TITLE I—COMMODITY PROGRAMS

SEC. 100. DEFINITIONS.
In this title (other than chapter 3 of subtitle C):

(2) BASE ACRES.—The term “base acres”, with respect to a covered commodity on a farm, means the number of acres established under section 103 with respect to the commodity upon the election made by the producers on the farm under subsection (a) of such section.

(3) COUNTER-CYCLICAL PAYMENT.—The term “counter-cyclical payment” means a payment made to producers under section 105.

(4) COVERED COMMODITY.—The term “covered commodity” means wheat, corn, grain sorghum, barley, oats, upland cotton, rice, soybeans, and other oilseeds.

(5) EFFECTIVE PRICE.—The term “effective price”, with respect to a covered commodity for a crop year, means the price calculated by the Secretary under section 105 to determine whether counter-cyclical payments are required to be made for that crop year.

(6) ELIGIBLE PRODUCER.—The term “eligible producer” means a producer described in section 101(a).

(7) FIXED, DECOUPLED PAYMENT.—The term “fixed, decoupled payment” means a payment made to producers under section 104.

(8) OTHER OILSEED.—The term “other oilseed” means a crop of sunflower seed, rapeseed, canola, safflower, flaxseed, mustard seed, or, if designated by the Secretary, another oilseed.

(9) PAYMENT ACRES.—The term “payment acres” means 85 percent of the base acres of a covered commodity on a farm, as established under section 103, upon which fixed, decoupled payments and counter-cyclical payments are to be made.

(10) PAYMENT YIELD.—The term “payment yield” means the yield established under section 102 for a farm for a covered commodity.
(11) PRODUCER.—The term “producer” means an owner, operator, landlord, tenant, or sharecropper who shares in the risk of producing a crop and who is entitled to share in the crop available for marketing from the farm, or would have shared had the crop been produced. In determining whether a grower of hybrid seed is a producer, the Secretary shall not take into consideration the existence of a hybrid seed contract and shall ensure that program requirements do not adversely affect the ability of the grower to receive a payment under this title.

(12) SECRETARY.—The term “Secretary” means the Secretary of Agriculture.

(13) STATE.—The term “State” means each of the several States of the United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, and any other territory or possession of the United States.

(15) UNITED STATES.—The term “United States”, when used in a geographical sense, means all of the States.

Subtitle A—Fixed Decoupled Payments and Counter-Cyclical Payments

SEC. 101. PAYMENTS TO ELIGIBLE PRODUCERS.

(a) PAYMENTS REQUIRED.—Beginning with the 2002 crop of covered commodities, the Secretary shall make fixed decoupled payments and counter-cyclical payments under this subtitle—

(1) to producers on a farm that were parties to a production flexibility contract under section 111 of the Federal Agriculture Improvement and Reform Act of 1996 (7 U.S.C. 7211) for fiscal year 2002; and

(2) to other producers on farms in the United States as described in section 103(a).

(b) TENANTS AND SHARECROPPERS.—In carrying out this title, the Secretary shall provide adequate safeguards to protect the interests of tenants and sharecroppers.

(c) SHARING OF PAYMENTS.—The Secretary shall provide for the sharing of fixed, decoupled payments and counter-cyclical payments among the eligible producers on a farm on a fair and equitable basis.

SEC. 102. ESTABLISHMENT OF PAYMENT YIELD.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT AND PURPOSE.—For the purpose of making fixed decoupled payments and counter-cyclical payments under this subtitle, the Secretary shall provide for the establishment of a payment yield for each farm for each covered commodity in accordance with this section.

(b) USE OF FARM PROGRAM PAYMENT YIELD.—Except as otherwise provided in this section, the payment yield for each of the 2002 through 2011 crops of a covered commodity for a farm shall be the farm program payment yield in effect for the 2002 crop of the covered commodity under section 505 of the Agricultural Act of 1949 (7 U.S.C. 1465).

(c) FARMS WITHOUT FARM PROGRAM PAYMENT YIELD.—In the case of a farm for which a farm program payment yield is unavailable for a covered commodity (other than soybeans or other oilseeds), the Secretary shall establish an appropriate payment yield for the covered commodity on the farm taking in consideration the farm program payment yields applicable to the commodity under subsection (b) for similar farms in the area.

(d) PAYMENT YIELDS FOR OILSEEDS.—

(1) AVERAGE YIELD.—In the case of soybeans and each other oilseed, the Secretary shall establish a payment yield for a farm for the oilseed by first determining the average yield for the oilseed on the farm for the 1998 through 2001 crop years, excluding any crop year in which the acreage planted to the oilseed was zero. If, for any of these four crop years in which the oilseed was planted, the farm would have satisfied the eligibility criteria established to carry out section 1102 of the Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 1999 (Public Law 105–277; 7 U.S.C. 1421 note), the Secretary shall assign a yield for that year equal to 65 percent of the county yield.

(2) REDUCTION.—The Secretary shall reduce the average yield determined under paragraph (1) for the oilseed by a percentage equal to the percentage increase in national average yields for the oilseed between the following two periods:

(B) The 1998 through 2001 crops.

SEC. 103. ESTABLISHMENT OF BASE ACRES AND PAYMENT ACRES FOR A FARM.

(a) Election by Producers of Base Acre Calculation Method.—For the purpose of making fixed decoupled payments and counter-cyclical payments with respect to a farm, the Secretary shall give producers on the farm an opportunity to elect one of the following as the method by which the base acres of all covered commodities on the farm are to be determined:

1) The four-year average of acreage actually planted on the farm to a covered commodity for harvest, grazing, haying, silage, or other similar purposes during crop years 1998, 1999, 2000, and 2001 and any acreage on the farm that the producers were prevented from planting during such crop years to the covered commodity because of drought, flood, or other natural disaster, or other condition beyond the control of the producer, as determined by the Secretary.

2) The contract acreage (as defined in section 102 of the Federal Agriculture Improvement and Reform Act of 1996 (7 U.S.C. 7202)) used by the Secretary to calculate the fiscal year 2002 payment that, subject to section 109, would be made under section 114 of such Act (7 U.S.C. 7214) for the covered commodity on the farm.

(b) Single Election; Time for Election.—The opportunity to make the election described in subsection (a) shall be available to producers on a farm only once. The producers shall notify the Secretary of the election made by the producers under such subsection not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act.

(c) Effect of Failure to Make Election.—If the producers on a farm fail to make the election under subsection (a), or fail to timely notify the Secretary of the selected option as required by subsection (b), the producers shall be deemed to have made the election described in subsection (a)(2) to determine base acres for all covered commodities on the farm.

(d) Application of Election to All Covered Commodities.—The election made under subsection (a) or deemed to be made under subsection (c) with respect to a farm shall apply to all of the covered commodities on the farm. Producers may not make the election described in subsection (a)(1) for one covered commodity and the election described in subsection (a)(2) for other covered commodities on the farm.

(e) Treatment of Conservation Reserve Contract Acreage.—

1) In General.—In the case of producers on a farm that make the election described in subsection (a)(2), the Secretary shall provide for an adjustment in the base acres for the farm whenever either of the following circumstances occur:

(A) A conservation reserve contract entered into under section 1231 of the Food Security Act of 1985 (16 U.S.C. 3831) with respect to the farm expires or is voluntarily terminated.
(B) Cropland is released from coverage under a conservation reserve contract by the Secretary.

2) Special Payment Rules.—For the fiscal year and crop year in which a base acre adjustment under paragraph (1) is first made, the producers on the farm shall elect to receive either fixed decoupled payments and counter-cyclical payments with respect to the acreage added to the farm under this subsection or a prorated payment under the conservation reserve contract, but not both.

(f) Payment Acres.—The payment acres for a covered commodity on a farm shall be equal to 85 percent of the base acres for the commodity.

(g) Prevention of Excess Payment Acres.—

1) Required Reduction.—If the sum of the base acres for a farm, together with the acreage described in paragraph (2), exceeds the actual cropland acreage of the farm, the Secretary shall reduce the quantity of base acres for one or more covered commodities for the farm or peanut acres for the farm as necessary so that the sum of the base acres and acreage described in paragraph (2) does not exceed the actual cropland acreage of the farm. The Secretary shall give the producers on the farm the opportunity to select the base acres or peanut acres against which the reduction will be made.

2) Other Acreage.—For purposes of paragraph (1), the Secretary shall include the following:

(A) Any peanut acres for the farm under chapter 3 of subtitle C.
(B) Any acreage on the farm enrolled in the conservation reserve program or wetlands reserve program under chapter 1 of subtitle D of title XII of the Food Security Act of 1985 (16 U.S.C. 3830 et seq.).
(C) Any other acreage on the farm enrolled in a conservation program for which payments are made in exchange for not producing an agricultural commodity on the acreage.

  2. ADVANCE PAYMENTS.—At the option of an eligible producer, 50 percent of the fixed, decoupled payment for a fiscal year shall be paid on a date selected by the producer. The selected date shall be on or after December 1 of that fiscal year, and the producer may change the selected date for a subsequent fiscal year by providing advance notice to the Secretary.
  3. REPAYMENT OF ADVANCE PAYMENTS.—If a producer that receives an advance fixed, decoupled payment for a fiscal year ceases to be an eligible producer before the date the fixed, decoupled payment would otherwise have been made by the Secretary under paragraph (1), the producer shall be responsible for repaying the Secretary the full amount of the advance payment.

SEC. 105. AVAILABILITY OF COUNTER-CYCLICAL PAYMENTS.
(a) PAYMENT REQUIRED.—The Secretary shall make counter-cyclical payments with respect to a covered commodity whenever the Secretary determines that the effective price for the commodity is less than the target price for the commodity.
(b) EFFECTIVE PRICE.—For purposes of subsection (a), the effective price for a covered commodity is equal to the sum of the following:

1. The higher of the following:
   A. The national average market price received by producers during the 12-month marketing year for the commodity, as determined by the Secretary.
   B. The national average loan rate for a marketing assistance loan for the covered commodity in effect for the same period under subtitle B.

(f) TIME FOR PAYMENTS.—

(1) GENERAL RULE.—The Secretary shall make counter-cyclical payments under this section for a crop of a covered commodity as soon as possible after determining under subsection (a) that such payments are required for that crop year.

(2) PARTIAL PAYMENT.—The Secretary may permit, and, if so permitted, an eligible producer may elect to receive, up to 50 percent of the projected counter-cyclical payment, as determined by the Secretary, to be made under this section for a crop of a covered commodity upon completion of the first six months of the marketing year for that crop. The producer shall repay to the Secretary the amount, if any, by which the partial payment exceeds the actual counter-cyclical payment to be made for that marketing year.

(g) SPECIAL RULE FOR CURRENTLY UNDESIGNATED OILSEED.—If the Secretary uses the authority under section 100(8) to designate another oilseed as an oilseed for which counter-cyclical payments may be made, the Secretary may modify the target price specified in subsection (c)(9) that would otherwise apply to that oilseed as the Secretary considers appropriate.

SEC. 106. PRODUCER AGREEMENT REQUIRED AS CONDITION ON PROVISION OF FIXED, DECOUPLED PAYMENTS AND COUNTER-CYCLICAL PAYMENTS.

(a) COMPLIANCE WITH CERTAIN REQUIREMENTS.—

(1) REQUIREMENTS.—Before the producers on a farm may receive fixed, decoupled payments or counter-cyclical payments with respect to the farm, the producers shall agree, in exchange for the payments—

(A) to comply with applicable conservation requirements under subtitle B of title XII of the Food Security Act of 1985 (16 U.S.C. 3811 et seq.);
(B) to comply with applicable wetland protection requirements under subtitle C of title XII of the Act (16 U.S.C. 3821 et seq.);
(C) to comply with the planting flexibility requirements of section 107; and
(D) to use the land on the farm, in an amount equal to the base acres, for an agricultural or conserving use, and not for a nonagricultural commercial or industrial use, as determined by the Secretary.

(2) COMPLIANCE.—The Secretary may issue such rules as the Secretary considers necessary to ensure producer compliance with the requirements of paragraph (1).

(b) EFFECT OF FORECLOSURE.—A producer may not be required to make repayments to the Secretary of fixed, decoupled payments and counter-cyclical payments if the farm has been foreclosed on and the Secretary determines that forgiving the repayments is appropriate to provide fair and equitable treatment. This subsection shall not void the responsibilities of the producer under subsection (a) if the producer continues or resumes operation, or control, of the farm. On the resumption of operation or control over the farm by the producer, the requirements of subsection (a) in effect on the date of the foreclosure shall apply.

(c) TRANSFER OR CHANGE OF INTEREST IN FARM.—

(1) TERMINATION.—Except as provided in paragraph (4), a transfer of (or change in) the interest of a producer in base acres for which fixed, decoupled payments or counter-cyclical payments are made shall result in the termination of the payments with respect to the base acres, unless the transferee or owner of the acreage agrees to assume all obligations under subsection (a). The termination shall be effective on the date of the transfer or change.

(2) TRANSFER OF PAYMENT BASE.—There is no restriction on the transfer of a farm’s base acres or payment yield as part of a change in the producers on the farm.

(3) MODIFICATION.—At the request of the transferee or owner, the Secretary may modify the requirements of subsection (a) if the modifications are consistent with the objectives of such subsection, as determined by the Secretary.

(4) EXCEPTION.—If a producer entitled to a fixed, decoupled payment or counter-cyclical payment dies, becomes incompetent, or is otherwise unable to receive the payment, the Secretary shall make the payment, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary.

(1) IN GENERAL.—As a condition on the receipt of any benefits under this subtitle or subtitle B, the Secretary shall require producers to submit to the Secetary acreage reports.

(2) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—Section 15 of the Agricultural Marketing Act
(12 U.S.C. 1141j) is amended by striking subsection (d).

(e) REVIEW.—A determination of the Secretary under this section shall be considered to be an adverse decision for purposes of the availability of administrative review of the determination.

SEC. 107. PLANTING FLEXIBILITY.

(a) PERMITTED CROPS.—Subject to subsection (b), any commodity or crop may be planted on base acres on a farm.

(b) LIMITATIONS AND EXCEPTIONS REGARDING FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.—

(1) LIMITATIONS.—The planting of fruits and vegetables (other than lentils, mung beans, and dry peas) shall be prohibited on base acres.

(2) EXCEPTIONS.—Paragraph (1) shall not limit the planting of a fruit or vegetable—

(A) in any region in which there is a history of double-cropping of covered commodities with fruits or vegetables, as determined by the Secretary, in which case the double-cropping shall be permitted;

(B) on a farm that the Secretary determines has a history of planting fruits or vegetables on base acres, except that fixed, decoupled payments and counter-cyclical payments shall be reduced by an acre for each acre planted to the fruit or vegetable; or

(C) by a producer who the Secretary determines has an established planting history of a specific fruit or vegetable, except that—

(i) the quantity planted may not exceed the producer’s average anual planting history of the fruit or vegetable in the 1991 through 1995 crop years (excluding any crop year in which no plantings were made), as determined by the Secretary; and

(ii) fixed, decoupled payments and counter-cyclical payments shall be reduced by an acre for each acre planted to the fruit or vegetable.

SEC. 108. RELATION TO REMAINING PAYMENT AUTHORITY UNDER PRODUCTION FLEXIBILITY CONTRACTS.

(a) TERMINATION OF SUPERSEDED PAYMENT AUTHORITY.—Notwithstanding section
113(a)(7) of the Federal Agriculture Improvement and Reform Act of 1996 (7 U.S.C.
7213(a)(7)) or any other provision of law, the Secretary shall not make payments for fiscal year 2002 after the date of the enactment of this Act under production flexibility contracts entered into under section 111 of such Act (7 U.S.C. 7211).

(b) CONTRACT PAYMENTS MADE BEFORE ENACTMENT.—If, on or before the date of the enactment of this Act, a producer receives all or any portion of the payment authorized for fiscal year 2002 under a production flexibility contract, the Secretary shall reduce the amount of the fixed, decoupled payment otherwise due the producer for that same fiscal year by the amount of the fiscal year 2002 payment previously received by the producer.

SEC. 109. PAYMENT LIMITATIONS.

Sections 1001 through 1001C of the Food Security Act of 1985 (7 U.S.C. 1308

(a) ELIGIBLE PRODUCERS.—Effective for the 2002 through 2011 crop years, in the case of a producer that would be eligible for a loan deficiency payment under section 125 for wheat, barley, or oats, but that elects to use acreage planted to the wheat, barley, or oats for the grazing of livestock, the Secretary shall make a payment to the producer under this section if the producer enters into an agreement with the Secretary to forgo any other harvesting of the wheat, barley, or oats on that acreage.

(b) PAYMENT AMOUNT.—The amount of a payment made to a producer on a farm under this section shall be equal to the amount determined by multiplying—

(1) the loan deficiency payment rate determined under section 125(c) in effect, as of the date of the agreement, for the county in which the farm is located; by

Any price restrictions that would otherwise apply to the disposal of agricultural commodities by the Commodity Credit Corporation shall not apply to the redemption of certificates under this subsection.

(B) DESIGNATION OF COMMODITIES AND PRODUCTS.—To the extent practicable, the Secretary shall permit owners of certificates to designate the commodities and products, including storage sites, the owners would prefer to receive in exchange for certificates.

Northern Europe, adjusted for the value of any certificate issued under subsection (a), exceeds the Northern Europe price by more than 1.25 cents per pound, there shall immediately be in effect a special import quota.

(C) TIGHT DOMESTIC SUPPLY.—During any month for which the Secretary estimates the season-ending United States upland cotton stocks-to-use ratio, as determined under subparagraph (D), to be below 16 percent, the Secretary, in making the determination under subparagraph (B), shall not adjust the Friday through Thursday average price quotation for the lowest-priced United States growth, as quoted for Middling (M) 1 3/32-inch cotton, delivered C.I.F. Northern Europe, for the value of any certificates issued under subsection (a).

(D) SEASON-ENDING UNITED STATES STOCKS-TO-USE RATIO.—For the purposes of making estimates under subparagraph (C), the Secretary shall, on a monthly basis, estimate and report the season-ending United States upland cotton stocks-to-use ratio, excluding projected raw cotton imports but including the quantity of raw cotton that has been imported into the United States during the marketing year.

(2) QUANTITY.—The quota shall be equal to one week's consumption of upland cotton by domestic mills at the seasonally adjusted average rate of the most recent three months for which data are available.

(3) APPLICATION.—The quota shall apply to upland cotton purchased not later than 90 days after the date of the Secretary's announcement under paragraph (1) and entered into the United States not later than 180 days after the date.

(c) LIMITED GLOBAL IMPORT QUOTA FOR UPLAND COTTON.—
(1) IN GENERAL.—The President shall carry out an import quota program that provides that whenever the Secretary determines and announces that the average price of the base quality of upland cotton, as determined by the Secretary, in the designated spot markets for a month exceeded 130 percent of the average price of such quality of cotton in the markets for the preceding 36 months, notwithstanding any other provision of law, there shall immediately be in effect a limited global import quota subject to the following conditions:
(A) QUANTITY.—The quantity of the quota shall be equal to 21 days of domestic mill consumption of upland cotton at the seasonally adjusted average rate of the most recent three months for which data are available.
(B) QUANTITY IF PRIOR QUOTA.—If a quota has been established under this subsection during the preceding 12 months, the quantity of the quota next established under this subsection shall be the smaller of 21 days of domestic mill consumption calculated under subparagraph (A) or the quantity required to increase the supply to 130 percent of the demand.
(C) PREFERENTIAL TARIFF TREATMENT.—The quantity under a limited global import quota shall be considered to be an in-quota quantity for purposes of—
(i) section 213(d) of the Caribbean Basin Economic Recovery Act (19 U.S.C. 2703(d));
(ii) section 204 of the Andean Trade Preference Act (19 U.S.C. 3203);

(1) ESTABLISHMENT AND PURPOSE.—For the purpose of making fixed decoupled payments and counter-cyclical payments to eligible peanut producers under this chapter, the Secretary shall provide for the establishment of a payment yield for each peanut farm in accordance with this subsection.

(2) AVERAGE YIELD.—The Secretary shall establish a payment yield for peanuts on a farm by first determining the average yield for peanuts on the farm for the 1998 through 2001 crop years, excluding any crop year in which the acreage planted to peanuts was zero. If, for any of these four crop years in which peanuts were planted, the farm would have satisfied the eligibility criteria established to carry out section 1102 of the Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 1999 (7 U.S.C. 1421 note; Public Law 105–277), the Secretary shall assign a yield for that year equal to 65 percent of the county yield, as determined by the Secretary.

The Secretary shall give the producers on the farm the opportunity to select the peanut acres or base acres against which the reduction will be made.

(2) OTHER ACREAGE.—For purposes of paragraph (1), the Secretary shall include the following:

(2) ADVANCE PAYMENTS.—At the option of an eligible peanut producer, 50 percent of the fixed, decoupled payment for a fiscal year shall be paid on a date selected by the producer. The selected date shall be on or after December 1 of that fiscal year, and the producer may change the selected date for a subsequent fiscal year by providing advance notice to the Secretary.

(3) Repayment of advance payments.—If a producer that receives an advance fixed, decoupled payment for a fiscal year ceases to be an eligible peanut producer before the date the fixed, decoupled payment would otherwise have been made by the Secretary under paragraph (1), the producer shall be responsible for repaying the Secretary the full amount of the advance payment.

SEC. 164. AVAILABILITY OF COUNTER-CYCLICAL PAYMENTS FOR PEANUTS.

(2) Partial payment.—The Secretary may permit, and, if so permitted, an eligible peanut producer may elect to receive, up to 50 percent of the projected counter-cyclical payment, as determined by the Secretary, to be made under this section for a peanut crop upon completion of the first six months of the marketing year for that crop. The producer shall repay to the Secretary the amount, if any, by which the partial payment exceeds the actual counter-cyclical payment to be made for that crop.

(b) Effect of foreclosure.—A producer may not be required to make repayments to the Secretary of fixed, decoupled payments and counter-cyclical payments if the farm has been foreclosed on and the Secretary determines that forgiving the repayments is appropriate to provide fair and equitable treatment. This subsection shall not void the responsibilities of the producer under subsection (a) if the producer continues or resumes operation, or control, of the farm. On the resumption of operation or control over the farm by the producer, the requirements of subsection (a) in effect on the date of the foreclosure shall apply.

(c) TRANSFER OR CHANGE OF INTEREST IN FARM.

(1) TERMINATION.—Except as provided in paragraph (4), a transfer of (or change in) the interest of a producer in peanut acres for which fixed, decoupled payments or counter-cyclical payments are made shall result in the termination of the payments with respect to the peanut acres, unless the transferee or owner of the acreage agrees to assume all obligations under subsection (a). The termination shall be effective on the date of the transfer or change.

(2) TRANSFER OF PAYMENT BASE.—There is no restriction on the transfer of a farm’s peanut acres or payment yield as part of a change in the producers on the farm.

(C) minimize the cost incurred by the Federal Government in storing peanuts; and
(D) allow peanuts produced in the United States to be marketed freely and competitively, both domestically and internationally.

(e) LOAN DEFICIENCY PAYMENTS.—
(1) AVAILABILITY.—The Secretary may make loan deficiency payments available to producers who, although eligible to obtain a marketing assistance loan for peanuts under subsection (a), agree to forgo obtaining the loan for the peanuts in return for payments under this subsection.

TITLE VIII—FORESTRY INITIATIVES

SEC. 801. REPEAL OF FORESTRY INCENTIVES PROGRAM AND STEWARDSHIP INCENTIVE PROGRAM.

