(e) DREDGED MATERIAL DISPOSAL SITES.—The Secretary shall utilize dredged material disposal areas in such a manner as to maximize their reuse by disposal and removal of dredged materials, in order to conserve undisturbed disposal areas for wildlife habitat to the maximum extent practicable. Where the habitat value loss due to reuse of disposal areas cannot be offset by the reduced need for other unused disposal sites, the Secretary shall determine, in consultation with Federal and State fish and wildlife agencies, and ensure full mitigation for any habitat value lost as a result of such reuse.

(f) OTHER MITIGATION LANDS.—The Secretary is also authorized to transfer by lease, easement, license, or permit lands acquired for the Wildlife Mitigation Project pursuant to section 601(a) of Public Law 99-662, in consultation with Federal and State fish and wildlife agencies, when such transfers are necessary to address transportation, utility, and related activities. (3)(A) as of the date of enactment of this Act, eastern Montana has only 1 warm water fish hatchery, which is inadequate to meet the demands of the region; and

(B) a disease or infrastructure failure at that hatchery could imperil fish populations throughout the region;

(4) although the multipurpose project at Fort Peck, Montana, authorized by the first section of the Act of August 30, 1935 (49 Stat. 1034, chapter 831), was intended to include irrigation projects and other activities designed to promote economic growth, many of those projects were never completed, to the detriment of the local communities flooded by the Fort Peck Dam;

(5) the process of developing an environmental impact statement for the update of the Corps of Engineers Master Manual for the operation of the Missouri River recognized the need for greater support of recreation activities and other authorized purposes of the Fort Peck project;

(6)(A) although fish stocking is included among the authorized purposes of the Fort Peck project, the State of Montana has funded the stocking of Fort Peck Lake since 1947; and

(B) the obligation to fund the stocking constitutes an undue burden on the State; and

(7) a viable multispecies fishery would spur economic development in the region.

JOINT EXPLANATORY STATEMENT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

The Managers on the part of the House and Senate at the conference on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses on the amendment of the House to the bill (S. 2796), to provide for the conservation and development of water and related resources, to authorize the Secretary of the Army to construct various projects for improvements to rivers and harbors of the United States, and for other purposes, submit the following joint statement to the House and Senate in explanation of the effect of the action agreed upon by the managers and recommended in the accompanying conference report:

The House amendment struck all of the Senate bill after the enacting clause and inserted a substitute text.

The Senate recedes from its disagreement to the amendment of the House with an amendment that is a substitute for the Senate bill and the House amendment. The differences among the Senate bill, the House amendment, and the substitute agreed to in conference are noted below, except for clerical corrections, conforming changes made necessary by agreements reached by the Managers, and minor drafting and clerical changes.

TITLE I—WATER RESOURCES PROJECTS

101(a)(1) Barnegat Inlet to Little Egg Inlet, New Jersey. House §101(a)(1), Senate §101(a)(1).—House recedes.

101(a)(2) Port of New York and New Jersey, New York and New Jersey. House §101(a)(2), Senate §101(a)(2).—House recedes, with an amendment.

This provision allows the Secretary to provide credit for cash or in-kind services and materials provided by the local sponsor of the navigation project, as well as betterments or other work done prior to the execution of the project cooperation agreement, to expedite the project and reduce overall project costs. Nothing in this section limits the availability of credit provided by the Secretary to the local sponsor of the project under section 204 of the Water Resources Development Act of 1986. Such credit would be applied to the non-Federal share of the project cost.

101(b) Projects subject to report

The conference report includes project authorizations for which the Chief of Engineers has not yet completed a final report, but for which such reports are anticipated by December 31, 2000. House §211. No comparable Senate section.—Senate recedes.

The Managers recognize that there exist a potential for a conflict of interest where the Secretary and the non-Federal sponsor of a project each hire the same person for engineering and consulting services during a feasibility study. Therefore the Managers encourage the Secretary to take appropriate action to ensure that the Secretary and the non-Federal sponsor of a project do not employ the same person for engineering and consulting services unless there is only one qualified and responsive bidder for such services.

House §214. No comparable Senate section.—Senate recedes, with an amendment.

The Managers have included this section that will test the design-build method of project delivery on various civil works projects of the Corps of Engineers. In carrying out this section, the Managers expect that the Corps will employ the two-phase design-build selection procedures enacted by Congress in the Federal Acquisition Reform Act (FARA) of 1996 (110 Stat. 642).

House §223. No comparable Senate section.—Senate recedes.

The Managers recognize the difficulties some non-Federal partners may have in fulfilling their financial obligation related to the cost sharing of feasibility studies. The non-Federal share is 50 percent. This section gives non-Federal sponsors the option of providing up to 100 percent of their share of the feasibility study cost through in-kind contributions which could be services, materials, supplies, or other in-kind contributions necessary to prepare the feasibility report.

SEC. 226. ADMINISTRATIVE COSTS OF LAND CONVEYANCES

House §224. No comparable Senate section.—Senate recedes, with an amendment.

When the Corps is given authority to convey land to non-federal governmental, non-profit, or not-for-profit entities, the administrative costs of the transfer, to include real estate transaction and environmental compliance costs, are generally the responsibility of the entity receiving the property. The Managers are aware of a few instances where the imposition of these administrative costs poses a hardship to entities in economically deprived areas. It is apparent in some cases that the administrative cost associated with these transfers exceeds the value of the land. The Managers believe that this requirement to pay administrative costs should not be a precluding factor when land that is excess to Corps project purposes can be put to beneficial use. Therefore, the Managers have provided in this section that in such cases, the Secretary may limit the administrative costs.

In carrying out this section the Managers believe the Secretary should give priority consideration for a limitation on the administrative costs to Summerfield Cemetery Association, Wister, Oklahoma for a conveyance at Wister Lake, to the Choctaw County Industrial Authority, Hugo, Oklahoma for a conveyance at Lake Hugo, and to recipients of the conveyance at Candy Lake, Oklahoma.

Also, the Managers find that the economic trends in southeastern Oklahoma related to unemployment and per capita income are not conducive to local economic development, and efforts to improve the management of water in the region would have a positive influence on the local economy, help reverse these trends, and improve the lives of local residents. The Managers believe that State of Oklahoma and the Choctaw Nation, Oklahoma, should establish a State-tribal commission composed equally of representatives of such Nations and residents of the water basins within the boundaries of such Nations for the purpose of administering and distributing from the sale of water any benefits and net revenues to the tribes and local entities within the respective basins; any sale of water to entities outside the basins should be consistent with the procedures and requirements established by the commission; and if requested, the Secretary should provide assistance, as appropriate, to facilitate the efforts of the commission. Such a commission focusing on the Kiamichi River Basin and other basins within the Choctaw and Chickasaw Nations would allow all entities (State of Oklahoma, Choctaw and Chickasaw Nations, and residents of local basin(s)) to work cooperatively to see that the benefits and revenues being generated from the sale/use of water to entities outside the respective basins are distributed in an agreeable manner.

 Navigation on the upper portions of the Bayou Teche has dwindled over the past several years to a few vessels per month due to the infrequent operation of the Keystone Lock by the Corps of Engineers. St. Martin Parish wishes to operate, maintain, repair, replace and rehabilitate the lock once the Corps completes renovation of the lock to a safe and operable condition. This transfer will provide cost savings to the federal government and better service to mariners navigating the bayou. The Managers have inserted language that requires the parish to operate, maintain, repair, replace and rehabilitate the lock in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary that are consistent with the project's authorized purposes. If the parish fails to comply with these conditions, the Secretary may reclaim possession of the land and improvements or may make the necessary repairs and require payment from the parish.

The study of this project was authorized by section 439 of the Water Resources Development Act of 1996 (110 Stat. 3747). Subsequent to the authorization, the Corps of Engineers and the City of Portland, Oregon, agreed to carry out the project under the authority of "project modification to improve the environment", a continuing authority program authorized by section 1135(a) of the Water Resources Development Act of 1986 (33 U.S.C. 2309a(a)). Pursuant to a project cooperation agreement, the City of Portland has provided substantial resources in cash and in-kind services toward a feasibility study for the project as required under section 1135(a). When the study was near completion, and preliminary results indicated that the project is appropriate for construction, the Corps suspended the study due to an internal decision to reallocate funds to other projects. The Corps should complete the study and carry out the project expeditiously if the Secretary determines that the project is appropriate.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF INTENTION TO OFFER MOTION TO INSTRUCT CONFEREES ON H.R. 4577, DEPARTMENT OF LABOR, HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES AND EDUCATION AND RELATED AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 2001

Mr. HOLT. Mr. Speaker, pursuant to clause 7(c) of House rule XXII, I hereby notify the House of my intention tomorrow to offer the following motion to instruct House conferees on H.R. 4577, a bill making appropriations for fiscal year 2001 for the Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services and Education.

Mr. Speaker, I move that the managers on the part of the House at the conference on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses of the bill, H.R. 4577, be instructed to insist on disagreeing with provisions in the Senate amendment which denies the President's request for dedicated resources for local school construction and, instead, broadly expands the title VI Education Block Grant with limited accountability in the use of the funds.

Mr. WU. Mr. Speaker, pursuant to clause 7(c) of House rule XXII, I hereby serve notice to the House of my intention tomorrow to offer the following motion to instruct House conferees on H.R. 4577, a bill making appropriations for fiscal year 2001, for the Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education.

The form of the motion is as follows:

Mr. WU moves that the managers on the part of the House at the conference on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses on the bill, H.R. 4577, be instructed to insist on disagreeing with provisions in the Senate amendment which denies the President's request for dedicated resources to reduce class size in the early grades and instead, broadly expands the Title VI Education Block Grant with limited accountability in the use of funds.

Mr. Speaker, this is the same motion which I noticed on Sunday evening for debate on Monday and it is made necessary by the fact that we had an agreement on Monday morning funding this at the full $1.75 billion amount, and that agreement was broken by noon. I must renounce this motion at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. PEASE). The gentleman's notice will appear in the RECORD.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

Mr. HOEKSTRA moves that the managers on the part of the House at the conference on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses on the Senate amendment to the bill H.R. 4577 be instructed to choose a level of funding for the Inspector General of the Department of Education that reflects a requirement on the Inspector General of the Department of Education, as authorized by section 211 of the Department of Education Organization Act, to use all funds appropriated to the Office of Inspector General of such Department to comply with the Inspector General Act of 1978, with priority given to section 4 of such Act.

FURTHER CONTINUING APPRO- PRIATIONS FOR FISCAL YEAR 2001

Mr. YOUNG of Florida. Mr. Speaker, pursuant to the provisions of House Resolution 662, I call up the joint resolution (H.J. Res. 121), making further continuing appropriations for the fiscal year 2001, and for other purposes, and ask for its immediate consideration in the House.

The Clerk read the title of the joint resolution.

The text of House Joint Resolution 121 is as follows:

H.J. RES. 121

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That Public Law 106-275, is further amended by striking the date specified in section 106(c) and inserting "November 1, 2000".

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Joint Resolution 662, the gentleman from Florida (Mr. YOUNG) and the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr.
OBEY) each will control 30 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Florida (Mr. YOUNG).

Mr. YOUNG of Florida. Mr. Speaker,
I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I advise our colleagues in the House that this is another 1-day continuing resolution to make sure that the government continues to operate until midnight tomorrow night, while we continue to work away in a friendly, cooperative, bipartisan way to resolve the final outstanding issues before this Congress can adjourn.

With that, Mr. Speaker, I announce to the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr.
OBEY), my friend, that I do not intend to have a lengthy debate on our side.
And so I am going to reserve the balance of my time, probably until I get to my closing statement, depending on what issues might come up in the meantime.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. OBEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself 7½ minutes.

Mr. Speaker, I am wearing this wrist band in solidarity with the over 300,000 workers who will suffer repetitive motion injuries, some of them career-ending, because of the gutlessness of this Congress in refusing, for over a 10-year period, to put some protection for those folks into the law.

Mr. Speaker, I have gone into plant after plant in my district and I have seen especially women at computer terminals, at shoe-stitching machines, wearing things like this or even worse.

Look at this picture and tell me what is different. What separates us as Members of Congress from this woman?
What separates us is that when we have a repetitive motion injury, like I had for several weeks last year when I was wearing one of these, we can stop doing what we were doing until we recover.
People like this woman cannot. They have to keep going until they cannot go any more.

That is the difference. The only repetitive motion injury that most Members of Congress are likely to get is to their knees from the repetitive genuflecting to the big business lobbyists who persuaded the Republican leadership to blow up the agreement on the Labor, Health, and Education bill by denying some protection to people like this.

That is a fact. That is a fact.

Mr. Speaker, I want to recite to my colleagues the history of the repetitive motion struggle that we have had. On June 29 of 1995, the House for the first time took action to prohibit OSHA from putting in place a repetitive motion injury rule that would protect workers like this. That was delay number one.

On July 27, 1995, the House Committee on Appropriations again reported language to do the same thing.

When it was finally adopted, it again said that none of the funds in the bill would be used to enforce or implement an OSHA rule protecting workers like this from repetitive motion injury.
That was delay number two.

Then, on July of 1996, the Subcommittee on Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education again tried to delay action for another year.
That time the House had guts enough to stand up and say no and they were defeated on the House floor. But they came back; and on July 25 of 1997, they again adopted new language which for another year delayed the implementation of the rule to protect workers like this. And they won. And so, we had delay number three that delayed yet another year.

The only difference was that that time the House said it would be the last time. This is a copy of the front page of the committee report dated July 25, 1997, which outlines the fact that yet another year's delay was being undertaken to prevent these repetitive motion injuries. But it said "the committee will refrain from any further restrictions with regard to the development, promulgation, or issuance of an ergonomics standard following fiscal year 1998."

And you know what? For a year the Congress abided by that. It is true that the Congress did provide additional funding to do yet an additional study by the National Academy of Sciences of the issue. But at the same time that was done, the chairman of the committee, Bob Livingston, our former colleague, in good faith signed a letter with me which indicated that even though that money was being provided that nonetheless "we understand that OSHA intends to issue a proposed rule on ergonomics late in the summer of 1999. We are writing to make clear by funding of the NAS study it is in no way our intent to block or delay issuance by OSHA of a proposed rule on ergonomics."

And yet this year, here is the rollcall if you want to look at it, some of the same people who were here when the Congress made the agreement not to delay this any further voted once again to genuflect to the interests of big business and forget the interests of workers and they signed on to another year delay.

Now, in conference, finally, against my wishes, the White House 2 days ago agreed to yet another 6-month delay in the implementation of the standards to protect these workers. But what we got in return for that additional 6-month delay in implementation was the right of this President to at least promulgate the rule.

Now, in my view, there is only one reason why the majority leadership blew up that agreement. Because that agreement was understood, we had an agreement to the entire bill! It was even sealed with toasts of Merlot at 1:30 in the morning. And I do not know of anything more "sacred" in conference than a toast of Merlot. But nonetheless, after there was an agreement, then we walk out of there and the next morning what do we get? We get "Operation Blow Up" by the Republican leadership because apparently the Chamber of Commerce lobbyists got to them and said, "Boys, we do not want it." So they blew it up. They blew it up.

In my view, there is only one reason they did it. It is because if their candidate for President wins the election, they did not want their candidate for President to have to take the public heat that would come from reversing that rule.

The language in the compromise gives the new President, whoever he is, the right to suspend and then reverse that rule through the Administrative Procedures Act. I do not like that. But that was the deal. But they do not even want to do that on that side of the aisle. If their candidate gets elected, they are afraid to have their candidate for President have to take the public heat from repealing this rule to help these people.

They want him to be able to do it on the sly. That is what is at stake.

So my suggestion to our friends on the majority side of the aisle, and I am not speaking about the gentleman from Florida (Mr. YOUNG), he negotiated in good faith. My suggestion to the House leadership is, if you have the courage of your convictions, then let us do this straight and clean. Stick to the agreement that was negotiated. Each side will have to take a chance and see who is elected President, and the public will know in either case what side we are on. That is the only question that is before us tonight. Whose side are you on?

Mr. Speaker, I yield 4 minutes to the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. BONIOR), the distinguished minority whip.

Mr. BONIOR. Mr. Speaker, the front page of the Washington Post has a headline today. It says: "Budget Deal is Torpedoed by House GOP. Move by Leadership Angers Negotiators on Both Sides."

On the front page of the Los Angeles Times, quote, "GOP Leaders Scuttle Deal in Budget Battle."

Now, these and other stories tell how a team of Republican legislators was empowered by the Republican leadership to negotiate a budget agreement with congressional Democrats and the White House. And that is exactly what they did. Neither side got everything that they wanted, but the American people were well served with this agreement. The compromise would have provided one of the largest educational increases in the history of this government. And perhaps that was one of the reasons why it did not pass muster once it reached the leaders. It would have modernized and repaired 5,000 schools. It would have provided 12,000 new teachers to reduce class size. It would have created after-school programs for 850,000 new students in this country. And as we heard from the gentleman from Wisconsin, when the negotiators wrapped up their discussions at 1:30 in the morning, they toasted, they shook hands, and then not 12 hours later, the leadership on the Republican side of the aisle decided to totally re-pu diate the agreement that their team negotiated.

One of their reasons besides the education issue, as we heard, was the question of repetitive stress motion, which takes a terrible toll on our workers. We have been battling this issue for 14 years. Libby Dole when she was the head of the Labor Department, a Republican, put these regulations forward because she saw the need to deal with the question of repetitive illnesses that we can cure with some reasonable, sensible, rational regulations that will help people be able to hold their child when they get home from work, or open a jar of peanut butter at lunchtime, which they cannot do now as a result of these terrible musculoskeletal diseases.

Now where are we? Well, this Republican Congress, from George Bush all the way on down, have talked a very good game about bipartisanship and bringing people together. But this week the Republican leadership gave the American people a sneak preview of their bipartisanship and how it is really going to work and their passionate conservatism. It is something those of us who have worked in this Congress have seen over and over again.

Opportunities for bipartisan cooperation on prescription drug coverage, on campaign finance reform, on curbing the powers of the HMOs, and overcrowding in schools, all vetoed by the Republican leadership, either in this body or in the other body. They play this game where one body passes it, but the leaders in the other body make sure that it does not reach the President's desk. Torpedoed by men who are more committed to their partisan Republican agenda than the American agenda, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, a Member of this House once said, "You earn trust by saying what you mean and meaning what you say." That Congressman who said that was the past Republican leader, a man named Gerald Ford. Today's House Republican leaders would do well to heed his words.

Mr. OBEY. Mr. Speaker, could I inquire of the gentleman from Florida, does he intend to yield time?

Mr. YOUNG of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I have no intention of yielding at this point. If I do, before the time is expired, I would advise the gentleman in advance.

Mr. OBEY. I want to take 30 seconds, Mr. Speaker, to simply say that the gentleman from Florida was absolutely honorable in these negotiations. We disagreed vehemently on a number of these issues. But I know him to be a man of his word. I am uncomfortable that we have to say what we have to say in his presence, because if anyone blew up the deal, it was certainly not his fault.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 3½ minutes to the distinguished gentlewoman from California (Ms. PELOSI).

Ms. PELOSI. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding me this time and for his leadership on this important issue.

Mr. Speaker, at the turn of the century, the last century, 100 years ago, Ida Tarbell and Upton Sinclair shocked this Nation with their accounts of dangers in the workplace to American workers. The exploitation of American workers challenged the conscience of our country.

Here we are 100 years later, and we have scientific evidence of that same kind of exploitation, that same kind of danger to American workers. Yet the Republican majority is opposing any opportunity to correct that. If you use a computer, if you drive a truck for a living, if you are in the health care industry and lift patients, if you are in the food processing industry, if you have to chop off the leg of a chicken for 8 hours a day with very little interruption and rest, there are so many occupations that are affected by this. In fact, Mr. Speaker, women who are prevalent in occupations that are mostly for women have a disproportionate share of these musculoskeletal injuries.

Every year 600,000 workers in America lose time from work because of repetitive motion, back, and other disabling injuries. These injuries are often extremely painful and disabling. Sometimes they are permanent. The gentleman from Michigan pointed out the cost to our economy of this, the cost to the personal quality of life for workers because of this. By the way, not all businesses are so unenlightened. Those who have instituted voluntary guidelines have a payback on their bottom line of greater productivity from their workers, much higher morale from their workers, and lower cost for health care for these workers.

This is not just about everybody in business, painting them all with the same brush; but it is about some that the Republican majority cannot say "no" to. In order not to say "no" to their special interest friends, they will not say "yes" to the Democrats who have bipartisan support for the prescription drug benefit, we have bipartisan support for the Patients' Bill of Rights, we have bipartisan support for the minimum wage bill, and now they have blown up the Labor-HHS bill, which has so much in it for education for America's children.

We do a lot of talking around here about family values. But what is more of a family value? The economic security of America's families has an impact on children and their education and the pension security and the health security of their seniors.

Mr. Speaker, I want to point out that the support for these repetitive motion injuries guidelines has bipartisan support. It has been referenced that Secretary Elizabeth Dole, Secretary of Labor Elizabeth Dole has stated, and these are her words, quote, "By reducing repetitive motion injuries, we will increase both the safety and productivity of America's workforce." She said, "I have no higher priority than accomplishing just that."

Secretary of Labor Lynn Martin said, "OSHA agrees that ergonomic hazards are well recognized occupational hazards and OSHA's review of the available data has persuaded the agency." She also supported that. Chairman Livingston did, too. There is bipartisan support.

I say to our colleagues, take "yes" for an answer.

Mr. OBEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from California (Mr. GEORGE MILLER).

(Mr. GEORGE MILLER of California asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. GEORGE MILLER of California. Mr. Speaker, there has been a great plea for bipartisan behavior on behalf of the Republicans and Democrats. Yet as we see the Congress respond where we have a bipartisan agreement on a Patients' Bill of Rights, to control the HMOs, to guarantee people the health care they need, on the minimum wage to make sure the hundreds and hundreds of thousands of Americans who are working at that wage will have the ability to provide for their family, on campaign finance reform, on common sense gun safety provisions, and now on workplace safety, each and every time we achieve that bipartisan agreement, we have the Republican leadership coming in and blowing up those agreements. They come in the back door, they come in the middle of the night, they come after everybody has left and they blow up these agreements. They find some way to kill it even though a bipartisan majority in the House and Senate support these measures. They blow them up.

They are our legislative terrorists. They do not play by the rules. They do not accept the will of the majority. They do not accept bipartisan agreements. They do not accept written agreements that have been entered into the record. They do not accept any of that. Because they are terrorists. They are legislative terrorists. They have made a decision. It will be their way or no way. They could have chosen to side with the American public and protect the workers, the 1,500 workers a day that are disabled because of injuries, because of repetitive motion, workers who will not be able to pick up their children at the end of the day, workers who will lose their earning capacity to provide for their families, whether or not Halloween is as nice as it could have been or whether Christmas will be as nice or whether or not they will be able to buy school supplies for their children because their hours have been diminished because of that kind of injury.

And each and every time we have reached an agreement to protect these workers in the workplace, they come in in the middle of the night and blow those agreements up. They disenfranchise Members of the House, they dis-enfranchise their own committee chairmen, they disenfranchise their committee members, because they apparently have the right, the supreme right to overrule any decision, any agreement that is democratically arrived at in the House or in the Senate.

The time has come for the American people to understand that these Republican leaders could have chosen to stand with Americans against the HMOs so they could get health care, to stand with low wage earners so they could provide for their families, to stand with those workers who are threatened by this illness every day. Every day 1,500 workers. They could have stood with the public interest in campaign finance reform. But when they had a chance to choose, each and every time the Republican leadership has chosen the narrowest of special interests, the narrowest of special interests against that of the public interest of American workers, American families, and American children.

This is a sad day for this Congress. It is a sad day for the legislative process. But I guess it is a healthy day for Republican legislative terrorists.

Mr. YOUNG of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I advised the gentleman that I would tell him if I had another speaker, and I would like to yield to another speaker now if the gentleman does not want to yield time now. I do so because the accusation of legislative terrorists cannot go unanswered. That is so far out of the realm of what is right, it is just not even something we should consider. But it was said. We did not demand that the words be taken down because we are trying to keep some comity here. We are trying to keep this on a basis that we are doing the people's business and not out here accusing and calling names. But legislative terrorists? That goes pretty far. I do not think that we can allow it to go unanswered.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Florida (Mr. FOLEY).

Mr. FOLEY. Mr. Speaker, I do take exception to the statement of legislative terrorism. Obviously, we have recently experienced terrorism very real and very hurtful to citizens of our country on the U.S.S. Cole, and to link deliberation on very important issues before the American public to a terrorist-type activity, I think, is regrettable and it is shameful.

There are differences of opinion that are arising today in this Chamber about the direction of this country, and as one who has voted on so many issues that the minority has supported I would like to stand up and say I am always looking for common ground. When it was hate crimes, I signed on to the bill. When it was patients' bill of rights, I signed on and actively supported it, one of 27 Republicans. When it was campaign finance reform Shays-Meehan, I was there 100 percent, voting for no amendments but the Shays-Meehan legislation.

Now we come to a point where we do have some disagreements. We have heard a lot of discussion about immigration, blanket amnesties. My grandmother came from Poland so I deeply, deeply respect the fact that this country gave our family a chance to escape from Communism and tyranny, but she came to Ellis Island and she was processed. She learned to speak English. She became a registered voter, worked at a Travelodge motel all of her life to raise her daughters. Her husband had died. This country has been awfully good to our family, Irish-Polish immigrants, but I do have to question when we talk blanket amnesty because it does cause some consternation for the thousands of immigrants that are trying to be processed through INS in my office in Florida. The phone is ringing off the hook saying, does that include me? Am I allowed to come in as well? What are the rules for me to be allowed into this country since they have waited 2, 3, and 5 years being fingerprinted, being run around in circles trying to figure out how to be legal citizens of this country.

Then the topic of ergonomics, yes, there is a difference of opinion; but I still do not understand how the President left town to go campaign for his wife in New York when we have so many pressing issues here before the American public. He vetoed a bill last night for no apparent reason.

Now I am not an appropriator. I am on the Committee on Ways and Means. I understood, at least from the Speaker's letter today, that there was a certain agreement on that bill, but to throw a monkey wrench or a wrench into the works, the President chose to veto and skidaddle out of town so he can try to lift the sails for his wife who is campaigning for a seat in a State she does not reside in.

Nonetheless, we are here today to hopefully get the people's work done. I voted for minimum wage, and it is in the bill. I voted for Medicare increases, and it is in the bill. Now, I did not bring in HMOs. I do not like them. HMOs, to me, stands for "healthy members only," but yet our citizens in every district in America cry for satisfaction and want their managed care plans because they have prescription drugs and eyeglasses. That is in the bill.

Marriage penalty has been vetoed. So many other things have been vetoed I cannot even keep score any longer. But I would suggest, Mr. Speaker, that the harsh rhetoric needs to stop. Members do, in fact, want to be home with their families tonight and certainly through the weekend and on to November 7; but control of the House is not that important on either side of the aisle to make words like legislative terrorism part of the demeanor and discourse tonight. So I hope in the waning hours tonight that those who are negotiating, and I commend again our chairman, the gentleman from Florida (Mr. YOUNG), whose wife, Beverly, and their two sons have gone without their daddy for many, many a week trying to bring some comity to this process, he has negotiated in, I think, very genuine good faith; and so we remain at gridlock over two or three remaining issues.

