House of Representatives

The House met at 10 a.m. The Chaplain, the Reverend Daniel P. Coughlin, offered the following prayer:

"The Lord your God has chosen you from all the nations on the face of Earth to be a people especially his own. It was because the Lord loves you and because his fidelity to the oath he has sworn to your fathers that He brought you out with a strong hand from the place of slavery and ransomed you."

"Understand, then, that the Lord, your God, is God indeed, the faithful God who keeps his merciful covenant to the thousandth generation toward those who love him and keep his commandments."

"God, as we prepare for the great feasts of Passover and the Sacred Triduum, Lord our God, breathe forth Your Spirit on all the Members of Congress and the people of this great Nation. Make of us Your own. Recreate us in Your image. Convert our hearts that we may long to do Your will and that we may lead others in the world by revealing Your self-giving love in our lives."

"You are faithful, O God, now and forever. Amen."

---

THE JOURNAL

The SPEAKER. The Chair has examined the Journal of the last day’s proceedings and announces to the House his approval thereof. Pursuant to clause 1, rule I, the Journal stands approved.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. PRICE) come forward and lead the House in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Mr. PRICE of Georgia led the Pledge of Allegiance as follows:

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair will entertain 5 one-minute speeches per side.

BILL SAVING TERRI SCHIAVO

(Mr. PITTS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. PITTS. Mr. Speaker, last night when H.R. 1332 was passed by the House this Chamber did a good thing. It offered to the disabled an opportunity to live and it reaffirmed our culture’s desire to value the right to life of each and every member of it regardless of disability.

This bill gives Terri Schiavo a right to appeal the ruling of the Florida State courts in Federal court, and it will allow her to challenge the ruling that she is to starve to death.

The bill applies only to medically incapacitated patients, not to convicted criminals. And it is further evidence that the disabled have a place in our culture, that life has a place in our culture.

I commend the chairman of the committee, the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. SENSENBRENNER) and the gentleman from Florida (Mr. WELDON) for taking the lead and I thank the House leadership for expediting action on it. Now the Senate must do the same. Terri deserves to live.

MORALITY LACKING IN REPUBLICAN BUDGET

(Ms. LEE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. LEE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in opposition to the Republican budget. This budget is fiscally reckless, morally irresponsible and represents a failure of leadership.

The budget slashes funding that provides a vital lifeline to our most vulnerable communities. It cuts funding for support of housing for the disabled by 50 percent. Where is the morality in turning our back on the disabled?

This budget will dramatically cut housing opportunities for people living with AIDS. Where is the morality in forcing people living with AIDS to choose between medication and housing?

At the same time, this budget seeks to extend tax cuts to the wealthiest. Where is the morality in turning people out into the streets in order to pay for these tax cuts?

As a person of deep religious conviction, I know that there is nothing moral about balancing the budget on the backs of those who can least afford it. A moral budget does not seek to punish the least of these.

Mr. Speaker, this is an example, a gross example of the moral irresponsibility of the Republican budget.

U.S. TRADE AMBASSADOR PORTMAN

(Mr. FOLEY asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. FOLEY. Mr. Speaker, for those who are Irish, those that think they are Irish, those that wish they were Irish, happy, happy St. Patrick’s Day.

I would also like to take a moment to congratulate and commend the President of the United States, George Bush, for his appointment of the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. PORTMAN), a member of the Committee on Ways and Means, as the next United States Trade ambassador.

□ This symbol represents the time of day during the House proceedings, e.g., 1407 is 2:07 p.m.

Matter set in this typeface indicates words inserted or appended, rather than spoken, by a Member of the House on the floor.
The gentleman from Ohio (Mr. PORTMAN) is an outstanding, outstanding choice. He is one of the hardest working, most thoughtful members of our panel. He has immersed himself in the details of trade and tax law. He is an extraordinary individual who has served as President in a wonderful way as adviser to the White House and one of the closest confidants he has here on Capitol Hill.

I believe it is an extraordinary opportunity, not only for the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. PORTMAN) and his family but for the United States trade representation around the globe. I urge my colleagues on the other side of the presentation around the globe. I urge my colleagues on the other side of the presentation around the globe. I urge Mr. PORTMAN to show the great credentials he has displayed in our committee as an outstanding choice. He is one of the hardiest, most dedicated trade ambassador for the country.

SOCIAL SECURITY PRIVATIZATION HARMs AMERICANS

(Ms. SOLIS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. SOLIS. Mr. Speaker, today I rise because the constituents in the 32nd Congressional District are very concerned about the privatization of Social Security.

There are nearly 60,000 Social Security beneficiaries in my district who are very concerned about the risky privatization scheme that the President is proposing. However, other young workers also are very concerned about the future of their retirement security.

To date my office has held well over 25 senior center visits, high school visits, parent centers visits, and health care facilities visits, and we have spoken extensively about this proposed privatization plan. We have been asked to fill out surveys on how they feel about Social Security. We have one in English and one in Spanish.

Overwhelmingly, my constituents are telling me that they are not in agreement with the proposed privatization plan. They would like to see a secure and a structured reform that would truly be available to every single individual that needs and requires Social Security assistance. I would like to tell Members that we have received well over 300 responses through e-mail and direct mail from our constituents who are resoundingly saying that the President should rethink his plan.

COMMEMDING HARRY GILMORE

(Mr. RADANOVICH asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to commend Harry Gilmore, the first American Ambassador to Armenia who is the latest U.S. official to publicly acknowledge the Armenian genocide and call for international recognition.

In an interview with Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty, the retired diplomat recently said, ’There is no doubt that the Armenian events were genocide.’

Gilmore’s comments followed those of the current U.S. Ambassador to Armenia, John Evans, who recently evoked the Armenian Genocide during his first official visit to Armenian communities across the country. During a series of public exchanges with Armenians late last month, Evans stated, ’The Armenian genocide was the first genocide of the twentieth century.’

As a proud member of the Congressional Caucus on Armenian Issues and an ardent supporter of Fresno’s Armenian American community, I thank the Ambassadors for their statements and pledge to continue my efforts for a full United States affirmation of the Armenian genocide.

REMOVAL OF NAME OF MEMBER AS COSPONSOR OF H.J. Res. 23

Mr. CLEAVER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to have my name removed as a cosponsor of H.J. Res. 23.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. CARTER). Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Missouri?

There was no objection.

SAVE COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT BLOCK GRANTS

(Mr. CLEAVER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. CLEAVER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to express my opposition to the administration’s budget proposal.

Although the Community Development Block Grant Program is now on its way out if this is approved, I think it is important for the Nation to know that on August 22, 1974, the Community Development Block Grant Act was signed into law by Republican President Gerald Ford, but it is the brain child of President Richard Nixon.

Today, there is a proposal that would allow for a consolidation of 18 other programs in the Department of Commerce, and the new commerce program would then be funded at a level that is 35 percent lower than the combined fiscal year 2005 appropriated level for all 18 programs.

The pro-rata reduction of CDBG alone would be $1.42 billion. That would devastate a program, Mr. Speaker.

When I was mayor of Kansas City, Missouri, we identified 60,000 homes in need of rehabilitation or repair. We were able to complete 12,000. What will happen to the 48,000 others?

CORPORATE TAX RATE

(Mr. PRICE of Georgia asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. PRICE of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, more than 260,000 jobs were created last month making February the 21st straight month in which we have seen steady job gains. Companies are hiring more and more these days. More people are now collecting well-earned paychecks rather than unemployment checks. However, companies here in the U.S. are facing competition from abroad that is eroding our economic prosperity over the long run we must be competitive in the world. To do this we have to address corporate tax rates.

Why do we penalize American companies for keeping their business here in the U.S.? Why are companies leaving America to go overseas? Should we not be trying to attract businesses rather than drive them away?

Mr. Speaker, the U.S. corporate tax rate is a whopping 40 percent. For every $10 a company earns, $4 has to be sent to the IRS. It is no wonder businesses are taking a look at moving out. of the country. Our tax code is literally sucking jobs right out of the economy by depriving our businesses of the money that should be invested in hiring. Only one other country, Japan, taxes its companies more than we, only one other country. Mr. Speaker, clearly that is not the road we want to travel and it is not the way we want to create jobs.

REJECT WOLFOWITZ AS WORLD BANK NOMINEE
(Ms. Mccollum of Minnesota asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. McCollUM of Minnesota. Mr. Speaker, I was disappointed to learn that President Bush has nominated the architect of the ongoing war of Iraq, Mr. Paul Wolfowitz, to head the World Bank.

The nominee’s intimate relationship with the Iraq policy’s gravest failures, phony intelligence, torture, contractor corruption, and incompetent planning, makes his nomination extremely disturbing.

Mr. Wolfowitz may be qualified as an expert in conducting preemptive war, but he is far from qualified to battle global poverty, overcome the AIDS pandemic or to promote gender equity, global poverty, overcome the AIDS pandemic or to promote gender equity, a leader who can rally the world

There was no objection.

GENERAL LEAVE
Mr. NuSSELE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on H. Con. Res. 95.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. CANTRIP). Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Iowa?

There was no objection.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION ON THE BUDGET FOR FISCAL YEAR 2006
The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 154 and rule XVIII, the Chair declares the House in the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union for the further consideration of the concurrent resolution (H. Con. Res. 95) establishing the congressional budget for the United States Government for fiscal year 2006, revising appropriate appropriations and budgetary levels for fiscal year 2005, and setting forth appropriate budgetary levels for fiscal years 2007 through 2010, with Mr. Shaw (Acting Chairman) in the chair.

The Clerk reads the title of the bill.

The Acting CHAIRMAN. When the Committee of the Whole rose on Wednesday, March 16, 2005, a request for a recorded vote on amendment No. 2 printed in House Report 109-19, offered by the gentleman from Texas (Mr. Hensarling), had been postponed. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 1 printed in House Report 109-19.

AMENDMENT NO. 1 OFFERED BY MR. OBEY
Mr. OBEY. Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment.

The Acting CHAIRMAN. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Amendment No. 1 offered by Mr. Obey:

In section 101 (relating to recommended levels and amounts for the budget year): (1) In paragraph (1) (relating to the deficit), the amount of the deficit for fiscal year 2006 shall be reduced by $10,991,000,000.

(2) In paragraph (1) (relating to Federal revenues), the amount of Federal revenues for fiscal year 2006 shall be increased by $18,073,000,000 and the amount by which Federal revenues should be changed shall be increased by $18,073,000,000.

(3) In paragraph (2) (relating to new budget authority), the appropriate level of total new budget authority for fiscal year 2006 shall be increased by $15,800,000,000.

(4) In paragraph (5) (relating to budget outlays), the appropriate level of total budget outlays for fiscal year 2006 shall be reduced by $7,982,000,000.

In section 102, for fiscal year 2006: (1) In paragraph (1) (relating to National Defense (500)), the amount of new budget authority shall be reduced by $1,000,000,000 and the amount of outlays shall be reduced by $678,000,000.

(2) In paragraph (5) (relating to International Affairs (550)), the amount of new budget authority shall be increased by $223,000,000 and the amount of outlays shall be increased by $193,000,000.

(3) In paragraph (3) (relating to General Science, Space and Technology (250)), the amount of new budget authority shall be increased by $300,000,000 and the amount of outlays shall be increased by $150,000,000, to fund basic research and development to allow American workers to compete in the international economy.

(4) In paragraph (5) (relating to Natural Resources and Environment (300)), the amount of new budget authority shall be increased by $340,000,000 and the amount of outlays shall be increased by $183,000,000, to provide clean water and open spaces for future generations.

(5) In paragraph (6) (relating to Agriculture (350)), the amount of new budget authority shall be increased by $450,000,000 and the amount of outlays shall be increased by $291,000,000, to improve economic opportunities, infrastructure, and the quality of life for rural America.

(6) In paragraph (8) (relating to Transportation (400)), the amount of new budget authority shall be increased by $600,000,000 and the amount of outlays shall be increased by $460,000,000, to improve infrastructure development.

(7) In paragraph (10) (relating to Education, Training, Employment, and Social Services (500)), the amount of new budget authority shall be increased by $4,060,000,000 and the amount of outlays shall be increased by $2,977,000,000, to create opportunities for our children and young adults, and to address the needs of low-income communities and assist the long-term unemployed.

(8) In paragraph (11) (relating to Health (550)), the amount of new budget authority shall be increased by $1,950,000,000 and the amount of outlays shall be increased by $723,000,000, to provide health care for children and others in need, control infectious diseases, foster medical research, and alleviate shortages of nurses and other health professionals.

(9) In paragraph (13) (relating to Income Security (600)), the amounts of new budget authority shall be increased by $1,991,000,000 and the amount of outlays shall be increased by $695,000,000, to help provide housing and energy assistance to the poor and alleviate the impact of refugees on State and local communities.

(10) In paragraph (15) (relating to Veterans Benefits and Services (700)), the amounts of new budget authority shall be increased by $2,905,000,000 and the amount of outlays shall be increased by $2,447,000,000, to maintain quality health care for veterans.

(11) In paragraph (17) (relating to General Government (800)), the amounts of new budget authority shall be increased by $56,000,000 and the amount of outlays shall be increased by $44,000,000, which shall include the following changes:

(A) Increase new budget authority by $256,000,000 and outlays by $155,000,000, to ensure corporate responsibility.

(B) Reduce new budget authority by $256,000,000 and outlays by $199,000,000.

(12) To improve our hometown response capabilities, strengthen our borders and ports, and meet our security mandates, amounts of new budget authority and outlays for fiscal year 2006 shall be further modified as follows:

(A) In paragraph (4) (relating to Comprehensive Community and Regional Development (450)), increase new budget authority by $660,000,000 and outlays by $121,000,000.

(B) In paragraph (16) (relating to Administration of Justice (750)), increase new budget authority by $935,000,000 and outlays by $769,000,000.

(C) In paragraph (11) (relating to Health (550)), increase new budget authority by $150,000,000 and outlays by $56,000,000.

In section 201(b) (relating to reconciliation in the House of Representatives), insert “(1)’’ after “(b)’’ and add at the end the following new paragraph:

(2) REDUCTION IN TAX CUTS FOR TAXPAYERS WITH INCOMES ABOVE $1,000,000.—The Committee on Ways and Means shall also include in the reconciliation report pursuant to paragraph (1) changes in tax laws sufficient to increase revenues by $25,818,000,000, to be achieved by reducing or offsetting the tax reductions received during 2006 by taxpayers with adjusted gross income above $1,000,000 for taxpayers filing joint returns and comparable amounts for taxpayers with Adjusted Gross Income that exceeded $1,000,000 in each of the years 2005 and 2006.
The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. OBEY).

Mr. OBEY. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself 10 minutes.

Mr. Chairman, this amendment will enable the House to choose between the social Darwinian cuts in the President's budget and a different budget which more accurately reflects the message of the social gospel.

If we take a look at what the President has done, he inherited a $240 billion surplus when he came into office, and yet the budget he presents to the Congress today contains a $290 billion deficit. That deficit does not include the $80 billion that we spent yesterday on the war on Iraq. It does not include the $2 trillion it is estimated will be the cost of borrowing to pay for the personal or private accounts that the President wants to use to blow up Social Security. It does not include dollar one of the $1.2 trillion it is estimated that it will cost to make the President's cuts in the domestic discretionary portion of the budget. In plain terms, that is the appropriated part of the budget that goes for programs like education, health care, science, veterans benefits, things like that.

The President's cuts in the domestic arena do not lay a glove on the deficit because the deficit is so large; but I would point out, for instance, that those cuts average only about 5 percent of the over-$50 billion in costs, for the cost of the supersize tax cuts that the President has given to the top 1 percent of earners in this country, those cuts are large enough. Mr. Chairman, to do great damage over time in the investments that we need to make in education, health care, science, veterans, community infrastructure and the like.

In real terms, those cuts amount, after you adjust for inflation, to about $16 billion; and if you further adjust them for population growth, that is a real reduction in services of about $19 billion for those programs.

So this amendment does basically three things. It cuts $5 million from some of the President's proposed initiatives, and it combines those cuts with savings on the tax front. What we do on the tax front is to just simply recognize the essential injustice of the fact that right now folks who make more than $1 million in this country this year will on average get a $140,000 tax cut. This amendment would limit that $140,000 tax cut to about $72,000 and save enough money to devote $10 billion to deficit reduction and to use the other $16 billion for the initiatives that we have outlined in the amendment in the area of education, health, science, veterans, homeland security, environment, law enforcement, and community development.

Now, within that framework, we are able to add $2.4 billion to programs that the President wants to use to finance the pressures for abortions. Among the critical investments made by this amendment that would make it economically easier for low-income and vulnerable women who choose to carry preg- nancy to carry through additional funding for maternal and infant health care, for child care and Head Start and after-school programs, for low-income housing assistance, for the community service block grant, to provide people with the opportunity to get help in the education and training areas, and also to provide additional medical services such as dental care. We also provide additional funding for child abuse and domestic violence prevention programs.

Now, I would simply say that if our concern for life does not stop at the checkbook's edge, then these are initiatives which ought to be supported by everybody in this Chamber.

The reason I offer this amendment is because over the last 30 years something really bad has happened in this country. Thirty years ago, we had the smallest gap between rich and poor of any industrialized country in the world. Today, it is the rest goes between the rich and the poor of any industrialized country.

The wealthiest 1 percent of people in this country control 33 percent of the Nation's wealth. The poorest 40 percent are struggling to hang on to less than 3 percent of the Nation's wealth, and the President's budget makes it worse.

That is why I say that this amendment helps us choose between the social Darwinism of the President's package and a budget that more accurately reflect the social gospel.

Now, the opposition will say, "Oh, we do not need these additional education dollars because we have had such a large increase in education the past 2 years!" Let me point out the Republican majority has been dragged kicking and screaming into supporting those education increases.

If Congress had approved House Republican Labor-H bills for education that was cut down, we would be spending $19 billion less on education than we are spending today. On title I, if House Republican bills had passed, we would have spent $2.8 billion less for title I grants to school districts than we are spending today. After-school center funding if the administration's budget request had been passed throughout the years, we would be providing $1 million less to local school districts for help in that program, and the list goes on and on.

So I would ask, Mr. Chairman, do we really want to pay for $140,000 tax cuts for the most well-off people in this society by providing real cuts in the number of grants that the National Institutes of Health will be able to finance research grants into cancer, diabetes, Parkinson's and the like? Do we really want to pay for $120,000 in tax cuts for the most well-off in this society by continuing to mount barriers that prevent people from getting a college education for their kids?

The College Board last year indicated that the average cost of attendance at a 4-year public university has increased by $2,300 over the past 4 years, biggest 4-year increase in history. The President's answer to that is to toss an extra hundred dollars on the table in the form of Pell grants, and then he pays for it by wiping out Perkins loans and a number of other education initiatives for those same people.

I really think that the issue is very simple. All this amendment does is to prevent real reductions in the kinds of programs that I have just talked about. What it does is to restore our ability to actually keep up with inflation on those programs by saying to the most well-off people in this country. "Sorry, folks, you are going to have to get along with a tax cut of only $27,000."

Most of them I think would agree that their far more economically wise set of decisions to make than the budget resolution we have before us.

This applies only for 1 year. We do not get into any games about 5-year or 10-year budgeting. This is purely for the next year. This is the priority statement which people will be able to make on appropriated portions of the budget for the coming year; and if they think these priorities are better, I hope they vote for the amendment. If they think they are not, then they have a perfect right to vote against it.

I would urge an "aye" vote.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.
spending by $8 billion. It increases veterans spending and health care spending as well, but I would add that in a time when we are engaged in an unprecedented war on terror and waging a separate effort against growing budget deficits, that the level of growth laid out by the House Committee on Appropriations’ budget’s spending plan meets our national priorities, continues our commitment to veterans and education.

The Department of Education under the House budgets for the last 10 years, the Department of Education’s spending has gone up 146 percent over the last decade. It is hard to argue that is an inadequate rate of growth. Veterans spending continues to grow. Investments in IDEA, the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act have gone up dramatically higher than in the previous 10 years under a different management of this program.

This budget resolution that comes out of the House committee sets these priorities moving our Nation forward and protecting our homeland, investing in homeland security, investing in national security in our personnel who are in harm’s way, and it maintains those policies of pro-growth that allows our economy to expand, that allows small businesses, medium businesses, and even large businesses to operate where they want to grow and hire employees and continue to open up new markets around the world, giving Americans new opportunities to move products and giving Americans the opportunity to achieve the American dream.

Congress has addressed extraordinary spending demands in the last several years. They bring us face to face with the reality that it is an unsustainable rate of spending growth, one that must be slowed. Last year’s projected deficit was $521 billion, but we ended the year with a deficit of $412 billion, reducing that deficit by 20 percent. Although that number is staggeringly high, admittedly, this House-passed budget, the committee-passed budget, puts us on track to cut that deficit in half in 5 years. In doing so it makes some tough decisions, which is what we are paid to do around here.

It requires us to prioritize and make tradeoffs while ensuring that those highest of priorities are fully funded and met, and in the House budget we identify that highest priority as being national security and homeland security. This amendment, the amendment we are debating today, cuts defense spending and we find that to be unacceptable in today’s climate.

The budget slows the growth of mandatory spending by 0.1 percent over 5 years, from its current rate of 6.4 percent to 6.3 percent. I think that is an important step. While we spend an awful lot of time in this Chamber talking about cuts, what we are doing is slowing the rate of growth. If someone were to offer workers a 6.3 percent pay raise, it would be a pretty good deal.

The fact that these programs continue to grow at 6.3 rather than 6.4 percent is not throwing starving children into the streets. It is not taking food out of seniors’ mouths. It is not wrecking our ability to be a compassionate and decent country. Recognizing the simple fact that we cannot maintain the dramatic rates of growth we have been engaged in for the past decade and solve the deficit problem.

This budget continues to make homeland and national security major priorities. Since September 11, Congress has spent nearly $1.9 trillion to provide for defense and homeland security, not including supplements. Like last year’s budget, this plan takes into account funding for the ongoing war in Iraq. The resolution budgets $50 billion to provide for the ongoing war against terrorism. The national defense budget continues the multiyear plan to enable our Armed Services both to fight the war against terrorism now and to transform itself to counter unconventional threats in the future. It fully accommodates the President’s request for defense.

Mr. Chairman, the last time we made any real effort at cutting spending, that piece of spending in our budget that makes up 55 percent of the budget, was in 1997. That 55 percent is what we call mandatory spending. I know that the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. OBEY) is very familiar with this. As an appropriator, he has seen his share of the budget in discretionary shrink over time, and it will continue to without us making important reforms on the mandatory side of the ledger.

This budget, again for the first time since 1997, instructs the authorizing committees, those committees with the greatest expertise in their areas of jurisdiction, through the reconciliation process to find $7.6 billion in savings in mandatory programs in savings over the next 5 years. What that means is we are putting the people who understand these policy areas best, we are putting them on the trail to find out the ways to help make those programs be the most effective and the most efficient. They know best the successes and failures in the myriad of government programs that are now on autopilot through the mandatory spending process.

It is estimated that if mandatory spending grows at its current pace, by 2015 it will consume 62 percent of the Federal government. I think it is an important piece of our budget that we begin the process of mandatory spending reform. That reform happens through the reconciliation process.

A number of the President’s key initiatives supported in this budget include $40 billion for homeland security outside the Department of Defense; an additional $2.5 billion for Project BioShield to secure vaccines against smallpox, anthrax and other deadly bioterrorist threats. These funds follow on the heels of massive increases over the past several years to make sure our Nation is prepared to deal with the terrorist threats we know are out there.

I support our budget. It is an important, thoughtful, prioritized budget that makes some tough decisions. I appreciate the gentlelman’s right offer an alternative vision. That is what this is. This is a clash of visions, a clash of priorities that our Nation faces. Do we grow our way out of the deficit by fostering a climate that encourages people to find work and start businesses as we are doing in existing businesses, or do we take the approach that we should tax our way out of the deficits? Do we fund our priorities? And what are our highest priorities? Our approach is our highest priority in a time of war is national defense, and our high priority in a time of increased threats from terrorism is homeland security.

We believe that it is important to follow the lead of other Presidents, other administrations, other Congresses that have found themselves budgeting in a time of war to make necessary tradeoffs. The New Deal agencies when World War II came about did not continue to receive the same level of funding. In fact, it was President Roosevelt himself who curtailed and even eliminated a number of the agencies he created.

We recognize in our budget that we cannot continue to spend on the domestic side as aggressively as we had the time of peace when we are at war, and to that end we call for a 0.8 percent reduction in nonsecurity domestic discretionary spending. While it is an important first step and it has not been done since the Reagan administration, it will hardly cause starvation and pandemonium in the streets at a 0.8 percent reduction. Nor will the directed reconciliation process to the authorizing committees do the same.

We make some tough choices. We agree that. We lay off people and we proudly defend them. And those priorities include investing in defense, caring for those most in need and creating an economic climate that allows people to succeed without raising the burden of taxation on them.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. OBEY. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself 3 minutes.

Mr. Chairman, I appreciate the remarks of the gentleman from Florida (Mr. PUTNAM), but I think he must have been talking about a different amendment. The gentleman refers to significant cuts in national defense. There is only one cut in any program that can be considered at all related to national defense in this amendment, and that is a $1 billion reduction in the Star Wars account because they have had so many technical problems with that program that they cannot in the coming fiscal year spend at all the money they have allocated to it. So the practical impact on the program will be zero. That is the only reduction in defense.
I would point out that this comes on top of a $16 billion increase in the defense budget which is before us right now, and it comes on top of the $80 billion that we added yesterday for Iraq that was not counted in the President’s budget. That the Press suggests it is a red herring to claim this has an incalculable negative effect on defense. In fact, I will bet Members that considerably more than a billion dollars remains unspent from that Star Wars account at the end of the fiscal year because of technical problems that the Pentagon itself has admitted are there.

With respect to tax increases, I know the majority party likes to pretend that Democrats are talking about tax increases for the middle class. The facts are quite to the contrary. The only people who will lose anything by way of tax cuts in this amendment are people who make more than a million dollars a year. Under existing law if we leave things as they are right now, if you make $100,000, you are already about $8 tax cut under the President’s package. If you make less than $20,000, you will get back the princely sum of $326. If you make $500,000 to $1 million, you will get on average a $37,000 tax cut. And if you make $1 million and have gross income or more, on average you will get a tax cut of $140,000.

I do not know many people in that bracket who would not feel that investing in children, investing in homeland security, investing in veterans’ benefits is preferable to giving those folks a super-size tax cut. We are not saying they cannot have a tax cut, we are simply limiting the size of their tax cut to $27,000 so we can meet these other investment needs. I think the vast majority of citizens in this country would think that is a better balance and a better set of priorities.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. PUTNAM. Mr. Chairman, I yield 5 minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. DANIEL E. LUNGREN). Mr. DANIEL E. LUNGREN of California. Mr. Chairman, it is a pleasure to be here on the floor once again, this time as a member of the Committee on the Budget. After being absent from this floor for 16 years, some things are comforting, such as the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. OBEY) still maintaining his skepticism about the anti-poverty programs. I appreciate that. I appreciate that in terms of his concern about us spending too much money this year in that regard.

With respect to the comments made by some on the other side of the aisle that somehow the Republican budget is immoral, and I heard that during the one-minute speeches, and somehow it does not follow a standard of social justice or the social gospel, I tried to look at the numbers to see what is a reality with respect to how it is the case. If one looks at any graph that looks at the mandatory spending, we see the difference between the baseline and what we have placed in this budget is almost indistinguishable.

So then I looked at some of the other areas that the gentleman has spoken to, and one is the National Institutes of Health. I thought since I have been gone and since the Republicans have been in control of the House; and I found out that there was a 40 percent increase during the previous 10 years.

I would not on this floor suggest that the Democrats were immoral in their approach to the veterans in their previous 10 years even though their increase for veterans was substantially lower than Republicans. It is not a question of morality, it is not a question of social justice, it is not a question of social gospel, the words that I heard expressed just a moment ago; but, rather, it is a question as to where we are now. After we have had significant increases in the particular areas during the time that Republicans have been in control, is it a time for us to slow down that increased rate of growth during a time in which we finally are confronting the fiscal responsibility that is visited upon this House as our obligation and our authority?

During the time I was gone, I was able to observe this House from a distance, and I realized there is a real disconnection about the budget, about the fiscal responsibility that is visited upon this House as our obligation and our authority.

With respect to NIH, let me simply say, we can talk about how much it has been increased the last few years. I think it is no surprise that the Republicans would want to have 500 fewer research grants out in the field attacking cancer, attacking Parkinson’s, attacking diabetes, then by all means vote against our amendment. If you think we ought to correct that, you ought to vote for it. If you think we are spending enough on veterans, then by all means vote against this amendment. If you think we are not, then I would suggest you vote for our amendment which adds $3 billion to the veterans health care budget.

We have a huge hole in the services that we provide veterans. All you have to do to realize that is to talk to some of those soldiers who have come back missing arms, missing legs, missing eyes. If you are comfortable with the amount that we are providing for the VA now, by all means vote against my amendment. But if you are not comfortable with the fact that the President’s budget will make it harder for low-income seniors to keep their houses heated during wintertime, then by all means vote against the amendment.

But do not do what 40 Members of the majority party did last year. After they voted for a budget which required a squeeze on all kinds of domestic programs, then they wrote our committee a letter asking us to increase funding for LIHEAP, increase funding for education, something which we could not do under the budget which the majority imposed on us.

As the gentleman said, this is a question of priorities, and I make no apology for mine.

Mr. PUTNAM. Mr. Chairman, I appreciate the distinguished ranking member’s suggestion that if we disagree we should vote against it, and I assure him that we shall.

Mr. Chairman, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. NUSSLE), chairman of the Budget Committee.

Mr. NUSSLE. Mr. Chairman, I was listened the hard in the very disinguished gentleman from Wisconsin suggest that his cuts to defense were slowing down the rate of growth for defense. It is kind of an interesting argument. I hope that the Members on his side listened to that argument because we are doing the same thing. We are slowing down the rate of growth. All of the mandatory programs will receive increases. All of those automatic spending programs will receive increases. All we are asking for is reform in slowing the rate of growth. I have enormous respect for the gentleman when it comes to his advocacy for finding savings in defense. We should look for savings in defense. We should look for savings in defense. We should look for reforms. I do not think we should do that necessarily today during a war; but when you argue to slow the rate of growth, I think it is a valuable argument. I hope that we hear that more often now. When we hear about these drastic, dramatic cuts to the mandatory programs in the future, I hope then to the very distinguished gentleman from Wisconsin.

Mr. OBEY. Mr. Chairman, I yield 30 seconds to the gentlewoman from Wisconsin (Ms. MOORE).

Ms. MOORE of Wisconsin. Mr. Chairman, I could not resist speaking this morning on this amendment that promotes, in my opinion, family values. The budget instructions call for $4.3 billion in cuts in education. How does that reflect family values? It calls for a $89 billion reduction in health care programs like Medicaid and food stamps. I as a parent and as a Member of this body would hope that the majority would see the wisdom in adopting the Obey amendment.

Mr. PUTNAM. Mr. Chairman, I am pleased to yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. CONAWAY), the newest member of the Budget Committee.

Mr. CONAWAY. I thank the gentleman for yielding time.

Mr. Chairman, he did mention I am the newest member, but I am also the only CPA on the committee. I brought that burden to the activity of the budget committee. It seems that every business that I have ever consulted with, every client that I have ever had, every family that I am aware of has to live within their means. All of us can at one point or another spend more money than we are bringing in, whether it is family or a business; but you cannot do it very long.

The only organization that can do it over an extended amount of time is this body, the Government here in Washington, DC. Just because it can should not mean that it should. And we should not be doing that. We are leaving debt to our children that they will have to pay off or that they will have to look at their children in the eye that will have to pay it back to you. Our grandparents passed it on to us, and we’re going to keep passing this thing on.

The issue of living within our means is very, very tough choices, and you do have to set some priorities. The Budget Committee hearing on members’ day, we sat there all day long and listened to a long litany of amendments just like this one, couched in the phrases that we have already heard, that these are not family values when you, quote-unquote, cut spending; these are not love for the military when you cut spending for veterans and veterans affairs. You can make these arguments that if you vote for that amendment to the bill, you are a horrible person; but the truth of the matter is all across this Nation, all of us have to make tough decisions on where we spend our money.

I stand in opposition to this amendment. The budget that is going to be proposed later on today does in fact make some of those tough choices, begins to start that process of trying to force this government to live within its means. Tax revenue is up because the economy that we live in is improving. That is the way that we ought to do it. But we have to hold down spending. Reducing the rate of growth overall in mandatory spending by one-tenth percent from 6.4 percent growth to 6.3 percent growth, I am hard pressed as an accountant and a CPA to understand why that is a cut. It is just a slowdown in the growth of increases.

The other side presents every one of these very good programs as if they are the wave of the future. What we have is that they are totally efficient, that they are not spending money where they should not. I do not think that is the case. I stand in opposition to this gentleman’s amendment.
He points out the eight-tenths of 1 percent reduction in nonsecurity discretionary spending. Does the gentleman believe that in amongst the stacks of GAO reports that come across his desk as the ranking member of the Committee on Appropriations, our Committee on the Budget, that there is not eight-tenths of 1 percent? Eight-tenths of 1 percent in one’s personal budget they lose on diet Cokes on the way to work every morning. Eight-tenths of 1 percent cannot even negotiate a better deal on computer equipment, office supplies, travel, increased financial accounting?

Spendling for education, one that you pointed out specifically, has gone up 146 percent over the last 10 years, and now we are talking about shaving eight-tenths of 1 percent off. Pell grants, the President calls for them to go up. Our budget would allow for that.

For fees for veterans are not even budgeted for this. While the gentleman pointed out the President’s budget, the President’s budget is not up for debate today, and this budget that the House will vote on later does not call for fees on our veterans.

I urge a "no" vote on the Obey amendment and support for the underlying budget House.

Mr. OBEY. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself the balance of my time. I would simply say the gentleman asked whether I thought that we could possibly find places in the budget that are wasteful that we could eliminate in order to meet the limits of the budget resolution. I would ask him how did he vote yesterday on our motion to create a Truman-like committee to investigate the fraud that is going on in the part of a number of military contractors in Iraq? We hear daily stories about how taxpayers are being ripped off. The gentleman is concerned about taxpayers’ money being wasted, why did he not vote for that amendment yesterday instead of voting against it like every other good soldier did over there yesterday? They all voted against it.

So, Mr. Chairman, what we have before us is very simple. We have a choice of sticking with the Committee on the Budget’s budget, which will leave in place tax cuts of $140,000 on average for people to take over one million bucks or whether they think in the interest of social justice and compassion, we ought to scale back those tax cuts so they have to skimp by on only $27,000. The poor devils, they are going to have to get food stamps to get along. I guess, if they are only getting a $27,000 tax cut.

The question is, are we going to scale back those super-sized tax cuts so we can meet our obligations in the area of education, veterans health care, homeland security, and the other items I have just named? I think economically and morally it is not even a close choice.
Mr. FOLEY. Mr. Chairman, on rolcall No. 82 I was unavoidably detained at a meeting at the White House. Had I been present, I would have voted "no."

AMENDMENT NO. 2 IN THE NATURE OF A SUBSTITUTE OFFERED BY MR. HENSARLING

The Acting CHAIRMAN (Mr. GILLMOR). The gentleman from Texas (Mr. HENSARLING) on which further proceedings were postponed and on which the noes prevailed by voice vote.

The Clerk will redesignate the amendment in the nature of a substitute.

The text of the amendment in the nature of a substitute is as follows:

Amendment No. 2 in the nature of a substitute offered by Mr. HENSARLING:

Strike all after the resolving clause and insert the following:

SECTION 1. CONCURRENT RESOLUTION ON THE BUDGET FOR FISCAL YEAR 2006.

(a) DECLARATION.—The Congress declares that the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2006 is hereby established and that the appropriations for fiscal years 2005 and 2007 through 2010 are hereby set forth.

(b) Table of Contents.—The table of contents for this concurrent resolution is as follows:

TITLES

TITLE I—RECOMMENDED LEVELS AND AMOUNTS

Sec. 101. Recommended levels and amounts.

Sec. 102. Major functional categories.

TITLES

TITLE II—RECONCILIATION AND REPORT SUBMISSIONS

Sec. 201. Reconciliation in the House of Rep-

Sec. 202. Submission of report on savings to be used for members of the Armed Forces in Iraq and Af-

TITLE III—RESERVE FUNDS AND CONTINGENCY PROCEDURE

Sec. 301 Rainy Day Fund for nonmilitary emergencies.

Sec. 302 Contingency procedure for surface transportation.

TITLES

TITLE IV—BUDGET ENFORCEMENT

Sec. 401. Point of Order Protection.

Sec. 402. Restrictions on administrative appropriations.

Sec. 403. Automatic votes on expensive legislation.

Sec. 404. Turn off the Gephardt Rule.

Sec. 405. Restriction on the use of emergency spending.

Sec. 408. Changes in allocations and aggregates resulting from realistic scoring of measures affecting revenues.

Sec. 409. Prohibition in using revenue increases to comply with budget allocation and aggregates.

Sec. 410. Application and effect of changes in allocations and aggregates.

Sec. 411. Entitlement safeguard.

Sec. 412. Budget Protection Mandatory Account.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2007:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2008:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2009:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2010:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

(5) Energy (270):

Fiscal year 2005:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2006:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2007:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2008:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2009:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2010:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

(6) Natural Resources and Environment (300):

Fiscal year 2005:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2006:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2007:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2008:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2009:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2010:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

(7) Agriculture (350):

Fiscal year 2005:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2006:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2007:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2008:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2009:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2010:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

(8) Transportation (400):

Fiscal year 2005:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2006:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2007:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2008:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2009:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2010:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

(9) Health (550):

Fiscal year 2005:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2006:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2007:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2008:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2009:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2010:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

(10) Community and Regional Development (450):

Fiscal year 2005:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2006:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2007:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2008:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2009:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2010:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

(11) Education, Training, Employment, and Social Services (500):

Fiscal year 2005:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2006:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2007:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2008:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2009:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2010:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2009:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2010:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

(13) Medicare (570):
(P) Fiscal year 2005:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2006:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2007:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2008:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2009:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

(F) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2006:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(P) Fiscal year 2007:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2008:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2009:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2010:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

(14) Income Security (600):
(Fiscal year 2005:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2006:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2007:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2008:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2009:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2010:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

(F) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

(15) Social Security (650):
(P) Fiscal year 2005:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2006:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2007:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2008:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2009:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

(F) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

(16) Veterans Benefits and Services (700):
(Fiscal year 2005:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2006:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2007:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2008:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2009:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2010:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

(17) Administration of Justice (750):
(Fiscal year 2005:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2006:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2007:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2008:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2009:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2010:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

(18) General Government (800):
(Fiscal year 2005:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.

Fiscal year 2006:
(A) New budget authority, an amount to be derived from function 920.
(B) Outlays, an amount to be derived from function 920.
paragraph (2) shall submit their recommendations to the House Committee on the Budget. After receiving those recommendations, the House Committee on the Budget in the House of Representatives shall prepare a reconciliation bill carrying out all such recommendations without any substantive revision.

(2) INSTRUCTIONS.—

(A) COMMITTEE ON AGRICULTURE.—The House Committee on Agriculture shall report changes in laws within its jurisdiction sufficient to reduce the level of direct spending for that committee by $803,000,000 in outlays for fiscal year 2006 and $31,000,000,000 in outlays for the period of fiscal years 2006 through 2010.

(B) COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION AND THE WORKFORCE.—The House Committee on Education and the Workforce shall report changes in laws within its jurisdiction sufficient to reduce the level of direct spending for that committee by $2,126,000,000 in outlays for fiscal year 2006 and $21,803,000,000 in outlays for the period of fiscal years 2006 through 2010.

(C) COMMITTEE ON ENERGY AND COMMERCE.—The House Committee on Energy and Commerce shall report changes in laws within its jurisdiction sufficient to reduce the level of direct spending for that committee by $1,419,000,000 in outlays for fiscal year 2006 and $9,725,000,000 in outlays for the period of fiscal years 2006 through 2010.

(D) COMMITTEE ON FINANCIAL SERVICES.—The House Committee on Financial Services shall report changes in laws within its jurisdiction sufficient to reduce the level of direct spending for that committee by $328,000,000 in new budget authority for fiscal year 2006 and $270,000,000 in new budget authority for the period of fiscal years 2006 through 2010.

(E) COMMITTEE ON GOVERNMENT REFORM.—The House Committee on Government Reform shall report changes in laws within its jurisdiction sufficient to reduce the level of direct spending for that committee by $265,000,000 in outlays for fiscal year 2006 and $164,000,000 in outlays for the period of fiscal years 2006 through 2010.

(F) COMMITTEE ON HOUSING ADMINISTRATION.—The House Committee on Housing Administration shall report changes in laws within its jurisdiction sufficient to reduce the level of direct spending for that committee by $537,000,000 in outlays for fiscal year 2006 and $2,673,000,000 in outlays for the period of fiscal years 2006 through 2010.

(G) COMMITTEE ON INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS.—The House Committee on International Relations shall report changes in laws within its jurisdiction sufficient to reduce the level of direct spending for that committee by $45,000,000 in outlays for fiscal year 2006 and $304,000,000 in outlays for the period of fiscal years 2006 through 2010.

(H) COMMITTEE ON THE JUDICIARY.—The House Committee on the Judiciary shall report changes in laws within its jurisdiction sufficient to reduce the level of direct spending for that committee by $114,000,000 in outlays for fiscal year 2006 and $568,000,000 in outlays for the period of fiscal years 2006 through 2010.

(I) COMMITTEE ON RESOURCES.—The House Committee on Resources shall report changes in laws within its jurisdiction sufficient to reduce the level of direct spending for that committee by $353,000,000 in outlays for fiscal year 2006 and $8,846,000,000 in outlays for the period of fiscal years 2006 through 2010.

(J) COMMITTEE ON SCIENCE.—The House Committee on Science shall report changes in laws within its jurisdiction sufficient to reduce the level of direct spending for that committee by $7,153,000,000 in outlays for fiscal year 2006 and $367,000,000 in outlays for the period of fiscal years 2006 through 2010.

(K) COMMITTEE ON TRANSPORTATION AND INFRASTRUCTURE.—The House Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure shall report changes in laws within its jurisdiction sufficient to reduce the level of direct spending for that committee by $65,000,000 in outlays for fiscal year 2006 and $2,008,000,000 in outlays for the period of fiscal years 2006 through 2010.

(L) COMMITTEE ON VETERANS’ AFFAIRS.—The House Committee on Veterans’ Affairs shall report changes in laws within its jurisdiction sufficient to reduce the level of direct spending for that committee by $155,000,000 in outlays for fiscal year 2006 and $22,239,000,000 in outlays for the period of fiscal years 2006 through 2010.

(M) COMMITTEE ON WAYS AND MEANS.—The House Committee on Ways and Means shall report changes in laws within its jurisdiction sufficient to reduce the level of direct spending for that committee by $6,354,000,000 in outlays for fiscal year 2006 and $17,700,000,000 in outlays for the period of fiscal years 2006 through 2010.

(N) SPECIAL RULE.—The chairman of the Committee on the Budget shall not take into account legislation enacted after the adoption of this resolution that is determined to reduce the deficit and may make applicable adjustments to estimated savings, assumptions, allocations, and budget aggregates and may also make adjustments in reconciliation instructions to protect earned benefit programs.

(2) IN GENERAL.—If the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure reports legislation, or if an amendment thereto is offered or a conference report thereon is submitted, that provides new budget authority for new budget accounts or portions thereof in the highway and transit categories as defined in sections 250(c)(4)(B) and (C) of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 in excess of the following amounts:

(a) for fiscal year 2005: $42,806,000,000,

(b) for fiscal year 2006: $45,899,100,000,

(c) for fiscal year 2007: $47,828,700,000,

(d) for fiscal year 2008: $49,762,000,000,

(e) for fiscal year 2009: $51,743,500,000.

(3) If the chairman of the House Appropriations Committee on Appropriations had prepared a report carrying out all such recommendations, the chairman of that committee may file with the House appropriately renumbered legislation, or if an amendment thereof is offered or a conference report thereon is submitted, that provides new budget authority for new budget accounts or portions thereof in the highway and transit categories as defined in sections 250(c)(4)(B) and (C) of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 in excess of the following amounts:

(a) for fiscal year 2005: $42,806,000,000,

(b) for fiscal year 2006: $45,899,100,000,

(c) for fiscal year 2007: $47,828,700,000,

(d) for fiscal year 2008: $49,762,000,000,

(e) for fiscal year 2009: $51,743,500,000.

(4) If the chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee on Appropriations had prepared a report carrying out all such recommendations, the chairman of that committee may file with the Senate appropriately renumbered legislation, or if an amendment thereof is offered or a conference report thereon is submitted, that provides new budget authority for new budget accounts or portions thereof in the highway and transit categories as defined in sections 250(c)(4)(B) and (C) of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 in excess of the following amounts:

(a) for fiscal year 2005: $42,806,000,000,

(b) for fiscal year 2006: $45,899,100,000,

(c) for fiscal year 2007: $47,828,700,000,

(d) for fiscal year 2008: $49,762,000,000,

(e) for fiscal year 2009: $51,743,500,000.

(5) For fiscal year 2009: $51,743,500,000.
vote of a majority of the Members duly chosen and sworn, a quorum being present.

(2) A question of consideration under this paragraph shall be debatable for 20 minutes equally divided between the Member or Members offering the motion and any other Member, unless the context of the question shall be otherwise decided without intervening motion except one that the House adjourn.

(3) This paragraph does not apply to any rule providing for consideration of any legislation the title of which is as follows: “A bill to provide for Social Security.”

(b) Waiver—The Committee on Rules may not report a rule or order proposing a waiver of subsection (a).

SEC. 402. RESTRICTIONS ON ADVANCE APPROPRIATIONS.

(a) In General—(1) In the House, except as provided in subsection (b), an advance appropriation may not be reported in a bill or joint resolution making a general appropriation or continuing appropriation, and may not be in order as an amendment thereto.

(2) Managers on the part of the House may not agree to a Senate amendment that would violate paragraph (1) unless specific authority to agree to the amendment first is given by the House by a separate vote with respect thereto.

(b) Exception.—In the House, an advance appropriation may be provided for fiscal year 2007 and fiscal years 2008 for programs, projects, activities or accounts identified in the joint explanatory statement of managers accompanying this resolution under the heading ‘Advance Appropriations’ in an aggregate amount not to exceed $23,568,000,000 in new budget authority.

(c) Definition.—In this section, the term “advance appropriation” means any discretionary new budget authority in a bill or joint resolution making general appropriations or continuing appropriations for fiscal years after 2006 that first becomes available for any fiscal year after 2006.

SEC. 403. AUTOMATIC VOTES ON EXPENSIVE LEGISLATION.

In the House, the yeas and nays shall be considered as ordered when the Speaker puts the question on passage of a bill or joint resolution, or on adoption of conference report, which authorizes or provides new budget authority of not less than $50,000,000. The Speaker may not entertain a unanimous consent request to suspend this section.

SEC. 404. TURN OFF THE GEPHARDT RULE.

Rule XXVII shall not apply with respect to the adoption by the Congress of a concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2006.

SEC. 405. ADVISORY EXPENSES.

(a) Exemption of Overseas Contingency Operations.—In the House, if a bill or joint resolution is reported, or an amendment is offered thereto or a conference report is filed thereon, that makes supplemental appropriations for fiscal year 2006 for contingency operations related to the global war on terrorism, new entitlement authority, outlays, and receipts resulting therefrom shall not count for purposes of sections 302, 303, and 401 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974 for the provisions of such measure that are designated pursuant to this subsection as making appropriations for such contingency operations.

(b) Exemption of Emergency Resolutions.—In the House, if a bill or joint resolution is reported, or an amendment is offered thereto or a conference report is filed thereon, that provision as an emergency requirement pursuant to this section, then the new budget authority, new entitlement authority, outlays, and receipts resulting therefrom shall not count for purposes of sections 302, 303, 311, and 401 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974.

(c) Designations.—(1) Guidance.—In the House, if a provision of legislation is designated as an emergency requirement under subsection (b), the committee of origin shall forward a statement of managers accompanying that legislation shall include an explanation of the manner in which the provision meets the criteria in this subsection that shall be considered by the House without being reported, then the committee shall cause the explanation to be published in the Congressional Record in advance of floor consideration.

(2) Criteria.—(A) In General.—Any such provision is an emergency requirement if the underlying situation poses a threat to life, property, or national security and—

(i) sudden, quickly coming into being, and not building up over time;

(ii) an urgent, pressing, and compelling need requiring immediate action;

(iii) subject to subparagraph (B), unforeseen, unpredictable, and unanticipated; and

(iv) not permanent, temporary in nature.

(B) Unforeseen.—An emergency that is part of an aggregate level of anticipated emergencies, particularly when normally estimated in an advance appropriation.

(d) Enforcement.—It shall not be in order in the House of Representatives to consider any bill, joint resolution, amendment or conference report that contains an emergency designation unless that designation meets the criteria set out in subsection (c)(2).

(e) Enforcement of House of Representatives.—It shall not be in order in the House of Representatives to consider a rule or order that waives the application of subsection (d).

(f) Disposition of Points of Order in the House.—As disposition of a point of order under subsection (d) or subsection (e), the Speaker shall make an expedient consideration with respect to the proposition that is the subject of the point of order. A question of consideration under this section shall be debatable for 10 minutes by the Member initiating the point of order and for 10 minutes by an opponent of the point of order, but shall otherwise be decided without intervening motion except one that the House adjourn.

(g) Transition.—The Speaker may, at any time during the consideration of this section, direct that the House proceed to the consideration of another matter.

(a) In General.—In the House, notwithstanding paragraph (a) of section 1301 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974 and section 1301 of the Budget Enforcement Act of 1990, the joint explanatory statement accompanying the conference report that proposes a new or increased fee for any program or activity, shall include in its allocation of budgetary resources and in its estimate of the impact on Federal Revenue of the provision that proposes a new or increased fee for any program or activity, an amount that is calculated by the Joint Committee on Taxation in a manner that takes into account—

(1) the impact of the proposed revenue changes on—

(A) Gross Domestic Product, including the growth rate for the Gross Domestic Product;

(B) total domestic employment;

(C) gross private domestic investment;

(D) general price index;

(E) interest rates; and

(F) other economic variables;

(2) the impact on Federal Revenue of the changes in economic variables analyzed under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph.

(b) The Chairman of the House Committee on the Budget may make any necessary changes to allocations and aggregates in order to conform this concurrent resolution with the determinations made by the Joint Committee on Taxation pursuant to paragraph (a) of this Section.

SEC. 407. ACTION PURSUANT TO SECTION 1301 OF THE CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET ACT.

(a) Compliance.—When complying with Section 302(b)(1) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974 the Committee on Appropriations of each House shall consult with the Committee on Appropriations of the other House to ensure that the allocation of budgetary resources and new budget authority among each Committee’s subcommittees are identical.

SEC. 408. CHANGES IN ALLOCATIONS AND AGGREGATES RESULTING FROM REALISTIC SCORING OF MEASURES AFFECTING REVENUES.

(a) Whenever the House considers a bill, joint resolution, amendment, motion or conference report, including measures filed in compliance with section 201(b) or 201(c), that propose to change federal revenues, the impact of such measure on federal revenues shall be calculated by the Committee on Taxation in a manner that takes into account—

(1) the impact of the proposed revenue changes on—

(A) Gross Domestic Product, including the growth rate for the Gross Domestic Product;

(B) total domestic employment;

(C) gross private domestic investment;

(D) general price index;

(E) interest rates; and

(F) other economic variables;

(2) the impact on Federal Revenue of the changes in economic variables analyzed under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph.

(b) The Chairman of the House Committee on the Budget may make any necessary changes to allocations and aggregates in order to conform this concurrent resolution with the determinations made by the Joint Committee on Taxation pursuant to paragraph (a) of this Section.

SEC. 409. PROHIBITION ON USING REVENUE INCREASES TO COMPLY WITH BUDGET ALLOCATIONS AND AGGREGATES.

(a) For the purpose of enforcing this concurrent resolution, in the House of Representatives, the Chairman of the Committee on the Budget shall not take into account the provisions of any piece of legislation which propose to increase revenue or offsetting collections if the net effect of the bill is to increase the level of revenue or offsetting collections beyond the level assessed in this concurrent resolution.

(b) Paragraph (a) of this section shall not apply to any provision of a piece of legislation that proposes a new or increased fee for the receipt of a defined benefit or service (including insurance coverage) by the person or entity paying the fee.

SEC. 410. APPLICATION AND EFFECT OF CHANGES IN ALLOCATIONS AND AGGREGATES.

(a) Application.—Any adjustments of allocations and aggregates made pursuant to this resolution shall—

(1) apply while that measure is under consideration;

(2) have no effect upon the enactment of that measure; and

(3) be published in the Congressional Record as soon as practicable.

SEC. 411. ADOPTION OF CHANGES IN ALLOCATIONS AND AGGREGATES.—Revised allocations and aggregates resulting from these adjustments shall be considered for the purposes of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974 and the allocations and aggregates contained in this resolution.
(c) Budget Committee Determinations.—
For purposes of this resolution—
(1) the levels of new budget authority, outlays, direct spending, new entitlement authority, and discretionary spending levels for a fiscal year or period of fiscal years shall be determined on the basis of estimates made by the appropriate Committee on the Budget; and
(2) such chairman may make any other necessary adjustments to such levels to carry out this resolution.
SEC. 411. ENTITLEMENT SAFEGUARD.
(a) It shall not be in order in the House of Representatives to consider a direct spending legislation that would increase an on-budget or off-budget surplus as plus as provided by paragraph (e) for any applicable time period.
(b) For purposes of this clause, the term "applicable time period" means any of the following:
(1) The period of the first 5 fiscal years covered by the most recently adopted concurrent resolution on the budget.
(2) The period of the 5 fiscal years following first 5 years covered in the most recently adopted concurrent resolution on the budget.
(c) For purposes of this section and except as provided in paragraph (d), the term "direct spending legislation" means any legislation that affects direct spending as that term is defined by, and interpreted for purposes of, the Committee on the Budget.
SEC. 412. BUDGET PROTECTION MANDATORY ACCOUNT.
(a) The chairman of the Committee on the Budget shall maintain an account to be known as the "Budget Protection Mandatory Account", which shall be divided into entries corresponding to the allocations under section 302(a) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974 in the most recently adopted concurrent resolution on the budget, except that it shall not include the Committee on Appropriations.
(b) Each entry shall consist only of amounts credited to it under subsection (b).
(c) No entry of a negative amount shall be made.
SEC. 413. BUDGET DISCRETIONARY ACCOUNT.
(a)(1) The chairman of the Committee on the Budget shall maintain an account to be known as the "Budget Protection Discretionary Account", which shall be divided into entries corresponding to the allocations under section 302(a) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974 in the most recently adopted concurrent resolution on the budget, except that it shall not include the Committee on Appropriations.
(b) Each entry shall consist only of amounts credited to it under subsection (b).
(c) No entry of a negative amount shall be made.
(d)(1) Upon the engrossment of a House bill or joint resolution or a House amendment to a Senate bill or joint resolution (other than an appropriation bill), the chairman of the Committee on the Budget shall—
(A) credit the applicable entries of the Budget Protection Mandatory Account by the amounts specified in subparagraph (3); and
(B) reduce the applicable 302(a) entries by the amount specified in subparagraph (2).
(e) During the consideration of any bill or joint resolution, the chairman of the Committee on the Budget shall, upon engrossment of a House bill or joint resolution, a Senate bill or joint resolution, other than an appropriation bill, reduce the level of total revenues set forth in the applicable concurrent resolution on the budget for the fiscal year or for the total of that first fiscal year and the ensuing fiscal years in an amount equal to the net reduction in mandatory authority (either under current law or proposed by the bill or joint resolution under consideration) provided by each amendment adopted by the House to the bill or joint resolution.
(f) Each amount specified in subparagraph (B) shall be the net reduction in discretionary budget authority (either under current law or proposed by the bill or joint resolution under consideration) provided by each amendment adopted by the House to the bill or joint resolution.
(2)(A) The provision specified in subparagraph (1) is as follows: "The amount of discretionary budget authority reduced by this amendment may be used to offset a decrease in revenues."
(2) The period of the 5 fiscal years following first 5 years covered in the most recently adopted concurrent resolution on the budget.
(3) The period of the 5 fiscal years following first 5 years covered in the most recently adopted concurrent resolution on the budget.
(4) The period of the 5 fiscal years following first 5 years covered in the most recently adopted concurrent resolution on the budget.
(5) The period of the 5 fiscal years following first 5 years covered in the most recently adopted concurrent resolution on the budget.
(6) The period of the 5 fiscal years following first 5 years covered in the most recently adopted concurrent resolution on the budget.
(7) The period of the 5 fiscal years following first 5 years covered in the most recently adopted concurrent resolution on the budget.
(g) For purposes of this section, the levels are based on the amounts specified in subparagraph (2) of section 302(a) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974.
(h) Each amount specified in subparagraph (B) shall be the net reduction in discretionary budget authority (either under current law or proposed by the bill or joint resolution under consideration) provided by each amendment adopted by the House to the bill or joint resolution.
(i) If an amendment includes a provision described in subparagraph (2), the chairperson of the Committee on the Budget shall, upon the engrossment of a House appropriations bill, reduce the level of total revenues set forth in the applicable concurrent resolution on the budget for the fiscal year or for the total of that first fiscal year and the ensuing fiscal years in an amount equal to the net reduction in discretionary budget authority provided by each amendment that was adopted by the House to the bill or joint resolution. Such adjustment shall be in addition to the adjustments described in subsection (b).
(j) The provision specified in subparagraph (1) is as follows: "The amount of discretionary budget authority reduced by this amendment may be used to offset a decrease in revenues."
(k) No entry of a negative amount shall be made.
(l) Each amount specified in subparagraph (B) shall be the net reduction in discretionary budget authority (either under current law or proposed by the bill or joint resolution under consideration) provided by each amendment adopted by the House to the bill or joint resolution.
(m) Each amount specified in subparagraph (B) shall be the net reduction in discretionary budget authority (either under current law or proposed by the bill or joint resolution under consideration) provided by each amendment adopted by the House to the bill or joint resolution.
(n) No entry of a negative amount shall be made.
SEC. 414. ACCOUNTABILITY.
(a) The chairman of the Committee on the Budget shall maintain an account to be known as the "Budget Protection Discretionary Account".
(b) The Committee on Rules may not report a rule or order proposing a waiver of paragraph (a).
SEC. 415. SENSE OF THE HOUSE.
(a) Congress should make every effort to offset nonwar-related supplemental appropriations.
(b) Appropriations that are made by the Congress to support programs and activities that are not authorized by law should be periodically reauthorized and funded for unauthor- ized programs should be level-funded in fiscal year 2006 unless there is a compelling justifi- cation.
(c) Committees should submit written justifications for earmarks and should consider not funding those most egregiously incon- sistent with national policy.
(d) The fiscal year 2006 budget resolution should be vigorously enforced and legislation should be enacted establishing statutory limits on applications of the X-AS- YOU-GO rule for new and expanded entitlement programs; and
(e) Congress should make every effort to offset nonwar-related supplemental appropriations.
SEC. 502. SENSE OF THE HOUSE ON ENTITLEMENT REFORM
(a) FINDINGS.—The House finds that welfare was successfully reformed through the application of work requirements, education and training opportunity, and time limits on eligibility.
(b) SENSE OF THE HOUSE.—It is the sense of the House that authorizing committees should—
(1) systematically review all means-tested entitlement programs and track beneficiary participation across programs and time.
SEC. 503. SENSE OF HOUSE REGARDING THE ABOLISHMENT OF OBSOLETE AGENCIES AND FEDERAL SUNSET PROSALS.