SEC. 802. ESTABLISHMENT OF FOREST LAND ENHANCEMENT PROGRAM.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

(1) There is a growing dependence on private nonindustrial forest lands to supply the necessary market commodities and nonmarket values, such as habitat for fish and wildlife, aesthetics, outdoor recreation opportunities, and other forest resources, required by a growing population.

(2) There is a strong demand for expanded assistance programs for owners of nonindustrial private forest land since the majority of the wood supply of the United States comes from nonindustrial private forest land.

(3) The soil, carbon stores, water and air quality of the United States can be maintained and improved through good stewardship of nonindustrial private forest lands.

(4) The products and services resulting from stewardship of nonindustrial private forest lands provide income and employment that contribute to the economic health and diversity of rural communities.

(5) Wildfires threaten human lives, property, forests, and other resources, and Federal and State cooperation in forest fire prevention and control has proven effective and valuable, in that properly managed forest stands are less susceptible to catastrophic fire, as dramatized by the catastrophic fire seasons of 1998 and 2000.

(6) Owners of private nonindustrial forest lands are being faced with increased pressure to convert their forestland to development and other uses.

(7) Complex, long-rotation forest investments, including sustainable hardwood management, are often the most difficult commitment for small, nonindustrial private forest landowners and, thus, should receive equal consideration under cost-share programs.

(8) The investment of one Federal dollar in State and private forestry programs is estimated to leverage $9 on average from State, local, and private sources.

(b) PURPOSE.—It is the purpose of this section to strengthen the commitment of the Department of Agriculture to sustainable forestry and to establish a coordinated and cooperative Federal, State, and local sustainable forest program for the establishment, management, maintenance, enhancement, and restoration of forests on nonindustrial private forest lands in the United States.
The Cooperative Forestry Assistance Act of 1978 is amended by inserting after section 3 (16 U.S.C. 2102) the following new section 4:

"SEC. 4. FOREST LAND ENHANCEMENT PROGRAM.

"(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—

"(1) ESTABLISHMENT; PURPOSE.—The Secretary shall establish a Forest Land Enhancement Program (in this section referred to as the ‘Program’) for the purpose of providing financial, technical, educational, and related assistance to State foresters to encourage the long-term sustainability of nonindustrial private forest lands in the United States by assisting the owners of such lands in more actively managing their forest and related resources by utilizing existing State, Federal, and private sector resource management expertise, financial assistance, and educational programs.

"(2) ADMINISTRATION.—The Secretary shall carry out the Program within, and administer the Program through, the Natural Resources Conservation Service.

"(3) COORDINATION.—The Secretary shall implement the Program in coordination with State foresters.

"(b) PROGRAM OBJECTIVES.—In implementing the Program, the Secretary shall target resources to achieve the following objectives:

"(1) Investment in practices to establish, restore, protect, manage, maintain, and enhance the health and productivity of the nonindustrial private forest lands in the United States for timber, habitat for flora and fauna, water quality, and wetlands.

"(2) Ensuring that afforestation, reforestation, improvement of poorly stocked stands, timber stand improvement, practices necessary to improve seedling growth and survival, and growth enhancement practices occur where needed to enhance and sustain the long-term productivity of timber and nontimber forest resources to help meet future public demand for all forest resources and provide environmental benefits.

"(3) Reduce the risks and help restore, recover, and mitigate the damage to forests caused by fire, insects, invasive species, disease, and damaging weather.

"(4) Increase and enhance carbon sequestration opportunities.

"(5) Enhance implementation of agroforestry practices.

"(6) Maintain and enhance the forest landbase and leverage State and local financial and technical assistance to owners that promote the same conservation and environmental values.

"(c) ELIGIBILITY.—

"(1) IN GENERAL.—An owner of nonindustrial private forest land is eligible for cost-sharing assistance under the Program if the owner—

"(A) agrees to develop and implement an individual stewardship, forest, or stand management plan addressing site specific activities and practices in cooperation with, and approved by, the State forester, state official, or private sector program in consultation with the State forester;

"(B) agrees to implement approved activities in accordance with the plan for a period of not less than 10 years, unless the State forester approves a modification to such plan; and

"(C) meets the acreage restrictions as determined by the State forester in conjunction with the State Forest Stewardship Coordinating Committee established under section 19.

"(2) STATE PRIORITIES.—The Secretary, in consultation with the State forester and the State Forest Stewardship Coordinating Committee may develop State priorities for cost sharing under the Program that will promote forest management objectives in that State.

"(3) DEVELOPMENT OF PLAN.—An owner shall be eligible for cost-share assistance for the development of the individual stewardship, forest, or stand management plan required by paragraph (1).

"(d) APPROVED ACTIVITIES.—

"(1) DEVELOPMENT.—The Secretary, in consultation with the State Forest Stewardship Coordinating Committee, shall develop a list of approved forest activities and practices that will be eligible for cost-share assistance under the Program within each State.

"(2) TYPE OF ACTIVITIES.—In developing a list of approved activities and practices under paragraph (1), the Secretary shall attempt to achieve the establishment, restoration, management, maintenance, and enhancement of forests and trees for the following:

"(A) The sustainable growth and management of forests for timber production.
(B) The restoration, use, and enhancement of forest wetlands and riparian areas.
(C) The protection of water quality and watersheds through the application of State-developed forestry best management practices.
(D) Energy conservation and carbon sequestration purposes.
(E) Habitat for flora and fauna.
(F) The control, detection, and monitoring of invasive species on forestlands as well as preventing the spread and providing for the restoration of lands affected by invasive species.
(G) Hazardous fuels reduction and other management activities that reduce the risks and help restore, recover, and mitigate the damage to forests caused by fire.
(H) The development of forest or stand management plans.
(I) Other activities approved by the Secretary, in coordination with the State Forest Stewardship Coordinating Committee.

SEC. 804. ENHANCED COMMUNITY FIRE PROTECTION.

(a) Findings.—Congress finds the following:

(1) The severity and intensity of wildland fires has increased dramatically over the past few decades as a result of past fire and land management policies.

(2) The record 2000 fire season is a prime example of what can be expected if action is not taken.

(3) These wildfires threaten not only the nation’s forested resources, but the thousands of communities intermingled with the wildlands in the wildland-urban interface.

(4) The National Fire Plan developed in response to the 2000 fire season is the proper, coordinated, and most effective means to address this wildfire issue.

(5) Whereas adequate authorities exist to tackle the wildfire issues at the landscape level on Federal lands, there is limited authority to take action on most private lands where the largest threat to life and property lies.

(6) There is a significant Federal interest in enhancing community protection from wildfire.

(b) Enhanced Protection.—The Cooperative Forestry Assistance Act of 1978 is amended by inserting after section 10 (16 U.S.C. 2106) the following new section:

“(C) to expand outreach and education programs to homeowners and communities about fire prevention; and “(D) to establish defensible space around private landowners homes and property against wildfires.

“(2) Components.—In coordination with existing authorities under this Act, the Secretary may undertake on both Federal and non-Federal lands—
“(A) fuel hazard mitigation and prevention;
(B) invasive species management;
(C) multi-resource wildfire planning;

Subtitle C—Other Matters

SEC. 921. HAZARDOUS FUEL REDUCTION GRANTS TO PREVENT WILDFIRE DISASTERS AND TRANSFORM HAZARDOUS FUELS TO ELECTRIC ENERGY, USEFUL HEAT, OR TRANSPORTATION FUELS.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

(1) The damages caused by wildfire disasters have been equivalent in magnitude to the damage resulting from the Northridge earthquake, Hurricane Andrew, and the recent flooding of the Mississippi River and the Red River.

(2) More than 20,000 communities in the United States are at risk to wildfire and approximately 11,000 of these communities are located near Federal lands. More than 72,000,000 acres of National Forest System lands and 57,000,000 acres of lands managed by the Secretary of the Interior are at risk of catastrophic fire in the near future. The accumulation of heavy forest fuel loads continues to increase as a result of disease, insect infestations, and drought, further raising the risk of fire each year.
Modification of forest fuel load conditions through the removal of hazardous fuels will minimize catastrophic damage from wildfires, reducing the need for emergency funding to respond to wildfires and protecting lives, communities, watersheds, and wildlife habitat.

The hazardous fuels removed from forest lands represent an abundant renewable resource as well as a significant supply of biomass for biomass-to-energy facilities.

(b) HAZARDOUS FUELS TO ENERGY GRANT PROGRAM.—The Secretary concerned may make a grant to a person that operates a biomass-to-energy facility to offset the costs incurred to purchase hazardous fuels from forest lands for use by the facility in the production of electric energy, useful heat, or transportation fuels. The Secretary concerned shall select grant recipients on the basis of their planned purchases of hazardous fuels and the level of anticipated benefits to reduced wildfire risk.

c) GRANT AMOUNTS.—A grant under this section shall be equal to at least $5 per ton of hazardous fuels delivered, but not to exceed $10 per ton of hazardous fuels delivered, based on the distance of the hazardous fuels from the biomass-to-energy facility.

d) MONITORING OF GRANT RECIPIENT ACTIVITIES.—As a condition on a grant under this section, the grant recipient shall keep such records as the Secretary concerned may require to fully and correctly disclose the use of the grant funds and all transactions involved in the purchase of hazardous fuels derived from forest lands. Upon notice by a duly authorized representative of the Secretary concerned, the operator of a biomass-to-energy facility that purchases or uses the resulting hazardous fuels shall afford the representative reasonable access to the facility and an opportunity to examine the inventory and records of the facility.

e) MONITORING OF EFFECT OF TREATMENTS.—The Secretary concerned shall monitor Federal lands from which hazardous fuels are removed and sold to a biomass-to-energy facility to determine and document the reduction in fire hazards on such lands.

(f) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) BIOMASS-TO-ENERGY FACILITY.—The term “biomass-to-energy facility” means a facility that uses forest biomass as a raw material to produce electric energy, useful heat, or transportation fuels.

(2) FOREST BIOMASS.—The term “forest biomass” means hazardous fuels and biomass accumulations from precommercial thinnings, slash, and brush on forest lands that do not satisfy the definition of hazardous fuels.

(3) HAZARDOUS FUELS.—The term “hazardous fuels” means any unnaturally excessive accumulation of organic material, particularly in areas designated as condition class 2 or condition class 3 (as defined in the report entitled “Protecting People and Sustainable Resources in Fire-Adapted Ecosystems”, prepared by the Forest Service, and dated October 13, 2000), on forest lands that the Secretary concerned determines poses a substantial present or potential hazard to forest ecosystems, wildlife, human, community, or firefighter safety in the case of a wildfire, particularly a wildfire in a drought year.

(4) SECRETARY CONCERNED.—The term “Secretary concerned” means—

(A) the Secretary of Agriculture or the designee of the Secretary of Agriculture with respect to the National Forest System lands and private lands; and

(B) the Secretary of the Interior or the designee of the Secretary of the Interior with respect to Federal lands under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of the Interior and Indian lands.

(g) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There is authorized to be appropriated $50,000,000 for each fiscal year to carry out this section.

SEC. 923. AVAILABILITY OF SECTION 32 FUNDS.

The 2d undesignated paragraph of section 32 of the Act of August 24, 1935 (Public Law 320; 49 Stat. 774; 7 U.S.C. 612c), is amended by striking “$300,000,000” and inserting “$500,000,000”.

SEC. 924. SENIORS FARMERS’ MARKET NUTRITION PROGRAM.

(a) Establishment.—For each of the fiscal years 2002 through 2011, the Secretary of Agriculture shall use $15,000,000 of the funds available to the Commodity Credit Corporation to carry out and expand a seniors farmers’ market nutrition program.

(b) Program Purposes.—The purposes of the seniors farmers’ market nutrition program are—

(1) to provide resources in the form of fresh, nutritious, unprepared, locally grown fruits, vegetables, and herbs from farmers’ markets, roadside stands and community supported agriculture programs to low-income seniors;

(2) to increase the domestic consumption of agricultural commodities by expanding or aiding in the expansion of domestic farmers’ markets, roadside stands, and community supported agriculture programs; and

“(f) Finality of Certain Appeal Decisions.—If an appellant prevails at the regional level in an administrative appeal of a decision by the Division, the agency may not pursue an administrative appeal of that decision to the national level.”.

SEC. 927. OUTREACH AND ASSISTANCE FOR SOCIALLY DISADVANTAGED FARMERS AND RANCHERS.

Subsection (a) of section 2501 of the Food, Agriculture, Conservation, and Trade Act of 1990 (7 U.S.C. 2279) is amended to read as follows:

“(a) Outreach and Assistance.—

“(1) In General.—The Secretary of Agriculture (in this section referred to as the ‘Secretary’) shall provide outreach and technical assistance programs specifically to encourage and assist socially disadvantaged farmers and ranchers to own and operate farms and ranches and to participate equitably in the full range of agricultural programs. This assistance, which should enhance coordination and make more effective the outreach, technical assistance, and education efforts authorized in specific agriculture programs, shall include information and assistance on commodity, conservation, credit, rural, and business development programs, application and bidding procedures, farm and risk management, marketing, and other essential information to participate in agricultural and other programs of the Department.

“(2) Grants and Contracts.—The Secretary may make grants and enter into contracts and other agreements in the furtherance of this section with the following entities:

“(A) Any community-based organization, network, or coalition of community-based organizations that—

“(i) has demonstrated experience in providing agricultural education or other agriculturally related services to socially disadvantaged farmers and ranchers;

“(ii) provides documentary evidence of its past experience of working with socially disadvantaged farmers and ranchers during the two years preceding its application for assistance under this section; and

“(iii) does not engage in activities prohibited under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

“(B) 1890 Land-Grant Colleges, including Tuskegee Institute, Indian tribal community colleges and Alaska native cooperative colleges, Hispanic serving post-secondary educational institutions, and other post-secondary educational institutions with demonstrated experience in providing agriculture education or other agriculturally related services to socially disadvantaged family farmers and ranchers in their region.

“(C) Federally recognized tribes and national tribal organizations with demonstrated experience in providing agriculture education or other agriculturally related services to socially disadvantaged family farmers and ranchers in their region.

“(3) Finding.—There are authorized to be appropriated $25,000,000 for each fiscal year to make grants and enter into contracts and other agreements with the entities described in paragraph (2) and to otherwise carry out the purposes of this subsection.”.

BRIEF EXPLANATION

TITLE I—COMMODITY PROGRAMS

- Maintains maximum planting flexibility while providing counter-cyclical protection to help farmers weather adverse market conditions.
- Retains fixed-decoupled payments, as well as the marketing loan program. Marketing loan rates are maintained for all commodities, which are established at a level equivalent to other commodities, and grain sorghum, which is established at a level equivalent to corn.
- Provides producers with the option to update base acreage. Current base yields are maintained. Both fixed-decoupled, and counter-cyclical payments are made on the producer’s base.
- For oilseeds and farms without current AMTA payment base and yields, the Secretary is directed to develop payment yields that are comparable to current AMTA yields in the area.
- Counter-cyclical payments are triggered when a crop’s price, adjusted for the fixed decoupled payment, is below the target price. The payment rate for a crop would be calculated as the difference between its target price and the sum of the following components:
  (a) The higher of the national twelve-month season average price received by producers, or the national average loan.
  (b) The fixed decoupled payment rate.

PURPOSE AND NEED

TITLE I—COMMODITY PROGRAMS

American agriculture is in an economic crisis. In 2000, crop prices were at a 27-year low for soybeans, a 25-year low for cotton, a 14-year low for wheat and corn and an 8-year low for rice. Over the past three years, net cash income fell in real dollars to its lowest point since the Great Depression. The current farm recession, in its fourth year, ranks among the deepest in our nation's history, along with the Great Depression, the post-World War I and II recessions, and the financial ruin of the 1980s.

For 2001, most projections show very little improvement in commodity prices with production expenses rising to record levels. Looking back to when Congress passed the Federal Agriculture Improvement and Reform Act of 1996, no one on either side of the aisle predicted the current malaise of high costs and low commodity prices. In fact, today's prices for wheat, corn, and soybeans are 31 percent lower than the U.S. Department of Agriculture's (“USDA”) projected prices at the time the legislation was enacted.

There are many factors that have contributed to this dismal situation that are beyond the control of individual producers. American agriculture depends heavily on the strength of foreign markets for returns on commodity production. In recent months, however, worldwide demand for U.S. products has not met expectations for a variety of reasons. Repercussions are still being felt from the Asian economic crisis that began three years ago. Further, three years of worldwide good weather have created commodity surpluses all around the globe. Compounding this situation for U.S. producers is the strength of the dollar that has contributed to a substantial increase in the relative cost of U.S. commodities. In fact, USDA estimates that the value of the dollar is up 25 percent relative to our customers' currencies and up 40 percent relative to our major competitors' currencies.

In addition, domestic producers continue to compete on an uneven international playing field in light of trade barriers. Despite some progress in lowering trade barriers through the World Trade Organization, the fact remains that the average tariff on U.S. farm products in other countries is 62 percent, while the average U.S. tariff on goods coming into the U.S. is approximately 12 percent. Beyond high tariffs, our farmers also face the daunting challenge of competing with high foreign subsidies. For example, the average subsidy level in the European Union during 1997 to 1999 was $342 per acre, while the average subsidy level in the U.S. was only $43 per acre.

The effect of low commodity prices has been magnified in the 2001 crop year by skyrocketing energy costs. Between 1999 and 2000, U.S. producers incurred an additional $2.4 billion in fuel costs. This is a 40 percent increase from years past. For the 2001 crop year, energy costs are expected to contribute to a $1.5 billion increase in production expenses. Diesel prices for 2001 are expected to average $1.50 per gallon which is a 50 percent increase from last year. In addition, last year’s rising natural gas prices have fueled sharply increased costs for irrigation and nitrogen fertilizer.

In each of the last three years, Congress has responded to the needs of American agriculture with emergency assistance. This money has provided a critical source of income for producers of contract crops and soybeans. Indeed, had Congress not provided nearly $25 billion in supplemental assistance to farmers in the last three years, tens of thousands of farmers would have been forced out of business, having a devastating impact on rural America.

In this year's Budget Resolution, the Committee on Budget provided the Committee on Agriculture a total of $73.5 billion for fiscal 2002 through 2011 for reauthorizing the farm bill. Additionally, $5.5 billion was allocated to the Committee to appropriate as supplemental funding during fiscal year 2001. Due to the terms of the Budget Resolution, the Committee deemed it necessary to take action in order to fully utilize the Budget Committee’s generous funds.

The need to reauthorize the farm bill a year before its expiration is immense. The comprehensive product of the Committee is a culmination of nearly two years of work. The Committee held 15 hearings on federal farm policy in 2000, 10 of which were held in rural America. Twenty-one hearings were held on the commodity title in 2001; sixteen were held by the Committee in Washington, D.C., 3 were held across the country by the Subcommittee on General Farm Commodities and Risk Management, 1 was held by the Subcommittee on Specialty Crops and Foreign Agriculture Programs, and 1 was held by the Subcommittee on Livestock and Horticulture. A common message was voiced throughout the hearings: retain planting flexibility and provide a safety net for times of low prices. Within Title I, the Committee provides producers with planting flexibility through annual decoupled assistance and a price safety net through the establishment of target prices for eligible program crops.

The Committee is hopeful that the Farm Security Act of 2001 will eliminate the need for ad hoc economic assistance to producers. The legislation includes a carefully crafted counter-cyclical mechanism that seeks to provide assistance during price-deficient crop years. The Committee believes this is fiscally responsible and that this mechanism provides a more predictable safety net for Congress, lenders, and producers.

The U.S. cotton industry is particularly sensitive to the effects of an appreciating dollar because of its impact on imports of cotton textile and apparel products. Some believe that the strong appreciation of the dollar since the mid-1990s has significantly lowered the price of foreign-produced textiles and apparel in the U.S. market, increasing the competitive advantage of foreign firms at the expense of U.S.-based enterprises; such is evidenced through the drop in mill consumption. During Committee consideration, Mr. Hayes offered and withdrew an amendment to eliminate the 1.25-cent threshold currently used in the calculation of Step 2 payment rates. The adjustment would have effectively reduced the cost of raw cotton to domestic textile manufacturers and would have enabled shippers to price U.S. cotton more aggressively for export. Had it been adopted, the amendment would have been a step toward offsetting the adverse effects of a strong dollar. A number of Committee Members voiced their concern on the adverse effects of a strong dollar and hoped that attention would be given to the issue.

The price of milk to dairy producers in the United States has been supported continuously for over 50 years since the enactment of the Agricultural Act of 1949. Since 1981, the support level has been established by Congress either at specific price levels, or by formula tied to anticipated Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) dairy product purchases. The current support price of $9.90 per hundredweight for milk containing 3.67 percent milkfat has been in effect since January 1, 1999.

To carry out the price support program, the CCC offers to buy cheese, butter and nonfat dry milk at announced prices, thus providing a floor for dairy product prices. The Secretary of Agriculture establishes the purchase prices for each product to enable plants of average efficiency to process and market products to CCC and pay, on average, producers the announced support price. The CBO estimated cost of extending the price support program is $773 million over 10 years.

The government assists dairy exports through the Dairy Export Incentive Program (DEIP). The program is used to help U.S. dairy products meet competition from subsidizing countries, especially the European Union. Products eligible for DEIP are milk powders, butterfat and cheese. The DEIP is currently authorized through December 31, 2002.

DEIP sales are made by private firms. Upon contacting a potential buyer, the prospective exporter submits a bid to USDA requesting a cash bonus that would allow the sale to take place. If accepted by USDA the bonus is paid after the exporter provides evidence that the dairy product has been exported. Estimated outlays under the Dairy Export Incentive Program, based on the April 2001 CBO baseline are anticipated to be $982 million over 10 years.

The Fluid Milk Promotion and Education Program (also known as MilkPEP) has contributed to slowing the decades-long erosion in milk consumption and positioned the milk industry to better compete with soft drinks and other competitive beverages. Through the MilkPEP program, fluid milk processors invest about $110 million annually in generic advertising and promotion activities to promote consumption of beverage milks. The program, which has been in effect for six years, works in close coordination with the dairy producer promotion program to maximize the effectiveness of dollars spent to enhance milk sales.

Recently, the MilkPEP program has been successful in developing long-term partnerships with major companies such as AOL and Disney, which provide marketing tools never before available to assist milk companies in marketing their products. MilkPEP has created new opportunities to make milk more available, such as in recent work to position milk vending machines in schools.

The Dairy Market Enhancement Act of 2000 provides that the Secretary of Agriculture shall establish a program of mandatory dairy product information reporting that will provide timely, accurate, and reliable market information. In addition to a reporting program relating to price, quantity, and moisture content of dairy products which has been implemented, the Act’s mandatory reporting program relates to the quantity of dairy products being stored. To date, the Department of Agriculture has not established a program of mandatory stored dairy products reporting presumably due to questions concerning the authority to establish reporting requirements for substantially equivalent dairy products.

The Dairy Production Stabilization Act of 1983 (Dairy Act) authorized a national producer program for dairy product promotion, research, and nutrition education to increase human consumption of milk and dairy products and reduce milk surpluses. Under the program promotion and research is conducted to strengthen the dairy industry’s position in the marketplace and to maintain and expand domestic and foreign markets and uses for fluid milk products and dairy products produced in the United States.

This self-help program is funded by a mandatory 15-cent-per-hundredweight assessment on all milk produced in the contiguous 48 States and marketed commercially by dairy farmers. The Dairy Act provides that dairy producers can direct up to 10 cents per hundredweight of the assessment for contributions to qualified regional, State, or local dairy product promotion, research, or nutrition education programs.

