(b) FEDERAL LIABILITY FOR DAMAGE.—Nothing in this title relieves the Federal Government of liability for damage to private land caused by the operation of the Pick-Sloan Missouri River Basin program.

(c) FLOOD CONTROL.—Notwithstanding any other provision of this title, the Secretary shall retain the authority to operate the Pick-Sloan Missouri River Basin program for purposes of meeting the requirements of the Act of December 22, 1944 (58 Stat. 887, chapter 665; 33 U.S.C. 701–1 et seq.).

SEC. 608. STUDY.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall arrange for the United States Geological Survey, in consultation with the Bureau of Indian Affairs and other appropriate Federal agencies, to conduct a comprehensive study of the potential impacts of the transfer of land under sections 805(b) and 806(b), including potential impacts on South Dakota Sioux Tribes having water claims within the Missouri River Basin, on water flows in the Missouri River.

(b) NO TRANSFER PENDING DETERMINATION.—No transfer of land under section 805(b) or 806(b) shall occur until the Secretary determines, based on the study, that the transfer of land under either section will not significantly reduce the amount of water flow to the downstream States of the Missouri River.

SEC. 609. AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.

(a) SECRETARY.—There are authorized to be appropriated to the Secretary such sums as are necessary—

(1) to pay the administrative expenses incurred by the Secretary in carrying out this title; and

(2) to fund the implementation of terrestrial wildlife habitat restoration plans under section 802(a) and other activities under sections 803(d)(3) and 804(d)(3).

(b) SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR.—There are authorized to be appropriated to the Secretary of the Interior such sums as are necessary to pay the administrative expenses incurred by the Secretary of the Interior in carrying out this title.

TITLE VII—OFFICE OF NATIONAL DRUG CONTROL POLICY

Drug Control Program agency that are intended to reduce the availability and use of drugs, including—

(A) coordination and facilitation of Federal, State, and local law enforcement drug control efforts;

(B) promotion of coordination and cooperation among the drug supply reduction and demand reduction agencies of the various States, territories, and units of local government; and

(C) such other cooperative governmental activities which promote a comprehensive approach to drug control at the national, State, territory, and local levels.

(11) SUPPLY REDUCTION.—The term “supply reduction” means any activity of a program conducted by a National Drug Control Program agency that is intended to reduce the availability or use of drugs in the United States and abroad, including—

(A) international drug control;

(B) foreign and domestic drug intelligence;

(C) interdiction; and

(D) domestic drug law enforcement, including law enforcement directed at drug users.

SEC. 703. OFFICE OF NATIONAL DRUG CONTROL POLICY.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT OF OFFICE.—There is established in the Executive Office of the President an Office of National Drug Control Policy, which shall—

(1) develop national drug control policy;

(2) coordinate and oversee the implementation of that national drug control policy;

(3) assess and certify the adequacy of national drug control programs and the budget for those programs; and

(4) evaluate the effectiveness of the national drug control programs.

(b) DIRECTOR AND DEPUTY DIRECTORS.—

(1) DIRECTOR.—There shall be at the head of the Office a Director of National Drug Control Policy.

(2) DEPUTY DIRECTOR OF NATIONAL DRUG CONTROL POLICY.—There shall be in the Office a Deputy Director of National Drug Control Policy, who shall assist the Director in carrying out the responsibilities of the Director under this title.

(3) OTHER DEPUTY DIRECTORS.—There shall be in the Office—

(A) a Deputy Director for Demand Reduction, who shall be responsible for the activities described in subparagraphs (A) through (G) of section 702(1);

(B) a Deputy Director for Supply Reduction, who shall be responsible for the activities described in subparagraphs (A) through (C) of section 702(11); and

(C) a Deputy Director for State and Local Affairs, who shall be responsible for the activities described in subparagraphs (A) through (C) of section 702(10) and subparagraph (D) of section 702(11).

(c) ACCESS BY CONGRESS.—The location of the Office in the Executive Office of the President shall not be construed as affecting access by Congress, or any committee of the House of Representatives or the Senate, to any—

(1) information, document, or study in the possession of, or conducted by or at the direction of the Director; or

(2) personnel of the Office.

(d) OFFICE OF NATIONAL DRUG CONTROL POLICY GIFT FUND.—

(1) ESTABLISHMENT.—There is established in the Treasury of the United States a fund for the receipt of gifts, both real and personal, for the purpose of aiding or facilitating the work of the Office under section 704(c).

(2) CONTRIBUTIONS.—The Office may accept, hold, and administer contributions to the Fund.

(3) USE OF AMOUNTS DEPOSITED.—Amounts deposited in the Fund are authorized to be appropriated, to remain available until expended for authorized purposes at the discretion of the Director.

SEC. 704. APPOINTMENT AND DUTIES OF DIRECTOR AND DEPUTY DIRECTORS.

(a) APPOINTMENT.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Director, the Deputy Director of National Drug Control Policy, the Deputy Director for Demand Reduction, the Deputy Director for Supply Reduction, and the Deputy Director for State and Local Affairs, shall each be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, and shall serve at the pleasure of the President. In appointing the Deputy Director for Demand Reduction under this paragraph, the President shall take into consideration the scientific, educational or professional background of the individual, and whether the individual has experience in the fields of substance abuse prevention, education, or treatment.

(2) DUTIES OF DEPUTY DIRECTOR OF NATIONAL DRUG CONTROL POLICY.—The Deputy Director of National Drug Control Policy shall—

(A) carry out the duties and powers prescribed by the Director; and

(B) serve as the Director in the absence of the Director or during any period in which the office of the Director is vacant.

(3) DESIGNATION OF OTHER OFFICERS.—In the absence of the Deputy Director, or if the Office of the Deputy Director is vacant, the Director shall designate such other permanent employee of the Office to serve as the Director, if the Director is absent or unable to serve.

(4) PROHIBITION.—No person shall serve as Director or a Deputy Director while serving in any other position in the Federal Government.

(5) PROHIBITION ON POLITICAL CAMPAIGNING.—Any officer or employee of the Office who is appointed to that position by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, may not participate in Federal election campaign activities, except that such official is not prohibited by this paragraph from making contributions to individual candidates.

(b) RESPONSIBILITIES.—The Director—

(1) shall assist the President in the establishment of policies, goals, objectives, and priorities for the National Drug Control Program;

(2) shall promulgate the National Drug Control Strategy under section 706(a) and each report under section 706(b) in accordance with section 706;

(3) shall coordinate and oversee the implementation by the National Drug Control Program agencies of the policies, goals, objectives, and priorities established under paragraph (1) and the fulfillment of the responsibilities of such agencies under the National Drug Control Strategy and make recommendations to National Drug Control Program agency heads with respect to implementation of Federal counter-drug programs;

(4) shall make such recommendations to the President as the Director determines are appropriate regarding changes in the organization, management, and budgets of Federal departments and agencies engaged in drug enforcement, and changes in the allocation of personnel to and within those departments and agencies, to implement the policies, goals, priorities, and objectives established under paragraph (1) and the National Drug Control Strategy;

(5) shall consult with and assist State and local governments with respect to the formulation and implementation of National Drug Control Policy and their relations with the National Drug Control Program agencies;

(6) shall appear before duly constituted committees and subcommittees of the House of Representatives and of the Senate to represent the drug policies of the executive branch;

(7) shall notify any National Drug Control Program agency if its policies are not in compliance with the responsibilities of the agency under the National Drug Control Strategy, transmit a copy of each such notification to the President, and maintain a copy of each such notification;

(8) shall provide, by July 1 of each year, budget recommendations, including requests for specific initiatives that are consistent with the priorities of the President under the National Drug Control Strategy, to the heads of departments and agencies with responsibilities under the National Drug Control Program, which recommendations shall—

(A) apply to the next budget year scheduled for formulation under the Budget and Accounting Act of 1921, and each of the 4 subsequent fiscal years; and

(B) address funding priorities developed in the National Drug Control Strategy;

(9) may serve as representative of the President in appearing before Congress on all issues relating to the National Drug Control Program;

(10) shall, in any matter affecting national security interests, work in conjunction with the Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs;

(11) may serve as spokesperson of the Administration on drug issues;

(12) shall ensure that no Federal funds appropriated to the Office of National Drug Control Policy shall be expended for any study or contract relating to the legalization (for a medical use or any other use) of a substance listed in schedule I of section 202 of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 812) and take such actions as necessary to oppose any attempt to legalize the use of a substance (in any form) that—

(A) is listed in schedule I of section 202 of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 812); and

(B) has not been approved for use for medical purposes by the Food and Drug Administration;

(13) shall require each National Drug Control Program agency to submit to the Director on an annual basis (beginning in 1999) an evaluation of progress by the agency with respect to drug control program goals using the performance measures for the agency developed under section 706(c), including progress with respect to—

(A) success in reducing domestic and foreign sources of illegal drugs;

(B) success in protecting the borders of the United States (and in particular the Southwestern border of the United States) from penetration by illegal narcotics;

(C) success in reducing violent crime associated with drug use in the United States;

(D) success in reducing the negative health and social consequences of drug use in the United States; and

(E) implementation of drug treatment and prevention programs in the United States and improvements in the adequacy and effectiveness of such programs;

(14) shall submit to the Appropriations committees and the authorizing committees of jurisdiction of the House of Representatives and the Senate on an annual basis, not later than 60 days after the date of the last day of the applicable period, a summary of—

(A) each of the evaluations received by the Director under paragraph (13); and

(B) the progress of each National Drug Control Program agency toward the drug control program goals of the agency using the performance measures for the agency developed under section 706(c); and

(15) shall ensure that drug prevention and drug treatment research and information is effectively disseminated by National Drug Control Program agencies to State and local governments and nongovernmental entities involved in demand reduction by—

(A) encouraging formal consultation between any such agency that conducts or sponsors research, and any such agency that disseminates information in developing research and information product development agendas;

(B) encouraging such agencies (as appropriate) to develop and implement dissemination plans that specifically target State and local governments and nongovernmental entities involved in demand reduction; and

(C) developing a single interagency clearinghouse for the dissemination of research and information by such agencies to State and local governments and nongovernmental agencies involved in demand reduction.

(c) NATIONAL DRUG CONTROL PROGRAM BUDGET.—

(1) RESPONSIBILITIES OF NATIONAL DRUG CONTROL PROGRAM AGENCIES.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—For each fiscal year, the head of each department, agency, or program of the Federal Government with responsibilities under the National Drug Control Program Strategy shall transmit to the Director a copy of the proposed drug control budget request of the department, agency, or program at the same time as that budget request is submitted to their superiors (and before submission to the Office of Management and Budget) in the preparation of the budget of the President submitted to Congress under section 1105(a) of title 31, United States Code.

(B) SUBMISSION OF DRUG CONTROL BUDGET REQUESTS.—The head of each National Drug Control Program agency shall ensure timely development and submission to the Director of each proposed drug control budget request transmitted pursuant to this paragraph, in such format as may be designated by the Director with the concurrence of the Director of the Office of Management and Budget.

(2) NATIONAL DRUG CONTROL PROGRAM BUDGET PROPOSAL.—For each fiscal year, following the transmission of proposed drug control budget requests to the Director under paragraph (1), the Director shall, in consultation with the head of each National Drug Control Program agency—

(A) develop a consolidated National Drug Control Program budget proposal designed to implement the National Drug Control Strategy;

(B) submit the consolidated budget proposal to the President; and

(C) after submission under subparagraph (B), submit the consolidated budget proposal to Congress.

(3) REVIEW AND CERTIFICATION OF BUDGET REQUESTS AND BUDGET SUBMISSIONS OF NATIONAL DRUG CONTROL PROGRAM AGENCIES.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The Director shall review each drug control budget request submitted to the Director under paragraph (1).

(B) REVIEW OF BUDGET REQUESTS.—

(i) INADEQUATE REQUESTS.—If the Director concludes that a budget request submitted under paragraph (1) is inadequate, in whole or in part, to implement the objectives of the National Drug Control Strategy with respect to the department, agency, or program at issue for the year for which the request is submitted, the Director shall submit to the head of the applicable National Drug Control Program agency a written description of funding levels and specific initiatives that would, in the determination of the Director, make the request adequate to implement those objectives.

(ii) ADEQUATE REQUESTS.—If the Director concludes that a budget request submitted under paragraph (1) is adequate to implement the objectives of the National Drug Control Strategy with respect to the department, agency, or program at issue for the year for which the request is submitted, the Director shall submit to the head of the applicable National Drug Control Program agency a written statement confirming the adequacy of the request.

(iii) RECORD.—The Director shall maintain a record of each description submitted under clause (i) and each statement submitted under clause (ii).

(C) AGENCY RESPONSE.—

(i) IN GENERAL.—The head of a National Drug Control Program agency that receives a description under subparagraph (B)(i) shall include the funding levels and initiatives described by the Director in the budget submission for that agency to the Office of Management and Budget.

(ii) IMPACT STATEMENT.—The head of a National Drug Control Program agency that has altered its budget submission under this subparagraph shall include as an appendix to the budget submission for that agency to the Office of Management and Budget an impact statement that summarizes—

(I) the changes made to the budget under this subparagraph; and

(II) the impact of those changes on the ability of that agency to perform its other responsibilities, including any impact on specific missions or programs of the agency.

(iii) CONGRESSIONAL NOTIFICATION.—The head of a National Drug Control Program agency shall submit a copy of any impact statement under clause (ii) to the Senate and the House of Representatives at the time the budget for that agency is submitted to Congress under section 1105(a) of title 31, United States Code.

(D) CERTIFICATION OF BUDGET SUBMISSIONS.—

(i) IN GENERAL.—At the time a National Drug Control Program agency submits its budget request to the Office of Management and Budget, the head of the National Drug Control Program agency shall submit a copy of the budget request to the Director.

(ii) CERTIFICATION.—The Director—

(I) shall review each budget submission submitted under clause (i); and

(II) based on the review under subclause (I), if the Director concludes that the budget submission of a National Drug Control Program agency does not include the funding levels and initiatives described under subparagraph (B)—

(aa) may issue a written decertification of that agency's budget; and

(bb) in the case of a decertification issued under item (aa), shall submit to the Senate and the House of Representatives a copy of—

(aaa) the decertification issued under item (aa);

(bbb) the description made under subparagraph (B); and

(ccc) the budget recommendations made under subsection (b)(8).

(4) REPROGRAMMING AND TRANSFER REQUESTS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—No National Drug Control Program agency shall submit to Congress a reprogramming or transfer request with respect to any amount of appropriated funds in an amount exceeding $5,000,000 that is included in the National Drug Control Program budget unless the request has been approved by the Director.

(B) APPEAL.—The head of any National Drug Control Program agency may appeal to the President any disapproval by the Director of a reprogramming or transfer request under this paragraph.

(d) POWERS OF THE DIRECTOR.—In carrying out subsection (b), the Director may—

(1) select, appoint, employ, and fix compensation of such officers and employees of the Office as may be necessary to carry out the functions of the Office under this title;

(2) subject to subsection (e)(3), request the head of a department or agency, or program of the Federal Government to place department, agency, or program personnel who are engaged in drug control activities on temporary detail to another department, agency, or program in order to implement the National Drug Control Strategy, and the head of the department or agency shall comply with such a request;

(3) use for administrative purposes, on a reimbursable basis, the available services, equipment, personnel, and facilities of Federal, State, and local agencies;

(4) procure the services of experts and consultants in accordance with section 3109 of title 5, United States Code, relating to appointments in the Federal Service, at rates of compensation for individuals not to exceed the daily equivalent of the rate of pay payable under level IV of the Executive Schedule under section 5311 of title 5, United States Code;

(5) accept and use gifts and donations of property from Federal, State, and local government agencies, and from the private sector, as authorized in section 703(d);

(6) use the mails in the same manner as any other department or agency of the executive branch;

(7) monitor implementation of the National Drug Control Program, including—

(A) conducting program and performance audits and evaluations; and

(B) requesting assistance from the Inspector General of the relevant agency in such audits and evaluations;

(8) transfer funds made available to a National Drug Control Program agency for National Drug Control Strategy programs and activities to another account within such agency or to another National Drug Control Program agency for National Drug Control Strategy programs and activities, except that—

(A) the authority under this paragraph may be limited in an annual appropriations Act or other provision of Federal law;

(B) the Director may exercise the authority under this paragraph only with the concurrence of the head of each affected agency;

(C) in the case of an interagency transfer, the total amount of transfers under this paragraph may not exceed 3 percent of the total amount of funds made available for National Drug Control Strategy programs and activities to the agency from which those funds are to be transferred;

(D) funds transferred to an agency under this paragraph may only be used to increase the funding for programs or activities have been authorized by Congress; and

(E) the Director shall—

(i) submit to Congress, including to the Committees on Appropriations of the Senate and the House of Representatives, the authorizing committees for the Office, and any other applicable committees of jurisdiction, a reprogramming or transfer request in advance of any transfer under this paragraph in accordance with the regulations of the affected agency or agencies; and

(ii) annually submit to Congress a report describing the effect of all transfers of funds made pursuant to this paragraph or subsection (c)(4) during the 12-month period preceding the date on which the report is submitted;

(9) issue to the head of a National Drug Control Program agency a fund control notice described in subsection (f) to ensure compliance with the National Drug Control Program Strategy; and

(10) participate in the drug certification process pursuant to section 490 of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 (22 U.S.C. 2291j).

(e) PERSONNEL DETAILED TO OFFICE.—

(1) EVALUATIONS.—Notwithstanding any provision of chapter 43 of title 5, United States Code, the Director shall perform the evaluation of the performance of any employee detailed to the Office for purposes of the applicable performance appraisal system established under such chapter for any rating period, or part thereof, that such employee is detailed to such office.

(2) COMPENSATION.—

(A) BONUS PAYMENTS.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Director may provide periodic bonus payments to any employee detailed to the Office.

(B) RESTRICTIONS.—An amount paid under this paragraph to an employee for any period—

(i) shall not be greater than 20 percent of the basic pay paid or payable to such employee for such period; and

(ii) shall be in addition to the basic pay of such employee.

(C) AGGREGATE AMOUNT.—The aggregate amount paid during any fiscal year to an employee detailed to the Office as basic pay, awards, bonuses, and other compensation shall not exceed the annual rate payable at the end of such fiscal year for positions at level III of the Executive Schedule.

(3) MAXIMUM NUMBER OF DETAILEES.—The maximum number of personnel who may be detailed to another department or agency (including the Office) under subsection (d)(2) during any fiscal year is—

(A) for the Department of Defense, 50; and

(B) for any other department or agency, 10.

(f) FUND CONTROL NOTICES.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—A fund control notice may direct that all or part of an amount appropriated to the National Drug Control Program agency account be obligated by—

(A) months, fiscal year quarters, or other time periods;

and

(B) activities, functions, projects, or object classes.

(2) UNAUTHORIZED OBLIGATION OR EXPENDITURE PROHIBITED.—An officer or employee of a National Drug Control Program agency shall not make or authorize an expenditure or obligation contrary to a fund control notice issued by the Director.

(3) DISCIPLINARY ACTION FOR VIOLATION.—In the case of a violation of paragraph (2) by an officer or employee of a National Drug Control Program agency, the head of the agency, upon the request of and in consultation with the Director, may subject the officer or employee to appropriate administrative discipline, including, when circumstances warrant, suspension from duty without pay or removal from office.

(g) INAPPLICABILITY TO CERTAIN PROGRAMS.—The provisions of this section shall not apply to the National Foreign Intelligence Program, the Joint Military Intelligence Program and Tactical Intelligence and Related Activities unless the agency that carries out such program is designated as a National Drug Control Program agency by the President or jointly by the Director and the head of the agency.

(h) CONSTRUCTION.—Nothing in this Act shall be construed as derogating the authorities and responsibilities of the Director of Central Intelligence contained in sections 104 and 504 of the National Security Act of 1947 or any other law.

SEC. 705. COORDINATION WITH NATIONAL DRUG CONTROL PROGRAM AGENCIES IN DEMAND REDUCTION, SUPPLY REDUCTION, AND STATE AND LOCAL AFFAIRS.

(a) ACCESS TO INFORMATION.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Upon the request of the Director, the head of any National Drug Control Program agency shall cooperate with and provide to the Director any statistics, studies, reports, and other information prepared or collected by the agency concerning the responsibilities of the agency under the National Drug Control Strategy that relate to—

(A) drug abuse control; or

(B) the manner in which amounts made available to that agency for drug control are being used by that agency.

(2) PROTECTION OF INTELLIGENCE INFORMATION.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The authorities conferred on the Office and the Director by this title shall be exercised in a manner consistent with provisions of the National Security Act of 1947 (50 U.S.C. 401 et seq.). The Director of Central Intelligence shall prescribe such regulations as may be necessary to protect information provided pursuant to this title regarding intelligence sources and methods.

(B) DUTIES OF DIRECTOR.—The Director of Central Intelligence shall, to the maximum extent practicable in accordance with subparagraph (A), render full assistance and support to the Office and the Director.

(3) ILLEGAL DRUG CULTIVATION.—The Secretary of Agriculture shall annually submit to the Director an assessment of the acreage of illegal drug cultivation in the United States.

(b) CERTIFICATION OF POLICY CHANGES TO DIRECTOR.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Subject to paragraph (2), the head of a National Drug Control Program agency shall, unless exigent circumstances require otherwise, notify the Director in writing regarding any proposed change in policies relating to the activities of that agency under the National Drug Control Program prior to implementation of such change. The Director shall promptly review such proposed change and certify to the head of that agency in writing whether such change is consistent with the National Drug Control Strategy.

(2) EXCEPTION.—If prior notice of a proposed change under paragraph (1) is not practicable—

(A) the head of the National Drug Control Program agency shall notify the Director of the proposed change as soon as practicable; and

(B) upon such notification, the Director shall review the change and certify to the head of that agency in writing whether the change is consistent with the National Drug Control Program.

(c) GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION.—The Administrator of General Services shall provide to the Director, in a reimbursable basis, such administrative support services as the Director may request.

(d) ACCOUNTING OF FUNDS EXPENDED.—The Director shall—

(1) require the National Drug Control Program agencies to submit to the Director not later than February 1 of each year a detailed accounting of all funds expended by the agencies for National Drug Control Program activities during the previous fiscal year, and require such accounting to be authenticated by the Inspector General for each agency prior to submission to the Director; and

(2) submit to Congress not later than April 1 of each year the information submitted to the Director under subparagraph (A).

SEC. 706. DEVELOPMENT, SUBMISSION, IMPLEMENTATION, AND ASSESSMENT OF NATIONAL DRUG CONTROL STRATEGY.

(a) TIMING, CONTENTS, AND PROCESS FOR DEVELOPMENT AND SUBMISSION OF NATIONAL DRUG CONTROL STRATEGY.—

(1) TIMING.—Not later than February 1, 1999, the President shall submit to Congress a National Drug Control Strategy, which shall set forth a comprehensive plan, covering a period of not more than 5 years, for reducing drug abuse and the consequences of drug abuse in the United States, by limiting the availability of and reducing the demand for illegal drugs.

(2) CONTENTS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The National Drug Control Strategy submitted under paragraph (1) shall include—

(i) comprehensive, research-based, long-range, quantifiable, goals for reducing drug abuse and the consequences of drug abuse in the United States;

(ii) annual, quantifiable, and measurable objectives and specific targets to accomplish long-term quantifiable goals that the Director determines may be achieved during each year of the period beginning on the date on which the National Drug Control Strategy is submitted;

(iii) 5-year projections for program and budget priorities; and

(iv) a review of international, State, local, and private sector drug control activities to ensure that the United States pursues well-coordinated and effective drug control at all levels of government.

(B) CLASSIFIED INFORMATION.—Any contents of the National Drug Control Strategy that involves information properly classified under criteria established by an Executive order shall be presented to Congress separately from the rest of the National Drug Control Strategy.

(3) PROCESS FOR DEVELOPMENT AND SUBMISSION.—

(A) CONSULTATION.—In developing and effectively implementing the National Drug Control Strategy, the Director—

(i) shall consult with—

(I) the heads of the National Drug Control Program agencies;

(II) Congress;

(III) State and local officials;

(IV) private citizens and organizations with experience and expertise in demand reduction;

(V) private citizens and organizations with experience and expertise in supply reduction; and

(VI) appropriate representatives of foreign governments;

(ii) with the concurrence of the Attorney General, may require the El Paso Intelligence Center to undertake specific tasks or projects to implement the National Drug Control Strategy; and

(iii) with the concurrence of the Director of Central Intelligence and the Attorney General, may request that the National Drug Intelligence Center undertake specific tasks or projects to implement the National Drug Control Strategy.

(B) INCLUSION IN STRATEGY.—The National Drug Control Strategy under this subsection, and each report submitted under subsection (b), shall include a list of each entity consulted under subparagraph (A)(i).

(4) SPECIFIC TARGETS.—The targets in the National Drug Control Strategy shall include the following:

(A) Reduction of unlawful drug use to 3 percent of the population of the United States or less by December 31, 2003 (as measured in terms of overall illicit drug use during the past 30 days by the National Household Survey), and achievement of at least 20 percent of such reduction during each of 1999, 2000, 2001, 2002, and 2003.

(B) Reduction of adolescent unlawful drug use (as measured in terms of illicit drug use during the past 30 days by the Monitoring the Future Survey of the University of Michigan or the National PRIDE Survey conducted by the National Parents' Resource Institute for Drug Education) to 3 percent of the adolescent population of the United States or less by December 31, 2003, and achievement of at least 20 percent of such reduction during each of 1999, 2000, 2001, 2002, and 2003st.

(C) Reduction of the availability of cocaine, heroin, marijuana, and methamphetamine in the United States by 80 percent by December 31, 2003.

(D) Reduction of the respective nationwide average street purity levels for cocaine, heroin, marijuana, and methamphetamine (as estimated by the interagency drug flows assessment led by the Office of National Drug Control Policy, and based on statistics collected by the Drug Enforcement Administration and other National Drug Control Program agencies identified as relevant by the Director) by 60 percent by December 31, 2003, and achievement of at least 20 percent of each such reduction during each of 1999, 2000, 2001, 2002, and 2003.

(E) Reduction of drug-related crime in the United States by 50 percent by December 31, 2003, and achievement of at least 20 percent of such reduction during each of 1999, 2000, 2001, 2002, and 2003, including—

(i) reduction of State and Federal unlawful drug trafficking and distribution;

(ii) reduction of State and Federal crimes committed by persons under the influence of unlawful drugs;

(iii) reduction of State and Federal crimes committed for the purpose of obtaining unlawful drugs or obtaining property that is intended to be used for the purchase of unlawful drugs; and

(iv) reduction of drug-related emergency room incidents in the United States (as measured by data of the Drug Abuse Warning Network on illicit drug abuse), including incidents involving gunshot wounds and automobile accidents in which illicit drugs are identified in the bloodstream of the victim, by 50 percent by December 31, 2003.

(5) FURTHER REDUCTIONS IN DRUG USE, AVAILABILITY, AND CRIME.—Following the submission of a National Drug Control Strategy under this section to achieve the specific targets described in paragraph (4), the Director may formulate a strategy for additional reductions in drug use and availability and drug-related crime beyond the 5-year period covered by the National Drug Control Strategy that has been submitted.

(b) ANNUAL STRATEGY REPORT.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than February 1, 1999, and on February 1 of each year thereafter, the President shall submit to Congress a report on the progress in implementing the Strategy under subsection (a), which shall include—

(A) an assessment of the Federal effectiveness in achieving the National Drug Control Strategy goals and objectives using the performance measurement system described in subsection (c), including—

(i) an assessment of drug use and availability in the United States; and

(ii) an estimate of the effectiveness of interdiction, treatment, prevention, law enforcement, and international programs under the National Drug Control Strategy in effect during the preceding year, or in effect as of the date on which the report is submitted;

(B) any modifications of the National Drug Control Strategy or the performance measurement system described in subsection (c);

(C) an assessment of the manner in which the budget proposal submitted under section 704(c) is intended to implement the National Drug Control Strategy and whether the funding levels contained in such proposal are sufficient to implement such Strategy;

(D) measurable data evaluating the success or failure in achieving the annual measurable objectives described in subsection (a)(2)(A)(ii);

(E) an assessment of current drug use (including inhalants) and availability, impact of drug use, and treatment availability, which assessment shall include—

(i) estimates of drug prevalence and frequency of use as measured by national, State, and local surveys of illicit drug use and by other special studies of—

(I) casual and chronic drug use;

(II) high-risk populations, including school dropouts, the homeless and transient, arrestees, parolees, probationers, and juvenile delinquents; and

(III) drug use in the workplace and the productivity lost by such use;

(ii) an assessment of the reduction of drug availability against an ascertained baseline, as measured by—

(I) the quantities of cocaine, heroin, marijuana, methamphetamine, and other drugs available for consumption in the United States;

(II) the amount of marijuana, cocaine, heroin, and precursor chemicals entering the United States;

(III) the number of hectares of marijuana, poppy, and coca cultivated and destroyed domestically and in other countries;

(IV) the number of metric tons of marijuana, heroin, cocaine, and methamphetamine seized;

(V) the number of cocaine and methamphetamine processing laboratories destroyed domestically and in other countries;

(VI) changes in the price and purity of heroin and cocaine, changes in the price of methamphetamine, and changes in tetrahydrocannabinol level of marijuana;

(VII) the amount and type of controlled substances diverted from legitimate retail and wholesale sources; and

(VIII) the effectiveness of Federal technology programs at improving drug detection capabilities in interdiction, and at United States ports of entry;

(iii) an assessment of the reduction of the consequences of drug use and availability, which shall include estimation of—

(I) the burden drug users placed on hospital emergency departments in the United States, such as the quantity of drug-related services provided;

(II) the annual national health care costs of drug use, including costs associated with people becoming infected with the human immunodeficiency virus and other infectious diseases as a result of drug use;

(III) the extent of drug-related crime and criminal activity; and

(IV) the contribution of drugs to the underground economy, as measured by the retail value of drugs sold in the United States;

(iv) a determination of the status of drug treatment in the United States, by assessing—

(I) public and private treatment capacity within each State, including information on the treatment capacity available in relation to the capacity actually used;

(II) the extent, within each State, to which treatment is available;

(III) the number of drug users the Director estimates could benefit from treatment; and

(IV) the specific factors that restrict the availability of treatment services to those seeking it and proposed administrative or legislative remedies to make treatment available to those individuals; and

(v) a review of the research agenda of the Counter-Drug Technology Assessment Center to reduce the availability and abuse of drugs; and

(F) an assessment of private sector initiatives and cooperative efforts between the Federal Government and State and local governments for drug control.

(2) SUBMISSION OF REVISED STRATEGY.—The President may submit to Congress a revised National Drug Control Strategy that meets the requirements of this section—

(A) at any time, upon a determination by the President, in consultation with the Director, that the National Drug Control Strategy in effect is not sufficiently effective; and

(3) 1999 STRATEGY REPORT.—With respect to the Strategy report required to be submitted by this subsection on February 1, 1999, the President shall prepare the report using such information as is available for the period covered by the report.

(c) PERFORMANCE MEASUREMENT SYSTEM.—

(1) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that—

(A) the targets described in subsection (a) are important to the reduction of overall drug use in the United States;

(B) the President should seek to achieve those targets during the 5 years covered by the National Drug Control Strategy required to be submitted under subsection (a);

(C) the purpose of such targets and the annual reports to Congress on the progress towards achieving the targets is to allow for the annual restructuring of appropriations by the Appropriations Committees and authorizing committees of jurisdiction of Congress to meet the goals described in this Act;

(D) the performance measurement system developed by the Director described in this subsection is central to the National Drug Control Program targets, programs, and budget; and

(E) the Congress strongly endorses the performance measurement system for establishing clear outcomes for reducing drug use nationwide during the next five years, and the linkage of this system to all agency drug control programs and budgets receiving funds scored as drug control agency funding.

(2) SUBMISSION TO CONGRESS.—Not later than February 1, 1999, the Director shall submit to Congress a description of the national drug control performance measurement system, designed in consultation with affected National Drug Control Program agencies, that—

(A) develops performance objectives, measures, and targets for each National Drug Control Strategy goal and objective;

(B) revises performance objectives, measures, and targets, to conform with National Drug Control Program Agency budgets;

(C) identifies major programs and activities of the National Drug Control Program agencies that support the goals and objectives of the National Drug Control Strategy;

(D) evaluates in detail the implementation by each National Drug Control Program agency of program activities supporting the National Drug Control Strategy;

(E) monitors consistency between the drug-related goals and objectives of the National Drug Control Program agencies and ensures that drug control agency goals and budgets support and are fully consistent with the National Drug Control Strategy; and

(F) coordinates the development and implementation of national drug control data collection and reporting systems to support policy formulation and performance measurement, including an assessment of—

(i) the quality of current drug use measurement instruments and techniques to measure supply reduction and demand reduction activities;

(ii) the adequacy of the coverage of existing national drug use measurement instruments and techniques to measure the casual drug user population and groups that are at risk for drug use; and

(iii) the actions the Director shall take to correct any deficiencies and limitations identified pursuant to subparagraphs (A) and (B) of subsection (b)(4).

(3) MODIFICATIONS.—A description of any modifications made during the preceding year to the national drug control performance measurement system described in paragraph (2) shall be included in each report submitted under subsection (b).

SEC. 707. HIGH INTENSITY DRUG TRAFFICKING AREAS PROGRAM.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—There is established in the Office a program to be known as the High Intensity Drug Trafficking Areas Program.

(b) DESIGNATION.—The Director, upon consultation with the Attorney General, the Secretary of the Treasury, heads of the National Drug Control Program agencies, and the Governor of each applicable State, may designate any specified area of the United States as a high intensity drug trafficking area. After making such a designation and in order to provide Federal assistance to the area so designated, the Director may—

(1) obligate such sums as appropriated for the High Intensity Drug Trafficking Areas Program;

(2) direct the temporary reassignment of Federal personnel to such area, subject to the approval of the head of the department or agency that employs such personnel;

(3) take any other action authorized under section 704 to provide increased Federal assistance to those areas;

(4) coordinate activities under this subsection (specifically administrative, recordkeeping, and funds management activities) with State and local officials.

(c) FACTORS FOR CONSIDERATION.—In considering whether to designate an area under this section as a high intensity drug trafficking area, the Director shall consider, in addition to such other criteria as the Director considers to be appropriate, the extent to which—

(1) the area is a center of illegal drug production, manufacturing, importation, or distribution;

(2) State and local law enforcement agencies have committed resources to respond to the drug trafficking problem in the area, thereby indicating a determination to respond aggressively to the problem;

(3) drug-related activities in the area are having a harmful impact in other areas of the country; and

(4) a significant increase in allocation of Federal resources is necessary to respond adequately to drug-related activities in the area.

(d) USE OF FUNDS.—The Director shall ensure that no Federal funds appropriated for the High Intensity Drug Trafficking Program are expended for the establishment or expansion of drug treatment programs.

SEC. 708. COUNTER-DRUG TECHNOLOGY ASSESSMENT CENTER.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—There is established within the Office the Counter-Drug Technology Assessment Center (referred to in this section as the “Center”). The Center shall operate under the authority of the Director of National Drug Control Policy and shall serve as the central counter-drug technology research and development organization of the United States Government.

(b) DIRECTOR OF TECHNOLOGY.—There shall be at the head of the Center the Director of Technology, who shall be appointed by the Director of National Drug Control Policy from among individuals qualified and distinguished in the area of science, medicine, engineering, or technology.

(c) ADDITIONAL RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE DIRECTOR OF NATIONAL DRUG CONTROL POLICY.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Director, acting through the Director of Technology shall—

(A) identify and define the short-, medium-, and long-term scientific and technological needs of Federal, State, and local drug supply reduction agencies, including—

(i) advanced surveillance, tracking, and radar imaging;

(ii) electronic support measures;

(iii) communications;

(iv) data fusion, advanced computer systems, and artificial intelligence; and

(v) chemical, biological, radiological (including neutron, electron, and graviton), and other means of detection;

(B) identify demand reduction basic and applied research needs and initiatives, in consultation with affected National Drug Control Program agencies, including—

(i) improving treatment through neuroscientific advances;

(ii) improving the transfer of biomedical research to the clinical setting; and

(iii) in consultation with the National Institute on Drug Abuse, and through interagency agreements or grants, examining addiction and rehabilitation research and the application of technology to expanding the effectiveness or availability of drug treatment;

(C) make a priority ranking of such needs identified in subparagraphs (A) and (B) according to fiscal and technological feasibility, as part of a National Counter-Drug Enforcement Research and Development Program;

(D) oversee and coordinate counter-drug technology initiatives with related activities of other Federal civilian and military departments;

(E) provide support to the development and implementation of the national drug control performance measurement system; and

(F) pursuant to the authority of the Director of National Drug Control Policy under section 704, submit requests to Congress for the reprogramming or transfer of funds appropriated for counter-drug technology research and development.

(2) LIMITATION ON AUTHORITY.—The authority granted to the Director under this subsection shall not extend to the award of contracts, management of individual projects, or other operational activities.

(d) ASSISTANCE AND SUPPORT TO OFFICE OF NATIONAL DRUG CONTROL POLICY.—The Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of Health and Human Services shall, to the maximum extent practicable, render assistance and support to the Office and to the Director in the conduct of counter-drug technology assessment.

SEC. 709. PRESIDENT'S COUNCIL ON COUNTER-NARCOTICS.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—There is established a council to be known as the President's Council on Counter-Narcotics (referred to in this section as the "Council").

(b) MEMBERSHIP.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Subject to paragraph (2), the Council shall be composed of 18 members, of whom—

(A) 1 shall be the President, who shall serve as Chairman of the Council;

(B) 1 shall be the Vice President;

(C) 1 shall be the Secretary of State;

(D) 1 shall be the Secretary of the Treasury;

(E) 1 shall be the Secretary of Defense;

(F) 1 shall be the Attorney General;

(G) 1 shall be the Secretary of Transportation;

(H) 1 shall be the Secretary of Health and Human Services;

(I) 1 shall be the Secretary of Education;

(J) 1 shall be the Representative of the United States of America to the United Nations;

(K) 1 shall be the Director of the Office of Management and Budget;

(L) 1 shall be the Chief of Staff to the President;

(M) 1 shall be the Director of the Office, who shall serve as the Executive Director of the Council;

(N) 1 shall be the Director of Central Intelligence;

(O) 1 shall be the Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs;

(P) 1 shall be the Counsel to the President;

(Q) 1 shall be the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; and

(R) 1 shall be the National Security Adviser to the Vice President.

(2) ADDITIONAL MEMBERS.—The President may, in the discretion of the President, appoint additional members to the Council.

(c) FUNCTIONS.—The Council shall advise and assist the President in—

(1) providing direction and oversight for the national drug control strategy, including relating drug control policy to other national security interests and establishing priorities; and

(2) ensuring coordination among departments and agencies of the Federal Government concerning implementation of the National Drug Control Strategy.

(d) ADMINISTRATION.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Council may utilize established or ad hoc committees, task forces, or interagency groups chaired by the Director (or a representative of the Director) in carrying out the functions of the Council under this section.

(2) STAFF.—The staff of the Office, in coordination with the staffs of the Vice President and the Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs, shall act as staff for the Council.

(3) COOPERATION FROM OTHER AGENCIES.—Each department and agency of the executive branch shall—

(A) cooperate with the Council in carrying out the functions of the Council under this section; and

(B) provide such assistance, information, and advice as the Council may request, to the extent permitted by law.

SEC. 710. PARENTS ADVISORY COUNCIL ON YOUTH DRUG ABUSE.

(a) IN GENERAL.—

(1) ESTABLISHMENT.—There is established a Council to be known as the Parents Advisory Council on Youth Drug Abuse (referred to in this section as the “Council”).

(2) MEMBERSHIP.—

(A) COMPOSITION.—The Council shall be composed of 16 members, of whom—

(i) 4 shall be appointed by the President, each of whom shall be a parent or guardian of a child who is not less than 6 and not more than 18 years of age as of the date on which the appointment is made;

(ii) 4 shall be appointed by the Majority Leader of the Senate, 3 of whom shall be a parent or guardian of a child who is not less than 6 and not more than 18 years of age as of the date on which the appointment is made;

(iii) 2 shall be appointed by the Minority Leader of the Senate, each of whom shall be a parent or guardian of a child who is not less than 6 and not more than 18 years of age as of the date on which the appointment is made;

(iv) 4 shall be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, 3 of whom shall be a parent or guardian of a child who is not less than 6 and not more than 18 years of age as of the date on which the appointment is made; and

(v) 2 shall be appointed by the Minority Leader of the House of Representatives, each of whom shall be a parent or guardian of a child who is not less than 6 and not more than 18 years of age as of the date on which the appointment is made.

(B) REQUIREMENTS.—

(i) IN GENERAL.—Each member of the Council shall be an individual from the private sector with a demonstrated interest and expertise in research, education, treatment, or prevention activities related to youth drug abuse.

(ii) REPRESENTATIVES OF NONPROFIT ORGANIZATIONS.—Not less than 1 member appointed under each of clauses (i) through (v) of paragraph (2)(A) shall be a representative of a nonprofit organization focused on involving parents in antidrug education and prevention.

(C) DATE.—The appointments of the initial members of the Council shall be made not later than 60 days after the date of enactment of this section.

(D) EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR.—The Director shall appoint the Executive Director of the Council, who shall be an employee of the Office of National Drug Control Policy.

(3) PERIOD OF APPOINTMENT; VACANCIES.—

(A) PERIOD OF APPOINTMENT.—Each member of the Council shall be appointed for a term of 3 years, except that, of the initial members of the Council—

(i) 1 member appointed under each of clauses (i) through (v) of paragraph (2)(A) shall be appointed for a term of 1 year; and

(ii) 1 member appointed under each of clauses (i) through (v) of paragraph (2)(A) shall be appointed for a term of 2 years.

(B) VACANCIES.—Any vacancy in the Council shall not affect its powers, provided that a quorum is present, but shall be filled in the same manner as the original appointment. Any member appointed to fill a vacancy occurring before the expiration of the term for which the member's predecessor was appointed shall be appointed only for the remainder of that term.

(C) APPOINTMENT OF SUCCESSOR.—To the extent necessary to prevent a vacancy in the membership of the Council, a member of the Council may serve for not more than 6 months after the expiration of the term of that member, if the successor of that member has not been appointed.

(4) INITIAL MEETING.—Not later than 120 days after the date on which all initial members of the Council have been appointed, the Council shall hold its first meeting.

(5) MEETINGS.—The Council shall meet at the call of the Chairperson.

(6) QUORUM.—Nine members of the Council shall constitute a quorum, but a lesser number of members may hold hearings.

(7) CHAIRPERSON AND VICE CHAIRPERSON.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The members of the Council shall select a Chairperson and Vice Chairperson from among the members of the Council.

(B) DUTIES OF CHAIRPERSON.—The Chairperson of the Council shall assign committee duties relating to the Council and direct the Executive Director to convene hearings and conduct other necessary business of the Council.

(C) DUTIES OF VICE CHAIRPERSON.—If the Chairperson of the Council is unable to serve, the Vice Chairperson shall serve as the Chairperson.

(b) DUTIES OF THE COUNCIL.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Council—

(A) shall advise the Director on drug prevention, education, and treatment and assist the Deputy Director of Demand Reduction in the responsibilities for the coordination of the demand reduction programs of the Federal Government and the analysis and consideration of prevention and treatment alternatives; and

(B) may issue reports and recommendations on drug prevention, education, and treatment, in addition to the reports detailed in paragraph (2), as the Council considers appropriate.

(2) SUBMISSION OF REPORTS.—Any report or recommendation issued by the Council shall be submitted to the Director and subsequently to Congress.

(3) ADVICE ON THE NATIONAL DRUG CONTROL STRATEGY.—Not later than December 1, 1999, and on December 1 of each year thereafter, the Council shall submit to the Director an annual report containing drug control strategy recommendations on drug prevention, education, and treatment. The Director may include any recommendations submitted under this paragraph in the report submitted by the Director under section 706(b).

(c) EXPENSES.—The members of the Council shall be allowed travel expenses, including per diem in lieu of subsistence, at rates authorized for employees of agencies under subchapter I of chapter 57 of title 5, United States Code, while away from their homes or regular places of business in the performance of services for the Council.

(d) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There are authorized to be appropriated to the Council such sums as may be necessary to carry out this section.

SEC. 711. DRUG INTERDICTION.

(a) DEFINITION.—In this section, the term “Federal drug control agency” means—

- (1) the Office of National Drug Control Policy;
- (2) the Department of Defense;
- (3) the Drug Enforcement Administration;
- (4) the Federal Bureau of Investigation;
- (5) the Immigration and Naturalization Service;

- (6) the United States Coast Guard;
- (7) the United States Customs Service; and
- (8) any other department or agency of the Federal Government that the Director determines to be relevant.

(b) REPORT.—In order to assist Congress in determining the personnel, equipment, funding, and other resources that would be required by Federal drug control agencies in order to achieve a level of interdiction success at or above the highest level achieved before the date of enactment of this title, not later than 90 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Director shall submit to Congress and to each Federal drug control program agency a report, which shall include—

(1) with respect to the southern and western border regions of the United States (including the Pacific coast, the border with Mexico, the Gulf of Mexico coast, and other ports of entry) and in overall totals, data relating to—

(A) the amount of marijuana, heroin, methamphetamine, and cocaine—

(i) seized during the year of highest recorded seizures for each drug in each region and during the year of highest recorded overall seizures; and

(ii) disrupted during the year of highest recorded disruptions for each drug in each region and during the year of highest recorded overall seizures; and

(B) the number of persons arrested for violations of section 1010(a) of the Controlled Substances Import and Export Act (21 U.S.C. 960(a)) and related offenses during the year of the highest number of arrests on record for each region and during the year of highest recorded overall arrests;

(2) the price of cocaine, heroin, methamphetamine, and marijuana during the year of highest price on record during the preceding 10-year period, adjusted for purity where possible; and

(3) a description of the personnel, equipment, funding, and other resources of the Federal drug control agency devoted to drug interdiction and securing the borders of the United States against drug trafficking for each of the years identified in paragraphs (1) and (2) for each Federal drug control agency.

(c) BUDGET PROCESS.—

(1) INFORMATION TO DIRECTOR.—Based on the report submitted under subsection (b), each Federal drug control agency shall submit to the Director, at the same time as each annual drug control budget request is submitted by the Federal drug control agency to the Director under section 704(c)(1), a description of the specific personnel, equipment, funding, and other resources that would be required for the Federal drug control agency to meet or exceed the highest level of interdiction success for that agency identified in the report submitted under subsection (b).

(2) INFORMATION TO CONGRESS.—The Director shall include each submission under paragraph (1) in each annual consolidated National Drug Control Program budget proposal submitted by the Director to Congress under section 704(c)(2), which submission shall be accompanied by a description of any additional resources that would be required by the Federal drug control agencies to meet the highest level of interdiction success identified in the report submitted under subsection (b).

SEC. 712. ESTABLISHMENT OF SPECIAL FORFEITURE FUND.

Section 6073 of the Asset Forfeiture Amendments Act of 1988 (21 U.S.C. 1509) is amended—

(1) in subsection (b)—

(A) by striking “section 524(c)(9)” and inserting “section 524(c)(8)”; and

(B) by striking “section 9307(g)” and inserting “section 9703(g)”; and

(2) in subsection (e), by striking “strategy” and inserting “Strategy”.

SEC. 713. TECHNICAL AND CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.

SEC. 802. FINDINGS AND STATEMENT OF POLICY.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

(1) Teenage drug use in the United States has doubled since 1993.

(2) The drug crisis facing the United States is a top national security threat.

(3) The spread of illicit drugs through United States borders cannot be halted without an effective drug interdiction strategy.

(4) Effective drug interdiction efforts have been shown to limit the availability of illicit narcotics, drive up the street price, support demand reduction efforts, and decrease overall drug trafficking and use.

(5) A prerequisite for reducing youth drug use is increasing the price of drugs. To increase price substantially, at least 60 percent of drugs must be interdicted.

(6) In 1987, the national drug control budget maintained a significant balance between demand and supply reduction efforts, illustrated as follows:

(A) 29 percent of the total drug control budget expenditures for demand reduction programs.

(C) 33 percent of the total drug control budget expenditures for international drug interdiction efforts.

(7) In the late 1980's and early 1990's, counternarcotic efforts were successful, specifically in protecting the borders of the United States from penetration by illegal narcotics through increased seizures by the United States Coast Guard and other agencies, including a 302 percent increase in pounds of cocaine seized between 1987 and 1991.

(8) Limiting the availability of narcotics to drug traffickers in the United States had a promising effect as illustrated by the decline of illicit drug use between 1988 and 1991, through a—

(A) 13 percent reduction in total drug use;

(B) 35 percent drop in cocaine use; and

(C) 16 percent decrease in marijuana use.

(9) In 1993, drug interdiction efforts in the transit zones were reduced due to an imbalance in the national drug control strategy. This trend has continued through 1995 as shown by the following figures:

(C) 12 percent for international drug interdiction efforts.

(10) Supply reduction efforts became a lower priority for the Administration and the seizures by the United States Coast Guard and other agencies decreased as shown by a 68 percent decrease in the pounds of cocaine seized between 1991 and 1996.

(11) Reductions in funding for comprehensive interdiction operations like OPERATION GATEWAY and OPERATION STEELWEB, initiatives that encompassed all areas of interdiction and attempted to disrupt the operating methods of drug smugglers along the entire United States border, have created unprotected United States border areas which smugglers exploit to move their product into the United States.

(12) The result of this new imbalance in the national drug control strategy caused the drug situation in the United States to become a crisis with serious consequences including—

(A) doubling of drug-abuse-related arrests for minors between 1992 and 1996;

(B) 70 percent increase in overall drug use among children aged 12 to 17;

(C) 80 percent increase in drug use for graduating seniors since 1992;

(D) a sharp drop in the price of 1 pure gram of heroin from $1,647 in 1992 to $966 in February 1996; and

(13) The percentage change in drug use since 1992, among graduating high school students who used drugs in the past 12 months, has substantially increased—marijuana use is up 80 percent, cocaine use is up 80 percent, and heroin use is up 100 percent.

(14) The Department of Defense has been called upon to support counter-drug efforts of Federal law enforcement agencies that are carried out in source countries and through transit zone interdiction, but in recent years Department of Defense assets critical to those counter-drug activities have been consistently diverted to missions that the Secretary of Defense and the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff consider a higher priority.

(15) The Secretary of Defense and the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, through the Department of Defense policy referred to as the Global Military Force Policy, has established the priorities for the allocation of military assets in the following order: (1) war; (2) military operations other than war that might involve contact with hostile forces (such as peacekeeping operations and noncombatant evacuations); (3) exercises and training; and (4) operational tasking other than those involving hostilities (including counter-drug activities and humanitarian assistance).

(16) Use of Department of Defense assets is critical to the success of efforts to stem the flow of illegal drugs from source countries and through transit zones to the United States.

(17) The placement of counter-drug activities in the fourth and last priority of the Global Military Force Policy list of priorities for the allocation of military assets has resulted in a serious deficiency in assets vital to the success of source country and transit zone efforts to stop the flow of illegal drugs into the United States.

(18) At present the United States faces few, if any, threats from abroad greater than the threat posed to the Nation's youth by illegal and dangerous drugs.

(19) The conduct of counter-drug activities has the potential for contact with hostile forces.

(20) The Department of Defense counter-drug activities mission should be near the top, not among the last, of the priorities for the allocation of Department of Defense assets after the first priority for those assets for the war-fighting mission of the Department of Defense.

(b) STATEMENT OF POLICY.—It is the policy of the United States to—

(1) reduce the supply of drugs and drug use through an enhanced drug interdiction effort in the major drug transit countries, as well support a comprehensive supply country eradication and crop substitution program, because a commitment of increased resources in international drug interdiction efforts will create a balanced national drug control strategy among demand reduction, law enforcement, and international drug interdiction efforts; and

(2) develop and establish comprehensive drug interdiction and drug eradication strategies, and dedicate the required resources, to achieve the goal of reducing the flow of illegal drugs into the United States by 80 percent by as early as January 1, 2003.

Subtitle A—Enhanced Source and Transit Country Coverage

SEC. 811. EXPANSION OF RADAR COVERAGE AND OPERATION IN SOURCE AND TRANSIT COUNTRIES.

(a) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—Funds are authorized to be appropriated for the Department of the Treasury for fiscal years 1999, 2000, and 2001 for the enhancement of radar coverage in drug source and transit countries in the total amount of $14,300,000 which shall be available for the following purposes:

(1) For restoration of radar, and operation and maintenance of radar, in the Bahamas.

(2) For operation and maintenance of ground-based radar at Guantanamo Bay Naval Base, Cuba.

(b) REPORT.—Not later than January 31, 1999, the Secretary of Defense, in conjunction with the Director of Central Intelligence, shall submit to the Committee on National Security, the Committee on International Relations, and the Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Armed Services, the Committee on Foreign Relations, and the Select Committee on Intelligence of the Senate a report examining the options available to the United States for improving Relocatable Over the Horizon (ROTHR) capability to provide enhanced radar coverage of narcotics source zone countries in South America and transit zones in the Eastern Pacific. The report shall include—

(1) a discussion of the need and costs associated with the establishment of a proposed fourth ROTHR site located in the source or transit zones; and

(2) an assessment of the intelligence specific issues raised if such a ROTHR facility were to be established in conjunction with a foreign government.

SEC. 812. EXPANSION OF COAST GUARD DRUG INTERDICTION.

(a) OPERATING EXPENSES.—For operating expenses of the Coast Guard associated with expansion of drug interdiction activities around Puerto Rico, the United States Virgin Islands, and other transit zone areas of operation, there is authorized to be appropriated to the Secretary of Transportation $151,500,000 for each of fiscal years 1999, 2000, and 2001. Such amounts shall include (but are not limited to) amounts for the following:

(1) For deployment of intelligent acoustic detection buoys in the Florida Straits and Bahamas.

(2) For a nonlethal technology program to enhance countermeasures against the threat of transportation of drugs by so-called Go-Fast boats.

(b) ACQUISITION, CONSTRUCTION, AND IMPROVEMENT.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—For acquisition, construction, and improvement of facilities and equipment to be used for expansion of Coast Guard drug interdiction activities, there is authorized to be appropriated to the Secretary of Transportation for fiscal year 1999 the total amount of $630,300,000 which shall be available for the following purposes:

(B) For acquisition of deployable pursuit boats.

(C) For the acquisition and construction of up to 15 United States Coast Guard Coastal Patrol Boats.

(D) For—

(i) the reactivation of up to 3 United States Coast Guard HU-25 Falcon jets;

(ii) the procurement of up to 3 C-37A aircraft; or

(iii) the procurement of up to 3 C-20H aircraft.

(E) For acquisition of installed or deployable electronic sensors and communications systems for Coast Guard Cutters.

(F) For acquisition and construction of facilities and equipment to support regional and international law enforcement training and support in Puerto Rico, the United States Virgin Islands, and the Caribbean Basin.

(G) For acquisition or conversion of maritime patrol aircraft.

(H) For acquisition or conversion of up to 2 vessels to be used as Coast Guard Medium or High Endurance Cutters.

(I) For acquisition or conversion of up to 2 vessels to be used as Coast Guard Cutters as support, command, and control platforms for drug interdiction operations.

(J) For acquisition of up to 6 Coast Guard Medium Endurance Cutters.

(2) CONTINUED AVAILABILITY.—Amounts appropriated under this subsection may remain available until expended.

(c) REQUIREMENT TO ACCEPT PATROL CRAFT FROM DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE.—The Secretary of Transportation shall accept, for use by the Coast Guard for expanded drug interdiction activities, 7 PC-170 patrol craft if offered by the Department of Defense.

SEC. 813. EXPANSION OF AIRCRAFT COVERAGE AND OPERATION IN SOURCE AND TRANSIT COUNTRIES.

(a) DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY.—Funds are authorized to be appropriated for the Department of the Treasury for fiscal years 1999, 2000, and 2001 for the enhancement of air coverage and operation for drug source and transit countries in the total amount of $886,500,000 which shall be available for the following purposes:

(1) For procurement of 10 P-3B Early Warning aircraft for the United States Customs Service to enhance overhead air coverage of drug source zone countries.

(2) For the procurement and deployment of 10 P-3B Slick airplanes for the United States Customs Service to enhance overhead air coverage of the drug source zone.

(3) In fiscal years 2000 and 2001, for operation and maintenance of 10 P-3B Early Warning aircraft for the United States Customs Service to enhance overhead air coverage of drug source zone countries.

(4) For personnel for the 10 P-3B Early Warning aircraft for the United States Customs Service to enhance overhead air coverage of drug source zone countries.

(5) In fiscal years 2000 and 2001, for operation and maintenance of 10 P-3B Slick airplanes for the United States Customs Service to enhance overhead coverage of the drug source zone.

(6) For personnel for the 10 P-3B Slick airplanes for the United States Customs Service to enhance overhead air coverage of drug source zone countries.

(7) For construction and furnishing of an additional facility for the P-3B aircraft.

(8) For operation and maintenance for overhead air coverage for source countries.

(9) For operation and maintenance for overhead coverage for the Caribbean and Eastern Pacific regions.

(10) For purchase and for operation and maintenance of 3 RU-38A observation aircraft (to be piloted by pilots under contract with the United States).

(b) REPORT.—Not later than January 31, 1999, the Secretary of Defense, in consultation with the Secretary of State and the Director of Central Intelligence, shall submit to the Committee on National Security, the Committee on International Relations, and the Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence of the House of Representatives and to the Committee on Armed Services, the Committee on Foreign Relations, and the Select Committee on Intelligence of the Senate a report examining the options available in the source and transit zones to replace Howard Air Force Base in Panama and specifying the requirements of the United States to establish an airbase or airbases for use in support of counternarcotics operations to optimize operational effectiveness in the source and transit zones. The report shall identify the following:

(1) The specific requirements necessary to support the national drug control policy of the United States.

(2) The estimated construction, operation, and maintenance costs for a replacement counterdrug airbase or airbases in the source and transit zones.

(3) Possible interagency cost sharing arrangements for a replacement airbase or airbases.

(4) Any legal or treaty-related issues regarding the replacement airbase or airbases.

(5) A summary of completed alternative site surveys for the airbase or airbases.

(c) TRANSFER OF AIRCRAFT.—The Secretary of the Navy shall transfer to the United States Customs Service—

(1) ten currently retired and previously identified heavy-weight P-3B aircraft for modification into P-3 AEW&C aircraft; and

(2) ten currently retired and previously identified heavy-weight P-3B aircraft for modification into P-3 Slick aircraft.

Subtitle B—Enhanced Eradication and Interdiction Strategy in Source Countries

SEC. 821. ADDITIONAL ERADICATION RESOURCES FOR COLOMBIA.

(a) DEPARTMENT OF STATE.—Funds are authorized to be appropriated for the Department of State for fiscal years 1999, 2000, and 2001 for the enhancement of drug-related eradication efforts in Colombia in the total amount of $201,250,000 which shall be available for the following purposes:

(1) For each such fiscal year for sustaining support of the helicopters and fixed wing fleet of the national police of Colombia.

(3) For acquisition of resources needed for prison security in Colombia.

(5) For the purchase of 6 UH-60L Black Hawk utility helicopters for the national police of Colombia and for operation, maintenance, and training relating to such helicopters.

(6) For procurement, for upgrade of 50 UH-1H helicopters to the Huey II configuration equipped with miniguns for the use of the national police of Colombia.

(8) For providing sufficient and adequate base and force security for any rebuilt facility in southern Colombia, and the other forward operating antinarcotics bases of the Colombian National Police antinarcotics unit.

(b) COUNTERNARCOTICS ASSISTANCE.—

(1) LIMITATION ON PROVISION OF ASSISTANCE.—Except as provided in paragraph (2), United States counternarcotics assistance may not be provided for the Government of Colombia under this title or under any other provision of law on or after the date of enactment of this Act if the Government of Colombia negotiates or permits the establishment of any demilitarized zone in which the eradication of drug production by the security forces of Colombia, including the Colombian National Police antinarcotics unit, is prohibited.

(2) EXCEPTION.—If the Government of Colombia negotiates or permits the establishment of a demilitarized zone described in paragraph (1), United States counternarcotics assistance may be provided for the Government of Colombia for a period of up to 90 consecutive days upon a finding by the President that providing such assistance is in the national interest of the United States.

(3) NOTIFICATION.—In each case in which counternarcotics assistance is provided for the Government of Colombia as a result of a finding by the President described in paragraph (2), the President shall notify the Committees on Appropriations and the authorizing committees of jurisdiction of the House of Representatives and the Senate not later than 5 days after such assistance is provided.

SEC. 822. ADDITIONAL ERADICATION RESOURCES FOR PERU.

(a) DEPARTMENT OF STATE.—Funds are authorized to be appropriated for the Department of State for fiscal years 1999, 2000, and 2001 for the establishment of a third drug interdiction site in Peru to support air bridge and riverine missions for enhancement of drug-related eradication efforts in Peru, in the total amount of $3,000,000, and an additional amount of $1,000,000 for each of fiscal years 2000 and 2001 for operation and maintenance.

(b) DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE STUDY.—The Secretary of Defense shall conduct a study of Peruvian counternarcotics air interdiction requirements and, not later than 90 days after the date of enactment of this Act, submit to Congress a report on the results of the study. The study shall include a review of the Peruvian Air Force's current and future requirements for counternarcotics air interdiction to complement the Peruvian Air Force's A-37 capability.

(a) AUTHORIZATION.—Funds are authorized to be appropriated for the development and purchase of computer software and hardware to facilitate direct communication between agencies that perform work relating to the interdiction of drugs at United States borders, including the United States Customs Service, the Border Patrol, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Drug Enforcement Agency, and the Immigration and Naturalization Service, in the total amount of $50,000,000.

(b) AVAILABILITY.—Funds authorized pursuant to the authorization of appropriations in subsection (a) shall remain available until expended.

SEC. 853. SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING PRIORITY OF DRUG INTERDICTION AND COUNTERDRUG ACTIVITIES.

It is the sense of Congress that the Secretary of Defense should revise the Global Military Force Policy of the Department of Defense in order—

(1) to treat the international drug interdiction and counter-drug activities of the Department as a military operation other than war, thereby elevating the priority given such activities under the Policy to the next priority below the priority given to war under the Policy and to the same priority as is given to peacekeeping operations under the Policy; and

(2) to allocate the assets of the Department to drug interdiction and counter-drug activities in accordance with the priority given those activities.

Subtitle F—Relationship to Other Laws

SEC. 861. AUTHORIZATIONS OF APPROPRIATIONS.

The funds authorized to be appropriated for any department or agency of the Federal Government for fiscal years 1999, 2000, or 2001 by this title are in addition to funds authorized to be appropriated for that department or agency for fiscal year 1999, 2000, or 2001 by any other provision of law.

Subtitle G—Trafficking in Controlled Substances

SEC. 871. SHORT TITLE.

This subtitle may be cited as the “Controlled Substances Trafficking Prohibition Act”.

SEC. 872. LIMITATION.

(a) AMENDMENT.—Section 1006(a) of the Controlled Substances Import and Export Act (21 U.S.C. 956(a)) is amended—

(1) by striking “The Attorney General” and inserting “(1) Subject to paragraph (2), the Attorney General”; and

(2) by adding at the end the following:

“(2) Notwithstanding any exemption under paragraph (1), a United States resident who enters the United States through an international land border with a controlled substance (except a substance in schedule I) for which the individual does not possess a valid prescription issued by a practitioner (as defined in section 102 of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 802)) in accordance with applicable Federal and State law (or documentation that verifies the issuance of such a prescription to that individual) may not import the controlled substance into the United States in an amount that exceeds 50 dosage units of the controlled substance.”.

(b) FEDERAL MINIMUM REQUIREMENT.—Section 1006(a)(2) of the Controlled Substances Import and Export Act, as added by subsection (a), is a minimum Federal requirement and shall not be construed to limit a State from imposing any additional requirement.

(c) EXTENT.—The amendment made by subsection (a) shall not be construed to affect the jurisdiction of the Secretary of Health and Human Services under the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 301 et seq.).

TITLE IX—DRUG-FREE WORKPLACE ACT

SEC. 901. SHORT TITLE.

This title may be cited as the “Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1998”.

SEC. 902. FINDINGS; PURPOSES.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

(1) 74 percent of adults who use illegal drugs are employed;

(2) small business concerns employ over 50 percent of the Nation’s workforce;

(3) in more than 88 percent of families with children under the age of 18, at least 1 parent is employed; and

(4) employees who use and abuse addictive illegal drugs and alcohol increase costs for businesses and risk the health and safety of all employees because—

(A) absenteeism is 66 percent higher among drug users than individuals who do not use drugs;

(B) health benefit utilization is 300 percent higher among drug users than individuals who do not use drugs;

(C) 47 percent of workplace accidents are drug-related;

(D) disciplinary actions are 90 percent higher among drug users than among individuals who do not use drugs; and

(E) employee turnover is significantly higher among drug users than among individuals who do not use drugs.

(b) PURPOSES.—The purposes of this title are to—

(1) educate small business concerns about the advantages of a drug-free workplace;

(2) provide grants and technical assistance in addition to financial incentives to enable small business concerns to create a drug-free workplace;

- (3) assist working parents in keeping their children drug-free; and
- (4) encourage small business employers and employees alike to participate in drug-free workplace programs.

SEC. 903. SENSE OF CONGRESS.

It is the sense of Congress that—

- (1) businesses should adopt drug-free workplace programs;
- (2) States should consider incentives to encourage businesses to adopt drug-free workplace programs; and
- (3) such incentives may include—
 - (A) financial incentives, including—
 - (i) a reduction in workers' compensation premiums;
 - (ii) a reduction in unemployment insurance premiums; and
 - (iii) tax deductions in an amount equal to the amount of expenditures for employee assistance programs, treatment, or illegal drug testing; and
 - (B) other incentives, such as the adoption of liability limitations, as recommended by the President's Commission on Model State Drug Laws.

SEC. 904. DRUG-FREE WORKPLACE DEMONSTRATION PROGRAM.

Section 27 of the Small Business Act (15 U.S.C. 654) is amended to read as follows:

“(a) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

“(1) DRUG-FREE WORKPLACE PROGRAM.—The term ‘drug-free workplace program’ means a program that includes—

“(A) a written policy, including a clear statement of expectations for workplace behavior, prohibitions against reporting to work or working under the influence of illegal drugs or alcohol, prohibitions against the use or possession of illegal drugs in the workplace, and the consequences of violating those expectations and prohibitions;

“(B) drug and alcohol abuse prevention training for a total of not less than 2 hours for each employee, and additional voluntary drug and alcohol abuse prevention training for employees who are parents;

“(C) employee illegal drug testing, with analysis conducted by a drug testing laboratory certified by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration, or approved by the College of American Pathologists for forensic drug testing, and a review of each positive test result by a medical review officer;

“(D) employee access to an employee assistance program, including confidential assessment, referral, and short-term problem resolution; and

“(2) ELIGIBLE INTERMEDIARY.—The term ‘eligible intermediary’ means an organization—

“(A) that has not less than 2 years of experience in carrying out drug-free workplace programs;

“(B) that has a drug-free workplace policy in effect;

“(C) that is located in a State, the District of Columbia, or a territory of the United States; and “(D) the purpose of which is—

“(i) to develop comprehensive drug-free workplace programs or to supply drug-free workplace services; or “(ii) to provide other forms of assistance and services to small business concerns.

“(3) EMPLOYEE.—The term ‘employee’ includes any—

“(A) applicant for employment;

“(B) employee;

“(C) supervisor;

“(D) manager;

“(E) officer of a small business concern who is active in management of the concern; and

“(4) MEDICAL REVIEW OFFICER.—The term ‘medical review officer’—

“(A) means a licensed physician with knowledge of substance abuse disorders; and “(B) does not include any—

“(i) employee of the small business concern; or

“(ii) employee or agent of, or any person having a financial interest in, the laboratory for which the illegal drug test results are being reviewed.

“(b) ESTABLISHMENT.—There is established a drug-free workplace demonstration program, under which the Administrator may make grants to, or enter into cooperative agreements or contracts with, eligible intermediaries for the purpose of providing financial and technical assistance to small business concerns seeking to establish a drug-free workplace program.

“(c) PRIVACY PROTECTION FOR EMPLOYEES PARTICIPATING IN A DRUG-FREE WORKPLACE PROGRAM.—Each drug-free workplace program established with assistance made available under this section shall—

“(1) include, as reasonably necessary and appropriate, practices and procedures to ensure the confidentiality of illegal drug test results and of any participation by an employee in a rehabilitation program;

“(2) prohibit the mandatory disclosure of medical information by an employee prior to a confirmed positive illegal drug test; and

“(3) require that a medical review officer reviewing illegal drug test results shall report only the final results, limited to those drugs for which the employee tests positive, in writing and in a manner designed to ensure the confidentiality of the results.

“(d) EVALUATION AND COORDINATION.—Not later than 18 months after the date of enactment of the Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1998, the Administrator, in coordination with the Secretary of Labor, the Secretary of Health and Human Services, and the Director of National Drug Control Policy, shall—

“(1) evaluate the drug-free workplace programs established with assistance made available under this section; and

“(e) CONTRACT AUTHORITY.—In carrying out this section, the Administrator may—

“(1) contract with public and private entities to provide assistance related to carrying out the program under this section; and

“(2) compensate those entities for provision of that assistance.

“(f) CONSTRUCTION.—Nothing in this section may be construed to require an employer who attends a program offered by an intermediary to contract for any service offered by the intermediary.

“(g) AUTHORIZATION.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—There is authorized to be appropriated to carry out this section, $10,000,000 for fiscal years 1999 and 2000. Amounts made available under this subsection shall remain available until expended.

“(2) SMALL BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT CENTERS.—Of the total amount made available under this subsection, not more than the greater of 10 percent or $1,000,000 may be used to carry out section 21(c)(3)(T).”.

SEC. 905. SMALL BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT CENTERS.

Section 21(c)(3) of the Small Business Act (15 U.S.C. 648(c)(3)) is amended—

(1) in subparagraph (R), by striking “and” at the end;

(2) in subparagraph (S), by striking the period at the end and inserting “; and”; and

(3) by adding at the end the following:

“(T) providing information and assistance to small business concerns with respect to establishing drug-free workplace programs on or before October 1, 2000.”.

TITLE X—CANYON FERRY RESERVOIR, MONTANA, ACT

SECTION 1001. FINDINGS.

Congress finds that the conveyance of the properties described in section 4(b) to the lessees of those properties for fair market value would have the beneficial results of—

(1) reducing Pick-Sloan project debt for the Canyon Ferry Unit;

(2) providing a permanent source of funding to acquire publicly accessible land and interests in land, including easements and conservation easements, in the State from willing sellers at fair market value to—

(A) restore and conserve fisheries habitat, including riparian habitat;

(B) restore and conserve wildlife habitat;

(C) enhance public hunting, fishing, and recreational opportunities; and

(D) improve public access to public land;

(3) eliminating Federal payments in lieu of taxes and associated management expenditures in connection with the Federal Government’s ownership of the properties while increasing local tax revenues from the new owners; and

(4) eliminating expensive and contentious disputes between the Secretary and leaseholders while ensuring that the Federal Government receives full and fair value for the properties.

SEC. 1002. PURPOSES.

The purposes of this Act are to—

(1) establish terms and conditions under which the Secretary of the Interior shall, for fair market value, convey certain properties around Canyon Ferry Reservoir, Montana, to private parties; and

(2) acquire certain land for fish and wildlife conservation purposes.

SEC. 1003. DEFINITIONS.

In this Act:

(11) SECRETARY.—The term “Secretary” means the Secretary of the Interior.

SEC. 1004. SALE OF PROPERTIES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Consistent with the Act of June 17, 1902 (32 Stat. 388, chapter 1093) and Acts supplemental to and amendatory of that Act (43 U.S.C. 371 et seq.), the Secretary shall convey to CFRA or a purchaser—

(1) all right, title, and interest (except the mineral estate) of the United States in and to the properties, subject to valid existing rights and the operational requirements of the Pick-Sloan Missouri River Basin Program; and

(2) perpetual easements for—

(A) vehicular access to each property;

(B) access to and use of 1 dock per property; and

(C) access to and use of all boathouses, ramps, retaining walls, and other improvements for which access is provided in the leases as of the date of enactment of this Act.

(b) DESCRIPTION OF PROPERTIES.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The properties to be conveyed are—

(A) the 265 cabin sites of the Bureau of Reclamation located along the northern end of the Reservoir in portions of sections 2, 11, 12, 13, 15, 22, 23, and 26, Township 10 North, Range 1 West; and

(B) any small parcel contiguous to any property (not including shoreline or land needed to provide public access to the shoreline of the Reservoir) that the Secretary determines should be conveyed in order to eliminate an inholding and facilitate administration of surrounding land remaining in Federal ownership.

(2) ACREAGE; LEGAL DESCRIPTION.—The acreage and legal description of each property and of each parcel shall be determined by the Secretary in consultation with CFRA.

(3) RESTRICTIVE USE COVENANT.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—In order to maintain the unique character of the Reservoir area, the Secretary, the purchaser, CFRA, and each subsequent owner of each property shall covenant that the use restrictions to carry out subparagraphs (B) and (C) shall—

(i) be appurtenant to, and run, with each property; and

(ii) be binding on each subsequent owner of each property.

(B) ACCESS TO RESERVOIR.—

(i) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary, the purchaser, CFRA, and the subsequent owners of each property shall ensure that—

(I) public access to and along the shoreline of the Reservoir in existence on the date of enactment of this Act is not obstructed; and

(II) adequate public access to and along the shoreline of the Reservoir is maintained.

(ii) FEDERAL RECLAMATION LAW.—

(I) IN GENERAL.—No conveyance of property under this Act shall restrict or limit the authority or ability of the Secretary to fulfill the duties of the Secretary under the Act of June 17, 1902 (32 Stat. 388, chapter 1093), and Acts supplemental to and amendatory of that Act (43 U.S.C. 371 et seq.).

(II) NO LIABILITY.—The operation of the Reservoir by the Secretary in fulfillment of the duties described in subclause (I) shall not result in liability for damages, direct or indirect, to the owner of any property conveyed under section 4(a) or damages from any loss of use or enjoyment of the property.

(C) HISTORICAL USE.—The Secretary, the purchaser, CFRA, and each subsequent owner of each property shall covenant that future uses of the property shall be limited to the type and intensity of uses in existence on the date of enactment of this Act, as limited by the prohibitions contained in the annual operating plan of the Bureau of Reclamation for the Reservoir in effect on October 1, 1998.

(c) PURCHASE PROCESS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall—

(A) solicit sealed bids for the properties;

(B) subject to paragraph (2), sell the properties to the bidder that submits the highest bid above the minimum bid determined under paragraph (2); and

(C) not accept any bid for less than all of the properties in 1 transaction.

(2) MINIMUM BID.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Before accepting bids, the Secretary shall establish a minimum bid, which shall be equal to the fair market value of the properties determined by an appraisal of each property, exclusive of the value of private improvements made by the leaseholders before the date of the conveyance, in conformance with the Uniform Appraisal Standards for Federal Land Acquisition.

(B) FAIR MARKET VALUE.—Any dispute over the fair market value of a property under subparagraph (A) shall be resolved in accordance with section 2201.4 of title 43, Code of Federal Regulations.

(3) RIGHT OF FIRST REFUSAL.—If the highest bidder is other than CFRA, CFRA shall have the right to match the highest bid and purchase the properties at a price equal to the amount of the highest bid.

(d) TERMS OF CONVEYANCE.—

(1) PURCHASER.—If the highest bidder is other than CFRA, and CFRA does not match the highest bid, the following shall apply:

(A) PAYMENT.—The purchaser shall pay the amount bid to the Secretary for distribution in accordance with section 6.

(C) OPTION TO PURCHASE.—The purchaser shall give each lessee of a property conveyed under this section an option to purchase the property at fair market value, as determined under subsection (c)(2).

(D) NONPURCHASING LESSEES.—

(i) RIGHT TO CONTINUE LEASE.—A lessee that is unable or unwilling to purchase a property shall be provided the opportunity to continue to lease the property for fair market value rent under the same terms and conditions as apply under the existing lease for the property, and shall have the right to renew the term of the existing lease for 2 consecutive 5-year terms.

(ii) COMPENSATION FOR IMPROVEMENTS.—If a lessee declines to purchase a property, the purchaser shall compensate the lessee for the fair market value, as determined pursuant to customary appraisal procedures, of all improvements made to the property by the lessee. The lessee may sell the improvements to the purchaser at any time, but the sale shall be completed by the final termination of the lease, after all renewals under clause (i).

(2) CFRA.—If CFRA is the highest bidder, or matches the highest bid, the following shall apply:

(A) CLOSING.—On receipt of a purchase request from a lessee or CFRA, the Secretary shall close on the property and prepare all other properties for closing within 45 days.

(B) PAYMENT.—At the closing for a property—

(i) the lessee or CFRA shall deliver to the Secretary payment for the property, which the Secretary shall distribute in accordance with section 6; and

(ii) the Secretary shall convey the property to the lessee or CFRA.

(C) APPRAISAL.—The Secretary shall determine the purchase amount of each property based on the appraisal conducted under subsection (c)(2), the amount of the bid under subsection (c)(1), and the proportionate share of administrative costs pursuant to subsection (e). The total purchase amount for all properties shall equal the total bid amount plus administrative costs under subsection (e).

(D) TIMING.—CFRA and the lessees shall purchase at least 75 percent of the properties not later than August 1 of the year that begins at least 12 months after title to the first property is conveyed by the Secretary to a lessee.

(E) RIGHT TO RENEW.—The Secretary shall afford the lessees who have not purchased properties under this section the right to renew the term of the existing lease for 2 (but not more than 2) consecutive 5-year terms.

(F) REIMBURSEMENT.—A lessee shall reimburse CFRA for a proportionate share of the costs to CFRA of completing the transactions contemplated by this Act, including any interest charges.

(G) RENTAL PAYMENTS.—All rent received from the leases shall be distributed by the Secretary in accordance with section 6.

(e) ADMINISTRATIVE COSTS.—Any reasonable administrative costs incurred by the Secretary, including the costs of survey and appraisals, incident to the conveyance under subsection (a) shall be reimbursed by the purchaser or CFRA.

(f) TIMING.—The Secretary shall make every effort to complete the conveyance under subsection (a) not later than 1 year after the satisfaction of the condition established by section 8(b).

(g) CLOSINGS.—Real estate closings to complete the conveyance under subsection (a) may be staggered to facilitate the conveyance as agreed to by the Secretary and the purchaser or CFRA.

(h) CONVEYANCE TO LESSEE.—If a lessee purchases a property from the purchaser or CFRA, the Secretary, at the request of the lessee, shall have the conveyance documents prepared in the name or names of the lessee so as to minimize the amount of time and number of documents required to complete the closing for the property.

SEC. 1005. AGREEMENT.

(a) MANAGEMENT OF SILO'S CAMPGROUND.—Not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary, acting through the Commissioner of Reclamation, shall—

(1) offer to contract with the Commissioners to manage the Silo's campground;

(2) enter into such a contract if agreed to by the Secretary and the Commissioners; and

(3) grant necessary easements for access roads within and adjacent to the Silo's campground.

(b) CONCESSION INCOME.—Any income generated by any concession that may be granted by the Commissioners at the Silo's recreation area—

(1) shall be deposited in the Canyon Ferry-Broadwater County Trust; and

(2) may be disbursed by the Canyon Ferry-Broadwater County Trust manager as part of the income of the Trust.

SEC. 1006. USE OF PROCEEDS.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, proceeds of conveyances under this Act shall be available, without further Act of appropriation, as follows:

(1) 10 percent of the proceeds shall be applied by the Secretary of the Treasury to reduce the outstanding debt for the Pick-Sloan project at the Reservoir.

(2) 90 percent of the proceeds shall be deposited in the Montana Fish and Wildlife Conservation Trust.

SEC. 1007. MONTANA FISH AND WILDLIFE CONSERVATION TRUST.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—The Secretary, in consultation with the State congressional delegation and the Governor of the State, shall establish a nonprofit charitable permanent perpetual public trust in the State, to be known as the "Montana Fish and Wildlife Conservation Trust" (referred to in this section as the "Trust").

(b) PURPOSE.—The purpose of the Trust shall be to provide a permanent source of funding to acquire publicly accessible land and interests in land, including easements and conservation easements, in the State from willing sellers at fair market value to—

(1) restore and conserve fisheries habitat, including riparian habitat;

(2) restore and conserve wildlife habitat;

(3) enhance public hunting, fishing, and recreational opportunities; and

(4) improve public access to public land.

(c) ADMINISTRATION.—

(1) TRUST MANAGER.—The Trust shall be managed by a trust manager, who—

(A) shall be responsible for investing the corpus of the Trust; and

(B) shall disburse funds from the Trust on receiving a request for disbursement from a majority of the members of the Joint State-Federal Agency Board established under paragraph (2) and after determining, in consultation with the Citizen Advisory Board established under paragraph (3) and after consideration of any comments submitted by members of the public, that the request meets the purpose of the Trust under subsection (b) and the requirements of subsections (d) and (e).

(2) JOINT STATE-FEDERAL AGENCY BOARD.—

(A) ESTABLISHMENT.—There is established a Joint State-Federal Agency Board, which shall consist of—

(i) 1 Forest Service employee employed in the State designated by the Forest Service;

(ii) 1 Bureau of Land Management employee employed in the State designated by the Bureau of Land Management;

(iii) 1 Bureau of Reclamation employee employed in the State designated by the Bureau of Reclamation;

(iv) 1 United States Fish and Wildlife Service employee employed in the State designated by the United States Fish and Wildlife Service; and

(v) 1 Montana Department of Fish, Wildlife and Parks employee designated by the Department.

(B) REQUESTS FOR DISBURSEMENT.—After consulting with the Citizen Advisory Board established under paragraph (3) and after consideration of the Trust plan prepared under paragraph (3)(C) and of any comments or requests submitted by members of the public, the Joint State-Federal Agency Board, by a vote of a majority of its members, may submit to the Trust Manager a request for disbursement if the Board determines that the request meets the purpose of the Trust.

(3) CITIZEN ADVISORY BOARD.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall nominate, and the Joint State-Federal Agency Board shall approve by a majority vote, a Citizen Advisory Board.

(B) MEMBERSHIP.—The Citizen Advisory Board shall consist of 4 members, including 1 with a demonstrated commitment to improving public access to public land and to fish and wildlife conservation, from each of—

(i) a Montana organization representing agricultural landowners;

(ii) a Montana organization representing hunters;

(iii) a Montana organization representing fishermen; and

(iv) a Montana nonprofit land trust or environmental organization.

(C) DUTIES.—The Citizen Advisory Board, in consultation with the Joint State-Federal Agency Board and the Montana Association of Counties, shall prepare and periodically update a Trust plan including recommendations for requests for disbursement by the Joint State-Federal Agency Board.

(D) OBJECTIVES OF PLAN.—The Trust plan shall be designed to maximize the effectiveness of Montana Fish and Wildlife Conservation Trust expenditures considering—

- (i) public needs and requests;
- (ii) availability of property;
- (iii) alternative sources of funding; and
- (iv) availability of matching funds.

(4) PUBLIC NOTICE AND COMMENT.—Before requesting any disbursements under paragraph (2), the Joint State-Federal Agency Board shall—

(A) notify members of the public, including local governments; and

(d) USE.—

(2) EARNINGS.—Earnings on amounts in the Trust shall be used to carry out subsection (b) and to administer the Trust and Citizen Advisory Board.

(3) LOCAL PURPOSES.—Not more than 50 percent of the income from the Trust in any year shall be used outside the watershed of the Missouri River in the State, from Holter Dam upstream to the confluence of the Jefferson River, Gallatin River, and Madison River.

(e) MANAGEMENT.—Land and interests in land acquired under this section shall be managed for the purpose described in subsection (b).

SEC. 1008. CANYON FERRY-BROADWATER COUNTY TRUST.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—The Commissioners shall establish a non-profit charitable permanent perpetual public trust to be known as the “Canyon Ferry-Broadwater County Trust” (referred to in this section as the “Trust”).

(b) PRIORITY OF TRUST ESTABLISHMENT.—

(1) CONDITION TO SALE.—No sale of property under section 4 shall be made until at least $3,000,000, or a lesser amount as offset by in-kind contributions made before full funding of the trust, is deposited as the initial corpus of the Trust.

(2) IN-KIND CONTRIBUTIONS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—In-kind contributions—

(i) shall be approved in advance by the Commissioners;

(ii) shall be made in Broadwater County;

(iii) shall be related to the improvement of access to the portions of the Reservoir lying within Broadwater County or to the creation and improvement of new and existing recreational areas within Broadwater County; and

(iv) shall not include any contribution made by Broadwater County.

(B) APPROVAL.—Approval by the Commissioners of an in-kind contribution under subparagraph (A) shall include approval of the value, nature, and type of the contribution and of the entity that makes the contribution.

(3) INTEREST.—Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, all interest earned on the principal of the Trust shall be reinvested and considered part of its corpus until the condition stated in paragraph (1) is met.

(c) TRUST MANAGEMENT.—

(1) TRUST MANAGER.—The Trust shall be managed by a nonprofit foundation or other independent trustee to be selected by the Commissioners.

(2) USE.—The Trust manager shall invest the corpus of the Trust and disburse funds as follows:

(A) PRINCIPAL.—A sum not to exceed $500,000 may be expended from the corpus to pay for the planning and construction of a harbor at the Silo's recreation area.

(B) INTEREST.—The balance of the Trust shall be held and the income shall be expended annually for the improvement of access to the portions of the Reservoir lying within Broadwater County, Montana, and for the creation and improvement of new and existing recreational areas within Broadwater County.

(3) DISBURSEMENT.—The Trust manager—

(A) shall approve or reject any request for disbursement; and

(B) shall not make any expenditure except on the recommendation of the advisory committee established under subsection (d).

(d) ADVISORY COMMITTEE.—

(1) ESTABLISHMENT.—The Commissioners shall appoint an advisory committee consisting of not fewer than 3 nor more than 5 persons.

(2) DUTIES.—The advisory committee shall meet on a regular basis to establish priorities and make requests for the disbursement of funds to the Trust manager.

(3) APPROVAL BY THE COMMISSIONERS.—The advisory committee shall recommend only such expenditures as are approved by the Commissioners.

(e) NO OFFSET.—Neither the corpus nor the income of the Trust shall be used to reduce or replace the regular operating expenses of the Secretary at the Reservoir, unless approved by the Commissioners.

SEC. 1009. AUTHORIZATION.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary is authorized to—

(1) investigate, plan, construct, operate, and maintain public recreational facilities on land withdrawn or acquired for the development of the project;

(2) conserve the scenery, the natural historic, paleontologic, and archaeologic objects, and the wildlife on the land;

(3) provide for public use and enjoyment of the land and of the water areas created by the project by such means as are consistent with but subordinate to the purposes of the project; and

(4) investigate, plan, construct, operate, and maintain facilities for the conservation of fish and wildlife resources.

(b) COSTS.—The costs (including operation and maintenance costs) of carrying out subsection (a) shall be nonreimbursable and nonreturnable under Federal reclamation law.

TITLE XI—MORATORIUM ON CERTAIN TAXES

SEC. 1100. SHORT TITLE.

This title may be cited as the “Internet Tax Freedom Act”.

SEC. 1101. MORATORIUM.

(a) MORATORIUM.—No State or political subdivision thereof shall impose any of the following taxes during the period beginning on October 1, 1998, and ending 3 years after the date of the enactment of this Act—

(1) taxes on Internet access, unless such tax was generally imposed and actually enforced prior to October 1, 1998; and

(2) multiple or discriminatory taxes on electronic commerce.

(b) PRESERVATION OF STATE AND LOCAL TAXING AUTHORITY.—Except as provided in this section, nothing in this title shall be construed to modify, impair, or supersede, or authorize the modification, impairment, or superseding of, any State or local law pertaining to taxation that is otherwise permissible by or under the Constitution of the United States or other Federal law and in effect on the date of enactment of this Act.

(c) LIABILITIES AND PENDING CASES.—Nothing in this title affects liability for taxes accrued and enforced before the date of enactment of this Act, nor does this title affect ongoing litigation relating to such taxes.

(d) DEFINITION OF GENERALLY IMPOSED AND ACTUALLY ENFORCED.—For purposes of this section, a tax has been generally imposed and actually enforced prior to October 1, 1998, if, before that date, the tax was authorized by statute and either—

(1) a provider of Internet access services had a reasonable opportunity to know by virtue of a rule or other public proclamation made by the appropriate administrative agency of the State or political subdivision thereof, that such agency has interpreted and applied such tax to Internet access services; or

(2) a State or political subdivision thereof generally collected such tax on charges for Internet access.

(e) EXCEPTION TO MORATORIUM.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Subsection (a) shall also not apply in the case of any person or entity who knowingly and with knowledge of the character of the material, in interstate or foreign commerce by means of the World Wide Web, makes any communication for commercial purposes that is available to any minor and that includes any material that is harmful to minors unless such person or entity has restricted access by minors to material that is harmful to minors—

(A) by requiring use of a credit card, debit account, adult access code, or adult personal identification number;

(B) by accepting a digital certificate that verifies age;

or

(C) by any other reasonable measures that are feasible under available technology.

(2) SCOPE OF EXCEPTION.—For purposes of paragraph (1), a person shall not be considered to making a communication for commercial purposes of material to the extent that the person is—

(A) a telecommunications carrier engaged in the provision of a telecommunications service;

(B) a person engaged in the business of providing an Internet access service;

(C) a person engaged in the business of providing an Internet information location tool; or

(D) similarly engaged in the transmission, storage, retrieval, hosting, formatting, or translation (or any combination thereof) of a communication made by another person, without selection or alteration of the communication.

(3) DEFINITIONS.—In this subsection:

(A) BY MEANS OF THE WORLD WIDE WEB.—The term “by means of the World Wide Web” means by placement of material in a computer server-based file archive so that it is publicly accessible, over the Internet, using hypertext transfer protocol, file transfer protocol, or other similar protocols.

(B) COMMERCIAL PURPOSES; ENGAGED IN THE BUSINESS.—

(i) COMMERCIAL PURPOSES.—A person shall be considered to make a communication for commercial purposes only if such person is engaged in the business of making such communications.

(ii) ENGAGED IN THE BUSINESS.—The term “engaged in the business” means that the person who makes a communication, or offers to make a communication, by means of the World Wide Web, that includes any material that is harmful to minors, devotes time, attention, or labor to such activities, as a regular course of such person’s trade or business, with the objective of earning a profit as a result of such activities (although it is not necessary that the person make a profit or that the making or offering to make such communications be the person’s sole or principal business or source of income). A person may be considered to be engaged in the business of making, by means of the World Wide Web, communications for commercial purposes that include material that is harmful to minors, only if the person knowingly causes the material that is harmful to minors to be posted on the World Wide Web or knowingly solicits such material to be posted on the World Wide Web.

(C) INTERNET.—The term “Internet” means collectively the myriad of computer and telecommunications facilities, including equipment and operating software, which comprise the interconnected world-wide network of networks that employ the Transmission Control Protocol/Internet Protocol, or any predecessor or successor protocols to such protocol, to communicate information of all kinds by wire or radio.

(D) INTERNET ACCESS SERVICE.—The term “Internet access service” means a service that enables users to access content, information, electronic mail, or other services offered over the Internet and may also include access to proprietary content, information, and other services as part of a package of services offered to consumers. Such term does not include telecommunications services.

(E) INTERNET INFORMATION LOCATION TOOL.—The term “Internet information location tool” means a service that refers or links users to an online location on the World Wide Web. Such term includes directories, indices, references, pointers, and hypertext links.

(F) MATERIAL THAT IS HARMFUL TO MINORS.—The term “material that is harmful to minors” means any communication, picture, image, graphic image file, article, recording, writing, or other matter of any kind that is obscene or that—

(i) the average person, applying contemporary community standards, would find, taking the material as a whole and with respect to minors, is designed to appeal to, or is designed to pander to, the prurient interest;

(ii) depicts, describes, or represents, in a manner patently offensive with respect to minors, an actual or simulated sexual act or sexual contact, an actual or simulated normal or perverted sexual act, or a lewd exhibition of the genitals or post-pubescent female breast; and

(iii) taken as a whole, lacks serious literary, artistic, political, or scientific value for minors.

(G) MINOR.—The term “minor” means any person under 17 years of age.

(H) TELECOMMUNICATIONS CARRIER; TELECOMMUNICATIONS SERVICE.—The terms “telecommunications carrier” and “telecommunications service” have the meanings given such terms in section 3 of the Communications Act of 1934 (47 U.S.C. 153).

(f) ADDITIONAL EXCEPTION TO MORATORIUM.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Subsection (a) shall also not apply with respect to an Internet access provider, unless, at the time of entering into an agreement with a customer for the provision of Internet access services, such provider offers such customer (either for a fee or at no charge) screening software that is designed to permit the customer to limit access to material on the Internet that is harmful to minors.

(2) DEFINITIONS.—In this subsection:

(A) INTERNET ACCESS PROVIDER.—The term “Internet access provider” means a person engaged in the business of providing a computer and communications facility through which a customer may obtain access to the Internet, but does not include a common carrier to the extent that it provides only telecommunications services.

(B) INTERNET ACCESS SERVICES.—The term “Internet access services” means the provision of computer and com-communications services through which a customer using a computer and a modem or other communications device may obtain access to the Internet, but does not include telecommunications services provided by a common carrier.

(C) SCREENING SOFTWARE.—The term “screening software” means software that is designed to permit a person to limit access to material on the Internet that is harmful to minors.

(3) APPLICABILITY.—Paragraph (1) shall apply to agreements for the provision of Internet access services entered into on or after the date that is 6 months after the date of enactment of this Act.

SEC. 1102. ADVISORY COMMISSION ON ELECTRONIC COMMERCE.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT OF COMMISSION.—There is established a commission to be known as the Advisory Commission on Electronic Commerce (in this title referred to as the “Commission”). The Commission shall—

(1) be composed of 19 members appointed in accordance with subsection (b), including the chairperson who shall be selected by the members of the Commission from among themselves; and

(2) conduct its business in accordance with the provisions of this title.

(b) MEMBERSHIP.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Commissioners shall serve for the life of the Commission. The membership of the Commission shall be as follows:

(A) 3 representatives from the Federal Government, comprised of the Secretary of Commerce, the Secretary of the Treasury, and the United States Trade Representative (or their respective delegates).

(B) 8 representatives from State and local governments (one such representative shall be from a State or local government that does not impose a sales tax and one representative shall be from a State that does not impose an income tax).

(C) 8 representatives of the electronic commerce industry (including small business), telecommunications carriers, local retail businesses, and consumer groups, comprised of—

(i) 5 individuals appointed by the Majority Leader of the Senate;

(ii) 3 individuals appointed by the Minority Leader of the Senate;

(iii) 5 individuals appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives; and

(iv) 3 individuals appointed by the Minority Leader of the House of Representatives.

(2) APPOINTMENTS.—Appointments to the Commission shall be made not later than 45 days after the date of the enactment of this Act. The chairperson shall be selected not later than 60 days after the date of the enactment of this Act.

(3) VACANCIES.—Any vacancy in the Commission shall not affect its powers, but shall be filled in the same manner as the original appointment.

(c) ACCEPTANCE OF GIFTS AND GRANTS.—The Commission may accept, use, and dispose of gifts or grants of services or property, both real and personal, for purposes of aiding or facilitating the work of the Commission. Gifts or grants not used at the expiration of the Commission shall be returned to the donor or grantor.

(d) OTHER RESOURCES.—The Commission shall have reasonable access to materials, resources, data, and other information from the Department of Justice, the Department of Commerce, the Department of State, the Department of the Treasury, and the Office of the United States Trade Representative. The Commission shall also have reasonable access to use the facilities of any such Department or Office for purposes of conducting meetings.

(e) SUNSET.—The Commission shall terminate 18 months after the date of the enactment of this Act.

(f) RULES OF THE COMMISSION.—

(1) QUORUM.—Nine members of the Commission shall constitute a quorum for conducting the business of the Commission.

(2) MEETINGS.—Any meetings held by the Commission shall be duly noticed at least 14 days in advance and shall be open to the public.

(3) OPPORTUNITIES TO TESTIFY.—The Commission shall provide opportunities for representatives of the general public, taxpayer groups, consumer groups, and State and local government officials to testify.

(4) ADDITIONAL RULES.—The Commission may adopt other rules as needed.

(g) DUTIES OF THE COMMISSION.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Commission shall conduct a thorough study of Federal, State and local, and international taxation and tariff treatment of transactions using the Internet and Internet access and other comparable intrastate, interstate or international sales activities.

(2) ISSUES TO BE STUDIED.—The Commission may include in the study under subsection (a)—

(A) an examination of—

(i) barriers imposed in foreign markets on United States providers of property, goods, services, or information engaged in electronic commerce and on United States providers of telecommunications services; and

(ii) how the imposition of such barriers will affect United States consumers, the competitiveness of United States citizens providing property, goods, services, or information in foreign markets, and the growth and maturing of the Internet;

(B) an examination of the collection and administration of consumption taxes on electronic commerce in other countries and the United States, and the impact of such collection on the global economy, including an examination of the relationship between the collection and administration of such taxes when the transaction uses the Internet and when it does not;

(C) an examination of the impact of the Internet and Internet access (particularly voice transmission) on the revenue base for taxes imposed under section 4251 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986;

(D) an examination of model State legislation that—

(i) would provide uniform definitions of categories of property, goods, service, or information subject to or exempt from sales and use taxes; and

(ii) would ensure that Internet access services, online services, and communications and transactions using the Internet, Internet access service, or online services would be treated in a tax and technologically neutral manner relative to other forms of remote sales;

(E) an examination of the effects of taxation, including the absence of taxation, on all interstate sales transactions, including transactions using the Internet, on retail businesses and on State and local governments, which examination may include a review of the efforts of State and local governments to collect sales and use taxes owed on in-State purchases from out-of-State sellers; and

(F) the examination of ways to simplify Federal and State and local taxes imposed on the provision of telecommunications services.

(3) EFFECT ON THE COMMUNICATIONS ACT OF 1934.—Nothing in this section shall include an examination of any fees or charges imposed by the Federal Communications Commission or States related to—

(A) obligations under the Communications Act of 1934 (47 U.S.C. 151 et seq.); or

(B) the implementation of the Telecommunications Act of 1996 (or of amendments made by that Act).

(h) NATIONAL TAX ASSOCIATION COMMUNICATIONS AND ELECTRONIC COMMERCE TAX PROJECT.—The Commission shall, to the extent possible, ensure that its work does not undermine the efforts of the National Tax Association Communications and Electronic Commerce Tax Project.

SEC. 1103. REPORT.

Not later than 18 months after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Commission shall transmit to Congress for its consideration a report reflecting the results, including such legislative recommendations as required to address the findings of the Commission's study under this title. Any recommendation agreed to by the Commission shall be tax and technologically neutral and apply to all forms of remote commerce. No finding or recommendation shall be included in the report unless agreed to by at least two-thirds of the members of the Commission serving at the time the finding or recommendation is made.

SEC. 1104. DEFINITIONS.

For the purposes of this title:

(1) BIT TAX.—The term “bit tax” means any tax on electronic commerce expressly imposed on or measured by the volume of digital information transmitted electronically, or the volume of digital information per unit of time transmitted electronically, but does not include taxes imposed on the provision of telecommunications services.

(2) DISCRIMINATORY TAX.—The term “discriminatory tax” means—

(A) any tax imposed by a State or political subdivision thereof on electronic commerce that—

(i) is not generally imposed and legally collectible by such State or such political subdivision on transactions involving similar property, goods, services, or information accomplished through other means;

(ii) is not generally imposed and legally collectible at the same rate by such State or such political subdivision on transactions involving similar property, goods, services, or information accomplished through other means, unless the rate is lower as part of a phase-out of the tax over not more than a 5-year period;

(iii) imposes an obligation to collect or pay the tax on a different person or entity than in the case of transactions involving similar property, goods, services, or information accomplished through other means;

(iv) establishes a classification of Internet access service providers or online service providers for purposes of establishing a higher tax rate to be imposed on such providers than the tax rate generally applied to providers of similar information services delivered through other means; or

(B) any tax imposed by a State or political subdivision thereof, if—

(i) except with respect to a tax (on Internet access) that was generally imposed and actually enforced prior to October 1, 1998, the sole ability to access a site on a remote seller’s out-of-State computer server is considered a factor in determining a remote seller’s tax collection obligation; or

(ii) a provider of Internet access service or online services is deemed to be the agent of a remote seller for determining tax collection obligations solely as a result of—

(I) the display of a remote seller’s information or content on the out-of-State computer server of a provider of Internet access service or online services; or

(II) the processing of orders through the out-of-State computer server of a provider of Internet access service or online services.

(3) ELECTRONIC COMMERCE.—The term “electronic commerce” means any transaction conducted over the Internet or through Internet access, comprising the sale, lease, license, offer, or delivery of property, goods, services, or information, whether or not for consideration, and includes the provision of Internet access.

(4) INTERNET.—The term “Internet” means collectively the myriad of computer and telecommunications facilities, including equipment and operating software, which comprise the interconnected world-wide network of networks that employ the Transmission Control Protocol/Internet Protocol, or any predecessor or successor protocols to such protocol, to communicate information of all kinds by wire or radio.

(5) INTERNET ACCESS.—The term “Internet access” means a service that enables users to access content, information, electronic mail, or other services offered over the Internet, and may also include access to proprietary content, information, and other services as part of a package of services offered to users. Such term does not include telecommunications services.

(6) MULTIPLE TAX.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The term “multiple tax” means any tax that is imposed by one State or political subdivision thereof on the same or essentially the same electronic commerce that is also subject to another tax imposed by another State or political subdivision thereof (whether or not at the same rate or on the same basis), without a credit (for example, a resale exemption certificate) for taxes paid in other jurisdictions.

(B) EXCEPTION.—Such term shall not include a sales or use tax imposed by a State and 1 or more political subdivisions thereof on the same electronic commerce or a tax on persons engaged in electronic commerce which also may have been subject to a sales or use tax thereon.

(C) SALES OR USE TAX.—For purposes of subparagraph (B), the term “sales or use tax” means a tax that is imposed on or incident to the sale, purchase, storage, consumption, distribution, or other use of tangible personal property or services as may be defined by laws imposing such tax and which is measured by the amount of the sales price or other charge for such property or service.

(7) STATE.—The term “State” means any of the several States, the District of Columbia, or any commonwealth, territory, or possession of the United States.

(8) TAX.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The term “tax” means—

(i) any charge imposed by any governmental entity for the purpose of generating revenues for governmental purposes, and is not a fee imposed for a specific privilege, service, or benefit conferred; or

(ii) the imposition on a seller of an obligation to collect and to remit to a governmental entity any sales or use tax imposed on a buyer by a governmental entity.

(B) EXCEPTION.—Such term does not include any franchise fee or similar fee imposed by a State or local franchising authority, pursuant to section 622 or 653 of the Communications Act of 1934 (47 U.S.C. 542, 573), or any other fee related to obligations or telecommunications carriers under the Communications Act of 1934 (47 U.S.C. 151 et seq.).

(9) TELECOMMUNICATIONS SERVICE.—The term “telecommunications service” has the meaning given such term in section 3(46) of the Communications Act of 1934 (47 U.S.C. 153(46)) and includes communications services (as defined in section 4251 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986).

(10) TAX ON INTERNET ACCESS.—The term “tax on Internet access” means a tax on Internet access, including the enforcement or application of any new or preexisting tax on the sale or use of Internet services unless such tax was generally imposed and actually enforced prior to October 1, 1998.

TITLE XII—OTHER PROVISIONS

SEC. 1201. DECLARATION THAT INTERNET SHOULD BE FREE OF NEW FEDERAL TAXES.

It is the sense of Congress that no new Federal taxes similar to the taxes described in section 1101(a) should be enacted with respect to the Internet and Internet access during the moratorium provided in such section.

SEC. 1202. NATIONAL TRADE ESTIMATE.

Section 181 of the Trade Act of 1974 (19 U.S.C. 2241) is amended—

(1) in subsection (a)(1)—

(A) in subparagraph (A)—

(i) by striking “and” at the end of clause (i);

(ii) by inserting “and” at the end of clause (ii); and

(iii) by inserting after clause (ii) the following new clause:

“(iii) United States electronic commerce;” and

(B) in subparagraph (C)—

(i) by striking “and” at the end of clause (i);

(ii) by inserting “and” at the end of clause (ii);

(iii) by inserting after clause (ii) the following new clause:

“(iii) the value of additional United States electronic commerce;” and

(iv) by inserting “or transacted with,” after “or invested in”;

(2) in subsection (a)(2)(E)—

(A) by striking “and” at the end of clause (i);

(B) by inserting “and” at the end of clause (ii); and

(C) by inserting after clause (ii) the following new clause:

“(iii) the value of electronic commerce transacted with;” and

(3) by adding at the end the following new subsection:

“(d) ELECTRONIC COMMERCE.—For purposes of this section, the term ‘electronic commerce’ has the meaning given that term in section 1104(3) of the Internet Tax Freedom Act.”.

SEC. 1203. DECLARATION THAT THE INTERNET SHOULD BE FREE OF FOREIGN TARIFFS, TRADE BARRIERS, AND OTHER RESTRICTIONS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—It is the sense of Congress that the President should seek bilateral, regional, and multilateral agreements to re- move barriers to global electronic commerce through the World Trade Organization, the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development, the Trans-Atlantic Economic Partnership, the Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation forum, the Free Trade Area of the Americas, the North American Free Trade Agreement, and other appropriate venues.

(b) NEGOTIATING OBJECTIVES.—The negotiating objectives of the United States shall be—

- (1) to assure that electronic commerce is free from—
 - (A) tariff and nontariff barriers;
 - (B) burdensome and discriminatory regulation and standards; and
 - (C) discriminatory taxation; and
- (2) to accelerate the growth of electronic commerce by expanding market access opportunities for—
 - (A) the development of telecommunications infrastructure;
 - (B) the procurement of telecommunications equipment;
 - (C) the provision of Internet access and telecommunications services; and
 - (D) the exchange of goods, services, and digitalized information.

(c) ELECTRONIC COMMERCE.—For purposes of this section, the term “electronic commerce” has the meaning given that term in section 1104(3).

SEC. 1204. NO EXPANSION OF TAX AUTHORITY.

Nothing in this title shall be construed to expand the duty of any person to collect or pay taxes beyond that which existed immediately before the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 1205. PRESERVATION OF AUTHORITY.

Nothing in this title shall limit or otherwise affect the implementation of the Telecommunications Act of 1996 (Public Law 104–104) or the amendments made by such Act.

SEC. 1206. SEVERABILITY.

If any provision of this title, or any amendment made by this title, or the application of that provision to any person or circumstance, is held by a court of competent jurisdiction to violate any provision of the Constitution of the United States, then the other provisions of that title, and the application of that provision to other persons and circumstances, shall not be affected.

TITLE XIII—CHILDREN’S ONLINE PRIVACY PROTECTION

SEC. 1301. SHORT TITLE.

This title may be cited as the “Children’s Online Privacy Protection Act of 1998”.

SEC. 1302. DEFINITIONS.

In this title:

- (1) CHILD.—The term “child” means an individual under the age of 13.
- (2) OPERATOR.—The term “operator”—
 - (A) means any person who operates a website located on the Internet or an online service and who collects or maintains personal information from or about the users of or visitors to such website or online service, or on whose behalf such information is collected or maintained, where such website or online service is operated for commercial purposes, including any person offering products or services for sale through that website or online service, involving commerce—

(i) among the several States or with 1 or more foreign nations;

(ii) in any territory of the United States or in the District of Columbia, or between any such territory and—

(I) another such territory; or

(II) any State or foreign nation; or

(iii) between the District of Columbia and any State, territory, or foreign nation; but

(B) does not include any nonprofit entity that would otherwise be exempt from coverage under section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act (15 U.S.C. 45).

(3) COMMISSION.—The term “Commission” means the Federal Trade Commission.

(4) DISCLOSURE.—The term “disclosure” means, with respect to personal information—

(A) the release of personal information collected from a child in identifiable form by an operator for any purpose, except where such information is provided to a person other than the operator who provides support for the internal operations of the website and does not disclose or use that information for any other purpose; and

(B) making personal information collected from a child by a website or online service directed to children or with actual knowledge that such information was collected from a child, publicly available in identifiable form, by any means including by a public posting, through the Internet, or through—

(i) a home page of a website;

(ii) a pen pal service;

(iii) an electronic mail service;

(iv) a message board; or

(5) FEDERAL AGENCY.—The term “Federal agency” means an agency, as that term is defined in section 551(1) of title 5, United States Code.

(6) INTERNET.—The term “Internet” means collectively the myriad of computer and telecommunications facilities, including equipment and operating software, which comprise the interconnected world-wide network of networks that employ the Transmission Control Protocol/Internet Protocol, or any predecessor or successor protocols to such protocol, to communicate information of all kinds by wire or radio.

(7) PARENT.—The term “parent” includes a legal guardian.

(8) PERSONAL INFORMATION.—The term “personal information” means individually identifiable information about an individual collected online, including—

- (A) a first and last name;
- (B) a home or other physical address including street name and name of a city or town;
- (C) an e-mail address;
- (D) a telephone number;
- (E) a Social Security number;
- (F) any other identifier that the Commission determines permits the physical or online contacting of a specific individual; or
- (G) information concerning the child or the parents of that child that the website collects online from the child and combines with an identifier described in this paragraph.

(9) VERIFIABLE PARENTAL CONSENT.—The term “verifiable parental consent” means any reasonable effort (taking into consideration available technology), including a request for authorization for future collection, use, and disclosure described in the notice, to ensure that a parent of a child receives notice of the operator’s personal information collection, use, and disclosure practices, and authorizes the collection, use, and disclosure, as applicable, of personal information and the subsequent use of that information before that information is collected from that child.

(10) WEBSITE OR ONLINE SERVICE DIRECTED TO CHILDREN.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The term “website or online service directed to children” means—

- (i) a commercial website or online service that is targeted to children; or
- (ii) that portion of a commercial website or online service that is targeted to children.

(B) LIMITATION.—A commercial website or online service, or a portion of a commercial website or online service, shall not be deemed directed to children solely for referring or linking to a commercial website or online service directed to children by using information location tools, including a directory, index, reference, pointer, or hypertext link.

(11) PERSON.—The term “person” means any individual, partnership, corporation, trust, estate, cooperative, association, or other entity.

(12) ONLINE CONTACT INFORMATION.—The term “online contact information” means an e-mail address or another substantially similar identifier that permits direct contact with a person online.

SEC. 1303. REGULATION OF UNFAIR AND DECEPTIVE ACTS AND PRACTICES IN CONNECTION WITH THE COLLECTION AND USE OF PERSONAL INFORMATION FROM AND ABOUT CHILDREN ON THE INTERNET.

(a) ACTS PROHIBITED.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—It is unlawful for an operator of a website or online service directed to children, or any operator that has actual knowledge that it is collecting personal information from a child, to collect personal information from a child in a manner that violates the regulations prescribed under subsection (b).

(2) DISCLOSURE TO PARENT PROTECTED.—Notwithstanding paragraph (1), neither an operator of such a website or online service nor the operator’s agent shall be held to be liable under any Federal or State law for any disclosure made in good faith and following reasonable procedures in responding to a request for disclosure of personal information under subsection (b)(1)(B)(iii) to the parent of a child.

(b) REGULATIONS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 1 year after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Commission shall promulgate under section 553 of title 5, United States Code, regulations that—

(A) require the operator of any website or online service directed to children that collects personal information from children or the operator of a website or online service that has actual knowledge that it is collecting personal information from a child—

(i) to provide notice on the website of what information is collected from children by the operator, how the operator uses such information, and the operator’s disclosure practices for such information; and

(ii) to obtain verifiable parental consent for the collection, use, or disclosure of personal information from children;

(B) require the operator to provide, upon request of a parent under this subparagraph whose child has provided personal information to that website or online service, upon proper identification of that parent, to such parent—

(i) a description of the specific types of personal information collected from the child by that operator;

(ii) the opportunity at any time to refuse to permit the operator’s further use or maintenance in retrievable form, or future online collection, of personal information from that child; and

(iii) notwithstanding any other provision of law, a means that is reasonable under the circumstances for the parent to obtain any personal information collected from that child;

(C) prohibit conditioning a child’s participation in a game, the offering of a prize, or another activity on the child disclosing more personal information than is reasonably necessary to participate in such activity; and

(D) require the operator of such a website or online service to establish and maintain reasonable procedures to protect the confidentiality, security, and integrity of personal information collected from children.

(2) WHEN CONSENT NOT REQUIRED.—The regulations shall provide that verifiable parental consent under paragraph (1)(A)(ii) is not required in the case of—

(A) online contact information collected from a child that is used only to respond directly on a one-time basis to a specific request from the child and is not used to recon-

tact the child and is not maintained in retrievable form by the operator;

(B) a request for the name or online contact information of a parent or child that is used for the sole purpose of obtaining parental consent or providing notice under this section and where such information is not maintained in retrievable form by the operator if parental consent is not obtained after a reasonable time;

(C) online contact information collected from a child that is used only to respond more than once directly to a specific request from the child and is not used to recontact the child beyond the scope of that request—

(i) if, before any additional response after the initial response to the child, the operator uses reasonable efforts to provide a parent notice of the online contact information collected from the child, the purposes for which it is to be used, and an opportunity for the parent to request that the operator make no further use of the information and that it not be maintained in retrievable form; or

(ii) without notice to the parent in such circumstances as the Commission may determine are appropriate, taking into consideration the benefits to the child of access to information and services, and risks to the security and privacy of the child, in regulations promulgated under this subsection;

(D) the name of the child and online contact information (to the extent reasonably necessary to protect the safety of a child participant on the site)—

(i) used only for the purpose of protecting such safety;

(ii) not used to recontact the child or for any other purpose; and

(iii) not disclosed on the site,

if the operator uses reasonable efforts to provide a parent notice of the name and online contact information collected from the child, the purposes for which it is to be used, and an opportunity for the parent to request that the operator make no further use of the information and that it not be maintained in retrievable form; or

(E) the collection, use, or dissemination of such information by the operator of such a website or online service necessary—

(i) to protect the security or integrity of its website;

(ii) to take precautions against liability;

(iii) to respond to judicial process; or

(iv) to the extent permitted under other provisions of law, to provide information to law enforcement agencies or for an investigation on a matter related to public safety.

(3) TERMINATION OF SERVICE.—The regulations shall permit the operator of a website or an online service to terminate service provided to a child whose parent has refused, under the regulations prescribed under paragraph (1)(B)(ii), to permit the operator's further use or maintenance in retrievable form, or future online collection, of personal information from that child.

(c) ENFORCEMENT.—Subject to sections 1304 and 1306, a violation of a regulation prescribed under subsection (a) shall be treated as a violation of a rule defining an unfair or deceptive act or practice prescribed under section 18(a)(1)(B) of the Federal Trade Commission Act (15 U.S.C. 57a(a)(1)(B)).

(d) INCONSISTENT STATE LAW.—No State or local government may impose any liability for commercial activities or actions by operators in interstate or foreign commerce in connection with an activity or action described in this title that is inconsistent with the treatment of those activities or actions under this section.

SEC. 1304. SAFE HARBORS.

(a) GUIDELINES.—An operator may satisfy the requirements of regulations issued under section 1303(b) by following a set of self-regulatory guidelines, issued by representatives of the marketing or online industries, or by other persons, approved under subsection (b).

(b) INCENTIVES.—

(1) SELF-REGULATORY INCENTIVES.—In prescribing regulations under section 1303, the Commission shall provide incentives for self-regulation by operators to implement the protections afforded children under the regulatory requirements described in subsection (b) of that section.

(2) DEEMED COMPLIANCE.—Such incentives shall include provisions for ensuring that a person will be deemed to be in compliance with the requirements of the regulations under section 1303 if that person complies with guidelines that, after notice and comment, are approved by the Commission upon making a determination that the guidelines meet the requirements of the regulations issued under section 1303.

(3) EXPEDITED RESPONSE TO REQUESTS.—The Commission shall act upon requests for safe harbor treatment within 180 days of the filing of the request, and shall set forth in writing its conclusions with regard to such requests.

(c) APPEALS.—Final action by the Commission on a request for approval of guidelines, or the failure to act within 180 days on a request for approval of guidelines, submitted under subsection (b) may be appealed to a district court of the United States of appropriate jurisdiction as provided for in section 706 of title 5, United States Code.

SEC. 1305. ACTIONS BY STATES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—

(1) CIVIL ACTIONS.—In any case in which the attorney general of a State has reason to believe that an interest of the residents of that State has been or is threatened or adversely affected by the engagement of any person in a practice that violates any regulation of the Commission prescribed under section 1303(b), the State, as parens patriae, may bring a civil action on behalf of the residents of the State in a district court of the United States of appropriate jurisdiction to—

(A) enjoin that practice;

(B) enforce compliance with the regulation;

(C) obtain damage, restitution, or other compensation on behalf of residents of the State; or

(D) obtain such other relief as the court may consider to be appropriate.

(2) NOTICE.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Before filing an action under paragraph (1), the attorney general of the State involved shall provide to the Commission—

(i) written notice of that action; and

(ii) a copy of the complaint for that action.

(B) EXEMPTION.—

(i) IN GENERAL.—Subparagraph (A) shall not apply with respect to the filing of an action by an attorney general of a State under this subsection, if the attorney general determines that it is not feasible to provide the notice described in that subparagraph before the filing of the action.

(ii) NOTIFICATION.—In an action described in clause (i), the attorney general of a State shall provide notice and a copy of the complaint to the Commission at the same time as the attorney general files the action.

(b) INTERVENTION.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—On receiving notice under subsection (a)(2), the Commission shall have the right to intervene in the action that is the subject of the notice.

(2) EFFECT OF INTERVENTION.—If the Commission intervenes in an action under subsection (a), it shall have the right—

(A) to be heard with respect to any matter that arises in that action; and

(B) to file a petition for appeal.

(3) AMICUS CURIAE.—Upon application to the court, a person whose self-regulatory guidelines have been approved by the Commission and are relied upon as a defense by any defendant to a proceeding under this section may file amicus curiae in that proceeding.

(c) CONSTRUCTION.—For purposes of bringing any civil action under subsection (a), nothing in this title shall be construed to prevent an attorney general of a State from exercising the powers conferred on the attorney general by the laws of that State to—

(1) conduct investigations;

(2) administer oaths or affirmations; or

(3) compel the attendance of witnesses or the production of documentary and other evidence.

(d) ACTIONS BY THE COMMISSION.—In any case in which an action is instituted by or on behalf of the Commission for violation of any regulation prescribed under section 1303, no State may, during the pendency of that action, institute an action under subsection (a) against any defendant named in the complaint in that action for violation of that regulation.

(e) VENUE; SERVICE OF PROCESS.—

(1) VENUE.—Any action brought under subsection (a) may be brought in the district court of the United States that meets applicable requirements relating to venue under section 1391 of title 28, United States Code.

(2) SERVICE OF PROCESS.—In an action brought under subsection (a), process may be served in any district in which the defendant—

- (A) is an inhabitant; or
- (B) may be found.

SEC. 1306. ADMINISTRATION AND APPLICABILITY OF ACT.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Except as otherwise provided, this title shall be enforced by the Commission under the Federal Trade Commission Act (15 U.S.C. 41 et seq.).

(b) PROVISIONS.—Compliance with the requirements imposed under this title shall be enforced under—

(1) section 8 of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act (12 U.S.C. 1818), in the case of—

(A) national banks, and Federal branches and Federal agencies of foreign banks, by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency;

(B) member banks of the Federal Reserve System (other than national banks), branches and agencies of foreign banks (other than Federal branches, Federal agencies, and insured State branches of foreign banks), commercial lending companies owned or controlled by foreign banks, and organizations operating under section 25 or 25(a) of the Federal Reserve Act (12 U.S.C. 601 et seq. and 611 et seq.), by the Board; and

(C) banks insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (other than members of the Federal Reserve System) and insured State branches of foreign banks, by the Board of Directors of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation;

(2) section 8 of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act (12 U.S.C. 1818), by the Director of the Office of Thrift Supervision, in the case of a savings association the deposits of which are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation;

(3) the Federal Credit Union Act (12 U.S.C. 1751 et seq.) by the National Credit Union Administration Board with respect to any Federal credit union;

(4) part A of subtitle VII of title 49, United States Code, by the Secretary of Transportation with respect to any air carrier or foreign air carrier subject to that part;

(5) the Packers and Stockyards Act, 1921 (7 U.S.C. 181 et seq.) (except as provided in section 406 of that Act (7 U.S.C. 226, 227)), by the Secretary of Agriculture with respect to any activities subject to that Act; and

(6) the Farm Credit Act of 1971 (12 U.S.C. 2001 et seq.) by the Farm Credit Administration with respect to any Federal land bank, Federal land bank association, Federal intermediate credit bank, or production credit association.

(c) EXERCISE OF CERTAIN POWERS.—For the purpose of the exercise by any agency referred to in subsection (a) of its powers under any Act referred to in that subsection, a violation of any requirement imposed under this title shall be deemed to be a violation of a requirement imposed under that Act. In addition to its powers under any provision of law specifically referred to in subsection (a), each of the agencies referred to in that subsection may exercise, for the purpose of enforcing compliance with any requirement imposed under this title, any other authority conferred on it by law.

(d) ACTIONS BY THE COMMISSION.—The Commission shall prevent any person from violating a rule of the Commission under section 1303 in the same manner, by the same means, and with the same jurisdiction, powers, and duties as though all applicable terms and provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act (15 U.S.C. 41 et seq.) were incorporated into and made a part of this title. Any entity that violates such rule shall be subject to the penalties and entitled to the privileges and immunities provided in the Federal Trade Commission Act in the same manner, by the same means, and with the same jurisdiction, power, and duties as though all applicable terms and provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act were incorporated into and made a part of this title.

(e) EFFECT ON OTHER LAWS.—Nothing contained in the Act shall be construed to limit the authority of the Commission under any other provisions of law.

SEC. 1307. REVIEW.

Not later than 5 years after the effective date of the regulations initially issued under section 1303, the Commission shall—

(1) review the implementation of this title, including the effect of the implementation of this title on practices relating to the collection and disclosure of information relating to children, children’s ability to obtain access to information of their choice online, and on the availability of websites directed to children; and

SEC. 1308. EFFECTIVE DATE.

Sections 1303(a), 1305, and 1306 of this title take effect on the later of—

(1) the date that is 18 months after the date of enactment of this Act; or

(2) the date on which the Commission rules on the first application filed for safe harbor treatment under section 1304 if the Commission does not rule on the first such application within one year after the date of enactment of this Act, but in no case later than the date that is 30 months after the date of enactment of this Act.

TITLE XIV—CHILD ONLINE PROTECTION

SEC. 1401. SHORT TITLE.

This title may be cited as the “Child Online Protection Act”.

SEC. 1402. CONGRESSIONAL FINDINGS.

The Congress finds that—

(1) while custody, care, and nurture of the child resides first with the parent, the widespread availability of the Internet presents opportunities for minors to access materials through the World Wide Web in a manner that can frustrate parental supervision or control;

(2) the protection of the physical and psychological well-being of minors by shielding them from materials that are harmful to them is a compelling governmental interest;

(3) to date, while the industry has developed innovative ways to help parents and educators restrict material that is harmful to minors through parental control protections and self-regulation, such efforts have not provided a national solution to the problem of minors accessing harmful material on the World Wide Web;

(4) a prohibition on the distribution of material harmful to minors, combined with legitimate defenses, is currently the most effective and least restrictive means by which to satisfy the compelling government interest; and

(5) notwithstanding the existence of protections that limit the distribution over the World Wide Web of material that is harmful to minors, parents, educators, and industry must continue efforts to find ways to protect children from being exposed to harmful material found on the Internet.

SEC. 1403. REQUIREMENT TO RESTRICT ACCESS BY MINORS TO MATERIALS COMMERCIALY DISTRIBUTED BY MEANS OF THE WORLD WIDE WEB THAT ARE HARMFUL TO MINORS.

Part I of title II of the Communications Act of 1934 (47 U.S.C. 201 et seq.) is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

“(a) REQUIREMENT TO RESTRICT ACCESS.—

“(1) PROHIBITED CONDUCT.—Whoever knowingly and with knowledge of the character of the material, in interstate or foreign commerce by means of the World Wide Web, makes any communication for commercial purposes that is available to any minor and that includes any material that is harmful to minors shall be fined not more than $50,000, imprisoned not more than 6 months, or both.

“(2) INTENTIONAL VIOLATIONS.—In addition to the penalties under paragraph (1), whoever intentionally violates such paragraph shall be subject to a fine of not more than $50,000 for each violation. For purposes of this paragraph, each day of violation shall constitute a separate violation.

“(3) CIVIL PENALTY.—In addition to the penalties under paragraphs (1) and (2), whoever violates paragraph (1) shall be subject to a civil penalty of not more than $50,000 for each violation. For purposes of this paragraph, each day of violation shall constitute a separate violation.

“(b) INAPPLICABILITY OF CARRIERS AND OTHER SERVICE PROVIDERS.—For purposes of subsection (a), a person shall not be considered to make any communication for commercial purposes to the extent that such person is—

“(1) a telecommunications carrier engaged in the provision of a telecommunications service;

“(2) a person engaged in the business of providing an Internet access service;

“(3) a person engaged in the business of providing an Internet information location tool; or “(4) similarly engaged in the transmission, storage, retrieval, hosting, formatting, or translation (or any combination thereof) of a communication made by another person, without selection or alteration of the content of the communication, except that such person’s deletion of a particular communication or material made by another person in a manner consistent with subsection (c) or section 230 shall not constitute such selection or alteration of the content of the communication.

“(c) AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE.—

“(1) DEFENSE.—It is an affirmative defense to prosecution under this section that the defendant, in good faith, has restricted access by minors to material that is harmful to minors—

“(A) by requiring use of a credit card, debit account, adult access code, or adult personal identification number;

“(B) by accepting a digital certificate that verifies age;

or

“(C) by any other reasonable measures that are feasible under available technology.

“(2) PROTECTION FOR USE OF DEFENSES.—No cause of action may be brought in any court or administrative agency against any person on account of any activity that is not in violation of any law punishable by criminal or civil penalty, and that the person has taken in good faith to implement a defense authorized under this subsection or otherwise to restrict or prevent the transmission of, or access to, a communication specified in this section.

“(d) PRIVACY PROTECTION REQUIREMENTS.—

“(1) DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION LIMITED.—A person making a communication described in subsection (a)—

“(A) shall not disclose any information collected for the purposes of restricting access to such communications to individuals 17 years of age or older without the prior written or electronic consent of—

“(i) the individual concerned, if the individual is an adult; or

“(ii) the individual’s parent or guardian, if the individual is under 17 years of age; and

“(B) shall take such actions as are necessary to prevent unauthorized access to such information by a person other than the person making such communication and the recipient of such communication.

“(2) EXCEPTIONS.—A person making a communication described in subsection (a) may disclose such information if the disclosure is—

“(A) necessary to make the communication or conduct a legitimate business activity related to making the communication; or

“(e) DEFINITIONS.—For purposes of this subsection, the following definitions shall apply:

“(1) BY MEANS OF THE WORLD WIDE WEB.—The term ‘by means of the World Wide Web’ means by placement of material in a computer server-based file archive so that it is publicly accessible, over the Internet, using hypertext transfer protocol or any successor protocol.

“(2) COMMERCIAL PURPOSES; ENGAGED IN THE BUSINESS.—

“(A) COMMERCIAL PURPOSES.—A person shall be considered to make a communication for commercial purposes only if such person is engaged in the business of making such communications.

“(B) ENGAGED IN THE BUSINESS.—The term ‘engaged in the business’ means that the person who makes a communication, or offers to make a communication, by means of the World Wide Web, that includes any material that is harmful to minors, devotes time, attention, or labor to such activities, as a regular course of such person’s trade or business, with the objective of earning a profit as a result of such activities (although it is not necessary that the person make a profit or that the making or offering to make such communications be the person’s sole or principal business or source of income). A person may be considered to be engaged in the business of making, by means of the World Wide Web, communications for commercial purposes that include material that is harmful to minors, only if the person knowingly causes the material that is harmful to minors to be posted on the World Wide Web or knowingly solicits such material to be posted on the World Wide Web.

“(3) INTERNET.—The term ‘Internet’ means the combination of computer facilities and electromagnetic transmission media, and related equipment and software, comprising the interconnected worldwide network of computer networks that employ the Transmission Control Protocol/Internet Protocol or any successor protocol to transmit information.

“(4) INTERNET ACCESS SERVICE.—The term ‘Internet access service’ means a service that enables users to access content, information, electronic mail, or other services offered over the Internet, and may also include access to proprietary content, information, and other services as part of a package of services offered to consumers. Such term does not include telecommunications services.

“(5) INTERNET INFORMATION LOCATION TOOL.—The term ‘Internet information location tool’ means a service that refers or links users to an online location on the World Wide Web. Such term includes directories, indices, references, pointers, and hypertext links.

“(6) MATERIAL THAT IS HARMFUL TO MINORS.—The term ‘material that is harmful to minors’ means any communication, picture, image, graphic image file, article, recording, writing, or other matter of any kind that is obscene or that—

“(A) the average person, applying contemporary community standards, would find, taking the material as a whole and with respect to minors, is designed to appeal to, or is designed to pander to, the prurient interest;

“(B) depicts, describes, or represents, in a manner patently offensive with respect to minors, an actual or simulated sexual act or sexual contact, an actual or simulated normal or perverted sexual act, or a lewd exhibition of the genitals or post-pubescent female breast; and

“(C) taken as a whole, lacks serious literary, artistic, political, or scientific value for minors.

SEC. 1404. NOTICE REQUIREMENT.

(a) NOTICE.—Section 230 of the Communications Act of 1934 (47 U.S.C. 230) is amended—

(1) in subsection (d)(1), by inserting “or 231” after “section 223”;

(2) by redesignating subsections (d) and (e) as subsections (e) and (f), respectively; and

(3) by inserting after subsection (c) the following new subsection:

“(d) OBLIGATIONS OF INTERACTIVE COMPUTER SERVICE.—A provider of interactive computer service shall, at the time of entering an agreement with a customer for the provision of interactive computer service and in a manner deemed appropriate by the provider, notify such customer that parental control protections (such as computer hardware, software, or filtering services) are commercially available that may assist the customer in limiting access to material that is harmful to minors. Such notice shall identify, or provide the customer with access to information identifying, current providers of such protections.”.

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—Section 223(h)(2) of the Communications Act of 1934 (47 U.S.C. 223(h)(2)) is amended by striking “230(e)(2)” and inserting “230(f)(2)”.

SEC. 1405. STUDY BY COMMISSION ON ONLINE CHILD PROTECTION.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—There is hereby established a temporary Commission to be known as the Commission on Online Child Protection (in this section referred to as the “Commission”) for the purpose of conducting a study under this section regarding methods to help reduce access by minors to material that is harmful to minors on the Internet.

(b) MEMBERSHIP.—The Commission shall be composed of 19 members, as follows:

(1) INDUSTRY MEMBERS.—The Commission shall include—

(A) 2 members who are engaged in the business of providing Internet filtering or blocking services or software;

(B) 2 members who are engaged in the business of providing Internet access services;

(C) 2 members who are engaged in the business of providing labeling or ratings services;

(D) 2 members who are engaged in the business of providing Internet portal or search services;

(E) 2 members who are engaged in the business of providing domain name registration services;

(F) 2 members who are academic experts in the field of technology; and

(G) 4 members who are engaged in the business of making content available over the Internet.

Of the members of the Commission by reason of each subparagraph of this paragraph, an equal number shall be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives and by the Majority Leader of the Senate.

(2) EX OFFICIO MEMBERS.—The Commission shall include the following officials:

(A) The Assistant Secretary (or the Assistant Secretary's designee).

(B) The Attorney General (or the Attorney General's designee).

(C) The Chairman of the Federal Trade Commission (or the Chairman's designee).

(c) STUDY.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Commission shall conduct a study to identify technological or other methods that—

(A) will help reduce access by minors to material that is harmful to minors on the Internet; and

(B) may meet the requirements for use as affirmative defenses for purposes of section 231(c) of the Communications Act of 1934 (as added by this title).

Any methods so identified shall be used as the basis for making legislative recommendations to the Congress under subsection (d)(3).

(2) SPECIFIC METHODS.—In carrying out the study, the Commission shall identify and analyze various technological tools and methods for protecting minors from material that is harmful to minors, which shall include (without limitation)—

(A) a common resource for parents to use to help protect minors (such as a “one-click-away” resource);

(B) filtering or blocking software or services;

(C) labeling or rating systems;

(D) age verification systems;

(E) the establishment of a domain name for posting of any material that is harmful to minors; and

(F) any other existing or proposed technologies or methods for reducing access by minors to such material.

(3) ANALYSIS.—In analyzing technologies and other methods identified pursuant to paragraph (2), the Commission shall examine—

(A) the cost of such technologies and methods;

(B) the effects of such technologies and methods on law enforcement entities;

(C) the effects of such technologies and methods on privacy;

(D) the extent to which material that is harmful to minors is globally distributed and the effect of such technologies and methods on such distribution;

(E) the accessibility of such technologies and methods to parents; and

(F) such other factors and issues as the Commission considers relevant and appropriate.

(d) REPORT.—Not later than 1 year after the enactment of this Act, the Commission shall submit a report to the Congress containing the results of the study under this section, which shall include—

(1) a description of the technologies and methods identified by the study and the results of the analysis of each such technology and method;

(2) the conclusions and recommendations of the Commission regarding each such technology or method;

(3) recommendations for legislative or administrative actions to implement the conclusions of the committee; and

(4) a description of the technologies or methods identified by the study that may meet the requirements for use as affirmative defenses for purposes of section 231(c) of the Communications Act of 1934 (as added by this title).

(e) STAFF AND RESOURCES.—The Assistant Secretary for Communication and Information of the Department of Commerce shall provide to the Commission such staff and resources as the Assistant Secretary determines necessary for the Commission to perform its duty efficiently and in accordance with this section.

(f) TERMINATION.—The Commission shall terminate 30 days after the submission of the report under subsection (d).

(g) INAPPLICABILITY OF FEDERAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE ACT.—The Federal Advisory Committee Act (5 U.S.C. App.) shall not apply to the Commission.

SEC. 1406. EFFECTIVE DATE.

This title and the amendments made by this title shall take effect 30 days after the date of enactment of this Act.

TITLE XV—VACCINE INJURY COMPENSATION PROGRAM MODIFICATION ACT

SECTION 1501. SHORT TITLE.

This title may be cited as the “Vaccine Injury Compensation Program Modification Act”.

SEC. 1502. ELIMINATION OF THRESHOLD REQUIREMENT OF UNREIMBURSABLE EXPENSES.

Section 2111(c)(1)(D)(i) of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 300aa–11(c)(1)(D)(i)) is amended by striking “and incurred unreimbursable expenses due in whole or in part to such illness, disability, injury, or condition in an amount greater than $1,000”.

SEC. 1503. INCLUSION OF ROTAVIRUS GASTROENTERITIS AS A TAXABLE VACCINE.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 4132(1) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (defining taxable vaccine) is amended by adding at the end the following new subparagraph:

“(K) Any vaccine against rotavirus gastroenteritis.”

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—

(1) SALES.—The amendment made by this section shall apply to sales after the date of the enactment of this Act.

(2) DELIVERIES.—For purposes of paragraph (1), in the case of sales on or before the date of the enactment of this Act for which delivery is made after such date, the delivery date shall be considered the sale date.

SEC. 1504. VACCINE INJURY COMPENSATION TRUST FUND.

(a) AMENDMENTS RELATED TO SECTION 904 OF 1997 ACT.—

(1) Paragraph (1) of section 9510(c) of the 1986 Code is amended to read as follows:

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Amounts in the Vaccine Injury Compensation Trust Fund shall be available, as provided in appropriation Acts, only for—

“(A) the payment of compensation under subtitle 2 of title XXI of the Public Health Service Act (as in effect on August 6, 1997) for vaccine-related injury or death with respect to any vaccine—

“(i) which is administered after September 30, 1988, and

“(ii) which is a taxable vaccine (as defined in section 4132(a)(1)) at the time the vaccine was administered, or

“(B) the payment of all expenses of administration incurred by the Federal Government in administering such subtitle.”.

(2) Section 9510(b) of the 1986 Code is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

“(3) LIMITATION ON TRANSFERS TO VACCINE INJURY COMPENSATION TRUST FUND.—No amount may be appropriated to the Vaccine Injury Compensation Trust Fund on and after the date of any expenditure from the Trust Fund which is not permitted by this section. The determination of whether an expenditure is so permitted shall be made without regard to—

“(A) any provision of law which is not contained or referenced in this title or in a revenue Act, and

“(B) whether such provision of law is a subsequently enacted provision or directly or indirectly seeks to waive the application of this paragraph.”.

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall take effect as if included in the provisions of the Taxpayer Relief Act of 1997 to which they relate.

TITLE XVI—SERVICE CONNECTION FOR PERSIAN GULF WAR ILLNESSES

SEC. 1601. SHORT TITLE.

This title may be cited as the “Persian Gulf War Veterans Act of 1998”.

SEC. 1602. PRESUMPTION OF SERVICE CONNECTION FOR ILLNESSES ASSOCIATED WITH SERVICE IN THE PERSIAN GULF DURING THE PERSIAN GULF WAR.

(a) IN GENERAL.—(1) Subchapter II of chapter 11 of title 38, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following:

“§ 1118. Presumptions of service connection for illnesses associated with service in the Persian Gulf during the Persian Gulf War

“(a)(1) For purposes of section 1110 of this title, and subject to section 1113 of this title, each illness, if any, described in paragraph (2) shall be considered to have been incurred in or aggravated by service referred to in that paragraph, notwithstanding that there is no record of evidence of such illness during the period of such service.

“(2) An illness referred to in paragraph (1) is any diagnosed or undiagnosed illness that—

“(A) the Secretary determines in regulations prescribed under this section to warrant a presumption of service connection by reason of having a positive association with exposure to a biological, chemical, or other toxic agent, environmental or wartime hazard, or preventive medicine or vaccine known or presumed to be associated with service in the Armed Forces in the Southwest Asia theater of operations during the Persian Gulf War; and

“(B) becomes manifest within the period, if any, prescribed in such regulations in a veteran who served on active duty in that theater of operations during that war and by reason of such service was exposed to such agent, hazard, or medicine or vaccine.

“(3) For purposes of this subsection, a veteran who served on active duty in the Southwest Asia theater of operations during the Persian Gulf War and has an illness described in paragraph (2) shall be presumed to have been exposed by reason of such service to the agent, hazard, or medicine or vaccine associated with the illness in the regulations prescribed under this section unless there is conclusive evidence to establish that the veteran was not exposed to the agent, hazard, or medicine or vaccine by reason of such service.

“(b)(1)(A) Whenever the Secretary makes a determination described in subparagraph (B), the Secretary shall prescribe regulations providing that a presumption of service connection is warranted for the illness covered by that determination for purposes of this section.

“(B) A determination referred to in subparagraph (A) is a determination based on sound medical and scientific evidence that a positive association exists between—

“(i) the exposure of humans or animals to a biological, chemical, or other toxic agent, environmental or wartime hazard, or preventive medicine or vaccine known or presumed to be associated with service in the Southwest Asia theater of operations during the Persian Gulf War; and

“(2)(A) In making determinations for purposes of paragraph (1), the Secretary shall take into account—

“(i) the reports submitted to the Secretary by the National Academy of Sciences under section 1603 of the Persian Gulf War Veterans Act of 1998; and

“(B) In evaluating any report, information, or analysis for purposes of making such determinations, the Secretary shall take into consideration whether the results are statistically significant, are capable of replication, and withstand peer review.

“(3) An association between the occurrence of an illness in humans or animals and exposure to an agent, hazard, or medicine or vaccine shall be considered to be positive for purposes of this subsection if the credible evidence for the association is equal to or outweighs the credible evidence against the association.

“(c)(1) Not later than 60 days after the date on which the Secretary receives a report from the National Academy of Sciences under section 1603 of the Persian Gulf War Veterans Act of 1998, the Secretary shall determine whether or not a presumption of service connection is warranted for each illness, if any, covered by the report.

“(2) If the Secretary determines under this subsection that a presumption of service connection is warranted, the Secretary shall, not later than 60 days after making the determination, issue proposed regulations setting forth the Secretary’s determination.

“(3)(A) If the Secretary determines under this subsection that a presumption of service connection is not warranted, the Secretary shall, not later than 60 days after making the determination, publish in the Federal Register a notice of the determination. The notice shall include an explanation of the scientific basis for the determination.

“(B) If an illness already presumed to be service connected under this section is subject to a determination under subparagraph (A), the Secretary shall, not later than 60 days after publication of the notice under that subparagraph, issue proposed regulations removing the presumption of service connection for the illness.

“(4) Not later than 90 days after the date on which the Secretary issues any proposed regulations under this subsection, the Secretary shall issue final regulations. Such regulations shall be effective on the date of issuance.

“(d) Whenever the presumption of service connection for an illness under this section is removed under subsection (c)—

“(1) a veteran who was awarded compensation for the illness on the basis of the presumption before the effective date of the removal of the presumption shall continue to be entitled to receive compensation on that basis; and

“(2) a survivor of a veteran who was awarded dependency and indemnity compensation for the death of a veteran resulting from the illness on the basis of the presumption before that date shall continue to be entitled to receive dependency and indemnity compensation on that basis.

“(e) Subsections (b) through (d) shall cease to be effective 10 years after the first day of the fiscal year in which the National Academy of Sciences submits to the Secretary the first report under section 1603 of the Persian Gulf War Veterans Act of 1998.”

(2) The table of sections at the beginning of such chapter is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 1117 the following new item:

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—Section 1113 of title 38, United States Code, is amended—

(1) by striking out “or 1117” each place it appears and inserting in lieu thereof “1117, or 1118”; and

(2) in subsection (a), by striking out “or 1116” and inserting in lieu thereof “, 1116, or 1118”.

(c) COMPENSATION FOR UNDIAGNOSED GULF WAR ILLNESSES.—Section 1117 of title 38, United States Code, is amended—

(1) by redesignating subsections (c), (d), and (e) as subsections (d), (e), and (f), respectively; and

(2) by inserting after subsection (b) the following new subsection (c):

“(c)(1) Whenever the Secretary determines under section 1118(c) of this title that a presumption of service connection for an undiagnosed illness (or combination of undiagnosed illnesses) previously established under this section is no longer warranted—

“(A) a veteran who was awarded compensation under this section for such illness (or combination of illnesses) on the basis of the presumption shall continue to be entitled to receive compensation under this section on that basis; and

“(B) a survivor of a veteran who was awarded dependency and indemnity compensation for the death of a veteran resulting from the disease on the basis of the presumption before that date shall continue to be entitled to receive dependency and indemnity compensation on that basis.

“(2) This subsection shall cease to be effective 10 years after the first day of the fiscal year in which the National Academy of Sciences submits to the Secretary the first report under section 1603 of the Persian Gulf War Veterans Act of 1998.”

SEC. 1603. AGREEMENT WITH NATIONAL ACADEMY OF SCIENCES.

(a) PURPOSE.—The purpose of this section is to provide for the National Academy of Sciences, an independent nonprofit scientific organization with appropriate expertise, to review and evaluate the available scientific evidence regarding associations between illnesses and exposure to toxic agents, environmental or wartime hazards, or preventive medicines or vaccines associated with Gulf War service.

(b) AGREEMENT.—The Secretary of Veterans Affairs shall seek to enter into an agreement with the National Academy of Sciences for the Academy to perform the activities covered by this section. The Secretary shall seek to enter into the agreement not later than two months after the date of enactment of this Act.

(c) IDENTIFICATION OF AGENTS AND ILLNESSES.—(1) Under the agreement under subsection (b), the National Academy of Sciences shall—

(A) identify the biological, chemical, or other toxic agents, environmental or wartime hazards, or preventive medicines or vaccines to which members of the Armed Forces who served in the Southwest Asia theater of operations during the Persian Gulf War may have been exposed by reason of such service; and

(B) identify the illnesses (including diagnosed illnesses and undiagnosed illnesses) that are manifest in such members.

(2) In identifying illnesses under paragraph (1)(B), the Academy shall review and summarize the relevant scientific evidence regarding illnesses among the members described in paragraph (1)(A) and among other appropriate populations of individuals, including mortality, symptoms, and adverse reproductive health outcomes among such members and individuals.

(d) INITIAL CONSIDERATION OF SPECIFIC AGENTS.—(1) In identifying under subsection (c) the agents, hazards, or preventive medicines or vaccines to which members of the Armed Forces may have been exposed for purposes of the first report under subsection (i), the National Academy of Sciences shall consider, within the first six months after the date of enactment of this Act, the following:

- (A) The following organophosphorous pesticides:
 - (i) Chlorpyrifos.
 - (ii) Diazinon.
 - (iii) Dichlorvos.
 - (iv) Malathion.
 - (B) The following carbamate pesticides:
 - (i) Proxpur.
 - (ii) Carbaryl.
 - (iii) Methomyl.
 - (C) The carbamate pyridostigmine bromide used as nerve agent prophylaxis.
 - (D) The following chlorinated hydrocarbon and other pesticides and repellents:
 - (i) Lindane.
 - (ii) Pyrethrins.
 - (iii) Permethrins.
 - (iv) Rodenticides (bait).
 - (v) Repellent (DEET).
 - (E) The following low-level nerve agents and precursor compounds at exposure levels below those which produce immediately apparent incapacitating symptoms:
 - (i) Sarin.
 - (ii) Tabun.
 - (F) The following synthetic chemical compounds:
 - (i) Mustard agents at levels below those which cause immediate blistering.
 - (ii) Volatile organic compounds.
 - (iii) Hydrazine.
 - (iv) Red fuming nitric acid.
 - (v) Solvents.
 - (vi) Uranium.
 - (G) The following ionizing radiation:
 - (i) Depleted uranium.
 - (ii) Microwave radiation.
 - (iii) Radio frequency radiation.
 - (H) The following environmental particulates and pollutants:
 - (i) Hydrogen sulfide.
 - (ii) Oil fire byproducts.
 - (iii) Diesel heater fumes.
 - (iv) Sand micro-particles.
 - (I) Diseases endemic to the region (including the following):
 - (i) Leishmaniasis.
 - (ii) Sandfly fever.
 - (iii) Pathogenic escherechia coli.
 - (iv) Shigellosis.
 - (J) Time compressed administration of multiple live, 'attenuated', and toxoid vaccines.
- (2) The consideration of agents, hazards, and medicines and vaccines under paragraph (1) shall not preclude the Academy from identifying other agents, hazards, or medicines or vaccines to which members of the Armed Forces may have been exposed for purposes of any report under subsection (i).

(3) Not later than six months after the date of enactment of this Act, the Academy shall submit to the designated congressional committees a report specifying the agents, hazards, and medicines and vaccines considered under paragraph (1).

(e) DETERMINATIONS OF ASSOCIATIONS BETWEEN AGENTS AND ILLNESSES.—(1) For each agent, hazard, or medicine or vaccine and illness identified under subsection (c), the National Academy of Sciences shall determine, to the extent that available scientific data permit meaningful determinations—

(A) whether a statistical association exists between exposure to the agent, hazard, or medicine or vaccine and the illness, taking into account the strength of the scientific evidence and the appropriateness of the scientific methodology used to detect the association;

(B) the increased risk of the illness among human or animal populations exposed to the agent, hazard, or medicine or vaccine; and

(C) whether a plausible biological mechanism or other evidence of a causal relationship exists between exposure to the agent, hazard, or medicine or vaccine and the illness.

(2) The Academy shall include in its reports under subsection (i) a full discussion of the scientific evidence and reasoning that led to its conclusions under this subsection.

(f) REVIEW OF POTENTIAL TREATMENT MODELS FOR CERTAIN ILLNESSES.—Under the agreement under subsection (b), the National Academy of Sciences shall separately review, for each chronic undiagnosed illness identified under subsection (c)(1)(B) and for any other chronic illness that the Academy determines to warrant such review, the available scientific data in order to identify empirically valid models of treatment for such illnesses which employ successful treatment modalities for populations with similar symptoms.

(g) RECOMMENDATIONS FOR ADDITIONAL SCIENTIFIC STUDIES.—(1) Under the agreement under subsection (b), the National Academy of Sciences shall make any recommendations that it considers appropriate for additional scientific studies (including studies relating to treatment models) to resolve areas of continuing scientific uncertainty relating to the health consequences of exposure to toxic agents, environmental or wartime hazards, or preventive medicines or vaccines associated with Gulf War service.

(2) In making recommendations for additional studies, the Academy shall consider the available scientific data, the value and relevance of the information that could result from such studies, and the cost and feasibility of carrying out such studies.

(h) SUBSEQUENT REVIEWS.—(1) Under the agreement under subsection (b), the National Academy of Sciences shall conduct on a periodic and ongoing basis additional reviews of the evidence and data relating to its activities under this section.

(2) As part of each review under this subsection, the Academy shall—

(A) conduct as comprehensive a review as is practicable of the evidence referred to in subsection (c) and the data referred to in subsections (e), (f), and (g) that became available since the last review of such evidence and data under this section; and

(B) make determinations under the subsections referred to in subparagraph (A) on the basis of the results of such review and all other reviews previously conducted for purposes of this section.

(i) REPORTS.—(1) Under the agreement under subsection (b), the National Academy of Sciences shall submit to the committees and officials referred to in paragraph (5) periodic written reports regarding the Academy's activities under the agreement.

(2) The first report under paragraph (1) shall be submitted not later than 18 months after the date of enactment of this Act. That report shall include—

(A) the determinations and discussion referred to in subsection (e);

(B) the results of the review of models of treatment under subsection (f); and

(C) any recommendations of the Academy under subsection (g).

(3) Reports shall be submitted under this subsection at least once every two years, as measured from the date of the report under paragraph (2).

(4) In any report under this subsection (other than the report under paragraph (2)), the Academy may specify an absence of meaningful developments in the scientific or medical community with respect to the activities of the Academy under this section during the 2-year period ending on the date of such report.

(5) Reports under this subsection shall be submitted to the following:

(B) The Secretary of Veterans Affairs.

(C) The Secretary of Defense.

(j) SUNSET.—This section shall cease to be effective 10 years after the last day of the fiscal year in which the National Academy of Sciences submits the first report under subsection (i).

(k) ALTERNATIVE CONTRACT SCIENTIFIC ORGANIZATION.—(1) If the Secretary is unable within the time period set forth in subsection (b) to enter into an agreement with the National Academy of Sciences for the purposes of this section on terms acceptable to the Secretary, the Secretary shall seek to enter into an agreement for purposes of this section with another appropriate scientific organization that is not part of the Government, operates as a not-for-profit entity, and has expertise and objectivity comparable to that of the National Academy of Sciences.

(2) If the Secretary enters into an agreement with another organization under this subsection, any reference in this section and section 1118 of title 38, United States Code (as added by section 1602(a)), to the National Academy of Sciences shall be treated as a reference to such other organization.

SEC. 1604. REPEAL OF INCONSISTENT PROVISIONS OF LAW.

In the event of the enactment, before, on, or after the date of the enactment of this Act, of section 101 of the Veterans Programs Enhancement Act of 1998, or any similar provision of law enacted during the second session of the 105th Congress requiring an agreement with the National Academy of Sciences regarding an evaluation of health consequences of service in Southwest Asia during the Persian Gulf War, such section 101 (or other provision of law) shall be treated as if never enacted, and shall have no force or effect.

SEC. 1605. DEFINITIONS.

In this title:

(1) The term “toxic agent, environmental or wartime hazard, or preventive medicine or vaccine associated with Gulf War service” means a biological, chemical, or other toxic agent, environmental or wartime hazard, or preventive medicine or vaccine that is known or presumed to be associated with service in the Armed Forces in the Southwest Asia theater of operations during the Persian Gulf War, whether such association arises as a result of single, repeated, or sustained exposure and whether such association arises through exposure singularly or in combination.

(2) The term “designated congressional committees” means the following:

(A) The Committees on Veterans’ Affairs and Armed Services of the Senate.

(B) The Committees on Veterans’ Affairs and National Security of the House of Representatives.

(3) The term “Persian Gulf War” has the meaning given that term in section 101(33) of title 38, United States Code.

TITLE XVII—GOVERNMENT PAPERWORK ELIMINATION ACT

SEC. 1701. SHORT TITLE.

This title may be cited as the “Government Paperwork Elimination Act”.

SEC. 1702. AUTHORITY OF OMB TO PROVIDE FOR ACQUISITION AND USE OF ALTERNATIVE INFORMATION TECHNOLOGIES BY EXECUTIVE AGENCIES.

Section 3504(a)(1)(B)(vi) of title 44, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

“(vi) the acquisition and use of information technology, including alternative information technologies that provide for electronic submission, maintenance, or disclosure of information as a substitute for paper and for the use and acceptance of electronic signatures.”.

SEC. 1703. PROCEDURES FOR USE AND ACCEPTANCE OF ELECTRONIC SIGNATURES BY EXECUTIVE AGENCIES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—In order to fulfill the responsibility to administer the functions assigned under chapter 35 of title 44, United States Code, the provisions of the Clinger-Cohen Act of 1996 (divisions D and E of Public Law 104–106) and the amendments made by that Act, and the provisions of this title, the Director of the Office of Management and Budget shall, in consultation with the National Telecommunications and Information Administration and not later than 18 months after the date of enactment of this Act, develop procedures for the use and acceptance of electronic signatures by Executive agencies.

(b) REQUIREMENTS FOR PROCEDURES.—(1) The procedures developed under subsection (a)—

(A) shall be compatible with standards and technology for electronic signatures that are generally used in commerce and industry and by State governments;

(B) may not inappropriately favor one industry or technology;

(C) shall ensure that electronic signatures are as reliable as is appropriate for the purpose in question and keep intact the information submitted;

(D) shall provide for the electronic acknowledgment of electronic forms that are successfully submitted; and

(E) shall, to the extent feasible and appropriate, require an Executive agency that anticipates receipt by electronic means of 50,000 or more submittals of a particular form to take all steps necessary to ensure that multiple methods of electronic signatures are available for the submittal of such form.

(2) The Director shall ensure the compatibility of the procedures under paragraph (1)(A) in consultation with appropriate private bodies and State government entities that set standards for the use and acceptance of electronic signatures.

SEC. 1704. DEADLINE FOR IMPLEMENTATION BY EXECUTIVE AGENCIES OF PROCEDURES FOR USE AND ACCEPTANCE OF ELECTRONIC SIGNATURES.

In order to fulfill the responsibility to administer the functions assigned under chapter 35 of title 44, United States Code, the provisions of the Clinger-Cohen Act of 1996 (divisions D and E of Public Law 104–106) and the amendments made by that Act, and the provisions of this title, the Director of the Office of Management and Budget shall ensure that, commencing not later than five years after the date of enactment of this Act, Executive agencies provide—

(1) for the option of the electronic maintenance, submission, or disclosure of information, when practicable as a substitute for paper; and

(2) for the use and acceptance of electronic signatures, when practicable.

SEC. 1705. ELECTRONIC STORAGE AND FILING OF EMPLOYMENT FORMS.

In order to fulfill the responsibility to administer the functions assigned under chapter 35 of title 44, United States Code, the provisions of the Clinger-Cohen Act of 1996 (divisions D and E of Public Law 104–106) and the amendments made by that Act, and the provisions of this title, the Director of the Office of Management and Budget shall, not later than 18 months after the date of enactment of this Act, develop procedures to permit private employers to store and file electronically with Executive agencies forms containing information pertaining to the employees of such employers.

SEC. 1706. STUDY ON USE OF ELECTRONIC SIGNATURES.

(a) ONGOING STUDY REQUIRED.—In order to fulfill the responsibility to administer the functions assigned under chapter 35 of title 44, United States Code, the provisions of the Clinger-Cohen Act of 1996 (divisions D and E of Public Law 104–106) and the amendments made by that Act, and the provisions of this title, the Director of the Office of Management and Budget shall, in cooperation with the National Telecommunications and Information Administration, conduct an ongoing study of the use of electronic signatures under this title on—

- (1) paperwork reduction and electronic commerce;
- (2) individual privacy; and
- (3) the security and authenticity of transactions.

(b) REPORTS.—The Director shall submit to Congress on a periodic basis a report describing the results of the study carried out under subsection (a).

SEC. 1707. ENFORCEABILITY AND LEGAL EFFECT OF ELECTRONIC RECORDS.

Electronic records submitted or maintained in accordance with procedures developed under this title, or electronic signatures or other forms of electronic authentication used in accordance with such procedures, shall not be denied legal effect, validity, or enforceability because such records are in electronic form.

SEC. 1708. DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION.

Except as provided by law, information collected in the provision of electronic signature services for communications with an executive agency, as provided by this title, shall only be used or disclosed by persons who obtain, collect, or maintain such information as a business or government practice, for the purpose of facilitating such communications, or with the prior affirmative consent of the person about whom the information pertains.

SEC. 1709. APPLICATION WITH INTERNAL REVENUE LAWS.

No provision of this title shall apply to the Department of the Treasury or the Internal Revenue Service to the extent that such provision—

- (1) involves the administration of the internal revenue laws;
- or
- (2) conflicts with any provision of the Internal Revenue Service Restructuring and Reform Act of 1998 or the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

SEC. 1710. DEFINITIONS.

For purposes of this title:

(1) ELECTRONIC SIGNATURE.—The term “electronic signature” means a method of signing an electronic message that—

- (A) identifies and authenticates a particular person as the source of the electronic message; and
- (B) indicates such person’s approval of the information contained in the electronic message.

(2) EXECUTIVE AGENCY.—The term “Executive agency” has the meaning given that term in section 105 of title 5, United States Code.

TITLE I—TARGETED SUBSTANCE ABUSE PREVENTION AND TREATMENT PROGRAMS

Subtitle A—National Youth Anti-Drug Media Campaign

SEC. 101. SHORT TITLE.

This subtitle may be cited as the “Drug-Free Media Campaign Act of 1998”.

SEC. 102. REQUIREMENT TO CONDUCT NATIONAL MEDIA CAMPAIGN.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Director of the Office of National Drug Control Policy (in this subtitle referred to as the “Director”) shall conduct a national media campaign in accordance with this subtitle for the purpose of reducing and preventing drug abuse among young people in the United States.

(b) LOCAL TARGET REQUIREMENT.—The Director shall, to the maximum extent feasible, use amounts made available to carry out this subtitle under section 105 for media that focuses on, or includes specific information on, prevention or treatment resources for consumers within specific local areas.

SEC. 103. USE OF FUNDS.

(a) AUTHORIZED USES.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Amounts made available to carry out this subtitle for the support of the national media campaign may only be used for—

(A) the purchase of media time and space;

(B) talent reuse payments;

(C) out-of-pocket advertising production costs;

(D) testing and evaluation of advertising;

(E) evaluation of the effectiveness of the media campaign;

(F) the negotiated fees for the winning bidder on request for proposals issued by the Office of National Drug Control Policy;

(G) partnerships with community, civic, and professional groups, and government organizations related to the media campaign; and

(H) entertainment industry collaborations to fashion antidrug messages in motion pictures, television programming, popular music, interactive (Internet and new) media projects and activities, public information, news media outreach, and corporate sponsorship and participation.

(2) ADVERTISING.—In carrying out this subtitle, the Director shall devote sufficient funds to the advertising portion of the national media campaign to meet the stated reach and frequency goals of the campaign.

(b) PROHIBITIONS.—None of the amounts made available under section 105 may be obligated or expended—

(1) to supplant current antidrug community based coalitions;

(2) to supplant current pro bono public service time donated by national and local broadcasting networks;

(3) for partisan political purposes; or

(4) to fund media campaigns that feature any elected officials, persons seeking elected office, cabinet level officials, or other Federal officials employed pursuant to section 213 of Schedule C of title 5, Code of Federal Regulations, unless the Director provides advance notice to the Committees on Appropriations of the House of Representatives and the Senate, the Committee on Government Reform and Oversight of the House of Representatives and the Committee on the Judiciary of the Senate.

(c) MATCHING REQUIREMENT.—Amounts made available under section 105 should be matched by an equal amount of non-Federal funds for the national media campaign, or be matched with in-kind contributions to the campaign of the same value.

SEC. 104. REPORTS TO CONGRESS.

The Director shall—

(1) submit to Congress on an annual basis a report on the activities for which amounts made available under section 105 have been obligated during the preceding year, including information for each quarter of such year, and on the specific parameters of the national media campaign; and

(2) not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, submit to Congress a report on the effectiveness of the national media campaign based on measurable outcomes provided to Congress previously.

SEC. 105. AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.

There is authorized to be appropriated to the Office of National Drug Control Policy to carry out this subtitle $195,000,000 for each of fiscal years 1999 through 2002.

Subtitle B—Drug-Free Prisons and JailsSEC. 111. SHORT TITLE.

This subtitle may be cited as the “Drug-Free Prisons and Jails Act of 1998”.

SEC. 112. PURPOSE.

The purpose of this subtitle is to provide for the establishment of model programs for comprehensive treatment of substance-involved offenders in the criminal justice system to reduce drug abuse and drug-related crime, and reduce the costs of the criminal justice system, that can be successfully replicated by States and local units of government through a comprehensive evaluation.

SEC. 113. PROGRAM AUTHORIZATION.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—The Director of the Bureau of Justice Assistance shall establish a model substance abuse treatment program for substance-involved offenders by—

- (1) providing financial assistance to grant recipients selected in accordance with section 114(b); and*
- (2) evaluating the success of programs conducted pursuant to this subtitle.*

(b) GRANT AWARDS.—The Director may award not more than 5 grants to units of local government and not more than 5 grants to States.

(c) ADMINISTRATIVE COSTS.—Not more than 5 percent of a grant award made pursuant to this subtitle may be used for administrative costs.

SEC. 114. GRANT APPLICATION.

(a) CONTENTS.—An application submitted by a unit of local government or a State for a grant award under this subtitle shall include each of the following:

- (1) STRATEGY.—A strategy to coordinate programs and services for substance-involved offenders provided by the unit of local government or the State, as the case may be, developed in consultation with representatives from all components of the criminal justice system within the jurisdiction, including judges, law enforcement personnel, prosecutors, corrections personnel, probation personnel, parole personnel, substance abuse treatment personnel, and substance abuse prevention personnel.*

(2) CERTIFICATION.—A certification that—

(A) Federal funds made available under this subtitle will not be used to supplant State or local funds, but will be used to increase the amounts of such funds that would, in the absence of Federal funds, be made available for law enforcement activities; and

(B) the programs developed pursuant to this subtitle meet all requirements of this subtitle.

(b) REVIEW AND APPROVAL.—Subject to section 113(b), the Director shall approve applications and make grant awards to units of local governments and States that show the most promise for accomplishing the purposes of this subtitle consistent with the provisions of section 115.

SEC. 115. USES OF FUNDS.

A unit of local government or State that receives a grant award under this subtitle shall use such funds to provide comprehensive treatment programs to inmates in prisons or jails, including not less than 3 of the following:

- (1) Tailored treatment programs to meet the special needs of different types of substance-involved offenders.
- (2) Random and frequent drug testing, including a system of sanctions.
- (3) Training and assistance for corrections officers and personnel to assist substance-involved offenders in correctional facilities.
- (4) Clinical assessment of incoming substance-involved offenders.
- (5) Availability of religious and spiritual activity and counseling to provide an environment that encourages recovery from substance involvement in correctional facilities.
- (6) Education and vocational training.
- (7) A substance-free correctional facility policy.

SEC. 116. EVALUATION AND RECOMMENDATION REPORT TO CONGRESS.

(a) EVALUATION.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Director shall enter into a contract, with an evaluating agency that has demonstrated experience in the evaluation of substance abuse treatment, to conduct an evaluation that incorporates the criteria described in paragraph (2).

(2) EVALUATION CRITERIA.—The Director, in consultation with the Directors of the appropriate National Institutes of Health, shall establish minimum criteria for evaluating each program. Such criteria shall include—

- (A) reducing substance abuse among participants;
- (B) reducing recidivism among participants;
- (C) cost effectiveness of providing services to participants; and
- (D) a data collection system that will produce data comparable to that used by the Office of Applied Studies of the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration and the Bureau of Justice Statistics of the Office of Justice Programs.

(b) REPORT.—The Director shall submit to the appropriate committees, at the same time as the President's budget for fiscal year 2001 is submitted, a report that—

- (1) describes the activities funded by grant awards under this subtitle;
- (2) includes the evaluation submitted pursuant to subsection (a); and
- (3) makes recommendations regarding revisions to the authorization of the program, including extension, expansion, application requirements, reduction, and termination.

SEC. 117. DEFINITIONS.

In this subtitle:

(1) APPROPRIATE COMMITTEES.—The term “appropriate committees” means the Committees on the Judiciary and the Committees on Appropriations of the House of Representatives and the Senate.

(2) DIRECTOR.—The term “Director” means the Director of the Bureau of Justice Assistance.

(3) SUBSTANCE-INVOLVED OFFENDER.—The term “substance-involved offender” means an individual under the supervision of a State or local criminal justice system, awaiting trial or serving a sentence imposed by the criminal justice system, who—

(A) violated or has been arrested for violating a drug or alcohol law;

(B) was under the influence of alcohol or an illegal drug at the time the crime was committed;

(C) stole property to buy illegal drugs; or

(D) has a history of substance abuse and addiction.

(4) UNIT OF LOCAL GOVERNMENT.—The term “unit of local government” means any city, county, township, town, borough, parish, village, or other general purpose political subdivision of a State, an Indian tribe which performs law enforcement functions as determined by the Secretary of the Interior and any agency of the District of Columbia government or the United States Government performing law enforcement functions in and for the District of Columbia, and the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands.

SEC. 118. AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—There are authorized to be appropriated to carry out this subtitle from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund as authorized by title 31 of the Violent Crime and Control and Law Enforcement Act of 1994 (42 U.S.C. 14211)—

(1) for fiscal year 1999, $30,000,000; and

(2) for fiscal year 2000, $20,000,000.

(b) RESERVATION.—The Director may reserve each fiscal year not more than 20 percent of the funds appropriated pursuant to subsection (a) for activities required under section 116.

Subtitle C—Drug-Free Schools Quality AssuranceSEC. 121. SHORT TITLE.

This subtitle may be cited as the “Drug-Free Schools Quality Assurance Act”.

SEC. 122. AMENDMENT TO SAFE AND DRUG-FREE SCHOOLS AND COMMUNITIES ACT.

Subpart 3 of title IV of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (20 U.S.C. 7141 et seq.) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(a) IN GENERAL.—The chief executive officer of each State, or in the case of a State in which the constitution or law of such State designates another individual, entity, or agency in the State to be responsible for education activities, such individual, entity, or agency, is authorized and encouraged—

“(1) to establish a standard of quality for drug, alcohol, and tobacco prevention programs implemented in public elementary schools and secondary schools in the State in accordance with subsection (b); and

“(2) to identify and designate, upon application by a public elementary school or secondary school, any such school that achieves such standard as a quality program school.

“(b) CRITERIA.—The standard referred to in subsection (a) shall address, at a minimum—

“(1) a comparison of the rate of illegal use of drugs, alcohol, and tobacco by students enrolled in the school for a period of time to be determined by the chief executive officer of the State;

“(2) the rate of suspensions or expulsions of students enrolled in the school for drug, alcohol, or tobacco-related offenses;

“(3) the effectiveness of the drug, alcohol, or tobacco prevention program as proven by research;

“(4) the involvement of parents and community members in the design of the drug, alcohol, and tobacco prevention program; and

“(5) the extent of review of existing community drug, alcohol, and tobacco prevention programs before implementation of the public school program.

“(c) REQUEST FOR QUALITY PROGRAM SCHOOL DESIGNATION.—A school that wishes to receive a quality program school designation shall submit a request and documentation of compliance with this section to the chief executive officer of the State or the individual, entity, or agency described in subsection (a), as the case may be.

“(d) PUBLIC NOTIFICATION.—Not less than once a year, the chief executive officer of each State or the individual, entity, or agency described in subsection (a), as the case may be, shall make available to the public a list of the names of each public school in the State that has received a quality program school designation in accordance with this section.”.

TITLE II—STATEMENT OF NATIONAL ANTIDRUG POLICY

Subtitle A—Congressional Leadership in Community Coalitions

SEC. 201. SENSE OF CONGRESS.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

(1) Illegal drug use is dangerous to the physical well-being of the Nation’s youth.

(2) Illegal drug use can destroy the lives of the Nation’s youth by diminishing their sense of morality and with it everything in life that is important and worthwhile.

(3) According to recently released national surveys, drug use among the Nation’s youth remains at alarmingly high levels.

(4) National leadership is critical to conveying to the Nation’s youth the message that drug use is dangerous and wrong.

(5) National leadership can help mobilize every sector of the community to support the implementation of comprehensive, sustainable, and effective programs to reduce drug abuse.

(6) As of September 1, 1998, 76 Members of the House of Representatives were establishing community-based antidrug coalitions in their congressional districts or were actively supporting such coalitions that already existed.

(7) The individual Members of the House of Representatives can best help their constituents prevent drug use among the Nation's youth by establishing community-based antidrug coalitions in their congressional districts or by actively supporting such coalitions that already exist.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that the individual Members of the House of Representatives, including the Delegates and the Resident Commissioner, should establish community-based antidrug coalitions in their congressional districts or should actively support any such coalitions that have been established.

Subtitle B—Rejection of Legalization of Drugs

SEC. 211. SENSE OF CONGRESS.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

- (1) Illegal drug use is harmful and wrong.
- (2) Illegal drug use can kill the individuals involved or cause the individuals to hurt or kill others, and such use strips the individuals of their moral sense.
- (3) The greatest threat presented by such use is to the youth of the United States, who are illegally using drugs in increasingly greater numbers.
- (4) The people of the United States are more concerned about illegal drug use and crimes associated with such use than with any other current social problem.
- (5) Efforts to legalize or otherwise legitimize drug use present a message to the youth of the United States that drug use is acceptable.
- (6) Article VI, clause 2 of the Constitution of the United States states that “[t]his Constitution, and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof; and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land; and judges in every state shall be bound thereby, any thing in the Constitution or laws of any state to the contrary notwithstanding.”
- (7) The courts of the United States have repeatedly found that any State law that conflicts with a Federal law or treaty is preempted by such law or treaty.
- (8) The Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 801 et seq.) strictly regulates the use and possession of drugs.
- (9) The United Nations Convention Against Illicit Traffic in Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances Treaty similarly regulates the use and possession of drugs.
- (10) Any attempt to authorize under State law an activity prohibited under such Treaty or the Controlled Substances Act would conflict with that Treaty or Act.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) the several States, and the citizens of such States, should reject the legalization of drugs through legislation, ballot proposition, constitutional amendment, or any other means; and

Subtitle C—Report on Streamlining Federal Prevention and Treatment Efforts

SEC. 221. REPORT ON STREAMLINING FEDERAL PREVENTION AND TREATMENT EFFORTS.

(a) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) the efforts of the Federal Government to reduce the demand for illegal drugs in the United States are frustrated by the fragmentation of those efforts across multiple departments and agencies; and

(2) improvement of those efforts can best be achieved through consolidation and coordination.

(b) REPORT REQUIREMENT.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 18 months after the date of enactment of this Act, the Director of the Office of National Drug Control Policy shall prepare and submit to the appropriate committees a report evaluating options for increasing the efficacy of drug prevention and treatment programs and activities by the Federal Government. Such option shall include the merits of a consolidation of programs into a single agency, transferring programs from 1 agency to another, and improving coordinating mechanisms and authorities. The report shall also include a thorough review of the activities and potential consolidation of existing Federal drug information clearinghouses.

(2) RECOMMENDATION AND EXPLANATORY STATEMENT.—The study submitted under paragraph (1) shall identify options that are determined by the Director to have merit, and an explanation which options should be implemented.

(3) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There is authorized to be appropriated to the Office of National Drug Control Policy to carry out this subsection $1,000,000 for contracting, policy research, and related costs.

(c) APPROPRIATE COMMITTEES DEFINED.—In this section, the term “appropriate committees” means the Committee on Appropriations, the Committee on Commerce, and the Committee on Education and the Workforce of the House of Representatives, and the Committee on Appropriations, and Committee on Labor and Human Resources of the Senate.

DIVISION E—METHAMPHETAMINE TRAFFICKING PENALTY ENHANCEMENT ACT OF 1998

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This division may be cited as the “Methamphetamine Trafficking Penalty Enhancement Act of 1998”.

SEC. 2. METHAMPHETAMINE PENALTY INCREASES.

(a) CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES ACT.—Section 401(b)(1) of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 841(b)(1)) is amended—

- (1) in subparagraph (A)(viii)—
 (A) by striking “100 grams” and inserting “50 grams”;
 and
 (B) by striking “1 kilogram” and inserting “500 grams”;
 and
 (2) in subparagraph (B)(viii)—
 (A) by striking “10 grams” and inserting “5 grams”;
 and
 (B) by striking “100 grams” and inserting “50 grams”.
- (b) CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES IMPORT AND EXPORT ACT.—Section 1010(b) of the Controlled Substances Import and Export Act (21 U.S.C. 960(b)) is amended—
- (1) in paragraph (1)(H)—
 (A) by striking “100 grams” and inserting “50 grams”;
 and
 (B) by striking “1 kilogram” and inserting “500 grams”;
 and
 (2) in paragraph (2)(H)—
 (A) by striking “10 grams” and inserting “5 grams”;
 and
 (B) by striking “100 grams” and inserting “50 grams”.

SEC. 3. ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS FOR THE USE OF FUNDS UNDER THE VIOLENT OFFENDER INCARCERATION AND TRUTH-IN-SENTENCING GRANTS PROGRAM.

Section 20105(b) of the Violent Crime Control and Law Enforcement Act of 1994 is amended to read as follows:

“(b) ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS.—

“(1) ELIGIBILITY FOR GRANT.—To be eligible to receive a grant under section 20103 or section 20104, a State shall—

“(A) provide assurances to the Attorney General that the State has implemented or will implement not later than 18 months after the date of the enactment of this subtitle, policies that provide for the recognition of the rights of crime victims; and

“(B) subject to the limitation of paragraph (2), no later than September 1, 2000, consider a program of drug testing and intervention for appropriate categories of convicted offenders during periods of incarceration and post-incarceration and criminal justice supervision, with sanctions including denial or revocation of release for positive drug tests, consistent with guidelines issued by the Attorney General.

“(2) USE OF FUNDS.—Beginning in fiscal year 1999, not more than 10 percent of the funds provided under section 20103 or section 20104 of this subtitle may be applied to the cost of offender drug testing and intervention programs during periods of incarceration and post-incarceration criminal justice supervision, consistent with guidelines issued by the Attorney General. Further, such funds may be used by the States to pay the costs of providing to the Attorney General a baseline study on their prison drug abuse problem. Such studies shall be consistent with guidelines issued by the Attorney General.”.

DIVISION F—NOT LEGALIZING MARIJUANA FOR MEDICINAL USE

It is the sense of the Congress that—

(1) certain drugs are listed on Schedule I of the Controlled Substances Act if they have a high potential for abuse, lack any currently accepted medical use in treatment, and are unsafe, even under medical supervision;

(2) the consequences of illegal use of Schedule I drugs are well documented, particularly with regard to physical health, highway safety, and criminal activity;

(3) pursuant to section 401 of the Controlled Substances Act, it is illegal to manufacture, distribute, or dispense marijuana, heroin, LSD, and more than 100 other Schedule I drugs;

(4) pursuant to section 505 of the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, before any drug can be approved as a medication in the United States, it must meet extensive scientific and medical standards established by the Food and Drug Administration to ensure it is safe and effective;

(5) marijuana and other Schedule I drugs have not been approved by the Food and Drug Administration to treat any disease or condition;

(6) the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act already prohibits the sale of any unapproved drug, including marijuana, that has not been proven safe and effective for medical purposes and grants the Food and Drug Administration the authority to enforce this prohibition through seizure and other civil action, as well as through criminal penalties;

(7) marijuana use by children in grades 8 through 12 declined steadily from 1980 to 1992, but, from 1992 to 1996, has dramatically increased by 253 percent among 8th graders, 151 percent among 10th graders, and 84 percent among 12th graders, and the average age of first-time use of marijuana is now younger than it has ever been;

(8) according to the 1997 survey by the Center on Addiction and Substance Abuse at Columbia University, 500,000 8th graders began using marijuana in the 6th and 7th grades;

(9) according to that same 1997 survey, youths between the ages of 12 and 17 who use marijuana are 85 times more likely to use cocaine than those who abstain from marijuana, and 60 percent of adolescents who use marijuana before the age of 15 will later use cocaine; and

(10) the rate of illegal drug use among youth is linked to their perceptions of the health and safety risks of those drugs, and the ambiguous cultural messages about marijuana use are contributing to a growing acceptance of marijuana use among children and teenagers;

(11) Congress continues to support the existing Federal legal process for determining the safety and efficacy of drugs and opposes efforts to circumvent this process by legalizing marijuana, and other Schedule I drugs, for medicinal use without valid scientific evidence and the approval of the Food and Drug Administration; and

(12) not later than 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act—

(A) the Attorney General shall submit to the Committees on the Judiciary of the House of Representatives and the Senate a report on—

(i) the total quantity of marijuana eradicated in the United States during the period from 1992 through 1997; and

(ii) the annual number of arrests and prosecutions for Federal marijuana offenses during the period described in clause (i); and

(B) the Commissioner of Foods and Drugs shall submit to the Committee on Commerce of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Labor and Human Resources of the Senate a report on the specific efforts underway to enforce sections 304 and 505 of the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act with respect to marijuana and other Schedule I drugs.

SUBDIVISION A—CONSOLIDATION OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS AGENCIESTITLE XI—GENERAL PROVISIONS*SEC. 1101. SHORT TITLE.

This subdivision may be cited as the “Foreign Affairs Agencies Consolidation Act of 1998”.

SEC. 1102. PURPOSES.

The purposes of this subdivision are—

- (1) to strengthen—*
 (A) the coordination of United States foreign policy;
and
 (B) the leading role of the Secretary of State in the formulation and articulation of United States foreign policy;
(2) to consolidate and reinvigorate the foreign affairs functions of the United States within the Department of State by—
 (A) abolishing the United States Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, the United States Information Agency, and the United States International Development Cooperation Agency, and transferring the functions of these agencies to the Department of State while preserving the special missions and skills of these agencies;
 (B) transferring certain functions of the Agency for International Development to the Department of State; and
 (C) providing for the reorganization of the Department of State to maximize the efficient use of resources, which may lead to budget savings, eliminate redundancy in functions, and improvement in the management of the Department of State;

(3) to ensure that programs critical to the promotion of United States national interests be maintained;

(4) to assist congressional efforts to balance the Federal budget and reduce the Federal debt;

(5) to ensure that the United States maintains effective representation abroad within budgetary restraints; and

(6) to encourage United States foreign affairs agencies to maintain a high percentage of the best qualified, most competent United States citizens serving in the United States Government.

SEC. 1103. DEFINITIONS.

In this subdivision:

(1) ACDA.—The term “ACDA” means the United States Arms Control and Disarmament Agency.

(1) except as provided in subsection (c), all personnel and positions of USIA employed or maintained to carry out the functions transferred by this chapter to the Broadcasting Board of Governors shall be transferred to the Broadcasting Board of Governors at the same grade or class and the same rate of basic pay or basic salary rate and with the same tenure held immediately preceding transfer; and

(2) the personnel and positions of USIA, as determined by the Secretary of State, with the concurrence of the Broadcasting Board of Governors and the Director of USIA, to support the functions transferred by this chapter shall be transferred to the Broadcasting Board of Governors, including the International Broadcasting Bureau, at the same grade or class and the same rate of basic pay or basic salary rate and with the same tenure held immediately preceding transfer.

(c) TRANSFER AND ALLOCATION OF PROPERTY, APPROPRIATIONS, AND PERSONNEL ASSOCIATED WITH WORLDNET.—USIA personnel responsible for carrying out interactive dialogs with foreign media and other similar overseas public diplomacy programs using the Worldnet television broadcasting system, and funds associated with such personnel, shall be transferred to the Department of State in accordance with the provisions of title XVI of this subdivision.

(d) INCIDENTAL TRANSFERS.—The Director of the Office of Management and Budget, when requested by the Broadcasting Board of Governors, is authorized to make such incidental dispositions of personnel, assets, liabilities, grants, contracts, property, records, and unexpended balances of appropriations, authorizations, allocations, and other funds held, used, arising from, available to, or to be made available in connection with functions and offices transferred from USIA, as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

SEC. 1327. SAVINGS PROVISIONS.

(a) CONTINUING LEGAL FORCE AND EFFECT.—All orders, determinations, rules, regulations, permits, agreements, grants, contracts, certificates, licenses, registrations, privileges, and other administrative actions—

(1) that have been issued, made, granted, or allowed to become effective by the President, any Federal agency or official thereof, or by a court of competent jurisdiction, in the performance of functions exercised by the Broadcasting Board of Governors of the United States Information Agency on the day before the effective date of this title, and

(2) that are in effect at the time this title takes effect, or were final before the effective date of this title and are to become effective on or after the effective date of this title, shall continue in effect according to their terms until modified, terminated, superseded, set aside, or revoked in accordance with law by the President, the Broadcasting Board of Governors, or other authorized official, a court of competent jurisdiction, or by operation of law.

(b) PENDING PROCEEDINGS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The provisions of this chapter, or amendments made by this chapter, shall not affect any proceedings, including notices of proposed rulemaking, or any application for any license, permit, certificate, or financial assistance pending before the Broadcasting Board of Governors of the United States Information Agency at the time this title takes effect, with respect to functions exercised by the Board as of the effective date of this title but such proceedings and applications shall be continued.

(2) ORDERS, APPEALS, AND PAYMENTS.—Orders shall be issued in such proceedings, appeals shall be taken therefrom, and payments shall be made pursuant to such orders, as if this chapter had not been enacted, and orders issued in any such proceedings shall continue in effect until modified, terminated, superseded, or revoked by a duly authorized official, by a court of competent jurisdiction, or by operation of law.

(3) STATUTORY CONSTRUCTION.—Nothing in this subsection shall be deemed to prohibit the discontinuance or modification of any such proceeding under the same terms and conditions and to the same extent that such proceeding could have been discontinued or modified if this chapter had not been enacted.

(c) NONABATEMENT OF PROCEEDINGS.—No suit, action, or other proceeding commenced by or against any officer in the official capacity of such individual as an officer of the Broadcasting Board of Governors, or any commission or component thereof, shall abate by reason of the enactment of this chapter. No cause of action by or against the Broadcasting Board of Governors, or any commission or component thereof, or by or against any officer thereof in the official capacity of such officer, shall abate by reason of the enactment of this chapter.

(d) CONTINUATION OF PROCEEDINGS WITH SUBSTITUTION OF PARTIES.—

(1) SUBSTITUTION OF PARTIES.—If, before the effective date of this title, USIA or the Broadcasting Board of Governors, or any officer thereof in the official capacity of such officer, is a party to a suit which is related to the functions transferred by this chapter, then effective on such date such suit shall be continued with the Broadcasting Board of Governors or other appropriate official of the Board substituted or added as a party.

(2) LIABILITY OF THE BOARD.—The Board shall participate in suits continued under paragraph (1) where the Broadcasting Board of Governors or other appropriate official of the Board is added as a party and shall be liable for any judgments or remedies in those suits or proceedings arising from the exercise of the functions transferred by this chapter to the same extent that USIA would have been liable if such judgment or remedy had been rendered on the day before the abolition of USIA.

(e) ADMINISTRATIVE ACTIONS RELATING TO PROMULGATION OF REGULATIONS.—Any administrative action relating to the preparation or promulgation of a regulation by the Broadcasting Board of Governors relating to a function exercised by the Board before the effective date of this title may be continued by the Board with the same effect as if this chapter had not been enacted.

(f) REFERENCES.—Reference in any other Federal law, Executive order, rule, regulation, or delegation of authority, or any document of or relating to the Broadcasting Board of Governors of the United States Information Agency with regard to functions exercised before the effective date of this title, shall be deemed to refer to the Board.

SEC. 1328. REPORT ON THE PRIVATIZATION OF RFE/RL, INCORPORATED.

Not later than March 1 of each year, the Broadcasting Board of Governors shall submit to the appropriate congressional committees a report on the progress of the Board and of RFE/RL, Incorporated, on any steps taken to further the policy declared in section 312(a) of the Foreign Relations Authorization Act, Fiscal Years 1994 and 1995. The report under this subsection shall include the following:

(1) Efforts by RFE/RL, Incorporated, to terminate individual language services.

(2) A detailed description of steps taken with regard to section 312(a) of that Act.

(3) An analysis of prospects for privatization over the coming year.

(4) An assessment of the extent to which United States Government funding may be appropriate in the year 2000 and subsequent years for surrogate broadcasting to the countries to which RFE/RL, Incorporated, broadcast during the year. This assessment shall include an analysis of the environment for independent media in those countries, noting the extent of government control of the media, the ability of independent journalists and news organizations to operate, relevant domestic legislation, level of government harassment and efforts to censor, and other indications of whether the people of such countries enjoy freedom of expression.

- (5) The Support for East European Democracy Act (22 U.S.C. 5401 et seq.).

SEC. 1522. ADMINISTRATOR OF AID REPORTING TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE.

The Administrator of the Agency for International Development, appointed pursuant to section 624(a) of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 (22 U.S.C. 2384(a)), shall report to and be under the direct authority and foreign policy guidance of the Secretary of State.

