendment, however well-intentioned, is a poison pill. This amendment, if added to the Shays-Meehan bill, will kill campaign reform, will kill the Shays-Meehan bill. That is one reason why it needs to be defeated.

I will talk in a moment about some of my problems with the merits; but just for a moment, let us begin with just how different different districts are around this country.

I think it is fair to say that, if you look at the Senate races around the country, some cost more, and some cost less. For example, it may cost tens of millions of dollars to run a Senate campaign in California. But in my home State of Maine, it may be a $1 million or $2 million proposition. But the basic campaigns are more or less the same: A certain amount of television, a certain amount of get out the vote drive. They look more or less alike, even though they are on the same scale.

The same is not true in the House of Representatives. In the House of Representatives, there are some districts where television is a factor. There are some districts in the House where television is not a factor because you cannot raise the money to run ads in New York or Chicago or Los Angeles in most cases.

The districts across this House are very, very different. Some, like the district of the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS), are wealthy. Some others are very poor. It is not true, in my opinion, as the gentleman from California (Mr. CALVERT) said that everyone is subject to the same limits, and everyone is subject to the same effects if you have this kind of limit.

What this amendment would do is to magnify the effect of wealth, because in a very poor district, the man with deep pockets or the woman with deep pockets has a much greater advantage than he or she would in another district where it is possible to raise money.

That is why I believe that this amendment is bad policy because it magnifies the effect of personal wealth where what we are trying to do is contain that, trying to get control of the amount of money in politics. We are trying to strengthen the voices of the ordinary citizen. That is what campaign reform is all about. This amendment moves in a different direction.

The fact is, as I said before, we simply cannot pass campaign reform with this kind of amendment tacked on. There are many Members of the minority caucus. There are many Members who come from very poor districts who cannot support the campaign reform bill with this proposal.

One of the things our freshman task force did at the beginning of our process, we said what are the poison pills? Let us identify them. This kind of in-district limit was clearly identified right at the beginning as a poison pill. It will not work. It will kill campaign reform for this session. We cannot let that happen.

Therefore, I urge all Members to vote against the Calvert amendment and make sure that we support the Shays-Meehan bill.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Chairman, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. HORN).

Mr. HORN. Mr. Chairman, I have listened with interest to this debate. The gentleman is objecting to 50 percent of the money being raised by all candidates in the district. I guess I would ask the question: "How about 10 percent?" Would the gentleman settle for that? That all candidates at least raise 10 percent of their campaign money in the district? I would just like to ask the gentleman.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield to me?

Mr. HORN. For the answer to the question, I yield to the gentleman from Maine.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Chairman, I think the proper number, if we could determine one, is different for different districts. I was talking about how varied the districts may be. In some districts, it is now the practice for very large amounts, maybe 70, maybe 80, maybe more percent that money may come from out of district. In some districts, that may be the only way to fund a congressional campaign.

So what is right for that district is not what is right for the district of the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS) or my district or the gentleman from California's district.

When we sit here with a great variety of districts around the country and try to come up with one number, I think we are on a chase that is not going to lead us in a healthy direction. It is not going to get us to pass a campaign reform bill. I think it is a mistake.

Mr. HORN. I have had a situation where my opponent raised only 1 percent of his campaign funds in the district when I had raised 70 to 80 percent.

I have to say: "Where is the connection with the electorate? Do the candidates who raise 1% in the district just go to all the eastern cities? They go into the gentleman's territory and get the funds together $1,000 at a crack. I have seen candidates that go up and down the east coast, just as the easterners come out to Hollywood in the celebrity area, and they secure funds at $1,000 at a crack.

It just seems to me there is a relationship in a democracy between, not only the voters in one's district and the sources who have provided the candidate with his real money? So I am willing to settle for 10 percent being raise in the district. I would prefer 50% or 100%. Ten percent would be a start.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield just briefly?

Mr. HORN. Absolutely. I yield to the gentleman from Maine.

Mr. ALLEN. I absolutely agree with the gentleman that there has got to be a connection between the candidate and the district. That is very, very important.

Mr. HORN. We have too many candidates who are under obligation to PACs and to everybody else, none of which have anything to do with some of the districts, certainly mine.

Mr. ALLEN. If the gentleman will yield just briefly, often, PAC money comes from organizations that are based in the district.

Mr. HORN. Usually, they take the PAC money from everywhere, but they cannot get it in terms of the District. I would just say, let us talk about 10 percent. I am willing to start low.

I would just like to see some connection between the candidate and who he or she represents. If they are only going to represent the people in the east that give them $1,000 checks, I do not think they are going to represent a district in the west that provides the votes.

I do not care if it is a quarter or a dollar, the checks I am moved by the most are when I receive $10 from a person who is living on $500 a month from Social Security. I know that $10 hurts that donor. So it just seems to me that candidates should receive money from their district at least to some degree.

Mr. FARR of California. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. HORN. I yield to the gentleman from California for a question.

Mr. FARR of California. What do you do with the individual who is very wealthy and you are in a very poor district?

Mr. HORN. Do you know what I would do with the individual who is very wealthy? I would pass a law that could limit that amount of personal wealth to be spent in a campaign. I think it is a scandal what is going on in America. You are going to have plutocracy take over this chamber.

Mr. FARR of California. Maybe you can make that a perfecting amendment?

Mr. HORN. I will support that kind of an amendment.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the distinguished professor from Stanford, the gentleman from California (Mr. CAMPBELL).

□ 2310

Mr. CAMPBELL. Mr. Chairman, I thank my good friend for yielding me time and for referring to me by the best honorific I have ever had, which is professor.

I am in a bit of a bind, Mr. Chairman, because I have "can't vote-can't contribute" as one of the substitutes. I love this so much, I would make it 100 percent. And this dilemma yields to a solution to my good friend, my brother, the gentleman from California (Mr. CALVERT). This will kill Shays-Meehan. That is a fact. You know it, I think. So, vote for mine, because I will not bring mine up if Shays-Meehan passes. If Shays-Meehan passes, I do not bring up the Campbell substitute. But if Shays-Meehan goes down in flames, then, boy, am I on the side of the gentleman from California. Then we can vote "can't vote-can't contribute."

What my proposal does is to say, "Boy, is he right." You ought to get all of your money from your district, from people whom you represent, except you have to make an exception for the constitutional requirement that people can express themselves under the First Amendment, so I have $100 as an exception.

But by putting it on to Shays-Meehan the gentleman from California, surely without this intent, but I nevertheless am convinced with this effect, kills Shays-Meehan. If Shays-Meehan has a chance, let us pass it. If it does not have a chance and it goes down to defeat, you will have the opportunity to vote for exactly this concept. Then, boy, will you hear me in my righteous fervor responding to the arguments that have been presented against the gentleman from California (Mr. CALVERT).

For example, the wealthy person. Well, we Californians told the wealthy person something this last election, did we not, he asks rhetorically. We rejected those who spent their own money attempting to become Governor of our state, attempting to become Senator representing our state. And the argument that it is unfair misses the fact that it is sauce for the goose and it is sauce for the gander.

Your district is where you ought to raise your money from, but, please, do not hurt Shays-Meehan's chances of passage. You know it will peel off votes, you know it will cause the bill to be unacceptable to so many.

So I give you a reasonable alternative. I wish you would take it. Vote for my bill if it comes up, but do not destroy Shays-Meehan.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, I would say my head is spinning. The professor from California got very animated when he talked about this amendment, but he called it like it is. He loves certain aspects of this amendment, but he does know that it would cause tremendous harm to a coalition of Members who all had to give up certain things that they wanted for a common good, and that was to ban soft money, the unlimited sums that individuals, corporations, labor unions and other interest groups give to the political parties, that then get funneled right back to the candidate and make a mockery of our campaign laws.

We came to a compromise so we could recognize sham issue ads for what they truly are, campaign ads, and that means when it is a campaign ad, you follow the campaign rules. It means you cannot use corporate money, it means you cannot use labor dues. It means you have to disclose.

We codified the Supreme Court decision on Beck, which said that if a member of a union seeks to leave the union, that they do not have to have their agency fee which they are required by law to provide, that it should not include, if they choose not to, to have their agency fee include a political payment. Therefore, they pay a little less than the union dues.

We improve FEC disclosure and enforcement significantly, because we sought to come to a common ground between Republicans and Democrats, those who want campaign finance reform.

We seek to ban the franked mail, the district-wide mailing six months to an election. We did this through compromise. One of the things that did not survive the compromise was the very amendment that the gentleman is proposing.

We did this by compromise. We banned the raising of any foreign money and any fund-raising on government property. Now, it is not illegal to raise soft money from a foreigner, if they are not a citizen, because soft money is not viewed as campaign money. Therefore, it does not come under the statute.

Some could argue, and I am one, and we could have a disagreement, that raising soft money on government property, since it is not campaign money, does not come under the penalty. I realize others might disagree. But the bottom line is we came to a compromise in order to do these very significant things, and one of the things that did not make the compromise was the amendment suggested by my colleague, the gentleman from California.

So, we do need to defeat this amendment. I know that it has been offered in tremendous sincerity. I get down on bended knee and hope and pray that it is defeated, because it truly will blow apart a coalition of people who have sought to do something meaningful with campaign finance reform, and that is to restore integrity to the political process and to end the obscene amounts of money that we see in soft money, and to require those sham issues ads to be what they are, campaign issue ads.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, I would say to my dear friend from California, I like his idea raising 100 percent of the money within the district. I recognize that that is probably not realistic, and so I believe that half of the money should be raised within the Congressional districts that Members represent.

We heard earlier that maybe not even 10 percent is an acceptable number. Well, what is an acceptable number? We know that there are people who run for Congress that 99 percent of their money is raised outside of their district. I do not think the American public agrees to that. As the gentleman from Connecticut knows, I came here six years ago almost and have been talking about this 50 percent provision since I came here to Congress.

I think most Americans believe that you should raise at least 50 percent of the money within your Congressional District. I do not think it is outrageous. I do not think there is anything wrong with this.

As far as a wealthy candidate running in a Congressional district, I would say that any of us would have a problem if we were running against a very wealthy candidate, any of us. But, saying that, I would accept a perfecting amendment that would waive the rule if a wealthy candidate gets involved in a campaign and spends, say, $100,000, to take care of that problem. I recognize that.

But what we are talking about here is 50 percent of the money within the district. I think it is reasonable. I think most people would expect folks to come back and raise money. It is difficult. None of us like going to all the fund raisers we need to go to back home, getting back home and putting together these events. It is a lot easier having an event here in Washington, D.C., or somewhere elsewhere where you can raise a significant amount of money. But this is, I think, an important responsibility.

I would hope that all Members would accept this amendment. I think it is the right thing to do.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore (Mr. BARR of Georgia). The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from California (Mr. CALVERT).

The question was taken; and the Chairman announced that the noes appeared to have it.

Mr. CALVERT. Mr. Chairman, I demand a recorded vote.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 442, further proceedings on the amendment offered by the gentleman from California (Mr. CALVERT) will be postponed.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I move that the Committee do now rise.

The motion was agreed to.

Accordingly, the Committee rose; and the Speaker pro tempore (Mr. CALVERT) having assumed the chair, Mr. BARR of Georgia, Chairman pro tempore of the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union, reported that that Committee, having had under consideration the bill (H.R. 2183) to amend the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 to reform the financing of campaigns for elections for Federal office, and for other purposes, had come to no resolution thereon.

MODIFICATION TO ORDER OF THE HOUSE OF FRIDAY, JULY 17, 1998, REGARDING FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF H.R. 2183, BIPARTISAN CAMPAIGN INTEGRITY ACT OF 1997

Mrs. LINDA SMITH of Washington. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to go out of order, notwithstanding the order of the House agreed to on Friday last, and combine amendments listed as 40 to 45 into one, and make it as the next thing in order after the Calvert amendment, and that debate be limited to five minutes for and five minutes against the amendment.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Washington?

There was no objection.

□ 2320

BIPARTISAN CAMPAIGN INTEGRITY ACT OF 1997

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. CALVERT). Pursuant to House Resolution 442 and rule XXIII, the Chair declares the House in the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union for the further consideration of the bill, H.R. 2183.

IN THE COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

Accordingly, the House resolved itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union for the further consideration of the bill (H.R. 2183) to amend the Federal Campaign Act of 1971 to reform the financing of campaigns for elections for Federal office, and for other purposes, with Mr. BARR of Georgia (Chairman pro tempore) in the chair.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. When the Committee of the Whole House rose earlier today, the request for a recorded vote on the amendment by the gentleman from California (Mr. CALVERT) had been postponed.

Under the previous order of today, it is now in order to consider the amendment by the gentlewoman from Washington (Mrs. SMITH).

AMENDMENT OFFERED BY MRS. LINDA SMITH OF WASHINGTON TO THE AMENDMENT IN THE NATURE OF A SUBSTITUTE NO. 13 OFFERED BY MR. SHAYS OF CONNECTICUT

Mrs. SMITH of Washington. Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment to the amendment in the nature of a substitute.

The Clerk read as follows:

Amendment offered by Mrs. SMITH of Washington to the Amendment No. 13 in the nature of a substitute offered by Mr. SHAYS of Connecticut:

In Section 301(20) of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as added by section 201(a) of the substitute, strike subparagraph (b) and add the following:

“(B) Voting Record and Voting Guide Exception—The term “express advocacy” does not include a communication which is in printed form or posted on the Internet that—
“(i) presents information solely about the voting record or position on a campaign issue of 1 or more candidates, provided however, that the sponsor of the voting record or voting guide may state its agreement or disagreement with the record or position of the candidate and further provided that the voting record or voting guide when taken as a whole does not express unmistakable and unambiguous support for or opposition to 1 or more clearly identified candidates,

“(ii) is not made in coordination with a candidate, political party, or agent of the candidate or party, or a candidate's agent or a person who is coordinating with a candidate or a candidate's agent; provided that nothing herein shall prevent the sponsor of the voting guide from direction questions in writing to candidates about their position on issues for purposes of preparing a voter guide, and the candidate from responding in writing to such questions, and

“(iii) does not contain a phrase such as ‘vote for,’ ‘re-elect,’ ‘support,’ ‘cast your ballot for,’ ‘(name of candidate) for Congress,’ ‘(name of candidate) in 1997,’ ‘vote against,’ ‘defeat,’ or ‘reject,’ or a campaign slogan or words that in context can have no reasonable meaning other than to urge the election or defeat of 1 or more clearly identified candidates.”

In Section 301(8) of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as added by section 205(a)(1)(B) of the substitute, strike paragraph (D) and insert

"(D) For purposes of subparagraph (C), the term "professional services" means polling, media advice, fundraising, campaign research or direct mail (except for mailhouse services solely for the distribution of voter guides as defined in section 431(20)(B)) services in support of a candidate's pursuit of nomination for election, or election, to Federal office."

In Section 301(8)(C)(v) of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as added by section 205(a)(1)(B) of the substitute, add at the end thereof,

" , provided however that such discussions shall not include a lobbying contact under the Lobbying Disclosure Act of 1995 in the case of a candidate holding Federal office or consisting of similar lobbying activity in the case of a candidate holding State or elective office."

Mrs. LINDA SMITH of Washington (during the reading). Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent that the amendment be considered as read and printed in the RECORD.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentlewoman from Washington?

Mr. MEEHAN. Mr. Chairman, reserving the right to object, I just want to say that I am happy that the gentlewoman has agreed to work with us. I think that her amendment makes some important clarifications to the voter guide and safe harbor provisions in the bill. I know that I have worked with the gentlewoman, as the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS) has, for some time on campaign finance reform, and this is a good opportunity to take a number of the amendments, and as the gentlewoman knows, we have many, many amendments left to go in order to get the Shays-Meehan legislation passed.

So I thank the gentlewoman for her cooperation. Both sides of the aisle have looked at this. I think it is a good amendment.

Mr. Chairman, I withdraw my reservation of objection.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentlewoman from Washington?

There was no objection.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Pursuant to the order of the House of today, the gentlewoman from Washington (Mrs. LINDA SMITH) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Washington (Mrs. LINDA SMITH).

Mrs. LINDA SMITH of Washington. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, this actually is a group of amendments, all dealing with grassroots organizations' concerns. From liberal groups to conservative groups, they have been very, very concerned about their voter guides.

To begin with, it starts with clarifying some things that were never intended in the bill anyway. There was never an intention to restrict voter guides or individual grassroots lobbying, and yet some felt that this bill went across the line. To begin with, they wanted to be able to say, even if one guy is running, we want to be able to put out a record on him. We believe we should be able to do that.

So they have graciously said, sure enough, that makes some sense, and so we will allow one. The original said there had to be two or more candidates to be able to put out a voter guide, so this is a step in the right direction.

The second thing that is very much a concern of the groups is that they cannot explain why they were for or against an issue. Now, the makers of the bill felt that they had taken care of this, but many groups did not. So this simply clarifies that they not only are able to, but it clarifies that they can explain their positions and cleans up that problem.

Another issue that they were concerned about is that possibly collecting information to build score cards might be considered coordination. These amendments make it clear that that is not the case.

There are some other things that were of concern of the groups, and they were worried that their grassroots lobbyists could be in trouble, that this could be a problem if they were lobbying elected officials on issues, and that that could qualify as coordination. This language says no, that was not meant to be considered as coordination, so it cleans that up, and so there is no problem with the grassroots groups lobbying now.

Then there was a section that was a little more difficult, that has a purpose, a very important purpose, and that is where one finds that there are coordinated efforts of groups, vendors, and actually it comes out in kind of ugly things. One finds TV ads and radio ads and all kinds of things happening, and it is supposed to be independent but it clearly is coordinated.

What this does is clarify that and makes it very clear that it is not meant to deal with voter guides; that we are making it real clear that voter guides are not a part of the problem, and so again, we have made it very clear in this amendment that we are not aiming at them and definitely not even trying to get close to them.

So with that, this clears up a lot of the problems with the voter guides; it clears up a lot of the problems that the grassroots groups had with being able to lobby and being restricted from their lobbying and goes a long ways, I would think, to alleviating some of their fears.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent to claim the 5 minutes in opposition to the amendment.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Connecticut?

There was no objection.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. MEEHAN).

Mr. MEEHAN. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman for yielding me the time. I do not think I need a minute, but paragraph small "i" at the end where it says, "candidates," I believe that there is a printing error and after the comma, it should be "and," as we go to each of the paragraphs.

Mrs. LINDA SMITH of Washington. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. MEEHAN. I yield to the gentlewoman from Washington.

Mrs. LINDA SMITH of Washington. Mr. Chairman, if the gentleman would clarify which paragraph he is in.

□ 2330

Mr. MEEHAN. Small "I" at the end of that paragraph, I believe it should say "and."

Mr. CAMPBELL. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. MEEHAN. I yield to the gentleman from California.

Mr. CAMPBELL. The word "and" appears after the second little "I." So we have a comma, "and." Under normal rules of construction, that is a conjunction not a disjunctive. So, I do not believe the gentleman's point is necessary. Of course, it would do no harm to add the word "and." But we have a comma after little 1, comma "and" after a little 2.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself 1 minute.

Mr. Chairman, I do so to recognize the contribution of the gentlewoman from Washington (Mrs. LINDA SMITH). The bottom line is that she has offered six amendments to deal with voter guides and advocacy because she is sincerely concerned that groups would be denied the opportunity to provide these voter guides.

Each of her amendments had some element of merit and in some cases we could have accepted the amendment in whole. But she has combined these six amendments and I think has dealt sincerely with the concerns that various groups have.

The bottom line is she has tried to perfect this legislation and made a tremendous contribution and I really appreciate the contribution of the gentlewoman to improve this bill and make it clear what the intention is of the supporters of this legislation. I am very grateful for her contribution.

Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. CAMPBELL). I do not know if I want to call him "professor," but I will call him "gentleman."

Mr. CAMPBELL. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS), my friend, for yielding me this time.

Mr. Chairman, I join him in applauding the gentlewoman from Washington (Mrs. LINDA SMITH). From the first day that I met her, her concern was campaign finance reform and it continues to manifest itself in work such as this amendment.

In reading it, I would clarify the following points that I think are in its favor: The phrase is now that in order to qualify, the commentary on a candidate's voting record can appear just by itself. They do not have to have another candidate. And it is all right, so long as it falls short of expressing unmistakable and unambiguous support for or opposition to that candidate.

And I emphasize that, because in our earlier debate on the amendment offered by the gentleman from California (Mr. DOOLITTLE), our colleague and friend, the question arose as to whether a voter advocacy group could say here is the position of candidates and we happen to agree with this position. And whether under the unamended version of Shays-Meehan that would have been acceptable was the point that was contested.

I do not believe that it is in doubt anymore if this amendment is accepted. That if it purely communicates accurate information as to the position of a candidate and falls short of saying "and for this reason vote for the person" or "for this reason we overwhelmingly support," in other words, if it falls short of unmistakable and unambiguous support, then it is indeed what it purports to be, a voter guide.

Mr. Chairman, I also note that the amendment offered by the gentleman from Washington is preferable to the one offered by our colleague from California in that it preserves the prohibition on coordination. If the organization in question has coordinated the entire voter guide with a plan to assist a candidate, then it is not a voter guide. It is a sham. The gentleman preserves that.

Lastly, she repeats the so-called magic words test, which is the starting point, but for many of us it is not sufficient to handle the area of potential abuse.

So with those observations, I am pleased to add my voice to those of the unanimous membership who is speaking on this bill in favor of the amendment offered by the gentleman from Washington.

Mrs. LINDA SMITH of Washington. Mr. Chairman, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from California (Mr. FARR).

Mr. FARR of California. Mr. Chairman, first of all I want to say that this is an issue that I struggled with in our bill. I compliment the gentleman. I think this is a great improvement on existing law, because it clearly separates what is express advocacy.

Express advocacy under this definition is any time one gets out and says this is the record of a candidate and this record is evil, do not vote for this person. Or this is the record of an angel, please vote for this person. That is express advocacy. That will trigger that the people who publish such things will have to disclose where their money came from. It would have to be hard money.

That is the kind of thing that we have been saying that we need to do. If we just say this is a voter guide, we do not agree with it. But you cannot say therefore vote against this person. That would be an example, because one does not advocate a position, as the gentleman from California (Mr. CAMPBELL) said in the gentleman's words, of unmistakable or unambiguous support for or in opposition to one or more candidates. So you clearly have drawn a line between what has been the problem, which is these kind of hit pieces that have come out that the candidate knows nothing about, even the opposition knows nothing about because they are independent of either, and have been expressing sort of evil actions based on a record. I think that you are commended because this makes a clear distinction.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, may I inquire as to how much time I have remaining?

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The gentleman from Connecticut has one minute remaining.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I would just quickly say that the gentleman from Washington (Mrs. LINDA SMITH), and using the word "gentle" is sometimes a misnomer because she is extraordinarily strong, again has made a wonderful contribution to this process and has been a leader in campaign finance reform throughout the country. I thank her again for her contribution and would again yield my time to her to allow her to close.

Mrs. LINDA SMITH of Washington. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I thank the gentleman from Connecticut for his comments.

This particular area of campaign finance reform probably has had more objections, more confusion, than anything I have seen in my nearly 4 years in Congress. I do not think that this agreement or this amendment is going to make everyone happy but those that used to say we cannot even advocate our position of what we think is right in the voter guide, to them this is taking care of it. To those that do not want people to have any speech about what they think is a good position from their perspective, a group, to them they are not going to necessarily like it either.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. All time has expired.

The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Washington (Mrs. LINDA SMITH), to the amendment in the nature of a substitute No. 13 offered by the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SHAYS).

The question was taken; and the Chairman pro tempore announced that the ayes appeared to have it.

Mrs. LINDA SMITH of Washington. Mr. Chairman, I demand a recorded vote.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore (Mr. CALVERT). Pursuant to House Resolution 442, further proceedings on the amendment offered by the gentleman woman from Washington will be postponed.

Mr. DOOLITTLE. Mr. Chairman, during the course of debate on campaign reform, I have repeatedly voiced concern that the Shays-Meehan legislation, if enacted would threaten citizen participation in our democratic system.

Numerous provisions in Shays-Meehan restrict the right of the people to express their opinions about elected officials and issues through unprecedented limitations on text accompanying issue group voting records and restraints on citizen commentary prior to an election.

Why would any group of citizens distribute a voting guide or scorecard on a candidate when the Federal Election Commission (FEC) would be empowered to decide, after the distribution of the scorecard, whether it was written in an "educational" manner?

Why would a citizen's activist organization issue a "voter alert" to its supporters warning them to an upcoming vote in Congress, when they could be potentially fined for violating the burdensome "coordination" section of the bill?

Why would a group of citizens concerned about an issue like partial birth abortion or affirmative action run a television advertisement to try to influence the way their Member of Congress votes, when they could be fined for violating new free speech restrictions that are contained in the bill?

The Shays-Meehan bill contains a provision that prohibits non-citizens from contributing to campaigns. When you combine that provision with the amendment offered by Representative PICKERING, I believe political contributions by minorities would become suspect.

As a stand alone, the Shays-Meehan bill is patently unconstitutional on its face. It violates the First Amendment rights of all Americans. But it would be a mistake to compound those constitutional errors by somehow making suspect political contributions by Americans with non-western names. With these two amendments adopted, the threat to minority participation in our election process would compound the threat to freedom by the bill.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I move that the Committee do now rise.

The motion was agreed to.

Accordingly the Committee rose; and the Speaker pro tempore (Mr. CALVERT) having assumed the chair, Mr. BARR of Georgia, Chairman pro tempore of the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union, reported that that Committee, having had under consideration the bill (H.R. 2183) to amend the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 to reform the financing of campaigns for elections for Federal office, and for other purposes, had come to no resolution thereon.

CORRECTION OF CONGRESSIONAL RECORD OF JULY 16, 1998, PAGES 5719, 5720 AND 5721, DURING DEBATE ON H.R. 4104, TREASURY AND GENERAL GOVERNMENT APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 1999

AMENDMENT OFFERED BY MR. SMITH OF NEW JERSEY

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment.

The Clerk read as follows:

Amendment offered by Mr. SMITH of New Jersey:

Add at the end of the bill:

Notwithstanding any provision of this Act, no funds in this Act may be used to require any contract to include a term for coverage of abortifacients.

Mr. OBEY. Mr. Chairman, I reserve a point of order on the amendment.

The CHAIRMAN. The gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. OBEY) reserves a point of order.

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Mr. Chairman, due to the lateness of the hour, I do not intend on taking the full 5 minutes.

Let me make it very clear that part of the problem with the Lowey amendment was that it did not define contraception. Many of us have been concerned that the pro-abortion lobby and the pro-abortion organizations over the years have tried to fudge the line of demarcation between fertilization post- and pre-fertilization. Many of the chemicals, many of the devices that are now employed that are permitted under the Federal Employees Health Benefits Program do indeed result in many abortions, newly created human lives that are not permitted to implant in their mother's womb.

In a nutshell, my amendment is designed to clarify that if we are indeed going to force all of the Federal providers of medical care, the HMOs and all the providers as a condition of receiving reimbursement for all of their prescriptions, whether it be for penicillin or any other drug, that they have, to provide "a provision for contraceptive coverage", let us at least make it clear that the gentlelady's language excludes abortion-inducing chemicals. That is what my amendment very simply seeks to do.

Earlier in the day we pointed out during the debate, that while RU-486 isn't legal and, hopefully, never will be there are officials of Planned Parenthood who are already talking about it as a morning after pill. RU-486 is a baby pesticide and destroys life, the newly created life, somewhere along the line up to the 7th week. This is a Federal funding of early abortion but many Members of Congress remain uninformed of that fact. I say with regret, that some abortifacients like IUDs can be provided by the health care providers under the Federal Employees Health Benefits Program. The question is should they be forced to. This says no one is going to be forced to do it. It is a conscience type amendment. Still the plain language of Mrs. LOWEY's amendment only stipulates "a provision for contraceptive coverage"—a much, much, weaker version than the amendment she offered in her Appropriations Committee. Clearly, under her amendment, if a plan merely provided condoms or birth control pills, that would satisfy the obligation created by the amendment.

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. I yield to the gentleman from Maryland.

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Chairman, can the gentleman clarify for me and for others, when he says to include "a term for coverage," what does that phrase mean?

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. I thank the gentleman for asking the question. It says very simply that a health care plan would not have to include those devices and chemicals that may have the effect of an abortifacient. Under my amendment it will not be mandatory, it will not be forced upon the HMOs and upon the health care providers even though the language of Mrs. LOWEY's amendment require only "a provision for contraceptive coverage" to satisfy the requirement.

Mr. HOYER. Am I correct then that the amendment means, "a term for coverage" would mean the term that refers to the abortifacients?

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. If I understand the gentleman's question that is correct.

Mr. HOYER. I thank the gentleman for his clarification.

The CHAIRMAN. Does the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. OBEY) insist on his point of order?

Mr. OBEY. Mr. Chairman, I withdraw the point of order.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Chairman, I move to strike the last word, and I rise to engage the gentleman from New Jersey in a colloquy.

I would like to ask the gentleman to define further his amendment. Based upon the information that we have, the FDA has approved five methods of contraception. This is the established definition of contraception. It has nothing to do with RU-486 although, unfortunately, there were some letters sent out saying it did. RU-486 is not included among the five methods of contraception. It has nothing to do with abortion. There have been debates that have been going on among us, in the country, about when does life begin.

This takes some serious discussion, and I am sure that we can have some serious debates about this issue, but today what we are talking about very simply is the five established methods of contraception that have been improved by the FDA, nothing to do with abortion, nothing to do with RU-486.

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. If the gentlewoman would yield, let me just ask the gentlewoman, because this will help me in responding, her definition of contraception. Is it before fertilization occurs or is it before implantation in the uterus?

Mrs. LOWEY. I am sorry. Will the gentleman repeat?

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Part of the problem we have with the gentlewoman's first amendment, as well as the amendment that was offered and just passed, is a definitional one. How do you define contraception? How do you define pregnancy?

For some, it is implantation. For some, it is fertilization.

Mrs. LOWEY. Reclaiming my time.

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Contraception by definition should mean before a new life has come into being. There are many who want to blur that line and say that chemicals affect the implementation or even after that.

Mrs. LOWEY. If I may reclaim my time, could the gentleman explain whether this includes the pill?

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. This will have to be determined. There is a body of evidence suggesting that IUDs, for example, may have the impact, and many women are unaware of this, may have the impact of preventing implantation.

What my amendment says, that is still permissible under Federal Employees Health Benefit Program but not mandated.

Mrs. LOWEY. Reclaiming my time, if I might ask the gentleman, I believe in response to my question as to whether the pill would be included, since the pill is one of the five methods of approving contraception from the FDA, you seem to be questioning this and I would ask the gentleman, if you are not sure whether the pill is an established method of contraception, what would the plans determine?

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Let me just respond that there are several schools of thought as to what the operation is as to what actually occurs.

Mrs. LOWEY. Reclaiming my time, would the gentleman consider the IUD a form of contraception? This is and approved method of contraception. Or would you consider the IUD as abortifacient?

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Let me make it very clear there has to be a determination made, and maybe it is about time, with all of the resources at our disposal, we really came to a firm conclusion as to how some of these chemicals and how the IUD actually works, because, again, even Planned Parenthood and others will say on their web page that one of the consequences of the IUD may indeed be preventative of implantation.

Mrs. LOWEY. Reclaiming my time, does the gentleman include the diaphragm as a form of contraception?

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. No. As far as I know, that has never been an abortifacient.

Mrs. LOWEY. It seems to me the gentleman has questions about the pill, questions about the diaphragm, questions about the IUD, and I assume the gentleman has questions about Depo—Provera and Norplant.

Let me say this, there are five established methods of contraception. If the gentleman supports the amendment to not cover abortion, then you are saying that contraception cannot be covered; no method of contraception can be covered.

□ 2115

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Not at all. Right now the HMOs, and all of the health care providers under the Federal Employees Health Benefits program, if they choose, can provide any of those methods that you mentioned, from IUDs to Depo-Provera. What your amendment, or what the thrust of your original amendment was to force them to do it.

Mrs. LOWEY. Reclaiming my time, I just want to make it clear to my colleague that the gentleman from New Jersey, it appears to me from your statement, is trying to make every method of contraception an abortifacient; is that correct?

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Not at all, and that is putting words in my mouth, and I think that is unfortunate.

The CHAIRMAN. The time of the gentleman from New York (Mrs. LOWEY) has expired.

(By unanimous consent, Mrs. LOWEY was allowed to proceed for 2 additional minutes.)

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Chairman, if I can make it clear, I think it is very important, my colleagues, that we realize what the gentleman is attempting to achieve with this amendment. He is stating that there is no form of contraception that may not be considered an abortifacient and, therefore, the American women have to understand—

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. If the gentleman will yield, I did not say that at all.

Mrs. LOWEY. No, I will not yield. I will not yield. That the American people who are listening to this debate have to understand that this Congress wants to tell women that all forms of contraception are abortifacients and they cannot be considered.

I would like to make that point again. The majority of American women do support the use of contraceptives. These are very personal decisions, we understand that, and each person has to make it for themselves. But the majority of American women understands that.

Now, it seems to me from this discussion, that the gentleman from New Jersey is saying to every woman who may take a birth control pill or use another one of the five accepted methods of contraception that they are abortionists.

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Not at all.

Mrs. LOWEY. I think it is important to clarify what we are talking about because the FDA has approved five methods of contraception.

Mr. BARTON of Texas. Mr. Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Mr. Chairman, I want to rise in support of the amendment of the gentleman from New Jersey.

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. BARTON of Texas. I yield to the gentleman from New Jersey to explain his amendment and to answer any questions he may have.

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Mr. Chairman, I want to make it clear to my colleagues that birth control pills and diaphragms are not abortifacients. IUDs and post-coital pills have the capability of that. That is where there has been very little conversation, especially with women, as to what might be happening when they think they are preventing fertilization when, indeed, implantation is what is being prevented.

Mr. COBURN. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. BARTON of Texas. I yield to the gentleman from Oklahoma.

Mr. COBURN. Mr. Chairman, I understand that there is confusion about this issue, and if I may, from my experience, please lend some of that to our body, one; and, number two, also relay that I had a conversation with the gentleman from New York, and I do understand what her intention is and I do understand the intention of the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. SMITH). She has an honorable request. She won that in her committee, and it should be honored in that way.

But let me clarify for this body that, in fact, the diaphragm is not an abortifacient; that oral contraceptives are not an abortifacient; that morning-after pills, in fact, are; that IUDs are, in fact, abortifacients.

Now, there is not a medical question about how they work, and there is not a medical question about how oral contraceptives work. Their intention is to prevent ovulation or to prevent penetration of a sperm. That is not an abortifacient. And there is no question in the medical community about how they work.

So I would ask this body that if, in fact, we feel we want to make a decision based on what the request of gentleman from New York really is, that we supply oral contraceptives to women in this country, that we accept the Smith amendment to that, and we can qualify and solve this problem and this will go through. If, in fact, not, then we will see we will have an extended debate on whether or not the bill will make it.

An honorable amendment was brought forth in the committee. An honorable amendment to the gentleman's amendment is now offered. The clarity cannot be any clearer than what I have stated. The Smith amendment does not limit oral contraceptives, it only limits those things that are considered abortifacients.

Mrs. JOHNSON of Connecticut. Mr. Chairman, I move to strike the requisite number of words.

Mr. Chairman, I oppose this amendment, and I think that Members have to be very sensitive to what my colleague from New Jersey is attempting to do here today.

Is there no limit to my colleague's willingness to impose his concept of when life begins on others? Conception is a process. Fertilization of the egg is part of that process. But if that fertilized egg does not get implanted, it does not grow. And so on throughout the course of pregnancy.

For those who do not believe that life begins upon fertilization, but believes, in fact, that that fertilized egg has to be implanted, the gentleman is imposing his judgment as to when life begins on that person and, in so doing, denying them what might be the safest means of contraception available to them.

Some women cannot take the pill. It is too disruptive to them. Some women depend on intrauterine devices and other such contraceptives. When we get to the point where we have the courage to do more research in contraception, we will have many other options to offer women so that they can have safe contraception.

For us to make the decision that that woman must choose a means of contraception that reflects any one individual's determination as to when in that process of conception life actually begins is a level of intrusion into conscience, into independence, into freedom that, frankly, I have never witnessed. Even the issue of being for or against abortion is a different issue than we debate here tonight. We have never, ever intruded to this depth.

When I talk to my friends who are obstetricians, because all my colleagues know my husband is a retired obstetrician, how the pills work is not simple. In some women they have one effect, and they may have first effects and secondary effects. They prevent ovulation in general but not absolutely. And if there is a fertilization while on the pill, the pill prevents implantation.

So this is a complex process. And for us to imagine here tonight that it is either right or proper or possible for the gentleman to impose his determination on others at this level is extraordinary. As a Republican who believes that government should stay out of our lives, I oppose this amendment with everything in me. And I would ask my colleagues, those who are pro life—and I honor that position. And I would say that the pro-life members of our Nation have changed the issue of abortion over these years. People take it far more seriously. It is not as casual. They have made an enormous difference for the good in our Nation. But that does not make it right for them to step, then, into this level and try to make definitions that, frankly, are not nearly so simple as my friend and respected colleague, the gentleman from Oklahoma (Mr. COBURN), implies.

The lines are not clear. They are not simple. I would ask my colleague to respect that we are a Nation founded on the belief that we should have freedom of conscience and freedom of religion, and this amendment deeply, deeply compromises those liberties.

PROCEEDINGS AND DEBATES OF THE 105th CONGRESS, SECOND SESSION

Vol. 144

WASHINGTON, MONDAY, JULY 20, 1998

No. 97

Senate

The Senate met at 1 p.m. and was called to order by the President pro tempore [Mr. THURMOND].

The Chaplain, Dr. Lloyd John Ogilvie, offered the following prayer:

PRAYER

Gracious Father, we seek to be obedient to You as we fulfill the sacred duties of the Senate this week. A voice from the past calls us to make our work an expression of our faith. Samuel Adams said, "If you carefully fulfill the various duties of life, from a principle of obedience to your heavenly Father, you will enjoy that peace which the world cannot give nor take away."

May the Senators and all who assist them see the work of this day as an opportunity to glorify You by serving our country. We renew our commitment to excellence in all that we do. Our desire is to know and do Your will. Grant us a profound experience of Your peace, true serenity in our souls, that comes from complete trust in You and dependence on Your guidance. Free us of anything that would distract us or disturb us as we give ourselves to the tasks and challenges of this week. Through our Lord and Savior. Amen.

RECOGNITION OF THE ACTING MAJORITY LEADER

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The able acting majority leader, Senator ROBERTS of Kansas, is recognized.

SCHEDULE

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, this afternoon, the Senate will be in a period of morning business until 3 p.m. Following morning business, the Senate will resume consideration of H.R. 4112, the legislative branch appropriations bill.

As a reminder, a cloture motion was filed on Friday to the legislative branch bill and, therefore, Members have until 2 p.m. today to file first-degree amendments. The cloture vote will occur tomorrow at approximately 9:30 in the morning.

At the conclusion of debate today on the legislative branch appropriations bill, the Senate will begin consideration of S. 2260, the Commerce-State-Justice appropriations bill. All Members are encouraged to come to the floor to offer and debate amendments to this legislation. The majority leader has announced there will be no rollcall votes during today's session and, therefore, any votes ordered with respect to any appropriations bills will be postponed, to occur on Tuesday following the vote on cloture.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT AGREEMENT—STRIKING SECTION 3705 OF CERTAIN ENGROSSED BILLS

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Secretary of the Senate be authorized, in the engrossment of the following bills, to strike section 3705 of each bill:

The Senate amendment to H.R. 3616, the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1999;

S. 2057, the Strom Thurmond National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1999; and

S. 2058, the Department of Energy National Security Act for Fiscal Year 1999.

I further ask unanimous consent that the Secretary be authorized, in the engrossment of the following bills, to strike the period at the end of section 2646(a)(2) of title 10, United States Code, as proposed to be added by section 321(a) of each bill, and insert in lieu thereof the following: "and only if such materials are specifically provided for in subchapter VIII, chapter 98 of the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States.";

The Senate amendment to H.R. 3616, the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1999;

S. 2057, the Strom Thurmond National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1999; and

S. 2060, the Department of Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1999.

I further ask unanimous consent that S. 2057, as so corrected, be printed as passed.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. Without objection, it is so ordered.

MEASURE PLACED ON CALENDAR—S. 2230

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, I understand there is a bill at the desk due for its second reading.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The clerk will report.

The assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

A bill (S. 2230) to improve the access and choice of patients to quality and affordable health care.

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, I object to further consideration of the bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The bill will be placed on the calendar.

Mr. ROBERTS. I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. ROBERTS). Without objection, it is so ordered.

MORNING BUSINESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Under the previous order, there will now be a period for the transaction of morning business not to extend beyond the hour of 3 p.m. with Senators permitted to speak therein for not to exceed 5 minutes.

• This "bullet" symbol identifies statements or insertions which are not spoken by a Member of the Senate on the floor.

PRIVILEGE OF THE FLOOR

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. President, may I ask unanimous consent that Vickery Fales from our office be granted privileges of the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

PATIENTS' BILL OF RIGHTS

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. President, I wanted to take the opportunity today as we gather, and before we begin debate on a specific bill, to talk a little bit about the Patients' Bill of Rights, the Republican bill that was introduced last week, a bill that I believe has a great deal of value for the American people. S. 2330, the Patients' Bill of Rights, will be the subject, I think, of our discussion this week and, indeed, should be.

For some time now we have been hearing from the other side of the aisle with respect to a Patients' Bill of Rights, and they will have one. Hopefully what will happen, we will have an opportunity to consider both of these bills, have an up-or-down vote on each of them, and successfully pass one of these versions that will protect patients throughout the country.

The Republican proposal is a carefully crafted plan intended to give patients and families more choices as we change the way health care is delivered in this country. And as we move toward more managed care, then there needs, I believe, to be some additional provisions put into law which will ensure that Americans and their families receive the kind of care we would like them to receive.

There are differences between the two bills. Some of them, I believe, are significant—some of them are broad differences that are philosophical, I suppose. For example, the Republican bill deals with those health plans that are not regulated by the States.