(a) The House finds the following:

(1) The National Commission on the Public Service’s recent report, “Urgent Business For America: Revitalizing The Federal Government For The 21st Century,” states that government missions are so widely dispersed among many agencies that no coherent management is possible. The report also states that fragmentation leaves many gaps, inconsistencies, and inefficiencies in government that results in an unacceptable level of public health protection.

(2) According to the Commission, there are: more than 35 food safety laws administered by 12 different federal agencies; 541 clean air, water, and waste programs in 29 federal agencies; 50 different programs to aid the homeless in eight different Federal agencies; 29 tax programs governed by 12 different federal laws; and 90 early childhood programs scattered among 11 Federal agencies.

(b) According to the General Accounting Office (GAO), there are 163 programs with a budget of more than $4 billion, costing the taxpayers more than $44 agencies and saved the taxpayers $4 billion, but there is very little or no coordination between them. This situation has created a bureaucracy so complex that many local communities stop applying for economic assistance. At the same time, the GAO reports that these programs often serve as nothing more than funnels for pork, have “no significant effect” on the economy, and cost as much as $2 for every $1 spent on the Sunset process, the State has received about $1 in return.

The Acting CHAIRMAN. This will be a 5-minute time limit for this consideration.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—aye 102, noes 320, not voting 12, as follows:

[Roll No. 83]

AYES—102

Mr. FITZPATRICK of Pennsylvania changed his vote from "aye" to "no." So the amendment in the nature of a substitute was rejected.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yeas 419, nays 2, answered "present" 4, not voting 10, as follows:

[Roll No. 84]  YEAS—419

Bishop (UT)  Fitzpatrick (PA)  Lewis (KY)  Linder
Bowman (NY)  Blackburn  Fluke  Leipold
Brown (OH)  Boehner  Foss  Lindberg
Browne  Boehner  Frank (MA)  Longfellow, Zoe
Browner  Bonner  Frank (AZ)  Lucas
Brown  Boren  Frelinghuysen  Longyear, Daniel E.
Brown-Waite (FL)  Boreman  Gallegly  Lynch
Brown-Waite (NC)  Boscom  Galvao  Macc
Brunner  Boren  Garrett (NJ)  Malone
Buckley  Boyd  Gerlach  Mantua
Buckley  Boyd  Geren  Marchetti
Buckley  Boyd  Gerrish  Marcotte
Buckley  Boyd  Gohman  McCarthy
Buckley  Boyd  Golombek  McAuliffe
Buckley  Boyd  Gonzalez  McComb (MN)
Buckley  Boyd  Gross  McCotter
Buckley  Boyd  Grout  McGovern
Buckley  Boyd  Greeson  McNary
Buckley  Boyd  Greenspan  Menendez
Buckley  Boyd  Green, Gene  Mineta
Buckley  Boyd  Green, Al  Mitchell
Buckley  Boyd  Greenspan  Millender-McCool
Buckley  Boyd  Greenspan  Miller (FL)
Buckley  Boyd  Greenspan  Miller (MI)
Buckley  Boyd  Greenspan  Miller (NY)
Buckley  Boyd  Greenspan  Miller (PA)
Buckley  Boyd  Greenspan  Miller (TX)
Buckley  Boyd  Greenspan  Milliken
Buckley  Boyd  Greenspan  Miller, George
Buckley  Boyd  Greenspan  Milliken
Buckley  Boyd  Greenspan  Miller, Gary
Buckley  Boyd  Greenspan  Millich
Buckley  Boyd  Greenspan  Miller, John B.
Buckley  Boyd  Greenspan  Milliken
Buckley  Boyd  Greenspan  Miller, Young (AK)

NAYS—1

Paul

ANSWERED "PRESENT"—4

Coble  McKeon
Cubin  McMillian
Delahunt  McMorris
Diaz-Balart, L.  McNulty

NOT VOTING—10

Coble  Foley
Cubin  Forbes
Delahunt  King (NY)
Diaz-Balart, L.  Porter

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. TERRY (during the vote). Members are advised there are 2 minutes remaining in the vote.

So (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the concurrent resolution, as amended, was agreed to.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yeas 419, nays 2, answered "present" 4, not voting 10, as follows:

[Roll No. 84]  YEAS—419

Abercrombie  Bishop (NY)  Lewis (GA)
Ackerman  Bishop (GA)  Lewis (GA)
Aderholt  Bishop (MD)  Lewis (GA)
Akin  Bishop (TX)  Lewis (GA)
Alexander  Bishop, Graham  Lewis (GA)
Allen  Bishop, Young (AK)  Lewis (GA)
Andrews  Bishop (GA)  Lewis (GA)
Baca  Bishop (GA)  Lewis (GA)
Bachus  Bishop (NY)  Lewis (GA)

PROVIDING FOR FINAL PERIOD OF GENERAL DEBATE ON H. CON. RES. 95, CONCURRENT RESOLUTION ON THE BUDGET FOR FISCAL YEAR 2006

Mr. NUSSLE. Mr. Speaker, I have an unanimous consent request that has been worked out between both sides. I ask unanimous consent that during further consideration of H. Con. Res. 95 in the Committee of the Whole, a final period of general debate shall be in order at the conclusion of consideration of the concurrent resolution for amendment, which shall not exceed 10 minutes equally divided and controlled by the chairman and ranking minority member of the Committee on the Budget.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Iowa? There was no objection.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION ON THE BUDGET FOR FISCAL YEAR 2006.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 154 and rule XVIII, the Chair declares the House in the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union for the further consideration of the concurrent resolution, H. Con. Res. 95.

IN THE COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

Accordingly, the House resolved itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union for the further consideration of the concurrent resolution (H. Con. Res. 95) establishing the congressional budget for the United States Government for fiscal year 2006, revising appropriate budgetary levels for fiscal year 2005, and setting forth appropriate budgetary levels for fiscal years 2007 through 2010, with Mr. GILLUM (Acting Chairman) in the chair.

The Clerk read the title of the concurrent resolution.

The Acting CHAIRMAN. When the Committee of the Whole rose earlier today, amendment No. 2 printed in House Report 109–19, offered by the gentleman from Texas (Mr. HENSARLING), had been disposed of.

Pursuant to the order of the House of today, there shall be a final period of general debate at the conclusion of consideration of the concurrent resolution for amendment, which shall not exceed 10 minutes equally divided and controlled by the chairman and ranking minority member of the Committee on the Budget.

It is now in order to consider amendment No. 3 printed in House Report 109–19.

AMENDMENT NO. 3 IN THE NATURE OF A SUBSTITUTE OFFERED BY MR. WATT

Mr. WATT. Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment in the nature of a substitute.

The Acting CHAIRMAN. The Clerk will designate the amendment in the nature of a substitute.

The text of the amendment in the nature of a substitute is as follows:

Amendment No. 3 in the nature of a substitute offered by Mr. WATT:

Strike all after the resolving clause and insert the following:

SECTION 1. CONCURRENT RESOLUTION ON THE BUDGET FOR FISCAL YEAR 2006.

The Congress declares that the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2006 is hereby established and that the appropriate budgetary levels for fiscal years 2007 through 2010 are set forth.
Social Services (500):

- Fiscal year 2010:
  - (A) New budget authority, $321,498,000,000.
  - (B) Outlays, $340,349,000,000.

- Fiscal year 2009:
  - (A) New budget authority, $298,412,000,000.
  - (B) Outlays, $340,349,000,000.

- Fiscal year 2008:
  - (A) New budget authority, $277,813,000,000.
  - (B) Outlays, $314,155,000,000.

- Fiscal year 2007:
  - (A) New budget authority, $255,485,000,000.
  - (B) Outlays, $286,301,000,000.

- Fiscal year 2006:
  - (A) New budget authority, $233,151,000,000.
  - (B) Outlays, $286,301,000,000.

- Fiscal year 2005:
  - (A) New budget authority, $214,056,000,000.
  - (B) Outlays, $255,485,000,000.

- Fiscal year 2004:
  - (A) New budget authority, $195,377,000,000.
  - (B) Outlays, $233,151,000,000.

- Fiscal year 2003:
  - (A) New budget authority, $176,982,000,000.
  - (B) Outlays, $214,056,000,000.

- Fiscal year 2002:
  - (A) New budget authority, $157,540,000,000.
  - (B) Outlays, $195,377,000,000.

- Fiscal year 2001:
  - (A) New budget authority, $138,878,000,000.
  - (B) Outlays, $176,982,000,000.

- Fiscal year 2000:
  - (A) New budget authority, $120,075,000,000.
  - (B) Outlays, $157,540,000,000.

- Fiscal year 1999:
  - (A) New budget authority, $102,391,000,000.
  - (B) Outlays, $138,878,000,000.

- Fiscal year 1998:
  - (A) New budget authority, $85,728,000,000.
  - (B) Outlays, $102,391,000,000.

- Fiscal year 1997:
  - (A) New budget authority, $69,518,000,000.
  - (B) Outlays, $85,728,000,000.

- Fiscal year 1996:
  - (A) New budget authority, $54,090,000,000.
  - (B) Outlays, $69,518,000,000.

- Fiscal year 1995:
  - (A) New budget authority, $39,055,000,000.
  - (B) Outlays, $54,090,000,000.

- Fiscal year 1994:
  - (A) New budget authority, $25,318,000,000.
  - (B) Outlays, $39,055,000,000.

- Fiscal year 1993:
  - (A) New budget authority, $12,325,000,000.
  - (B) Outlays, $25,318,000,000.

- Fiscal year 1992:
  - (A) New budget authority, $5,938,000,000.
  - (B) Outlays, $12,325,000,000.

- Fiscal year 1991:
  - (A) New budget authority, $12,181,000,000.
  - (B) Outlays, $5,938,000,000.

- Fiscal year 1990:
  - (A) New budget authority, $12,132,000,000.
  - (B) Outlays, $372,333,000,000.

- Fiscal year 1989:
  - (A) New budget authority, $395,766,000,000.
  - (B) Outlays, $395,766,000,000.
first. Its focus is to reduce disparities that exist in America’s communities by investing in the priorities and challenges that Americans face today. It also provides significant support for our troops in Iraq. At the same time, the CBC budget alternative also recognizes the importance of adding to the safety of our communities by funding initiatives such as juvenile crime prevention programs and prisoner reentry programs.

The funding for these important domestic needs comes from rolling back current, discretionary spending to adjust gross income that is over $200,000, and eliminating several abusive tax loopholes, including corporate incentives to move jobs overseas. Moreover, the Congressional Black Caucus budget does not adopt the new tax cuts included in the Republican budget. The CBC revenues are used for the domestic and deficit reduction portions of the alternative budget.

The CBC budget is also committed to making American more secure. The CBC budget increases funding for military and homeland security needs, veterans programs and benefits, and additional support for defense and our troops in Iraq from a $7.8 billion reduction in ballistic missile defense, leaving $1 billion in the program for continued research.

It is a priority of the CBC to provide American soldiers with the equipment necessary to return home from Iraq in a safe, quick and successful manner. To that end, a portion of these funds have been directed to our troops in Iraq by providing them with body armor, vehicle armor, and other personal support equipment, as well as for the construction and maintenance of our Navy vessels, which will preserve jobs.

The CBC understands that providing homeland security requires appropriate funding to meet the many pressing needs in homeland security; and, therefore, we have substantial funding for port security, rail security grants as well as funding for first responders, Federal air marshals and border patrol agents.

The remainder of these funds are used to restore cuts in veterans’ programs and benefits. The CBC understands that today’s soldiers are tomorrow’s veterans who deserve our respect and sacrifices, not just in word but in deed and in budget. Thus, the alternative budget makes critical increases in veterans’ programs and benefits, a substantial portion of which is health care.

It also supports funding for long-term care initiatives, medical and prosthetic research, and mental health care, among others. We believe that these investments will make us more secure as a Nation.

The CBC is committed to reducing disparities in all of America’s communities. At the same time, our budget recognizes that we cannot place the burden on our children and grandchildren. A top priority of the CBC is to address the exploding deficit problem, and that is why our budget reduces the deficit by $167 billion and saves $27 billion in interest payments compared to the House majority’s budget.

Members of the CBC have worked tirelessly to create a budget that is fiscally responsible, supports our troops and recognizes the need of American individuals and American communities around the country. We believe this is a sound budget that will reduce disparities in America’s communities and protect and promote that America and Americans have to offer.

Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, I commend the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. WATT) and his colleagues for bringing forth an alternative budget. We know how difficult it is to put together a budget of this magnitude. As the gentleman from Ohio, this is a substitute budget, a true alternative budget to what was passed out of the committee. It highlights the differences between the Democrats’ strategy and the Republican budgeting strategy. The Democratic seem to love spending increases and tax increases, and that is exactly what this alternative budget does.

It increases spending compared to the committee budget that is on the floor. It increases spending by $22.5 billion in budget authority and also $18.9 billion increased spending in the year 2006. That is just in 1 year. It also increases spending by $173 billion in budget authority over 5 years and $149 billion in outlays in the next 5 years. It also massively increases taxes by $35.1 billion in fiscal year 2006 alone and $169 billion over the next 5 years as opposed to the budget that was passed by the Committee on the Budget.

Again, these tax increases are above and beyond, on top of enormous spending increases. But that is not the only problem that we have with this budget alternative. It also decreases defense spending. Again, while the Nation is at war, the alternative budget’s defense spending by $10.7 billion in budget authority and $7 billion in outlays just in fiscal year 2006. Again, during fiscal years 2006 through 2010, this alternative budget would reduce defense spending by $149.5 billion in budget authority and $129 billion in outlays. So we have very clear differences that have been illustrated by these two budgets.

On the other hand, again, I commend the gentleman for doing the hard work and putting an alternative budget together that is being discussed right now. Again these two budgets obviously highlight the difference. This budget that they are proposing increases taxes and cuts spending on defense in a time of war.

Mr. Chairman, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. McHENRY), a member of the Committee on the Budget who has done an incredible job and shown incredible leadership on this issue.
Mr. MCHENRY. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman for yielding me this time.

First, I commend the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. WATT) for offering a budget alternative. I know that the gentleman has done, along with the other members of the Congressional Black Caucus, worked very hard to put this budget together. Working on the Committee on the Budget this year, I realize how difficult it is to get agreement on the type of budget we need. Even to get a small group of people to agree on a budget is very difficult, so I commend the chairman of the Congressional Black Caucus for putting this together and I certainly respect what the gentleman has done.

But on so many issues we have disagreement on the content of the budget. First, I do not think we need to raise taxes at a time when our economy is trying to get its footing back. And at a time of war, we need to fully fund homeland security. We have so many needs in this country that we have to fund and so many priorities that we must fund. I think our budget that we produced out of the Committee on the Budget is well balanced. It is appropriate for the time we are living, the time of war, the time of very strong homeland security needs, and we need to properly fund those items, which I believe our House budget that we produced out of the Committee on the Budget.

So I am very proud of the work that the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. NUSSELE) has done to get a balanced approach for our budgeting.

I would like to talk more about the qualities of our House budget that we have on the floor today. I think that is why we need to pass that budget unamended. First, our House budget fully funds the defense budget request of our President. There is a 4.8 percent increase totaling $41 billion in defense spending, and a net increase of 2.3 percent in nonmilitary appropriated accounts for homeland security, including $32.5 billion for the Department of Homeland Security.

But furthermore, I think it is important that we talk about what it does for veterans. With veterans I have a chart here today discussing, showing our increase in veterans programs and the spending we have increased in veterans programs. There is a rapid increase in veterans spending especially during this time of war. We are funding veterans programs appropriately in this Congress. We are funding more veterans health care programs. We are doing more for those serving to defend our country. The current House budget we have will increase veterans program spending to $67 billion. I think that is a move in the right direction.

Furthermore, spending per veteran has increased to $2,700 per veteran. I think it is appropriate to notice the rapid rise in veterans spending. So we are funding priorities. This budget, although restraining nondefense, non-homeland security discretionary spending, and taking on mandatory government programs and finding savings, although slight, we are finding savings in those programs that will enable us to keep continuing to cut taxes and enable us to avoid raising taxes at the same time.

Mr. Chairman, as I said, I thank the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. WATT) for offering this budget alternative. I respect what the gentleman is trying to do, but we have different ways of arriving at the same result of funding the priorities and helping the American people.

Mr. WATT. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself 3 minutes.

Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentlemen for their kind words. If you listened to them, it would make it sound like we have the same budget, but I want to assure you and our colleagues that that is not the case. And I want to assure you that by the end of this debate, you are going to know what the differences are.

We set out at the beginning of this Congress to set an agenda for the Congressional Black Caucus. Our agenda is about closing disparities that exist between African American citizens and other citizens in this country and have persisted over time. They involve closing the gaps opportunity gaps in education, closing the gaps in health care for every American, closing the gaps in employment and economic security in wealth and business opportunity in our country, closing the gaps that continue to exist in our justice system, closing the gaps that continue to exist in retirement security for our citizens, and closing the inequities that have persisted throughout our history in foreign policy.

Is it true that we have a different set of priorities? You bet we do. To close these disparities, we have set a different course, and we decided that it was more important to devote resources to closing these gaps and closing these disparities than it was to give a tax cut to people who make above $200,000 a year. We decided that these priorities were more important than continuing to fund a ballistic missile defense program that has already failed every single test that it has undergone. We believe that the education of our children is more important than tax cuts for people over $200,000.

I am not here to make any excuses about that. I want every Member of this Congress to understand that that is a choice that we have made and that is a choice that we are calling on this Congress to make. The people in my district who make over $200,000 a year have told me that they would rather educate our children and fully fund No Child Left Behind than they would have a tax cut. So this is a question of what your priorities are, no ifs, ands, buts about it. That is what you will be voting on today.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Florida (Ms. CORRINE BROWN).

Ms. CORRINE BROWN of Florida. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. WATT) and the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. SCOTT). Their budget and our budget really is the compassionate budget that really respects the American people.

I have comments from the American Legion, from the national legislative director of AMVETS, from the national legislative director of the Disabled American Veterans, from the Veterans of Foreign Wars. I just want to paraphrase what they said:

We think cutting veterans benefits, talking about the majority budget, is, and I paraphrase, unacceptable, especially at a time when American soldiers, sons and daughters, are being wounded and killed every day in Iraq.

In addition, it appears that this pattern of shortchanging veterans medical care continues in the 109th Congress. American veterans and their families deserve better.

Let me just give a few examples of how we strengthen one national defense. I will put all of it in the RECORD; but clearly in this House, in closing, only the big dogs eat in this House.

Mr. WATT. I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Florida (Ms. CORRINE BROWN).

Ms. CORRINE BROWN. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentlewoman from Florida (Ms. SCOTT). Their budget and our budget really is the compassionate budget that really respects the American people.

I would like to thank Mr. WATT and Mr. SCOTT for their hard work on putting the CBC alternative budget together. I do want to take care of our veterans now, we will not have the boots on the ground in the future to respond to any attack against us or our allies.
This budget straightens our priorities to include both defending our country and the freedom it cherishes and giving our veterans the chance they need to succeed once they leave the service.

national defense:

- Body armor, personal support equipment, and other protective gear for troops, and vehicle armor $75 million.
- Ammunition for Marine Corps $10 million.
- Small Arms for Army $10 million.
- Building/Maintenance of Navy ships $1 billion.
- To study instances of waste, fraud, and abuse within DoD business processes and implement specific GAO recommendations for reform $5 million.

Veterans: $4.65 billion

- Veterans Health Care $1 billion.
- Survivor Benefit Plan $100 million.
- Disabled Veterans Tax ("concurrent receipt") $2.5 billion.
- Fund long-term care initiatives for veterans $400 million.
- Remove proposed $250 enrollment fee for Priority 7 & 8 veterans $300 million.
- Remove proposed increases in co-payments for Priority 7 & 8 veterans $150 million.
- Prosthetic needs for veterans $100 million.
- VA Medical and Prosthetic Research $50 million.
- Mental Health Care for Veterans $50 million.
- Allowances (all for purposes of Homeland Security): $3.05 billion
- Rail Security $100 million.
- Port Security, including air cargo screening, preventing nuclear/radiological weapons in cargo containers, research and development, and grants $500 million.
- Centers for Disease Control $250 million.
- First Responders $900 million.
- Interoperable communications systems for first responders $85 million.
- Federal Marshals $65 million.
- Internal Customs Enforcement/Border Patrol Agents $150 million.
- Total Defense Funds Used, All of Which Are Reallocated to Defense, Homeland Security Needs, and Veterans Programs and Benefits $7.8 billion.

The American Legion appreciates your leadership and the hard work of your colleagues on behalf of America’s veterans and their families.

Sincerely,

Thomas P. Caddock, National Commander

Hon. Jim Nussle, Chairman, Committee on Budget, House of Representatives, Cannon House Office Building, Washington, DC.

Dear Mr. Chairman: The American Legion is deeply troubled with and cannot support your Committee’s proposed budget resolution, H. Con. Res. 95, with regard to funding for the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA), especially the reconciliation instructions targeted at earned Veterans’ benefits. Reducing mandatory appropriations for veterans’ disability compensation, pensions, and education benefits at a time of war is inconsistent with the thanks of a grateful Nation.

The American Legion believes VA’s own admission that the cost of doing business increases annually about 13-14 percent because of Federal pay increases and inflation in the health care arena, The President’s budget request to the Office of Management and Budget, so VA’s true fiscal requirements to meet the health care needs of America’s veterans are somewhat skewed. During the 108th Congress, former VA Secretary Principi reported to your colleagues that the FY 2005 proposed budget was $1.2 billion short of what he had actually requested. It appears this pattern of short-changing VA medical care continues in the 109th Congress. America’s veterans and their families deserve better.

The American Legion recognizes and appreciates the Bradley Amendment adopted by the Committee, but believes it falls well short of the federal funding needed in VA medical care. Unfortunately, the Committee rejected the Edwards Amendment that would have provided VA with adequate resources to maintain current services.

The American Legion would encourage adoption of one of the amendments to be offered by Representatives Spratt or Obey with regard to increasing VA funding. Clearly, both of these amendments are in the best interest of veterans and their families. Without action of one of these two amendments, The American Legion cannot support this budget resolution.

national defense:

- Air and missile defense relocations $1 billion.
- Deployed air and missile defense $1 billion.
- Ballistic Missile Defense $1 billion.
- National Missile Defense $1 billion.
- Nuclear cruise missile defense $1 billion.
- Smart Swords $1 billion.
- European missile defense $1 billion.
- Directed energy defense $1 billion.
- Hypersonic strike $1 billion.
- Total National Defense $1.9 trillion.

Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. McHenry).

Mr. McHenry. Mr. Chairman, I do want to respond to only the big dogs eat in this House. I am a small dog, and I think I am doing just fine.

Ms. Corrine Brown of Florida. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. McHenry. I yield to the gentlewoman from Florida.

Ms. Corrine Brown of Florida. It is not you; it is your policy. When I say “big dog,” I am talking about those huge tax cuts to the rich while we cut veterans programs, programs for health care, programs for the people that need it the most.

Mr. McHenry. Mr. Chairman, reclaiming my time, this is an interesting chart on the rapid increase in veterans spending per veteran. I think this is very important. We are spending $2.773 per veteran. We are fully funding our veteran’s needs. That is a priority of this Congress. As a small fellow, I must admit, I do think it is important that we keep our taxes low so that we
Mr. WATT. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Texas (Ms. EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON).

Ms. EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON of Texas. Mr. Chairman, I want to thank the chairman of the Congressional Black Caucus, the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. WATT), for his steadfast support of the development of this CBC budget alternative and also the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. SCOTT) for his leadership. I appreciate and applaud their steady stream of ideas and positions on issues we all care about.

This Republican budget proposal clearly ignores the needs of my State and all working Americans. The $2.57 trillion budget for fiscal year 2006 that President Bush laid before Congress is more out of touch than all the rest that he has submitted. It fails to include huge costs that taxpayers will have to bear, and its priorities do not match the needs of millions of people. It is, in short, a budget in need of a thorough congressional overhaul.

The level of funding proposed in the President's budget for research and development, especially basic research, is far from adequate. I believe that Federal investments in science and technology make sense. Americans have funded groundbreaking research into disease prevention and amazing new medical breakthroughs, cutting-edge business technology, energy efficiency, and educational tools that help our children learn in new ways. But in this budget package, funding for the National Science Foundation (NSF) would struggle to keep up with inflation, and programmes at most other major agencies are cut.

Bush's science and technology budget would drop from an estimated $61.7 billion in fiscal year 2005 to $60.8 billion in 2006. The science and technology includes programs such as space exploration, renewable energy, and agricultural research, as well as technology-related research and development at the National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST). There is a direct connection between investment in research and development, especially basic research, and economic prosperity and world leadership tomorrow. That's why CBC budget plan would continue to invest in the National Science Foundation, NASA, research at schools and universities; and new energy technologies to give business and consumers more affordable, cleaner energy. As lawmakers, we have the responsibility to ensure that all Americans, including minorities, are able to move ahead to achieve the American dream: life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Mr. Chairman, it is up to Congress to inject a dose of realism into the budget debate. Only then will the country get a budget that makes sense. Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Mr. Chairman, I yield 30 seconds to the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. McHENRY).

Mr. McHENRY. I am full of charts today, my friends. I do want to address our funding for health and for research. Under a Republican-controlled Congress, we have doubled funding for NIH, the National Institutes of Health. I think it is important to note what we are doing in improving health, reducing problems with our government, and the American people need to know that we are fully funding these programs to look at innovative ways to solve pressing medical issues in our country. We have doubled the funding for NIH over the last 6 years.

Mr. WATT. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from New York (Mr. MEEKS).

Mr. MEEKS of New York. Mr. Chairman, more needs to be done to address the ongoing global challenges of health, poverty, disease, and disasters so that we can end the inequities in foreign policy. Therefore, the CBC budget increases funding for those development accounts with the overall goals of reducing poverty disparities and improving quality of life.

There is $3.7 billion in the CBC budget for global AIDS, which is $500 million more than the President's budget. That is an increase of $900 million from last year and will support prevention, care and treatment for thousands more people.

For global aid to Africa and the Caribbean is increased by $250 million in the Congressional Black Caucus budget to allow developing countries to participate in the global economy. These funds support strategic priorities in the Caribbean region, improve good governance and reduce corruption, increase economic growth and free trade and reduce narcotics trafficking.

Public health and preventable illness in children is increased by $258 million in the CBC budget. More than one-third of the children in Africa are malnourished. In the last 10 years, approximately 2 million children have been killed in armed conflicts.

Overall disparity—Nearly 1.3 billion people around the world live in poverty and do not have safe drinking water; more than one-third of the world's children are malnourished; within the last ten years, approximately two million children have been killed in armed conflicts; many after being forced to be child soldiers; many poor countries spend 30%–40% of their annual budgets on repaying their foreign-held debt (often more than they spend on health and education combined); and horrific conditions can lead individuals to become more disaffected and susceptible to recruitment by terrorist organizations.

ERADICATING HUNGER, POVERTY, AND DISEASES MUST BE A PRIORITY

HIV/AIDS Solution—AIDS is a global humanitarian disaster that we must address from the United States. According to the need based numbers advanced by UNAIDS, The Stop TB Partnership, and Roll back Malaria, we believe the US should provide $6.7 billion next year. And at least $1.5 billion in funding this year for the Global Fund to operate efficiently and effectively.

Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself 30 seconds.

Again, what we have not heard from the sponsors of this amendment is part of what is in their amendment. Again, their amendment has massive increases in spending. It also has massive tax increases on the American people. And it also has massive reductions in defense spending in a time of war. Those are huge differences. I just want to make sure that everybody understands what the differences are.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. WATT. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. DAVIS).
Mr. DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chairman, the CBC budget is sane, rational, logical, serious. It recognizes the tremendous need that exists in our country to assist those 2 million people who are currently in jails and prisons and the 650,000 who return home every year. Therefore, it increases juvenile justice programs by $300 million, $100 million for the weed and seed drug elimination program, and $300 million for prisoner reentry programs, and it does not raise taxes. It rolls back the tax breaks that were given in 2001 and 2003 to those individuals with adjusted gross incomes of more than $200,000. People in my community say, provide the services, don't give to the rich.

Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself 1½ minutes.

The gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. MCENRY) mentioned the fact that our budget does not increase taxes and the alternative budget that we are discussing today increases taxes.

Does the gentleman know how many jobs are created because of this Republican Congress cutting taxes in the last year?

Mr. Chairman, I yield to the gentleman from North Carolina.

Mr. MCENRY. Mr. Chairman, I think I may have a chart on that.

Payroll jobs have rebounded because of tax cuts. With a weakness of the economy going into the Bush administration from the Clinton years and with the weakness of 9/11, we had a weakening of the economy.

But once the tax cuts took hold, we have rebounded. We have got over 3 million jobs because of this. Beyond that, there has been reference to the fact that tax cuts have created the deficit. That is not true. Actually, that is borne out with statistics.

The difference between the Bush administration and would return us to a policy of investing in education, job training, housing, veterans, and community development programs that millions of people depend on. It would reduce the deficit and restore fiscal responsibility to a budget process that has run amuck.

Mr. Chairman, because the CBC believes that education is the greatest legacy that we can provide to our children, the CBC’s budget fully funds No Child Left Behind. We also propose to increase Pell Grants which will help thousands more students attend college. We also increase funding for Head Start by $2 billion over the Republican budget so that we can ensure that more low-income children are properly prepared to enter the first grade.

The CBC budget substitute recognizes the vital role that the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program plays in improving our communities. The Republican budget proposes to cut CDBG by at least $800 million and the CBC substitutes an additional $1.2 billion cut proposed by the President. These cuts to the CDBG program will leave a huge hole in the budgets of our local governments, a hole they cannot and will not be able to fill with their own resources.

The CBC budget substitute rejects these cuts, and instead provides an increase of $1.2 billion more than the Republican budget for CDBG.

We also reject the $286 million in cuts proposed for the Hope VI program and instead provide $500 million for Hope VI so that it may continue its important role in rehabilitating our nation’s public housing. The CBC budget also provides an additional $880 million for Section 8 Housing Programs, preserving and expanding this vital safety net program for millions of people.

Mr. Chairman, the CBC substitute is a strong and compassionate budget that meets the needs of the American people. I urge my colleagues to support it and to reject the Republican budget.

The Acting CHAIRMAN. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Florida?
All of these funds are spent on other defense items to support our troops, homeland security needs, and veterans programs and benefits.

BOTTOM LINE

The CBC budget addresses critical domestic challenges.

The CBC budget reduces the deficit by $167 billion compared to the House majority's budget over the next five years; this fiscal responsibility produces a reduction of $27 billion in interest payments compared to the House majority's budget.

The CBC budget closes budgetary disparities that are not in our society and investing in America's future. We hope you will join us in supporting these efforts by supporting the CBC budget substitute.

SUMMARY OF FISCAL YEAR 2006 CBC ALTERNATIVE BUDGET

- Total general revenue: $32.4 billion.
- Amount applied to deficit reduction: $3.9 billion.

FUNCTION 150—INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS

The United States is facing unprecedented challenges to our national security and broader national interests. Although there is an overall increase in the President’s request for international assistance for FY 06, more needs to be done to address the ongoing global challenges of health, poverty, disease, and disasters. Therefore, the CBC budget increases funding for these core development accounts with the overall goals of reducing poverty disparities and improving quality of life. +$1 billion.

FUNCTION 250—GENERAL SCIENCE, SPACE, AND TECHNOLOGY

The CBC supports the research and development efforts of NASA, the National Science Foundation (NSF), the National Institute of Standards and Technologies (NIST), and the Department of Energy. In addition to research and development, the CBC supports additional safety measures for the Space Shuttle program. +$500 million.

FUNCTION 350—NATURAL RESOURCES AND DEVELOPMENT

The CBC is concerned about adequate funding for the preservation of Historically Black Colleges and Universities. The alternative budget supports additional efforts to protect the historical and important cultural role of HBCUs in the United States. +$50 million.

FUNCTION 450—AGRICULTURE

The CBC alternative budget supports farms owned by African-Americans and other minorities. The CBC realizes that these farmers continue to depend on the Department of Agriculture’s loan and grant programs and has allocated funding to modify cuts in agriculture programs that affect minorities. The Caucus’s priorities also include increasing funding for expanding food and nutrition education programs and for the USDA Office of Civil Rights. +$300 million.

FUNCTION 500—COMMERCe AND HOUSING CREDIT

The CBC alternative budget works towards eliminating the housing and small business disparities created by the President’s FY06 budget. The alternative budget allocates funding to the Small Business Administration and the Manufacturing Extension Partnership (MEP), and provides additional funding for adult training and dislocated workers programs. By supporting these programs, the CBC is working to close the existing economic disparities in the U.S. and to help entrepreneurs realize the American dream. +$1 billion.

FUNCTION 650—EDUCATION AND TRAINING

The CBC alternative budget represents a comprehensive approach to education and training by closing the achievement and opportunity gaps in education. While the Administration proposes eliminating $8 programs ($4.2 billion cost), the CBC budget dramatically increases funding for education and training programs by $23.9 billion over the Republican budget. It provides funds for school construction, Head Start, GEAR-UP, TRIO and IDEA. For those in college, the CBC budget raises the maximum amount of Pell Grants. In addition, the CBC budget funds the Perkins Loan Programs as well as job training, adult education, and vocational education programs that are critical in today’s global economy. +$23.9 billion.

FUNCTION 750—HEALTH

The CBC alternative budget eliminates health care disparities a top priority by funding health centers such as Community Health Centers. +$1 billion.

FUNCTION 800—INCOME SECURITY

Programs that serve children and families in times of need are essential to fixing the disparities that exist in the U.S. The CBC alternative budget supports additional funding for programs such as Hope VI, Section 8 Housing, housing for the disabled and the elderly, Low Income Housing Assistance and Child Nutrition. +$2 billion.

FUNCTION 950—ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE

The CBC is concerned about the proposed cuts that affect local law enforcement personnel and programs. The alternative budget will fix these wrongs, provide funding for programs that keep our streets and neighborhoods safe. Moreover, the CBC understands the importance of providing adequate funding for programs that promote prevention and intervention. These programs support effective local efforts that reduce crime and delinquency, save money, and save lives. Total Defense funds used, all of which are reallocated to Defense ($1.1 B), Homeland Security needs ($2.05 B), and veterans programs and benefits ($4.65 B); $7.8 billion.

FUNCTION 900—NATIONAL DEFENSE

It is a priority of the CBC to provide American soldiers with the equipment necessary to return home from Iraq in a safe, quick, and successful manner. Therefore, the CBC alternative reallocates $1.1 billion within defense. These funds are used to protect our troops with body armor, personal gear, small arms and ammunition, as well as vehicle armor; for the construction and maintenance of Navy vessels in order to maintain the U.S. Navy fleet and jobs associated with it; and for other defense purposes to maintain our military strength. +$6.7 billion.
The CBC understands that today’s soldiers are tomorrow’s veterans who deserve our respect for the sacrifices they made. Thus, the CBC alternative budget aims to make critical increases in veterans programs, especially funding for veterans health care, as well as long-term care initiatives, VA medical and nonmedical research, and mental health care. +$2.05 billion.

The CBC understands that providing homeland security appropriate funding to meet the many pressing homeland security needs that face our nation. The alternative budget therefore devotes additional resources for guarding against terrorist attacks through our rails and ports, including cargo screening that prevents nuclear or radiological weapons from entering the U.S. It also supports essential funding for the Centers for Disease Control to help us prepare for a possible biological attack. Moreover, America depends on its first responders, federal, state, and local police, and other law enforcement officers; the CBC alternative budget ensures that they—and our collective homeland security effort—have the resources that are urgently needed to protect the citizens of the United States. +$2.05 billion.

Mr. WATT. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from California (Mr. LEW). Ms. LEE. Mr. Chairman, I would like to thank again the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. SCOTT) and the gentleman from North Carolina, chairman of our CBC Black Caucus, for their stellar leadership in spearheading this responsible budget. It should not be an alternative. This is the budget we should be voting on.

The Republican budget is fiscally reckless and morally irresponsible. The CBC budget, if we think about it, really is a faith-based budget. The CBC budget is not only fiscally responsible, but it is also morally responsible.

The Republican budget fails to live up to any standard of morality that speaks to the least of these. On the other hand, the Congressional Black Caucus budget acknowledges that in order to have a strong America, we must support those who are not protected and vulnerable. Our people cannot be desperate if, in fact, we want a strong America.

The Republican budget cuts housing, housing for the disabled by 50 percent. Where is the morality in that? That is turning our backs on the disabled. The CBC budget not only restores these cuts but adds $120 million for housing the disabled.

The Republican budget is an immoral budget, if one asks me. Vote for the CBC budget because it is a faith-based budget that takes care of the least of these.

Mr. WATT. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. CONVYER), the Dean of the CBC.

Mr. CONVYER. Mr. Chairman, the Congressional Black Caucus has carefully considered its responsibility here, and I would ask him to point out a couple of things.

In the Justice Department we need to put more money into three programs that were cut: First, the programs that investigate gang-related crimes; second, the problems of juvenile delinquency; and, third, prison reentry. These are incredibly important.

And I just want to add that this budget that we are trying to replace our colleagues’ roll-call votes that I have witnessed. Over 150 domestic program cuts. The $81 billion for Iraq was not even included in this budget, as if it was a supplemental consideration.

So I ask all of you to join with us and let us have a great number of people supporting the CBC budget this year.

Mr. WATT. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Georgia (Ms. MCKINNEY), and I would like to wish her a happy birthday today. She thought I did not know that.

Ms. MCKINNEY. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman and I will not tell my colleagues which birthday it is.

Mr. Chairman, I yield in support of the CBC budget and against the priorities of the Republican budget.

The Republican budget does nothing to decrease the racial disparities that exist in our country. In fact, it exacerbates the twenty-six years to close the college graduation gap, 581 years to close the wealth gap, 1,664 years to close the homeownership gap.

But when Republicans talk about growth, it is clear that too many American communities are not included. It is also clear that the Republicans do not see our constituents because if they did, they would not legislate public policy that hurts them.

Even Alan Greenspan has decried the unsustainable income imbalances in our country. The Republicans continue to ignore him, us, and our constituents.

It is a sad day when veterans, children, seniors, small business owners, rural Americans, and poor Americans have to take a back seat to the scions of industry and Wall Street.

I support the CBC budget and reject the priorities of the Republican budget. I thank the gentleman for yielding this time.

Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. MCHENRY).

Mr. MCHENRY. Mr. Chairman, again I want to commend the gentleman from North Carolina. We just left off offering this alternative budget. I do commend him for his hard work and efforts on behalf of his constituents, which are my neighbors in North Carolina. I am very proud to have him as a neighbor. I am very proud of his leadership and the manner in which he brings back home to North Carolina.

With that, we do have a disagreement on policy. His version of the budget increase taxes at a time when we are just now recovering from those tough days of the last decade and early 2000s when our economy was soft.

I think it is important that we keep cutting taxes for years to come so that we can keep this economic growth going. And the best way to lift people up, the best way to give people an opportunity, to give them ownership, is by allowing them to keep more of their own money. In the last few years we have seen numerous people falling off the cliff because of the dot-com bust. We have seen strong job growth, new businesses being formed, greater homeownership in America. Across the board every group in America is increasing in homeownership. And I think it is important that we continue those policies to keep growth going while restraining government spending, cutting deficits, and funding national defense and homeland security.

Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. WATT. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. JACKSON-LEE). Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Chairman, happy birthday to my colleague.

Let me resoundingly support the Congressional Black Caucus’ budget, and let me ask my colleagues what better budget to have than the one that saves 5 billion more dollars than the Republican budget? I cannot imagine that my good friend on the floor of the House would not welcome the opportunity of putting that interest into the needs of the American people.

We need affordable housing. We can go to any city, any community, and not see people standing in line to access affordable housing. Section 8 vouchers, which allows affordable housing for families of four and five and six hard-working Americans, there are 25,000 people on the list in Houston, Texas alone. Millions of people are still on the list because they do not have affordable housing.

Finally I congratulate the gentlewoman from Virginia (Mr. SCOTT) and the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. WATT) on this budget because it also invests in homeland security. With all of the talk of the Republican budget, they do not fund immigration and customs officers. They do not fund border patrol officers to secure our borders and provide for internal security. The CBC budget does. The CBC budget puts $75 million in for Border and Customs needs. This is a strong budget for the American people. Vote for the Congressional Black Caucus budget. Save $27.5 billion in interest. I think you will like that in your pocket and in your savings account!

Mr. Chairman, I rise today to offer another choice to those Americans who are disheartened by the current budget proposal being offered by this Republican Congress. Today, we offer them the choice of accepting the Congressional Black Caucus’, CBC, alternative budget. It is important that we continue and compromise; it is the budget that closes the disparities in America’s communities. The CBC alternative budget provides both social and economic equality for Americans, instead of allowing the richest Americans to pay fewer taxes at the expense of vital programs needed by lower and middle class Americans. Surely, this administration and the Republican leadership in Congress will pay lip service to the needs of these Americans, but this budget does more. It demonstrates in writing that our budget eliminates other large programs including $225 million, and state grants for safe and drug-free schools and communities, $437 million for vital Community Block Grants which were gutted in the Republican budget resolution. It is a hope for ending the disparities that continue to divide us and keep us to this day from achieving our full potential as a nation.

Now, on defense, I hope the gentleman from North Carolina for yielding me this 2 minutes. Mr. SCOTT of Virginia. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. SCOTT) who prepared this alternative budget. The CBC alternative budget in stark contrast to the President’s fiscal year 2006 request provides a much needed boost of $23.9 billion for defense technology programs, and $2 million for all military personnel. The CBC alternative doubles federal funding for Historically Black Colleges and Universities and Hispanic Serving Institutions; again closing the disparities often witnessed in higher education. In that regard the CBC alternative increases the Pell grant allotment for college students. Because as all know, a mind, any mind, is a terrible thing to waste. Clearly, the CBC alternative emphasizes this ideal more than the Republican budget resolution.

Few things are more important to American families than their home and their communities. While the President and this Republican Congress take steps to make it harder for average Americans to reach homeownership, the CBC alternative invests heavily in this vital sector. It funds home ownership initiatives that help families start down the path to homeownership. In the city of Baltimore alone we have 25,000 people waiting on a list to obtain affordable housing. These homes will provide them the stability and equity to build their lives and eventually achieve their own prosperity, we shame ourselves when we deny them the opportunity to do so. The CBC alternative also restores $1,112 billion for vital Community Block Grants which were gutted in the Republican budget resolution. Without the ability to build up our communities how can we change people’s realities? Without community development we allow these disparities to continue unabated.

The CBC alternative budget does not remove any money from the overall Defense and Homeland Security budget. Instead, it takes $7.7 billion out of the Ballistic Missile Defense Program, which has so far proven to be a failure and redirects the money to additional support for the troops in Iraq, homeland security needs, and veterans programs and benefits. Among the items of support for the troops in Iraq is $75 million of body armor, personal supplier equipment, and other protective gear for troops, and vehicle armor; all of which we know the troops are in urgent need of. The CBC alternative provides an additional $2.05 billion for Homeland Security including funds for improving rail and port security, which has already been a high priority for attack. This alternative budget provides $4.65 billion for veterans funding, so that when our brave men and women return home from fighting the war on terror they will know that their nation is ready and willing to take care of them.

The CBC alternative also funds the important sector of immigration. As the ranking member of the Subcommittee on Immigration, Border Security, and Claims I worked with the CBC to get funding for $150 million for Immigration and Customs Enforcement, ICE, agents and border patrol agents, truly we are undermanned in this vital sector. In addition, as a member of the House Science Committee I worked with the CBC to fund an additional $500 million for general science, space, and development and support the research and development efforts of NASA, the National Science Foundation, NSF, the National Institute of Standards and Technologies, NIST, and the Department of Energy. In addition to research and development, the CBC alternative also supports additional safety measures for the Space Shuttle program, which should be at the forefront of NASA’s efforts after the Columbia Space Shuttle tragedy. Space and Science represent yet another way to eliminate disparities through knowledge and discovery.

This CBC alternative budget is proof positive that we can properly fund social programs while still paying down more of the national debt than the Republican budget. Again, I say that this budget represents hope instead of the despair we feel when looking at the Republican budget. It is a budget that hopes to end the disparities that continue to divide us and keep us to this day from achieving our full potential as a nation.

Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Mr. Chairman, if I may inquire of the gentleman from North Carolina how many speakers he has left.

Mr. WATT. Mr. Chairman, I was hoping that the gentleman would give us a little bit more time.

Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Mr. Chairman, if I may inquire of the gentleman how many speakers he has.

Mr. WATT. I have two speakers left.

Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida. And how much time does he have left, Mr. Chairman?

The Acting CHAIRMAN (Mr. GILLMOR). The gentleman from North Carolina has 2 minutes.

Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida. I believe I have 2½ minutes, Mr. Chairman. Is that correct?

The Acting CHAIRMAN. The gentleman from Florida has 2½ minutes remaining.

Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Mr. Chairman, I will, in a spirit of incredible generosity to the opposition, yield another half minute to the gentleman.

The Acting CHAIRMAN. The gentleman from North Carolina now has 2½ minutes. The gentleman from Florida now has 2 minutes.

Mr. WATT. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. SCOTT) who prepared this budget. This budget has its imprint on it and knows more about it than anybody.

Mr. SCOTT of Virginia. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman from North Carolina for yielding me this time. I want to make a couple of comments as we wrap up. One is the massive tax increase. What we did was started with the base budget, the Republican budget. On income we changed the revenue by rolling back a 12-aircraft carrier fleet. This budget, the Congressional Black Caucus budget, has a billion dollars more in shipbuilding than the underlying budget. We have $75 million more in shipbuilding than the underlying budget. We have $75 million more in body armor. We have in homeland security, $500 million for port security; $100 million for rail security, veterans benefits. Those charts did not show what the present level of services would cost. It also did not show the fact that the Republican budget has co-pays and deductibles that our budget does not have. We say we have $4 billion more for veterans, over $1 billion more for shipbuilding, over $2 billion more for homeland security. If you look at that as a group, we are more secure with the Congressional Black Caucus budget than the Republican budget.

I would hope that we would adopt the budget. It saves money and makes us more secure.

I include for the RECORD the fiscal year 2006 CBC alternative budget breakdown:

FISCAL YEAR 2006 CBC ALTERNATIVE BUDGET BREAKDOWN

Working off the Chairman’s Mark, As Amended, all calculations are for changes above/below proposed Fiscal Year 2006 levels.
On behalf of the Congressional Black Caucus, this Amendment in the Nature of a Substitute seeks to offer to Congress and the American people an alternative budget that is fiscally responsible and aimed at reducing disparities in our communities. The CBC alternative budget raises revenue by reducing the tax cuts from 2001 and 2003 for an individual’s adjusted gross income that exceeds $300,000 and not adopting the new Republican tax cuts, eliminating corporate tax incentives for off-shoring jobs, closing tax loopholes, abusive shelters, and methods of tax avoidance, and eliminating the repeal of the limitation on itemized deductions (Pease) and the personal exemptions (PEP) scheduled to take place between 2006 and 2010. These funds total an estimated $36.3 billion in FY 2006. The CBC budget uses nearly $4 billion of these additional revenues for deficit reduction. The remaining funds are used to restore cuts and fund increases in specific budget function areas. These include full funding for No Child Left Behind and providing funds for school construction and increases for other education and job training programs. The CBC alternative budget allocates additional funding for job creation programs under SBA, community and regional development programs including community development block grants, and law enforcement initiatives such as juvenile justice and prisoner reentry programs. It provides funding for child nutrition programs, community health centers, NASA research and development, Amtrak, Hope VI and Section 8 housing programs, and housing for the disabled and the elderly.

In addition, the CBC alternative budget renews the funding for the Ballistic Missile Defense program by $7.8 billion. The CBC alternative budget reallocated all of this money for additional support for the troops in Iraq and other defense items necessary to maintain our military strength and jobs, homeland security needs (under the general allowances function), and veterans programs and benefits.

I. REVENUE RAISERS AND DEFENSE REALLOCATION [IN BILLIONS]

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>FY06</th>
<th>FY07</th>
<th>FY08</th>
<th>FY09</th>
<th>FY10</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>General ($13.5 billion)</td>
<td>Reduce Tax Cut Over 2006</td>
<td>22.9</td>
<td>24.5</td>
<td>25.5</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elim Offshoring Incentives</td>
<td>10.0</td>
<td>10.0</td>
<td>10.0</td>
<td>10.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Closing Tax Loopholes</td>
<td>2.0</td>
<td>2.0</td>
<td>2.0</td>
<td>2.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elimi Repeal Pease &amp; PEP</td>
<td>1.4</td>
<td>2.0</td>
<td>4.6</td>
<td>6.5</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Defense ($1.5 billion)</td>
<td>Reduce Ballistic Missile Def</td>
<td>7.8</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total</td>
<td>44.1</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

General Revenue Raisers
A reduction in the tax cuts from 2001 and 2003 for an individual’s adjusted gross income that exceeds $300,000; Furthermore, the CBC budget alternative does not adopt the new Republican tax cuts.

Eliminating corporate tax incentives for off-shoring jobs. The closing tax loopholes category includes closing abusive (tax) shelters and methods of tax avoidance.

Eliminating the repeal of the limitation on itemized deductions (Pease) and the phase out of personal exemptions (PEP) scheduled to take place between 2006 and 2010.
The CBC budget applies nearly $4 billion of these additional revenues for deficit reduction. The remaining funds are used to restore cuts and fund increases in specific budget function areas. These include full funding for No Child Left Behind and providing funds for school construction and increases for other education and job training programs. The CBC alternative budget allocates additional funding for job creation programs under SBA, community and regional development programs including community development block grants, and law enforcement initiatives such as juvenile justice and prisoner reentry programs. It provides funding for child nutrition programs, community health centers, NASA research and development, Amtrak, Hope VI and Section 8 housing programs, and housing for the disabled and the elderly.

In addition, the CBC alternative budget renews the funding for the Ballistic Missile Defense program by $7.8 billion. The CBC alternative budget reallocated all of this money for additional support for the troops in Iraq and other defense items necessary to maintain our military strength and jobs, homeland security needs (under the general allowances function), and veterans programs and benefits.

II. PROGRAMS (GENERAL) $36.3 BILLION

All functions except Function 050 (National Defense), Function 700 (Veterans), and Function 920 (Allowances). All calculations are for changes above and below proposed Fiscal Year 2006 levels included in the Republican budget.

Function 150—International Affairs | +$1 billion |
| Foreign Aid to Africa and the Caribbean | $250 million |
| Global AIDS Initiative/State Department | $500 million |
| Public Health and Preventable Illness Initiatives | $250 million |

Function 250—General Science, Space, and Technology | +$500 million |
| NASA Aeronautics Research and Development | $200 million |
| NASA Space Shuttle safety | $100 million |
| Restore R & D funding for the NSF, DOE and NASA | $170 million |
| NOAA Funding | $30 million |

Function 270—Energy | no change |

Function 300—Natural Resources and Environment | +$50 million |
| Historically Black Colleges and Universities Historic Preservation Program | $50 million |
| Function 350—Agriculture | +$300 million |
| 1890 Land-grant Historically Black Colleges and Universities | $75 million |
| Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program | $100 million |
| USDA Office of Civil Rights | $25 million |
| Restore/modify draconian cuts in agriculture programs that affect minorities | $100 million |

Function 370—Commerce and Housing Credit | +$1 billion |
| SBA Loan Programs: 7(a), Microloan, PRIME, New Market Venture | $145 million |
| Adult training and dislocated workers program | $185 million |
| Manufacturing Extension Partnership | $70 million |
| Home Ownership Initiatives | $600 million |

Function 400—Transportation | +$150 million |
| Amtrak | $100 million |
| Public Transportation | $50 million |

Function 450—Community and Regional Development | +$1.5 billion |
| Community Development Block Grants | $1.122 billion |

Brownfields Economic Development | $23 million |
| Empowerment Zones | $22 million |
| Community Development Financial Institutions | $48 million |
| Economic Development Assistance | $284 million |

Function 500—Education and Training | +$23.9 billion |
| School Construction | $2.5 billion |
| Full Funding for No Child Left Behind, including Title I | $12 billion |
| Safe and Drug Free Schools | $2 billion |
| 21st Century Learning Centers | $2 billion |
| Teacher Quality Programs | $2 billion |
| Education Technology | $2 billion |
| Fund for the Improvement of Education | $2 billion |
| English Language Acquisition | $2 billion |
| Migrant Education | $2 billion |
| Elementary and Secondary School Counseling | $2 billion |
| Vocational Education | $1.5 billion |
| Job Training | $750 million |
| Adult Education | $400 million |
| Pell Grants | $650 million |
| Head Start | $2 billion |
| Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) | $2 billion |
| Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs) | $500 million |
| Hispanic Serving Institutions | $400 million |
| Trio Program | $400 million |
| Gaining Early Awareness and Readiness for Undergraduate Programs (GEAR-UP) | $350 million |
| Perkins Loans | $100 million |
| Impact Aid | $300 million |
| SEOG | $100 million |

Function 550—Health | +$1 billion |
| Minority Health and Eliminating Health Disparities | $400 million |
| Community Health Centers | $500 million |
| Office of Minority Health | $10 million |

Function 570—Medicare | no change |

Function 600—Income Security | +$2 billion |
| Section 8 Housing Program | $880 million |
| HOPE VI | $500 million |
| Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program | $200 million |
| Child Nutrition Programs | $200 million |
| Housing for the Disabled | $120 million |
Housing for the Elderly .................................................. $100 million Function 650—Social Security ........................................ no change Function 750—Administration of Justice ...................... $1 billion
Juvenile Justice .......................................................... $600 million
Department of Justice Prisoner Reentry Program .......... $300 million Weed and Seed and Drug Elimination Programs .............. $100 million Function 800—General Government ............................... no change
Total General ............................................................ $32.4 billion
Amount to be applied to deficit reduction ...................... $3.9 billion

III. PROGRAMS (DEFENSE, HOMELAND SECURITY AND VETERANS: $7.8 BILLION)

All of the funds reduced from Ballistic Missile Defense are reallocated within various functions to provide for additional support for the troops in Iraq and other defense items necessary to maintain our military strength and jobs ($1.1 billion), homeland security needs ($2.05 billion), and veterans programs and benefits ($4.65 billion). All calculations are for changes above/below proposed Fiscal Year 2006 levels included in the Republican budget.

Function 650—National Defense ..................................... $6.7 billion

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Description</th>
<th>Amount</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Body armor, personal support equipment, and other protective gear for troops,</td>
<td>$75 million</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and vehicle armor</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ammunition for Marine Corps</td>
<td>$10 million</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Small Arms for Army</td>
<td>$10 million</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Building/Maintenance of Navy ships</td>
<td>$1 million</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

To study instances of waste, fraud and abuse within DoD business processes and implement specific GAO recommendations for reform .......................... $5 million Function 700—Veterans ................................................................