Dairy checkoff revenue from the 15-cent-per-hundredweight producer assessment was $246 million for 2000.

TITLE II—CONSERVATION

The conservation title of this legislation includes more than $16 billion over ten years for conservation programs. This represents a 75% increase in spending on conservation opportunities for America’s farmers and ranchers. The commitment of this Committee to conservation, as signified by such an increase, is prompted by several factors. First, conservation programs have experienced extreme popularity with farmers in recent years. Many of the programs developed during the 1990 and 1996 farm bills such as the Environmental Quality Incentives Program (“EQIP”), the Wetlands Reserve Program (“WRP”) and the Wildlife Habitat Incentives Program (“WHIP”) are oversubscribed by a factor of four. This level of popularity was then affirmed throughout the numerous hearings this Committee has held over the past year, both on Capitol Hill and throughout all regions of the country. There, farmers repeatedly indicated their support for voluntary, incentive-based conservation programs which will support them in their efforts to be good stewards of the land.

Second, as conservation programs have become popular with farmers they also have become important to taxpayers. The Committee’s action in this legislation responds to consumer demand not only for a cheap, high-quality food supply but also for a clean environment.

Third, the scope and range of environmental challenges facing producers have expanded. Back when the Committee adopted the current swampbuster and sodbuster provisions in the 1985 Farm Bill, the focus and concern of conservation policy was soil erosion. Today, the livelihoods of farmers and ranchers are threatened by many additional environmental demands such as water and air quality. The substantial increase in funding for conservation programs in this package will enable producers to respond to these imminent challenges.
Beyond the decision to markedly increase funding for the conservation title, the Committee was faced with an additional consideration of whether to create a new set of programs designed to address current conservation issues or to provide funding to and correct problems in the administration of existing programs. After careful review of the testimony provided at the various hearings held by this Committee to review farm policy, the Members determined that there was no need to create a new program. At the same time, however, the Members also concluded that there were serious shortcomings in several of the existing programs. For example, last year over 20% of the money provided to producers for the EQIP program went to administrative and technical assistance costs. Recognizing that such circumstances dramatically reduce the actual dollars getting to farmers and ranchers, the Committee has established a technical assistance fund to meet the needs of producers without cutting into the money actually provided for enrollment in the program. Through this change and similar adjustments to other programs as well as the substantial increase in funding levels, the Committee believes that this legislation provides a meaningful starting point for meeting the conservation needs of a significant number of agricultural producers.

TITLE III—TRADE

Section 301. Market Access Program

The purpose of the Market Access Program (MAP) is to aid in the creation, expansion, and maintenance of foreign markets for U.S. agricultural products. MAP forms a partnership between non-profit U.S. agricultural trade associations, U.S. agricultural cooperatives, non-profit state-regional trade groups, small U.S. businesses, and USDA’s Commodity Credit Corporation to share the costs of overseas marketing and promotional activities such as consumer promotions, market research, trade shows, and trade servicing.

Each year, MAP helps launch and expand sales of U.S. agricultural, fish, and forest products overseas. USDA has approved MAP proposals to promote a wide variety of U.S. commodities in almost every region of the world. Among those U.S. food and fiber products are apples, asparagus, canned peaches and fruit cocktail, catfish, cherries, citrus, cotton, dairy products, dry beans, eggs, feed grains, frozen potatoes, grapes, honey, hops, kiwifruit, meat, peanuts, pears, pet food, pistachios, poultry meat, prunes, raisins, rice, salmon, soybeans, strawberries, sunflower seeds, surimi, tallow, tomato products, walnuts, watermelons, and wheat.

The Committee determined that it is important to further expand and help create additional foreign markets for U.S. agriculture products and therefore increased funding for MAP to $200 million per year for the period from 2002 through 2011. The Committee received testimony that an expansion of MAP is needed for the economic growth of U.S. agriculture. U.S. fruit and vegetable producers face significant obstacles in the development of export markets for the products. Some of these obstacles are significant because of the perishable nature of the fruit and vegetable products and the level of support provided by foreign governments.

The United States is outspent by more than 20 to 1 by foreign competitors spending money on export promotion and export subsidies, according to USDA. As a marketing and promotion program, MAP is exempt from World Trade Organization (WTO) reduction commitments.

A study prepared for the National Association of State Departments of Agriculture found that 83% of the cases reviewed showed reliable evidence that the market share increased or market share loss was avoided as a result of MAP activities. In addition significant progress was found in eliminating or reducing constraints on U.S. exports due to MAP.

The 1993 Agricultural Reconciliation Act provides that no MAP funds may be used to develop, maintain, or expand foreign markets for tobacco. The Committee adopted an amendment that excludes leaf tobacco from that provision.

Puerto Rico specialty crops include crops such as mangoes that do not have significant markets in the United States, but represent prime products for export to Europe. It is important for the USDA to look beyond just the traditional specialty crops, to tropical crops such as mangoes for participation in the Market Access Program. The Committee urges the Secretary to provide technical assistance and financial support for the Puerto Rico Department of Agriculture to support the market promotion of specialty crops, such as but not limited to, mangoes grown in Puerto Rico.

Section 302. Food for Progress

The purpose of the Food for Progress program is to finance the sale and export of agricultural commodities on credit terms, or on a grant basis, to support developing countries and countries that are emerging democracies and have made commitments to introduce or expand free enterprise elements into their agricultural economies. Under the Food for Progress program, commodities may be provided under the authority of P.L. 480, Title I, or Section 416(b). Under certain conditions, the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) may also purchase commodities for use in Food for Progress programs if the commodities are currently not held by CCC. For commodities furnished on a grant basis, the CCC may pay, in addition to acquisition costs and ocean transportation, such related commodity and delivery charges.

The Food for Progress program is currently limited by a global 500,000 metric ton ceiling, by a $30 million cap on non-commodity costs (primarily transportation) and by a $10 million cap on administrative expenses.

The Committee recognizes the need for this program, since its inception in the 1985 Food Security Act, and the benefits of this program. The goals of the program include making use of the food resources of United States agriculture in order to support countries that are committed to policies that promote economic freedom, private, domestic production of food commodities for domestic consumption and the creation of and expansion of domestic markets for the purchase and sale of these commodities.

The Committee determined that the amount of commodities provided through the Food for Progress program should increase and thereby increases the limit on transportation cost to $35 million per year and administrative costs to $12 million per year so that additional commodities may be allocated to eligible countries. In addition, since the Food for Progress program allows the use of commodities from P.L. 480, Title I, the Committee makes clear the limitation on commodities for Food for Progress does not apply to the commodities from P.L. 480, Title I that are used under the Food for Progress program.

Efficient administration of the Food for Progress program is essential and therefore the Secretary is encouraged to make determinations regarding final program agreements and requests for this program before the beginning of the fiscal year. The Committee directs the Secretary to report, by November 1 of each fiscal year, on the programs, countries and commodities approved for the Food for Progress program for that fiscal year. Additionally the Secretary will include in that report the amount of funds approved for transportation and administrative costs.

Section 303. Export Enhancement Program

The Export Enhancement Act (EEP) is reauthorized at the current level of $478 million through fiscal year 2011.

The EEP was announced by USDA on May 15, 1985, and is operated under authority of the Agricultural Trade Act of 1978 as amended, the Uruguay Round Agreements Act and the Federal Agriculture Improvement and Reform Act of 1996.

The EEP helps products of U.S. farmers meet competition from subsidizing countries, especially the European Union. Under the program, the USDA’s goal is to allow U.S. farmers to sell their products in targeted countries and to expand U.S. agricultural exports while challenging unfair trade practices by our competitors. Through this program, sales of U.S. agricultural products are made that would not otherwise have been possible because of subsidized prices offered by competitor countries.

The Committee received testimony that encouraged the USDA to use the EEP, despite its lack of significant use since 1995. Since the predatory practices of the EU and other competitors still exist in the global marketplace, it is vital to maintain the use of the EEP.

According to a May 11, 2000, World Trade Organization report on export subsidies, the European Union is the largest user of export subsidies. In 1998, the EU spent almost $6 billion on export subsidies or 90.1% of the world total, compared to U.S. spending of $147 million or 2.2% of the world total.

Commodities eligible for EEP include wheat, wheat flour, rice, frozen poultry, barley, barley malt, table eggs and vegetable oil.

Section 304. Foreign Market Development Cooperator Program

The Foreign Market Development (Cooperator) Program uses Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) funds to aid in the creation, expansion, and maintenance of long-term export markets for U.S. agricultural products. The program is a trade promotion partnership between USDA and U.S. agricultural producers and processors, who are represented by nonprofit commodity or trade associations called Cooperators. Under this partnership, USDA and the Cooperator pool their technical and financial resources to conduct overseas market development activities. Overseas promotions focus on generic U.S. commodities, rather than individual brand-name products, and are targeted toward long-term development. In 2001, Cooperators and U.S. industry resource contributions totaled 116% of the funds provided by USDA.

Specific program activity includes market research (including research on demographics and the economic situation in foreign markets), trade servicing, and technical assistance in support of high-volume bulk commodities. U.S. competitors in the Cairns Group increased spending on market development from $282 million to $592 million between 1995 and 1998, and increased their market share by over 2% (versus a decline in U.S. market share of about 2%). The Committee received testimony that without an adequately funded Cooperator program, participants would have to curtail activities in several promising markets, including Syria, Jordan, Eastern Europe, and Taiwan. Increased funding for the Cooperator program is provided to meet increased competition from foreign competitors and to enable Cooperators to maintain and expand market opportunities for their products.

The Committee adopted an amendment designed to promote value-added products through the Cooperator program and to broaden the mission of the program by directing that significant emphasis be placed on value-added U.S. agricultural products for emerging markets. The Secretary is required to report each year to Congress detailing the amount and type of funds provided; the value-added products that have been targeted; and the markets for those products that have been developed. This report will assist in determining where and how this program is benefiting and promoting value-added products.

Section 305. Export Credit Guarantee Program

The Export Credit Guarantee Program is reauthorized at current levels through 2011. In addition, CCC will continue to ensure that not less than 35% of the monies spent on export credit guarantee programs be spent on processed and high-value products from 2002–2011.

USDA operates three export credit guarantee programs, with total export sales totaling approximately $3 billion in fiscal year 1999 (In statute, it is stated that CCC shall make available for each year not less than $5.5 billion in export credit guarantees). The Committee is concerned that GSM usage continues well below the statutory minimum of $5.5 billion in guarantees required each year. The Committee urges USDA to aggressively utilize GSM guarantees in accordance with law to maximize the program's enhancement of U.S. agricultural exports.

USDA's GSM–102 Export Credit Guarantee Program and the GSM–103 Intermediate Export Credit Guarantee Program both underwrite commercial financing of U.S. agricultural product exports to countries where credit might otherwise be difficult to obtain. Under these programs, USDA provides a guarantee to U.S. banks willing to finance such transactions for exporters shipping U.S. products on credit to foreign importers in eligible countries. GSM–102 covers credit terms of up to 3 years, and GSM–103 covers longer terms of up to 10 years.

Unlike GSM–102 and GSM–103, the Supplier Credit Guarantee Program guarantees short-term credit extended by U.S. exporters directly to their foreign customers. Credit terms cannot exceed 180 days. USDA recently increased guarantee coverage under the Supplier Credit Guarantee Program from 50% to 65% of the credit made available. U.S. exporters have expressed concern that coverage levels need to be increased to at least 85% of the credit made available for the program to effectively enhance U.S. exports, especially in the face of higher coverage levels offered by our trade competitors. The committee encourages the Secretary to review the Supplier Credit Guarantee Program to determine whether (1) additional increases in coverage, or (2) an increase in the authorized tenor, would enhance exports and program utilization.

The export credit guarantee programs, GSM–102 and GSM–103, were designed to facilitate sales of United States agricultural exports and have always enjoyed the enthusiastic support of the Committee.

The ongoing negotiations in the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) raise several concerns about whether these programs will remain viable for supporting exports of United States agricultural products. Shortening the maximum repayment terms and increasing the premiums for the USDA credit guarantee programs, among other changes contemplated in the negotiations, will significantly reduce the use of these programs. More important, these OECD negotiations are not the end of discussions and negotiations on export credit guarantees. It is fully anticipated that this issue will be part of the World Trade Organization (WTO) negotiations. This means that USDA export credit guarantee programs could be significantly cut in the OECD negotiations and cut again in the WTO negotiations. In fact, the current OECD proposal directs the United States and other OECD countries to continue negotiations on export credit guarantees in the WTO.

The Committee is concerned that the changes contemplated in the OECD proposal may damage U.S. agricultural exports. That concern is exacerbated by the possibility that export credit guarantee programs could undergo further cut-backs in the WTO.

United States exporters currently face unfair competition from state trading enterprises and export subsidies by foreign competitors. An agreement that weakens U.S. export credit guarantee programs will harm agriculture here at home.

Section 306. Food for Peace (PL 480)

P.L. 480 is intended to combat hunger and malnutrition; promote broad-based equitable and sustainable development, including agricultural development; expand international trade; develop and expand export markets for United States agricultural commodities; and to foster and encourage the development of private enterprise and democratic participation in developing countries. The Committee has reauthorized P.L. 480 to meet continuing needs around the world for food and development assistance.

Section 307. Emerging markets

The program for the promotion of agricultural exports to emerging markets is reauthorized at the current level to ensure that not less than $1 billion be available from the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) for direct credits and export credits under the emerging markets program from 2002 to 2011.

The legislation extends the authorization for up to $10 million per year be provided from CCC to support the E (Kika) de la Garza Agricultural Fellowship Program. The program is intended to develop agricultural markets in emerging markets and to promote cooperation and exchange of information between agricultural institutions and agribusinesses in the United States and emerging markets.

Section 308. Bill Emerson Humanitarian Trust

The purpose of this section is to provide for a trust solely to meet emergency humanitarian food needs in developing countries. The Secretary of Agriculture is required to establish a trust stock of wheat, rice, corn, or sorghum, or any combination of the commodities totaling not more than 4,000,000 metric tons.

The program is reauthorized through 2011.

Section 309. Technical assistance for specialty crops

The Committee is establishing a new program to address the barriers to exports that United States producers of specialty crops face. Obstacles to the development and enlargement of export markets for these producers include high tariffs, foreign subsidies and nontariff trade barriers. Therefore the Committee is providing $3 million for the years 2002 through 2011 for the purpose of direct assistance and technical assistance to remove, resolve or mitigate sanitary and phytosanitary and other barriers to trade for producers of United States specialty crops.

The use of these funds is directed to projects based on market retention, market access and market expansion and on the impact on trade. Examples of such projects include research, risk assessments and technical training activities to facilitate increased U.S. exports.

The Committee recognizes that producers of specialty crops face significant challenges, especially in the global marketplace. The purpose of this new program is to provide the means and methods to address these challenges.

The Committee recognizes the difficulty posed to the U.S. wheat gluten industry by high European Union tariffs and encourages this issue to be addressed in trade negotiations.

TITLE IV—NUTRITION

The purpose of the food stamp program is to safeguard the health and well being of the U.S. population by raising the level of nutrition among low-income families. Increased utilization of food in establishing and maintaining adequate levels of nutrition promotes the distribution in a beneficial manner of the U.S. agricultural abundance and strengthens the national economy. The food stamp program, the Nation’s largest food assistance program, seeks to ensure access to an adequate diet and the fruits of a productive agricultural economy to all eligible Americans.

The Committee heard testimony that some food stamp rules and procedures may operate to thwart or make participation difficult for those who are eligible. Testimony highlighted a number of changes to simplify the program, give states greater flexibility, remove unnecessary barriers to participation, and increase assistance to working families.
Section 401. Simplified definition of income

The food stamp program is simplified for administrators and applicants/recipients by permitting greater conformity between the rules used in the food stamp program to count income and those used in states’ Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) and Medicaid programs. One-quarter of food stamp households still receive TANF assistance and well over half are covered by Medicaid. Specifically, states are permitted, within basic limits, to exclude any types of income they do not consider when judging eligibility for TANF cash assistance or those required to be covered by Medicaid.

Section 402. Standard deduction

The standard deduction, currently set at $134 per month is increased based on household size. For example, the standard deduction for a household of four persons would go from $134 a month to $143, and the standard deduction for a five-person household would rise from $134 a month to $167.

Section 403. Transitional food stamps for families moving from welfare

States are allowed to provide “transitional food stamp benefits” to families leaving TANF. Families leaving TANF are provided the food stamp benefit they were receiving when they left TANF, for six months. This provision simplifies the process for administrators and recipients and provides recipients a 6-month benefit after leaving TANF for work or for other reasons without having to go through food stamp recertification process until they have established themselves in a job.

Section 404. Quality control systems

The Food Stamp program’s quality control (QC) system would be eased. Through annual sample surveys, this system measures the degree to which states make erroneous eligibility and benefit decisions and assigns states percentage “error rates” reflecting the dollar value of those decisions. These error rates are then used to assess fiscal penalties on states with high rates, and the state is required to reinvest the amount in administrative improvements aimed at lowering their error rate. The error rates also are used to grant states with low error rates a larger federal matching percentage for their administrative costs.

Under the existing QC rules, 21 to 24 states have been assigned penalties each year in recent years. Witnesses before the Committee have argued that only those with major problems should be subject to QC penalties, not nearly half the states every year.

The Committee bill raises the threshold above which states are penalized under the QC system to the national average total payment error rate plus 1 percentage point and change the rules so that states would only be sanctioned in the third consecutive year in which they exceeded the threshold. It also ensures that the error rate used to measure a state’s performance is the one with the most statistical confidence—the so-called “lower bound” rate. To reward superior performance to applicants (meeting application processing deadlines and keeping a low rate of improper denials of eligibility), the Committee bill establishes excellence bonus payments totaling $10 million a year for the top performing states.

CURRENT FOOD STAMP QUALITY CONTROL PROGRAM

The food stamp program incorporates a quality control (QC) system designed to enhance payment accuracy by establishing fiscal incentives that require states with high error rates to share in the cost of payment errors and provide enhanced funding to states with the lowest error rates. Each year, states whose total payment error rate is less than 6% receive an enhanced federal match for administrative costs—up to 60%, rather than the normal 50%. A state's federal match is increased by one percentage point (above 50%) for each full one-tenth of a percentage point its total payment error rate is below 6%—up to a maximum match of 60%.

States whose total payment error rate is between 6% and the national performance measure receive no special treatment. They do not receive an enhanced federal matching payment for administrative costs, nor are they assessed fiscal penalties.

Each year, states whose total payment error rate is above the national performance measure are assessed fiscal penalties. These sanctions are figured as follows.

First, the state's potential total penalty amount is calculated. This is the difference between its total payment error rate and the national performance measure, multiplied by the dollar value of food stamp benefits issued in the state for the year. Thus, if the national performance measure is 9% and the state's total payment error rate is 12%, it has a potential liability of 3% of benefits issued in the state.

Then, the state's actual penalty/sanction is calculated. This assessment is "scaled" according to how far above the national performance measure the state's total payment error rate is. Thus, if a state's payment error rate is 12% and the national performance measure is 9%, it is 33% percent above the national performance measure. In this case, the actual penalty/sanction assessment would be 33% of the total potential liability of 3% of benefits issued in the state.

Finally, the U.S. Department of Agriculture has established a policy whereby the assessed penalty is reduced for states with high percentages of households with earned income, containing one or more members who are noncitizens, or both, because these types of households tend to be error prone.

QUALITY CONTROL DEFINITIONS

A "total payment error rate" is the sum of the percentages of benefits found (by quality control sample surveys for a given year) to have been (1) issued to ineligible households and (2) overissued to eligible households, plus the value of benefits due but not issued to eligible households expressed as a percentage of all benefits issued.

The "national performance measure" is the national average of states' total payment error rates, weighted by states' shares of total allotments issued.

States' total payment error rates and the national performance measure are "point estimates." Because only a sample of households, rather than all food stamp households, is used to determine food stamp error rates, they are estimates of the true error rate and subject to sampling error. The amount of error in these estimates can be stated in terms of probabilities. It is possible to say that one can be 95% confident that the true error rate in a state falls between two percentage values—the point estimate is the midpoint between these two values. This range is called the confidence interval of an estimate. The “lower bound”—which can be used instead of the point estimate—is the lowest percentage value within the range of error rates that one can have 95% confidence in.

COMMITTEE REPORTED FOOD STAMP QUALITY CONTROL PROGRAM

The Committee revises current QC rules in several ways. The threshold that must be passed before a state is assessed a fiscal penalty is increased to the national performance measure plus one percentage point. When judging whether a state might be assessed a penalty, the lower bound of the state’s total payment error rate is used (instead of the point estimate). States are not subject to an assessed penalty until the third consecutive year in which the lower bound of their total payment error rate exceeded the national performance measure plus one percentage point. When a state’s actual penalty/sanction assessment is determined, (1) its total potential liability is measured by the extent to which its point estimate rate exceeds the national performance measure plus one percentage point and (2) the assessment is scaled according to how far above 10% its total payment error rate (point estimate) is.

The new QC system works in the following way. Each year states’ total payment error rates would be tested to determine whether the lower bound of their total payment error rate exceeded the national performance measure plus one percentage point. In the third consecutive year in which this occurred for a given state, it is assessed a sanction (for that year). The sanction is calculated as follows.

• First, the state’s potential total penalty amount is calculated. This is the difference between its total payment error rate (point estimate) and the national performance error measure plus one percentage point, multiplied by the dollar value of food stamp benefits issued in the state for the year. Thus, if the national performance measure is 9% and the state’s total payment error rate is 12%, it has a potential liability of 2% of benefits issued in the state (12% compared to 9% plus one percentage point).

• Then, the state’s actual penalty/sanction is calculated. This assessment would be “scaled” according to how far above 10% the state’s total payment error rate (point estimate) is. Thus, if a state’s payment error rate is 12%, it is 20% above the 10% measuring point. In this case, the actual penalty/sanction assessment would be 20% of the total potential liability of 2% of benefits issued in the state.

In addition to the changes in the current error rate sanction system, the Committee adds new performance provisions. The Secretary is required to measure states’ performance in complying with requirements for expedited (7-day) and regular (30-day) processing of food stamp applications. The Secretary is also required to measure the percentage of each state’s negative eligibility decisions that are made correctly. Then, for each fiscal year, the Secretary is directed to make “excellence bonus payments” (of $1 million each) to the five states with the highest combined performance under the two new performance measures and five additional “excellence bonus payments” to the five states whose combined performance under the two new measures most improved during the year.

However, for any fiscal year in which the Secretary determines that the lower bound estimate of a state’s performance in either of the two new measures is substantially worse than the Secretary deems “reasonable” (for other than good cause), the bill requires that the Secretary investigate the state’s administration of the food stamp program. If there is a finding that the state’s administration has been deficient, the Secretary must require the state to take prompt corrective action.

The changes in the current error rate sanction system are effective for FY2000 and later years. The new performance provisions apply to FY2002 and later years.

Section 405. Simplified application and eligibility determination process

The Committee recognizes that state innovation may be a key to improving and simplifying the food stamp program. Therefore the Committee establishes a $10 million-a-year grant program for state agencies to develop and implement simplified application and eligibility determination systems.

Section 406. Authorization of appropriations

The Committee reauthorizes several programs, including the food stamp program. In addition, the program for Community Food Projects is reauthorized and funding for this program is increased to $7.5 million per year through 2011. This program is a community based program that is designed to meet the food needs of low-income families, to increase the self-reliance of communities in providing for their own food needs, and to promote comprehensive responses to local food, farm and nutrition issues.