In Wyoming, my home State, things are quite different in terms of a health care delivery system compared to New York or California. We have a State of 100,000 square miles with 470,000 people, so you can imagine—we have small towns, and we have a different kind of system. Just this weekend I was in Casper, WY, celebrating the 15th anniversary of the Life Flight program in Wyoming. That is the helicopter, and a fixed wing as well, from the Central Wyoming Medical Center which serves the whole State.

We have one Life Flight program for all of Wyoming. It serves the mountains in the north; it serves the towns in the south. It is quite different, for example, than you would have in New England. So I think it is important that we allow States to continue regulating those health plans that they have jurisdiction over so they may craft regulations tailored to their specific needs. The Republican Patients Bill of Rights, therefore, focuses solely on health plans outside State jurisdiction.

Secondly, Republicans propose a different type of appeals process. The Democratic proposal says go to the courts; let's have more litigation; let's bring the lawyers in to decide health care issues. Republicans, on the other hand, say let's have a health care system where the appeals are decided more quickly, less expensively, and are made by doctors.

I think those are very important differences. The main focus of this debate, then, will and should center around patients. That is really what health care is all about. And I think the Republican plan achieves the goal of dealing with the needs of patients.

It includes at least six new consumer standards that I think are important for us to consider. One is access to emergency care. This is the kind of thing that I just spoke of in terms of Wyoming. As you can imagine, the Life Flight helicopter is an expensive project but very necessary. There is no other way to carry patients from a small town in the Big Horns to the medical center in Casper. This ensures that emergency care will be received.

The prudent lay care standard is adopted where emergency health care screening is guaranteed. And this is not the case, of course, in all managed care plans. So it is very important.

Point-of-service access, point-of-service coverage, this provides that if you choose to see a provider outside of the managed care network, the program should make arrangements for you to be able to do that. We think that is important. For continuity of care in case the physician leaves the health plan or the plan changes, patients must be notified of such changes. Patients also should have the opportunity to continue seeing that provider for at least 90 days while they make the transition to choose another provider in the health plan's preferred network. This transition period would apply to patients in their second trimester of pregnancy or for those who may be terminally ill. Again, also, that is an important issue. By the way, many of these issues are the same in both bills and that is good; there will be some agreement. There needs to be open discussion of all treatment options. Those of us who are in managed care need to know exactly what is coming. We need to know exactly what benefits will be covered. On the other hand, if you are going to have managed care and choose that as a less expensive option, then we can only expect to utilize the benefits that are covered. So there needs to be open discussion of all treatment options, as well as full disclosure of the health plan's terms and conditions.

There are some key differences, and I have mentioned them, between the GOP and the Kennedy bills. Most of the areas considered are the same or are, indeed, similar, and I think that is as it should be. But I have already mentioned that there is a grievance process that replaces litigation. I happen to think that is a great idea.

One of the real problems we have had in health care through the years is not only the cost of litigation itself, but also the types of duplicative services performed to prevent lawsuits, tests that are terribly expensive. Over the last several years, we have been able to reduce these costs. But now we find ourselves faced with similar circumstances than may raise the cost of health care again.

Obviously, you have to have some form of appeals program. However, the key is to make sure it proceeds in a timely manner so you do not wait 2 or 3 years to get redress. You don't have the time to do that in health care. You need some decisions made very quickly. The other requirement is to make sure such decisions are made by doctors, not by lawyers. That is important. So I think there is a great deal of merit to our approach.

So there are a number of reasons why I think the Republican approach is best. One is, it gives rights and remedies to 48 million Americans whose current coverages are unregulated. It also provides for some new provisions. It allows full deductibility for the purchase of health insurance by the self-employed, which has not been the case in the past. It outlaws gag rules placed on physicians. Most States have done that. It expands emergency room coverage. It makes it easier to get service outside of the HMO. It remove barriers to seeing obstetricians, gynecologists and pediatricians, which provides great peace of mind. It also requires the continuity of care and more information to consumers. Consumers are entitled to these standards. Standards which are designed to make managed care plans more accountable. So as we change health care in this delivery system, there needs to be some regulatory revisions, and that is what the Republican Patients Bill of Rights does.

This bill is something we need to do. The purposes are good. The legislation is well-written. It provides quality care based on sound medical evidence, and that is something that we sorely need in this country. I urge Members of the Senate to support the Republican health care bill.

I yield the floor.

Mr. WELLSTONE. Mr. President, I say to my colleague from Wyoming, way over there, if he needs more time, we don't have many people on the floor. I don't want him to rush on my account. Does he need more time? If so, I am pleased to wait.

Mr. THOMAS. I thank the Senator from Minnesota. I have finished what I have to say. I appreciate his patience.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Minnesota is recognized.

FEDERAL EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT AGENCY

Mr. WELLSTONE. Mr. President, there are a number of matters I thought I would cover, since there are not a lot of people here on the floor today yet. First of all, I want to talk about the appropriations bill that we passed for VA and HUD last week. While I submitted a statement for the RECORD, since we were in a rush and squeezed for time, I didn't have a chance to talk about FEMA and in particular the Director, James Lee Witt. I feel bad about that. I want to talk about FEMA, and I want to talk about Mr. Witt today on the floor because this small agency with a very big heart has made a huge difference to a lot of our States—to a lot of people in our States. As we go to conference, I hope the conferees will remember the very big job I think FEMA does and will honor the level of funding requested by the President in the President's budget.

My contact with James Lee Witt—I want to talk about him, and then I want to talk about FEMA. It is about more than one person. It goes back to 1993. The Chair today, from Kansas, of course, knows agriculture as well as anyone and knows what happens when you are faced with record flooding. We were hit with just terrible flooding in 1993. Farmers couldn't plant the crop. There was a lot of economic pain. I think that is the first time that I had a chance to just watch James Lee Witt in action.

What I was most impressed about was just what we call the hands-on approach. I felt he was the opposite of somebody who was impersonal, the opposite of a "bureaucrat." By the way, there are many bureaucrats who aren't "bureaucrats." There are many people in Government who do their very best for people. I get tired of the bashing sometimes. But he was so personable and really came through for people.

Then, of course, not that long ago—what was it, a year ago, a year-and-a-half ago—we had the floods in North Dakota. Everybody remembers Grand Forks, the flooding, the fire, the cold winter weather, and East Grand Forks in Minnesota, and other communities—Ada, Warren—it was just devastating.

I just want to say, again, the bad news is that, with FEMA, you know FEMA people are going to come out because there is a real crisis. The bad news of a James Lee Witt, the Director, visiting your State, is you know he wouldn't be there and other FEMA people wouldn't be there except for some kind of disaster, except for some kind of a crisis. The good news is that always good things happen afterwards.

Once upon a time, I remember, there was all sorts of frustration about FEMA. I don't want my colleagues to forget what Mr. Witt has done. I think he is one of the best appointments the President has ever made. He has done an excellent job of making this agency so much more responsive to people in our communities, people who are facing a real crisis. What he did, and what FEMA did, to help people who had been affected by the devastating flood of the Red River, was just remarkable. It was just remarkable. I want to comment on that on the floor.

Again, this past year, we were hit with tornadoes, and again the town of Comfrey was essentially leveled to the ground. St. Peter was hit hard, Le Center—I could talk about a lot of communities. Again, James Lee Witt came.

The people in Minnesota, the people in these communities who have been faced with these crises, have tremendous appreciation for this Director—tremendous appreciation. He has gone the extra mile every time to try to push the categories of assistance as far as he can, to try to get the help to people, to try to make sure there is not unnecessary delay, to try to make sure he cuts through as much of the bureaucracy as possible. And he has done that. I just want to say to colleagues, especially to the conferees, I hope we give this agency the funding they really deserve.

The other thing I think is real important is, FEMA is now focused on this predisaster mitigation program, which I think is real important. This is another example of FEMA being in a good partnership with our local communities and with our businesses, to figure out, given what we have been faced with, how, in fact, we can do the mitigation work to prevent a lot of the damage and a lot of the pain and a lot of cost that happens afterwards. This is a very proactive Director.

My last point is, I have fallen in love with FEMA people. I don't know if I would ever do this or not, but I am tempted, if I have the skill, when I am no longer in politics or public life, to work for FEMA. It is really fascinating when you get to know people. These are people from all around the country, and they travel around, they respond to these crises, they come into your State, they live in the State—it is like a family.

It is constant responding to people—people who have been flooded out of their homes, people who don't have any clothing, people who don't know where they are going to stay, people whose businesses have been destroyed.

Of course, it is so difficult, but I am so impressed with a lot of the FEMA people and the job that they do. It is just quite amazing. You meet a former head of the State patrol of California, retired military person here, retired business person there—a whole lot of pretty fascinating people who work for FEMA who are just experts at dealing with these crisis situations.

I don't think that any of us had an opportunity to speak about FEMA as we were going through the VA-HUD appropriations bill. I wanted to speak about FEMA, and I wanted to speak about FEMA's very able Director. I am positive that I am not just speaking for myself. I am also positive that I am not just speaking for Democrats. I think there are many Republicans who would echo my sentiments about Mr. Witt and about FEMA.

AUTO WORKERS' STRIKE

Mr. WELLSTONE. Mr. President, last week I had a chance to speak about the auto workers' strike in Flint, MI. Today, this strike is about local issues, but it is of national importance. Today the presidents and the other active members of United Auto Workers locals from around the country are in Flint, MI. I wanted to one more time say that we now are more than 5 weeks into this strike.

This has affected, I think, well over 100,000 workers in the country, not just the workers of Flint. The issues are clear cut—health and safety issues, which still are very important issues at the workplace in America, the speeding up of production lines, and the sending of work or the contracting out to outside suppliers.

My own view is that GM has made a mistake with what I characterize as hardball tactics, because I think what happens is with hardball tactics—the walking away from negotiations, the threat of cutting off health care benefits of those who are out on strike, the threat of shutting down the two parts plants in Flint, MI—what it does is it undercuts the very good labor relations that actually are so critical to productivity.

On the floor of the Senate, I say to GM in particular that I think good labor relations begin with a handshake, not a 2 by 4, and I hope to see both parties back in negotiations, and the sooner the better.

What is happening in Flint, MI—again, the issues are local but the significance of it is national. What is at stake is American jobs, good jobs, living-wage jobs, jobs that pay a good wage with good fringe benefits.

As I stand today on the floor of the U.S. Senate, I want to make it clear that as a Senator, that even though I am on the floor of the Senate, I also feel like my heart and soul are with the auto workers in Flint, MI. I extend my support as a Senator from Minnesota.

There is a whole tradition to this. When I was a college teacher, I used to teach labor history, a labor politics class, and some of the most famous sitdowns took place in Flint, MI, in 1937—a very courageous, very courageous action by workers. These auto workers come out of a very rich tradition, a lot of courage by their parents and their grandparents, and I believe they are showing the same courage today.

My hope is that we will see that negotiations will resume, that there will be a fair settlement, and that the United Auto Workers will not only have done well for themselves, but, more importantly, will do well for workers around the country.

There are key issues here—health and safety issues. People who work have a right to say, "Look, we're going to work, but we're going to work under civilized working conditions." People have a right to have a decent wage.

People have a right to focus on pension and health care benefits. People have a right to be concerned about the contracting out of jobs. They have a right to be concerned about the trade agreements, as a matter of fact.

That is why the workers in Flint, MI, are on the picket line today, and that is why, as a U.S. Senator from Minnesota, I strongly support these workers who are out on the picket line.

NOMINATION OF JAMES HORMEL

Mr. WELLSTONE. Mr. President, I read today in the paper—and I am not quite sure where we are headed, and I always look forward to having a chance to meet and talk with the majority leader, agree or disagree, on all issues—but I read in the paper the majority leader said he didn't think he would have time to bring up the nomination of James Hormel. That is a terrible mistake.

I have spoken on the floor. I said after the tobacco legislation, I was looking for an opportunity to offer an amendment. Frankly, on the basis of discussions I had with a lot of different people, I decided that it would be better to wait because I was hoping, if you will, that cooler heads would prevail on this matter and we would figure out a way to bring this nomination to the floor.

If it is a debate or discussion, it will be a good debate and good discussion. Too much of the climate has become too poisonous. If the majority leader is basically shutting the door on any action on the floor of the Senate—I hope he isn't; I guess that is my plea to the majority leader: I hope you have not done that—I want to find out as soon as possible. Then, I believe, it will be important for some of us to bring amendments to the floor and, basically, one way or another, have a debate and have an up-or-down vote.

Every Senator is entitled to their own opinion about whether or not James Hormel would be an able Ambassador to Luxembourg, and every Senator is entitled to a vote. I am entitled to my opinion, and I am entitled to a vote. I think the majority of us—well over 60 of us—would vote to confirm this nomination.

I cannot see anything in Mr. Hormel's record—anything in his record, anything in his record—that would disqualify him from this job. I see someone with an enormously successful background in education—that means a lot to me; education has been my life's work—a very successful business person, philanthropist, and very active in the legal profession. For the life of me, there is no reason to stop this nomination, except for the fact—and if this is the fact, let's get it out in the open—that he is gay. If that is what troubles colleagues, come out here and say it. If colleagues want to say he is gay, or if they want to say he has been too outspoken on gay causes, then let's get that out here.

Too many comments have been made in the last several months—made here, there—and I don't think that is good for the Senate. Frankly, the failure of the U.S. Senate to at least bring this nomination to the floor and have an honest discussion and an honest debate—frankly, this is less about Jim Hormel than it is about the Senate. The Senate is far more on trial than is Jim Hormel. This is not good for this institution. If this is just a case of discrimination against somebody because of their sexual orientation, we all have to look ourselves in the mirror. If not, fine, we will have the discussion, we will have the debate, and we will have the vote. But I don't think, as much as I might respect the majority leader or respect his prerogatives, necessarily his word would be the final word, at least in terms of a discussion and a debate. My hope is, we can figure out a way of bringing Mr. Hormel's nomination to the floor and that there will be a vote.

CHILDREN'S MENTAL HEALTH

Mr. WELLSTONE. Finally, Mr. President, seeing no other colleague on the floor, I want to talk about this more in detail and in depth when we have the Commerce-State-Justice appropriations bill before us, which I think will be in the next day or so. I am working on an amendment—I hope it can be ready—that actually evolves from a piece of legislation I have been working on for some time dealing with mental health in children.

I have been very lucky to have done a lot of the mental health work with Senator DOMENICI from New Mexico, my Republican colleague. He has certainly been more of the leader than I have, but I have been honored to work with him.

Mr. President, I went on a visit—I will talk about this in more detail, in more depth later—to Lula, LA, about 2 weeks ago as a Senator. I think it was some of the best work I have done as a Senator outside of Minnesota—the best work is in Minnesota. I wanted to go there because I have read some Justice Department reports about the need for real dramatic improvement in the conditions affecting these children.

I see pages here. This is a corrections center, and the kids that are here in the center range in age from 11 to about 18. A lot of the kids I talked to were 14, 15. I did talk to several 11-year-olds as well. I went down there determined—I talked to both of my colleagues from Louisiana, not to sort of say, well, how terrible, Louisiana; only in Louisiana. I do not believe that for a moment. I think we can do a lot better.

My focus had to do with mental health and children. The estimates now made by the Justice Department—there was a pretty powerful front-page story in the New York Times that was written last week that I will get in the RECORD when I offer this amendment.

But the fact of the matter is, the estimates are that about 25 percent of the kids here struggle with mental problems. Many of them actually never committed a crime. I mean, they would be picked up, they would run away from home, be out in the street. A very small percentage committed a violent crime; I guess probably less than 10 percent, closer to 5 percent. I will talk about that in a moment.

But what happens is that these facilities—and this is certainly what happened in Lula—become a dumping ground with kids struggling with mental illness. They should not be there in the first place. To compound the problem, they are there, but with no treatment. And to compound that problem, it becomes pretty brutal with them. They should not be there.

I went to Lula—and, again, I am going to be very careful as not to speak with that much emotion because there is plenty to be emotional about, but to just give a report on the floor of the Senate. I will focus on this again in more detail with the amendment so my colleagues know what the amendment is about.

In the administrative building there were a lot of people from Louisiana that were there, a lot of officials, which was fine. I met the new warden, whom I believe is trying to make changes. He just got there, so it would be unfair to pin any of this on him.

I wanted to go to the solitary confinement cells because I also heard kids were locked up in solitary confinement as many as 23 hours a day for as long as 6 or 7 weeks. I wanted to know which kids. I wanted to know, What does a kid do to be put in solitary confinement like this? What is the criteria you use? I wanted to know more about that.

Initially, we negotiated, and the idea was I would get there, but first I would start off with kids who were eating lunch. I went in, and it was interesting. There were kids eating lunch. I also say, since I think race is still a reality in America, my guess is over 80 percent of the kids of about 500-plus kids were African American. I do not know what the population is in Louisiana—certainly nowhere close to 80 percent.

Kids were eating, and I went up to some kids who were eating, and I just said, "How are you doing?" This one young guy said to me, "Not that good." I said, "What do you mean?" He said, "Well, you see this food?" By this time lots of officials were with me. He said, "See this food?" I said, "Yeah." He said, "We never eat this food. We never have a meal like this. This is just because you're here."

He said, "The table—smell the paint. This was just painted. These tables don't look like this." He said, "These clothes I have on,"—I am just reporting what he said to me—he said, "These clothes I have on, they just gave us this stuff last night. These aren't the clothes we usually wear. It's hot. There's no air conditioning. You know, we smell—the same clothing, same underwear. We never get new clothing like this.”

Then he went on and he said, “When you go outside and you look at the baskets there, when you look at the hoops, the nets were put on the hoop. We didn’t have any nets on these hoops. This all just happened. This is a show.”

That is the way it started out. I just give that report. Then I walked across the yard, heading over to where the solitary confinement cells are, and there was a group of kids outside. It was very hot. And this one young man just basically broke away from the guards and leaped on to a roof of a building and started running toward me. I had a whole lot of people that were with me, a lot of media people from Louisiana, and again a lot of people from the State.

I went over to where he was, and I said, “You’re going to get in a lot of trouble.” And I think he said, “I know.” I said, “Why are you doing this?” He said, “I want to make a statement.” I said, “What is your statement?” He said, “I want to tell you this is a show. And I want to tell you, when you leave we’re going to be beaten up; we’re going to be retaliated against.”

Mr. President, I then met with four kids and their lawyer from the Southern Poverty Law Center—a great lawyer—for about an hour. They talked about some of the retaliation—which, by the way, I have to give the warden credit. There has been some reduction in this. But the more I was there, the more it became clear to me—and, again, I will, from Fox Butterfield’s article in the New York Times, I will spend more time on this with the amendment.

But it became clear to me that there was precious little by way of vocational ed, hardly any education, not adequate counseling services, not an adequate way of assessing kids. Did they come from a home where there was violence in the home? Were there substance abuse problems? Were they themselves in need of treatment, especially in the mental health area, pharmacological treatment, or other treatment? Hardly adequate medical facilities.

I just have to tell you, Mr. President, I am not so angry at Louisiana because I know you can find plenty of these conditions around the country. But I am wondering how in the world we can let this happen in America.

Some of the kids I met with—one boy had stolen a moped, and thus he wound up here. One was there for breaking and entering and had broken into somebody’s home. Another cut somebody with a knife in a fight, so on and so forth.

But here is my question: I have two questions now. One, which will speak to the amendment that I hope to have ready, and the other goes beyond that. On mental health and children, I really do believe—and I spoke with the warden afterwards and, again, I give him credit for, I believe, trying to make changes, and I believe the same with the commissioner of corrections. I am always interested in having things change.

Senator BREAUX said that there is going to be an all-out effort to do a lot more by way of training with the staff there. But my question is whether or not—when it comes to Louisiana or any State in the country, from Louisiana to California, to New York, to Minnesota; though I think there are great differences, great differences right now—the question really is this: Whether or not we are going to, within some kind of framework of integrated mental health services, provide these States with some resources so that, in fact, an assessment can be made, and so that we just do not dump kids in these facilities. And if they are in these facilities because they really have committed a crime, and they need to be in such a facility—although there are many alternatives—then we ought to make sure they get the treatment.

The second thing that I want to say, Mr. President, in this particular case is this has been all contracted out to—I forget the name of the company—and I have to wonder about how we do this. I mean, I have to say, I am all for profit. I am all for a strong private sector, especially the more small business focused it is, the more I like it. But when you are talking about juveniles, they are supposed to be receiving additional help.

They are supposed to get the educational and vocational opportunities. And they are supposed to be able to receive the kind of support services that will enable them, when they are 15 or 16 and after they have been in these facilities, to get out and rebuild their lives.

I have to tell you, America, that I do not think too many of these kids are going to be able to do that. And, frankly, if they went in mixed up, having made a mistake, having done something they should not have done, they are going to come out very different. You might not want to meet them at 10 p.m. at night.

I think what we are doing in some of these facilities is so shortsighted, it is so myopic, it is such a big mistake. Yes, hold people accountable. And if people commit crimes and should be in a corrections center, so be it. But you know what? There are certain standards of decency. There are certain standards about how we treat young people. Every one of these children is some mother’s child, is some father’s child. I do not care whether they are in Lula, LA, or in California, New York, Minnesota, or any other State.

Now, one of the things in Minnesota that I will brag on a little bit, although it is not heaven on Earth, we have tried very hard to do an assessment at the front end of the system and look for alternatives to incarcerating kids. I just think it is an area that even if we don’t want to look at—sometimes we don’t want to know what we don’t want to know—we better look at this with our eyes open. These are kids. These are kids. A lot of them shouldn’t be there. A lot of them are struggling with mental problems. A lot of them aren’t getting any care whatever. We are talking about the criminalization of mental illness.

Above and beyond that, the other issue I point out is that the overall conditions of this facility are unconscionable. I want to make it clear again to the warden and to Louisiana, it is not just Louisiana. I know that. That just happened to be my first visit. But I do have to tell you that after 3 hours—and I don’t think I am naive; I have done a lot of organizing in a lot of communities with a lot of people who have struggled on the bottom—I have to tell you I was reeling for 3 hours there. I believe we have to do better. I am looking forward to introducing this legislation and maybe it will be an amendment on this bill. I hope I will get good support from my colleagues.

I thank both of my colleagues from Louisiana, in particular, for being supportive, talking with me about the trip, and their very strong interest in working with officials in Louisiana to make things better. There are some people in Louisiana State government who are absolutely committed to doing that. I know that. I certainly hope, as a Senator with an interest in this area, I can help out with their efforts.

What I can’t, however, forget, as I speak on the floor of the Senate, is what I saw. I saw conditions that I didn’t think existed today in America. I saw kids living under conditions that should not be. Kids shouldn’t be assaulted or beaten up for no good reason. That will take us nowhere.

There are new people who are moving in as security guards. There are changes that are being made. But I tell you, the sooner the better; the sooner the better. That is one of the reasons I speak on the floor of the Senate to try to help make these changes happen.

I thank my colleagues for their indulgence. I yield the floor, and I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. THOMAS). The clerk will call the roll.

The legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, notwithstanding the previous order, I ask unanimous consent, detecting no other Senator wishing to speak, I may be permitted to continue for 15 minutes in morning business.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none, and it is so ordered.

Mr. ROBERTS. I thank the Chair.

CONGRATULATING THE 22D AIR REFUELING WING, McCONNELL AFB, WICHITA, KS

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, I rise today to congratulate the Men and Women of the 22d Air Refueling Wing at McConnell Air Force Base in Wichita, Kansas. The crew at the 22d won recognition as the top KC-135 maintenance team in the world at a recent competition known as the Air Mobility Rodeo. This is an event sponsored by the Air Mobility Command. It is an accomplishment that requires skill, training, leadership, teamwork, pride, professionalism and unselfish dedication to the task at hand. I take this opportunity to publicly acknowledge their great success and professionalism.

The Air Mobility Rodeo is a binational, multinational event that is designed to develop and improve techniques and procedures that enhance air mobility operations—something that is very crucial in today's world. In this year's competition at McCord Air Force Base, the participants included more than 2,500 competitors formed in 80 teams from over 300 active duty Air Force, Air Force Reserve command, Air National Guard, U.S. Marine Corps, U.S. Army, and other Allied Nations. Winning this award is an important event worthy of real recognition. What also makes this such an important win is that for the 22d, it is a repeat win for this team. They walked away with the prize in the 1996 competition as well. And this leads me to say there is no question that the KC-135 aircraft at McConnell are the best maintained in the world.

Let me acknowledge the leadership at Team McConnell because without their leadership and guidance, the atmosphere at McConnell would never support the effort required to win this competition. The two key players are the Wing Commander, Col. Michael C. Gould, and the Senior Enlisted Advisor, Chief Master Sergeant Herbert V. Williams, Jr. Anyone who has been around the military understands how much the senior leadership of an organization sets the tone for the entire command.

There is one other member of the team whose contribution I want to recognize. That member is Lead Crew Chief, Sergeant Jeffery Gass. He was singled out for special recognition and was selected as Air Mobility Command's Crew Chief of the year.

It is men and women such as Sgt. Gass who make our military the most successful in the world. They are the unsung heroes—quietly working in the background, exceptionally professional, dedicated to their service and their nation, and serving the communities where they are stationed. The award nomination for Sgt. Gass is testimony to his unselfish dedication, his professional knowledge, and his service to his country and the local community.

I am particularly proud to recognize this team from McConnell Air Force Base and Sgt. Gass not only because they contribute so much to the defense of our nation but because they contribute so much to Wichita and Kansas. Well done to the 22nd Air Refueling Wing and well done to Sgt. Gass.

THE MARINE ACTION IN CENTCOM FOR NEO OPERATIONS

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, I rise today to compliment the men and women of our sea services, the U.S. Marine Corps and the U.S. Navy, on an operation recently conducted. It was about a month ago in the African country of Eritrea. I think we should all be very proud of the way the Navy and the Marine Corps team responded to what I refer to as a 911 call, to execute an evacuation operation, commonly called a NEO, in that part of the world in Africa. It resulted from the unrest that this country, Eritrea, has had with its neighbor, Ethiopia. Let me highlight the action as it unfolded.

On the evening of the June 5 of this year, the marines and sailors of the 11th Marine Expeditionary Unit, part of a forward-deployed Amphibious Ready Group, received what is called a warning order. A warning order is a "heads up" that a specific tasking is about to come your way and you had better start thinking about the mission that is contained in the warning order. That mission was the removal of American citizens from Eritrea because of the increasing unrest, as I have indicated, with Ethiopia. The marines, who had just finished conducting an exercise in Jordan, began their preparations right off the bat.

At 3:30 in the afternoon of the 6th of June, the commanding officer, Colonel T.L. Moore, as ordered by General Anthony Zinni, the Commander in Chief of the U.S. Central Command, launched two C-130 aircraft along with 30 marines and sailors from this expeditionary unit. They arrived in Asmara, Eritrea, and began removing U.S. citizens and personnel from other countries. At 11:50 p.m., on that same day, the mission was complete.

What mission?

These superb marines and sailors removed from harm's way, and to safety, 105 American citizens, 24 Norwegians, 20 who were British, 8 Canadians, 3 Ethiopians, 3 Japanese, 1 Korean, 1 Mexican, and 1 Swedish civilian. I am told the C-130s were proudly flying the Stars and Stripes in regards to this mission instead of their usual command banner strictly as a matter of pride in their mission and their nation.

Also as part of this continuing effort, the U.S.S. Tarawa got underway at 3 p.m. on the 6th and steamed at full speed to the coast of Eritrea to wait for any further requests for NEO assistance in case any more problems did, simply, come up.

I think the remarkable thing about the Tarawa is that the ship did actually prepare for this mission and got underway in less than 72 hours.

There was not any fanfare in the press about this. There were no stories in the media about the successful effort or pride of our men and women involved in this important mission. I think probably too many times the only military stories we hear about are some isolated event involving a service member that creates a negative headline, or some controversial issue, like today we are hearing over the media that somehow or other we are going to lessen or keep or improve or make more stringent the rules of the military in regards to adultery.

I just wanted to take this opportunity to share this mission with my colleagues because it reflects, I think, the pride and the professionalism that is the standard of the vast majority of the members of our Armed Forces. It is so infrequent that we in the Congress really salute these fine Americans.

So, Semper Fi and Bravo Zulu to the men and women of the 11th Marine Expeditionary Unit, the U.S.S. Tarawa, and all other members of our Corps and Navy involved in this effort.

U.S. INVOLVEMENT IN KOSOVO

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, I want to call to the attention of my colleagues some headlines that are in today's press in reference to the problems that we are experiencing, the challenge we face, what could be a real tragedy in Kosovo. As I look at this, here is a headline from the Washington Post, as of this morning, written by R. Jeffrey Smith of the Post foreign service: "Thousands Flee As Lawlessness Spreads In Kosovo." And it gives an up-front and personal account in regards to a particular Albanian citizen who has lived there for 40 years and was beaten in the middle of the night, and what is going on in that country.

Here is another headline from the Washington Times as of today, by Philip Smucker of the Washington Times: "Kosovar Rebels Grow Bolder."

A grimy-faced teenager with bloodshot eyes and an automatic rifle ran at us, screaming, as we came down a hill into the heart of a raging firefight yesterday, on the bloodiest weekend of the Kosovo war.

Here is another headline from the European Stars and Stripes: "Fighting Flares In Kosovo."

From the New York Times: "Rebels Claim First Capture Of Kosovo City."

Last week I had an intelligence briefing on Kosovo. They indicated if this happened, in regards to Pristina, and also in regards to Orahovac—I am having a little trouble with the pronunciation, but it is indicative of many of the communities there. So we have the fighting that has actually spread.

Here is another article from the European Stars and Stripes: "SFOR Patrols Bosnian Border for Gun-Running." That is the situation in Bosnia. Of course right down from Bosnia, we have the situation in regards to Kosovo.

I am concerned about this because I think the United States and the rest of our allies in Western Europe are on the verge of a deep and expensive and very dangerous involvement in yet another area of the Balkans. Unfortunately, and once again, I have yet to hear from the executive, and from the administration—more especially the President—to explain to the Congress nor, more important, the American people, why is this in our vital national interest to get in the middle of this growing conflict.

I think I can make a pretty good case in that regard, because I just returned from the three new prospective NATO countries—Poland, the Czech Republic and Hungary—with the distinguished chairman of the Senate Intelligence Committee, Senator SHELBY. To a person, every official whom we met with in those three countries indicated that what NATO does with regard to Kosovo and what we continue to do in Bosnia is the real test of NATO: What it will be; what it will do; what our involvement will be; if, in fact, we have a Palestinian kind of situation in the middle of Europe with Bosnia and Kosovo; whether or not we can end this kind of ethnic strife.

So I think you could probably make a case for our involvement in Kosovo, but I have yet to hear from anybody in the administration other than reacting to news accounts or to questions. I think it is time we heard.

On the other side of it, we don't want to back into a situation where there is no end in sight, no exit strategy, and no real consideration in terms of cost and involvement.

The media reports are very clear that the Yugoslavian leader, Mr. Milosevic, is taking very hard and brutal action against the ethnic Albanians who are living in Kosovo. They comprise 90 percent of the population. This is the same kind of activity that he promoted in regards to Bosnia and the breakup there.

We are making some diplomatic efforts. We have people there working overtime, but these efforts seem to keep changing. We have drawn several lines in the sand with threats of severe reprisals if the Serbian action against the Albanian population does not cease, and those lines in the sand are still there, they have been gone over, and the activity continues. So much for any kind of believability in regards to our commitment.

The Albanian rebels, known as the KLA, are simply growing in strength and the fighting is growing more fierce. There is no real peaceful solution in sight. The United States and NATO have threatened military action and they have had a military demonstration. It was a fly-over or fly-by. It was called "Determined Falcon." I really don't know how determined that falcon is, but neither side has offered to end the conflict and efforts to bring them to the table to get a solution have failed. In fact, the KLA is really, I think, buoyed by the apparent Western support for their cause. Obviously, they are not interested in backing off now.

Mr. Milosevic, having observed our unwillingness to carry out our threats in the past, and coupled with the strong support of the Serbian people to put an end to the rebel uprising in Kosovo, has no reason to back off, either. So we have a standoff.

We have now started an international monitoring program in Kosovo "aimed at bringing peace to this strife-torn region."

Mr. President, I want everybody to understand this. This is a very important development. This observer group is comprised of about 40 diplomats and "military experts" attached to embassies in Belgrade. Our "military experts" are unarmed U.S. military forces from the European Command. This means we have U.S. personnel now in this kind of a situation.

I was reading press reports about it several days ago, and they are in white cars, very clearly marked. You hope, obviously, the white cars will be very clearly marked so they will avoid any kind of hostilities. In other words, if you are traveling in a white car and either side wants to do great mischief—and that is probably not the right word for it—why certainly, obviously, they would be highlighted.

I have several concerns, Mr. President, about all of this: We are, once again, backing into a military commitment in regard to Kosovo. The term of "unarmed military observers or experts" certainly brings back some memories of other situations where we have backed into those conflicts. It is deja vu all over again. We are running a great risk that our "military experts" or diplomats could be in harm's way.

NATO is conducting contingency planning that could involve thousands of military troops to separate the warring factions or impose peace. I must tell you, in talking to a British general at the ceremony celebrating the 50th anniversary of the Berlin airlift, when I was talking about this, I asked the general, "How many people would it take to really maintain order on that border?" And there have been estimates of anywhere from 7,000 to 25,000. It is very difficult terrain.

He said, "Oh, my no, it would take upwards of 70,000."

"Seventy thousand?" My mouth, obviously, dropped a little bit.

He said, "Of course, we don't intend on doing that." But, of course, then we didn't intend on doing that in other rather political involvements of gradualism that we have had around the world, and I am not going to spell those out in specific terms. I think everybody here knows what we are talking about. So we have those contingency plans that could involve thousands of military troops.

The costs, both in dollars and the impact on our already-stressed military, are potentially very devastating. I remember the briefing that we had in regard to India and Pakistan, and our esteemed Secretary of State Madeleine Albright was talking about the related situation in regard to Kosovo and indicated that we might have to become much more involved there.

Senator STEVENS, the distinguished chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said, "Wait a minute, we do not have the money, we do not have the funds, we do not have the materiel, we do not have the men and women in uniform to get the job done. We are already committed in the gulf. We are already committed in Bosnia. Most of those funds in the past have been taken out of the readiness account—we are not paying for it—and that is a real problem." I think the Senator's sense of urgency in his response to the Secretary was well taken.

There are many unanswered questions on how this conflict in Kosovo is in our vital national interest. Let me stress vital national interest. I do think it is in the best interest of NATO. I think we have to be very careful; I think we have to be very firm.

Senator LIEBERMAN, the distinguished Senator from Connecticut, and the former distinguished majority leader in the Senate and my colleague and longtime friend, Bob Dole, indicated we must take aggressive and very positive action. There are unexplained scenarios of Kosovo leading to a larger war in Europe if this conflict is not ended now.

But my primary concern in bringing this up, Mr. President, is this: This whole issue has yet to be addressed by the President and, for that matter, to some extent by this Congress in any way. Yet, here we are backing into a situation with "military observers" and with contingency plans that could involve thousands more. The President should not, nor will the Congress let him, commit the men and women of our Armed Forces without defining our national interests. That is fundamental, and I think we ought to spell that out. I call for the President to do so and to outline the objectives in the exit strategy for any involvement in that part of the world and in regard to Kosovo in particular.

With that, Mr. President, I yield the floor and suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The bill clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. SESSIONS). Without objection, it is so ordered.

THE VERY BAD DEBT BOXSCORE

Mr. HELMS. Mr. President, at the close of business Friday, July 17, 1998, the federal debt stood at $5,532,637,423,771.79 (Five trillion, five hundred thirty-two billion, six hundred thirty-seven million, four hundred twenty-three thousand, seven hundred seventy-one dollars and seventy-nine cents).

One year ago, July 17, 1997, the federal debt stood at $5,363,009,000,000 (Five trillion, three hundred sixty-three billion, nine million).

Twenty-five years ago, July 17, 1973, the federal debt stood at $455,472,000,000 (Four hundred fifty-five billion, four hundred seventy-two million) which reflects a debt increase of more than $5 trillion—$5,077,165,423,771.79 (Five trillion, seventy-seven billion, one hundred sixty-five million, four hundred twenty-three thousand, seven hundred seventy-one dollars and seventy-nine cents) during the past 25 years.

INTERNATIONAL CRIMINAL COURT

Mr. ASHCROFT. Mr. President, I rise today to express my profound concern for the International Criminal Court that was overwhelmingly approved in Rome late on Friday. I was pleased that the United States voted against final passage of this global criminal court. The Administration should be commended for rejecting this international folly, which would have been dead on arrival in the Senate.

Unfortunately, however, the danger from this Court has not passed. The Administration is already coming under pressure from proponents of the court to reconsider its opposition. Even more disturbing is the possibility that the Court would assert jurisdiction over American soldiers, despite the American refusal to join the court. The Administration should "just say no" to any efforts to get the United States to reconsider or to signal any informal compliance with the Court.

As both a Member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and as Chairman of the Subcommittee on the Constitution, Federalism and Property Rights, I find the International Criminal Court profoundly troubling. If there is one critical component of sovereignty it is the authority to define crimes and punishments. This Court strikes at the heart of sovereignty by taking this fundamental power away from individual countries and giving it to international bureaucrats.

There are other aspects of this Court that are equally troubling. As examples, the authorization of international independent prosecutors, the expense of such a permanent court, and the lack of any clear limits on the Court's jurisdiction are all alarming. But no aspect of this Court is more troubling than the fact that it has been framed without any apparent respect for—indeed, in direct contravention of—the United States Constitution.

As Chairman of the Constitution Subcommittee, I have a number of particular concerns about the Court. First and foremost, I remain concerned by the possibility that Americans could be dragged before this Court and denied the protections of the Bill of Rights.

Even more fundamentally, I am concerned that the Administration participated in these negotiations without making any effort to insist that the proposed International Criminal Court incorporate and honor the Bill of Rights. Even if one concedes that we need an International Criminal Court—which I emphatically do not—we should certainly insist on respect for the Bill of Rights as the price of American admission.

America's ideals and values are ascendant in the post-Cold War world. America's position as world leader is, in no small part, a product of a Constitution that is the envy of the world. The Administration should be justly proud of that Constitution and should have insisted that those principles form the cornerstone for any International Criminal Court. That unfortunately was not the official position of this Administration.

In the United States, there is a right to a jury of your peers. In the United States, there is a privilege against self-incrimination. In the United States, we have eliminated the prospect of criminal liability for ill-defined common law crimes. In the United States, the Constitution limits the authority of prosecutors. None of these protections will be guaranteed for defendants brought before this international star chamber.

The proposed Court negotiated in Rome neither reflects nor guarantees the protections of the Bill of Rights. The Administration was right to reject the Court and must remain steadfast in its refusal to join a court that stands as a rejection of American constitutional values. We must never trade away American sovereignty and the Bill of Rights so that international bureaucrats can sit in judgment of the United States military and our criminal justice system.

In today's New York Times, there is an opinion piece in which Anthony Lewis chastises the United States for missing a historic opportunity by failing to vote in favor of the International Criminal Court. The author states that the vote to form the International Criminal Court "will be seen as a turn in the road of history." That is perhaps the only point in the piece with which I agree. The approval of this Court was indeed "a turn in the road of history." By ceding the authority to define and punish crimes, many nations took an irrevocable step to the loss of national sovereignty and the reality of global government. I, for one, am heartened to see that the United States took the right turn on the road of history, and I will work hard to ensure that there is no backtracking.

CONCLUSION OF MORNING BUSINESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Morning business is now closed.

LEGISLATIVE BRANCH APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 1999

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Under the previous order, the Senate will now resume consideration of H.R. 4112, which the clerk will report.

The bill clerk read as follows:

A bill (H.R. 4112) making appropriations for the Legislative Branch for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1999, and for other purposes.

The Senate resumed consideration of the bill.

AMENDMENT NO. 3220

(Purpose: To amend House legislative branch appropriation bill to include Senate items.)

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, I send an amendment to the desk and ask for its immediate consideration.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report the amendment.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from Alaska [Mr. STEVENS], for Mr. BENNETT, for himself and Mr. DORGAN, proposes an amendment numbered 3220.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

(The text of the amendment is printed in today's RECORD under "Amendments Submitted.")

Mr. STEVENS. This is, in effect, putting down our version of the bill, and it becomes original text.

SEC. 11. (a)(1) The Chairman of the Appropriations Committee of the Senate may, during any fiscal year, at his or her election transfer funds from the appropriation account for salaries for the Appropriations Committee of the Senate, to the account, within the contingent fund of the Senate, from which expenses are payable for such committee.

(2) The Chairman of the Appropriations Committee of the Senate may, during any fiscal year, at his or her election transfer funds from the appropriation account for expenses, within the contingent fund of the Senate, for the Appropriations Committee of the Senate, to the account from which salaries are payable for such committee.

(b) Any funds transferred under this section shall be—

(1) available for expenditure by such committee in like manner and for the same purposes as are other moneys which are available for expenditure by such committee from the account to which the funds were transferred; and

(2) made at such time or times as the Chairman shall specify in writing to the Senate Disbursing Office.

(c) This section shall take effect on October 1, 1998, and shall be effective with respect to fiscal years beginning on or after that date.

AMENDMENT NO. 3223

(Purpose: To amend the provisions relating to the Trade Deficit Review Commission)

On page 35, line 8, strike all through line 9 on page 49 and insert the following:

TITLE IV—TRADE DEFICIT REVIEW COMMISSION

SEC. 401. SHORT TITLE.

This title may be cited as the "Trade Deficit Review Commission Act".

SEC. 402. FINDINGS.

Congress makes the following findings:

(1) The United States continues to run substantial merchandise trade and current account deficits.

(2) Economic forecasts anticipate continued growth in such deficits in the next few years.

(3) The positive net international asset position that the United States built up over many years was eliminated in the 1980s. The United States today has become the world's largest debtor nation.

(4) The United States merchandise trade deficit is characterized by large bilateral trade imbalances with a handful of countries.

(5) The United States has one of the most open borders and economies in the world. The United States faces significant tariff and nontariff trade barriers with its trading partners. The United States does not benefit from fully reciprocal market access.

(6) The United States is once again at a critical juncture in trade policy development. The nature of the United States trade deficit and its causes and consequences must be analyzed and documented.

SEC. 403. ESTABLISHMENT OF COMMISSION.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—There is established a commission to be known as the Trade Deficit Review Commission (hereafter in this title referred to as the "Commission").