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Description</th>
<th>Amount</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Veterans Health Care, Survivor Benefit Plan, Disabled Veterans Tax ..........</td>
<td>$1 billion</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;concurrent receipt&quot; [ ]</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fund long-term care initiatives for veterans</td>
<td>$100 million</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Remove proposed $250 enrollment fee on Priority 7&amp;8 veterans</td>
<td>$2.5 billion</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Remove proposed increases in co-payments for Priority 7&amp;8 veterans</td>
<td>$400 million</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Remove proposed increases in co-payments for veterans</td>
<td>$300 million</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Prosthetic Research, VA Medical and Prosthetic Research, Mental Health Care</td>
<td>$150 million</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>for Veterans</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>VA Medical and Prosthetic Research, Mental Health Care for Veterans ..........</td>
<td>$100 million</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>$50 million</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>$50 million</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>$50 million</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Function 920—Allocations (all for purposes of Homeland Security)............. $2.05 billion
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Description</th>
<th>Amount</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Rail Security</td>
<td>$100 million</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Port Security, including air cargo screening, preventing nuclear/radiological</td>
<td>$500 million</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>weapons in cargo containers, research and development, and grants ..........</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Centers for Disease Control</td>
<td>$250 million</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>First Responders</td>
<td>$900 million</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Interoperable communications systems for first responders</td>
<td>$35 million</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Federal air marshals</td>
<td>$65 million</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Internal Customs Enforcement/Border Patrol Agents</td>
<td>$150 million</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Total defense funds used, all of which are reallocated to defense, Homeland Security needs, and veterans programs and benefits ........................... $7.8 billion

Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, I would like to clarify one thing, and then I will just close. I heard a few minutes ago that our budget, the House resolution does not fund the war against global terrorism. In fact, it does. There is $80 billion for 2004, plus an additional $50 million for 2005.

Again, I want to thank the chairman for bringing up a budget. The problem with that budget again is that it kills job creation with huge tax increases. But if you believe in huge taxes, you should vote for their amendment and not vote against it. It has, again, huge additional spending of the hardearned money of the American taxpayers. It has huge reductions in defense spending in a time of war. And because of all those reasons, Mr. Chairman, by the way, it also assumes that there is no waste in the Federal budget whatsoever because it does not go after one penny, not one little penny of waste in the Federal budget.

And for those reasons, Mr. Chairman, I would respectfully request that we vote down this amendment.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the remaining part of my time.

Mr. WATT. Mr. Chair, does the gentleman have time left that he might be able to yield to me instead of yielding back?

The Acting CHAIRMAN. The gentleman from Florida has yielded back his time and the gentleman from North Carolina has 30 seconds remaining.

Mr. WATT. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself my remaining time, and I thank the gentleman for his time. I want to thank all of the members of the Congressional Black Caucus, and I especially want to thank their staffs who have really gone to a lot of trouble to help us put this budget together. This is the budget, Members, that gives you the choice. And a budget is about making choices. That is really what a budget is.

In our own households, we have to make choices. The choices we have made favor closing disparities that exist in our society that have been here for years and years. The choice we make is to fund No Child Left Behind fully, and not to fund a ballistic missile system that has been a failure, even though we allow research to continue on that front.

So I would ask our friends to face up to these choices and resolve them in a way that helps us close these disparities that have existed throughout the history in this country.

Mr. BISHOP of Georgia. Mr. Chairman, I rise in support of the CBC Budget, a common-sense framework that embraces our values, that focuses on fiscal discipline and that invests in our nation’s future.

To be frank, the budget that President Bush presented us with is a betrayal of the trust that is placed in us as legislators. It violates the commitments that we have made to our children, to our veterans, and to our farmers and ranchers, while raising the debt, that we have no means of repaying.

I stand in support of the CBC Budget because it is a fiscally responsible alternative that targets the disparities that plague our country and puts our priorities where they belong. It lowers the astronomical budget deficit, by eliminating corporate tax loopholes and abusive tax shelters at the same time that it lowers tax cuts for individuals making more than $200,000 a year.

This adjustment would restore an estimated $36.3 billion in FY 2006, including nearly $4 billion for deficit reduction. We will fully fund No Child Left Behind; build and repair schools; increase investment in job training and job creation programs. We will not slash communities and regional development programs, and we will fund the disabled and the elderly. And we keep our commitments to our nation’s farmers who are depending on us to keep the promises that we made in the 2002 Farm Bill.

Additionally, the CBC Budget allocates funding for Veterans and Defense above the president’s requested level, to support our troops in Iraq and Afghanistan, bolster our homeland security needs, and fully fund our veterans programs and benefits.

Mr. Chairman, I believe in fiscal responsibility. I believe that in times of national and fiscal crisis, sacrifices need to be made. But, I also believe that they need to be made by all Americans. It is unfair to scale back government programs that benefit hard working families in order to fund tax cuts that most benefit the wealthiest of Americans. We all need to make sacrifices, but we must also keep our priorities straight.

I believe that the CBC Budget does just that.

Mr. OWENS. Mr. Chairman, this Congressional Black Caucus alternative budget continues the CBC tradition of advocating for increased federal aid to education as the first priority of the world’s only superpower. For the last ten years the Members of the CBC have boldly trumpeted the fact that there is an Education State-of-Emergency in the African American community and in the mainstream of America.
The American people enhanced by universal quality education constitute the greatest Weapon of Mass Construction our nation can have. To maintain this Weapon of Mass Construction, to maximize Homeland Security, education must be our front line of defense. To confront violent fanatics and zealots in the military arena our soldiers must be the best trained and most educated fighting force in the world. To maintain, expand and guide the most complex economic system in the history of our civilization in ways that guarantee continued prosperity we must accept nothing less than overwhelming superiority in education.

Our budget must reflect this overwhelming quest for supremacy. Members of the CBC have proudly supported an increase of 23.9 billion dollars in the education budget. More specifically we have supported the following restorations and increases:

- Full Funding for No Child Left Behind, including:
  - Title I, Safe and Drug Free Schools, 21st Century Learning Centers, Teacher Quality Programs, Education Technology, Fund for the Improvement of Education, English Language Acquisition, and Head Start
- $2.5 billion for School Construction
- $12 billion for Universal Quality Education
- $2 billion for Elementary and Secondary Education
- $2 billion for Gaining Early Awareness and Readiness for Undergraduate Programs
- $2.5 billion for Vocational Education
- $2 billion for School Counseling

Elementary and Secondary School Counseling Program

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>State</th>
<th>Funding</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>California</td>
<td>$750 million</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Texas</td>
<td>$1.5 billion</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Function 500—Education and Training

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Function</th>
<th>Funding</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Education</td>
<td>$2.5 billion</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Function 600—Elementary and Secondary Education

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Program</th>
<th>Funding</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Title I</td>
<td>$12 billion</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Head Start</td>
<td>$2 billion</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs)</td>
<td>$500 million</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hispanic Serving Institutions (HSI)</td>
<td>$400 million</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tribal Institutions (TRIO)</td>
<td>$500 million</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The Acting CHAIRMAN. All time for debate has expired.

The question is on the amendment in the nature of a substitute offered by Mr. WATTS.

The question was taken; and the Acting Chairman announced that the amendment appeared to have it.

RECORDED VOTE

Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Mr. Chairman, I demand a recorded vote.

A recorded vote was ordered.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—aye 134, noes 292, answered “present” 3, not voting 5, as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Ayes</th>
<th>Noes</th>
<th>Present</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>134</td>
<td>292</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Mr. DIAZ-BALART. The Acting CHAIRMAN. All time for debate has expired.

The Acting CHAIRMAN. The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—aye 134, noes 292, answered “present” 3, not voting 5, as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Ayes</th>
<th>Noes</th>
<th>Present</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>134</td>
<td>292</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Mr. DIAZ-BALART. The Acting CHAIRMAN. All time for debate has expired.

The Acting CHAIRMAN. The question was taken; and the Acting Chairman announced that the noes appeared to have it.

RECORDED VOTE

Mr. DIAZ-BALART. The Acting CHAIRMAN. I demand a recorded vote.

A recorded vote was ordered.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—aye 101, noes 313, answered “present” 1, not voting 19, as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Ayes</th>
<th>Noes</th>
<th>Present</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>101</td>
<td>313</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Mr. DIAZ-BALART. The Acting CHAIRMAN. All time for debate has expired.

The Acting CHAIRMAN. The question was taken; and the Acting Chairman announced that the noes appeared to have it.

RECORDED VOTE

Mr. DIAZ-BALART. The Acting CHAIRMAN. I demand a recorded vote.

A recorded vote was ordered.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—aye 134, noes 292, answered “present” 3, not voting 5, as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Ayes</th>
<th>Noes</th>
<th>Present</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>134</td>
<td>292</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

AMENDMENT NO. 4 IN THE NATURE OF A SUBSTITUTE IS AS FOLLOWS:

The text of the amendment in the nature of a substitute is as follows:

Amendment No. 4 in the nature of a substitute offered by Mr. SPRAT. Strike all after the resolving clause and insert the following:

SECTION 1. CONCURRENT RESOLUTION ON THE BUDGET FOR FISCAL YEAR 2006.

The Congress declares that the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2006 is hereby established and that the appropriate budgetary levels for fiscal years 2005 and 2007 through 2015 forthwith.

TITLe 1—RECOMMENDED LEVELS AND AMOUNTS

The following budgetary levels are appropriate for each of fiscal years 2005 through 2015:

(1) FEDERAL REVENUES.—For purposes of the enforcement of this resolution:

(a) The recommended levels of Federal revenues are as follows:

Fiscal year 2005: $1,487,366,000,000.
Fiscal year 2006: $1,616,662,000,000.
Fiscal year 2007: $1,740,221,000,000.
Fiscal year 2008: $1,875,035,000,000.
Fiscal year 2009: $1,998,215,000,000.
Fiscal year 2010: $2,112,618,000,000.
Fiscal year 2011: $2,287,861,000,000.
Fiscal year 2012: $2,494,117,000,000.
Fiscal year 2013: $2,629,382,000,000.
Fiscal year 2014: $2,775,362,000,000.
Fiscal year 2015: $2,927,859,000,000.

(b) The amounts by which the aggregate levels of Federal revenues should be increased are as follows:

Fiscal year 2006: $9,000,000,000.
Fiscal year 2007: $9,000,000,000.
Fiscal year 2008: $9,000,000,000.
Fiscal year 2009: $9,000,000,000.
Fiscal year 2010: $9,000,000,000.
Fiscal year 2011: $9,000,000,000.
Fiscal year 2012: $9,000,000,000.
Fiscal year 2013: $9,000,000,000.
Fiscal year 2014: $9,000,000,000.
Fiscal year 2015: $9,000,000,000.

(2) NEW BUDGET AUTHORITY.—For purposes of the enforcement of this resolution, the appropriate levels of total new budget authority are as follows:

Fiscal year 2005: $2,073,647,000,000.
Fiscal year 2006: $2,164,495,000,000.
Fiscal year 2007: $2,243,088,000,000.
Fiscal year 2008: $2,363,415,000,000.
Fiscal year 2009: $2,486,979,000,000.
Fiscal year 2010: $2,609,394,000,000.
Fiscal year 2011: $2,717,544,000,000.
Fiscal year 2012: $2,792,862,000,000.
Fiscal year 2013: $2,923,694,000,000.
Fiscal year 2014: $3,151,690,000,000.
Fiscal year 2015: $3,187,568,000,000.

(3) BUDGET OUTLAYS.—For purposes of the enforcement of this resolution, the appropriate levels of total budget outlays are as follows:

Fiscal year 2005: $2,546,871,000,000.
Fiscal year 2006: $2,645,034,000,000.
Fiscal year 2007: $2,745,968,000,000.
Fiscal year 2008: $2,838,455,000,000.
Fiscal year 2009: $2,960,804,000,000.
Fiscal year 2010: $3,107,982,000,000.
Fiscal year 2011: $3,226,691,000,000.
Fiscal year 2012: $3,362,171,000,000.
Fiscal year 2013: $3,496,776,000,000.
Fiscal year 2014: $3,631,568,000,000.
Fiscal year 2015: $3,766,358,000,000.

The Acting CHAIRMAN. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 4 printed in House Report 109-19.

AMENDMENT NO. 4 IN THE NATURE OF A SUBSTITUTE OFFERED BY MR. SPRATT.

Mr. SPRAT. Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment in the nature of a substitute.

The Acting CHAIRMAN. The Clerk will designate the amendment in the nature of a substitute.

(5) DEBT SUBJECT TO LIMIT.—Pursuant to section 301(a)(5) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, the appropriate levels of the public debt held by the public as of March 17, 2005 for each major functional category are:

Fiscal year 2010: $10,995,340,000,000. Fiscal year 2011: $13,102,135,000,000. Fiscal year 2012: $11,942,708,000,000. Fiscal year 2013: $12,347,979,000,000. Fiscal year 2014: $12,734,145,000,000. Fiscal year 2015: $13,102,135,000,000. (A) New budget authority, $31,718,000,000. (B) Outlays, $32,166,000,000.

(3) General Science, Space, and Technology

(2) International Affairs (150): Fiscal year 2005: $33,359,000,000.
(A) New budget authority, $11,894,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $5,116,000,000.
Fiscal year 2010:
(A) New budget authority, $14,565,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $6,294,000,000.
Fiscal year 2011:
(A) New budget authority, $11,914,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $4,973,000,000.
Fiscal year 2012:
(A) New budget authority, $12,129,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $4,948,000,000.
Fiscal year 2013:
(A) New budget authority, $12,178,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $4,728,000,000.
Fiscal year 2014:
(A) New budget authority, $12,220,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $4,629,000,000.
Fiscal year 2015:
(A) New budget authority, $13,320,000,000.
(Fiscal year 400):
(B) Outlays, $1,330,000,000.
(Fiscal year 700):
(B) Outlays, $24,029,000,000.
Fiscal year 2016:
(A) New budget authority, $371,899,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $331,092,000,000.
Fiscal year 2006:
(A) New budget authority, $371,394,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $318,142,000,000.
Fiscal year 2007:
(A) New budget authority, $322,543,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $297,157,000,000.
Fiscal year 2008:
(A) New budget authority, $299,465,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $277,318,000,000.
Fiscal year 2009:
(A) New budget authority, $297,898,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $264,672,000,000.
Fiscal year 2010:
(A) New budget authority, $297,157,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $277,318,000,000.
Fiscal year 2011:
(A) New budget authority, $322,543,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $297,898,000,000.
Fiscal year 2012:
(A) New budget authority, $322,543,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $297,898,000,000.
Fiscal year 2013:
(A) New budget authority, $322,543,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $297,898,000,000.
Fiscal year 2014:
(A) New budget authority, $322,543,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $297,898,000,000.
Fiscal year 2015:
(A) New budget authority, $322,543,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $297,898,000,000.
Fiscal year 2016:
(A) New budget authority, $322,543,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $297,898,000,000.
Fiscal year 2005:
(A) New budget authority, $322,543,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $297,898,000,000.
Fiscal year 2006:
(A) New budget authority, $322,543,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $277,318,000,000.
Fiscal year 2007:
(A) New budget authority, $322,543,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $297,318,000,000.
Fiscal year 2010:
(A) New budget authority, $322,543,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $297,318,000,000.
Fiscal year 2011:
(A) New budget authority, $322,543,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $297,318,000,000.
Fiscal year 2012:
(A) New budget authority, $322,543,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $297,318,000,000.
Fiscal year 2013:
(A) New budget authority, $322,543,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $297,318,000,000.
Fiscal year 2014:
(A) New budget authority, $322,543,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $297,318,000,000.
Fiscal year 2015:
(A) New budget authority, $322,543,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $297,318,000,000.
Fiscal year 2005:
(A) New budget authority, $322,543,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $297,318,000,000.
Fiscal year 2006:
(A) New budget authority, $322,543,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $297,318,000,000.
Fiscal year 2007:
(A) New budget authority, $322,543,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $297,318,000,000.
Fiscal year 2010:
(A) New budget authority, $322,543,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $297,318,000,000.
Fiscal year 2011:
(A) New budget authority, $322,543,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $297,318,000,000.
Fiscal year 2016:
(A) New budget authority, $267,942,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $267,942,000,000.

Fiscal year 2017:
(A) New budget authority, $310,255,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $310,255,000,000.

Fiscal year 2018:
(A) New budget authority, $385,585,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $385,585,000,000.

Fiscal year 2019:
(A) New budget authority, $424,099,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $424,099,000,000.

Fiscal year 2020:
(A) New budget authority, $540,267,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $540,267,000,000.

Fiscal year 2021:
(A) New budget authority, $774,290,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $774,290,000,000.

Fiscal year 2022:
(A) New budget authority, $844,088,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $844,088,000,000.

Fiscal year 2023:
(A) New budget authority, $524,530,000,000.
(B) Outlays, $524,530,000,000.

Title II—Reserve Funds and Contingency Procedure
Subtitle A—Reserve Funds

Sec. 201. Deficit-Neutral Reserve Fund for Health Insurance Coverage for the Uninsured.

In the House, if legislation is reported, or if an amendment thereto is offered or a conference report thereon is submitted, that provides affordable, comprehensive health insurance to the uninsured and built upon and strengthens public and private coverage, including preventing the erosion of existing coverage under Medicaid, the chairman of the Committee on the Budget may make the appropriate adjustments in allocations and aggregates to the extent such measure is deficit neutral (whether by changes in revenues or direct spending) in fiscal year 2006 and for the period of fiscal years 2006 through 2015.

(a) In General.—In the House, if the Committee on Ways and Means or the Committee on Energy and Commerce reports a bill or joint resolution, or if an amendment thereto is offered or a conference report thereon is submitted, that provides for a reduction in new budget authority and outlays under part D of title XVIII of the Social Security Act through authority described in subsection (b), insofar as such measure does not provide for new budget authority in the form of a reduction in beneficiary cost-sharing (which may include the partial or complete elimination of the so-called donut hole) under such part, the chairman of the Committee on the Budget shall revise the appropriate budgetary aggregates and allocations of new budget authority and outlays to reflect any resulting new savings from such measure.

(b) Authority Defined.—For purposes of this subsection, the authority described in this subsection is authority for the Secretary of Health and Human Services to negotiate prescription drug prices under part D of title XVIII of the Social Security Act, which may include either or both of the following:

(1) Authority to negotiate prescription drug prices similar to the authority described in this subsection.

(2) Other methods that lower the price of covered part D drugs under such part D.

Subtitle B—Contingency Procedure
Sec. 211. Contingency Procedure for Surface Transportation.

(a) In General.—If the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure of the House reports legislation, or if an amendment thereto is offered or a conference report thereon is submitted, that provides new budget authority for the budget accounts or portions of highway and transit categories as defined in sections 250(c)(4)(B) and (C) of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 in excess of the levels for the next fiscal year:

(1) for fiscal year 2005: $42,006,000,000,
(2) for fiscal year 2006: $45,899,100,000,
(3) for fiscal year 2007: $47,828,700,000,
(4) for fiscal year 2008: $57,715,400,000,
(5) for fiscal year 2009: $51,743,500,000,
the chairman of the Committee on the Budget may adjust the appropriate budget aggregates and increase the allocations to such budget authority to such committee for fiscal year 2005 and for the period of fiscal years 2005 through 2009 to the extent such excess is offset by a reduction in mandatory outlays from the Highway Trust Fund or an increase in receipts appropriated to such fund for the applicable fiscal year provided by such legislation or any previously enacted legislation.

(b) ADJUSTMENT FOR OUTLAYS.—For fiscal year 2006, in the House, if a bill or joint resolution is reported, or if an amendment thereon is offered or a conference report thereon is submitted, that changes obligation limitations such that the total limitations are in excess of $42,006,000,000 for such fiscal year for program, projects, and activities within the highway and transit categories as defined in sections 250(c)(4)(B) and (C) of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985, and if legislation has been enacted that satisfies the conditions set forth in subsection (a) for such fiscal year, the chairman of the Committee on the Budget may increase the allocation of outlays and appropriate aggregates for such fiscal year for the committee reporting such measure by the amount by which such aggregate exceeds the current limitation.

It is the sense of the House that:

(1) increasing Service members Group Life Insurance (SGLI) coverage to $400,000 and providing free coverage to those in combat, and increasing the death gratuity to $100,000, and high priority areas which should not have been omitted from the President’s budget request;
(2) continuing targeted pay increases for enlistment bonuses are also high priorities which should not have been omitted from the President’s budget request because they are critical to the retention of experienced personnel;
(3) increasing funds for family service centers to support families of deploying service members is a high priority, and the President’s budget should have requested sufficient funding for this purpose;
(4) increasing funds for community-based health care organizations is a high priority to enable injured service men and women to receive the care they need close to home, and the President’s budget should have included sufficient funding for this purpose;
(5) funding cooperative threat reduction and nuclear nonproliferation programs at a level adequate to address the risks to our nation is also a high priority and was recommended five years ago by the Baken-Cutter Commission, and the President’s budget should have requested sufficient funding in this area;
(6) funding the Missile Defense Agency at a substantial but lower level will ensure a more measured strategy, yet still support a robust ballistic missile defense program;
(7) funding satellite research, development, and procurement at a level above the amount enacted for 2005 but below the amount requested for 2006, which represents an increase of more than 50 percent, will provide adequate funding for new satellite technologies, while ensuring a more prudent acquisition strategy;
(8) improving financial management at the Department of Defense should identify billions of dollars of obligations and disbursements which the Government Accountability Office has found that the Department of Defense cannot account for, and should result in substantial annual savings;
(9) all savings that accrue from the actions recommended in paragraphs (6) through (8) should be used to increase the defense priority areas within the national security function of the budget, function 050, and especially those high priorities identified in paragraphs (1) through (5), ship force and defense-related homeland security activities.

It is the sense of the House on extension of the PAY-as-you-go rule of 1997.

It is the sense of the House that in order to reduce the deficit, Congress should extend PAYGO in its original form in the Budget Enforcement Act of 1990, making the rule apply both to tax decreases and to mandatory spending.

It is the sense of the House that:
(1) this resolution provides a total of $110 million for the Manufacturing Extension Partnership for 2006, $63 million more than the President’s budget request, and supports adequate funding throughout the period covered by this resolution; and
(2) this funding protects the viability of the Manufacturing Extension Partnership and provides the necessary resources for the Manufacturing Extension Partnership to continue helping small manufacturers reach their optimal performance and increase the current limitations on personal exemptions and itemized deductions (so-called “PEP”) and

SEC. 401. SENSE OF THE HOUSE ON DEFENSE PRIORITIES.
It is the sense of the House that—

(1) the resolution rejects the President’s cuts to elementary and secondary education, as well as the President’s proposals to increase student costs for college loans and to cut Pell Grants, so that low-income students obtain a post-secondary education;
(2) the resolution provides a $100 annual increase in the maximum Pell Grant award in the next ten years, and assumes increased efficiency in the student loan programs; and
(3) the mandatory levels in this resolution provide the $4.3 billion necessary to eliminate the current shortfall in the Pell Grant program, restoring the program to a sound financial basis.

SEC. 405. SENSE OF THE HOUSE ON HOMELAND SECURITY.
It is the sense of the House that:

(1) this resolution provides additional homeland security funding above the President’s requested level for 2006 and every subsequent year;
(2) this resolution provides $9,800,000,000 above the President’s requested level for 2006, and greater amounts in subsequent years, in the four budget functions (Function 400, Transportation; Function 450, Community and Regional Development; Function 500, Agriculture and Food; Function 510, Justice) which fund most nondefense homeland security activities; and
(3) the homeland security funding provided in this resolution will help reconstitute the preparedness of our public health system, train and equip our first responders, and otherwise strengthen the Nation’s homeland security.

SEC. 406. SENSE OF THE HOUSE REGARDING PAY PARITY.
It is the sense of the House that:

(1) compensation for civilian and military employees of the United States, without whom we cannot successfully serve and protect our citizens and taxpayers, must be sufficient to support our critical efforts to recruit, retain, and reward quality people effectively and responsibly; and
(2) to achieve this objective, the rate of increase in the compensation of civilian employees should be equal to that proposed for the military in the President’s fiscal year 2006 budget.

SEC. 407. POLICY.
It is the policy of this budget resolution to balance long-term, sustainable national security programs, such as: strengthening tax compliance; increasing the generosity of our public health system, train and equip our first responders, and otherwise strengthen the Nation’s homeland security; and

SEC. 404. SENSE OF THE HOUSE ON EDUCATION.
It is the sense of the House that—

(1) the resolution rejects the President’s cuts to elementary and secondary education, as well as the President’s proposals to increase student costs for college loans and to cut Pell Grants, so that low-income students obtain a post-secondary education;
(2) the resolution provides a $100 annual increase in the maximum Pell Grant award in the next ten years, and assumes increased efficiency in the student loan programs; and
(3) the mandatory levels in this resolution provide the $4.3 billion necessary to eliminate the current shortfall in the Pell Grant program, restoring the program to a sound financial basis.

SEC. 405. SENSE OF THE HOUSE ON HOMELAND SECURITY.
It is the sense of the House that:

(1) this resolution provides additional homeland security funding above the President’s requested level for 2006 and every subsequent year;
(2) this resolution provides $9,800,000,000 above the President’s requested level for 2006, and greater amounts in subsequent years, in the four budget functions (Function 400, Transportation; Function 450, Community and Regional Development; Function 500, Agriculture and Food; Function 510, Justice) which fund most nondefense homeland security activities; and
(3) the homeland security funding provided in this resolution will help reconstitute the preparedness of our public health system, train and equip our first responders, and otherwise strengthen the Nation’s homeland security.

SEC. 406. SENSE OF THE HOUSE REGARDING PAY PARITY.
It is the sense of the House that:

(1) compensation for civilian and military employees of the United States, without whom we cannot successfully serve and protect our citizens and taxpayers, must be sufficient to support our critical efforts to recruit, retain, and reward quality people effectively and responsibly; and
(2) to achieve this objective, the rate of increase in the compensation of civilian employees should be equal to that proposed for the military in the President’s fiscal year 2006 budget.

SEC. 407. POLICY.
It is the policy of this budget resolution to balance long-term, sustainable national security programs, such as: strengthening tax compliance; increasing the generosity of our public health system, train and equip our first responders, and otherwise strengthen the Nation’s homeland security; and

SEC. 404. SENSE OF THE HOUSE ON EDUCATION.
It is the sense of the House that—

(1) the resolution rejects the President’s cuts to elementary and secondary education, as well as the President’s proposals to increase student costs for college loans and to cut Pell Grants, so that low-income students obtain a post-secondary education;
(2) the resolution provides a $100 annual increase in the maximum Pell Grant award in the next ten years, and assumes increased efficiency in the student loan programs; and
(3) the mandatory levels in this resolution provide the $4.3 billion necessary to eliminate the current shortfall in the Pell Grant program, restoring the program to a sound financial basis.

SEC. 405. SENSE OF THE HOUSE ON HOMELAND SECURITY.
It is the sense of the House that:

(1) this resolution provides additional homeland security funding above the President’s requested level for 2006 and every subsequent year;
(2) this resolution provides $9,800,000,000 above the President’s requested level for 2006, and greater amounts in subsequent years, in the four budget functions (Function 400, Transportation; Function 450, Community and Regional Development; Function 500, Agriculture and Food; Function 510, Justice) which fund most nondefense homeland security activities; and
(3) the homeland security funding provided in this resolution will help reconstitute the preparedness of our public health system, train and equip our first responders, and otherwise strengthen the Nation’s homeland security.

SEC. 406. SENSE OF THE HOUSE REGARDING PAY PARITY.
It is the sense of the House that:

(1) compensation for civilian and military employees of the United States, without whom we cannot successfully serve and protect our citizens and taxpayers, must be sufficient to support our critical efforts to recruit, retain, and reward quality people effectively and responsibly; and
(2) to achieve this objective, the rate of increase in the compensation of civilian employees should be equal to that proposed for the military in the President’s fiscal year 2006 budget.

SEC. 407. POLICY.
It is the policy of this budget resolution to balance long-term, sustainable national security programs, such as: strengthening tax compliance; increasing the generosity of our public health system, train and equip our first responders, and otherwise strengthen the Nation’s homeland security; and

SEC. 404. SENSE OF THE HOUSE ON EDUCATION.
It is the sense of the House that—“Pease”)—the repeal of which disproportionately benefits taxpayers with annual incomes exceeding $1 million.

SEC. 408. SENSE OF THE HOUSE REGARDING THE NATIONAL RAILROAD PASSENGER CORPORATION.

It is the sense of the House that the budget should reject the cuts to Amtrak in the President’s budget and should provide sufficient resources to allow Amtrak to carry forward its mission.

SEC. 409. SENSE OF THE HOUSE ON TAX SIMPLIFICATION AND TAX FAIRNESS.

It is the sense of the House that—

(1) the current tax system has been made increasingly complex and unfair to the detriment of the vast majority of working Americans;

(2) constant change and manipulation of the tax code have adverse effects on taxpayers understanding and trust in the Nation’s tax laws;

(3) these increases in complexity and lack of clarity have an alternative to what was presented to us.

The Acting CHAIRMAN. Pursuant to House Resolution 154, the gentleman from South Carolina (Mr. SPRATT) and the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. NUSSELE) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognized the gentleman from South Carolina (Mr. SPRATT), Mr. SPRATT. Mr. Chairman, I yield 4 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from New York (Mr. RANGEL), the ranking member of the Committee on Ways and Means.

(Mr. RANGEL asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. RANGEL. Mr. Chairman, I want to personally thank the gentleman from South Carolina (Mr. SPRATT) and the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. NUSSELE) for their work that he has done in having the record make it clear that we in the House of Representatives did have an alternative to what was presented to us.

There is a lot of talk about moral values that we hear about politically; but I do not care what your religious background is, there are always these stories about the sick and the poor in need; and on the other side, the option is for the rich and the greedy and the insensitive.

You do not have to be a Republican or a Democrat when you look at the document that was placed before us by the majority and then to take a look at the compassion and the common sense that is involved in the alternative that the gentleman from South Carolina and his team have brought to us. But I am not here to talk about compassion. I am too old to believe that it is going to change.

I am here to talk about national security, national security at a time that we are going through these economic deficits. It would just seem to me that it would make a lot of sense if we invested in our young people that are going to school, to make them more productive and make them tax-paying. It seems to me it would make a lot of sense to invest in someone’s health so that they would not have to go to community health centers or cutting back, that they would not have to go into the hospitals.

It seems to me that we would have a sense of national security by thanking veterans, high schools, keeping the spirits up and not tax them for getting sick or having ailments. It seems to me that in the final analysis, what we have done is borrow money and ask that we make these tremendous tax cuts permanent and whatever our kids get and our grandchildren get will be the debt that this body can possibly place on them.

I just hope that somewhere along the line someone would say that if you really care about this country, that you will take care of the people, not for policy, but for policy you will be concerned about its working people and be concerned in making Social Security something that will be guaranteed for them because we promised them that it would be.

But I do not believe that anyone takes this budget seriously, not if you leave out of it the alternative minimum tax, which no one would want to be able to tell their constituents that this $600 billion tax increase that we are going to place on those who do not mean to do it; and no matter how many cities the President goes to, no one would believe that he was sincere about reforming the Social Security system when he knows, Republicans know, Democrats know, that it is going to take money to do this and that is not in the budget. And there are so many other things that are left out. Even the money that is paid into Social Security, that is not counted as a part of our debt.

But one day, just one day, historians or maybe our kids and grandkids are going to ask each and every one of us, when this country was going into this deficit hellhole and when the poor were becoming poorer and the sick, we were cutting their benefits, what were you doing and how were you voting, and I am glad that we will have an opportunity just not to be able to vote against what the majority has given us, but that we have an alternative that I believe the President from South Carolina and the minorities on the Budget Committee and so many others have worked together to say that we are proud to be Americans, we are proud to be Members of Congress, and we are proud that we voted the right way.

Mr. NUSSELE. Mr. Chairman, I yield 4 minutes to the very distinguished gentleman from Florida (Mr. PUTNAM), a member of the committee.

Mr. PUTNAM. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman from South Carolina (Mr. SPRATT) for the Spratt amendment. I respect the ranking member and the work that he has put into the Budget Committee, but I have to clarify a number of points that have been made by the prior speaker.

This budget goes a long way toward laying out priorities for this Nation. We have through this process been able to assess the opportunities to adopt a variety of different spending priorities. Members have had the opportunity to vote on four different blueprints for this Nation, across the ideological and political spectrum, I think that is a healthy thing. I do not think that happens often enough. I think we have had good debate like this. The differences amongst those priorities, though, are stark.

Our budget lays out a blueprint that invests in defense and invests in homeland security, two things that we find to be most urgent at a time when our Nation has come under attack recently and where we are engaged in conflict against terrorism around the world. We create in this budget blueprint an opportunity for policymakers to grow downward that create jobs, that allow for continued economic expansion, that allow us to build upon the fact that homeownership is at its highest rate ever, that Americans are enjoying a lower tax burden that allows policymakers to make decisions about their children’s higher education, about their small business, about their opportunity to carve out their piece of the American Dream.

It does not raise taxes on those same small business men and farmers who are taxed at the individual rate because they are an S corporation, because they are a small business, because they are the neighborhood barber or diner or farmer. We lay out a policy that also calls for fiscal restraint, and we balance the approach to fiscal restraint on both the discretionary side of the ledger and the mandatory side of the ledger.

For those who are uninformed about Washington, the mandatory side of the ledger now consumes over half of the Federal budget and soon will consume over two-thirds. It is on automatic pilot. You cannot get your arms around the deficit without tackling mandatory spending. Our side knows that. The other side knows that.

You cannot be serious about budget reform without simultaneously addressing discretionary spending and mandatory spending. We do that. We shave the rate of growth by one-tenth of 1 percent. Yet the New Testament is invoked on a regular basis from the other side’s talking points to claim that there will be blood in the streets, that there will be mass pandemonium and starvation because one-tenth of 1 percent of mandatory spending’s rate of growth has been shaved off.

On the discretionary side, we bring eight-tenths of a percent cut to programs that have experienced double-digit increases over the last decade. You cannot look at the spending history of this House and this Congress’ budget in veterans, in students with disabilities, in HUD, in education, homeland security and defense and find anyone who has experienced real pain or real cuts in the last decade. There have been substantial increases. Our budget lays out that priority, investing in defense, creating economic opportunity and beginning that long process of modernizing entitlements we are paid to make to get our arms around the deficit so that future generations are not burdened and that the current generation, current workers, current employers, current small businesses are not seeing their tax burden go up.

Vote for the underlying House budget and defeat the Spratt amendment.

Mr. SPRATT. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself 7 minutes.

Mr. Chairman, 5 years ago, the budget was in surplus. Hard to believe, but it was in surplus by $236 billion. We are here today grappling with a deficit of $427 billion, the deficit expected this year, basically because of policy choices made since 2001 made since President Bush came to office.

The Bush administration bet the budget on a blue sky estimate and went for huge tax cuts that left no margin for error. I stood here in the well of this House in 2001 and warned that those projections of $5.6 trillion surplus could disappear in a blink of an economist’s eye. When the surpluses of $5.6 trillion failed to materialize, the budget sank into deficit: $375 billion in 2003, $412 billion in 2004, and an expected $427 billion this year and on and on and on.

I know there have been random events that no one foresaw, terrorism, and recession, but that is part of budgeting, reserving for such contingencies. The Bush Republican budgets of the last 4 years not only failed to provide for such contingencies, by budgeting right to the margin, but when deficits replaced surpluses, nevertheless they kept coming with tax cuts, tax cuts after tax cuts. This budget has $106 billion in additional tax cuts included in it, knowing full well that all of those tax cuts will go straight to the bottom line and will add dollar for dollar to the deficit. That is one reason that the CBO says, in yesterday’s production of the President’s budget, that the President’s budget makes this deficit worse, not better, by $1.6 trillion. In other words, if we left it on autopilot, at current services, it would be $1.6 trillion more in implementing the President’s budget.

So let us be clear. We are here because of policy choices that Republicans have made, the White House and the Congress, over the last 4 years, and you were forewarned and took the risk. Given the thrust of this budget that is before us we will be back grappling again for years to come with deficits as far as the eye can see.

Sitting here for the last 2 days I have heard their budget praised warmly by Members on the other side, and there are features of it, frankly, that I would praise too. For example, it includes $50 billion, as a rough cost, for our forces in Iraq and Afghanistan for another year, which is more than one can say for the President’s budget, which does not include a dime. But this budget excludes the likely cost, according to CBO, in 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010, which CBO estimates to be $384 billion. This budget stops abruptly in 2010, running out 5 years of numbers instead of 30 years of numbers. That is a convenient place to stop because it avoids recognizing the cost of Social Security privatization, which the administration acknowledges will be $754 billion between 2009 and 2015, but which it omits from the budget altogether. And while it calls for renewal of the 2001 and 2003 tax cuts, with the revenue impact of $1.6 trillion, not a dime of that revenue loss is included because it falls after 2010, but it clearly affects the outyears. Add $106 billion in reconciliation savings, and it is clear there is no way, no way, that we are going to cut the deficit in half in 4 years, 5 years, 6 years. Indeed if we pass Social Security privatization, as the President proposes, it will add $4.9 trillion, as this chart shows, to the deficits of the United States over the next 20 years. In that case we will not see the budget balanced again in our lifetime. That is an undeniable fact, but it is a fact that this budget avoids acknowledgment.

Sitting here for the last 2 days, I have also heard the claim that this budget takes on entitlements. In fact, the gentleman who was in the well just before me emphasized this as one of the sterling features of this amendment. But let us be clear. It does not take on Social Security. I do not think it should, but it does not. It does not take on Medicare. It does not do anything to the farm program.

The chairman here has made it clear that these are not to be the objects of reconciliation savings. Reconciliation will mainly fall on Medicaid and on other programs like Medicaid, Medicaid being the health care program of last resort for the least among us. The President has proposed cutting Medicaid over 10 years by $60 billion, but when the Congressional Budget Office scored his savings and said we cannot find $20 billion of savings here, maybe $13, $14 billion in these proposals, nevertheless, the committee has said to the Committee on Energy and Commerce to cut $20 billion anyway. Three Governors were here to speak with the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. Nussle) and me and to plead with us, “Please do not subject us to an arbitrary budget savings number. This program needs to be reformed. It needs to be restructured, but do not let reform be driven by an arbitrary number.”

That is exactly what this budget resolution does. It lets reform be driven by an arbitrary savings number. It cannot tell us what, where, or how those savings will be achieved. When what is off limits in the $68 billion of reconciliation is made clear, we can see where the cuts are likely to fall. Medicaid for sure, big-time cuts, but also the earned income tax credit, the child care and development block grants, food stamps, TANF, veterans benefits. In other words, the safety net. These cuts will shred the safety net. They are not intended for the major entitlement programs but for the smaller ones that are far down in the list. The key objective, the help, the most vulnerable among us.

It will be argued, I know, that this is necessary to balance the budget, but, in truth, none of the $68 billion in reconciliation savings goes to balance the budget. That is because it is more than offset by the $106 billion in additional tax cuts. When we net these out, there is no spending reduction to put on the bottom line. There is no net reduction to the bottom line. The bottom line actually gets worse. Instead of using these mandatory spending cuts in Medicaid to reduce the deficit, as they would have us assume, these cuts actually are used to offset tax cuts. For whom do we not know, but, nevertheless, do know that these cuts add to the bottom line and they do not mitigate the deficit.

So there are major problems in this budget, particularly when it comes to the key objective, and that is reduction of the deficit. And I will return to that in a minute.

Mr. Chairman, I yield 4 minutes to the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. HOYER), the distinguished whip on the Budget Committee.

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman for yielding me this time.

Mr. Chairman, this Republican budget conclusively demonstrates one thing: that when it comes to audacity, our friends on the other side of the aisle have an unlimited supply.

Yesterday Republican leaders, including the gentleman from Texas (Mr. DELAHEY), majority leader; and the gentleman from California (Mr. DREIER), chairman of the Committee on Rules, claimed on this floor that the policies adopted by the Republican Party last year reduced last year’s budget deficit by $106 billion. What an extraordinary Lewis Carroll “Alice in Wonderland” representation.

You incurred over $350 billion of deficit, as you well know. The only thing that was reduced was the bottom line, I do not know to whom the White House came with at the beginning of the year. A figure that, by the way, was supposed to be zero, as I recall, the 2001 budget.

On the Republican Party’s watch, the Federal Government recorded the worst budget deficit in American history, $412 billion in fiscal year 2004. Four hundred and twelve billion dollars of deficit spending, and that is counting using every nickel of Social Security, which you said you were not going to do, which the President said you were not going to do. And you had a “lockbox.” It is a sieve box.
Our Republican friends, it appears, are the only people who believe that a $412 billion deficit is something to brag about. For years they have preached as fiscal conservatives, but in less than 48 months they have turned the projected 10-year budget surplus of $5.6 trillion into a deficit today in 48 months. I will put up 8. Forty-eight months, $4 trillion or a $6 trillion turnaround or $2 trillion plus a year.

We ought to be ashamed of that. We ought to be ashamed to tell our children that that is what we have done to them. We ought to be ashamed to tell our grandchildren, of which I have three, that that is what we have done to them and their generation. We have added more than $2.2 trillion to the national debt in 48 months. The entire debt of the United States of America in 1789 was $10 million. When I came to Congress, the national debt was $985 billion, cumulative debt. From 1789 to 2011, $985 billion. Last year we raised the debt $984 billion in one year. That is the height of fiscal irresponsibility, and I suggest it is also a fiscally immoral act and is the abuse of our children and grandchildren and generations yet to come, who in their time will face a challenge perhaps like Iraq, perhaps like AIDS, perhaps a tsunami or other natural disaster, and they will look around for resources to respond to their crisis in their time and say, oh, my goodness, the resources were spent by this Congress and by the previous Congress. What a shame.

The Democratic budget that the gentleman from South Carolina (Mr. SPRATT) offers has balance by 2012. It has the PAYGO system, which Mr. Greenspan is for, but you are not for because you do not want to pay. You talk about cutting taxes or raising taxes, but you are really saying is you do not want to pay for what you are buying. And you buy because all the spending that we have incurred is in your budgets. All of the spending is in budgets. We cannot control the budgets. So all of the spending, but there is very little of the pain. That is fiscally irresponsible.

I would like to see who is going to vote for the bankruptcy bill when it comes on the floor that want responsible voters. I will vote for the Spratt alternative because it is a responsible alternative, and I will enthusiastically and proudly and morally vote against the Republican alternative.

Mr. NUSSLE. Mr. Chairman, I yield 5 minutes to the gentleman from Missouri (Mr. BLUMENTHAL), our distinguished majority whip.

Mr. BLUMENTHAL. Mr. Chairman, I want to thank the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. Nussle), for his hard work on this budget and for yielding me this time to talk about his budget and this alternative.

Certainly his committee and he under his leadership have worked hard to bring us a fiscally responsible budget. The base bill we are debating today is the most fiscally conservative budget resolution we have considered since we joined this Congress.

The cuts we are hearing about in Medicaid are really a reduction of the growth. The cut in Medicaid, as I read the base bill, is a cut in the growth rate of 7.5 percent to a growth rate of 3 percent. I suspect that where most of all of us live, 7.3 percent growth would not be seen as a cut.

The committee’s budget permits us to extend recently enacted tax relief so that American families will not see a tax increase. What we have found is that if we trust the American people and American families, our economy grows again and it is growing. Passage of the committee’s budget will provide for a real reduction of nearly 1 percent in nonsecurity discretionary spending.

After holding the line on that category of spending at almost no growth in the last budget year, we hope to do even better this year and actually have a reduction of 1 percent below last year’s spending.

Furthermore, the budget calls for a reduction in the rate of growth of mandatory spending. In addition to reducing spending, this bill will ultimately save taxpayers almost $89 billion over the next 5 years. Only rarely has the Congress even been willing to discuss looking at mandatory spending. Almost all of our debate about spending is about the increasingly declining percentage of the budget that is discretionary. We are increasingly losing our control over the budget because we have not been willing to tackle mandatory spending.

Mr. NUSSLE. Mr. Chairman, I yield 5 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from Texas (Mr. HENSARLING), a member of the committee.

Mr. HENSARLING. I thank the gentleman for yielding me this time. I want to thank the gentleman from Iowa (Chairman Nussle) and the majority and the most fiscally responsible budget we have seen in quite some time here; and another budget that wants to tax more and spend more, and that is their answer to the Nation’s fiscal woes.

Clearly, we agree that this Nation has a deficit and a deficit that is too large. But those on the other side of the aisle seem to act like spending has nothing to do with the equation in the deficit. We have been spending money here at over twice the rate of inflation, 50 percent faster. The Federal budget has been growing 50 percent faster than the family budget. We are on an unsustainable path on the growth of Federal Government. We must do something to control the growth of Federal Government.

Now, previous speakers, I believe, have used the term ‘auto pilot’ that this budget puts the Nation on auto pilot. Well, let me tell you about the auto pilot that their budget puts this Nation on. That is an auto pilot that, if we do not do anything about spending, according to the General Accounting Office, we are heading where we will have to double Federal taxes or cut Federal spending by 50 percent.

Well, they do not want to cut any Federal spending. So what that means is we are on auto pilot to double Federal taxes on the American family.

Now, frankly, on our side, we have done our part. Tax revenues are up. We listened to the other side, and they talk about all the massive tax cuts. Well, I am sitting here, Mr. Chairman, and I have the latest reports out of the Congressional Budget Office. And guess what? We have cut marginal tax rates on the American family on small businesses. And guess what? Tax revenues have increased. Tax revenues are up. People go out and they save more and they invest more and they start small businesses.

I was in Jacksonville, Texas, a small town in my district, not too long ago and visited with a small business there that does aluminum fabrication. Prior to the Bush tax relief package, they were getting ready because of competitive pressures to have to lay off two people. But because of tax relief, they were able to modernize their plant and equipment, and instead of laying off two people, they hired three new people. Now, that is five people that could have been on welfare, five people that could have been on unemployment. But instead, five people who represent part of that over two million new jobs that have been created by this tax cut for those people that are paying in taxes, as opposed to taking out. And that is why we see that tax revenues have increased.
And so, frankly, tax relief has been part of the deficit solution. And even if it were not, we are talking about a $2.6 trillion budget. And if you look at the line item, tax relief is $17 billion. Now, if you do the math, that means that tax relief is less than 1 percent of this Federal Government's budget. But bringing in new revenues to the government, how could tax relief amount to all of this problem?

The challenge has been on the spending side. Just look over the last 15 years of international affairs up 53 percent, agriculture up 165 percent, transportation 78 percent, education 95 percent. And the list goes on and on and on.

Now, often we get good things for our tax expenditures. We can have student loans; we can have Kevelar vests for our soldiers. But, unfortunately, quite often we do not get good things for our tax expenditures. Sometimes we get wheelchairs from Medicare that cost five times as much as those of the VA. Sometimes we get multimillion dollar studies of how college students decorate their dorms.

We are talking about reducing the growth rate of government. And I cannot believe, and no American family would ever believe, that you cannot find seven-tenths of 1 percent, less than 1 percent, of waste or fraud or abuse or duplication. American families would laugh at that.

And if we do not do this, Mr. Chairman, we are looking at this future, this auto pilot future that I believe is fiscally immoral, that will double taxes on our children and grandchildren. We need a budget, not for the next election; we need a budget for the next generation. And that is why I so strongly support the committee budget, the gentleman from Iowa (Chairman Nussle’s) budget, because it is that fiscally responsible budget for the next generation.

Mr. SPRATT. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, before yielding to the gentleman from Texas, I would simply like to say that I have here a copy of the CBO’s report on the budget, January 2005, which shows that in the year 2000 we had revenues of $1,004 trillion under the individual income tax. Last year, in the year 2004, revenues were $809 billion. That is not an increase. That is a $200 billion decrease.

One of the big differences between us and them is that we provide more for veterans health care and for veterans benefits. And now on that point, I recognize and yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Texas, Mr. Edwards.

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield for a question?

Mr. SPRATT. I yield to the gentleman from Maryland.

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Chairman, I just went back in my office after I spoke, and I heard the gentleman speaking just now. And he talked about waste, fraud and abuse. And my question to the gentleman is, you have been through the budget hearings. Why do you suppose it is that the Bush administration over the last 50 months has not rooted out that waste, fraud, and abuse?

Mr. SPRATT. Mr. Chairman, the opportunity is certainly theirs, having run the government for 4 years and having direct hands-on opportunities to reduce waste, fraud, and abuse.

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Chairman, if the gentleman will yield further, that occurred to me as well. I thank the gentleman for his response.

Mr. SPRATT. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. Edwards).

Mr. EDWARDS. Mr. Chairman, the American people and America’s veterans deserve to know the facts. The fact is that the Republican budget being pushed during a time of war would cut veterans benefits compared to today’s services by $14 billion over 5 years. This bill is inadequate, and it is unconscionable to those of veterans. But do not believe me; that is what America’s veterans leaders have said about it.

They have called it “grossly inadequate” and “unconscionable.” This came from the Disabled American Veterans and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, two nonpartisan organizations. Maybe Republican leaders do not like it when veterans leaders point out the truth, but it is the truth.

I am deeply disappointed that during a time of war we could have Members of this House pay lip service to the service of our veterans; but yet when it comes to what really counts, supporting medical care, they are going to cut it by $14 billion. That is 2 million veterans who will not receive health care under this budget.

Vote for the Spratt amendment.

Mr. Chairman, I include the following correspondence for the RECORD: THE INDEPENDENT BUDGET, March 17, 2005.

Hon. Jim Nussle,
Chairman, House Budget Committee, Cannon House Office Building, Washington, DC.

Mr. Chairman: As you know, the President’s fiscal year 2006 budget would provide an appropriation for veterans’ medical care that is less than one-half of one percent above the FY 2006 appropriation. Because this amount would not begin to cover employee wage increases and other inflationary costs, it amounts to a substantial cut in funding. This thus would unavoidably result in a reduction of critical medical care services for our Nation’s sick and disabled veterans. Although we appreciate the adoption of the Bradley Amendment which added $229 million to the President’s recommendation for veterans’ medical care, this is still grossly inadequate.

In addition, we understand that H. Con. Res. 95 includes instructions to cut spending on mandatory veterans’ programs, such as disability compensation, by $786 million. We think cutting veterans’ programs is unconscionable, especially at a time when America’s sons and daughters are being wounded and killed every day in Iraq.

The four major organizations of The Independent Budget, AMVETS, Disabled American Veterans, Paralyzed Veterans of America, and Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, therefore strongly urge support for amendments offered by Representatives Spratt and Obey to increase funding for veterans’ affairs. Passage of these amendments is crucial if the VA is to maintain an adequate level of health care and other services.

Sincerely,

Rick Jones,
National Legislative Director, Disabled American Veterans.

Dennis Cullinan,
National Legislative Director, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

THE AMERICAN LEGION,

Hon. Jim Nussle,
Chairman, Committee on Budget, House of Representatives, Cannon House Office Building, Washington, DC.

Mr. Chairman: The American Legion is deeply troubled with and cannot support your Committee’s proposed budget resolution, H. Con. Res. 95, that would cut funding for the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA), especially the reconciliation instructions targeted at earned veterans’ benefits. Reducing mandatory appropriations for veterans’ disability compensation, pensions, and educational benefits at a time of war is inconsistent with the thanks of a grateful Nation.

The American Legion believes VA’s own admission that the cost of doing business increases annually about 13-14 percent because of Federal pay increases and inflation in the health care arena. The President’s budget request is “scrubbed” by the Office of Management and Budget, so VA’s true fiscal requirements to meet the health care needs of America’s veterans are somewhat skewed. During the 108th Congress, former VA Secretary Principi reported to your colleagues that the FY 2005 proposed budget was $1.2 billion short of what he had actually requested. It appears this pattern of short-changing VA medical care continues in the 109th Congress. America’s veterans and their families deserve better.

The American Legion recognizes and appreciates the Bradley Amendment adopted by the Committee, but believes it falls well short of the total funding needed in VA medical care. Unfortunately, the Committee rejected the Edwards Amendment that would have provided VA with adequate resources to maintain current services.

The American Legion would encourage adoption of one of the amendments to be offered by Representatives Spratt or Obey with regard to increasing VA funding. Clearly, these amendments are in the best interest of veterans and their families. Without adoption of one of these two amendments, The American Legion cannot support this budget resolution.

The American Legion appreciates your leadership and the hard work of your colleagues on behalf of America’s veterans and their families.

Sincerely,

Thomas P. Cadmus,
National Commander.

Mr. Nussle. Mr. Chairman, I yield 4 minutes to the gentleman from New Hampshire (Mr. Bradley), a member of the committee.
Mr. BRADLEY of New Hampshire. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman for yielding me time.

Mr. Chairman, this budget values the service of our veterans. It not only values their service, but it meets the needs of a strong economy, a strong defense, a growing economy; while we also reduce our deficit. I would like to talk about where veterans spending has gone over the last 10 years for just a moment.

As you can see from this chart, this is the overall spending on veterans programs over that period of time, from 1995 to 2005. We talk about veterans health care, perhaps we could bring that chart up, that has increased from about $16.2 billion to $29.9 billion. That is substantial progress in honoring the commitment of our Nation's veterans.

We have done a number of other things for veterans over the last several years, and perhaps if I could have the last chart. We have allowed Guard and Reservists to qualify for medical benefits; we have increased the GI education benefit over those years; we have opened up the VA system for all veterans to participate in and have funded it enough so that at least Priorities is the group able to participate in that; and we have gone from 2.5 million veterans served under the VA to 4.8 million.

We have increased survivor benefits. We finally dealt with the whole issue of concurrent receipt so that a disabled veteran is able to collect either his or her disability benefit, as well as their retirement benefit. We have reduced the wait times to get into the VA hospitals, and the VA has maintained its excellent care.

Let me talk about this budget, because under the leadership of the gentleman from Iowa (Chairman NUSSELE), we started at the President's mark, which was about $30.8 billion for veterans health care, and the chairman's mark increased that to $31.5 billion.

Working with the chairman, I introduced an amendment that raised that by $229 million. So as a result of the hard work of the veterans and the Committee on the Budget, we have increased from the President's baseline by $977 million, which in these difficult fiscal times is a 2.8 percent increase.

Further under the leadership of the chairman, we have reduced the reconciliation to a number I believe is very manageable. If you recall, the President assumed copayments on drugs and an enrollment fee. But the chairman's mark, because it is so much lower, going from $423 million to $155 million, I believe working together in the Committee on Veterans Affairs with the Committee on the Budget that we can in fact look for waste, fraud, and abuse and eliminate those types of things, without having to have an enrollment fee, without having to have copayments. Let me stress that, the chairman's budget does not assume either enrollment fees or those drug copayment fees.

I look forward to working to make sure that we honor our commitment to our Nation's veterans. This is an excellent budget. It maintains a strong defense; it allows our economy to grow; and it meets critical needs for those who have defended our liberties, our Nation's veterans.

Mr. NUSSLE. Mr. Chairman, I yield 30 seconds to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. EDWARDS).

Mr. EDWARDS. Mr. Chairman, if I were voting for a budget that cut veterans benefits by $14 billion over the next 5 years, I guess I would want to talk about the past rather than the future as well.

The difference is very clear, and it is very simple. Republicans voting for this bill say that it is okay to cut veterans health care benefits by $14 billion over the next 5 years. Democrats and national veterans organizations say it is wrong. In fact, the DAV, the VFW say it is a grossly inadequate budget; it is an unconscionable budget, especially at a time when America's sons and daughters are being killed and wounded every day in Iraq.

Mr. SPRATT. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Chairman, before voting on this budget resolution, everyone should ask, what does it do to veterans health care benefits by $14 billion over the next 5 years. Democracies and national veterans organizations say it is wrong. In fact, the DAV, the VFW say it is a grossly inadequate budget, it is an unconscionable budget, especially at a time when America's sons and daughters are being killed and wounded every day in Iraq.

Mr. SPRATT. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Chairman, before voting on this budget resolution, everyone should ask, what does it do to veterans health care benefits by $14 billion over the next 5 years. Democrats and national veterans organizations say it is wrong. In fact, the DAV, the VFW say it is a grossly inadequate budget, it is a unconscionable budget, especially at a time when America's sons and daughters are being killed and wounded every day in Iraq.

Mr. SPRATT. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Chairman, before voting on this budget resolution, everyone should ask, what does it do to veterans health care benefits by $14 billion over the next 5 years. Democrats and national veterans organizations say it is wrong. In fact, the DAV, the VFW say it is a grossly inadequate budget, it is a unconscionable budget, especially at a time when America's sons and daughters are being killed and wounded every day in Iraq.

Mr. SPRATT. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Chairman, we are coming to the end of the debate on the final amendment in the way of a substitute. I want to thank my colleagues from South Carolina (Mr. SPRATT) and the Democrats for coming forward with a substitute. It is never an easy thing to write a budget, as we all know. But I appreciate the fact that many of our colleagues came forward with a budget.

The prime argument that is being made here today is, first of all, that the Republicans seem to have caused the deficit, number one, and, number two, that the only way to get out of the deficit is to listen to the Democrats and increase taxes and increase spending.

So let me just take those because that is basically what the argument is. First of all, with regard to the deficit. Now, maybe my memory is just fading but I am trying to remember back to before the world changed on September 10 of 2001, and we were running a surplus. We had more money in the Treasury than we were paying out, but we also discovered something that next morning.

On September 11 of 2001, we discovered that we were running some deficit, and that we did not know how much because the balance sheet did not give us much perspective on it. We were running a deficit in homeland security. We were not protecting the country. We were running a deficit in national defense. We are not able to project our strength around the world and protect freedom. We had a deep recession that we needed to climb out of that got a gut punch that morning and it lasted for quite a while longer.

We made some deliberate decisions that day and days after. In a bipartisan way we said, it is time to reduce taxes, stimulate the economy. It is time to protect the country, do whatever it takes. It is time to fund everything necessary to protect the country. It is time to do all of these things and let us not ask the question today how are we going to pay for it. Let us do it. And we did it. And you voted for every one of those bills, every single one.