SEC. 1523. ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS COORDINATION AND OVERSIGHT.

(a) AUTHORITY OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Under the direction of the President, the Secretary of State shall coordinate all United States assistance in accordance with this section, except as provided in paragraphs (2) and (3).

(2) EXPORT PROMOTION ACTIVITIES.—Coordination of activities relating to promotion of exports of United States goods and services shall continue to be primarily the responsibility of the Secretary of Commerce.

(3) INTERNATIONAL ECONOMIC ACTIVITIES.—Coordination of activities relating to United States participation in international financial institutions and relating to organization of multilateral efforts aimed at currency stabilization, currency convertibility, debt reduction, and comprehensive economic reform programs shall continue to be primarily the responsibility of the Secretary of the Treasury.

(4) AUTHORITIES AND POWERS OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE.—The powers and authorities of the Secretary provided in this chapter are in addition to the powers and authorities provided to the Secretary under any other Act, including section 101(b) and section 622(c) of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 (22 U.S.C. 2151(b), 2382(c)).

(b) COORDINATION ACTIVITIES.—Coordination activities of the Secretary of State under subsection (a) shall include—

(1) approving an overall assistance and economic cooperation strategy;

(2) ensuring program and policy coordination among agencies of the United States Government in carrying out the policies set forth in the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961, the Arms Export Control Act, and other relevant assistance Acts;

(3) pursuing coordination with other countries and international organizations; and

(4) resolving policy, program, and funding disputes among United States Government agencies.

(c) STATUTORY CONSTRUCTION.—Nothing in this section may be construed to lessen the accountability of any Federal agency administering any program, project, or activity of United States assistance for any funds made available to the Federal agency for that purpose.

(d) AUTHORITY TO PROVIDE PERSONNEL OF THE AGENCY FOR INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT.—The Administrator of the Agency for International Development is authorized to detail to the Department of State on a nonreimbursable basis such personnel employed by the Agency as the Secretary of State may require to carry out this section.

TITLE XVI—TRANSITIONCHAPTER 1—REORGANIZATION PLAN*SEC. 1601. REORGANIZATION PLAN AND REPORT.

(a) SUBMISSION OF PLAN AND REPORT.—Not later than 60 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the President shall transmit to the appropriate congressional committees a reorganization plan and report regarding—

(1) the abolition of the United States Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, the United States Information Agency, and the United States International Development Cooperation Agency in accordance with this subdivision;

(2) with respect to the Agency for International Development, the consolidation and streamlining of the Agency and the transfer of certain functions of the Agency to the Department in accordance with section 1511;

(3) the termination of functions of each covered agency as may be necessary to effectuate the reorganization under this subdivision, and the termination of the affairs of each agency abolished under this subdivision;

(4) the transfer to the Department of the functions and personnel of each covered agency consistent with the provisions of this subdivision; and

(5) the consolidation, reorganization, and streamlining of the Department in connection with the transfer of such functions and personnel in order to carry out such functions.

(b) COVERED AGENCIES.—The agencies covered by this section are the following:

(1) The United States Arms Control and Disarmament Agency.

(2) The United States Information Agency.

(3) The United States International Development Cooperation Agency.

(4) The Agency for International Development.

(c) PLAN ELEMENTS.—The plan transmitted under subsection (a) shall contain, consistent with this subdivision, such elements as the President deems appropriate, including elements that—

(1) identify the functions of each covered agency that will be transferred to the Department under the plan;

(2) specify the steps to be taken by the Secretary of State to reorganize internally the functions of the Department, including the consolidation of offices and functions, that will be required under the plan in order to permit the Department to carry out the functions transferred to it under the plan;

(3) specify the funds available to each covered agency that will be transferred to the Department as a result of the transfer of functions of such agency to the Department;

(4) specify the proposed allocations within the Department of unexpended funds transferred in connection with the transfer of functions under the plan; and

(5) specify the proposed disposition of the property, facilities, contracts, records, and other assets and liabilities of each covered agency in connection with the transfer of the functions of such agency to the Department.

(d) REORGANIZATION PLAN OF AGENCY FOR INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT.—In addition to applicable provisions of subsection (c), the reorganization plan transmitted under this section for the Agency for International Development—

(1) may provide for the abolition of the Agency for International Development and the transfer of all its functions to the Department of State; or

(2) in lieu of the abolition and transfer of functions under paragraph (1)—

(A) shall provide for the transfer to and consolidation within the Department of the functions set forth in section 1511; and

(B) may provide for additional consolidation, reorganization, and streamlining of AID, including—

(i) the termination of functions and reductions in personnel of AID;

(ii) the transfer of functions of AID, and the personnel associated with such functions, to the Department; and

(iii) the consolidation, reorganization, and streamlining of the Department upon the transfer of such functions and personnel in order to carry out the functions transferred.

(e) MODIFICATION OF PLAN.—The President may, on the basis of consultations with the appropriate congressional committees, modify or revise any part of the plan transmitted under subsection (a) until that part of the plan becomes effective in accordance with subsection (g).

(f) REPORT.—The report accompanying the reorganization plan for the Department and the covered agencies submitted pursuant to this section shall describe the implementation of the plan and shall include—

(1) a detailed description of—

(A) the actions necessary or planned to complete the reorganization,

(B) the anticipated nature and substance of any orders, directives, and other administrative and operational actions which are expected to be required for completing or implementing the reorganization, and

(C) any preliminary actions which have been taken in the implementation process;

(2) the number of personnel and positions of each covered agency (including civil service personnel, Foreign Service personnel, and detailees) that are expected to be transferred to the Department, separated from service with such agency, or eliminated under the plan, and a projected schedule for such transfers, separations, and terminations;

(3) the number of personnel and positions of the Department (including civil service personnel, Foreign Service personnel, and detailees) that are expected to be transferred within the Department, separated from service with the Department, or eliminated under the plan, and a projected schedule for such transfers, separations, and terminations;

(4) a projected schedule for completion of the implementation process; and

(5) recommendations, if any, for legislation necessary to carry out changes made by this subdivision relating to personnel and to incidental transfers.

(g) EFFECTIVE DATE.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The reorganization plan described in this section, including any modifications or revisions of the plan under subsection (e), shall become effective on the earlier of the date for the respective covered agency specified in paragraph (2) or the date announced by the President under paragraph (3).

(2) STATUTORY EFFECTIVE DATES.—The effective dates under this paragraph for the reorganization plan described in this section are the following:

(A) April 1, 1999, with respect to functions of the Agency for International Development described in section 1511.

(B) April 1, 1999, with respect to the abolition of the United States Arms Control and Disarmament Agency and the United States International Development Cooperation Agency.

(C) October 1, 1999, with respect to the abolition of the United States Information Agency.

(3) EFFECTIVE DATE BY PRESIDENTIAL DETERMINATION.—An effective date under this paragraph for a reorganization plan described in this section is such date as the President shall determine to be appropriate and announce by notice published in the Federal Register, which date may be not earlier than 90 calendar days after the President has transmitted the reorganization plan to the appropriate congressional committees pursuant to subsection (a).

(4) STATUTORY CONSTRUCTION.—Nothing in this subsection may be construed to require the transfer of functions, personnel, records, balance of appropriations, or other assets of a covered agency on a single date.

(5) SUPERSEDES EXISTING LAW.—Paragraph (1) shall apply notwithstanding section 905(b) of title 5, United States Code.

(h) PUBLICATION.—The reorganization plan described in this section shall be printed in the Federal Register after the date upon which it first becomes effective.

CHAPTER 2—REORGANIZATION AUTHORITY

SEC. 1611. REORGANIZATION AUTHORITY.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary is authorized, subject to the requirements of this subdivision, to allocate or reallocate any function transferred to the Department under any title of this subdivision, and to establish, consolidate, alter, or discontinue such organizational entities within the Department as may be necessary or appropriate to carry out any reorganization under this subdivision, but this subsection does not authorize the Secretary to modify the terms of any statute that establishes or defines the functions of any bureau, office, or officer of the Department.

(b) REQUIREMENTS AND LIMITATIONS ON REORGANIZATION PLAN.—The reorganization plan transmitted under section 1601 may not have the effect of—

(1) creating a new executive department;

(2) continuing a function beyond the period authorized by law for its exercise or beyond the time when it would have terminated if the reorganization had not been made;

(3) authorizing a Federal agency to exercise a function which is not authorized by law at the time the plan is transmitted to Congress;

(4) creating a new Federal agency which is not a component or part of an existing executive department or independent agency; or

(5) increasing the term of an office beyond that provided by law for the office.

SEC. 1612. TRANSFER AND ALLOCATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Except as otherwise provided in this subdivision, the assets, liabilities (including contingent liabilities arising from suits continued with a substitution or addition of parties under section 1615(e)), contracts, property, records, and unexpended balance of appropriations, authorizations, allocations, and other funds employed, held, used, arising from, available to, or to be made available in connection with the functions and offices, or portions thereof, transferred by any title of this subdivision shall be transferred to the Secretary for appropriate allocation.

(b) LIMITATION ON USE OF TRANSFERRED FUNDS.—Except as provided in subsection (c), unexpended and unobligated funds transferred pursuant to any title of this subdivision shall be used only for the purposes for which the funds were originally authorized and appropriated.

(c) FUNDS TO FACILITATE TRANSITION.—

(1) CONGRESSIONAL NOTIFICATION.—Funds transferred pursuant to subsection (a) may be available for the purposes of reorganization subject to notification of the appropriate congressional committees in accordance with the procedures applicable to a reprogramming of funds under section 34 of the State Department Basic Authorities Act of 1956 (22 U.S.C. 2706).

(2) TRANSFER AUTHORITY.—Funds in any account appropriated to the Department of State may be transferred to another such account for the purposes of reorganization, subject to notification of the appropriate congressional committees in accordance with the procedures applicable to a reprogramming of funds under section 34 of the State Department Basic Authorities Act of 1956 (22 U.S.C. 2706). The authority in this paragraph is in addition to any other transfer authority available to the Secretary of State and shall expire September 30, 2000.

SEC. 1613. TRANSFER, APPOINTMENT, AND ASSIGNMENT OF PERSONNEL.

(a) TRANSFER OF PERSONNEL FROM ACDA AND USIA.—Except as otherwise provided in title XIII—

(1) not later than the date of abolition of ACDA, all personnel and positions of ACDA, and

(2) not later than the date of abolition of USIA, all personnel and positions of USIA, shall be transferred to the Department of State at the same grade or class and the same rate of basic pay or basic salary rate and with the same tenure held immediately preceding transfer.

(b) TRANSFER OF PERSONNEL FROM AID.—Except as otherwise provided in title XIII, not later than the date of transfer of any function of AID to the Department of State under this subdivision, all AID personnel performing such functions and all positions associated with such functions shall be transferred to the Department of State at the same grade or class and the same rate of basic pay or basic salary rate and with the same tenure held immediately preceding transfer.

(c) ASSIGNMENT AUTHORITY.—The Secretary, for a period of not more than 6 months commencing on the effective date of the transfer to the Department of State of personnel under subsections (a) and (b), is authorized to assign such personnel to any position or set of duties in the Department of State regardless of the position held or duties performed by such personnel prior to transfer, except that, by virtue of such assignment, such personnel shall not have their grade or class or their rate of basic pay or basic salary rate reduced, nor their tenure changed. The Secretary shall consult with the relevant exclusive representatives (as defined in section 1002 of the Foreign Service Act and in section 7103 of title 5, United States Code) with regard to the exercise of this authority. This subsection does not authorize the Secretary to assign any individual to any position that by law requires appointment by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate.

(d) SUPERSEDING OTHER PROVISIONS OF LAW.—Subsections (a) through (c) shall be exercised notwithstanding any other provision of law.

SEC. 1614. INCIDENTAL TRANSFERS.

The Director of the Office of Management and Budget, when requested by the Secretary, is authorized to make such incidental dispositions of personnel, assets, liabilities, grants, contracts, property, records, and unexpended balances of appropriations, authorizations, allocations, and other funds held, used, arising from, available to, or to be made available in connection with such functions, as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of any title of this subdivision. The Director of the Office of Management and Budget, in consultation with the Secretary, shall provide for the termination of the affairs of all entities terminated by this subdivision and for such further measures and dispositions as may be necessary to effectuate the purposes of any title of this subdivision.

SEC. 1615. SAVINGS PROVISIONS.

(a) CONTINUING LEGAL FORCE AND EFFECT.—All orders, determinations, rules, regulations, permits, agreements, grants, contracts, certificates, licenses, registrations, privileges, and other administrative actions—

(1) that have been issued, made, granted, or allowed to become effective by the President, any Federal agency or official thereof, or by a court of competent jurisdiction, in the performance of functions that are transferred under any title of this subdivision; and

(2) that are in effect as of the effective date of such title, or were final before the effective date of such title and are to become effective on or after the effective date of such title, shall continue in effect according to their terms until modified, terminated, superseded, set aside, or revoked in accordance with law by the President, the Secretary, or other authorized official, a court of competent jurisdiction, or by operation of law.

(b) PENDING PROCEEDINGS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The provisions of any title of this subdivision shall not affect any proceedings, including notices of proposed rulemaking, or any application for any license, permit, certificate, or financial assistance pending on the effective date of any title of this subdivision before any Federal agency, commission, or component thereof, functions of which are transferred by any title of this subdivision. Such proceedings and applications, to the extent that they relate to functions so transferred, shall be continued.

(2) ORDERS, APPEALS, PAYMENTS.—Orders shall be issued in such proceedings, appeals shall be taken therefrom, and payments shall be made pursuant to such orders, as if this subdivision had not been enacted. Orders issued in any such proceedings shall continue in effect until modified, terminated, superseded, or revoked by the Secretary, by a court of competent jurisdiction, or by operation of law.

(3) STATUTORY CONSTRUCTION.—Nothing in this subdivision shall be deemed to prohibit the discontinuance or modification of any such proceeding under the same terms and conditions and to the same extent that such proceeding could have been discontinued or modified if this subdivision had not been enacted.

(4) REGULATIONS.—The Secretary is authorized to promulgate regulations providing for the orderly transfer of proceedings continued under this subsection to the Department.

(c) NO EFFECT ON JUDICIAL OR ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEEDINGS.—Except as provided in subsection (e) and section 1327(d)—

(1) the provisions of this subdivision shall not affect suits commenced prior to the effective dates of the respective titles of this subdivision; and

(2) in all such suits, proceedings shall be had, appeals taken, and judgments rendered in the same manner and effect as if this subdivision had not been enacted.

(d) NONABATEMENT OF PROCEEDINGS.—No suit, action, or other proceeding commenced by or against any officer in the official capacity of such individual as an officer of any Federal agency, or any commission or component thereof, functions of which are transferred by any title of this subdivision, shall abate by reason of the enactment of this subdivision. No cause of action by or against any Federal agency, or any commission or component thereof, functions of which are transferred by any title of this subdivision, or by or against any officer thereof in the official capacity of such officer shall abate by reason of the enactment of this subdivision.

(e) CONTINUATION OF PROCEEDING WITH SUBSTITUTION OF PARTIES.—If, before the effective date of any title of this subdivision, any Federal agency, or officer thereof in the official capacity of such officer, is a party to a suit, and under this subdivision any function of such department, agency, or officer is transferred to the Secretary or any other official of the Department, then effective on such date such suit shall be continued with the Secretary or other appropriate official of the Department substituted or added as a party.

(f) REVIEWABILITY OF ORDERS AND ACTIONS UNDER TRANSFERRED FUNCTIONS.—Orders and actions of the Secretary in the exercise of functions transferred under any title of this subdivision shall be subject to judicial review to the same extent and in the same manner as if such orders and actions had been by the Federal agency or office, or part thereof, exercising such functions immediately preceding their transfer. Any statutory requirements relating to notice, hearings, action upon the record, or administrative review that apply to any function transferred by any title of this subdivision shall apply to the exercise of such function by the Secretary.

SEC. 1616. AUTHORITY OF SECRETARY OF STATE TO FACILITATE TRANSITION.

Notwithstanding any provision of this subdivision, the Secretary of State, with the concurrence of the head of the appropriate Federal agency exercising functions transferred under this subdivision, may transfer the whole or part of such functions prior to the effective dates established in this subdivision, including the transfer of personnel and funds associated with such functions.

SEC. 1617. FINAL REPORT.

Not later than January 1, 2001, the President, in consultation with the Secretary of the Treasury and the Director of the Office of Management and Budget, shall submit to the appropriate congressional committees a report which provides a final accounting of the finances and operations of the agencies abolished under this subdivision.

TITLE XXII—DEPARTMENT OF STATE AUTHORITIES AND ACTIVITIES

CHAPTER 1—AUTHORITIES AND ACTIVITIES

SEC. 2201. REIMBURSEMENT OF DEPARTMENT OF STATE FOR ASSISTANCE TO OVERSEAS EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES.

Section 29 of the State Department Basic Authorities Act of 1956 (22 U.S.C. 2701) is amended by adding at the end the following: “Notwithstanding any other provision of law, where the child of a United States citizen employee of an agency of the United States Government who is stationed outside the United States attends an educational facility assisted by the Secretary of State under this section, the head of that agency is authorized to reimburse, or credit with advance payment, the Department of State for funds used in providing assistance to such educational facilities, by grant or otherwise, under this section.”.

SEC. 2202. REVISION OF DEPARTMENT OF STATE REWARDS PROGRAM.

Section 36 of the State Department Basic Authorities Act of 1956 (22 U.S.C. 2708) is amended to read as follows:

“(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—There is established a program for the payment of rewards to carry out the purposes of this section.

“(2) PURPOSE.—The rewards program shall be designed to assist in the prevention of acts of international terrorism, international narcotics trafficking, and other related criminal acts.

“(3) IMPLEMENTATION.—The rewards program shall be administered by the Secretary of State, in consultation, as appropriate, with the Attorney General.

“(b) REWARDS AUTHORIZED.—In the sole discretion of the Secretary (except as provided in subsection (c)(2)) and in consultation, as appropriate, with the Attorney General, the Secretary may pay a reward to any individual who furnishes information leading to—

“(1) the arrest or conviction in any country of any individual for the commission of an act of international terrorism against a United States person or United States property;

“(2) the arrest or conviction in any country of any individual conspiring or attempting to commit an act of international terrorism against a United States person or United States property;

“(3) the arrest or conviction in any country of any individual for committing, primarily outside the territorial jurisdiction of the United States, any narcotics-related offense if that offense involves or is a significant part of conduct that involves—

“(A) a violation of United States narcotics laws such that the individual would be a major violator of such laws;

“(B) the killing or kidnapping of—

“(i) any officer, employee, or contract employee of the United States Government while such individual is engaged in official duties, or on account of that individual’s official duties, in connection with the enforcement of United States narcotics laws or the implementing of United States narcotics control objectives; or

“(ii) a member of the immediate family of any such individual on account of that individual’s official duties, in connection with the enforcement of United States narcotics laws or the implementing of United States narcotics control objectives; or

“(C) an attempt or conspiracy to commit any act described in subparagraph (A) or (B);

“(4) the arrest or conviction in any country of any individual aiding or abetting in the commission of an act described in paragraph (1), (2), or (3); or “(5) the prevention, frustration, or favorable resolution of an act described in paragraph (1), (2), or (3).

“(c) COORDINATION.—

“(1) PROCEDURES.—To ensure that the payment of rewards pursuant to this section does not duplicate or interfere with the payment of informants or the obtaining of evidence or information, as authorized to the Department of Justice, the offering, administration, and payment of rewards under this section, including procedures for—

“(A) identifying individuals, organizations, and offenses with respect to which rewards will be offered;

“(B) the publication of rewards;

“(C) the offering of joint rewards with foreign governments;

“(D) the receipt and analysis of data; and “(E) the payment and approval of payment, shall be governed by procedures developed by the Secretary of State, in consultation with the Attorney General.

“(2) PRIOR APPROVAL OF ATTORNEY GENERAL REQUIRED.—Before making a reward under this section in a matter over which there is Federal criminal jurisdiction, the Secretary of State shall obtain the concurrence of the Attorney General.

“(d) FUNDING.—

“(1) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—Notwithstanding section 102 of the Foreign Relations Authorization Act, Fiscal Years 1986 and 1987 (Public Law 99-93; 99 Stat. 408), but subject to paragraph (2), there are authorized to be appropriated to the Department of State from time to time such amounts as may be necessary to carry out this section.

“(2) LIMITATION.—No amount of funds may be appropriated under paragraph (1) which, when added to the unobligated balance of amounts previously appropriated to carry out this section, would cause such amounts to exceed $15,000,000.

“(3) ALLOCATION OF FUNDS.—To the maximum extent practicable, funds made available to carry out this section should be distributed equally for the purpose of preventing acts of international terrorism and for the purpose of preventing international narcotics trafficking.

“(4) PERIOD OF AVAILABILITY.—Amounts appropriated under paragraph (1) shall remain available until expended.

“(e) LIMITATIONS AND CERTIFICATION.—

“(2) APPROVAL.—A reward under this section of more than $100,000 may not be made without the approval of the Secretary.

“(3) CERTIFICATION FOR PAYMENT.—Any reward granted under this section shall be approved and certified for payment by the Secretary.

“(4) NONDELEGATION OF AUTHORITY.—The authority to approve rewards of more than $100,000 set forth in paragraph (2) may not be delegated.

“(5) PROTECTION MEASURES.—If the Secretary determines that the identity of the recipient of a reward or of the members of the recipient’s immediate family must be protected, the Secretary may take such measures in connection with the payment of the reward as he considers necessary to effect such protection.

“(f) INELIGIBILITY.—An officer or employee of any entity of Federal, State, or local government or of a foreign government who, while in the performance of his or her official duties, furnishes information described in subsection (b) shall not be eligible for a reward under this section.

“(g) REPORTS.—

“(1) REPORTS ON PAYMENT OF REWARDS.—Not later than 30 days after the payment of any reward under this section, the Secretary shall submit a report to the appropriate congressional committees with respect to such reward. The report, which may be submitted in classified form if necessary, shall specify the amount of the reward paid, to whom the reward was paid, and the acts with respect to which the reward was paid. The report shall also discuss the significance of the information for which the reward was paid in dealing with those acts.

“(2) ANNUAL REPORTS.—Not later than 60 days after the end of each fiscal year, the Secretary shall submit a report to the appropriate congressional committees with respect to the operation of the rewards program. The report shall provide information on the total amounts expended during the fiscal year ending in that year to carry out this section, including amounts expended to publicize the availability of rewards.

“(h) PUBLICATION REGARDING REWARDS OFFERED BY FOREIGN GOVERNMENTS.—Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, in the sole discretion of the Secretary, the resources of the rewards program shall be available for the publication of rewards offered by foreign governments regarding acts of international terrorism which do not involve United States persons or property or a violation of the narcotics laws of the United States.

“(i) DETERMINATIONS OF THE SECRETARY.—A determination made by the Secretary under this section shall be final and conclusive and shall not be subject to judicial review.

“(j) DEFINITIONS.—As used in this section:

“(1) ACT OF INTERNATIONAL TERRORISM.—The term ‘act of international terrorism’ includes—

(2) by striking paragraph (2); and

(3) by redesignating paragraph (3) as paragraph (2).

(b) FOREIGN PORTS.—Section 908(a) of the International Maritime and Port Security Act of 1986 (46 U.S.C. App. 1804(a)) is amended by striking the second sentence, relating to Federal Register publication by the Secretary of State.

SEC. 2225. DENIAL OF VISAS TO CONFISCATORS OF AMERICAN PROPERTY.

(a) DENIAL OF VISAS.—Except as otherwise provided in section 401 of the Cuban Liberty and Democratic Solidarity (LIBERTAD) Act of 1996 (Public Law 104–114), and subject to subsection (b), the Secretary of State may deny the issuance of a visa to any alien who—

(1) through the abuse of position, including a governmental or political party position, converts or has converted for personal gain real property that has been confiscated or expropriated, a claim to which is owned by a national of the United States, or who is complicit in such a conversion; or

(2) induces any of the actions or omissions described in paragraph (1) by any person.

(b) EXCEPTIONS.—Subsection (a) shall not apply to—

(1) any country established by international mandate through the United Nations; or

(2) any territory recognized by the United States Government to be in dispute.

(c) REPORTING REQUIREMENT.—Not later than 6 months after the date of enactment of this Act, and every 12 months thereafter, the Secretary of State shall submit to the Speaker of the House of Representatives and to the chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate a report, including—

(1) a list of aliens who have been denied a visa under this subsection; and

(2) a list of aliens who could have been denied a visa under subsection (a) but were issued a visa and an explanation as to why each such visa was issued.

SEC. 2226. INADMISSIBILITY OF ANY ALIEN SUPPORTING AN INTERNATIONAL CHILD ABDUCTOR.

(a) AMENDMENT OF IMMIGRATION AND NATIONALITY ACT.—Section 212(a)(10)(C) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1182(a)(10)(C)) is amended by striking clause (ii) and inserting the following:

“(ii) ALIENS SUPPORTING ABDUCTORS AND RELATIVES OF ABDUCTORS.—Any alien who—

“(I) is known by the Secretary of State to have intentionally assisted an alien in the conduct described in clause (i),

“(II) is known by the Secretary of State to be intentionally providing material support or safe haven to an alien described in clause (i), or “(III) is a spouse (other than the spouse who is the parent of the abducted child), child (other than the abducted child), parent, sibling, or agent of an alien described in clause (i), if such person has been designated by the Secretary of State at the Secretary’s sole and unreviewable discretion, is inadmissible until the child described in clause (i) is surrendered to the person granted custody by the order described in that clause, and such person and child are permitted to return to the United States or such person’s place of residence.

“(iii) EXCEPTIONS.—Clauses (i) and (ii) shall not apply—

“(I) to a government official of the United States who is acting within the scope of his or her official duties;

“(II) to a government official of any foreign government if the official has been designated by the Secretary of State at the Secretary’s sole and unreviewable discretion; or

“(III) so long as the child is located in a foreign state that is a party to the Convention on the Civil Aspects of International Child Abduction, done at The Hague on October 25, 1980.”

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendment made by subsection (a) shall apply to aliens seeking admission to the United States on or after the date of enactment of this Act.

CHAPTER 3—REFUGEES AND MIGRATION

Subchapter A—Authorization of Appropriations

SEC. 2231. MIGRATION AND REFUGEE ASSISTANCE.

(a) MIGRATION AND REFUGEE ASSISTANCE.—

(1) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There are authorized to be appropriated for “Migration and Refugee Assistance” for authorized activities, $650,000,000 for the fiscal year 1998 and $704,500,000 for the fiscal year 1999.

(2) LIMITATIONS.—

(A) LIMITATION REGARDING TIBETAN REFUGEES IN INDIA AND NEPAL.—Of the amounts authorized to be appropriated in paragraph (1), not more than $2,000,000 for the fiscal year 1998 and $2,000,000 for the fiscal year 1999 are authorized to be available only for humanitarian assistance, including food, medicine, clothing, and medical and vocational training, to Tibetan refugees in India and Nepal who have fled Chinese-occupied Tibet.

(B) REFUGEES RESETTLING IN ISRAEL.—Of the amounts authorized to be appropriated in paragraph (1), $80,000,000 for the fiscal year 1998 and $80,000,000 for the fiscal year 1999 are authorized to be available for assistance for refugees resettling in Israel from other countries.

(C) HUMANITARIAN ASSISTANCE FOR DISPLACED BURMESE.—Of the amounts authorized to be appropriated in paragraph (1), $1,500,000 for the fiscal year 1998 and $1,500,000 for the fiscal year 1999 for humanitarian assistance are authorized to be available, including food, medicine, clothing, and medical and vocational training, to persons displaced as a result of civil conflict in Burma, including persons still within Burma.

(b) AVAILABILITY OF FUNDS.—Funds appropriated pursuant to this section are authorized to remain available until expended.

Subchapter B—Authorities

SEC. 2241. UNITED STATES POLICY REGARDING THE INVOLUNTARY RETURN OF REFUGEES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—None of the funds made available by this subdivision shall be available to effect the involuntary return by the United States of any person to a country in which the person has a well-founded fear of persecution on account of race, religion, nationality, membership in a particular social group, or political opinion, except on grounds recognized as precluding protection as a refugee under the United Nations Convention Relating to the Status of Refugees of July 28, 1951, and the Protocol Relating to the Status of Refugees of January 31, 1967, subject to the reservations contained in the United States Senate Resolution of Ratification.

(b) MIGRATION AND REFUGEE ASSISTANCE.—None of the funds made available by section 2231 of this division or by section 2(c) of the Migration and Refugee Assistance Act of 1962 (22 U.S.C. 2601(c)) shall be available to effect the involuntary return of any person to any country unless the Secretary of State first notifies the appropriate congressional committees, except that in the case of an emergency involving a threat to human life the Secretary of State shall notify the appropriate congressional committees as soon as practicable.

(c) INVOLUNTARY RETURN DEFINED.—As used in this section, the term “to effect the involuntary return” means to require, by means of physical force or circumstances amounting to a threat thereof, a person to return to a country against the person’s will, regardless of whether the person is physically present in the United States and regardless of whether the United States acts directly or through an agent.

SEC. 2242. UNITED STATES POLICY WITH RESPECT TO THE INVOLUNTARY RETURN OF PERSONS IN DANGER OF SUBJECTION TO TORTURE.

(a) POLICY.—It shall be the policy of the United States not to expel, extradite, or otherwise effect the involuntary return of any person to a country in which there are substantial grounds for believing the person would be in danger of being subjected to torture, regardless of whether the person is physically present in the United States.

(b) REGULATIONS.—Not later than 120 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the heads of the appropriate agencies shall prescribe regulations to implement the obligations of the United States under Article 3 of the United Nations Convention Against Torture and Other Forms of Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment, subject to any reservations, understandings, declarations, and provisos contained in the United States Senate resolution of ratification of the Convention.

(c) EXCLUSION OF CERTAIN ALIENS.—To the maximum extent consistent with the obligations of the United States under the Convention, subject to any reservations, understandings, declarations, and provisos contained in the United States Senate resolution of ratification of the Convention, the regulations described in subsection (b) shall exclude from the protection of such regulations aliens described in section 241(b)(3)(B) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1231(b)(3)(B)).

(d) REVIEW AND CONSTRUCTION.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, and except as provided in the regulations described in subsection (b), no court shall have jurisdiction to review the regulations adopted to implement this section, and nothing in this section shall be construed as providing any court jurisdiction to consider or review claims raised under the Convention or this section, or any other determination made with respect to the application of the policy set forth in subsection (a), except as part of the review of a final order of removal pursuant to section 242 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1252).

(e) AUTHORITY TO DETAIN.—Nothing in this section shall be construed as limiting the authority of the Attorney General to detain any person under any provision of law, including, but not limited to, any provision of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

(f) DEFINITIONS.—

(1) CONVENTION DEFINED.—In this section, the term “Convention” means the United Nations Convention Against Torture and Other Forms of Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment, done at New York on December 10, 1984.

(2) SAME TERMS AS IN THE CONVENTION.—Except as otherwise provided, the terms used in this section have the meanings given those terms in the Convention, subject to any reservations, understandings, declarations, and provisos contained in the United States Senate resolution of ratification of the Convention.

SEC. 2243. REPROGRAMMING OF MIGRATION AND REFUGEE ASSISTANCE FUNDS.

Section 34 of the State Department Basic Authorities Act of 1956 (22 U.S.C. 2706) is amended—

(1) in subsection (a)—

(A) by striking “Foreign Affairs” and inserting “International Relations and the Committee on Appropriations”; and

(B) by inserting “and the Committee on Appropriations” after “Foreign Relations”; and

(2) by adding at the end the following new subsection:

“(c) The Secretary of State may waive the notification requirement of subsection (a), if the Secretary determines that failure to do so would pose a substantial risk to human health or welfare. In the case of any waiver under this subsection, notification to the Committee on Foreign Relations and the Committee on Appropriations of the Senate and the Committee on International Relations and the Committee on Appropriations of the House of Representatives shall be provided as soon as practicable, but not later than 3 days after taking the action to which the notification requirement was applicable, and shall contain an explanation of the emergency circumstances.”.

SEC. 2244. ELIGIBILITY FOR REFUGEE STATUS.

Section 584 of the Foreign Operations, Export Financing, and Related Programs Appropriations Act, 1997 (Public Law 104–208; 110 Stat. 3009–171) is amended—

(1) in subsection (a)—

(A) by striking “For purposes” and inserting “Notwithstanding any other provision of law, for purposes”; and

(B) by striking “fiscal year 1997” and inserting “fiscal years 1997, 1998, and 1999”; and

(2) by amending subsection (b) to read as follows:

“(b) ALIENS COVERED.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.— An alien described in this subsection is an alien who—

“(A) is the son or daughter of a qualified national;

“(B) is 21 years of age or older; and

“(C) was unmarried as of the date of acceptance of the alien’s parent for resettlement under the Orderly Departure Program.

“(2) QUALIFIED NATIONAL.—For purposes of paragraph (1), the term ‘qualified national’ means a national of Vietnam who—

“(A)(i) was formerly interned in a reeducation camp in Vietnam by the Government of the Socialist Republic of Vietnam; or “(ii) is the widow or widower of an individual described in clause (i); and

“(B)(i) qualified for refugee processing under the reeducation camp internees subprogram of the Orderly Departure Program; and

“(ii) on or after April 1, 1995, is or has been accepted—

“(I) for resettlement as a refugee; or

SEC. 2245. REPORTS TO CONGRESS CONCERNING CUBAN EMIGRATION POLICIES.

Beginning not later than 6 months after the date of enactment of this Act, and every 6 months thereafter, the Secretary of State shall supplement the monthly report to Congress entitled “Update on Monitoring of Cuban Migrant Returnees” with additional information concerning the methods employed by the Government of Cuba to enforce the United States-Cuba agreement of September 1994 and the treatment by the Government of Cuba of persons who have returned to Cuba pursuant to the United States-Cuba agreement of May 1995.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 5545a of title 5, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following:

"(k)(1) For purposes of this section, the term 'criminal investigator' includes a special agent occupying a position under title II of Public Law 99-399 if such special agent—

"(A) meets the definition of such term under paragraph (2) of subsection (a) (applied disregarding the parenthetical matter before subparagraph (A) thereof); and

"(B) such special agent satisfies the requirements of subsection (d) without taking into account any hours described in paragraph (2)(B) thereof.

"(2) In applying subsection (h) with respect to a special agent under this subsection—

"(A) any reference in such subsection to 'basic pay' shall be considered to include amounts designated as 'salary';

"(B) paragraph (2)(A) of such subsection shall be considered to include (in addition to the provisions of law specified therein) sections 609(b)(1), 805, 806, and 856 of the Foreign Service Act of 1980; and

"(C) paragraph (2)(B) of such subsection shall be applied by substituting for 'Office of Personnel Management' the following:

'Office of Personnel Management or the Secretary of State (to the extent that matters exclusively within the jurisdiction of the Secretary are concerned)'."

(b) IMPLEMENTATION.—Not later than the date on which the amendments made by this section take effect, each special agent of the Diplomatic Security Service who satisfies the requirements of subsection (k)(1) of section 5545a of title 5, United States Code, as amended by this section, and the appropriate supervisory officer, to be designated by the Secretary of State, shall make an initial certification to the Secretary of State that the special agent is expected to meet the requirements of subsection (d) of such section 5545a. The Secretary of State may prescribe procedures necessary to administer this subsection.

(c) TECHNICAL AND CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—(1) Paragraph (2) of section 5545a(a) of title 5, United States Code, is amended (in the matter before subparagraph (A)) by striking "Public Law 99-399" and inserting "Public Law 99-399, subject to subsection (k)".

(2) Section 5542(e) of such title is amended by striking "title 18, United States Code," and inserting "title 18 or section 37(a)(3) of the State Department Basic Authorities Act of 1956,".

(d) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall take effect on the first day of the first applicable pay period—

(1) which begins on or after the 90th day following the date of the enactment of this Act; and

(2) on which date all regulations necessary to carry out such amendments are (in the judgment of the Director of the Office of Personnel Management and the Secretary of State) in effect.

SEC. 2317. NONOVERTIME DIFFERENTIAL PAY.

Title 5 of the United States Code is amended—

(1) in section 5544(a), by inserting after the fourth sentence the following new sentence: "For employees serving outside the United States in areas where Sunday is a routine workday and another day of the week is officially recognized as the day of rest and worship, the Secretary of State may designate the officially recognized day of rest and worship as the day with respect to which the preceding sentence shall apply instead of Sunday."; and

(2) at the end of section 5546(a), by adding the following new sentence: "For employees serving outside the United States in areas where Sunday is a routine workday and another day of the week is officially recognized as the day of rest and worship, the Secretary of State may designate the officially recognized day of rest and worship as the day with respect to which the preceding sentence shall apply instead of Sunday.".

SEC. 2318. REPORT CONCERNING MINORITIES AND THE FOREIGN SERVICE.

The Secretary of State shall during each of calendar years 1998 and 1999 submit a report to the Congress concerning minorities and the Foreign Service officer corps. In addition to such other information as is relevant to this issue, the report shall include the following data for the last preceding examination and promotion cycles for which such information is available (reported in terms of real numbers and percentages and not as ratios):

(1) The numbers and percentages of all minorities taking the written Foreign Service examination.

(2) The numbers and percentages of all minorities successfully completing and passing the written Foreign Service examination.

(3) The numbers and percentages of all minorities successfully completing and passing the oral Foreign Service examination.

(4) The numbers and percentages of all minorities entering the junior officers class of the Foreign Service.

(5) The numbers and percentages of all minority Foreign Service officers at each grade.

SEC. 2414. WORKING GROUP ON UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT-SPONSORED INTERNATIONAL EXCHANGES AND TRAINING.

Section 112 of the Mutual Educational and Cultural Exchange Act of 1961 (22 U.S.C. 2460) is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

“(g) WORKING GROUP ON UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT SPONSORED INTERNATIONAL EXCHANGES AND TRAINING.—(1) In order to carry out the purposes of subsection (f) and to improve the coordination, efficiency, and effectiveness of United States Government-sponsored international exchanges and training, there is established within the United States Information Agency a senior-level interagency working group to be known as the Working Group on United States Government-Sponsored International Exchanges and Training (in this section referred to as the ‘Working Group’).

“(2) For purposes of this subsection, the term ‘Government-sponsored international exchanges and training’ means the movement of people between countries to promote the sharing of ideas, to develop skills, and to foster mutual understanding and cooperation, financed wholly or in part, directly or indirectly, with United States Government funds.

“(3) The Working Group shall be composed as follows:

“(A) The Associate Director for Educational and Cultural Affairs of the United States Information Agency, who shall act as Chair.

“(B) A senior representative of the Department of State, who shall be designated by the Secretary of State.

“(C) A senior representative of the Department of Defense, who shall be designated by the Secretary of Defense.

“(D) A senior representative of the Department of Education, who shall be designated by the Secretary of Education.

“(E) A senior representative of the Department of Justice, who shall be designated by the Attorney General.

“(F) A senior representative of the Agency for International Development, who shall be designated by the Administrator of the Agency.

“(G) Senior representatives of such other departments and agencies as the Chair determines to be appropriate.

“(4) Representatives of the National Security Adviser and the Director of the Office of Management and Budget may participate in the Working Group at the discretion of the Adviser and the Director, respectively.

“(5) The Working Group shall be supported by an interagency staff office established in the Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs of the United States Information Agency.

“(6) The Working Group shall have the following purposes and responsibilities:

“(A) To collect, analyze, and report data provided by all United States Government departments and agencies conducting international exchanges and training programs.

“(B) To promote greater understanding and cooperation among concerned United States Government departments and agencies of common issues and challenges in conducting international exchanges and training programs, including through the establishment of a clearinghouse for information on international exchange and training activities in the governmental and nongovernmental sectors.

“(C) In order to achieve the most efficient and cost-effective use of Federal resources, to identify administrative and programmatic duplication and overlap of activities by the various United States Government departments and agencies involved in Government-sponsored international exchange and training programs, to identify how each Government-sponsored international exchange and training program promotes United States foreign policy, and to report thereon.

“(D)(i) Not later than 1 year after the date of the enactment of the Foreign Relations Authorization Act, Fiscal Years 1998 and 1999, the Working Group shall develop a coordinated and cost-effective strategy for all United States Government-sponsored international exchange and training programs, including an action plan with the objective of achieving a minimum of 10 percent cost savings through greater efficiency, the consolidation of programs, or the elimination of duplication, or any combination thereof.

“(ii) Not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of the Foreign Relations Authorization Act, Fiscal Years 1998 and 1999, the Working Group shall submit a report to the appropriate congressional committees setting forth the strategy and action plan required by clause (i).

“(iii) Each year thereafter the Working Group shall assess the strategy and plan required by clause (i).

“(E) Not later than 2 years after the date of the enactment of the Foreign Relations Authorization Act, Fiscal Years 1998 and 1999, to develop recommendations on common performance measures for all United States Government-sponsored international exchange and training programs, and to issue a report.

“(F) To conduct a survey of private sector international exchange activities and develop strategies for expanding public and private partnerships in, and leveraging private sector support for, United States Government-sponsored international exchange and training activities.

“(G) Not later than 6 months after the date of the enactment of the Foreign Relations Authorization Act, Fiscal Years 1998 and 1999, to report on the feasibility and advisability of transferring funds and program management for the ATLAS or the Mandela Fellows programs, or both, in South Africa from the Agency for International Development to the United States Information Agency. The report shall include an assessment of the capabilities of the South African Fulbright Commission to manage such programs and the cost effects of consolidating such programs under one entity.

“(7) All reports prepared by the Working Group shall be submitted to the President, through the Director of the United States Information Agency.

“(10) The members of the Working Group shall serve without additional compensation for their service on the Working Group. Any expenses incurred by a member of the Working Group in connection with service on the Working Group shall be compensated by that member’s department or agency.

“(11) With respect to any report issued under paragraph (6), a member may submit dissenting views to be submitted as part of the report of the Working Group.”

SEC. 2415. EDUCATIONAL AND CULTURAL EXCHANGES AND SCHOLARSHIPS FOR TIBETANS AND BURMESE.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 103(b)(1) of the Human Rights, Refugee, and Other Foreign Relations Provisions Act of 1996 (Public Law 104–319; 22 U.S.C. 2151 note) is amended—

(1) by striking “for fiscal year 1997” and inserting “for the fiscal year 1999”; and

(2) by inserting after “who are outside Tibet” the following: “(if practicable, including individuals active in the preservation of Tibet’s unique culture, religion, and language)”.

SEC. 2416. SURROGATE BROADCASTING STUDY.

Not later than 6 months after the date of enactment of this Act, the Broadcasting Board of Governors, acting through the International Broadcasting Bureau, should conduct and complete a study of the appropriateness, feasibility, and projected costs of providing surrogate broadcasting service to Africa and transmit the results of the study to the appropriate congressional committees.

SEC. 2417. RADIO BROADCASTING TO IRAN IN THE FARSI LANGUAGE.

(a) RADIO FREE IRAN.—Not more than $2,000,000 of the funds made available under section 2401(a)(4) of this division for each of the fiscal years 1998 and 1999 for grants to RFE/RL, Incorporated, shall be available only for surrogate radio broadcasting by RFE/RL, Incorporated, to the Iranian people in the Farsi language, such broadcasts to be designated as “Radio Free Iran”.

(b) REPORT TO CONGRESS.—Not later than 60 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Broadcasting Board of Governors of the United States Information Agency shall submit a detailed report to Congress describing the costs, implementation, and plans for creation of the surrogate broadcasting service described in subsection (a).

(c) AVAILABILITY OF FUNDS.—None of the funds made available under subsection (a) may be made available until submission of the report required under subsection (b).

SEC. 2504. SERVICE IN INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 3582(b) of title 5, United States Code, is amended by striking all after the first sentence and inserting the following: “On reemployment, an employee entitled to the benefits of subsection (a) is entitled to the rate of basic pay to which the employee would have been entitled had the employee remained in the civil service. On reemployment, the agency shall restore the sick leave account of the employee, by credit or charge, to its status at the time of transfer. The period of separation caused by the employment of the employee with the international organization and the period necessary to effect reemployment are deemed creditable service for all appropriate civil service employment purposes. This subsection does not apply to a congressional employee.”

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendment made by subsection (a) shall apply with respect to transfers that take effect on or after the date of enactment of this Act.

SEC. 2505. REPORTS REGARDING FOREIGN TRAVEL.

(a) PROHIBITION.—Except as provided in subsection (e), none of the funds authorized to be appropriated by this division for fiscal year 1999 may be used to pay for the expenses of foreign travel by an officer or employee of an Executive branch agency to attend an international conference, or for the routine services that a United States diplomatic mission or consular post provides in support of foreign travel by such an officer or employee to attend an international conference, unless that officer or employee has submitted a preliminary report with respect to that foreign travel in accordance with subsection (b), and has not previously failed to submit a final report with respect to foreign travel to attend an international conference required by subsection (c).

(b) PRELIMINARY REPORTS.—A preliminary report referred to in subsection (a) is a report by an officer or employee of an Executive branch agency with respect to proposed foreign travel to attend an international conference, submitted to the Director prior to commencement of the travel, setting forth—

- (1) the name and employing agency of the officer or employee;
- (2) the name of the official who authorized the travel; and
- (3) the purpose and duration of the travel.

(c) FINAL REPORTS.—A final report referred to in subsection (a) is a report by an officer or employee of an Executive branch agency with respect to foreign travel to attend an international conference, submitted to the Director not later than 30 days after the conclusion of the travel—

(1) setting forth the actual duration and cost of the travel; and

(2) updating any other information included in the preliminary report.

(d) REPORT TO CONGRESS.—The Director shall submit a report not later than April 1, 1999, to the Committees on Foreign Relations and Appropriations of the Senate and the Committees on International Relations and Appropriations of the House of Representatives, setting forth with respect to each international conference for which reports described in subsection (c) were required to be submitted to the Director during the preceding six months—

(1) the names and employing agencies of all officers and employees of Executive branch agencies who attended the international conference;

(2) the names of all officials who authorized travel to the international conference, and the total number of officers and employees who were authorized to travel to the conference by each such official; and

(3) the total cost of travel by officers and employees of Executive branch agencies to the international conference.

(e) EXCEPTIONS.—This section shall not apply to travel by—

(1) the President or the Vice President;

(2) any officer or employee who is carrying out an intelligence or intelligence-related activity, who is performing a protective function, or who is engaged in a sensitive diplomatic mission; or

(3) any officer or employee who travels prior to January 1, 1999.

(f) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) DIRECTOR.—The term “Director” means the Director of the Office of International Conferences of the Department of State.

(2) EXECUTIVE BRANCH AGENCY.—The terms “Executive branch agency” and “Executive branch agencies” mean—

(A) an entity or entities, other than the General Accounting Office, defined in section 105 of title 5, United States Code; and

(3) INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE.—The term “international conference” means any meeting held under the auspices of an international organization or foreign government, at which representatives of more than two foreign governments are expected to be in attendance, and to which United States Executive branch agencies will send a total of ten or more representatives.

(g) REPORT.—Not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act, and annually thereafter, the President shall submit to the appropriate congressional committees a report describing—

(1) the total Federal expenditure of all official international travel in each Executive branch agency during the previous fiscal year; and

(2) the total number of individuals in each agency who engaged in such travel.

DISARMAMENT AGENCY

SEC. 2601. AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.

There are authorized to be appropriated to carry out the purposes of the Arms Control and Disarmament Act $41,500,000 for the fiscal year 1999.

SEC. 2602. STATUTORY CONSTRUCTION.

Section 303 of the Arms Control and Disarmament Act (22 U.S.C. 2573), as redesignated by section 2223 of this division, is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

“(c) STATUTORY CONSTRUCTION.—Nothing contained in this chapter shall be construed to authorize any policy or action by any Government agency which would interfere with, restrict, or prohibit the acquisition, possession, or use of firearms by an individual for the lawful purpose of personal defense, sport, recreation, education, or training.”

TITLE XXVII—EUROPEAN SECURITY ACT OF 1998

SEC. 2701. SHORT TITLE.

This title may be cited as the “European Security Act of 1998”.

SEC. 2702. STATEMENT OF POLICY.

(a) POLICY WITH RESPECT TO NATO ENLARGEMENT.—Congress urges the President to outline a clear and complete strategic rationale for the enlargement of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO), and declares that—

(1) Poland, Hungary, and the Czech Republic should not be the last emerging democracies in Central and Eastern Europe invited to join NATO;

(2) the United States should ensure that NATO continues a process whereby all other emerging democracies in Central and Eastern Europe that wish to join NATO will be considered for membership in NATO as soon as they meet the criteria for such membership;

(3) the United States should ensure that no limitations are placed on the numbers of NATO troops or types of equipment, including tactical nuclear weapons, to be deployed on the territory of new member states;

(4) the United States should reject all efforts to condition NATO decisions on review or approval by the United Nations Security Council;

(5) the United States should clearly delineate those NATO deliberations, including but not limited to discussions on arms control, further Alliance enlargement, procurement matters, and strategic doctrine, that are not subject to review or discussion in the NATO-Russia Permanent Joint Council;

(6) the United States should work to ensure that countries invited to join the Alliance are provided an immediate seat in NATO discussions; and

(7) the United States already pays more than a proportionate share of the costs of the common defense of Europe and should obtain, in advance, agreement on an equitable distribution of the cost of NATO enlargement to ensure that the United States does not continue to bear a disproportionate burden.

(b) POLICY WITH RESPECT TO NEGOTIATIONS WITH RUSSIA.—

(1) IMPLEMENTATION.—NATO enlargement should be carried out in such a manner as to underscore the Alliance's defensive nature and demonstrate to Russia that NATO enlargement will enhance the security of all countries in Europe, including Russia. Accordingly, the United States and its NATO allies should make this intention clear in negotiations with Russia, including negotiations regarding adaptation of the Conventional Armed Forces in Europe (CFE) Treaty of November 19, 1990.

(2) LIMITATIONS ON COMMITMENTS TO RUSSIA.—In seeking to demonstrate to Russia NATO's defensive and security-enhancing intentions, it is essential that neither fundamental United States security interests in Europe nor the effectiveness and flexibility of NATO as a defensive alliance be jeopardized. In particular, no commitments should be made to Russia that would have the effect of—

(A) extending rights or imposing responsibilities on new NATO members different from those applicable to current NATO members, including rights or responsibilities with respect to the deployment of nuclear weapons and the stationing of troops and equipment from other NATO members;

(B) limiting the ability of NATO to defend the territory of new NATO members by, for example, restricting the construction of defense infrastructure or limiting the ability of NATO to deploy necessary reinforcements;

(C) providing any international organization, or any country that is not a member of NATO, with authority to delay, veto, or otherwise impede deliberations and decisions of the North Atlantic Council or the implementation of such decisions, including deliberations and decisions with respect to the deployment of NATO forces or the admission of additional members to NATO;

(D) impeding the development of enhanced relations between NATO and other European countries that do not belong to the Alliance;

(E) establishing a nuclear weapons-free zone in Central or Eastern Europe;

(F) requiring NATO to subsidize Russian arms sales, service, or support to the militaries of those former Warsaw Pact countries invited to join the Alliance; or

(G) legitimizing Russian efforts to link concessions in arms control negotiations to NATO enlargement.

(3) COMMITMENTS FROM RUSSIA.—In order to enhance security and stability in Europe, the United States should seek commitments from Russia—

(A) to demarcate and respect all its borders with neighboring states;

(B) to achieve the immediate and complete withdrawal of any armed forces and military equipment under the control of Russia that are deployed on the territories of the independent states of the former Soviet Union without the full and complete agreement of those states;

(C) to station its armed forces on the territory of other states only with the full and complete agreement of that state and in strict accordance with international law; and

(D) to take steps to reduce further its nuclear and conventional forces in Kaliningrad.

(4) CONSULTATIONS.—As negotiations on adaptation of the Treaty on Conventional Armed Forces in Europe proceed, the United States should engage in close and continuous consultations not only with its NATO allies, but also with the emerging democracies of Central and Eastern Europe, Ukraine, and the South Caucasus.

(c) POLICY WITH RESPECT TO BALLISTIC MISSILE DEFENSE COOPERATION.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—As the United States proceeds with efforts to develop defenses against ballistic missile attack, it should seek to foster a climate of cooperation with Russia on matters related to missile defense. In particular, the United States and its NATO allies should seek to cooperate with Russia in such areas as early warning.

(2) DISCUSSIONS WITH NATO ALLIES.—The United States should initiate discussions with its NATO allies for the purpose of examining the feasibility of deploying a ballistic missile defense capable of protecting NATO's southern and eastern flanks from a limited ballistic missile attack.

(3) CONSTITUTIONAL PREROGATIVES.—Even as the Congress seeks to promote ballistic missile defense cooperation with Russia, it must insist on its constitutional prerogatives regarding consideration of arms control agreements with Russia that bear on ballistic missile defense.

SEC. 2703. AUTHORITIES RELATING TO NATO ENLARGEMENT.

(a) POLICY OF SECTION.—This section is enacted in order to implement the policy set forth in section 2702(a).

(b) DESIGNATION OF ADDITIONAL COUNTRIES ELIGIBLE FOR NATO ENLARGEMENT ASSISTANCE.—

(1) DESIGNATION OF ADDITIONAL COUNTRIES.—Romania, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, and Bulgaria are each designated as eligible to receive assistance under the program established under section 203(a) of the NATO Participation Act of 1994 (22 U.S.C. 1928 note) and shall be deemed to have been so designated pursuant to section 203(d)(1) of such Act.

(2) RULE OF CONSTRUCTION.—The designation of countries pursuant to paragraph (1) as eligible to receive assistance under the program established under section 203(a) of the NATO Participation Act of 1994—

(A) is in addition to the designation of other countries by law or pursuant to section 203(d)(2) of such Act as eligible to receive assistance under the program established under section 203(a) of such Act; and

(B) shall not preclude the designation by the President of other emerging democracies in Central and Eastern Europe pursuant to section 203(d)(2) of such Act as eligible to receive assistance under the program established under section 203(a) of such Act.

(3) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that Romania, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, and Bulgaria—

(A) are to be commended for their progress toward political and economic reform and meeting the guidelines for prospective NATO members;

(B) would make an outstanding contribution to furthering the goals of NATO and enhancing stability, freedom, and peace in Europe should they become NATO members; and

(C) upon complete satisfaction of all relevant criteria should be invited to become full NATO members at the earliest possible date.

(c) REGIONAL AIRSPACE INITIATIVE AND PARTNERSHIP FOR PEACE INFORMATION MANAGEMENT SYSTEM.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Funds described in paragraph (2) are authorized to be made available to support the implementation of the Regional Airspace Initiative and the Partnership for Peace Information Management System, including—

(A) the procurement of items in support of these programs; and

(B) the transfer of such items to countries participating in these programs.

(2) FUNDS DESCRIBED.—Funds described in this paragraph are funds that are available—

(A) during any fiscal year under the NATO Participation Act of 1994 with respect to countries eligible for assistance under that Act; or

(d) EXTENSION OF AUTHORITY REGARDING EXCESS DEFENSE ARTICLES.—Section 105 of Public Law 104-164 (110 Stat. 1427) is amended by striking “1996 and 1997” and inserting “1997, 1998, and 1999”.

(e) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS TO THE NATO PARTICIPATION ACT OF 1994.—Section 203(c) of the NATO Participation Act of 1994 (22 U.S.C. 1928 note) is amended—

(1) in paragraph (1), by striking “, without regard to the restrictions” and all that follows through “section);”;

(2) by striking paragraph (2);

(3) in paragraph (6), by striking “appropriated under the ‘Nonproliferation and Disarmament Fund’ account” and inserting “made available for the ‘Nonproliferation and Disarmament Fund’”; and

(4) in paragraph (8)—

(A) by striking “any restrictions in sections 516 and 519” and inserting “section 516(e);”;

(B) by striking “as amended,”; and

(C) by striking “paragraphs (1) and (2)” and inserting “paragraph (1);” and

(5) by redesignating paragraphs (3) through (8) as paragraphs (2) through (7), respectively.

SEC. 2704. SENSE OF CONGRESS WITH RESPECT TO THE TREATY ON CONVENTIONAL ARMED FORCES IN EUROPE.

It is the sense of Congress that no revisions to the Treaty on Conventional Armed Forces in Europe will be approved for entry into force with respect to the United States that jeopardize fundamental United States security interests in Europe or the effectiveness and flexibility of NATO as a defensive alliance by—

(1) extending rights or imposing responsibilities on new NATO members different from those applicable to current NATO members, including rights or responsibilities with respect to the deployment of nuclear weapons and the stationing of troops and equipment from other NATO members;

(2) limiting the ability of NATO to defend the territory of new NATO members by, for example, restricting the construction of defense infrastructure or limiting the ability of NATO to deploy necessary reinforcements;

(3) providing any international organization, or any country that is not a member of NATO, with the authority to delay, veto, or otherwise impede deliberations and decisions of the North Atlantic Council or the implementation of such decisions, including deliberations and decisions with respect to the deployment of NATO forces or the admission of additional members to NATO; or

(4) impeding the development of enhanced relations between NATO and other European countries that do not belong to the Alliance.

SEC. 2705. RESTRICTIONS AND REQUIREMENTS RELATING TO BALLISTIC MISSILE DEFENSE.

(a) POLICY OF SECTION.—This section is enacted in order to implement the policy set forth in section 2702(c).

(b) RESTRICTION ON ENTRY INTO FORCE OF ABM/TMD DEMARCATION AGREEMENTS.—An ABM/TMD demarcation agreement shall not be binding on the United States, and shall not enter into force with respect to the United States, unless, after the date of enactment of this Act, that agreement is specifically approved with the advice and consent of the United States Senate pursuant to Article II, section 2, clause 2 of the Constitution.

(c) SENSE OF CONGRESS WITH RESPECT TO DEMARCATION AGREEMENTS.—

(1) RELATIONSHIP TO MULTILATERALIZATION OF ABM TREATY.—It is the sense of Congress that no ABM/TMD demarcation agreement will be considered for advice and consent to ratification unless, consistent with the certification of the President pursuant to condition (9) of the resolution of ratification of the CFE Flank Document, the President submits for Senate advice and consent to ratification any agreement, arrangement, or understanding that would—

(A) add one or more countries as State Parties to the ABM Treaty, or otherwise convert the ABM Treaty from a bilateral treaty to a multilateral treaty; or

(B) change the geographic scope or coverage of the ABM Treaty, or otherwise modify the meaning of the term

(2) PRESERVATION OF UNITED STATES THEATER BALLISTIC MISSILE DEFENSE POTENTIAL.—It is the sense of Congress that no ABM/TMD demarcation agreement that would reduce the capabilities of United States theater missile defense systems, or the numbers or deployment patterns of such systems, will be approved for entry into force with respect to the United States.

(d) REPORT ON COOPERATIVE PROJECTS WITH RUSSIA.—Not later than January 1, 1999, and January 1, 2000, the President shall submit to the Committees on International Relations, National Security, and Appropriations of the House of Representatives and the Committees on Foreign Relations, Armed Services, and Appropriations of the Senate a report on cooperative projects with Russia in the area of ballistic missile defense, including in the area of early warning. Each such report shall include the following:

(1) COOPERATIVE PROJECTS.—A description of all cooperative projects conducted in the area of early warning and ballistic missile defense during the preceding fiscal year and the fiscal year during which the report is submitted.

(2) FUNDING.—A description of the funding for such projects during the preceding fiscal year and the year during which the report is submitted and the proposed funding for such projects for the next fiscal year.

(3) STATUS OF DIALOGUE OR DISCUSSIONS.—A description of the status of any dialogue or discussions conducted during the preceding fiscal year between the United States and Russia aimed at exploring the potential for mutual accommodation of outstanding issues between the two nations on matters relating to ballistic missile defense and the ABM Treaty, including the possibility of developing a strategic relationship not based on mutual nuclear threats.

(e) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) ABM/TMD DEMARCATION AGREEMENT.—The term “ABM/TMD demarcation agreement” means any agreement that establishes a demarcation between theater ballistic missile defense systems and strategic antiballistic missile defense systems for purposes of the ABM Treaty.

(2) ABM TREATY.—The term “ABM Treaty” means the Treaty Between the United States of America and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics on the Limitation of Anti-Ballistic Missile Systems, signed at Moscow on May 26, 1972 (23 UST 3435), and includes the Protocols to that Treaty, signed at Moscow on July 3, 1974 (27 UST 1645).

TITLE XXVIII—OTHER FOREIGN POLICY PROVISIONS

SEC. 2801. REPORTS ON CLAIMS BY UNITED STATES FIRMS AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT OF SAUDI ARABIA.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act and every 180 days thereafter, the Secretary of State, after consultation with the Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of Commerce, shall submit a report to the appropriate congressional committees on specific actions taken by the Department of State, the Department of Defense, and the Department of Commerce toward progress in resolving the commercial disputes between United States firms and the Government of Saudi Arabia that are described in the June 30, 1993, report by the Secretary of Defense pursuant to section 9140(c) of the Department of Defense Appropriations Act, 1993 (Public Law 102-396), including the additional claims noticed by the Department of Commerce on page 2 of that report.

(b) TERMINATION.—Subsection (a) shall cease to have effect on the earlier of—

(1) the date of submission of the third report under that subsection; or

(2) the date that the Secretary of State, after consultation with the Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of Commerce, certifies in writing to the appropriate congressional committees that the commercial disputes referred to in subsection (a) have been resolved satisfactorily.

SEC. 2802. REPORTS ON DETERMINATIONS UNDER TITLE IV OF THE LIBERTAD ACT.

(a) REPORTS REQUIRED.—Not later than 30 days after the date of the enactment of this Act and every 3 months thereafter during the period ending September 30, 1999, the Secretary of State shall submit to the appropriate congressional committees a report on the implementation of section 401 of the Cuban Liberty and Democratic Solidarity (LIBERTAD) Act of 1996 (22 U.S.C. 6091). Each report shall include—

(1) an unclassified list, by economic sector, of the number of entities then under review pursuant to that section;

(2) an unclassified list of all entities and a classified list of all individuals that the Secretary of State has determined to be subject to that section;

(3) an unclassified list of all entities and a classified list of all individuals that the Secretary of State has determined are no longer subject to that section;

(4) an explanation of the status of the review underway for the cases referred to in paragraph (1); and

(5) an unclassified explanation of each determination of the Secretary of State under section 401(a) of that Act and each finding of the Secretary under section 401(c) of that Act—

(A) since the date of the enactment of this Act, in the case of the first report under this subsection; and

(B) in the preceding 3-month period, in the case of each subsequent report.

(b) PROTECTION OF IDENTITY OF CONCERNED ENTITIES.—In preparing the report under subsection (a), the names of entities shall not be identified under paragraph (1) or (4).

SEC. 2803. REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH THE HAGUE CONVENTION ON INTERNATIONAL CHILD ABDUCTION.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Beginning 6 months after the date of the enactment of this Act and every 12 months thereafter during the period ending September 30, 1999, the Secretary of State shall submit a report to the appropriate congressional committees on the compliance with the provisions of the Convention on the Civil Aspects of International Child Abduction, done at The Hague on October 25, 1980, by the signatory countries of the Convention. Each such report shall include the following information:

(1) The number of applications for the return of children submitted by United States citizens to the Central Authority for the United States that remain unresolved more than 18 months after the date of filing.

(2) A list of the countries to which children in unresolved applications described in paragraph (1) are alleged to have been abducted.

(3) A list of the countries that have demonstrated a pattern of noncompliance with the obligations of the Convention with respect to applications for the return of children submitted by United States citizens to the Central Authority for the United States.

(4) Detailed information on each unresolved case described in paragraph (1) and on actions taken by the Department of State to resolve each such case.

(5) Information on efforts by the Department of State to encourage other countries to become signatories of the Convention.

(b) DEFINITION.—In this section, the term “Central Authority for the United States” has the meaning given the term in Article 6 of the Convention on the Civil Aspects of International Child Abduction, done at The Hague on October 25, 1980.

SEC. 2804. SENSE OF CONGRESS RELATING TO RECOGNITION OF THE ECUMENICAL PATRIARCHATE BY THE GOVERNMENT OF TURKEY.

It is the sense of Congress that the United States should use its influence with the Government of Turkey to suggest that the Government of Turkey—

(1) recognize the Ecumenical Patriarchate and its nonpolitical, religious mission;

(2) ensure the continued maintenance of the institution’s physical security needs, as provided for under Turkish and international law, including the Treaty of Lausanne, the 1968 Protocol, the Helsinki Final Act (1975), and the Charter of Paris;

(3) provide for the proper protection and safety of the Ecumenical Patriarch and Patriarchate personnel; and

SEC. 2805. REPORT ON RELATIONS WITH VIETNAM.

In order to provide Congress with the necessary information by which to evaluate the relationship between the United States and Vietnam, the Secretary of State shall submit a report to the appropriate congressional committees, not later than 90 days after the date of enactment of this Act and every 180 days thereafter during the period ending September 30, 1999, on the extent to which—

(1) the Government of the Socialist Republic of Vietnam is cooperating with the United States in providing the fullest possible accounting of all unresolved cases of prisoners of war (POWs) or persons missing-in-action (MIAs) through the provision of records and the unilateral and joint recovery and repatriation of American remains;

(2) the Government of the Socialist Republic of Vietnam has made progress toward the release of all political and religious prisoners, including Catholic, Protestant, and Buddhist clergy;

(3) the Government of the Socialist Republic of Vietnam is cooperating with requests by the United States to obtain full and free access to persons of humanitarian interest to the United States for interviews under the Orderly Departure (ODP) and Resettlement Opportunities for Vietnamese Refugees (ROVR) programs, and in providing exit visas for such persons;

(4) the Government of the Socialist Republic of Vietnam has taken vigorous action to end extortion, bribery, and other corrupt practices in connection with such exit visas; and

(5) the Government of the United States is making vigorous efforts to interview and resettle former reeducation camp victims, their immediate families including unmarried sons and daughters, former United States Government employees, and other persons eligible for the ODP program, and to give such persons the full benefit of all applicable United States laws including sections 599D and 599E of the Foreign Operations, Export Financing, and Related Programs Appropriations Act of 1990 (Public Law 101-167).

SEC. 2806. REPORTS AND POLICY CONCERNING HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS IN LAOS.

Not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary of State shall submit a report to the appropriate congressional committees on the allegations of persecution and abuse of the Hmong and Laotian refugees who have returned to Laos. The report shall include the following:

(1) A full investigation, including full documentation of individual cases of persecution, of the Lao Government's treatment of Hmong and Laotian refugees who have returned to Laos.

(2) The steps the Department of State will take to continue to monitor any systematic human rights violations by the Government of Laos.

(3) The actions which the Department of State will take to seek to ensure the cessation of human rights violations.

SEC. 2807. REPORT ON AN ALLIANCE AGAINST NARCOTICS TRAFFICKING IN THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE.

(a) SENSE OF CONGRESS ON DISCUSSIONS FOR ALLIANCE.—

(1) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that the President should discuss with the democratically-elected governments of the Western Hemisphere, the prospect of forming a multilateral alliance to address problems relating to international drug trafficking in the Western Hemisphere.

(2) CONSULTATIONS.—In the consultations on the prospect of forming an alliance described in paragraph (1), the President should seek the input of such governments on the possibility of forming one or more structures within the alliance—

(A) to develop a regional, multilateral strategy to address the threat posed to nations in the Western Hemisphere by drug trafficking; and

(B) to establish a new mechanism for improving multilateral coordination of drug interdiction and drug-related law enforcement activities in the Western Hemisphere.

(b) REPORT.—

(1) REQUIREMENT.—Not later than 60 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the President shall submit to Congress a report on the proposal discussed under subsection (a). The report shall include the following:

(A) An analysis of the reactions of the governments concerned to the proposal.

(B) An assessment of the proposal, including an evaluation of the feasibility and advisability of forming the alliance.

(C) A determination in light of the analysis and assessment whether or not the formation of the alliance is in the national interests of the United States.

(D) If the President determines that the formation of the alliance is in the national interests of the United States, a plan for encouraging and facilitating the formation of the alliance.

(E) If the President determines that the formation of the alliance is not in the national interests of the United States, an alternative proposal to improve significantly efforts against the threats posed by narcotics trafficking in the Western Hemisphere, including an explanation of how the alternative proposal will—

(i) improve upon current cooperation and coordination of counter-drug efforts among nations in the Western Hemisphere;

(ii) provide for the allocation of the resources required to make significant progress in disrupting and disbanding the criminal organizations responsible for the trafficking of illegal drugs in the Western Hemisphere; and

(iii) differ from and improve upon past strategies adopted by the United States Government which have failed to make sufficient progress against the trafficking of illegal drugs in the Western Hemisphere.

(2) UNCLASSIFIED FORM.—The report under paragraph (1) shall be submitted in unclassified form, but may contain a classified annex.

SEC. 2808. CONGRESSIONAL STATEMENT REGARDING THE ACCESSION OF TAIWAN TO THE WORLD TRADE ORGANIZATION.

(a) FINDINGS.—The Congress makes the following findings:

(1) The people of the United States and the people of the Republic of China on Taiwan have long enjoyed extensive ties.

(2) Taiwan is currently the 8th largest trading partner of the United States.

(3) The executive branch of Government has committed publicly to support Taiwan's bid to join the World Trade Organization and has declared that the United States will not oppose this bid solely on the grounds that the People's Republic of China, which also seeks membership in the World Trade Organization, is not yet eligible because of its unacceptable trade practices.

(4) The United States and Taiwan have concluded discussions on a variety of outstanding trade issues that remain unresolved with the People's Republic of China and that are necessary for the United States to support Taiwan's membership in the World Trade Organization.

(5) The reversion of control over Hong Kong—a member of the World Trade Organization—to the People's Republic of China in many respects affords to the People's Republic of China the practical benefit of membership in the World Trade Organization for a substantial portion of its trade in goods despite the fact that the trade practices of the People's Republic of China currently fall far short of what the United States expects for membership in the World Trade Organization.

(6) The executive branch of Government has announced its interest in the admission of the People's Republic of China to the World Trade Organization; the fundamental sense of fairness of the people of the United States warrants the United States Government's support for Taiwan's relatively more meritorious application for membership in the World Trade Organization.

(7) Despite having made significant progress in negotiations for its accession to the World Trade Organization, Taiwan has yet to offer acceptable terms of accession in agricultural and certain other market sectors.

(8) It is in the economic interest of United States consumers and exporters for Taiwan to complete those requirements for accession to the World Trade Organization at the earliest possible moment.

(b) CONGRESSIONAL STATEMENT.—The Congress favors public support by officials of the Department of State for the accession of Taiwan to the World Trade Organization.

SEC. 2809. PROGRAMS OR PROJECTS OF THE INTERNATIONAL ATOMIC ENERGY AGENCY IN CUBA.

(a) WITHHOLDING OF UNITED STATES PROPORTIONAL SHARE OF ASSISTANCE.—Section 307(c) of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 (22 U.S.C. 2227(c)) is amended—

(1) by striking "The limitations" and inserting "(1) Subject to paragraph (2), the limitations"; and

(2) by adding at the end the following:

"(2)(A) Except as provided in subparagraph (B), with respect to funds authorized to be appropriated by this chapter and available for the International Atomic Energy Agency, the limitations of subsection (a) shall apply to programs or projects of such Agency in Cuba.

"(B)(i) Subparagraph (A) shall not apply with respect to programs or projects of the International Atomic Energy Agency that provide for the discontinuation, dismantling, or safety inspection of nuclear facilities or related materials, or for inspections and similar activities designed to prevent the development of nuclear weapons by a country described in subsection (a).

“(ii) Clause (i) shall not apply with respect to the Juragua Nuclear Power Plant near Cienfuegos, Cuba, or the Pedro Pi Nuclear Research Center unless Cuba—

“(I) ratifies the Treaty on the Non-Proliferation of Nuclear Weapons (21 UST 483) or the Treaty for the Prohibition of Nuclear Weapons in Latin America (commonly known as the Treaty of Tlatelolco);

“(II) negotiates full-scope safeguards of the International Atomic Energy Agency not later than two years after ratification by Cuba of such Treaty; and

“(III) incorporates internationally accepted nuclear safety standards.”.

(b) OPPOSITION TO CERTAIN PROGRAMS OR PROJECTS.—The Secretary of State shall direct the United States representative to the International Atomic Energy Agency to oppose the following:

(1) Technical assistance programs or projects of the Agency at the Juragua Nuclear Power Plant near Cienfuegos, Cuba, and at the Pedro Pi Nuclear Research Center.

(2) Any other program or project of the Agency in Cuba that is, or could become, a threat to the security of the United States.

(c) REPORTING REQUIREMENTS.—

(1) REQUEST FOR IAEA REPORTS.—The Secretary of State shall direct the United States representative to the International Atomic Energy Agency to request the Director-General of the Agency to submit to the United States all reports prepared with respect to all programs or projects of the Agency that are of concern to the United States, including the programs or projects described in subsection (b).

(2) ANNUAL REPORTS TO THE CONGRESS.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, and on an annual basis thereafter, the Secretary of State, in consultation with the United States representative to the International Atomic Energy Agency, shall prepare and submit to the Congress a report containing a description of all programs or projects of the Agency in each country described in section 307(a) of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 (22 U.S.C. 2227(a)).

SEC. 2810. LIMITATION ON ASSISTANCE TO COUNTRIES AIDING CUBA NUCLEAR DEVELOPMENT.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 620 of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 (22 U.S.C. 2370), as amended by this division, is further amended by adding at the end the following:

“(y)(1) Except as provided in paragraph (2), the President shall withhold from amounts made available under this Act or any other Act and allocated for a country for a fiscal year an amount equal to the aggregate value of nuclear fuel and related assistance and credits provided by that country, or any entity of that country, to Cuba during the preceding fiscal year.

“(2) The requirement to withhold assistance for a country for a fiscal year under paragraph (1) shall not apply if Cuba—

“(A) has ratified the Treaty on the Non-Proliferation of Nuclear Weapons (21 UST 483) or the Treaty of Tlatelolco, and Cuba is in compliance with the requirements of either such Treaty;

“(B) has negotiated and is in compliance with full-scope safeguards of the International Atomic Energy Agency not later than two years after ratification by Cuba of such Treaty; and “(C) incorporates and is in compliance with internationally accepted nuclear safety standards.

“(3) The Secretary of State shall prepare and submit to the Congress each year a report containing a description of the amount of nuclear fuel and related assistance and credits provided by any country, or any entity of a country, to Cuba during the preceding year, including the terms of each transfer of such fuel, assistance, or credits.”.

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—Section 620(y) of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961, as added by subsection (a), shall apply with respect to assistance provided in fiscal years beginning on or after the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 2811. INTERNATIONAL FUND FOR IRELAND.

(a) PURPOSES.—Section 2(b) of the Anglo-Irish Agreement Support Act of 1986 (Public Law 99–415; 100 Stat. 947) is amended by adding at the end the following new sentences: “United States contributions should be used in a manner that effectively increases employment opportunities in communities with rates of unemployment higher than the local or urban average of unemployment in Northern Ireland. In addition, such contributions should be used to benefit individuals residing in such communities.”.

(b) CONDITIONS AND UNDERSTANDINGS.—Section 5(a) of such Act is amended—

(1) in the first sentence—

(A) by striking “The United States” and inserting the following:

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The United States”;

(a) ASSISTANCE FOR JUSTICE IN IRAQ.—There are authorized to be appropriated for fiscal year 1998 $3,000,000 for assistance to an international commission to establish an international record for the criminal culpability of Saddam Hussein and other Iraqi officials and for an international criminal tribunal established for the purpose of indicting, prosecuting, and punishing Saddam Hussein and other Iraqi officials responsible for crimes against humanity, genocide, and other violations of international law.

(b) ASSISTANCE TO THE DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION IN IRAQ.—There are authorized to be appropriated for fiscal year 1998 $15,000,000 to provide support for democratic opposition forces in Iraq, of which—

(1) not more than $10,000,000 shall be for assistance to the democratic opposition, including leadership organization, training political cadre, maintaining offices, disseminating information, and developing and implementing agreements among opposition elements; and

(2) not more than $5,000,000 of the funds made available under this subsection shall be available only for grants to RFE/RL, Incorporated, for surrogate radio broadcasting by RFE/RL, Incorporated, to the Iraqi people in the Arabic language, such broadcasts to be designated as “Radio Free Iraq”.

(c) ASSISTANCE FOR HUMANITARIAN RELIEF AND RECONSTRUCTION.—There are authorized to be appropriated for fiscal year 1998 $20,000,000 for the relief, rehabilitation, and reconstruction of people living in Iraq, and communities located in Iraq, who are not under the control of the Saddam Hussein regime.

(d) AVAILABILITY.—Amounts authorized to be appropriated by this section shall be provided in addition to amounts otherwise made available and shall remain available until expended.

(e) NOTIFICATION.—All assistance provided pursuant to this section shall be notified to Congress in accordance with the procedures applicable to reprogramming notifications under section 634A of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961.

(f) RELATION TO OTHER LAWS.—Funds made available to carry out the provisions of this section may be made available notwithstanding any other provision of law.

(g) REPORT.—Not later than 45 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary of State and the Broadcasting Board of Governors of the United States Information Agency shall submit a detailed report to Congress describing—

(1) the costs, implementation, and plans for the establishment of an international war crimes tribunal described in subsection (a);

(2) the establishment of a political assistance program, and the surrogate broadcasting service, as described in subsection (b); and

(3) the humanitarian assistance program described in subsection (c).

SEC. 2813. DEVELOPMENT OF DEMOCRACY IN THE REPUBLIC OF SERBIA.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

(2) A stable and democratic Republic of Serbia is important to the interests of the United States, the international community, and to peace in the Balkans.

(3) Democratic forces in the Republic of Serbia are beginning to emerge, notwithstanding the efforts of Europe's longest-standing communist dictator, Slobodan Milosevic.

(4) The Serbian authorities have sought to continue to hinder the growth of free and independent news media in the Republic of Serbia, in particular the broadcast news media, and have harassed journalists performing their professional duties.

(5) Under Slobodan Milosevic, the political opposition in Serbia has been denied free, fair, and equal opportunity to participate in the democratic process.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) the United States, the international community, non-governmental organizations, and the private sector should continue to promote the building of democratic institutions and civic society in the Republic of Serbia, help strengthen the independent news media, and press for the Government of the Republic of Serbia to respect the rule of law; and

(2) the normalization of relations between the "Federal Republic of Yugoslavia" (Serbia and Montenegro) and the United States requires, among other things, that President Milosevic and the leadership of Serbia—

(A) promote the building of democratic institutions, including strengthening the independent news media and respecting the rule of law;

(B) promote the respect for human rights throughout the "Federal Republic of Yugoslavia" (Serbia and Montenegro); and

(C) promote and encourage free, fair, and equal conditions for the democratic opposition in Serbia.

DIVISION—H

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Division may be cited as the "Depository Institution-GSE Affiliation Act of 1998".

SEC. 2. CERTAIN AFFILIATION PERMITTED.

Section 18(s) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act (12 U.S.C. 1828(s)) is amended—

(1) by redesignating paragraph (4) as paragraph (5); and

(2) by inserting after paragraph (3) the following new paragraph:

"(4) STUDENT LOANS.—

"(A) IN GENERAL.—This subsection shall not apply to any arrangement between the Holding Company (or any subsidiary of the Holding Company other than the Student Loan Marketing Association) and a depository institution, if the Secretary approves the affiliation and determines that—

"(i) the reorganization of such Association in accordance with section 440 of the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended, will not be adversely affected by the arrangement;

“(ii) the dissolution of the Association pursuant to such reorganization will occur before the end of the 2-year period beginning on the date on which such arrangement is consummated or on such earlier date as the Secretary deems appropriate: Provided, That the Secretary may extend this period for not more than 1 year at a time if the Secretary determines that such extension is in the public interest and is appropriate to achieve an orderly reorganization of the Association or to prevent market disruptions in connection with such reorganization, but no such extensions shall in the aggregate exceed 2 years;

“(iii) the Association will not purchase or extend credit to, or guarantee or provide credit enhancement to, any obligation of the depository institution;

“(iv) the operations of the Association will be separate from the operations of the depository institution; and

“(v) until the ‘dissolution date’ (as that term is defined in section 440 of the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended) has occurred, such depository institution will not use the trade name or service mark ‘Sallie Mae’ in connection with any product or service it offers if the appropriate Federal banking agency for such depository institution determines that—

“(I) the depository institution is the only institution offering such product or service using the ‘Sallie Mae’ name; and “(II) such use would result in the depository institution having an unfair competitive advantage over other depository institutions.

“(B) TERMS AND CONDITIONS.—In approving any arrangement referred to in subparagraph (A) the Secretary may impose any terms and conditions on such an arrangement that the Secretary considers appropriate, including—

“(i) imposing additional restrictions on the issuance of debt obligations by the Association; or

“(C) ADDITIONAL LIMITATIONS.—In the event that the Holding Company (or any subsidiary of the Holding Company) enters into such an arrangement, the value of the Association’s ‘investment portfolio’ shall not at any time exceed the lesser of—

“(i) the value of such portfolio on the date of the enactment of this subsection; or

“(ii) the value of such portfolio on the date such an arrangement is consummated. The term ‘investment portfolio’ shall mean all investments shown on the consolidated balance sheet of the Association other than—

“(I) any instrument or assets described in section 439(d) of the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended;

“(II) any direct noncallable obligations of the United States or any agency thereof for which the full faith and credit of the United States is pledged; or “(III) cash or cash equivalents.

“(D) ENFORCEMENT.—The terms and conditions imposed under subparagraph (B) may be enforced by the Secretary in accordance with section 440 of the Higher Education Act of 1965.

“(E) DEFINITIONS.—For purposes of this paragraph, the following definition shall apply—

“(i) ASSOCIATION; HOLDING COMPANY.—Notwithstanding any provision in section 3, the terms ‘Association’ and ‘Holding Company’ have the same meanings as in section 440(i) of the Higher Education Act of 1965.

SEC. 3. DEFINITIONS.

In this Act:

(1) CHEMICAL WEAPON.—The term “chemical weapon” means the following, together or separately:

(A) A toxic chemical and its precursors, except where intended for a purpose not prohibited under this Act as long as the type and quantity is consistent with such a purpose.

(B) A munition or device, specifically designed to cause death or other harm through toxic properties of those toxic chemicals specified in subparagraph (A), which would be released as a result of the employment of such munition or device.

(C) Any equipment specifically designed for use directly in connection with the employment of munitions or devices specified in subparagraph (B).

(2) CHEMICAL WEAPONS CONVENTION; CONVENTION.—The terms “Chemical Weapons Convention” and “Convention” mean the Convention on the Prohibition of the Development, Production, Stockpiling and Use of Chemical Weapons and on Their Destruction, opened for signature on January 13, 1993.

(3) KEY COMPONENT OF A BINARY OR MULTICOMPONENT CHEMICAL SYSTEM.—The term “key component of a binary or multicomponent chemical system” means the precursor which plays the most important role in determining the toxic properties of the final product and reacts rapidly with other chemicals in the binary or multicomponent system.

(4) NATIONAL OF THE UNITED STATES.—The term “national of the United States” has the same meaning given such term in section 101(a)(22) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1101(a)(22)).

(5) ORGANIZATION.—The term “Organization” means the Organization for the Prohibition of Chemical Weapons.

(6) PERSON.—The term “person”, except as otherwise provided, means any individual, corporation, partnership, firm, association, trust, estate, public or private institution, any State or any political subdivision thereof, or any political entity within a State, any foreign government or nation or any agency, instrumentality or political subdivision of any such government or nation, or other entity located in the United States.

(7) PRECURSOR.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The term “precursor” means any chemical reactant which takes part at any stage in the production by whatever method of a toxic chemical. The term includes any key component of a binary or multicomponent chemical system.

(B) LIST OF PRECURSORS.—Precursors which have been identified for the application of verification measures under Article VI of the Convention are listed in schedules contained in the Annex on Chemicals of the Chemical Weapons Convention.

(8) PURPOSES NOT PROHIBITED BY THIS ACT.—The term “purposes not prohibited by this Act” means the following:

(A) PEACEFUL PURPOSES.—Any peaceful purpose related to an industrial, agricultural, research, medical, or pharmaceutical activity or other activity.

(B) PROTECTIVE PURPOSES.—Any purpose directly related to protection against toxic chemicals and to protection against chemical weapons.

(C) UNRELATED MILITARY PURPOSES.—Any military purpose of the United States that is not connected with the use of a chemical weapon and that is not dependent on the use of the toxic or poisonous properties of the chemical weapon to cause death or other harm.

(D) LAW ENFORCEMENT PURPOSES.—Any law enforcement purpose, including any domestic riot control purpose and including imposition of capital punishment.

(9) TECHNICAL SECRETARIAT.—The term “Technical Secretariat” means the Technical Secretariat of the Organization for the Prohibition of Chemical Weapons established by the Chemical Weapons Convention.

(10) SCHEDULE 1 CHEMICAL AGENT.—The term “Schedule 1 chemical agent” means any of the following, together or separately:

(A) O-Alkyl ($\leq C_{10}$, incl. cycloalkyl) alkyl
(Me, Et, n-Pr or i-Pr)-phosphonofluoridates
(e.g. Sarin: O-Isopropyl methylphosphonofluoridate Soman: O-Pinacolyl methylphosphonofluoridate).

(B) O-Alkyl ($\leq C_{10}$, incl. cycloalkyl) N,N-dialkyl
(Me, Et, n-Pr or i-Pr)-phosphoramidocyanidates
(e.g. Tabun: O-Ethyl N,N-dimethyl phosphoramidocyanidate).

(C) O-Alkyl (H or $\leq C_{10}$, incl. cycloalkyl) S-2-dialkyl
(Me, Et, n-Pr or i-Pr)-aminoethyl alkyl
(Me, Et, n-Pr or i-Pr) phosphonothiolates and corresponding alkylated or protonated salts
(e.g. VX: O-Ethyl S-2-diisopropylaminoethyl methyl phosphonothiolate).

(D) Sulfur mustards:
2-Chloroethylchloromethylsulfide
Mustard gas: (Bis(2-chloroethyl)sulfide
Bis(2-chloroethylthio)methane
Sesquimustard: 1,2-Bis(2-chloroethylthio)ethane
1,3-Bis(2-chloroethylthio)-n-propane
1,4-Bis(2-chloroethylthio)-n-butane
1,5-Bis(2-chloroethylthio)-n-pentane
Bis(2-chloroethylthiomethyl)ether
O-Mustard: Bis(2-chloroethylthioethyl)ether.

- (E) Lewisites:
*Lewisite 1: 2-Chlorovinyl*dichloroarsine
*Lewisite 2: Bis(2-chlorovinyl)*chloroarsine
*Lewisite 3: Tris (2-clorovinyl)*arsine.
- (F) Nitrogen mustards:
*HN1: Bis(2-chloroethyl)*ethylamine
*HN2: Bis(2-chloroethyl)*methylamine
*HN3: Tris(2-chloroethyl)*amine.
- (G) Saxitoxin.
- (H) Ricin.
- (I) Alkyl (Me, Et, n-Pr or i-Pr) phosphonyldifluorides
e.g. DF: Methylphosphonyldifluoride.
- (J) O-Alkyl (H or $\leq C_{10}$, incl. cycloalkyl)O-2-dialkyl
(Me, Et, n-Pr or i-Pr)-aminoethyl alkyl
(Me, Et, n-Pr or i-Pr) phosphonites and corresponding alkylated or protonated salts
e.g. QL: O-Ethyl O-2-diisopropylaminoethyl methylphosphonite.
- (K) Chlorosarin: O-Isopropyl methylphosphonochloridate.
- (L) Chlorosoman: O-Pinacolyl methylphosphonochloridate.
- (11) SCHEDULE 2 CHEMICAL AGENT.—The term ‘Schedule 2 chemical agent’ means the following, together or separately:
- (A) Amiton: O,O-Diethyl S-[2-(diethylamino)ethyl]
phosphorothiolate and corresponding alkylated or protonated salts.
- (B) PFIB: 1,1,3,3,3-Pentafluoro-2-(trifluoromethyl)-1-propene.
- (C) BZ: 3-Quinuclidinyl benzilate
- (D) Chemicals, except for those listed in Schedule 1, containing a phosphorus atom to which is bonded one methyl, ethyl or propyl (normal or iso) group but not further carbon atoms,
e.g. Methylphosphonyl dichloride Dimethyl methylphosphonate Exemption: Fonofos: O-Ethyl S-phenyl ethylphosphonothiolothionate.
- (E) N,N-Dialkyl (Me, Et, n-Pr or i-Pr) phosphoramidic dihalides.
- (F) Dialkyl (Me, Et, n-Pr or i-Pr) N,N-dialkyl (Me, Et, n-Pr or i-Pr)-phosphoramidates.
- (G) arsenic trichloride.
- (H) 2,2-Diphenyl-2-hydroxyacetic acid.
- (I) Quinuclidine-3-ol.
- (J) N,N-Dialkyl (Me, Et, n-Pr or i-Pr) aminoethyl-2-chlorides and corresponding protonated salts.
- (K) N,N-Dialkyl (Me, Et, n-Pr or i-Pr) aminoethane-2-ols and corresponding protonated salts
Exemptions: N,N-Dimethylaminoethanol and corresponding protonated salts N,N-Diethylaminoethanol and corresponding protonated salts.
- (L) N,N-Dialkyl (Me, Et, n-Pr or i-Pr) aminoethane-2-thiols and corresponding protonated salts.
- (M) Thiodiglycol: Bis(2-hydroxyethyl)sulfide.
- (N) Pinacolyl alcohol: 3,3-Dimethylbutane-2-ol.
- (12) SCHEDULE 3 CHEMICAL AGENT.—The term ‘Schedule 3 chemical agent’ means any of the following, together or separately:
- (A) Phosgene: carbonyl dichloride.
- (B) Cyanogen chloride.

- (C) Hydrogen cyanide.
- (D) Chloropicrin: trichloronitromethane.
- (E) Phosphorous oxychloride.
- (F) Phosphorous trichloride.
- (G) Phosphorous pentachloride.
- (H) Trimethyl phosphite.
- (I) Triethyl phosphite.
- (J) Dimethyl phosphite.
- (K) Diethyl phosphite.
- (L) Sulfur monochloride.
- (M) Sulfur dichloride.
- (N) Thionyl chloride.
- (O) Ethyl-diethanolamine.
- (P) Methyl-diethanolamine.
- (Q) Triethanolamine.
- (13) TOXIC CHEMICAL.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The term “toxic chemical” means any chemical which through its chemical action on life processes can cause death, temporary incapacitation or permanent harm to humans or animals. The term includes all such chemicals, regardless of their origin or of their method of production, and regardless of whether they are produced in facilities, in munitions or elsewhere.

(B) LIST OF TOXIC CHEMICALS.—Toxic chemicals which have been identified for the application of verification measures under Article VI of the Convention are listed in schedules contained in the Annex on Chemicals of the Chemical Weapons Convention.

(14) UNITED STATES.—The term “United States” means the several States of the United States, the District of Columbia, and the commonwealths, territories, and possessions of the United States and includes all places under the jurisdiction or control of the United States, including—

(A) any of the places within the provisions of paragraph (41) of section 40102 of title 49, United States Code;

(B) any civil aircraft of the United States or public aircraft, as such terms are defined in paragraphs (17) and (37), respectively, of section 40102 of title 49, United States Code; and

(C) any vessel of the United States, as such term is defined in section 3(b) of the Maritime Drug Enforcement Act, as amended (46 U.S.C., App. sec. 1903(b)).

(15) UNSCHEDULED DISCRETE ORGANIC CHEMICAL.—The term “unscheduled discrete organic chemical” means any chemical not listed on any schedule contained in the Annex on Chemicals of the Convention that belongs to the class of chemical compounds consisting of all compounds of carbon, except for its oxides, sulfides, and metal carbonates.

TITLE I—GENERAL PROVISIONS

SEC. 101. DESIGNATION OF UNITED STATES NATIONAL AUTHORITY.

(a) DESIGNATION.—Pursuant to paragraph 4 of Article VII of the Chemical Weapons Convention, the President shall designate the Department of State to be the United States National Authority.

(b) PURPOSES.—The United States National Authority shall—

(1) serve as the national focal point for effective liaison with the Organization for the Prohibition of Chemical Weapons and other States Parties to the Convention; and

(2) implement the provisions of this Act in coordination with an interagency group designated by the President consisting of the Secretary of Commerce, Secretary of Defense, Secretary of Energy, the Attorney General, and the heads of agencies considered necessary or advisable by the President.

(c) DIRECTOR.—The Secretary of State shall serve as the Director of the United States National Authority.

(d) POWERS.—The Director may utilize the administrative authorities otherwise available to the Secretary of State in carrying out the responsibilities of the Director set forth in this Act.

(e) IMPLEMENTATION.—The President is authorized to implement and carry out the provisions of this Act and the Convention and shall designate through Executive order which agencies of the United States shall issue, amend, or revise the regulations in order to implement this Act and the provisions of the Convention. The Director of the United States National Authority shall report to the Congress on the regulations that have been issued, implemented, or revised pursuant to this section.

SEC. 102. NO ABRIDGEMENT OF CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS.

No person may be required, as a condition for entering into a contract with the United States or as a condition for receiving any benefit from the United States, to waive any right under the Constitution for any purpose related to this Act or the Convention.

SEC. 103. CIVIL LIABILITY OF THE UNITED STATES.

(a) CLAIMS FOR TAKING OF PROPERTY.—

(1) JURISDICTION OF COURTS OF THE UNITED STATES.—

(A) UNITED STATES COURT OF FEDERAL CLAIMS.—The United States Court of Federal Claims shall, subject to subparagraph (B), have jurisdiction of any civil action or claim against the United States for any taking of property without just compensation that occurs by reason of the action of any officer or employee of the Organization for the Prohibition of Chemical Weapons, including any member of an inspection team of the Technical Secretariat, or by reason of the action of any officer or employee of the United States pursuant to this Act or the Convention. For purposes of this subsection, action taken pursuant to or under the color of this Act or the Convention shall be deemed to be action taken by the United States for a public purpose.

(B) DISTRICT COURTS.—The district courts of the United States shall have original jurisdiction, concurrent with the United States Court of Federal Claims, of any civil action or claim described in subparagraph (A) that does not exceed $10,000.

(2) NOTIFICATION.—Any person intending to bring a civil action pursuant to paragraph (1) shall notify the United States National Authority of that intent at least one year before filing the claim in the United States Court of Federal Claims. Action on any claim filed during that one-year period shall be stayed. The one-year period following the notification shall not be counted for purposes of any law limiting the period within which the civil action may be commenced.

(3) INITIAL STEPS BY UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT TO SEEK REMEDIES.—During the period between a notification pursuant to paragraph (2) and the filing of a claim covered by the notification in the United States Court of Federal Claims, the United States National Authority shall pursue all diplomatic and other remedies that the United States National Authority considers necessary and appropriate to seek redress for the claim including, but not limited to, the remedies provided for in the Convention and under this Act.

(4) BURDEN OF PROOF.—In any civil action under paragraph (1), the plaintiff shall have the burden to establish a prima facie case that, due to acts or omissions of any official of the Organization or any member of an inspection team of the Technical Secretariat taken under the color of the Convention, proprietary information of the plaintiff has been divulged or taken without authorization. If the United States Court of Federal Claims finds that the plaintiff has demonstrated such a prima facie case, the burden shall shift to the United States to disprove the plaintiff's claim. In deciding whether the plaintiff has carried its burden, the United States Court of Federal Claims shall consider, among other things—

(A) the value of proprietary information;

(B) the availability of the proprietary information;

(C) the extent to which the proprietary information is based on patents, trade secrets, or other protected intellectual property;

(D) the significance of proprietary information; and

(E) the emergence of technology elsewhere a reasonable time after the inspection.

(b) TORT LIABILITY.—The district courts of the United States shall have exclusive jurisdiction of civil actions for money damages for any tort under the Constitution or any Federal or State law arising from the acts or omissions of any officer or employee of the United States or the Organization, including any member of an inspection team of the Technical Secretariat, taken pursuant to or under color of the Convention or this Act.

(c) WAIVER OF SOVEREIGN IMMUNITY OF THE UNITED STATES.—In any action under subsection (a) or (b), the United States may not raise sovereign immunity as a defense.

(d) AUTHORITY FOR CAUSE OF ACTION.—

(1) UNITED STATES ACTIONS IN UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.—Notwithstanding any other law, the Attorney General of the United States is authorized to bring an action in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia against any foreign nation for money damages resulting from that nation's refusal to provide indemnification to the United States for any liability imposed on the United States by virtue of the actions of an inspector of the Technical Secretariat who is a national of that foreign nation acting at the direction or the behest of that foreign nation.

(2) UNITED STATES ACTIONS IN COURTS OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES.—The Attorney General is authorized to seek any and all available redress in any international tribunal for indemnification to the United States for any liability imposed on the United States by virtue of the actions of an inspector of the Technical Secretariat, and to seek such redress in the courts of the foreign nation from which the inspector is a national.

(3) ACTIONS BROUGHT BY INDIVIDUALS AND BUSINESSES.—Notwithstanding any other law, any national of the United States, or any business entity organized and operating under the laws of the United States, may bring a civil action in a United States District Court for money damages against any foreign national or any business entity organized and operating under the laws of a foreign nation for an unauthorized or unlawful acquisition, receipt, transmission, or use of property by or on behalf of such foreign national or business entity as a result of any tort under the Constitution or any Federal or State law arising from acts or omissions by any officer or employee of the United States or any member of an inspection team of the Technical Secretariat taken pursuant to or under the color of the Convention or this Act.

(e) RECOUPMENT.—

(1) POLICY.—It is the policy of the United States to recoup all funds withdrawn from the Treasury of the United States in payment for any tort under Federal or State law or taking under the Constitution arising from the acts or omissions of any foreign person, officer, or employee of the Organization, including any member of an inspection team of the Technical Secretariat, taken under color of the Chemical Weapons Convention or this Act.

(2) SANCTIONS ON FOREIGN COMPANIES.—

(A) IMPOSITION OF SANCTIONS.—The sanctions provided in subparagraph (B) shall be imposed for a period of not less than ten years upon—

(i) any foreign person, officer, or employee of the Organization, including any member of an inspection team of the Technical Secretariat, for whose actions or omissions the United States has been held liable for a tort or taking pursuant to this Act; and

(ii) any foreign person or business entity organized and operating under the laws of a foreign nation which knowingly assisted, encouraged or induced, in any way, a foreign person described in clause (i) to publish, divulge, disclose, or make known in any manner or to any extent not authorized by the Convention any United States confidential business information.

(B) SANCTIONS.—

(i) ARMS EXPORT TRANSACTIONS.—The United States Government shall not sell to a person described in subparagraph (A) any item on the United States Munitions List and shall terminate sales of any defense articles, defense services, or design and construction services to a person described in subparagraph (A) under the Arms Export Control Act.

(ii) SANCTIONS UNDER EXPORT ADMINISTRATION ACT OF 1979.—The authorities under section 6 of the Export Administration Act of 1979 shall be used to prohibit the export of any goods or technology on the control list established pursuant to section 5(c)(1) of that Act to a person described in subparagraph (A).

(iii) INTERNATIONAL FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE.—The United States shall oppose any loan or financial or technical assistance by international financial institutions in accordance with section 701 of the International Financial Institutions Act to a person described in subparagraph (A).

(iv) EXPORT-IMPORT BANK TRANSACTIONS.—The United States shall not give approval to guarantee, insure, or extend credit, or to participate in the extension of credit to a person described in subparagraph (A) through the Export-Import Bank of the United States.

(v) PRIVATE BANK TRANSACTIONS.—Regulations shall be issued to prohibit any United States bank from making any loan or providing any credit to a person described in subparagraph (A).

(vi) BLOCKING OF ASSETS.—The President shall take all steps necessary to block any transactions in any property subject to the jurisdiction of the United States in which a person described in subparagraph (A) has any interest whatsoever, for the purpose of recouping funds in accordance with the policy in paragraph (1).

(vii) DENIAL OF LANDING RIGHTS.—Landing rights in the United States shall be denied to any private aircraft or air carrier owned by a person described in subparagraph (A) except as necessary to provide for emergencies in which the safety of the aircraft or its crew or passengers is threatened.

(3) SANCTIONS ON FOREIGN GOVERNMENTS.—

(A) IMPOSITION OF SANCTIONS.—Whenever the President determines that persuasive information is available indicating that a foreign country has knowingly assisted, encouraged or induced, in any way, a person described in paragraph (2)(A) to publish, divulge, disclose, or make known in any manner or to any extent not authorized by the Convention any United States confidential business information, the President shall, within 30 days after the receipt of such information by the executive branch of Government, notify the Congress in writing of such determination and, subject to the requirements of paragraphs (4) and (5), impose the sanctions provided under subparagraph (B) for a period of not less than five years.

(B) SANCTIONS.—

(i) ARMS EXPORT TRANSACTIONS.—The United States Government shall not sell a country described in subparagraph (A) any item on the United States Munitions List, shall terminate sales of any defense articles, defense services, or design and construction services to that country under the Arms Export Control Act, and shall terminate all foreign military financing for that country under the Arms Export Control Act.

(ii) DENIAL OF CERTAIN LICENSES.—Licenses shall not be issued for the export to the sanctioned country of any item on the United States Munitions List or commercial satellites.

(iii) DENIAL OF ASSISTANCE.—No appropriated funds may be used for the purpose of providing economic assistance, providing military assistance or grant military education and training, or extending military credits or making guarantees to a country described in subparagraph (A).

(iv) SANCTIONS UNDER EXPORT ADMINISTRATION ACT OF 1979.—The authorities of section 6 of the Export Administration Act of 1979 shall be used to prohibit the export of any goods or technology on the control list established pursuant to section 5(c)(1) of that Act to a country described in subparagraph (A).

(v) INTERNATIONAL FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE.—The United States shall oppose any loan or financial or technical assistance by international financial institutions in accordance with section 701 of the International Financial Institutions Act to a country described in subparagraph (A).

(vi) TERMINATION OF ASSISTANCE UNDER FOREIGN ASSISTANCE ACT OF 1961.—The United States shall terminate all assistance to a country described in subparagraph (A) under the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961, except for urgent humanitarian assistance.

(vii) PRIVATE BANK TRANSACTIONS.—The United States shall not give approval to guarantee, insure, or extend credit, or participate in the extension of credit through the Export-Import Bank of the United States to a country described in subparagraph (A).

(viii) PRIVATE BANK TRANSACTIONS.—Regulations shall be issued to prohibit any United States bank from making any loan or providing any credit to a country described in subparagraph (A).

(ix) DENIAL OF LANDING RIGHTS.—Landing rights in the United States shall be denied to any air carrier owned by a country described in subparagraph (A), except as necessary to provide for emergencies in which the safety of the aircraft or its crew or passengers is threatened.

(4) SUSPENSION OF SANCTIONS UPON RECOUPMENT BY PAYMENT.—Sanctions imposed under paragraph (2) or (3) may be suspended if the sanctioned person, business entity, or country, within the period specified in that paragraph, provides full and complete compensation to the United States Government, in convertible foreign exchange or other mutually acceptable compensation equivalent to the full value thereof, in satisfaction of a tort or taking for which the United States has been held liable pursuant to this Act.

(5) WAIVER OF SANCTIONS ON FOREIGN COUNTRIES.—The President may waive some or all of the sanctions provided under paragraph (3) in a particular case if he determines and certifies in writing to the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate that such waiver is necessary to protect the national security interests of the United States. The certification shall set forth the reasons supporting the determination and shall take effect on the date on which the certification is received by the Congress.

(6) NOTIFICATION TO CONGRESS.—Not later than five days after sanctions become effective against a foreign person pursuant to this Act, the President shall transmit written notification of the imposition of sanctions against that foreign person to the chairmen and ranking members of the Committee on International Relations of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate.

(f) SANCTIONS FOR UNAUTHORIZED DISCLOSURE OF UNITED STATES CONFIDENTIAL BUSINESS INFORMATION.—The Secretary of State shall deny a visa to, and the Attorney General shall exclude from the United States any alien who, after the date of enactment of this Act—

(1) is, or previously served as, an officer or employee of the Organization and who has willfully published, divulged, disclosed, or made known in any manner or to any extent not authorized by the Convention any United States confidential business information coming to him in the course of his employment or official duties, or by reason of any examination or investigation of any return, report, or record made to or filed with the Organization, or any officer or employee thereof, such practice or disclosure having resulted in financial losses or damages to a United States person and for which actions or omissions the United States has been found liable of a tort or taking pursuant to this Act;

(2) traffics in United States confidential business information, a proven claim to which is owned by a United States national;

(3) is a corporate officer, principal, shareholder with a controlling interest of an entity which has been involved in the unauthorized disclosure of United States confidential business information, a proven claim to which is owned by a United States national; or

(4) is a spouse, minor child, or agent of a person excludable under paragraph (1), (2), or (3).

(g) UNITED STATES CONFIDENTIAL BUSINESS INFORMATION DEFINED.—In this section, the term “United States confidential business information” means any trade secrets or commercial or financial information that is privileged and confidential—

(1) including—

(A) data described in section 304(e)(2) of this Act,

(B) any chemical structure,

(C) any plant design process, technology, or operating method,

(D) any operating requirement, input, or result that identifies any type or quantity of chemicals used, processed, or produced, or

(E) any commercial sale, shipment, or use of a chemical, or

(2) as described in section 552(b)(4) of title 5, United States Code, and that is obtained—

(i) from a United States person; or

(ii) through the United States Government or the conduct of an inspection on United States territory under the Convention.

TITLE II—PENALTIES FOR UNLAWFUL ACTIVITIES SUBJECT TO THE JURISDICTION OF THE UNITED STATES

Subtitle A—Criminal and Civil Penalties

SEC. 201. CRIMINAL AND CIVIL PROVISIONS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Part I of title 18, United States Code, is amended by inserting after chapter 11A the following new chapter:

“CHAPTER 11B—CHEMICAL WEAPONS

“§ 229. Prohibited activities

“(a) UNLAWFUL CONDUCT.—Except as provided in subsection (b), it shall be unlawful for any person knowingly—

“(1) to develop, produce, otherwise acquire, transfer directly or indirectly, receive, stockpile, retain, own, possess, or use, or threaten to use, any chemical weapon; or

“(2) to assist or induce, in any way, any person to violate paragraph (1), or to attempt or conspire to violate paragraph (1).

“(b) EXEMPTED AGENCIES AND PERSONS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Subsection (a) does not apply to the retention, ownership, possession, transfer, or receipt of a chemical weapon by a department, agency, or other entity of the United States, or by a person described in paragraph (2), pending destruction of the weapon.

“(2) EXEMPTED PERSONS.—A person referred to in paragraph (1) is—

“(A) any person, including a member of the Armed Forces of the United States, who is authorized by law or by an appropriate officer of the United States to retain, own, possess, transfer, or receive the chemical weapon; or “(B) in an emergency situation, any otherwise nonculpable person if the person is attempting to destroy or seize the weapon.

“(c) JURISDICTION.—Conduct prohibited by subsection (a) is within the jurisdiction of the United States if the prohibited conduct—

- “(1) takes place in the United States;
- “(2) takes place outside of the United States and is committed by a national of the United States;
- “(3) is committed against a national of the United States while the national is outside the United States; or
- “(4) is committed against any property that is owned, leased, or used by the United States or by any department or agency of the United States, whether the property is within or outside the United States.

“§ 229A. Penalties

“(a) CRIMINAL PENALTIES.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Any person who violates section 229 of this title shall be fined under this title, or imprisoned for any term of years, or both.

“(2) DEATH PENALTY.—Any person who violates section 229 of this title and by whose action the death of another person is the result shall be punished by death or imprisoned for life.

“(b) CIVIL PENALTIES.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The Attorney General may bring a civil action in the appropriate United States district court against any person who violates section 229 of this title and, upon proof of such violation by a preponderance of the evidence, such person shall be subject to pay a civil penalty in an amount not to exceed $100,000 for each such violation.

“(2) RELATION TO OTHER PROCEEDINGS.—The imposition of a civil penalty under this subsection does not preclude any other criminal or civil statutory, common law, or administrative remedy, which is available by law to the United States or any other person.

“(c) REIMBURSEMENT OF COSTS.—The court shall order any person convicted of an offense under subsection (a) to reimburse the United States for any expenses incurred by the United States incident to the seizure, storage, handling, transportation, and destruction or other disposition of any property that was seized in connection with an investigation of the commission of the offense by that person. A person ordered to reimburse the United States for expenses under this subsection shall be jointly and severally liable for such expenses with each other person, if any, who is ordered under this subsection to reimburse the United States for the same expenses.

“§ 229B. Criminal forfeitures; destruction of weapons

“(a) PROPERTY SUBJECT TO CRIMINAL FORFEITURE.—Any person convicted under section 229A(a) shall forfeit to the United States irrespective of any provision of State law—

- “(1) any property, real or personal, owned, possessed, or used by a person involved in the offense;
- “(2) any property constituting, or derived from, and proceeds the person obtained, directly or indirectly, as the result of such violation; and

“(3) any of the property used in any manner or part, to commit, or to facilitate the commission of, such violation.

The court, in imposing sentence on such person, shall order, in addition to any other sentence imposed pursuant to section 229A(a), that the person forfeit to the United States all property described in this subsection. In lieu of a fine otherwise authorized by section 229A(a), a defendant who derived profits or other proceeds from an offense may be fined not more than twice the gross profits or other proceeds.

“(b) PROCEDURES.—

“(1) GENERAL.—Property subject to forfeiture under this section, any seizure and disposition thereof, and any administrative or judicial proceeding in relation thereto, shall be governed by subsections (b) through (p) of section 413 of the Comprehensive Drug Abuse Prevention and Control Act of 1970 (21 U.S.C. 853), except that any reference under those subsections to—

“(A) ‘this subchapter or subchapter II’ shall be deemed to be a reference to section 229A(a); and

“(2) TEMPORARY RESTRAINING ORDERS.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—For the purposes of forfeiture proceedings under this section, a temporary restraining order may be entered upon application of the United States without notice or opportunity for a hearing when an information or indictment has not yet been filed with respect to the property, if, in addition to the circumstances described in section 413(e)(2) of the Comprehensive Drug Abuse Prevention and Control Act of 1970 (21 U.S.C. 853(e)(2)), the United States demonstrates that there is probable cause to believe that the property with respect to which the order is sought would, in the event of conviction, be subject to forfeiture under this section and exigent circumstances exist that place the life or health of any person in danger.

“(B) WARRANT OF SEIZURE.—If the court enters a temporary restraining order under this paragraph, it shall also issue a warrant authorizing the seizure of such property.

“(C) APPLICABLE PROCEDURES.—The procedures and time limits applicable to temporary restraining orders under section 413(e) (2) and (3) of the Comprehensive Drug Abuse Prevention and Control Act of 1970 (21 U.S.C. 853(e) (2) and (3)) shall apply to temporary restraining orders under this paragraph.

“(c) AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE.—It is an affirmative defense against a forfeiture under subsection (b) that the property—

“(1) is for a purpose not prohibited under the Chemical Weapons Convention; and

“(d) DESTRUCTION OR OTHER DISPOSITION.—The Attorney General shall provide for the destruction or other appropriate disposition of any chemical weapon seized and forfeited pursuant to this section.

“(e) ASSISTANCE.—The Attorney General may request the head of any agency of the United States to assist in the handling, storage, transportation, or destruction of property seized under this section.

“(f) OWNER LIABILITY.—The owner or possessor of any property seized under this section shall be liable to the United States for any expenses incurred incident to the seizure, including any expenses relating to the handling, storage, transportation, and destruction or other disposition of the seized property.

“§ 229C. Individual self-defense devices

“Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to prohibit any individual self-defense device, including those using a pepper spray or chemical mace.

“§ 229D. Injunctions

“The United States may obtain in a civil action an injunction against—

“(1) the conduct prohibited under section 229 or 229C of this title; or

“(2) the preparation or solicitation to engage in conduct prohibited under section 229 or 229D of this title.

“§ 229E. Requests for military assistance to enforce prohibition in certain emergencies

“The Attorney General may request the Secretary of Defense to provide assistance under section 382 of title 10 in support of Department of Justice activities relating to the enforcement of section 229 of this title in an emergency situation involving a chemical weapon. The authority to make such a request may be exercised by another official of the Department of Justice in accordance with section 382(f)(2) of title 10.

“§ 229F. Definitions

“(1) CHEMICAL WEAPON.—The term ‘chemical weapon’ means the following, together or separately:

“(A) A toxic chemical and its precursors, except where intended for a purpose not prohibited under this chapter as long as the type and quantity is consistent with such a purpose.

“(B) A munition or device, specifically designed to cause death or other harm through toxic properties of those toxic chemicals specified in subparagraph (A), which would be released as a result of the employment of such munition or device.

“(C) Any equipment specifically designed for use directly in connection with the employment of munitions or devices specified in subparagraph (B).

“(2) CHEMICAL WEAPONS CONVENTION; CONVENTION.—The terms ‘Chemical Weapons Convention’ and ‘Convention’ mean the Convention on the Prohibition of the Development, Production, Stockpiling and Use of Chemical Weapons and on Their Destruction, opened for signature on January 13, 1993.

“(3) KEY COMPONENT OF A BINARY OR MULTICOMPONENT CHEMICAL SYSTEM.—The term ‘key component of a binary or multicomponent chemical system’ means the precursor which plays the most important role in determining the toxic properties of the final product and reacts rapidly with other chemicals in the binary or multicomponent system.

“(4) NATIONAL OF THE UNITED STATES.—The term ‘national of the United States’ has the same meaning given such term in section 101(a)(22) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1101(a)(22)).

“(5) PERSON.—The term ‘person’, except as otherwise provided, means any individual, corporation, partnership, firm, association, trust, estate, public or private institution, any State or any political subdivision thereof, or any political entity within a State, any foreign government or nation or any agency, instrumentality or political subdivision of any such government or nation, or other entity located in the United States.

“(6) PRECURSOR.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—The term ‘precursor’ means any chemical reactant which takes part at any stage in the production by whatever method of a toxic chemical. The term includes any key component of a binary or multicomponent chemical system.

“(B) LIST OF PRECURSORS.—Precursors which have been identified for the application of verification measures under Article VI of the Convention are listed in schedules contained in the Annex on Chemicals of the Chemical Weapons Convention.

“(7) PURPOSES NOT PROHIBITED BY THIS CHAPTER.—The term ‘purposes not prohibited by this chapter’ means the following:

“(A) PEACEFUL PURPOSES.—Any peaceful purpose related to an industrial, agricultural, research, medical, or pharmaceutical activity or other activity.

“(B) PROTECTIVE PURPOSES.—Any purpose directly related to protection against toxic chemicals and to protection against chemical weapons.

“(C) UNRELATED MILITARY PURPOSES.—Any military purpose of the United States that is not connected with the use of a chemical weapon or that is not dependent on the use of the toxic or poisonous properties of the chemical weapon to cause death or other harm.

“(D) LAW ENFORCEMENT PURPOSES.—Any law enforcement purpose, including any domestic riot control purpose and including imposition of capital punishment.

“(8) TOXIC CHEMICAL.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—The term ‘toxic chemical’ means any chemical which through its chemical action on life processes can cause death, temporary incapacitation or permanent harm to humans or animals. The term includes all such chemicals, regardless of their origin or of their method of production, and regardless of whether they are produced in facilities, in munitions or elsewhere.

“(B) LIST OF TOXIC CHEMICALS.—Toxic chemicals which have been identified for the application of verification measures under Article VI of the Convention are listed in schedules contained in the Annex on Chemicals of the Chemical Weapons Convention.

“(9) UNITED STATES.—The term ‘United States’ means the several States of the United States, the District of Columbia, and the commonwealths, territories, and possessions of the United States and includes all places under the jurisdiction or control of the United States, including—

“(A) any of the places within the provisions of paragraph (41) of section 40102 of title 49, United States Code;

“(B) any civil aircraft of the United States or public aircraft, as such terms are defined in paragraphs (17) and (37), respectively, of section 40102 of title 49, United States Code; and

“(C) any vessel of the United States, as such term is defined in section 3(b) of the Maritime Drug Enforcement Act, as amended (46 U.S.C., App. sec. 1903(b)).”.

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—

(1) WEAPONS OF MASS DESTRUCTION.—Section 2332a of title 18, United States Code, is amended—

(A) by striking “§2332a. Use of weapons of mass destruction” and inserting “§2332a. Use of certain weapons of mass destruction”;

(B) in subsection (a), by inserting “(other than a chemical weapon as that term is defined in section 229F)” after “weapon of mass destruction”; and

(C) in subsection (b), by inserting “(other than a chemical weapon (as that term is defined in section 229F))” after “weapon of mass destruction”.

(2) TABLE OF CHAPTERS.—The table of chapters for part I of title 18, United States Code, is amended by inserting after the item for chapter 11A the following new item:

(c) REPEALS.—The following provisions of law are repealed:

(1) Section 2332c of title 18, United States Code, relating to chemical weapons.

(2) In the table of sections for chapter 113B of title 18, United States Code, the item relating to section 2332c.

Subtitle B—Revocations of Export Privileges

SEC. 211. REVOCATIONS OF EXPORT PRIVILEGES.

If the President determines, after notice and an opportunity for a hearing in accordance with section 554 of title 5, United States Code, that any person within the United States, or any national of the United States located outside the United States, has committed any violation of section 229 of title 18, United States Code, the President may issue an order for the suspension or revocation of the authority of the person to export from the United States any goods or technology (as such terms are defined in section 16 of the Export Administration Act of 1979 (50 U.S.C. App. 2415)).

TITLE III—INSPECTIONS

SEC. 301. DEFINITIONS IN THE TITLE.

(a) IN GENERAL.—In this title, the terms “challenge inspection”, “plant site”, “plant”, “facility agreement”, “inspection team”, and “requesting state party” have the meanings given those terms in Part I of the Annex on Implementation and Verification of the Chemical Weapons Convention. The term “routine inspection” means an inspection, other than an “initial inspection”, undertaken pursuant to Article VI of the Convention.

(b) DEFINITION OF JUDGE OF THE UNITED STATES.—In this title, the term “judge of the United States” means a judge or magistrate judge of a district court of the United States.

SEC. 302. FACILITY AGREEMENTS.

(a) AUTHORIZATION OF INSPECTIONS.—Inspections by the Technical Secretariat of plants, plant sites, or other facilities or locations for which the United States has a facility agreement with the Organization shall be conducted in accordance with the facility agreement. Any such facility agreement may not in any way limit the right of the owner or operator of the facility to withhold consent to an inspection request.

(b) TYPES OF FACILITY AGREEMENTS.—

(1) SCHEDULE TWO FACILITIES.—The United States National Authority shall ensure that facility agreements for plants, plant sites, or other facilities or locations that are subject to inspection pursuant to paragraph 4 of Article VI of the Convention are concluded unless the owner, operator, occupant, or agent in charge of the facility and the Technical Secretariat agree that such an agreement is not necessary.

(2) SCHEDULE THREE FACILITIES.—The United States National Authority shall ensure that facility agreements are concluded for plants, plant sites, or other facilities or locations that are subject to inspection pursuant to paragraph 5 or 6 of Article VI of the Convention if so requested by the owner, operator, occupant, or agent in charge of the facility.

(c) NOTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS.—The United States National Authority shall ensure that the owner, operator, occupant, or agent in charge of a facility prior to the development of the agreement relating to that facility is notified and, if the person notified so requests, the person may participate in the preparations for the negotiation of such an agreement. To the maximum extent practicable consistent with the Convention, the owner and the operator, occupant or agent in charge of a facility may observe negotiations of the agreement between the United States and the Organization concerning that facility.

(d) CONTENT OF FACILITY AGREEMENTS.—Facility agreements shall—

(1) identify the areas, equipment, computers, records, data, and samples subject to inspection;

(2) describe the procedures for providing notice of an inspection to the owner, occupant, operator, or agent in charge of a facility;

(3) describe the timeframes for inspections; and

(4) detail the areas, equipment, computers, records, data, and samples that are not subject to inspection.

SEC. 303. AUTHORITY TO CONDUCT INSPECTIONS.

(a) PROHIBITION.—No inspection of a plant, plant site, or other facility or location in the United States shall take place under the Convention without the authorization of the United States National Authority in accordance with the requirements of this title.

(b) AUTHORITY.—

(1) TECHNICAL SECRETARIAT INSPECTION TEAMS.—Any duly designated member of an inspection team of the Technical Secretariat may inspect any plant, plant site, or other facility or location in the United States subject to inspection pursuant to the Convention.

(2) UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT REPRESENTATIVES.—The United States National Authority shall coordinate the designation of employees of the Federal Government to accompany members of an inspection team of the Technical Secretariat and, in doing so, shall ensure that—

(A) a special agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, as designated by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, accompanies each inspection team visit pursuant to paragraph (1);

(B) no employee of the Environmental Protection Agency or the Occupational Safety and Health Administration accompanies any inspection team visit conducted pursuant to paragraph (1); and

(C) the number of duly designated representatives shall be kept to the minimum necessary.

(3) OBJECTIONS TO INDIVIDUALS SERVING AS INSPECTORS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—In deciding whether to exercise the right of the United States under the Convention to object to an individual serving as an inspector, the President shall give great weight to his reasonable belief that—

(i) such individual is or has been a member of, or a participant in, any group or organization that has engaged in, or attempted or conspired to engage in, or aided or abetted in the commission of, any terrorist act or activity;

(ii) such individual has committed any act or activity which would be a felony under the laws of the United States; or

(iii) the participation of such individual as a member of an inspection team would pose a risk to the national security or economic well-being of the United States.

(B) NOT SUBJECT TO JUDICIAL REVIEW.—Any objection by the President to an individual serving as an inspector, whether made pursuant to this section or otherwise, shall not be reviewable in any court.

SEC. 304. PROCEDURES FOR INSPECTIONS.

(a) TYPES OF INSPECTIONS.—Each inspection of a plant, plant site, or other facility or location in the United States under the Convention shall be conducted in accordance with this section and section 305, except where other procedures are provided in a facility agreement entered into under section 302.

(b) NOTICE.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—An inspection referred to in subsection (a) may be made only upon issuance of an actual written notice by the United States National Authority to the owner and to the operator, occupant, or agent in charge of the premises to be inspected.

(2) TIME OF NOTIFICATION.—The notice for a routine inspection shall be submitted to the owner and to the operator, occupant, or agent in charge within six hours of receiving the notification of the inspection from the Technical Secretariat or as soon as possible thereafter. Notice for a challenge inspection shall be provided at any appropriate time determined by the United States National Authority. Notices may be posted prominently at the plant, plant site, or other facility or location if the United States is unable to provide actual written notice to the owner, operator, or agent in charge of the premises.

(3) CONTENT OF NOTICE.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The notice under paragraph (1) shall include all appropriate information supplied by the Technical Secretariat to the United States National Authority concerning—

(i) the type of inspection;

(ii) the basis for the selection of the plant, plant site, or other facility or location for the type of inspection sought;

(iii) the time and date that the inspection will begin and the period covered by the inspection; and

(iv) the names and titles of the inspectors.

(B) SPECIAL RULE FOR CHALLENGE INSPECTIONS.—In the case of a challenge inspection pursuant to Article IX of the Convention, the notice shall also include all appropriate evidence or reasons provided by the requesting state party to the Convention for seeking the inspection.

(4) SEPARATE NOTICES REQUIRED.—A separate notice shall be provided for each inspection, except that a notice shall not be required for each entry made during the period covered by the inspection.

(c) CREDENTIALS.—The head of the inspection team of the Technical Secretariat and the accompanying employees of the Federal government shall display appropriate identifying credentials to the owner, operator, occupant, or agent in charge of the premises before the inspection is commenced.

(d) TIMEFRAME FOR INSPECTIONS.—Consistent with the provisions of the Convention, each inspection shall be commenced and completed with reasonable promptness and shall be conducted at reasonable times, within reasonable limits, and in a reasonable manner.

(e) SCOPE.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in a warrant issued under section 305 or a facility agreement entered into under section 302, an inspection conducted under this title may extend to all things within the premises inspected (including records, files, papers, processes, controls, structures and vehicles) related to whether the requirements of the Convention applicable to such premises have been complied with.

(2) EXCEPTION.—Unless required by the Convention, no inspection under this title shall extend to—

(A) financial data;

(B) sales and marketing data (other than shipment data);

(C) pricing data;

(D) personnel data;

(E) research data;

(F) patent data;

(G) data maintained for compliance with environmental or occupational health and safety regulations; or

(H) personnel and vehicles entering and personnel and personal passenger vehicles exiting the facility.

(f) SAMPLING AND SAFETY.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Director of the United States National Authority is authorized to require the provision of samples to a member of the inspection team of the Technical Secretariat in accordance with the provisions of the Convention. The owner or the operator, occupant or agent in charge of the premises to be inspected shall determine whether the sample shall be taken by representatives of the premises or the inspection team or other individuals present. No sample collected in the United States pursuant to an inspection permitted by this Act may be transferred for analysis to any laboratory outside the territory of the United States.

(2) COMPLIANCE WITH REGULATIONS.—In carrying out their activities, members of the inspection team of the Technical Secretariat and representatives of agencies or departments accompanying the inspection team shall observe safety regulations established at the premises to be inspected, including those for protection of controlled environments within a facility and for personal safety.

(g) COORDINATION.—The appropriate representatives of the United States, as designated, if present, shall assist the owner and the operator, occupant or agent in charge of the premises to be inspected in interacting with the members of the inspection team of the Technical Secretariat.

SEC. 305. WARRANTS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The United States Government shall seek the consent of the owner or the operator, occupant, or agent in charge of the premises to be inspected prior to any inspection referred to in section 304(a). If consent is obtained, a warrant is not required for the inspection. The owner or the operator, occupant, or agent in charge of the premises to be inspected may withhold consent for any reason or no reason. After providing notification pursuant to subsection (b), the United States Government may seek a search warrant from a United States magistrate judge. Proceedings regarding the issuance of a search warrant shall be conducted ex parte, unless otherwise requested by the United States Government.

(b) ROUTINE INSPECTIONS.—

(1) OBTAINING ADMINISTRATIVE SEARCH WARRANTS.—For any routine inspection conducted on the territory of the United States pursuant to Article VI of the Convention, where consent has been withheld, the United States Government shall first obtain an administrative search warrant from a judge of the United States. The United States Government shall provide to the judge of the United States all appropriate information supplied by the Technical Secretariat to the United States National Authority regarding the basis for the selection of the plant site, plant, or other facility or location for the type of inspection sought. The United States Government shall also provide any other appropriate information available to it relating to the reasonableness of the selection of the plant, plant site, or other facility or location for the inspection.

(2) CONTENT OF AFFIDAVITS FOR ADMINISTRATIVE SEARCH WARRANTS.—The judge of the United States shall promptly issue a warrant authorizing the requested inspection upon an affidavit submitted by the United States Government showing that—

(A) the Chemical Weapons Convention is in force for the United States;

(B) the plant site, plant, or other facility or location sought to be inspected is required to report data under title IV of this Act and is subject to routine inspection under the Convention;

(C) the purpose of the inspection is—

(i) in the case of any facility owned or operated by a non-Government entity related to Schedule 1 chemical agents, to verify that the facility is not used to produce any Schedule 1 chemical agent except for declared chemicals; quantities of Schedule 1 chemicals produced, processed, or consumed are correctly declared and consistent with needs for the declared purpose; and Schedule 1 chemicals are not diverted or used for other purposes;

(ii) in the case of any facility related to Schedule 2 chemical agents, to verify that activities are in accordance with obligations under the Convention and consistent with the information provided in data declarations; and

(iii) in the case of any facility related to Schedule 3 chemical agents and any other chemical production facility, to verify that the activities of the facility are consistent with the information provided in data declarations;

(D) the items, documents, and areas to be searched and seized;

(E) in the case of a facility related to Schedule 2 or Schedule 3 chemical agents or unscheduled discrete organic chemicals, the plant site has not been subject to more than 1 routine inspection in the current calendar year, and, in the case of facilities related to Schedule 3 chemical agents or unscheduled discrete organic chemicals, the inspection will not cause the number of routine inspections in the United States to exceed 20 in a calendar year;

(F) the selection of the site was made in accordance with procedures established under the Convention and, in particular—

(i) in the case of any facility owned or operated by a non-Government entity related to Schedule 1 chemical agents, the intensity, duration, timing, and mode of the requested inspection is based on the risk to the object and purpose of the Convention by the quantities of chemical produced, the characteristics of the facility and the nature of activities carried out at the facility, and the requested inspection, when considered with previous such inspections of the facility undertaken in the current calendar year, shall not exceed the number reasonably required based on the risk to the object and purpose of the Convention as described above;

(ii) in the case of any facility related to Schedule 2 chemical agents, the Technical Secretariat gave due consideration to the risk to the object and purpose of the Convention posed by the relevant chemical, the characteristics of the plant site and the nature of activities carried out there, taking into account the respective facility agreement as well as the results of the initial inspections and subsequent inspections; and

(iii) in the case of any facility related to Schedule 3 chemical agents or unscheduled discrete organic chemicals, the facility was selected randomly by the Technical Secretariat using appropriate mechanisms, such as specifically designed computer software, on the basis of two weighting factors: (I) equitable geographical distribution of inspections; and (II) the information on the declared sites available to the Technical Secretariat, related to the relevant chemical, the characteristics of the plant site, and the nature of activities carried out there;

(G) the earliest commencement and latest closing dates and times of the inspection; and

(H) the duration of inspection will not exceed time limits specified in the Convention unless agreed by the owner, operator, or agent in charge of the plant.

(3) CONTENT OF WARRANTS.—A warrant issued under paragraph (2) shall specify the same matters required of an affidavit under that paragraph. In addition to the requirements for a warrant issued under this paragraph, each warrant shall contain, if known, the identities of the representatives of the Technical Secretariat conducting the inspection and the observers of the inspection and, if applicable, the identities of the representatives of agencies or departments of the United States accompanying those representatives.

(4) CHALLENGE INSPECTIONS.—

(A) CRIMINAL SEARCH WARRANT.—For any challenge inspection conducted on the territory of the United States pursuant to Article IX of the Chemical Weapons Convention, where consent has been withheld, the United States Government shall first obtain from a judge of the United States a criminal search warrant based upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and describing with particularity the place to be searched and the person or things to be seized.

(B) INFORMATION PROVIDED.—The United States Government shall provide to the judge of the United States—

(i) all appropriate information supplied by the Technical Secretariat to the United States National Authority regarding the basis for the selection of the plant site, plant, or other facility or location for the type of inspection sought;

(ii) any other appropriate information relating to the reasonableness of the selection of the plant, plant site, or other facility or location for the inspection;

(iii) information concerning—

(I) the duration and scope of the inspection;

(II) areas to be inspected;

(III) records and data to be reviewed; and

(IV) samples to be taken;

(iv) appropriate evidence or reasons provided by the requesting state party for the inspection;

(v) any other evidence showing probable cause to believe that a violation of this Act has occurred or is occurring; and

(vi) the identities of the representatives of the Technical Secretariat on the inspection team and the Federal Government employees accompanying the inspection team.

(C) CONTENT OF WARRANT.—The warrant shall specify—

(i) the type of inspection authorized;

(ii) the purpose of the inspection;

(iii) the type of plant site, plant, or other facility or location to be inspected;

(iv) the areas of the plant site, plant, or other facility or location to be inspected;

(v) the items, documents, data, equipment, and computers that may be inspected or seized;

(vi) samples that may be taken;

(vii) the earliest commencement and latest concluding dates and times of the inspection; and

(viii) the identities of the representatives of the Technical Secretariat on the inspection teams and the Federal Government employees accompanying the inspection team.

SEC. 306. PROHIBITED ACTS RELATING TO INSPECTIONS.

It shall be unlawful for any person willfully to fail or refuse to permit entry or inspection, or to disrupt, delay, or otherwise impede an inspection, authorized by this Act.

SEC. 307. NATIONAL SECURITY EXCEPTION.

Consistent with the objective of eliminating chemical weapons, the President may deny a request to inspect any facility in the United States in cases where the President determines that the inspection may pose a threat to the national security interests of the United States.

SEC. 308. PROTECTION OF CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS OF CONTRACTORS.

(a) The Office of Federal Procurement Policy Act (41 U.S.C. 403 et seq.) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(a) PROHIBITION.—A contractor may not be required, as a condition for entering into a contract with the Federal Government, to waive any right under the Constitution for any purpose related to Chemical Weapons Convention Implementation Act of 1997 or the Chemical Weapons Convention (as defined in section 3 of such Act).

“(b) CONSTRUCTION.—Nothing in subsection (a) shall be construed to prohibit an executive agency from including in a contract a clause that requires the contractor to permit inspections for the purpose of ensuring that the contractor is performing the contract in accordance with the provisions of the contract.”.

(b) The table of contents in section 1(b) of such Act is amended by adding at the end the following:

SEC. 309. ANNUAL REPORT ON INSPECTIONS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than one year after the date of enactment of this Act, and annually thereafter, the President shall submit a report in classified and unclassified form to the appropriate congressional committees on inspections made under the Convention during the preceding year.

(b) CONTENT OF REPORTS.—Each report shall contain the following information for the reporting period:

(1) The name of each company or entity subject to the jurisdiction of the United States reporting data pursuant to title IV of this Act.

(2) The number of inspections under the Convention conducted on the territory of the United States.

(3) The number and identity of inspectors conducting any inspection described in paragraph (2) and the number of inspectors barred from inspection by the United States.

(4) The cost to the United States for each inspection described in paragraph (2).

(5) The total costs borne by United States business firms in the course of inspections described in paragraph (2).

(6) A description of the circumstances surrounding inspections described in paragraph (2), including instances of possible industrial espionage and misconduct of inspectors.

(7) The identity of parties claiming loss of trade secrets, the circumstances surrounding those losses, and the efforts taken by the United States Government to redress those losses.

(8) A description of instances where inspections under the Convention outside the United States have been disrupted or delayed.

(c) DEFINITION.—The term “appropriate congressional committees” means the Committee on the Judiciary, the Committee on Foreign Relations, and the Select Committee on Intelligence of the Senate and the Committee on the Judiciary, the Committee on International Relations, and the Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence of the House of Representatives.

SEC. 310. UNITED STATES ASSISTANCE IN INSPECTIONS AT PRIVATE FACILITIES.

(a) ASSISTANCE IN PREPARATION FOR INSPECTIONS.—At the request of an owner of a facility not owned or operated by the United States Government, or contracted for use by or for the United States Government, the Secretary of Defense may assist the facility to prepare the facility for possible inspections pursuant to the Convention.

(b) REIMBURSEMENT REQUIREMENT.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in paragraph (2), the owner of a facility provided assistance under subsection (a) shall reimburse the Secretary for the costs incurred by the Secretary in providing the assistance.

(2) EXCEPTION.—In the case of assistance provided under subsection (a) to a facility owned by a person described in subsection (c), the United States National Authority shall reimburse the Secretary for the costs incurred by the Secretary in providing the assistance.

(c) OWNERS COVERED BY UNITED STATES NATIONAL AUTHORITY REIMBURSEMENTS.—Subsection (b)(2) applies in the case of assistance provided to the following:

(1) SMALL BUSINESS CONCERNS.—A small business concern as defined in section 3 of the Small Business Act.

(2) DOMESTIC PRODUCERS OF SCHEDULE 3 OR UNSCHEDULED DISCRETE ORGANIC CHEMICALS.—Any person located in the United States that—

(A) does not possess, produce, process, consume, import, or export any Schedule 1 or Schedule 2 chemical; and

(B) in the calendar year preceding the year in which the assistance is to be provided, produced—

(i) more than 30 metric tons of Schedule 3 or unscheduled discrete organic chemicals that contain phosphorous, sulfur, or fluorine; or

(ii) more than 200 metric tons of unscheduled discrete organic chemicals.

TITLE IV—REPORTS

SEC. 401. REPORTS REQUIRED BY THE UNITED STATES NATIONAL AUTHORITY.

(a) REGULATIONS ON RECORDKEEPING.—

(1) REQUIREMENTS.—The United States National Authority shall ensure that regulations are prescribed that require each person located in the United States who produces, processes, consumes, exports, or imports, or proposes to produce, process, consume, export, or import, a chemical substance that is subject to the Convention to—

(A) maintain and permit access to records related to that production, processing, consumption, export, or import of such substance; and

(B) submit to the Director of the United States National Authority such reports as the United States National Authority may reasonably require to provide to the Organization, pursuant to subparagraph 1(a) of the Annex on Confidentiality of the Convention, the minimum amount of information and data necessary for the timely and efficient conduct by the Organization of its responsibilities under the Convention.

(2) RULEMAKING.—The Director of the United States National Authority shall ensure that regulations pursuant to this section are prescribed expeditiously.

(b) COORDINATION.—

(1) AVOIDANCE OF DUPLICATION.—To the extent feasible, the United States Government shall not require the submission of any report that is unnecessary or duplicative of any report required by or under any other law. The head of each Federal agency shall coordinate the actions of that agency with the heads of the other Federal agencies in order to avoid the imposition of duplicative reporting requirements under this Act or any other law.

(2) DEFINITION.—As used in paragraph (1), the term “Federal agency” has the meaning given the term “agency” in section 551(1) of title 5, United States Code.

SEC. 402. PROHIBITION RELATING TO LOW CONCENTRATIONS OF SCHEDULE 2 AND 3 CHEMICALS.

(a) PROHIBITION.—Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, no person located in the United States shall be required to report on, or to submit to, any routine inspection conducted for the purpose of verifying the production, possession, consumption, exportation, importation, or proposed production, possession, consumption, exportation, or importation of any substance that contains less than—

(1) 10 percent concentration of a Schedule 2 chemical; or

(2) 80 percent concentration of a Schedule 3 chemical.

(b) STANDARD FOR MEASUREMENT OF CONCENTRATION.—The percent concentration of a chemical in a substance shall be measured on the basis of volume or total weight, which measurement yields the lesser percent.

SEC. 403. PROHIBITION RELATING TO UNSCHEDULED DISCRETE ORGANIC CHEMICALS AND COINCIDENTAL BYPRODUCTS IN WASTE STREAMS.

(a) PROHIBITION.—Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, no person located in the United States shall be required to report on, or to submit to, any routine inspection conducted for the purpose of verifying the production, possession, consumption, exportation, importation, or proposed production, possession, consumption, exportation, or importation of any substance that is—

(1) an unscheduled discrete organic chemical; and

(2) a coincidental byproduct of a manufacturing or production process that is not isolated or captured for use or sale during the process and is routed to, or escapes, from the waste stream of a stack, incinerator, or wastewater treatment system or any other waste stream.

SEC. 404. CONFIDENTIALITY OF INFORMATION.

(a) FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT EXEMPTION FOR CERTAIN CONVENTION INFORMATION.—Except as provided in subsection (b) or (c), any confidential business information, as defined in section 103(g), reported to, or otherwise acquired by, the United States Government under this Act or under the Convention shall not be disclosed under section 552(a) of title 5, United States Code.

(b) EXCEPTIONS.—

(1) INFORMATION FOR THE TECHNICAL SECRETARIAT.—Information shall be disclosed or otherwise provided to the Technical Secretariat or other states parties to the Chemical Weapons Convention in accordance with the Convention, in particular, the provisions of the Annex on the Protection of Confidential Information.

(2) INFORMATION FOR CONGRESS.—Information shall be made available to any committee or subcommittee of Congress with appropriate jurisdiction upon the written request of the chairman or ranking minority member of such committee or subcommittee, except that no such committee or subcommittee, and no member and no staff member of such committee or subcommittee, shall disclose such information or material except as otherwise required or authorized by law.

(3) INFORMATION FOR ENFORCEMENT ACTIONS.—Information shall be disclosed to other Federal agencies for enforcement of this Act or any other law, and shall be disclosed or otherwise provided when relevant in any proceeding under this Act or any other law, except that disclosure or provision in such a proceeding shall be made in such manner as to preserve confidentiality to the extent practicable without impairing the proceeding.

(c) INFORMATION DISCLOSED IN THE NATIONAL INTEREST.—

(1) AUTHORITY.—The United States Government shall disclose any information reported to, or otherwise required by the United States Government under this Act or the Convention, including categories of such information, that it determines is in the national interest to disclose and may specify the form in which such information is to be disclosed.

(2) NOTICE OF DISCLOSURE.—

(A) REQUIREMENT.—If any Department or agency of the United States Government proposes pursuant to paragraph (1) to publish or disclose or otherwise provide information exempt from disclosure under subsection (a), the United States National Authority shall, unless contrary to national security or law enforcement needs, provide notice of intent to disclose the information—

(i) to the person that submitted such information;
and

(ii) in the case of information about a person received from another source, to the person to whom that information pertains.

The information may not be disclosed until the expiration of 30 days after notice under this paragraph has been provided.

(B) PROCEEDINGS ON OBJECTIONS.—In the event that the person to which the information pertains objects to the disclosure, the agency shall promptly review the grounds for each objection of the person and shall afford the objecting person a hearing for the purpose of presenting the objections to the disclosure. Not later than 10 days before the scheduled or rescheduled date for the disclosure, the United States National Authority shall notify such person regarding whether such disclosure will occur notwithstanding the objections.

(d) CRIMINAL PENALTY FOR WRONGFUL DISCLOSURE.—Any officer or employee of the United States, and any former officer or employee of the United States, who by reason of such employment or official position has obtained possession of, or has access to, information the disclosure or other provision of which is prohibited by subsection (a), and who, knowing that disclosure or provision of such information is prohibited by such subsection, willfully discloses or otherwise provides the information in any manner to any person (including any person located outside the territory of the United States) not authorized to receive it, shall be fined under title 18, United States Code, or imprisoned for not more than five years, or both.

(e) CRIMINAL FORFEITURE.—The property of any person who violates subsection (d) shall be subject to forfeiture to the United States in the same manner and to the same extent as is provided in section 229C of title 18, United States Code, as added by this Act.

(f) INTERNATIONAL INSPECTORS.—The provisions of this section shall also apply to employees of the Technical Secretariat.

SEC. 405. RECORDKEEPING VIOLATIONS.

It shall be unlawful for any person willfully to fail or refuse—

(1) to establish or maintain any record required by this Act or any regulation prescribed under this Act;

(2) to submit any report, notice, or other information to the United States Government in accordance with this Act or any regulation prescribed under this Act; or

(3) to permit access to or copying of any record that is exempt from disclosure under this Act or any regulation prescribed under this Act.

TITLE V—ENFORCEMENT

SEC. 501. PENALTIES.

(a) CIVIL.—

(1) PENALTY AMOUNTS.—

(A) PROHIBITED ACTS RELATING TO INSPECTIONS.—Any person that is determined, in accordance with paragraph (2), to have violated section 306 of this Act shall be required by order to pay a civil penalty in an amount not to exceed $25,000 for each such violation. For purposes of this paragraph, each day such a violation of section 306 continues shall constitute a separate violation of that section.

(B) RECORDKEEPING VIOLATIONS.—Any person that is determined, in accordance with paragraph (2), to have violated section 405 of this Act shall be required by order to pay a civil penalty in an amount not to exceed $5,000 for each such violation.

(2) HEARING.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Before imposing an order described in paragraph (1) against a person under this subsection for a violation of section 306 or 405, the Secretary of State shall provide the person or entity with notice and, upon request made within 15 days of the date of the notice, a hearing respecting the violation.

(B) CONDUCT OF HEARING.—Any hearing so requested shall be conducted before an administrative law judge. The hearing shall be conducted in accordance with the requirements of section 554 of title 5, United States Code. If no hearing is so requested, the Secretary of State's imposition of the order shall constitute a final and unappealable order.

(C) ISSUANCE OF ORDERS.—If the administrative law judge determines, upon the preponderance of the evidence received, that a person or entity named in the complaint has violated section 306 or 405, the administrative law judge shall state his findings of fact and issue and cause to be served on such person or entity an order described in paragraph (1).

(D) FACTORS FOR DETERMINATION OF PENALTY AMOUNTS.—In determining the amount of any civil penalty, the administrative law judge shall take into account the nature, circumstances, extent, and gravity of the violation or violations and, with respect to the violator, the ability to pay, effect on ability to continue to do business, any history of prior such violations, the degree of culpability, the existence of an internal compliance program, and such other matters as justice may require.

(3) ADMINISTRATIVE APPELLATE REVIEW.—The decision and order of an administrative law judge shall become the final agency decision and order of the head of the United States National Authority unless, within 30 days, the head of the United States National Authority modifies or vacates the decision and order, with or without conditions, in which case the decision and order of the head of the United States National Authority shall become a final order under this subsection.

(4) OFFSETS.—The amount of the civil penalty under a final order of the United States National Authority may be deducted from any sums owed by the United States to the person.

(5) JUDICIAL REVIEW.—A person adversely affected by a final order respecting an assessment may, within 30 days after the date the final order is issued, file a petition in the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit or for any other circuit in which the person resides or transacts business.

(6) ENFORCEMENT OF ORDERS.—If a person fails to comply with a final order issued under this subsection against the person or entity—

(A) after the order making the assessment has become a final order and if such person does not file a petition for judicial review of the order in accordance with paragraph (5), or

(B) after a court in an action brought under paragraph (5) has entered a final judgment in favor of the United States National Authority, the Secretary of State shall file a suit to seek compliance with the order in any appropriate district court of the United States, plus interest at currently prevailing rates calculated from the date of expiration of the 30-day period referred to in paragraph (5) or the date of such final judgment, as the case may be. In any such suit, the validity and appropriateness of the final order shall not be subject to review.

(b) CRIMINAL.—Any person who knowingly violates any provision of section 306 or 405 of this Act, shall, in addition to or in lieu of any civil penalty which may be imposed under subsection (a) for such violation, be fined under title 18, United States Code, imprisoned for not more than one year, or both.

SEC. 502. SPECIFIC ENFORCEMENT.

(a) JURISDICTION.—The district courts of the United States shall have jurisdiction over civil actions to—

(1) restrain any violation of section 306 or 405 of this Act; and

(2) compel the taking of any action required by or under this Act or the Convention.

(b) CIVIL ACTIONS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—A civil action described in subsection (a) may be brought—

(A) in the case of a civil action described in subsection (a)(1), in the United States district court for the judicial district in which any act, omission, or transaction constituting a violation of section 306 or 405 occurred or in which the defendant is found or transacts business; or

(B) in the case of a civil action described in subsection (a)(2), in the United States district court for the judicial district in which the defendant is found or transacts business.

(2) SERVICE OF PROCESS.—In any such civil action process may be served on a defendant wherever the defendant may reside or may be found, whether the defendant resides or may be found within the United States or elsewhere.

SEC. 503. EXPEDITED JUDICIAL REVIEW.

(a) CIVIL ACTION.—Any person or entity subject to a search under this Act may file a civil action challenging the constitutionality of any provision of this Act. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, during the full calendar year of, and the two full calendar years following, the enactment of this Act, the district court shall accord such a case a priority in its disposition ahead of all other civil actions except for actions challenging the legality and conditions of confinement.

(b) EN BANC REVIEW.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, during the full calendar year of, and the two full calendar years following, the enactment of this Act, any appeal from a final order entered by a district court in an action brought under subsection (a) shall be heard promptly by the full Court of Appeals sitting en banc.

TITLE VI—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

SEC. 601. REPEAL.

Section 808 of the Department of Defense Appropriation Authorization Act, 1978 (50 U.S.C. 1520; relating to the use of human subjects for the testing of chemical or biological agents) is repealed.

SEC. 602. PROHIBITION.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Neither the Secretary of Defense nor any other officer or employee of the United States may, directly or by contract—

(1) conduct any test or experiment involving the use of any chemical or biological agent on a civilian population; or

(2) use human subjects for the testing of chemical or biological agents.

(b) CONSTRUCTION.—Nothing in subsection (a) may be construed to prohibit actions carried out for purposes not prohibited by this Act (as defined in section 3(8)).

(c) BIOLOGICAL AGENT DEFINED.—In this section, the term “biological agent” means any micro-organism (including bacteria, viruses, fungi, rickettsiae or protozoa), pathogen, or infectious substance, or any naturally occurring, bio-engineered or synthesized component of any such micro-organism, pathogen, or infectious substance, whatever its origin or method of production, capable of causing—

(1) death, disease, or other biological malfunction in a human, an animal, a plant, or another living organism;

(2) deterioration of food, water, equipment, supplies, or materials of any kind; or

(3) deleterious alteration of the environment.

SEC. 603. BANKRUPTCY ACTIONS.

Section 362(b) of title 11, United States Code, is amended—

(1) by striking paragraphs (4) and (5); and

(2) by inserting after paragraph (3) the following:

“(4) under paragraph (1), (2), (3), or (6) of subsection (a) of this section, of the commencement or continuation of an action or proceeding by a governmental unit or any organization exercising authority under the Convention on the Prohibition of the Development, Production, Stockpiling and Use of Chemical Weapons and on Their Destruction, opened for signature on January 13, 1993, to enforce such governmental unit’s or organization’s police and regulatory power, including the enforcement of a judgment other than a money judgment, obtained in an action or proceeding by the governmental unit to enforce such governmental unit's or organization's police or regulatory power;".

“(A) IN GENERAL.—The term ‘eligible controlled foreign corporation’ means a controlled foreign corporation which—

“(i) is predominantly engaged in the active conduct of a banking, financing, or similar business, and

“(B) PREDOMINANTLY ENGAGED.—A controlled foreign corporation shall be treated as predominantly engaged in the active conduct of a banking, financing, or similar business if—

“(i) more than 70 percent of the gross income of the controlled foreign corporation is derived directly from the active and regular conduct of a lending or finance business from transactions with customers which are not related persons,

“(ii) it is engaged in the active conduct of a banking business and is an institution licensed to do business as a bank in the United States (or is any other corporation not so licensed which is specified by the Secretary in regulations), or “(iii) it is engaged in the active conduct of a securities business and is registered as a securities broker or dealer under section 15(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or is registered as a Government securities broker or dealer under section 15C(a) of such Act (or is any other corporation not so registered which is specified by the Secretary in regulations).

“(3) QUALIFIED BANKING OR FINANCING INCOME.—For purposes of this subsection—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—The term ‘qualified banking or financing income’ means income of an eligible controlled foreign corporation which—

“(i) is derived in the active conduct of a banking, financing, or similar business by—

“(I) such eligible controlled foreign corporation, or

“(II) a qualified business unit of such eligible controlled foreign corporation, “(ii) is derived from one or more transactions—

“(I) with customers located in a country other than the United States, and

“(II) substantially all of the activities in connection with which are conducted directly by the corporation or unit in its home country, and “(iii) is treated as earned by such corporation or unit in its home country for purposes of such country’s tax laws.

“(B) LIMITATION ON NONBANKING AND NONSECURITIES BUSINESSES.—No income of an eligible controlled foreign corporation not described in clause (i) or (iii) of paragraph (2)(B) (or of a qualified business unit of such corporation) shall be treated as qualified banking or financing income unless more than 30 percent of such corporation’s or unit’s gross income is derived directly from the active and regular conduct of a lending or finance business from transactions with customers which are not related persons and which are located within such corporation's or unit's home country.

“(C) SUBSTANTIAL ACTIVITY REQUIREMENT FOR CROSS BORDER INCOME.—The term ‘qualified banking or financing income’ shall not include income derived from 1 or more transactions with customers located in a country other than the home country of the eligible controlled foreign corporation or a qualified business unit of such corporation unless such corporation or unit conducts substantial activity with respect to a banking, financing, or similar business in its home country.

“(D) DETERMINATIONS MADE SEPARATELY.—For purposes of this paragraph, the qualified banking or financing income of an eligible controlled foreign corporation and each qualified business unit of such corporation shall be determined separately for such corporation and each such unit by taking into account—

“(i) in the case of the eligible controlled foreign corporation, only items of income, deduction, gain, or loss and activities of such corporation not properly allocable or attributable to any qualified business unit of such corporation, and

“(ii) in the case of a qualified business unit, only items of income, deduction, gain, or loss and activities properly allocable or attributable to such unit.

“(4) LENDING OR FINANCE BUSINESS.—For purposes of this subsection, the term ‘lending or finance business’ means the business of—

“(A) making loans,

“(B) purchasing or discounting accounts receivable, notes, or installment obligations,

“(C) engaging in leasing (including entering into leases and purchasing, servicing, and disposing of leases and leased assets),

“(D) issuing letters of credit or providing guarantees,

“(E) providing charge and credit card services, or

“(F) rendering services or making facilities available in connection with activities described in subparagraphs (A) through (E) carried on by—

“(i) the corporation (or qualified business unit) rendering services or making facilities available, or “(ii) another corporation (or qualified business unit of a corporation) which is a member of the same affiliated group (as defined in section 1504, but determined without regard to section 1504(b)(3)).

“(5) OTHER DEFINITIONS.—For purposes of this subsection—

“(A) CUSTOMER.—The term ‘customer’ means, with respect to any controlled foreign corporation or qualified business unit, any person which has a customer relationship with such corporation or unit and which is acting in its capacity as such.

“(B) HOME COUNTRY.—Except as provided in regulations—

“(i) CONTROLLED FOREIGN CORPORATION.—The term ‘home country’ means, with respect to any controlled foreign corporation, the country under the laws of which the corporation was created or organized.

“(ii) QUALIFIED BUSINESS UNIT.—The term ‘home country’ means, with respect to any qualified business unit, the country in which such unit maintains its principal office.

“(C) LOCATED.—The determination of where a customer is located shall be made under rules prescribed by the Secretary.

“(D) QUALIFIED BUSINESS UNIT.—The term ‘qualified business unit’ has the meaning given such term by section 989(a).

“(E) RELATED PERSON.—The term ‘related person’ has the meaning given such term by subsection (d)(3).

“(6) COORDINATION WITH EXCEPTION FOR DEALERS.—Paragraph (1) shall not apply to income described in subsection (c)(2)(C)(ii) of a dealer in securities (within the meaning of section 475) which is an eligible controlled foreign corporation described in paragraph (2)(B)(iii).

“(7) ANTI-ABUSE RULES.—For purposes of applying this subsection and subsection (c)(2)(C)(ii)—

“(A) there shall be disregarded any item of income, gain, loss, or deduction with respect to any transaction or series of transactions one of the principal purposes of which is qualifying income or gain for the exclusion under this section, including any transaction or series of transactions a principal purpose of which is the acceleration or deferral of any item in order to claim the benefits of such exclusion through the application of this subsection,

“(B) there shall be disregarded any item of income, gain, loss, or deduction of an entity which is not engaged in regular and continuous transactions with customers which are not related persons,

“(C) there shall be disregarded any item of income, gain, loss, or deduction with respect to any transaction or series of transactions utilizing, or doing business with—

“(i) one or more entities in order to satisfy any home country requirement under this subsection, or

“(ii) a special purpose entity or arrangement, including a securitization, financing, or similar entity or arrangement, if one of the principal purposes of such transaction or series of transactions is qualifying income or gain for the exclusion under this subsection, and “(D) a related person, an officer, a director, or an employee with respect to any controlled foreign corporation (or qualified business unit) which would otherwise be treated as a customer of such corporation or unit with respect to any transaction shall not be so treated if a principal purpose of such transaction is to satisfy any requirement of this subsection.

“(8) REGULATIONS.—The Secretary shall prescribe such regulations as may be necessary or appropriate to carry out the purposes of this subsection, subsection (c)(1)(B)(i), subsection (c)(2)(C)(ii), and the last sentence of subsection (e)(2).

“(9) APPLICATION.—This subsection, subsection (c)(2)(C)(ii), and the last sentence of subsection (e)(2) shall apply only to the first taxable year of a foreign corporation beginning after December 31, 1998, and before January 1, 2000, and to taxable years of United States shareholders with or within which such taxable year of such foreign corporation ends.”.

(b) INCOME DERIVED FROM INSURANCE BUSINESS.—

(1) INCOME ATTRIBUTABLE TO ISSUANCE OR REINSURANCE.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Section 953(a) (defining insurance income) is amended to read as follows:

“(a) INSURANCE INCOME.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of section 952(a)(1), the term ‘insurance income’ means any income which—

“(A) is attributable to the issuing (or reinsuring) of an insurance or annuity contract, and

“(B) would (subject to the modifications provided by subsection (b)) be taxed under subchapter L of this chapter if such income were the income of a domestic insurance company.

“(2) EXCEPTION.—Such term shall not include any exempt insurance income (as defined in subsection (e)).”.

(B) EXEMPT INSURANCE INCOME.—Section 953 (relating to insurance income) is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

“(e) EXEMPT INSURANCE INCOME.—For purposes of this section—

“(1) EXEMPT INSURANCE INCOME DEFINED.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—The term ‘exempt insurance income’ means income derived by a qualifying insurance company which—

“(i) is attributable to the issuing (or reinsuring) of an exempt contract by such company or a qualifying insurance company branch of such company, and

“(ii) is treated as earned by such company or branch in its home country for purposes of such country’s tax laws.

“(B) EXCEPTION FOR CERTAIN ARRANGEMENTS.—Such term shall not include income attributable to the issuing (or reinsuring) of an exempt contract as the result of any arrangement whereby another corporation receives a substantially equal amount of premiums or other consideration in respect of issuing (or reinsuring) a contract which is not an exempt contract.

“(C) DETERMINATIONS MADE SEPARATELY.—For purposes of this subsection and section 954(i), the exempt insurance income and exempt contracts of a qualifying insurance company or any qualifying insurance company branch of such company shall be determined separately for such company and each such branch by taking into account—

“(i) in the case of the qualifying insurance company, only items of income, deduction, gain, or loss, and activities of such company not properly allocable or attributable to any qualifying insurance company branch of such company, and “(ii) in the case of a qualifying insurance company branch, only items of income, deduction, gain, or loss and activities properly allocable or attributable to such branch.

“(2) EXEMPT CONTRACT.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—The term ‘exempt contract’ means an insurance or annuity contract issued or reinsured by a qualifying insurance company or qualifying insurance company branch in connection with property in, liability arising out of activity in, or the lives or health of residents of, a country other than the United States.

“(B) MINIMUM HOME COUNTRY INCOME REQUIRED.—

“(i) IN GENERAL.—No contract of a qualifying insurance company or of a qualifying insurance company branch shall be treated as an exempt contract unless such company or branch derives more than 30 percent of its net written premiums from exempt contracts (determined without regard to this subparagraph)—

“(I) which cover applicable home country risks, and

“(II) with respect to which no policyholder, insured, annuitant, or beneficiary is a related person (as defined in section 954(d)(3)).

“(ii) APPLICABLE HOME COUNTRY RISKS.—The term ‘applicable home country risks’ means risks in connection with property in, liability arising out of activity in, or the lives or health of residents of, the home country of the qualifying insurance company or qualifying insurance company branch, as the case may be, issuing or reinsuring the contract covering the risks.

“(C) SUBSTANTIAL ACTIVITY REQUIREMENTS FOR CROSS BORDER RISKS.—A contract issued by a qualifying insurance company or qualifying insurance company branch which covers risks other than applicable home country risks (as defined in subparagraph (B)(ii)) shall not be treated as an exempt contract unless such company or branch, as the case may be—

“(i) conducts substantial activity with respect to an insurance business in its home country, and “(ii) performs in its home country substantially all of the activities necessary to give rise to the income generated by such contract.

“(3) QUALIFYING INSURANCE COMPANY.—The term ‘qualifying insurance company’ means any controlled foreign corporation which—

“(A) is subject to regulation as an insurance (or reinsurance) company by its home country, and is licensed, authorized, or regulated by the applicable insurance regulatory body for its home country to sell insurance, reinsurance, or annuity contracts to persons other than related persons (within the meaning of section 954(d)(3)) in such home country,

“(B) derives more than 50 percent of its aggregate net written premiums from the issuance or reinsurance by such controlled foreign corporation and each of its qualifying insurance company branches of contracts—

“(i) covering applicable home country risks (as defined in paragraph (2)) of such corporation or branch, as the case may be, and

“(ii) with respect to which no policyholder, insured, annuitant, or beneficiary is a related person (as defined in section 954(d)(3)),

except that in the case of a branch, such premiums shall only be taken into account to the extent such premiums are treated as earned by such branch in its home country for purposes of such country’s tax laws, and “(C) is engaged in the insurance business and would be subject to tax under subchapter L if it were a domestic corporation.

“(4) QUALIFYING INSURANCE COMPANY BRANCH.—The term ‘qualifying insurance company branch’ means a qualified business unit (within the meaning of section 989(a)) of a controlled foreign corporation if—

“(A) such unit is licensed, authorized, or regulated by the applicable insurance regulatory body for its home country to sell insurance, reinsurance, or annuity contracts to persons other than related persons (within the meaning of section 954(d)(3)) in such home country, and

“(B) such controlled foreign corporation is a qualifying insurance company, determined under paragraph (3) as if such unit were a qualifying insurance company branch.

“(5) LIFE INSURANCE OR ANNUITY CONTRACT.—For purposes of this section and section 954, the determination of whether a contract issued by a controlled foreign corporation or a qualified business unit (within the meaning of section 989(a)) is a life insurance contract or an annuity contract shall be made without regard to sections 72(s), 101(f), 817(h), and 7702 if—

“(A) such contract is regulated as a life insurance or annuity contract by the corporation’s or unit’s home country, and

“(B) no policyholder, insured, annuitant, or beneficiary with respect to the contract is a United States person.

“(6) HOME COUNTRY.—For purposes of this subsection, except as provided in regulations—

“(A) CONTROLLED FOREIGN CORPORATION.—The term ‘home country’ means, with respect to a controlled foreign corporation, the country in which such corporation is created or organized.

“(B) QUALIFIED BUSINESS UNIT.—The term ‘home country’ means, with respect to a qualified business unit (as defined in section 989(a)), the country in which the principal office of such unit is located and in which such unit is licensed, authorized, or regulated by the applicable insurance regulatory body to sell insurance, reinsurance, or annuity contracts to persons other than related persons (as defined in section 954(d)(3)) in such country.

“(7) ANTI-ABUSE RULES.—For purposes of applying this subsection and section 954(i)—

“(A) the rules of section 954(h)(7) (other than subparagraph (B) thereof) shall apply,

“(B) there shall be disregarded any item of income, gain, loss, or deduction of, or derived from, an entity which is not engaged in regular and continuous transactions with persons which are not related persons,

“(C) there shall be disregarded any change in the method of computing reserves a principal purpose of which is the acceleration or deferral of any item in order to claim the benefits of this subsection or section 954(i),

“(D) a contract of insurance or reinsurance shall not be treated as an exempt contract (and premiums from such contract shall not be taken into account for purposes of paragraph (2)(B) or (3)) if—

“(i) any policyholder, insured, annuitant, or beneficiary is a resident of the United States and such contract was marketed to such resident and was written to cover a risk outside the United States, or

“(ii) the contract covers risks located within and without the United States and the qualifying insurance company or qualifying insurance company branch does not maintain such contemporaneous records, and file such reports, with respect to such contract as the Secretary may require,

“(E) the Secretary may prescribe rules for the allocation of contracts (and income from contracts) among 2 or more qualifying insurance company branches of a qualifying insurance company in order to clearly reflect the income of such branches, and

“(F) premiums from a contract shall not be taken into account for purposes of paragraph (2)(B) or (3) if such contract reinsures a contract issued or reinsured by a related person (as defined in section 954(d)(3)).

For purposes of subparagraph (D), the determination of where risks are located shall be made under the principles of section 953.

“(8) COORDINATION WITH SUBSECTION (c).—In determining insurance income for purposes of subsection (c), exempt insurance income shall not include income derived from exempt contracts which cover risks other than applicable home country risks.

“(9) REGULATIONS.—The Secretary shall prescribe such regulations as may be necessary or appropriate to carry out the purposes of this subsection and section 954(i).

“(10) APPLICATION.—This subsection and section 954(i) shall apply only to the first taxable year of a foreign corporation beginning after December 31, 1998, and before January 1, 2000, and to taxable years of United States shareholders with or within which such taxable year of such foreign corporation ends.

“(11) CROSS REFERENCE.—

“For income exempt from foreign personal holding company income, see section 954(i).”

(2) EXEMPTION FROM FOREIGN PERSONAL HOLDING COMPANY INCOME.—Section 954 (defining foreign base company income) is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

“(i) SPECIAL RULE FOR INCOME DERIVED IN THE ACTIVE CONDUCT OF INSURANCE BUSINESS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of subsection (c)(1), foreign personal holding company income shall not include qualified insurance income of a qualifying insurance company.

“(2) QUALIFIED INSURANCE INCOME.—The term ‘qualified insurance income’ means income of a qualifying insurance company which is—

“(A) received from a person other than a related person (within the meaning of subsection (d)(3)) and derived from the investments made by a qualifying insurance company or a qualifying insurance company branch of its reserves allocable to exempt contracts or of 80 percent of its unearned premiums from exempt contracts (as both are determined in the manner prescribed under paragraph (4)), or

“(B) received from a person other than a related person (within the meaning of subsection (d)(3)) and derived from investments made by a qualifying insurance company or a qualifying insurance company branch of an amount of its assets allocable to exempt contracts equal to—

“(i) in the case of property, casualty, or health insurance contracts, one-third of its premiums earned on such insurance contracts during the taxable year (as defined in section 832(b)(4)), and

“(ii) in the case of life insurance or annuity contracts, 10 percent of the reserves described in subparagraph (A) for such contracts.

“(3) PRINCIPLES FOR DETERMINING INSURANCE INCOME.—Except as provided by the Secretary, for purposes of subparagraphs (A) and (B) of paragraph (2)—

“(A) in the case of any contract which is a separate account-type contract (including any variable contract not meeting the requirements of section 817), income credited under such contract shall be allocable only to such contract, and

“(B) income not allocable under subparagraph (A) shall be allocated ratably among contracts not described in subparagraph (A).

“(4) METHODS FOR DETERMINING UNEARNED PREMIUMS AND RESERVES.—For purposes of paragraph (2)(A)—

“(A) PROPERTY AND CASUALTY CONTRACTS.—The unearned premiums and reserves of a qualifying insurance company or a qualifying insurance company branch with respect to property, casualty, or health insurance contracts shall be determined using the same methods and interest rates which would be used if such company or branch were subject to tax under subchapter L, except that—

“(i) the interest rate determined for the functional currency of the company or branch, and which, except as provided by the Secretary, is calculated in the same manner as the Federal mid-term rate under section 1274(d), shall be substituted for the applicable Federal interest rate, and

“(B) LIFE INSURANCE AND ANNUITY CONTRACTS.—The amount of the reserve of a qualifying insurance company or qualifying insurance company branch for any life insurance or annuity contract shall be equal to the greater of—

“(i) the net surrender value of such contract (as defined in section 807(e)(1)(A)), or

“(C) LIMITATION ON RESERVES.—In no event shall the reserve determined under this paragraph for any contract as of any time exceed the amount which would be taken into account with respect to such contract as of such time in determining foreign statement reserves (less any catastrophe, deficiency, equalization, or similar reserves).

“(5) AMOUNT OF RESERVE.—The amount of the reserve determined under this paragraph with respect to any contract shall be determined in the same manner as it would be determined if the qualifying insurance company or qualifying insurance company branch were subject to tax under subchapter L, except that in applying such subchapter—

“(A) the interest rate determined for the functional currency of the company or branch, and which, except as provided by the Secretary, is calculated in the same manner as the Federal mid-term rate under section 1274(d), shall be substituted for the applicable Federal interest rate,

“(B) the highest assumed interest rate permitted to be used in determining foreign statement reserves shall be substituted for the prevailing State assumed interest rate, and

“(C) tables for mortality and morbidity which reasonably reflect the current mortality and morbidity risks in the company's or branch's home country shall be substituted for the mortality and morbidity tables otherwise used for such subchapter.

The Secretary may provide that the interest rate and mortality and morbidity tables of a qualifying insurance company may be used for 1 or more of its qualifying insurance company branches when appropriate.

“(6) DEFINITIONS.—For purposes of this subsection, any term used in this subsection which is also used in section 953(e) shall have the meaning given such term by section 953.”.

(3) RESERVES.—Section 953(b) is amended by redesignating paragraph (3) as paragraph (4) and by inserting after paragraph (2) the following new paragraph:

“(3) Reserves for any insurance or annuity contract shall be determined in the same manner as under section 954(i).”

(c) SPECIAL RULES FOR DEALERS.—Section 954(c)(2)(C) is amended to read as follows:

“(C) EXCEPTION FOR DEALERS.—Except as provided by regulations, in the case of a regular dealer in property which is property described in paragraph (1)(B), forward contracts, option contracts, or similar financial instruments (including notional principal contracts and all instruments referenced to commodities), there shall not be taken into account in computing foreign personal holding company income—

“(i) any item of income, gain, deduction, or loss (other than any item described in subparagraph (A), (E), or (G) of paragraph (1)) from any transaction (including hedging transactions) entered into in the ordinary course of such dealer’s trade or business as such a dealer, and

“(ii) if such dealer is a dealer in securities (within the meaning of section 475), any interest or dividend or equivalent amount described in subparagraph (E) or (G) of paragraph (1) from any transaction (including any hedging transaction or transaction described in section 956(c)(2)(J)) entered into in the ordinary course of such dealer’s trade or business as such a dealer in securities, but only if the income from the transaction is attributable to activities of the dealer in the country under the laws of which the dealer is created or organized (or in the case of a qualified business unit described in section 989(a), is attributable to activities of the unit in the country in which the unit both maintains its principal office and conducts substantial business activity).”

(d) EXEMPTION FROM FOREIGN BASE COMPANY SERVICES INCOME.—Paragraph (2) of section 954(e) is amended by inserting “or” at the end of subparagraph (A), by striking “, or” at the end of subparagraph (B) and inserting a period, by striking subparagraph (C), and by adding at the end the following new flush sentence:

“Paragraph (1) shall also not apply to income which is exempt insurance income (as defined in section 953(e)) or which is not treated as foreign personal holding income by reason of subsection (c)(2)(C)(ii), (h), or (i).”

(e) EXEMPTION FOR GAIN.—Section 954(c)(1)(B)(i) (relating to net gains from certain property transactions) is amended by inserting “other than property which gives rise to income not treated as foreign personal holding company income by reason of subsection (h) or (i) for the taxable year” before the comma at the end.

SEC. 1006. DISCLOSURE OF RETURN INFORMATION ON INCOME CONTINGENT STUDENT LOANS.

(4) Subparagraphs (C) and (D) of section 6693(a)(2) of the 1986 Code are each amended by striking “Section” and inserting “section”.

TITLE V—MEDICARE-RELATED PROVISIONS

Subtitle A—Home Health

SEC. 5101. INCREASE IN PER BENEFICIARY LIMITS AND PER VISIT PAYMENT LIMITS FOR PAYMENT FOR HOME HEALTH SERVICES.

(a) INCREASE IN PER BENEFICIARY LIMITS.—Section 1861(v)(1)(L) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1395x(v)(1)(L)) is amended—

(1) in the first sentence of clause (v), by inserting “subject to clause (viii)(I),” before “the Secretary”;

(2) in clause (vi)(I), by inserting “subject to clauses (viii)(II) and (viii)(III)” after “fiscal year 1994”; and

(3) by adding at the end the following new clause:

“(viii)(I) In the case of a provider with a 12-month cost reporting period ending in fiscal year 1994, if the limit imposed under clause (v) (determined without regard to this subclause) for a cost reporting period beginning during or after fiscal year 1999 is less than the median described in clause (vi)(I) (but determined as if any reference in clause (v) to ‘98 percent’ were a reference to ‘100 percent’), the limit otherwise imposed under clause (v) for such provider and period shall be increased by $\frac{1}{3}$ of such difference.

“(II) Subject to subclause (IV), for new providers and those providers without a 12-month cost reporting period ending in fiscal year 1994, but for which the first cost reporting period begins before fiscal year 1999, for cost reporting periods beginning during or after fiscal year 1999, the per beneficiary limitation described in clause (vi)(I) shall be equal to the median described in such clause (determined as if any reference in clause (v) to ‘98 percent’ were a reference to ‘100 percent’).

“(III) Subject to subclause (IV), in the case of a new provider for which the first cost reporting period begins during or after fiscal year 1999, the limitation applied under clause (vi)(I) (but only with respect to such provider) shall be equal to 75 percent of the median described in clause (vi)(I).

“(IV) In the case of a new provider or a provider without a 12-month cost reporting period ending in fiscal year 1994, subclause (II) shall apply, instead of subclause (III), to a home health agency which filed an application for home health agency provider status under this title before September 15, 1998, or which was approved as a branch of its parent agency before such date and becomes a subunit of the parent agency or a separate agency on or after such date.

“(V) Each of the amounts specified in subclauses (I) through (III) are such amounts as adjusted under clause (iii) to reflect variations in wages among different areas.”

(b) REVISION OF PER VISIT LIMITS.—Section 1861(v)(1)(L)(i) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1395x(v)(1)(L)(i)) is amended—

(1) in subclause (III), by striking “or”;

(2) in subclause (IV)—

(A) by inserting “and before October 1, 1998,” after “October 1, 1997,”; and

(B) by striking the period at the end and inserting “, or”; and

(3) by adding at the end the following new subclause:

(c) ONE-YEAR DELAY IN 15 PERCENT REDUCTION IN PAYMENT LIMITS; CHANGE IN TIMING OF IMPLEMENTATION OF PROSPECTIVE PAYMENT SYSTEM.—

(1) PROSPECTIVE PAYMENT SYSTEM.—Section 1895 of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1395fff) is amended—

(A) in subsection (a), by striking “for cost reporting periods beginning on or after October 1, 1999” and inserting “for portions of cost reporting periods occurring on or after October 1, 2000”; and

(B) in subsection (b)(3)—

(i) in subparagraph (A)(i), by striking “fiscal year 2000” and inserting “fiscal year 2001”;

(ii) in subparagraph (A)(ii), by striking “September 30, 1999” and inserting “September 30, 2000”; and

(iii) in subparagraph (B)(i), by striking “fiscal year 2001” and inserting “fiscal year 2002”.

(2) CHANGE IN EFFECTIVE DATE.—Section 4603(d) of the Balanced Budget Act of 1997 (42 U.S.C. 1395fff note) is amended by striking “cost reporting periods beginning on or after October 1, 1999” and inserting “portions of cost reporting periods occurring on or after October 1, 2000”.

(3) CONTINGENCY REDUCTION.—Section 4603(e) of the Balanced Budget Act of 1997 (42 U.S.C. 1395fff note) is amended—

(A) by striking “cost reporting periods described in subsection (d), for such cost reporting periods” and inserting “portions of cost reporting periods described in subsection (d), for such portions”; and

(B) by striking “September 30, 1999” and inserting “September 30, 2000”.

(d) CHANGE IN HOME HEALTH MARKET BASKET INCREASE.—

(1) INTERIM PAYMENT SYSTEM.—Section 1861(v)(1)(L) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1395x(v)(1)(L)), as amended by subsection (a)(3), is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(ix) Notwithstanding any other provision of this subparagraph, in updating any limit under this subparagraph by a home health market basket index for cost reporting periods beginning during each of fiscal years 2000, 2001, 2002, and 2003, the update otherwise provided shall be reduced by 1.1 percentage points.”.

(2) PROSPECTIVE PAYMENT SYSTEM.—Section 1895(b)(3)(B) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1395fff(b)(3)(B)) is amended—

(A) in clause (i), by striking “home health market basket percentage increase” and inserting “home health applicable increase percentage (as defined in clause (ii))”;

(B) by redesignating clause (ii) as clause (iii); and
 (C) by inserting after clause (i) the following:

“(ii) HOME HEALTH APPLICABLE INCREASE PERCENTAGE.—For purposes of this subparagraph, the term ‘home health applicable increase percentage’ means, with respect to—

“(I) fiscal year 2002 or 2003, the home health market basket percentage increase (as defined in clause (iii)) minus 1.1 percentage points; or

(e) EXCLUSION OF ADDITIONAL PART B COSTS FROM DETERMINATION OF PART B MONTHLY PREMIUM.—Section 1839 of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1395r) is amended—

(1) in subsection (a)(3), by inserting “(except as provided in subsection (g))” after “year that”; and

(2) by adding at the end the following new subsection:

“(g) In estimating the benefits and administrative costs which will be payable from the Federal Supplementary Medical Insurance Trust Fund for a year for purposes of determining the monthly premium rate under subsection (a)(3), the Secretary shall exclude an estimate of any benefits and administrative costs attributable to the application of section 1861(v)(1)(L)(viii) or to the establishment under section 1861(v)(1)(L)(i)(V) of a per visit limit at 106 percent of the median (instead of 105 percent of the median), but only to the extent payment for home health services under this title is not being made under section 1895 (relating to prospective payment for home health services).”.

(f) REPORTS ON SUMMARY OF RESEARCH CONDUCTED BY THE SECRETARY ON THE PROSPECTIVE PAYMENT SYSTEM.—By not later than January 1, 1999, the Secretary of Health and Human Services shall submit to Congress a report on the following matters:

(1) RESEARCH.—A description of any research paid for by the Secretary on the development of a prospective payment system for home health services furnished under the medicare program under title XVIII of the Social Security Act, and a summary of the results of such research.

(2) SCHEDULE FOR IMPLEMENTATION OF SYSTEM.—The Secretary’s schedule for the implementation of the prospective payment system for home health services under section 1895 of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1395fff).

(g) MEDPAC REPORTS.—

(1) REVIEW OF SECRETARY’S REPORT.—Not later than 60 days after the date the Secretary of Health and Human Services submits to Congress the report under subsection (f), the Medicare Payment Advisory Commission (established under section 1805 of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1395b–6)) shall submit to Congress a report describing the Commission’s analysis of the Secretary’s report, and shall include the Commission’s recommendations with respect to the matters contained in such report.

(2) ANNUAL REPORT.—The Commission shall include in its annual report to Congress for June 1999 an analysis of whether changes in law made by the Balanced Budget Act of 1997, as modified by the amendments made by this section, with respect to payments for home health services furnished under the medicare program under title XVIII of the Social Security Act, impede access to such services by individuals entitled to benefits under such program.

(h) GAO AUDIT OF RESEARCH EXPENDITURES.—The Comptroller General of the United States shall conduct an audit of sums obligated or expended by the Health Care Financing Administration for the research described in subsection (f)(1), and of the data, reports, proposals, or other information provided by such research.

(i) PROMPT IMPLEMENTATION.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of Health and Human Services shall promptly issue (without regard to chapter 8 of title 5, United States Code) such regulations or program memoranda as may be necessary to effect the amendments made by this section for cost reporting periods beginning during fiscal year 1999.

(2) USE OF PAYMENT AMOUNTS AND LIMITS FROM PUBLISHED TABLES.—

(A) PER BENEFICIARY LIMITS.—In effecting the amendments made by subsection (a) for cost reporting periods beginning in fiscal year 1999, the “median” referred to in section 1861(v)(1)(L)(vi)(I) of the Social Security Act for such periods shall be the national standardized per beneficiary limitation specified in Table 3C published in the Federal Register on August 11, 1998 (63 FR 42926) and the “standardized regional average of such costs” referred to in section 1861(v)(1)(L)(v)(I) of such Act for a census division shall be the sum of the labor and nonlabor components of the standardized per beneficiary limitation for that census division specified in Table 3B published in the Federal Register on that date (63 FR 42926) (or in Table 3D as so published with respect to Puerto Rico and Guam), and adjusted to reflect variations in wages among different geographic areas as specified in Tables 4a and 4b published in the Federal Register on that date (63 FR 42926–42933).

(B) PER VISIT LIMITS.—In effecting the amendments made by subsection (b) for cost reporting periods beginning in fiscal year 1999, the limits determined under section 1861(v)(1)(L)(i)(V) of such Act for cost reporting periods beginning during such fiscal year shall be equal to the per visit limits as specified in Table 3A published in the Federal Register on August 11, 1998 (63 FR 42925) and as subsequently corrected, multiplied by ¹⁰⁶/₁₀₅, and adjusted to reflect variations in wages among different geographic areas as specified in Tables 4a and 4b published in the Federal Register on August 11, 1998 (63 FR 42926–42933).

Subtitle B—Other Medicare-Related Provisions

SEC. 5201. AUTHORIZATION OF ADDITIONAL EXCEPTIONS TO IMPOSITION OF PENALTIES FOR PROVIDING INDUCEMENTS TO BENEFICIARIES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Subparagraph (B) of section 1128A(i)(6) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1320a-7a(i)(6)) is amended to read as follows:

“(B) subject to subsection (n), any permissible practice described in any subparagraph of section 1128B(b)(3) or in regulations issued by the Secretary;”.

(b) SPECIAL PROVISIONS CONCERNING A SAFE HARBOR FOR PAYMENT OF MEDIGAP PREMIUMS OF ESRD BENEFICIARIES.—

(1) 2-YEAR LIMITATION.—Section 1128A of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1320a-7a) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(n)(1) Subparagraph (B) of subsection (i)(6) shall not apply to a practice described in paragraph (2) unless—

“(A) the Secretary, through the Inspector General of the Department of Health and Human Services, promulgates a rule authorizing such a practice as an exception to remuneration; and “(B) the remuneration is offered or transferred by a person under such rule during the 2-year period beginning on the date the rule is first promulgated.

“(2) A practice described in this paragraph is a practice under which a health care provider or facility pays, in whole or in part, premiums for medicare supplemental policies for individuals entitled to benefits under part A of title XVIII pursuant to section 226A.”.

(2) GAO STUDY AND REPORT ON IMPACT OF SAFE HARBOR ON MEDIGAP POLICIES.—If a permissible practice is promulgated under section 1128A(n)(1)(A) of the Social Security Act (as added by paragraph (1)), the Comptroller General of the United States shall conduct a study that compares any disproportionate impact on specific issuers of medicare supplemental policies (including the impact on premiums for non-ESRD medicare beneficiaries enrolled in such policies) due to adverse selection in enrolling medicare ESRD beneficiaries before the enactment of the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 and 1 year after the date of promulgation of such permissible practice under section 1128A(n)(1)(A) of the Social Security Act. Not later than 18 months after the date of promulgation of such practice, the Comptroller General shall submit a report to Congress on such study and shall include in the report recommendations concerning whether the time limitation imposed under section 1128A(n)(1)(B) of such Act should be extended.

(c) EXTENSION OF ADVISORY OPINION AUTHORITY.—Section 1128D(b)(2)(A) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1320a-7d(b)(2)(A)) is amended by inserting “or section 1128A(i)(6)” after “1128B(b)”.

(d) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall take effect on the date of the enactment of this Act.

(e) INTERIM FINAL RULEMAKING AUTHORITY.—The Secretary of Health and Human Services may promulgate regulations that take effect on an interim basis, after notice and pending opportunity for public comment, in order to implement the amendments made by this section in a timely manner.

SEC. 5202. EXPANSION OF MEMBERSHIP OF MEDPAC TO 17.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 1805(c)(1) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1395b–6(c)(1)), as added by section 4022 of the Balanced Budget Act of 1997, is amended by striking “15” and inserting “17”.

(b) INITIAL TERMS OF ADDITIONAL MEMBERS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of staggering the initial terms of members of the Medicare Payment Advisory Commission (under section 1805(c)(3) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1395b–6(c)(3)), the initial terms of the two additional members of the Commission provided for by the amendment under subsection (a) are as follows:

(B) One member shall be appointed for two years.

(2) COMMENCEMENT OF TERMS.—Such terms shall begin on May 1, 1999.

Subtitle C—Revenue Offsets

SEC. 5301. TAX TREATMENT OF CASH OPTION FOR QUALIFIED PRIZES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 451 (relating to taxable year for which items of gross income included) is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

“(h) SPECIAL RULE FOR CASH OPTIONS FOR RECEIPT OF QUALIFIED PRIZES.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of this title, in the case of an individual on the cash receipts and disbursements method of accounting, a qualified prize option shall be disregarded in determining the taxable year for which any portion of the qualified prize is properly includible in gross income of the taxpayer.

“(2) QUALIFIED PRIZE OPTION; QUALIFIED PRIZE.—For purposes of this subsection—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—The term ‘qualified prize option’ means an option which—

“(i) entitles an individual to receive a single cash payment in lieu of receiving a qualified prize (or remaining portion thereof), and “(ii) is exercisable not later than 60 days after such individual becomes entitled to the qualified prize.

“(B) QUALIFIED PRIZE.—The term ‘qualified prize’ means any prize or award which—

“(i) is awarded as a part of a contest, lottery, jackpot, game, or other similar arrangement,

“(ii) does not relate to any past services performed by the recipient and does not require the recipient to perform any substantial future service, and

“(iii) is payable over a period of at least 10 years.

“(3) PARTNERSHIP, ETC.—The Secretary shall provide for the application of this subsection in the case of a partnership or other pass-through entity consisting entirely of individuals described in paragraph (1).”

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The amendment made by this section shall apply to any prize to which a person first becomes entitled after the date of enactment of this Act.

(2) TRANSITION RULE.—The amendment made by this section shall apply to any prize to which a person first becomes entitled on or before the date of enactment of this Act, except that in determining whether an option is a qualified prize option as defined in section 451(h)(2)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (as added by such amendment)—

(A) clause (ii) of such section 451(h)(2)(A) shall not apply, and

(B) such option shall be treated as a qualified prize option if it is exercisable only during all or part of the 18-month period beginning on July 1, 1999.

DIVISION K—PAY-AS-YOU-GO PROVISION

Notwithstanding Rule 3 of the Budget Scorekeeping Guidelines set forth in the Joint Explanatory Statement of the Committee of Conference accompanying Conference Report No. 105–217, legislation in section 103 of Division A and in divisions C through J of this Act that would have been estimated by the Office of Management and Budget as changing direct spending or receipts under section 252 of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 were it included in an Act other than an appropriation Act shall be treated as direct spending or receipts legislation, as appropriate, under section 252 of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985.