The Emergency Food Assistance Program (TEFAP) supports local emergency feeding organizations, such as food banks, soup kitchens and shelters, churches and food pantries, by offering donated foods to lower-income families and individuals. It also helps the farm economy by acquiring surplus agricultural products that are then donated to TEFAP agencies. TEFAP has proved successful in fulfilling its missions, but increased demand and the key role federal funding for distribution costs play in the emergency food assistance network demonstrate a need to increase TEFAP. TEFAP was last reauthorized in 1996, at which time $100 million a year was set aside for purchasing food specifically for the program. This $100 million a year is supplemented by “bonus” commodities acquired by the Department in support of the agricultural economy, e.g., $162 million worth in FY2000, and, to an even larger degree, private donations to food banks and other emergency food providers.

According to a recent USDA study, reported demand for food assistance at soup kitchens and food pantries has increased by between 4% and 7% a year since 1997. This picture of increased demands on the emergency food assistance network is supported by testimony at hearings by the Subcommittee on Department Operations, Oversight, Nutrition, and Forestry. Witnesses at subcommittee hearings noted that covering the cost of distributing the growing amount of federally and privately donated commodities handled by state and local emergency food providers is proving to be a significant problem. TEFAP funding for distribution expenses can be used to pay for storage, transportation, and distribution costs associated with both federally and privately donated foods.

The Committee reauthorizes and increases funding for TEFAP—setting aside $140 million a year out of Food Stamp Act appropriations. In addition, it earmarks $10 million of these funds for direct and indirect costs associated with processing, storing, transporting and distributing both commodities donated by USDA and those secured from other sources, such as gleaning. This $10 million a year is in addition to the regular appropriation for distribution costs authorized under the Emergency Food Assistance Act, although it would be allocated to states in the same manner. Appropriations for distribution costs under the Emergency Food Assistance Act authorization (also extended by the Committee bill) have typically been $45–$50 million a year and would be expected to continue.

OTHER NUTRITION PROGRAMS

The Committee bill also extends authority for several other food assistance programs through FY2011. Funding for Puerto Rico’s inflation-indexed nutrition assistance block grant is reauthorized. American Samoa’s $5.3 million a year nutrition assistance grant is renewed. The authorities for the Commodity Supplemental Food program and the Food Distribution Program on Indian Reservations are renewed.

The Committee expects the USDA Center for Nutrition Policy and Promotion to conduct ongoing research into the U.S. dietary guidelines, including changes to and promotion of the Food Guide Pyramid and related materials.

Section 461. Hunger Fellowship Program

The Committee establishes the Congressional Hunger Fellows Program, as a memorial for the Honorable Bill Emerson, the late Representative from the 8th District of Missouri and a former member of this Committee and the Honorable George T. (Mickey) Leland, the late Representative from the 18th District of Texas. The purpose of the Fellowships is to develop and train future leaders of the United States to pursue careers in humanitarian service.

TITLE V—CREDIT

The credit titles of omnibus farm bills over the years have contained extensive amendments to the agricultural credit statutes under the Committee’s jurisdiction. U.S. agriculture requires dependable sources of credit at reasonable rates. Whenever those resources have been lacking, Congress has responded generally by increasing the availability of loan funds to farmers and ranchers and beginning and socially-disadvantaged farmers and ranchers who have historically had difficulty in the credit markets. During some periods, for example in the mid-1980s, Congress has responded to especially difficult economic times by providing debt relief or other assistance to assist agricultural producers through the downturn in the farm economy.
Over the last several years of historic commodity price declines, agricultural lenders have not been stressed as would be expected from the Committee’s experiences during earlier farm economic downturns. The Committee has heard from many bankers and cooperative lenders who have suggested that the state of their farm lending portfolios has been aided by extra financial assistance from the Congress. As pointed out in recent testimony, the Farm Service Agency portfolio also is in sound shape when compared with its history of high delinquency rates and numerous defaults, bankruptcies and foreclosures. While the stress in U.S. agriculture goes on unabated, it has not yet translated to the lending sector, and, thus, Congress has taken a cautious approach in dealing with agricultural credit matters in this farm bill.

The credit title contained in the Farm Security Act of 2001 makes a few minor improvements to the loan guarantee programs used by bankers and cooperative lenders. It also provides some necessary adjustments to the administration of the FSA credit programs that should assist FSA in making, guaranteeing and servicing loans throughout its portfolio.

TITLE VI—RURAL DEVELOPMENT

The rural development programs of the U.S. Department of Agriculture are comprehensive in that they provide infrastructure programs such as water and sewer loans and grants, loan guarantees through the Business and Industry loan guarantee programs for business and cooperative development to create jobs in rural areas, and provide a number of other loan and grant opportunities to help revitalize rural America.

Although the Committee fully supports these much needed programs to build the facilities that attract businesses and keep people in our small towns and rural communities, the Committee also understands that to keep rural America moving forward a set of new programs or expansion of existing programs will be helpful for the future.

The Committee sought to advance legislation that would assist in providing broadband services to rural areas, to increase funding for value-added agricultural production, processing and marketing and to assist rural communities that may be having difficulty meeting its drinking water needs now or in the future.

Even though the Committee was hampered by jurisdictional concerns in the House, which meant that language funding broadband services in rural areas did not make it into final bill language, the Committee still believes advanced digital communications is paramount to a vibrant rural economy and hopes that funding for such activities can be accomplished at a later time.

The Committee also has provided language to assist the strategic planning process for rural development and has increased the availability of business and industry loans to farmer cooperatives.

TITLE VII—RESEARCH AND RELATED MATTERS

The Agricultural Research, Extension, and Education Reform Act of 1998 authorized agricultural research, education, and extension programs through 2002. Reforms enacted as part of the Agricultural Research, Extension, and Education Reauthorization Act of 1998 established peer and merit review requirements for USDA funded research and extension projects. This Act also required institutions receiving formula funds from USDA to prepare annually a “Plan of Work” insuring adequate input from stakeholder organizations for current and future research and extension programs.

While most organizations agree that investment in research should remain a priority for public funding, the need to maintain balanced federal budgets will limit the resources available for Agricultural research, education, and extension. Likewise, the public desire for accountability demands more emphasis on role definition and coordination between the various groups.

The Secretary of Agriculture coordinates USDA research, education, and extension. Federal funds are distributed to four agencies under the direction of the Undersecretary for Research, Extension and Economics: the Cooperative State Research, Education, and Extension Service (CSREES), Agricultural Research Service (ARS), Economic Research Service (ERS), and the National Agricultural Statistics Service (NASS).

Of the approximately $2.1 billion in federal money spent in FY01 on agricultural research, education, and extension programs, about 46% is spent on state-level programs through CSREES, 43% is spent on in-house research programs conducted by the ARS, 3% is directed to economic research conducted in-house by ERS, 5% is spent on statistical services conducted by the NASS, and 3% is used for buildings and facilities.

Beginning in the 1850’s, Congress recognized the importance of agriculture to the American economy. To meet the needs of the nation’s largely rural population and farm-based economy, Congress began passing a series of bills designed to promote agricultural development. Four major pieces of legislation were the Morrill Act of 1862, the Second Morrill Act of 1890, the Hatch Act of 1887, and the Smith-Lever Act of 1914.

In 1862, Congress passed the “First Morrill Act” in order to “promote education in agriculture and the mechanical arts.” Under this Act, each state was given public lands, provided that the lands be sold or used for profit, and the proceeds used to establish at least one agricultural college (land grants for the establishment of colleges of agriculture and mechanical arts were also later given to U.S. territories and the District of Columbia).

Public universities existed already in some states; however, most states responded to the First Morrill Act by legislating new agricultural and mechanical arts colleges rather than endowing existing state institutions. The act gave rise to a network of often poorly financed colleges known as “1862’s.” The Second Morrill Act, passed in 1890 however, provided for an annual appropriation to each state to support its land grant college.

In addition to providing funds for education at land grant colleges, the act of 1890 specifically forbade racial discrimination in admissions. A state could escape the discrimination clause only if separate institutions were maintained and the funds divided in a “just” manner. Thus, the 1890 act led to the establishment of a group of historically black land grant institutions. Today, there are 18 “1890’s” located in southern states with an appropriation of approximately $32.6 million in FY01 in formula funds and $9.5 million for capacity building grants.
Over the decades, as the U.S. economy grew and changed, so did the nature and demands for education and scientific pursuit. As more and more U.S. citizens began to attend college, most colleges of agriculture were transformed into full-fledged universities.

Today, although many land grant universities are still known for their agricultural college roots, others have little agricultural identity and students are rarely from farm families.

Currently, in addition to the 59 1862’s and 18 1890’s, there are 15 non-land-grant colleges that obtain USDA funds primarily through forestry and natural resource programs authorized under the McIntire-Stennis Act ($21.9 million in FY01), and 30 tribal colleges which were afforded land grant college status under the Elementary and Secondary Education Re-authorization Act of 1994 ($1.5 million in FY01 in formula funds and $1 million for 1994 research programs).

The 1862 Morrill Act gave land grant colleges their mandate to teach. In 1887, recognizing the need for research in the agricultural sciences, Congress passed the “Hatch Act” to provide money to each state for the purpose of establishing, within the land-grant college, an Agricultural Experiment Station.

Today, State Agricultural Experiment Stations (SAES) operate in conjunction with and, in almost all cases, on locations at colleges of agriculture. Most faculty at land grant colleges of agriculture have SAES appointments. This grants them access to “Hatch” research funds administered by USDA–CSREES and distributed to the SAES’s on a formula basis. The FY01 Appropriation Bill provided approximately $180.5 million for Hatch Act formula funds.

In 1914 extension joined teaching and research as the third major mission when Congress passed the “Smith-Lever Act.” Under this act, a Cooperative Extension Service was created to aid in disseminating to the public useful and practical information about subjects relating to agriculture and home economics and to encourage its application.

Under the Authority of this act, the land-grant colleges and USDA were to cooperate in extension work, which was to consist of instruction and practical demonstration in agriculture and home economics to persons not attending the land-grant college. Information was to be supplied through field demonstration.

Agricultural extension was designed at the outset to be a cooperative program. As a result, funding for these programs has been a joint venture between the federal government, State and local governments, and the land-grant universities. While there is certainly variation between individual states, funding is roughly 1/3 from each of the federal, state and local governments.

Under the authority of the Smith-Lever Act, there are three federal funding mechanisms. Section 3(b) of the Smith-Lever Act provides that each State and the Federal Extension Service shall be entitled to receive annually a sum of money based on a formula that takes into consideration the rural population of each State; Section 3(c) provides funding to seven “results-oriented” Base Programs; and Section 3(d) are National Initiatives, intended to be established for limited time periods in order to develop educational models on which future base programs can be developed.

The Secretary of Agriculture established the ARS in 1953 under the authority of the Reorganization Act of 1949. Pursuant to the Agricultural Reorganization Act of 1994, ARS includes functions previously performed by the Human Nutrition Information Service and the National Agricultural Library. ARS is USDA’s in-house research agency, and as such, conducts basic and applied research in the fields of animal sciences, plant sciences, entomology, soil and water conservation, agricultural engineering, utilization and development, human nutrition and consumer use, marketing, development of integrated farming systems, and development of methods to eradicate narcotic-producing plants. The appropriation to ARS for FY01 was $898.8 million for research and $74.2 million for facilities.

In 1965, the Congress enacted Public Law 89–106 that established a special research grants program to finance selected programs over a maximum of 5 years (shortened to 3 years in the 1998 research reform act). As part of the reforms included in the 1998 Act, grant authority under the 1965 act was extended to include extension and teaching grants. In addition, the Secretary was required to promulgate regulations imposing a peer review requirement in advance of making any grant under this act.

The National Agricultural Research, Extension, and Teaching Policy Act of 1977 amended the 1965 act to authorize a Competitive Research Grant Program. This program was further modified in the 1990 Farm Bill in order to create a National Research Initiative (NRI), which was first proposed by the National Academy of Sciences. The NRI is currently authorized at $500 million per year. While the NRI has received limited support, funding has averaged approximately $100 million/year. As a result, some groups have suggested that the potential benefits of this program have been muted.

The Agricultural Research, Education and Extension Reform Act of 1998 established a research program using mandatory funding: the Initiative for Future Agriculture and Food Systems (IFAFS) to award competitive grants integrating research, education and extension in emerging issues of national scope in agriculture. The program was funded at $120 million per year for 5 years (through FY’03). Continued funding is provided for fiscal years 2004 through 2011 at $145 million/yr.

TITLE VIII—FORESTRY INITIATIVES

As our nation’s public lands become more and more difficult to access for their products as well as recreational values, there is a growing dependence on private, nonindustrial forest landowners to provide these necessary market commodities and nonmarket values demanded by a growing population. In 1996, timber products were the second highest valued agricultural crop in the United States; yet, forestry programs received less than one-half of one percent of all commodity support from the federal government. The Forestry Title strengthens the commitment of the Committee on Agriculture to sustainable forest management practices.
Sec. 100. Definitions

Defines terms necessary for implementation of this act, including base acres, covered commodity, effective price, eligible producer, payment acres, payment yield, and target price.

Subtitle A—Fixed Decoupled Payments and Counter-Cyclical Payments

Sec. 101. Payments to eligible producers

Beginning with the 2002 crop year, the Secretary will make fixed decoupled payments to eligible producers, including producers that would have been eligible for an AMTA Contract payment in 2002 and other producers of a covered commodity on a farm in the U.S. as described in section 103. The section requires the Secretary to protect the interests of tenants and sharecroppers in carrying out this title. Finally, the section requires the Secretary to provide for a fair and equitable sharing of the fixed decoupled payments and the counter-cyclical payments among the eligible producers on a farm.

Sec. 102. Establishment of payment yield

The Secretary is required to establish payment yields for each farm for each covered commodity. The yield for a farm will be the payment yield in effect for the 2002 crop of the commodity as provided under section 505 of the Agricultural Act of 1949. If no yield is available, the Secretary will establish an appropriate payment yield taking into account the payment yields applicable to the commodity for similar farms in the area. Relative to soybeans and other oilseeds, the Secretary will establish a yield for a farm by determining the average yield from 1998 through 2001, excluding years where the acreage planted to the oilseed was zero. If a farm would have satisfied disaster eligibility requirements under the FY1999 Agriculture Appropriations Bill in any of the 1998 through 2001 crop years, the Secretary will assign a yield to the farm equal to 65 percent of the county yield for that year in determining the 4-year average. The 4-year average is then reduced to reflect the increase in yields that occurred between 1981–1985 and 1998–2001.

The Committee expects that some producers will update the base acreage on a farm to reflect a more current historical period than reflected by the current AMTA contract acreage, resulting in the need for the Secretary to establish program yields in certain situations. If a producer updates base acreage for a crop that currently has a AMTA contract payment yield, the payment yield for both the fixed decoupled and counter-cyclical program will be the payment yield applicable to the 2002 AMTA contract. If a producer updates base acreage for corn, wheat, grain sorghum, cotton, rice, oats and barley and the farm currently has no AMTA contract payment yield for the crop, the Committee intends for the Secretary to establish a payment yield for the crop on the farm based on the fixed decoupled and counter-cyclical payment yield for similar farms carrying out the same practices for the crop as the farm and the crop needing the yield. The Committee expects the Secretary to establish a blended yield for certain crops when producers update base acreage for crops on a farm that have no payment yield when a farm’s 1998 through 2001 acreage reflects the same crop planted to both irrigated and nonirrigated acreage. In the case of oilseeds, producers will provide production records for each farm that reflect the harvested yield of each crop for the years 1998 through 2001. The Committee expects the Secretary to utilize production records previously furnished for oilseed loans and loan deficiency payments to be utilized to the maximum extent possible when establishing yield history. The Committee intends for the Secretary to exclude from the yield history any year in which the producer had a zero yield due to zero plantings of the oilseed. If the actual production in any year was less than the 65 percent threshold used to establish disaster eligibility criteria for quantity losses, the Committee expects the Secretary to substitute a yield for that year equal to 65% of the county yield in lieu of using the actual production for that year. For all crops of oilseeds, the actual proven yield on individual farms will be adjusted to take into account the increase in productivity between 1981 through 1985 compared to 1998 through 2001. The Committee expects the Secretary to make available the applicable payment yield for crops on a farm for which a payment yield must be determined prior to the producer making the base election as required in section 103, even though the producer may ultimately choose a historical period in which all or some of the yields are not needed.

The Secretary will give producers a choice in determining their base acres. Producers may choose base acres reflecting the four-year average of acreage planted or prevented from being planted to the commodity for harvest, grazing, haying, silage, and other similar purposes during the 1998 through 2001 crop years. Alternatively, producers may choose base acres reflecting contract acreage that would otherwise be used to calculate the fiscal year 2002 AMTA payments. Producers may make this election only once and provide notice as prescribed by the Secretary. If a producer fails to make an election or notice is not timely, the Secretary will deem the producer to have chosen base acres reflecting the AMTA contract acreage. The election made by the producer will apply to all covered commodities on the farm. The Secretary will restore base acres when land under a CRP contract expires, is terminated, or is released by the Secretary. When base acres are adjusted, the producer will receive either fixed decoupled payments and countercyclical payments or a prorated payment under a conservation reserve contract, but not both. The sum of base acres and acreage enrolled in CRP or WRP, or other programs where a producer agrees not to produce a commodity on acreage in exchange for a payment, cannot exceed the actual cropland acreage on the farm.

The Committee intends for producers on a farm to choose the applicable historical period in which base acreage on a farm will be established for both the fixed decoupled and the countercyclical program. The Committee expects producers with multiple farms to be afforded the opportunity to choose the historical AMTA acreage on one farm and the 1998 through 2001 acreage on another farm. The Committee expects the Secretary to develop a late filed acreage process that provides producers who failed to certify in a timely manner an opportunity to provide information that substantiates a late filed acreage report that may be used for purposes of establishing acreage planted during the 1998 through 2001 years.

The Committee intends for the Secretary to develop a process that provides for the restoration of base acreage and payment yields that were reduced on farms enrolled in CRP beginning with CRP signup 15. When restoring base acreage and payment yields, the Committee expects the Secretary to take into consideration the AMTA contract acreage and yields that were reduced on the farm at the time the acreage was accepted into CRP. The Committee also expects the Secretary to determine the bases to be restored in an expeditious manner, thus insuring producers are afforded ample opportunity to make appropriate decisions well in advance of the expiration of a CRP contract.

In order to avoid duplicate payments on the same acreage, the Committee expects the Secretary to insure that the sum of a producer’s base acreage, peanut acreage, CRP, WRP and other similar acreage enrolled in a conservation program for which payments are received for not producing a crop does not exceed the cropland acreage on a farm except to the extent that such excess is due to an established practice of double cropping on the farm as determined by the Secretary. The Committee expects the Secretary to insure that producers on the farm are afforded the option of determining what crop base acreage is reduced if necessary to meet this requirement.

Sec. 104. Availability of fixed, decoupled payments

The Secretary will make fixed decoupled payments to eligible producers for each of the 2002 through 2011 crop years at a payment rate of $0.53 per bushel for wheat, $0.30 per bushel for corn, $0.36 per bushel for grain sorghum, $0.25 per bushel for barley, $0.025 per bushel for oats, $0.0667 per pound for cotton, $2.35 per hundredweight for rice, $0.42 per bushel for soybeans, and $0.0074 per pound for other oilseeds. The amount of the fixed, decoupled payment will be equal to the product of the payment rate, the payment acres, and the payment yield. Fixed decoupled payments must be paid no later than September 30 of fiscal years 2002 through 2011, except that in fiscal year 2002 payments may be made on or after December 1, 2001. A producer may receive up to 50 percent of the fixed decoupled payment in advance anytime on or after December 1 of a fiscal year. If a producer who receives a fixed decoupled payment ceases to be an eligible producer by the time final fixed decoupled payments are to be made, the producer must repay the advance amount.

The Committee intends for the Secretary to make advanced fixed decoupled payments to producers at any time, beginning on December 1 of each year. The Committee expects producers to be eligible for the advance payment until such time the Secretary makes final payment. The Committee expects the Secretary to make any payments due producers as a final payment prior to the end of the fiscal year.
The Committee also intends for producers who receive an advance payment and are later determined to not have been an eligible producer at the time the Secretary makes final payment to refund the advance payment. The Committee expects the Secretary to make every effort to collect the unearned payment and provide the successor the payment that they would have otherwise been due had the predecessor not received the payment.

Sec. 105. Availability of counter-cyclical payments

The Secretary will make counter-cyclical payments relative to a covered commodity whenever the effective price is less than the target price. The effective price is equal to the sum of (1) the higher of the national average market price during the 12-month marketing year for the commodity or the national average loan rate, and (2) the payment rate for fixed decoupled payments for the commodity. The target price is $4.04 per bushel for wheat, $2.78 per bushel for corn, $2.64 per bushel for grain sorghum, $2.39 per bushel for barley, $1.47 per bushel for oats, $0.736 per pound for cotton, $10.82 per hundredweight for rice, $5.86 per bushel for soybeans, and $0.1036 per pound or a fair and reasonable amount for other oilseeds. The payment rate for counter-cyclical payments is equal to the difference between the target price and the effective price for the commodity. The payment amount for counter-cyclical payments is the product of the payment rate, the payment acres, and the payment yield. The Secretary may provide a partial payment up to 50 percent of the projected counter-cyclical payment to producers 6 months into the marketing year for that crop. The producer must repay the amount, if any, by which the partial payment exceeds the counter-cyclical payment to be made in that crop year.

Upon completion of the first six months of the marketing year, the Committee expects the Secretary to make a determination as to whether partial counter cyclical payments will be permitted on up to 50 percent of the projected payment.

In order to expedite counter cyclical payments, the Committee encourages the Secretary to allow producers to designate whether they want to receive a partial counter-cyclical payment at the same time producers notify the Secretary of their intentions for an advanced fixed decoupled payment. If at the end of the 12 month marketing year the Secretary determines any partial payments were not earned, the Committee expects the Secretary to collect any overpayments in the same manner as other program overpayments are collected.

Sec. 106. Producer agreement required as condition on provision of fixed, decoupled payments and counter-cyclical payments

As a condition of receiving fixed decoupled payments and counter-cyclical payments, the producer must comply with highly erodible lands and wetlands requirements, planting flexibility requirements, and with the requirement that the land on the farm be dedicated to an agricultural or conserving use and not be used for nonagricultural commercial or industrial use. The Secretary must establish rules to ensure compliance with these requirements. The Secretary may forgive any repayments owed by a producer that is foreclosed upon. Fixed decoupled payments and counter-cyclical payments are terminated when base acres are transferred unless the transferee agrees to comply with these requirements. There is no restriction on the transfer of base acres or payment yields. Requires a producer who receives fixed decoupled payments, counter-cyclical payments, or marketing loan assistance to submit acreage reports to the Secretary.

The Committee expects producers to devote crop base acreage to an agricultural or conserving use and any acreage devoted to a nonagricultural commercial or industrial use is not eligible to be considered as crop acreage base. The Committee does not intend that the Secretary require the crop acreage base to be planted to a covered commodity as a condition for eligibility for program benefits. It is the intent of the Committee that the haying and grazing of any commodity or crop should be allowed on fixed decoupled or counter-cyclical base acreage at any time during the year without any reduction in program benefits.

The Committee expects the Secretary to provide a process whereby producers who have gained an interest in a farm as a result in a change of operator or owner may succeed to the fixed decoupled and counter-cyclical base acreage. The Committee expects the Secretary to provide successors a reasonable amount of time to succeed to a fixed decoupled and counter-cyclical payment.