Do not shake your head. I will show you the votes. You voted for every single one of those bills to protect the
It is ludicrous for the House leadership to move forward with this budget debate by ignoring the issues of the day merely to lock in huge tax cuts and offer damaging spending cuts to health care, education, veterans' services and much more. We need a better plan. The Democratic alternative that I support could restore the pay-as-you-go rule and balance the budget by 2012, just as the Baby Boomers begin their massive retirement, while maintaining significant support for our national defense, veterans programs, education, and health care, which will help grow our economy and create jobs.

I do commend the President for recognizing the importance of the Milk Income Loss Compensation (MLLC) Program as a safety net for America’s dairy farmers and including an extension of the program in the Administration’s proposed budget. The Republican budget, however, recklessly zeros out this important program, placing struggling family farmers across this nation in peril.

We know that the budget has not included the long-term cost of Iraq, which already cost the country $275 billion, the estimated $5 trillion in the next 20 years for privatizing Social Security, and the full costs of the tax cuts. In fact, it does not even include a full ten-year budget report. The report lacks detail and leaves many programs vulnerable to steep cuts. This is a complete and full report in a document as important as the United States Budget. As the campaign in Iraq continues, our thoughts and prayers go out to the young men and women in uniform as well as to their families. May they complete their mission quickly and decisively so they can return home soon and safe.

Our veterans are returning home as we speak. They are the fine men and women who fought to help bring democracy to Iraq. The budget plan calls for cuts in veterans’ health care benefits and reduces medical personnel by more than 3,000, along with cutting $9 million from other areas in the already overstretched VA. While the budget cuts to veterans’ programs, Medicaid grants, and other important programs represent a very small portion of the overall budget, they will make a large difference to the families who depend on them.

The projected budget deficit of $427 billion for FY06 is revolting. Perhaps the worst aspect of this budget is that it is not paid for. This is the classic recipe for exploding budget deficits as far as the eye can see; it’s the height of fiscal irresponsibility occurring at exactly the wrong moment during our Nation’s history when 80 million Americans, the so-called baby boomers, are rapidly approaching retirement and it is a demographic time bomb ready to explode. That is why the Republican budget proposal, in effect, constitutes taxation without representation because it will be our children and our grandchildren who will be asked to pay for this fiscal mess. I couldn’t think of doing anything more unfair to them. The children are our future, and we owe it to them to give them a stable foundation.

As the father of two little boys, I did not come to this Congress to leave a legacy of debt for them or future generations to climb out of. Our Democratic alternative, however, anticipates this demographic time bomb by achieving balance, while offering an economic stimulus plan now that is fair, quick, and responsible. It supports our troops, but it also supports our nation’s veterans, our seniors, and our children’s education programs.

So I urge my colleagues to support the Democratic substitute. I would call on the leadership in the House to pull their budget resolution so that we can have an honest debate with honest figures, factoring in a realistic cost of the Iraq operation.

The Acting CHAIRMAN (Mr. FOSSELLA). All time for debate has expired.

The question is on the amendment in the nature of a substitute offered by the gentleman from South Carolina (Mr. SPRATT). The question was taken; and the Acting Chairman announced that the noes appeared to have it.

A recorded vote was ordered.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—ayes 165, noes 264, answered “present” 1, not voting 4, as follows:

[Roll No. 87]

AYES—165

Ortiz

Owens

Pallone

Pelosi

Pomroy

Price (NC)

Rahall

Rankl

Reyes

Rothman

Roybal-Allard

Ruppersberger

Ryan (OH)

Sabo

Sánchez, Linda T

Schakowsky

Schlegel

Schwartz (PA)

Scott (GA)

Scott (VA)

Serrano

Sherman

Skilkin

Slattery

Smith (WA)

Snyder

Solis

Spratt

Strickland

Stupak

Taucher

Thompson (MS)

Tierney

Towns

Udall (CO)

Udall (NM)

Van Holoen

Velaquez

Vilsack

Wasserman

Schuette

Watters

Watson

Watson

Watt

Waxman

Weiner

We鍝er

Weinberg

Wynn

NOES—264

Aderholt

Bachus

Baker

Bartlett (MD)

Barrett (SC)

Barrett (TX)
So the amendment in the nature of a substitute was adopted as above recorded.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

The Acting CHAIRMAN (Mr. FOSSELLA). Pursuant to the order of the House, this measure is now in order to consider a period of final debate on the concurrent resolution.

The gentleman from Iowa (Mr. NUSSLE) and the gentleman from South Carolina (Mr. SPRATT) each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from South Carolina (Mr. SPRATT). Mr. CHAIRMAN, I yield myself 4 minutes.

Mr. Chairman, during much of this debate, as I noted earlier, my Republican colleagues have taken the attitude that today's deficits were unforeseeable, unavoidable, beyond their control. But we warned here in 2001 and in every year thereafter when this resolution came before this House that the other side was selling the budget on a blue sky forecast and leaving no margin for error. It is their policy choices made in the face of our objectives that have brought us to the point where we find ourselves today.

In December of this year, $277 billion, last year by $412 billion, the year before by $375 billion, each year has broken a record for a bigger and bigger deficit.

As we stand here at the threshold of passing another budget resolution, I want to forewarn you, you will not take the deficit away, this resolution will not move the deficit down. It will only move it up and out, year after year after year to come.

But do not take my word for it. I am partisan. I am the Democratic ranking member on this committee. Read what the President himself is proposing and allow workers to take the deficit away, this resolution will not.

The President has indicated himself to partially privatize Social Security. The authorizing committees, will fill it over 10 years is $640 billion.

The applause meter made it look pretty good for confirmation there, I promise I will not talk about trade. But I will talk about this time. I promise I will not talk about this time. I promise I will not talk about this time.

I would simply close by saying, vote against this resolution. Let us go back to the drawing board. We can do better.

Mr. CHAIRMAN, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. NUSSLE. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

If I might take just a brief moment in introducing my first speaker, I would like to just say on behalf of our side in particular but I think on behalf of the entire Congress, we always respect Members who go on to bigger and better things and today the President made a wise announcement in nominating the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. PORTMAN) to become our U.S. Trade Representative.

The applause meter made it look pretty good for confirmation there, I say to my very good friend, and he is my friend. He has been the vice chairman of the Committee on the Budget, and he has been a great wing man and personal friend to so many.

Mr. Chairman, I am very pleased to yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. PORTMAN), vice chairman of the Committee on the Budget.

Mr. PORTMAN. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman for yielding me this time. I promise I will not talk about trade. But I will talk about this budget. I want to start by saying this budget is not all the details. It is a blueprint. The authorizing committees, the appropriating committees, will fill out those details. But it is a blueprint. that says something about who we are. And the three pillars in this budget, I think, reflect the principles and the priorities of this House.

First, we believe that our country ought to be protected and strength is emphasized in our national security and our homeland security. Second, is to be sure we have a strong economy. The tax relief has worked: 4.4 percent growth last year; 3 million jobs added to our economy in the last 21 months alone. The economy is strong and growing, which may not continue and that is why tax increases are not part of this budget.

And, third, to be sure that we do as the gentleman from South Carolina (Mr. SPRATT) says appropriately, keep our spending under control, we take responsible steps to restrain spending both in domestic discretionary and in the entitlement area.

These are the three pillars. By doing so, we reduce the deficit in half within 4 years, and for the chairperson of the chairman for coming up with this budget.

The process by which we got here also says something about who we are. I want to commend the ranking member from South Carolina (Mr. SPRATT) for his integrity. I want to commend the members of the Committee on the Budget for the great debate that we had over the last month or so, I want to commend the Members of the floor who have had a great debate here, and I want to thank my colleague, the chairperson, of the Committee on the Budget. The gentleman from Iowa has conducted himself in the Committee on the Budget and here on the floor through an open, honest process where people have had the opportunity to say their piece. He has done a great job in listening carefully to the concerns of so many of us in this conference and in the entire Congress to be sure we come up with a document that does indeed reflect, I believe, of our House, the strength of our country, the growth of our economy, and getting spending under control.

I strongly urge my colleagues to support this budget which is, although just a blueprint, the appropriate statement of who we are and does indeed get us to the point where we are reducing our deficit, which is so important, but also funding the key priorities in our country. I urge a “yes” vote on the resolution.

Mr. SPRATT. Mr. Chairman, I yield the balance of my time to the gentlewoman from California (Ms. PELOSI), the minority leader of the House.

Ms. PELOSI. Mr. Chairman, I thank the distinguished gentleman from South Carolina for yielding me this time, and I thank him for his great leadership in putting together a budget that is a statement of our values, that is balanced in terms of our priorities and balanced fiscally. He has always conducted business of creating a budget in a way that has informed Members, has done so with great dignity and great fairness and great respect for all points of view. I wish we would all join in acknowledging the great leadership of the gentleman from South Carolina, our ranking member on the Committee on the Budget.

Mr. Chairman, in 1994, the first item in the Contract with America was the Fiscal Responsibility Act. Republicans pledged “to restore fiscal responsibility to an out-of-control Congress, requiring them to live under the same budget constraints as families and businesses.” More than 10 years later, an out-of-touch Republican majority has taken fiscal responsibility to a new low. It is clear that in the 10 years the Republicans have become addicted to deficits.

The budget deficit for this year is a record $427 billion. The February budget deficit, my colleagues, of $114 billion for the month of February, a deficit of $114 billion, is the highest monthly deficit ever and the first time it ever went over $100 billion in one month. In 2001, President George W. Bush came in with a projected $5.6 trillion in surplus. In just 4 years, President Bush has turned that record surplus into a record deficit of nearly $4 trillion, a $10 trillion swing in the wrong direction.

Likewise the Democratic alternative is the direct result of Republican policies, huge tax cuts for the wealthy, a refusal to pay as you go, poor planning for a war of choice in Iraq. The list goes on and on and on. America is awash in red ink because of Republican budget irresponsibility.

Tragically, this Republican budget is yet another missed opportunity to return to fiscal discipline. Not only is this budget fiscally irresponsible; the Republican budget is dishonest. It does not cut the deficit in half as Republicans claim. In fact, it makes the deficit worse. Republicans leave out the realistic cost of the war, the cost of expiring tax provisions, the true cost of fixing the broken tax code. “More than tax and the cost of any changes to Social Security. The budget is dishonest in another way: it fails to show any deficit figures at all after 2010.

In our New Partnership for America’s Future, Democrats have made a commitment to honor the value of accountability, including eliminating deficit spending and holding those in power accountable for their actions with a high ethical standard. Democrats support honest budgets that pay as you go. The Democratic alternative offered by the gentleman from South Carolina achieves balance by 2012. The Republican budget never reaches balance. It heaps tons of debt onto our children and grandchildren, and it will eventually lower our standard of living. We cannot let that happen to our country. And on top of all of that, the Republican budget underines the solvency of Social Security.

While Republicans ignore the real crisis of ballooning budget deficits, the President falsely claims there is a crisis in Social Security. But just because the President says it does not make it so. He is simply wrong. According to the nonpartisan Congressional Budget Office, Social Security’s trust fund will grow every year until a high of $8.3 trillion in 2032 and continues to be solvent until 2052.

I ask all of you to attend to this chart, my colleagues. The left bar represents the deficit in the general fund between now and 2035, a staggering $15 trillion. The Bush administration has taken us onto a trajectory of reckless borrowing that will take us back to $15 trillion in deficit in 2035. From 2006 to 2035, $15 trillion in deficit.

This bar here, the second bar, Social Security, 2006 to 2080, twice as long, more than twice as long, the Social Security deficit is $2 trillion. It is clear that there would be plenty of money to deal with the Social Security trust fund if the President were not using the Social Security trust fund as a slush fund to give tax cuts to the wealthiest people in America. Instead of doing that, we have a moral and legal obligation to pay back to the trust fund the money the President has taken out. We cannot let the President do this.

By running enormous deficits, the Republicans want to force the government to break its promises to the elderly. How on Earth are they going to pay the Social Security trust fund back if they have gone broke on the other side by running up these deficits in the general fund? Democrats will keep America’s promises to our seniors. Democrats have done it before, and we will do it again. When Bill Clinton was President, we had 3 years of surpluses.

□ 1530

And with the surpluses, imagine, think of it. Zero deficits, $427 billion in deficit for this year, over $100 billion in deficit for the month of February alone, this year. And when President Clinton was President, the 3 years at the end of his term, zero deficits. And with the surpluses that were produced he was able to pay nearly $400 billion off of our indebtedness, strengthening the solvency of Social Security.

Likewise the Democratic alternative that was offered today included pay-as-you-go rules that would block new tax or spending legislation that is not paid for.

Not only is the Republican budget fiscally reckless and dishonest, it is morally irresponsible. The leaders of five Protestant denominations, the Episcopal Church USA, the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, the Presbyterian Church USA, the United Church of Christ and the United Methodist Church recently called President Bush’s budget unjust. They reminded us of the words of the prophet, Micah, who said, “What does the Lord require of you but to do justice, to love mercy and to walk humbly with your God?”

Does this budget do justice for Americans? You be the judge. Is it doing justice to our children to give tax cuts to people making more than $500,000 a year, while underfunding Head Start. No Child Left Behind, student loans and grants and other education initiatives by $2.5 billion? Is that doing justice to our children? Is it doing justice to our other neglected children, those in our community who are vital to our homeland security by cutting them by $280 million? Is that justice? Is it doing justice to those who serve in the military, to give those tax cuts to the wealthy while undermining health care benefits for veterans by $14 billion short of what is needed over the next 5 years? Is that justice for our veterans? And is it doing justice to give tax cuts to the wealthy while launching a shameful attack on the poor? This budget cuts $20 billion from Medicaid, a cut that Governors, on a bipartisan basis, oppose, and which the other body today has just rejected.

Let us hear it for the other body. It underwrote the Community Development Block Grant Initiative with all considered restructuring and a massive 35 percent cut. It makes huge cuts to the earned income tax which takes 2 million children, lifts 2 million children out of poverty. But this is made in the Republican budget, makes cuts there. No. The Republican budget does not do justice, it does great damage to our country. Instead of being a statement of our values, the Republican budget, the best blueprint, to get out of our fiscal straits, to stop and think about how we are going to pay for things before we hastily enact them and end up in this ill-fated fiscal jam. Not surprisingly, however, many of my colleagues have insisted on exempting the billions of dollars in tax giveaways from the PAYGO rule. They do so without an explanation of how they plan to restore the lost revenue. There is no good reason, particularly when we are running record deficits, to reject the very successful PAYGO rule which requires us to stop and think about how we are going to pay for things before we hastily enact them.

I urge my colleagues to return to fiscal discipline, to honor our values and to oppose this disgraceful Republican budget. Thank you, my colleagues. Vote “no” on this budget.

The Acting CHAIRMAN (Mr. FOSSELLA). The gentleman from Iowa (Mr. NUSSELE) is recognized for 3 minutes.

Mr. NUSSELE. Mr. Chairman, for those of you who have read the prophet Micah, I know that he was not speaking to the Congressional Budget Office. He was speaking to the human heart, and that is the biggest difference between the policies that we have before us today. We believe that the individual should be free and should be allowed to determine their destiny. We do not believe that government should make decisions that people can make better for themselves. We do not believe that the government should take the place of families, take the place of neighbors, take the place of communities in order to solve problems. And too often we are not getting the results for all the extra money that we are spending. And too often, in this well of the House, we debate between percentages and dollar increases as if, if I spend $5 and you spend $7 you must care $1 more. And that is not the way our debate should evolve. Our debate should be based on results. We need a balanced budget. We need a balanced budget. We need to look at the results we are getting from the programs we have put in place. If they are not working, we should reform them, and that is what this budget calls for. It says we are going to give tax cuts. It says we are going to give tax cuts.

It gives instructions to the committees to go through the budget of the federal government and look for ways to ensure that programs deliver the results that we require in order to help people who are truly in need and, at the same time, make sure we are defending the country, growing the economy and controlling spending.

Just like last year, the House will lead. We led last year. We led when we got to a balanced budget in the late 1990s, and we will lead again today by passing what I believe is the strongest budget, the best blueprint, to get out of deficits, to make sure that we get results from the programs and the dollars that we are spending and make sure we get on a path to freedom in this country.

I urge adoption of this budget.

Mr. DINGELL. Mr. Chairman, I will oppose this ill-advised budget proposal and I urge my colleagues to join me. Every year, we set our priorities through our budget. The priorities in this budget are all wrong. Our priorities should focus on helping those who need help before we begin to help those who don’t. However, although we may not all agree with these concerns, one priority which we can all agree on is that we must close the deficit. Incredibly, the proposal before us does absolutely nothing to accomplish this goal. Despite all the assurances I have heard from my colleagues and the Administration, this legislation actually increases the deficit.

With record deficit levels, how is it possible that the majority has completely ignored fiscal responsibility? By passing tax giveaways, over half of which go to households earning over $200,000 per year, over $106 billion over five years, would count as new spending. The money is being removed from the country’s revenue without replacement. The PAYGO rule would essentially require us to stop and think about how we are going to pay for things before we hastily enact them and end up in this ill-fated fiscal jam. Not surprisingly, however, many of my colleagues have insisted on exempting the billions of dollars in tax giveaways from the PAYGO rule. They do so without an explanation of how they plan to restore the lost revenue. There is no good reason, particularly when we are running record deficits, to reject the very successful practice we used in the 1990’s to produce record surpluses.

Unlike the federal government, states are not permitted to spend without restraint. States cannot run up their credit card bills or repeatedly increase their credit limits. Yet, this budget increases the financial burden on the states. The federal government has an agreement of $1.7 trillion dollars. The federal government in turn requires us to stop and think about how we are going to pay for things before we hastily enact them and end up in this ill-fated fiscal jam. Not surprisingly, however, many of my colleagues have insisted on exempting the billions of dollars in tax giveaways from the PAYGO rule. They do so without an explanation of how they plan to restore the lost revenue. There is no good reason, particularly when we are running record deficits, to reject the very successful practice we used in the 1990’s to produce record surpluses.

Unlike the federal government, states are not permitted to spend without restraint. States cannot run up their credit card bills or repeatedly increase their credit limits. Yet, this budget increases the financial burden on the states. The federal government has an agreement of $1.7 trillion dollars. The federal government in turn requires us to stop and think about how we are going to pay for things before we hastily enact them and end up in this ill-fated fiscal jam. Not surprisingly, however, many of my colleagues have insisted on exempting the billions of dollars in tax giveaways from the PAYGO rule. They do so without an explanation of how they plan to restore the lost revenue. There is no good reason, particularly when we are running record deficits, to reject the very successful practice we used in the 1990’s to produce record surpluses.

Unlike the federal government, states are not permitted to spend without restraint. States cannot run up their credit card bills or repeatedly increase their credit limits. Yet, this budget increases the financial burden on the states. The federal government has an agreement of $1.7 trillion dollars. The federal government in turn requires us to stop and think about how we are going to pay for things before we hastily enact them and end up in this ill-fated fiscal jam. Not surprisingly, however, many of my colleagues have insisted on exempting the billions of dollars in tax giveaways from the PAYGO rule. They do so without an explanation of how they plan to restore the lost revenue. There is no good reason, particularly when we are running record deficits, to reject the very successful practice we used in the 1990’s to produce record surpluses.

Unlike the federal government, states are not permitted to spend without restraint. States cannot run up their credit card bills or repeatedly increase their credit limits. Yet, this budget increases the financial burden on the states. The federal government has an agreement of $1.7 trillion dollars. The federal government in turn requires us to stop and think about how we are going to pay for things before we hastily enact them and end up in this ill-fated fiscal jam. Not surprisingly, however, many of my colleagues have insisted on exempting the billions of dollars in tax giveaways from the PAYGO rule. They do so without an explanation of how they plan to restore the lost revenue. There is no good reason, particularly when we are running record deficits, to reject the very successful practice we used in the 1990’s to produce record surpluses.

Unlike the federal government, states are not permitted to spend without restraint. States cannot run up their credit card bills or repeatedly increase their credit limits. Yet, this budget increases the financial burden on the states. The federal government has an agreement of $1.7 trillion dollars. The federal government in turn requires us to stop and think about how we are going to pay for things before we hastily enact them and end up in this ill-fated fiscal jam. Not surprisingly, however, many of my colleagues have insisted on exempting the billions of dollars in tax giveaways from the PAYGO rule. They do so without an explanation of how they plan to restore the lost revenue. There is no good reason, particularly when we are running record deficits, to reject the very successful practice we used in the 1990’s to produce record surpluses.

Unlike the federal government, states are not permitted to spend without restraint. States cannot run up their credit card bills or repeatedly increase their credit limits. Yet, this budget increases the financial burden on the states. The federal government has an agreement of $1.7 trillion dollars. The federal government in turn requires us to stop and think about how we are going to pay for things before we hastily enact them and end up in this ill-fated fiscal jam. Not surprisingly, however, many of my colleagues have insisted on exempting the billions of dollars in tax giveaways from the PAYGO rule. They do so without an explanation of how they plan to restore the lost revenue. There is no good reason, particularly when we are running record deficits, to reject the very successful practice we used in the 1990’s to produce record surpluses.

Unlike the federal government, states are not permitted to spend without restraint. States cannot run up their credit card bills or repeatedly increase their credit limits. Yet, this budget increases the financial burden on the states. The federal government has an agreement of $1.7 trillion dollars. The federal government in turn requires us to stop and think about how we are going to pay for things before we hastily enact them and end up in this ill-fated fiscal jam. Not surprisingly, however, many of my colleagues have insisted on exempting the billions of dollars in tax giveaways from the PAYGO rule. They do so without an explanation of how they plan to restore the lost revenue. There is no good reason, particularly when we are running record deficits, to reject the very successful practice we used in the 1990’s to produce record surpluses.

Unlike the federal government, states are not permitted to spend without restraint. States cannot run up their credit card bills or repeatedly increase their credit limits. Yet, this budget increases the financial burden on the states. The federal government has an agreement of $1.7 trillion dollars. The federal government in turn requires us to stop and think about how we are going to pay for things before we hastily enact them and end up in this ill-fated fiscal jam. Not surprisingly, however, many of my colleagues have insisted on exempting the billions of dollars in tax giveaways from the PAYGO rule. They do so without an explanation of how they plan to restore the lost revenue. There is no good reason, particularly when we are running record deficits, to reject the very successful practice we used in the 1990’s to produce record surpluses.

Unlike the federal government, states are not permitted to spend without restraint. States cannot run up their credit card bills or repeatedly increase their credit limits. Yet, this budget increases the financial burden on the states. The federal government has an agreement of $1.7 trillion dollars. The federal government in turn requires us to stop and think about how we are going to pay for things before we hastily enact them and end up in this ill-fated fiscal jam. Not surprisingly, however, many of my colleagues have insisted on exempting the billions of dollars in tax giveaways from the PAYGO rule. They do so without an explanation of how they plan to restore the lost revenue. There is no good reason, particularly when we are running record deficits, to reject the very successful practice we used in the 1990’s to produce record surpluses.
These cuts would roll back health care coverage and protections for millions of Americans including the elderly in nursing homes, individuals with disabilities, infants and working families. Also, hospitals, physicians and other safety net providers will face payment reductions, threatening their viability—and these reductions will mean more lost jobs in our communities.

The assault on the environment also continues, including a massive, unjustified cut to the Superfund program. The Inspector General has identified, and senior EPA officials have confirmed, that in FY2003 there was a funding shortfall of $174.9 million, and it has been widely reported that the funding shortfall for FY2004 reached approximately $250 million. This leaves dozens of highly contaminated Superfund sites where cleanups are being delayed due to inadequate funding. Public health is endangered and local economic redevelopment hurt, yet this budget irresponsibly seeks to reduce cleanup funding.

These are just two examples of critical programs this budget neglects and two examples of what this administration and congressional legislation and I urge my colleagues to vote no on the Republican budget.

Mr. MOORE of Kansas. Mr. Chairman, I rise today in opposition to the FY06 budget resolution, and reluctant opposition to the Democratic budget.

Unfortunately, I do not believe that the choices before us today adequately confront the serious deficiencies in our budget process. The congressional budget process is broken, and badly in need of real reforms that will reinstate fiscal discipline by Congress. The Blue Dog Coalition, of which I am a member, has introduced a twelve-step plan that takes the necessary first steps toward reforming our budget process.

While I support many of the provisions in the Democratic budget, including a partial restoration of “pay-as-you-go” [PAYGO] rules and level funding for domestic priorities such as education, veterans’ health care, and local law enforcement, I am disappointed that this alternative did not include any of the Blue Dog budget process reforms.

The Blue Dog twelve-step plan would stop Congress’s recent borrow-and-spend practices by reinstating PAYGO rules for the entire budget, including spending and revenue measures. Budget enforcement rules that apply to only certain parts of the budget will not have a significant impact on our rising deficits, as Federal Reserve Chairman Alan Greenspan mentioned in his recent testimony before the House Budget Committee.

Additionally, the Blue Dog budget process reinforces a “rainy day” fund for emergency spending, which forty-five states currently have; require a roll call vote on any bill calling for more than $50 million in new spending; repeal the House rule that allows the House to avoid a direct, up-or-down vote on debt limit increases; and require cost estimates by the Congressional Budget Office (CBO) for every bill that Congress votes on.

These reasonable, common-sense reforms are necessary for a functioning budget process and long overdue. The fiscal situation in our country is now out of control, and only tough budget discipline will get us back on track.

On February 17, 2004, the national debt of the United States exceeded $7 trillion for the first time in our country’s history. One year later, our national debt is $7.7 trillion. In the past year, our country has added $700 billion to our national debt.

The out-of-control rise in our national debt over the last year is just another sign of the astonishing fiscal tuo of the白宫 that our country has experienced over the last four years, and another sign of the terrible fiscal position that we now find ourselves in.

In 2001, we had ten-year projected surpluses of $5.6 trillion [2002–2011]. Now, over that same time period, we have likely ten-year deficits of $6.5 trillion reversed in our ten-year fiscal outlook.

Whether intentional or otherwise, our country’s current fiscal policies are depriving the Federal Government of future revenue at a time when we ought to be preparing for an unprecedented demographic shift that will strain Social Security and Medicare. Our current fiscal irresponsibility will eventually land squarely on the shoulders of our children and grandchildren, who will be forced to pay back the debt we are accumulating today with interest.

This means that we are imposing on our children and grandchildren cannot be repealed, and can only be reduced if we take responsible steps now to improve our situation.

Both parties need to work together in a bipartisan fashion to bring our budget back into balance. Republicans are using the pay-as-you-go (PAYGO) approach, which is a system by which they count the cost of several ill-conceived programs and cut other programs that have lifted so many of our seniors out of poverty and helped sustain the strongest middle class in history.

Unfortunately, the administration’s FY06 budget, which was released last month, would spend $2.6 trillion of the projected Social Security surplus over the next ten years.

With the projected 75-year unfunded liability of $3.7 trillion, both parties in Congress need to work together to address Social Security’s solvency problem.

It is time for Congress to stop playing games with our national debt, with Social Security, and with our kids and grandparents’ futures and take a commonsense, bipartisan approach to solve our budget problems.

Mr. HASTINGS of Florida. Mr. Chairman, I rise today to oppose the Republican majority’s ill-sighted budget resolution.

This budget goes beyond all the way to dangerous territory. It’s dangerous for our country, and it’s dangerous for Florida. This budget cuts the COPS program by 96 percent, a program which has put over 7,000 police officers on Florida streets. Their budget cuts more than $40 million from homeland security formula grants in the state of Florida alone. The President is clearly unaware there is more to defending our homeland than invading foreign countries.

The President’s budget avoids the fact that in the Republican budget doesn’t stop there. The Major-
Mr. LANGEVIN. Mr. Chairman, today I rise in support of the Spratt Substitute and in opposition to H. Con. Res. 95, the House Republican budget. A budget is a blueprint of values and priorities—a road map for where we want to move the country. It is no surprise that the Republican budget for fiscal year 2006 is more of the same: continued tax cuts for the wealthy paid for by slashing programs that Rhode Islanders depend on. However, the Spratt Substitute contains thoughtful policies to balance the budget by 2012 without individual tax rate increases or harmful cuts to security, health care, education, veterans' benefits, and other programs that improve the quality of life for Rhode Island's working families.

While the Republicans claim that budget cuts are needed to return to fiscal soundness, they forget their own policies caused today's financial problems. Without the tax cuts for the wealthiest 1 percent of Americans enacted since 2001, our nation's fiscal health would be much rosier, and the neediest and most vulnerable Americans would not be forced to sacrifice. Their fiscal year 2006 budget proposal, which contains no new revenue, is a realist blueprint that is fiscally responsible and builds on the needs of the American people. I urge my colleagues to support the Spratt Substitute and reject H. Con. Res. 95.

Mr. BLUMENAUER. Mr. Chairman, the Republican budget is a body blow to communities in my district, all with detailed constituents, school teachers, local government officials, medical professionals, housing advocates and many others throughout the communities in my district, all with detailed stories about how this budget will have devastating impacts.

The budget cuts both ways. First, by explain
d the federal federal deficit, adding $376 billion to the national debt and spending every penny of the $185 billion Social Security trust fund surplus coming in during the year. Then, by eliminating and reducing key domestic priorities, such as cutting $4.3 billion of education programs, slashing $1.5 billion for affordable housing and development programs, and underfunding veterans' programs by nearly $800 million.

How do we face both increased deficits and program cuts? By continuing to focus on tax cuts for those who need them the least. This is unnecessary and, frankly, dangerous as we continue to create an abyss between the have and have-nots in society, and are putting our financial markets on edge by borrowing trillions from foreign investors. This is not a budget representative of the priorities and values of Oregonians.

Mr. STARK. Mr. Chairman, I rise in strong opposition to the Republican budget. It's dishonest. It's immoral. It's wrong for America's future.

Republicans dishonestly proclaim their budget is fiscally responsible. The only way their numbers work out is if you use slick accounting gimmicks or fuzzy math.

Let me give you some examples of their clever sleight of hand:

The Republicans' top priority to privatize Social Security through private accounts will cost billions of dollars. You'd think that'd be accounted for in this budget? No. The billions will not be needed for the Iraq war. In the budget? No. The cost to our children of extending the massive Bush tax cuts to the wealthy that will balloon our massive deficit? You guessed it. Not in the budget.

Even as they leave out all this massive spending, Republicans still claim fiscal responsibility. Don't be fooled. They're lying to the American public. The true costs of this budget are far higher than Republicans claim. Our children and grandchildren will pay the tab for this deceit for decades to come.

This budget isn't just dishonest—it's immoral. It imposes deep cuts to vital programs the Americans depend on.

As our weak economy is forcing more people to rely on Medicaid's health safety net, Republicans are cutting the program by $20 billion. Income support programs that keep low-income families aloof economically are being axed. Some 48 education and job training programs, vital environmental protections, community development grants and veteran's health care programs are being gutted.

If you're an average American family this will affect you and your economic security. But, while you're tightening your belt watching funding for child's education and your family's health care diminish, billions of dollars are going to big business and special interests. While every other priority is sacrificed in the budget, billions of dollars are being funneled into the bloated defense contracts or fritted away in corporate tax giveaways.

Mr. Speaker, the federal budget is supposed to be a statement of our nation's priorities. This budget is a punch line to a sick joke being played on the American people.

I urge my colleagues to oppose this dishonest, immoral and irresponsible budget.

Mr. SALAZAR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to express my concern about the current state of our nation's budget woes.

I've been running the family ranch for several years and I know what it means to work within a budget. You may have to count your pennies, but you spend your money where it matters the most to you and your community.

This Administration proposes to cut funding for agricultural programs in addition to denying promised benefits to veterans and military widows. These are the wrong priorities for our country. We cannot pass the burden of the debt onto the backs of our farmers and veterans.

Agriculture is the backbone of this great nation. I have always said that there are only two things that can bring this country down—our dependence on other countries to produce our food and our dependence on foreign oil. Agriculture must become a real part of our renewable energy supply. Research and education are the only way we can grow and develop these new technologies. This is the worst time to cut agriculture research programs.

Decade after decade we talk about measures, but turning our backs on our country's service personnel and veterans isn't desirable, it's crazy. We need to put our resources toward meeting the promises we have made to our veterans, servicemen, and their families in rural Colorado, that means making sure that veterans who have to drive five hours to get the health care they were promised...

I will never support breaking the promise to the brave men and women who served our country in the name of freedom and democracy.
fights for fiscal responsibility. Fiscal responsibility means spending your money where it matters most. We can do that without increasing taxes.

First off—our Nation’s taxpayers deserve an honest budget that gives an account of all future spending, and that does not privatize Social Security, then the budget should have included the trillions of dollars it would take to change the system.

Secondly—we need to reduce the deficit. As a farmer, I know this firsthand—you can’t spend money you don’t have. Congress is already facing a $589 billion dollar deficit—increasing the amount of our national debt to $1 trillion dollars. The Blue Dog Coalition created a 12 Point Reform Plan to cure the Nation’s addiction to deficit spending. For starters, the Blue Dog Plan would require that any new spending would have to be paid for. This common-sense rule, “pay-as-you-go” is mandatory in Colorado. In the 1990’s, “pay-as-you-go” brought the budget into surplus and is supported by both Senate and House leaders.

Our problem includes a provision for a “rainy day fund” in case there is a need for emergency spending.

Neither the Administration’s budget, nor the Democratic alternative, incorporate a single component of the Blue Dog 12 Point Plan. As Members of Congress, we must discuss a budget that has included input from both parties. It is for that reason, I voted “No” on both budget proposals. I will not vote for an increase in taxes. And I will not vote to cut programs that matter to our communities.

The Federal Government and this Congress need to take a lesson from small business owners and get back to creating a budget where all the numbers add up.

Mr. Chairman, the federal budget should be a statement of our country’s values. It should reflect the priorities of the American people: good jobs, safe communities, quality education, and access to health care. The Republican budget, H. Con. Res. 95, is not aligned with these priorities; and I, therefore, rise in opposition to its passage.

Like President Bush’s budget proposal, the Republican budget calls for sweeping cuts in mandatory and non-defense discretionary spending that would harm the effectiveness of vital Federal programs.

Perhaps in an effort to obfuscate the truth, House Republicans fail to provide the specificity the President does in his budget, so we are left to wonder which programs may get slashed or eliminated.

But we do know this: the Republican budget resolution instructs various House committees to make almost $69 billion in cuts to mandatory spending programs. The Energy and Commerce Committee, for example, would be forced to cut $20 billion in savings over five years. All indications are that Medicaid, which provides health coverage for more than 52 million low-income Americans, will take the brunt of the cuts.

The proposed budget will also cut veterans’ health care by $14 billion, education programs by $2.5 billion and clean water programs by $700 million. It will slash economic development programs by $1.5 billion, possibly leading to the elimination of the extraordinarily successful Blue Dog 12 Point Plan. The Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program. The CDBG provides Federal funding for locally-identified projects, like affordable housing, economic redevelop-ment, roads and public libraries.

The Republican budget, in fact, neither adequately funds our national priorities, nor does it offer a strategy for achieving fiscal discipline. The resolution calls for a $376 billion deficit in FY 2006, but the deficit is worse than it appears. In calculating the deficit, House Repub-licans use surpluses in the Social Security trust fund to pay for other programs. If the Social Security surpluses are not counted, the projected deficit for FY 2006 would be $564.5 billion.

Democrats, on the other hand, will be offering an alternative proposal today that reflects the priorities of the American people. The Democratic budget provides $4.5 billion more for education and training programs, $1.6 billion more for veterans programs, $2 billion more for community and regional development and $1.1 billion more for law enforcement and justice programs. It does all this while insti-tuting a plan to balance the budget by 2012 and protecting Medicaid and Social Security.

Mr. Chairman, it is clear that the Repub-licans have chosen to neglect the needs of the many in order to maintain and extend tax cuts for the few. Priorities are where the prior- ities lie. I urge my colleagues to align their prior- ities with those of the American people, and vote against the Republican budget resolution and for the Democratic alternative.

Mr. DELAURD, Mr. Chairman, I rise in strong opposition to this budget. The budget should encourage fiscal, personal and social responsibility at the same time it moves us fur-ther down the road to making, opportunity real for people. In that sense, it should reflect the values and priorities of Americans. But by deepening inequality and raising the barriers for those working to do better, this budget does neither. If anything, it reflects prior- ities that are out of step with ordinary Ameri-cans.

By calling for $1.8 trillion in tax cuts, pri-marily to the wealthiest Americans, the presi-dent’s budget compromises both our ability to face our most pressing challenges and strengthen the social safety net that might rescue those living in poverty. Experts estimate that over the next 75 years, the cost of the tax cuts for the top one percent of Americans is nearly equivalent to the shortfall in Social Security—this at a time when another 1.3 mil-lion Americans fell into poverty last year.

And with this budget’s cuts to Medicaid, job training, veterans health care, and child care will only exacerbate those startling figures. The decision to eviscerate Medicaid by as much as $20 billion will leave many low-in-come families with nowhere to turn for medical care, and many seniors with no way to afford long-term care. Its growth in recent years is simply a reflection of its success in providing health care for the thousands of Americans who alone would otherwise have joined the ranks of the uninsured during the economic downturn.

And states are already struggling to keep up. This year, the governor in my state of Connecticut proposed increased co-payments and premiums for families receiving SCHIP. If the president succeeds in cutting Medicaid, there will be no way for states to make up the shortfall. We cannot let Medicaid fail victim to its own success.

Mr. Chairman, the cost of this Administra-tion’s poor decisions should not be borne by those least able to afford it. Budgets are moral documents. They should promote, first and foremost, the common good of the Nation. And turning our backs on that now as this budget does is not only bad policy—it is im-moral.

Mr. UDALL of Colorado. Mr. Chairman, I cannot vote for this budget resolution. It does reflect the priorities of the Republican leader-ship, but I do not think those are the right pri-orities for our country.

Over the last five years the federal budget has gone from projected surpluses to undeni-able deficits. The result has been to reverse a decade of progress that saw the budget go from a $290 billion surplus when President Clinton took office to a surplus of $236 billion in 2000, which was where things stood when the current President Bush came to office.

Unfortunately, the combination of recession, the need to increase spending for defense and homeland security, and excessive and unbal-anced tax cuts have taken us to the largest deficits in our Nation’s history—a $375 billion deficit two years ago, a deficit of $412 billion last year, and for this year, according to the Bush Administration itself, a deficit of $427 billion. That is three record-setting years in a row.

And, regrettably, the budget resolution before us reflects the proposals of the Bush Ad-ministration—and we know, or should know, what that means.

According to the nonpartisan Congressional Budget Office, following the path suggested by the Bush Administration and this budget reso-lution will add $5.135 trillion to our national debt over the next 10 years. I do not think this is the right way to go.

That is why I voted for the more responsible and better balanced alternative offered by the distinguished gentleman from South Carolina, Mr. SPRATT.

That alternative budget combined a bal-anced budget, real budget discipline, and pro-tection for Social Security while still providing the same resources for Defense and Home-land Security as the Republican budget.

The alternative also would have provided more resources for important priorities and would have laid the basis for more responsible tax policy. It was better fiscally and better in terms of the education of the American people, the health care of our veterans, the development of our communities, and the quality of our environment.

It would have brought spending in the do-mestic discretionary accounts back to base-line, that is, to current services, enough to pre-vent them from being eroded away by infla-tion, but not any significant increase. Unfortunately, that alternative was not adopted, and the only remaining choice is to vote for or against the Republican leadership’s proposal. Because I am convinced that it is not right for our communities or our country, I must vote against it.

Mr. SCOTT of Georgia. Mr. Chairman, the Republican’s 2006 budget resolution makes the wrong choices for our Nation. It reflects skewed priorities and runs counter to our deepest held beliefs. The budget embraces disastrous economic policies while at the same time failing to put forward a vision of what the United States should be. What America needs instead is responsible policies that reflect our values, help bring our Nation to-gether, and invest in the future by expanding opportunity. Many programs important to Georgia are cut, including $800 million from the Centers for Disease Control, funding for firefighters by 30 percent and $26.7 million in Homeland Security Funding for Georgia. These programs provide front-line protections to Georgia communities. Further, this budget hurts my state’s military installations and veterans by cutting $60 million from last year’s spending for military construction projects and cutting healthcare for 2 million Georgian veterans.

Communities are harmed by cutting Community Development Block Grants (CDBG) by $211.9 million over the next four years. Representatives from the cities of Riverdale and Powder Springs told me this week that their plans for building community centers depend on funding of CDBG. The budget will also eliminate the HOPE VI program, which is revitalizing public housing in Georgia. The Section 8 housing vouchers cut would remove 8,700 families from the program in Georgia.

This budget proposes to cut vital domestic investments and services for the middle class and poor, while continuing to accumulate huge budget deficits. Education is cut by $366.8 million and Georgia children by under funding the No Child Left Behind Act. TRIO programs by almost $13 million for Georgia, affecting 13,000 students and vocational and adult education in Georgia would be reduced by $42 million from 2004–2010. Healthcare would be affected by an estimated $7.9 million cut to Southern Regional Hospital. These Medicaid cuts hurt Clayton County where 24.2 percent of the population in 2003 utilized Medicaid. About 10 percent of Clayton County is below the Federal Poverty Level. Despite these cuts, every Georgia family’s share of the national debt has been increased by $38,281.

The federal budget should be an honest blueprint for the spending priorities of the government. However, this budget is not honest. It is passing our obligations, responsibilities and challenges to our children and grandchildren, while cutting programs that benefit the poorest among us.

We need not accept a federal budget that singles out hard-working middle-class families, those who have served our Nation, and our society’s most vulnerable citizens. Americans deserve an honest budget that reflects their priorities and that honors their hard work. I urge my colleagues to vote “no.” We need a plan that is fiscally responsible and will fund the programs working families depend on.

Ms. ESCHOO. Mr. Chairman, the proposed reductions in Medicaid under this Budget Resolution plan are unacceptable. For 40 years Medicaid has always been a crucial support system for low-income individuals. Medicaid has made health care available to millions of Americans who have no other access to health care.

The Budget Resolution will require $14–$20 billion in cuts from the program over the next five years and it will almost certainly lead to changes to state funding rules, administrative payment cuts, and prescription drug payment changes. This comes at a time when poverty is up, wages are down, and the number of uninsured Americans is at a record in our nation’s history.

The Medicaid program serves nearly 50 million Americans. As people lost jobs and income during the recent economic downturn, Medicaid enrollment increased nearly one-third. The decreasing number of those who receive health care benefits through employment adds additional burdens to the Medicaid system. States and local governments rely on federal assistance to help provide a safety-net services. Any cuts to the Medicaid program will shift the burden entirely onto state and local governments that are already straining to meet increasing demands on the program and severe budget pressures of their own. In many states, Medicaid costs exceed education costs.

In California, our Medicaid program, Medi-Cal, matches every dollar of federal funding with a dollar in state funding. This shared commitment is critical since the state receives $20 billion in federal funding. Reducing federal Medicaid funding to states at a time of rising health care costs, increased numbers of uninsured, and states’ increasing difficulties in paying their share of Medicaid costs, is bound to force states to reduce coverage and increase the numbers of uninsured. Uninsured patients without access to care will instead seek treatment in emergency rooms, further burdening an already overtaxed system.

The Medicaid program is not only critical for low-income individuals, but it’s also fundamental to the operation of California’s safety-net hospitals. The President’s budget calls for eliminating the use of intergovernmental transfers for hospital funding. This means there will be at least $11.9 billion in direct cuts to safety-net providers nationwide. Many states rely on IGTS to fund their Medicaid budgets. The low-income and uninsured rely on these hospitals to receive access to needed health care services. Without the continuation of federal Medicaid funds targeted to safety net hospitals, millions of Californians will not have access to necessary health care services. This budget resolution advances this march to folly for so many Americans and that’s why 242 national groups and 785 state groups, including the National Governors Association and the National Association of Counties oppose changes in Medicaid.

We have an obligation to care for the less fortunate, and the Congress should not be cutting critical health care and other services from those in need. Rather, we should maintain our partnership with the states to ensure that Medicaid benefits are available for the most vulnerable in our society.

I urge all my colleagues in the House to oppose the Budget Resolution.

Ms. SCHRACKOWSKY. Mr. Chairman, I rise today in opposition to the Republican budget of mass destruction and in support of the Democratic and Congressional Black Caucus alternative budgets which recognize the true needs and values of our Nation.

We do not need to call in weapons inspectors to find the threat to the majority of Americans in this budget, nor do we need a warning system. We know exactly what, when, and where the damage will be because the Republican budget, once again, puts the tax cuts of the wealthy above the needs of the many.

Under the Republican budget, the vast majority of Americans are asked to sacrifice, with one exception: the wealthy who can most afford to give something up. Their tax cuts—the same tax cuts that brought us unprecedented deficits—are protected and even extended under this proposal. They will cost our country an additional $106 billion, of which 75 percent will go to people making over $200,000 a year.

In order to pay for those tax cuts, the Republicans are literally proposing to take away food and health care from low-income families, kill 48 education programs by eliminating the $4.3 billion that funds them, slash veterans’ health care—including cutting $9 million from medical and prosthetic research, and undermine community development in struggling neighborhoods by cutting $1.5 billion in grant programs. Despite Republican claims, these cuts will do nothing to help our country’s bottom line, but they will be devastating for the children, working families, and senior citizens who will be asked to go without. This is not only irresponsible, but immoral.

In the that state of Illinois, we could see the Earned Income Tax Credit—the most effective anti-poverty program—cut by $164.2 million. This budget would increase the cuts to the Healthy Start and child care programs. We would lose $84.3 million, and Supplemental Security Income—which helps poor seniors and people with disabilities—slashed by $174 million. Thousands of vulnerable people’s lives will be destroyed if the Republican budget passes.

The House Republican budget is even worse than the President’s proposal. For instance, they propose even greater cuts to...
Medicaid than under his plan. The $20 billion in Medicaid cuts included in this budget resolution are unwise, unjustifiable and almost certainly lethal. As health care costs continue to rise, the number of uninsured Americans exceeds 45 million, and employers continue to cut back on coverage, Medicaid has provided a guaranteed health, mental health, and long term care services for pregnant women and children, persons with disabilities, persons living with AIDS or mental illnesses, and sencitor citizens needing medical care or long term care services. Without those services, millions of Americans will no longer be able to get the physical health, mental health, and long term care services they need to remain healthy and productive.

In my state of Illinois, Medicaid covers 40 percent of all births, 30 percent of all children, and 65 percent of all nursing home residents. In Illinois, under the leadership of our governor, we are working to expand Medicaid to cover more children and more families in face of a growing crisis in health care. This is not just the right thing to do, it is the cost-effective course to take. Medicaid costs less than pri-ivate health insurance and its per capita costs are growing more slowly than private insurance premiums. But, if the Republican budget cuts re enacted, it may no longer be there for the millions of Americans who have no other source of care—other than bankrupting their families or mortgaging their futures to pay for their parents’ long term care needs or their children’s medical services.

Budgets are not just about numbers, they are about values and priorities. Based on the Republicans’ proposal, maintaining and making permanent tax cuts for millionaires has been and continues to be a higher priority than meeting the needs of the majority of Americans. And, they are shifting the responsitibility of their fiscal mess onto the backs of our children who will see decreased services and will be asked to deal with deficits for years to come.

The Democratic and CBC budgets recognize that this is the wrong thing to do and a great threat to our nation’s future well-being and prosperity. It is time to reverse course so that we can start investing in our country’s future and our children’s prosperity in order to pay for tax cuts for the rich that we cannot afford and that they do not need. I urge my colleagues to vote against the Republican WMD and for the Democratic and CBC budgets.

Mr. NEUGEBAUER. Mr. Chairman, I rise today in support of the House of Representatives’ budget plan and thank Chairman Nussle and his committee for their dedicated work on this legislation.

If the majority of us agree that a federal budget of more than $2.5 trillion dollars provides enough resources for the government. As I tell my constituents, we don’t have an income problem herein Washington; we have a spending problem. Even as our economy has grown and revenues have increased in the past year, we continue to spend more than we take in. Our House budget takes important steps to address this spending problem while ensuring that our nation’s most pressing needs are being met.

We are at war, so defense and security funding remain a priority. Much of the increased spending in the past few years has gone toward national defense and security, including $258 billion in extra funding since September 11, 2001. Our House budget matches President Bush’s commitment to our national defense needs with a 4.8 percent increase.

Beyond national security, this budget provides sufficient funds to meet our priorities, and it also take important steps to begin addressing Congress’ spending problem. First, our budget does not raise taxes in order to pay for more spending, as some are proposing in their alternatives. Second, our budget actually reduces non-defense and non-home land security discretionary spending by .8 percent to focus, this budget will set us on a course to reduce the growth in mandatory spending, which is growing far faster than our economy and comprises nearly two-thirds of all federal spending.

By maintaining the tax relief and not allowing for tax increases, our House budget ensures that the economy will continue to grow and create jobs. Sustained economic growth resulting from sustained lower taxes also narrows the budget deficit.

While non-defense discretionary spending is only about 20 percent of the budget, it is the area in which Congress exercises the most direct annual control. We know there are programs that are wasteful, duplicative or unnecessary. By reducing spending in this area by .8 percent, we force ourselves to do better at finding the waste and consolidating or elimiing those programs that don’t need in order to make the best use of the resources available.

For the first time in eight years, Congress is finally dealing with the unchecked growth of mandatory spending in this budget. Let’s be clear—despite what we are hearing from some on the other side, this budget does not “cut” any programs that help those in need. More will still be spent this year than was spent last year, and by my West Texas definition, that is not a cut. What this budget does is set on the track to slow the rate of growth on the mandatory side, which is currently unsustainable. In the last ten years, federal Medicaid spending has nearly doubled, growing at an average of 8 percent each year. Even with the savings called for in this budget, Medicaid will still grow by 7.3 percent over the next 10 years, as opposed to just increasing by .7 percent.

With regard to the mandatory spending reduction set for agriculture, I am concerned that the target in this bill is more than agriculture’s total share of mandatory spending. As we consider with the Senate, I ask that the Budget Committee work toward a number that is more in line with agriculture’s 4.7 percent share of mandatory spending.

What we are doing here with respect to agriculture is allowing the Agriculture Committee to look at all mandatory spending at USDA and have their say on how we reach our savings total. We can do this without “reopening” the Farm Bill. All USDA mandatory spending, including nutrition programs, must be considered.

During the first three years of the 2002 Farm Bill, farm programs have cost $14 billion less than the Congressional Budget Office predicted when the legislation passed. The 2002 Farm Bill has proven to be a very effective safety net for our producers, providing support in times of lower prices, and reducing support when it is no longer needed. And even though they have increased somewhat this year due to lower prices, total spending over the life of this Farm Bill is still projected to be less than was predicted.

Changing the rules of the game now, and then again in two years, is not sound policy. Budget decisions we make in agriculture today will not only affect the 2007 Farm Bill, but they will also affect our negotiating position in the World Trade Organization. If we take all of our chips off the table now, we will not have anything to negotiate with or the power to represent our farmers and to do the job they are willing to do their part to reduce the deficit. However, they do not support agriculture bearing a disproportionate share of the burden. Neither do I, and I am committed to working in conference to ensure our final budget outline for the year treats agriculture fairly.

Our constituents are looking to us to make responsible decisions about the use of their hard-earned tax dollars. They are counting on us to set the right priorities and follow through on past commitments. I believe our House budget sets us on the right path toward reducing spending, keeping our economy growing and protecting our nation.

Mr. EDWARDS. Mr. Chairman, a federal budget is a statement of values. It says more about our values that any speeches, any rhetoric, and any promise.

Sadly, this partisan budget reflects the failed values of fiscal irresponsibility. And misplaced priorities. It locks in massive deficits for as far as the eye can see, adding hundreds of bil-ions of dollars to a huge national debt that will swallow our nation’s economic growth, put Social Security benefits at risk and bury your children in a sea of red ink for the rest of their lives.

Large deficits and underinvestment in education, research and health care are not prescriptions for a healthy economic future—they are prescriptions for economic stagnation and decline.

In my opinion, this budget is immoral. It asks the most from those who have the least and asks the least from those who have the most. That fails the values test of every major representative in our society.

This budget makes it harder for millions of students to attend college by increasing the gap between college costs vs student financial aid.

This budget says to veterans, including Iraqi war veterans that pensions for disabilities, compensation checks and G.I. education benefits will be cut by $795 million over five years, thus making a mockery of the American principle of shared sacrifice during time of war. 14 billion over 5 years. I would imagine that most veterans will be on board by supporters of this bill in their Veterans Day speeches this November.

This budget says to thousands of seniors who need nursing home care under the Medicaid program that you’ll just have to go without that care. In my book, that’s not a very re-respectful way of honoring thy father and mother.

To the working woman I met yesterday who works hard to help troubled youth in my hometown in Texas, this budget says your housing program will be cut, making it more difficult for her to find decent housing on a limited income.

Yet, to the fortunate person who makes one million dollars this year on dividend income, this budget says you can keep every dime of the $220,000 tax break you have received recently.

Asking seniors, students, veterans and hard-working families to sacrifice so those in the top one-tenth of one percent of income in America who receive 94 percent of tax cuts does not pass the fairness test.

If this is a faith-based initiative, I would like to know on which faith it is based.

By refusing once again to require tax cuts to be paid for, my House Republican colleagues are ensuring greater deficits in American history for the third year in a row. They have preached to us for five years the all gain, no pain budget built on the free lunch philosophy. Unfortunately, the bill collector is now calling and the deficits caused by that failed philosophy have been financed by the Japanese and Communist Chinese who own tens of billions of our national debt and with it, the ability to wreck our American economy.

If House Republican leaders want to preach fiscal responsibility to individuals by toughening profligate law, then they had better start practicing what they preach. It is ironic that those who are condemning the personal debt of citizens have been the architects of three consecutive years of the largest federal deficits in American history.

Surely, America’s middle class with greater debt and under investing in education and health care for working families is neither fair nor fiscally responsible.

Vote no on this budget. We can do much better, and the American people and our children deserve much better.

Mr. COOPER. Mr. Chairman, I would like the RECORD to reflect my views on the horridous and deliberate deficits our Nation faces—these articles appeared today in Roll Call and last week in the New York Times.

[From the New York Times, Mar. 11, 2005] RECESS TIME IN CONGRESS (By Jim Cooper)

President Bush regularly calls on Congress to restrain spending. But he has yet to put his pen where his mouth is by using his veto—his most powerful tool, to be sure, but one that very few American presidents have failed to wield, especially during times of high deficits. Mr. Bush says he prefers a sharper veto power; the ability to cut spending within larger bills. He called for line-item veto power in his first press conference after his re-election and in his State of the Union, reported that he did not ask for any rescissions, large or small, for the $82 billion supplemental request. It’s as if Bush budgeted for someone else’s presidency.

The President’s budget pays for only six months of the war in Iraq and completely overlooks the costs of Social Security reform. The Administration always lied about the cost of the Medicare drug bill. Extending the tax cuts will produce a sea of red ink just beyond the Bush budget’s five-year window. The House Republican budget is based largely on the President’s, adding a tiny bit of oversight for the costs of the war. Its deficits are still so large that, by the last year of the Bush administration, we will be paying more money to our Nation’s creditors than to our own citizens in non-defense domestic discretionary spending. According to the GAO, by 2040 our current policies will result in creditors getting all of our defense, Social Security, Medicare, and veterans’ benefits, or any other program to help Americans.

Republican control of the executive and legislative branches means that they have the power to budget honestly for our Nation and reduce our deficits. President Clinton was able to achieve budget surpluses despite a divided government.

Take the veto. Bush is the first president since James Garfield in 1881 not to veto a single bill. Garfield only had six months in office; Bush has had 4 years.

Bush did threaten to veto any effort to repeal the 2003 Medicare drug law that added $8.1 trillion in unfunded liabilities to our Nation. This president will twice as hard for future generations to afford as the alleged “crisis” in Social Security.

Bush brandished his veto pen to force Congress to spend money we do not have.

The question is on the concurrent resolution. Pursuant to clause 10 of rule XX, the yeas and nays are ordered. The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yeas 218, nays 214, not voting 3, as follows:
Mr. FRANK of Massachusetts and Mr. DOGGETT changed their vote from "yea" to "nay".

So the concurrent resolution was agreed to.

The vote was announced as above recorded.

EXPRESSING CONCERN REGARDING VIOLATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS BY SYRIA

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. LAHOOD). The unfinished business is the question of suspending the rules and agreeing to the concurrent resolution, H. Con. Res. 18, as amended.

The Clerk read the title of the concurrent resolution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. SMITH) that the House suspend the rules and agree to the concurrent resolution, H. Con. Res. 18, as amended, on which the yeas and nays are ordered.

The vote was taken by electronic device and there were—yeas 402, nays 3, not voting 29, as follows:

Mr. FRANK of Massachusetts and Mr. DOGGETT changed their vote from "yea" to "nay".

So the concurrent resolution was agreed to.

The vote was announced as above recorded.

EXPRESSING CONCERN REGARDING VIOLATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS BY SYRIA

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. LAHOOD). The unfinished business is the question of suspending the rules and agreeing to the concurrent resolution, H. Con. Res. 18, as amended.

The Clerk read the title of the concurrent resolution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. SMITH) that the House suspend the rules and agree to the concurrent resolution, H. Con. Res. 18, as amended, on which the yeas and nays are ordered.

The vote was taken by electronic device and there were—yeas 402, nays 3, not voting 29, as follows:
Ms. McKinney changed her vote from "yea" to "nay." So (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the concurrent resolution, as amended, was agreed to.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

REMOVAL OF NAME OF MEMBER
AS COSPONSOR OF H.R. 65

Mr. WEXLER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to have my name removed as a cosponsor of H.R. 65.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Florida?

There was no objection.

PROVIDING FOR AN ADJOURNMENT OR RECESS OF THE TWO HOUSES

Mr. DELAY. Mr. Speaker, I offer a privileged concurrent resolution (H. Con. Res. 103) and ask for its immediate consideration.