(b) PURPOSE.—The purpose of the Commission is to study the nature, causes, and consequences of the United States merchandise trade and current account deficits.

(c) MEMBERSHIP OF COMMISSION.—

(1) COMPOSITION.—The Commission shall be composed of 12 members as follows:

(A) Three persons shall be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate upon the recommendation of the Majority Leader of the Senate, after consultation with the Chairman of the Committee on Finance.

(B) Three persons shall be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate upon the recommendation of the Minority Leader of the Senate, after consultation with the ranking minority member of the Committee on Finance.

(C) Three persons shall be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, after consultation with the Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means.

(D) Three persons shall be appointed by the Minority Leader of the House of Representatives, after consultation with the ranking minority member of the Committee on Ways and Means.

(2) QUALIFICATIONS OF MEMBERS.—

(A) APPOINTMENTS.—Persons who are appointed under paragraph (1) shall be persons who—

(i) have expertise in economics, international trade, manufacturing, labor, environment, business, or have other pertinent qualifications or experience; and

(ii) are not officers or employees of the United States.

(B) OTHER CONSIDERATIONS.—In appointing Commission members, every effort shall be made to ensure that the members—

(i) are representative of a broad cross-section of economic and trade perspectives within the United States; and

(ii) provide fresh insights to analyzing the causes and consequences of United States merchandise trade and current account deficits.

(d) PERIOD OF APPOINTMENT; VACANCIES.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Members shall be appointed not later than 60 days after the date of enactment of this Act and the appointment shall be for the life of the Commission.

(2) VACANCIES.—Any vacancy in the Commission shall not affect its powers, but shall be filled in the same manner as the original appointment.

(e) INITIAL MEETING.—Not later than 30 days after the date on which all members of the Commission have been appointed, the Commission shall hold its first meeting.

(f) MEETINGS.—The Commission shall meet at the call of the Chairperson.

(g) CHAIRPERSON AND VICE CHAIRPERSON.—The members of the Commission shall elect a chairperson and vice chairperson from among the members of the Commission.

(h) QUORUM.—A majority of the members of the Commission shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

(i) VOTING.—Each member of the Commission shall be entitled to 1 vote, which shall be equal to the vote of every other member of the Commission.

SEC. 404. DUTIES OF THE COMMISSION.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Commission shall be responsible for examining the nature, causes, and consequences of, and the accuracy of available data on, the United States merchandise trade and current account deficits.

(b) ISSUES TO BE ADDRESSED.—The Commission shall examine and report to the President, the Committee on Ways and Means of the House of Representatives, the Committee on Finance of the Senate, and other appropriate committees of Congress on the following:

(1) The relationship of the merchandise trade and current account balances to the overall well-being of the United States economy, and to wages and employment in various sectors of the United States economy.

(2) The impact that United States monetary and fiscal policies may have on United States merchandise trade and current account deficits.

(3) The extent to which the coordination, allocation, and accountability of trade responsibilities among Federal agencies may contribute to the trade and current account deficits.

(4) The causes and consequences of the merchandise trade and current account deficits and specific bilateral trade deficits, including—

(A) identification and quantification of—

(i) the macroeconomic factors and bilateral trade barriers that may contribute to the United States merchandise trade and current account deficits;

(ii) any impact of the merchandise trade and current account deficits on the domestic economy, industrial base, manufacturing capacity, technology, number and quality of jobs, productivity, wages, and the United States standard of living;

(iii) any impact of the merchandise trade and current account deficits on the defense production and innovation capabilities of the United States; and

(iv) trade deficits within individual industrial, manufacturing, and production sectors, and any relationship between such deficits and the increasing volume of intra-industry and intra-company transactions;

(B) a review of the adequacy and accuracy of the current collection and reporting of import and export data, and the identification and development of additional data bases and economic measurements that may be needed to properly quantify the merchandise trade and current account balances, and any impact the merchandise trade and current account balances may have on the United States economy; and

(C) the extent to which there is reciprocal market access substantially equivalent to that afforded by the United States in each country with which the United States has a persistent and substantial bilateral trade deficit, and the extent to which such deficits have become structural.

(5) Any relationship of United States merchandise trade and current account deficits to both comparative and competitive trade advantages within the global economy, including—

(A) a systematic analysis of the United States trade patterns with different trading partners and to what extent the trade patterns are based on comparative and competitive trade advantages;

(B) the extent to which the increased mobility of capital and technology has changed both comparative and competitive trade advantages;

(C) any impact that labor, environmental, or health and safety standards may have on comparative and competitive trade advantages;

(D) the effect that offset and technology transfer agreements have on the long-term competitiveness of the United States manufacturing sectors; and

(E) any effect that international trade, labor, environmental, or other agreements may have on United States competitiveness.

(6) The extent to which differences in the growth rates of the United States and its trading partners may impact on United States merchandise trade and current account deficits.

(7) The impact that currency exchange rate fluctuations and any manipulation of exchange rates may have on United States merchandise trade and current account deficits.

(8) The flow of investments both into and out of the United States, including—

(A) any consequences for the United States economy of the current status of the United States as a debtor nation;

(B) any relationship between such investment flows and the United States merchandise trade and current account deficits and living standards of United States workers;

(C) any impact such investment flows may have on United States labor, community, environmental, and health and safety standards, and how such investment flows influence the location of manufacturing facilities; and

(D) the effect of barriers to United States foreign direct investment in developed and developing nations, particularly nations with which the United States has a merchandise trade and current account deficit.

SEC. 405. FINAL REPORT.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 12 months after the date of the initial meeting of the Commission, the Commission shall submit to the President and Congress a final report which contains—

(1) the findings and conclusions of the Commission described in section 404; and

(2) recommendations for addressing the problems identified as part of the Commission's analysis.

(b) SEPARATE VIEWS.—Any member of the Commission may submit additional findings and recommendations as part of the final report.

SEC. 406. POWERS OF COMMISSION.

(a) HEARINGS.—The Commission may hold such hearings, sit and act at such times and places, take such testimony, and receive such evidence as the Commission may find advisable to fulfill the requirements of this title. The Commission shall hold at least 1 or more hearings in Washington, D.C., and 4 in different regions of the United States.

(b) INFORMATION FROM FEDERAL AGENCIES.—The Commission may secure directly from any Federal department or agency such information as the Commission considers necessary to carry out the provisions of this title. Upon request of the Chairperson of the Commission, the head of such department or agency shall furnish such information to the Commission.

(c) POSTAL SERVICES.—The Commission may use the United States mails in the same manner and under the same conditions as other departments and agencies of the Federal Government.

SEC. 407. COMMISSION PERSONNEL MATTERS.

(a) COMPENSATION OF MEMBERS.—Each member of the Commission shall be compensated at a rate equal to the daily equivalent of the annual rate of basic pay prescribed for level IV of the Executive Schedule under section 5315 of title 5, United States Code, for each day (including travel time) during which such member is engaged in the performance of the duties of the Commission.

(b) TRAVEL EXPENSES.—The members of the Commission shall be allowed travel expenses, including per diem in lieu of subsistence, at rates authorized for employees of agencies under subchapter I of chapter 57 of title 5, United States Code, while away from their homes or regular places of business in the performance of services for the Commission.

(c) STAFF.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Chairperson of the Commission may, without regard to the civil service laws and regulations, appoint and terminate an executive director and such other additional personnel as may be necessary to enable the Commission to perform its duties. The employment of an executive director shall be subject to confirmation by the Commission.

(2) COMPENSATION.—The Chairperson of the Commission may fix the compensation of the executive director and other personnel without regard to the provisions of chapter 51 and subchapter III of chapter 53 of title 5, United States Code, relating to classification of positions and General Schedule pay rates, except that the rate of pay for the executive director and other personnel may not exceed the rate payable for level V of the Executive Schedule under section 5316 of such title.

(d) DETAIL OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES.—Any Federal Government employee may be detailed to the Commission without reimbursement, and such detail shall be without interruption or loss of civil service status or privilege.

(e) PROCUREMENT OF TEMPORARY AND INTERMITTENT SERVICES.—The Chairperson of the Commission may procure temporary and intermittent services under section 3109(b) of title 5, United States Code, at rates for individuals which do not exceed the daily equivalent of the annual rate of basic pay prescribed for level V of the Executive Schedule under section 5316 of such title.

SEC. 408. SUPPORT SERVICES.

The Administrator of the General Services Administration shall provide to the Commission on a reimbursable basis such administrative support services as the Commission may request.

SEC. 409. APPROPRIATIONS.

There are appropriated $2,000,000 to the Commission to carry out the provisions of this title.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, these are three managers' amendments which I have sent to the desk. They have been cleared on both sides of the aisle. I ask for their immediate adoption en bloc and I ask unanimous consent that the motion to reconsider be laid upon the table.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered. The amendments are agreed to, en bloc.

The amendments (Nos. 3221, 3222, and 3223) were agreed to, en bloc.

AMENDMENT NO. 3220, AS AMENDED

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, I ask for the adoption of the underlying first-degree amendment, as amended.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. If there is no objection, the underlying amendment is agreed to, as amended.

The amendment (No. 3220), as amended, was agreed to.

Mr. STEVENS. I move to reconsider the vote and move to lay that motion on the table.

The motion to lay on the table was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 3224

(Purpose: To require certain Legislative Branch officials to submit to Congress lists of activities performed under the jurisdiction of the officials that are not inherently governmental functions)

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, I send to the desk an amendment on behalf of Senator THOMAS and Senator BROWNBACK.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report the amendment.

The bill clerk read as follows:

The Senator from Alaska [Mr. STEVENS], for Mr. THOMAS, for himself and Mr. BROWNBACK, proposes an amendment numbered 3224.

Mr. STEVENS. I ask unanimous consent that reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment is as follows:

At the appropriate place at the end of the bill insert:

SEC. 311. (a) This section applies to the following officials:

(1) The Architect of the Capitol.

(2) The Secretary of the Senate

(3) The sergeant at Arms and Doorkeeper of the Senate.

(4) The Public Printer.

(5) The Director, and the Executive Director, of the United States botanic Garden.

(b)(1) Not later than March 30, 1999, each official named in subsection (a) shall submit to Congress a list of each activity that—

(A) is to be performed by or for the official in fiscal year 2000;

(B) is not an inherently governmental function; and

(C) is—

(i) performed by a Federal Government source on September 30, 1998; or

(ii) initiated after that date, if one or more Federal government sources are to be considered for selection as the source to perform the activity.

(2) Each list shall include (for each activity listed)—

(A) the number of full-time employees (or its equivalent) that would be necessary for the performance of the activity by a Federal Government source; and

(B) the name of a Federal Government employee responsible for the activity from whom additional information about the activity may be obtained.

(c) An activity is not required to be included on an official's list under subsection (b) if the activity, as determined by the official—

(1) is to be performed as a Federal Government response to a national emergency declared by the President or Congress;

(2) is to be performed for the official by a private sector source pursuant to a contract or other agreement entered into by the head of another department or agency of the Federal Government; or

(3) is the provision of items that should be produced, manufactured, or provided, or services that should be provided, by a Federal Government source for reasons of national security (including reasons relating to the acquisition, processing, or analysis of intelligence in the national security interests of the United States).

(d) In this section:

(1) The term "Federal Government source", with respect to performance of an activity, means any organization within the Federal Government that uses Federal Government employees to perform the activity.

(2)(A) The term "inherently governmental function" means a function that is so intimately related to the public interest as to require performance by Federal Government employees.

(B) The term includes activities that require either the exercise of discretion in applying Federal government authority or the making of value judgments in making decisions for the Federal government, including judgments relating to monetary transactions and entitlements. An inherently governmental function involves, among other things, the interpretation and execution of the laws of the United States so as—

(i) to bind the United States to take or not to take some action by contract, policy, regulation, authorization, order, or otherwise;

(ii) to determine, protect, and advance United States economic, political, territorial, property, or other interests by military or diplomatic action, civil or criminal judicial proceedings, contract management, or otherwise;

(iii) to significantly affect the life, liberty, or property of private persons;

(iv) to commission, appoint, direct, or control officers or employees of the United States; or

(v) to exert ultimate control over the acquisition, use, or disposition of the property, real or personal, tangible or intangible, of the United States, including the collection, control, or disbursement of appropriated and other Federal funds.

(C) The term does not normally include—

(i) gathering information for or providing advice, opinions, recommendations, or ideas to Federal Government officials; or

(ii) any function that is primarily ministerial and internal in nature (such as building security, mail operations, operation of cafeterias, housekeeping, facilities operations and maintenance, warehouse operations, motor vehicle fleet management operations, or other routine electrical or mechanical services).

(3) The term "private sector source", with respect to the operation of a facility owned by the Federal Government, includes a contractor that is operating, or is to operate, the facility.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. President, I am pleased to join my colleague, Senator BROWNBACK, in offering this amendment. What we seek to do with this amendment is quite simple: require the legislative branch to identify its commercial functions that are performed in-house.

For the past several years, I have been the primary Senate sponsor of the Freedom from Government Competition Act. That legislation would codify the 40 year old administrative policy in place for the executive branch which requires: (1) Federal agencies to identify their commercial activities; and (2) Conduct public/private competitions to determine whether the private sector or government employees can provide the "best value" to the American taxpayer. Unfortunately, this policy, now found in OMB Circular A-76, is routinely ignored by many federal executive agencies. In fact, OMB recently issued another call for federal agencies' commercial inventories, its third request in the last several years. That's why Senator BROWNBACK and I have been working to get this policy into statute.

Today, Senator BROWNBACK and I seek to extend some of these requirements to cover the legislative branch. In fact, we know that there are over one million federal executive branch employees engaged in commercial work. But since this policy doesn't apply to the legislative branch, we don't know how many legislative branch employees are doing commercial work, how much that work costs or whether the work could be done more efficiently by the private sector. This amendment will help us gather that information and make the legislative branch play by the same rules as the rest of the federal government.

I urge my colleagues to support this good government, common sense reform.

Mr. BROWNBACK. Mr. President, the amendment that Senator THOMAS and I have offered would simply require the Architect of the Capitol, the Secretary of the Senate, the Sergeant at Arms of the Senate, the Public Printer, and the Director of the United States Botanic Garden to submit to Congress an inventory of all noninherently governmental—or commercial—activities.

Throughout this session of Congress, my colleague from Wyoming and I have been working on S. 314, also known as the Federal Activities Inventory Reform (FAIR) Act, which would require the Federal agencies to do the same. My subcommittee, the Oversight Subcommittee on Government Management, Restructuring, and the District of Columbia has held three hearings focusing on this legislation. More recently, the Senate Governmental Affairs Committee reported this bill out of committee. This bill has bipartisan support, the support of the Administration, as well as Federal employees and the industry community.

Through our work on this issue, we concluded that this requirement should apply to the legislative branch as well. Last month, OMB asked all Federal agencies to submit their commercial inventory to OMB. The legislative branch should do the same and submit their inventory to Congress.

The Thomas-Brownback amendment tasks those who are engaged in the daily operations of the legislative branch to identify these commercial activities. Once these activities are identified, the heads of these legislative branch departments, along with the Senators, will have the opportunity to evaluate these functions.

Past discussions concerning these activities in the legislative branch have focused only on specific targets such as the Senate Barber Shop and Beauty Salon. In order to have a comprehensive view of how to improve operations in the legislative branch, we need to know all commercial activities performed in-house.

As the legislative body of the Federal Government, we, as Congress have the opportunity to not only legislate on this issue, but to set an example. I challenge my colleagues who are committed to ensuring that no taxpayer's dollar is wasted in the Federal Government, to set this example and support this amendment.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, I ask for adoption of the amendment.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there further debate on the amendment?

Mr. STEVENS. I say, it was with some reservations that I sent this amendment to the desk. But that was the agreement of the managers that was made on Friday, that we would adopt this amendment. Therefore, I ask to carry out their agreement.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. If there is no objection, the amendment is agreed to.

The amendment (No. 3224) was agreed to.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote and move to lay that motion on the table.

The motion to lay on the table was agreed to.

Mr. STEVENS. I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The bill clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. DOMENICI. Mr. President, I rise in support of S. 2138, the legislative branch appropriations bill for fiscal year 1999.

The bill, as reported provides $1.6 billion in new budget authority and $1.3 billion in outlays for the Senate and other legislative branch agencies, including the Library of Congress, the General Accounting Office, and the Government Printing Office, among others. As a matter of comity, the bill does not include funding for operations of the House of Representatives.

When outlays from prior year appropriations and other adjustments are taken into account, the bill totals $2.4 billion in budget authority and outlays. The bill is under the subcommittee's 302(b) allocation $38 million in budget authority and at its allocation for outlays.

I want to commend the distinguished chairman and ranking member of the Legislative Branch Subcommittee for producing a bill that is substantially within their 302(b) allocation. I am pleased that this bill continues to hold the lien on congressional spending.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to have printed in the RECORD a table displaying the Budget Committee scoring of S. 2137, as reported. I urge the Senate to support this bill and refrain from offering amendments that would cause the subcommittee to violate its 302(b) allocation.

There being no objection, the table was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

RECESS

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate stand in recess until the hour of 4 p.m. this afternoon.

There being no objection, the Senate, at 3:22 p.m., recessed until 4:03 p.m.; whereupon, the Senate reassembled when called to order by the Presiding Officer (Mr. STEVENS).

LEGISLATIVE BRANCH APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 1999

The Senate continued with the consideration of the bill.

Mr. MCCAIN addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Arizona.

AMENDMENT NO. 3225

(Purpose: To make available on the Internet, for purposes of access and retrieval by the public, certain information available through the Congressional Research Service web site)

Mr. MCCAIN. Mr. President, I have an amendment at the desk.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from Arizona (Mr. MCCAIN), for himself, and Mr. COATS, Mr. LEAHY, Mr. FAIRCLOTH, Mr. ASHCROFT, Mr. KERREY, Mr. ENZI, Mr. WYDEN, Mr. FEINGOLD, Mr. ABRAHAM, and Mr. ROBB, proposes an amendment numbered 3225.

Mr. MCCAIN. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent that reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mrs. HUTCHISON). Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment is as follows:

At the appropriate place, insert the following:

SEC. . AVAILABILITY OF CERTAIN CRS WEB SITE INFORMATION.

(a) AVAILABILITY OF INFORMATION.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Director of the Congressional Research Service shall make available on the Internet, for purposes of access and retrieval by the public, all information that—

(A) is available through the Congressional Research Service web site;

(B) is described in paragraph (2); and

(C) is not confidential as determined by—

(i) the Director; or

(ii) the head of a Federal department or agency that provided the information to the Congressional Research Service.

(2) INFORMATION.—The information referred to in paragraph (1)(B) is as follows:

(A) All Congressional Research Service Issue Briefs.

(B) All Congressional Research Service Reports that are available to Members of Congress through the Congressional Research Service web site.

(C) All Congressional Research Service Authorization of Appropriations Products or Appropriations Products.

(3) REMOVAL OF INFORMATION; CHANGES AND UPDATES.—Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the Director of the Congressional Research Service may—

(A) remove from the information required to be made available on the Internet under this section the name of, phone number of, and information regarding, an employee of the Congressional Research Service;

(B) remove from the information required to be made available on the Internet under this section, any material the Director determines may infringe the copyright of a work protected under title 17, United States Code; and

(C) make any changes or updates in the information required to be made available on the Internet under this section that the Director determines are necessary to ensure that the information is accurate.

(b) TIME.—The information shall be so made available not earlier than 30 days after the first day the information is available to Members of Congress through the Congressional Research Service web site.

(c) REQUIREMENTS.—The Director of the Congressional Research Service shall make the information available in a manner that the Director determines—

(1) is practical and reasonable; and

(2) does not permit the submission of comments from the public.

(d) METHOD OF PUBLIC ACCESS.—The public shall have access to the web page containing Congressional Research Service information that is available to the public only through the Library of Congress' THOMAS web page (<http://thomas.loc.gov>). The Director of Congressional Research Service shall work with the Librarian of Congress to establish an appropriate Internet link to carry out this subsection. The Director of Congressional Research Service shall be responsible for maintaining and updating the web page containing Congressional Research Service products. The Director of Congressional Research Service shall have sole discretion to edit the web page based on the criteria established by this Act. The Librarian of Congress shall have the responsibility of working with the Director of Congressional Research Service only to the extent necessary to establish the link from the THOMAS web page to the public access Congressional Research Service web page. Nothing in this Act may be construed to interfere with the Librarian's normal duties concerning THOMAS.

(e) FURTHER APPROVAL NOT REQUIRED.—Notwithstanding the first proviso under the subheading "SALARIES AND EXPENSES" under the subheading "CONGRESSIONAL RESEARCH SERVICE" under the heading "LIBRARY OF CONGRESS" under title I of this Act (relating to prior approval of certain publications), the Director shall make information available in accordance with this section without the prior approval of the Committee on Rules and Administration of the Senate or the Committee on House Oversight of the House of Representatives.

Mr. MCCAIN. Madam President, this amendment to HR 4112 would direct the Director of the Congressional Research Service to post "CRS Reports to Congress" and "CRS Issue Briefs" on the Internet. My intention for offering this amendment would be to establish a web site for the public to access CRS products only through the THOMAS web site. This amendment is co-sponsored by Senators COATS, LEAHY, FAIRCLOTH, ASHCROFT, KERREY, ROBB, FEINGOLD, ABRAHAM, ENZI, and WYDEN.

I believe that it is important that the public be able to use this CRS information. For FY 1999, the American taxpayers will pay $67.9 million to fund CRS' operations. CRS is well-known for being composed of expert specialists who write reports on the important policy issues of the day that are both factual and unbiased—a rarity for Washington. The public has a right to see that its money is being well-spent and has the right to see the product of their labors.

The CRS products can play an important role in educating the American public. Public access to these documents will mark an important milestone in opening up the federal government. Our constituents will be able to see the research documents that influenced our decisions and understand the trade-offs and factors that we consider before a vote. This will give the public an accurate view of Congress, instead of the current cynical view that sometimes prevails.

Also, constituents can learn a lot from these products. They can receive a concise, accurate summary of the issues before Congress. As elected representatives, we should do what we can to promote an informed, educated public. The educated voter is best able to make decisions and petition us to do the right things here.

I would also like to make my colleagues aware that in many cases these products are already out on the Internet. "Black market" private vendors can charge $47 for a single report. Other web sites have outdated CRS products on them. It is not fair for the American people to have to pay a third party for out-of-date products that they have already footed the bill for.

I know that my colleagues in the Senate Committee on Rules and Administration have proposed that Senators and Committee chairman be allowed to post CRS products as they see fit on the Internet. I appreciate that gesture, and believe that it is a first step. However, I am proposing this amendment as a way to take this process to the next logical step—a centralized web site.

A centralized web site will make it much easier for the public to find CRS information. The public can just go to a web site and look up those products that interest them. That would be much easier than having them go through all of our web sites to find CRS reports. This web site will be attached to the Congressionally mandated THOMAS web site, so that our constituents can find legislation and the relevant CRS products—simple one-stop shopping.

A centralized web site will also present the information in a non-partisan format. I know that cynical constituents will look at the CRS reports on a Member's web page, and believe that those products are only put up to gain adherents to a particular political position. CRS is a nonpartisan organization, and its work should be presented on a non-partisan web site. This will allow the public to see CRS as it truly is, not as a political organization.

This bill also gives the Director of CRS discretion to protect himself from liability suits. The Director will be allowed to remove the names and phone numbers of a CRS employee to keep the public from distracting them from doing their jobs. I have also been informed that CRS may not have permission to release copyrighted information over the Internet. While I hope that this situation can be quickly resolved, I have included a provision in the bill to allow the Director to remove unprotected copyrighted information from the bill. Finally, I have allowed a 30 day delay between the release of these CRS products to Members of Congress and the public. This will allow CRS to revise their products and make sure that it is accurate and up-to-date before releasing it to the public.

Opponents of this legislation have tried to accuse this bill of violating the "Speech or Debate" Clause of the Constitution. I find this argument to be complete and total nonsense. When I first introduced this bill, I submitted a letter from Stanley M. Brand, the former General Counsel to the House of Representatives, who has experience in litigating "Speech or Debate" cases. I would like to re-submit his letter for the RECORD, and highlight his quote that:

I believe that the concerns expressed . . . are either overstated, or the extent they are not, provide no basis for arguing that protection of CRS works will be weakened by your bill.

I ask unanimous consent that the letter be made part of the RECORD.

There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

BRAND, LOWELL & RYAN,
Washington, DC, January 27, 1998.

Hon. JOHN MCCAIN,
U.S. Senate, Russell Senate Office Building,
Washington, DC.

DEAR SENATOR MCCAIN: I am writing to amplify the comments that I recently made to the press concerning applicability of the Speech or Debate Clause, U.S. Const. art. I, §6, cl. 1, to certain CRS products which your bill would, if enacted, make available on the Internet. Juliet Eilperin, Memo Claims That McCain Legislation to Put CRS Reports Online Could Have Constitutional Problems, Roll Call, January 15, 1998, p. 8.

First, as General Counsel to the House of Representatives I litigated virtually scores of cases involving the Speech or Debate Clause, including a landmark case before the Supreme Court reaffirming the central function of the clause in protecting the legislative branch from judicial and executive branch interference, United States v. Helstoski, 442 U.S. 477, Helstoski v. Meanor, 442 U.S. 500 (1979); see also, Vander Jagt v. O'Neill, 699 F.2d 1166 (D.C. Cir. 1983); In Re Grand Jury Investigation, 587 F.2d 589 (3d Cir. 1978); United States v. Eilberg, 507 F. Supp. 267 (E.D. Pa. 1980); Benford v. American Broadcasting Co., 98 F.R.D. 42 (D. Md. 1983), rev'd sub nom. In Re: Guthrie, 735 F.2d 634 (4th Cir. 1984). Many of these cases which I litigated were cited in the CRS memorandum as supporting their conclusion that publication on the Internet would adversely affect the Speech or Debate Clause privilege.

I believe that the concerns expressed in the CRS memorandum are either overstated, or the extent they are not, provide no basis for arguing that protection of CRS works will be weakened by your bill. I also want you to know that I was, and remain, a strong advocate for vigorous assertion and protection of the Speech or Debate Clause privilege as a great bulwark of the separation of powers doctrine that protects the Congress from Executive and Judicial branch encroachment.

The CRS memorandum states "extensive involvement by CRS in the informing function might cause the judiciary and administrative agencies to reassess their perception of CRS as playing a substantial role in the legislative process, and thereby might endanger a claim of immunity even in an instance in which CRS was fulfilling its legislative mission."

This fear is simply unfounded. While the courts have consistently relegated the so-called "informing function" to non-constitutionally protected status, they have also steadfastly refused to permit litigants to pierce the privilege for activities that are cognate to the legislative process despite later dissemination outside the Congress. So, for example, McSurely v. McClellan, 553 F.2d 1277, 1286 n.3 (D.C. Cir. 1976)(en banc), the Court refused to allow a litigant to question Senate aides about acts taken with the Committee, even though acts of dissemination outside the Congress were subject to discovery. Publication of a CRS product on the Internet would no more subject CRS employees to questioning about the basis for their work, consultations with colleagues or the sources of that work, than would be the case if the same CRS product were obtained by means other than the Internet. Indeed, the fact that House and Senate proceedings are televised does not alter the applicability of the clause to floor speeches, committee deliberations, staff consultation, or other legislative activities. Even certain consultations concerning press relations are protected though dissemination to the media is not protected. Mary Jacoby, Hill Press Releases Protected Speech, Roll Call, April 17, 1995, p. 1 (the Senate Legal Counsel argued that because a legislative discussion is embedded in a press release doesn't entitle a litigant to question staff about the substance of the legislation); see also Tavoulares v. Piro, 527 F. Supp. 676, 682 (D.D.C. 1981) (court ordered congressional deponents to merely identify documents disseminated outside of Congress but did not permit questions regarding preparation of the documents, the basis of conclusions contained therein, or the sources who provided evidence relied upon in the documents), Peroff v. Manual, 421 F. Supp. 570, 574 (D.D.C. 1976)(preparation of a Committee witness by a congressional investigator is protected because "facially legislative in character"). Under this line of caselaw, it is difficult to foresee how the mere dissemination of a CRS product could subject any CRS employee to inquiry concerning the preparation of such a product. In short, because "discovery into alleged conduct of [legislative aides] not protected by the Speech or Debate Clause can infringe the [legislative aides'] right to be free from inquiry into legislative acts which are so protected," McSurely v. McClellan, 521 F.2d 1024, 1033 (D.C. Cir. 1975), aff'd en banc by an equally divided court, 553 F.2d 1277 (1976) courts have imposed the Clause as a bar to any inquiry into acts unrelated to dissemination of the congressional reports.

In Tavoulares v. Piro, 527 F. Supp. at 682, the court ruled "[t]he fact that the documents were ultimately disseminated outside of Congress does not provide any justification" for piercing the privilege as to the staff's internal use of the document. Accord McSurely v. McClellan, 553 F.2d at 1296-1298 (use and retention of illegally seized documents by Committee not actionable); United States v. Helstoski, 442 U.S. 477, 489 (1979) (clause bars introduction into evidence of even non-contemporaneous discussions and correspondence which merely describe and refer to legislative acts in bribery prosecution of Member); Eastland v. United States Servicemen's Fund, 421 U.S. at 499 n. 13 (subpoena to Senate staff aide for documents and testimony quashed because "received by [the employee] pursuant to his official duties as a staff employee of the Senate" and therefore "... within the privilege of the Senate"). See also United States v. Hoffa, 205 F. Supp. 710, 723 (S.D. Fla. 1962), cert. denied sub nom Hoffa v. Lieb, 371 U.S. 892 (wiretap withheld from defendant by "invocation of legislative privilege by the United States Senate").

In the Tavoulares case, in which I represented the House deponents, part of the theory of plaintiff's case against the Post was that the reporter "laundered" the story through the committee "as a means of lending legitimacy" to the stories and information provided by other sources, Tavoulares v. Piro, 93 F.R.D. at 18. In pursuance of validating this theory, the plaintiff sought to prove that the committee never formally authorized the investigation, but rather that the staff merely served as a conduit and engaged in no bona fide investigative activity. The court ruled that "although plaintiffs have repeatedly suggested that the subject investigation was not actually aimed at uncovering information of valid legislative interest . . . it is clear that such assertions, even if true, do not pierce the legislative privilege."

As a practical matter, therefore, a litigant suing or seeking to take testimony from a CRS employee based on dissemination of a report alleged to be libelous or actionable may be unable to obtain the collateral evidence needed to prove such a claim—a serious impediment to bringing such a case in the first place.

Even in the case of Doe v. McMillan, 412 U.S. 306 (1973) relied on by the CRS memorandum to support its narrow view of the Clause's protection, the Court of Appeals on remand stated: "Restricting distribution of committee hearings and reports to Members of Congress and the federal agencies would be unthinkable." 566 F.2d 713, 718 (D.C. Cir. 1977). It would be similarly unthinkable to subject CRS to broad ranging discovery simply because its work product was made available on the Internet.

The CRS memorandum raises the specter that litigants might even seek "the files of CRS analysts" in actions challenging the privilege. It is beyond peradventure of doubt, however, that publication of even alleged defamatory or actionable congressional committee reports does not entitle a litigant to legislative files used or created in preparing such a report. United States v. Peoples Temple of the Disciples of Christ, 515 F. Supp. 246, 248-49 (D.D.C. 1981) In re: Guthrie, Clerk, U.S. House of Representatives, 773 F.2d 634 (4th Cir.

1984), Eastland v. United States Servicemen's Fund, 421 U.S. at 499, n. 13. Given the foregoing caselaw, I fail to see a realistic threat that CRS employees will be subjected to any increased risk of liability, or discovery of their files. Of course, nothing can prevent litigants from filing frivolous or ill-founded suits, but their successful prosecution or ability to obtain evidence from legislative files seems remote and nothing in your bill would change that.

The CRS memoranda even goes so far as to suggest that claims of speech or debate immunity for CRS products might lead to in camera inspection of material, itself an incursion into legislative branch discretion. Yet in the very case cited to by CRS memo, no court ordered in camera inspection of House documents. In Re: Guthrie, supra, involved no in camera inspection of legislative documents. These cases are typically litigated on the basis of the facial validity of the privilege and few, if any, courts of which I am aware have even gone so far as to order in camera inspection. See United States v. Dowdy, 479 F.2d 213, 226 (4th Cir. 1973) ("Once it was determined, as here, that the legislative function . . . was apparently being performed, the proprietary and motivation for the action taken as well as the detail of the acts performed, are immune from judicial inquiry"). Under the Clause, courts simply do not routinely resort to in camera review to resolve privilege disputes. Given the now highly developed judicial analysis of the applicability of the Clause to modern legislative practices it rarely occurs. In one recent celebrated case cited to by the CRS, the Court upheld a claim of privilege for tobacco company documents obtained by Congress even though they were alleged to have been stolen, without ever seeking in camera review. Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp. v. Williams, 62 F.3d 408, 417 (D.C. Cir. 1995) ("Once the documents were received by Congress for legislative use—at least so long as congressmen were not involved in the alleged theft—an absolute constitutional ban of privilege drops like a steel curtain to prevent B&W from seeking discovery").

In an abundance of caution, and to address CRS' concerns, you might consider adding the following language to the bill: "Nothing herein shall be deemed or considered to diminish, qualify, condition, waive or otherwise affect applicability of the constitution's Speech or Debate Clause, or any other privilege available to Congress, its agencies or their employees, to any CRS product made available on the Internet under this bill."

I appreciate the CRS sensitivity to subjecting its employees, or their work product, to searching discovery by litigants. Based on the very good caselaw protecting their performance of legislative duties and the strong institutional precedent in both the House and Senate in defending CRS against such intrusions, I do not believe your bill creates any greater exposure to such risks than already exists.

I hope my views are helpful in your deliberations on this issue.

Sincerely,

STANLEY M. BRANCH.

Mr. MCCAIN. Madam President, in addition, I would like to point out that the Rules Committee has approved a decentralized system, where Senators can release CRS products on their private web pages. I see no difference between the release of CRS material on one hundred independent web pages and THOMAS, a Congressionally mandated web page. Both approaches should protect CRS equally.

I also urge my colleagues not to believe other arguments that CRS will suffer from a huge rise in workload from this amendment. It will require only two computer technicians to set up this web site, and keep it updated. CRS already has a process for deciding which information goes up on their web site for Members of Congress. This bill only asks that they duplicate this process for a public version of that web page. Also, we release paper copies of these products to our constituents every day without causing a great strain to CRS staff. Finally, I have the results of an analysis of state legislative research organizations that do work similar to CRS and post these products on the Internet. None of these organizations have complained of a huge increased workload from releasing their products to the Internet.

In conclusion, I would like to point out that a centralized web site has been endorsed by the Congressional Accountability Project, the League of Women Voters, the American Council on Education, the American Library Association, the American Association of Engineering Societies, IBM, America Online Corporation, Intel Corporation, The Washington Post, The Dallas Morning News, The Arizona Republic, and a host of other groups, businesses, and newspapers interested in maintaining an informed electorate. I urge my colleagues to support this amendment. It will give CRS wide discretion to set up a nonpartisan centralized web site that will benefit the public and allow it to continue to do its great work for us.

Madam President, the number of people who use the Internet is increasing geometrically every single month. More and more Americans, especially young Americans, are relying on the Internet for information. Since we spend $67 million a year in turning out the best possible information we can from Members of Congress, it seems to me at a very, very modest cost we should share that information with our constituents on the Internet at the web site that is already designated, the so-called THOMAS web site.

It is hard for me to understand why the Rules Committee has refused to act in an affirmative fashion on this issue. I hope we will be able to consider this amendment and that we will be able to have a voice vote on it and move forward and make this thing happen. If not, obviously, we will have to come back and back and back, but I have no doubt that the American people overwhelmingly, especially those who use the Internet to obtain information for themselves, for their classrooms, for their associates, for their families, should be privy to the same information that we are and that we provide our constituents in written form when requested rather than have to leaf through each of the 100 different web sites of Senators. It is time we caught up with the technology that is changing America. It is past time we caught up in a broad variety of ways, and this is one way we can do it.

Madam President, I yield the floor.

Mr. STEVENS. I ask the Senator from Virginia if he seeks the floor?

Mr. WARNER. Madam President, I thank my distinguished colleague. I do seek the floor. I would like to make a reply for the record on the amendment of the distinguished Senator from Arizona, Mr. MCCAIN.

Madam President, I thank my colleague. First, might I inquire of my colleague—I came as quickly as I could when I saw that Senator MCCAIN took the floor—is his amendment now on file? Have the yeas and nays been requested?

Mr. STEVENS. Madam President, the Senator from Virginia asks the question about Senator MCCAIN's amendment. The yeas and nays were not requested, to my knowledge.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. That is correct. They have not been requested.

Mr. STEVENS. The circumstances, I say to the Senator from Virginia, will preclude a vote on that amendment if cloture is granted at 10 a.m. tomorrow morning. If it is not granted, then he will be in a position to ask for the yeas and nays.

Mr. WARNER. Madam President, in fairness to my colleague from Arizona, even though I am in opposition, did he seek to have an up-or-down vote? I think we should extend the courtesy to him.

Mr. STEVENS. With due regard to the Senator's request, Madam President, the pending cloture vote would, if it is approved, mean that there would not be a vote on that amendment as it is not germane to the legislative appropriations bill.

Mr. WARNER. Madam President, I understand that, so I guess the Senator clarified as best he can the status of the amendment.

Mr. STEVENS. That is correct.

Mr. WARNER. I think it is important at this time as chairman of the Rules Committee to put into the RECORD some comments that I have.

Madam President, I also ask unanimous consent that if the distinguished Senator from Kentucky, Mr. FORD, desires to put something in, the RECORD be made available to his entry, as well as the distinguished Senator from Mississippi, Mr. COCHRAN. Both of these Senators have done a great deal of work on this and are in opposition to the McCain amendment. So I make that unanimous consent request in the event that they wish to do so.

Mr. STEVENS. Madam President, as I understand it, I would have to object.

Does the Senator wish to have an opportunity for those two Senators to make a statement today or put them in the RECORD?

Mr. WARNER. Just to put them in the RECORD.

Mr. STEVENS. I have no objection to that, nor do I have objection if the Senators wish to come now and speak. But I would object to keeping the Senate in session very much longer because we know we have a series of very long days coming now. Tuesday and Wednesday are going to be very long, and it is our understanding the Senate will not be in session beyond 5 o'clock.

Mr. WARNER. Madam President, I will momentarily notify Mr. FORD.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Virginia is recognized.

Mr. STEVENS. Will the Senator yield for a parliamentary inquiry? I understand the Senate will stand in adjournment following the statement of Senator WARNER.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. That is the unanimous consent agreement.

Mr. WARNER. Recognizing the distinguished Senator from Alaska wants to be brief, I will simply say this is a very important recommendation that the Senator from Arizona has made. It has been carefully studied by the Rules Committee. I, as chairman; Mr. FORD, as ranking member, we have taken a position in opposition—not to the ultimate goals sought by the distinguished Senator from Arizona, but to the time with which such a goal could likely be achieved. Second, we are still studying the issue and we are concerned that this proposal would take the Member out of the sequence of making this information available to the public. As I read the McCain request, it would mandate that the CRS and its Director would send a great deal of material—reports and issue briefs—right into the Internet system. No Member would be interposed between the recipients of that information and the Director of CRS.

That concerns this Senator a great deal, because if I am out there and come up on the system and access some of this information, it reads that the Director of the CRS put it out. Who is he? Of course, we all know that the CRS is a part of the Library of Congress. It was created for the purpose of accommodating the important needs of Members of Congress, committees, and their respective staffs. Suddenly, this information takes on the imprimatur that the Director takes this position on an issue, as opposed to a Member sending it out and the recipient contacting the Member.

So we, the Rules Committee, felt we should take a first step and therefore, on June 10, we sent to all Members of the Senate a Dear Colleague letter stating that we had now set up a system electronically whereby the CRS could, at the Member's request, transfer certain CRS products to a Member's web site.

I ask unanimous consent this letter be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the letter was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

U.S. SENATE, COMMITTEE ON RULES AND ADMINISTRATION,

Washington, DC, June 10, 1998.

DEAR COLLEAGUE: The Committee on Rules and Administration wishes to advise all Senators of their ability to make Congressional Research Service (CRS) products available to the public via Member and Committee Internet web sites.

As you know, CRS works exclusively for Congress and is prohibited from disseminating its work directly to the public. However, in accordance with a longstanding policy in the Senate, Members can and often do release CRS products to the public as part of their constituent service activities.

With the rapidly expanding use of the Internet, we believe it is appropriate for Members and Committees to use their web sites to further disseminate CRS products. The Rules Committee has worked with CRS to develop a system to facilitate the posting of CRS products on Member and Committee web sites. We invite you to visit the Rules Committee web site at <http://www.senate.gov/rules/> to view our posting of CRS products and we encourage you to post CRS products on your web site.

It is our intent to evaluate the public interest in this feature and the accompanying impact on CRS, Committees and Member offices before considering additional ways to electronically disseminate CRS products.

Robert Newlen of CRS can be reached at 7-4313 to coordinate the posting of CRS products on your web site.

With kind regards,

JOHN WARNER,

Chairman.

WENDELL H. FORD,

Ranking Member.

Mr. WARNER. Also, I would like to have printed in the RECORD a letter by the Senator from Arizona and others, and a July 20 Dear Colleague from myself and Senator FORD. This will create a record of correspondence on this matter.

I ask unanimous consent those be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the letters were ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

JUNE 24, 1998.

Hon. JOHN W. WARNER, Chairman,
Hon. WENDELL H. FORD, Ranking Member,
Senate Committee on Rules and Administration,
Russell Senate Office Building, Washington, DC.

DEAR SENATORS WARNER AND FORD: We are writing to you in reference to your recent letter allowing Senators and their Committees to post issue Briefs and "Congressional Research Service (CRS) Reports to Congress" on the Internet. While we appreciate this first step to make this information available to the public over the Internet, we are concerned that this decentralized approach may end up hurting our shared goal of giving the public electronic access to CRS products.

We have a number of concerns that we believe must be addressed in order to ensure that CRS Reports and Issue Briefs are put up on the Internet in a way that will benefit both the American people and the Congressional Research Service.

(1) We are concerned that CRS products will become inherently politicized by a decentralized approach.

