A BILL

To establish the Mineral Commodity Information Administration in the Department of the Interior, and for other purposes.

1       Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2       tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3       SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4       This Act may be cited as “Resources Origin and 5       Commodity Knowledge Act”.

6       SEC. 2. FINDINGS, PURPOSE, AND POLICY.

7       (a) FINDINGS.—The Congress finds the following:

8               (1) Mineral commodities are essential to the 9       United States economy.

1           (2) The United States is the world's leading 2 user of mineral commodities.

3           (3) Mineral commodities processed domestically 4 accounted for $478,000,000,000 in the United 5 States economy in 2005.

6           (4) The value of imports of raw and processed 7 mineral commodities totaled $103,000,000,000 in 8 2005.

9           (5) The Board of Governors of the Federal Re-10 serve uses mineral commodity information data and 11 reports to calculate the indexes of industrial produc-12 tion, capacity, and capacity utilization, which are 13 among the most widely followed monthly indicators
14 of the United States economy.

15           (6) Manufacturers and consumers of mineral 16 commodities in the United States depended on for-17 eign countries for 100 percent of 16 mineral com-18 modities and for more than 50 percent of 42 mineral 19 commodities that are critical to the United States 20 economy.

21           (7) The Department of Defense requires min-22 eral commodity information on strategic minerals to 23 manage the National Defense Stockpile.

24           (8) Mineral specialists assist the Department of 25 State fulfill United States obligations under the

1 Clean Diamond Trade Act (19 U.S.C. 3901 et seq.)
2 and as a signatory to the Kimberly Process Certifi-3 cation Scheme, which is a multinational effort to 4 stop the flow of conflict diamonds.

5 (9) New and innovative uses of minerals are 6 vital to maintaining the high quality of both the nat-7 ural environment and human environment in the 8 United States.

9 (10) Knowledge and understanding of mineral
10 mining and usage, both domestically and inter-11 nationally, is important for maintaining the national 12 security and economic security of the United States.

13 (b) PURPOSES.—The purpose of this Act is to create 14 the Mineral Commodity Information Administration to en-
15 sure information vital to the United States economy, do-16 mestic security, and the high quality of life enjoyed by all 17 residents of the United States continues to be provided 18 to the many customers that rely upon the data.

19 (c) POLICY.—The Congress declares that—

20 (1) it is in the national interest to maintain and 21 disseminate information on domestically produced 22 mineral commodities, regardless of ownership of the 23 resources involved; and

24 (2) it is in the national interest to maintain and 25 disseminate information on international mineral

1 commodities and resources, international mineral in-2 dustry activities, and international mineral com-
3 modity markets.

4 SEC. 3. ESTABLISHMENT OF MINERAL COMMODITY INFOR-
5 MATION ADMINISTRATION.

6 (a) ESTABLISHMENT.—There is established the Min-7 eral Commodity Information Administration, which shall 8 be under the general direction and supervision of the Sec-9 retary of the Interior and shall not be affiliated with or 10 be within any other agency or bureau of the Department
11 of the Interior.

12 (b) ADMINISTRATOR.—The management of the Ad-13 ministration shall be vested in an Administrator, who shall 14 be appointed from by the President, by and with the ad-
15 vice and consent of the Senate, from among individuals 16 who have outstanding qualifications with a broad back-

4 including development and maintenance of—

5 (i) historical and current mineral com-6 modity information, including the degree of 7 import dependence of the United States;

8 (ii) international mineral commodity
9 and resource information;

10 (iii) domestic mineral commodity and 11 resource information by State, county, and 12 region;

13 (iv) material flow and recycling anal-
14 ysis, showing disposition in the United 15 States of mined materials into stocks in 16 use, waste, and residuals; and

17 (v) ongoing analysis of United States
18 mineral commodity exports, and analysis of 19 imports of mineral commodities and proc-
20 essed materials of mineral origin that are 21 destined for consumption in the United 22 States, categorized by the country of ori-23 gin.

24 (B) Mineral industry analysis, including 25 the continuing assessment and analysis of

1 events, trends, and issues affecting the minerals 2 sector of the domestic economy, including explo-
3 ration spending and activity, mineral production
4 trends, mineral stocks and inventories, merger
5 and acquisitions activity, and labor and work-
6 force trends.

9       Secretary of the Interior shall transfer to the Adminis-10      trator all existing written and electronic materials under 11      the control of the Department pertaining to mineral com-
12      modities and mineral resources, including mineral com-
13      modity time series data, library materials, maps, unpub-
14      lished data files, and existing mineral commodity reports
15      prepared or held by the United States Geological Survey
16      and its predecessor agency, the Bureau of Mines.