The Clerk read the concurrent resolution, as follows:

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), That when the House adjourns on the legislative day of Thursday, March 17, 2005, Friday, March 18, 2005, or Saturday, March 19, 2005, on a motion offered pursuant to this concurrent resolution by its Majority Leader or his designee, it stand adjourned until 2 p.m. on Monday, April 3, 2005, or at such other time on that day as may be specified by its Majority Leader or his designee in the motion to recess or adjourn, or until the time of any reassembly pursuant to section 2 of this concurrent resolution, whichever occurs first; and then when the Senate recesses or adjourns on any day from Thursday, March 17, 2005, through Saturday, March 26, 2005, on a motion offered pursuant to this concurrent resolution by its Majority Leader or his designee, it stand recessed or adjourned until noon on Monday, April 4, 2005, or at such other time on that day as may be specified by its Majority Leader or his designee in the motion to recess or adjourn, or until the time of any reassembly pursuant to section 2 of this concurrent resolution, whichever occurs first.

Sec. 2. The Speaker of the House and the Majority Leader of the Senate, or their respective designees, acting jointly after consultation with the Minority Leader of the Senate, shall notify the Members of the House and the Senate, respectively, to reassemble at such place and time as they may designate when, in their opinion, the public interest shall warrant it.

The concurrent resolution was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

DISPENSING WITH CALENDAR WEDNESDAY BUSINESS ON WEDNESDAY, APRIL 6, 2005

Mr. DELAY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that the business in order under the Calendar Wednesday rule be dispensed with on Wednesday, April 6, 2005.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Texas?

There was no objection.

CONDITIONAL ADJOURNMENT OF THE HOUSE TO MONDAY, MARCH 21, 2005

Mr. DELAY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that when the House adjourns today, it adjourn to meet at 2 p.m. on Monday, March 21, 2005, unless it sooner has received a message from the Senate transmitting its concurrent House Concurrent Resolution 103, in which case the House shall stand adjourned pursuant to that concurrent resolution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Texas?

There was no objection.

APPOINTMENT OF HON. FRANK R. WOLF OR HON. TOM DAVIS OF VIRGINIA AS SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE TO SIGN ENROLLED BILLS AND JOINT RESOLUTIONS THROUGH APRIL 5, 2005

The SPEAKER pro tempore laid before the House the following communication from the Speaker:
want to say thank you to the 81st Brigade from Washington State.

HONORING DAVID EMERSON HOUSEL

(Mr. ADERHOLT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. ADERHOLT. Mr. Speaker, today I rise to honor Mr. David Emerson Housel on the occasion of his retirement as Auburn University Director of Athletics. I am honored to stand before this body of Congress and this Nation to recognize his many accomplishments.

David is truly a man who embodied American principles of hard work, dedication to one’s family, and service to one’s community.

On April 1, 1994, David Housel became Auburn University’s thirteenth Director of Athletics. Upon accepting the job, he stated that his one goal was to leave Auburn and the athletic department better than he found it. This goal was achieved.

Mr. Speaker, I could go on much longer. This gentleman, who was born and grew up in Pickens County, Alabama in the Fourth District but time does not permit this morning.

It is a great privilege to honor David Emerson Housel for his many accomplishments and his enduring impact on his community, friends and of course family. He is a man of great dignity and character who takes pride in the accomplishments of those he has helped over the years. David continues to be an inspiring role model for all of us and is the embodiment of the Auburn creed.

I know I join the Auburn faithful and all Alabamians in wishing David God’s richest blessing in his retirement.

Mr. Speaker, today I have the privilege to honor Mr. David Emerson Housel on the occasion of his retirement as Auburn University’s Director of Athletics. I am honored to stand before this body of Congress and this Nation to recognize his many accomplishments. He is truly a man who embodies the American principles of hard work, dedication to one’s family, and service to one’s community.

David Emerson Housel was born on October 18, 1946 and grew up in the small, west Alabama town of Gordo. In 1965, at the age of ten, David attended his first Auburn University football game, a 34-7 victory over the University of Alabama at Legion Field in Birmingham.

After the game he wrote letters to both schools asking for information about their football teams. David told the story to Mr. Neal Sims of the Birmingham News in the December 26, 2004 issue: “Auburn sent a football guide, along with a note thanking me for being an Auburn fan. I got an Alabama media guide and a bill for two dollars”. As Mr. Sims reports: “Alabama got its two bucks. Auburn got his heart, and together school and devotee have been linked ever since he grew from child to man.”

David graduated from Gordo High School in 1965 and enrolled in Auburn University on June 9 of the same year. He graduated with a degree in journalism in 1969 and, after eight months with the Huntsville News (during which time he maintained a mailing address in Auburn) he returned to his Alma Mater to accept a job in the Ticket Office, where he worked from 1970 to 1972. He taught journalism from 1972 to 1980 and rejoined the athletic staff as Assistant Sports Information Director. He was named Director in 1981 and Assistant Athletic Director in 1985.

On April 1, 1994 David became Auburn’s thirteenth Director of Athletics. Upon accepting the job, he stated that his one goal was to leave Auburn and the athletic department better than he found it. This goal was achieved.

Under David’s leadership Auburn won seven team national championships (in the previous thirty-eight years Auburn had captured only one national championship). Auburn has won twenty-nine Southeastern Conference titles in the last ten years (in the previous twenty-nine years, Auburn won eight titles). During David’s tenure, the Athletic Department has posted its highest graduation rates ever. Also, the Department operated in the black financially every year, one of the very few Division 1A programs to do so on a consistent annual basis.

Being the humble man that he is, David refuses to take credit for these accomplishments. Instead he gives credit to the Board of Trustees, the President, and above all, to the Auburn people. “This is the work of Auburn people,” he says. “Whatever we have been able to accomplish is a direct reflection of Auburn people and their support of the school they love.”

David is a past president of the SEC Sports Information Directors, a former chair of the NCAA Public Relations and Communications Committees. He served on the District III Postgraduate Scholarship Committee and has served as chair of the Dean’s Council for Auburn’s College of Liberal Arts. He also served as a member of the NCAA Championships Cabinet and the Executive Committee of the Southeastern Conference.

He serves on the Board of Directors for Auburn Bank, the Auburn Wesley Foundation, the Lee County Red Cross and is a member of the Birmingham Pledge Advisory Board. He is an honorary member of the Auburn Football Letterman Club and the University Singers. He is a member of the Sports Information Directors’ Hall of Fame, the Tony Brandino Hall of Fame and the Gordo Athletics Hall of Fame. He is also an award winning free lance writer and has written two books, “Saturday to Remember” and “From the Desk of David Housel, A Collection of Auburn Stories.”

In 1982 the Alabama Chapter of the National Football Foundation recognized David with their Contribution to Amateur Football Award. He has also received the Distinguished Service Award from the Wallace Camp Foundation of New Haven, Connecticut and the Birmingham Monday Morning Quarterback Club for his career contributions to the sport of college football.

Of all of David’s accomplishments, perhaps his greatest achievement was convincing the former Susan McIntosh to marry him. Susan is a retired third grade teacher at Wright’s Mill Road Elementary School in Auburn and they were married on June 15, 1985. David and Susan are faithful members of Auburn First United Methodist Church.

Mr. Speaker, it is a great privilege to honor David Emerson Housel for his many accomplishments and his enduring impact on his community, friends and family. He is a man of great dignity and character who takes pride in the accomplishments of those he has helped over the years. David continues to be an inspiring role model for all of us and is the embodiment of the Auburn Creed.

I know I join the Auburn faithful in wishing David God’s richest blessings in his retirement.

SPECIAL ORDERS

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mrs. DRAKE). Under the Speaker’s announced policy of January 4, 2005, and under a previous order of the House, the following Members will be recognized for 5 minutes each.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. JONES) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. SCHIFF. Madam Speaker, just a few minutes ago the House passed a budget that puts this body on record as effectively turning our back on future generations, saddling our children and grandchildren with mounting deficits and debt, with no end in sight.

The majority’s management of this Nation’s finances has resulted in more than $2.2 trillion in additional debt since 2001. With this budget, the majority party has made a bad problem worse.

Our colleagues on the other side of the aisle who control the House, the Senate, and the Presidency are in total command of our economy. The majority continues to talk about fiscal responsibility, about waste, about fraud, and about the abuse of the American people’s money. Yet they have proposed a budget that is fundamentally dishonest, a budget that omits the cost of the war in Iraq and masks the costs that we will incur down the road as the deficit continues to explode.

Our men and women in uniform sacrifice each day. They leave behind their jobs and their families, often on very short notice, and at great personal and financial cost. Unfortunately, too many of them have made the ultimate sacrifice for this Nation. Yet this Congress continues to demonstrate a complete lack of fortitude to ask the American people to also make a sacrifice during this time of war; and it has the indignity to ask our children to bear the burden alone.

For years, members of the Blue Dog Coalition have warned that we were spending money we did not have; that the administration had no economic plan; and that tax cuts were not a substitute for economic progress for our country's future; but the majority in Congress continue to reject our budget reform proposals, efforts to budget in the same way that your family and mine do, by paying as you go.

The Blue Dog Coalition developed a clear 12-step plan to put our fiscal house back in order by restoring discipline and accountability to the budget process. A few days ago, a proposal to include 11 of these 12 steps in the budget resolution was wholly rejected by the majority in the House Committee on Rules.

By rejecting consideration of the Blue Dog reforms, the majority turned its back on the call to return to some measure of fiscal discipline. Since no debate was permitted, I would like to take this opportunity to share some of the key features of this plan with the American people.

The Blue Dog 12-point reform plan embraces the first rule of holes: when you find yourself in one, stop digging. Our plan takes the shovel away from Congress by imposing tough new rules to restrain congressional spending. The plan also stops Congress from buying on credit and restores PAYGO, strongly supported by Federal Reserve Chairman Alan Greenspan.

The Blue Dog plan also puts a lid on spending by holding down discretionary spending to the levels proposed by the President in this year's budget. It closes a giant loophole that allows almost any spending to be designated an emergency by requiring Congress to have a separate vote on items designated as such.

Every day, I hear from my constituents who ask where are their tax dollars going. The Blue Dog plan answers this call with a number of commonsense reforms to keep the taxpayers better educated about where their hard-earned dollars go.

We owe it to the American people to stop imperiling the Nation's economic future by borrowing money to pay for irresponsible policies.

Yesterday the Judiciary Committee on which I sit spent an entire day working on the massive bankruptcy bill. One of the debate revolving around issues of debt and finances, my colleagues on the other side of the aisle often talked about the importance of personal responsibility.

If your family were mine budgeted in the same way this House demonstrated today, we would all go bankrupt. Our constituents know exactly what it is like to balance a checkbook at the end of each month and at the end of the year. It is now time for the majority to exercise some of the personal responsibility they are so fond of and balance our Nation's books.

We are a nation, and a great nation, but we are also a nation of individuals. And it is the responsibility of each individual to be a responsible citizen.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mrs. Drake) Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. Burton) is recognized for 5 minutes.

(Mr. Burton of Indiana addressed the House. His remarks will appear hereafter in the Extensions of Remarks.)

EXCHANGE OF SPECIAL ORDER TIME

Mrs. Blackburn. Madam Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to claim the time of the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. Burton).

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentlewoman from Tennessee?

There was no objection.

HONORING OUTSTANDING CONSTITUENTS FROM TENNESSEE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentlewoman from Tennessee (Mrs. Blackburn) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mrs. Blackburn. Madam Speaker, we have a wonderful gentleman who was a Tennessee resident, citizen and someone we are terribly proud of. His name is Alex Haley, and many around the world know of his writings. And one of the things that Mr. Haley would often say is "Find the good and praise it." And that is something that if we have more or less adopted in Tennessee, when folks do things that should be praised. And today I want to recognize some of our outstanding citizens in our State.

One is Mr. Hubert Seaton of Henderson, Tennessee. And he was recognized during the annual Henderson, Tennessee Membership and Awards Banquet, and the Chester County Chamber of Commerce named him as their 2004 citizen of the year. What an outstanding honor for an outstanding man who was the first citizen of Chester County to be drafted during World War II.

He devoted himself to serving his country with honor and dignity and was awarded both the Bronze Star and the Purple Heart.

In 1960 he was elected to the Chester County Quarterly Court and faithfully served his community for 42 years. While serving as judge and chairman of the court he continued to demonstrate his devotion to the citizens of Chester County, a life well lived, an honor well deserved.

We also honor to Mr. Ed Rufo. He is the recipient of the Army Public Service Award, and it is the second highest distinction granted to a civilian by the Secretary of the Army.

As founder and president of Operation Eagle's Nest, Mr. Rufo has contributed enormously to providing both financial and moral aid to Fort Campbell soldiers and their families.

This started out as a fund raising endeavor to assist the families of soldiers deployed to Iraq. Operation Eagle's Nest is truly unique.

When Mr. Rufo saw an opportunity to thank the men, women and their families, he answered with Operation Eagle's Nest and we thank him for that.

We have got a couple of educators that are doing great work. Since 1990 Dr. Ronald Griffeth has dedicated himself to the students and the faculty of Battle Ground Academy in Franklin, Tennessee. He was the academy's president and headmaster. And while every one of our community, the county and state as a whole, know that he is leaving a lasting legacy in the community. And in recognition of that legacy, the Tennessee Association of Independent Schools honored him with the distinguished Sawney Webb Award.

Not only has he helped to lead and expand the academy, he has been actively involved in the community with Boys and Girls Clubs and with working with young people in so many endeavors.

Mrs. Pam Stackhouse also works with young people. She has been recognized as the Wal-Mart Tennessee Teacher of the Year Award Winner. She received a $10,000 education grant to benefit her school, Selmer Elementary.

She has demonstrated tremendous enthusiasm for learning for her students, and for more than three decades she has devoted her energy and her talent to Selmer students. As a music teacher for the last 8 years she has given her students an appreciation for all things good. The Selmer community is truly blessed to have her enriching the lives of their children.
And Madam Speaker, I rise to wind up talking about our Chester County girls basketball team. They have had a tremendous season, and Saturday night these young women won the Tennessee AA State Championship.

We export that great basketball brings small towns together across the nation, and in Henderson they have been coming together for years to watch the Eaglettes hit the hardwood. And while dedicated to their team, the fans have been waiting nearly 3 decades to take another shot at that title. That wait is over.

After 27 years the Eaglettes carried home the State championship trophy and had three players make the State All tournament team. One was the MVP, the other Tennessee’s Miss Basketball. Congratulations to all of the team members.

Madam Speaker, we want to say congratulations to all these outstanding constituents who allow us to see their good and to praise it.

RECORD TRADE DEFICITS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Oregon (Mr. DeFazio) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. DeFAZIO. Madam Speaker, the United States set a new record officially, and that is something, unfortunately, which will haunt us for decades to come - a new record trade deficit of $665.9 billion. We have two growing categories of exports as the leading industrialized nation in the world, and one is waste. We are exporting more waste paper, bottles, cans and things to the waste. We are exporting more waste to China instead of jobs here, but buying so many things from them and production of goods, because we are have not only a stranglehold over the United States Government. They will say to stop that. This administration thinks it is just peachy. They say the U.S. is growing so fast, that is why we have these huge trade deficits. Yes, we are growing so fast on borrowed money and purchases from overseas. Yes, we have a trade deficit, but that is not exactly my idea of adding to the economic industrial base might of the United States of America and putting our own people into productive work. Members, wonder why wages are dropping in the U.S. And people are not doing so well, because the good jobs, the manufacturing jobs, the high-paying jobs, the jobs with benefits, are going to China and other unfair trading nations.

And this administration, and to give them some due, the last administration was afraid to take on China on their unfair trade practices. They can steal products, like they have from companies in my own district, clone them in China, including translating the U.S. patent into this administration and the last will not lift a finger to stop that. This administration said bring them to the WTO, rules-based trade, and then we will go after them. They have only filed one complaint against China. The billions that they are pirating from our companies, one complaint and who was it for, Pfizer, the big drug company, the only company that this administration would file a complaint at the WTO on behalf of a company in my district, not the wood products company in my district, not other companies all across America who are being pirated by the Chinese, just Pfizer who could probably take care of themselves, but these other little guys cannot.

We have a failed trade policy in this country. We cannot continue to borrow here at home, $1.3 million a minute with our current account deficit to run the government, and borrowing $2 billion a day from China and other countries that are potential future enemies, or at least competitors, like China. It is crazy. It is not sustainable. Even the great guru, Alan Greenspan, the head political economic hack in this town, has said it is not sustainable. When will this administration wake up?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Minnesota (Mr. GUTKNECHT) is recognized for 5 minutes. (Mr. GUTKNECHT addressed the House. His remarks will appear hereafter in the Extensions of Remarks.)

COMMUNITY HEALTH CENTERS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. Murphy) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. MURPHY. Madam Speaker, let me talk about something good for America. Community health centers offer primary and preventive health care services to everyone, including low-income, underinsured and uninsured families. While low-income individuals have access to Medicaid and the elderly and the disabled have access to Medicare, uninsured and underinsured families often delay seeing a doctor or turn to emergency departments where treatment is several times more expensive.

Community health centers, however, provide comprehensive and preventive care that adjusts charges for patient care according to family income. The Federal Government spends over $22 billion a year to offset losses incurred by hospitals for patients unable to pay their bills, and the Department of Health and Human Services tell us that medical care at community health centers cost only about $1.30 per pay per patient served. In fact, medical care at community health centers is around $250 less than the average annual expenditure for an office-based medical provider.

In short, community health centers offer an affordable source of quality health care, but we need more of them. The President has proposed a $304 million increase for community health center programs to create 1,200 new or expanded sites to serve an additional 61 million people by next year. Meanwhile, the centers must double their workforce by adding double the clinicians by 2006. Hiring that many doctors would be costly, but encouraging more to volunteer would help to meet this need. While many physicians are willing to volunteer their services at these centers, they often hesitate due to the high cost of medical liability insurance. As a result, there are too few volunteer physicians to meet our health care needs.

By comparison, volunteer physicians at free health clinics and paid physicians at community health centers already receive comprehensive medical liability coverage under the Federal Tort Claims Act, or FTCA.

Accordingly, I am introducing the Community Health Center Volunteer Physician Protection Act of 2005 to extend the medical liability protections provided to volunteers at community health centers. These protections are necessary to ensure that the centers can continue to play an important role in lowering our Nation’s health care costs and meeting the health care needs of low-income, uninsured, underinsured and the elderly and the disabled.

Accordingly, I am introducing the Community Health Center Volunteer Physician Protection Act of 2005 to extend the medical liability protections provided to volunteers at community health centers. These protections are necessary to ensure that the centers can continue to play an important role in lowering our Nation’s health care costs and meeting the health care needs of low-income, uninsured, underinsured and the elderly and the disabled.

The Community Health Center Volunteer Physician Protection Act of 2005 is supported by the National Association of Community Health Centers, the American Medical Association and the American Osteopathic Association. This bill would encourage my colleagues to cosponsor this important piece of legislation to ensure access to health care for those who need it most.
MR. FOLEY. Madam Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to have my name removed as a cosponsor of H.R. 415, and my name be added to H.R. 414.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the gentleman’s name will be removed as a cosponsor of H.R. 415, and my name be added to H.R. 414.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The primary sponsor of H.R. 414 will have to be removed as a cosponsor of H.R. 415.

There was no objection.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. BRADLEY) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. WOOLSEY. Madam Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to speak out of order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentlewoman from California?

There was no objection.

SMART SECURITY AND FUNDING PRIORITIES

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentlewoman from California (Ms. WOOLSEY) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. WOOLSEY. Madam Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to Appropriations bill passed by the House yesterday and shared stories about the $22 billion of waste in the Pentagon’s budget every year.

The fiscal year 2006 budget that passed the House today is just the latest example of questionable Republican spending priorities. This budget wastes billions of dollars on outdated Cold War-era weapons systems that fail to address America’s true security needs. We do not need millions of dollars for the outdated F-22 fighter jet which the military no longer relies on during combat. We do not need another $8 billion for a missile defense system that has never been proven to work.

The proper response to the supposed threat of a missile attack from North Korea is not to build a multibillion-dollar missile defense system. We should be addressing this situation through aggressive diplomacy and country-to-country talks. Certainly the nonmilitary approach will not cost the United States taxpayers $8 billion a year, and ultimately the non-$8 billion approach will keep America safer.

In fact, it has been stated that even 1 percent of the time on diplomacy that it does on trying to develop a missile defense shield, we would probably be on good terms with Iran and North Korea by now.

We need a new approach to security that places a greater emphasis on nonmilitary security. Only by shifting our spending priorities accordingly will we be able to address today’s true security challenges. That is why I have developed a SMART security platform for the 21st century. SMART is a Sensible, Multilateral American Response to Terrorism. SMART’s security will ensure that our spending priorities match the security threats that we face.

Madam Speaker, this Congress needs to stop signing blank checks to a fiscally reckless administration. If we are going to spend billions and billions of dollars, let us at least spend it on the people who deserve it, the brave troops and their families and their homes to serve their country and who have been abandoned as sitting ducks in Iraq.

Despite the President’s solemn promise to fight terrorism, the Bush administration has overwhelmingly concentrated the country’s resources on developing bigger and more expensive weapons at the expense of other more suitable security tools which will truly keep Americans safe. Even Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld has stated that there is $22 billion of waste in the Pentagon’s budget every year.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Florida (Mr. FOLEY) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. FOLEY. Madam Speaker, I come to the floor today to bring up a subject that is of great concern to me and that is the tarnishing of a gentleman’s reputation in this town that has been large-ly responsible for the tranquillity of our market.

Alan Greenspan has been reappointed by Republican and Democratic Presidents because of his ability to manage our national economy, his ability to see through problems that have cropped up around the world, his ability to intervene at times when it has saved the countries that we have assisted; and now because he has disagreed, or at least ventured an opinion on private accounts relative to Social Security, he has now come under scrutiny, ridicule, and been called things like political hack. Senator REID made these comments on TV recently. Senator CLINTON made the comments recently. Senator CLINTON, I would remind her that her husband reappointed Alan Greenspan to this post.

I think it is important to note that how dare anybody disagree with the other side of the aisle and if they do so, they will find themselves subjected to the kind of terminology like political hacks. It takes me back to the Medicare debate that we had in this Congress when AARP decided to embrace the Republican plan. Up until that day, the others of the aisle described the AARP as the gold standard of organizations out protecting the welfare of seniors in America. The day they chose to embrace a plan offered by President Bush, they became the scoundrels, the leadership of their party went down and picketed at their front door and declared that the AARP was an enemy of senior citizens.

What a difference a year makes. Now they are opposing any plans even to consider personal accounts, they are back in the good graces and AARP once again is fighting for people. What is desperate about this attack is that Alan Greenspan has presided over the economy in an extraordinary fashion. It is interesting when Mr. Greenspan speaks, the world listens. The Wall Street market-makers listen. Political leaders around the world listen. His words are carried across every wire story in the world because of the impact of his words on the economy of our Nation and our allies. He is not viewed as a political hack by those allies. He is viewed as a sage, stable, steady hand on the controls and levers of the American economy.

As I said earlier, I do not agree with Mr. Greenspan on all issues. I think sometimes we raise rates too slowly or raise them too quickly and then ultimately do not lower them enough to get the kind of economic recovery that we had hoped through rate adjustment. That being said, though, I hardly would describe a man that is lauded by virtually every facet of the American economy as a political hack or somebody whose time has come for them to leave.

So I just make the point that I do not mind debating the intricacies of Social Security; I do not mind having a debate representing the fifth largest Medicare-eligible population in America, the various opinions on whether you raise caps, change age of retirement, consider for a moment personal accounts just as a conversation point; it does not have to necessarily end up in law, but let us at least talk about it to see where we end up on the economy of the American Social Security. But it does trouble me that somebody of Mr. Greenspan’s credibility, somebody of his reputation, somebody who has certainly served this Nation in a wonderful way would be pilloried by a political party simply because he chose to talk about how we may solve the woes of Social Security in the future.

I commend him for his work. I salute him for his brilliance on handling America’s markets. I ask the other side of the aisle to reflect back on the story of a sentence to this country as the Federal Reserve chairman. I ask them to look at the collapse of some economies in Asia during his tenure when he sought and was able to rescue those economies from fiscal collapse. It is often said if the United States gets a cold, the rest of the world gets the flu. The same could happen if you allowed the economies of these nations to collapse without our intervention.

I do ask that my colleagues refrain from making him the object of their political ire. Let us debate the merits and the wisdom of our direction, but let us not ruin somebody’s personal and business career by ever having a conversation about their statements or their opinions.

AMERICA’S INCREASING DEPENDENCE ON FOREIGN OIL

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentlewoman from Ohio (Ms. KAPTUR) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. KAPTUR. Madam Speaker, if Mr. Greenspan had done such a good job, the value of the dollar would not be declining every single week. Let me just say that the budget that just passed here is a national disgrace. It only passed by a couple of votes. If two people had changed their mind, we might have gotten a budget resolution on this floor, just by the narrowest of margins.

Last week, the U.S. Commerce Department announced the largest one-month budget deficit in U.S. history. Somebody better pay attention. Mr. Greenspan ought to pay attention. In fact, now we have the second largest trade deficit in history. The ships are lined up outside L.A. harbor as far as you can see out into the Pacific and they go back empty. What is wrong with these accounts?

Gas prices, by the way, are up 19 percent. The value of the dollar has declined by more than 33 percent, more than a third against the Euro in the past 3 years, and our economy is sputtering. The demand for oil is just about increasing with summer and vacations on the way. No wonder the stock market fell more than 100 points last week, based on investors’ fears about, you guessed it, rising oil prices.

The February budget deficit of $114 billion was the first time the deficit for any one month exceeded $100 billion. Every day America goes more in hock to foreign lenders. They are the ones that are propping us up. In fact, if you just look at those two months, October 2003 and November 2004, you can see who we are in hock to. Japan holds most of the paper, over $714 billion now. Next comes Europe, over $380 billion. China, Hong Kong, but they are going up very fast, $241 billion. We have to put down here the oil exporting countries. OPEC, over $141 billion. And every day we owe them more and more interest as America goes into hock to foreign lenders who now own about 40 percent of America’s debt.

Equally troubling is the record trade deficit in January which increased to $58.3 billion as imports coming into our country continued to swamp exports going out. Even the lower value of the dollar has not helped with exports because the fundamentals are bad. Higher deficits mean more U.S. jobs get shipped to China, to India, to Latin America, jobs everywhere, good jobs. But not here in the United States. U.S. likely to lose 1700 million this year alone. We are losing millions of jobs and we are sending billions of dollars overseas.

Here we have it. We are supposed to be energy independent in this country. You go back to 1982, every single year America has become more and more dependent on imported petroleum. It means we are strategically vulnerable to disruptions, as over half the petroleum we use is imported. It is time for a new age of American energy independence.

But is this Congress or the White House up the street paying any attention? The Wall Street Journal reported last week on corn-based ethanol and whether the visionary farmers who are leading this effort across the Corn Belt would lose their shirts as some of these multinational interests would come in and buy up the meager investments that they had been able to make out of their own back pockets. This is where the Federal Government needs to step in.

My Biofuels Energy Independence Act of 2005, H.R. 388, does exactly this by helping these visionary Americans hedge predatory oil companies who lock their product out at every gas pump in this country.

They need long-term financing, not a comatose President and Congress. Imagine an America that was energy independent again and where energy independence rose to a national priority and where we put the dollars we are giving out protecting the welfare of seniors in America to create thousands and thousands and thousands of new jobs and billions of dollars worth of energy independence. Will Washington hear the message from the countryside?
The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. KIRK) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. KIRK. Mr. Speaker, when the World Bank was founded in 1944, its official title was the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, the IBRD. The reconstruction of Europe and Asia was the primary mission of the World Bank, and reconstruction has always been central to the Bank’s mission.

Since 1944, the Bank has helped Germany and Japan rebuild. It was then crucial to the reconstruction of South Korea and played a key role in the renaissance of Eastern Europe after the fall of communism. Today, Germany, Japan, South Korea, and many Eastern European nations have now become donors to the Bank, supporting its work, rather than recipients.

As of today, I am the only Member of Congress who has served in the World Bank, and it is a noble institution, with thousands of professional staff helping people in poorer nations rise up to realize their full potential. The challenge before the Bank today has been the reconstruction of Iraq. Republicans and Democrats by wide margins agree that the international community should do more through multilateral institutions in helping the people of Iraq build greater incomes and more security and do it in cooperation with other nations.

But there is a problem. There is a very disappointing record of the World Bank in Iraq. The World Bank promised Iraq $387 million in cash to be committed by what has already happened in Iraq. Think if we actually have a President of the World Bank put to use the $32 billion in international funds or at least the $387 million promised by World Bank to actually help the people of Iraq. From my view, we could not have Secretary Wolfowitz take over the leadership of the Bank faster. Under President Wolfensohn we are mired in the mud, unable to move very much assistance, and unable to do what on a bipartisan level so many of us want to do, to get the international community involved in the reconstruction of Iraq and the building of a new democracy.

I am very happy with this new nomination. I think Secretary Wolfowitz as an Assistant Secretary for East Asian and Pacific Affairs, as our Ambassador to Indonesia, and as someone who has provided a leadership role in the Department of Defense, can make a real difference. With more aid to Iraq and more reconstruction, we can bring the troops home faster.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from California (Mr. CARDOZA) is recognized for 5 minutes.

(Mr. CARDOZA addressed the House. His remarks will appear hereafter in the Extensions of Remarks.)

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Tennessee (Mr. COOPER) is recognized for 5 minutes.

(Mr. COOPER addressed the House. His remarks will appear hereafter in the Extensions of Remarks.)

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Arkansas (Mr. Ross) is recognized for 5 minutes.

(Mr. ROSS addressed the House. His remarks will appear hereafter in the Extensions of Remarks.)

The Fiscal Year 2006 Budget

Mr. SCOTT of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, the 2006 budget that we just passed moves the United States to the right. This committee makes the wrong choices for our Nation. It reflects secured priorities and runs counter to our deepest held beliefs. This budget embraces disastrous economic policies while at the same time falls to put forward a vision of what this great country of the United States should be.

What America needs instead are responsible policies that reflect our values and helps bring our Nation together and invests in the future by expanding opportunity. But this budget proposes to cut vital domestic investments and services for the middle class, for our veterans, for our children, for those among us, while continuing to accumulate a huge budget deficit.

And, Mr. Speaker, there is no State in the union that is hurt more from this budget, from these budget cuts, than our State of Georgia.

Sixty million dollars have been cut from last year’s spending for military construction projects in Georgia, $366.8 million dollars from 91,650 Georgia children by underfunding No Child Left Behind, $26.7 million in homeland security funding in Georgia has been cut under this budget, $7.9 million has been cut from the Georgia Regional Hospital; TRIO programs for almost 13 million American students and many of these students from impoverished backgrounds, many of these students first-time members of college from families. Thirty-seven million dollars have been cut in Perkins scholarships in Georgia, and one particular project, Mr. Speaker, $75,000 has been cut from an educational and recreational center in Powder Springs in Cobb County, Georgia, in the midst of construction, which halts the construction of this badly needed project.

And let me turn to HOPE VI, one of the most successful housing programs this Nation has ever produced. It is being eliminated completely from the budget, which revitalizes public housing. And in a State that just recently voted overwhelmingly for the President. But yet here we are in Georgia suffering from more than one more from this budget than any other State, $800 million cut from the Centers For Disease Control when we need all of the help we can get to fight the mounting diseases, life threatening diseases, that are moving across our Nation.

Mr. SCOTT of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, $366.8 million dollars from 91,650 Georgia children by underfunding No Child Left Behind, $26.7 million in homeland security funding in Georgia has been cut under this budget, $7.9 million has been cut from the Georgia Regional Hospital; TRIO programs for almost 13 million American students and many of these students from impoverished backgrounds, many of these students first-time members of college from families. Thirty-seven million dollars have been cut in Perkins scholarships in Georgia, and one particular project, Mr. Speaker, $75,000 has been cut from an educational and recreational center in Powder Springs in Cobb County, Georgia, in the midst of construction, which halts the construction of this badly needed project.

And let me turn to HOPE VI, one of the most successful housing programs this Nation has ever produced. It is being eliminated completely from the budget, which revitalizes public housing. And in a State that just recently voted overwhelmingly for the President. But yet here we are in Georgia suffering from more than one more from this budget than any other State, $800 million cut from the Centers For Disease Control when we need all of the help we can get to fight the mounting diseases, life threatening diseases, that are moving across our Nation.

Mr. SCOTT of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, $366.8 million dollars from 91,650 Georgia children by underfunding No Child Left Behind, $26.7 million in homeland security funding in Georgia has been cut under this budget, $7.9 million has been cut from the Georgia Regional Hospital; TRIO programs for almost 13 million American students and many of these students from impoverished backgrounds, many of these students first-time members of college from families. Thirty-seven million dollars have been cut in Perkins scholarships in Georgia, and one particular project, Mr. Speaker, $75,000 has been cut from an educational and recreational center in Powder Springs in Cobb County, Georgia, in the midst of construction, which halts the construction of this badly needed project.

And let me turn to HOPE VI, one of the most successful housing programs this Nation has ever produced. It is being eliminated completely from the budget, which revitalizes public housing. And in a State that just recently voted overwhelmingly for the President. But yet here we are in Georgia suffering from more than one more from this budget than any other State, $800 million cut from the Centers For Disease Control when we need all of the help we can get to fight the mounting diseases, life threatening diseases, that are movi...
The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Colorado (Mr. SALAZAR) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. SALAZAR addressed the House. His remarks will appear hereafter in the Extensions of Remarks.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Colorado (Mr. SALAZAR) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. SALAZAR addressed the House. His remarks will appear hereafter in the Extensions of Remarks.

THE NATIONAL DEBT

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentlewoman from California (Ms. LORETTA SANCHEZ) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. SANCHEZ addressed the House. Her remarks will appear hereafter in the Extensions of Remarks.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, thegentleman from Colorado (Mr. SALAZAR) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. SALAZAR addressed the House. His remarks will appear hereafter in the Extensions of Remarks.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, thegentleman from Colorado (Mr. SALAZAR) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. SALAZAR addressed the House. His remarks will appear hereafter in the Extensions of Remarks.

CONGRATULATING MAUI ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITY, INC., ON ITS 40TH ANNIVERSARY

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, thegentleman from Hawaii (Mr. CASE) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. CASE addressed the House. His remarks will appear hereafter in the Extensions of Remarks.

CONGRATULATING MAUI ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITY, INC., ON ITS 40TH ANNIVERSARY

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, thegentleman from Hawaii (Mr. CASE) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. CASE addressed the House. His remarks will appear hereafter in the Extensions of Remarks.

CONGRATULATING MAUI ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITY, INC., ON ITS 40TH ANNIVERSARY

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, thegentleman from Hawaii (Mr. CASE) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. CASE addressed the House. His remarks will appear hereafter in the Extensions of Remarks. disabilities, immigrants, other disadvantaged people, and the general public to help themselves, so that they may become self-sufficient.

MEO has more than fulfilled this mission. In 2003, for example, MEO was one of only 60 agencies out of 800 community action agencies nationwide to receive an Agency of Excellence Award from the National Community Action Partnership. This prestigious award, for MEO’s superior administrative operations and program excellence, is a true testament to its advocacy and its outstanding services tailored to the specific and often unique needs of Maui County.

Among those many services, MEO provides the largest specialized transportation program in Maui County, with vehicles carrying the elderly, low-income, persons with disabilities, youth, Head Start children, and the public, 7 days a week and up to 18 hours a day. MEO’s award-winning Head Start provides services to 394 children through 14 centers countywide. The MEO YouthBank, including an AmeriCorps program, provides opportunities for youths ages 14 to 26 to work, learn and prepare for their future.

The MEO community services staff works tirelessly in challenging situations, providing emergency assistance, job placement, training and other support services. The MEO Development Corporation provides loans and training to start small businesses, create jobs, and boost the community’s economy. MEO’s Anlace Hispano provides services to the Hispanic-speaking and immigrant population, and the Being Empowered and Safe Together re-integration program serves individuals making the difficult transition from prison back into the community.

Moreover, MEO has never hesitated to go above and beyond its core mission in times of genuine community need. In the aftermath of 9/11, for example, MEO, in partnership with the County of Maui, distributed $1.5 million to residents affected economically when Maui’s tourism industry slumped. Just a few weeks ago, MEO volunteered its services to assist employees dislocated through the destruction by fire of Kahului Mall.

Of course, the secret of MEO’s success has always been its wonderful, dedicated staff, led by some truly extraordinary executive directors throughout the last 4 decades. My former State House of Representatives Speaker and colleague, Joe Souki, well laid the groundwork for the modern era and was followed for the last 2 decades by the irrepressible Gladys Baisa, who will soon retire. Maui County will truly miss your leadership, Gladys; but you and MEO chose well in your successor, Sandy Bas.

So you can imagine, Mr. Speaker, that Maui Economic Opportunity, Inc., has truly created a better community for everyone and richly deserves these happy birthday greetings before it moves on into a bright and equally rewarding future. Mahalo, and aloha.

PAYING TRIBUTE TO THE VETERANS OF THE PERSIAN GULF

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. RYAN) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. RYAN of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, today I rise to pay tribute to the veterans of the Persian Gulf who are from the Mahoning Valley in Ohio. Our valley has long been blessed to have local sons and daughters willing to volunteer to serve in our country’s military, and our most recent veterans of the Persian Gulf are cut from the same cloth. When they were called on to serve overseas in the Middle East, leaving their families and friends for extended periods of time to fight in a foreign land, they answered the call. They answered the call, even though they faced great physical risk, even death; and I thank them for their service, for their patriotism, and for their sacrifice.

We as a country owe them a tremendous debt and are forever grateful. We need to ensure that they are provided the equipment and support they need in the field to complete their jobs effectively, that their families are taken care of when they are away, that they have jobs to come home to when they return, and that they receive the benefits that they have earned as veterans. We have no higher legislative priority, I know myself and speaking for the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. STRICKLAND), than fully funding the veterans benefits that they have been promised.

Yesterday, I voted for the supplemental funding bill for the war in Iraq and Afghanistan. I believe that we need to finish the job we started in the Middle East and bring stability to that region and then to immediately bring our troops home.

God bless the men and women who have served and are serving our armed forces in Iraq and Afghanistan. I believe that we could bestow upon them is to make sure that we take care of them.

Mr. Speaker, we have the freedoms we enjoy today because of the sacrifices that our soldiers have made throughout history, and I am proud today to honor the men and women of the Mahoning Valley who have served this country in the Persian Gulf and have served so nobly.

Mr. Speaker, I yield to my good friend, the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. STRICKLAND).

Mr. STRICKLAND. Mr. Speaker, I wanted to thank my friend, the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. RYAN), for sharing these moments with me as we stand here in the Chamber of the people’s House of Representatives, to honor those from our region.

Ohio is a patriotic State, and the great Mahoning Valley is certainly a patriotic region of Ohio. Over the years, literally thousands of young men and women have left the great Mahoning Valley and have served in this country’s Armed Forces. They are serving today, so many of them, in harm’s way, unselfishly giving up of their time and their loved ones, while their loving families wait at home, hoping and praying that they will be safe.

Both the gentleman and I have visited Walter Reed Hospital. We have talked with Americans who have lost their legs, many have been blinded, so many have sustained brain injuries. I have been to the Bethesda Naval Hospital and seen young people walking down the hallways with their families walking with them, young people who have been terribly disfigured.

We are paying a great price for the war that is currently under way; and the least we can do, the very least we can do as a Nation is to make sure that when these honored people come home that they are treated with justice and fairness, that they are able to receive the health care that they have been promised and that they deserve.

As we stand here in the safety of this great Chamber, we should never forget that many of our friends and the families and loved ones from the great Mahoning Valley are in harm’s way. So we honor them, and we honor their families, because they have joined in this brave and noble endeavor.

Mr. RYAN of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, reclaiming my time, I thank the gentleman.

We also want to recognize all our friends in Youngstown at this time, where at the Italian-American War Veterans Post 3 the veterans and community leaders on April 14 will hold a tribute honoring the Mahoning Valley area sons and daughters at war.

We would like to thank Herman Adams, Ray Ornelas, and Dom Medina for all their help in putting this together and organizing it, helping us to honor those troops.

KEEP SECURITY IN SOCIAL SECURITY

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. PRICE of Georgia). Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Texas (Mr. CUellar) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. CUellar. Mr. Speaker, in the ongoing debate on Social Security, I think it is essential that we take the time to put a face on the people served by and protected by Social Security.

All of the numbers and charts help us make the outline of the arguments, but it is the letters that I receive from my constituents that show the real face of Social Security. I would like to take the time to show one of those letters, one of the 400-plus letters I have received.

A gentleman named Hector Mac Donald from Laredo, Texas. It says, “Dear Congressman Cuellar, As a member of the National Committee to preserve Social Security and Medicare, I am writing to urge you please oppose any legislation or plan that would divert dedicated Social Security payroll taxes into private individual accounts or in any way harm the benefits, structure or traditional role of Social Security.

As you know, President Roosevelt and Congress created Social Security in 1935 to protect retired Americans and Congress created Social Security to serve for generations as social insurance, not social investment; and we owe it to ourselves and our children, especially our seniors, to preserve that bedrock guarantee.

One of my top priorities as a citizen and a voter is the protection of Social Security benefits for all current and future retirees. I sincerely hope among your top priorities as an elected official that you will also help defeat the privatization and other proposals that threatened our retirement security.

I urge you to work closely with the National Committee to Preserve Social Security and Medicare and protect the benefits we have worked for, paid for and have earned. Very sincerely, Mr. Hector MacDonald from Laredo, Texas.

Again, I have received many letters like this, and I think this letter; Mr. Speaker, speaks for itself. I received over 400 letters like this one opposing the privatization of Social Security.

I have taken the time to read these letters, and I have taken a great deal of time to carefully review the proposal and listen to all sides of the debate; and with that analysis I have come to see clearly that this proposal to privatize Social Security does not pass my legislative test. That is, it will not make our families stronger.

The current proposal to privatize Social Security jeopardizes our safety net by pulling the security out of Social Security. It takes our guaranteed benefits away by locking them on a stock market. It threatens to pose benefit cuts, raising the retirement age. And finally it assures adding a tremendous sum to our existing $7 trillion debt.

Social Security has always been the one source free from risk and designed to reserve as a bedrock guarantee for our seniors.

The system was created and has served for generations as social insurance, not social investment; and we owe it to ourselves and our children, especially our seniors, to preserve that bedrock guarantee.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to 22 United States Code, 1993a, the order of House of January 4, 2005, and clause 10 of rule I, the Chair announces the Speaker’s appointment of the following Members of the House to the United States Group of the North Atlantic Assembly:

Mr. TANNER of Tennessee, Mr. ROSS of Arkansas, Mr. CHANDLER of Kentucky, Mrs. TAUSCHER of California.

FIGHTING TERRORISM

Mr. DAVIS of Kentucky. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and any written material on the subject of this special order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Kentucky?

There was no objection.

Mr. DAVIS of Kentucky. Mr. Speaker, this is an exciting time in the history of the United States, in the history of the world, and in the advancement of freedom.

This afternoon a member of minority made a statement that this war was not a war of choice. Contrary to that opinion, which certainly one has a right to share in this body, I would remind all Members of this House and the people that this was in fact a war that was chosen by bin Laden and even before that by people like Saddam Hussein, those who have subjugated and terrorized their people for decades and even generations. Osama bin Laden turned his hatred on America after we responded to the request of the Saudi and Kuwaiti governments after Saddam Hussein’s invasion of Kuwait in 1990. His aggression was one of the key sparks in the current activities that we find ourselves engaged in right now.

This is a decisive time. In fact, we face the most serious threat to our freedoms and our liberties that we have faced since the end of the Second World War. We are fighting an enemy who has proven it will use whatever violent means to achieve its cause. Indeed, we are not going to lose because of military strength, but we would lose only if the people of the United States have a loss of resolve.

My encouragement is to stay the course. As we set the development over the past several extras around the world there are many, many things to be hopeful for. We recall in horror at the report of suicide bombers and strolling into crowded markets or onto packed buses and detonating themselves. Are they primarily focusing on our soldiers? No. The preponderance of causalities are attacks on their own people. In fact, this is not an insurgency in the classic sense. It is led by a terror group of individuals filled with hatred, bitterness, criminals by any measure of merit, killing innocent men, women and children.

We watch in stunned belief when such a terror group announces it has taken hostage Americans; others who are innocent, working in Iraq peacefully to make it a safe place. A place where people can wake up in the morning, go to work, provide for their families, and then come home for a peaceful dinner, which so many of us, the vast and overwhelming majority of citizens in the United States, enjoy.

But our hearts swell glancing at pictures of the 8 million Iraqis who risked their lives to vote for a better way of life that does not put a stock market and brutal dictators. Everyone person who had the courage in his or her hearts to dip his or her finger in the purple ink on January 30 to vote in Iraq’s first democratically held elections in decades took a courageous stand for freedom and liberty and we applaud that.

I proudly joined my colleagues yesterday to pass the Emergency Wartime Supplemental Budget which we approved 388 to 43. The supplemental provides for $76.8 billion in defense spending for pay, benefits, supplies and equipment for our troops because we will assure that our troops have the training, the tools and the equipment that they need to carry on to victory in this war.

We needed to move quickly to secure this money and we could not afford to wait for the budget process to wind its way to a finish. The military has told us they needed the funds by May 1 and Congress just cannot move that quickly on the entire defense appropriations bill.

The supplemental is money well spent to show our soldiers that we fully support them and that we are doing everything we can to provide for their safety. It shows our commitment to both our allies and also we show our enemies that we mean business, that we will continue to fight. We will pursue them in every corridor where they exist and, finally, win this war on terror.

This is not a fight we will lose, again, I reiterate because of military strength or lack of it. It is a fight that we can only lose if we choose to walk away, and we will not walk away from this.

This is a revolutionary time throughout the world. In the entire latitude 10–40 window, the doors of freedom are opening for the first time in decades, for the first time in history in some cases. We are seeing the fruit of the valor of our men and women in uniform in the developments in Lebanon, the developments in Egypt, the developments in Saudi Arabia. It is an exciting time. It is exciting to see the values of the United States being carried forward, not being imposed but being embraced. Those are not a value of culture but a value of freedom and liberty, the dignity of the individual, the rights of every human being to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

I am proud of what the Iraqi people are doing after the bombings that have come on recruiting stations, on stores, on schools, on polling places. What we are seeing happening is an exciting thing. The next night the next morning the recruits are coming back. The next morning the security forces are coming to work. The next morning the police are on patrol. They are beginning to stand up and it is imperative that we stand with them.

We will continue to be strong and defend liberty so that other people may have the same freedoms that we enjoy. I want to thank my distinguished colleagues who are here today with me to demonstrate the fact that it will have on our continued war on terror, one that we will see all the way through to victory.

Mr. Speaker, right now I would like to yield to the distinguished gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. SAXTON), the chairman of the Subcommittee on Terrorism, Unconventional Threats, and Capabilities.

Mr. SAXTON. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding to me. I would like to make a few remarks about the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. DAVIS) for taking out this time to permit several of us to make these remarks.

Let me just say that the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. DAVIS) has been a very energetic Member of the House of Representatives in spite of the fact that he has been here a relatively short time. He is the chairman of the Committee on Armed Services, and we certainly enjoy having him here and serving with him.

We all know that we have many people deployed overseas in a number of places. The most often talked about today, of course, are Afghanistan and Iraq, and I think it is fitting at this time to thank and pay tribute to the members of our Armed Services who are, in fact, a part of that deployed force, and to note as others already have mentioned it, the sacrifices that they and their families have made in carrying out the mission that the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. DAVIS) has described as trying to solve a set of issues, a problem that is perhaps the most serious international problem that we have had since World War II.

The use of terror in carrying out political objectives is certainly not new. It goes back well over a century and we can find examples of it throughout the world and primarily perhaps in the Middle East. And, of course, in 1928 it bubbled up in Egypt, where organizations were formed for the purpose of carrying out various types of ill-conceived missions, ill-conceived goals. And, of course, in modern history it has become very prevalent, for example, subsequent to the establishment of the country of Israel, those who wished the Israeli government and the Israeli people ill will and tried to create harm and perhaps do away with the state of Israel. And it has been a part of terror in the Middle East and has continued, I think it is fair to say, continues today. It certainly did very recently.

I first became interested in these issues in the late eighties when on a trip to Israel I happened to pick up a Time Magazine and read a story, an article about Hamas. When I got there I began to ask Israeli officials about this group and they enlightened me over the period of time that I was in Israel on that trip, and I came home convinced that the subject of terrorism was something that our country was going to have to pay attention to and that, in fact, it could end up in the situation where we were going to have a very significant problem. And, of course, the rest of that story is history.

We know that during the nineties we suffered attacks in Saudi Arabia on American interests. We suffered attacks in two countries, in Africa on our embassies there, and we suffered the attack on the USS Cole in Yemen. Of course, in 2001 on September 11 our country was attacked here in the homeland.

We had been fairly passive, I must say, about this subject during the decade of 1990s and before. But subsequent to 9/11 and President Bush, who stood at this podium and talked about the global war on terror and declared the war on terror, our country has had some tremendous successes overseas. And through the help of people, some of whom have paid the ultimate sacrifice, but all of whom sacrificed in one way or another, we have had some great successes.

For example, in Afghanistan with the use of air power and some folks on the ground, we were able to take down the regime that we know as the Taliban, and we were able to disburse the al Qaeda forces that were supported by the government known as the Taliban.

We believed that we have captured or taken down in one way or another something in the neighborhood of 75 percent of their leadership and have, in effect, provided an opportunity for our country to claim a success with regard to the al Qaeda organization.

Of course, I had the opportunity along with some of my colleagues to travel to Afghanistan last February and to see the progress that has been made in that country because of our country’s policies. Obviously, along with fighting the war against terrorism, taking down much of the al Qaeda leadership, the economy of Afghanistan is growing in leaps and bounds. It is not the kind of economy that we know, but still, it is an indigenous economy that is growing, growing.

The Karzai government has been stood up. In talking with President Karzai, much progress has been made in the goals of education and society going forward. With the coming legislative elections, we will have another democratic victory in Afghanistan when the parliament is actually elected.

We had another opportunity in Iraq. We had problems in Iraq, and took advantage of the opportunity in Iraq to take down one of the most despotic, tyrannical governments in the history of the world, the government run by Saddam Hussein and his Baathist party. So we move forward in the war on terror and we fight against insurgents and terrorists in Iraq and rebuild Iraq, bring its economy back up and provide opportunities for the Iraqi people, not only to have their economy grow but also to have that expectation that was symbolized by the purple finger of over 8 million Iraqi people who stood in line, sometimes being shot at, in order to be able to vote for their new government.

We believe that the things has gone forward in the world, in Egypt, there are tendencies that are developing for democratic opportunities. The first real election perhaps in the history of Egypt will be held this year, and of course in Lebanon, Lebanon, of course, in Lebanon we all see on the news every day that the democracy there is progressing as well as in the West Bank and with regard to the Palestinians who are also in the process of forming a new government and providing for the elections that we recently held.

This is a problem. Terrorism is a problem, always has been. It has become a major issue today, however, primarily I believe because of the possibility of terrorists acquiring the possession of weapons of mass destruction which, of course, would be a very serious and unthinkable kind of a situation.

Once again, let me commend the gentleman from Kentucky for taking out this time to give me and others who will follow me an opportunity to express our views of the current situation.
On September 11, we suffered human Some have even called it a war of into this war, why we are here and may fought before. We call it the War on different war, a war like we have never focus on possible terrorists in our com-changed a little bit. We have had to law enforcement and is now adding security, homeland security, domestic River Killer, who also brings profound established a great record of persistence, the ultimate captor with a great team of military, why would they volunteer to sacrifice their life? Why would they volunteer to sacrifice time away from their families or put them in need for care and attention and put their lives in danger? Why would men and women serve in the military?
As I thought about that, it reminded me of a story that happened a few years ago. I have a 28-year-old son who now is or he was 10 when this happened, but it was a hot summer day in Seattle. It was one of the few hot summer days we had, and I was mowing the lawn and he was following behind me.
As we were mowing the lawn and he was tapping on my shirt, he said, Dad, let me mow the lawn, I know I can do this. So I thought about this. I am having my 10-year-old son run the lawn mower. My wife came out and said, Dave, the phone was ringing; it is for you. I went in to answer the phone. My son was still tapping at my shirttail, Dad, I can do this, let me mow the lawn. So I said, Dan, if you can start that lawn mower, you can mow the lawn.
So I watched from the window as I was on the telephone, and Dan pulled and tapped and pulled and tapped and pulled and tapped this rope to start this lawn mower, and the sweat was just pouring down his face, and I thought soon he would give up, but he kept on going.
Finally, then he came to the point where he was so exhausted he had to stop and pause, and he put his head down and he wondered, where do I turn now, what do I do. This was a proud time for me because he had stopped, he looked up, he put his hands together, and you could read his lips. He said, please, Lord, start this lawn mower. Then he bent over and pulled on the rope, and the lawn mower started. So I thought to myself, you know what, if God wants Dan to mow the lawn, I am not going to stop him.
Here is the moral of the story. Here is a young boy who has faith and hope and trust that small children have. If you stop and think about the faith and the desire to give than our kids have, that our children and grandchildren have today in each and every one of us, parents, grandparents, aunts, uncles, Members of Congress, I do not care who you are, those children are looking to us for leadership.
What has happened here is our military is fighting, sacrificing their lives because they know they cannot give in to terrorists because those little eyes that you look into, that hold that faith, that hope and that trust, must never lose that hope, faith, and trust.
This country needs to be free. We must support our men and women in uniform to preserve the faith, hope and trust that every one of our children in this Nation have, and when we passed the supplemental yesterday and supporting our troops for the training, equipment and tools that they need to continue this war and do the job, we must agree on a clear course. We support you and we love you. We care for you and we thank you for keeping our country free and for making sure that our children never lose that hope, faith, and trust that they have in all of us and this great Nation.
Mr. DAVIS of Kentucky. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Washington State and also salute all memers of law enforcement, our fire, EMS and first responders who are working literally around the clock to make this Nation safe.
Indeed, I want to salute our soldiers, sailors, airmen and Marines. My former comrades, classmates, former comrades when I was an enlisted soldier and I want to tell you, I went to the academy and served in the military, with and served on active duty with,
who are still serving this country today. I applaud your efforts. We love you and we thank you for the sacrifices that you are making to give us a safer tomorrow, a safer future and hope for the world.
In our have it now, you deserve a break, have it your way society we can easily forget that all true freedom came at a great price. It came with sacrifice and resilience. It came with hope and real hope is not what we see now. Hope is something that we do not yet have, that we are waiting for,
that we are pursuing aggressively with great hunger, and that freedom ultimately, as all true freedom came, with the shedding of blood, the willingness to lay down our lives for our friends.
In the prior generations, that has done willingly, acceptingly, and now we have a great generation that have it now, you deserve a break, have it your way society we can easily forget that all true freedom came at a great price. It came with sacrifice and resilience. It came with hope and real hope is not what we see now. Hope is something that we do not yet have, that we are waiting for,
that we are pursuing aggressively with great hunger, and that freedom ultimately, as all true freedom came, with the shedding of blood, the willingness to lay down our lives for our friends.
In the prior generations, that has done willingly, acceptingly, and now we have a great generation that have it now, you deserve a break, have it your way society we can easily forget that all true freedom came at a great price. It came with sacrifice and resilience. It came with hope and real hope is not what we see now. Hope is something that we do not yet have, that we are waiting for,
that we are pursuing aggressively with great hunger, and that freedom ultimately, as all true freedom came, with the shedding of blood, the willingness to lay down our lives for our friends.
In the prior generations, that has done willingly, acceptingly, and now we have a great generation that have it now, you deserve a break, have it your way society we can easily forget that all true freedom came at a great price. It came with sacrifice and resilience. It came with hope and real hope is not what we see now. Hope is something that we do not yet have, that we are waiting for,
that we are pursuing aggressively with great hunger, and that freedom ultimately, as all true freedom came, with the shedding of blood, the willingness to lay down our lives for our friends.
In the prior generations, that has done willingly, acceptingly, and now we have a great generation that have it now, you deserve a break, have it your way society we can easily forget that all true freedom came at a great price. It came with sacrifice and resilience. It came with hope and real hope is not what we see now. Hope is something that we do not yet have, that we are waiting for,
that we are pursuing aggressively with great hunger, and that freedom ultimately, as all true freedom came, with the shedding of blood, the willingness to lay down our lives for our friends.
Then he came back again in Operation Iraqi Freedom and is now on his third tour in theater, willingly serving, making a difference in the lives of our soldiers and Marines but also making a difference in the lives of the Iraqi people.

He is a colonel, and his son reports soon to Fort Benning, Georgia, for infantry basic training. They, along with the rest of our soldiers, are constantly in my prayers and my wife Pat’s prayers. It is e-mails like this that I receive on a regular basis that convince me that we are doing the right thing, and not only that, that we are winning.

Before my friend went to Iraq, he was asked three questions by one of his neighbors: Are we winning? Is it worth the price? Are we accomplishing anything?

Having spent some time now in theater for the third time, he says the answers to all three are an unequivocal yes. Let me say that again. It is an unequivocal yes.

What gives him that authority to speak is his experience on the ground, having seen that situation develop over time.

First, let us focus on the big picture. We are not engaged in a war in Iraq itself, the main war on the ground. We are engaged in a war of world views, one that does not value freedom, one that values hatred and closed societies over openness and freedom and true discourse; one that does not value the true dignity of the individual, the precariousness of all life but discards that for the sake of a theology of hatred. It does not represent the center of mass of people in that part of the world.