I think it is sad. I think it is sad that grown men and women who have been sent from their districts around America cannot sit around the table and craft something that would make sense to everyone and not tie it up over one or two issues.

There will be an election November 7. There will be a new President. There will be a new Congress, be it Republican or Democratic, and some of these issues will get resolved then; but to sit here and think you are winning some strategy by creating these types of arguments I think is a sad day, and I again urge every person listening to our voices to come together in a spirit that I think is in this Chamber, a spirit of patriotism that we can lead, that we can move, that we can resolve and that we can establish the principle of good government here tonight for future generations.

Mr. OBEY. Mr. Speaker, may I inquire, does the gentleman from Florida (Mr. YOUNG) intend to yield to any further speakers?

Mr. YOUNG of Florida. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman would yield, I would advise the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. OBEY) that if there are any more suggestions of legislative terrorists or anything of that nature, I very likely will; but as far as the issues, we have debated them at least 69 times in the last month; and I do not intend to get back into that debate again. If there are some other outbursts like we heard here on legislative terrorists, which is just not acceptable, we would definitely respond to that.

Mr. OBEY. Mr. Speaker, I do not know what the gentleman will define as outbursts. I would suggest since he has much more time remaining than I do, if he intends to yield to any other speakers that he do so.

Mr. YOUNG of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. OBEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from Connecticut (Ms. DELAURO).

Ms. DELAURO. Mr. Speaker, the sad fact is that the Republican leadership of this Congress refuses to protect American workers. They do not identify with America's workers, with their economic well-being, or with their health concerns. They have been opposed to raising the minimum wage, and they are opposed to sensible work safety standards. Twenty-four hours ago, we had a deal. This was the White House, Democrats, Republicans. They came to an agreement on the issue of worker safety standards and a variety of other issues, but then the Republican leadership ran the agreement by the United States Chamber of Commerce, who I might add, let me say what they are doing today, the Chamber of Commerce. They have shifted millions of dollars of funds to the pharmaceutical industries to keep us from bringing the cost of prescription drugs down with a television ad campaign. Do not take my word for it. You are seeing it every day on TV. They do not want to bring the costs of prescription drugs down. This is what the U.S. Chamber is doing. They ran the bill by these folks, and they are funding their campaigns so all bets were off. So we are back at square one. That is what is at issue here.

Repetitive motion hazards are the biggest safety and health problem in the workforce today. They account for nearly a third of all serious job-related injuries. More than 600,000 workers suffered serious workplace injuries. Women workers are particularly affected. Women make up 46 percent of the overall workforce. Women accounted for 63 percent of all repetitive motion injuries. Seventy percent have reported carpal tunnel cases in 1997. These injuries are expensive. They cost our economy $15 billion to $20 billion a year in medical costs. We do not need any more studies. We do not need to delay.

People deserve the same kind of protections as machinery. Good business practice shows us this makes no sense to overwork, overstress equipment, causing it to break down. We need to treat our workers the same way. But the issue is, the Republican leadership has hijacked patients' bill of rights, campaign finance reform, gun safety, minimum wage, now worker protections, because they do not support workers or want to protect them.

Mr. OBEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. MENENDEZ).

Mr. MENENDEZ. Mr. Speaker, my colleague, the gentleman from Florida (Mr. FOLEY), talked about immigrants; but the bill the Republicans blew up had nothing to do with immigrants. And I would hope that we would stop using immigrants on this floor as a scapegoat for Republican inability to get their business done.

You spoke about the President. John Podesta, his chief of staff is here, Jack Lew, the people who negotiate directly are here; and they have the authority to make a deal. And they are ready to do it and they made a deal and you broke it.

Now, after 3 days of no negotiations with Democrats on education, Republicans and Democrats met Sunday night and they worked out a landmark education bill that included full funding towards 100,000 new teachers, teacher training, after-school programs, a $1.3 billion school construction and school modernization program and, yes, safety for workers on the job.

It was a package Democrats could be proud of because it addressed the most pressing needs of local communities; and it promised to help our public schools lift them up, help our parents and our children. And less than 12 hours later, as we heard, you blew up the bipartisan agreement out of the water. Apparently you rejected the worker safety provisions because business lobbyists told you they would not have it that way, and maybe you did not like the increased education funding that we had finally agreed on together when it went to your leadership.

Bipartisanship requires keeping your word, and it starts with a majority that controls the agenda of this House, and I would remind Governor Bush that if he wants to have some bipartisanship call the majority, pick up the phone, we can get this business done, and tell your party's leaders, here in the House and in the other body, to start getting to work on behalf of the American people. You have produced the most dysfunctional Congress in memory.

The New York Times just reported that this is the latest the Congress has ever met since post World War II for the latest adjournment date, and on Halloween. This is the ultimate trick on the American people and it is the ultimate treat to big business.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. PEASE). Members are reminded that remarks in the Chamber are to be addressed to the Chair and not to persons outside the Chamber.

Mr. OBEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. PALLONE).

Mr. PALLONE. Mr. Speaker, I find it very sad when I listen to the dialogue from my colleagues on the Republican side because when I listen to my colleague, the gentleman from Florida (Mr. FOLEY), and also the chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, I think that they really do want to come to an agreement and they would like to see this agreement on the Labor HHS bill come to fruition. The problem is they cannot because of the special interests.

They negotiated on the other side in good faith and they came to an agreement that would allow these worker safety rules to go into effect, but then they go back and the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, the business interest, says no we cannot do it because we do not want you to protect the workers. We are giving you the money for the campaigns. We are the special interests. You cannot do it for the average person. We saw the same thing. My colleague, the gentleman from Florida, talked about the patients' bill of rights and how we supported the Norwood-Dingell bill; but after it passed, the HMOs said, no, we cannot have that because that is going to help the people and we cannot make any money. So you cannot do it. You forget it even if you care about the people.

We saw the same thing with Medicare prescription drugs. Maybe some of them would like to see a prescription drug benefit under Medicare. I have no doubt that some of my colleagues on the Republican side would love to see that, but they cannot do it because the pharmaceutical industry says, no, no, no, no, we cannot make any money. That is going to hurt us. We are not going to be able to finance your campaigns. We are not going to be able to run the ads. So what does it say? Oh, sure, you may want to help. Maybe even the leadership wants to help, but you cannot because you are in the pockets of the special interests, the corporate interests, the pharmaceuticals, whoever it happens to be, the insurance companies.

Well, it says a lot about what you can accomplish here in the majority party. You cannot accomplish anything for the little guy. You cannot help the senior who wants prescription drugs. You cannot help the person who is suffering from HMO abuses. You cannot help the individual that the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. OBEY) showed that is having problem with their hands and cannot work because of this repetition. You cannot do it. Be honest. Explain to the American people that you cannot help the little guy. You cannot help us with the problems that the American people face because you are in the pocket of the special interests, and they say what to do even after you have negotiated the agreement.

Mr. YOUNG of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time for a closing statement.

Mr. OBEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself 2 minutes and 15 seconds.

Mr. Speaker, I do not think the issue here tonight is legislative terrorism. I think it is legislative obstructionism by the leadership of this House. The fact is that on prescription drugs, on the patients' bill of rights, on campaign finance reform, and on several other issues we have a bipartisan majority, but in each of those cases the will of that majority has been obstructed by the leadership that has prevented us from coming to closure on any of those issues.

Now we have one more. We had an opportunity to close the appropriations cycle with one of the best bipartisan legislative agreements of the year, and instead the leadership decided to pull the rug out from under a bipartisan negotiated agreement. They decided to say to Wanda Jackson, whose fingers have almost turned into claws and cannot lift anything heavier than a milk carton because of hours of punching numbers in a computer, "Sorry, you are not important." They said to Walt Frasier, who had to lift one chicken every two seconds, 10,000 birds over an 8-hour shift every day, who now has had three operations on his hands and cannot work anymore, they have had to say, "Sorry, you are not as important as big business."

They say to Ursula Stafford, a 24-year-old para professional who was told by her doctor she may never be able to support a pregnancy because of a herniated disk that she suffered from lifting patients; they have said to her, "Sorry, you are not important enough." We are not going to protect you." They have said that to many other workers.

Mr. Speaker, this is pure and simple another bipartisan agreement which had been reached after much hard slogging, which is now being arbitrarily tossed overboard because the leadership says "no." That is unfortunate; and that, unfortunately, defines this session.

So I feel great regret about this, but until the majority leadership decides to practice the bipartisan cooperation that it preaches, we are stuck here with a blown-up agreement that could have been, in fact, a landmark piece of legislation for this session.

Mr. OBEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. YOUNG of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the balance of the time.

I would say to our colleagues that it is interesting to negotiate with the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. OBEY), the distinguished ranking minority member on the Committee on Appropriations. He negotiates in good faith. We have some very strong differences which have been established throughout the years, but he does negotiate in good faith and he keeps his word. But to suggest that all of those negotiations have been useless and have gone to naught is just not accurate. When we do negotiate at our level, then obviously, I take what the product is to my leadership. That is the way the system works.

Mr. OBEY. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. YOUNG of Florida. I yield to the gentleman from Wisconsin.

Mr. OBEY. Mr. Speaker, is it not true that at the beginning of the negotiations 2 nights ago, our side asked both the gentleman from Florida (Mr. YOUNG) and Senator STEVENS if you had full authority to negotiate all remaining issues, and the answer was yes? Is that not true?

Mr. YOUNG of Florida. Mr. Speaker, that is correct. I would say to the gentleman that we did just that, and we negotiated a settlement that we thought was a fair settlement. It did not provide everything that I wanted, and I know it did not provide everything that the gentleman from Wisconsin wanted; but it was a compromise, it was a negotiated settlement.

But as I started to say, under our process, then I take that product to my leadership, the same as the gentleman from Wisconsin takes to his leadership. Also, he communicates with the White House, and we do that as well. We have spent a lot of time with White House representatives during this negotiating period. But to say that we are both satisfied with everything is just not true.

But here is where the rub comes. So much has been said tonight about the fact that the GOP torpedoed the deal, or "budget deal torpedoed by the GOP." That is not true. That is a headline. That headline was not written in any conference meeting that I was in. And I think what it does is it just proves once again that we should communicate with each other, not through the media. Whoever wrote that headline, I guarantee my colleagues, was not in that negotiating session that we had until 1 o'clock Sunday night. They were not there. The deal was not torpedoed.

Let me explain. Everybody pay attention to this. I want my colleagues to know exactly what it was that supposedly torpedoed the deal. We have heard so much talk about the language on the ergonomics that postpones the implementation.

Now, in our negotiations, we agreed that we would allow time for the new President, whoever that new President might be, to make a decision on these rules; and we also at one point gave him until June of next year to implement or not implement.

Now, we agreed on that; and we still agree on that. That is still our position. Now, where we had a bit of a problem is when the labor lawyers took a look at the language. They said, wait a minute, that is not what it does. So we thought maybe we better consult with our lawyers and find out how to write this language to make sure it does what we agreed to do.

So that is where we are. The deal is not torpedoed. This issue is out there; and, of course, there are still some outstanding issues that have not been resolved yet that the gentleman from Wisconsin and I did not resolve during our negotiating session. But the deal is not torpedoed, I will say that again.

Mr. OBEY. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. YOUNG of Florida. I yield to the gentleman from Wisconsin.

Mr. OBEY. Mr. Speaker, is it not true that both sides spent almost 4 hours negotiating the language of that one item; and that many times, both negotiators left the room to consult with the lawyers? And is it not further true that after we had the Merlot and toasted the agreement, is it not true that the only two remaining issues were two language issues, one on snowmobiles and one on Alaska seals?

Mr. YOUNG of Florida. Well, Mr. Speaker, I would respond to the gentleman that I do not think that is accurate. I did not leave the room to consult with any lawyer. There were two lawyers on our negotiating side. Senator STEVENS is a lawyer, and the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. PORTER), the chairman of the subcommittee, is a lawyer. And as the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. OBEY) has suggested, we wrote that language for 3 or 4 hours, and we wrote the language, I think, at least seven times; but we all wrote the language trying to get us to the point that the law would say that the new President who is elected next week would be able to make the decision whether or not to implement these rules, and that this could take as long as until June of next year.

Now, apparently some other lawyers decided the agreement was okay; and our leadership decided, hey, that agreement is fine, but the language as it was written in the view of the labor lawyers did not accomplish what we intended to accomplish.

So on that, we have a little work yet; but we are working on it.

It was also suggested that we ought not to be so partisan, and I really enjoy hearing the speakers on that side of the aisle talk about partisanship. I do not think we have raised any partisan issues. I have not attacked the Democrats; that is just not my style. I have worked all year, and last year as chairman, to have as fair and responsible relationship with both sides as I could possibly accomplish, and I think we have done a pretty good job there.

Mr. Speaker, let me tell my colleagues who else thinks we did a pretty good job. The President of the United States yesterday in his press conference said: "Again, we have accomplished so much in this session of Congress in a bipartisan fashion. It has been one of the most productive sessions." That was President Clinton who said that. Did everybody hear that? Just in case my colleagues did not hear it, let me read it again. He said, "Again, we have accomplished so much in this session of Congress in a bipartisan fashion. It has been one of the most productive sessions."

Well, I do not agree with everything the President says, but I tend to agree with that.

Mr. OBEY. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. YOUNG of Florida. I yield to the gentleman from Wisconsin.

Mr. OBEY. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman believe everything the President says?

Mr. YOUNG of Florida. I think I just answered that question.

Mr. Speaker, I would suggest that I believe that about as often as the gentleman from Wisconsin does, and I do not think that is news to anybody.

Now, Mr. Speaker, we should all be very thankful that this political season is about over, because once the election is behind us, then we are going to find that we can get back to the business of doing the people's business. We will not need to use the floor of the House of Representatives for campaigning. We will put the people above the politics, and that is good. We need to get back to that.

Somebody mentioned the other day that this was like a scene from the movie "Groundhog Day." If my colleagues saw the movie "Groundhog Day," Bill Murray is the main character and he is a weather reporter for a Pittsburgh news station, and he travels to Punxsutawney to do a story on Punxsutawney Phil coming out of his cave and giving a prediction on the weather, but something happens, and day after day after day he wakes up to the very same day over and over and over again. But, the way the movie ended, he went on to a new day and continued life after those many, many days of just repeating over and over again, by falling in love, and then he woke up the next day and everything was like it should be.

If we can show a little more love and compassion, a little more spirit of determination to work together for the people that we represent, it is amazing how much we could get accomplished here. Just as President Clinton said: "Again, we have accomplished so much in this session of Congress in a bipartisan fashion. It has been one of the most productive sessions." President Clinton.

Mr. Speaker, I ask for a "yes" vote on the resolution, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. PEASE). All time for debate has expired.

The joint resolution is considered as having been read for amendment.

Pursuant to House Resolution 662, the previous question is ordered.

The question is on the engrossment and third reading of the joint resolution.

The joint resolution was ordered to be engrossed and read a third time, and was read the third time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the passage of the joint resolution.

The question was taken; and the Speaker pro tempore announced that the ayes appeared to have it.

Mr. OBEY. Mr. Speaker, I object to the vote on the ground that a quorum is not present and make the point of order that a quorum is not present.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Evidently a quorum is not present.

The Sergeant at Arms will notify absent Members.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yeas 361, nays 13, not voting 58, as follows:

LEGISLATIVE BRANCH APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 2001—VETO MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES—(H. DOC. NO. 106-306)

The SPEAKER pro tempore laid before the House the following veto message from the President of the United States.

To the House of Representatives:

I am returning herewith without my approval, H.R. 4516, the Legislative Branch and the Treasury and General Government Appropriations Act, 2001. This bill provides funds for the legislative branch and the White House at a time when the business of the American people remains unfinished.

The Congress' continued refusal to focus on the priorities of the American people leaves me no alternative but to veto this bill. I cannot in good conscience sign a bill that funds the operations of the Congress and the White House before funding our classrooms, fixing our schools, and protecting our workers.

With the largest student enrollment in history, we need a budget that will allow us to repair and modernize crumbling schools, reduce class size, hire more and better trained teachers, expand after-school programs, and strengthen accountability to turn around failing schools.

I would sign this legislation in the context of a budget that puts the interests of the American people before self interest or special interests. I urge the Congress to get its priorities in order and send me, without further delay, balanced legislation I can sign.

WILLIAM J. CLINTON.

THE WHITE HOUSE, October 30, 2000.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. SUNUNU). The objections of the President will be spread at large upon the Journal, and the message and the bill will be printed as a House document.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. YOUNG of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks on the veto message of the President to the bill H.R. 4516, and that I may include tabular and extraneous material.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Florida?

There was no objection.

MOTION OFFERED BY MR. YOUNG OF FLORIDA

Mr. YOUNG of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I move that the message together with the accompanying bill, be referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Florida (Mr. YOUNG) is recognized for 1 hour.

Mr. YOUNG of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I yield the customary 30 minutes to the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. OBEY) for the purpose of debate only on the consideration of this motion, pending which I yield myself 1 minute.

Mr. Speaker, I yield myself 1 minute just to suggest that if we want to expedite the consideration and if we want to conclude the negotiations on all of these final appropriations bills, and there was only one left, but now there are two because the President sent us this veto, we would like to expedite it and we do so by referring this veto message and the bill back to the Committee on Appropriations. I think it is as simple as that. I do not think we need to take a lot of time on this issue.

Mr. Speaker, in the event that we do require additional time, I ask unanimous consent that the gentleman from Arizona (Mr. KOLBE), who is chairman of the Subcommittee on Treasury, Postal Service and General Government Appropriations, that he be permitted to control the time on our side.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Florida?

There was no objection.

Mr. KOLBE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I would agree with the gentleman from Florida that we do not need to use too much time. However, I do think we need to use some time to talk a little bit about this veto, which comes as a stunning surprise to some of us. And also so that the American public and the Members of this body understand what is in this bill that has been vetoed, so that, as we consider this again, we will be able to consider those provisions very carefully.

Mr. Speaker, last night, when the President vetoed the Legislative and Treasury-Postal and General Government Appropriations bill, he did more, in my view, than simply prolong the ongoing negotiations between the White House and the Congress on the remaining appropriations measures. He has jeopardized the funding that we have in this bill for our counterterrorism efforts, funds to keep our borders safe, programs to keep guns out of schools, programs to trace guns in violent crimes, the jobs of more than 150,000 Federal employees, including one-third of all Federal law enforcement, and he has jeopardized our Nation's war against drugs.

The President himself has stated that there is nothing wrong with the bill in its current form. In fact, he previously stated that, after we made some changes, changes that were included in the Transportation appropriations bill, he would sign this measure.

However, he has now chosen to veto it because it funds the legislative branch and the White House "at a time when the business of the American people remains unfinished." He has failed to sign this perfectly good bill because of ongoing discussions relating to education funding and ergonomics, issues that have nothing to do with the bill that he vetoed.

It seems to me that the President's veto is more about making political statements than it is about making good public policy. Mr. Speaker, if we want to get the work of this Congress done, we have to take these bills one at a time.

The President's veto message claims that these bills reflect "self interest or special interests." Let us be clear about what the President is talking about here. The Treasury appropriations bill provides, among other things, these items:

$2.25 billion for the Customs Service, including increases for expanded anti-forced child labor, money to attack drug smuggling groups, and new agents and infrastructure for northern border security;

$467,000 for the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children, including the use of forensic technologies to reunite families;

$62 million to expand the Integrated Violence Reduction Strategy, a program to enforce the Brady law to keep convicted felons from getting guns, to investigate illegal firearms dealers, and to join forces with State and local law enforcement and prosecutors to fully investigate and prosecute offenders;

$25 million for nationwide comprehensive gun tracing; and $185 million for our drug media campaign to reduce and prevent youth drug use.

This bill also includes $186 million for Customs automation, an item that importers have been clamoring for. This bill provides funds to begin an immediate investment in our automated commercial environment program, a system that will help us to efficiently enforce our trade laws.

And finally, this bill includes $1.8 million in support of the Secret Service's new initiative, the National Threat Assessment Center to help us identify and prevent youngsters that might commit violence in and around schools.

Mr. Speaker, I do not see how the items I have just described here are, "special interest items." These programs reflect the interests of all Americans, not just a few. All of us have a stake in the safety of our borders. All of us have a stake in the war on drugs and in keeping guns out of our schools.

On July 27, when the House passed this bill, the Administration indicated they had several concerns regarding proposed funding levels for different programs. Specifically, they said that they felt they needed another $225 million for an additional 5,670 IRS employees, and they signalled that, unless that was provided, they would veto this measure.

So we sat down. We negotiated in good faith with the White House. The House, the Senate, the Republicans and the Democrats on both sides of this Congress, on both sides of this aisle. We added the funds for the IRS. It was not everything that the Administration asked for, but we also added other funds for other important programs. After we did this so-called fix, which the President signed into law as part of the Transportation Appropriations bill on October 23, we were told that the President would sign this bill.

Indeed, I might have thought that the comment that the President made yesterday at his press conference when he said, "again we have accomplished so much in this session of Congress in a bipartisan fashion. It has been one of the most productive sessions." I might have thought that he was talking about our bill, a bill he would have been preparing to sign.

Obviously, as the hour of midnight approached, we found out that it was to be otherwise. The President's veto message says that he will not sign this bill until we fund our classrooms, fix our schools, protect our workers. The President has once again moved the goalpost in regard to the Treasury appropriations bill.

I am extremely disappointed that this Administration has gone back on its word to sign this bill and has, instead, chosen to use it as a vehicle to hold Congress hostage and make political statements regarding funding for education.

But, Mr. Speaker, we are here tonight with a vetoed bill, and we are prepared to get this work done. Unfortunately, I notice that the President of the United States is in Louisville, Kentucky, for a congressional candidate and then doing a fund-raising event in New York City for the First Lady. How do we expect to get this work done when we are here and the President is out on the campaign trail?

I think it is a shame that the President has placed a higher value on the politics of education funding than he does on protecting our borders, on fighting the war on drugs, in keeping guns out of schools, in countering terrorism.

The President has vetoed the bill that funds 100 percent of our Nation's border safety in order to make political points about a bill that funds 7 percent of our Nation's education funding.

This is a sad day. This bill, which has been worked on and a compromise has been reached, and is a good bill for the agencies that we have under our jurisdiction. It is sad that it is vetoed. I hope we can get a quick agreement with the Administration on this.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from California (Mr. THOMAS).

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, I just want to understand, because the gentleman from Arizona (Mr. KOLBE) went through a lengthy list of programs, extremely important ones, and identified dollar amounts associated with those programs.

I believe it was implicit, but I think we really need to understand that every one of those programs were placed in this by bipartisan agreement and every one of the funding numbers were agreed to in those programs that the gentleman mentioned by bipartisan agreement. Is that correct?

Mr. KOLBE. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman will yield, that is absolutely correct. The amounts in there are not exactly as we would have wanted. In some cases, we would have wanted something lower, maybe a couple of cases even higher. In other cases, the President wanted more money, as he did for the IRS. But it was an agreement. It was a compromise.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, when the bill left, it was a bipartisan agreement.

Mr. KOLBE. Correct.

Mr. THOMAS. On the programs and the amount.

Mr. KOLBE. That is correct.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. OBEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. HOYER).

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding me this time.

Mr. Speaker, I voted against the Treasury-Postal bill when it originally was presented to the House. I did so because I thought it was inadequate. It came back from conference, and I opposed it at that point in time. We did not really have a real conference. But to the extent that a conference report came back, I said it was inadequate, and I opposed it.

The gentleman from Arizona (Mr. KOLBE) rises, and I think correctly states the provisions of this bill. I think he also correctly states that we did, in fact, reach bipartisan agreement on this bill, and that in fact the bill, as it now stands, as it stood before the President, as it stands now is a good bill. It is a bill, in my opinion, that every Member of this House on either side of the aisle can support.

It is furthermore a bill that I hope every Member of the body will support at some point in time in the very near future. I am not sure when we are going to get to that point, but hopefully in the near future.

The gentleman from Arizona (Mr. KOLBE) also correctly points out, and the gentleman from Florida (Mr. YOUNG) pointed out, if one reads the veto message, that the President of the United States says that he can sign this bill. In fact, I urged the President of the United States to sign this bill. I wished he had signed the bill. But he chose to make the point which, frankly, we have been making over and over again, that, unfortunately, this process did not come to really focus until just a few weeks ago.

The reason it did not come to focus until a few weeks ago, and I do not speak just to the Treasury-Postal bill, it is because, for 8½ months and effectively all of September, we pretended that the appropriations process was not going to be a process in which all of us would be party, but it would be a process that simply, frankly, the majority party would be a party of.

Unfortunately, when we did as the gentleman from Arizona (Mr. KOLBE) has pointed out, come to agreement, and agree on a very good bill, we got it down there relatively late, i.e., 10 days ago.

I would urge the Members, however, not to become too exercised about this bill. The reason I do that is because I believe we do have agreement. What we do not have agreement on is what the President discussed in his veto message, and they are important issues. They are unrelated, at least substantively, to the Treasury-Postal bill.

But we know and any of us who have been in the last weeks of any legislative session, and I found this when I was in the State Senate for 12 years and I found it here for 19 years, that, unfortunately, issues tend to get wrapped up with one another that do not necessarily relate to one another substantively but clearly do politically.

So I would urge the majority party, I would urge ourselves to try to come to agreement. Now both sides feel that agreements are not being kept. That is not a good context in which to try to get back to the table.

The majority party believes the President said he would sign this bill. I was not in the room, therefore cannot assert that that was or was not the case. Some others who apparently were in the room and talked to the administration said that the administration said that they could sign this bill, but, again, I was not in the room, but that they were concerned, they were particularly concerned about a particular tax provision, and they wanted to see all the tax provisions considered at one time.

Now, I hope clearly that this bill is going to go to committee and the veto will be considered. My suspicion is that we will at some point in time, hopefully in the near term, fold it in.

But I would urge all my colleagues that, when the President says that it is related to other things, his desire, and I hope our desire, is to get the issues before the House resolved, get the issues before the Senate resolved, and send them to the President.

We have just had a significant discussion about the fact that we do not have agreement on the Labor-Health bill. The gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. OBEY), who was in the room, I was not, but the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. OBEY), whose integrity I trust wholly, says that he thought they had an agreement.

It is my understanding, although the gentleman from Florida (Mr. YOUNG) did not say so in so many words, that he thought there was an agreement, but he needed to check it out with some people. That agreement fell.

I would hope that, in the next 24 hours, and I see the gentleman from Texas (Mr. DELAY), the majority whip, is on the floor. He and I worked together on a number of things. But I would hope that we could come to grips with the items that the President of the United States has said he believes are priority items.

Whether one agrees with the veto of the Treasury-Postal bill or not, everybody agrees that it was not on the substance of the bill. The bill is a good bill. It is, however, an effort by the President of the United States to bring to closure the 106th Congress, to bring to closure the 106th Congress in a way that will bring credit to agreements between the parties.