This Act may be cited as the “Omnibus Consolidated and Emergency Supplemental Appropriations Act, 1999”.

And amend the title to read as follows:

An Act making omnibus consolidated and emergency appropriations for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1999, and for other purposes.

And the Senate agree to the same.

JOINT EXPLANATORY STATEMENT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

The managers on the part of the House and Senate at the conference on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses on the amendment of the Senate to the bill (H.R. 4328) making appropriations for the Department of Transportation and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 1999, for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1999, and for other purposes, submit the following joint statement to the House and the Senate in explanation of the effects of the action agreed upon by the managers and recommended in the accompanying report.

The composition of this conference agreement includes more than the Department of Transportation and Related Agencies Appropriations Act for fiscal year 1999. While the House version of H.R. 4328 and the Senate amendment in the nature of a substitute dealt only with transportation appropriations, the conference report was expanded to include other matters, most significantly, other fiscal year 1999 appropriations for other departments and agencies. These appropriations are included in division A of this conference agreement and are organized in groupings as they would have been had they been enacted in their regular appropriations act.

Since this conference agreement is expanded to include matters beyond those relating to the Department of Transportation and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, the title of the bill is amended to reflect this expansion.

SECTION 101(a): AGRICULTURE, RURAL DEVELOPMENT,
FOOD AND DRUG ADMINISTRATION, AND RELATED AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 1999

The conferees on H.R. 4101 agree with the matter inserted in this subsection of this conference agreement and the following description of this matter. This matter was developed through negotiations on the differences in the House and Senate versions of H.R. 4101, the Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 1999, by members of the appropriations subcommittee of both the House and Senate with jurisdiction over H.R. 4101.

CONGRESSIONAL DIRECTIVES

The statement of the managers remains silent on provisions that were in both the House and Senate bills that remain unchanged by this conference agreement, except as noted in this statement of the managers.

The conferees agree that executive branch wishes cannot substitute for Congress' own statements as to the best evidence of congressional intentions—that is, the official reports of the Congress.

The conferees further point out that funds in this Act must be used for the purposes for which appropriated, as required by section 1301 of title 31 of the United States Code, which provides: "Appropriations shall be applied only to the objects for which the appropriations were made except as otherwise provided by law."

The House and Senate report language that is not changed by the conference is approved by the committee of conference. The statement of the managers, while repeating some report language for emphasis, does not intend to negate the language referred to above unless expressly provided herein.

FOOD SAFETY INITIATIVE

Funding for Food Safety is of critical importance to the conferees and, accordingly, it has been given high priority. The conferees note that many of the activities described under the President's Food Safety Initiative have been funded for many years. The President's budget request, which assumes the collection of user fees that have not been authorized, further complicates the process.

The following table reflects funding increases for activities identified under the Food Safety Initiative:

Food and Drug Administration	$25,000,000
Food Safety and Inspection Service	16,467,000
Office of the Chief Economist	98,000
Economic Research Service	453,000
Food and Nutrition Service	2,000,000
Cooperative State Research, Education and Extension Service	16,000,000
Agricultural Research Service	12,370,000
Agricultural Marketing Service	2,831,000
Total	$75,219,000

TITLE I—AGRICULTURAL PROGRAMS

PRODUCTION, PROCESSING, AND MARKETING

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY

The conference agreement provides $2,836,000 for the Office of the Secretary as proposed by the Senate instead of $2,941,000 as proposed by the House.

The conference agreement adopts language as proposed by the House to prohibit the use of salaries and expenses to carry out section 793(d) of Public Law 104-127, a limitation on program levels in the Fund for Rural America and section 793(c)(1)(C) of Public Law 104-127, a limitation on housing assistance. The Senate bill had no similar provision.

The conferees concur with Senate report language regarding the Food Quality Protection Act (FQPA) that says that, in implementing the FQPA, decisions should be ". . . based on sound science, and reliable, accurate and widely accepted data which reflects the Nation's agricultural production, practices, and conditions."

The conferees understand the trust responsibility the U.S. has toward Indians and Alaska Natives and directs the Department of Agriculture to report to the Congress no later than February 1, 1999, on the progress made with Indian agriculture, Federal inter-agency coordination, and the level of Indian usage of Federal programs and initiatives outlined to benefit Indian agriculture.

The conferees have included in the bill a prohibition on funding to establish an Office of Community Food Security or any similar office without the prior approval of the Committees on Appropriations.

EXECUTIVE OPERATIONS

CHIEF ECONOMIST

The conference agreement provides $5,620,000 for the Chief Economist instead of $5,973,000 as proposed by the House and $5,048,000 as proposed by the Senate. Included in this amount is $219,000 for agricultural weather activities, $255,000 for the World Agricultural Outlook Board, and $98,000 to support the Food Safety Initiative.

NATIONAL APPEALS DIVISION

The conference agreement provides $11,718,000 for the National Appeals Division as proposed by the Senate instead of $12,204,000 as proposed by the House.

OFFICE OF BUDGET AND PROGRAM ANALYSIS

The conference agreement provides $6,120,000 for the Office of Budget and Program Analysis as proposed by the House instead of $5,986,000 as proposed by the Senate.

OFFICE OF THE ASSISTANT SECRETARY FOR ADMINISTRATION

The conference agreement provides $613,000 for the Office of the Assistant Secretary for Administration as proposed by the Senate instead of $636,000 as proposed by the House.

AGRICULTURE BUILDINGS AND FACILITIES AND RENTAL PAYMENTS

The conference agreement does not include language as proposed by the House limiting the purpose for which funds may be transferred to commercial space expansion. The conference agreement includes new language that provides flexibility for the Secretary to transfer not more than 5 percent of this appropriation to or from another agency's appropriation to allow for incremental changes in the amount of GSA or commercial space and not to finance changes in GSA billing.

DEPARTMENTAL ADMINISTRATION

The conference agreement provides $32,168,000 for Departmental Administration as proposed by the House instead of $27,034,000 as proposed by the Senate.

OFFICE OF THE INSPECTOR GENERAL

The conference agreement provides $65,128,000 for the Office of the Inspector General instead of $67,178,000 as proposed by the House and $63,128,000 as proposed by the Senate. Included in this amount is $100,000 for confidential operational expenses instead of $95,000 as proposed by the House and $125,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement includes $2,000,000 for law enforcement and related work instead of $1,965,000 as proposed by the House.

OFFICE OF THE GENERAL COUNSEL

The conference agreement provides $29,194,000 for the Office of the General Counsel instead of $30,396,000 as proposed by the House and $28,759,000 as proposed by the Senate. Included in this amount is $435,000 to provide legal support for the Department's civil rights program.

OFFICE OF THE UNDER SECRETARY FOR RESEARCH, EDUCATION AND ECONOMICS

The conference agreement provides $540,000 for the Office of the Under Secretary for Research, Education and Economics as proposed by the Senate instead of $560,000 as proposed by the House.

ECONOMIC RESEARCH SERVICE

The conference agreement provides $65,757,000 for the Economic Research Service instead of $67,282,000 as proposed by the House and $53,109,000 as proposed by the Senate. Included in this amount is $12,195,000 for studies and evaluations of the child nutrition, WIC, and food stamp programs. Of this amount, $2,000,000 is transferred to the Food Program Administration account of the Food and Nutrition Service to conduct programmatic evaluations and analyses. The conferees direct that any welfare reform studies, analyses, or evaluations undertaken by the agency shall directly relate to USDA programs.

The conferees expect a study as proposed by the House, as part of the nutrition related studies, to assess cost containment practices used by states to limit branded products sold in the WIC food package other than infant formula. The conferees direct that the total cost for this study shall not exceed $1,100,000 in fiscal year 1999 nor $1,500,000 over the next three years.

The conference agreement includes $453,000 for estimating the benefits of food safety.

The conferees are aware of a 1996 GAO study on plate waste in the school lunch program and expect the USDA to develop recommendations for eliminating this problem.

Two years ago, the U.S. Congress set U.S. farm policy through the year 2002. As international trade negotiations move into a phase critical to U.S. agriculture, it is essential that our negotiators and farmers have accurate and timely information. Therefore, in addition to the language in the Senate report, the conferees expect commodity situation and outlook reports be maintained at the reporting frequency in place at the time of enactment of the Food and Agriculture Improvement and Reform Act.

The conference agreement provides $300,000 for a study by the National Academy of Sciences concerning the appropriate amounts of fruit, fiber and sugar in the diet of the population targeted for benefit by the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC). The study will be a compilation and review of existing studies and data, including data compiled and materials prepared by the Department in developing the Dietary Guidelines and the Healthy Eating Index. It will examine, in particular, whether WIC program participants would benefit nutritionally if the six grams of sugar per ounce of dried cereal limitation in WIC program regulations were to be modified so that sugar contained in dried fruit in such cereals did not count against this limitation. The study will also examine the impact of the above modifications to the WIC dried cereal limitation on the dental health of WIC participants. A report on this study should be transmitted to the appropriate committees of Congress and to the Secretary no later than 12 months after the project is initiated by the Academy.

NATIONAL AGRICULTURAL STATISTICS SERVICE

The conference agreement provides $103,964,000 for the National Agricultural Statistics Service as proposed by the Senate instead of $105,082,000 as proposed by the House. Of this amount up to $23,599,000, is provided for the Census of Agriculture including $600,000 for the agriculture economics and land ownership survey and the aquaculture statistics census as proposed by the Senate instead of up to $23,141,000 as proposed by the House.

The conferees expect the National Agricultural Statistics Service to continue to revise the Census of Agriculture to eliminate redundancies in questions asked of farmers.

AGRICULTURAL RESEARCH SERVICE

The conference agreement provides $785,518,000 for the Agricultural Research Service instead of $755,816,000 as proposed by the House and $768,221,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The following table reflects the conference agreement:

The conference agreement concurs in the following program terminations: global environmental change, CO; and water and agrochemical management, LA.

The conferees understand that ARS and the Institute for Technology Development are collaborating to develop promising imaging technology to help assure food quality and safety. The conferees encourage the continuation of this important research and expect ARS to increase its support for this cooperative project from the increased funding provided for food safety.

The conferees are aware of the important research carried out by ARS National Animal Disease Center at Ames, Iowa, on corn insects and crop genetics, plant introduction, soil tilth, and national programs to control and prevent avian and animal diseases. The conferees continue funding for these important ARS projects in FY 1999 and have provided an additional $2,000,000 for ARS research as reflected in the table.

The amount recommended does not provide funding for program and operations supporting the mission of the newly-constructed swine facility which has been deeded to Iowa State University (ISU). In the Department's report to the Committees regarding funding options for the facility, the conferees understand (1) ISU is presently investing funds in research that is related or complementary to the research proposed for the new facility, and (2) the swine industry is prepared to work toward obtaining other sources of funds to support operational costs and the program of research planned for this facility. The National Swine Research Center was conveyed to ISU in March, 1998, as directed under the Emergency Supplemental Appropriations and Rescissions Act, P.L. 104-19, October 17, 1995. Under this agreement, the conference report stated "that any future costs of operation associated with that facility be provided by sources other than the Federal government."

The conferees expect the Department to consult with the Strategic Planning Task Force on the appropriateness of establishing a human nutrition research center in preventive nutrition, diet, and obesity.

The conferees recognize the important research being done at the ARS-Athens Russell Research Center on competitive exclusion of enteritidis food safety pathogens and encourage the Department to extend this important research to swine.

BUILDINGS AND FACILITIES

The conference agreement provides $56,437,000 for Agricultural Research Service, Buildings and Facilities instead of $61,380,000 as proposed by the House and $31,930,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The following table reflects the conference agreement:

Total	56,437,000

The conference agreement provides $500,000 in additional planning funds for the relocation and replacement of ARS research laboratory from the Phoenix, Arizona location to the Maricopa Agriculture Center. The conferees direct the agency to further review and evaluate the size, capacity and costs associated with replacing the existing research laboratory. This effort is essential to determine the required scope and the most cost-efficient facility required to meet the needs of ARS water and cotton research. The conference agreement provides $2,957,000 for the National Animal Disease Center and expects the ARS to use $1,943,000 in available unobligated funds to complete the project.

The conference agreement does not include funding for the avian disease laboratory in Michigan without any prejudice toward the project.

COOPERATIVE STATE RESEARCH, EDUCATION, AND EXTENSION SERVICE

RESEARCH AND EDUCATION ACTIVITIES

The conference agreement provides $481,216,000 for research and education activities instead of $431,125,000 as proposed by the House and $432,982,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement reflects a 7% increase from the fiscal year 1998 level for payments under the Hatch Act, cooperative forestry research, payments to 1890 Colleges and Universities, animal health and disease grants, and payments to 1994 institutions; and an increase of $22,100,000 for the National Research Initiative. The conferees direct the USDA to consult with the Food and Drug Administration regarding food safety research objectives of that agency and recommend that $5,000,000 of the funds provided for the food safety component of the National Research Initiative be used to meet those needs.

The conference agreement includes $523,000 for Rural Development Centers, of which $100,000 is for a new center in Louisiana. The conference agreement includes $750,000 for alternative crops, of which $550,000 is for canola and $200,000 is for hesperaloe. The conference agreement includes $1,000,000 for the wood utilization special grant for the establishment of two new centers in Idaho and Tennessee with the remainder of the increase to be shared on a proportionate basis by the existing centers.

The conference agreement includes $5,000,000 for the special grant for food safety as requested by the President and an increase of $7,400,000 in the National Research Initiative category for nutrition, food quality and health.

EXTENSION ACTIVITIES

The conference agreement provides $437,987,000 for extension activities instead of $416,789,000 as proposed by the House and $432,181,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conferees are concerned that funds for cooperative agriculture extension services are being used to promote Federal welfare programs. Such activities are appropriate only to the extent that they fall within the traditional educational role of extension for home economics and similar missions.

The conference agreement includes a 3% increase for the formula grant programs as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement has provided an increase for water quality and expects the projects in North Dakota and Illinois to compete for these funds.

The conference agreement includes an increase of $500,000 for the Farm*A*Syst program, and an increase of $145,000 for the AgrAbility project.

MARKETING AND REGULATORY PROGRAMS

OFFICE OF THE ASSISTANT SECRETARY FOR MARKETING AND REGULATORY PROGRAMS

The conference agreement provides $618,000 for the Office of the Assistant Secretary for Marketing and Regulatory Programs as proposed by the Senate instead of $642,000 as proposed by the House.

ANIMAL AND PLANT HEALTH INSPECTION SERVICE

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides $425,803,000 for the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) instead of $424,500,000 as proposed by the House and $419,473,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement includes $909,000 for the International Cooperative Administrative Support Service Program.

The conferees direct APHIS to conduct an analysis of the existing Medfly exclusion and detection program in the State of Florida and include in that analysis a review of various potential alternatives, including the feasibility of implementing a year-round sterile Medfly release program. Specifically, the analysis should identify the scope, annual cost, and method of implementation for such programs. APHIS shall report its findings to both the House and Senate Appropriations Committees no later than May 1, 1999.

Infestations of red imported fire ants have been found in Dona Ana County, New Mexico and, as a result, the county has been quarantined. In order to properly survey and monitor the remaining counties of New Mexico for red imported fire ants, the conferees direct APHIS to provide the necessary financial and technical assistance to the State of New Mexico to carry out the necessary activities.

The conferees request APHIS to grant a six-month extension of the comment period for the proposed rule published in the Federal Register on August 12, 1998, concerning importation of grapefruits, lemons, and oranges from Argentina. Additional time is needed to allow independent scientists to review the scientific data submitted on behalf of Argentina's petition and to review the risk mitigation measures advocated by APHIS.

The conferees direct the Department to publish rules regarding the compensation of Arizona wheat producers, seed companies, seed producers, and handlers for their economic loss for the 1997-1998 crop due to Karnal bunt.

The conferees direct the Department to work with the Arizona wheat industry and Arizona regulatory agencies to develop a plan for de-regulation of Karnal bunt in Arizona, to be submitted to the Committees on Appropriations no later than November 15, 1998, to allow for appropriate grower decisions for planting wheat for 1999.

The conferees direct APHIS to establish protocols containing appropriate verification procedures including permanent country of origin marking requirements for each country or region requesting to export livestock into the United States.

The conference agreement adopts House report language providing $1,500,000 for rabies control activities. The Senate report provided $800,000 for specific states.

The conference agreement adopts House report language providing $450,000 for trap testing and related activities to meet U.S. obligations under international standards. The Senate report had no similar language. The conferees expect the agency to work toward the development of more humane trapping methods.

The conference agreement adopts Senate report language providing $300,000 for an assessment of the economic threat from a newly described contagious equine metritis-like bacterium to the U.S. horse industry. The House report had no similar provision.

The conference agreement adopts Senate report language providing $500,000 for operation of the bison quarantine facility and all associated operations including the testing of bison which have left Yellowstone National Park. The House report had no similar provision.

The conference agreement adopts Senate report language providing $300,000 to establish and operate a Wildlife Services office in Hawaii. The House report had no similar provision.

The conference agreement provides an increase of $175,000 to offset the impact of expanding wolf populations and the reintroduction of wolves in the northern Rocky Mountains.

The conference report adopts Senate report language providing $400,000 to require the Secretary to prevent the inadvertent introduction of brown tree snakes into Hawaii and other states. The House had no similar language.

The conferees urge the Secretary to delay the implementation of regulations issued by the Animal and Plant Health and Inspection Service (Fed. Reg. Vol. 63, No. 172, September 4, 1998) entitled "Swim with the Dolphin" as applied to wading programs. The managers expect the Department to solicit input from affected parties and ensure that the regulations will not impose unreasonable requirements, economic hardship, or conflict with State laws.

BUILDINGS AND FACILITIES

The conference agreement provides $7,700,000 for the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, Buildings and Facilities, instead of $5,200,000 as proposed by the House and $4,200,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement includes $3,500,000 for completion of a wing at the National Wildlife Research Center in Fort Collins, CO.

The conferees direct the agency to consider locations in Montana and Iowa for construction of a large animal biosafety level-3 containment facility.

AGRICULTURAL MARKETING SERVICE

MARKETING SERVICES

The conference agreement provides $48,831,000 for the Agricultural Marketing Service instead of $46,567,000 as proposed by the House and $45,567,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conferees expect that, of the funds available for the National Organic Standards Program, amounts as may be necessary shall be used to offset the initial costs of accreditation services.

El Nino and the Asian currency crisis have caused significant problems to West Coast tuna fishermen. The USDA should use its surplus removal authorities to assist with this problem.

LIMITATION ON ADMINISTRATIVE EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides $60,730,000 for the Limitation on Administrative Expenses as proposed by the House instead of $59,521,000 as proposed by the Senate.

GRAIN INSPECTION, PACKERS AND STOCKYARDS ADMINISTRATION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides $26,787,000 for the Grain Inspection, Packers and Stockyards Administration instead of $27,542,000 as proposed by the House and $26,390,000 as proposed by the Senate. Included in this amount is $2,500,000 as proposed by the Senate for restructuring the Packers and Stockyards Administration and $397,000 as proposed by the House for packer concentration and industry structure.

OFFICE OF THE UNDER SECRETARY FOR FOOD SAFETY

The conference agreement provides $446,000 for the Office of the Under Secretary for Food Safety as proposed by the Senate. The House bill provided an unspecified amount of funding for the Office of the Under Secretary from the Food Safety and Inspection Service account.

FOOD SAFETY AND INSPECTION SERVICE

The conference agreement provides $616,986,000 for the Food Safety and Inspection Service as proposed by the House instead of $605,149,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement includes the full amount requested in the fiscal year 1999 budget for the Food Safety Initiative and inspection costs.

The conferees note that the report on ratites was not delivered until six months after the requested submission date and, although a cost-benefit analysis was requested, it was not supplied. While citing significant potential health risks and the existence of industry microbiological data, the Department did not perform a risk assessment to quantify public health benefits. The Department is directed to resubmit the report with the cost-benefit analysis, as requested, by December 31, 1998, or to provide the conferees a detailed accounting of the projected cost and time required to determine the merits and effectiveness of a mandatory ratite inspection program.

The conference agreement adopts language as proposed by the House disagreeing with the Administration's proposal to waive cost-sharing limitations for cooperative state inspection programs. The Senate report had no similar provision.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Agriculture to report to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations by March 1, 1999, recommendations on lifting the ban on the interstate distribution of State inspected meat.

OFFICE OF THE UNDER SECRETARY FOR FARM AND FOREIGN AGRICULTURAL SERVICES

The conference agreement provides $572,000 for the Office of the Under Secretary for Farm and Foreign Agricultural Services as proposed by the Senate instead of $597,000 as proposed by the House.

The conferees are concerned that the USDA is administering the forfeiture penalty provisions of 7 U.S.C. 7272(g) in a manner inconsistent with the intent of Congress. These provisions were intended only to act as a disincentive to program loan forfeitures. Unfortunately, as evidenced in the fiscal year 1999 Budget Summary, the Department has interpreted the provisions to have "effectively reduced sugar loan rates." The conferees direct the Secretary of Agriculture to administer the program consistent with Congressional intent, and to ensure that the forfeiture penalty shall not for any purpose other than an actual loan forfeiture resulting in the reduction of the statutory price support loan levels for sugarcane (18 cents per pound of raw cane sugar) or sugar beets (22.9 cents per pound of refined beet sugar). In addition, the conferees direct that the penalty shall not be considered in the calculation of any sugar forfeiture price level by the Secretary or by any other official responsible for the administration of the sugar program under 7 U.S.C. 7272, the no-cost provision in section 902(a) of P.L. 99-198, and any related authorities.

FARM SERVICE AGENCY
SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides $714,499,000 for salaries and expenses of the Farm Service Agency instead of $724,499,000 as proposed by the House and $710,842,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement does not include $10,000,000 as proposed by the House for the Common Computing Environment.

The conferees expect the Secretary, to the extent practicable, to avoid the use of reductions-in-force or furloughs for both Federal and non-Federal employees or any county office closings.

AGRICULTURAL CREDIT INSURANCE FUND PROGRAM ACCOUNT

The following table reflects the conference agreement:

Farm Ownership Loans:
Direct	($85,651,000)
Subsidy	12,822,000
Guaranteed	(425,031,000)
Subsidy	6,758,000
Farm Operating Loans:
Direct	(500,000,000)
Subsidy	34,150,000
Subsidized Guaranteed	(200,000,000)
Subsidy	17,480,000
Unsubsidized Guaranteed	(948,276,000)
Subsidy	11,000,000
Boll Weevil Eradication	(100,000,000)
Subsidy	1,440,000
Credit Sales of Acquired Property
Subsidy

DISASTER ASSISTANCE/RESERVE INVENTORIES

The conference agreement does not include $521,000,000 as proposed by the Senate for disaster assistance and reserve inventories. Disaster related problems are addressed in Titles XI-XIII.

RISK MANAGEMENT AGENCY

The conferees note that risk management tools are limited for livestock producers. The conferees expect the Risk Management Agency to provide a report to the appropriate Committees of Congress on the feasibility of a crop insurance program that livestock producers can utilize for forages and native pasture.

TITLE II—CONSERVATION PROGRAMS

OFFICE OF THE UNDER SECRETARY FOR NATURAL RESOURCES AND ENVIRONMENT

The conference agreement provides $693,000 for the Office of the Under Secretary for Natural Resources and Environment as proposed by the Senate instead of $719,000 as proposed by the House.

NATURAL RESOURCES CONSERVATION SERVICE

CONSERVATION OPERATIONS

The conference agreement provides $641,243,000 for the Natural Resources Conservation Service Conservation Operations as proposed by the House instead of $638,664,000 as proposed by the Senate. Included in this amount is not less than $5,990,000 for snow survey and water forecasting as proposed by the House instead of $5,835,000 as proposed by the Senate and not less than $9,025,000 for operation and establishment of plant materials centers as proposed by the Senate instead of $7,825,000 as proposed by the House.

In addition to the items in the House and Senate reports that are not changed by the conference agreement, funding is included for the following items: $100,000 increase for native plants on the Island of Kahoolawe in Hawaii; $300,000 increase for the Loess Hills Erosion Control in Iowa; $300,000 for the Long Beach Water Management District Project in Mississippi; $400,000 increase for the Delta Water Resources Study in Mississippi; $500,000 for the Tri-Valley watershed in Utah; $500,000 for the Great Lakes Basin Program for Soil and Erosion Sediment Control; $100,000 increase for the Potomac Ohio River Basin Soil Nutrient Project; $100,000 for the Trees Forever Program in Iowa; and $443,000 increase for construction of the Plant Materials Center at Alderson, West Virginia.

The conferees do not agree with the Senate report language citing problems that have arisen with the Wetlands Reserve Program (WRP). However, the conferees concur with Senate report language that encourages the USDA to structure the terms of WRP contracts so that high priority is given to the consideration of adjacent landowners, including but not limited to the maintenance of watershed protection.

The conferees encourage the agency to provide any technical assistance for construction and repairs to the spillway and roads for Lake Peltier at Salmen Scout Reservation, Hancock County, Mississippi.

WATERSHED SURVEYS AND PLANNING

The conference agreement provides $10,368,000 for Watershed Surveys and Planning instead of $9,545,000 as proposed by the House and $11,190,000 as proposed by the Senate.

WATERSHED AND FLOOD PREVENTION OPERATIONS

The conference agreement provides $99,443,000 for Watershed and Flood Prevention Operations instead of $97,850,000 as proposed by the House and $101,036,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement includes House language providing that not more than $47,000,000 shall be available for technical assistance. The conference agreement includes continued progress and assistance for the Chino Dairy Preserve Project, San Bernardino County, CA.

The conferees expect the NRCS to provide for corrective action to the North Powder-Rock Creek South pipeline in the Powder Valley Water Control District, OR, to prevent the premature deterioration of the pipeline. The conferees note that since the Powder Valley Water Control District cost-shared in the construction of the current pipeline the cost-share requirements shall not apply to the corrective action necessary since the NRCS has admitted their design flaw.

RESOURCE CONSERVATION AND DEVELOPMENT

The conference agreement provides $35,000,000 for the Resource Conservation and Development program as proposed by the House instead of $34,377,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conferees expect the Department to present to the House and Senate Appropriations Committees no later than March 1, 1999, options to fund new Resource Conservation and Development districts, including a graduation component, while considering program effectiveness, efficiency, and necessary structural changes.

FORESTRY INCENTIVES PROGRAM

The conference agreement provides $6,325,000 for the Forestry Incentives Program as proposed by the Senate. The House bill provided no funds for this account.

TITLE III—RURAL ECONOMIC AND COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMS

OFFICE OF THE UNDER SECRETARY FOR RURAL DEVELOPMENT

The conference agreement provides $588,000 for the Office of the Under Secretary for Rural Development as proposed by the Senate instead of $611,000 as proposed by the House.

The conferees expect the Secretary, to the extent practicable, to avoid the use of reductions-in-force and furloughs in the rural development work force. The conferees further expect that no reductions-in-force or furloughs will take place unless the Secretary provides detailed justifications for such actions to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations.

The conferees note that it has become necessary in annual appropriations bills to declare certain communities eligible for rural development programs. This is because of anomalies in the criteria for eligibility, such as population and average income levels, that have made these communities ineligible under a strict interpretation of regulations. The conferees believe that there may not be sufficient flexibility under current law and regulations to address this problem. Therefore, the conferees direct the Department to develop a plan that will address this situation including changes in current law or regulation and present this plan to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations.

The House and Senate reports recommend projects for consideration under various rural development programs and the conferees expect the Department to apply established review procedures when considering applications.

The conferees further expect the Department to give consideration to business enterprise and housing preservation projects in the city of Bayview, VA; applications for rural business enterprise grants from TELACU, for a project in Selma, CA; for assistance for a community improvement program in Arkansas; water and sewer improvements for the City of Vaughn, NM; the Shulerville/Honey Hill Water project, S.C.; and a rural enterprise grant for Indian Hills Community College, IA.

The conferees direct the agency to exercise its authority to consider the effects of economic circumstances and high unemployment in calculating median household income for the community of Wrangell, AK, for the purpose of determining whether the community is eligible for loans and grants.

The Department should consider a request, subject to normal review procedures, from the Water Environment Research Foundation for water quality research.

The conferees are aware that the Territory of American Samoa is currently in the grip of a severe, prolonged drought, and that the island's water system is rapidly becoming infiltrated by salt water and is unsafe for human consumption. Even with aggressive water conservation and service curtailment efforts, there will soon be insufficient safe drinking water to sustain human needs in the Territory. If assistance is not provided expeditiously, there is an imminent threat that waterborne illnesses will reach epidemic proportions which will severely overburden American Samoa's limited health care facilities. The drought crisis poses an immediate and rapidly escalating threat to human life in this most remote part of American Territories.

It has come to the attention of the conferees that the American Samoa Power Authority (the Territory's water, electric, and sanitary sewer utility) has applied to USDA for assistance in obtaining and installing water filtration and treatment equipment. This project would provide approximately one million gallons per day of safe drinking water necessary to sustain basic human needs and prevent life-threatening illness.

The conferees urge the Secretary to utilize creative and flexible solutions under the existing water and sewer loan and grants program, the community facilities loan and grants program, and such other rural development programs as the Secretary in his discretion may determine appropriate to meet this critical need in American Samoa.

RURAL DEVELOPMENT

RURAL COMMUNITY ADVANCEMENT PROGRAM

The conference agreement provides $722,686,000 for the Rural Community Advancement Program (RCAP) instead of $702,601,000 as proposed by the Senate and $745,172,000 as proposed by the House.

The following table reflects the conference agreement:

RCAP accounts
Water/Sewer	$645,007,000
Community Facilities	29,786,000
Business-Cooperative Development	47,893,000
	<hr/>
Total	722,686,000
	<hr/> <hr/>
Earmarks:
Tech. Asst. (water/sewer)	16,215,000
Circuit Rider	5,300,000
EZ/EC	33,926,000
Tech. Asst. (transportation)	500,000

The conference agreement adopts House bill language that does not include section 381O of the Consolidated Farm and Rural Development Act (7 U.S.C. 2009f) from authorized activities included in RCAP funding. The Senate bill had no similar provision.

The conference agreement does not include language in the Senate report directing USDA to provide for rural venture capital demonstration projects in Kentucky and Vermont. The House report had no similar provision.

The conference agreement also adopts Senate bill language providing that funds not obligated for empowerment zones and enterprise communities by June 30, 1999, will remain available for other purposes under this heading. The House bill had no similar provision.

The conference agreement does not provide the requested three percent earmark for Federally-recognized Indian tribes. The conferees note that, according to USDA, Indian tribes now receive approximately five percent of funding under the RCAP and the conferees believe the three percent earmark would arbitrarily restrict rural development benefits to the tribes.

The conferees expect the Department to use funds provided for technical assistance for water and sewer projects to maintain the number of circuit riders at the same level as fiscal year 1998.

The conferees have agreed to permanently increase the authorization of funding for water and sewer projects benefiting Alaska Natives under the Federal Agriculture Improvement and Reform Act of 1996 from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 and to make the state match required under the program consistent with the 25 percent requirement for the Colonias. The conferees direct the Department, in awarding grants to various regions of the country, to give priority consideration to areas which lack flush toilets and running water. It shall also give highest priority to areas without modern sewage disposal systems, with open sewers, and high rates of disease caused by poor sanitation.

RURAL HOUSING SERVICE

RURAL HOUSING INSURANCE FUND PROGRAM ACCOUNT

The conference agreement provides a total subsidy of $197,285,000 (providing for an estimated loan program level of $4,251,717,000) for activities under the Rural Housing Insurance Fund Program Account instead of $186,855,000 (providing for an estimated loan program level of $4,235,601,000) as proposed by the House and $207,601,000 (providing for an estimated program level of $4,284,398,000) as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement provides $10,380,000 from the total amount available for empowerment zones and enterprise communities instead of $10,380,100 as proposed by the Senate. The House bill had no similar provision.

The following table reflects the conference agreement:

Rural Housing Insurance Fund Program Account:

Loan authorizations:
Single family (sec. 502)	(965,313,000)
Unsubsidized guaranteed	(3,000,000,000)
Housing repair (sec. 504)	(25,001,000)
Farm labor (sec. 514)	(20,000,000)
Rental housing (sec. 515)	(114,321,000)
Multi-family housing guarantees (sec. 538)	(100,000,000)
Site loans (sec. 524)	(5,152,000)
Credit sales of acquired property	(16,930,000)
Self-help housing land development fund	(5,000,000)
 Total, Loan authorizations	 (4,251,717,000)
 Loan subsidies:
Single family (sec. 502)	114,100,000
Unsubsidized guaranteed	2,700,000
Housing repair (sec. 504)	8,808,000
Multi-family housing guarantees (sec. 538)	2,320,000
Farm labor (sec. 514)	10,406,000
Rental housing (sec. 515)	55,160,000
Site loans (sec. 524)	17,000
Credit sales of acquired property	3,492,000
Self-help housing land development fund	282,000
 Total, Loan subsidies	 197,285,000
 RHIF administrative expenses (transfer to RHS)	 360,785,000
 Total, Rural Housing Insurance Fund	 1,141,467,000
(Loan authorization)	(4,251,717,000)

The conferees direct that the Department give preference to projects with the lowest interest rates in the section 538 program to ensure that the program serves tenants with low incomes.

The conferees recognize the importance of providing assistance to the economically distressed areas of the Lower Mississippi Delta. The conferees encourage the Secretary to consider using the re-programming authority provided in section 724 of this Act to fund applications for Rural Housing Service programs in those areas where there is a shortage of affordable rental and home ownership opportunities. One of the areas to be considered is West Tallahatchie, MS, where there is a shortage of housing for teachers.

MUTUAL AND SELF-HELP HOUSING GRANTS

The conference agreement provides $1,000,000 from the total amount available for Mutual and Self-Help Housing Grants for empowerment zones and enterprise communities as proposed by the Senate. The House bill had no similar provision.

RURAL HOUSING ASSISTANCE GRANTS

The conference agreement provides $41,000,000 for Rural Housing Assistance Grants as proposed by the House instead of $45,720,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement provides $1,200,000 from the total amount available for empowerment zones and enterprise communities as proposed by the House instead of $1,372,000 as proposed by the Senate. The House bill had no similar provision.

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides $60,978,000 for salaries and expenses as proposed by the Senate instead of $57,958,000 as proposed by the House. The conference agreement also provides for a transfer of $360,785,000 from the Rural Housing Insurance Fund as proposed by the Senate instead of $354,785,000 as proposed by the House. The total provided for Rural Housing Service salaries and expenses is $421,763,000 as proposed by the Senate instead of $412,743,000 as proposed by the House.

The conference agreement includes a provision that allows the Administrator of the Rural Housing Service to spend not more than $10,000 for non-monetary awards to non-employees of the Department of Agriculture. The House bill had no similar provision.

RURAL BUSINESS-COOPERATIVE SERVICE

RURAL DEVELOPMENT LOAN FUND PROGRAM ACCOUNT

The conference agreement provides a total subsidy of $16,615,000 (providing for an estimated loan program level of $33,000,000) for the Rural Development Loan Fund Program Account as proposed by the Senate instead of $17,622,000 (providing for an estimated loan program level of $35,000,000) as proposed by the House.

The conference agreement also provides from the total amount available a subsidy of $3,215,520 (providing for an estimated loan program level of $7,246,000) for empowerment zones and enterprise communities as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement also provides $3,482,000 for administrative expenses as proposed by the Senate instead of $3,499,000 as proposed by the House.

The conference agreement adopts Senate language that provides that funds not obligated for empowerment zones/enterprise communities by June 30, 1999, will remain available for other authorized purposes. The House bill had no similar provision.

RURAL ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT LOANS PROGRAM ACCOUNT

The conference agreement rescinds $3,783,000 of funds derived from interest on the cushion of credit payments established in the Rural Electrification Act (7 U.S.C. 901) and further provides $3,783,000 (providing for an estimated loan program level of $15,000,000) for the cost of loans under the Rural Economic Development Loans Program Account as proposed by the House instead of $5,801,000 (providing for an estimated loan program level of $23,000,000) as proposed by the Senate.

RURAL COOPERATIVE DEVELOPMENT GRANTS

The conference agreement provides a total of $3,300,000 for rural cooperative development grants as proposed by the House instead of $3,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. Both House and Senate bills provide $1,300,000 from the total amount available for cooperative agreements for the Appropriate Technology Transfer for Rural Areas Program. The conference agreement also provides $250,000 for a cooperative development program as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement has not earmarked projects under this title but the conferees expect the Department to give consideration to the following projects requesting assistance under the Rural Cooperative Development Grants program: agricultural diversification, to be conducted by the Jefferson Institute, MO; Silos and Smokestacks, IA; and the Pennsylvania Cooperative Development Center. The conferees expect the Department to use established review procedures in considering these projects.

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides a direct appropriation of $25,680,000 for salaries and expenses of the Rural Business-Cooperative Service. The conference agreement further provides for transfers of $3,482,000 to this account from the Rural Development Loan Fund Program Account as proposed by the Senate instead of $3,499,000 as proposed by the House.

ALTERNATIVE AGRICULTURAL RESEARCH AND COMMERCIALIZATION CORPORATION REVOLVING FUND

The conference agreement provides $3,500,000 for the Alternative Agricultural Research and Commercialization Corporation Revolving Fund instead of $7,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. The House bill provided no funding for this account.

RURAL UTILITIES SERVICE

RURAL ELECTRIFICATION AND TELECOMMUNICATIONS LOANS PROGRAM ACCOUNT

The conference agreement provides a total subsidy of $43,319,000 (providing for an estimated loan program level of $1,561,500,000) for activities under the Rural Electrification and Telecommunications Loans Program Account as proposed by the House instead of $43,184,000 (providing for an estimated loan program level of $1,511,500,000) as proposed by the Senate.

The following table reflects the conference agreement:

Rural Electrification and Telecommunications Loans Program Account:

Loan authorizations:
Direct loans:
Electric 5%	(71,500,000)
Telecommunications 5%	(75,000,000)
Subtotal	(146,500,000)
Treasury rates: Telecommunications	(300,000,000)
Muni-rate: Electric	(295,000,000)
FFB loans:
Electric, regular	(700,000,000)
Telecommunications	(120,000,000)
Subtotal	(820,000,000)
Total, Loan authorizations	(1,561,500,000)
Loan subsidies:
Direct loans:
Electric 5%	9,325,000
Telecommunications 5%	7,342,000
Subtotal	16,667,000
Treasury rates: Telecommunications	810,000
Muni-rate: Electric	25,842,000
FFB loans: Electric, regular
Total, Loan subsidies	43,319,000
RETLP administrative expenses (transfer to RUS)	29,982,000
Total, Rural Electrification and Telecommunications Loans Program Account	73,301,000
(Loan authorization)	(1,561,500,000)

By increasing the amount available for Federal Financing Bank lending, it is the intent of the conferees that the Rural Utilities Service will fully utilize the authorities of section 306 of the Rural Electrification Act by issuing guarantees to private sector lenders such as the Cooperative Finance Corporation and other legally organized organizations to ensure the financial needs of borrowers are met in a timely and efficient manner.

RURAL TELEPHONE BANK PROGRAM ACCOUNT

The conference agreement provides a total subsidy of $4,174,000 (providing for an estimated loan program level of $157,509,000) for the Rural Telephone Bank Program Account instead of $4,638,000 (providing for an estimated loan program level of $175,000,000) as proposed by the House and $3,710,000 (providing for an estimated program level of $140,000,000) as proposed by the Senate.

DISTANCE LEARNING AND TELEMEDICINE PROGRAM

The conference agreement provides $12,680,000 for the Distance Learning and Telemedicine Program as proposed by the Senate instead of $10,180,000 as proposed by the House. The conference agreement also provides that $12,500,000 of the total amount shall be available for grants under this program as proposed by the Senate instead of $10,000,000 as proposed by the House. Both House and Senate bills provide a subsidy of $180,000 from the total amount available, which provides for an estimated loan level of $150,000,000.

TITLE IV—DOMESTIC FOOD PROGRAMS

OFFICE OF THE UNDER SECRETARY FOR FOOD, NUTRITION AND CONSUMER SERVICES

The conference agreement provides $554,000 for the Office of the Under Secretary for Food, Nutrition and Consumer Services as proposed by the Senate. The House bill provided an unspecified amount of funding for the Office of the Under Secretary from the Food Program Administration account.

FOOD AND NUTRITION SERVICE

CHILD NUTRITION PROGRAMS

The conference agreement provides a total of $9,176,897,000 for child nutrition programs instead of $9,218,647,000 as proposed by the House and $9,219,897,000 as proposed by the Senate. Included in this amount is an appropriated amount of $4,128,747,000 and an amount transferred from section 32 of $5,048,150,000.

The conference agreement includes language as proposed by the Senate providing that no funds are available for the commodity procurement program unless the value of section 32 commodities and section 416 commodities are calculated in meeting the minimum commodity assistance requirement of section 6(g) of the School Lunch Act.

The conference agreement provides the following:

Total Obligational Authority

Child Nutrition Programs:
School lunch program	$5,384,452,000
School breakfast program	1,396,955,000
Child and adult care food program	1,611,520,000
Summer food service program	294,414,000
Special milk program	18,055,000
State administrative expenses	118,074,000
Commodity procurement and computer support	337,127,000
School meals initiative	10,000,000
Coordinated review effort	4,300,000
Food safety education	2,000,000
Total	9,176,897,000

The conference agreement provides $10,000,000 for the school meals initiative. Included in this amount is $4,000,000 for food service training grants to states, $1,600,000 for technical assistance materials, $800,000 for National Food Service Management Institute cooperative agreements, $400,000 for print and electronic food service resource systems, and $3,200,000 for other activities.

SPECIAL SUPPLEMENTAL NUTRITION PROGRAM FOR WOMEN, INFANTS, AND CHILDREN (WIC)

The conference agreement provides $3,924,000,000 for the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC) as proposed by the House instead of $3,948,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement includes bill language that directs USDA to obligate $10,000,000 for the farmers' market nutrition program within 45 days of enactment of this Act, and an additional $5,000,000 for the farmers' market nutrition program from any funds not needed to maintain current caseload levels.

The conferees direct that USDA reduce to 120 days the time period in which states are required to report on monthly obligation of funds as proposed by the House. The Senate had no similar language.

The conferees direct the Department to review the methodology and data used to estimate participation and funding levels for WIC and to report to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations its recommendations for improvements no later than April 1, 1999, as proposed by the House. The Senate had no similar language.

The conferees address the need for a study on WIC cost containment activity under the Economic Research Service.

The conference agreement does not include bill language as proposed by the House regarding the allocation of fiscal year 1998 recovered funds.

The conference agreement includes bill language as proposed by the House that state agencies required to procure infant formula using a competitive bidding system award a contract only to the bidder offering the lowest net price.

FOOD STAMP PROGRAM

The conference agreement provides $22,585,106,000 for the Food Stamp Program instead of $22,591,806,000 as proposed by the House and $23,781,806,000 as proposed by the Senate. Included in this amount is a contingency reserve of $100,000,000. Also included in this amount is $1,236,000,000 for nutrition assistance to Puerto Rico and $90,000,000 for TEFAP commodity purchases.

COMMODITY ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

The conference agreement provides $131,000,000 for the Commodity Assistance Program instead of $141,000,000 as proposed by the House and Senate. Included in the amount is $45,000,000 for administration of TEFAP. The conferees provide that these funds may be used for administration or food costs at the discretion of the states. The conferees note that there is a $10,000,000 carryover from fiscal year 1998 in this account for the Commodity Supplemental Food Program and have adjusted the appropriation accordingly.

FOOD PROGRAM ADMINISTRATION

The conference agreement provides $108,561,000 for Food Program Administration instead of $108,311,000 as proposed by the House and $109,069,000 as proposed by the Senate. Included in this amount is $252,000 for publication of Dietary Guidelines and $725,000 for program and financial integrity advancement. The conference agreement includes language that withholds $2,000,000 of this appropriation until a final rule is promulgated to curb vendor-related fraud in the WIC program as proposed by the House.

The conferees understand USDA is reviewing the Dietary Guidelines and should ensure that scientific messages on dietary and nutritional behaviors are consistent among the Dietary Guidelines, the Food Guide Pyramid, and any related nutritional publications.

The conferees direct that the funds transferred to this account from the Economic Research Service be used for programmatic studies and evaluations directly related to USDA programs, and that any welfare reform studies, analyses, or evaluations undertaken shall directly relate to USDA programs.

TITLE V—FOREIGN ASSISTANCE AND RELATED PROGRAMS

FOREIGN AGRICULTURAL SERVICE AND GENERAL SALES MANAGER

The conference agreement includes a direct appropriation of $136,203,000 instead of $131,295,000 as proposed by the House and $131,795,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement adopts a Senate provision which provides for the transfer of $3,231,000 from the Export Loan Program and $1,035,000 from the P.L. 480 program account under the P.L. 480 and Export Loan program accounts. The House bill provided for these transfers under this heading.

The conference agreement does not include a Senate provision providing up to $2,000,000 solely for the purpose of offsetting international exchange rate fluctuations. The House bill had no similar provision. The conferees note that the deletion of this provision does not indicate a judgment on the merits of the request but reflects the fact that the agency has not developed a plan for this activity as requested in the fiscal year 1998 conference agreement. The conferees expect such a plan to be submitted with the fiscal year 2000 President's Budget.

The amount provided includes $4,408,000 for the International Cooperative Administrative Support Service Program.

Recent economic developments in Russia and other countries have jeopardized export markets for many U.S. agricultural products. The conferees direct the Secretary to utilize existing authorities including, but not limited to, the Export Enhancement Program, the Food for Progress Program, P.L. 480, and GSM credit programs to facilitate additional sales and donations to maintain and expand export markets.

The conferees recognize that poultry has been one of the primary components of exports to Russia in the past and that Russia has comprised a major portion of the export market for U.S. poultry products. The conferees expect the Secretary to consider the historic composition of export sales to Russia when allocating credits and donations.

The conference agreement includes $128,000 of the total provided for a representation allowance as proposed by the Senate instead of $140,000 as proposed by the House. The conferees also provide $3,500,000 for the Cochran Fellowship Program.

PUBLIC LAW 480 PROGRAM AND GRANT ACCOUNTS

The following table reflects the conference agreement for Public Law 480 Program Accounts:

Public Law 480 Program and Grant Accounts:
Title I—Credit sales:
Program level	(219,724,000)
Direct loans	(203,475,000)
Ocean freight differential	16,249,000
Title II—Commodities for disposition abroad:
Program level	(837,000,000)
Appropriation	837,000,000
Title III—Commodity grants:
Program level	(25,000,000)
Appropriation	25,000,000
Loan subsidies	176,596,000
Salaries and expenses:
General Sales Manager (transfer to FAS)	1,035,000
Farm Service Agency (transfer to FSA)	815,000
Subtotal	1,850,000
Total, Public Law 480:
Program level	(1,081,724,000)
Appropriation	1,056,695,000

The conferees are concerned that Agency for International Development (AID) and Title II operational policies are not fully meeting both statutory mandates and the program's primary humanitarian objective of providing U.S. agricultural products and commodities for feeding the needy worldwide. While encouraged by recent aid commitments to increase relief-type feeding programs, the conferees expect AID, to the extent practicable, in utilizing the funds provided herein, to ensure that the non-emergency programs, including monetization programs, comply with the statutory requirement that 75% of the commodities provided be in the form of highly nutritious value-added agricultural commodities.

TITLE VI—RELATED AGENCIES AND FOOD AND DRUG ADMINISTRATION

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

FOOD AND DRUG ADMINISTRATION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes a direct appropriation of $1,103,140,000 for the salaries and expenses of the Food and Drug Administration, instead of $998,340,000 as proposed by the House and $1,062,642,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The following table reflects the conference agreement:

Food Safety & Applied Nutrition	$231,580,000
Human Drugs	200,305,000
Biologics	96,279,000
Animal Drugs and Feeds	41,973,000
Devices & Radiological Products	145,736,000
National Center for Toxicological Research	31,579,000
Tobacco	34,000,000
Rent and related activities	25,855,000
Other activities	80,694,000
Rental Payments to GSA	82,866,000
Subtotal	970,867,000

Prescription Drug User Fees ¹	132,273,000
Total	1,103,140,000

¹Of the total $132,273,000 in PDUFA collections, $91,676,000 is for Human Drugs, $28,816,000 is for Biologics, $6,353,000 is for other activities, and $5,428,000 is for payments to the General Services Administration.

The conference agreement includes an increase of $2,500,000 for the Office of Cosmetics and Color; $500,000 to begin development of a new approval process for food packaging materials; $1,000,000 for the Office of Generic Drugs; and $250,000 for the Office of Seafood Inspection. Within the amount for the Office of Seafood Inspection $200,000 is for a grant to the Interstate Shellfish Sanitation Commission.

The conference agreement includes an increase of $25,000,000 for the Food Safety Initiative. The FDA should use $24,500,000 for increased food inspection and $500,000 for research at the National Center for Toxicological Research.

The conferees expect the FDA to publish a proposed rule concerning the use of foreign marketing data in the review of new sunscreen active ingredients in the sunscreen over-the-counter drug monograph. The conferees expect the proposed rule will be published not later than June 1, 1999.

The conferees note that the Food and Drug Administration will soon consider a citizen petition requesting approval of disjunctive labeling for surimi. The conferees strongly urge the agency to act in an expeditious manner to propose a rule in response to the petition, but in no case shall the FDA propose such a rule later than six months after the receipt of the citizen petition, nor shall the agency finalize such a rule later than twelve months after the receipt of the citizen petition.

Included within the amount is $700,000 for the Clinical Pharmacology program. The conferees expect these funds to be used for competitive grants.

The conferees note that recent court decisions (Mova Pharmaceutical Corp. v. Shalala, 104 F.3d 1061 (D.C. Cir. 1998); Granotec, Inc. v. Shalala, No. 97-1873 and No. 97-1874, 1998 U.S. App. LEXIS 6685 (4th Cir. Apr 3, 1998)) have invalidated an element of the Food and Drug Administration's regulations regarding the 180-day exclusivity period for first applicants under section 505(j)(5)(B)(iv) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act. The conferees strongly urge the FDA to use the funds provided to issue new regulations and guidance for industry to fulfill the intent of the Generic Drug Act (Waxman/Hatch) for the broadest possible availability of generic drugs to consumers consistent with the Act.

BUILDINGS AND FACILITIES

The conference agreement provides $11,350,000 for Food and Drug Administration Buildings and Facilities as proposed by the House instead of $12,350,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement provides $3,000,000 for construction of Phase III at the National Center for Toxicological Research as proposed by the House instead of $4,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conferees expect these funds, in addition to any Phase II remaining balances, to be sufficient to initiate Phase III construction.

RENTAL PAYMENTS

The conference agreement provides $88,294,000 for FDA rental costs in the salaries and expenses account as proposed by the Senate. The House proposed these funds in a separate account.

INDEPENDENT AGENCIES

COMMODITY FUTURES TRADING COMMISSION

The conference agreement provides $61,000,000 for the Commodity Futures Trading Commission as proposed by the Senate instead of $62,140,000 as proposed by the House.

FARM CREDIT ADMINISTRATION

LIMITATION OF ADMINISTRATIVE EXPENSES

The conference agreement adopts the limitation of $35,800,000 on the expenses of the Farm Credit Administration as proposed by the House. The Senate bill had no limitation on expenses.

TITLE VII—GENERAL PROVISIONS

Senate Section 705.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 705) proposed by the Senate to allow up to $2,000,000 for costs associated with collocation of APHIS regional offices to remain available until expended.

House Section 710.—The conference agreement does not include language proposed by the House that limits agencies' reimbursement to General Services Administration for costs for rental space.

House Section 716 and Senate Section 715.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 715) proposed by the House that allows the Grain Inspection, Packers and Stockyards Administration to use cooperative agreements to carry out programs.

Senate Section 716.—The conference agreement includes language that allows the Natural Resources Conservation Service to use contracts, grants or cooperative agreements for goods or services.

Senate Section 717 and House Section 718.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 718) proposed by the Senate that permanently prohibits funds of the Market Access Program from being used to promote mink product exports.

House Section 719 and Senate Section 718.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 719) to allow up to $1,800,000 for expenses of advisory committees, panels, commissions, and task forces. The House bill recommended a limit of $1,400,000 and the Senate bill recommended a limit of $1,350,000.

Senate Section 722.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 723) to require the approval of the Chief Information Officer for purchases of information technology systems or upgrades by the Department of Agriculture. The language also includes a provision to prohibit any transfers of funds to the Office of the Chief Information Officer without the prior approval of the Committees on Appropriation of both Houses.

House Section 724.—The conference agreement does not include language relating to common support services. The conferees concur that the Department has sufficient authority to carry out such a program.

Senate Section 724.—The conference agreement modifies language (Section 727) to prohibit contract acreage payments to a producer who plants wild rice on contract acreage unless the contract payment is reduced by an acre for each contract acre planted to wild rice. The agreement deletes the Senate provision that made this permanent law.

Senate Section 725.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 728) that names the National Rice Germplasm Evaluation and Enhancement Center the “Dale Bumpers National Rice Research Center.”

Senate Section 726.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 729) proposed by the Senate to allow the Secretary of Agriculture to transfer, subject to reprogramming requirements, up to $26,000,000 for authorized programs to benefit the Lower Mississippi Delta Region. This amount should include any and all funds provided to that region as part of the total.

House Section 725 and Senate Section 727.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 725) to prohibit funding for the Fund for Rural America.

House Section 726.—The conference agreement does not include language proposed by the House that prohibited funding for the Wildlife Habitat Incentive Program.

House Section 727.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 726) proposed by the House that limits funding for the Environmental Quality Incentives Program to $174,000,000.

House and Senate Section 728.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 730) to limit acreage enrolled in the Wetlands Reserve Program to 120,000 acres as proposed by the Senate. The House proposed a limit of 130,000 acres.

House and Senate Section 729.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 731) to limit funding for The Emergency Food Assistance Program to $90,000,000 as proposed by the House instead of $80,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

Senate Section 730 and House Section 739.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 740) that prohibits funding for the Conservation Farm Option Program as proposed by both the House and Senate.

House Section 730.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 732) that prohibits funding for the Initiative for Future Agricultural and Food Systems (P.L. 105–185) as proposed by the House.

Senate Section 731.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 743) proposed by the Senate that amended Public Law 102–237 with regard to control of the brown tree snake.

House Section 731.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 733) proposed by the House to make the City of Big Spring, Texas eligible for rural housing programs.

House Section 732.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 734) that makes the municipality of Carolina, Puerto Rico eligible for grants and loans administered by the Rural Utilities Service.

Senate Section 732.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 744) as proposed by the Senate that makes funds in this or any other Act available for financial and technical assistance for the purpose of constructing the Franklin County Lake Project, Mississippi.

House Section 734 and Senate Section 736.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 736) as proposed by the House that does not allow funds from this Act to be used to carry out any commodity purchase program that would prohibit eligibility or participation by a farmer-owned cooperative.

Senate Section 733.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 745) that makes the cost share requirement for Alaska water and wastewater loan and grants 25% and the authorized level $20,000,000.

Senate Section 735.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 746) as proposed by the Senate that prohibits the Food and Drug Administration from closing or relocating the Division of Drug Analysis in St. Louis, MO.

House Section 735.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 737) as proposed by the House that amends the technical definition of the word “antibacterial” in the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

House Section 736.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 738) as proposed by the House that prohibits funds from being used to issue a final rule to implement the amendments to the Federal milk marketing orders as required by subsection (a) of the Agricultural Market Transition Act other than during the period February 1, 1999 through April 4, 1999. The conference agreement also modifies the House provision to include language clarifying marketing order reform in the State of California.

House Section 737 and Senate Section 738.—The conference agreement does not include language proposed by both the House and Senate related to sanctions for the sales of agricultural products. A similar provision has been enacted into law.

Senate Section 737.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 747) proposed by the Senate which requires the Secretary of Agriculture to inspect and certify agricultural processing equipment and to impose a fee for the inspection and certification in a manner that is similar to the inspection and certification of agricultural products under the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946.

House Section 738.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 739) which requires that when the Secretary of Agriculture announces the basic formula price for milk, the Secretary shall include in the announcement an estimate of the costs incurred by milk producers to produce milk in the different regions of the United States.

Senate Section 739.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 748) as proposed by the Senate to prohibit funds from being used to require a producer to pay an administrative fee of 10 per cent for catastrophic insurance protection. The language also makes the provision permanent law.

House Section 740 and Senate Section 761.—The conference agreement includes bill language (Section 741) that waives the statute of limitations on non-employment complaints of discrimination in certain programs of the Department of Agriculture.

Senate Section 741.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 749) as proposed by the Senate that mandates the indefinite continuation of a personnel management demonstration project.

House Section 741.—The conference agreement does not include language as proposed by the House that provides that the Secretary may not deny certain guarantees in housing on the basis that the interest on the loan for which the guarantee is sought is exempt from inclusion in gross income for purposes of Chapter 1 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986. This provision has been authorized in other legislation.

Senate Section 742.—The conference agreement does not include language proposed by the Senate that extends the authorization of certain provisions of the Housing Act of 1949. These provisions have been authorized in other legislation. The conference agreement provides language (Section 750) making foreign national employees of the Foreign Agricultural Service, killed or injured in the bombings of the U.S. embassies in Kenya and Tanzania, eligible for certain types of compensation.

Section 742.—The conference agreement includes language that makes the Secretary of Agriculture liable for compensatory damages to farmers who are found to have been discriminated against under any farm loan program or activity conducted by the USDA in violation of section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973.

House Section 742.—The conference agreement does not include language to prohibit the Food and Drug Administration from using funds for the testing, development, or approval of any drug for the chemical inducement of abortion.

Senate Section 743.—The conference agreement does not include bill language as proposed by the Senate requiring a review of methyl bromide alternatives research. The House bill had no similar provision. The conferees expect the Agricultural Research Service to conduct a review of the methyl bromide alternatives research conducted by the Department. The review should include: (1) the total amount of funds expended by the Department for methyl bromide alternatives research for each fiscal year 1990 to 1997 and estimates for fiscal years 1998 and 1999, including a description of how funds are distributed and utilized; (2) descriptions of plot and field scale testing of methyl bromide alternatives conducted in fiscal years 1990 through 1998, including: (a) total amount of funds expended for plot and field scale testing; and (b) the results of the testing and the impact of the results on future research; and (3) a description of the variables that impact the effectiveness of methyl bromide alternatives and the Department's strategy for addressing them.

The conferees expect the Department to submit a report describing the results of its review to the appropriate committees of both Houses of Congress not later than 180 days after enactment of this Act.

Senate Section 744.—The conference agreement does not include language proposed by the Senate regarding the need to provide drought relief in Texas. The conference agreement includes language related to all agriculture disasters in Titles XI–XIII.

Senate Section 745.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 751) proposed by the Senate that amends the 1985 farm bill to exempt 30-year easements from payment limitations for the Wetlands Reserve Program.

Senate Section 746.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 752) proposed by the Senate that acceptance of Wetlands Reserve Program bids may be in proportion to landowner interest expressed in program operations.

Senate Section 748.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 754) proposed by the Senate that prohibits funds from being used to prepare a budget submission to Congress that assumes reductions from the previous year's budget due to user fee proposals unless the submission also identifies spending reductions which should occur if the user fees are not enacted.

Senate Sections 747 and 752.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 753) that makes several technical corrections to the Agriculture Research, Extension, and Education Reform Act.

Senate Section 749.—The conference agreement does not include language to establish a pilot program to permit haying and grazing on conservation reserve land.

Senate Section 750.—The conference agreement includes language proposed by the Senate (Section 755) that amends the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 regarding shipment of shell eggs and mandates a report on egg safety and repackaging.

Senate Section 751.—The conference agreement does not include the sense of the Senate provision regarding economic hardships faced by agricultural producers and rural communities. The conference agreement includes language related to agriculture disasters in Titles XI–XIII.

Senate Section 753.—The conference agreement does not include language proposed by the Senate that exempts food, other agricultural products, medicines and medical equipment from export control sanctions except where the country repeatedly provided support for the acts of terrorism.

Senate Section 754.—The conference agreement does not include language proposed by the Senate regarding mandatory price reporting. Mandatory price reporting language is included in section 1127 of title XI of this Act.

The conferees direct the Secretary of Agriculture to take steps to increase the voluntary reporting of fed cattle, and wholesale beef carcass prices and volumes on a quality and yield grade basis, as well as the prices and volumes of boxed beef (on carcass equivalent basis) sales by quality grades and trim categories, on a daily basis. These reports may include all domestic and international forward sales for delivery period currently reported, prices for branded products, sales delivered as priced basis to a futures contract, sales of less than carlot volume and formulated sales. The Secretary shall encourage the reporting of the price differential for USDA

Prime, the upper $\frac{2}{3}$ of USDA Choice, and a sub-select price category. Reports should include imported beef products and livestock.

With regard to lamb, the conferees direct the Secretary of Agriculture to expand current voluntary reporting of live lamb and wholesale lamb carcass prices and volumes on a yield grade basis, as well as the prices and volumes of boxed lamb and other fabricated lamb cut sales. Price should be reported on a weekly basis, for the period currently reported, and should include prices for certified and branded products, sales of less than carlot volume and formulated sales. Reports should include imported lamb products.

The Secretary of Agriculture shall compile and publish price, volume sales, and the shipment information regarding all exports and imports of beef, veal, lamb and products thereof which is collected via the expanded voluntary process. The livestock, carcass, boxed product, primal, sub-primal and other meat cut descriptions currently being used by AMS Market News Service should serve as a basis for describing and reporting imported and exported products for price and volume purposes. The Secretary shall also standardize AMS price reporting data collection activities to ensure uniformity and complete sales data capture and to maximize the information available to all aspects of the industry. The Secretary shall report to Congress on the feasibility or need for mandatory price reporting. The Secretary shall encourage the information to be reported not later than one week after the end of the week during which exports occurred consistent with the advanced notice of rule-making published by USDA during 1997.

Senate Section 755.—The conference agreement does not include language related to metered dose inhalers. The House bill had no similar provision. The conferees note the Senate's interest in a transition from the use of chlorofluorocarbons (CFCs) in metered-dose inhalers (MDIs) to less environmentally damaging substances, as required by international treaty. The use of CFCs has been shown to be harmful to the atmospheric ozone layer, which protects humans from skin cancer, although the magnitude of the environmental impact of the amount of CFCs used in MDIs is unclear. Metered-dose inhalers, which contain CFCs as propellants, are used primarily for the treatment of asthma and other chronic pulmonary disorders. Asthma and pulmonary patients and physicians rightfully believe that the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) must consider their concerns, as well as the need to have a range of suitable substitutes in place before current products are withdrawn from the market, as the agency moves forward with a proposal to manage the transition from CFC to non-CFC products. At the same time, clear and timely guidance about a transition process is needed by both patients and caregivers. Therefore, the conferees direct FDA to devote the resources necessary to ensure that a proposed rule is issued no later than September 1, 1999.

Senate Section 756.—The conference agreement does not include language proposed by the Senate directing the Secretary, in consultation with the Comptroller General, to submit a report on the Market Access Program (MAP) to the appropriate committees of Congress not later than 180 days after enactment of this Act.

The conferees direct the Secretary to produce a report on the MAP which should include an analysis of the costs and benefits of the program for compliance with OMB circular A-94; estimate the impact of MAP on the agricultural sector, on consumers, and other sectors of the economy in the United States; assess the relation between the priorities and spending levels of programs carried out under MAP and the privately funded market promotion activities undertaken by participants in the programs; and evaluate the additional spending of participants and the amount of export additionally resulting from the MAP.

Senate Section 757.—The conference agreement does not include Sense of the Senate language regarding the economic effect of low commodity prices. The conference agreement includes language regarding agricultural disasters in Titles XI–XIII.

Senate Section 758.—The conference agreement does not include language as proposed by the Senate that amends the law regarding reserve inventories. The conference agreement includes language relating to agricultural disasters in Titles XI–XIII.

Senate Section 759.—The conference agreement does not include language proposed by the Senate that provided for an assessment on tobacco programs and reductions in several Department of Agriculture programs and increased funding for food safety related activities.

Senate Section 760.—The conference agreement (Section 756) modifies Senate Section 760 and reduces the spending cap on computer-related activities funding through the CCC.

Senate Section 762.—The conference agreement does not include language proposed by the Senate to amend the Census of Agriculture Act of 1997. This issue is addressed under the National Agricultural Statistics Service.

Senate Section 763.—The conference agreement includes language (Section 757) as proposed by the Senate that makes certain owners of trees with fire blight eligible for disaster assistance.

Senate Section 764.—The conference agreement does not include language as proposed by the Senate that requires the Secretary of Agriculture to make assistance and information available to the Commission on 21st Century Production Agriculture. The conferees expect the Secretary to assist and cooperate as necessary with the Commission.

Senate Section 765.—The conference agreement does not include bill language requiring country of origin labeling for fresh produce.

The conferees direct the General Accounting Office (GAO) to conduct a comprehensive study on the potential effects of mandatory country of origin labeling of fresh produce. This report should assess the impact of such mandatory labeling requirements on importers, producers, consumers, and retailers, including a cost/benefit analysis. The report should identify U.S. trading-partner countries which currently have country of origin practices in place, the nature and scope of such practices, and a record of U.S. challenges to those requirements. The GAO report should also address the ability of the Federal government and the public to respond to warnings about the outbreak of food-borne illness arising from imported produce. The final report should be submitted to the Congress no later than six months after the enactment of this Act.

Senate Section 766.—The conference agreement does not include the Sense of the Senate provision that certain programs in the bill receive additional funding in the event that additional allocation becomes available.

Senate Section 767.—The conference agreement does not include a provision requiring creation of a new Office of the Small Farms Advocate as provided in the Senate bill. The conferees believe that better management of existing programs within the Department, generally, would result in a more efficient and effective use of limited resources as they apply to small farms and other considerations. Accordingly, the conferees urge the Secretary to coordinate activities and to encourage policy considerations within existing programs of the Department that promote the needs of small farm operators and that may help reverse the unwarranted decline in small farm operations.

Senate Section 768.—The conference agreement does not include Senate language addressing the inadvertent planting of ineligible beans. The conferees are aware that there may be instances in which producers, in good faith or in reliance on information provided by agricultural consultants, inadvertently planted crops in violation of section 118 of the Federal Agriculture Improvement and Reform Act of 1996 (FAIR). The FAIR Act encouraged producers to exercise planting flexibility in order to adapt to new markets and to promote sound conservation and agronomic practices. Accordingly, the Secretary is urged to exercise reasonable treatment of producers in order to avoid harmful consequences.

Senate Section 769.—The conference agreement does not include language as proposed by the Senate that requires a report to Congress on a recommendation to lift the ban on interstate distribution of state inspected meat. The conferees direct the Secretary of Agriculture to report to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations by March 1, 1999, with recommendations on lifting the ban on the interstate distribution of State-inspected meat.

Senate Section 770.—The conference agreement includes language under Title VIII regarding loans to borrowers who have received debt forgiveness.

Senate Section 771.—The conference agreement does not include language related to the definition of family farm.

Senate Section 772.—The conference agreement includes language under Title VIII regarding the basis for denial of loans.

Senate Section 773.—The conference agreement does not include language as proposed by the Senate that amends the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act regarding medical drug and device recalls.

Section 759.—The conference agreement includes language proposed by the House to make the city of Vineland, New Jersey eligible for programs administered by the Rural Housing Service and the Rural Business-Cooperative Service.

Section 760.—The conferees include language that places a moratorium on the rule-making authority of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC) over swaps and derivatives until March 30, 1999. The conferees do not intend to preclude the CFTC's participation in the President's Working Group on Financial Markets. Further, the conferees do not intend to preclude the Commission from taking action pursuant to any determination by the President's Working Group on Financial Markets regarding regulatory restraints with respect to qualifying hybrid instruments and swap agreements.

In light of recent market events, including the need for financial rescue measures to avert the collapse of a large hedge fund, the conferees strongly urge the President's Working Group on Financial Markets to undertake an immediate review and study of over-the-counter transactions of entities such as hedge funds and their relationships with their creditors. This provision would not interfere with the Commission's ability to take action in furtherance of any determination by the President's Working Group.

Section 761.—The conference agreement includes language providing a limitation on the use of funds to carry out section 612 of Public Law 105–185.

Section 762.—The conference agreement includes language amending section 136 of the Agricultural Market Transition Act (7 U.S.C. 7236) by striking “1.25 cents” each place it appears in subsection (a) and (b) and inserting “3 cents”.

Section 763.—The conference agreement includes language regarding the distribution of funds made available by section 1124 of subtitle C of Title XI of this Act.

Section 764.—The conference agreement includes language regarding methyl bromide.

Section 765.—The conference agreement includes language that allows permanent employees of the Farm Service Agency county committees employed in fiscal year 1998 to apply for Department of Agriculture civil service vacancies.

Section 766.—The conference agreement provides not to exceed $15,000,000 for grants in connection with a second round for rural empowerment zone and rural enterprise community program designations.

TITLE VIII—AGRICULTURAL CREDIT

The conference agreement includes several changes to agricultural credit laws including eligibility for emergency loans, notification of ineligibility for loans, training requirement exemptions, limitations on amount of farm loans, and cash flow requirements.

TITLE IX—INDIA-PAKISTAN RELIEF ACT

The conference agreement adopts Senate language (Title IX) allowing waivers of certain export control laws for India and Pakistan.

(SENATE TITLE X)

The conference agreement does not include language proposed by the Senate requiring meat labeling.

The conferees direct the Secretary to conduct a comprehensive study on the potential effects of mandatory country of origin labeling of imported fresh muscle cuts of beef and lamb. The report shall include the impact of such requirements on imports, exports, livestock producers, consumers, processors, packers, distributors and grocers. The report shall also include, but is not limited to, the following: any additional costs to the Federal government which would be incurred as a result of mandatory country of origin labeling of imported fresh muscle cuts of beef and lamb; the projected costs for beef and lamb distributors, retailers or consumers; any projected gains that may result from country of origin labeling of imported fresh muscle cuts of beef and lamb; and any empirical evidence of benefit or harm, to producers, processors, distributors, retailers or consumers produced by similar labeling programs in other countries. The report shall be submitted to Congress no later than 6 months after the enactment of this Act and shall contain a detailed statement of the findings and conclusions of the Secretary, together with his recommendations for such legislation and administrative actions as he considers appropriate.

The study may also consider the economic effects of exempting imported beef and lamb, including meat produced from animals imported directly for slaughter in sealed trucks and containers, from eligibility for USDA quality grades. The Secretary is directed to differentiate "meat produced from animals in sealed trucks and containers directly for slaughter" from "U.S. production" in all market reports.

TITLE X—UNDER SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE FOR MARKETING AND REGULATORY PROGRAMS

The conferees have included bill language that gives the Secretary of Agriculture the authority to create an Under Secretary for Marketing and Regulatory Programs position at USDA.

TITLE XI—EMERGENCY AND MARKET LOSS ASSISTANCE

The conference agreement includes funding to provide assistance to agricultural producers who have suffered financial hardship due to adverse weather conditions and loss of markets.

The conference agreement provides $1,500,000,000 in assistance directed to producers who have incurred losses in the 1998 crop due to disaster. An additional $875,000,000 is provided to make available assistance to producers who have incurred multiyear losses in the period to include 1998 and preceding crop years. The Secretary may make assistance available for crop losses due to losses in quantity, quality or severe economic losses due to damaging weather or related conditions.

The conference agreement requires that producers receiving crop loss assistance who have not purchased crop insurance for the 1998 crop shall agree to purchase crop insurance for the 1999 and 2000 crops produced by the producers.

The conference agreement makes available $200,000,000 to provide livestock feed assistance to livestock producers affected by disasters during calendar year 1998.

The conferees have granted the Secretary broad authority to create and implement a crop loss assistance program with the funds made available. This will allow the Secretary to complete an assessment of 1998 crop losses and provide the maximum flexibility to expedite the delivery of assistance.

The conference agreement provides $3,057,000,000 to partially compensate producers for loss of markets in 1998 due to circumstances beyond their control, such as regional economic dislocation, unilateral trade sanctions and failure of the government to pursue trade opportunities aggressively. Payments shall be proportional to the amount of the production flexibility contract payment made to producers in fiscal year 1998.

TITLE XII—BIODIESEL

The conference agreement includes language that creates a biodiesel program. The Senate bill included similar language.

TITLE XIII—EMERGENCY APPROPRIATIONS

The conference agreement includes additional funding for emergency related costs including $40,000,000 for salaries and expenses for the Farm Service Agency to carry out Title XI of this Act, $31,405,000 for subsidy costs for additional operating loans for a total loan amount of $540,510,000, $3,000,000 for the Dairy Production Disaster Assistance Program and $10,000,000 for the Forestry Incentives Program.

The conference agreement makes available $200,000,000 to dairy producers in a manner to be determined by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Any market loss payments made under authority of this legislation shall not be treated as a contract (AMTA) payment for purposes of section 115 of Title I of the Federal Agriculture Improvement and Reform Act of 1996 or section 1001, paragraphs (1) through (4), of the Food Security Act of 1985.

To ensure timely delivery of market loss payments to eligible producers and owners, the conferees urge the Secretary to make the payments available under the same terms and conditions as 1998 contract payments provided these payments are excluded from the provisions of section 115 of title I of the Federal Agriculture Improvement and Reform Act of 1996 and section 1001, paragraphs (1) through (4), as amended, of the Food Security Act of 1985. It should not be necessary to require eligible owners and operators to file new contracts or redesignate shares in order to receive market loss payments.

The agreement includes $50,000,000 for emergency disaster assistance to persons or entities who have incurred losses from a failure under section 312(a) of P.L. 94-265, $5,000,000 for cotton warehouse losses, temporary recourse loans for honey and mohair, and adjustments to crop insurance for raisin producers. The conference agreement includes language providing additional funds for the Food for Progress program.

The conferees direct the Farm Service Agency to take into consideration the history of flooding in a watershed in determining emergency conservation program eligibility in Vermont.

The conferees expect the Secretary of Agriculture to extend for two years the time period that a participant in the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) has for completion of pruning, thinning, and stand improvement of trees on lands subject to a contract under CRP. Such pruning, thinning, or stand improvement activities are otherwise required to be completed under the contract in 1998 or 1999.

The conferees expect the Secretary of Agriculture to provide guaranteed loans for purposes of installing irrigation systems if a farmer operates a farm within an area that has been declared an agricultural disaster due to drought conditions.

The conferees understand that in addition to the devastating forest fires that occurred in Florida earlier this year, the drought in Texas has also had a significant impact on timber production and forest health. The conferees also understand that it may take several planting seasons to complete the reforestation due to lack of available planting stock.

The conferees are concerned about the weather-related crop losses that have devastated New York State fruit and onion growers in 1998. The Secretary shall make funding available to assist producers who have incurred losses during the 1998 crop year to fruit crops and to the trees and vines on which those fruit crops are produced.

The Secretary is also directed to develop a crop disaster assistance program suitable for the New York State fruit and onion growers. The Secretary shall provide financial assistance to apple producers proportioned according to their volume of apples sold in fresh, processing and juice markets, based on 1997 marketing data, and shall not deduct a salvage value when the cost of harvesting a crop in that marketing category approximates the 1998 cash market value at the time of harvest.

The Secretary shall make eligible for the Emergency Conservation Program fruit drops in orchards as well as replacement of trellises in orchards and vineyards that were damaged by storms.

The managers direct that in carrying out the disaster relief activities funded by this conference agreement, the Secretary of Agriculture shall give particular attention to assessing and meeting the needs of Puerto Rico and the United States Virgin Islands following Hurricane Georges. The Secretary should take all necessary steps to help the territories recover from the 1998 hurricane season and restore their agricultural economies, such as covering losses in livestock and non-program crops, including but not limited to coffee, bananas, and tropical fruits.

The conference agreement includes language that provides for a domestic market reporting pilot program and an export market reporting pilot investigation. The conferees expect the Secretary to utilize any previously collected data to the maximum extent practicable in implementing this section. Nothing in this section shall be construed as requiring the reporting of information relating to feeder cattle.

CONFERENCE TOTAL—WITH COMPARISONS

The total new budget (obligational) authority for the fiscal year 1999 recommended by the Committee of Conference, with comparisons to the fiscal year 1998 amount, the 1999 budget estimates, and the House and Senate bills for 1999 follow:

New budget (obligational) authority, fiscal year 1998	$49,793,563,000
Budget estimates of new (obligational) authority, fiscal year 1999	59,567,544,000

House bill, fiscal year 1999	55,883,142,000
Senate bill, fiscal year 1999	56,820,368,000
Conference agreement, fiscal year 1999	61,607,490,000
Conference agreement compared with:
New budget (obligational) authority, fiscal year 1998	+11,813,927,000
Budget estimates of new (obligational) authority, fiscal year
1999	+2,039,946,000
House bill, fiscal year 1999	+5,724,348,000

SECTION 101(b): DEPARTMENTS OF COMMERCE, JUSTICE, AND STATE, THE JUDICIARY, AND RELATED AGENCIES
APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 1999

The conferees on H.R. 4328 agree with the matter inserted in this subsection of this conference agreement and the following description of this matter. This matter was developed through negotiations on the differences in the House and Senate versions of H.R. 4276, the Departments of Commerce, Justice, and State, the Judiciary, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 1999, by members of the appropriations subcommittee of both the House and Senate with jurisdiction over H.R. 4276.

The legislative intent in the House and Senate versions in H.R. 4276 is set forth in the accompanying House report (H. Rept. 105-636) and the accompanying Senate report (S. Rept. 105-235).

TITLE I—DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

GENERAL ADMINISTRATION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $79,448,000 for General Administration, as proposed in the House bill, instead of $76,199,000 as proposed in the Senate bill.

Within this amount, the conference agreement includes $8,136,000 for the Department Leadership Program, as proposed in the House bill, instead of $7,860,000, as proposed in the Senate bill. In addition, the conference agreement includes a provision, as proposed in the House bill, that retains the level of augmentation in the Department Leadership Program to the level that occurred in these offices in fiscal year 1998, which was not included in the Senate bill.

The conference agreement also includes a provision that provides 41 permanent positions and 48 full-time equivalent workyears and $4,811,000 for the Offices of Legislative Affairs and Public Affairs, as proposed in the House bill, instead of 39 permanent positions and 39 full-time equivalent workyears and $4,660,000, as proposed in the Senate bill.

The conference agreement includes a provision that provides the Attorney General the authority to transfer forfeited property of limited value to a State or local government or its designee for certain community-based programs, subject to reprogramming requirements, as proposed in the Senate bill. The House bill included a similar provision in Section 109. The House and Senate report language with respect to the study of Justice issues in Alaska, the transfer of $5,000,000 to the Justice Management Division, and the House report language with respect to the Immigration and Naturalization Service is adopted by reference.

JOINT AUTOMATED BOOKING SYSTEM

The conference agreement does not include $10,000,000 in a separate account to fund the Joint Automated Booking System, as proposed in the Senate bill. This is an activity which may be funded in fiscal year 1999 with Super Surplus funds available under the Assets Forfeiture Fund, as proposed in the House bill. In future years, it is expected that additional funding will be proposed as a separate account.

NARROWBAND COMMUNICATIONS

The conference agreement does not include new direct appropriations for this Fund. Instead, the conference agreement assumes that up to $23,396,000 may be derived from Super Surplus balances in the Assets Forfeiture Fund to establish this Fund to be under the control of the Attorney General.

Of the total amounts available in the Fund in fiscal year 1999, the Attorney General is expected to use up to $5,552,000 to establish a Department-wide narrowband program office and to conduct a baseline technical assessment of wireless communications to support Department-wide conversion in order to maximize opportunities for interoperability and resource sharing. In accordance with the direction included in both the House and Senate reports, the Attorney General is expected to submit a narrowband conversion master plan to the Committees on Appropriations no later than December 1, 1998. In addition, the Attorney General is expected to ensure that Department of Justice components comply with the direction included in the Senate report with respect to the purchase of communications equipment.

COUNTERTERRORISM FUND

The conference agreement includes $145,000,000 in direct appropriations for the Counterterrorism Fund, instead of $89,200,000 as proposed in the House bill and $193,999,000 as proposed in the Senate bill.

The conference agreement includes $10,000,000 from the Counterterrorism Fund for the National Critical Infrastructure Protection Center (NIPC), instead of $19,999,000 proposed in the Senate bill. The NIPC was established in fiscal year 1998 as the Computer Intrusion Threat Assessment Center (CITAC). The House bill did not propose funding NIPC from the Fund, but instead provided resources under the Federal Bureau of Investigations (FBI) Salaries and Expenses account. The conference agreement appropriates a total of $43,542,000 for the NIPC, $28,677,000 above the fiscal year 1998 level, of which $10,000,000 is provided in this account and $33,542,000 is provided in the FBI Salaries and Expenses account. Should funds become available in the Department of Justice Working Capital Fund, the Attorney General is encouraged to provide additional support to the NIPC, if warranted.

The conference agreement does not include provisions, recommended in the Senate bill, to expand the use of the Fund to reimburse other Federal agencies for their operational costs associated with participation in the NIPC, as such action is inconsistent with the manner in which other interagency activities, such as the FBI's Counterterrorism Center, are currently funded. The Department of Justice and other Federal agencies are expected to cooperate to the fullest extent of their authorities and expertise in the response planning, prevention, detection, deterrence and elimination of vulnerabilities to our Nation's critical infrastructure. These agencies are encouraged to ensure that the resources required to protect these critical infrastructures are given a high priority within each agency's programs and initiatives.

In addition, the conference agreement provides $135,000,000 to continue the initiative begun in fiscal year 1998 to assist States and localities in becoming fully prepared to respond to the increasing threat of chemical and biological attacks resulting from incidents of domestic and international terrorism. In many instances, the Nation's front line response capability for a domestic chemical or biological terrorist incident rests with these agencies, including firefighters, emergency services personnel, law enforcement, bomb technicians, and other emergency response personnel. To ensure that these "first responders" are equipped and prepared to meet this challenge, the conference agreement includes the following:

—First Responders Equipment Acquisition Program.—$75,500,000 to provide personnel protective gear, and detection, decontamination, and communications equipment to be targeted to the 157 largest cities and localities, as well as the States. Of this amount, $4,000,000 is for equipment for the National Domestic Preparedness Consortium to be distributed as described below under Training; and $2,000,000 is for transfer to the Office of Justice Programs (OJP) for management and administration of this and other related grant and training programs. The Attorney General is encouraged to use OJP for the administration and management of the equipment purchasing and training programs.

—Municipal Fire and Emergency Services.—$25,000,000 to expand equipment and training programs targeted specifically to municipal fire and emergency services departments as follows: (1) $16,000,000 for grants of equipment directly to local fire departments, hazardous materials response teams, and emergency medical services agencies; (2) $4,000,000 for interoperable radio equipment for local emergency response agencies; and (3) $5,000,000 for training and assistance to these entities as authorized by section 819 of the Antiterrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act of 1996. This funding is in addition to amounts otherwise available for these agencies under the First Responders Equipment Acquisition program.

—State and Local Bomb Technician Equipment.—$25,000,000 is expected to be provided by the Attorney General for this purpose, should funds be available in the Department of Justice Working Capital Fund.

—Training.—$18,000,000 to support training activities. Of this amount, $16,000,000 is to support the activities of the National Domestic Preparedness Consortium. The following Consortium members are to receive $2,000,000 each from these training programs: the National Energetic Materials Research and Testing Center,

New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology; the National Center for Bio-Medical Research and Training, Louisiana State University; the National Emergency Response and Rescue Training Center, Texas A&M University; and the National Exercise, Test, and Training Center, Nevada test site. Each of these Consortium members are to receive an additional $1,000,000 from the equipment grant program. Further, the conference agreement includes $8,000,000 for the Center for Domestic Preparedness, Fort McClellan, AL within the training program. Funding is to be provided by OJP directly to each member of the Consortium. OJP is expected to utilize the Consortium members to the fullest extent possible, including the Consortium members' existing facilities, resources and expertise, to support cooperative programs to achieve cost-effective delivery of equipment, technical assistance, training and situational exercises. To maximize training accessibility, multiple facilities and expertise must be utilized, requiring parallel efforts to be coordinated between OJP and Consortium members.

In addition, the conference agreement appropriates $2,000,000 from the Fund for State and local law enforcement training activities. Funding for this activity was previously included under the Bureau of Justice Assistance account. The conference agreement does not provide funding in the Fund for State and local bomb technician training, and instead addresses this matter under the FBI Salaries and Expenses account.

—Situational Exercises.—$3,500,000 is for situational exercises to ensure that first responders training includes real-life situations. The conference agreement adopts the recommendation and direction included in the Senate report regarding a Topoff exercise.

—Technical Assistance/Needs Assessment.—$3,000,000 for technical assistance and a needs assessment, of which $1,000,000 shall be used to conduct a needs assessment in accordance with the direction in the House report. The Attorney General is expected to provide the results of this assessment to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations no later than March 1, 1999.

—Counterterrorism Technologies.—$10,000,000 for the development of technologies to help State and local law enforcement combat terrorism, as authorized by section 821 of the Antiterrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act of 1996. The Attorney General is expected to follow the guidance included in the Senate report regarding simulations of dispersion and deposition of chemical and biological aerosols.

In addition to the amounts provided in this bill, unobligated balances of $26,782,915 remain available from previous appropriations for authorized purposes of this Fund. The Attorney General should utilize $1,000,000 from these balances for an alternative crisis management/relocation facility to carry on essential Department functions in the event the Department, or one of its components, is denied access to its facility for various reasons, such as a terrorist act.

As directed in the fiscal year 1998 conference report, the Attorney General is expected to submit a comprehensive 5-year interdepartmental counterterrorism and technology crime plan no later than December 31, 1998. This plan will cover a broad range of topics encompassing the Nation's efforts to prevent and deter terrorist attacks, as well as manage a crisis created by a terrorist incident. The Attorney General and other department and agency heads who participated in this comprehensive effort are to be commended for their efforts. This plan will serve as a baseline strategy for coordination of a national policy and operational capabilities to combat all forms of terrorism.

The conference agreement includes bill language, modified from both the House and Senate bills, setting forth the purposes for which the Fund can be used, and making funds available for such purposes. In addition, bill language is not included, as recommended in the Senate bill as Senate Section 117 under general provisions within this title, which would have required submission of the specific dollar amounts budgeted for counterterrorism activities Government-wide with the Analytical Perspectives Volume beginning with the fiscal year 2000 budget request. However, the Attorney General is expected to work with the Office of Management and Budget to ensure that such information is included.

TELECOMMUNICATIONS CARRIER COMPLIANCE FUND

The conference agreement does not include funding for the Telecommunications Carrier Compliance Fund to reimburse equipment manufacturers and telecommunications carriers and providers of telecommunications support services for implementation of the Communications Assistance for Law Enforcement Act (CALEA). Neither the House nor Senate bills provided new direct appropriations into the fund. Should funding be necessary in fiscal year 1999, the Attorney General is expected to utilize $102,580,270 in unobligated balances currently available in the fund.

For the past three years, the Department of Justice and the telecommunications industry have been urged to resolve their differences on the implementation of CALEA. Despite those efforts, CALEA implementation is now almost four years behind schedule because the industry and law enforcement have failed to reach agreement on CALEA technical standards. Since March 1998, the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) has been reviewing those standards as envisioned under CALEA. On September 11, 1998, the FCC issued an order extending the October 25, 1998 statutory compliance date until at least June 30, 2000. The FCC took this action because the final technical standards are still under review. Law enforcement, industry and privacy groups agree that the FCC should define the capability standard for CALEA compliance, as envisioned under CALEA. The FCC is urged to act quickly to resolve this issue.

ADMINISTRATIVE REVIEW AND APPEALS

The conference agreement includes $134,563,000 for Administrative Review and Appeals, as proposed in the House bill, instead of $41,858,000 as proposed in the Senate bill, of which $59,251,000 is provided from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund (VCRTF). Of the total amount provided, $132,963,000 is for the Executive Office for Immigration Review (EOIR) and $1,600,000 is for the Office of the Pardon Attorney. The recommendation represents the funding necessary to maintain the current level of activities in fiscal year 1999.

OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL

The conference agreement includes $35,610,000 for the Office of Inspector General, instead of $36,610,000 as proposed in the House bill, and $33,211,000 as proposed in the Senate bill.

The $1,000,000 increase in funding over the budget request shall be available for expenditure only upon submission of a report as to the level of fiscal year 1998 spending and compliance with anti-deficiency requirements.

There is concern that Department employees accused of wrongdoing are not enjoying the swift justice that is every citizen's right. From fiscal years 1996 to 1998, the average closure rate for Inspector General investigations climbed from 6 to 9 months. The Inspector General is urged to refer cases to the appropriate component of the Department as necessary to keep its average closure rate for investigations at no more than 180 days. A report is requested by January 31, 1999 describing the steps the Department and the Inspector General are taking to meet this timetable, and recommending any improvements in the process that are required.

UNITED STATE PAROLE COMMISSION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $7,400,000 for the U.S. Parole Commission, as proposed in the House bill, instead of $7,969,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. Funding is provided in accordance with the House report.

LEGAL ACTIVITIES

SALARIES AND EXPENSES, GENERAL LEGAL ACTIVITIES

The conference agreement includes $475,000,000 for General Legal Activities instead of $470,425,000 as proposed in the House bill and $485,511,000 as proposed in the Senate bill, of which $8,160,000 is provided from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund (VCRTF) as proposed in the House bill.

The amount in the conference agreement includes the following program increases: (1) $465,000 for the Criminal Division to improve coordination of interagency and bilateral U.S./Mexico efforts to combat drug trafficking; (2) $1,000,000 for the Criminal Division for online obscenity prosecutions; (3) $2,000,000 for the Office of Special Investigations to maintain the pace of prosecutions while supporting the Nazi war criminal records interagency working group; (4) $1,007,000 for the Civil Rights Division to increase enforcement and mediation activities under the Americans with Disabilities Act.

In addition, within the amounts provided for the Criminal Division, $4,089,000 shall be for cybercrime prosecutions. Within the amount provided for the Environment and Natural Resources Division, $3,431,000 shall be used to defend claims under the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act of 1980 (CERCLA), $706,000 shall be used for vessel pollution prosecutions, and $523,000 shall be used for CFC smuggling prosecutions. The conference agreement allows $17,834,000 to remain available until expended for office automation costs. No funds are provided under this account for the Joint Center for Strategic Environmental Enforcement, including base funds, as proposed in the Senate bill.

The conference agreement recognizes that the Department requires additional resources to defend against claims under the Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery and Enforcement Act (FIRREA), and that the Department will seek to have these costs paid from the FSLIC Resolution Fund (FRF). In the event that FRF resources are not available, additional costs of FIRREA litigation may have to be paid from this account, which could have a dramatic impact on the ability of the Department to carry out its other priority missions. Therefore, the Administration is encouraged in its efforts to find a solution to the funding requirements of FIRREA litigation that avoids such impacts.

The conference agreement does not include bill language providing that funds in this account may be used for annual costs of U.S. participation in law-based international organizations as was proposed in the Senate bill.

The conference agreement includes language directing the Attorney General to transfer $813,333 from funds available in the Department of Justice to the Presidential Advisory Commission on Holocaust Assets in the United States subject to reprogramming requirements, as proposed in the House bill.

THE NATIONAL CHILDHOOD VACCINE INJURY ACT

The conference agreement includes a reimbursement of $4,028,000 for fiscal year 1999 from the Vaccine Injury Compensation Trust Fund to the Department of Justice, as proposed in both the House and Senate bills.

SALARIES AND EXPENSES, ANTITRUST DIVISION

The conference agreement provides $98,275,000 for the Antitrust Division, as proposed in both the House and Senate bills. The conference agreement assumes that of the amount provided, $68,275,000 will be derived from fees collected in fiscal year 1999, and $30,000,000 will be derived from estimated unobligated fee collections available from 1998, resulting in a net direct appropriation of $0.

The conference agreement does not include language, as proposed in the Senate bill, repealing a proviso in the fiscal year 1998 bill making excess fee collections available in the subsequent fiscal year.

The conference agreement also does not include language, as proposed in the House bill, making fee collections in excess of $68,275,000 available until expended but not until October 1, 1999. It is intended that any excess fee collections shall remain available for the Antitrust Division in future years.

SALARIES AND EXPENSES, UNITED STATES ATTORNEYS

The conference agreement includes $1,090,378,000 for the U.S. Attorneys, as proposed in the House bill, instead of $1,083,642,000 as proposed in the Senate bill, of which $80,698,000 is provided from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund (VCRTF), instead of $51,231,000 as proposed in the House bill, and no funding as proposed in the Senate bill.

Funding is provided for the following: $8,912,000 as a program increase above base funding as proposed in the House bill for 64 attorneys and 32 support staff to increase drug prosecutions; and from within base resources, the following, as proposed in the Senate bill: $3,630,000 for cybercrime prosecutions; $14,782,000 for the National Advocacy Center, as proposed in the budget; $1,000,000 for a violent crime task force demonstration project to investigate and prosecute perpetrators of Internet sexual exploitation of children to be administered under the auspices of Operation Streetsweeper; $1,000,000 for computer and equipment upgrades at the National Advocacy Center; $1,500,000 to hire additional assistant U.S. Attorneys and investigators in the city of Philadelphia and $800,000 for the same purpose in Camden County, New Jersey, as a focused demonstration project to enforce Federal laws designed to keep firearms out of the hands of criminals and to enhance existing law enforcement efforts.

The Executive Office of U.S. Attorneys is expected to report on new approaches to the deployment of resources, as set forth in the Senate report, and is encouraged to examine whether resources dedicated to the oversight of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters election can be redeployed to restoring the rule of law on Indian reservations.

In addition, the conference agreement includes language providing 9,044 positions and 9,312 workyears for U.S. Attorneys, as proposed in the House bill instead of 8,960 positions and 9,125 workyears, as proposed in the Senate bill. The conference agreement also includes language allowing not to exceed $2,500,000 for the National Advocacy Center and $1,000,000 for violent crime task forces to remain available until expended, as proposed in the Senate bill, as well as language setting forth funding for demonstration projects, as proposed in the Senate bill.

UNITED STATES TRUSTEE SYSTEM FUND

The conference agreement provides $114,248,000 in budget (obligational) authority for the U.S. Trustees, to be entirely funded from offsetting fee collections, as proposed in the House bill, instead of $108,248,000, offset by $100,000,000 in offsetting fee collections and the balance provided in direct funding, as proposed in the Senate bill. The conference agreement does not include a provision as proposed in the House bill providing that any fees collected in excess of $114,248,000 will be available for obligation on October 1, 1999 or a provision as proposed in the Senate bill repealing a provision in the fiscal year 1998 Act that made fees collected in excess of $114,248,000 in fiscal year 1998 available in fiscal year 1999.

SALARIES AND EXPENSES, FOREIGN CLAIMS SETTLEMENT COMMISSION

The conference agreement provides $1,227,000 for the Foreign Claims Settlement Commission as proposed in the Senate bill, instead of $1,335,000 as proposed in the House bill, and assumes funding is provided in accordance with the Senate bill.

SALARIES AND EXPENSES, UNITED STATES MARSHALS SERVICE

The conference agreement includes $502,609,000 for the U.S. Marshals Service instead of $503,164,000 as proposed in the House bill and $501,752,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. Of this amount, the conference agreement provides that $25,553,000 will be derived from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund (VCRTF) as proposed in the House bill, instead of no funds as proposed in the Senate bill.

The amount included in the conference agreement includes program increases of $512,000 for management and administration to implement and support a variety of cost-reduction initiatives, $2,850,000 for courthouse security personnel, $3,268,000 for courthouse security equipment, $1,565,000 for electronic surveillance unit fugitive apprehension equipment and personnel, and $250,000 for videoconferencing. If additional resources are required for courthouse security, the U.S. Marshals Service can submit a reprogramming to obtain the additional resources.

The provision in the Senate report calling for a pilot program to pair the Marshals Service with the District of Columbia Metropolitan Police Department to enforce court-ordered evictions and to report back to the Appropriations Committees is adopted by reference. Further, the failure of the U.S. Marshals Service to conduct a significant percentage of evictions in a timely manner is noted, thus creating unreasonable inconveniences to other participants in the eviction process. The U.S. Marshals Service is directed to report back to the Committees on Appropriations by May 1, 1999 on efforts to correct this problem.

CONSTRUCTION

The conference agreement includes $4,600,000 for a new construction account for the U.S. Marshals Service, instead of $4,000,000 as proposed in the Senate bill, and $3,300,000 included in the House bill under Bureau of Prisons, Buildings and Facilities. This amount includes $600,000 for architectural and engineering services and $4,000,000 for construction projects as proposed in the Senate report. To the extent that slippages occur, other projects requested in the budget can be undertaken.

JUSTICE PRISONER AND ALIEN TRANSPORTATION SYSTEM FUND

The conference report includes requested language establishing a revolving fund for the operation of the Justice Prisoner and Alien Transportation System, as provided in both the House and Senate bills. The conference agreement assumes that funding for the initial capitalization of the Fund is an eligible use of Super Surplus funds available under the Asset Forfeiture Fund, as proposed in the House bill, instead of direct funding of $10,000,000 proposed in the Senate bill, $5,000,000 to capitalize the Fund, and $5,000,000 to purchase a new airplane. Any enhancements to the system in fiscal year 1999, as well as the proposed funding source to pay for them, are expected to be presented to the Appropriations Committees for examination and review.

The conference agreement does not include language amending the definition of public aircraft with respect to JPATS activities, which was proposed in the Senate bill.

FEDERAL PRISONER DETENTION

The conference agreement provides $425,000,000 for Federal Prisoner Detention, as proposed in the House bill, instead of $407,018,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. The level provided in the conference report plus approximately $25,000,000 in carryover will provide the level of funding requested in the budget.

FEES AND EXPENSES OF WITNESSES

The conference agreement includes $95,000,000 for Fees and Expenses of Witnesses as proposed in both the House and Senate bills. The conference agreement does not include a provision making not to exceed $4,000,000 available for a secure automated information network, which was proposed in the Senate bill. The House bill did not include a similar provision. Funding is provided in accordance with both the House and Senate reports.

COMMUNITY RELATIONS SERVICE

The conference agreement includes $7,199,000 for the Community Relations Service, as proposed in the House bill, instead of $5,319,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. In addition, the conference agreement includes a provision allowing the Attorney General to transfer up to $500,000 of funds available to the Department of Justice to this program, instead of $1,000,000 as proposed in the House bill. The Senate bill had no such transfer provision. The Attorney General is directed to report to the Committees on Appropriations of the House and Senate if this transfer authority is exercised.

The conference agreement recognizes that CRS has served the country well as a small, elite crisis response team dedicated to mediating racially charged civil disputes. There are concerns, however, that CRS will lose its focus, and its skills, if its mission is broadened to include State and local education and training and national disaster planning which is unrelated to an existing condition of racial/ethnic conflict. The conference agreement improves the ability of CRS to execute its core mission, but does not fund education and training or disaster planning.

Close coordination between the Administration and Congress could help to stabilize racially motivated local incidents. As the people's body, Congress must be kept informed when the Administration responds to a domestic crisis. Therefore, the Attorney General is directed to notify the relevant committees whenever requests by local officials prompt the deployment of CRS personnel to mediate civil conflicts.

ASSETS FORFEITURE FUND

The conference agreement provides $23,000,000 for the Assets Forfeiture Fund as proposed in both the House and Senate bills, and assumes funding is provided in accordance with both the House and Senate reports.

RADIATION EXPOSURE COMPENSATION

ADMINISTRATIVE EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $2,000,000 for administrative expenses in accordance with the Radiation Exposure Compensation Act, as proposed by both the House and Senate bills.

PAYMENT TO RADIATION EXPOSURE COMPENSATION TRUST FUND

The conference agreement includes no new appropriations for fiscal year 1999, as proposed by both the House and Senate reports. Carryover is expected to exceed the amount expected to be paid from the fund.

INTERAGENCY LAW ENFORCEMENT

INTERAGENCY CRIME AND DRUG ENFORCEMENT

The conference agreement includes $304,014,000 for Interagency Crime and Drug Enforcement as proposed in the House bill, the full amount requested, instead of $294,967,000 proposed in the Senate bill, in accordance with the distribution included in the House report.

The conference agreement includes language proposed in the House bill, not included in the Senate bill, allowing a portion of the funds provided to remain available until expended.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $2,971,448,000 for the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), instead of $2,977,258,000 as proposed in the House bill and $2,956,461,000 as proposed in the Senate bill, of which $223,356,000 is provided from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund (VCRTF), instead of $215,356,000 as recommended in the House bill, and $433,124,000 as recommended in the Senate bill. In addition, the conference agreement provides that not less than $292,473,000 shall be used for counterterrorism investigations, foreign counterintelligence, and other activities related to national security, instead of $282,473,000 as proposed by the House and $233,473,000 as proposed by the Senate bill. Further, the FBI is directed to transfer $10,000,000 in unobligated user fees for fiscal year 1998 to the Department of Justice Working Capital Fund. This statement of managers reflects the distribution of the funding provided in the conference report.

The conference agreement provides $70,104,000 for requested adjustments to base, including the costs to annualize 429 positions provided in fiscal year 1998, offset by $86,783,000 in base reductions for non-recurring costs resulting from reduced requirements necessary to complete the Integrated Automated Fingerprint Identification System (IAFIS) and equipment provided for in fiscal year 1998. Should funds be available in the Working Capital Fund, the Attorney General is expected to provide $6,000,000 for microwave replacement base funding requirements. The conference agreement includes the following program increases:

Counterterrorism Initiative.—Again this year, the conferees have included increases for the FBI to address the increasing threat of domestic and international terrorism, including the growing threats of cybercrime and weapons of mass destruction, building upon the $157,743,000 Counterterrorism Initiative provided in fiscal year 1998. The conference agreement provides program increases to enhance the FBI's capability to address terrorism, including: (1) $9,165,000 to support 93 positions (56 agents) and 47 full-time equivalents (FTE), to enable the FBI to establish four additional Computer Intrusion Threat Assessment (CITA) field squads, including $465,000 to equip these new squads; (2) $442,000 to support 9 positions and 4 FTE to provide increased coverage for the Watch and Warning Analysis Unit; (3) $500,000 to support training programs related to computer crime detection; and (4) $670,000 to provide 6 positions (2 agents) and 3 FTE to enhance the staffing of the Hazardous Materials Response Unit. Additional resources are also included in the Counterterrorism Fund to further augment the FBI's National Information Protection Center (NIPC), previously named the Computer Intrusion Threat Assessment Center (CITAC). Further, should funds be available in the Working Capital Fund, the Attorney General should provide funding for the following purposes: $4,250,000 to establish an early warning system in the NIPC; $4,000,000 for chemical and biological detection equipment for FBI bomb technicians and Evidence Response Teams; and $2,900,000 for training at the Hazardous Devices School. Within the resources available, the FBI is expected to provide $2,300,000 for ongoing training activities at the Hazardous Devices School, and $3,200,000 for joint counterterrorism task force operations in fiscal year 1999.

In addition, the FBI is expected to comply with the direction included in the Senate report regarding integration of FBI and Drug Enforcement Administration training.

Infrastructure Requirements.—The conference agreement provides an increase of $42,050,000 and 20 positions to enable the FBI to improve its information systems by re-engineering its investigative, intelligence, and administrative automated data processing systems. This amount is in addition to $20,000,000 in base funding identified for this requirement, resulting in a total availability of $62,050,000 for this effort in fiscal year 1999. Of this amount, $2,050,000 is provided in direct appropriations to provide for additional staffing requirements to implement this initiative. The Attorney General is expected to provide an additional $40,000,000 from the Working Capital Fund should such funds be available. Further, the Department of Justice and the FBI are directed to follow the direction included in the House report regarding the obligation of funds for this initiative.

National Instant Criminal Background Check System.—The conference agreement includes a total of $42,000,000 for operations of the permanent National Instant Criminal Background Check System (NICS). Of this amount, $22,000,000 is new direct appropriations. In addition, the Attorney General is expected to provide an additional $20,000,000 from available balances in the Working Capital Fund to fully fund the costs of the NICS system in fiscal year 1999. The fiscal year 1999 budget request for the FBI included no direct funding for this system, and instead proposed to finance the operation of this system through a user fee. The conference agreement includes a provision under title VI of this Act which prohibits the FBI from charging a fee for NICS checks, and instead provides funding to the FBI for the costs to implement this system. The FBI and the Department of Justice are expected to include funding for the operations of the NICS system in the fiscal year 2000 budget submission. Additionally, the FBI is expected to pursue proposals to increase the number of states serving as points of contact for the NICS system. Criminal justice and other records available for performing background checks at the State level are generally the most complete and readily available records, which would ensure more timely and thorough responses to NICS inquiries.

Indian Country Law Enforcement.—The conference agreement includes $4,657,000 to support 50 positions (30 agents) and 25 FTE to implement two new Safe Trails Task Forces and to enhance four current task forces. Within the amounts provided, the FBI is expected to provide investigative equipment and supplies, operational case funds, and forensic services to support these task forces.

Housing Fraud Initiative.—The conference agreement provides $1,500,000 and 11 positions to support FBI's participation in the Housing Fraud Initiative being conducted by the Department of Housing and Urban Development Inspector General.

Crimes Against Children.—The conference agreement includes $5,204,000 to enhance the FBI's capability to combat child abductions and serial killings. Within this amount, $3,439,000 is for the child abduction and serial killer unit to enhance staffing, establish a police fellows program for training local investigators, and provide training to State and local law enforcement. In addition, $1,765,000 is included to enhance staffing of the Violent Criminal Apprehension Program to provide more timely assistance to State and local law enforcement.

Criminal Justice Services.—The conference agreement includes an increase of $8,110,000 for support of Criminal Justice Information Services Division (CJIS) facilities and systems to be allocated in accordance with the direction included in the Senate report. The FBI is expected to allocate sufficient personnel to ensure the timely processing of criminal background checks for school bus drivers and teachers. Bill language is also included, as proposed by the House, designating $1,500,000 for an independent office for automation of fingerprint services. The Senate bill contained similar language.

Foreign Counterintelligence Program.—An increase of $2,500,000 is provided for the FBI's National Foreign Counterintelligence Program for a counterintelligence investigation enhancement as recommended in the Senate bill. Within available fiscal year 1999 funding, the FBI may implement the additional authorizations contained in the Intelligence Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1999.

Violent Crime Reduction Program.—The conference agreement includes $223,356,000, derived from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund, for FBI activities authorized by the Violent Crime Control and Law Enforcement Act of 1994, as amended, and the Antiterrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act. From within these funds, the FBI is expected to provide funding in accordance with the direction included in the House report regarding grants for State computerized identification systems and automated fingerprint identification systems, support for FBI's Combined DNA Identification Systems (CODIS), and support for investigative assistance and training.

CONSTRUCTION

The conference agreement includes $1,287,000 in direct appropriations for construction for the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), as provided for in the Senate bill, instead of $11,287,000 as proposed in the House bill. The agreement includes the funding necessary to continue necessary improvements and maintenance at the FBI Academy. Should additional funds become available in the Working Capital Fund, the Attorney General should provide $10,000,000 to continue upgrades to the FBI Academy Firearms Training Facility.

DRUG ENFORCEMENT ADMINISTRATION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $1,205,780,000 for the salaries and expenses of the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA), instead of $1,201,290,000 as proposed in the House bill and $1,209,054,000 as proposed in the Senate bill, of which $405,000,000 is provided from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund (VCRTF) as proposed in the House bill, instead of $407,000,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. The conference agreement does not assume the proposed transfer of $15,000,000 from direct appropriations to the Diversion Control Fund. However, the conference agreement assumes that $76,710,000 will be available from the Diversion Control Fund for diversion control activities. This statement of managers reflects the distribution of funds provided in the conference report.

Source Country/International Strategy.—The conference agreement includes program increases totaling $31,188,000 to support DEA's international programs, a $22,520,000 increase above the request. This action reflects continued support for DEA's supply reduction efforts. Program increases are provided for the following activities: (1) $4,212,000 and 20 positions (12 agents) to establish a new country office in Trinidad-Tobago and to enhance staffing in other Caribbean Country offices, including Barbados, Curacao, Jamaica, Haiti and the Dominican Republic; (2) $1,966,000 and 7 positions (5 agents) to open new country offices in Vietnam and Uzbekistan, and to expand staffing in the Philippines to address the rise in international heroin trafficking; (3) $1,415,000 and 5 positions to strengthen DEA's intelligence activities in Mexico; (4) $1,075,000 and 5 positions to enhance security for DEA activities; (5) $3,000,000 and 14 positions (8 agents) to enhance staffing in source countries and transit zones; (6) $5,000,000 to continue overseas implementation of the MERLIN system; (7) $3,500,000 for surveillance and electronic intercept equipment in source countries and transit zones; (8) $3,500,000 for aviation and technical equipment to support regional operations in the Caribbean; and (9) $120,000 for improved mobility along the Bolivian border. DEA is expected to comply with the reporting requirements included in the House report regarding deployment of investigative resources in source countries and transit zones.

Domestic Enforcement Enhancements.—The conference agreement includes program increases totaling $66,085,000 for domestic counter-drug activities, an increase of $13,000,000 above the request, as follows: (1) $5,632,000 and 70 positions (42 agents) to enhance DEA domestic offices impacted by Caribbean drug trafficking; (2) $24,459,000 and 223 positions (100 agents) to augment DEA's efforts to combat methamphetamine trafficking, including enforcement and chemical control efforts, clean up activities at clandestine laboratory sites, vehicle replacement, and establishment of a National Clandestine Laboratory database; (3) $12,926,000 and 148 positions (95 agents) to continue a five-year strategy to enhance enforcement efforts to reduce the domestic availability of heroin; and (4) $13,000,000 and 56 positions (32 agents) to establish DEA regional drug enforcement teams as recommended in the Senate report. Colombian and Mexican crime syndicates have established a network of compartmentalized cells to conduct their drug trafficking operations in the United States. While historically, these crime syndicates have maintained command and control centers in major U.S. cities, in reaction to law enforcement pressure in major metropolitan areas, these drug syndicates have established regional command and control centers and warehousing and transshipment points in smaller, nontraditional trafficking locations across the U.S., resulting in increased rates of drug abuse, trafficking, and violent crime in our Nation's smaller cities. DEA cannot combat this new threat by transferring resources from major metropolitan areas to smaller cities. Therefore, funding has been provided to establish regional enforcement teams to enable DEA to provide an immediate, flexible, and effective law enforcement response to this growing problem.

Investigative and Intelligence Requirements.—The conference agreement includes $17,468,000 to address critical infrastructure needs, $7,400,000 above the request, as follows: (1) $5,000,000 for 39 additional intelligence analysts, as recommended in the House report; (2) $2,400,000 for continued development and implementation of automation systems to support intelligence and investigative requirements, as provided in the House report; (3) $7,002,000 for improvements in cooperative drug law enforcement operations; and (4) $3,066,000 and 2 positions for establishment of a backup site for DEA's Network Control Facility.

Drug Diversion Control Fee Account.—The conference agreement provides $76,710,000 for DEA's Drug Diversion Control Program, the full amount requested, and assumes that diversion control programs will be fully supported through funding derived from the Diversion Control Fee Account in fiscal year 1999.

In addition, DEA is expected to comply with the direction in the House report concerning coastal surveillance technology, as well as the direction in the Senate report concerning integration of DEA and FBI training curriculum. The conference agreement contains bill language, as proposed by the House, to provide $4,000,000 for evidence and information payments, instead of $5,000,000 recommended by the Senate.

CONSTRUCTION

The conference agreement includes $8,000,000 in direct appropriations for Construction for the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA), as proposed in both the House and Senate bills.

IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION SERVICE

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $2,464,327,000 for the salaries and expenses of the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS), instead of $2,486,004,000 as proposed in the House bill and $2,268,984,000 as proposed in the Senate bill, of which $842,490,000 is from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund (VCRTF), instead of $866,490,000 as proposed in the House bill, and $1,099,667,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. In addition to amounts appropriated, the conference agreement assumes that $1,306,046,000 will be available from offsetting fee collections, instead of $1,570,014,000 as proposed by the House and $1,560,308,000 as proposed by the Senate. Thus, including resources provided under construction, the conference agreement provides a total operating level of $3,860,373,000 for INS, instead of $4,137,588,000 as provided by the House bill, and $3,940,543,000 as provided by the Senate. This statement of managers reflects the agreement of the conferees on how the funds provided in the conference report are to be spent.

Base adjustments.—The conference agreement provides $51,283,000 for the full base restoration request and includes $23,877,000 in restoration of base for detention and deportation and assumes the balance will be provided from expected carryover in the Breached Bond/Detention fund. The agreement does not include funding for helicopter purchases. The agreement includes a report on INS border air vehicle plans which is detailed below under Border Control.

INS Organization and Management.—The conference agreement includes the concerns expressed in the House report that a lack of resources is no longer an acceptable response to INS's inability to adequately address its mission responsibilities. The conference agreement includes the establishment of clearer chains of command—one for enforcement activities and one for service to non-citizens—as one step towards making the INS a more efficient accountable, and effective agency. Consistent with the concept of the separation of immigration enforcement from service, the conference agreement adopts the House recommendation to provide for a separation of INS funds. The conference agreement includes the establishment of two new accounts: Enforcement and Border Affairs, and Citizenship and Benefits, Immigration Support and Program Direction. These accounts correspond to existing decision units within the current INS Salaries and Expenses account. INS enforcement funds are placed under the Enforcement and Border Affairs account. All immigration-related benefits and naturalization, support and program resources are placed under the Citizenship and Benefits, Immigration Support and Program Direction account. Neither account includes revenues generated in various fee accounts to fund program activities in both enforcement and service functions which are in addition to the appropriated funds and are discussed below. Funds for INS construction projects continue to fall within the INS construction account.

The language includes authority for the Attorney General to transfer funds from one account to another in order to ensure that funds are properly aligned. Such transfers may occur notwithstanding any transfer limitations imposed under this Act but such transfers are still subject to the reprogramming requirements under Section 605 of this Act. It is expected that any request for transfer of funds will remain within the activities under those headings.

Under the new accounts, the conference agreement includes $1,069,754,000 for Enforcement and Border Affairs, $552,083,000 for Citizenship and Benefits, Immigration Support and Program Direction, and $842,490,000 from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund.

The Enforcement and Border Affairs account is comprised of the following amounts: $931,871,000, for the existing base activities of Inspections, Border Patrol, Investigations, Detention and Deportation, and Intelligence; less funds for helicopter purchases and transfer of $29,536,000 to the User Fee account for user fee related Information Resource Management and legal activities; and program increases of $97,000,000 for the Border Patrol and $40,883,000 for interior enforcement. This amount, together with the amount from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund, provides the total appropriation for these activities.

The Citizenship and Benefits, Immigration Support and Program Direction account includes $491,083,000 for the existing base activities of Citizenship and Benefits, Immigration Support and Management and Administration, assumes $30,000,000 of this base activity will be supported by unobligated balances available in the Working Capital Fund, includes funding for the naturalization initiative, and includes a program increase of $1,000,000 for the Office of Internal Audit.

Border control.—The conference agreement includes $97,000,000 for 1,000 new border patrol agents and 140 support personnel. The conference agreement adopts the following requests for reports to the Committee on border-related activities and technologies: (1) by December 1, 1998, the House request for an INS plan for the development, testing, and deployment of all current border technologies and the plans for training agents to use such technology; (2) by January 1, 1999, a report on the implications of having the Border Patrol Training Academy report directly to the Assistant Commissioner for the Border Patrol, as suggested by the Senate report; (3) by January 1, 1999, a report on the feasibility, cost and capabilities of a mixed fleet of manned and unmanned aircraft, as requested in both the House and Senate reports; (4) by November 15, 1998, a report on current plans for Border Patrol road and fence improvements, as specified in the House report; and (5) the continuation of reports on Border Patrol hiring, training and enforcement strategy, as requested in both the House and Senate reports. The conference agreement also adopts the House report direction to INS that it work more closely with the Forest Service and the Bureau of Land Management.

Deployment of Resources.—The conference agreement directs the INS to continue its consultation with the Committees on Appropriations of both the House and Senate before deployment of new border patrol agents and additional staffing included in this conference agreement.

Interior enforcement.—The conference agreement includes the following increases to enhance INS' ability to deport illegal aliens: (1) $21,800,000 for Quick Response Teams (QRTs) to work directly with State and local law enforcement officers to take into custody and remove illegal aliens, in accordance with the House report, including a report to the Committees on its strategy on their use and deployment plans by December 1, 1999 and quarterly reports on its progress, and improved response rates; (2) $3,112,000 for participation in joint task forces on terrorism, to assist in the identification and apprehension of alien terrorists; (3) $3,000,000 to expand the Law Enforcement Support Center (LESC), as in the Senate report; (4) $9,400,000 for activation of 400 beds at Port Isabel; (5) $1,971,000 for an additional 126 beds for juvenile detention space; and (6) $1,600,000 for four dedicated commuter lanes, as in the Senate report.

The conference agreement includes the concerns in both House and Senate reports about increasing illegal immigration in locations not previously believed to have problems, including Georgia, North Carolina, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Utah, Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri and Colorado. It is expected that the INS will take into consideration the growing problems in these states in its deployment plan for the Quick Response Teams and other interior enforcement resources and will consult with the Committees on such plans. The agreement also includes the Senate proposal on Kodiak Island.

The conference agreement also supports $10,000,000 in additional funding within existing resources to continue and to expand the local jail programs pursuant to Public Law 105-141 and a report on the program by December 1, 1998, and INS is instructed to report on the feasibility of expanding the local ambulance service pilot program.

The conference agreement includes the House recommendations for staffing of the Institutional Removal Program and on employment eligibility verification pilot programs. The conference agreement includes a request that INS evaluate the existing technical infrastructure and the quality and integrity of the data used in the System for Alien Verification of Eligibility ("SAVE") system, or any comparable INS system, and recommend how INS can meet the needs of States seeking to comply with Title IV of Public Law 104-193, and report to the Committees by May 1, 1999.

Detention.—The conference agreement includes a report to the Committees on INS's anticipated detention needs for the next 3 years, including the resources and training necessary to adequately staff existing and anticipated new facilities, including the feasibility of locating a detention center in Utah, as in the Senate report, and other needs designated in the House and Senate reports.

The conference agreement includes the expectation that as funds become available in the Breached Bond/Detention account, that INS will submit a request to use additional funds for contract detention space and other detention needs. The conference agreement also includes funds for continuation of construction of several detention facilities within INS Construction funds.

The conference agreement includes the concerns about staffing of district offices and requests adjustments to be made, as in the Senate report.

Office of Internal Audit.—The conference agreement includes a program increase of $1,000,000 for the Office of Internal Audit, $430,000 of which is for the INSpect program to conduct impartial review of compliance and performance with program guidance and regulations.

Naturalization.—Naturalization and other services provided by the INS are meant to be covered by application fees deposited into the Examinations Fee account. However, in fiscal year 1998, $20,000,000 in direct appropriations and $196,000,000 in Examinations Fee account, were provided for backlog reduction and to improve the integrity of the naturalization process, beyond funds provided in the Examinations Fee account.

On August 6, 1998, the Department of Justice submitted a reprogramming request for INS that requested funds for a naturalization initiative from other resources beyond the revenues generated in the Examinations Fee account. The reason for this reprogramming was that Examinations Fee revenues have fallen significantly below the level INS estimated for fiscal years 1998 and 1999. These additional funds requested are intended to restore funding for ongoing naturalization activities, to provide a series of enhancements to address the large backlog of applications and to continue phasing in the revised application process recommended by PricewaterhouseCoopers. In that proposal, the Department recommended that the funds come from unobligated balances from within the INS Salaries and Expenses account, carryover from fiscal year 1998 Examinations Fee account, a transfer of funds from the Department's Working Capital Fund, and funds from the INS Breached Bond/Detention fund. The total requested by the Department was $171,000,000; $88,000,000 to restore base program activities that were reduced to cover the decline in fee revenues, of which $35,000,000 is for the restoration of base in the Examinations Fee account and $53,000,000 is for restoration of the Salaries and Expenses base; and the remaining $83,000,000 for a naturalization enhancement in the Salaries and Expenses account.

The conference agreement provides $171,000,000 for this initiative, $35,000,000 for base restoration in the Examinations Fee account, $53,000,000 for base restoration in Salaries and Expenses, and $83,000,000 in enhancements in funds which are not required to maintain other ongoing INS activities, funded in part directly through appropriation of funds, rather than through use of the Breached Bond Detention account, and $30,000,000 by transfer from the Working Capital Fund, which have been used instead to offset base funding requirements. The conference agreement recommends $83,000,000 for the following enhancements: (1) $27,450,000, of which $11,659,000 is for 200 term employees for the formation of Backlog Reduction Action Teams (BRAT) to work exclusively at INS locations where the average naturalization application processing time is in excess of 15 months and to reduce the backlog until the average case processing time at that location is under 12 months, $3,750,000 for clerical support, $3,425,000 for overtime, $2,401,000 for administering oaths, $3,200,000 for data entry, $2,222,000 for reprinting expired fingerprints, and $790,000 for computer support costs; (2) $4,325,000 for one-time need to reduce backlogs of cases at the service centers, including $145,000 for Information Resource Management needs; (3) $6,000,000 for field office ADP support; (4) $6,500,000 to improve records procedures and facilities; (5) $1,000,000 to conduct a pilot to improve fingerprint identification throughout the process; (6) $12,515,000 for implementation of key recommendations of PricewaterhouseCoopers to redesign the naturalization process, which includes $2,700,000 for designing and producing a user friendly guide to the naturalization process, $3,000,000 for continuation of the PricewaterhouseCoopers contract, $1,250,000 for consolidating medical waivers at the INS Service Centers, and $5,565,000 for the Complete File Review initiative which is designed to ensure that applicant files are complete at the time of adjudication; and (7) $25,190,000 for beginning one telephone verification center, a record centralization initiative in Missouri, and the indexing and conversion to CD or electronic transfer of INS microfilm images, provided that the INS should consult with the Committees on its proposed spending allocation of these funds prior to the obligation process.

OFFSETTING FEE COLLECTIONS

The conference agreement assumes $1,306,046,000 will be available from offsetting fee collections for INS, instead of $1,570,014,000 as proposed by the House, and $1,560,308,000 as proposed by the Senate, to support activities related to the legal admission of persons into the United States. These activities are entirely paid by fees paid by persons who are either traveling internationally or are applying for immigration benefits. The following levels are recommended:

IMMIGRATION EXAMINATIONS FEES.—The conference agreement assumes $635,700,000 of spending from the Immigration Examinations Fee account resources, instead of $906,000,000 as proposed by the House bill, and $905,700,000, as proposed by the Senate bill. The estimated resources in this fee account have decreased by over $275,000,000 during the year from the original estimates due to declining levels of applications. The level provided in the conference agreement takes into consideration this significant decrease in available resources and the $35,000,000 for base restoration in the Examinations Fee account included in the reprogramming proposal from carryover and recoveries.

It is noted that even after providing additional resources to offset estimated reductions in the Examinations Fee account, current estimates provided by INS still reflect a deficit between resources and program activities of $160,000,000 in the Examinations Fee account. While there is considerable concern about the lengthy waits, there is also concern about any request by the Department of Justice which calls for a level of spending which, without incorporating program increases, would result in creating a deficit of an estimated $160,000,000. While the INS has proffered to the Committees that it may be able to recover $160,000,000 from unobligated balances and cost-saving measures without cutting into service programs, there is sufficient concern about this assurance that there is a desire to see the money that results from these sources before allowing INS to spend itself into a severe deficit.

Accordingly, the level of spending assumed in the conference agreement is based on estimated revenues in this account totaling $635,700,000 which includes carryover from fiscal year 1998 revenue projected for fiscal year 1999, recoveries, funds from the legalization fee account which has been merged into this account, proposed fingerprint surcharges, and fees from applications under section 245(i) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, which sunsetted on January 14, 1998.

Inspections User Fees.—The conference agreement includes $486,071,000 of spending from offsetting collections in this account, instead of $444,290,000 as proposed in the Senate bill, and does not assume the removal of the exemption for cruise ship passengers. The conference agreement assumes a transfer of $29,536,000 from base Salaries and Expenses funding for legal proceedings, Information Resource Management, support and infrastructure. The agreement includes: (1) $17,668,000 for pay and inflation base adjustments; (2) $7,657,000 to provide 100 additional inspectors at airports to maintain the 45-minute standard at airports; (3) $2,069,000, for 60 asylum officers and 20 support staff, for the expedited removal process; (4) $1,875,000, and 12 positions, for mandatory detention necessary to support the expedited removal process; (5) $19,520,000, and 217 positions for departure management automation initiatives to monitor the control of aliens departing the United States and to facilitate the pilot of a system of exit controls; (6) $3,961,000, and 16 attorneys, 8 legal support, and 10 management support positions, for legal proceedings staffing to support the expedited removal program; (7) $600,000 for 10 officers for an international program to train international airline carrier personnel and other overseas operations in fraudulent document detection and anti-smuggling operations.

Land Border Inspections Fees.—The conference agreement includes $3,275,000 in spending from the Land Border Inspection Fund, an increase of $232,000 over the current year. The current revenues generated in this account are from Dedicated Commuter Lanes in Blaine and Port Roberts, Washington, Detroit Tunnel and Ambassador Bridge, Michigan, and Otay Mesa, California and Automated Permit Ports which provide pre-screened local border residents border crossing privileges by means of automated inspections. The agreement includes the recommendation in the Senate report relating to the Peace Arch Crossing Entry program.

Immigration Breached Bond/Detention Account.—The conference agreement includes $176,950,000 in spending from the Breached Bond/Detention Account, instead of $169,870,000 as proposed by the House and $201,995,000 as proposed by the Senate. The level of spending assumed in the conference agreement is based on estimated revenues in this account totaling $176,950,000, which includes carryover funds from fiscal year 1998, revenue projected for fiscal year 1998 and assumes the availability of funds from penalty fees from applications under section 245(i) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, which expired on January 14, 1998. Carryover balances from 245(i) fees collected in fiscal year 1998 remain in this account for expenditure in fiscal year 1999. The conference agreement assumes $27,061,000 of expenses for alien detention costs provided under the salaries and expenses account will be supported by the carryover estimated to be available from fiscal year 1999. Within the amounts provided, the conference agreement includes funding for the acquisition and installation of video-conferencing equipment at institutional hearing program sites, as proposed in the Senate report.

Immigration Enforcement Fines.—The conference agreement includes $4,050,000 in spending to support border enforcement activities, instead of $3,800,000, as proposed in the House report. A remote video surveillance system and sensors is included in the agreement, as proposed in the Senate report.

Other Provisions.—The conference agreement does not include the reduction of the number of employees in the Office of Legislative and Public Affairs, as proposed by the Senate bill; does include the purchase of 3,855 passenger motor vehicles, as proposed in the House bill, instead of 2,904 vehicles, as proposed in the Senate bill; includes bill language that prohibits funds from being used for the operation of the San Clemente and Temecula traffic checkpoints unless they are open on a continuous 24 hour basis, as proposed in the House bill; includes a limit on the number of political appointees as proposed in the House bill; and does include an authorization for the Attorney General to impose disciplinary actions on any INS employee who violates Department policies and procedures relative to granting citizenship or who willfully deceives the Congress or Department Leadership, as proposed in the House bill.

The EB-5, investor visa program, was created to promote investments in businesses and to create and preserve jobs in the United States. It is understood that serious allegations have been made concerning fraudulent activities designed to aid persons in gaining U.S. citizenship pursuant to the EB-5 program without making the contributions to U.S. businesses which Congress intended. The Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) is directed to report to Congress within 90 days to propose any legislative remedies that may be necessary to provide the INS with the tools to ensure that a person gaining citizenship pursuant to the EB-5 program has actually made, and is personally liable for, the required investment and is sufficiently involved in the management of the business invested in, consistent with the intent of Congress when the EB-5 program was created.

CONSTRUCTION

The conference agreement includes $90,000,000 for construction for INS, instead of $81,570,000 as proposed in the House bill and $110,251,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. The conference agreement assumes funding of $51,606,000 for Border Patrol new construction (including 8 stations or sector headquarters), as proposed in the House report, and $10,900,000 for the Charleston border patrol academy and $4,625,000 for the Artesia, NM law enforcement training center, as proposed in the Senate report; $3,619,000 for various military engineering projects to support the Border Patrol, and $3,875,000 to come from savings within Salaries and Expenses, as is allowed under the bill language in the Salaries and Expenses accounts, to include the Santa Theresa project in the Senate report but not to include the Tucson Checkpoint exit lane project, included in the House report; $5,900,000 for new construction of detention facilities, including $1,000,000 for Port Isabel, $4,000,000 for Florence, and $900,000 for Varick Street; $20,575,000 for maintenance and repair of INS facilities; $4,000,000 for fuel storage tank upgrade and repair; and $4,300,000 for program execution.

The agreement also includes new bill language prohibiting site acquisition, design, or construction of any Border Patrol checkpoint in the Tucson Sector, which was not included in either the House or the Senate bills.

FEDERAL PRISON SYSTEM

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $2,888,853,000 for the salaries and expenses of the Federal Prison System, as proposed in the House bill instead of $2,919,515,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. Of this amount, the conference agreement provides $26,499,000 from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund (VCRTF), as proposed in the House bill, instead of $9,559,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. The conference agreement also assumes that, in addition to the amounts appropriated, $90,000,000 will be available for necessary operations from unobligated balances from the prior year, as proposed by both House and Senate bills, and that should the funds be available in the Department of Justice Working Capital Fund, $23,200,000 will be made available from the Fund.

The conference agreement includes the commendation to BOP for its operating efficiencies by consolidating and sharing like-services at several multilevel security prison facilities within a prison complex; identifying ways such as telemedicine to reduce health care costs; and voluntarily reducing its authority by 760 positions.

The conference agreement also includes bill language, as proposed in the House, in lieu of a privatization plan proposed by the Senate, which requires the Bureau of Prisons to conduct a study of private prisons.

BUILDINGS AND FACILITIES

The conference agreement includes $410,997,000 for construction, modernization, maintenance and repair of prison and detention facilities housing Federal prisoners, instead of $413,997,000 as proposed in the House bill and $379,197,000 as proposed in the Senate bill.

The conference agreement includes funding for construction of three Federal Correctional Institutions and partial funding of a fourth to provide additional capacity to accommodate the space requirements for the transfer of District of Columbia sentenced felons to the Federal Prison System, as mandated by the District of Columbia Revitalization Act, as set forth in the Senate report. The conference agreement also includes $7,000,000 and $2,000,000 for the construction of facilities in the Bureau of Prison's Southern region set forth in the Senate report. In addition, the conference agreement includes $10,000,000 for site acquisition, planning, design and initial phases of construction of a new prison at a site in the Northern part of the Bureau of Prison's Mid-Atlantic region, which meets the Bureau of Prison's siting criteria and needs, and where the construction of a prison can be expedited by the completion of an Environmental Impact Statement no later than March 31, 1999. The conference agreement also includes $20,000,000 for additional construction costs of other BOP projects under design.

The conference agreement includes the review of critical space needs, review site options for higher security prisons both in the western region and other places where the need exists, in accordance with the Senate report. The conference agreement also includes the direction to the Department of Justice to include in its fiscal year 2000 budget a request for at least $300,000,000 for modernization and repair within the Federal Prison System, as indicated in the Senate report. The conference agreement includes the expectation that the Bureau of Prisons participate with the Justice Management Division in the development of a narrowband communications conversion master plan, in accordance with the Senate report.

It is recognized that significant costs are associated with purchasing electric power for Bureau of Prisons facilities, and that savings may be effected by the use of hydroelectric power. There is an expectation that the Bureau of Prisons explore the possibility of using domestic hydroelectric power to reduce operating costs in its facilities and, by February 1, 1999, report to the Committees on Appropriations on its findings and any possible achievable savings.

Should funds be available in the Department of Justice Working Capital Fund, funds from the Working Capital Fund may be provided for Federal Prison System equipment, and other equipment and automation needs.

The conference agreement does not include funding for the U.S. Marshals Service construction under this account, which was proposed in the House bill. Instead funding is provided under a separate account as proposed in the Senate bill.

FEDERAL PRISON INDUSTRIES, INCORPORATED

(LIMITATION ON ADMINISTRATIVE EXPENSES)

The conference agreement includes a limitation on administrative expenses of $3,266,000 for the Federal Prison Industries, as proposed by both the House and Senate bills.

OFFICE OF JUSTICE PROGRAMS

JUSTICE ASSISTANCE

The conference agreement includes $147,151,000 for Justice Assistance, instead of $195,000,000 as proposed in the House bill and $170,151,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. The conference agreement provides the following:

National Institute of Justice	$46,148,000
Defense/Law Enforcement Technology Transfer	(10,277,000)
DNA Technology R&D Program	(5,000)
Bureau of Justice Statistics	25,029,000
Missing Children	17,168,000
Regional Information Sharing System	¹ 20,000,000
National White Collar Crime Center	7,350,000
Grants to Firefighters and Emergency Service Personnel	² (5,000,000)
State and Local Antiterrorism Training	² (2,000,000)
Counterterrorism Technology	² (10,000,000)
Management and Administration	31,456,000
Total	147,151,000

¹$5,000,000 included in COPS Technology, for a total of $25,000,000.

²Included under the Counterterrorism Fund.

This statement of managers reflects the agreement of the conferees on how funds provided for all programs under the Office of Justice Programs in this conference report are to be spent.

National Institute of Justice (NIJ).—The conference agreement provides $46,148,000 for the National Institute of Justice, as proposed in the Senate bill, instead of $52,577,000 as proposed in the House bill. Additionally, $5,200,000 for NIJ research and evaluation on the causes and impact of domestic violence is provided under the Violence Against Women Grants program. The conference agreement adopts the recommendation in the House and Senate reports that provides that within the overall amount provided to NIJ, the Office of Justice Programs is expected to review proposals, provide a grant if warranted, and report to the Committees on Appropriations of the House and the Senate on its intentions regarding: a grant to disseminate the results of the study of the health care status of prison inmates as stated in the House report; $1,500,000 for information technology applications for High Intensity Drug Trafficking Areas; and $1,500,000 for a pilot program with a Department of Criminal Justice Training and a College of Criminal Justice to evaluate how advanced computer-based interactive training systems can enhance training for state and local law enforcement officers; and a grant for the study and development of perfluorocarbon technology.

Within the total funding for NIJ, the conference agreement includes increased amounts to be made available for the utilization of telemedicine to provide health care for the prison inmate population. It is directed that two pilot programs be developed in conjunction with the Bureau of Prisons and the National Institute of Corrections, in South Carolina, as proposed in the Senate report, and in Eastern Kentucky. In addition to the above amount, $20,000,000 will be provided to NIJ in fiscal year 1999 from the Local Law Enforcement Block Grant for assisting units of local government to identify, select, develop, modernize, and purchase new technologies for use by law enforcement. Within the amount provided, NIJ is expected to provide increased amounts for computerized identification systems and forensic DNA analysis technologies.

Safe schools initiative [SSI].—The conference agreement supports the concern as expressed in the Senate report regarding the level of violence in our children's schools as evidenced by recent tragic events that have occurred around the Nation. In particular, the incidence of gun violence by juveniles in schools is growing at an alarming rate. To address this issue, the conference agreement adopts the recommendation in the Senate report to include $210,000,000 for a new safe schools initiative [SSI], including funds for prevention and technology. Within this total, $15,000,000 is from the Juvenile Justice At-Risk Children's Program for communities to implement approaches unique to their particular areas; $10,000,000 is from funds available to the National Institute of Justice [NIJ] to develop new, more effective safety technologies such as less obtrusive weapons detection and surveillance equipment and information systems that provide communities quick access to information they need to identify potentially violent youth; $167,500,000 is from the Community Oriented Policing Services [COPS] Program to increase community policing in and around schools; and $17,500,000 is from the COPS Program for programs aimed at preventing violence in schools and community-based organizations.

Within total funding for NIJ, the conference agreement includes $10,000,000 from available funds to develop new, more effective safety technologies for a safe schools initiative, as proposed in the Senate report.

Defense/Law Enforcement Technology Transfer.—Within the total amount provided to NIJ, the conference agreement includes $10,277,000 to assist NIJ in its efforts to adopt technologies for law enforcement purposes. Within this amount, $2,800,000 is provided to continue the technology commercialization initiative at the National Technology Transfer Center and the remainder to go for continuation of the law enforcement technology center and other centers funded in the current year.

DNA Technology Research and Development Program.—Within the amount provided, the conference agreement includes $5,000,000 to develop improved DNA testing capabilities, as proposed in the House and Senate reports.

Bureau of Justice Statistics.—The conference agreement provides $25,029,000 for the Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS) for fiscal year 1999, as proposed in the House bill instead of $25,529,000 as proposed by the Senate bill.

Missing Children.—The conference agreement provides $17,168,000 for the Missing Children Program as proposed in the Senate bill, instead of $12,256,000 as proposed in the House bill. The conference agreement provides a significant increase and expands the missing children initiative included in the fiscal year 1998 conference report for Federal, State, and local law enforcement agencies, and the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children, to address the increasing need to combat crimes against children, particularly kidnapping and sexual exploitation. The conference agreement again consolidates funding under one account for Missing Children programs as proposed in the House and Senate bills. Within the amounts provided the conference agreement assumes funding in accordance with the Senate report including:

(1) $7,798,000 for the Missing Children program within the Office of Justice Programs, Justice Assistance, including $5,000,000 for State and local law enforcement to continue eight specialized cyber units and to form eight new units to investigate and prevent child sexual exploitation which are based on the protocols for conducting investigations involving the Internet and on-line service providers that have been established by the Department of Justice and the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children; $162,000 for highly technical, sophisticated computer crime training for State and local law enforcement; $90,000 for a national teleconference on cybercrime against children; and $75,000 for town meetings to focus on cybercrimes against children in local communities around the country;

(2) $8,120,000 for the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children, of which $1,900,000 is provided for Internet investigations as proposed in the Senate report. The conferees expect the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children to continue to consult with participating law enforcement agencies to ensure the curriculum, training, and programs provided with this additional funding are consistent with the protocols for conducting investigations involving the Internet and on-line service providers that have been established by the Department of Justice. Also included is the following: $180,000 for cybercrime awareness training for law enforcement in every State; $690,000 for expansion and enhancement of the cybertipline, technology upgrades, and enhancement of the exploited child unit; $300,000 for a national survey regarding the exposure of children and youth to unwanted sexual solicitations and pornography on the Internet; and $50,000 to increase staffing at the center's office in Columbia, SC; and

(3) $1,250,000 for the Jimmy Ryce Law Enforcement Training Center for training of State and local law enforcement officials investigating missing and exploited children cases. The conference agreement includes an increase for expansion of the center to train additional law enforcement officers.

The Department is directed to work closely with the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children, schools, and libraries to educate the public about the potential risks of Internet usage. Further, the conference agreement includes the suggestion that the Center create a brief information seminar appropriate for organizations, such as Boys and Girls Clubs of America, who can provide information directly to juveniles. The conference agreement adopts additional Senate report language regarding the significant progress of the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children; the recognition that schools can play a vital role in the identification and recovery of missing children; the problem of the emergence of sex tourism in which glossy brochures and websites advertise packages for travelers complete with airfare, hotel, and directions to local brothels; and the recognition of the key role private organizations can play in combating child abduction.

Regional Information Sharing System (RISS).—The conference agreement includes $20,000,000 for the RISS program, as proposed in the House bill, instead of $25,000,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. In addition, the conference agreement provides $5,000,000 under the COPS Technology Program for an enhancement to the RISS program to upgrade its communications infrastructure. The conference agreement recognizes that the regional structure of the RISS program is essential to its continued acceptance and support by the state and local law enforcement community and commend OJP for their strong support of this valuable network.

National White Collar Crime Center.—The conference agreement includes $7,350,000 for the National White Collar Crime Center as proposed in the House bill instead of $5,350,000 as provided in the Senate bill and assumes funding in accordance with the House report.

Grants to Firefighters.—The conference agreement includes funds under the Counterterrorism Fund.

State and Local Antiterrorism Training.—The conference agreement includes funds under the Counterterrorism Fund.

Counterterrorism Technology.—The conference agreement includes funds under the Counterterrorism Fund.

Management and Administration.—The conference agreement provides $31,456,000 for Management and Administration expenses of the Office of Justice Programs instead of $37,788,000 as proposed in the House bill and instead of $31,956,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. In addition, reimbursable funding from VCRTF programs, the Counterterrorism Fund, and Community Oriented Policing Services and a transfer from the Juvenile Justice account, will be provided for the administration of grants under these activities. Total funding for the administration of grants assumed in the conference agreement is as follows:

	Amount	FTE
Direct Appropriation	31,456,000	322
Transfer from Juvenile Justice programs	6,947,000	87
Reimbursement from VCRTF	47,230,000	387
Reimbursement from COPS	2,500,000	23
Reimbursement from Counterterrorism Fund	2,000,000	15
Total	90,133,000	834

In order to ensure careful stewardship of these resources, and in accordance with the House report, the Assistant Attorney General for the Office of Justice Programs (OJP) submitted a report to the Committees in January of this year, which outlined the steps OJP has taken and which recommends additional actions that will ensure coordination and reduce the possibility of duplication and overlap among the various OJP divisions. As a result of that report, the conference agreement includes a General Provision under this title, as proposed in the Senate bill, which authorizes the Assistant Attorney General for OJP to have final authority over all grants, cooperative agreements, and contracts for OJP and its component organizations. The conference agreement includes the House proposal which directs the Assistant Attorney General of OJP to develop a new organizational structure.

STATE AND LOCAL LAW ENFORCEMENT ASSISTANCE

The conference agreement includes $2,921,950,000 for State and Local Law Enforcement Assistance, instead of $2,927,150,000 as proposed in the House bill and $2,676,650,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. Of this amount, the conference agreement provides that $2,369,950,000 shall be derived from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund (VCRTF), instead of $2,374,400,000 as proposed in the House bill and $2,124,650,000 as proposed in the Senate bill.

The conference agreement provides for the following programs from direct appropriations and the VCRTF:

Direct Appropriation:
Byrne Discretionary Grants	$47,000,000
Byrne Formula Grants	505,000,000
	552,000,000
Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund:
Local Law Enforcement Block Grant	523,000,000
Boys and Girls Clubs	(40,000,000)
Law Enforcement Technology	(20,000,000)
Juvenile Crime Block Grant	250,000,000
Indian Tribal Courts Program	5,000,000
Drug Courts	40,000,000
Upgrade Criminal History Records (Brady Bill)	45,000,000
State Prison Grants	720,500,000
Cooperative Agreement Program	(25,000,000)
Indian Country Earmark	(34,000,000)
Alien Incarceration	(165,000,000)
State Criminal Alien Assistance Program	420,000,000
Violence Against Women Act Programs	282,750,000
Substance Abuse Treatment for State Prisoners	63,000,000
DNA Identification State Grants	15,000,000
Law Enforcement Family Support Programs	1,500,000
Senior Citizens Against Marketing Scams	2,000,000
Motor Vehicle Theft Prevention	1,300,000
Missing Alzheimer's Patient Program	900,000
	2,369,950,000

Edward Byrne Grants to States.—The conference agreement provides $552,000,000 for the Edward Byrne Memorial State and Local Law Enforcement Assistance Program, of which $47,000,000 is for discretionary grants and $505,000,000 is provided for formula grants under this program.

Byrne Discretionary Grants.—The conference agreement provides $47,000,000 for discretionary grants under Chapter A of the Edward Byrne Memorial State and Local Assistance Program, as proposed in the Senate bill, instead of $47,750,000 as proposed in the House bill. Within the amount provided, the Bureau of Justice Assistance (BJA) is expected to review the following proposals, provide a grant if warranted, and report to the Committees on Appropriations of the House and the Senate on its intentions:

—$4,000,000 for the National Crime Prevention Council;

—$1,750,000 to continue the Drug Abuse Resistance Education (DARE America) program. DARE may also apply for a grant to expand its program into middle schools under the COPS Methamphetamine/Drug Hot Spots program as proposed in the House report;

—$2,250,000 for continued funding for the Washington Metropolitan Area Drug Enforcement Task Force and for development of a regional gang tracking system;

—$1,000,000 for Project Return to include funds for evaluation of this correctional options program;

—$1,000,000 for continued funding for the National Judicial College;

—$1,500,000 to SEARCH Group, Inc. to continue and expand the National Technical Assistance Program, which provides support to State and local criminal justice agencies to improve their use of computers and information technology;

—$3,150,000 for the National Motor Vehicle Title Information System, authorized by the Anti-Car Theft Improvement Act;

—$500,000 for continuation of the Santee-Lynches Regional Council of Governments Local Law Enforcement Program;

—$1,000,000 for the National Neighborhood Crime and Drug Abuse Prevention Program;

—$925,000 to allow the Utah State Olympic Public Safety Command to continue to develop and support a public safety master plan for the games;

—$4,500,000 for the Executive Office of United States Attorneys to support the National District Attorneys Association's participation in legal education training at the National Advocacy Center;

—$3,000,000 for the Community Law Enforcement and Recovery (CLEAR) program, in which city and county law enforcement agencies collaborate with community agencies to target gang leadership and hard-core gang members to remove them from the community;

—$3,500,000 for Consolidated Advanced Technologies for the Law Enforcement Program at the University of New Hampshire and the New Hampshire Department of Safety;

—$2,000,000 for a one-time grant to Tools for Tolerance for training for law enforcement officers;

—$1,500,000 for the New Hampshire Department of Safety for Operation Streetsweeper;

—$500,000 for the community security program of the Local Initiatives Support Corporation;

—$1,000,000 for the Ben Clark Public Safety Training program; and —$1,000,000 for a Rural Crime Prevention and Prosecution program.

Within the available resources for Byrne discretionary grants, BJA is urged to review proposals, provide a grant if warranted, and report to the Committees on Appropriations of the House and the Senate on its intentions regarding: demonstration and evaluation of the programs of Haymarket House; Chicago's Family Violence Intervention Program; the National Night Out Program; National Training and Information Center; Lincoln-Lancaster Mediation Center; Trauma Reduction Initiative; National Fraud Information Center; Stop the Violence Program; Light of Life Ministries; Westcare; South Florida Corrections options; Straight and Narrow; Public Safety Training Institute in Missouri; and for necessary trial security expenses for Jasper County, Texas.

Byrne Formula Grants.—The conference agreement provides $505,000,000 for the Byrne Formula Grant program, as proposed in both the House and Senate bills, from direct appropriations. The conference agreement includes language, as proposed in the House bill, which makes drug testing programs an allowable use of grants provided to States under this program.

VIOLENT CRIME REDUCTION TRUST FUND PROGRAMS

Local Law Enforcement Block Grant.—The conference agreement includes $523,000,000 for the Local Law Enforcement Block Grant program, as proposed in the House bill, instead of $500,000,000 as proposed in the Senate bill, in order to continue the commitment to provide local governments with the resources and flexibility to address specific crime problems in their communities with their own solutions. Within the amount provided, the conference agreement includes language providing $40,000,000 of these funds to the Boys and Girls Clubs of America. In addition, the conference agreement includes language as proposed in the House bill that defines the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico as a unit of local government and includes language from the Senate bill, which designates parish sheriffs as the recipient of block grant funds in Louisiana. There is an awareness of the unique law enforcement system that exists in the State of Louisiana whereby the constitution of the State of Louisiana establishes independent and wholly autonomous parish sheriffs and names the sheriff as the chief law enforcement officer of the constitutionally established law enforcement districts. In addition, the conference agreement extends the set aside for law enforcement technology for which an authorization had expired, as proposed in the Senate bill.

Juvenile Accountability Block Grant.—The conference agreement provides $250,000,000 for a Juvenile Accountability Incentive Block Grant program to address the growing problem of juvenile crime, as proposed in the House bill and instead of the $100,000,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. The conference agreement includes language that continues by reference the terms and conditions for the administration of the Block Grant contained in the fiscal year 1998 appropriations bill, instead of listing those terms and conditions. The conference report does not include a set aside for discretionary grants, as proposed in the Senate bill. It has been brought to the attention of the conferees the special needs of San Bernardino, California, Douglas County, Oregon, Missoula, Montana, Billings, Montana, Montrose, Colorado, the Montrose Juvenile Probation Officers, and the North Dakota Youth Crisis Center.

Drug Courts.—The conference agreement includes $40,000,000 for drug courts as proposed in the Senate bill, instead of $43,000,000 as proposed in the House bill. The conferees note that localities may also obtain funding for drug courts under the Local Law Enforcement Block Grant and the Juvenile Accountability Block Grant.

Upgrade Criminal History Records (Brady Bill).—The conference agreement provides $45,000,000, as proposed in both the House and Senate bills, for States to upgrade criminal history records as required under the Brady Bill.

State Prison Grants.—The conference agreement provides $720,500,000 for State Prison Grants, instead of $730,500,000 as proposed in the House bill and $711,000,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. Of the amount provided, $496,500,000 is available to States to build and expand prisons, $165,000,000 is available to States for the reimbursement cost of incarceration of criminal aliens and $25,000,000 is for the Cooperative Agreement Program. The conference agreement includes $34,000,000 for construction of jails on Indian reservations and adopts House language providing for the new construction of jails and detention facilities and not for repair and maintenance costs of existing facilities, as proposed in the Senate. There is an awareness of the special detention needs at the Barrow Correctional Facility and the Fort Berthold Indian reservation.

OJP is expected to follow the same priority for funding that exists under the current Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) priority list when determining the order in which tribes are allocated funding for detention facility construction projects in Indian Country, if appropriate. The BIA has expended considerable resources to establish these priorities, and it would be a duplication of these efforts to repeat the process.

State Criminal Alien Assistance Program.—The conference agreement provides a total of $585,000,000 for the State Criminal Alien Assistance Program for reimbursement to States for the costs of incarceration of criminal aliens, as proposed in the House bill, instead of $500,000,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. Of the total amount, the conference agreement includes $420,000,000 under this account for the State Criminal Alien Assistance Program as proposed in the House bill, instead of $350,000,000 as proposed in the Senate bill and $165,000,000 for this purpose under the State Prison Grants program, as proposed by the House bill, instead of $150,000,000 as proposed by the Senate bill.

The conference agreement includes concerns that OJP has been unable, for various reasons, some beyond their control, to distribute funds within the fiscal year in which they are appropriated. Based on discussions with BJA, State, and localities, OJP–BJA is instructed to use the 1998 data collection and verification process as the basis for 1999 awards, as well as 1998 awards, and to make the 1999 awards by September 30, 1999. Announcement of the 1999 program should be made to all eligible States and jurisdictions and any that did not apply in 1998 but desire to apply in 1999 shall be allowed to do so. OJP is directed to report back to the Committees by December 31, 1999, regarding the results of this approach.

If SCAAP funds are not disbursed by August 31 of the fiscal year for which the funds were appropriated, BJA is directed to immediately disburse to all jurisdictions whose prior fiscal year SCAAP award was equal to, or greater than 0.5% of total prior year SCAAP awards an amount equal to 50% of such jurisdiction's prior year award. Such jurisdictions shall be credited for partial disbursements when remaining SCAAP funds are disbursed.

Violence Against Women Act Programs.—The conference agreement includes $282,750,000 for grants to support the Violence Against Women Act, as proposed in the Senate bill, instead of $279,750,000 as proposed in the House bill. Grants provided under this account are for the following programs:

General Grants	$206,750,000
Civil Legal Assistance	(23,000,000)
National Institute of Justice	(5,200,000)
D.C. Superior Court Domestic Violence	(1,196,000)
OJJDP-Safe Start Program	(10,000,000)

Violence on College Campuses	(10,000,000)
Victims of Child Abuse Programs:
Court-Appointed Special Advocates	9,000,000
Training for Judicial Personnel	2,000,000
Grants for Televised Testimony	1,000,000
Grants to Encourage Arrest Policies	34,000,000
Rural Domestic Violence	25,000,000
Training Programs	5,000,000
Total	$282,750,000

Within the amount provided for General Grants, the conference agreement includes $23,000,000 exclusively for the purpose of augmenting civil legal assistance programs to address domestic violence, $5,200,000 for research and evaluation of domestic violence programs, $1,196,000 to support an enhanced domestic prosecution unit within the District of Columbia, $10,000,000 for the Safe Start program which provides direct intervention and treatment to youth who are victims, witnesses or perpetrators of violent crimes in order to attempt early treatment, and $10,000,000 to combat violent crime against women on college campuses, the latter as proposed in the Senate report. Within the amounts provided, the Office of Justice Programs should consider the needs of the Aberdeen, SD CASA program.

The conference agreement includes $10,000,000 within General Grants to expand a project which provides direct intervention and treatment to youth who are victims, witnesses or perpetrators of violent crimes in order to attempt early treatment.

Substance Abuse Treatment for State Prisoners.—The conference agreement includes $63,000,000 for substance abuse treatment programs within State and local correctional facilities, as proposed in the House and Senate bills.

Indian Tribal Courts.—The conference agreement includes $5,000,000 to assist tribal governments in the development, enhancement, and continuing operation of tribal judicial systems, as described in the Senate report. These grants should be competitive, based upon the extent and urgency of the need of each applicant. OJP should consider the needs of the Waka Sica Historical Society of South Dakota and the Winnebago Tribe of Nebraska. OJP should report back to the Committees with its proposal as to how the program may be administered before approving any grants.

DNA Identification State Grants.—The conference agreement includes $15,000,000 for DNA Identification State Grants, as proposed by both the House and Senate bills. Within the amount made available under this program, it is expected that the OJP and the FBI review a proposal, provide a grant if warranted, and report to the Committees on Appropriations of the House and the Senate on its intentions regarding a $2,000,000 grant to the Marshall University Forensic Science Program, and a $1,000,000 grant to the West Virginia University Forensic Identification Program, and a $3,000,000 grant to the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division's forensic laboratory. Within the amount made available under this program, the OJP and the FBI should also review the following proposals, and provide a grant if warranted, and report to the Committees on Appropriations of the House and the Senate on its intentions regarding: a forensic science partnership between the Oregon State Police and Western Oregon University; the Southeast Missouri Crime Laboratory; and the National Center for Forensic Science at the University of Central Florida Forensic Center.

Law Enforcement Family Support Programs.—The conference agreement includes $1,500,000 for law enforcement family support programs, as proposed by the House bill, instead of $2,000,000 as proposed by the Senate bill.

Senior Citizens Against Marketing Scams.—The conference agreement includes $2,000,000 for programs to assist law enforcement in preventing and stopping marketing scams against senior citizens, as proposed by both the House and Senate bills, and including program sessions to be held at the National Advocacy Center, as proposed in the Senate report.

Motor Vehicle Theft Prevention.—The conference agreement includes $1,300,000 for grants to combat motor vehicle theft, instead of $750,000 as proposed in the House bill and instead of $2,000,000 as proposed in the Senate bill.

Safe Return Program.—The conference agreement includes $900,000 for the Missing Alzheimer's Patient Program, as proposed in both the House and Senate bills and includes the proposal in the Senate report.

WEED AND SEED PROGRAM

The conference agreement includes a direct appropriation of $33,500,000 for the Weed and Seed program, as proposed by the House bill instead of $40,000,000 as proposed by the Senate bill. The conference agreement includes the expectation that $6,500,000 will be made available from the Asset Forfeiture Super Surplus Fund, as proposed in the House bill.

COMMUNITY ORIENTED POLICING SERVICES

VIOLENT CRIME REDUCTION PROGRAMS

The conference agreement includes $1,430,000,000 for the Community Oriented Policing Services (COPS) program, instead of $1,420,000,000 as proposed by the House and $1,440,000,000 as proposed by the Senate bill. This statement of managers reflects the conference agreement on how funds provided for all programs under the Community Oriented Policing Services program in this conference report are to be spent.

Police Corps.—Within the total amount provided, the conference agreement provides $30,000,000 for the Police Corps program, instead of $20,000,000 as proposed by the House bill and $40,000,000 as proposed by the Senate bill. The conference agreement includes the acceptance of a possible move of the Police Corps program from this account to the Office of Justice Programs.

Management and Administration.—The conference agreement also includes a provision that provides that not to exceed 266 positions, 266 workyears, and $32,023,000 shall be expended for management and administration of the program, as proposed in the House bill, instead of 266 positions, 266 workyears, and $34,023,000, as proposed in the Senate bill. A request for re-programming or transfer of funds, pursuant to section 605 of this Act, would be entertained to increase this amount by up to $2,000,000.

Police Hiring Initiatives.—Funds have been provided since fiscal year 1994 to support grants for the hiring of 88,000 police officers. The conference agreement includes funding for an additional 17,000 officer grants, bringing the total number of new police officer grants under this program to 105,000, which will exceed the goals of the program before the year 2000. The conference agreement includes the expectation that hiring grants will include grants under the COPS Universal Hiring Program and the COPS MORE program in order to accomplish this goal.

Safe schools initiative [SSI].—The conference agreement includes $167,500,000 for a safe schools initiative which will provide funding to police departments and sheriff's offices in partnerships with schools and other community-based organizations to develop programs to improve the safety of elementary and secondary school children and educators in and around schools and for hiring school resource officers, as proposed in the Senate report. Officers hired under this initiative could be counted toward the COPS office hiring goal of 100,000 officers by the year 2000.

Indian Country.—The conference agreement includes $35,000,000 to improve law enforcement capabilities on Indian lands, both for hiring uniformed officers and for the purchase of equipment and training for new and existing officers, as proposed by the Senate. Officers hired under this initiative are to be counted toward the COPS office hiring goal of 100,000 officers by the year 2000.

Special note is made of the need for additional police officers in Jackson, Mississippi.

Non-Hiring Initiatives.—The conferees understand that the COPS program expects to fund 88,000 officers by the end of the fiscal year 1998, well above the 82,667 officers projected in the fiscal year 1999 President's Budget. The conferees recognize that this is largely due to COPS' determined efforts to streamline its hiring program's grant application and obligation processes. With significant progress being made toward hiring goals of the program, the conferees want to ensure there is adequate infrastructure for the new police officers, similar to the focus that has been provided Federal law enforcement over the past several years. The conferees believe this approach will enable police officers to work more efficiently, equipped with the protection, tools, and technology they need; address crime in and around schools, provide law enforcement technology for local law enforcement, combat the emergence of methamphetamine in new areas and provide policing of "hot spots" of drug market activity, provide model initiatives for addressing domestic violence and community prosecutor programs, provide bullet proof and stab proof vests for local law enforcement officers and correctional officers, and provide additional probation and parole officers for the District of Columbia, a new federal responsibility.

Because the hiring program is ahead of schedule, the conferees understand there are sufficient budgetary resources within the program to support these initiatives and still keep the program on track to hire 100,000 officers by the end of fiscal year 2000. Specifically, the conferees direct the program to use $180,000,000, to be made available from a combination of unobligated carryover balances and the new monies appropriated in this Act for COPS to fund initiatives that will result in more effective policing. The conferees believe that these funds should be used to address these critical law enforcement requirements and direct the program to establish the following non-hiring grant programs:

1. COPS Technology Program.—The conference agreement includes the direction of $80,000,000 to be used for continued development of technologies and automated systems to assist State and local law enforcement agencies in investigating, responding to and preventing crime. In particular, there is a recognition of the importance of the sharing of criminal information and intelligence between State and local law enforcement to address multi-jurisdictional crimes.

Within the amounts made available under this program, the conference agreement includes the expectation that the office will award grants for the following technology proposals:

—$9,000,000 for the Southwest Border States Anti-Drug Information System, which will provide for the purchase and deployment of this technology network between all State and local law enforcement agencies in the four southwest border states—California, Arizona, New Mexico, and Texas—to provide information sharing of drug trafficking along the U.S.-Mexico border, by linking criminal and intelligence databases of these States, the El Paso Intelligence Center, and certain components of the Regional Information Sharing System;

—$5,000,000 to expand the Regional Information Sharing System (RISS) by providing access to law enforcement member agencies to the RISS Secure Intranet to increase their ability to share and retrieve criminal intelligence information on a real-time basis;

—$10,000,000 for the North Carolina Criminal Justice Information System, to complete development of phase II of a network to integrate data from various criminal justice agencies to meet North Carolina's public safety needs;

—$7,000,000 to the New Hampshire Department of Public Safety for the development of a pilot intergovernmental VHF trunked digital radio system, including $2,000,000 for phase 1 of development of an interoperable law enforcement communications system;

—$3,000,000 for the I-85 police technology initiative in Anderson, Greenville, and Spartanburg Counties, SC, for computer enhancements and policing equipment upgrades;

—$1,500,000 for the Alaska juvenile offender management system;

—$1,100,000 for the Jackson, Mississippi, public safety automated systems and technologies;

—$100,000 each for establishment of a 911 emergency system in Marshall County and in Moody County, South Dakota;

—$400,000 for the Fairbanks, Alaska Police Department for computer enhancements and policing equipment upgrades;

—$2,400,000 for the Anchorage, AK Mobile Data Terminals;

—$650,000 for Alaskan Village Public Safety Program for technology, equipment, and training programs;

—$1,000,000 for Utica, New York and surrounding areas for modernizing their equipment;

—$1,500,000 for Indianapolis, Indiana sheriff's office for modernizing their equipment;

—$1,500,000 for a demonstration project enabling local law enforcement officers to field-test a portable hand-held digital fingerprint and photo device which would be compatible with NCIC 2000;

—$50,000 for Riverside, California computer upgrades;

—$1,000,000 for Allegheny County, Pennsylvania for computer upgrades;

—$100,000 for Conshohocken, Pennsylvania for computer upgrades;

—$50,000 for Rockledge, Pennsylvania for computer upgrades;

—$3,000,000 for videoteleconferencing equipment necessary to assist State and local law enforcement in contacting the Immigration and Naturalization Service to allow them to confirm the identification of illegal and criminal aliens in their custody;

—$1,000,000 for Gainesville, Florida for computer upgrades;

—up to $7,000,000, if warranted, for a juvenile justice information system for the Missouri Office of the State Courts Administrator;

—more than the amount provided in the current fiscal year for the Law Enforcement On-Line system, to add State and local users to a secure national interactive computer communications network currently being developed with the FBI;

—more than the amount provided in the current fiscal year for the Jefferson Parish, Louisiana Sheriff Department for software development and network capability to enhance radio communications and to develop a model for interconnectivity and interoperability;

—funding at least at the current year level for Utah Communications Agency Network (UCAN) for enhancements and upgrades of security and communications infrastructure to assist with the law enforcement needs arising from the 2002 Winter Olympics;

—grants for technology to police and sheriff departments in communities that are in need of modernizing their equipment and for which alternative sources of funding are not available, including, if contacted, the communities of Compton, California; Missoula, Montana; Rural Emergency 911 Project of New Mexico; Lake County, California; Alhambra, California; and the New Jersey State Police; and, within available resources, for —grants for the following programs for which alternative sources of funding are not available, if contacted: the Upgrade of the Criminal History Records Program for crime information and identification systems and for forensic laboratories.

In addition, the conference agreement includes support for the development of new technologies which enhance the ability of State and local law enforcement to respond to 911 calls. Recent developments with the use of the 311 non-emergency number has shown promising results and the conference agreement supports the use of these funds for this purpose.

2. COPS Methamphetamine/Drug "Hot Spots" Program.—The conference agreement includes the direction of $35,000,000 be used for State and local law enforcement programs to combat methamphetamine production, distribution, and use, and to reimburse the Drug Enforcement Administration for assistance to State and local law enforcement for proper removal and disposal of hazardous materials at clandestine methamphetamine labs. The monies may also be used for policing initiatives in “hot spots” of drug market activity. There is an awareness that the production, trafficking, and usage of methamphetamine, an extremely destructive and addictive synthetic drug, is a growing national problem, particularly in California, the Southwest, and the Midwest. Within the amount provided for this program, the office is expected to award grants for the following methamphetamine or drug programs:

- $18,200,000 to the California Bureau of Narcotics Enforcement’s Methamphetamine Strategy, as proposed in the House report;

- $1,200,000 for the Tri-State (Iowa/Nebraska/South Dakota) Methamphetamine Training program, as proposed in the House report;

- $4,000,000 for the Midwest Methamphetamine Initiative, as proposed in the Senate report;

- $1,000,000 for the Arizona Methamphetamine Initiative, as proposed in the Senate report;

- $1,000,000 for the Rocky Mountain Methamphetamine Initiative, as proposed in the Senate report;

- $5,000,000 for DEA support for lab and disposal of clandestine methamphetamine laboratories, as proposed in the Senate report; and

- $1,000,000 for the Northern Utah Methamphetamine Initiative, as proposed in the Senate report.

The conference agreement also includes the expectation that the office consider funding a proposal by the Drug Abuse Resistance Education (DARE AMERICA) for pilot programs in middle schools particularly at risk to test the recently agreed upon strategies resulting from consultations between the DARE program and prevention experts to improve the effectiveness of this program. The office is directed to work directly with the OJP, which is familiar with DARE, on this grant proposal.

3. COPS Safe School Initiative[SSI]/School Violence Initiatives.—The conference agreement includes direction that $17,500,000 be used to provide grants to policing agencies and schools to provide resources for programs aimed at preventing violence in public schools, and to support the assignment of officers to work in collaboration with schools and community-based organizations to address crime and disorder problems, gangs, and drug activities, as proposed in the House report.

Within the overall amounts recommended for this program, the conference agreement includes the expectation that the COPS office examine each of the following proposals, to provide grants if warranted, and submit a report to the Committees on its intentions for each proposal:

- $250,000 for a grant to Stop Violence in Youth program to teach elementary school children through role-playing about alternatives to violence;

- $500,000 for a grant to the Home Run Program to place probation officers in school districts to assist elementary and secondary schools with children beginning to engage in delinquent behavior; and —$1,500,000 for a grant to support the Juvenile Anti-Violence Demonstration Project of Future Homemakers of America for peer education program on alternatives to violence and crime.

4. COPS Bullet-proof vests initiative.—The conference agreement includes the direction that $25,000,000 be used to provide State and local law enforcement officers with bullet proof vests, in accordance with Public Law 105–181, recently enacted into law. The conference agreement includes the awareness of the new Internet-based approach which the Office of Justice Program's Bureau of Justice Assistance anticipates taking to administer this program. The conference agreement includes support of both the use of technology to save administrative funds and to get vests to applicants faster and more efficiently. In support of this effort, the conference agreement supports OJP's use of up to $1,200,000 for implementation and operation of this new system.

5. COPS Community Policing to Combat Domestic Violence Program.—The conference agreement includes direction that $12,500,000 be used for the Community Policing to Combat Domestic Violence Program established pursuant to section 1701(d) of part Q of the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968, as amended.

6. COPS Community Prosecutors.—The conference agreement includes direction that $5,000,000 be used for pilot community prosecutor programs to be administered by the Office of Justice Programs.

7. COPS D.C. Offender Services.—The conference agreement includes direction that $5,000,000 be used for hiring additional community supervision officers for probation, parole and pre-trial supervision activities and related program support for the District of Columbia Offender Supervision, Defender, and Court Services Agency. Within the amount, $1,250,000 is available for case management information systems.

JUVENILE JUSTICE PROGRAMS

The conference agreement includes $284,597,000 for Juvenile Justice programs, as proposed in the Senate bill, instead of $282,950,000 as proposed in the House bill. The conference agreement includes the understanding that changes to Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Programs are being considered in the reauthorization process of the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Act of 1974. However, absent completion of this reauthorization process, the conference agreement provides funding consistent with the current Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act. In addition, the conference agreement includes language that provides that funding for these programs shall be subject to the provisions of any subsequent authorization legislation that is enacted.

Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention.—Of the total amount provided, $267,597,000 is for grants and administrative expenses for Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention programs including:

1. $6,847,000 for the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP) (Part A).
2. $89,000,000 for Formula Grants for assistance to State and local programs (Part B).

3. $42,750,000 for Discretionary Grants for National Programs and Special Emphasis Programs (Part C).

Within the amount provided for Part C discretionary grants, OJJDP is directed to review the following proposals, provide a grant if warranted, and submit a report to the Committees on Appropriations of the House and the Senate on its intentions regarding:

- $3,000,000 for a grant for Parents Anonymous, which develops partnerships with local communities to build and support strong, safe families and to help break the cycle of abuse and delinquency;

- $1,500,000 for a grant for the continuation of the Center for Research on Crimes Against Children which focuses on improving the handling of child crime victims by the justice system;

- $1,300,000 for a grant for the Suffolk University Center for Juvenile Justice, dedicated to representing children in criminal cases in juvenile court and children and parents in civil matters as well as gang related and abuse cases;

- $2,000,000 for a grant for L.A. Best youth programs;

- $2,000,000 for a grant for Intensive Services Program for Juveniles and Families;

- $1,250,000 for a grant for the Teens, Crime and the Community program;

- $750,000 for a grant for the Delancy Street Foundation;

- $650,000 for a grant to develop local juvenile justice programs in rural Alaska;

- $383,000 for a grant for the National Association of State Fire Marshals for implementing national juvenile fire setter intervention mobilization plan, as in the Senate report;

- $250,000 for a grant for the Juvenile Offender Transition Program, a public/private partnership to reduce the rate of recidivism among juvenile offenders by partnering certain offenders with a local college or university student in a mentoring-protege program;

- $250,000 for a grant for the Syracuse-Onodaga County Drug and Alcohol Abuse Commission;

- more than the current year level for a grant for the National Law-Related Education program, if warranted;

- more than the current year level of funding for a grant for the Hamilton Fish National Institute for School/Community Violence; and

- more than the current year level of funding for a grant to continue and expand the National Council of Juvenile and Family Courts which provides continuing legal education in family and juvenile law.

In addition, OJJDP is directed to examine each of the following proposals, provide grants if warranted, and report to the Committees on Appropriations of both the House and Senate on its intentions for each proposal: a grant to the Low Country Children's Center; a grant to Project O.A.S.I.S; a grant to the Consortium on Children, Families, and Law; an increased grant to the Center for Prevention of Juvenile Crime and Delinquency at Prairie View University; a grant to the Women of Vision program for youthful female offenders; a grant for the Violence Institute of New Jersey; a grant for L.A. Bridges youth programs; a grant to the Compton Youth Intervention Center for after school programs; a grant to the Kids with a Promise program; a grant for Operation Quality Time; a grant for the Achievable Dream program; a grant for the Secure School pilot program; a grant for the Youth Advocates program; a grant for the Camden Urban Science Enrichment program; a grant for the Juvenile Crime Reduction Strategies pilot program; a grant for the School Security Technology Center; a grant for the New Mexico Cooperative Service Extension 4-H Youth Development program; a grant for the Adolescent Residential Treatment Program; a grant for the Coalition for Drug Free Lanai; a grant for Youth Courts in Alaska; a grant for the Sioux Falls, SD School District for youth programs; a grant for the South Dakota Unified Judicial System; a grant for the Nebraska Commission for Law Enforcement for youth programs; a grant for the Chicago Public Schools Substance Abuse program; a grant for the Minnehaha, SD County Sheriff's office for youth programs; a grant for the Essex Teen Center and other Vermont Coalition for Teen Center's members; a grant for the Comprehensive Juvenile Justice Crime Prevention initiative in Gainesville; a grant for the Multistate Youth Violence Prevention Network; a grant to the State of Hawaii to combat teen prostitution; and a grant for Safe Places for Kids.

The conference agreement urges the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention to work with the Head Start Bureau and other Federal agencies to coordinate an effort to increase public/private partnerships, such as Free to Grow, aimed at strengthening families and communities in their efforts to reduce the negative effect of substance abuse and use on the development of young children.

4. $12,000,000 to expand the Youth Gangs (Part D) program which provides grants to public and private nonprofit organizations to prevent and reduce the participation of at-risk youth in the activities of gangs that commit crimes. In addition, OJJDP is directed to examine each of the following proposals, provide grants if warranted, and report to the Committees on Appropriations of both the House and Senate on its intentions for each proposal: $100,000 for the Metro Denver Gang Coalition; a grant to Operation Clean Break; a grant for the Fairbanks, AK Gang Task Force; and a grant for the Sisseton, SD Gang Task Force.

5. $10,000,000 for Discretionary Grants for State Challenge Activities (Part E) to increase the amount of a State's formula grant by up to 10 percent, if that State agrees to undertake some or all of the ten challenge activities designed to improve various aspects of a State's juvenile justice and delinquency prevention program.

6. $12,000,000 for the Juvenile Mentoring Program (Part G) to reduce juvenile delinquency, improve academic performance, and reduce the drop-out rate among at-risk youth through the use of mentors by bringing together young people in high crime areas with law enforcement officers and other responsible adults who are willing to serve as long-term mentors. Within the amount provided OJJDP is directed to provide a grant in an amount greater than the current year level for the Big Brothers Big Sisters of America program.

7. $95,000,000 for Incentive Grants for Local Delinquency Prevention Programs (Title V), to units of general local government for delinquency prevention programs and other activities for at-risk youth. The Title V program provides funding on a formula basis to States, to be distributed by the State for use by local units of government and locally-based public and private agencies and organizations. Administration of these funds on a formula basis ensures fairness in the distribution process.

Safe School Initiative/SSI.—The conference agreement includes $15,000,000 within the Title V grants for the Safe School initiative as proposed in the Senate report.

Tribal Youth Program.—The conference agreement includes $10,000,000 within the Title V grants for programs to reduce, control and prevent crime, as proposed in the Senate report.

Enforcing the Underage Drinking Laws Program.—The conference agreement includes $25,000,000 within the Title V grants for programs to assist States in enforcing underage drinking laws, as proposed in the Senate report, which may include, if warranted, breath alcohol testing mobiles for the Vermont Department of Public Service. Projects funded may include: Statewide task forces of State and local law enforcement and prosecutorial agencies to target establishments suspected of a pattern of violations of State laws governing the sale and consumption of alcohol by minors; public advertising programs to educate establishments about statutory prohibitions and sanctions; and innovative programs to prevent and combat underage drinking.

Drug Prevention Program.—While crime is on the decline in certain parts of America, a dangerous precursor to crime, namely teenage drug use, is on the rise and may soon reach a 20-year high. The conference agreement includes $10,000,000, as proposed in the House bill, to develop, demonstrate and test programs to increase the perception among children and youth that drug use is risky, harmful, and unattractive.

Victims of Child Abuse Act.—The conference agreement includes $7,000,000 for the various programs authorized under the Victims of Child Abuse Act (VOCA), as proposed in the House bill. The following programs are included in the agreement:

—$1,000,000 to establish Regional Children's Advocacy Centers, as authorized by section 213 of VOCA;

—$4,000,000 to establish local Children's Advocacy Centers, as authorized by section 214 of VOCA;

—$1,500,000 for a continuation grant to the National Center for Prosecution of Child Abuse for specialized technical assistance and training programs to improve the prosecution of child abuse cases, as authorized by section 214a of VOCA; and —$500,000 for a continuation grant to the National Network of Child Advocacy Centers for technical assistance and training, as authorized by section 214a of VOCA.

PUBLIC SAFETY OFFICERS BENEFITS

The conference agreement includes $31,809,000, as proposed by the Senate, instead of $32,309,000, as proposed by the House, in direct appropriations and assumes $4,250,000 in carryover which will fully fund anticipated payments.

In addition, the conference agreement assumes $3,200,000 in carryover balances for lump-sum payments to public safety officers who are permanently disabled in the line of duty, and $1,050,000 in carryover balances to pay for higher education to dependants of Federal, State and local public safety officers who are killed or permanently disabled in the line of duty.

GENERAL PROVISIONS—DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

The conference agreement includes the following general provisions for the Department of Justice:

Section 101.—The conference agreement includes section 101 as proposed by both the House and Senate bills, which makes up to $45,000 of the funds appropriated to the Department of Justice available for reception and representation expenses.

Sec. 102.—The conference agreement includes section 102 as proposed in the House bill, which continues certain authorities for the Justice Department in fiscal year 1999 that were contained in the Department of Justice Authorization Act, fiscal year 1980.

Sec. 103.—The conference agreement includes section 103 as proposed by both the House and Senate bills, which prohibits the use of funds to perform abortions in the Federal Prison System.

Sec. 104.—The conference agreement includes section 104 as proposed by both the House and Senate bills, which prohibits use of the funds to require any person to perform, or facilitate the performance of, an abortion.

Sec. 105.—The conference agreement includes section 105 as proposed by both the House and Senate bills, which states that nothing in the previous section removes the obligation of the Director of the Bureau of Prisons to provide escort services to female inmates who seek to obtain abortions outside a Federal facility.

Sec. 106.—The conference agreement includes section 106 as proposed by both the House and Senate bills, which allows the Department of Justice to spend up to $10,000,000 for rewards for information regarding acts of terrorism against a United States person or property at levels not to exceed $2,000,000 per reward.

Sec. 107.—The conference agreement includes section 107 as proposed by both the House and Senate bills, which allows the Department of Justice, subject to reprogramming procedures, to transfer up to 5 percent between any appropriation, but limits to 10 percent the amount that can be transferred into any one appropriation.

Sec. 108.—The conference agreement includes section 108 as proposed in the Senate bill, and similar to language in the House bill, that allows the Bureau of Prisons to make expenditures from the Commissary Fund for an Inmate Telephone System and for other purposes.

Sec. 109.—The conference agreement includes section 109, as proposed in the House bill, which replaces injury and death-related benefits for INS officers with the same humanitarian expenses given to Federal Bureau of Investigation and Drug Enforcement Administration employees. The Senate bill had no similar provision.

Sec. 110.—The conference agreement includes section 110, as proposed in the House and Senate bills, which merges the Legalization Account into the Examinations Fee Account.

Sec. 111.—The conference agreement includes section 111, as proposed in the House bill, which requires the Bureau of Prisons to report on privately operated prison security issues. The Senate bill had no similar provision.

Sec. 112.—The conference agreement includes section 112, as proposed in the Senate bill, to authorize the Assistant Attorney General for the Office of Justice Programs (OJP) to have final authority over all grants, contracts, and cooperative agreements for OJP and its component organizations. The House had no similar provision.

Sec. 113.—The conference agreement includes section 113, as proposed by the Senate bill, which clarifies the term “tribal” for the purpose of making grant awards under programs funded in this title so that certain Indian tribes in Alaska may receive funds. The House bill had no similar provision.

Sec. 114.—The conference agreement includes section 114, as proposed by the Senate, which expands the exemption of cruise ship passengers from inspection fees to include ships which originate from a State but go into international waters or ports. The House bill had no similar provision.

Sec. 115.—The conference agreement includes a new provision, modified from the Senate bill, authorizing the Attorney General to waive certain Federal acquisition rules and regulations in certain instances related to counterterrorism, national security, or computer crime investigations and prosecutions. The House bill did not address this matter.

Sec. 116.—The conference agreement includes section 116, modified from the provision in the Senate bill, which changes the implementation date of Section 110(a) of the Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act at the land and sea ports of entry to March 30, 2001, and adds that the system will not significantly disrupt legitimate cross-border traffic, instead of repealing the requirement.

Sec. 117.—The conference agreement includes a new provision, amending the Controlled Substances Act, to change the legal standard for civil violations of recordkeeping requirements for control of licit drugs to a “negligence” standard, and reduce the maximum civil penalty to $10,000. The Senate bill proposed changing the standard to “knowing” standard, and limiting civil penalties to $500. The House bill did not address this matter.

The conference agreement provides a balanced approach with respect to recordkeeping violations with regard to legitimate law enforcement needs and the need to provide relief from enforcement policies which impose relatively high financial penalties for recordkeeping violations. In assessing whether to pursue civil penalties and determining the appropriate amount of the fine to be assessed associated with recordkeeping violations, the Attorney General should take into account the following: whether diversion actually occurred or if the recordkeeping violations are of such a nature that it cannot be determined whether diversion occurred; whether actual or potential harm to the public resulted; whether the violations were intentional or negligent in nature; whether the violations were a first time offense; time intervals between inspections where no or any serious violations were found; whether the violations were multiple occurrences of the same type of violation; whether and to what extent the defendant profited from the illegal activity; and the financial capacity of the defendant to pay the fine assessed. In addition, the Attorney General may take into account whether the violator has taken immediate and effective corrective actions. In appropriate situations, the Attorney General shall act through informal procedures such as warning letters. The civil penalty limit of $10,000 per violation is a ceiling and the Attorney General has the discretion to request and the courts the discretion to waive or impose amounts less than this limit as the circumstances warrant.

Sec. 118.—The conference agreement includes section 118, as proposed in the Senate bill, directing the General Accounting Office to monitor and report to the Committees on Judiciary and Appropriations about the compliance of the Department of Justice and all U.S. Attorneys with the “Guidance on the Use of the False Claims Act in Civil Health Care Matters” issued by the Department of Justice on June 3, 1998, including any revisions to that guidance. These reports shall be submitted to Congress no later than February 1, 1999, and August 2, 1999. The reports shall be prepared in a manner that does not impede the ongoing investigations of the Department of Justice and its preparation shall be consistent with longstanding DOJ and GAO protocols. It is recommended that the Department of Justice, the Department of Health and Human Services Office of Inspector General, and the Health Care Financing Administration communicate and consult with the health-care-provider community on accurate billing practices, national initiatives, and present and future guidelines.

Sec. 119.—The conference agreement includes section 119, as proposed by the Senate, which amends Title 18 to expand the definition of firearms safety devices and to require gun dealers to certify that they have made available for sale secure gun storage or safety devices. The House bill had no similar provision.

Sec. 120.—The conference agreement includes section 120, as proposed by the Senate, which permits the use of Byrne Discretionary Grant funding for firearm safety education programs for criminal justice personnel and the general public. The House bill had no similar provision.

Sec. 121.—The conference agreement includes section 121, as proposed by the Senate, which amends Title 18 to expand the restrictions on non-citizens purchasing firearms. The House had no similar provision.

Sec. 122.—The conference agreement includes section 122, as proposed by the Senate, which amends a provision in the criminal code to expand the Attorney General’s administrative subpoena authority involving a federal health care offense to also include activities involving federal offenses relating to the sexual exploitation of children. The House bill had no similar provision.

Sec. 123.—The conference agreement includes section 123, as proposed by the Senate, which contains technical corrections to a provision which establishes criminal penalties for convicted sexual offenders who are required to register in a State program and fail to do so. The House bill had no similar provision.

Sec. 124.—The conference agreement includes a provision, modified from the Senate bill, to authorize nursing facilities and home health care agencies to submit requests for fingerprint background checks to the FBI. The House bill contained no similar provision.

Sec. 125.—The conference agreement includes a new provision to allow the payment of certain relocation expenses for employees of the Departments of Justice and Treasury assigned to Puerto Rico and other U.S. Territories. Neither the House nor Senate bills addressed this matter.

Sec. 126.—The conference agreement includes a new provision reducing the amounts appropriated under this title by $20,038,000, with reductions to specific accounts in accordance with the chart on Year 2000 compliance funding dated September 17, 1998, provided to Congress by the Department of Justice. It is expected that such Year 2000 compliance requirements can be met by accessing a U.S. government-wide fund for Y2K compliance. Neither the House nor Senate bills addressed this matter.

Sec. 127.—The conference agreement includes section 127, as proposed by the Senate, which prohibits the disclosure of financial records and identifying information of any corrections officer in an action brought by a prisoner. The House had no similar provision.

Sec. 128.—The conference agreement includes section 128, as proposed by the Senate, which exempts from a numerical limitation the adjustment of status to that of permanent residence pursuant to immigration laws for certain Iraqi nationals moved to Guam by the U.S. government. The agreement does not include the waiver of the filing fee. The House bill had no similar provision.

Sec. 129.—The conference agreement includes section 129 to amend the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 and the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act of 1974 to provide for a uniform definition of the term “unit of local government”.

Sec. 130.—The conference agreement includes section 130, that appropriates such sums as may be necessary to the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation Resolution Fund (FRF) for payments of judgments against the United States and compromise settlements of claims in suits against the United States arising from the Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery and Enforcement Act (FIRREA) and its implementation. In addition, this section acknowledges the existing authority for the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation to transfer funds from the FRF to the Department of Justice to support litigation expenses associated with FIRREA cases, and that funds provided in this Act may not be used for such litigation expenses.

TITLE II—DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE AND RELATED AGENCIES TRADE AND INFRASTRUCTURE DEVELOPMENT
RELATED AGENCIES

OFFICE OF THE UNITED STATES TRADE REPRESENTATIVE

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $24,200,000 for the salaries and expenses of the Office of the United States Trade Representative, instead of $24,000,000 as proposed in the House bill, and $24,836,000 as proposed in the Senate bill, an increase of $750,000 above the fiscal year 1998 level.

The conference agreement provides the full request for inflationary adjustments and annualization costs for 14 additional personnel provided for in fiscal year 1998. The conference agreement does not provide $140,000 requested for two additional personnel in fiscal year 1999. In addition, $504,000 is not appropriated for Year 2000 compliance activities, and instead it is expected that such requirements can be met by accessing a U.S. Government-wide fund for Year 2000 compliance.

The conference agreement also includes bill language similar to a provision included in the Senate bill, allowing up to $1,000,000 to remain available until expended. The House bill did not provide such authority.

INTERNATIONAL TRADE COMMISSION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $44,495,000 for the salaries and expenses of the International Trade Commission (ITC) for fiscal year 1999, instead of $44,200,000 as proposed in the House bill and $45,500,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. The amount provided includes full funding to maintain operations and staffing at the current level of 396 full-time equivalents (FTE), and includes funds for an additional 24 FTE for activities related to sunset reviews required under the Uruguay Round Agreements Act, including litigation and rulemaking support.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

INTERNATIONAL TRADE ADMINISTRATION

OPERATIONS AND ADMINISTRATION

The conference agreement includes $286,264,000 in new budgetary resources for the operations and administration of the International Trade Administration for fiscal year 1999, of which $1,600,000 is derived from fee collections, instead of $283,123,000 as proposed by the House bill, and $309,314,000 as recommended in the Senate bill. In addition to this amount, the conference agreement assumes $6,000,000 in prior year carryover and $10,493,000 from excess revenues available from prior years for trade activities, resulting in a total fiscal year 1999 availability of $302,757,000.