17   SEC. 4. DUTIES OF THE ADMINISTRATOR.

18       (a) MINERAL COMMODITY DATA AND INFORMATION
19      PROGRAM.—The Administrator carrying out a central, 20      comprehensive, and unified mineral commodity data and 21      information program to collect, evaluate, assemble, ana-22      lyze, and disseminate data and information regarding min-
23      eral resources and reserves, mineral commodity produc-24      tion, consumption, and technology, and related economic 25      and statistical information, that is relevant to the ade-

1 quacy of mineral resources to meet demands in the near 2 term and longer term future for the Nation's economic 3 and social needs.

4 (b) MINERAL COMMODITY DATA TIME SERIES.—

5 (1) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator shall con-
6 tinue to maintain all existing mineral commodity 7 data time series maintained by the Department of 8 the Interior immediately before the enactment of 9 this Act, and shall develop such new mineral com-
10 modity data time series as the Administrator finds 11 useful and proper after consulting with other Fed-12 eral and State agencies and the public.

13 (2) PUBLIC COMMENT.—The Administrator 14 shall—

15 (A) provide for public review and comment
16 regarding all mineral commodity data time se-
17 ries maintained by the Department of the Inte-18 rior immediately before the enactment of this 19 Act, by not later than 15 years after such date 20 of enactment; and

21 (B) seek public comments on a continuing 22 basis on the adequacy and accuracy of any time 23 series added after the date of the enactment of 24 this Act, not later than 5 years after the incep-25 tion of such new series.

1 (c) PROJECTIONS OF USAGE PATTERNS.—

2 (1) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator shall—

3 (A) not later than 3 years after the date
4 of the enactment of this Act, prepare and make 5 available to the public an analysis of projected 6 mineral commodity usage patterns by the 7 United States at 10, 25, and 50 year intervals 8 following such date of enactment; and

9 (B) update such analysis and make it pub-
10 licly available every 5 years thereafter.

11 (2) CONSIDERATIONS.—In preparing such anal-
12 yses, the Administrator shall take into consider-13 ation—

14 (A) market trends;

15 (B) geopolitical considerations; and

16 (C) the reasonably foreseeable advances in 17 basic industries, high technology, material
18 sciences, and energy usage.

19 (d) ANNUAL REPORT.—The Administrator shall an-20 nually publish and submit to the Congress a report on the 21 state of the domestic mining, minerals, and mineral rec-22 lamation industries, including a statement of the trend in 23 utilization and depletion of the domestic supplies of min-24 eral commodities.

1 (e) MINERAL COMMODITY REPORTS.—The Adminis-
2 trator—

3 (1) shall continue to prepare and distribute all 4 series of mineral commodity reports prepared and 5 published by the Bureau of Mines and the United 6 States Geological Survey as of the date of the enact-7 ment of this Act, including—

8 (A) all volumes of the Minerals Yearbook;

9 (B) Mineral Commodity Summaries;

10 (C) Mineral Industry Surveys;

11 (D) Metal Industry Indicators;

12 (E) Nonmetallic Mineral Product Industry
13 Indexes;

14 (F) material flow studies and recycling re-15 ports; and

16 (G) Historical Statistics for Mineral and 17 Material Commodities;

18 (2) may develop, prepare, and publish addi-19 tional reports related to mineral commodities as the 20 Administrator considers appropriate.

21 (f) ANALYSIS WITH RESPECT SUSTAINING ENERGY
22 USAGE.—

23 (1) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator of the 24 Mineral Commodity Information Administration 25 shall, in 2007 and each year thereafter, following the

1 issuance of the Annual Energy Outlook analysis pre-
2 pared by the Administrator of the Energy Informa-
3 tion Administration, prepare and publish an analysis
4 of the foreign and domestic mineral commodities
5 that will be required by the United States to sustain 6 the energy supply, demand, and prices projected by 7 such Annual Energy Outlook analysis.

8 (2) JOINT AGREEMENT.—The Administrator of 9 the Energy Information Agency and the Adminis-
10 trator of the Mineral Commodity Information Ad-11 ministration may, at their sole discretion, enter into 12 a joint agreement for preparation of a unified anal-13 ysis to meet the requirements of this paragraph.

14 (g) OTHER APPROVAL NOT REQUIRED.—The Ad-
15 ministrator—

16 (1) shall not be required to obtain the approval
17 of any other officer or employee of the United States 18 in connection with the collection or analysis of any 19 information; and

20 (2) shall not be required, prior to publication, 21 to obtain the approval of any other officer or em-
22 ployee of the United States with respect to the sub-23 stance of any analytical studies, statistical, or fore-24 casting technical reports that the Administrator has 25 prepared in accordance with law.