The Committee expects the Secretary to require producers participating in the fixed decoupled and counter-cyclical programs to file annual acreage reports, reflecting at a minimum, crop, practice, acreage and intended use of any crop planted during the crop year.

Sec. 107. Planting flexibility

All rules concerning planting flexibility are unchanged. Generally, producers may plant any commodity on the base acres of a farm, except fruits and vegetables (excluding lentils, mung beans, and dry peas). The 3 exceptions to this rule in current law are also unchanged. Fruits and vegetables may be planted on base acres in a region where the Secretary determines there is a history of double cropping of covered commodities with fruits and vegetables. Fruits and vegetables may be planted on base acres on a farm that the Secretary determines has a history of planting fruits and vegetables on base acres, except that fixed decoupled payments and counter-cyclical payments will be reduced for each acre. Fruits and vegetables also may be planted by a producer who the Secretary determines has an established planting history of a specific fruit or vegetable, except that the quantity planted may not exceed the producer’s annual planting history from the 1991 through 1995 crop years, as determined by the Secretary, and fixed, decoupled payments and counter-cyclical payments will be reduced for each acre.

Sec. 108. Relation to remaining payment authority under production flexibility contracts

Authority to make AMTA contract payments for the 2002 fiscal year is terminated upon enactment. If a producer receives a AMTA contract payment for the 2002 fiscal year before enactment of this legislation, the amount of the producer’s fixed decoupled payment for fiscal year 2002 will be reduced by the amount of the AMTA contract payment.

It is expected that some producers will receive all or a portion of the fiscal year 2002 AMTA contract payment beginning October
1, 2001. The Committee intends that the Secretary reduce any crop year 2002 fixed decoupled payment by an amount received by the same producer on the farm pursuant to the fiscal year 2002 AMTA contract.

Sec. 109. Payment limitations

Fixed decoupled payments and counter-cyclical payments are subject to the payment limitations contained in sections 1001 through 1001C of the Food Security Act of 1985 as amended.

Sec. 110. Period of effectiveness

The subtitle is effective from the 2002 crop year through the 2011 crop year.

Subtitle B—Marketing Assistance Loans and Loan Deficiency Payments

Sec. 121. Availability of nonrecourse marketing assistance loans for covered commodities

The Secretary will make nonrecourse marketing assistance loans available to producers of covered commodities, including extra long staple cotton, for each of the 2002 through 2011 crop years. Any production of the covered commodity is eligible. Producers that would otherwise be eligible for the assistance but for certain commingling of the covered commodity are eligible for marketing loan assistance. Producers are required to comply with highly erodible lands and wetlands conservation requirements as a condition to receiving marketing loan assistance. Extra long staple cotton is defined. Marketing loan assistance for the 2002 crop year authorized in the FAIR Act of 1996 is terminated.

The Committee expects the Secretary to make available a marketing assistance loan or loan deficiency payment on any production of a covered commodity. In addition, the Committee intends the Secretary provide marketing assistance loans on production delivered to a facility unlicensed for the storage of the delivered commodity if the producer agrees as a condition for obtaining the loan to immediately repay the loan.

Sec. 122. Loan rates for nonrecourse marketing assistance loans

The current wheat loan rate is maintained at not more than $2.58 per bushel. The corn loan rate is maintained at not more than $1.89 per bushel. The grain sorghum loan rate is set at not more than $1.89 per bushel. The barley loan rate is maintained at not more than $1.65 per bushel. The oat loan rate is maintained at not more than $1.21 per bushel. The upland cotton loan rate is maintained at not less than $0.50 per pound and not more than $0.5192 per pound. The extra long staple cotton loan rate is maintained at not more than $0.7965 per pound. The soybean loan rate is set at not more than $4.92 per bushel. The loan rate with respect to other oilseeds is set at not more than $0.087 per pound.

The Committee equalized the loan rate of grain sorghum with corn and intends that the Secretary give serious consideration to insuring the loan rate for these two crops is equalized each year. In many parts of the country, producers have the option of growing either corn or sorghum; and the equalization of loan rates insures that producers make a choice to produce the crop based on factors other than loan rates.

Sec. 123. Term of loans

The term for marketing assistance loans is unchanged. For all covered commodities except upland cotton and extra long staple cotton, the term of the loan is nine months beginning on the first day of the first month after the month in which the loan is made. For upland cotton and extra long staple cotton, the term of the loan is 10 months beginning on the first day of the month in which the loan is made.

Sec. 124. Repayment of loans

Repayment of marketing assistance loans is unchanged. The Secretary will permit producers of wheat, corn, grain sorghum, barley, oats, soybeans, and other oilseeds to repay a marketing assistance loan at a rate that is the lesser of the loan rate for the commodity plus interest or a rate that the Secretary determines will minimize forfeitures, accumulation of stocks, storage costs, and allow the commodity to be marketed freely and competitively. The Secretary will permit producers of upland cotton and rice to repay a marketing assistance loan at a rate that is the lesser of the loan rate for the commodity plus interest or the prevailing world market price (adjusted to U.S. quality and location), as determined by the Secretary. The Secretary will permit producers of extra long staple cotton to repay a marketing assistance loan at the loan rate plus interest. The Secretary will prescribe by regulation the formula to determine the prevailing world market price and a mechanism to periodically announce this price. The adjustment of the prevailing world market price for upland cotton is unchanged.

The Committee intends to give the Secretary a considerable amount of discretion in determining a loan repayment rate that minimizes loan forfeitures, accumulation of stocks, storage costs and allows the commodity to be marketed freely and competitively, both domestically and internationally. Beginning in 1998, the Committee noticed that the method used by the Secretary to determine the Posted County Price for feed grains, wheat and oilseeds led to a considerable number of discrepancies in the loan repayment rate and loan deficiency payment between neighboring counties and states. The Committee is concerned that the Secretary has created a system for loan repayments that does not accurately reflect on a continuing basis the changing dynamics of the market, thus creating the disparity between producers and elevators in neighboring counties and states.

The Committee is also concerned that in some instances the terminal market price established by the Secretary does not reflect the market into which a commodity is generally traded or sold nor does the terminal market price announced each day by the Secretary reflect the value that a producer could expect to receive for the commodity. The Committee fully expects the Secretary to review the current system and make the adjustments necessary to create a balanced and equitable system for producers.
Sec. 125. Loan deficiency payments

Loan deficiency payments are maintained. The Secretary will make loan deficiency payments available to producers who, although eligible for a marketing assistance loan, agree to forgo a loan in favor of receiving a payment. The loan deficiency payment is determined by multiplying the loan payment rate by the quantity of the covered commodity produced, excluding any commodity for which the producer obtained a loan. The loan payment rate is the amount by which the loan rate exceeds the rate at which the loan must be repaid. This section does not apply to extra long staple cotton. The Secretary will pay the producer a loan deficiency payment on the earlier of the date the producer marketed or lost beneficial interest in the commodity or the date the producer requests the payment.

The Committee intends that the Secretary make a loan deficiency payment to a producer on the earlier of the date a producer lost beneficial interest in the crop or the date the producer requests the payment.

The Committee is interested in the Secretary examining current regulations related to the flexibility of loan deficiency payment “lock-in” dates. Currently, producers placing commodities under loan can “lock-in” a loan repayment rate 60 days in advance of repaying the marketing assistance loan. However, producers applying for a loan deficiency payment are not afforded the opportunity to “lock-in” a loan deficiency payment prior to presenting production evidence to the Farm Service Agency. The Committee is interested in the Secretary allowing producers the opportunity to “lock-in” loan deficiency payments in a manner that maximizes opportunities to equally access loan deficiency payments. The Committee expects that any procedure the Secretary implements provide equitability to all producers and protects the interests of CCC by insuring payments are not disbursed until acceptable production evidence is furnished.

Sec. 126. Payments in lieu of loan deficiency payments for grazed acreage

The Secretary will make payments in lieu of loan deficiency payments for grazed acreage to producers that would be eligible for such a loan deficiency payment for wheat, barley, or oats but elects to use the acreage planted to the crops for livestock grazing. To receive a payment, the producer must agree to forgo any other harvesting of the commodity. The payment amount is determined by multiplying the loan deficiency payment rate by the payment quantity, which is determined by multiplying the quantity of grazed acreage by the payment yield. The time, manner, and availability of these payments are to be consistent with the general loan deficiency payment and marketing assistance loan provisions for wheat, barley, and oats. Producers who receive a loan deficiency payment under this section are ineligible for crop insurance or non-insured crop assistance as to that acreage.

The Committee intends that producers of wheat, oats and barley on a farm who graze the acreage and forego mechanical harvesting to be eligible for a payment under the same terms and conditions as a producer who harvests a crop and applies for a loan deficiency payment. The Committee intends for the producer to enter into a payment agreement with CCC at the loan deficiency payment rate for the applicable crop in effect on the date of such agreement, at such time as the producer chooses, but not earlier than the date a producer who normally harvests a crop would make application for a loan deficiency payment. The Committee does not intend for producers to be able to collect crop insurance benefits and payments in lieu of loan deficiency payments for grazed acreage on the same acre of land. The Committee expects the Secretary to insure that multiple program benefits are not collected in accordance with this provision.

Sec. 127. Special marketing loan provisions for upland cotton

The special marketing loan provisions for upland cotton remain unchanged, including provisions relating to cotton user marketing certificates, the special import quota, and the limited global import quota for upland cotton.

The Committee recognizes the ever-increasing competition the U.S. cotton and textile industries are facing from imported textile and apparel products and the disadvantages associated with a strong dollar. Additionally, barriers to textile trade in foreign markets have also contributed to the substantial decline in domestic consumption of cotton, thereby having a negative affect on U.S. cotton prices. In order to increase the competitiveness of U.S. cotton and cotton products, the Committee strongly urges the Secretary to examine alternatives to the $.0125 threshold in the step 2 program for cotton. The Secretary should review other possible adjustments in cotton’s competitiveness provisions, particularly step 2, for the purpose of offsetting, to some degree, the adverse impact of a strong dollar on the U.S. cotton and textile industries. The competitive disadvantages of a strong dollar are not confined to the cotton and textile industries.

Sec. 128. Special competitive provisions for extra long staple cotton

The special competitive provisions for extra long staple cotton remain unchanged, including provisions relating to the competitiveness program, payments under the program, eligibility, and the amount and form of payment.

This program was enacted previously and is being continued in the bill as a fully-funded competitiveness program. In implementing this program, the Secretary should maintain flexibility in picking the varieties of ELS cotton to compare—foreign and domestic. The Secretary should implement the program in such a manner as to retain the ability to change the growths that will be compared should there be changes in the makeup of the applicable competing varieties. The Secretary should announce any such change in growths to be compared in a way that will minimize disruptions in the market and in the marketing of ELS cotton.

Sec. 129. Availability of recourse loans for high moisture feed grains and seed cotton and other fibers

The availability of recourse loans for high moisture feed grains and seed cotton remains unchanged. Authority under the FAIR Act to provide this assistance for the 2002 crop year is terminated.
Sec. 130. Availability of nonrecourse marketing assistance loans for wool and mohair

The Secretary will make nonrecourse marketing assistance loans available to producers of wool and mohair for the 2002 through 2011 marketing years. The graded wool loan rate is set at not more than $1.00 per pound. The non-graded wool loan rate is set at not more than $0.40 per pound. The mohair loan rate is set at not more than $4.20 per pound. The term of the loan is one year beginning on the first day of the first month after the month in which the loan is made. Producers may repay the loan at a rate that is the lesser of the loan rate established for the commodity plus interest or at a rate that the Secretary determines will minimize forfeitures, accumulation of stock, storage costs, and that allows the commodity to be marketed freely and competitively. Loan deficiency payments are also authorized. This assistance is subject to the payment limitations imposed under sections 1001 through 1001C of the Food Security Act of 1985 as amended.

The Committee intends for the Secretary to administer the marketing assistance loan and loan deficiency program for wool and mohair in a manner similar to other commodities with such programs. The Committee expects the Secretary to establish premiums and discounts for different grades of wool and mohair and announce a repayment rate that minimizes forfeitures, accumulation of stocks, storage costs and allows the commodity to be marketed freely and competitively.

Sec. 131. Availability of nonrecourse marketing assistance loans for honey

The Secretary will make nonrecourse marketing assistance loans available to producers of honey for the 2002 through 2011 marketing years. The honey loan rate is set at not more than $0.60 per pound. The term of the loan is one year beginning on the first day of the first month after the month in which the loan is made. Producers may repay the loan at a rate that is the lesser of the loan rate established for the commodity plus interest or at the prevailing domestic market price for honey. Loan deficiency payments are also authorized. This assistance is subject to the payment limitations imposed under sections 1001 through 1001C of the Food Security Act of 1985 as amended.

Subtitle C—Other Commodities

CHAPTER 1—DAIRY

Sec. 141. Milk Price Support Program

Milk Price Support Program is authorized through December 31, 2011 at a rate of $9.90/cwt on a 3.67% milkfat basis. The Secretary is authorized to purchase butter, nonfat dry milk powder or cheese at established prices in order to maintain the $9.90/cwt support price. The purchase prices for butter and nonfat dry milk powder may be allocated so as to minimize expenditures from the Commodity Credit Corporation. The Secretary may modify purchase prices for butter and nonfat dry milk not more than 2 times per year.
Sec. 142. Repeal of Recourse Loan Program for processors

The Recourse Loan Program for Processors (7 U.S.C. 7252) is repealed.

Sec. 143. Dairy Export Incentive Program

The Dairy Export Incentive Program (15 U.S.C. 713a–14(a)) is extended through 2011.

Sec. 144. Fluid Milk Promotion

The Fluid Milk Processor Promotion Program (7 U.S.C. 6402) is amended to repeal the termination of authority, and to make technical changes to the definitions of “Fluid Milk Product” and “Fluid Milk Processor.”

Sec. 145. Dairy product mandatory reporting

Dairy Product Mandatory Reporting (7 U.S.C. 1637a(1)) is amended to make technical corrections regarding products to be reported.

Sec. 146. Funding of Dairy Promotion and Research Program

The Dairy Promotion Program (7 U.S.C. 4502) is amended to require dairy importers to pay an assessment equivalent to domestic dairy producers. Importers would be eligible to vote in referenda and would have representation on the National Dairy Promotion and Research Board.

CHAPTER 2—SUGAR

Sec. 151. Sugar Program

Subsection (a) reauthorizes the sugar program through 2011. Subsection (b) terminates the marketing assessment on sugar effective October 1, 2001. Subsection (c) provides the Secretary of Agriculture the discretion to reduce loan rates for U.S. sugar producers in the event that support for foreign competitors is reduced beyond that required under the Agreement on Agriculture. Subsection (d) ensures that notification requirements do not frustrate the purposes of the nonrecourse loan program. Subsection (e) authorizes nonrecourse loans on in-process sugars. Subsection (f) requires the Secretary of Agriculture to administer the sugar program at no net cost to the federal government to the maximum extent practicable. The subsection also authorizes the CCC to accept bids from processors for the purchase of sugar inventory in exchange for reduced production. Subsection (g) requires producers and importers to report certain information. Subsection (h) makes section 163 of the FAIR Act inapplicable to sugar.

Sec. 152. Reauthorize provisions of Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 regarding sugar

Subsection (a) repeals repetitive reporting provisions. Subsection (b) requires the Secretary to establish marketing allotments for domestically grown sugar to eliminate forfeitures. Subsection (c) updates the allotment formula to take into account current U.S. import obligations. The subsection also assigns allotments between sugarcane and sugar beets. Finally the subsection authorizes the Secretary to suspend allotments whenever imports exceed a certain level. Subsection (d) updates the base periods and other factors applicable to the allocation of sugarcane and sugar beet allotments among sugarcane and sugar beet processors, respectively. Subsection (e) establishes procedures for the Secretary to reassign allotments if a processor cannot meet the allocation. Subsection (f) prescribes the manner in which allotment disputes are settled and provides for certain adjustments in the event a processor closes. Subsection (g) allows the Secretary to preserve certain acreage base history for a longer period and also defines the term “offshore states”. Subsection (h) lifts the suspension on allotments.

Sec. 153. Storage facility loans

Subsection (a) requires the CCC to amend the Code of Federal Regulations to establish a sugar storage facility loan program. Subsection (b) requires the CCC to make such loans to processors of domestically produced sugar that have satisfactory credit history, that need increased storage, and that demonstrate an ability to repay the loan. Subsection (c) provides for a 7-year term for the loan. Subsection (d) requires the program be administered using the services, facilities, and funds of the CCC.

CHAPTER 3—PEANUTS

Sec. 161. Definitions

Defines terms necessary for implementation of this act, including counter-cyclical payment, effective price, eligible peanut producer, fixed, decoupled payment, payment acres, peanut acres, payment yield, producer, and target price.

Sec. 162. Establishment of payment yield, peanut acres, and payment acres for a farm

For the purpose of making fixed decoupled payments and counter-cyclical payments to eligible peanut producers under this chapter, this section directs the Secretary to provide for the establishment of a payment yield for peanut farms by first determining the average yield for peanuts on the farm for the 1998 through 2001 crop years, excluding any crop year in which the acreage planted to peanuts was zero. If, for any of these four crop years in which peanuts were planted the farm would have satisfied the eligibility criteria established to carry out section 1102 of the Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act 1999, the Secretary shall assign a yield for that year equal to 65 percent of the county yield, as determined by the Secretary.

This section also provides for the establishment of peanut acres which equals the four year average of acreage actually planted on the farm in peanuts during crop years 1998, 1999, 2000, and 2001 and any acreage on the farm that the producers were prevented from planting to peanuts during such crops years because of natural disaster. The section provides for the establishment of payment acres for peanuts on a farm, which are equal to 85 percent of the peanut acres for the farm. Finally the section states that the sum of peanut acres for a farm, together with any base acres for a farm under subtitle A and acreage on the farm enrolled in the conservation reserve program or wetlands reserve program, or any other acreage on the farm enrolled in a conservation program for which payments are made in exchange for not producing an agriculture commodity on the acreage, may not exceed the actual cropland acreage of the farm.

The Committee expects the Secretary to establish a payment yield, peanut acres, and payment acres on any farm in which a producer planted or was prevented from planting peanuts for the years 1998 through 2001 because of drought, flood, other natural disaster or other condition beyond the control of the producer. To the maximum extent possible, the Committee expects the Secretary to utilize production evidence previously furnished on marketing cards when establishing yield history. The Committee intends for the Secretary to exclude from the yield history any year in which the producer had a zero yield because of zero plantings of peanuts. If the actual production in any year was less than the 65 percent threshold used to establish disaster eligibility criteria for quantity losses, the Committee expects the Secretary to substitute a yield for that year equal to 65% of the county yield in lieu of using the actual production for that year.

The Committee intends for the Secretary to establish fixed decoupled and counter-cyclical payment acreage based on peanut acreage planted and prevented from being planted on a farm for the years 1998 through 2001. The Committee intends for the Secretary to have discretion in determining prevented planted acres, but it is not the intention of the Committee to include “considered planted acreage credit” when determining peanut acres.

In order to avoid duplicate payments on the same acreage, the Committee expects the Secretary to insure that the sum of a producer’s base acreage under subtitle A, peanut acreage, CRP, WRP and other similar acreage enrolled in a conservation program for which payments are received for not producing a crop does not exceed the cropland acreage on a farm. The Committee expects the Secretary to insure that producers on farms are afforded the option of determining what crop base acreage or peanut acreage is reduced if necessary to meet this requirement.

Sec. 163. Availability of fixed, decoupled payments for peanuts

The Secretary will make fixed, decoupled payments to eligible producers for each of the 2002 through 2011 crop years at a payment rate of $36 per ton for peanuts. The amount of the fixed, decoupled payment will be equal to the product of the payment rate, the payment acres, and the payment yield. Fixed, decoupled payments must be paid no later than September 30 of fiscal years 2002 through 2011, except that in fiscal year 2002 payments may be made on or after December 1, 2001. A producer may receive up to 50 percent of the fixed, decoupled payment in advance anytime on or after December 1 of a fiscal year. If a producer who receives a fixed, decoupled payment ceases to be an eligible producer by the time final fixed, decoupled payments are to be made, the producer must repay the advance amount.

The Committee intends for the Secretary to make advanced fixed decoupled payments to producers at any time, beginning on December 1 of each year. The Committee expects producers to be eligible for the advance payment until such time the Secretary makes final payments. The Committee expects the Secretary to make any re-remaining payments due producers as a final payment prior to the end of the fiscal year.

The Committee also intends that producers who receive an advance payment and are later determined to not have been an eligible producer at the time the Secretary makes final payment to repay the advance payment. The Secretary shall make every effort to collect the unearned payment and provide the successor the payment that they would have otherwise been due had the predecessor not received the payment.

Sec. 164. Availability of counter-cyclical payment for peanuts

This section directs the Secretary to make counter-cyclical payments with respect to peanuts whenever the Secretary determines that the effective price for peanuts is less than the target price. The effective price is equal to the sum of the higher of the national average market price during the 12-month marketing year for peanuts or the national average loan rate for peanuts, and the payment rate for fixed, decoupled payments for peanuts. The target price for peanuts is $480 per ton. The payment rate for counter-cyclical payments is equal to the difference between the target price and the effective price for the commodity. The payment amount for counter-cyclical payments is the product of the payment rate, the payment acres, and the payment yield. The Secretary may provide a partial payment up to 50 percent of the projected counter-cyclical payment to producers 6 months into the marketing year for that crop. The producer shall repay to the Secretary the amount, if any, by which the partial payment exceeds the actual counter-cyclical payment to be made for that crop.

Producers as described in section 161 are eligible to receive a counter-cyclical payment for peanuts if the effective price is less than the established target price. The Committee expects the Secretary to review the national average price for peanuts six months after the beginning of the peanut marketing year to determine if the national average price would subsequently warrant a counter-cyclical payment at the end of the 12-month marketing year. At the discretion of the Secretary, partial counter cyclical payments on up to 50 percent of the projected payment is permitted and the Secretary is encouraged to make those payments as soon as practicable after the mid-year projected payment is determined.

In order to expedite counter cyclical payments, the Committee encourages the Secretary to allow producers to designate whether they want to receive a partial counter cyclical payment at the same time producers notify the Secretary of their intentions for an advanced fixed decoupled payment. If the Secretary permits a partial counter cyclical payment, the Committee expects the Secretary to allow producers the opportunity to elect to receive a partial payment through the end of the 12-month marketing year. If at the end of the 12-month marketing year, the Secretary determines any partial payments were not earned, the Committee expects the Secretary to collect any overpayments in the same manner as other program overpayments are collected.
Sec. 165. Producer agreement required as condition on provision of fixed, decoupled payments and counter-cyclical payments

This section states before producers on a farm may receive fixed decoupled payments or counter-cyclical payments, the producers shall agree to comply with applicable conservation and wetland requirements, to comply with planting flexibility requirements, and to agree to use the land in the amount equal to the peanut acres for an agricultural or conserving use. This section also directs the Secretary to provide adequate safeguards to protect the interests of tenants and sharecroppers. The Secretary may forgive any repayments owed by a producer that is foreclosed upon. Fixed, decoupled payments and counter-cyclical payments are terminated when base acres are transferred unless the transferee agrees to comply with these requirements. There is no restriction on the transfer of base acres or payment yields. Requires producers who receive fixed, decoupled payments, counter-cyclical payments, or marketing loan assistance to submit acreage reports to the Secretary.