The following table reflects the distribution of funds by activity included in the conference agreement:

Trade Development	$59,280,000
Market Access and Compliance	17,779,000
Import Administration	31,047,000
U.S. & F.C.S.	182,736,000
Executive Direction and Administration	11,915,000
Fee Collections	(1,600,000)
Carryover/Trade Show Revenue	(16,493,000)
Total, ITA	284,664,000

ITA is directed to follow the direction included in the House report regarding submission of a spending plan, as well as guidance regarding changes in the funding distribution provided for this under this account.

Trade Development (TD).—The conference agreement provides $59,280,000 for this activity. Of the amounts provided, $47,325,000 is for the TD base program, the full amount requested, and $1,200,000 is for a new trade statistics improvement initiative as described in the House report. In addition, within the amounts provided, $7,500,000 is for the National Textile Consortium, and $2,500,000 is provided for the Textile/Clothing Technology Corporation. Further, the conference agreement includes continued funding for the Access Mexico program at the level recommended in the Senate report, and provides $500,000 for continuation of the international global competitiveness initiative recommended in the House report.

Market Access and Compliance (MAC).—The conference agreement includes a total of $17,779,000 for this activity, the full amount requested for the base program. The conferees have not provided additional funds for specialized activities previously supported by the Agency for International Development (AID). Should ITA wish to integrate these specialized activities into its regular programs, a reprogramming should be submitted in accordance with section 605 of this Act.

Import Administration.—The conference agreement provides $31,047,000 for the Import Administration. ITA is directed to submit a report to the Committees on Appropriations on related party importers no later than February 1, 1999 in accordance with the direction included in both the House and Senate reports.

U.S. and Foreign Commercial Service (U.S. & FCS).—The conference agreement includes $182,736,000 for the programs of the U.S. & FCS, an increase of $11,666,000 over the fiscal year 1998 funding level. Within the increase provided, $7,666,000 is for requested adjustments to base, and $3,000,000 is for increased staffing at domestic and overseas field offices. The amounts provided are to be used to support no less than 1,256 full-time equivalents (FTE) for the U.S. & FCS in fiscal year 1999, an increase of 7 FTE above the request, and ITA is directed to submit a plan for the allocation of these resources no later than December 15, 1998, in accordance with the direction included in the House report. In addition, within the amounts provided, $1,000,000 is for continuation of the Rural Export Initiative at its current level.

Executive Direction and Administration.—The conference agreement includes $11,915,000 for the administrative and policy functions of the ITA. Further, ITA is expected to follow the direction included in the House report regarding support for Departmental trade activities.

ITA should also follow the direction included in the House report regarding trade missions, and the direction in the Senate report regarding the establishment of a foreign currency exchange rate account.

EXPORT ADMINISTRATION

OPERATIONS AND ADMINISTRATION

The conference agreement includes $52,331,000 for the Bureau of Export Administration (BXA), instead of $47,777,000 as proposed in the House bill, and $45,496,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. The conference agreement assumes $2,000,000 will be available from prior year carryover, resulting in total availability of $48,331,000. Of this amount, $23,646,000 is for Export Administration; $21,505,000 is for Export Enforcement; and $3,180,000 is for Management and Policy Coordination.

The conferees note that over the last two years, BXA has received $1,800,000 in increased funding for additional responsibilities resulting from the transfer of certain export control functions from the Department of State. The conferees understand that the National Defense Authorization Act of 1999 transfers these responsibilities back to the Department of State, thus eliminating these additional duties. Therefore, while the conference agreement does not include $1,729,000 for requested program increases for Export Enforcement, BXA is expected to submit a reprogramming in accordance with section 605 of this Act reallocating resources to the highest priority enforcement activities within BXA.

In addition, the conference agreement provides $2,650,000 for Chemical Weapons Convention implementation activities, instead of $3,503,000 as requested, due to continued delays in the enactment of implementation legislation.

The conference agreement also includes bill language, as proposed in the House bill, requiring congressional notification prior to the processing of licenses for the export of satellites systems to the People's Republic of China. The conferees expect such notifications to be made jointly with the Department of State.

Presidential Decision Directive 63 (PDD-63) recommended that BXA assume responsibility for the Critical Infrastructure Assurance Office (CIAO) in fiscal year 1999. The CIAO provides the policy and coordination support for the President's Critical Infrastructure Protection Initiative. While the budget requested that the CIAO be funded through the Department of Justice Counterterrorism Fund, the conference agreement does not allow for the expansion of this Fund to pay for the operational costs of other Federal agencies participating in this government-wide initiative. Instead, the conference agreement includes $6,000,000 for the CIAO within the Department of Commerce. However, protection of our nation's critical infrastructure should be a priority for all Federal agencies, and as such, should be reflected within each agency's budget. Therefore, while the conference agreement includes additional funds to pay the costs for all agencies' participation in the CIAO, future budget requests shall be consistent with the recommendations of PDD-63 which requires each agency to provide support to the CIAO on a non-reimbursable basis.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT ADMINISTRATION

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS

The conference agreement includes $368,379,000 for the Economic Development Administration grant programs as proposed in the House bill, instead of $279,934,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. EDA is expected to allocate this funding in accordance with the distribution and direction included in the House report.

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $24,000,000 for salaries and expenses for the EDA, instead of $25,000,000 as proposed in the House bill, and $21,761,000 included in the Senate bill. In addition, the conference agreement assumes EDA will have up to $3,500,000 in prior year carryover available under this account, resulting in a total availability of $27,500,000. The conference agreement does not include funds to allow EDA to hire Brownfields technicians and trade specialists. Instead, the funds provided are to be used to support the traditional EDA programs, with priority given to ensuring a fully staffed field component.

MINORITY BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT AGENCY

MINORITY BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT

The conference agreement includes $27,000,000 for the programs of the Minority Business Development Agency (MBDA), instead of $25,276,000 included in the House bill and $25,196,000 included in the Senate bill. The conference agreement assumes that MBDA will continue its support for the Entrepreneurial Technology Apprenticeship Program at the current level, as directed in the House report.

ECONOMIC AND INFORMATION INFRASTRUCTURE

ECONOMIC AND STATISTICAL ANALYSIS

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conferees have provided $48,490,000 for salaries and expenses of the activities funded under the Economic and Statistical Analysis account, instead of $48,000,000 as proposed in the House bill and $48,981,000 included in the Senate bill. The conference agreement adopts the directive included in the House report regarding the Integrated Environmental-Economic Accounting or "Green GDP" initiative.

ECONOMICS AND STATISTICS ADMINISTRATION REVOLVING FUND

The conference agreement does not include language, contained in the Senate bill, providing authority for the operation and financing of this Fund, as such authority has been made permanent.

BUREAU OF THE CENSUS
SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $136,147,000 for the Bureau of the Census Salaries and Expenses account, instead of $140,147,000 as proposed in the House bill, and $141,259,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. The conference agreement does not include $10,000,000 for base requirements related to Year 2000 compliance, and instead assumes this requirement will be met by accessing funds that are expected to be provided separately through a U.S. Government-wide Year 2000 compliance fund. Therefore, within the amounts provided, $4,346,000 is appropriated for continued implementation of the North American Industry Classification System, as proposed in the House bill. Due to overall funding constraints, the conference agreement does not provide additional program increases for an initiative recommended in the House bill to improve data collection for Gross Domestic Product estimates. However, the conferees are supportive of this initiative and look forward to working with the Bureau in the future to address this matter.

The Bureau is expected to follow the direction included in both the House and Senate reports regarding full reimbursement for any non-core survey requested by any other Federal agency or private organization, as well as the guidance included in the House report regarding the Single Audit Clearinghouse database.

PERIODIC CENSUSES AND PROGRAMS

The conference agreement provides $1,186,902,000 for the Census Bureau's Periodic Censuses and Programs account, instead of $1,111,887,000 as proposed in the House bill, $998,626,000 as recommended in the Senate bill, and $1,027,784,000 as requested in the budget.

Decennial Census.—The recommendation includes $1,026,936,000 as a separate appropriation under this account for fiscal year 1999 for decennial census programs, instead of $951,936,000 as recommended in House bill, $845,246,000 as provided in the Senate bill, and $848,503,000 as requested in the budget. The conference agreement does not include $10,900,000 for base requirements related to Year 2000 compliance, and instead assumes this requirement will be met by accessing funds that are expected to be provided separately through a U.S. Government-wide Year 2000 compliance fund. Therefore, the conference agreement provides a total of $189,333,000 above the request to ensure that the Census Bureau is fully prepared to implement the 2000 decennial census. The conference agreement provides funds in accordance with the distribution in the House report, with the following additions above the House allowance: (1) an additional $23,000,000 for the costs associated with staffing all Census offices in fiscal year 1999; (2) an additional $17,000,000 for the costs associated with promotion, marketing, and outreach activities; and (3) an additional $35,000,000 for the costs associated with modifying the census questionnaire and related data capture systems to accommodate a six person questionnaire.

The conference agreement also appropriates $4,000,000 for the bipartisan Census Monitoring Board in accordance with section 210 of Public Law 105–119, as included in the House bill. The Senate bill did not recommend funding for the Board.

Other Periodic Programs.—The conference agreement includes $155,966,000 for non-decennial census periodic programs, instead of $155,951,000 as proposed in the House bill, and $153,955,000 as proposed in the Senate bill, as follows:

Economic Censuses	$50,546,000
Census of governments	3,735,000
Intercensal Demographic estimates	5,260,000
Continuous measurement	20,000,000
Sample redesign	4,478,000
Electronic Information Collection	7,457,000
Geographic support	41,742,000
Data processing systems	22,748,000
Total	155,966,000

Economic Statistic Programs.—The conference agreement provides $54,281,000 for Economic Censuses and the Census of Governments. Should additional funds be required for these activities, a reprogramming should be submitted in accordance with section 605 of this Act.

Continuous Measurement.—The Bureau is expected to address the concerns expressed in both the House and Senate reports regarding this program, and is directed to comply with the direction included in both reports on this matter.

NATIONAL TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND INFORMATION ADMINISTRATION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $10,940,000 for the National Telecommunications and Information Administration (NTIA) salaries and expenses as proposed in the House bill, instead of $10,898,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. In addition, the conference agreement assumes that NTIA will receive an additional $19,271,000 through reimbursements from other agencies for the costs of providing spectrum management, analysis and research services to those agencies.

PUBLIC TELECOMMUNICATIONS FACILITIES, PLANNING AND CONSTRUCTION

The conference agreement includes $21,000,000 for the Public Telecommunications Facilities, Planning and Construction (PTFP) program as proposed in the House bill, instead of $20,889,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. NTIA is expected to use this funding for the existing equipment and facilities replacement program, and to maintain an acceptable balance between traditional grants and those to stations converting to digital broadcasting.

The conference agreement allows up to $1,800,000 of this amount to be used for program administration, as provided in the House bill, instead of $1,500,000 recommended in the Senate bill. The conference agreement contains language, similar to a provision carried in fiscal year 1998, making the Pan-Pacific Education and Communications Experiments by Satellite (PEACESAT) program eligible to compete for funding under this account. Neither the House nor Senate bills included this provision.

INFORMATION INFRASTRUCTURE GRANTS

The conference agreement includes $18,000,000 for NTIA's Information Infrastructure Grant program, instead of $16,000,000 as recommended in the House bill, and $19,989,000 as recommended in the Senate bill.

The Senate bill increased funds for this account through an across-the-board reduction in other accounts in this title which has not been adopted in the conference agreement. It is anticipated that implementation of the universal service funds requirements of the Telecommunications Act of 1996 will reduce the funding requirements under this account. The conference agreement also contains bill language, as proposed in Section 215 of the Senate bill, to prohibit funds under this account from being used to support activities for which funding is provided through other programs. The House bill did not address this matter.

Bill language is also included, as proposed in the House bill, as follows: (1) allowing funds to be used for certain purposes; (2) designating $3,000,000 for program administration; and (3) allowing not to exceed five percent of the total amount provided to be used for certain telecommunications research activities. The Senate bill did not address these matters.

PATENT AND TRADEMARK OFFICE

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides a total funding level of $785,526,000 for the Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) in fiscal year 1999, as proposed in the House bill, instead of $782,523,000 as recommended in the Senate bill. Of this amount, $745,026,000 is to be derived from fiscal year 1999 offsetting fee collections, and $40,500,000 is to be derived from carryover of prior year fee collections. This amount represents an increase of $80,623,000, or 11%, above the fiscal year 1998 operating level of the PTO. Bill language is included, similar to that contained in the House bill, providing for the collection and expenditure of fees pursuant to current statutory authority. In addition, new language is included to extend the current patent fee schedule in fiscal year 1999, until such time as legislation is enacted to establish a new fee schedule. This language is required because of the delay in enactment of necessary authorization legislation to reestablish a fee structure to provide for PTO's operational needs.

The conference agreement does not include language, as proposed in the Senate bill, concerning build-out and relocation costs associated with the consolidation of PTO's headquarters. The House bill contained no similar provisions. In fiscal year 1999, the PTO is expected to enter into a lease agreement to consolidate their offices. This relocation is to be completed in 2001. Concerns have been raised about the potential cost of finishing and furnishing this new facility. However, the request for funds for these purposes is not anticipated to begin until fiscal year 2001. Therefore, the conference agreement does not address this issue, and instead consideration of such limitations has been deferred until such time as the funds are requested by the agency and such needs can be analyzed.

The PTO is expected to follow the direction included in the House report concerning its partnership with the National Inventor's Hall of Fame and Inventure Place, as well as the direction included in the Senate report regarding the establishment of an intellectual property database.

SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

TECHNOLOGY ADMINISTRATION

UNDER SECRETARY FOR TECHNOLOGY/OFFICE OF TECHNOLOGY POLICY

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $9,495,000 for the Technology Administration (TA), instead of $9,000,000 as proposed in the House bill, and $9,955,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. Of this amount, $2,300,000 is for the Experimental Program to Stimulate Competitive Technology (EPSCoT), and bill language is included making a portion of these funds available for two years. As recommended in the Senate report, TA is expected to allow New Hampshire to compete for funding under the EPSCoT program. In addition, TA is expected to continue its efforts to implement its plan for the program. In addition, TA is directed to follow the direction included in the House regarding support for foreign policy initiatives.

NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF STANDARDS AND TECHNOLOGY

SCIENTIFIC AND TECHNICAL RESEARCH AND SERVICES

The conference agreement includes $280,136,000 for the internal (core) research account of the National Institute of Standards and Technology, instead of $280,470,000 as proposed in the House bill, and $290,482,000 as proposed in the Senate bill.

The conference agreement provides funds for the core research programs of NIST as follows:

Electronics and Electrical Engineering	$38,427,000
Manufacturing Engineering	19,368,000
Chemical Science and Technology	32,493,000
Physics	28,434,000
Material Sciences and Engineering	51,335,000
Building and Fire Research	14,898,000
Computer Science and Applied Mathematics	43,943,000
Technology Assistance	17,131,000
Baldrige Quality Awards	4,870,000
Research Support	29,237,000
Total, STRS	280,136,000

The conference agreement includes full funding for all base activities for the internal research programs of NIST, and includes selected program increases for the highest priority programs, as follows: (1) $1,800,000 for semiconductor metrology; (2) $1,200,000 to continue the disaster research program on effects of windstorms on protective structures and other technologies begun in fiscal year 1998; (3) $2,500,000 for increased support for international standards activities; and (4) $1,800,000 to expand the Malcolm Baldrige Quality Awards program to health care and education. NIST is directed to follow the guidance included in the House report regarding the placement of NIST personnel overseas.

The conference agreement includes bill language allowing up to $1,625,000 of amounts available under this account to be transferred to the NIST Working Capital Fund, as proposed in the Senate bill, instead of $1,800,000 as recommended in the House bill.

INDUSTRIAL TECHNOLOGY SERVICES

The conference agreement includes $310,300,000 for the NIST external research account instead of $287,000,000 as proposed in the House bill and $299,142,000 as proposed in the Senate bill.

Manufacturing Extension Partnership Program.—The conference agreement includes $106,800,000 for the Manufacturing Extension Partnership Program (MEP) as proposed in both the House and Senate bills, the full amount requested, to be distributed in accordance with the direction included in the House report. NIST is directed to comply with the direction included in the Senate report regarding an independent evaluation of the MEP program.

As recommended in the House bill, language is included waiving the statutory six-year limitation on Federal funding for each MEP Regional Center, subject to certain conditions, as requested in the budget. The Senate bill contained a similar waiver provision. Language is not included allowing up to $300,000 of the funds provided to the MEP program to be transferred to the NIST Working Capital Fund, as proposed in the Senate bill.

Advanced Technology Program.—The conference agreement includes $203,500,000 for the Advanced Technology Program (ATP), as recommended in the Senate bill, instead of $180,200,000 as proposed in the House bill. The recommendation provides the following: (1) $120,200,000 for continued funding requirements for awards made in fiscal years 1996, 1997, and 1998 to be derived from $96,400,000 in fiscal year 1999 funding and $23,800,000 from excess balances available from prior years; (2) $66,000,000 for new awards in fiscal year 1999; and (3) $41,100,000 for administration, internal NIST lab support and Small Business Innovation Research requirements. NIST is expected to comply with the direction included in the House report regarding reprogramming requirements and review of the current mortgage estimation formula, as well as the direction included in the Senate report regarding an outside assessment of this program. In addition, language is included in the bill designating the amounts available for new ATP awards, similar to language included in both the House and Senate bills.

CONSTRUCTION OF RESEARCH FACILITIES

The conference agreement provides $56,714,000 for construction, renovation and maintenance of NIST facilities, as proposed in the House bill, instead of $56,684,000 included in the Senate bill. NIST is expected to follow the direction included in both the House and Senate reports regarding construction of the Advanced Metrology Laboratory. In addition, bill language is included making $40,000,000 of the funds provided in this account available upon submission of a spending plan in accordance with Section 605 of this Act.

NATIONAL OCEANIC AND ATMOSPHERIC ADMINISTRATION

The conference agreement provides a total funding of $2,166,001,000 for all programs of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), instead of $2,009,861,000 as proposed by the House, and $2,201,167,000 as proposed by the Senate. Of these amounts, the conferees have included $1,579,844,000 in the Operations, Research, and Facilities (ORF) account, $584,677,000 in the Procurement, Acquisition and Construction (PAC) account, and $1,480,000 in other NOAA accounts.

OPERATIONS, RESEARCH, AND FACILITIES

(INCLUDING TRANSFERS OF FUNDS)

The conference agreement includes $1,579,844,000 for the Operations, Research, and Facilities account of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration instead of $1,470,042,000 as proposed by the House and $1,612,027,000 as proposed in the Senate bill.

In addition to the new budget authority provided, the conference agreement allows a transfer of $63,381,000 from balances in the account titled "Promote and Develop Fishery Products and Research Related to American Fisheries," as proposed in the House bill, instead of $63,073,000 as proposed by the Senate. This amount will support an estimated $4,177,000 Saltonstall-Kennedy grant program. The total amount provided also includes a transfer of $4,714,000 from the Damage Assessment Revolving Fund, as included in the budget request. In addition, the conference agreement reflects prior year deobligations totaling $33,000,000.

The conference agreement does not include language proposed in the House bill designating the amounts provided under this account for the six NOAA line offices. The Senate bill contained no similar provision. Language is not included as proposed by the House designating amounts available for certain administrative support functions and common services, as well as language regarding the use of deobligations. The Senate bill did not address this matter. Instead, NOAA is expected to work with the Committees on Appropriations to address these matters in the context of complying with the direction included in the House report regarding the development of a revised budget structure for NOAA. Further, NOAA is expected to comply with the direction included in the House report to rectify financial and budgetary management deficiencies.

The conference agreement includes modified language limiting administrative charges levied against certain activities assigned in the conference report to only the direct costs associated with administering these activities. It has become apparent that certain administrative charges and assessments have been applied against activities assigned in previous House, Senate and conference reports, and this language is included to eliminate the practice of applying non-specific charges against these assigned activities. While there are legitimate administrative expenses such as accounting, audit and travel costs associated with administering such activities, NOAA is directed to diligently monitor these expenses. Further, such expenses are limited to no more than five percent. In addition, NOAA is directed to report to the Committees on Appropriations no later than December 15, 1998, the list of these assigned activities and the anticipated direct charges to be applied. This language and direction is intended to ensure that congressional intent is carried out while recognizing the legitimate expenses of the agency in carrying out these assigned activities. This language is not intended to affect assessments charged to NOAA line organizations for centrally administered common services and administrative support discussed in the previous paragraph.

The conference agreement does not include $22,281,000 in controversial new fisheries and navigation safety fees, as proposed in the budget request. While fees are appropriate to support certain activities within NOAA, such proposals will only be accepted if they are carefully developed with input from all interested and affected parties, and in consultation with the Congress.

NOAA Commissioned Corps.—The conference agreement includes language setting the ceiling on the number of commissioned corps officers in fiscal year 1999 at not more than 250 by September 30, 1998, instead of a ceiling of 240 officers as included in the House bill. The Senate bill did not include a similar provision. On June 17, 1998, the Administration took action to resolve the uncertainty regarding the future of the NOAA Corps by announcing its decision to continue the NOAA Corps. As part of this decision, NOAA proposed a series of management changes to realign the NOAA Corps staffing structure to emphasize ship and aircraft services and support; and to conduct periodic reviews of Corps staffing needs as ships and aircraft are decommissioned and mission requirements change. NOAA is encouraged to implement its proposal, as well as to begin recruiting new Corps officers to resolve current imbalances in the complement of NOAA Corps officers, and to report back to the Committees on Appropriations by December 15, 1998 on the status of these efforts.

Except for the additional funding described under the heading “Other” at the end of this account, the following table reflects the distribution of the funds provided in this conference agreement:

The following narrative provides additional information related to certain items included in the preceding table.

NATIONAL OCEAN SERVICE

The conferees have provided a total of $253,193,000 under this account for the activities of the National Ocean Service, instead of $245,833,000 as recommended by the House, and $267,771,000 recommended by the Senate.

Mapping and Charting.—The conference agreement provides $48,260,000 for NOAA's mapping and charting programs, reflecting continued commitment to the navigation safety programs of NOS, and concerns for the ability of the NOS to continue to meet its mission requirements over the long term. Of this amount, $32,100,000 is provided for the base mapping and charting program, an increase of $2,000,000 above the request for data compilation activities. NOAA is expected to request sufficient funds within the NOS base program in fiscal year 2000 to fully support this activity. In addition, NOS is expected to increase its shoreline mapping activities in fiscal year 1999, and is requested to provide a report to the Committees on Appropriations by December 15, 1998 which indicates the amount of shoreline mapping conducted in fiscal year 1998 and planned activities for fiscal year 1999. Within the total funding provided under Mapping and Charting, the conference agreement includes $2,160,000 to establish a joint hydrographic center and to provide for stream quality monitoring in accordance with the Senate report.

Concerns remain that NOAA has not taken sufficient steps to plan for its long-term mission requirements. It is clear that the future of NOAA's hydrographic program lies in increased outsourcing to meet its nautical charting needs. While the need is understood for NOAA to ensure the quality, standards and specifications for nautical charts, NOAA must take vigorous steps to make this transition to outsourcing as an alternative method of meeting its needs. Therefore, the conference agreement also includes $14,000,000 under the line item Address Survey Backlog/Contracts exclusively for contracting out with the private sector for data acquisition needs. Further, the conferees direct NOAA to follow the direction included in the House report requiring submission of a plan to the Committees for increased outsourcing by fiscal year 2000.

Tide and Current Data.—The conference agreement includes $12,000,000 for this activity as detailed in the House report.

Ocean Assessment Program.—The conference agreement includes $40,611,000 for this activity. Within the amounts provided for ocean assessment, the conference agreement includes the following: $13,750,000 for NOAA's Coastal Services Center; $5,800,000 to continue the Cooperative Institute for Coastal and Estuarine Environmental Technology; $900,000 for the South Florida Ecosystem Restoration program; $1,000,000 to support coral reef studies in the Pacific and Southeast as described in the Senate report; $2,925,000 for pfiesteria and other harmful algal bloom research and monitoring, of which $500,000 is for research on the impact of pfiesteria at North Carolina State University; $1,200,000 for one-time assistance for a citizen-based clean-water task force, including the State Coastal Resource program and local governments, to address issues related to the estuaries and waterways in Beaufort County, South Carolina; and $2,436,000 for the NOAA Beaufort/Oxford Laboratory, reflecting the transfer of funding and management of this activity from the National Marine Fisheries Service and the Office of Oceanic and Atmospheric Research. In addition, the conference agreement also includes an additional $5,200,000 under Ocean and Coastal Research and the Coastal Ocean Program for research on pfiesteria, hypoxia and other harmful algal blooms.

Office of Response and Restoration.—The conference agreement includes $8,774,000 for a new line item under Ocean Resources Conservation and Assessment which represents the consolidation of the following line items previously provided for separately: $2,674,000 for Estuarine and Coastal Assessment, $5,100,000 for Damage Assessment and $1,000,000 in accordance with the Oil Pollution Act of 1990.

Ocean and Coastal Research.—The conference agreement includes $7,410,000 for this activity, and includes funding at the fiscal year 1998 level for marine forensics and Southeast fisheries law enforcement, in accordance with the direction included in the Senate report.

The conference agreement does not include the proposed transfer of the Great Lakes Environmental Research Laboratory (GLERL) from the Office of Oceanic and Atmospheric Research to NOS. While consolidation of ocean and coastal research and assessment programs into a single line organization would ensure greater coordination and guard against duplication, NOAA's proposal did not meet this goal. The transfer of GLERL can be reconsidered in the context of a reorganization proposal to more fully consolidate all related programs into NOS, and NOAA is encouraged to consult with the Committees prior to the submission of a reorganization proposal.

Coastal Ocean Program.—The conference agreement provides $18,400,000 for the Coastal Ocean Program, of which $4,200,000 is provided for research related to hypoxia, pfiesteria, and other harmful algal blooms. The conference agreement adopts the recommendations included in the House report regarding hypoxia research in the Gulf of Mexico and Lake Ponchartrain, and expects a portion of the increase to be provided to support these activities. The managers of COP are directed to follow the direction included in the House report regarding the Brown Tide Research Initiative, as well as the direction included in the Senate report concerning research on small high-salinity estuaries. The conference agreement also assumes continued funding at the current level for restoration of the South Florida ecosystem. Further, concerns have been expressed regarding the COP's delay in funding of a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) for the 1995 competitively approved land use-coastal ecosystem study. The COP is directed to fully fund, from within base resources, this prior multi-year commitment at the agreed upon levels beginning with $1,200,000 for fiscal year 1999. Further, NOAA is directed to provide a report to the Committees, no later than February 1, 1999, on the projects and programs supported under COP in fiscal years 1997 and 1998.

Coastal Zone Management.—The conference agreement includes $54,700,000 for grants under sections 306, 306A, 309, and 6217 of the Coastal Zone Management Act (CZMA), an increase of $4,000,000 over fiscal year 1998. A separate appropriation for section 309 grants is not provided because such action would be inconsistent with current law. Under the CZMA, NOAA is authorized to set aside up to 20% of the funds appropriated under sections 306 and 306A for activities authorized under section 309. Therefore, increased funding has been provided under sections 306 and 306A to enable NOAA to make up to $10,540,000 available for activities authorized under section 309. In addition, the conference agreement includes $2,000,000 for the Non-Point Pollution program authorized under section 6217 of the CZMA. The conferees direct NOAA to provide a report on this program in accordance with the direction included in the House report. The conference agreement also includes $4,300,000 for the National Estuarine Research Reserve program to support the existing program, as assumed in the House bill.

Marine Sanctuary Program.—The conference agreement includes $14,350,000 for the National Marine Sanctuary Program. Of this amount, $350,000 is provided to support the activities of the Northwest Straits Citizens Advisory Commission as outlined in the House and Senate reports. In addition, a portion of the increase provided for the Marine Sanctuary Program may be used to support NOAA's on-going activities related to the U.S.S. Monitor in accordance with the House report.

Other.—Within the amounts provided for geodesy, the conference agreement includes $500,000 for continuation of geodetic survey work as described in the Senate report.

NATIONAL MARINE FISHERIES SERVICE

The conference agreement includes a total of $370,550,000 for the National Marine Fisheries Service, instead of $339,732,000 recommended by the House and $394,452,000 as recommended by the Senate. The conference agreement adopts the recommendations in the Senate report regarding the Community and Individual Fishery Quota programs.

Resource Information.—The conference agreement provides $106,675,000 for fisheries resource information. Within the funds provided for resource information, $91,750,000 is provided for the base programs, an increase of $8,836,000 over fiscal year 1998, of which $3,500,000 is for implementation of the Magnuson-Stevens Act in the North Pacific as directed in the Senate report, and of which $750,000 is for west coast groundfish research to supplement the base budget of the Northwest Fisheries Science Center. Therefore, NMFS is expected to provide not less than a total of $2,250,000 from Resource Information for this research at the Northwest Center. Such action is not intended to cause a shift in work currently performed by the Alaska and Southwest Fisheries Science Centers to the Northwest Center. In addition, within the total funds provided for resource information, the conference agreement adopts the recommendation included in the Senate report with respect to MARMAP. Under this line item, the conference agreement also includes funding for the following activities included in the Senate report: $1,500,000 for the Gulf of Mexico Stock Enhancement Consortium, $1,250,000 for research on Alaska near shore fisheries, $200,000 for an assessment of Atlantic herring and mackerel, $450,000 for Chesapeake Bay oyster research activities, $275,000 for research on the Charleston bump, $300,000 for research on shrimp pathogens, $100,000 for lobster sampling, and $300,000 for research on Southeastern sea turtles. In addition, within the amounts provided for Resource Information, $8,000,000 is included to continue the aquatic resources environmental initiative, and $1,250,000 is provided to continue the activities of the Gulf and South Atlantic Fisheries Development Foundation for data collection and analyses in the red snapper and shrimp fisheries in accordance with the House report. Further, $450,000 is also included within this line item for a study of the hard clam population in accordance with the House report.

There continue to be concerns regarding the timely implementation of the Magnuson-Stevens Act and current staffing distribution among headquarters and field offices to support this effort. Therefore, NOAA is directed to comply with the direction included in the Senate report on this matter, and to expand its report to also include the Endangered Species Act and the Sustainable Fisheries Act. Concerns have also been raised regarding implementation of the Magnuson-Stevens Act, particularly with respect to National Standards 2 and 8. Therefore, the conference agreement adopts the recommendation and direction included in the Senate report requesting the General Accounting Office to report on NMFS compliance with these standards. In addition, as described in the Senate report, concerns continue to exist regarding national coordination of commercial and recreational data collection efforts. NOAA is directed to submit a report to the Committees with its fiscal year 2000 budget request outlining the methodology used by NMFS to collect data on these fisheries and its efforts to integrate and improve data collection activities.

The conference agreement also provides funds for right whale research, including funds to continue gear modification research at the fiscal year 1998 level. The conferees expect NMFS to report to the Committees, no later than February 1, 1999, detailing gear modification research activities funded in fiscal year 1998 and its plans for fiscal year 1999. The conferees have also included funding for MARFIN and Alaskan groundfish surveys, including calibration studies, as described in the Senate report. Funding is also provided for bluefish and striped bass research in accordance with the House report.

Steller Sea Lion Recovery Plans.—The conference agreement includes $2,520,000 for this activity, including $750,000 for research as directed in the Senate report, with the remaining funds to be allocated at the fiscal year 1998 level for work by the State of Alaska, the North Pacific Universities Marine Mammal Consortium, and NMFS.

Fishery Industry Information.—Within the funds provided for Fishery Industry Information, the conference agreement provides $3,900,000 for recreational fishery harvest monitoring to be expended in accordance with the direction included in the Senate report. Funds are also appropriated under this activity for the Pacific Fisheries Information Network/Alaska Fisheries Information Network in accordance with the direction included in the Senate report. In addition, $3,000,000 is provided for a Gulf of Mexico Fisheries Information Network in accordance with the direction included in the House report. Funding is also provided to continue Alaska groundfish monitoring activities at the fiscal year 1998 level, including the final year of support for the Bering Sea Fisherman's Association Community Development Quota program.

Fisheries Management Programs.—The conference agreement includes $29,900,000 for this activity, including $350,000 to continue ongoing sea turtle recovery efforts at Rancho Nuevo and loggerhead nesting and research programs as described in the House report. Within these amounts, $230,000 is also provided for the Pacific Coral Reef fisheries management plan, as described in the Senate report, and $300,000 is for implementation of a program to prevent the importation of Atlantic swordfish which have not been harvested in a manner consistent with the recommendations under the International Convention for the Conservation of Atlantic Tuna. Such a program should restrict the importation of Atlantic swordfish that are below the United States minimum size. The conference agreement also reduces funding for the base program by $400,000 to reflect the transfer of funding for the Alaska Eskimo Whaling Commission to the new Native Marine Mammals Commission line item.

The conference agreement appropriates a total of $18,353,000 for NOAA support of Columbia River hatcheries programs, including $13,600,000 under the NMFS. Within the amount provided under the line item Columbia River hatcheries, NMFS is expected to support hatchery operations at the fiscal year 1998 level of $11,400,000, and to use the additional funding to support salmon marking activities as described in the Senate report.

Protected Species Management.—Within the funds provided for protected species management, $500,000 is for continuation of a study on the impacts of California sea lions and harbor seals on salmonids and the West Coast ecosystem.

Endangered Species Recovery Plans.—A total of $23,000,000 is provided for this activity. Of these amounts, $1,000,000 is for technical support for Washington State salmon recovery efforts, and $1,000,000 is for Northwest Indian Fisheries Commission activities, as described in the Senate report. In addition, $850,000 is provided to support NMFS work on Steller sea lions in the North Pacific, and $250,000 is to be made available for the State of Alaska for technical support to analyze proposed salmon recovery plans.

Native Marine Mammal Commissions.—The conference agreement adopts the recommendation of the Senate to consolidate support for these commissions, previously provided for elsewhere within NMFS, and recommends funding be distributed as follows: (1) $400,000 for the Alaska Eskimo Whaling Commission; (2) $100,000 for the Alaska Harbor Seal Commission; (3) $200,000 for the Beluga Whale Committee; and (4) $50,000 for the Bristol Bay Native Association.

Observers and Training.—The conference agreement adopts the recommendation included in the Senate report to consolidate fishery observer and observer training programs into a single line item, and distributes funding as follows: (1) $425,000 for the North Pacific Fishery Observer Training Program; (2) $1,875,000 for North Pacific marine resource observers, which was previously funded within the Marine Mammal Protection Act line item; and (3) $350,000 for east coast observers.

Interstate Fish Commissions.—The conference agreement includes $7,750,000 for this activity, of which $750,000 is to be equally divided among the three commissions, and $7,000,000 is for implementation of the Atlantic Coastal Fisheries Cooperative Management Act.

Sea Turtle Protection and By-catch Reduction.—The conference agreement adopts the recommendations and direction included in the House report regarding the development or implementation of any new or revised biological opinions regarding shrimp fishing and turtle interaction, as well as the guidance provided regarding by-catch reduction devices.

Other.—In addition, within the funds available for the Saltonstall-Kennedy grants program, the conferees direct that $150,000 be provided to the Alaska Fisheries Development Foundation to be used in accordance with the direction included in the Senate report, and funds be provided pursuant to the direction included in both the House and Senate reports to support ongoing efforts related to Vibrio vulnificus. Further, NOAA is expected to comply with the direction included in the House report regarding the bluefin tuna fishery off the coast of Long Island.

OCEANIC AND ATMOSPHERIC RESEARCH

The conference agreement includes a total of $287,410,000 for Oceanic and Atmospheric Research activities, instead of $254,830,000 as recommended by the House and $285,835,000 as recommended by the Senate.

Interannual and Seasonal Climate Research.—The conferees have provided $14,900,000 for interannual and seasonal climate research. Within this amount, the conference agreement provides $2,000,000 to support climate and air quality monitoring and climatological modeling activities as described in the Senate report. Further, within the amounts available to OAR, NOAA is expected to carry out its Memorandum of Understanding with the International Hurricane Center.

Climate and Global Change Research.—The conference agreement includes $63,000,000 for the Climate and Global Change research program, an increase of $3,000,000 above the amounts provided in fiscal year 1998. Of this amount, $15,000,000 is provided to support the International Research Institute and related regional application centers and activities. This increase is provided to enable the regional applications centers program to expand to the Midwest and other areas. OAR is encouraged to work with and utilize existing university resources, including the University of Northern Iowa, in its expansion of this program.

Long-term Climate and Air Quality Research.—The conference agreement provides $30,000,000 for this activity, instead of $29,757,000 as proposed by the House, and $30,387,000 as proposed by the Senate.

GLOBE.—A total of $2,500,000 is provided for this program, instead of $5,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. The House bill did not include funding for this program. NOAA is expected to comply with the direction included in the Senate report regarding this program.

Atmospheric Programs.—The conference agreement provides $36,100,000 for this activity. Of this amount $1,500,000 is provided for research related to wind-profile data in accordance with the direction provided in the Senate report.

Marine Prediction Research.—The conference agreement includes $26,801,000 for marine prediction research. Within this amount, the following is provided: $1,650,000 for Arctic Research, as directed in the House report; $2,400,000 for the Open Ocean Aquaculture program as directed in the Senate report, of which $450,000 is for the Seacoast Science Center and $25,000 is for the Teel Cove Sea Farm; $2,300,000 for tsunami mitigation; $2,100,000 for the VENTS program; $4,000,000 to continue an initiative for the aquatic ecosystems, water quality, atmospheric research, and facilities construction at the Canaan Valley Institute; $1,650,000 for implementation of the National Invasive Species Act, of which $850,000 is for Ballast Water Demonstration as directed in the Senate report; $750,000 for South Atlantic marine monitoring and prediction as directed in the Senate report; $50,000 for the sediment control study recommended in the Senate bill; $1,000,000 for the marine ecosystem initiative at the Thayer School of Engineering; $500,000 for support for the Gulf of Maine Council; and $150,000 for Lake Champlain studies. Due to recently enacted changes in the National Sea Grant Program Authorization Act, future activities related to Lake Champlain are expected to be funded through the regular Sea Grant program.

GLERL.—Within the $6,825,000 provided for the Great Lakes Environmental Research Laboratory, the conference agreement assumes continued support for the Great Lakes nearshore research and zebra mussel research programs.

Sea Grant.—The conference agreement appropriates $57,500,000 for the National Sea Grant program, and expects NOAA to continue to fund the existing oyster disease research and zebra mussel research programs within these amounts. Of the amounts provided, $1,000,000 is for the Gulf of Mexico Oyster Disease Initiative. NOAA is also encouraged to use a portion of the increase provided to support and expand mariculture activities. Further, NOAA is encouraged to follow the guidance included in the House report regarding research related to the public health risks associated with ballast water discharges.

National Undersea Research Program (NURP).—The conference agreement provides $14,550,000 for the NURP, of which $1,750,000 is for continued support of the JASON program, and $300,000 is to continue support for the Aquarius undersea laboratory. The remaining $12,500,000 is provided for the existing nationwide undersea research centers, a $1,000,000 reduction from the current level. This reduction is to be distributed proportionately among each of the centers, as well as program administration.

NATIONAL WEATHER SERVICE

The conference agreement includes a total of $560,705,000 for the National Weather Service (NWS), instead of $551,747,000 as proposed by the House, and $565,581,000 as proposed by the Senate. Further, an additional $3,000,000 is appropriated elsewhere in this account for NWS facilities maintenance, and $97,948,000 is provided within the NOAA Procurement, Acquisition and Construction (PAC) account for NWS systems acquisition and construction activities.

Local Warnings and Forecasts/Base Operations.—The amount provided includes $357,034,000 for this activity, an increase of $33,034,000 above the fiscal year 1998 level. The following increases are included: $9,053,000 is for pay-related inflationary costs; $9,266,000 is for full year costs associated with maintaining a total NWS personnel base of 4,788 full-time equivalents; and $7,681,000 is for non-labor increases. Within the total amount provided for Local Warnings and Forecasts, $1,200,000 is for NOAA weather radio transmitters to be distributed in accordance with the direction included in the House and Senate reports. An additional $400,000 is also provided to enable NWS to resolve weather radio coverage problems in South Dakota. The conference agreement also includes funding, as requested, for data buoys and coastal marine automated network stations.

In addition, a total of $3,784,000 is included to implement the mitigation activities required by the Secretary's report to Congress regarding the adequacy of NEXRAD coverage in certain areas. Language is included in the bill directing the Secretary of Commerce to implement the recommendations contained in this report. NOAA is expected to follow the recommendations contained in the November 21, 1997 Secretary's team report as well as those of any subsequent reports or applicable agreements. The NWS is also expected to follow the direction included in the Senate report regarding continued radar obstruction at the NEXRAD facility located in Jackson, Mississippi.

In addition, the NWS is encouraged to continue the National Severe Storms Laboratory's support for OK-FIRST, as well as to continue the activities of NOAA's Cooperative Institute for Regional Prediction related to the 2002 Winter Olympic games.

NATIONAL ENVIRONMENTAL SATELLITE, DATA AND INFORMATION SERVICE

The conference agreement includes $109,935,000 for NOAA's satellite and data management programs. In addition, the conference agreement includes $450,059,000 under the NOAA PAC account for satellite systems acquisition and related activities.

Environment Data Management.—The conferees have included $52,635,000 for EDMS activities. Under EDMS, the conference agreement includes $2,750,000 for the Regional Climate Centers, and adopts the recommendations included in the House report regarding funding to continue weather record rescue activities.

Environmental Observing Systems.—Within the amounts appropriated, $2,500,000 is provided to continue the wind demonstration pilot project as described in the Senate report.

PROGRAM SUPPORT

The conference agreement provides $69,250,000 for NOAA program support, the amount recommended in the Senate bill, instead of $63,894,000 as recommended in the House bill. Due to the concerns expressed in the House report regarding augmentation of headquarters and policy functions through assessments against NOAA programs, bill language is included, modified from the House bill, placing a limitation on funding and staffing available to Executive Direction and Administration functions in fiscal year 1999. An exception to the staffing limitation has been provided for the Office of the General Counsel to ensure that the necessary resources are available to support activities related to the National Marine Fisheries Service.

FLEET PLANNING AND MAINTENANCE

The conference agreement includes an appropriation of $11,600,000 for this activity, as recommended in the Senate bill, instead of $6,300,000 included in the House bill. This amount includes $2,000,000 for the NOAA Pascagoula facility to purchase property with reverter options, extend the present dock, conduct dredging, repair the existing dock, and purchase equipment for the support of the NOAA vessel Relentless.

FACILITIES

The conference agreement includes $13,265,000 for facilities maintenance, lease costs, and environmental compliance, as recommended in the House bill, instead of $16,400,000 included in the Senate bill. NOAA is expected to follow the direction in the House report regarding budgeting for lease costs for NOAA facilities.

Within the amounts available for Facilities Maintenance, NOAA is expected to use up to $150,000 to conduct a study of space requirements at the National Centers for Environmental Prediction facility in Norman, Oklahoma and options to meet those needs through a long-term lease, or other, alternative financing arrangements.

OTHER

In addition to amounts not otherwise provided for in the above tables and narrative, the conference agreement includes an additional $5,000,000 for activities related to the Clean Water Initiative under the National Ocean Service and an additional $5,000,000 for Endangered Species Act programs under the National Marine Fisheries Service.

PROCUREMENT, ACQUISITION AND CONSTRUCTION

(INCLUDING TRANSFERS OF FUNDS)

The conference agreement includes a total of $584,677,000 in direct appropriations for the Procurement, Acquisition and Construction account, and assumes $4,000,000 in deobligations from this account. The following distribution reflects the fiscal year 1999 funding provided for activities within this account:

Systems Acquisition:
AWIPS	$67,667,000
ASOS	3,855,000
NEXRAD	7,000,000
Computer Facilities Upgrades	9,900,000
Polar Spacecraft and Launching	199,917,000
Geostationary Spacecraft and Launching	265,142,000
Subtotal, Systems Acquisition	553,481,000
Construction:
Boulder Lab Above Standard Costs	6,370,000

WFO Construction	9,526,000
Santa Cruz Fisheries Lab	4,200,000
NERRS Construction	7,300,000
Fort Johnson Lab	3,000,000
Outer Banks Community Foundation	750,000
Long Island Bay Shore Aquarium	1,000,000
Botanical Gardens	500,000
NCEP	850,000
Pribilof Island Cleanup	700,000

Subtotal, Construction	34,196,000
------------------------------	------------

Systems Acquisition.—The conference agreement provides the full amount requested for AWIPS acquisition, and continues language as proposed in the House bill requiring the Secretary of Commerce to meet certain certification requirements prior to the obligation of these funds.

Construction.—The conference agreement includes $6,370,000 for above standard costs for the Boulder Laboratory, in accordance with the direction included in the House report.

The funds appropriated for National Estuarine Research Reserve construction are to be distributed as follows: $1,300,000 is for the Kasitsna Bay Lab and Kachenak Bay NERR; and $6,000,000 is for the Great Bay NERR, as recommended in the Senate report. In addition, $750,000 is provided for the Outer Banks Community Foundation subject to the conditions in the Senate report.

Other.—Further, within the total amounts provided in this account, $1,000,000 is expected to be provided for fishermen's health care. The Secretary of Commerce is to allocate the funds under the plan in New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Maine and Massachusetts according to the following criteria: (1) the number of fishermen who are eligible to receive health care benefits under the plan; and (2) the relative demand for benefits under the plan in each State among fishermen who are eligible to receive benefits under the plan. NOAA should not expect funds to be appropriated under this Act in the future for this purpose.

COASTAL ZONE MANAGEMENT FUND

The conference agreement includes an appropriation of $4,000,000, as provided in the Senate bill, instead of $7,800,000 recommended in the House bill. These amounts are reflected under the National Ocean Service within the Operations, Research, and Facilities account.

FISHERMEN'S CONTINGENCY FUND

The conference agreement includes $953,000 for the Fishermen's Contingency Fund, as provided in the House, instead of $952,000 included in the Senate bill.

FOREIGN FISHING OBSERVER FUND

The conference agreement includes $189,000 for the expenses related to the Foreign Fishing Observer Fund, as provided in both the House and Senate bills.

FISHERIES FINANCE PROGRAM ACCOUNT

The conference agreement provides $338,000 in subsidy amounts for the Fisheries Finance Program Account, instead of $388,000 recommended in the Senate bill, and $238,000 recommended in the House bill. The agreement includes $100,000 above the House level to continue entry level and small vessel Individual Fishery Quota obligation guarantees in the halibut and sablefish fisheries as recommended in the Senate report.

GENERAL ADMINISTRATION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $30,000,000 for the general administration of the Commerce Department, instead of $31,059,000 as proposed in the Senate bill and $28,900,000 as proposed in the House bill. The conference recommendation assumes a $720,000 transfer of funding and personnel from the NOAA Systems Acquisition Office (SAO) to the Department, instead of $1,420,000 recommended in the House bill and requested in the budget.

OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL

The conference agreement includes $21,000,000 for the Commerce Department Inspector General, instead of $21,400,000 as recommended in the House bill and $19,959,000 as recommended in Senate bill. An increase is provided to enable the Office of Inspector General to continue its efforts related to the 2000 decennial census.

PATENT AND TRADEMARK OFFICE

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

(RESCISSION)

The conference agreement includes a $71,000,000 rescission from fee collections and prior year appropriations, instead of a $41,000,000 rescission recommended in the House bill, and a $116,342,000 rescission requested in the budget. The Senate bill did not recommend a rescission in this account.

NATIONAL OCEANIC AND ATMOSPHERIC ADMINISTRATION

PROCUREMENT, ACQUISITION, AND CONSTRUCTION

(RESCISSION)

The conference agreement does not include a rescission of $5,000,000 from prior year unobligated balances in NOAA satellite programs, as proposed by the House. The Senate bill did not contain this rescission.

GENERAL PROVISIONS—DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

The conference agreement includes the following general provisions for the Department of Commerce:

Section 201.—The conference agreement includes section 201, included in both the House and Senate versions of the bill, regarding certifications of advanced payments.

Sec. 202.—The conference agreement includes section 202, identical in both the House and Senate versions of the bill, allowing funds to be used for hire of passenger motor vehicles.

Sec. 203.—The conference agreement includes section 203, identical in both the House and Senate versions of the bill, prohibiting reimbursement to the Air Force for hurricane reconnaissance planes.

Sec. 204.—The conference agreement includes section 204, identical in both the House and Senate versions of the bill, prohibiting funds from being used to reimburse the Unemployment Trust Fund for temporary census workers.

Sec. 205.—The conference agreement includes section 205, identical in both the House and Senate versions of the bill, regarding transfer authority between Commerce Department appropriation accounts.

Sec. 206.—The conference agreement includes section 206, providing for the notification of the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations of a plan for transferring funds to appropriate successor organizations within 90 days of enactment of any legislation dismantling or reorganizing the Department of Commerce, as proposed in both House and Senate bills.

Sec. 207.—The conference agreement includes section 207, included in both the House and Senate bills, requiring that any costs related to personnel actions incurred by a Department or agency funded in title II of this Act, be absorbed within the total budgetary resources available to such Department or agency.

Sec. 208.—The conference agreement includes section 208, as proposed in the House, allowing the Secretary to award contracts for certain mapping and charting activities in accordance with the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act. The Senate bill did not address this matter.

Sec. 209.—The conference agreement includes language, as proposed in the House bill, allowing the Department of Commerce Franchise Fund to retain a portion of its earnings from services provided. The Senate contained no similar provision.

Sec. 210.—The conference agreement includes a provision, as proposed in the Senate bill, to place a one-year moratorium on the processing or registration of a trademark application for a mark identical to the official tribal insignia of any Federally recognized Indian tribe. The House bill did not address this matter.

Sec. 211.—The conference agreement includes new language, not in either the House or Senate bills, to prohibit enforcement and transactions related to the registration and renewal of trademarks that are substantially similar to those used in connection with assets which have been confiscated.

Sec. 212.—The conference agreement includes new language, not in either the House or Senate bills, to provide for the conveyance, at fair market value, of a parcel of land in Two Harbors, Minnesota.

Sec. 213.—The conference agreement includes new language, not in either the House or Senate bills, to authorize NOAA to enter into a land transfer arrangement to allow for the construction of the NMFS laboratory facility at Lena Point, Alaska.

Sec. 214.—The conference agreement includes new language, not in either the House or Senate bills, to authorize NOAA to enter into an agreement with the State of Alaska to construct a State-owned facility on Federal land, as well as provide for the development of joint facilities with NOAA.

TITLE III—THE JUDICIARY

SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $31,059,000 for the salaries and expenses of the Supreme Court, the same as the amount provided in the Senate bill, and $36,000 below the amount provided in the House bill.

CARE OF THE BUILDING AND GROUNDS

The conference agreement includes $5,400,000 for the Supreme Court Care of the Building and Grounds account, as provided in the House bill, instead of $5,871,000 as provided in the Senate bill and as requested in the budget. This amount is $2,000,000 above the amount provided in fiscal year 1998. The reduction from the request is taken as a general reduction.

The conference agreement allows $2,364,000 of this appropriation to remain available until expended, as provided in the House bill, instead of the entire amount, as provided in the Senate bill.

UNITED STATES COURT OF APPEALS FOR THE FEDERAL CIRCUIT

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $16,101,000 for the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, instead of $16,143,000 as provided in the House bill and $15,631,000 as provided in the Senate bill.

UNITED STATES COURT OF INTERNATIONAL TRADE

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $11,804,000 for the U.S. Court of International Trade, instead of $11,822,000 as provided in the House bill and $11,483,000 as provided in the Senate bill.

COURTS OF APPEALS, DISTRICT COURTS, AND OTHER JUDICIAL SERVICES

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides $2,821,821,000 for the salaries and expenses of the federal judiciary, instead of $2,828,329,000 as provided in the House bill and $2,808,516,000 as provided in the Senate bill.

In addition, within the amount provided under the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund, addressed below, an additional $10,164,000 is available for this account, providing a total availability of appropriations of $2,831,985,000.

In addition to these appropriated resources, there is likely to be available at least $155,578,000 in fee carryover from prior years, $142,880,000 in current year fees, and $78,276,000 in other resources, for a total availability of resources of $3,208,719,000. Also, the judiciary has pending Year 2000 computer compliance requirements of $13,044,000, of which $10,214,000 is for needs in this account, and the balance is in the Court Security account, for which funding is expected to be made available from pending legislation to provide additional resources for fixing Year 2000 problems.

With respect to program increases requested in the budget, the conferees believe that probation/pre-trial services are a high priority, and that sufficient resources need to be provided to allow these services to keep up with the rapidly rising number of offenders under post-release supervision. In addition, the conferees expect that security surcharge payments will be made only for validated additional services.

The language in the House report relating to electronic courtrooms is adopted by reference.

The conference agreement also appropriates $2,515,000 from the Vaccine Injury Compensation Trust Fund for expenses associated with the National Childhood Vaccine Injury Act of 1986, as provided in both the House and Senate bills.

The conference agreement does not include a general provision added by the Senate that would require the Judicial Conference to study whether Criminal Rule 6 should be amended to allow a witness appearing before a grand jury to have counsel present. The conferees understand that the Judicial Conference of the United States will address this specific issue at the October 1998 meeting of its Advisory Committee on Criminal rules. The conferees further understand that the Advisory Committee has received the views of the American Bar Association, the National Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers, and the Department of Justice on this issue, and will proceed in accordance with established procedure consistent with the Rules Enabling Act. The conferees direct the Judicial Conference to report their findings to the Committees on Appropriations not later than April 15, 1999.

VIOLENT CRIME REDUCTION PROGRAMS

The conference agreement includes an appropriation of $41,043,000 from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund, instead of $60,000,000 as provided in the House bill, and no funds as provided in the Senate bill. These funds are intended to be used to offset workload requirements of the federal judiciary related to the Violent Crime Control and Law Enforcement Act of 1994 and the Anti-Terrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act of 1996. It is intended that $10,164,000 be utilized for workload requirements under Salaries and Expenses, and $30,879,000 be utilized for workload requirements under Defender Services.

DEFENDER SERVICES

The conference agreement includes $360,952,000 for the federal judiciary's Defender Services account, as requested in the budget and as provided in both the House and Senate bills. In addition, $30,879,000 is expected to be provided from funds made available under the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund, as requested in the budget and provided in the House bill, instead of no funds, as provided in the Senate bill. In addition, there is expected to be carryover of $3,882,000. As a result, total availability of resources for Defender Services is expected to be $395,713,000.

The judiciary is currently projecting a shortfall of approximately $14,000,000 in this account for fiscal year 1999, even though Congress has provided the full amount of requested resources. The judiciary should take every step available to assure that the budget for this account stays within appropriated resources. Because the cost of the existing program has been rising rapidly, and because of the possibility that funding requirements in fiscal year 1999 will exceed the budget request by a significant amount, the conferees have not provided for increases in the rate for panel attorneys or other program increases.

The reports that the judiciary is expected to provide are the three reports requested in the House report, as well as the report described in the following paragraph.

The conference agreement does not include a provision included in the Senate bill that would limit monthly payments to court-appointed counsel in federal capital cases to the salary received by the United States Attorney in that district. However, the conferees remain concerned about the cost of federal capital cases. The conferees direct the Administrative Office of the United States Courts to review defense costs in federal capital cases and report on the findings to the House and Senate Judiciary and Appropriations Committees by September 30, 1999.

The conferees further direct the Administrative Office of the United States Courts to pay particular attention to the following items in the compilation of this report: 1) the number of counsel who have been appointed to represent indigent defendants in federal capital cases in the previous four fiscal years; 2) the number of instances in the previous four fiscal years in which individual appointed counsel in federal capital cases have submitted invoices for legal representation for a calendar month that exceed the amount of salary (excluding health and other employee benefits) that the law of the United States authorized to be paid to the United States Attorney in that calendar month in the district in which the case was prosecuted; 3) the number of instances in the previous four fiscal years in which federal courts have granted waivers under 18 U.S.C. 3006A(d)(3), where the representations were deemed to be extended or complex, concerning the maximum amounts of attorney compensation; and 4) the number of instances in the previous four fiscal years in which federal courts have suspended trials or other proceedings due to inadequate compensation for appointed counsel.

FEES OF JURORS AND COMMISSIONERS

The conference agreement includes $66,861,000 for Fees of Jurors and Commissioners, instead of $67,000,000 as proposed in the House bill and $68,721,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. The amount provided reflects the latest estimate from the judiciary of the requirements for this account.

COURT SECURITY

The conference agreement includes $174,569,000 for the federal judiciary's Court Security account, which is $469,000 over the amount in the House bill and $2,304,000 below the amount in the Senate bill. In addition, this account is assumed to have additional resources of $1,151,000 in carryover and $2,800,000 for Year 2000 computer compliance costs from other sources of funding.

The highest priority with respect to program increases is to provide the additional court security officers needed to meet the current applicable standards. This includes one additional court security officer for the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. The Committees expect to be informed as to how this will be accomplished in reference to the court-by-court tracking system that has been developed at the insistence of the Committees. In addition, it is expected that the report requested in the House report will be provided.

ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICE OF THE UNITED STATES COURTS

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $54,500,000 for the Administrative Office of the United States Courts, as proposed by the House, instead of $54,682,000 as proposed by the Senate. This level of funding is intended to allow the Administrative Office to operate at current services, but does not provide additional personnel over the fiscal year 1998 level. However, the judiciary can obtain an additional 6 workyears through reimbursable positions, as requested in the budget. In addition to the amount provided, there is expected to be $39,986,000 available from other sources, including fees, carryover, and reimbursements.

FEDERAL JUDICIAL CENTER

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $17,716,000 for the fiscal year 1999 salaries and expenses of the Federal Judicial Center, as proposed in the Senate bill, instead of $18,000,000 as provided in the House bill.

JUDICIAL RETIREMENT FUNDS

PAYMENT TO THE JUDICIARY TRUST FUNDS

The conference agreement includes $37,300,000 for payment to the various judicial retirement funds as provided in both the House and Senate bills.

UNITED STATES SENTENCING COMMISSION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $9,487,000 for the U.S. Sentencing Commission, instead of $9,600,000 as provided in the House bill, and $9,374,000 as provided in the Senate bill. There is substantial uncertainty as to the requirements for the Commission in fiscal year 1999 as well as to concerns about whether the Commission will be able to reach decisions given the number of Commissioner vacancies.

GENERAL PROVISIONS—THE JUDICIARY

Section 301.—The conference agreement includes section 301 as provided in both the House and Senate bills, with minor technical differences, allowing appropriations to be used for services as authorized by 5 U.S.C. 3109.

Sec. 302.—The conference agreement includes section 302, as included in the House bill, providing the Judiciary with the authority to transfer funds between appropriations accounts but limiting, with certain exceptions, any increase in an account to 10 percent, instead of the Senate provision which would have limited the increase to 20 percent.

Sec. 303.—The conference agreement includes section 303, included in both the House and Senate bills, with minor technical differences, allowing up to $10,000 of salaries and expenses funds provided in this title to be used for official reception and representation expenses of the Judicial Conference of the United States.

The conference agreement does not include a provision included in the Senate bill, which would have allowed a cost-of-living increase in judges' salaries.

TITLE IV—DEPARTMENT OF STATE AND RELATED AGENCIES

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

ADMINISTRATION OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS

DIPLOMATIC AND CONSULAR PROGRAMS

The conference agreement includes a total of $1,644,300,000 for Diplomatic and Consular Programs, instead of $1,657,890,000 as included in the House bill and $1,685,794,000 as included in the Senate bill. This amount includes a direct appropriation of $1,644,300,000 instead of $1,631,490,000 as provided in the House bill and $1,685,094,000 as provided in the Senate bill. In Title II of the Emergency Supplemental included in this bill, $25,700,000, to remain available until expended, is provided for increased security overseas to continue the antiterrorism initiatives included in the fiscal year 1997 appropriations Act, instead of under this account, as provided in the House bill.

The conference agreement does not include any provision for expenditure of registration fees collected pursuant to section 38 of the Arms Export Control Act, as amended, even though $700,000 for that purpose was included in both House and Senate bills. The reason for this deletion is that the National Defense Authorization Act for fiscal year 1999 contained a provision making those fees a permanent, indefinite appropriation, which means those fees will be available without separate appropriation action. Note is taken of the statutory change in export licensing responsibility for commercial satellites from the Commerce Department administered Commerce Control List to the State Department administered U.S. Munitions List. The conference agreement provides $2,000,000 over fiscal year 1998 levels for the Office of Defense Trade Controls. That office is directed to apply increased resources to hiring additional senior personnel (GS-13 through GS-15) and support staff to improve scrutiny of export license applications, enhance end-use monitoring, and strengthen compliance enforcement measures to ensure that U.S. technology is properly safeguarded when exported.

The conference report also includes a provision to collect and deposit as an offsetting collection to this account Machine Readable Visa fees in fiscal years 1999 and 2000 to recover authorized costs. The Senate bill included a similar provision but would have made it permanent. The House bill did not include a provision on this matter.

The conference report includes language making available $500,000 for the National Law Center for Inter-American Free Trade, as provided in the Senate bill. The House bill did not include a similar provision.

The conference agreement does not include a provision transferring $13,000,000 to the East-West Center, which was proposed in the Senate bill. The House bill did not include a similar provision.

The conference report contains a provision allowing not to exceed 20 percent of the amounts available under this account and the Salaries and Expenses accounts to be transferred between the two accounts, as provided in the House bill. The Senate bill did not contain a provision on this matter, but instead proposed changing the overall transfer authority for this Title under section 402.

The amount provided in the conference agreement is slightly above the current services requirement for the Department. Within this amount, and within any savings the Department identifies, the Department will have the ability to propose that these funds be used for needs not funded by the recommendation, including high priority program increases such as China 2000, through the normal reprogramming process. With respect to China 2000, it is expected that language training will be provided prior to personnel being sent to China.

The language in the House report under this heading is to be followed in expending fiscal year 1999 funds. In addition, this statement of managers adopts by reference the provisions in the Senate report addressing the Arctic Council, the Bering Straits Commission, and the Multi-lateral High Level Conference.

The Senate provision prohibiting the expenditure of funds on non-reimbursable details, details to non-government organizations, or details as faculty advisers until the Secretary certifies that embassy manning is at 100 percent of the requirements set by the overseas staffing model has not been adopted. Instead, the Department is directed to provide the Committees on Appropriations with a report justifying the aforementioned details not later than December 31, 1998. To the degree that non-reimbursable details can be eliminated or converted to reimbursable details, the resultant savings can be used to hire additional Foreign Service Officers.

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes a total of $355,000,000 for Salaries and Expenses, instead of $365,235,000 as proposed in the House bill and $349,474,000 as proposed in the Senate bill.

The conference agreement moves the cost of the renovation of the Main State Building from this account to the Security and Maintenance of U.S. Missions, as proposed in the Senate bill. Taking this into account, the amount provided for this account allows $7,813,000 of requested adjustments to base. To the extent that savings are identified by the Department, they can be used to restore the remaining adjustments to base. The only program increase requested for this account was for the cost of the renovation of the Main State Building, which has been addressed in another account.

The conference agreement includes a provision transferring $813,333 to the Presidential Advisory Commission on Holocaust Assets in the United States, as proposed in the House bill. The Senate bill did not include a similar provision.

CAPITAL INVESTMENT FUND

The conference agreement includes $80,000,000 for the Capital Investment Fund, the amount included in the House bill, instead of $118,340,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. This represents the amount of the request not associated with year 2000 computer conversion costs. Year 2000 conversion costs of $38,340,000 included in the request and additional costs identified since the time of the budget request are anticipated to be addressed through funds that may be provided separately for U.S. Government-wide year 2000 compliance.

The provisions in the House report are adopted by reference.

OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL

The conference agreement includes $27,495,000 for the Office of Inspector General, which has jurisdiction over the Department of State, the United States Information Agency, and the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, as proposed in the Senate bill, instead of $28,000,000 as proposed in the House bill.

It is recommended that the Inspector General exercise appropriate oversight over the International Commissions funded under this title.

REPRESENTATION ALLOWANCES

The conference agreement includes $4,350,000 for Representation Allowances, instead of $4,200,000 as proposed in the House bill and $6,500,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. The Senate bill recommended the consolidation of representation funds, including those provided under the Emergencies in the Diplomatic and Consular Service, and included new bill language citations to implement that recommendation. The conference agreement retains the current structure.

PROTECTION OF FOREIGN MISSIONS AND OFFICIALS

The conference agreement includes $8,100,000 for Protection of Foreign Missions and Officials, as provided in the House bill, instead of $7,900,000 as provided in the Senate bill.

SECURITY AND MAINTENANCE OF UNITED STATES MISSIONS

The conference agreement includes $403,561,000 for this account, instead of $396,000,000 as proposed by the House, and $550,832,000 as proposed by the Senate. This amount includes $7,561,000 for the renovation of the Main State Building, as proposed in the Senate bill, instead of funding under the Salaries and Expenses account as recommended in the House bill. In addition, the budget request indicated a planned expenditure of $126,128,000 from proceeds of sale of surplus property for opportunity purchases and capital projects.

The Department is directed to submit, and receive approval for, a financial plan for the funding provided here under this account, whether from direct appropriations or proceeds of sales, prior to the obligation or expenditure of funds for capital and rehabilitation projects. The plan shall include project-level detail, and shall be provided to the Appropriations Committees not later than 30 days after the date of enactment of this Act. Any deviation from the plan after approval shall be treated as a reprogramming in the case of an addition greater than $500,000 or as a notification in the case of a deletion, a project cost overrun exceeding 25 percent, or a project schedule delay exceeding 6 months. Notification requirements also extend to the rebaselining of a given project's cost estimate, schedule, or scope of work.

As in the past, immediate notification is expected if there are facilities that the Department believes pose serious security risks.

EMERGENCIES IN THE DIPLOMATIC AND CONSULAR SERVICE

The conference agreement includes $5,500,000 for Emergencies in the Diplomatic and Consular Service account, as provided in the House bill, instead of $3,500,000, as provided in the Senate bill.

REPATRIATION LOANS PROGRAM ACCOUNT

The conference agreement includes a total appropriation of $1,200,000 for the Repatriation Loans Program account, as provided in the House bill, instead of $1,000,000 as provided in the Senate bill.

PAYMENT TO THE AMERICAN INSTITUTE IN TAIWAN

The conference agreement includes $14,750,000 for the Payment to the American Institute in Taiwan account, instead of $15,000,000 as proposed in the House bill, and $14,490,000 as proposed in the Senate bill.

PAYMENT TO THE FOREIGN SERVICE RETIREMENT AND DISABILITY FUND

The conference agreement includes $132,500,000 for the Payment to the Foreign Service Retirement and Disability Fund account, as provided in both the House and Senate bills.

INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS AND CONFERENCES

CONTRIBUTIONS TO INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

The conference agreement includes $922,000,000 for Contributions to International Organizations to pay the costs assessed to the United States for membership in international organizations, instead of $914,000,000 as proposed in the House bill, and $1,131,718,000 as proposed in the Senate bill, of which $877,718,000 was for current year assessments, and $254,000,000 was for payment of arrearages to the United Nations. The conference agreement includes all arrearage payments under a separate account.

The conference agreement includes language providing that none of the funds can be used for the U.S. share of interest costs for loans incurred after October 1, 1984 through external borrowings, as provided in the House bill. The Senate bill did not contain a similar provision.

The conference agreement contains a provision that $100,000,000 may be made available to the United Nations only on a semi-annual basis pursuant to a certification that the U.N. has taken no action to cause the U.N. to exceed the expected 1998–1999 budget of $2,533,000,000, as provided in the House bill. The Senate bill contains no similar provision.

The conference agreement includes a provision that not to exceed $15,000,000 shall be transferred from this account to the International Conferences and Contingencies (ICC) account for United States contributions to the Comprehensive Nuclear Test Ban Treaty Preparatory Commission for specified purposes, as provided in the House bill. The Senate bill did not contain a provision on this matter. The first $385,000 of such transfer is to be spent on upgrading, operating, and maintaining international monitoring sites described in the Senate report under the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency. The State Department is expected to consult with the Committees on Appropriations prior to such a transfer.

The conference agreement also includes a provision permitting not to exceed $1,223,000 to be transferred to the ICC account for assessed contributions to new or provisional organizations or for travel expenses of official delegates to international conferences, subject to reprogramming requirements, as provided in the Senate bill. The House bill did not contain a provision on this matter.

The conference agreement includes $2,000,000 to establish an international center for response to chemical, biological and nuclear weapons, instead of $2,400,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. The House bill did not contain a provision on this matter.

The conference agreement does not contain a number of provisions in the Senate bill relating to payment of arrearages. Arrearages are addressed in a separate account.

The $922,000,000 provided by the conference agreement is expected to be sufficient to fully pay assessments to international organizations. In fiscal year 1998, the total required from fiscal year 1998 appropriations to fully pay assessments was $869,103,000. With excess fiscal year 1998 funds, the Department has prepaid $19,953,000 of the fiscal year 1999 assessment to the United Nations.

Within the request, there are a number of assessments that are not required, including the International Seabed Authority and the International Tribunal of the Law of the Sea. In addition, no funding is provided for the Inter-American Indian Institute, the Interparliamentary Union, and the Bureau of International Expositions. In addition, the Department is apparently contemplating for the first time not withholding funds that it believes constitute an overpayment to the tax equalization fund at the U.N., which, if current policies were continued, would save approximately $7,000,000.

To the extent that, due to unanticipated exchange rate changes, the amount is not sufficient to fully pay assessments, the conferees intend that funds be provided to the highest priority organizations as indicated in the House report.

The Statement of Managers does not adopt a Senate provision tying release of payments to international organizations to certification that the overhead costs of a given international organization account for no more than 15 percent of the total budget of that organization. Instead, the Department is directed to update its report on international organization overhead rates. The report should include a clear, consistent definition of overhead costs, and should be delivered to the Committees on Appropriations no later than March 13, 1999. To the degree that resources in this account fall short of needs, the Department should withhold payments from organizations with the highest overhead rates. The Department is expected to consult with the Committees on Appropriations should reductions become necessary.

The conference agreement intends that the funding provided under this account be for assessments for all international organizations. The Senate bill proposed to transfer funding for 7 commodity-based organizations to the Commerce Department and 3 justice-related organizations to the Justice Department.

The conference report includes a new provision, not included in either the House or Senate bill, which would ensure that the Department has the authority to pay for the full U.S. assessment to the civil budget of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Provisions in the House report relating to a report on budget reductions and reforms in international organizations, Israel's acceptance into the Western Europe and Other Group regional bloc, the Pan American Health Organization, and no funding for worldwide conferences are adopted by reference.

CONTRIBUTIONS FOR INTERNATIONAL PEACEKEEPING ACTIVITIES

The conference agreement provides $231,000,000 for Contributions for International Peacekeeping Activities, instead of $220,000,000, as proposed in the House bill, and $431,093,000 as proposed in the Senate bill, of which $210,093,000 was for payment of current year peacekeeping assessments and $221,000,000 was for payment of peacekeeping arrearages. The conference agreement addresses arrearages under a separate account.

The conference agreement includes a provision that prohibits obligation or expenditure of funds for new or expanded U.N. peacekeeping missions unless, at least 15 days prior to the Security Council vote, the appropriate Committees of the Congress are notified of the estimated cost and length of the mission, the vital national interest that will be served, and the planned exit strategy; and a reprogramming of funds is submitted setting forth the source of funds that will be used to pay for the cost of the new or expanded mission, as included in the House bill. The Senate bill did not contain a provision on this matter.

The conference agreement contains a provision requiring a certification that American manufacturers and suppliers are being given opportunities to provide equipment, services, and material for U.N. peacekeeping activities equal to those being given to foreign manufacturers and suppliers, as provided in the House bill. The Senate bill did not contain a provision on this matter.

In addition, the conference agreement includes a provision prohibiting funds from being used to pay the United States share of the cost of judicial monitoring that is part of any United Nations peacekeeping mission. Thus, if any current or future peacekeeping operation includes judicial monitoring as one of its functions, the U.S. will have to withhold its proportionate share of the cost of any court monitoring that is included in such a mission. This provision was not included in either the House or the Senate bill.

The conference agreement does not include several provisions relating to arrearages that were included in the Senate bill, as arrearages are addressed under a separate account.

This statement of managers adopts by reference language in the House report making it clear that the Department is expected to live within the appropriation; requiring reprogramming requirements for certain missions that may continue, but for which information has either not been provided or is under consideration; requiring a report on waste, fraud and abuse in peacekeeping operations, and to take all actions necessary to prevent conversion of loaned employees into permanent positions at the United Nations. This statement of managers adopts by reference language in the Senate report urging the Department to pursue cost-sharing arrangements on peacekeeping missions and directing the State Department to block any effort to convert Rapidly Deployable Mission Headquarters funding from voluntary to assessed contributions.

ARREARAGE PAYMENTS

The conference agreement includes $475,000,000 for arrearage payments, as proposed in the House bill under this account, instead of $254,000,000 and $221,000,000 as proposed in the Senate bill under Contributions to International Organizations and Contributions for International Peacekeeping, respectively. The conference agreement makes the expenditure of these funds contingent upon enactment of an authorization, and upon a reduction in the U.S. assessment rate for the U.N. regular budget to at least 22 percent, and for peacekeeping to at least 25 percent, as proposed in the House bill.

These conditions, including those conditions pending as part of the authorization, are intended to assure that real and substantial reforms are achieved at the U.N. prior to payment of arrearage funding, and to assure assessment reductions that will provide long-term savings to the American taxpayer.

INTERNATIONAL COMMISSIONS

INTERNATIONAL BOUNDARY AND WATER COMMISSION, UNITED STATES AND MEXICO

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $19,551,000 for Salaries and Expenses of the International Boundary and Water Commission (IBWC), instead of $18,490,000 as proposed in the House bill, and $17,490,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. The total amount provided in the conference agreement for Salaries and Expenses and Construction is the same as was provided in the House bill. However, $1,061,000 has been moved from Construction to Salaries and Expenses to address a situation brought to the attention of the conferees by the Department. Costs for operation of the South Bay International Wastewater Treatment Plant are higher than budgeted due mainly to the requirement to monitor the ocean water after the new plant begins discharging treated wastewater. Appropriated and carryover funds are sufficient in the Construction account to address this additional need as well as to carry on planned construction activities, but the amount of funds required to be transferred to the Salaries and Expenses account exceeds the transfer authority available. Consequently, the adjustment was requested to be made a part of the conference report. Carryover funds from within the Construction account from the Tijuana Sanitation Project are to be used to make up the reduction in Construction funds caused by the switch.

The statement of managers adopts by reference language in the House report relating to the Nogales Wash.

CONSTRUCTION

The conference agreement includes $5,939,000 for the Construction account of the IBWC, instead of $7,000,000 as proposed in the House bill and $6,463,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. As explained under the previous account, $1,061,000 has been moved from the House amount for Construction to Salaries and Expenses to cover an unbudgeted need that could not be solved through a transfer of funds after enactment of this appropriation. However, carryover from the Tijuana Sanitation Project is available to allow the Construction account to carry out planned projects. It is intended that $2,000,000 be provided for the Rio Grande Canalization project.

AMERICAN SECTIONS, INTERNATIONAL COMMISSIONS

The conference agreement includes $5,733,000 for the U.S. share of expenses of the International Boundary Commission, the International Joint Commission, United States and Canada, and the Border Environment Cooperation Commission, instead of $5,490,000 as provided in both the House and Senate bills. The conference level will provide funding for the International Joint Commission at the request level, and the International Boundary Commission and the Border Environment Cooperation Commission at the fiscal year 1998 level.

INTERNATIONAL FISHERIES COMMISSIONS

The conference agreement includes $14,549,000 for the U.S. share of the expenses of the International Fisheries Commissions and related activities, as proposed in the Senate bill, instead of $14,490,000 as proposed in the House bill. The distribution of funds is to be provided as requested in the budget.

OTHER

PAYMENT TO THE ASIA FOUNDATION

The conference agreement includes $8,250,000 for the Payment to the Asia Foundation account, the amount provided in the House bill, instead of no funding, as provided in the Senate bill. The increase over the fiscal year 1998 level is to be used for the purposes described in the House report.

RELATED AGENCIES

ARMS CONTROL AND DISARMAMENT AGENCY

ARMS CONTROL AND DISARMAMENT ACTIVITIES

The conference agreement includes $41,500,000 for the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency (ACDA), as proposed in the House bill, instead of $43,400,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. The Agency is directed to provide a detailed financial plan to the Committees within 30 days of enactment of this Act, setting forth how these funds will be distributed to fund basic operating expenses. Funding for activities other than basic operating expenses that are identified in the financial plan will be subject to the $500,000 reprogramming threshold in section 605 of this Act. Any variation from the plan that falls within the reprogramming criteria of section 605, including spending for activities that do not constitute operating expenses, shall be subject to reprogramming. If the Agency is contemplating changes to its financial plan, the Agency is expected to consult with the Committees to determine whether those changes fall within the reprogramming criteria prior to undertaking such action.

UNITED STATES INFORMATION AGENCY

INTERNATIONAL INFORMATION PROGRAMS

The conference agreement includes $455,246,000 for International Information Programs of the United States Information Agency (USIA) instead of $457,146,000 as proposed in the House bill, and $427,097,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. It is expected that the program direction included in both the House and Senate reports shall be followed.

TECHNOLOGY FUND

The conference agreement includes no funding under the Technology Fund account as proposed in the House bill, instead of $5,050,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. It is expected that USIA will be able to meet its highest priority technology funding needs by using the available carryover funds in this account, and through other appropriations that may be available separately for Year 2000 compliance. In addition, under the Educational and Cultural Exchange Programs account, the conference agreement provides authority to transfer up to $2,000,000 to this account for technology requirements other than Year 2000 compliance.

EDUCATIONAL AND CULTURAL EXCHANGE PROGRAMS

The conference agreement includes $202,500,000 for Educational and Cultural Exchange Programs instead of $200,000,000 as proposed in the House bill and $205,024,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. The conference agreement also provides that not to exceed $800,000 may be credited to this appropriation from fees and other payments.

The availability of significant carryover and recovery funds in this account is noted, and USIA is directed to submit a proposal, no later than December 31, 1998, through the normal reprogramming process for the distribution of the total resources available in this account. Such a distribution shall include funding for the following programs at not less than the amounts designated. In addition, all programs specifically mentioned in the House and Senate reports, but not mentioned in the following list shall be supported to the maximum extent possible: Fulbright Academic Exchanges—$95,000,000; Educational Advising and Student Services—$3,100,000; English Language Programs—$2,479,000; Council of Overseas American Research Centers—$300,000; American Overseas Research Centers—$1,700,000; South Pacific Exchanges—$500,000; International Visitors Program—$41,270,000; Congress-Bundestag Youth Exchange—$2,400,000; Pepper Scholarships—$250,000; Executive Education Program for Central European Business and Professional Leaders—$275,000; Mike Mansfield Fellowships—$2,200,000; U.S./Mexico Conflict Resolution Center—$500,000; Institute for Representative Government—$400,000; National Youth Science Camp of the Americas—$100,000; Interparliamentary Exchanges with Korea and China—$150,000; 1999 Women's World Cup—$2,000,000 and Special Olympics—$1,250,000. In addition, the distribution of funds shall include funding, to the maximum extent possible, for the Disability Exchange Clearinghouse program.

It is intended that the amount provided for the Congress-Bundestag Youth Exchange will support 380 exchanges.

USIA is again encouraged to introduce more competition to improve the quality and lower the costs of exchange programs. USIA is expected to continue to consult with the Committees to ensure that the competition for the administration of the Fulbright senior scholar program will address the issue of competition on a regional basis so as to maximize the availability of competitor organizations.

The conference agreement includes bill language not proposed in either bill which allows the transfer of not to exceed $2,000,000 from the funds made available in this account to the Technology Fund account to provide for the costs of high priority technology requirements other than Year 2000 compliance.

EISENHOWER EXCHANGE FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM TRUST FUND

The conference agreement includes language as provided in both the House and Senate bills, allowing all interest and earnings accruing to the Trust Fund in fiscal year 1999 to be used for necessary expenses of the Eisenhower Exchange Fellowships.

ISRAELI ARAB SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

The conference agreement includes language as provided in both the House and Senate bills, allowing all interest and earnings accruing to the Scholarship Fund in fiscal year 1999 to be used for necessary expenses of the Israeli Arab Scholarship Program.

INTERNATIONAL BROADCASTING OPERATIONS

The conference agreement includes $362,365,000 for International Broadcasting Operations, instead of $383,957,000 as proposed in the House bill, and instead of $332,915,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. The conference agreement adopts the approach proposed in the Senate bill for broadcasting to Cuba. No funds for broadcasting to Cuba are included under this account, as proposed by the House, but rather, all funding for broadcasting to Cuba is included under a separate account, as proposed by the Senate, consistent with the fiscal year 1998 appropriations Act.

The amount provided includes all requested adjustments to base. In addition, the conference agreement includes a program increase of $2,600,000 above the amount requested for Radio Free Asia (RFA). Total fiscal year 1999 funding of $22,000,000 for RFA provides the annualized costs of fiscal year 1998 program increases for expanded broadcasting to China, and additional resources to provide for 24 total broadcast hours per day to China in various languages.

The Agency and the Broadcasting Board of Governors are directed to submit to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations, no later than December 31, 1998, a financial plan including a distribution of the total resources available under this account. In addition, the Broadcasting Board of Governors is directed to implement the development of Uighur and Macedonian broadcasting by Radio Free Asia and the Voice of America, respectively, and to submit details of this implementation to the Committees along with the financial plan no later than December 31, 1998.

Within the total amount provided for international broadcasting operations, $4,000,000 shall be for the costs of Radio Free Iran, a Farsi-language surrogate broadcasting service to Iran, which was initiated by Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty with funding provided in 1998. The conference agreement does not include additional funding for Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty to initiate and operate Radio Free Iraq, a new Arabic language broadcast service. Funding provided in the 1998 Supplemental Appropriations Act (P.L. 105-174) was sufficient to support the fiscal year 1998 and fiscal year 1999 costs of Radio Free Iraq. The conference agreement reflects continuing support for the contribution made by Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty to United States national interests.

In recognition of language included in the Senate report, communications with the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations on the part of the various broadcasting entities, including the independent grantee organizations, shall be coordinated through the Broadcasting Board of Governors.

Within the total amount provided for the Voice of America, the conference agreement stipulates that the Voice of America may initiate expanded programming to Africa under a service entitled "Radio Democracy for Africa," subject to reprogramming, even if the funds provided are less than the thresholds established in section 402 and 605 of this Act. This service would expand VOA's reach into Africa by building on existing programs, adding more news, and increasing in-country reporting on a continent where only six of the 54 countries have a free press. USIA and the Broadcasting Board of Governors shall provide the Committees with a detailed plan justifying the specific amounts dedicated to Radio Democracy for Africa.

BROADCASTING TO CUBA

The conference agreement includes $22,095,000 for Broadcasting to Cuba under a separate account, as proposed in the Senate bill, instead of $21,992,000 within the total for International Broadcasting Operations, as proposed in the House bill.

RADIO CONSTRUCTION

The conference agreement includes $13,245,000 for Radio Construction, as proposed in the Senate bill, instead of $16,308,000 as proposed in the House bill. This account provides funding for the following activities: maintenance, improvements, replacements and repairs; satellite and terrestrial program feeds; engineering support activities; and broadcast facility leases and land rentals.

The conference agreement takes into account the availability of approximately $10,700,000 in carryover balances, and the transfer of $2,866,000 in fiscal year 1998 from the International Broadcasting Operations account to support the retrofitting of transmitters with solid state modulators, originally budgeted as a fiscal year 1999 cost.

The conference agreement acknowledges the presence once again of large carryover balances attributed to the Digital Project. The Broadcasting Board of Governors is directed to submit to the Committees quarterly reports on the status of the project, including information on planned and actual obligations.

EAST-WEST CENTER

The conference agreement includes $12,500,000 for operations of the East-West Center, instead of no funds, as proposed in the House bill, and $12,000,000, as proposed in the Senate bill. The conference agreement does not include a transfer of $13,000,000 from the Department of State, Diplomatic and Consular Programs account, as proposed in the Senate bill.

NORTH/SOUTH CENTER

The conference agreement includes $1,750,000 for operations of the North/South Center, instead of no funds, as proposed in the House bill, and $3,000,000, as proposed in the Senate bill.

NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR DEMOCRACY

The conference agreement includes $31,000,000 for the National Endowment for Democracy as proposed in the House bill, instead of $30,500,000 as proposed in the Senate bill.

GENERAL PROVISIONS—DEPARTMENT OF STATE AND RELATED AGENCIES

Section 401.—The conference agreement includes section 401, as provided in the Senate bill, permitting use of funds for allowances, differentials, and transportation. The House bill contained a similar provision, with minor technical changes.

Sec. 402.—The conference agreement includes section 402, as provided in the House bill, dealing with transfer authority. The Senate bill contained a similar provision, with minor technical changes.

Sec. 403.—The conference agreement includes a provision, as proposed in the House bill, to allow payment of a border equalization adjustment to approximately 20 employees of the Department of State and other agencies who are not members of the Foreign Service, live in the United States, but commute to work in locations in Mexico and Canada. This section will equalize pay for these employees based on the locality pay rates paid for service performed in the United States within the locality pay areas closest to the employees' foreign duty station. The Senate bill did not include a provision on this matter.

Sec. 404.—The conference agreement includes section 404, as proposed in the House bill, permitting the Japan-U.S. Friendship Commission to interchange funds between its dollar and yen trust funds to maximize return on investments. The Senate had a similar provision as section 617 under Title VI, with minor technical differences. The Conference agreement does not include additional language, as proposed in the House bill, providing for the name of the Commission to be changed to the United States-Japan Commission.

Sec. 405.—The conference agreement includes section 405, as provided in the House bill, authorizing the Director of USIA to administer summer travel and work programs without regard to preplacement requirements. The Senate bill did not include a provision on this matter.

Sec. 406.—The conference agreement includes section 406, as provided in the House bill, extending privileges and immunities to the United Nations Industrial Development Organization to the same extent as would apply if the U.S. were a member of that organization. The Senate bill did not include a provision on this matter.

Sec. 407.—The conference agreement includes section 407, as provided in the House bill, extending law enforcement availability pay to diplomatic security agents of the Department of State. The Senate bill did not include a provision on this matter.

Sec. 408.—The conference agreement includes section 408, a modified version of a provision numbered section 403 in the Senate bill, prohibiting the use of funds by the Department of State or USIA to provide certain types of assistance to the Palestinian Broadcasting Corporation. The conference agreement does not include “training” among the types of assistance prohibited, and deletes the words “or similar organization” from the Senate provision. The House did not include a provision on this matter, but included report language under the USIA section. The conference agreement expects that neither the Department of State, nor USIA, shall provide assistance to the PBC, or any similar Palestinian media entity, which could enable the further restriction of press freedoms or the broadcast of inaccurate, inflammatory messages.

Sec. 409.—The conference agreement includes section 409, as proposed in the Senate bill, giving the Secretary of State permanent authority to pay tort claims arising in foreign countries in connection with the Department’s overseas operations. The House bill did not contain a provision on this matter.

Sec. 410.—The conference agreement includes section 410, which is a modification of a provision in the Senate bill under Senate sections 116(b) and 409. This provision amends section 104 of the Illegal Immigration and Immigrant Responsibility Act of 1996 to extend the implementation date for the State Department to issue new counterfeit resistant border crossing cards by two years. In addition, it establishes a reduced fee for the issuance of a border crossing card from Mexico for children under 15, to be implemented 6 months from date of enactment, requiring the overall machine readable visa fee to be adjusted to recover the cost of this reduced fee, and requiring that processing of visa applications at certain locations in Mexico continue until a date certain. The House bill did not include a provision on this matter.

Sec. 411.—The conference agreement includes section 411, not included in either the House or Senate bill, waiving provisions of existing legislation that require authorizations to be in place for the State Department, the United States Information Agency, including International Broadcasting Operations, and the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency prior to the expenditure of any appropriated funds.

The conference agreement does not include a provision, as proposed in the Senate bill as section 410, requiring the Secretary of State to conduct a study on the processing of nonimmigrant visas. However, the Department is directed to undertake a study to determine the adequacy of staffing at United States consular posts, particularly during peak travel periods; the adequacy of service to international tourism; the adequacy of computer and technical support to consular posts; the appropriate standard to determine whether a country qualifies as a pilot program country under section 217 of the Immigration and Nationality Act; and steps that need to be taken and have been taken to implement standards governing the timely processing of applications for nonimmigrant visas at United States consular posts and to report back to the Committees by March 1, 1999.

TITLE V—RELATED AGENCIES

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

MARITIME ADMINISTRATION

MARITIME SECURITY PROGRAM

The conference agreement includes $89,650,000 for the Maritime Security Program instead of $97,650,000 as proposed in both the House and Senate bill. At least $8,000,000 in carryover funding is understood to be available, in addition to new appropriations, to provide full funding for the fiscal year 1999 requirements of the program. This program, funded under the allocation for national security programs, provides payments to maintain and preserve a U.S.-flag merchant fleet for the national security needs of the United States.

OPERATIONS AND TRAINING

The conference agreement includes $69,303,000 for the Maritime Administration Operations and Training account instead of $67,600,000 as proposed in the House bill and instead of $69,818,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. Within this amount, $32,000,000 shall be for the operation and maintenance of the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy, and $6,750,000 shall be for the State Maritime Academies. Within the amount for State Maritime Academies, $1,200,000 shall be for student incentive payments, the same amount as provided in 1998. The Maritime Administration is urged to work with the Department of the Navy regarding the need to provide future funding in this account for student incentive payments.

In addition, MARAD is expected to comply with report language in both the House and Senate reports.

MARITIME GUARANTEED LOAN (TITLE XI) PROGRAM ACCOUNT

The conference agreement provides $6,000,000 in subsidy appropriations for the Maritime Guaranteed Loan Program as proposed in both the House and Senate bills. This amount will subsidize a program level of not more than $1,000,000,000 as proposed in both the House and Senate bills.

The conference agreement also included $3,725,000 for administrative expenses associated with the Maritime Guaranteed Loan Program as proposed in the House bill, instead of $4,000,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. The amount for administrative expenses may be transferred to and merged with amounts under the MARAD Operations and Training account.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS—MARITIME ADMINISTRATION

The conference agreement includes provisions contained in both the House and Senate bills involving Government property controlled by MARAD, the accounting for certain funds received by MARAD, and a prohibition on obligations from the MARAD construction fund.

COMMISSION FOR THE PRESERVATION OF AMERICA'S HERITAGE ABROAD

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides $265,000 for the Commission for the Preservation of America's Heritage Abroad, instead of $280,000 as proposed in the House bill and $250,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. The Commission is expected to comply with the program direction included in the Senate report.

COMMISSION ON CIVIL RIGHTS

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $8,900,000 for the salaries and expenses of the Commission on Civil Rights as proposed in the Senate bill, instead of $8,740,000 as proposed in the House bill.

Concerns remain about the state of basic management controls at the Commission. The conference agreement is based on the expectation that the Commission will continue its efforts to establish accountability for resources, and improve management controls. The Commission shall submit a report not later than January 31, 1999, detailing the Commission's activities since last year's GAO report to improve resource and project management. In addition, the Commission shall submit, not later than January 31, 1999, a comprehensive financial plan for fiscal year 1999 accounting for total available resources by project and activity.

COMMISSION ON SECURITY AND COOPERATION IN EUROPE

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $1,170,000 for the Commission on Security and Cooperation in Europe as proposed in the House bill, and instead of $1,159,000 as proposed in the Senate bill.

EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY COMMISSION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $279,000,000 for the salaries and expenses of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, instead of $260,500,000 as proposed in the House bill, and $253,580,000 as proposed in the Senate bill.

Within the total amount, the conference agreement includes $29,000,000 for payments to State and local Fair Employment Practices Agencies (FEPA's) for services to the Commission, instead of $28,000,000 as proposed in the House bill and $27,500,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. The additional funds provided above the request for this item shall be used to reimburse FEPA's, for additional charge resolutions.

The conference agreement provides full funding for adjustments to base, an increase of $1,500,000 for FEPA's, and additional funding for program increases, including $9,690,000 for necessary automation improvements at the EEOC. This increase includes requirements for Year 2000 compliance. Additional resources are provided for program increases to support improvements to the investigation and resolution of actual individual charges of discrimination. These resources will allow the EEOC to continue to reduce the backlog of pending private sector charges, and to significantly expand the use of alternative dispute resolution to resolve private sector charges. The EEOC is directed to submit to the Committees a distribution of the total amount of funds under this account, no later than December 15, 1998, including plans for the implementation of program increases, making reference to the specific direction included in the House and Senate reports. This distribution shall be considered by the Committees under the reprogramming guidelines in section 605 of this Act.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes a total of $192,000,000 for the salaries and expenses of the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) instead of $181,514,000 as proposed in the House bill, and $197,921,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. Of the amounts provided, $172,523,000 is to be derived from offsetting fee collections, as proposed in both the House and Senate bills, resulting in a net direct appropriation of $19,477,000, instead of $8,991,000 included in the House bill, and $25,398,000 included in the Senate bill.

The conference agreement includes language included in both the House and Senate bills, and included in previous appropriations Acts, allowing fees in excess of the amounts specified to remain available for expenditure in future years. In addition, language is also included, as recommended in the House bill and included in previous appropriations Acts, allowing funds provided for research and policy studies to remain available for two years. The Senate bill made such funds available for one year.

The FCC is directed to submit, no later than December 15, 1999, a financial plan proposing a distribution of all funds in this account, subject to the reprogramming requirements under section 605 of this Act.

The conference agreement does not include a requested funding increase for Year 2000 compliance requirements. The Commission is expected to be able to meet these requirements through funds that may be appropriated separately for that purpose.

The conference agreement does not include a provision, as proposed in the House bill, prohibiting the use of funds for rental of headquarters space at the Portals II building assessed by the General Services Administration, or for any relocation expenses, until such time as ongoing investigations by the Congress and the Department of Justice determine that the lease agreement was lawfully entered into by the parties involved.

It is noted that operators of public safety radio systems are concerned about interference on frequencies they use for emergency dispatch crews, and FCC is encouraged to consider measures to address this concern through prior coordination of radio systems.

FEDERAL MARITIME COMMISSION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $14,150,000 for the salaries and expenses of the Federal Maritime Commission, instead of $14,000,000 as proposed in the House bill and $14,300,000 as proposed in the Senate bill.

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes a total operating level of $116,679,000 for the Federal Trade Commission, instead of $111,867,000 as proposed in the Senate bill, and $110,490,000 as proposed in the House bill. The conference agreement assumes that of the amount provided, $76,500,000 will be derived from fees collected in fiscal year 1999 and $30,000,000 will be derived from estimated unobligated fee collections available from Fiscal Year 1998. These actions result in a final appropriated level of $10,179,000, instead of $3,990,000 as proposed in the House bill and $3,167,000 as proposed in the Senate bill.

Within the amount provided, the FTC shall institute a toll-free telephone number to make it easier for citizens to contact the U.S. Government with consumer complaints, and accelerate and expand the Consumer Sentinel consumer and internet fraud database. The conferees also agree to consider the use of any unobligated fee collections from 1998 above $30,000,000 for this and other consumer protection initiatives, subject to the reprogramming requirements outlined in section 605 of this Act.

The Commission is expected to follow the direction in the House report regarding the standard for "Made in U.S.A."

It is noted that FTC regulation addressing funeral director and funeral service practices does not include cemeteries or other third-party merchandise sellers. In order to ensure consumers are afforded access to accurate, itemized price information and disclosure about burial or funeral goods, the FTC is encouraged to review the sales, marketing, price disclosure, and other consumer practices of all persons, partnerships, corporations, or nonprofit organizations that sell burial or funeral products to the public and are not covered by the regulation.

It is understood that the FTC is undertaking a study of self-regulatory activities of alcoholic beverage companies to address concerns about alcohol advertising and underage drinking, and that upon completion of the study, the results will be made available to the relevant Committees of Congress. Congress, upon review of the report, may have additional areas of inquiry for the Commission to investigate.

LEGAL SERVICES CORPORATION

PAYMENT TO THE LEGAL SERVICES CORPORATION

The conference agreement includes $300,000,000 for payment to the Legal Services Corporation, as proposed in the Senate bill, instead of $250,000,000 as proposed in the House bill.

The conference agreement provides $289,000,000 for grants to basic field programs and independent audits, $8,985,000 for management and administration, and $2,015,000 for the Office of the Inspector General. The conference agreement does not include language proposed in the Senate bill to designate $300,000 of funds provided under this account for litigation associated with Aguilar v. United States. The House bill did not address this matter.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISION—LEGAL SERVICES CORPORATION

The conference agreement contains language to continue the terms and conditions included under this section in the fiscal year 1998 Act, as proposed in the House bill. The Senate bill contained similar language, but did not propose to continue provisions regarding public disclosure of certain information and treatment of assets and income for certain clients.

MARINE MAMMAL COMMISSION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $1,240,000 for the salaries and expenses of the Marine Mammal Commission as proposed in both the House and Senate bills.

COMMISSION ON OCEAN POLICY

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement appropriates $3,500,000 for the Commission on Ocean Policy, as proposed in the Senate bill, subject to the enactment of the necessary authorization legislation to establish this Commission. The House bill did not address this matter.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $324,000,000 for the Securities and Exchange Commission as proposed in the House bill, instead of $341,098,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. The conference agreement includes bill language appropriating separately from offsetting fee collections in fiscal years 1998 and 1999, as proposed in the House bill. The conference agreement includes $23,000,000 in new direct appropriations, $87,000,000 in fees collected in fiscal year 1998, and $214,000,000 in fees to be collected in fiscal year 1999. In addition, out of any other resources available to the Commission, the conference agreement approves the use of an additional $6,000,000 from such funds to supplement the total funding available for fiscal year 1999.

The conference agreement does not include a provision in the Senate bill that the total amount appropriated from the General Fund for fiscal year 1999 shall be reduced as offsetting fees are deposited to this appropriation.

The conference agreement will provide for the Commission's adjustments to base and the requested program increases for additional staff and litigation support. The Commission is expected to consult with the relevant Committees prior to implementing any plan to expand the payment of retention allowances in fiscal year 1999.

No increased funding is provided for Year 2000 automation improvements. It is expected that the SEC will be able to meet its highest priority requirements through other appropriations that may be available separately for Year 2000 compliance.

It is intended that any offsetting fee collections in fiscal year 1999 in excess of $214,000,000 will remain available for the Securities and Exchange Commission in future years through the regular appropriations process.

The conference agreement includes the expectation that additional program direction contained in the House and Senate reports shall be followed.

SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides an appropriation of $288,300,000 for the Small Business Administration (SBA) Salaries and Expenses account, instead of $249,000,000 as proposed in the House bill, and $265,000,000 as proposed in the Senate bill.

In addition to amounts made available under this heading, the conference agreement includes $94,000,000 for administrative expenses under the Business Loans Program Account and $116,000,000 for direct disaster loan making and servicing administrative expenses under the Disaster Loans Program account. These amounts are transferred to and merged with amounts available under Salaries and Expenses, resulting in total funding of $496,300,000 for SBA operating programs, noncredit and other initiatives.

The conference agreement provides a total of $141,300,000 for SBA's regular operating expenses under this account. This amount includes $2,000,000 for necessary expenses of the HUBZone program, and $8,000,000 for initiatives to continue the improvement of SBA's management and oversight of its loan portfolio. The SBA shall submit a plan, prior to the expenditure of resources for portfolio management, in accordance with section 605 of this Act.

In addition, the conference agreement includes language under the Business Loans Program Account allowing the transfer of up to $20,000,000 from funds previously made available for Delta Loan programs to be transferred to and merged with this account to supplement funding for operating expenses.

The conference agreement includes the following amounts for noncredit programs:

Small Business Development Centers	$82,000,000
7(j) Technical Assistance	2,600,000

Microloan Technical Assistance	16,300,000
SCORE	3,500,000
Business Information Centers	700,000
Women's Business Centers	8,000,000
Survey of Women-Owned Businesses	750,000
National Women's Business Council	600,000
EZ/EC One Stop Capital Shops	3,100,000
US Export Assistance Centers	3,100,000
Advocacy Research	800,000
Veterans Outreach	750,000
ProNet	500,000
SBIR Technical Assistance	1,000,000
Drug-free Workplace Grants	4,000,000
Regulatory Fairness Boards	500,000
Total	128,200,000

Small Business Development Centers (SBDC).—Of the amounts provided for SBDCs, the conference agreement includes $2,000,000 to continue the SBDC Defense transition program as directed in the House report; $1,000,000 to continue the Environmental Compliance Project as directed in the House report; $1,000,000 for the further development of the International Trade Data Network as described in the Senate report; and $500,000 for the Manchester Manufacturing Management Center to provide technical assistance to small manufacturers and industrial firms.

In addition, the conference agreement includes language, as proposed in both the House and Senate bills, making funds for the SBDC program available for two years.

Women's Business Centers.—The conference agreement includes funding for the Women's Business Centers program at $8,000,000, instead of $6,000,000 as proposed in the House bill and $9,000,000 as proposed in the Senate bill.

Microloan Technical Assistance.—The conference agreement provides a total availability of $19,400,000 for the Microloan Technical Assistance program in fiscal year 1999. Of this amount, $16,300,000 is provided in direct appropriations and $3,100,000 is to be derived from carryover balances from fiscal year 1998.

Business Information Centers.—The conference agreement provides $700,000 for Business Information Centers. This amount is intended to support the opening of 6 to 8 new centers, the maintenance and enhancement of 60 existing centers, and the establishment of a new center in southeastern Oklahoma.

Small Business Innovation Research.—The conference agreement includes $1,000,000 for technical assistance grants to States receiving the fewest small business innovation research awards, as described in the Senate report.

Drug-free Workplace Demonstration Grant Program.—The conference agreement includes $4,000,000 for a Drug-free Workplace Demonstration Program, as described in H.R. 3853, for the purpose of providing technical assistance to small business concerns seeking to start a drug-free workplace program.

The conference agreement adopts language included in the House report directing the SBA to continue activities assisting small businesses to adapt to a paperless procurement environment, as well as activities which assist small businesses in making the transition to meet both military and ISO 9000 quality systems requirements.

In addition, the conference agreement includes the following small business initiatives: $3,500,000 for continuation of an outreach program to assist small business development; $4,000,000 to develop a facility to increase small business opportunities and economic development; $2,000,000 for infrastructure to develop a technology and training center; $1,500,000 to develop a facility and operate an institute for small business and workforce development; $1,500,000 for infrastructure to develop a learning and resource center; $1,000,000 for a project to develop coal pulverization technologies; $1,000,000 for infrastructure for a marine science education center; $850,000 for infrastructure for a technology transfer center and small business incubator facility; $1,000,000 for an institute on applied software research; $500,000 for the development of an Internet-based information technology curriculum; $200,000 for infrastructure for an arts and tourism development facility; $300,000 for infrastructure improvements and enrichment projects; $200,000 for a community development foundation; $1,000,000 for the establishment of a training and technology center and associated infrastructure improvements; and $250,000 to establish a Year 2000 challenge grant program for small businesses.

OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL

The conference agreement provides $10,800,000 for the SBA Office of Inspector General, instead of $11,300,000 as proposed in the House bill and $10,500,000 recommended in the Senate bill.

Further, an additional $500,000 has been provided under the administrative expenses of the Disaster Loans Program to be made available to the Office of Inspector General for work associated with oversight of the disaster loans program.

BUSINESS LOANS PROGRAM ACCOUNT

The conference agreement includes $224,230,000 under the SBA Business Loans Program Account, instead of $228,540,000 as proposed in the House bill, and $240,816,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. Of these amounts, $45,000,000 is to remain available for two years, as proposed in the House bill.

Of this amount, $2,200,000 is provided for the costs of direct loans. This amount is provided for the Microloan Direct Loan Program. When combined with $1,600,000 in available carryover, this amount will provide for an estimated 1999 program level of $39,800,000.

The conference agreement includes $128,030,000 for the costs of guaranteed loans, including the following programs:

7(a) General Business Loans.—The conference agreement provides $107,750,000 in subsidy appropriations for the 7(a) general business guaranteed loan program, instead of $119,400,000 as proposed in both the House and Senate bills. When combined with $31,250,000 in available carryover balances and recoveries, this amount will subsidize a 1999 program level of $10,000,000,000, assuming a subsidy rate of 1.39%. In addition, the conference agreement includes a provision, as proposed in both the House and Senate bills, requiring the SBA to notify the Committees on Appropriations in accordance with section 605 of this Act prior to providing a total program level greater than $10,000,000,000.

Small Business Investment Companies (SBIC).—The conference agreement provides $20,280,000 for the SBIC participating securities and debenture programs, instead of $20,230,000 as proposed in the House bill, and $23,600,000 as proposed in the Senate bill. Of these amounts, for the participating securities program, $16,620,000 is provided in subsidy appropriations which, when combined with $2,000,000 in prior year carryover, will result in a total program level of $850,228,000 in fiscal year 1999. In addition, for the debentures program, $3,660,000 is provided which, when combined with $3,900,000 in prior year carryover and $1,000,000 in available proceeds from stock buybacks will result in a total program level of $620,290,000 in fiscal year 1999.

Microloan Guaranty Programs.—The conference agreement does not include new appropriations for the Microloan Guaranty Program, as none was requested. Available carryover will provide for the subsidy costs of, at least, the requested 1999 program level of $11,995,000.

In addition, the conference agreement includes $94,000,000 for administrative expenses to carry out the direct and guaranteed loan programs, as proposed in the Senate bill, instead of $86,910,000 as proposed in the House bill, and makes such funds available to be transferred to and merged with the appropriations for Salaries and Expenses.

DISASTER LOANS PROGRAM ACCOUNT

The conference agreement includes a total of $192,329,000 for this account, of which $76,329,000 is for the subsidy costs for disaster loans, and $116,000,000 is for the direct administrative expenses associated with disaster loan making and servicing. The Senate bill provided $94,000,000 only for administrative expenses, while the House bill provided a total of $216,000,000 for both loan subsidy costs and associated administrative expenses.

For disaster loans, the conference agreement assumes that the $76,329,000 subsidy appropriation, when combined with $79,475,000 in carryover balances and $20,000,000 in recoveries, will provide a total disaster loan program level of $786,243,000. The conference agreement takes into account that the budget requested no funds for the disaster loan program, and included a proposal to increase the interest rate charged to disaster victims, a proposal which has been rejected previously by the Congress. The Administration is strongly urged to realistically assess the level of need for the disaster loans program and budget accordingly.

SBA is reminded that recoveries from loan programs, including the Disaster Loan program, are subject to the reprogramming procedures set forth in section 605 of this Act.

Of the amounts provided for administrative expenses, $500,000 is to be transferred to and merged with the Office of Inspector General account for oversight and audit activities related to the Disaster Loans program.

SURETY BOND GUARANTEES REVOLVING FUND

The conference agreement provides $3,300,000 for additional capital for the SBA Surety Bond Guarantees Revolving Fund as proposed in both the House and Senate bills.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISION—SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

The conference agreement includes a provision providing SBA with the authority to transfer funds between appropriations accounts, as provided in both the House and Senate bills.

STATE JUSTICE INSTITUTE

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides $6,850,000 for the salaries and expenses of the State Justice Institute (SJI) as proposed in both the House and Senate bills. The conference agreement does not include the transfer of an additional $7,150,000 to this account from the Courts of Appeals, District Courts and Other Judicial Services account in Title III as proposed in the Senate bill.

TITLE VI—GENERAL PROVISIONS

The conference agreement includes the following general provisions:

Sec. 601.—The conference agreement includes section 601, identical in both the House and Senate versions of the bill, regarding the use of appropriations for publicity or propaganda purposes.

Sec. 602.—The conference agreement includes section 602, identical in both the House and Senate versions of the bill, regarding the availability of appropriations for obligation beyond the current fiscal year.

Sec. 603.—The conference agreement includes section 603, identical in both the House and Senate versions of the bill, regarding the use of funds for consulting services.

Sec. 604.—The conference agreement includes section 604, identical in both the House and Senate versions of the bill, providing that should any provision of the Act be held to be invalid, the remainder of the Act would not be affected.

Sec. 605.—The conference agreement includes section 605, as included in the House version of the bill, establishing the policy by which funding available to the agencies funded under this Act may be reprogrammed for other purposes.

Sec. 606.—The conference agreement includes section 606, identical in both the House and Senate versions of the bill, regarding the construction, repair or modification of National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration vessels in overseas shipyards.

Sec. 607.—The conference agreement includes section 607, identical in both the House and Senate versions of the bill, regarding the purchase of American-made products.

Sec. 608.—The conference agreement includes section 608, identical in both the House and Senate bills, which prohibits funds in the bill from being used to implement, administer, or enforce any guidelines of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission covering harassment based on religion similar to proposed guidelines published by the EEOC in October, 1993.

Sec. 609.—The conference agreement includes section 609, as proposed in the House bill, that prohibits use of funds to expand U.S. diplomatic presence in Vietnam beyond the level in effect on July 11, 1995, unless the President makes a certification that several conditions have been met regarding Vietnam's cooperation with the United States on POW/MIA issues. The Senate bill included a similar provision as section 404, with minor technical differences.

Sec. 610.—The conference agreement includes section 610, as proposed in the House bill, prohibiting the use of funds for any United Nations peacekeeping mission that involves U.S. Armed Forces under the command or operational control of a foreign national, unless the President certifies that the involvement is in the national security interest, as proposed in the House bill. The Senate bill did not contain a provision on this matter.

Sec. 611.—The conference agreement includes section 611 which prohibits the use of funds to provide certain amenities for Federal prisoners, as provided for in both the House and Senate bills.

Sec. 612.—The conference agreement includes a modified version of section 612, as proposed in the House bill, restricting the use of funds provided under the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration for fleet modernization activities. The Senate bill did not include a provision on this matter.

Sec. 613.—The conference agreement includes section 613, as proposed in the House bill, which requires agencies and Departments funded in this Act to absorb any necessary costs related to downsizing or consolidations within the amounts provided to the agency or Department. The Senate bill included this same provision as section 610, with minor technical differences.

Sec. 614.—The conference agreement includes section 614, which prohibits funds made available to the Federal Bureau of Prisons from being used to make available any commercially published information or material to a prisoner when it is made known that such information or material is sexually explicit or features nudity. Both the House and the Senate bills included this section, but the Senate bill included this as section 611.

Sec. 615.—The conference agreement includes section 615, as proposed in the House bill, which limits funding under the Local Law Enforcement Block Grant to 90 percent, to an entity that does not provide public safety officers injured in the line of duty and as a result separated or retired from their jobs, with health insurance benefits equal to the insurance they received while on duty. The Senate bill included a similar section 612 with a minor technical difference.

Sec. 616.—The conference agreement includes section 616, proposed as section 613 in the Senate bill, which prohibits funds from being used to issue a visa to any alien involved in extrajudicial and political killings in Haiti. Specifically, the provision prohibits issuance of a visa to any person who (1) has been credibly alleged to have ordered, carried out, or assisted in extrajudicial and political killings of 16 named individuals; (2) was included in the list presented to former President Aristide by former National Security Advisor Anthony Lake; (3) was sought by the FBI in relation to political or extrajudicial killings; (4) was involved in the September 1991 coup or murders occurring between 1991 and 1994; or (5) has been credibly alleged to have been a member of the paramilitary organization known as FRAPH. The provision gives the Secretary of State authority to make exceptions on a case-by-case basis. The provision also includes several reporting requirements by the Secretary of State to the House International Relations and Appropriations Committees and the Senate Foreign Relations and Appropriations Committees. The House bill contained no similar provision.

Sec. 617.—The conference agreement includes section 617, proposed as section 616 in the House bill, which prohibits funds available in this Act from being used to issue or renew a fishing permit or authorization for any vessel more than 165 feet long or greater than 750 gross tons, and with more than 3,000 shaft horsepower to engage in fishing for Atlantic mackerel or herring. In addition, vessels above these thresholds are prohibited from engaging in the catching, taking, or harvesting of fish in any other fishery within the United States exclusive economic zone (EEZ) (except territories) unless a certificate of documentation had been issued for the vessel and endorsed with a fishery endorsement that was effective on September 25, 1997 and such endorsement is still valid. In addition, language is included to nullify any fishing permit or authorization issued prior to enactment of this Act for vessels prohibited under this section from engaging in the fishing of Atlantic mackerel or herring, and prohibiting funds from being expended to issue a new permit or authorization to allow such a vessel whose Atlantic mackerel or herring permit has been nullified under this section from engaging in the catching, taking, or harvesting of fish in any other fishery within the U.S. EEZ. The Senate bill contained a similar provision as section 614.

Sec. 618.—The conference agreement includes a provision, Section 618, as proposed in the House bill, prohibiting funds provided in this Act from being used to promote the sale or export of tobacco or tobacco products, or to seek the reduction or removal of foreign restrictions on the marketing of tobacco products, provided such restrictions are applied equally to all tobacco or tobacco products of the same type. This provision is not intended to impact routine international trade services provided to all U.S. citizens, including the processing of applications to establish foreign trade zones. The Senate bill did not contain a provision on this matter.

Sec. 619.—The conference agreement includes section 619, as proposed in both the House and Senate bills, prohibiting the use of funds to pay for the expenses of an election officer appointed by the court to oversee the election of any officer or trustee of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

Sec. 620.—The conference agreement includes section 620, a modified version of a provision numbered as section 616 in the Senate bill, which reduces the frequency of meetings of the Commission for the Preservation of America's Heritage Abroad to once every six months instead of once every three months. The conference agreement does not include language in the Senate provision reducing the number of commissioners. The House bill did not contain a provision on this matter.

Sec. 621.—The conference agreement includes section 621, a modified version of a provision numbered as section 620 in the Senate bill, to prohibit a user fee from being charged for background checks conducted pursuant to the Brady Handgun Control Act of 1993, and to prohibit implementation of a background check system that does not require and result in destruction of certain information. The House bill did not include a provision on this matter.

Sec. 622.—The conference agreement includes section 622, proposed as section 628 in the Senate bill, which requires the United States Trade Representative (USTR) to make certain reporting requirements to the Congress regarding Korean steel subsidies. The House bill did not include a provision on this matter.

Sec. 623.—The conference agreement includes section 623, proposed as section 901 in the House bill, prohibiting the use of funds in this or any other Act to implement, administer, or enforce Executive Order No. 13083 on Federalism. The Senate bill included a provision numbered 623 on this matter expressing the Sense of the Senate that the President should repeal Executive Order No. 13083 and reissue two earlier Executive Orders on Federalism.

Sec. 624.—The conference agreement includes section 624, proposed as section 903 in the House bill, transferring Schuylkill, Pennsylvania from the Eastern Judicial District to the Middle Judicial District of Pennsylvania. The Senate bill had a similar provision.

Sec. 625. The conference agreement includes section 625, which modifies section 904 in the House bill, prohibiting funds from being used for the participation of United States delegates to the Standing Consultative Commission to implement a 1997 memorandum of understanding regarding the 1972 Anti-Ballistic Missile Treaty between the U.S. and the U.S.S.R. starting 60 days after enactment of this Act, unless the President submits a certification or the Senate ratifies the memorandum of understanding. The Senate bill did not include a provision on this matter.

Sec. 626. The conference agreement includes a provision making appropriations and funds made available and authority granted under the Departments of Commerce, Justice, and State, the Judiciary, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 1999 available through June 15 1999. The appropriations and funds made available and the authority granted are to be apportioned in the manner established for funds provided by a continuing resolution.

The departments and agencies under the jurisdiction of this Act are directed to provide financial plans, including funding requirements by month, to the Committees on Appropriations as soon as available, but no later than 30 days after enactment of this Act. In addition, the Office of Management and Budget is expected to provide copies of all apportionments to the Committees. These requirements are in addition to all other requirements included in the conference agreement and statement of managers with respect to individual departments and agencies.

TITLE VII—RESCISSIONS
DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE
GENERAL ADMINISTRATION
WORKING CAPITAL FUND

(RESCISSION)

The conference agreement includes a rescission of $99,000,000 from unobligated balances under this heading, instead of $45,326,000 as proposed in both the House and Senate bills.

LEGAL ACTIVITIES

ASSET FORFEITURE FUND

(RESCISSION)

The conference agreement includes a rescission of $2,000,000 from unobligated balances under this heading. The House and Senate bills did not include a rescission under this heading.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

(RESCISSIONS)

The conference agreement includes a rescission of $12,700,000 from various accounts under this heading, a modified version of a rescission proposed in the Senate bill. The Senate bill recommended rescissions totaling $22,878,000. The conference agreement does not include the additional $10,178,000 in rescissions as such funds have already been obligated or have expired. The House bill did not include a rescission under this heading.

IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION SERVICE

IMMIGRATION EMERGENCY FUND

(RESCISSION)

The conference agreement includes a rescission of $5,000,000 from unobligated balances under this heading. The House and Senate bills did not include a rescission under this heading.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

(RESCISSIONS)

The conference agreement includes a rescission of $915,000 from the United States Travel and Tourism Administration, and $1,175,000 from the Endowment for Children's Educational TV, as proposed in the Senate bill. The House bill did not include rescissions under this heading.

NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF STANDARDS AND TECHNOLOGY
 INDUSTRIAL TECHNOLOGY SERVICES
 (RESCISSION)

The conference agreement includes a rescission of $6,000,000 from excess unobligated balances under this heading. The House and Senate bills did not include a rescission under this heading.

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

MARITIME ADMINISTRATION
 SHIP CONSTRUCTION
 (RESCISSION)

The conference agreement includes a rescission of $17,000,000 from unobligated balances under this heading. The House and Senate bills did not include a rescission under this heading.

TITLE VIII

Sec. 801. The conference agreement includes a provision that modifies Title VIII, Citizens Protection, as included in the House bill. That provision sets forth ethical standards for attorneys for the Government and requires an attorney for the Government to be subject to State laws and rules, and local Federal court rules, governing attorneys in each State where such attorney engages in that attorney's duties, to the same extent and in the same manner as other attorneys in that State. The Attorney General is to make and amend rules of the Department of Justice to assure compliance with that requirement. This section takes effect 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act.

TITLE —NATIONAL WHALE CONSERVATION FUND ACT

The conference agreement includes Title —The National Whale Conservation Fund Act of 1998 as proposed in the Senate bill. This Act (1) includes findings that funding available for whale conservation is insufficient and that there is a need to facilitate the use of non-Federal funds for this purpose; (2) amends the National Fish and Wildlife Establishment Act to provide authority to the National Fish and Wildlife Foundation to establish a "national whale conservation fund" and receive funds for deposit; (3) establishes priorities for the use of the fund; and (4) requires the National Fish and Wildlife Foundation to consult with NOAA and the Marine Mammal Commission. The House bill did not contain any provisions on these matters.

CONFERENCE TOTAL—WITH COMPARISONS

The total new budget (obligational) authority for the fiscal year 1999 recommended by the committee of conference, with comparisons to the fiscal year 1998 amount, the 1999 budget estimates, and the House and Senate bills for 1999 follow:

New budget (obligational) authority, fiscal year 1998	$32,123,907,000
Budget estimates of new (obligational) authority, fiscal year 1999	38,071,468,000

House bill, fiscal year 1999	33,977,221,000
Senate bill, fiscal year 1999	33,238,790,000
Conference agreement, fiscal year 1999	34,199,704,000
Conference agreement compared with:
New budget (obligational) authority, fiscal year 1998	+2,075,797,000
Budget estimates of new (obligational) authority, fiscal year 1999	-3,871,764,000
House bill, fiscal year 1999	+222,483,000
Senate bill, fiscal year 1999	+960,914,000

SECTION 101(c): DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 1999

The conferees on H.R. 4328 agree with the matter inserted in this subsection of this conference agreement and the following description of this matter. This matter was developed through negotiations on the differences in the House and Senate versions (H.R. 4380 and S. 2333 of the District of Columbia Appropriations Act, 1999, by members of the appropriations subcommittees of both the House and Senate with jurisdiction over H.R. 4380 and S. 2333.

H.R. 4380 was passed by the House on August 6, 1998, and S. 2333 was reported by the Senate Committee on Appropriations on July 21, 1998. The conference agreement with respect to fiscal year 1999 appropriations for the District of Columbia government incorporates some of the provisions of both the House and the Senate reports accompanying the respective bills. Report language and allocations set forth in either House Report 105-670 or Senate Report 105-254 which are not changed by the conference agreement are approved. The agreement described herein, while repeating some report language for emphasis, does not negate the language referenced above unless expressly provided. General provisions which are identical in the House passed version of H.R. 4380 and the Senate Appropriations Committee reported version of S. 2333 are unchanged by the conference agreement and are approved unless provided to the contrary herein.

FEDERAL FUNDS

METRORAIL IMPROVEMENTS AND EXPANSION

The conference agreement appropriates $25,000,000 as proposed by the House for metrorail improvements and expansion at the Mount Vernon Square Metrorail station located at the site of the proposed Washington Convention Center project. The Senate proposal would have given the D.C. Financial Responsibility and Management Assistance Authority (hereafter referred to as "Authority") the discretion to make not more than $25,000,000 of the $75,000,000 appropriated for the infrastructure fund available for this purpose.

FEDERAL PAYMENT FOR MANAGEMENT REFORM

The conference agreement appropriates $25,000,000 as proposed by the Senate for continued management reform in the District and directs that these funds be used for projects that will enhance government efficiency and service delivery to District residents. The House passed bill had no appropriation for this program. A brief description of three projects to be funded in fiscal year 1999 follows:

Fire and Emergency Medical Services.—Funding for 55 full-time equivalent positions necessary to place 5 additional EMS units in operation in fiscal year 1999.

Department of Health Toxicology Lab.—Funding to re-open the Chief Medical Examiner's laboratory and obtain the necessary equipment.

Technology: District-wide Voice/Data Network.—Funding to implement a high-speed, city-owned fiber network for providing voice and data services.

The conferees direct that none of the funds appropriated for management reform be expended on modification of the Department of Corrections pay plan.

The conferees direct that quarterly status reports on these and all management reform initiatives and projects underway in the District be submitted by the Authority and the Chief Management Officer within 15 days after the end of each quarter until all funds are disbursed. These management reform status reports may be incorporated in any performance accountability reports already required by law or otherwise submitted to Congress by the Authority.

FEDERAL PAYMENT FOR BOYS TOWN, U.S.A. OPERATIONS IN THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

The conference agreement appropriates $7,100,000 and requires quarterly financial reports as proposed by the Senate instead of $4,000,000, which would be made available after being matched by private contributions of $3,100,000, as proposed by the House.

NATION'S CAPITAL INFRASTRUCTURE FUND

The conference agreement appropriates $18,778,000 instead of $21,000,000 as proposed by the House and $75,000,000, of which $25,000,000 could be used for metrorail improvements as proposed by the Senate. These funds are not to be used for studies or projects that restructure, realign, or reengineer various departments or functions or to place more employees on the District's payroll. Instead, the sole purpose of these funds is for infrastructure projects of a substantive nature that directly improve the physical condition of the District of Columbia. The conference agreement requires that the funds be disbursed by the Authority for the repair and maintenance of public safety facilities in the District. The conferees direct that the Authority and the Chief Management Officer submit quarterly status reports on each project within 15 days after the end of each quarter until all funds are disbursed. These status reports may be incorporated in any performance accountability reports already required by law or otherwise submitted to Congress by the Authority.

Subsequent to the passage of H.R. 4380 by the House of Representatives and S. 2333 by the Senate Appropriations Committee, the District government was notified by the Federal Highway Administration (FHA) that $173,000,000 previously earmarked for the District's Barney Circle project is now available to the District's Department of Public Works. Of this sum, $98,000,000 may be used by the District on local streets. Both the House and Senate appropriations bills contain an appropriation for the repair and maintenance of roads, highways, bridges and transit in the District of Columbia. Based on the unanticipated availability of the transportation funds and the questionable ability of the District to spend additional funds during fiscal year 1999 on transit projects, the conferees direct the infrastructure funds appropriated in this conference agreement be used for the repair and maintenance of the District's public safety facilities. The District's new Chief of Police is undertaking a complete assessment of all Metropolitan Police Department (MPD) facilities. Preliminary estimates indicate that over $23,000,000 is needed for mechanical, electrical, plumbing, and fire/life safety systems in 70 percent of MPD facilities. In an effort to accelerate these massive infrastructure needs, the conference agreement directs that the total infrastructure appropriation be used for necessary capital improvements to MPD facilities.

ENVIRONMENTAL STUDY AND RELATED ACTIVITIES AT LORTON CORRECTIONAL COMPLEX

The conference agreement appropriates $7,000,000 as proposed by the House for an environmental study at the property on which the Lorton Correctional Complex is located. The Senate reported bill had no appropriation for this program.

FEDERAL PAYMENT TO THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA CORRECTIONS
TRUSTEE OPERATIONS

The conference agreement appropriates $184,800,000 as proposed by the House and the Senate and allocates $177,385,000 for inmate housing instead of $178,300,000 as proposed by the Senate, and $2,440,000 for administrative expenses instead of $1,525,000 as proposed by the Senate. These allocation changes were made at the request of the Corrections Trustee based on revised budget estimates. The House bill did not allocate the funds. The conference agreement also includes language that requires the appropriation to remain in the U.S. Treasury until needed by the Trustee to pay properly incurred obligations.

FEDERAL PAYMENT TO THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA COURTS

The conference action appropriates $128,000,000 as proposed by the Senate instead of $142,000,000 as proposed by the House. The reduction of $14,000,000 below the House allowance is from the capital outlay program. The conference action includes language that allocates the funds by programs as proposed by the Senate. In addition, the conference agreement requires that payroll and financial services be provided on a contractual basis with the General Services Administration as proposed by the House instead of by the Department of Agriculture's National Finance Center as proposed by the Senate. The format of the monthly reports is discussed later in this statement.

Budget for court operations.—The operating budget for the courts for fiscal year 1999 totals $121,000,000 and reflects an increase of $18,000,000 or 14.9 percent above the $103,000,000 appropriated in fiscal year 1998. The increase of $18,000,000 or 14.9 percent for fiscal year 1999 should provide the courts with ample resources to properly manage their operations and pay all bills, including attorneys for indigents, on a current basis.

Attorneys for indigents.—The courts' failure to pay attorneys for indigents during fiscal year 1998 has caused considerable concern and raised questions about management at the courts. Information submitted by the courts showed that, of the $25,036,000 budgeted for the Criminal Justice Act program, $21,083,000 had been disbursed as of August 31, 1998, or roughly $2,000,000 for each of the eleven months. By that calculation, it appeared that the courts had a balance of $4,000,000, or twice as much as was needed, for the remaining month of September 1998. However, additional information supplied at the request of certain subcommittee members showed that the courts had reduced payments in July 1998 by two-thirds and had made no payments in August 1998. As a result, the courts owe more than $5,700,000 to attorneys for indigents as of September 30, 1998. Accordingly, to avoid a similar situation this year, the courts are directed to use the FY 1999 allocation of $31,936,000 for court appointed attorneys for that purpose and for that purpose only. The courts are further directed to pay immediately all obligations carried over from FY 1998 and prior years using other funds from their FY 1999 appropriation.

Reporting requirements.—The courts are directed to submit monthly reports, through the General Services Administration, to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations, within 15 calendar days after the end of each month, on the status of obligations by object class and a monthly personnel summary by position, full-time equivalent positions (FTE's), and program/function. The obligation report should show, at a minimum, the original operating plan, current operating plan, obligations year to date, percent obligated, planned obligations year to date, percentage deviation from plan year to date, projected total obligations end of year, and projected surplus/deficit.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA OFFENDER SUPERVISION, DEFENDER, AND COURT SERVICES AGENCY

The conference action appropriates $59,400,000 as proposed by the House and the Senate and includes language proposed by the Senate to clarify that the allocation for Parole Revocation, Adult Probation and Offender Supervision includes funds to cover expenses relating to supervision of adults subject to protection orders or provision of services for or related to such programs. In addition, the conference agreement includes language that requires the appropriation to remain in the U.S. Treasury until needed by the Trustee to pay properly incurred obligations.

OFFENDER SUPERVISION, DEFENDER, AND COURT SERVICES AGENCY

The conference action deletes the appropriation of $4,000,000 proposed by the House for establishment of a residential sanctions center for drug testing, intervention, and treatment, and to implement recommendations of the D.C. Truth in Sentencing Commission.

FEDERAL PAYMENT FOR METROPOLITAN POLICE DEPARTMENT

The conference action appropriates $1,200,000 as proposed by the House for the administration and operating costs of the Citizen Complaint Review Office.

FEDERAL PAYMENT FOR FIRE DEPARTMENT

The conference agreement appropriates $3,240,000 as proposed by the House for a 5.5 percent parity pay increase to be effective and paid to fire fighters beginning October 1, 1998.

FEDERAL PAYMENT TO THE GEORGETOWN WATERFRONT PARK FUND

The conference agreement appropriates $1,000,000 as proposed by the Senate for payment to the Georgetown Waterfront Park Fund on a dollar-for-dollar matching basis, in cash or in kind, for the construction and landscaping of property described on the D.C. Surveyor's Plat Number S.O. 84-230.

FEDERAL SUPPORT FOR ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT IN THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

The conference agreement deletes the appropriation of $500,000 proposed by the Senate to the D.C. Financial Responsibility and Management Assistance Authority to conduct a study and prepare a report on the feasibility of an economic development corporation for the District and the proviso that none of the funds in this or any other Act shall be used to capitalize the National Capital Revitalization Act of 1998 (D.C. Act 12-355).

FEDERAL PAYMENT TO HISTORICAL SOCIETY FOR CITY MUSEUM

The conference agreement appropriates $2,000,000 as proposed by the House for the establishment and operation of a Museum of the City of Washington, D.C. at the Carnegie Library at Mount Vernon Square instead of $500,000 as proposed by the Senate.

FEDERAL PAYMENT FOR A NATIONAL MUSEUM OF AMERICAN MUSIC AND FOR DOWNTOWN REVITALIZATION

The conference agreement changes the heading and appropriates $700,000 instead of $1,000,000 as proposed by the Senate and earmarks $300,000 for the Federal City Council to conduct a needs and design study for a National Museum of American Music as proposed by the Senate, $300,000 for the Washington Center Alliance to further and promote the objectives of the Interactive Downtown Task Force, and $100,000 for the New York Avenue Development Task Force instead of $1,000,000 as proposed by the Senate, of which $500,000 was for the Historical Society of Washington, D.C. for a needs and design study for a City Museum and Visitors Center and $500,000 was for the Federal City Council to conduct a needs and design study for a National Museum of American Music.

UNITED STATES PARK POLICE

The conference agreement appropriates $8,500,000 as proposed by the House to acquire, modify and operate a helicopter and to make necessary capital expenditures to the Park Police aviation unit base. The conference agreement requires the Chief of the Park Police to provide quarterly financial reports to Congress on the use of these funds.

FEDERAL PAYMENT FOR WATERFRONT IMPROVEMENTS

The conference agreement appropriates $3,000,000 as proposed by the House to the D.C. Department of Housing and Community Development for a study and improvement in consultation with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers for necessary improvements to the Southwest Waterfront in the District. The conference agreement amends the language proposed by the House to clarify the consultative role of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and the responsibility of the lessees at the Fish Wharf and Marina to secure private financing for improvements.

FEDERAL PAYMENT FOR MENTORING SERVICES

The conference agreement appropriates $200,000 as proposed by the House for the International Youth Service and Development Corps, Inc., for a mentoring program for at-risk children in the District.

FEDERAL PAYMENT FOR HOTLINE SERVICES

The conference agreement appropriates $50,000 as proposed by the House for the International Youth Service and Development Corps, Inc., for the operation of a resource hotline for low-income individuals in the District.

FEDERAL PAYMENT FOR PUBLIC EDUCATION

The conference agreement appropriates $15,622,000 as a Federal contribution to public charter schools in the District of Columbia instead of $20,391,000 as proposed by the House. The reduction of $4,769,000 reflects the actual enrollment count of 3,653 public charter school students in the District rather than the projected enrollment of 4,400 which was the basis for the House amount.

FEDERAL PAYMENT FOR MEDICARE COORDINATED CARE DEMONSTRATION PROJECT IN D.C.

The conference agreement appropriates $3,000,000 to continue a pilot Medicare program in the District as authorized under section 4016(e)(1)(A)(ii) of the Balanced Budget Act of 1997 (Public Law 105-33) to improve the medical treatment received by medically underserved Medicare patients living in the District.

FEDERAL PAYMENT FOR CHILDREN'S NATIONAL MEDICAL CENTER

The conference agreement appropriates $1,000,000 in Federal funds to the Children's National Medical Center for the Community Pediatric Health Initiative. Since 1967, the community health clinics of Children's Hospital have provided pediatric services to high risk children in medically underserved areas. Federal funding for this initiative ended in March 1995. This appropriation reestablishes this important public-private partnership for fiscal year 1999.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA FUNDS

GOVERNMENTAL DIRECTION AND SUPPORT

The conference agreement appropriates $164,144,000, including $136,485,000 from local funds as proposed by the House instead of $164,717,000, including $137,058,000 from local funds as proposed by the Senate. The conference action also restores a proviso proposed by the House that requires all employees permanently assigned to work in the Office of the Mayor to be paid from funds allocated to the Office of the Mayor.

Advisory Neighborhood Commissions.—The conference agreement deletes funding of $573,000 as proposed by the House. The action to eliminate funding comes after several reports by the D.C. Auditor, including one dated as recently as September 28, 1998, that documents the fact that taxpayer funds are not being spent properly. The action of the conferees does not preclude the District from reprogramming funds for fiscal year 1999 or requesting funds for fiscal year 2000 for ANCs, so long as necessary management controls are enacted by the Council of the District of Columbia to assure that the funds are disbursed for previously reviewed and agreed upon purposes, consistent with the laws, rules and regulations of the District of Columbia.

Mayor transition.—The conferees support a smooth transition of governmental powers from the incumbent Mayor to the incoming Mayor. This is paramount to the financial recovery of the District of Columbia and the return of home rule. Cooperation between the incoming Mayor, the Council of the District of Columbia, other elected officials and the Authority is essential for the well being of the District of Columbia and all those who live, work and visit in the Nation's Capital. It is extremely important that the Mayor-elect be provided with the necessary resources as soon as possible after the general election so that he or she will be able to carry out the duties and responsibilities of the office efficiently and effectively after being sworn in. Following the 1990 election, the Council of the District of Columbia approved emergency 90-day legislation (D.C. Act 8-290) "To promote the orderly transfer of executive duties and responsibilities upon expiration of the term of office of a Mayor and the assumption of duties and responsibilities of a new Mayor . . ." which provided financial assistance to the new Mayor-elect. The conferees urge local officials to take whatever steps are necessary in a timely manner to ensure a smooth transition of governmental powers from the incumbent Mayor to the Mayor-elect.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT AND REGULATION

The conference agreement appropriates $159,039,000 as proposed by the House instead of $156,039,000 as proposed by the Senate. The increase of $3,000,000 above the Senate allowance reflects the Federal contribution of $3,000,000 discussed earlier for improvements to the Southwest Waterfront in the District. The conference agreement also restores language proposed by the House concerning Business Improvement Districts with an amendment deleting the word "Federal" in identifying the U.S. General Services Administration.

PUBLIC SAFETY AND JUSTICE

The conference agreement appropriates $755,786,000, including $531,660,000 from local funds, $30,327,000 from Federal funds and $193,799,000 from other funds as proposed by the House instead of $751,346,000, including $513,160,000 from local funds, $25,887,000 from Federal funds, and $212,299,000 from other funds as proposed by the Senate. The increase of $4,430,000 above the Senate reflects additional Federal funds of $1,200,000 for the administration and operating costs of the Citizen Complaint Review Office in the Metropolitan Police Department and $3,240,000 for a 5.5 percent parity pay increase for the District's fire fighters. The conference action also restores the requirement for quarterly reports on the status of crime reduction in each of the 83 police service areas in the District as proposed by the House instead of semi-annual reports as proposed by the Senate.

Department of Corrections.—The conferees expect the Department of Corrections (DOC) annual budget to reflect planning for proposed downsizing, actual downsizing and continuing reform to assure the orderly transfer of sentenced felons to the Federal government by December 31, 2001, and to assure that all the necessary steps are taken each year to accomplish this transfer. The conferees request that within 120 days of the enactment of this Act, the District of Columbia Corrections Trustee ("Trustee"), in partnership with the DOC, submit a transition plan detailing what must be accomplished annually to complete transfer by December 31, 2001. Each annual budget submission shall contain a report, prepared by the Trustee and the DOC, based on fully shared information, that details actual progress made by the DOC in meeting the goals of the transition plan. To make full use of the Trustee's background and experience and to assure successful transfer of the District's sentenced felons, the Trustee should be operationally involved in all matters affecting the DOC and a full partner in decision-making regarding the DOC's budget, operations and functions now funded by the Federal government and transition planning. The conferees expect that the DOC should save significant funds in outside consulting fees and otherwise as a result of involving the Trustee in the operations and functions to be transferred and those that remain with the District.

PUBLIC EDUCATION SYSTEM

The conference agreement appropriates $788,956,000, including $125,869,000 from Federal funds, instead of $793,725,000, including $130,638,000 from Federal funds, as proposed by the House and $773,334,000, including $110,247,000 in Federal funds, as proposed by the Senate. The reduction of $4,769,000 below the House allowance reflects the actual enrollment count of 3,653 for public charter schools instead of the projected enrollment of 4,400 which was the basis for the House amount.

The conference agreement appropriates $27,857,000 for public charter schools, including $12,235,000 from local funds and $15,622,000 from Federal funds instead of $32,626,000, including $12,235,000 from local funds and $20,391,000 from Federal funds as proposed by the House and $12,235,000 from local funds as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement restores a proviso proposed by the House which requires that unallocated funds for public charter schools be made available for new public charter schools on a per pupil basis. The conference agreement provides that $480,000 of the $27,857,000 for public charter schools be available to the D.C. Public Charter School Board for administrative costs as proposed by the House. The conference agreement does not include three provisos proposed by the House concerning the special revolving fund described in section 172 of last year's bill; a report to Congress on the capital needs of each public charter school; and a requirement that, pending submission of the capital needs report, the Emergency Transitional Education Board of Trustees take appropriate steps to provide public charter schools with assistance to meet capital expenses in a manner equitable to D.C. public schools. The conference agreement restores a proviso proposed by the House that requires the Emergency Transitional Education Board of Trustees to report to Congress by February 1, 1999 on the Board's implementation of its statutorily mandated policy to give preference to newly created public charter schools for surplus public school property.

The conferees are concerned with the disposition of assets purchased with taxpayer funds by charter schools whose charters are revoked or are not renewed. The conferees believe that any unencumbered funds and all equipment and property purchased with public funds must revert to the ownership of the eligible chartering authority that granted the charter or the District of Columbia government, subject to the rights of any party who would hold a security interest or lien in or with respect to the property of such charter school. The Chief Financial Officer, in consultation with District public school officials, eligible chartering authorities, and public charter schools shall establish procedures for reversion of unencumbered funds, equipment and property to the chartering authorities. The procedures for the recovery of equipment and property should include recoverable assets but not intangible or irrecoverable costs such as rental or leasing fees, normal maintenance and renovations. The conferees request a report by January 31, 1999, from the Chief Financial Officer and the other parties involved on the status of these procedures.

The conference agreement makes certain punctuation changes as proposed by the Senate and restores the title of Superintendent of Schools as proposed by the House instead of Chief Executive Officer/Superintendent of Schools as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement makes technical changes proposed by the Senate to a proviso proposed by the House concerning assistance by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to the school system for facility repairs and improvements and makes the language a general provision (section 132) as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement includes a proviso proposed by the House to reimburse the Boy Scouts of America $244,078 for services provided in fiscal year 1998 on behalf of 12,600 students at 39 public schools. The conference agreement deletes a proviso proposed by the House to expand the Boy Scout program in fiscal year 1999. The conferees urge the Superintendent of Schools to reevaluate the ability of the school system to negotiate an agreement with the National Capital Area Council of the Boy Scouts for the renewal of its program in selected schools.

The conference agreement restores a proviso proposed by the House that prohibits the use of funds in this Act to pay the salaries of any D.C. school teacher, principal, administrator, official, or employee who provides false enrollment or attendance information required under D.C. Code, sec. 31-401 et seq. but requires that the prohibition apply only if the designated personnel knowingly engage in such conduct as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement deletes language proposed by the House that would have prohibited the use of funds in this Act for pay raises to teachers in the D.C. Public School system (DCPS) who have not passed competency tests. The conferees are concerned that teachers in the DCPS system possess the necessary skills to perform their duties effectively. The conferees are aware that new teachers are required to pass exams testing their skills in reading, writing and mathematics, as well as their knowledge in specific content areas. However, in-service teachers are not required to pass competency tests. The conferees are pleased to learn that DCPS has adopted new teacher performance standards that are based on the work of the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards. The conferees are advised that these standards have been incorporated into a new evaluation system that includes objective, achievement-based measures of performance, mandatory professional development, and an expedited process for the removal of non-performing teachers consistent with procedures to ensure due process. The conferees urge DCPS to incorporate this new system into its teacher evaluation process to ensure that all DCPS teachers meet the established standards and targets for performance by September 2000.

The conference agreement restores a proviso proposed by the House that prohibits the use of any funds in this Act to subsidize the education of any nonresident of the District of Columbia at any District of Columbia public elementary or secondary school unless the nonresident pays tuition to the District at a rate that covers 100 percent of the District's costs as determined by the Superintendent.

HUMAN SUPPORT SERVICES

The conference agreement makes technical changes proposed by the Senate to the citation for the Stewart B. McKinney Homeless Assistance Act (Public Law 100-77).

Commission for Women.—The D.C. Commission for Women continues to provide outstanding service to the residents of the District of Columbia and particularly women. The Commission's programs in building private-public partnerships to train welfare recipients and assist in placing them in full-time jobs is commendable. Its initiatives with respect to health care education, public safety, and economic development continue to be priorities for the Commission and its all-volunteer Commissioners.

PUBLIC WORKS

D.C. Taxicabs.—The District of Columbia government should not make any changes affecting cab service between the District of Columbia and the Commonwealth of Virginia without consulting the Committees on Appropriations of the Senate and the House of Representatives, the Committee on Governmental Affairs of the Senate, and the Committee on Government Reform and Oversight of the House of Representatives.

WASHINGTON CONVENTION CENTER FUND (TRANSFER PAYMENT)

The conference agreement provides a separate appropriation as proposed by the House instead of consolidating this account with several appropriations under "Financing and Other Uses" as proposed by the Senate and inserts the words "Enterprise Fund" to properly identify the fund as proposed by the Senate.

REPAYMENT OF LOANS AND INTEREST

The conference agreement provides a separate appropriation as proposed by the House instead of consolidating this account with several appropriations under "Financing and Other Uses" as proposed by the Senate.

REPAYMENT OF GENERAL FUND RECOVERY DEBT

The conference agreement provides a separate appropriation as proposed by the House instead of consolidating this account with several appropriations under "Financing and Other Uses" as proposed by the Senate.

PAYMENT OF INTEREST ON SHORT TERM BORROWING

The conference agreement provides a separate appropriation as proposed by the House instead of consolidating this account with several appropriations under "Financing and Other Uses" as proposed by the Senate and inserts "from local funds" as proposed by the Senate to indicate the source of the funds.

CERTIFICATES OF PARTICIPATION

The conference agreement provides a separate appropriation as proposed by the House instead of consolidating this account with several appropriations under "Financing and Other Uses" as proposed by the Senate and inserts "from local funds" as proposed by the Senate to indicate the source of the funds.

HUMAN RESOURCES DEVELOPMENT

The conference agreement provides a separate appropriation as proposed by the House instead of consolidating this account with several appropriations under "Financing and Other Uses" as proposed by the Senate and inserts a description of the purposes of this appropriation and the source of the funds as proposed by the Senate.

RECEIVERSHIP PROGRAMS

The conference agreement appropriates $318,879,000, including $189,154,000 from local funds, $96,691,000 from Federal funds, and $33,134,000 from other funds instead of $318,979,000, including $188,439,000 from local funds, $96,691,000 from Federal funds, and $33,849,000 as proposed by the House and the Senate. The conference agreement earmarks $5,000,000 within the budget of the Commission on Mental Health Services as proposed by the Senate to finance capital improvements to community-based housing facilities for seriously and chronically mentally ill individuals in the District and clarifies that the funds appropriated under this paragraph are for all District agencies under court ordered receivership as proposed by the Senate.

D.C. FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY AND MANAGEMENT ASSISTANCE AUTHORITY

The conference agreement deletes the proviso proposed by the House that would have required the Executive Director and General Counsel of the Authority to repay certain compensation deemed by the Comptroller General to be in excess of the legal limit established in the Authority's enabling legislation (Public Law 104-8) as reported in GAO letter report B-279095.2. The conference agreement limits the salaries that may be paid to the two employees consistent with the statutory rate set forth in section 102 of Public Law 104-8.

The conference agreement deletes the proviso in the House bill that would have required the Authority to provide information on account balances no later than 5 days after the end of each month and inserts language under section 165 of the general provisions that addresses this issue. The conference agreement also deletes a proviso proposed by the House that would have prohibited the use of any funds in this or any other Act to pay the salary or expenses of any officer or employee of the Authority who failed to provide information on account balances.

ENTERPRISE FUNDS

WATER AND SEWER AUTHORITY AND THE WASHINGTON AQUEDUCT

The conference agreement inserts a new heading "Enterprise Funds" as proposed by the Senate and earmarks $39,933,000 for the District's debt service fund as proposed by the House instead of $28,104,000 as proposed by the Senate.

LOTTERY AND CHARITABLE GAMES CONTROL BOARD

The conference agreement clarifies that this appropriation is to the Lottery and Charitable Games Enterprise Fund as proposed by the Senate instead of the Lottery and Charitable Games Control Board as proposed by the House.

CABLE TELEVISION ENTERPRISE FUND

The conference agreement provides that the source of this appropriation is local funds as proposed by the Senate instead of other funds as proposed by the House.

STARPLEX FUND

The conference agreement restores language proposed by the House concerning the use of quotation marks to delineate the title of an Act.

D.C. GENERAL HOSPITAL

The conference agreement deletes "Public Benefit Corporation" from the heading as proposed by the Senate.

PERSONNEL

The conference agreement inserts a new paragraph as proposed by the Senate that caps the number of FTE positions at 32,900, exclusive of intra-District positions, during fiscal year 1999.

CAPITAL OUTLAY (INCLUDING RESCISSIONS)

The conference agreement restores the heading "Including Rescissions" as proposed by the House.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

The conference agreement amends section 105 concerning travel expenses and payment of organizational dues by deleting reference to the D.C. Courts as an agency exempt from mayoral control as proposed by the Senate. The National Capital Revitalization and Self-Government Improvement Act of 1997 (Public Law 105-33) transferred the administration and financing of the D.C. Courts to the Federal government.

The conference agreement deletes the proviso in section 106 proposed by the House that directed the District government to refund by September 30, 1999, up to $17,800,000 of overpayments collected for parking ticket violations. The overpayments were reported by the D.C. Auditor in a report dated March 19, 1998. A news release issued August 4, 1998, by the Department of Public Works states that the department will notify these motorists by mail, newspaper advertisement and the Internet of their overpayments and how to obtain a refund. The Department of Public Works is requested to provide quarterly status reports to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations within 15 days after the end of each quarter beginning October 1, 1998.

The conference agreement updates the statutory citation in section 107 for the Violent Crime Control and Law Enforcement Act of 1994 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement replaces the reprogramming requirements in section 116 (section 155 of the Senate reported bill) as proposed by the Senate with certain modifications. The revised reprogramming requirements set forth certain criteria for reprogrammings and require the Senate and House Committees on Appropriations to be notified in writing 30 days in advance.

The conference agreement makes technical changes in sections 119 and 120 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement in section 121 designates the Director of the Office of Property Management as the position to make certain determinations as proposed by the House instead of the Chief Financial Officer as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement in section 124 makes certain technical changes in the citation as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement in section 125 makes certain editorial changes in the proviso as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement in section 128 modifies the reporting requirements for the University of the District of Columbia as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement restores section number 129 as proposed by the House instead of changing the section number to 128 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement includes language in section 130 proposed by the House and modified by the Senate to place a limit on the payment of fees to attorneys who prevail in administrative proceedings in special education cases instead of prohibiting the payment of such fees as proposed by the House.

The conference agreement restores section number 131 proposed by the House instead of section number 129 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement inserts a new section 132 that allows the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to assist in the repair and improvement of the District's public school facilities as proposed by the Senate instead of a proviso under the Public Education System appropriation as proposed by the House.

The conference agreement changes section numbers 132 of the House bill and 131 of the Senate bill to 133.

The conference agreement restores section 133 of the House bill which requires certain reports by the Emergency Transitional Education Board of Trustees and changes the section number to 134.

The conference agreement changes section number 134 of the House bill to 135 and restores language proposed by the House that requires the Emergency Transitional Education Board of Trustees and the University of the District of Columbia to compile accurate position and employee information annually.

The conference agreement changes section numbers 135 of the House bill and 132 of the Senate bill to section 136. The conference agreement also changes the due date for submission of the revised appropriated funds operating budget for the public school system and the University of the District of Columbia from 15 days after the date of enactment of this Act as proposed by the House to 30 days after the date of enactment of this Act as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement also requires the Superintendent of Public Schools in the District to provide the reports as proposed by the Senate instead of the Emergency Transitional Education Board of Trustees as proposed by the House.

The conference agreement changes section numbers 136 of the House bill and 133 of the Senate bill to section 137. This section requires certain governing authorities to vote on and approve their budgets before submission to the Mayor and Council.

The conference agreement changes section number 137 of the House bill to 138 and restores language proposed by the House concerning the ceiling on total operating expenses. The conference agreement changes the ceiling from $5,216,689,000 to $5,211,920,000 to reflect the adjustment for public charter schools.

The conference agreement changes section number 135 of the Senate bill to section 139 and inserts language proposed by the Senate that permits endowment funds held by the University of the District of Columbia to be invested in equity-based securities if approved by the Chief Financial Officer.

The conference agreement changes section number 136 of the Senate bill to section 140 and inserts language proposed by the Senate that requires court-appointed receivers or other court-appointed officials to prepare and submit budgets to the Mayor for inclusion in the city's annual budget.

The conference agreement changes section number 137 of the Senate bill to 141 and restores language proposed by the Senate requiring District officials to submit a report to Congress by April 1, 1999, on measures necessary and steps to be taken to ensure that the District's public schools open on time to begin the 1999–2000 academic year.

The conference agreement deletes section 138 of the House bill concerning energy conservation measures.

The conference agreement changes section numbers 139 of the House bill and 138 of the Senate bill to section number 142. This section concerns the classification of education employees.

The conference agreement changes section number 140 of the House bill to 143 and restores language proposed by the House concerning restrictions on the use of official vehicles. The language is modified to provide the Chief of Police with the discretion to determine the use of official vehicles assigned to the department. This section was further modified at the request of the Chief to allow the department to purchase and donate a vehicle to an officer who was paralyzed after being shot accidentally by one of her fellow officers while she was attempting to arrest a robbery suspect.

The conference agreement changes section 140(b) of the House bill and section 139(a) of the Senate bill to section 144(a) and adds a subsection (b) extending for one year modifications in the District's reduction in force procedures as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement changes section number 140 of the Senate bill to 145 and inserts language proposed by the Senate extending the time limit from 50 days to 120 days for the DCPS system to assess and place students in special education programs.

The conference agreement changes section number 141 of the House bill to 146 and restores language proposed by the House concerning compliance with the Buy American Act.

The conference agreement changes section numbers 142 of the House bill and section 141 of the Senate bill to 147 and inserts language proposed by the Senate to make language carried in last year's bill permanent. The language requires the National Education Association to pay local real property taxes on its real property located within the District of Columbia.

The conference agreement changes section number 144 of the House bill to 148 and restores language proposed by the House that requires the annual audit of the District government's financial statements to be conducted by the D.C. Inspector General. The conference agreement modifies the House language to require that procurement of the audit be done pursuant to the D.C. Procurement Practices Act of 1985, as amended. The conference agreement also includes language proposed by the House that requires the annual audit to include a comparison of audited actual year-end results with the revenues submitted in the budget document for such year and the appropriations enacted into law for such year.

The financial plans reflecting those revenues and appropriations follow:

¹ Does not include appropriations of $25,000,000 for Management Reform, $18,778,000 for Nation's Capital Infrastructure Fund, $700,000 for a National Museum of American Music and for Downtown Revitalization, and $3,000,000 for a Medicare Coordinated Care Demonstration Project in the District of Columbia.

The conference agreement changes section numbers 145 of the House bill and 142 of the Senate bill to 149 and restores language proposed by the House concerning reference to an agency previously referred to in the paragraph.

The conference agreement changes section numbers 146 of the House bill and 143 of the Senate bill to section 150.

The conference agreement changes section numbers 147 of the House bill to 151 and restores language proposed by the House concerning voting representation issues.

The conference agreement changes section number 144 of the Senate bill to section 152 and inserts language as proposed by the Senate that requires the Authority to report to Congress on the status of any agreements between the District and nonprofit organizations.

The conference agreement changes section numbers 148 of the House bill and 145 of the Senate bill to 153. This provision repeals the District's residency requirement for District employment.

The conference agreement changes section number 150 of the House bill to 154 and restores language proposed by the House as modified by the Senate to change the effective date of the provision to April 1, 1999 to allow the Corrections Trustee a six month period to relocate inmates classified above the medium security level from the Youngstown, Ohio correctional facility to other facilities.

The conference agreement changes section number 146 of the Senate bill to 155 and inserts language proposed by the Senate requiring the establishment of a $150,000,000 reserve fund in the fiscal year 2000 budget.

The conference agreement deletes section 147 of the Senate bill that would have allowed the expenditure of funds that are not a part of the budget approved by the Congress.

The conference agreement changes section number 148 of the Senate bill to 156 and inserts language proposed by the Senate authorizing the Board of Trustees of the District of Columbia Public Library (DCPL) to hire a fund raiser to raise funds from private sources. The conferees support the efforts of the Library's Board of Trustees to raise additional revenues by fund raising. The conferees direct the Board of Trustees to set a reasonable salary for the fund raiser position and to provide the District's Chief Financial Officer with a complete annual accounting of the fund raiser's budget, including all expenses incurred in connection with fund raising activities.

The conference agreement changes section 149 of the Senate bill to section 157 and inserts language proposed by the Senate for the District of Columbia Adoption Improvement Act of 1998.

The conference agreement changes section number 150 of the Senate bill to 158 and inserts language as proposed by the Senate that clarifies and completes the transfer of legal authority and responsibility for adult offender supervision from the Social Services Division of the D.C. Superior Court to the new Offender Supervision Agency established by section 11233 of the Revitalization Act of 1997 (Public Law 105-33).

The conference agreement changes section number 151 of the Senate bill to 159 and inserts language as proposed by the Senate to ratify the Chief Management Officer's employment agreement. The conference agreement deletes language proposed by the Senate which would have authorized the Chief Management Officer, with the approval of the Authority chair, to appoint and fix the pay of additional personnel.

The conference agreement deletes sections 152, 153, and 157 of the Senate bill which would have allowed the Authority to set the annual salary for the Chief Financial Officer of the District, the D.C. Inspector General, and the Executive Director of the Authority.

The conference agreement changes section number 154 of the Senate bill to 160 and inserts language as proposed by the Senate to increase from 3 to 5 years the time limit on contracts between an independent auditor and the D.C. government for the District's annual financial audit.

The conference agreement changes section number 156 of the Senate bill to 161 and inserts language as proposed by the Senate that allows funds previously appropriated for management reform initiatives to remain available for such purposes through fiscal year 1999. The conference agreement limits the amount to $3,200,000.

The conference agreement inserts a new section 162 that requires the District of Columbia Courts to pay interest to individuals who do not receive prompt payment for goods provided and services rendered to the courts. The courts have failed to pay more than $5,000,000 owed to court appointed attorneys for indigents, and this provision is intended to discourage nonpayment in the future.

The conference agreement inserts a new section 163 that makes a technical change in section 147 of the Nation's Capital Bicentennial Designation Act.

The conference agreement inserts a new section 164 that allows a member of the Authority to serve until a successor has been appointed.

The conference agreement inserts a new section 165 that requires the quarterly financial reports from the Chief Financial Officer to include a statement of the balance of each account held by the Authority at the end of the quarter, together with a description of the activities within each such account during the quarter, based on information supplied by the Authority to the Chief Financial Officer.

The conference agreement inserts a new section 166 that prohibits the use of any funds to capitalize the National Capital Revitalization Corporation, or to implement any provisions of the National Capital Revitalization Act of 1998 (D.C. Act 12-355), until at least 30 days after the District of Columbia Financial Responsibility and Management Assistance Authority submits an economic development strategy to the appropriate committees of Congress.

The conference agreement inserts a new section 167 that requires the District government to maintain for fiscal year 1999 the same funding levels as provided in fiscal year 1997 for homeless services in the District and provides an additional $1,000,000 to be paid to The Doe Fund for its Ready, Willing & Able program.

The conference agreement inserts a new section 168 that requires the Chief Financial Officer to submit a revised appropriated funds operating budget for all agencies of the District government no later than November 1, 1998, or within 30 calendar days after the date of enactment of this Act, whichever occurs later.

The conference agreement inserts a new section 169 to waive the congressional review period for the Oyster Elementary School Construction and Revenue Bond Act of 1998.

The conference agreement changes section number 149 of the House bill to 170 and restores language as proposed by the House to prohibit the use of any funds to distribute needles or syringes for the hypodermic injection of any illegal drug, or for any payment to any individual or entity who carries out any such program.

The conference agreement changes section number 151 of the House bill to 171 and restores language proposed by the House that prohibits the use of funds to conduct any ballot initiative which seeks to legalize or reduce the penalties for possession of certain controlled substances.

The conference agreement deletes section 152 of the House bill which would have prohibited the use of funds to carry out any joint adoption of a child between individuals who are not related by blood or marriage.

The conference agreement deletes section 153 of the House bill which would have made it unlawful for individuals under 18 years of age to possess any cigarette or other tobacco product in the District of Columbia and would have imposed penalties for violations.

Reporting Requirements

The conferees are concerned by the numerous, sometimes duplicative and overlapping reporting requirements enacted each year and imposed on various District government entities. Some of the requirements have been submitted to Congress as part of the District's consensus budget, and others have been added during budget deliberations by both the House and Senate Appropriations Committees. Many of these requirements were triggered by the financial and managerial problems that have plagued the District government throughout the past decade. According to the Authority, the District government is subject to 34 reporting requirements pursuant to the fiscal year 1998 appropriations bill and accompanying reports. The DCPS system alone must respond to ten reporting deadlines. Reporting provisions are so numerous that compliance is difficult to monitor.

The Federal Payment Reauthorization Act of 1994 (Public Law 103-373) requires the development of both performance and financial accountability plans for the District government. The Chief Financial Officer has complied with the financial reporting requirements, which were designed to aid the District in eliminating any differences between expenditures from and revenues attributable to each fund of the District government. The District government has made substantial progress in closing the budget shortfalls and has estimated the fiscal year 1998 surplus to be $302,000,000.

While the District government is behind schedule on the implementation of the Act's performance reporting requirements, the Authority, under the direction of the District's new Chief Management Officer, submitted to Congress the final Performance Accountability Plan for fiscal year 1999 on September 30, 1998. The Plan will improve the District government's accountability through the specification of measurable performance goals and the reporting of actual results.

The combination of quarterly financial accountability reports and annual performance reports will provide Congress with an overview of the District's financial and managerial status, while simultaneously transforming the District government into a performance-based operation with measurable goals and objectives. These reporting requirements are consistent with the reporting standards for all Federal government agencies pursuant to the Government Performance and Results Act of 1993.

The conferees direct the Council of the District of Columbia, the Mayor and the Authority to review the various reporting regulations currently in effect and analyze any redundant or outdated reporting requirements in light of the standards of the Federal Payment Reauthorization Act of 1994. The conferees further direct the Authority to provide to the Committees on Appropriations of the Senate and House of Representatives, the Committee on Governmental Affairs of the Senate, and the Committee on Government Reform and Oversight of the House of Representatives by January 15, 1999, its recommendations for the consolidation and streamlining of reporting requirements contained in the annual District of Columbia appropriations bills.

SECTION 101(d)—FOREIGN OPERATIONS, EXPORT FINANCING, AND RELATED PROGRAMS APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 1999

The conferees on H.R. 4328 agree with the matter inserted in this subsection of this conference agreement and the following description of this matter. This matter was developed through negotiations on the difference in the House and Senate versions of H.R. 4569, the Foreign Operations, Export Financing, and Related Programs Appropriations Act, 1999, by members of the appropriations subcommittees of both the House and Senate with jurisdiction over H.R. 4569.

TITLE I—EXPORT AND INVESTMENT ASSISTANCE

EXPORT-IMPORT BANK OF THE UNITED STATES

SUBSIDY APPROPRIATION

The conference agreement appropriates $765,000,000 for the subsidy appropriation of the Export-Import Bank instead of $745,500,000 as proposed by the House and $785,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. The appropriations are available for four years.

The conferees note that authority to transfer additional funds to this account from “Assistance for the New Independent States of the Former Soviet Union” is provided under that heading, as proposed by the Senate.

EXPORT-IMPORT BANK OF THE UNITED STATES

ADMINISTRATIVE EXPENSES

The conference agreement appropriates $50,000,000 for administrative expenses of the Export-Import Bank instead of $49,000,000 as proposed by the Senate and $50,277,000 as proposed by the House. It also delays the sunset provision of Section 117 of the Export Enhancement Act of 1992, relating to compensation of employees, until October 1, 1999, as proposed by the Senate. A ceiling of $22,500 is placed on official reception and representation expenses of the Board of Directors, instead of $20,000 as proposed by the House and $25,000 as proposed by the Senate.

OVERSEAS PRIVATE INVESTMENT CORPORATION NON-CREDIT ACCOUNT

The conference agreement appropriates $32,500,000 for administrative expenses of the Overseas Private Investment Corporation (OPIC) instead of $33,000,000 as proposed by the House and $32,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. Of this amount, $5,000,000 is withheld from obligation until OPIC provides certain reports relating to sector funds and activities in the southern Caucasus, instead of $16,500,000 as proposed by the Senate.

TRADE AND DEVELOPMENT AGENCY

The conference agreement appropriates $44,000,000 for the Trade and Development Agency instead of $43,000,000 as proposed by the Senate and $41,500,000 as proposed by the House.

The conferees concur with House report language on the Trade and Development Agency and OPIC as it relates to an East-West transport corridor and the Caspian Sea region. The managers also note discussion of the corridor and Turkmenistan in this Statement under the heading “Assistance for the New Independent States of the Former Soviet Union.”

TITLE II—BILATERAL ECONOMIC ASSISTANCE

AGENCY FOR INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

CHILD SURVIVAL AND DISEASE PROGRAMS FUND

The conference agreement appropriates $650,000,000 as proposed by the House. The Senate bill contained no provision on this matter, but included funds for these activities under “Development Assistance”. The managers agree with the House report language regarding the use of the funds appropriated under this heading, including $105,000,000 for a grant to UNICEF and $25,000,000 for polio eradication. The grant for UNICEF does not preclude AID from providing additional funding for specific UNICEF projects as may be applicable.

The managers also concur with House and Senate report language on infectious diseases. At least $50,000,000 above the amount provided for HIV/AIDS is to be made available from funds under this heading to strengthen global surveillance and control of infectious diseases as proposed by the House. The Senate included similar bill language under "Development Assistance".

The total available to combat infectious diseases should be $215,000,000 in fiscal year 1999. In implementing programs, projects, and activities to combat infectious diseases, the conferees support AID's new strategy to address the global threat of infectious diseases, which focuses on activities to improve surveillance and response, and to combat anti-microbial resistance, malaria, and tuberculosis. They expect AID to continue to consult closely with the Appropriations Committees, the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases of the National Institutes of Health (NIH), the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), and other relevant agencies involved in international health issues.

The funding increase above the fiscal year 1998 level should be used for programs, projects, and activities for the prevention and control of such infectious diseases as drug-resistant tuberculosis.

As language in last year's Statement of Managers suggesting that Mexico be included among country programs funded by AID was ignored, the conferees direct that an effective program for Mexico be included in the 1999 allocation. To the greatest extent possible, a subsidy should be provided for the Mexican share of the binational approach that has been developed to protect residents on both sides of the Mexico/Texas border from the ravages of tuberculosis. In addition, the conferees support the regional tuberculosis control initiative proposed by the Gorgas Memorial Institute and recommend that up to $2,000,000 be made available for this activity in Latin America. The Committees expect to be fully consulted by AID before it finalizes its 1999 spending plan for tuberculosis.

The conference agreement includes $125,000,000 for both bilateral and multilateral HIV/AIDS prevention and control programs, as proposed by the House.

The conferees are aware that an estimated 600,000 women die from pregnancy-related causes annually, and that most of these lives could be saved with better healthcare and nutrition. The conferees encourage AID to provide as much as $50,000,000 for activities intended to improve the health and nutrition of pregnant women and mothers of newborn children. AID is requested to consult with WHO, the Global Health Council, and others in developing a strategy to address these problems.

The conference agreement includes not less than $12,000,000 for orphans, displaced, and blind children. An additional $3,000,000 should be made available for support of children in Russian and Ukrainian orphanages from this account and Assistance to the New Independent States.

DEVELOPMENT ASSISTANCE

(INCLUDING TRANSFER OF FUNDS)

The conference agreement appropriates $1,225,000,000 for "Development Assistance" instead of $1,174,000,000 as proposed by the House and $1,904,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. The Senate included funding for the "Child Survival and Disease Programs Fund" under its "Development Assistance" account.

The conference agreement includes language from the Senate amendment which inserts authority to obligate funds pursuant to title V of the International Security and Development Cooperation Act of 1980 (African Development Foundation), and section 401 of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1969 (Inter-American Foundation) under this heading. The conference agreement provides authority apportioning directly up to $20,000,000 for the Inter-American Foundation and up to $11,000,000 for the African Development Foundation. The Senate provided allocations for these two foundations at levels of $20,000,000 and $8,000,000, respectively. The House bill had provided separate appropriations accounts for the foundations at levels of $20,680,000 for the Inter-American Foundation and $13,160,000 for the African Development Foundation.

The conferees have agreed to an increase for this account in part to enable additional funding for Indonesia without adversely affecting other countries in the region, or countries in other regions.

The conferees support funding for the Latin America and the Caribbean region, under this account and "Economic Support Fund", at least at the level allocated for fiscal year 1998.

The conference agreement also includes House language allowing not to exceed $2,500,000 to be transferred to "International Organizations and Programs" for a contribution to the International Fund for Agricultural Development (IFAD). The Senate amendment included similar language.

The conference agreement includes language that states that not less than $500,000 should be made available for support of the United States Telecommunications Training Institute. The Senate amendment included bill language mandating that such funds be made available for this purpose. The House bill did not address this matter.

The conference agreement contains language similar to that in the House bill that withholds funds for the central Government of South Africa until the Secretary of State reports on the steps being taken by the United States to work with the Government of the Republic of South Africa to negotiate the repeal, suspension, or termination of section 15(c) of South Africa's Medicines and Related Control Amendment Act No. 90 of 1997. The Senate amendment did not contain a provision on this matter.

The conference agreement includes language from the Senate amendment not in the House bill that provides not to exceed $25,000, in addition to funds otherwise available for such purposes, to monitor and provide oversight for assistance programs for displaced and orphan children and victims of war.

The conference agreement includes language stating that not less than $1,500,000 should be made available for agriculture programs in Laos. The Senate amendment would have mandated not less than $2,000,000 for this purpose; the House bill did not address this matter.

The conference agreement includes language similar to a provision in the Senate amendment that requires that not less than 50 percent of the funds made available for the Microenterprise Initiative should be made available for loans of $300 or less for very poor people, particularly women, or for institutional support of organizations primarily engaged in making such loans. The House bill did not address this matter.

The conference agreement prohibits funds from being made available for any activity in contravention to the Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Flora and Fauna (CITES) as proposed by the House.

VOLUNTARY FAMILY PLANNING

The conference agreement includes language that states that voluntary family planning projects that are funded through this account meet certain requirements. The House bill included language with a similar intent. The Senate amendment did not address this matter.

The conference substitute states that project service providers or referral agents cannot implement or be subject to quotas or other numerical targets, of total number of births, number of family planning acceptors, or acceptors of a particular method of family planning. The conference substitute deletes the word "goals" from the original amendment because it is redundant in light of the prohibition on quotas and numerical targets. If goals are applicable to a project and are implemented in a manner that, in fact, makes them quotas or other numerical targets, then it is the conferees' intention that such "goals" be considered as violations of this provision.

The conference substitute makes clear that projects may rely on quantitative estimates or "indicators", so long as such estimates or indicators are used only for budgeting and planning purposes and do not function as quotas or numerical targets.

AGRICULTURE

The conference agreement does not contain language from the Senate amendment regarding the minimum level of funding for agriculture programs. However, the conferees are concerned about the decline in funding for international agriculture. It is one of the keys to economic development, and significantly more than half of the world's developing population is engaged in agricultural production. If agricultural production is improved and increased, not only is there a positive economic impact, but more rural poor are able to overcome the rampant hunger and malnutrition experienced by many children, women and men in developing countries. International agricultural development is also supported by many important members of the U.S. agricultural industry, including agribusiness, farmers, ranchers, and universities, because of the long-term benefits of developing and expanding export markets for U.S. goods and services.

The conferees note that AID has included agricultural development as one of its major goals for the coming year, and strongly support agricultural programs in "Development Assistance" and in the other accounts administered by AID. The conferees recommend $305,000,000 for these activities in fiscal year 1999.

Prior to the submission of the report required by section 653 of the Foreign Assistance Act, AID is directed to consult with the Committees on Appropriations regarding the proposed allocation of sector resources, including those intended for agriculture.

AMERICAN SCHOOLS AND HOSPITALS ABROAD

The conference agreement does not contain Senate language requiring that not less than $15,000,000 shall be available only for the American Schools and Hospitals Abroad (ASHA) program. However, the managers direct the Agency for International Development to fully uphold its commitment to the Appropriations Committees to obligate at least $15,000,000 for the American Schools and Hospitals Abroad program in fiscal year 1999.

The conferees believe that several institutions which have received funding under the ASHA program have distinguished records and deserve further support. They include:

—The American University of Beirut which has trained Middle Eastern leaders for 130 years in a strong liberal arts tradition encouraging freedom of expression, private initiative, and tolerance. Its academic quality and longstanding relationship with regional governments make the university a primary resource for regional development.

—The Lebanese American University (formerly Beirut University College) is the most rapidly growing institution of higher learning in Lebanon and is an increasingly important resource for regional development.

—The Hadassah Medical Organization has established an important record of outreach and service. Hadassah's programs are designed to train native populations to improve the health and welfare of their own people using American ideas and technology.

—The Johns Hopkins University's centers in Bologna, Italy, and Nanjing, China are vital national resources promoting democracy and international market economics in central and Eastern Europe and China. The conferees expect that $500,000 be provided for the Nanjing center.

—The Feinberg Graduate School [FGS] of the Weizmann Institute of Science in Israel has long served as a model of American scientific education for postgraduate students and scholars from around the world. ASHA funds have been used exclusively to purchase American-made scientific equipment from American suppliers.

In addition, the Bikur Cholim Hospital is one of the oldest medical institutions in Israel, and is today the only medical center in the heart of Jerusalem. There is an urgent need for renovation and expansion at Bikur Cholim to accommodate the emergency medical needs of all residents of Jerusalem. The managers recommend funding be provided for modernizing infrastructure and adding space, equipment and medical and nursing personnel at the Bikur Cholim Hospital.

The conferees note that University College, Dublin, is launching a Center of American Studies to provide educational programs in American culture, history and economics. The conferees recommend that AID seriously consider supporting the Center under the ASHA program.

MITCH MC CONNELL CONSERVATION FUND

While the conference agreement does not include language from the Senate amendment establishing the Mitch McConnell Conservation Fund, the conferees support the fund.

In April 1998, the Government of Ecuador passed landmark legislation promoting conservation of biodiversity and sustainable development of the Province of the Galapagos Islands. The conferees note that Ecuador does not have the resources to assure the laws can be fully and effectively implemented to protect this unique environment. To fulfill these requirements, the conferees direct that not less than $1,200,000 be provided for research, conservation, training and related activities. Of this sum, not less than $500,000 should be made available for activities conducted by the Charles Darwin Research Station and $200,000 should be made available to support training and conservation activities conducted by the Galapagos National Park Service. Finally, not less than $500,000 should be made as a contribution to an endowment for the Charles Darwin Research Station and Foundation.

PATRICK LEAHY WAR VICTIMS FUND

The conferees recommend $12,000,000 for medical, orthopedic, and related rehabilitative and preventive assistance for war victims, particularly those who have been severely disabled from landmines and other unexploded ordnance. Of this amount, up to $10,000,000 is to be funded from the "Development Assistance" account and the "Economic Support Fund". The balance should be funded from Office of Transition Initiatives resources, and with funds from the demining budget of the "Nonproliferation, anti-terrorism, demining and related programs" account, for example, to conduct surveys of the needs of landmine victims. Any such programs to assist war victims should be designed and implemented in consultation with AID's manager of the Leahy War Victims Fund.

PRIVATE AND VOLUNTARY ORGANIZATIONS

The conference agreement includes language from the Senate amendment providing that funds appropriated under title II of this Act should be made available to private and voluntary organizations (PVO's) at a level which is at least equivalent to the level provided in fiscal year 1995. The House bill included similar language.

CYPRUS

The conference agreement includes Senate language providing that not less than $15,000,000 of the funds appropriated under "Development Assistance" and "Economic Support Fund" be made available for Cyprus, to be used only for scholarships, administrative support, bicommunal projects, and measures aimed at reunification of the island. The House bill contained no provision on this matter.

BURMA

The conference agreement includes a total of $6,500,000 from "Development Assistance" and "Economic Support Fund" to support democracy and humanitarian programs related to Burma. Such funds may be made available notwithstanding any other provision of law and are subject to notification. The Senate amendment specified the uses for the funds beyond democracy and humanitarian assistance, and the funding source was limited to "Development Assistance". The House bill contained no provision on this matter.

The conference agreement appropriates $6,500,000 from "Development Assistance" and "Economic Support Fund" resources to promote the restoration of democracy in Burma and support humanitarian programs along Burma's borders and outside Burma. Of this amount, $3,500,000 should be made available to support democracy activities in Burma, democracy and humanitarian activities along the Burma-Thailand border, and for Burmese student groups and other organizations located outside Burma, of which, not less than $500,000 should be made available for newspapers, media and publications promoting democracy in and related to Burma. Finally, $3,000,000 should be made available to support the provision of medical supplies and services, education and humanitarian assistance to displaced Burmese along the Burma borders.

The conferees are concerned by the lack of consultation with the legitimate government of Burma regarding the expenditure of such funds and directs that such consultations take place on the obligation of fiscal year 1999 funds. The conferees note the dramatic increase in repression in Burma during 1998. Credible reports indicate that more than 800 members of the National League for Democracy and its supporters have been detained, tortured or executed in the past several months. These abuses have occurred in an attempt by the State Peace and Development Council (SPCC) to prevent the National League of Democracy, the legitimate winners of the 1990 elections, from convening and seating a parliament.

The conferees continue to be concerned by the slow disbursement of funds made available for Burma in spite of the fact that there has been little change in the selected beneficiaries over the past three years. The conferees direct that 15 days after enactment of this Act, the committees on appropriations be provided with a report on the obligation of all funds in fiscal years 1997 and 1998 and thirty days thereafter an assessment of any changes anticipated in the administration of funds for fiscal year 1999.

CAMBODIA

The conference agreement includes language prohibiting funds for Cambodia until the Secretary of State determines and reports to the Committees on Appropriations that the Government of Cambodia has: (1) thoroughly and credibly resolved all election-related disputes and complaints filed by all political parties to the National Election Commission and the Constitutional Council; (2) discontinued all political violence and intimidation of journalists and members of opposition parties; and (3) been formed through credible, democratic elections. This restriction does not apply to demining or activities administered by nongovernmental organizations, but any funds made available for such purposes are subject to notification. The House bill and Senate amendment contained similar provisions.

The conferees encourage representatives from the Secretary of State in consultation with representatives from the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation to meet with impacted parties, including victims, of the March 30, 1997, grenade attack in Phnom Penh to discuss the status of their report. The FBI's investigation and report are classified and the conferees believe that full disclosure of its findings could be important to resolving outstanding concerns.

INDONESIA

The conference agreement provides that of the funds appropriated under the headings "Development Assistance" and "Economic Support Fund", not less than $75,000,000 shall be made available for assistance for Indonesia. Of this amount, up to $25,000,000 may be derived from funds that are available for obligation pursuant to section 511 of this Act or any comparable provision of law. In addition, the language states that $15,000,000 of these funds should be administered by the Office of Transition Initiatives. The Senate amendment had provided not less than $100,000,000 for Indonesia from the funds appropriated under "Development Assistance", and specified the uses for the funds. The House bill did not address this matter.

The conferees have included the use of deobligation/reobligation authority for programs for Indonesia with the expectation that the authority will be fully utilized, and that the sources for use of this authority could be derived from projects from any region of the world.

INTERNATIONAL DISASTER ASSISTANCE

The conference agreement appropriates $200,000,000 for "International Disaster Assistance" instead of $150,000,000 as proposed by the House.

The conferees note that an additional $15,000,000 for the Office of Transition Initiatives will be available for Indonesia from sources outside of this account.

The conference agreement does not include language proposed by the Senate that provided not less than $500,000 for a hydraulic drilling machine to provide potable drinking water in the region of the Nuba Mountains in Sudan. The House bill did not address this matter.

URBAN AND ENVIRONMENTAL CREDIT PROGRAM ACCOUNT

The conference agreement appropriates $1,500,000 for subsidy budget authority instead of $3,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. The House bill did not address this matter. In addition, the agreement appropriates $5,000,000 for administrative expenses instead of $5,500,000 as proposed by the House and $4,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

OPERATING EXPENSES OF THE AGENCY FOR INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

The conference agreement appropriates $479,950,000 instead of $460,000,000 as proposed by the House and $475,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. Also, the conference agreement does not include language proposed by the Senate to extend the availability of these funds until September 30, 2000.

OPERATING EXPENSES OF THE AGENCY FOR INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL

The conference agreement appropriates $30,750,000 for the Office of Inspector General instead of $31,500,000 as proposed by the House and $30,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. Funds provided in this account for security activities should be transferred to the account for operating expenses of the agency pursuant to section 587 of this Act.

ECONOMIC SUPPORT FUND

The conference agreement appropriates $2,367,000,000 instead of $2,305,600,000 as proposed by the Senate and $2,326,000,000 as proposed by the House.

THE MIDDLE EAST

The conference agreement inserts language proposed by the Senate which earmarks $1,080,000,000 for Israel and $775,000,000 for Egypt. The conference agreement inserts language that not less than $150,000,000 should be made available for Jordan.

ISRAEL

The conferees wish to commend Prime Minister Netanyahu and the Government of Israel for putting forward an historic proposal to eliminate Israel's economic aid over the course of the next decade. The Prime Minister's proposal recognized Israel's remarkable economic growth, technological advances and financial progress, and assumed Israel's ability to finance its own economic requirements in the future. At the same time, the Government of Israel noted that the security situation in the Middle East remains of great concern, particularly with respect to the proliferation of weapons of mass destruction, and therefore defense requirements to meet these challenges will increase in the future. The conferees note that media reports regarding the transfer of weapons of mass destruction from nations such as Russia, China and North Korea to countries in the region support Israel's concern that these transfers pose an ominous threat to Israel's future security.

After extensive discussions with the Administration, the conferees recommend the following modalities for aid to Israel. The conferees believe that a phased reduction in Israel's economic assistance, implemented in equal increments of $120,000,000 per year, extended over a period of not more than ten years, should begin this fiscal year. This phased reduction will result in the eventual elimination of "Economic Support Fund" assistance for Israel. The conferees also expect that as a result of this reduction plan, Israel will be absolved of current financial obligations it may have to support through direct contributions to the U.S. government any other neighboring Middle East nation.

The conferees are also convinced that the emerging security threats in the Middle East are significant and warrant transferring half of Israel's reduction in economic aid to military assistance thus enabling Israel to ensure fully its security. As a result, the conferees recommend increasing military assistance to Israel by $60,000,000 in fiscal year 1999 with a strong presumption that similar annual incremental increases will be required over the next decade. However, with respect to this recommended increase in military assistance, the conferees must be very clear that they cannot commit future Congresses to the future appropriation of funds. Therefore, future increases in military assistance will require the annual review of the Congress and will necessarily be based upon an assessment of the security situation at the time.

The conference agreement therefore provides that not less than $1,080,000,000 in Economic Support Funds shall be provided for Israel, which is $120,000,000 less than the fiscal year 1998 level and the amount requested by the President. The conference agreement also requires that these funds be provided to Israel as a cash grant within thirty days of the signing of this Act or by October 31, 1998, whichever is later.

EGYPT

As part of the Committees on Appropriations' ongoing review of Middle East aid levels, and as a result of budget constraints affecting the international affairs budget, there have been extensive discussions with the Government of Egypt and the Administration regarding appropriate future aid levels for Egypt. As a key friend and ally in the region, Egypt's critical role in the Middle East and essential contribution to the peace process cannot be overstated. The conferees note that Egypt's economic and security needs are unique and consequently distinctly different from other countries in the region. However, the conferees are convinced that Egypt's overall aid levels must be reduced to meet current budget requirements. Therefore, the conferees believe this reduction in overall funding levels must begin this year, be carried out in equal annual increments, and result in a reduction in economic assistance to half of the 1998 level in no more than ten years.

The conference agreement therefore recommends that not less than $775,000,000 in Economic Support Funds shall be provided for Egypt on a grant basis, which is $40,000,000 less than the fiscal year 1998 level. A cash transfer shall be provided with the understanding that Egypt will continue to implement significant economic reforms. The conferees strongly recommend that not less than $200,000,000 of the funds allocated for Egypt be used for Commodity Import Program assistance. The conferees also strongly encourage the Administration to work with the Government of Egypt to develop mechanisms in the economic, trade and investment areas which will make assistance to Egypt more flexible and effective. The conferees expect the Administration to consult with the Committees on Appropriations on the outcome of these discussions.

JORDAN

The conferees express their continued strong support for and appreciation of Jordan's constructive and critical role in the peace process and encourage the Administration, in close consultation and cooperation with the Congress, to continue its efforts to assist Jordan in both the economic and security areas. The conference agreement therefore recommends that not less than $150,000,000 should be made available for Jordan. The conferees also encourage Jordan to continue its ongoing economic reform program.

HOLOCAUST

The conference agreement includes language providing that not to exceed $10,000,000 may be used to support victims of the Holocaust. The Senate amendment included language that also authorized the use of funds for programs. The House bill did not address this matter.

WESTERN SAHARA

The conferees support former Secretary of State James Baker's efforts to ensure, as mandated by the Houston Agreement and the United Nations Settlement Plan, the prompt completion of a free, fair and transparent referendum on self-determination for the people of Western Sahara. The conferees regret the problems described in recent reports to the Security Council by United Nations Secretary General Kofi Annan, and urge the two parties to resolve these matters expeditiously by fully cooperating with Secretary Baker and the United Nations.

HAITI

The conference agreement strikes language proposed by the Senate earmarking not less than $500,000 for the Special Investigative Unit (SIU) of the Haiti National Police and providing that up to $250,000 may be made available to assist orphanages in Haiti. The managers concur with the Senate that a professional SIU, fully supported by its Government, is essential to the rule of law in Haiti and that programs to assist Haitian children in orphanages should be continued under the current dire economic conditions in Haiti. No later than 45 days after enactment of this Act, the Secretary of State is requested to report to the Committees on the proposed fiscal year allocation for these programs in Haiti.

PALESTINIAN-ISRAELI COOPERATION

The conferees recommend that $500,000 be made available to support the Palestinian-Israeli Cooperation Program to promote better understanding and mutual respect between Israelis and Palestinians at a time when the Middle East Peace process is threatened by violence and terrorist acts.

INTERNATIONAL FUND FOR IRELAND

The conference agreement appropriates $19,600,000 as proposed by the House. The Senate amendment assumed funding for this activity under the "Economic Support Fund".

ASSISTANCE FOR EASTERN EUROPE AND THE BALTIC STATES

The conference agreement appropriates $430,000,000 instead of $450,000,000 as proposed by the House and $432,500,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement includes House language deleted by the Senate that prohibits funds from being used for new housing construction or repair or reconstruction of existing housing in Bosnia and Herzegovina unless directly related to efforts of United States troops to promote peace in said country.

The agreement also includes House language that authorizes the President to withhold funds made available for economic revitalization for Bosnia and Herzegovina if he determines and certifies to the Committees on Appropriations that the Federation of Bosnia and Herzegovina is not in compliance with the Dayton agreement regarding the removal of foreign forces, and that intelligence cooperation on training, investigations, and related activities between Iranian and Bosnian officials has not been terminated. This matter was not addressed in the Senate amendment.