I referred earlier in discussions about the appropriations bills to an extraordinary speech given by Newt Gingrich on the floor of this House. It was a speech which I have entitled the "Perfectionist Caucus Speech." It was a speech in which he said the American public has elected the President of one party, a majority party in the House and Senate of another party, and a very large and significant number of Members of the President's party.

It is not surprising, therefore, that we find ourselves in substantial disagreement from time to time on substantive important issues. But as Newt Gingrich said in that "Perfectionist Caucus Speech," it is the expectation of the American public that we will come to agreement, that we will come to compromise.

Democracy is not perfect, and rarely do we win everything that we want. But the American public does expect us to agree. They expect to bring this Congress to a close. We argue on our side that they expect us to do some things that we have been talking about for an entire year and, indeed, longer than that in many instances to which the President referred, like education funding for classrooms and more teachers.

That is really not a contentious issue. Most of us on this floor on both sides of the aisle know that we have a shortage of teachers, know that we have a shortage of classrooms, know that we would like to get classroom sizes down. We ought to move on that.

Most of us say that we are for prescription drugs for seniors. We have differences on how that ought to occur. What the President is saying is we ought to come to agreement on that, because, frankly, seniors that are having trouble paying for prescription drugs do not care whether we agree on this dotting of the I's or the crossing of the T's. They want us to come to agreement. It is a shame we cannot do that.

I see the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. NORWOOD) on the floor. The gentleman from Georgia (Mr. NORWOOD) and the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. DINGELL) came together, worked hard, tried to come to agreement. I am sure the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. NORWOOD) did not get everything in the Patients' Bill of Rights bill that he would have liked. I am equally confident that the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. DINGELL) did not get everything that he would like. But they worked together.

Indeed, the majority of this House agreed with the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. NORWOOD) and the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. DINGELL) and passed a Patients' Bill of Rights. We did that in 1999, a year ago. The Senate passed a similar bill some 11 months ago. But we do not have agreement. We have not moved a bill. On an issue that almost every one of us is putting in ads of 30 seconds and saying we are for, but we have not moved the bill.

So I would urge my colleagues, as we consider this, it is going to go to committee, I hope we do not have a rollcall vote on. There is nothing we can do about it, very frankly, one way or another. It is a good bill.

The President chose to veto it to raise the issues and try to raise our focus and try to bring us to closure. If it accomplishes that objective, perhaps it was useful. It remains to be seen whether we will accomplish that objective. Had it been signed, we would have had a good bill for the Treasury Department, the General Service Administration, for law enforcement, to which the gentleman from Arizona (Mr. KOLBE) referred, he is absolutely right, to counter terrorism efforts in this country. All of those are worthwhile objectives.

It is a good bill. But let us not have this bill further divide us. Let us try to come to grips in the next 24 hours with the Labor-Health bill and get that to resolution and see at that point in time where we can move.

Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. OBEY) for yielding me the time. I appreciate his giving me this opportunity to comment on this bill, which is a good bill, but comment as well on the efforts that the gentleman has been making and that others on the other side of the aisle have been making to try to bring us to closure, try to bring this Congress to a respectable close that the American public will benefit from.

Mr. KOLBE. Mr. Speaker, I yield 5 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from California (Mr. CUNNINGHAM), a member of the committee.

(Mr. CUNNINGHAM asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. CUNNINGHAM. Mr. Speaker, I said yesterday, and I still mean it today, most of the Members at this time of the year detest what goes on. It is the silly season. It is election season. We have some honest differences. I would like to cover just a couple of those differences.

I believe with all of my heart that we are right. Maybe they believe that they are right on the other side of that issue. When my colleagues talk about school construction, many of the States have elected not to support Davis-Bacon or prevailing wage because of the increased costs. In some States, it is 35 percent down to 15 percent increase in cost. This legislation would force those right-to-work States to have to use the school construction money, using the union wage.

I think it is detrimental to schools because we could get more money for schools' quality. The unions control about 7 percent of the workforce. About 93 percent of all construction is done by private. And my friends would say, well, we want those workers to have a living wage.

Well, the people that build 93 percent of our buildings in this country earn a good wage, and they have good quality. And our position is that, instead of allowing the unions to take the money, the extra 15 to 35 percent, let us allow our schools and I will support the additional money. Let us let our schools keep the additional money for more construction, for class size reduction, for teacher pay or training, even technology, or where they decide, where the teachers and the parents and community can make those decisions.

My colleagues have said that, well, let us save taxpayers' money at the local level. I worked with the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. KILDEE), one of the finest men in the House, when I served on the authorization committee. He was my chairman the first year and then vice versa; and we worked, I think, in one of the best bipartisan ways. And I have a lot of respect for him. I think he is wrong a lot of times, but I love him.

But they say, let us save money at a local level. Alan Bersin was a Clinton appointee as Superintendent of San Diego City Schools; and he said, Duke, would you support a local school bond? I said, Alan, that is the most Republican thing you could ask me to do because most the money goes to the school and, guess what, the decisions are made at a local level, not here in Washington, D.C., with all the strings.

Only about 7 percent of Federal money goes down, but a lot of that controls the State and local money. Look at special education how that hurts some of the schools and helps people at the same time. But look at title I and those rules and regulations tie up.

The President wants Davis-Bacon in this. We feel it is detrimental, it actually hurts schools, and we cannot bring ourselves to do that. We have special interest groups, as my colleague says. But the Democrats, I think their special interest groups are the unions and the trial lawyers and they support those issues. But the National Federation of Independent Businesses, Small Business Association, Restaurant Association, they are not bad as some of my colleagues think. These are the people that go out and create the jobs for the people.

Over 90 percent of the jobs are created non-union. And we are saying, let the union compete with small business, let the best man win, but not have the increased cost of school construction. Now, that is a big deal. This is a big difference between most of us. You feel you are right. We feel that we are right. We see that it helps the schools, our positions; and we cannot give in to that. And the rhetoric and the campaign stuff that goes back and forth, we have a solid belief, and I want my colleagues to understand that, I believe it with all of my heart, and that is why I think we are here is because of those differences.

But yet, the President will veto it over that. And I do not know what we are going to do. I do not know how long we will be here, and I think Members on both sides are willing to stay until we can agree with something. Maybe it is half. Maybe it is whatever it is.

Mr. KOLBE. Mr. Speaker, I yield 5 minutes to the gentleman from Connecticut (Mrs. JOHNSON).

Mrs. JOHNSON of Connecticut. Mr. Speaker, I think the people of this great and free democracy need to understand what is going on here tonight because it is unprecedented. No President, at least in my 18 years as a Member of the House of Representatives, has ever vetoed a bill he supports. And I have never seen the Members of his party vote to support a veto of a bill they support or one whose every part was agreed to on a bipartisan basis. Of course, not every portion of it is perfect. They do not love every portion. Neither do we. But this was a bipartisan bill where every number was agreed to by Republicans and Democrats working together and where the President agreed to it as well.

It is unprecedented to have a veto message in which the President says he supports the bill. I do not know how in good conscience my friends on the other side of the aisle say they are working to conclude the business of this Congress when they support the President in preventing the very bills that have to pass to wind up this session from passing.

Here is an appropriations bill that we must pass to wind up our business. It is one we have agreed on. How can my colleagues in good conscience say that they are doing anything but filibustering and involving themselves in obstructionist actions for purely partisan reasons when they oppose a bill that they have agreed to and that the President agrees to?

Now, let me look at the rhetoric that the President brings to the table in his veto message, because it is not unlike what happened on the floor last week, which I think is so fundamentally destructive of our democracy. His rhetoric intentionally mixes information from one bill to another until the public cannot understand and follow what is happening in their own democracy. To say that this bill has to be vetoed because we need more money for teachers is ridiculous. This bill doesn't fund education. That is the issue of the Health and Human Services, Labor, and Education appropriations (HHS) bill. It is not the issue of this bill.

We will argue about whether or not we need more money for teachers when we discuss the HHS bill. And I am proud to say, as a Republican, that we put $2 billion more in the education function in that bill than the President even asked for, and we allow districts to use it for teachers if they want to, if that is what they need. But some of my school districts do not have classroom space, they cannot use this money next year for teachers, but they know exactly what they need it for, preschool, summer school, lots of kinds of things to help kids who are below grade level to catch up.

What is wrong with flexibility? Do you not trust local government? Do the Democrats not trust the people of America? Is that why they have to uphold this veto of a different bill on which they agree and the President agrees because they want to hold the other bill hostage and make sure that local government in America has no right to say whether they need summer school to help their high school kids who are behind a grade level to catch up?

Let us go on to their other issue here of worker safety. I am a strong advocate of worker safety. I voted with my Democratic colleagues to make sure that the ergonomics research went forward. How many of my colleagues, and I am looking at some of them from parts of the country for whom this is an absolutely incredible reversal of everything they ever stood for, how can they vote, how can they hold hostage a bill we all support to a Presidential position that will mandate on our States 90 percent reimbursement of salary and benefits for someone injured by an ergonomics problem?

I have had two carpal tunnel operations, both wrists. If I had been out, should I have gotten 90 percent of salary and benefits when my friend next to me got his foot crushed with a piece of steel and he gets the State rates, which is somewhere between 70 and 75 percent, depending on the State? Are you, my colleagues, out of your minds?

I mean, I am for worker safety, but I am not for unfairness. It is wrong. This is really important. I brought this up when we debated this. Unfortunately, it was midnight and most of my colleagues were not here. But I asked them to go back and check with their small businesses to see how they can survive or check their State laws and see what it would do to have that inequity among workers.

One can get terribly, terribly injured through a construction catastrophe and that injured worker would get the State's 70 to 75 percent, whatever their State offers, in Workmen's Comp. But, under the President's proposal, if they get carpal tunnel syndrome, they'd get 90 percent of salary while they are out of work. Why are you holding a bill up on which we have agreed to every single number for a new and extremely unfair and unaffordable mandate in another bill?

Look what this bill does. I mean, my gosh, it adds $475 million so we can expand the anti-forced child labor initiative, attack drug smuggling, $10 million more for drug free communities, more money for the Secret Service's National Threat Assessment Center to help prevent school violence, better funds for the Terrorism Task Force, much more money to enforce the Brady bill.

Let us put aside the partisan games. Let us override the President's veto. Then let us move on to the HHS appropriations bill and work these things out. That is what we are tasked to do by the voters of America.

Mr. OBEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume to explain that I thought that we had been asked if we would agree to no debate on the bill. We were willing to do that. But since my colleagues have had more speakers, we have a couple other Members who have indicated they want to speak.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. MENENDEZ).

(Mr. MENENDEZ asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. MENENDEZ. Mr. Speaker, since I have seen my colleagues on the other side of the aisle have an affinity, I would even have to say a proclivity, to quote the President's words, I would like to refer to the statement he made as it relates to the bill that is being considered for referral to committee, the bill that he vetoed.

He said, "We are now a full month past the end of the fiscal year, and just a week before election day. Congress still hasn't finished its work.

"There is still no education budget. There is still no increase in the minimum wage. There is still no Patients' Bill of Rights or Hate Crimes Bill, or meaningful tax relief for middle class Americans.

"Today, I want to talk about an appropriations bill that Congress did pass. The Treasury-Postal Bill funds these two departments, as well as the operations of Congress and the White House. Last night, I had no choice but to veto that legislation. I cannot in good conscience sign a bill that funds the operations of Congress and the White House before funding our schools.

"Simply put, we should take care of our children before we take care of ourselves. That's a fundamental American value, one that all parents strive to fulfill. I hope the congressional leadership will do the same. We can, and we will, fund a budget for Congress, but first let us take care of the children."

I agree with the President. Simply put, how is it that we would hold ourselves up as an institution and the White House that they are worthy of being funded when we have a whole host of vital issues, some of which the President recited himself, that simply are not being funded and will likely not be funded before the American people go to vote next Tuesday?

He goes on to say, "We thought we had a good-faith agreement with honorable compromises on both sides," with reference to the landmark budget for children's education. "That was before the special interest weighed in with the Republican leadership. And when they did they killed the Education Bill."

I agree with the President. Let us put our people before ourselves.

Mr. KOLBE. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. OBEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself 8 minutes.

Mr. Speaker, I would just like to respond to the Member on the other side of the aisle who said, how in good conscience can we support this veto? My response is, with ease. And I will tell my colleagues why.

The gentleman from Arizona (Mr. KOLBE) is upset. And I do not blame him. He is one of the good people in this House. And there are a lot of good people in this House on both sides of the aisle. And we treasure our friendships, and we treasure our associations. We also treasure a sense of balance, and we treasure people who keep their word at the highest levels as well as the lowest levels of both parties.

The gentleman from Arizona (Mr. KOLBE) is upset because his Treasury-Post Office bill has been vetoed, and, along with it, although this has not been mentioned, the Legislative Branch appropriations bill, because the Treasury-Post Office bill is folded into the Legislative appropriations bill. If I were the gentleman from Arizona, I would be unhappy, too, because he wants to see his bill finished. The problem is that there is only one man in the country who has the responsibility to look out after everyone, and that is the President of the United States. And what the President of the United States said in the words that the gentleman from New Jersey just read is that, quote, "I cannot in good conscience sign a bill that funds the operations of the Congress and the White House before funding our classrooms, fixing our schools and protecting our workers."

In other words, the gentleman from Arizona is upset because matters of legislative concern such as our offices, our travel allowances, our staff allowances are not settled. In fairness to him, he did not say that because he is concerned about the Treasury-Post Office bill, but I have had that said to me by a number of Members tonight. All the President has said is that I recognize that the big fellows in this society, the President and the Congress, because that is whose budgets are funded in the bill that he vetoed, remember, he vetoed his own budget as well as the Congress' budget. All the President says is that we are not going to provide the money that the big boys want in this society until we first take care of the needs of the little people. That is all he said. I agree with him.

I would like to very much see all of this come to an end. I am sick of all of it. But I would simply say it was not the President who decided to package the Legislative and Treasury-Post Office bills in one package so that everything got tied up in this debate. It was some genius, some staffer in one of the leadership offices who decided to do that against the advice of the leadership of the Committee on Appropriations on both sides of the aisle.

I would point out that there is one revenue item in that bill that the President vetoed which will cost five times as much as the entire cost for the tax credits for school construction contained in the bill which we are still trying to put back together after the majority leadership sandbagged the bipartisan agreement that we reached two nights ago.

The bill that was vetoed cost the Treasury $60 billion over the same time period that it cost only $12 billion to fund the school construction tax credit. There is a very easy remedy for fixing the problem that the gentleman from Arizona is concerned about. That bill can easily be passed simply by referencing it in an agreement that we ought to be able to achieve on the Labor, Health and Education appropriations bill. All you have to do is to come back to the agreement that was hammered out two nights ago. If you do that, we will take care of the needs of people like this who have been so injured by doing their duty in the workplace that they can work no longer.

We will take care of their needs as well as the needs of the 435 Members of this House who would kind of like to know what their office allowances are going to be, what their staff allowances are going to be, what their travel situation is going to be, and what the budgets for the service agencies, for the Library of Congress and CRS and others are supposed to be and all of the other legitimate concerns mentioned on that side of the aisle.

Mrs. JOHNSON of Connecticut. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman yield?

Mr. OBEY. I yield to the gentleman from Connecticut.

Mrs. JOHNSON of Connecticut. I am sure the gentleman from Wisconsin, for whom I have very great respect, is aware that many years the President has signed this bill before he has had the opportunity to sign the HHS bill. So this is a matter of politics. It is not a matter of principle. He has never before said, I must hold the funding for the executive office and for this until that is done. That is just complete Presidential politics.

Mr. OBEY. Mr. Speaker, I take back my time. If the gentleman is going to use pejorative terms like that, then I would simply say yes, this is the first time to my knowledge that the President has vetoed this bill because it was passed before the Labor-H bill was passed. But this is also the first time that we have had the majority leader and the Speaker of the House blow up a bipartisan agreement that had been signed onto by both parties. Before those negotiations ever began, I asked the negotiator for the Republicans on the House side and on the Senate side, do you have the full authority from your leadership to negotiate to a conclusion every item in this bill? Their answer was yes. And the gentleman from Florida (Mr. YOUNG) said, Yes, and isn't that nice for a change? Now, we know it was not a change. So now we know that once again, after a bipartisan negotiation has been put together, someone in the majority party, after checking with somebody else decides, Well, sorry, we're going to do it all over again. If we cannot take each other's word in this institution, then this institution is not the institution that I have given 32 years of my life to.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. KOLBE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I would just like to say to the gentleman from Wisconsin that I accept the responsibility for the fact that this debate on this motion may be more prolonged than might have been indicated to him by staff. They were corrected, believing there would be no great debate on this. It was my view that I needed to say some things about the bill that had been vetoed, and so I accept that responsibility for that, and I apologize if a miscommunication was made to the gentleman from Wisconsin.

Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. DELAY).

Mr. DELAY. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Arizona for yielding this time to me, and I appreciate all the hard work that he has done on this bill. It is really unfortunate that the President vetoed a bill that he supports.

I think most of us know what is going on here. What is going on here is politics is being placed above people. When we took the majority for the first time in 40 years, the minority went into denial. The minority has worked for 6 years to gain back the majority. They decided that these last 2 years was their chance because we had a six-vote margin. All they had to do was win a net of seven seats, and they are back in the majority.

The minority leader last summer announced that they were going to run against a do-nothing Congress, that they would not cooperate, that they would try to bring down every bill that we brought to the floor that was of any substance. Politics. Words are really cheap, but actions really prove whether your words are true or not.

All summer, while we were passing through this House all 13 appropriations bills and getting our work done, the minority side said all along that there is not enough money in this, there is not enough money being spent. They have always wanted to spend more money, and they have tried to spend the surplus; and we have worked very, very hard all this year to keep them from spending the surplus. On the substantive issues, the policy issues, right, we are guilty for not passing their agenda. We have been passing our agenda. We locked up the Social Security surplus. They have been raiding it for 40 years, spending it on big government programs. We locked up the Medicare surplus. They have been spending it for 40 years, or as long as Medicare has been in, on big government programs. Then there was more surplus on the on-budget, and we said we want to take at least 90 percent of that and pay down on the public debt with it. We are doing it.

They have fought us every step of the way. We have had to bring very tough bills, including this TPO bill, to the floor and pass it with only Republican votes because they tried to bring it down knowing how hard it would be to pass it. Now we get into this season, and we have been working with the President. The President has signed seven bills that we compromised with him on and he has signed. But they have never intended to let us get out of town or to work out a bill.

I mean, last week the minority leader put on a Scottish uniform, put war paint on his face and picked up a spear and declared war. Last night, the President put that same war paint on his face, vetoed a bill and declared war. They are interested in politics. They have only one goal and that is to take back the majority of this House. Sunday, the President threatened, or blackmailed the Congress by saying that he would veto this bill if he did not get an agreement on Labor-HHS. These gentlemen worked a long time, into the early morning, to come up with an agreement. But on every bill, and frankly we passed every bill out of this Congress except the Labor-HHS bill, we have got it all done, the problem is we cannot trust the President. Every one of those bills, once it has been worked out, has always been brought to the leadership to look at the agreement. We owe that and we have a responsibility to the Members that we represent to make sure that the agreement is a good one.

We started looking at the agreement and then their spin doctors went out and said we were blowing up the agreement. We have looked at every agreement that our negotiators have made, and we were asking questions about this agreement. We were asking questions about the fact that what they said was the agreement on the labor provision known as the ergonomics actually was reflected in the language that was presented to us, and we did not think it was, because we read that language as doing nothing but codifying present law and present practice. And we thought, well, maybe we ought to write the language to reflect the agreement that was being made and we were working on that. We even compromised with them. They wanted $8 billion. We said, "We'll give you 4 but tell us how you are going to spend it." To this point, 2 days later, they have not even given us the list of how they are going to spend that $4 billion. How in the world do you think we could put a bill together and file it and answer the President's blackmail when you will not even give us how you are going to spend it?

They gave some money on Democrat projects. We have yet to get the list of the Democrat projects. How do you put together a bill, put it in language and bring it down here to the floor when we have not even got the list? So there was no way that we could comply. And they knew it. They knew it, that we could comply with the blackmail of the President and he vetoes the bill. Pure politics. People be damned. Pure politics was what is going on here.

The political atmosphere here has been so poisoned by their actions that it is so difficult, and I have got to tell you, this bill is back into play. Now we have five appropriations bills in play. The President asked us to talk to him about the tax bill. We said fine. Nobody showed up. We have been waiting 3 days to talk about the tax bill. We have called for 3 days asking the President to negotiate with us over immigration. Nobody has showed up. This morning the President's people were supposed to come in early to talk about this ergonomics issue and the language. Nobody has showed up. In fact, the President went to Kentucky to campaign this afternoon. Now he is in New York. How do you negotiate with a mirror?

The President has no intention of making this. That is why we are here a week before the election. It is politics. It is time to put the politics aside and think about the people and do the people's business. I am just asking you all to come together and let us put people before politics.

Mr. OBEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself 5½ minutes.

Mr. Speaker, first of all, I would like to correct both the gentlewoman from Connecticut (Mrs. JOHNSON) and myself. Both of us indicated that this was the first time that the President had vetoed this bill because it was passed before other bills had passed. That is not correct.

On October 3, 1995, I should have remembered it because it was my birthday, the President vetoed the legislative bill for precisely the same reason that he vetoed this bill tonight. Let us remember that the bill before us is the legislative appropriations bill into which was folded the Treasury Post Office bill. The President vetoed that on October 3, 1995, because he pointed out that the Congress had not yet finished its other work and that he was not going to allow the Congress to get its goodies before the rest of the country got its problems taken care of. So he has been consistent in that philosophy, and I applaud him for doing that as well on this bill tonight.

Secondly, I am not going to bother to comment on the majority whip's discussion of a number of items that have nothing whatsoever to do with my committee responsibilities. I recognize he is well-known for his efforts to achieve conciliatory bipartisanship; and he is probably the most distinguished person in the House, obviously, in trying to see to it that we pass bills on a bipartisan rather than a partisan basis. His reputation is renowned for that. No one could possibly question that. Right? This is Halloween, too, right?

Having said that, I would simply say with respect to these appropriation bills, the gentleman is wrong when the distinguished whip said that all but one bill had been passed out of the Congress by October 1. There were still 4 bills that the Senate had not even considered by the end of the fiscal year. So, again, the majority whip is wrong on his facts.

I would simply say, without getting any further into silliness, that the basic problem is simply this: Everyone knows that the major obstacle on the appropriations end to our finishing our work was the disposition of the labor, health and education bill. That bill, as Bill Natcher used to say, is a bill that is the people's bill. It takes care of the children. It takes care of the sick, and it takes care of the workers who produce the wonderful prosperity that enable all of us to brag about the surpluses that we have created.

What is at stake here is very simple. We did have an agreement and the majority leadership decided that they were going to break it up. Now they can argue that all they want, but the fact is that that is what happened.

I think if we are going to discuss values, as we have so often been lectured about by the distinguished majority whip, if we are going to talk values let me say that I can think of no value more important than to say to the most humble worker in this country that their health comes before the wishes of the national lobbyists for the United States Chamber of Commerce. I can think of no value more important than to let the most humble worker in this country know that the Congress of the United States and the President of the United States are not so busy focusing on their own needs that they will allow the needs of the neglected to be forgotten.

That is what the President said in his veto message. He is saying, do to the least of these. That is what he is saying or as the Book some of us have read that reminds us to do that, what you do to the least of my brethren, you do for me. That is what we are trying to do when we stand here protecting the interests of workers who have no place else to go but here, no place to go but here; to be protected so that they can keep their bodies whole, so that they can continue to work to put food on the table for their families.

Do you think that I am going to apologize for one second for supporting the President's veto of a bill that takes care of us before it takes care of them? I do not know what planet you are on, but those are not my values. I am proud to support his veto.

I would say that the gentleman from Arizona (Mr. KOLBE) himself has done his job. The President's veto in no way is a criticism of his work. We all know he has done an honest job of negotiating. He, like many of us are simply caught in the situation that we would like to see not exist, and that situation was caused by the majority leadership of his party in this House.

Mr. KOLBE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, let me just very briefly close this debate. I know it has taken longer than we had intended. I know the gentleman from Texas (Mr. DELAY), the majority whip, will certainly be pleased with the very fine comments that the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. OBEY) made about his bipartisan nature of finding solutions to appropriation bills. My experience has always been that the majority whip, the gentleman from Texas (Mr. DELAY), always has been very constructive in trying to find those solutions.

The gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. OBEY) also made reference to the 1995 legislative bill and the veto of that for essentially the same reasons. Although my memory does not take me back that many votes and that many appropriation bills, I believe at that time when that was vetoed there was no agreement on the Treasury Postal Bill; and, therefore, the argument was we should not be passing or should not be accepting the legislative appropriations without an agreement on the appropriations that affected the executive branch, the White House and all the executive agencies, the White House agencies.

In this case, they are tied together. We have them together. So signing this bill would have made sure that we moved forward that part of the final budget that would have covered these two very large agencies, the Congress and all of its related agencies, including the Congressional Research Service and the Library of Congress, our Capitol Police, and the Treasury, with all of its agencies, the Treasury itself, the Secret Service, the Customs, the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, the Internal Revenue Service, the Federal Elections Commission and everything at the White House.

So I think it would be very important for us to recognize that these are tied together and we should move forward with this.

There is a great deal of misunderstanding or, I think, unfortunate misunderstanding about the events last night. I was not there, but I certainly understand that when an agreement is reached by appropriators that is on something as delicate as this, that includes language that is not an appropriation item, that the leadership is going to have to sign off on that. Apparently that last step had not been done. There was agreement on the basic provision, but they had not signed off on it.

Mr. Speaker, I would just say that I hope we can find a solution to this very quickly and move this bill forward as rapidly as possible so these appropriations might become law.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. SUNUNU). Without objection, the previous question is ordered.

There was no objection.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Florida (Mr. YOUNG).

The motion was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Accordingly, the veto message and the bill will be referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

MOTION TO INSTRUCT CONFEREES ON H.R. 4577, DEPARTMENTS OF LABOR, HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES, AND EDUCATION, AND RELATED AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS ACT 2001

Mr. BENTSEN. Mr. Speaker, I offer a motion to instruct conferees on H.R. 4577.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Clerk will report the motion.

The Clerk read as follows:

Mr. BENTSEN moves that the managers on the part of the House at the conference on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses on the Senate amendment to the bill H.R. 4577 be instructed, in resolving the differences, between the two Houses on the funding level for program management in carrying out titles XI, XVIII, XIX, and XXI of the Social Security Act, to choose a level that reflects a requirement that State plans for medical assistance under such title XIX provide for adequate reimbursement of physicians, providers of services, and suppliers furnishing items and services under the plan in the State.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under rule XXII, the gentleman from Texas (Mr. BENTSEN) and the gentleman from Florida (Mr. BILIRAKIS) each will control 30 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Texas (Mr. BENTSEN).

Mr. BENTSEN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, let me say at the outset that in a couple of minutes I am going to move to withdraw this motion and I will tell my colleagues why, but I do want to take just a couple of minutes to talk about it.

