

109TH CONGRESS
2^D SESSION

H. RES. 873

Recognizing the continued importance of the transatlantic partnership between the United States and the European Union by expressing support for the success of the forthcoming US-EU Summit in Vienna, Austria, on June 21, 2006.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

JUNE 16, 2006

Mrs. JO ANN DAVIS of Virginia (for herself, Mr. ENGEL, Mr. SMITH of New Jersey, Mr. GALLEGLY, Mr. LANTOS, Mr. OXLEY, Mr. KIND, Mr. ENGLISH of Pennsylvania, Mr. WEXLER, Mr. HASTINGS of Florida, and Mr. ISSA) submitted the following resolution; which was referred to the Committee on International Relations

RESOLUTION

Recognizing the continued importance of the transatlantic partnership between the United States and the European Union by expressing support for the success of the forthcoming US-EU Summit in Vienna, Austria, on June 21, 2006.

Whereas the United States and the European Union are aware of their shared responsibility, not only to further common interests, but also to address transnational challenges affecting the well-being of all;

Whereas the United States and the European Union continue to work together in partnership, based on a system of cooperation, communication, negotiation, and dialogue to strengthen transatlantic security, for the preservation and promotion of peace and freedom, the development of free and prosperous economies, and the promotion of human rights;

Whereas the climate of transatlantic relations continues to improve as evidenced in the recent handling of both global and bilateral issues by government and legislative leaders on both sides of the Atlantic and this improved climate offers genuine opportunities for the United States and the European Union to work even more closely together on a wide range of policy challenges of common concern in the years to come;

Whereas, as a community of compatible values and converging interests, the transatlantic community can continue to strengthen its political partnership by continuing to work in close cooperation to achieve shared goals, such as combating and preventing terrorism, cooperating in the fight against international crime, addressing proliferation of weapons of mass destruction, reducing global poverty and disease, limiting the results of humanitarian tragedies, and resolving political crises;

Whereas the importance of the transatlantic economic partnership was reiterated at the 2005 US-EU Summit in Washington, D.C., with the agreement to enhance transatlantic economic integration and growth through support for further regulatory cooperation, more open capital markets, increased research and technology development, additional procurement opportunities, and further cooperation on services;

Whereas the conclusion of the multilateral World Trade Organization Doha Development Agenda continues to be a priority for sustainable global growth to which the United States and the European Union should continue to work closely together in full cooperation;

Whereas the agreement at the 2005 US-EU Summit to work together on a comprehensive plan to address energy efficiency and security should be further developed into a sensible transatlantic energy strategy;

Whereas the security strategies of the United States and the European Union should be more closely coordinated and a security relationship between the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the European Union should be further developed;

Whereas, by acting together, the United States Congress and the European Parliament, along with the national legislatures of European countries, continue to help promote stronger political, economic, and defense and security cooperation, and continue to develop solutions to other global challenges; and

Whereas the European Parliament, through its own legislation, has expressed support for transatlantic relations and the US-EU Summit process: Now, therefore, be it:

1 Resolved, That the House of Representatives—

2 (1) reaffirms the importance of the trans-
3 atlantic relationship between the United States and
4 the European Union;

5 (2) recognizes that both the United States and
6 Europe face multiple and common challenges at 7 home and abroad and to deal effectively with many
8 of these challenges the United States and the Euro-

1 pean Union must continue to adapt the transatlantic
2 partnership which has served both so well;

3 (3) acknowledges that the relationship between
4 the United States and the European Union should
5 continue to be strengthened through regular and in-
6 tensive consultations;

7 (4) expresses its support for the success of the 8 forthcoming US-EU Summit on June 21, 2006, in 9 Vienna, Austria, and encourages agreements on 10 issues such as the continued support for global free-
11 dom, democracy, and human rights, a successful
12 conclusion of the World Trade Organization Doha
13 Development Agenda, and a workable transatlantic
14 energy security strategy; and

15 (5) joins with the European Parliament in 16 agreeing to continue to strengthen the transatlantic
17 partnership by enhancing the dialogue and collabora-
18 tion between the United States Congress and the 19 European Parliament through the framework of the 20 Transatlantic Legislators Dialogue and other legisla-
21 tive exchanges.

○