The Committee expects the Secretary to provide a process whereby producers who have gained an interest in a farm as a result in a change of operator or owner may succeed to the fixed decoupled and counter-cyclical base acreage.

The Committee expects the Secretary to require producers participating in the fixed decoupled and counter-cyclical programs to file annual acreage reports, reflecting at a minimum, crop, practice, acreage and variety of peanuts planted during the crop year.

The Committee intends for the Secretary to provide adequate safeguards to protect the interests of tenants and sharecroppers. The Committee also intends the Secretary to provide for the sharing of fixed, decoupled payments and counter cyclical payments among eligible peanut producers on a farm on a fair and equitable basis.

Sec. 166. Planting flexibility

Generally, producers may plant any commodity on the peanut acres of a farm, except fruits and vegetables (excluding lentils, mung beans, and dry peas). The 3 exceptions to this rule in current law are also unchanged. Fruits and vegetables may be planted on peanut acres in a region where the Secretary determines there is a history of double cropping of covered commodities with fruits and vegetables. Fruits and vegetables may be planted on peanut acres on a farm that the Secretary determines has a history of planting fruits and vegetables on peanut acres, except that fixed, decoupled payments and counter-cyclical payments will be reduced for each acre. Fruits and vegetables also may be planted by a producer who the Secretary determines has an established planting history of a specific fruit or vegetable, except that the quantity planted may not exceed the producer’s annual planting history from the 1991 through 1995 crop years, as determined by the Secretary, and fixed, decoupled payments and counter-cyclical payments will be reduced for each acre.

Sec. 167. Marketing assistance loans and loan deficiency payments for peanuts

This section makes available nonrecourse marketing assistance loans for all peanut production on a farm. This section sets the maximum loan rate for peanuts at $350 per ton. The Secretary shall permit producers to repay a marketing assistance loan at a rate that is the lesser of the loan rate for the commodity plus interest or a rate that the Secretary determines will minimize forfeitures, accumulation of stocks, storage costs, and allow peanuts to be marketed freely and competitively. In addition, this section makes available loan deficiency payments to producers who, although eligible to obtain a marketing assistance loan, agree to forgo obtaining the loan for peanuts in return for payments. This section gives producers options for obtaining market assistance loans through a designated marketing association, a loan servicing agent, or the Farm Service Agency. Finally this section terminates section 155 of the Federal Agriculture Improvement and Reform Act of 1996, which provided superseded price support authority.

It is the intention of the Committee to make available a marketing assistance loan or loan deficiency payment on any production of peanuts produced on the farm. It is the intention of the Committee that the Secretary provide producers an option of where to obtain their marketing assistance loan or loan deficiency payment, just as producers of other commodities have. It is the Committee's intention that a producer may obtain a marketing assistance loan and loan deficiency payments through either a designated marketing association or loan servicing agent approved by the Secretary, or the Farm Service Agency.

Sec. 168. Quality improvement

The section states all peanuts placed under a marketing loan under section 167 shall be officially inspected and graded by Federal or State inspectors. Peanuts not placed under a marketing loan may be graded at the option of the producer. The section terminates the Peanut Administrative Committee and the Secretary is directed to establish a Peanut Standards Board for the purpose of assisting in the establishment of quality standards for peanuts. The members of the Board should fairly reflect all segments of the peanut industry.

The Committee intends for the makeup of the Peanut Standards Board to not only represent all segments of the industry but also fairly represent all major peanut regions of the country.

Sec. 169. Payment limitations

Fixed, decoupled payments, counter-cyclical payments and limitations on marketing loan gains and loan deficiency payments are subject to the payment limitations contained in sections 1001 through 1001C of the Food Security Act of 1985 as amended.

Sec. 170. Termination of marketing quota programs for peanuts and compensation to peanut quota holders for loss of quota asset value

During fiscal years 2002–2006, the Secretary shall make payments to eligible peanut quota holders to compensate them for the lost value of the quota on account of the repeal of the marketing quota program for peanuts at a rate of $0.10 per pound per year. The Committee intends to compensate holders of peanut quota for the loss of their quota as a result of the termination of the peanut marketing quota program. The Committee intends for the Secretary to enter into an agreement with quota holders to make an annual payment in five equal installments in each of the fiscal years 2002 through 2006. The Committee intends that the agreement entered into by the Secretary and the holders of peanut quota provide for the sharing of the compensation in a manner in proportion to a person or entity's ownership interest in the quota. The Committee intends that no payment limitation provisions are in effect for this section.

TITLE II—CONSERVATION

Subtitle A—Definitions

Sec. 201. Definition of agricultural commodity

Amends section 1201(a)(1) to change the definition of an agricultural commodity.

Subtitle B—Swampbuster

Sec. 211. Ineligibility for certain loans and payments

Amends section 1221(b) (Swampbuster) to conform program ineligibility provisions to Highly-Erodible Lands provisions of section 1211. Producers would be penalized for swampbusting only on the crop which was produced on the converted wetland.

Subtitle C—Environmental Conservation Acreage Reserve Program

Sec. 221. Elimination of general provisions

Strikes section 1230, which was a set of general provisions used to describe the Conservation Reserve Program and the Wetlands Reserve Program. Section 1230A, which provides relief to producers who were found to have violated a provision of the CRP or WRP through no fault of their own, is moved to section 1244.

Subtitle D—Conservation Reserve Program

Sec. 231. Reauthorization

Extends the CRP through the 2011 calendar year. In addition, it includes wildlife resources within the scope of the program.

Sec. 232. Enrollment

Makes several changes to the lands eligible for enrollment in the CRP. First, it increases the maximum enrollment to 39.2 million acres. Second, it makes lands on which surface or groundwater is conserved eligible for enrollment. Third, it makes lands currently enrolled in the CRP eligible for re-enrollment. Fourth, it clarifies the eligibility of marginal pastureland. Fifth, it requires the Secretary to balance conservation interests in soil erosion, water quality and wildlife habitat in determining the acceptability of contract offers.

It is the intention of the Committee that soil erosion concerns not be the sole determinative factor with respect to enrollment of lands in the Conservation Reserve Program. Rather, the Secretary shall give due consideration of non-highly erodible cropland on which continued agricultural production would contribute to environmental degradation as set forth in subsection (b)(4). In addition, the Secretary shall consider marginal pastureland which has been devoted to water quality protection.

New Section 1231(i) requires the Secretary to carry out a rule-making that considers the three primary purposes of the CRP: conserving soil, improving water quality and providing wildlife habitat. The Committee is concerned that the Environmental Benefits Index (EBI) has created inequities in the distribution of contract offers, giving some areas of the country substantial benefits through the CRP while other areas are neglected. CRP is a national program with national purposes and objectives. The Secretary should endeavor in the rulemaking required by section 1231(i) to make certain that all areas of the country are able to enjoy the benefits of the CRP, but the Secretary should accomplish this without a strict allocation of the benefits and requirements of conserving soil, improving water quality and providing wildlife habitat. For example, a CRP contract that keeps soil on the land should improve water quality, and both should help create a habitat in which wildlife may thrive.

Sec. 233. Duties of owners and operators

Amends section 1232 to: (1) ensure that landowners who have an established cover crop on CRP lands are not required to destroy that cover crop in order to plant a vegetative cover, and (2) authorize the Secretary to allow managed grazing and limited haying (with a conservation reserve payment reduction), placement of wind turbines for generating energy, and biomass recovery for energy production (with a conservation reserve payment reduction) on CRP lands.

Section 233(1)(B) applies to new contracts entered into after the date of enactment of these provisions. The Committee assumes that landowners/operators who agreed in previous general sign-ups to plant additional species of grasses, forbs or shrubs in order to obtain additional points under the Environmental Benefits Index will continue to work with the Department to fulfill this obligation. However, for any new sign-ups carried out by the Secretary, the Committee expects that the Department will take into account the species found on the existing cover when determining the need for planting additional grasses, forbs or shrubs on acreage that may be re-enrolled in the program.

Recognizing the potential of using agricultural biomass to generate energy, the Committee is expanding the Secretary's authority to permit the recovery of biomass from land enrolled in the Conservation Reserve Program, for use in producing energy. In so doing, the Committee intends that the Secretary develop a rule for the expanded program that provides for an increased number of project allowances, but maintains the harvest practice limitations required under the Conservation Reserve Program Biomass Pilot Project (authorized under section 769 of P.L. 106–78), including a reduction in the conservation reserve payments by an amount commensurate with the economic value of such activity.

Finally, the Committee considers the generation of energy through wind turbines to be a resource landowners should exploit to the maximum extent possible. In this regard, the Committee believes CRP lands may be used for this purpose without a reduction in conservation payments. The Committee encourages the Secretary to allow wind turbines to be used on CRP where appropriate.

Sec. 234. Duties of the Secretary

Amends section 1233 by striking a requirement that the Secretary must provide conservation technical assistance to landowners in bringing land into the CRP.

Sec. 235. Acceptance of contract offers

Amends section 1234(c) by striking language that authorizes the Secretary to consider enrollment of lands that would improve soil resources, water quality and wildlife habitat and establish different criteria for water quality and wildlife habitat in different areas of the country.

Sec. 236. Contracts

Amends section 1235 to: (1) limit the enrollment of lands in the CRP which have been acquired in the year preceding the first year of the contract period to situations in which the land was acquired by will or succession or there was a change in ownership due to foreclosure, (2) direct the Secretary to restore crop base, contract acreage, quota or allotment history upon expiration of the CRP contract, and (3) change the term “rental payment” to “conservation reserve payment.”

In carrying out the Conservation Reserve Program, the Committee encourages the Secretary to find a balance between forestry uses on CRP lands so as not to discriminate between hardwood and softwood timbers.

Subtitle E—Wetlands Reserve Program

Sec. 241. Enrollment

Amends section 1237 to: (1) provide the Secretary authority to enroll 150,000 acres of land into the WRP annually using easements, restoration cost share agreements or both, (2) direct the Secretary to give enrollment priority to lands which maximize wetland functions and values, and (3) make lands in the CRP or lands where EQIP contracts are entered into ineligible for WRP easements. With respect to acreage enrollment, section 1237 is amended to enable the Secretary to rollover any unused acres to future years.

Sec. 242. Easements and agreements

Amends section 1237A by rewriting various restrictions the Secretary may impose on landowners who have a WRP easement.

Sec. 243. Duties of the Secretary

Amends section 1237C by striking language which requires the Secretary to provide technical assistance when landowners enter into a WRP easement and which gives priority to permanent easements.
Sec. 244. Payments limitation

Amends section 1237D(c)(1) to clarify those payments which are taken into account in determining whether a participant has exceeded the $50,000 payment limitation.

Sec. 245. Changes in ownership; agreement modification; termination

Amends section 1237E(a) by limiting the enrollment of lands in the WRP which have been acquired in the year preceding the first year of the contract period to situations in which the land was acquired by will or succession or there was a change in ownership due to foreclosure.

Subtitle F—Environmental Quality Incentives Program

Sec. 251. Purposes

Amends section 1240 by striking references to the agricultural conservation program, the Great Plains conservation program, the water quality incentives program and the Colorado River Basin salinity control program and the combination of those programs into a single program. Provides that EQIP, among other things, is to provide flexible assistance to assist farmers and ranchers address environmental needs and provide benefits to air.

Sec. 252. Definitions

Amends section 1240A to include non-industrial private forest land as eligible land under EQIP and as well as lands which provide environmental benefits to air, soil, water or related resources. Persons engaged in non-industrial private forestry are included in the definition of producer. In addition, “permanent wildlife habitat” is struck from the definition of structural practice.

Sec. 253. Establishment and administration

Amends section 1240B to reauthorize EQIP through 2011 and requires the Secretary to provide cost-share and incentive payments to producers who enter into EQIP contracts. Contracts may be for terms of one to 10 years as determined by the Secretary. Section 1240B(c) is amended so that structural practices are based on a reasonable estimate of the projected costs and must achieve the purposes of the subtitle. The limitation on the size of livestock operations eligible for EQIP is eliminated. Authorizes the Secretary to make incentive payments in amounts and rates to encourage a producer to perform multiple land management practices and to promote the enhancement of soil, water, air and related resources. The Secretary may give great weight to those practices that include residue, nutrient, pest, invasive species and air quality management when determining the incentive payments.

The Committee encourages the Secretary to implement EQIP by emphasizing the conservation results on the farm, ranch or private forests of the nation instead of requiring extensive planning and development of plans and practices that unnecessarily bind producers to long-term contracts. For some conservation needs, the Committee understands that multi-year contracts may be needed to provide adequate conservation benefits; however, with the amendment to section 1240B allowing shorter term contracts, the Committee intends there should be more conservation and less planning.

In reviewing the administration of EQIP, the Committee was frustrated in its attempts to determine whether small producers as well as certain types of producers, such as those growing fruits and vegetables and other specialty crops are able to utilize the Environmental Quality Incentives Program (EQIP). The Committee would hope that the Secretary would take additional measures to ensure that Congress and the public are able to fully analyze the participation in the EQIP as well as the other conservation programs to determine whether the programs are reaching all participants, knowing that a lack of funding has probably been the biggest hurdle to most landowners/operators’ ability to participate.

Sec. 254. Evaluation of offers and payments

Amends section 1240C to enable the Secretary to give a higher priority to assistance under EQIP to offers that aid producers in complying with federal and state environmental laws and maximize the beneficial use of animal manures or other similar soil amendments which improve soil health, tilth and water-holding capacity.

It is the intention of the Committee that priority areas not be set and applied in such a manner as to exclude an otherwise worthy EQIP application simply because the producer is located outside the priority area boundary. Further, applications should not be rejected merely because the producer is seeking a higher percent cost-share. Indeed, many small or less successful producers with significant environmental problems do not have the financial resources to use a low percent cost-share. In this framework, the Secretary shall review applications on an individual basis giving full consideration to the merit of each proposal.

To carry out the incentive payment portion of EQIP, the Secretary may award incentive payments to applications which contain multiple practices. However, nothing in this subsection shall be interpreted to mean that an EQIP application must contain a practice or multiple practices in each area of management in order for the producer to be eligible to participate in the program.

In awarding incentive payments, the Committee expects the Secretary to give full consideration to providing incentive payments to producers who utilize commercial soil amendments that help to increase utilization of nutrients such as nitrogen and phosphorus. In addition, the Secretary should also ensure that third parties who utilize animal manure for land application are eligible for incentive payments.

It is the intent of the Committee that the Secretary should further give heightened consideration in awarding EQIP contracts for land on which animal manure will be beneficially used as a fertilizer or soil amendment. Animal manure is a valuable source of nutrients, micronutrients and organic matter that improves soil fertility, tilth and water holding capacity. The beneficial application of animal manure can improve the productivity of farmland, improved pastures and rangelands. Increasing the organic matter in farmlands through beneficial use of animal manure can also decrease soil erosion.
The Committee also would like the Secretary to address the ability of tenant farmers, especially in fruit and vegetable crop production areas, to utilize payments under EQIP.

Sec. 255. Duties of producers

 Strikes the superfluous requirement from section 1240D that a producer must agree not to conduct practices that would tend to defeat the purposes of EQIP.

Sec. 256. Environmental Quality Incentives Program Plan

Amends section 1240E(a) to clarify that EQIP plans must provide or continue to provide increased environmental benefits to air, soil, water or related resources and not conform strictly to plans of operations which incorporate prescriptive practices of the Secretary.

The Committee intends that producers should be developing the kinds of EQIP plans they believe address their conservation needs and challenges and not whole farm plans the Natural Resources Conservation Service under the past administration has shown a desire to write. The Committee intends for conservation to get on the ground with a minimal amount of plan development and paperwork that put burdens on personnel and create costly requirements for producers that outweigh the benefits received. The Committee believes the use of whole farm plans have their place when they are a means to an end, not the end itself.

Sec. 257. Duties of the Secretary

Amends section 1240F in order to conform to an amendment to the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act that requires the Secretary to carry out conservation programs, including technical assistance, under that Act.

Sec. 258. Limitation on payments

Amends section 1240G to increase the fiscal year payment limitation from $10,000 to $50,000 and the limitation on multi-year contracts from $50,000 to $200,000. Strikes language requiring the Secretary to determine that a payment is consistent with the maximization of environmental benefits per dollar expended. Strikes language that restricted contract payments to the fiscal year following the fiscal year in which the producer entered into the contract.

Sec. 259. Groundwater conservation

Replaces current law describing the temporary administration of EQIP enacted in 1996 with language that authorizes the Secretary to use $60 million of CCC funds during the period 2002 through 2011 to provide cost-share payments and low-interest loans to encourage groundwater conservation, including irrigation system improvements, and incentive payments for capping wells, reducing use of water for irrigation and switching from irrigation to dryland farming.
Subtitle G—Funding And Administration

Sec. 261. Reauthorization

Reauthorizes the use of the Commodity Credit Corporation to fund the Conservation Reserve Program, the Wetlands Reserve Program and the Environmental Quality Incentives Program.

Sec. 262. Funding

Provides $1.2 billion of funds from the CCC for EQIP for each of the fiscal years 2002 through 2011.

Sec. 263. Allocation for livestock production

Amends section 1241(b)(2) to mandate that 50 percent of the EQIP funds be targeted to livestock producers. This reauthorization extends from 2002 through 2011.

Sec. 264. Use of other agencies

Directs the Secretary to use the Farm Service Agency to carry out the Highly-Erodible Lands Conservation provisions (sodbuster), the Wetland Conservation provisions (swampbuster), the Conservation Reserve Program, the Grassland Reserve Program and the Environmental Quality Incentives Program.

Sec. 265. Administration and technical assistance

Amends section 1243(b)(2) to require that the CRP acreage restriction in counties is limited only to an action that would adversely affect the local economy. Replaces subsection (d) of section 1243 to provide new governing rules for the provision of technical assistance by third parties or the Natural Resources Conservation Service. Authorizes the Secretary to use not more than $100 million per year during fiscal years 2002 through 2011 for technical assistance and caps the total technical assistance funds at $850 million for the 10-year period. The Secretary is required to establish a system for the certification of third parties to provide producers with technical assistance in carrying out conservation programs. Conforming amendments for sodbuster, CRP, WRP and EQIP provide similar technical assistance authorities.

The Committee expects the Secretary, in carrying out section 265, to provide that the certification program shall be equivalent for parties providing technical assistance under the various conservation programs carried out by the Natural Resources Conservation Service and the Farm Service Agency. The Committee also expects the Secretary to honor the Memorandum of Agreement in force with the Independent Crop Consultants of America under which “certified crop advisors” are certified and approved to provide technical assistance under a range of USDA conservation programs to landowners/operators.

Subtitle H—Other Programs

Sec. 271. Wildlife Habitat Incentives Program

Amends section 387(c) of the 1996 FAIR Act to provide $25 million in each of the fiscal years 2002 through 2011 from the Commodity Credit Corporation to carry out the Wildlife Habitat Incentives Program.
Sec. 272. Farmland Protection Program

Amends section 388 of the FAIR Act to provide $50 million in each of the fiscal years 2002 through 2011 from the CCC to carry out the Farmland Protection Program. Makes agricultural lands that contain historic or archeological resources eligible to participate.

Sec. 273. Resource Conservation and Development Program

Amends section 1528 of the Agriculture and Food Act of 1981 by: (1) making the authorization for Resource Conservation and Development Councils permanent, and (2) providing assistance to not more than 450 active designated areas.

Recognizing the important role that the Resource Conservation and Development Councils are playing in providing assistance both to agricultural producers and rural America, it is the intent of this Committee to make these entities permanent.

Sec. 274. Grasslands Reserve Program

Authorizes the Secretary acting through the Farm Service Agency to establish a two million acre grassland reserve program. One million acres shall be used for virgin (never cultivated) grassland and one million acres shall be used for restored grassland. Contracts may be 10, 15, or 20 years in length. Natural grass or shrubland shall be eligible for enrollment. Land that has been historically dominated by natural grass or shrubland and has the potential to serve as habitat for animal or plant populations of significant ecological value if the land is restored to natural grass or shrubland shall be eligible for enrollment.

• Sec. 1238A. Contracts and Agreements.—The owner of the land shall agree to comply with the terms of the contract and related restoration agreements. The contracts shall permit common grazing practices that are consistent with maintaining the viability of natural grass and shrub species. Haying, mowing, or haying for seed may be permitted except during the nesting season for birds in the local area which are in significant decline or are conserved pursuant to state or federal law. Construction of fire breaks and fences including posts shall also be permitted. Production of crops, fruit trees, vineyards or any other agricultural practice that would require breaking the soil surface is prohibited. The Secretary shall establish criteria to evaluate and rank applications for contracts. The Secretary shall consider support for native grass and shrubland, grazing operations, and plant and animal biodiversity when establishing criteria.

• Sec. 1238B. Duties of the Secretary.—The Secretary shall make annual payments to the owner in an amount not more than 75 percent of the grazing value of the land.

The Secretary shall pay for 90 percent of the cost of restoration on virgin grasslands and 75 percent on restored grasslands. Owners are eligible for technical assistance provide by the Secretary.

The Committee encourages the Secretary to implement the Grassland Reserve Program in an expeditious manner. The Subcommittee on Conservation, Credit, Rural Development and Research held three hearings on conservation. In these hearings, a great deal of interest was expressed in the development of a Grassland Reserve Program to encourage common grazing practices done
The Committee has heard from numerous interested parties regarding how payments could be made to producers in exchange for encouraging sound grazing practices. The program will also help to enhance wildlife habitat and prevent tracts of land from being subdivided for development. More importantly, the Committee believes that 10-, 15- and 20-year contracts will provide the best means of utilizing land for grazing. The Committee further believes that if the program is administered in a manner similar to the Conservation Reserve Program, producers will be able to adapt to the Grassland Reserve Program in a short period of time. While options for longer-term contracts and easements were discussed, no formulas were presented to the Committee that could be adequately explained, scored for budget purposes or administered in all regions of the country.

The Committee intends for the Grassland Reserve Program to aid and enhance the other conservation programs administered by USDA.

Sec. 275. Farmland Stewardship Program

Amends Chapter 2 of Subtitle D of the Food Security Act of 1985 by establishing a new Farmland Stewardship Program (FSP) to assist agricultural producers through conservation programs administered primarily by the Department of Agriculture.

Those programs are the Wetlands Reserve Program (WRP), the Wildlife Habitat Incentives Program (WHIP), the Forest Land Enhancement Program (FLEP), the Farmland Protection Program and other conservation programs administered by other federal agencies or state and local governments that may want to cooperate in the FSP. Funding for the FSP will come from these programs and appropriated accounts.

Local conservation districts, state or federal agencies or non-governmental organizations may enter into farmland stewardship agreements with agricultural producers on behalf of the Secretary of Agriculture. Agreements may be made for the conservation of private lands such as cropland, pastureland, grazing lands, timberlands and other lands the Secretary may specify.

Benefits that may be provided include conservation of soil and water, water quality protection, control of invasive or exotic species, wetland protection, wildlife habitat, preservation of prime farmland and other conservation purposes.

The FSP also will require matching fund contributions by state, regional or local agencies and divisions of governments and private funding sources.

The Secretary is authorized to use the Natural Resources Conservation Service to carry out FSP. The Secretary may use technical assistance made available in section 1243(d) to assist the owner or operator in carrying out agreements.

Objectives of agreements with owners and operators will be to protect and maintain natural resources by implementing a conservation program or a series of programs together for conservation management through easements under programs and to expand conservation practices on property where such easements are not currently available.
Agreements should address the conservation priorities established in states or localities in which the agricultural lands are located. To the extent practicable, FSP applications should be developed on a watershed basis.