Let me start out by saying what this motion would do is, in effect, would call on the conferees to reinstate what has been known as the Boren amendment which would require that States establish reasonable rates of reimbursement under the Medicaid program. As my colleagues know, the Boren amendment was repealed in the 1997 Balanced Budget Act, but we still find that in many cases for providers, both hospitals and individual medical providers, that the reimbursement rates under the Medicaid program by the States is not sufficient; and, in fact, a recent study found that in some cases those rates are as low as 65 percent of the comparable Medicare reimbursement rate. This is something that raises concerns when we consider that more than a third of the births in this country are funded through the Medicaid program and yet we have these low reimbursement rates.

My personal concern in this has to do in trying to stand up for my district and my State. The largest medical center in the world is in my congressional district with the largest children's, independent children's hospital, as well as another children's hospital and a very large public hospital system, where they have a very large, disproportionate share census that they have to deal with in not getting sufficient reimbursement. I think Members around the country would find that is true.

Mr. Speaker, as we know today the National Governors Association and the National Conference of State Legislators sent out letters with some questionable arguments against this motion, and I am not going to pursue it because I do not want to put Members on either side of the aisle in a difficult situation.

Mr. Speaker, I will say this. Last week when the House considered the tax bill with the balanced budget revision that was in it, I would remind my Republican colleagues that that included an uptick in the reimbursement for managed care companies, for Medicare providers; and I actually joined my Republican colleagues in voting for that. There were not a lot of Democrats who did, but I was one of the ones who did. I thought it could be a better bill, but I was willing to take what we could get at the time.

I guess what I want to say is what is good for the goose is good for the gander, and that we may want to take a look at the Medicare bill as well to see how we may want to make that a better program for the people who rely on the Medicaid program.

Now, let me just say with respect to what the Conference of State Legislatures said, and the governors. I think it is somewhat of a stretch for the Conference of State Legislatures to say that by going back to the Boren Amendment language that somehow they would not be able to move forward with the breast and cervical cancer bill that this House passed overwhelmingly and was signed into law by the President just last week, or the Ticket to Work program that was passed. I and others were cosponsors of both of those bills. I think that is a little bit of a red herring on their part. I do not, quite frankly, think this is an issue that we are going to deal with this year, but it is something that I think Members on both sides of the aisle do want to take a look at.

Mr. RODRIGUEZ. Mr. Speaker, I stand before you today in support of the motion to instruct conferees on H.R. 4577 by my friend and colleague, Representative KEN BENTSEN.

The Bentsen motion to instruct urges conferees to do the right thing by providing adequate funding levels for Medicaid.

We face a health crisis in our states because the Balanced Budget Act of 1997 put Medicaid rates too low.

Everyone is impacted: physicians, hospitals, home health providers, and nursing homes.

Many of the health care providers in my district and throughout my state face severe financial difficulties due to low Medicaid rates.

These Medicaid reimbursement reductions have especially hurt our nursing homes. The situation in Texas is a good example of why we need immediate action.

Today I released a special report prepared by the minority staff of the House Committee on Government Reform, "Nursing Home Conditions in Texas," which found widespread inadequacies—sometimes horrible situations—in our nursing homes.

In many nursing homes in Texas and across the country, our parents and grandparents suffer intolerable conditions.

More than half of the nursing homes in Texas had violations of federal health and safety standards that caused actual harm to residents, or placed them at risk of death or serious injury.

Another 29 percent of Texas nursing homes had violations that created potentially dangerous situations.

In other words, 4 out of 5 nursing homes in Texas violated federal health and safety standards during recent state inspections.

Why are the conditions so bad?

One reason is inadequate levels of staffing. In Texas, more than 90 percent of the homes do not have the minimal staffing levels recommended by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

And why are staffing levels so low? Because the low level of funding makes it impossible for nursing homes to provide adequate care.

This Congress still has the opportunity to address these glaring problems. The Bentsen motion would be a bold step in defense of our most vulnerable seniors by requiring states to provide adequate reimbursements to all health care providers.

Mr. BENTSEN. With that, Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my motion to instruct.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRIES

Mr. BARTON of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I have a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. SUNUNU). The gentleman will state it.

Mr. BARTON of Texas. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman withdraw without unanimous consent?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman can withdraw the motion to instruct without unanimous consent.

Mr. THOMAS. Parliamentary inquiry, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, since the gentleman introduced his motion and then spoke on his motion without an opportunity for other Members of the House to address the question, which some people would believe did not reflect fair play, would it be appropriate, for example, for the gentleman from Florida (Mr. BILIRAKIS) to ask unanimous consent to address the House for 5 minutes to provide some subject matter on the motion just withdrawn?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The general practice of the House would be to seek a unanimous consent agreement to speak out of order for 1 minute.

(Mr. BILIRAKIS asked and was given permission to speak out of order for 1 minute.)

OPPOSING MOTION TO INSTRUCT CONFEREES

Mr. BILIRAKIS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for allowing us the opportunity.

Mr. Speaker, this motion actually reverses a policy set in legislation enacted only 3 years ago, at the bipartisan request of our Nation's governors. Provisions to repeal the Boren Amendment were included in the 1997 Balanced Budget Act. That measure was approved by the House with the support of 193 Republicans and 153 Democrats, and it was signed into law by President Clinton.

I would also refer to remarks made by the President of the National Governors Association on August 8 of last year in St. Louis, Missouri, when he said, we have waived or eliminated scores of laws and regulations on Medicaid, including one we all wanted to get rid of, the so-called Boren Amendment.

As I intended to explain earlier, the proposal, Mr. Speaker, is unnecessary.

The Medicaid statute already includes provisions which address the gentleman's concern. Under title 19, States are specifically required to provide adequate reimbursement. Section 1902(a)30(A) requires States plans to, and I quote, "provide such methods and procedures relating to the utilization of and the payment for care and services available under the plan as may be necessary to safeguard against unnecessary utilization of such care and services, and to ensure that payments are consistent with efficiency, economy and quality of care, and are sufficient to enlist enough providers so that care and services are available under the plan, at least to the extent that such care and services are available to the general population in the geographic area."

Mr. Speaker, this has been true in regulation for years, Mr. Speaker, but it was also codified in statute by the 1989 omnibus budget reconciliation act. Imposing additional mandates on the States would not accomplish any justifiable public policy purpose.

The other interpretation of the gentleman's motion to instruct is that in the spirit of Halloween, he is attempting to breathe life into the now-dead Boren Amendment. History has shown us that the use of such general terms as "adequate reimbursement" and "suppliers furnishing items and services" will lead to litigation.

Mr. PALLONE. Regular order, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The House is proceeding under regular order.

Mr. PALLONE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman asked for 1 minute.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman asked for 5 minutes. The gentleman will suspend. The gentleman from Florida has the time.

Mr. BILIRAKIS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Florida asked for 5 minutes.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman was recognized for 1 minute.

Mr. BILIRAKIS. Mr. Speaker, the original Boren Amendment was intended to serve as a ceiling for State reimbursement decisions, but over many years of judicial interpretation, it became a tool to create an ever-increasing floor.

Mr. Speaker, I would urge all to vote against this motion, and I thank the gentleman for his courtesy.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. BARTON of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and to insert extraneous material on the motion to instruct just withdrawn by the gentleman from Texas (Mr. BENTSEN).

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Texas?

There was no objection.

REQUEST TO SPEAK OUT OF ORDER

Mr. BARTON of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to speak out of order for 1 minute.

Mr. PALLONE. I object, Mr. Speaker. The SPEAKER pro tempore. Objection is heard.

REQUEST TO ADDRESS THE HOUSE

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to address the House for 1 minute.

Mr. PALLONE. I object, Mr. Speaker. The SPEAKER pro tempore. Objection is heard.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX, the Chair announces that he will postpone further proceedings today on each motion to suspend the rules on which a recorded vote or the yeas and nays are ordered, or on which the vote is objected to under clause 6 of rule XX.

Any record votes on postponed questions will be taken tomorrow.

CONGRESSIONAL RECOGNITION FOR EXCELLENCE IN ARTS EDUCATION BOARD

Mr. MCKEON. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the Senate bill (S. 2789) to amend the Congressional Award Act to establish a Congressional Recognition for Excellence in Arts Education Board.

The Clerk read as follows:

S. 2789

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. CONGRESSIONAL RECOGNITION FOR EXCELLENCE IN ARTS EDUCATION.

"(7) The 1999 study, entitled 'Gaining the Arts Advantage: Lessons from School Districts that Value Arts Education', found that the literacy, education, programs, learning and growth described in paragraphs (1) through (6) contribute to successful district-wide arts education.

"(8) Despite all of the literacy, education, programs, learning and growth findings described in paragraphs (1) through (6), the 1997 National Assessment of Educational Progress reported that students lack sufficient opportunity for participatory learning in the arts.

"(9) The Arts Education Partnership, a coalition of national and State education, arts, business, and civic groups, is an excellent example of one organization that has demonstrated its effectiveness in addressing the purposes described in section 205(a) and the capacity and credibility to administer arts education programs of national significance.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from California (Mr. MCKEON) and the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. KILDEE) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from California (Mr. MCKEON).

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. MCKEON. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks on S. 2789.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from California?

There was no objection.

Mr. MCKEON. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of S. 2789, a bill to establish the Congressional Recognition for Excellence in Arts, or "Create," awards.

Mr. Speaker, S. 2789 passed the Senate on Saturday by unanimous consent. The Senate bill, S. 2789, establishes awards for schools that include the arts in their regular curriculum and is identical to a bill I introduced, H.R. 5554.

Many studies have shown that there is a strong relationship between arts education to brain development, student achievement, career potential, and other quality-of-life issues.

For example, arts activity has been shown to lower the likelihood of delinquent behavior. The National Dropout Prevention Center reported that school arts classes and activities encourage attendance and achievement of at-risk high school students.

S. 2789 establishes within the current Congressional Award Act a Congressional Recognition for Excellence in Arts and Education awards board, made up of nine members, four members from the House of Representatives, and four from the Senate, plus the director of the board who shall serve as a nonvoting member.

Additionally, an advisory board shall be established to assist and advise the congressional board with respect to its duties and shall consist of 15 members from among recommendations received from outside arts organizations.

Membership on the advisory board shall represent a balance of artistic and education professionals and must include at least one representative who teaches in each of the four disciplines of music, theater, visual arts, and dance.

By recognizing the importance of arts instruction and granting them an award from this body, it is our hope that arts classes in schools will be as common as English or math.

Finally, I am pleased that Senator COCHRAN worked with me on strengthening the role of arts educators on the advisory board. Their strong participation is vital for this program.

In conclusion, I urge my colleagues to join the other body and support this important piece of legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. KILDEE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

First of all, it is great to be defending a bill with the gentleman from California (Mr. MCKEON), my good friend, as we did 2 years ago with the higher education bill. It is a pleasure to be working with him. He is one who I number among my friends.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of S. 2789, the Congressional Recognition for Excellence in Arts Education Act. This legislation was introduced by Senator COCHRAN and passed the Senate on October 27 by unanimous consent. This bill amends the Congressional Award Act, which is authorized until fiscal year 2005, to establish a board towards schools and students for excellence in the arts and in arts education.

The legislation would also set up a trust fund and allow board members to seek and accept from sources other than the Federal Government funds to carry out activities for the award program. This would be done at little, if any, direct expense to the taxpayers.

This bill supports arts education for our most important population, our children. Studies have shown that arts education stimulates, develops, and refines many cognitive and creative skills in children and young adults. Emphasizing high-quality art and art curriculum through this award will further these worthwhile objectives.

Mr. Speaker, I urge Members to support this legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. MCKEON. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the gentleman from Michigan

(Mr. KILDEE), my good friend, and tell him that I also appreciate the opportunity of working together on this bill with him.

Mr. Speaker, I have no more speakers; but I do have some thanks I would like to give at this time, to Karen Weiss, my legislative director; Jo Marie St. Martin, our legal counsel; Rich Stombres with the majority staff; Alex Nock with the minority staff; and Kirk Boyle with the majority leader's office, for their great help in bringing this bill to this point.

Mr. GILMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of S. 2789, the Congressional Recognition for Excellence in Arts Education Act and I commend the House Speaker, the gentleman from California, Mr. MCKEON.

Over the past 30 years, our quality of life has been improved by the arts. Support for the arts illustrates our Nation's commitment to freedom of expression, one of the basic principles on which our Nation is founded.

We must understand and appreciate the importance of the arts on our Nation's children. Whether it is music or drama or dance, children are drawn to the arts. By giving children something to be proud of and passionate about, they can make good choices and avoid following the crowd down dark paths.

S. 2789 establishes the sense of Congress that arts literacy is a fundamental purpose of schooling for all students. Arts education stimulates, develops, and refines many cognitive and creative skills, critical thinking and nimbleness in judgment, creativity and imagination, cooperative decisionmaking, leadership, high-level literacy, and communication, and the capacity for problem-posing and problem-solving.

As chairman of the International Relations Committee, I recognize the importance of the arts on an international level, as they help foster a common appreciation of history and culture that are so essential to our humanity.

Accordingly, I urge all my colleagues to support this measure, to recognize the importance of arts literacy in our Nation's schools.

Mr. MCKEON. Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from California (Mr. MCKEON) that the House suspend the rules and pass the Senate bill, S. 2789.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the Senate bill was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

The Congress finds as follows:

(1) Despite notable progress in the overall health of the Nation, there are continuing disparities in the burden of illness and death experienced by African Americans, Hispanics, Native Americans, Alaska Natives, and Asian Pacific Islanders, compared to the United States population as a whole.

(2) The largest numbers of the medically underserved are white individuals, and many of them have the same health care access problems as do members of minority groups. Nearly 20,000,000 white individuals live below the poverty line with many living in non-metropolitan, rural areas such as Appalachia, where the high percentage of counties designated as health professional shortage areas (47 percent) and the high rate of poverty contribute to disparity outcomes. However, there is a higher proportion of racial and ethnic minorities in the United States represented among the medically underserved.

(3) There is a national need for minority scientists in the fields of biomedical, clinical, behavioral, and health services research. Ninety percent of minority physicians educated at Historically Black Medical Colleges live and serve in minority communities.

(4) Demographic trends inspire concern about the Nation's ability to meet its future scientific, technological and engineering workforce needs. Historically, non-Hispanic white males have made up the majority of the United States scientific, technological, and engineering workers.

(5) The Hispanic and Black population will increase significantly in the next 50 years. The scientific, technological, and engineering workforce may decrease if participation by underrepresented minorities remains the same.

(6) Increasing rates of Black and Hispanic workers can help ensure strong scientific, technological, and engineering workforce.

(7) Individuals such as underrepresented minorities and women in the scientific, technological, and engineering workforce enable society to address its diverse needs.

(8) If there had not been a substantial increase in the number of science and engineering degrees awarded to women and underrepresented minorities over the past few decades, the United States would be facing even greater shortages in scientific, technological, and engineering workers.

(9) In order to effectively promote a diverse and strong 21st Century scientific, technological, and engineering workforce, Federal agencies should expand or add programs that effectively overcome barriers such as educational transition from one level to the next and student requirements for financial resources.

(10) Federal agencies should work in concert with the private nonprofit sector to emphasize the recruitment and retention of qualified individuals from ethnic and gender groups that are currently underrepresented in the scientific, technological, and engineering workforce.

(11) Behavioral and social sciences research has increased awareness and understanding of factors associated with health care utilization and access, patient attitudes toward health services, and risk and protective behaviors that affect health and illness. These factors have the potential to then be modified to help close the health disparities gap among ethnic minority populations. In addition, there is a shortage of minority behavioral science researchers and behavioral health care professionals. According to the National Science Foundation, only 15.5 percent of behavioral research-oriented psychology doctorate degrees were awarded to minority students in 1997. In addition, only 17.9 percent of practice-oriented psychology doctorate degrees were awarded to ethnic minorities.

TITLE I—IMPROVING MINORITY HEALTH AND REDUCING HEALTH DISPARITIES THROUGH NATIONAL INSTITUTES OF HEALTH; ESTABLISHMENT OF NATIONAL CENTER

SEC. 101. ESTABLISHMENT OF NATIONAL CENTER ON MINORITY HEALTH AND HEALTH DISPARITIES.

“(3) REPORT.—Not later than 36 months after the date of the enactment of this section, the Secretary, acting through the Director, shall prepare and submit to the appropriate committees of Congress a report describing the state-of-the-art of quality measurement for minority and other health disparity populations that will identify critical unmet needs, the current activities of the Department to address those needs, and a description of related activities in the private sector.

“(d) DEFINITION.—For purposes of this section:

“(1) The term ‘health disparity population’ has the meaning given such term in section 485E, except that in addition to the meaning so given, the Director may determine that such term includes populations for which there is a significant disparity in the quality, outcomes, cost, or use of health care services as compared to the general population.

“(2) The term ‘minority’, with respect to populations, refers to racial and ethnic minority groups as defined in section 1707.”

(1) by striking “Asian Americans and” and inserting “Asian Americans;” and

SEC. 602. CONFORMING PROVISION REGARDING DEFINITIONS.

For purposes of this Act, the term “racial and ethnic minority group” has the meaning given such term in section 1707 of the Public Health Service Act.

SEC. 603. EFFECTIVE DATE.

This Act and the amendments made by this Act take effect October 1, 2000, or upon the date of the enactment of this Act, whichever occurs later.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. NORWOOD) and the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. STRICKLAND) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. NORWOOD).

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. NORWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks on S. 1880.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Georgia?

There was no objection.

Mr. NORWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, whether we care to admit it or not, there are disparities in health care in America today. In the minority health community, there are clearly significant disparities in health outcomes.

In the African-American community, the Asian-American community, and the Hispanic-American community, there are disproportionate incidences of cardiovascular disease and certain forms of cancer. This also holds true for certain nonminority, low-income, rural communities as well.

Mr. Speaker, the two questions we must have the courage and the determination to answer are why, and what can be done about it? It takes courage because the admission of the problem moves us all out of our comfort zone, in which we are all too content to just let racial and ethnic and class disparities improve on their own and work themselves out over time.

It takes determination, because there is no easy answer. In fact, many health care experts sharply disagree on all the underlying causes of health disparities.

Mr. Speaker, all of this takes determination, because there is no easy answer. In fact, many health care experts sharply disagree on all the underlying causes of health disparities. Many point to the role of continued income disparities, others to discrimination in diagnosis and prescribed treatments. Some point out a lack of training in our medical schools concerning racial, gender and ethnic differences in symptoms presented by patients when seeking treatment.

All of these points make for good debate, but they in no way justify doing nothing while patients lives are on the line. There are solutions that can be identified right now as providing relief, and the Health Care Fairness Act is one of those remedies.

For this reason, I am proud to co-sponsor very similar legislation in this body with the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. LEWIS) and the gentleman from Oklahoma (Mr. WATTS), my good friend, and the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. WHITFIELD).

This bill creates a Center for Health Disparities at the National Institutes of Health, provides increased funding and incentives for minority health and health disparities research and new support for educating both our health professionals and patients on common sense approaches to increasing the number of positive health outcomes for minorities and other health disparity patients.

Mr. Speaker, I want to draw particular attention to the bill's emphasis on education. The bill will provide access to critical funding for those schools that are researching health disparities and educating the health professionals that will bring treatment to minority and health disparity communities. We can wait to do anything unless we address each cause or we can move immediately to repair those things that we can.

Mr. Speaker, since we are dealing with the life and health of Americans, we have no choice but the latter, and I urge all of my colleagues to support this bill.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. STRICKLAND. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself 2 minutes.

Mr. Speaker, I am very pleased that the House is considering the Minority Health and Health Disparities Research and Education Act this evening. This is legislation that will improve the health status of many Americans who suffer the inequity of health disparities. I think the need for this bill is demonstrated by the tragic fact that minorities in America lag behind other Americans in nearly every health indicator, including health care coverage, access to care, life expectancy and disease rates.

Minorities suffer disproportionately from cancer, cardiovascular disease, HIV and AIDS and diabetes. Some of these disparities in health status are linked to problems of access to care and low levels of health care coverage.

These characteristics also describe my Appalachian constituents from rural Ohio, even though my district has very few minorities. Not surprisingly, my constituents suffer from some of the same disparities in disease and mortality rates, particularly for cancer and diabetes.

S. 1880 is the result of months of bipartisan, bicameral work to craft solutions to this complex problem. The bill will create a Center for Research on Minority Health and Health Disparities at the National Institutes of Health, where research into the causes of and solutions to this health crisis will be prompted. It will also create opportunities for researchers who are members of health disparity populations.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to thank several Members for their hard work on this piece of legislation, the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. LEWIS); the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. JACKSON); the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. THOMPSON); the gentleman from New York (Mr. TOWNS); the gentlewoman from the Virgin Islands (Mrs. CHRISTENSEN); and the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. DINGELL), the ranking member. And I would especially like to thank the sponsors of this bill for their willingness to work with me and the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. WHITFIELD) to include our constituencies in this important bill.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. NORWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. STRICKLAND. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. LEWIS), the primary sponsor of this bill.

Mr. LEWIS of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. STRICKLAND), my good friend, for yielding me the time and for all of his help. I also want to thank the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. NORWOOD), my colleague and my friend, for all of his help to bring this bill before us tonight.

Mr. Speaker, I, along with the gentleman from Oklahoma (Mr. WATTS), the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. THOMPSON), the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. NORWOOD) and the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. JACKSON) introduced H.R. 3250, the House companion bill to S. 1880.

H.R. 3250 passed out of the Committee on Commerce on July the 26.

As one of the original authors of H.R. 3250, I want to take this opportunity to thank my colleagues tonight on both sides of the aisle for their dedication and hard work to pass H.R. 3250 and S. 1880.

Over the past few decades, we have made great advances as a Nation in science and medicine. However, all of our citizens have not shared in the benefits of these advances. Minority Americans lag behind the rest of the country on nearly every health indicator, including health care coverage, access to care, life expectancy and disease rates.

Some striking examples include the African-American infant mortality rate, which is twice that all of U.S. infants; and nearly twice as many Hispanic adults report they do not have a regular doctor compared to white adults. However, health disparities are not limited to minority communities. Nearly 20 million white Americans live below the poverty line and many live in rural areas where high rates of poverty contribute to health disparity outcomes.

In the Appalachian regions of Kentucky, Tennessee and West Virginia, the rates of the five top causes of death in the United States all exceeded the national average in 1997. Mr. Speaker, we have a moral obligation, a duty and responsibility to find effective ways to eliminate these health disparities. Equal access to health care is not a privilege, it is a fundamental right. That is why S. 1880 is a good bill.

This legislation will take the necessary step to bridge the health disparity gap. The Minority Health and Health Disparities Research and Education Act is a comprehensive approach to addressing the complex set of factors which surround health disparity.

Mr. Speaker, let me close by saying the last century saw our Nation make great strides. We passed laws to address that right, like equal opportunity in employment, education and housing. We also passed the Voting Rights Act of 1965 and the Civil Rights Act of 1964. However, until now, our country has not given health care the same attention.

We must focus our attention on bridging the health disparity gap.

Mr. Speaker, I urge all of my colleagues to vote to pass S. 1880, the Minority Health and Health Disparities Research and Education Act.

Mr. NORWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. STRICKLAND. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. RUSH), a member of the Committee on Commerce.

Mr. RUSH. Mr. Speaker, I want to, first of all, commend the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. LEWIS) and the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. NORWOOD), the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. STRICKLAND), the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. THOMPSON), and the gentleman from Oklahoma (Mr. WATTS) for their outstanding work on this bill.

It is with great pride that I support S. 1880, the Minority Health and Health Disparities Research and Education Act of 2000.

The disparities in health care as they relate to ethnic minorities is alarming. Consider these statistics, the infant mortality rate among African Americans is still more than double that of white citizens.

African-American children are significantly more likely than whites to experience childhood asthma.

Heart disease death rates are more than 40 percent higher for African Americans than for whites.

For prostate cancer, it is more than double the rates for whites.

African-American women have a higher death rate from breast cancer, despite having mammography screening rates that is higher than for white women.

The death rate from HIV/AIDS for African Americans is more than 7 times that for whites. The rate for homicide is 6 times that for whites. The suicide rate among young African-American men has doubled since 1980.

Many whites living in medically underserved areas suffer from the same health care access problems as do members of minority groups. In rural Appalachia, 46 percent of counties are designated as health professions shortage areas and high rates of poverty contribute to health disparity outcomes.

White Appalachian males between the ages of 35 and 46 are 19 percent more likely to die of heart disease than their counterparts elsewhere in the country, and white Appalachian women are 20 percent more likely to die of heart disease.

Mr. Speaker, this bill addresses this critical problem, and we do need to do more to correct these alarming disparities, and the creation of the Center for Research on Minority Health and Health Disparities within the National Institutes of Health is an excellent step forward.

Mr. STRICKLAND. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. JACKSON).

(Mr. JACKSON of Illinois asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. JACKSON of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of S. 1880, the Minority Health and Health Disparities Research and Education Act. This bipartisan legislation holds great promise for reducing the health status gap between our Nation's majority populations and our ethnic minority and medically underserved communities, helping to ensure that no American is left behind.

Mr. Speaker, the bill's most central feature, section 1, which was H.R. 2391, which I proposed a year and a half ago, elevates the Office of Research on Minority Health at the National Institutes of Health to "Center" status and puts these health disparities on the exact same parity that exists with other prioritized health disparity issues at the National Institutes of Health.

Despite the national economic prosperity and double digit growth for NIH, the health status gap amongst African Americans and other underserved populations is getting worse and not better.

As a member of the Subcommittee on Labor, Health and Human Services and Education, I had the opportunity during our hearings to carefully review the program activities and priorities of the NIH and to question the researchers who carry out such vital work.

The unsung hero of today's legislation, who is not a Member of Congress, but certainly the former Secretary of Health and Human Services, Dr. Louis Sullivan was before the Subcommittee on Appropriations in the Senate, and Dr. Sullivan shared with me testimony that he had recently presented to that Subcommittee on the Institute of Medicine study that demonstrated a disturbingly low level of support that is funding support for cancer research among minorities through the National Cancer Institute. To improve the response to minority health, Dr. Sullivan recommended that the Office of Research of Minority Health should be elevated to "Center" status because the existing structure at NIH did not adequately address or prioritize the issue of health disparities.

After asking scores of questions to the NIH director and the directors of the Institutes and Centers during the last year's hearings about these disparities, I became more convinced than ever that the Office of Research and Minority Health needed to be elevated to "Center" status.

□ 2130

Consequently, I worked with Dr. Sullivan and other health care professionals to fashion a bill that would do just that. And so, Mr. Speaker, today S. 1880, among other vital provisions of the bill, authorizes the director of the National Center, in collaboration with other NIH institutes and centers, to establish a comprehensive plan and budget for the conduct and support of all minority health and other health disparities research at NIH.

Mr. Speaker, as I said earlier, passage of this bill is an important first step, and I would like to thank all of my colleagues on both sides of the aisle who played an important leadership role, including Senators KENNEDY and FRIST, the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. NORWOOD), the gentleman from Oklahoma (Mr. WATTS), the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. LEWIS), the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. THOMPSON), the gentleman from Virginia (Chairman BLILEY), the unsung hero on the legislative side of this, the gentleman from Florida (Mr. BILIRAKIS), who walked this bill through a number of hurdles, the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. DINGELL), and the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. BROWN).