The conference agreement includes language limiting the assistance for Bosnia and Herzegovina to $200,000,000. However, this limitation does not extend to funds from other accounts, as proposed by the Senate. The House bill contained a funding limitation of $225,000,000 for this purpose.

The conference agreement reflects a reduction of $12,500,000 associated with the proposal to initiate a new foundation for central Europe. In addition, the conferees endorse the House report language regarding a transfer of funds to the National Endowment for Democracy pursuant to section 632(a) of the Foreign Assistance Act.

ASSISTANCE TO LATVIA

Latvian law enforcement officials have identified transnational Russian organized crime groups with well-established ties to similar structures in neighboring countries such as Russia, and disturbing links between Russian criminal elements in Latvia and organized crime groups in the U.S. and Western Europe. The Latvian government and the Latvian State Police are committed to combating organized crime, but they are handicapped by lack of money to purchase necessary technical equipment needed to put the police on an even par with better financed and equipped criminal groups. The conferees support the provision of up to $500,000 from this account or from "International narcotics control and law enforcement", to be made available to the Latvian State Police Organized Crime Bureau in order to enable that body to purchase necessary technical equipment.

ASSISTANCE FOR THE NEW INDEPENDENT STATES OF THE FORMER SOVIET UNION

The conference agreement appropriates $801,000,000 instead of $590,000,000 as proposed by the House and $740,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conferees included language that allows for the transfer of funds to the Export-Import Bank as proposed by the Senate and a limitation on the percentage of funds that may be allocated for any single country in the region as proposed by the House.

The Coordinator for Assistance to the New Independent States is required by the conference agreement to inform the Committees on Appropriations prior to any obligation of funds to a national laboratory for nuclear safety activities if the estimated management costs exceed 9 percent of the overall cost of the activity.

The conferees recognize the critical importance to Russia and its relations with the United States of the 1999 Duma elections and the year 2000 presidential election. It would be beneficial to expose potential candidates in those elections and other Russian leaders to American democratic processes. The conferees are aware of Administration plans to bring 120 regional and other emerging local leaders to the United States during the period leading up to the elections. While the conferees support this proposal, a bolder course of action seems warranted. Therefore, the conferees recommend that no fewer than 500 regional and local leaders be brought to the United States. This goal could be achieved by coordinating to the greatest extent possible with existing interparliamentary exchanges and encouraging USIA to seek greater private sector support to expand this program through its International Visitor Program.

The conferees are also aware of the growing lack of resources available for orphanages in many areas of the Russian Federation. In some regions orphanages lack necessary medical facilities, housing, and vocational training. The conferees support assistance to alleviate these problems, as discussed under the heading "Child Survival and Disease Programs Fund".

RUSSIA-IRAN

The conference agreement continues the current restrictions, as proposed by the House, on assistance to the Government of Russia as long as Russian enterprises and institutes continue to collaborate with Iran to increase Iranian capability to develop and deploy nuclear and ballistic missile technology. The Senate withheld all funds for Russia and did not include a waiver provision. The conferees concur with both Senate and House report language on the seriousness of this matter, and agree that partnerships between United States hospitals, universities, and environmental organizations and counterpart institutions in Russia should not be affected by subsection (c).

UKRAINE

The conference agreement earmarks $195,000,000 for Ukraine with the expectation that Ukraine will use its assistance to support economic reform. The conferees have withheld 50 percent of the funding for Ukraine for 120 days pending a report from the Secretary of State as proposed by the Senate. At that time, the withheld money will be released if the Secretary certifies that Ukraine has undertaken significant economic reforms that are additional to those which were undertaken in previous years. The economic reforms must include effective enforcement of reformed commercial and tax codes and continued progress on resolution of complaints by U.S. investors. In the event that the Secretary's certification cannot be made, the amount withheld from Ukraine would be made available for other purposes within the New Independent States instead of being returned to the Treasury as proposed by the Senate.

The conferees have exempted nuclear safety programs and law enforcement activities from the withholding provision. The managers expect that not less than $25,000,000 of the funds should be used to provide simulators, training, and safety analysis reports, and safety related equipment at nuclear reactors in Ukraine. Not less than $1,000,000 of the nuclear reactor safety program is to be used for personnel security initiatives at all nuclear installations in Ukraine.

SOUTHERN CAUCASUS REGION

The conference agreement provides for a Southern Caucasus Region funding account as proposed by the House. The managers seek to make the maximum use of American assistance as an incentive for the regional parties to cooperate with the Minsk Group and other international mediators seeking to bring peace to the South Caucasus. The managers are convinced that the ready availability of international reconstruction aid, including the potential U.S. initial contribution provided in this conference agreement, will encourage leaders to make peace. The managers intend that emphasis be placed on restoring transportation, telecommunications, and other infrastructure that promotes regional economic integration.

The conference agreement includes $228,000,000 for the Southern Caucasus region. It includes specific funding targets for three areas of United States national interest in the region: (1) $39,900,000 is initially reserved for post-conflict assistance to the region and could be used as seed money for a much larger international program of reconstruction assistance; (2) the amount of $84,360,000 is initially allocated for Georgia; and (3) the amount of $79,900,000 is initially allocated for Armenia. If after May 30, 1999, the Secretary of State finds that the funds reserved for regional reconstruction cannot be effectively used, the unobligated balance could be redistributed within the Southern Caucasus.

The conferees intend that fiscal year 1999 funds made available for the American University of Armenia endowment shall be a one-time United States contribution and shall be placed in a trust with the interest available for use by the university. The conference agreement does not include additional suballocations of funds provided for Armenia and Georgia, as proposed by the Senate.

The conferees agreed to provide five exemptions from the statutory restrictions on assistance to the Government of Azerbaijan, as proposed by the Senate, instead of three exemptions and a broader humanitarian waiver as proposed by the House.

RUSSIAN FAR EAST

The conferees again note the importance of the Russian Far East. The area continues to be recognized as vital to the future development of the Russian Federation's economy. Its rich natural resource base and proximity to the United States has won it the attention of increasing numbers of international industries and companies. However, attempts to coordinate trade promotional efforts have not yet reached their full potential.

The conferees note the emerging work of the Regional Investment Initiatives within the Russian Far East and look forward to the establishment of the fiscal year 1998 Development Credit Authority programs within the region during 1999. The role that these programs may play in this region is significant and the conferees direct that these programs be given priority by the relevant agencies.

The conferees further direct that upon the establishment of the Development Credit Authority, the funds available under that program be used to stimulate joint ventures between American firms with expertise in primary industries, including natural resource development, telecommunications and basic infrastructure, finance, and consumer goods. The program should be designed to minimize risk to enable American participation in light of the current economic uncertainties in Russia.

EAST-WEST CORRIDOR AND TURKMENISTAN

The conferees recommend up to $10,000,000 from funding made available under titles I and II to promote energy and infrastructure development in Turkmenistan. The conferees believe that the development of energy resources in the Caspian Sea region is important to the economic development of the countries involved, as well as regional stability. In addition, the conferees believe that it is important to facilitate the development of alternatives to a pipeline through Iran and support an east-west energy corridor to assist in developing the region's energy resources.

MONGOLIA

The conference agreement retains authority for funds provided under this heading to be used in Mongolia, a struggling democracy. Because of Mongolia's many links with the former Soviet Union and Central Europe, the conferees encourage the use of common assistance mechanisms from those regions. The amount provided for Mongolia from all accounts should be at a level which is no less than the fiscal year 1998 obligation level, as proposed by the House, instead of not less than $10,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. The more flexible conference language allows the Administration to respond to the rapidly changing climate for reform and democracy in Mongolia.

INDEPENDENT AGENCY

PEACE CORPS

The conference agreement appropriates $240,000,000 instead of $230,000,000 as proposed by the House and $221,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

INTERNATIONAL NARCOTICS CONTROL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT

The conference agreement appropriates $261,000,000 for "International Narcotics Control". The House bill proposed $275,000,000 for this account, while the Senate amendment contained an appropriation of $222,000,000.

The conference agreement provides sufficient funds to fully fund programs for Bolivia, Peru, and Colombia. In addition, up to $25,000,000 of funds under "Development Assistance" may be used for agriculture and crop substitution programs in those countries.

The conference agreement includes language from the House bill, not included by the Senate, that allows the State Department to use section 608 of the Foreign Assistance Act, without regard to its restrictions, to receive excess property from an agency of the U.S. government for use in a foreign country, subject to notification.

The conference agreement does not contain Senate language providing not less than $9,000,000 for law enforcement training and demand reduction. The House bill did not address this matter.

The conference agreement includes language stating that no funds may be made available to establish an International Law Enforcement Academy for the Western Hemisphere outside of the United States. In addition, the language states that the academy should be established at the deBremond Training Center in Roswell, New Mexico. The Senate amendment would have mandated that the academy be established at this site. The House bill did not address this matter.

MIGRATION AND REFUGEE ASSISTANCE

The conference agreement appropriates $640,000,000 as proposed by the House instead of $650,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement also includes Senate language, not in the House bill, that provides not less than $70,000,000 for refugees from the former Soviet Union and Eastern Europe and other refugees resettling in Israel.

The conferees support the House report language regarding assistance to Tibetan refugees.

The managers are concerned by reports that textbooks and curricula used by the United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees in the Near East (UNRWA) may contain anti-Semitic material. The managers direct the Secretary of State to submit a report to the Committees on Appropriations, not later than 90 days after enactment of this Act, specifying whether the content of the textbooks and curricula used by UNRWA contains anti-Semitic material.

UNITED STATES EMERGENCY AND MIGRATION ASSISTANCE FUND

The conference agreement appropriates $30,000,000 as proposed by the House instead of $20,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

NONPROLIFERATION, ANTI-TERRORISM, DEMINING AND RELATED PROGRAMS

The conference agreement appropriates $198,000,000 for "Nonproliferation, Anti-Terrorism, Demining and Related Programs" instead of $170,000,000 as proposed by the Senate and $152,000,000 as proposed by the House.

DEMINING ACTIVITIES

The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the Senate which provides that not less than $35,000,000 should be provided for humanitarian demining programs administered by the Department of State, of which not to exceed $500,000 may be used for related expenses. The conferees strongly support programs to locate and remove landmines and other unexploded ordnance, including mine awareness and education, mapping and marking, and training of deminers.

The conferees are aware that the United States, Canada, the United Nations, the UN Foundation, the Vietnam Veterans of America Foundation, and others are preparing to launch jointly landmine surveys in at least ten of the world's most seriously mine-affected countries. This two-year effort, which will plot the location and number of mines in each country, should significantly advance the United States' Demining 2010 Initiative. The conferees support this effort and recommend a first year contribution of $3,500,000 in fiscal year 1999 funds.

KEDO

The House bill included a general provision which prohibited the use of funds for the Korean Peninsula Energy Development Organization. The Senate included language which provided up to $35,000,000, subject to a certification by the President that certain specific conditions had been met. Section 582 of the conference agreement deals with this issue.

NONPROLIFERATION ACTIVITIES

The conference agreement recommends $15,000,000 for the Nonproliferation and Disarmament Fund. The conferees strongly support the core nonproliferation activities of the NDF which is designed to provide the Secretary of State with a flexible funding source to respond to urgent, unanticipated nonproliferation activities of immediate concern to the United States.

COMPREHENSIVE TEST BAN TREATY

The conference agreement provides authority for a United States contribution to the Comprehensive Test Ban Treaty Preparatory Commission as proposed by the House and the Senate. The conference agreement further provides that twenty days prior to the obligation of funds for this purpose, the Secretary of State shall inform the Committees on Appropriations of her intent to obligate these funds. The conferees note that this language is not a reprogramming notification. However, the conferees understand and expect that the Administration will treat this process, with respect to the Committees on Appropriations, in the same manner as a reprogramming notification. The Senate had proposed that the obligation of funds for this purpose be made subject to the regular notification procedures of the Committees on Appropriations.

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

DEBT RESTRUCTURING

The conference agreement appropriates $33,000,000 instead of $36,000,000 as proposed by the House and $25,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement includes House language authorizing concessional debt relief for sub-Saharan Africa; providing authority of up to $2,900,000 for implementation of the foreign credit reporting system; and specifying that sub-Saharan debt relief should be extended to "IDA-only" countries. In addition, language has been included to implement the debt swap provisions of section 808(a)(3) of part V of the Foreign Assistance Act, as amended, which involve no cost to the Treasury.

INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE

The conference agreement appropriates $1,500,000 instead of $3,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. The House bill did not address this matter. The authorization for this program is contained in section 589.

UNITED STATES COMMUNITY ADJUSTMENT AND INVESTMENT PROGRAM

The conference agreement appropriates $10,000,000 for the United States Community Adjustment and Investment Program which is authorized by section 543 of the North American Free Trade Agreement Implementation Act.

TITLE III—MILITARY ASSISTANCE

INTERNATIONAL MILITARY EDUCATION AND TRAINING

The conference agreement appropriates $50,000,000 as proposed by the House and the Senate.

SCHOOL OF THE AMERICAS

The conference agreement includes language proposed by the House which makes the obligation of funds under this heading to support IMET training at the School of the Americas contingent upon a certification by the Secretary of Defense that the instruction and training provided by the School of the Americas is fully consistent with training and doctrine, particularly with respect to the observance of human rights, provided by the Department of Defense to United States military students at Department of Defense institutions whose primary purpose is to train United States military personnel.

The conference agreement includes a general provision (Sec. 577) requiring a detailed report to the Congress on all military training provided to foreign military personnel under programs administered by the Department of Defense and the Department of State during fiscal years 1998 and 1999, which would include training conducted at the School of the Americas.

GUATEMALA AND INDONESIA

The conference agreement includes language proposed by the House which limits Indonesia and Guatemala to expanded IMET only. The Senate proposed the same limitation for Guatemala only. The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the House which would make the obligation of funds for Guatemala subject to the regular notification procedures of the Committees on Appropriations.

EAST TIMOR

The conferees continue to support a peaceful resolution of the situation in East Timor. The conferees remain convinced that human rights and democratic pluralism in Indonesia must be awarded greater respect and protection by the Indonesian Government and every effort must be made by the Government to ensure that human rights abuses, torture, political intimidation and harassment are completely curtailed not only in East Timor, but throughout Indonesia. It is the conferees' view that the current economic and political changes in Indonesia offer a rare opportunity for the Government of Indonesia to take bold and innovative steps to deal with the East Timor issue. In this regard, the conferees support an internationally supported referendum to determine a comprehensive settlement of the political status of East Timor.

MONGOLIA

The conferees commend the Department of Defense for the Department's implementation of the fiscal year 1998 IMET program in Mongolia and urge continued support for this important program in Mongolia, particularly in the expanded IMET area.

FOREIGN MILITARY FINANCING PROGRAM (GRANT PROGRAM)

The conference agreement appropriates $3,330,000,000 instead of $3,322,910,000 as proposed by the Senate and $3,335,910,000 as proposed by the House.

THE MIDDLE EAST

The conference agreement inserts earmarks for Israel and Egypt which provide that not less than $1,860,000,000 shall be available for grants only for Israel and not less than $1,300,000,000 shall be available for grants only for Egypt.

The conference agreement provides that not less than $45,000,000 should be available for grants only for Jordan. The conference agreement provides additional security support for Jordan by directing the President to draw down not less than $25,000,000 in defense equipment and services for Jordan.

ISRAEL

The conferees have included specific bill language increasing military assistance for Israel as a result of the broad dialogue on Israel's aid levels initiated by Israeli Prime Minister Netanyahu following his address to a joint session of the Congress on July 10, 1996. As noted in the section of the statement of managers entitled "Israel" under the heading "Economic Support Fund", it is the conferee's view that while Israel's economy has improved significantly in recent years, the security situation in the Middle East, particularly with respect to weapons of mass destruction, has worsened. The conferees are extremely concerned that Israel's technological military edge could erode as a result of the unrestrained sales of advanced military equipment, including nuclear and ballistic missile technology, to Israel's potential adversaries by nations such as Russia, China and North Korea. Media reports as recently as the spring of this year suggest that Russia, China and North Korea were the sources of dangerous weapons of mass destruction transfers to the region. Therefore, the conferees are convinced the United States must make every effort to carry out its long-standing policy of ensuring that Israel's technological edge is maintained. As a result, the conference agreement provides an increase of $60,000,000 above the President's request for Israel in fiscal year 1999. The conferees also believe that a sustained military improvement program will be required over the next decade, at an annual incremental rate of approximately $60,000,000, to assist Israel in responding to these emerging security challenges. However, with respect to this recommended increase in military assistance, the conferees must be very clear that they cannot commit future Congresses to the future appropriation of funds. Therefore, future increases in military assistance will require the annual review of the Congress and will necessarily be based upon an assessment of the security situation at the time.

The conferees also recommend that to the extent that the Government of Israel requests that FMF grant funds for Israel be used for such purposes, and as agreed by Israel and the United States, funds may be made available for advanced weapons systems of which not less than $490,000,000 shall be available for the procurement in Israel of defense articles and defense services, including research and development. This represents a $15,000,000 increase over prior year levels and reflects a recognition by the conferees of Israel's need for increased flexibility in meeting the emerging security challenges in the Middle East over the next decade.

EGYPT

The conference agreement recommends a total Foreign Military Financing Program for Egypt of not less than $1,300,000,000 in Foreign Military Financing grants. The conferees fully appreciate Egypt's strategic location, its immediate proximity to Libya and Sudan both of which actively support international terrorism, its critical contribution during the Gulf War in resisting Iraqi aggression, and its essential role in the Middle East peace process. The conferees are convinced that continued military cooperation between Egypt and the United States remains in the national security interests of both countries.

The conferees also encourage the Government of Egypt to give strong consideration to the purchase of an American short range air defense system which is also being fielded by Army National Guard units.

JORDAN

The conferees are convinced that Jordan is a critical ally and friend of the United States in the Middle East with significant security requirements. Jordan is also an invaluable and constructive participant in the Middle East peace process. The conferees strongly support this strategic alliance and as a result direct the Administration to provide not less than the full request of $45,000,000 for Jordan, as well as direct the President to provide an additional $25,000,000 drawdown of defense articles and services.

TUNISIA

The conference agreement provides that not less than $7,000,000 shall be made available for Tunisia, of which not less than $5,000,000 shall be provided as a drawdown of defense articles and services and shall count against the overall earmark. The conferees note the strong relationship which exists between Tunisia and the United States and therefore urge the administration to review further the military assistance program for Tunisia to determine if it can be made more effective, particularly in the areas of excess defense articles, IMET and FMF funds.

POLAND, HUNGARY AND THE CZECH REPUBLIC

The conferees direct the Administration to provide not less than $30,000,000 in funds made available for FMF grants and FMF loans for Poland, Hungary, and the Czech Republic to facilitate the integration of these nations into NATO. The conferees remain convinced that this assistance is critical and they reiterate Congress' commitment to assisting these nations in their efforts to integrate fully into NATO and to meet their new military and security obligations as NATO members.

THE BALTIC STATES

In recognition of the continued strong relations which exist between the Baltic states and the United States, the conferees direct the administration to provide not less than $15,300,000 for Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania. These funds are provided to enhance programs aimed at improving the military capabilities of these nations and to strengthen their interoperability and standardization with NATO, including the development of a regional airspace control system. Given progress in economic reform and meeting military guidelines for prospective NATO members, the conferees continue to believe the Baltic States will make an important contribution to enhancing stability and peace in Europe and are strong candidates for NATO membership.

The conference agreement retains House language which provides that the obligation of funds for any non-NATO country participating in the Partnership for Peace shall be subject to notification.

GEORGIA

The conferees welcome the provision of increased Foreign Military Financing assistance to the Government of Georgia in fiscal year 1998 in order to support the transfer of UH-1H helicopters to that country. The conferees believe sufficient funds should be made available in fiscal year 1999 in order to complete the transfer of the helicopters while not negatively affecting the other identified priorities for the United States FMF program in Georgia.

MONGOLIA

The conferees are concerned by problems facing the government of Mongolia in maintaining and upgrading their civilian and military air traffic control systems. Without U.S. assistance the Mongolian government will be forced to rely on Russia to supply spare parts to its aging Russian-origin systems. The conferees encourage the Department of Defense to review means of assisting Mongolia in upgrading its existing Soviet era air traffic control system.

ENHANCED PEACEKEEPING INITIATIVE

The conferees are concerned that the Administration was unable to identify in its fiscal year 1999 Congressional presentation unique activities for the future use of the Enhanced Peacekeeping Initiative resources or potential recipients, other than those already substantially supported by the African Crisis Response Initiative. Justification materials suggest the resources are to be made available for U.N. standby arrangements, activities with little congressional support. The conferees direct that none of these funds shall be made available until the Department of State provides a report to the Committees on Appropriations detailing the Enhanced Peacekeeping Initiative's unique functions and expected beneficiaries.

FMF LOAN PROGRAM

The conference agreement appropriates $20,000,000 as proposed by the House and Senate for the subsidy cost of direct loans. The conference agreement provides that these funds are available to support not to exceed $167,000,000 in direct loans as proposed by the House and the Senate.

PEACEKEEPING OPERATIONS

The conference agreement provides $76,500,000 for peacekeeping operations instead of $62,250,000 as proposed by the House and $75,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement deletes a provision proposed by the Senate regarding the former Director General of the Sinai Multilateral Force and Observers. The conferees expect that the former Director General of the MFO will not be retained in any capacity by the organization.

AFRICAN CRISIS RESPONSE INITIATIVE

The conferees support the full fiscal year 1999 request for the African Crisis Response Initiative. The conferees remain convinced that these funds should be utilized to foster the growth of democracy and the protection of human rights in Africa and should not be directed to undemocratic governments with a history of human rights abuses by their militaries.

TITLE IV—MULTILATERAL ECONOMIC ASSISTANCE

INTERNATIONAL FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS

CONTRIBUTION TO THE INTERNATIONAL BANK FOR RECONSTRUCTION AND DEVELOPMENT

GLOBAL ENVIRONMENT FACILITY

The conference agreement appropriates $192,500,000 instead of $47,500,000 as proposed by the Senate and $42,500,000 as proposed by the House. All these funds are for contributions previously due.

CONTRIBUTION TO THE INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT ASSOCIATION

The conference agreement provides that no funds may be obligated for the International Development Association until the Comptroller General has been provided access to certain records, as proposed by the Senate. Such obligation shall also be subject to a report to the Committee on Appropriations. This requirement is not intended to trigger the provisions of section 634A(c) of the Foreign Assistance Act.

CONTRIBUTION TO THE ASIAN DEVELOPMENT FUND

The conference agreement appropriates $210,000,000 for the Asian Development Fund as proposed by the House instead of $187,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. Of this amount, $187,000,000 is for contributions previously due.

The reduction from the Administration's request for the Seventh Replenishment of the Fund was made solely for budgetary reasons, and does not indicate any lack of Congressional support for ADF VII.

CONTRIBUTION TO THE AFRICAN DEVELOPMENT FUND

The conference agreement appropriates $128,000,000 for the African Development Fund as proposed by the House instead of $5,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. Of this amount, $88,300,000 is for contributions previously due.

INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS AND PROGRAMS

The conference agreement appropriates $187,000,000 instead of $157,250,000 as proposed by the House and $170,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement includes House language on the United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA) that prohibits funding for that organization. The Senate amendment did not address this matter.

The conference agreement includes language indicating that $5,000,000 should be made available for the World Food Program, but does not mandate a minimum funding level as proposed in the Senate amendment. The House bill contained no provision on this matter.

The conference agreement contains Senate language prohibiting the obligation of funds to the Climate Stabilization Fund until 15 days after the State Department provides a report detailing the number of Fund employees and associated salaries and details on the 1998 and 1999 budget for the Fund.

The conferees strongly support the programs of the United Nations Development Program and recognize the need to preserve U.S. leadership in the organization through a strong U.S. investment.

TITLE V—GENERAL PROVISIONS

SEC. 502. PROHIBITION OF BILATERAL FUNDING FOR INTERNATIONAL FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS

The conference agreement deletes the words “as amended” after “Foreign Assistance Act of 1961,” as proposed by the Senate. This is a technical amendment.

SEC. 512. LIMITATION ON ASSISTANCE TO COUNTRIES IN DEFAULT

The conference agreement includes waivers for Brazil and Liberia from the requirements of section 620(q) of the Foreign Assistance Act as proposed by the House. However, the waiver exemption does not apply to the Democratic Republic of Congo as proposed by the House. The Senate amendment had deleted references to all three countries.

SEC. 514. SURPLUS COMMODITIES

The conference agreement includes language similar to that of the Senate amendment that states the Secretary of the Treasury should direct U.S. executive directors to international financial institutions to use the voice and vote of the United States to support the purchase of American produced agricultural commodities. The House bill did not address this issue.

SEC. 515. NOTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS

The conference agreement makes “Child Survival and Disease Programs Fund”, as proposed by the House, subject to the notification requirements of this section. The Senate amendment had deleted the reference to this account and had included the account “Debt restructuring”.

SEC. 516. LIMITATION OF AVAILABILITY OF FUNDS FOR INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS AND PROGRAMS

The conference agreement includes Senate language that amends section 307(a) of the Foreign Assistance Act to include in the section’s restrictions, at the discretion of the President, Communist countries listed in section 620(f) of that Act. The House bill contained a funding limitation on this matter.

SEC. 517. NEW INDEPENDENT STATES OF THE FORMER SOVIET UNION

This section includes routine language formerly included under the heading “Assistance to the New Independent States of the Former Soviet Union”. The conference agreement expands the current investment pre-conditions on assistance to the Government of Russia to all governments in the region, as proposed by the Senate. It also includes two technical adjustments, as proposed by the Senate, relating to a redundant reference to disaster assistance and to use of interest earned by enterprise funds.

SEC. 519. EXCESS DEFENSE ARTICLES FOR CENTRAL EUROPEAN COUNTRIES

The conference agreement includes House language (that was also in section 569 of the Senate amendment) that amends section 105 of Public Law 104–164 by striking “1996 and 1997” and inserting “1999 and 2000”.

SEC. 520. SPECIAL NOTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS

The conference agreement adds “Honduras” as proposed by the House to the list of countries subject to the special notification requirements of this section. Language from the House bill that included “Panama” and “Peru” is not incorporated in the conference agreement, nor is language from the Senate amendment that included “India”.

SEC. 522. CHILD SURVIVAL, AIDS AND OTHER ACTIVITIES

The conference agreement includes language extending the authorities under this section to disease programs. The House and Senate had similar language. In addition, the conference agreement includes House language that provides that funds appropriated under title II may be made available pursuant to section 301 of the Foreign Assistance Act if a primary purpose is child survival and related programs. The Senate amendment did not address this matter.

SEC. 524. RECIPROCAL LEASING

The conference agreement includes Senate language which makes the authorities under this section operative for the “current fiscal year”. The House bill had referred specifically to fiscal year 1999. This is a technical amendment.

SEC. 527. DEMOCRACY IN CHINA

The conference agreement contains House language providing authority to utilize the Economic Support Fund to support nongovernmental organizations located outside China to foster democracy in China. The Senate included no such provision.

Funds should support a broad range of internal and external activities, including, but not limited to, dissident and opposition programs, legislative reforms, and democratic reform of village committee elections. Funding should also include general support for foundations and nongovernmental organizations as well as support for specific democracy activities through nongovernmental organizations. The conferees also support funding for the training and education of Tibetans as proposed in the House report. The conferees believe that this section will not preclude the ongoing programs conducted by nongovernmental organizations in the People’s Republic of China. However, this provision is not intended to be used to support the China Rule of Law program as proposed in the budget request.

SEC. 528. PROHIBITION ON BILATERAL ASSISTANCE TO TERRORIST COUNTRIES

The conference agreement includes Senate language that prohibits funds in this Act from being made available for any country that the President determines grants sanctuary to a terrorist individual or group or otherwise supports international terrorism. The House bill did not address this matter.

SEC. 533. SEPARATE ACCOUNTS

The conference agreement includes Senate language that amends permanent law to clarify the treatment of separate accounts for local currencies which are generated by grants from the United States. The House bill waived current law.

SEC. 537. AUTHORITIES FOR THE PEACE CORPS, THE INTER-AMERICAN FOUNDATION, THE AFRICAN DEVELOPMENT FOUNDATION AND THE INTERNATIONAL FUND FOR AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT

The conference agreement includes Senate language that exempts the International Fund for Agricultural Development (IFAD) from certain restrictions on the use of funds contained in “International Organizations and Programs” in this and prior Acts. The House bill did not address this matter.

SEC. 539. SERBIA-MONTENEGRO AND KOSOVA

The conference agreement includes language that prohibits the use of funds in this or any other Act from modifying or removing any sanction, prohibition or requirement with respect to Serbia-Montenegro unless the President submits to the Congress a certification described below. The agreement also includes language from section 594 of the Senate amendment that requires the Secretary of the Treasury to instruct executive directors of international financial institutions to use the voice and vote of the United States to oppose assistance to Serbia-Montenegro, unless such certification is submitted.

The required certification would state that: (1) there is substantial improvement in the human rights situation in Kosova; (2) international human rights observers are allowed to return to Kosova; (3) Serbian, Serbian-Montenegrin federal government officials, and representatives of the ethnic Albanian community in Kosova have agreed on and begun implementation of a negotiated settlement on the future status of Kosova; and (4) Serbia-Montenegro is in full compliance with the Dayton Accords, including the provisions on war criminals.

The President is provided the authority to waive the restrictions of this section, in whole or in part, if he certifies in writing that the waiver is necessary to meet emergency humanitarian needs or to advance negotiations toward a peaceful settlement of the conflict in Kosova that is acceptable to the parties. In addition, Montenegro is exempt from the restrictions of this section.

The conference agreement contains language from both sections 539 and 594 of the Senate amendment on Serbia-Montenegro. Both of those provisions would have mandated the continuation of sanctions on Serbia-Montenegro, with specified exemptions and certifications required before the sanctions could be removed. The House bill did not address this matter.

SEC. 540. SPECIAL AUTHORITIES

The conference agreement includes House language exempting funds under titles I and II for Montenegro from any other provision of law, but does not include language in the House bill that was deleted by the Senate exempting humanitarian assistance for the peoples of Bosnia and Herzegovina and Croatia from any other provision of law.

The conference agreement includes Senate language that makes funds available for tropical forestry activities notwithstanding any other provision of law and, subject to notification, energy programs aimed at reducing greenhouse gas emissions. The House bill did not address these issues.

The conference agreement includes language proposed by the House in subsection (d) which enables the President to waive section 1003 of Public Law 100-204, relating to prohibitions regarding the Palestinian Liberation Organization, if the President determines that it is important to the national security interests of the United States.

SEC. 541. POLICY ON TERMINATING THE ARAB LEAGUE BOYCOTT OF ISRAEL

The conference agreement includes language proposed by the House which deals with the decision in 1997 by the Arab League to reinstate the boycott of Israel and encourages the President to take certain specific steps in response to this decision. The Senate amendment included similar language.

SEC. 542. ANTI-NARCOTICS ACTIVITIES

The conference agreement contains House language that waives certain provisions of section 534 of the Foreign Assistance Act to allow for administration of justice programs in Latin America and the Caribbean. The Senate amendment would have repealed the provisions that are waived in the conference agreement.

SEC. 543. ELIGIBILITY FOR ASSISTANCE

The conference agreement includes Senate language regarding exemptions from restrictions on certain assistance if carried out by nongovernmental organizations from funds appropriated under the heading "Assistance for Eastern Europe and the Baltic States". The House bill did not address this matter.

SEC. 546. PROHIBITION ON PUBLICITY OR PROPAGANDA

The conference agreement includes language limiting to $750,000 the amount that may be made available to carry out the provisions of section 316 of Public Law 96-533 relating to hunger and development education. The House bill included a limitation of

SEC. 547. PURCHASE OF AMERICAN-MADE EQUIPMENT AND PRODUCTS

The conference agreement includes Senate language that provides that federal agencies to the maximum extent practicable use funds in this Act to purchase American agricultural commodities. The House referred to American-made goods and services, but did not include the additional requirement of the Senate amendment.

The Senate amendment included a provision requiring the Secretary of the Treasury to report on the efforts of all federal agencies and international financial institutions to comply with the requirements of this section. The House bill did not address this matter. The conferees direct that the Office of Management and Budget prepare an annual report on compliance with this section.

SEC. 551. PROHIBITION ON ASSISTANCE TO FOREIGN GOVERNMENTS THAT EXPORT LETHAL MILITARY EQUIPMENT TO COUNTRIES SUPPORTING INTERNATIONAL TERRORISM

The conference agreement provides that the prohibition on assistance applies with respect to a contract entered into after "October 1, 1997" as proposed by the House instead of "after the date of enactment of this Act" as provided by the Senate.

SEC. 554. WAR CRIME TRIBUNALS DRAWDOWN

The conference agreement includes the Senate proposal to increase the drawdown limitation from the House level of $25,000,000 to $30,000,000. It also exempts the tribunals for the former Yugoslavia and Rwanda from notification procedures. The conference agreement includes language from the Senate amendment that discusses the establishment of any standing or permanent international criminal tribunal or court, and states that the authorities provided herein do not constitute an endorsement of such a tribunal or court.

SEC. 555. LANDMINES

The conference agreement retains language proposed by the House. The Senate amendment included a similar provision, with additional language addressing United States policy regarding the global landmine convention.

SEC. 558. EQUITABLE ALLOCATION OF RESOURCES

The conference agreement inserts language providing that not more than 17 percent of the funds appropriated to carry out the provisions of sections 103 through 106 and chapter 4 of part II of the Foreign Assistance Act that are made available for Latin America and the Caribbean region may be made available, through bilateral and regional programs, to provide assistance to any one country in such region. The House bill contained a limitation of 18 percent. The Senate amendment did not address this matter.

SEC. 561. LIMITATION ON ASSISTANCE TO HAITI

The conference agreement inserts a substitute provision limiting assistance to the central Government of Haiti. The House bill was similar to the Senate amendment, but the conference substitute includes a waiver, as proposed by the House, allowing the Secretary of State at any time after 150 days to waive certain limitations if one of the three required major public entities has been completely privatized.

The conference agreement also includes "civic groups" instead of "grass roots civic organizations" as proposed by the Senate. The House bill made no provision for civic groups. With respect to any Congressional notification relating to the development or support of civic groups, the conferees intend that such funding will be limited to groups that are engaged in activities to promote or support a multiparty democratic process and institutions in Haiti.

The limitations on aid to the Government of Haiti in subsection (a) do not apply to provision of urgent humanitarian aid as proposed by the House, instead of all humanitarian and education assistance as proposed by the Senate.

SEC. 564. BURMA LABOR REPORT

The conference agreement contains Senate language, not addressed in the House bill, that requires a report ninety days after enactment on labor practices in Burma and specifies the scope of the report. The conferees note that a report required in the fiscal year 1998 Act that was due 90 days after enactment had not been transmitted by the time the House and Senate took action on this Act for fiscal year 1999.

SEC. 565. HAITI

The conference agreement includes Senate language that provides authority for Haiti to purchase defense articles and services. The House bill did not address this matter.

SEC. 567. LIMITATION ON ASSISTANCE TO THE GOVERNMENT OF CROATIA

The conference agreement includes language proposed by the House that bars use of funds made available to the Government of Croatia in title II to relocate the remains of Croatian Ustashe soldiers to the site of the World War II concentration camp at Jasenovac, Croatia. The Senate amendment did not address this matter.

SEC. 568. LIMITATION ON ASSISTANCE TO SECURITY FORCES

The conference agreement includes House language which prohibits funds in this Act from being provided to any unit of the security forces of a foreign country if the Secretary of State has credible evidence that such unit has committed gross violations of human rights, unless the Secretary determines and reports to the Committees on Appropriations that the government of such country is taking effective measures to bring responsible members of the security forces to justice. The language also provides that nothing in this section shall be construed to withhold funds from any unit not credibly alleged to be involved in gross violations of human rights. In addition, if funds are withheld pursuant to this section, the Secretary is directed to promptly provide to the foreign government the basis for such action and shall, to the maximum extent practicable, assist the foreign government in taking effective measures to bring the responsible members of the security forces to justice.

By “credible evidence” the conferees do not intend that the evidence must be admissible in a court of law. As in past years, by “taking effective measures to bring responsible members of the security forces to justice”, the conferees intend that the government carry out a credible investigation and that the individuals involved face appropriate disciplinary action or impartial prosecution in accordance with local law.

SEC. 569. LIMITATIONS ON TRANSFER OF MILITARY EQUIPMENT TO EAST TIMOR

The conference agreement includes language proposed by the House. The Senate amendment included nearly identical language, deleting the language referring to Indonesia’s inherent right to self-defense which was included in the House bill.

SEC. 570. RESTRICTIONS ON ASSISTANCE TO COUNTRIES PROVIDING SANCTUARY TO INDICTED WAR CRIMINALS

The conference agreement includes language prohibiting bilateral assistance, and the support of the United States for certain multilateral assistance, for countries and entities not in compliance with the war crimes provisions of the Dayton peace accords for the former Yugoslavia. The House bill and the Senate amendment contained similar language.

SEC. 571. ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS RELATING TO STOCKPILING OF DEFENSE ARTICLES FOR FOREIGN COUNTRIES

The conference agreement includes language proposed by the Senate which in subsection (a) amends section 514(b)(2)(A) of the Foreign Assistance Act by authorizing additions to defense stockpiles for foreign countries of $340,000,000 for fiscal year 1999. Subsection (b) amends section 514(b)(2)(B) of the same Act to authorize, for fiscal year 1999, not more than $320,000,000 for stockpiles in the Republic of Korea and not more than $20,000,000 for stockpiles in Thailand. The House bill contained a similar provision on this matter.

SEC. 572. TO PROHIBIT FOREIGN ASSISTANCE TO THE GOVERNMENT OF RUSSIA SHOULD IT ENACT LAWS WHICH WOULD DISCRIMINATE AGAINST MINORITY RELIGIOUS FAITHS IN THE RUSSIAN FEDERATION

The conference agreement includes language proposed by the Senate. The House bill did not address this matter.

SEC. 573. GREENHOUSE GAS EMISSIONS

The conference agreement includes language requiring the President to report on federal expenditures for climate and global change programs and activities. The report is required as part of the President's budget submission for the year 2000. The House bill and Senate amendment contained similar language.

In addition, funds made available to promote country participation in the Kyoto Protocol to the Framework Convention on Climate Change shall be subject to the regular notification procedures of the Committees on Appropriations. The House bill did not address this matter. The Senate amendment would have extended the notification requirement to climate change activities in the energy, industry, urban, and land use sectors.

The conferees understand that the intent of the remaining notification requirement is not to prevent funding for these activities, but rather to ensure that information requested by the Committees relating to the use of these funds is provided on a timely basis.

SEC. 575. AID TO THE GOVERNMENT OF THE DEMOCRATIC REPUBLIC OF CONGO

The conference agreement modifies House and Senate language regarding assistance to the Democratic Republic of Congo. It would prohibit assistance to the central government of the Democratic Republic of Congo until the President reports that said government is: (1) investigating and prosecuting those responsible for human rights violations committed in the Democratic Republic of Congo; and (2) implementing a credible democratic transition program. The restrictions of this section would not apply to assistance to promote democracy and the rule of law as part of a plan to implement a credible democratic transition program.

SEC. 576. ASSISTANCE FOR THE MIDDLE EAST

The conference agreement includes House language that provides for a total ceiling on bilateral assistance from specified accounts for assistance for the Middle East of $5,402,850,000, but allows for a national security waiver of the cap. The Senate amendment did not address this matter.

SEC. 577. ENTERPRISE FUND RESTRICTIONS

The conference agreement includes House language that requires that, prior to the distribution of any assets resulting from any liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of an Enterprise Fund, in whole or in part, the President shall submit a plan for the distribution of the assets of the Enterprise Fund to the Committees on Appropriations in accordance with regular notification procedures. The Senate amendment did not address this matter.

SEC. 578. CAMBODIA

The conference agreement includes House language stating the Secretary of the Treasury should instruct the United States executive directors of international financial institutions to use the voice and vote of the United States to oppose loans to the Government of Cambodia. That portion of the House language that restricts bilateral assistance is addressed under title II.

SEC. 580. AUTHORIZATION FOR POPULATION PLANNING

The conference agreement includes language that provides a limitation of $385,000,000 from funds appropriated in title II of this Act for population planning activities or other population assistance. In addition, such funds may be apportioned only on a monthly basis at a rate of not to exceed 8.34 percent per month. The House bill contained the first provision. The Senate amendment contained language under "Development Assistance" that provided for not less than $435,000,000 for such activities.

SEC. 581. REPORT ON ALL UNITED STATES MILITARY TRAINING PROVIDED TO FOREIGN MILITARY PERSONNEL

The conference agreement includes language proposed by the House and Senate, modified to apply the requirement for a joint Secretary of State and Secretary of Defense report on all military training provided to U.S. military personnel under programs administered by the Department of Defense and the Department of State during 1998 and 1999. The report is to be delivered to the Committees on Appropriations, the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate, and the International Relations Committee of the House by January 31, 1999.

SEC. 582. KOREAN PENINSULA ENERGY DEVELOPMENT ORGANIZATION

The conference agreement provides that not to exceed $35,000,000 of the funds made available under the heading "Non-proliferation, Anti-terrorism, Demining and Related Programs" may be available for the Korean Peninsula Energy Development Organization (KEDO), notwithstanding any other provision of law, only for the administrative expenses and heavy fuel oil costs associated with the Agreed Framework. The House bill prohibited funding to KEDO and the Senate amendment provided $35,000,000 subject to presidential certification.

The conference agreement provides that none of these funds may be made available until March 1, 1999.

The conference agreement further provides that of the funds made available for KEDO, up to $15,000,000 may be made available prior to June 1, 1999, if, thirty days prior to such obligation of funds, the President certifies and so reports to Congress that:

(1) the parties to the Agreed Framework have taken and continue to take demonstrable steps to assure that progress is made on the implementation of the January 1, 1992, Joint Declaration on the Denuclearization of the Korean Peninsula, progress is being made on the implementation of the North-South dialogue, and North Korea is complying with all provisions of the Agreed Framework and with the Confidential Minute between North Korea and the United States;

(2) North Korea is cooperating fully in the canning and safe storage of all spent fuel from its graphite-moderated nuclear reactors;

(3) North Korea has not significantly diverted assistance provided by the United States for purposes for which it was not intended; and

(4) The United States is fully engaged in efforts to impede North Korea's development and export of ballistic missiles.

The conference agreement also provides that of the funds made available for KEDO, up to $20,000,000 may be made available on or after June 1, 1999, if, thirty days prior to such obligation of funds, the President certifies and so reports to Congress that:

(1) The United States has initiated meaningful discussions with North Korea on implementation of the Joint Declaration on the Denuclearization of the Korean Peninsula;

(2) The United States has reached agreement with North Korea on the means for satisfying United States concerns regarding suspect underground construction; and,

(3) The United States is making significant progress in negotiations with North Korea on reducing and eliminating the North Korean ballistic missile threat, including its ballistic missile exports.

The President may waive the certification requirements of subsections (b) and (c) if the President determines that it is vital to the national security interests of the United States and provides written policy justification to the appropriate congressional committees prior to his exercise of such waiver. The conference agreement also provides that no funds may be obligated for KEDO until 30 days after submission to Congress of such waiver.

The conferees agree that a very senior presidential envoy is now necessary to help restore confidence in the Administration's North Korea policy, as well to engage the North Korean government at the most senior levels. Therefore, the conference agreement provides that no later than January 1, 1999, the President shall name a "North Korea Policy Coordinator", who shall conduct a full and complete interagency review of United States policy toward North Korea, shall provide policy direction for negotiations with North Korea related to nuclear weapons, ballistic missiles, and other security related issues, and shall also provide leadership for United States participation in KEDO.

In addition, the conference agreement requires the Secretary of State to submit to the appropriate congressional committees an annual report providing a full and detailed accounting of the fiscal year request for the United States contribution to KEDO as well as other important financial aspects of KEDO activities.

The conference agreement also provides that the Secretary of Defense shall submit to the appropriate congressional committees an annual report on the degree to which KEDO's mission and the Agreed Framework continue to promote important United States national security interests, contribute to delaying North Korean indigenous development of nuclear weapons-related technology, and contribute to a reduction of tensions on the Korean Peninsula.

SEC. 583. NATIONAL ADVISORY COUNCIL ON INTERNATIONAL MONETARY AND FINANCIAL POLICIES

The conference agreement includes Senate language that waives current law affecting the annual report required by section 1701(a) of the International Financial Institutions Act that mandates certain issues to be addressed in that report. It also waives the requirements of various laws governing the contents of said report.

SEC. 584. PROHIBITION ON ASSISTANCE TO THE PALESTINIAN BROADCASTING CORPORATION

The conference agreement includes language proposed by the Senate that prohibits assistance to the Palestinian Broadcasting Corporation. The reference in the Senate provision to "training" and "any similar organization" was deleted.

SEC. 585. REPORT ON IRAQI DEVELOPMENT OF WEAPONS OF MASS DESTRUCTION

The conference agreement contains language similar to that in the Senate amendment that expresses the sense of the Congress regarding the need for the United Nations to maintain vigorous inspection within Iraq and requiring a report by the President assessing Iraq's nuclear and other weapons of mass destruction programs. The House bill did not address this matter.

SEC. 586. SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING IRAN

The conference agreement includes Senate language expressing the Sense of the Congress regarding United States policy toward Iran. The House bill did not address this matter.

SEC. 587. AID OFFICE OF SECURITY

The conference agreement includes language similar to that proposed by the Senate that transfers security functions at the Agency for International Development from the Office of Inspector General to a new Office of Security reporting to the Administrator. The House bill did not address this matter. The conferees expect funds made available to this office through the Office of Inspector General will be made available to the account for the operating expenses of the Agency for International Development, and that the head of the new office will report directly to the Administrator.

SEC. 588. SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING BALLISTIC MISSILE DEVELOPMENT BY NORTH KOREA

The conference agreement includes Senate language that expresses the Sense of the Congress that North Korea should be forcefully condemned for its recent missile test and that certain actions should be taken by the United States, including acceleration of cooperative theater missile defense programs with Japan.

SEC. 589. TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE TO FOREIGN GOVERNMENTS

The conference agreement includes language that amends the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 to authorize the Department of the Treasury to establish and operate a technical assistance program overseas with developing and transitional countries. Funding for this program is contained under title II.

SEC. 590. IRAQ OPPOSITION

The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the Senate that, notwithstanding any other provision of law, of the funds made available in this Act and any prior Acts making appropriations for foreign operations, not less than $8,000,000 shall be made available for assistance to the Iraqi democratic opposition. Of this amount, not less than $3,000,000 should be made available as a grant for the Iraqi National Congress.

The conferees also direct the Administration to provide not less than $3,000,000 as a grant to the Iraqi Campaign to Indict Iraqi War Criminals to be used to compile information to support the indictment of Iraqi officials for war crimes. The conferees direct the Administration to provide not less than $2,000,000 for the conduct of activities by the Iraqi democratic opposition inside Iraq. The conferees also direct the Secretary of State to submit a detailed report to the Committees on Appropriations thirty days after the enactment of this Act on the implementation of these activities.

SEC. 591. NATIONAL COMMISSION ON TERRORISM

The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the House establishing a 10 member National Commission on Terrorism to review national counterterrorism policies and make recommendations to the Congress and the President on combating international terrorism. The Commission will consist of experts in the field of terrorism and may include members of Congress. Three members will be appointed by the Speaker, three by the Senate Majority Leader, two by the Minority Leader in the House, and two by the Minority Leader in the Senate. The Commission will issue its final report within six months of its initial meeting.

Members of this Commission will require appropriate security clearances to carry out the duties of the Commission and the conferees encourage the executive branch to consider Commission requests for security clearances on a priority basis and in a manner fully consistent with all national security requirements.

SEC. 592. SPECIAL AUTHORITIES AMENDMENT

The conference agreement modifies language proposed by the House and provides that the authority of section 614 of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961, as amended, may not be used during fiscal year 1999 for the Korean Peninsula Energy Development Organization to authorize the use of more than $35,000,000 of funds made available for use under that Act or the Arms Export Control Act. Language in the House bill that would have repealed section 451 of the Foreign Assistance Act is not included. The Senate amendment did not address this matter.

The conferees remind the Administration that the section 614 waiver authority is an exceptional provision of law provided to the Administration to enable the President, after prior consultation with the Congress, to waive certain provisions of law because of unexpected contingencies. For some time, the conferees have been concerned by the overuse of this authority. More recently, the conferees are extremely concerned by the administration's use of the 614 provision to waive certain provisions of law over the strong formal objections of two committees of the House and Senate.

The conferees believe the extraordinary 614 waiver should only be utilized when both Congress and the President agree that the application of a specific provision of law, because of unusual or un-anticipated circumstances, would be contrary to the national security interests of the United States. However, when any one of the four relevant committees formally expresses its written opposition to the use of the 614 waiver, then the President should not proceed further unless the President is able to convince an objecting committee to withdraw its objection.

The conferees would note that in 1974 this section of law was nearly repealed at the request of Senator Symington who stated at the time that "Congress has given Presidents entirely too much power to use its foreign aid funds. Repeal of section 614 will be a significant step toward restoring Congress' power over the foreign aid purse-strings." The conferees have not taken that step this year, but the failure of the President to respect the consensual nature of this special authority could jeopardize the availability of section 614 in future years.

SEC. 593. SUPPORT FOR PEACEFUL ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL TRANSITION IN INDONESIA

The conference agreement includes language expressing support for a peaceful economic and political transition in Indonesia that is derived from provisions contained in sections 584 and 585 of the Senate amendment. The House bill did not address this matter.

The conferees support an expansion of current efforts by the Administration to contribute to humanitarian, economic and political programs which will help restore stability and economic growth in Indonesia. The conferees have increased U.S. assistance under title II and note the need to support efforts which offer humanitarian relief, accelerate political institution building, strengthen the rule of law, reform the financial and banking sectors and protect human rights particularly of ethnic Chinese. The conferees are concerned by continued reports of ethnic violence targeting the Indonesian Chinese community and urge the Government of Indonesia to take all necessary actions to investigate abuses and attacks and prevent further violence.

The conferees direct the Administrator of the Agency for International Development to submit a report within forty-five days evaluating the food, medical and related needs of Indonesia and proposed Administration plans to assist in meeting those requirements.

SEC. 594. NOTIFICATIONS ON DEFENSE SALES

The conference agreement includes language proposed by the Senate which requires prior notification of certain sales of defense articles and services when the prospective recipient government is identified in section 521, or is ineligible, in whole or in part, to receive military assistance. The conferees' intent is to ensure that any such sales be consistent with the Congress' intent in limiting assistance to such governments.

SEC. 595. SENSE OF CONGRESS CONCERNING THE MURDER OF FOUR AMERICAN CHURCHWOMEN IN EL SALVADOR

The conference agreement includes Senate language expressing the Sense of Congress regarding the murder of four American churchwomen in El Salvador. The House bill did not address this matter.

SEC. 596. SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING THE TRIAL IN THE NETHER-LANDS OF THE SUSPECTS INDICTED IN THE BOMBING OF PAN AM
FLIGHT 103

The conference agreement includes Senate language expressing the Sense of Congress regarding the trial in the Netherlands of the suspects indicted in the bombing of Pan Am Flight 103. The House bill did not address this matter.

SEC. 597. SENSE OF THE CONGRESS REGARDING INTERNATIONAL CO-OPERATION IN RECOVERING CHILDREN ABDUCTED IN THE UNITED STATES AND TAKEN TO OTHER COUNTRIES

The conference agreement includes Senate language expressing the Sense of the Congress regarding international cooperation in recovering children abducted in the United States and taken to other countries. The House bill did not address this matter.

PROVISIONS NOT ADOPTED BY THE CONFEREES:

NORTH KOREA NARCOTICS REPORT

The conference agreement does not include language from the Senate amendment that required an annual report on the cultivation, production, and transshipment of opium by North Korea, as well as a report not later than 3 months after the date of enactment of this Act. The House bill did not address this matter.

The conferees direct the President to include in the annual International Control Strategy Report required by section 489 of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 (22 U.S.C. 2291(h)) information regarding the cultivation, production, and transshipment of opium by North Korea. The report shall be based upon all available information.

PUBLICATION OF CERTAIN NOTIFICATION

The conference agreement deletes a Senate provision amending section 516(f) of the Foreign Assistance Act to require publication in the Federal Register of the notices required by the subsection relating to transfers of excess defense articles.

The conferees understand that in fiscal year 1999 the Defense Security Assistance Agency plans to post this same information on its internet Web page so it will be easily accessible to the general public. The conferees direct DSAA to provide the Committees on Appropriations with a progress report on this matter by April 1, 1999.

SANCTIONS AGAINST COUNTRIES HARBORING WAR CRIMINALS

The conference agreement does not include House language deleted by the Senate that authorized the President to withhold funds for countries harboring war criminals as described in this section. The issue of war criminals in the former Yugoslavia is addressed in section 570.

FOREIGN ORGANIZATIONS THAT PERFORM OR PROMOTE ABORTION
OVERSEAS; FORCED ABORTION IN THE PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF CHINA

The conference agreement does not include language from section 518A of the House bill regarding this matter. The conference agreement does not include language from section 519 of the Senate amendment, regarding eligibility of assistance for funds made available pursuant to section 104 of the Foreign Assistance Act.

REIMBURSEMENT REQUIREMENTS FOR FOREIGN STUDENTS

The conference agreement does not include Senate language that would have amended section 214 of the Immigration and Nationality Act to allow for a waiver of certain limitations on the ability of an alien to study at a public school. The House bill did not address this matter.

ECONOMIC SUPPORT FUND FOR ISRAEL

The conference agreement deletes Senate language which declared that, subject to the availability of appropriations, it is the policy of the United States that the annual appropriations for ESF for Israel shall not be less than the annual debt repayment of Israel to the United States. The conferees note that this provision is no longer necessary in light of the recent agreement between the Government of Israel and the Administration and the Congress to begin a phased ten year reduction in Israel's economic assistance.

SENSE OF THE SENATE REGARDING UNITED STATES CITIZENS HELD IN PRISON IN PERU

The conference agreement does not include language that expressed the Sense of the Senate regarding U.S. citizens being held in prison in Peru. The House bill did not address this matter.

TRAFFICKING IN WOMEN AND CHILDREN

The conference agreement does not include Senate language that would have required the Secretary of State, in consultation with the Attorney General, to develop training for consular officers on the international trafficking in women and children and to develop and disseminate to aliens seeking to obtain visas written materials describing the potential risks of trafficking. The House bill did not contain a provision on this matter.

DEVELOPMENT ASSISTANCE IN NIGERIA

The conference agreement does not include language proposed by the Senate that made a number of findings on the need for development assistance in Nigeria; recommended a new strategy for such assistance; and required a report on such strategy. The House bill did not address this matter.

COUNTERTERRORISM COOPERATION CERTIFICATION

The conference agreement does not include language proposed by the Senate to amend section 40A of the Arms Export Control Act with respect to counterterrorism cooperation by other nations. This extensive legislation properly belongs in the jurisdiction of the appropriate authorization committees in the House and the Senate.

EQUALITY FOR ISRAEL IN THE UNITED NATIONS

The conference agreement did not include a provision proposed by the Senate expressing the Sense of the Congress regarding efforts by the United States to promote full equality for Israel at the United Nations. The conferees strongly support Israel's full acceptance into the Western Europe and Others Group (WEOG) regional bloc. The conferees therefore direct the Secretary of State, not later than 60 days after the date of enactment of this Act, to submit a report to the appropriate committees which includes the following information in a classified or unclassified form as necessary: (a) actions taken by representatives of the United States to encourage the nations of WEOG to accept Israel into their regional bloc; (b) efforts undertaken by the Secretary General of the United Nations to secure Israel's full and equal participation in that body; (c) specific responses by WEOG nations on their position concerning Israel's acceptance into WEOG; and (d) other measures being undertaken, and which will be undertaken, to ensure and promote Israel's full and equal participation in the United Nations.

FUNDING FOR THE COMPREHENSIVE NUCLEAR TEST BAN TREATY
PREPARATORY COMMISSION

The conference agreement does not include a provision proposed by the Senate earmarking $28,900,000 for the Comprehensive Nuclear Test Ban Treaty Preparatory Commission and making the availability of these funds subject to the regular notification procedures of the Committees on Appropriations. This matter was addressed in title II of this Act under the heading "Nonproliferation, Anti-Terrorism, Demining and Related Programs."

JOINT UNITED STATES-CANADA COMMISSION ON CATTLE, BEEF, AND DAIRY PRODUCTS

The conference agreement does not contain language from the Senate amendment that was not in the House bill that would have established a United States-Canada Commission on Cattle, Beef, and Dairy Products. This matter should be addressed by the committee of jurisdiction.

SENSE OF THE SENATE CONCERNING THE OPERATION OF AGRICULTURAL COMMODITY FOREIGN ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS

The conference agreement does not contain language from the Senate amendment that was not in the House bill expressing the Sense of the Senate on agricultural commodity foreign assistance programs.

FUNDING FOR THE CLAIBORNE PELL INSTITUTE FOR INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS AND PUBLIC POLICY

The conference agreement does not contain Senate language that required not to exceed $750,000 in prior year funds to be made available for the Claiborne Pell Institute for International Relations and Public Policy at Salve Regina University. The House bill did not address this matter. However, the conferees request that the State Department and the Agency for International Development provide up to $1,500,000 of such funds for this purpose.

SENSE OF THE SENATE REGARDING THE DEVELOPMENT BY THE INTER-NATIONAL TELECOMMUNICATIONS UNION OF WORLD STANDARDS FOR WIRELESS TELECOMMUNICATIONS SERVICES

The conference agreement does not contain language from the Senate amendment that was not in the House bill expressing the Sense of the Senate regarding development of wireless telecommunications services by the International Telecommunications Union.

ASSISTANCE FOR SUB-SAHARAN AFRICA

The conference agreement does not contain language from title VII of the Senate amendment that was not in the House bill which would have authorized an African Food Security Initiative to be administered by the Agency for International Development.

TITLE VI—INTERNATIONAL FINANCIAL PROGRAMS AND REFORM

FUNDS APPROPRIATED TO THE PRESIDENT

INTERNATIONAL MONETARY PROGRAMS

UNITED STATES QUOTA IN THE INTERNATIONAL MONETARY FUND

The conference agreement appropriates the dollar equivalent of 10,622,500,000 Special Drawing Rights (estimated at the time of the request to be $14,500,000,000) as proposed by the Senate. The House bill did not address this matter.

LOANS TO THE INTERNATIONAL MONETARY FUND—NEW ARRANGEMENTS TO BORROW

Both the House bill and the Senate amendment appropriated the dollar equivalent of 2,462,000,000 Special Drawing Rights (estimated at the time of the request to be $3,361,000,000) for the proposed New Arrangements to Borrow, a supplemental source of funding for the International Monetary Fund. The conference agreement reflects House language instead of the similar Senate amendment. This is a technical difference.

GENERAL PROVISIONS—THIS TITLE

SEC. 601. CONDITIONS FOR THE USE OF APPROPRIATED FUNDS FOR THE INTERNATIONAL MONETARY FUND

The conference agreement inserts a substitute that contains elements proposed by both the House and the Senate, including a requirement that prior to the obligation of any funds appropriated in this title for the International Monetary Fund, the Secretary of the Treasury must inform Congress that the major shareholders of the Fund have publicly agreed to certain conditions. The conference substitute requires that the Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System jointly notify the appropriate committees of Congress when these conditions have been met, as proposed by the House. The Senate would have required a certification by the Secretary of the Treasury alone. The conference agreement also requires the major shareholders to “act to implement” certain policies, instead of seek to implement, as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement includes 4 conditions that must be met prior to the appropriated funds being made available to the IMF, all of which were included in similar form in the House or the Senate amendment.

POLICY REFORMS IN BORROWING COUNTRIES

The first condition requires that Fund arrangements with borrowing countries, in addition to appropriate monetary policy conditions, provide a schedule for: (a) reducing restrictions on trade in goods and services; (b) eliminating the systemic practice of government directed lending on non-commercial terms; and (c) providing a legal basis for nondiscriminatory treatment between domestic and foreign creditors in bankruptcy proceedings.

TRANSPARENCY IN THE IMF

The second and third conditions seek to accelerate the efforts by management to increase transparency within the International Monetary Fund. A full written summary of most meetings of the Fund’s Executive Board would be made public within 3 months, with certain information redacted. Within 3 months of discussion by the Board, specified Fund documents would be made available, with certain information redacted, as a matter of Fund policy. It should be noted that many of these documents have been made public voluntarily by Fund members within the past year.

INTEREST RATES AND REPAYMENT SCHEDULES

The fourth condition applies to a growing percentage of recent Fund loan arrangements that are made when a country is experiencing balance of payments difficulties resulting from a sudden and disruptive loss of market confidence. Such short term financing needs, as opposed to longer term structural challenges, will be charged a premium above traditional fund interest charges, not less than 300 basis points above the average of the market-based short-term cost of financing of the Fund’s major shareholders. Such loans must be repaid within 1 to 2½ years of disbursement.

SEC. 602. REPORTS ON FINANCIAL STABILIZATION PROGRAMS IN THE REPUBLIC OF KOREA

The conference agreement contains the key provisions of section 606 of the Senate amendment relating to use of Fund resources to assist the semiconductor, steel, automobile, shipbuilding, and textile and apparel industries. The conference substitute requires the United States Executive Director at the Fund to oppose further disbursements in the absence of current certifications by the Secretary of the Treasury. Other changes from the Senate language include: narrowing the application of the section from its prior global application to the country of greatest concern, the Republic of Korea; use of the term "financial assistance" in lieu of the term "support" in the first condition; and deletion of the Department of Commerce trade data team provision.

This section addresses specific practices initiated under previous governments of the Republic of Korea. The conferees seek the rapid recovery of the Korean economy and a speedy end to the hardships endured by many people in Korea. There is no intent to diminish in any way the long-standing ties of friendship and blood that link the peoples of the Republic of Korea and the United States.

SEC. 603. ADVISORY COMMISSION

The conference agreement provides for the establishment of a temporary International Financial Institution Advisory Commission, as proposed by both the Senate and the House. The conference substitute requires the Secretary of the Treasury to establish a commission composed of 11 members meeting specified qualifications to be appointed by Congress. The members shall meet with the Secretary and Deputy Secretary of the Treasury, hold hearings, and examine other matters relevant to its mandate. The Commission is to advise and report within 6 months of its appointment to Congress and the Secretary of the Treasury on the future role and responsibilities of the international financial institutions, the World Trade Organization, and the Bank for International Settlements. Following receipt of the Commission's report, the Executive branch is required to report to Congress on the steps taken, if any, to implement the recommendations of the Commission. The separate, 2-year Advisory Committee on the International Monetary Fund is discussed under Section 610.

SEC. 604. INTERNATIONAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE

As proposed by the House, the conference agreement includes a requirement that the Secretary of the Treasury instruct the U.S. Executive Director at the Fund to seek the establishment of a permanent advisory committee to the Interim Committee of the Fund. The new advisory committee would consist of elected members of national legislatures, and have the same access to Fund documents as is afforded to Executive Board members. The Senate did not address this matter.

SEC. 605. STRENGTHENING PROCEDURES FOR MONITORING USE OF IMF RESOURCES

The conference agreement includes an original provision intended to strengthen Fund procedures for tracing the use of Fund resources and ensuring that they are used in a manner consistent with the agreement between the Fund and a borrowing country. A report on progress toward achieving the objectives of this section is required within 6 months, and Congress is authorized access, through the U.S. Executive Director, to certain data from the Fund. In addition, reports on the implementation of section 601(4) are required on a quarterly basis.

SEC. 606. PROGRESS REPORTS TO CONGRESS ON UNITED STATES INITIATIVES TO UPDATE THE ARCHITECTURE OF THE INTERNATIONAL MONETARY SYSTEM

The conference agreement includes a Senate provision requiring reports by the Secretary of the Treasury not later than July 1999 and July 2000 on the progress of efforts to reform the architecture of the international monetary system. The House bill included a dissimilar provision requiring reports on reform of the architecture of the international financial system.

SEC. 607. DEFINITIONS

The conference agreement includes a House provision defining the term "appropriate committees" to include the Committees on Appropriations, Foreign Relations, and Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs of the Senate and the Committees on Appropriations and Banking and Financial Services of the House of Representatives. The conference agreement does not include the Committee on Finance as proposed by the Senate.

SEC. 608. PARTICIPATION IN QUOTA INCREASE

The conference agreement includes language amending the Bretton Woods Agreements Act, as proposed by the House, to grant the Secretary of the Treasury legal authority to sign the necessary legal documents that enable the IMF quota increase to become effective. The Senate did not address this matter.

SEC. 609. NEW ARRANGEMENTS TO BORROW

The conference agreement includes House language amending the Bretton Woods Agreements Act to incorporate the proposed New Arrangements to Borrow, and to allow broader use of prior year funds made available to the existing General Arrangements to Borrow.

SEC. 610. ADVOCACY OF POLICIES TO ENHANCE THE GENERAL EFFECTIVENESS OF THE INTERNATIONAL MONETARY FUND

The conference agreement includes House language from section 301 of H.R. 3114 as reported by the Committee on Banking and Financial Services. Changes relative to section 607 of the House bill are limited to two matters: the substitution of "establishing an independent monetary authority * * *" in lieu of "ap-appropriate liberalization of pricing, trade, investment, and exchange rate regimes * * *” as a United States policy objective in the Fund; and the abbreviation of language relating to an Advisory Committee on IMF Policy. The conference agreement includes House language relating to the maintenance and improvement of core labor standards. The Senate amendment addressed only the matter of the Advisory Committee.

SEC. 611. REDUCTION OF BARRIERS TO AGRICULTURAL TRADE

The conference agreement includes Senate language aimed at encouraging the opening of markets for agricultural commodities. The House bill did not address this matter in a separate section.

SEC. 612. SEMIANNUAL REPORTS ON FINANCIAL STABILIZATION PROGRAMS LED BY THE INTERNATIONAL MONETARY FUND IN CONNECTION WITH FINANCING FROM THE EXCHANGE STABILIZATION FUND

The conference agreement includes House language from section 401 of H.R. 3114 as reported by the Committee on Banking and Financial Services.

SEC. 613. ANNUAL REPORT AND TESTIMONY ON THE STATE OF THE INTERNATIONAL FINANCIAL SYSTEM, IMF REFORM, AND COMPLIANCE WITH IMF AGREEMENT

The conference agreement includes House bill language from section 403 of H.R. 3114 as reported by the Committee on Banking and Financial Services. The dates of the required annual reports and testimony have been changed to October 1 and March 1.

SEC. 614. AUDITS OF THE INTERNATIONAL MONETARY FUND

The conference agreement includes House bill language from section 404 of H.R. 3114 as reported by the Committee on Banking and Financial Services. The conference agreement adds the Committees on Appropriations to the list of committees receiving annual reports from the Comptroller General.

CONFERENCE TOTAL—WITH COMPARISONS

The total new budget (obligational) authority for the fiscal year 1999 recommended by the committee of conference, with comparisons to the fiscal year 1998 amount, the 1999 budget estimates, and the House and Senate bills for 1999 follow:

New budget (obligational) authority, fiscal year 1998	$13,190,968,080
Budget estimates of new (obligational) authority, fiscal year 1999	31,985,044,980

SECTION 101(e)—THE DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR AND RELATED AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 1999

The conferees on H.R. 4328 agree with the matter inserted in this subsection of this conference agreement and the following description of this matter. This matter was developed through negotiations on the differences in the House and Senate versions (H.R. 4193 and S. 2337) of the Department of the Interior and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 1999, by members of the appropriations subcommittees of both the House and Senate with jurisdiction over H.R. 4193 and S. 2337.

The conference agreement with respect to fiscal year 1999 appropriations for the Department of the Interior and Related Agencies incorporates some of the provisions of House Report 105-609 and Senate Report 105-227. Report language and allocations set forth in either of those reports, which are not changed by the conference agreement, are approved. The agreement described herein, while repeating some report language for emphasis, does not negate the language referenced above unless expressly provided. Administrative provisions and general provisions which are identical in the House passed version of H.R. 4193 and the Senate Appropriations Committee reported version of S. 2237 are unchanged by the conference agreement and are approved unless provided to the contrary herein.

TITLE I—DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

BUREAU OF LAND MANAGEMENT

MANAGEMENT OF LANDS AND RESOURCES

The conference agreement provides $619,311,000 for management of lands and resources instead of $596,425,000 as proposed by the House and $633,058,000 as proposed by the Senate.

Increases above the House include $50,000 for the Sloan Petroglyphs, $350,000 for erosion control structures for the Rio Puerco, $500,000 for the Pacific Northwest range study, $583,000 for the wild horse and burro program, $106,000 in uncontrollable costs for wildlife and fisheries, $58,000 in uncontrollable costs for the threatened and endangered species program, $369,000 in uncontrollable costs for energy and minerals, $500,000 in Alaska minerals for the minerals at risk program, $500,000 for the Alaska airborne survey, $2,334,000 for Alaska conveyance, $750,000 for the Montana mapping program, $409,000 in uncontrollable costs for workforce and organizational support for resource protection and maintenance, $2,715,000 for facilities maintenance, $829,000 in uncontrollable costs, and $50,000 to restore a program transfer in workforce and organizational support.

In addition to the increases stated above, the Committees have provided the following additional funds for clean water and fixed costs: (1) $6,000,000 in soil, water, and air for the mine lands program, (2) $3,000,000 for riparian management, (3) $1,000,000 for the fisheries program, and (4) $5,000,000 in undistributed fixed costs.

Decreases below the House include $1,000,000 for the mine land program, $500,000 for riparian management, $475,000 for wildlife management, and $242,000 in uncontrollable costs for realty ownership and management.

The Committees do not concur with the Senate language regarding the Red Rocks National Conservation Area; however, the Committees emphasize that funds collected at the site should be used to enhance operations, reduce backlog maintenance, and provide an improved visitor experience.

The Committees do not concur with the Senate language that proposed an earmark of $750,000 for the Coeur d'Alene Basin Commission. Although the Committees agree that cleanup of mining-related damage within the Coeur d'Alene Basin is needed, such efforts are not appropriate to fund through the Interior and Related Agencies Appropriations Bill.

The Committees have approved the collocation of the Bureau of Land Management and the Forest Service in the Robert Duncan Plaza in Portland, OR and direct the Bureau to undertake this collocation as soon as possible.

The $750,000 provided for the Montana mapping project represents a significant Federal contribution to this project. The Committees expect substantial effort to minimize future Federal contributions through major participation by State, local and private cooperators.

The Committees feel so strongly about the land management agencies maintaining their infrastructure, that even in the face of declining budgetary resources, the Committees have provided the Bureau with an additional $6.5 million over the fiscal year 1998 enacted level to address its backlog maintenance needs.

The Committees agree to clarify the dates for which reports analyzing the fee program are due. January 31 of each year the program is in existence, the affected agencies should provide a consolidated report on annual accomplishments for the preceding fiscal year and any recommended improvements to the program. At such time as the program is terminated, the final report should also include a comprehensive evaluation of the entirety of the program.

WILDLAND FIRE MANAGEMENT

The conference agreement provides $286,895,000 for wildland fire management as proposed by the House instead of $288,975,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The Committees do not concur with the Senate earmark that would have provided for a new Alaska hotshot crew.

CENTRAL HAZARDOUS MATERIALS FUND

The conference agreement provides $10,000,000 for the central hazardous materials fund as proposed by the House instead of $9,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

CONSTRUCTION

The conference agreement provides $10,997,000 for construction instead of $6,975,000 as proposed by the House and $8,197,000 as proposed by the Senate.

Increases above the House include $1,000,000 for the Escalante National Monument visitor facility, $2,000,000 for the Pompeys Pillar visitor facility, and $1,022,000 for the Coldfoot multiagency visitor facility.

PAYMENTS IN LIEU OF TAXES

The conference agreement provides $125,000,000 for payments in lieu of taxes as proposed by the Senate instead of $140,000,000 as proposed by the House.

LAND ACQUISITION

The conference agreement provides $14,600,000 for land acquisition instead of $10,000,000 as proposed by the House and $15,650,000 as proposed by the Senate. The Committees agree to the following distribution of funds:

State and Project	Amount
MT—Beaverhead River	$750,000
CA—Cache Creek	500,000
CO—Grand Mesa Slopes	700,000
CO—Gunnison Basin	800,000
ID—Idaho Lands Project	700,000
CA—King Range NCA	1,000,000
WA—Lopez Island	1,000,000
CA—Otay Mts./Kuchamaa	1,850,000
CA—Santa Rosa Mts. NSA	1,000,000
ID—Upper Snake/S. Fork Snake River	750,000
UT—Washington Co. HCP	1,000,000
OR—West Eugene Wetlands	750,000
Subtotal	10,800,000
Emergency/Hardships/Inholdings	800,000
Acquisition Management	3,000,000
Total	14,600,000

The Committees are modifying the reprogramming guidelines regarding land exchanges. The agencies must submit proposed land exchanges in excess of $500,000 to the Committees on Appropriations for a 30 day period of review.

OREGON AND CALIFORNIA GRANT LANDS

The conference agreement provides $97,037,000 for Oregon and California grant lands instead of $98,407,000 as proposed by the House and $94,791,000 as proposed by the Senate.

Decreases below the House include $627,000 for uncontrollable costs, $645,000 for resources management, $87,000 for information systems, and $11,000 for construction.

RANGE IMPROVEMENTS

The conference agreement provides an indefinite appropriation for range improvements of not less than $10,000,000 as proposed by the House and Senate.

SERVICE CHARGES, DEPOSITS, AND FORFEITURES

The conference agreement provides an indefinite appropriation for service charges, deposits, and forfeitures which is estimated to be $8,055,000 as proposed by the House instead of $7,226,000 as proposed by the Senate.

MISCELLANEOUS TRUST FUNDS

The conference agreement provides an indefinite appropriation of $8,800,000 for miscellaneous trust funds as proposed by the House and Senate.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS

The Committees have reauthorized the hard rock mining holding fee through fiscal year 2001 and have included new language that provides for a 60 day period to correct any defects to small miner waiver applications.

UNITED STATES FISH AND WILDLIFE SERVICE

RESOURCE MANAGEMENT

The conference agreement provides $661,136,000 for resource management instead of $607,106,000 as proposed by the House and $624,019,000 as proposed by the Senate. Changes to the House recommended level for the endangered species program include an increase of $400,000 for Alabama sturgeon and a decrease of $400,000 for ESA reform in candidate conservation; a decrease of $500,000 for program activities in listing; an increase of $50,000 for program activities in consultation; increases of $500,000 for the Bruneau hot springs snail in Idaho, $25,000 for program activities, $20,000,000 for salmon and steelhead recovery in the State of Washington and $5,000,000 for the ESA landowner incentive program; and a decrease of $400,000 for ESA reform in recovery. In habitat conservation changes to the House include: (1) for the partners for fish and wildlife program, increases of $3,000,000 for program activities associated with the clean water initiative, $300,000 for Washington salmon enhancement and $250,000 for Hawaii ESA community conservation and a decrease of $100,000 for program activities and (2) for project planning, an increase of $100,000 for the Middle Rio Grande Bosque Consortium and a decrease of $400,000 for FERC relicensing activities. Other program changes to the House include an increase of $55,000 for Mason Valley, NV water quality monitoring in the environmental contaminants program; a decrease of $500,000 for the refuge operations backlog and an increase of $500,000 for the refuge maintenance backlog in refuge operations and maintenance; increases of $400,000 for implementing the U.S./Canada migratory bird treaty, $1,000,000 for a National program to address Canada goose depredation and $100,000 for rural Alaska workshops and lead shot exchange programs in migratory bird management; an increase of $50,000 for fresh water mussels in hatchery operations and maintenance; and increases of $800,000 for fish passage facilities, $600,000 for a prototype machine to mark hatchery reared salmon at the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife and $200,000 for the National fish health survey in fish and wildlife management. In general administration changes to the House include an increase of $750,000 for the National Conservation Training Center and an increase of $250,000 for the Russia initiative in the international affairs program of which $50,000 is for the State of Alaska. The Committees have not agreed to the transfer of funds to the construction account for major bridge and road maintenance as proposed by the House.

The conference agreement includes bill language earmarking the Endangered Species Act listing program at $5,756,000 instead of $6,256,000 as proposed by the House and $5,156,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The Committees agree to the following:

1. The funding included in the candidate conservation account for activities associated with the Prebles meadow jumping mouse may be reprogrammed, as appropriate, to the recovery program.

2. There is no specific increase for the Clark County, NV habitat conservation plan in the consultation program. The Committees expect the Service to continue to work with communities like Clark County, NV and El Dorado County, CA to support endangered species efforts.

3. Within the base budget there is $100,000 for wolf monitoring in Yellowstone NP and the Frank Church River of No Return Wilderness.

4. The funds provided for salmon and steelhead recovery efforts in Washington State are to be administered by the Salmon Recovery Office in the Office of the Governor. That office will provide allocations to local governments for salmon and steelhead projects and activities that contribute to the recovery of these species. Funds should be divided as follows: $2,800,000 for the Puget Sound North Sub-region, $8,800,000 for the Central Puget Sound Sub-region, $2,500,000 for the Southwest Puget Sound Sub-region; $2,800,000 for the Lower Columbia River Recovery Region, $300,000 for the Southwest Washington Recovery Region, $800,000 for the Upper Columbia River Recovery Region, $800,000 for the Middle Columbia River Recovery Region and $950,000 for the Snake River Recovery Region. Up to one percent of the total may be used by the State for administrative costs. The State shall also commit to a minimum of 25 percent in matching funds.

5. Of the $250,000 provided in habitat conservation for Hawaii community conservation programs, $100,000 is for palila bird recovery in conjunction with the Saddle Road project on the Island of Hawaii.

6. The $100,000 increase in habitat conservation for the Middle Rio Grande Bosque program restores the fiscal year 1998 base level of $550,000 and provides for a one-time grant of $50,000 to the State consortium.

7. In establishing priorities for the distribution of the $1,000,000 increase provided in migratory bird management for Canada goose depredation, the Service should consider the problems associated with dusky Canada geese in Washington and Oregon.

8. The increase in hatchery operations and maintenance for fresh water mussels is to support hatchery activities related to the growth, preservation and reintroduction of fresh water mussels and the involvement of hatchery expertise in regional ecosystem teams.

9. Within the increase provided for fish passage facilities in fish and wildlife management, there is no earmark for any specific program. The Service should consider the Tahuya River in establishing priorities for the distribution of these funds.

10. Within available funds, the Service should conduct a feasibility study on the removal of fish passage barriers on Icicle Creek near the Leavenworth National Fish Hatchery, WA. The cost of this study should not exceed $30,000.

11. The $750,000 increase provided for the National Conservation Training Center is for start-up and partial year operating costs for a third dormitory at the Center. These funds are needed because dormitory construction is ahead of schedule, and it is expected to open in fiscal year 1999. The Service should request the funds necessary for full year operations in the fiscal year 2000 budget request.

12. The earmark for the Hood Canal Salmon Enhancement Group is $100,000.

13. There are no specific earmarks for a study of sea otter decline in the Aleutian chain or for an education campaign on the Yukon River Salmon Treaty. The Service should consider these needs in the context of its overall priorities.

14. Within the funds provided, the Service may pursue its planned wildlife inventory projects in the Kenai NWR, Innoko NWR, Yukon Flats NWR and Nowitna NWR, AK.

15. The Alaska Nanuq Commission, the Alaska Sea Otter Commission and the Eskimo Walrus Commission should be funded at the fiscal year 1998 level for cooperative activities authorized under section 119 of the Marine Mammal Protection Act.

16. The budget includes continued support for the Nevada biodiversity research and conservation initiative in the partners for fish and wildlife program.

17. By January 31 of each year the recreation fee demonstration program is in effect, the Service should provide a consolidated report on annual accomplishments for the preceding fiscal year and any recommended improvements to the program. At such time as the program is terminated, the final report should include a comprehensive evaluation of the entirety of the program.

18. The Committees are pleased that the Administration has endorsed the Congressionally-initiated backlog maintenance reduction program and note that, in addition to the large funding increase provided for backlog maintenance reduction in this Act, the Committees recently earmarked $20,000,000 in Title V funding from the fiscal year 1998 appropriation to be used to address the Service's maintenance backlog.

CONSTRUCTION

The conference agreement provides $50,453,000 for construction instead of $66,100,000 as proposed by the House and $48,734,000 as proposed by the Senate. Funds are to be distributed as follows:

Location or activity	Description	Amount
ACE Basin NWR, SC	Parking, bathrooms & kiosks	$250,000
Alaska Maritime NWR, AK	Design and construction	860,000
Alligator River NWR, NC	Milltail Bridge	498,000
Atchafalaya NWR, LA	Big Al #2 Bridge	500,000
Bear River NWR, UT	Dikes, grassland habitat, education center	2,000,000
Bitter Lake NWR, NM	Replace 2 bridges	253,000
Carolina Sandhills NWR, SC	Replace 2 bridges	536,000

Location or activity	Description	Amount
Catahoula NWR, LA	Shop building	300,000
Columbia NWR, WA	Potholes Canal Bridge	450,000
Craig Brook NFH, ME	Rehabilitation	3,300,000
Creston NFH, MT	Jessup Mill Dam	2,200,000
Deep Fork NWR, OK	Public access and trails	185,000
Dexter NFH, NM	Phase III construction	2,683,000
Discovery Center, MO	Education & conservation program	500,000
Erie NWR, PA	Erie Dam No. 9	1,100,000
Hanalei NWR, HI	Water supply for taro fields	250,000
Hatchie NWR, TN	Log Landing Slough Bridge	66,000
Hatchie NWR, TN	Windrow Loop/Bear Creek Bridge	83,000
Iron River NFH, WI	Storage building	825,000
Kenai NWR, AK	Roads/intersections	250,000
Klamath Basin NWR, CA	Water facilities	3,600,000
Lacassine NWR, LA	Shop building	750,000
Laguna Atascosa NWR, TX	Bridge rehabilitation	55,000
Lower Rio Grande Valley NWR, TX	Bridge rehab. & replacement	270,000
Madison WMD, SD	Heating system, office rehabilitation	500,000
Makah NFH, WA	Salmon spawning structure	2,570,000
Mammoth Spring NFH, AR	Pond structures	450,000
McKinney Lake NFH, NC	McKinney Lake Dam	700,000
Mingo NWR, MO	Replace bridges	702,000
Mississquoi NWR, VT	HQ planning & construction	2,000,000
National Blackfooted Ferret Conservation Center, CO ..	Construction	1,800,000
North Attleboro NFH, MA	Reconstruction (generator replacement)	325,000
Okefenokee NWR, GA	Visitors center renovation	1,000,000
Orangeburg NFH, SC	Orangeburg Substation Dam	700,000
Ridgefield NWR, WA	Shop building	450,000
Sabine NWR, LA	Boathouse	550,000
Sequoyah NWR, OK	Bridge rehabilitation	160,000
Sequoyah NWR, OK	Repairs and roads	575,000
Sherburne NWR, MN	Shop buildings	945,000
Silvio Conte NWR	Colebrook interp ctr in NH	250,000
Southeast Louisiana Refuges	Building repairs	1,000,000
Tern Island NWR, Pacific	Replace/repair seawall	1,000,000
Togiak NWR, AK	Fourplex residence	1,216,000
Welaka NFH, FL	Ponds & cache basins	530,000
White River NWR, AR	Administrative building w/visitor contact	1,000,000
White Sulphur Springs NFH, WV	Rehabilitation	150,000
Wichita Mountains NWR, OK	Bridge rehab. & replacement	220,000
Wichita Mountains NWR, OK	Gamma Lake & Comanche Dams	1,100,000
Wichita Mountains NWR, OK	Roads	1,564,000
Service-wide bridge safety inspections	495,000
Service-wide dam safety inspections	495,000
Construction Management	6,242,000
Total	50,453,000

The Committees agree to the following:

1. The funding provided for the Alaska Maritime NWR, AK is to complete design of an administrative building with a visitor contact area. No funds are to be used for design of additional support buildings or facilities. The total cost of the project should not exceed $10,000,000, and within that amount, the cost of exhibits, furnishings and any outdoor interpretation aids associated with the visitor contact portion of the building should be paid for with non-Federal funds.

2. The funding for the Dexter NFH, NM completes the construction at that hatchery and no further Federal construction funding will be required for the project.

3. The funding for the Hanalei NWR, HI completes the water delivery facilities for that refuge, and no further Federal funding will be required for the project.

4. The funding for the Colebrook interpretive center in NH is provided on a one-time only basis. This facility is not located on property within the Silvio Conte NWR.

5. The funding provided for the White River NWR, AR is for construction of an Administrative building with a visitor contact area at the refuge. The cost of exhibits, furnishings and any outdoor interpretation aids associated with the visitor contact portion of the building should be paid for with non-Federal funds.

6. The Service should work with the Navy Seabees to develop a cooperative effort for the repair/replacement of the seawall at Tern Island in the Pacific. The total cost of this project, assuming cooperation with the Navy on the transport of materials, should be reported to the Committees no later than January 15, 1999. The fiscal year 2000 budget request should include a status report on the project including a proposed plan to implement the seawall replacement on a phased funding basis.

7. Funding for major safety repairs to bridges and roads has not been transferred to the construction account from the resource management account as proposed by the House.

8. The fiscal year 2000 budget should address the feasibility of constructing a cost-shared indoor eagle viewing and educational facility at the National Eagle Center in MN within the context of overall Service priorities.

9. No funding is provided for constructing a biocontainment facility in MT, as proposed by the Senate, for research on contagious diseases that can impact domestic livestock. The lead agency for such a project should be the U.S. Department of Agriculture. There is no objection to the Service serving in a consultative role for this project.

10. The Service is strongly urged to use local hires to the maximum extent practicable in constructing the fourplex residence at the Togiak NWR, AK.

LAND ACQUISITION

The conference agreement provides $48,024,000 for land acquisition instead of $30,000,000 as proposed by the House and $62,120,000 as proposed by the Senate. The Committees agree to the following distribution of funds:

State and Project	Amount
LA—Atchafalaya River Bsn. (LA Black Bear)	$1,000,000
TX—Attwater Prairie Chicken NWR	1,000,000
VA—Back Bay NWR	1,000,000
CA—Bair Island (Don Edwards NWR)	1,500,000
TX—Balcones Canyonlands NWR	1,500,000
WA—Black River (Nisqually NWR)	750,000
AL—Bon Secour NWR	1,000,000
PR—Cabo Rojo Salt Flats NWR	1,000,000
WV—Canaan Valley NWR	1,200,000
NJ—Cape May NWR	1,000,000
KY—Clarks River NWR	500,000
NJ—E.B. Forsythe NWR	750,000
AL—Grand Bay NWR	750,000
MA—Great Meadows NWR	1,750,000
OR—Klamath Forest Marsh NWR	100,000

State and Project	Amount
NH—Lake Umbagog NWR	1,800,000
FL—Lake Wales Ridge NWR	1,000,000
TX—Lower Rio Grande NWR	2,000,000

CA—San Diego NWR	3,000,000
LA—SE Louisiana Refuges	1,000,000
VT/CT/NH/MA—Silvio O. Conte NWR	3,174,000
CT—Stewart McKinney NWR (Ram Isld)	1,600,000
LA—Tensas River NWR	750,000
TX—Trinity River NWR	500,000
SC—Waccamaw NWR	1,750,000
NJ—Wallkill NWR	1,000,000
WI—Whittlesey Creek NWR	650,000
Subtotal	36,774,000
Emergencies/hardships	1,000,000
Inholdings	750,000
Exchanges	1,000,000
Acquisition management	8,500,000
Total	48,024,000

The Committees have provided a total of $2,000,000 for acquisition of timberlands within the Bailey Tract located in the proposed Atchafalaya National Wildlife Refuge. $1,000,000 was recently provided from fiscal year 1998 Title V money and $1,000,000 is contained in this bill. The Committees strongly urge the Service to conduct public hearings and solicit input from the local communities on the creation of this refuge. It is the intent of the Committees that any funds appropriated for this refuge will not have an adverse impact on commercial activities pending the approval and release of a final report.

The conference agreement earmarks $1,500,000 for the Bair Island acquisition in the Don Edwards NWR. It is the Committees' clear intent that the existing public trail which runs along the levy, parallel to Bay Shore Freeway, remains open.

The Committees have provided a total of $2,000,000 for the Cabo Rojo acquisition, $1,000,000 of which was recently provided from fiscal year 1998 Title V money and $1,000,000 is contained in this bill. It is the Committees' intention to complete this project before December 31, 1998, from within the balance of Title V funds.

The Committees have not included funds for the Texas Chenier Plain which includes four National Wildlife Refuges in three counties in Texas. The Service is directed not to provide any funds for these areas.

The Committees have provided $1,000,000 to purchase the Howard property near the Ottawa National Wildlife Refuge in Ohio. These funds are contingent on an equal match with State or private funds.

The Committees are modifying the reprogramming guidelines regarding land exchanges. The agencies must submit proposed land exchanges in excess of $500,000 to the Committees on Appropriations for a 30 day period of review.

COOPERATIVE ENDANGERED SPECIES CONSERVATION FUND

The conference agreement provides $14,000,000 for the cooperative endangered species conservation fund instead of $15,000,000 as proposed by the House and $34,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. The change to the House recommended level is a decrease of $1,000,000 for habitat conservation plan land acquisition. The $20,000,000 proposed by the Senate for grants to the State of Washington for salmon and steelhead recovery is addressed in the Resource Management account.

NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGE FUND

The conference agreement provides $10,779,000 for the National wildlife refuge fund as proposed by both the House and the Senate.

NORTH AMERICAN WETLANDS CONSERVATION FUND

The conference agreement provides $15,000,000 for the North American wetlands conservation fund instead of $12,700,000 as proposed by the House and $15,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. Increases above the House include $2,210,000 in habitat management and $90,000 in administration.

WILDLIFE CONSERVATION AND APPRECIATION FUND

The conference agreement provides $800,000 for the wildlife conservation and appreciation fund as proposed by both the House and the Senate.

MULTINATIONAL SPECIES CONSERVATION FUND

The conference agreement provides $2,000,000 for the multinational species conservation fund instead of $2,400,000 as proposed by the House and $1,900,000 as proposed by the Senate. Funds should be distributed as follows:

African elephants	$1,000,000
Rhinoceros and tigers	500,000
Asian elephants	500,000
	<hr/>
Total	2,000,000

The conference agreement makes minor technical corrections to the appropriations language to clarify that donations and penalties deposited in the fund are available without further appropriation.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS

The conference agreement makes two technical corrections to administrative provisions. The first involves using the term “inserting” as proposed by the House instead of “adding” as proposed by the Senate in language dealing with amending the Marine Mammal Protection Act. The second specifies that the current re-programming guidelines are contained in Senate Report 105-56.

TECHNICAL CORRECTIONS

The conference agreement includes a modification to technical corrections as proposed by the House to remove certain properties in Florida and South Carolina from the Coastal Barrier Resources System. These properties include 25 acres in Pumpkin Key, FL, 12 acres in Ocean Reef, FL and 18 acres in Huntington Beach, SC. The modification corrects the reference date for the relevant map for the Florida property. Other removals from the system are addressed under General Provisions—Department of the Interior and under Title III—General Provisions.

NATIONAL PARK SERVICE

OPERATION OF THE NATIONAL PARK SYSTEM

The conference agreement provides $1,285,604,000 for operation of the National park system instead of $1,333,328,000 as proposed by the House and $1,288,903,000 as proposed by the Senate. The agreement provides $228,819,000 for Resource Stewardship instead of $228,790,000 as proposed by the House and $229,818,000 as proposed by the Senate. Changes to the House level include increases of $1,279,000 for special need parks and $750,000 for Vanishing Treasures and a decrease of $2,000,000 for Inventory and Monitoring. Within available funds, $400,000 is for additional continuing support for Heritage Preservation public education and training.

The conference agreement provides $301,238,000 for Visitor Services instead of $301,663,000 as proposed by the House and $302,538,000 as proposed by the Senate. Changes to the House level include increases of $475,000 for special need parks and $500,000 for the park police and decreases of $200,000 for the overflights initiative and $1,200,000 for risk assessments.

The conference agreement provides $411,930,000 for maintenance instead of $447,159,000 as proposed by the House and $401,930,000 as proposed by the Senate. Changes to the House level include an increase of $771,000 for special need parks and a decrease of $36,000,000 for maintenance. The Committee directs the Service to do the following maintenance projects within available funds: $300,000 for Central High School, AR, $200,000 for Fort Sumter, SC, and $390,000 for San Antonio Missions, TX.

The Committees are pleased that the Administration has finally endorsed the congressionally initiated program to reduce backlog maintenance in the parks. The Committees continue to place a high priority on this initiative and the Congress has provided nearly $1 billion for this purpose since fiscal year 1996. In addition, the Committees created a Recreational Fee Demonstration Program which will provide over $450,000,000 to the National Park Service over the life of the five-year program. Also, the Committees provided $20,000,000 for backlog projects on September 5, 1998, from the fiscal year 1998 Title V funds. The Committees note that the reduction from the House level for maintenance is more than offset by the release of Title V funding and the extension of the Recreational Fee Demonstration Program and encourage the Service and the Administration to work with them to implement this many-faceted approach to addressing a serious problem. The answer to the problem cannot be appropriations alone. Management and financial accountability improvements in the Service are desperately needed to achieve the goal of a realistic and manageable maintenance backlog.

The conference agreement provides $238,929,000 for Park support instead of $238,128,000 as proposed by the House and $239,929,000 as proposed by the Senate. Changes to the House level include increases of $326,000 for special need parks and $475,000 for the Lewis and Clark Trail. This $475,000 includes $175,000 for challenge cost-share grants, $140,000 for a partnership agreement and $160,000 for technical assistance and planning.

The conference agreement has deleted the $12,500,000 for the Denver Service Center base funding as proposed by the House from the operations account and provided funds under Park Service construction. The conference agreement also deletes the $10,000,000 across the board increase proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement provides $104,688,000 for External Administrative costs as proposed by the Senate instead of $105,088,000 as proposed by the House. The change to the House level is a reduction of $400,000 for FTS 2000.

The Committees recognize that Yosemite National Park has a serious bear management problem and that current funding has not been sufficient to deal with the estimated 600 bears in the park and the 4 million people who visit the park annually. Therefore, the conference agreement earmarks $500,000 within available funds for the bear management program in Yosemite National Park.

The Committees agree to clarify the dates for which reports analyzing the fee program are due. By January 31 of each year the program is in existence, the Service should provide a consolidated report on annual accomplishments for the preceding fiscal year and any recommended improvements to the program. At such time as the program is terminated, the final report should also include a comprehensive evaluation of the entirety of the program.

The Committees are concerned about the findings of a recent GAO report that raises several concerns about the new fee program. While finding the Recreational Fee Demonstration Program a success with the general public, the report criticized the Service for generating the greatest revenue yet expending only 17 percent from the period October 1, 1996 to March 31, 1998. The study recommends that the Secretary of the Interior look for further opportunities to experiment and innovate with new and existing fees and work more closely with the Secretary of Agriculture to improve services for visitors by better coordinating their fee activities. The Committees strongly urge the Service to improve greatly the rate at which fee monies are put to work on the ground in the parks and to take very seriously the Committees' long-standing directive to place signage in the parks which thanks the public and describes how their fees are being used. The Committees were disappointed that this directive was, to a large extent, ignored this past summer, particularly in the larger parks.

The Committees continue to express concern over the unsafe conditions at the intersection of Routes 29 and 234 in the Manassas National Battlefield Park, Prince William County, Virginia which remain hazardous to local residents and visitors of the park traveling through the intersection. However, the Committees are aware and encouraged that an "intersection task force" was convened in April 1998 to develop a compromise resolution to the problem of safety and traffic capacity at the intersection.

The task force consists of representatives from the Virginia Department of Transportation (VDOT), the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA), the National Park Service, the American Automobile Association, Prince William County officials, and local citizens. The Committees have been advised that the task force is in the process of developing a memorandum of understanding (MOU) in a three-phased approach to resolve the problems at the intersection.

Phase one calls for traffic signal improvements; clearing vegetation from intersection approaches; relocating the existing Stone House parking lot; improving the traffic enforcement; developing safe pull-off areas for law enforcement; reducing speed limits; providing grooved surfaces and signs at the park entrance to alert visitors they are entering the park and to alert travelers of the approaching intersection.

Phase two will be initiated only after an objective determination that phase one improvements have failed to address the problem. The intersection will be monitored regularly, and it is expected that the task force will reconvene to evaluate phase one. Phase two will consist of some regrading of Route 234, widening of both approaches of Route 29, and the consideration of accommodating additional turn lanes.

Phase three calls for the Service to seek funding and work with VDOT, FHWA, and Prince William County towards the closure of Routes 29 and 234 and to provide alternative routes for traffic now traveling through the Park as called for in Public Law 100-647. The Committees recognize that safety concerns at the Routes 29 and 234 intersection have been a long-standing problem for the park and surrounding community. The Committees strongly encourage the Service and VDOT to continue to work together to finalize and approve an MOU, adhere to the terms of the agreement and implement the actions as outlined. The Service should conduct a bypass study as called for in Public Law 100-647.

The Committees direct the Service to expand its official budget justification for fiscal year 2000 to include a new park summary section which lists the units of the system by the nineteen National Park System designations. This new summary should begin with the National Parks.

The conference agreement includes language in Title I General Provisions which ensures that property owners included within the boundaries of the Indiana Dunes National Lakeshore at the time of the 1992 Act that expanded the park are afforded the same opportunities to obtain fixed-term Reservations of Use and Occupancy as homeowners that were incorporated in previous expansions.

The Committees have deleted language requiring the Service to consider options for establishing a jet-capable runway near the entrance to Denali National Park and Preserve, but note the proximity of jetports to the entrance of other National parks, such as Wrangell-St. Elias NP&P at Glenallen, Alaska and Katmai NP&P at King Salmon, Alaska, where the National Park Service keeps administrative offices.

The Committees have once again provided $600,000 in base funding for new mineral examiners at the Mojave National Preserve. This same amount and direction was included in Public Law 105-83. The Committees have learned that the Service did not comply with the clear congressional intent and used the funding for other units as well as for the Denver-based Geological Resources Division. The Service has informed the Committees that there are over 2,000 mining claims within or in close proximity to the Mojave National Preserve. The Service explained that mineral examiners are needed on site to process these claims and establish valid existing rights. Service officials expressed to the Committees that this was the most challenging issue confronting the newly established unit. The Congress responded but the Service chose to not comply with congressional direction. Therefore, the Committees have included statutory language to ensure that this pressing need is addressed in fiscal year 1999.

The Committees expect that when or if the National Park Service completes the work on design alternatives for improvements to Pennsylvania Avenue in front of the White House, the Department will submit a reprogramming proposal to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations through the normal process to do planning on such proposed improvements. Before taking any action on the reprogramming proposal, the Committees expect full and open consultations from the Administration on the preferred alternative including the goal, justification and cost effectiveness of the improvements.

NATIONAL RECREATION AND PRESERVATION

The conference agreement provides $46,225,000 for the National recreation and preservation program instead of $43,939,000 as proposed by the House and $48,800,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement provides $515,000 for recreation programs as proposed by the Senate instead of $506,000 as proposed by the House. The change to the House level consists of an increase of $9,000 for fixed costs. The conference agreement provides $9,088,000 for Natural programs instead of $8,984,000 as proposed by the House and $10,188,000 as proposed by the Senate. The change to the House level is an increase of $104,000 for fixed costs. Within available funds, $375,000 is provided for the restoration of Ravenna Creek by means of surface reconnection in cooperation with the Ravenna Creek Alliance. Consideration should be given to the Lake Champlain project and the Vermont/New Hampshire River Commissions. The Committees have agreed not to continue to earmark funds for the Chesapeake Bay initiative. The Committees appropriated $400,000 for fiscal years 1997 and 1998 for grants to local communities to help implement heritage protection plans.

The conference agreement provides $19,056,000 for Cultural Programs instead of $18,899,000 as proposed by the House and $19,431,000 as proposed by the Senate. The changes to the House level are an increase of $157,000 for fixed costs. Within available funds, $250,000 is provided to initiate a Revolutionary War Study.

The conference agreement provides $1,671,000 for International park affairs as proposed by the Senate instead of $1,658,000 as proposed by the House. The changes to the House are an increase of $13,000 for fixed costs. The conference agreement provides $358,000 for environmental and compliance review as proposed by the Senate instead of $350,000 as proposed by the House. The change to the House level is an increase of $8,000 for fixed costs. The conference agreement provides $1,751,000 for Grant Administration as proposed by the Senate instead of $1,715,000 as proposed by the House. The change to the House level is an increase of $36,000 for fixed costs.

The conference agreement provides $5,000,000 for Heritage Commissions and grants instead of $4,500,000 as proposed by the House and $5,500,000 as proposed by the Senate. Within this amount, $1,000,000 each is earmarked for the Essex National Recreation Area, the Ohio and Erie Canal National Heritage Corridor, and the Steel Industry Heritage Corridor. Also earmarked is a total of $500,000 each for the South Carolina National Heritage Corridor and the Augusta Canal National Heritage Area. The remaining $1,000,000 is to be distributed to the remaining four areas. The Committees intend that these funds be allocated to the heritage areas and that the Service be limited to no more than two FTEs and no other part-time or detailed staff may be used for this program. The Service is reminded that it only has Congressional authorization to work on the areas specified in the Omnibus Parks Act of 1996. Technical support for this program is funded at $859,000 as proposed by the Senate instead of $850,000 as proposed by the House.

The conference agreement provides $7,927,000 for Statutory or Contractual Aid instead of $4,477,000 as proposed by the House and $8,527,000 as proposed by the Senate. Funds are to be distributed as follows:

Alaska Native Cultural Center	$750,000
Aleutian World War II National Historic Area	100,000
Blackstone River Corridor Heritage Commission	324,000
Brown Foundation	102,000
Dayton Aviation Heritage Commission	48,000
Delaware and Lehigh Navigation Canal	329,000
Ice Age National Scientific Reserve	806,000
Illinois and Michigan Canal National Heritage Corridor Commission	239,000
Johnstown Area Heritage Association	50,000
Lackawanna Heritage	450,000
Mandan On-a-Slant Village	250,000
Martin Luther King, Jr. Center	534,000
National Constitution Center	500,000
National Underground RR	500,000
Native Hawaiian culture and arts program	750,000
New Orleans Jazz Commission	67,000
Quinebaug-Shetucket National Heritage Corridor Commission	200,000
Roosevelt Campobello International Park Commission	670,000
National First Ladies Library	300,000
Southwestern Penn. Heritage Preservation Commission	158,000
Vancouver National Historic Reserve	400,000
Wheeling National Heritage Area	400,000

The funds provided for the Alaska Native Cultural Center begin a three-year phaseout of this project. The Committees understand that $500,000 will be provided in fiscal year 2000 and a final $250,000 for fiscal year 2001. The $500,000 for the Sewall-Belmont House is provided in the new Millennium Program instead of in Statutory and Contractual Aid as proposed by the Senate.

The Committees have included $300,000 for technical assistance and support for the Saxton McKinley House and National First Ladies' Library in Canton, Ohio. Further guidance regarding this program is contained in the "Construction" account under general management plans.

The conference agreement has not provided the $2,000,000 as proposed by the House for urban park grants. The Committees have determined that this effort cannot be accommodated with the limited resources available this year.

HISTORIC PRESERVATION FUND

The conference agreement provides $72,412,000 for the Historic Preservation Fund instead of $40,812,000 as proposed by the House and $55,612,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement provides $42,412,000 for Grants-in-aid instead of $40,812,000 as proposed by the House and $45,612,000 as proposed by the Senate. The changes to the House level include a decrease of $700,000 for Historically Black Colleges and Universities, an increase of $2,000,000 for State grants and an increase of $300,000 for Tribes. Within the funds for HBCUs, $200,000 is earmarked for an assessment of all buildings eligible for funding under the 1996 Omnibus Parks Bill. The Committees intend that HBCU funds be allocated based on completed assessments and that no HBCU be given more than $1,000,000 in this fiscal year. Given this increase, the new base for HBCUs is $7,000,000. The additional funds provided for grants-to-States are for preservation projects and other purposes consistent with the Historic Preservation Act, and may be allocated by individual States according to State priorities.

The conference agreement provides $30,000,000 for a new two-year Millennium Program as proposed by the Senate. The Committees intend that these individual grants be matched on a 60 percent non-Federal to 40 percent Federal basis. Projects are limited to items traditionally funded in the Interior and Related Agencies Appropriations Act and the National Archives Projects under the jurisdiction of other Federal agencies will not be funded and no funds may be allocated to the States. Most States have budget surpluses and should be able to support their own programs. The agencies should work together to establish specific criteria for proposing Millennium projects which consider national significance, meet the matching requirement, have an educational component, and will not require additional funds in future years. The National Park Service in cooperation with the Smithsonian Institution and any other eligible agency should submit the criteria and the project list to the House and Senate Appropriations Committees for final approval. Within these funds $3,000,000 is for the Star Spangled Banner restoration and $500,000 is for the Sewall-Belmont House, and funds necessary to completely restore the Declaration of Independence and the U.S. Constitution located in the National Archives.

CONSTRUCTION

The conference agreement provides $226,058,000 for construction instead of $149,000,000 as proposed by the House and $210,116,000 as proposed by the Senate. The Committees agree to the following distribution of funds:

Planning	16,370,000
Equipment Replacement	15,402,000
General Management Plans	7,725,000
Grand Total	226,058,000

The Committees have agreed to provide $16,370,000 for construction planning. Within this amount are specific construction planning funds as follows: (1) $164,000 for construction planning at Chickasaw NRA, (2) $265,000 for construction planning at Congaree Swamp NM, (3) $295,000 for construction planning at the Dayton Aviation NHP, (4) $120,000 for construction planning for the Zimmermann House in the Delaware Water Gap NRA, (5) $100,000 for construction planning at the FDR Home NHS, (6) $162,000 for construction planning of the water system at Guadalupe Mts. NP, (7) $200,000 for construction planning at Jean Lafitte NHP&P, (8) $25,000 for construction planning of the Quinault Visitor Center in Olympic NP, (9) $100,000 for construction planning at Sitka NHS, and (10) $100,000 for construction planning at Hovenweep NM.

The Committees continue to have strong concerns regarding the construction program of the National Park Service. The review directed by the Committees and conducted by the National Academy of Public Administration (NAPA) during fiscal year 1998 recommended significant changes in the way the Service manages its construction program. Both the House and Senate took significant steps towards a restructuring of the program consistent with the NAPA recommendations. The Service also responded favorably to the NAPA recommendations and presented the Committees with an implementation plan identifying actions the Service will take to ensure compliance with the NAPA recommendations. The Service should proceed diligently with execution of the plan so that the NAPA reforms are implemented by the end of fiscal year 1999.

The Committees remain committed to reforms in the construction program that will ensure more cost-effective projects, less expensive program oversight, and greater use of external rather than in-house capabilities, particularly in the areas of planning, design, and project management. The Committees emphasize that the reforms included in the NAPA report apply to the entirety of the Service line-item construction program, not just those projects managed by the Denver Service Center.

The Committees expect the Service to keep them informed on a regular basis regarding the downsizing of the Denver Service Center and the transition to a new organizational structure that will be capable of executing the reforms outlined in the NAPA report and in the Service implementation plan. In order to assist with the downsizing, the Committees have included bill language which provides buyout authority for employees at the Denver Service Center, as well as the Presidio and Golden Gate National Recreation Area, where a similar downsizing need exists.

Consistent with the NAPA recommendations and the Service implementation plan, the Committees recommend the following amounts within the construction appropriation for conducting the construction program in fiscal year 1999: Base operations for Denver Service Center, $16,100,000; program oversight within the office of the Associate Director for Professional Services, $1,000,000; planning, 10 percent of net construction; and centrally administered funds for pre-design and special studies of proposed line-item construction projects, $4,500,000. In fiscal year 1999, funding for these activities shall not exceed the specified amount, and will be paid for from savings resulting from application of the NAPA recommended planning, oversight, and contingency percentages to the line-item projects that are managed by the Service and funded in this Act. Starting with the fiscal year 2000 budget, NPS should identify and justify each of these elements as a separate line item in the construction budget. Funding for the one-time transition costs associated with the downsizing to 260 FTEs is to come from unobligated construction balances and application of the NAPA percentages to unstarted prior year construction projects. Should additional costs be identified as implementation proceeds, the Service should submit a reprogramming request for the Committees' consideration.

Further, with regard to the construction program, the Committees agree to the following:

1. Once the savings are identified by project, the Denver Service Center may not charge or assess any cost to the fiscal year 1999 line-item activity or the subactivity for planning and design;
2. The planning and predesign funds are for activities associated with outyear projects, consistent with the five-year plan, with an emphasis on projects expected to be pursued in the first two or three years;
3. The Service shall provide the Committees with a report on the proposed allocation, by project and purpose, of the funds provided for both planning and predesign;
4. General management plans will continue to be funded in the same manner as proposed in the budget; however, the Committees reiterate their strong admonition to all levels of the Service that these documents must become more realistic and programmatic in the expectations they identify;
5. The Service must establish an effective method for tracking project costs using the new practices stemming from the NAPA report. This system must be used by all parties participating in the line-item program (including parks and regions) and must ensure that project costs are accounted for by line-item and fiscal year; and

6. Any exceptions to the NAPA recommended percentage of projects to be planned in-house must be presented to the Committees for approval.

The Committees have not included the $3,300,000 requested for water and sewer lines at Acadia National Park because the project will be completed with maintenance funding provided in Title V of the fiscal year 1998 bill.

The Committees have agreed to provide $300,000 to the Accokeek Foundation and $600,000 for the Sotterly Plantation in Maryland subject to matching non-Federal funds. These funds complete the Federal contribution to both projects.

The conference agreement provides $4,000,000 to begin restoration of the Brown v. Board of Education facility in Kansas. The Committees note that the Administration did not request these funds in fiscal year 1999 and encourage the Department to include the final phase of funding in the fiscal year 2000 budget request. The Committees are concerned over the estimated cost to complete the visitor center portion of the project and urge the Park Service to reduce considerably the total and to consider private cost sharing.

Funds provided for the Canaveral National Seashore Seminole Rest project should complete the projects described in the House report—specifically some trails, exhibits, parking and modest restroom facilities. By providing the $800,000, the Committees have not committed to additional projects outlined in the Development Concept Plan. None of these funds should be used for additional planning and design beyond the work specified above. If these funds are not enough to complete this work, then the project should be scaled back.

An amount of $2,000,000 is provided on a one-time basis for the completion of the Sidney R. and Addie Yates Exhibition Center at the Field Museum in Chicago, Illinois. The $500,000 for renovations at the Hecksher Museum in New York is also provided on a one-time basis. Funds provided for the Kendall County Courthouse are on a one-time basis.

Of the construction funds provided for Fort Smith NHS, up to $50,000 shall be available for the Secretary of the Interior to study the feasibility of including the historic Hot Springs High School within the Hot Springs National Park in Arkansas.

Funds provided for the Fort Necessity and Lewis and Clark Visitor Centers will complete the Federal share of these projects. Funds provided for the Hovenweep National Monument are for design of a visitor center to replace the current administrative/visitor contact building. The existing structure is a deteriorating cabin that lacks appropriate space and access, and which is a safety hazard due to structural deficiencies and rodent infestation. The Committees understand that the funds provided are the amount that can be obligated by the Service in fiscal year 1999.

The Committees intend that $300,000 of the $2,000,000 provided to the Southwest Pennsylvania Heritage Commission is to be used for the rehabilitation of the historic Bedford Springs Hotel in Pennsylvania.

The $10,000,000 provided for the National Constitution Center does not commit the Congress to additional funds for this project. The Committees, while supportive of the concept, encourage the Center to consider downscaling the size of the facility and to ensure that all components are consistent with the park's general management plan. The Committees further understand that the National Constitution Center will be entirely self-sustaining and that no Service funds will ever be required for operation of the facility. Further, the Committees urge the city of Philadelphia to enter into a binding legal agreement with the Center to take responsibility for the Center should operating funds be insufficient to manage the site in the future.

The Committees have included $1,000,000 for rehabilitation of the U-505 submarine in Illinois and $1,000,000 for Virginia City, MT restoration. Each of these projects are funded on a one-time only basis.

No funding is provided for constructing a biocontainment facility in Montana as proposed by the Senate for research on contagious diseases that can impact domestic livestock. The lead agency for such a project and any future Federal funding should be the responsibility of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The Service may serve in a consultative role for this project.

Bill language is provided in Title III General Provisions which directs that the remaining $250,000 appropriated as part of Public Law 105-83 in the National Park Service construction account for fiscal year 1998 for an environmental impact statement of a site for an interpretive center along the Blue Ridge Parkway near Roanoke, Virginia, may be used for the construction of an interpretive center outside the boundaries of the Blue Ridge Parkway. This completes the Federal share of the project.

The Committees have included $3,000,000 to initiate planning, design and construction for improved visitor use facilities at the Brooks River area at Katmai National Park and Preserve. These funds will assist with providing improved day use and overnight accommodations, platforms and boardwalks to enhance bear viewing, provision of access and safety for boats and floatplanes, visitor orientation and contact, and other visitor amenities.

The Committees direct the Service to use funds provided in fiscal year 1998 for the Seward Interagency Center for its designated purpose, notwithstanding the absence of a lease-back agreement with the City of Seward. The Committees direct the Service to explore cost-sharing with State and local entities and to report back to the Senate and House Appropriations Committees on cost estimates for this facility in Seward.

The funds provided for the proposed Tuskegee NHS are for emergency stabilization costs only. Specifically, the funds are for hangar number one, the control tower, the Administration/locker building, all ranks club, three sheds, a preliminary archeological survey and some oral history documentation. The Committees understand that these projects can be completed with these funds. This amount does not commit the Committees to any additional work mentioned in the Tuskegee Airmen Special Resource Study prepared by the Park Service's Atlanta Regional Office.

These funds may not be used to initiate any additional planning or design beyond the $2,100,000. Any future funds for this site will be subject to matching requirements. These funds are subject to authorization of the site.

A total of $1,200,000 is provided for the relocation of the visitor center at the C&O Canal in Cumberland, MD. This completes the project.

Within the funds provided for general management plans and special resource studies, the National Park Service shall conduct a feasibility study regarding the Saxton McKinley House and the National First Ladies' Library in Canton, OH for possible inclusion in the system, or for other possible affiliation that will allow for NPS support and assistance to this worthwhile project. The National Park Service should consider various alternatives for providing ongoing assistance to the Saxton McKinley House and National First Ladies' Library, including possible satellite affiliation with Cuyahoga Valley National Recreation Area, establishment of an endowment, or a technical assistance program involving cooperative agreements and grants. The Saxton McKinley House is owned by the National Park Service, and the National First Ladies' Library is the first ever facility dedicated to documenting the lives and accomplishments of America's 41 first ladies and other important American women in history.

LAND AND WATER CONSERVATION FUND

(RESCISSION)

The conference agreement rescinds the contract authority provided for fiscal year 1999 by 16 U.S.C. 4601-10a.

LAND ACQUISITION AND STATE ASSISTANCE

The conference agreement provides $147,925,000 for land acquisition instead of $69,000,000 as proposed by the House and $88,100,000 as proposed by the Senate. The Committees agree to the following distribution of funds:

State and Project	Amount
ME—Acadia NP	$1,000,000
MD—Antietam NB	1,900,000

Inholdings and Exchanges	1,500,000
Acq. Management	8,500,000
State Grants Administration	500,000
Total	147,925,000

The conference agreement includes bill language which makes the $60,000,000 appropriated for Everglades State grants subject to an equal match of State funds provided during fiscal year 1999. The State may not use funds for land acquisition which were previously provided in another fiscal year as the match.

The conference agreement contains bill language in General Provisions, Department of the Interior, which permits the Service to purchase property within the boundaries of the Chickamauga and Chattanooga National Military Park with appropriated funds or through donation or exchange. Also included is language which directs that settlement funds for the acquisition of the Gherini Ranch in California be derived from the Claims and Judgments account within the Department of Justice.

The $500,000 provided for Santa Monica Mountains is to be used exclusively for the backbone trail and must be matched with non-Federal dollars.

The Committees are modifying the reprogramming guidelines regarding land exchanges. The agencies must submit proposed land exchanges in excess of $2,000,000 to the Committees on Appropriations for a 30 day period of review.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS

The conference agreement prohibits the closure of the Mount McKinley airstrip in Alaska as proposed by the Senate. The House had no similar provision.

The Committees further note that the Secretary has provided assurances that the McKinley airstrip will not be closed during 1999, and that no such action will be taken without further consultation with the Committees. The Committees strongly encourage the Park Service to work closely with the aviation community and other interested parties to ensure that adequate air access to the Park is maintained.

UNITED STATES GEOLOGICAL SURVEY
SURVEYS, INVESTIGATIONS, AND RESEARCH

The conference agreement provides $797,896,000 for surveys, investigations, and research instead of $774,838,000 as proposed by the House and $772,115,000 as proposed by the Senate.

Increases above the House include $500,000 for Eros Data Center data archiving, $2,000,000 for the minerals at risk program, $250,000 for the Hawaii Volcanoes Observatory, $100,000 for a water monitoring well in Hawaii, $250,000 for endocrine disruption studies, $500,000 for aquatic systems research, $1,000,000 for Federal lands research, $250,000 for a heating and cooling system at the Leetown Science Center, and $1,000,000 for clean water and watershed restoration.

Decreases below the House include $1,921,000 for the national mapping program as part of the reinventing government initiative, $1,219,000 for the water resources program as part of the reinventing government initiative, $750,000 for the national water quality assessment program, and $500,000 for the Federal/State cooperative program.

The Committees have earmarked $160,221,000 for biological research instead of $150,871,000 as proposed by the House and $154,581,000 as proposed by the Senate. Within the amount, the Committees have provided $6,600,000 for research activities in the North Pacific Ocean by way of a grant to the University of Alaska. These funds are in lieu of funds proposed to be provided to the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration under Title VI of the Senate bill.

Other increases above the House mark for the biological research program include $500,000 for fish passage research; $1,000,000 for research on watershed restoration and related issues including fish health in the Chesapeake Bay, the role of contaminants in restoration of habitats suitable for self-sustaining fisheries, and restoration of acid mine drainage water; and $250,000 to plan and design a new heating and cooling system for the National Fish Health Research Laboratory at the Leetown Science Center. The Committees understand that the maintenance needs of the Survey are being included as part of the Department's 5-year maintenance planning effort and encourage the Survey to reflect these needs in future budget requests.

In addition to the increases stated above, the Committees have provided the following additional funds for clean water and fixed costs: (1) $5,500,000 for the national water quality assessment program, (2) $2,000,000 for the Federal/State cooperative program, (3) $1,500,000 for hydrologic network and analysis, (4) $1,000,000 for biological research and monitoring, and (5) $5,000,000 in undistributed fixed costs.

The Committees have provided additional funds for the cooperative research units and direct the Survey to use this money to fill as many personnel vacancies as possible.

The Committees are concerned with reports they have received that suggest USGS is providing or seeking to provide a variety of commercial services to Federal and non-Federal entities in direct competition with the private sector. The Senate Committee on Governmental Affairs is attempting to address this issue on a broader scale as part of a government reform package being negotiated with the Administration. In the meantime, the Committees encourage the Survey to use the services of the private sector in the conduct of its activities wherever feasible, cost effective, and consistent with the principles pertaining to the effective performance of governmental functions. The Survey should share with the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations information regarding its past, present, and future efforts to pursue opportunities to use the capabilities of the private sector.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS

The Committees have included bill language clarifying the status of official travel for student employees.

MINERALS MANAGEMENT SERVICE

ROYALTY AND OFFSHORE MINERALS MANAGEMENT

The conference agreement provides $117,902,000 for royalty and offshore minerals management instead of $116,402,000 as proposed by the House and $117,275,000 as proposed by the Senate.

Increases above the House include $600,000 for the Mississippi Marine Mineral Resource Center and $900,000 to the Offshore Technology Resource Center.

The Committees have provided $900,000 to the Offshore Technology Resource Center at Texas A&M University for high-priority offshore research associated with deepwater development. While the Committees support these research efforts, they have provided these funds with the understanding the total Federal contribution to this cooperative effort among the Federal government, industry, and the University will be kept to a minimum.

The Committees encourage MMS to maintain its current financial terms for deepwater leases for the remainder of the incentive period.

Language has been included under General Provisions, Department of the Interior, providing that royalty payments made by small refiners under the small refiner royalty-in-kind program represent payment in full and are a refiner's total obligation to the United States.

OIL SPILL RESEARCH

The conference agreement provides $6,118,000 for oil spill research as proposed by both the House and the Senate.

OFFICE OF SURFACE MINING RECLAMATION AND ENFORCEMENT

REGULATION AND TECHNOLOGY

The conference agreement provides a total of $93,353,000 for regulation and technology instead of $93,349,000 as proposed by the House and $92,909,000 as proposed by the Senate. Funding adheres to the House proposal except that the Senate proposed funding level prevails for the environmental restoration activity.

ABANDONED MINE RECLAMATION FUND

The conference agreement provides $185,416,000 for the abandoned mine reclamation fund as proposed by the House instead of $183,057,000 as proposed by the Senate. Funding for the activities should adhere to the House report. The conference agreement provides $7,000,000 for the Appalachian Clean Streams Initiative as proposed by the House and no funds are provided for a new western mine lands initiative. The Appalachian Clean Streams program has had initial success, but it is premature to dilute this effort and the limited resources available for a nation-wide program when the problems in Appalachia remain so substantial.

BUREAU OF INDIAN AFFAIRS

OPERATION OF INDIAN PROGRAMS

The conference agreement provides $1,584,124,000 for the operation of Indian programs instead of $1,558,425,000 as proposed by the House and $1,544,695,000 as proposed by the Senate.

Increases above the House include $1,584,000 for ISEP formula funds, $500,000 for ISEP adjustments, $1,831,000 for student transportation, $1,000,000 for tribally controlled community colleges, $2,000,000 for probate backlog, $1,273,000 for environmental cleanup, $2,500,000 for ADP central program management, $700,000 for land records improvement, $500,000 for the United Tribes Technical College, $1,045,000 for uncontrollable costs in special programs and pooled overhead, $70,732,000 for the law enforcement program is transferred from tribal priority allocations to special programs and pooled overhead; $10,000,000 for the law enforcement initiative, and $7,000,000 in undistributed fixed costs.

Decreases below the House include $1,359,000 for uncontrollable costs in tribal priority allocations, $2,000,000 for welfare assistance, $70,288,000 for the transfer of law enforcement activities to special programs and pooled overhead, $250,000 for fishing access sites, $54,000 for uncontrollable costs in non-recurring programs, $427,000 for Gila River Farms, $91,000 for uncontrollable costs in area office operations, and $500,000 for GSA rentals. In addition, no new funds have been provided for small and needy tribes.

The Committees have earmarked $100,000 within available funds for the Indian Arts and Crafts Board to address enforcement issues mandated in the Indian Arts and Crafts Act of 1990.

The Committees have agreed not to include bill language or funding for adult care institutions.

The Committees are concerned that certain funds appropriated to support trust system improvements will be used for other purposes by tribal entities or BIA agency offices. Consequently, the Committees direct that no funding for non-recurring programs, probate backlog reductions, and for area office operations, land records improvements, be transferred into the base budget of any tribe.

The Committees are also concerned that funds in tribal priority allocations, trust services, real estate services and real estate appraisals could be moved to other TPA programs under current reprogramming guidelines. This action would frustrate the intention to support trust system improvements. Therefore, real estate services and real estate appraisals funding are not to be reprogrammed for other purposes without Committee approval, including funds within self-governance compacts and the consolidated tribal government program budget elements.

The Committees have agreed to consolidate all law enforcement activities in the amount of $94,234,000 under special programs and pooled overhead. The Committees further direct the BIA not to transfer or reprogram any of these funds without the express approval of the Committees.

The Committees have included language that allows the Bureau of Indian Affairs to deal with the United Keetoowah Band of Cherokees and the Delaware Band of Indians on issues of funding, but prevents these tribes from establishing trust holdings within the Cherokee's original boundaries without Cherokee consultation.

The Committees are concerned with the lack of progress made by the Bureau and the Department in the assessment of Indian agriculture and therefore direct the Bureau to complete by no later than February 1, 1999 the study of Indian agriculture through the implementation of the American Indian Agriculture Resource Management Act.

The Committees have included bill language under Title I General Provisions requiring the Bureau of Indian Affairs to submit a report to Congress by April 1, 1999 that includes recommendations and alternatives to fund tribal priority allocations (TPA) in future years. In developing its recommendations, the Bureau is to consider relative tribal need and tribal revenues, excluding certain payments made by the Federal government and certain other income. The Bureau is also directed to consider the financial obligations of a tribe, its compliance with the Single Audit Act and the Indian Gaming Regulatory Act, and its compact with its state. The report should contain proposed methods to acquire data necessary to the development of TPA funding recommendations that may not be available to the Bureau currently. Any tribe's voluntary return of appropriations for distribution to other tribes will not alter the relationship that exists between the tribe and the Federal government or any obligation between the two. The Committees have provided $250,000 for the TPA work group to help develop this new distribution methodology.

CONSTRUCTION

The conference agreement provides $123,421,000 for construction as proposed by the Senate instead of $121,695,000 as proposed by the House.

Changes to the House include an increase of $1,821,000 for education facilities improvement and repair, and a decrease of $95,000 for uncontrollable costs.

INDIAN LAND AND WATER CLAIM SETTLEMENTS AND MISCELLANEOUS PAYMENTS TO INDIANS

The conference agreement provides $28,882,000 for Indian land and water claim settlements and miscellaneous payments to Indians as proposed by the Senate instead of $28,396,000 as proposed by the House.

Changes to the House include an increase of $500,000 for Aleutian Pribilof repairs, and a decrease of $14,000 for uncontrollable costs.

INDIAN GUARANTEED LOAN PROGRAM ACCOUNT

The conference agreement provides $5,001,000 for the Indian guaranteed loan program as proposed by both the House and Senate.

INDIAN LAND CONSOLIDATION PILOT

The Committees have provided $5,000,000 to establish a pilot program to address the serious trust problems associated with fractionated ownership of Indian lands. The goal of this pilot program is to consolidate ownership of fractionated lands, maximize the economic benefits and utilization of these lands, and to improve the Federal governments ability to administer and manage trust lands.

DEPARTMENTAL OFFICES

INSULAR AFFAIRS

ASSISTANCE TO TERRITORIES

The conference agreement provides $66,175,000 for assistance to territories instead of $64,175,000 as proposed by the House and $66,045,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement funding adheres to the House proposal except it does not include the $2,000,000 general reduction. There is no reduction to the Northern Marianas covenant grant mandatory funding, which remains at $27,720,000 as proposed by both the House and the Senate. The conference agreement concurs with the Senate language regarding the withholding of American Samoa construction funds in the amount of $2,000,000 until issues associated with unpaid off-island medical bills are resolved. The conference agreement does not concur with the Senate language which provides that these funds may ultimately be used to make payment toward satisfying the unpaid medical bills. In addition, the Committees direct the General Accounting Office to complete analyses and reports concerning the CNMI. These reports should be submitted to the Congress by August 30, 1999. The conference agreement concurs with Senate direction that a portion of the CNMI immigration initiative funds be used to establish an ombudsman office, and the agreement further directs that this office be operated in an independent, impartial manner.

COMPACT OF FREE ASSOCIATION

The conference agreement provides $20,930,000 for the Compact of Free Association instead of $20,545,000 as proposed by the House and $20,830,000 proposed by the Senate. Funding follows the Senate recommendation except that the supplemental food program for Enewetak support is $25,000 below the House proposed level.

DEPARTMENTAL MANAGEMENT

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides $64,686,000 for Departmental Management instead of $58,286,000 as proposed by the House and $60,496,000 as proposed by the Senate. The Committees agree to the following distribution of funds:

Departmental direction	$11,579,000
Management and coordination	21,598,000
Hearings and appeals	7,213,000
Central services	18,485,000
Bureau of Mines workers compensation/unemployment	811,000
Glacier Bay Fishing Buyout	5,000,000

The Committees do not agree that the Department of the Interior should reduce by two the number of special assistants to the Secretary positions.

The Committees have included bill language in Title I General Provisions which permit refunds or rebates received on an on-going basis from a credit card service provider under the Department of the Interior's charge card program to be deposited to and retained without fiscal year limitation in the Departmental Working Capital Fund established under 43 U.S.C. Sec. 1467 and used to fund management initiatives of general benefit to the Interior's bureaus and offices as determined by the Secretary or his designee.

The Committees have provided $5,000,000 for fishing buyouts in Glacier Bay National Park.

Also included in Title I General Provisions is language which clarifies Congress' intent regarding receipts from all surplus property sales in Florida, which should be deposited into the Everglades Restoration Account for the purposes of conducting ecosystem restoration activities in South Florida.

OFFICE OF THE SOLICITOR

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides $36,784,000 for the Office of the Solicitor instead of $37,304,000 as proposed by the House and $36,464,000 as proposed by the Senate. The difference is a reduction of $520,000 from the House level for general administration.

OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides $25,486,000 for the Office of Inspector General as proposed by the Senate instead of $24,499,000 as proposed by the House.

OFFICE OF SPECIAL TRUSTEE FOR AMERICAN INDIANS

FEDERAL TRUST PROGRAMS

The conference agreement provides $39,499,000 for Federal trust programs as proposed by the House instead of $38,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The Committees have included bill language proposed by the Senate and preferred by the Administration, modifying House language by requiring annual statements for small account holders.

The Committees have provided bill language under Title I General Provisions that would provide increased flexibility to meet potential unfunded trust management improvement needs. The language would authorize the use of current year and prior year unobligated funds available under all BIA and OST appropriations accounts for Indian trust management improvements pursuant to the Trust Management Project High Level Implementation Plan. The Department will be required to follow Committee reprogramming procedures. Adherence to such reprogramming procedures is required to ensure the allocation of funding by the Committees is preserved, while allowing any available OST and BIA funds to be reprogrammed from areas where they may be no longer necessary or of lower priority due to changed circumstances.

NATURAL RESOURCE DAMAGE ASSESSMENT AND RESTORATION

NATURAL RESOURCE DAMAGE ASSESSMENT FUND

The conference agreement provides $4,492,000 for the natural resource damage assessment fund as proposed by the House instead of $5,228,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement also corrects an error in the House bill as proposed by the Senate to change the word “obligated” to “unobligated”.

MANAGEMENT OF FEDERAL LANDS FOR SUBSISTENCE USES

SUBSISTENCE MANAGEMENT, DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

The conference agreement provides $8,000,000 for subsistence management, Department of the Interior. Neither the House nor the Senate provided funding for this purpose. This new account and a similar account in the Forest Service provide funds to implement and enforce certain Federal regulations dealing with preference for subsistence uses, including those dealing with fish and wildlife, on navigable rivers in Alaska that are subject to Federal reserved water rights. The conditions associated with the availability and use of these funds are contained in section 339 of this Act.

GENERAL PROVISIONS—DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

Sections 101 through 114 included in the conference agreement are identical to those contained in both the House and Senate bills.

Section 115 prohibits the National Park Service from reducing recreation fees for non-local travel through any park unit as proposed by the House. The Senate had no similar provision.

Section 116 modifies language proposed by the House and the Senate providing limited authority for voluntary separation incentive payments to employees of the National Park Service’s Denver Service Center. The modification extends this authority to employees of the Presidio and Golden Gate National Recreation Area, CA as well.

Section 117 provides authority to the Secretary to lease space to non-Federal entities and to collect and retain fees for the working capital fund as proposed by both the House and the Senate.

Section 118 retains House language designating the main trail in the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area as the Joseph M. McDade Trail. The Senate had no similar provision.

Section 119 provides for the protection of the Huron Cemetery in Kansas for religious and cultural uses and as a burial ground as proposed by the Senate. The House had no similar provision.

Section 120 modifies a Senate provision limiting the issuance of regulations dealing with hardrock mining to reduce the term of a study to be accomplished by the National Academy of Sciences. Under the modified language the report will be due by July 31, 1999. Provisions requiring consultation have been eliminated from the Senate language. The Committees expect the National Academy of Sciences to assure that consultation occurs with relevant state and Federal authorities in the process of conducting the study. Additional changes have been made in the provision to eliminate the requirement for an interim report. The provision has been further modified to specify that no promulgation of final regulations may occur prior to September 30, 1999.

Section 121 limits overhead charges for the United States Fish and Wildlife Service on funds transferred from the Bureau of Reclamation for implementation of the Upper Colorado River Endangered Fish Recovery Program and the San Juan River Basin Program to no more than 50 percent of the biennially determined full indirect cost recovery rate. The Senate proposed a three percent limitation on the total amounts transferred. The House had no similar provision.

Section 122 modifies a Senate provision requiring the Bureau of Land Management to conduct a section 3(e) determination under the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act to establish proper disposition of a Nome, Alaska property. The land will be conveyed to Kawerak, Inc. as proposed by the Senate if and only if BLM's determination concludes that the Sitnasuak Native Corporation is not entitled to the land in question. The House had no similar provision.

Section 123 modifies Senate provision imposing a moratorium on new regulations affecting commercial and subsistence fishing in Glacier Bay National Park, AK.

The Committees have agreed to modify language proposed by the Senate regarding commercial and subsistence fishing in Glacier Bay National Park. The Service is directed to extend the comment period on the pending regulations (62 Fed. Reg. 18,547) (April 16, 1997) until January 15, 1999, modify the draft regulations to conform to the fiscal year 1999 Interior Appropriations Bill language and publish the changes in the final regulations. Regulations may be required to implement the compensation plan under subsection (b) of this provision. Finally, it is expected that local residents in close proximity to the park (e.g. Hoonah) will continue to be allowed to fish for personal use (not barter or sale).

Section 124 allows for the continuation of grazing permits until National Environmental Policy Act work is completed as proposed by the Senate. The House had no similar provision.

Section 125 provides for the conveyance of specified land to the town of Pahrump, Nevada for public use as proposed in Senate floor action. The House had no similar provision.

The Committees have modified language dealing with a land exchange in the Izembek National Wildlife Refuge to delete the easement for a road through the refuge. This issue is addressed in section 353.

Section 126 specifies that Special Federal Aviation Regulation No. 78, regarding commercial air tour operators in the vicinity of the Rocky Mountain National Park, as published in the Federal Register on January 8, 1997, shall remain in effect until otherwise provided by an Act of Congress.

Section 127 retains Senate language prohibiting the Secretary of the Interior from purchasing land in Alaska without first attempting to acquire such lands through exchange of unreserved public lands. The House had no similar provision.

Section 128 retains Senate language establishing the Charleston National Commemorative Site in Arkansas. The House had no similar provision.

Section 129 modifies Senate language requiring the Bureau of Indian Affairs to provide alternative recommendations on the distribution of tribal priority allocations funding that takes into account both tribal needs and tribal revenues. The modification was adopted in Senate floor action.

Section 130 modifies a provision proposed by the Senate to prohibit the Department of the Interior from issuing regulations relating to the valuation of crude oil for royalty purposes in fiscal year 1999. The modification extends the moratorium until June 1, 1999.

Section 131 modifies a provision proposed in Senate floor action to authorize funds for matching grants to States for the acquisition of Civil War battlefields. The conference agreement authorizes up to $8,000,000 for such grants, and requires that funds appropriated for this purpose be matched on a two to one basis. The House had no similar provision.

Section 132 makes a technical correction allowing two parcels of land in Wyoming to be available for leasing for oil and gas development and exploration as proposed in Senate floor action. The House had no similar provision.

Section 133 amends the Tribal Self-Governance Act to require repayment of misused self-governance funds thereby providing consistency between self-governance compacts and self-determination contracts.

Section 134 makes a technical correction as proposed in Senate floor action to remove Edisto Island in South Carolina from the Coastal Barrier Resources System. Other removals from the system are addressed under the United States Fish and Wildlife Service and Title III—General Provisions.

Section 135 provides for a land exchange for Katmai National Park in Alaska as proposed in Senate floor action.

Section 136 permits the Bureau of Land Management to enter into watershed restoration agreements with both public and private interests.

Section 137 prohibits the Department of the Interior from issuing regulations relating to Indian gaming prior to March 31, 1999.

Section 138 permits the National Park Service to purchase property within the boundaries of the Chickamauga and Chattanooga National Military Park with appropriated funds or through donation or exchange.

Section 139 provides that royalty payments made by small refiners under the small refiner royalty-in-kind program represent payment in full and are the refiner's total obligation to the United States.

Section 140 permits the remaining $250,000 appropriated as part of Public Law 105-83 for an environmental study of a site for an interpretive center along the Blue Ridge Parkway near Roanoke, Virginia to be used for the construction of an interpretive center outside the boundaries of the Blue Ridge Parkway.

Section 141 includes language ensuring that property owners included within the boundaries of the Indiana Dunes National Lakeshore at the time of the 1992 Act that expanded the park, are afforded the same opportunities to obtain fixed-term Reservations of Use and Occupancy as homeowners that were incorporated in previous expansions.

Section 142 directs that payments for the purchase of the Gherini Ranch within the Channel Islands National Park be allocated from the Justice Department's Claims and Judgments account.

Section 143 renames the Marsh-Billings National Historic Park as the Marsh-Billings-Rockefeller National Historic Park.

Section 144 includes language which permits refunds or rebates received from a credit card services provider under the Department of the Interior's charge card program to be deposited to and retained without fiscal year limitation in the Department's Working Capital Fund to finance initiatives of general benefit to the bureaus.

Section 145 names the visitor center at Santa Monica Mountains National Recreation Area, CA the "Anthony C. Beilenson Visitor Center".

Section 146 renames the Redwood Information Center in Orick, CA as the "Thomas H. Kuchel Visitor Center".

Section 147 authorizes the transfer of current year and prior year balances between the Bureau of Indian Affairs and the Office of Special Trustee for American Indians to meet unfunded trust management improvement needs.

Section 148 clarifies Congressional intent regarding the use of receipts from surplus property sales in Florida for conducting ecosystem restoration activities in South Florida.

Section 149 provides an easement to the City and Borough of Juneau and the National Marine Fisheries Service across a 60-acre parcel of land owned by the National Park Service near Juneau, Alaska. The National Park Service shall retain a right to use the easement to access its lands.

Section 150 exempts all properties administered by the Park Service at Fort Baker, Golden Gate NRA from certain taxes and special assessments of any kind by the State of California and its political subdivisions, including the County of Marin and the city of Sausalito. This provision does not apply to sales taxes.

Section 151 authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to negotiate and enter into agreements and leases with entities for property within the Fort Baker site which is part of the Golden Gate

NRA. The proceeds of the agreements and leases shall be retained by the Secretary and made available, without further appropriations, for the preservation and operation of the site.

Section 152 deems the holder of a certain concession contract at Katmai NP as being engaged in adequately providing visitor services pursuant to section 1307(a) of the Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act.

The conference agreement deletes section 121 of the Senate bill relating to the establishment of a hotshot crew in southern Alaska.

The conference agreement deletes section 122 included in the Senate bill. The Committees are very concerned that any drilling activities off the coast of North Carolina occur only after thorough assessment and compliance with all State and Federal permitting requirements, including all State coastal consistency determinations pursuant to the Coastal Zone Management Act. The Committees expect the Minerals Management Service to closely monitor lease activity in this area during fiscal year 1999 and provide a report to the Committees periodically should permitting activities occur.

The conference agreement does not include bill language proposed by the Senate prohibiting the Bureau of Indian Affairs and the Department of the Interior from using funds provided under this Act to transfer land in Scott County, Minnesota, into trust. The Committees agreed not to include this language only with the assertion from the Bureau of Indian Affairs and the Department that a decision on any trust application on the land at issue would not be made in fiscal year 1999. With the understanding that land in Scott County, Minnesota will not be transferred into trust in fiscal year 1999, the Committees urge the State, tribe, local government, and Department to work out an agreement regarding the trust application and use of the land.

TITLE II—RELATED AGENCIES

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

FOREST SERVICE

FOREST AND RANGELAND RESEARCH

The conference agreement provides $197,444,000 for forest and rangeland research as proposed by the House instead of $212,927,000 as proposed by the Senate. The agreement does not include funding for general administration as proposed by the Senate; this funding remains in the national forest system appropriation as in past years. Program changes to the House recommended funding include increases of $500,000 for wildland ecosystem health restoration in the southwest; $500,000 for CROP type research in those areas where it would be most usefully implemented; $300,000 for the Fairbanks, AK laboratory; $300,000 for the streamside studies, landscape ecology project in the state of Washington as described in the Senate report; $215,000 for termiticide research in MS; and $200,000 for spartina grass research in Puget Sound. Reductions from the House proposed funding include $1,000,000 for Forest Inventory and Analysis and $1,015,000 for fixed cost support. The Committees note that the overall funding for Forest Inventory and Analysis is $6,000,000 above the 1998 funding level. This large increase should be used as directed in the House and Senate reports and focused on increasing the FIA program's ability to conduct annualized inventories. The Committees direct that funding for the Bent Creek and Coweeta, NC, research follow the budget request.

The conference agreement concurs with the Senate language directing the Forest Service to place no less than five full time employees in Sitka, AK to establish and operate a harvesting and wood utilization laboratory. The Committees further direct the agency not to reduce ongoing activities at the Forest Products Laboratory in Madison as a result of establishment of the facility in Alaska. The conference agreement does not include the language proposed by the Senate to reduce programs not directly related to enhancing forest and rangeland productivity by $10,000,000. However, the Committees expect the Forest Service to diligently monitor project selection and ongoing programs to ensure that efforts are directly related to the Forest Service mission, yield maximum benefits for costs involved, and result in practical applications. The Committees are concerned about the agency's process of funding an important monitoring and study project in the Pacific Northwest to develop old-growth characteristics in mature second-growth stands. Although the Committees have expressed concern about the need for these funds to be included in the forest and rangeland research appropriation in the annual budget request, this did not occur in fiscal year 1998 nor was it reflected in the fiscal year 1999 budget request. The Committees direct the Forest Service to assure that the fiscal year 2000 budget request includes these funds within the forest and rangeland research appropriation.

STATE AND PRIVATE FORESTRY

The conference agreement provides $170,722,000 for State and private forestry instead of $156,167,000 as proposed by the House and $165,091,000 as proposed by the Senate. The agreement does not include funding for general administration as proposed by the Senate; this funding remains in the national forest system appropriation as in past years. Funding for forest health management and cooperative fire protection adheres to the House recommended levels except that an increase of $150,000 for the Vermont forest cooperative is included in the cooperative lands forest health management activity. The Forest Service is encouraged to consider assisting the Vermont fire task force work with rural communities to install dry hydrants. Funding for urban and community forestry and forest stewardship adheres to the House proposed program levels with the addition of $100,000 for the Chesapeake Bay program as proposed by the Senate and $500,000 for Asian longhorn beetle eradication. The conference agreement increases the House proposed funding for the forest legacy program by $5,000,000. The conference agreement concurs with the House action to provide no funding for the stewardship incentives program. The limited funding resources available have been directed to the forest stewardship and forest legacy programs. The Committees note that benefits accomplished through the forest stewardship program adequately address the interests represented by the stewardship incentives program. Given the shortage of Federal resources for forestry activities, the Committees encourage the Federal cooperative role to focus on professional forestry technical assistance rather than direct payments for small field projects which should be a local or State responsibility.

The conference agreement concurs with the House direction to create a new allocation method for the urban and community forestry program; the new allocation criteria should focus on program needs and past program accomplishments, and shall not include equal base funding for all individual states or territories. The conference agreement does not concur with the House direction to exclude territories from base funding calculations. The Committees expect the Forest Service to work with the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, the State of Illinois and the City of Chicago to survey and help eradicate the Asian longhorn beetle in the Chicago area, and to assist in replanting lost trees.

The Committees agree that the Forest Service may allocate remaining fiscal year 1998 funds directed for the Alaska spruce beetle task force assessment so long as the funds are used for the highest priority, on-the-ground projects throughout the State aimed at treating fire danger and vegetation mapping. However, prior to such release, the Committees direct the Forest Service to submit a proposal in accordance with reprogramming guidelines which specifically identifies the projects to be undertaken and the estimated costs of such projects. The Committees do not want these funds to be used for bureaucratic efforts such as brochures, public education, or the establishment of any long-term coordinator positions.

Funds should be distributed as follows for the economic action program and Pacific Northwest assistance:

Economic recovery	$3,925,000
Rural development through forestry	5,000,000
Forest product conservation & recycling	950,000
Wood in transportation	1,200,000
Columbia River Gorge county payments	280,000
Hawaii forestry workers training	250,000
Skamania County, WA land exchange assistance	200,000
Ketchikan, AK veneer study	2,000,000
Taos, NM erosion control	1,000,000
Princeton, WV hardwood technology center	2,500,000
<hr/>
Total economic action programs	17,305,000
Gray's Harbor, WA PNW assistance	3,000,000
Other Pacific Northwest assistance	6,000,000

The economic recovery program funding includes $500,000 for the Four Corners Sustainable forestry initiative as proposed by the House. The Committees have provided $5,000,000 for the rural development through forestry program, the same level as was provided in fiscal year 1998. The Committees agree with the Senate language concerning the preparation of reports by the Forest Service regarding its actions to restructure the Hardwoods Technology Center in Princeton, WV, except that such reports shall be provided on an annual basis.

NATIONAL FOREST SYSTEM

The conference agreement provides $1,298,570,000 for the national forest system instead of $1,231,421,000 as proposed by the House and $1,129,098,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement does not spread funding for general administration among the programs as proposed by the Senate; this funding remains a separate activity within the national forest system appropriation as in past years. Further direction concerning general administration and indirect expenses is provided under administrative provisions. The conference agreement includes all of the program specific earmarks for the Monongahela National Forest, WV as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement provides $10,500,000 for the Alaska Region, in addition to the normal base program, in Forestland Management funds. This increase is for expenses directly related to timber sale preparation to facilitate a reliable federal timber supply, and transition to value added processing for the forest products industry in southeast Alaska, consistent with all applicable environmental laws. The Committees encourage the Secretary to proceed with discussions with State and local government officials, industry and other groups to explore potential actions the Department can take to support local development such as through a veneer plant and value-added facilities in Ketchikan and other parts of southeast Alaska. In addition, $2,000,000 is also provided in the reconstruction and construction account above the normal base program for these efforts.

Funds should be distributed as follows:

Land management planning	$40,000,000
Inventory and monitoring	80,714,000
Recreation management	144,953,000
Wilderness management	29,584,000
Heritage resources	13,050,000
Wildlife habitat management	32,097,000
Inland fish habitat management	19,017,000
Anadromous fish habitat management	22,714,000
TE&S species habitat management	26,548,000
Grazing management	28,517,000
Rangeland vegetation management	28,533,000
Timber sales management	226,900,000
Forestland vegetation management	58,300,000
Soil, water and air operations	25,932,000
Watershed improvements	30,165,000
Minerals and geology management	37,050,000
Real estate management	46,133,000
Land line location	15,006,000
Facility maintenance, non-recreation	27,654,000
Facility maintenance, recreation	24,570,000
Trail maintenance	18,445,000
Law enforcement operations	66,288,000
General administration	256,400,000
Total, NFS	1,298,570,000

The Committees agree to the following:

1. Land management planning funding includes $2,000,000 as described by the House to complete the environmental impact statement (EIS) for the Sierra Nevada framework for conservation and collaboration by July 31, 1999. The Committees strongly encourage the Forest Service to offer the State of California an opportunity to participate in development of the EIS as a co-lead agency so long as this does not expand the scope of the EIS as it has been defined by the Forest Service. No specific funding level is provided for the Committee of Scientists planning effort or the White Mountain NF planning effort as was suggested by the Senate, but the Committees stress the need for the Administration to establish rapidly planning regulations and proceed with forest planning. This issue is further addressed in Title III. Although the Committees agree that participation by the State of Alaska in monitoring implementation of the Tongass Land Management Plan can be worthwhile, the conference agreement does not concur with the Senate language directing the Forest Service to provide $550,000 to the State to fund this participation.

2. Recreation management funding includes the Cradle of Forestry, NC project and national scenic and historic trails operations as proposed by the House but does not include the increase to the eastern region base funding proposed by the Senate. The Committees have included $600,000 in the recreation management activity for Midewin National Tallgrass Prairie planning and design which was included in the construction appropriation by the House and, in addition, the Committees agree that the overall funding for operations at the Midewin NTP should remain at the 1998 level.

3. In order to clarify the dates for which reports analyzing the recreation fee demonstration program are due, the Committees suggest that by January 31 of each year the program is in existence the affected agencies should provide a consolidated report on the annual accomplishments for the preceding fiscal year and any recommended improvements to the program. At such time as the demonstration is terminated, the final report should also include a comprehensive evaluation of the entirety of the program.

4. The Forest Service review of wilderness recreation policies should consider both the need to minimize, restore and contain recreation impacts, particularly in high usage areas, and the need to minimize impacts in more remote and less used areas, including maintenance of solitude as well as mitigation of adverse impacts on vegetation, soil and water, and wildlife in these areas.

5. Rangeland vegetation management includes the House proposed funding level for the noxious and exotic plant program which includes $400,000 for activities at the Okanogan and Colville National Forests as described in the Senate report.

6. Forestland management includes $5,000,000 to implement the Quincy Library Group legislation.

7. Timber sales management includes $2,000,000 for the aspen program on Colorado national forests. The Committees do not concur with the Senate language which specifies that these funds are to be used to attain the full allowable sale quantity on these national forests.

8. The conference agreement concurs with House language directing the agency to offer 3.6 billion board feet, instead of Senate language directing that 3.6 billion board feet be sold. However, the Committees understand that unit costs are lower in regions where accomplishment reporting is based on volume sold rather than offered. Accordingly, the Committees direct the agency to provide a report to the Committees, no later than June 30, 1999 which examines unit costs based on accomplishment reporting for volume sold rather than offered. The agency is to include recommendations in the report for future reporting of timber sale volume accomplishment.

9. With regard to timber scaling, the Committees agree that the Forest Service should continue its efforts to have its regions determine the best mix of timber measurement methods to be used in each region based on cost effectiveness and protection of Federal interests. The Committees expect that this direction will not change the use of tree measurement where already implemented unless there is documentation that scaling would improve cost effectiveness and protection of Federal resources and assets. The Committees also understand that the Forest Service believes it is preferable to use pre-measured sales to determine payments for small diameter material, however the agency is encouraged to use sample weight scaling where cost effective.

10. Law enforcement operations funding includes increases above base funding levels, as follows: $500,000 for counter drug operations on the Daniel Boone National Forest, KY and $250,000 for border control assistance in California.

11. The Committees remain concerned about the lack of public service and responsiveness to community needs in Region 3 and the Coronado National Forest. This was exemplified by the closure, without adequate notice or offer for suitable replacement, of the target range in Sabino Canyon. Such incidents have influenced the Committees to see the need to maintain tight control of administrative expenses and indirect costs.

12. Bill language is included as proposed by the Senate concerning use of NFS funds for minor facility reconstruction or construction, but the individual project limit has been increased to $150,000.

13. New bill language is included which allows transfer of unobligated NFS road maintenance funds to the construction appropriation for road maintenance since the road maintenance activity has been transferred out of the NFS appropriation.

14. Bill language is included in Title III which conveys portions of the Wind River Nursery to Skamania County, WA in exchange for county lands in the Columbia River Gorge National Scenic Area and the Gifford Pinchot National Forest. The Forest Service is directed to work in collaboration with the county in maintenance and restoration of the Pacific Crest Trail corridor associated with the Wind River nursery properties. The corridor should be managed to ensure that its use is compatible with objectives for the management of the Pacific Crest Trail and that the value of the associated site being transferred is not diminished. This collaborative effort should enhance both the value of the trail and that of associated private lands. The Committees also encourage the Forest Service and Skamania County to work together toward the development of a business plan for the sites affected by this conveyance. Through early collaboration, both the Forest Service and the county should be able to capitalize on the resources and expertise each brings to the development of these properties, ensuring uses compatible with the adjacent Federal lands, protecting the important research value of the Wind River Experimental Forest and the T.T. Munger Research Natural Area, and enhancing the economic value of these lands to Skamania County.

15. The conference agreement does not include funds proposed by the House for the Land Between the Lakes National Recreation Area. Funds proposed by the House have been redistributed in the conference agreement as follows: (1) $5,400,000 to cover fixed cost increases is provided in general administration, (2) $1,300,000 for clean water activities is provided in road maintenance, and (3) $300,000 is provided for increased fire operations.

16. The conference agreement provides increases to support clear water activities which includes $4,000,000 for rangeland vegetation management, and $3,000,000 for watershed improvements.

WILDLAND FIRE MANAGEMENT

The conference agreement provides $662,176,000 for wildland fire management instead of $631,737,000 as proposed by the House and $689,885,000 as proposed by the Senate. The agreement includes $102,000,000 in emergency contingent funds and $235,300,000 in other fire operations funds as proposed by the Senate (exclusive of general administration). The agreement includes $324,876,000 for wildland fire preparedness instead of $329,437,000 as proposed by the House and $338,878,000 as proposed by the Senate. The agreement does not include funding for general administration as proposed by the Senate; this funding remains in the national forest system appropriation as in past years. The funding agreement includes $500,000 for the native American fire cadre on the Black Hills National Forest, SD as proposed by the Senate. Hazardous fuel funding includes at least $12,000,000 for California, including at least $2,000,000 for priority treatments near Lake Tahoe and $3,000,000 to implement the Quincy Library Group legislation.

The Committees are concerned that the Forest Service may be wasting valuable forest products when conducting prescribed burns in some locations. Accordingly, rather than provide bill language in Title III as proposed by the Senate, the Committees direct that responsible line officers see to it that prescribed burns on lands classified in the national forest land management plan as timber base will not consume commercial wood products that could be removed in a commercially viable manner. The public should be given a chance to comment on prescribed burn plans in such situations; this stipulation does not apply to any incidental commercial product other than wood fiber or trees that should be retained as part of the prescription for the area.

RECONSTRUCTION AND CONSTRUCTION

The conference agreement provides $297,352,000 for reconstruction and construction instead of $271,444,000 as proposed by the House and $353,840,000 as proposed by the Senate. The agreement does not include funding for general administration as proposed by the Senate; this funding remains in the national forest system appropriation as in past years.

Funds provided in this Act and the financial and technical assistance funds referenced in the Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 1999, are intended to be used for the Franklin County Lake construction project in Mississippi.

The conference agreement retains the Senate bill language on the use of road maintenance funds for decommissioning roads, including unauthorized roads, but the limit is raised to $15,000,000. The agreement includes bill language, altering that proposed by the Senate, which requires notice and an opportunity for public comment before roads are decommissioned. The conference agreement does not include the Senate proposal to limit funds for decommissioning roads until certification is provided that all unauthorized roads are either decommissioned or reconstructed to national forest system standards. The Committees understand there are pending administrative appeals specific to road closures and road density issues on the April 15, 1997, Record of Decisions accompanying the Targhee National Forest Land and Resource Management Plan. The Committees urge the agency not to decommission system roads on the Targhee National Forest until appeals which are pending as of the date of this Act are resolved.

The conference agreement provides an increase of $4,300,000 in road maintenance for clean water activities. The Committees have provided $2,000,000 in the reconstruction and construction account for engineering support for timber sale preparation in southeast Alaska. For a more detailed explanation refer to the discussion under the national forest system account.

The Committees have included funds as directed in the Senate report for access to blowdown timber on the Routt National Forest, CO, for the Talimena scenic byway in Oklahoma, and for erosion work on the Monongahela National Forest, WV; funds are not provided for road reconstruction in support of the Gallatin II land exchange or for relocating the eastern regional office. The Ketchikan, AK area trails funds may be used for associated recreational structures. The $3,000,000 provided within the recreation facilities reconstruction and construction activity for backlog maintenance and minor repair may be used for any high priority project and should not be limited to recreation needs. The Committees direct the Forest Service to follow the Senate report instructions regarding engineering overhead and program management for road construction and to include a clear exposition of the engineering infrastructure, including detached units, in the next budget justification.

LAND ACQUISITION

The conference agreement provides $117,918,000 for land acquisition instead of $30,000,000 as proposed by the House and $67,022,000 as proposed by the Senate. The Committees agree to the following distribution of funds:

State and Project	Amount
Multi—Appalachian Trail	$7,000,000
NM—Baca	40,000,000
CA—Big Sur Ecosystem	1,900,000

Funds provided in fiscal year 1998 for Wisconsin Wild Waterways are for the acquisition of the Burke property in the Chequamegon National Forest, which shall be managed in a manner that prohibits: (a) timber harvesting except for the protection of public health and safety or as necessary in the event of fire, disease or insect infestation; (b) road construction or development; (c) motorized vehicle use except on existing roads; and (d) recreational facility construction or other development activities. In order to protect the ecological, historic, scenic and botanical resources of the Burke property, the Forest Service shall designate special management areas as depicted on a map titled "Forest Lodge (Burke) Special Management Area" and dated October 1, 1997.

Bill language is included in Title III General Provisions which details the specific conditions under which Federal funds may be used to purchase the Baca property in New Mexico. The funds are subject to an independent appraisal which conforms with the Uniform Appraisal Standards for Federal Land Acquisitions and is subject to specific authorization legislation being signed into Public Law.

The Committees are modifying the reprogramming guidelines regarding land exchanges. The agencies must submit proposed land exchanges in excess of $500,000 to the Committee on Appropriations for a 30 day period of review.

ACQUISITION OF LANDS FOR NATIONAL FORESTS SPECIAL ACTS

The conference agreement provides $1,069,000 for the acquisition of lands for national forests special acts as proposed by both the House and the Senate.

ACQUISITION OF LANDS TO COMPLETE LAND EXCHANGES

The conference agreement provides an indefinite appropriation estimated to be $210,000 for acquisition of lands to complete land exchanges.

RANGE BETTERMENT FUND

The conference agreement provides an indefinite appropriation estimated to be $3,300,000 for range betterment.

GIFTS, DONATIONS AND BEQUESTS FOR FOREST AND RANGELAND RESEARCH

The conference agreement provides $92,000 for gifts, donations and bequests for forest and rangeland research as proposed by both the House and the Senate.

MANAGEMENT OF FEDERAL LANDS FOR SUBSISTENCE USES

SUBSISTENCE MANAGEMENT, FOREST SERVICE

The conference agreement provides $3,000,000 for subsistence management, Forest Service. Neither the House nor the Senate provided funding for this purpose. This new account and a similar account in the Department of the Interior provide funds to implement and enforce certain Federal regulations dealing with preference for subsistence uses, including those dealing with fish and wildlife, on navigable rivers in Alaska that are subject to Federal reserved water rights. The conditions associated with the availability and use of these funds are contained in section 339 of this Act.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS, FOREST SERVICE

The conference agreement concurs with the House language allowing use of up to $3,500,000 for International Forestry activities, as authorized. The agreement includes bill language as proposed by the House limiting funds for administrative expenses of the National Forest Foundation to $400,000. The Committees note with concern the recent Inspector General's evaluation of management practices at the National Forest Foundation, and therefore the Forest Service is urged to use existing authorities to implement fully the Inspector General's recommendations concerning the Foundation. The conference agreement allows $2,650,000 to be used for matching grants by the National Fish and Wildlife Foundation. Bill language corrects a technical error concerning the number of operable airplanes allowed in the wildland firefighting fleet.

The conference agreement has deleted the language proposed by the House concerning use of the salvage sale fund and the Knutson-Vandenberg reforestation fund for administrative and indirect support activities. Rather, the conference agreement revises language proposed by the Senate concerning exposition of indirect expenses throughout all Forest Service appropriations, and the agreement limits indirect expenses charged to some trust funds and cooperative work funds during fiscal year 2000.

The conference agreement concurs with the Senate position that the general administration line item as currently funded does not adequately represent the total cost of indirect expenses incurred by the agency. However, due to the immediate impact of eliminating this budget line item, the agreement provides for continuing general administration during fiscal year 1999. The Committees direct the agency to eliminate the general administration line item in fiscal year 2000 as part of proposals to revise the budget structure. The new budget structure proposal should clearly display in some manner all indirect expenditures and administrative needs. The Committees caution the Forest Service that changes in budget structure must be fully coordinated with Congress prior to submission of the fiscal year 2000 budget justification as required in House Report 105-163 accompanying Public Law 105-83. The Committees emphasize that consideration of significant budget structure changes will be fully contingent on significant progress by the agency in improving financial and program accountability and accomplishment. It is further noted that budget structure changes must be fully compatible with the Government Performance and Results Act, and accurately reflect all multiple use activities of the agency.

The conference agreement concurs with Senate language concerning management of indirect costs and reporting indirect expenditures. The Committees have changed the language to clarify the Senate's intent and to address management of indirect expenses for several permanent and trust funds. The revised bill language clarifies that proposed definitions for indirect expenses are to be consistent with the Federal Accounting Standards Advisory Board and are to be submitted to the Committees no later than 90 days after the date of enactment of this Act. The conference agreement eliminates language regarding quantification of indirect expenses to the ranger district level. The Committees expect the agency to display all indirect costs in the fiscal year 2000 budget justification to the regional level. However the display of regional costs should be computed based on costs at the ranger district level. The revised language specifies that indirect expenses for the Brush Disposal, Cooperative Work-Other, Knutson-Vandenberg, Reforestation, Salvage Sale, and Roads and Trails funds shall not exceed 20 percent beginning in fiscal year 2000. The Committees further expect that progress will be made to reduce indirect expenses toward this goal during fiscal year 1999.

The Committees are concerned about the improper expenditure of Forest Service funds where projects are jointly funded by more than one appropriation. The Committees support integrated land management but expect the agency to maintain fidelity to appropriations intent for each funding activity when executing multi-funded projects.

DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY

CLEAN COAL TECHNOLOGY

The conference agreement provides for the deferral of $40,000,000 in previously appropriated funds for the clean coal technology program as proposed by the Senate. The House did not propose to defer funding. The Committees agree that $14,900,000 may be used for administration of the clean coal technology program.

FOSSIL ENERGY RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

The conference agreement provides $384,056,000 for fossil energy research and development instead of $315,558,000 as proposed by the House and $376,431,000 as proposed by the Senate.

Changes to the House recommended level for coal research include increases of $750,000 in coal preparation for removal of mercury; $350,000 for direct liquefaction; $500,000 for indirect fired cycle; $2,000,000 for Vision 21 in high efficiency integrated gasified combined cycle; $2,750,000 for PM 2.5 monitoring and research in fine particulate control/air toxics and $4,000,000 for CO₂ sequestration research both in advanced research and environmental technology; and $100,000 in advanced research and technology development for international program support; and decreases of $112,000 in high efficiency integrated gasified combined cycle for technical and program support, $1,000,000 in coal utilization for Vision 21 and $40,000 in advanced research and technology development for undergraduate internships.

Changes to the House for natural gas and fuel cell research include increases of $44,500,000 for advanced turbine systems (the House had proposed to transfer this program to the energy conservation account); $1,500,000 for gas to liquids, $500,000 for coal mine methane and $250,000 for Alaska coal bed methane all in emerging process technology; and $5,000,000 for fuel cell systems development; and a decrease of $100,000 in effective environmental protection for outreach and technology transfer.

Changes to the House in oil technology research include increases of $250,000 in reservoir characterization for the northern mid-continent digital atlas and $300,000 in effective environmental protection for State, tribal and Federal regulations.

Changes to the House in other program areas include an increase in cooperative research and development of $1,000,000, an increase of $1,000,000 for energy technology center program direction and an increase of $5,000,000 which negates the general reduction to the fossil energy program as a whole.

The Committees agree to the following:

1. The funding provided for PM 2.5 monitoring and research is for data monitoring and development of cost effective control technologies or source production science. The Department is urged to cooperate with the Southern Research Institute to the extent that monitoring stations are established in the southeast.

2. It is critical to the continuation of the low emissions boiler program that the State of Illinois provide its full cost share of $25 million. The Department should report to the Committees by January 31, 1999 on the status of the low emissions boiler program including whether or not the full cost share has been received from the State of Illinois, the extent to which the project is feasible from the standpoint of bids received from contractors for project construction and the extent to which power purchase agreements have been arranged.

3. The increase provided for the gas to liquids program is to continue a cost-shared, public-private university research program involving the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, the University of Illinois, the University of Houston and the University of Alaska.

4. As requested in the budget request, $500,000 is provided for the coal mine methane program, but the Committees remain concerned about the potential out-year costs and long-term expectations for this program. The Committees strongly encourage the Department of Energy to (1) down-select the number of coal mine methane projects from 5 down to 2, (2) establish a reasonable and supportable total cap on Federal funding for the program and (3) require a minimum of 50% cost-share for any future program phases.

5. Funding for an Alaska coal bed methane program is provided on a one-time basis and should be used to work with the Alaska Division of Geological and Geophysical Surveys to determine whether coal bed methane is a viable fuel source in rural Alaska. Should coal bed methane be determined to be commercially viable, the State should seek alternative sources of funding to develop the project further.

6. There is no earmark in the natural gas exploration and production program to promote research on computational tools that incorporate rock properties.

7. There is no mandate to down-select from three to two contracts in the existing fuel cell program but the Department should consider that option.

8. No study is required on the feasibility of an integrated management system for oil and gas production that incorporates state-of-the-art modeling, sensing and computational technologies.

9. There are sufficient unobligated balances from previous fiscal years to continue the gypsy field project in fiscal year 1999. The fiscal year 2000 budget should include a request for any additional funds needed to continue this project in that fiscal year.

10. Cooperative research and development funding should be distributed as in past years with a percentage of funds used for the base research program and the balance used for jointly sponsored research.

11. Funding has been provided to support programs that improve energy efficiency and reduce emissions. These programs are justified by goals and objectives independent of implementation of the Kyoto protocol. No funds are to be used to implement actions called for solely under the Kyoto protocol prior to its ratification.

12. The $750,000 provided in coal preparation for pre-combustion removal of mercury using dry magnetic separation is to fund phase II of an existing technology development program. These funds will be used to scale up and test technologies that reduce ash, sulfur and trace-element emissions while lowering the bus-bar cost of electricity generated from bituminous coal from the Northern Appalachian region. The technology will be tested at a power plant in Clearfield County, Pennsylvania using a dry magnetic separator retrofitted to an existing dry pulverizer.

ALTERNATIVE FUELS PRODUCTION

(INCLUDING TRANSFER OF FUNDS)

The conference agreement provides for the deposit of investment income earned as of October 1, 1998 on principal amounts in a trust fund established as part of the sale of the Great Plains Gasification Plant in Beulah, ND, and immediate transfer of the funds to the General Fund of the Treasury. The amount available as of October 1, 1998 is estimated to be $1,300,000.

NAVAL PETROLEUM AND OIL SHALE RESERVES

The conference agreement provides $14,000,000 for the Naval petroleum and oil shale reserves as proposed by the House instead of $14,056,000 as proposed by the Senate. Funds should be distributed as follows:

Naval Petroleum Reserves Nos. 1 and 2	$3,594,000
Naval Petroleum Reserve No. 3	10,180,000
Naval Oil Shale Reserves	0
Program Direction	6,876,000
Use of Prior Year Funds	-6,650,000
Total	14,000,000

ELK HILLS SCHOOL LANDS FUND

The conference agreement provides $36,000,000 for the Elk Hills school lands fund for payment to the State of California for the State Teachers' Retirement Fund. Neither the House nor the Senate included funding for this purpose under the assumption that this claim would be paid directly from revenue from the sale of the Elk Hills Naval Petroleum Reserve. Because that option did not materialize, funds are provided in this Act. The Committees encourage the Department to work with the legislative committees of jurisdiction to continue to pursue a legislative remedy so that the balance of these payments may be made directly from the sale proceeds.

ENERGY CONSERVATION

The conference agreement includes $691,701,000 for energy conservation instead of $632,250,000 (excluding $43,000,000 for the Fossil Energy turbine program) as proposed by the House and $646,701,000 (after factoring in the statutory offset of $31,000,000 in unobligated balances) as proposed by the Senate.

Changes to the House recommended level for buildings technology include increases of $1,200,000 for building America, $1,535,000 for home energy rating systems, $400,000 for rebuild America, $2,500,000 for technology roadmaps, $900,000 for heat pumps, $250,000 for desiccants and chillers, $250,000 for fuel cells for buildings, $500,000 for demonstrations of modular fuel cells at DOE facilities, $500,000 for emerging technology demonstrations, $500,000 for consumer education, $4,000,000 for building envelope research, $600,000 for building energy codes, $3,600,000 for lighting and appliance standards, $6,400,000 due to elimination of the requirement to use prior year funds, and $250,000 in management and planning for analytical studies and planning, and decreases of $100,000 for residential energy efficiency and $9,000 in management and planning for technology and sector data. There is also an increase of $4,000,000 for weatherization and $1,000,000 for State grants.

Changes to the House for the Federal energy management program include an increase of $1,000,000 for project financing and decreases of $250,000 for technical and financial assistance and $100,000 for program direction.

Changes to the House for industry sector programs include increases of $2,000,000 each for the mining vision (aluminum industries of the future program) and for the agriculture/biobased fuels vision (chemicals industries of the future program), $500,000 for the combined heat and power initiative, $2,600,000 for motor challenge, $1,000,000 to correct an error in the House report dealing with the climate-wise program, $200,000 for program direction, $19,000,000 to accelerate the advanced turbine program and $8,300,000 due to elimination of the requirement to use prior year funds, and a decrease of $43,000,000 which negates the House proposed transfer of the turbine program from the fossil energy account.

Changes to the House for transportation sector programs include increases of $1,000,000 for C-1 chemistry, $1,300,000 for fuels for advanced engines, $2,000,000 for advanced power electronics, $4,500,000 for fuel cell research and development, $1,000,000 for advanced combustion research, $1,500,000 for cooperative automotive research for advanced technologies, $3,000,000 for high efficiency engine research, $500,000 for heavy vehicle systems technologies, $4,000,000 for lightweight materials, $1,200,000 for high strength weight reduction materials, $200,000 for the clean cities voluntary deployment program, $500,000 for vehicle field testing/evaluation, $75,000 for program direction and $10,100,000 due to elimination of the requirement to use prior year funds and a decrease of $2,000,000 in hybrid propulsion systems.

Other changes to the House include an increase of $250,000 for headquarters contract services and decreases of $200,000 for headquarters salaries and related expenses and $34,000,000 in undistributed increases.

The Committees agree to the following:

1. This is the final year of funding for home energy rating systems.
2. With regard to energy measurement techniques, nothing in the House or Senate reports should be construed as an attempt to circumvent or contradict the National Appliance Efficiency Conservation Act or any other relevant statute.
3. With regard to the Federal energy management program, the Secretary may, in establishing charges for services rendered to other Federal agencies, recover such program costs as the Secretary deems appropriate including, but not limited to, start-up costs (including those incurred in fiscal year 1998), Department of Energy program operating expenses and contractor costs. The Secretary should make every effort to recover, over the life of the program, all costs associated with start-up, execution and support to other Federal agencies. To reduce the administrative burden on the program, the Secretary may establish an annual fixed pricing structure.
4. There are no specific earmarks for any entity within the industries of the future (specific) program. The Department should use the expertise at the National laboratories, the Federal Energy Technology Center and the Intermountain Center for Mining Research and Technology to the extent that such organizations are able to provide quality work, which is consistent with program and industry priorities.
5. The Department should work with Alfred University to explore how that institution's expertise in glass and ceramics engineering and other technologies relevant to the Department's programs might be used to benefit those programs.

6. Natural gas vehicle research should be funded following the priorities established in the five-year Comprehensive Plan for Natural Gas Vehicle Research. The budget for fiscal year 1999 is $10,000,000 of which $2,000,000 in alternative fuels/systems optimization is for engine, fuel storage system and fueling infrastructure and $8,000,000 in heavy vehicles research is for engine vehicle system, safety/systems integration and fueling infrastructure. This research must be related to vehicles powered directly by compressed or liquefied natural gas and should be allocated based on priorities developed in close coordination with industry.

7. Funding has been provided to support programs that improve energy efficiency and reduce emissions. These programs are justified by goals and objectives independent of implementation of the Kyoto protocol. No funds are to be used to implement actions called for solely under the Kyoto protocol prior to its ratification.

ECONOMIC REGULATION

The conference agreement provides $1,801,000 for economic regulation as proposed by both the House and the Senate. These funds are for the Office of Hearings and Appeals.

STRATEGIC PETROLEUM RESERVE

The conference agreement provides $160,120,000 for the strategic petroleum reserve as proposed by the House instead of $155,120,000 as proposed by the Senate.

ENERGY INFORMATION ADMINISTRATION

The conference agreement provides $70,500,000 as proposed in the budget request for the energy information administration instead of $68,000,000 as proposed by both the House and the Senate.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

INDIAN HEALTH SERVICE

INDIAN HEALTH SERVICES

The conference agreement provides $1,950,322,000 for Indian health services instead of $1,932,953,000 as proposed by the House and $1,888,602,000 as proposed by the Senate. Changes to the House recommended level include increases in hospitals and health clinics of $4,000,000 for an Alaska Federal health care partnership for telemedicine and $19,000,000 which the House had proposed to transfer to the facilities account for facilities management and an increase of $9,000,000 for contract support costs. These increases are partially offset by decreases for fixed costs of $6,844,000 in hospitals and health clinics, $980,000 in dental health, $297,000 in mental health, $641,000 in alcohol and substance abuse, $2,722,000 in contract care, $215,000 in public health nursing, $50,000 in health education, $307,000 in community health representatives, $9,000 in Alaska immunization, $187,000 in urban health, $214,000 in Indian health professions, $9,000 in tribal management, $500,000 in direct operations and $66,000 in self-governance. Other program decreases below the House include $750,000 in mental health for suicide prevention and $840,000 in contract care for new tribes funding.

The conference agreement includes an earmark of $373,801,000 for contract medical care, exclusive of the Indian Catastrophic Health Emergency Fund, instead of $377,363,000 as proposed by the House and $364,792,000 as proposed by the Senate; and an earmark of $203,781,000 for contract support costs instead of $194,781,000 as proposed by the House and $170,190,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement includes a provision that allows the Ponca Tribe of Nebraska to use previously appropriated funds to obtain approved clinical space. This language is included with the express understanding that there will be no operational funding increases associated with this new space.

The Committees agree to the following:

1. Fixed costs are funded at 75% of need with the exception of contract support costs. A total increase of $35,079,000 above the budget request is provided for contract support costs and is to be used to minimize negative impacts on current contracts and compacts of the pro rata distribution of funding for this activity beginning in fiscal year 1999.

2. Of the funds available to the IHS for diabetes programs, the Service should fund cooperative efforts with the Joslin Diabetes Clinic in Boston to non-invasively screen for undiagnosed diabetes and diabetic retinopathy in Indian communities. The Committees understand that such a program would be similar to programs the Joslin Clinic is conducting with the Department of Defense and the Veterans Administration and that the managers of existing diabetes programs within IHS have expressed an interest in working with Joslin.

3. The Service should provide a status report on the Alaska telemedicine project in its fiscal year 2000 budget request and include the appropriate level of funding needed to continue the project in that budget.

4. The IHS should work with the tribe and the private sector to develop a cost-effective approach for providing emergency services at the IHS facility in Wagner, SD, including the possibility of shared emergency services with the local community which could lower emergency service costs and raise the quality of service for the community while providing additional revenue for the IHS facility in Wagner.

5. The Pascua Yaqui Tribe in AZ continues to experience funding problems in its Health Maintenance Organization because of increases in enrollment. The IHS should make every effort to account for this increase to ensure that existing health benefits are maintained for longer-term members as well as for newly enrolled members.

6. The IHS should continue to work with and provide funding support to the University of Washington's fetal alcohol syndrome research program.

The conference agreement does not include statutory language mandating a prorata distribution of contract support costs across all Service self-determination contracts and self-governance compacts. This language was included in both the House and Senate bills but has been dropped because of concerns expressed by tribal organizations and many individual tribes. The Committees remain convinced that the current distribution methodology employed by the Service for contract support costs is inequitable and fiscally unsound. The Committees' proposal for a pro-rata distribution, in combination with a one-year moratorium on new contracts and compacts and additional funding for existing contracts and compacts, would have provided a permanent solution to the problem.

The Committees have added more than $35 million to the Administration's budget request to address the inequity in the distribution of contract support cost funding in fiscal year 1999. The Committees direct the Service, in cooperation with the tribes, to remedy this inequity in the fiscal year 2000 budget request. The remedy cannot be a large infusion of additional funding for contract support costs at the expense of either critical health programs or critical construction needs of the Service. Further, the Committees note that the one-year moratorium on new contracts and compacts cannot be extended indefinitely. The Committees believe strongly that an acceptable permanent solution to the contract support cost distribution inequity must be a part of the fiscal year 2000 budget request from the Administration.

INDIAN HEALTH FACILITIES

The conference agreement provides $289,465,000 for Indian health facilities instead of $313,175,000 as proposed by the House and $263,516,000 as proposed by the Senate. Changes to the House include decreases of $1,189,000 in maintenance and improvement of which $189,000 is for fixed costs and $1,000,000 is for unmet need, $72,000 for fixed costs in sanitation facilities, $2,500,000 in hospital and clinic construction for the Parker, AZ health center, $886,000 for fixed costs in facilities and environmental health support, $63,000 for fixed costs in the equipment account, and $19,000,000 in transfers from the hospital and clinics account for facilities management.

The Committees agree that the funding provided for a pilot project on the Spokane reservation at the Wellpinit, WA facility is contingent on non-Federal matching funds from the tribe and that there will be no operational funding increase associated with this project.

OTHER RELATED AGENCIES

OFFICE OF NAVAJO AND HOPI INDIAN RELOCATION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides $13,000,000 for salaries and expenses of the Office of Navajo and Hopi Indian Relocation as proposed by the House instead of $15,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

INSTITUTE OF AMERICAN INDIAN AND ALASKA NATIVE CULTURE AND ARTS DEVELOPMENT

PAYMENT TO THE INSTITUTE

The conference agreement provides $4,250,000 for payment to the institute instead of no funding as proposed by the House and $3,188,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The Committees direct that within the funds provided to the Institute $500,000 is subject to at least a one-to-one cash match from non-Federal contributors.

SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides $347,154,000 for salaries and expenses instead of $346,449,000 as proposed by the House and $352,154,000 as proposed by the Senate.

Increases above the House level include $1,911,000 for the National Museum of the American Indian Suitland facility and $150,000 for additional costs resulting from implementation of the Panama Canal Treaty at the Tropical Research Institute. Decreases from the House level include $856,000 for Facilities Services (utilities) and $500,000 for the National Museum of Natural History East Court/West Court project. An amount of $3,000,000 required by the National Museum of American History for restoration of the Star-Spangled Banner has not been included in this account because the Committees have provided funding for this project as part of the Save America's Treasures initiative funded through the U.S. Department of the Interior.

In order to provide the Cultural Resources Center (CRC) with the flexibility necessary for addressing its initial operational needs most efficiently, the Committees have not allocated CRC's funding increase to specific subactivities, but expect the Center to use these funds for its highest priority requirements.

The Committees direct the Smithsonian to provide $250,000 to the National Museum of American Art for additional continuing support for Heritage Preservation efforts to promote the conservation of public sculpture and other art through private-public partnership and education programs.

The Committees commend the Smithsonian for its continued commitment to raise private funds to support its activities. The Committees assure the Smithsonian that supplementary private support will not be viewed as a substitute for Federal appropriations.

The Committees have included language in Title III General Provisions to transfer title of the Indian Arts and Crafts Board collection located in the U.S. Department of the Interior, Washington D.C. headquarters to the National Museum of the American Indian. Preferential consideration should be given to requests from the Indian Arts and Crafts Board and the Institute of Indian Arts in Santa Fe, New Mexico, for loans of the collection by the National Museum of the American Indian. The Committees understand that the transfer of this collection will not result in any request for additional funds from the National Museum of the American Indian and that the costs for its conservation will be absorbed internally by the Smithsonian Institution.

CONSTRUCTION AND IMPROVEMENTS, NATIONAL ZOOLOGICAL PARK

The conference agreement provides $4,400,000 for construction and improvements at the National Zoological Park as proposed by the Senate instead of $4,500,000 as proposed by the House. The decrease of $100,000 reflects the amount designated in the budget request for the Holt House.

REPAIR AND RESTORATION OF BUILDINGS

The conference agreement provides $40,000,000 for major repair and restoration instead of $44,500,000 as proposed by the House and $32,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. Within this amount, the Committees designate $2,000,000 for security system modernization.

CONSTRUCTION

The conference agreement provides $16,000,000 for construction as proposed by the Senate instead of $2,000,000 as proposed by the House. The entire amount is for the National Museum of the American Indian mall facility.

The conference agreement retains the Senate provision allowing a single procurement for the full scope of the National Museum of the American Indian mall project.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS, SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION

The conference agreement modifies House language prohibiting the use of funds for new or expanded facilities without prior approval from the Appropriations Committees by eliminating the word "planning".

The conference agreement deletes House language regarding the payment of any judgment related to the complaint filed in the U.S. Court of Federal Claims by Geddes, Brecher, Qualls and Cunningham against the Smithsonian Institution.

The Committees have agreed to language which authorizes modifications to certain boards and commissions under Title III General Provisions.

NATIONAL GALLERY OF ART

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides $57,938,000 for salaries and expenses of the National Gallery of Art as proposed by both the House and the Senate.

Language is not included, as proposed by the House, that would specify that the National Gallery of Art is a Federal entity under the Inspector General Act of 1978.

REPAIR, RESTORATION AND RENOVATION OF BUILDINGS

The conference agreement provides $6,311,000 for repair, restoration and renovation of buildings as proposed by both the House and the Senate.

JOHN F. KENNEDY CENTER FOR THE PERFORMING ARTS
OPERATIONS AND MAINTENANCE

The conference agreement provides $12,187,000 for operations and maintenance as proposed by the House instead of $13,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

CONSTRUCTION

The conference agreement provides $20,000,000 for construction as proposed by the Senate instead of $9,000,000 as proposed by the House.

WOODROW WILSON INTERNATIONAL CENTER FOR SCHOLARS
SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides $5,840,000 for salaries and expenses of the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars as proposed by both the House and the Senate. Funds should be distributed as follows:

Fellowship program	$947,000
Scholar support	674,000
Public service	1,752,000
General administration	1,256,000
Smithsonian fee	205,000
Conference planning	956,000
Space	50,000
	<hr/>
Total	5,840,000

The conference agreement does not retain House language prohibiting the use of Federal funds for relocation of the Center to the Ronald Reagan Building. The Senate had no similar provision.

NATIONAL FOUNDATION ON THE ARTS AND THE HUMANITIES
NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE ARTS
GRANTS AND ADMINISTRATION

The conference agreement provides $83,500,000 for grants and administration instead of $81,240,000 as proposed by the House and $85,560,000 as proposed by the Senate. Increases above the House level include $1,762,000 for program grants, $977,000 for program support, and $131,000 for administration. Decreases from the House level include $440,000 for policy planning and research and $170,000 for computer replacement. The foregoing realignment of funds reflects the revised administrative structure proposed by the Endowment in response to last year's recommendation by the Committees that NEA should develop a more accurate display of the full scope of activities funded with administrative dollars.

The conference agreement includes a technical correction to reference section 5(g) of the National Foundation on the Arts and Humanities Act as proposed by the Senate. The House bill does not include this reference.

MATCHING GRANTS

The conference agreement provides $14,500,000 for matching grants as proposed by the Senate instead of $16,760,000 as proposed by the House.

NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE HUMANITIES

GRANTS AND ADMINISTRATION

The conference agreement provides $96,800,000 for grants and administration as proposed by both the House and the Senate.

MATCHING GRANTS

The conference agreement provides $13,900,000 for matching grants as proposed by both the House and the Senate. The Committees agree to provide authority for the Endowment to use up to $5,000,000 in challenge grant funds for the regional centers initiative as proposed in the Senate report. No such provision was included by the House. As previously indicated, this authority does not ensure future support for this new program, which has a total estimated cost of $55,000,000 over a six-year period. Consequently, the Endowment should proceed carefully with its plans and not design a program that is based on the expectation of additional Federal funding in the future. Further, the Committees restate the concern that support for the Endowment's ongoing core programs should not be sacrificed in any manner in order to accommodate the regional centers proposal.

INSTITUTE OF MUSEUM AND LIBRARY SERVICES

OFFICE OF MUSEUM SERVICES

GRANTS AND ADMINISTRATION

The conference agreement provides $23,405,000 for the Office of Museum Services as proposed by the House instead of $23,280,000 as proposed by the Senate. Last year IMLS initiated a program of National Leadership Grants for model collaborative projects developed by museums and libraries. Funding for this grant category has been maintained for fiscal year 1999 in order for the Office of Museum Services to continue its support of the most exemplary projects of national significance selected through the competitive process of peer review.

COMMISSION OF FINE ARTS

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides $898,000 for the Commission of Fine Arts as proposed by both the House and the Senate.

NATIONAL CAPITAL ARTS AND CULTURAL AFFAIRS

The conference agreement provides $7,000,000 for National Capital Arts and Cultural Affairs as proposed by both the House and the Senate. The criteria for consideration of new applicants should follow the direction in the House report.

ADVISORY COUNCIL ON HISTORIC PRESERVATION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides $2,800,000 as proposed by both the House and the Senate.

NATIONAL CAPITAL PLANNING COMMISSION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides $5,954,000 as proposed by both the House and the Senate. The Commission should follow the direction provided in both the House and Senate reports.