The Committee intends for the Secretary, to the maximum extent practicable, to administer the FSP and the agreements made with landowners, using federal programs for local needs, which are developed at the state and local level. The Secretary is encouraged to develop the procedures necessary for making certain landowners benefit from using parts of federal programs available for the FSP under this section. Agreements may include these programs as a single component or in combinations to address the resource needs identified in the FSP. To the extent feasible, the Secretary should look at individuals' applications as they interact within watersheds.

The Secretary may administer the FSP using partnerships with federal, state or local agencies whose programs are part of the FSP. Local conservation district offices or agencies may be designated a contracting agency after complying with certain standards such as monitoring compliance with owners and operators.

Owners and operators wanting to enter into an FSP agreement must submit an application outlining the management plan the owner or operator will carry out under the agreement.

Sec. 276. Small Watershed Rehabilitation Program

Reauthorizes section 14(h) of the Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act, 16 U.S.C. 1012, with $15 million annually.

Subtitle I—Availability Of Funds
Sec. 281. Availability of funds appropriated pursuant to the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act

Amends section 6 of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act to clarify that funds appropriated under such Act shall be used for technical assistance to owners or operators of land to achieve the objectives of any conservation program administered by the Secretary of Agriculture.

The Committee has been concerned for some time about an interpretation of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act that has restricted the use of Conservation Operations Account to provide conservation technical assistance by the Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) for the Conservation Reserve Program and other conservation activities. In section 281, the Committee clarifies that all funds appropriated to the Secretary of Agriculture are available to implement all conservation programs and will be used by the Secretary to provide technical assistance as needed for the Conservation Reserve Program, the Wetlands Reserve Program, the Environmental Quality Incentives Program, Wildlife Habitat Incentives Program, the Farmland Protection Program, the Grasslands Reserve Program, and the Farmland Stewardship Program.

The Committee is concerned that there is little accounting for NRCS salaries, expenses and program funds. CTA is NRCS's appropriated fund to pay personnel and operate its headquarters, regional, state and local offices. In short, CTA is a salaries and expense account.
The Committee is extremely concerned about the control of CTA funds. A recent report of the General Accounting Office (GAO/RCED–00–83) pointed to a disconcerting finding: that NRCS accounts for its funds as they are planned and budgeted, not as they are actually worked in the field. The Committee has sought for a number of years to determine how the NRCS spends its appropriated funds and why the agency must use program funds the Congress intended for cost-share and incentive payments to landowners to pay NRCS personnel salaries and expenses.

The Committee certainly understands the work of NRCS is critical to our conservation efforts under federal farm legislation and intends to work to find additional resources for the NRCS salaries and expense budget. Indeed, elsewhere in this title, the Committee has provided an additional $850 million to aid the provision of technical assistance. However, the Committee intends in the amendment to the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act contained in section 281 of the bill to provide some fiscal reality to how NRCS budgets its activities and spends appropriated funds.

Subtitle J—Repeals

Sec. 291. Provisions of Food Security Act of 1985

Repeals the Environmental Easement Program, the Conservation Farm Option, the Tree Planting Initiative, Base History Provision, and payments under section 1237D(c)(3) and section 1234(f)(3).

Water shortage in the Klamath Basin.—The Klamath Basin Project delivers water to 220,000 acres of farmland and six national wildlife refuges in the Klamath Watershed. However, the current demands on water in the Klamath Basin are greater than the system can support. The over-allocation among the irrigated lands, tribal trust responsibilities, endangered species and the national wildlife refuges has resulted in harming all water users. It is the intent of the Committee to urge the Secretary to use his/her discretion in using all programs available, especially USDA conservation authorities, to enter into voluntary agreements with landowners who are willing to participate in the programs in this region.

The Committee also urges the Secretary to work closely with the Secretaries of Interior and Commerce to help them ensure that future water allocation decisions provide for balance.

High Plains Aquifer.—Recognizing the need for regional efforts to address groundwater management in the High Plains Aquifer, the Committee urges the Secretary to work with state water or conservation agencies and agricultural producers in the High Plains region to coordinate federal assistance with state programs and to encourage cooperation between states in implementing conservation incentives and water reduction practices.

Invasive species control.—The Committee intends that producers attempting to control invasive species such as leafy spurge and musk thistle shall be eligible for EQIP contracts through its cost share and incentive provisions. Producers spend a great deal of time and money to prevent the spread of invasive species and should be encouraged to continue doing so.

Paperwork reduction.—At its annual hearing on agency compliance with the Paperwork Reduction Act, the Committee on Government Reform received testimony that farmers are concerned about unnecessary and burdensome paperwork imposed by Federal agencies on them. For example, the Bureau of Reclamation requires farmers to submit a lengthy full report each year even if there are no operational changes from last year. Therefore, the Committee directs USDA to work with other Federal agencies and OMB to eliminate any duplicative and unnecessary paperwork imposed on farmers. In particular, the Committee expects USDA to ensure that Federal paperwork—both its own and that of other Federal agencies—has particular utility, as required by the Paperwork Reduction Act, and has current OMB approval. In addition, the Committee directs Federal agencies to allow farmers to merely report “no change” on each of the annual reporting requirements if there are no changes from the prior year’s report to the Federal Government.

TITLE III—TRADE

Sec. 301. Market Access Program

(a) Reauthorizes the Market Access Program (section 203 of the Agricultural Trade Act of 1978 (7 U.S.C. 5623)) through 2011, and increases funding from $90,000,000 to $200,000,000.

(b) Designates that Market Access Program funds may be used for activities to develop, maintain or expand foreign markets for leaf tobacco.

Sec. 302. Food for Progress

(a) Reauthorizes Food for Progress (the Food Security Act of 1985 (7 U.S.C. 1736o)) through 2011.

(b) Increases the limits on Commodity Credit Corporation funding for administrative costs from $10,000,000 to $12,000,000.

(c) Excludes from the limitations on tonnage in Sec. 1110(g) of Food for Progress those commodities furnished on a grant basis or on credit terms under title I of the Agricultural Trade Development Act of 1954.

(d) Increases the limits on Commodity Credit Corporation funding for transportation costs related to distribution of commodities from $30,000,000 to $35,000,000.

(e) Encourages the President to approve agreements that provide commodities to be made available for distribution or sale on a multiyear basis.

(f) Adds a new provision that encourages the Secretary to finalize program agreements and requests before the beginning of the relevant fiscal year. Also requires Secretary to provide the House Committee on Agriculture and the Senate Committee on Agriculture, Nutrition and Forestry a list of approved programs, countries and commodities, and the total amounts of funds approved for transportation and administrative costs related to Food for Progress by November 1 of the relevant fiscal year.

Sec. 303. Export Enhancement Act

Reauthorizes the Export Enhancement Act (section 301(e) of the Agricultural Trade Act of 1978 (7 U.S.C. 5651(e)) through 2011 at the current funding level of $478,000,000.
Sec. 304. Foreign Market Development Cooperator Program

(a) Reauthorizes the Foreign Market Development Cooperator Program (section 703 of the Agricultural Trade Act of 1978) through 2011 and authorizes $35,000,000 from the Commodity Credit Corporation for each of fiscal years 2002 through 2011 to carry out the program.

(b) Directs the Secretary to carry out the Foreign Market Development Cooperator Program with a significant emphasis on the importance of exporting value-added agricultural products to emerging markets.

(c) Requires the Secretary to report to Congress on the funding and success of the Foreign Market Development Cooperator Program.

The Committee emphasizes that the amendment to section 702(a) of the Agricultural Trade Act of 1978 should not be interpreted to exclude any eligible trade organization from carrying out programs to maintain and develop foreign markets for any United States agricultural commodity or product. In particular, the Committee intends that the Secretary continue to work with cooperators to maintain and develop markets for all commodities in all their forms, under this program.

Sec. 305. Export Credit Guarantee Program

(a) Reauthorizes the Export Credit Guarantee Program (sec. 211(b)(1) of the Agricultural Trade Act of 1978) through 2011.

(b) Continues for fiscal years 2002 through 2011 the current requirement that not less than 35 percent of the export credit guarantees issued be used to promote the export of processed or high-value agricultural products.

Sec. 306. Food for Peace (P.L. 480)

Reauthorizes Food for Peace and the International Food Relief Partnership Act through 2011.

Sec. 307. Emerging markets

Reauthorizes section 1542 of the Food, Agriculture, Conservation, and Trade Act of 1990 through 2011 to promote agricultural exports to emerging markets.

Sec. 308. Bill Emerson Humanitarian Trust

Reauthorizes the Bill Emerson Humanitarian Trust Act through 2011.

Sec. 309. Technical assistance for specialty crops

TITLE V—CREDIT

Sec. 501. Eligibility of limited liability companies for farm ownership loans, farm operating loans, and emergency loans

Amends sections of the Consolidated Farm and Rural Development Act (ConAct) that authorize farm real estate, operating and emergency loans by including limited liability companies as eligible entities to apply for these loans.

Sec. 502. Suspension of effectiveness of certain provision

Provides that Sec. 319 of the ConAct dealing with the graduation of borrowers with Farm Service Agency loans to commercial sources of credit will have no effect through December 31, 2006. Current law provides a moratorium on these loans through December 31, 2002.

Sec. 503. Administration of certified lenders and preferred certified lenders programs

Amends Sec. 331(b) of the ConAct to authorize the Secretary of Agriculture to administer the certified and preferred lender guaranteed loan programs through central offices in states or multi-state areas.

Sec. 504. Simplified loan guarantee application available for loans of greater amounts Amends Sec. 333A(g)(1) of the ConAct to increase the loan amount of the guaranteed program using a simplified short form to $150,000.

Sec. 505. Elimination of requirement that secretary require county committees to certify in writing that certain loan reviews have been conducted

Amends Sec. 333 of the ConAct to remove the requirement that county committees must certify in writing annually that farmer program borrowers' business operations and credit histories have been reviewed and the borrowers continue to be eligible for the loan program.

Sec. 506. Authority to reduce percentage of loan guaranteed if borrower income is insufficient to service debt

Amends Sec. 339 of the ConAct to authorize the Secretary to guarantee less than 80 percent of farm program loans even though the borrower does not show a 100 percent cash flow in his farm plan.

Sec. 507. Timing of loan assessments

Technical amendment to Sec. 360(a) of the ConAct that conforms to a provision of the 1994 USDA reauthorization act that eliminated a requirement for the local county committee to approve a borrower's eligibility for farmer program loans.

Sec. 508. Making and servicing of loans by personnel of state, county or area committees

Adds a new section to Subtitle D of the ConAct to require the Secretary to use Farm Service Agency county office employees to make and service farmer program loans if the personnel are trained to do so. This authority overrides the 90-day finality rule of FSA county office employees in Sec. 281(a)(1) of the USDA reorganization act.

Sec. 509. Eligibility of employees of state, county, or area committee for loans and loan guarantees

Adds a new section to Subtitle D of the ConAct to make eligible Farm Service Agency local county office employees and USDA employees for farmer program loans so long as a local county office other than the applicant’s home office approves the loan application.

Sec. 510. Emergency loans in response to an economic emergency resulting from sharply increasing energy costs

(1) Amends Sec. 323 to include high energy costs and crop and livestock quarantines as an emergency for which disaster loans may be made.
(2) Financial assistance may be made available when energy costs for any three-month period is at least 50 percent greater than the average of the preceding five years and the applicant’s income loss was incurred to prevent livestock mortality, degradation of perishable commodities or damage to field crops.
(3) The amount of any loan under the energy emergency authority may not exceed $200,000. For crop or livestock quarantines, the limit remains at $500,000.

Sec. 511. Extension of authority to contract for servicing of farmer program loans

Reauthorizes Sec. 331(d) to allow the Secretary to allow qualified private lenders to service loans under the ConAct.

Sec. 512. Authorization for loans

Reauthorizes the farmer loan programs at such sums as may be necessary.

Sec. 513. Reservation of funds for direct operating loans for beginning farmers and ranchers

Reauthorizes the reservation of beginning farmer and ranchers loan amounts through 2011.

Sec. 514. Extension of interest rate reduction program

Reauthorizes the interest rate buy-down program for farmer program loan guarantees through 2011.

Sec. 515. Increase in duration of loans under Down Payment Loan Program

Amends the beginning farmer and rancher down payment loan program by increasing loan repayment period to 15 years.

Sec. 516. Horse breeder loans

Requires the Secretary to make loans to eligible horse breeders who have suffered foal losses resulting from mare reproductive loss syndrome.
Breeders must have suffered a 30 percent loss in healthy foals in mares owned or boarded by the breeder and the breeder must not be able to obtain sufficient credit elsewhere.

Loans may be made for a term not to exceed 15 years at interest rates charged under the emergency disaster loan program operated by the Secretary. A loan or loans may not exceed $500,000.

The authority established under this section terminates September 30, 2003.

Sec. 517. Sunset of direct loan programs under the Consolidated Farm and Rural Development Act

Five years after the enactment of this section the Secretary may not make a farm real estate or operating loan to farmers or ranchers except for youth loans and loans to beginning farmers and ranchers or members of socially-disadvantaged groups.

The Secretary retains authority to service loans made prior to the beginning of the sunset.

The Secretary is required to conduct two studies during the five-year period following enactment. The first study will begin one year after enactment and must be finished within one year. The second study will begin three years after enactment and must be finished within one year. The studies will examine, among other things, the number, average principal amount, and delinquency and default rates of loans made and guaranteed during the periods covered by the studies.

Each study must be submitted to the Congress six months after completion and must evaluate the USDA’s lending activities, including an analysis of the effectiveness of loan programs in providing the credit needs of agricultural producers in an efficient and fiscally responsible manner.

Sec. 518. Definition of debt forgiveness

Amends Sec. 343 of the ConAct to provide that the term debt forgiveness does not include consolidation, rescheduling, reamortization, or deferral of a loan nor any loan write-down provided as a part of a resolution of a discrimination complaint against the Secretary.

It has come to the Committee’s attention that borrowers are facing several situations that are out of their control and may have a tremendous impact upon their ability to meet their loan obligations. Among these are recurrent natural disasters that have been experienced in many areas as well as a catastrophic illness or medical condition affecting the borrower or an immediate family member. The Committee expects the Secretary to develop criteria using all of the authorities contained in the Consolidated Farm and Rural Development Act to address these two situations and afford remedies to assist those borrowers who are unable to repay their loan obligations.

Sec. 519. Loan eligibility for borrowers with prior debt forgiveness

Amends Sec. 373 of the ConAct to authorize the Secretary to make loans to borrowers who have not received debt forgiveness on loans or loan guarantees more than two times and to guarantee loans to borrowers who have not received debt forgiveness on loans or loan guarantees more than three times.
Sec. 520. Allocation of certain funds for socially disadvantaged farmers and ranchers

Amends the ConAct to authorize the Secretary to use funds allocated for socially-disadvantaged farmers and ranchers within a state to be used in other states where there are pending, approved applications for socially-disadvantaged farmers and ranchers. Any unused funds within a state may be reallocated to other applicants in that state.

Sec. 521. Horses considered to be livestock under the Consolidated Farm and Rural Development Act

Amends Sec. 343 of the ConAct to include horses within the meaning of livestock.

TITLE VI—RURAL DEVELOPMENT

Sec. 601. Funding for rural local television broadcast signal loan guarantees

Amends the Launching Our Communities’ Access to Local Television Act of 2000 to provide $200 million for loan guarantees for fiscal years 2002–2006 without fiscal year limitation.

Sec. 602. Expanded eligibility for value-added agricultural products market development grants

Amends the Agricultural Risk Protection Act of 2000 to allow $50 million to be used for value-added grants for each of the fiscal years 2002–2011. This section is designed to increase the participation in the Value-Added Agricultural Products Market Development Grants by allowing broader standards of eligibility for this specific grant category only so that public bodies and trade association can compete along with non-profit institutions and universities for grants designed to develop value-added products for foreign markets. Extends the current program with increased mandatory spending.

The Committee encourages the Secretary to use value-added agricultural products market development grants to assist in the development of agricultural-based renewable energy sources.

Sec. 603. Agriculture Innovation Center Demonstration Program

The Secretary shall make grants to establish centers to provide producers with technical assistance, marketing, and development assistance for value-added agricultural businesses. The Secretary shall use not less than $5 million for fiscal year 2002 and not less than $10 million for fiscal years 2003 and 2004. This money is part of the $50 million being used for Section 602 activities. The Secretary shall use $300,000 of the funds made available each year to support research at a university on the effects of value-added projects on producers and commodity markets. The Secretary shall submit a report to the House and Senate Agriculture Committees on the effectiveness of this demonstration program.

Sec. 604. Funding of Community Water Assistance Grant Program

Directs the Secretary to use $30 million for each of the fiscal years 2002–2011 to fund drinking water assistance grants. Extends current program and makes it mandatory spending.
The Committee intends that the amendments made by Section 604 are to address the ongoing needs of rural communities that may have difficulty providing safe and adequate quantities of drinking water to their residents. However, these amendments to Sec. 306A of the Consolidate Farm and Rural Development Act (ConAct) in no way prevent the Secretary from assisting communities under this section in the event of dire emergencies.

Sec. 605. Loan guarantees for the financing of the purchase of renewable energy systems

The Secretary may provide to persons or individuals a loan guarantee under Section 4 of the Rural Electrification Act to finance the purchase of a renewable energy system, including a wind energy system and anaerobic digesters for the purpose of energy generation.

Sec. 606. Loans and loan guarantees for renewable energy systems

Amends Section 310B of the ConAct by inserting “and other renewable energy systems including wind energy systems and anaerobic digesters for the purpose of energy generation”.

The Committee recognizes the need for developing technologies to convert renewable farm and forestry resources into affordable electricity, fuel chemicals, and other materials. The Committee encourages the Secretary, through the Rural Business-Cooperative Service, to provide Business and Industry loans or loan guarantees for biomass conversion into bio-based industrial products.

Sections 607, 608, 609, 610, 611

Reauthorizes current programs through 2011. Those programs are Rural Business Opportunity Grants (Sec. 607), Grants for Water Systems for Rural and Native Villages in Alaska (Sec. 608), Rural Cooperative Development Grants (Sec. 609), National Reserve Account for Rural Development Trust Fund (Sec. 610), and the Rural Venture Capital Demonstration Program (Sec. 611).

Sec. 612. Increase in limit on certain loans for rural development

Increases the loan limit of the Business and Industry lending program authorized by Sec. 310B of the ConAct from $25 million to $100 million.

The Committee notes that it has been some time since the loan limit for the Business and Industry loan program has been amended. Over those years, the needs for debt capital in small cities and rural communities have expanded, and inflation has eroded the purchasing power of the current loan limit of $25 million. While the Committee agreed to raise the limit on single loans to $100 million, the Committee cautions the Secretary to use this new authority judiciously. The Committee is concerned that the expertise within the Department to analyze and assess the underwriting standards of lenders that may wish to seek a guarantee of a $100 million loan may be limited. In addition, the Committee urges the Secretary to establish guidelines for approving large loan guarantees so that they will have a positive, maximum benefit to rural residents and eligible communities by creating employment and other economic opportunities.
Sec. 613. Pilot program for rural development strategic plans and implementation

(a) Development: The Secretary shall select 10 states to implement rural development strategic plans. This is a new program that provides mandatory spending of $2 million in grants for each fiscal year 2002–2011.

(b) Strategic Planning Implementation: Provides mandatory spending of $13 million for grants to implement the plans for each fiscal year 2002–2011.

The Strategic Planning Initiative and Implementation provision authorizes a matching grant pilot program of $2 million per year to entities for regional, collaborative rural development strategic plans in 10 states. Community-based and grassroots organizations' support and participation are critically important to successful planning. The matching grant requirement will help ensure that there is a commitment at the local level for the planning process. The provision allows the Secretary to require up to a 50% matching grant. This requirement is not intended to serve as a barrier to limited resource communities in fully participating in the program. The Secretary should require matching grants commensurate with a community's ability to pay, even to the point of only requiring a nominal amount in order to ensure the broadest participation.

In developing a regional development plan it is imperative that local specialists representing many varied areas of expertise be included. The Secretary should give priority to grant applicants whose proposals include the broadest coalitions of regional and local organizations—both public and private. Entities eligible for matching grants include but are not limited to Councils of Government, Area Development Districts, Economic Development Districts, Local Development Districts, Planning and Development Districts, Regional Planning Commissions and Regional Councils of Government.

The Secretary of Agriculture, in selecting the 10 States to implement this program, should give priority to states that have high rural populations or high percentages of rural population. However, the Secretary may consider other appropriate factors as necessary to ensure full participation by other States with significant rural areas not meeting these population requirements.

The Committee bill provides the Secretary with full funding of $13 million per year and authority to implement the regional plans in the 10 selected States. The Committee expects and anticipates that the program will provide a unique opportunity for Congress to assess the strengths and weaknesses of the full panoply of Federal rural development programs used in concert with one another.

The Secretary is authorized to transfer money from the planning activities to the implementation activities and vice versa in order to ensure maximum use of the funds provided.

Rural communities across the United States continue to decline due to limited resources, a lack of leadership and the exodus of youth to jobs in urban areas. The remarkable diversity of rural America dictates that for rural development to be effective, it must be locally based. In setting goals, priorities and making decisions, a regional approach is essential. Many rural communities have assets that could be identified by strategic planning to produce the potential for future economic viability. Local officials and the pri-
The private sector can use this program for such identification to determine the best approach to development for their region. The Strategic Planning Initiative and Implementation program will place a high priority on providing regional community based planning coupled with the resources to put the plans into action.

Sec. 614. Grants to nonprofit organizations to finance the construction, refurbishing, and servicing of individually-owned household water well systems in rural areas for individuals with low or moderate income

Amends the water and wastewater authorities under the ConAct to authorize the Secretary to make grants and loans to provide individual residential water wells.

Sec. 615. National Rural Development Partnership

Adds a new section to Subtitle E of the ConAct to establish a National Rural Development Partnership composed of the Coordinating Committee and the state rural development councils.

This Section formally authorizes the National Rural Development Partnership (NRDP or “Partnership”) and its two component units, State rural development councils (SRDCs) and the National Rural Development Coordinating Committee (NRDCC). SRDCs were established to promote interagency coordination among federal departments and agencies that administer policies and programs that impact rural areas and to promote intergovernmental collaboration among federal agencies and state, local, and tribal governments and the private and non-profit sectors. Among the activities the Committee believes are appropriate for SRDCs are: gathering information on the condition of rural areas in the states they serve; reviewing and commenting on all policies, regulations, and proposed legislation that affect or would affect rural areas; monitoring and reporting on policies and programs that address, and fail to address, the needs of rural areas; and facilitating the formulation of local needs assessments for rural areas and participating in the development of criteria for the distribution of Federal funds to rural areas, and to the extent the criteria use USDA funds, the USDA rural director in each state should be directly involved in the development of those criteria. This Section also redesignates the existing National Rural Development Council as the NRDCC. The NRDCC, which may include representatives from federal agencies and national associations, is expected to support the work of the SRDCs and to promote interagency and intergovernmental collaboration at the national level.

Sec. 616. Eligibility of rural empowerment zones, rural enterprise communities, and champion communities for direct and guaranteed loans for essential community facilities

Amends Sec. 306(a) of the ConAct to authorize the Secretary to make or insure loans to communities designated as rural empowerment zones, rural enterprise communities or as champion communities to install or improve essential community facilities.
Sec. 617. Grants to train farm workers in new technologies and to train farm workers in specialized skills necessary for higher value crops

The Secretary may make grants to an entity to train farm workers to use new technologies and develop specialized skills for agricultural development. Authorizes no more than $10 million be appropriated to the Secretary for fiscal years 2002–2011 to make such grants.