Mr. Speaker, I ask all of my colleagues to support this important measure.

Mr. NORWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as he might consume to the gentleman from Florida (Mr. BILIRAKIS), chairman of the Commerce Subcommittee on Health and Environment.

Mr. BILIRAKIS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. NORWOOD) for yielding me this time. Obviously, I support S. 1880, the Minority Health Disparities Research and Education Act of 2000.

This proposal encompasses H.R. 3250, which is the Health Care Finance Act of 2000 which was reported from the Committee on Commerce. The gentleman from Illinois (Mr. JACKSON) and so many others were so very much responsible for that.

The bill addresses disparities in biomedical and behavioral research and health professional education for minority medically underserved Americans. There is ample evidence, Mr. Speaker, that some populations suffer disproportionately from certain diseases. For example, African Americans have a 70 percent higher rate of diabetes than whites. Hispanics suffer a rate that is nearly double the rate for whites. Vietnamese women suffer from cervical cancer five times the rate of white women.

Mr. Speaker, we need to know why this is the case, and I hope this legislation will help. The proposal will create a new National Center on Minority Health and Health Disparities at NIH which will be charged with coordinating biomedical and behavioral health disparities research.

The bill strengthens research into health care quality and access by funding studies at the Agency for Health Care Research and Quality. And, finally, the bill provides additional funds for loan repayment programs in the Health Resources and Services Administration for health professional training and education programs focusing in the causes and potential solutions to health disparities among Americans.

S. 1880 includes some important changes to H.R. 3250 that improve the underlying bill. These changes reflect bipartisan efforts to address concerns expressed by Members of Congress and the administration. Chief among these is the recognition of health disparities in medically underserved populations as well as in racial and ethnic minorities.

Additional changes were made to the bill to address concerns raised by the Department of Justice and some Members with potential constitutional problems with the bill as introduced. These are all positive changes that ensure Americans who suffer from disease and death disproportionately to the population at large benefit from the research and education provisions in this legislation.

This is an important piece of legislation, Mr. Speaker, and I urge all of my colleagues to join us in a "yes" vote.

Mr. STRICKLAND. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentlewoman from the Virgin Islands (Mrs. CHRISTENSEN).

Mrs. CHRISTENSEN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. STRICKLAND) for yielding me this time. I also want to thank the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. NORWOOD) and the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. DINGELL), the ranking member, for their leadership and work in getting S. 1880 to the floor today.

Mr. Speaker, I also want to applaud the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. LEWIS), the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. THOMPSON), the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. JACKSON), the gentleman from Oklahoma (Mr. WATTS), and Senator EDWARD KENNEDY who sponsored the bill in the other body for shepherding this bill through the entire process, as well as all of our staff. I thank the leadership in the committee and the House on both sides of the aisle.

Mr. Speaker, health care disparities in people of color, those of low socioeconomic status, and in our rural areas should cause us all concern in this country which boasts of the best in medical expertise and the most advanced medical technology. But they exist, and even as we turn the page into a new century, the gaps are not closing but getting wider.

Heart disease, cancer, infant mortality, stroke, diabetes, HIV/AIDS and mental illnesses are among the diseases which represent the most glaring disparities.

Surely, lack of insurance, deficiencies in the health delivery system and the lack of culturally and linguistically competent providers are some of the factors responsible. It has been proven that bias and prejudice has a significant role as well.

But there remains much that we do not know, and without more in-depth knowledge we will never be able to develop the appropriate remedies. Therefore, S. 1880, though long overdue, comes at a critical time, but also at a time when this country has the resources and I think the will to right the wrongs, to close the gaps, and to bring fairness and equity to the system and access to quality health care for all of our citizens and residents.

I am proud, Mr. Speaker, of the role that the Health Brain Trust of the Congressional Black Caucus played in this bill's development. I want to be proud of this body tomorrow, and so I ask all of my colleagues to vote "yes" for S. 1880, to vote "yes" to the research and related activities that will usher in a millennium of health and wellness for many who, until now, have been left behind, and to vote "yes" to a healthy and a better America.

Mr. STRICKLAND. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. THOMPSON), who was an original cosponsor in the fashioning of this legislation.

Mr. THOMPSON of Mississippi. Mr. Speaker, first let me compliment the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. NORWOOD), my colleague, for his leadership in helping shepherd this bill to the floor this evening for consideration. I would also like to recognize the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. JACKSON), the gentleman from Oklahoma (Mr. WATTS), and the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. LEWIS), who also cosponsored this legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to come before you in support of S. 1880, the Minority Health and Health Disparities Research and Education Act of 2000.

Nearly 1 year ago, on November 8, 1999, I introduced H.R. 3250, a bill to amend the Public Health Service Act to improve the health of minority individuals. I thank Senator EDWARD KENNEDY for introducing S. 1880, and I am extremely proud to see this bill come to the floor for consideration.

Mr. Speaker, the statistics are alarming when comparing the disparity between whites and minorities, alarming when we speak of infant mortality rates, alarming when we speak of heart disease death rates, alarming when we speak of prostate cancer and breast cancer, and most alarming of all, HIV/AIDS infection and death rates for African Americans.

Mr. Speaker, I say for all of us now to come forward in a bipartisan manner and pass this bill and take the first step toward correcting these alarming disparities for African Americans and all other underserved communities. Let us have a quality health care system for everyone in the 21st century.

Mr. STRICKLAND. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from North Carolina (Mrs. CLAYTON).

Mrs. CLAYTON. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Ohio for yielding me this time. I want to also commend the sponsors and also commend this House in a bipartisan way, recognizing this is an excellent opportunity to begin to close the gap between those who have access to quality health and those who indeed have not been considered in the research.

I live in rural North Carolina, but I also live in an area called the "Stroke Belt." And the Stroke Belt indeed affects those persons who are African American perhaps a little more than it does other individuals. But if we begin to look at the Stroke Belt, it also includes white Americans in there. So there is a disparity related to poverty, isolation, and ruralness of the community.

So I want to commend the sponsors of this, because it does, indeed, bring a more healthy America and allows the research to work with those entities and look at those disparities in ways that will reduce the incidence of disease and encourage prevention. I support this bill 100 percent.

The bill will be considered under suspension of the rules; 40 minutes of debate; not subject to amendment; two-thirds majority vote required for passage. The measure will be managed by Chairman Biley, R-Va., or Rep. Bilirakis, R-Fla. The Democratic manager will be Rep. Dingell, D-Mich., or Rep. Brown, D-Ohio.

The Senate passed the bill on Oct. 26 by unanimous consent. The Commerce Committee did not act on the measure.

Following is a summary of the bill as passed by the Senate. As of press time, it was not known whether the floor manager will move to suspend the rules and agree to the Senate-passed bill, thereby clearing the measure for the president, or whether he would include an amendment, thus sending the bill back to the Senate.

The Senate passed bill establishes a National Center on Minority Health and Health Disparities in the National Institutes of Health (NIH) to conduct and support research on minority health conditions and disparities between the health of the overall population and the health of minority groups. The measure authorizes $100 million in FY 2001, and such sums as may be necessary for fiscal years 2002 through 2005, for these activities.

The bill authorizes such sums as may be necessary in fiscal years 2001 through 2005 for centers of excellence for research and training, which would support training in biomedical and behavioral research for members of minority populations.

The measure authorizes such sums as may be necessary in each of fiscal years 2001 through 2005 for a program under which the federal government would repay certain education loans for individuals who agree to engage in minority health disparity research. Under the bill, the federal government would repay up to $35,000 of the principal and interest on educational loans of such individuals for each year the engage in such research.

The bill also authorizes $50 million in FY 2001, and such sums as may be necessary for each of fiscal years 2002 through 2005, for the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality to conduct and support research on health disparities.

This measure is an authorization measure and is not covered by spending limitations in the Budget Act or any budget resolution because it does not directly result in expenditures. As of press time, the Congressional Budget Office had not completed a cost estimate for the bill. In many cases, however, Congress does not appropriate the full amount contained in authorization measures.

Mr. STRICKLAND. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. JACKSON-LEE).

(Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Speaker, this is an excellent piece of legislation. I thank the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. STRICKLAND), my good friend, for yielding me this time. I thank the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. LEWIS), the gentlewoman from the Virgin Islands (Mrs. CHRISTENSEN), the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. THOMPSON), the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. JACKSON), and the gentleman from Oklahoma (Mr. WATTS) for their leadership, along with the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. NORWOOD) and the gentleman from Florida (Mr. BILIRAKIS) for their leadership as well.

Mr. Speaker, if my colleagues would take a journey with me and realize how far we have come on a cure for breast cancer, and part of the effort behind that cure was utilizing women in clinicals in the National Institutes of Health. This Minority Health and Health Disparities Research and Education Act has the same focus; it is to concentrate on the enormous disparities that are found with minorities in the health care system. In particular, African Americans, Hispanics, Asian Americans, Pacific Islanders, Native Americans all have found themselves without access to health care, including rural white Americans as well.

It is important that this legislation strengthens research into health care quality and access. It examines collection of data on race or ethnicity. It addresses the role of health professionals so that they will be culturally sensitive to be sure that they understand what is occurring. It is very important to educate our health care professionals so they can ask the kinds of sensitive questions to ensure that if they are speaking to a particular minority group, that they can secure from them the information that will allow the physician or the health care professional to treat them correctly.

It is very important that we focus on diet and nutrition and immunization for children and find out whether there is an intimidation or some concern about why minorities do not have the access, why they are not interacting with our health care professionals.

Mr. Speaker, let me just briefly, as I close, share a story, and I will certainly point to this as a cultural concern of an elderly person going into a medical office of a doctor. Happened to be a minority, in particular African American. This person was accused of taking a bar of soap. Of course that would discourage a particular African American or minority, because of some cultural bias to go to that particular office again or go to any doctor.

Mr. Speaker, I think this bill is a good bill to study what will help us ensure that all Americans have equal access to health care. This is a good bill, and I ask my colleagues to support it.

Ms. PELOSI. Mr. Speaker, will the gentlewoman yield?

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. I yield to the gentlewoman from California.

Ms. PELOSI. Mr. Speaker, I wish to, in the course of this debate, associate myself with the comments of our colleagues who spoke in favor of that.

I would first like to thank the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. LEWIS) for his tremendous leadership in initiating this legislation, the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. JACKSON), with whom I serve on the Subcommittee on Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education on the Committee on Appropriations, who has been a relentless supporter in ending the disparity and access to quality health care research and prevention, and the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. THOMPSON), who has been a leader on this issue, as well as the gentlewoman from North Carolina (Mrs. CLAYTON).

I thank them all for their tremendous work on this issue. They have been great leaders in the effort to reduce health disparities, and this bill is a testament to their hard work and commitment.

Mr. Speaker, numerous studies have shown that minority communities suffer disproportionately from many severe health problems and have higher mortality rates than whites for many treatable health conditions. Although we have seen giant leaps in scientific knowledge, particularly in recent years, as we have increased our investment in the National Institutes of Health, the benefits of those advances are not clearly reaching all segments of our society.

At this point, I would like to recognize the tremendous work of the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. GEKAS). He and I are co-chairs of the Biomedical Research Caucus, but he is our leader in having monthly meetings where Members and staff can be made aware of the scientific opportunities in the biomedical community. He is a giant on that issue in this Congress.

During our NIH hearings in the Subcommittee on Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education, we have heard many alarming statistics on racial and ethnic health disparities, including significantly higher rates of death from cancer and heart disease, as well as higher rates of HIV/AIDS, diabetes, and other health problems.

HIV/AIDS has been particularly devastating in minority communities. African Americans and Hispanics, who represent 12 and 11 percent respectively of our Nation's population, now account for 70 percent of new HIV cases and nearly 60 percent of new AIDS cases. And African-American and Hispanic women account for 78 percent of the newly reported infections among women.

Not enough research is being done to understand and eliminate racial and ethnic health disparities. According to an Institute of Medicine study published in February 1999, Federal efforts to research cancer in minority communities are insufficient. The IOM recommended an increase in resources in development of a strategic plan to coordinate this research.

I commend the administration for responding to this need by implementing the initiative to eliminate racial and ethnic disparities in health. The initiative identifies the steps necessary to eliminate disparities in the areas of cardiovascular disease, cancer screening and management, diabetes, infant mortality, HIV/AIDS and immunizations by 2010.

At this point, I would also like to commend the gentlewoman from California (Ms. WATERS) for her relentless efforts ongoing but especially when she was Chair of the Congressional Black Caucus in getting the minority initiative passed and funded. It made a drastic difference, but it is still not enough.

Fulfilling the goals of this initiative must be a top priority. Next decade, however, these goals cannot be met without a comprehensive effort to improve research on the health of my minority communities and develop the interventions capable of reducing these disparities.

The Center for Minority Health and Health Disparities created by the Minority Health and Health Disparities Research and Education Act and the full grant-making authority conferred upon it is an important step toward this effort. And while I am pleased that this critical issue is finally gaining the attention it deserves and again commend the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. LEWIS) for his leadership, the next step forward must be full institute status. This creates a center. It does have full grant-making authority, and that is an important distinction. Usually an institute gives full grant-making. But I do not know why we cannot make this a full institute at the National Institutes of Health.

It is imperative that, as we continue to increase NIH funding, we provide this ongoing issue the permanent attention necessary to eliminate current health disparities and prevent future health disparities from emerging.

All Americans deserve a healthy future. I urge my colleagues to vote yes on the Minority Health and Health Disparities Research and Education Act.

Mr. STRICKLAND. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, have no other speakers. I would just like to close by thanking the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. NORWOOD) for his wonderful leadership in this House on health matters. I also thank the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. LEWIS) and all those who have had a part in the fashioning and the passage of this wonderful piece of legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. NORWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I want to take just a minute to close this up and thank really everybody that has been involved with this over the past 6 months. I am sorry the gentleman from Oklahoma (Mr. WATTS), my good friend, is not here. He has worked very hard and worked with me long to help us get to this point. He has done things way upstairs back there that the rest of us could not do, and I am grateful to him.

This bill is, in my view, pretty meaningful. It has some very interesting prospects for America, one of which is the research. The biomedical research that we are talking about under the auspices of NIH is going to reveal to us, I believe, some anomalies in health care and in medicine that we are not aware of today. At least I hope that is where the research takes us.

Second, and maybe we had not talked about it as much and it is equally important to me, is the education factor of this bill. I readily admit to anyone who asked, very selfishly I hope a lot of this goes to Morehouse Medical School. I hope they do a lot of the education and the research right there. And to continue to be selfish, it is for a very simple reason. The graduates, the doctors, health care professionals that they put out are the people that go into my counties and my communities and treat rural Georgia. That is what I am after here as much as anything else.

So I thank all that have been involved. And I know that we will all follow this, the research and the education aspects of it, very carefully over the coming years and hope and pray that this does what we all intend for it to do.

Mr. ENGEL. Mr. Speaker, I want to commend the authors of this legislation and express my strong support for this bill. Historically, minorities have been under-represented in health research.

It is my hope that establishing a National Center for Research on Minority Health and Health Disparities at the National Institutes of Health will provide the means necessary to meet the health challenges many minorities face. With the unique health problems affecting different racial and ethnic communities, it is essential that this National Center be established to research and develop treatments and cures for afflictions that are more prevalent in minorities.

One of my concerns throughout my tenure in Congress has been the effects of smog and pollution that inner-city residents are exposed to on a daily basis. Within inner-cities, minorities comprise a large portion of the population. I have been a strong advocate on behalf of inner-city communities, including my own district, that have been unfairly burdened by environmental hazards.

I included an amendment in the House version of this bill which simply stated that the Administrator of Health Care Policy, within the National Center for Research on Minority Health and Health Disparities, take into account environmental factors when researching the cause of health disparities for minority populations. While the Senate version of the bill that we are considering today does not include the exact language of my amendment, it does accomplish the goal I intended to address.

The legislation clearly states that when researching barriers many minorities face in obtaining proper health care, the Administrator of Health Care Policy is specifically directed to take into account the socioeconomic status, attitudes toward health, the language spoken, the extent of formal education, the area or community in which the population resides, and other factors the Director determines to be appropriate. It is my hope that by identifying health problems caused by environmental factors, we can begin to address the issue and enhance the quality of life for our urban residents.

Mr. Speaker, I want to reiterate my support for this bill, and I urge my colleagues to vote in favor of this important legislation.

Mr. TOWNS. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the Health Care Fairness Act. As a senior member of the Commerce Committee's Subcommittee on Health and Environment, I have long been concerned about the pervasive inequality of health services endured by America's minority populations.

At a recent hearing before my subcommittee, we confronted the compelling evidence that race and ethnicity correlate with persistent, and often increasing, health disparities among U.S. populations. Despite notable progress in the overall health of the nation, there are continuing disparities in the burden of illness and death experienced by African Americans, Hispanics, and others compared to the U.S. population as a whole. In fact, current information about the biologic and genetic characteristics of racial and ethnic groups does not explain the health disparities experienced by these groups compared with the white, non-Hispanic population. Given the demographic projections for the U.S. population in 2030, I believe that it is imperative that Congress establishes a forward-looking strategy to address health disparities in minority communities.

For example, research shows that the AIDS epidemic is disproportionately affecting minorities. According to the Centers for Disease Control, African Americans, who comprise 13 percent of the U.S. population, account for 49 percent of AIDS deaths in 1998. In March 2000, an audit conducted by the U.S. General Accounting Office assessed how government funding on AIDS programs was spent. The audit concluded that African Americans and Hispanics were receiving substandard care relative to whites in areas such as doctor visits, emergency room care, hospitalizations, and drug therapies.

In order to identify and rectify health disparities that occur among minorities, I agreed to cosponsor H.R. 3250, the House companion to S. 1880, the Health Care Fairness Act. Among other things, this legislation would create a new National Center for Research on Minority Health and Health Disparities. This center would support basic and clinical research, training and the dissemination of information with respect to minority health.

I believe the new National Center will enable us to make real progress toward eliminating the daunting gap in health status between minorities and the rest of America, and I encourage my colleagues to support its passage.

Mr. CUMMINGS. Mr. Speaker, I rise this evening in support of The Minority Health and Health Disparities Research and Education Act.

During his radio address on February 21st, 1998, President Clinton committed the Nation to an ambitious goal by the year 2010:

To eliminate the disparities in six areas of health status experienced by racial and ethnic minority populations while continuing the progress we have made in improving the overall health of the American people.

Achieving the President's vision will require a major national commitment to identify and address the underlying causes of higher levels of disease and disability in racial and ethnic minority communities.

Contrary to what some may say, this legislation is not a "quota" bill.

This legislation that opens the door of fairness and equality for a healthy nation.

Eliminating racial and ethnic disparities in health will require enhanced efforts at preventing disease, promoting health, and delivering appropriate care.

This will necessitate improved collection and use of standardized data to correctly identify all high risk populations and monitor the effectiveness of health interventions targeting these groups.

Research dedicated to a better understanding of the relationships between health status and different racial and ethnic minority backgrounds will help us acquire new insights into eliminating the disparities and developing new ways to apply our existing knowledge toward this goal.

Improving access to quality health care and the delivery of preventive and treatment services will require working more closely with communities to identify culturally-sensitive implementation strategies.

At my request, the Committee on Government Reform held a Congressional hearing entitled, "Ethnic Minority Disparities in Cancer Treatment: Why the Unequal Burden?"

The hearing gave us the opportunity to engage in a more exhaustive investigation of the disparity issue as it related to "conventional" treatments for cancer.

I requested this hearing in response to a study published by the New England Journal of Medicine in October 1999, which reported that African American patients with early stage lung cancer are less likely than whites to undergo life-saving surgery, and as a result are more likely to die of their disease.

The treatment disparities revealed in the study were of great concern to me, particularly when considered along with other data regarding cancer incidence and mortality rates among minorities as compared to the majority population.

In fact, disturbingly:

The incidence rate for lung cancer in African American and Native Hawaiian men is higher than in white men; Hispanics suffer elevated rates of cervical and liver cancer; and Alaskan Native and African American women have the first and second highest all-cancer and lung cancer mortality rates among females;

Cancer has also surpassed heart disease as the leading cause of death for Japanese, Korean, and Vietnamese populations;

Further, while surgery is the treatment option for lung cancer in its early stages, only 64 percent of African Americans had surgery at this stage, as compared to 76.7 percent of white Americans; and Paralleling recommended treatment options, cancer death rates among African Americans are about 35 percent higher than that for whites, and in my district of Baltimore City, 251 African Americans per every 100,000 die of cancer as compared to 194 of whites.

Our Nation is in a "race for the cure." However, we must be mindful that this race for a healthy America must be run by and for all Americans. The entry into this contest should not be dependent on your race, but must be based on your humanity. And winning the race for a quality, healthy life must be a victory for every citizen, no matter their race, ethnicity, or socioeconomic status.

As we move closer to crossing that victory line, we must all work toward a meaningful improvement in the lives of minorities who now suffer disproportionately from the burden of disease and disability.

I will remain committed to the bioethical principles of justice and fairness which call for one standard of health in this country for all Americans, not an acceptable level of disease for minorities and another for the majority population.

Mr. WATTS of Oklahoma. Mr. Speaker, I would like to begin by thanking my House colleagues JOHN LEWIS, BENNIE THOMPSON, CHARLIE NORWOOD, and JESSE JACKSON, Jr., who are champions in this important effort to address the issue of minority health disparities. This is a matter of deep concern to not only African-Americans, but also to Hispanic-Americans, Native-Americans and other minorities who are clearly underserved by the American health care system.

Despite continuing advances in research and medicine, disparities in American health care are a growing problem. This is evidenced by the fact that minority Americans lag behind in nearly every single measure of health quality. Those measures include life expectancy, health care coverage, access to care, and disease rates. Ethnic minorities and individuals in medically underserved rural communities continue to suffer disproportionately from many diseases such as cancer, diabetes, and cardiovascular diseases. There have been numerous studies in scientific journals showing the severity of racial and ethnic disparities and the need for action in order to remedy this grave problem.

For these and countless other reasons, it is time for the nation to focus on this problem and to work to bring fairness to our minority citizens in the nation's public and private health care systems. There is no better place to start this effort than the focal point for federal research, the renowned and highly respected National Institutes of Health.

Since 1996, Congress has increased funding for basic medical research at NIH from $12 billion to over $18 billion—over a 50% increase. These funds support 50,000 scientists working at 2,000 institutions across the United States. I have been proud to support these increases, but I think it is now time that we target some portion of those funds on the nation's most acute health problems among our minority citizens—and I might add, minority taxpayers.

Let me say that I am delighted to be a co-sponsor of this legislation. Among other provisions, this legislation will elevate the existing office of Research on Minority Health at NIH to a National Center for Research on Minority Health. This upgrade to the level of National Center would in itself underscore the importance of this work, and along with expanded research and education, improved data systems and strengthened public awareness, we will be taking a great leap forward in addressing this critical national problem.

The Minority Health and Health Disparities Research and Education Act will increase our knowledge of the nature and causes of health disparities, improve the quality and outcomes of health care services for minority populations, and aid in bringing us closer to our mutual goal of closing the long-standing gap in health care.

I am deeply committed to this legislation, and I urge you to support my colleagues and me in our effort to rectify this inequality in health care.

Mr. DINGELL. Mr. Speaker, I strongly support S. 1880, the Minority Health and Health Disparities Research and Education Act of 2000. I urge all of my colleagues to approve this much needed and long overdue legislation.

We have before us a bill aimed at one of the most significant challenges in health care research and education. The existence of disparities in all aspects of health care is well documented. Reports published by the Institute of Medicine and in the New England Journal of Medicine and the Journal of the American Medical Association are just a few of many that point clearly to the need for quick enactment and implementation of the legislation that is before us today. The Commerce Committee's hearing on this subject highlighted the fact that there are massive differences in the frequency, severity, and survivability of many health conditions among different members of our diverse population. Unfortunately, where you live, what you earn, and the color of your skin make a big difference in health care quality and access.

Great care has been taken in drafting this legislation so that it responds to the panoply of disparities issues without running afoul of the equal protection clause of the Constitution. Indeed, the Department of Justice has concluded that the bill does not trigger strict scrutiny under applicable tests for the validity of laws and programs aimed at addressing inequities that fall, in some cases, along racial and ethnic lines.

Disparities occur for a variety of reasons, so it is not surprising that legislation aimed at identifying and eliminating disparities has several facets. First, S. 1880 addresses biomedical issues through the establishment of a National Center on Minority Health and Health Disparities at the National Institutes of Health. Next, this bill directs the Agency for Health Care Research and Quality to carry out activities to address disparities in health care quality and access. S. 1880 also addresses quality and access issues through the Public Health Service Act's health professions programs.

This legislation enjoys broad bipartisan support. I wish to take particular note of the fine work of my colleagues, Representatives LEWIS, JACKSON, THOMPSON, TOWNS, STRICKLAND, NORWOOD, WATTS, and WHITFIELD. I know that many other of my colleagues on both sides of the aisle contributed to the effort of getting this bill before us today and I am grateful to all of them. Our colleagues in the Senate, particularly Senators KENNEDY and FRIST, also made significant contributions to this bill.

I urge my colleagues to join me in support of this bill.

Mr. STARK. Mr. Speaker, one of America's most important assets is the diversity of our residents, and this diversity is growing rapidly. Between 1991 and 2000, the population of Asians and Pacific Islanders increased by 46 percent, Latinos by 40 percent, American Indians by 16 percent, and African Americans by 14 percent.

Unfortunately, vestiges of racism—both conscious and unconscious—still exist, permeating our society and our institutions. Last month, I highlighted research findings that demonstrate people of color disproportionately lack access to health care, vital treatments, and preventive screening measures. In addition, a recent New England Journal of Medicine study found that unconscious perceptions and biases can be revealed in differential physician recommendations for minority individuals seeking heart disease treatment. Taken together, these findings underscore the urgency of supporting legislation to improve health care quality for diverse communities.

So far, very little has been done to address these tremendous disparities. For example, people of color are disproportionately affected by certain types of cancers—Vietnamese American women are five times more likely to contract cervical cancer than white women and Africa Americans are 35 percent more likely to die from cancer than whites. Despite these alarming statistics, the Institute of Medicine concluded that federal funding for cancer research among communities of color remains insufficient.

S. 1880, The Health Care Fairness Act is an opportunity to positively improve the health care of all Americans by working toward reducing these disparities. It is a bipartisan effort that contains many important provisions, including an increased commitment to research on health disparities, improved data systems, and enhanced quality of care for health disparity populations, including low-income, medically underserved, racial and ethnic minority, and rural individuals.

This legislation ensures a prominent focus in our nation's premier research agencies—the National Institutes of Health and the Agency for Health Care Policy Research—in improving health outcomes for populations that have a significant disparity in the rate of disease incidence, prevalence, morbidity, mortality, or survival as compared to the general population. It also provides grants to our medical, public health, dental, nursing, and other health professional schools so that curricula to promote improved health care quality can be developed for these populations. Furthermore, it designates opportunities for training so that our current and future medical providers are equipped to join the fight against health disparities due to geography, the lack of medical services, race and ethnicity, and socioeconomic status.

