S. RES. 88

Whereas at the end of 2004, Americans carried 657,000,000 bank credit cards, 228,000,000 debit cards, and 550,000,000 retail credit cards;

Whereas based on the number of total United States households, there are now 6.3 bank credit cards, 2.2 debit cards, and 6.4 retail credit cards per household;

Whereas Americans consumer credit debt continues to increase, and has reached a level of in excess of $2,100,000,000,000 as of year end 2004, of which $791,000,000,000 is revolving consumer credit;

Whereas Americans owe $766,200,000,000 on home equity loans and lines of credit, more than twice as much as in 1998;

Whereas Americans converted $41,000,000,000 in real estate equity into spendable cash in the third quarter of 2004 alone;

Whereas the current level of personal savings as a percentage of personal income is at one of the lowest levels in history, 2 percent, a decline from 7.5 percent in the early 1980s;

Whereas through November 2004, 1,869,343 individuals filed for bankruptcy;

Whereas a 2002 Retirement Confidence Survey found that only 32 percent of workers surveyed have calculated how much money they will need to save for retirement;

Whereas a 2004 survey of States by the National Council on Economic Education found that 49 States include economics, and 38 States include personal finance, in their elementary and secondary education standards, up from 48 States and 31 States, respectively, in 2002;

Whereas personal financial management skills and life-long habits develop during childhood;

Whereas personal financial education is essential to ensure that individuals are prepared to manage money, credit, and debt, and become responsible workers, heads of households, investors, entrepreneurs, business leaders, and citizens; and

Whereas Congress found it important enough to ensure coordination of Federal financial literacy efforts and formulate a national strategy that it established the Financial Literacy and Education Commission in 2003 and designated the Office of Financial Education of the Department of the Treasury to provide support for the Commission: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate—

(1) designates April 2005 as "Financial Literacy Month" to raise public awareness about the importance of financial education in the United States and the serious consequences that may be associated with a lack of understanding about personal finances; and

CONGRATULATING THE MONTANA FFA ON ITS 75TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. FRIST. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate now proceed to the consideration of S. Res. 89 which was submitted earlier today.

A resolution (S. Res. 89) congratulating the Montana FFA on its 75th anniversary.

There being no objection, the Senate proceeded to consider the resolution.

Mr. BURNS. Mr. President, this year marks the 75th anniversary of the Montana FFA, an organization near and dear to my heart. As a former blue jacket myself, I know firsthand how much this organization contributes to the development of leadership skills. A number of my staff, including my chief of staff, are former Montana FFA officers. I couldn't be prouder to introduce today, along with my colleague, Senator BAUCUS, a resolution congratulating the Montana FFA on its 75th anniversary.

With over 2,500 current members from 75 chapters, the Montana FFA provides outstanding career and technical education to students across the State. Over 40,000 Montanans have participated in FFA programs.

As this resolution states, the mission of the FFA, a federally chartered national organization, is to make a positive difference in the lives of students by developing their potential for premier leadership, personal growth, and career success through agriculture education. In Montana, that mission is achieved every day. Whether focusing on public speaking skills, or developing business expertise, or learning about horticulture at the new greenhouse at Park High in Livingston, FFA ensures that our students are ready to embrace all the opportunities the future holds for them.

When the national FFA began in 1928, it did so with just 33 members. Today, it has blossomed into a powerful force for career education, with over 475,000 members. Each year, the halls of Congress are filled with the familiar blue-and-gold jackets, as FFA students from across the nation come to share their thoughts and concerns with us.

The contributions of both the Montana FFA and the national FFA are numerous, and I am pleased to have the opportunity to honor this great organization today. I know this program will continue to flourish and offer our youngsters skills in leadership, personal growth, and career options in the agricultural community as it has done every day since its inception back in Kansas City.

Mr. FRIST. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the resolution be agreed to, the preamble be agreed to, and the motion to reconsider be laid upon the table.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The resolution (S. Res. 89) was agreed to.

The preamble was agreed to.

The resolution, with its preamble, reads as follows:

S. RES. 89

Whereas in 2005, the Montana FFA, chartered in 1930, celebrates its 75th anniversary as a premier student development organization where members gain life and leadership skills;

Whereas the Montana FFA Association is the largest career and technical student organization in the State, with over 2,550 members from 75 chapters;

Whereas the mission of the FFA is to make a positive difference in the lives of students by developing their potential for premier leadership, personal growth, and career success through agriculture education;

Whereas FFA is an integral component of agriculture education in the public school system; and

Now, therefore, be it

Whereas the year 2005 marks the 60th anniversary of the end of the Holocaust, which was ruthlessly and tragically carried out by Nazi Germany under the leadership of Adolf Hitler and his collaborators;

Whereas the Holocaust involved the murder of millions of innocent Jewish men, women, and children along with millions of others, and an enormity of suffering inflicted on the many survivors through mistreatment, brutalization, violence, torture, slave labor, involuntary medical experimentation, death marches, and numerous other acts of cruelty that have come to be known as "genocide" and "crimes against humanity"; and

EUROPEAN ARMS EMBARGO ON THE PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF CHINA

Mr. FRIST. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate proceed to the consideration of S. Res. 91 submitted earlier today.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report the resolution by title.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

A resolution (S. Res. 91) urging the European Union to maintain its arms export embargo on the People's Republic of China.

There being no objection, the Senate proceeded to consider the resolution.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. President, I rise today to support an updated version of S. Res. 59, which I submitted on February 17 that calls on the European Union to maintain its arms embargo against the People's Republic of China.

I am pleased that all of the original cosponsors of S. Res. 59 are joining me in submitting this revised legislation.

This resolution states our strong support of the United States arms embargo on China and urges the European Union to strengthen, enforce, and maintain its embargo as well. It encourages the EU to examine its current arms control policies, close any loopholes, and examine their trade with China in light of serious human rights concerns.

The human rights abuses at Tiananmen Square in 1989 led the United States and the EU to impose this embargo. Now is not the time to lift it. If the EU proceeds down this road, there will be negative consequences to our relationship—an outcome their officials claim they do not want. This resolution expresses the Senate's view that maintaining the embargo is in our mutual security interests.

Mr. FRIST. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the resolution be agreed to, the preamble be agreed to, the motions to reconsider be laid upon the table en bloc, and that any statements relating to the resolution be printed in the RECORD.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The resolution (S. Res. 91) was agreed to.

The preamble was agreed to.