Sec. 618. Loan guarantees for the purchase of stock in a farmer cooperative seeking to modernize or expand

Amends Sec. 310B of the ConAct to provide loan guarantees for individual farmers to purchase capital stock of a farmer cooperative established for an agricultural purpose.

Sec. 619. Intangible assets and subordinated unsecured debt required to be considered in determining eligibility of farmer-owned cooperative for business and industry guaranteed loan

Amends Sec. 310B of the ConAct for this purpose. In considering applications for a loan guarantee from an agricultural cooperative, the Rural Business-Cooperative Service may consider the value of intangible assets such as trademarks, patents, licenses, and brands subject to appraisal, when evaluating the eligibility of an agricultural cooperative for loan guarantees. The same consideration may be given to unsecured subordinated debt, which may be viewed as the equivalent of equity in the cooperative. Both intangible assets and unsecured subordinated debt may be considered in determining the viability of a cooperative's balance sheet.

Sec. 620. Ban on limiting eligibility of farmer cooperative for business and industry loan guarantee based on population of area in which cooperative is located

Amends the ConAct so that in determining whether a cooperative organization owned by farmers is eligible for a guaranteed loan, the Secretary shall not apply any lending restrictions based on population to the area in which the cooperative is located.

The Committee further recognizes that TIAER is an example of the type of institution intended to receive grants under the High Priority Research and Extension Initiatives for Environment and Private Lands Research and Extension.

Sec. 745. The National Agricultural Research, Extension, Education and Economics Advisory Board (7 U.S.C. 3123) is amended to add a non Land-grant college or university representative to the board, and provide authority for the board to consult with Congress and non research agencies of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The Committee believes that environmental assessment research related to biotechnology plants and animals should include benefits that accrue to the environment as well as any potential impact on the environment.

The Committee intends that the types of research authorized under this section shall evaluate the relative risks of biotechnology-derived plants and animals. Research projects under this section shall include comparative analysis between biotechnology systems and other productions system such as organic, high intensity and low input farming. In addition, biotechnology derived plants and animals should be compared relative to other production system's impact on the environment (i.e. alternative pesticide, herbicide, irrigation or management practices).

The Committee intends that biotechnology risk assessment research shall be science-based and shall be carried out according to the principles laid out in the current regulatory system for evaluating the human, animal and environmental safety standards for approving biotech plants and foods.

Any funds, either appropriated or assessed, to carry out this section and any implementation plan developed by the Secretary to achieve the objectives of this section shall be expended after consultation with the National Agricultural Research, Extension, Education, and Economics Advisory Board.
Currently the Secretary assesses funds on six categories of research that have been defined as biotechnology research. However, all funds for risk assessment purposes continue to focus on a single category dealing with recombinant DNA risk assessment research. The Committee intends that the Secretary shall ensure that all assessments are equally applicable to all areas defined as biotechnology by the Secretary to ensure that all potential benefit and risk of this field of science is being evaluated.

Sec. 752. The Research Facilities Act (7 U.S.C. 390(2)(3)) is amended to strike the definition of Food and Agricultural Sciences and instead refer to the definition of Food and Agricultural Sciences in section 1408(8) of the National Agricultural Research, Extension, and Teaching Policy Act of 1977.

Sec. 753. The Smith-Lever Act (7 U.S.C. 343(b)(3)) is amended to provide that “such sums as are necessary” may be appropriated to carry out this section.

A new section (419(a)) is added to the Plant Protection Act to require the Secretary to determine if uses of methyl bromide required by state, local and tribal authorities to control the spread of plant pests and noxious weeds shall be authorized. In addition, the Secretary would maintain a registry of authorized uses.

The Research Facilities Act (7 U.S.C. 390 et seq.) is amended by adding a new section to provide the Secretary with authority to investigate and assess civil penalties in cases of reckless or intentional destruction of animal or agricultural enterprises. A civil penalty assessed by the Secretary against a person for a violation shall be not less than the total cost incurred by the Secretary and the total cost of the economic damage suffered by the agricultural enterprise. A fund to assist victims of disruption would be established in the Treasury consisting of that portion of each civil penalty that represents the recovery of economic damages. TITLE VIII—FORESTRY INITIATIVES

Sec. 801. Repeal of Foresty Incentives Program and Stewardship Incentive Program

Repeals the Foresty Incentives Program and Stewardship Incentive Program located in section 4 and section 6 of the Cooperative Forestry Assistance Act of 1978 respectively.

Sec. 802. Establishment of Forest Land Enhancement Program

Creates a new program administered through NRCS. FLEP will provide cost-share assistance to non-industrial private forest landowners who agree to develop a management plan and implement approved activities for a period of not less than 10 years.

The Secretary is directed to cooperate with other federal and state agencies as well as the private sector in implementing the program.
The maximum amount of cost-share is limited to a sum not to exceed 75% of the total cost. The Secretary is directed to determine the maximum amount of payments by any one owner.

FLEP is funded with $15 M in mandatory money per year for fiscal years 2002 through 2011.

Sec. 803. Renewable resources extension activities

Reauthorizes the Renewable Resources Extension Act through 2011. Provides $30 million of discretionary money.

Also creates a Sustainable Forestry Outreach Initiative within the RREA which would provide education to landowners about sustainable forestry practices.

Sec. 804. Enhanced community fire protection

Directs the Secretary to coordinate with local communities in implementing the rural fire prevention and control strategies.

Also creates a Community and Private Land Fire Assistance Program which enables the Secretary to undertake a variety of activities aimed at preventing fires on both federal and non-federal lands. Provides $35 million of discretionary money.

Sec. 805. International forestry programs

Reauthorizes the International Forestry Program through 2011.

Sec. 806. Long-term forest stewardship

Contracts for hazardous fuels removal and implementation of the National Fire Plan. Gives the Secretary the authority to enter into stewardship end result contracts to implement the National Fire Plan on Federal lands.

Sec. 807. McIntire-Stennis Cooperative Forestry Research Program

Reaffirms the importance of Public Law 87–88, the McIntire-Stennis Cooperative Forestry Act.

The Forestry Initiatives Title modifies USDA assistance programs for State and private forestry.

The Forestry Title repeals the Forestry Incentives Program and the Stewardship Incentives Program and creates a new program in their place, the Forest Land Enhancement Program (FLEP). FLEP provides cost-share assistance to landowners for a wide range of activities including the development of land management plans. The Secretary of Agriculture is directed to distribute $150 million for FY 2002 through FY 2011 in mandatory spending through the Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) to the State forestry agencies for landowner assistance. It is the intent of the Committee that the funds made available for FLEP are to be used by the State Foresters in direct landowner assistance activities.

The Sustainable Forestry Outreach Initiative, within the Renewable Resources Extension Act, directs the Secretary through Extension Services to create a new program for the purpose of educating landowners about: the value and benefits of practicing sustainable forestry; the importance of professional forestry advice in achieving sustainable forestry objectives; and, the variety of public and private sector resources available to assist them in planning for and practicing sustainable forestry. The objective of this program is to articulate the importance of sustainable forest management on nonindustrial private lands, and to develop a marketing program designed to provide private landowners with information on all Federal, State, and Private programs developed to assist private landowners with sustainable forest management options.

TITLE IX—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

Subtitle A—Tree Assistance Program

Sec. 901. Eligibility

Requires the Secretary of Agriculture to provide assistance to eligible orchardists that planted trees for commercial purposes but lost such trees as a result of a natural disaster. Orchardists qualify for assistance only if tree mortality exceeds 15%.

Sec. 902. Assistance

Consists of either reimbursement of 75% of the cost of replanting eligible trees lost or, at the discretion of the Secretary, sufficient seedlings to reestablish the stand.

Sec. 903. Limitation on assistance

Payment limitation per person may not exceed $50,000 or an equivalent value in tree seedlings. Requires the Secretary to issue regulations defining “person.” Requires the Secretary to issue regulations prescribing rules to ensure a fair and reasonable application of the limitation established under this section.

Sec. 904. Definitions

Defines “eligible orchardist,” “natural disaster,” and “tree”.

Subtitle B—Advisory Council and Federal Interagency Working Group on Upper Mississippi River

Sec. 911. Definitions

 Defines “Advisory Council,” “Upper Mississippi River Basin,” and “Upper Mississippi River Stewardship Initiative.”

Sec. 912. Establishment of Advisory Council on the Upper Mississippi River Stewardship Initiative

Creates an advisory council to provide guidance regarding the Upper Mississippi River Stewardship Initiative. Members shall be appointed by the governors of the states of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa and Missouri. Membership shall also include members drawn from the state technical committees in each of the states named above.

Sec. 913. Responsibilities of Advisory Council

Provides that the Advisory Committee shall serve as a means for coordination, communication and information sharing regarding issues in the Upper Mississippi River Basin such as science and technology concerning conservation practices. Requires the Advisory Council to prepare an annual report regarding publicly-financed efforts to reduce sediment and nutrient loss. Provides for the creation of specific issue task forces within the Advisory Council as needed. Requires the Advisory Council to hold an annual public meeting in each state represented on the council to formulate recommendations and seek public input regarding methods and priorities to reduce nutrient and sediment loss in the Upper Mississippi River Basin.

Sec. 914. Advisory nature of Council

Provides that the Advisory Council is purely advisory in nature. However, the Secretary and the heads of other federal agencies in the interagency working group established in section 915 shall give strong consideration to the Council’s recommendations in administering the natural resources programs in the region.

Sec. 915. Federal interagency working group

Requires the Secretary of Agriculture and the Secretary of the Interior to establish an interagency working group to coordinate federal nutrient and sediment reduction efforts in the Upper Mississippi River Basin under the Initiative.

Sec. 916. Authorization of appropriations

Authorizes $400,000 for each of fiscal years 2003 through 2011 to carry out this subtitle.

Subtitle C—Other Matters

Sec. 921. Hazardous fuels reduction grants to prevent wildfire disasters and transform hazardous fuels to electric energy, useful heat or transportation fuels.

Authorizes the Secretary to make grants to energy producers who purchase hazardous fuels (unnaturally excessive accumulations of organic material), derived from forest lands, for use in the production of electric energy, useful heat, or transportation fuels. The grants will be awarded based on the planned purchase of such hazardous fuels and the level of anticipated benefit to reduce wildfire risk. There are authorized to be appropriated $50,000,000 for each fiscal year to carry out this program.

Hazardous fuels that are removed from forest lands for wildfire prevention represent an abundant renewable resource as well as a significant supply of biomass that can be used for energy production. In establishing the Hazardous Fuels to Energy Grant Program, it is the intent of the Committee to encourage the use of forest-derived biomass in the production of electric energy, useful heat, or transportation fuels, while simultaneously providing an alternative use for hazardous fuels that may contribute to the occurrence of wildfires. These grants will assist energy producers by offsetting some of the costs associated with utilizing and transporting the hazardous fuel to the biomass-to-energy facility. These grants will be awarded based on the level of anticipated benefit to reduce wildfire risk and therefore, may potentially benefit more than 20,000 communities in the United States that are at risk to wildfires. Additionally, these grants will benefit energy consumers by providing a mechanism for increasing production of alternative energy sources.
Sec. 922. Bioenergy Program

Requires the Secretary to include animal fats, agricultural by-products, and oils as eligible commodities under the existing Bioenergy Program (7 CFR 1424).

The Committee recognizes the role of the Bioenergy Program in encouraging the industrial consumption of agricultural commodities for the production of ethanol and biodiesel fuels. The Committee also recognizes that the expansion of alternative markets for agricultural commodities depends upon the stability of such programs. Therefore, the Committee encourages the Secretary to continue the Bioenergy Program under authority provided in Section 5(e) of the Commodity Credit Corporation Charter Act. Additionally, for the purpose of treating all agriculturally-derived biobased products equitably, animal fats, agricultural by-products, and oils are to be added to the list of eligible commodities.

Sec. 923. Availability of section 32 funds

Amends the second undesignated paragraph of section 32 of 7 U.S.C. 612c by striking “$300,000,000” and inserting “$500,000,000”.

Sec. 924. Seniors farmers' market nutrition program

Allows Secretary to use $15,000,000 for each of fiscal years 2002 through 2011 to carry out and expand a seniors farmers' market nutrition program. Further explains purposes of program.

Sec. 925. Federal marketing order for cane berries

Requires Secretary to issue a Federal marketing order for cane berries grown in the United States.

A Federal Marketing Order for cane berries will allow producers to promote orderly marketing through collectively influencing the supply, demand or price and to pool resources to finance research and promotion. Producers need this tool to address low prices due, in part, to overproduction.

Fruit and Vegetable Advisory Committee—Presently USDA has oversight of numerous programs that impact and influence the day to day activities of the produce industry, many unique to the specialty crop industry. During the past Congress, the Secretary of Agriculture approved a USDA Fruit and Vegetable Advisory Committee which was strongly supported by industry. However, the structure and/or appointments have not yet been decided on. To ensure that industry members and federal officials maintain an open dialogue to provide suggestions and ideas on how USDA administers fruit and vegetable programs to meet the industry’s changing needs, the Managers encourage the Secretary of Agriculture to finish completion of the review process to establish and appoint members to this Fruit and Vegetable Advisory Committee.

Sec. 926. National Appeals Division

Provides that if an appellant prevails at the regional level in an administrative appeal of a decision by the National Appeals Division, the Agency may not pursue an administrative appeal of that decision to the national level.
Sec. 927. Outreach and assistance for socially disadvantaged farmers and ranchers

The outreach program for socially-disadvantaged farmers and ranchers contained in Sec. 2501 of the Food, Agriculture, Conservation and Trade Act of 1990 is amended by increasing the authorization of appropriations from $10 million in each fiscal year to $25 million.

COMMITTEE VIEWS ON OTHER ISSUES

ADJUSTED GROSS REVENUE INSURANCE REPORT LANGUAGE

On June 20, 2000, the Agricultural Risk Protection Act of 2000 was signed into law (ARPA; P.L. 106–224). ARPA made comprehensive changes in the Federal Crop Insurance Program. One purpose of that Act is to ensure that the Risk Management Agency has ample flexibility to operate pilot programs free of administrative restrictions that had previously hindered the ability to broadly test new ideas. Specifically, as added by ARPA, section 523 of the Federal Crop Insurance Act authorizes RMA to approve a pilot program on a regional, State, or national basis, to operate a pilot program for 4 years, and to extend the time of a pilot program beyond 4 years if it determines such an extension to be appropriate.

The Committee is aware that the Risk Management Agency currently operates an Adjusted Gross Revenue (AGR) Pilot Program. Where it is offered, the program is available to all producers in some participating states but only to producers in particular counties in other States. The program is offered Statewide in Delaware, Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, New Jersey and Vermont. It is only offered in specified counties in the States of Florida, Idaho, Maryland, Michigan, New York, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and Washington. The Committee is also aware of considerable interest in the protection offered by the AGR policy in other States.

The Committee is encouraged by the popularity and performance of the AGR program where it has been offered under the current pilot. The Committee expects the Risk Management Agency to move quickly to make the pilot program available to additional producers throughout the nation. Because the policy has proven to be particularly beneficial as a risk management tool for specialty crop producers, the Committee strongly recommends that RMA make the product available for States with high volumes of fruit and vegetable production, such as California. The Committee also expects the RMA to use the authority granted in section 523(a)(4)(A) of the FCIA to operate the program on a statewide basis in those States where it is currently offered only in specified counties.

COMMITTEE CONSIDERATION

I. Hearings

In the 106th Congress, Members of the House Committee on Agriculture traveled to 10 cities throughout rural America, convening field hearings on farm policy that were heard live over the Committee’s Internet site. Allowing for the broadest discussion possible, the Committee encouraged testimony beyond the effect of the current farm bill, to seek producer specifics on what is working—and what can work better—in all areas of federal farm policy. Producers were strongly supportive of the flexibility of the “Freedom to Farm” concept, and in agreement with Committee Members critique of the federal government’s failure to pursue other promised elements of the market-oriented legislation: tax relief, reducing regulatory burdens, and the opening of more world markets for American agricultural products.

Under the leadership and initiative of Chairman Combest, and the support of Ranking Minority Member Stenholm, these Farm Policy Field Hearings enjoyed high attendance—totaling more than 2,500 present in the audiences, 200 witnesses, and the high degree of participation by Members of the Committee. While producers were unable to agree on specifics for new policy initiatives, the personal involvement of Agriculture Committee Members traveling thousands of miles to listen to local farmers and ranchers in their communities contributed to expressions of producer confidence in Members’ willingness to continue to work for consensus.

The Committee concluded this comprehensive review with a series of hearings in Washington, D.C., and heard from leaders of national farm organizations, national commodity organizations and producer groups that face many issues distinct to their industries.

At the beginning of the 107th Congress, House Agriculture Committee Members began the process of building consensus in future farm policy by convening January 31, 2001, to examine the final report of the Commission on 21st Century Production Agriculture, that was created in the 1996 farm bill to complete a comprehensive review regarding the current status of agriculture, taking into account economic risk, food security, trade, international competitiveness of U.S. production, farmland values, producer incomes, and regulatory and tax relief for farmers and ranchers.

Shortly after this hearing, the Committee began a series of hearings on the future of farm policy that challenged commodity and farm groups to provide detailed policy proposals, as well as how their proposals would affect related industries, impact America’s ability to move products in the world market, how it would comport with U.S. trade agreements, and the impact on the federal budget and overall spending on farm programs.

Over 15 commodity and farm groups met this challenge and helped give the Committee the tools to shape a four page concept paper that was based upon these specific proposals.

Also instrumental to the concept paper were hearings before the Committee and its Subcommittees which focused on trade, forestry, conservation, nutrition, credit, research, and rural development.

The concept paper developed by the Committee maintained the planting flexibility that had proven so popular with producers. It guaranteed counter-cyclical income that increases payments to producers when prices fall without having to enact new legislation. It made oilseeds full partners in the commodity programs for major field crops and does so on an equitable basis and allows producers a choice to maintain current contract payment acres or to update payment acres for recent plantings and makes counter-cyclical payments on fixed production reduced by market distortions caused by government payments. The concept paper also grants relief to sugar and wool and mohair producers and provides funds to revamp the peanut program to help adjust to challenges from global markets.

The concept paper expanded the Conservation Reserve Program to just below 40 million acres and helps livestock and crop producers meet environmental goals by reauthorizing the Environmental Quality Incentives Programs at an annual funding level of $1.2 billion. It helps farmers and ranchers promote their products overseas and access foreign markets by reauthorizing and increasing funding for the Market Access Program.

The concept paper continued the investment in the future of American agriculture by increasing funding for agricultural research, extension, and education programs. Expanding the program that helps distribute food to food and soup kitchens, while increasing access to the food stamp program for families in need by providing an additional $2 billion to simplify administration.

The Committee then concluded with a series of hearings to hear the viewpoints of panelists representing producers, commodity groups, agribusiness, conservation and rural development interests concerning the concept paper.

CHANGES IN EXISTING LAW

In compliance with clause 3(e) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives changes in existing law made by the bill will be printed in a supplemental report.
ADDITIONAL VIEWS OF CONGRESSMAN NICK SMITH

STATE RESPONSIBILITY FOR ANIMAL WASTE MANAGEMENT

With regard to regulation of animal feeding operations under the Clean Water Act, I believe that states should have the flexibility to design functionally equivalent programs best suited to their state’s needs. Many states currently have nutrient management and permitting programs to address animal feeding operations. The current authority for states to develop these programs should not be preempted, nor should the federal government add conflicting requirements to existing state programs.

Furthermore, I have concerns that the proposed AFL/CAFO rules released by EPA in December 2000 would impose an unnecessary unfunded mandate on the animal livestock industry, while providing no significant environmental benefits, and possibly even leading to environmental backsliding. Requiring states to administer federal discharge permits to almost 40,000 Concentrated Animal Feeding Operations will be extremely costly and counterproductive, as many states are already implementing successful waste management programs without one-size-fits-all federal permitting.

The federal government should work with the states in developing a new strategy for animal feeding operations and should allow existing state programs to operate in lieu of federal requirements, provided the existing state program, in combination with other point and non-point source measures, is effective in attaining and maintaining the federally approved state water quality standards.

PRICE SUPPORT PAYMENT LIMITATIONS

This legislation does not have real limits on federal price support payments. The current committee-passed limitation of $150,000 on benefits from loan deficiency payments and marketing loan gains is not a real limit. Large farmers are easily able to continue receiving government price support beyond the limitation amount through benefits from commodity certificates and loan forfeitures. Some very wealthy farmers with tens of thousands of acres receive price support benefits in excess of a million dollars. I am concerned that continued massive government payments to a handful of large farmers threatens to reduce popular support of agriculture for the 82 percent of farmers that received only 26 percent of total price support benefits. Further, imposing an absolute price support limitation of $150,000 would only affect the largest ½ of one percent of farmers. I would urge members of Congress to work to set real payment limitations that would reduce the current disparities in federal farm price support payments.
EMPOWERMENT OF STATE FSA COMMITTEES

The Secretary should take steps to empower state Farm Service Agency Committees with a more involved role in the decision-making process for state-administered farm programs.

Nick Smith.
ADDITIONAL VIEWS OF CONGRESSMAN RICHARD POMBO

Congressman Richard Pombo in discussion with Congressman Wally Herger assert the following additional views. It is not the policy of many members of this Congress to encourage the loss of private, productive agricultural land in the heart of our most productive farming communities. To the contrary, we believe it is, and must continue to be, the policy of this Congress and the Secretary of Agriculture to maintain land in private ownership and in productive agricultural uses.

We remain very concerned about the denial of irrigation water to the farmers in the Klamath Basin and about the precedent that this decision under the Endangered Species Act sets for agriculture across the country. We strongly urge the Secretary to utilize the programs at her disposal to assist the persons affected by this crisis. In so doing, we believe the existing policy of this Congress requires the Secretary to ensure that there is no net loss of private, agricultural lands in the Basin by sale, acquisition, forfeiture, seizure or reversion. We also urge the Secretary to work closely with the Secretaries of Interior and Commerce to help them ensure that future water allocation decisions provide for balance.

The report language on the Klamath Basin speaks to the problem as solely an “over allocation” issue. Neither the Congress nor the Administration has formally accepted this as an accurate depiction of the problems in the Klamath Basin. Quite the contrary, much of the focus of the debate on the Klamath Basin water crisis has been on the role that the Endangered Species Act has played in depriving the farmers of this area—for the first time in the 100-year history of the project—of their land and water rights. Placing the fault for this year’s water situation solely on the shoulders of an “overallocation,” fails to account for the regulatory constraints that have contributed to this year’s zero water outcome. It ignores the reality of the Endangered Species Act, and removes the necessary policy focus that this Congress must continue to place on the role that the law has played in the current crisis.

Indeed, this statement may simply be factually incorrect. If this year’s water supply outcome were simply a function of an overallocated system, one would assume that prior drought years would have yielded a similar result. To our knowledge, this is not the case.

While we agree strongly that USDA must continue doing everything possible to assist the communities of the Klamath Basin, there is not consensus within these communities that the purchase of conservation easements and/or the acquisition of fee simple interests in farmlands are a viable long-term solution. Or that now is the time to consider such actions. Many individuals in this area believe that such a large-scale acquisition of land and water rights could be the beginning of the end for these communities and strongly oppose it. We believe the best and proper course would be for Congress to fully vet such proposal, with the involvement of each of the affected parties, when and if the communities themselves request that kind of assistance.

Richard W. Pombo.