Our country has made phenomenal advancements in science and medicine. It is time to ensure that all of our communities share in these rewards. This is a chance to help ensure our health care system is just, equitable, and equal for all Americans. Support fairness in health care, and vote for S. 1880.

Mr. NORWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. SUNUNU). The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. NORWOOD) that the House suspend the rules and pass the Senate bill, S. 1880.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the Senate bill was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mrs. MORELLA. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks on H.R. 207.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentlewoman from Maryland?

There was no objection.

Mrs. MORELLA. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I am pleased that we are considering H.R. 207, as amended. This important bill makes two critical changes that will allow for better pay comparability for Federal physicians. The first change, which was not part of the original H.R. 207, would include a permanent extension of the Physicians Comparability Allowance. This will eliminate the need to reauthorize the language every 3 years.

The bill would also include a physician’s PCA in his or her average pay for purposes of computing retirement. Presently the “high-three” that is used to calculate a title 5 physician’s retirement annuity does not include the additional PCA component of his or her salary. Again, when I say PCA, I mean the Physicians Comparability Allowance.

In title 37, which governs the Uniformed Services and the military, bonus pay is counted as part of base pay for calculation of retirement benefits. Title 38, which governs the Veterans Affairs, also allows physicians who, in this case, have served at least 15 years to count their bonus compensation as part of basic pay for retirement purposes.

Thus, my bill does not create any unique benefit. It only allows title 5 physicians to receive the same benefit that other Federal physicians receive.

In 1978, Congress first responded to the critical shortage of Federal physicians and the gap in income for civil service physicians, as compared to the Department of Defense and Veterans Affairs physicians. And it responded to it by enacting the Physicians Comparability Act of 1978. This bill provided for a maximum of $10,000 a year in special pay to civil service physicians. The present maximum is $30,000.

Since the PCA was originally passed, there have been several extensions in the authority, most recently in 1998. But the uncertainty of PCA reauthorization every 3 years makes it quite difficult for agencies to negotiate contracts with physicians.

Agencies are often forced to delay negotiations with physicians, and delays in negotiations are a disincentive to potential candidates, and they lead to increased administrative burden for the agency.

In the event that the Congress does not reauthorize PCA, the different agencies must create contingency plans for each contract negotiation. The increased administrative burden as well as the recruitment disincentives posed by these uncertainties would be eliminated by making PCA a permanent authority. We cannot allow our best Federal physicians to defect to the private sector. The work they do is just simply too important.

Title 5 Federal physicians eligible for the PCA are working on cures for AIDS, cancer, and heart disease, and they protect the safety of food and drugs. They also provide medical care to Defense and State Department employees and dependents, airline pilots, astronauts, Native Americans and Federal prisoners.

The PCA gives agencies such as NIH, CDC and the FDA the flexibility to attract physicians from diverse backgrounds into mission-critical fields that are not predicated toward single-population groups. The traditional battlefield specialties of title 37 and title 38 physicians do not represent the future medical staff diversity needs.

In considering the pool of potential future applicants, statistics indicate that 40 percent of those entering medical schools are now women. The majority of these female graduates indicate pursuit of fields such as pediatrics, psychiatry, and internal medicine. Thus the PCA is a fair and effective tool for maintaining diversity among Federal physicians.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. CUMMINGS. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, it is critical that the Federal Government be able to recruit and retain the best and brightest in the field of medicine. I thus commend the gentlewoman from Maryland (Mrs. MORELLA) for having the foresight to introduce H.R. 207 to address an inequity.

The government cannot pay civil service physicians on the same scale as physicians employed in hospitals, HMOs, and universities. The Physicians Comparability Act enacted by Congress in 1978 provides Federal physicians with additional compensation to offset their lower pay and to ensure that the government can recruit and retain well-qualified physicians.

H.R. 207 would permanently extend authority for the Physicians Comparability Allowance to eliminate the need to reauthorize the legislation every 3 years.

H.R. 207 would also amend title 5 to authorize the PCA to be included as part of basic pay for retirement purposes for all civil service physicians. Under current law, depending on the Federal agency that hired them, only certain physicians receiving comparability pay are allowed to have the amount included in the calculations for retirement pay. H.R. 207 would erase this inequity and ensure that the government treats comparability pay the same for all Federal physicians.

This legislation will not only help retain over 3,000 Federal-employed physicians who were awarded PCAs last year, but will help the Federal Government recruit highly trained physicians to join their ranks.

The government’s ability to attract highly qualified physicians at such agencies as the Food and Drug Administration, the National Institutes of Health, and the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration, is one of the reasons that the United States has led the world in medical research advances.

I would like to remind my colleagues, however, that we have an obligation as lawmakers to ensure that these medical advances benefit all Americans regardless of race. As such, it gives me great pleasure to know that we have just passed Senate bill, S. 1880, to authorize these very institutions, our Nation’s medical centers, to collaborate in an effort to eliminate racial and ethnic disparities in health.

Our Nation is in a “race for the cure.” The entry into this contest should not be dependent on one’s race, but must be based on one’s humanity. Winning the race for a quality healthy life must be a victory for every citizen no matter the race or ethnicity or the socioeconomic status.

As we move closer to crossing that victory line, we must all work toward a meaningful improvement in the lives of minorities who now suffer disproportionately from the burden of disease and disability.

Further, as the bill before us, H.R. 207, provides, we must also ensure that those physicians that have our lives in their hands are treated fairly and equitably.

This bill is supported by the Federal Physicians Association, the American Medical Association, and the American Academy of Family Physicians, and the National Treasury Employees Union.

Mr. Speaker, I urge all of our Members to join me and give this bill their support.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mrs. MORELLA. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Speaker, in 1997, I commissioned a GAO study to review the PCA and its usefulness, and the report that was submitted confirmed that the Physicians Comparability Allowance is critical. In addition, H.R. 207 has been endorsed, as we have heard, by the American Medical Association, the American Osteopathic Association, the American Academy of Family Physicians, a number of State Medical Societies, as well as a number of our employee unions.

In the last several years, I have heard from thousands of Federal physicians across the country who have stated very clearly that, without the PCA, they would have chosen a different career. The permanent PCA extension, coupled with the inclusion of a physician's PCA in his or her average pay for purposes of computing retirement, demonstrates that Congress is serious about maintaining the quality of care that presently exists within our Federal agencies.

The government cannot pay physicians on the same scale as physicians employed in hospitals, HMOs, and universities. But passage of H.R. 207 shows that the government will make every effort to recruit and retain highly trained and well-qualified physicians. I certainly applaud its passage this evening.

I do want to take this opportunity to thank the gentleman from Florida (Mr. SCARBOROUGH), the chairman of the Subcommittee on Civil Service, his staff director Gary Ewing, as well as the gentleman from Indiana (Chairman BURTON) of the Committee on Government Reform and Oversight and his staff aid Dan Moll for their support in expediting consideration of the resolution.

I also want to thank the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. CUMMINGS), the ranking member of the Subcommittee on Civil Service, the gentleman from California (Mr. WAXMAN), ranking member of the Committee on Government Reform and Oversight, for their support.

In addition, Ted Newland and Harry Wolf of OPM were very helpful in working with us to recraft this legislation to ensure that there were no inequities written into the bill. I also want to point out the instrumental roles that Dennis Boyd and Richard Granville played in drafting and helping us to pass this legislation. Finally, I have to thank my diligent staff assistance, Jordi Hannum, and Ed Leong of Legislative Counsel for his tireless efforts in advising my staff.

So I ask for unanimous passage of this very important legislation.

Mr. DAVIS of Virginia. Mr. Speaker, I am very happy to be able to rise today in support of my good friend from Maryland, Mrs. MORELLA's bill, that will help improve pay and retirement conditions for physicians employed by the Federal Government.

The bill, H.R. 207, corrects a number of problems with the current pay structure for Title 5 physicians. For one, it would permanently extend the Physicians Comparability Allowance (PCA), eliminating the need to reauthorize this language every three years. Additionally, the bill would include the physician's PCA as part of their base, average pay for the purpose of computing their retirement benefits, thus allowing them to boost their retirement contributions. This is not a new, unique benefit for physicians in the federal government, this is simply extending a formula Title 37 and 38 physicians have had for years.

H.R. 207 is a bill seeking pay equity for all physicians within the federal government. It is important to note that physicians under Title 5 are the same that are working on cures for cancer, AIDS, and heart disease; protecting the safety of our food and prescription drugs; and providing direct medical care to federal employees, and their dependents, in the State and Defense Departments. It is truly unfortunate that the government cannot pay physicians on the same scale as the private sector, but amending the PCA for Title 5 physicians will provide some compensation to offset the loss in income they have willingly accepted to become public servants.

I ask all my colleagues to join the American Medical Association, the American Academy of Family Physicians, and a continually growing list of State medical societies (including my home state of Virginia), in supporting this important legislation. I want to thank the gentlelady from Maryland for her persistence and leadership on this matter, and hope this bill will be supported by this House.

Mrs. MORELLA. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. SUNUNU). The question is on the motion offered by the gentlewoman from Maryland (Mrs. MORELLA) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 207, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

The title of the bill was amended so as to read:

"A bill to amend title 5, United States Code, to make permanent the authority under which comparability allowances may be paid to Government physicians, and to provide that such allowances be treated as part of basic pay for retirement purposes."

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

PROVIDING FOR SPECIAL IMMIGRANT STATUS FOR CERTAIN U.S. INTERNATIONAL BROADCASTING EMPLOYEES

Mr. GEKAS. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the Senate bill (S. 3239) to amend the Immigration and Nationality Act to provide special immigrant status for certain United States international broadcasting employees.

The Clerk read as follows:

S. 3239

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SPECIAL IMMIGRANT STATUS FOR CERTAIN UNITED STATES INTERNATIONAL BROADCASTING EMPLOYEES.

(a) SPECIAL IMMIGRANT CATEGORY.—Section 101(a)(27) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1101(a)(27)) is amended—

(1) by striking "or" at the end of subparagraph (K);

(2) by striking the period at the end of subparagraph (L); and

(3) by adding at the end the following new subparagraph:

"(M) subject to the numerical limitations of section 203(b)(4), an immigrant who seeks to enter the United States to work as a broadcaster in the United States for the International Broadcasting Bureau of the Broadcasting Board of Governors, or for a grantee of the Broadcasting Board of Governors, and the immigrant's accompanying spouse and children."

(b) NUMERICAL LIMITATIONS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Section 203(b)(4) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1153(b)(4)) is amended by inserting before the period at the end the following: ", and not more than 100 may be made available in any fiscal year to special immigrants, excluding spouses and children, who are described in section 101(a)(27)(M)".

(2) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendment made by paragraph (1) shall apply to visas made available in any fiscal year beginning on or after October 1, 2000.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. GEKAS) and the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. JACKSON-LEE) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. GEKAS).

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. GEKAS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on S. 3239.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Pennsylvania?

There was no objection.

Mr. GEKAS. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, the bill before us is one that accommodates one of the best mechanisms we have as Americans of promoting liberty, justice and freedom across the world. I refer, of course, to the utilization of the international broadcasting services that we provide to citizens of other lands. Radio Free Europe, Radio Iraq, Radio Marti, Radio Free Asia, all of these are set for the purpose of teaching other peoples how we function as a society and inspiring them to seek in their own countries the foundations of liberty and freedom which we take for granted and which we enjoy.

The problem is that these broadcasting services have discovered that we need bilingual personnel to work in these broadcasting services. So we have to try to accommodate their coming to our country for that purpose.

The State Department seems to have a natural hurdle to that, a block, if you will, to their just flowing into our country for these purposes. So we have to establish, and this legislation does it, a special kind of visa to permit 100 of these broadcasters, 100 per year to come into our country. They are going to be invaluable as they stream into our country.

It will alleviate also, for their own personal freedom, the possibility of oppression if they are doing our work in their own countries but doing it from here. Broadcasting in their native language will get the message across, provide them with safeguards, and will foster the entire purpose of the international broadcasting services of which we are so proud.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. JACKSON-LEE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I thank the distinguished gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. GEKAS); and I, too, rise in support of this bill, S. 3239, which would amend the Immigration and Nationality Act, to provide special immigrant status for certain international broadcasting employees.

S. 3239 would establish a new immigrant visa category for international broadcasting employees which would be subject to numerical limitations. It would provide a maximum of 200 visas in the first year, which would deal with the current critical shortage of international broadcasters. Then it would provide a maximum of 100 visas annually for 3 successive years. Also, it would waive the labor certification requirement for the broadcasters who receive the visas.

The people who work in the international broadcasting industry are highly skilled individuals. They must have journalistic skills. They must be fluent in a number of languages. Many times, Mr. Speaker, they are exchanging concepts of democracy and other governmental concepts to foreign countries where people are hungering after information, and so these people must have an in-depth knowledge of the people, history and cultures of other nations.

Historically it has not been possible to find a sufficient number of people in the American workforce who have this combination of skills. All of us realize, however, that this is an important effort to ensure that we do have a diverse employee base and provide the kind of training to Americans that would provide them with the skills to be international broadcasters.

Similar to our plea as we provided 195,000 H-1B visas, it is going to be important that we train an American workforce to ensure that they too can be part of the high technology industry.

With respect to these particular visas, the availability of these visas would help to provide needed broadcasters for the Voice of America, Radio Free Asia and Radio Free Europe, or Radio Liberty. This bill would provide the assistance that the international broadcasting industry needs to continue to provide essential news coverage around the world.

Mr. Speaker, I am very glad to be able to stand here and support these special needs, as did I in our discussion on H-1B, even though we are looking to expand some additional opportunities for American workers and minorities. And I am very pleased to stand here today and support this legislation because I happen to believe in the Voice of America and Radio Free Asia and Radio Free Europe. I think that we have found that it teaches democracy in a very effective way.

At the same time, Mr. Speaker, I am certainly concerned and dismayed that my colleagues have not seen fit to support the Latino Immigration Fairness Act. That is part of the logjam that we are having in this Congress where we are not realizing that individuals who have been here working in the United States paying taxes and paying for their mortgages and sending their children to school and doing the work that America needs them do, whether it is trash pickup or whether it is waiting on them in restaurants, Mr. Speaker, we see fit in this Congress not to provide them with access to legalization.

Just the other day, we had a debate where someone got on the floor and talked about who came to this country legally and who did not come to this country legally and talking about the Statue of Liberty.

Well, Mr. Speaker, I would simply say to my colleagues that it is enormously important that, as we support these specialized non-immigrant visas for international broadcasters or high-tech industry, that we look to those common working men and women, the average working man and woman, who needs the Latino Immigration Fairness Act, and I would believe that this Congress needs to stand on the right side of this issue and stop throwing accusations against people who are hard working, who are immigrants, and who deserve to be here.

What a tragedy to be able to vote this good bill today but yet we are not able to vote for a bill that would provide the fairness to these individuals.

While I was in this debate on the floor of the House, Mr. Speaker, would you imagine that someone indicated that everyone who came to this country previous to these years came here legally.

I did want to engage in a chastising debate. But frankly, Mr. Speaker, I did not come here legally. My ancestors came here slaves. And yet, we contributed a great deal to this country. We are very proud of the fact that we did contribute, and we are still contributing. These individuals came here out of persecution, prosecution and fear of their lives, but they came here under the encouragement of the United States Government.

Just a few years ago, we gave the same kind of relief to Nicaraguans and Cubans and what happened was that we failed to do the right thing, the equitable thing and include people from Honduras, Guatemala, Haiti and Liberia. The only thing we are asking at this time, Mr. Speaker, is that we do the right thing.

So I am very pleased to support S. 3239, but I believe that we are doing a great disservice and we are undermining the high status of this body by not passing the Latino Immigration Fairness Act.

Mr. GEKAS. Mr. Speaker, I continue to reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from California (Ms. PELOSI), a member of the Subcommittee on Foreign Operations, Export Financing and Related Programs and a very distinguished Member of this body.

Ms. PELOSI. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding me the time. I thank her for her great leadership on the Committee on the Judiciary on issues of fairness in relationship to our immigration policy, whether it is the H-1B visa and what the impact is on our engineers in our own country and recognition of the need for the H-1B but also for the need to educate and train our own workers, for her leadership on the immigration fairness issues, for equity for the 245(i), for parity, et cetera, in the fairness issues, and I associate myself fully with her remarks on those subjects again commending her for her tremendous leadership, her relentlessness on behalf of fairness in our immigration policy.

I thank the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. JACKSON-LEE) and commend her for her leadership on this issue, which is the immigration fairness issues, as well as on the health disparity issue.

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. GEKAS) for his leadership in assisting us with this legislation and his leadership on the Committee on the Judiciary and finally say that this bill should be passed by this body. These international broadcasters and the non-immigrant visa status that they are giving will help spread democracy around the world.

As we do that, Mr. Speaker, I could not conclude without saying, likewise, let us share democracy with those that are reaching for freedom and justice in this country who are simply seeking access to legalization. That is thousands and thousands of immigrants who have come here fleeing persecution. And this House now stands to deny them that right by not working to pass the Latino Immigration Fairness Act. I believe that we should do that, along with S. 3239.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. GEKAS. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume, only for the purpose of asking that the record show that the gentleman from Texas (Mr. SMITH) is the prime mover of this legislation and has been involved in its foundation for a long time, along with the member of the Senate, JESSE HELMS, who has had an outstanding interest in the furtherance of this legislation.

George Fishman, the staff member for the gentleman from Texas (Mr. SMITH) has been important in bringing this to the floor.

Mr. BERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support this legislation which will allow the Broadcasting Board of Governors (BBG) to receive a limited number of special immigrant visas, 100 per year, to allow broadcasters to work in the United States for the Voice of America, Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty, and Radio Free Asia.

This legislation would allow the BBG to utilize a uniform visa category for all of its broadcast entities; allow the family members of those serving U.S. interests to integrate into U.S. life; and provide protection through permanent residency to those broadcasters whose lives may be threatened because they provide accurate information about dictatorships and corrupt officials abroad.

U.S. international broadcasters continue to reach societies which live under regimes that censor the information available to their citizens. Some, after serving U.S. international broadcasting, are unable to return to their countries of origin for fear of retaliation against themselves or their families.

Certain employees of Radio Free Iraq have been threatened with their lives because of the work they do to empower citizens through the free flow of accurate information.

U.S. international broadcasting remains a vital part of our international effort to encourage democracy-building abroad. Its successes precede and follow the Cold War. For example, the most recent BBG survey showed that RFE/RL was the number-one radio station among Serbians during the recent attempt to topple Slobodan Milosevic. Foreign populations rely on broadcasting sponsored by the U.S. as a lifeline in a crisis.

Recognizing this, we need to provide the means for the BBG to recruit, retain, and protect the talented individuals it employs.

Mr. GEKAS. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. SHIMKUS). The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. GEKAS) that the House suspend the rules and pass the Senate bill, S. 3239.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the Senate bill was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. GEKAS) and the gentlewoman from Wisconsin (Ms. BALDWIN) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. GEKAS).

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. GEKAS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and to include extraneous material on H.R. 5540.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Pennsylvania?

There was no objection.

Mr. GEKAS. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, this legislation extends the life of chapter 12 in the Bankruptcy Code as we know it today. Chapter 12 is devoted to a special kind of bankruptcy relief that is granted to the farm community and to farmers who feel the burdens of the debt that has caused them to seek bankruptcy relief.

What we have at this moment is a kind of a hiatus. We are waiting for the Senate to act on what is euphemistically called the Gekas-Grassley bankruptcy reform bill which contains an extension, a permanent status for chapter 12, actually. What we are doing here is filling a vacuum between last June and the time that we have consumed since then waiting for action by the Senate. This temporary extension will take us into next year and will offer this special relief for our farmers on a continuing basis, as well as the extension of some temporary judgeships that are needed for the current flow of bankruptcy across the Nation, five extensions of temporary judgeships and 23 appointments of temporary judges, all of this in the context of the burgeoning world of bankruptcy which is plaguing our country and which has created a workload that requires special attention.

This legislation has drawn broad support from all those who observe bankruptcy, who work in bankruptcy, who legislate as we do in the arena of bankruptcy, and who are eager to see reforms occur throughout the system.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 5540, introduced by the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. SMITH), would extend chapter 12 of the bankruptcy code for an additional 11 months. Chapter 12 is the safety net of last resort for our farmers. It expired 4 months ago, on July 1, 2000. That means that if in the last 4 months a family farmer in my State of Wisconsin, or anywhere else in the United States, has needed the protection of chapter 12, they have not had it. Farmers in the most dire of economic circumstances do not have that protection today. Fortunately, this bill takes effect retroactively.

I am pleased that the House earlier passed a permanent and expanded chapter 12 bankruptcy provision as part of H.R. 2415. However, it appears unlikely that the bill will pass into law this session. Therefore, temporary extension of chapter 12 is needed to ensure that farmers are given the economic security that they need.

Chapter 12 is tailored to meet the unique economic realities of family farming during times of severe economic crisis. With chapter 12, Congress created a chapter of the bankruptcy code that provides a framework to prevent family farms from going out of business. At the time of its enactment in 1986, Congress was unable to foresee whether chapter 12 would be needed by America's family farmers indefinitely. Congress has extended chapter 12 four times since then. The law expired, as I said, on July 1, 2000. We must extend this law and ultimately make it permanent. The family farm is the backbone of the rural economy in Wisconsin and all over the Nation. Without chapter 12 protection, a family farmer has little choice but to liquidate all assets, sell the land, equipment, crops and herd to pay off creditors if an economic crisis hits. This means losing the farm. Losing a farm means losing a supplier of food and a way of life. When a family decides it can no longer afford to farm, many times that farm is lost forever to development or sprawl.

With chapter 12 in place when an economic disaster hits America's farmers, a family's farmland and other farm-related resources cannot be seized by creditors. A bankruptcy judge for the Western District of Wisconsin notes that chapter 12 has been used in his jurisdiction more than 50 times over the past year. Obviously, in this time of severe economic farm crisis, chapter 12 is needed. Our farmers must have the assurance that if they must reorganize their farm in order to keep their farm, they can do so. Chapter 12 must be there for them.

Chapter 12 must also be there for us. In order to protect America's food supply, it is in our country's best interest to protect family farms from foreclosure. Mr. Speaker, family farmers in Wisconsin are having a tough time. Wisconsin dairy farmers continue to be at the same price disadvantage they have been subject to for over 60 years. Wisconsin pork producers, like pork producers everywhere, are losing thousands of dollars every month. Soybean prices are at record lows and have seen a 36 percent decline in 3 years. In the past 6 years alone, Wisconsin has lost over 7,000 family farms at a rate equivalent to five per day.

The picture is similar nationally. In 1950, there were 5.6 million farms averaging 213 acres each in the country. In 1998, there were only 2.2 million farms averaging 432 acres each. Our families must have the assurance that if they are to reorganize their farms to keep their farms, they can do so. Farmers, like all of us, should be able to plan for their futures.

I support the passage of H.R. 5540 and hope that it becomes law quickly. I also look forward to assuring that chapter 12 becomes a permanent protection so that family farmers do not again face expiration of bankruptcy protection.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. GEKAS. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I want the RECORD to show that Susan Jensen-Conklin, the resident expert on bankruptcy, assisted us in not just this but on all phases of our work in bankruptcy; and Ray Smietanka, the chief counsel of our subcommittee, has also contributed handily to all of this.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 4 minutes to the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. SMITH).

Mr. SMITH of Michigan. Mr. Speaker, the gentlewoman from Wisconsin

(Ms. BALDWIN) talked to me going out the hall here maybe 3 weeks ago and I said, Shall we introduce the bill to last another 6 months? The gentlewoman from Wisconsin said, No, let's do it at least till June. This is somewhat of a frustration for us, I think, because there have been some that thought by only temporarily extending chapter 12 bankruptcy, which is vital for farmers that happen to be down on their luck, if we leave that out and only do it temporarily, somehow it is going to encourage the passage of the full bankruptcy package. I would hope something could happen on that package. Tomorrow morning the Senate is voting on cloture. The odds are that the bill will go to the President. Then the President has got to make a decision. But somehow there have got to be changes, that people that borrow money are not burdened by yet higher interest rates, because it is too easy to go into bankruptcy.

Likewise, talking to the gentleman from New York (Mr. NADLER), it is reasonable to conclude that some of those lenders probably are more eager to loan because they usually can go into the assets of that individual and end up making money at whatever interest rate they might be charging. Chapter 12 of the bankruptcy code is a very special provision available to America's family farmers in times of hardship. It allows family farms to reorganize their assets rather than liquidate them under the bankruptcy code. Without chapter 12, Mr. Speaker, many farmers would be forced to sell their farming equipment, which would mean that the farmer no longer has the plow and the planter and the disc and the cultivator and the milking machines that they need to make money on the farm. So without chapter 12, to file under chapter 11 or 13, it is a particular hardship on this kind of family farm business.

It is limited to family farmers, because under the provisions of this law, it specifically limits these chapter 12 provisions to a definition of the family farmer; and it eliminates many of the barriers that family farmers face when they seek to reorganize under chapter 11 or chapter 13.

Some have thought, as I mentioned, that continuing this as a temporary would somehow motivate the passage of the full bill. However, this is my fourth bill that has temporarily extended the chapter 12 bankruptcy for farmers that has passed through this Chamber. So I am not sure it is the motivator that some would hope.

In terms of amending this bill to add the judges, I objected to that simply because I do not want provisions in the bill that some Senators have indicated that they disagree with to slow down and reduce by any way the assurance that this bill is going to pass into law.

Let me say again, this relief is narrowly tailored to family farmers. Family farmers are those with debts less than $1.5 million, with 80 percent of their assets consisting of farm assets and 50 percent of their income coming from farm income. This ensures that it is only family farmers that qualify for these provisions.

Again, hopefully sometime we are going to be able to make this permanent.

Mr. Speaker, Chapter 12 of the bankruptcy code is a special provision available to America's family farmers in times of hardship. It allows family farms to reorganize their assets rather than liquidate them under our bankruptcy code. Without Chapter 12, Mr. Speaker, many farmers would be forced to sell off their farming equipment, which would mean that the farmer could no longer reorganize and farm in order to pay debtors.

Chapter 12 eliminates many of the barriers that family farmers face when seeking to reorganize under either Chapter 11 or Chapter 13 of the bankruptcy code. Unlike these others, however, Chapter 12 expired last June and needs to be renewed. Leaders in both the House and the Senate have hoped a total bankruptcy reform bill would become law with provisions to make chapter 12 permanent. My bill, H.R. 5540, would extend it, retroactively, through May of 2001. My preference and what this Congress should pass, is to make Chapter 12 permanent. Some have thought that continuing Chapter 12 as a temporary provision would somehow encourage Congress and the President to pass the complete bankruptcy reform package into law. However, we have now passed four of my bills for temporary extension out of this chamber. So Chapter 12 as a motivator has failed.

This relief is narrowly tailored to family farmers. Family farmers are those with debt less than $1.5 million, with 80% of their assets consisting of farm assets and 50% of their income from farm income. This ensures that it is only family farmers that qualify for these provisions.

Again, hopefully, we'll be able to enact Chapter 12 permanently when we pass much needed bankruptcy overhaul legislation. But we need to make sure that Chapter 12 is available to our constituents in the interim and it's vital that we pass this legislation before Congress adjourns.