UNITED STATES HOLOCAUST MEMORIAL COUNCIL

HOLOCAUST MEMORIAL COUNCIL

The conference agreement provides $32,107,000 for the Holocaust Memorial Council instead of $31,707,000 as proposed by the House and $32,607,000 as proposed by the Senate. The increase of $400,000 above the House level includes an increase of $809,000 for fixed costs and decreases of $220,000 for forced attrition, $95,000 in collections acquisition and $94,000 for museum outreach activities as presented in the fiscal year 1999 budget.

PRESIDIO TRUST

PRESIDIO TRUST FUND

The conference agreement provides $34,913,000 for the Presidio Trust instead of $39,913,000 as proposed by the House and $29,913,000 as proposed by the Senate. The Agreement authorizes the trust to borrow up to $20,000,000 from the U.S. Treasury.

TITLE III—GENERAL PROVISIONS

The conference agreement includes sections 301 through 316 which are identical in the House and Senate bills. The conference agreement deletes House section 317 which would have prohibited the use of funds in Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore to require landlords to vacate real property.

Section 317 retains identical language in section 318 in the House bill and section 317 in the Senate bill concerning prohibitions on Biosphere Reserves.

Section 318 retains House section 319 regarding prohibitions for Cape Canaveral National Seashore. The Senate had no similar provision.

Section 319 retains the text of section 319 as proposed by the Senate and section 320 as proposed by the House prohibiting grants for seasonal support, most individual grants, and most subgranting by the National Endowment for the Arts.

Section 320 retains the text of Senate section 320 and House section 321 providing the NEA and the NEH with the authority to solicit funds and to invest such funds in interest-bearing accounts.

Section 321 alters slightly the language proposed by the Senate concerning funding limitation on national forest land management planning. The conference agreement allows funding for those national forests which are legally mandated to have their plans updated before or during calendar year 2000. The Committees understand that there are 11 forest units in this category. The Committees remain very concerned about the lack of cooperation displayed by the Administration at getting new planning rules in place. This language, as in fiscal year 1998, allows the funding moratorium to vanish as soon as at least interim planning rules are published in final form. The Administration continues to take a slow and unwieldy approach to updating the planning rules. The Committees expect that a new planning rule could easily be put into place in short order. The new rule should be closely tied to the authorizing legislation rather than attempt to administratively implement new law governing national forest land management planning. Further, the Committees have eliminated a related Senate provision included under section 329 of the Senate bill which continues forest plans after the fifteen year mandatory revision date.

Section 322 includes language proposed by the Senate prohibiting the use of funds to issue a five year program under the Forest and Rangeland Renewable Resources Planning Act. The Committees recognize that the Government Performance and Results Act requires strategic plans and performance measures which should provide the public with sufficient information formerly provided in the RPA program.

Section 323 retains modifications made by the Senate to House language included under section 322 regarding watershed restoration and enhancement agreements however, the authority has been extended through fiscal year 2001. The Committees extend the authority in order to provide more certainty and continuity in establishing these local citizen-government partnerships.

Section 324 retains the text of section 323 as proposed by the House instructing the NEA to give priority to rural and underserved populations; to establish a grant category for projects of national significance; to ensure that grants to any one state not exceed 15%; and to encourage the use of grants to improve and support community-based music performance and education. The Senate included a similar provision in section 324.

Section 325 retains House section 324 which restricts the use of funds to make certain improvements to Pennsylvania Avenue in front of the White House.

The conference agreement deletes section 325 prohibiting the use of funds by the Woodrow Wilson Center to relocate their offices as proposed by the House.

The conference agreement does not include language proposed in section 327 of the House bill requiring the Secretary of Agriculture to grant an easement for a road to the Chugach Alaska Corporation.

Section 326 extends the legislative authority for construction of an international memorial to honor the victims of communism until December 17, 2007.

Section 327 retains the text of section 328 as proposed by the House extending the recreation fee demonstration program through fiscal year 2001. The Senate had no similar provision.

Section 328 modifies language in section 329 of the House bill placing a moratorium on new and expanded Indian self-determination and self-governance contracts and compacts. The modification includes an exemption for essential health and safety repairs in Bureau of Indian Affairs schools and an exemption for implementation of section 325 in the fiscal year 1998 Interior Appropriations Act.

The conference agreement does not include language proposed under section 328 of the Senate bill regarding the forest service general accounting ledger.

Section 329 includes technical modifications to the language proposed by the House under section 330 and the Senate under section 339 concerning elimination of the purchaser road credit system for forest service timber sales.

Section 330 retains the text of section 331 as proposed by the House and section 325 as proposed by the Senate making a technical correction to provide authority for the Senate Majority Leader to make two appointments to the National Council on the Arts.

The conference agreement does not include language contained in either the Senate or House bill regarding the Interior Columbia Basin Ecosystem Management Project (ICBEMP) and does not concur with limitations contained in the House report on expenditures of funds for ICBEMP. The Committees note Administration acknowledgment that the current direction of this study shows little prospect of successfully resolving important environmental and economic issues. The Committees believe it is necessary to develop a new approach and understand that the Administration estimates this will lengthen the overall project effort by approximately 12 months. The Committees encourage the Administration to include affected state and county governments in this process as cooperating agencies. The Committees intend to closely monitor progress of the study during fiscal year 1999 and emphasize that it will be difficult to secure funding in the future to implement results that are not widely supported by interests within the region.

Section 331 amends section 401(f) of Public Law 105-83 to extend by one year the sunset date by which funds must be appropriated from the Environmental Improvement and Restoration Fund.

Section 332 includes language proposed in section 334 of the House bill providing additional authority to use the roads and trails funds for priority forest health related management. The Committees recognize that there is a huge backlog in important road, trail and bridge work throughout the national forest system just as there is a huge backlog in needed management related to forest health. The Committees urge the Forest Service to work with the Committees to use the road and trail fund exclusively for reducing these priority backlogs and not to replace ordinary appropriations as the Administration proposed for the trails construction budget in the fiscal year 1999 proposal.

The conference agreement does not include House proposed bill language included under section 332 to transfer the Land Between the Lakes National Recreation Area to the Forest Service from the Tennessee Valley Authority. This issue is addressed herein in a later title.

The conference agreement does not include Senate proposed bill language included under section 332 regarding prescribed burns, but direction concerning this matter is found in the Forest Service wildland fire management account.

Section 333 retains language proposed in section 333 of the House bill regarding the Arts and Artifacts Indemnity Act to increase the limits for insuring international exhibitions. The Senate had no similar provision.

Section 334 retains the text of section 334 of the House bill regarding a land transfer to the City of Tulare, California from the Bureau of Land Management. The Senate had no similar provision.

Section 335 retains the text of section 337 as proposed by the House to remove certain properties in Florida from the Coastal Barrier Resources System. Specifically, 75 acres are removed from the system, 32 acres in a State park are added to the system and seven private acres are added to the system. Other removals from the system are addressed under the United States Fish and Wildlife Service and under General Provisions—Department of the Interior.

Section 336 retains the text of section 338 as proposed by the House to extend the pilot program in the Indian Health Service dealing with billings for medicaid and medicare. The Senate had no similar provision.

Section 337 retains the text of section 337 as proposed by the House to amend the Petroleum Overcharge Distribution and Restitution Act of 1986 to permit the use of excess receipts to offset energy conservation programs. The Senate agreed to this language in floor action.

Section 338 includes the text of section 340 as proposed by the House, which amends the fiscal year 1998 Interior and Related Agencies Appropriations Act with regard to the National Indian Gaming Commission by deleting the phrase “self-regulated tribes such as”.

Section 339 delays until September 30, 1999, the expenditure of funds to implement and enforce certain Federal regulations dealing with preference for subsistence uses, including those dealing with fish and wildlife, on navigable rivers in Alaska that are subject to Federal reserved water rights. The issuance of such regulations is not delayed. If the Alaska legislature passes a resolution which, if approved by Alaskan voters, would enable the implementation of State statutes that are consistent with, and provide for the preference generally outlined in, sections 803, 804 and 805 of the Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act, funds appropriated to the Department of the Interior and the Department of Agriculture for Federal subsistence management in this Act shall be granted to the State on September 30, 1999. If, by June 1, 1999, the Secretary of the Interior finds that the State Legislature has not yet passed such a measure, a portion of the funds will be available to prepare for implementation and enforcement of such Federal regulations.

Section 340 retains the text of section 342 as proposed by the House to prohibit the use of funds for establishing a Kankakee National Wildlife Refuge in Indiana and Illinois. The Senate had no similar provision.

Section 341 modifies section 326 as proposed by the Senate regarding the conveyance of portions of the Wind River Nursery that are no longer needed by the government to Skamania County, WA. Further direction regarding this transfer is included under the Forest Service heading elsewhere in this statement.

Section 342 retains language proposed in section 327 of the Senate bill making boundary and administrative jurisdiction transfers of Federal lands in the State of Washington.

Section 343 includes language proposed in section 330 of the Senate bill providing for the establishment of the hardwood technology center in Princeton, WV.

Section 344 provides authorization for the Army Corps of Engineers to enter into an agreement stipulating that the local cost share for a dam reconstruction project at Beach City Lake, Muskingum River Basin, Ohio will not exceed $141,000.

Section 345 modifies the text of section 333 as proposed by the Senate prohibiting concerning recreational residence fee increases in the Sawtooth National Forest. The modification limits increases in these fees to 25 percent of the current value.

Section 346 modifies language proposed in section 334 by the Senate providing additional flexibility to use the Granger-Thye Act permit fees in the Forest Service. The modification deletes the word "administer" from the provision.

Section 347 modifies language in section 335 as proposed by the Senate concerning the use of stewardship contracts in forest management.

The conference agreement modifies Senate bill language to provide that up to 28 contracts may be executed by the Forest Service to accomplish end result contracting objectives specified in the provision. The provision is modified to delete the Senate reference to national forests in Idaho and Montana, and incorporates 22 projects originally planned by the Administration. In addition, the provision provides that a total of nine such contracts may be executed in Region One of the Forest Service which includes three projects previously planned by the Administration and six additional projects to be independently developed by Region One. The Committees expect Region One to maximize collaboration with state and private interests to develop projects which improve forest health and promote local consensus in determining outcomes to be accomplished through end result contracting.

Section 348 retains provision included in section 336 of the Senate bill earmarking funds for the construction of the Trappers Loop Road.

Section 349 contains a new provision concerning the rights to coalbed methane. A recent court decision has put the ownership rights of thousands of private landowners to coalbed methane production in jeopardy, this section provides that the United States recognizes the rights of landowners to coalbed methane in existing leases and contracts on lands where the United State is the owner of the coal. This section does not affect leases or contracts on lands where other parties have succeeded the United States as owners of the coal, or where the coal is owned by a State or private party. Nor does this section apply to leases for coalbed methane production on lands conveyed, restored or transferred to Indian tribes.

Section 350 modifies section 340 as proposed by the Senate involving the domestic processing of western red cedar. The provision has been modified to delete references to the residual value appraisal system and clarify the payment rates under which western red cedar will be made available to domestic processors in the contiguous 48 United States.

Section 351 modifies section 341 as proposed by the Senate precluding additional contracts or compacts to new Alaska Native regional health entities. The modification involves a three year moratorium on new contracts rather than a permanent limitation.

Section 352 modifies language proposed by the Senate limiting the introduction of Grizzly bears in the Selway-Bitterroot area of Idaho and Montana. The modification allows the United States Fish and Wildlife Service to release the final environmental impact statement and record of decision for this program but does not permit any introduction of bears in fiscal year 1999.

Section 353 provides $20,000,000 to the Aleutians East Borough for the construction of an unpaved road and related facilities on corporation lands not in a designated wilderness area, $15,000,000 to the State of Alaska for improvements to the airstrip at King Cove, Alaska and $2,500,000 to the Indian Health Service for the cost of new construction or improvements to the existing clinic in King Cove, Alaska and telemedicine and other medical equipment. The Committees have agreed to these funds as an alternative to an easement for a road through the Izembek National Wildlife Refuge wilderness area as proposed in section 126 of the Senate bill to address critical health and safety needs.

The conference agreement deletes the provision in section 343 of the Senate bill dealing with dams on the Columbia and Snake Rivers.

Section 354 makes boundary adjustments to the Columbia River Gorge National Recreation Area in Washington State.

Section 355 provides authority for the Smithsonian Institution to alter the size of some of its boards and commissions.

Section 356 approves the transfer of the Indian Arts and Crafts Board collection at the U.S. Department of the Interior to the Smithsonian Institution's National Museum of the American Indian.

Section 357 includes conditions under which the Baca property in New Mexico may be purchased including specific authorization and independent appraisal which conforms with the Uniform Appraisal Standards for Federal land acquisitions.

Section 358 designates the Federal building located at 15013 Denver West Parkway, Golden, Colorado, and known as the National Renewable Energy Laboratory Visitors Center as the "Dan Schaefer Federal Building."

Section 359 designates the new Federal building under construction at 325 Broadway in Boulder, Colorado as the "David Skaggs Federal Building".

Section 360 designates the Federal building located at 201 14th Street, S.W. in Washington, D.C. as the "Sidney R. Yates Federal Building". The House bill included a similar provision in section 326.

Section 361 rescinds the Title V funds totaling $190,865,000 if the Administration does not issue the agency apportionments and make these funds available for immediate obligation within 5 days after enactment of this Act.

The Congress provided $699,000,000 for priority land acquisitions, exchanges and high priority maintenance projects in the fiscal year 1998 Interior and Related Agencies Appropriations Act. On September 3, 1998, the Congress released $190,865,000, slightly more than half of the remaining balance for specific acquisition projects and backlog maintenance needs of the Bureau of Land Management, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, the National Park Service and the Forest Service. The Committees have been informed that the Office of Management and Budget has not released these funds to the agencies, defying Congressional intent.

Section 362 repeals Section 219 of the Federal Crop Insurance Reform and Department of Agriculture Reorganization Act of 1994, Pub. L. 103-354, 7 U.S.C. § 6919.

The Committees agree that the Secretary of the Interior and the Secretary of Agriculture should provide comprehensive training to land managers on the history and provisions of statutes affecting land and natural resource management in Alaska, including but not limited to Revised Statute 2477, the Act of May 17, 1906 (34 Stat. 197), the Alaska Statehood Act, the Mineral Leasing Act of 1920, the White Act, the Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act, the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act, and the Magnuson-Stevens Fishery Conservation and Management Act. This training should also be provided to those employees who manage programs in Alaska and to employees whose job entail knowledge of one or more of the laws described above. Each such employee should complete the training within one year of the date of enactment of this Act, except a covered employee hired after 10 months of the date of enactment of this Act should complete the training within 60 days of that employee's appointment.

The Secretary of the Interior and the Secretary of Agriculture are encouraged to enter into an agreement with and provide funding to Alaska Pacific University, in conjunction with University of Washington School of Law and Northwestern School of Law, Lewis and Clark College, to develop and conduct training.

TITLE IV

The conference agreement includes new language in Title IV, the Herger-Feinstein Quincy Library Group Forest Recovery Act. This Act represents a locally-developed, consensus-based resource management program for Federal lands in a portion of the Sierra Nevada ecosystem. The Committees are concerned over long-standing controversies in the region that have hampered effective management of Federal lands. In order to resolve these differences, the Act provides for an alliance between elected officials, industry representatives, local environmentalists, union representatives, and local citizens. A more complete description of the Act may be found in Senate Report 105-183.

The conference agreement deletes language proposed in Title IV of the Senate bill limiting the source of funds available for operation of the Glines Canyon Dam.

TITLE V—LAND BETWEEN THE LAKES PROTECTION ACT

The Committees are concerned about future funding for the Land Between the Lakes National Recreation Area (LBL) in Kentucky and Tennessee, managed by the Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA). Accordingly, the Committees have included bill language in Title V that creates a safety net to provide for continued Federal operation of this area. In the event that LBL doesn't receive at least $6 million in Federal funding in any fiscal year, management responsibility for this facility will automatically be transferred to the Secretary of Agriculture with the expectation that it will be managed as part of the national forest system for recreation in a manner consistent with the multiple use mandate of the Forest Service.

LBL was first established in the early 1960s by executive directive. However, no statute was ever enacted governing land management policies at LBL. This legislation codifies the 1972 mission statement and requires the Forest Service to manage LBL for optimum yield of outdoor recreation and environmental education for the American people should this transfer occur.

In the event that LBL is transferred, the Committees believe that all fees collected for the use of designated sites and activities at LBL should be retained by the Forest Service to help offset operating expenses. However, the legislation prohibits the Forest Service from charging a general entrance fee. This is identical to existing TVA policy. The legislation contains explicit language guaranteeing payments to counties by TVA at the prevailing rate, and makes these counties eligible for funds under the payments-in-lieu of taxes program administered by the Bureau of Land Management. In addition, there are over 220 cemeteries at LBL, many of which are the burial plots of some of the 800 families who were forcibly removed from their property when LBL was first created. The Act guarantees maintenance of a complete inventory and access to those cemeteries.

The Committees recognize the tremendous responsibility borne by the Forest Service and TVA to implement the transfer of LBL if necessary. It is incumbent upon TVA/LBL staff to make every effort to minimize the disruption caused by the transition on employees, the public, and LBL's resources and offer full cooperation to the Forest Service transition team in implementing this transfer. In addition, the Committees encourage TVA to avoid moving equipment and facilities out of the National Recreation Area that are vital for its management.

In the event of a transfer, the Committees have included a provision allowing the Forest Service to adopt the TVA National Resource Management Plan to minimize any disruption caused by the transition. This management plan, as developed by TVA, is in full compliance with environmental laws. While operating under the TVA management plan, the Committees expect the Forest Service to begin the process of preparing its own land and resource management plan within one year of the effective date of the transfer and consistent with the multi-purpose mission mandated in the legislation.

Currently, law enforcement actions taken by TVA police officers operating within the boundaries of LBL are authorized under peace officer commissions granted by both the States of Kentucky and Tennessee. While existing Federal laws and regulations do apply to National Recreation Area lands, it will take approximately six months to one year to establish Forest Service law enforcement procedures in the two Federal judicial districts which cover these lands. Therefore, the legislation provides that, during a transition period not to exceed one year, there will be cross-designation of law enforcement authority between the agencies to ensure that there is no interruption in public safety services.

Finally, the Committees are extremely concerned about the impact of the transition on the permanent employees of TVA who work at LBL. The legislation guarantees a minimum of five-months employment by TVA following a transfer. All LBL permanent employees should be given first notice of, and first consideration for, any jobs available with the Forest Service. Those employees who remain at LBL as employees of the Forest Service should experience no interruption in coverage for any retirement, health, leave, or other employee benefits with TVA continuing to fund any difference between Forest Service and TVA benefits. Years of service as a TVA employee will be transferred to the Forest Service for all purposes relating to Federal retirement. For those persons not retained by TVA or hired by the Forest Service, the bill provides a compensation/severance package, including buyout packages, similar to those provided to other TVA employees in previous downsizing situations. TVA shall finance the costs associated with the severance/compensation packages and the Director of TVA shall report to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations on the funding sources to be used to finance these activities.

TITLE VI

Title VI provides legislative authority for land exchanges in the State of Washington as described in detail below.

SECTION 601. SHORT TITLE

Section 601 entitles this section of the Conference Agreement the "Interstate 90 Land Exchange Act of 1998."

SECTION 602. FINDINGS AND PURPOSE

Section 602 contains findings as to why the land exchange is in the public interest, and states that it is the purpose of the conference agreement to authorize, direct, facilitate and expedite the exchange.

The offered and selected lands directed for exchange are based substantially on those recommended for exchange by the Forest Service pursuant to the NEPA process for the I-90 land exchange, including the public comments and participation therein. Such lands are also addressed substantially in the legislative history to accompany S. 2136, including public hearing records of the Senate Committee on Energy and Natural Resources.

Issues which can only be addressed in statute by Congress, including assignment of mineral rights, establishment of Wilderness

Study and Special Management areas, and recommendations on future exchanges, have been added to the legislation as a result of both the administrative and legislative records. The managers expect the legislation will be implemented consistent with such records, and the public interest. Therefore, the legislation contains no so-called "sufficiency" language.

SECTION 603. DEFINITIONS

Section 603 contains standard definitions of certain terms used in the legislation. The definition of the "offered lands" Plum Creek will convey to the Forest Service specifies that the offered lands will include both surface and subsurface (mineral) interests. In the event Plum Creek is unable to acquire all the mineral interests from third party owners prior to consummation of the exchange, subsection 604(c) of the conference agreement sets forth a procedure to convey land to the United States in lieu of certain subsurface interests. Likewise, the definition of the "selected lands" that Plum Creek will acquire from the Forest Service requires conveyance of both surface and subsurface interests by the Forest Service unless Plum Creek agrees otherwise.

SECTION 604. LAND EXCHANGE

Subsection 604(a) states that the exchange will be consummated if Plum Creek conveys title acceptable to the Secretary in its (1) identified "offered" lands; (2) a 320 acre tract of land to be donated to the United States or (3) if necessary, the two subsection 604(c) tracts of lands in lieu of certain subsurface interests, within 270 days of enactment of the conference agreement.

Subsection 604(a) also identifies the approximate 62,384 acres of "offered" lands Plum Creek will convey to the United States in the exchange. The offered lands comprise Plum Creek checkerboard in holdings within either the Mt. Baker-Snoqualmie or Wenatchee National Forests, and include sensitive lands in the upper Cle Elum River drainage (Scatter Creek), the West Fork Teenaway drainage, the Silver Creek area between Kachess and Cle Elum Lakes, Kelly Butte, lands along the Yakima River near Easton, North Ridge, Taneum Ridge, Mt. Clifty and Little Creek. Many of the offered lands are roadless and contain late successional forest deemed important for preservation and connectivity of habitat by the Northwest Forest Plan. The consolidation will also bring approximately 14 miles of the route of the Pacific Crest Trail into public ownership. The offered land acreage has been increased slightly since the committee bill with the addition of lands on the west side of Sawmill Creek in the Kelly Butte area.

Subsection 604(b) identifies approximately 16,495 acres of Forest Service "selected" lands to be conveyed to Plum Creek in the exchange, and provides for their conveyance simultaneous with receipt of the Plum Creek offered lands. (Simultaneous conveyances are standard Federal land exchange practice pursuant to Section 3(a) of the Federal Land Exchange Facilitation Act of 1988 (43 U.S.C. 1716(e)). The selected lands are mostly intermingled with existing Plum Creek lands and are generally located in less environmentally sensitive areas than the Plum Creek offered lands the Forest Service will acquire. The selected land total has been decreased slightly since the Committee bill with the deletion of lands in Sawmill Creek drainage in the Kelly Butte area. It is the intent of section 604(b) of this part of the conference agreement which states "that subject to existing valid rights", to include Indian treaty rights and means that nothing in this Act, or the land exchange authorized herein, is intended to, nor shall it, diminish, modify, abrogate or otherwise affect any Indian reserved treaty right or the ability of Treaty Indians to exercise such rights under applicable federal law without regard to the land exchange. It is not the intent of this conference agreement to either expand or contract existing treaty rights.

Subsection 604(c) states that if Plum Creek is unable to convey the full estate in the offered lands, it must compensate the United States by offering in lieu thereof two tracts of land on Cle Elum and Lost Lakes totaling approximately 524 acres. This compensation provision is made in recognition of the fact that Plum Creek may not be able to acquire all mineral interests in the offered lands because they belong to third parties. If the provision of subsection (c) is triggered, the two additional tracts of land will be full compensation for any lacking mineral interests, and the appraisals required for the exchange will not have to be redone to reflect the addition of the Cle Elum and Lost Lake lands.

Subsection 604(d) recognizes that Plum Creek has agreed to a voluntary donation of 320 acres of land near Mt. Margaret to the United States. This voluntary conveyance is to be considered a donation for all purposes of law, including its deductibility as a gift for tax purposes. It is the intention of the conference agreement, if the Secretary determines that a portion of the donated land qualifies for addition to the Alpine Lakes Wilderness Area, it be added to the Wilderness by the Secretary utilizing the Secretary's authority to do so under section 6(a) of the Wilderness Act. Unlike other wilderness designations and additions, which must be legislated by Congress, section 6(a) of the Wilderness Act gives the Secretary authority to make additions on his own in the case of donated lands lying adjacent to already designated wilderness.

SECTION 605. EXCHANGE VALUATION, APPRAISALS AND EQUALIZATION

Subsection 605(a) contains the standard Federal land exchange requirement that the values of the lands to be exchanged must be equal, as determined through traditional Federal appraisal procedures. If the values are not equal, they may be equalized by cash equalization payments subject to the standard 25% limitation of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976, as amended.

Subsection 605(a)(2) recognizes that many of the lands to be exchanged lie within areas designated as critical habitat for threatened or endangered species, and that uncertainties accompanying such designations can make traditional appraisals difficult. In order to insure the equitable and uniform appraisal of the exchange lands, the bill provides that all lands will be appraised by determining highest and best use for both the offered and selected lands in accordance with the Washington State Forest Practices Act. This will insure that the Federal selected lands will not be undervalued for appraisal purposes if they are located in areas where current Federal law or land use plans might limit timber harvest, or create future harvest uncertainties that would reduce the land's appraised value for purposes of the exchange.

Subsection 605(a)(4) also specifies all timber harvest on the offered lands will cease not later than November 30, 1998, except for post-harvest work, and that a copy of the final appraisal will be made available for public inspection in the Wenatchee Forest Supervisor's office 30–45 days before exchange consummation.

Subsection 605(b) provides that once the appraised values of the offered and selected lands have been approved by the Forest Service, they need not be reappraised or updated prior to completion of the exchange, except for adjustments for timber harvest which may occur before November 30, 1998, or for cultural and historic resources under subsection 606(g).

Subsection 605(c) provides that if the final appraised value of the Plum Creek offered lands exceeds the value of the Forest Service selected lands, certain identified and prioritized offered lands will be deleted from the exchange by Plum Creek. The deletions, if necessary, are to be made in the precise order listed and directed by Congress until the values are approximately equalized.

Subsection 605(d) provides that if the value of the Forest Service selected lands to be conveyed to Plum Creek exceeds the value of the Plum Creek offered lands, the Forest Service will delete identified and prioritized selected lands from the exchange until the values are approximately equalized.

Subsection 605(e) provides for traditional cash equalization payments to cover any balance due either Plum Creek or the Secretary once any mandated deletions under subsections 605 (c) or (d) have been made. However, it is anticipated that any such cash payments will be relatively small, because subsections (c) and (d) should take care of any major value equalization that is needed. If the listed deletion parcels for either the offered or selected lands are insufficient to cover the equalization needed, cash payments to either the Secretary or Plum Creek will make up any difference.

Subsection 605(f) provides that any cash equalization payments received by the United States will be retained by the Secretary and used to purchase lands in the State of Washington from willing sellers for addition to the National Forest System.

SECTION 606. MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

Subsection 606(a) provides that lands acquired by the Forest Service in the exchange will be managed as National Forest System lands in accordance with applicable laws, rules and regulations. The acquired lands will have the status of Weeks Law lands. Lands acquired by Plum Creek will become private lands for all purposes of law unless the deed of transfer from the United States contains a specific reservation.

Subsection 606(b) pertains to post-exchange access to the lands Plum Creek and the Forest Service will acquire. Congress finds that both parties should have adequate and timely access to the lands they acquire and recognizes that most of this access will be over already existing primary, secondary or other roads.

Subsection 606(b)(2) states the intention of Congress that Plum Creek have access to all lands it acquires and when such access requires the construction of new roads, that it be granted in compliance with the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA), the Endangered Species Act (ESA) and the National Historic Preservation Act (NHPA) and their implementing regulations.

Within Cost Share Construction and Use Agreement Areas, road access to the lands Plum Creek and the Forest Service will acquire will be granted at no cost to either party upon consummation of the exchange in accordance with the appropriate terms and procedures of the applicable Agreements. Because most of such access will be over already existing roads, it is not anticipated that significant work will be required by either party to grant the access directed.

Outside of Cost Share Construction and Use Agreement Areas, Plum Creek will be granted access at no cost in accordance with Forest Service Handbook 2709.12,35. In the case of new road construction, such access easements shall conform to the Secretary's rules and regulations 36 CFR 251, subpart B, including mitigation under existing law. Most of this access will be over already existing roads. However, Congress is aware of at least two situations where Plum Creek will need two short stretches of new roads for access to lands near Watch Lake in the Gifford Pinchot National Forest. These two new road stretches, and any other new road needs of which Congress is not currently aware, will require such analysis as may be required pursuant to EPA and the ESA.

Subsection 606(c) requires Plum Creek to grant access to the Forest Service at no cost outside Cost Share Construction and Use Agreement Areas on locations identified by the Secretary and in a format acceptable to the Secretary.

Subsection 606(d) states the intention of Congress that the land exchange be completed no later than 270 days after enactment of the I-90 exchange legislation. Both parties are, however, encouraged to make every effort to consummate the exchange at the earliest possible date that proves feasible under the timetables set out in the legislation. However, the language allows the deadline to be extended by mutual agreement of Plum Creek and the Secretary. Its intent is to allow flexibility in the event, as sometimes happens with land exchanges, that unanticipated title, deed or other complications with the land transfer arise prior to consummation.

Subsection 606(e) withdraws the lands to be conveyed to Plum Creek from the operation of the mining, mineral leasing and other public land entry laws if they have not previously been segregated or withdrawn. This will prevent any staking of any mining claims, or creation of other encumbrances on title to the selected lands prior to their transfer to Plum Creek.

Subsection 606(f) permanently withdraws lands acquired by the Secretary in two Townships north of Cle Elum Lake from the operation of the mining, mineral leasing and geothermal leasing laws. These sensitive lands lie along the upper Cle Elum River and near Cle Elum Lake and/or the Alpine Lakes Wilderness Area, and the withdrawal is intended to prevent any future mineral activity on these particularly sensitive lands.

Subsection 606(g) establishes a specific procedure for Plum Creek to request and obtain the deletion of small tracts of selected land from the final conveyance if Plum Creek determines that deed restrictions or mitigation requirements on some of the land it is scheduled to acquire will constitute an unacceptable encumbrance on the land. The language will require full compliance with the provisions of the National Historic Preservation Act (NHPA), but will insure that all inventories, consultation and other requirements of the NHPA are performed in a time frame that will allow Plum Creek and other consulting parties to review any proposed protection deed restrictions or mitigation requirements, and request any deletions, well in advance of exchange consummation. If lands are deleted from the conveyance to Plum Creek under subsection 606(g), they will remain in Forest Service ownership.

Subsection 606(h) states that the Secretary shall not grant any road easements to Plum Creek that would access the offered lands listed in subsection 604(a) prior to consummation of the exchange. However, this provision will not apply if either party withdraws from the exchange. Plum Creek currently has access permits requested over adjacent national forest lands for roads into many of the offered lands, but these requests will, obviously, become unnecessary if the offered lands are transferred to the Secretary. Thus the pending access requests will be suspended unless or until either party withdraws from the exchange or a parcel or parcels of offered land are dropped from the exchange. It is noted that subsection 606(h) applies only to access requests to the Plum Creek offered lands identified for transfer to the United States. Plum Creek requests for access to its lands that are not involved in the exchange are not covered or affected by the access limitation of subsection 606(h).

SECTION 607. LAND PURCHASE

Section 607 finds that Plum Creek has indicated its willingness to consider selling certain lands to the United States that are not included in the exchange. It directs the Secretary to consult with Plum Creek on the lands it is willing to sell, and states Congress' intention that such lands be purchased from Plum Creek, subject to the future availability of funds. It is the intention that such lands be purchased using Land and Water Conservation Fund moneys, which must be appropriated by Congress in future years. Subsection 607(c) also clarifies that nothing in the legislation will be construed limiting the Secretary's authority to enter additional agreements or contracts to acquire Plum Creek lands in Washington or any other state.

SECTION 608. TIETON RIVER STUDY

In addition to lands along the I-90 corridor, Plum Creek owns checkerboard lands in Township 14 North, Range 15 East, Willamette Meridian. These lands are located along the Tieton River in Yakima County, Washington, and the lands along the river corridor itself have been suggested for Federal acquisition by many conservation groups. Section 608 directs the Secretary to consult with Plum Creek concerning opportunities for the United States to acquire such lands by purchase or exchange.

The Secretary's findings on the area will be included in the report to Congress mandated by Section 609.

SECTION 609. FUTURE LAND EXCHANGE OPPORTUNITY

Section 609 directs the Secretary to consult with Plum Creek and study future land exchange opportunities for the United States to acquire Plum Creek lands not included in the legislated exchange. Specific areas for study include Plum Creek lands in and around the Carbon River near Mt. Rainier National Park, the Yakima River, the Pacific Crest Trail, Goat and Watch Mountains on the Gifford Pinchot National Forest, the Green River, and the Manashtash late successional reserve. This study, and the report thereon to Congress are mandated because Plum Creek, the Forest Service, conservation groups and others have suggested a follow-up land exchange. In addition, if Plum Creek lands are deleted from the legislated exchange under subsection 605(c) in order to achieve value equalization, both Plum Creek and the Forest Service have indicated their desire to have them evaluated for future exchange.

The Forest Service is, therefore, directed to study the follow-up exchange opportunity and to report its findings thereon no later than 18 months after enactment of the legislation. The report will include the Secretary's recommendations as to the most urgent future purchase or exchange priorities. It is noted that Ski Lifts, Inc., which operates 4 ski areas in the vicinity of Snoqualmie Pass, owns significant private lands near the Pacific Crest Trail. The Crest Trail is one of the areas which Section 609 specifically identifies for future land exchange consideration. As the Ski Lifts, Inc. lands in the area are heavily intermingled with the Forest Service and Plum Creek lands to be considered for a future exchange, and as Ski Lifts, Inc. may want to exchange its lands with the Forest Service, or acquire land from Plum Creek to exchange to the Forest Service in return for certain national forest lands in or near its ski area base or permit areas, the Forest Service should include an analysis of the Ski Lifts, Inc. exchange opportunities in its report to Congress.

SECTION 610. WILDERNESS STUDY AREA

Section 610 designates a 15,000 acre Alpine Lakes Wilderness Study Area along the south side of the existing Alpine Lakes Wilderness Area if the land exchange is consummated. The WSA contains lands which will be acquired from Plum Creek in the exchange as well as adjacent national forest lands. The language directs the Secretary to study the area as to its suitability for addition to the Alpine Lakes Wilderness and report his findings to the President. The President will then, within three years of enactment of this legislation, report his recommendation concerning wilderness designation of the area to Congress.

As with most WSA's that have been designated by Congress in the past, the Secretary is directed to manage the WSA to maintain its wilderness character existing as of the date of enactment of the legislation and potential for inclusion in the National Wilderness Preservation System for the duration of the study. This means that no development, commercial timber harvest or other land disturbance that would change the area's wilderness nature as it exists on the date of enactment of the legislation will be allowed. In addition, no activities which are incompatible with wilderness, such as motorized recreation, should be allowed or expanded into areas of the WSA where they are not already occurring. However, existing motorized and non-motorized uses shall be allowed to continue at their present levels and shall not be terminated unless Congress passes legislation designating areas where such uses exist as wilderness areas.

At the conclusion of the study, the 15,000 acres will continue to be maintained in its existing wilderness character unless Congress has enacted legislation stating otherwise or until December 31, 2003 at which time the area will be managed as it was immediately prior to the study period. Section 610 also withdraws the WSA from mining and mineral leasing subject to valid existing rights.

SECTION 611. KELLY BUTTE SPECIAL MANAGEMENT AREA

Section 611 designates a 5,642 acre Kelly Butte Special Management Area in and around Kelly Butte in the upper Green River drainage in the Mt. Baker-Snoqualmie National Forest. The protected area encompasses the core Kelly Butte area in which lands are exchanged under the legislation and runs from West of Rock Creek to the center of Sawmill Creek. A detailed map of the protected area, with special notes on the location of the eastern boundary at the Center of Sawmill Creek, accompanies the bill.

The Special Management Area designation is made in recognition of the area's interesting mix of geology, mid and late successional forest, diverse flora and fauna, outdoor recreational opportunities and other values. In addition, the Kelly Butte area designated for protection is mostly roadless, receives traditional use by native American peoples, and produces high quality water flows into the Green River, which is the drinking water supply for the City of Tacoma.

Section 611 specifies that the area be managed to preserve and enhance its many natural values and prohibits commercial timber harvest, and the use of motorized vehicles in the area, except for administrative purposes or in emergencies. It also withdraws the areas from mining and mineral leasing subject to valid existing rights.

Subsection 611(c) states Congress' intention that the designation of the Special Management Area will not lead to the creation of protected perimeters or buffer zones around the Area. This means that activities or land uses on lands outside the Area which are not compatible with the Area (such as timber harvesting) can occur up to the boundary of the Area and will not be restricted by their proximity to the Area of the fact that they can be seen or heard from within the Area.

SECTION 612. EFFECT ON COUNTY REVENUES

Section 612 recognizes that certain counties, and particularly Kittitas County, Washington, will lose certain revenues (timber severance taxes etc.) that they currently derive from the Plum Creek lands that will be transferred to the Forest Service. Although some of these revenue losses may be offset by Federal payment in lieu of taxes (PILT) moneys, Kittitas and other counties may experience a net revenue loss from the exchange.

Section 612, therefore, directs the Secretary to consult with the appropriate Committees of Congress and elected officials of the counties in which the offered lands are located regarding options to minimize the adverse affect of county revenues.

LEGISLATIVE HISTORY

Legislation to authorize and direct the I-90 land exchange was introduced in the Senate on June 6, 1998 as S. 2136. On July 22, 1998, the Subcommittee on Forests and Public Land Management held a hearing on S. 2136 at which testimony was received from the U.S. Forest Service, the Plum Creek Timber Company, the Sierra Club, the Mountaineers, the Alpine Lakes Protection Society and the Western Land Exchange Project. Written testimony for the hearing record was also received from Ski Lifts, Inc and the Muckleshoot tribe. On September 23, 1998, S. 2316 was ordered favorably reported by the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources after adoption of an amendment in the nature of substitute. The conference agreement as worked out by Senators Gorton and Murray, the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee, Congressman Doc Hastings, representatives of the Forest Service, Plum Creek and others represents a refinement of the September 23, 1998 Committee bill.

TITLE VII

The conference agreement includes language in Title VII that involves tort liability insurance for Indian tribal governments as a system of redress for persons injured by official actions of these governments. During Senate hearings on this subject, insurance experts testified that it is necessary to look at the interaction between Federal Tort Claims Act coverage and the private liability insurance that many tribes have bought in order to determine what insurance gaps currently exist.

The Committees direct the Secretary of the Interior, in consultation with the Secretary of Health and Human Services and the tribes, to conduct a survey of the degree, type, and adequacy of liability insurance coverage of Indian tribes. It is intended that the survey would determine where the gaps are in either the Federal Tort Claims Act or private insurance coverage, or both, and in turn make recommendation to the Committees on how such gaps can be filled. The Secretary is required to submit the findings of the survey and specific recommendations in a report to the Committees no later than June 1, 1999.

CONFERENCE TOTAL—WITH COMPARISONS

The total new budet (obligational) authority for the fiscal year 1999 recommended by the Committee of Conference, with comparisons to the fiscal year 1998 amount, the 1999 budget estimates, and the House and Senate bills for 1999 follow:

New budget (obligational) authority, fiscal year 1998	$14,109,493,000
Budget estimates of new (obligational) authority, fiscal year 1999	14,268,257,000
House bill, fiscal year 1999	13,489,504,000
Senate bill, fiscal year 1999	13,657,706,000
Conference agreement, fiscal year 1999	14,105,651,000

Conference agreement compared with:
New budget (obligational) authority, fiscal year 1998	- 3,842,000
Budget estimates of new (obligational) authority, fiscal year 1999	- 162,606,000
House bill, fiscal year 1999	+616,147,000
Senate bill, fiscal year 1999	+447,945,000

SECTION 101(f): DEPARTMENTS OF LABOR, HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES, AND EDUCATION, AND RELATED AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 1999

The conferees on H.R. 4328 agree with the matter inserted in this subsection of this conference agreement and the following description of this matter. This matter was developed through negotiations on the differences in the House and Senate versions (H.R. 4274 and S. 2400) of the Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, by members of the appropriations subcommittee of both the House and Senate with jurisdiction over H.R. 4274 and S. 2440.

In implementing this agreement, the Departments and agencies should comply with the language and instructions set forth in House Report 105-635 and Senate Report 105-300. In the case where the language and instructions specifically address the allocation of funds, the Departments and agencies are to follow the funding levels specified in the Congressional budget justifications accompanying the fiscal year 1999 budget or the underlying authorizing statute and should give full consideration to all items, including items allocating specific funding included in the House and Senate reports. With respect to the provisions in the House and Senate reports that specifically allocate funds, each has been reviewed and those which are jointly concurred in have been included in this joint statement.

The Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services and Education, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, FY 1999, put in place by this bill, incorporates the following agreements of the managers:

TITLE I—DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

EMPLOYMENT AND TRAINING ADMINISTRATION

TRAINING AND EMPLOYMENT SERVICES

The conference agreement appropriates $5,272,324,000, instead of $4,000,873,000 as proposed by the House and $5,409,375,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The agreement includes language inserting a legal citation to the Workforce Investment Act of 1998 as proposed by the Senate to fund a specific project authorized by the new law. It also includes language proposed by the Senate modified to identify funds for youth job training activities, making the funds available for the period April 1, 1999 through June 30, 2000, and specifying an amount and a legal citation for youth opportunity grants. It includes language proposed by the Senate providing that job training funds may be used for transition to, and implementation of, the provisions of the Workforce Investment Act of 1998. The House had no similar provisions.

The agreement also includes language authorizing the use of demonstration funds under title III of the Job Training Partnership Act (dislocated workers) for projects that provide assistance to new entrants in the workforce and incumbent workers as proposed by the Senate. It also includes language proposed by the Senate allowing service delivery areas to transfer funding between the youth job training and summer youth programs with the approval of the Governor. The House had no similar provisions.

The conference agreement does not include an advance appropriation of $250,000,000 for fiscal year 2000 proposed by the Senate for youth opportunity grants. This new program was funded at $250,000,000 for fiscal year 1999 only, instead of $125,000,000 as proposed by the Senate and no funding as proposed by the House. Funding for fiscal year 2000 will be addressed in the fiscal year 2000 appropriations bill.

The Labor Department is encouraged to make available funds and provide technical assistance to the Role Models America Academy Demonstration Program.

The conference agreement includes the following amounts for the following projects and activities:

Dislocated Workers

- $5,000,000 for Special Olympics—1999
- $1,500,000 for Special Olympics—2001
- $500,000 for a high-technology training initiative on the Island of Maui in Hawaii
- $500,000 for the Bethel Native Corporation in Bethel, Alaska to provide high technology computer-based training to Alaska Natives
- $1,000,000 for U. of Texas, Brownsville, for model worker retraining
- $1,000,000 for the Iowa Training Opportunities Program
- $1,000,000 for Twin Cities Community Development Center Worklink to plastics employment initiative
- $1,000,000 for the York Skill Center, York, PA
- $1,000,000 to continue funding of the JOBLINKS program
- $300,000 ($900,000 over three years contingent upon adequate performance), for a dislocated/incumbent worker project at the University of Wisconsin-Superior at its Transportation/Logistics Studies Center.

Native Americans

- $4,000,000 for co-location construction in Hawaii under the Workforce Investment Act of 1998.

Pilots and Demonstrations

- $3,000,000 for Samoan/Asian Pacific job training in Hawaii
- $675,000 for the Southwest Pennsylvania Employment Plus Job Training Program
- $2,500,000 for training and educational opportunities for adults in Hawaii
- $1,250,000 for Ilisaquik College in Barrow, Alaska
- $250,000 for Koahnic Broadcasting, Inc. in Anchorage, Alaska

—$1,000,000 for Kawerak, Inc. in Nome, Alaska for continuation or initiation of vocational job training programs for Alaska Natives

—$1,000,000 for the Alaska Federation of Natives Foundation, consistent with the goals of section 13 of the bylaws of that organization, to develop and train highly skilled Alaska Native workers for year-round employment within the petroleum industry in Alaska

—$2,000,000 for the Guadalupe Center in Kansas City, MO for culinary and cultural arts

—$1,000,000 for Center Point, Marin County, CA, employment for recovering addicts

—$500,000 for Project Horizons for New Opportunities, Berkshire County, MA, adult prisoner project

—$250,000 for SER Jobs for Progress (HEP program), Del Rio and Laredo, TX

—$250,000 for Motivation Education and Training, Inc., Laredo, TX

—$500,000 for the State of Vermont for a high skills training consortia for the healthcare information systems and support industry.

The agreement also provides $4,000,000 to fund the child care apprenticeship initiative requested in the President's budget and $5,000,000 to fund the seasonal farmworker youth activities requested in the President's budget. It is recommended that the funds for the latter initiative be transferred to the migrant and seasonal farmworker program to be administered in conjunction with the adult program.

The conference agreement sets aside certain amounts of money to be utilized for competitive awards under the dislocated workers program and under pilots and demonstrations as discussed in the following paragraphs. In administering these competitions, the Department is to give full and fair consideration, consistent with current practices and policies, to applications submitted by the institutions and entities identified in the Senate Report.

Under dislocated workers, the conference agreement includes $7,200,000 for competitions for grants or contracts for creation of projects and/or industry-led consortia for the purpose of upgrading current workers, designing or adapting training curricula in skills shortage occupational areas or in regionally important business/industry areas, including manufacturing and machining, and specialized industrial areas such as plastics, telecommunications and the environment, and to recruit/retrain workers in these occupations. The dislocated and/or incumbent workers who will be assisted by these efforts include specific groups such as agricultural workers, low-skilled workers, and those needing assistance in overcoming barriers to employment. These barriers to employment may be caused by living in rural communities, having limited options for transportation to work, having inadequate or obsolete skills or having skills in declining occupations. The focus of these efforts will be on skills training in skills shortage occupations including welding and metals, new and growing occupations in technological fields including information technology, telecommunications, and other fields in which technology skills are critical parts of the jobs emerging in their regional labor markets. Any consortia established as a result of these competitions would also be expected to enhance the strategic planning and policy efforts of local boards under the Workforce Investment Act in these areas. The Department will establish ranges for these competitive awards.

Under pilots and demonstrations, the conference agreement includes $9,000,000 for competitions to award grants that provide job training and related services aimed at high-risk youth and adults, including displaced homemakers and older workers, and those adults or youth who are under the supervision of the criminal justice or penal systems, or who are living in foster care, homeless facilities, and public or assisted housing. Barriers to employment faced by these individuals include homelessness, addiction recovery, criminal records or reentry from prison or other justice-related or social service-related institutions. In setting aside these funds, the conferees want to provide quality job training (including basic skills and pre-apprenticeship as appropriate) and related services, including follow-up services, tailored to the interests and aptitudes of the client population that facilitates at-risk youth and adults returning to their communities. These services should link human, educational, workforce development, and transportation services and build connections to local workforce investment systems. One key focus of these efforts will be on skills training in new and growing occupations in technological fields including information technology, telecommunications, and other fields in which technology skills are critical parts of the jobs emerging in their regional labor markets. The Department will establish ranges for these competitive awards.

Also under pilots and demonstrations, the conference agreement includes $9,000,000 for competitions for the creation of regional consortia for the purpose of assessing employer skills needs to upgrade current workers, assessing the need for closing the gaps between the skills needed by business/industry and the skills held by regional workers, designing or adapting training curricula in skills shortage occupational areas or in regionally important business/industry areas including manufacturing and machining, and specialized industrial areas such as plastics, telecommunications, and the environment, and recruit/retrain workers for these occupations and other emerging occupations related to technology. These regional consortia would also be expected to enhance the strategic planning and policy efforts of local boards under the Workforce Investment Act in these areas. These regional consortia would consist of a range of interested organizations including employers, labor unions, technical centers, community colleges and other community organizations addressing the needs of specific cultures and other committed private and governmental organizations. The Department will establish ranges for these competitive awards.

The Department is strongly encouraged to make an award out of the discretionary funds available in Fiscal Year 1999 for competitive welfare-to-work grants, up to $5,000,000 to the Center for Workforce Preparation. These funds are to be used in the private sector to develop best practices, model programs, and networks to exchange information among local and state Chambers of Commerce and employers regarding welfare recipients seeking employment.

The Department is encouraged to give careful consideration to a welfare-to-work proposal submitted by Opportunity America which assists teenage mothers to break the cycle of welfare by continuing their education and obtaining employment.

For discretionary grants being provided for the Philadelphia Naval Shipyard IV Project encouraged in last year's appropriation to the Labor Department, the Department should use the following in determining eligibility:

Incumbent Workers—Workers who are currently employed on a full or part time basis, a majority of whom are expected to have been impacted by a mass lay-off or closure in the shipbuilding industry (in southeastern Pennsylvania) as referenced in the statement of managers within House Report 105-390; and are also in need of employment and training services to upgrade their job-related skills and competencies in order to facilitate their return to high quality training and jobs being created in the shipbuilding industry; without regard to any education, training or readjustment services they may have been provided at any point in the past from federal, state, or local funds.

STATE UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE AND EMPLOYMENT SERVICE OPERATIONS

The conference agreement appropriates $3,294,173,000, instead of $3,274,573,000 as proposed by the House and $3,239,573,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement does not include a rescission of $40,000,000 of fiscal year 1999 funds, as proposed by the Senate, for Year 2000 computer conversion costs which were provided as an advance appropriation in the fiscal year 1998 appropriations bill. The House had no similar provision. The agreement includes $36,300,000 for the alien labor certification program as proposed by the Senate instead of $31,300,000 as proposed by the House. For unemployment insurance contingency costs, the agreement includes $180,933,000, instead of $196,333,000 as proposed by the House and $186,333,000 as proposed by the Senate. And for the Learning Anytime/Anywhere initiative, the agreement includes $10,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The agreement includes $2,135,125,000 for base State allocations for unemployment insurance administration. This is $20,000,000 more than the House and Senate bills. The increase of $20,000,000 is for integrity and other activities that States determine are essential in the administration of the unemployment insurance program. The Department shall allocate these funds in the following manner: each State shall receive an additional 0.8 percent of its base allocation. In addition, each State shall receive an additional $340,000 if its productivity factors are among the five lowest in at least two of the six productivity categories. Furthermore, States that meet this criterion and have one of the ten lowest combined personal services and personnel benefits rates shall receive a prorata share of the balance.

It has been learned that the Labor Department is interpreting section 3304(a)(15) of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act (FUTA) with regard to senior actors, writers, and other workers in the entertainment industry in a manner that appears to be contrary to the intent of Congress when it passed that Act. The section was meant to apply only to employees that worked for one company, then return to work for the identical company, and subsequently qualify for unemployment compensation. Section 3304(a)(15) is currently being interpreted by the Department, however, to require that entertainment industry professionals' unemployment benefits be offset by the total amount of their pension plan compensation because the employee receives pension distributions from the same multi-employer plan, even when the employee goes to work for a different company. Such an interpretation penalizes the actor or other industry professional for accepting an entertainment industry job to supplement his or her fixed income. The Department is urged to determine whether it can devise an administrative remedy to exempt this group of individuals from this section or whether clarifying legislation will be needed and to report back on its findings and actions to the Committees of jurisdiction by January 15, 1999.

PENSION AND WELFARE BENEFITS ADMINISTRATION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement appropriates $90,000,000, instead of $86,159,000 as proposed by the House and $88,076,000 as proposed by the Senate.

EMPLOYMENT STANDARDS ADMINISTRATION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement appropriates $314,000,000, instead of $312,333,000 as proposed by the House and $311,333,000 as proposed by the Senate. The agreement includes $1,000,000 in the Office of Labor-Management Standards to continue the development of a system for the electronic filing of reports required to be filed under the Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Act of 1959 and for a computer database of the information for all submissions by whatever means that is indexed and easily searchable by the public through the Internet. The conference report fully funds the domestic child labor initiative requested in the budget.

The Department of Labor's Office of Workers' Compensation Programs (OWCP) is encouraged to continue working with the U.S. Postal Service and other Federal agencies to reduce medical costs under the Federal Employees' Compensation Act (FECA) without detracting from the quality of medical care provided to injured workers. OWCP should give careful consideration to incorporating private sector concepts into management of medical costs of the FECA program where such approaches will improve overall efficiency and are consistent with injured workers' right of first choice of physician and other statutory objectives.

OCCUPATIONAL SAFETY AND HEALTH ADMINISTRATION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement appropriates $353,000,000, instead of $348,983,000 as proposed by the Senate and $336,678,000 as proposed by the House. The agreement contains the House amount of $40,943,000 for State consultation grants. It also includes $133,896,000 for Federal enforcement, instead of $123,316,000 as proposed by the House and $133,182,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The agreement does not include an earmark of not less than $300,000 for peer review of safety and health standards as proposed by the House. The Senate had no similar provision.

MINE SAFETY AND HEALTH ADMINISTRATION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement appropriates $211,165,000 as proposed by the Senate instead of $203,397,000 as proposed by the House. The detailed table at the end of this section of the joint statement of the managers reflects the allocation of funds agreed upon.

Safety training for workers continues to be a high priority for the mining industry and MSHA. The industry (the Coalition for Effective Miner Training) and MSHA both acknowledge that the current training regulations do not address the needs of the industry or of miners in the most effective manner and have agreed to work together to improve safety training. MSHA is directed to work with the affected industries, mine operators, workers, labor organizations, and other affected and interested parties to promulgate final training regulations for the affected industries by September 30, 1999. It is understood that these regulations are to be based on a draft submitted to MSHA by the Coalition no later than February 1, 1999. Furthermore, MSHA is expected to submit a report prior to its appropriations hearing on the FY 2000 budget outlining the progress that has been made and the Coalition is encouraged to submit a similar report prior to the close of the public rulemaking comment period. In addition, MSHA is directed to work with industry representatives and labor representatives during a transition period prior to the effective date of the regulations to ensure that mine operators and miners have sufficient opportunity to become aware of and familiar with the revised training rules. The conference agreement contains a technical amendment to the existing provision to allow MSHA to expend funds to propose and promulgate final training regulations for the workers at the mines affected by the prohibition.

BUREAU OF LABOR STATISTICS

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement appropriates $398,870,000 as proposed by the House instead of $390,889,000 as proposed by the Senate.

DEPARTMENTAL MANAGEMENT

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement appropriates $191,131,000, instead of $163,770,000 as proposed by the House and $188,762,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement includes technical changes proposed by the Senate with respect to appeals of decisions made by the Benefits Review Board under the Longshore and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act.

Of this amount, up to $1,000,000 is for the purpose of awarding grants to one or more private, non-profit organizations for the purpose of developing and publicizing factual information about the use of child labor, creating innovative partnerships to address child labor, and organizing a public dialogue about best-practice solutions to the problem of child labor worldwide.

It is the intent of the conference agreement that the Department of Labor continue its work to establish a methodology and format for reporting regularly on the use of sweatshops in the production of apparel for import into the United States. It is now appropriate for the Department to conduct a pilot study to apply its methodology to working conditions in the apparel industry in a limited number of apparel-exporting countries, based on any indicators that have been developed by the Department.

The agreement includes $500,000 for the funding of the Twenty-First Century Workforce Commission as authorized by the Workforce Investment Act of 1998. This Commission is to conduct a study of the information technology workforce in the United States.

ASSISTANT SECRETARY FOR VETERANS EMPLOYMENT AND TRAINING

The conference agreement includes two additional legal citations to title 38 of the United States Code as proposed by the Senate.

OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL

The conference agreement appropriates $47,500,000, instead of $46,272,000 as proposed by the House and $48,500,000 as proposed by the Senate.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

JOB CORPS PAY CAP

The conference agreement includes a general provision limiting the use of Job Corps funds to pay the compensation of an individual at a rate in excess of Level III of the Executive Schedule, instead of $125,000 as proposed by the House. The Senate bill had no pay cap.

WELFARE-TO-WORK

The conference agreement includes a general provision as proposed by the Senate that has the effect of rescinding certain formula grant funds under the welfare-to-work program where States have not claimed the funds by the end of the fiscal year. The House had no similar provision.

OSHA PEER REVIEW

The conference agreement does not include a general provision proposed by the House that would have required the Occupational Safety and Health Administration to establish peer review panels to review the scientific and economic data which form the basis for any new safety or health standard. The Senate had no similar provision.

BLACK LUNG REGULATIONS

The conference agreement does not include a general provision proposed by the House that would have prohibited any final revisions to the black lung program regulations until the Office of Advocacy of the SBA and the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs of the OMB have certified to the Congress that the revisions comply with the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act (SBREFA) and the Regulatory Flexibility Act. The Senate had no similar provision.

It is understood that procedural errors have occurred during the initial proposal process on these regulations and that the Department is currently addressing these. The Department is directed to be in full compliance with the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act (SBREFA) and the Regulatory Flexibility Act prior to finalizing these regulations. In addition, the Department is directed to provide advance notification to the Committees of any publication in the Federal Register having to do with these regulations.

TITLE II—DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

HEALTH RESOURCES AND SERVICES ADMINISTRATION

HEALTH RESOURCES AND SERVICES

The conference agreement includes $4,108,040,000 for Health Resources and Services instead of $3,888,522,000 as proposed by the House and $3,885,900,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement includes bill language identifying $65,345,000 for the construction and renovation of health care and other facilities instead of $30,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. The House bill contained no similar provision. These funds are to be used for the following projects: University of Pennsylvania School of Dental Medicine; Magee-Womens Hospital of Pittsburgh, PA; Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine; Fulton County Medical Center in PA; Mercy Health System of Philadelphia; Heflin Human Genetics Center at University of Alabama; Montefiore Hospital in the Bronx, NY; Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians in NC; University of Colorado Health Sciences Center; Delta Health Center of Mound Bayou, MS; Jackson-Hinds Comprehensive Health Center, Jackson, MS; Alaska Family Practice Residency Program; repair and construction of health centers in Iowa; Lawton and Rhea Chiles Center for Healthy Mothers and Babies at University of South Florida in Tampa; University of South Carolina; National Jewish Hospital in Denver, CO; the National Center for Nanofabrication and Molecular Self-Assembly at Northwestern University, Evanston, IL; Northwestern Memorial Hospital; the Center for Research on Aging at Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center in Chicago, IL; the Park DuValle Community Health Center in Louisville, KY; Memorial Hospital Southwest in Houston, TX; Little Flowers Children's Services, Wading River, NY; Englewood Hospital and Medical Center, Englewood, NJ; Bowman Gray School of Medicine in Winston-Salem, NC; Clearwater Free Clinic in FL; Residential Treatment Center in Hamburg, NY; Wilberforce University in Ohio; Central State University in Ohio; Children's Hospital in Washington, DC; Dickstein Cancer Treatment Center, White Plains Hospital, White Plains, NY; University of NC at Chapel Hill; Great Brook Valley Community Health Center in Mass; Worcester City Campus Corp. in Mass; Tuskegee University in Alabama; University of Missouri-Columbia; and Oregon Health Sciences University.

The conference agreement includes bill language identifying $215,000,000 for the family planning program as proposed by the Senate instead of $202,903,000 as proposed by the House.

The conference agreement includes bill language identifying $461,000,000 for the Ryan White Title II State AIDS drug assistance programs. The House bill identified $385,500,000 and the Senate bill identified $311,000,000 to be available in fiscal year 1999 and $150,000,000 to be available in fiscal year 2000. Total funding for the Ryan White programs has been increased by $261,788,000 from the fiscal year 1998 level to a total of $1,411,300,000.

The agency is urged to use the increase provided for Title IV of the Ryan White CARE Act to expand services at existing Title IV projects to prevent perinatal HIV transmission and target services for women and youth. It is expected that training and technical assistance activities related to youth, women, and families affected by HIV will be increased for Title IV projects and Titles I-III according to the terms specified in an existing agreement between HRSA and the AIDS Policy Center for Children, Youth and Families.

The conference agreement provides $12,000,000 in additional funding to be targeted to addressing treatment outcome disparities in communities of color, and will complement existing and previously planned targeted HIV/AIDS minority activities. In allocating these funds, consideration should be given to the territories, such as in the Virgin Islands, where, for example, the HIV/AIDS case rate is more than twice the national case rate of 24.1 per 100,000. The conference agreement designates $5,000,000 in Title I supplemental funding and directs that these funds be allocated to eligible metropolitan areas that have 30% or more African American and Latino HIV/AIDS cases in an effort to improve the quality of care and health outcomes for African Americans living with HIV/AIDS; $3,000,000 in Title III to be used for targeted planning grants designed to build the HIV primary care capacity of indigenous organizations serving African American communities highly impacted by HIV/AIDS; $2,000,000 in Title IV to address the prevalence of HIV and AIDS among African American children; and $2,000,000 for subcontracts awarded through in AIDS Education and Training Centers to the Historically Black Colleges and Universities for the education of health care providers serving African American communities on the Guidelines for the Use of Antiretroviral Agents in HIV-Infected Adults and Adolescents as developed by the Department of Health and Human Services.

The conference agreement includes bill language designating $107,434,000 of the funds provided for the Maternal and Child Health block grant for special projects of regional and national significance (SPRANS) instead of $105,863,000 as proposed by the Senate and $103,863,000 as proposed by the House. This designation provides $5,000,000 more for SPRANS activities than would otherwise be the case under the statutory formula. It is intended that this amount be used for the continuation of the traumatic brain injury State demonstration projects as authorized by title XII of the Public Health Service Act. It is also expected that the agency will allocate $500,000 of the SPRANS set-aside for the third and final year of the fluoridation program begun in fiscal year 1997 in States with fluoridation levels below 25 percent.

The conference agreement includes bill language designating $2,000,000 for the Center for Sustainable Health Outreach at the University of Southern Mississippi in affiliation with Harrison Institute at Georgetown University for the establishment of demonstration programs that create model health access programs, health-related jobs and sustainability of community-based providers of health services in rural and urban communities and $1,250,000 for the American Federation for Negro Affairs Education and Research Fund.

There are concerns about reports that HRSA may make participation in the Section 340B drug pricing program a requirement for hemophilia treatment centers (HTCs) to receive grants from the Maternal and Child Health program. It is viewed that HTCs that choose to distribute clotting factor to their patients should purchase factor under the 340B program to obtain the lowest possible price; however, HTCs should not be required to distribute clotting factor as a condition of their MCH block grant. In addition, there is concern that some HTCs that distribute clotting factor may be excessively marking-up the cost of the factor to patients and public and private insurers. The Secretary is requested to provide a report within six months which would assess this issue.

The conference agreement provides $925,000,000 for consolidated health centers as proposed by the Senate instead of $924,883,000 as proposed by the House. Existing health centers are showing severe strains due to the growth in the number of uninsured seeking their care and the fact that the majority of centers have not had an increase in their grant funds in the past eight years. The increase provided would alleviate the problem and the Department is expected to allocate a substantial proportion of the increase to existing health centers.

From within the increase provided, HRSA is encouraged to increase its support for an existing demonstration, which is evaluating the benefits of linking the primary care services of community health centers with substance abuse treatment.

It is intended that $10,000,000 of the funding available for consolidated health centers will be made available for grants to assist health centers in meeting the necessary startup expenses for planning and organizing managed care networks and plans as proposed by the House instead of $6,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement has deferred taking action on the recommendation contained in the Senate report regarding the new interstate nurse licensure compact, pending the resolution of several important issues concerning the compact. It is understood that several States have not endorsed the compact and some State Boards of Nursing and other nursing organizations have raised reservations about the compact.

It is intended that the agency may use up to $3,000,000 of the funding provided for the National Health Services Corps for State offices of rural health.

The conference agreement provides $304,265,000 for health professions instead of $303,818,000 as proposed by the House and $208,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. It is recognized that one of the barriers to meeting the health care needs of underserved and minority populations in urban areas is the inability to fill critical entry level positions in allied health. Many of these positions could be filled by participants in the Welfare to Work program. The conference agreement includes $1,000,000 within Allied Health Special Projects for the Illinois Community College Board (ICCB) to support a program to train and place welfare recipients in the greater Chicago urban area in the allied health fields using distance technology. It is expected that the ICCB will coordinate its efforts with the Illinois Department of Human Services. The conference agreement also includes $200,000 to support the demonstration proposal by the Utah Medical Education Council and Utah Area Health Education Centers.

The conference agreement provides $38,892,000 for rural health outreach grants instead of $32,592,000 as proposed by both the House and the Senate. Within the total provided, it is intended that funds be allocated for the following: $3,000,000 to continue the Southwest Alabama Network for Education and Telemedicine project; $500,000 for a proposal by the Children's Health Fund to implement a rural health initiative that would expand the availability and accessibility of comprehensive primary pediatric care to underserved rural communities, especially in rural areas of Mississippi, West Virginia, south Florida, and Arkansas; $250,000 for a project by the Low Country Health Care Systems; $1,000,000 for a proposal by the Louisiana State University Medical Center that would link a school of medicine, a biomedical research center, hospitals, rural clinics, and a strong telecommunications network to provide urgently needed health services, health education regarding genetic diseases, and vital research into hereditary neurodegenerative disorders such as Friedreich's ataxia and Usher syndrome which occur in the rural, medically underserved Acadian population of Louisiana at rates two and a half times the national average; $2,000,000 for a telemedicine proposal by the San Bernardino County Medical Center; $100,000 to allow Southeast

Community College to wire and equip a state-of-the-art telecommunications center on its Cumberland, Kentucky campus; $1,000,000 for the Marshfield Clinic to expand women's health services in rural areas through a mobile health clinic and database network; and $2,000,000 for the Center for Sustainable Health Outreach at the University of Southern Mississippi in affiliation with Harrison Institute at Georgetown University.

The conference agreement provides $21,670,000 for Hansen's Disease Services instead of $18,670,000 as proposed by both the House and the Senate. Within the total provided, $3,000,000 is to implement and evaluate Diabetes Lower Extremity Amputation Prevention programs in areas served by community health centers in the States of Louisiana, Alabama, Georgia, and Mississippi that also have high incidences of diabetes that result in lower extremity amputations and to include pilot programs in conjunction with the Louisiana State University School of Medicine, the University of South Alabama, and the Roosevelt Warm Springs Institute for Rehabilitation.

The conference agreement provides $25,000,000 to fully fund the Medicare Rural Hospital Flexibility Grants Program authorized in the Balanced Budget Act of 1997. This program will provide grants to States to help them improve access to essential health care services in rural communities by: (1) developing and implementing a rural health plan; (2) developing networks; (3) designating Critical Access Hospitals (CAHs); and (4) improving rural emergency medical services and other activities. It will provide support for local citizens, employers, and health care providers to conduct the community development activities that are necessary to identify their health care needs and design a local system of care to address them. For hospitals and other providers, this program will provide technical assistance and support to: (1) develop integrated networks of care; (2) examine the conversion to CAHs; and (3) improve information systems, quality assurance programs, and other activities. The conference agreement would provide for the operation of this program as a new activity by HRSA. This activity was included within the Health Care Financing Administration in the Senate bill. The House bill contained no similar provision. The agency is urged to provide assistance to the Bennett County Community Hospital in Martin, South Dakota, in developing innovative ways to improve health care access and outcomes for underserved rural populations, particularly Native Americans.

The conference agreement provides $119,000,000 for program management instead of $114,059,000 as proposed by the House and $120,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. Within the total provided, it is intended that $1,250,000 will be allocated to continue the efforts of the American Federation for Negro Affairs national education and research fund of Philadelphia and $250,000 is for the University of Northern Iowa Global Health Corps project.

VACCINE INJURY COMPENSATION

The conference agreement includes $100,000,000 for Vaccine Injury Compensation, as proposed by the Senate, for compensation of vaccine-related injuries associated with vaccines administered before October 1, 1988. The House bill contained no similar provision.

CENTERS FOR DISEASE CONTROL AND PREVENTION

DISEASE CONTROL, RESEARCH, AND TRAINING

The conference agreement includes $2,609,520,000 for disease control, research, and training instead of $2,591,433,000 as proposed by the House and $2,366,644,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement includes bill language identifying $17,800,000 for Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) buildings and facilities instead of $12,800,000 as proposed by the House and $6,800,000 as proposed by the Senate. Included in this amount is $11,000,000 for Phase II of the infectious disease laboratory. The conference agreement also includes bill language not proposed in either House or Senate bills to allow the General Services Administration to enter into a single contract or related contracts for the full scope of this laboratory and that the solicitation and contract shall contain the clause "availability of funds" found in the Code of Federal Regulations.

The conference agreement includes a total of $94,573,000 for the National Center for Health Statistics instead of $84,573,000 as proposed by both the House and Senate. The conference agreement also includes bill language designating $67,793,000 of the total to be available to the Center under the Public Health Service one percent evaluation set-aside instead of $59,232,000 as proposed by the House and $84,573,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement does not include bill language designating $51,000,000 for a civilian stockpile of antidotes, antibiotics, and vaccines as proposed by the House. Funding for this activity is included in the Public Health Emergency Fund as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement includes bill language designating $51,000,000 for violence against women programs financed from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund as proposed by the House instead of $43,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement includes funding for the Metropolitan Family Services' Coordinated Community Response to Violence project.

The conference agreement includes bill language not proposed by either House to allow CDC to incur obligations related to agreements with non-Federal entities without receipt of advance payment.

The table accompanying the conference agreement includes a breakout of program costs and salaries and expenses by program as proposed by the House. The Senate report did not include this breakout. Salaries and expenses activities encompass all non-extramural activities with the exception of program support services, centrally managed services, buildings and facilities, and the Office of the Director. It is intended that designated amounts for salaries and expenses are ceilings. The agency may allocate administrative funds for extramural program activities according to its judgment. Funds should be apportioned and allocated consistent with the table, and any changes in funding are subject to the normal notification procedures.

The conference agreement provides $13,500,000 for prevention centers instead of $12,000,000 as proposed by the House and $9,080,000 as proposed by the Senate. It is expected that the agency will fund all previously existing centers and provide them with a modest increase in funding. The conference agreement also provides $1,000,000 within this amount to establish a tobacco prevention research network.

The conference agreement disapproves the plan of the Department to require States to purchase vaccines for the Vaccines for Children Program with section 317 discretionary funds. All Vaccines for Children vaccines should be purchased with mandatory funding provided in the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1993 for that purpose.

CDC is urged to continue working with State and local health agencies to determine the incidence and prevalence of traumatic brain injury and to establish education and prevention programs relating to traumatic brain injury. The conference agreement also supports a study on the cost-effectiveness of trauma systems as described in the House and Senate reports.

CDC is encouraged to collaborate with comprehensive, community based health-related organizations that have successfully developed systems of urban community health care to develop outreach and prevention models which address the needs of disadvantaged and minority populations.

There is support for the efforts by CDC and HRSA to assist in establishing a nationwide toll-free telephone number linking certified poison control centers with a nationwide databank. CDC is encouraged to support an ongoing public service media campaign to familiarize the public with the toll-free number and its services.

There is support for the agencies commitment to improving the health status of minority and disadvantaged individuals. CDC is urged to continue the innovative program being undertaken at Haymarket Center involving the coordination of preventative care with substance abuse treatment.

There is support for the establishment of a CFIDS patient registry at CDC to identify patients for follow-up laboratory and longitudinal studies and to track patterns of morbidity and mortality in this illness.

The conference agreement concurs in language contained in the Senate report regarding promising research on plant-delivered oral vaccines being undertaken at the Thomas Jefferson University Center for Biomedical Research. It is noted that there is other promising research being conducted at the Center involving the treatment and diagnosis of hepatitis B and C viruses and glycoprocessing inhibitors and CDC is encouraged to give consideration to supporting these important areas of research.

The conference agreement includes $30,821,000 over the Administration request for the following chronic and environmental disease prevention program priorities: environmental health lab; radiation; asthma; birth defects; cardiovascular disease; oral health; arthritis; cancer registries; research to the classroom; and chronic fatigue syndrome. Sufficient funds are also included to: continue the community-based diabetes intervention program for the Navajo and other native Americans located at the Indian Diabetes

Center in Gallup, New Mexico; provide Marshall University's Autism Training Center an increase of $400,000 to expand services to families with autism; implement the recommendations of the evaluation of the C. Everett Koop Community Health Information Center, to strengthen the center and to disseminate the results of its evaluation to professional medical societies throughout the country; and fully fund the request for prevention and cessation activities related to smoking.

The total amount provided for chronic and environmental disease prevention also includes $25,000,000 for CDC to carry out the American Stop Smoking Intervention Study (ASSIST) as proposed by the House. The Senate report had specified that funds be transferred from the National Cancer Institute to CDC.

Sufficient funds are included within breast and cervical cancer screening to provide $200,000 for the Women Reaching for Wellness: Promoting Breast Health for American Indian Women in Montana and Northern Wyoming program at Saint Vincent Hospital in Billings, Montana and $250,000 for screening activities at the Montgomery County, Pennsylvania Health Department.

Sufficient funds are included within the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health to expand efforts to implement the national occupational research agenda, fully fund the intramural research program at the Morgantown, WV facility, and provide $1,000,000 to augment activities of the Colorado School of Mines.

The conference agreement provides $15,000,000 for prevention research instead of $10,000,000 as proposed by the House. The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The conference agreement provides $10,000,000 for health disparities demonstrations as proposed by the Senate. The House bill contained no similar provision. The conference agreement also provides additional funding for health disparities activities in existing programs throughout the Department. It is expected that the Secretary will provide the House and Senate Appropriations Committees with a detailed proposal of how these funds will be coordinated and expended to reduce health disparities in minority populations.

The conference agreement includes $18,000,000 in additional funding to be targeted to addressing urgent HIV prevention needs in the African American community. In allocating the funds, consideration should be given to the territories, such as in the Virgin Islands, where, for example, the HIV/AIDS case rate is more than twice the national case rate of 24.1 per 100,000. These funds will compliment existing and previously planned targeted HIV/AIDS minority activities, and are to be allocated on the following basis:

—$10,000,000 is included for the Directly Funded Minority Community Based Organization Program to fund grant applications from indigenous organizations with a history of providing services to the African American community to target the high risk populations of women, youth and men;

—$4,000,000 is included for the creation of new community development grants to 20 African American communities highly impacted by HIV/AIDS. The funding will support needs assessments and planning processes to integrate HIV, STD, TB, substance abuse prevention, treatment and care;

—$2,500,000 is for technical assistance to grantees under the Directly Funded Minority Community Based Organizations, to be provided by national, regional, and local minority organizations; and

—$1,500,000 is included for CDC Faith-Based Initiative program to develop HIV and substance abuse prevention training grants and curriculum at the divinity schools of the Historically Black Colleges and Universities; capacity building grants for Faith centered direct service programs; and provide coordination for community planning leadership, and program, development.

The CDC is urged to institute program guidance and oversight mechanisms to ensure that the Prevention Community Planning Groups priorities are accurately reflected in the state or local plan submitted for grant awards to the CDC, and that the funding awarded corresponds to the demographics of the local epidemic and the identified needs.

The conference agreement provides $10,000,000 for CDC to implement section 2625 of the Public Health Service Act, CDC Guidelines for Pregnant Women. It is noted that the implementation of voluntary testing and treatment of pregnant women is working exceptionally well and that the vast majority of women agree to be tested on a voluntary basis. In the last three years, the number of newly reported pediatric AIDS cases related to perinatal HIV transmission fell 55 percent. It is believed that priority for funding should be placed on outreach, counseling, and voluntary testing of pregnant women rather than mandatory testing of newborns.

The conference agreement endorses Congress' intent to invest in HIV prevention programs and interventions to stem the tide of new HIV infections. CDC is directed to allocate a significant proportion of the HIV/AIDS program for grants and cooperative agreements for HIV prevention programs.

Knowledge of HIV status is essential because it allows individuals to make informed decisions about treatment and prevention of further transmission. Therefore, CDC is encouraged to undertake activities, in consultation with academic researchers and community groups, that will encourage individuals at risk to be tested. CDC is further encouraged to carefully review any policies that may deter individuals, particularly individuals and groups at highest risk, from knowing their HIV status. Similarly, CDC is urged to undertake activities to improve referral from publicly funded testing sites to primary care.

It is agreed that there is a need for demonstration projects to evaluate the effectiveness of CDC's model death scene protocol for Sudden Infant Death Syndrome.

Between 1985 and 1991, 82 percent of Salmonella outbreaks were traced to contaminated shell eggs. It is understood that a new pasteurization technology has been developed employing heat and water which achieves the established FDA standards for the destruction of all strains of Salmonella commonly found in shell eggs. The technology preserves egg quality during extended refrigerated storage without materially changing either the aesthetics or the physical characteristics from those of a fresh raw egg. CDC is urged to work with other Federal agencies to assess various methods to improve egg safety.

NIOSH is to be commended on its commitment to ongoing partnership with the occupational safety and health broader researcher community, public and private. Partnership structures, which are key to the development of NORA, are no less important in the implementation phase. NIOSH is urged to work with its partners to augment resources available to the Institute for NORA research. In particular, NIOSH is encouraged to continue partnering with the NIH to co-sponsor and fund extramural research in relevant NORA priority areas.

NATIONAL INSTITUTES OF HEALTH

NATIONAL CANCER INSTITUTE

The conference agreement includes $2,927,187,000 for the National Cancer Institute as proposed by the Senate instead of $2,787,830,000 as proposed by the House.

The conference agreement deletes without prejudice the Senate bill language specifying $175,000,000 for prostate cancer research at the National Institutes of Health. The House bill contained no similar provision. It is agreed that spending for prostate cancer research over the years has not kept sufficient pace with the scientific opportunities and the proportion of the male population who are afflicted with this disease. This has resulted in significant gaps in scientific and clinical knowledge that contribute to the ongoing morbidity and mortality directly attributable to prostate cancer.

To address this shortcoming, NIH is strongly urged to make prostate cancer a top priority in allocating funding increases. The agency is expected to accelerate spending on prostate cancer, taking into account the recommendation contained in the Senate report and bill. It is further expected that NIH will consult closely with the research community, clinicians, patient advocacy groups, and the Congress to identify promising new avenues of basic and clinical research. The agency is directed to develop a report to be presented to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations within six months outlining the professional judgment for prostate cancer research for the next five years. The Secretary and the Director should also be prepared to discuss actions taken in planning, funding, and implementing the agency's prostate cancer research portfolio for fiscal years 1999 and 2000.

Despite impressive NIH progress in the area of brain cancer research and development, there are still concerns with the growth rate of such tumors and NCI should continue to place a high priority on brain tumor research. The conference agreement supports the approach of using centers of excellence to conduct basic, translational, and clinical research to determine the cause, mechanisms of development, and better methods of treatment and prevention of primary and secondary brain tumors.

The conference agreement concurs with Senate report language regarding the need for a comprehensive initiative designed to assist in minority cancer control, prevention, and treatment and notes that the Early Detection Breast Cancer Program consortium in south Florida is currently addressing the needs of the minority population with a concentrated and coordinated research and treatment effort. NCI is encouraged to provide increased funding for a breast cancer research initiative designed to assist in minority cancer control, prevention, and treatment.

The Institute is urged to work with NIOSH to enhance extramural research in relevant NORA priority areas such as cancer research methods, special populations at risk, mixed exposures, risk assessment methods, and exposure assessment methods.

NATIONAL HEART, LUNG AND BLOOD INSTITUTE

The conference agreement includes $1,793,697,000 for the National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute as proposed by the Senate instead of $1,720,344,000 as proposed by the House.

The conference agreement concurs with language in the House and Senate reports concerning the importance of the Institute establishing a network of collaborative clinical centers for research into Cooley's anemia.

The conference agreement supports research in the areas of ischemic injury, perioperative medicine, and preventative measures to reduce cardiovascular disease and further support collaborative efforts to expand a comprehensive national cardiopulmonary disease prevention program with particular emphasis on risk assessment, promotion of healthy behavior, and independent quality control and evaluation.

The Institute is urged to enhance research on sleep disorders and continue its support for sleep education programs targeted at elementary and secondary school students.

NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF DENTAL AND CRANIOFACIAL RESEARCH

The conference agreement includes $234,338,000 for the National Institute of Dental and Craniofacial Research instead of $228,961,000 as proposed by the House and $233,588,000 as proposed by the Senate.

NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF DIABETES AND DIGESTIVE AND KIDNEY DISEASES

The conference agreement includes $994,218,000 for the National Institute of Diabetes and Digestive and Kidney Diseases as proposed by the Senate instead of $951,203,000 as proposed by the House.

The conference agreement concurs with Senate report language regarding the need for expanded research into Type I, or juvenile, diabetes. NIDDK and other NIH Institutes with an interest in diabetes are encouraged to focus additional resources in this critically important area.

The conference agreement provides sufficient funding for NIDDK to expand its efforts into funding special initiatives focusing on higher-risk, innovative research in high priority areas.

NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF NEUROLOGICAL DISORDERS AND STROKE

The conference agreement includes $903,278,000 for the National Institute of Neurological Disorders and Stroke as proposed by the Senate instead of $851,066,000 as proposed by the House.

The Institute is encouraged to expand efforts in the area of epilepsy research, specifically for intractable or uncontrolled epilepsy.

Progressive supranuclear palsy is a rare but distinct neurodegenerative disease affecting approximately 10,000 or more patients. The Institute is urged to support research in this area through all available mechanisms including the testing of neurotrophic factors that delay disease progression.

NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF ALLERGY AND INFECTIOUS DISEASES

The conference agreement includes $1,570,102,000 for the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases instead of $1,540,102,000 as proposed by the Senate and $1,470,460,000 as proposed by the House.

Autoimmune diseases such as multiple sclerosis, rheumatoid arthritis, diabetes, and lupus affect millions of Americans and disproportionately affect women and minorities. It is believed that enhanced research in this area holds the potential to cure and prevent many diseases. In addition, more needs to be known about the specific environmental agents that are causing the onset of the diseases, genetic susceptibility, and how the body regulates the autoimmune response. Therefore, NIAID is strongly urged to expand its research efforts to capitalize on recent discoveries of autoimmune reactions and newly developed treatments that can suppress immune responses without toxic side effects. It is understood that the NIH Autoimmune Diseases Coordinating Committee should provide greater coordination and renewed focus for autoimmunity research on the NIH campus.

NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF GENERAL MEDICAL SCIENCES

The conference agreement includes $1,197,825,000 for the National Institute of General Medical Sciences as proposed by the Senate instead of $1,150,840,000 as proposed by the House.

NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF CHILD HEALTH AND HUMAN DEVELOPMENT

The conference agreement includes $750,982,000 for the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development instead of $728,817,000 as proposed by the House and $748,482,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement concurs with language contained in the House report relating to reading disabilities.

NATIONAL EYE INSTITUTE

The conference agreement includes $395,857,000 for the National Eye Institute instead of $383,447,000 as proposed by the House and $395,261,000 as proposed by the Senate.

NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH SCIENCES

The conference agreement includes $375,743,000 for the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences as proposed by the Senate instead of $356,047,000 as proposed by the House.

The Institute and the Office of Research on Minority Health are cooperating to address environmental health effects in underserved and minority populations. NIEHS is urged to enhance support for previously selected environmental health effects/minority health centers. Special emphasis should be given to developing improved capabilities in clinical environmental health and community outreach in the areas of human health and environmental medicine.

The Institute is urged to work with NIOSH to enhance extramural research in relevant NORA priority areas such as indoor environment, fertility and pregnancy abnormalities, hearing loss, mixed exposures, emerging technologies, cancer research methods, exposure assessment methods, and risk assessment methods.

NATIONAL INSTITUTE ON AGING

The conference agreement includes $596,521,000 for the National Institute on Aging as proposed by the Senate instead of $565,574,000 as proposed by the House.

The Institute, working in collaboration with NINDS and NIMH, is urged to launch a full-scale prevention initiative aimed at stopping Alzheimer's disease among those who may not exhibit symptoms for several years.

It is noted that there has been a significant growth of research on osteoporosis, Paget's disease, and related bone diseases. The Institute is encouraged to further expand and intensify its research programs on these bone diseases.

The Institute is urged to work with NIOSH to enhance extramural research in relevant NORA priority areas such as special populations at risk, hearing loss, low back disorders, traumatic injuries, asthma and chronic obstructive pulmonary disease, musculoskeletal disorders of the upper extremities, and organization of work.

NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF ARTHRITIS AND MUSCULOSKELETAL AND SKIN DISEASES

The conference agreement includes $308,164,000 for the National Institute of Arthritis and Musculoskeletal and Skin Diseases instead of $296,668,000 as proposed by the House and $304,320,000 as proposed by the Senate.

Osteogenesis Imperfecta (OI), more commonly known as Brittle Bone Disease, is a rare genetic disorder for which there is presently no cure. NIH is encouraged to expand its support for research into the causes, diagnosis, treatment, prevention, and eventual cure of OI and to coordinate public research efforts on OI with those supported by the private sector.

NATIONAL INSTITUTE ON DEAFNESS AND OTHER COMMUNICATION DISORDERS

The conference agreement includes $229,887,000 for the National Institute on Deafness and Other Communication Disorders as proposed by the Senate instead of $216,995,000 as proposed by the House.

NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF NURSING RESEARCH

The conference agreement includes $69,834,000 for the National Institute of Nursing Research as proposed by the Senate instead of $68,198,000 as proposed by the House.

NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF ALCOHOL ABUSE AND ALCOHOLISM

The conference agreement includes $259,747,000 for the National Institute of Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism as proposed by the Senate instead of $248,778,000 as proposed by the House.

NATIONAL INSTITUTE ON DRUG ABUSE

The conference agreement includes $603,274,000 for the National Institute on Drug Abuse as proposed by the Senate instead of $575,426,000 as proposed by the House.

NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF MENTAL HEALTH

The conference agreement includes $861,208,000 for the National Institute of Mental Health as proposed by the Senate instead of $815,707,000 as proposed by the House.

NATIONAL HUMAN GENOME RESEARCH INSTITUTE

The conference agreement includes $264,892,000 for the National Human Genome Research Institute instead of $246,111,000 as proposed by the House and $249,891,000 as proposed by the Senate.

NATIONAL CENTER FOR RESEARCH RESOURCES

The conference agreement includes $554,819,000 for the National Center for Research Resources as proposed by the Senate instead of $513,948,000 as proposed by the House. The conference agreement also includes bill language designating $30,000,000 for extramural facilities construction grants as proposed by the Senate instead of $20,000,000 as proposed by the House.

The possible use of non-destructive evaluation methods to improve diagnostic capabilities in medicine is encouraging. Research in the area of developing computer simulations, virtual imaging environment, and quantitative characterization for radiology, CT, ultrasound and magnetic resonance and others should be investigated. The Director is encouraged to support research in the area of non-destructive evaluation techniques and medical diagnostics.

JOHN E. FOGARTY INTERNATIONAL CENTER

The conference agreement includes $35,426,000 for the John E. Fogarty International Center as proposed by the Senate instead of $30,367,000 as proposed by the House.

NATIONAL LIBRARY OF MEDICINE

The conference agreement includes $181,309,000 for the National Library of Medicine as proposed by the Senate instead of $176,492,000 as proposed by the House.

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR
(INCLUDING TRANSFER OF FUNDS)

The conference agreement includes $306,559,000 for the Office of the Director instead of $254,145,000 as proposed by the House and $302,947,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement includes a designation in bill language of $43,493,000 for the operations of the Office of AIDS Research as proposed by the Senate instead of $41,752,000 as proposed by the House. It is understood that within the total funding for NIH provided in the conference agreement, NIH would intend to spend $1,792,916,000 on AIDS research. It is also understood that this total may be modified depending on changing scientific opportunities and the recommendations of various advisory bodies.

The conference agreement includes a designation in bill language of $50,000,000 for the Center for Complementary and Alternative Medicine as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement also includes language providing that not less than $20,000,000 of the funding made available for the Center shall be for peer reviewed complementary and alternative medicine research grants and contracts that respond to program announcements and requests for proposals issued by the Center as proposed by the Senate. The House bill contained no similar provisions.

The Office of Rare Diseases (ORD) is to be commended for its leadership in the development and implementation of databases to match patients with ongoing or planned clinical research projects and in the convening of scientific workshops and symposia to identify and stimulate research on rare diseases. ORD is encouraged to expand initiatives to equip the NIH to respond to inquiries of patients, care givers, research investigators, and health care providers about genetic and rare disorders and to stimulate rare disorders research. ORD is also encouraged, with the assistance of the research Institutes and centers of the NIH, to review the existing infrastructure of biological samples, human cell, and tissue banks supported by the NIH and develop an information program to publicize the availability of these resources and the methods to contribute or gain access to these samples for research purposes. The conference agreement notes the fact that the Report from the Special Emphasis Panel on the Coordination of Research on Rare Diseases is near completion and endorses the collaboration with the Food and Drug Administration to provide support for toxicity studies for gene vectors for rare disorders.

The Office of Dietary Supplements (ODS) is encouraged to continue its research into the bioavailability of dietary supplements as it affects the efficacy of these products. In conjunction, it is recommended that ODS ensure this research includes studying the comparative disintegration of such products in the digestive system as a prerequisite for their bioavailability. ODS is also urged to enhance efforts in the areas of chromium supplementation and diabetes and the development of a botanical research initiative.

The conference agreement supports the fiscal year 1999 funding level proposed in NIH budget documents for Parkinson's disease. Consistent with the enactment of the Morris K. Udall Parkinson's Research Act of 1997, NIH is expected to utilize resources for research focused on Parkinson's disease such as where the principal focus of the research is the cause, pathogenesis, and/or potential therapies or treatment for Parkinson's disease.

Stress contributes to a host of medical conditions confronted by health care practitioners. In addition to pharmaceutical and surgical approaches used to treat stress-related illnesses, mind/body approaches such as the relaxation response have been used to successfully treat these disorders. The agency is urged to use all available mechanisms, including establishing two to five mind/body centers, to make more visible the benefits of mind/body medicine. It is also noted that existing centers have expertise to accelerate work in this field, and the Director is encouraged to establish partnerships between new and existing centers to expand the scientific base in the field of mind/body medicine and teach and train health care professionals in these approaches.

There are limited options at the present time for the treatment of multiple sclerosis. A number of investigators and companies are conducting promising research on T-cell receptor vaccines that could be used as therapy for multiple sclerosis and other autoimmune diseases such as rheumatoid arthritis, myasthenia gravis, and psoriasis. The NIH is encouraged to enhance research in this area through all available mechanisms, including clinical trials.

NIH is encouraged to increase funding for Behcet's Syndrome, which is a rare chronic relapsing inflammatory disorder characterized by recurrent mouth ulcers, inflammation of the eyes, genital ulcers, rashes, and/or other symptoms.

From within the total funding provided for the various Institutes, centers and divisions, it is anticipated that funding for the pediatric research initiative will be increased above last year's level. These funds are made available directly to the Institutes through the NIH Areas of Special Emphasis, which target those areas of research opportunity most likely to yield greater returns on the Federal investment in biomedical research. The Director is expected to provide overall leadership for and coordination of these extramural research activities devoted to children's illnesses and conditions.

The conference agreement concurs with House report language regarding the use of contractor assistance in the implementation of the administrative structure and costs report. It is believed that the implementation of the reports recommendations are critical to ensuring that NIH has the capacity to absorb the resources provided efficiently and effectively.

The Director is urged to provide funding to the Office of Research on Minority Health (ORMH) in addition to existing and previously planned activities for the purpose of increasing the number of African American principal investigators funded to conduct HIV behavioral and clinical research targeting the links between substance abuse, sexual behaviors and the extraordinary HIV infection rates in African Americans. Special emphasis should be placed on research into ways of breaking this linkage. Research designed to build a culturally competent community knowledge base in areas hardest hit by HIV/AIDS is also a priority. The ORMH is urged to expand support to non-traditional organizations in the Black Faith community, in particular those which are able to play a critical role in outreach to individuals who live in areas hardest hit by HIV/AIDS would also be a priority. This is an effort to improve the quality of care and health outcomes for African Americans and other minorities that are at risk for and living with HIV/AIDS. In allocating these funds, consideration should be given to the territories, such as in the Virgin Islands, where, for example, the HIV/AIDS case rate is more than twice the national case rate of 24.1 per 100,000.

The Director is urged to expand and strengthen population based research to more effectively target at-risk persons, address community norms and support the adoption of HIV risk reduction behaviors and sustain behavioral change among high risk populations. Such activities should specifically consider targeting: pregnant and parenting teenagers and their sexually active partners; African American heterosexual men in age specific populations; African American women in age specific populations ranging within the child bearing ages of 15 to 44; and provide for risk reduction for crack cocaine abusing youth who participate in the sex for drugs trade that is associated with such drug use.

The Director is urged to cooperate in completing the Institute of Medicine study on cancer among minorities and the medically underserved, and to provide timely access to requested data to enable the IOM to complete the study in an expeditious fashion. The Director is expected to report on the study's progress during the hearings on the fiscal year 2000 budget request.

BUILDINGS AND FACILITIES

The conference agreement includes $237,519,000 instead of $224,599,000 as proposed by the House and $263,822,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement provides for $90,000,000 for the Clinical Research Center in fiscal year 1999 and $40,000,000 in fiscal year 2000 as proposed by the Senate. The House bill included funding for the Clinical Research Center only for fiscal year 1999.

SUBSTANCE ABUSE AND MENTAL HEALTH SERVICES ADMINISTRATION

SUBSTANCE ABUSE AND MENTAL HEALTH SERVICES

The conference agreement provides a program level of $2,488,005,000 for substance abuse and mental health services instead of $2,458,005,000 as proposed by the House and $2,151,643,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement does not include bill language proposed by the House that identified $10,000,000 for grants to rural and Native American projects. The Senate bill contained no similar provision. The conference agreement concurs with Senate report language regarding the CSAP and CSAT grants reserved for rural and native communities.

The conference agreement includes bill language identifying $300,000 for the Philadelphia City-wide Improvement and Planning Agency for a youth mentoring program.

The conference agreement includes a general provision to allow funds allocated to the States for the substance abuse block grant and the mental health block grant to be allocated according to current law which would incorporate the Secretary's decision to change the wage proxy to the use of non-manufacturing wages. In doing so, it is agreed that, for the substance abuse block grant, each State will receive no less than 30.65 percent of the percentage increase of the overall block grant amount. It is also agreed that small States will receive a minimal allotment of .375 percent of the appropriation for the substance abuse block grant except that no small State's allotment shall be increased in 1999 more than 300 percent of the percentage increase in the overall funding for the block grants. The Senate bill contained language that required each State to receive the same allotment in fiscal year 1999 as it did in fiscal year 1997. The House bill contained no similar provision. The conference agreement includes $40,000,000 within the Center for Mental Health KDA program to improve mental health services for children with emotional and behavioral disorders who are at-risk of violent behavior. There are concerns about the recent outbreaks of violence in our Nation's schools and it is believed that one important tool to address this problem is to improve children's mental health services. This additional funding will assist schools in identifying and addressing the mental health needs of children and preventing aggressive behaviors. Schools are an ideal location for children's mental health activities because they facilitate peer-based programs, comprehensive approaches, and access to professionals in a familiar environment where many of the problem behaviors occur. It is intended that SAMHSA will collaborate with the Department of Education to develop a coordinated approach.

The conference agreement provides $2,000,000 from the Center for Mental Health Services KDA program and $3,000,000 from the Center for Substance Abuse Treatment KDA program for a joint award to fund the development of an integrated service delivery system in the State of Alaska to provide both mental health and substance abuse treatment services.

The conference agreement provides $1,000,000 for assistance to rural areas in Alaska to support the expansion of services for women and children as part of the Targeted Capacity Expansion Program.

The conference agreement includes sufficient funds for a national mental health self-help information resource center and recommends that the agency provide funds to support such a center.

The conference agreement supports the initiative to collect State-level substance abuse data, but has not provided separate, line item funding. Instead, consistent with the fiscal year 1998 conference agreement, the agency is expected to fund this project from the five percent set-aside in the substance abuse block grant.

The conference agreement provides $22,000,000 in additional, targeted funding to compliment existing and previously planned targeted HIV/AIDS minority activities to strengthen abuse treatment and prevention programs that include an HIV component. These funds should also be used to address the HIV epidemic in the territories, such as in the Virgin Islands where, for example, the HIV/AIDS case rate is more than twice the national case rate of 24.1 per 100,000.

Within the total amount provided, $16,000,000 is for the Center for Substance Abuse Treatment, of which $9,000,000 shall be used for comprehensive residential treatment for women and their children, and $7,000,000 shall be dedicated to treatment programs serving youth and men; and $6,000,000 is for the Center for Substance Abuse Prevention to be targeted to prevention services for African American youth.

AGENCY FOR HEALTH CARE POLICY AND RESEARCH

HEALTH CARE POLICY AND RESEARCH

The conference agreement includes $100,408,000 in appropriated funds as proposed by the House instead of $50,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement designates $70,647,000 to be available to the Agency for Health Care Policy and Research under the Public Health Service one percent evaluation set-aside as proposed by the House instead of $121,055,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The Henry Ford Health System has a proposal to develop a collaborative, interdepartmental effort focused on the advanced use of patient demographic and clinical data. The agency is encouraged to review the proposal's merits.

The Community Health Assessment and Development Program has a proposal to develop an urban improvement program involving integrated data and outcome measures to health care providers in the northeast Ohio area. The agency is encouraged to review the proposal's merits.

HEALTH CARE FINANCING ADMINISTRATION

PROGRAM MANAGEMENT

The conference agreement makes available $1,946,500,000 for program management instead of $1,942,500,000 as proposed by the House and $1,685,550,000 as proposed by the Senate. The Senate bill assumed that the Administration's user fee proposal would be enacted prior to conference. Included within this amount is $4,000,000 to improve the survey and certification and enforcement process to insure that nursing home residents receive the quality of care required by the Nursing Home Reform Act of 1987. An additional appropriation of $560,000,000 has been provided for this account in the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996.

The conference agreement includes bill language identifying $1,000,000 for the National Bipartisan Commission on the Future of Medicare instead of $600,000 as proposed in both House and Senate bills. The conference agreement also deletes language contained in both bills, but is no longer needed, that directs the Commission to examine the impact health research has on Medicare costs as well as the potential for coordinating Medicare with cost-effective long-term care services.

The conference agreement includes bill language identifying $45,000,000 for the transition to a single Part A and Part B processing system and Year 2000 century conversion requirements of external contractor systems. The House and Senate bills provided $45,000,000 and $25,000,000, respectively, only for transition to a single Part A and Part B processing system.

The conference agreement includes bill language identifying $2,000,000 of the funds available for research, demonstration, and evaluation activities to continue demonstration projects on Medicaid coverage of community-based attendant care services for people with disabilities which ensure maximum control by the consumer to select and manage their attendant care services. The House bill contained no similar provision.

The conference agreement provides for the Medicare rural hospital flexibility grants program under the Health Resources and Services Administration instead of HCFA as proposed by the Senate. The House bill contained no similar provision.

The conference agreement includes $2,000,000 to support research conducted by the Sinclair School's Tiger Place to develop a comprehensive elderly health care delivery model evaluation.

The conference agreement includes $2,000,000 within research to conduct a demonstration of residential treatment facilities at the AIDS Healthcare Foundation in Los Angeles.

The agency is encouraged to give strong consideration to reclassifying Iredell County, North Carolina to the large urban area of Charlotte-Gastonia-Rock Hill, North Carolina for the purposes of Medicare hospital reimbursement.

The agency is urged to extend the chronic ventilator-dependent unit demonstration at Temple University Hospital for one additional year. It is expected that this project will be permanently authorized after next year and this extension will no longer be needed.

The conference agreement recommends the Secretary base retaining or changing the current requirement of physician supervision of anesthesia services in Medicare on scientifically valid outcomes data. Concern has been expressed regarding HCFA's proposed elimination of this requirement which has been in effect since the inception of the Medicare program. The conference agreement further suggests that the Secretary request the Agency for Health Care Policy and Research to work with HCFA in a design and implementation of an outcome approach that would examine, utilizing existing Medicare operating room anesthesia data, mortality and adverse outcome rates by different anesthesia providers, adjusted to patient acuity, and other relevant scientific variables. This methodology should be developed after consultation with the relevant national professional organizations. Nothing in this report shall be construed as encouraging, discouraging, or delaying HCFA from removing or retaining the current physician supervision requirement.

The conference agreement concurs with language contained in the House report and includes funds to demonstrate and evaluate family and community responses to the care of the elderly.

The Secretary is urged to consider a demonstration program to evaluate the potential savings to the Federal government and the level of quality improvement attainable by using managed care techniques in Federal health care programs relating to clinical laboratory services, including the use of preferred provider networks and selective contracting.

There is concern about the large disparity between the costs incurred by clinical laboratories to provide manual screening Pap tests and the amount currently paid by Medicare. Data from laboratories nationwide that provide service indicates that the cost of providing the test averages $13.00 to $17.00, with the costs in some areas being higher, yet Medicare currently pays $7.15. It is believed that adequate payment is a necessary component of ensuring women's access to quality Pap smears. The agency is urged to act as soon as possible to increase the Medicare payment for the screening Pap smear.

The agency is further urged to provide for a commensurate increase in the payment rate for new cervical cancer screening technologies that have been approved by the Food and Drug Administration as significantly more effective than the conventional Pap smear. It is recognized that access to the best cervical cancer screening techniques is particularly important to low-income, minority, and elderly women covered by Medicare who in too many cases do not receive regular preventive screenings.

The agency is urged to carry out an outreach campaign to increase utilization of pneumococcal and flu vaccines for Medicare beneficiaries as authorized by the Balanced Budget Act of 1997.

HCFA should be commended for its efforts in California and elsewhere to develop and disseminate culturally and linguistically appropriate HIV/AIDS-related education models for minority women of childbearing age and health care providers. HCFA is encouraged to continue its efforts to coordinate the broader development and dissemination of multimedia education materials needed to reach this population, including managed care organizations, community health centers, States and community-based organizations.

ADMINISTRATION FOR CHILDREN AND FAMILIES

FAMILY SUPPORT PAYMENTS TO STATES

The conference agreement includes bill language proposed by the Senate to allow reimbursement payments to States under the old Aid to Families with Dependent Children program, subject to the limitations in the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996. The House had no similar provision.

LOW INCOME HOME ENERGY ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

The conference agreement does not include the rescission of the fiscal year 1999 appropriation that was contained in the House bill. The Senate bill contained no rescission of these funds which were appropriated in the fiscal year 1998 appropriations bill. The agreement also includes an emergency appropriation for fiscal year 1999 of $300,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. The House bill included no emergency appropriation. The agreement also includes an advance appropriation for fiscal year 2000 in the amount of $1,100,000,000 as contained in both the House and Senate bills.

The conference agreement provides that in both fiscal years 1999 and 2000 up to $27,500,000 is to be used for the leveraging incentive fund.

REFUGEE AND ENTRANT ASSISTANCE

The conference agreement includes $415,000,000 as proposed by the Senate instead of $415,165,000 as proposed by the House. It is understood that approximately $20,000,000 will be available in 1999 from 1997 carryover funds; these funds shall be used under social services to increase educational support to schools with a significant proportion of refugee children and for the development of alternative cash assistance programs that involve case management approaches to improve resettlement outcomes. Such support should include intensive English language training and cultural assimilation programs.

The conference agreement provides $220,698,000 for transitional and medical services, a decrease of $10,000,000 below the House and Senate bills. This reduction reflects lower estimates of 1998 program costs that are continued into 1999. The funding level for transitional and medical services is sufficient to continue the policy of providing eight months of assistance to new arrivals.

The conference agreement provides $139,990,000 for social services, an increase of $5,000,000 over the House and $10,000,000 over the Senate. The conference agreement includes $26,000,000 for increased support to communities with large concentrations of refugees whose cultural differences make assimilation especially difficult justifying a more intense level and longer duration of Federal assistance, and $14,000,000 to address the needs of refugees and communities impacted by the recent changes in Federal assistance programs relating to welfare reform. The agreement includes $19,000,000 for assistance to communities impacted by Cuban and Haitian entrants and refugees whose arrivals in recent years have increased.

The conference agreement includes $4,835,000 for preventive health as proposed by the Senate. The House bill consolidated this activity into social services.

CHILD CARE AND DEVELOPMENT BLOCK GRANT

The conference agreement appropriates $1,182,672,000 as an advance appropriation for fiscal year 2000 as proposed by the Senate, instead of $1,000,000,000 as proposed by the House. The agreement further provides that $19,120,000 shall be for child care resource and referral and school-aged child care activities as proposed by the Senate. The House had no similar provision. The agreement includes language proposed by the Senate modified to require the States to utilize $50,000,000 above the amount required by section 658G of the basic law for activities that improve the quality of infant and toddler child care for fiscal year 1999. The House had no similar provision. The agreement includes language to require the States to utilize $222,672,000 above the amount required by the basic law for activities that improve the quality of child care for fiscal year 2000, including $50,000,000 specifically for infant and toddler child care. The Senate bill specified $50,000,000 for that purpose. The basic law requires that not less than four percent of the appropriation be used for such activities. Finally, the agreement includes $10,000,000 for the Secretary to carry out research, demonstration and evaluation projects in fiscal year 2000.

SOCIAL SERVICES BLOCK GRANT

The conference agreement includes $1,909,000,000 as proposed by the Senate instead of $2,299,000,000 as proposed by the House. The agreement modifies a provision included in both bills that limits the ability of States to transfer TANF funds to the Social Services Block Grant. The transfer percentage allowed in fiscal years 1999 and 2000 will be 10 percent.

CHILDREN AND FAMILIES SERVICES PROGRAMS

(INCLUDING RESCISSIONS)

The conference agreement appropriates $6,137,087,000, instead of $5,946,820,000 as proposed by the House and $6,113,784,000 as proposed by the Senate. In addition, the agreement rescinds $21,000,000 from permanent appropriations as proposed by both the House and Senate.

The agreement does not include an advance appropriation of $1,365,000,000 for Head Start for fiscal year 2000 proposed by the Senate. All Head Start funds in the conference agreement are fiscal year 1999 appropriations.

The agreement appropriates $105,000,000 from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund as proposed by the House instead of $101,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The agreement includes language proposed by the Senate providing that $10,000,000 shall be available for establishing Individual Development Accounts, contingent upon the enactment of authorizing legislation. The House had no similar provision. Also included is an additional citation to the Social Security Act as proposed by the Senate.

Within the amount provided for child abuse discretionary activities, $1,000,000 is available for carrying out activities authorized by section 105(a)(2) of the Child Abuse Prevention and Treatment Act and $2,000,000 is provided to fund a child abuse prevention resource center for the Southeastern region of the United States to be coordinated by the children's trust fund of Alabama.

Sufficient funds are included to enable the Department to give full and fair consideration to a proposal under the Child Abuse Prevention and Treatment Act for a national network to increase the safety of children. The Public Children Services Association of Ohio would be especially suited as a model for such a network.

Sufficient funds are available within the runaway and homeless youth activities to fund the Center County Youth Services of State College and Three Rivers Youth of Pittsburgh at the fiscal year 1998 funding level.

The conference agreement concurs with the Senate report language calling for a pilot study to carefully examine information systems issues confronting States as a result of welfare reform, such as data collection and reporting requirements, case management systems, and the integration of multiple systems.

The conference agreement provides $4,000,000 to the Administration on Developmental Disabilities to award competitive grants to conduct training and technical assistance and other national activities designed to address the problems which impede the self-sufficiency of families of children with disabilities.

The conference agreement provides $1,000,000 for Community Legal Services, Inc., of Philadelphia, PA, to continue providing legal services for the poor.

The conference agreement provides that $130,000 is to be used for colleges and universities that have enrolled American Indian and/or Alaska Natives in masters degree programs in social work for purposes of providing 20 field practicum placements of masters degree candidates in Indian reservation and rural Indian community settings.

The conference agreement concurs in the Senate Report language concerning the job creation demonstration authorized under section 505 of the Family Support Act of 1988.

The Head Start Bureau is encouraged to coordinate an effort with other agencies aimed at strengthening families and communities in their efforts to reduce the negative effect of substance abuse on the development of young children.

PAYMENTS TO STATES FOR FOSTER CARE AND ADOPTION ASSISTANCE

The conference agreement appropriates $3,764,000,000 as proposed by the House instead of $3,964,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. The agreement does not include a $200,000,000 reserve fund proposed by the Senate.

ADMINISTRATION ON AGING

AGING SERVICES PROGRAMS

The conference agreement appropriates $882,020,000, instead of $861,020,000 as proposed by the House and $876,050,000 as proposed by the Senate. The agreement includes legal citations as proposed by the House with respect to the Alzheimer's initiative. The agreement funds this initiative in the Administration on Aging as proposed by the House.

The conference agreement provides funding for the Senior Outreach Program as described in the Senate Committee Report.

The conference agreement includes the following amounts under aging research and training:

—$1,000,000 for Family Friends

—$750,000 for a project to monitor and report incidents of elderly abuse and neglect as described in the Senate Committee Report

—$750,000 for using telemedicine and video conferencing to improve the health of rural elderly Americans and to educate health care personnel in rural areas as described in the Senate Committee Report

—$1,000,000 for an outcomes evaluation needed for the Government Performance and Results Act

—$7,000,000 to test different models designed to train retirees in local communities in detection and reporting of Medicare waste and abuse

—$200,000 for a pilot project to coordinate, manage and assure the provision of supportive services, home health, physical therapy, nursing home, and other health care for the elderly and mentally and physically disabled at North Central Community Services of Wausau, Wisconsin.

It is recommended that the Administration on Aging allocate research and training funds equitably to national minority aging organizations with a proven track record in delivering services to low income minority persons.

It is recognized that there is a lack of aging-related service capacity in Native American communities. The Department is urged to review the cooperative agreements with the two previously funded national resource centers at the University of Colorado and the University of North Dakota which are currently serving Native American elders. Further, each center is strongly encouraged to consult with Title VI Directors to assure that each center is providing training and technical support.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY

GENERAL DEPARTMENTAL MANAGEMENT

The conference agreement appropriates $193,902,000, instead of $172,513,000 as proposed by the House and $174,160,000 as proposed by the Senate. The agreement includes a legal citation proposed by the Senate for the United States-Mexico Border Health Commission.

The conference agreement includes language proposed by the House that earmarks $890,000 for a contract with the National Academy of Sciences to conduct a study of available scientific literature on repetitive tasks in the workplace and musculoskeletal disorders. This study is to be conducted in accordance with the instructions contained in the House Committee Report.

The conference agreement contains an increase of $4,000,000 over the President's budget request for traditional departmental management activities. These funds are not intended to be used for any other activity. Should the Secretary decide to use any part of these funds for a different purpose, she must first submit a reprogramming request to the Appropriations Committees.

The conference agreement includes $1,000,000, to be derived from the one-percent evaluation setaside in ASPE, to fund, through a contract with the National Academy of Sciences, the establishment and coordination of a national task force on alcohol-related birth defects. This task force, which will include representation from within, and outside of, the Federal government, shall be charged with developing a national strategy for the prevention of alcohol-related birth defects, including Fetal Alcohol Syndrome and Fetal Alcohol Effect, and for the provision and coordination of appropriate interventions for affected individuals and their families.

The conference agreement concurs with the Senate Report language concerning the human services transportation technical assistance program.

The conference agreement includes $1,000,000 to support the activities of the United States-Mexico Border Health Commission as authorized by Public Law 103-400.

The conference agreement includes $6,400,000 in the Office of Minority Health for the minority male initiative as described in the House Committee Report. Also included for that Office is funding for the three projects at the amounts specified in the Senate Committee Report. In addition, the agreement includes $1,000,000 for the University of Arkansas at Pine Bluff, an historically black institution, for the purpose of upgrading health-related facilities and equipment.

The conference agreement includes $8,000,000 for the Office of Minority Health to strengthen the role of the OMH in HIV health care promotion and prevention at the state and local level. These funds will complement existing and previously planned targeted HIV/AIDS minority activities. These funds will allow OMH to: initiate an educational campaign to improve knowledge and awareness among HIV-infected racial and ethnic minorities, and the health care providers serving these populations, of the importance of state-of-the-art therapy for HIV/AIDS in improving the length and quality of life; fund cooperative agreement grantees to work with states to strengthen and monitor state, local and territorial plans for providing HIV services to minorities; collaborate with SAMHSA to fund programs aimed at coordination of services for HIV, drug treatment and mental health; fund state and territory offices of minority health for demonstration projects to improve minority access to information and services and HIV/AIDS treatment; and collaborate with NIH and CDC to fund prevention research studies on HIV-related behaviors.

The OMH is urged to make community development and coordination grants to indigenous organizations with a history of supporting community development efforts in health promotion and disease prevention that would support the development of leadership coalitions to conduct needs assessments and planning processes for the purpose of integrating HIV, STD, TB, substance abuse prevention, treatment and care services. These funds should also be used to address the HIV epidemic in the territories, such as in the Virgin Islands where, for example, the HIV/AIDS case rate is more than twice the national case rate of 24.1 per 100,000.

The conference agreement expects HHS to maintain the current level of support for Meharry Medical College to continue a cooperative agreement to support the development of an integrated health delivery system in a historically underserved community, and that the Office of Minority Health should provide no more than $1,000,000 of the total amount provided for the effort. The remainder shall be provided by other agencies of HHS. The conference agreement includes funds within the Office of Minority Health to continue a study on managed care and historically minority health professions schools.

The Secretary is encouraged to work with Greater Southeast Medical Center in Southeast, Washington, DC to develop a telemedicine network designed to provide access to modern health information systems.

The conference agreement concurs with the Senate Committee Report language in the Office on Women's Health concerning the national public education campaign on osteoporosis.

The Office on Women's Health, the intelligence community and the National Information Display Laboratory (NIDL) are to be commended for their innovative, cooperative technology transfer program begun in 1994. The results of this experimental initial effort have exceeded expectations. Computer-aided diagnoses of mammograms have shown a factor of two improvement in detection of breast microcalcifications. The conference agreement wishes to build upon the success of the initial program, and the Office on Women's Health is strongly urged to continue the technology transfer effort with the NIDL to improve breast cancer detection, conduct clinical evaluations of promising technologies, conduct medical research on topics that show promise for future benefit in breast cancer detection and expand the technology transfer to other priority medical problems.

The Department is expected, with Department of Energy and Nuclear Regulatory Commission consultation and review, to develop and implement an independent scientific and management review and audit of the thyroid and leukemia studies being conducted by the United States and the governments of Belarus and Ukraine. The audit and review should be conducted with input and participation from the Advisory Committee on Energy-Related Epidemiologic Research and other non-governmental organizations.

The Department is expected to provide to Congress plans and recommendations for the development and implementation of guidelines and policies governing the conduct of radiation health effects studies.

With the ongoing development of new therapies for HIV infection, the definition of appropriate treatment of the disease is continually changing. There is concern that many health care practitioners and patients may not have ready access to updated information on treatment of HIV disease. The Secretary is requested to submit to the Appropriations Committees a detailed plan, no later than six months following passage of this bill, which addresses, (1) the role of various Departmental entities in training health care providers and patients in the treatment of HIV disease, and (2) methods by which the Department's HIV treatment guidelines will be integrated into health care services provided through HRSA and HCFA. It is expected that the Department's Office of HIV/AIDS Policy will play a central role in coordinating efforts in this area across Departmental agencies.

There is concern with findings in the HIV Costs, Services and Utilization Study that indicate many individuals with HIV infection are not receiving treatment for the disease consistent with guidelines issued by the Department. It is understood that a comprehensive system of primary care and support services is needed in order to provide individuals with HIV disease appropriate care and treatment. The Secretary is requested to prepare a report, no later than one year after the passage of this bill, on the accessibility and utilization of recommended HIV-related treatments and prophylactic therapies by people with HIV disease who are served by HRSA and HCFA programs. The report should suggest any program and structural improvements needed in order to improve these rates. The report should also suggest approaches which can encourage Departmental grantees to provide the standard of HIV care outlined in the Department's HIV treatment guidelines.

The Secretary is encouraged to develop mechanisms for timely dissemination of written information related to emerging standards of care for HIV treatment and clinical guidelines for providers and grantee recipients of Federal funds. These mechanisms should be developed in a timely and expedient manner while maintaining standards of appropriate Departmental review and publication.

Over the past decade there have been numerous studies on the possible link between the environment and breast cancer rates. The Secretary of Health and Human Services is encouraged to consult with the National Academy of Sciences to assess the current scientific knowledge on the potential environmental causes of breast cancer, and to identify research needs, establish research priorities, and make recommendations about the implementation of the research plan identified. The consultation should include scientists, outside agencies, and community advocates.

It is recommended that the Aberdeen Area office of the Indian Health Service continue to work with the Bennett County hospital in South Dakota to engage in a comprehensive review of bills for health services provided to Indian people, especially for the period between 1994 and 1998, to ensure that the hospital receives appropriate reimbursement from IHS.

It is expected that the Office of Inspector General will review the indirect provider exclusion rule and report to the House and Senate Appropriations Committees no later than March 31, 1999 its rationale for excluding indirect providers.

The conference agreement includes $5,000,000 in the Policy Research account in the Office of the Secretary to continue research on the outcomes of welfare reform. It is recommended that this research involve state-specific surveys and data sets, survey data on the impacts of state waiver programs, and administrative data such as Food Stamp, Social Security and Internal Revenue Service records. The research should measure outcomes in both low and high economic growth areas of the country. The Department is urged to continue to involve the National Academy of Sciences to provide guidance on research design and to recommend further research. An interim report is to be submitted to the Appropriations Committees within six months.

PUBLIC HEALTH AND SOCIAL SERVICES EMERGENCY FUND

The conference agreement includes an emergency allocation of $216,922,000 within the Public Health and Social Services Emergency Fund, to be made available only to the extent that an official budget request for $216,922,000, that includes designation of the entire amount of the request as an emergency requirement as defined in the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985. The Senate bill identified $300,000,000 for these activities as emergency funding and the House bill identified $51,000,000 in the Centers for Disease Control only for the pharmaceutical stockpile activity. The fund addresses the Administration request for bioterrorism and related activities as well as for bolstering public health infrastructure, conducting studies regarding health and national security, and combating certain infectious diseases. The conference agreement also includes a provision that would require the Department of Health and Human Services to submit, prior to the obligation of funds, an operating plan to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations.

The amount provided includes $154,750,000 for the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention for the following activities: $1,000,000 for the development of an overall preparedness plan; $1,000,000 to enhance technical capabilities to identify certain biological agents; $1,750,000 for conducting independent studies of health and bioterrorism threats specified in the Senate report; $2,000,000 to assist States in developing emergency preparedness and response plans; $2,000,000 to expand the CDC Epidemic Intelligence Service; $2,000,000 for regional laboratories for measuring chemical exposures; $5,000,000 to better identify potential biological and chemical terrorism agents; $5,000,000 to develop new sources and methods for surveillance; $5,000,000 to develop rapid toxic screening; $5,000,000 for the environmental health laboratory; $7,000,000 to strengthen State and local epidemiological and surveillance capacity; $11,000,000 for regional laboratories for detecting and measuring biological and chemical agents; $28,000,000 to establish a national health alert network; $20,000,000 for polio eradication activities; and $8,000,000 for measles eradication activities. The amount also includes bill language designating $51,000,000 to remain available until expended for the CDC to establish a pharmaceutical and vaccine stockpile for civilian populations. The House bill provided for this activity at CDC as non-emergency funding. The Senate bill provided for this activity at the Office of Emergency Preparedness.

The amount provided also includes $12,172,000 for the Office of the Secretary for the following activities: $2,500,000 for the Office of Emergency Preparedness for a national disaster medical system; $1,500,000 for developing national response capabilities; $3,000,000 for metropolitan medical response systems; $1,850,000 for a nuclear weapons radiation study described in the Senate report; and $3,000,000 in bill language for the renovation and modernization of Fort McClellan's Noble Army Hospital in Alabama for bioterrorism training activities. The conference agreement also includes $322,000 in bill language to be provided to Calhoun County, Michigan for reimbursement of certain expenses related to food-borne illnesses.

The conference agreement assumes that within the overall increase provided for NIH, $10,000,000 will be allocated for vaccine research and development activities in support of the bioterrorism initiative.

Public health data indicates that African Americans and other minorities are disproportionately and more severely impacted by HIV/AIDS and experience significantly higher morbidity and mortality rates than do other populations in the United States. The conference agreement includes an additional $50,000,000 to address the HIV/AIDS crisis facing the African American community and other racial and ethnic minority communities due to the changing demographics of the disease. These funds are to be available to address prevention and treatment needs of minority communities that are heavily impacted by HIV/AIDS, and should compliment existing and previously planned targeted HIV/AIDS minority activities. These funds are available for the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services to transfer to other agencies to: expand and improve access to state-of-the-art HIV/AIDS therapies; strengthen and expand targeted HIV/AIDS effective prevention and intervention activities; support HIV/AIDS substance abuse activities; provide critical technical assistance in high risk communities; and build and sustain HIV/AIDS infrastructure. In allocating these funds, consideration should be given to the territories, such as in the Virgin Islands, where, for example, the HIV/AIDS case rate is more than twice the national case rate of 24.1 per 100,000.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

NIH AND SAMHSA SALARY CAP

The conference agreement includes a provision (section 204) limiting the use of the National Institutes of Health and the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration funds to pay the salary of an individual, through a grant or other extramural mechanism, at a rate in excess of Level III of the Executive Schedule instead of $125,000 as proposed by both the House and Senate.

ADVISORY BOARDS

The conference agreement makes permanent a provision (section 206) contained in both the House and Senate bills that prohibits the expenditure of funds for the Federal Council on Aging and for the Advisory Board on Child Abuse and Neglect.

NIH TRANSIT SUBSIDIES

The conference agreement makes permanent a provision (section 210) contained in both the House and Senate bills that allows the use of funds by the National Institutes of Health for transit subsidies for non-FTE bearing positions including trainees, visiting fellows and volunteers.

PARENTAL PARTICIPATION IN FAMILY PLANNING SERVICES

The conference agreement includes a provision (section 211) contained in the House bill prohibiting the funding of family planning grantees unless the grantee certifies that it encourages family participation in the decision of a minor to seek family planning services and that it provides counseling to minors on resisting attempts to coerce them into engaging in sexual activities. The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF DENTAL AND CRANIOFACIAL RESEARCH

The conference agreement includes a provision (section 212) contained in both the House and Senate bills that renames the National Institute of Dental Research as the National Institute of Dental and Craniofacial Research.

ORGAN TRANSPLANTATION

The conference agreement includes amended House bill language (section 213) which: (1) prohibits the April 2, 1998 Organ Procurement and Transplantation Network (OPTN) final rule from becoming effective for a year; (2) provides a review of existing policies and the April 2, 1998 final rule by the Institute of Medicine (IOM), under contract and subject to review by the Comptroller General; and (3) provides for data collection and analysis activities. The conference agreement directs that professional staff with appropriate expertise, who have not been involved in this regulatory issue, should undertake this work for the IOM.

HOSPITAL NOTIFICATION OF DEATHS FOR ORGAN PROCUREMENT

The conference agreement does not include a provision contained in the House bill that suspends HCFA regulations requiring, as a condition of participation in Medicare, that hospitals notify local organ procurement networks of all deaths occurring in the hospital. The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

LOUIS STOKES LABORATORY

The conference agreement includes a provision contained in the House bill to name the Consolidated Laboratory Building (Building 50) at NIH the Louis Stokes Laboratories. The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

MEDICAID FUNDING FOR VIAGRA

The conference agreement does not include sections 218 and 219 of the House bill. The Senate bill contained no similar provisions. There are concerns about clinical and financial abuse of these drugs that could endanger the health of patients and undermine the public support for the Medicaid program that often cannot adequately provide basic health care for all needy individuals. Therefore, HCFA is encouraged to establish a rigorous system to review utilization of these drugs by working with States, clinicians, consumer advocates, and others to assure consistent collection of data necessary to make the exclusion determination under section 1927(d)(3) if the drug is subject to clinical abuse or inappropriate use.

TITLE X COMPLIANCE WITH STATE LAWS AND REQUIREMENTS FOR PARENTAL CONSENT

The conference agreement does not include a provision contained in the House bill that requires title X clinics to comply with State laws relating to notification or reporting of child abuse, child molestation, sexual abuse, rape or incest and also requires clinics to notify a parent or guardian prior to the provision of contraceptive drugs or devices to minors. The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

MEDICARE+CHOICE

The conference agreement includes a provision contained in both House and Senate bills that assures Medicare+Choice plans are not required to provide abortion services but that such services must be available to beneficiaries outside the plan.

DALE AND BETTY BUMPERS VACCINE RESEARCH FACILITY

The conference agreement includes a provision contained in the Senate bill to name the Vaccine Research Facility (Building 40) at NIH the Dale and Betty Bumpers Vaccine Research Facility. The House bill contained no similar provision.

PROSTATE CANCER RESEARCH

The conference agreement deletes without prejudice a provision contained in the Senate bill that earmarks $175,000,000 for prostate cancer research at NIH. The House bill contained no similar provision.

SUBSTANCE ABUSE AND MENTAL HEALTH BLOCK GRANT FORMULA

The conference agreement includes a provision not contained in either the House or Senate bills that allows funds allocated to the States for the substance abuse block grant and the mental health block grant to be allocated according to current law which would incorporate the Secretary's decision to change the wage proxy to the use of non-manufacturing wages.

TITLE X COMPLIANCE WITH STATE LAWS

The conference agreement includes a provision contained in the House bill that requires Title X clinics to comply with State laws relating to notification or reporting of child abuse, child molestation, sexual abuse, rape or incest. The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

TITLE III—DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

EDUCATION REFORM

The conference agreement includes $1,314,100,000 for Education Reform, instead of the $861,500,000 proposed by the House and $1,244,500,000 as proposed by the Senate.

Goals 2000

The conference agreement provides $491,000,000 instead of $496,000,000 provided by the Senate and $245,500,000 provided by the House. This amount includes $461,000,000 for state grants instead of $466,000,000 as proposed by the Senate and $220,500,000 as proposed by the House. For parental assistance, the conference agreement includes $30,000,000, the same level as in the Senate bill instead of $25,000,000 in the House.

Education Technology

For education technology, the conference agreement provides $698,100,000 instead of the $623,500,000 proposed by the Senate and the $541,000,000 provided by the House.

Technology Literacy Challenge Fund

For the Technology Literacy Challenge Fund, the conference agreement includes $425,000,000, as proposed by both the House and Senate.

Technology Innovation Challenge Grants

For the Technology Innovation Challenge Grants, the conference agreement provides $115,100,000 instead of $106,000,000 as proposed by the House and the $126,000,000 proposed by the Senate. Within the amount provided for Technology Innovation Challenge Grants, the conference report specifies funding for the following activities:

$500,000 for a state-of-the-art demonstration of information technology systems to be carried out by Mansfield University, Mansfield, Pennsylvania;

$2,500,000 to allow Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey to carry out the RUNet 2000 project that will establish a comprehensive, integrated voice-video-data communications network;

$1,000,000 for the Krell Institute in Ames, Iowa to help meet the need for a technology-capable workforce through professional development for technology training and summer programs for teachers;

$850,000 for the State of Alaska Department of Education to develop an Internet-based curriculum and to provide professional development to elementary and secondary school teachers;

$2,000,000 for Hawaii Department of Education's "Magnet E-School" technology training and curriculum initiative;

$250,000 for the "Passport to Chicago Community Network" technology training project in Chicago, Illinois;

$600,000 for the technology in the classroom pilot program for the Green Bay Public School System in Green Bay, Wisconsin to assist four middle schools in enhancing technology access and teacher training;

$1,200,000 for LEARN North Carolina and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill; and

$1,500,000 for the Iowa Department of Education for grants to Community Colleges to provide technical assistance to low-income school districts for technology.

Within the amount provided for Technology Innovation Challenge Grants, the conference agreement also sets aside $22,000,000 for a broad based competition on promoting the use of advanced technology to improve education for all students and teachers. In administering this initiative, the conference agreement provides that full and fair consideration, consistent with current practices and policies will be given to applications submitted by the institutions identified in the House Report (105-635) and the Senate Report (105-300) and applications submitted by institutions identified under this heading in this statement of managers.

The conference agreement encourages the Department to provide $2,500,000 for a demonstration project on information technology that integrates computer and media technologies with traditional scholastic disciplines for grades K–16. The University of Colorado would be especially suited for such a program and should be given full and fair consideration for an award.

The conference agreement encourages the Department to provide $200,000 for an innovative project to assist parents in technology-based instruction. The Alhambra School District in California would be especially suited for such a program and should be given full and fair consideration for an award.

The conference agreement contemplates an innovative effort to establish a multi-state demonstration program to guide the development of statewide technology-rich education and learning systems in the United States. The State of Washington, in consortium with Arkansas, Illinois, California and Pennsylvania, would be especially suited for this program and should be given full and fair consideration for funding.

The conference agreement encourages the Department to provide $360,000 for an innovative project designed to engage students in language arts projects using technology as an instruction tool. The Alhambra School District in California would be especially suited for such a program and should be given full and fair consideration for an award.

The conference agreement contemplates a collaborative teacher development initiative in Minnesota that would include KTCA, a community-based public television station; the Green Institute for Teaching and Learning; and the Minnesota Department of Children, Families and Learning. The conference agreement encourages the Department to provide $1,400,000 to this initiative which would demonstrate the potential integrated use of digital television, online computer services and community resources to teachers as both training and educational tools.

The conference agreement urges the Secretary, when awarding educational technology grants, to give consideration to school districts around the country that exemplify: (1) high concentrations of at-risk youth; (2) empowerment zones and enhanced enterprise communities; and (3) significant investment to establish infrastructure with aggressive plans to utilize educational technology. The Houston Independent School District in Houston, Texas is an example of such a school that has made a substantial effort in this area.

Regional technology in education consortia

For Regional technology in education consortia, the conference agreement includes $10,000,000, as proposed by both the House and Senate.

National Activities

The conference agreement includes $87,000,000 for three new national education technology initiatives: $75,000,000 for teacher training in technology, $10,000,000 to establish computer learning centers in low-income communities, and $2,000,000 for national technology leadership activities. The House bill and the Senate bill contained no similar provisions.

Star Schools

For Star Schools, the conference agreement provides $45,000,000, instead of the $46,500,000 in the Senate bill. The House bill provided no funding for this program.

Within the conference agreement, $800,000 shall be provided to the School of Agriculture and Land Resources Management of the University of Alaska, Fairbanks. These funds are to be used to implement a demonstration project to enhance the distance delivery of natural resources management courses, including soils and forestry, to students in rural areas.

Within the conference agreement, $8,000,000 shall be provided to continue and expand the Iowa Communications Network statewide fiber optic demonstration project and $350,000 for multimedia classrooms for the rural education technology center at Western Montana College in Dillon, Montana.

Within the amount provided for Star Schools, the conference agreement also sets aside $9,850,000 for a broad based competition on utilizing distance education to improve instruction. In administering this initiative, the conference agreement provides that full and fair consideration, consistent with current practices and policies will be given to applications submitted by the institutions identified in House Report 105-635 and Senate Report 105-300 and applications submitted by the institutions identified under this heading in this statement of managers.

The conference agreement encourages the Department to provide $120,000 for a program to bring interactive video network and high-speed data communications to rural schools. The schools in Floyd and Craig Counties in southwestern Virginia would be especially suited for such a program and should be given full and fair consideration for an award.

Ready To Learn Television

The conference agreement provides $11,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. No funds were proposed by the House.

Telecommunications demonstration project for mathematics

The conference agreement provides $5,000,000 for telecommunications demonstration project for mathematics as proposed by the Senate. No funds were proposed by the House.

EDUCATION FOR THE DISADVANTAGED

The conference agreement includes $8,370,520,000 for Education for the Disadvantaged instead of the $8,334,781,000 proposed by the Senate and $8,056,132,000 proposed by the House.

For Grants to Local Education Agencies (LEAs) the agreement provides $7,796,020,000 the same level as provided in the Senate bill. The House bill included $7,495,232,000. Of the funds made available for basic and concentration grants, $6,148,386,000 becomes available on October 1, 1999 for the academic year 1999-00.

The agreement includes $6,574,000,000 for basic state grants and $1,102,020,000 for concentration grants. The conference agreement provides no funding for the targeted grants program. The House bill provided $300,000,000 for this purpose. The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The conference agreement includes $120,000,000 under Title I (and $25,000,000 under the Office of Educational Research and Improvement) for continuation grants to local educational agencies for the Comprehensive School Reform Demonstration Program. The conference agreement recognizes that small schools may have greater opportunities to implement comprehensive school reform efforts through working in collaboration with other small schools. In order to ensure the maximum opportunity for the participation of small schools in the Comprehensive School Reform Demonstration Program, the conference agreement clarifies that the minimum award amount applies to individual schools, or to school consortia serving a maximum of 500 students.

IMPACT AID

The conference agreement provides $864,000,000 for the Impact Aid programs instead of $848,000,000 as proposed by the House and $810,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement also includes a legislative provision relating to payments for heavily impacted school districts (section 8003(f)) which changes the method by which payments made under this section are allocated to provide supplemental payments for federally connected students only. It is understood that this provision will result in greater budget stability for school districts that are heavily impacted by the presence of federally connected children. It is further understood that the change has been agreed upon by all school districts that would be affected. No subsequent adjustments will be made for school districts that experience funding shortfalls or losses as a result of this provision. The Department of Education shall report to the Appropriations Committees of both the House and Senate no later than March 1, 1999 on the implementation of this provision.

The conference agreement also includes the following language provisions: eligibility for the Webster School District, Day County, South Dakota; payment calculations for Stanley County, South Dakota; timely filing of applications by the Delaware Valley, Pennsylvania, local educational agency, and Prince Georges County, Maryland; payments for San Diego, California, Centennial, Pennsylvania, and Hatboro-Horsham, Pennsylvania LEAs and Randolph Field Independent School District, Texas; and computing payments for Travis Unified School District in California. Neither the House nor Senate bills contained similar provisions.

SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT PROGRAMS

The conference agreement provides $2,811,134,000 for School Improvement Programs, instead of $1,542,334,000 as proposed by the House and $1,655,188,000 as proposed by the Senate. For the Eisenhower professional development activities, the agreement provides $335,000,000 the same level as in the Senate bill. The House provided $285,000,000.

For innovative education program strategies, title VI of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, the agreement provides $375,000,000. The House provided $400,000,000 and the Senate bill included $350,000,000.

The conference agreement includes an additional $1,200,000,000 under title VI for an initiative to reduce class size. Funding for this activity was included in neither the House nor Senate bills.

The conference agreement recognizes impressive research studies showing improvements in academic achievement and reduction in discipline problems among students attending smaller classes with well-prepared teachers in the early grades. Class-size reduction can be particularly beneficial in those early grades because students in those grades are learning to read and to master the basics in math and other subjects. Accordingly, the conference agreement includes $1,200,000,000 for state formula grants under title VI of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 to assist states to reduce class size in their classrooms, particularly in grades 1–3.

The bill provides that the allocation of funds under section 307 to the states shall be based on the proportional share that each state received from the fiscal year 1998 appropriation under the Title 1 program or the Eisenhower Program, whichever is greater. States would allocate their grant funds among local educational agencies based on a formula that reflects both their relative numbers of children in low-income families and their school enrollments. Local educational agencies would use these funds to recruit, hire, and train new teachers, as well as to provide professional development to existing teachers. A local educational agency that has already reduced class size in its regular classrooms in the early grades could use its funds to make further reductions in grades 1–3, reduce class size in kindergarten or other grades, or carry out activities to improve teacher quality, including professional development. In order to provide for effective accountability to parents and the public, the conference agreement provides that individual schools or the local educational agency will provide an annual report card, in easily understandable language, on class size and student achievement.

The conference agreement includes $566,000,000 for the Safe and Drug Free Schools and Communities Act. Both the House and Senate bills provided $556,000,000.

Included within this amount is $441,000,000 for state grants, instead of $531,000,000 as proposed by the House and $381,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement also includes $125,000,000 for a new school violence prevention initiative under the Safe and Drug Free Schools program, instead of $25,000,000 proposed for national discretionary activities by the House and $175,000,000 proposed by the Senate for national school violence and national discretionary activities.

There is great concern about the frequent occurrence of violence in our nation's schools. The conference agreement provides that the Secretary shall use $90,000,000 under national programs to support activities that promote safe learning environments for students. Such activities should include targeted assistance, through competitive grants, to local educational agencies for developing community-wide approaches to creating safe and drug-free schools; providing alternative education settings for students expelled for disciplinary reasons; improving the assessment of student behavior as a part of the disciplinary process; enhancing the capacity of schools to provide mental health services to troubled youth; providing training for teachers, counselors, school security officers, and other school personnel to identify early warning signs of violent behavior; and responding to disruptive and violent behavior by students.

Further, the conference agreement includes $35,000,000 under national programs for a new Safe and Drug Free Schools coordinator initiative. Funds would be used for competitive grants to local educational agencies to fund the recruitment, training and employment of drug and school safety program coordinators at those middle schools with the worst drug, discipline and violence problems. In addition to these new school violence prevention initiatives under the Safe and Drug Free Schools Program, the conference agreement also includes $40,000,000 to improve children's mental health services under the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Administration (SAMHSA) in the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), for a total of $165,000,000 for new efforts aimed at drug and violence prevention in schools. The conference report encourages the Department to coordinate its school violence initiatives with those at SAMHSA in HHS.

The conference agreement includes $20,000,000 for the Education of Native Hawaiians instead of no funding included in the House bill or the $22,000,000 in the Senate bill. The conference agreement assumes that when allocating these funds, the Secretary of Education fund the following activities as described in more detail in the Report of the Senate Committee (Senate Report No. 105-300):

Curricula development, teacher training, and recruitment programs	$5,000,000
Community Based Learning Centers	1,000,000
Hawaiian Higher Education Programs	2,500,000
Gifted and Talented Programs	2,000,000
Special Education	2,000,000
Native Hawaiian Education Councils	300,000
Family-Based Education Centers	5,200,000
Preschool Education of Native Hawaiian Children	2,000,000

The conference agreement includes $100,000,000 for Charter Schools, the same as proposed by the House. The Senate proposed $80,000,000.

For Arts in Education, the conference agreement provides $10,500,000, the same amount provided by the Senate bill and the House bill. The amount recommended will support two awards: $5,746,000 for a grant to Very Special Arts and $4,754,000 for a grant to the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts.

READING EXCELLENCE

The conference agreement includes $260,000,000 for activities authorized under the Reading Excellence Act. Neither the House nor the Senate provided funding for this activity. The agreement also includes, as a separate title, the text of the Reading Excellence

Act, which also was included in neither the House nor Senate reported bills. This title amends Title II of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (20 U.S.C. 6601 et seq.) to create a two-year competitive grant program to States to assist children having difficulty with reading.

BILINGUAL AND IMMIGRANT EDUCATION

The conference agreement includes $380,000,000 for Bilingual and Immigrant Education programs. Both the House and Senate bills included $354,000,000. For Instructional Services, the agreement includes $160,000,000, the same level as the House and Senate bills. For Support Services, the agreement provides $14,000,000, the same level as in the House and Senate bills. For Professional Development, the agreement provides $50,000,000, $25,000,000 above the level provided in both the House and Senate bills. For immigrant education, the agreement provides $150,000,000, the same level as in the House and Senate bills. The agreement also provides $6,000,000 for foreign language assistance. Both the House and Senate bills provide $5,000,000.

The Waterloo Community School District in Iowa is faced with an unanticipated influx of immigrants into the community, primarily from Bosnia. The Waterloo community schools are committed to transformations that will effectively address the challenge of educating a new and different growing student population. The Department of Education is encouraged to give full consideration to a proposal from the Waterloo school district.

SPECIAL EDUCATION

The conference agreement includes $5,124,146,000 for Special Education, instead of the $5,104,146,000 proposed by the House and $5,112,946,000 as proposed by the Senate. Included in these funds is $4,100,700,000 for Grants to the States, the same as the House level. The Senate provided $4,090,000,000. Including funding from prior years, the total available for state grants is $4,310,700,000, an increase of $509,700,000 over fiscal year 1998.

The conference agreement includes $1,500,000 to be used in connection with the Special Olympics World Summer Games in 1999 to support a symposium and local community based activities in support of the games and $1,500,000 for the preparation and planning for the Special Olympics World Winter Games in 2001. The conference agreement also includes $600,000 for the second year of the Easter Seal Society's Early Childhood Development Project for the Mississippi River Delta Region.

Included in the conference agreement is $33,023,000 for technology and media services, as proposed by the House, instead of the $32,523,000 as proposed by the Senate bill. The conference agreement includes $6,500,000 for Recordings for the Blind and Dyslexic as described in the House and Senate Reports. The FY 1999 budget justification materials submitted by the Department of Education indicated that a continuation award of $6,000,000 would be made in 1999 to the Recordings for the Blind & Dyslexic under the President's proposed budget. The conference agreement increases the amount of this continuation award for RFB&D to $6,500,000 in order for it to serve more blind and print disabled students and to continue development and use of user-friendly digital-audio technology on behalf of these students. The conference agreement contemplates that these funds be distributed to RFB&D as early in the fiscal year as possible.

REHABILITATION SERVICES AND DISABILITY RESEARCH

The conference agreement includes $2,652,584,000 for Rehabilitation Services and Disability Research, instead of $2,646,640,000 as proposed by the House and $2,645,266,000 proposed by the Senate.

For Vocational Rehabilitation State Grants, the agreement provides $2,304,411,000, the same as the House level. The Senate provided $2,298,467,000.

The conference agreement also includes $39,629,000 for training personnel to provide rehabilitation services to persons with disabilities. This level is the same as in the Senate bill while the House provided $33,685,000.

The conference agreement also provides $10,894,000 for Protection and Advocacy of Individual Rights, the same level as in the House bill. The Senate provided $9,894,000.

The conference agreement provides $8,550,000 for the Helen Keller National Center for Deaf-Blind Youth and Adults, the same level as in the House bill. The Senate provided $8,176,000.

Within the amount provided for the National Institute on Disability and Rehabilitation Research, the conference agreement contemplates that the Department will give full and fair consideration, consistent with current practices and policies, to applications submitted by the institutions identified in the House Report (105-635), and the Senate Report (105-300) and applications submitted by the institutions identified in this statement of managers. In addition, the conference agreement contemplates similar consideration for applications from the George Mason University's Krasnow Institute for Advanced Studies for a $750,000 grant to support cutting-edge research to treat problems in neurological wiring that slow an affected individual's ability to process sounds and information.

The conference agreement encourages the Department of Education to demonstrate a technology-based approach to preparing researchers to work with the visually impaired, cognitively impaired, speech impaired and severely disabled. The conference agreement contemplates that the Dominican College of Blauvelt would be well suited to administer such a project because of its outstanding accomplishment and expertise in the field of special education.

The conference agreement strongly encourages the Department of Education to consider an application from the California State University, Northridge to construct and equip an adaptive aquatic facility for disabled adults.

The conference agreement strongly encourages the Department of Education to consider an application from the Skating Association for the Blind and Handicapped, Inc. to expand their program to assist people with disabilities to succeed at the sport of ice skating.

SPECIAL INSTITUTIONS FOR PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES

NATIONAL TECHNICAL INSTITUTE FOR THE DEAF

The conference agreement provides $45,500,000 for the National Technical Institute for the Deaf as proposed by the Senate instead of $44,791,000 as proposed by the House.

VOCATIONAL AND ADULT EDUCATION

The conference agreement includes $1,539,247,000 for Vocational and Adult Education instead of the $1,532,247,000 as proposed by the House and $1,502,478,000 as proposed by the Senate. $1,030,650,000 is included in the agreement for Vocational Education basic state grants, the same level as proposed by the House. The Senate proposed $1,027,550,000.

For Adult Education the agreement provides $385,000,000, instead of the $378,000,000 provided in the House bill and $355,828,000 in the Senate bill. The conference agreement also provides $20,000,000 for Adult Education National Programs instead of the $13,000,000 provided in the House bill and $10,489,000 provided in the Senate bill.

STUDENT FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

The conference agreement provides $9,348,000,000 for Student Financial Assistance instead of $9,672,654,000 as proposed by the House and $10,172,551,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement sets the maximum Pell Grant at $3,125 and provides a program level of $7,704,000,000 for current law Pell Grants.

FEDERAL FAMILY EDUCATION LOAN PROGRAM ACCOUNT

The conference agreement provides $46,482,000 for the Federal Family Education Loan Program Account as proposed by the Senate instead of $48,482,000 as proposed by the House.

HIGHER EDUCATION

The conference agreement provides $1,307,846,000 for Higher Education instead of $944,198,000 as proposed by the House and $1,138,944,000 as proposed by the Senate. Within this amount, the conference agreement sets aside $9,500,000 under the Fund for the Improvement of Postsecondary Education for a broad based competition to reform or improve postsecondary education opportunities. The competition shall be administered in a manner consistent with the requirements applicable in authorizing statutes and the Department's General Administrative Manual. In administering this competition, the Secretary shall give full and fair consideration to applications submitted by the institutions identified in the House Report (105-635) and the Senate Report (105-300). In addition, the Secretary shall give similar consideration to applications from the following:

A project to encourage underrepresented groups to enter careers in technology and business operated by the Center for the Development of Urban Entrepreneurs at Peirce College;

A project to endow a Contracts Chair-of-Excellence program to be administered in cooperation with a consortium of Historically Black Colleges and Universities and Hispanic-Serving Institutions with environmental science and engineering capabilities;

A demonstration to establish a state-of-the-art science and technology program that will explore the application of novel electronic materials that are used in the development of high temperature supercomputers; and Enhanced distance education and teacher training activities at the Technology Enhancement Initiative at Elmira College in New York.

The conference agreement includes $3,000,000 for American Indian Tribally Controlled Colleges and Universities, recently authorized under Title III of the Higher Education Amendments of 1998. The conference agreement includes $3,000,000 for Native Alaskan and Native Hawaiian-Serving Institutions, recently authorized under Title III of the Higher Education Amendments of 1998.

The conference agreement includes $120,000,000 for the Gaining Early Awareness and Readiness for Undergraduate Programs (GEAR UP), recently authorized under Chapter 2 of subpart 2 of Part A of Title IV of the Higher Education Act. The conference agreement includes $10,000,000 for the Learning Anytime Anywhere Partnerships, recently authorized under Subpart 8 of part A of Title IV of the Higher Education Act.

The conference agreement includes $75,000,000 for Teacher Quality Enhancement Grants, recently authorized under Title II of the Higher Education Amendments of 1998. The conference agreement includes $5,000,000 for Child Care Access Means Parents in School, recently authorized under subpart 7 of Part A of Title IV of the Higher Education Act, and $5,000,000 for demonstration projects to ensure students with disabilities receive a quality higher education, recently authorized under Part D of title VII. The conference agreement provides $450,000 for a Web-Based Education Commission, recently authorized under part J of Title VIII of the Higher Education Amendments of 1998. The Commission shall conduct a thorough study to assess the educational software available in retail markets for secondary and post-secondary students who choose to use such software.

The conference agreement also includes $1,750,000 for the Underground Railroad Educational and Cultural Program, recently authorized under part H of Title VIII of the Higher Education Amendments of 1998.

The conference agreement includes $5,000,000 for the St. Petersburg Junior College for a demonstration of a national method for increasing access to four year degrees and workforce training for students attending community colleges. The conference agreement also includes $2,000,000 for a demonstration project in using high-technology equipment to increase educational achievement at the Technology Assisted Learning Campus in New Rochelle, New York.

The conference agreement includes $250,000 for a demonstration that promotes cooperative educational activities at the Center for Urban Research and Learning at Loyola University of Chicago.

The conference agreement also includes $1,150,000 for Southeast Community College in Letcher, Kentucky for the acquisition of telecommunications and networking equipment.

The conference agreement includes $3,000,000 for the Oregon State University Distance Education Alliance. The conference agreement also includes $1,000,000 for the Appalachian Center for Economic Networks in Athens, Ohio to implement a technology training program.

The conference agreement includes $6,000,000 for the Robert J. Dole Institute for Public Service and Public Policy on the University of Kansas campus in Lawrence, Kansas. The conference agreement includes $1,000,000 for the Oregon Institute of Public Service and Constitutional Studies at the Mark O. Hatfield School of Government at Portland State University. The conference agreement includes $2,150,000 for technology-enhanced learning at the College of Natural Resources, University of Wisconsin at Stevens Point.

The conference agreement includes $1,500,000 for Touro Law Center in Central Islip, New York for the use of technology to bridge the gap between legal education and the actual practice of law. The conference agreement includes $1,000,000 for the International Center for Educational Technology and Distance Learning at Empire State College for design, development, production and dissemination of instructional materials to faculty and students worldwide.

The conference agreement includes $500,000 for a national model of adaptive technologies at the National Institute of Technology for Inclusive Education at the University of Northern Iowa. The conference agreement also includes $1,500,000 for a demonstration project to expand the successful college student preparation and retention programs for academically at-risk students at Prairie View A&M University.

The conference agreement also includes $750,000 for a demonstration project to identify and provide models of alcohol and drug abuse prevention and education programs in higher education at the college level. The conference agreement also includes $1,000,000 for the Paul Simon Public Policy Institute. The conference agreement includes $500,000 for a teacher training program in experiential learning to be administered by the Department of Language Teacher Education, School for International Training, Brattleboro, Vermont.

The conference agreement also includes $4,800,000 under Title III, for Salem State College in Salem, Massachusetts to integrate computer technology into an institutional facility to create a smart building.

The Secretary is encouraged to include funding for a demonstration project to fund expansion of a Computer Science and Information Processing Center for undergraduate and graduate degree programs. Montana State University in Billings, Montana would be especially suited for such a project.

The conference agreement includes $4,637,000 for Urban Community Service. This funding will complete the grant cycle for non-competing project continuations. No further funding will be provided for the Urban Community Service program.

HOWARD UNIVERSITY

The conference agreement provides $214,489,000 for Howard University as proposed by the House instead of $210,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. The agreement includes a provision proposed by the Senate that designates for the endowment and makes available until expended not less than $3,530,000. The House bill permitted Howard University to allocate funds for the endowment as authorized by law.

HISTORICALLY BLACK COLLEGE AND UNIVERSITY CAPITAL
FINANCING PROGRAM ACCOUNT

The conference agreement provides $96,000 for the Historically Black College and University Capital Financing Program Account as proposed by the Senate instead of $196,000 as proposed by the House.

EDUCATION RESEARCH, STATISTICS AND IMPROVEMENT

The conference agreement includes $664,867,000 for Education Research, Statistics and Improvement, instead of the $447,667,000 as proposed by the House and $479,338,000 as proposed in the Senate.

Research

The conference agreement provides $82,567,000 for research, instead of $72,567,000 as proposed by both the House and Senate. Within this amount, the conference agreement includes $10,000,000 for the research institutes to support well-designed, rigorous field studies of the student achievement effects of various comprehensive school reform models, and design competition(s) for the development of new models for comprehensive school reform, particularly at the middle and high school levels.

The conference agreement recommends that the Department of Education use the First in the World Consortium as a model to conduct further research on the Consortium's TIMSS data in grades 4, 8 and 12.

Statistics

The conference agreement provides $68,000,000 as proposed by the House, instead of $59,000,000 proposed by the Senate.

Regional Education Laboratories

The conference agreement includes $61,000,000 for the regional education laboratories, instead of $56,000,000 as proposed in both the House and Senate bills. The conference agreement provides that $5,000,000 of this amount shall be used to strengthen and expand the capacity of the laboratories to provide technical assistance to states, school districts and schools on implementing comprehensive school reform. Such assistance shall include a focus on helping school districts develop strategies to remove institutional barriers to school-wide reform, reallocate and coordinate resources to support comprehensive school reform, and share "lessons learned" among districts. Further, the conference agreement provides that the regional laboratory governing boards set the research and development priorities to guide the work funded and the funds be obligated and distributed in accordance with the fiscal year 1998 allocations by December 1, 1998.

Fund for the Improvement of Education

For the fund for the improvement of education (FIE), the conference agreement provides $147,000,000 instead of the $90,000,000 as proposed by the House and $115,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

Within the funds provided, the conference agreement includes $15,000,000 to improve the national dissemination of information on comprehensive school reform, including the establishment of a national clearinghouse, and to ensure that all schools, particularly rural schools, can effectively implement the comprehensive school reform approach of their choice. Of this amount, not less than $12,000,000 shall be used to expand the supply of high quality technical assistance providers through a variety of mechanisms that may include forming partnerships with states, regional service centers, regional education laboratories and consortia of local educational agencies; providing matching funds to technical assistance providers to enable them to serve more schools; and using technology or distance learning approaches to reach rural schools. The conference agreement also provides $25,000,000 for continuation grants for schools in their second year of implementing comprehensive school reform.

The conference agreement includes $2,000,000 for a demonstration of full-service community school sites in Charles County, Maryland, Westchester County, New York, Cranston, Rhode Island, and Skagit County, Washington.

The conference agreement also includes $2,000,000 for the First Book program that makes new books available to local literacy programs and $1,750,000 for the Whitaker Center for Science and the Arts in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania to be used for the teaching of science through the arts.

The agreement also includes $350,000 to be awarded to the University of Montana and the Montana Board of Crime Control for community-based initiatives to promote non-violent behavior in schools. Also included is $1,000,000 for NetDay, to assist in connecting K-12 classrooms to the internet and $1,000,000 for the National Museum of Women in the Arts.

The agreement also includes $1,000,000 for Youth Friends of Kansas City to improve attendance and academic performance, $750,000 for the Thornberry Center for Youth and Families in Kansas City, MO to assist at-risk children and $400,000 for the Bay Shore, New York Literacy Education and Assessment Partnerships.

The agreement also includes $1,150,000 to provide technology assistance for the operation of a math/science learning center in Perry County, Kentucky and $1,000,000 for the Hechkscher Museum of Art, Long Island, New York for incorporating arts into education.

The agreement also includes $1,200,000 for a demonstration project to improve learning among students at all levels of education at the Southeastern Pennsylvania Consortium of Higher Education.

The agreement also includes $1,000,000 for the Dowling College Global Learning Center at the former LaSalle Academy for a master teacher training and education center to improve teacher capabilities in applying technology.

The agreement also includes $100,000 for state-of-the-art library materials and equipment that focus on innovative approaches to learning at the Presidio School District in Texas.

Within FIE, the agreement specifically endorses the language contained in the House Report (105-635) relating to the Jump Start program and the Model Youth program and has provided $225,000 for the National Student and Parent Mock Elections.

The conference agreement supports school-based, physician led health education programs as well as a maritime history training project.

The conference agreement also encourages the extension of the Mentoring for School-Age children study. The conference agreement also supports the expanding of the National Crime Prevention Council's violence prevention program in schools and communities.

The conference agreement sets aside $16,000,000 for a broad based competition on innovative programs in education. In administering this competition, the conference agreement contemplates that the Department of Education will provide full and fair consideration, consistent with current practices and policies to applications submitted by the institutions identified in the House Report (105-635) and the Senate Report (105-300). In addition the conference agreement contemplates that similar consideration will be given to applications submitted by the following institutions:

The conference agreement urges the Department to provide $250,000 for a community center program that offers various on-site services, including educational tutoring and parental outreach, consistent with underlying statutes. Yolo and Solano Counties in California would be especially suited for such a program and should be given full and fair consideration for an award.

The conference agreement encourages the Department to provide $600,000 for a program that integrates standards, curricula and assessment development, consistent with underlying statutes. United Teachers-Los Angeles Academy for Integrating Standards, Curricula and Assessments would be especially suited for such a program and should be given full and fair consideration for an award.

The conference agreement encourages the Department to provide $1,000,000 for a pilot program for at-risk and economically disadvantaged youth, consistent with underlying statutes. "An Achievable Dream" project in Newport News, Virginia would be especially suited for such a program and should be given full and fair consideration for an award.

The conference agreement encourages the Department to support a non-profit organization with a proven track record as an authority in quality teacher training programs to undertake a comprehensive review of research-based educational programs. The purpose of the review is to identify, assess, synthesize and catalogue educational tools and strategies that have been proven effective through research at teaching students with learning deficits.

Within the funds provided for FIE, there is included $10,000,000 for continuing a demonstration of public school facilities repair and construction administered by the Iowa Department of Education and $10,000,000 for the District of Columbia Public Schools education reform initiative.

International Education

The conference agreement includes $7,000,000 the same as the Senate bill, rather than $5,000,000 included in the House bill. Included within this amount is $1,000,000 to implement cooperative education programs in both the Republic of Ireland and Northern Ireland and $500,000 to increase support for activities in Bosnia-Herzegovina.

Civics Education

For Civics Education, the agreement provides $7,500,000 the same level as in the Senate, rather than the $6,300,000 included in the House bill. The conference agreement concurs with the Senate report language which includes $1,000,000 for a new violence prevention initiative.

Within the amounts provided, the conference agreement includes $50,000 for a feasibility study and initial planning and design by the Center for Educational Technologies of an effective CD ROM product that would enliven the U.S. Constitution and bring knowledge of that esteemed document to the young people of the nation. Such a product should be unique and not duplicative, and should complement the book "We the People: The Citizen and the Constitution" which has been authorized by Congress and produced by the Center for Civic Education.

21st Century Learning Centers

The conference agreement includes $200,000,000 for the 21st Century Learning Centers, compared to $60,000,000 in the House bill and $75,000,000 in the Senate bill. The conference agreement is based on the understanding that the Department received applications in fiscal year 1998 far in excess of available funds. Additional funds have been provided to establish new after school learning centers in approximately 1,600 schools. The conference agreement contemplates that these funds will be targeted to high-need rural communities, urban communities and small cities that have low achieving students and lack resources to establish after school centers to ensure the greatest benefit from this federal investment. The conference agreement contemplates that communities with high rates of juvenile crime, school violence, and student drug abuse should also receive a priority for funding. Further, the Secretary is encouraged to consider applications that involve community-based partnerships with business and other agencies that can collaborate to meet the needs of students and other community members.

The conference agreement contemplates that the Secretary will, to the extent practicable, assure that these districts have available to them the technical and other assistance needed to prepare competitive applications. For those that receive grants, the agreement also contemplates that support from the broad array of assistance and information resources will be made available to assure the successful implementation of the after school centers program at the local level.

The conference agreement contemplates that federal funds should be expended for after school programs that are aligned with state and local academic standards, document student progress and utilize trained instructors.

The conference agreement includes $500,000 to provide 3 years of support for the Chippewa Falls Area Unified School System, Wisconsin after school program, $400,000 to provide 3 years of support for the Wausau School System, Wisconsin after school program; $350,000 for the New Rochelle School System after school program; $100,000 for the New York Hall of Science, Queens, New York, after school program; $300,000 for the Bay Shore Community Learning Wellness and Fitness Center for Drug Free Lifestyles in Bay Shore, New York; $400,000 for the Green Bay Public School System, Wisconsin after school program; $2,500,000 for an after school anti-drug pilot program in the Chicago Public Schools; $25,000 for the Louisville Central Community Centers Youth Education Program to support after-school programming; and $25,000 for Canaan's Community Development Corporation in Louisville, Kentucky for the Village Learning Center after school program.

DEPARTMENTAL MANAGEMENT

The conference agreement includes $459,242,000 for Departmental Management, instead of the $453,742,000 as proposed by the House and $456,742,000 as proposed by the Senate. Within this amount, the agreement provides $66,000,000 for the Office of Civil Rights and $31,242,000 for the Office of Inspector General.

The conference agreement recognizes that Public Service Recognition Week has educated America as to the value of the career workforce that carries out the day-to-day operations of government. This program, which has existed for over ten years, plays an important role in educating our nation's youth and providing them with timely information about their government. The agreement contemplates that the Secretary will support the elementary and secondary education projects of Public Service Recognition Week.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

VOLUNTARY NATIONAL TESTS

The conference agreement includes a provision not contained in either the House or the Senate bills. The House bill prohibited the development, planning, implementation (including pilot testing or field testing) or administration of any national test without specific and explicit statutory authority.

The Senate bill prohibited field testing, implementation and administration of national tests, but would allow pilot testing to go forward in FY 1999. The Senate bill also continued to grant authority to the National Assessment Governing Board (NAGB), as opposed to the Department of Education, to oversee limited test development activities.

The conference agreement permits the National Assessment Governing Board to proceed with very limited test development activities, but specifically prohibits any pilot testing, field testing, administration or distribution of individualized national tests that are not specifically and explicitly provided for in authorizing legislation enacted into law. At the present time, there is no specific and explicit authority in Federal law for individualized national tests.

From the initial announcement of the proposed voluntary national tests until the present, there has been no clear articulation of the purpose of the proposed voluntary national tests. The conference agreement requires NAGB to determine and clearly articulate the purpose and intended use of the proposed national tests, and to report to Congress and the White House no later than September 30, 1999.

Further, the conference agreement requires NAGB to determine and report to Congress and the White House no later than September 30, 1999 on the meaning of the word "voluntary" in the context of proposed national tests.

Response to National Academy of Sciences (NAS) Report "Grading the Nation's Report Card: Evaluating NAEP and Transforming the Assessment of Educational Progress"

On September 24, 1998, the National Academy of Sciences released a report entitled "Grading the Nation's Report Card: Evaluating NAEP and Transforming the Assessment of Educational Progress." The report, conducted under the authority of section 411(f) of the National Education Statistics Act, concluded, in part, that the NAEP achievement level-setting procedures remain fundamentally flawed. Because the achievement levels for the proposed national tests are to be modeled upon the NAEP achievement levels, the report's findings have direct implications for national tests.

The conference agreement requires NAGB to develop and submit to Congress and the White House a report which responds to the findings of the NAS on this matter. NAGB shall report to Congress and the White House no later than September 30, 1999.

National Academy of Sciences (NAS) Technical Feasibility Study

The conference agreement authorizes the NAS to conduct a study of the technical feasibility, validity, and reliability of imbedding test items from NAEP or other tests in state and district assessments in fourth grade reading and eighth grade mathematics.

The conference agreement recognizes that including items from one test in another test for the purpose of providing a common measure of individual student performance is, effectively, a form of linking. Therefore, NAS should issue a report not only on the practicality, but also the validity and reliability of interpretations based upon reported scores from the inclusion of test items from NAEP or other tests in state and district assessments.

In looking at the validity and reliability of imbedding test items and the reporting of test results on such items, the NAS should determine whether linking state and district assessments to the NAEP or another national performance standard or scale through the method of imbedded items will result in valid measures of student achievement within states and districts, and in terms of national performance standards or scales.

Further, NAS should consider the issues presented in its report to Congress dated September 3, 1998 and entitled "Uncommon Measures: Equivalence and Linkage Among Educational Tests," and those issues raised by the General Accounting Office report "Student Testing: Issues Related to Voluntary National Mathematics and Reading Tests" dated June 1998. The NAS study should take into consideration the validity and reliability of content and standards-based score descriptions of different measurements, comparison of a matrix-sample test to an individual student achievement test, differences in test purposes, stakes and motivation, and the stability of results over time.

The NAS informal progress report (due no later than June 30, 1999), the NAS final report (due no later than September 30, 1999), and the Administration's views on national testing will be considered during the authorization process of the National Assessment of Educational Progress and the Elementary and Secondary Education Act in the 106th Congress.

STATE FUNDS FOR INNOVATIVE PROGRAMS

The conference agreement deletes a House provision that would have allowed States to use funds under the Goals 2000 and the Eisenhower professional development programs for activities under title VI of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965.

INDIVIDUALS WITH DISABILITIES EDUCATION ACT

The House bill included language amending the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) to give local educational agencies (LEAs) flexibility to move a child with a disability to an alternative educational setting in situations where a child exhibits intentional violent behavior. The conference agreement deletes the House provision. The Senate had no similar provision.

In order to gain a greater understanding of the difficulties associated with disciplining violent, disabled children, the conference agreement recommends that a General Accounting Office (GAO) study be conducted. The purpose of the study is to determine how IDEA affects the ability of LEAs to maintain safe school environments conducive to learning. The study should address the following issues: 1.) Whether students with disabilities who exhibit violent behavior, carry weapons, and knowingly possess or use illegal drugs or sell or solicit the sale of a controlled substance while at school or at a school function are being disciplined differently than children without disabilities. 2.) The extent to which IDEA affects the ability of LEAs to properly discipline students who exhibit violent behavior, carry weapons, and knowingly possess or use illegal drugs or sell or solicit the sale of a controlled substance while at school or at a school function. 3.) The impact of incidents of serious misconduct committed by children with disabilities in elementary and secondary schools on schools, students, parents, and teachers.

4.) The situations in which LEAs believe they are unable to provide for a safe and orderly environment because of IDEA requirements. GAO is to submit an interim report to the Chairman and ranking member of the House and Senate Appropriations Committees no later than March 1, 1999. The study is to be submitted to the Chairman and ranking member of the House and Senate Appropriations Committees no later than July 30, 1999.

There is grave concern that the Department of Education has not published regulations on the Individuals with Disabilities Act Amendments of 1997. The Secretary of Education shall promulgate, in final form, regulations to implement the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act Amendments of 1997 not later than December 1, 1998.

INDIVIDUALS WITH DISABILITIES EDUCATION ACT

The conference agreement deletes a House provision that would have clarified penalties for States that fail to serve adult prisoners under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act. The Senate had no similar provision.

BILINGUAL EDUCATION

The conference agreement deletes a House provision that would have removed the 25 percent cap on special alternative instruction projects, limited student participation in federally-funded bilingual education programs to two years with two additional one-year extensions and required the Secretary to give priority for funding multi-year grants to proposals focusing on the most rapid transition to English. The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

TITLE IV—RELATED AGENCIES

ARMED FORCES RETIREMENT HOME

The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the Senate which permits the Armed Forces Retirement Home to contract for planned renovation activities specified in the budget request. The conference agreement also includes a provision proposed by the Senate which would permit construction and renovation funds to remain available until expended.

CORPORATION FOR NATIONAL AND COMMUNITY SERVICE

DOMESTIC VOLUNTEER SERVICE PROGRAMS, OPERATING EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides $276,039,000 for the Domestic Volunteer Service programs instead of $275,039,000 as proposed by the Senate and $251,369,000 as proposed by the House. The Corporation for National and Community Service shall comply with the directive that the use of funding increases in Foster Grandparents Program, Retired Senior Volunteer Program and VISTA not be restricted to America Reads activities.

The conference agreement provides $1,080,000 for senior demonstration activities, which may be used for both new and existing demonstration projects. The conference agreement directs that expenditures of all regular FGP, SCP, and RSVP funds for demonstration activities be limited to no more than levels expended in fiscal year 1998 or $1,000,000, whichever is less. None of the increases provided for FGP, SCP, or RSVP in fiscal year 1999 may be used for demonstration activities. The agreement further directs that all future demonstration activities must be funded through allocations made through part E of the Domestic Volunteer Service Act. In addition, the agreement expresses concern over using funds for any demonstration activity which involves paying non-taxable, non-income stipends to people not meeting income guidelines established by Congress.

The conference agreement provides that funds remaining in the Foster Grandparent, Retired and Senior Volunteer and Senior Companion programs above the administrative cost increases of 3 percent shall be used to begin new programs in geographic areas currently unserved.

The conference agreement includes an additional $1,000,000 for program administration above the amount provided in both the House and Senate bills. Recent increases in funding for the VISTA program have resulted in increased workload in state offices. Technological solutions are available which could help alleviate this situation as well as provide significant improvements to the communication among state offices and grantees. The Corporation for National and Community Service shall use this additional $1,000,000 to improve state office program administration throughout the Nation, including improving state office technological support to enhance state office communication with grantees.

Funds appropriated for fiscal year 1999 may not be used to implement or support service collaboration agreements or any other changes in the administration and/or governance of national service programs prior to passage of a bill by the authorizing committees of jurisdiction specifying such changes.

CORPORATION FOR PUBLIC BROADCASTING

The conference agreement includes language proposed by the Senate providing an additional $15,000,000 for digitalization, if specifically authorized by subsequent legislation by September 30, 1999. The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) has mandated that all public television stations be converted from analog to digital transmissions by May 2003. Public broadcasting stations face substantial financial obstacles in meeting this schedule. Digital conversion will cause extreme hardship on small rural stations and the conference agreement encourages that funds provided be targeted to those stations with the most financial need.

FEDERAL MEDIATION AND CONCILIATION SERVICE

The conference agreement includes language proposed by the Senate regarding the authority of the Director to accept and use gifts.

INSTITUTE OF MUSEUM AND LIBRARY SERVICES

The conference agreement provides $166,175,000 for the Institute of Museum and Library Services instead of $146,340,000 as proposed by the House and $156,340,000 as proposed by the Senate. Within this amount, the conference agreement sets aside $25,000,000 for national leadership projects, including $4,000,000 for a broad-based competition on improving the quality of library and museum services. This competition shall be administered in a manner consistent with the requirements applicable in authorizing statutes and the Institute's General Administrative Manual. In administering this competition, the Director shall give full and fair consideration to applications submitted by the institutions identified in the Senate Report (105-300) and in this statement of the managers. The Metropolitan Museum of Art has undertaken an innovative project to record and library digital photographs of a substantial portion of its collection, which is the largest collection in the Western Hemisphere. In order to assist the Museum make its collection available to students and library patrons throughout the Nation, the Director is encouraged to provide $500,000 for this project. In addition, the Director is encouraged to continue a National Leadership grant award to an historic medical library.

The conference agreement includes $10,000,000 for the National Constitution Center for exhibition design, program planning, and operation of the Center to engage all citizens in understanding the Constitution and its history. The conference agreement includes $750,000 for the Digital Geospatial and Numerical Data Library at the University of Idaho. The conference agreement includes $1,250,000 for the Franklin Institute in Philadelphia, PA to maintain and enhance the oldest scientific journal in the United States, to manage an extensive international program and to provide an innovative science education program in the library setting.

The conference agreement also includes $2,000,000 for the New York Public Library to enhance digitization efforts to improve online access to library collections. The conference agreement includes $35,000 for the Children's Museum in Manhattan. The conference agreement includes $300,000 for completing transcription, indexing, cataloging, and microfilming of approximately 1,200 oral history interviews relating to Iowa labor and unions and to process and catalog approximately 800 shelf feet of labor history archival material in order to make the entire collection accessible to researchers and to the public. The conference agreement includes $1,100,000 for the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago, Illinois for a nautical exhibition.

NATIONAL LABOR RELATIONS BOARD

The conference agreement provides $184,451,000 for the National Labor Relations Board as proposed by the Senate instead of $174,661,000 as proposed by the House.

RAILROAD RETIREMENT BOARD

DUAL BENEFITS PAYMENTS ACCOUNT

The conference agreement provides $189,000,000 for dual benefits payments as proposed by the Senate instead of $191,000,000 as proposed by the House.

LIMITATION ON ADMINISTRATION

The conference agreement includes a limitation on transfers from the railroad trust funds of $90,000,000 for administrative expenses as proposed by the Senate instead of $86,000,000 as proposed by the House.

LIMITATION ON THE OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL

The conference agreement includes a limitation on transfers from the railroad trust funds of $5,600,000 for the Office of Inspector General as proposed by the Senate instead of $5,400,000 as proposed by the House. The conference agreement includes a provision by the House prohibiting the use of funds for any audit, investigation or review of the Medicare program. The conference agreement makes this prohibition a permanent change in law.

SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

SUPPLEMENTAL SECURITY INCOME PROGRAM

The conference agreement includes $21,552,000,000 for the Supplemental Security Income Program instead of $21,495,000,000 as proposed by the House and $21,538,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement includes language authorizing the Commissioner of Social Security to use $6,000,000 for Federal-State partnerships to evaluate ways to promote Medicare buy-in programs targeted to elderly and disabled individuals. The conference agreement includes $1,000,000 to be used to conduct policy research to support the goals of the Presidential Task Force on Employment of Adults with Disabilities. In designing and implementing research on the barriers to employment for persons with disabilities, the Social Security Administration shall consult fully with the Presidential Task Force.

LIMITATION ON ADMINISTRATIVE EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes a limitation of $5,996,000,000 on transfers from the Social Security and Medicare trust funds and Supplemental Security Income program for administrative activities instead of $5,949,000,000 as proposed by the House and $5,982,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The Social Security Administration operates a unique cooperative training program with the Association of Administrative Law Judges, Inc., which is recognized by State bar associations for continuing legal education credits. It is believed that this unique program will improve SSA's ability to meet its performance goals and SSA is encouraged to continue and expand its support of this program, including reimbursement of conference registration fees for the Association of Administrative Law Judges, Inc. annual training conference, to increase ALJ participation.

OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL

The conference agreement provides $56,000,000 for the Office of Inspector General through a combination of general revenues and limitations on trust fund transfers as proposed by the House instead of $50,212,000 as proposed by the Senate.

UNITED STATES INSTITUTE OF PEACE

The conference agreement provides $12,160,000 for the United States Institute of Peace instead of $11,160,000 as proposed by the House and $11,495,000 as proposed by the Senate. Funding provided above the President's request level shall be used for the Bosnia initiative described in the Congressional budget justification accompanying the fiscal year 1999 budget request.

TITLE V—GENERAL PROVISIONS

DISTRIBUTION OF STERILE NEEDLES

Both the House and Senate bills contain prohibitions on the use of Federal funds for the distribution of sterile needles for the injection of any illegal drug (section 505). The Senate language allows the Secretary to waive the prohibition to allow a needle exchange program if she determines that such program is effective in preventing the spread of HIV and does not encourage the use of illegal drugs and that the program is operated in accordance with criteria established by the Secretary to ensure those conditions are met. The House bill includes a strict prohibition with no waiver authority. The conference agreement is the same as the House language.

ABORTION RESTRICTION

Both the House and Senate bills contain the Hyde amendment that was revised in the fiscal year 1998 appropriations Act. However, the House bill includes additional clarifying language to ensure that the Hyde amendment applies to all trust fund programs funded in the bill. The conference agreement is the same as the House language.

FUND TRANSFER PROHIBITION

Both the House and Senate bills contain a provision that prohibits transfers of funds from an appropriation account in the Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services and Education except as authorized in this or any subsequent appropriations Act or in the Act establishing the program for which funds are contained in this Act. The conference agreement makes this provision permanent.

TEAMSTERS ELECTION

The conference agreement includes a general provision proposed by the House that prohibits the use of funds in this Act for the election of officers of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters. The Senate bill had no similar provision.

UNOBLIGATED SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes a general provision proposed by the House that would allow salaries and expenses funds in the bill that are unobligated at the end of fiscal year 1999 to remain available for three additional months, provided that the Ap-appropriations Committees are notified before the funds are obligated. The Senate bill had no similar provision.

NATIONAL LABOR RELATIONS ACT

The conference agreement does not include a general provision proposed by the House that would have amended the National Labor Relations Act to require the National Labor Relations Board to adjust its jurisdictional threshold amounts for the inflation that has occurred since the adoption of the current thresholds on August 1, 1959. The Senate bill had no similar provision.

HEALTH IDENTIFIER

The conference agreement includes a general provision proposed by the Senate modified to provide that none of the funds in this Act may be used to adopt a final standard providing for a unique health identifier for an individual until legislation is enacted specifically approving the standard. The House bill had no similar provision.

SALARIES AND EXPENSES REDUCTION

The conference agreement deletes section 515 of the Senate bill that would have reduced salaries and expenses appropriations for all agencies in the bill by a total of $33,000,000 to be allocated by the Office of Management and Budget. The House had no similar provision.

TITLE VI—NATIONAL CENTER FOR COMPLEMENTARY AND ALTERNATIVE MEDICINE

The conference agreement includes a legislative provision proposed by the Senate that amends title IV of the Public Health Service Act to create a national center for complementary and alternative medicine at the National Institutes of Health. The House bill had no similar provision.

TITLE VII—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

CHILD PROTECTION ACT

The conference agreement does not include a new Child Protection Act of 1998 proposed by the House. This would have required any elementary or secondary school or public library that has received any Federal funds for the acquisition or operation of any computer that is accessible to minors and that has access to the Internet to install software on such computer designed to prevent minors from obtaining access to any obscene information using that computer and to ensure that such software is operational whenever that computer is used by minors. The Senate had no similar provision.

PUBLIC BROADCASTING PAY CAP

The conference agreement includes language that was not in either the House or Senate bills that amends title 47 of the U.S. Code to remove the current statutory pay cap for officers and employees of the Public Broadcasting System and National Public Radio and to conform the cap to the limits on compensation set by Congress in 1996 for all other nonprofit organizations.

REFUGEE PROVISION

The conference agreement includes language that was not contained in either the House and Senate bills that amends the Foreign Operations Appropriations Act, 1990 (Public Law 101-167) to extend certain existing adjudication provisions related to qualifying for refugee status once an applicant has proven that he or she is a member of a religious minority group that has historically endured discrimination. This does not determine the number of refugees to be admitted to the United States in a given year. That decision is made separately.

RAILROAD RETIREMENT SPOUSES

The conference agreement includes language that was not contained in either the House or Senate bills that amends the Railroad Retirement Act to restore monthly railroad pension payments to a very small number of surviving divorced spouses of former railroad workers. These divorced widows had their monthly payments mistakenly cut off through an administrative error by the Railroad Retirement Board.

PUERTO RICO CHILDREN'S HEALTH INSURANCE PROGRAM

The conference agreement includes language that was not in either the House or Senate bills that appropriates an additional $32,000,000 for fiscal year 1999 for the Children's Health Insurance Program in Puerto Rico.

STATE CHILDREN'S HEALTH INSURANCE PROGRAM

The conference agreement includes language that was not in either the House or Senate bills that inserts a technical correction to the formula set forth in the Balanced Budget Act of 1997 for the allocation of funds among the States under the State children's health insurance program (SCHIP). This formula relies on the Current Population Survey, in which the data can vary significantly from year to year due to small sample sizes. To prevent wide, unpredictable funding fluctuations in the allocation among the States this year, the same data used to allocate SCHIP funds in FY 1998 will be used again in FY 1999. Each State's share or percentage of the total amount available in FY 1998 will be the same share or percentage of the total amount available in FY 1999 as authorized under Balanced Budget Act.

MEDICAID DSH PAYMENTS

The conference agreement includes language that was not in either the House or Senate bills correcting an error in the Balanced Budget Act of 1997 which displayed incorrect information about the level of Medicaid disproportionate share hospital payments for the States of Minnesota, New Mexico and Wyoming. The bill corrects these errors only for fiscal year 1999. There is no intention to include this correction in future appropriations bills. It is expected that the authorizing committees will enact the correction on a permanent basis.

COMMISSION ON WEAPONS OF MASS DESTRUCTION

The conference agreement includes language that was not in either the House or Senate bills that extends the reporting deadline for the Commission to Assess the Organization of the Federal Government to Combat the Proliferation of Weapons of Mass Destruction, enlarges the membership of the commission and restricts certain activities of the commission.

PACE PROGRAM

The conference agreement includes a provision not contained in either the House or Senate bills which makes a technical correction to title XIX of the Social Security Act.

ACCESS TO OBSTETRICAL AND GYNECOLOGICAL SERVICES

The conference agreement deletes section 701 of the House bill which would have provided that any group health plan or health insurer, including managed care plans, must allow obstetricians and gynecologists to be designated by a female enrollee as her primary care physician. The House provision amended several underlying statutes. The Senate had no similar provision.

CIGARETTE LABELING

The conference agreement deletes section 702 of the House bill which would have required additional warning labels for cigarettes with respect to African-Americans. The House provision amended the Federal Cigarette Labeling and Advertising Act. The Senate had no similar provision.

TITLE VIII—READING EXCELLENCE ACT

The conference agreement includes a new title VIII of the bill which was not included in either the House or Senate bills. This title amends Title II of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (20 U.S.C. 6601 et seq.) to create a two-year competitive grant program to States to assist children having difficulty with reading.

TITLE IX—WOMEN'S HEALTH AND CANCER RIGHTS

The conference agreement includes a provision not contained in either the House or Senate bills which would require health insurers to provide coverage of reconstruction of the breast on which mastectomies have been performed and prostheses and complications of mastectomies including lymphedemas.

SECTION 101(g): DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION AND RELATED AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 1999

The conferees on H.R. 4328 agree with the matter inserted in this subsection of this conference agreement and the following description of this matter. This matter was developed through negotiations on the differences in the House and Senate versions of H.R. 4328, the Department of Transportation and related agencies Appropriations Act, 1999, by members of the appropriations subcommittee of both the House and Senate with jurisdiction over H.R. 4328.

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION AND RELATED AGENCIES

Executive Branch propensities cannot substitute for Congress' own statements concerning the best evidence of Congressional intentions; that is, the official reports of the Congress. Report language included by the House (House Report 105-648) or the Senate (Senate Report 105-249 accompanying the companion measure S. 2307) that is not changed by the conference is approved by the committee of conference. The statement of the managers, while repeating some report language for emphasis, is not intended to negate the language referred to above unless expressly provided herein.

PROGRAM, PROJECT, AND ACTIVITY

During fiscal year 1999, for the purposes of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 (Public Law 99-177), as amended, with respect to funds provided for the Department of Transportation and related agencies, the terms "program, project, and activity" shall mean any item for which a dollar amount is contained in an appropriations Act (including joint resolutions providing continuing appropriations) or accompanying reports of the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations, or accompanying conference reports and joint explanatory statements of the committee of conference. In addition, the reductions made pursuant to any sequestration order to funds appropriated for "Federal Aviation Administration, Facilities and equipment" and for "Coast Guard, Acquisition, construction, and improvements" shall be applied equally to each "budget item" that is listed under said accounts in the budget justifications submitted to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations as modified by subsequent appropriations Acts and accompanying committee reports, conference reports, or joint explanatory statements of the committee of conference. Adjustments to the above allocations may be required due to changing program requirements or priorities. Such adjustments, if required, are expected to be accomplished only through the normal reprogramming process.

STAFFING INCREASES PROVIDED BY CONGRESS

The Department of Transportation is directed to fill expeditiously any positions added in this bill, without regard to agency-specific staffing targets which may have been previously established to meet the mandated government-wide staffing reductions. Staffing reductions have been made in the bill which more than offset staffing increases provided for a small number of specific activities.

TITLE I—DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides a total program level of $60,490,000 for the salaries and expenses of the various offices comprising the Office of the Secretary. The department has indicated that this aggregate funding level shall be sufficient to avoid any personnel reductions in fiscal year 1999. A consolidated appropriations request for these various offices has not been approved, rather individual appropriations have been provided for each of the offices within the Office of the Secretary, as proposed by both the House and the Senate.

The conference agreement includes a provision (sec. 361) which authorizes the Secretary to transfer funds appropriated for any office of the Office of the Secretary to any other office of the Office of the Secretary, provided that no appropriation shall be increased or decreased by more than twelve percent by all such transfers and that any such transfers shall be submitted for approval to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations. None of the funds provided in this Act for any office within the Office of the Secretary shall be available for any new position not specifically requested in the budget and approved by the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations.

IMMEDIATE OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY

The conference agreement provides $1,624,000 for expenses of the Immediate Office of the Secretary, instead of $1,623,800 as proposed by the House and $1,768,600 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement deletes a provision proposed by the Senate that would permit the crediting of up to $1,000,000 in funds received from user fees. The House bill contained no similar provision.

IMMEDIATE OFFICE OF THE DEPUTY SECRETARY

The conference agreement provides $585,000 for expenses of the Immediate Office of the Deputy Secretary as proposed by the House instead of $554,700 as proposed by the Senate.

OFFICE OF THE GENERAL COUNSEL

The conference agreement provides $8,750,000 for expenses of the Office of the General Counsel instead of $8,895,000 as proposed by the House and $8,645,000 as proposed by the Senate.

OFFICE OF THE ASSISTANT SECRETARY FOR POLICY

The conference agreement provides $2,808,000 for expenses of the Office of the Assistant Secretary for Policy instead of $2,667,200 as proposed by the House and $2,479,500 as proposed by the Senate.

The department is encouraged to exercise its authority under the National Service Act to enter into contracts and cooperative agreements with qualified urban youth corps to perform appropriate service projects. The department is further encouraged to report back to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations on its activities in this area in its budget justifications in support of the fiscal year 2000 request.

OFFICE OF THE ASSISTANT SECRETARY FOR AVIATION AND INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS

The conference agreement provides $7,650,300 for expenses of the Office of the Assistant Secretary for Aviation and International Affairs instead of $7,002,200 as proposed by the House and $6,686,300 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement includes a provision that permits the crediting to this appropriation of $1,000,000 received in user fees as proposed by the House. The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

The conference agreement deletes the Senate provision that would prohibit the use of funds to maintain custody of airline tariffs that are already available for public and departmental access at no cost; to secure them against detection, alteration, or tampering; and to open them to inspection by the department. The House bill contained no similar provision.

Aviation competition guidelines.—The department is encouraged to consider a process in which the department, upon receiving a complaint, would consider within a specified time period whether alleged activity should be referred to the Department of Justice or whether it was a permissible competitive activity. Further, the department is encouraged to implement existing laws, regulations and enforcement practices to protect the economy from anti-competitive conduct by the airlines, and to monitor the dynamics of the airline ticketing industry.

OFFICE OF THE ASSISTANT SECRETARY FOR BUDGET AND PROGRAMS

The conference agreement provides $6,349,000 for the Office of the Assistant Secretary for Budget and Programs instead of

OFFICE OF THE ASSISTANT SECRETARY FOR GOVERNMENTAL AFFAIRS

The conference agreement provides $1,940,600 for expenses of the Office of the Assistant Secretary for Governmental Affairs instead of $1,672,000 as proposed by the House and $1,600,000 as proposed by the Senate.

OFFICE OF THE ASSISTANT SECRETARY FOR ADMINISTRATION

The conference agreement provides $19,721,600 for expenses of the Office of the Assistant Secretary for Administration instead of $19,147,100 as proposed by the House and $19,570,200 as proposed by the Senate. The conferees have deleted funds for the office of acquisition. While the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations once supported the department's intended aggressive initiative to improve acquisition oversight at the departmental level, there is little, if any, value added by limited, informal secretarial reviews.