The fact that the Iraqis would rise up and go to the polls in numbers greater than turnout in elections in the United States of America says the man and woman on the street cares deeply, deeply about embracing this opportunity for freedom. Who are we to walk away from them in their time of need right now?

We are now fighting a counterosurgence, and it has two goals. One, it wants to overthrow the democratically elected government of Iraq which has just held its first session, and try to run the United States out of the country.

What needs to be clear is that we are not alone in facing this enemy. 70 percent of the eligible voters in Iraq turned out for the election. Outside the Sunni Triangle that number approached 85 percent. In my district in the 2nd, nearly 90 percent of the registered voters turned out to vote. Who are we to criticize those efforts of those valiant people?

We all mourned when we heard that a bomb exploded outside an Iraqi police training center and killed 120 recruits. But if we can find one positive aspect in that needless tragedy, that atrocity, it is that 120 Iraqis felt safe enough to even sign up to become police officers; that they had courage to invest their lives, to lay their lives down, to put them on the line to protect their families, their communities and ultimately their nation. And the exciting thing is that the men come back the next day. They come back to serve because they understand their mission.

Moderate Shiite clerics are not asking us to leave Iraq. The Kurds are not asking us to leave, and the overwhelming majority of Iraqis are not asking us to leave. They want us to become part of the community of nations, and it has renounced terrorism. A former perpetrator of terrorism has repented of that and now are beginning to walk in a new direction, seeing the inevitability of the rise of freedom in the Middle East.

In January Palestine elected a national leader in a United Nations supervised election in which women also voted. We are hopeful that the situation with the Palestinian people will lead to a free government, a peaceful government that can coexist alongside the democracy in Israel.

Also in January the Iraqis held their unprecedented election, and again, women voted in overwhelming numbers.

One of my West Point classmates shared with me in a confidential e-mail his perspective on seeing women coming to the polls to vote. He saw elderly women, young mothers with their children clinging to them standing, ignoring the explosions. He saw women who had the courage to take hold of this once in a lifetime, once in a generation, once in a century opportunity to make a difference, to transform what had been an oppressive atrocity ridden society into a society in which the individual did matter, but only to feed an appetite of megalomaniacal power of a dictator. That has been cast down. These people are seizing that opportunity.

The unfolding events in Lebanon and Syria’s declaration that it will begin withdrawing from Lebanon is an outstanding indicator that as we stay the course and we link arms with freedom loving peoples in that part of the world, that we will see peaceful resolution to the challenges that we face, and these terrorists will be repudiated for the inhuman individuals that they are.

My friend ends his e-mail by stating that it is not just men and women who are helping lead their countries toward a brighter future. Women who spent years living under dictatorial regimes that demanded their silence are stepping up and playing a major role in the spread of democracy.

He says, and I quote, I want women fully enfranchised throughout this part of the world. I want them voting, I want them involved in government because in my opinion, he states, if they are, this will be a safer, saner and less militant world.

As we transition to other topics relating to this, I would like to introduce a distinguished colleague of mine, a member of my entering class in the Corps of Cadets. He is the gentleman from Texas (Mr. McCaul). He brings a very pertinent record of professional achievement into this body, and can speak with an authority on a wide variety of issues related to the global war on terror firsthand.

Prior to being elected to the United States Congress, Mr. McCaul served as an Assistant United States Attorney whose charge was counterterrorism investigation and prosecution in the great State of Texas.

Mr. Speaker, I now yield to the gentleman from Texas.

Mr. McCaul of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Kentucky for his leadership in managing this very important debate here today. As the gentleman mentioned, I have a background in counterterrorism in the Justice Department. I know this war on terror firsthand. I serve on the Homeland Security Committee and the Intelligence and Homeland Security Committee.

You know, many believe that the war on terror began on September the 11th, 2001, but the fact of the matter is we have been at war for several decades. You do not have to go back very far for evidence of that. As recently as 1993 an individual by the name of Ramzi Yousef entered the United States claiming political asylum. He was detained and given a notice to appear. He failed to appear at that hearing. Instead he would join the first al Qaeda cell in downtown Manhattan.

We recently passed the REAL ID Act to make it more difficult for those like Ramzi Yousef to obtain political asylum in this country.

After joining his fellow classmates from the West Point academy, he engaged in a conspiracy to blow up the World Trade Center. Fortunately, the Towers remained standing that day. But that day would come later. And the will of Osama bin Laden’s dream came to pass.

Then the embassies in Africa were bombed, and the USS Cole. In 1997, bin Laden openly and publicly declared war against the United States. The only thing that troubled him was that the United States would not respond back to his declaration of war. It seemed like the United States was a sleeping giant, and it would not be until the bloodiest alarm of 9/11 that the giant would begin to show signs of movement.

And now, to the present. There is positive news in this war on terror. We have rooted out al Qaeda in its caves in Afghanistan. We have killed or captured nearly 75 percent of the leadership. We liberated Afghanistan and held free elections for the first time in the country’s history, and we have liberated Iraq. We know that Zarqawi in Iraq has significant ties to bin Laden. We know that al Qaeda today says it has the right to kill 4 million Americans, 2 million of them children. It is a threat that we take very seriously today, and it is a threat that we are responding to.

We have seen significant and positive developments in terms of the Syrians pulling back to Lebanon.

Rarely in the history of the world has freedom moved so swiftly through a region. In places where oppression, tyranny, and inhumane treatment once flourished, we now find nations waking up to the possibilities of protecting their freedom, and many of whom have received training. About 130,000 of them.

The United States Government and Coalition Forces have trained and equipped nearly 2,000 Iraqi police and highway patrol officers, and along with soldiers, the United States and its allies are well on the way to helping Iraqis defend and protect themselves in their own country.

In all, more than 142,000 Iraqi police officers and soldiers, many of whom have already taken over the responsibilities of protecting their freedom, have received training. About 130,000 of those troops helped ensure the success of the Iraqi elections, some even died to protect those vital votes. Add to that of Iraq’s 18 provinces, 12 are now being patrolled and policed by Iraqis. And on February 21, the 40th Iraqi National Guard Brigade officially assumed control of its area of operation in and around Baghdad. This is the first Iraqi brigade to stand alone and have direct control over an area of operation. While the Coalition Partners continue to advise the brigade, the areas will be under complete Iraqi control.

With the $5.7 billion proposed to train Iraqi troops in the supplemental budget, we will make a $1 billion investment in a nation that will uphold the democracy those in those lands have fought so hard for.

But our need to help spread freedom also includes Afghanistan. We voted on the supplemental a $1.3 billion investment to be made there to stabilize this emerging democracy and eventually reduce U.S. forces in the area. We have seen American forces quietly making tremendous progress in a land which for so long had none. Already, Americans have trained 36,000 national and local Afghan police officers, 1,000 border security agents and 400 highway patrol officers. Coalition Forces have set up six training locations to make it efficient to train these troops, and we must remember by training these troops we are strengthening and securing democracy, and therefore making us safer here at home. With each and every Iraqi and Afghanistan troop trained, America is one step closer to bringing its sons, its daughters, its husbands and wives home for good.

I would like to close with a very powerful story. It is a story of Janet and Bill Norwood. It is the story of Sergeant Byron Norwood. As many Members recall, at the State of the Union, Mr. and Mrs. Norwood sat right over there. The President talked about how their son, Byron, lost his life. He lost his life in an incredibly brave story. He rescued seven Marines held hostage by insurgents. He saved seven Marines’ lives from the insurgency in Iraq, and paid the ultimate sacrifice in the process. It was a defining moment in the State of the Union, the warm embrace between Janet Norwood and Safia from Iraq.

I would like to close by reading a card that I received from Mrs. Norwood. With each parent I have talked to who lost a loved one in Iraq, they all said the same thing, “Finish the job.”

This is a picture of Sergeant Byron Norwood. And in the card written to me, Mrs. Norwood said, “Dear Representative McCaul,”

“We want you to know how much we have appreciated your visits to our home. It was an honor and a delight to meet you and Linda and to be able to share more about Byron with you. Knowing that you and so many other Americans honor and respect his sacrifice helps greatly to ease our sorrow.”

“Thank you also for the flags. The one that was flown over the Capitol on the day that Byron died will always have a special place in a beautifully displayed box with other treasures from Byron’s Marine Corps service. He would be so amazed and so proud.”

“The simple idea of the Post Office naming is such a stunning honor. One of the things we worried about was that people would soon forget about Byron. If your bill passes, that will never happen, and that is such a great comfort.

“If you ever become aware of any way I can be of service in my new role as a Gold Star Mother, either to the government or to the Gold Star Moms, please let me know. Sincerely, Janet.”

Mr. Speaker, this is what it is all about. This brings this war on terror home to the homes of every family in this Nation, and it is a war that we will prevail in.

Mr. DAVIS of Kentucky. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for his profound words. No more powerful words can be spoken than those of a mother who has lost a son, whose blood was shed literally to protect our freedoms, the lives of his fellow men.

In the words of our Lord, We share no greater love as a person than he who lays down his life for his friends.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent, leave of absence was granted:

Mr. COBLE (at the request of Mr. DELAY) for today on account of attending a funeral.

Mr. GARY G. MILLER of California (at the request of Mr. DELAY) for today after 4:00 p.m. on account of illness.

SPECIAL ORDERS GRANTED

By unanimous consent, permission to address the House, following the legislative program and any special orders heretofore entered, was granted to:

(The following Members (at the request of Mrs. WOOLSEY) to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material:)

Mr. SCHIFF, for 5 minutes, today.

Mr. DEFAZIO, for 5 minutes, today.

Mr. BROWN of Ohio, for 5 minutes, today.

Mr. WOOLSEY, for 5 minutes, today.

Mr. CAPTUR, for 5 minutes, today.

Mr. CARDOZA, for 5 minutes, today.

Mr. COOPER, for 5 minutes, today.

Ms. ROSS, for 5 minutes, today.

Mr. SCOTT of Georgia, for 5 minutes, today.

Mr. BOYD, for 5 minutes, today.

Ms. SALAZAR, for 5 minutes, today.

Ms. LORETTA SANCHEZ of California, for 5 minutes, today.

Mr. CUELLAR, for 5 minutes, today.

Mr. FRANK of Massachusetts, for 5 minutes, today.

Mr. BLUMENAUER, for 5 minutes, today.

Ms. CASE, for 5 minutes, today.

(The following Members (at the request of Mrs. BLACKBURN) to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material:)

Mrs. BLACKBURN, for 5 minutes, today.

Mr. MURPHY, for 5 minutes, today.

Mr. WELDON of Florida, for 5 minutes, today.

Mr. KIRK, for 5 minutes, today.

(The following Members (at their own request) to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material:)

Mr. DeFazio, for 5 minutes, today.

Ms. Woolsey, for 5 minutes, today.

Mr. Cardozo, for 5 minutes, today.

Mr. Cooper, for 5 minutes, today.

Mr. Ross, for 5 minutes, today.

Mr. Scott of Georgia, for 5 minutes, today.

Mr. Boyd, for 5 minutes, today.

Ms. Salazar, for 5 minutes, today.

Ms. Loretta Sanchez of California, for 5 minutes, today.

Mr. Cueliar, for 5 minutes, today.

Mr. Frank of Massachusetts, for 5 minutes, today.

Mr. Blumenauer, for 5 minutes, today.

Ms. Case, for 5 minutes, today.
Mr. DAVIS of Kentucky. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House do now adjourn.

The motion was agreed to. Accordingly, pursuant to the previous order of the House of today, the House adjourned until 2 p.m. on Monday, March 21, 2005, unless it sooner shall have received a message from the Senate transmitting its adoption of House Concurrent Resolution 103, in which case the House shall stand adjourned pursuant to that concurrent resolution.

Thereupon, (at 6 o’clock and 15 minutes p.m.), pursuant to the previous order of the House of today, the House adjourned until 2 p.m. on Monday, March 21, 2005, unless it sooner shall have received a message from the Senate transmitting its adoption of House Concurrent Resolution 103, in which case the House shall stand adjourned pursuant to that concurrent resolution.

EXECUTIVE COMMUNICATIONS, ETC.

Under clause 8 of rule XII, executive communications were taken from the Speaker’s table and referred as follows:

1289. A letter from the Principal Deputy Associate Administrator, Environmental Protection Agency, transmitting the Agency’s final rule—Approval and Promulgation of Air Quality Implementation Plans; Minnesota; Revised Format of 40 CFR Part 52 for Materials Being Incorporated by Reference [MN-86-1; FRL-7867-5] received February 23, 2005, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 801(a)(1)(A); to the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

1291. A letter from the Principal Deputy Associate Administrator, Environmental Protection Agency, transmitting the Agency’s final rule—Revisions to the California State Implementation Plan, Antelope Valley Air Quality Management District, California; Approved Plan for Control of Air Pollutants; and Updated Partial Plan for Control of Air Pollutants; Forsyth County, Mecklenburg County, North Carolina; and Chattanooga-Hamilton County, Knox County, and Memphis-Shelby County, Tennessee [R04-OAR-2004-NC-0003-200426; FRL-7877-3] received February 23, 2005, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 801(a)(1)(A); to the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

1292. A letter from the Principal Deputy Associate Administrator, Environmental Protection Agency, transmitting the Agency’s final rule—Revisions to the California State Implementation Plan, Great Basin Unified Air Pollution Control District and Oregon Contingency Controllable District [CA 309-9474; FRL-7872-4] received February 23, 2005, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 801(a)(1)(A); to the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

1293. A letter from the Principal Deputy Associate Administrator, Environmental Protection Agency, transmitting the Agency’s final rule—Revisions to the California State Implementation Plan, Great Basin Unified Air Pollution Control District and Oregon Contingency Controllable District [CA 309-9474; FRL-7872-4] received February 23, 2005, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 801(a)(1)(A); to the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

1294. A letter from the Principal Deputy Associate Administrator, Environmental Protection Agency, transmitting the Agency’s final rule—Revisions to the California State Implementation Plan, Great Basin Unified Air Pollution Control District and Oregon Contingency Controllable District [CA 309-9474; FRL-7872-4] received February 23, 2005, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 801(a)(1)(A); to the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

1295. A letter from the Principal Deputy Associate Administrator, Environmental Protection Agency, transmitting the Agency’s final rule—Approval and Promulgation of State Plans for Designated Facilities and Pollutants; Forsyth County, Mecklenburg County and Buncombe County, North Carolina; and Chattanooga-Hamilton County, Knox County, and Memphis-Shelby County, Tennessee [R04-OAR-2004-NC-0003-200426; FRL-7877-3] received February 23, 2005, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 801(a)(1)(A); to the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

1296. A letter from the Principal Deputy Associate Administrator, Environmental Protection Agency, transmitting the Agency’s final rule—Revisions to the California State Implementation Plan, Great Basin Unified Air Pollution Control District and Oregon Contingency Controllable District [CA 309-9474; FRL-7872-4] received February 23, 2005, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 801(a)(1)(A); to the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

1297. A letter from the Principal Deputy Associate Administrator, Environmental Protection Agency, transmitting the Agency’s final rule—Approval of Promulgation of Air Quality Implementation Plans; Connecticut; Plan for Control of Hazardous Waste Municipal Waste Combustors [R01-OAR-2004-CT-0004; A-1-FRL-7877-6] received February 23, 2005, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 801(a)(1)(A); to the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

1298. A letter from the Principal Deputy Associate Administrator, Environmental Protection Agency, transmitting the Agency’s final rule—Approval of Promulgation of Air Quality Implementation Plans; Connecticut; Plan for Control of Hazardous Waste Municipal Waste Combustors [R01-OAR-2004-CT-0004; A-1-FRL-7877-6] received February 23, 2005, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 801(a)(1)(A); to the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

1300. A letter from the Chief, Regulations and Administrative Law, USCG, Department of Homeland Security, transmitting the Department’s final rule—Navigation Safety Zone: Safety Zone; Miami, Florida [COTP Miami 04-140] (RIN: 1625-AA07) received February 23, 2005, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 801(a)(1)(A); to the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure.

1301. A letter from the Chief, Regulations and Administrative Law, USCG, Department of Homeland Security, transmitting the Department’s final rule—Revisions to the California State Implementation Plan, El Dorado County Air Quality Management District; Statewide (County Portion), Imperial County Air Pollution Control District, and Sonoma Air Quality Management District [CA 307-9460a; FRL-7873-5] received February 23, 2005, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 801(a)(1)(A); to the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

1302. A letter from the Chief, Regulations and Administrative Law, USCG, Department of Homeland Security, transmitting the Department’s final rule—Revisions to the California State Implementation Plan, El Dorado County Air Quality Management District; Statewide (County Portion), Imperial County Air Pollution Control District, and Sonoma Air Quality Management District [CA 307-9460a; FRL-7873-5] received February 23, 2005, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 801(a)(1)(A); to the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

1303. A letter from the Chief, Regulations and Administrative Law, USCG, Department of Homeland Security, transmitting the Department’s final rule—Revisions to the California State Implementation Plan, El Dorado County Air Quality Management District; Statewide (County Portion), Imperial County Air Pollution Control District, and Sonoma Air Quality Management District [CA 307-9460a; FRL-7873-5] received February 23, 2005, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 801(a)(1)(A); to the Committee on Energy and Commerce. of Homeland Security, transmitting the Department's final rule—Safety Zone: Dunkin Donuts Fireworks Display, Providence, Rhode Island (CGD01-04-134) (RIN: 1625-AA00) received February 10, 2005, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 801(a)(1)(A); to the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure.

1308. A letter from the Chief, Regulations and Administrative Law, USCG, Department of Homeland Security, transmitting the Department's final rule—Safety Zone: Red Sox Fireworks—Boston, Massachusetts (CGD01-04-135) (RIN: 1625-AA00) received February 10, 2005, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 801(a)(1)(A); to the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES ON PUBLIC BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

Under clause 2 of rule XIII, reports of committees were delivered to the Clerk for printing and reference to the proper calendar, as follows:

Mr. SENSENBRENNER: Committee on the Judiciary, House Concurrent Resolution S3. Resolution expressing the sense of the Congress regarding the issuance of the 500,000th design patent by the United States Patent and Trademark Office (Rept. 109-22). Referred to the House Calendar.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER: Committee on the Judiciary, H.R. 1359. A bill to amend the Trademark Act of 1946 with respect to dilution by blurring or tarnishment; with an amendment (Rept. 109-23). Referred to the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER: Committee on the Judiciary, H.R. 1360. A bill to create a fair and efficient system to resolve claims of victims for bodily injury caused by asbestos exposure, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Energy and Commerce, and in addition to the Committee on the Judiciary, and in addition to the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure.

By Mr. WELDON of Florida: H.R. 1364. A bill to amend title 28, United States Code, to enable the Supreme Court to repose for durable goods used in a trade or, in the jurisdiction of the committee concerned, at law as a suit for recovery of damages, in cases in which the defendants are in or are likely to enter into, conflict or civil strife, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Administration of the Judiciary.

By Mr. STEARNS, Mr. BARRETT of South Carolina, Mr. STRAUB, Mr. BARRETT of North Carolina, Mr. MCCOTTER, Mr. COSTELLO, Mr. KING of Iowa, Mr. McHENRY, Mr. NEY, Mr. HART, Mr. KINGSTON, Mr. HAYES, Mr. RENZI, Mr. HAYES, Mr. RENZI, Mr. TAIT, Mr. WONG, Mr. BURGESS.

PUBLIC BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

Under clause 2 of rule XII, public bills and resolutions were introduced and severally referred, as follows:

By Mr. OBERSTAR (for himself, Mr. DINGELL, Mr. LEACH, Mr. PELOSI, Ms. EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON of Texas, Mr. EAGLES, Mr. NADLER, Mr. BOSHLERT, Mr. DINGELL, Mr. LANTOS, Mr. HUNTER, Mr. HAYES, Mr. WONG, Mr. STANCHAK, Mr. GINGREY).

By Mr. BROWN of Ohio, Mr. LANTOS, Mr. LANTOS, Mr. DINGELL, Mr. RANGEL, Mr. SHELKIN, Mr. SCHWARTZ of Pennsylvania, Mr. SCHWARTZ of New Jersey, Mr. HAYES, Mr. WONG, Mr. BURGESS, Mr. STEARNS, Mr. BARRETT of South Carolina, Mr. MCCOTTER, Mr. COSTELLO, Mr. KING of Iowa, Mr. McHENRY, Mr. NEY, Mr. HART, Mr. KINGSTON, Mr. HAYES, Mr. RENZI, Mr. HAYES, Mr. RENZI, Mr. TAIT, Mr. WONG, Mr. BURGESS.
H. R. 1365. A bill to award a congressional gold medal on behalf of Cesar E. Chavez in recognition of his service to the Nation; to the Committee on Financial Services.

H. R. 1366. A bill to amend title 10, United States Code, to expand eligibility for Combat-Related Special Compensation paid by the United States in order to permit certain additional retired members who have a service-connected disability to receive both disability compensation from the Department of Veterans Affairs for that disability and Combat-Related Special Compensation by reason of that disability; to the Committee on Armed Services.

By Mr. BOUCHER (for himself, Mr. COSTELLO, Mr. RAHALL, and Mr. STRICKLAND):

H. R. 1367. A bill to amend title 11 of the United States Code to protecting the labor rights of current and former employees of coal mines that are in default under such title; to the Committee on the Judiciary.

By Mr. BURGESS (for himself, Mr. PARCHMAN):

H. R. 1368. A bill to provide the Secretary of the Army with additional and enhanced authority with respect to water resources projects and related water resource purposes; to the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure.

By Mr. CANNON (for himself, Mr. CARTER, Mr. SMITH of Texas, and Mr. GOHMERT):

H. R. 1369. A bill to prevent certain discrimination against veterans with regard to their future home ownership; to the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure.

By Mr. CANNON (for himself, Mr. FLAKE, Mr. DUNCAN, and Mr. PETERSON of Pennsylvania, and Mrs. MUSORAVE):

H. R. 1370. A bill to require the Secretary of the Interior to develop the cadastre of Federal real property to assist with Federal land management, resource conservation, and development of Federal real property resources, and to require the Secretary to verify the cadastre of Federal real property, to the fullest extent possible, with cadastral records of any other Federal real property that is no longer required to be owned by the Federal Government, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Resources.

By Mrs. CAPITO:

H. R. 1371. A bill to amend title 37, United States Code, to provide for payment to members of reserve component who perform inactive-duty training in determining their entitlement for hazardous duty pay, aviation incentive pay, special pay, and foreign language proficiency pay; to the Committee on Armed Services.

By Mrs. CAPPS (for herself and Mr. SIMMONS):

H. R. 1372. A bill to amend title XVIII of the Social Security Act to impose minimum nurse staffing ratios in Medicare participating hospitals, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Energy and Commerce, and in addition to the Committee on Ways and Means, for a period to be subsequently determined by the Speaker, in each case for consideration of such provisions as fall within the jurisdiction of the committee concerned; to the Committee on Armed Services.

By Mr. CARDOZA (for himself and Mrs. JO ANN DAVIS of Virginia):

H. R. 1373. A bill to amend title 10, United States Code, to provide leave for members of the Armed Forces in connection with adoptive children, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Armed Services.

By Mr. CASSIDY (for himself, Mr. FOLEY, Mr. WAMP, and Mr. GORDON):

H. R. 1374. A bill to amend the Immigration and Nationality Act to permit aliens who are independent living assistants to be accorded status as J nonimmigrants to provide in-home living and home support services to adults with disabilities; to the Committee on the Judiciary.

By Mr. CULBERSON (for himself, Mr. AL GREEN of Texas, Mrs. BIEGERT, Mr. BRADY of Texas, Mr. BURGESS, Mr. CAPPS, Mr. CUNNINGHAM, Mr. DAVIS of Arizona, Mr. GOHMERT, Mr. GONZALEZ, Mr. GENE GREEN of Texas, Mr. HALL, Mr. HOVER, Ms. EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON of Texas, Mr. HUNTE, Mr. KENNEDY of California, Mr. McCaul of Texas, Mr. NEUGEBAUER, Mr. POR, Mr. SCHAKOWSKY, Mr. SESSIONS, and Mr. THOMSON):

H. R. 1375. A bill to award a congressional gold medal to Michael Ellis DeBakey, M.D.; to the Committee on Financial Services.

By Mr. TOM DAVIS of Virginia (for himself, Mr. WAXMAN, Mr. PLATT, Mr. ARBERRIGH, Mr. TIBERI, Mr. RUFFIER, Mr. RAMSTAD, Mr. CAPPS, Mr. LAHOOD, Mrs. CHRISTENSEN, Mr. TERRY, Mr. JACKSON of Illinois, Mr. LEACH, Mr. ZOR LOUVEN of California, Mr. SHAES, Mr. MCDERMOTT, Mr. PRICE of Ohio, Mr. FELNER, Mr. KIRK, Mr. HINCHY, Mrs. MILLER of Michigan, Mr. LEE, Mr. MORAN of Virginia, Mr. MORAN, Mr. SHANKER, Mr. VAN HOLLEN, Mr. RUSH, Mr. WYNN, and Mrs. MALONEY):

H. R. 1376. A bill to protect the public health by providing for Drug Administration with certain authority to regulate tobacco products; to the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

By Mr. DELAHUNT (for himself, Mr. ABSCHEMMERLE, Mr. ACKERMAN, Mr. ALLEN, Mr. ANDREWS, Ms. BALDWIN, Mr. BECERRA, Mr. BERMAN, Mr. BLUMENAUER, Mr. BROWN of Ohio, Mrs. CAPPS, Mr. CAPUANO, Mr. CONVERS, Mr. CROWLEY, Mr. DAVID of Illinois, Mr. DEFAZZO, Ms. DEGETTE, Mr. DELAHUNT, Ms. DELAURIO, Mr. DÉSHOO, Mr. EVANS, Mr. FAIER, Mr. FILNER, Mr. FRANK ALBERT of California, Mr. GENE GREEN of Texas, Mr. GRISALVA, Mr. GUTIERREZ, Mr. HINJOSA, Mr. HOLT, Mr. HONDA, Ms. HOOLEY, Mr. JOHNSON of Illinois, Mr. JACKSON-LEE of Texas, Ms. EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON of Texas, Ms. KAPUT, Mr. KENNEDY of Rhode Island, Ms. KILPATRICK of Virginia, Mr. KIND, Mr. KUCINICH, Mr. LANGOVIN, Mr. LANTOS, Mr. LEES, Mr. LEVIN, Mr. LEWIS of Georgia, Mr. LIPINSKI, Ms. ZOE LOPUREN of California, Mr. LYNCH, Mrs. MALONEY, Mr. MARKERT, Mr. MATHERSON, Mrs. MCCARTHY, Mr. MCDERMOTT, Mr. McGOVERN, Mr. McNULTY, Mr. MEEK, Mr. MEEKS of New York, Ms. MILLER-MCDONALD, Mr. GENE GREEN of California, Mr. NADLER, Mr. NAPOLITANO, Mr. NAPOLITANO of Massachusetts, Mr. OBERSTAR, Mr. OLIVER, Mr. OWENS, Mr. PALLONE, Mr. PASCHELL, Mr. PLATTS, Mr. ROTHMAN, Ms. ROTHAL-ALLARD, Mr. RUZBA of Ohio, Ms. LINDA T. SANCHEZ of California, Ms. LORRETTA SANCHEZ of California, Mr. SANDERS, Mr. SCHAKOWSKY, Mr. SCHIFF, Mr. SERRANO, Mr. SHERMAN, Ms. SLAUGHTER, Mr. SNYDER, Ms. SOLIS, Mr. STARK, Mrs. TAUCHE, Mr. TESCH, Mrs. JONES of Ohio, Mr. UDALL of New Mexico, Mr. VAN HOLLEN, Mr. VELAZQUEZ, Mr. WATERS, Ms. WATSON, Mr. WAXMAN, Mr. WEINER, Mr. WOOLSEY, and Mr. WU):

H. R. 1377. A bill to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to deter the smuggling of tobacco products into the United States, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Ways and Means, and in addition to the Committee on the Judiciary, for a period to be subsequently determined by the Speaker, in each case for consideration of such provisions as fall within the jurisdiction of the committee concerned.

By Mrs. EMERSON (for herself and Mr. BERRY):

H. R. 1378. A bill to amend the Controlled Substances Act to prohibit the cultivation of ephedrine alkaloids, including ephedrine and pseudoephedrine, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Energy and Commerce, and in addition to the Committee on the Judiciary, for a period to be subsequently determined by the Speaker, in each case for consideration of such provisions as fall within the jurisdiction of the committee concerned.

By Mr. ENGLISH of Pennsylvania (for himself, Mr. MCCREARY, Mr. MURPHY, Mr. POLIEY, Mr. PARRISH, Mr. GREEN of Wisconsin, Ms. BALDWIN, Mr. PETTerson of Pennsylvania, and Mr. SAM JOHNSON of Texas):

H. R. 1379. A bill to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to treat electric transmission property as 15-year property for depreciation purposes; to the Committee on Ways and Means.

By Mr. ENGEL of Georgia (for himself, Mr. MURRO, Mr. VISNO and Mr. JACOBS): be subsequently determined by the Speaker, in each case for consideration of such provisions as fall within the jurisdiction of the committee concerned.

By Mr. ENGLISH of Pennsylvania (for himself, Mr. PENCE, Mr. MILLER of Florida, Mr. PENCE, Mr. PAUL, Mr. TANCREDI, and Mr. Jones of North Carolina):

H.R. 1385. A bill to amend title XVIII of the Social Security Act to provide incentives linking quality to payment for skilled nursing facilities and to establish a Long-Term Care Ombudsman; to the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure.

By Mr. FLAKE (for himself, Mr. PENNY, Mr. MILLER of Florida, Mr. PENCE, Mr. PAUL, Mr. TANCREDI, and Mr. Jones of North Carolina):

H.R. 1386. A bill to provide for a one-year delay in the implementation of the voluntary prescription drug benefit program, and to provide for a one-year extension of the Medicare drug discount card and transitional assistance program and of the coverage of prescription drugs under the Medicaid Program; to the Committee on Energy and Commerce, for a period to be subsequently determined by the Speaker, in each case for consideration of such provisions as fall within the jurisdiction of the committee concerned.

By Mr. FORD:

H.R. 1387. A bill to direct the President to transmit to the Congress each year a comprehensive report on the national homeland security strategy of the United States; to the Committee on Homeland Security.

By Mr. GINGREY (for himself, Mr. KINGSTON, Mr. BRADLEY of New Hampshire, Mr. JINDAL, Mr. SOUDER, Mr. WILSON of South Carolina, Mr. MARSHALL, Mr. MCCOTTER, Mr. DUNCAN, Mr. McHENRY, Mr. SESSIONS, Mr. HENNAHLING, Mrs. MUSGRAVE, Mr. BARKETT of South Carolina, Mr. WESTMORELAND, and Mr. MILLER of Florida):

H.R. 1388. A bill to amend chapter 44 of title 18, United States Code, to update certain Federal restrictions on interstate firearms transactions; to the Committee on the Judiciary.

By Mr. HASTINGS of Florida (for himself, Mr. RHEIBERG, Mr. OSBORNE, Ms. HERSETH, Mr. CASE, Mr. OTTER, Ms. CORRING BroH OF Florida, Mr. SCOTT of Nebraska, Mr. UDALL of New Mexico, Mrs. CHRISTENSEN, Mrs. NAPOLITANO, Mr. HAYWORTH, Mr. SIMPSON of Nevada, Mr. PLATTS, Mr. UDALL of Colorado, Mr. TERRY, Mr. BORDALLO, Mr. BLUMENAUER, Mr. HINOJOSA, Mr. SALAZAR, Mr. DAVIS of Florida, Mr. ETHRIDGE, Mr. WEXLER, Mr. GALVAN, and Mrs. CULBORN):

H.R. 1389. A bill to establish a National Drought Council within the Department of Agriculture, to improve national drought preparedness, response efforts, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Agriculture, and in addition to the Committees on Resources, and Transportation and Infrastructure, for a period to be subsequently determined by the Speaker, in each case for consideration of such provisions as fall within the jurisdiction of the committee concerned.

By Mr. HASTINGS of Florida (for himself, Mr. BRADY of Texas, Mr. BERRY, Mr. MCCURDY, Mr. McCRAY, Mr. SARASOTA, Mr. WILSON, and Mr. LARSON of Connecticut):

H.R. 1390. A bill to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to clarify the excise tax exemptions for aerial applicators of fertilizers and other substances, to the Committee on Ways and Means.

By Mr. HERGER:

H.R. 1391. A bill to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to make permanent the increase in expensing of certain depreciable business assets enacted by the Jobs and Growth Tax Relief Reconciliation Act of 2003, and extended by the American Jobs Creation Act of 2004; to the Committee on Ways and Means.

By Mr. HINCHEY:

H.R. 1392. A bill to prohibit the importation, manufacture, distribution, or storage of ammonium nitrate compound without a license or permit, and for other purposes; to the Committee on the Judiciary.

By Mr. HERGER:

H.R. 1393. A bill to direct the President to request an additional 10,000 military police and another 10,000 law enforcement officers for the purpose of providing federal law enforcement officers to protect the U.S. border with Canada; to the Committee on Ways and Means.

By Mr. KELLER:

H.R. 1394. A bill to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to allow a credit against income tax for certain expenditures on motor vehicles contain not less than 10 percent ethanol and that all diesel fuel sold in the United States for motor vehicles contain not less than 95 percent biodiesel, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

By Ms. CAPTUR (for herself and Mr. LATOURETTE):

H.R. 1395. A bill to amend the Clean Air Act to require that, after the year 2030, all gasoline sold in the United States for motor vehicles contain not less than 10 percent ethanol and that all diesel fuel sold in the United States for motor vehicles contain not less than 5 percent biodiesel, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

By Ms. CAPTUR (for herself and Mr. LATOURETTE):

H.R. 1396. A bill to amend the Airline Ticket Consumer Protection Act to ensure that, during the period from October 1, 2006, to October 1, 2010, any refunds or credits issued by airlines to consumers as a result of weather-related delays or cancellations must be in the form specified by the consumer; to the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure.

By Mr. HASTINGS of Georgia, Mr. OWENS, Mrs. JONES of Ohio, Ms. MILLER of California, Mr. MCDONALD, Mr. GRANHAM, Mr. JINDAL, Mr. SOUTER, Mr. CANDELARIO, Mr. GREGORY, Mr. BUTLER, Mr. KOCH, Mr. RINEHART, Mr. RUSH, Mr. BALDWIN, Ms. CARSON, Mr. MCDERMOTT, Mr. THOMPSON of Mississippi, Ms. SLAUGHTER, and Mr. ALLEN):

H.R. 1397. A bill to provide access and assistance to increase college attendance and completion by children of low-income families; to the Committee on Education and the Workforce.

By Mr. MCDERMOTT:

H.R. 1398. A bill to direct the Secretary of Education to conduct a study of the impact of the federal loan program on college costs; to the Committee on Education and the Workforce.

By Mr. HOLEY:

H.R. 1399. A bill to amend the Small Business Act to clarify that the Administrator of the Small Business Administration is authorized to make economic injury disaster loans in response to disasters caused by drought; to the Committee on Small Business.

By Ms. HOOLEY:

H.R. 1400. A bill to amend the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 to make volunteer members of the Civil Air Patrol eligible for Public Safety Officer death benefits; to the Committee on the Judiciary.

By Mr. HOOLEY:

H.R. 1401. A bill to expand the Public Health Service Act to establish a program of grants for the detection and control of colorectal cancer; to the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

By Mr. KENNEDY of Rhode Island:

H.R. 1402. A bill to provide for equal coverage of mental health benefits with respect to health insurance coverage unless comparable limitations are imposed on medical and surgical benefits; to the Committee on Education and the Workforce, and in addition to the Committee on Energy and Commerce, for a period to be subsequently determined by the Speaker, in each case for consideration of such provisions as fall within the jurisdiction of the committee concerned.

By Ms. KILPATRICK of Michigan (for herself, Mr. LEW, Mr. WOOLSEY, Mr. DEFAGO, Mr. NORDLAND, Mr. TOWNS, Ms. WATSON, Mr. MCDERMOTT, Mr. PALLONE, and Ms. MALONEY):

H.R. 1403. A bill to amend title 10, United States Code, to establish in the Department of Defense an Office of the Victim Advocate, to prescribe the functions of that office, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Armed Services.

By Ms. KILPATRICK of Michigan (for herself, Mr. OELLERMANN, Mr. LAMM, Mr. BORDALLO, Mr. MCDERMOTT, Mr. PAYNE, Mr. CONCORS, Mr. LEWIS of Georgia, Mr. OWENS, Mrs. JONES of Ohio, Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas, Mr. RUSH, Mr. Rangel, Ms. NORTON, Mr. MERRIN, Mr. JEFFERSON, Mrs. MALONEY, and Mr. GORDON):

H.R. 1404. A bill to posthumously award a congressional gold medal to Wilma G. Rudolph; to the Committee on Financial Services.

By Mr. LARSON of Connecticut (for himself, Mr. DELAURA, Mr. ENGLISH of Pennsylvania, Mr. ETHRIDGE, Mrs. JOHNSON of Connecticut, Mrs. MCCARTHY, Mr. MCINTYRE, Mr. SHAYS, Mr. SIMMONS, and Mr. WELDON of Pennsylvania):
H.R. 1405. A bill to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to exclude from income and employment taxes and wage withholding property tax rebates and other benefits provided to household members of emergency medical responders; to the Committee on Ways and Means.

By Mr. LATHAM.

H.R. 1406. A bill to amend title 37, United States Code, to increase the authorized weight allowances for the shipment of baggage, mail, and personal effects of senior noncommissioned officers of the uniformed services; to the Committee on Armed Services.

By Mr. LATOURETTE.

H.R. 1407. A bill to require that certain wire rods shall not be subject to any antidumping duty or countervailing duty order; to the Committee on Ways and Means.

By Ms. LEE (for herself, Mr. LEACH, Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA, Mr. PALLONE, Mr. LANTOS, Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN, and Mr. ACKERMAN).

H.R. 1408. A bill to provide assistance to combat HIV/AIDS in India, and for other purposes; to the Committee on International Relations.

By Ms. LEE (for herself, Mr. HYDE, Mr. LANTOS, Mr. LEACH, and Ms. MCCOLLUM of Minnesota).

H.R. 1409. A bill to amend the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 to provide assistance for orphans and other vulnerable children in developing countries, and for other purposes; to the Committee on International Relations.

By Ms. LEE (for herself, Mr. PAYNE, and Mr. OWENS).

H.R. 1410. A bill to provide for coverage of hormone replacement therapy for treatment of menopausal symptoms, and for coverage of an alternative therapy for hormone replacement therapy for such symptoms, under the Medicare and Medicaid programs; to the Committee on Energy and Commerce, and in addition to the Committee on Ways and Means.

By Ms. LEE (for herself, Mr. PAYNE, Mr. TANCREDO, Mr. MEEKS of New York, Mr. LEE, Mr. O'LEARY, Mr. PAYNE, Mrs. MALONEY, Mr. CAPUANO, and Ms. SCHAKOWSKY).

H.R. 1411. A bill to provide for the manufacture, sale, delivery, and transfer of handguns that cannot be personalized, and to provide for a report to the Congress on the commercial feasibility of personalized firearms; to the Committee on the Judiciary.

By Mr. PAYNE (for himself, Mr. TANCREDO, Mr. MEEKS of New York, Mr. LEE, Mr. O'LEARY, Mr. PAYNE, Mrs. MALONEY, Mr. CAPUANO, and Ms. SCHAKOWSKY).

H.R. 1412. A bill to provide for the treatment of erectile dysfunction; to the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

By Mr. BROWN of Ohio, Mr. SANDERS, Mr. BISHOP of New York, Mr. FISHER, Mr. MCDERMOTT, Ms. KILPATRICK of Michigan, Mr. LEE, Mr. GRIJALVA, Mr. HINCHRY, Mr. KUCINICH, Mr. ROSS, Mr. VANCE, Mr. WELKER, Mr. WILSON, Mr. ETCHESON, Mr. CARBAJAL, Mr. CUMMINGS, Ms. McCOLLUM of Minnesota, Ms. ISAAC, Mrs. JONES of Ohio, Ms. BORDALLO, Mr. CROWLEY, Ms. SCHAKOWSKY, Mr. HASTINGS of Florida, Mr. TIERNEY, Mr. KILDREW, Mr. BROWN of South Carolina, Ms. PELOSI, and Mr. ALEXANDER):

H.R. 1413. A bill to make the protection of vulnerable populations, especially women and children, who are affected by a humanitarian emergency a priority of the United States Government; to the Committee on International Relations.

By Mr. MARKNEY (for himself, Ms. NOR-TON, Mr. KUCINICH, Mr. PALLONE, Mr. LEE, Mrs. MALONEY, Mr. THOMPSON of Mississippi, Mr. HOLT, Mrs. JONES of Ohio, Mr. BERKLEY, Mr. GRIJALVA, and Mr. ACKERMAN).

H.R. 1414. A bill to direct the Secretary of Homeland Security to issue regulations concerning the sharing of the王某 Expensive Materials, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Homeland Security, and in addition to the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure, for a period to be subsequently determined by the Speaker, in each case for consideration of such provisions as fall within the jurisdiction of the committee concerned.

By Mrs. MCCARTHY (for herself and Mr. DINGELL):

H.R. 1415. A bill to improve the National Instant Criminal Background Check System, and for other purposes; to the Committee on the Judiciary.

By Mrs. MCCARTHY:

H.R. 1416. A bill to repeal the reduction in Medicare payment for therapeutic shoes and inserts for individuals with diabetes effected by section 627 of the Medicare Prescription Drug, Improvement, and Modernization Act of 2003; to the Committee on Energy and Commerce, and in addition to the Committee on Ways and Means, for a period to be subsequently determined by the Speaker, in each case for consideration of such provisions as fall within the jurisdiction of the committee concerned.

By Mr. McCRCERY (for himself, Mr. NEAL of Massachusetts, Mr. SHAW, Mr. HERGER, Mr. SAM JOHNSON of Texas, Mr. ENGLISH of Pennsylvania, Mr. WELLER, Mr. HULSHOF, Mr. LEWIS of Kentucky, Mr. FOLEY, Mr. CANTOR, Mr. HART, Mr. BRAUPHER, Mr. MCDERMOTT, Mr. JEFFERSON, Mr. BEZERRA, and Mr. CROWLEY).

H.R. 1417. A bill to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to permanently extend the credit for second and subsequent mortgage indebtedness; to the Committee on Ways and Means.

By Mr. MEEHAN (for himself and Mr. WENZEL).

H.R. 1418. A bill to amend chapter 89 of title 12, United States Code, to eliminate the 10-year limitation on the collection of nontax debt; to the Committee on the Judiciary.

By Mr. PICKERING (for himself, Mr. DOYLE, Mr. TAYLOR of Mississippi, Mr. LAHJON, Mr. GILCHREST, Mr. MERRICK, Mr. LYNCH, Mr. TANNER, Mr. DUNCAN, Mr. KILDREW, Mr. MCCOTTER, Mr. ABERCROMBIE, Mr. WICKER, Mr. RYUN of Kansas, Mr. PAYNE, Mr. HYDE, Mr. HINCHRY, Mr. WALSH, Mr. TERRY, Mrs. WILSON of New Mexico, Mr. SHIEKUS, and Mrs. BLACKBURN).

By Mr. MORAN of Virginia (for himself, Mr. DUNCAN, and Mr. ROSS).

H.R. 1420. A bill to prohibit as indecent the broadcasting of any advertisement for a prescription drug with a label that includes a warning that the drug may cause cancer; to the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

By Mr. NUSSELE (for himself, Mr. TANNER, Mr. LATHAM, Mr. KING of Iowa, Mr. BOSWELL, Mrs. JOHNSEN of Connecticut, Mr. LATOURETTE, Mrs.
On the Judiciary, for a period to be subsequently determined by the Speaker, in each case for consideration of such provisions as fall within the jurisdiction of the committee concerned.

By Mr. STRICKLAND (for himself, Ms. ROSE-LEHTINEN, Mr. WILSON of South Carolina, Mr. WESTMORELAND, Mr. KING of Georgia, Mr. CARTER of Georgia, Mr. BOEHLERT, Mr. ALLEN, Mr. NEAL of Massachusetts, Mr. STARK, Ms. OLIVIA J. JEFFERS, Mr. BICKERSTAFF, Mr. DELAHUNT, Mr. PAYNE, Mr. FELTS of California, Mr. JOHNSON of Tennessee, Mr. TAYLOR of Mississippi, and Mr. GOEMERT):

H.R. 1448. A bill to amend the Controlled Substances Act to eliminate the safe-harbor exception for certain packaged pseudoephedrine products used in the manufacture of illegal substances for other purposes; to the Committee on Energy and Commerce; and in addition to the Committee on Ways and Means.

By Mr. SHAYS:

H.R. 1444. A bill to provide for other purposes; to the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure.

By Mr. SULLIVAN (for himself, Mrs. MURKOWSKA, Mr. WICZER, Mr. RADANOVICH, Mr. WILSON of Colorado, Mr. SOUDER, Mr. NORWOOD, Mrs. MYRICK, Mr. MCHENRY, Ms. INGELIS of South Carolina, Mr. FLAKE, and Mr. KING of Iowa):

H.R. 1449. A bill to preserve open competition and Federal Government neutrality toward labor relations of Federal Government contractors on Federal and federally funded construction projects; to the Committee on Government Reform.

By Mr. TANCREDO:

H.R. 1450. A bill to require additional tariffs be imposed on products of any nonmarket economy country that certifies to the Congress that that country is a market economy country, and to direct the Secretary of the Treasury to deposit the amounts generated from those tariffs into the Social Security trust funds; to the Committee on Ways and Means.

By Mr. WAXMAN (for himself, Mr. BOBRETT, Mr. MILLS, Mr. GILCHREST, Mr. GRIJALVA, Mrs. JOHNSON of Connecticut, Ms. SCHAKOWSKY, Mrs. KELLY, Mrs. CAPPS, Mr. MCHUGH, Mr. DOUGHERTY, Mr. SANTON, Mr. MARKEY, Mr. SHAYS, Ms. SOLIS, Mr. SMITH of New Jersey, Mr. ENGLE, and Mr. WALSH):

H.R. 1451. A bill to amend the Clean Air Act to reduce emissions from electric powerplants, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

By Mr. KING of New York (for himself, Mr. FOSSELLA, Mr. NEAL of Massachusetts, Mr. MCHUGH, Mr. CROWLEY, Mr. ISRAEL, Mrs. McCARTHY, Mrs. MALONEY, Mr. ENGLE, Mr. ACKERMAN, Mr. WILSON of South Carolina, Mr. SOUDER, Mr. PAYNE, Mr. DELAHUNT, Mr. MERRILL of Hawaii, Mr. BRADY of Pennsylvania, Mr. HOLDEN, and Mr. BISHOP of New York):

H.J. Res. 38. A joint resolution recognizing Commodore John Barry as the first flag officer of the United States Navy; to the Committee on Armed Services.

By Mr. DANIEL E. LUNGREN of California (for himself, Mr. BACHUR, Mr. STEARNS, Mrs. EMERSON, Mr. ROGERS of Alabama, Mr. ALEXANDER, Mr. BARTLETT of California, Mr. DAVIS of Tennessee, Mr. TAYLOR of Mississippi, and Mr. GOEMERT):

H.J. Res. 39. A joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States relating to marriage; to the Committee on the Judiciary.
By Mr. DEFLAY:
H. Con. Res. 103. Concurrent resolution providing for an adjournment of the two Houses; considered and agreed to.

H. Con. Res. 104. Concurrent resolution congratulating Bode Miller for winning the 2004 World Cup overall title in Alpine skiing; to the Committee on Government Reform.

By Ms. BERKLEY (for herself, Mr. GINSBURG, and Mr. ROUTER):
H. Con. Res. 105. Concurrent resolution recognizing the 100th anniversary of the founding of Las Vegas, Nevada; to the Committee on Government Reform.

By Mrs. CAPITO:
H. Con. Res. 106. Concurrent resolution expressing the sense of the Congress that a site in Arlington National Cemetery should be provided for a memorial marker to honor the memory of the 40 members of the Armed Forces who lost their lives in the air crash at Bakers Creek, Australia, on June 14, 1943; to the Committee on Veterans' Affairs.

By Mr. HASTINGS of Florida:
H. Con. Res. 107. Concurrent resolution supporting the goal of increased homeownership in the United States and recognizing the importance of homeownership programs, fair lending, fair housing laws in achieving that goal; to the Committee on Financial Services.

By Ms. KIL PATRICK of Michigan:
H. Con. Res. 108. Concurrent resolution expressing the sense of the Congress that the community development block grant program should be retained and the administration of the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development; to the Committee on Financial Services.

By Mr. RANGEL:
H. Con. Res. 109. Concurrent resolution honoring Army Specialist Shoshana Nyree Johnson for her valiant efforts in war in Iraq; to the Committee on Armed Services.

By Mr. RANGEL:
H. Con. Res. 110. Concurrent resolution expressing the sense of Congress that Katherine Dunham should be recognized for her groundbreaking achievements in dance, theater, music, and education, as well as for her work as an activist striving for racial equality throughout the world; to the Committee on Education and the Workforce.

By Mr. RANGEL:
H. Con. Res. 111. Concurrent resolution expressing the sense of Congress that Lionel Hampton should be honored for his contributions to the world of music; to the Committee on Education and the Workforce.

By Mr. RANGEL:
H. Con. Res. 112. Concurrent resolution expressing the sense of the House of Representatives that Lena Horne should be recognized as one of the most popular performers of the 1940s and 1950s and for her outspoken opposition to racial and social injustice; to the Committee on Government Reform.

By Mr. RANGEL:
H. Con. Res. 113. Concurrent resolution expressing the sense of Congress that the United States Postal Service should issue a postage stamp commemorating Congressman Adam Clayton Powell, Jr.; to the Committee on Government Reform.

By Mr. RANGEL:
H. Con. Res. 114. Concurrent resolution expressing the sense of Congress that a commemorative postage stamp should be issued by the United States Postal Service honoring Roy Campanella, and that the Citizens' Stamp Advisory Committee should recommend the Postmaster General that such a stamp be issued; to the Committee on Government Reform.

By Mr. BILLRAKIS (for himself and Ms. ESHOO):
H. Con. Res. 115. Concurrent resolution expressing the sense of Congress that Romare Howard Bearden should be recognized as one of the preeminent artists of the 20th century for his artistic genius and visual creativity in the depiction of the complexity and richness of African American life in the United States; to the Committee on Government Reform.

By Mr. RANGEL:
H. Con. Res. 116. Concurrent resolution expressing the sense of Congress that a commemorative postage stamp should be issued by the United States Postal Service honoring Arthur Ashe; the Citizens' Stamp Advisory Committee should recommend to the Postmaster General that such a stamp be issued; to the Committee on Government Reform.

By Mr. RANGEL:
H. Con. Res. 117. Concurrent resolution expressing the sense of Congress that Zora Neale Hurston should be recognized for her achievements as a novelist and anthropologist, and for her contributions to the Harlem Renaissance movement; to the Committee on Government Reform.

By Mr. RANGEL:
H. Con. Res. 118. Concurrent resolution expressing the sense of Congress that Madame C. J. Walker should be recognized for her achievements in business, her inventions, and her commitment to the African-American community; to the Committee on Government Reform.

By Ms. SCHAWSKY (for herself, Mr. GELALVA, Mr. BROWN of Ohio, Mr. HINCHY, Mrs. McDERMOTT, Mrs. Jones of Ohio, Ms. WOOLSEY, Ms. KAPTUR, Mr. JACKSON of Illinois, Ms. WATTERS, Mr. MCGOVERN, Mr. MARKEY, Mr. BAIRD, Ms. CARSON, Mr. LAMAR, Mr. PAYNE, Mr. MCNULTY, Mr. EMANUEL, Mr. OWENS, Mr. SERRANO, Ms. HASTINGS of Florida, Ms. SOLIS, Mr. RANGEL, and Mr. CROWLEY):
H. Con. Res. 119. Concurrent resolution expressing the sense of Congress with regard to the world's freshwater resources; to the Committee on Resources, and in addition to the Committees on Financial Services, and Ways and Means, for a period to be subsequently determined by the Speaker, in each case for consideration of such provisions as fall within the jurisdiction of the committee concerned.

By Mr. JONES of North Carolina:
H. Res. 117. Concurrent resolution expressing the sense of the House of Representatives with respect to Second Lieutenant Ilario Pantano, United States Marine Corps; to the Committee on Armed Services.

By Mr. McHENRY (for himself, Mr. SAM JOHNSON of Texas, Mr. FLAKE, Mr. HART, Mr. FEHR, Mr. CARTER, Mr. COLE of Oklahoma, Mr. SHADDOCK, Mr. GINGRICH, Mr. NEUGRAUER, Mrs. MURRISON, Mr. AKIN, Mr. WELDON of Florida, Mr. TANCREDI, Mr. PAUL, Mr. PENCE, Mr. MILLER of Florida, and Ms. HART):
H. Res. 118. Concurrent resolution expressing the sense of the House of Representatives that Social Security is a vital program facing bankruptcy, which must be reformed; to the Committee on Government Reform.

By Mr. BILIRAKIS (for himself and Ms. ESHOO):
H. Res. 119. A resolution recognizing the importance of sun safety, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

By Mr. KUCINICH (for himself, Mr. HINCHY, Mr. DEFLAY, Ms. WATERMAN, Mr. JACKSON of Illinois, Ms. EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON of Texas, Mr. CLAY, Mr. CHAVES, Ms. MORETA SANCHEZ of California, Mr. SANDERS, Mr. PAYNE, Ms. CHAKowsky, Ms. WOOLSEY, Mr. SERRANO, Ms. LEE, Mr. OWENS, Mr. GELALVA, Mr. WALSH, Mrs. MALONEY, Ms. WATTERS, Mr. FAHR, Mr. RAHALL, Mr. PALLONE, Mr. MIKES of New York, Mr. DAVIS of Illinois, Mr. MEDINA, Mr. Boucher, Mr. FAHR, Mr. BAHAMIE, Ms. BALDWIN, Mr. RYAN of Ohio, Mr. FILNER, Ms. KAPTUR, Mr. GUTIERREZ, Mr. BROWN of Ohio, and Mr. GEORGE MILLER of California):
H. Res. 170. A resolution of inquiry requesting the President to transmit certain information to the House of Representatives respecting a claim made by the President on February 16, 2005, at a meeting Portsmouth, New Hampshire, for the purpose of ensuring that there is not a Social Security trust; to the Committee on Ways and Means.

By Mr. BURDIT:
H. Res. 171. A resolution supporting the creation of the Office of the Coordinator for Reconstruction and Stabilization at the Department of State, and for other purposes; to the Committee on International Relations.

By Ms. HARMAN (for herself, Mr. HASTINGS of Florida, Mr. REYES, Mr. BOSSWELL, Mr. CRAMER, Ms. ESHOO, Mr. HOLT, Mr. RUPPERSBERGER, and Mr. TIERNEY):
H. Res. 172. A resolution expressing the condemnation of the House of Representatives on the one year anniversary of ethnic violence in Kosovo that occurred on March 17 and 18, 2004, and expressing condolences to the families of individuals who were killed or injured; to the Committee on International Relations.

By Ms. HARMAN (for herself, Mr. HASTINGS of Florida, Mr. REYES, Mr. BOSSWELL, Mr. CRAMER, Ms. ESHOO, Mr. HOLT, Mr. RUPPERSBERGER, and Mr. TIERNEY):
H. Res. 173. A resolution expressing the sense of the House of Representatives that the Director of National Intelligence should establish and oversee the implementation of a uniform, multi-level security clearance system that fully leverages the cultural and linguistic skills of subject matter experts and others proficient in foreign languages critical to national security; to the Committee on Intelligence (Permanent Select).

By Mr. MIKES of New York (for himself, Mrs. JONES of Ohio, Mr. EDDEE BERNICE JOHNSON of Texas, Mr. MCNULTY, Mr. SESSIONS, Mr. CONVER, Mr. CROWLEY, Mr. JEFFERSON, Mr. Issa, Ms. BOSWELL, Mr. BORDALLO, and Ms. SOLIS):
H. Res. 174. A resolution congratulating the people of Malaysia and honoring Datuk Siris Norma Binti Yaacob regarding her recent appointment as the first female Chief Judge of Malaya, Malaysia; to the Committee on International Relations.

By Mr. NADLER (for himself, Mr. TOWNS, Mr. MCNULTY, Mrs. MCCARTHY, Mr. SERRANO, Mr. HINCHY, Mr. CROWLEY, Mrs. MALONEY, Mr. WEINER, Mr. ADAMS, Mr. BASS, Mrs. LOWEY, Mr. OWEWS, Mr. MEeks of New York, Mr. BOHLELERT, Mr. BISHOP of New York, Mr. ISRAEL, Mr. ENGLISH, Mr. KEECH, Mr. RANGEL, Ms. VELAZQUEZ, Mr. KINO of New York, Mr. FOSSELLA, Mr.
H. Res. 177. A resolution expressing the sense of the House of Representatives that a humanitarian crisis could save millions of lives.

H. Res. 178. A resolution honoring the life of Betty Shabazz; to the Committee on Government Reform.

H. Res. 179. A resolution expressing the sense of the House of Representatives that Sugar Ray Robinson should be recognized for his lifelong leadership and work to end discrimination and labor opportunities for all Americans; to the Committee on Education and the Workforce, for a period to be subsequently determined by the Speaker, in each case for consideration of such provisions as fall within the jurisdiction of the committee concerned.