Ms. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I yield 4 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from New York (Mr. NADLER), the ranking member of the Subcommittee on Commercial and Administrative Law.

Mr. NADLER. Mr. Speaker, today we consider legislation to give family farmers another reprieve from the brinkmanship the Republican majority has been playing with the protection available under chapter 12 of the bankruptcy code. While I seriously doubt that anyone will vote against this bill, it is unfortunate that we are still playing politics with the future of family farmers in America. I do want to commend the gentlewoman from Wisconsin (Ms. BALDWIN), who has consistently and energetically fought to protect family farmers, sometimes against enormous odds. In the Committee on the Judiciary, on the floor of the House and in discussions with leadership and with her colleagues, she has been a powerful voice for the family farmer and truly one of their best advocates.

The legislation we are considering today is the result of her bipartisan efforts along with the efforts of the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. SMITH), whose commitment to family farmers is similarly without question. Yet despite this bipartisan support, we go on with temporary extension after temporary extension. In fact, the political games being played with family farmers have been so extreme that chapter 12 was actually permitted to go out of existence last July 1. Each time, every year we have extended chapter 12 by a scant few months. This bill does so for 11 months. This has been going on for years.

Why do we continue to string family farmers along? Why not finally pass a permanent extension? What policy justification can there possibly be to enact the permanent extension of chapter 12 when there is bipartisan agreement in both Houses that we should do so? I have yet to hear any policy justification. So it would be preferable to pass a permanent extension bill today. But this temporary bill is the best we can get in this Congress, so I urge everyone to approve it.

This legislation will also extend, finally, a number of temporary bankruptcy judgeships and provide for additional bankruptcy judgeships in areas where increasing workloads necessitate them. This judgeship legislation has always been noncontroversial in this House. It was passed by the House in the form of a bill sponsored by the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. HYDE), the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. GEKAS), the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. CONYERS), and myself 4 years ago.

There has been no disagreement that these additional judgeships are absolutely necessary. In fact, the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. KINGSTON), who has introduced his own bill on this subject, has joined me and the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. DINGELL) as cosponsors of this legislation. As with chapter 12, there is no policy argument against providing the necessary judicial resources to process cases fairly and in a timely manner. Delay costs everyone, debtors and creditors alike. We owe it to families and businesses in our communities to ensure that our courts can function fairly and normally. No additions to the bankruptcy bench have been made since 1992 despite the many speeches delivered on this floor concerning the large rise in bankruptcy filings. These additions to the bench are long overdue and should be approved.

Mr. Speaker, if we do not pass this bill, cases will be delayed in overcrowded courts and families will lose their farms. We should do the people's business and pass this bipartisan, non-controversial bill today.

□ 2230

Ms. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. GEKAS. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume, only for the purpose of also extending my gratitude to the gentleman from South Carolina (Mr. GRAHAM), to the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. KINGSTON), to the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. CASTLE), for continuously contributing to the final outcome in the passage of this bill.

Mr. CONYERS. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this legislation before us today. This bill extends the period in which family farmers may recognize their debts for ten additional months. H.R. 5540 will meet the needs of financially distressed family farmers by giving them a chance to keep their farms. In addition, this legislation will provide much needed bankruptcy judgeships several states including Alabama, California, Delaware, Georgia, Maryland, Michigan, Mississippi, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia.

While I do support this legislation, I would be remiss if I did not raise the issue that this legislation continuously has been extended because we have not yet brought forth acceptable bankruptcy reform legislation. Although we all agree that H.R. 5540 is necessary to aid our nation's farmers who are facing financial distress, we are constantly faced with the task of renewing this legislation instead of making it permanent. And it is well noted that the bankruptcy court system is overwrought with a backlog of cases and too few judges to handle the caseload. Despite the need to pass a bill that addresses important issues such as the needs of our farmers and our children as well as our nation's citizens and our bankruptcy courts, the leadership established a stealth process allowing wealthy creditors to severely undermine the goal of protecting the ability of small businesses to get a fresh start. The process questioned the integrity of the legislative process of the House. While conferees were appointed, no conference took place. Instead, a bankruptcy bill conference report was negotiated by a small group of staff working for a handful of Members in a closed door process, although the rules dictate that conference meetings must held in public. The most contentious issues were considered by the Republican leadership, excluding Democrats. This legislation was attached to an unrelated conference report and passed with minimal public scrutiny. Thankfully, the President has threatened a veto of this unjust legislation.

With H.R. 5540, we can ensure that for at least the next ten months, the family farmers are given the ability to engage in reorganization efforts. We also will make strides towards curing our nation's bankruptcy court system of serious backlog. I urge a "yes" vote.

Mr. BEREUTER. Mr. Speaker, this Member rises today to express his support for H.R. 5540, which extends Chapter 12 of the Bankruptcy Code to June 1, 2001. Chapter 12 bankruptcy, which allows family farmers to reorganize their debts as compared to liquidating their assets, was scheduled to expire last year, but it has been extended through enactment of separate legislation.

This Member would thank the distinguished gentleman from Michigan (Mr. NICK SMITH) for introducing H.R. 5540. In addition, this Member would like to express his appreciation to the distinguished chairman of the Judiciary Committee from Illinois (Mr. HENRY HYDE), and the distinguished ranking minority member of the Judiciary Committee from Michigan (Mr.

JOHN CONYERS, Jr.) for their efforts in expediting this measure to the House floor today.

Chapter 12 bankruptcy has been a viable option for family farmers nationwide. It has allowed family farmers to reorganize their assets in a manner which balances the interests of creditors and the future success of the involved farmer. If Chapter 12 bankruptcy provisions are not extended for family farmers, this will have a drastic impact on an agricultural sector already reeling from low commodity prices. Not only will many family farmers have to end their operations, but also land values will likely plunge downward. Such a decrease in land values will affect both the ability of family farmers to earn a living and the manner in which banks, making agricultural loans, conduct their lending activities. This Member has received many contacts from his constituents regarding the extension of Chapter 12 bankruptcy because of the serious situation now being faced by our nation's farm families—although the U.S. economy is generally healthy, it is clear that agricultural sector is hurting.

The gravity of this situation for family farmers nationwide makes it imperative that Chapter 12 bankruptcy is extended. Moreover, it is this Member's hope that Chapter 12 bankruptcy is extended permanently as provided in the conference report of the Bankruptcy Reform Act of 1999, which passed the House by a vote of 237–174, with this Member's support, on October 26, 2000. Unfortunately, the Senate has yet to pass this conference report. Furthermore, this Member is an original co-sponsor of the Bankruptcy Reform Act, that was introduced by the distinguished chairman of the Judiciary Subcommittee on Commercial and Administrative Law from Pennsylvania (Mr. GEORGE GEKAS).

Mr. GEKAS. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. SHIMKUS). The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. GEKAS) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 5540, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

The title of the bill was amended so as to read:

"A bill to extend for 11 additional months the period for which chapter 12 of title 11 of the United States Code is reenacted; to provide for additional temporary bankruptcy judges; and for other purposes."

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

(b) CONSIDERATION OF WESTERN POPULATION INFORMATION.—The Secretary should ensure that, to the greatest extent practicable, information from current and future studies of the western gray whale population is considered in the study under this section, so as to better understand the dynamics of each population and to test different hypotheses that may lead to an increased understanding of the mechanism driving their respective population dynamics.

(c) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—In addition to other amounts authorized under this title, there are authorized to be appropriated to the Secretary to carry out this section—

(1) $290,000 for fiscal year 2001; and

(2) $500,000 for each of fiscal years 2002 through 2004.

SEC. 204. CONVEYANCE OF FISHERY RESEARCH VESSEL TO AMERICAN SAMOA.

(b) LIMITATION.—The Secretary may not convey a vessel under this section before the date on which a new replacement fishery research vessel has been delivered to the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration and put in active service.

(c) OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE.—The Government of the United States shall not be responsible or liable for any maintenance or operation of a vessel conveyed under this section after the date of the delivery of the vessel to American Samoa.

“(3) existing State and Federal authorities are inadequate or should be supplemented to ensure coordinated and comprehensive conservation and management of the area, including resource protection, scientific research, and public education;

“(4) designation of the area as a national marine sanctuary will facilitate the objectives stated in paragraph (3); and

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—Such Act is further amended—

(1) in section 304(a)(1)(C) (as amended by section 6(a) of the National Marine Sanctuaries Amendments Act of 2000) by striking “the Secretary shall”; and

SEC. 206. WESTERN PACIFIC PROJECT GRANTS.

Section 111(b)(1) of the Sustainable Fisheries Act (16 U.S.C. 155 note) is amended by striking the last sentence and inserting “There are authorized to be appropriated to carry out this section $500,000 for each fiscal year.”

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Alaska (Mr. YOUNG) and the gentleman from California (Mr. GEORGE MILLER) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Alaska (Mr. YOUNG).

Mr. YOUNG of Alaska. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 2903 will help manage and conserve America’s fisheries and benefit marine mammals. Because of the press of time before we adjourn and the limited number of legislative days, we have folded together nearly a dozen previously House- or Senate-passed fisheries conservation measures. These bipartisan provisions include the reauthorization of the Atlantic Striped Bass Conservation Act and the Atlantic Coastal Fisheries Cooperative Management Act, a grant program from marine mammal stranding networks, and a study of eastern gray whale populations. All these measures deserve our support.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. GEORGE MILLER of California. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

(Mr. GEORGE MILLER of California asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. GEORGE MILLER of California. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of this legislation. The gentleman from Alaska (Mr. YOUNG) has accurately described the contents of this legislation and we urge the Members of the House to support it.

This package includes several bills that have passed the House already this year.

These include measures to conserve striped bass and other Atlantic coastal fisheries, as well as provisions to improve our understanding of marine mammal strandings around the United States, including the strandings of gray whales which has been a significant problem on the California coast.

Finally it includes a few technical measures and a vessel conveyance to American Samoa that is supported by the Administration. I am aware of no opposition to this package, and I urge Members to support it.

Mr. SAXTON. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.R. 2903. Included in this important bill are three measures I introduced that have already been approved overwhelmingly by the House.

First, the bill reauthorizes the Atlantic Striped Bass Conservation Act for Fiscal Years 2001, 2002 and 2003. It also requires the National Marine Fisheries Service to conduct an important study to determine the age distribution of Atlantic striped bass populations and the age structure necessary to maintain adequate recruitment and sustainable opportunities for Jersey Coast fishermen along Long Beach Island in my District.

The second bill reauthorizes the Atlantic Coastal Fisheries Cooperative Management Act through Fiscal year 2005, which encourages and assists states in the management of important recreational and commercial fisheries along the Atlantic Coast from Maine to Florida, such as the all important striped bass, summer flounder, and bluefish.

The third bill creates the John H. Prescott Marine Mammal Rescue Assistance Grant Program as well as authorizes a study on the unusual high mortality rates of eastern gray whale population along our Pacific coast.

Specifically, the Prescott grant program will fill a void under Title IV of the Marine Mammal Protection Act by making a small, but critical amount of money available through a competitive grant process to help cover a portion of the costs associated with day-to-day stranding events. I believe it is very important we demonstrate our support and appreciation for the efforts of all those people along our coasts who help our government agencies assist in the rescue, recovery and rehabilitation of stranded marine mammals.

I urge an "aye" vote.

Mr. GEORGE MILLER of California. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. YOUNG of Alaska. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Alaska (Mr. YOUNG) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 2903, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

The title of the bill was amended so as to read:

"A bill to reauthorize the Striped Bass Conservation Act, and for other purposes."

FORT MATANZAS NATIONAL MONUMENT BOUNDARY REVISION

Mr. YOUNG of Alaska. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the Senate bill (S. 1670) to revise the boundary of Fort Matanzas National Monument, and for other purposes.

The Clerk read as follows:

S. 1670

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. DEFINITIONS.

In this Act:

(1) MAP.—The term "Map" means the map entitled "Fort Matanzas National Monument", numbered 347/80,004 and dated February, 1991.

(2) MONUMENT.—The term "Monument" means the Fort Matanzas National Monument in Florida.

(3) SECRETARY.—The term "Secretary" means the Secretary of the Interior.

SEC. 2. REVISION OF BOUNDARY.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The boundary of the Monument is revised to include an area totaling approximately 70 acres, as generally depicted on the Map.

(b) AVAILABILITY OF MAP.—The Map shall be on file and available for public inspection in the office of the Director of the National Park Service.

SEC. 3. ACQUISITION OF ADDITIONAL LAND.

The Secretary may acquire any land, water, or interests in land that are located within the revised boundary of the Monument by—

- (1) donation;
- (2) purchase with donated or appropriated funds;
- (3) transfer from any other Federal agency; or
- (4) exchange.

SEC. 4. ADMINISTRATION.

Subject to applicable laws, all land and interests in land held by the United States that are included in the revised boundary under section 2 shall be administered by the Secretary as part of the Monument.

SEC. 5. AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.

There are authorized to be appropriated such sums as are necessary to carry out this Act.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Alaska (Mr. YOUNG) and the gentleman from California (Mr. GEORGE MILLER) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Alaska (Mr. YOUNG).

Mr. YOUNG of Alaska. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, S. 1670 will expand the boundary of Fort Matanzas National Monument in the State of Florida by approximately 70 acres. The monument was established by Presidential Proclamation in 1924 under the Antiquities Act. The two tracts of land, which are adjacent to the monument boundary, were donated to the United States in the mid-1960s. A third tract of land comprising 1.6 acres was erroneously omitted from the legal description of the monument at the time of its creation. However, it has been managed as part of the monument despite the fact that the United States does not hold title, although the local tax assessor regards it as Federal property. S. 1670 will expand the monument boundaries to include these three parcels. I urge support of the bill.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. GEORGE MILLER of California. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

(Mr. GEORGE MILLER of California asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. GEORGE MILLER of California. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of S. 1670 by Senator GRAMM and the gentlewoman from Florida (Mrs. FOWLER). I urge the House to support this measure.

S. 1670 is an Administration proposed, introduced by Senator GRAHAM, to expand the boundary of Ft. Matanzas National Monument in Florida by including three tracts of land totaling approximately 70 acres.

Two of the tracts of land, which are located adjacent to the National Monument, were donated to the United States in the mid-1960s. However, no legislative authority existed at the time to include these properties in the Monument boundary, nor was any effort made since then to do so.

The third tract of 1.6 acres has been administered as part of the National Monument but is not technically within the boundary.

This noncontroversial bill passed the Senate on October 5, 2000. It is supported in the House by Representative FOWLER, who has introduced a House companion measure (H.R. 3200).

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. YOUNG of Alaska. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Alaska (Mr. YOUNG) that the House suspend the rules and pass the Senate bill, S. 1670.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the Senate bill was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. YOUNG of Alaska. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks on H.R. 2903 and S. 1670.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Alaska?

There was no objection.

TRIBUTE TO BILL BARRETT OF NEBRASKA

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker's announced policy of January 6, 1999, the gentleman from Nebraska (Mr. BEREUTER) is recognized for 40 minutes as the designee of the majority leader.

Mr. BEREUTER. Mr. Speaker, tonight I wanted to pay tribute to my colleague from the Third Congressional District in Nebraska, Congressman BILL BARRETT.

Nebraska has a very small House delegation, only three of us, and we are very close. We are very close for a variety of reasons. In addition to the fact that we are a small delegation, all of us happen to be of the same political party. Nebraska has a unique tradition in that we have a breakfast every Tuesday when the House and Senate are both in session to which we invite all Nebraskans and their guests visiting the Nation's Capitol to meet with us. We have been doing that since 1944, which I guess makes us the oldest breakfast on Capitol Hill.

It has forged a relationship, a close bond, even a bipartisan bond, within the delegation, that I think is one of the strongest in the Congress. It is a way for us to know each other well. It keeps us cooperating and working well, and our staffs as well. It has been my pleasure to learn much more about the capabilities and the personality of my good colleague from the Third District. BILL BARRETT represents a huge piece of America. The Third Congressional District is 66 counties in size, which makes BILL BARRETT's Third larger than 30 States, 30 individual States. He represents these 540,000 people scattered over about 63,000 miles.

BILL BARRETT, my colleague, is now serving in his fifth term as he prepares to retire from the Congress of the United States. He has not only had a distinguished career here in the House of Representatives during this five terms but he had a distinguished and very productive service to the State of Nebraska in many capacities before he came to the Congress of the United States. He had a very important leadership background in the Republican Party in our State, serving 10 years on the Republican State executive committee. He served as the State party chairman for two years, as well as on the National Republican Committee. Later, he was elected to the Nebraska unicameral legislature. In fact, he and I missed serving together only by a matter of days. He served 10 years in that body as well, and during the last 4 years he served as the speaker of our unicameral house legislature, our one-house legislature.

Things are very different in that body. Not only is it nonpartisan, and it truly has acted that way in most respects, it is, of course, unicameral. There are no party caucuses in that body, and the chairman and the speaker are chosen by secret ballot by the entire membership of the legislature.

Now, that is very different than the U.S. House of Representatives, indeed. BILL BARRETT was elected to two successive terms as speaker, covering a period of 4 years, by secret ballot by his colleagues in the Nebraska legislature, because of their confidence in his fairness and his capabilities. In fact, I think he may well have been the first person at the time to be voted two successive terms as speaker, because ordinarily it rotated from one member to another that was chosen by that secret ballot.

Well, BILL BARRETT is going home to the Third Congressional District. He has been a champion of agriculture, a statesman. He is a father of four children with his wonderful wife Elsie, and now he has two grandchildren. He says he wants to spend more time with those grandchildren and as a recent grandfather myself I do understand how all of these grandchildren we have are really super children, and I can understand why BILL wants to retire back to, I am sure, a very active life in business and government and public service in Nebraska. He will be going back to his hometown of Lexington, Nebraska, shortly.

I will continue, but I would be pleased to yield to my colleague, the gentleman from the State of Michigan (Mr. SMITH), who I think he serves together on the Committee on Agriculture with BILL BARRETT.

Mr. SMITH of Michigan. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding, because I have served with BILL for the last 7 years on the Committee on Agriculture, and I would like to just try to portray his diligence, enthusiasm and dedication to trying to make sure that the farmers not only in Nebraska survive, but the farmers all through the United States. We underwent a rewrite of the Federal agricultural policy. We are going to miss BILL BARRETT next year as we start the next 5-year rewrite. He has been a leader, of course, as chairman of one of the major subcommittees within the Committee on Agriculture; and I, as well as many of my colleagues in this Chamber, are going to miss BILL and Elsie. We hope they will come back and visit often. He has contributed enormously to the success of this Chamber, this body, and the committees on which he has served.

I thank the gentleman for yielding.

Mr. BEREUTER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for his remarks, and I know that BILL BARRETT and Elsie appreciate them as well.

The gentleman mentioned his service on the Committee on Agriculture. The other committee on which BILL served, as he has from the beginning, is now called the Committee on Education and the Workforce; and the chairman of that committee is here, the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. GOODLING), and I yield to him.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, about a year ago, and to the detriment of this House, BILL BARRETT announced that he was retiring at the end of the 106th Congress. His public service did not begin in the Nation's Capital; he started at the grass-roots level. He has been active in local, State, and national politics for many years. In fact, he has served the Republican Party in one capacity or another for over 40 years.

He was first elected to the House of Representatives in 1990, and when we adjourn the 106th Congress, hopefully in the next day or 2 or 3, he will be completing his fifth term in Congress. I know there are many people here in Congress that will be sorry to see BILL retire, and I am sure there are quite a few people in Nebraska's third district that will miss his tireless service, considering he has been reelected by margins of 75 percent or more in each of his campaigns for the House. Everybody should envy that.

BILL served with me on the Committee on Education and the Workforce and is the vice-chair of the Committee on Agriculture and chairman of the Subcommittee on General Farm Commodities, Resource Conservation and Credit. Although we spend a lot of time in Washington, he always remembered the reason that he was here and effectively worked for business, child care, senior citizens, education, health care, rural development, agriculture, trade, and other issues vital to his residents in his district.

The third district of Nebraska can be proud of BILL BARRETT. His tenure here in the House is highlighted with many accomplishments and indeed evidence of his hard work. He was here when the Republicans made history and became the majority party in the House of Representatives for the first time in 40 years; and as a result, Congressman BARRETT was a valuable part of the majority that finally restored fiscal responsibility, balanced the Federal budget, and started to pay off the national debt.

Congressman BARRETT has always been an effective voice for rural America. His leadership contributed greatly to the Federal Agriculture Improvement Reform Act of 1996, which is helping to provide the basis for a strong and profitable agriculture sector in the 21st century. Over the years, he has worked to improve rural education. In fact, I think it is safe to say that in every debate, discussion or vote we had in the Committee on Education and the Workforce, BILL BARRETT was there, trying to make sure that we were addressing the needs of small rural schools. He would never let us forget that rural school districts could not compete against larger school districts for Federal education grants and has worked diligently to increase the flexibility so that these schools are in a better position to improve academic achievement.

Just this past week, he was instrumental in ensuring the passage of the Older Americans Act, and that was not an easy job. We have been trying to reauthorize that act for many, many years. About a year and a half ago, BILL came and said, I would be very happy to take that on as a challenge, if you want me to do so; and I said, I am sure that the subcommittee chairman, the gentleman from California (Mr. MCKEON), and I would be extremely happy if you would take on that challenge. Everybody thought that we did not make it again; but lo and behold, last week, through his consistent determination that it was going to happen, it was passed. So he has been very instrumental in that passage of the Older Americans Act.

So not only did Congressman BARRETT care about the programs that affected his district, he also cared about the individual constituents in his districts. I know that he felt one of the most important duties of a Member of Congress is constituent casework. He tried to always be there to lend a hand when his constituents needed help cutting through the government's red tape. He could not guarantee a solution to every problem, but he sure tried.

BILL BARRETT is a fiscal conservative, a dedicated public servant, a champion for agriculture and education, a respected statesman, and one of the nicest guys you will ever meet. I read somewhere that Bill has finally decided that he is at the point in his life where he would rather start the day with "good morning, Grandpa" instead of "good morning, Congressman." Well, I cannot say I disagree with him. I envy him, because I do not have any grandchildren to say that. He should be truly proud of the years that he has committed to Nebraska, and indeed our country; and I thank BILL BARRETT for his service, and I wish him and Elsie many years of happiness in the future.

Mr. BEREUTER. Mr. Speaker, reclaiming my time, I do want to thank the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. GOODLING), the distinguished chairman of the Committee on Education and the Workforce, for his remarks regarding our colleague, BILL BARRETT. I know that they will be very well received by BILL.

Mr. Speaker, he is exactly right, and I can imagine that he would be bringing up the interest of rural, not metropolitan, America in practically everything he did on the gentleman's committee. In fact, I asked for examples from his staff on three of the things that Bill was most pleased or proud of in recent times, and two of the things the gentleman mentions are indeed among them. His staff said, well, certainly one of the things is the reauthorization of the Older Americans Act.

Secondly, I know that he was involved in some issues that relate to schools and giving rural schools a better opportunity to use their funds more flexibly. I think it is called the Rural School Initiative, whereby included in the appropriations conference report it would allow rural schools to combine formula grants and apply for supplemental funds to offer extra flexibility and funding for locally determined education needs. Also, the passage of a bill, the Grain Standards and Warehouse Improvements Acts of 2000, which is extremely important to his district and to rural America generally.

It is true that BILL BARRETT is one of the nicest people you will ever run into. He regards everybody that he meets as a potential friend; and I think, as you walk with him through the halls of the House of Representatives, it is very interesting and complimentary to him that he is on a first-name basis with so many of the people on the staff who do exceptional work for us here in the House of Representatives. This is a special place to BILL, and the people that work here with us are special to him.

Mr. Speaker, I want to mention that my other colleague from Nebraska (Mr. TERRY) may not be able to join us tonight. I know he had, in effect, I believe baby-sitting duties for his three young sons, but I will submit his statement certainly for the RECORD here. I wanted to just read a couple of excerpts from the letter of our colleague from the second district in his first term, the gentleman from Nebraska (Mr. TERRY). He has this to say about BILL BARRETT: "He has spearheaded efforts to maintain alcohol fuels tax credit and in 1998, succeeded in extending a program vital to Nebraska's corn growers and a nation in need of renewable energy resources. He is a distinguished gentleman who is always well informed and insightful. Congressman BILL BARRETT, even though I was in my first term," Mr. TERRY goes on to say, "never pushed his advice on me; he was always available when I sought his sage advice on policy and procedure. Without exception, it was well grounded and rooted in his love for our State. There is no doubt his counsel made me a better representative for Nebraska, as the wonderful public servant that he is, Congressman BARRETT is an even more remarkable man for his devout faith, spirituality, and his unending love of his family."

I think in light of that last remark, it is not surprising to know that BILL BARRETT was, in fact, the chairman of the House Bipartisan Nondenominational Prayer Breakfast, which meets every Thursday here at 8 a.m.

BILL BARRETT is without a doubt the colleague that I have served with who is the most cooperative and friendly and totally dedicated person in his performance that I have had the pleasure to serve with. He has many friends here. He was elected as the president of his class, and I think continued to serve in that throughout his career here.

Among his classmates are two gentlemen that are alleged to look exactly like him. I know when the three of them are sitting together, as not only good friends, but they look alike, the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. EWING) and the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. KNOLLENBERG). They oftentimes will sit right over there, and they make sure that they have their glasses on at the same time so that they are almost indistinguishable, and sometimes I think they take great care in what they deliver in the way of comments on the House Floor because they might be mistaken for the other.

In any case, the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. EWING) is also leaving. He is also a distinguished member of the Committee on Agriculture that has been very helpful to BILL and to me and to our constituents. But I know that the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. EWING), and the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. KNOLLENBERG), in particular, asked me to express their extraordinary fondness and appreciation for the service that BILL BARRETT has rendered here as a Member of the United States House of Representatives.

Those of my colleagues that watch the proceedings of the floor will oftentimes find BILL BARRETT as the presiding officer of this body. Again and again, throughout the day and into the evenings, he is a person you could rely upon to give fair kinds of decisions and good council and dignity to the Chamber as a presiding officer.

So BILL BARRETT and Elsie, we are going to miss Bill here very much. We know that you are going to be happy to have more of his time. But we look forward to the last few days of service here with BILL BARRETT, and then I look forward to continuing to work with him as a citizen of our State of Nebraska.

Mr. TERRY. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to a great Nebraskan, a respected colleague, and a tremendous friend. Congressman BILL BARRETT is not only a consummate gentleman and a devoted public servant, but he is also able to balance his weighty duties in Congress with his even weightier duties as a father of four, a proud grandfather, and a husband to his remarkable wife, Elsie. Congressman BARRETT has my admiration and respect for a life of public service, and the admiration, respect, and thanks of the entire state of Nebraska. Upon his retirement, he will be missed by an entire state that has looked to him for leadership and guidance in his 30 years of public service.

Congressman BARRETT officially began a life in politics as a member of the Nebraska State Republican Party. He served as Chairman from 1973 to 1975. In 1979 he was elected to Nebraska's State Legislature where he ascended to become Speaker of the Unicameral for his last four years there, from 1987 to 1991. Congressman BARRETT was elected to this body of Congress in 1990. He has spent his entire life devoted to his districts, his state, and his country.

