H. Res. 559

In the House of Representatives, U.S., October 2, 2002.

- Whereas the death or disability of hundreds of Members of Congress would deprive millions of Americans of representation in Congress, possibly for a period of months until special elections to fill the vacancies could be conducted;
- Whereas such a catastrophe would severely impair the functioning of the House and effectively disrupt the legislative branch for an extended period;
- Whereas the only method prescribed by the Constitution to fill a vacant seat in the House of Representatives is through election by the people;
- Whereas article I, section 4 of the Constitution of the United States provides that "The Times, Places and Manner of holding Elections for Senators and Representatives, shall be prescribed in each State by the Legislature thereof; but the Congress may at any time by Law make or alter such Regulations, except as to the places of chusing Senators.";
- Whereas section 26 of the Revised Statutes of the United States (2 U.S.C. 8) provides that "The time for holding elections in any State, District or Territory for a Representative or Delegate to fill a vacancy, whether such vacancy is caused by a failure to elect at the time prescribed by law, or by the death, resignation, or incapacity of a person elected, may be prescribed by the laws of the several States and Territories respectively;"; and

Whereas it is in the interest of each State to ensure that the people maintain their full rights to representation in the House: Now, therefore, be it