The major reason why the American public is clamoring for CRS products is that they contain both accurate and nonpartisan information about important political issues—a rarity for Washington. Our concern with a decentralized approach is that it will inherently politicize CRS in the eyes of the American people. Members and Committees will be able to release CRS information as it suits their political needs. It is a likely possibility that Members may not give their constituents access to CRS products if they do not want an issue discussed or if they disagree with the CRS analysis of the issue. This will allow individual Senators to censor what their constituents see. It will also mean that CRS products will be publicly used to support Senators' political positions, and give the public an inaccurate impression that CRS is a partisan agency. If CRS becomes politicized, there are important public and legal ramifications that must be considered.

We want to ensure that CRS keeps its excellent nonpartisan reputation. That is why we proposed in S. 1578 that CRS remain in control of a centralized public access web site that would be attached to a nonpartisan Congressionally mandated site, such as either the THOMAS web site or the United States Senate web site (www.senate.gov). CRS already has a nonpartisan process for making its products available electronically over the Senate intranet, and we believe that it would be best to allow them to continue to use this nonpartisan process for the public.

(2) A decentralized system will be confusing to constituents.

There is no doubt that a decentralized system will confuse constituents. Considering that different Members and Committees may post different CRS products, it is almost impossible for a constituent to find information about an issue. Instead, they will become confused by the multiple places they have to search. When faced with having to examine possibly 580 web sites for information, the public is apt to either give up or request a centralized web site.

We proposed a centralized web site based on the intranet web page CRS has already established. This system will allow constituents to search a general index based on what CRS has already established in order to easily find products. This will be less confusing for our constituents.

(3) A decentralized system may cause legal and liability problems for CRS.

The strategy as outlined in your letter will leave copyrighted information in the public CRS products. We have been informed by CRS that this oversight will cause legal and liability problems for CRS. On February 26, 1998, Daniel P. Mulholland, the Director of CRS, testified before your committee that "If a CRS product, containing substantial copyrighted material (albeit with appropriate credit) is made available to the general public without permission and outside the confines of traditional fair use, liability is possible."

Furthermore, there is nothing in your plan that will remove the names of CRS analysts from their products. During our consultations, CRS requested that the names of these analysts be removed in order to prevent the public from calling these analysts with their complaints. We share CRS's concerns on these issues, and would ask that you consider our proposals to give the Director of CRS discretion to remove the names of analysts and copyrighted information as he feels is necessary.

(4) A decentralized system will be a logistical nightmare.

As alluded to earlier, we are concerned that a decentralized system with no protocol from the Senate Rules Committee will be a logistical nightmare. Different Members and Committees may end up putting up the same CRS products, while other products are not released to the public. If there is no rule about updating CRS reports, the public may end up seeing out of date CRS products that will misinform them or even be a liability concern for CRS. Finally, there is concern that there will be a drag on the Members' personal and committee office staff as they select and update the web pages.

We are also concerned that the restrictions in the Senate Internet Usage Policies may obstruct your attempts at a decentralized system. According to these restrictions: "During the 60 day period immediately preceding the date of any primary or general election (whether regular, special, or runoff) for any national, state, or local office in which the Senator is a candidate, no Member may place, update or transmit information using a Senate Internet Server (FTP Server, Gopher, and World Wide Web), unless the candidacy of the Senator in such election is uncontested."

This clearly prohibits Members from posting CRS products on their web sites before elections. One-third of the Members of the Senate will not be able to update what they have posted during the biennial election cycle.

A centralized web site will solve all of these concerns. CRS already has a uniform system for maintaining its centralized intranet web site. This web site has prevented much of the confusion that a decentralized web site would entail. The legislation proposed by us during our discussions with you would simply ask that CRS use its existing processes to maintain a web site that the public could access through a non-partisan Congressionally mandated web page. We know that this proposal would only require 3 CRS staff and not involve over 100 personal office and committee staff.

(5) A decentralized system may cost more than a centralized system.

Our concern is that a decentralized system may incur the same costs for CRS as a centralized system, while also being a funding and time drag on personal and committee offices. CRS will still have to use the same staff and resources preparing products for public dissemination in either a centralized or decentralized web site. However, the decentralized proposal will also end up using valuable personal and committee staff resources to post the products on their web pages and update them.

While we appreciate your recent attempt to address the issue of giving the public access to CRS products, we want to make sure that this is not a mis-step. By using our proposal for a centralized web site, we hope to work with you to create a public venue for access to CRS products that will give the Director of CRS greater discretion over the dissemination of CRS products while also reducing the public visibility of CRS. This will give the American public access to the high quality information that they already pay for, and still allow CRS to perform its statutory responsibility to only serve Congress.

We look forward to your continued cooperation on this issue, and hope to continue working with you to pass S. 1578 and establish a centralized web site where the public can access CRS products.

Sincerely,

JOHN MCCAIN.

COMMITTEE ON RULES AND ADMINISTRATION,
Washington, DC, July 20, 1998.

DEAR COLLEAGUE: When the Senate considers the FY99 Legislative Branch Appropriations bill, Senator McCain is expected to offer an amendment that would mandate that the Congressional Research Service (CRS) directly release certain documents to the public through the THOMAS web site. As Chairman and Ranking Member of the committee with oversight of CRS, we have serious concerns regarding this amendment.

Let us state up front that we support the objective of using technological advances to increase the availability of CRS products to the public. Following testimony before the Committee on Senator McCain's proposal, we announced a new initiative designed to increase access to this information while maintaining a long-standing policy that Congress, not CRS, disseminate CRS products to the public. This initiative, outlined in a June 10 letter which you have previously received, increases public access by facilitating dissemination of CRS information through member and committee home pages.

The McCain amendment would make a radical change in CRS policy by forcing CRS to directly disseminate material to the public. CRS is not an independent agency. It is an extension of our staff and was never intended to be an independent source of legislative information for the public. Instead, members communicate with their constituents and channel CRS information products to them as the member determines it is appropriate.

The Congressional Budget Office has estimated that the cost to CRS to implement this amendment would likely range between $2 and $8 million dollars annually. This amendment would create an entirely new mission for CRS—a public information function that CRS is neither organized nor funded to perform. The Rules Committee initiative, however, has minimal cost, preserves the representational relationship between a member and his or her constituents, and substantially increases public access to CRS information products.

Furthermore, the Joint Committee on Library is nearing completion of a report regarding this very matter. It would be premature to adopt this amendment prior to the completion of that report.

It is our intent to continue to evaluate the Rules Committee initiative to determine the level of public interest in CRS information products and to determine the best approach for achieving broader dissemination while preserving the historic role of CRS. We urge you to oppose this amendment and allow the Committee to continue to work with CRS to expand access to its products.

With kind regards,

WENDELL H. FORD,
Ranking Member.
JOHN WARNER,
Chairman.

Mr. WARNER. This helps Members, then, to better understand the inner workings of the Rules Committee, what we have done for Members, and what Senator MCCAIN is endeavoring to do. It lays out my concerns that it is important that we run this initial test, whereby Members of the U.S. Senate can now put this material out or the committees of the Senate can put this material out. Let's make some assessment over the next few months of what it costs, what staff are involved, and to the extent there is an interest out there in the public for this very voluminous amount of information that is created by CRS. It may well be in the due course of time we will take a further step towards the goals Mr. MCCAIN has in his amendment.

So for the time being we oppose the amendment and ask Senators to entrust to the Committee on Rules and Administration the proper analysis of the objective by Senator MCCAIN, as well as the costs associated with it and the desirability, in the public domain, for the dissemination of this information.

That concludes the remarks of the Senator from Virginia.

Mr. FORD. Madam President, I rise in opposition to the amendment by my colleague and good friend from Arizona. I do not do so because I disagree with his goal of making the good work of the Congressional Research Service available to the general public. Nor do I believe that the American people should be prevented from seeing the kinds of documents we use every day to help us make difficult decisions here in Congress. The Senator from Arizona is nothing if not consistent in his commitment to open government, and this current effort, like so many others, is continued proof of his faith in those principles.

That said, however, I oppose this amendment because it attempts to solve a problem that really doesn't exist. For years, all Members of Congress have had the opportunity to make CRS materials available to constituents upon request. This arrangement has been beneficial to everyone concerned: citizens receive information on issues of interest; Members of Congress are kept informed about the issues that concern their constituents; and the CRS—which is an extension of Congressional staff and not a public agency—maintains the ability to study and explain difficult issues for its primary audience, the Congress, without external pressure from groups with an interest in the issues that CRS is charged with researching.

Of course, as technology has changed, CRS has been able to improve the ways of delivering materials to Congress. While CRS still prints reports and delivers them to Congressional offices by hand and by mail, those same reports are also now available to Members and staff via the Internet. Congress, similarly, can make use of technology and the Internet to distribute CRS materials to their constituents. There is no reason to switch from the procedure of allowing Members of Congress to interact with their constituents with regard to CRS products to a system where CRS responds directly to the public.

That is why Senator WARNER and I, as Chairman and Ranking Member of the Rules Committee, recently circulated a "Dear Colleague" letter announcing that the Rules Committee will be providing selected CRS documents to the public through a special link on the Committee Web site and inviting Members and Committee Chairmen to investigate the feasibility of doing the same with their Web sites.

Although it might seem like a big step for the Rules Committee and other offices to make CRS documents available on the Internet, the truth is that our Web page is nothing more than a new twist on the old method of making CRS documents available to interested citizens. The only difference is that, instead of using what Internet users call "snail mail," Members of Congress can make CRS materials available to constituents at the click of a mouse or the press of a button.

What has not changed is the necessary participation of Member offices in the process. Without that participation—without the ability of Members and Committees to respond to constituent requests and to provide CRS products accordingly—CRS risks losing its status as an extension of our staff and the scholarly research and non-partisan analysis that are its hallmarks will be jeopardized.

That is why I think the pending amendment—which would remove Congressional offices from the equation and require that CRS prepared and maintain a central public Website for its products—is flawed. What is worse, requiring CRS to put all of its products on the Internet would cost millions of dollars—money that could be put to better use in recruiting new CRS analysts to replace those who will be eligible to retire shortly after the turn of the century. I simply cannot understand why CRS should be saddled with a project of this size when we in Congress already have the means to use existing technology to significantly improve the traditional method of distributing CRS products.

Madam President, as Ranking Member of the Rules Committee I have had several opportunities to hear out my colleague from Arizona on this issue. I urge him and any colleagues who support this amendment to follow the lead of the Rules Committee in offering CRS products to constituents via the Internet. As of now, no other Senate Committee—including the Commerce Committee, chaired by my colleague from Arizona—has taken advantage of the offer by CRS to assist Committee and Member offices with online access to CRS products.

Madam President, I have always believed that “if it ain’t broke, don’t fix it”—and until it is clear that Committee- and member-sponsored online distribution of CRS products is inadequate, I do not think we should expend the energy of the Senate—or the resources of the CRS—on such a questionable solution. I urge my colleagues to oppose the amendment.

AMENDMENTS SUBMITTED

LEGISLATIVE BRANCH
APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 1999

GRAMS AMENDMENT NO. 3215

(Ordered to lie on the table.)

Mr. GRAMS submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill (H.R. 4112) making appropriations for the Legislative Branch for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1999, and for other purposes; as follows:

In the appropriate place, insert the following:

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This title may be cited as the "Government Shutdown Prevention Act."

SEC. 2. AMENDMENT TO TITLE 31.

(a) IN GENERAL: Chapter 13 of title 31, United States Code, is amended by inserting after section 1310 the following new section:

1311. Continuing appropriations

(a)(1) If any regular appropriation bill for a fiscal year does not become law prior to the beginning of such fiscal year or a joint resolution making continuing appropriations is not in effect, there is appropriated, out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, and out of applicable corporate or other revenues, receipts, and funds, such sums as may be necessary to continue any project or activity for which funds were provided in the preceding fiscal year—

(A) in the corresponding regular appropriation Act for such preceding fiscal year; or

(B) if the corresponding regular appropriation bill for such preceding fiscal year did not become law, then in a joint resolution making continuing appropriations for such preceding fiscal year.

(2) Appropriations and funds made available, and authority granted, for a project or activity for any fiscal year pursuant to this section shall be at a rate of operations not in excess of the lower of—

(A) the rate of operations provided for in the regular appropriation Act providing for such project or activity for the preceding fiscal year,

(B) in the absence of such an Act, the rate of operations provided for such project or activity pursuant to a joint resolution making continuing appropriations for such preceding fiscal year,

(C) the rate or operations provided for in the House or Senate passed appropriation bill for the fiscal year in question, except that the lower of these two versions shall be ignored for any project or activity for which there is a budget request if no funding is provided for that project or activity in either version.

(D) the rate provided in the budget submission of the President under section 1105(a) of title 31, United States Code, for the fiscal year in question, or

(E) the annualized rate of operations provided for in the most recently enacted joint resolution making continuing appropriations for part of the fiscal year or any funding levels established under the provisions of this Act.

(3) Appropriations and funds made available, and authority granted, for any fiscal year pursuant to this section for a project or activity shall be available for the period beginning with the first day of a lapse in appropriations and ending with the earlier of—

(A) the date on which the applicable regular appropriation bill for such fiscal year becomes law (whether or not such law provides for such project or activity) or a continuing resolution making appropriations becomes law, as the case may be, or

(B) the last day of such fiscal year.

(d) An appropriation or funds made available, or authority granted, for a project or activity for any fiscal year pursuant to the section shall be subject to the terms and conditions imposed with respect to the appropriation made or funds made available for the preceding fiscal year, or authority granted for such project or activity under current law.

(c) Appropriations and funds made available, and authority granted, for any project or activity for any fiscal year pursuant to this section shall cover all obligations or expenditures incurred for such project or activity during the portion of such fiscal year for which this section applies to such project or activity.

(d) Expenditures made for a project or activity for any fiscal year pursuant to this section shall be charged to the applicable appropriation, fund, or authorization whenever a regular appropriation bill or a joint resolution making continuing appropriations until the end of a fiscal year providing for such project or activity for such period becomes law.

(c) This section shall not apply to a project or activity during a fiscal year if any other provision of law (other than an authorization of appropriations)—

(1) makes an appropriation, makes funds available, or grants authority for such project or activity to continue for such period, or

(2) specifically provides that no appropriation shall be made, no funds shall be made available, or no authority shall be granted for such project or activity to continue for such period.

(f) For purposes of this section, the term "regular appropriation bill" means any annual appropriation bill making appropriations, otherwise making funds available or granting authority, for any of the following categories of projects and activities:

(1) Agriculture, rural development, and related agencies programs.

(2) The Departments of Commerce, Justice, and State, the Judiciary, and related agencies.

(3) The Department of Defense.

(4) The government of the District of Columbia and other activities chargeable in whole or in part against the revenues of the District.

(5) The Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education, and related agencies.

(6) The Department of Housing and Urban Development, and sundry independent agencies, boards, commissions, corporations, and offices.

(7) Energy and water development

(8) Foreign assistance and related programs.

(9) The Department of the Interior and related agencies.

(10) Military construction.

(11) The Department of Transportation and related agencies.

(12) The Treasury Department, the U.S. Postal Service, the Executive Office of the President, and certain independent agencies.

(13) The legislative branch.

(b) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The analysis of chapter 13 of title 31, United States Code, is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 1310 the following new item:

1311. Continuing appropriations.

(c) PROTECTION OF OTHER OBLIGATIONS.—Nothing in the amendments made by this section shall be construed to effect Government obligations mandated by other law, including obligations with respect to Social Security, Medicare, and Medicaid.

SEC. 3. EFFECTIVE DATE.

(a) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this Act shall apply with respect to fiscal years beginning with fiscal year 1999.

BROWNBACK (AND OTHERS)
AMENDMENT NO. 3216

(Ordered to lie on the table.)

Mr. BROWNBACK (for himself, Mr. ASHCROFT, Mr. INHOFE, and Mr. SMITH of New Hampshire) submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by them to the bill, H.R. 4112, supra; as follows:

At the appropriate place in the bill, add the following:

SEC. ____ COMBINED RETURN TO WHICH UNMARRIED RATES APPLY.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Subpart B of part II of subchapter A of chapter 61 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (relating to income tax returns) is amended by inserting after section 6013 the following new section:

"SEC. 6013A. COMBINED RETURN WITH SEPARATE RATES.

"(a) GENERAL RULE.—A husband and wife may make a combined return of income taxes under subtitle A under which—

"(1) a separate taxable income is determined for each spouse by applying the rules provided in this section, and

"(2) the tax imposed by section 1 is the aggregate amount resulting from applying the separate rates set forth in section 1(c) to each such taxable income.

"(b) DETERMINATION OF TAXABLE INCOME.—

"(1) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of subsection (a)(1), the taxable income for each spouse shall be one-half of the taxable income computed as if the spouses were filing a joint return.

"(2) NONITEMIZERS.—For purposes of paragraph (1), if an election is made not to itemize deductions for any taxable year, the basic standard deduction shall be equal to the amount which is twice the basic standard deduction under section 63(c)(2)(C) for the taxable year.

"(c) TREATMENT OF CREDITS.—Credits shall be determined (and applied against the joint liability of the couple for tax) as if the spouses had filed a joint return.

"(d) TREATMENT AS JOINT RETURN.—Except as otherwise provided in this section or in the regulations prescribed hereunder, for purposes of this title (other than sections 1 and 63(c)) a combined return under this section shall be treated as a joint return.

"(e) REGULATIONS.—The Secretary shall prescribe such regulations as may be necessary or appropriate to carry out this section."

(b) UNMARRIED RATE MADE APPLICABLE.—So much of subsection (c) of section 1 of such Code as precedes the table is amended to read as follows:

"(c) SEPARATE OR UNMARRIED RETURN RATE.—There is hereby imposed on the taxable income of every individual (other than a married individual (as defined in section 7703) filing a joint return or a separate return, a surviving spouse as defined in section 2(a), or a head of household as defined in section 2(b)) a tax determined in accordance with the following table:"

(c) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of sections for subpart B of part II of subchapter A of chapter 61 of such Code is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 6013 the following:

"Sec. 6013A. Combined return with separate rates."

(d) BUDGET DIRECTIVE.—The members of the conference on the congressional budget resolution for fiscal year 1999 shall provide in the conference report sufficient spending reductions to offset the reduced revenues received by the United States Treasury resulting from the amendments made by this section.

(e) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall apply to taxable years beginning after the date of the enactment of this Act.

MCCAIN (AND OTHERS)

Nothing in this Act may be construed to interfere with the Librarian's normal duties concerning THOMAS.

(e) FURTHER APPROVAL NOT REQUIRED.—Notwithstanding the first proviso under the subheading "SALARIES AND EXPENSES" under the subheading "CONGRESSIONAL RESEARCH SERVICE" under the heading "LIBRARY OF CONGRESS" under title I of this Act (relating to prior approval of certain publications), the Director shall make information available in accordance with this section without the prior approval of the Committee on Rules and Administration of the Senate or the Committee on House Oversight of the House of Representatives.

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE
APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 1999

HUTCHINSON (AND WELLSTONE)
AMENDMENT NO. 3128

(Ordered to lie on the table.)

Mr. HUTCHINSON (for himself and Mr. WELLSTONE) submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by them to the bill (S. 2132) making appropriations for the Department of Defense for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1999, and for other purposes; as follows:

On page 99, between lines 17 and 18, insert the following:

TITLE IX

HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHINA

Subtitle A—Forced Abortions in China

SEC. 9001. This subtitle may be cited as the "Forced Abortion Condemnation Act".

SEC. 9002. Congress makes the following findings:

(1) Forced abortion was rightly denounced as a crime against humanity by the Nuremberg War Crimes Tribunal.

(2) For over 15 years there have been frequent and credible reports of forced abortion and forced sterilization in connection with the population control policies of the People's Republic of China. These reports indicate the following:

(A) Although it is the stated position of the politburo of the Chinese Communist Party that forced abortion and forced sterilization have no role in the population control program, in fact the Communist Chinese Government encourages both forced abortion and forced sterilization through a combination of strictly enforced birth quotas and immunity for local population control officials who engage in coercion. Officials acknowledge that there have been instances of forced abortions and sterilization, and no evidence has been made available to suggest that the perpetrators have been punished.

(B) People's Republic of China population control officials, in cooperation with employers and works unit officials, routinely monitor women's menstrual cycles and subject women who conceive without government authorization to extreme psychological pressure, to harsh economic sanctions, including unpayable fines and loss of employment, and often to physical force.

(C) Official sanctions for giving birth to unauthorized children include fines in amounts several times larger than the per capita annual incomes of residents of the People's Republic of China. In Fujian, for example, the average fine is estimated to be twice a family's gross annual income. Families which cannot pay the fine may be subject to confiscation and destruction of their homes and personal property.

(D) Especially harsh punishments have been inflicted on those whose resistance is motivated by religion. For example, according to a 1995 Amnesty International report, the Catholic inhabitants of 2 villages in Hebei Province were subjected to population control under the slogan "better to have more graves than one more child". Enforcement measures included torture, sexual abuse, and the detention of resisters' relatives as hostages.

(E) Forced abortions in Communist China often have taken place in the very late stages of pregnancy.

(F) Since 1994 forced abortion and sterilization have been used in Communist China not only to regulate the number of children, but also to eliminate those who are regarded as defective in accordance with the official eugenic policy known as the "Natal and Health Care Law".

SEC. 9003. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Secretary of State may not utilize any funds appropriated or otherwise available for the Department of State for fiscal year 1999 to issue any visa to any national of the People's Republic of China, including any official of the Communist Party or the Government of the People's Republic of China and its regional, local, and village authorities (except the head of state, the head of government, and cabinet level ministers) who the Secretary finds, based on credible information, has been involved in the establishment or enforcement of population control policies resulting in a woman being forced to undergo an abortion against her free choice, or resulting in a man or woman being forced to undergo sterilization against his or her free choice.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Attorney General may not utilize any funds appropriated or otherwise available for the Department of Justice for fiscal year 1999 to admit to the United States any national covered by subsection (a).

(c) The President may waive the prohibition in subsection (a) or (b) with respect to a national of the People's Republic of China if the President—

(1) determines that it is in the national interest of the United States to do so; and

(2) provides written notification to Congress containing a justification for the waiver.

Subtitle B—Freedom on Religion in China

SEC. 9011. (a) It is the sense of Congress that the President should make freedom of religion one of the major objectives of United States foreign policy with respect to China.

(b) As part of this policy, the Department of State should raise in every relevant bilateral and multilateral forum the issue of individuals imprisoned, detained, confined, or otherwise harassed by the Chinese Government on religious grounds.

(c) In its communications with the Chinese Government, the Department of State should provide specific names of individuals of concern and request a complete and timely response from the Chinese Government regarding the individuals' whereabouts and condition, the charges against them, and sentence imposed.

(d) The goal of these official communications should be the expeditious release of all religious prisoners in China and Tibet and the end of the Chinese Government's policy and practice of harassing and repressing religious believers.

SEC. 9012. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no funds appropriated or otherwise made available for the Department of State for fiscal year 1999 for the United States Information Agency or the United States Agency for International Development may be used for the purpose of providing travel expenses and per diem for the participation in conferences, exchanges, programs, and activities of the following nationals of the People's Republic of China:

(1) The head or political secretary of any of the following Chinese Government-created or approved organizations:

(A) The Chinese Buddhist Association.

(B) The Chinese Catholic Patriotic Association.

(C) The National Congress of Catholic Representatives.

(D) The Chinese Catholic Bishops' Conference.

(E) The Chinese Protestant "Three Self" Patriotic Movement.

(F) The China Christian Council.

(G) The Chinese Taoist Association.

(H) The Chinese Islamic Association.

(2) Any military or civilian official or employee of the Government of the People's Republic of China who carried out or directed the carrying out of any of the following policies or practices:

(A) Formulating, drafting, or implementing repressive religious policies.

(B) Imprisoning, detaining, or harassing individuals on religious grounds.

(C) Promoting or participating in policies or practices which hinder religious activities or the free expression of religious beliefs.

(b)(1) Each Federal agency subject to the prohibition in subsection (a) shall certify in writing to the appropriate congressional committees, on a quarterly basis during fiscal year 1999, that it did not pay, either directly or through a contractor or grantee, for travel expenses or per diem of any national of the People's Republic of China described in subsection (a).

(2) Each certification under paragraph (1) shall be supported by the following information:

(A) The name of each employee of any agency of the Government of the People's Republic of China whose travel expenses or per diem were paid by funds of the reporting agency of the United States Government.

(B) The procedures employed by the reporting agency of the United States Government to ascertain whether each individual under subparagraph (A) did or did not participate in activities described in subsection (a)(2).

(C) The reporting agency's basis for concluding that each individual under subparagraph (A) did not participate in such activities.

SEC. 9013. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Secretary of State may not utilize any funds appropriated or otherwise available for the Department of State for fiscal year 1999 to issue a visa to any national of the People's Republic of China described in section 9012(a)(2) (except the head of state, the head of government, and cabinet level ministers).

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Attorney General may not utilize any funds appropriated or otherwise available for the Department of Justice for fiscal year 1999 to admit to the United States any national covered by subsection (a).

(c) The President may waive the prohibition in subsection (a) or (b) with respect to an individual described in such subsection if the President—

(1) determines that it is vital to the national interest to do so; and

(2) provides written notification to the appropriate congressional committees containing a justification for the waiver.

SEC. 9014. In this subtitle, the term "appropriate congressional committees" means the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate and the Committee on International Relations of the House of Representatives.

Subtitle C—Monitoring of Human Rights Abuses in China

SEC. 9021. This subtitle may be cited as the "Political Freedom in China Act of 1998".

SEC. 9022. Congress makes the following findings:

(1) Congress concurs in the following conclusions of the United States State Department on human rights in the People's Republic of China in 1996:

(A) The People's Republic of China is "an authoritarian state" in which "citizens lack the freedom to peacefully express opposition to the party-led political system and the right to change their national leaders or form of government".

(B) The Government of the People's Republic of China has "continued to commit widespread and well-documented human rights abuses, in violation of internationally accepted norms, stemming from the authorities' intolerance of dissent, fear of unrest, and the absence or inadequacy of laws protecting basic freedoms".

(C) "[a]buses include torture and mistreatment of prisoners, forced confessions, and arbitrary and incommunicado detention".

(D) "[p]rison conditions remained harsh [and] [t]he Government continued severe restrictions on freedom of speech, the press, assembly, association, religion, privacy, and worker rights".

(E) "[a]lthough the Government denies that it holds political prisoners, the number of persons detained or serving sentences for 'counterrevolutionary crimes' or 'crimes against the state', or for peaceful political or religious activities are believed to number in the thousands".

(F) "[n]onapproved religious groups, including Protestant and Catholic groups * * * experienced intensified repression".

(G) "[s]erious human rights abuses persist in minority areas, including Tibet, Xinjiang, and Inner Mongolia[and] [c]ontrols on religion and on other fundamental freedoms in these areas have also intensified".

(H) "[o]verall in 1996, the authorities stepped up efforts to cut off expressions of protest or criticism. All public dissent against the party and government was effectively silenced by intimidation, exile, the imposition of prison terms, administrative detention, or house arrest. No dissidents were known to be active at year's end."

(2) In addition to the State Department, credible independent human rights organizations have documented an increase in repression in China during 1995, and effective destruction of the dissident movement through the arrest and sentencing of the few remaining pro-democracy and human rights activists not already in prison or exile.

(3) Among those were Li Hai, sentenced to 9 years in prison on December 18, 1996, for gathering information on the victims of the 1989 crackdown, which according to the court's verdict constituted "state secrets"; Liu Nianchun, an independent labor organizer, sentenced to 3 years of "re-education through labor" on July 4, 1996, due to his activities in connection with a petition campaign calling for human rights reforms; and Ngodrup Phuntsog, a Tibetan national, who was arrested in Tibet in 1987 immediately after he returned from a 2-year trip to India, where the Tibetan government in exile is located, and following a secret trial was convicted by the Government of the People's Republic of China of espionage on behalf of the "Ministry of Security of the Dalai clique".

(4) Many political prisoners are suffering from poor conditions and ill-treatment leading to serious medical and health problems, including—

(A) Gao Yu, a journalist sentenced to 6 years in prison in November 1994 and honored by UNESCO in May 1997, has a heart condition; and

(B) Chen Longde, a leading human rights advocate now serving a 3-year reeducation through labor sentence imposed without trial in August 1995, has reportedly been subject to repeated beatings and electric shocks at a labor camp for refusing to confess his guilt.

(5) The People's Republic of China, as a member of the United Nations, is expected to abide by the provisions of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

(6) The People's Republic of China is a party to numerous international human rights conventions, including the Convention Against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment.

SEC. 9023. (a) The Secretary of State, in all official meetings with the Government of the People's Republic of China, should request the immediate and unconditional release of Ngodrup Phuntsog and other prisoners of conscience in Tibet, as well as in the People's Republic of China.

(b) The Secretary of State should seek access for international humanitarian organizations to Draphchi prison and other prisons in Tibet, as well as in the People's Republic of China, to ensure that prisoners are not being mistreated and are receiving necessary medical treatment.

(c) The Secretary of State, in all official meetings with the Government of the People's Republic of China, should call on that country to begin serious discussions with the Dalai Lama or his representatives, without preconditions, on the future of Tibet.

SEC. 9024. (a) There is authorized to be appropriated for fiscal year 1999, $1,100,000 for support personnel to monitor political repression in the People's Republic of China in the United States Embassies in Beijing and Kathmandu, as well as the American consulates in Guangzhou, Shanghai, Shenyang, Chengdu, and Hong Kong.

(b) Amounts appropriated pursuant to the authorization of appropriations in subsection (a) are in addition to any other amounts appropriated or otherwise available in fiscal year 1999 for the personnel referred to in that subsection.

SEC. 9025. (a)(1) There is authorized to be appropriated for fiscal year 1999 for the National Endowment for Democracy, $2,500,000 for the promotion of democracy, civil society, and the development of the rule of law in China.

(2) Amounts appropriated pursuant to the authorization of appropriations in subsection (a) are in addition to any other amounts appropriated or otherwise made available in fiscal year 1999 for the National Endowment for Democracy.

(b) The Secretary of State shall, in fiscal year 1999, utilize funds available in the East Asia-Pacific Regional Democracy Fund to provide grants to nongovernmental organizations to promote democracy, civil society, and the development of the rule of law in China.

SEC. 9026. (a) The Secretary of State shall utilize funds appropriated or otherwise available for the Department of State for fiscal year 1999 submit to the International Relations Committee of the House of Representatives and the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate, in that fiscal year, a report on human rights in China, including religious persecution, the development of democratic institutions, and the rule of law. The report shall provide information on each region of China.

(b)(1) The Secretary of State shall utilize funds referred to in subsection (a) to establish a Prisoner Information Registry for China which shall provide information on all political prisoners, prisoners of conscience, and prisoners of faith in China.

(2) Such information shall include the charges, judicial processes, administrative actions, use of forced labor, incidences of torture, length of imprisonment, physical and health conditions, and other matters related to the incarceration of such prisoners in China.

(3) The Secretary may make funds available to nongovernmental organizations presently engaged in monitoring activities regarding Chinese political prisoners to assist in the creation and maintenance of the registry.

SEC. 9027. It is the sense of Congress that Congress, the President, and the Secretary of State should work with the governments of other countries to establish a Commission on Security and Cooperation in Asia which would be modeled after the Commission on Security and Cooperation in Europe.

SEC. 9028. It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) the people of Hong Kong should continue to have the right and ability to freely elect their legislative representatives; and

(2) the procedure for the conduct of the elections of the first legislature of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region should be determined by the people of Hong Kong through an election law convention, a referendum, or both.

SEC. 9029. It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) the Government of the People's Republic of China should stop the practice of harvesting and transplanting organs for profit from prisoners that it executes;

(2) the Government of the People's Republic of China should be strongly condemned for such organ harvesting and transplanting practice;

(3) the President should bar from entry into the United States any and all officials of the Government of the People's Republic of China known to be directly involved in such organ harvesting and transplanting practice;

(4) individuals determined to be participating in or otherwise facilitating the sale of such organs in the United States should be prosecuted to the fullest possible extent of the law; and

(5) the appropriate officials in the United States should interview individuals, including doctors, who may have knowledge of such organ harvesting and transplanting practice.

LEGISLATIVE BRANCH APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 1999

KERREY (AND HAGEL) AMENDMENT NO. 3219

(Ordered to lie on the table.)

Mr. KERREY (for himself and Mr. HAGEL) submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by them to the bill, H.R. 4112, supra; as follows:

On page 49, between lines 12 and 13, insert the following:

SEC. 423. TEMPORARY PROHIBITION ON IMPLEMENTATION OR ENFORCEMENT OF PUBLIC WATER SYSTEM TREATMENT REQUIREMENTS FOR COPPER ACTION LEVEL.

(a) IN GENERAL.—None of the funds made available by this or any other Act for any fiscal year may be used by the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency to implement or enforce the national primary drinking water regulations for lead and copper in drinking water promulgated under the Safe Drinking Water Act (42 U.S.C. 300f et seq.), to the extent that the regulations pertain to the public water system treatment requirements related to the copper action level, until—

(1) the Administrator and the Director of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention jointly conduct a study to establish a reliable dose-response relationship for the adverse human health effects that may result from exposure to copper in drinking water, that—

(A) includes an analysis of the health effects that may be experienced by groups within the general population (including infants) that are potentially at greater risk of adverse health effects as the result of the exposure;

(B) is conducted in consultation with interested States;

(C) is based on the best available science and supporting studies that are subject to peer review and conducted in accordance with sound and objective scientific practices; and

(D) is completed not later than 30 months after the date of enactment of this Act; and

(2) based on the results of the study and, once peer reviewed and published, the 2 studies of copper in drinking water conducted by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention in the State of Nebraska and the State of Delaware, the Administrator establishes an action level for the presence of copper in drinking water that protects the public health against reasonably expected adverse effects due to exposure to copper in drinking water.

(b) CURRENT REQUIREMENTS.—Nothing in this section precludes a State from implementing or enforcing the national primary drinking water regulations for lead and copper in drinking water promulgated under the Safe Drinking Water Act (42 U.S.C. 300f et seq.) that are in effect on the date of enactment of this Act, to the extent that the regulations pertain to the public water system treatment requirements related to the copper action level.

Expenses incurred in connection with the lecture series shall be paid from the appropriations account "Secretary of the Senate" within the contingent fund of the Senate and shall not exceed $30,000 in any fiscal year.

(b) Payments for expenses in connection with the lecture series may cover expenses incurred by speakers, including travel, subsistence, and per diem, and the cost of receptions, including food, food related items, and hospitality.

(c) Payments for expenses of the lecture series shall be made on vouchers approved by the Secretary of the Senate.

(d) This section is effective on and after October 1, 1997.

SEC. 6. (a) The Sergeant at Arms and Doorkeeper of the Senate is authorized to appoint and fix the compensation of such employees as may be necessary to operate Senate Hair Care Services.

(b) There is established in the Treasury of the United States within the contingent fund of the Senate a revolving fund to be known as the Senate Hair Care Services Revolving Fund (hereafter in this section referred to as the "revolving fund").

(c)(1) All moneys received by Senate Hair Care Services from fees for services or from any other source shall be deposited in the revolving fund.

(2) Moneys in the revolving fund shall be available without fiscal year limitation for disbursement by the Secretary of the Senate—

(A) for the payment of salaries and agency contributions of employees of Senate Hair Care Services; and

(B) for necessary supplies, equipment, and other expenses of Senate Hair Care Services.

(d) Disbursements from the revolving fund shall be made upon vouchers signed by the Sergeant at Arms and Doorkeeper of the Senate, except that vouchers shall not be required for the disbursement of salaries paid at an annual rate.

(e) At the direction of the Committee on Rules and Administration, the Secretary of the Senate shall withdraw from the revolving fund and deposit in the Treasury of the United States as miscellaneous receipts all moneys in the revolving fund that the Committee may determine are in excess of the current and reasonably foreseeable needs of Senate Hair Care Services.

(f) The Sergeant at Arms and Doorkeeper of the Senate is authorized to prescribe such regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section, subject to the approval of the Committee on Rules and Administration.

(g) There is transferred to the revolving fund established by this section any unobligated balance in the fund established by section 106 of Public Law 94-440 on the effective date of this section.

(h)(1) Section 106 of Public Law 94-440 is repealed.

(2) Section 10(a) of Public Law 100-458 is repealed.

(i) This section shall be effective on and after October 1, 1998, or 30 days after the date of enactment of this Act, whichever is later.

SEC. 7. The amount available to the Committee on Rules and Administration for expenses under section 16(c) of Senate Resolution 54, agreed to February 13, 1997, is increased by $150,000.

SEC. 8. Effective on and after October 1, 1998, each of the dollar amounts contained in the table under section 105(d)(1)(A) of the Legislative Branch Appropriations Act, 1968 (2 U.S.C. 61-1(d)(1)(A)) shall be deemed to be the dollar amounts in that table, as increased by section 5 of Public Law 105-55, increased by an additional $50,000 each.

SEC. 9. (a) With the prior written approval of the Committee on Rules and Administration of the Senate, the Sergeant at Arms and Doorkeeper of the Senate may enter into agreements with public or private parties for the purpose of demonstrating the use of alternative fuel vehicles (as defined in section 301(2) of the Energy Policy Act of 1992 (Public Law 102-486)) in Senate fleet operations. Any such agreement may also provide for necessary fueling infrastructure in connection with the alternative fuel vehicles.

(b) A vehicle may be made available under subsection (a) for a period not exceeding 90 days.

mittent services under section 3109(b) of title 5, United States Code, but at rates for individuals not more than the daily equivalent of the annual rate of basic pay for level IV of the Executive Schedule under section 5315 of such title; hire of one passenger motor vehicle; advance payments in foreign countries in accordance with 31 U.S.C. 3324; benefits comparable to those payable under sections 901(5), 901(6) and 901(8) of the Foreign Service Act of 1980 (22 U.S.C. 4081(5), 4081(6) and 4081(8)); and under regulations prescribed by the Comptroller General of the United States, rental of living quarters in foreign countries; $363,298,000: Provided, That notwithstanding 31 U.S.C. 9105 hereafter amounts reimbursed to the Comptroller General pursuant to that section shall be deposited to the appropriation of the General Accounting Office then available and remain available until expended, and not more than $2,000,000 of such funds shall be available for use in fiscal year 1999: Provided further, That this appropriation and appropriations for administrative expenses of any other department or agency which is a member of the Joint Financial Management Improvement Program (JFMIP) shall be available to finance an appropriate share of JFMIP costs as determined by the JFMIP, including the salary of the Executive Director and secretarial support: Provided further, That this appropriation and appropriations for administrative expenses of any other department or agency which is a member of the National Intergovernmental Audit Forum or a Regional Intergovernmental Audit Forum shall be available to finance an appropriate share of either Forum's costs as determined by the respective Forum, including necessary travel expenses of non-Federal participants. Payments hereunder to either the Forum or the JFMIP may be credited as reimbursements to any appropriation from which costs involved are initially financed: Provided further, That this appropriation and appropriations for administrative expenses of any other department or agency which is a member of the American Consortium on International Public Administration (ACIPA) shall be available to finance an appropriate share of ACIPA costs as determined by the ACIPA, including any expenses attributable to membership of ACIPA in the International Institute of Administrative Sciences.

TITLE III—GENERAL PROVISIONS

SEC. 301. No part of the funds appropriated in this Act shall be used for the maintenance or care of private vehicles, except for emergency assistance and cleaning as may be provided under regulations relating to parking facilities for the House of Representatives issued by the Committee on House Oversight and for the Senate issued by the Committee on Rules and Administration.

SEC. 302. No part of the funds appropriated in this Act shall remain available for obligation beyond fiscal year 1999 unless expressly so provided in this Act.

SEC. 303. Whenever in this Act any office or position not specifically established by the Legislative Pay Act of 1929 is appropriated for or the rate of compensation or designation of any office or position appropriated for is different from that specifically established by such Act, the rate of compensation and the designation in this Act shall be the permanent law with respect thereto: Provided, That the provisions in this Act for the various items of official expenses of Members, officers, and committees of the Senate and House of Representatives, and clerk hire for Senators and Members of the House of Representatives shall be the permanent law with respect thereto.

SEC. 304. The expenditure of any appropriation under this Act for any consulting service through procurement contract, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 3109, shall be limited to those contracts where such expenditures are a matter of public record and available for public inspection, except where otherwise provided under existing law, or under existing Executive order issued pursuant to existing law.

SEC. 305. Such sums as may be necessary are appropriated to the account described in subsection (a) of section 415 of Public Law 104-1 to pay awards and settlements as authorized under such subsection.

SEC. 306. Amounts available for administrative expenses of any legislative branch entity which participates in the Legislative Branch Financial Managers Council (LBFMC) established by charter on March 26, 1996, shall be available to finance an appropriate share of LBFMC costs as determined by the LBFMC, except that the total LBFMC costs to be shared among all participating legislative branch entities (in such allocations among the entities as the entities may determine) may not exceed $1,500.

SEC. 307. Section 316 of Public Law 101-302 is amended in the first sentence of subsection (a) by striking "1998" and inserting "1999".

SEC. 308. The Government Printing Office shall be considered an agency for the purposes of the election in section 801(b)(2)(B) of the National Energy Conservation Policy Act and the Public Printer shall be considered the head of the agency for purposes of subsection (b)(2)(C) of such section.

SEC. 309. Section 8 of the American Folklife Preservation Act (20 U.S.C. 2107) is amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 8. AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.

"There are authorized to be appropriated to the Center to carry out this Act such sums as may be necessary for each fiscal year."

SEC. 310. That $3,110,611 shall be transferred from the Employees' Compensation Fund established under section 8147 of title 5, United States Code, to the Government Printing Office revolving fund as reimbursement for costs improperly transferred from the revolving fund pursuant to section 8147(c) of such title: Provided, That for purposes of section 8147 of title 5, United States Code, the Government Printing Office is not considered an agency which is required by statute to submit an annual budget pursuant to or as provided by chapter 91 of title 31, United States Code, and is not required to pay an additional amount for the cost of administration.

TITLE IV—TRADE DEFICIT REVIEW COMMISSION

SEC. 401. SHORT TITLE. This title may be cited as the "Trade Deficit Review Commission Act".

SEC. 402. FINDINGS. Congress makes the following findings:

(1) The United States continues to run substantial merchandise trade and current account deficits.