H. Res. 180. A resolution expressing the sense of the House of Representatives that the United Nations Emergency Peace Service capable of intervening in the early stages of a humanitarian crisis could save millions of lives, billions of dollars, and is in the interest of the United States; to the Committee on International Relations.

ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Under clause 7 of rule XII, sponsors were added to public bills and resolutions as follows:

H.R. 13: Mr. GORDON.
H.R. 20: Mr. SMITH of Texas.
H.R. 21: Mr. TANCREDO, Mr. BRADY of New Jersey, Ms. WATERS, Ms. VIALPONS, and Mr. SMITH of Texas.
H.R. 22: Mr. MCDERMOTT.
H.R. 23: Mr. HASTINGS of Florida, Ms. LORETTA SANCHEZ of California, Mr. MORAN of Wyoming, Ms. MILLER of Michigan, Ms. SCHAKOWSKY, Mr. PASSELL, Mr. BERMAN, Mr. BARTOLOMEU of Massachusetts, Mr. CUMMINGS, Mr. LYNCH, Ms. CORINE BROWN of Florida, Mr. MCGOVERN, Mr. CARNARAHAN, Mr. ROHRABACHER, Mr. PAYNE, Mr. WEILER, Mr. PALLONE, Mr. WILK, Mr. DAVIS of Alabama, Mr. CARDONA, and Mr. GARRETT of New Jersey.
H.R. 29: Mr. MOORE of Kansas.
H.R. 34: Mr. NEUGEBAUER, Ms. FOXX, Mr. COOPER, Mr. RYAN of Ohio, Mr. CONAWAY, Mr. SHUSTER, Mr. ROGERS of Alabama, Mr. UDALL of Colorado, Mr. EMANUEL, and Mr. SMITH of Washington.
H.R. 47: Mr. BOREN.
H.R. 63: Mr. RUSH, Mr. FRANK of Massachusetts, Mr. RUSH, Mr. ROGERS of Alabama, Mr. UDALL of New Mexico, Ms. ROYBAL-ALLARD, Mr. SHIMKUS, Mr. KUHL of New York, and Mr. GRAY of Florida.
H.R. 69: Mr. ENGEL.
H.R. 71: Mr. SOUTHERN.
H.R. 80: Mr. WASSERMAN, Mr. WAXMAN, and Mr. KILDEE.
H.R. 92: Mr. MERRICK and Mrs. DRAKE.
H.R. 97: Mr. ROBINSON of North Carolina, and Mr. KINSTON.
H.R. 106: Mr. LEWIS of Georgia and Ms. SLAUGHTER.
H.R. 110: Mr. GUTIERREZ, Mr. JENKINS, and Mr. SCOTT of Georgia.
H.R. 112: Mr. SMITH of Georgia.
H.R. 118: Mr. SMITH of New Jersey, Mr. DAVIS of New Hampshire, Mr. HASTINGS of Florida, Mr. REYES, Mr. GONZALEZ, and Ms. SANCHEZ of California.
H.R. 121: Mr. LAHood, Mr. FRANK of Massachusetts, and Mr. CASE.
H.R. 126: Mrs. MCCARTHY.
H.R. 130: Ms. NOTTON, Mr. CUMMINGS, Mr. ABERCROMBIE, Mr. BROWN of Ohio, and Mr. FARR.
H.R. 131: Mr. LANGFORD.
H.R. 135: Mr. SHIMKUS, Mr. ORTIZ, Mr. GONZALEZ, and Mr. MILLER of North Carolina.
H.R. 137: Mr. BUTTERFIELD and Mr. LANZONI.
H.R. 138: Mr. EHlers.
H.R. 139: Mr. TIBERI.
H.R. 140: Mr. LANGEVIN.
H.R. 145: Mr. SHIMKUS, Mr. ORTIZ, Mr. GONZALEZ, and Mr. MILLER of North Carolina.
H.R. 147: Mr. BUTTERFIELD and Mr. LANZONI.
H.R. 153: Mr. BILIRSKI.
H.R. 156: Mr. TIBERI.
H.R. 160: Mr. LEVIN.
H.R. 161: Mr. McGovern, Mr. HINCHY, and Mr. CARNARAHAN.
H.R. 171: Mr. MURPHY.
H.R. 172: Mr. CAPUANO, Mr. STRICKLAND, Mr. WILSHIRE, and Mr. NELSON.
H.R. 174: Mr. FORBES, Mr. GILMORE, and Mr. SESSIONS.
DELETIONS OF SPONSORS FROM PUBLIC BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

Under clause 7 of rule XII, sponsors were detailed from public bills and resolutions as follows:

H.R. 65: Mr. WEXLER.
H.R. 415: Mr. FOLEY.
H.J. Res. 23: Mr. CLEAVER.
The Senate met at 9 a.m. and was called to order by the President pro tempore (Mr. STEVENS).

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Dr. Barry C. Black, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray. We look to You today, O God, maker of heaven and earth. Unless You lay the foundation of our plans, we labor in vain. Unless You guard our Nation, our efforts to find security are futile.

As Your servants in the Senate seek to do Your will today, make it clear to them the path they should follow. In the flowing of pressure, help them to hear the whisper of Your wisdom. Empower them to anticipate the forces that threaten the freedom of this good land. Plant in each of our hearts a reverential awe of You that will lead to life.

We pray in Your wonderful Name. Amen.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

The PRESIDENT pro tempore led the Pledge of Allegiance, as follows:

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

RESERVATION OF LEADER TIME

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. Under the previous order the leadership time is reserved.

CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET FOR THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT FOR THE FISCAL YEAR 2006

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. Under the previous order, the Senate will resume consideration of S. Con. Res. 18, which the clerk will report.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

A concurrent resolution (S. Con. Res. 18) setting forth the congressional budget for the United States Government for the fiscal year 2006 and including the appropriate budgetary levels for fiscal years 2006 and 2007 and 2010.

Pending:

Bingaman (for Smith) Amendment No. 204, to create a reserve fund for the establishment of a Bipartisan Medicaid Commission to consider and recommend appropriate reforms to the Medicaid program, and to strike Medicaid cuts to protect states and vulnerable populations.

Carper Amendment No. 207, to provide for full consideration of tax cuts in the Senate under regular order.

Snowe Amendment No. 214, to ensure that any savings associated with legislation that provides the Secretary of Health and Human Services with the authority to participate in the negotiation of contracts with manufacturers of covered part D drugs to achieve the best possible prices for such drugs under part D of title XVIII of the Social Security Act, that requires the Secretary to negotiate contracts with manufacturers of such drugs for each fallback prescription drug plan, and that requires the Secretary to participate in the negotiation for a contract for any such drug upon request of a prescription drug plan or an MA–PD plan, is reserved for reducing expenditures under such part.

Harkin Amendment No. 172, to restore the Perkins Vocational Education program and provide for deficit reduction paid for through the elimination of the phase out of the personal exemption limitation and itemized deduction limitation for high-income taxpayers now scheduled to start in 2006.

Hutchison Amendment No. 218, to fully fund the level of Border Patrol Agents authorized by the National Intelligence Reform Act of 2004 and as recommended by the 9/11 Commission.

Landrieu Amendment No. 219, to establish a reserve fund in the event that legislation is passed to provide a 50 percent tax credit to employers that continue to pay the salaries of Guard and Reserve employees who have been called to active duty.

Salazar/Conrad Amendment No. 215, to provide additional funding for rural education, rural health access, and rural health outreach programs.

Conrad (for Dorgan) Amendment No. 210, to repeal the tax subsidy for certain domestic companies which move manufacturing operations and American jobs offshore.

Collins (for Lieberman/Collins) Amendment No. 220, to protect the American people from terrorist attacks by restoring $965 million in cuts to vital first-responder programs in the Department of Homeland Security, including the State Homeland Security Grant program, by providing $150 million for port security grants and by providing $410 million for 1,000 new border patrol agents.

Vitter Amendment No. 223, to express the sense of the Senate that Congress should provide dedicated funding for port security enhancements.

Vitter Amendment No. 224, to restore funding for the Corps of Engineers environmental programs to fiscal year 2005 levels.

Allen Modified Amendment No. 197, to increase by $1,582,700,000 over fiscal years 2006 through 2010 funding for Transportation (budget function 400) with the amount of the increase intended to be allocated to the Vehicle Systems account of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for subsonic and hypersonic aeronautics research.

RECOGNITION OF THE MAJORITY LEADER

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The majority leader is recognized.

SCHEDULE

Mr. FRIST. Mr. President, this morning we will immediately resume consideration of the budget resolution. We have an order in place from last night which sets aside specific debate times in relation to several amendments this morning. There is no debate time remaining on the resolution beyond this time agreement. Senators, therefore, can expect a lengthy series of votes to begin sometime around 1:30 today. This vote-arama will necessitate continued cooperation from all Members. I cannot stress enough the importance of every Senator staying on the floor or very close by throughout the afternoon and into the evening. This is always a trying and challenging period because of the unusual nature of what happens over the course of the day. But beginning around 1:30, we will start a series of votes that will go on for a while.

I encourage my colleagues to work with the managers to use restraint in not offering amendments if they are purely message amendments and are not substantive. It is going to be a challenge to bring everything to closure over the course of today and early into this evening already, so please use restraint in terms of whether to offer amendments.

TEGGI SCHIAVO
I know we wanted to get started, but I did want to bring to the attention of my colleagues an issue that we do have to act on before we leave. I do so on behalf of a number of my colleagues on both sides of the aisle who have come up and said: There is an important issue that really needs to be addressed in the past and that other systems of government and other branches of government have inadequately addressed, and, therefore, it is time for the U.S. Senate to speak.

It centers on the fact that if we don’t act or if somebody does not act, a living person who has a level of consciousness, who is self-breathing, will be starved to death in the next 2 weeks—thus the action that is required to be done either tonight or tomorrow in order to prevent that starvation to death by Terri Schiavo.

I first heard about the situation facing Terri Schiavo actually several years ago, but the immediacy of it has played out in the last several days. Because of this decision that has been made, not by her parents who want to keep her alive, not by her family who wants to keep her alive, but by her husband.

From a medical standpoint, I wanted to know a little bit more about the case itself, so I had the opportunity to review the initial tapes that were made, the physical examination on which the case was ultimately based, the physical examination over a very short period of time for the U.S. Senate to speak.

The President pro tempore. The President from Montana.

Mr. BAUCUS. Mr. President, I strongly support the Smith-Bingaman-Coleman amendment to strike the reconciliation instruction to the Finance Committee to cut Medicaid by $15 billion. Some say this amendment is not important because the budget is just a blueprint and the Finance Committee would never make these cuts. That is just not true. A vote for this budget is a vote for cuts, plain and simple. If the reconciliation instruction is to cut, the Finance Committee is under instruction to cut. Once we pass this budget, the reconciliation instructions are binding.

The Finance Committee would be bound to find the $15 billion in savings. Although it would be difficult for the committee to reach agreement on these cuts, the committee would make the cuts. The Finance Committee has never failed to comply with reconciliation instructions. I do not believe that it would start this year. Those who say it is just a blueprint, that is a smoke screen. It is not accurate.

The administration says we need to address waste and abuse in Medicaid. They say these cuts will end the abuse of intergovernmental transfers. I urge my colleagues to not be swayed by these allegations. The administration has been negotiating reform of intergovernmental transfers on a State-by-State basis for the past 2 years. They have already squeezed significant savings through this new policy, and there will be no further savings if Congress goes down this road. How do I know this? Because Montana is one of the States that was required to revise its intergovernmental program to comply with new State rules last year.

Keep in mind that the change in policy has never been published. There has been no notice, no invited comments, no rulemaking—never; no State Medicaid directors’ letter, none.

So how much in savings remains in reform of intergovernmental transfers? The Congressional Budget Office says zero, no savings. So let’s not fool ourselves into thinking we are really cutting fraud and abuse in Medicaid with these reforms. Rather, these cuts will hurt people. In fact, in Montana, the proposed cuts would mean a loss of health coverage for 2,800 seniors or more than 12,000 children.

These cuts are definitely shortsighted. If Congress simply starts cutting Medicaid without considering the overall effects, it would force people to seek care in emergency rooms, and even higher spending would result, or even more people could lose coverage altogether.

Some say these are small and represent only a 1-percent cut in the program’s growth over 5 years. But the President’s $45 billion net Medicaid cut over 10 years is more than the $30 billion Congress has allocated to CHIP and provides Medicaid coverage for millions of uninsured children during the 10-year lifetime of that program.

I applaud the leadership of Senators Bingaman, Smith, and Coleman. I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting this important amendment.

This is important. I strongly urge our colleagues to do what is right, to not make these cuts. It is going to directly affect people. Support the Smith amendment.

The President pro tempore. The Senator from New Jersey is recognized for 4 minutes.

Mr. CORZINE. Mr. President, I, too, rise to speak strongly and forcefully in support of the bipartisan amendment that Senators SMITH and BINGAMAN have offered. The idea of cutting $15 billion in the Medicaid Program mandated under this resolution is a bad fundamental choice for our Nation. It is also a bad policy-setting device because it lets the budget process drive Medicaid reform. This amendment directs the creation of a Medicaid commission to investigate and consider possible improvements.

A thoughtful, reasoned approach to limiting the growth in the cost of the Medicaid Program, which is driven by enrollments and the high cost of health care. And while there may be fraud and abuse, the big issue is that we have a health care problem and how do we finance it. It is best ignored by using what I think is a shotgun approach as opposed to the thoughtful, reasoned approach of how Medicaid reform should be done. That is what this amendment does.

Last week, Senators Wyden, Murray, Johnson, and I offered a successful amendment during the markup of the budget resolution. The sense of the Senate was agreed to unanimously by the Budget Committee. As a part of this resolution, it states that the Finance Committee shall not achieve any savings under reconciliation that would cap Federal Medicaid spending, shift Medicaid costs to the States, or undermine the Federal guarantee of Medicaid health insurance.

If this amendment is not accepted—and it is not possible, in my view, to cut $15 billion from Medicaid without violating the budget agreement—what we are going to be doing is shifting $15 billion to the States; if not to the States, to the local governments; if not to the local governments, to the health care providers. It is going to be charity care. It is going to be paid for. We are making a clear choice of transferring the responsibility for all of this care to someone else, moving it off the Federal books on to State and local or even private providers. Maybe we are shifting it on to the streets of our cities and the homeless.

We are making another choice, too, which is unacceptable. The fact is, we are trying to force others to make a choice of whether we say hospice care is more important than mental illness treatment or more important than people having the ability to have hearing and other kinds of specialty treatments. We are taking away the options of how we treat health care and, by the way, preventative care. We are also making a choice which I find completely hard to understand. Why have we decided that this $15 billion we have mandated the Finance Committee to find, why are we saying this $15 billion is so much more important than the cumulative $204 billion or the tax cuts for those making over $1 million? Isn’t this a society that believes in sharing the responsibility for all of us to have access to a better life? We live in a society which provides enormous opportunities for all Americans, and many of us have benefitted from it, and we are making a clear choice that it is more important that this $15 billion be cut than $204 billion that is accumulating for tax cuts to the very wealthy. I do not think these are the choices the American people would make if they had those choices laid before them.

I don’t understand. We are saying the most vulnerable should be dealt with without rational and reasoned expectations of where those cuts are going to come, and we are making all kinds of choices that are embedded in these kinds of issues. I believe the idea of a commission to stand back and find that reasoned and informed judgment is important.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Senator’s time has expired.

Mr. GREGG. Will the Senator yield for a question, and I will give him a minute to answer it?

Mr. CORZINE. Certainly.

Mr. GREGG. Does this amendment raise taxes to pay for the $15 billion that would be called for to put in this budget, or does it increase the deficit with more spending?

Mr. CORZINE. The Senator from New Hampshire knows very well that what we are discussing is whether you extend tax cuts for those who earn over a million dollars. Right now we can talk about language, about extension or raising, but at least this Senator would argue that it is more important to make sure that we have a health insurance program for everyone in this society rather than tax cuts for millionaires. Then, one of the States will have to raise taxes in order to raise the funds that will be necessary to maintain health care under Medicaid.

Mr. GREGG. To reclaim the time, the Senator did not answer the question. Maybe he is not familiar with the answer, but the answer is that this amendment increases the deficit by $15 billion.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Senator’s time has expired.

Four minutes is yielded to Senator STABENOW.

Ms. STABENOW. I thank the Chair. First I say to our esteemed colleague who chairs the Budget Committee, I think, you have done an excellent job on the committee and the floor in allowing important discussions and input. We all know this is about choices and priorities. We last year passed the tax loophole closings, as they have been called, some $23 billion in a business tax bill, a tax bill that I supported that did not end up becoming law. We have already joined saying there are dollars we believe would better be spent in other ways, in fairness from a tax standpoint that tax loopholes should be closed, and those equal more than what we are talking about here in terms of health care for our most vulnerable citizens.

We also, as my colleague from New Jersey has said, have choices in this budget. Those choices will contribute to the quality of life, what it means to be an American, to the strength of America, to what we are proud of and our best values, or whether only some people will do that. This is a debate about values and choices. That is what a budget resolution is. It is a picture of who we are. It is a picture of our values. I can’t think of anything that is worse in this budget resolution than the picture that says for the colleague from this the poorest children, or poorest seniors in the country, we are going to take away health care for them. That doesn’t fit with what I know about my faith and beliefs about helping the least of these. It does not reflect what the people of Michigan believe about what is important in supporting each other in community and caring about each other.

In way it balances priorities. Obviously, we want dollars that are spent efficiently and effectively, and we want to give the people of Michigan the flexibility. In my home State, I am very proud of what they have been able to do in bulk purchasing for prescription drugs under Medicaid and working with other States and saving dollars, and we certainly know we want flexibility for them under Medicaid. But we also know that Medicaid is the single greatest provider of health insurance, covering over 21 million citizens, in our future, 900,000 children in Michigan alone. How many times do we say children are our future?

Well, this budget does not reflect that. It does not reflect that as it relates to funding their future skills and technology and education, and it certainly doesn’t reflect their future if you are a poor child whose parents do not have health care.

Let me speak about a couple of people in Michigan. Betty Counts, who lives in Detroit with her daughter Yvette, who has mental and physical handicaps, is quoted in the Detroit News as saying, “It’s getting more frustrating trying to get the services I need and the help my daughter needs.” And the budget cuts will certainly make things worse for her.

Ask Jimia Williams how much Medicaid means to her. She lives in Flint and has a 19-month-old son who has seizures and asthma. She works 35 to 40 hours a week—and most of the people we are talking about are people who are working: 80 percent of the uninsured are working 1 job, 2 jobs, 3 jobs that do not provide health insurance—but her only source of health insurance is Medicaid. Medicaid pays for her young son to see a neurologist and get treatments for his seizures and his asthma, and it also pays for his medication, inhalers for both of them. She said, “Without Medicaid I would not be able to pay for my son’s medical needs.”

I could go on to so many different situations, but the bottom line of this vote is about our values and our choices.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Senator’s time has expired.

Ms. STABENOW. This amendment reflects what is best about America. I urge its adoption.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. Who yields time?

The Senator from New York is recognized for 4 minutes.

Mrs. CLINTON. Mr. President, I, too, come to the floor in support of the Smith-Bingaman amendment, and I also come to the floor in support of the bipartisan amendment forward. What it does is very simply and very profoundly say, wait a minute, let’s not cut Medicaid right now. Let’s take the $15 billion in cuts that are in this budget resolution and remove them. But that is not the end of it. Let’s also put a bipartisan commission so that we can take a hard look at Medicaid and try to figure out how to improve service delivery and quality and do more to make it cost effective. I am very proud to cosponsor this amendment because I believe this is the right way to go. I believe wholeheartedly that we should be on a much faster track to return to fiscal discipline and to reduce the unprecedented deficits we are running. But I do not believe slashing Medicaid funding is the answer to getting our fiscal house in order, and it is regrettable that this budget would have in this same budget room found another $15 billion dollars more in tax cuts while we attempt to balance our budget on the backs of our most vulnerable citizens.

I can look at the growth in Medicaid and see the same strategy that everyone else has. In part it is part of the sluggish economy, the loss of health insurance benefits for so many people who do still have jobs. I know in my own State the Medicaid Program grew between 2000 and 2004. In fact, in the last 4 years in America, we have seen 35 million more Americans receive their health insurance through Medicaid. We now have 45 million uninsured Americans. I think that number would be above 50 million if we did not have Medicaid as a health care safety net.

This budget resolution hits New York especially hard, cutting our Medicaid funding by almost $2 billion. Let me just tell you what that means. We provide insurance to 4.1 million New Yorkers through Medicaid. That includes 1.7 million children, 1.4 million adults, and 1 million elderly and disabled beneficiaries. These are people who are the frail elderly in nursing homes. These are the people who are working but do not have health insurance. These are people living with chronic diseases. For these people, Medicaid truly is their last resort. They have nowhere else to turn.

As some of you know, I just spent 5 days in the hospital in New York City with my husband, and we are very fortunate we can go to one of the finest hospitals in the world to get the care that is necessary, but I know very well we would not be able to do it if we did not have Medicaid because I believe we should look at health care as an area where we need to constrain the growth in costs. But the problem is this budget does not do anything about Medicare. This budget does not do anything about the enormous growth in the cost of Medicare as a result of last year’s prescription drug bill. There are a lot of provisions in that bill which clearly overfunded health maintenance organizations, HMOs, provide a slush fund to be used by the Secretary of Health and Human Resources. There is an enormous amount of money sloshing around in that legislation, but there is no effort in the budget to get at any of that. Instead, we have said, let’s after $5 billion of cuts in the areas that affect these less organized lobbies, these less organized groups, these groups that are not going to speak up so strongly and resist the cuts.

That is why Senator Smith’s initiative is so important. That is why it is so important that we have a national commission to give us recommendations as to how we can intelligently save money in health care costs in future years.

There are ways that we can better coordinate health care delivery under Medicare and health care delivery under Medicaid. Forty-two percent of the Medicare and health care delivery under Medicaid. Forty-two percent of the chronically ill people without insurance from their businesses because they are losing their private health insurance. That is why the cost of Medicaid overall has been going up, because more and more people are dependent on Medicaid.

This is an important amendment. Senator Smith deserves the support of all of our colleagues on this amendment. I urge all our colleagues to support it. I yield the floor.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. President, how much time remains?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Oregon has 8 minutes remaining.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. President, a vote for this amendment to defer these cuts to this commission and a reform effort that is bipartisan is not about being against reducing the deficit. It is, in fact, a way to achieve reductions, if that is what it comes to, in a way that takes care of the most vulnerable people in our society.

We are talking about 52 million Americans. Of these, we are talking about the elderly who are in nursing homes. Of these, we are talking about the chronically ill people without income who suffer from cancer or HIV. We are talking about the children of the working uninsured. We are talking about people who have no other recourse except, if they lose their health care, to go to the emergency rooms of our community hospitals. When they go there without the ability to pay, they are served, but we are all then later served the passing on of these costs to private plans and businesses—small businesses especially—that struggle mightily to continue providing health care.

Right now every year 3 percent—and it goes by this number—lose their insurance from their businesses because of the escalating costs largely driven by the inefficient distribution of health care.

It is very important for my colleagues to understand this is not a vote against a budget of fiscal responsibility. This is a way to proceed toward fiscal responsibility in a way that is thoughtful. It is really important, when we talk about a population that is vulnerable—those covered by Medicaid—that we do this carefully, that we do it thoughtfully, that we do it right instead of just doing it fast.

The truth is, when you put this kind of cut, $15 billion, under reconciliation, that is not acceptable. The participation in Medicare is a Damocles sword that hangs over this place and has the ability to disrupt the regular process, taking it from a committee and right to the floor without the participation that, frankly, is a privilege to provide but the duty not to shirk.

It is my belief that this proposal of a commission, made up of 23 members—Governors, Senators, Congressmen, providers, advocates, local officials—a bipartisan commission that can deal with the necessary reforms that must come to Medicaid can do them in a way that works for the population that has to be served and to disqualify those who game the system or abuse the system.

I readily acknowledge there is much in Medicaid that is broken. The truth is, we have not had a Medicaid commission since Medicaid’s creation in 1965, and now we propose to let the budget drive the policy when we ought to be letting the policy drive the budget.

Given that we are going to do this and need to do it to modernize Medicaid, given the vulnerability of the population served, given the chance to do this right instead of just doing it fast, to let the policy drive the budget instead of the budget driving the policy with this vulnerable population, I plead with my colleagues to stand up to their duty and make sure that Congress is not circumvented, to defend the 52 million people in America who are counting on us to do it right, and not just to do it fast.

If we pass this, the reductions will come, but the reforms and the flexibility that the State level to accommodate that will not be done in a more thoughtful and bipartisan way. I see no others of my colleagues seeking recognition, so I simply close by asking Republicans and Democrats to be careful with this issue. Of all the choices we make around here on issues, asking Republicans and Democrats to accommodate that will not be done in a more thoughtful and bipartisan way.

I see no others of my colleagues seeking recognition, so I simply close by asking Republicans and Democrats to be careful with this issue. Of all the choices we make around here on issues, asking Republicans and Democrats to accommodate that will not be done in a more thoughtful and bipartisan way.

I see no others of my colleagues seeking recognition, so I simply close by asking Republicans and Democrats to be careful with this issue. Of all the choices we make around here on issues, asking Republicans and Democrats to accommodate that will not be done in a more thoughtful and bipartisan way.

I see no others of my colleagues seeking recognition, so I simply close by asking Republicans and Democrats to be careful with this issue. Of all the choices we make around here on issues, asking Republicans and Democrats to accommodate that will not be done in a more thoughtful and bipartisan way.

I see no others of my colleagues seeking recognition, so I simply close by asking Republicans and Democrats to be careful with this issue. Of all the choices we make around here on issues, asking Republicans and Democrats to accommodate that will not be done in a more thoughtful and bipartisan way.

I see no others of my colleagues seeking recognition, so I simply close by asking Republicans and Democrats to be careful with this issue. Of all the choices we make around here on issues, asking Republicans and Democrats to accommodate that will not be done in a more thoughtful and bipartisan way.

I see no others of my colleagues seeking recognition, so I simply close by asking Republicans and Democrats to be careful with this issue. Of all the choices we make around here on issues, asking Republicans and Democrats to accommodate that will not be done in a more thoughtful and bipartisan way.

I see no others of my colleagues seeking recognition, so I simply close by asking Republicans and Democrats to be careful with this issue. Of all the choices we make around here on issues, asking Republicans and Democrats to accommodate that will not be done in a more thoughtful and bipartisan way.

I see no others of my colleagues seeking recognition, so I simply close by asking Republicans and Democrats to be careful with this issue. Of all the choices we make around here on issues, asking Republicans and Democrats to accommodate that will not be done in a more thoughtful and bipartisan way.

I see no others of my colleagues seeking recognition, so I simply close by asking Republicans and Democrats to be careful with this issue. Of all the choices we make around here on issues, asking Republicans and Democrats to accommodate that will not be done in a more thoughtful and bipartisan way.

I see no others of my colleagues seeking recognition, so I simply close by asking Republicans and Democrats to be careful with this issue. Of all the choices we make around here on issues, asking Republicans and Democrats to accommodate that will not be done in a more thoughtful and bipartisan way.

I see no others of my colleagues seeking recognition, so I simply close by asking Republicans and Democrats to be careful with this issue. Of all the choices we make around here on issues, asking Republicans and Democrats to accommodate that will not be done in a more thoughtful and bipartisan way.

I see no others of my colleagues seeking recognition, so I simply close by asking Republicans and Democrats to be careful with this issue. Of all the choices we make around here on issues, asking Republicans and Democrats to accommodate that will not be done in a more thoughtful and bipartisan way.

I see no others of my colleagues seeking recognition, so I simply close by asking Republicans and Democrats to be careful with this issue. Of all the choices we make around here on issues, asking Republicans and Democrats to accommodate that will not be done in a more thoughtful and bipartisan way.

I see no others of my colleagues seeking recognition, so I simply close by asking Republicans and Democrats to be careful with this issue. Of all the choices we make around here on issues, asking Republicans and Democrats to accommodate that will not be done in a more thoughtful and bipartisan way.

I see no others of my colleagues seeking recognition, so I simply close by asking Republicans and Democrats to be careful with this issue. Of all the choices we make around here on issues, asking Republicans and Democrats to accommodate that will not be done in a more thoughtful and bipartisan way.

I see no others of my colleagues seeking recognition, so I simply close by asking Republicans and Democrats to be careful with this issue. Of all the choices we make around here on issues, asking Republicans and Democrats to accommodate that will not be done in a more thoughtful and bipartisan way.
That leaves one issue, one major program that should be looked at this year at least, and that, of course, is Medicaid.

The other side of the aisle and three speakers this morning have already said you can just address this problem by raising taxes—if it does not appear to be anybody has focused on this at all—but the amendment before us does not raise taxes, it raises the deficit. We heard all of yesterday, the day before, and the day before that how the other side of the aisle did not want to raise the deficit; they wanted to be the party that was opposed to deficit spending. Today they come forward and the vast majority of the people sponsoring and supporting the program, the bill before us, which dramatically raises the deficit by $14 billion in the 5-year period, something like $60 billion in the 10-year period.

But even if you accept the fact that they want to raise taxes to pay for it, the idea is, could you solve this problem, this outyear liability that is caused by all these entitlement accounts, Medicare, Medicaid, and Social Security, by raising taxes? You cannot do it. This chart shows it so clearly. Medicaid, Medicare, and Social Security is the red line here. The blue line is the historical amount that the Federal Government spends, 20 percent of GDP. That is what we have historically spent, since World War II, essentially. You can see that the red line crosses the blue line in about the year 2029, 2028, in that period. These three programs—Social Security, Medicare, and Medicaid—will actually cost the Federal Government more than 20 percent of the gross national product.

What does that mean in practical terms? It means you wouldn’t be able to spend any money on education, any money on roads, any money on national defense because the entire Federal Government would be absorbed by paying for these three programs. Or, alternatively, you could take the approach the other side wants to take, which is raise taxes.

If you did that, you would have to double the tax rate on Americans in order to pay for this program. Working Americans, young Americans, these pages who are here today and are going to get a job, would find their ability to support their children and earn a living on a lot less income, because the whole Federal Government would be absorbed by paying for these three programs. Or, alternatively, you could take the approach the other side wants to take, which is raise taxes.

You cannot tax your way out of this. I don’t think this bill tries to do. That is what the budget tries to do.

In a most minor way, a minuscule way, almost, we suggest in this budget we want to save $15 billion in the rate of growth—not cuts—in the rate of growth of Medicaid over the next 5 years; $15 billion. You say $15 billion is a lot of money. It is a lot of money, but you have to put it in context. Over the next 5 years, the Medicaid system is projected to go up by 39 percent, if you don’t make any changes to it. It is a trillion with a “t”—and $15 billion on that amount is 1 percent, essentially. What we are actually trying to save in this bill is $14 billion.

This chart shows Medicaid spending will go up dramatically. It will go up by 39 percent. It will not go up by 41 percent. That is what it would do. It would go up by 41 percent if this bill doesn’t go into place, but if this bill goes into place, it will go up by 39 percent. A 39-percent rate of growth in this program is what we are planning. We have heard people come down here, especially the Senator from Oregon, and say if this language passes, lives will be lost. I think he said that. I think he said that. That is absurd. That is misleading, inaccurate, and a total gross exaggeration. I wish the Senator had been a Governor because he would know that the Medicaid system today does not benefit children as much as he thinks it does. That is a large chunk of the Medicaid system today which is being gamed out of the system by States and being used in the general operations by the States to build roads, to put police officers on the road—a large amount of money is being saved.

There is a large chunk of the Medicaid system today which is going to pharmaceuticals to pay dramatically more than what we pay under any other program for pharmaceutical products. That could be saved.

There is a large chunk of the Medicaid system today which is going to people who are gaming the system by what is known as spending down. That is when you, in a rather fraudulent way, send money to your kids or give them to somebody else in your family so that you can then come to the Government and say, Support me in a nursing home. So all the other Americans in this country who are playing by the rules end up supporting people who are breaking the rules and who are gaming the system through spending down. Huge amounts of dollars are pouring out of the system under those accounts.

A lot of our money is being lost in this system simply because it is inefficiently run, because the Governors do not have the flexibility they need in order to get more service because they know how to deliver it, but instead they are hamstrung by all sorts of rules and regulations which make no sense to them and which undermine their capacity to deliver the service efficiently.

The President and innumerable Governors, responsible Governors in this country who have come to this body and said you give more flexibility to the Governors and they can take a little less rate of increase in spending and deliver much more service to many more kids. So this concept that you cannot get to this 1-percent savings, that you cannot live on a 39-percent rate of growth in Medicaid without having children lose their lives and be not able to go to the emergency room for care, is scare tactics. I think the other side knows that. Because if you cannot step up—especially as a Republican who supposedly is committed to fiscal responsibility, because that is what our party is supposed to be committed to—and say that you can do a better service with more flexibility, then you are probably not a very good Governor. I doubt there are any Republican Governors, at least, and I suspect there are not a lot of Democratic Governors who don’t believe they can do more with a lot more flexibility.

The President has listed seven or eight—actually, Governor Leavitt has—seven or eight different proposals, none of which impact services one iota. In fact, some of those proposals would significantly expand services to children, which could be accomplished if we reframe the program and would slow the rate of growth in this program along the lines projected here.

We have evidence that people would claim a $14 billion reduction in the rate of growth when you are having a $1.1 trillion expenditure, a reduction which represents 1 percent over 5 years, could not be accomplished in the context of a program where there are obviously so many problems which need to be addressed and which would deliver more efficient and more effective service.

It gets back to this point, of course. If we do not do this now, we are not going to do it. This is not an amendment to set up a commission, the purpose of which is to resolve the problem. This is an amendment to set up a commission to make sure the problem is not resolved. It is irresponsible because of that.

I do think it is important to note how this budget has been structured. A lot of people say this Federal budget is pretty meaningless and it is sort of a process we go through here. Of course, we have seen 24 amendments or so offered on the floor that will affect that cap—in other words, Members not willing to accept the spending levels of this budget. They have to put money into this program or that program. We have another hundred or so amendments also pending which do exactly the same. So the willingness to discipline the discretionary side of the ledger is, to say the least, problematic. If there are going to be a lot of games played with that cap even if it gets into place before we get to the appropriations process. But it does, hopefully, limit the rate of growth and it does have some impact. But regrettably I have to admit it is at the margin.

Then there is a tax side. Most of the taxes, in this budget at least, are taxes which are going to go out for. That point was made yesterday—whether there are reconciliation instructions, most of these tax cuts are going to be extended. They are very popular; R&D, spousal stuff, tuition tax stuff.

No, the essence of this budget is whether we are going to address the fastest growing function of the Federal Government, the function of the Federal Government which is going to bankrupt our children and give them much less of a quality of life than we have had; whether our generation, the baby boom generation, which is now the generation that governs, is going to be willing to stand up and admit that we are not going to do as much on the books for our children to bear. That is the essence of this amendment. This amendment knocks out the only significant effort—well, there is one other dealing with Medicare which is going to control the rate of growth in the Federal Government in the outyears; the major piece of fiscal discipline.

In the short term you can argue the discretionary caps may help. But in the long term, which is where our big problem is and where we all acknowledge it to be, the only thing that is going to address that is if we reconcile the Medicaid number. If we do not do it this year, it is not going to be done. That is why I find this amendment to be so pernicious, because it is put forward as if the people who support it are for fiscal discipline when in fact its practical implication is to gut the only thing in this budget which actually will generate fiscal discipline. And it is being done by Republicans. You have to ask yourself how they get up in the morning and look in the mirror.

In any event, that is where we stand. I am not going to deny that this isn’t a crucial vote. This is a crucial vote. If the Medicaid language is passed, if it is knocked out of the bill, I think I put in context the effect it has on this budget. More important, I hope I have put in context the effect it is going to have on our kids and our grandkids, because we will have said that in none of the three areas where the explosive growth is occurring—in none of these three areas where we are headed to this disaster, where our children are not going to be able to afford the costs that we have stuck them with—that in none of these three areas is this Congress willing to act. That would be more than an unfortunate event.

I reserve the remainder of my time. Do I have any time? The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Mississippi.

Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, I thank Senator GREGG for the leadership he provided at the Budget Committee. This is never an easy job. I worked with him when he was chairman, and we had this vote—vot-arama and critical votes year after year. We got it done every year except for 2 out of the last 3 years. We need this blueprint in place so we can go forward, so we can have some modicum of controlling ourselves, controlling spending.

I don’t like everything in this resolution, particularly. I think right now the aggregate of money for a State is too much; the aggregate amount of money for Treasury and IRS is too much. I would like to have more in agriculture, education, transportation. But if each one of us picks our issue where, “Oh, no, we can’t have any re- straint here,” we will never have any.

In fact, if you make idealist guesses on both sides of the aisle get up and give these great speeches about how we have a problem with the deficit, we have to have restraint, and then when it comes time to have restraint, to do things such as how much we can control spending in any area, we all say: No, not my area.

We have to do it across the board. We know that the problem in the Federal Government is not on the discretionary side. It is not as much as we are going to be spending on highways or edu- cation. The growth there has been relatively restrained. That is true in most of these categories. The problem is in the mandatory area. Frankly, I have never liked mandatory areas. What does mandatory mean, you get it no matter what? Then a Governor or legislature can keep adding people, keep adding people, perhaps for good reason, perhaps political reasons.

Let me say to my colleagues here, too, that we are going to have to do this. We are going to have to do it now and later.

When we come back out of conference, we are going to have serious reforms, or a way to get to reforms and saving savings in the Medicaid area because we cannot continue down this road.

I am sorry. I am embarrassed to say that Democrats seem to not want to have any kind of restraint, and, unfortunately, some of my Republicans colleagues, too.

This is an important vote. It is not the only important vote. It is not one that will destroy the whole process, but it is going to tell a whole lot about where we are.

I don’t see how anybody who votes for this amendment to knock out this little, tiny savings can ever raise their voice again and say they are worried about deficits and Federal Government spending to go on too long. I realize I am talking in very broad terms and not going into any specificity.

This is an important vote. I plead with my colleagues, show some restraint. We have shown so little restraint for several years. We have all been part of that. But now we are paying the price. We have these defi- cits which we have to cut. It is estimated this resolution would cut the deficit about half over the next 5 years. I believe that is right. It is probably not enough. We probably should do more.

The red line and the red ink on the chart in these entitlement programs is going up very rapidly. Some people must be asking themselves what can we do that later. Can we do it better later? No. Every year we wait, it gets worse. It makes the reforms and the necessary savings more difficult and larger.

I just want to urge my colleagues to support the Budget Committee's action and support this resolution. Don't vote to take out the tiny savings in Medicaid that is included here. The States have to be doing some of that. They show a lot more restraint and leadership than we do on them. They have one thing that is different: they have to have balanced their budgets every year. It is in their constitutions. My poor State does. Maybe someday we will still have to come back to that at the Federal level.

I thank Senator GREGG for his leadership, and I thank him for yielding.

Mr. GREGG. I appreciate the appropriate comments of the Senator from Mississippi. We certainly have certain populations.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. President, I rise today to discuss devastating cuts to Medicaid included the fiscal year 2006 budget we are now debating. Medicaid has been the most successful health care program in our nation. It has been the most cost-effective, the most efficient, and the most successful at providing low-income working families with health coverage that keeps them healthy and provides for their medical needs.

Medicaid provides health coverage for 57 million people, including almost one-third of all children, nearly half of all pregnant women, more than half of all nursing home residents, and 800,000 elderly people. These are largely individuals with severe chronic illnesses that require nursing home care. It will also cut coverage for 4,000 children in South Dakota by the end of 2010; children who otherwise would have coverage under the program if the Federal dollars would continue. These are the most vulnerable citizens in my State whose families have likely sold the farm and exhausted all of their resources just to pay for health care. They are the sickest and the poorest, and this budget tells them that we do not care.

Beyond the devastating effect on those most in need, the budget cuts will inappropriately shift the entire burden of care to cash-strapped States that are already struggling with growing health care costs and will not be able to afford these additional burdens. Furthermore, the states will see their Federal matching rates decline in 2006 and they will also be required to start making payments back to the Federal Government to finance the new Medicaid drug coverage for dual eligibles or those people eligible for both Medicare and Medicaid. Additional Medicaid burdens are of great concern to me and the majority of Governors have also expressed their opposition to the current Medicaid budget. These budget cuts not only mean that many South Dakotans will lose State coverage, but it also means that the State will have to cut services for those who are lucky enough not to be dropped from the Medicaid program. People losing their coverage on Medicaid will no longer be able to obtain health services such as breast cancer treatment, rehabilitative care or prescription drugs. The impact of these cuts in care will not just go away for the children. Cuts in prevention will increase the costs to the system, since a trip to the hospital is going to be much more expensive than if they would have had coverage to go to the doctor and get a prescription drug before getting sick.

Costs within the program are rising, but this is not because the Medicaid program is inefficient. The driving force behind rising costs is the result of many things. The surge in costs are due in part to Congress having failed to deal with the millions of low-income workers who are uninsured, and that Medicare does not pay for long-term nursing home care. Census data has revealed that more than 13,000,000 more people uninsured in 2003 than in 2000. An unstable economy has left workers with lower incomes and employers dropping health coverage. Statistics show that two-thirds of those losing coverage are in low-income jobs. Because of these access to coverage problems, Medicaid is filling a critical gap that most in our nation support—ensuring kids have basic medical care, providing low-income working families with health coverage that keeps them healthy and prevents them from losing their job and making sure that seniors have the care they need in old age. These factors do not make the case for cuts to Medicaid, but rather indicate that we should be doing more to expand the program for those who lack coverage. The SCHIP program was a great example of that, and we should be doing more to pull those that are low-income and uninsured under the safety net.

The overall rise in health care costs are also contributing to the increased expenses in Medicaid. New technologies and the skyrocketing costs of prescription drugs are sending all health care costs soaring. Under these circumstances, Medicaid's spending per enrollee has actually been more efficient than other health care payors. The program spending has increased more slowly than private insurance spending and Medicare.

More and more poor people will need programs like Medicaid if the trends continue as they have in recent years. We should be working on solutions to reduce the costs of health care in the United States, but cutting Medicaid is not the answer. We need to closely examine our care system broadly and reduce costs by promoting the use of information technology in health, emphasizing prevention techniques that can help lower health care costs, and aggressively working to increase the costs of prescription drugs. It will also be crucial that we closely examine our long-term care system, which accounts for almost one-third of Medicaid spending and will likely increase as our senior population increases.

This is where the discussion must turn to, rather than placing the blame on the Medicaid program which has been a cost efficient, successful program ensuring coverage for millions of Americans most in need.

We will be voting soon on an important amendment offered by Senators SMITH and BINGAMAN, as well as many others, that will strike the reconciliation instructions to the Finance Committee for Medicaid, and strike the function that directs that committee to cut the $14 billion for that program. In its place, the amendment will create a $1.5 million reserve fund to create a Medicaid Commission. I am pleased to be the sponsor of this amendment. We do need a way to address the skyrocketing costs of our Federal health care programs and health care in general, and I think the establishment of a commission on Medicaid is a smart way to begin to find solutions. I will join my colleagues in urging all of my colleagues to do the same. We need to get our priorities straight with this budget. A budget that proposes to cut billions in health care coverage for our most vulnerable citizens while at the same time including $23 billion in tax cuts for capital gains and dividends is not a budget that represents my values or the values of the American people.

Mr. MCCAIN. The President, our Nation is facing very difficult fiscal realities which are only going to become more difficult and expensive the longer we wait to take action. The Federal Government can no longer afford “business as usual.” According to the GAO, the unfunded Federal financial burden for public debt, including future Social Security, Medicare, and Medicaid payments, totals more than $10 trillion, or $36,000 per man, woman and child. At what point do we listen to the wake up call?

The Federal Reserve Chairman, Alan Greenspan, has recently warned Congress and the Nation that, “In the end, the only forces for the U.S. economy of doing nothing could be severe. But the benefits of taking sound, timely action could extend many decades into the future.” We must all work together to reduce the crippling $412 billion budget deficit and the mounting unfunded Federal financial burden.

I commend the administration for submitting a budget request that proposes reduced funding for a number of programs. I clearly understand that every program is important to certain constituencies, and Medicaid is at the top of the list for many. The Medicaid program provides critical services to some of the most vulnerable people in our nation. In my home State of Arizona, we have an outstanding Medicaid program and a Cost Containment System, that represents a model for other States.

Unfortunately, not every State administers its program as efficiently as Arizona. The reality is, Medicaid costs are skyrocketing out of control. It is time we took a long hard look at this program—as every other program for that matter and develop proposals to ensure that Medicaid will continue to serve the neediest Americans over the long term.

Let me be clear. I do not support across the board cuts to the Medicaid program. In fact, I believe such an action could have a disastrous effect on many important efforts that ensure access to health care for many Americans who have nowhere else to turn. Additionally, I recognize that cuts to Medicaid that result in reduction of covered individuals would flood hospital emergency rooms with additional uninsured patients, forcing hospitals to absorb additional cost for uncompensated care. Arizona has one of the highest uninsured populations in the country and a large number of undocumented immigrants, our hospitals are already struggling to absorb the cost of providing uncompensated care drastically reducing Medicare eligible populations could severely impact the hospital system in my State and in many others.

In debating potential cuts to the Medicaid program, we must work to ensure that the federal government does not further exacerbate these existing problems. Any effort to reform Medicaid must be made in a cautious and deliberative manner.

We simply must start to control spending and make some very difficult decisions among competing priorities. I was pleased to have joined with Senators Smith and Bingaman in cosponsoring S. 338, the bipartisan commission on Medicaid Act of 2005, which was introduced on February 9, 2005. I cannot vote for the pending amendment because I believe strongly that the fiscal reality of Medicaid must be addressed rather than later. And I have been around here long enough to know that too often we need to have our feet held to the fire to really make meaningful progress on difficult issues. So I hope that we can agree to cut waste in the Medicaid program and also create a bipartisan task force to provide recommendations for how best to reform the program for the long run. In my judgment, only through comprehensive reforms can we prevent across the board cuts in Medicaid in the long term. We should begin our reform efforts today.

Mr. KOHL. Mr. President, I rise today in strong support of the Smith-Bingaman amendment. I am proud to cosponsor to strike the proposed $15 billion in cuts to Medicaid and instead create a Medicaid Commission.

In an effort to climb our way out of record Federal budget deficits, the program we are considering this week will cut Medicaid by $15 billion over the next 5 years. This cut would be devastating to millions of low-income families, children, disabled and senior citizens who are served by Medicaid.

I recognize that Medicaid—like all health care programs continues to face higher health care costs. But it is unconscionable to arbitrarily slash billions of dollars from a safety net program like Medicaid, and at the same time, give away billions of dollars worth of tax cuts in the same budget.

The main problem causing Medicaid spending growth is not that it is bloated or inefficient. New studies by the Urban Institute and the Kaiser Family Foundation show that Medicaid spends less, per patient, than private health insurance plans and that its costs have grown more slowly in the last four years than private-sector insurance premiums.

The real cost driver in Medicaid is the economy, which continues to cause a strain on the ability of businesses to offer health insurance coverage to their employees. More and more employees are losing health insurance coverage, pushing low-wage working families onto public programs, while the overall cost of health care continues to skyrocket. Cutting $15 billion from Federal Medicaid spending is only going to make matters worse by forcing the problem down to States, which already face severe budget crises.

A $15 billion cut in Medicaid could translate to a loss of $300 million for Wisconsin. It would be extremely difficult for Wisconsin and other States to absorb a cut of this magnitude while continuing to provide the level of services on which families depend. A cut of this size has the potential to deprive thousands of poor families needed medical care and greatly increase the already record number of uninsured Americans.

I do not object to having a thorough discussion about how we can make Medicaid work better for low-income Americans. But it is unacceptable to force arbitrary cuts in Medicaid without first taking the time to consider the future efficiency and operation of the Medicaid program. Medicaid is an essential source of health care for 33 million of our nation’s most vulnerable citizens, and any changes to the program should be driven by informed, reasoned policy and not by arbitrary budget targets.

I urge my colleagues to reject these harmful cuts.

Mr. ROCKEFELLER. Mr. President, I rise today to talk about Medicaid, a program that is very important to my State of West Virginia. For the past few days I have listened to my colleagues characterize the $15 billion in Medicaid cuts contained in this budget as marginal, minor, and not a big deal. I want to remind my colleagues that these cuts aren’t just plucked out of thin air. It is about the policies behind the numbers that have an impact on real people who would not have access to health care in the absence of Medicaid. Medicaid is the most important part of our nation’s health care system. It is the fulfillment of the promise the Federal Government has made to our Nation’s most vulnerable citizens that they will have access to affordable health care when times get tough.

It finances nearly 40 percent of all births in the United States. Without it, many pregnant women would forego the prenatal visits and pregnancy-related care that are vital for a child’s healthy start. Medicaid contributes to the safety net for one in five of our Nation’s children, many of whom would otherwise be uninsured. It pays for half of our communities. And, more importantly, it provides our most vulnerable citizens—pregnant women, children, the elderly, and the disabled—with access to meaningful and affordable health care.

The $15 billion in Medicaid cuts being proposed by this administration matter to the more than 50 million children, pregnant women, seniors, and disabled individuals who rely on Medicaid to meet their health care needs. Some of my colleagues would have you believe that these cuts will have little impact at all on the number of kids covered by Medicaid or the number of people who can access care in nursing homes. They even argue that these cuts will lead to Medicaid expansions because Governors will have greater flexibility over the use of their dollars.

Well, these statements simply are not true. Fewer dollars do not equal greater flexibility. Fewer dollars mean that States, medical providers, and individual beneficiaries are going to have to shoulder more of the burden of rapidly rising health care costs. Cost-shifts of this magnitude will undoubtedly lead to eligibility restrictions, benefit reductions, increased beneficiary cost-sharing, and provider payment cuts or freezes.

States are already struggling with the numerous unfunded mandates that the Federal Government has passed down in recent years. Twenty-nine states, including my home state of West Virginia, are facing a drop in their Federal medical assistance percentage, FMAP, next year because of a change in the statutory formula used to compute FMAP.

When the Medicare drug benefit starts on January 1, 2006, states will be required to finance a significant portion of the cost. This will be the first time since the enactment of Medicare and Medicaid that a specific Medicare benefit will be financed in significant part by state payments. The Congressional Budget Office, CBO estimates that, at a minimum, states will pay $48 billion toward the Medicare prescription drug benefit in the first 5 years. These costs could be much greater if more dual eligibles sign up for prescription drug coverage or if States have to cover the costs of drugs for dual eligibles that private drug plans do not pay.

West Virginia is scheduled to lose $36 million in Federal Medicaid matching funds in 2006. And, it is still unclear how much implementation of the Medicare prescription drug law will cost. The additional cuts proposed by the President could result in West Virginia losing as much as $100 million in Federal Medicaid matching funds next year alone. The hospitals, doctors, nursing homes and clinics in my State cannot afford to absorb cuts of this magnitude.

This budget isn’t about reducing the Federal deficit. Otherwise, we would have eliminated the $70 billion in tax cuts that are contained in this budget. We would have taken an objective look at entitlement spending, and not just focused on the program that provides health benefits to the working poor. We would have reined in excessive overpayments to private plans under Medicare and found ways to lower Medicare prescription drug costs.

This budget isn’t about reforming the Medicaid program for the better. Otherwise, it would have addressed the real reasons Medicaid cost are going up: significant decreases in employer-sponsored health coverage and Medicare’s gaps in long-term care coverage. Otherwise, the administration would have provided specific policy proposals for strengthening Medicaid for the future, instead of vague ideas that passed the CBO’s test. The Office of Management and Budget Office could not score. If this budget were truly about improving Medicaid, then the administration would not be attempting to shoehorn sweeping changes to the program into an arbitrary budget number. Instead, Medicaid policy would determine the budget number.

I would like to say to my colleagues that Democrats are happy to discuss strengthening the Medicaid program for the future. We know that we need to work toward reforming the program for the better. However, the prescription for Medicaid must adequately address the larger problems with our health care system that have an impact on the program, which is clearly not the case with this budget.

The bottom line is that this budget is about choices, and this administration has chosen to unfairly target low-income working families. This budget robs the most vulnerable in our society, while simultaneously giving greater tax breaks to the rich. This is unacceptable. The Federal Government has a responsibility to maintain its commitment to Medicaid in order to protect access to health care for working Americans.

That is why I oppose the $15 billion in Medicaid cuts included in the budget and will vote for the Smith-Bingaman amendment to strike these cuts from the budget resolution.

Mr. AKAKA. Mr. President, I support the floor amendment offered by my colleagues Senators BINGAMAN and SMITH to strike the cuts from Medicaid and the State Children’s Health Insurance Program, SCHIP, in the budget resolution.

The budget resolution includes $15.2 billion in reductions in mandatory programs that are part of Function 550, which is limited to health programs. Medicaid and SCHIP are the only mandatory programs in this category that are under the jurisdiction of the Senate Finance Committee.

The reductions in Medicaid included in the budget resolution will lead to further cuts and reductions in benefits for people in need. They will prevent individuals from being able to access health care, which will increase the burden on our public health system. In Hawaii, Medicaid and QUEST, Hawaii’s program that provides health coverage through managed care plans for eligible lower income residents, provided essential health services to nearly 190,000 people in 2002. For those in rural Hawaii, particularly the elderly, Medicaid provides access to health care that they might otherwise have to go without. The Medicaid cuts will further erode the ability of hospitals, clinics, physicians, and other medical providers to meet the health care needs of our communities. These very same health care providers already are confronted with inadequate reimbursements, rising costs, and an increasing demand to provide care for the uninsured.

Without doubt, the Medicaid reductions in the Senate budget plan would adversely affect health care coverage for low-income, uninsured Americans. Medicaid programs are demanding a larger share of state spending than they have in recent years. Reducing the Federal commitment to Medicaid will push additional costs to the States and increase the number of people who are uninsured or under-insured.

Contribution to the obstacles in delivering quality care for those who need it the most are the critical losses that a majority of states will see in their Federal Medical Assistance Percentage, FMAP. The FMAP formula is designed to pay a higher FMAP to states whose poverty income relative to the national average. According to the Federal Funds Information for States in its report, Fiscal year 2006 FMAP projections, 30 States are projected to experience cuts in their FMAP. This aggregate FMAP cut translates into an $850 million reduction in FY 2006 Medicaid grants to the impacted states. The five states facing the largest FMAP decreases include Alaska, Wyoming, New Mexico, North Dakota, and South Dakota.

Hawaii faces a projected FMAP decrease of 0.7 percent in FY 2006, which translates to a loss of $655,000 that could be used to provide health care to the citizens of my state. While it may seem like a small decline compared to larger, more prosperous states, let me assure you that the loss will be felt. In a June 2004 report by the Families USA organization, nearly one out of three people under the age of 65 went without health insurance for all or part of the 2-year period from 2002-2003 in Hawaii. More alarming is the statistic that nearly 82 percent of uninsured people in Hawaii are members of working families. The report went on to make the distinction that 61 percent of families in Hawaii, at or below 200 percent of the Federal poverty level, were uninsured.

In 2005, it is estimated that the Hawaii Medicaid program will spend just over $929 million. Of this, the Federal Government will contribute nearly $544 million. A substantial portion of Hawaii’s health care industry depends on Medicaid spending. In 2002, Medicaid payments infused Hawaii’s hospital system with more than $106 million. In addition, Medicaid is the primary payer for 70 percent of Hawaii’s certified nursing facility residents. Any cut in Medicaid funding will have a profound effect on the economic viability of Hawaii’s health care system and its ability to care for people in need.

Medicaid costs for States have soared in recent years, driven by rising health-care costs, an aging population that relies largely on Medicaid to pay for nursing homes, and a recession that sent more people to state-supported health care. Medicaid reform needs to have a reform discussion that is not driven by an arbitrary budget number. The States want to be part of the solution to improving the health care delivery system. All Americans who inhabit our country, the need for unique legislation to satisfy an essential, fundamental need is indicative of the flaws in the current Medicaid system and an issue that the commission proposed by this amendment can address. Medicaid needs more funding, not less. Escalating costs, the increase in the number of uninsured, FMAP cuts, and the clawback provision in the 2003 Medicare drug legislation only serve to put more pressure on state budgets. I urge my colleagues to support this amendment to restore dollars available to provide essential Medicaid coverage to our country’s most vulnerable citizens.

Mr. KENNEDY. Mr. President, Medicaid provides a critical safety net for 53 million Americans—low-income children, parents, disabled and elderly citizens who have nowhere else to turn for health care. Medicaid now provides health care for 1 in every 5 children. It pays for one-third of all births in this country, almost 40 percent of all long-term care expenses, a sixth of all drug costs, and half of the States’ mental health expenditures. It also is the largest payer of services for AIDS patients.

What does it say about the leadership of this Senate that it proposes to cut $15 billion from Medicaid? That program provides health care for 25 million low-income adults, and 15 million disabled and elderly Americans. These cuts are proposed at the very same time the budget once again proposes large new tax cuts tilted toward higher income households. Some say they have no choice but to make these cuts to Medicaid because of the large deficit. But the large deficit was created by the large tax breaks for the rich, not by Medicaid.

The budget is a blueprint of Congress’ priorities for the Nation. This Congress once again shows that it cares more about those who have the most than it does about those who have the least. How can we possibly continue to ask the poor and the elderly to pay the price of our tax cuts for the wealthy, and reduce health benefits for the poor to pay for them? Those are not the values we stand for.