1 SEC. 5. EXCEPTIONS TO INFORMATION AVAILABILITY.

2 (a) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding section 552 of 3 title 5, United States Code, and except as provided in sub-
4 section (b), data and information provided to the Adminis-
5 trator by persons or firms engaged in any phase of mineral 6 or mineral-material production or large-scale consumption
7 shall not be disclosed outside of the Administration in a 8 nonaggregated form in such a manner as may disclose 9 data and information supplied by an individual or other 10 person, unless such person authorizes such disclosure after 11 the person is provided notice and an opportunity to object.

12 (b) DISCLOSURE TO FEDERAL DEFENSE OR HOME-
13 LAND SECURITY AGENCIES.—The Administrator may dis-
14 close nonaggregated data and information to any agency
15 of the Department of Homeland Security or the Depart-16 ment of Defense, upon written request by the head of the 17 agency for appropriate purposes.

18 SEC. 6. ADVISORY COMMITTEE.

19 (a) ESTABLISHMENT.—Not later than 90 days after 20 [the date of enactment of this Act], the Administrator 21 shall establish an advisory committee to be known as the 22 Mineral Commodity Advisory Committee.

23 (b) FUNCTIONS.—The Advisory Committee—

24 (1) shall respond to all questions referred to it 25 by the Administrator regarding any matter related 26 to the activities authorized by this Act;

1           (2) shall undertake such studies and inquiries
2           as are necessary to provide answers, advice, and rec-
3           ommendations on matters referred to it by the Ad-4           ministrator; and

5           (3) in carrying out such studies, may seek in-6           formation from individuals, business enterprises, col-
7           leges, universities, and any State or Federal agency.

8           (c) PARTICIPATION IN REVIEWS OF MATERIALS.— 9           The Administrator shall invite the Advisory Committee to 10          participate in any public review of materials prepared pur-11          suant to section 4.

12          (d) MEMBERSHIP.—

13           (1) IN GENERAL.—The Advisory Committee—

14           (A) shall consist of 15 individuals ap-15           pointed in accordance with paragraph (2); and

16           (B) shall include—

17           (i) one representative from each of a 18           mineral exploration company, a metallic 19           mineral producer, an industrial mineral 20           producer, and an aggregate producer;

21           (ii) one representative from each of 22           the State geologists, mining labor organi-
23           zations, and the mining finance industry;

24           (iii) two representatives from small 25           businesses;

1 (iv) three representatives from manu-
2 facturing industries; and

3 (v) three purchasing professionals.

4 (2) APPOINTMENT.—The Administrator shall 5 appoint the members of the Advisory Committee 6 from among individuals who—

7 (A) are not officers or employees of the 8 Federal Government; and 9 (B) are United States citizens.

10 (3) TERM.—Each member of the Advisory 11 Committee shall be appointed to serve a term of 4 12 years.

13 (e) ORGANIZATION AND MEETINGS.—The Advisory 14 Committee—

15 (1) shall select a Chairman and Vice-Chairman 16 from among its members;

17 (2) shall organize itself into such subcommit-18 tees as the members determine to be necessary; and 19 (3) shall meet not less than 2 times each year.

20 (f) COMPENSATION AND EXPENSES.—Subject to the 21 availability of appropriations, each member of the Advi-
22 sory Committee—

23 (1) shall be compensated at a rate equal to the 24 daily equivalent of the annual rate of basic pay pre-25 scribed for level IV of the Executive Schedule under

1 section 5315 of title 5, United States Code, for each
2 day (including travel time) during which such mem-3 ber is engaged in the performance of the duties of 4 the Advisory Committee; and

5 (2) shall be allowed travel expenses, including 6 per diem in lieu of subsistence, at rates authorized 7 for employees of agencies under subchapter I of 8 chapter 57 of title 5, United States Code, while 9 away from the member's home or regular place of 10 business in the performance of services for the Com-11 mittee.

12 (g) SUPPORT AND RECORDS MAINTENANCE.—The 13 Administrator—

14 (1) shall provide administrative and technical 15 support for the Advisory Committee; and

16 (2) shall maintain the records of the Advisory 17 Committee.

18 (h) FACA.—The Federal Advisory Committee Act (5 19 U.S.C. App.) shall apply to the Advisory Committee only 20 to the extent that the provisions of such Act do not conflict 21 with the requirements of this section.

22 SEC. 7. DEFINITIONS.

23 In this Act:

1           (1) ADMINISTRATION.—The term “Administra-
2           tion” means the Mineral Commodity Information
3           Administration established by this Act.

4           (2) ADMINISTRATOR.—The term “Adminis-
5           trator” means the Administrator of the Administra-
6           tion.

7           (3) ADVISORY COMMITTEE.—The term “Advi-
8           sory Committee” means the Mineral Commodity Ad-
9           visory Committee established by this Act.

10 SEC. 8. AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.

11           There is authorized to be appropriated to the Admin-12           istrator to carry out this Act $30,000,000 for each of the 13           fiscal years through 2007 through 2017.