OFFICE OF PUBLIC AFFAIRS

The conference agreement provides $1,565,500 for expenses of the Office of Public Affairs instead of $1,377,600 as proposed by the House and $1,656,600 as proposed by the Senate.

EXECUTIVE SECRETARIAT

The conference agreement provides $1,046,900 for expenses of the Executive Secretariat as proposed by the House instead of $1,088,500 as proposed by the Senate.

BOARD OF CONTRACT APPEALS

The conference agreement provides $561,100 for expenses of the Board of Contract Appeals instead of $675,500 as proposed by the House and $460,000 as proposed by the Senate.

OFFICE OF SMALL AND DISADVANTAGED BUSINESS UTILIZATION

The conference agreement provides $1,020,400 for expenses of the Office of Small and Disadvantaged Business Utilization instead of $839,200 as proposed by the House and $1,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The department is encouraged to increase opportunities and participation in small, minority, and women-owned businesses in DOT-related procurements.

OFFICE OF INTELLIGENCE AND SECURITY

The conference agreement provides $1,036,100 for expenses of the Office of Intelligence and Security instead of $961,000 as proposed by the House and $935,000 as proposed by the Senate.

OFFICE OF THE CHIEF INFORMATION OFFICER

The conference agreement provides $4,874,600 for expenses of the Office of the Chief Information Officer instead of $4,400,000 as proposed by the House and $4,652,700 as proposed by the Senate.

The position of the chief information officer has been vacant for more than one year and a half and there has not been a permanent incumbent in the position since the office was established. The need for such an office under these circumstances is questionable. Elimination of the office shall be considered in fiscal year 2000 if the position is not filled permanently by May 1, 1999.

OFFICE OF INTERMODALISM

The conference agreement provides $956,900 for expenses of the Office of Intermodalism instead of $1,018,000 as proposed by the House and $1,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

OFFICE OF CIVIL RIGHTS

The conference agreement provides $6,966,000 for expenses of the Office of Civil Rights as proposed by the House instead of $5,562,000 as proposed by the Senate.

TRANSPORTATION PLANNING, RESEARCH, AND DEVELOPMENT

The conference agreement provides $9,000,000 for transportation planning, research, and development instead of $3,035,000 as proposed by the House and $8,328,400 as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement includes funding for the following activities:

1999 Special Olympics World Summer Games planning and assistance	$1,000,000
2001 Special Olympics World Summer Games planning and assistance	900,000
2002 Winter Olympics security and training and assistance	1,000,000
Drexel University intelligent transportation institute	500,000
Freight mobility study, Puget Sound area, Washington	40,000
Flood project alternatives research, I-5, Centralia/Chehalis, Washington	250,000
New Jersey State Police enforcement equipment	1,275,000

The conference agreement also includes funding for a collaboration of industry, education, and government activities to develop a skilled workforce for the transportation industry within the amounts appropriated, provided that total federal government support for this activity not exceed $1,000,000 in total.

The department is encouraged to submit a report by January 1, 1999 to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations detailing how the department could develop a multimedia acoustic noise model that encompasses all transportation related noise sources by incorporating propagation phenomena that affect community noise, such as atmospheric effects.

The department is encouraged to work with the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children and the transportation industry to identify and implement initiatives to increase the involvement of the transportation industry in the effort to locate missing children, and to report to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations no later than March 31, 1999 on the initiatives and actions taken to implement these efforts.

New Jersey State Police video camera equipment.—The conference agreement includes $1,275,000 to enable the Secretary to make a grant to the New Jersey State Police for the procurement of video camera equipment for police vehicles. Such equipment shall be used for law enforcement purposes including the prosecution of drunk drivers.

TRANSPORTATION ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICE CENTER

The conference agreement includes a limitation on activities financed through the transportation administrative service center at $124,124,000 instead of $109,124,000 as proposed by the House and $158,468,000 as proposed by the Senate. Language is included in the conference agreement that stipulates that the limitation shall not apply to non-DOT entities and that services provided by the transportation administrative service center to entities within the department shall be provided on a competitive basis. In addition, the conference agreement includes two language provisions, as proposed by both the House and Senate. The first provision limits activities transferred to the transportation administrative service center to only those approved by the agency modal administrator; the second limits special assessments or reimbursable agreements levied against those assessments or reimbursable agreements presented to and approved by the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations. Lastly, the conference agreement includes a provision that exempts from the obligation limitation departmental activities related to Year 2000 conversion activities.

The department shall submit with the annual department's Congressional budget submission an approved annual operating plan of the transportation administrative service center and provide quarterly reports for the Committees' review. Quarterly reports and approvals of the Secretary's management council shall also be provided to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations in a timely manner.

The transportation administrative service center management is directed to establish a mechanism that ensures that the transportation administrative service center's budget corresponds to the budget of each of the modes responsible for paying transportation administrative service center bills, guaranteeing that transportation administrative service center charges to the modes are reduced to correspond to Congressional reductions.

Transportation computer center.—The conference agreement restores funding necessary to continue operations of the transportation computer center (TCC) within the transportation administrative service center in fiscal year 1999. The House had proposed to eliminate the transportation computer center based upon findings of the Inspector General. The Inspector General's report, upon which the House based its recommendations, may have been based on an out-dated independent analysis of the TCC's utility and cost-effectiveness. In restoring the reduction proposed by the House, the director of the transportation administrative service center is directed to contract out for an independent analysis to determine whether the transportation computer center is currently capable of operating at levels that OMB considers cost-effective. In addition, the Inspector General is directed to review the center's cost effectiveness, utility and value added to the department, as well as to provide an assessment of departmental users that have indicated an interest in obtaining data processing services elsewhere. Both the independent analysis and the Inspector General's updated audit shall be provided to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations by March 1, 1999.

National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's Office of Aeronautical Charting and Cartography.—The conference agreement disallows the proposed transfer of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's Office of Aeronautical Charting and Cartography to the transportation administrative service center, as proposed by the House. The conference agreement provides funding for this activity within the Federal Aviation Administration.

MINORITY BUSINESS RESOURCE CENTER

The conference agreement includes a limitation on direct loans of $13,775,000 and provides subsidy and administrative costs totaling $1,900,000, as proposed by both the House and the Senate.

MINORITY BUSINESS OUTREACH

The conference agreement provides $2,900,000 for minority business outreach activities, as proposed by both the House and the Senate.

AMTRAK REFORM COUNCIL

The conference agreement deletes an appropriation of $450,000 for the Amtrak Reform Council proposed by both the House and the Senate. The conferees have agreed to provide an appropriation of $450,000 directly to the Amtrak Reform Council in section 349 of this Act.

COAST GUARD

OPERATING EXPENSES

(INCLUDING TRANSFERS OF FUNDS)

The conference agreement provides $2,700,000,000 for Coast Guard operating expenses as proposed by the House instead of $2,761,603,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement assumes that an additional $71,705,000 will be provided for fiscal year 1999 in order to improve the Coast Guard's readiness posture. The agreement specifies that $300,000,000 of the total is available only for "defense-related" activities, as proposed by the House. The Senate proposed a similar amount for "national security" activities. The agreement accepts the House and Senate language regarding new user fees, and deletes Senate language allocating funds for enhanced counter-drug operations around Hispaniola.

Caribbean support tender.—The conference agreement deletes House language allocating funds for a Caribbean support tender.

Flexibility provision.—The agreement modifies the Senate proposal to allow the transfer of funding from FAA's operating account to augment Coast Guard drug interdiction operations. The agreement allows the transfer of up to $71,705,000 instead of $60,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. This is the difference between the level contained in this bill and the President's budget request.

The following table compares the House and Senate bills and the conference agreement for items in conference:

Nationwide ballast water management program.—The conferees agree that the Coast Guard should allocate not less than $3,000,000 to the nationwide ballast water management program.

Concord, CA marine safety detachment.—The conference agreement accepts the House's concern about the Coast Guard's planned closure of the marine safety detachment in Concord, California and its impact on the protection of the local marine environment from significant oil and chemical traffic and on timely and efficient response to oil and chemical accidents in the sensitive and busy waterways of the Carquinez Strait and other Bay and Delta waterways. The conference agreement agrees with the House's direction that the Coast Guard shall not obligate any funds to begin the closure or termination of this unit until: (1) the Coast Guard enters into discussions with Contra Costa County officials concerning the impact of the closure; (2) the Coast Guard submits a report to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations that explains how the Coast Guard will assure the timely and efficient response to oil and chemical accidents in the area and continue to perform other critical oversight functions concerning oil and chemical traffic in these waterways; and (3) the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations have had thirty legislative days to review the Coast Guard report.

Nationwide differential global positioning system.—Within the "Acquisition, construction, and improvements" account, the conferees have provided $7,500,000 for differential global positioning system (DGPS) equipment, of which $5,500,000 is for electronic equipment costs, site preparation and construction work, and installation of conversion software at Air Force ground wave emergency network transmitter sites throughout the continental United States under the nationwide DGPS program. The conference agreement directs that, of funds made available under Coast Guard "Operating expenses", sufficient operating funds be made available to support this NDGPS activity. The agreement notes that, in the future, these sites may be operated by other DOT personnel through a memorandum of agreement between the Coast Guard and the Federal Railroad Administration or the Federal Highway Administration.

Distribution of funds.—The conferees do not agree with the House proposal to reduce funds for polar icebreaking and fisheries enforcement missions in order to finance additional drug interdiction activities. After development of the House bill, the Coast Guard raised its estimated fiscal year 1999 funding for drug interdiction activities from $372,000,000 to $440,000,000—an increase of $68,000,000 (18 percent) since submission of the President's budget. The Coast Guard believes this increased level can be accomplished without lowering performance in other mission areas. With this development, the conferees agree that it is no longer necessary to reallocate funding from other missions.

Channel marking, Timbalier and Terrebonne Bays, LA.—The conferees direct the Coast Guard to provide adequate navigational markings in the east-west channel from the Houma Navigational Canal to the Havoline Canal in the vicinity of Timbalier and Terrebonne bays, Louisiana to ensure the safe and efficient navigation of maritime vessels. The conferees understand that the existing buoy and lights placed by the Coast Guard in this channel are insufficient. In addition, the conferees expect the Coast Guard to work with the Army Corps of Engineers to address the feasibility of upgrading the channel over the long term.

Container inspection program.—The DOT Inspector General recently reported that the Coast Guard container inspection program was failing to uniformly and aggressively utilize its own targeting system to prioritize and select hazardous material containers for inspection. The IG audit of ten shipping terminals found that fully 68 percent of the containers selected for inspection would have been identified as low risk under the Coast Guard targeting system and should not have been chosen for inspection. Indeed, the audit revealed that Coast Guard inspectors regularly used alternative methods that did not identify containers posing the highest risks to human life, the safety of port areas, or the environment. The conferees are concerned that the Coast Guard's failure to abide by its own targeting criteria has undermined the effectiveness of the container inspection program and potentially compromised the safety of U.S. ports. Accordingly, the conferees concur in the directive of the Senate Committee regarding staffing of the container inspection program and expect this action will serve to rejuvenate this program. Toward that end, the conferees direct the Commandant to submit a report to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations detailing the measures he has taken to address the deficiencies cited in the IG audit. This report shall also identify the location and rank of each Coast Guard container inspector.

Military health care.—The conferees are concerned about the structure of the current health care delivery system for service personnel and their dependents in remote or isolated communities with higher than average health care costs. The Coast Guard should explore additional means of assuring that health care services are accessible for Coast Guard personnel and their dependents at an out-of-pocket cost not substantially in excess of that paid by Coast Guard personnel and their dependents stationed in larger communities which have health care costs closer to system-wide average medical costs.

Seasonal search and rescue facility, Southern Lake Michigan.—The conference agreement directs the Commandant to establish an additional seasonal search and rescue facility on Southern Lake Michigan, to better serve the Chicago metropolitan area and the surrounding environment. The conferees understand that this will require the Coast Guard to make arrangements to acquire, refurbish, or otherwise obtain additional helicopter assets for this purpose. The conferees understand that the Coast Guard has two damaged HH-65 helicopters which could potentially be refurbished to serve this mission. The conference agreement directs the Coast Guard not to close or downsize any other facility to accommodate this additional seasonal capability. The Coast Guard is further directed to study Illinois sites in the Chicago metropolitan area, including Waukegan, Illinois, and to submit a report to the Congress recommending a site from within these options before proceeding.

Reductions.—While some of the reductions in this bill are due largely to budget constraints, others are due to programmatic objections to the levels of funding proposed by the Coast Guard for specific activities. This bill assumes that additional funding for Coast Guard operations will be provided for fiscal year 1999. None of these additional funds may be used to augment funding in this bill for the following items which are being reduced in this conference report:

Activity	Reduction
Eliminate new officer billets	-$5,736,000
Non-operational travel	-2,500,000

ACQUISITION, CONSTRUCTION, AND IMPROVEMENTS

The conference agreement includes $395,465,000 for acquisition, construction, and improvement programs of the Coast Guard instead of $389,000,000 proposed by the House and $426,173,000 proposed by the Senate. Consistent with past years and the House and Senate bills, the conference agreement distributes funds in the bill by budget activity.

The bill assumes offsetting collections of $1,000,000 from sale or lease of real property as proposed by the Senate instead of $3,000,000 as proposed by the House.

The bill includes the provision proposed by the Senate which authorizes the Secretary to enter into a long-term agreement with the City of Homer, Alaska for dedicated pier space on the municipal dock for Coast Guard vessels.

Roles and missions study.—The conferees agree to allow funding for the operation of an advisory council on Coast Guard roles and missions in fiscal year 1999, but direct that those obligations be limited to not more than $1,000,000. The House bill provided a like amount for a blue-ribbon panel; the Senate bill deferred funding for any such panel until a future fiscal year. The conferees are concerned about the long-term affordability of recapitalizing the Coast Guard, given the current and projected budget environment and the current array of Coast Guard missions. The administration's proposal to finance a portion of those capital improvements with specific user fees this year was strongly denied by both the House and Senate. This roles and missions process should not be used to delay the deepwater capability replacement program, which is only in the concept exploration and design phase.

A table showing the distribution of this appropriation by project as included in the fiscal year 1999 budget estimate, House bill, Senate bill, and the conference agreement follows:

Seagoing buoy tender.—The conference agreement provides $72,600,000 for construction of two new seagoing buoy tenders (WLBs) and standardization of prior vessels, which includes a reduction of $1,000,000 in Coast Guard administrative costs. The WLB program has been subject to vasculating vessel cost. Therefore, the Coast Guard is directed to aggressively manage this program to take full advantage of the new procurement award. The conferees anticipate that, due to the maturity of the program, there should be few—if any—change orders for the balance of the vessel procurement.

Group/Station New Orleans.—The conferees agree to provide $4,000,000 for this project, as proposed by the House. Of these funds, the conferees direct that $2,500,000 is only to improve the condition of the waterway adjoining the relocation site.

Mackinaw replacement program.—The conferees agree that the Congressionally directed study on this program is to be submitted by January 1, 1999, as proposed by the House.

ENVIRONMENTAL COMPLIANCE AND RESTORATION

The conference agreement includes $21,000,000 for environmental compliance, as proposed by both the House and the Senate.

ALTERATION OF BRIDGES

The conference agreement includes $14,000,000 for alteration of bridges instead of $12,000,000 proposed by the House and $20,000,000 proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement distributes these funds as follows:

Bridge and location:

	Conference agreement
New Orleans, LA, Florida Avenue RR/HW Bridge	$7,000,000
Brunswick, GA, Sidney Lanier HW Bridge	5,000,000
Charleston, SC, Limehouse Bridge	1,000,000
Boston, MA, Chelsea Street Bridge	1,000,000
Total	14,000,000

Florida Avenue Bridge.—The conferees agree to provide $7,000,000 for this project, and direct that $300,000 of this funding shall be made available to the Port of New Orleans to cover the federal portion of a study of the feasibility of development of the Millennium Port in south Louisiana.

RETIRED PAY

The conference agreement includes $684,000,000 for Coast Guard retired pay, as recommended by both the House and the Senate.

RESERVE TRAINING

(INCLUDING TRANSFER OF FUNDS)

The conference agreement provides $69,000,000 for reserve training as proposed by the House instead of $67,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. The agreement also includes a provision restricting the assessment of direct charges on the reserves, as proposed by the House.

RESEARCH, DEVELOPMENT, TEST, AND EVALUATION

The conference agreement provides $12,000,000 for Coast Guard research, development, test, and evaluation as proposed by the House instead of $17,461,000 as proposed by the Senate. The agreement includes language proposed by the House stipulating that funds received from non-federal sources may be credited to "and used for the purposes of" this appropriation. The conference agreement assumes that an additional $5,000,000 will be provided for fiscal year 1999.

FEDERAL AVIATION ADMINISTRATION

OPERATIONS

The conference agreement provides $5,562,558,000 for operating expenses of the Federal Aviation Administration instead of $5,532,558,000 as proposed by the House and $5,538,259,000 as proposed by the Senate. These funds are in addition to amounts made available as a mandatory appropriation of user fees in the Federal Aviation Administration Reauthorization Act of 1996 (Public Law 104-264). However, due to agency delays in addressing legal concerns over the proposed fees, the FAA is not expected to realize any income from this source during fiscal year 1999. Of the total amount provided, $4,112,174,000 is to be derived from the airport and airway trust fund.

Contract tower cost-sharing program.—The conferees agree to the proposal of the Senate which allocates $6,000,000 for the contract tower cost-sharing program.

Transportation administrative service center limitation.—The conference agreement includes the limit of $28,600,000 on FAA's fiscal year 1999 contribution to the transportation administrative service center (TASC) proposed by the House.

Multiyear leases.—The conference agreement includes, with modification, a provision proposed by the House which provides certain restrictions on multiyear leases signed by the FAA. The final bill restricts funds for leases five years or longer in term; the House bill had proposed such restrictions on leases three years or longer.

Contribution to essential air service program.—The conference agreement deletes language proposed by the House which would have prohibited the FAA from transferring funds to the essential air service (EAS) and rural airport program from the agency's operating account in the event of a shortfall in overflight user fee collections. Current law stipulates that the FAA must pay these costs if a shortfall in collections would cause funding to drop below $50,000,000 for the EAS program.

Satellite leases.—The conference agreement includes language proposed by the House requiring a certification from the FAA Administrator before signing a lease for satellite services for the wide area augmentation system.

The following table compares the conference agreement to the levels proposed in the House and Senate bills by budget activity:

Aircraft firefighting training.—The conferees do not agree with Senate direction allocating $1,500,000 for aircraft firefighting training at the Rocky Mountain Emergency Services Training Center.

Technical noise assistance.—The conference agreement directs that the $100,000 provided to a local citizens group to retain the services of a technical expert in order to facilitate the involvement of local citizens during the FAA's airspace redesign effort shall go to the New Jersey Citizens for Environmental Research.

Contract tower program.—The conferees do not agree with Senate direction requiring the establishment of an air traffic control tower in Salisbury, Maryland. However, it is the conferees' understanding that the contract towers listed in the Senate report, including Salisbury, Maryland, are eligible for the existing contract tower program or for the new cost-sharing element of this program and should receive consideration for funding. In addition, the conferees understand that Phoenix Goodyear Airport in Arizona, Waukesha County Airport in Wisconsin, and Sugarland Airport in Texas are eligible for these programs and should also receive consideration for funding.

The conferees note that the FAA contract tower program was recently validated by the DOT Inspector General as a cost-effective way to enhance aviation safety. The conferees direct the FAA to fully fund the base contract tower program at the level requested. Furthermore, the FAA is directed to conduct a study of extending the contract tower program to existing air traffic control towers without radar capability. The study should identify potential cost savings and other benefits, including the positive impact on controller staffing at busier FAA air traffic facilities. The FAA Administrator should provide this study to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations within 90 days after enactment of this Act. This study should include a plan and timeline for expanding the contract tower program to these facilities by the year 2000.

Air traffic controller training.—The conference agreement includes $40,438,000 for air traffic controller training, including $15,500,000 for the controller training contract and $24,938,000 for technical training at the FAA Academy in Oklahoma. The FAA is directed not to reprogram any of these funds without prior Congressional approval.

Airspace redesign.—The conference agreement includes $3,000,000 specifically for the redesign of the New York/New Jersey metropolitan airspace. The agreement also concurs in the directive of the Senate concerning quarterly reports on initiatives to minimize delays at Newark International Airport.

Fort Sill/Lawton, OK air traffic control tower.—The conferees note that the Army has announced its intention to discontinue operation of the Fort Sill ARAC at Henry Post Army Airfield in Lawton, Oklahoma. Funding is provided within the recommended level to continue the operation of the Fort Sill ARAC until such time as the staff study to determine the most cost-effective method of continuing air traffic services is concluded. The Administrator should consult with the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations on alternatives for continuing the necessary air traffic services provided by the Fort Sill ARAC before implementing any modifications to the current operations.

Secret Service.—The conferees reiterate the concern expressed in the Senate report about the relative treatment of Secret Service agents in the pending policy guidelines regarding the authority of law enforcement officials to carry weapons aboard aircraft. Special agents and officers of the Secret Service should be included among those law enforcement officers with the most unrestricted access within any guidelines in this regard. The FAA has recently indicated that the proposed policy guidelines have been revised consistent with the guidance provided in the Senate report.

MARC.—The conferees direct the FAA to continue the current contractual relationship with the Mid-America Aviation Resource Consortium, as proposed by the House. In addition, funding of $1,700,000 is provided in the bill, as proposed by the House.

University-based center for training.—The conferees do not agree with Senate direction requiring the establishment of a university-based center for training, academics and research.

New York/New Jersey controller pay.—The conference agreement recognizes that an agreement has been reached between the FAA and the National Air Traffic Controllers Association to re-classify the compensation structure for air traffic controllers nationwide. However, the agreement as currently structured will create a pay gap between controllers serving the three major towers in the New York/New Jersey metropolitan region—Newark International Airport, Kennedy Airport, and LaGuardia Airport—and the New York TRACON and the New York en route center. Controllers could rapidly leave the towers seeking higher wages at the TRACON and the center. Indeed, history has shown that such controller migration is a recurring problem in the region. The FAA may not be able to attract and retain the most qualified and seasoned controllers to serve the towers in this busy region. The conference agreement directs the Administrator to submit a report by April 1, 1999, proposing a plan to minimize this pay disparity using financial incentives and other tools as well as exploring other options, including those within the existing pay agreement, to ensure that there will be adequate staffing of well experienced controllers at the towers. In preparing this plan, the Administrator must consult with the air traffic controllers serving the New York/New Jersey metropolitan region.

FACILITIES AND EQUIPMENT

(AIRPORT AND AIRWAY TRUST FUND)

The conference agreement provides $1,900,000,000 for facilities and equipment instead of $2,000,000,000 as proposed by the House and $2,044,683,269 as proposed by the Senate. The bill provides that funds for programs in budget activities one through four have an obligational availability of three years and funds for programs in budget activity five are available for two years, as proposed by the House. The Senate bill made the entire appropriation available for three years. The conference agreement assumes that an additional $100,000,000 will be provided for fiscal year 1999.

Explosive detection systems.—The agreement modifies language proposed by the House prohibiting the obligation of funds for explosive detection systems until thirty days after the FAA Administrator makes certain certifications regarding the use of, and funding for, these systems. The modification covers funds provided in this Act or any other appropriations Act for fiscal year 1999.

Instrument landing system, Louisville Standiford Field.—The agreement deletes language proposed by the House which would have reimbursed the sponsor of Louisville Standiford Field for costs relating to acquisition of an instrument landing system. The conferees understand that FAA has now reimbursed the sponsor out of other available funds.

Outlay cap.—The conference agreement deletes the provisions proposed by the Senate which would have limited outlays under this account during fiscal year 1999, specified penalties for violations of such cap, and required monthly reports on compliance.

Wide area augmentation system.—The conference agreement modifies language proposed by the Senate on the GPS wide area augmentation system (WAAS). The proponents of this system have argued vigorously that restrictions imposed in the Senate bill would cause the termination of this development program—an outcome not desired at this time by either the House or Senate. Therefore, the conference agreement provides total funding of $85,000,000 to continue the WAAS program.

However, those proponents have not been able to provide compelling assurances that this program will be cost-effective beyond the initial phase, which is expected to become operational early next year. The serious and persistent technical concerns expressed in both the House and Senate reports await resolution by the FAA at an unknown cost and in an unknown timeframe. Because of these concerns, and the need to fund other critical FAA programs in the near term, the agreement includes a provision which prohibits the use of funds under the "Next generation navigation systems" program for any WAAS activities beyond phase I. The conferees intend for FAA to take a "time out" at this point to reassess the justification for the program beyond phase one. The FAA has also expressed some interest in taking a "time out" before proceeding to further phases in this program.

FAA has not appropriately or fairly considered all technology combinations for next generation navigation and landing systems. The extant WAAS benefit-cost study assumes costs for competing systems which may no longer be valid, while benefits for WAAS technology may be overstated. Congress will be unable to adequately judge the need for future appropriations for the wide-area and local-area augmentation systems (WAAS and LAAS, respectively) until FAA completes an up-to-date alternatives analysis which looks at various combinations of existing and new, ground-based and satellite-based technologies.

Total	143,240,000	53,072,000	58,566,000	52,566,000

Navigation.—The conference agreement includes $8,995,000 as requested by the administration and $4,000,000 for low-cost, next generation precision gyroscope technology proposed by the Senate.

Aeronautical datalink applications.—The conference agreement provides $39,000,000 for development of aeronautical datalink applications. This includes $23,000,000 as requested by the administration, $11,000,000 for the Capstone Initiative in the State of Alaska, and $5,000,000 for prototype testing and demonstration of automatic dependent surveillance—broadcast (ADS-B) systems involving the use of cargo aircraft in the Ohio Valley.

Host replacement.—The conferees agree to provide $20,000,000 for replacement of the host computer system. The conference agreement assumes that, if necessary, the balance of the $72,000,000 required can be made available by the Office of Management and Budget from emergency supplemental funds for Year 2000 (Y2K) programs. If these funds are not forthcoming from OMB, the conferees expect FAA to submit a reprogramming request for any additional funding needs. Since submission of the budget request in January 1998, the FAA has concluded that the host computer system is no longer expected to be vulnerable to year 2000 problems.

Runway incursion reduction.—The conference agreement provides the $3,168,000 requested by the administration and included in the House bill, instead of $9,168,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conferees are concerned that the FAA move expeditiously to develop and deploy advanced technologies to prevent runway incursions. For this reason, the conferees direct the FAA to give funding priority to advancing runway incursion technologies to the pre-production phase.

Next generation navigation systems.—The conference agreement provides $92,000,000 for next generation navigation systems, which includes $85,000,000 for further development of the GPS wide area augmentation system (WAAS) and $7,000,000 for further development of the LORAN-C navigation system. The FAA is directed not to reprogram any of the LORAN-C funding to the WAAS program. Further discussion of the conference agreement on WAAS is provided in an earlier section of this report.

Next generation landing systems.—The conference agreement provides $34,175,000 for next generation landing systems, to be distributed as follows:

Project	Amount
LAAS research & development	$6,500,000
LAAS telecommunications costs	675,000
Instrument landing systems (ILS)	24,000,000
Transponder landing systems (TLS)	3,000,000
Total	34,175,000

Instrument landing systems.—Funding provided for instrument landing systems (ILS) shall be distributed as follows:

Project	Amount
Installation of previously procured systems	$7,800,000
Fresno, CA: upgrade cat I to cat II	3,000,000
Stanly County, NC: obstruction zone	1,000,000
Everett-Stewart, TN: ILS & DME	200,000
Zanesville, OH: ILS	300,000
March Airfield, CA: upgrade cat I to II	3,700,000
Burlington Alamance, NC	1,750,000
North Las Vegas, NV	500,000

Project	Amount
McCarran International, NV	1,000,000
Bessemer Airport, AL	1,750,000
Clovis Airport, NM	500,000
Olive Branch Airport, MS	1,500,000
Hays Municipal Airport, KS	500,000
Stennis International Airport, MS	500,000
Total	24,000,000

Transponder landing systems.—The conference agreement provides $3,000,000 for transponder landing systems (TLS) as proposed by the Senate instead of $5,000,000 as proposed by the House. The FAA should give priority consideration to those locations cited in the Senate report and also to Central Wisconsin Airport in Mosinee, Wisconsin.

Volcano monitor.—The conferees agree to provide $2,000,000 for this program as proposed by the Senate.

ANICS.—The conference agreement provides $3,500,000 for the ANICS program. The FAA is directed to explore alternative means of providing the phase II capabilities of the ANICS program prior to the obligation of any fiscal year 1999 funding. If more cost effective means of realizing the same capabilities as envisioned in phase II exist, the conferees will consider a reprogramming of the funds. The FAA should report to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations about alternatives to FAA construction and ownership of phase II ANICS facilities by March 31, 1999 and should not obligate any additional funding for phase II prior to consultation with the House and Senate Appropriations Committees after delivering the report.

Terminal air traffic control facilities replacement.—The conference agreement includes $63,625,000 for replacement of air traffic control towers and other terminal facilities. The agreement includes the following adjustments to the budget estimate:

Location	Amount
Port Columbus, OH	+$700,000
LaGuardia, NY	- 10,000,000
Lambert-St. Louis, MO	+1,900,000
Paine Field, WA	+1,000,000
Logan International, MT	+1,000,000
North Las Vegas, NV	+1,000,000

In addition, the agreement deletes $14,275,000 in requested funding for a tower which received a similar amount of funds in fiscal year 1998. These funds are no longer necessary at that location during fiscal year 1999.

The conferees do not agree to Senate language requiring FAA to initiate replacement of the control tower at Martin State Airport in Maryland.

Terminal digital radar.—The conferees do not agree with Senate direction requiring site surveys for the terminal digital radar (ASR-11). Instead, the conferees direct FAA to submit a report to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations no later than January 31, 1999, demonstrating the requirements and benefit-cost ratios for each of the sites listed in the Senate report and proposing a schedule for the site surveys for those sites meeting the benefit-cost threshold.

Advanced surface observing system.—The conference agreement includes $9,900,000 for this program as proposed by the House instead of $20,977,000 as proposed by the Senate. These funds were included in the budget request, and are only for the commissioning of previously-acquired systems, not to acquire new systems.

Visual navigation aids.—The conference agreement includes $2,000,000 for preliminary work necessary for the installation of two localizer directional aids and a precision runway monitor at Newark International Airport, as proposed by the Senate.

Air traffic management.—The conference agreement concurs in the directive of the Senate regarding the installation of the passive final approach spacing tool (FAST) at the New York TRACON.

Aircraft-related equipment.—The conferees are aware that the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) utilizes FAA aircraft in the execution of the FEMA mission. In several instances, the aircraft in the FAA inventory lack landing gear equipment that would allow the aircraft to land at smaller fields. The FAA should report to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations by January 31, 1999 on landing gear and communication systems modifications which would enhance the ability of FAA aircraft to execute FEMA, NASA, and FAA missions.

Explosive detection systems.—The conference agreement includes no funding for explosive detection systems. The House bill contained $100,000,000 to continue this program. The Senate bill deleted funding, but made such programs eligible for grants under the Airport Improvement Program. The Senate received correspondence from the Vice President on September 15, 1998 which stated: “The terrorist attacks against our embassies in Kenya and Tanzania remind us of the global nature of terrorism . . . These events provide strong evidence of the need to recognize aviation security as a national security issue and to provide substantial federal funds for aviation security improvements as a major element of our overall national security counterintelligence policy”. Consistent with this view, the conferees believe these activities are more appropriate to be funded in the diplomatic security supplemental. The conferees assume that $100,000,000 will be provided for airport security systems in that Act.

Y2K computer issues.—The conference agreement provides $25,000,000 for resolution of Year 2000 (Y2K) computer issues, instead of $21,600,000 as proposed by the House and $36,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement also assumes that additional funding will be made available by the Office of Management and Budget from emergency supplemental funding. If those funds are not forthcoming from OMB, the FAA should submit a reprogramming request for any additional required funding.

Personnel and related expenses.—The conference agreement provides $248,000,000, including the transfer of $17,440,000 in acquisition staffing from the “Operations” appropriation as proposed by the House.

RESEARCH, ENGINEERING, AND DEVELOPMENT

(AIRPORT AND AIRWAY TRUST FUND)

The conference agreement provides $150,000,000 for FAA research, engineering, and development instead of $145,000,000 as proposed by the House and $173,627,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The following table shows the distribution of funds in the House and Senate bills and the conference agreement:

Weather research.—The conferees agree to provide $18,684,000 for aviation weather research instead of $15,284,000 as proposed by the House and $19,284,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conferees direct that, of these funds, $9,118,000 is available for the national laboratory program, $3,000,000 is available to continue Project Socrates, and $3,600,000 is to continue the turbulence and windshear research project at Juneau, Alaska. The conferees also agree with the proposal of the House to create a weather research integrated product team under the FAA's communications, navigation, and surveillance organization.

Explosives and weapons detection.—The conference agreement includes $41,700,000 instead of $34,200,000 as proposed by the House and $42,200,000 as proposed by the Senate. Of this amount, $2,500,000 is for development of the pulsed fast neutron analysis (PFNA) cargo inspection system; $4,500,000 is for pulsed fast neutron transmission spectroscopy; and $500,000 is for research and development of explosives and chemical or biological agents currently being conducted by the Institute of Biological Detection Systems.

Human factors research.—The conferees agree with the proposal of the House to allocate $1,000,000 for an agency-wide comprehensive survey of air traffic controller personnel to evaluate the effects of fatigue, and up to $703,000 to continue and expand the work done at the Civil Aeromedical Institute regarding fatigue in the controller workforce.

Aging aircraft.—The conference agreement provides $14,694,000 for this program as proposed by the House instead of $21,540,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conferees do not agree with Senate direction to allocate a specific amount for the engine titanium inspection project, but do agree with the Senate's direction requiring FAA to assess options regarding the replacement or rehabilitation of the existing hanger for the Aging Aircraft Non-destructive Inspection Validation Center.

Blended winglet technology.—The conferees encourage the FAA to support flight testing of winglet technology. Blended winglet technology involves a special series of patented devices called blended winglets and spiroids. These relatively low cost devices can essentially be bolted onto the wingtips. A series of tests using this new type of winglet on two very different airplanes, including the newest large airliner, has shown a substantial gain in cruise and climb performance without adversely affecting controllability. Fuel consumption was also reduced by an average of seven percent during these flight tests. Preliminary tests show that the wake turbulence behind an aircraft may be reduced considerably by blended winglets, perhaps enough to safely reduce the spacing of aircraft. This could lead to significant enhancement in the ability of an airport to handle increased takeoffs and landings. The implications of this technology on system capacity could be considerable. Much more work is needed to evaluate the overall implications of this development.

GRANTS-IN-AID FOR AIRPORTS

(LIQUIDATION OF CONTRACT AUTHORIZATION)

(AIRPORT AND AIRWAY TRUST FUND)

The conference agreement includes a liquidating cash appropriation of $1,600,000,000, as proposed by the House and the Senate.

Obligation limitation.—The conferees agree to an obligation limitation of $1,950,000,000 for the "Grants-in-aid for airports" program instead of $1,800,000,000 as proposed by the House and $2,100,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

Caps on individual formula programs.—The conference agreement deletes the limitations on the noise planning and mitigation program and the military airport program proposed by the Senate. The conferees hope that the current imbalance will be addressed by the legislative committees of jurisdiction in the AIP reauthorization bill.

Discretionary grants award process.—Between November 1997 and May 1998, the General Accounting Office (GAO) issued two reports which raised questions about the project selection process for discretionary highway projects. The conferees direct the GAO to conduct a similar analysis for AIP discretionary grant awards over fiscal years 1996 through 1998, excluding awards made pursuant to letters of intent signed before that timeframe.

Regional airport.—The conference agreement directs the FAA to study the feasibility of establishing a gulf coast regional airport, working with the University of South Alabama for the research, the necessary demographic projections, and an assessment of the economic impact.

Priority consideration.—The conferees agree that the FAA should give priority consideration to grant applications for the projects listed in the House or Senate reports, or in this statement of the managers, in the categories of discretionary grants for which they are eligible. In addition to those airports and projects listed in the House and Senate reports, the conferees agree to the following:

Cleveland Hopkins International Airport, OH.—The conferees do not agree with the House language to give priority consideration for site and engineering studies for a proposed runway expansion at the Cleveland Hopkins International Airport in Ohio. Rather, the conferees agree that priority consideration should be given to a request for discretionary funding for site and engineering studies at this airport.

Greater St. Tammany Regional Airport, LA.—The conferees agree that the FAA should give priority consideration to capital development projects at Greater St. Tammany Regional Airport in Abita Springs, Louisiana.

New Orleans International Airport, LA.—The conferees concur in the House language regarding major capacity enhancement projects and priority consideration to the purchase of property in priority six as part of the noise mitigation buyout program at this airport. The conferees expect the FAA to allow the use, as a first priority, of a navigational easement as a voluntary option to residents as an alternative to soundproofing. The conferees direct that, except for safety reasons, the FAA shall enforce compliance with existing, informal noise policies, to ensure noise abatement over the City of Kenner during late evening and early morning hours.

Letters of intent.—The conferees urge the FAA to award letters of intent for multiyear capital projects at the following airports:

Location: Salt Lake City International, UT; Orlando International, FL; New Orleans International, LA; Southwest Florida International, FL; and Miami International, FL.

Southwest Florida International Airport, FL.—The conferees commend the FAA for initiating funding for the expansion program at Southwest Florida International Airport. The airport continues to exceed all passenger projections and is the third-fastest growing airport in terms of passengers, according to the FAA. The conferees understand that an application for multiyear funding is pending for capital expansion of this airport. The conferees urge the FAA to give priority consideration to awarding a letter of intent for this project.

AVIATION INSURANCE REVOLVING FUND

The conference agreement includes language authorizing the expenditure of funds for aviation insurance activities as proposed in the House and Senate bills. This legislative language has been carried in appropriations Acts for many years, and is expected to result in no budget authority or outlays during fiscal year 1999.

AIRCRAFT PURCHASE LOAN GUARANTEE PROGRAM

The conference agreement prohibits funds in this Act from being used for the Aircraft Purchase Loan Guarantee Program during fiscal year 1999, as proposed by both the House and Senate.

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES FRANCHISE FUND

The conference agreement deletes a limitation proposed by the House which would have terminated operations of FAA's administrative services franchise fund in fiscal year 1999. The conferees will continue to monitor the management of this activity to help achieve cost savings wherever possible.

FEDERAL HIGHWAY ADMINISTRATION

LIMITATION ON GENERAL OPERATING EXPENSES

The conference agreement limits general operating expenses of the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) to $327,413,000, instead of $318,733,000 as proposed by the House and $320,413,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The recommended distribution by program and activity of the funding provided for general operating expenses is as follows:

FHWA administrative expenses (excluding OMC)	$267,038,000
National Parks transportation needs study	2,000,000
Advanced vehicle technology consortia program	5,000,000
Subtotal, FHWA administrative expenses	274,038,000
Motor carrier administrative expenses	53,375,000
Total	327,413,000

Office of Motor Carriers.—Within the funds provided for the administrative expenses of the office of motor carriers, the conference agreement provides $375,000 for Operation Respond. These funds are intended to increase the efficiency of and ensure greater safety for law enforcement officers, firefighters, and emergency medical personnel responding to hazardous materials incidents and passenger rail accidents.

Transportation needs in the national parks.—The conference agreement includes $2,000,000 to carry out section 3039 of the Transportation Equity Act for the 21st Century (TEA21). Within the funds provided, the Secretary is directed to undertake a comprehensive study of alternative transportation needs in the national parks and related public lands managed by federal land management agencies, and to implement activities and contracts associated with the memorandum of understanding between the departments of Interior and Transportation. FHWA and the Federal Transit Administration shall review the transportation alternatives considered by the National Park Service in the Grand Canyon and Yosemite national parks to determine if all necessary and appropriate transportation planning, development, environmental and alternative analyses have been conducted to support the alternatives selected by the National Park Service. The results of the assessment are to be provided to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations by April 1, 1999.

Administrative expenses for the Appalachian Regional Commission.—The conference agreement does not provide additional resources for administrative expenses associated with the Appalachian development highway system program. Should additional funding requirements occur in fiscal year 1999, the FHWA may be permitted to transfer from the FHWA's administrative takedown authorized by section 104(a) of title 23 after justification of those requirements and approval by the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations.

Audit cost reimbursement.—The conference agreement provides $750,000 for Inspector General audit cost reimbursements. These funds are to be transferred from the FHWA's administrative takedown as authorized under section 104(a) of title 23 to the Office of Inspector General.

Advanced vehicle technology consortia program.—The conference agreement includes $5,000,000 for the advanced vehicle technology consortia program. The House bill included an appropriation within the Research and Special Programs Administration. No similar appropriation was included in the Senate bill. These funds shall be available to support a public/private partnership to design, develop, and deploy alternative fuel and propulsion systems focusing on medium and heavy vehicles.

LIMITATION ON TRANSPORTATION RESEARCH

The conference agreement deletes the limitation on transportation research of $409,150,000 proposed by the House. The Senate bill contained no similar limitation under this heading. Funding for transportation research programs and activities is included within the overall limitation on federal-aid highways, as proposed by the Senate.

APPALACHIAN DEVELOPMENT HIGHWAY SYSTEM

The conference agreement deletes the appropriation of $200,000,000 for Appalachian development highway system proposed by the Senate. The House bill contained no similar appropriation.

FEDERAL-AID HIGHWAYS
(LIMITATION ON OBLIGATIONS)
(HIGHWAY TRUST FUND)

The conference agreement limits obligations for the federal-aid highways program to $25,511,000,000 as proposed by both the House and Senate. The conference agreement also includes the following limitations within the overall limitation on obligations for the federal-aid highways program as proposed by the Senate: $200,000,000 for intelligent transportation systems; $178,150,000 for transportation research; $38,000,000 for the ferry boat and ferry terminal facility program; $15,000,000 for the magnetic levitation transportation technology deployment program; and $31,000,000 for the Bureau of Transportation Statistics. The House bill contained no similar sub-limitations. The conference agreement deletes the provision proposed by the Senate providing $700,000 for the United States Army Corps of Engineers to study rural access issues in Alaska and $1,500,000 for improvements to the Crooked Creek access road in the Charles M. Russell National Wildlife Refuge, Montana, from funds provided in fiscal year 1999 for refuge roads. The House bill contained no similar provision. The conference agreement addresses these set-asides under the federal lands highway program.

The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the Senate that transfers $4,000,000 of the amounts made available as contract authority under section 1221(e) of Public Law 105-178 to carry out section 5113 of that Act, relating to commercial remote sensing products and spatial information technologies. The House bill contained no similar provision.

SURFACE TRANSPORTATION RESEARCH

Within the funds provided for surface transportation research, the conference agreement includes $65,000,000 for highway research and development for the following activities:

Safety	$12,535,000
Pavements	13,150,000
Structures	16,100,000
Environment	5,300,000
Real estate services	365,000
Policy	5,400,000
Planning	4,000,000
Motor carrier	6,400,000
Advanced research	1,000,000
Highway operations	750,000
Total	65,000,000

Within the funds provided for highway research and development, the FHWA is encouraged to provide sufficient resources to continue the air quality study in southern California and to support ongoing university intelligent transportation systems research.

Safety.—Within the funds provided for safety, the FHWA is encouraged to support efforts to educate new drivers on the dangers of road construction work zones by developing appropriate driver training programs.

Pavements.—Within the funds provided for pavements, the FHWA is encouraged to support research into geosynthetic material, the use of polymer additives for pavements, lithium-based technologies, and composite bridge systems. The FHWA is also encouraged to develop second generation composite bridge deck systems and technologies that may lead to better-constructed and longer-lasting pavements. In addition, the Administrator of the FHWA is encouraged to evaluate and promote the benefits of using silica fume high performance concrete and to report on such findings to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations not later than September 30, 2001.

Structures.—Within the funds provided for structures, the FHWA is encouraged to explore new technologies in advanced composite materials, including wood composites, and to support research into high performance materials; bridge systems; the cleaning of existing structures of paints and other coatings or corrosion and the application of metal coatings to cleaned structures; and appraisals of nondestructive evaluations of bridges.

Unique opportunities exist at this time to conduct research and detailed analyses into load capacities of deteriorated bridge structures, seismic retrofitting, and new nondestructive evaluation techniques, as extensive interstate reconstruction projects are planned and underway, particularly in the state of Utah. FHWA is encouraged to work with appropriate federal, state and local officials to make use of these unique research opportunities while major interstate projects are under construction.

Environment.—Within the funds provided for environment research, the FHWA is encouraged to support regional noise level and air studies.

Policy.—Sufficient funds are provided for policy research to support ongoing activities associated with the national personal transportation survey. Within the funds provided for policy research, the FHWA is encouraged to report to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations not later than March 31, 1999, on the viability of existing fuel tagging technologies developed through research at the national energy laboratories.

Planning.—Within the funds provided for planning research, sufficient funds are provided to modify the transportation simulation model for intelligent transportation purposes. None of the funds made available in the surface transportation research sub-account shall be used to conduct research related to sustainability and its role in transportation planning. The conferees assert that contract funds provided under section 1221 of TEA21 can be used to support research pertaining to the role of transportation in community and system preservation, including research on the interface between transportation and sustainability, and are sufficient to support research in community preservation and sustainability.

Motor carrier.—The conference agreement provides $6,400,000 for motor carrier research. The office of motor carriers is directed to report to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations not later than December 1, 1998, documenting the potential safety advantages of a federal rule to require a uniform national display policy for inspection stickers on commercial motor vehicles.

Technology and assessment.—Within the funds provided for technology assessment and deployment activities, the FHWA is encouraged to support university transportation management programs. Sufficient funds are included for key safety initiatives, as requested in the budget.

INTELLIGENT TRANSPORTATION SYSTEMS

The conference agreement provides a total of $200,000,000 for intelligent transportation systems (ITS), of which $105,000,000 is available for ITS deployment and $95,000,000 for ITS research and development. Within the funds made available for intelligent transportation systems, the conference agreement provides that not less than the following sums shall be available for intelligent transportation projects in these specified areas:

Amherst, Massachusetts	$1,000,000
Arlington County, Virginia	750,000
Atlanta, Georgia	2,000,000
Brandon, Vermont	375,000
Buffalo, New York	500,000
Centre Valley, Pennsylvania	500,000
Cleveland, Ohio	1,000,000
Columbus, Ohio	1,000,000
Corpus Christi, Texas	900,000
Dade County, Florida	1,000,000
Del Rio, Texas	1,000,000
Delaware River, Pennsylvania	1,000,000
Fairfield, California	1,000,000
Fitchburg, Massachusetts	500,000
Greater metropolitan capital region, DC	5,000,000
Hammond, Louisiana	4,000,000
Houston, Texas	2,000,000
Huntington Beach, California	1,000,000
Huntsville, Alabama	1,000,000

Oakland County, Michigan	1,000,000
Onandaga County, New York	400,000
Port Angeles, Washington	500,000
Raleigh-Wake County, North Carolina	2,000,000
Riverside, California	1,000,000
San Francisco, California	1,500,000
Scranton, Pennsylvania	1,000,000
Silicon Valley, California	1,500,000
Spokane, Washington	450,000
Springfield, Virginia	500,000
St. Louis, Missouri	750,000
State of Alaska	1,500,000
State of Idaho	1,000,000
State of Maryland	2,500,000
State of Minnesota	7,100,000
State of Mississippi	1,000,000
State of Missouri	500,000
State of Montana	700,000

State of Nevada	575,000
State of New Jersey	3,000,000
State of New Mexico	1,000,000
State of New York	2,500,000
State of North Dakota	1,450,000
Commonwealth of Pennsylvania	14,000,000
State of Texas	1,000,000
State of Utah	3,600,000
State of Washington	2,000,000
State of Wisconsin	1,500,000
Temucula, California	250,000
Tucson, Arizona	1,000,000
Volusia County, Florida	1,000,000
Warren County, Virginia	250,000
Wausau-Stevens Point-Wisconsin Rapids, Wisconsin	1,000,000
Westchester and Putnam Counties, New York	500,000
White Plains, New York	1,000,000

Projects selected for funding shall contribute to the integration and interoperability of intelligent transportation systems, consistent with the criteria set forth in TEA21.

The conference agreement provides $95,000,000 for intelligent transportation systems (ITS) research and development activities, to be distributed by activity as follows:

Research and development	$38,000,000
Operational tests	17,000,000
Evaluation	6,500,000
Architecture and standards	18,000,000
Mainstreaming	6,000,000
Program support	9,500,000
Total	95,000,000

Research and development.—The conference agreement supports the plans of the department to allocate most of the IVI funds to advance crash avoidance technologies that promote the safety of passenger vehicles. Consistent with that objective, the department is encouraged to complete performance criteria and safety evaluations of various crash avoidance technologies for passenger vehicles, to conduct various operational tests in passenger vehicles, and to advance human factors research related to the interactions of multiple crash avoidance technologies installed in passenger vehicles. The department is encouraged not to dilute funds reserved for the IVI among lower priority objectives, especially those that offer minimal potential safety benefits. Before June 1, 1999, the Director of the Joint Program Office shall submit to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations a five-year agenda outlining the future direction and projected timelines for IVI research and testing, paying particular attention to delineating activities regarding the light vehicle platform.

The Administrator and the Director of the JPO are encouraged to work with George Washington University and Louisiana State University in its research into crash avoidance and to utilize the strengths of the University of Alabama's Transportation Research Institute in carrying out ITS and other highway research.

Operational tests.—Within the funding provided for ITS operational tests, the conference agreement includes ample funds for operational testing of intelligent passenger vehicles, and limited funds for IVI work on commercial vehicles.

Evaluation.—Within the funding provided for ITS evaluations, the conference agreement includes limited funds for policy assessments.

The Joint Program Office (JPO) is directed to have final budgetary authority over the allocation of ITS funds among the various modes and projects and not less than seventeen positions are to be allocated to the JPO in fiscal year 1999.

National advanced driving simulator.—Within the funds provided for ITS research and development and other surface transportation research contract authority programs, sufficient funds are included for ongoing activities of the national advanced driving simulator.

Reprogramming guidelines.—The FHWA is fully expected to adhere to the funding allocations provided in this Act for specific surface transportation research activities, such as highway research and development and intelligent transportation systems activities. Any deviations from the allocations provided in this Act shall be consistent with the established reprogramming guidelines and may require the approval of the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations before execution.

DISCRETIONARY GRANT PROGRAMS

The conference agreement deletes the Senate references of priority designations and set-asides within the Federal Highway Administration's discretionary grant programs and the Bureau of Transportation Statistics, except as specifically provided in this conference report.

MAGNETIC LEVITATION TECHNOLOGY DEPLOYMENT PROGRAM

The conference agreement provides $15,000,000 for the magnetic levitation technology deployment program, of which not more than $500,000 shall be available to the Federal Railroad Administration for administrative expenses and technical assistance. Within the funds made available under this heading, the conference agreement provides $5,000,000 for a high-speed intercity magnetic levitation project between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania and $2,000,000 for a magnetic levitation project in Blacksburg, Virginia. Funding allocated to the Blacksburg project shall be conditioned upon the financial participation of the Commonwealth of Virginia.

FEDERAL LANDS PROGRAM

Funds provided for the federal lands program in fiscal year 1999 shall be available for the following activities:

Improvements to roadways on the Kenai Peninsula, Alaska	$3,500,000
Restoration of the Columbia River Highway in Oregon	500,000
Highway improvements in Hanalei National Wildlife Refuge, Haleakala and Hawaii National Parks	3,000,000
Lake Camp Road, Valley Road, and Beaver Pond Terrace Road, near the Brooks River area, Alaska	1,000,000
U.S. Army Corps of Engineers study of rural access in Alaska	700,000
Charles M. Russell National Wildlife Refuge, Montana	1,000,000
Construction of Highway 323 between Alzada and Ekalaka, Montana	2,000,000

Glacier National Park, Going-to-the-Sun Road engineering study, Montana	1,000,000
Routes 25 and 58, Cumberland Gap National Park	3,000,000
Route 80, Daniel Boone National Forest	2,000,000
Baltimore-Washington Parkway	4,000,000
Manassas National Battlefield Park Improvements, Virginia	2,000,000

Glacier National Park, Going-to-the-Sun Road.—The conference agreement provides $1,000,000 for engineering studies on Going-to-the-Sun Road in Glacier National Park. Funds will be used to conduct and support an independent engineering study assessing the best available technology to reduce costs and mitigate impacts; an updated economic analysis taking into account the economic impact of the road on the park and the surrounding communities; and a citizen advisory committee with which the National Park Service and the Federal Highway Administration would consult in making recommendations regarding the reconstruction of Going-to-the-Sun Road.

Highway 93, Montana.—The Conferees concur with the direction of the Senate regarding Highway 93 in Montana.

Manassas National Battlefield Park, Virginia.—The conference agreement includes $2,000,000 for improvements to the U.S. Route 29 and State Route 234 intersection in the Manassas National Battlefield Park, Prince William County, Virginia. In April 1998, a task force of federal, state and local participants was created to address the unsafe conditions associated with this intersection which is used by local residents and park visitors. As a result of several task force meetings, a memorandum of understanding is being developed outlining improvements which improve safety and preserve the historical integrity of the battlefield. The funds provided in this Act shall be made available to implement improvements to the intersection consistent with the memorandum of understanding.

PROGRAM ADMINISTRATION

Proceeds from the sale or lease of real property.—The language in section 156 of title 23 of the United States Code, relating to the proceeds from the sale or lease of real property, can be applied to providing parking for the Louisiana Stadium and Exposition District.

DeSoto County, Mississippi.—For the purposes of constructing an underpass to improve access and to enhance highway/rail safety and economic development along Star Landing Road in DeSoto County, Mississippi, the State of Mississippi may use funds previously allocated to it under the transportation enhancements program, provided that the state would otherwise be unable to use the funds for transportation enhancement projects consistent with current law.

Georgia I-285.—The revised concept for the East-West Connector, Phase V and I-285 Interchange in Cobb County, Georgia (submitted on April 15, 1998 to the Georgia Department of Transportation, which in turn submitted it to the Federal Highway Administration on May 22, 1998) improves the level of service and operations of the interchange without increasing the capacity of this segment of I-285. The revised concept for the interchange will dramatically improve access to the communities adjoining the interchange without adversely affecting air quality in the Atlanta region. Therefore, FHWA is encouraged to approve the revised concept and allow preliminary design on the interchange to continue.

FEDERAL-AID HIGHWAYS

(LIQUIDATION OF CONTRACT AUTHORIZATION)

(HIGHWAY TRUST FUND)

The conference agreement provides a liquidating cash appropriation of $24,000,000 for the federal-aid highways program, as proposed by both the House and the Senate.

MOTOR CARRIER SAFETY GRANTS

(LIQUIDATION OF CONTRACT AUTHORIZATION)

(HIGHWAY TRUST FUND)

The conference agreement includes a liquidating cash appropriation of $100,000,000 for motor carrier safety grants as proposed by the Senate. The House included a liquidating cash appropriation of $100,000,000 for motor carrier safety grants within the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

MOTOR CARRIER SAFETY GRANTS

(LIMITATION ON OBLIGATIONS)

(HIGHWAY TRUST FUND)

The conference agreement includes the limitation on obligations of $100,000,000 for motor carrier safety grants proposed by the Senate. The House bill included a limitation on obligations of $100,000,000 for motor carrier safety grants is within the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

This agreement allocates the funding in the following manner:

Basic grants to states	$80,000,000
Border assistance	4,500,000
Priority initiatives	4,500,000
Administrative costs	1,000,000
Information systems and planning	10,000,000
Total	100,000,000

Border assistance.—The conference agreement has provided $4,500,000 for border assistance, as proposed by the House. Funding has not been provided to the second tier states because Mexican commercial motor vehicles cannot operate beyond Arizona, California, New Mexico, and Texas until the year 2000.

Information systems and planning.—Of the $10,000,000 provided for information systems and strategic planning, $3,000,000 shall be provided to states to improve information systems and computer and evaluation capabilities; $1,000,000 shall be for driver safety activities to improve the commercial drivers license programs or judicial outreach of the various states; and $5,000,000 shall be for the PRISM project to increase the number of states participating in this program.

Transfer of OMC to NHTSA.—The conference agreement does not include the transfer of the office of motor carriers (OMC) from the Federal Highway Administration to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) proposed by the House. In proposing this transfer, the House believed that moving motor carriers under NHTSA's umbrella would strengthen and consolidate the department's vehicle safety programs. A single modal administration could provide a more consistent and synchronous safety program and agenda by focusing on reducing all highway accidents instead of having two organizations focusing on reducing components (passenger vehicles and commercial motor vehicles) of the 42,000 annual highway fatalities. The House intends to further review the possible consolidation of the office of motor carriers within NHTSA during its fiscal year 2000 budget hearings.

NATIONAL HIGHWAY TRAFFIC SAFETY ADMINISTRATION

OPERATIONS AND RESEARCH

(HIGHWAY TRUST FUND)

The conference agreement provides $159,400,000 from the Highway Trust Fund for operations and research. The Senate provided $161,400,000 for operations and research and the National Driver Register from the Highway Trust Fund. The House provided $72,000,000 for operations and research from the Highway Trust Fund and $87,400,000 from the general fund. Of the total, $58,558,000 shall remain available until September 30, 2001 as proposed by both the House and the Senate.

To comply with the levels authorized under TEA21, the conference agreement includes the following adjustments to the budget estimate:

Do not fund 10 new staff positions	-$780,000
Do not fund new consumer information program	- 814,000
Hold NCAP testing to 1998 level	-2,226,000
Delete funding for fuel economy program	- 60,000
Slight reduction in vehicle safety compliance	- 40,000
Reduce funding for defects investigation	- 360,000
Delete funding for the safe communities program	-2,800,000
Delete funding for preclicensure demonstration project	- 600,000
Slight reduction in EMS research	- 40,000
Slight reduction in records and licensing	- 73,000
Head injury management prevention project	+1,000,000
Hold PNGV to 1998 level	-1,004,000
Reduce increase for biomechanics simulation and analysis	- 225,000
Reduce increase for crash avoidance research	- 340,000
Fund occupant protection survey under Grant Administration	- 300,000
Slight reduction in Office of the Administrator	- 331,000
Increase Grant Administration reimbursement	-4,509,000

Aggressive driving.—NHTSA, in conjunction with the International Association of Chiefs of Police, should conduct a 2-year pilot project to utilize and demonstrate the effectiveness of enforcement devices, such as speed management and imaging devices, in reducing aggressive driving. The project should take place within one or more federal jurisdictions that have experienced high profile crashes, such as the George Washington Memorial Parkway.

Emergency medical services.—Within the emergency medical services program, $250,000 shall be used to complete the second phase of the head injury prehospital protocols with Aitken Neuroscience Center. The conference agreement also includes $1,000,000 for a head injury prevention project at the University of Alabama at Birmingham. The initial focus of this effort will be on the prehospital aspect of trauma research involving causative factors of the injury.

Older driver research.—NHTSA should continue demonstrating technologies and practices to improve the driving performance of older drivers and other special groups. Ongoing work at Pennsylvania State University in this area is recognized.

Red light running initiative.—Failure to obey traffic signals is one of the leading causes of urban crashes. NHTSA should evaluate an innovative program initiated by Jefferson Parish Sheriff's Office in Jefferson County, Louisiana, to combat this problem and determine if this program could be deployed nationwide.

Prelicensure demonstration project.—For the same reasons detailed last year, the conference agreement deletes funds for the prelicensure demonstration project.

Bill language is included that prohibits NHTSA from obligating or expending funds to plan, finalize, or implement any rulemaking that would add requirements pertaining to tire grading standards that are different from those standards already in effect. This language was contained in both the House and Senate bills.

NATIONAL DRIVER REGISTER

(HIGHWAY TRUST FUND)

The conference agreement provides $2,000,000 for the National Driver Register as proposed by the House. The Senate provided $2,000,000 for this program within NHTSA's operations and research account. Within the total amount appropriated, up to $250,000 can be used to begin the technology assessment authorized under section 2006 of TEA21.

HIGHWAY TRAFFIC SAFETY GRANTS

(LIQUIDATION OF CONTRACT AUTHORIZATION)

(HIGHWAY TRUST FUND)

The conference agreement provides $200,000,000 to liquidate contract authorizations for highway traffic safety grants, as proposed by both the House and the Senate.

HIGHWAY TRAFFIC SAFETY GRANTS

(LIMITATION ON OBLIGATIONS)

(HIGHWAY TRUST FUND)

The conference agreement limits obligations for highway traffic safety grants to $200,000,000 as proposed by both the House and Senate. A total of $9,943,000 has been provided for administration of the grant programs as proposed by the House instead of $5,334,000 as proposed by the Senate. New bill language is included to specify that not more than $7,500,000 of the funds made available for section 402, not more than $500,000 of the funds made available for section 405, not more than $1,750,000 of the funds made available for section 410, and not more than $193,000 of the funds made available for section 411 shall be available to NHTSA for administering highway safety grants under chapter 4 of title 23. This language is necessary to insure that each grant program does not contribute more than five percent of the total administrative costs.

The conference agreement retains bill language, proposed by both the House and Senate, that limits technical assistance to states from section 410 to $500,000.

The conference agreement prohibits the use of funds for construction, rehabilitation or remodeling costs, or for office furnishings and fixtures for state, local, or private buildings or structures, as proposed by both the House and Senate.

The bill includes separate obligation limitations with the following funding allocations:

State and community grants	$150,000,000
Occupant protection incentive grants	10,000,000
State highway safety data grants	5,000,000
Alcohol incentive grants	35,000,000

Occupant protection.—The effectiveness of the occupant protection grant on improving safety, saving lives, and preventing injuries along the Route 2 corridor between Gardner and Greenfield, Massachusetts is recognized, and the conference agreement encourages continued funding of this initiative.

FEDERAL RAILROAD ADMINISTRATION

OFFICE OF THE ADMINISTRATOR

The conference agreement appropriates $21,215,000 for the Office of the Administrator instead of $21,367,000 as proposed by the House and $21,020,000 as proposed by the Senate. Of the total amount, $1,784,000 shall remain available until expended, as proposed by the House instead of $1,389,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The following adjustments were made to the budget estimate:

Delete funding for electronic grant management	-$200,000
Delete funding for acquisition management training	- 6,000
Reduce travel increase	- 52,000
Reduce increase in vendor inflation	- 100,000
<hr/>
Net reduction to budget estimate	- 358,000

Funding for the light rail density pilot project is not included in the Office of the Administrator, as proposed by the Senate. The House bill contained no similar appropriation.

Valley trains and trails.—Within the funds appropriated to the Office of the Administrator, FRA should work with the Norfolk Southern Railroad, Valley Trains and Trails, and the Commonwealth of Virginia to help develop a scenic passenger train service plan in Shenandoah County, Virginia. This study is contingent upon participation by Norfolk Southern.

Bill language is included that authorizes the Secretary to receive payments from the Union Station Redevelopment Corporation, credit them to the first deed of trust, and make payments on the first deed of trust. These funds may be advanced by the Administrator from unobligated balances available to the Federal Railroad Administration and must be reimbursed from payments received by the Union Station Redevelopment Corporation. Both the House and Senate bills contained these provisions.

RAILROAD SAFETY

The conference agreement provides $61,488,000 for railroad safety instead of $60,948,000 as proposed by the House and $61,876,000 as proposed by the Senate. Of the total amount, $3,825,000 shall remain available until expended. The following adjustments were made to the budget estimate:

Hire 24 instead of 32 new inspectors	-$420,000
Provide 5 percent increase in travel	- 351,000
Increase funding for Operation Lifesaver	+300,000
Net adjustment	- 471,000

Bill language is included in this conference report that permits the reimbursement of out-of-state travel and per diem costs incurred by employees of State governments directly supporting the Federal railroad safety program, including regulatory development and compliance-related activities. Both the House and Senate bills contained this provision.

RAILROAD RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

The conference agreement provides $22,364,000 for railroad research and development instead of $20,477,000 as proposed by the House and $25,760,000 as proposed by the Senate and includes the following adjustments to the budget estimate:

Delete funding for assessment of current magnetic levitation systems	-$150,000
Delete funding for Transportation Test Center site facilities	- 130,000
Fund full-scale crash test of rail passenger equipment	+2,000,000
Half-year funding for track specialist	- 117,000
Net adjustment to budget estimate	+1,607,000

Track and vehicle-track interaction.—Within funding allocated for track and vehicle-track interaction, $500,000 shall be used to develop an automatic traffic control and monitoring system and $500,000 shall be used to evaluate carbon composites in railroad bridges, as specified by the Senate. The GAO recently reported on the safety risk posed by the deteriorating structural integrity of the nation's 100,700 rail bridges. Aging rail bridges are increasingly being required to handle heavier axial loads and higher train speeds. To better address this safety risk, funding has been provided to develop, demonstrate, and evaluate the use of carbon composites for strengthening aging steel railroad bridges. These funds shall be made available to a constructed facilities center with extensive experience in this area.

New full-time employees.—The conference agreement provides half-year funding for the new track specialist position because the Administration has made a convincing case for this position. No funding is provided for the new communications position.

Bill language is included that allows FRA to sell old aluminum reaction rail currently located at the Transportation Test Center

(TTC) and use any proceeds for physical improvements at TTC as proposed by both the House and Senate.

RAILROAD REHABILITATION AND IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM

The conference agreement modifies bill language included in the House bill specifying that no new direct loans or loan guarantee commitments can be made using federal funds for the payment of any credit premium amount during fiscal year 1999. The Senate bill did not have any bill language for this program.

NEXT GENERATION HIGH-SPEED RAIL

The conference agreement provides $20,494,000 for the next generation high-speed rail program instead of $15,294,000 as proposed by the House and $28,494,000 as proposed by the Senate. The following table summarizes the conference agreement by budget activity:

	Conference
Train control systems	$4,300,000
Illinois positive train control demonstration	(1,300,000)
Alaska railroad	(3,000,000)
Non-electric locomotives	9,800,000
ALPS	(2,800,000)
Prototype locomotive	(7,000,000)
Grade crossings and innovative technologies	4,600,000
Sealed corridor	(1,000,000)
Mitigating hazards	(2,500,000)
Low-cost HSR crossing	(1,100,000)
Track and structures	1,200,000
Administration	594,000
 Total	 20,494,000

Positive train control.—A total of $4,300,000 has been provided for positive train control activities in Illinois and Alaska. Funding has not been provided for a positive train control study recommended by the Senate because the goals of this study are being undertaken in the Illinois positive train control demonstration. It is anticipated that the system engineer for the joint AAR, Illinois DOT and FRA project on the Chicago to St. Louis corridor will decisively characterize the common elements required for interoperability, in order to develop an open system architecture. An open architecture is necessary to ensure that different positive train control technologies can communicate and interact effectively with one another.

FRA and the AAR have entered into a cooperative program to develop, test, and demonstrate positive train control capabilities between Springfield and Chicago, Illinois. This project is estimated to cost approximately $60,000,000 over a four-year period. AAR has committed $20,000,000 to the project. The conference agreement provides $1,300,000 to this project in fiscal year 1999 to continue federal support.

The conference agreement provides $3,000,000 for Alaska Railroad to continue its ongoing efforts to implement a collision avoidance positive train control system over the entire system. These funds will help fund a GPS satellite-based communications and tracking system that will provide positive train separation for all locomotives and track vehicles, and precision train control with movement-pass planning capabilities.

In conjunction with FRA, eastern railroads are developing positive train control, capable of operating with present and future technologies to adapt to the various types of railroad infrastructure. As the first step, interoperable locomotive platform prototypes are being built at the present time. As the next step, the wayside portion of the positive train separation pilot will be developed and tested on the rail line between Manassas, Virginia through Hagerstown, Maryland to Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. This project, funded jointly by FRA and the railroads, was begun two years ago. FRA should continue funding this pilot project.

Rail-highway crossing hazard eliminations.—Under section 1103 of TEA21, an automatic set-aside of $5,250,000 a year is made available for the elimination of rail-highway crossing hazards. A limited number of rail corridors are eligible for these funds. Of these set-aside funds: $1,000,000 shall be used to mitigate grade crossing hazards on the Gulf Coast corridor; $1,000,000 shall be used along North Carolina's sealed corridor; $250,000 shall be used between Kalamazoo and Grand Beach, Michigan; and $250,000 shall be used between Milwaukee and the Wisconsin-Illinois border.

ALASKA RAILROAD REHABILITATION

The conference agreement provides $10,000,000 for the Alaska Railroad as proposed by the Senate. The House bill contained no similar appropriation.

RHODE ISLAND RAIL DEVELOPMENT

Total funding for the Rhode Island rail development project is $5,000,000 instead of $2,000,000 as proposed by the House and $7,500,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement deletes Senate bill language that requires, as a condition of accepting such funds, the Providence and Worcester Railroad to reimburse Amtrak and/or the Federal Railroad Administration, on a dollar-for-dollar basis, up to the first $28,000,000, if damages occur in vertical clearances in excess of those required for present freight operations. The House bill contained no similar provision.

CAPITAL GRANTS TO THE NATIONAL RAILROAD PASSENGER CORPORATION

The conference agreement provides $609,230,000 for Capital grants to the National Railroad Passenger Corporation (Amtrak) as proposed by the House instead of $555,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. All funding is to remain available until expended as proposed by the House.

The conference agreement deletes a number of language provisions included in either the House or the Senate bills. These include: (1) language that allocates not less than $200,000,000 for the Northeast Corridor Improvement Program and $355,000,000 for capital grants as proposed by the Senate; (2) language that limits the availability of funding for the Northeast Corridor Improvement Program to September 30, 2001 as proposed by the Senate; (3) language proposed by the House that requires the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations to approve Amtrak's capital plan prior to the release of this capital appropriation and funding made available from section 977 of the Taxpayer Relief Act; (4) language proposed by the Senate which identifies those activities on which capital grants may be expended; and (5) language proposed by the Senate that prohibits Amtrak from obligating more than $222,000,000 prior to September 30, 1999.

Northeast Corridor improvement program.—The conference agreement does not provide a specific earmark for the Northeast Corridor Improvement Program. Amtrak has the flexibility to allocate whatever amount it believes is necessary for this project in fiscal year 1999.

Amtrak shall work closely with the Northeast Corridor communities, as well as state transit officials and owners of the track, to identify danger spots and install perimeter fencing along the Corridor, wherever it is needed. In particular, Amtrak should focus on increased community coordination in urbanized areas where there have been problems or where community concerns have been expressed, such as Attleboro, Foxboro, Mansfield, and Sharon, Massachusetts.

Capital definition.—The conference agreement considered, but rejected as too broad, the expanded capital definition. However, Amtrak should be permitted to expend its fiscal year 1999 appropriated capital grant on maintenance of existing equipment as well as for capital improvements. Amtrak is already authorized to expend funds received under section 977 of the Taxpayer Relief Act for maintenance of equipment. Since this authority was already granted in a previous Act, there is a legislative precedent for Amtrak to expend its appropriated capital grants for equipment maintenance.

Rail signalization upgrade in Vermont.—Signaling on the main rail line between Brattleboro and White River Junction, Vermont needs to be upgraded. Amtrak is currently negotiating with the State of Vermont and the New England Central Railroad to upgrade the pole line signal system to an electronic control system. The entire system is estimated to cost $500,000. Amtrak is urged to continue negotiating with the affected parties. However, these costs should be shared among the users of the system and the state, and not be borne solely by Amtrak.

Erie, Pennsylvania station improvements.—Amtrak currently leases a small portion of a train station in Erie, Pennsylvania to provide service for the Lake Shore Limited. This station is in need of repairs to the platforms, canopies, and lights and requires better access to the tracks to comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act. This work is not currently included within Amtrak's capital plan; however, Amtrak has a set-aside of $15,000,000 for leveraging state and local partnerships. Amtrak is strongly encouraged to consider funding rehabilitation and renovations at the Erie, Pennsylvania station when selecting projects for state and local partnerships in fiscal year 1999.

High-speed rail improvements outside the Northeast Corridor.—Amtrak has been working with the Commonwealth of Virginia to identify improvements necessary on track between Washington, D.C. and Richmond, Virginia so that passenger trains could operate at higher speeds. Amtrak is directed to report its findings and the estimated costs to do this work to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations by March 1, 1999.

Las Vegas to Los Angeles service.—Amtrak has been working with the freight railroads, and the states of California and Nevada to begin passenger rail service between Las Vegas and Los Angeles early in 1999. The conferees are supportive of this project and expect that the number of capitalization issues surrounding necessary infrastructure upgrades for Amtrak to operate on this route will be quickly resolved.

FEDERAL TRANSIT ADMINISTRATION

ADMINISTRATIVE EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides $54,000,000 for administrative expenses of the Federal Transit Administration as proposed by both the House and the Senate. Within this total, the conference agreement appropriates $10,800,000 from the general fund and $43,200,000 from the Highway Trust Fund, as proposed by both the House and the Senate. The conference agreement provides that the general fund appropriation shall be available until expended.

The agreement includes a provision that transfers $800,000 from funds made available for project management oversight activities to the Inspector General to reimburse costs associated with audit and financial reviews of major transit projects, instead of $750,000 as proposed by the House and $1,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

Full-time equivalent (FTE) staff years.—The conference agreement provides that the FTE level in fiscal year 1999 shall not rise in excess of 485 FTE. This level shall be sufficient to cover the additional administrative requirements imposed upon the Federal Transit Administration by TEA21. The House and Senate Committees on Appropriations will consider personnel increases above this level on an annual basis.

Project management oversight.—Within the funds provided for section 23, the FTA shall increase its financial management oversight activities and perform financial capacity reviews to identify critical funding deficiencies or inadequate financing plans before such funding deficiencies materialize. In addition, the FTA shall more fully utilize new and existing management tools, like the triennial review information system and the oversight tracking system; identify and monitor regional office performance of grant management and that of individual grantees; and report to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations by December 1, 1999 the steps taken to comply with the directives contained in the House report.

The conference agreement includes sufficient funds for the continued development of the electronic grant making and management system.

FORMULA GRANTS

The conference agreement provides a total program level of $2,850,000,000 for transit formula grants, as proposed by both the House and the Senate. Within this total, the conference agreement appropriates $570,000,000 from the general fund as proposed by both the House and the Senate. The conference agreement provides that the general fund appropriation shall be available until expended.

The conference agreement deletes language proposed by the Senate that would have made available up to $10,000,000 of funds provided for the clean fuel formula grant program for projects that include payments for incremental costs of biodiesel fuels, and that such incremental costs shall be limited to the cost difference between the cost of alternative fuels and their petroleum-based alternatives. The House bill contained no similar provisions.

The conference agreement provides that funding made available for the clean fuel formula grant program under this heading shall be transferred to and merged with funding provided for the replacement, rehabilitation, and purchase of buses and related equipment and the construction of bus-related facilities under "Federal Transit Administration, Capital investment grants".

The FTA, when evaluating the local financial commitment of new rail extension or busway projects, shall consider the extent to which the projects' sponsors have used the appreciable increases in the formula grants apportionments for alternative analyses and preliminary engineering activities of such systems.

Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority.—Of the funds apportioned to Los Angeles, California, $25,000,000 is expected to be expended in the most cost effective manner for the purchase of new and reliable clean fuel vehicles (as defined in 49 U.S.C. 5308(a)(1)) to comply with the bus consent decree.

San Francisco, California and the Presidio.—The City of San Francisco and the municipal transportation authority is expected to ensure that necessary and ample public transportation services are available to the Presidio, its visitors and workers, and the surrounding community.

Coordination between public transit agencies and human service agencies.—The Secretary of Transportation, working with the Secretary of Health and Human Services through the DOT/HHS Coordinating Council, should work to advance joint efforts to create State and regional planning guidelines which promote transportation coordination between public transit agencies and human service transportation providers. The joint planning guidelines taskforce is encouraged to work with Madison METRO and the coalition for paratransit solutions to ensure timely public transit agency input and dissemination of planning guidelines.

UNIVERSITY TRANSPORTATION RESEARCH

The conference agreement provides a total program level of $6,000,000 for university transportation research as proposed by both the House and the Senate. Within the total, the conference agreement appropriates $1,200,000 from the general fund as proposed by both the House and the Senate. The conference agreement provides that the general fund appropriation shall be available until expended.

TRANSIT PLANNING AND RESEARCH

The conference agreement provides a total program level of $98,000,000 for transit planning and research as proposed by the House and the Senate. Within the total, the conference agreement appropriates $10,800,000 from the general fund as proposed by both the House and the Senate. The conference agreement provides that the general fund appropriation shall be available until expended.

Within the funds appropriated for transit planning and research, $5,250,000 is provided for rural transportation assistance; $4,000,000 is provided for the National Transit Institute; $8,250,000 is provided for transit cooperative research; $43,841,600 is provided for metropolitan planning; $9,158,400 is provided for state planning and research; and $27,500,000 is provided for national planning and research.

Within the funding level provided for national planning and research, the Federal Transit Administration shall make available the following amounts for the programs and activities listed below:

City of Branson, Missouri congestion study	$450,000
Skagit County, Washington North Sound connecting communities project, Skagit County Council of Governments	50,000
Desert air quality comprehensive analysis, Las Vegas, Nevada	1,000,000
Vegetation control on rail rights-of-way survey	250,000
Zinc-air battery bus technology demonstration	1,500,000
North Orange-South Seminole County, Florida fixed guideway technology	750,000
Galveston, Texas fixed guideway activities	750,000
Washoe County, Nevada transit technology	1,250,000
MBTA, Massachusetts advanced electric transit buses and related infrastructure	1,500,000
Palm Springs, California fuel cell buses	1,000,000
Gloucester, Massachusetts intermodal technology center	1,500,000
SEPTA, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania advanced propulsion control system	2,000,000
Project ACTION	3,000,000
Advanced transportation and alternative fueled vehicle technology consortium (CALSTART)	2,000,000
Rural transportation assistance program	750,000
JOBLINKS	1,000,000
Fleet operations, including bus rapid transit	1,500,000
Northern tier community transportation, Massachusetts	500,000
Hennepin County community transportation, Minnesota	1,000,000
Seattle, Washington livable city	200,000

Fuel cell bus and bus facilities program.—None of the funds available under this heading shall supplement funding provided under section 3015(b) of Public Law 105–178 for the fuel cell bus and bus facilities program.

Advanced transportation and alternative fueled vehicle technology consortium (CALSTART).—Of the funds made available for the advanced transportation and alternative fueled vehicle technology program (CALSTART), not less than $500,000 shall be available to the Santa Barbara electric transportation institute.

The conference agreement provides sufficient funding for developmental work for the electronic grants making and management system and critical safety programs.

TRUST FUND SHARE OF EXPENSES
(LIQUIDATION OF CONTRACT AUTHORIZATION)
(HIGHWAY TRUST FUND)

The conference agreement provides $4,251,800,000 in liquidating cash for the trust fund share of transit expenses instead of $2,446,200,000 as proposed by both the House and the Senate. This amount provides liquidating cash for new TEA21 programs.

CAPITAL INVESTMENT GRANTS
(INCLUDING TRANSFER OF FUNDS)

The conference agreement provides a total program level of $2,257,000,000 for capital investment grants, as proposed by both the House and the Senate. Within the total, the conference agreement appropriates $451,400,000 from the general fund as proposed by both the House and Senate. The conference agreement provides that the general fund appropriation shall be available until expended.

Within the total program level, $902,800,000 is provided for fixed guideway modernization; $451,400,000 is provided for the replacement, rehabilitation, and purchase of buses and related equipment and the construction of bus-related facilities; and $902,800,000 is provided for new fixed guideway systems, as proposed by both the House and the Senate. Funds derived from the formula grants program totaling $50,000,000 are to be transferred and merged with funds provided for the replacement, rehabilitation, and purchase of buses and related equipment and the construction of bus-related facilities under this heading.

The conference agreement deletes language proposed by the Senate that would have required the Administrator of the Federal Transit Administration, not later than sixty days after the enactment of this Act, to individually submit to the congressional transit appropriations and authorization committees the recommended grant funding levels for the respective bus and bus-related facilities projects listed in the Senate bill. The House bill contained no similar provision.

The conference agreement includes a provision that makes funds provided in the fiscal year 1998 Department of Transportation and Related Agencies Appropriations Act for the Strawberry Hill/Diamond Branch rail project available for the Laurel rail line project in Lackawanna County, Pennsylvania. The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

Three-year availability of section 5309 discretionary funds.—The FTA shall not reallocate funds provided in the fiscal years 1995 or 1996 Department of Transportation and Related Agencies Appropriations Acts for the Whitehall ferry terminal, or funds provided in fiscal year 1996 for the Memphis, Tennessee medical extension project, the Burlington-Gloucester commuter rail project, or the New Orleans Canal Street corridor project.

Further, should additional funds from previous appropriations Acts be available for reallocation, the FTA is directed to reprogram these funds after notification to and approval of the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations and only to the extent that those projects are able to fully obligate additional resources in the course of fiscal year 1999. With respect to reallocation of discretionary bus funds, the FTA is directed to reallocate funds only to those projects identified in the Department of Transportation and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 1999, after notification to and approval of the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations.

Reprogrammings.—The conference agreement approves the department's request to reprogram fiscal year 1997 section 5309 bus funds originally provided for Reston, Virginia's internal bus system and to make them available for continued construction of the western regional park and ride lot in Loudoun County, Virginia. The conference agreement also approves the department's request to reprogram fiscal year 1989 rail modernization funds originally provided for the University City Station in Philadelphia to the Eastwick Intermodal Center project.

Bus and bus-related facilities.—The conference agreement provides $451,400,000, together with $50,000,000 transferred from "Federal Transit Administration, Formula grants" and merged with funding provided under this heading for the replacement, rehabilitation and purchase of buses and related equipment and the construction of bus-related facilities, to be distributed as follows:

Bus and Bus Facilities Project Designations for Fiscal Year 1999

State and Project	Conference
Alaska:
Anchorage Ship Creek intermodal facility	$4,300,000
Fairbanks intermodal rail/bus transfer facility	2,000,000

Charlotte, North Carolina South-North corridor transitway project.—The conference agreement includes $3,000,000 for the Charlotte, North Carolina South-North corridor transitway project, which extends 36.4 miles from Davidson, North Carolina to Interstate 485 near Pineville, North Carolina.

Chicago Transit Authority Ravenswood and Douglas Branch lines.—The conferees have provided $3,000,000 for the Chicago Transit Authority's (CTA) Ravenswood and Douglas Branch lines. Funds are to be allocated to the individual projects at the discretion of the CTA. The conference agreement provides that, because of the nature of these projects, of the requirements of 49 U.S.C. Sec. 5309(e), only sections 5309(e)(1)(C) and 5309(e)(4) shall apply.

Los Angeles MOS-3.—For fiscal year 1999, the conference agreement provides new appropriations of $38,000,000 for the North Hollywood segment, together with the $24,000,000 provided in the fiscal year 1998 Department of Transportation and Related Agencies Appropriations Act. In total, $62,000,000 shall be available for North Hollywood construction in fiscal year 1999. In the conference report accompanying the fiscal year 1998 Department of Transportation and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, the conferees then directed that the funds appropriated for the Los Angeles Metro Rail project be made available only after the LACMTA satisfied certain conditions, including the development of a financially constrained rail recovery plan. The LACMTA has satisfied the relevant conditions, and in particular the FTA has accepted the MTA's recovery (restructuring) plan, the DOT Inspector General has concurred in that decision, and both the Inspector General and the GAO have commented favorably on the MTA's progress.

The LACMTA is expected to provide quarterly reports during fiscal year 1999 to the FTA, the General Accounting Office, the Inspector General, and the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations that document the MTA's progress in implementing the recovery (restructuring) plan, and that specifically address: (1) the status, cost and funding sources for completing the North Hollywood extension of the MOS-3; (2) the status, cost and funding sources of current and planned activities (e.g., bus purchases) designed to comply with the bus consent decree; (3) the cost and funding sources for other capital and operating activities described in the plan, including the identification of any potential capital or operating shortfalls and strategies for addressing these shortfalls; and (4) the progress of the MTA's efforts to develop transportation alternatives for the Mid-City and East Side corridors.

The recovery (restructuring) plan identifies federal, state, and local funding for the North Hollywood project, the bus consent decree, the Alameda Corridor, and other major capital and operating projects, but the plan also reflects capital and operating shortfalls over the six year period covered by the plan. The LACMTA is expected to adhere to the budgets and funding schedules established in the plan for the funding of major capital activities, particularly the North Hollywood project and the bus consent decree. If financial shortfalls occur in the future, it is expected that those shortfalls will be addressed in the context of other MTA capital projects. It is also expected that the MTA will, to the maximum extent feasible, implement the business plans identified in its fiscal year 1998-99 budget.

Miami Metro-Dade Transit Agency Metrorail Palmetto extension project.—The FTA is directed to reprogram excess funds from the Miami Metromover Stage 1 project to the Palmetto extension project.

Mid-City and East Side corridor projects, Los Angeles.—The conference agreement provides $8,000,000 for continued development of transportation alternatives in the Mid-City and East Side corridors. None of the funds provided in this Act may be expended for construction of heavy rail subway envisioned in parts 1B and 1C of the full funding grant agreement.

New Orleans Desire Streetcar project.—The conference agreement includes $2,000,000 for the New Orleans Desire Streetcar project. Within the funds appropriated, up to $500,000 shall be available for preliminary engineering and environmental assessments for an upriver extension of the New Orleans Riverfront Streetcar project.

Portland-Westside/Hillsboro project.—The conference agreement includes $25,718,000 for the Portland-Westside/Hillsboro project. Not more than $3,000,000 may be used for ongoing activities of the South-North light rail project.

Salt Lake City/Airport to University (West-East) project.—The conference agreement includes language that provides that, for purposes of determining the local share for funding provided in this Act for the Salt Lake City/Airport to University (West-East) project, this project shall be considered to be a program of interrelated projects. The Senate proposed that funds provided in this Act and in the fiscal year 1998 Department of Transportation and Related Agencies Appropriations Act for the Salt Lake City South LRT project and the Salt Lake City/Airport to University (West-East) project shall be considered to be a program of interrelated projects. The House bill contained no similar provision.

San Bernardino, California MetroLink project.—The conference agreement provides $1,000,000 for the San Bernardino MetroLink project. Funds may be used to extend the MetroLink track one mile from the San Bernardino train station to a point opposite the San Bernardino stadium as well as for the Fontana siding project. Funding shall be allocated solely at the discretion of the Southern California Regional Rail Authority.

The FTA is directed to make available funding provided for the San Bernardino MetroLink project in the fiscal year 1998 Department of Transportation and Related Agencies Appropriations Act for activities related to track extensions from the San Bernardino train station.

South Transitway project, Houston, Texas.—The FTA is directed to make funds in excess of the full funding grant agreement for Houston's South Transitway available for construction and related activities of segment five of the South Transitway.

MASS TRANSIT CAPITAL FUND

(LIQUIDATION OF CONTRACT AUTHORIZATION)

(HIGHWAY TRUST FUND)

The conference agreement provides $2,000,000,000 in liquidating cash for mass transit capital programs, instead of $1,805,600,000 as proposed by both the House and the Senate. The liquidating cash in the Mass Transit Capital Fund will be used to pay previous obligations in the trust-funded Discretionary Grants account.

DISCRETIONARY GRANTS

(HIGHWAY TRUST FUND, MASS TRANSIT ACCOUNT)

(RESCISSION OF CONTRACT AUTHORIZATION)

The conference agreement includes under separate title the rescission of $392,000,000 in contract authorization as proposed by the Senate. The House proposed no similar rescission.

JOB ACCESS AND REVERSE COMMUTE GRANTS

The conference agreement includes a total program level of $75,000,000 for job access and reverse commute grants. Within this total, the conference agreement appropriates $35,000,000 from the general fund. The conference agreement provides that the general fund appropriation shall be available until expended.

The conference agreement deletes the Senate references of set-asides within the FTA's job access and reverse commute grants program. However, the conferees are concerned about the lack of transportation access in many rural areas for welfare recipients and persons with lower incomes. According to a recent Community Transportation Association of America survey, two of every five rural counties have no public transportation whatsoever. Another 25 percent of the rural counties had service equal to one trip per month. Therefore, within the $10,000,000 allocated for non-urban areas in section 3037(1)(3)(C) of Public Law 105-178, the conferees direct that the FTA shall give high priority to applications that address the transportation access needs of counties that are not served or are underserved by public transportation systems. The FTA shall take into consideration factors identified in the program's authorization, including: the percentage of population that are welfare recipients; the need for transportation services to move people from their homes to employment centers; and coordination with existing transportation providers and other agencies providing transportation assistance.

The Chicago area transportation system is directed to work with the Regional Transportation Authority, Metra, the Chicago Transit Authority, the Northeastern Illinois Regional Planning Commission and members of the public to study and report on the feasibility, costs, and benefits of building additional Metra stops at the points Metra tracks either cross or are near Chicago Transit Authority tracks and where Metra stations can be better connected to each other or to urban passengers.

The FTA is directed to publish in the Federal Register by February 28, 1999 its selection of Job Access and Reverse Commute applications in each authorized award category and within each award category. In this award announcement, FTA shall specify the amounts awarded applicants that represent general reverse commute grant projects. The FTA shall also specify which awards reflect applications where proposed services are located in counties which are without public transportation services or which are significantly underserved.

WASHINGTON METROPOLITAN AREA TRANSIT AUTHORITY

The conference agreement provides $50,000,000 to complete the construction of the Washington, D.C. Metrorail system as proposed by both the House and the Senate. This appropriation concludes the federal share of the costs to construct the Metrorail system.

SAINT LAWRENCE SEAWAY DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION

OPERATIONS AND MAINTENANCE

(HARBOR MAINTENANCE TRUST FUND)

The conference agreement appropriates $11,496,000 for operations and maintenance of the Saint Lawrence Seaway Development Corporation as proposed by both the House and the Senate. The only specified reduction from the budget estimate is a decrease in the annual pilotage function costs, which was included in both the House and Senate bills.

RESEARCH AND SPECIAL PROGRAMS ADMINISTRATION

RESEARCH AND SPECIAL PROGRAMS

The conference agreement appropriates $29,280,000 for research and special programs instead of $34,379,000 as proposed by the House and $29,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. Within this total, $3,460,000 is available until September 30, 2001, as proposed by the Senate instead of $8,460,000 as proposed by the House. The House bill provided $5,000,000 for the advanced vehicle technologies program. This funding is included elsewhere in the conference agreement. The following adjustments were made to the budget estimate:

Increase funding for hazardous materials research and development	+$200,000
Slight reduction in research and technology program	- 175,000
Delete funding for Garrett Morgan program	- 200,000
Slight reduction IRM contract support	- 75,000
Delete funding for electronic grants project	- 100,000
Delete funding for acquisition training resources	- 25,000
Net adjustment to budget estimate	- $375,000

Bill language is retained that permits up to $1,200,000 in fees be collected and deposited in the general fund of the Treasury as offsetting receipts. Also, bill language is included that permits funds received from States, counties, municipalities, other public authorities and private sources for expenses incurred for training, reports publication and dissemination, and travel expenses incurred in the performance of hazardous materials exemptions and approval functions. Both of these provisions were contained in the House and Senate bills.

PIPELINE SAFETY
(PIPELINE SAFETY FUND)
(OIL SPILL LIABILITY TRUST FUND)

The conference agreement provides total funding of $33,248,000 for the pipeline safety program, instead of $33,448,000 as proposed by the House and $32,500,000 as proposed by the Senate. Within this total, $16,219,000 is available until September 30, 2001 instead of $16,919,000 as proposed by both the House and the Senate.

In addition, $1,400,000 has been provided from the reserve fund for one-call notification, public education and damage control activities, instead of $1,300,000 for one-call, public education and emergency notification activities as proposed by the House and $1,659,000 for one-call activities and some contract programs as proposed by the Senate. The following table reflects the total allocation for pipeline safety in fiscal year 1999:

Budget activity	Pipeline Safety Fund	Oil Spill Liability Trust Fund	Reserve fund ¹	Total
Personnel, compensation, and benefits	$7,947,000	$260,000	$8,207,000
Operating expenses	3,613,000	45,000	3,658,000
Information systems	800,000	400,000	1,200,000
Risk assessment and technical studies	800,000	400,000	1,200,000
Compliance	200,000	100,000	300,000
Training and information dissemination	821,000	100,000	921,000
Emergency notification	100,000	100,000
Public education and damage control	(400,000)	(400,000)
Oil Pollution Act	2,443,000	2,443,000
Research and development	1,719,000	1,719,000
State grants	12,500,000	500,000	13,000,000
Risk management	500,000	500,000
One-call notification	(1,000,000)	(1,000,000)
Total	29,000,000	4,248,000	(1,400,000)	34,648,000

¹ Funding derived from the reserve fund is not included in the subtotal because it is not directly appropriated.

Budget submissions for fiscal year 2000.—For the past two years, the department has submitted a budget estimate that, in total, is below the authorized levels but exceeds the authorized levels for fees. The department is directed to submit a fiscal year 2000 budget estimate that falls within the authorized levels, both in their components (Pipeline Safety Fund, Oil Spill Liability Trust Fund, and reserve account) and in total.

Recently enacted legislation authorizing appropriations for improving one-call notification systems (section 6107 of title 49) prohibits the use of interstate pipeline user fees to fund this promising new program. Future budgets submitted by the department shall allocate funding for this program from general revenues.

Public education.—The conference agreement has increased funding for public education to $400,000. The additional funds shall be used for two purposes: (1) to provide funds that will be used to leverage private sector funds to advance the national one-call campaign and (2) to conduct a new joint public meeting with the NTSB on one-call systems.

EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS GRANTS

(EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS FUND)

The conference agreement provides $200,000 for emergency preparedness grants as proposed by both the House and the Senate. Also, bill language is included that limits obligations for emergency preparedness to $11,000,000 as proposed by the Senate instead of $9,600,000 as proposed by the House.

OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides $43,495,000 for the office of inspector general as proposed by the House instead of $42,720,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement directs the Inspector General not to initiate new audits or analyses which are expected to exceed $750,000 in cost without prior notification to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations.

SURFACE TRANSPORTATION BOARD

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement appropriates $16,000,000 for salaries and expenses of the Surface Transportation Board as proposed by the House instead of $13,853,000 as proposed by the Senate. In addition, the conference agreement includes language proposed by the House that allows the Board to offset $2,600,000 of its appropriation from fees collected during the fiscal year. The Senate bill allowed the Board to collect $2,000,000 in fees to augment its appropriation. Any fees received in excess of $2,600,000 in fiscal year 1999 shall not be available for obligation until October 1, 1999, as proposed by the House. The Senate bill proposed that fees in excess of $2,000,000 shall not be available until October 1, 1999.

TITLE II—RELATED AGENCIES

ARCHITECTURAL AND TRANSPORTATION BARRIERS COMPLIANCE BOARD

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement appropriates $3,847,000 for expenses of the Architectural and Transportation Barriers Compliance Board as proposed by both the House and Senate.

NATIONAL TRANSPORTATION SAFETY BOARD

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement appropriates $53,473,000 for salaries and expenses of the National Transportation Safety Board as proposed by the Senate instead of $53,300,000 as proposed by the House. Per diem rates are authorized at the GS-15 level as proposed by the House instead of at the GS-18 level as proposed by the Senate.

TWA flight 800 accident investigation.—To further assist and support the State of New York with the costs incurred during the investigation of the TWA flight 800 accident, the conferees require the NTSB to issue its draft report and allow the state and localities an opportunity to address the cost issues.

EMERGENCY FUND

The conference agreement provides $1,000,000 to the National Transportation Safety Board's emergency fund, as proposed by both the House and the Senate. Language proposed by the Senate to expand the emergency fund to include costs associated with family assistance activities is not included. Per diem rates are authorized at the GS-15 level as proposed by the House instead of at the GS-18 level as proposed by the Senate.

TITLE III—GENERAL PROVISIONS

(INCLUDING TRANSFERS OF FUNDS)

Sec. 301 allows funds for aircraft; motor vehicles; liability insurance, uniforms, or allowances, as authorized by law as proposed by both the House and Senate.

Sec. 302 requires pay raises to be funded within appropriated levels in this Act or previous appropriations Acts as proposed by both the House and Senate.

Sec. 303 allows funds for expenditures for primary and secondary schools and transportation for dependents of Federal Aviation Administration personnel stationed outside the continental United States as proposed by both the House and Senate.

Sec. 304 limits appropriations for services authorized by 5 U.S.C. 3109 and the rate for an executive level IV as proposed by both the House and Senate.

Sec. 305 prohibits funds in this Act for salaries and expenses of more than 100 political and Presidential appointees in the Department of Transportation instead of 91 political and Presidential appointees as proposed by the Senate and 88 political and Presidential appointees as proposed by the House. Sec. 305 also includes a provision as proposed by both the Senate and House that prohibits political and Presidential personnel to be assigned on temporary detail outside the Department of Transportation.

Sec. 306 prohibits pay and other expenses for non-Federal parties in regulatory or adjudicatory proceedings funded in this Act as proposed by both the House and Senate.

Sec. 307 prohibits obligations beyond the current fiscal year and prohibits transfers of funds unless expressly so provided herein as proposed by both the House and Senate.

Sec. 308 allows the Secretary of the Department of Transportation to enter into grants, cooperative agreements, and other transactions involving the Technology Reinvestment Project as proposed by both the House and Senate.

Sec. 309 limits consulting service expenditures of public record in procurement contracts as proposed by both the House and Senate.

Sec. 310 pertains to the distribution of the Federal-aid highways obligation authority as proposed by the Senate. The House proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 311 exempts previously made transit obligations from limitations on obligations as proposed by the Senate. The House proposed exempting previously made transit obligations under the discretionary grants program from limitations on obligations.

Sec. 312 prohibits funds for the National Highway Safety Advisory Commission as proposed by both the House and Senate.

Sec. 313 prohibits funds to establish a vessel traffic safety fairway less than five miles wide between Santa Barbara and San Francisco traffic separation schemes as proposed by both the House and Senate.

Sec. 314 allows airports to transfer to the Federal Aviation Administration instrument landing systems as proposed by both the House and Senate.

Sec. 315 deletes the word "or" before "(2) includes" proposed by the Senate. Sec. 315 prohibits funds to award multiyear contracts for production end items that include certain specified provisions as proposed by both the House and Senate.

Sec. 316 allows the State of Alaska to utilize allocated highway funds for projects of international origin or implications as proposed by the Senate. The House proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 317 allows funds for discretionary grants of the Federal Transit Administration for specific projects, except for fixed guideway modernization projects, not obligated by September 30, 2001, and other recoveries to be used for other projects under 49 U.S.C. 5309 as proposed by the Senate instead of allowing funds for discretionary grants not obligated by September 30, 2001, as proposed by the House.

Sec. 318 allows transit funds appropriated before October 1, 1998, and that remain available for expenditure to be transferred as proposed by both the House and Senate.

Sec. 319 prohibits funds to compensate in excess of 350 technical staff-years under the federally funded research and development contract between the Federal Aviation Administration and the Center for Advanced Aviation Systems Development as proposed by both the House and Senate.

Sec. 320 reduces funding by $15,000,000 for activities of the transportation administrative service center of the Department of Transportation and limits obligation authority of the center to $109,124,000. The House proposed reducing funding by $20,000,000 for activities of the center and limiting obligation authority to $89,124,000. The Senate proposed reducing funding by $17,247,000 for activities of the center and limiting obligation authority to $165,215,000.

Sec. 321 allows funds received by the Federal Highway Administration, Federal Transit Administration, and the Federal Railroad Administration from States, counties, municipalities, other public authorities, and private sources for expenses incurred for training to be credited to each agency's respective accounts as proposed by the House. The Senate proposed allowing funds received by only the Federal Highway Administration and the Federal Railroad Administration.

Sec. 322 prohibits funds to be used to prepare, propose, or promulgate any regulation pursuant to title V of the Motor Vehicle Information and Cost Savings Act prescribing corporate average fuel economy standards for automobiles as defined in such title, in any model year that differs from standards promulgated for such automobiles prior to enactment of this section as proposed by the House. The Senate proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 323 conveys Coast Guard lights in Tangipahoa Parish and Madisonville in Louisiana to non-federal parties as proposed by the House. The Senate proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 324 prohibits the use of funds to promulgate or enforce any regulation that has the effect of requiring two attendants during unloading of liquefied compressed gases as proposed by the Senate. The House proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 325 allows funds received by the Bureau of Transportation Statistics to be subject to the obligation limitation for Federal-aid highways and highway safety construction as proposed by the House instead of such funds not being subject to the obligation limitation as proposed by the Senate.

Sec. 326 prohibits the use of funds for any type of training which: (1) does not meet needs for knowledge, skills, and abilities bearing directly on the performance of official duties; (2) could be highly stressful or emotional to the students; (3) does not provide prior notification of content and methods to be used during the training; (4) contains any religious concepts or ideas; (5) attempts to modify a person's values or lifestyle; or (6) is for AIDS awareness training, except for raising awareness of medical ramifications of AIDS and workplace rights as proposed by the House. The Senate proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 327 prohibits the use of funds in this Act for activities designed to influence Congress on legislation or appropriations except through proper, official channels as proposed by both the House and Senate.

Sec. 328 limits necessary expenses of advisory committees to $1,000,000 of the funds provided in this Act to the Department of Transportation as proposed by both the House and Senate. The conference agreement also includes a new provision that excludes advisory committees established for conducting negotiated rule-making in accordance with the Negotiated Rulemaking Act or the Coast Guard's advisory council on roles and missions from the limitation.

Sec. 329 provides authority to mitigate leaking aboveground storage tanks in Alaska as proposed by the Senate. The House proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 330 prohibits funds to be used for conducting the activities of the Surface Transportation Board other than those appropriated or from fees collected by the Board as proposed by both the House and Senate.

Sec. 331 requires compliance with the Buy American Act as proposed by both the House and Senate.

Sec. 332 allows receipts collected from users of Department of Transportation fitness centers to be available to support operation and maintenance of those facilities as proposed by both the House and Senate.

Sec. 333 prohibits funds to implement or enforce regulations that would result in slot allocations of international operations to any carrier at O'Hare International Airport in excess of the number of slots allocated to and scheduled by that carrier as of October 31, 1993, if that slot is withdrawn from an air carrier under existing regulations as proposed by the House. The Senate proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 334 limits the number of communities that receive essential air service funding by excluding points in the 48 contiguous United States that are located 70 highway miles from the nearest large or medium hub airport, or that require a subsidy in excess of $200 per passenger, unless such a point is more than 210 miles from the nearest large or medium hub airport as proposed by both the House and Senate.

Sec. 335 credits to appropriations of the Department of Transportation rebates, refunds, incentive payments, minor fees and other funds received by the Department from travel management centers, charge card programs, the subleasing of building space, and miscellaneous sources as proposed by both the House and Senate. Such funds received shall be available until December 31, 1999.

Sec. 336 authorizes the Secretary of Transportation to allow issuers of any preferred stock to redeem or repurchase preferred stock sold to the Department of Transportation as proposed by the House. The Senate proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 337 rescinds unobligated balances of funds made available in previous appropriations Acts for the National Civil Aviation Review Commission and for Urban Mass Transportation Administration's "Urban discretionary grants" as proposed by the House. The Senate proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 338 conveys land from the former Coast Guard reserve training facility in Jacksonville, Florida, to non-federal parties as proposed by the House. The Senate proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 339 provides $250,000 for activities and operations of a Centennial of Flight Commission as proposed by the House. The Senate proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 340 requires the Secretary to waive repayment of any federal-aid highway funds expended on the construction of high occupancy lanes or auxiliary lanes on I-287 in the State of New Jersey. Similar but differing provisions were proposed by the House and Senate.

Sec. 341 authorizes the conveyance of Coast Guard Station Ocracoke in North Carolina to the State of North Carolina as proposed by the Senate. The House proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 342 allows funds appropriated in this or any other Act intended for highway demonstration projects, railroad-highway crossing demonstration projects or railroad relocation projects in Augusta, Georgia, to be available for other projects in Augusta, Georgia, as proposed by the Senate. The House proposed that only previously appropriated funds for a railroad-highway crossing project in Augusta, Georgia, be available for other projects in Augusta, Georgia.

Sec. 343 prohibits the Coast Guard from enforcing regulations regarding animal fats and vegetable oils as proposed by both the House and Senate.

Sec. 344 makes emergency railroad rehabilitation and repair funding available for natural disasters occurring from September 1996 through July 10, 1998 as proposed by the House. The Senate proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 345 requires the Administrator of the Federal Highway Administration and other participating federal agencies to consider certain alternatives in evaluating environmental impacts of the toll road in Orange and San Diego counties, California. The provision also requires the Administrator of the Federal Highway Administration to retain and exercise all authority regarding the environmental impact statement and record of decision regarding the toll road. The House proposed requiring only the Administrator of the Federal Highway Administration to consider certain alternatives in evaluating environmental impacts of the toll road in Orange and San Diego counties, California. The Senate proposed no similar provision. This provision is necessary given the unique nature of this project.

Sec. 346 provides for the conveyance of a decommissioned Coast Guard vessel to the University of South Alabama that is determined to be appropriate by the Commandant and the University as proposed by the House. The Senate proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 347 amends item 1132 of Public Law 105-178 by striking "Pirate Cove" and inserting "Pirates' Cove and 4-lane connector to Mississippi Highway 468" as proposed by both the House and Senate.

Sec. 348 conveys the Coast Guard Long Branch Rear Range Light in Jacksonville, Florida, to Jacksonville University as proposed by the House. The Senate proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 349 appropriates $450,000 for necessary expenses of the Amtrak Reform Council, to remain available until September 30, 2000, as proposed by both the House and Senate. Both the House and Senate proposed funding through the Office of the Secretary; however, consistent with the Amtrak Reform and Accountability Act authorization (Public Law 105-134), the conference agreement provides these funds as a separate appropriation. The duties of the Amtrak Reform Council are expanded in the provision, as proposed by the Senate, to include the identification of Amtrak routes which are candidates for closure or realignment in the Council's annual report to Congress, which is required in section 203(h) of Public Law 105-134. The Department of Transportation is expected to provide the ARC with administrative support, consisting of space, telecommunications, computers, and supplies. This support shall be provided without cost to the ARC. Sec. 349 also prohibits the use of funds for payment to outside consultants as proposed by both the House and Senate.

Sec. 350 provides a complete waiver from the application of all federal statutes for any project to construct new entrances and exits between existing exits 57 and 58 on Interstate 495 in Suffolk County, New York. The scope of the waiver in the provision, which states that "the Secretary shall approve and the State of New York is authorized to proceed with final design, engineering, and construction”, means that notwithstanding all federal statutes not otherwise determined in the provision to apply, the state may proceed with all remaining phases of the project. No other federal agency approval or permit is required unless such approval or permit is specified in the provision. The phrase “the Secretary shall approve” means that the Secretary of Transportation may only approve the plans, specifications and engineering for the project and release funding for the project. The phrase was included to ensure that the Secretary would approve any application for releasing a request for funding for the project since he has a unique responsibility among all federal agencies with respect to a highway project to approve funding. It should not be read to give other federal agencies authority over the project indirectly by any authority they might otherwise have with respect to decisions of the Secretary, nor should the phrase in any way be construed to permit other federal agencies authority over the project since their involvement in the project is waived unless specifically reserved. The provision specifically permits the Secretary to review any final design of such project. This is intended to ensure that the project meets design and geometric criteria for the Interstate system. The New York State Department of Transportation will be the agency responsible for the planning, design and construction of the project. All State laws shall still apply. The Senate proposed a similar provision. The House proposed no similar provision. This provision is necessary given the unique nature of this project.

Sec. 351 provides that bumper standards are within the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration’s exemption discretion for case-by-case determinations as proposed by the Senate. The House proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 352 provides funds for the Transportation Research Institute at the University of Alabama in Tuscaloosa, Alabama. The House and Senate proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 353 allows discretionary bus funds in this Act and funds previously made available for the Virtual Transit Enterprise integration of information project in South Carolina to be used for any aspect of the project instead of allowing only discretionary bus funds previously made available as proposed by the Senate. The House proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 354 amends Public Law 105–178 to allow the State of Vermont to utilize the State’s transit formula funds for Amtrak capital investment and operating support as proposed by the Senate. The House proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 355 clarifies the Delaware River Port Authority toll collection authority as proposed by the Senate. The House proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 356 amends Public Law 105–178 to provide the states of Idaho, Alaska, and West Virginia highway project funding flexibility within the state instead of providing the states of West Virginia and Idaho highway project funding flexibility as proposed by the Senate. The House proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 357 allows Economic Development Administration funds obligated and awarded in fiscal year 1994 to the City of Pittsburg, Kansas to be disbursed to the City in accordance with the project description in the award documents. The House and Senate proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 358 allows funding provided in a previous appropriations Act to be used for the Saint Barnard Parish intermodal facility in Louisiana. The House and Senate proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 359 authorizes the Secretary of Transportation to transfer appropriations among the offices of the Office of the Secretary. The House and Senate proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 360 amends section 3027 of Public Law 105-178 to allow transit providers of services to the elderly and disabled that operate 20 or fewer vehicles and are located in urbanized areas with a population of at least 200,000 to use federal funds to finance up to $1,000,000 of the operating costs of equipment and facilities annually. The House and Senate proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 361 provides the Commonwealth of Virginia with exclusive authority to determine the high-occupancy vehicle restrictions on Interstate Highway 66 in Virginia. In the coming years, commuters in Northern Virginia will see additional congestion associated with improvements to Interstate 66, the Woodrow Wilson Bridge and the Interstate 95 and Capital Beltway "Mixing Bowl" interchange. As a result, the Commonwealth will require the flexibility to determine high-occupancy vehicle requirements on Interstate Highway 66. The House and Senate proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 362 prohibits funds to be used to issue a final standard under docket number NHTSA 98-3945 (relating to section 656(b) of the Illegal Immigration Reform and Responsibility Act of 1996). The House and Senate proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 363 amends section 1602 of Public Law 105-178 relating to construction of a multimodal transportation corridor along GA 400 in Georgia. The House and Senate proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 364 allows the State of Georgia to use federal transportation funds to retrofit sound barriers along Interstate 20 in Atlanta, Georgia. The House and Senate proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 365 provides a complete waiver from the application of federal environmental statutes to the specified project for the East Foley corridor highway project between Baldwin County Highway 20 and State Highway 59 in the State of Alabama. The scope of the waiver in the provision, which states that "the Secretary shall approve and the State of Alabama is authorized to proceed with construction", means notwithstanding all federal statutes not otherwise determined in the provision to apply, the state may proceed with all remaining phases of the project. No other federal agency approval or permit is required unless such approval or permit is specified in the provision. In this provision, all federal requirements which do not relate to federal environmental laws, such as disadvantaged business enterprise requirements or the Davis-Bacon Act, are reserved and shall still apply to the project. The phrase "the Secretary shall approve" means that the Secretary of Transportation may only determine if all other federal non-environmental statutes are being complied with. If he makes such a determination, then the Secretary shall approve the plans, specifications and engineering for the project and release funding for the project.

The phrase was included to ensure that the Secretary would approve any application for releasing a request for funding for the project since he has a unique responsibility among all federal agencies with respect to a highway project to approve funding. It should not be read to give other federal agencies authority over the project indirectly by an authority they might otherwise have with respect to decisions of the Secretary, nor should the phrase in any way be construed to permit other federal agencies authority over the project since their involvement in the project is waived unless specifically reserved. Finally, the provision provides that environmental reviews already performed by the Alabama Department of Environmental Management and the Mobile District of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers satisfy all federal environmental laws. Any analysis and mitigation measures provided in those reviews, but no others, must remain in effect. The House and Senate proposed no similar provision. This provision is necessary given the unique nature of this project.

Sec. 366 amends high priority project number 1083 of Public Law 105-178 related to the Winters Freeway in Abilene, Texas. The House and Senate proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 367 allows the State of Minnesota to obligate funds apportioned pursuant to section 117 of title 23, United States Code, for highway projects in St. Paul, Minnesota. The House and Senate proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 368 amends item number 577 in section 1602 of Public Law 105-178 to provide funds to improve marine dry dock and facilities in Ketchikan, Alaska. The House and Senate proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 369 amends section 5117(b)(6) of Public Law 105-178 to provide grants to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to establish an advanced traffic monitoring and response center. The House and Senate proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 370 amends Public Law 105-178 regarding intelligent transportation system projects in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The House and Senate proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 371 conveys land held by the United States Coast Guard to the town of New Castle, New Hampshire, while retaining such easements and rights-of-way as the Commandant considers necessary to protect the interests of the United States. The House and Senate proposed no similar provision.

Sec. 372 prohibits the Department of Transportation from creating "peanut-free" zones aboard domestic aircraft or otherwise implementing its interpretation of regulations governing this matter until 90 days after submission to the Congress and the Secretary of a peer-reviewed scientific study that determines that there are severe reactions by passengers to peanuts as a result of contact with very small airborne peanut particles of the kind that passengers might encounter in an aircraft. The Department is also directed to study the impact of all allergens which air passengers may come into contact with during flights and to develop alternative methodologies to mitigate the potential impact of allergens on susceptible, or "at-risk", air travelers, including requiring supervision of small children with life-threatening allergies. The conferees are concerned with the Department's recent interpretation of the Air Carrier Access Act, pursuant to 14 CFR Part 382. The Department has taken the position that in certain circumstances, airlines should be required to provide "peanut-free" buffer zones on certain flights, despite the fact that, out of the hundreds of millions of air travelers each year, there has not been a single confirmed report of a peanut allergy-related incident on a domestic air carrier. The Department's actions place an undue burden on the airline industry, unnecessarily restrict the rights of air travelers, and pose serious economic consequences to American workers employed in the domestic peanut industry. The conferees are concerned that the Department has taken this action without any scientific justification to support its position. Nothing in this provision should be interpreted to limit efforts by air carriers to protect passengers with severe allergies through self-directed means. If, upon the submission of the above-mentioned study, the Secretary determines that further advisory or regulatory action is warranted, the conferees expect the Secretary to consult extensively with air carriers, the peanut industry, medical specialists, and concerned citizen groups before taking such action.

Sec. 373 amends Public Law 105-178 to require consultation with local government officials in Wisconsin on an interstate substitution project in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. The House proposed no similar provision.

The conference agreement deletes the House provision that establishes a blue-ribbon panel to study the future capital requirements, roles, and missions of the Coast Guard. The Senate proposed no similar provision.

The conference agreement deletes the House provision that prohibits funds for improvements to the Miller Highway in New York City except for funds resulting from obligations pursuant to sections 1601 and 1602 of Public Law 105-178. The conference agreement also deletes the Senate provision that provides that the funds within Public Law 105-178 for Miller Highway in New York City shall be available to the State of New York subject to the State and local planning and environmental review process.

The conference agreement deletes the Senate provision that requires Amtrak to publish the national average per passenger loss on each ticket sold; requires commercial airlines to display on each ticket sold a per passenger subsidy rate based on the general treasury funds appropriated to the Federal Aviation Administration and number of seats sold in fiscal year 1997; and requires the Federal Highway Administration to ensure the placement of signs on federal-aid highways that display the total general fund appropriation provided by the federal government for State and local highway construction and maintenance in fiscal year 1997. The House proposed no similar provision.

The conference agreement deletes the Senate provision that provides that the Secretary of Transportation shall enter into agreements with the New York State Department of Transportation that would allow automotive service stations or other commercial establishments for serving motor vehicle users to be sited and constructed in the vicinity of exit 51 and either exit 66, 67, or 68 of the Long Island Expressway (Interstate 495) in Suffolk County. The House proposed no similar provision.

The conference agreement deletes the Senate provision that provides that of the funds made available for capital investment grants $20,000,000 is provided for the Norfolk-Virginia Beach corridor project; $1,500,000 is provided for the Massachusetts North Shore Corridor project; $5,000,000 is provided for the San Diego Mission Valley and Mid-Coast corridor projects; $3,300,000 is provided for the Hartford, Connecticut light rail project; $200,000 is provided for the Southeast Michigan commuter rail viability study; $2,000,000 is provided for major investment analysis of Honolulu transit alternatives; $2,700,000 is provided for the Stamford, Connecticut fixed guideway connector; $3,500,000 is provided for the Providence-Boston commuter rail project; and $500,000 is provided for the Old Saybrook-Hartford rail extension project. The House proposed no similar provision.

The conference agreement deletes the Senate provision that amends Public Law 96-487 to permit the use of helicopters in Alaskan wilderness areas. The House proposed no similar provision.

The conference agreement deletes without prejudice the Senate provision clarifying that the Reno Transportation Corridor project is eligible for assistance under the Transportation Infrastructure Finance and Innovation (TIFIA) program under section 1503 of Public Law 105-178. The Federal Highway Administrator has confirmed through correspondence that this project is eligible for such assistance. This meritorious project and other rail-highway crossing mitigation projects should be considered for loan financing under the TIFIA program. The House proposed no similar provision.

The conference agreement deletes the Senate provision that prohibits smoking on scheduled domestic and foreign airline flight segments taking off from or landing in the United States. The House proposed no similar provision.

The conference agreement deletes the Senate provision that allows for intra-state transportation of agricultural production materials under State hazardous material transportation laws that are inconsistent with federal hazardous material transportation laws in fiscal year 1999 only. The House proposed no similar provision.

The conference agreement deletes the Senate provision that requires the National Transportation Safety Board to reimburse the State of New York and local counties in New York for certain costs associated with the crash of TWA flight 800. The House proposed no similar provision.

The conference agreement deletes the Senate provision that requires the Secretary of Transportation to ensure that there is sufficient signage directing visitors to cemeteries of the National Cemetery System. The House proposed no similar provision.

The conference agreement deletes the Senate provision that provides for the expedited judicial review to ensure constitutionality of the disadvantaged business enterprise program in Public Law 105-178. The House proposed no similar provision.

SECTION 101(h): TREASURY AND GENERAL GOVERNMENT
APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 1999

The conferees on H.R. 4328 agree with the matter inserted in this subsection of this conference agreement and the following description of this matter. This matter was developed through negotiations on the differences in the House and Senate versions of H.R. 4104, the Department of Treasury and General Government Appropriations Act, 1999, by members of the appropriations subcommittee of both the House and Senate with jurisdiction over H.R. 4104.

The conference agreement on the Treasury and General Government Appropriations Act, 1999, incorporates some of the language and allocations set forth in House Report 105-592 and Senate Report 105-251. The language in these reports should be complied with unless specifically addressed in the accompanying statement of managers.

Senate Amendment: The Senate deleted the entire House bill after the enacting clause and inserted the Senate bill. The conference agreement includes a revised bill.

Throughout the accompanying explanatory statement, the managers refer to the Committee and the Committees on Appropriations. Unless otherwise noted, in both instances the managers are referring to the House Subcommittee on Treasury, Postal Service, and General Government and the Senate Subcommittee on Treasury and General Government.

REPROGRAMMING AND TRANSFER OF FUNDS GUIDELINES

Due to continuing issues associated with agency requests for reprogramming and transfer of funds and use of unobligated balances, the conferees have agreed to reprogramming guidelines included in House Report 105-592. Those guidelines shall be complied with by all agencies funded by the Treasury and General Government Appropriations Act, 1999:

1. Except under extraordinary and emergency situations, the Committees on Appropriations will not consider requests for a reprogramming or a transfer of funds, or use of unobligated balances, which are submitted after the close of the third quarter of the fiscal year, June 30;

2. Clearly stated and detailed documentation presenting justification for the reprogramming, transfer, or use of unobligated balances shall accompany each request;

3. For agencies, departments, or offices receiving appropriations in excess of $20,000,000, a reprogramming shall be submitted if the amount to be shifted to or from any object class, budget activity, program line item, or program activity involved is in excess of $500,000 or 10 percent, whichever is greater, of the object class, budget activity, program line item, or program activity;

4. For agencies, departments, or offices receiving appropriations less than $20,000,000, a reprogramming shall be submitted if the amount to be shifted to or from any object class, budget activity, program line item, or program activity involved is in excess of $50,000, or 10 percent, whichever is greater, of the object class, budget activity, program line item, or program activity;

5. For any action where the cumulative effect of below threshold reprogramming actions, or past reprogramming and/or transfer actions added to the request, would exceed the dollar threshold mentioned above, a reprogramming shall be submitted;

6. For any action which would result in a major change to the program or item which is different than that presented to and approved by either of the Committees, or the Congress, a reprogramming shall be submitted;

7. For any action where funds earmarked by either of the Committees for a specific activity are proposed to be used for a different activity, a reprogramming shall be submitted; and,

8. For any action where funds earmarked by either of the Committees for a specific activity are in excess of the project or activity requirement, and are proposed to be used for a different activity, a reprogramming shall be submitted.

Additionally, each request shall include a declaration that, as of the date of the request, none of the funds included in the request have been obligated, and none will be obligated, until the Committees on Appropriations have approved the request.

TITLE I—DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

DEPARTMENTAL OFFICES

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement appropriates $123,151,000 for Departmental Offices instead of $122,889,000 as proposed by the House and $120,671,000 as proposed by the Senate. The amount appropriated includes: $3,704,000 for mandatory cost increases; an additional $470,000 for the Office of Tax Policy; an additional $255,000 for the Office of Economic Policy; an additional $499,000 for International Affairs Policies and Programs; an additional $801,000 for Enforcement Policies and Programs; an additional $866,000 for the Office of Foreign Assets Control; an additional $239,000 for Fiscal and Financial Policies and Programs; and an additional $300,000 for Treasury-wide management policies and practices. The conferees are aware that additional funds in the amount of $1,238,000 are required in fiscal year 1999 for Year 2000 compliance. The conference agreement also includes funding to allow the Department to provide no more than $500,000 in contract awards to the National Law Center for Inter-American Free Trade as proposed by the House.

The conferees have agreed to provide an additional $1,200,000 within this account for the Under Secretary of Enforcement to continue the operations of the Office of Professional Responsibility, should he so desire, as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement includes language which provides that the Office of Foreign Assets Control shall be funded at no less than $6,560,800 as proposed by the Senate instead of $5,517,000 as proposed by the House. The conferees have included language authorizing the Department to charge both direct and indirect costs to the Office of Foreign Assets Control in the implementation of this floor.

The Senate bill included language in this and a number of other accounts which provides that funds appropriated in this Act may be used for Year 2000 computer conversion costs pending the availability of funding for that purpose in a separate appropriation. The conferees have deleted that language in each instance in which it occurs and have instead included a new general provision (Section 513) to permit the use of funds provided in this Act to initiate or continue projects or activities to the extent necessary to achieve Year 2000 computer conversion until such time as supplemental appropriations are provided for those activities.

The conference agreement deletes language proposed by the House which provides compensation for losses incurred due to the denial of entry into the United States of certain firearms. The conferees have included language in Title VI (Section 646) of the bill to provide for this relief through the use of the Judgement Fund, as proposed by the Senate.

TREASURY LAW ENFORCEMENT VEHICLES

No later than 90 days after enactment of this Act, the Department shall submit to the Committees on Appropriations directives to implement the management of law enforcement vehicle usage in the Department. These directives shall include: development of a Department-wide vehicle management system to ensure adequate oversight of vehicle usage; standards and procedures for full compliance with home-to-work regulations on vehicle use; verifiable determination that vehicle use throughout the Department is in support of law enforcement purposes only; and implementation of a log tracking system by activity and specific use of law enforcement vehicles.

UNDER SECRETARY FOR ENFORCEMENT

The conferees direct the Department of the Treasury to submit, with its fiscal year 2000 budget request, detailed budget justification materials for the Office of the Under Secretary for Enforcement.

OFFICE OF PROFESSIONAL RESPONSIBILITY

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conferees agree to provide no separate funding for the Office of Professional Responsibility (OPR) in fiscal year 1999 as proposed by the Senate, but instead have provided adequate funding within the Departmental Offices appropriations for the Under Secretary for Enforcement to continue the work of this office should he so desire. The conferees expect that the Department also will use approximately $350,000 in reprogramming authority, the anticipated share of the unobligated balance of funds at the end of fiscal year 1998, to augment this appropriation.

In fiscal year 1998, the Under Secretary for Enforcement was charged with tasking OPR to conduct a comprehensive review of integrity issues and other matters related to the potential vulnerability of the United States Customs Service to corruption, to include examination of charges of professional misconduct and corruption as well as analysis of the efficacy of departmental and bureau internal affairs systems. The conferees expect that this work will continue, and that it will be in conjunction with related efforts funded through the Customs Integrity Awareness Program.

AUTOMATION ENHANCEMENT

The conferees agree to provide $28,690,000 for Automation Enhancement instead of $31,190,000 as proposed by the House and $28,990,000 as proposed by the Senate. The amount provided shall be transferred as follows:

Customs Service.—$8,000,000 for the Automated Commercial Environment.

Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms.—$3,700,000 for a human resources system re-engineering pilot program.

Departmental Offices.—$16,990,000, of which $5,400,000 is for the International Trade Data System, of which $6,577,000 is for Department-wide human resources re-engineering program management and implementation, of which $3,813,000 is for Departmental Offices productivity enhancement, of which $1,000,000 is for the Treasury Vehicle Management System, and of which $200,000 is for Department-wide implementation of the Treasury Information System Architecture Framework.

The conferees agree that the funds provided shall remain available until September 30, 2000, as proposed by the House rather than remain available until expended as proposed by the Senate.

The conferees are aware that additional funds in the amount of $2,762,000 are required in fiscal year 1999 for Year 2000 compliance.

AUTOMATED COMMERCIAL ENVIRONMENT

The conferees agree to provide $8,000,000 for the Customs Service ACE project, with the proviso that $6,000,000 shall not be available for obligation until the Treasury's Chief Information Officer, through the Treasury Investment Review Board, concurs on the plan and milestone schedule for the deployment of the system. Furthermore, $6,000,000 shall not be obligated until the Commissioner of Customs provides to the Committees on Appropriations an Enterprise Information Systems Architecture (EISA) for Customs that covers all Customs' areas of business—not just trade compliance. For the EISA to be acceptable, it must comply with the Treasury Information Systems Architecture Framework, include measures to enforce compliance, and be approved by the Treasury Investment Review Board.

The conferees are pleased with the efforts made by the Treasury Department to exercise some management responsibility for the ACE project, which represents an enormous information technology investment for the Department and Customs. Clear benefits are already being seen in the quality of analysis applied to investment decisions, and coordination with other information technology projects such as the International Trade Data System (ITDS). The conferees support the continued exercise of strong oversight by the Treasury Department over this project.

FINANCIAL CRIMES ENFORCEMENT NETWORK

The conferees agree to provide $24,000,000 as proposed by the House instead of $23,670,000 as proposed by the Senate. In addition, the conferees agree that the funds shall be available with no earmark for the GATEWAY program, as had been proposed by the Senate.

TREASURY FORFEITURE FUND

The conferees expect that the super surplus for the Treasury Forfeiture Fund will continue to be large in fiscal year 1999, and direct the Department to provide the Committees its plan for intended use of these resources in a timely fashion, as well as in its presentation of the fiscal year 2000 budget request.

The conferees support the use of the super surplus to further advance Treasury Department law enforcement programs, and acknowledge the Department's plan to use its surplus for a variety of activities. The conferees direct the Department to use $11,012,000 as follows: $5,512,000 for the construction of a P-3 hangar in Corpus Christi, Texas, for the United States Customs Service; $4,000,000 for the CEASEFIRE/IBIS program, and $1,500,000 for the Global Transpark Customs Information Project. The conferees also agree that super surplus funds may be used for replacement of law enforcement vehicles, instead of the prohibition proposed by the Senate.

VIOLENT CRIME REDUCTION PROGRAMS

The conferees agree to provide $132,000,000 as proposed by the House and Senate. This amount is to be used as follows:

Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms:
GREAT administration/training	$ 3,000,000
GREAT Program Grants	13,000,000
Customs Service:
Narcotics detection technology	54,000,000
Passenger processing initiative	9,500,000
Canopy construction	972,000
Child pornography investigation	1,000,000
Subtotal, Customs Service	65,472,000
Secret Service:
Counterfeiting investigations	5,000,000
Forensic technology and assistance	2,000,000
NCMEC assistance	1,196,000
2000 campaign protection	7,732,000
Vehicle replacement	6,700,000
Subtotal, Secret Service	22,628,000
Financial Crimes Enforcement Network:
Cyberpayment studies	800,000
Suspicious activity report analysis	300,000
Support for State and local GATEWAY	200,000
Money laundering regulations	100,000
Subtotal, FinCEN	1,400,000
Interagency Crime and Drug Enforcement	24,000,000
Office of National Drug Control Policy:
Model State drug law conferences	1,000,000
High intensity drug trafficking areas	1,500,000
Subtotal, ONDCP	2,500,000

BUREAU OF ALCOHOL, TOBACCO AND FIREARMS

The conferees agree to provide $3,000,000 to ATF for the management of the GREAT program as proposed by the House rather than in the ATF Salaries and Expenses appropriation as proposed by the Senate. The funding proposed by the Senate for laboratory and investigative support is funded under ATF's Salaries and Expenses appropriation.

GANG RESISTANCE EDUCATION AND TRAINING

The conferees agree to provide $13,000,000 to ATF, instead of $10,000,000 as proposed by the House and $13,239,000 as proposed by the Senate for grants to local law enforcement organizations for the Gang Resistance Education and Training (GREAT) program. The GREAT program has been enthusiastically endorsed by communities in Colorado, North Carolina and Wisconsin. The conferees direct that qualified law enforcement and prevention organizations from these areas be funded under GREAT.

The conferees are aware of concerns about the lack of a long-term evaluation of the impact of this program. Therefore, the conferees urge ATF to contract with the National Academy of Sciences, Committee on Law and Justice, to conduct an independent evaluation of the GREAT program.

CUSTOMS SERVICE

The conferees agree to provide $65,472,000, instead of $66,472,000 as proposed by the House and $54,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. Within these funds, the conferees include $54,000,000 for narcotics detection technology, $9,500,000 for passenger processing, $972,000 for canopy construction, and $1,000,000 for additional technologies associated with the child pornography cyber-smuggling initiative. The conferees agree that $2,400,000 of the Customs Salaries and Expenses account should be used for the cyber-smuggling initiative, as proposed by the Senate.

SECRET SERVICE

The conferees agree to provide $22,628,000, instead of $14,528,000 as proposed by the House and $15,403,000 as proposed by the Senate. Within these funds, the conferees include $5,000,000 for counterfeiting investigations, $7,732,000 for campaign protection activities, $6,700,000 for vehicle replacement, and $3,196,000 for forensic and related support of investigations of missing and exploited children. Of the amounts provided for missing and exploited children, the conferees agree to provide $1,196,000 for the continued operations of the Child Exploitation Unit at the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children.

FINANCIAL CRIMES ENFORCEMENT NETWORK

The conferees agree to provide $1,400,000 for FinCEN as proposed by the Senate, instead of no funding as proposed by the House. Within these funds, the conferees include $800,000 for cyberpayment studies; $300,000 for Suspicious Activity Report analysis; $200,000 for training and support for State and local GATEWAY participation; and $100,000 for money laundering regulations.

FEDERAL LAW ENFORCEMENT TRAINING CENTER

The conferees agree to provide no VCRTF funding for FLETC as proposed by the House, instead of $1,158,000 as proposed by the Senate. The affected programs—rural law enforcement training and equipment replacement—are funded in FLETC's Salaries and Expenses appropriation.

INTERAGENCY CRIME AND DRUG ENFORCEMENT

The conferees agree to provide $24,000,000 for ICDE as proposed by the House, instead of $45,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. An additional $51,900,000 is provided in the Interagency Law Enforcement account. The total of $75,900,000 fully funds the President's request.

OFFICE OF NATIONAL DRUG CONTROL POLICY

The conferees agree to provide $2,500,000 for ONDCP, instead of $14,000,000 as proposed by the House and no funding as proposed by the Senate. $1,000,000 of this funding would cover the costs of continuing support for Model State Drug Law Conferences, as proposed by the House. $13,000,000 proposed by the House for continued funding for the technology transfer program run by the Counterdrug Technology Assessment Center will instead be funded in the ONDCP Salaries and Expenses account, as proposed by the Senate.

HIGH INTENSITY DRUG TRAFFICKING AREAS

The conferees agree to provide $1,500,000 in additional funding for the Milwaukee, Wisconsin HIDTA.

FEDERAL LAW ENFORCEMENT TRAINING CENTER

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conferees agree to provide $71,923,000 as proposed by the House instead of $66,251,000 as proposed by the Senate, including up to $13,843,000 to be used for materials and support costs. The conferees agree to language proposed by the Senate to permit funding for travel expenses of non-Federal personnel to attend course development meetings and training sponsored by the Center. The conferees also agree to maintain existing statutory language affecting the authority to provide funding for student athletics and student interns, as proposed by the Senate.

GREAT TRAINING

The conferees agree to include new language, as proposed by the Senate, to authorize the Center to provide training for the Gang Resistance Education and Training program to Federal and non-Federal personnel at any facility in partnership with ATF.

FIREARMS TRAINING SYSTEMS

The conferees direct the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center, in consultation with their interested client law enforcement agencies, to examine and evaluate all available firearms training technologies for systems providing the greatest cost effective multi-application benefit for firearms training of law enforcement personnel. The conferees are aware of current technologies, such as the BEAMHIT targeting system and plastic cased ammunition, which appear to offer cost benefits and systems flexibility for multiple training activities and greater sensitivity for environmental protection.

ACQUISITION, CONSTRUCTION, IMPROVEMENTS, AND RELATED EXPENSES

The conferees agree to provide $34,760,000, instead of $28,360,000 as proposed by the House and $15,360,000 as proposed by the Senate. This amount includes $6,400,000 for construction of new facilities at Artesia, New Mexico, required to meet the Center's basic training requirements.

INTERAGENCY LAW ENFORCEMENT

INTERAGENCY CRIME AND DRUG ENFORCEMENT

The conferees agree to provide $51,900,000 for ICDE as proposed by the House. An additional $24,000,000 is provided in the Violent Crime Reduction Programs account. The total of $75,900,000 fully funds the President's request.

FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT SERVICE

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement appropriates $196,490,000 for the Financial Management Service (FMS) as proposed by the Senate instead of $198,510,000 as proposed by the House.

The conferees have agreed with the proposal of the Senate on the funding level for the FMS, which reflects a reduction of $6,000,000 for Year 2000 conversion costs which will be available for FMS from a separate appropriation. The conferees received conflicting information from the Department of the Treasury about what the FMS's needs are for this purpose. Therefore, the conferees have assumed the higher number. The conferees understand and fully appreciate the need for FMS equipment to be Year 2000 compliant and note that the Department does have authority to transfer funding to FMS from other accounts within the Department under Section 114 of this Act should that become necessary.

The conference agreement deletes language proposed by the Senate delaying the availability of $4,500,000 for postage costs until September 30, 1999, and language proposed by the Senate stating that funds shall continue to be provided to the United States Postal Service for postage due.

DEBT COLLECTION IMPROVEMENT ACCOUNT

The conferees have agreed to delete funding for the Debt Collection Improvement Account proposed by the Senate. The House bill contained no similar provision.

FEDERAL FINANCING BANK

The conference agreement provides $3,317,960,000 for the liquidation of debts by the Federal Financing Bank instead of $3,317,690,000 as proposed by the Senate. The House bill contained no similar provision.

BUREAU OF ALCOHOL, TOBACCO AND FIREARMS

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conferees agree to provide $541,574,000, instead of $530,624,000 as proposed by the House and $529,489,000 as proposed by the Senate. This includes $2,000,000 for the Violent Crime Coordinators program and $4,500,000 for expansion of the National Tracing Center, as proposed by the Senate. The conferees agree that $2,206,000 of this funding will not be available for obligation until September 30, 1999, as proposed by the House.

The conferees are aware that additional funds in the amount of $5,000,000 are required in fiscal year 1999 for Year 2000 compliance.

The conferees agree to increase the limit for purchase of police-type vehicles to 812, as proposed by the House. The conferees direct the Under Secretary for Enforcement to exercise strong oversight with regard to any additional purchases in keeping with Department-wide efforts (addressed under Departmental Offices, above) to manage the use, allocation and acquisition of law enforcement vehicles. While neither the House nor Senate provided funding for this purpose, the conferees agree to provide $3,700,000 for vehicle replacement as the Administration had requested.

The conferees agree to authorize up to $15,000 for official reception and representation expenses, instead of $20,000 as proposed by the House and $12,500 proposed by the Senate.

The conferees agree to retain the limitation of $1,000,000 in authority to fund the equipping of vessels, vehicles or aircraft available for official use by a State or local law enforcement agency for use in joint law enforcement operations with ATF and for the payment of overtime salaries, travel, fuel and other costs for State and local law enforcement personnel, including sworn officers and support personnel, as proposed by the House. The conferees note that, while this maintains a limitation, unlike the Senate proposal, it allows such funding to be used for law enforcement operations other than drug-related ones, and clarifies that it encompasses support personnel as well as sworn law enforcement officers.

The conferees agree that per diem and/or subsistence allowances may be paid to employees for extensive overtime required when an employee is assigned to a National Response Team during the investigation of a bombing or arson incident, as proposed by the Senate, rather than simply for a major investigative assignment, as proposed by the House.

YOUTH CRIME GUN INTERDICTION INITIATIVE

The conferees strongly support ATF's efforts to stop illegal trafficking of crime weapons to young people and its statistical analysis in "The Crime Gun Trace Analysis Reports: The Illegal Youth Firearms Markets in 17 Communities", published in July 1997. However, the conferees believe that the proposed increase in funding must be supported by evidence of a significant reduction in youth crime, gun trafficking and availability. The conferees would like to see additional evidence linking the Youth Crime Gun Interdiction Initiative (YCGII) to a corresponding decrease in gun trafficking among youths and minors. Therefore, the conferees direct ATF to report no later than February 1, 1999, on the performance of YCGII.

The conferees further believe that an investment in experienced trafficking agents to conduct investigations arising out of leads obtained through this regional initiative is likely to have a significant impact on the number of prosecutions for illegal firearms trafficking. As a result, the conferees direct that, of the $27,000,000 to be provided for YCGII efforts, $16,000,000 be used to hire 81 experienced trafficking agents to expand the YCGII efforts in the 27 pilot cities. As part of the expansion, the conferees recommend that not less than $2,400,000 be used for the addition of 12 experienced trafficking agents, including 3 in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, to implement a multifaceted regional enforcement strategy within the Midwest region. The conferees request that ATF give strong consideration to Aurora, CO, Denver, CO, and Omaha, NE, as it determines new locations for YCGII.

CEASEFIRE

The conferees agree to provide $2,000,000 for continued expansion of the CEASEFIRE/IBIS program, and expect that this will be used to meet requests for new equipment and related installation costs. The conferees also direct the Secretary of the Treasury to provide $4,000,000 to ATF from the Treasury Forfeiture Fund to allow ATF to provide CEASEFIRE technology to eligible State and local law enforcement organizations who have requested this equipment.

COLLECTION AND MAINTENANCE OF FEDERAL FIREARMS LICENSEE RECORDS

The conferees agree that there does not appear to be a written policy regarding the collection and maintenance of records on the acquisition and disposition of firearms by Federal firearms licensees for use in criminal or civil enforcement or firearms trace systems, in particular with regard to the length of time such records are kept. Therefore, the conferees direct ATF to develop such a written policy and provide a copy of that written policy to the Committees on Appropriations no later than March 31, 1999. This is in lieu of the direction by the House to provide the House Committee with a report on efforts to improve its practices within 90 days after enactment of this bill.

CONTRABAND CIGARETTES

The conferees direct ATF to continue to fully fund its investigations of diversion and trafficking of contraband cigarettes, particularly on Indian lands. The conferees are pleased to see that recent investigations have borne fruit in a number of arrests in Oklahoma and Kansas. The conferees understand that the current investigation in Oklahoma and Kansas is estimated to cost up to $2,000,000 and that nationwide investigation will cost approximately $8,000,000.

UNITED STATES CUSTOMS SERVICE

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conferees agree to provide $1,642,565,000, instead of $1,638,065,000 as proposed by the House and $1,630,273,000 as proposed by the Senate. $9,500,000 is delayed for obligation, instead of the delays proposed by the House and the Senate.

The conferees agree to restrict purchase of vehicles to 550 for replacement only, as proposed by the House, rather than 985, as proposed by the Senate. The conferees direct the Under Secretary for Enforcement to exercise strong oversight over any purchases of new vehicles in keeping with Department-wide efforts (addressed under Departmental Offices, above) to manage the use, allocation and acquisition of law enforcement vehicles. The conferees also agree that $500,000 of the appropriation should be used to fund expansion of services at the Vermont World Trade Office, as proposed by the Senate. The conferees also agree to increase the limitation on representation funding to $40,000, instead of $30,000 as proposed by the House and Senate.

The conferees agree to provide $2,500,000 to remain available until expended for the costs of relocation of the New Orleans Air Branch from Belle Chase, Louisiana, to Hammond, Louisiana.

CUSTOMS INTEGRITY AWARENESS PROGRAM

The conferees agree to provide $6,000,000 to the Customs Service, fully funding the new Customs Integrity Awareness Program (CIAP), as proposed by the House, instead of $4,200,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conferees direct the Secretary of the Treasury to be fully engaged in CIAP, providing necessary oversight and assistance to the Customs Service Office of Internal Affairs in order to achieve program goals.

CHILD PORNOGRAPHY

The conferees strongly support Customs leadership in stopping the vile traffic in child pornography and are pleased with its recent successful takedown of a major international pornography organization. To continue this success, the conferees agree to set aside $2,400,000 of the Customs appropriation to double the staffing and resources for the child pornography cyber-smuggling initiative, as proposed by the Senate, instead of $2,000,000 proposed by the House to be funded through the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund. In addition, the conferees agree to include $1,000,000 in the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund for technology support for this initiative.

CUSTOMS INSPECTION SERVICES FOR INTERNATIONAL AIR CARGO

The conferees are concerned about the availability of Customs Service personnel to provide inspection services for airports that are seeing increased traffic or project such increases as part of regional development patterns. In many locations Customs has been asked to initiate or expand the level and availability of such services. The conferees understand that decisions to allocate inspection personnel must be based on availability of staff and funding, and should also be a function of the level of current or expected traffic, as well as concerns about enforcing trade laws and countering smuggling threats. At the same time, the conferees recognize that some airports, such as Dulles International Airport, Miami International Airport, and Fort Lauderdale International Airport, are experiencing growth and may have good cases for initiating or increasing cargo traffic operations, which are dependent on the availability of specific Customs inspection services. The conferees therefore urge the Customs Service, as it undertakes to establish a comprehensive model for assessing and allocating its inspection and investigative staff, to work closely with the airport authorities and the trade community to ensure that it will meet requirements for new and expanded service. The aim of such a process should be allocation of staff and resources that is in the best interest of regional economic interests, trade, and the mission of the Customs Service.

OPERATIONS, MAINTENANCE AND PROCUREMENT, AIR AND MARINE INTERDICTION PROGRAMS

The conferees agree to provide $113,688,000, instead of $100,688,000 as proposed by the House and $113,488,000 as proposed by the Senate. No funding for this account would be delayed, as had been proposed by the Senate, and there is no earmark for activities in South Florida and the Caribbean, as had been proposed by the Senate. This number includes an additional $1,000,000 for increased support for operations and upgrades for equipment for the marine enforcement program and $14,200,000 for Black Hawk helicopter program support.

BLACK HAWK HELICOPTERS

The conferees have included $14,200,000 to restore three off line Black Hawk helicopters to an operational readiness condition and provide for increased operation and maintenance requirements for Customs' helicopter component. The conferees understand that this funding will permit Customs to increase Black Hawk flying hours from 18 to 30 hours per month. The conferees direct the Customs Service to maximize the mission operability of all sixteen Black Hawk helicopters assigned to the Air Interdiction Program.

CUSTOMS MARINE PROGRAM

The conferees include an additional $1,000,000 to augment the $5,200,000 requested for the marine program.

CUSTOMS AIR AND MARINE INTERDICTION PROGRAMS

The conferees continue to be impressed with the successes associated with the Customs Air and Marine Interdiction programs and are aware of the growing operational commitments associated with this success. The conferees encourage the Customs Service to examine the benefits of a consolidated air maintenance system and take actions to improve operational coordination of its air assets to meet our national drug enforcement priorities. The conferees, in the interest of maintaining viable and effective air and marine interdiction programs, direct the Customs Service to develop two comprehensive modernization plans for the air interdiction and marine enforcement programs, respectively. These plans shall be submitted with the President's fiscal year 2000 budget and should include the projected lifespans and project a replacement schedule, as well as the current status, of each aircraft or vessel; associated operations and maintenance activities for these craft; and any costs for fleet extension or modernization. These modernization plans should be living documents that the Customs Service continually reevaluates and utilizes in its effort to maximize its operational effectiveness.

SPECIAL OPERATIONS

The conferees agree that the special operations requirements of the Customs Service Air and Marine Interdiction Programs demand special tactical and logistical operations considerations due to the high threat nature of these activities. The conferees direct the Customs Service to review its utilization of these special operations assets with the goal of improving management, coordination, training and utilization of equipment and personnel. The Customs Service should consider all options to achieve the greatest efficiency and productivity for our coastal and border interdiction efforts.

BUREAU OF ENGRAVING AND PRINTING

DOLLAR BILL REDESIGN

To combat international counterfeiting threats to the United States, the Department of the Treasury is continuing to redesign Federal Reserve Notes. By the end of 1999, newly designed $100, $50, and $20 Federal Reserve Notes will be in circulation.

The conferees remain concerned about the cost associated with producing special anti-counterfeiting properties for the estimated 6 billion circulating $1 Federal Reserve Notes. As a result, the conferees do not believe the Bureau of Engraving and Printing should undertake cost prohibitive anti-counterfeiting changes to the $1 note. However, the conferees do believe it is important to update the currency, such as making minor modifications to assist the visually impaired.

Therefore, the conferees direct the Department of the Treasury and the Bureau of Engraving and Printing not to pursue redesign of the $1 Federal Reserve Note to combat international counterfeiting threats, but to only make minor design enhancements to the $1 note for the visually impaired and elderly population, provided it has no effect on the use of $1 Federal Reserve Notes with existing bill accepting machinery.

BUREAU OF THE PUBLIC DEBT
ADMINISTERING THE PUBLIC DEBT

The conference agreement appropriates $172,100,000 for the Bureau of the Public Debt as proposed by the House and the Senate.

The conference agreement also provides that $2,000,000 of the funds provided shall be available until September 30, 2001, for information systems modernization initiatives as proposed by the House instead of $1,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conferees are aware that additional funds in the amount of $1,000,000 are required in fiscal year 1999 for Year 2000 compliance.

INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE
PROCESSING, ASSISTANCE, AND MANAGEMENT

The conference agreement appropriates $3,086,208,000 for Processing, Assistance, and Management instead of $3,025,013,000 as proposed by the House and $3,077,353,000 as proposed by the Senate. The amount provided includes $90,650,000 for mandatory cost increases and $70,279,000 for base realignments from the Tax Law Enforcement account. The conferees have agreed not to transfer funding for the TIMIS personnel/payroll system from the Information Systems appropriation to this account as proposed by the Senate.

The budget request for Processing, Assistance, and Management included $58,325,000 for customer service initiatives. Funding for these initiatives has been included in the Information Systems account as proposed by the House. The Senate had proposed to provide $18,145,000 for customer service initiatives in this account.

The conferees want to express strong support for the Commissioner's proposal for organizational modernization. The recently enacted Internal Revenue Service Restructuring and Reform Act of 1998 will allow the Commissioner to make significant operational improvements through organizational modernization and reorganization. Therefore, the conference agreement also includes $25,000,000 for organizational modernization and restructuring of the Internal Revenue Service, the total amount requested by the Administration for that purpose. However, because the restructuring legislation has only recently been enacted and the Commissioner has not yet been able to provide a detailed plan and cost estimate for the restructuring effort, the conferees have included language in the bill which delays these funds for obligation until September 30, 1999.

The conferees have also provided $2,000,000 for low income taxpayer clinics. These funds will be used to award matching grants to develop, expand, or continue qualifying low income taxpayer clinics as authorized in Section 3601 of the Internal Revenue Service Restructuring and Reform Act of 1998.

The conference agreement includes language proposed by the Senate delaying the availability of $105,000,000 for postage costs until September 30, 1999, and language proposed by the Senate stating that funds shall continue to be provided to the United States Postal Service for postage due.

TAXPAYER EDUCATION

The conferees agree that the Internal Revenue Service needs to be more proactive in educating our citizens. Therefore, the conferees believe that the IRS should consider the feasibility of a taxpayer education initiative which encourages IRS employees to visit schools to talk about the history of our tax system as well as taxpayer rights and responsibilities. Further, the conferees believe that the IRS should provide no less than $750,000 to create an educational program, such as the project currently under development at the University of Florida, covering matters of current interest to those involved in administering, advising, teaching, and studying the technical aspects of Federal taxation. Therefore, the conferees request that the IRS provide an analysis of these proposals, and steps they would take to implement these proposals, to the Committees on Appropriations by March 1, 1999.

TAX LAW ENFORCEMENT

The conference agreement appropriates $3,164,189,000 for Tax Law Enforcement as proposed by the House instead of $3,164,399,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conference agreement does not delay the availability of $175,000,000 of the funds appropriated until September 30, 1999, proposed by the Senate.

The budget request included $2,645,000 for customer service initiatives. Funding for these initiatives has been included in the Information Systems account as proposed by the House. The Senate had proposed to fund $210,000 for customer service initiatives in this account.

TAX STANDARDS FOR TAX-EXEMPT HEALTH CLUBS

The conferees are aware that there has been significant growth in health club and fitness services. Intensified competition has developed a market for for-profit and tax-exempt health clubs. With certain tax-exempt organizations moving away from their core purpose, questions arise as to whether they are engaging in commercial competition with the for-profit sector. The conferees understand that the IRS has developed appropriate standards based on broad community accessibility for determining whether fitness activities are substantially related to the charitable mission of community organizations, such as YMCAs, YWCAs, and JCCs, organizations with a variety of programs based on community needs, including health and fitness for people of all ages, incomes, and abilities. Accordingly, changes in the standards that apply to such organizations are not the conferees' concern. Rather, the conferees direct that the IRS review the standards it applies to fitness activities operated by educational and health-care organizations. The conferees further request that the Department of the Treasury report to Congress by April 1, 1999, on the statutory and regulatory changes that may be needed to assure that the health and fitness activities of these organizations substantially further the purposes for which the organization was granted tax exemption and do not constitute unfair competition with private sector, taxable organizations.

TRANSFER PRICING

The conferees are concerned about the Nation's loss of revenue as a result of foreign corporations employing transfer pricing. Transfer pricing, utilized by State Trading Enterprises, reallocates items of income and deduction among entities under common control. Reallocation of the income and deduction results in minimizing the U.S. tax of foreign corporations' U.S. affiliates. Since the foreign parent corporations do not normally do business in the United States, their income is completely free from U.S. tax.

To ensure the Internal Revenue Service is vigorously administering section 482 of the Internal Revenue Code, which empowers the Secretary of the Treasury to distribute, apportion, and allocate items of gross income and deduction between the parent corporations and their U.S. affiliates, the conferees direct the Internal Revenue Service to review and report to Congress, no later than six months after enactment of this Act, on the following issues: IRS's loss of revenue as a result of transfer pricing; detailed information on IRS's administration of section 482 to distribute, apportion, and allocate items of gross income and deduction; and recommendations on how to improve the collection of revenue from trading enterprises.

INFORMATION SYSTEMS

The conference agreement appropriates $1,265,456,000 for Information Systems instead of $1,224,032,000 as proposed by the House and $1,329,486,000 as proposed by the Senate. The amount provided includes $43,939,000 for mandatory cost increases; however, the conferees have agreed not to transfer funding for the TIMIS personnel/payroll system from this appropriation to the Processing, Assistance, and Management account. In addition, the conference agreement includes an increase of $32,900,000 for operational information systems as proposed by the House and the Senate and $68,700,000 for the modernization program infrastructure as proposed by the Senate instead of $34,350,000 as proposed by the House.

The conferees have agreed to include language in the bill which provides that $103,000,000 of the funds appropriated in this account shall only be available for improvements to customer service. This is the full amount requested by the Administration for customer service initiatives within the Internal Revenue Service.

The conferees are aware that additional funds in the amount of $359,000,000 are required in fiscal year 1999 for Year 2000 compliance. Included in that total is: $8,700,000 for the submissions processing investment program, $4,000,000 for compliance research information systems, $33,300,000 for examination laptop computers, $60,700,000 to complete the rollout of the Integrated Collection System, $4,300,000 for the Inventory Delivery System, and $14,000,000 for the Integrated Personnel System.

The conference agreement deletes language proposed by the Senate which delayed the availability of $68,700,000 of the funds appropriated until September 30, 1999.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY INVESTMENTS

The conference agreement appropriates $211,000,000 for Information Technology Investments instead of $210,000,000 as proposed by the House and $137,569,000 as proposed by the Senate. These funds are not available for obligation until September 30, 1999. The conference agreement also provides that the funds shall remain available until September 30, 2002, as proposed by the Senate instead of remaining available until expended as proposed by the House.

The conference agreement includes language proposed by the House which specifies the contents of an expenditure plan that the Internal Revenue Service and the Department of the Treasury are required to submit before the funds appropriated may be obligated.

The conferees are concerned that the IRS's efforts to modernize its information systems could divert its attention from the more pressing matter of assuring that all of its existing systems will be Year 2000 compliant. The conferees expect that IRS will continue to view Year 2000 compliance as its highest priority and direct that the IRS not divert any resources from its Year 2000 efforts to the information systems modernization program.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS—INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE

Section 101. The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the House and the Senate which allows the transfer of 5 percent of any appropriation made available to the IRS to any other IRS appropriation subject to Congressional approval.

Section 102. The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the House and the Senate which requires the IRS to maintain a training program in taxpayer's rights, dealing courteously with taxpayers, and cross cultural relations.

Section 103. The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the House and the Senate which requires the IRS to maintain taxpayer services at not less than fiscal year 1995 levels.

Section 104. The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the House and the Senate which prohibits the expenditure of funds for the collection of taxes unless the conduct of officers and employees of the IRS complies with the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act.

Section 105. The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the House and the Senate which requires the IRS to institute policies and practices which will safeguard the confidentiality of taxpayer information.

Section 106. The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the House and the Senate which directs that funds shall be available for improved facilities and increased manpower to provide sufficient and effective 1-800 help line telephone assistance.

Section 107. The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the Senate which provides that no reorganization of the field office structure of the Internal Revenue Service Criminal Investigation Division will result in a reduction in the number of criminal investigators in Wisconsin and South Dakota from the 1996 level.

The conference agreement deletes a Sense of the Senate provision regarding the use of random selection of returns for examination by the Internal Revenue Service.

UNITED STATES SECRET SERVICE

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conferees agree to provide $600,302,000 instead of $594,657,000 as proposed by the House and $584,902,000 as proposed by the Senate. This includes an additional $18,000,000 for the costs of protective travel. The conferees agree that $1,623,000 required for fixed site security will be included in the Acquisition, Construction, Improvement, and Related Expenses account, as proposed by the Senate. The conferees also agree that the limitation for new vehicle purchases shall be 739, as proposed by the House, rather than 705, as proposed by the Senate. The conferees direct the Under Secretary for Enforcement to exercise strong oversight over any purchases of new vehicles in keeping with Department-wide efforts (addressed under Departmental Offices, above) to manage the use, allocation and acquisition of law enforcement vehicles. The conferees agree that $5,000,000 shall not be available for obligation until September 30, 1999.

The conferees are aware that additional funds in the amount of $3,000,000 are required in fiscal year 1999 for Year 2000 compliance.

PROTECTIVE TRAVEL

The conferees continue to be concerned about shortfalls in the United States Secret Service protective travel activity. Therefore the conferees direct the Service to develop an accurate financial plan for predicting protective travel needs, and report regularly to the Committees on Appropriations on their progress. As part of the financial plan the conferees expect the funds for this activity will be apportioned separately. The Service should consult with the Office of Management and Budget about the level of detail required in the financial plan. The conferees agree to provide additional funding of $18,000,000 for protective travel, which is made available for two fiscal years.

ARMORED PRIMARY LIMOUSINES

The conferees understand the need to provide the President of the United States safe and secure ground transportation both locally and around the world. The conferees are, however, concerned with the Secret Service's projected cost to acquire primary limousines for this purpose. As a result, the conferees direct the Secret Service to report to the Committees on Appropriations on the major differences and costs between the proposed project and armored vehicles previously acquired by the Service prior to the obligation of funds for this project.

ACQUISITION, CONSTRUCTION, IMPROVEMENT, AND RELATED EXPENSES

The conferees agree to provide $8,068,000 as proposed by the Senate, instead of $6,445,000 as proposed by the House, which includes $1,623,000 for fixed site security.

GENERAL PROVISIONS—DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

Section 110. The conference agreement includes a provision which requires the Secretary of the Treasury to comply with certain reprogramming guidelines when obligating or expending funds for law enforcement activities from unobligated balances available on September 30, 1999, as proposed by the Senate instead of September 30, 1998, as proposed by the House.

Section 111. The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the House and the Senate which allows the Department of the Treasury to purchase uniforms, insurance, and motor vehicles without regard to the general purchase price limitation, and enter into contracts with the State Department for health and medical services for Treasury employees in overseas locations.

Section 112. The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the House and the Senate which requires the expenditure of funds so as not to diminish efforts under section 105 of the Federal Alcohol Administration Act.

Section 113. The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the House and the Senate which authorizes transfers, up to 2 percent, between law enforcement appropriations under certain circumstances.

Section 114. The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the House and the Senate which authorizes transfers, up to 2 percent, between the Departmental Offices, Office of Inspector General, Financial Management Service, and Bureau of the Public Debt appropriations under certain circumstances.

Section 115. The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the Senate which amends 18 U.S.C. 921(a) by broadening the definition of explosives and redefining the term "antique firearm."

Section 116. The conference agreement includes a provision regarding the purchase of law enforcement vehicles.

Section 117. The conferees have agreed to the provision contained in Section 117 of the Senate bill regarding the execution of property upon judgements against foreign state violators of international law. The conferees have included additional language giving the President the authority to waive the requirements of this provision in the interest of national security.

ELECTRONIC FILING

The conferees have agreed to delete language requested by the Administration and contained in Section 115 of the House and Senate bills regarding the electronic filing of tax returns since this matter has been addressed in a comprehensive fashion in the Internal Revenue Service Restructuring and Reform Act of 1998. In undertaking any electronic tax administration programs, the conferees expect the Internal Revenue Service to assure the security of all electronic transmissions and provide for the full protection of the privacy of taxpayer data.

CURRENCY PAPER

The House and Senate passed bills each contained a provision (Section 116 of both bills) regarding the acquisition of currency paper by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. The conferees have agreed to include no language in the bill regarding this issue. The conferees are aware of attempts made by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing (BEP) to address concerns regarding the need to make it easier for all United States paper companies to compete for currency paper contracts. However, the conferees expect the BEP to continue to enhance the process for procuring currency paper to the extent permitted under Federal law. In carrying out its currency paper procurement responsibilities, the conferees expect BEP to secure the best overall value for the government, giving equal consideration to all cost factors. Based on the General Accounting Office's (GAO) inability to reach any concrete conclusions with respect to competition and pricing, the conferees understand this issue is very complicated and, therefore, direct the Department of the Treasury and the Bureau of Engraving and Printing to report to the Committees on Appropriations how they plan to address GAO's recommendations to the Secretary of the Treasury. Further, it is the conferees' understanding that the authorizing committees in both the House and Senate will closely examine the GAO report, hold hearings on this matter, and develop legislation, if necessary, to ensure that the Federal government will have adequate competition and fair pricing.

TITLE II—POSTAL SERVICE

PAYMENTS TO THE POSTAL SERVICE FUND

The conferees agree to provide $71,195,000 as proposed by the House and the Senate. The conferees defer the obligation of these funds until October 1, 1999, as proposed by the Senate.

NON-POSTAL COMMERCIAL ACTIVITIES

The conferees are aware that the Postal Service is initiating a wide range of new commercial activities. These activities include, but are not limited to, volume retail photocopying, packaging services, bankwire services, the sale of office supplies and novelty items, and new e-commerce or Internet related technologies.

The conferees recognize the Postal Service's need to generate new sources of revenue to offset its operating costs. However, many of the Postal Service's new commercial activities may result in unfair competition with a number of private sector enterprises, thus raising significant policy issues about the Postal Service's present and future commercial role.

Therefore, the conferees request the Postal Service submit, within 6 months of enactment of this Act, a report on its ongoing and planned commercial services, including policy justifications, the costs of development and implementation, revenues earned, and revenues lost. As part of the report, the conferees are interested in packaging services (“Pack and Send”) and specifically direct the Postal Service to describe how packaging services will meet “customer demand” in all geographic regions, especially rural areas, before such service is initiated. The conferees believe these issues deserve consideration by the authorizing committees.

AVONDALE-GOODYEAR, ARIZONA

The conferees urge the Postal Service, before awarding any contract to purchase or lease property for the Main Post Office in Avondale-Goodyear, Arizona, to do an analysis of the population presently in this area to be used in assisting the Postal Service in making a selection which will be most accessible for the current and future population of the area. The Postal Service shall report to the Committees prior to awarding any contract for sale or lease, but in no event later than October 14, 1998.

GILPIN COUNTY, COLORADO

The conferees urge the Postal Service to seriously consider providing a separate ZIP Code for Gilpin County, Colorado.

TITLE III—EXECUTIVE OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT AND FUNDS APPROPRIATED TO THE PRESIDENT

WHITE HOUSE OFFICE

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conferees agree to provide $52,344,000 for White House Office Salaries and Expenses, as proposed by the House and the Senate. The conferees provide $10,100,000 for reimbursements to the White House Communications Agency as a specific line item, as proposed by the House.

EXECUTIVE RESIDENCE AT THE WHITE HOUSE

OPERATING EXPENSES

The conferees provide $8,061,000, as proposed by the House instead of $8,691,000, as proposed by the Senate and prohibit the use of these funds for domestic staff overtime. As a separate provision, the conferees include $630,000 for domestic staff overtime and make these funds available upon the Comptroller General notifying the Committees that the Executive Office of the President (EOP) has received, reviewed and commented on the draft report of the General Accounting Office (GAO) with respect to Executive Residence operations and that the GAO is in receipt of the EOP’s comments.

OFFICE OF ADMINISTRATION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conferees agree to provide $28,350,000 for the Office of Administration as proposed by the House instead of $29,140,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conferees are aware that additional funds of $12,200,000 for Year 2000 compliance within the Executive Office of the President are required for fiscal year 1999.

OFFICE OF MANAGEMENT AND BUDGET

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conferees agree to provide $60,617,000 for the Office of Management and Budget as proposed by the Senate instead of $59,017,000 as proposed by the House. The conferees agree to delete the earmark and the fence on the use of funds for the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, as proposed by the Senate, and include two provisos regarding the review of transcripts of the Committees on Veterans' Affairs and agricultural marketing orders, as proposed by the House. The conferees have included new language to amend Section ____36 of OMB Circular A-110 to ensure that all data produced under an award will be made available to the public through the procedures established under the Freedom of Information Act.

Including technical modifications, the conferees agree to include bill language requiring OMB to report on government wide paperwork reduction and the implementation of the Congressional Review Act, as proposed by the Senate.

PERFORMANCE OF STATUTORY RESPONSIBILITIES

The conferees have agreed to delete the earmark of $5,229,000 for the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs (OIRA) and a fence of $1,200,000 for OIRA. The conferees have been assured that OMB will strictly adhere to the statutory requirements included in the bill on Paperwork Reduction and the Congressional Review Act. The conferees will monitor OMB's compliance with these requirements carefully.

FEDERAL EMPLOYEES' PAY COMPARABILITY ACT

The conferees question the validity of the Administration's use of the "serious economic conditions" exception in the Federal Employees' Pay Comparability Act (FEPCA) to put forth an alternative pay plan for 1999. Press reports have indicated that members of the Administration may have concerns regarding the pay setting methodology established by FEPCA. In an effort to see that FEPCA is either fully implemented or perfected, the conferees direct the President's Pay Agent to provide the Committees with any pay setting methodology concerns it has with regard to FEPCA by May 1, 1999.

CENTURY DATE CONVERSION

The conferees remain concerned that with little more than a year to go before the new millennium, many critical government information systems are still in jeopardy of not meeting the January 1, 2000, deadline for date conversion. The conferees further believe that the Administration has failed to adequately champion the Y2K issue, not only to its own departments, but has also not provided the critical national leadership and coordination to our local, state and international partners in both the public and private sectors. Information systems experts have reported that the Y2K fix is rooted in management and oversight, not in the lack of technology available to address the problem. Unfortunately, valuable time has been lost waiting for management to embrace the magnitude and consequences of this issue. Only recently, has organizational management finally recognized the potential for shut down of critical information systems associated with entitlement payments, revenue collection, air traffic control, defense systems, telecommunications, mass transit, supply inventories, elevator function, medical equipment, to mention a few. Many agencies at all levels of government still do not have a complete grasp of the problem and are now at the greatest risk for systems failure.

The conferees direct the Administration to focus all of its attention and resources on the management and oversight of the most critical date sensitive information and infrastructure systems, prioritizing systems renovations, repair and replacement to those that can meet the January 1, 2000, deadline. The conferees further direct the Administration to accelerate the development of contingency plans for those critical systems that cannot meet the Y2K deadline, in order to maintain functional systems operations, until patent date conversion repairs can be completed.

The conferees strongly encourage the new Y2K Czar to take a high profile national leadership position, to aggressively promote century date change awareness for both information technology systems and sensitive infrastructure applications. The Y2K Czar should monitor, coordinate and provide oversight over the progress of all government-wide century date change conversion initiatives, with the primary goal of maintaining critical systems operations into the new millennium. Finally, the Y2K Czar should have Administration standing to directly access and take control of any critical agency system that is in jeopardy of not meeting the January 1, 2000, deadline because of ineffective management action.

OMB is directed to include in its quarterly Y2K report submissions an assessment of those critical information systems that will not meet the Y2K deadline and the problems that can be anticipated. In addition, the report should include the status of operational contingency plans for those systems identified as being in jeopardy.

VIOLENT CRIME REDUCTION PROGRAMS

The conferees expect the President's budget submissions for the Department of the Treasury's funding from the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund be reflected for the Department as a whole and not separately within each bureau's request.

OFFICE OF NATIONAL DRUG CONTROL POLICY

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conferees agree to provide $48,042,000 for the Office of National Drug Control Policy (ONDCP) as proposed by the Senate, instead of $36,442,000 as proposed by the House. This includes $13,000,000 to continue the technology transfer pilot program managed by the Counterdrug Technology Assessment Center (CTAC). It also includes $17,942,000 for ONDCP operations, as proposed by the Senate, $16,000,000 for the basic CTAC program, and $1,100,000 for policy research of which $100,000 is to be used for evaluating the Drug-Free Communities Act, as proposed by the Senate. The conferees agree to modify language governing the authority of ONDCP to accept and use gifts.

The conference agreement separately funds $1,000,000 for Model State Drug Law Conferences through the Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund.

ONDCP STAFFING

The conferees are concerned about requests by ONDCP to reprogram monies from the Salaries and Expenses account to fund other initiatives. The conferees in the past have fully supported and funded the full time equivalent staffing level requested by ONDCP and are concerned that ONDCP is not filling those vacancies but is instead requesting to use those funds for other purposes. The conferees believe that ONDCP needs to maintain its staffing at the authorized level in order to maximize the agency's effectiveness. The conferees therefore direct ONDCP to review its staffing requirements and report back to the Committees on Appropriations by December 15, 1998, on the steps it is taking to fill the vacancies or, if not, what changes it is making in its staffing plan.

PERFORMANCE MEASURES OF EFFECTIVENESS

The conferees strongly urge ONDCP to work within the Administration to ensure that the Performance Measures of Effectiveness (PMEs) it developed are embraced and employed by all federal agencies for future budgetary and planning work. The conferees direct ONDCP to apply the same standard to its own internal management and organization, and to include such measures with each new budget submission.

RESEARCH AND ANALYSIS INITIATIVES

The conferees recognize that ONDCP has proposed some initiatives for research that, owing to lack of resources, cannot be funded in this appropriation. Nonetheless, the conferees strongly urge ONDCP to continue to press through its interagency leadership to coordinate research in such areas as improving R&D coordination, developing a government-wide intelligence architecture, and mapping out drug trafficking flows.

PROTECTIVE SECURITY ASSESSMENT

The conferees have included a new general provision, Section 643, as proposed by the Senate which directs the U.S. Marshals Service to conduct a threat assessment on the Director of the Office of National Drug Control Policy on a quarterly basis. The level of security is to be provided to ONDCP on a reimbursable basis by the U.S. Marshals Service and will be based on this quarterly threat assessment.

RURAL DRUG CONFERENCES

The conferees are concerned about the spread of drugs and drug-related crimes to rural areas and whether or not rural law enforcement can sufficiently address these new trends. Therefore, the conferees encourage the Director to consider convening a national conference on rural drug crime, to include regional conferences in rural areas, such as Luna County, NM, and similar counties in Colorado, in order to assess the needs of rural law enforcement and the impact that drug-related crimes have on rural communities as they cope with these issues.

The conferees believe that ONDCP can combine its knowledge and experience working with larger communities in this area and translate effective drug fighting practices to rural law enforcement, while taking into consideration their unique needs. Should ONDCP convene this event, the conference is requested to report to the Committees on Appropriations and the Director of ONDCP on its findings.

SHOUT

The conferees have provided $50,000 to continue the work of SHOUT, an outreach organization that works with minors, as defined by 21 CFR 897.14. This early intervention program focuses on shaping the attitudes of minors in order to discourage the use of illegal substances.

COUNTERDRUG TECHNOLOGY ASSESSMENT CENTER

The conferees expect the multiagency research and development programs to be coordinated by the Counterdrug Technology Assessment Center (CTAC) in order to prevent duplication of effort and to assure that, whenever possible, those efforts provide capabilities that transcend the need of any single Federal agency. Prior to obligation of these funds, the conferees expect to be notified by the chief scientist on how these funds will be spent. The conferees also expect to receive periodic reports from the chief scientist on the priority counterdrug enforcement research and development requirements identified by the Center and on the status of projects funded by CTAC.

FEDERAL DRUG CONTROL PROGRAMS

HIGH INTENSITY DRUG TRAFFICKING AREAS PROGRAM

The conferees provide $182,477,000, instead of $162,007,000 as proposed by the House and $183,977,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conferees agree to fund all existing High Intensity Drug Trafficking Areas (HIDTAs) at the fiscal year 1998 level. This funding level shall be based on direct fiscal year 1998 appropriations for HIDTAs contained in the HIDTA and Violent Crime Reduction Trust Fund accounts. The conferees also agree that not less than fifty-one percent of this amount shall be transferred to State and local entities for drug control activities.

Within the amount appropriated, the conferees include $20,477,000 to supplement or expand existing HIDTAs, or provide for the creation of new HIDTAs. The conferees have been informed that unmet needs for funding exist in: the Arizona HIDTA for completion of an intelligence center and unmet programmatic needs for methamphetamine and border initiatives; the New Mexico HIDTA for unmet programmatic needs; the Southwest HIDTA for its wire-tapping initiative; the Cascade HIDTA for unmet programmatic needs; the expansion of the Midwest HIDTA to include the State of North Dakota; the Rocky Mountain HIDTA for expansion of its methamphetamine initiative; the Chicago HIDTA for unmet programmatic needs; and the Central Florida HIDTA for unmet programmatic needs. Additionally, the conferees are aware of interest in the designation of new HIDTAs in the New England states, East Texas, Ohio, and Hawaii.

While the conferees are obviously supportive of the HIDTA program, it is critical to the continued support and the health of all HIDTAs and the program in general that decisions about funding be founded on clear, concrete measures of performance. The conferees also believe that ONDCP must have the flexibility to allocate resources to those HIDTAs that will have the greatest impact on our drug problems. In making these decisions, ONDCP must focus on the performance of HIDTAs, existing or proposed, and their significant impact on drug trafficking, use, and associated crime. This means that ONDCP must assess which HIDTAs are the top performers and document the factors it uses to make this determination. At the same time, ONDCP must determine where the impact will be greatest based on the combined effect of HIDTA performance and the nature and severity of drug problems that exist in the areas where HIDTAs currently operate or are proposed—whether measured by use, associated crime, or volume of trafficking in drugs or money. The conferees therefore direct ONDCP to submit its fiscal year 2000 budget for HIDTAs based on applying both ONDCP's own performance measures of effectiveness and the priorities dictated by changing threats.

SPECIAL FORFEITURE FUND

The conferees agree to provide $214,500,000, instead of $215,000,000 as proposed by the House and $200,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. This includes $185,000,000 for the youth media campaign, $20,000,000 for implementation of the Drug-Free Community Act, $5,000,000 for the chronic users study, and $4,500,000 for a transfer to the Agricultural Research Service for anti-drug research and related matters.

YOUTH MEDIA CAMPAIGN

The conferees recommend a funding level of $185,000,000 for the National Media Campaign. In fiscal year 1998, ONDCP proposed a 5-year media campaign at a total cost to the Federal government of $875,000,000. The initial request was based on a $175,000,000 annual funding level for five years of the program. The conferees continue to be fully supportive of this program and believe that this national media campaign, if properly executed, has the potential to produce concrete results. The conferees look forward to working with ONDCP on this effort to produce demonstrable results as the campaign matures.

The conferees have included new language calling for ONDCP to report on its efforts to achieve corporate sponsorship beyond the matching requirement for participation in the media campaign; clarifies the pro bono requirement; and limits the possible use of funding for creative development efforts. The conferees agree that 75% of the funds will become available when ONDCP submits to the Committees the results of Phase I of the campaign and the remainder will become available when ONDCP submits the results of Phase II.

The Committees will closely track this national media campaign, and its contribution to achieving a drug-free America. Therefore, the conferees direct ONDCP to submit quarterly reports on the obligation of funds as well as the specific parameters of the pilot campaign. The conferees anticipate that future funding will be based upon results. ONDCP is directed to report to the Committees on Appropriations by January 15, 1999 on the effectiveness of the national media campaign. In addition, ONDCP is to report to the Committees within 6 months of enactment of this Act on State and local prevention and treatment facilities infrastructure and their capacity to handle the increased demands of communities as a result of the national media campaign. ONDCP is to continue to report on the effectiveness and implementation status of the guidelines set out in the fiscal year 1998 appropriations bill.

The conferees direct the General Accounting Office to conduct a financial audit and review of the financial transactions relating to the media campaign. The conferees request that the scope of the review include how monies have been obligated and the effectiveness of the campaign and report to the Committees on Appropriations. As part of this review, GAO shall determine the definition, acquisition, and utilization of matching contributions sought by ONDCP relating to the media campaign. In addition, the conferees direct GAO to review Phase I, the 12 city test pilot, and report its findings to the Committees. This review is to examine the development of the test market plan for Phase I, determine the viability of extrapolating Phase I results to the national level, and determine the success of Phase I in the 12 city pilot.

CHRONIC USERS STUDY

The Administration's budget estimate includes a request of $10,000,000 to expand a preliminary user study conducted in Cook County, IL. The Cook County study developed a methodology for estimating the number of hardcore drug users in the United States. Accurately identifying this population is important since they consume a massive amount of the drugs available in the United States, create a large proportion of the demand for illegal drug markets, and are responsible for a great deal of criminal activity. The accurate identification of this population will provide communities a base for estimating the type and number of drug treatment and prevention programs required.

The conferees congratulate ONDCP on conducting this study and continue to support this effort. The conferees provide $5,000,000 to expand the study to regional areas. Although this is less than the request, the conferees understand that ONDCP may be able to use this level of funding to complete a study that can serve as an accurate basis for a national estimate of the size and location of chronic user populations. The conferees encourage ONDCP to work with the Department of Health and Human Services to identify additional funding sources, if necessary and available, and encourage ONDCP to promote utilization of the Cook County study that contributes to reductions in the population of hardcore drug users.

UNANTICIPATED NEEDS

The conferees agree to provide $1,000,000 as requested by the Administration for unanticipated needs.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY SYSTEMS AND RELATED EXPENSES

The conferees have not included language contained in the Senate bill to provide $3,250,000,000 in contingent emergency funding for Year 2000 computer conversion costs. On September 2, 1998, the President transmitted to Congress a request for this level of funding in fiscal year 1998. The conferees expect that this issue will be resolved as part of a supplemental appropriation.

TITLE IV—INDEPENDENT AGENCIES

FEDERAL ELECTION COMMISSION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conferees agree to provide $36,500,000 as proposed by the House and the Senate. This level of funding will support a base appropriation of $32,580,000, an additional $2,800,000 for enhanced enforcement efforts, as proposed by the House and Senate, and an additional $1,120,000 for other initiatives, as proposed by the House. The conferees fence $1,120,000, pending the submission of a plan for the obligation of these funds and provide that not less than $4,402,500 shall be available for internal automated data processing systems. The conferees strongly recommend that the FEC target the additional $1,120,000 in fenced appropriations to the improvement of enforcement procedures and preventing the unnecessary dismissal of appropriate enforcement actions; the conferees specifically recommend that FEC expedite automated data processing improvements as they relate to enforcement. The conferees assume that full time employment will not exceed 347 FTE in fiscal year 1999.

GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION

FEDERAL BUILDINGS FUND

LIMITATIONS ON AVAILABILITY OF REVENUE

The conference agreement provides $5,605,018,000 in new obligational authority for the General Services Administration's Federal Buildings Fund instead of $5,624,128,000 as proposed by the House and $5,648,680,000 as proposed by the Senate. In order to provide the resources necessary to carry out that program, the conferees have recommended an appropriation of $450,018,000 into the Fund instead of $479,300,000 as proposed by the House and $508,752,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conferees have provided $492,190,000 for the construction and acquisition of new projects instead of $527,100,000 as proposed by the House and $538,652,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conferees have included funding for the following projects:

Arkansas: Little Rock, U.S. Courthouse	$3,436,000
California:
San Diego, U.S. Courthouse	15,400,000
San Jose, U.S. Courthouse	10,800,000
Colorado: Denver, U.S. Courthouse	83,959,000
District of Columbia: Southeast Federal Center Remediation	10,000,000
Florida:
Jacksonville, U.S. Courthouse	86,010,000
Orlando, U.S. Courthouse	1,930,000
Massachusetts: Springfield, U.S. Courthouse	5,563,000
Michigan: Sault Sainte Marie, Border Station	572,000
Mississippi: Biloxi—Gulfport, U.S. Courthouse	7,543,000
Missouri: Cape Girardeau, U.S. Courthouse	2,196,000
Montana: Babb, Piegan Border Station	6,165,000
New York:
Brooklyn, U.S. Courthouse	152,626,000
New York, U.S. Mission to the United Nations	3,163,000
Oregon: Eugene, U.S. Courthouse	7,190,000
Tennessee: Greenville, U.S. Courthouse	28,229,000
Texas: Laredo, U.S. Courthouse	28,105,000
West Virginia: Wheeling, U.S. Courthouse	29,303,000
Nationwide: Non-prospectus construction projects	10,000,000

The conferees have not provided funds for the Savannah, Georgia, U.S. Courthouse Annex project. The conferees are aware that at a recent meeting to consider the authorization of new courthouse construction projects, the Public Buildings and Economic Development Subcommittee of the House Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure deferred action on this project pending further review. The conferees further understand that that action was taken primarily because of the significant increase in estimated project cost that has occurred since the approval of funds for site acquisition and design, even though the size of the building has been reduced. The conferees share those concerns and, have, therefore, elected to defer funding for the project pending resolution of the issues that have been raised by the authorizing committee.

The conferees recognize the efforts of the General Services Administration and the Judiciary to reduce the cost of courthouse construction and encourage the continuation of these efforts. The conferees are pleased that the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts' recent draft utilization study answers some questions about the utilization rates of existing and proposed courthouses. The conferees are aware of the Judiciary's needs to have court space available to conduct business and understand their position that a courtroom's existence may result in moving a case to settlement. However, the conferees continue to be concerned that the courts are not fully examining information that is key to the development of a utilization planning model. As a result, the conferees request the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts to revise the utilization study to include the assumptions used to develop the planning model. Additionally, the conferees direct the General Services Administration to provide the utilization rates of existing and proposed courtrooms with any request for new construction, replacement, or expansion of court space.

The conference agreement includes language proposed by the Senate authorizing the General Services Administration to re-acquire the parcel of land on Block 111, East Denver, Denver, Colorado, which was sold at public auction by the Federal government to the present owner of the property.

The conference agreement includes language proposed by the Senate which provides that funds provided in fiscal year 1993 for the Hilo, Hawaii, federal building shall be expended for the planning and design of the Mauna Kea Astronomy Educational Center.

The conference agreement deletes language proposed by the Senate regarding funding for the design of the Department of Transportation headquarters building and landing rights at Denver International Airport.

The conference agreement includes language included in the House reported bill which provides that of the funds provided for non-prospectus construction projects, $2,100,000 shall be available for acquisition, lease, construction, and equipping of flexiplace telecommuting centers.

The conferees have also agreed to include language in the bill permitting the General Services Administration to purchase, at the appropriate price, real estate essential to meet security interests related to the successful completion of the new courthouse in Scranton, Pennsylvania.

The conferees have provided $668,031,000 for repairs and alterations as proposed by the Senate instead of $655,031,000 as proposed by the House. The conference agreement provides that $161,500,000 of the funds shall not be available for obligation until September 30, 1999, instead of $19,000,000 as proposed by the House and $323,800,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The amount provided includes $25,000,000 for the chlorofluorocarbons program and $25,000,000 for the energy program as proposed by the Senate instead of $18,500,000 for each program as proposed by the House.

The conferees have agreed to list in the bill the amounts provided for each of the projects and activities to be undertaken under Repairs and Alterations as proposed by the Senate. Accordingly, there is no need for GSA to submit the plan for program execution called for in the House report.

The conference agreement includes the language contained in the Senate bill regarding the use of funds for security improvements.

The conference agreement includes language proposed by the House which provides that funds provided in Public Law 103-329 for the IRS Service Center in Holtsville, New York, shall remain available until September 30, 1999.

The conference agreement includes language proposed by the Senate which: provides that $100,000 shall be used to address lighting issues at the Byrne-Green Federal Courthouse in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; provides that $1,600,000 shall be used to complete alterations at the Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Courthouse; and provides that $1,100,000 may be used to provide a new fence for the Suitland Federal Complex in Suitland, Maryland.

The conferees have provided $215,764,000 for installment acquisition payments as proposed by the House and the Senate.

The conferees have provided $2,583,261,000 for rental of space as proposed by the Senate instead of $2,580,461,000 as proposed by the House. The conference agreement provides that $15,000,000 of the funds provided shall not be available for obligation until September 30, 1999, instead of $51,667,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conferees have provided $1,554,772,000 for building operations as proposed by the House and the Senate. The conference agreement provides that $68,000,000 of the funds provided shall not be available for obligation until September 30, 1999, instead of $223,000,000 as proposed by the House and $31,095,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conference agreement provides that $475,000 shall be available for the 1999 Women's World Cup soccer event and that $600,000 shall be available for the 1999 World Alpine Ski Championships.

PUBLIC SERVICE RECOGNITION WEEK

The conferees recognize that Public Service Recognition Week, a program of the Public Employees Roundtable, has educated America about the value of the career workforce which carries out the daily operations of government. This program, which has existed for over ten years, plays an important role in educating our nation's youth and providing them with timely information about their government. The conferees urge the General Services Administration to support the mission of the Public Employees Roundtable and provide administrative and logistical assistance equaling $100,000 for carrying out its Public Service Recognition Week activities.

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, CIVIC CENTER TRUST

The conferees are aware that the U.S. Courthouse in Los Angeles, California, will be serving as the cornerstone for an economic revitalization of the Civic Center neighborhood, where currently more than 50 public and private projects are in various stages of development. The Los Angeles City Civic Center Trust, established by Project Restore, a nonprofit organization, will facilitate and coordinate this revitalization. The conferees urge the General Services Administration to continue its current work and support the mission of the Los Angeles Civic Center Trust by providing planning, administrative, and logistical support for its activities.

RONALD REAGAN COURTHOUSE—SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA

The conferees understand that none of the artwork acquired for the Ronald Reagan Courthouse in Santa Ana, California, recognizes President Reagan. The conferees urge the General Services Administration to acquire and display artwork that appropriately commemorates President Reagan. Further, the conferees urge the General Services Administration to work with the Ronald Reagan Presidential Library and Museum to determine the feasibility of maintaining a rotating exhibit at the Ronald Reagan Courthouse.

PRESIDENT HARRY S TRUMAN

The conferees note that there is no major recognition of President Harry S Truman in the Nation's Capital. The conferees request that the General Services Administration review such proposals as may exist and report to the Committees on Appropriations no later than June 1, 1999.

POLICY AND OPERATIONS

The conference agreement appropriates $109,594,000 for Policy and Operations instead of $108,494,000 as proposed by the House and $106,494,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conferees direct that $2,000,000 be provided for the pilot project in digital learning technologies as described in the House report and that $1,000,000 be used to initiate a digital education project.