(2) Economic forecasts anticipate continued growth in such deficits in the next few years.

(3) The positive net international asset position that the United States built up over many years was eliminated in the 1980s. The United States today has become the world's largest debtor nation.

(4) The United States merchandise trade deficit is characterized by large bilateral trade imbalances with a handful of countries.

(5) The United States has one of the most open borders and economies in the world. The United States faces significant tariff and nontariff trade barriers with its trading partners. Current overall trade balances do not reflect the actual competitiveness or productivity of the United States economy.

(6) Since the last comprehensive review of national trade and investment policies was conducted by a Presidential commission in 1970, there have been massive worldwide economic and political changes which have profoundly affected world trading relationships. Globalization, the increased mobility of capital and technology, the role of transnational corporations, and the outsourcing of production across national boundaries, are reshaping both the comparative and competitive trade advantages among nations.

(7) The United States is once again at a critical juncture in trade policy development. The nature of the United States trade deficit and its causes and consequences must be analyzed and documented.

SEC. 403. ESTABLISHMENT OF COMMISSION.
(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—There is established a commission to be known as the Trade Deficit Review Commission (hereafter in this title referred to as the "Commission").

(b) PURPOSE.—The purpose of the Commission is to study the causes and consequences of the United States merchandise trade and current account deficits and to develop trade policy recommendations for the 21st century. The recommendations shall include strategies necessary to achieve United States market access to foreign markets that fully reflects the competitiveness and productivity of the United States and also improves the standard of living of United States citizens.

(c) MEMBERSHIP OF COMMISSION.—

(1) COMPOSITION.—The Commission shall be composed of 12 members of whom—

(A) 1 Senator and 2 other persons shall be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate upon the recommendation of the Majority Leader of the Senate;

(B) 1 Senator and 2 other persons shall be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate upon the recommendation of the Minority Leader of the Senate;

(C) 1 Member of the House of Representatives and 2 other persons shall be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives; and

(D) 1 Member of the House of Representatives and 2 other persons shall be appointed by the Minority Leader of the House of Representatives.

(2) QUALIFICATIONS OF MEMBERS.—

(A) APPOINTMENTS.—Persons who are appointed under paragraph (1), other than a person who is a Senator or Member of the House of Representatives, shall be persons who—

(i) have expertise in economics, international trade, manufacturing, labor, environment, business, or have other pertinent qualifications or experience; and

(ii) are not officers or employees of the United States.

(B) OTHER CONSIDERATIONS.—In appointing Commission members, every effort shall be made to ensure that the members—

(i) are representative of a broad cross-section of economic and trade perspectives within the United States; and

(ii) provide fresh insights to analyzing the causes and consequences of United States merchandise trade and current account deficits.

(d) PERIOD OF APPOINTMENT; VACANCIES.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Members shall be appointed not later than 60 days after the date of enactment of this Act and the appointment shall be for the life of the Commission.

(2) VACANCIES.—Any vacancy in the Commission shall not affect its powers, but shall be filled in the same manner as the original appointment.

(e) INITIAL MEETING.—Not later than 30 days after the date on which all members of the Commission have been appointed, the Commission shall hold its first meeting.

(f) MEETINGS.—The Commission shall meet at the call of the Chairperson.

(g) CHAIRPERSON AND VICE CHAIRPERSON.—The members of the Commission shall elect a chairperson and vice chairperson from among the members of the Commission.

(h) QUORUM.—A majority of the members of the Commission shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

(i) VOTING.—Each member of the Commission shall be entitled to 1 vote, which shall be equal to the vote of every other member of the Commission.

SEC. 404. DUTIES OF THE COMMISSION. (a) IN GENERAL.—The Commission shall be responsible for developing trade policy recommendations, by examining the economic, trade, tax, and investment policies and laws, and other incentives and restrictions that are relevant to addressing the causes and consequences of the United States merchandise trade and current account deficits.

(b) RECOMMENDATIONS.—The Commission shall examine and make recommendations to Congress and the President on the following:

(1) The manner in which the Government of the United States establishes and administers the Nation's fundamental trade policies and objectives, including—

(A) the relationship of the merchandise trade and current account balances to the overall well-being of the United States economy and any impact the trade balance may have on wages and employment in various sectors of the United States economy;

(B) any effects the merchandise trade and current account deficits may have on the areas of manufacturing and technology and on defense production and innovation capabilities of the United States;

(C) the impact that United States monetary and fiscal policies may have on United States merchandise trade and current account deficits; and

(D) the coordination, allocation, and accountability of trade responsibilities among Federal agencies and the means for congressional oversight of the trade policy process.

(2) The causes and consequences of the merchandise trade and current account deficits and specific bilateral trade deficits, including—

(A) identification and quantification of the macroeconomic factors and bilateral trade barriers contributing to the United States merchandise trade and current account deficits;

(B) identification and quantification of any impact of the merchandise trade and current account deficits on the domestic economy, industrial base, manufacturing capacity, number and quality of jobs, productivity, wages, and the United States standard of living;

(C) identification and quantification of trade deficits within individual industrial, manufacturing, and production sectors, and any relationship to intraindustry and intracompany transactions;

(D) a review of the adequacy of the current collection and reporting of import and export data, and the identification and development of additional data bases and economic measurements that may be needed to properly quantify the factors described in subparagraphs (A), (B), and (C);

(E) the relationship that tariff and non-tariff barriers may have to the merchandise trade and current account deficits and the extent to which such deficits have become structural;

(F) the extent to which there is reciprocal market access substantially equivalent to that afforded by the United States in each country with which the United States has a persistent and substantial bilateral trade deficit; and

(G) the impact of transshipments on bilateral trade.

(3) Any relationship of United States merchandise trade and current account deficits to both comparative and competitive trade advantages within the global economy, including—

(A) a systematic analysis of the United States trade patterns with different trading partners, to what extent the trade patterns are based on comparative and competitive trade advantages, and how the trade advantages relate to the goods that are exported to and imported from various trading partners;

(B) the extent to which the increased mobility of capital and technology has changed both comparative and competitive trade advantages;

(C) the extent to which differences in the growth rates of the United States and its trading partners may impact on United States merchandise trade and current account deficits;

(D) any impact that labor, environmental, or health and safety standards may have on world trade;

(E) the impact that currency exchange rate fluctuations and any manipulation of exchange rates may have on United States merchandise trade and current account deficits;

(F) the effect that offset and technology transfer agreements have on the long-term competitiveness of the United States manufacturing sectors; and

(G) any effect that international trade, labor, environmental, or other agreements may have on United States competitiveness.

(4) The flow of investments both into and out of the United States, including—

(A) any consequences for the United States economy of the current status of the United States as a debtor nation;

(B) any relationship between such investments and the United States merchandise trade and current account deficits and living standards of United States workers;

(C) any impact such investments may have on United States labor, community, environmental, and health and safety standards, and how such investment flows influence the location of manufacturing facilities; and

(D) the effect of barriers to United States foreign direct investment in developed and developing nations, particularly nations with which the United States has a merchandise trade and current account deficit.

SEC. 405. FINAL REPORT; CONGRESSIONAL HEARINGS. (a) FINAL REPORT.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 18 months after the date of enactment of this Act, the Commission shall submit to the President and Congress a final report which contains—

(A) the findings and conclusions of the Commission described in section 404;

(B) recommendations for addressing the problems identified as part of the Commission's analysis; and

(C) any proposals for administrative and legislative actions necessary to implement such recommendations.

(2) SEPARATE VIEWS.—Any member of the Commission may submit additional findings and recommendations as part of the final report.

(b) CONGRESSIONAL HEARINGS.—Not later than 6 months after the final report described in subsection (a) is submitted, the Committee on Ways and Means of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Finance of the Senate shall hold hearings on the report. Other committees of the House of Representatives and Senate with relevant jurisdiction may also hold hearings on the report.

SEC. 406. POWERS OF COMMISSION. (a) HEARINGS.—The Commission may hold such hearings, sit and act at such times and places, take such testimony, and receive such evidence as the Commission may find advisable to fulfill the requirements of this title. The Commission shall hold at least 1 or more hearings in Washington, D.C., and 4 in different regions of the United States.

(b) INFORMATION FROM FEDERAL AGENCIES.—The Commission may secure directly from any Federal department or agency such information as the Commission considers necessary to carry out the provisions of this title. Upon request of the Chairperson of the Commission, the head of such department or agency shall furnish such information to the Commission.

(c) POSTAL SERVICES.—The Commission may use the United States mails in the same manner and under the same conditions as other departments and agencies of the Federal Government.

SEC. 407. COMMISSION PERSONNEL MATTERS. (a) COMPENSATION OF MEMBERS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Each member of the Commission who is not an officer or employee of the Federal Government shall be compensated at a rate equal to the daily equivalent of the annual rate of basic pay prescribed for level IV of the Executive Schedule under section 5315 of title 5, United States Code, for each day (including travel time) during which such member is engaged in the performance of the duties of the Commission. All members of the Commission who are officers or employees of the United States shall serve without compensation in addition to that received for their services as officers or employees of the United States.

(2) OFFICER AND EMPLOYEE OF THE UNITED STATES.—For purposes of this section, a member of the Commission who is a Senator or a member of the House of Representatives shall be treated as an officer or employee of the United States.

(b) TRAVEL EXPENSES.—The members of the Commission shall be allowed travel expenses, including per diem in lieu of subsistence, at rates authorized for employees of agencies under subchapter I of chapter 57 of title 5, United States Code, while away from their homes or regular places of business in the performance of services for the Commission.

(c) STAFF.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Chairperson of the Commission may, without regard to the civil service laws and regulations, appoint and terminate an executive director and such other additional personnel as may be necessary to enable the Commission to perform its duties. The employment of an executive director shall be subject to confirmation by the Commission.

(2) COMPENSATION.—The Chairperson of the Commission may fix the compensation of the executive director and other personnel without regard to the provisions of chapter 51 and subchapter III of chapter 53 of title 5, United States Code, relating to classification of positions and General Schedule pay rates, except that the rate of pay for the executive director and other personnel may not exceed the rate payable for level V of the Executive Schedule under section 5316 of such title.

(d) DETAIL OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES.—Any Federal Government employee may be detailed to the Commission without reimbursement, and such detail shall be without interruption or loss of civil service status or privilege.

(e) PROCUREMENT OF TEMPORARY AND INTERMITTENT SERVICES.—The Chairperson of the Commission may procure temporary and intermittent services under section 3109(b) of title 5, United States Code, at rates for individuals which do not exceed the daily equivalent of the annual rate of basic pay prescribed for level V of the Executive Schedule under section 5316 of such title.

SEC. 408. SUPPORT SERVICES. The Administrator of the General Services Administration shall provide to the Commission on a reimbursable basis such administrative support services as the Commission may request.

TITLE IV—TRADE DEFICIT REVIEW COMMISSION

SEC. 401. SHORT TITLE.

This title may be cited as the "Trade Deficit Review Commission Act".

SEC. 402. FINDINGS.

Congress makes the following findings:

(1) The United States continues to run substantial merchandise trade and current account deficits.

(2) Economic forecasts anticipate continued growth in such deficits in the next few years.

(3) The positive net international asset position that the United States built up over many years was eliminated in the 1980s. The United States today has become the world's largest debtor nation.

(4) The United States merchandise trade deficit is characterized by large bilateral trade imbalances with a handful of countries.

(5) The United States has one of the most open borders and economies in the world. The United States faces significant tariff and nontariff trade barriers with its trading partners. The United States does not benefit from fully reciprocal market access.

(6) The United States is once again at a critical juncture in trade policy development. The nature of the United States trade deficit and its causes and consequences must be analyzed and documented.

SEC. 403. ESTABLISHMENT OF COMMISSION.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—There is established a commission to be known as the Trade Deficit Review Commission (hereafter in this title referred to as the "Commission").

(b) PURPOSE.—The purpose of the Commission is to study the nature, causes, and consequences of the United States merchandise trade and current account deficits.

(c) MEMBERSHIP OF COMMISSION.—

(1) COMPOSITION.—The Commission shall be composed of 12 members as follows:

(A) Three persons shall be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate upon the recommendation of the Majority Leader of the Senate, after consultation with the Chairman of the Committee on Finance.

(B) Three persons shall be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate upon the recommendation of the Minority Leader of the Senate, after consultation with the ranking minority member of the Committee on Finance.

(C) Three persons shall be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, after consultation with the Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means.

(D) Three persons shall be appointed by the Minority Leader of the House of Representatives, after consultation with the ranking minority member of the Committee on Ways and Means.

(2) QUALIFICATIONS OF MEMBERS.—

(A) APPOINTMENTS.—Persons who are appointed under paragraph (1) shall be persons who—

(i) have expertise in economics, international trade, manufacturing, labor, environment, business, or have other pertinent qualifications or experience; and

(ii) are not officers or employees of the United States.

(B) OTHER CONSIDERATIONS.—In appointing Commission members, every effort shall be made to ensure that the members—

(i) are representative of a broad cross-section of economic and trade perspectives within the United States; and

(ii) provide fresh insights to analyzing the causes and consequences of United States merchandise trade and current account deficits.

(d) PERIOD OF APPOINTMENT; VACANCIES.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Members shall be appointed not later than 60 days after the date of enactment of this Act and the appointment shall be for the life of the Commission.

(2) VACANCIES.—Any vacancy in the Commission shall not affect its powers, but shall be filled in the same manner as the original appointment.

(e) INITIAL MEETING.—Not later than 30 days after the date on which all members of the Commission have been appointed, the Commission shall hold its first meeting.

(f) MEETINGS.—The Commission shall meet at the call of the Chairperson.

(g) CHAIRPERSON AND VICE CHAIRPERSON.—The members of the Commission shall elect a chairperson and vice chairperson from among the members of the Commission.

(h) QUORUM.—A majority of the members of the Commission shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

(i) VOTING.—Each member of the Commission shall be entitled to 1 vote, which shall be equal to the vote of every other member of the Commission.

SEC. 404. DUTIES OF THE COMMISSION.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Commission shall be responsible for examining the nature, causes, and consequences of, and the accuracy of available data on, the United States merchandise trade and current account deficits.

(b) ISSUES TO BE ADDRESSED.—The Commission shall examine and report to the President, the Committee on Ways and Means of the House of Representatives, the Committee on Finance of the Senate, and other appropriate committees of Congress on the following:

(1) The relationship of the merchandise trade and current account balances to the overall well-being of the United States economy, and to wages and employment in various sectors of the United States economy.

(2) The impact that United States monetary and fiscal policies may have on United States merchandise trade and current account deficits.

(3) The extent to which the coordination, allocation, and accountability of trade responsibilities among Federal agencies may contribute to the trade and current account deficits.

(4) The causes and consequences of the merchandise trade and current account deficits and specific bilateral trade deficits, including—

(A) identification and quantification of—

(i) the macroeconomic factors and bilateral trade barriers that may contribute to the United States merchandise trade and current account deficits;

(ii) any impact of the merchandise trade and current account deficits on the domestic economy, industrial base, manufacturing capacity, technology, number and quality of jobs, productivity, wages, and the United States standard of living;

(iii) any impact of the merchandise trade and current account deficits on the defense production and innovation capabilities of the United States; and

(iv) trade deficits within individual industrial, manufacturing, and production sectors, and any relationship between such deficits and the increasing volume of intra-industry and intra-company transactions;

(B) a review of the adequacy and accuracy of the current collection and reporting of import and export data, and the identification and development of additional data bases and economic measurements that may be needed to properly quantify the merchandise trade and current account balances, and any impact the merchandise trade and current account balances may have on the United States economy; and

(C) the extent to which there is reciprocal market access substantially equivalent to that afforded by the United States in each country with which the United States has a persistent and substantial bilateral trade deficit, and the extent to which such deficits have become structural.

(5) Any relationship of United States merchandise trade and current account deficits to both comparative and competitive trade advantages within the global economy, including—

(A) a systematic analysis of the United States trade patterns with different trading partners and to what extent the trade patterns are based on comparative and competitive trade advantages;

(B) the extent to which the increased mobility of capital and technology has changed both comparative and competitive trade advantages;

(C) any impact that labor, environmental, or health and safety standards may have on comparative and competitive trade advantages;

(D) the effect that offset and technology transfer agreements have on the long-term competitiveness of the United States manufacturing sectors; and

(E) any effect that international trade, labor, environmental, or other agreements may have on United States competitiveness.

(6) The extent to which differences in the growth rates of the United States and its trading partners may impact on United States merchandise trade and current account deficits.

(7) The impact that currency exchange rate fluctuations and any manipulation of exchange rates may have on United States merchandise trade and current account deficits.

(8) The flow of investments both into and out of the United States, including—

(A) any consequences for the United States economy of the current status of the United States as a debtor nation;

(B) any relationship between such investment flows and the United States merchandise trade and current account deficits and living standards of United States workers;

(C) any impact such investment flows may have on United States labor, community, environmental, and health and safety standards, and how such investment flows influence the location of manufacturing facilities; and

(D) the effect of barriers to United States foreign direct investment in developed and developing nations, particularly nations with which the United States has a merchandise trade and current account deficit.

SEC. 405. FINAL REPORT.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 12 months after the date of the initial meeting of the Commission, the Commission shall submit to the President and Congress a final report which contains—

(1) the findings and conclusions of the Commission described in section 404; and

(2) recommendations for addressing the problems identified as part of the Commission's analysis.

(b) SEPARATE VIEWS.—Any member of the Commission may submit additional findings and recommendations as part of the final report.

SEC. 406. POWERS OF COMMISSION.

(a) HEARINGS.—The Commission may hold such hearings, sit and act at such times and places, take such testimony, and receive such evidence as the Commission may find advisable to fulfill the requirements of this title. The Commission shall hold at least 1 or more hearings in Washington, D.C., and 4 in different regions of the United States.

(b) INFORMATION FROM FEDERAL AGENCIES.—The Commission may secure directly from any Federal department or agency such information as the Commission considers necessary to carry out the provisions of this title. Upon request of the Chairperson of the Commission, the head of such department or agency shall furnish such information to the Commission.

(c) POSTAL SERVICES.—The Commission may use the United States mails in the same manner and under the same conditions as other departments and agencies of the Federal Government.

SEC. 407. COMMISSION PERSONNEL MATTERS.

(a) COMPENSATION OF MEMBERS.—Each member of the Commission shall be compensated at a rate equal to the daily equivalent of the annual rate of basic pay prescribed for level IV of the Executive Schedule under section 5315 of title 5, United States Code, for each day (including travel time) during which such member is engaged in the performance of the duties of the Commission.

(b) TRAVEL EXPENSES.—The members of the Commission shall be allowed travel expenses, including per diem in lieu of subsistence, at rates authorized for employees of agencies under subchapter I of chapter 57 of title 5, United States Code, while away from their homes or regular places of business in the performance of services for the Commission.

(c) STAFF.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Chairperson of the Commission may, without regard to the civil service laws and regulations, appoint and terminate an executive director and such other additional personnel as may be necessary to enable the Commission to perform its duties. The employment of an executive director shall be subject to confirmation by the Commission.

SEC. 409. APPROPRIATIONS.

There are appropriated $2,000,000 to the Commission to carry out the provisions of this title.

THOMAS (AND BROWNBACK) AMENDMENT NO. 3224

Mr. STEVENS (for Mr. THOMAS, for himself and Mr. BROWNBACK) proposed an amendment to the bill, H.R. 4112, supra; as follows:

At the appropriate place at the end of the bill, insert:

SEC. 311. (a) This section applies to the following officials:

- (1) The Architect of the Capitol.
- (2) The Secretary of the Senate.
- (3) The Sergeant at Arms and Doorkeeper of the Senate.
- (4) The Public Printer.
- (5) The Director, and the Executive Director, of the United States Botanic Garden.
- (b)(1) Not later than March 30, 1999, each official named in subsection (a) shall submit to Congress a list of each activity that—
- (A) is to be performed by or for the official in fiscal year 2000;
- (B) is not an inherently governmental function; and
- (C) is—
- (i) performed by a Federal Government source on September 30, 1998; or
- (ii) initiated after that date, if one or more Federal Government sources are to be considered for selection as the source to perform the activity.
- (2) Each list shall include (for each activity listed)—
- (A) the number of full-time employees (or its equivalent) that would be necessary for the performance of the activity by a Federal Government source; and
- (B) the name of a Federal Government employee responsible for the activity from whom additional information about the activity may be obtained.
- (c) An activity is not required to be included on an official's list under subsection (b) if the activity, as determined by the official—
- (1) is to be performed as a Federal Government response to a national emergency declared by the President or Congress;
- (2) is to be performed for the official by a private sector source pursuant to a contract or other agreement entered into by the head of another department or agency of the Federal Government; or
- (3) is the provision of items that should be produced, manufactured, or provided, or services that should be provided, by a Federal Government source for reasons of national security (including reasons relating to the acquisition, processing, or analysis of intelligence in the national security interests of the United States).

(d) In this section:

(1) The term "Federal Government source", with respect to performance of an activity, means any organization within the Federal Government that uses Federal Government employees to perform the activity.

(2)(A) The term "inherently governmental function" means a function that is so intimately related to the public interest as to require performance by Federal Government employees.

(B) The term includes activities that require either the exercise of discretion in applying Federal Government authority or the making of value judgments in making decisions for the Federal Government, including judgments relating to monetary transactions and entitlements. An inherently governmental function involves, among other things, the interpretation and execution of the laws of the United States so as—

(i) to bind the United States to take or not to take some action by contract, policy, regulation, authorization, order, or otherwise;

(ii) to determine, protect, and advance United States economic, political, territorial, property, or other interests by military or diplomatic action, civil or criminal judicial proceedings, contract management, or otherwise;

(iii) to significantly affect the life, liberty, or property of private persons;

(iv) to commission, appoint, direct, or control officers or employees of the United States; or

(v) to exert ultimate control over the acquisition, use, or disposition of the property, real or personal, tangible or intangible, of the United States, including the collection, control, or disbursement of appropriated and other Federal funds.

(C) The term does not normally include—

(i) gathering information for or providing advice, opinions, recommendations, or ideas to Federal Government officials; or

(ii) any function that is primarily ministerial and internal in nature (such as building security, mail operations, operation of cafeterias, housekeeping, facilities operations and maintenance, warehouse operations, motor vehicle fleet management operations, or other routine electrical or mechanical services).

(3) The term "private sector source", with respect to the operation of a facility owned by the Federal Government, includes a contractor that is operating, or is to operate, the facility.

MCCAIN (AND OTHERS) AMENDMENT NO. 3225

Mr. MCCAIN (for himself, Mr. COATS, Mr. LEAHY, Mr. FAIRCLOTH, Mr. ASHCROFT, Mr. KERREY, Mr. ENZI, Mr. WYDEN, Mr. FEINGOLD, Mr. ABRAHAM, and Mr. ROBB) proposed an amendment to the bill, H.R. 4112, supra, as follows:

At the appropriate place, insert the following:

SEC. . AVAILABILITY OF CERTAIN CRS WEB SITE INFORMATION.

(a) AVAILABILITY OF INFORMATION.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Director of the Congressional Research Service shall make available on the Internet, for purposes of access and retrieval by the public, all information that—

(A) is available through the Congressional Research Service web site;

(B) is described in paragraph (2); and

(C) is not confidential as determined by—

(i) the Director; or

(ii) the head of a Federal department or agency that provided the information to the Congressional Research Service.

(2) INFORMATION.—The information referred to in paragraph (1)(B) is as follows:

(A) All Congressional Research Service Issue Briefs.

(B) All Congressional Research Service Reports that are available to Members of Congress through the Congressional Research Service web site.

(C) All Congressional Research Service Authorization of Appropriations Products or Appropriations Products.

(3) REMOVAL OF INFORMATION; CHANGES AND UPDATES.—Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the Director of the Congressional Research Service may—

(A) remove from the information required to be made available on the Internet under this section the name of, phone number of, and information regarding, an employee of the Congressional Research Service;

(B) remove from the information required to be made available on the Internet under this section, any material the Director determines may infringe the copyright of a work protected under title 17, United States Code; and

(C) make any changes or updates in the information required to be made available on the Internet under this section that the Director determines are necessary to ensure that the information is accurate.

(b) TIME.—The information shall be so made available not earlier than 30 days after the first day the information is available to Members of Congress through the Congressional Research Service web site.

(c) REQUIREMENTS.—The Director of the Congressional Research Service shall make the information available in a manner that the Director determines—

(1) is practical and reasonable; and

(2) does not permit the submission of comments from the public.

(d) METHOD OF PUBLIC ACCESS.—The public shall have access to the web page containing Congressional Research Service information that is available to the public only through the Library of Congress' THOMAS web page (<http://thomas.loc.gov>). The Director of Congressional Research Service shall work with the Librarian of Congress to establish an appropriate Internet link to carry out this subsection. The Director of Congressional Research Service shall be responsible for maintaining and updating the web page containing Congressional Research Service products. The Director of Congressional Research Service shall have sole discretion to edit the web page based on the criteria established by this Act. The Librarian of Congress shall have the responsibility of working with the Director of Congressional Research Service only to the extent necessary to establish the link from the THOMAS web page to the public access Congressional Research Service web page. Nothing in this Act may be construed to interfere with the Librarian's normal duties concerning THOMAS.

(e) FURTHER APPROVAL NOT REQUIRED.—Notwithstanding the first proviso under the subheading "SALARIES AND EXPENSES" under the subheading "CONGRESSIONAL RESEARCH SERVICE" under the heading "LIBRARY OF CONGRESS" under title I of this Act (relating to prior approval of certain publications), the Director shall make information available in accordance with this section without the prior approval of the Committee on Rules and Administration of the Senate or the Committee on House Oversight of the House of Representatives.

COMMITTEE ON INDIAN AFFAIRS

Mr. CAMPBELL. Mr. President, I would like to announce that the Senate Committee on Indian Affairs and the House Committee on Resources will meet during open session on Wednesday, July 22, 1998, at 9 a.m. to conduct a joint hearing on S. 1770, to evaluate the Director of Indian Health Service to Assistant Secretary for Health and Human Services; and H.R. 3782, Indian Trust Fund Accounts. The hearing will be held in room 106 of the Dirksen Senate Office Building.

Those wishing additional information should contact the Committee on Indian Affairs at 202/224-2251.

AUTHORITY FOR COMMITTEE TO MEET

COMMITTEE ON FOREIGN RELATIONS

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Committee on Foreign Relations be authorized to meet during the session of the Senate on Monday, July 20, 1998, at 4 p.m. to hold a hearing.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

ADDITIONAL STATEMENTS

TRIBUTE TO KENJI SUMIDA UPON HIS RETIREMENT AS PRESIDENT OF THE EAST-WEST CENTER

• Mr. INOUE. Mr. President, on behalf of myself and Senator DANIEL K. AKAKA, I would like to say a few words about Mr. Kenji Sumida who is retiring next month from the post of President of the East-West Center in Honolulu, Hawaii. The East-West Center is a national education and research institution established by the United States Congress in 1960 to promote better relations and understanding among the nations of Asia, the Pacific and the United States.

During his tenure as President of the East-West Center, Mr. Sumida effectively led the Center through a particularly difficult period of reduced funding and budget cuts while maintaining and building upon the Center's reputation as the premiere United States institution dealing with major issues in the Asia-Pacific region. He substantially increased the visibility of the Center in Washington, DC and reached out to the Center's many alumni in the United States and throughout the Asia-Pacific region.

In addition to his leadership role at the East-West Center, Mr. Sumida has served his native State of Hawaii in numerous other capacities, including high-ranking administrative posts at the University of Hawaii, the State of Hawaii, and City and County of Honolulu; director of administration of the Pacific International Center for High Technology Research; and chief of staff and commander of the Hawaii Air National Guard, retiring with the grade of Brigadier General. His long-standing involvement and commitment to numerous community service activities is commendable.

In all of his pursuits, Kenji Sumida has worked tirelessly and conscientiously to create bonds of friendship, respect and mutual understanding in his home state and the nation, as well as with our neighbors in Asia and the Pacific.

We would like to acknowledge and pay tribute to Kenji Sumida for an outstanding career of service to our great nation and to extend our best wishes in his retirement. ●

THERE THEY GO AGAIN: WILL TRIAL LAWYERS STIFLE YEAR 2000 SOLUTIONS?

• Mr. FAIRCLOTH. Mr. President, I rise to address the imminent wave of Year 2000 lawsuits that will flood our courts and enrich thousands of trial lawyers at the expense of American consumers. I also rise to commend President Clinton for his announcement that he will propose legislation to shield businesses from lawsuits based on information shared in efforts to solve these so-called Y2K problems.

Based on the information that I have received, I believe that his approach is too narrow, but it is a step in the right direction.

It is a step away from greedy trial lawyers and litigation towards creative computer programmers and solutions.

We face the so-called millennial glitch—the Year 2000 problem—because most software programs cannot recognize dates after December 31, 1999.

Over the past twenty years, to save computer memory that was prohibitively expensive, programmers shortened the date field in software programs to hold only the last two digits of the year.

This glitch will cause computer systems to malfunction and to crash if these programs are not rewritten and fixed. Certainly, this is a major problem, one that has sent computer programmers scrambling for solutions.

This is one of the most important issues before businesses, Mr. President, and the costs of Y2K compliance are estimated to be hundreds of billions of dollars. The junior Senator from Utah, Mr. BENNETT, is to be commended for his fine work on the Year 2000 subcommittee.

We will face computer chaos if these problems are not resolved before the clock strikes midnight on December 31, 1999. We are looking at the possibility of power outages, frozen bank accounts, even the specter of a global recession.

Unfortunately, though, the solutions are not all clear.

The efficient exchange of information among the involved parties—programmers, computer companies, and consumers—is critical. We will never find solutions if all parties are not free to exchange all the relevant information.

There is, however, a major hurdle to this critical exchange of information—the trial lawyers. The trial lawyers are excited by this Year 2000 problem.

The Gartner Group, a consulting firm, estimates that the costs of the Y2K fix will run up to $600 billion, but that the legal costs—the trial lawyer taxes—may explode to one trillion dollars.

Yes, Mr. President, $1 trillion for litigation.

The projected trillion dollars in legal fees is yet another “trial lawyer tax” that greedy plaintiffs’ lawyers impose on the American people in the form of increased costs inevitably passed on to consumers.

The only jobs that the trial lawyers will create with their Year 2000 lawsuits are in the Lear jet factory as the orders come rolling in from these millionaire trial lawyers.

The trial lawyers see another problem to exploit for financial gain, another opportunity for personal enrichment at the expense of the nation.

The justifiable fear that businesses have of these trial lawyers is actually slowing down efforts to solve these critical problems.

The Washington Post reported that, “Many companies have resisted exchanging technical advice with one another, delaying the pace of repair work, because they fear costly litigation if the information they provide inadvertently turns out to be inaccurate.”

So, if the Social Security checks are late and the power gets turned off because computer companies cannot share information with the Federal government, you can thank the trial lawyers and their greed.

The headlines may proclaim that the Social Security Administration is well along in its Year 2000 progress, and it is amongst the more responsive agencies, about 90 percent of the way to getting its computers ready.

However, Mr. President, the Treasury Department—not the Social Security Administration—prints Social Security checks. The bad news is that Treasury is amongst the least responsive federal agencies to the Y2K issue.

I hope that trial lawyers’ greed won’t leave older Americans shivering in the cold on New Year’s Day in the year 2000 because everyone was too afraid of being sued to work together on a solution.

As I said, the threat of a tidal wave of expensive litigation is shutting down the exchange of information, which is essential to a resolution of this issue. Further, however, the stampede of trial lawyers to the courthouse is also contributing to a shortage of qualified staff to deal with the issue.

Many specialized firms that could work on this issue—firms with the technical expertise to do this job—are, in fact, avoiding it because they fear that they will become the target of the trial lawyers.

The pattern is a familiar one. Trial lawyers, many of whom sue on a contingent fee basis that guarantees them a fixed percentage of their client's award, look for the parties with the "deep pockets." A company with deep pockets is likely to be sued even if its systems are working properly.

It's the old "supply chain": if a supplier, partner, or customer winds up with a Year 2000 problem, then the lawsuits will likely ripple all the way through the supply chain.

One lawyer involved in this Year 2000 litigation observed that, if the problem drives the suppliers and customers into bankruptcy, the plaintiffs are likely to sue "everyone standing around the dead body."

The lawyers are getting ready, Mr. President, and there have been litigation summits in California.

In fact, Bill Lerach, known for the securities "strike suits" that prompted reform legislation, is already filing Year 2000 lawsuits. He even filed one against Symantec Corporation, the maker of the popular Norton Anti-Virus software. Symantec is a golden oldie for Mr. Lerach. He sued this company in 1994 in one of his self-described "favorite" securities lawsuits.

This outstanding member of the plaintiffs' bar even sued the pop singers "Milli Vanilli" for lip-synching its songs. He sued on behalf of fans who felt betrayed.

This courtroom crusader also sued Ragu for selling a "fresh Italian" salad dressing that wasn't fresh or Italian.

This is a man who paid $64,000 in fines for breaking electoral laws and paid court fines due to his lawsuit antics.

It's time to choose, Mr. President, between these trial lawyers and the average Americans.

Do we stand with Mr. Lerach and his greedy band of litigators or with the regular people who just want solutions to a problem that threatens their parents' Social Security checks?

I commend President Clinton for his proposal. I believe that we need something far more broad, but it is a first step, and I am ready to move forward.

Let's tell the trial lawyers and their Gucci-loafed lobbyists that we stand with the American people, not the special interests.

I'm worried about the Social Security checks getting out on time, not the court papers getting in on time.

I want solutions, not lawsuits. I'm looking out for the American people and their interests, not the trial lawyers and the special interests.

The trial lawyers want to turn the Year 2000 issue into a lawsuit "House of Horrors" but I'm here to deny them a building permit.●

(At the request of Mr. DASCHLE, the following statement was ordered to be printed in the RECORD.)

ANNIVERSARY OF THE INVASION OF CYPRUS

● Ms. MIKULSKI. Mr. President: Twenty four years ago today, Turkish troops invaded and divided the nation of Cyprus. This illegal and immoral division of Cyprus continues today—dividing a country and creating instability in the Mediterranean.

During the early days of the Turkish occupation, six thousand Greek-Cypriots were killed. Over two hundred thousand were driven from their homes. Many of the missing, including some Americans, have never been accounted for.

Little has changed in the past quarter century. Today, forty thousand Turkish troops remain in Cyprus. The Greek-Cypriots who remain in the northern part of the island are denied basic human rights such as the right to a free press, freedom to travel, and access to religious sites.

I am disappointed that we have made no progress in ending the occupation of Cyprus. Earlier this year, there were reasons to be hopeful. We thought that possible European Union membership would make Turkey more receptive to peace talks, but Turkey is not on the short list for EU membership—and Turkey responded by imposing preconditions on any negotiations. So we are far as ever from a peaceful solution for Cyprus.

This year, as we mark this somber anniversary, I urge my colleagues to join me in recommitting ourselves to bring peace to Cyprus.

First of all, we must continue to make the resolution of the Cyprus problem a priority. President Clinton and Secretary of State Albright have focused more attention on this region than any other Administration. Ambassador Richard Holbrooke and Ambassador Tom Miller have done an excellent job trying to bring both sides together. As Ambassador Holbrooke assumes his new responsibilities at the United Nations, we must encourage the Administration to replace him with an emissary of equal stature.

The secondary priority is that we must continue to provide humanitarian assistance to the people of Cyprus. Each year, Congress provides fifty million dollars to foster bicomunal cooperation in Cyprus. These funds are used for education, health care, and to help both communities to solve regional problems—such as to improve water and energy supplies.

The third priority is that Congress should pass the Enclaved People of Cyprus Act. Senator OLYMPIA SNOWE and I introduced this legislation to call for improved human rights for the Greek Cypriots living under Turkish control.

Mr. President: The crisis in Cyprus has brought two NATO allies to the brink of war. The occupation is also a human tragedy that should enrage all of us who care about human rights. I urge my colleagues to continue to work toward a peaceful and unified Cyprus.●

AFRICA SEEDS OF HOPE ACT

● Mr. ABRAHAM. Mr. President, I rise to co-sponsor S. 2283 the Africa Seeds of Hope Act. This bill offers us a rare opportunity to improve a people's way of life. Introduced by my colleagues Senator DEWINE and Senator SARBANES, the Africa Seeds of Hope is landmark legislation that will help feed a continent, but more importantly provide the people of that continent with the tools of self-sustenance. This bill not only validates our judgement as good legislators, but challenges us to a higher standard.

S. 2283 designates organizations such as the U.S. Agency for International Development and the Overseas Private Investment Corporation to support rural finance, agricultural research, and food security programs to increase food production and the capital of small scale African farmers and entrepreneurs. It also provides women, the facilitators of agricultural growth in Africa, with improved resources to expedite development. Financial support for this program would emanate from a presently existing account and would not require any new funds to be allocated.

Mr. President, at this point I would like to note a few crucial statistics that are often overlooked, and that are shocking, particularly in comparison with our own fortunate state. Today, on the brink of the 21st Century and the new millennium, 215 million African men, women and children go hungry. This is happening, Mr. President, at a time during which the United States spends about one-half of 1 percent of the federal budget on foreign aid. And only one-tenth of 1 percent of that limited budget aids Africans, with a declining part going to agricultural development. If Africa is to achieve any kind of food security, international agencies tell us, it must triple its food supply by the year 2050. Africa cannot achieve this huge expansion on its own.

The global economy, for better and worse Mr. President, links together every nation and every people on this earth. We no longer have the option, if we ever did, of closing our doors and shutting out any people, let alone an entire continent. Support for the Africa Seeds of Hope constitutes support for our own economy, our own people and our own principles. It will provide, not just meals and nutrition for a week or a month, but the chance for a continent to rise and feed itself and eventually gain self-sustenance.

I urge my colleagues to support this important legislation.●

RECOGNITION OF "SPACE WEEK"

Mr. GRAMS. Mr. President, I rise today to commemorate "Space Week" and recognize the accomplishments of our nation's space programs over the course of forty years of NASA space exploration.

As my colleagues may know, this month marks the 29th anniversary of the Apollo 11 launch on July 16, 1969 which began one of man's greatest voyages of exploration: the first flight to land a man on the moon. Like most Americans, I can recall my wonderment on July 20, 1969 when the lunar module Eagle landed on the moon. Soon thereafter, Commander Neil Armstrong descended from Eagle to the moon's surface and declared those memorable words, "That's one small step for man, one giant leap for mankind."

Since that historic moment, NASA and its private sector partners have guided this nation to the forefront of aeronautical excellence. Today, this nation's commitment to expanding the development of technology and learning more about our vast universe remains as strong as ever.

My home state of Minnesota has earned a well-deserved reputation as a high-technology giant, making our job creators a perfect match with NASA. That NASA depends so heavily on the ingenuity and know-how of Minnesota's high-tech industries is a strong testament to the innovative spirit of our citizens. I am particularly impressed at Minnesota's contributions to the space shuttle program, and I had the unique opportunity to witness their work first-hand last November, when I toured NASA's Florida facilities and viewed the launch of the space shuttle Columbia. I ask that the names of the 31 Minnesota firms currently working under NASA's space shuttle program be printed in the RECORD.

The names follow:

3M Company Industrial Chemical Product (St. Paul, Minnesota)
 ADC Telecommunications, Inc. (Minneapolis, Minnesota)
 Arrow Electronics (Chanhassen, Minnesota)
 Computype (St. Paul, Minnesota)
 Control Data Systems, Inc. (Arden Hills, Minnesota)
 Despatch Industries (Minneapolis, Minnesota)
 Digi-Key Corporation (Thief River Falls, Minnesota)
 Donaldson Company (Minneapolis, Minnesota)
 Dotronix, Inc. (New Brighton, Minnesota)
 Graco, Inc. (Minneapolis, Minnesota)
 Interactive Technologies, Inc. (North St. Paul, Minnesota)
 Intercomp Company (Minneapolis, Minnesota)
 Kavouras Incorporated (Burnsville, Minnesota)
 Midwest Systems (Burnsville, Minnesota)
 Minnetech Labs, Inc. (Minneapolis, Minnesota)
 Northern Hydraulics, Inc. (Burnsville, Minnesota)
 Pacific Digital Products (Burnsville, Minnesota)
 Reality Interactive, Inc. (Eden Prairie, Minnesota)

Mr. GRAMS. Minnesotans were there at the dawn of the Space Age, and I look forward to the role our state will play as the next chapter of America's space history, the era of the International Space Station, is written.

I believe the nation's space programs, such as the International Space Station, represent important investments in America's future. The scientific and technological benefits of this ambitious initiative are impressive and will produce a high rate of return on the American taxpayers' investment in aeronautical and space programs. Among these benefits, the space station will provide new insight into industrial research for air and water purification, waste management and recycling, computer technology, and environmental engineering. Most notable is the progress being made in the biomedical field.

The promise of a long-term, zero gravity environment has scientists poised to conduct research into the development of cures for diabetes, cancer, emphysema, and immune system disorders. Moreover, the study and eventual findings of why astronauts who spend extended periods of time in space often experience weakening of their hearts and blood vessels may lead to the diagnosis and treatment of heart disease. It should also be noted that the International Space Station is supported by many of this nation's most prominent medical and research organizations, including the American Medical Association, the Multiple Sclerosis Association of America, the American Medical Woman's Association, Bristol-Myers Squibb, and Mount Sinai Medical Center. Clearly, the space station promises to make significant contributions to the study of medicine.

Mr. President, the International Space Station will help to maintain U.S. leadership in space while promoting international cooperation. This international laboratory in orbit will bring American, Russian, European, Japanese, and Canadian astronauts together in search of a common goal: to develop further advances in science and technology that will benefit future generations.

More importantly for the young people of America, the space station will inspire greater interest in our nation's space programs. With this in mind, I would like to commend some of the colleges and universities in my home state of Minnesota for their commitment to encouraging the involvement of our country's future leaders in our aeronautical and space industry.

Mr. President, since 1989, NASA has administered the "Space Grant" program to enhance aerospace research and education in the United States. This program is an effective partnership among universities, the aerospace industry, and federal, state, and local governments that assists in the recruitment and training of professionals in aerospace science, engineering, and technology.

