NEW MEXICO STATEHOOD AND ENABLING ACT AMENDMENTS OF 1997

MAY 15, 1997.—Ordered to be printed

Mr. MURKOWSKI, from the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources, submitted the following

REPORT

[To accompany S. 430]

The Committee on Energy and Natural Resources, to which was referred the bill (S. 430) to amend the Act of June 20, 1910, to protect the permanent trust funds of the State of New Mexico from erosion due to inflation and modify the basis on which distributions are made from those funds, having considered the same, reports favorably thereon without amendment and recommends that the bill do pass.

PURPOSE OF THE MEASURE

The purpose of S. 430 is to provide the consent of the United States to certain amendments made by the State of New Mexico to its Constitution relating to investments in and expenditures from the permanent fund of the State for schools and to make the necessary amendments to the Enabling Act for the Admission of the State of New Mexico (Act of June 20, 1910, 36 Stat. 557) to accommodate the changes to the New Mexico Constitution.

BACKGROUND AND NEED

The Federal Government has generally provided a series of benefits to new States as part of the admissions process. In the case of 30 States, those benefits included the grant of lands. New Mexico received slightly over 3 million acres for a variety of purposes, including, among other purposes, retirement of the Territorial debt and maintenance of hospitals and schools. In addition, New Mexico received 5 percent of the proceeds of the sale of public lands for the support of public schools.

Section 2 of the Enabling Act required New Mexico to agree to all the limitations that accompanied the various grants and prohibited any Constitutional amendment without the consent of Congress. Among the limitations are restrictions on investments and requirements to disburse the income from the permanent funds. In 1957 the Enabling Act was amended to delete a requirement that a separate fund be established for each purpose for which grants were made and that all moneys must be invested in "safe interest-bearing securities". That change enabled New Mexico to invest in corporate stocks, but did not specify how distribution would be handled from returns. Since dividends on stocks are generally lower than interest on bonds, maintenance of annual payments limited investment in stocks. The effect was to diminish the real value of the corpus of the permanent fund.

In 1995 a Permanent Funds Study Committee released a report on the portfolio of the permanent fund and recommended a series of amendments to the State Constitution to provide for greater flexibility and broader diversification of the investments in order to preserve the corpus of the fund against inflation and maintain the income stream for the beneficiaries. The new method would still be more conservative than that used by many educational institutions. At the present time, New Mexico has 58 percent of its investment in domestic bonds while the average for all public endowments is 28 percent and for those with more than $400 million, only 18 percent. The new distribution method was approved by 68 percent of the voters in the 1996 general election as a Constitutional amendment and the 1997 State legislature has revised pertinent investment statutes. In order for those actions to take effect, however, Congress must amend the Enabling Act and consent to the amendments.

LEGISLATIVE HISTORY

S. 430 was introduced on March 12, 1997 by Senators Domenici and Bingaman and referred to the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources. A companion measure, H.R. 1051, was introduced the same day in the House of Representatives and referred to the Resources Committee. A hearing was held by the Committee on S. 430 on May 5, 1997. At the business meeting on May 14, 1997, the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources ordered S. 430 favorably reported, without amendment, by a unanimous voice vote of a quorum present.

COMMITTEE RECOMMENDATIONS AND TABULATION OF VOTES

The Committee on Energy and Natural Resources, in open business session on May 14, 1997, by a unanimous voice vote of a quorum present, recommends that the Senate pass S. 430 without amendment.

SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS

The provisions of the legislation are self-explanatory. Subsection (a) provides a short title. Subsection (b) amends sections 7, 9, and 10 of the Enabling Act to conform with the Constitutional amendments adopted by the voters in New Mexico. Subsection (c) provides an express consent of Congress to the amendments made by the State of New Mexico to its Constitution

COST AND BUDGETARY CONSIDERATIONS

An estimate of the cost of this measure has been requested from the Congressional Budget Office, but has not been received as of the date of filing of this report. When the estimate is received, the Chairman will have it printed in the Congressional Record for the advice of the Senate. No authorizations are contained in this measure, therefore the Committee does not believe that there are any costs to the Federal Government associated with enactment of this legislation. Similarly, this legislation approves amendments to the New Mexico Constitution and makes necessary changes to Federal law to permit those amendments to go into effect. Therefore the Committee does not believe that there are any unfunded mandates contained in this measure.

REGULATORY IMPACT EVALUATION

In compliance with paragraph 11(b) of rule XXVI of the Standing Rules of the Senate, the Committee makes the following evaluation of the regulatory impact which would be incurred in carrying out S. 430. The bill is not a regulatory measure in the sense of imposing Government-established standards or significant economic responsibilities on private individuals and businesses.

No personal information would be collected in administering the program. Therefore, there would be no impact on personal privacy.

Little, if any, additional paperwork would result from the enactment of S. 430, as ordered reported.

EXECUTIVE COMMUNICATIONS

The pertinent legislative report received by the Committee from the Department of the Interior setting forth Executive agency recommendations relating to S. 430 is set forth below:

Sincerely,