The conferees have also included language in the bill that provides that $100,000 of the funds appropriated shall be provided to the Property Disposal activity of this account. This amount represents the estimated fair market value of the property to be conveyed to the City of Racine, Wisconsin, as described in section 409 of the bill.

The conferees have modified language proposed by the Senate regarding the Old Post Office at 1100 Pennsylvania Avenue in Washington, D.C., to make the language applicable only for fiscal year 1999 and to require that the comprehensive plan for use of the property also be approved by the Senate Committee on Environment and Public Works and the House Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure.

SURPLUS EQUIPMENT TO SCHOOLS AND EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS

The conferees urge the General Services Administration, in line with its responsibilities for the disposal of excess and surplus Federal personal property, to promote and foster the transfer of excess and surplus computer equipment directly to schools and to appropriate nonprofit, community-based educational organizations. The GSA should communicate with other Federal agencies to heighten their ongoing awareness of the existing opportunities at both the national and local levels to meet the needs of the schools for such equipment.

All Federal agencies are required, to the extent permitted by law and after determining that the equipment is excess to their needs, to give highest preference to schools and nonprofit organizations in the transfer of educationally useful Federal computer equipment. Agencies are required to inventory all computer equipment and identify in their inventories their excess and surplus equipment. Federal agencies are also required to report to GSA the transfer of any personal property, including computer equipment, made to nongovernmental entities such as schools.

The conferees commend GSA and the Office of Science and Technology Policy (OSTP) for the progress that has been made simplifying and improving the Federal Surplus Computer Donation Program. One remaining hurdle for schools interested in participating in the program is the lack of operating systems on many donated computers. The conferees urge GSA and OSTP to work together with operating system providers to develop a partnership with those providers similar to the partnership that has already been formed with van lines to assist in transporting donated computers. The goal of this partnership would be to provide operating systems to schools which receive computers through the donation program.

FEDERAL OFFICE BUILDING IN COLORADO SPRINGS, COLORADO

The Federal building located at 1520 Willamette Ave. in Colorado Springs, Colorado, is owned by GSA and is currently leased to the U.S. Air Force Space Command. It is the conferees' understanding that the Space Command is moving ahead with options to vacate the facility. In the event that Space Command does not renew its lease and the facility becomes vacant and is deemed surplus, the conferees urge GSA to strongly consider the U.S. Olympic Committee's (USOC) need for additional space and to give priority to the USOC's request to gain title or acquire the property.

GENERAL PROVISIONS—GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION

Section 401. The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the Senate which provides that accounts available to GSA shall be credited with certain funds received from government corporations. The provision was also included in the House reported bill.

Section 402. The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the Senate which provides that funds available to GSA shall be available for the hire of passenger motor vehicles. The provision was also included in the House reported bill.

Section 403. The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the Senate which authorizes GSA to transfer funds within the Federal Buildings Fund to meet program requirements. A similar provision was included in the House reported bill.

Section 404. The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the Senate which prohibits the use of funds to submit a fiscal year 2000 budget request for courthouse construction projects that do not meet design guide criteria, do not reflect the priorities of the Judicial Conference of the United States, and are not accompanied by a standardized courtroom utilization study. A similar provision was included in the House reported bill.

Section 405. The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the Senate which provides that no funds may be used to increase the amount of occupiable square feet or provide cleaning services, security enhancements, or any other service usually provided, to any agency which does not pay the requested rental rates. The provision was also included in the House reported bill.

Section 406. The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the Senate which provides that funds provided by the Information Technology Fund for pilot information technology projects may be repaid to the Fund. The provision was also included in the House reported bill.

Section 407. The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the Senate which permits GSA to pay claims of up to $250,000 arising from construction projects and the acquisition of buildings. The provision was also included in the House reported bill.

Section 408. The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the Senate providing $5,000,000 for the demolition, cleanup, and conveyance of the property at block 35, and lot 2 of block 36 in Anchorage, Alaska. The House bill contained no similar provision.

Section 409. The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the Senate authorizing GSA to convey the property which contains the U.S. Army Reserve Center in Racine, Wisconsin, to the City of Racine. The Senate language has been amended by deleting the phrase "without consideration." The House reported bill contained a similar provision.

Section 410. The conference agreement includes language proposed by the Senate directing the General Services Administration to enter into an operating lease to acquire space for the Department of Transportation headquarters. The House bill contained no similar provision.

Section 411. The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the House regarding the fees charged by GSA for the use of telecommuting centers by Federal agencies. The Senate bill contained no similar provision.

Section 412. The conference agreement includes a provision proposed by the Senate authorizing GSA to transfer property in Dade County, Florida, to the University of Miami. The Senate language has been amended to allow a land exchange. The House reported bill contained a similar provision.

Section 413. The conference agreement includes a provision directing GSA to reincorporate the elements of the original proposed design for the facade of the United States Courthouse project in London, Kentucky, into the revised design of the building. This will ensure that the construction of the new courthouse is compatible with the architectural character of the historic existing U.S. courthouse. The construction of the project should in no way be diminished in order to achieve this goal. This provision was included in the House reported bill.

The conference agreement deletes language contained in section 411 of the Senate bill which appropriates $14,105,000 for costs associated with the security of the Capitol complex. The conferees recognize the importance of Capitol security and have consulted with and deferred to the jurisdiction of the Legislative Branch Appropriations Subcommittee to coordinate those requirements.

ENVIRONMENTAL DISPUTE RESOLUTION FUND

The conference agreement appropriates $4,250,000 for capitalization of the Environmental Dispute Resolution Fund and operation of the United States Institute for Environmental Conflict Resolution as proposed by the House. The Senate did not include funds for this activity.

MERIT SYSTEMS PROTECTION BOARD

The conferees understand that an agreement has been reached between MSPB and its administrative judges regarding the estabishment of a special pay classification for the administrative judges. The conferees are encouraged by this progress and urge MSPB to work with the proper House and Senate authorizing committees and the Office of Management and Budget so this agreement can be addressed in the fiscal year 2000 budget submission and through appropriate legislative action.

NATIONAL ARCHIVES AND RECORDS ADMINISTRATION

OPERATING EXPENSES

The conference agreement appropriates $224,614,000 for operating expenses of the National Archives and Records Administration instead of $216,753,000 as proposed by the House and $221,030,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conferees have included language delaying the availability of $7,861,000 of the funds appropriated until September 30, 1999, instead of $4,277,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conferees are aware that additional funds in the amount of $5,411,000 are required in fiscal year 1999 for Year 2000 compliance.

NATIONAL PERSONNEL RECORDS CENTER

The conferees are aware that in many instances veterans are experiencing significant delays, often as long as six months, when attempting to gain access to records they need to obtain medical assistance or other benefits from the National Personnel Records Center in St. Louis, Missouri. The conferees believe that this is unacceptable. The conferees are also aware that the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) has initiated a business process re-engineering project at the center to address concerns about the timeliness of responses to veterans' requests. The implementation of this project will take about five years at a total cost of approximately $6,000,000. The goal of the program is to achieve case cycle time of 10 days or less. For fiscal year 1999, the NARA will be conducting a pilot test of the business process re-engineering program to validate the processes and methods that have been recommended. The conferees have been informed by NARA that this pilot test can be funded from within existing resources. The conferees further understand that the Archives plans to begin implementation of this program in fiscal year 2000. The conferees are very supportive of this extremely important effort and expect NARA to request the funds it needs to begin implementation of the program in the fiscal year 2000 budget.

REPAIRS AND RESTORATION

The conference agreement appropriates $11,325,000 for repairs and restoration of Archives facilities as proposed by the Senate instead of $10,450,000 as proposed by the House. The conferees have not included language proposed by the Senate delaying the availability of $2,000,000 of the funds until September 30, 1999.

The conference agreement includes language proposed by the Senate providing $875,000 for a requirements study and design of a facility in Anchorage, Alaska.

NATIONAL HISTORICAL PUBLICATIONS AND RECORDS COMMISSION GRANTS PROGRAM

The conference agreement appropriates $10,000,000 for the Grants Program of the National Historical Publications and Records Commission instead of $6,000,000 as proposed by the House and $11,000,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conferees have included language delaying the availability of $4,000,000 of the funds until September 30, 1999, instead of $5,500,000 as proposed by the Senate.

The conferees have agreed to provide $4,000,000 for a grant to the Center for Jewish History instead of $5,000,000 as proposed by the Senate. The conferees note, however, that a single grant of this size is far beyond the scope of activities normally undertaken by the National Historical Publications and Records Commission. For example, the Commission expects to fund, in whole or in part, 103 proposals with the $5,500,000 provided in fiscal year 1998. Therefore, the conferees agree that the funds provided for the Center for Jewish History represent the total to be provided from this account.

UNITED STATES TAX COURT
SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement appropriates $32,765,000 for the United States Tax Court as proposed by the Senate instead of $34,490,000 as proposed by the House.

TITLE V—GENERAL PROVISIONS

THIS ACT

Sec. 501. The conferees agree to continue to limit the expenditure of appropriated funds to the current year, unless otherwise designated.

Sec. 502. The conferees agree to continue to limit funding for consulting services.

Sec. 511. The conferees agree to a provision proposed by the Senate which authorizes the use of unobligated balances for certain purposes, providing that such requests be made in compliance with reprogramming guidelines.

Sec. 512. The conferees agree to include a provision as proposed by both the House and Senate which prohibits the use of funds for the White House to request official background reports without the written consent of the individual who is the subject of the report.

Sec. 513. The conferees have included language which provides that funds provided in this Act may be used to initiate or continue projects or activities, to the extent necessary, consistent with existing agency plans, to achieve Year 2000 (Y2K) conversion to ensure adequate funding until such time as supplemental appropriations are made available for that purpose. The language also includes a provision which requires agencies that use funds appropriated in this Act for Y2K conversion activities to restore funds to the program, project, or activity from which the funds were obligated when supplemental appropriations for Y2K conversion activities are made available.

Sec. 515. The conferees agree to include a provision authorizing the payment of attorneys' fees, costs and sanctions by the Federal government in the case Association of American Physicians and Surgeons, Inc. v. Clinton from the White House Office Salaries and Expenses account, as proposed by the House in the House-reported bill.

Sec. 516. The conferees agree to include a new provision authorizing the use of fifty percent of the fiscal year 1997 unobligated balances available to the White House Salaries and Expenses account for the purposes of partially satisfying the conditions of Section 515.

Sec. 517. The conferees have agreed to include language which makes technical corrections to the Morris K. Udall Scholarship and Excellence in National Environmental and Native American Public Policy Act of 1992.

Sec. 518. The conferees have agreed to include a new provision regarding cost accounting standards to contracts under the FEHBP.

The conferees delete a provision which provides for the appointment and reappointment of Staff Director and General Counsel of the Federal Election Commission.

TITLE VI—GENERAL PROVISIONS

DEPARTMENTS, AGENCIES, AND CORPORATIONS

Sec. 639. The conferees agree to continue a provision providing that no funds may be expended to provide an employee's home address to a labor organization except when the employee has authorized such a disclosure or such disclosure has been ordered by a court of competent jurisdiction.

Sec. 640. The conferees agree to continue a provision authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to establish scientific certification standards for explosives detection canines.

Sec. 641. The conferees agree to continue a provision prohibiting the use of appropriated funds to provide nonpublic information such as mailing or telephone lists to any person or organization outside of the Government.

Sec. 642. The conferees agree to continue a provision prohibiting funding for publicity or propaganda purposes not authorized by Congress.

Sec. 643. The conferees agree to a new provision that directs the U.S. Marshals Service to conduct a quarterly threat assessment on the Director of the Office of National Drug Control Policy upon which the Director's security needs will be based.

Sec. 644. The conferees agree to a new provision to expand section 636 of the Treasury, Postal Service and General Government Appropriations Act, 1997 (Public Law 104-208) to include the judicial branch.

Sec. 645. The conferees agree to a new provision directing employees to use "official time" in an honest effort to perform official duties. The conferees agree that this section does not affect the rights and responsibilities under chapter 71 of title 5, United States Code.

Sec. 646. The conferees agree to a new provision providing monetary relief to importers whose legally purchased goods were denied entry upon arrival because of changes in official policy.

Sec. 647. The conferees agree to a new provision regarding pay for Federal employees. The conferees anticipate that the President will issue an Executive Order allocating the 3.6 percent pay increase between an increase in rates of basic pay for the statutory pay systems under section 5303 of title 5, United States Code, and increases in comparability-based locality payments for General Schedule employees under section 5304. The conferees have not made the language more specific so that the President may exercise his discretion to distribute any amount allocated for comparability-based locality payments in the most appropriate fashion among the pay localities established by the President's Pay Agent.

Sec. 648. The conferees agree to a new provision requiring the Postal Rate Commission to submit an annual report to Congress regarding international mail rates.

Sec. 649. The conferees agree to a new provision to extend the sunset date for Section 2(f)(2) of the Undetectable Firearms Act of 1988 (18 U.S.C. 922 note) from 10 to 15 years.

Sec. 650. The conferees agree to a new provision to direct the Customs Service, in consultation with the U.S. Trade Representative and the Department of Commerce, to report on the importation of certain grains.

Sec. 651. The conferees agree to a new provision to designate the Eugene J. McCarthy Post Office Building.

Sec. 652. The conferees agree to a new provision authorizing the use of credit card rebates to support the Joint Financial Management Improvement Program.

Sec. 653. The conferees agree to a new provision addressing use of accrued leave as it applies to Senior Executive Service reduction in force actions.

Sec. 654. The conferees agree to a new provision directing agencies to assess the impact of Federal regulations and policies on families.

Sec. 655. The conferees include a new provision relating to the application of 18 U.S.C., Section 922(t).

Sec. 656. The conferees agree to a new provision addressing contraceptive coverage in health plans participating in the FEHB program.

The conferees delete a provision included by the House prohibiting the use of appropriated funds for new nonpostal commercial activities or pack and send services.

The conferees delete a provision included by the Senate prohibiting the acquisition of products produced by forced or indentured child labor.

The conferees delete a provision included by the Senate authorizing agencies to provide child care in federal or leased facilities.

The conferees delete a provision included by the Senate expressing a sense of Congress that a postal stamp be created to commemorate Oskar Schindler.

The conferees delete a provision included by the Senate prohibiting the use of any funds in this Act to pay for abortions or administrative expenses of any FEHBP plans which provide abortion benefits. This provision is addressed in Section 509.

The conferees delete a provision included by the Senate authorizing the expenditure of funds for abortions under the FEHBP if the life of the mother is in danger or the pregnancy is the result of an act of rape or incest. This provision is addressed in Section 510.

The conferees delete a provision included by the Senate requiring any Senate or House bill or joint resolution of a public character to include a detailed analysis of the potential impact of such legislation on family well-being and on children.

The conferees delete a provision included by the Senate authorizing $420,000,000 in emergency funding for the Strategic Petroleum Reserve.

The conferees delete a provision included by the Senate expressing the sense of Congress that a postal stamp be created to honor the 150th Anniversary of Irish immigrants to the United States.

The conferees delete a provision included by the Senate authorizing the Community and Postal Participation Act of 1998.

The conferees delete a provision included by the Senate waiving Section 611 of this title to permit interagency funding of the National Bioethics Advisory Commission.

The conferees delete a provision included by the Senate to permit the interagency funding of the National Science and Technology Council.

The conferees delete a provision included by the Senate allowing amounts appropriated in this Act to be transferred to the FLETC ACIRE account. The conferees address this appropriation in Title I of this Act.

The conferees delete a provision dealing with child care in Federal facilities proposed by the Senate.

TITLE VIII—TECHNICAL AND CLARIFYING AMENDMENTS

The conferees delete a new title authorizing the Office of National Drug Control Policy proposed by the Senate and instead insert a new title regarding administration of the DC Retirement Trust Fund.

TITLE IX—HAITIAN REFUGEE IMMIGRATION FAIRNESS ACT OF 1998

The conference agreement includes a new Title, the Haitian Refugee Immigration Fairness Act of 1998, as proposed in the Senate bill, which provides certain Haitians who were paroled into the United States before December 31, 1995 and who applied for asylum by that date, and certain unaccompanied minors, to apply for adjustment of status. The House had no similar provision.

In addition, the conference agreement adds a section requiring detailed reports from the Comptroller General on the numbers of aliens who apply for and receive status adjustment under this Act.

CONFERENCE TOTAL—WITH COMPARISONS

The total new budget (obligational) authority for the fiscal year 1999 recommended by the Committee of Conference, with comparisons to the fiscal year 1998 amount, the 1999 budget estimates, and the House and Senate bills for 1999 follow:

New budget (obligational) authority, fiscal year 1998	$25,325,767,500
Budget estimates of new (obligational) authority, fiscal year 1999	26,839,489,000

House bill, fiscal year 1999	26,614,669,000
Senate bill, fiscal year 1999	29,923,612,000
Conference agreement, fiscal year 1999	26,772,527,000
Conference agreement compared with:
New budget (obligational) authority, fiscal year 1998	+1,446,759,500
Budget estimates of new (obligational) authority, fiscal year 1999	-66,962,000
House bill, fiscal year 1999	+157,858,000
Senate bill, fiscal year 1999	-3,151,085,000

ADDITIONAL PROVISIONS (DIVISION A)

SECTIONS 102-134

The conference agreement includes $50,000,000 in final year funding for the nonpower programs of the Tennessee Valley Authority. Within this amount, $7,000,000 is provided for Land Between the Lakes.

The conference agreement includes language permitting the Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) to repurchase bonds issued by the Federal Financing Bank (FFB) without prepayment penalty. This provision will permit TVA to prepay its loans at less than their full contractual value, resulting in a savings to TVA of approximately $810,000,000 over ten years. The FFB, however, retains its contractual obligation to repay its corresponding loan from the Treasury at the full market value of the TVA loan. This will require additional appropriations to the FFB.

The conference agreement repeals section 312 of the Energy and Water Development Appropriations Act, 1999. Section 312 delayed until September 30, 1999, the obligation of $57,000,000 in the Atomic Energy Defense Activities, Weapons Activities appropriation account.

The conference agreement provides $35,000,000 for the Columbia River Fish Mitigation, Washington, Oregon and Idaho, project of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

The conference agreement provides: $1,500,000 of previously appropriated funds to initiate construction of the Delaware River Mainstem and Channel Deepening, Delaware, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania, project; $400,000 of previously appropriated funds to initiate a comprehensive aquatic ecosystem restoration study in the Upper Susquehanna-Lackawanna Watershed; and $340,000 of previously appropriated funds to initiate construction of the Pierre, South Dakota, flood mitigation project, subject to authorization. The agreement also includes $1,500,000 of previously appropriated funds for water-related environmental infrastructure and resource protection and development projects in Allegheny County, Pennsylvania. Of this amount, $500,000 is for water resource projects in Scott Township, $500,000 is for projects in Shaler Township, and $500,000 is for projects in the municipality of Penn Hills.

The conference agreement includes authorization and $750,000 for repair of the Archusa Water Park Dam, Quitman, Mississippi.

The conference agreement includes $60,000,000 for solar and renewable programs in the energy supply account in addition to the amount provided for fiscal year 1999 in the Energy and Water Development Appropriations Act, 1999 (P.L. 105-245). Of this amount, $42,000,000 has been provided to reduce the $50,000,000 general reduction in the energy supply account that otherwise would have been applied to solar and renewable programs. The remaining $18,000,000 has been provided for high-priority solar and renewable research and development activities. The Department is directed to submit a proposal for approval by the Committees on Appropriations within thirty days of enactment of this bill which includes the Department's plan to direct this additional amount to high-priority programs. The entire $60,000,000 is to remain available through September 30, 2000.

The conference agreement includes $15,000,000 for the Department of Energy to participate in the Next Generation Internet program. The Department is directed to award funds under this program using full and open competitive procedures.

The conference agreement includes language prohibiting the use of funds appropriated for fiscal year 1999 to study, or implement any plan for, the drainage of Lake Powell or the decommissioning of Glen Canyon Dam.

The conference agreement provides $100,000,000 for construction of and improvements to surface transportation projects located in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

The conference agreement provides $100,000,000 for construction of and improvements to Corridor X of the Appalachian development highway system within the State of Alabama.

The conference agreement provides $32,000,000 for construction of and improvements to the Appalachian development highway system in West Virginia.

The conference agreement provides $100,000,000 for construction of and improvements to highway projects designated by section 1105(c)(18)(C)(ii) of the Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act of 1991, as amended by section 1211(i) of the Transportation Equity Act for the 21st Century.

The conference agreement includes an appropriation of $28,000,000, to remain available until expended, to enable the Secretary of Transportation to make grants to the state-owned Alaska Railroad. These funds are to be utilized for planning, design, administration and construction costs associated with the Anchorage International Airport-rail passenger station.

The conference agreement rescinds $392,000,000 in excess contract authority from the Federal Transit Administration's discretionary grants program. A similar rescission was proposed by the Senate as part of the fiscal year 1999 Department of Transportation and Related Agencies Appropriations Act.

The conference agreement includes a provision that provides within funding provided in the Department of Transportation and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 1999, for discretionary grants under the obligation limitation for Federal Aviation Administration, "Grants-in-Aid for Airports" in fiscal year 1999, not less than $11,250,000 shall be made available for capital improvement projects at the Wilkes-Barre/Scranton International Airport. These projects are in the FAA-approved airport layout plan, and include construction of a new terminal building, relocation of the FAA air traffic control tower, and relocation of the airport rescue and fire-fighting facility. The conference agreement includes an understanding that the airport authority is supportive of renaming this airport after Congressman Joseph M. McDade, who has served that area of Pennsylvania faithfully and diligently for 36 years. The conferees are strongly supportive of the airport's efforts in this regard.

The conference agreement includes a provision that provides within funding provided in the Department of Transportation and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 1999, for discretionary grants under the obligation limitation for Federal Aviation Administration, "Grants-in-Aid for Airports" in fiscal year 1999, not less than $7,000,000 shall be made available for capital improvement projects at the Minneapolis/St. Paul International Airport.

The conference agreement amends the appropriating paragraph for the Joint Committee on Printing in the Conference Report on the Legislative Branch Appropriations, 1999 (H.R. 4112) to provide that the $150,000 made available, subject to certain conditions, to the Committee on House Oversight shall be disbursed by the Chief Administrative Officer of the House of Representatives.

The conference agreement includes a provision to appropriate $30,000,000 for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of the American Fisheries Act, which is included in Division C, title II of this Act, as follows: (1) $750,000 for the cost of a direct loan under section 207(a); (2) $20,000,000 for direct payments under section 207(d); (3) $250,000 for the cost of the direct loans under section 211(e); (4) $1,000,000 for the cost of direct loans in the Bering Sea and Aleutian Islands crab fishery; and (5) $8,000,000 for administrative expenses associated with implementation of this title. Neither the House nor Senate bills addressed this matter.

The conference agreement inserts a new general provision, which includes the following amounts in addition to the amounts provided in the conference report (H. Rept. 105-769) accompanying H.R. 4194:

(1) $10,000,000 for the housing opportunities for persons with AIDS account. This amount is an increase above the $215,000,000 provided for this program in the Fiscal Year 1999 Departments of Veterans Affairs and Housing and Urban Development, and Independent Agencies Appropriations Act;

(2) $45,000,000 for grants of $3,000,000 to each urban empowerment zone designated by HUD under the Taxpayer Relief Act of 1997 for economic development activities consistent with the strategic plan of each empowerment zone;

(3) $20,000,000 for "State and tribal assistance grants" for wastewater infrastructure needs in Boston, Massachusetts. This additional funding brings the fiscal year 1999 appropriation for Boston's wastewater infrastructure project to $50,000,000;

(4) $10,000,000 for AmeriCorps grants. This amount is an increase above the earmarking of not more than $227,000,000 for such grants provided in the Fiscal Year 1999 Departments of Veterans Affairs and Housing and Urban Development, and Independent Agencies Appropriations Act;

(5) $10,000,000 for "Science and technology" to conduct additional research pursuant to the Climate Change Technology Initiative. For fiscal year 1999, $37,000,000 has been provided for such research in this account;

(6) $15,000,000 for the "Community development financial institutions fund program account", bringing the total fiscal year 1999 funding level to $95,000,000; and

(7) $5,000,000 of the community development block grant funds provided in the 1999 appropriations shall be for a grant to Cayuga County, New York, to repair and rehabilitate the seawalls at the Owasco Lake outlet.

The conference agreement inserts a new general provision repealing Sec. 202 regarding GSE Default Loss Protection in the Departments of Veterans Affairs and Housing and Urban Development, and Independent Agencies Appropriations Act, 1999.

The conference agreement inserts a new general provision making a technical correction to targeting language in the Quality Housing and Work Responsibility Act of 1998.

The conference agreement inserts a new general provision clarifying the use of funds provided to Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, through the Community Development Block Grants program in the fiscal year 1999 appropriations Act.

The conference agreement inserts a new general provision making technical modifications to a 1999 economic development initiative grant for Hawaii.

The conference agreement inserts a new general provision making technical modifications to the reappointment authority of the VA's Under Secretary for Health.

The conference agreement includes new language establishing a Trade Deficit Review Commission to study the nature, causes and consequences of the United States merchandise trade and current account deficits and report its findings to the President and the Congress. The conference agreement also includes language under this section appropriating $2,000,000 for the expenses of this Commission. Neither the House nor Senate bills addressed this matter.

Sec. 130. The conference agreement includes a new section as proposed by the Administration that directs the Secretary of the Treasury to invest, or direct the Trustee to invest, the assets of the District of Columbia Pension Fund for Police Officers, Fire Fighters, and Teachers, in public debt securities not later than September 30, 1999. The intended results of this action, according to the Administration, is to increase Federal receipts by an estimated $2.414 billion in fiscal year 1999 and reduce receipts in subsequent years.

Sec. 131. The conference agreement appropriates $25,000,000 as proposed by the Administration for economic development planning, project development, capital investments, loans, grants, administrative expenses and other purposes included in authorizing legislation enacted by the Council of the District of Columbia. The conference agreement directs that none of these funds be obligated or expended until at least 30 days after the District of Columbia Financial Responsibility and Management Assistance Authority submits a spending plan to Congress.

Sec. 132. The conference agreement appropriates $30,000,000 as proposed by the Administration for special education costs in the District of Columbia.

Sec. 133. The conference agreement appropriates $20,000,000 as proposed by the Administration for Year 2000 information technology and related chip replacement projects in the District of Columbia. The conference agreement directs that none of these funds be obligated or expended until at least 30 days after the District of Columbia Financial Responsibility and Management Assistance Authority submits a spending plan to Congress.

Sec. 134. The conference agreement appropriates $50,000,000 as proposed by the Administration for the repair and maintenance of roads, highways, bridges and transit in the District of Columbia and other economic development projects and planning in the District of Columbia. The conference agreement directs that none of these funds be obligated or expended until at least 30 days after the District of Columbia Financial Responsibility and Management Assistance Authority submits a spending plan to Congress.

DIVISION B—EMERGENCY SUPPLEMENTAL APPROPRIATIONS

TITLE I—MILITARY READINESS AND OVERSEAS
CONTINGENCY OPERATIONS

CHAPTER 1

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE—MILITARY

Chapter 1 of this title includes a total of $5,958,053,000 in emergency supplemental appropriations for the Department of Defense. The conference agreement includes: $1,301,000,000 for urgent personnel and readiness requirements of the armed forces; $1,858,600,000, the amount requested by the President for overseas contingency operations; and $259,853,000 for costs resulting from damage incurred at U.S. military installations in the United States and South Korea due to natural disasters (chapter 3 of this title includes related military construction funding). Additional funding is provided in this chapter for Ballistic Missile Defense enhancements, defense counter-drug and drug interdiction activities, and certain classified activities.

The following table provides details of the emergency supplemental appropriations in this chapter for military readiness, overseas contingency operations, and damages resulting from natural disasters.

CLASSIFIED PROGRAMS

Adjustments to classified programs are addressed in a classified annex accompanying this conference agreement.

DEFENSE HEALTH PROGRAM

The conference agreement includes $200,000,000 in emergency supplemental appropriations for the Defense Health Program, to address funding shortfalls and other requirements which have emerged since submissions of the fiscal year 1999 budget request. These funds shall be used, as required, to address the operation and maintenance program level adjustments directed in the conference report accompanying the Department of Defense Appropriations Act, 1999; new mission requirements, including implementation of automated clinical guidelines and outcome management; and backlogs in real property maintenance.

DRUG INTERDICTION AND COUNTER-DRUG ACTIVITIES, DEFENSE

The conference agreement includes $42,000,000 in emergency supplemental appropriations for the following high-priority requirements:

National Guard General Support	$20,000,000
Observation/Spray Aircraft	8,000,000
Caribbean/Eastern Pacific Surface Interdiction	8,000,000
Operation CAPER FOCUS	6,000,000

GENERAL PROVISIONS—THIS CHAPTER

Division B, Title I of the conference agreement includes section 101, which provides authorization for intelligence activities in this Act.

The conference agreement includes section 102, which provides $1,000,000,000 in emergency supplemental appropriations for Ballistic Missile Defense program enhancements.

Recent launches of longer range and increased payload rockets by Iran and North Korea have highlighted the growing threat posed by ballistic missiles. Despite significant investment and strong congressional support, this nation has achieved only limited improvements in its ability to defeat theater ballistic missiles since facing this threat during Operation Desert Storm. Further, as highlighted by the recent report of the Commission to Assess the Ballistic Missile Threat to the United States, more and more nations have within their grasp access to intercontinental ballistic missiles (ICBM) and ICBM technology. The United States must respond now. To enable this response, the conference agreement includes an emergency supplemental appropriation of $1,000,000,000 for ballistic missile defense program enhancements.

The funds are for the sole purpose of enhancing our ability to confidently and expeditiously develop and deliver ballistic missile defense capability, and shall be available only for allocation by the Secretary of Defense. The Secretary shall use these funds only to accelerate development and enhance testing of theater and national ballistic missile defense programs, and shall also give consideration to allocating these funds to program and infrastructure activities which accelerate this nation's efforts to field theater and national ballistic missile defense capability. The Secretary of Defense shall provide written notification to the congressional defense committees 30 days before allocating any of the available funds to a specific ballistic missile defense program.

The conference agreement includes section 103, which provides $259,853,000 in emergency supplemental appropriations only for emergency expenses incurred at U.S. military facilities or installations as a result of storm damage or other natural disasters.

The conference agreement includes section 104, which provides $2,000,000 in supplemental appropriations only for the construction of additional "Fisher Houses", which are used by military families for temporary lodging when confronted with the illness or hospitalization of service members or their dependents.

The conference agreement includes section 105, which amends section 8136 of the Department of Defense Appropriations Act, 1999.

CHAPTER 2

DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY

ATOMIC ENERGY DEFENSE ACTIVITIES

OTHER DEFENSE ACTIVITIES

The conference agreement includes $200,000,000 for expenditures in the Russian Federation to implement a United States/Russian accord for the disposition of excess weapons plutonium. None of these funds may be obligated until the Department of Energy submits a detailed budget justification to Congress, and the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations have approved the proposal.

The conference agreement includes $325,000,000 for the purchase of natural uranium associated with the 1997 and 1998 deliveries under the United States-Russian Highly Enriched Uranium (HEU) Purchase Agreement.

CHAPTER 3

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE—MILITARY CONSTRUCTION

The conference agreement provides a total of $209,492,000, of which $118,000,000 is designated as an emergency, as requested, for damage related to monsoons in the Republic of Korea, and $91,492,000 is provided as a contingency for storm related damage. Authorization for these projects, including planning and design, is provided in 10 U.S.C. 2854 and 10 U.S.C. 2803.

MILITARY CONSTRUCTION, ARMY

The bill includes $118,000,000, as requested, for planning and design and to replace facilities destroyed by monsoons in the Republic of Korea during August of 1998, as follows:

Location / Facility	Cost
Camp Casey:
Whole Barracks Complex Renewal	$29,000,000
Bachelor Officer Quarters	6,500,000
Warehouses	7,700,000
Administrative Facility	10,600,000
Vehicle Maintenance Shop	7,500,000
Subtotal, Camp Casey	61,300,000
Camp Hovey:
Whole Barracks Complex Renewal	20,000,000
Bachelor Officer Quarters	6,400,000
Subtotal, Camp Hovey	26,400,000
Camp Red Cloud:
Consolidated Administrative Facility	6,900,000
Bachelor Officer Quarters	12,400,000
Subtotal, Camp Red Cloud	19,300,000
Camp Howze:
Community Service Center	1,750,000
Company Operations Building	2,650,000
Subtotal, Camp Howze	4,400,000
Planning and Design	6,600,000
Grand Total	118,000,000

In a number of instances, these construction projects include consolidation of activities that were previously conducted in a number of facilities that have been destroyed. All projects, for which funds are appropriated, including such consolidations and planning and design, are authorized by 10 U.S.C. 2854. Language is also included, as requested, authorizing the Secretary of the Army to acquire property and carry out a military construction project at Camp Casey, Korea in the amount of $12,016,000.

MILITARY CONSTRUCTION, NAVY

The conference agreement provides a total of $5,860,000 as a contingent emergency appropriation due to storm damage for the following projects:

Mississippi—Gulfport Naval Construction Training Center:
Consolidated equipment operator training facility	$860,000
Puerto Rico—Naval Station Roosevelt Roads:
CPO Club	1,000,000
Pier replacement	4,000,000

MILITARY CONSTRUCTION, AIR FORCE

The conference agreement provides a total of $29,200,000, as a contingent emergency appropriation due to storm damage and for force protection which are authorized under 10 U.S.C. 2803 and 10 U.S.C. 2854 for the following project:

Mississippi—Keesler AFB:
Electrical Distribution System	$27,000,000
Turkey—Incirlik AB:
Base Main Gate Complex	2,200,000

MILITARY CONSTRUCTION, ARMY NATIONAL GUARD

The conference agreement provides $2,500,000 as a contingent emergency appropriation due to storm damage for a bridge replacement at Camp Santiago, Puerto Rico. Authority is provided for the Army National Guard to procure targetry systems in support of military construction projects as specified in Senate Report 105-213.

MILITARY CONSTRUCTION, AIR NATIONAL GUARD

The conference agreement provides $15,900,000 as a contingent emergency appropriation due to storm damage for the following projects:

Mississippi—Gulfport Air National Guard Base:
Replace fire station	$2,600,000
Replace hangar 69	7,100,000
Replace dormitory	6,200,000

FAMILY HOUSING, ARMY

The conference agreement provides $5,200,000 as a contingent emergency appropriation due to storm damage of family housing units and whole house improvements for rehabilitation of family housing units referred to in section 8142 of the Department of Defense Appropriations Act, 1999 at Ft. Buchanan, Puerto Rico.

FAMILY HOUSING, NAVY AND MARINE CORPS

The conference agreement provides $10,599,000 as a contingent emergency appropriation due to storm damage for repair and replacement of family housing units and necessary debris removal and clean-up at the following locations:

Florida—Key West Naval Air Station	$1,547,000
Florida—Pensacola Naval Station	650,000
Mississippi—Gulfport Construction Battalion Center	2,802,000
North Carolina—Camp Lejeune	2,000,000
North Carolina—Cherry Point	500,000
Puerto Rico—Roosevelt Roads	3,100,000

Repairing damage caused by Hurricane Georges to one Navy general or flag officer quarters at Naval Station Roosevelt Roads, Puerto Rico may exceed the maintenance and repair threshold of $25,000. The report required by House Report 105-578 may be submitted after these repairs are completed.

FAMILY HOUSING, AIR FORCE

The conference agreement provides a total of $22,233,000 as a contingent emergency appropriation due to storm damage for repair and replacement of necessary family housing units, supporting facilities, electrical distribution, and necessary debris removal and clean-up at the following locations:

Florida—Hurlburt Field	$113,000
Florida—Eglin AFB	120,000
Mississippi—Keesler AFB	22,000,000

GENERAL PROVISIONS

A general provision is included which makes a technical correction to Section 2304(c)(2) of the Strom Thurmond National Defense Authorization Act for fiscal year 1999.

CHAPTER 4

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

COAST GUARD

In total, this chapter of the bill includes $210,000,000 for support of the U.S. Coast Guard. Of this amount, $72,000,000 is to maintain the Coast Guard's operational readiness, and $138,000,000 is for the Coast Guard to play an expanded role in drug interdiction activities. The entire amount is designated as an emergency requirement and made contingent on the President's request and designation of such as an emergency.

OPERATING EXPENSES

The bill includes $100,000,000 for additional necessary operating expenses of the Coast Guard, $28,000,000 of which is only available for expenses related to expansion of drug interdiction activities. The balance of funding is provided to maintain the Coast Guard's operational readiness across all mission areas. The entire amount is designated as an emergency requirement and made contingent on the President's request and designation of such as an emergency.

ACQUISITION, CONSTRUCTION, AND IMPROVEMENTS

The bill includes $100,000,000 for additional necessary expenses for capital acquisition, construction, renovation and improvement programs of the Coast Guard. This funding is included to expand the Coast Guard's drug interdiction capabilities. The entire amount is designated as an emergency requirement and made contingent on the President's request and designation of such as an emergency. The bill specifies that the funds are available only to purchase specific assets for increasing drug interdiction capabilities, as follows:

Program	Amount
Barracuda-class coastal patrol boats	$33,000,000
Cutter sensors & communication systems	13,000,000
Reactivation of HU-25 jets	7,500,000
Operational test, use of force from aircraft	2,500,000
Aircraft sensors & C-130 engine upgrade	44,000,000
Total	100,000,000

RESERVE TRAINING

The bill includes $5,000,000 for additional necessary expenses for reserve training and stipulates that the highest priority for use of these funds is enhancement of drug interdiction activities conducted by the Coast Guard reserves. The bill designates the entire amount as an emergency requirement, and restricts the Coast Guard from transferring any of these funds to the service's operating account. The funding is made contingent on the President's request and designation of such as an emergency requirement.

RESEARCH, DEVELOPMENT, TEST, AND EVALUATION

The bill includes $5,000,000 for additional necessary expenses for research, development, test, and evaluation activities of the Coast Guard. The bill specifies that drug interdiction technologies and related operations research shall receive the highest priority for the use of these funds. The entire amount is designated as an emergency requirement and made contingent on the President's request and designation of such as an emergency.

TITLE II—ANTITERRORISM

CHAPTER 1

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $21,680,000, as requested, to remain available until expended as an emergency appropriation to provide additional funds for staff and equipment to increase the capacity and capability of the Federal Bureau of Investigation to respond to acts of terrorism. These funds, when combined with existing resources, will enable the FBI to establish a total of five rapid deployment teams.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

ADMINISTRATION OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS

DIPLOMATIC AND CONSULAR PROGRAMS

The conference agreement includes $773,700,000, to remain available until expended, as an emergency appropriation. Of this amount, $748,000,000 is to provide funds for reconstitution of embassy activities in Nairobi, Kenya and Dar es Salaam, Tanzania, and for security improvements for overseas facilities, as requested. In addition, $25,700,000, which is provided above the request, and release of which is contingent upon a Presidential emergency declaration, is to continue funding for antiterrorism requirements overseas initiated in the fiscal year 1997 Appropriations Act. The provision includes language permitting the Secretary of State to procure services and equipment overseas necessary to improve worldwide security and reconstitute embassy operations in Kenya and Tanzania on behalf of any other agency. The Department is expected to consult with the relevant Committees on plans for expenditure of funds to assure that the Committees are in agreement on all planned uses of these funds. The Department is expected to report annually to the relevant Committees on the expenditure of funds made available in this emergency supplemental, to provide Congress a clear accounting of the progress in implementing this package of enhancements.

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement includes $12,000,000 in emergency funding, as requested, to remain available until expended, to provide funds for security improvements and for a security review panel.

OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL

The conference agreement includes $1,000,000 in emergency funding, as requested, to remain available until expended, to provide funds to enable the Inspector General to carry out additional security oversight and construction inspections at U.S. diplomatic posts abroad.

SECURITY AND MAINTENANCE OF UNITED STATES MISSIONS

The conference agreement includes $627,000,000 in emergency funding, as requested, to remain available until expended. This is to provide funds for reconstruction of embassy facilities in Nairobi, Kenya and Dar es Salaam, Tanzania, for reconstitution of embassy activities in interim facilities, and for other activities that improve the security of overseas facilities of the State Department and other Federal agencies. Of the $627,000,000, $56,000,000 is for security projects, relocations, and security equipment on behalf of missions of other U.S. Government agencies. In addition, $185,000,000 of this amount is for capital improvements or relocation of office and residential facilities to improve security, which can only be made available 15 days after notice to the Committees on Appropriations.

EMERGENCIES IN THE DIPLOMATIC AND CONSULAR SERVICE

The conference agreement includes $10,000,000 in emergency funding, as requested, to remain available until expended, to provide funds for emergency expenditures resulting from the bombing of embassy facilities in Nairobi, Kenya and Dar es Salaam, Tanzania, including expenses related to evacuations, rewards, and the medical and other needs of employees and their families.

CHAPTER 2

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE

MILITARY

OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE, DEFENSE-WIDE

The conference agreement includes $358,427,000 in emergency supplemental appropriations for Operation and Maintenance, Defense-Wide for counter-terrorism programs, security enhancements, and other programs.

CLASSIFIED PROGRAMS

Adjustments to classified programs are addressed in a classified annex accompanying this conference agreement.

DOMESTIC PREPAREDNESS AGAINST WEAPONS OF MASS DESTRUCTION

The conference agreement includes $50,000,000 in emergency supplemental appropriations to initiate and expand activities of the Department of Defense to prevent, prepare for, and respond to a potential terrorist attack in the United States involving weapons of mass destruction (WMD). The National Guard, with its dual status as both a federal and state force, has great potential to enhance the nationwide WMD response capability. The Department of Defense has invested billions of dollars in WMD detection, warning, protection, and decontamination and possesses much knowledge and technology that can be transferred to civil authorities. The National Guard is the logical entity to act as a conduit between the Department of Defense and state and local civil authorities to avoid duplication of effort, and to explain the needs of civil authorities to Department of Defense planners.

The conference agreement provides funds for the following activities:

National Guard Personnel, Army:
WMD training and support	$4,000,000
National Guard Personnel, Air Force:
WMD training and support	1,000,000
O&M, Army National Guard:
Consequence management	20,000,000
O&M, Army:
Consequence management	2,000,000
Procurement, Defense-Wide:
Consequence management	8,000,000
RDT&E, Army:
Consequence management	15,000,000

The expanded training initiatives developed with research, development, test and evaluation funds are to be fully coordinated and integrated with efforts being planned by other agencies under the new federal framework that has been developed. The Department of Defense training program shall be focused on: (a) transferring military knowledge, expertise, and technology regarding the detection, warning, protection, and decontamination of weapons of mass destruction to appropriate federal, state and local personnel; and (b) promoting the interoperability between designated WMD emergency response units of the National Guard and counterpart federal, state, and local first responder units. Emphasis will be given to developing a comprehensive and sustainable training curriculum to include operational training and refresher courses as well as basic classroom coursework. Implementation of this training program shall use existing infrastructure to the fullest possible extent with emphasis on the use of distributive training technology (e.g., RCAS, Warrior Network, and the collaborative virtual workspace initiative) at National Guard and Reserve Component armories, air bases, schools, and other appropriate facilities.

In addition to the activities identified in House Report 105-591, funds are to be used to provide assistance to civil authorities in conducting detailed equipment needs assessments and procuring or loaning basic and essential equipment to those communities; procure equipment for RAID Elements to include mobile analytical laboratory systems, unified communications suites and other essential operational and communications/computer equipment; establish and equip small organizations in each of the 44 states not receiving an initial RAID Element in 1999 to provide limited chemical/biological response capabilities; develop joint doctrine and training plans; and test/evaluate the new system through a comprehensive joint exercise program.

GENERAL PROVISIONS—THIS CHAPTER

Division B, Title II of the conference agreement includes section 201, as proposed in the supplemental budget request, which amends Section 374 of title 10, United States Code, in order to foster better coordination between the Department of Defense and other Federal agencies with regard to counter-terrorism activities.

The conference agreement includes section 202, which provides $50,000,000 in emergency supplemental appropriations for Domestic Preparedness programs of the Department of Defense against Weapons of Mass Destruction.

The conference agreement includes section 203, which provides $120,500,000 in emergency supplemental appropriations for the provision of crisis response aviation support.

CHAPTER 3

FUNDS APPROPRIATED TO THE PRESIDENT

INTERNATIONAL SECURITY ASSISTANCE

ECONOMIC SUPPORT FUND

(INCLUDING TRANSFERS OF FUNDS)

The conference agreement appropriates $50,000,000 for an additional amount for “Economic Support Fund” for assistance for Kenya and Tanzania, to remain available until September 30, 2000. These funds are designated an emergency requirement under the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985, as amended, pursuant to the President’s request.

In addition, the conference agreement provides for the transfers of $2,500,000 to “Operating Expenses of the Agency for International Development” and $1,269,000 to “Peace Corps” for security and related expenses, and funds are authorized to be made available for administrative costs associated with assistance provided under this heading. Funds appropriated under this heading are subject to the regular notification procedures of the Committee on Appropriations.

NONPROLIFERATION, ANTI-TERRORISM, DEMINING AND RELATED PROGRAMS

The conference agreement appropriates $20,000,000 for an additional amount for “Nonproliferation, Anti-Terrorism, Demining and Related Programs” for anti-terrorism assistance. These funds are designated an emergency requirement under the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985, as amended, pursuant to the President’s request.

CHAPTER 4

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

NATIONAL PARK SERVICE

OPERATION OF THE NATIONAL PARK SYSTEM

An additional $2,320,000 is provided for operation of the national park system to address emergency, security-related expenses. This amount is designated by the Congress as an emergency requirement as defined in the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985, as amended.

CONSTRUCTION

An additional $3,680,000 is provided for construction to address emergency, security-related expenses. This amount is designated by the Congress as an emergency requirement as defined in the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985, as amended.

CHAPTER 5

ARCHITECT OF THE CAPITOL

CAPITOL VISITOR CENTER

The conference agreement provides $100,000,000 to the Architect of the Capitol for planning, engineering, design, and construction of a Capitol visitor center, a facility that will provide greater security for all persons working in or visiting the United States Capitol and a more convenient place in which to learn of the work of the Congress. Each of the above-named milestones will require the approval of the appropriate authorizing and appropriations committees as the project progresses. The language of the bill also provides that appropriated funds for this purpose be supplemented by private funds. In this way, all citizens may share in both the services that will be provided by a visitor center as well as an opportunity to help defray the costs of construction.

The Architect of the Capitol completed an earlier design of a proposed center in 1995. The planning that supported that design needs a thorough review and a more current endorsement from the committees of jurisdiction. The Capitol Preservation Commission is considering a proposal to have the General Accounting Office undertake an analysis of all ancillary costs and operational impacts of a visitor center. It is appropriate that this study go forward during the planning phase and be incorporated into the analysis that underpins the revised plan.

The funding for the visitor center will remain available until expended and the language provides that section 3709 of the revised statutes shall not apply to these expenditures. The latter provision is standard on such projects and allows negotiated bidding as well as a competitive process. The Architect of the Capitol is directed not to expend any funds for this project without an obligation plan approved by the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations which shall specify the purpose and amount of anticipated obligations. The authorizing committees will oversee these activities in the normal manner.

JOINT ITEMS

CAPITOL POLICE BOARD

SECURITY ENHANCEMENTS

The conference agreement provides $106,782,000 to the Capitol Police Board for security enhancements to the United States Capitol complex and the Library of Congress buildings and grounds. These funds will remain available until expended. Language has also been included to allow the transfer of funds to either the Architect of the Capitol or the Library of Congress, based upon plans approved by the Committee on House Oversight of the House of Representatives, the Committee on Rules and Administration of the Senate, and the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations. The Capitol Police Board, Architect of the Capitol, and the Library of Congress are directed not to expend any funds for these security enhancements without an obligation plan approved by the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations which shall specify the purpose and amount of anticipated obligations. The authorizing committees will oversee these activities in the normal manner.

The Capitol Police Board is directed to secure approval of any plans necessary to carry out these security enhancements from the above-named committees. In carrying out this task, the police board will be expected to consult with the Architect of the Capitol and the Library of Congress. Those agencies, in turn, are directed to make all such requests through the police board for resource allocations from the funds available. The Committees on Appropriations will not approve obligations or transfers of funds until the authorizing and appropriations committees of the respective body have approved the appropriate plans.

Due to the recent tragic shootings at the Capitol, together with other threats identified by Congressional security experts, the Capitol police have undertaken a broad review of the existing security program and needs for improvement or updating. This review, aided by other Federal security agencies and private consultants, has developed a number of proposals. Several hearings and discussions with the leadership and the committees of jurisdiction have resulted in a priority list that are included within this conference agreement.

The conference agreement provides funding for the following:

Capitol, House and Senate office buildings:
1. Command center equipment	$2,265,000
2. Intrusion detection systems	11,852,000
3. Closed circuit television	8,656,000
4. Communications	2,789,000
5. Screening equipment	12,458,000
6. Access control	4,456,000
7. Training	1,250,000
8. Officer—issued equipment	9,778,000
9. Operational capabilities	2,640,000
10. Physical upgrades	2,417,000
11. Personnel and overtime increase	25,260,000

12. Capital improvements	3,586,000
Subtotal, Capitol, House and Senate office buildings	87,407,000
Library of Congress:
13. Consolidate command centers	$2,500,000
14. Intrusion detection systems	2,500,000
15. Closed circuit television	210,000
16. Screening equipment	391,000
17. Access control	4,950,000
18. Training	55,000
19. Officer equipment	63,000
20. Physical upgrades	3,864,000
21. Studies and analyses	200,000
22. LC police staffing increase	2,242,000
Subtotal, Library of Congress	16,975,000
24. Contingency	2,400,000
Total, Capitol, House and Senate office buildings, and Library of Congress	106,782,000

For capital improvements, certain funds have been provided for further analysis of the need for training and off-site delivery facilities (including the Library of Congress). As the police master plan funded in the FY1999 Legislative Branch Appropriations Act is being conducted, the police board is directed to review and study alternatives for such facilities. If it is determined that new construction is needed, the police board is instructed to seek authority from the appropriate authorizing committees before making any further funding requests in the appropriations process. The appropriate authorization committees are identified in House and Senate rules and, if there is any question, the police board should refer to those official authorities.

A contingency has been provided for items such as a mobile command center, decontamination trailers, studies, and a strategic plan. All of these are subject to further justification and approval as is the entire funding program.

For the Capitol police, funds are provided for additional police staffing sufficient for 260 sworn officers, operational and administrative personnel over a two-year period, assuming a steady recruitment ramp up pattern. This will allow the Capitol police to schedule approximately twice the ordinary number of attendees at the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center. The police board has assured the committees that FLETC is capable of handling this increase. The administrative personnel are provided for the added infrastructure support that will be necessary. In addition to salary funds, $12,000,000 is provided for overtime over the two-year period that will augment the amounts in the base budgets for both years that are customarily provided for overtime. The police are directed to maintain the current high standards for recruitment and deployment of the additional personnel.

For the Library of Congress, two-year funding is provided for 46 additional police and 5 support personnel, assuming a steady ramp up pattern. An additional $525,000 is provided for overtime expenses.

It should be noted that these are not hard and fast allocations. As estimates become more precise, further analysis may reveal the necessity to adjust these allocations. In particular, the amounts provided for the Library of Congress items may undergo change due to the transfer of design, installation, and maintenance of LOC physical security systems from the Architect of the Capitol to the Capitol Police Board. The police board and the other agencies, therefore, may have to request changes in these amounts as they present the specific plans for subsequent approval as required by the appropriating legislation. The amounts are identified herein because they are based on the amounts presented to the committees in the justifications given by the police board and the other agencies, as adjusted in the priority list.

GENERAL PROVISION, THIS CHAPTER

The conference agreement transfers the responsibility for the design, installation and maintenance of physical security systems for the Library of Congress buildings and grounds from the Architect of the Capitol to the Capitol Police Board. This transfer of responsibility is in keeping with recent efforts to establish a reasoned and uniform approach to security within the Capitol complex. The Capitol Police Board is directed to apply the appropriate standards of security to Library of Congress buildings and grounds.

CHAPTER 6

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

FEDERAL AVIATION ADMINISTRATION

FACILITIES AND EQUIPMENT

(AIRPORT AND AIRWAY TRUST FUND)

The bill includes $100,000,000 for necessary expenses for acquisition, installation, and related activities supporting the deployment of bulk and trace explosive detection systems and other advanced security equipment at U.S. airports. The Senate received correspondence from the Vice President on September 15, 1998 which stated: "The terrorist attacks against our embassies in Kenya and Tanzania remind us of the global nature of terrorism. . . These events provide strong evidence of the need to recognize aviation security as a national security issue and to provide substantial federal funds for aviation security improvements as a major element of our overall national security counterintelligence policy". Consistent with this view, the bill includes $100,000,000 for advanced airport security systems. The entire amount is designated as an emergency requirement. The conference agreement distributes funds as follows:

Activity	Amount
Acquisition of additional bulk or trace EDS systems	$50,000,000
TIP-ready, operator-assist x-ray units	24,600,000
Integration costs—EDS systems	20,000,000
Trace detection document scanners	3,400,000
Trace detection passenger portals	$2,000,000
Total	100,000,000

Compared to original budget estimates, this bill provides more funding for system integration costs based on information that lack of such funding has contributed to the delay in commissioning the security equipment which has been procured thus far. The FAA, airlines, and airport officials all acknowledge that integrating these systems into airline and airport operating systems has been a greater than anticipated challenge. Furthermore, since the certification of second generation bulk EDS systems has been delayed, the conference agreement reallocates some funding to other items which will have a stronger impact on security in the near-term. It is hoped that one or more second generation systems will meet the certification standards over the coming year, and that viable competition in this program can be developed.

CHAPTER 7

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

FEDERAL LAW ENFORCEMENT TRAINING CENTER

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conferees agree to provide $3,548,000, instead of $4,043,000, as requested by the President. This reflects the actual costs of additional instructors at the Center, as well as training, meals, lodging, and related operational costs associated with basic training for Secret Service and State Department students being hired to respond to threats of domestic and foreign terrorism.

UNITED STATES SECRET SERVICE

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conferees agree to provide $80,808,000, instead of $86,317,000, as requested by the President. The difference between the requested and funded levels is equal to the amount that the President made available for obligation from the Treasury Counter-Terrorism Fund subsequent to the original request. This funding is to cover costs of additional personnel required to increase the number of protective details for Secret Service protectees, enhanced protective capabilities, and protective operations, equipment and services. The conferees remind the Director of the United States Secret Service that funding for vehicle acquisition will not be available for obligation until the Secretary of the Treasury determines that such acquisitions are consistent with Departmental vehicle management policy.

TITLE III

YEAR 2000 CONVERSION OF FEDERAL INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY SYSTEMS

FUNDS APPROPRIATED TO THE PRESIDENT

The conferees have provided $2,250,000,000 for emergency expenses related to Year 2000 conversion of Federal information technology systems for all federal Departments and agencies except the Department of Defense. Of these funds, the conferees agree to provide $16,873,000 for Legislative Branch Year 2000 conversion efforts and $13,044,000 for the conversion of Judicial Branch information technology and security systems. Additional funds for the Department of Defense are provided elsewhere in this Title.

The conference agreement transfers $16,873,000 to the Legislative branch of the funds appropriated to the President for expenses related to Year 2000 conversion of Federal information technology systems. Of this amount, $5,500,000 is provided to the Senate Sergeant at Arms for Senate computer systems. As requested by the Senate, the Senate Sergeant at Arms is directed to secure approval from the Senate Committees on Appropriations and Rules and Administration. For the House of Representatives, $6,373,000 is provided to the Chief Administrative Officer of the House for activities necessary to complete the year 2000 conversion of systems maintained for the House. The CAO is directed to obtain approval of the plan for carrying out these activities from the Committee on House Oversight. In addition, $5,000,000 is transferred to the General Accounting Office to be available to emergency Year 2000 conversion efforts in other agencies of the Legislative branch. Before making any request for an allocation of these funds, the legislative agency should inform the appropriate oversight committees.

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE—MILITARY

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY SYSTEMS AND SECURITY

The conference agreement includes $1,100,000,000 in emergency supplemental appropriations for the Department of Defense, for expenses relating to year 2000 conversion of information technology and national security systems, for information technology and infrastructure protection to include computer security/information assurance programs, and for related expenses.

TITLE IV—OTHER EMERGENCIES

CHAPTER 1

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

NATIONAL OCEANIC AND ATMOSPHERIC ADMINISTRATION

OPERATIONS, RESEARCH, AND FACILITIES

The conference agreement includes $5,000,000 for disaster assistance for persons or entities in the Northeast multispecies fishery who have incurred losses from a commercial fishing failure under section 308(b) of the Interjurisdictional Fisheries Act of 1986. Language is included making the entire amount contingent upon the President submitting a budget request designating the entire amount as an emergency requirement.

RELATED AGENCY

SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

DISASTER LOANS PROGRAM ACCOUNT

In addition to amounts provided elsewhere in this Act, the conference agreement provides an additional $71,000,000 in emergency fiscal year 1999 subsidy appropriations for disaster loans for recovery efforts related to Hurricane Georges and other natural disasters.

In addition to amounts provided elsewhere in this Act, the conference agreement includes an additional $30,000,000 in emergency fiscal year 1999 appropriations for administrative expenses necessary to carry out the disaster loan program for Hurricane Georges and other natural disasters.

Language is included designating these amounts as an emergency requirement, and making these amounts available only to the extent that an official budget request is submitted requesting that these specific amounts be designated as an emergency requirement as defined in the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985, as amended.

CHAPTER 2

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE—CIVIL

DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY

CORPS OF ENGINEERS—CIVIL

FLOOD CONTROL, MISSISSIPPI RIVER AND TRIBUTARIES, ARKANSAS, ILLINOIS, KENTUCKY, LOUISIANA, MISSISSIPPI, MISSOURI, AND TENNESSEE

The conference agreement includes $2,500,000 for emergency repair and dredging requirements associated with Hurricane Georges and other storms.

OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE, GENERAL

The conference agreement includes $99,700,000 for emergency repair and dredging requirements associated with Hurricane Georges and other storms.

CHAPTER 3

FUNDS APPROPRIATED TO THE PRESIDENT

AGENCY FOR INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

CHILD SURVIVAL AND DISEASE PROGRAM FUND

The conference agreement includes a supplemental appropriation of $50,000,000 for “Child Survival and Disease Program Fund”, to remain available until expended. The entire amount is available only to the extent an official budget request for a specific dollar amount that includes designation of the entire amount of the request as an emergency requirement under the Budget Act is transmitted by the President to the Congress. The entire amount is designated by the Congress as an emergency.

The conferees intend that most of these funds be used for child survival activities. The conferees further expect AID to use some of these additional funds for activities to address the needs of children affected by the global AIDS epidemic.

OTHER BILATERAL ECONOMIC ASSISTANCE

ASSISTANCE FOR THE NEW INDEPENDENT STATES OF THE FORMER SOVIET UNION

The conference agreement includes a supplemental appropriation of $46,000,000 for "Assistance for the New Independent States of the Former Soviet Union", to remain available until September 30, 2000. The entire amount is available only to the extent an official budget request for a specific dollar amount that includes designation of the entire amount of the request as an emergency requirement under the Budget Act is transmitted by the President to the Congress. The entire amount is designated by the Congress as an emergency.

CHAPTER 4

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

UNITED STATES FISH AND WILDLIFE SERVICE

CONSTRUCTION

An additional $25,000,000 in emergency appropriations is provided for construction to repair damage due to hurricanes, floods and other acts of nature. This amount is contingent upon receipt of a budget request that includes a Presidential designation of the amount requested as an emergency requirement as defined in the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985, as amended.

NATIONAL PARK SERVICE

CONSTRUCTION

An additional $10,000,000 is provided for construction to repair damage due to hurricanes, floods and other acts of nature. This amount is contingent upon receipt of a budget request that includes a Presidential designation of the amount requested as an emergency requirement as defined in the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985, as amended.

UNITED STATES GEOLOGICAL SURVEY

SURVEYS, INVESTIGATIONS, AND RESEARCH

An additional $1,000,000 is provided for surveys, investigations, and research to repair damage due to hurricanes, floods and other acts of nature. This amount is contingent upon receipt of a budget request that includes a Presidential designation of the amount requested as an emergency requirement as defined in the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985, as amended.

CHAPTER 5

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

EMPLOYMENT AND TRAINING ADMINISTRATION

TRAINING AND EMPLOYMENT SERVICES

The conference agreement includes $7,000,000 as recently requested by the President for the migrant and seasonal farmworker program under the Job Training Partnership Act. These funds will be used to provide supportive services to migrant and seasonal farmworkers experiencing a loss of income because of crop failures related to drought and other weather-related difficulties in the South and Southwest. This would include temporary shelter, meals, health care, transportation and other emergency assistance as authorized by the Act.

CHAPTER 6

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

COAST GUARD

ACQUISITION, CONSTRUCTION, AND IMPROVEMENTS

The bill includes an appropriation of $12,600,000 to address the damage to Coast Guard facilities in Alabama, Florida, Louisiana, and Puerto Rico arising from Hurricane Georges. These funds remain available until expended, are designated as an emergency requirement by the Congress, and are available only after submission by the President of an official budget request for a specific dollar amount, that includes designation of the entire amount of the request as an emergency requirement.

CHAPTER 7

DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT BLOCK GRANTS

The agreement provides $250,000,000 for disaster relief, long-term recovery, and mitigation in communities affected by Presidentially-declared natural disasters designated during fiscal years 1998 and 1999. The amount provided is available only to the extent that an official budget request for a specific amount, which includes designation of the entire amount of the request as an emergency, is transmitted by the President to the Congress.

Concerns remain about use of the CDBG program for disaster relief. The program was not designed for that purpose and the authorizing statute provides no clear guidance regarding the role of CDBG grants in assisting with disaster relief and recovery. Given these concerns, the conference agreement directs HUD, prior to allocating funds, to provide an explanation of the purpose for which funds are requested and how the activity or program was impacted by the disaster.

FEDERAL EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT AGENCY

DISASTER RELIEF

The conference agreement includes an additional $906,000,000 for disaster relief costs associated with Hurricane Georges and other natural disasters. The amount provided is available only to the extent that an official budget request for a specific amount, which includes designation of the entire amount of the request as an emergency, is transmitted by the President to the Congress.

FEMA is directed, in carrying out disaster relief activities, to work with the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development to give particular attention to assessing and meeting the needs of Puerto Rico and the United States Virgin Islands following Hurricane Georges. All necessary steps should be taken to help the territories recover from the hurricane and restore their economies.

In addition, FEMA is directed to take all appropriate steps to help the cities of Del Rio and Laredo, Texas recover from damages sustained by tropical storm Charlie in August, 1998. It is noted that FEMA has the discretion under law to adjust the cost share for components of disaster assistance. Given the extreme economic devastation of tropical storm Charlie, FEMA is urged to exercise its discretion in this area.

Additionally, FEMA is requested to review the emergency needs of Kelso, Washington, resulting from the landslide at that location.

Finally FEMA is directed to accept the Notice of Interest from Santa Marta Hospital in East Los Angeles and to review the damages to determine eligibility for disaster assistance.

TITLE V—COUNTER-DRUG ACTIVITIES AND INTERDICTION

CHAPTER 1

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

AGRICULTURE RESEARCH SERVICE

The conference agreement provides an additional $23,000,000 for the Agriculture Research Service for counterdrug research and development activities. The conference provides that these funds be used as follows:

Narcotic crop eradication technologies	$5,000,000
Narcotic plant identification and biotechnology	2,000,000
Worldwide narcotic crop identification	1,000,000
Alternative crop research and development	5,000,000
Herbicide product research and development	10,000,000

CHAPTER 2

DRUG ENFORCEMENT ADMINISTRATION

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

In addition to amounts provided elsewhere in this Act for the Drug Enforcement Administration, the conference agreement provides an additional $10,200,000 in emergency fiscal year 1999 funding as follows: $1,000,000 for additional surveillance and electronic intercept equipment in source countries and transit zones; $1,000,000 for continued development and implementation of automation systems to support intelligence and investigative requirements; and $8,200,000 to complete the implementation of the MERLIN and FIREBIRD systems for all offices in Mexico, the Caribbean, Central and South America.

Language is included designating these amounts as an emergency requirement, and making these amounts available only to the extent that an official budget request is submitted requesting these specific amounts to be designated as an emergency requirement as defined in the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985, as amended.

IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION SERVICE

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

ENFORCEMENT AND BORDER AFFAIRS

In addition to amounts provided elsewhere in this Act for the Immigration and Naturalization Service, the conference agreement provides for an additional $10,000,000 for Integrated Surveillance Information Systems, including sensors, motion detectors, remote video surveillance cameras, and infrared optics.

Language is included designating this amount as an emergency requirement, and making this amount available only to the extent that an official budget request is submitted requesting this amount to be designated as an emergency requirement as defined in the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985, as amended.

CHAPTER 3

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

INTERNATIONAL NARCOTICS CONTROL AND LAW ENFORCEMENT

The conference agreement appropriates $232,600,000 for "International Narcotics Control and Law Enforcement". These funds are available contingent on designation by the President of the entire amount as an emergency under the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985, as amended. The Congress designates these funds as an emergency under said Act. In addition, the obligation of these funds is subject to the regular notification procedures of the Committees on Appropriations.

The funds should be made available for the following purposes:

Alternative economic development for Colombia, Peru, and Bolivia	$10,000,000
Procurement and upgrade of UH-1H/1N helicopters for Colombian National Police (CNP)	40,000,000
Procurement of 6 UH-60 helicopters for CNP	96,000,000
Operations and support for CNP air wing	6,000,000
Procurement of DC-3 transport for CNP air wing	2,000,000
Procurement of minigun system for CNP air wing	6,000,000
Reconstruction of Miraflores counternarcotics base	2,000,000
Base and force security for forward CNP counterdrug bases	6,000,000
Enhancements to CNP prison security systems	1,200,000
Support of Bolivian air, riverine and eradication operations	9,000,000
Support of Peruvian air, riverine and eradication operations	6,000,000
Implement A-37 extended life program (Peru/Colombia)	24,900,000

Podded radar initiative for aircraft	10,000,000
Procure 3 additional observation aircraft	13,500,000
	<hr/>
Total	232,600,000

CHAPTER 4

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

COAST GUARD

This chapter of the bill includes $133,700,000 for additional expenses to expand the Coast Guard’s counter-drug activities as part of the broader counter-drug initiative in this bill. The funding is designated as an emergency requirement and made contingent on the President’s request and designation of such as an emergency.

OPERATING EXPENSES

The bill includes $16,300,000 for additional operating expenses of the Coast Guard, for expenses related to the expansion of drug interdiction activities. The funding is designated as an emergency requirement and made contingent on the President’s request and designation of such as an emergency. The bill specifies that, of the total funds provided, $4,000,000 shall be used for establishment and operation of a Caribbean international support tender, to train and support foreign coast guards in the Caribbean region.

ACQUISITION, CONSTRUCTION, AND IMPROVEMENTS

The bill includes $117,400,000 for additional expenses for capital acquisition, construction, renovation and improvement programs of the Coast Guard, to expand the service’s drug interdiction capabilities. The entire amount is designated as an emergency requirement and made contingent on the President’s request and designation of such as an emergency. The conferees expect the funds the be allocated in the following manner:

Program	Amount
Maritime patrol aircraft acquisition	$44,500,000
Acquisition or conversion of up to two vessels to be used as support or command and control platforms	20,000,000
Deployable pursuit boat acquisition	3,500,000
Barracuda-class coastal patrol boats	33,100,000
Cutter sensors & communication systems	16,300,000
	<hr/>
Total	117,400,000

CHAPTER 5

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

DEPARTMENTAL OFFICES

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides an additional $1,500,000, which may be transferred to the National Foreign Intelligence Program, as a contingent emergency appropriation for enhanced money laundering intelligence.

UNITED STATES CUSTOMS SERVICE

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides an additional $106,300,000 as a contingent emergency appropriation for counterdrug initiatives, as follows: $80,000,000 for non-intrusive inspection technology (which will augment $54,000,000 in funding provided elsewhere in this Act for a total of $134,000,000 in such technology); $15,000,000 for personnel support for aircrews for additional P-3 and Citation aircraft; $1,300,000 to meet immediate P-3 aircrew support requirements; and $10,000,000 for a port integrity initiative.

OPERATIONS, MAINTENANCE, AND PROCUREMENT, AIR AND MARINE
INTERDICTION PROGRAMS

The conference agreement provides $162,700,000 as a contingent emergency appropriation for counterdrug initiatives, as follows: $93,000,000 for procurement and conversion of two P-3B AEW Aircraft for use in drug surveillance and interdiction in the source and transit zones; $60,000,000 for procurement and conversion of four P-3B Slick aircraft for surveillance and interdiction in the source and transit zones; $5,000,000 for P-3 deployment to the source zone; and $4,700,000 for four tracker aircraft for surveillance and interdiction in the source and transit zones.

CUSTOMS FACILITIES, CONSTRUCTION, IMPROVEMENTS AND RELATED EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides $7,000,000 as a contingent emergency appropriation to construct and furnish an additional support facility for Customs P-3 aircraft.

INCORPORATION OF EMERGENCY FUNDING FOR AIR INTERDICTION PROGRAMS INTO CUSTOMS MODERNIZATION PLAN

The U.S. Customs Service is directed to address all contingent emergency funding provided in this bill for staffing, procurement, operations, and facilities for Customs air interdiction in its Air Interdiction Modernization Plan, which is to be submitted with the President's fiscal year 2000 budget.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

OFFICE OF NATIONAL DRUG CONTROL POLICY

SALARIES AND EXPENSES

The conference agreement provides $1,200,000 as a contingent emergency appropriation for ONDCP Salaries and Expenses.

SPECIAL FORFEITURE FUND

The conference agreement provides $2,000,000 to be available for transfer to the Office of Justice Programs to support the Drug Court Institute.

DIVISION C—OTHER MATTERS

TITLE I—OTHER MATTERS

Sec. 101. The conference agreement includes a provision which allows for appointment of an Acting Treasury Inspector General for Tax Administration to make interim arrangements for administrative support of the office, establish interim positions for personnel transferred for the function, appoint acting personnel as necessary on an interim basis, and to provide input for the fiscal year 2000 budget process.

Sec. 102. The conferees agree to include language amending Section 122 of Public Law 105–119 to permit the Secretary of the Treasury to establish, over a three year period, a new system of pay, classification, and personnel management for up to 950 employees who fill critical scientific, technical, engineering, intelligence analyst, language translator and medical positions in the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, the United States Customs Service, and the United States Secret Service.

Sec. 103. The conference agreement includes a section that would give the Secretary of State the authority to reemploy Foreign Service annuitants on a temporary basis, but only if and for so long as, the authority is necessary due to an emergency involving a direct threat to life or property or other unusual circumstances. This authority exists under current law for Civil Service employees. This authority is intended to be used to reemploy annuitants to work on the stand up of the Nairobi, Kenya, and Dar es Salaam, Tanzania embassies and related world-wide security issues.

Sec. 104. The conference agreement includes a provision amending the Diplomatic Security and Antiterrorism Act of 1986 to enable the Bureau of Diplomatic Security of the Department of State to employ individuals or organizations by contract to carry out the provisions of that Act. This authority will enable the Bureau to recruit on short notice engineers and technicians with skills specific to such security fields as alarm installations, perimeter security detection systems, and explosives detection systems. This authority will permit an immediate response to increased security requirements and emergency upgrades at diplomatic posts throughout the world.

The conference agreement includes a provision relating to intrastate bus transportation in the State of Hawaii.

The conference agreement includes a provision that waives the per-state, per-disaster cap for the State of California for projects resulting from flooding in January and March 1995.

The conference agreement includes a provision that pertains to the registration of container chassis.

The conference agreement includes a provision that extends the authorization of the grants-in-aid for airports program through March 31, 1999.

Sec. 111. The conference agreement includes a provision expressing the Sense of the Congress regarding the increase of steel imports into the United States, and urges the President to take several actions to address this issue and report to Congress by January 5, 1999, with a comprehensive plan for responding to the problem.

Provides for the inclusion of Spirit Mound, South Dakota, as part of the Lewis and Clark National Historic Trail and authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to acquire this property.

Sec. 113–Sec. 133. The conferees agree to include new provisions naming several post office buildings in various locations throughout the country.

Sec. 134. The conference agreement inserts a new section requested by District officials that enacts certain provisions of the Omnibus Personnel Reform Amendment Act of 1998 approved by the Council of the District of Columbia and signed by the Mayor on April 1, 1998.

Sec. 135. The conference agreement inserts a new section that transfers any right, title, or interest of the United States in certain property in Anne Arundel County, Maryland, that was formerly the site of Cedar Knoll School, a juvenile detention center operated by the District of Columbia.

The conference agreement includes language authorizing the Flood Mitigation Near Pierre, South Dakota, project of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

The conference agreement includes language authorizing the Grand Forks, North Dakota, and East Grand Forks, Minnesota, project of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Sec. 138. The conference agreement includes an authorization for the Police Corps for the years 1999 through 2002 and makes certain change in the training session requirements.

Sec. 139. The conferees include a new provision authorizing national medals for the “Little Rock Nine” and for Gerald and Betty Ford.

Sec. 140. The conference agreement includes language which provides for the transfer, by negotiated sale, of approximately 200 acres of property in San Joaquin County, California, currently under the jurisdiction of the Federal Bureau of Prisons of the Department of Justice to the City of Tracy, California.

Sec. 141. The conferees agree to include a new provision transferring control of any property on which the Lorton Correctional Complex is located to the General Services Administration.

The conference agreement inserts a new section in Division C of the bill that amends and updates that Act that establishes the U.S. Olympic Committee and the framework for Olympic and amateur sports in the United States. This was not included in either the House or Senate bills. Among other improvements, the section would incorporate the Paralympics under the umbrella of U.S. Olympic Committee responsibilities and would ensure that disabled amateur athletes are given the same opportunities under the Act as able-bodied amateur athletes. The section includes a number of other amendments developed by consensus over a four-year period.

The conference agreement includes a general provision which amends section 8106(a) of the Department of Defense Appropriations Act, 1997.

The conference agreement includes a general provision which makes a technical correction to section 8120 of the Department of Defense Appropriations Act, 1999.

The conference agreement includes a general provision which amends section 1043 of the Strom Thurmond National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1999.

The conference agreement includes a general provision which amends section 1512 of the Strom Thurmond National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1999.

The conference agreement includes a general provision which requires the Secretary of the Navy, in conjunction with the Commandant of the Marine Corps, to review F/A-18 requirements and production capability and permits the reprogramming of funds to sustain F/A-18 production capability.

The Marine Corps has a stated requirement for additional F/A-18 aircraft to meet requirements due to anticipated attrition of current inventory aircraft. While it may be possible to purchase these aircraft in the future if international sales sustain the production line, the Congress recognizes the risk of this strategy because of the uncertainty of potential foreign sales. Following the review by the Secretary of the Navy and the Commandment of the Marine Corps regarding F/A-18 requirements and production capability, the Congress expects the submission of a reprogramming action or future budget request, if needed, to ensure that the Marine Corps has adequate attack aircraft to meet force structure requirements.

The conference agreement includes a general provision which amends section 8135 of the Department of Defense Appropriations, Act, 1992.

FUTURE OPERATIONAL CONCEPTS

The Department of Defense is currently examining a number of alternative operational concepts for the military forces of the future. These include potential doctrinal changes and experimentation by the individual military services as well as joint warfighting initiatives, including those under consideration as part of Joint Vision 2010. The Congress has supported these steps, and believes it imperative that innovative concepts such as "Rapid Dominance" be fully considered and refined, and if possible be evaluated in conjunction with a targeted research and development program coupled with "proof-of-concept" field testing and evaluation. The Secretary of Defense is directed to review such programs to ensure they are being adequately supported in the budget process. The Secretary is encouraged to reprogram or request funds to ensure these important efforts are fully supported.

ENTRY LEVEL COMMISSION FOR MILITARY NURSE CORPS OFFICERS

The Administration is examining whether it should allow individuals with Associate degrees to enter the Nurse Corps as officers. The conferees believe that the responsibilities of Nurse Corps officers necessitate that they should be required to have baccalaureate degrees.

This provision extends the 1998-1999 duck hunting season in the State of Mississippi.

TITLE II—AMERICAN FISHERIES ACT

The conference agreement includes a new title which: (1) amends current law regarding the ownership requirements for eligibility of a vessel to receive a fishery endorsement to operate in certain fisheries and under certain terms and conditions; and sets forth procedures for implementation and penalties for non-compliance; (2) establishes allocations regarding the total allowable catch in the Bering Sea pollock fishery; (3) authorizes a buyout program of certain catcher/processors operating in the Bering Sea pollock fishery, to be financed through $20,000,000 in Federal payments, and $75,000,000 in direct loans to be repaid through a fee on pollock harvested in the fishery; (4) authorizes a direct loan program for the western Alaska community development quota program for the purchase of certain vessels and shoreside processors in the pollock fishery; and (5) sets forth certain requirements for protection and conservation measures for other fisheries in the North Pacific. Neither the House nor Senate bill addressed this matter.

TITLE IV—AMERICAN COMPETITIVENESS AND WORKFORCE IMPROVEMENT ACT

The conference agreement includes a new title which will increase the annual quota of temporary visas for foreign professionals through 2001, will increase protections for American professional workers, and will fund job training and scholarship programs for American students and workers in computer science and other scientific fields.

TITLE V

The conference agreement includes language authorizing and directing the Bureau of Reclamation to conduct feasibility studies for the restoration and reclamation of the Salton Sea in California.

TITLE VI

The conference agreement includes the text of S. 1341, the Cheyenne River Sioux Tribe, Lower Brule Sioux Tribe, and State of South Dakota Terrestrial Wildlife Habitat Mitigation Act of 1997.

TITLE X

The conference agreement includes language establishing the terms and conditions under which the Secretary of the Interior shall convey leaseholds in certain properties around Canyon Ferry Reservoir, Montana.

TITLE XI—MORATORIUM ON CERTAIN TAXES

The conference agreement includes Title XI, The Internet Tax Freedom Act, which establishes a national policy against State and local government interference with interstate commerce on the Internet or interactive computer services, and a three-year moratorium on the imposition of exactions that would interfere with the free flow of commerce via the Internet.

TITLE XII—OTHER PROVISIONS

The conference agreement includes Title XII, Other Provisions, which contains several provisions related to the Internet, including declarations that the Internet should be free of taxes, tariffs, and trade barriers.

TITLE XIII—CHILDREN'S ONLINE PRIVACY PROTECTION

The conference agreement includes Title XIII, the Children's Online Privacy Protection Act of 1998, which establishes a framework for the regulation of unfair and deceptive acts and practices in connection with the collection and use of personal information from and about children on the Internet.

TITLE XIV—CHILD ONLINE PROTECTION ACT

The conference agreement includes Title XIV, The Child Online Protection Act, which amends the Communications Act of 1934 to require commercial distributors of material through the World Wide Web that is harmful to minors to restrict access to such material by minors. This title also establishes a temporary Commission on Online Child Protection, which is required to produce a report within one year, and to terminate 30 days after producing the report.

TITLE XVVACCINE INJURY COMPENSATION

The conference agreement includes a new title in Division C that was not included in either the House or Senate bills. This title inserts the Vaccine Injury Compensation Program Modification Act which amends the Public Health Service Act and the Internal Revenue Code with respect to vaccine injury compensation.

TITLE XVI—SERVICE CONNECTION FOR PERSIAN GULF WAR ILLNESSES

The conference agreement inserts a new title regarding benefits for Persian Gulf War veterans.

TITLE XVII—GOVERNMENT PAPERWORK ELIMINATION ACT

The conference agreement includes Title XVII, the Government Paperwork Elimination Act, which requires the development of procedures for the use and acceptance of electronic signatures by Executive agencies of the U.S. Government.

DIVISION G, FOREIGN AFFAIRS REFORM AND RESTRUCTURING ACT OF 1998

The conference agreement includes Division G, the Foreign Affairs Reform and Restructuring Act of 1998. That Act consists of two subdivisions. Subdivision A consolidates foreign affairs agencies, by requiring that (1) the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency merge with the State Department by April 1, 1999; (2) the United States Information Agency merge with the State Department by October 1, 1999; and (3) the authorities of the United States International Development Cooperation Agency are to be brought under the State Department by April 1, 1999. Subdivision B provides authorizations of appropriations for the State Department, United States Information Agency, the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency and other related agencies, and makes a number of changes in the statutory authorities of these agencies.

DIVISION J

TITLE I—EXTENSION AND MODIFICATION OF CERTAIN EXPIRING PROVISIONS

SUBTITLE A—TAX PROVISIONS

A. EXTENSION OF RESEARCH TAX CREDIT

(SEC. 101 OF THE HOUSE BILL,¹ SEC. 101 OF S. 2622, AND SEC. 41 OF THE CODE)

Present law

Section 41 provides for a research tax credit equal to 20 percent of the amount by which a taxpayer's qualified research expenditures for a taxable year exceeded its base amount for that year. The research tax credit expired and generally does not apply to amounts paid or incurred after June 30, 1998.

Except for certain university basic research payments made by corporations, the research tax credit applies only to the extent that the taxpayer's qualified research expenditures for the current taxable year exceed its base amount. The base amount for the current year generally is computed by multiplying the taxpayer's "fixed-base percentage" by the average amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts for the four preceding years. If a taxpayer both incurred qualified research expenditures and had gross receipts during each of at least three years from 1984 through 1988, then its "fixed-base percentage" is the ratio that its total qualified research expenditures for the 1984–1988 period bears to its total gross receipts for that period (subject to a maximum ratio of .16). All other taxpayers (so-called "start-up firms") are assigned a fixed-base percentage of 3 percent.

Taxpayers are allowed to elect an alternative incremental research credit regime. If a taxpayer elects to be subject to this alternative regime, the taxpayer is assigned a three-tiered fixed-base percentage (that is lower than the fixed-base percentage otherwise applicable under present law) and the credit rate likewise is reduced. Under the alternative credit regime, a credit rate of 1.65 percent applies to the extent that a taxpayer's current-year research expenses exceed a base amount computed by using a fixed-base percentage of 1 percent (i.e., the base amount equals 1 percent of the taxpayer's average gross receipts for the four preceding years) but do not exceed a base amount computed by using a fixed-base percentage of 1.5 percent. A credit rate of 2.2 percent applies to the extent that a taxpayer's current-year research expenses exceed a base amount computed by using a fixed-base percentage of 1.5 percent but do not exceed a base amount computed by using a fixed-base percentage of 2 percent. A credit rate of 2.75 percent applies to the extent that a taxpayer's current-year research expenses exceed a base amount computed by using a fixed-base percentage of 2 percent. An election to be subject to this alternative incremental credit regime may be made for any taxable year beginning after June 30, 1996, and such an election applies to that taxable year and all subsequent years (in the event that the credit subsequently is extended by Congress) unless revoked with the consent of the Secretary of the Treasury.

¹All references to the "House bill" are to H.R. 4738, as passed by the House of Representatives on October 12, 1998.

House bill

The House bill extends the research tax credit for 18 months—i.e., generally, for the period July 1, 1998, through December 31, 1999.

Effective date.—The extension of the research credit is effective for qualified research expenditures paid or incurred during the period July 1, 1998, through December 31, 1999.

Senate amendment

No provision. However, S. 2622, as introduced by Senators Roth and Moynihan, contains a provision that is similar to the provision contained in the House bill. S. 2622 extends the research tax credit for 12 months—i.e., generally, for the period July 1, 1998, through June 30, 1999.

Effective date.—The extension of the research credit is effective for qualified research expenditures paid or incurred during the period July 1, 1998, through June 30, 1999.

Conference agreement

The conference agreement follows S. 2622 and extends the research credit for 12 months—i.e., generally, for the period July 1, 1998, through June 30, 1999.

In extending the credit, the conferees wish to reaffirm the scope of the term “qualified research.” Section 41 targets the credit to research which is undertaken for the purpose of discovering information which is technological in nature and the application of which is intended to be useful in the development of a new or improved business component of the taxpayer. However, eligibility for the credit does not require that the research be successful—i.e., the research need not achieve its desired result. Moreover, evolutionary research activities intended to improve functionality, performance, reliability, or quality are eligible for the credit, as are research activities intended to achieve a result that has already been achieved by other persons but is not yet within the common knowledge (e.g., freely available to the general public) of the field (provided that the research otherwise meets the requirements of section 41, including not being excluded by subsection (d)(4)).

Activities constitute a process of experimentation, as required for credit eligibility, if they involve evaluation of more than one alternative to achieve a result where the means of achieving the result are uncertain at the outset, even if the taxpayer knows at the outset that it may be technically possible to achieve the result.

Thus, even though a researcher may know of a particular method of achieving an outcome, the use of the process of experimentation to effect a new or better method of achieving that outcome may be eligible for the credit (provided that the research otherwise meets the requirements of section 41, including not being excluded by subsection (d)(4)).

Lastly, the conferees observe the lack of clarity in the interpretation of the distinction between internal-use software, the costs of which may be eligible for the credit if additional tests are met, and other software. The conferees emphasize that application of the definition of internal-use software should fully reflect Congressional intent.

Effective date.—The extension of the research credit is effective for qualified research expenditures paid or incurred during the period July 1, 1998, through June 30, 1999.

B. EXTENSION OF THE WORK OPPORTUNITY TAX CREDIT

(SEC. 102 OF THE HOUSE BILL, SEC. 102 OF S. 2622, AND SEC. 51 OF THE CODE)

Present law

In general

The work opportunity tax credit (“WOTC”), which expired on June 30, 1998, was available on an elective basis for employers hiring individuals from one or more of eight targeted groups. The credit equals 40 percent (25 percent for employment of 400 hours or less) of qualified wages. Qualified wages are wages attributable to service rendered by a member of a targeted group during the one-year period beginning with the day the individual began work for the employer. For a vocational rehabilitation referral, however, the period begins on the day the individual began work for the employer on or after the beginning of the individual’s vocational rehabilitation plan.

The maximum credit per employee is $2,400 (40% of the first $6,000 of qualified first-year wages). With respect to qualified summer youth employees, the maximum credit is $1,200 (40 percent of the first $3,000 of qualified first-year wages).

The employer’s deduction for wages is reduced by the amount of the credit.

Targeted groups eligible for the credit

The eight targeted groups are: (1) families eligible to receive benefits under the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) Program; (2) high-risk youth; (3) qualified ex-felons; (4) vocational rehabilitation referrals; (5) qualified summer youth employees; (6) qualified veterans; (7) families receiving food stamps; and (8) persons receiving certain Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits.

Minimum employment period

No credit is allowed for wages paid to employees who work less than 120 hours in the first year of employment.

Expiration date

The credit is effective for wages paid or incurred to a qualified individual who began work for an employer before July 1, 1998.

House bill

The House bill extends the work opportunity tax credit for 18 months (through December 31, 1999).

Effective date.—The provision is effective for wages paid or incurred to qualified individuals who begin work for the employer on or after July 1, 1998, and before January 1, 2000.

Senate amendment

No provision. However, S. 2622, as introduced by Senators Roth and Moynihan, contains a provision that is similar to the provision contained in the House bill. S. 2622 extends the work opportunity tax credit for 12 months (through June 30, 1999).

Effective date.—The provision is effective for wages paid or incurred to qualified individuals who begin work for the employer on or after July 1, 1998, and before July 1, 1999.

Conference agreement

The conference agreement follows S. 2622.

C. EXTENSION OF THE WELFARE-TO-WORK TAX CREDIT

(SEC. 103 OF S. 2622 AND SEC. 51A OF THE CODE)

Present law

The Code provides to employers a tax credit on the first $20,000 of eligible wages paid to qualified long-term family assistance (AFDC or its successor program) recipients during the first two years of employment. The credit is 35 percent of the first $10,000 of eligible wages in the first year of employment and 50 percent of the first $10,000 of eligible wages in the second year of employment. The maximum credit is $8,500 per qualified employee.

Qualified long-term family assistance recipients are: (1) members of a family that has received family assistance for at least 18 consecutive months ending on the hiring date; (2) members of a family that has received family assistance for a total of at least 18 months (whether or not consecutive) after the date of enactment of this credit if they are hired within two years after the date that the 18-month total is reached; and (3) members of a family who are no longer eligible for family assistance because of either Federal or State time limits, if they are hired within two years after the Federal or State time limits made the family ineligible for family assistance.

Eligible wages include cash wages paid to an employee plus amounts paid by the employer for the following: (1) educational assistance excludable under a section 127 program (or that would be excludable but for the expiration of sec. 127); (2) health plan coverage for the employee, but not more than the applicable premium defined under section 4980B(f)(4); and (3) dependent care assistance excludable under section 129.

The welfare to work credit is effective for wages paid or incurred to a qualified individual who begins work for an employer on or after January 1, 1998, and before May 1, 1999.

House bill

No provision.

Senate amendment

No provision. However, S. 2622, as introduced by Senators Roth and Moynihan, extends the welfare-to-work tax credit for two months.

Effective date.—The provision extends the welfare-to-work credit effective for wages paid or incurred to a qualified individual who begins work for an employer on or after May 1, 1999, and before July 1, 1999.

D. EXTEND THE DEDUCTION PROVIDED FOR CONTRIBUTIONS OF APPRECIATED STOCK TO PRIVATE FOUNDATIONS; PUBLIC INSPECTION OF PRIVATE FOUNDATION ANNUAL RETURNS

1. EXTEND THE DEDUCTION PROVIDED FOR CONTRIBUTIONS OF APPRECIATED STOCK TO PRIVATE FOUNDATIONS (SEC. 104(A) OF THE HOUSE BILL, SEC. 104 OF S. 2622, AND SEC. 170(E)(5) OF THE CODE)

Present law

In computing taxable income, a taxpayer who itemizes deductions generally is allowed to deduct the fair market value of property contributed to a charitable organization.² However, in the case of a charitable contribution of short-term gain, inventory, or other ordinary income property, the amount of the deduction generally is limited to the taxpayer's basis in the property. In the case of a charitable contribution of tangible personal property, the deduction is limited to the taxpayer's basis in such property if the use by the recipient charitable organization is unrelated to the organization's tax-exempt purpose.

In cases involving contributions to a private foundation (other than certain private operating foundations), the amount of the deduction is limited to the taxpayer's basis in the property. However, under a special rule contained in section 170(e)(5), taxpayers are allowed a deduction equal to the fair market value of "qualified appreciated stock" contributed to a private foundation prior to July 1, 1998. Qualified appreciated stock is defined as publicly traded stock which is capital gain property. The fair-market-value deduction for qualified appreciated stock donations applies only to the extent that total donations made by the donor to private foundations of stock in a particular corporation did not exceed 10 percent of the outstanding stock of that corporation. For this purpose, an individual is treated as making all contributions that were made by any member of the individual's family.

²The amount of the deduction allowable for a taxable year with respect to a charitable contribution may be reduced depending on the type of property contributed, the type of charitable organization to which the property is contributed, and the income of the taxpayer (sec. 170(b) and 170(e)).

House bill

The House bill extends permanently the special rule contained in section 170(e)(5).

Effective date.—The provision is effective for contributions of qualified appreciated stock to private foundations made on or after July 1, 1998.

Senate amendment

No provision. However, S. 2622, as introduced by Senators Roth and Moynihan, contains a provision that is similar to the provision contained in the House bill. The provision in S. 2622 extends the special rule contained in section 170(e)(5) for one year—for contributions of qualified appreciated stock made to private foundations during the period July 1, 1998, through June 30, 1999.

Conference agreement

The conference agreement follows the House bill.

2. PUBLIC INSPECTION OF PRIVATE FOUNDATION ANNUAL RETURNS (SEC. 104(B) OF THE HOUSE BILL AND SECS. 6104 (D) AND (E) OF THE CODE)

Present law

Tax-exempt organizations (other than churches and certain small organizations) are required to file an annual information return (Form 990) with the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS"), setting forth the organization's items of gross income and expenses attributable to such income, disbursements for tax-exempt purposes, plus certain other information for the taxable year.

Private foundations are required to make the current year's annual information return (Form 990-PF) available for public inspection at the foundation's principal office during regular business hours (sec. 6104(d)). Such return must be made available for inspection by any citizen on request made within 180 days after the date of publication of notice of its availability. Notice must be published, not later than the day the return is required to be filed, in a newspaper having general circulation in the county in which the principal office of the foundation is located. The notice must state that the annual return is available for public inspection by any citizen who requests it, and must state the address and telephone number of the private foundation's principal office and the name of its principal manager.

Tax-exempt organizations (other than private foundations) that are required to file a Form 990, including public charities, are required to allow public inspection at the organization's principal office (and certain regional or district offices) of their Forms 990 for the three most recent taxable years (sec. 6104(e)).

The Taxpayer Bill of Rights 2 imposed additional public inspection requirements on tax-exempt organizations. All tax-exempt organizations, except private foundations, will be required to comply with requests made in person or in writing by individuals who seek a copy of the organization's Form 990 for any of the organization's three most recent taxable years. Upon such a request, the organization is required to supply copies without charge other than a reasonable fee for reproduction and mailing costs. If the request for copies is made in person, then the organization must immediately provide such copies. If the request for copies is made in writing, then copies must be provided within 30 days. In addition, all tax-exempt organizations, including private foundations, will be required to comply in the same manner with requests made in person or in writing by individuals who seek a copy of the organization's application for recognition of tax-exempt status and certain related documents. However, an organization may be relieved of its obligation to provide copies if, in accordance with regulations to be promulgated by the Secretary of Treasury, (1) the organization has made the requested documents widely available or (2) the Secretary of the Treasury determined, upon application by the organization, that the organization was subject to a harassment campaign such that a waiver of the obligation to provide copies would be in the public interest. These additional public inspection provisions apply to requests made no earlier than 60 days after the date on which the Treasury Department publishes regulations defining when requested documents have been made widely available or when a request is part of a harassment campaign.³ While proposed regulations have been issued, final regulations have not been published; therefore, the provision is not yet in effect.⁴

Upon written request to the IRS, members of the general public also are permitted to inspect annual information returns of tax-exempt organizations and applications for recognition of tax-exempt status (and related documents) at the National Office of the IRS in Washington, D.C. A person making such a written request is notified by the IRS when the material is available for inspection at the National Office, where notes may be taken of the material open for inspection, photographs taken with the person's own equipment, or copies of such material obtained from the IRS for a fee (Treas. Reg. secs. 301.6104(a)-6 and 301.6104(b)-1).

House bill

Under the House bill, private foundations are subject to the public inspection requirements that currently apply to public charities and all other tax-exempt organizations that file annual information returns. Accordingly, private foundations will be required to comply with requests from individuals who seek a copy of the foundation's annual information return for any of the foundation's three most recent taxable years. Private foundations are no longer subject to the publication requirements of section 6104(d).⁵

³ However, the legislative history of the provision indicates that Congress expected that organizations will comply voluntarily with the public inspection provisions prior to the issuance of such final regulations.

⁵ As set forth in the legislative history of the provision, the House Committee on Ways and Means noted that the length of annual information returns filed by certain private foundations may make duplication and mailing of the return expensive and administratively burdensome. The Committee expressed its expectation that the Treasury Department will publish regulations to address this issue (e.g., by permitting persons to request a copy of particular portions of the return).

Effective date.—The additional public inspection provisions apply to requests made after the later of: (1) the date which is 60 days after the date on which the Treasury Department publishes regulations defining when requested documents have been made widely available or when a request is part of a harassment campaign, or (2) December 31, 1998. The repeal of the present-law publication requirement shall apply only to those returns the due date for filing of which is on or after the date the public inspection requirements become effective.

Senate amendment

No provision.

Conference agreement

The conference agreement follows the House bill.

E. EXCEPTIONS UNDER SUBPART F FOR CERTAIN ACTIVE FINANCING INCOME

(SEC. 105 OF THE HOUSE BILL, SEC. 105 OF S. 2622, AND SECS. 953 AND 954 OF THE CODE)

Present law

In general

Under the subpart F rules, certain U.S. shareholders of a controlled foreign corporation (“CFC”) are subject to U.S. tax currently on certain income earned by the CFC, whether or not such income is distributed to the shareholders. The income subject to current inclusion under the subpart F rules includes, among other things, “foreign personal holding company income” and insurance income. The U.S. 10-percent shareholders of a CFC also are subject to current inclusion with respect to their shares of the CFC’s foreign base company services income (i.e., income derived from services performed for a related person outside the country in which the CFC is organized).

Foreign personal holding company income generally consists of the following: (1) dividends, interest, royalties, rents and annuities; (2) net gains from the sale or exchange of (a) property that gives rise to the preceding types of income, (b) property that does not give rise to income, and (c) interests in trusts, partnerships, and REMICs; (3) net gains from commodities transactions; (4) net gains from foreign currency transactions; (5) income that is equivalent to interest; (6) income from national principal contracts; and (7) payments in lieu of dividends.

Insurance income subject to current inclusion under the subpart F rules includes any income of a CFC attributable to the issuing or reinsuring of any insurance or annuity contract in connection with risks located in a country other than the CFC’s country of organization. Subpart F insurance income also includes income attributable to an insurance contract in connection with risks located within the CFC’s country of organization, as the result of an arrangement under which another corporation receives a substantially equal amount of consideration for insurance of other-country risks. Investment income of a CFC that is allocable to any insurance or annuity contract related to risks located outside the CFC's country of organization is taxable as subpart F insurance income (Prop. Treas. Reg. sec. 1.953-1(a)).

Temporary exceptions from foreign personal holding company income and foreign base company services income apply for subpart F purposes for certain income that is derived in the active conduct of a banking, financing, insurance, or similar business.⁶ These exceptions (described below) are applicable only for taxable years beginning in 1998.

Income from the active conduct of a banking, financing, or similar business

A temporary exception from foreign personal holding company income applies to income that is derived in the active conduct of a banking, financing, or similar business by a CFC that is predominantly engaged in the active conduct of such business. For this purpose, income derived in the active conduct of a banking, financing, or similar business generally is determined under the principles applicable in determining financial services income for foreign tax credit limitation purposes. However, in the case of a corporation that is engaged in the active conduct of a banking or securities business, the income that is eligible for this exception is determined under the principles applicable in determining the income which is treated as nonpassive income for purposes of the passive foreign investment company provisions. In this regard, the income of a corporation engaged in the active conduct of a banking or securities business that is eligible for this exception is the income that is treated as nonpassive under the regulations proposed under section 1296(b) (as in effect prior to the enactment of the Taxpayer Relief Act of 1997). See Prop. Treas. Reg. secs. 1.1296-4 and 1.1296-6. The Secretary of the Treasury is directed to prescribe regulations applying look-through treatment in characterizing for this purpose dividends, interest, income equivalent to interest, rents and royalties from related persons.

For purposes of the temporary exception, a corporation is considered to be predominantly engaged in the active conduct of a banking, financing, or similar business if it is engaged in the active conduct of a banking or securities business or is a qualified bank affiliate or qualified securities affiliate. In this regard, a corporation is considered to be engaged in the active conduct of a banking or securities business if the corporation would be treated as so engaged under the regulations proposed under prior law section 1296(b) (as in effect prior to the enactment of the Taxpayer Relief Act of 1997); qualified bank affiliates and qualified securities affiliates are as determined under such proposed regulations. See Prop. Treas. Reg. secs. 1.1296-4 and 1.1296-6.

Alternatively, a corporation is considered to be engaged in the active conduct of a banking, financing, or similar business if more than 70 percent of its gross income is derived from such business from transactions with unrelated persons located within the country under the laws of which the corporation is created or organized. For this purpose, income derived by a qualified business unit ("QBU") of a corporation from transactions with unrelated persons located in the country in which the QBU maintains its principal office and conducts substantial business activity is treated as derived by the corporation from transactions with unrelated persons located within the country in which the corporation is created or organized. A person other than a natural person is considered to be located within the country in which it maintains an office through which it engages in a trade or business and by which the transaction is effected. A natural person is treated as located within the country in which such person is physically located when such person enters into the transaction.

⁶The President canceled these exceptions in 1997 pursuant to the Line Item Veto Act. On June 25, 1998, the U.S. Supreme Court held that the cancellation procedures set forth in the Line Item Veto Act are unconstitutional. Clinton v. City of New York, 118 S. Ct. 2091 (June 25, 1998).

Income from the active conduct of an insurance business

A temporary exception from foreign personal holding company income applies for certain investment income of a qualifying insurance company with respect to risks located within the CFC's country of creation or organization. These rules differ from the rules of section 953 of the Code, which determines the subpart F inclusions of a U.S. shareholder relating to insurance income of a CFC. Such insurance income under section 953 generally is computed in accordance with the rules of subchapter L of the Code.

A temporary exception applies for income (received from a person other than a related person) from investments made by a qualifying insurance company of its reserves or 80 percent of its unearned premiums. For this purpose, in the case of contracts regulated in the country in which sold as property, casualty or health insurance contracts, unearned premiums and reserves are defined as unearned premiums and reserves for losses incurred determined using the methods and interest rates that would be used if the qualifying insurance company were subject to tax under subchapter L of the Code. Thus, for this purpose, unearned premiums are determined in accordance with section 832(b)(4), and reserves for losses incurred are determined in accordance with section 832(b)(5) and 846 of the Code (as well as any other rules applicable to a U.S. property and casualty insurance company with respect to such amounts).

In the case of a contract regulated in the country in which sold as a life insurance or annuity contract, the following three alternative rules for determining reserves apply. Any one of the three rules can be elected with respect to a particular line of business.

First, reserves for such contracts can be determined generally under the rules applicable to domestic life insurance companies under subchapter L of the Code, using the methods there specified, but substituting for the interest rates in Code section 807(d)(2)(B) an interest rate determined for the country in which the qualifying insurance company was created or organized, calculated in the same manner as the mid-term applicable Federal interest rate ("AFR") (within the meaning of section 1274(d)).

Second, the reserves for such contracts can be determined using a preliminary term foreign reserve method, except that the interest rate to be used is the interest rate determined for the country in which the qualifying insurance company was created or organized, calculated in the same manner as the mid-term AFR. If a qualifying insurance company uses such a preliminary term method with respect to contracts insuring risks located in the country in which the company is created or organized, then such method is the method that applies for purposes of this election.

Third, reserves for such contracts can be determined to be equal to the net surrender value of the contract (as defined in section 807(e)(1)(A)).

In no event can the reserve for any contract at any time exceed the foreign statement reserve for the contract, reduced by any catastrophe or deficiency reserve. This rule applies whether the contract is regulated as a property, casualty, health, life insurance, annuity or any other type of contract.

A temporary exception from foreign personal holding company income also applies for income from investment of assets equal to: (1) one-third of premiums earned during the taxable year on insurance contracts regulated in the country in which sold as property, casualty, or health insurance contracts; and (2) the greater of 10 percent of reserves, or, in the case of a qualifying insurance company that is a startup company, $10 million. For this purpose, a startup company is a company (including any predecessor) that has not been engaged in the active conduct of an insurance business for more than 5 years. In general, the 5-year period commences when the foreign company first is engaged in the active conduct of an insurance business. If the foreign company was formed before being acquired by the U.S. shareholder, the 5-year period commences when the acquired company first was engaged in the active conduct of an insurance business. In the event of the acquisition of a book of business from another company through an assumption or indemnity reinsurance transaction, the 5-year period commences when the acquiring company first engaged in the active conduct of an insurance business, except that if more than a substantial part (e.g., 80 percent) of the business of the ceding company is acquired, then the 5-year period commences when the ceding company first engaged in the active conduct of an insurance business. Reinsurance transactions among related persons may not be used to multiply the number of 5-year periods.

Under rules prescribed by the Secretary, income is allocated to contracts as follows. In the case of contracts that are separate account-type contracts (including variable contracts not meeting the requirements of sec. 817), only the income specifically allocable to such contracts is taken into account. In the case of other contracts, income not specifically allocable is allocated ratably among such contracts.

A qualifying insurance company is defined as any entity which: (1) is regulated as an insurance company under the laws of the country in which it is incorporated; (2) derives at least 50 percent of its net written premiums from the insurance or reinsurance of risks situated within its country of incorporation; and (3) is engaged in the active conduct of an insurance business and would be subject to tax under subchapter L if it were a domestic corporation.

The temporary exceptions do not apply to investment income (includable in the income of a U.S. shareholder of a CFC pursuant to sec. 953) allocable to contracts that insure related party risks or risks located in a country other than the country in which the qualifying insurance company is created or organized.

Anti-abuse rule

An anti-abuse rule applies for purposes of these temporary exceptions. For purposes of applying these exceptions, items with respect to a transaction or series of transactions are disregarded if one of the principal purposes of the transaction or transactions is to qualify income or gain for these exceptions, including any change in the method of computing reserves or any other transaction or transactions one of the principal purposes of which is the acceleration or deferral of any item in order to claim the benefits of these exceptions.

Foreign base company services income

A temporary exception from foreign base company services income applies for income derived from services performed in connection with the active conduct of a banking, financing, insurance or similar business by a CFC that is predominantly engaged in the active conduct of such business or is a qualifying insurance company.

House bill

In general

The House bill extends and modifies the present-law temporary exceptions from subpart F for income that is derived in the active conduct of a banking, financing, or similar business or in the conduct of an insurance business. These exceptions (as modified) are applicable only for taxable years beginning in 1999.

With respect to income derived in the active conduct of a banking, financing, or similar business, the House bill differs from the present-law temporary exceptions in the following significant respects. First, the House bill requires a CFC to conduct substantial activity with respect to its business in order to qualify for the exceptions. Second, the House bill adds certain nexus requirements which require that income which is derived by a CFC or QBU from transactions with customers is eligible for the exceptions if, among other things, substantially all of the activities in connection with such transactions are conducted directly by the CFC or QBU in its home country, and such income is treated as earned by the CFC or QBU in its home country for purposes of such country's tax laws. Third, the House bill modifies the tests for determining whether a CFC is predominantly engaged in the active conduct of a banking, financing, or similar business, including modifications for income derived from a lending or finance business. Fourth, the House bill extends the exceptions to income derived from certain cross border transactions, provided that certain requirements are met. Fifth, the determination of where a customer is treated as located is made under rules prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury. Finally, the look-through rule that was included in the present-law provision for purposes of determining the income eligible for the exceptions is eliminated.

In the case of insurance, the House bill differs from present law in the following significant respects. In addition to the exception for certain income of a qualifying insurance company with respect to risks located within the CFC's country of creation or organization that is provided under present law, the House bill provides additional exceptions. First, the House bill provides temporary exceptions from insurance income and from foreign personal holding company income for certain income of a qualifying branch of a qualifying insurance company with respect to risks located within the home country of the branch, provided certain requirements are met under each of the exceptions. Further, the House bill adds additional temporary exceptions from insurance income and from foreign personal holding company income for certain income of certain CFCs or branches with respect to risks located in any country other than the United States, provided that the requirements for these exceptions are met.

Income from the active conduct of a banking, financing, or similar business

Substantial activity requirement.—The House bill modifies the exceptions from subpart F for income derived in the active conduct of a banking, financing, or similar business by, among other things, incorporating a substantial activity requirement. Under the House bill, the subpart F exceptions apply to a CFC that is an eligible controlled foreign corporation (an “eligible CFC”). An eligible CFC is defined as a CFC which is predominantly engaged in the active conduct of a banking, financing, or similar business, but only if it conducts substantial activity with respect to such business.

Whether a CFC is considered to conduct substantial activity with respect to a banking, financing, or similar business is determined under all the facts and circumstances. It is intended that as part of this facts and circumstances analysis in determining whether the activities conducted by the CFC are substantial, all relevant factors are taken into account, including the overall size of the CFC, the amount of its revenues and expenses, the number of its employees, the ratio of its revenues per employee, the amount of property it owns, and the nature, size, and relative significance of the applicable activities conducted by the CFC. Under the House bill, the Treasury Secretary is granted the authority to prescribe regulations to carry out the purposes of these exceptions. It is intended that such authority includes the authority to prescribe rules relating to whether a CFC (or, as relevant, a QBU) is considered to conduct substantial activity.

It also is intended that as part of this facts and circumstances analysis, a CFC is required to conduct substantially all of the activities necessary for the generation of income with respect to the business, which generally include the following: initial solicitation of customers (including vendors); advising customers on financial needs, including funding and financial products; providing financial and technical advice to customers; designing or tailoring financial products to customers' needs; negotiating terms with customers; performing credit analysis on customers and evaluating noncredit risks; providing related services to customers; making loans, entering into leases, extending credit or entering into other transactions with customers that generate income that would be considered derived in the active conduct of a banking, financing, or similar business; collecting from customers; performing remarketing activities (including sales) following termination of transactions with customers; responding to customers' failure to satisfy their obligations under transactions, including enforcement or renegotiation of terms, liquidation of collateral, foreclosure, and/or institution of litigation; and holding collateral for transactions with customers.

It is intended that the performance of back-office functions (including accounting for income or loss, recordkeeping, and routine communicating with customers) not be taken into account in determining whether the substantial activity requirement is satisfied. It also is intended that the relevant activities of the business may be modified by Treasury regulation to take into account future changes in the operations of these businesses.

In general, the substantial activity requirement is applied based on the activities of the CFC as a whole, including the activities of any QBUs of the CFC. In determining whether the substantial activity requirement is satisfied, activities performed in the country in which the CFC is incorporated (or in the country in which the QBU has its principal office) by employees of a related person of the CFC are taken into account, but only to the extent that the related person is compensated on an arm's-length basis for the services of such employees and such compensation is includible in the related person's income in such country for purposes of such country's income tax laws. For this purpose, a related person has the meaning provided in section 954(d)(3), substituting "at least 80 percent" for "more than 50 percent." It is intended that the activities of such a related person are not again taken into account in determining whether another CFC or QBU (e.g., the related person) satisfies the substantial activity requirement.

Predominantly engaged requirement

The House bill also modifies the rules for determining whether a CFC is predominantly engaged in the active conduct of a banking, financing, or similar business. Alternative rules apply for this purpose.

Banking or securities business.—The House bill modifies the present-law application of the banking or securities business tests for determining whether a CFC is predominantly engaged in the active conduct of a banking, financing, or similar business. Under the House bill, a CFC is considered to be predominantly engaged in the active conduct of a banking, financing, or similar business if it is engaged in the active conduct of a banking business and is an institution licensed to do business as a bank in the United States (or is any other corporation not so licensed which is specified in regulations). In addition, a CFC is considered to be predominantly engaged in the active conduct of a banking, financing, or similar business if it is engaged in the active conduct of a securities business and is registered as a securities broker or dealer under applicable U.S. securities laws (or is any other corporation not so registered which is specified in regulations). It generally is intended that these requirements for the active conduct of a banking or securities business be interpreted in the manner provided in the regulations proposed under prior law section 1296(b) (as in effect prior to the enactment of the Taxpayer Relief Act of 1997). See Prop. Treas. Reg. secs. 1.1296-4 and 1.1296-6. Specifically, it is intended that these requirements include the requirements for foreign banks under Prop. Treas. Reg. sec. 1.1296-4 as currently drafted. However, it is not intended that these requirements be considered to be satisfied by a CFC merely because it is a qualified bank affiliate or a qualified securities affiliate within the meaning of the proposed regulations under former section 1296(b).

Lending or finance business.—The House bill modifies the present-law 70-percent test for determining whether a CFC is predominantly engaged in the active conduct of a banking, financing, or similar business. Under the House bill, a CFC is considered to be predominantly engaged in the active conduct of such business if more than 70 percent of its gross income is derived directly from the active and regular conduct of a lending or finance business from transactions with customers which are unrelated persons. For this purpose, it is intended that transactions with customers located in the United States not be taken into account in determining whether the 70-percent test is satisfied.

For this purpose, a CFC is considered to be engaged in a lending or finance business if it is engaged in the business of: (1) making loans; (2) purchasing or discounting accounts receivable, notes (including loans), or installment obligations; (3) engaging in leasing (including entering into leases and purchasing, servicing and disposing of leases and leased assets); (4) issuing letters of credit and providing guarantees; (5) providing charge and credit card services; or (6) rendering services or making facilities available in connection with the foregoing activities carried on by the corporation rendering such services or facilities, or by another corporation which is a member of the same affiliated group.

For this purpose, whether two corporations are affiliated is determined by reference to section 1504 with one modification: the exclusion for foreign corporations is disregarded.

Whether any portion of a CFC's gross income is derived directly from the active and regular conduct of a lending or finance business is determined under all the facts and circumstances. Under the House bill, the Treasury Secretary is granted the authority to prescribe regulations to carry out the purposes of these exceptions. It is intended that such authority includes the authority to prescribe rules relating to this determination.

Qualified banking or financing income exempt from subpart F

In general.—If a CFC is treated as an eligible CFC (i.e., it satisfies the substantial activity and predominantly engaged requirements), the subpart F exceptions apply to qualified banking or financing income of such corporation. Qualified banking or financing income is defined as income which is derived in the active conduct of a banking, financing, or similar business by an eligible CFC or a QBU of such CFC if: (1) the income is derived from transactions with customers not located in the United States, (2) substantially all of the activities in connection with such transactions are conducted directly by the corporation or unit in its home country, and (3) the income is treated as earned by such corporation or unit in its home country for purposes of such country's tax laws. For this purpose, income is considered to be earned by a CFC or a QBU in its home country if such income is sourced and allocable to such CFC or QBU in its home country for purposes of such country's tax laws. In addition, for this purpose, activities are considered to be conducted by a CFC or QBU if such activities are performed by employees of the CFC or QBU. Except as provided by regulations, a CFC's home country is defined as its country of creation or organization, and a QBU's home country is defined as the country in which the unit maintains its principal office. Moreover, income derived from transactions with customers apply only to transactions with customers acting in their capacity as such.

For this purpose, it is intended that income derived by an eligible CFC or QBU of such CFC from the following types of activities be considered to be income derived in the active conduct of a banking, financing, or similar business (provided that the other requirements for these exceptions are satisfied):

(1) regularly making personal, mortgage, industrial, or other loans in the ordinary course of the corporation's trade or business;

(2) factoring evidences of indebtedness for customers;

(3) purchasing, selling, discounting, or negotiating for customers notes, drafts, checks, bills of exchange, acceptances, or other evidences of indebtedness;

(4) issuing letters of credit and negotiating drafts drawn thereunder for customers;

(5) performing trust services, including as a fiduciary, agent, or custodian, for customers, provided such trust activities are not performed in connection with services provided by a dealer in stock, securities or similar financial instruments;

(6) arranging foreign exchange transactions (including any section 988 transaction within the meaning of section 988(c)(1)) for, or engaging in foreign exchange transactions with, customers;

(7) arranging interest rate or currency futures, forwards, options or notional principal contracts for, or entering into such transactions with, customers;

(8) underwriting issues of stock, debt instruments or other securities under best efforts or firm commitment agreements for customers;

(9) engaging in leasing (including entering into leases and purchasing, servicing and disposing of leases and leased assets);

(10) providing charge and credit card services for customers or factoring receivables obtained in the course of providing such services;

(11) providing traveler's check and money order services for customers;

(12) providing correspondent bank services for customers;

(13) providing paying agency and collection agency services for customers;

(14) maintaining restricted reserves (including money or securities) in a segregated account in order to satisfy a capital or reserve requirement imposed by a local banking or securities regulatory authority;

(15) engaging in hedging activities directly related to another activity described herein;

(16) repackaging mortgages and other financial assets into securities and servicing activities with respect to such assets (including the accrual of interest incidental to such activity);

(17) engaging in financing activities typically provided in the ordinary course by an investment bank, such as project financing provided in connection with construction projects, structured finance (including the extension of a loan and the sale of participations or interests in the loan to other financial institutions or investors), and leasing activities to the extent incidental to such financing activities;

(18) providing financial or investment advisory services, investment management services, fiduciary services, or custodial services;

(19) purchasing or selling stock, debt instruments, interest rate or currency futures or other securities or derivative financial products (including notional principal contracts) from or to customers and holding stock, debt instruments and other securities as inventory for sale to customers, unless the relevant securities or derivative financial products are not held in a dealer capacity;

(20) effecting transactions in securities for customers as a securities broker; and

(21) any other activity that the Secretary of the Treasury determines to be a financing activity conducted by active corporations in the ordinary course of their business.

Qualified banking or financing income of an eligible CFC or QBU of such CFC is determined separately for the CFC and each QBU, taking into account, in the case of an eligible CFC, only items of income, gain, deduction, loss or other items, as well as activities, of such CFC that are not properly allocable to any QBUs. Similarly, in the case of a QBU, qualified banking or financing income is determined by taking into account such applicable items (e.g., income and activities) that are properly allocable to such QBU. Under the House bill, the Treasury Secretary is granted the authority to prescribe regulations to carry out the purposes of these exceptions. It is intended that such authority includes the authority to prescribe rules for properly allocating items and activities among branches or units of a CFC, and between the CFC and its branches or units.

Income from local customer transactions.—If the requirements above are satisfied, the exceptions apply to income that is derived from transactions with customers located in the CFC's home country. In addition, the exceptions apply to income that is derived by a QBU of an eligible CFC from transactions with customers located in the QBU's home country.

For example, assume that a CFC is incorporated in the United Kingdom and has operations in France that constitute a QBU. Also assume that the activities of the U.K. CFC's head office together with the activities of the French QBU satisfy the substantial activity requirement. Under the House bill, income derived by the U.K. CFC from transactions with customers in the United Kingdom is eligible for the exceptions if substantially all of the activities in connection with the transaction are performed in the United Kingdom by employees of the U.K. CFC, and the income is treated as earned by the U.K. CFC in the United Kingdom for U.K. income tax purposes. In addition, income derived by the French QBU from transactions with customers in France is eligible for the exceptions if substantially all of the activities in connection with the transactions are performed in France by employees of the French QBU, and the income is treated as earned by the French QBU in France for French income tax purposes.

Income from cross border transactions.—If the requirements above are satisfied, the exceptions also apply to income from certain cross border transactions, but only if a higher standard with respect to the substantial activity requirement is satisfied. Under the House bill, income derived by a CFC from transactions with customers not located in the CFC's home country or the United States is eligible for the exceptions if the CFC conducts substantial activity with respect to a banking, financing, or similar business in its home country. In addition, income derived by a QBU of an eligible CFC from transactions with customers not located in the QBU's home country or the United States is eligible for the exceptions, but only if the QBU conducts substantial activity with respect to such a business in its home country. For this purpose, the substantial activity requirement is applied by looking only at the activities of the applicable CFC or QBU on a stand-alone basis. Thus, income derived by a QBU from transactions with customers not located in its home country (or in the United States) is eligible for the exceptions if the activities of the QBU itself constitute substantial activities (provided that the other requirements are satisfied).

Consider again the U.K. CFC and the French QBU. If the head office of the U.K. CFC derives income from a transaction with a customer in Germany, the income is eligible for the exceptions if the activities of the CFC itself (without regard to those of the French QBU) satisfy the substantial activity requirement. Alternatively, if the French QBU derives income from a transaction with a German customer, the income is eligible for the exceptions if the activities of the French QBU itself satisfy the substantial activity requirement.

Home country requirement for income earned with respect to a lending or finance business.—In the case of a lending or finance business, in addition to the requirements described above, the House bill includes an additional requirement to qualify for the exceptions in the case of income earned by a CFC which qualifies as an eligible CFC by satisfying the predominantly engaged requirement for an active lending or finance business. For such an eligible CFC, income derived by such CFC is eligible for the exceptions only if such CFC derives more than 30 percent of its gross income directly from the active and regular conduct of a lending or finance business from transactions with customers that are unrelated persons and that are located within the CFC's home country (the "home country" requirement). In addition, income derived by a QBU of such an eligible CFC is eligible for the exceptions only if such QBU derives more than 30 percent of its gross income directly from the active and regular conduct of a lending or finance business from transactions with customers that are unrelated persons and that are located within the QBU's home country. For this purpose, it is intended that transactions with customers located in the United States not be taken into account.

The home country requirement is applied on a stand-alone basis to the particular CFC or QBU. Thus, the 30-percent gross income test takes into account only the gross income of a particular CFC (without regard to the income of its QBUs) from transactions with its home-country unrelated customers. Similarly, in the case of a QBU, there is taken into account the gross income of the particular QBU (without regard to the income of the CFC or other QBUs) from transactions with its home-country unrelated customers. Accordingly, if more than 70 percent of the CFC's gross income is derived directly from the active and regular conduct of a lending or finance business from transactions with unrelated customers, and one of the CFC's QBUs satisfies the home country requirement but another QBU does not satisfy such requirement, income derived by the QBU that satisfies the home country requirement is eligible for the exceptions from subpart F (provided that the other requirements are satisfied), but income derived by the other QBU is not eligible for the exceptions.

Coordination with other rules.—The House bill provides that the exceptions under section 954(h) for income derived in the active conduct of a banking, financing, or similar business do not apply to income described in the dealer exception under section 954(c)(2)(C)(ii) (described below) for a dealer in securities which is an eligible CFC that satisfies the predominantly engaged requirement for a securities business.

In addition, it is expected that the Treasury Department and the Internal Revenue Service will issue timely guidance to make currently effective conforming changes to existing regulations in order to reflect the exceptions under section 954(h), including conforming changes to the regulations under section 954(c)(3).

Exception for securities dealers

The House bill provides an additional exception from foreign personal holding company income for certain income derived by a securities dealer within the meaning of section 475 (the so-called “dealer exception”). The dealer exception applies to interest or dividends (or equivalent amounts described in sec. 954(c)(1)(E) or (G)) from any transaction (including a hedging transaction or a transaction consisting of a deposit of collateral or margin described in sec. 956(c)(2)(J)) entered into in the ordinary course of the dealer's trade or business as such a securities dealer, but only if the income is attributable to activities of the dealer in the country in which the dealer is created or organized (or, in the case of a QBU of the dealer, is attributable to activities of the QBU in the country in which the QBU both maintains its principal office and conducts substantial business activity). For this purpose, income is considered to be attributable to activities of the dealer in its country of incorporation (or to a QBU in the country in which the QBU both maintains its principal office and conducts substantial business activity), if such income is attributable to activities performed in such country by employees of the dealer (or QBU), and such income is treated as earned in such country by the dealer (or QBU) for purposes of such country's tax laws. For this purpose, income is considered to be earned in the country in which the dealer is created or organized (or, in the case of a QBU, in the country in which the QBU both maintains its principal office and conducts substantial business activity), if such income is sourced and allocable to such dealer (or QBU) in such country for purposes of such country's tax laws. It is intended that the dealer exception not apply to income from transactions with persons located in the United States with respect to U.S. securities. This reflects the understanding that the exception from current inclusion under subpart F for income earned by dealers in securities does not apply to activities that would otherwise be conducted in the United States. In addition, it is intended that the dealer exception will apply to interest paid by customers to the dealer on margin loans in connection with sales of securities (provided that the other requirements of the provision are satisfied).

Insurance income

In general.—The House bill provides a temporary exception to insurance income under section 953. For purposes of the exception to insurance income, reserves for an exempt insurance or annuity contract are determined in the same manner as under the temporary exception, described below, for foreign personal holding company income relating to certain insurance contracts (sec. 954(i), as added by the House bill). For purposes of these provisions, reserves are intended to include discounted unpaid losses or losses incurred, as appropriate, for property and casualty contracts.

Operation of the exception.—The House bill provides an exception from insurance income for income derived by a qualifying insurance company that is attributable to the issuing (or reinsuring) of an exempt contract by the qualifying insurance company or a qualifying insurance company branch of such a company, and that is treated as earned by the company or branch in that company's, or branch's, home country for purposes of that country's tax laws. The exception from insurance income does not apply to income attributable to the issuing (or reinsuring) of an exempt contract as the result of any arrangement whereby another corporation receives a substantially equal amount of premiums or other consideration in respect of issuing (or reinsuring a contract that is not an exempt contract). An exempt contract is an insurance or annuity contract issued or reinsured by a qualifying insurance company or qualified insurance company branch in connection with property in, liability arising out of activity in, or the lives or health of residents of, a country other than the United States.

No contract is treated as an exempt contract unless the qualifying insurance company or branch derives more than 30 percent of its net written premiums from exempt contracts (determined without regard to this sentence) covering applicable home country risks, and with respect to which no policyholder, insured, annuitant, or beneficiary is a related person (within the meaning of sec. 954(d)(3)). Applicable home country risks are risks in connection with property in, liability arising out of activity in, or the lives or health of residents of, the home country of the qualifying insurance company or branch, as the case may be. In all cases, the 30-percent test is applied on a unit-by-unit basis. Accordingly, income derived by a qualifying insurance company branch of a CFC qualifies only if such branch alone satisfies the 30-percent test (without regard to the net written premiums of any other branch). Income derived by the CFC qualifies only if the CFC alone satisfies the 30-percent test without regard to the net written premiums of any other unit or branch of the CFC.

When determinations under the House bill are made separately with respect to a qualifying insurance company and its qualifying insurance company branch or branches, then in the case of the qualifying insurance company, only income, gain, or loss and activities of the company not properly allocable or attributable to any qualifying insurance company branch are taken into account. In the case of a qualifying insurance company branch, only income, gain, or loss and activities of the branch that are properly allocable or attributable to it are taken into account. Under the House bill, the Treasury Secretary is granted the authority to carry out the purposes of these exceptions. It is intended that such authority includes the authority to prescribe rules for properly allocating items and activities among branches or units of a CFC, and among the CFC and its branches or units.

The home country of a CFC is the country in which the CFC is created or organized. The home country of a qualified business unit that is a qualifying insurance company branch of a qualifying insurance company means the country in which the principal office of such unit is located and in which such unit is licensed, authorized, or regulated by the applicable insurance regulatory body to sell insurance, reinsurance or annuity contracts to persons other than related persons (within the meaning of sec. 954(d)(3)) in that country.

Qualifying insurance company.—A qualifying insurance company is a CFC that meets the following requirements, which are intended to distinguish firms that have a real business nexus with a foreign country or countries from firms that do not. The first requirement is that the CFC be subject to regulation as an insurance (or reinsurance) company by its home country, and that the CFC be licensed, authorized, or regulated by the applicable insurance regulatory body for its home country to sell insurance, reinsurance, or annuity contracts to persons other than related persons (within the meaning of section 954(d)(3)) in its home country.

The second requirement is that the CFC derive more than 50 percent of its aggregate net written premiums from the insurance or reinsurance by the CFC (on an aggregate basis, including qualifying insurance company branches) covering applicable home country risks (as described above) of the CFC or branch, as the case may be. For purposes of this rule, if a policyholder, insured, annuitant, or beneficiary is a related person, then the contract is treated as not covering home country risks. A related person has the meaning set forth in section 954(d)(3). In the case of a qualifying insurance company branch, premiums are taken into account under this second requirement only to the extent that the premiums are treated as earned by the branch in its home country for purposes of that country's tax laws.

The 50-percent test applies on an aggregate basis. For example, assume that a German CFC has a branch in France and a branch in Italy. Assume that $50 of net written premiums are properly allocable to the Italian branch, $100 of net written premiums are properly allocable to the French branch, and $100 of net written premiums are properly allocable to the CFC in Germany. For the Italian branch, assume $20 of the $50, or 40 percent, is from home country risks. For the French branch, assume that $80 of the $100, or 80 percent, is from home country risks. For the CFC in Germany, assume that $60 of the $100, or 60 percent, is from home country risks. Taking into account the respective amounts and percentages, the CFC has 64 percent of its net written premiums from home country risks on an aggregate basis.

The third requirement is that the CFC be engaged in the insurance business and that it would be subject to tax under subchapter L if it were a domestic corporation. A CFC is considered to be engaged in the insurance business, within the meaning of this provision of the House bill, if it operates in a manner consistent with the operation of other bona fide commercial insurance companies that sell insurance products to unrelated parties in its home country, and conducts managerial activities in that country with respect to the major functions of the insurance business. A factor, among others, that could be considered in determining whether it conducts managerial activities in its home country with respect to the major functions of the insurance business may be whether in its home country it exercises key decision making in determining business strategy with respect to the major functions of the insurance business. For purposes of the requirement that the CFC be engaged in the insurance business, activities performed in the home country of the CFC by employees of the CFC and of a related person are taken into account, to the extent that the related person is compensated on an arm's-length basis for the services of such employees and such compensation is includible in the related person's income in such country for purposes of that country's tax laws. For this purpose, a related person has the meaning provided in section 954(d)(3), substituting "at least 80 percent" for "more than 50 percent." In determining whether a CFC is engaged in the insurance business, for example, an entity that is not engaged in regular and continuous transactions with persons that are not related persons (as described in the anti-abuse rules) is not considered as engaged in the insurance business.

Qualifying insurance company branch.—A qualifying insurance company branch is a qualified business unit of a CFC that meets two requirements. A qualified business unit means any separate and clearly identified unit of a trade or business of a taxpayer which maintains separate books and records (within the meaning of sec. 989(a)). The first requirement is that the unit be licensed, authorized, or regulated by the applicable insurance regulatory body for its home country to sell insurance, reinsurance or annuity contracts to persons other than related persons (within the meaning of sec. 954(d)(3)) in that country. It is intended that the applicable insurance regulatory body be the regulatory body that has the authority to license, authorize, or regulate with respect to the insurance business in the country where the branch is located and a branch that is regulated by such a body be considered to be regulated in the country where the branch is located. The second requirement is that the CFC (of which the branch is a unit) be a qualifying insurance company, taking the unit into account for purposes of the applicable tests (above) as if it were a qualifying insurance company branch.

Additional requirements in the case of cross border risks

The House bill imposes additional requirements with respect to any contract that covers cross border risks (that is, risks other than applicable home country risks), due to the increased concern about mobility of income in cross border business. A contract issued by a qualifying insurance company or qualifying insurance company branch that covers risks other than applicable home country risks is not treated as an exempt contract unless such company or branch, as the case may be, (1) conducts substantial activity in its home country with respect to the insurance business, and (2) performs in its home country substantially all of the activities necessary to give rise to the income generated by the contract.

Whether a CFC or unit thereof is considered to perform in its home country substantial activities with respect to the insurance business is determined under all the facts and circumstances. It is intended that as part of this facts and circumstances analysis in determining whether the activities conducted by the CFC or unit are substantial, all relevant factors are taken into account, including the overall size of the CFC or unit, the amount of its revenues and expenses, the number of its employees, the ratio of its revenues per employee, the amount of property it owns, and the nature, size and relative significance of the applicable activities conducted by the CFC or unit. Under the House bill, the Treasury Secretary is granted the authority to carry out the purposes of these exceptions. It is intended that such authority includes the authority to prescribe regulations relating to whether a CFC or unit is considered to conduct substantial activity.

It also is intended that as part of this facts and circumstances analysis, a CFC or unit is required to conduct substantially all of the activities necessary for the generation of income with respect to the insurance business. Such activities of an insurance business generally depend on the line of business, and could include: designing or tailoring insurance products to meet market or customer requirements; performing actuarial analysis with respect to insurance products; determining investment options for separate account-type products; performing underwriting functions with respect to insurance products; performing analysis for purposes of risk assessment; performing analysis for purposes of setting premium rates; performing analysis for purposes of calculating reserves; performing claims management and adjustment functions; developing marketing strategies, advertising and other public image activities; making (or arranging for) sales to customers; maintaining reserves and surplus (other than excess surplus); making (or arranging for) investments; and collecting from customers.

It further is intended that the performance of back-office functions (including accounting for income or loss, recordkeeping, and routine communicating with customers) not be taken into account in determining whether the substantial activity requirement is satisfied. It also is intended that the relevant activities of the business may be modified by Treasury regulation to take into account the actual operation of lines of insurance business and future changes in the operation of lines of insurance business.

It further is intended that activities performed in the CFC's or unit's home country by employees of a related person (within the meaning of sec. 954(d)(3), substituting "at least 80 percent" for "more than 50 percent") be taken into account, to the extent that the related person is compensated on an arm's-length basis for the services of such employees and such compensation is includible in the related person's income in that country for purposes of such country's tax laws. It also is intended that the activities of such a related person are not again taken into account in determining whether another CFC or unit (e.g., the related person) satisfies the substantial activity requirement.

In addition, with respect to a contract issued by a qualifying insurance company or qualifying insurance company branch that covers risks other than applicable home country risks, the qualifying insurance company or qualifying insurance company branch is required to perform in its home country substantially all of the activities necessary to give rise to the income generated by the contract.

Foreign personal holding company income with respect to insurance

The House bill provides a temporary exception from foreign personal holding company income for certain investment income derived by a qualifying insurance company and by certain qualifying insurance company branches.

The exception applies to income (received from a person other than a related person) from investments made by a qualifying insurance company or qualifying insurance company branch of its reserves allocable to exempt contracts or 80 percent of its unearned premiums from exempt contracts. For this purpose, an exempt contract has the meaning provided under the House bill.

In the case of exempt contracts that are property, casualty, or health insurance contracts, unearned premiums and reserves mean unearned premiums and reserves for losses incurred determined using the methods and interest rates that would be used if the qualifying insurance company or qualifying insurance company branch were subject to tax under subchapter L of the Code, with certain modifications. For this purpose, unearned premiums and losses incurred are determined in accordance with section 832(b) and 846 of the Code (as well as any other rules applicable to a U.S. property and casualty insurance company with respect to such amounts). However, in applying these rules, there is substituted for the applicable Federal interest rate the interest rate determined for the functional currency of the company or branch and which (except as provided by the Treasury Secretary) is calculated in the same manner as the Federal mid-term rate under section 1274(d). In addition, there is substituted for the loss payment pattern under section 846 the appropriate foreign loss payment pattern determined by the Treasury Secretary for the line of business. In the case of health insurance contracts, it is intended that appropriate foreign mortality and morbidity tables be used for this purpose. In the case of disability contracts (other than credit disability) which are subject to section 846(f)(6)(A), it is intended that mortality and morbidity tables reasonably reflect appropriate experience and foreign mortality and morbidity factors.

In the case of an exempt contract that is a life insurance or annuity contract, reserves for such contracts are determined as follows. The reserves equal the greater of: (1) the net surrender value of the contract (as defined in section 807(e)(1)(A)), including in the case of pension plan contracts; or (2) the amount determined by applying the tax reserve method that would apply if the qualifying insurance company were subject to tax under Subchapter L of the Code, with the following modifications. First, there is substituted for the applicable Federal interest rate an interest rate determined for the functional currency of the qualifying insurance company's home country, calculated (except as provided by the Treasury Secretary in order to address insufficient data and similar problems) in the same manner as the mid-term applicable Federal interest rate ("AFR") (within the meaning of section 1274(d)). Second, there is substituted for the prevailing State assumed rate the highest assumed interest rate permitted to be used for purposes of determining statement reserves in the foreign country for the contract. Third, in lieu of U.S. mortality and morbidity tables, there is applied mortality and morbidity tables that reasonably reflect the current mortality and morbidity risks in the foreign country. Fourth, the Treasury Secretary may provide that the interest rate and mortality and morbidity tables of a qualifying insurance company may be used for one or more of its branches when appropriate.

In no event may the reserve for any contract at any time exceed the foreign statement reserve for the contract, reduced by any catastrophe, equalization, or deficiency reserve or any similar reserve. In the case of a contract that is a property, casualty, or health insurance contract, it is intended that this limitation applies with respect to unpaid losses by line of business (similar to sec. 846(a)(3)). These rules apply whether the contract is regulated as a property, casualty, health, life insurance, annuity, or any other type of contract.

The House bill also provides an exception from foreign personal holding company income for income from investment of assets equal to (1) one-third of premiums earned during the taxable year on exempt contracts regulated in the country in which sold as property, casualty, or health insurance contracts, and (2) 10 percent of reserves (determined for purposes of the provision) for contracts regulated in the country in which sold as life insurance or annuity contracts. In no event does the exception from foreign personal holding company income apply to investment income with respect to excess surplus.

To prevent the shifting of relatively high-yielding assets to generate investment income that qualifies under this temporary exception, the House bill provides that, except as provided by the Treasury Secretary, income is allocated to contracts as follows. In the case of a separate account-type contract (including a variable contract not meeting the requirements of section 817), the income credited under the contract is allocable only to that contract. Income not so allocated generally is allocated ratably among all contracts that are not separate account-type contracts, subject to the anti-abuse rules (described below).

Other definitions and anti-abuse rules relating to insurance

The House bill provides that the present-law statutory definition of a life insurance contract (under secs. 7702 or 101(f)), as well as the distribution on death requirement of section 72(s) and the diversification requirement of section 817(h), do not apply for purposes of determining reserves for a life insurance or annuity contract under sections 953 and 954 of the Code, provided that neither the policyholders, the insureds or annuitants, nor the beneficiaries with respect to the contract are U.S. persons.

The House bill provides a rule coordinating the exception to insurance income with the present-law special rule for certain captive insurance companies (sec. 953(c)). Under the coordination rule, the scope of the present-law rule that related party insurance income is treated as subpart F income is retained. The exception under the House bill from the definition of insurance income does not include income derived from exempt contracts that cover risks other than applicable home country risks, for purposes of the rules of section 953(c).

The anti-abuse rules applicable under the subpart F exceptions provided in section 954(h) (other than sec. 954(h)(7)(B)) (as added by the House bill) apply to these exceptions for insurance. In addition, the House bill provides anti-abuse rules applicable under the exceptions from subpart F income relating to insurance.

The House bill provides that there shall be disregarded any item of income, gain, loss, or deduction of, or derived from, an entity which is not engaged in regular and continuous transactions with persons that are not related persons. This rule is intended, for example, to address the use of fronting companies or similar entities (that are not engaged in regular and continuous transactions with persons that are not related persons) to reinsure risks in a manner to cause a CFC or branch to qualify as a qualifying insurance company or qualifying insurance company branch by meeting percentage requirements with respect to home country risks that it would not otherwise meet.

The House bill provides that there shall be disregarded any change in the method of computing reserves or any other transaction or transactions one of the principal purposes of which is the acceleration or deferral of any item in order to claim the benefits of these exceptions.

The House bill also provides that a contract is not treated as an exempt contract (as described above), if any policyholder, insured or annuitant, or beneficiary is a resident of the United States, the contract was marketed to the U.S. resident, and was written to cover a risk outside the United States.

The House bill also provides that a contract is not treated as an exempt contract, if the contract covers risks located both within and outside the United States, and the qualifying insurance company or branch does not maintain such records, and file such reports, with respect to the contract as the Treasury Secretary requires. It is intended that documentation that is contemporaneous with the issuance of the contract be maintained by the qualifying insurance company or branch.

The House bill also provides that the Treasury Secretary may prescribe rules for the allocation of contracts (and income from contracts) among two or more qualifying insurance company branches of a qualifying insurance company in order to clearly reflect the income of such branches.

The House bill also provides that premiums from a contract are treated as not covering home country risks (and are treated as covering risks other than home country risks) for purposes of the tests for 30 percent and 50 percent, respectively, of net written premiums if the contract reinsures a contract issued or reinsured by a related person (within the meaning of sec. 954(d)(3)).

The House bill also provides that the Treasury Secretary may prescribe regulations as may be necessary or appropriate to carry out the purposes of the exceptions from insurance income and foreign personal holding company income provided under sections 953(e) and 954(i) (as added by the House bill).

Other anti-abuse rules

The House bill generally includes the anti-abuse rules of the present-law provision, with certain further refinements. Under the House bill, the anti-abuse rules provide that items with respect to a transaction or series of transactions are disregarded if one of the principal purposes of the transaction or transactions is to qualify income or gain for these exceptions, including any transaction or a series of transactions a principal purpose of which is the acceleration or deferral of any item in order to claim the benefits of these exceptions. In addition, the anti-abuse rules provide that items of an entity which is not engaged in regular and continuous transactions with customers which are not related persons are disregarded. Moreover, items with respect to a transaction or series of transactions are disregarded if one of the principal purposes of the transaction or transactions is to qualify income or gain for these exceptions, including utilizing or doing business with: (1) one or more entities in order to satisfy any home country requirement, or (2) a special purpose entity or arrangement, including a securitization or financing arrangement or any similar entity or arrangement. Finally, the anti-abuse rules provide that a related person, officer, director, or employee with respect to any CFC (or QBU) which otherwise would be treated as a customer of such corporation or unit with respect to any transaction is not treated as a customer, if a principal purpose of such transaction is to satisfy any requirement for these exceptions.

Sale of assets of an active financing business

The House bill includes a modification to address the treatment of sales of assets of an active financing business. In general, foreign personal holding company income includes net gains from the sale or exchange of property that gives rise to dividends, interest, royalties, rents, or annuities. The House bill provides an exception from this rule for income that qualifies for the exception from subpart F for income derived in the active conduct of a banking, financing, or similar business. Under the House bill, foreign personal holding company income does not include net gains from the sale or exchange of property that gives rise to dividends, interest, royalties, rents, or annuities if such property gives rise to income not treated as foreign personal holding company income for the taxable year by reason of the exceptions under section 954(h) or (i) (as added by the House bill) for income derived in the active conduct of a banking, financing, or similar business or in the conduct of an insurance business. It is intended that this exception applies only to the extent that, prior to its disposition, the property was held to generate or generated income which qualifies for the exceptions under section 954(h) or (i) (and such property was not so held for a principal purpose of taking advantage of such exception).

Exceptions from foreign base company services income

The present-law provision includes a corresponding exception from foreign base company services income for income derived by a CFC from the performance of services that are directly related to a transaction entered into by the CFC that gives rise to income that is eligible for these exceptions from subpart F. Under the House bill, foreign base company services income does not include income that is not treated as foreign personal holding company income by reason of the exceptions under section 954(h) or 954(i) or the securities dealer exception under section 954(c)(2)(C)(ii), or treated as exempt insurance income by reason of section 953(e) (as added by the House bill).

Other matters

Nothing in this provision is intended to alter the Treasury Department's agreement, as reflected in Notice 98-35, not to finalize regulations regarding so-called hybrid entities prior to January 1, 2000, in order to allow Congress the opportunity to fully consider the tax policy issues involved.

Effective date

The provision applies only to taxable years of foreign corporations beginning in 1999, and to taxable years of U.S. shareholders with or within which such taxable years of foreign corporations end.

Senate amendment

No provision. However, S. 2622, as introduced by Senators Roth and Moynihan, contains a provision that extends for one year the present-law temporary exceptions from foreign personal holding company income and foreign base company services income for income that is derived in the active conduct of a banking, financing, insurance or similar business.

Effective date.—The provision applies only to the first full taxable year of a foreign corporation beginning in 1998 and to the taxable year of such corporation immediately following such first full taxable year, and to taxable years of U.S. shareholders with or within which such taxable years of such foreign corporation end. If a foreign corporation does not have such a first full taxable year beginning in 1998, the provision applies only to the first taxable year of the foreign corporation beginning in 1999, and to taxable years of U.S. shareholders with or within which such taxable year of such foreign corporation ends.

Conference agreement

The conference agreement follows the House bill.

F. DISCLOSURE OF RETURN INFORMATION TO DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION IN CONNECTION WITH INCOME CONTINGENT LOANS

(SEC. 106 OF THE HOUSE BILL, SEC. 107 OF S. 2622, AND SEC. 6103(L)(13) OF THE CODE)

Present law

Under section 6103(l)(13) of the Code, the Secretary of Treasury was authorized to disclose to the Department of Education certain return information with respect to any taxpayer who has received an “applicable student loan.” An “applicable student loan” is any loan made under (1) part D of title IV of the Higher Education Act of 1965 or (2) parts B or E of title IV of the Higher Education Act of 1965 which is in default and has been assigned to the Department of Education, if the loan repayment amounts are based in whole or in part on the taxpayer’s income. The Secretary is permitted to disclose only taxpayer identity information and the adjusted gross income of the taxpayer. The Department of Education may use the information only to establish the appropriate income contingent repayment amount for an applicable student loan.

The disclosure authority under section 6103(l)(13) terminated with respect to requests made after September 30, 1998.

House bill

The House bill reinstates the disclosure authority under section 6103(l)(13) with respect to requests made after the date of enactment and before October 1, 2003.

Effective date.—The disclosure authority under section 6103(l)(13) applies to requests made after the date of enactment and before October 1, 2003.

Senate amendment

No provision. However, S. 2622, as introduced by Senators Roth and Moynihan, contains a provision that is similar to the provision contained in the House bill. S. 2622 reinstates the disclosure authority under section 6103(l)(13) with respect to requests made after the date of enactment and before October 1, 2004.

Conference agreement

The conference agreement follows the House bill.

SUBTITLE B—TRADE PROVISIONS

A. EXTENSION OF THE GENERALIZED SYSTEM OF PREFERENCES

(SEC. 111 OF THE HOUSE BILL AND S. 2622)

Present law

Title V of the Trade Act of 1974, as amended, grants authority to the President to provide duty-free treatment on imports of certain articles from beneficiary developing countries subject to certain conditions and limitations. To qualify for GSP privileges, each beneficiary country is subject to various mandatory and discretionary eligibility criteria. Import sensitive products are ineligible for GSP. The GSP program, which is designed to promote development through trade rather than traditional aid programs, expired after June 30, 1998.

House bill

The House bill reauthorizes the GSP program to terminate after December 31, 1999. Refunds are authorized, upon request of the importer, for duties paid between July 1, 1998, and the date of enactment of the bill.

Effective date.—The House bill provision is effective for duties paid on or after July 1, 1998, and before January 1, 2000.

Senate amendment

No provision. However, a provision contained in S. 2622, as introduced by Senators Roth and Moynihan, is the same as the House bill.

Conference agreement

The conference agreement is the same as the House bill and S. 2622, except that it reauthorizes the GSP program through June 30, 1999.

Effective date.—The provision is effective for duties paid on or after July 1, 1998, and before July 1, 1999.

B. EXTENSION OF THE TRADE ADJUSTMENT ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

(SEC. 112 OF S. 2622)

Present law

Title II of the Trade Act of 1974, as amended, authorizes three trade adjustment assistance (TAA) programs for the purpose of providing assistance to individual workers and firms that are adversely affected by the reduction of barriers to foreign trade. Those programs include—

(1) The general TAA program for workers provides training and income support for workers adversely affected by import competition.

(2) The TAA program for firms provides technical assistance to qualifying firms.

(3) The third program, the North American Free Trade Agreement (“NAFTA”) program for workers (established by the North American Free Trade Agreement Implementation Act of 1993) provides training and income support for workers adversely affected by trade with or production shifts to Canada and/or Mexico.

All three TAA programs expired on September 30, 1998. The TAA program for firms is also subject to annual appropriations.

House bill

No provision.

Senate amendment

No provision. However, a provision of S. 2622, as introduced by Senators Roth and Moynihan, reauthorizes each of the three TAA programs through June 30, 1999.

Effective date.—The provision is effective on the date of enactment.

Conference agreement

The conference agreement reauthorizes the three TAA programs through June 30, 1999.

Effective date.—The provision is effective on the date of enactment.

TITLE II—OTHER PROVISIONS

SUBTITLE A—PROVISIONS RELATING TO INDIVIDUALS

A. PERSONAL CREDITS FULLY ALLOWED AGAINST REGULAR TAX LIABILITY DURING 1998

(SEC. 204 OF S. 2622 AND SEC. 26 OF THE CODE)

Present law

Present law provides for certain nonrefundable personal tax credits (i.e., the dependent care credit, the credit for the elderly and disabled, the adoption credit, the child tax credit, the credit for interest on certain home mortgages, the HOPE Scholarship and Lifetime Learning credits, and the D.C. homebuyer's credit). Generally, these credits are allowed only to the extent that the individual's regular income tax liability exceeds the individual's tentative minimum tax (determined without regard to the AMT foreign tax credit).

The tentative minimum tax is an amount equal to (1) 26 percent of the first $175,000 ($87,500 in the case of a married individual filing a separate return) of alternative minimum taxable income ("AMTI") in excess of a phased-out exemption amount and (2) 28 percent of the remaining AMTI. The maximum tax rates on net capital gain used in computing the tentative minimum tax are the same as under the regular tax. AMTI is the individual's taxable income adjusted to take account of specified preferences and adjustments. The exemption amounts are: (1) $45,000 in the case of married individuals filing a joint return and surviving spouses; (2) $33,750 in the case of other unmarried individuals; and (3) $22,500 in the case of married individuals filing a separate return, estates and trusts. The exemption amounts are phased out by an amount equal to 25 percent of the amount by which the individual's AMTI exceeds (1) $150,000 in the case of married individuals filing a joint return and surviving spouses, (2) $112,500 in the case of other unmarried individuals, and (3) $75,000 in the case of married individuals filing separate returns or an estate or a trust. These amounts are not indexed for inflation.

For families with three or more qualifying children, an additional child credit is provided which may offset the liability for social security taxes to the extent that tax liability exceeds the amount of the earned income credit. The additional child credit is reduced by the amount of the individual's minimum tax liability (i.e., the amount by which the tentative minimum tax exceeds the regular tax liability).

House bill

No provision.

Senate amendment

No provision. However, S. 2622, as introduced by Senators Roth and Moynihan, contains a provision that allows the non-refundable personal credits to offset the individual's regular tax in full for taxable years beginning in 1998 (as opposed to only the amount by which the regular tax exceeds the tentative minimum tax, as under present law).

In addition, the provision of present law that reduces the additional child credit by the amount of an individual's AMT does not apply for taxable years beginning in 1998.

Effective date.—The provisions apply to taxable years beginning in 1998.

Conference agreement

The conference agreement contains the provisions in S. 2622.

B. INCREASE DEDUCTION FOR HEALTH INSURANCE EXPENSES OF SELF-EMPLOYED INDIVIDUALS

(SEC. 203 OF THE HOUSE BILL, SEC. 201 OF S. 2622, AND SEC. 162(L)(1) OF THE CODE)

Present law

Under present law, self-employed individuals are entitled to deduct a portion of the amount paid for health insurance for the self-employed individual and the individual's spouse and dependents. The deduction for health insurance expenses of self-employed individuals is not available for any month in which the taxpayer is eligible to participate in a subsidized health plan maintained by the employer of the taxpayer or the taxpayer's spouse. The deduction is available in the case of self insurance as well as commercial insurance. The self-insured plan must in fact be insurance (e.g., there must be appropriate risk shifting) and not merely a reimbursement arrangement.

The portion of health insurance expenses of self-employed individuals that is deductible is 45 percent for taxable years beginning in 1998 and 1999, 50 percent for taxable years beginning in 2000 and 2001, 60 percent for taxable years beginning in 2002, 80 percent for taxable years beginning in 2003, 2004, and 2005, 90 percent for taxable years beginning in 2006, and 100 percent for taxable years beginning in 2007 and thereafter.

Under present law, employees can exclude from income 100 percent of employer-provided health insurance.

House bill

The House bill increases the deduction for health insurance expenses of self-employed individuals to 100 percent for taxable years beginning in 2003 and later.

Effective date.—The House bill provision is effective for taxable years beginning after December 31, 2002.

Senate amendment

No provision. However, S. 2622, as introduced by Senators Roth and Moynihan, increases the deduction for health insurance of self-employed individuals to 70 percent for taxable years beginning in 2001 and to 100 percent for taxable years beginning in 2002 and thereafter.

Effective date.—The provision in S. 2622 is effective for taxable years beginning after December 31, 2000.

Conference agreement

The conference agreement increases the deduction for health insurance expenses of self-employed individuals to 60 percent for taxable years beginning in 1999 through 2001, to 70 percent for taxable years beginning in 2002, and to 100 percent for taxable years beginning in 2003 and thereafter.

Effective date.—The provision is effective for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1998.

C. MODIFICATION OF INDIVIDUAL ESTIMATED TAX SAFE HARBORS

(SEC. 205 OF THE HOUSE BILL AND SEC. 6654 OF THE CODE)

Present law

Under present law, an individual taxpayer generally is subject to an addition to tax for any underpayment of estimated tax. An individual generally does not have an underpayment of estimated tax if he or she makes timely estimated tax payments at least equal to: (1) 100 percent of the tax shown on the return of the individual for the preceding year (the “100 percent of last year’s liability safe harbor”) or (2) 90 percent of the tax shown on the return for the current year. The 100 percent of last year’s liability safe harbor is generally modified to be a 110 percent of last year’s liability safe harbor for any individual with an AGI of more than $150,000 as shown on the return for the preceding taxable year, except that it is 105 percent of last year’s liability for taxable years beginning in 1999, 2000, and 2001, and 112 percent of last year’s liability for taxable years beginning in 2002. If a married individual files a separate return for the year for which an estimated tax installment payment was due, the $150,000 amount becomes $75,000.

House bill

For taxable years beginning in 2000 and 2001, the 105 percent of last year's liability safe harbor for any individual with an AGI of more than $150,000 as shown on the return for the preceding taxable year is modified to be a 106 percent of last year's liability safe harbor.

Effective date.—The provision is effective for taxable years beginning in 2000 and 2001.

Senate amendment

No provision.

Conference agreement

The conference agreement follows the House bill.

SUBTITLE B—PROVISIONS RELATING TO FARMERS

A. PERMANENT EXTENSION OF INCOME AVERAGING FOR FARMERS

(SEC. 103 OF THE HOUSE BILL, SEC. 203 OF S. 2622, AND SEC. 1301 OF THE CODE)

Present law

An individual engaged in a farming business may elect to compute his or her current year tax liability by averaging, over the prior three-year period, all or a portion of the taxable income that is attributable to the farming business.

In general, an individual who makes the election (1) designates all or a portion of his or her taxable income attributable to any farming business from the current year as "elected farm income;"⁷ (2) allocates one-third of the elected farm income to each of the three prior taxable years; and (3) determines the current year section 1 tax liability by combining (a) his or her current year section 1 tax liability excluding the elected farm income allocated to the three prior taxable years, plus (b) the increases in the section 1 tax liability for each of the three prior taxable years caused by including one-third of the elected farm income in each such year. Any allocation of elected farm income pursuant to the election applies for purposes of any election in a subsequent taxable year.

The provision does not apply for employment tax purposes, or to an estate or a trust. The provision also does not apply for purposes of the alternative minimum tax. The provision is effective for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1997, and before January 1, 2001.

House bill

The provision permanently extends the income averaging provision for farmers.

Effective date.—The provision is effective for taxable years beginning after December 31, 2000.

⁷The amount of elected farm income of a taxpayer for a taxable year may not exceed the taxable income attributable to any farming business for the year.

Senate amendment

No provision. However, S. 2622, as introduced by Senators Roth and Moynihan, contains a provision that is the same as the provision contained in the House bill.

Conference agreement

The conference agreement follows the House bill.

B. FARM PRODUCTION FLEXIBILITY CONTRACT PAYMENTS

(SEC. 202 OF THE HOUSE BILL AND S. 2622)

Present law

A taxpayer generally is required to include an item in income no later than the time of its actual or constructive receipt, unless such amount properly is accounted for in a different period under the taxpayer's method of accounting. If a taxpayer has an unrestricted right to demand the payment of an amount, the taxpayer is in constructive receipt of that amount whether or not the taxpayer makes the demand and actually receives the payment.

The Federal Agriculture Improvement and Reform Act of 1996 (the "FAIR Act") provides for production flexibility contracts between certain eligible owners and producers and the Secretary of Agriculture. These contracts generally cover crop years from 1996 through 2002. Annual payments are made under such contracts at specific times during the Federal government's fiscal year. Section 112(d)(2) of the FAIR Act provides that one-half of each annual payment is to be made on either December 15 or January 15 of the fiscal year, at the option of the recipient.⁸ This option to receive the payment on December 15 potentially results in the constructive receipt (and thus potential inclusion in income) of one-half of the annual payment at that time, even if the option to receive the amount on January 15 is elected.

The remaining one-half of the annual payment must be made no later than September 30 of the fiscal year. The Emergency Farm Financial Relief Act of 1998 added section 112(d)(3) to the FAIR Act which provides that all payments for fiscal year 1999 are to be paid at such time or times during fiscal year 1999 as the recipient may specify. Thus, the one-half of the annual amount that would otherwise be required to be paid no later than September 30, 1999, can be specified for payment in calendar year 1998. This potentially results in the constructive receipt (and thus required inclusion in taxable income) of such amounts in calendar year 1998, whether or not the amounts actually are received or the right to their receipt is fixed.

House bill

The time a production flexibility contract payment under the FAIR Act properly is includible in income would be determined without regard to the options granted by section 112(d)(2) (allowing receipt of one-half of the annual payment on either December 15

⁸This rule applies to fiscal years after 1996. For fiscal year 1996, this payment was to be made not later than 30 days after the production flexibility contract was entered into.

or January 15 of the fiscal year) or section 112(d)(3) (allowing the acceleration of all payments for fiscal year 1999) of that Act.

Effective date.—The provision is effective for production flexibility contract payments made under the FAIR Act in taxable years ending after December 31, 1995.

Senate amendment

No provision. However, S. 2622, as introduced by Senators Roth and Moynihan, contains a provision that is the same as the provision contained in the House bill.

Conference agreement

The conference agreement follows the House bill.

C. EXTEND THE NET OPERATING LOSS CARRYBACK PERIOD FOR FARMERS

(SEC. 212 OF H.R. 4579 AND SEC. 172 OF THE CODE)

Present law

A net operating loss (“NOL”) is, generally, the amount by which business deductions of a taxpayer exceed business gross income. An NOL may be carried back two years and carried forward 20 years to offset taxable income in such years. A taxpayer may elect to forgo the carryback of an NOL. In the case of an NOL (1) arising from casualty or theft losses of individual taxpayers, or (2) attributable to Presidentially declared disasters for taxpayers engaged in a farming business or a small business, the NOL can be carried back three years. A farming business includes the trade or business of farming, as well as the trade or business of operating a nursery or sod farm, or the raising or harvesting of certain trees.⁹ Special rules apply to real estate investment trusts (no carrybacks), specified liability losses (10-year carryback), and excess interest losses (no carrybacks).

A carry back of an NOL will result in the refund of Federal income tax for the carryback year. A carry forward of an NOL will reduce Federal income tax for the carryforward year.

House bill

No provision. However, H.R. 4579, as passed by the House of Representatives, contains a provision that provides a special five-year carryback period for a farming loss, regardless of whether the loss was incurred in a Presidentially declared disaster area. The carryforward period remains at 20 years. A “farming loss” is defined as the amount of any net operating loss attributable to the income and deductions of a farming business (as defined in section 263A(e)(4)). A farming loss cannot exceed the taxpayer’s NOL for the taxable year. In calculating the amount of a taxpayer’s NOL carrybacks, the portion of the NOL that is attributable to a farming loss is treated as a separate NOL and is taken into account after the remaining portion of the NOL for the taxable year.

A taxpayer can elect to forgo the five-year carryback period for a farming loss. The election to forgo the five-year carryback period is made in the manner prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury and must be made by the due date of the return (including extensions) for the year of the loss. The election is irrevocable. If a taxpayer elects to forgo the five-year carryback period, then the farming losses are subject to the rules that otherwise would have applied under section 172 absent the five-year rule. The three-year carryback period continues to apply to an NOL incurred in a Presidentially declared disaster area if such NOL is not eligible for the five-year carryback period.

Effective date.—The provision is effective for NOLs arising in taxable years beginning after December 31, 1997.

Senate amendment

No provision.

Conference agreement

The conference agreement follows the provision in H.R. 4579.

SUBTITLE C—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

A. INCREASE STATE VOLUME LIMITS ON PRIVATE ACTIVITY TAX-EXEMPT BONDS

(SEC. 204 OF THE HOUSE BILL AND SEC. 146 OF THE CODE)

Present law

Interest on bonds issued by States and local governments is excluded from income if the proceeds of the bonds are used to finance activities conducted and paid for by the governmental units (Code sec. 103). Interest on bonds issued by these governmental units to finance activities carried out and paid for by private persons (“private activity bonds”) is taxable unless the activities are specified in the Internal Revenue Code. Private activity bonds on which interest may be tax-exempt include bonds for privately operated transportation facilities (e.g., airports, docks and wharves, mass transit, and high speed rail facilities), privately owned and/or provided municipal services (e.g., water, sewer, solid waste disposal, and certain electric and heating facilities), economic development (e.g., small manufacturing facilities and redevelopment in economically depressed areas), and certain social programs (e.g., low-income rental housing, qualified mortgage bonds, student loan bonds, and exempt activities of charitable organizations described in Code sec. 501(c)(3)).

The volume of tax-exempt private activity bonds that States and local governments may issue for most of these purposes in each calendar year is limited by State-wide volume limits. The current annual volume limit for any State is $50 per resident of the State or $150 million if greater. The volume limits do not apply to private activity bonds to finance airports, docks and wharves, certain governmentally owned, but privately operated solid waste disposal facilities, certain high speed rail facilities, and to certain types of private activity tax-exempt bonds that are subject to other limits on their volume (qualified veterans’ mortgage bonds and certain “new” empowerment zone and enterprise community bonds).

House bill

The House bill increases the present-law annual State private activity bond volume limits to $75 per resident of each State or $225 million (if greater) beginning in calendar year 2007. The increase is phased-in as follows, beginning in calendar year 2003:

	Calendar year
Volume limit:
$55 per resident ($165 million if greater)	2003
$60 per resident ($180 million if greater)	2004
$65 per resident ($195 million if greater)	2005
$70 per resident ($210 million if greater)	2006

Effective date.—The provision is effective beginning in calendar year 2003.

Senate amendment

No provision.

Conference agreement

The conference agreement follows the House bill.

B. COMPREHENSIVE STUDY OF RECOVERY PERIODS AND DEPRECIATION METHODS UNDER SECTION 168

(SEC. 201 OF THE HOUSE BILL)

Present law

A taxpayer is allowed to deduct a reasonable allowance for the exhaustion, wear and tear, and obsolescence of property that is used in a trade or business or is held for the production of income. For most tangible personal and real property placed in service after 1986, the amount of the deductible allowance is determined under section 168 using the applicable recovery period, the applicable depreciation method, and the applicable convention specified in section 168.

For some types of assets, the applicable recovery period of an asset is provided in section 168. In other cases, the recovery period of an asset is determined by reference to its class life. The class life of an asset may be provided by section 168, or may be determined with regard to the list of class lives provided by the Treasury that was in effect on January 1, 1986. The Treasury Department is required to monitor and analyze actual experience with respect to all depreciable assets.

The applicable depreciation method determines the rate at which the cost of the property is recovered. In general, the applicable depreciation method specified in section 168 varies with the recovery period of the property. For property with a recovery period of 10 years or less, the applicable method is the 200 percent declining balance method, switching to straight-line in the first year in which that method yields a larger allowance. The 150 percent declining balance, (switching to straight-line) is the applicable method for property with a recovery period of 15 or 20 years, as well as for all property used in the trade or business of farming. The straight-line method must be used for property with a longer recovery period, as well as for certain specified types of property.

The applicable convention determines the point of time during the year that the property is considered placed in service. Applicable conventions specified in section 168 include the mid-year, the mid-quarter and the mid-month conventions.

House bill

The Secretary of the Treasury (or his delegate) is directed to conduct a comprehensive study of the recovery periods and depreciation methods under section 168 of the Code, and to provide recommendations for determining such periods and methods in a more rational manner. The Secretary of the Treasury (or his delegate) is directed to submit the results of the study and recommendations to the House Ways and Means and Senate Finance Committees by March 31, 2000.

Senate amendment

No provision.

Conference agreement

The conference agreement follows the House bill.

C. STATE ELECTION TO EXEMPT STUDENT EMPLOYEES FROM SOCIAL SECURITY

(SEC. 206 OF THE HOUSE BILL)

Present law

The Social Security Amendments of 1972 provided an opportunity for States to obtain exemptions from Social Security coverage for student employees of public schools, colleges, and universities. States choosing to opt out had to do so prior to January 1, 1974. Most States did. Student employees in these States do not have to pay FICA taxes on their wages, allowing them to keep more of their earnings.

House bill

The House bill allows a limited window of time (January 1 through March 31, 1999) for States to modify existing State agreements to exempt students (including graduate assistants) from Social Security coverage who are employed by a public school, university, or college in a nonexempted State.

Effective date.—The provision permitting States to modify existing agreement is effective with respect to services performed after June 30, 2000.

Senate amendment

No provision.

Conference agreement

The conference agreement follows the House bill.

TITLE III—REVENUE OFFSET PROVISIONS

A. TREATMENT OF CERTAIN DEDUCTIBLE LIQUIDATING DISTRIBUTIONS OF REGULATED INVESTMENT COMPANIES AND REAL ESTATE INVESTMENT TRUSTS

(SEC. 301 OF THE HOUSE BILL, SEC. 301 OF S. 2622, AND SECS. 332 AND 334 OF THE CODE)

Present law

Regulated investment companies (“RICs”) and real estate investment trusts (“REITs”) are allowed a deduction for dividends paid to their shareholders. The deduction for dividends paid includes amounts distributed in liquidation which are properly chargeable to earnings and profits, as well as, in the case of a complete liquidation occurring within 24 months after the adoption of a plan of complete liquidation, any distribution made pursuant to such plan to the extent of earnings and profits. Rules that govern the receipt of dividends from RICs and REITs generally provide for including the amount of the dividend in the income of the shareholder receiving the dividend that was deducted by the RIC or REIT. Generally, any shareholder realizing gain from a liquidating distribution of a RIC or REIT includes the amount of gain in the shareholder’s income. However, in the case of a liquidating distribution to a corporation owning 80-percent of the stock of the distributing corporation, a separate rule generally provides that the distribution is tax-free to the parent corporation. The parent corporation succeeds to the tax attributes, including the adjusted basis of assets, of the distributing corporation. Under these rules, a liquidating RIC or REIT might be allowed a deduction for amounts paid to its parent corporation, without a corresponding inclusion in the income of the parent corporation, resulting in income being subject to no tax.

A RIC or REIT may designate a portion of a dividend as a capital gain dividend to the extent the RIC or REIT itself has a net capital gain, and a RIC may designate a portion of the dividend paid to a corporate shareholder as eligible for the 70-percent dividends-received deduction to the extent the RIC itself received dividends from other corporations. If certain conditions are satisfied, a RIC also is permitted to pass through to its shareholders the tax-exempt character of the RIC’s net income from tax-exempt obligations through the payment of “exempt interest dividends,” though no deduction is allowed for such dividends.

House bill

Any amount which a liquidating RIC or REIT may take as a deduction for dividends paid with respect to an otherwise tax-free liquidating distribution to an 80-percent corporate owner is includible in the income of the recipient corporation. The includible amount is treated as a dividend received from the RIC or REIT. The liquidating corporation may designate the amount distributed as a capital gain dividend or, in the case of a RIC, a dividend eligible for the 70-percent dividends received deduction or an exempt interest dividend, to the extent provided by the RIC or REIT provisions of the Code.

The provision does not otherwise change the tax treatment of the distribution to the parent corporation or to the RIC or REIT. Thus, for example, the liquidating corporation will not recognize gain (if any) on the liquidating distribution and the recipient corporation will hold the assets at a carryover basis, even where the amount received is treated as a dividend.

Effective date.—The provision is effective for distributions on or after May 22, 1998, regardless of when the plan of liquidation was adopted. No inference is intended regarding the treatment of such transactions under present law.

Senate amendment

No provision. However, S. 2622, as introduced by Senators Roth and Moynihan, contains a provision that is the same as the provision contained in the House bill.

Conference agreement

The conference agreement follows the House bill.

B. ADD VACCINES AGAINST ROTAVIRUS GASTROENTERITIS TO THE LIST OF TAXABLE VACCINES

(SEC. 302 OF THE HOUSE BILL, SEC. 4 OF S. 2616, AND SEC. 4132 OF THE CODE)

Present law

A manufacturer's excise tax is imposed at the rate of 75 cents per dose on the following vaccines routinely recommended for administration to children: diphtheria, pertussis, tetanus, measles, mumps, rubella, polio, HIB (haemophilus influenza type B), hepatitis B, and varicella (chicken pox). Amounts equal to net revenues from this excise tax are deposited in the Vaccine Injury Compensation Trust Fund.

House bill

The House bill adds any vaccine against rotavirus gastroenteritis to the list of taxable vaccines.

Effective date.—The provision is effective for vaccines sold by a manufacturer or importer after the date of enactment.

Senate amendment

No provision. However, S. 2616 (the Medicare Home Health Fair Payment Act), as introduced by Senators Roth and Moynihan, contains a provision that is the same as the provision contained in the House bill.

Conference agreement

The conference agreement follows the House bill.

C. CLARIFY AND EXPAND MATHEMATICAL ERROR PROCEDURES

(SEC. 303 OF THE HOUSE BILL, SEC. 3 OF S. 2616, AND SEC. 6213 OF THE CODE)

Present lawTaxpayer identification numbers ("TINs")

The IRS may deny a personal exemption for a taxpayer, the taxpayer's spouse or the taxpayer's dependents if the taxpayer fails to provide a correct TIN for each person for whom the taxpayer claims an exemption. This TIN requirement also indirectly effects other tax benefits currently conditioned on a taxpayer being able to claim a personal exemption for a dependent (e.g., head-of-household filing status and the dependent care credit). Other tax benefits, including the adoption credit, the child tax credit, the Hope Scholarship credit and Lifetime Learning credit, and the earned income credit also have TIN requirements. For most individuals, their TIN is their Social Security Number ("SSN"). The mathematical and clerical error procedure currently applies to the omission of a correct TIN for purposes of personal exemptions and all of the credits listed above except for the adoption credit.

Mathematical or clerical errors

The IRS may summarily assess additional tax due as a result of a mathematical or clerical error without sending the taxpayer a notice of deficiency and giving the taxpayer an opportunity to petition the Tax Court. Where the IRS uses the summary assessment procedure for mathematical or clerical errors, the taxpayer must be given an explanation of the asserted error and a period of 60 days to request that the IRS abate its assessment. The IRS may not proceed to collect the amount of the assessment until the taxpayer has agreed to it or has allowed the 60-day period for objecting to expire. If the taxpayer files a request for abatement of the assessment specified in the notice, the IRS must abate the assessment. Any reassessment of the abated amount is subject to the ordinary deficiency procedures. The request for abatement of the assessment is the only procedure a taxpayer may use prior to paying the assessed amount in order to contest an assessment arising out of a mathematical or clerical error. Once the assessment is satisfied, however, the taxpayer may file a claim for refund if he or she believes the assessment was made in error.

House bill

The House bill provides in the application of the mathematical and clerical error procedure that a correct TIN is a TIN that was assigned by the Social Security Administration (or in certain limited cases, the IRS) to the individual identified on the return. For this purpose, the IRS is authorized to determine that the individual identified on the tax return corresponds in every aspect (including, name, age, date of birth, and SSN) to the individual to whom the TIN is issued. The IRS also is authorized to use the mathematical and clerical error procedure to deny eligibility for the dependent care tax credit, the child tax credit, and the earned income credit even though a correct TIN has been supplied if the IRS determines that the statutory age restrictions for eligibility for any of the respective credits is not satisfied (e.g., the TIN issued for the child claimed as the basis of the child tax credit identifies the child as over the age of 17 at the end of the taxable year).

Effective date.—The provision is effective for taxable years ending after the date of enactment.

Senate amendment

No provision. However, S. 2616 (the Medicare Home Health Fair Payment Act), as introduced by Senators Roth and Moynihan, contains a provision that is the same as the provision contained in the House bill.

Conference agreement

The conference agreement follows the House bill.

D. RESTRICT 10-YEAR NET OPERATING LOSS CARRYBACK RULES FOR SPECIFIED LIABILITY LOSSES

(SEC. 304 OF THE HOUSE BILL, SEC. 5 OF S. 2616, AND SEC. 172(F) OF THE CODE)

Present law

Under present law, that portion of a net operating loss that qualifies as a “specified liability loss” may be carried back 10 years rather than being limited to the general two-year carryback period. A specified liability loss includes amounts allowable as a deduction with respect to product liability, and also certain liabilities that arise under Federal or State law or out of any tort of the taxpayer. In the case of a liability arising out of a Federal or State law, the act (or failure to act) giving rise to the liability must occur at least 3 years before the beginning of the taxable year. In the case of a liability arising out of a tort, the liability must arise out of a series of actions (or failures to act) over an extended period of time a substantial portion of which occurred at least three years before the beginning of the taxable year. A specified liability loss cannot exceed the amount of the net operating loss, and is only available to taxpayers that used an accrual method of accounting throughout the period that the acts (or failures to act) occurred.

House bill

Under the provision, specified liability losses are limited to product liability losses and amounts allowable as a deduction (other than a deduction under sec. 468(a)(1) or sec. 468A(a)) that are in satisfaction of a liability under a Federal or State law requiring the reclamation of land, decommissioning of a nuclear power plant (or any unit thereof), dismantlement of a drilling platform, remediation of environmental contamination, or a payment under any workers compensation act (within the meaning of sec. 461(h)(2)(C)(i)), if the act (or failure to act) giving rise to such liability occurs at least 3 years before the beginning of the taxable year. As under present law, the specified liability loss (as redefined) cannot exceed the amount of the net operating loss and is only available to taxpayers that used an accrual method of accounting throughout the period that the act (or failure to act) giving rise to the liability occurred. No inference regarding the interpretation of the specified liability loss carryback rules under present law is intended.

Effective date.—The provision is effective for net operating losses arising in taxable years ending after the date of enactment.

Senate amendment

No provision. However, S. 2616 (the Medicare Home Health Fair Payment Act), as introduced by Senators Roth and Moynihan, contains a provision that is the same as the provision contained in the House bill.

Conference agreement

The conference agreement follows the House bill.

TITLE IV—TECHNICAL CORRECTIONS PROVISIONS

House bill

The House bill contains technical, clerical, and conforming amendments to the Internal Revenue Service Restructuring and Reform Act of 1998, the Taxpayer Relief Act of 1997, and other tax legislation.

Senate amendment

No provision. However, S. 2622, as introduced by Senators Roth and Moynihan, contains the same provisions as the House bill. In addition, S. 2622 also includes a perfecting amendment related to voluntary income tax withholding from Social Security benefits.

Conference agreement

The conference agreement generally follows the House bill and S. 2622. The conference agreement includes the provision related to voluntary income tax withholding from Social Security benefits included in S. 2622.

SUBTITLE VI—MEDICARE-RELATED PROVISIONS

SUBTITLE A—HOME HEALTH

SEC. 6101.—INCREASE IN PER BENEFICIARY LIMITS AND PER VISIT LIMITS FOR PAYMENT FOR HOME HEALTH SERVICES

Present law

Section 4602 of the Balanced Budget Act established interim payments for Medicare home health care agencies until the implementation of a new prospective payment system on October 1, 1999. Also scheduled to go into effect on October 1, 1999, is an across-the-board reduction in payments to home health agencies. Under the interim payment system (IPS), agencies are currently paid the lesser of either their actual costs, a per visit limit, or an annual per beneficiary limit. The first limit—the per visit limit—is based on the mix of visits an agency provided to Medicare patients during the year. The per visit limits are based on 105 percent of the wage adjusted median cost for each of the six categories of service. The second limit—the per beneficiary limit—is based 75 percent on an agency’s historical cost per beneficiary and 25 percent on the average per beneficiary historical costs for the region in which the agency is located (minus 2 percent), and is adjusted by the home health market basket. Agencies whose first full year cost report began after October 1, 1993 receive the national median of the per beneficiary limits.

House bill

H.R. 4567, the “Medicare Home Health Care and Veterans Health Care Improvement Act,” as passed by the House of Representatives on October 12, 1998, makes changes to the payment system for Medicare’s home health care benefit as defined in the Balanced Budget Act of 1997 (P.L. 105–33). Under the bill, the per beneficiary limit is increased for older agencies below the national median. In addition, the bill increases payments to new agencies and establishes payments for agencies that would receive Medicare payments until implementation of the new prospective system. The bill excludes these costs from the calculation of the beneficiary monthly premium. The bill requires the Secretary of Health and Human Services to report back to Congress with alternatives to the 15 percent across-the-board reduction in payments that is scheduled for October 1, 1999. In addition, several reports on the prospective payment system summarizing research conducted by the Secretary of Health and Human Services are to be submitted to the Congress so that implementation of the new payment system is not further delayed. The policies contained in the bill were carefully designed to meet administrative restrictions relating to the Year 2000.

Effective date.—The provision is effective upon enactment.

Senate amendment

S. 2616, the “Medicare Home Health Fair Payment Act of 1998,” as introduced in the Senate, makes changes to the payment system for Medicare’s home health care benefit as defined in the Balanced Budget Act of 1997 (P.L. 105–33). Under the bill, the transition period for payment changes to the prospective payment system (PPS) is lengthened by providing all agencies a longer transition period in which to adjust to changed payment limits. Both the 15 percent across-the-board reduction and the PPS are delayed for 12 months. A budget-neutral blend establishes greater equity among agencies by increasing the per beneficiary limits for low cost agencies and reducing the high cost per beneficiary limits. In the legislation, greater fairness is achieved by eliminating the 2% discount applicable to new agencies, and raising the per visit limits for all agencies from 105% to 110% of the national median. No distinction in payment limit is made for “brand new” agencies.

In order to offset the cost of the payment changes, the home health care annual market basket (MB) is reduced in the following manner: for fiscal year 2000 it is MB minus 0.5 percentage point; for FY 2001 it is MB minus 0.5 percentage point; for FY 2002 and FY 2003 it is full MB; and in FY 2004 it is MB plus 1.0 percentage point.

Effective date.—The provision is effective upon enactment.

DIVISION J

Division J includes a provision that makes changes to the payment system for Medicare's home health care benefit as defined in the Balanced Budget Act of 1997 (P.L. 105-33). The provision delays the implementation of the prospective payment system until October 1, 2000 and delays an across-the-board 15 percent reduction in payments to home health agencies until that date. The provision would also allow for periodic interim payments until implementation of the prospective payment system. The provision is expected to provide equity to those agencies which have low-cost, low-utilization practices relative to other agencies, by increasing the per beneficiary limits. Those agencies below the national median per beneficiary limit will have their limit increased by 1/3 of the difference between their limit and the national median. In addition, the provision increases payments to "new" agencies whose first full year cost report began after October 1, 1993 by two percent, and establishes that agencies opening after October 1, 1998 will have per beneficiary limits equal to 75 percent of the wage adjusted national median (calculated with a two percent reduction).

The provision also reduces the home health market basket update for fiscal years 2000, 2001, 2002, and 2003, by 1.1 percentage points. Despite the increase in Medicare part B expenditures, the provision excludes these costs from the calculation of the beneficiary monthly premium until the prospective payment system is implemented. Finally, the provision requires several reports on the prospective payment system summarizing research conducted by the Secretary of Health and Human Services to be submitted to the Congress so that implementation of the new payment system is not further delayed. The policies contained in the bill were carefully designed to meet administrative restrictions relating to the Year 2000.

Effective date.—The provision is effective upon enactment.

SUBTITLE B—OTHER MEDICARE-RELATED PROVISIONS

SEC. 6201.—AUTHORIZATION OF ADDITIONAL EXCEPTIONS TO IMPOSITION OF PENALTIES FOR PROVIDING INDUCEMENTS TO BENEFICIARIES

Present law

The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA) had the effect of prohibiting medical facilities from offering patient financial assistance programs. HIPAA contained a number of provisions designed to toughen fraud and abuse enforcement. One provision—Section 231(h)(1)(C)(5) of HIPAA—prohibited medical facilities from offering patients any kind of inducement to receive services from any particular medical provider. This provision was designed to prevent kickbacks which the Inspector General reported was occurring in some circumstances.

Prior to the enactment of HIPAA, specialized medical facilities, such as dialysis centers, operated programs to help their patients afford medical treatment. Examples of these programs included paying patients' Medicare Part B premiums; giving patients free eye-glasses and other services designed to assist patients. The effect of the HIPAA fraud and abuse provision was to discourage medical facilities from offering programs to help patients lest these programs be seen as inducements for patients to receive services from the particular medical facility.

House bill

H.R. 4567, the “Medicare Home Health Care and Veterans Health Care Improvement Act,” as passed by the House of Representatives on October 12, 1998, contained provisions which would allow the Inspector General to develop criteria for making limited exceptions to the current fraud and abuse laws.

H.R. 4567’s provisions would amend HIPAA in several ways: First, the Inspector General of the Health and Human Services Department could create exceptions—known as “safe harbors” to the fraud and abuse rules so as to exclude specific payment practices from the HIPAA provisions. Second, H.R. 3511 would allow medical facilities to obtain advisory opinions from the Inspector General. These opinions would provide legal and regulatory guidance to medical facilities as to whether payment of coinsurance or other premiums violates HIPAA’s fraud and abuse provisions. Finally, H.R. 3511 would also give the Secretary of HHS interim final rule-making authority which would speed up the process whereby these safe harbors and advisory opinions become effective.

Effective date.—The provision is effective upon enactment.

Senate amendment

The Senate bill had no similar provision.

DIVISION J

Division J provides authority for the Inspector General to promulgate a rule authorizing exceptions to the fraud and abuse provisions. The provision places limits on the Inspector General’s safe harbor authority relating to providers or health care facilities providing Medicare supplemental coverage to end-stage renal disease beneficiaries. The duration of the safe harbor authority for this particular issue will be limited to a two year period which commences on the date that the rule is promulgated. The provision also stipulates that the Comptroller General shall conduct a study that compares any disproportionate impact on specific issuers of the purchase of Medicare supplemental policies for end stage renal disease patients. The provision also requires the Comptroller General to submit recommendations on whether the Inspector General’s authority to issue such exceptions should be extended.

SEC. 6202.—EXPANSION OF MEMBERSHIP OF MEDPAC TO 17

Present law

The Balanced Budget Act of 1997, Public Law 105–33, established the Medicare Payment Advisory Commission (MedPAC) as a result of merging two commissions, the Prospective Payment Advisory Commission and the Physician Payment Review Commission. MedPAC, like its predecessors, is a nonpartisan commission which advises Congress and makes recommendations regarding Medicare payment policies. MedPAC commissioners are appointed by the Comptroller General and serve terms of three years. The Balanced Budget Act authorizes the Commission to have fifteen commissioners.

Section 4022 of the Balanced Budget Act detailed the criteria for membership on the Commission: The membership of the Commission shall include individuals with national recognition for their expertise in health finance and economics, actuarial science, health facility management, health plans and integrated delivery systems, reimbursement of health facilities, allopathic and osteopathic medicine, and other related fields of health care delivery and services, who provide a mix of different professionals, broad and geographic representation, and a balance between urban and rural representatives.

House bill

H.R. 4567, the "Medicare Home Health Care and Veterans Health Care Improvement Act," as passed by the House of Representatives on October 12, 1998, contained provisions which would increase the number of commissioners appointed to MedPAC to seventeen. The addition of two commissioners would enable the commission to reflect more fully the diversity of backgrounds and interests in the health policy community.

Effective date.—The provision is effective on May 1, 1999.

Senate amendment

The Senate bill had no similar provision.

DIVISION J

Division J contains provisions which would increase the number of commissioners appointed to MedPAC to seventeen. The addition of two members would enable the Commission to reflect more fully the diversity of backgrounds and interests in the health policy community.

Effective date.—The provision is effective on May 1, 1999.

REVENUE OFFSETS FOR MEDICARE HOME HEALTH PROVISIONS

TAX TREATMENT OF PRIZES AND AWARDS

Present law

A taxpayer generally is required to include an item in income no later than the time of its actual or constructive receipt, unless the item properly is accounted for in a different period under the taxpayer's method of accounting. If a taxpayer has an unrestricted right to demand the payment of an amount, the taxpayer is in constructive receipt of that amount whether or not the taxpayer makes the demand and actually receives the payment. Under the principle of constructive receipt, the winner of a contest who is given the option of receiving either a lump-sum distribution or an annuity is required to include the value of the award in gross income, even if the annuity option is exercised.

House bill

No provision.

Senate amendment

No provision.

DIVISION J

The existence of a “qualified prize option” is disregarded in determining the taxable year for which any portion of a qualified prize is to be included in income. A qualified prize option is an option that entitles a person to receive a single cash payment in lieu of a qualified prize (or portion thereof), provided such option is exercisable not later than 60 days after the prize winner becomes entitled to the prize. Thus, a qualified prize winner who is provided the option to choose either cash or an annuity not later than 60 days after becoming entitled to the prize is not required to include amounts in gross income immediately if the annuity option is exercised merely by reason of having the option. This provision applies with respect to any qualified prize to which a person first becomes entitled after the date of enactment.

In addition, the provision also applies to any qualified prize to which a person became entitled on or before the date of enactment if the person has an option to receive a lump-sum cash payment only during some portion of the 18-month period beginning on July 1, 1999. This is intended to give previous prize winners a one-time option to alter previous payment arrangements.

Qualified prizes are prizes or awards from contests, lotteries, jackpots, games or similar arrangements that provide a series of payments over a period of at least 10 years, provided that the prize or award does not relate to any past services performed by the recipient and does not require the recipient to perform any substantial¹ future service. The provision applies to individuals on the cash receipts and disbursements method of accounting. Income and deductions resulting from this provision retain their character as ordinary, not capital. In addition, the Secretary is to provide for the application of this provision in the case of a partnership or other pass-through entity consisting entirely of individuals on the cash receipts and disbursements method of accounting.

Any offer of a qualified prize option must include disclosure of the methodology used to compute the single cash payment, including the discount rate that makes equivalent the present values of the prize to which the prize winner is entitled (or relevant portion thereof) and the single cash payment offered. Any offer of a qualified prize option must also clearly indicate that the prize winner is under no obligation to accept any offer of a single cash payment and may continue to receive the payments to which he or she is entitled under the terms of the qualified prize.

Effective date.—The provision applies with respect to any qualified prize to which a person first becomes entitled after the date of enactment. In addition, the provision also applies to any qualified prize to which a person became entitled on or before the date of enactment if the person has an option to receive a lump-sum payment only during some portion of the 18-month period beginning on July 1, 1999.

¹ Appearing in advertising relating to the prize or award is not (in and of itself) substantial.