In my home state, the Minnesota Space Grant Consortium is comprised of nine academic institutions along with the Minnesota Department of Transportation. Those nine institutions are: Augsburg College, Bemidji State University, Bethel College, College of St. Catherine, Fond du Lac Tribal and Community College, Macalester College, Normandale Community College, the University of Minnesota-Twin Cities, and the University of St. Thomas.

For the last several years, these institutions have worked effectively together to promote aerospace science through fellowships and scholarships, the development of new courses in Physics and Geology, the establishment of a new Space Studies minor among the consortia members, and public lectures relating to space science and engineering.

I met recently with Emily Eelkema, a native of Minneapolis and a senior at the University of Minnesota studying Aerospace Engineering. Emily is a participant in the NASA Academy on Aeronautics at the Dryden Flight Research Center in California, and was initially selected for this honor through the Minnesota Space Grant Consortium.

Those selected for the NASA Academy are among the brightest students in the country and have expressed a deep interest in NASA aeronautical space research. I was extremely impressed by Emily's grasp of Dryden's flight research program and her lifelong interest in aeronautics and space activities. I am encouraged to learn of her goals of becoming an astronaut and playing an important role in the design of a manned Mars mission. Her commitment to a career in this exciting field makes me optimistic about the future of our space program.

Mr. President, the commemoration of "Space Week" would not be complete without paying tribute to a true American hero, our colleague Senator JOHN GLENN. On October 29, Senator GLENN will embark on a second journey into space, this time aboard the Space Shuttle Discovery, as a Payload Specialist responsible for conducting space-based research on aging. His work may lead to further understanding by scientists about the process of aging, and help reduce the number of individuals requiring long-term medical care in their later years.

Many deserving accolades have been placed upon Senator GLENN for his accomplishments throughout his career as a marine, the first American to orbit the Earth, and a United States Senator. I believe no commendation has captured the essence of JOHN GLENN's commitment to public service than that bestowed upon him more than 35 years ago by President Kennedy during a visit to Cape Canaveral, Florida.

Upon presentation of NASA's Distinguished Service Medal to Lt. Colonel GLENN, President Kennedy spoke of GLENN's historic orbital flight when he said, "His performance was marked by his great professional knowledge, his skill as a test pilot, his unflinching courage, and his extraordinary ability to perform the most difficult tasks under conditions of great physical stress and personal danger. His performance in fulfillment of this most dangerous assignment reflects the highest credit upon himself and the United States."

Mr. President, I encourage all Americans to reflect upon the benefits of our nation's space programs during this Space Week. As we approach the 21st century, Americans can share a sense of national pride as we move forward in our epic journey—a journey filled with uncertainty, yet with great promise—into the space frontier.●

SUBMITTING CHANGES TO THE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE ALLOCATION

● Mr. DOMENICI. Mr. President, section 314(b)(2) of the Congressional Budget Act, as amended, requires the Chairman of the Senate Budget Committee to adjust the allocation for the Appropriations Committee to reflect additional new budget authority and outlays for an earned income tax credit compliance initiative and for arrearages for international organizations, international peacekeeping, and multi-lateral development banks.

I hereby submit revisions to the 1999 Senate Appropriations Committee allocation, pursuant to section 302 of the Congressional Budget Act.

The revisions follow:

DEPARTMENT OF VETERANS AFFAIRS AND HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT, AND INDEPENDENT, AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 1999

(The text of S. 2168, as amended, as passed by the Senate on July 17, 1998, follows:)

S. 2168

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

That the following sums are appropriated, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the Departments of Veterans Affairs and Housing and Urban Development, and for sundry independent agencies, commissions, corporations, and offices for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1999, and for other purposes, namely:

TITLE I—DEPARTMENT OF VETERANS AFFAIRS

VETERANS BENEFITS ADMINISTRATION

COMPENSATION AND PENSIONS

(INCLUDING TRANSFERS OF FUNDS)

For the payment of compensation benefits to or on behalf of veterans and a pilot program for disability examinations as authorized by law (38 U.S.C. 107, chapters 11, 13, 18, 51, 53, 55, and 61); pension benefits to or on behalf of veterans as authorized by law (38 U.S.C. chapters 15, 51, 53, 55, and 61; 92 Stat. 2508); and burial benefits, emergency and other officers' retirement pay, adjusted-service credits and certificates, payment of premiums due on commercial life insurance policies guaranteed under the provisions of Article IV of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940, as amended, and for other benefits as authorized by law (38 U.S.C. 107, 1312, 1977, and 2106, chapters 23, 51, 53, 55, and 61; 50 U.S.C. App. 540–548; 43 Stat. 122, 123; 45 Stat. 735; 76 Stat. 1198); $21,857,058,000, to remain available until expended: Provided, That not to exceed $24,534,000 of the amount appropriated shall be reimbursed to "General operating expenses" and "Medical care" for necessary expenses in implementing those provisions authorized in the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1990, and in the Veterans' Benefits Act of 1992 (38 U.S.C. chapters 51, 53, and 55), the funding source for which is specifically provided as the "Compensation and pensions" appropriation: Provided further, That such sums as may be earned on an actual qualifying patient basis, shall be reimbursed to "Medical facilities revolving fund" to augment the funding of individual medical facilities for nursing home care provided to pensioners as authorized.

READJUSTMENT BENEFITS

For the payment of readjustment and rehabilitation benefits to or on behalf of veterans as authorized by 38 U.S.C. chapters 21, 30, 31, 34, 35, 36, 39, 51, 53, 55, and 61, $1,175,000,000, to remain available until expended: Provided, That funds shall be available to pay any court order, court award or any compromise settlement arising from litigation involving the vocational training program authorized by section 18 of Public Law 98–77, as amended.

VETERANS INSURANCE AND INDEMNITIES

For military and naval insurance, national service life insurance, servicemen's indemnities, service-disabled veterans insurance, and veterans mortgage life insurance as authorized by 38 U.S.C. chapter 19; 70 Stat. 887; 72 Stat. 487, $46,450,000, to remain available until expended.

VETERANS HOUSING BENEFIT PROGRAM FUND PROGRAM ACCOUNT

(INCLUDING TRANSFER OF FUNDS)

For the cost of direct and guaranteed loans, such sums as may be necessary to carry out the program, as authorized by 38 U.S.C. chapter 37, as amended: Provided, That such costs, including the cost of modifying such loans, shall be as defined in section 502 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, as amended: Provided further, That during fiscal year 1999, within the resources available, not to exceed $300,000 in gross obligations for direct loans are authorized for specially adapted housing loans: Provided further, That during 1999 any moneys that would be otherwise deposited into or paid from the Loan Guaranty Revolving Fund, the Guaranty and Indemnity Fund, or the Direct Loan Revolving Fund shall be deposited into or paid from the Veterans Housing Benefit Program Fund: Provided further, That any balances in the Loan Guaranty Revolving Fund, the Guaranty and Indemnity Fund, or the Direct Loan Revolving Fund on the effective date of this Act may be transferred to and merged with the Veterans Housing Benefit Program Fund.

In addition, for administrative expenses to carry out the direct and guaranteed loan programs, $159,121,000, which may be transferred to and merged with the appropriation for "General operating expenses".

EDUCATION LOAN FUND PROGRAM ACCOUNT

(INCLUDING TRANSFER OF FUNDS)

For the cost of direct loans, $1,000, as authorized by 38 U.S.C. 3698, as amended: Provided, That such costs, including the cost of modifying such loans, shall be as defined in section 502 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, as amended: Provided further, That these funds are available to subsidize gross obligations for the principal amount of direct loans not to exceed $3,000.

In addition, for administrative expenses necessary to carry out the direct loan program, $206,000, which may be transferred to and merged with the appropriation for "General operating expenses".

VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION LOANS PROGRAM ACCOUNT

(INCLUDING TRANSFER OF FUNDS)

For the cost of direct loans, $55,000, as authorized by 38 U.S.C. chapter 31, as amended: Provided, That such costs, including the cost of modifying such loans, shall be as defined in section 502 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, as amended: Provided further, That these funds are available to subsidize gross obligations for the principal amount of direct loans not to exceed $2,401,000.

In addition, for administrative expenses necessary to carry out the direct loan program, $400,000, which may be transferred to and merged with the appropriation for "General operating expenses".

NATIVE AMERICAN VETERAN HOUSING LOAN PROGRAM ACCOUNT

(INCLUDING TRANSFER OF FUNDS)

For administrative expenses to carry out the direct loan program authorized by 38 U.S.C. chapter 37, subchapter V, as amended, $515,000, which may be transferred to and merged with the appropriation for "General operating expenses".

VETERANS HEALTH ADMINISTRATION MEDICAL CARE
(INCLUDING TRANSFER OF FUNDS)

For necessary expenses for the maintenance and operation of hospitals, nursing homes, and domiciliary facilities; for furnishing, as authorized by law, inpatient and outpatient care and treatment to beneficiaries of the Department of Veterans Affairs, including care and treatment in facilities not under the jurisdiction of the Department; and furnishing recreational facilities, supplies, and equipment; funeral, burial, and other expenses incidental thereto for beneficiaries receiving care in the Department; administrative expenses in support of planning, design, project management, real property acquisition and disposition, construction and renovation of any facility under the jurisdiction or for the use of the Department; oversight, engineering and architectural activities not charged to project cost; repairing, altering, improving or providing facilities in the several hospitals and homes under the jurisdiction of the Department, not otherwise provided for, either by contract or by the hire of temporary employees and purchase of materials; uniforms or allowances therefor, as authorized by 5 U.S.C. 5901-5902; aid to State homes as authorized by 38 U.S.C. 1741; administrative and legal expenses of the Department for collecting and recovering amounts owed the Department as authorized under 38 U.S.C. chapter 17, and the Federal Medical Care Recovery Act, 42 U.S.C. 2651 et seq.; and not to exceed $8,000,000 to fund cost comparison studies as referred to in 38 U.S.C. 8110(a)(5); $17,250,000,000, plus reimbursements: Provided, That of the funds made available under this heading, $687,000,000 is for the equipment and land and structures object classifications only, which amount shall not become available for obligation until August 1, 1999, and shall remain available until September 30, 2000: Provided further, That of the funds made available under this heading, $14,000,000 shall be for the homeless grant program and $6,000,000 shall be for the homeless per diem program: Provided further, That such funds may be used for vocational training, rehabilitation, and outreach activities in addition to other authorized homeless assistance activities: Provided further, That of the funds made available under this heading, $10,000,000 shall be for implementation of the Primary Care Providers Incentive Act, contingent upon enactment of authorizing legislation.

In addition, in conformance with Public Law 105-33 establishing the Department of Veterans Affairs Medical Care Collections Fund, such sums as may be deposited to such Fund pursuant to 38 U.S.C. 1729A may be transferred to this account, to remain available until expended for the purposes of this account.

MEDICAL AND PROSTHETIC RESEARCH

For necessary expenses in carrying out programs of medical and prosthetic research and development as authorized by 38 U.S.C. chapter 73, to remain available until September 30, 2000, $310,000,000, plus reimbursements.

MEDICAL ADMINISTRATION AND MISCELLANEOUS OPERATING EXPENSES

ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS

SEC. 201. EXTENDERS. (a) ONE-FOR-ONE REPLACEMENT OF PUBLIC HOUSING.—Section 1002(d) of Public Law 104-19 is amended by striking "1998" and inserting "1999".

(b) STREAMLINING SECTION 8 TENANT-BASED ASSISTANCE.—Section 203(d) of the Departments of Veterans Affairs and Housing and Urban Development, and Independent Agencies Appropriations Act, 1996, is amended by striking "1997, and 1998" and inserting "1997, 1998, and 1999".

(c) PUBLIC AND ASSISTED HOUSING RENTS, INCOME ADJUSTMENTS AND PREFERENCES.—

(1) Section 402(a) of The Balanced Budget Downpayment Act, I is amended by striking "fiscal years 1997 and 1998" and inserting "fiscal years 1997, 1998, and 1999".

(2) Section 402(f) of The Balanced Budget Downpayment Act, 1 is amended by striking "fiscal years 1996, 1997, and 1998" and inserting "fiscal years 1996, 1997, 1998, and 1999".

SEC. 202. FINANCING ADJUSTMENT FACTORS.—Fifty percent of the amounts of budget authority, or in lieu thereof 50 percent of the cash amounts associated with such budget authority, that are recaptured from projects described in section 1012(a) of the Stewart B. McKinney Homeless Assistance Amendments Act of 1988 (Public Law 100-628, 102 Stat. 3224, 3268) shall be rescinded, or in the case of cash, shall be remitted to the Treasury, and such amounts of budget authority or cash recaptured and not rescinded or remitted to the Treasury shall be used by State housing finance agencies or local governments or local housing agencies with projects approved by the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development for which settlement occurred after January 1, 1992, in accordance with such section. Notwithstanding the previous sentence, the Secretary may award up to 15 percent of the budget authority or cash recaptured and not rescinded or remitted to the Treasury to provide project owners with incentives to refinance their project at a lower interest rate.

SEC. 203. FAIR HOUSING AND FREE SPEECH.—None of the amounts made available under this Act may be used during fiscal year 1998 to investigate or prosecute under the Fair Housing Act any otherwise lawful activity engaged in by one or more persons, including the filing or maintaining of a nonfrivolous legal action, that is engaged in solely for the purpose of achieving or preventing action by a government official or entity, or a court of competent jurisdiction.

SEC. 204. REQUIREMENT FOR HUD TO MAINTAIN PUBLIC NOTICE AND COMMENT RULEMAKING.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, for fiscal year 1998 and for all fiscal years thereafter, the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development shall maintain all current requirements under part 10 of the Department of Housing and Urban Development regulations (24 CFR part 10) with respect to the Department's policies and procedures for the promulgation and issuance of rules, including the use of public participation in the rulemaking process.

SEC. 205. BROWNFIELDS AS ELIGIBLE CDBG ACTIVITY.—For fiscal years 1998 and 1999, States and entitlement communities may use funds allocated under the community development block grants program under title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 for environmental cleanup and economic development activities related to Brownfields projects in conjunction with the appropriate environmental regulatory agencies, as if such activities were eligible under section 105(a) of such Act.

SEC. 206. ENHANCED DISPOSITION AUTHORITY.—Section 204 of the Departments of Veterans Affairs and Housing and Urban Development, and Independent Agencies Appropriations Act, 1997, is amended by inserting after "owned by the Secretary" the following: ", including, for fiscal years 1998 and 1999, the provision of grants and loans from the General Insurance Fund (12 U.S.C. 1735c) for the necessary costs of rehabilitation or demolition."

SEC. 207. HUD RENT REFORM.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development may provide tenant-based assistance to eligible tenants of a project insured under either sections 221(d)(3) or 236 of the National Housing Act in the same manner as if the owner had prepaid the insured mortgage to the extent necessary to minimize any rent increases or to prevent displacement of low-income tenants in accordance with a transaction approved by the Secretary provided that the rents are no higher than the published section 8 fair market rents, as of the date of enactment, during the tenants' occupancy of the property.

SEC. 208. HOUSING OPPORTUNITIES FOR PERSONS WITH AIDS GRANTS.—(a) ELIGIBILITY.—Notwithstanding section 854(c)(1)(A) of the AIDS Housing Opportunity Act (42 U.S.C. 12903(c)(1)(A)), from any amounts made available under this title for fiscal year 1999 that are allocated under such section, the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development shall allocate and make a grant, in the amount determined under subsection (b), for any State that—

(1) received an allocation for fiscal year 1998 under clause (ii) of such section;

(2) is not otherwise eligible for an allocation for fiscal year 1999 under such clause (ii) because the State does not have the number of cases of acquired immunodeficiency syndrome required under such clause; and

(3) would meet such requirement if the cases in the metropolitan statistical area for any city within the State, which city was not eligible for an allocation for fiscal year 1998 under clause (i) of such section but is eligible for an allocation for fiscal year 1999 under such clause, were considered to be cases outside of metropolitan statistical areas described in clause (i) of such section.

(b) AMOUNT.—The amount of the allocation and grant for any State described in subsection (a) shall be the amount that is equal to the lesser of—

(1) the difference between—

(A) the total amount allocated for such State under section 854(c)(1)(A)(ii) of the AIDS Housing Opportunity Act for fiscal year 1997; and

(B) the total amount allocated for the city described in subsection (a)(3) of this section under section 854(c)(1)(A)(i) of such Act for fiscal year 1998 (from amounts made available under this title); and

(2) $300,000.

SEC. 209. SECTION 236 PROGRAM REFORM.—Section 236 of the National Housing Act is amended to add a subsection in the appropriate place as follows:

"(g) The project owner shall, as required by the Secretary, accumulate, safeguard, and periodically pay the Secretary or such other entity as determined by the Secretary and upon such terms and conditions as the Secretary deems appropriate, all rental charges collected on a unit-by-unit basis in excess of the basic rental charges. Unless otherwise directed by the Secretary, such excess charges shall be credited to a reserve fund to be used by the Secretary to make additional assistance payments as provided in paragraph (3) of subsection (f). Notwithstanding any other requirements of this subsection, a project owner with a mortgage insured under this section or insured under section 207 of this Act pursuant to section 223(f) of this Act may retain some or all of such excess charges for project use if authorized by the Secretary and upon such terms and conditions as established by the Secretary."

SEC. 210. FHA MULTIFAMILY MORTGAGE CREDIT DEMONSTRATIONS.—Section 542 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1992 is amended—

(1) in subsection (b)(5) by adding before the period at the end of the first sentence ", and not more than an additional 25,000 units over fiscal year 1999"; and

(2) in the first sentence of subsection (c)(4) inserting after "fiscal year 1997" the following: "and not more than an additional 25,000 units during fiscal year 1999".

SEC. 211. CALCULATION OF DOWNPAYMENT.—Section 203(b)(10) of the National Housing Act is amended by—

(1) striking out "Alaska and Hawaii" and inserting in lieu thereof "Calculation of Downpayment"; and

(2) striking out in subparagraph (A) "originated in the State of Alaska or the State of Hawaii and endorsed for insurance in fiscal years 1997 and 1998," and inserting in lieu thereof "executed for insurance in fiscal years 1998, 1999, and 2000".

SEC. 212. STATE CDBG IDIS FUNDING.—During fiscal year 1999, from amounts received by a State under section 106(d)(1) of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 for distribution in nonentitlement areas, the State may deduct an amount, not to exceed the greater of 0.25 percent of the amount so received or $50,000, for implementation of the integrated disbursement and information system established by the Secretary, in addition to any amounts used for this purpose from amounts retained by the State for administrative expenses under section 106(d)(3)(A).

SEC. 213. NURSING HOME LEASE TERMS. (a) TECHNICAL CORRECTION.—Section 216 of the Departments of Veterans Affairs and Housing and Urban Development, and Independent Agencies Appropriations Act, 1998, is amended by striking out "fifty years from the date" and inserting in lieu thereof "fifty years to run from the date".

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendment made by subsection (a) shall be construed to have taken effect on October 27, 1997.

SEC. 214. EMPOWERMENT ZONES AS CRITERIA.—The Secretary of Housing and Urban Development is prohibited from using as a grant criteria for any program administered by the Secretary the use of program funds in an empowerment zone or enterprise community.

SEC. 215. GRANT ANNOUNCEMENTS.—The Secretary of Housing and Urban Development shall provide all grant announcements to the Senate and House Appropriations Subcommittees on VA, HUD, and Independent Agencies at least twenty-four hours before the Department of Housing and Urban Development publicly or privately makes an announcement of any grant award.

SEC. 216. TECHNICAL FOR EMERGENCY CDBG PROGRAM.—For purposes of eligibility for funding under the heading "Community Development Block Grants" in the 1998 Supplemental Appropriations and Rescissions Act (Public Law 105-174; May 1, 1998) the term "states" shall be deemed to include "Indian tribes" as defined under section 102(a)(17) of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 and Guam, the Northern Mariana Islands, the Virgin Islands, and American Samoa: Provided, That amounts made available by this section are designated by the Congress as an emergency requirement pursuant to section 251(b)(2)(A) of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985, as amended.

SEC. 217. ACCOUNT TRANSITION.—The amount of obligated balances in appropriations accounts, as set forth in title II of the Departments of Veterans Affairs, and Housing and Urban Development, and Independent Agencies Appropriations Act, 1998 and prior Acts that are recaptured hereafter, to the extent not governed by the specific language in an account or provision in the Act, shall be held in reserve subject to reprogramming, notwithstanding any other provision of law.

SEC. 218. PROHIBITION ON UNIVERSITY FUNDING.—The Secretary of Housing and Urban Development is prohibited from paying directly or indirectly any university the cost of room and board and tuition for training associated with senior community builders or any similar program except that the Secretary may fund education and training programs associated with the Community Development Block Grant program, the Community First Leadership program and the Junior Community Builders program, subject to the Secretary submitting to the Committees on Appropriations an action plan identifying all funding to be used and the education and training programs for which the funding will be provided.

SEC. 219. FHA SINGLE FAMILY MORTGAGE INSURANCE LIMITS REFORM.—(a) Section 203(b) of the National Housing Act is amended by striking out clause (ii) of paragraph (2)(A) and all that follows through “applicable size;” and inserting the following in lieu thereof:

“(ii) 87 percent of the dollar amount limitation determined under section 305(a)(2) of the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation Act for a residence of applicable size; except that the applicable dollar amount limitation in effect for any area under this subparagraph may not be less than 48 percent of the dollar limitation determined under section 305(a)(2) of the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation Act for a residence of the applicable size; and”.

SEC. 220. USE OF HOME FUNDS FOR PUBLIC HOUSING MODERNIZATION.—Notwithstanding section 212(d)(5) of the Cranston-Gonzalez National Affordable Housing Act, amounts made available to the City of Bismarck, North Dakota, under subtitle A of title II of the Cranston-Gonzalez National Affordable Housing Act for fiscal years 1998, 1999, 2000, 2001 or 2002, may be used to carry out activities authorized under section 14 of the United States Housing Act of 1937 (42 U.S.C. 1437i) for the purpose of modernizing the Crescent Manor public housing project located at 107 East Bowen Avenue, in Bismarck, North Dakota, if—

(1) the Burleigh County Housing Authority (or any successor public housing agency that owns or operates the Crescent Manor public housing project) has obligated all other Federal assistance made available to that public housing agency for that fiscal year; or

(2) the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development authorizes the use of those amounts for the purpose of modernizing that public housing project, which authorization may be made with respect to 1 or more of those fiscal years.

SEC. 221. CDBG AND HOME EXEMPTION.—The City of Oxnard, California may use amounts available to the City under title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 and under subtitle A of title II of the Cranston-Gonzalez National Affordable Housing Act) to reimburse the City for its cost in purchasing 19.89 acres of land, more or less, located at the northwest corner of Lombard Street and Camino del Sol in the City, on the north side of the 2100 block of Camino del Sol, for the purpose of providing affordable housing. The procedures set forth in sections 104(g)(2) and (3) of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 and sections 288(b) and (c) of the Cranston-Gonzalez National Affordable Housing Act shall not apply to any release of funds for such reimbursement.

SEC. 228. ANNUAL REPORT ON MANAGEMENT DEFICIENCIES. (a) IN GENERAL.—Section 203 of the National Housing Act (12 U.S.C. 1709) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(w) MANAGEMENT DEFICIENCIES REPORT.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 60 days after the date of enactment of this subsection, and annually thereafter, the Secretary shall submit to Congress a report on the plan of the Secretary to address each material weakness, reportable condition, and noncompliance with an applicable law or regulation (as defined by the Director of the Office of Management and Budget) identified in the most recent audited financial statement of the Federal Housing Administration submitted under section 3515 of title 31, United States Code.

“(2) CONTENTS OF ANNUAL REPORT.—Each report submitted under paragraph (1) shall include—

“(A) an estimate of the resources, including staff, information systems, and contract assistance, required to address each material weakness, reportable condition, and noncompliance with an applicable law or regulation described in paragraph (1), and the costs associated with those resources;

“(B) an estimated timetable for addressing each material weakness, reportable condition, and noncompliance with an applicable law or regulation described in paragraph (1); and

“(C) the progress of the Secretary in implementing the plan of the Secretary included in the report submitted under paragraph (1) for the preceding year, except that this subparagraph does not apply to the initial report submitted under paragraph (1).”.

(b) EFFECT ON OTHER AUTHORITY.—The Secretary of Housing and Urban Development may not implement section 219 of this Act before the date on which the Secretary submits the initial report required under section 203(w) of the National Housing Act (12 U.S.C. 1709(w)), as added by subsection (a) of this section.

SEC. 229. LOW-INCOME HOUSING PRESERVATION AND RESIDENT HOMEOWNERSHIP. (a) NOTICE OF PREPAYMENT OR TERMINATION.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding section 212(b) of the Low-Income Housing Preservation and Resident Homeownership Act of 1990 (12 U.S.C. 4102) or any other provision of law, during fiscal year 1998 and each fiscal year thereafter, an owner of eligible low-income housing (as defined in section 229 of the Low-Income Housing Preservation and Resident Homeownership Act of 1990 (12 U.S.C. 4119)) that intends to take any action described in section 212(a) of the Low-Income Housing Preservation and Resident Homeownership Act of 1990 (12 U.S.C. 4102(a)) shall, not less than 1 year before the date on which the action is taken—

(A) file a notice indicating that intent with the chief executive officer of the appropriate State or local government for the jurisdiction within which the housing is located; and

(B) provide each tenant of the housing with a copy of that notice.

(2) EXCEPTION.—The requirements of this subsection do not apply in any case in which the prepayment or termination at issue is necessary to effect conversion to ownership by a priority purchaser (as defined in section 231(a) of the Low-Income Housing Preservation and Resident Homeownership Act of 1990 (12 U.S.C. 4120(a))). The requirements of this subsection do not apply where owner's have provided legal notice of prepayment or termination as of July 7, 1998, under the terms of current law.

SEC. 230. (a) INFORMED CONSUMER CHOICE.—Section 203(b)(2) of the National Housing Act (12 U.S.C. 1709(b)(2)) is amended by adding at the end the following:

"Notwithstanding subparagraph (A) of this paragraph, the Secretary may not insure a mortgage unless the original lender making the loan secured by that mortgage provided to the prospective mortgagor a written notice that included (i) a generic analysis comparing the note rate (and associated interest payments), insurance premiums, and other costs and fees that would be due over the life of the loan for a loan insured by the Secretary under this subsection with the note rates, insurance premiums (if applicable), and other costs and fees that would be expected to be due if the mortgagor obtained instead any of the mortgagor's 3 most frequently employed structures for mortgage loans with a similar loan-to-value ratio in connection with a conventional mortgage (as that term is used in section 305(a)(2) of the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation Act (12 U.S.C. 1454(a)(2))) or section 302(b)(2) of the Federal National Mortgage Association Charter Act (12 U.S.C. 1717(b)(2)), as applicable), assuming prevailing interest rates; and (ii) a statement regarding when the mortgagor's requirement to pay the mortgage insurance premiums for a mortgage insured under this section would terminate or a statement that the requirement will terminate only if the mortgage is refinanced, paid off, or otherwise terminated."

(b) ANNUAL STUDY BY COMPTROLLER GENERAL.—Section 203(b)(2) of the National Housing Act (12 U.S.C. 1709(b)(2)) is amended by adding at the end the following:

"Not later than the expiration of a 1-year period beginning on the effective date of this undesignated paragraph and annually thereafter, the Comptroller General of the United States shall conduct and submit to the Committee on Banking and Financial Services of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs of the Senate, a study regarding the extent, and cost to consumers, of steering by lenders to loans insured by the Secretary under this subsection and the degree to which lenders have complied with the requirements of this subsection."

(c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall take effect immediately.

App. 2061 et seq.), sections 107 and 303 of the National Security Act of 1947, as amended (50 U.S.C. 404-405), and Reorganization Plan No. 3 of 1978, $239,000,000, including $11,000,000 for assisting State and local governments in preparing for and responding to terrorist incidents: Provided, That for purposes of pre-disaster mitigation pursuant to 42 U.S.C. 5131 (b) and (c) and 42 U.S.C. 5196 (e) and (i), $25,000,000 of the funds made available under this heading shall be available until expended for project grants.

EMERGENCY FOOD AND SHELTER PROGRAM

To carry out an emergency food and shelter program pursuant to title III of Public Law 100-77, as amended, $100,000,000: Provided, That total administrative costs shall not exceed three and one-half percent of the total appropriation.

RADIOLOGICAL EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS FUND

There is hereby established in the Treasury a Radiological Emergency Preparedness Fund, which shall be available under the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, and Executive Order 12657, for offsite radiological emergency planning, preparedness, and response. Beginning in fiscal year 1999 and thereafter, the Director of the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) shall promulgate through rulemaking fees to be assessed and collected, applicable to persons subject to FEMA's radiological emergency preparedness regulations. The aggregate charges assessed pursuant to this section during fiscal year 1999 shall not be less than 100 percent of the amounts anticipated by FEMA necessary for its radiological emergency preparedness program for such fiscal year. The methodology for assessment and collection of fees shall be fair and equitable; and shall reflect costs of providing such services, including administrative costs of collecting such fees. Fees received pursuant to this section shall be deposited in the Fund as offsetting collections and will become available for authorized purposes on October 1, 1999, and remain available until expended.

For necessary expenses of the Fund for fiscal year 1999, $12,849,000, to remain available until expended.

NATIONAL FLOOD INSURANCE FUND (INCLUDING TRANSFER OF FUNDS)

For activities under the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968, the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973, as amended, not to exceed $22,685,000 for salaries and expenses associated with flood mitigation and flood insurance operations, and not to exceed $78,464,000 for flood mitigation, including up to $20,000,000 for expenses under section 1366 of the National Flood Insurance Act, which amount shall be available for transfer to the National Flood Mitigation Fund until September 30, 2000. In fiscal year 1999, no funds in excess of (1) $47,000,000 for operating expenses, (2) $343,989,000 for agents' commissions and taxes, and (3) $60,000,000 for interest on Treasury borrowings shall be available from the National Flood Insurance Fund without prior notice to the Committees on Appropriations. For fiscal year 1999, flood insurance rates shall not exceed the level authorized by the National Flood Insurance Reform Act of 1994.

Section 1309(a)(2) of the National Flood Insurance Act (42 U.S.C. 4016(a)(2)), as amended by Public Law 104-208, is further amended by striking "1998" and inserting "1999".

Section 1319 of the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968, as amended (42 U.S.C. 4026), is amended by striking "September 30, 1998" and inserting "September 30, 1999".

Section 1336 of the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968, as amended (42 U.S.C. 4056), is amended by striking "September 30, 1998" and inserting "September 30, 1999".

The first sentence of section 1376(c) of the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968, as amended (42 U.S.C. 4127(c)), is amended by striking "September 30, 1998" and inserting "September 30, 1999".

GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION CONSUMER INFORMATION CENTER FUND

For necessary expenses of the Consumer Information Center, including services authorized by 5 U.S.C. 3109, $2,419,000, to be deposited into the Consumer Information Center Fund: Provided, That the appropriations, revenues and collections deposited into the fund shall be available for necessary expenses of Consumer Information Center activities in the aggregate amount of $7,500,000. Appropriations, revenues, and collections accruing to this fund during fiscal year 1999 in excess of $7,500,000 shall remain in the fund and shall not be available for expenditure except as authorized in appropriations Acts.

NATIONAL AERONAUTICS AND SPACE ADMINISTRATION INTERNATIONAL SPACE STATION (INCLUDING TRANSFER OF FUNDS)

For necessary expenses, not otherwise provided for, in support of the International Space Station, including development, operations and research support; maintenance; construction of facilities including repair, rehabilitation, and modification of real and personal property, and acquisition or condemnation of real property, as authorized by law; and purchase, lease, charter, maintenance and operation of mission and administrative aircraft, $2,300,000,000, to remain available until September 30, 2000.

LAUNCH VEHICLES AND PAYLOAD OPERATIONS

For necessary expenses, not otherwise provided for, in the conduct and support of the space shuttle program, including safety and performance upgrades, space shuttle operations, and payload utilization and operations, and services; maintenance; construction of facilities including repair, rehabilitation, and modification of real and personal property, and acquisition or condemnation of real property, as authorized by law; space flight, spacecraft control and communications activities including operations, production, and services; and purchase, lease, charter, maintenance and operation of mission and administrative aircraft, $3,241,000,000, to remain available until September 30, 2000: Provided, That none of the funds provided under this heading may be utilized to support the development or operations of the International Space Station other than costs of space shuttle flights utilized for space station assembly.

SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

For necessary expenses, not otherwise provided for, in the conduct and support of space science, earth science, life and micro-gravity science, and academic programs, including research, development, operations, and services; maintenance; construction of facilities including repair, rehabilitation, and modification of real and personal property, and acquisition or condemnation of real property, as authorized by law; space flight, spacecraft control and communications activities including operations, production, and services; and purchase, lease, charter, maintenance and operation of mission and administrative aircraft, $4,257,400,000, to remain available until September 30, 2000: Provided, That none of the funds provided under this heading may be utilized to support the development or operations of the International Space Station.

AERONAUTICS, SPACE TRANSPORTATION AND TECHNOLOGY

For necessary expenses, not otherwise provided for, in the conduct and support of aeronautics, space transportation, and technology research and development activities, including research, development, operations, and services; maintenance; construction of facilities including repair, rehabilitation, and modification of real and personal property, and acquisition or condemnation of real property, as authorized by law; and purchase, lease, charter, maintenance and operation of mission and administrative aircraft, $1,305,000,000, to remain available until September 30, 2000: Provided, That none of the funds provided under this heading may be utilized to support the development or operations of the International Space Station.

MISSION SUPPORT

For necessary expenses, not otherwise provided for, in carrying out mission support for international space station, space shuttle, science and technology, aeronautics, space transportation and technology programs, including research operations and support; space communications activities including operations, production, and services; maintenance; construction of facilities including repair, rehabilitation, and modification of facilities, minor construction of new facilities and additions to existing facilities, facility planning and design, environmental compliance and restoration, and acquisition or condemnation of real property, as authorized by law; program management; personnel and related costs, including uniforms or allowances therefor, as authorized by 5 U.S.C. 5901-5902; travel expenses; purchase, lease, charter, maintenance, and operation of mission and administrative aircraft; not to exceed $35,000 for official reception and representation expenses; and purchase (not to exceed 33 for replacement only) and hire of passenger motor vehicles; $2,491,600,000, to remain available until September 30, 2000: Provided, That none of the funds provided under this heading may be utilized to support the development or operations of the International Space Station.

OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL

For necessary expenses of the Office of Inspector General in carrying out the Inspector General Act of 1978, as amended, $20,000,000.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS

Notwithstanding the limitation on the availability of funds appropriated for "International Space Station", "Launch Vehicles and Payload Operations", "Science and Technology", "Aeronautics, Space Transportation and Technology", or "Mission Support" by this appropriations Act, when any activity has been initiated by the incurrence of obligations for construction of facilities as authorized by law, such amount available for such activity shall remain available until expended. This provision does not apply to the amounts appropriated in "Mission support" pursuant to the authorization for repair, rehabilitation and modification of facilities, minor construction of new facilities and additions to existing facilities, and facility planning and design.

Notwithstanding the limitation on the availability of funds appropriated for "International Space Station", "Launch Vehicles and Payload Operations", "Science and Technology", "Aeronautics, Space Transportation and Technology", or "Mission Support" by this appropriations Act, the amounts appropriated for construction of facilities shall remain available until September 30, 2001.

Notwithstanding the limitation on the availability of funds appropriated for "Mission support" and "Office of Inspector General", amounts made available by this Act for personnel and related costs and travel expenses of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration shall remain available until September 30, 1999 and may be used to enter into contracts for training, investigations, costs associated with personnel relocation, and for other services, to be provided during the next fiscal year.

NATIONAL CREDIT UNION ADMINISTRATION CENTRAL LIQUIDITY FACILITY

During fiscal year 1999, gross obligations of the Central Liquidity Facility for the principal amount of new direct loans to member credit unions, as authorized by the National Credit Union Central Liquidity Facility Act (12 U.S.C. 1795), shall not exceed $600,000,000: Provided, That administrative expenses of the Central Liquidity Facility in fiscal year 1999 shall not exceed $176,000: Provided further, That $1,000,000, together with amounts of principal and interest on loans repaid, to be available until expended, is available for loans to community development credit unions.

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION RESEARCH AND RELATED ACTIVITIES

For necessary expenses in carrying out the National Science Foundation Act of 1950, as amended (42 U.S.C. 1861-1875), and the Act to establish a National Medal of Science (42 U.S.C. 1880-1881); services as authorized by 5 U.S.C. 3109; maintenance and operation of aircraft and purchase of flight services for research support; acquisition of aircraft; $2,725,000,000, of which not to exceed $228,530,000 shall remain available until expended for Polar research and operations support, and for reimbursement to other Federal agencies for operational and science support and logistical and other related activities for the United States Antarctic program; the balance to remain available until September 30, 2000: Provided, That receipts for scientific support services and materials furnished by the National Research Centers and other National Science Foundation supported research facilities may be credited to this appropriation: Provided further, That to the extent that the amount appropriated is less than the total amount authorized to be appropriated for included program activities, all amounts, including floors and ceilings, specified in the authorizing Act for those program activities or their subactivities shall be reduced proportionally: Provided further, That $50,000,000 of the funds available under this heading shall be made available for a comprehensive research initiative on plant genomes for economically significant crop.

MAJOR RESEARCH EQUIPMENT

For necessary expenses of major construction projects pursuant to the National Science Foundation Act of 1950, as amended, $94,000,000, to remain available until expended.

EDUCATION AND HUMAN RESOURCES

For necessary expenses in carrying out science and engineering education and human resources programs and activities pursuant to the National Science Foundation Act of 1950, as amended (42 U.S.C. 1861-1875), including services as authorized by 5 U.S.C. 3109 and rental of conference rooms in the District of Columbia, $683,000,000, to remain available until September 30, 2000: Provided, That to the extent that the amount of this appropriation is less than the total amount authorized to be appropriated for included program activities, all amounts, including floors and ceilings, specified in the authorizing Act for those program activities or their subactivities shall be reduced proportionally.

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

For salaries and expenses necessary in carrying out the National Science Foundation Act of 1950, as amended (42 U.S.C. 1861-1875); services authorized by 5 U.S.C. 3109; hire of passenger motor vehicles; not to exceed $9,000 for official reception and representation expenses; uniforms or allowances therefor, as authorized by 5 U.S.C. 5901-5902; rental of conference rooms in the District of Columbia; reimbursement of the General Services Administration for security guard services and headquarters relocation; $136,950,000: Provided, That contracts may be entered into under "Salaries and expenses" in fiscal year 1999 for maintenance and operation of facilities, and for other services, to be provided during the next fiscal year.

OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL

For necessary expenses of the Office of Inspector General as authorized by the Inspector General Act of 1978, as amended, $5,200,000, to remain available until September 30, 2000.

NEIGHBORHOOD REINVESTMENT CORPORATION

PAYMENT TO THE NEIGHBORHOOD REINVESTMENT CORPORATION

For payment to the Neighborhood Reinvestment Corporation for use in neighborhood reinvestment activities, as authorized by the Neighborhood Reinvestment Corporation Act (42 U.S.C. 8101-8107), $60,000,000.

SELECTIVE SERVICE SYSTEM

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

For necessary expenses of the Selective Service System, including expenses of attendance at meetings and of training for uniformed personnel assigned to the Selective Service System, as authorized by 5 U.S.C. 4101-4118 for civilian employees; and not to exceed $1,000 for official reception and representation expenses; $24,940,000: Provided, That during the current fiscal year, the President may exempt this appropriation from the provisions of 31 U.S.C. 1341, whenever he deems such action to be necessary in the interest of national defense: Provided further, That none of the funds appropriated by this Act may be expended for or in connection with the induction of any person into the Armed Forces of the United States.

TITLE IV—GENERAL PROVISIONS

SEC. 401. Where appropriations in titles I, II, and III of this Act are expendable for travel expenses and no specific limitation has been placed thereon, the expenditures for such travel expenses may not exceed the amounts set forth therefore in the budget estimates submitted for the appropriations: Provided, That this provision does not apply to accounts that do not contain an object classification for travel: Provided further, That this section shall not apply to travel performed by uncompensated officials of local boards and appeal boards of the Selective Service System; to travel performed directly in connection with care and treatment of medical beneficiaries of the Department of Veterans Affairs; to travel performed in connection with major disasters or emergencies declared or determined by the President under the provisions of the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act; to travel performed by the Offices of Inspector General in connection with audits and investigations; or to payments to interagency motor pools where separately set forth in the budget schedules: Provided further, That if appropriations in titles I, II, and III exceed the amounts set forth in budget estimates initially submitted for such appropriations, the expenditures for travel may correspondingly exceed the amounts therefore set forth in the estimates in the same proportion.

SEC. 402. Appropriations and funds available for the administrative expenses of the Department of Housing and Urban Development and the Selective Service System shall be available in the current fiscal year for purchase of uniforms, or allowances therefor, as authorized by 5 U.S.C. 5901-5902; hire of passenger motor vehicles; and services as authorized by 5 U.S.C. 3109.

SEC. 403. Funds of the Department of Housing and Urban Development subject to the Government Corporation Control Act or section 402 of the Housing Act of 1950 shall be available, without regard to the limitations on administrative expenses, for legal services on a contract or fee basis, and for utilizing and making payment for services and facilities of Federal National Mortgage Association, Government National Mortgage Association, Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation, Federal Financing Bank, Federal Reserve banks or any member thereof, Federal Home Loan banks, and any insured bank within the meaning of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation Act, as amended (12 U.S.C. 1811-1831).

SEC. 404. No part of any appropriation contained in this Act shall remain available for obligation beyond the current fiscal year unless expressly so provided herein.

SEC. 405. No funds appropriated by this Act may be expended—

(1) pursuant to a certification of an officer or employee of the United States unless—

(A) such certification is accompanied by, or is part of, a voucher or abstract which describes the payee or payees and the items or services for which such expenditure is being made, or

(B) the expenditure of funds pursuant to such certification, and without such a voucher or abstract, is specifically authorized by law; and

(2) unless such expenditure is subject to audit by the General Accounting Office or is specifically exempt by law from such audit.

SEC. 406. None of the funds provided in this Act to any department or agency may be expended for the transportation of any officer or employee of such department or agency between his domicile and his place of employment, with the exception of any officer or employee authorized such transportation under 31 U.S.C. 1344 or 5 U.S.C. 7905.