Congressman BARRETT's most notable accomplishment in Congress came in 1996, when his leadership on the Agriculture Committee greatly contributed to passage of the Freedom to Farm Act. The Act's sweeping reforms brought much-needed change to antiquated farm-subsidy programs by replacing them with market-based policies that allow our producers to better compete in a global agricultural economy. He also spearheaded efforts to maintain alcohol fuels tax credits, and in 1998, succeeded in extending a program vital to Nebraska's corn growers and a nation in need of renewable energy resources. Nebraska's farmers, and America's farmers, owe Congressman BARRETT a debt of gratitude.

Before I ran for Congress, I met with Congressman BARRETT on only a half-dozen occasions. He always strikes me as a person who epitomizes Congress. He is a distinguished gentleman who is always well-informed and insightful. It was only after I was elected to this body in 1998 and spent a great deal of time with Congressman BARRETT that my appreciation and respect for him as a person, a father, a grandfather, and a friend blossomed. Plenty of my colleagues are willing to offer advice, but few offer it as genuinely. Congressman BARRETT never pushed his advice on me; he was always available when I sought his sage advice on policy and procedure. Without exception it was sound and rooted in his love for our State. There is no doubt his counsel made me a better representative for Nebraska.

As wonderful a public servant he is, however, Congressman BARRETT is even more remarkable a man for his devout faith, spirituality, and his unbending love of family. When he told me he was days away from announcing his retirement, water welled in his eyes as he looked at my children, Nolan, age 5, and Ryan, age 2, and said, "My grandkids are about the same age and I want to go home and spend time with them." I wish only the best for Congressman BARRETT's family as they gain as a grandfather what we in Congress lose as a colleague. I am fortunate to always have in him a true friend.

Bill, you have the Terry family's and the State of Nebraska's humble thanks and eternal gratitude. We wish that in your retirement, your only job as a grandfather, you find the same fulfillment and richness you found in your years of service to Nebraska and to our great country. God bless you.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. BEREUTER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks on the subject of my Special Order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. SHIMKUS). Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Nebraska? There was no objection.

A GENERATION AT RISK

The SPEAKER pro tempore. As no Member is present to take the time reserved to the minority leader, the Chair recognizes the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. SMITH) for 60 minutes.

Mr. SMITH of Michigan. Mr. Speaker, happy Halloween. This is probably as close as I am going to get to my grandchildren tonight, and they are sort of demonstrating their Halloween outfits. My daughter, Elizabeth, and her husband, Fred, are the mom and dad to Salena and James, and then everybody else comes from Brad and Diane, and Brad and Diane live with me on the farm. Brad is an attorney in Ann Arbor, but a farm guy at heart, and these guys are all 4-Hers. Just to prove to my wife that I can do this, this is Henry and George and Emily and Clair and Francis and Nick, and Alexander is missing from this picture.

I start with this picture because, Mr. Speaker, I am going to make some comments tonight about Social Security. If there is a generation at risk, if we continue to fail to make the changes necessary to keep Social Security and Medicare solvent, this is the generation at risk.

The next chart I am going to show is why they are at risk, because it represents what we have done on tax increases on Social Security in the past. In 1940, the rate was 2 percent, 1 percent for the employee and 1 percent for the employer. The base was $3,000, so the total tax per year for employee and employer was $60.

By 1960, it got up to 6 percent of the first $4,800 for the total tax, employer and employee, $144 each, $288 combined. By 1980, we again increased taxes, and we were doing this as the number of workers per retiree kept going down.

In 1940, we had 38 workers paying in their Social Security tax, 38 of them, to cover the benefits of one retiree. Today, as our tax rate has gone to 12.4 percent of the first $76,000 for a total of $9,448, we have three workers paying in that large tax to cover the benefits of every one retiree, and the guess is that within 20 years to 25 years, we will be down to two workers.

Mr. Speaker, I am concerned about my grandkids and everybody's grandkids, in terms of the kind of tax they are going to be asked to pay if this country continues to give them the burden of a greater debt, a greater mortgage.

I am a farmer from Michigan; and on the farm, we always had a goal of trying to pay down the mortgage so that our kids had a little better chance of having a good life, of having some income, as compared to their parents and their grandparents. This Chamber, this body, the Senate and the President has started borrowing money, because somehow we feel that we are so important in this generation that we can borrow more and more money.

The debt of this country is now $5.6 trillion that we are justified in borrowing this additional money to satisfy what we consider very important needs of this existing generation, if you will; and we leave our kids with that larger mortgage, that larger debt. I think that is bad policy, what we have started doing of not using the Social Security surplus money coming in.

After the 1983 taxes that drove this up to 12.4 percent and indexed the base rate, which is now $76,000 going with inflation, for a short period of time, there is more money coming in than is used for benefits; and what has been happening for the last 40 years is Congress has been spending that extra money on other government programs. So the money sort of disappears.

We started 3 years ago, it was a bill I originally introduced, that said we have to have a rescission. We cannot spend the Social Security surplus. With the bill of the gentleman from California (Mr. HERGER) last year, we passed what was called a lockbox. And the lockbox simply said we are not going to use any of the Social Security surplus for any government programs, and it is going to be used for Social Security or to pay down the debt held by the public. That is what we did last year.

It got popular support, so the President went along with it. This year we came up with another policy tool and said, look, the American people will support us if we say that we are going to take 90 percent of the surplus. Look, times are good now. There is extra money rolling in. And the danger is, of course, that this Chamber decides to spend it on government programs, rather than paying down the debt.

We decided in our Republican Caucus about 4 weeks ago that we were going to draw the line in the sand on spending and say at least 90 percent of that surplus is going to be used to pay down the debt held by the public, and that is what we are arguing about now is what to do with the other 10 percent. That is significant, because it still is going to increase spending substantially.

Speaking of Halloween, I personally feel that we sort of got tricked by the President last night when he vetoed the Treasury Postal bill and Legislative Service branch bill. He vetoed it because he wanted something in the legislation that we are now debating that this Congress was not sure that they wanted to give him, so he decided to veto that bill.

Mr. Speaker, it sets us farther behind. I think it was a disservice to the communication, to the cooperation between the Congress and the White House, and I think probably it is going to end up that we are going to have that much greater difficulty coming to a bipartisan agreement on these appropriation bills in the next couple of weeks.

Social Security has been a debate with both Governor Bush and Vice President GORE. We have heard on the campaign trail what do we do about Social Security. And the Vice President has criticized Governor Bush for wanting to take some of this money and put it into privately owned retirement accounts that could be invested in safe investments.

The criticism was that the Governor was taking a trillion dollars away from Social Security to pay benefits and he was trying to use it for both setting of personal retirement accounts and trying to pay benefits with it at the same time.

I thought it would be good to review just what is happening over the next 10 years with Social Security revenues. Revenues coming in to Social Security over the next 10 years are going to be $7.8 trillion. The costs of benefits over this next 10-year period are going to be $5.4 trillion; that leaves a surplus or an extra amount of $2.4 trillion.

Governor George Bush was suggesting that we take $1 trillion down here at the bottom green, $1 trillion out of that $2.4 trillion and use it for, if you will, transition, starting to set up these personally owned accounts for individuals that if they die it goes into their own estate. Unlike Social Security today, if you pay in all of your life and you die before you go into retirement, you do not get anything.

This other chart sort of represents the problem, some of the rewards that some people would have if they were to invest with the magic of compound interest. This chart shows that a family that has $58,475, and that was figured an average for an area of Michigan, that if they put that into an investment and invested, the blue would be 2 percent of their income, the pink would be 6 percent of the income, purple would be 10 percent of their income. If they just invested it for 20 years with the magic of compound interest, in 20 years they would be at 2 percent. It would be worth $55,000; and this is at 2 percent of the investing, 2 percent of their earnings. If they invested 10 percent, it would be worth $274,000 in 20 years.

But most of us start working at 18, 20, 22, and we work for 40 years until we are 62 or 65 maybe even. So if you were to leave money for 40 years, which is the far right-hand bar charts, and you were to do it for 2 percent of your income, you would accrue $278,000, if it was 6 percent of your income. Remember, Social Security taxes are 12.4 percent of everything you earn.

If you were to do it for the 6 percent, it would be $833,000; or if you would invest 10 percent of that income and leave the 2.4 percent for the disability insurance part of the Social Security, if you were allowed to invest that, you would end up with a $1,389,000. At 5 percent interest, you could have $70,000 a year and not even go into the principal.

Social Security started with, of course, Franklin Delano Roosevelt in 1935. When President Roosevelt created the Social Security program, he wanted it to feature a private sector component to build retirement income. And Social Security was supposed to be one leg of a three-legged stool to support retirees. The other two legs were to be personal savings and private pension plans.

It is interesting researching the archives and the debate in the House and the Senate. The Senate on two different votes in 1935 said that private investment savings, that could only be used for retirement purposes, but owned by the individual should be an option to a government-run program. When the House and the Senate went into conference, the House prevailed, and we ended up with a total government-run program.

And now, because of the demographics, because people are living longer life spans, when we started Social Security the average life span was 62½ years. That meant that most people paid into Social Security all their life, but did not get anything out of it. The system worked very well then.

But now, people are living longer and, at the same time, the birth rate has decreased substantially after the baby boomers, and so we ended up with fewer workers for more retirees, which makes the pay-as-you-go program not workable anymore. Social Security is now insolvent as scored by the Social Security actuaries.

So the problem facing this Congress is how do we come up with the extra dollars to pay the benefits? I think we have made a commitment to retirees. We take their money while they are working and the implied commitment is that they are going to get something when they retire. However, when this was challenged to the Supreme Court, when government refused payment at one time, the Supreme Court on two different occasions now has ruled that there is no entitlement for Social Security. That Social Security is simply a tax that Washington has imposed on workers and any benefits are simply another law that is passed to give some benefits, but there is no relationship, no entitlement.

So the argument for at least some of that money being in private-owned accounts where Washington cannot reduce benefits, or yet again increase taxes, I think has a great deal of merit, above and beyond the fact that we can get a lot better return on our investment with some of those investments.

Let me just briefly show the predicament that Social Security is in. Seventy-eight million baby boomers begin retiring in 2008. They are now paying in at maximum earning. These are big earners paying in a heavy tax on that higher base and they are going to go out of the paying-in mode and start taking out. Because benefits are directly related to what we paid in and what we earned, their benefits are going to be higher than average.

So the actuaries are now predicting that we are going to be short of money and not having enough money by 2015. Social Security trust funds go broke in 2037, although the crisis arrives much sooner. The crisis arrives in 2015 when there is less money coming in in taxes than there is needed to pay benefits.

So the question is for Social Security, how do we come up with that extra money? It is not just speculation from people with green eyeshades on, economists making some predictions. It is an absolute. Insolvency is certain. We know how many people there are. We know when they are going to retire. We know people will live longer in retirement. We know how much they will pay in and how much they will take out. And we know payroll taxes will not cover benefits starting in 2015.

The shortfall will add up to $120 trillion between 2015 and 2075. $120 trillion. To put that in some kind of perspective, our current budget that we are just passing for this year is $1.9 trillion. The $120 trillion is in tomorrow's dollars. The way Alan Greenspan, Chairman of the Federal Reserve, expressed it is the unfunded liability is $9 trillion. In other words we would need $9 trillion today to come up with the tomorrow dollars that are going to be the inflated dollars to cover the $120 trillion needed over and above what is coming in in Social Security taxes.

So, Mr. Speaker, we know there is a huge problem, and yet we have avoided dealing with it because there is a fear by maybe both sides of the aisle, maybe by the President, that they would be criticized for making some changes in Social Security. And that is obvious. As we listen to the campaigners for the Congress, for the Senate, for the presidency, they want to criticize the other person's Social Security plan. They want to scare people. And it is easy to scare people, because we have almost one-third of our retirees today that depend on Social Security for 90 percent or more of their income. So we can understand, Mr. Speaker, why and how it is easy to demagogue this issue of Social Security.

As I mentioned before, this chart shows the number of workers per each one retiree. In 1940, there were 38 workers paying in their Social Security tax to cover the benefits of each one retiree. Today, there are three. By 2025, there is going to be two. So an extra burden, an extra tax on my grandkids, on everybody's kids and grandkids, and on young workers today if we do not face up to the problem.

This represents the short-term surplus in the blue, and that is because we dramatically increased the Social Security taxes in 1983. We also reduced benefits when Congress dealt with the program in 1983 and we did that in 1977 also. In 1977, when push came to shove on needing additional money, we reduced benefits and increased taxes.

It seems to me that those have got to be part of the criteria of everybody's proposal, they are of Governor Bush's. No tax increases. No cuts in benefits for existing retirees or near-term retirees. And we could have it optional to allow other workers to either stay in the old program or have the opportunity to have some of that money in their name that could be invested in a limited number of safe accounts such as the Thrift Savings Plan, such as the 401(k)s, but even with more restrictions because it could only be used for retirement.

The red represents the $120 trillion I talked about or the $9 trillion unfunded liability today that would have to go in a savings account earning a real return of 6.7 percent.

Some have suggested economic growth. In fact I read in Investors Business Daily yesterday the suggestion if economic growth continues, it is going to help solve the problem of Social Security. Not so. Here is what happens with economic growth. As wages increase and the economy expand, because of the fact that we index Social Security benefits to wage inflation, which is substantially higher than normal inflation, Social Security goes up faster than normal inflation.

My proposal, in one of the three Social Security bills that I have introduced, the last one and the one before that, over the last 5 years it changes the wage inflation to traditional economic inflation so benefits grow with inflation instead of at the faster rate of wage inflation. When the economy grows, workers pay more in taxes, but also they will earn more in benefits when they retire. Growth makes the numbers look better now, but leaves a larger hole to fill in later.

So when we have more employment, and the unemployment is at record lows right now, more people are working, more people are paying in their Social Security taxes. The higher wage earners are, because taxes are directly related to earnings, the higher wage earners are even paying in higher taxes. But because Social Security is indexed to wage inflation, everybody is going to get a higher benefit. Those higher wage earners, because Social Security benefits are also directly related to the wages and the Social Security taxes we pay in, in the future are going to get the higher benefits.

So even though it helps in the short run, ultimately benefits have to pay out to accommodate those higher wages. So a strong economy does not cure the Social Security problem.

Mr. Speaker, I just wanted to mention that the administration has used these short-term advantages as an excuse to do nothing. I think we have missed a real opportunity in the last 8 years not to move ahead with Social Security. I thought we were close, and in this Chamber I stood up and cheered and clapped when President Clinton said he was going to put Social Security first and we were going to do something about solving the Social Security problem.

There is no Social Security account with our name on it. A lot of people think that somehow the money they pay in is into their own private account. These trust fund balances are available to finance future benefit payments and other trust fund expenditures, but only in a bookkeeping sense. They are claims on the Treasury that, when redeemed, will have to be financed by raising taxes, borrowing from the public, or reducing benefits or reducing some other expenditures.

What we have done in the past is increased taxes. So that is why I am concerned that it could develop into almost generational warfare if we start asking our future workers to start contributing a 50 percent increase in their current taxes. The economic predictors are suggesting that within the next 40 years, without changes in the programs, even if we do not add extra benefits such as prescription drugs or whatever, simply to cover the existing program promises of Social Security, Medicare and Medicaid, it is going to take a 47 percent payroll tax.

So payroll taxes would have to go to 47 percent to cover Social Security needs and the Medicare and Medicaid. I think of what would we do today if we were workers paying that kind of tax in addition to an income tax to finance the other operations and functions of Federal Government. I think there would be a rebellion.

That is what we have got to start looking at is how do we start paying down the debt, how do we start making corrections while we have a surplus coming in so that we do not run into this huge problem in the future. The longer we put off the solution to fix Social Security, the more drastic the changes are going to have to be. I know that for a fact.

I introduced my first bill when I came to Congress in 1993, my second bill and every term since. So I have introduced four Social Security bills. The last three were scored by the Social Security Administration that, in their determination, that these bills kept Social Security solvent for the next 75 years.

I was appointed as chairman of the Committee on the Budget's bipartisan task force on Social Security. So we brought in experts from, not only this country, but around the world to discuss what the problems of Social Security were, how they work, what was the internal operation of Social Security, what was the real problem of Social Security, what were some of the ways that we might fix Social Security.

The Vice President has suggested one way to fix Social Security would be to pay down the debt and use the interest savings to help pay for benefits, and that would keep Social Security solvent over the next 57 years. So he is suggesting, over the next 57 years, there is a shortfall of $46.6 trillion that will be needed in addition to the money coming in from the Social Security tax to cover the benefits that we say we are going to cover. He is suggesting, by paying down this $3.4 trillion debt and using that interest, it will keep Social Security solvent. That is, well I hate to say it, but that is fuzzy math. That is not going to work.

Here is another chart, trying to portray this in a different way. The interest that we are paying on the debt held by the public is $260 billion a year. So there is some reasonableness to add another IOU to the trust fund or to use this money, instead of paying it on interest, to dedicate it to Social Security. But if we dedicate that $260 billion to Social Security, then we are still left with a shortfall of $35 trillion.

So the Vice President's program is not going to accommodate the needs to keep Social Security solvent over the next 57 years.

Again, the problem is how do we come up with the money when we run out of tax money and tax revenues coming in? The biggest risk is doing nothing at all.

Social Security has a total unfunded liability, as I mentioned, of $9 trillion. The Social Security Trust Funds contain nothing but IOUs. To keep paying promised Social Security benefits, the payroll tax will have to be increased by nearly 50 percent, or benefits will have to be cut by 30 percent. Neither one of those options I think is reasonable. That is why we have got to get a better return on the investment of the dollars that are now being sent in in the way of taxes.

Social Security lockbox, we passed it out of this Chamber. It says we are not going to spend any of the Social Security surplus. For the last 40 years, we have spending the Social Security surplus money for other government programs. We put a stop to that with a lockbox. We passed it out of this Chamber. Now it is lagging in the other Chamber. I am sure if the President of that Chamber, the Vice President of the United States, would say, look, let us move this bill out, it would go out. I am sure the President would sign it into law. Then it would be an absolute lockbox.

The diminishing returns of one's Social Security investment. The average retiree now gets 1.9 percent back on the money that they and their employer send in on Social Security. That is over and above the 2.4 percent that are needed for the disability insurance.

The disability insurance is really an insurance program. It is proper that that strictly be a total Federal Government operation. One pays in one's 2.4 percent to cover the insurance that says, look, if one gets hurt or disabled, then one is going to get these kind of benefits out of the Social Security Administration.

So there is no proposals in Congress or in the Senate that suggest that we reach in in any way to that part of the disability insurance program. So when I suggest that 1.9 percent return, I am talking about the rest of one's Social Security contribution taxes that one and one's employer puts in.

On the average, we get 1.9 percent, the middle bar. But over here, we see some people get a negative return. As it happens, minorities, for example, are one group that gets a lower return on their particular investments.

The average return of the marketplace, by the way, is running 7 percent. So the question is, can we do better than the 1.9 percent real return? I think even CDs are paying much better than that now.

So how do we make the transition? If we were to have some private investment, what would that do to the economy of this country? The estimate is that, if we would allow 2 percent out of the 12.4 percent of one's Social Security tax to be invested, maybe 60 percent in equities, 40 percent in indexed equities, 40 percent in indexed bonds, within 15 years, there would be an extra additional $3 trillion invested.

What happens to these investments? It goes into companies and businesses to allow them to buy the state-of-the-art equipment, to allow them to do the research to make sure that they are producing the kind of products that people around the world want to buy and the kind of technology that is going to allow us in the United States to produce them more efficiently than any other country. I mean, that is what we have been doing.

I chair the Subcommittee on Basic Research in the Committee on Science. Research is vital. But for the private sector to have the impetus to do that kind of research and develop that kind of equipment that keeps us productive, efficient, and competitive means that they have got to have that investment.

So savings and investment is key. That is why I first became interested in Social Security. I was chairman of the Michigan Senate Finance Committee, and I wrote my first Social Security bill actually while I was in the Michigan Senate because of the fact that our savings and investment in the United States are one of the lowest in the industrialized world.

If we expect that we are going to continue to motivate and have the money for these businesses to do the research and the development, then we have got to have that kind of savings and investment. We give some encouragement by saying to the average worker in this country we are going to allow one to invest part of that tax money. It is going to be in one's name. It is going to be limited, safe investments. One can only use it for retirement. But it means that there is going to be more savings and investment, which is going to spur our economy.

This graph, this bar chart is another way of describing that Social Security is a bad investment for the American worker.

It only took 2 months in 1940. But in 1960, one had to live 2 years after retirement to get back all of the money to break even, to get back all the money one and one's employer put in. By 1980, one has to live 4 years after he retired. By 1995, one has to live 16 years after one retired. So that is living 4 years after one retired in 1980, living 16 years after one retired in 1995, living 23 years after one retired in 2005, just to break even. It is a bad investment on Social Security.

Can we do better on that investment? Can we have a system that allows an average income worker to make some of those investments, to benefit from the magic of compound interest and become a wealthy retiree? The answer is yes, we can do that.

Here is another problem. We kept upping the taxes on the American workers to the point where 78 percent of American workers today pay more in the Social Security tax than they do in the income tax. And that is a very regressive tax.

The six principles of saving Social Security: Protect current and future beneficiaries. Allow freedom of choice. Freedom of choice means you can either take the option of having some of that money in your own name and having the Government say, okay, you can invest it in an indexed stock or an indexed bond or an indexed global fund but safe investments, as determined by the Social Security Administration or by Congress, when they pass the law.

It preserves the safety net. It never touches the disability insurance portion. Makes Americans better off, not worse off. And creates a fully funded system and no tax increases and no reduction in benefits for existing or near-term retirees.

Personal retirement accounts. They do not come out of Social Security. They stay in the system. Some have suggested that you can have these personal retirement accounts and invest them in some of these limited investments and for every $6 you make in your equity investments you would lose $5 in Social Security benefits. So it is a no-lose situation if you were to devise something like that.

In my last piece of legislation, what we did is say that we are going to assume that you can get at least 3½ percent interest real return on your investment and, so, you would offset Social Security benefits.

The other thing I do in my legislation to help keep the Social Security system solvent is I change it from wage inflation to normal economic inflation as far as indexing the increase in benefits. And the third thing I do, I slow down the increase in benefits for high income recipients of Social Security.

It ends up being scored to keep Social Security solvent for the next 75 years with the extra return that can come in from these privately-owned personal retirement accounts.

Personal retirement accounts. I think the important part is that a worker will own his own retirement account and it will not be subject to decisions made by the United States Congress or the President and it is limited to the safe investments and they can earn more than 1.9 percent paid now by Social Security.

Here is an example of some of the personal retirement accounts. If John Doe makes an average of $36,000 a year, he could expect $1,280 a month from Social Security or $6,514 from his personal retirement account.

Galveston, Texas. When we passed Social Security in 1935, there was an option for local and State to not go into the Social Security program and to set up their own personal retirement accounts. Galveston, Texas, ended up doing that. In Galveston, Texas, if you die, your death benefits in Galveston under their personal retirement investment plan is $75,000. Social Security would pay 253, the disability benefits for a month, and Social Security $1,280. The Galveston plan is $2,749. Retirement benefit per month $1,280, same as disability. The Galveston plan, on their personal retirement investments, the way they have come out with their investments, is $4,790 a month.

I am trying to just show the advantages and the magic of compound interest compared to a Government-run programs, the pay as you go, that does not have any savings, that does not have any real investment. It does the same thing with their PRAs, personal retirement accounts.

A 30-year-old employee who earns a salary of $30,000 for 35 years and contributes 6 percent to his PRA would receive $3,000 per month in retirement. Under the current system, he would contribute twice as much but receive only $1,077 from Social Security.

The U.S. trails other countries. And I was concerned. I represented the United States in describing our Social Security our public pension system in a meeting in London 4 years ago, and I was impressed at the number of countries around the world that are much more advanced than we are in terms of getting some real return on that tax contribution for their senior citizens.

In the 18 years since Chile offered PRAs, 95 percent of the Chilean workers have created accounts. Their average rate of return has been 11.3 percent per year. And, among others, Australia, Britain, Switzerland offer workers PRAs and they have gone into that system with a better rate of return.

The British worker who chose PRAs is now averaging a 10-percent return. And two out of three British workers that are enrolled in the second tier they call it, allowing you to have some options with half of your Social Security taxes, have invested in that system and the British workers have enjoyed a 10-percent return on their pension investment. The pool of PRAs now in Britain is $1.4 trillion, larger than the rest of the economy of the whole of Europe.

This chart demonstrates what has happened in equity investments over the last 100 years. And so, some have suggested the market is too risky to invest with the ups and downs. That is why I think it is important that you have indexed investments where you have part of the investment in equities and part of the investment in bonds and part of it would depend on the age that you start these private investments.

The average for the last 100 years has been a real return of 6.7 percent. In the lowest years, in 1917 and 1918, still it was three and a half percent, well above the 1.9 percent return that you are getting from Social Security. But again, if you leave the money in an indexed type of investment, there has never been a period, even around the worst recessions of ever 1918 or 1929, there has never been any 30-year period where there was not a positive return on your investment greater than what can be made from Social Security. And again, the average of 6.7 percent real return.

I want to conclude by suggesting that maybe we should be positive in our outlook. We have come a long way. We have made a decision to stop the spending of the Social Security surplus. That was good.

When Republicans came in in 1995 after being in the minority in this chamber for I think almost 38 years, we came in very aggressively determined that we were going to balance the budget.

When President Clinton came in in 1993, he and the Democrats decided to increase taxes, so an increase in Social Security tax, an increase in gas tax and other increases in taxes that ended up being one of the largest tax increases in history, 2 years later the American people decided that they were going to give the Republicans a chance in the majority, and what Republicans did is they did not spend that increased revenue.

We caught heck from the Dems. They suggested that we were going to throw hungry children out in the street and there were going to be people without shelters as we suggested that there should be welfare reform. We sent that welfare reform bill twice to President Clinton and Vice President GORE. Both times they vetoed it. Then the public pressure built, so in the spring of 1996, we passed welfare reform. What was amazing about that, I think, is that it started putting people to work, and it started giving them respect for themselves. Instead of just a hand out, it was a hand up. We made a tremendous change in this country. We were fortunate, I think, to have economic growth.

Now the question before us is how do we save Social Security, how do we save Medicare for future generations without putting our kids and our grandkids at risk in terms of the obligation of potentially higher taxes. The way we do it is start dealing with this problem today, start making the changes necessary, stopping the talk and the promises and going ahead with solving Social Security. Several bills have been introduced in this Chamber, several bills in the Senate. I am disappointed that the President has not presented legislation that could be scored as keeping Social Security solvent by the actuaries. And so the challenge for the next President is going to be to face up to some of these tough issues of keeping Social Security solvent. I am optimistic about the idea of at least some of that money being allowed to be used for personal retirement accounts, not only to have some ownership from those individual American workers but also to have some of the magic of compound interest so you can retire as an even richer retiree than you might have been an average worker.

Of course, the third issue is the increased savings investment and its impact on economic expansion and development and making sure that this great country continues to be the greatest country in the world.