SEC. 407. None of the funds provided in this Act may be used for payment, through grants or contracts, to recipients that do not share in the cost of conducting research resulting from proposals not specifically solicited by the Government: Provided, That the extent of cost sharing by the recipient shall reflect the mutuality of interest of the grantee or contractor and the Government in the research.

SEC. 408. None of the funds in this Act may be used, directly or through grants, to pay or to provide reimbursement for payment of the salary of a consultant (whether retained by the Federal Government or a grantee) at more than the daily equivalent of the rate paid for level IV of the Executive Schedule, unless specifically authorized by law.

SEC. 409. None of the funds provided in this Act shall be used to pay the expenses of, or otherwise compensate, non-Federal parties intervening in regulatory or adjudicatory proceedings. Nothing herein affects the authority of the Consumer Product Safety Commission pursuant to section 7 of the Consumer Product Safety Act (15 U.S.C. 2056 et seq.).

SEC. 410. Except as otherwise provided under existing law or under an existing Executive Order issued pursuant to an existing law, the obligation or expenditure of any appropriation under this Act for contracts for any consulting service shall be limited to contracts which are (1) a matter of public record and available for public inspection, and (2) thereafter included in a publicly available list of all contracts entered into within twenty-four months prior to the date on which the list is made available to the public and of all contracts on which performance has not been completed by such date. The list required by the preceding sentence shall be updated quarterly and shall include a narrative description of the work to be performed under each such contract.

SEC. 411. Except as otherwise provided by law, no part of any appropriation contained in this Act shall be obligated or expended by any executive agency, as referred to in the Office of Federal Procurement Policy Act (41 U.S.C. 401 et seq.), for a contract for services unless such executive agency (1) has awarded and entered into such contract in full compliance with such Act and the regulations promulgated thereunder, and (2) requires any report prepared pursuant to such contract, including plans, evaluations, studies, analyses and manuals, and any report prepared by the agency which is substantially derived from or substantially includes any report prepared pursuant to such contract, to contain information concerning (A) the contract pursuant to which the report was prepared, and (B) the contractor who prepared the report pursuant to such contract.

SEC. 412. Except as otherwise provided in section 406, none of the funds provided in this Act to any department or agency shall be obligated or expended to provide a personal cook, chauffeur, or other personal servants to any officer or employee of such department or agency.

SEC. 413. None of the funds provided in this Act to any department or agency shall be obligated or expended to procure passenger automobiles as defined in 15 U.S.C. 2001 with an EPA estimated miles per gallon average of less than 22 miles per gallon.

SEC. 414. None of the funds appropriated in title I of this Act shall be used to enter into any new lease of real property if the estimated annual rental is more than $300,000 unless the Secretary submits, in writing, a report to the Committees on Appropriations of the Congress and a period of 30 days has expired following the date on which the report is received by the Committees on Appropriations.

SEC. 415. (a) It is the sense of the Congress that, to the greatest extent practicable, all equipment and products purchased with funds made available in this Act should be American-made.

(b) In providing financial assistance to, or entering into any contract with, any entity using funds made available in this Act, the head of each Federal agency, to the greatest extent practicable, shall provide to such entity a notice describing the statement made in subsection (a) by the Congress.

SEC. 416. None of the funds appropriated in this Act may be used to implement any cap on reimbursements to grantees for indirect costs, except as published in Office of Management and Budget Circular A-21.

SEC. 417. Such sums as may be necessary for fiscal year 1999 pay raises for programs funded by this Act shall be absorbed within the levels appropriated in this Act.

SEC. 418. None of the funds made available in this Act may be used for any program, project, or activity, when it is made known to the Federal entity or official to which the funds are made available that the program, project, or activity is not in compliance with any Federal law relating to risk assessment, the protection of private property rights, or unfunded mandates.

SEC. 419. Corporations and agencies of the Department of Housing and Urban Development which are subject to the Government Corporation Control Act, as amended, are hereby authorized to make such expenditures, within the limits of funds and borrowing authority available to each such corporation or agency and in accord with law, and to make such contracts and commitments without regard to fiscal year limitations as provided by section 104 of the Act as may be necessary in carrying out the programs set forth in the budget for 1999 for such corporation or agency except as hereinafter provided: Provided, That collections of these corporations and agencies may be used for new loan or mortgage purchase commitments only to the extent expressly provided for in this Act (unless such loans are in support of other forms of assistance provided for in this or prior appropriations Acts), except that this proviso shall not apply to the mortgage insurance or guaranty operations of these corporations, or where loans or mortgage purchases are necessary to protect the financial interest of the United States Government.

SEC. 420. Notwithstanding section 320(g) of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (33 U.S.C. 1330(g)), funds made available pursuant to authorization under such section for fiscal year 1999 and prior fiscal years may be used for implementing comprehensive conservation and management plans.

SEC. 421. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the term "qualified student loan" with respect to national service education awards shall mean any loan made directly to a student by the Alaska Commission on Postsecondary Education, in addition to other meanings under section 148(b)(7) of the National and Community Service Act.

SEC. 422. Unless otherwise provided for in this Act, no part of any appropriation for the Department of Housing and Urban Development shall be available for any activity in excess of amounts set forth in the budget estimates submitted for the appropriations.

SEC. 423. (a) Each entity that receives a grant from the Federal Government for purposes of providing emergency shelter for homeless individuals shall—

(1) ascertain, to the extent practicable, whether or not each adult individual seeking such shelter from such entity is a veteran; and

(2) provide each such individual who is a veteran such counseling relating to the availability of veterans benefits (including employment assistance, health care benefits, and other benefits) as the Secretary of Veterans Affairs considers appropriate.

(b) The Secretary of Veterans Affairs and the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development shall jointly coordinate the activities required by subsection (a).

(c) Entities referred to in subsection (a) shall notify the Secretary of Veterans Affairs of the number and identity of veterans ascertained under paragraph (1) of that subsection. Such entities shall make such notification with such frequency and in such form as the Secretary shall specify.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, an entity referred to subsection (a) that fails to meet the requirements specified in that subsection shall not be eligible for additional grants or other Federal funds for purposes of carrying out activities relating to emergency shelter for homeless individuals.

SEC. 424. NATIONAL FALLEN FIREFIGHTERS FOUNDATION. (a) ESTABLISHMENT AND PURPOSES.—Section 202 of the National Fallen Firefighters Foundation Act (36 U.S.C. 5201) is amended—

(1) by striking paragraph (1) and inserting the following:

"(1) primarily—

"(A) to encourage, accept, and administer private gifts of property for the benefit of the National Fallen Firefighters' Memorial and the annual memorial service associated with the memorial; and

"(B) to, in coordination with the Federal Government and fire services (as that term is defined in section 4 of the Federal Fire Prevention and Control Act of 1974 (15 U.S.C. 2203)), plan, direct, and manage the memorial service referred to in subparagraph (A)";

(2) in paragraph (2), by inserting "and Federal" after "non-Federal";

(3) in paragraph (3)—

(A) by striking "State and local" and inserting "Federal, State, and local"; and

(B) by striking "and" at the end;

(4) in paragraph (4), by striking the period at the end and inserting a semicolon; and

(5) by adding at the end the following:

"(5) to provide for a national program to assist families of fallen firefighters and fire departments in dealing with line-of-duty deaths of those firefighters; and

"(6) to promote national, State, and local initiatives to increase public awareness of fire and life safety in coordination with the United States Fire Administration."

(b) BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF FOUNDATION.—Section 203(g)(1) of the National Fallen Firefighters Foundation Act (36 U.S.C. 5202(g)(1)) is amended by striking subparagraph (A) and inserting the following:

"(A) appointing officers or employees;"

(c) ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES AND SUPPORT.—Section 205 of the National Fallen Firefighters Foundation Act (36 U.S.C. 5204) is amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 205. ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES AND SUPPORT.

"(a) IN GENERAL.—During the 10-year period beginning on the date of enactment of the Departments of Veterans Affairs and Housing and Urban Development, and Independent Agencies Appropriations Act, 1999, the Administrator may—

"(1) provide personnel, facilities, and other required services for the operation of the Foundation; and

"(2) request and accept reimbursement for the assistance provided under paragraph (1).

"(b) REIMBURSEMENT.—Any amounts received under subsection (a)(2) as reimbursement for assistance shall be deposited in the Treasury to the credit of the appropriations then current and chargeable for the cost of providing that assistance.

"(c) PROHIBITION.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no Federal personnel or stationery may be used to solicit funding for the Foundation."

SEC. 425. INELIGIBILITY OF INDIVIDUALS CONVICTED OF MANUFACTURING OR PRODUCING METHAMPHETAMINE FOR CERTAIN HOUSING ASSISTANCE. Section 16 of the United States Housing Act of 1937 (42 U.S.C. 1437n) is amended by adding at the end the following:

"(f) INELIGIBILITY OF INDIVIDUALS CONVICTED OF MANUFACTURING OR PRODUCING METHAMPHETAMINE ON THE PREMISES.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a public housing agency shall establish standards for occupancy in public housing dwelling units and assistance under section 8 that—

"(1) permanently prohibit occupancy in any public housing dwelling unit by, and assistance under section 8 for, any person who has been convicted of manufacturing or otherwise producing methamphetamine on the premises in violation of any Federal or State law; and

"(2) immediately and permanently terminate the tenancy in any public housing unit of, and the assistance under section 8 for, any person who is convicted of manufacturing or otherwise producing methamphetamine on the premises in violation of any Federal or State law."

SEC. 426. SENSE OF SENATE REGARDING MAXIMUM TRAVEL DISTANCE FOR VETERANS TO HEALTH CARE FACILITIES. (a) It is the sense of the Senate that it should be the goal of the Department of Veterans Affairs to serve all veterans at health care facilities within 250 miles of their homes, and to minimize travel distances if specialized services are not available at a health care facility operated by the Veterans Health Administration within 250 miles of a veteran's home.

(b) Not later than 6 months after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Veterans Affairs shall submit to the Committees on Veterans Affairs of the House of Representatives and the Senate a report on the estimated costs to and impact on the health care system administered by the Veterans Health Administration of making specialty care available to all veterans within 250 miles of their homes.

SEC. 427. None of the funds provided in this Act may be obligated after February 15, 1999, unless each department, agency, corporation, and commission that receives funds herein provides detailed justifications to the Committees on Appropriations for all salary and expense activities for fiscal years 1999 through 2003, including personnel compensation and benefits, consulting costs, professional services or technical service contracts regardless of the dollar amount, contracting out costs, travel and other standard object classifications for all headquarters offices, regional offices, or field installations and laboratories, including the number of full-time equivalents per office, and the personnel compensation, benefits and travel costs for each Secretary, Assistant Secretary or Administrator.

SEC. 428. COMPREHENSIVE ACCOUNTABILITY STUDY FOR FEDERALLY-FUNDED RESEARCH. (a) STUDY.—The Director of the Office of Science and Technology Policy, in consultation with the Director of the Office of Management and Budget, may enter into an agreement with the National Academy of Sciences for the Academy to conduct a comprehensive study to develop methods for evaluating federally-funded research and development programs. This study shall—

(1) recommend processes to determine an acceptable level of success for federally-funded research and development programs by—

(A) describing the research process in the various scientific and engineering disciplines;

(B) describing in the different sciences what measures and what criteria each community uses to evaluate the success or failure of a program, and on what time scales these measures are considered reliable—both for exploratory long-range work and for short-range goals; and

(C) recommending how these measures may be adapted for use by the Federal Government to evaluate federally-funded research and development programs;

(2) assess the extent to which agencies incorporate independent merit-based evaluation into the formulation of the strategic plans of funding agencies and if the quantity or quality of this type of input is unsatisfactory;

(3) recommend mechanisms for identifying federally-funded research and development programs which are unsuccessful or unproductive;

(4) evaluate the extent to which independent, merit-based evaluation of federally-funded research and development programs and projects achieves the goal of eliminating unsuccessful or unproductive programs and projects; and

(5) investigate and report on the validity of using quantitative performance goals for aspects of programs which relate to administrative management of the program and for which such goals would be appropriate, including aspects related to—

(A) administrative burden on contractors and recipients of financial assistance awards;

(B) administrative burdens on external participants in independent, merit-based evaluations;

(C) cost and schedule control for construction projects funded by the program;

(D) the ratio of overhead costs of the program relative to the amounts expended through the program for equipment and direct funding of research; and

(E) the timeliness of program responses to requests for funding, participation, or equipment use.

(b) INDEPENDENT MERIT-BASED EVALUATION DEFINED.—The term “independent merit-based evaluation” means review of the scientific or technical quality of research or development, conducted by experts who are chosen for their knowledge of scientific and technical fields relevant to the evaluation and who—

(1) in the case of the review of a program activity, do not derive long-term support from the program activity; or

(2) in the case of the review of a project proposal, are not seeking funds in competition with the proposal.

SEC. 429. INSURANCE; INDEMNIFICATION; LIABILITY. (a) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator may provide liability insurance for, or indemnification to, the developer of an experimental aerospace vehicle developed or used in execution of an agreement between the Administration and the developer.

(b) TERMS AND CONDITIONS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Except as otherwise provided in this section, the insurance and indemnification provided by the Administration under subsection (a) to a developer shall be provided on the same terms and conditions as insurance and indemnification is provided by the Administration under section 308 of the National Aeronautics and Space Act of 1958 (42 U.S.C. 2458b) to the user of a space vehicle.

(2) INSURANCE.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—A developer shall obtain liability insurance or demonstrate financial responsibility in amounts to compensate for the maximum probable loss from claims by—

(i) a third party for death, bodily injury, or property damage, or loss resulting from an activity carried out in connection with the development or use of an experimental aerospace vehicle; and

(ii) the United States Government for damage or loss to Government property resulting from such an activity.

(B) MAXIMUM REQUIRED.—The Administrator shall determine the amount of insurance required, but, except as provided in subparagraph (C), that amount shall not be greater than the amount required under section 70112(a)(3) of title 49, United States Code, for a launch. The Administrator shall publish notice of the Administrator's determination and the applicable amount or amounts in the Federal Register within 10 days after making the determination.

(C) INCREASE IN DOLLAR AMOUNTS.—The Administrator may increase the dollar amounts set forth in section 70112(a)(3)(A) of title 49, United States Code, for the purpose of applying that section under this section to a developer after consultation with the Comptroller General and such experts and consultants as may be appropriate, and after publishing notice of the increase in the Federal Register not less than 180 days before the increase goes into effect. The Administrator shall make available for public inspection, not later than the date of publication of such notice, a complete record of any correspondence received by the Administration, and a transcript of any meetings in which the Administration participated, regarding the proposed increase.

(D) SAFETY REVIEW REQUIRED BEFORE ADMINISTRATOR PROVIDES INSURANCE.—The Administrator may not provide liability insurance or indemnification under subsection (a) unless the developer establishes to the satisfaction of the Administrator that appropriate safety procedures and practices are being followed in the development of the experimental aerospace vehicle.

(3) NO INDEMNIFICATION WITHOUT CROSS-WAIVER.—Notwithstanding subsection (a), the Administrator may not indemnify a developer of an experimental aerospace vehicle under this section unless there is an agreement between the Administration and the developer described in subsection (c).

(4) APPLICATION OF CERTAIN PROCEDURES.—If the Administrator requests additional appropriations to make payments under this section, like the payments that may be made under section 308(b) of the National Aeronautics and Space Act of 1958 (42 U.S.C. 2458b(b)), then the request for those appropriations shall be made in accordance with the procedures established by subsections (d) and (e) of section 70113 of title 49, United States Code.

(c) CROSS-WAIVERS.—

(1) ADMINISTRATOR AUTHORIZED TO WAIVE.—The Administrator, on behalf of the United States, and its departments, agencies, and instrumentalities, may reciprocally waive claims with a developer and with the related entities of that developer under which each party to the waiver agrees to be responsible, and agrees to ensure that its own related entities are responsible, for damage or loss to its property for which it is responsible, or for losses resulting from any injury or death sustained by its own employees or agents, as a result of activities connected to the agreement or use of the experimental aerospace vehicle.

(2) LIMITATIONS.—

(A) CLAIMS.—A reciprocal waiver under paragraph (1) may not preclude a claim by any natural person (including, but not limited to, a natural person who is an employee of the United States, the developer, or the developer's subcontractors) or that natural person's estate, survivors, or subrogees for injury or death, except with respect to a subrogee that is a party to the waiver or has otherwise agreed to be bound by the terms of the waiver.

(B) LIABILITY FOR NEGLIGENCE.—A reciprocal waiver under paragraph (1) may not absolve any party of liability to any natural person (including, but not limited to, a natural person who is an employee of the United States, the developer, or the developer's subcontractors) or such a natural person's estate, survivors, or subrogees for negligence, except with respect to a subrogee that is a party to the waiver or has otherwise agreed to be bound by the terms of the waiver.

(C) INDEMNIFICATION FOR DAMAGES.—A reciprocal waiver under paragraph (1) may not be used as the basis of a claim by the Administration or the developer for indemnifica-tion against the other for damages paid to a natural person, or that natural person's estate, survivors, or subrogees, for injury or death sustained by that natural person as a result of activities connected to the agreement or use of the experimental aerospace vehicle.

(d) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) ADMINISTRATION.—The term “Administration” means the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

(2) ADMINISTRATOR.—The term “Administrator” means the Administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

(3) COMMON TERMS.—Any term used in this section that is defined in the National Aeronautics and Space Act of 1958 (42 U.S.C. 2451 et seq.) has the same meaning in this section as when it is used in that Act.

(4) DEVELOPER.—The term “developer” means a person (other than a natural person) who—

(A) is a party to an agreement that was in effect before the date of enactment of this Act with the Administration for the purpose of developing new technology for an experimental aerospace vehicle;

(B) owns or provides property to be flown or situated on that vehicle; or

(C) employs a natural person to be flown on that vehicle.

(5) EXPERIMENTAL AEROSPACE VEHICLE.—The term “experimental aerospace vehicle” means an object intended to be flown in, or launched into, suborbital flight for the purpose of demonstrating technologies necessary for a reusable launch vehicle, developed under an agreement between the Administration and a developer that was in effect before the date of enactment of this Act.

(e) RELATIONSHIP TO OTHER LAWS.—

(1) SECTION 308 OF NATIONAL AERONAUTICS AND SPACE ACT OF 1958.—This section does not apply to any object, transaction, or operation to which section 308 of the National Aeronautics and Space Act of 1958 (42 U.S.C. 2458b) applies.

(2) CHAPTER 701 OF TITLE 49, UNITED STATES CODE.—The Administrator may not provide indemnification to a developer under this section for launches subject to license under section 70117(g)(1) of title 49, United States Code.

(f) TERMINATION.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The provisions of this section shall terminate on December 31, 2002, except that the Administrator may extend the termination date to a date not later than September 30, 2005, if the Administrator determines that such an extension is necessary to cover the operation of an experimental aerospace vehicle.

(2) EFFECT OF TERMINATION ON AGREEMENTS.—The termination of this section does not terminate or otherwise affect a cross-waiver agreement, insurance agreement, indemnification agreement, or any other agreement entered into under this section except as may be provided in that agreement.

SEC. 430. VIETNAM VETERANS ALLOTMENT. The Alaskan Native Claims Settlement Act (43 U.S.C. 1601 et seq.) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“OPEN SEASON FOR CERTAIN NATIVE ALASKAN VETERANS FOR ALLOTMENTS.

“SEC. 41. (a) IN GENERAL.—(1) During the eighteen month period following promulgation of implementing rules pursuant to paragraph (6), a person described in subsection (b) shall be eligible for an allotment of not more than 160 acres of land under the Act of May 17, 1906 (chapter 2469; 34 Stat. 197), as such Act was in effect before December 18, 1971.

“(2) Allotments selected under this section shall not be from existing native or non-native campsites, except for campsites used primarily by the person selecting the allotment.

"(3) Only Federal lands shall be eligible for selection and conveyance under this Act.

"(4) All conveyances shall be subject to valid existing rights, including any right of the United States to income derived, directly or indirectly, from a lease, license, permit, right-of-way or easement.

"(5) All State selected lands that have not yet been conveyed shall be ineligible for selection under this section.

"(6) No later than 18 months after enactment of this section, the Secretary of the Interior shall promulgate, after consultation with Alaska Natives groups, rules to carry out this section.

"(7) The Secretary of the Interior may convey alternative Federal lands, including lands within a Conservation System Unit, to a person entitled to an allotment located within a Conservation System Unit if—

"(A) the Secretary determines that the allotment would be incompatible with the purposes for which the Conservation System Unit was established; and

"(B) the alternative lands are of equal acreage to the allotment.

"(b) ELIGIBLE INDIVIDUALS.—(1) A person is eligible under subsection (a) if that person would have been eligible under the Act of May 17, 1906 (chapter 2469; 34 Stat. 197), as that Act was in effect before December 18, 1971, and that person is a veteran who served during the period between January 1, 1968 and December 31, 1971.

"(c) STUDY AND REPORT.—The Secretary of the Interior shall—

"(1) conduct a study to identify and assess the circumstances of veterans of the Vietnam era who were eligible for allotments under the Act of May 17, 1906 but who did not apply under that Act and are not eligible under this section; and

"(2) within one year of enactment of this section, issue a written report with recommendations to the Committee on Appropriations and the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources in the Senate and the Committee on Appropriations and the Committee on Resources in the House of Representatives.

"(d) DEFINITIONS.—For the purposes of this section, the terms 'veteran' and 'Vietnam era' have the meanings given those terms by paragraphs (2) and (29), respectively, of section 101 of title 38, United States Code."

This Act may be cited as the "Departments of Veterans Affairs and Housing and Urban Development, and Independent Agencies Appropriations Act, 1999".

MEASURE READ THE FIRST TIME—H.R. 1432

Mr. STEVENS. Madam President, is H.R. 1432 still at the desk?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The bill is at the desk.

Mr. STEVENS. Has it been read once?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. It has not yet been read the first time.

Mr. STEVENS. I ask it be read for the first time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report.

The legislative clerk read as follows: A bill (H.R. 1432) to authorize a new trade and investment policy for sub-Saharan Africa.

Mr. STEVENS. I now request its second reading and object to that request.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Objection is heard.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE, JUSTICE, AND STATE, THE JUDICIARY, AND RELATED AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 1999

Mr. STEVENS. Madam President, I ask that the pending business be temporarily set aside and that S. 2260, the Commerce-State-Justice appropriations bill, be laid before the Senate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered. The clerk will report.

The assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

A bill (S. 2260) making appropriations for the Departments of Commerce, Justice, and State, the Judiciary, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1999, and for other purposes.

There being no objection, the Senate proceeded to consider the bill.

FUNDING FOR THE ORGANIZATION FOR ECONOMIC COOPERATION AND DEVELOPMENT

Mr. ROBB. Madam President, I would like to call my colleagues' attention to one of the international organizations being funded by the Commerce-State-Justice Appropriation bill, the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD).

As many of my colleagues are aware, the OECD has its origins in the Marshall plan. While its original mandate was to help rebuild post-War Europe, over the years, the OECD has taught us that nations through economic cooperation can take charge of their own destinies. Article 1 of the OECD Convention clearly states its mission, which is to have its member nations achieve the highest sustainable economic growth and employment, to contribute to sound economic expansion in Member as well as non-member nations, and to contribute to the expansion of world trade on a multilateral, non-discriminatory basis. These goals are as relevant today as they were when the OECD was founded.

The current work of the OECD spans the horizon. A few issues that are important to this Congress that the OECD is working on are the Asian economic crisis, the Anti-Bribery Convention and cryptography policy. OECD economic surveys, its twice-yearly Economic Outlook and its countless statistics on a wide range of economic activities are important sources of information for us as we meet the challenges of the global economy.

But the OECD has also understood that in today's tough budgetary environment, there is a real need to make cuts. And organization officials have taken these necessary steps. The OECD is decreasing its budget which to date includes a reduction of 180 staff, more than 10% of its total. Clearly, the OECD gets the message and deserves credit for its efforts.

I urge the committee and the administration to fully fund the OECD. It continues to make a valuable contribution, and is willing to implement the kinds of reforms that should only increase its efficiency and productivity.

ORDERS FOR TUESDAY, JULY 21, 1998

Mr. STEVENS. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent that when the Senate completes its business today, it stand in adjournment until 9 a.m. on Tuesday, July 21. I further ask that when the Senate reconvenes on Tuesday, immediately following the prayer, the routine requests through the morning hour be granted and the Senate begin a period of morning business until 10 a.m., with Senators permitted to speak for up to 5 minutes each with the following exceptions: Senator DORGAN, 30 minutes, and Senator ASHCROFT for 30 minutes.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. STEVENS. I further ask unanimous consent that following morning business the Senate proceed to vote on the motion to invoke cloture on H.R. 4112, the legislative branch appropriations bill. I further ask that following the disposition of the legislative appropriations bill, the Senate immediately resume consideration of S. 2260, the Commerce-State-Justice appropriations bill.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

PROGRAM

Mr. STEVENS. Madam President, for the information of all Senators, when the Senate reconvenes on Tuesday there will be a period of morning business until 10 a.m. Following morning business, the Senate will vote on the motion to invoke cloture on the legislative branch appropriations bill. After the disposition of the legislative branch appropriations bill, the Senate will resume consideration of the Commerce-State-Justice appropriations bill. It is hoped that Members will come to the floor during Tuesday's session to offer and debate amendments as the Senate attempts to make good progress on this bill. We may also consider other legislative or executive items that are cleared for action on the Senate floor.

ADJOURNMENT UNTIL 9 A.M. TOMORROW

Mr. STEVENS. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate stand in adjournment under the previous order.

There being no objection, the Senate, at 4:25 p.m., adjourned until Tuesday, July 21, 1998, at 9 a.m.

EXTENSIONS OF REMARKS

SGT. DONALD WAYNE SLOVER'S SACRIFICE

HON. LINDA SMITH

OF WASHINGTON

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, July 20, 1998

Mrs. LINDA SMITH of Washington. Mr. Speaker, recently, a friend forwarded a copy of this personal letter to us. The thoughts expressed in the letter hit close to home. We hope everyone can take a moment and reflect upon Sgt. Slover's sacrifice.

DEAR AMERICA: I am writing this letter to extend thanks to all the American people who still, despite the recent headlines undermining the ethnics and morality of the military, understand that our jobs and way of life are necessary to preserve the "American" way of life. I once thought that "America" viewed us as most media portrays us; immoral, unethical, and uncivilized. My recent travels led me to conclude that the opposite is true. You, the American people, that honor and respect what we do, deserve a public "thank you."

Just a few weeks ago, a tragedy embedded itself in the tall evergreen forests at the Joint Readiness Training Center in Fort Polk, LA. As a tank slowly slalomed through the trees after sunset on January 14, 1998, the tank commander fell victim to the inherent danger of the military.

Sgt. Donald Wayne Slover passed away that night as he was guiding his tank through the thickest of trees, fog, and rain. The tank's edge clipped and uprooted a tree, which sent it crashing to the ground. The medics, arriving on site only minutes later, felt Sgt. Slover's last pulse.

As one of two military escorts, I was required to accompany the remains from the training area to the burial site, ensuring the proper and unimpaired delivery to the next of kin. The obligation required a two day journey from Fort Hood, TX, to Williamsburg, KY, via Fort Polk, LA. Loading unloading and transportation of the remains required our physical presence. This particular trip entailed a three hour van ride, a connecting flight in Atlanta in route to Knoxville, and a 1 hour drive to Williamsburg, KY.

Upon boarding initial flight out of Houston we informed the flight attendant of our duties. After explaining that it was necessary for us to depart the plane first upon landing (so as not to delay the cargo personnel unloading the casket), two gentlemen offered their seats in the first row of the plane for out last row seats.

This gesture left me speechless. I'm not so sure they even knew our purpose for having to be first off the plane, but with no questions immediately sacrificed their front row seats. After arriving in Atlanta, we were escorted by airport personnel off the plane and down to the tarmac. Standing in our dress green uniforms, we watched as the airline employees carefully unloaded the casket onto the cargo truck. The truck drove off to the departing gate and we made our way back inside the terminal. We met the cargo truck at the departure gate and again were escorted down to the tarmac to supervise the loading of our final flight. Following the loading, we turned and headed back to the terminal. As we made that walk, I noticed that we were being watched by the crowd awaiting the outbound flight. Not thinking much about it at the time, I scurried out of the cold and awaited the boarding call.

We boarded the plane and again informed the flight attendant of our duties and departure requirements. The flight was booked, every seat filled, and she told us that she would make an announcement upon landing that we were to exit the plane first.

Having been on full flights before, I was certain that this announcement would be ignored. Passengers are normally elbow deep in the overhead compartments as soon as the wheels touch the ground. I was 100% positive I would be the last person off that flight. But I took my seat in the back of the plane, my partner 10 rows in front, and with all of my military skills tried to devise a plan that could project me to the front of that plane upon landing. I concluded that even generals would have a rough time planning such an operation.

As the plane touched down in Knoxville, the flight attendant gave the standard "keep your seat-belts fastened until the captain turns off the seat-belt sign" announcement. She then led into the fact that two military escorts were on-board and that everyone must remain in their seats until we departed the plane. The plane parked and to my astonishment, not a soul moved. I'd never witnessed such absolute silence in my life.

Many of the passengers turned their heads to the rear of the plane but not a sound was made as myself and the other escort donned our jackets, grabbed our bags, and headed down the aisle. I realized then that all eyes were on us. As we neared the exit an older gentleman leaned toward us and broke the silence with something I will never forget, "God bless you both," he said. I am, sir, most truly blessed. I have been afforded the opportunity to work alongside some of the greatest sons and daughters of our nation.

We know and understand that each day presents the possibility of injury and/or death and we take all precautions to prevent them. But we sacrifice that possibility because you depend on us. We train through the roughest of conditions, with minimum sleep and limited resources, anywhere at anytime, to ensure we are always ready. We, sir, are most honored that you entrust us to defend your country.

So I'm writing this letter to say thanks. Thank you Delta Airlines, thank you gentlemen for your seats, thank you sir for your blessings, and thank you America for your support. You see . . . we as soldiers don't expect you to understand the ways in which we live, train, and fight; we just ask for a thank you from time to time. A little appreciation from the people we're defending weighs more than a chestful of awards and medals.

Sgt. Donald Wayne Slover gave his life training to defend the very code of morality and ethics he exemplified and believed in. Sgt. Slover believed in the Army and his country. I worked alongside Sgt. Slover for over a year. He was good at his job and he loved it. He never complained and always did what was asked of him. Sgt. Slover always maintained the courage of his convictions. I hope he laid to rest knowing he was appreciated. If not, we failed as a nation and we owe it to him.

Sgt. Slover . . . thank you! You will be missed!

DANIEL ASHLEY,
1-10 CAVALRY:
READY AND FORWARD.

TRIBUTE TO ELSIE BUCHENAU

HON. GEORGE P. RADANOVICH

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, July 20, 1998

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Elsie Buchenau for her dedicated service to the Madera County Central Committee and to the Republican Party.

Elsie Buchenau was born on October 5, 1907 in Firebaugh, California. Her family consisting of four girls and one boy, moved to a Madera vineyard in the La Vina area in 1912. She attended La Vina Grammar School, then Madera High School where she graduated in 1924. After working for a prominent attorney and a Realtor she moved to San Francisco for five years. She then married Herb Buchenau, a local cattleman and farmer, in 1937 and then moved to the Buchenau home ranch northeast of Madera, where she still lives.

Mrs. Elsie Buchenau has been active in the Republican Party for many years and served as chairperson for the Madera County Central Committee for eight years, and vice president of the California Republican Party. She has also been a member of the Madera Republican Women and a delegate and twice an alternate to the Republican National Convention.

Elsie Buchenau is also a member of the Madera County Cattleman's Association and was named Cattle woman of the Year in 1979. In 1994, Elsie Buchenau was named Farmer of the Year by the Madera District Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Buchenau has also volunteered her time with the Madera Community Hospital League and the St. Vincent de Paul Store, which supports Catholic charities.

Mr. Speaker, it is with great honor that I pay tribute to Elsie Buchenau for her decades of service to the Republican Party, the Madera County Central Committee, and to her community. I ask my colleagues to join me in wishing Elsie Buchenau best wishes for the future.

WINFIELD SCOTT STRATTON: A GREAT HUMANITARIAN

HON. JOEL HEFLEY

OF COLORADO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, July 20, 1998

Mr. HEFLEY. Mr. Speaker, July 22, 1998, will mark the 150 anniversary of the birth of Winfield Scott Stratton, a great Colorado humanitarian.

In Colorado, this date will be recognized by 25 different events celebrating his life and good deeds. It is appropriate that we commemorate the deeds of this distinguished humanitarian from Colorado Springs, Colorado.

• This "bullet" symbol identifies statements or insertions which are not spoken by a Member of the Senate on the floor.

Matter set in this typeface indicates words inserted or appended, rather than spoken, by a Member of the House on the floor.

He reached out to his fellow man in so many ways during his lifetime. His biggest contribution and blessing was his endowment of the Myron Stratton Home. Some of his benevolent good deeds include buying the old courthouse in Colorado Springs and furnishing the county with the money to build a new courthouse on a city block that he provided. He also purchased a corner lot downtown for $70,000 offering it to the federal government for half of its value in order to build a new post office. It was recently named the Winfield Scott Stratton Post Office by a new Congressional Act. In addition to these contributions, Stratton also built a convention hall and pavilion seating 35,000 people for the use of the city and gave five thousand dollars a year to keep it maintained. He donated supplies worth $50,000 when the fire of 1896 in Cripple Creek Colorado left 5,000 people without shelter or goods. He also gave $25,000 to the Colorado School of Mines to complete the "Hall of Metallurgy", recognized by Colorado's 13th General Assembly. He made gifts of $70,000 to Colorado College and $25,000 to the Colorado Deaf and Blind School. Stratton donated approximately $85,000 to feed and house the homeless; made substantial contributions to churches, supported miners, laborers, laundry women and others in need.

Stratton's most lasting gift was a bequest in his handwritten will directing that his wealth be delivered to the trustees of a charitable institution for acting and maintaining a free home, "for poor persons without means of support, and who are physically unable by reason of old age, youth, sickness or other infirmity to earn a livelihood." This home is called the Myron Stratton Home in honor of his father.

After Stratton "stuck it rich" he continued to live frugally and simply by helping the poor, saying "I count my money as a gift from the father of us all, and I am responsible for its administration as a good steward." Stratton backed his philosophy with action and no other individual gave so generously to so many individuals and organizations. Stratton's benevolent gifts in today's world would be astronomical. Before he died in 1902, he gave away over $3 million. In any time of prosperity there will be many children from broken homes who could be helped by homes like the Myron Stratton Home. Winfield Scott Stratton, was a man of vision and one of Colorado's greatest humanitarians. His good deeds continue to be a good example of our need to help one another.

ALLSTATE FOUNDATION

HON. JOHN EDWARD PORTER

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, July 20, 1998

Mr. PORTER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the ongoing efforts of the Allstate Foundation, which works in partnership with national and local nonprofit organizations in the areas of community and economic development, automobile and highway safety, and personal safety and security. Through corporate investment, marketing initiatives, and employee volunteer projects, the Allstate Foundation delivers on its commitments to build and strengthen our communities. I am proud to have Allstate headquartered in my District.

Since 1991, Allstate Foundation has been working in conjunction with the National Crime Prevention Council (NCPC) and the Department of Justice to help spread the message to families across the nation that identifying and practicing effective crime prevention methods is essential to their safety and welfare. In the eight-year history of this partnership, the Allstate Foundation has consistently supported the efforts of the National Crime Prevention Council by identifying and funding innovative and prevention and awareness tools. The Foundation first demonstrated its outstanding level of commitment to community safety by providing significant funding for the further enrichment and distribution of a 1993 Council auto theft prevention publication.

In 1996, Allstate helped to create the NCPC's growing presence on the world wide web, giving more people more crime prevention know-how than ever before. Today, five sites are on-line because of Allstate's contributions. These sites offer answers to basic questions about what one individual—or ten—can do to help stop crime and build better, stronger communities. The web sites engage teens, parents, teachers, law enforcement officials, grandparents, and business owners in fighting crime—giving them concrete examples of what they can do, outlining proven strategies, and informing them about training opportunities and events.

Since May 1, 1997, the National Crime Prevention Council's On-Line Resource Center has welcomed more than 100,000 visitors. Visits have skyrocketed to more than 16,000 a month, and this number is growing every day, a testament to the site's quality and effectiveness in spreading the Council's crime prevention message.

The partnership among the NCPC, the Department of Justice, and the Allstate Foundation deserves much credit for their successful on-line project. There are already plans to expand the website's content and exposure as part of a multi-million dollar public service campaign on radio and TV, and in print and on billboards across the country. The Allstate Foundation's safety team has also worked with NCPC to adapt the video, Are You Safe: A National Test on Crime Prevention for use by its agents as a public service to help educate individuals on personal and home security.

With further input from law enforcement, criminal justice, and private sector communities, and with Allstate's continued involvement, the web project and other National Crime Prevention Council initiatives will continue to serve as great tools for all Americans in the fight to prevent crime. I commend the Allstate Foundation for their contributions to this noble cause.

DEPARTMENTS OF VETERANS AFFAIRS AND HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT, AND INDEPENDENT AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 1999

SPEECH OF

HON. LUIS V. GUTIERREZ

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, July 17, 1998

The House in Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union had under consideration the bill (H.R. 4194) making appropriations for the Departments of Veterans Affairs and Housing and Urban Development, and for sundry independent agencies, boards, commissions, corporations, and offices for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1999, and for other purposes:

Mr. GUTIERREZ. Mr. Chairman, my amendment is simple. It accomplishes a goal that America's veterans believe is important and that Congress should strongly support.

My amendment has been endorsed by the American Legion, AMVETS, the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States and the Vietnam Veterans of America.

Almost identical legislation that I introduced last year received strong bipartisan support.

As the ranking Democrat on the Veterans Affairs Committee, Subcommittee on Health, I have become very familiar with the serious problem of sexual abuse and harassment in the military.

The Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) is responsible for treating the victims of these crimes and abuses. In my oversight role on the Health Subcommittee I have had the opportunity to speak with and learn from women veterans who suffered from this abuse.

The high rate of sexual abuse in the armed services requires continued action on this issue.

In 1996, approximately 190,000 women served in our armed services.

That year, the Pentagon conducted a survey of active duty women and found that five percent of women had been the victims of sexual assault during their period of military service.

National surveys conducted by the VA indicate that approximately 20 percent of women seeking services from VA medical facilities report having experienced a rape or other form of assault on active duty while 35 to 50 percent report suffering some form of sexual harassment.

Such findings—and high profile news reports of incidents of abuse—have made clear the existence of a very serious problem in our armed forces and the need to move more aggressively to end the tragedy of sexual violence and harassment.

Rick Schultz, the executive director of the Vietnam Veterans of America, which supports this initiative, said, "in our nation's fervor to prosecute the offenders, we must not forget to attend to the needs of the victims."

This amendment puts those words into law.

This amendment also is smart policy.

The prevalence of substance abuse, homelessness, family breakdown, poverty and the receipt of public assistance is higher among women veterans who suffered from abuse during their military service than it is among the general women veterans population.

The women veterans that I have spoke with told me that the VA's program had helped them turn their lives around. Helped them get off public assistance, to treat their addictions and become active in their families and communities once again.

Sadly, the VA's sexual trauma treatment program is scheduled to expire at the end of their year.

The possible termination of this program would be tragic for the thousands of women who have benefited from the services provided by the VA.

More than 18,000 women veterans and 200 male veterans have sought and received therapeutic counseling at hundreds of VA medical facilities throughout America.

I believe we have an obligation to maintain these services.

Our failure to ensure a safe environment for women in the armed services compels us to reauthorize this vital program.

Unfortunately, current law also does not enable all the victims of sexual abuse in the military to receive counseling at the VA.

Current law excludes active and former reservists and national guard members from seeking this vital care.

This is a serious oversight that needs correction.

Female reservists have been the victims of sexual abuse while on active duty in the Gulf and in Bosnia. They have come back with the scars of these crimes and have not been afforded care at VA facilities.

Reservists have also been the victims of these serious crimes during their active training.

Unfortunately, these crimes often go unreported because the Defense Department refuses to investigate offenses that affect non-active duty soldiers.

Because of this policy, no recourse exists for reservists and no care is provided.

This is wrong and my amendment will correct this loophole.

The Department of Veterans Affairs wants this program reauthorized until 2002 and Congress should comply with this request.

The veterans community wants this program reauthorized and wants all the victims of sexual abuse during their military service to be eligible for proper treatment.

As Josephus Vandengoobergh (VAN-DEN-GO-BERGH), the National Commander of AMVETS, states in a letter of support for my amendment, "AMVETS strongly supports Congressman Guterrez's amendment to HR 4194, to reauthorize and improve the VA's sexual trauma program. If nothing is done, this program will expire in December. We would like to see it established as a permanent program, we believe it has proved its worth."

Today, our nation has more than 1.2 million women veterans.

This amendment would respond to their needs and help them gain the recognition they deserve and care they have earned.

I urge my colleagues to support this amendment and honor our obligations to women veterans.

Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent to enter for the RECORD the letter from Josephus Vandengoobergh, the National Commander of AMVETS, in support of my amendment.

AMVETS

Lanham, MD, July 14, 1998.

Hon. GERALD SOLOMON,
House of Representatives,
Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: AMVETS strongly supports Congressman Luis Guterrez's amendment to H.R. 4194 (the VA/HUD Appropriations Bill) to reauthorize and improve the "Veterans Sexual Trauma Treatment Act."

AMVETS, along with other veterans service organizations, the Department of Veterans Affairs and the Government Accounting Office, testified earlier this year to the House Veterans Affairs Subcommittee on Health that this program needs to be reauthorized. We would like to see it established as a permanent program; we believe it has proved its worth.

Enclosed is our testimony, as well as the testimony of the VA and GAO. Mr.

Guterrez's amendment would reauthorize the program and expand its scope to cover Reservists and National Guard who experienced sexual trauma during military duty. Currently VA includes these groups in the program; therefore, no additional costs will be incurred by their addition.

If nothing is done, the program will expire in December of this year. According to VA, more than 18,000 women veterans and 200 male veterans have accessed sexual trauma counseling services. Please help save this viable program.

Sincerely,

JOSEPHUS C. VANDENGOOBERGH,
National Commander.

CONGRATULATIONS TO ANNE SPEAKE

HON. GEORGE P. RADANOVICH

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, July 20, 1998

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Anne Speake for being selected to receive the Central California Woman in Business Advocate of the Year Award by the U.S. Small Business Administration. Ms. Speake is viewed as a role model for all women owning businesses. Not only is she a tremendous asset as a mentor, but she is also a leader in our business community.

Anne Speake is the owner and operator of the International English Institute. Anne started this business over 15 years ago, and is successful not only here in the Valley but globally through the International English Institute. Most recently she was selected as the Fresno Chamber of Commerce President. As Chamber President, Anne will be influential in shaping and molding the Valley's policy toward small businesses.

The Women in Business Advocate Award is presented annually to individuals who fulfill a commitment to the advancement of women's business ownership. Selection criteria for the award is based on the following areas: 1) Efforts to increase business and financial opportunities for women; 2) Legal, financial or managerial assistance; 3) Voluntary efforts to strengthen the role of women business owners within the community; 4) Advocacy of the women-owned business community as a whole.

Anne Speake was nominated for this award by Glendale Federal Bank. Anne Speake is viewed as a consensus builder and a leader. She commands respect from others, because she leads by example. Ms. Speake is deeply committed to our community, through her active involvement in the Fresno Business Council and the Fresno Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Speaker, it is with great honor that I pay tribute to Anne Speake of the International English Institute. Mrs. Speake exemplifies what it means to be an advocate for small business. I ask my colleagues to join me in wishing Anne Speake many more years of success.

NEEDED: GOOD HELICOPTERS, NOT ACADEMIC DEBATE IN COLOMBIA; EIGHT ANTI-DRUG POLICE DIE IN HUEY CRASH

HON. BENJAMIN A. GILMAN

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, July 20, 1998

Mr. GILMAN. Mr. Speaker, this week in northern Colombia, eight Colombian National Police (CNP) officers from the elite DANTI anti-drug unit died following a crash of one of the U.S.-provided, Vietnam-era Huey helicopters. These anti-drug police officers died flying a worn out 35-year-plus chopper after a take down operation against a rightwing paramilitary cocaine lab in the Uraba region, near the border with Panama.

Congress has argued that these good police officers fighting our fight against drugs before they reach our streets and kill our kids, deserve the best helicopter equipment we can provide. The House International Relations Committee has long argued for better and crash-survivable helicopters. Regrettably the State Department has resisted these efforts.

This aged helicopter fleet puts at risk the few good men and women of DANTI (only 3,000). CNP leader General Serrano doesn't have an unlimited number of good police officers. He no longer will have the courageous and dedicated service of Major Vodmar Galeano, the Chief of Operations for DANTI, and Captain Martin Sierra, Chief Helicopter Instructor Pilot, among the others killed in the most recent crash.

Their loss diminishes our national interests, as well as that of Colombia, where these illicit drugs finance all sides in a raging narco-based war, threatening South America's oldest democracy.

AMERICA'S LOOKING FOR ITS MISSING CHILDREN PROGRAM

HON. JOHN M. McHUGH

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, July 20, 1998

Mr. McHUGH. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to call attention to a very important program. It's not a government program, but an example of our private sector partnering effectively with the public sector to tackle pressing social problems.

In 1985, ADVO, Inc., the nation's largest direct mail marketing company, partnered with The National Center for Missing and Exploited Children. The Adam Walsh Child Resource Center, the Juvenile Division of the Department of Justice, and the U.S. Postal Service to lend a hand in the recovery of missing and exploited children. One of the leaders of that partnership, ADVO Senior Vice President Vincent Giuliano, recently came to Capitol Hill to share with the Congressional Missing and Exploited Children's Caucus this amazing success story. I encourage my colleagues and every citizen to take an interest in this important program, which is doing so much to help the nation's missing and exploited children.

As a direct result of this innovative program, ADVO has helped the authorities recover 88 children and to reunite them with their families.

Approximately one out of every seven children featured in the program has been recovered.

How was this amazing success possible? First, a bit of background about ADVO's business. In delivering its advertising circulars, ADVO utilizes a little white card that functions as the address label and is detached from the advertising package itself. Most of us probably wouldn't have seen much in those cards. But Vince Giuliano saw in those cards an opportunity. Because he realized that those cards reach a huge portion of the American public—today they are seen by over 150 million Americans living in more than 60 million homes every week, and reach another 13 million homes through ADVO's direct mail partners—he saw possibility. He saw in that huge distribution network an opportunity to help find America's missing and exploited children.

Mr. Giuliano developed a public service program through which ADVO printed the pictures of missing children on those address cards. The U.S. Postal Service is a proud partner with ADVO, having changed its regulations in 1985 to allow pictures and data provided by the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children to appear on the cards.

In addition to the obvious benefit of finding missing children, the program makes other contributions. The pictures of the missing children on the cards help raise public awareness and sensitivity to the problem of missing and exploited children. In addition, the program serves as a powerful deterrent to would-be abductors, to whom this program states, "You can run, but you can't hide." And, this program makes sure that no child is forgotten no matter how long he or she has been missing.

Accompanying Mr. Giuliano as he spoke to the Caucus was Krystle Bondello of Warminster, Pennsylvania. She is the living embodiment of the success of this program. She was abducted by her non-custodial father in 1993 and has been the subject of a nationwide search by police and the FBI. After no leads turned up in the case, Krystle appeared on one of the ADVO fliers which at that time reached 57 million homes.

Within a couple of hours of the deliveries of those cards, the FBI tracked her father to California and Krystle was ultimately recovered and reunited with her mother.

Because of so many success stories like Krystle's, this program has been widely and deservedly praised. It won the award of excellence from the Adam Walsh Child Resource Center on January 28, 1986. On July 23, 1987, President Reagan presented ADVO the Steuben Glass Tetrahedron, the most prestigious Presidential Award for Private Sector Initiatives. On September 24, 1987 he honored ADVO with the President's Child Safety Partnership Award.

President Bush and Congressional leaders celebrated National Missing Children's Day and the fifth anniversary of the program by honoring three "Unsung Heroes" for their role in helping to reunite missing children with their families with a Capitol Hill ceremony on May 25, 1990.

ADVO recently added an innovative enhancement to the program in hopes of recovering more missing children. It now targets its photo distribution to leverage the NCMEC's and the FBI's intelligence, when possible, on the likely whereabouts of a missing child. A photo can now be pinpointed to one of six regions in the country, or distributed nationwide over a six-week period.

If imitation is, indeed, the most sincere form of flattery, the folks at ADVO deserve to feel flattered. Other organizations—including several Members of Congress—have recognized the effectiveness of ADVO's program and are starting spin-off programs of their own. For example, my office recently began working with NCMEC and the New York State Missing & Exploited Children Clearinghouse to identify three children from my congressional district who are currently missing. Soon, the envelopes sent from my office will bear the photos of those kids in an effort to raise awareness and perhaps locate and recover them.

I want to take this opportunity to praise ADVO for its spirit of innovation and for caring enough to work to tackle this heartbreaking and seemingly intractable problem. I also want to commend the United States Postal Service, for amending its regulations to allow that creative spirit to flourish. The National Center for Missing and Exploited Children, The Adam Walsh Child Resource Center, and The Juvenile Division of the Department of Justice are all cooperating organizations and are also deserving of our thanks. Finally, I wish to commend and to thank all of the noble Americans who took it upon themselves to look at these cards and contact the authorities with information. Without this final ingredient of citizen participation, these amazing results would not have been possible.

HONORING THE FILIPINO COMMUNITY OF DELANO, CA ON THEIR 24th ANNUAL PHILIPPINE WEEK-END FESTIVAL

HON. CALVIN M. DOOLEY

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, July 20, 1998

Mr. DOOLEY of California. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor an entire community in Kern County, California, at the Southern end of the 20th district. For twenty-four years, the unique Philippine Weekend Festival has been a way for the Filipino community of Delano to celebrate their culture and traditions over three full days.

The festival is the largest Filipino cultural event held in the state of California, attracting over 10,000 people each year. Founded in 1975 by members of the Filipino Athletic League in Delano, the concept sought to bring community unity to the local Filipino populations: the manongs, or island-born, the mestizos, or U.S.-born, and the younger new immigrants in addition to already established and emerging Filipino organizations.

Today, twenty-four years after its grassroots beginnings, a formal board of directors and two standing committees (the Philippine Weekend Committee and the Filipino Athletic League) oversee the more than twenty events which make up the celebration. A dynamic mix of young and old, male and female, rich and poor, gather together in an annual show of driving energy and creativity to celebrate Kern County's rich Filipino heritage.

I am proud to be able to attend this remarkable event this year, as I have in years past, to join in celebrating the Filipino culture and traditions, and to take part in helping to keep those traditions alive. The Filipino community of Delano, and all across the San Joaquin Valley, is to be commended for their hard work on continuing to sponsor this wonderful event, and their profound sense of community strength and cultural unity. Congratulations on the 24th Annual Philippine Weekend Festival, and may there be many more to come!

HONORING ADMIRAL THOMAS T. MATTESON

HON. GARY L. ACKERMAN

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, July 20, 1998

Mr. ACKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor RADM Thomas T. Matteson, USMS, who, on July 21, 1998, will retire from the position of Superintendent of the Merchant Marine Academy (USMMA) after a total of 41 years of federal service to our nation.

While others might have sought permanent retirement after 36 years of active duty in the Coast Guard, RADM Matteson chose to continue to serve America at the United States Merchant Marine Academy. RADM Matteson was on the bridge for five years navigating through perilous and uncharted waters. As he quickly became familiar with the dynamics of the vast maritime and intermodal transportation industry, he strove to ensure that the USMMA's program produced graduates that would serve America's global economic and defense needs.

His time as Superintendent has not been easy. Early in his command he faced the possible closure of the Academy. Congressional action resolved this issue at the same time that RADM Matteson ensured the Academy received its ten-year accreditation. In addition, tight federal fiscal policy required good and sometimes creative stewardship to ensure the effects of level funding did not adversely impact the Academy's academic program.

During his tenure at the Merchant Marine Academy, Admiral Matterson strove to create a better learning and personal environment for the midshipmen. His guiding hand enhanced the curriculum by creating the new Shipyard and Engineering Management, and Intermodal Transportation majors, and by planning the evolution of a trimester system. Along with his wife Dottie, RADM Matteson strengthened the bond between the Academy's leadership and the regiment by personally cooking hundreds of meals in his home for the future leaders of America, the academy's midshipmen.

By traveling around the country to meet with the Academy's alumni body, RADM Matteson discussed the needs of the Academy and supported the need for the Alumni Associations Superintendents Campaign for Excellence, an endowment campaign to fund academic excellence, curriculum development, new technology and learning systems, and leadership training at the United States Merchant Marine Academy.

Today, thanks to the devotion of RADM Matteson, the United States Merchant Marine Academy continues to be the most cost-effective federal academy, whose graduates serve our nation for many years beyond their required commitment. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues in the House of Representatives to rise and join with me today in wishing RADM Matteson and his wife fair winds, following seas, a joyous retirement.

TRIBUTE TO BOBBIE BYRD

HON. GEORGE P. RADANOVICH

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, July 20, 1998

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Bobbie Byrd on the occasion of her 100th Birthday. The event will be celebrated on August 1, 1998.

Bobbie Byrd was born in Linden, Tennessee on August 1, 1898. She spent the first 35 years of her life performing the rugged chores of farm life with her family. After marriage to Hurshell M. Byrd, she moved to Fresno, California.

Bobbie Byrd's grandfather fought in the Civil War, and her brother J.E. Marvin served in the U.S. Navy during World War I. Her husband, H. M. Byrd, was in the Naval battle at Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941. After her husband was discharged from the United States Navy because of wounds he received in the battle in the South Pacific theatre, Mrs. Byrd and family moved to Richmond, California. There the entire family worked hard to support the war effort in the U.S. Navy ships yards. Bobbie Byrd played the role of babysitter for several children so that family members could work to build ships in support of the national defense.

At the end of World War II, the Byrd family returned to Fresno and Mrs. Byrd's time was completely occupied with caring for her family and installing in them a value system which formed a strong family and therefore a strong nation. She is still a vital part of her family which includes two granddaughters and four great grandsons.

Mr. Speaker, it is with great honor that I pay tribute to Bobbie Byrd on her 100th birthday. Mrs. Byrd's dedication to her family and her country serve as a great role model for all Americans. I ask my colleagues to join me in wishing Mrs. Byrd best wishes for the future.

IN HONOR OF PIPEFITTERS LOCAL UNION #120

HON. DENNIS J. KUCINICH

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, July 20, 1998

Mr. KUCINICH. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in honor of Pipefitters Local Union, #120, in Cleveland, Ohio. After one hundred years in existence, the union still successfully protects the lives, health, and honor of its members and their families.

Since its beginning, Pipefitters Local Union #120 has worked to defend its members' rights by advocating reasonable working hours, higher pay, and increased job security. After WWII, the union was one of the first locals to champion the novel idea of incorporating more apprenticeships and training programs in their field. This promising idea resulted in literally tens of thousands of new talented Americans becoming apprentice pipefitters. Having witnessed the day-to-day hard work and dedication to their craft, it is clear to me that members of the Pipefitters Local Union #120 bring skills, training and integrity to every job.

As technology has changed, pipefitters have used new methods and materials, meeting demands for safer and more efficient systems. Pipefitters bring the technology to ensure safety, improve health, and protect lives to each new home or office in Cleveland. Pipefitters Local #120 is responsible for parts in the heating, air conditioning and fire safety systems in Cuyahoga County, and its four surrounding counties. Every day, every citizen of northeast Ohio is touched by the good work of this union local.

Currently, Pipefitters Local #120 is working on many new and exciting projects, such as Cleveland's new football stadium, NASA, and renovations at the Cleveland Clinic and Cleveland Hopkins Airport. Their mark is surely being left on the Greater Cleveland area, and I applaud them for the contributions they make to the local community.

After a century, Pipefitters Local still stands strong, prepared and willing to meet the challenges that await. One hundred years of hard work surely deserves recognition, and I wish the men and women of Pipefitters Local Union #120 the best in the years to come.

We owe them a debt of gratitude.

MAINTAIN INTERNATIONAL SPACE STATION FUNDING

HON. BENJAMIN A. GILMAN

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, July 20, 1998

Mr. GILMAN. Mr. Speaker, today I rise to oppose the proposed amendment by Rep. Roemer, eliminating the funding for an International Space Station (ISS). The funding for this project has undergone a thorough investigation and found to be justifiable. Having developed much of the hardware that is needed for the ISS, it is senseless to eliminate the funding that would have allowed NASA to utilize this hardware. As we debate this amendment, the hardware for the first three flights are awaiting a launch in Florida.

Each NASA launch brings a tremendous amount of research benefits back to our country. Medical research done in space, and technology developed for astronauts by NASA, have substantially benefited medical care here on Earth. NASA's research has led to the development of a voice activated wheelchair for paralyzed patients who cannot control a chair manually. Symptoms that arise from diseases such as multiple sclerosis, cerebral palsy, and spina bifida, have been improved due to a custom-made cooling suit used in astronaut space suits. Modern methods of examining breast tissue, without a surgical biopsy, can be attributed to NASA, as well as Ultrasound scanners that play a key role in diagnosing the treatment of severe burns.

We often take for granted information that is available to us on a regular basis because of NASA and space exploration. Accurate weather reports of severe storms, down to the exact time a high or low pressure system will hit a certain locale, are derived from the Barorator, a tool developed for the Space Shuttle. Alternative farming methods such as hydroponics are worked on in space because of the potential uses on and off of the orbiters.

The desire for renewable energy methods has become more prevalent around the world. Solar energy, through a photo-voltaic power system, was developed for various spacecraft applications. This system has been used to supply power to isolated villages, communication systems, various military systems, and a variety of other services in areas where no conventional power source exists. This photo-voltaic system is constantly being improved.

Aside from these practical medical and social benefits to the ISS, there is a clear political benefit. It serves as a force to unify all of the space-faring nations of the world. The International Space Station is the largest scientific cooperative program in history, bringing together 16 nations, thus providing international commercial opportunities for the United States. It would become a serious problem for the United States to withdraw from their commitment to the Space Station. It would cost a significant amount of money, almost a billion dollars, just to terminate the program contracts.

An independent cost evaluation team went through a detailed, exact investigation of the ISS program. This Cost Assessment and Validation Task Force praised the ISS management team because of its resourceful methods of managing the challenges associated with an international partnership of this magnitude.

There is so much empirical evidence that the benefits from space exploration outweigh the costs. Cutting future funding would not just be a sheer waste of hardware already developed, but a huge waste of potential as well. Accordingly, I urge my colleagues to celebrate our space work and applaud NASA's efforts by voting against the Roemer amendment.

CONGRATULATING THE JESUITS OF THE MISSOURI PROVINCE

HON. JAMES M. TALENT

OF MISSOURI

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, July 20, 1998

Mr. TALENT. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Jesuits of the Missouri Province as they celebrate the 175th anniversary of the arrival of Jesuits to the St. Louis area. It is a true privilege for me to recognize the many important accomplishments and achievements which have marked the Jesuit presence in the St. Louis area and throughout the entire Midwest.

In May of 1823, a small group of Belgian Jesuits completed their journey from Maryland to St. Louis, to take possession of a farm given to them by the Bishop of the Territory, William Louis Valentine DuBourg. They had originally come here to assist Bishop DuBourg in the establishment of an Indian School, an effort which was endorsed by President Monroe and Indian Commissioner General William. Although the Indian School proved to be an unsuccessful venture, the school was converted into the St. Stanislaus Seminary and would train young Jesuits until 1968.

In 1840, the Jesuit brothers and priests began work on a permanent structure made of limestone. This structure, known as the "Rock Building," still stands today and is the current home of the Jesuit Museum. The Jesuit Museum houses memorabilia of numerous Jesuits who have lived there since 1823. One of the more famous residents of the site was Father Peter John DeSmet, who served as a missionary with many Indian tribes in the plains and northwest. Among his many accomplishments, was a detailed map he provided the U.S. Department of the Interior indicating the location of various Indian tribes. Other famous Jesuits include Fr. Peter Verhaegen who became president of St. Louis University, and Fr. John Elet, who also served as president of St. Louis University and was the founder of Xavier University in Cincinnati.

Countless other Jesuits of the Missouri Province have made a lasting impact in this region by serving as missionaries and founding a number of parishes in the lower Missouri River Valley. Little did that small group of Jesuits realize that their arrival in 1823, would lead to the expansion of the Jesuit presence throughout the Midwest.

Mr. Speaker, I ask that you join me in congratulating the Jesuits of the Missouri Province on their 175th anniversary in St. Louis. I also ask that you join me in thanking them for their countless contributions to this region. Their efforts are truly an inspiration and source of pride for all residents of Missouri.

MR. RONALD A. BELFIGLIO'S
RETIREMENT FROM CITIBANK

HON. THOMAS J. MANTON

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, July 20, 1998

Mr. MANTON. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the vital contributions to New York City made by Mr. Ronald A. Belfiglio throughout his distinguished career with Citibank. Mr. Belfiglio is today celebrating his retirement from the position of Division Executive for Citibank's Corporate Realty Services.

As the head of the Corporate Realty Services Division, Mr. Belfiglio was responsible for 2,500 office and branch locations in 33 countries, in-house architectural, engineering and construction supervision, acquisition and divestiture of space, long range space planning, oversight of 900 employees, and an operations and capital budget totaling over $3.5 billion.

It is through Ronald Belfiglio's vision and leadership that Citibank continues to be a model corporate citizen. The budget of the Corporate Realty Services Division allowed for all the amenities and services provided to the community in the eight years since Citibank's Court Square headquarters has been in existence. These amenities include the construction of a Public Library in Citibank's Court Square building, art exhibition space, as well as providing a welcoming environment at Citibank for the Queens community.

Further, because of Mr. Belfiglio's concern for Court Square's neighbors, Citibank has provided generous grants to various community and civic organizations. In fact, since 1989, over $500,000 in grants has been given to neighborhood organizations within my Congressional District's local Community Planning Board #2.

It is with gratitude that I rise today to recognize Mr. Belfiglio's distinguished career and indispensable contributions to the Queens' community. His leadership and awareness have ensured that Citibank's Court Square is not simply an impersonal corporate center, but a vital part of and generous contributor to the surrounding community.

Mr. Speaker, I know my colleagues join me in congratulating Mr. Ronald Belfiglio on his outstanding achievements and wishing him well on his retirement.

FEDERAL EMPLOYEE CHILD CARE
AFFORDABILITY ACT

HON. CONSTANCE A. MORELLA

OF MARYLAND

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, July 20, 1998

Mrs. MORELLA. Mr. Speaker, I rise to introduce legislation to allow agencies to use their salary and expense accounts to help federal employees pay for child care. Balancing work and family has become increasingly difficult for families, and federal employees are no exception.

My legislation will provide opportunities for federal agencies to help provide quality child care for their employees' children. The legislation I am introducing today will be marked up in the Civil Service subcommittee, on which I serve, on Tuesday, July 21, and in the Government Reform and Oversight Committee on Thursday, July 23.

I have worked with the Office of Personnel Management to develop this legislation. Several agencies, including the Social Security Administration, Department of Justice, Department of Defense, and the Office of Personnel Management, have requested such authority from OPM. OPM cannot grant this authority; we must legislate this simple change.

This legislation does not require any additional appropriations. It would be up to individual agencies to determine whether or not to use funds from their salary and expense appropriations to help provide child care. Agencies—not employees—would make payments to child care providers to help lower-income federal employees pay for their child care.

Such child care benefits are already being provided to military employees—with a separate line item, which is more than my legislation would provide. The Department of Defense, one of the agencies seeking such the authority to help its employees with child care costs, has pointed out that they can provide child care benefits to their military employees but not the civil servants working side by side.

Many federal employees are caught in a serious child care crunch. A recent study showed that one-quarter of all federal workers had children under the age of six needing care at some time during the work day. During a recent hearing in Congressman Steve Horn's subcommittee, testimony revealed that some federal child care facilities charge up to $10,000 or more per child per year. Many federal employees simply cannot afford quality child care. By allowing agencies the flexibility to help their workers meet their child care needs, we will be encouraging family-friendly workplaces and higher productivity. I encourage my colleagues to join me in supporting this legislation to help federal employees and agencies meet their child care needs.

SONNY BONO MEMORIAL SALTON SEA RECLAMATION ACT

SPEECH OF

HON. GEORGE E. BROWN, JR.

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, July 15, 1998

Mr. BROWN of California. Mr. Speaker, I fully support the restoration of the Salton Sea and have worked with my colleagues for some time in furtherance of that goal. I am a co-sponsor of this bill, the Sonny Bono Salton Sea Reclamation Act, and when it was introduced I had hoped that we could proceed quickly in a bipartisan effort to produce a bill that all Members of the House could support. The introduced bill had provisions I was not happy with, but in the spirit of compromise I went along, believing that it could be improved as it moved through the Resources Committee. Obviously, that has not happened. In fact, the bill has picked up more contention, leaving us with much work to do to resolve the differences of opinion about how we should proceed to restore this unique and valuable ecosystem.

I would like to highlight the fact that despite the differences that have been discussed, there is much we agree upon. At the start of this Congress, there were few Members who had ever heard of the Salton Sea. Now, thanks to the efforts of our departed colleague, Representative Sonny Bono, and the other Members of the Salton Sea Task Force, Congress is aware, not only of its location, but of its catastrophic problems.

I believe we have a unanimous bipartisan commitment to address the Salton Sea's problems. We all went to see the Salton Sea restored and maintained as a viable ecosystem which enhances the quality of life for the residents of southern California and which supports a diversity of economic activity in this region. Our challenge is to work together to achieve that goal.

The Salton Sea is a valuable national and international resource. It is an important resting and feeding area for birds migrating along the Pacific flyway. It once supported a vibrant recreational economy. It is, can be, and should be much more than a receptacle for agricultural runoff and for polluted New and Alamo River water.

While there are those who have been aware for some time that the Sea was in trouble, there has been a failure to act. The death of migratory birds and repeated fish-kills has brought national attention to this issue. If we continue our present policy of no action, I fear the bird and fish deaths will be but a few of the negative environmental consequences that will become apparent to all of us.

One of those negative consequences, in a slightly longer time frame, will result from the export of conserved agricultural water to urban users, and the treatment and re-use by Mexico of water now flowing across the U.S.-Mexico border which may cause the Salton Sea to shrink by as much as one quarter. This will expose a hundred square miles or more of highly polluted sea bottom to blowing winds, as has already happened in the very similar case of Owen's Lake. The cost of mitigating the environmental damage resulting from such decrease in area of the sea could easily reach 100 million dollars per year, far more than the cost of stabilizing the level of the sea at an elevation close to its present elevation.

Now with all of the agreement on the need for rapid environmental mitigation, I am deeply disappointed in the bill produced by the Resources Committee and the manager's amendment which was adopted last Wednesday. A number of provisions in the reported bill and the amendment cause problems: the inappropriate authorization of EPA funds; the Clean Water Act permit exemption; the broad liability exemption for local water district activities; the complex and probably unconstitutional provisions for triggering a construction authorization for a not yet defined, or designed, technological fix. These provisions are all inappropriate. They have drawn severe criticism from the environmental community and the Administration and that criticism is warranted.

Some of what my colleagues may view as my abandonment of this bill is due to my naïve faith that the problems which I have described would be corrected. It was not apparent to me until I reviewed a copy of the substitute amendment early last week that such was not the case. Some of the fault is mine and I regret that I was not clearer in emphasizing the failings of the reported bill to my fellow members of the Task Force. However, I would point out that these issues had been raised to us and in the Resources Committee by the Administration and the environmental community for some time prior to this bill's coming to the floor.

Last week I found myself in the unfortunate situation of seeking to fix a bill on the floor that should have been fixed by the manager's amendment. Although the substitute that Mr. Miller and I offered failed, I reluctantly supported the bill, fully aware that it has no real opportunity to be enacted into law and still having major concerns with its provisions. I realize that my fellow Task Force Members are disappointed that I cosponsored a substitute amendment, but I felt I had to take the last opportunity I had in the House to produce a bill that could proceed beyond House passage; a bill that would have a chance to gain broad, bipartisan support; a bill that would gain the endorsement, and not the wrath, of the environmental community; a bill that would be rapidly moved through the Senate and enthusiastically received by the Administration. In short, a bill that could become a law.

As an original co-sponsor of this legislation, I feel an obligation to move the process forward in this Congress. It is my hope that we can find a clear bipartisan solution in the Senate. I supported the bill last week on final passage with great reluctance, hoping that the Senate will perfect the bill. However, should the remaining legislative work on this bill in the Senate return a Conference Report that has not removed the provisions I have mentioned or return the existing bill, I will oppose enactment of the legislation.

I want my colleagues to know what a painful situation this puts me in. I grew up in the Salton Sea basin, in the Imperial Valley. I feel some sense of history and personal responsibility in cleaning up the Salton Sea and in finishing the work in which our former colleague, Sonny Bono, was so deeply involved. But I cannot stand by and let this effort be endangered by legislation that has failed to meet the standard that Sonny would have set, namely to be meritorious enough to gain easy bipartisan and bicameral support. It is my hope that we can accomplish that goal in the near future.

RECOGNIZING CHARLES B.
ALLISON UPON HIS RETIREMENT

HON. ED BRYANT

OF TENNESSEE

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, July 20, 1998

Mr. BRYANT. Mr. Speaker, it is always an honor to recognize outstanding citizens out of my own 7th district of Tennessee. Today, it is indeed an honor and a privilege for me to recognize one such citizen.

Charles B. Allison was born on December 12, 1942, in Austinville, Virginia. He graduated with an accounting degree from Ben Franklin University in Washington, D.C. while being employed by the Bureau in a clerical capacity, having entered on duty June 19, 1961. Chuck's first duty assignment as a Special Agent was in 1968 in Louisville, Kentucky, where he also served several months in the Richmond Resident Agency.

He thereafter was transferred to Newark, New Jersey, in 1969 and served in the Newark Division until June of 1977. He was then transferred to the Memphis, TN, FBI Office where he is currently serving as a Supervisory Special Agent of the Organized Crime and Drug Squad. Mr. Allison is retiring on July 31, 1998 after 37 years of dedicated service to the FBI.

Mr. Allison and his wife, Janet, have two children, Jill and Greg. Jill, a registered nurse, is married to Dr. Camp Newton and they are both employed at Baxter County Regional Hospital in Mountain Home, Arkansas. Greg is a graduate of the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, and is currently employed by the C.H. Robinson Company in Nashville, TN.

I would like to thank the Chair for this time to recognize this exceptional American citizen.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. ADAM SMITH

OF WASHINGTON

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, July 20, 1998

Mr. ADAM SMITH of Washington. Mr. Speaker, on June 22 this House voted to approve H. Res. 452, expressing the sense of the House that the Postal Service should not raise its rates. My vote was mistakenly recorded as "No." I would like to express my support for the H. Res. 452 and emphasize that I do not believe the Postal Service should raise its rates at this time.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. JOHN T. DOOLITTLE

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, July 20, 1998

Mr. DOOLITTLE. Mr. Speaker, due to an illness I was absent on Friday, July 17, 1998. Had I been present, I would have voted "Nay" on rollcall vote No. 295 and "Aye" on rollcall vote No. 296.

TRIBUTE TO THE BETANCES CADETS FOR ITS FIRST GRADUATION CEREMONY

HON. JOSÉ E. SERRANO

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, July 20, 1998

Mr. SERRANO. Mr. Speaker, I rise to pay tribute to the Betances Cadets, an invaluable Bronx institution, which celebrated its 18th Graduation Ceremony on Saturday, July 18, 1998.

Six months ago, under the leadership of "General" Carlos Quintana and his staff, the Betances Cadets was established. The program takes kids off the street and prepares them for real-life experience through a military-style program. It gives them the opportunity to apply academic lessons as they experience real-life situations, bring real-life lessons back to the classroom, become problem solvers, understand the need for responsibility, and develop leadership ability. Today, the program has 64 students and 9 staff members.

Three cadets, Amanda Perez, Jose Barreto and Tanairis Noriega were recognized for academic achievement during the graduation.

Mr. Speaker, I have the privilege of representing the 16th district of New York where the Betances Cadets is located and I am delighted by its early success. I ask my colleagues to join me in paying tribute to the Betances Cadets, to the staff and parents, and to the students, whose ambition and hard work will make this great institution a tremendous source of pride and success for years to come.

CELEBRATING THE SESQUICENTENNIAL OF DOWAGIAC, MI

HON. FRED UPTON

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, July 20, 1998

Mr. UPTON. Mr. Speaker, it is a great pleasure for me to rise today to mark the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the City of Dowagiac, Michigan. On February 16, 1848, the city's founding fathers received official recognition, giving birth to a dynamic community that has been thriving ever since.

Over the past century and a half, Dowagiac has served as a focal point for southwest Michigan's progress and development. Many industries have found Dowagiac a great place to do business. They know that if you want the job done right, you get it done in Dowagiac. Home to the campus of Southwest Michigan College and a great school district, Dowagiac is helping the next generation chart a course to the future.

Dowagiac has seen a lot of change during the years. But in times of war and peace, prosperity and tough-times, there is one thing that remains constant. The people of Dowagiac have always cared for each other as neighbors and as a community. We realize that we cannot move forward until we move together. The city was founded in this spirit—it has allowed our town to thrive and will ensure its continued success for many years to come.

I urge my colleagues to join me in recognizing this great American town and wishing the entire community another one hundred and fifty years of success.

U.S.-TAIWAN RELATIONS

HON. LINDA SMITH

OF WASHINGTON

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, July 20, 1998

Mrs. LINDA SMITH of Washington. Mr. Speaker, I was appalled to hear on June 30, 1998 President Clinton affirm China's "three nos" concerning Taiwan. Specifically, he said: "We don't support independence for Taiwan, or two Chinas; or one Taiwan, one China; and we don't believe that Taiwan should be a member in any organization for which statehood is a requirement."

Sadly, the President turned his back on 22 million people who live in democracy. What kind of message are we sending to the emerging democracies of the world? Are we going to turn our backs on these nations for political expediency?

Today, by a vote of 390 to 1 the House of Representatives voted to affirm U.S. commitment to Taiwan in accordance with the Taiwan Relations Act. The Taiwan Relations Act, passed by Congress and signed into law in the immediate aftermath of the 1979 recognition of mainland China, says that the United States will view any attempt to determine Taiwan's future by other than peaceful means, including by boycotts or embargoes, as a threat to the peace and security of the Western Pacific area and of grave concern to the United States.

Furthermore, H. Con. Res. 301 expresses the sense of Congress that the future status of Taiwan will be determined by peaceful means and that Chinese on both sides of the Taiwan Strait should determine their own future. Importantly, it states that we should make available to Taiwan "defense articles and defense service," including appropriate ballistic missile defenses. Taiwan should also be able to have appropriate membership in international financial institutions.

The people of Taiwan have worked hard and sacrificed for their democracy. Taiwan transformed itself into a democracy with a multiparty parliament and a popularly elected head of state, the first in all the millenniums of Chinese political experience. In the end, Taiwan's future is not a matter for President Clinton, the American government or Beijing. It is a matter solely for the government and people of Taiwan to decide.

JUDGE SILBERMAN'S ATTACK ON THE ATTORNEY GENERAL COMES UNDER CRITICISM

HON. JOHN CONYERS, JR.

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, July 20, 1998

Mr. CONYERS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to enter into the record the following editorial that appeared today in the Washington Post. This article quite rightly criticizes D.C. Court of Appeals Judge Laurence Silberman's opinion issued last week in response to the Justice Department's request for a stay of the lower court order requiring several Secret Service agents to testify before the grand jury.

As this editorial makes clear, Judge Silberman's broad view of the powers of the independent counsel is completely insupportable. The editorial also helpfully reminds us that Judge Silberman once struck down the Independent Counsel Act as unconstitutional, but was later reversed by the Supreme Court. Judge Silberman's insistence on construing the Independent Counsel Act as broadly as possible, therefore, appears to be another chapter in an old argument that has long since been lost. This editorial provides some important context to Judge Silberman's intemperate attacks on the Justice Department's good-faith representation of the Secret Service.

[From the Washington Post, July 20, 1998]

A POWER NOT VESTED IN THE CONSTITUTION

(By Benjamin Wittes)

Judge Laurence Silberman's extraordinary concurrence in last week's Court of Appeals decision concerning grand jury testimony by Secret Service agents grabbed headlines for its vituperative rhetoric. The judge cast aspersions on Attorney General Janet Reno, saying she was "acting as the President's counsel under the false guise of representing the United States." And Silberman also accused "the President's agents [of] literally and figuratively 'declar[ing] war' on the Independence Counsel."

Silberman's overheated rhetoric, however, was not the most remarkable aspect of his opinion—which, as a mere concurrence, fortunately does not have the force of law. As a prominent conservative jurist, Silberman is an advocate of judicial restraint, yet his opinion Thursday was almost a prototype of activist judging. Indeed, the judge opined on a matter the parties had not squarely presented him. And, having reached its merits unnecessarily, he issued an opinion with constitutional implications for the independent counsel statute, a law that was upheld unequivocally by the Supreme Court in the 1988 case known as Morrison v. Olson. Silberman's opinion is more dramatic still, because the high court's holding in Morrison reversed an appeals court decision written by none other than Laurence Silberman himself.

Silberman's opinion does not directly attack the constitutionality of the independent counsel statute. Though he gripes about it, the judge is, after all, bound by the Morrison precedent. But by asserting that the attorney general legally cannot litigate against Kenneth Starr on behalf of the Secret Service, he attacks the statute through a back door. Silberman's opinion, were it actually law, would grant Starr such immense power that his role could no longer be constitutional under the vision of the independent counsel the Supreme Court upheld in Morrison.

Silberman's decision 10 years ago held that the independent law unconstitutionally breached the separation of powers. The theory of his lengthy and elegant decision was that the Constitution vests the power of the executive branch in the president and that an executive branch officer independent of the president is a derogation of the president's exclusive sphere. The independent counsel, as a prosecutor named by a panel of judges, he reasoned, cannot constitutionally wield the prosecutorial powers of the executive branch.

The Supreme Court, however, disagreed. In Morrison, Chief Justice William Rehnquist held that an independent counsel is a constitutional beast known as an "inferior officer" of the executive branch. Inferior officers, under the Constitution, can be appointed by courts. And the high court deemed Independent Counsel Alexia Morrison to have this subordinate status because of her limited jurisdiction, her being subject to removal by the attorney general under certain circumstances, and her obligation to follow the policies of the Department of Justice. Starr, in other words, can exist constitutionally only as long as he remains such an "inferior officer." The moment he becomes anything grander, his independence from the president would render him constitutionally defective.

Silberman understands the requirements of Morrison as well as anyone. Yet his latest opinion would inflate the balloon of Starr's authority well past the point where his constitutionality would burst. The law gives the independent counsel "full power and independent authority to exercise all investigative and prosecutorial functions and powers of the Department of Justice [and] the Attorney General." And Silberman reasons that if Starr is acting as the attorney general in the areas within his mandate, Reno cannot also be the attorney general for those areas. She must, therefore, bow out: "It seems clear to me then that no one in the United States Government, speaking for the government, has standing to oppose the Independent Counsel in [the Secret Service] proceeding. . . . That, as should be apparent, means that it is up to the Independent Counsel—the surrogate Attorney General in this matter—to decide whether the 'privilege' asserted by the Secret Service as a government entity should be recognized."

This description of Starr's power hardly sounds like an inferior officer. Quite the contrary. In Silberman's vision, Starr is an officer of titanic executive power, who can operate not only entirely as he pleases with respect to Justice Department policies (for no one can oppose him) but can also decide the behavior of other parts of the executive branch. If Starr really can arbitrate his own dispute with the Secret Service—and, by extension, with any other federal agency—he would usurp enormous executive authority. But were this the true scope of his power, the constitutionality under Morrison of his office would evaporate.

Silberman's history on this issue makes his recent opinion all the more astonishing. By describing Starr's power in such a way as to make it inconsistent with the limited independence on which the Supreme Court predicated the constitutionality of the law, Silberman subtly would rehabilitate his own earlier opinion striking down the law. So even while Silberman bashes the integrity of the administration, his logic would make its greatest adversary impossible.

HONORING DON A. HORN

HON. GENE GREEN

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, July 20, 1998

Mr. GREEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay special tribute to a community leader, a friend, and a legend in Houston's labor movement. Don Horn became a union member in 1945 when he joined the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers in Houston. Don's leadership positions in Local 716 included

President, member of the Executive Board, and Business Representative.

In recognition of his hard work and dedication to the members of Local 716, the Harris County AFL–CIO Executive Board elected him as Secretary-Treasurer in 1965, a position he held until his retirement in 1995. During his 30 years as Secretary-Treasurer, he also served the Texas AFL–CIO, both as a member of the Executive Board and as a Trustee.

Don has not only been a leader in the labor movement, he has been a leader in the community. He served for many years on the United Way Board of Trustees and as a Boy Scout Leader. In addition, Don served 10 years on the Harris County Hospital Board and was instrumental in the creation of the Neighborhood Health Centers, which have brought quality medical care to all parts of Harris County.

Don continued his work for quality health care as Consumer Representative of the Texas State Health Board. In fact, he once took former Texas Lieutenant Governor Bill Hobby with him on an unannounced inspection of a nursing home, a trip which led to a statewide reexamination of nursing home practices.

Don is a graduate of the University of Houston. Currently, he serves on the City of Houston's Ethics Committee. Three years after his retirement, he is still active in the labor movement and still organizes union retirees for the Harris County AFL–CIO.

Mr. Speaker, Don's work as a labor leader and as a community leader have earned him a special place in the hearts of all Texans. The Nation could use more people like Don Horn.

SENATE COMMITTEE MEETINGS

Title IV of Senate Resolution 4, agreed to by the Senate on February 4, 1977, calls for establishment of a system for a computerized schedule of all meetings and hearings of Senate committees, subcommittees, joint committees, and committees of conference. This title requires all such committees to notify the Office of the Senate Daily Digest—designated by the Rules Committee—of the time, place, and purpose of the meetings, when scheduled, and any cancellations or changes in the meetings as they occur.

As an additional procedure along with the computerization of this information, the Office of the Senate Daily Digest will prepare this information for printing in the Extensions of Remarks section of the Congressional Record on Monday and Wednesday of each week.

Meetings scheduled for Tuesday, July 21, 1998, may be found in the Daily Digest of today's Record.

Committee Meetings

STATE OF CANCER RESEARCH

Committee on Commerce: Subcommittee on Health and Environment held a hearing on The State of Cancer Research. Testimony was heard from the following officials of the National Cancer Institute, NIH, Department of Health and Human Services: Edison Liu, M.D., Director, Division of Clinical Sciences; and Steven A. Rosenberg, M.D., Chief of Surgery; and public witnesses.

INTERIOR APPROPRIATIONS

Committee on Rules: The Committee granted, by voice vote, an open rule on H.R. 4193, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1999, providing one hour of general debate equally divided between the chairman and ranking minority member of the Committee on Appropriations. The rule waives section 306 (prohibiting matters within the jurisdiction of the Budget Committee in a measure not reported by it) or 401 (prohibiting consideration of budget-related legislation, as reported, that is not subject to appropriations) of the Budget Act against consideration of the bill. The rule provides that the amendments printed in the Rules Committee report accompanying the resolution shall be considered as adopted.

The rule waives clause 2 (prohibiting unauthorized appropriations and legislative provisions) and clause 6 (prohibiting reappropriations in an appropriations bill) of rule XXI against the bill except as follows: page 88, line 10, through page 89, line 6 (NEA). The rule makes in order those amendments printed in the Rules Committee report, which shall be considered as read, shall be debatable for the time specified in the report equally divided between a proponent and an opponent, and shall not be subject to amendment. The rule waives all points of order against the amendments printed in the Rules Committee report. The rule authorizes the Chair to accord priority in recognition to Members who have preprinted their amendments in the Congressional Record. The rule allows for the Chairman of the Committee of the Whole to postpone votes during consideration of the bill, and to reduce voting time to five minutes on a postponed question if the vote follows a fifteen minute vote. The rule waives clause 2(e) of rule XXI prohibiting non-emergency amendments to be offered to a bill containing an emergency designation under the Budget Act) against amendment to the bill. Finally, the rule provides one motion to recommit, with or without instructions.