In fact, the budget cuts in the Senate resolution are even deeper than the cuts proposed in the administration budget. Even if the Finance Committee adopts every cut the President proposed to Medicaid, they will still need to come up with an additional $7 billion in cuts to meet the target in this bill.

We need to maintain the Federal commitment to medical care for the poorest of the poor. If we weaken the Federal commitment, these men, women, and children will go without care, or show up at the emergency room when colleagues say they have no choice but to make these cuts to Medicaid because of the large deficit. But the large deficit was created by the large tax breaks for the rich, not by Medicaid.

Mr. OBAMA. Mr. President, over the last century, the Nation has witnessed tremendous advances in medical science and technology, increases in treatments and cures for diseases and conditions that were at one time surely fatal. Thirty years ago, if children developed cancer, doctors couldn’t save their lives. Today, more than three-quarters of children with cancer survive. Heart disease is no longer the leading cause of death because of significant improvements in medical treatment and surgical procedures. Americans with AIDS are living many years longer and spending more time at home and not in hospitals because of new drug cocktails that prevent infections and other deadly complications.

The unfortunate and bitter irony is that while the number of medical breakthroughs continues to increase, so does the number of Americans who will never benefit from them. Right now, 45 million Americans have no health care coverage, and this number continues to rise. Over a 2-year period, over 85 million Americans have not had continuous health insurance coverage. In this land of plenty and opportunity, the uninsured children with earaches and sore throats will never see a doctor.

Sixteen million uninsured Americans... cannot afford to fill prescriptions. Uninsured women who develop breast cancer are 40 percent more likely to die, as are 50 percent of uninsured men with prostate cancer. The Institute of Medicine has reported that 18,000 adults die every year because they are uninsured.

For many Americans, Medicaid represents their only real hope of obtaining health care. Nationally, 53 million people rely on Medicaid coverage, including 25 million children, 13 million low-income adults, and 15 million disabled and elderly Americans. Nearly 16 percent of people who live in rural areas have Medicaid coverage, including more than 1 in 4 children in these areas. One quarter of African Americans and 20 percent of Hispanics rely on Medicaid, as do 9 percent of women.

In my home State of Illinois, Medicaid provides health coverage for 2 million residents. Over 30 percent of children in Illinois receive health care through KidCare. Nearly 65 percent of nursing home residents rely on Medicaid coverage.

Despite Medicaid’s critical role in providing access to care, the Republican budget proposes to cut Medicaid by $15 billion. This cut translates into an estimated $297 million loss for Illinois. Experts report this funding could provide health care coverage for 200,000 children and 135,000 working parents in my State.

Some of my colleagues argue that we have no choice but to make large cuts to Medicaid because of the deficit. But these deficits were created by huge tax breaks for the rich, not by Medicaid, and we should not balance the budget at the expense of health care for low-income children, their parents, pregnant women and seniors. We cannot keep tax cuts for the rich and cut basic health care for the poor. We cannot retreat from our Federal commitment to Medicaid and leave the States holding the bag.

I agree the Medicaid Program is not perfect. The Smith-Bingaman amendment to create a commission to study the program and make recommendations for improvement is a reasonable approach. Sound policy, not politics or deficit concerns, should guide any changes to the Medicaid Program, and I am not convinced that we have examined or discussed the full range of Medicaid-related issues and options before us.

We cannot and should not deny millions of Americans access to basic health care. Medicaid is the Nation’s safety net, and we should strengthen it, not destroy it. I am going to vote yes for the Smith-Bingaman amendment to strike proposed cuts in funding for Medicaid, and I urge my colleagues to join me.

AMENDMENT NO. 229

Mr. GREGG. Madam President, I send an amendment to the desk.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Ms. Murkowski). Without objection, the pending amendment will be set aside, and the clerk will report.

The legislative clerk read as follows: The Senator from New Hampshire [Mr. Guarino], for Mr. Frist, proposes an amendment numbered 229.

Mr. GREGG. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent that reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To express the sense of the Senate regarding Medicaid reconciliation legislation consistent with recommendations from the Secretary of Health and Human Services)

Beginning on page 58, strike line 11 and all that follows through page 61, line 24, and insert the following:

SEC. 504. SENSE OF THE SENATE REGARDING MEDICAID RECONCILIATION LEGISLATION CONSISTENT WITH RECOMMENDATIONS FROM THE SECRETARY OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES.

(a) FINDINGS.—The Senate makes the following findings:

(1) The Medicaid program provides essential health care, and long-term care services to more than 50 million children, pregnant women, parents, individuals with disabilities, and senior citizens. It is a Federal guarantee that ensures the most vulnerable will have access to needed medical services.

(2) The Medicaid program will spend $189,000,000,000 in fiscal year 2006;

(3) During the period from fiscal year 2006 through fiscal year 2010, the Medicaid program will spend $1,100,000,000,000.

(4) Over the same period, spending for the Medicaid program will increase by 40 percent.

(5) Medicaid provides critical access to long-term care and other services for the elderly and individuals living with disabilities, and is the single largest provider of long-term care services. Medicaid also pays for personal care and other supportive services that are typically not provided by private health insurance or Medicare, but are necessary to enable individuals with spinal cord injuries, development disabilities, neuro-degenerative diseases, serious and persistent mental illnesses, HIV/AIDS, and other chronic conditions to remain in the community, to work, and to maintain independence.

(6) Medicaid supplements the Medicare program for more than 6,000,000 low-income elderly or disabled beneficiaries, assisting them with their Medicare premiums and co-insurance, wrap-around benefits, and the costs of nursing home care that Medicare does not cover.

(7) The Medicaid program spent nearly $40,000,000,000 on uncovered Medicare services in 2002.

(8) This resolution assumes $163,000,000 in spending to extend Medicare cost-shar- ing under the Medicaid program for the Medicare part B premium for qualifying individuals through 2006.

(9) Medicaid provides health insurance for more than 1/4 of America’s children and is the largest purchaser of maternity care, paying for more than 1/3 of all the births in the United States each year. Medicaid also provides critical access to care for children with disabilities, covering more than 70 percent of poor children with disabilities.

(10) More than 1/3 of Americans depend on Medicaid for their health care. Women comprise the majority of seniors (71 percent) on Medicaid. Half of nonelderly women with permanent physical disabilities have health coverage through Medicaid. Medicaid provides treatment for low-income women diagnosed with breast or cervical cancer in every State.

(11) Medicaid is the Nation’s largest source of payment for mental health services, HIV/AIDS, and care for children with special needs. Much of this care is either not covered by private insurance or limited in scope or duration. Medicaid is also a critical source of funding for health care facilities such as the Nation’s safety net hospitals, health centers, and nursing homes, and is critical to the ability of these providers to adequately serve all Americans.

(12) Medicaid serves a major role in ensuring that the number of Americans without health insurance, approximately 45,000,000 in 2003, is not substantially higher. The system of Federal matching for State Medicaid expenditures ensures that Federal funds will grow as State spending increases in response to unmet needs, enabling Medicaid to help buffer the drop in private coverage during recessions. More than 4,800,000 Americans lost employer-sponsored coverage between 2000 and 2003, during which time Medicaid enrolled an additional 8,400,000 Americans.

(b) SENSE OF THE SENATE.—It is the sense of the Senate that—

(1) the Committee on Finance shall not report a reconciliation bill that achieves spending reductions that would—

(A) undermine the role the Medicaid program plays as a critical component of the health care system of the United States;

(B) cap Federal Medicaid spending, or otherwise shift Medicaid cost burdens to State or local governments and their taxpayers and health providers, forcing a reduction in access to essential health services for low-income elderly individuals, individuals with disabilities, and children; or

(C) undermine the Federal guarantee of health insurance coverage Medicaid provides, which would threaten not only the health care safety net of the United States, but the entire health care system;

(2) the Secretary of Health and Human Services, working with bipartisan, geographically diverse members of the National Governors Association and in consultation with key stakeholders, shall make recommendations for changes to the Medicaid program that reflect the principles specified in paragraph (3); and

(3) the Committee on Finance, consistent with such recommendations, shall report a reconciliation bill that—

(A) allows any Medicaid savings to be shared by the Federal and State governments;

(B) would emphasize State flexibility through voluntary options for States; and

(C) would not cause Medicaid recipients to lose coverage.

Mr. GREGG. I yield back such time as I have.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Under the previous order, the Senator from Maryland is recognized.

Mr. SARBANES. Madam President, I ask that the time division be extended to the parliamentary situation.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator will have 15 minutes equally divided on the amendment.

Mr. SARBANES. I yield myself 5 minutes of the 7 1/2 minutes that I have available.

AMENDMENT NO. 156

Mr. SARBANES. Madam President, I send an amendment to the desk.
The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report.
The legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from Maryland (Mr. Sarbanes), for himself, Mr. Nelson of Florida, Ms. Stabenow, Mrs. Murray, Mr. Conyers, Mr. Bentsen, Mr. Reid, Mr. Leahy, Mr. Kennedy, Mrs. Clinton, Mr. Durbin, Ms. Feinstein, Mr. Mikulski, Mr. Schumer, Mr. Dayton, Mr. Jeffords, Mr. Dodd, Mr. Obamas, Boxer, Mr.arkin, Mr. Rait-cus, Mr. Bayh, Mr. Byrd, Ms. Lincoln, Mr. Johnson, Mr. Kerry, and Mr. Lieberman, proposes an amendment numbered 156.

Mr. SARBANES. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To restore funding for the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program and other programs proposed to be eliminated and to retain the administration of these programs at their current agencies.)

The legislative clerk read as follows:

...
ment programs and other activities, and child care services were provided to 100,065 children in 205 communities across the country. CDBG also funded nearly 700 crime prevention programs. Additionally, more than 11,000 Americans became homeowners last year thanks to CDBG funding. CDBG remains a smart, efficient form of investment that continues to leverage around three dollars for every dollar of federal investment. It certainly did not come as a surprise to us when HUD Secretary Alphonso Jackson, in a March 2nd appearance before the House Financial Services Committee, stated, "The program works."

The CDBG program’s design is especially successful in utilizing resources for those who need them most. In 2004, 85 percent of funds expended by entitlement grantees and 96 percent of state CDBG funds expended were for activities that principally benefited low- and moderate-income persons. A full half of persons directly benefiting from CDBG-assisted activities were minorities, including African Americans, Hispanics, Asians, and American Indians. Despite the fact that economic challenges and pockets of poverty exist in almost all American communities, the SAC initiative would almost certainly result in a complete loss of funding for a significant number of communities.

For all of the reasons detailed above, we believe that CDBG should remain at HUD and receive full funding of at least $17 billion in FY 2006. We also believe it is premature for the Budget Resolution to even address such a far-reaching change to the program before the numerous committees of jurisdiction have had sufficient opportunity to hold appropriate hearings on the topic. We urge you to craft a Budget Resolution reflecting those sentiments. More specifically, we strongly encourage you to include a proposal to restore CDBG in the Administration’s FY 2006 budget."

"We thank you for your favorable consideration of this request.

Sincerely,

Council of State Community Development Agencies.

The Enterprise Foundation.

Habitat for Humanity International.

Housing Assistance Council.

Local Initiatives Support Corporation.

National Association for County Community and Economic Development.

National Association of Counties.

National Association of Housing and Redevelopment Officials.

National Association of Local Housing Finance Agencies.

National Community Development Association.

National Conference of Black Mayors.

National League of Cities.

National Low Income Housing Coalition.

United States Conference of Mayors.

Hon. BILL FRINTH
Majority Leader, Office of the Senate Majority Leader, Capitol Building, Washington, DC.

Hon. HARRY REID
Minority Leader, Office of the Senate Minority Leader, Capitol Building, Washington, DC.

Dear Majority Leader FRINTH and Minority LEADER REID: As a diverse coalition of organizations representing the nation’s community and economic development practitioners, officials, and constituency groups, we are writing to express our overwhelming opposition to the Administration’s proposal to eliminate 18 federal community and economic development programs and reduce federal grant assistance for distressed and underserved local communities by $2 billion. We urge you to restore these vital resources as part of the FY2006 congressional budget resolution.

At a time when nearly every American business and organization is intensifying its interest in emerging and developing nations, the federal government should be expanding its resources and assistance for local community and economic development. Instead, the Administration is recommending a 34 percent funding cut and more unfunded mandates for our nation’s state and local communities. Such President’s plan would also significantly diminish and eviscerate the federal role in community development projects such as providing first-time access to clean and drinkable water, affordable housing and community facilities for our nation’s poorer areas and citizens.

From our perspective as the constituencies at the frontlines of community and economic development, we feel strongly that the current federal investment of $5.7 billion each year is a solid, wise and effective investment in this important component of our community and economic development. While we understand and recognize the current federal budget climate, we must point out that the proposed funding cut represents a loss of more than one-half of a percent of last year’s federal deficit. More importantly, the $2 billion reduction in federal investments will result in the loss of at least $18 billion in matching and leveraging investments by the private sector and other governmental and nonprofit programs at the state and local level.

Our nation’s distressed regions, communities and neighborhoods need national leadership, models of innovation and matching funds for locally-led projects and initiatives. Instead, we fear the Administration’s proposal will result in more communities marking time in the land of lost opportunity.

Sincerely,

American Planning Association.

American Public Works Association.

Association for Enterprise Opportunity.

Center for Rural Affairs.

Coalition of Community Development Financial Institutions.

US Conference of Mayors.

Council of State Community Development Agencies.

Local Initiatives Support Corporation.

National Association of Counties.

National Association of Development Organizations.

National Association of Regional Councils.

National Association of RC&D Councils.

National Association of Local Housing Finance Agencies.

National Community Capital Association.

National Community Development Association.

National Farmers Union.

National Low Income Housing Coalition.

National Rural Housing Coalition.

Northeast-Midwest Institute.

Rural Community Advancement Program.

National Rural Housing Coalition.

Mr. SARBANES. Madam President, the private sector strongly supports CDBG.

Doug Woodruff, Senior Vice President of the Bank of America, said at a recent Hill briefing:

From the perspective of the private sector, the CDBG program provides a valuable and irreplaceable function in the spectrum of efforts that surround many revitalization projects.

The success of CDBG is unquestionable. It has produced over 2 million jobs in its 30-year history, and generated more than $50 billion in personal earnings.

I urge my colleagues to support it.

How much time do I have remaining?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Two minutes forty seconds.

Mr. SARBANES. I yield half of that time to the Senator from Michigan.

Ms. STABENOW. Madam President, I appreciate very much having an opportunity to support this amendment and to be a cosponsor. I thank my colleague from Maryland for his leadership.

This is a small way in which we support local communities to create jobs, revitalize neighborhoods, support infrastructure, water, sewer, roads—those things that help create jobs.

From the highlights of the 2004 CDBG accomplishments, they show very specifically that they created or had the retention of more than 90,000 jobs last year. In a State like Michigan, this is incredibly important. Over 130,000 rental units and single-family homes were rehabbed, 85,000 individuals received employment training, 1.5 million children were served with afterschool enrichment programs, childcare services were provided to over 100,000 children and their families, 700 crime prevention and awareness programs, and 11,000 Americans became homeowners.

What is more important to each of us as parents than to be able to make sure we have shelter and a home for our children?

These are partnerships with local communities, small amounts of revenue that we bring together with our communities to make major impacts on the quality of life. That is what we are about—to partner with our local communities.

I urge the support of the amendment. Mr. KENNEDY. Madam President, I strongly support this amendment, which will prevent one the greatest failings of this President’s Budget—its elimination of more than $2 billion.
from critically needed economic development and social service programs and the proposed consolidation of 18 valuable Federal programs into a single block grant under the so-called ‘‘Strengthening America’s Communities Initiative.’’

I am heartened that so many of my colleagues have come together in opposition to these cuts—55 Senators wrote to the Budget Committee in an important show of bipartisanship 2 weeks ago.

Under the President’s plan most American cities can expect at least a 55 percent cut in assistance from the Federal Government to help secure investment, house the poor, provide health care to the uninsured, and counsel the abused.

If the administration dislikes helping cities, they should have the decency to say so, instead of this charade where they try to hide massive cuts under the cloak of streamlining.

The proposal insults the intelligence of mayors, community development officials, and social service agencies across the country—by cynically suggesting that somehow these cuts are going to make life better and be helpful cities.

What makes these cuts so objectionable is that they come at a time of great stress and difficulty for Americans who live in poverty. We are the wealthiest nation on earth. We are blessed with great wealth. Yet despite our great wealth, too many of our fellow citizens remain in the shadows, the prisoners of persistent and increasing urban and rural poverty.

The numbers are alarming. Today, nearly 36 million Americans live in poverty, and 3 million more working Americans live in hunger or on the verge of hunger today than in 2000. One out of five American children goes to bed hungry each night. We have it in our power to eliminate so much of this poverty.

At the very least, we shouldn’t do anything to make it worse which is exactly what this ‘‘Strengthening America’s Communities’’ plan from the White House would do. In the powerful words of the Gospel, ‘‘To whom much is given, much is required.’’

We need to pass the Sarbanes amendment, so that the work of thousands of public officials, health officials, community development experts toiling to improve living conditions in our cities isn’t made any more difficult.

Mayors across the country on the front lines every day are struggling to create new jobs and attract capital investment. They are struggling to educate and house the children of the poor, and they are not fooled by this administration’s misleading slogan ‘‘Strengthening America’s Communities,’’ because they know it is the exact opposite.

My friend, Mayor Clare Higgins of Northampton isn’t fooled. She recently wrote me urging Congress to save Community Development Block Grants, one of the very few tools she has to meet Northampton’s needs and one of the biggest programs on the President’s chopping block.

Most recently, Northampton invested $300,000 of local funds to acquire the Interfaith Cold Weather Emergency Homeless shelter—the only cold weather shelter serving Hampshire County. It is a collaborative effort between area church groups and ServiceSource, a local human service provider. Without these funds, there would be no cold weather shelter in Hampshire County.

Mayor Higgins wrote:

Without CDBG funds, the City will be unable to develop a senior center, public services that provide emergency food, homeless services, child care and after school programming, literacy skills and health care would not be funded; the City’s ability to promote and develop affordable housing will be severely limited, parks and playgrounds will not be improved, and the City’s ability to provide funding for the redevelopment of the former Northampton State Hospital will cease.

Mayor Tom Menino of Boston—the former head of the U.S. Conference of Mayors—isn’t fooled. He knows what’s at stake and recently conducted an analysis of the budget cuts on his city.

Since 1998 alone—

Mayor Menino stated at a recent press conference—the City of Boston has permitted almost 5,000 new units of affordable housing and permitted more than 12,000 other units. We have invested a total of $7.8 million in CDBG funds in 19 large developments that have created a total of 1,172 apartments including 517 units for the formerly homeless.

He went on to say that this budget cuts for housing, community development, and social services threatens to ‘‘throw the nation into the dark ages.’’

That doesn’t sound like he believes his community will be ‘‘strengthened’’ by the Bush administration’s cuts.

Mayor Menino believes the President’s budget will mean the loss of $8 million in Community Development Block Grant funding for Boston and the loss of $5.5 million in Community Services Block Grant funding.

On any given night in the City of Boston, there are nearly 6,000 homeless men, women, and children in the city. Shelters in Massachusetts have been overflowing for 6 straight years, with 4 beds available for every 5 adults.

Yet the very support he has relied on to help build and operate the 6,000 units of affordable housing for homeless people, to help 500 low-income homeowners rehabilitate their properties, and to provide 130 first-time homebuyers with their down payments is now in grave danger.

How can the mayor supposed to strengthen Boston when the support he needs to do it is getting the axe under this budget?

Other local officials tell the same story.

A letter I recently received from Elizabeth Cohen, Executive Director of Rape Crises Services of Greater Lowell, says:

Dear Senator Kennedy:

We need your help . . . We use CDBG Funds to support multilingual sexual assault support services. We are the only program in the greater Lowell area and the only agency to have certified rape crisis counselors who speak Spanish and Khmer. With the elimination of this funding, we will have to cut these services which will result in 100 Khmer-speaking clients being unable to have a counselor in their language . . .

As you know, immigrants and refugees already have many struggles when they move to a new city or new country. Having to deal with the trauma of sexual violence on top of the difficulties in housing, education, food and school can paralyze a family . . . Please don’t let the President take away this funding for Lowell.

I ask the Senate, does this sound like we are strengthening communities with this budget?

In Lowell—one of Massachusetts’ and the Nation’s poorest cities—CDBG funds have been used to amazing effect to leverage nearly $110 million of investment in the remediation and redevelopment of an abandoned textile brownfield site known as the Lawrence Gateway Project.

The city has invested nearly $6 million of its CDBG funds in the project and formed a model partnership with a private company that has invested $75 million so far in the redevelopment.

Today, Lowell is continuing to use its CDBG funds to meet debt service payments on loans made to clean the property.

Without these Federal funds, the partnership with GenCorp could not exist, and the City would not be able to do anything about this 15-acre, fenced-in, desolate property, which would stand as a stark reminder of the city’s industrial past rather than as a symbol of the kind of innovative development needed to build a stronger future for the city.

How will we be strengthening Lowell by eliminating the best ways they have to create investment partnerships with private businesses?

In addition to the community development block grant, the Sarbanes amendment will also preserve the community services block grant. These funds strengthen communities by funding local agencies, which provide services such as literacy, child health care, after school activities, low-income housing, food stamps, emergency shelter, and other support.

In Worcester, Patsy Lewis of the Worcester Community Action Council sent me a letter on just how devastating the President’s plans to eliminate this program are.

Simply put, Patsy wrote, they would have to reduce or close their GED classes and partnerships for at-risk students in the public schools. The agency may even be forced to close.

Perhaps the President can explain how a community can ‘‘strengthen’’ our communities by eliminating these GED programs.

Another person who isn’t fooled about the effect of the President’s devastating ‘‘Strengthening America’s..."
Now Main South is taking on its greatest project, the Kilby-Gardner-Hammond Neighborhood Project. This partnership between the Boys and Girls Club, the city, Clark University, and Main South will revitalize 30 acres of distressed industrial property consisting of over 40 vacant, trash-strewn lots.

It aims to transform the neighborhood through the construction of a $7 million new Boys and Girls Club, bicycle parking area, 34 affordable housing units, and a new outdoor track and field complex for Clark University students and neighborhood children alike.

It is a transformative project, with a total investment impact of $30 million, much of that made possible by Section 108 loan guarantees that this budget would eliminate.

Without Section 108, Teasdale and Main South would never have been able to acquire the properties to put this project together. This fact alone should cause us to reject the administration’s “strengthening communities” proposal—because it will do nothing of the sort.

The question has to be asked, (Teasdale recently wrote) is what would happen in these neighborhoods if there were no more severely restricted or cut back. The answer can only be assumed to be that the current problems in these areas would get worse as capital investment once again withdraws to safer havens and the social service needs of the resident populations are stripped away. Crime, substance abuse, lack of educational and recreational opportunities for the youth of these areas and the incidence of poverty can all be expected to increase if CDBG funding is no longer available.

The long-term social and financial costs associated with such cut backs would be deeply damaging and although the immediate impact would be most severely felt in our poorer urban communities the resulting social distress would eventually affect everyone.

Steve Teasdale and the leadership of the Main South Community Development Corporation know more about the day-to-day challenges affecting our poorer urban communities and the difficulties associated with urban economic revitalization than any of us, because they live it every day. I ask my colleagues to consider his words and vote for the Sarbanes amendment, so we can save these critically important poverty prevention and economic development programs.

The Senate’s moral obligation not to make it harder for communities to solve the complicated issues of poverty and community development they face. Without the Sarbanes amendment, that is exactly what the Senate will allow to happen.

Mrs. FEINSTEIN. I rise today in support of Senator SARABANES’ amendment to the Budget resolution that would reestablish funding to the Community Development Block Grant, CDBG, program and 17 other community and economic development programs proposed to be eliminated.

These programs are vital to our Nation’s low and moderate income neighborhoods, as these are the communities who need these programs the most.

Despite the proven results of the CDBG program and the other 17 community and economic development programs, the fiscal year 2006 budget proposal to consolidate these programs into a single Commerce Department program, resulting in a $1.89 billion cut.

In fiscal year 2005, the total budget for all 18 community and economic development programs proposed to be eliminated, including CDBG, was $5.6 billion.

The administration’s proposal only provides $3.7 billion for all 18 programs, leading to a $1.89 billion cut in community development funds.

This major reduction would have a devastating impact on our Nation’s neediest communities and families who rely on these programs.

The loss of funds would also impact our Nation’s economy, affecting small businesses who rely on these programs to finance projects that lead to the creation and retention of jobs.

The Sarbanes’ amendment would restore the proposed $1.89 billion cuts to the CDBG program and 17 other community and economic development programs, such as the Community Development Loan Guarantees Program and Community Development Financial Institutions Fund; retain the administration of these important programs at HUD, not be transferred to the Department of Commerce; accomplish this by closing tax loopholes that an overwhelming majority of Senators voted to close in the last Congress.

While the vote to close tax loopholes was not enacted, it offers us a bipartisan way to save community and economic development programs. The Community Development Block Grant Program is one of the most effective Federal domestic programs to revitalize urban and rural communities.

Over the past 30 years, cities, counties, and States have used more than $105 billion in CDBG funds.

Over 95 percent of CDBG funds have gone to projects and activities principally benefiting low- and moderate-income individuals and families such as housing development, recreation facilities, day-care facilities, and job creation and training.

According to HUD’s “Highlights of Fiscal Year 2004 CDBG Accomplishments,” CDBG funding led to the creation and retention of more than 90,000 jobs and 65,000 individuals received employment training and/or education nationwide in the last year alone.

In 2004, CDBG funds also helped with the rehabilitation of over 130,000 rental units and single family homes, and allowed more than 11,000 Americans to achieve the American Dream and become homeowners.

Additionally, nearly 700 crime prevention and awareness programs were funded and child care services were provided to 100,065 children in 205 communities across the country.

In my State of California, CDBG grants are critical to both urban and rural cities who rely on these funds to serve many low-income neighborhoods.

In fiscal year 2005, California received over $526 million in CDBG funds, accounting for 12.8 percent of the total $4.1 billion grant program.

Of these funds, for example, California cities and counties received $82.8 million to the city of Los Angeles and $34.6 million to Los Angeles County; $24.6 million to the city of San Francisco; $11.5 million to Riverside County; $24 million to San Bernardino County; and $5.5 million to Fresno County.

Over the past 5 years, the diverse use of CDBG funds have allowed Los Angeles County to develop almost 9,000 affordable housing units, to assist over 2,000 jobs, to remove over 32 million square feet of graffiti, and to provide loans and technical assistance to over 5,000 businesses among other programs.

Cuts to the CDBG program would greatly hurt Los Angeles County’s low income residents, the primary beneficiaries of CDBG-funded services.

According to 2000 Census data, 17.9 percent of Los Angeles County residents had incomes below the poverty level, a far higher poverty rate than the 12.4 percent national average.

CDBG funds have not only benefited large urban counties like Los Angeles, but rural counties and cities in California as well. Here are a few examples:

The city of Porterville in the Central Valley, which has a population of over 39,000 and an unemployment rate of 12.3 percent, has utilized CDBG funds to rehabilitate 50 homes and assist more than 200 first time homeowners purchase their first home. Many of these first time homebuyers are farm worker families.

The city of Victorville, located in San Bernardino County, served over 2,900 senior citizens, youth, homeless, disabled, victims of domestic violence, and low-income families in 2004 with CDBG funds. Over $551,550 in CDBG grants were provided to low-income senior and disabled homeowners to rehabilitate their homes, ensuring that Victorville citizens have a safe place to live.

As you can see, CDBG funds are crucial to closing the disparity between rich and poor in so many communities in California and throughout the country.

As a former mayor, I know that CDBG resources are the most flexible dollars the federal government offers them extremely valuable to the economic vitality of local communities.

We cannot allow these funds to be cut.

To do so would send the wrong message to our country’s neediest communities and families who rely on these funds the most.

Although CDBG is one of the main community development programs slated for consolidation and cuts in the fiscal year 2006 budget, there are 17 other important programs that would be impacted as well.

Specifically, I would like to touch on a few of the following programs that had a substantial benefit to counties and cities:

- Community Development Loan Guarantee, section 108 loan program, funded at $15 million in fiscal year 2005, is used often with CDBG funds to finance the construction of new facilities and economic development activities such as business loans.
- Through the section 108 Loan Program, the city of San Francisco has been able to construct 13 new childcare facilities which created 599 new slots for children of low-income families, and created 200 new jobs through 8 business start ups and expansions.
- Brownfields Economic Development Initiative, which $24 million in fiscal year 2005, used with the section 108 loan program, helps finance the redevelopment of seriously contaminated sites.
- Cities throughout California and the Nation have received assistance through these funds to conduct environmental engineering assessments for site cleanup activities.

This amendment would also restore funding for the Community Development Finance Institutions Fund, CDFI, which provides private sector investors with tax credits to raise money for hard to finance development projects in low-income areas, as well as other economic development programs. CDFI received $35 million in funding this year.

These community and economic development programs proposed to be cut in the fiscal year 2006 budget put Federal dollars where they are needed most.

The proposed cuts to the CDBG program and 17 other programs would result in higher unemployment, diminish business creation and retention, increase the number of blighted buildings, and the number of homeless people who cannot find affordable housing.

The loss of these dedicated funds would profoundly affect our country’s low and moderate income communities and residents.

We must not allow this to happen.

I urge my colleagues to vote for the Sarbanes amendment to restore funding for CDBG and the 17 other community and economic development programs proposed to be eliminated.

Mr. LEAHY. Mr. President, I rise today to address shortfalls in the budget resolution for key community and economic development programs. The budget before us includes a reduction of roughly $2 billion in Federal assistance to distressed and underserved communities. These cuts are shortsighted, ill-advised and represent a significant retreat from our long-standing commitment to invest in our Nation’s communities. I join Senator SARBRANES in offering an amendment to restore funding for these programs to their fiscal year 2005 levels.

Last year the Federal Government invested $5.7 billion in communities across the country through a network of community and economic development programs. These programs were used to enhance social services, invest in infrastructure, promote affordable housing, provide public services and revitalize our downtowns. The cuts proposed to eliminate these programs have hurt Los Angeles County’s low income residents, the primary beneficiaries of CDBG-funded services.

This amendment would also restore funding for the Community Development Block Grant, CDBG, the Community Development Financial Institutions Fund, CDFI, the Community Services Block Grant, CSBG, Brownfields Economic Development Initiatives and the Economic Development Agency, EDA. I find this proposal underwhelming and unacceptable. To add insult to injury the President has proposed, and this budget includes, only $3.7 billion for community and economic development activities covered under this initiative—a 34-percent reduction in all programs combined. This is simply not adequate.

Each of the programs slated for elimination was created for a specific purpose, each serves targeted constituencies and addresses distinct needs. Consolidating and under funding these programs would leave critical gaps in the web of support for our Nation’s cities and towns. I question the President’s assertion that these programs are ineffective or inefficient and I question the wisdom of starting a new program at a new agency when the old system is not broken.

I am particularly concerned with the elimination of the Community Development Block Grant program. CDBG is the centerpiece of the Federal government’s efforts to help States and localities meet the needs of low-income communities. CDBG funds vital housing rehabilitation, supportive services, public improvements and economic development projects in communities across the Nation. It serves more than 1,100 entitlement communities, urban counties and States, and more than 3,000 rural communities.

Last year over 95 percent of CDBG funds went to assist low and moderate income persons. CDBG housing projects assisted over 160,000 households, public service projects benefitted over 13 million individuals, and economic development projects helped create or retain over 90,000 jobs. Vermont used CDBG grants to rehabilitate over 270 units of affordable housing and help create or preserve over 150 jobs.
I recently led a bipartisan letter with Senator COLEMAN to the Budget Committee attesting to the effectiveness of CDBG and urged that it be fully funded and retained at the Department of Housing and Urban Development. Fifty-eight of the sixty members of the Senate joined me in this letter.

I ask unanimous consent to print this letter in the RECORD. There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

Hon. Judd Gregg, Chairman, Committee on the Budget, U.S. Senate, Washington, DC.

Hon. Kent Conrad, Ranking Member, Committee on the Budget, U.S. Senate, Washington, DC.

Dear Chairman Gregg and Ranking Member Conrad:

The Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) Program funds housing rehabilitation, supportive services, public improvements and economic development projects in communities across the nation. CDBG serves more than 1,300 entitlement communities and states and more than 3,000 rural communities. We urge the Budget Committee to maintain the Federal government’s current commitment to CDBG, in part by supporting programs at HUD, the Department of Housing and Urban Development, and support a budget allocation of $4.732 billion in Function 450 for CDBG, Section 101 of the Housing and Economic Development Loan Guarantee Act, and the Brownfields Economic Development Initiative.

HUD is the Federal Department principally responsible for community economic development. CDBG is the centerpiece of the Federal economic development loan guarantee program, and the Brownfields Economic Development Initiative. CDBG is one of the most effective Federal domestic programs to revitalize neighborhoods with proven results. Over 95 percent of CDBG funds supported activities principally benefiting low- and moderate-income persons. Twenty-eight percent of CDBG funds supported housing activities in distressed communities, 21 percent supported public improvements, 15 percent went to the provision of public services, and 7 percent supported economic development activities. In FY2004, CDBG housing loans and grants assisted 168,938 households. Public service projects funded with CDBG served 13,312,631 individuals. Economic development programs (Eco-development programs) funded with CDBG in fiscal 2004 created or retained 90,637 jobs for Americans and public improvement projects benefited 9,453,993 persons.

Thank you for your consideration. We look forward to working with you to ensure that communities across the country can provide good quality affordable housing, supportive services and infrastructure to meet the needs of all Americans.

Sincerely,

Norm Coleman, Patrick Leahy, Jack Reed, Kit Bond, Mike DeWine, Paul Sarbanes, Evan Bayh, Barbara Mikulski, Ted Kennedy, George Voinovich, Jeff Bingaman.

Mr. LEAHY. Mr. President, I believe you will find similar support for each of the other programs under this umbrella.

I challenge each Member to go back to their State and find one community that has not reaped the benefits of a CDBG investment. I challenge each Member to visit with local community action groups and hear how they use the Community Services Block Grant to support the neediest in their communities. These programs fill a real need and have proven results. A cut of $2 billion in Federal funds will result in the loss of at least $8 billion in matching funds from local and State governments and nonprofit and private sector investments. I fail to see the wisdom in dismantling programs that are so vital to our communities.

Our amendment would restore nearly $2 billion for community and economic development programs and urges the Senate to retain the administration of these programs at their current agencies. We fully pay for the increase in funding by closing the budget holes that over 90 Members of this Chamber has already gone on record in support of closing.

I encourage my colleagues to join me in support of this amendment and express their support for these important programs.

Mr. BAUCUS. Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of the amendment of my friend and to express my support of the Community Development, Block Grant Program, the Economic Development Administration, and the 16 other economic and community development programs that are dramatically underfunded in this budget. It is no surprise to see this amendment coming from my distinguished colleague from Maryland. I thank him for his work on this issue, both now and in the past. Throughout his career in the Senate he has been a powerful advocate for CDBG and similar community development programs.

The CDBG Program has for 31 years provided vital funding to communities all over the United States and throughout my home State of Montana. CDBG is especially valuable to economically distressed communities that often lack basic public infrastructure. It funds a diverse range of projects. Just last year, CDBG dollars helped fund head start facilities in Havre and Kalispell, and money to help Dodson modernize the wastewater system.

A CDBG grant helped Big Horn County renovate Memorial Hospital. In Anaconda, where we have a Jack Nicklaus-designed golf-course, a CDBG loan helped renovate the Old Works Hotel, dramatically improving the region’s tourism industry.

These CDBG investments leveraged millions of State and local dollars. In Montana, CDBG dollars are primarily administered at the State level, so local officials can direct the spending to the areas of greatest need. CDBG is a program that works. It is a good investment of taxpayer money that communities leverage to fund vital projects they could not complete on their own.

And the CDBG Program has been supporting community development for the past 30 years with great success. Providing small infusions of Federal funding, and creating new jobs, the EDA has touched hundreds of Montana communities, and thousands of lives.

Unfortunately, CDBG isn’t the only program on the chopping block. The Economic Development Administration, which has helped communities in particular economically distressed communities—get ready for new businesses. EDA has a documented record of success. Since its inception in 1964, the EDA has created more than 4 million jobs and leveraged more than $18 billion in private sector investment in thousands of communities all across the country.

EDA investments in Montana have helped Montana farmers, suffering from years of drought. The Bear Paw economic development district in northern Montana used an EDA planning grant to help farmers study the feasibility of growing carrots and other vegetables in a region dominated by wheat for more than a century. The study demonstrated the viability of these crops, and farmers are excited to have a variety of crops to choose amongst.

Why then, does this budget propose to eliminate it? At a time when it is critical for our country to maintain competitiveness in the global economy a proposal to eliminate a successful catalyst for economic growth is a mistake.

The growing budget deficit is a concern. But continued economic growth is central to everyone’s plan to reduce the deficit. Why then are we cutting programs that spur economic growth? EDA creates jobs, more than 4 million in its history. It is essential that we preserve this job creating agency.

Our economy is in recovery, and as this recovery continues, EDA is working to make sure that all of America recovers. EDA targets its funding at communities served. A program that invests to help communities that have been hurt the most by outsourcing. Areas that have recently experienced a factory closure, or a military closing grant to help farmers study the feasibility of growing carrots and other vegetables in a region dominated by wheat for more than a century. The study demonstrated the viability of these crops, and farmers are excited to have a variety of crops to choose amongst.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, today many Americans in communities like the choices we make here in the real world, the businesses assisted through this program were still in operation after 3 years.

There is overwhelming opposition to the Strengthening America’s Community Initiative. Mayors, local and State community development agencies, housing assistance agencies, and others from Rhode Island to Utah, and from Michigan to Texas, have written letters to Congress and to the administration opposing these devastating cuts and changes to Federal economic and community development assistance. They know that CDBG, CDFI, and EDA programs are the foundation of strong communities—these programs are literally the building blocks of community development. The CDBG program, as proposed by the administration, will leave gaping holes in community and economic development assistance.

CDBG is the glue that holds other Federal programs serving low-income communities together. On the 30th Anniversary of CDBG in 2004, HUD Deputy Secretary Roy Bernardi said the following about the program:

HUD has a long history of ‘being there’ and providing help for people just like those with the greatest needs—our lower income constituents. CDBG has certainly been there, during boom years and most importantly in times of tightening budgets, which place greater demands on existing services. We must continue to support and build upon programs that work, those that have a proven record of flexibility and the ability to fit in with locally determined needs. CDBG is such a program and ranks among our nation’s oldest and most successful programs. It continues to set the standard for all other block grant programs.

I want to tell my colleagues about CDBG’s history of ‘being there.’ In Rhode Island, CDBG was there when the West Elmwood Housing Development Corporation, a not-for-profit community based organization, needed to build and renovate affordable homes. CDBG gave Rhode Island families, who would otherwise be unable to achieve the American dream of homeownership, the chance to own their own home. In Florida, Congress turned to CDBG to provide relief after last year’s devastating hurricane season, and in New York City, CDBG helped the city rebuild after the September 11 tragedy. In New Hampshire, CDBG is there for the Concord Area Trust for Community Housing to layer with Low-Income Housing Tax Credits to build affordable housing. In Ohio, Community Development Financial Institutions are there for communities across the State helping to finance businesses and micro-enterprises that otherwise would not exist in the economy. And EDA was there to provide planning and technical assistance to help save 466 existing jobs and... create 78 new jobs near Billings, MT. There are no other Federal programs or tax loophole that have the history of “being there” like CDBG, CFPI, and EDA.

Senator SARBANES’ amendment to restore funding to these programs deserves the full support of my Senate colleagues, whether Republican or Democratic, representing an urban state such as Rhode Island or a rural state such as Montana. I hope my colleagues will join me in voting for Senator SARBANES’ amendment so that all workers, families, neighborhoods, and communities can participate in our Nation’s economic growth.

Mr. GREGG. Madam President, what is the time?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from New Hampshire has 7 minutes 25 seconds.

Mr. GREGG. Madam President, this amendment increases spending by $2.5 billion, exceeding the cap, and it increases taxes by the same amount of money. It is a tax-and-spend amendment. Therefore, I would oppose it. There is a reason to modify and oppose it, but I wanted to give the Senator from Missouri an opportunity to say a couple of words on something else.

I yield to the Senator from Missouri, and I yield the remainder of my time on this amendment.

Mr. TALENT. Madam President, I thank my friend, the chairman. I would like to speak briefly on a separate amendment that I am going to offer and ask for a vote on it during the vote-a-rama today.

I am pleased to be joined in this effort by Senators THUNE, STABENOW, and WYDEN. This amendment is endorsed by all the major transportation groups—including ASSHTO, Associated General Contractors, the Road Builders, the American Public Transportation Association, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, and the Heavy Highway Association, representing major trade unions. These groups understand the importance of this amendment and many will be scoring it as one of their key transportation votes of this session.

As has been the case in past resolutions, the current budget resolution in the Reserve Fund section allows the transportation bill to make adjustments to the allocation for surface transportation.

However, the Senate language as written significantly restricts the transportation reauthorization funding options available to the Finance Committee.

In the fiscal year 2004 budget resolution, last year’s resolution, we agreed to reserve fund language that allowed new transportation funding so long as it was offset by an increase in receipts of any kind to the highway trust fund. That is as it should be. We ought to allow the Finance Committee to have the full range of funding options.

As written in this year’s resolution, the resolution takes away the flexibility of the Finance Committee, the EPW Committee, the Banking and Commerce Committees, to consider all available funding mechanisms for the reauthorization bill. It precludes the use of resolutions used in past authorization bills, some of which the administration has agreed to and which passed last year by 74 bipartisan votes. Among the funding options that would be blocked are interest on the highway trust fund’s unexpended balances; the motor fuels refund reform for over-the-road and off-road vehicles; and drawdown of the highway trust fund balance.

My amendment simply changes the language to be consistent with the language in the House budget resolution and the fiscal year 2005 conference report. The amendment is narrowly targeted and does not affect the budget neutrality of the final transportation bill. The amendment simply ensures we have that debate at the right time on the House bills with all the funding options on the table. I urge my colleagues who support transportation funding to vote for this amendment. It restores the flexibility to use revenue sources approved in the past and gets us out of the box that the current language traps us in and makes it easier to adequately fund our transportation needs within the limits of a revenue-neutral bill.

I will be asking for a vote at the appropriate time on the amendment. I thank my cosponsors, including the Senator from Michigan.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Who yields time?

Mr. GREGG. What is the time situation on Senator SARBANES’ amendment?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from New Hampshire controls 4 minutes and the Senator from Maryland controls 1 minute 19 seconds.

Ms. STABENOW. As the cosponsor with my colleague from Missouri, I would appreciate a couple of minutes to speak on the Talent-Stabenow amendment before proceeding with the other amendments.

Mr. GREGG. We do not have any time on this amendment.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Who yields time?

Ms. STABENOW. I ask for 2 minutes off the resolution.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There is no time remaining.

Mr. SARBANES. I yield the balance of my time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The balance of the time is 1 minute 19 seconds.

Ms. STABENOW. To my colleagues, I rise to speak in support of the Talent-Stabenow amendment. It is very simple, as my colleague indicated. It is extremely important as the Senate begins the work of SAFETEA transportation legislation.

As in past resolutions, the current budget resolution in the reserve fund section allows the budget chairman to make adjustments to the surface transportation allocation. However, this budget resolution as written ties the hands of the Finance Committee and restricts the transportation funding options available to them such as using interest from the highway trust fund and drawing down the trust fund balance.

All the Talent-Stabenow amendment would do is modify the language to put all the funding options on the table. This change would be identical to the provision in the current House budget resolution and what has been included in past House and Senate budget resolutions.

We all know how critical SAFETEA is. Transportation issues in each of our States are absolutely critical. The transportation bill creates jobs. It supports communities. It uplifts all of our roads and highways and bridges in a critically important way. I am hopeful this amendment will receive strong bipartisan support so we can pass a strong highway bill with all the options on the table and make sure we have the options available to make it the very best bill we possibly can, given all of the concerns regarding funding.

Mr. GREGG. We yield back.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. All time is expired.

AMENDMENT NO. 230

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Under the previous order, the Senator from Minnesota is recognized.

Mr. COLEMAN. Madam President, I have an amendment I send to the desk for immediate consideration.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report.

The assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from Minnesota [Mr. COLEMAN] proposes an amendment numbered 230.

Mr. COLEMAN. I ask unanimous consent that the reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment is as follows:

Mr. COLEMAN (for himself) proposes an amendment to the concurrent resolution S. Con. Res. 18 setting forth the congressional budget for the United States Government for fiscal year 2006 and including the appropriate budgetary levels for fiscal years 2006 through 2010; as follows:

(Purpose: To fully fund the Community Development Block Grant Program and related programs, including Community Services Block Grant Program, Brownfield Redevelopment, Empowerment Zones, Rural Community Advancement Program, EDA, Native American CDBG, Native Hawaiian CDBG, and Rural Housing and Economic Development)

On page 16, line 15, increase the amount by $1,450,000.

On page 16, line 16, increase the amount by $29,080,000.

On page 16, line 20, increase the amount by $65,260,000.

On page 16, line 24, increase the amount by $61,680,000.
CDBG was enacted in 1974 and has been assisting America’s communities for 30 years. It is a program that helps State and local government tap their most serious community development challenges, including infrastructure, housing, and economic development. Over the first 25 years, it has created 2 million jobs and contributed in excess of $129 billion to the Nation’s gross domestic product.

CDBG and public-private partnerships are the cornerstone of the economic development of this country and in many of our cities in recent years. They have provided the tools to provide economic opportunity and hold jobs.

When you deal with the budget, there is a question of fiscal responsibility. Does the program work? Fair question. Is it cost effective? Fair question. What does it achieve?

I know CDBG works because when I was mayor, before coming to Washinton, we worked with it. In coming here, my hope was to be Minnesota’s mayor in Washington. I always take pride in the fact that a mayor’s focus is on getting things done. They are at the bottom of the political food chain but really responsive. That was the bottom line. It was getting things done. If streets were unplowed in the city of St. Paul, I heard about it. So as a former mayor I know something about fiscal responsibility, about having to reduce deficits to turn around deficits into surpluses, and setting money aside for a rainy day, all while submitting budgets that contained no tax increases in 8 years. Part of my ability to do that was the growth I saw in my communities and the public-private partnerships that CDBG created and shaped and was a part of. Community centers and crime prevention, affordable housing, and business and economic development—the heart and soul of Federal help to our cities.

The President’s Office serves the great State of Alaska, which has challenges. They are not awash in a surplus of cash. The Presiding Officer understands, as I understand, we have to support those things that grow our communities.

The fact is, jobs in St. Paul’s economy have not grown without CDBG. We used CDBG to revitalize neighborhoods, and it is through this effort we were successful.

I can personally testify that dollar for dollar there is no better initiative to help States and localities renew and rebuild our cities and create economic growth and jobs than the Community Development Block Grant Program.

As Minnesota’s mayor in Washington, I still believe that Government is beholden to the people; that individuals, with the help of their local representatives, can plan their lives better than bureaucrats in some distant capital.

That is what I like, and the idea behind CDBG, a very conservative idea that we should not have 1,500 command and control programs rush out of Washington trying to micromanage the needs of communities. Instead, we should help communities meet those needs and priorities through one block grant. With all the unfunded mandates coming from Washington, CDBG is a way we help communities across the country meet some very critical priorities.

CDBG is a fiscally responsible program that exponentially produces more than it costs and is a truly conservative initiative enabling local leaders to meet local needs.

CDBG works. Last year, the Office of Management and Budget celebrated CDBG under the theme “performance counts.” Since then, the Office of Management and Budget may have changed its mind, but America hasn’t.

Let me state what CDBG means to my home State in Minnesota. When I became mayor of St. Paul, we got businesses and jobs there. But not all St. Paul was benefiting from the turnaround. An area around Ames Lake on the east side of St. Paul, one of my toughest neighborhoods, needed help, not growth. That area had taken part in the surrounding economic boom because the buildings were in total disrepair and businesses were looking to move out, not move in. It would have been an impossible situation if not for CDBG. But thanks to CDBG, we were able to leverage Federal funds to attract millions of private dollars to improve infrastructure and replace the blight of city sprawl with green space, and build a community center to keep kids off the street.

I was at the League of City meetings the other day and talking to the member who represents the east side of St. Paul. In that community, they had a shopping center that was blighted, with nothing there. Money flowed up through the concrete. We figured out the Good Lord was saying there was a wetland in the heart of the city. We got rid of the shopping center, got rid of the concrete, and created wetlands. Now we are telling housing in the worst areas of St. Paul; the most blighted areas are growing and prospering. Again, CDBG was an important part of it.

In other words, thanks to CDBG, Ames Lake is now moving in the right direction. St. Paul is located within Ramsey County. And like all counties with a big city, Ramsey County struggles with sort of a split identity. On one hand, it has up and coming well compared to parts of the big city. Within the city is land intense with industrial projects such as car parks and truck sites that big cities need. Now these projects are great to have when things come up and down, but when they shut down, they are so large they take whole communities with them that is happened with the Glendenning Truck Site.

St. Paul was in bad condition, and local officials knew something had to be done about it. Using CDBG, they were able to replace a dilapidated truck site with thriving businesses and jobs.
Ramsey County also used CDBG to transform the Vadnais Highlands apartment complex into safe, attractive and affordable housing.

I give another example of how community development becomes economic development. There is a town of 502 people in Minnesota called Brewster. In 1997, Brewster was awarded a one-time community development block grant. This grant allowed Brewster to renew and rejuvenate its infrastructure by tearing down its dilapidated structures and replacing them with 40 homes. As a result of this investment, when Minnesota Soybean Processors was looking for a new home, there was no better place than Brewster.

The relocation of Minnesota Soybean Processors immediately created 40 jobs. In fact, that CDBG grant is still creating jobs as Minnesota Soybean Processors are now opening a biodiesel division which will employ 10 more people.

In another example, the city of Rochester, MN, used CDBG to fund the Aldrich Memorial Nursery School, providing pre-school kids with a safe place to be while mom and dad are working.

The town of Detroit Lakes is located in Becker County, MN, and has about 7,500 residents. It is the heart of Lake Country in the land of 10,000 lakes. If you have not visited there, you should. Spend some money there while enjoying the lakes. The beach is right in front of the town. At 119 Pioneer Street is the Graystone Hotel.

St. Louis County, which is located in northern Minnesota and is one of the more rural areas in Minnesota, has also used CDBG. Since 1993, CDBG has helped create 560 jobs in St. Louis County; it has provided 2,900 residents of St. Louis County with business training resulting in 150 new start-up businesses; 450 homes were improved through local housing rehabilitation programs in the county.

Hundreds of first-time home buyers participated in a first-time home buyer program resulting in the purchase of 600 single family homes.

In St. Louis County, CDBG also helps fund community soup kitchens, emergency shelters, child daycare projects, programs combating domestic violence, and a number of infrastructure improvements such as the water treatment facility in Aurora. St. Louis County has been able to leverage $5 in private dollars for every dollar they received through the CDBG program.

CDBG works, but don’t take my word for it. Just ask the folks in Detroit Lakes, St. Paul, or St. Louis County.

I was pleased to work with Senator PATRICK LEAHY in leading a bipartisan coalition of 57 Senators in sending a message to the Senate Budget Committee signifying our strong commitment to CDBG and reminding folks that cities from Montpelier to Minneapolis need CDBG to create economic opportunity and to grow jobs.

There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

Hon. JUDD GREGG, Chairman, Committee on the Budget, U.S. Senate, Washington, DC.
Hon. KENT CONRAD, Ranking Member, Committee on the Budget, U.S. Senate, Washington, DC.

DEAR CHAIRMAN GREGG AND RANKING MEMBER CONRAD: The Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) Program funds housing rehabilitation projects, public improvements and economic development projects in communities across the nation. CDBG serves more than 1,100 entitlement communities, about 1,700 states, and more than 3,000 rural communities. We urge the Budget Committee to maintain the Federal government’s current commitment to CDBG. CDBG funds support housing development projects, and programs in Becker County.

Built in 1916 to accommodate the region’s growing tourism industry, the Graystone Hotel had since fallen on hard times. Its once grand exterior had degenerated into an unsightly mess, what was once one of Detroit Lakes’ biggest detractions. Using CDBG along with private funding, the Graystone Hotel now includes a variety of businesses and nonprofit enterprises ranging from Lakeland Medical Health Center to Godfather’s Pizza.

The Strengthening America’s Communities proposal would recreate a block grant program similar to CDBG within the Department of Commerce. The Department of Commerce, however, does not have the vital infrastructure or institutional capacity to provide a comprehensive approach to neighborhood development. HUD’s CDBG program within the Department of Commerce would require rebuilding HUD’s “infrastructure” and would result in inefficiencies, greater complexity and less aid to fewer communities, an approach which does not serve America’s communities or taxpayers. CDBG’s success depends on a locally driven, citizen participation process that provides flexibility and does not take a “one-size-fits-all” approach. The needs of Nashua, New Hampshire; Bismarck, North Dakota; Cincinnati, Ohio; and Nashua, New Hampshire are very different from the needs of Miami, Florida; El Paso, Texas; Pueblo, Colorado; or San Diego, California. CDBG is capable of addressing the diverse communities whether it is housing rehabilitation, homeownership, supported services for the elderly or children, business development or infrastructure improvements.

CDBG is one of the most effective Federal domestic programs to revitalize neighborhoods with proven results. Over 96 percent of CDBG funds went to activities principally benefitting low- and moderate-income persons. Twenty-eight percent of CDBG funds went to activities that benefit low- and moderate-income communities, 21 percent supported public improvements, 15 percent went to the provision of public services, and 7 percent supported economic development. In FY2004, CDBG housing projects assisted 168,938 households. Public service projects funded with CDBG served 33,123,613 individuals. Economic development programs funded by CDBG in fiscal 2004 created or retained 90,637 jobs for Americans and public improvement projects benefited 10,453,993 persons. CDBG has a strong record of success.

Thank you for your consideration. We look forward to working with you to ensure that taking of housing and community development activities in a coordinated and mutually supportive manner by Federal agencies and programs, as well as by communities. HUD’s community development programs coupled with HUD’s housing and homeless programs and supportive services, provide communities with a comprehensive approach to neighborhood development. Removing CDBG is like the glue that holds other Federal programs serving low-income communities together.

The Strengthening America’s Communities proposal aims to create strong accountability standards, offer flexibility to communities and create a more unified federal approach to neighborhood development. CDBG is an effective tool. The needs of Nashua, New Hampshire are very different from the needs of Miami, Florida; El Paso, Texas; Pueblo, Colorado; or San Diego, California. CDBG is capable of addressing the diverse communities whether it is housing rehabilitation, homeownership, supported services for the elderly or children, business development or infrastructure improvements.

Thank you for your consideration. We look forward to working with you to ensure that Inconsolable record of Senate proceedings. Today's Senate proceedings will be continued in the next issue of the Record.
HONORING THE CONTRIBUTIONS OF ATASCOSA COUNTY JUDGE DIANA BAUTISTA

HON. HENRY CUELLAR
OF TEXAS
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. CUELLAR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the many contributions of Judge Diana Bautista.

Judge Bautista works day after day for the betterment of the 40,000 members of Atascosa County in Texas. It is because of people like her that the legislation we do on this very floor is able to run the country so efficiently. Through her post as Judge of Atascosa County, Diana Bautista works for the betterment of the people in the community that she so vigorously serves.

Judge Bautista's service did not begin with her current position as a county judge; she has held other public service positions in law enforcement. She has been an official of the Pleasanton Police Department and the Atascosa County Sheriff's Office where she ensured the safety of the general public. It was during her tenure with public service offices such as these that she gained the necessary experience to understand what the people of Atascosa County need.

In 2002, she was elected to her post as the Atascosa County Judge, and has served there ever since. Judge Bautista always puts the people of Atascosa County first in whatever she does. She serves on numerous committees throughout the area to make sure her constituents are getting all the necessary tools from the local government they need.

Mr. Speaker, I am proud to have this opportunity to recognize the contributions of Atascosa County Judge Diana Bautista.

IN HONOR OF ALBERT O'NEILL JR.

HON. MICHAEL N. CASTLE
OF DELAWARE
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. CASTLE. Mr. Speaker, it is with great pleasure that I rise today to honor and pay tribute to Albert O'Neill Jr. upon his nomination as a Jefferson Award finalist. Mr. O'Neill Jr. is a patient care volunteer with Delaware Hospice and a member of the Delaware Lions Foundation. Mr. O'Neill Jr. is instrumental in collecting donated items and distributing them throughout the world to persons in need.

Since 1998, Mr. O'Neill has donated over 15,000 pairs of shoes and over 1.2 million pounds of donated items. Mr. O'Neill's efforts have meant that thousands of needy people have not gone without.

Mr. Speaker, I commend and congratulate Mr. O'Neill Jr. upon his nomination as a finalist for the Jefferson Award. Mr. O'Neill's selflessness serves as an example to us all.

A TRIBUTE TO JANICE Y. JONES

HON. EDOLPHUS TOWNS
OF NEW YORK
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. TOWNS. Mr. Speaker, I rise in honor of Janice Y. Jones in recognition of her strong commitment to her family and dedication to educating our children.

Janice Y. Jones was born in the Bedford-Stuyvesant neighborhood of Brooklyn, New York to James and Clara Jones. At the age of five the family moved to East New York, where Janice attended local public schools, P.S. 159, I.S. 218 and Franklin Lane High School. Janice won a scholarship to Connecticut College. After a year at Connecticut, she returned home to help her mother care for her three younger brothers due to the death of her father.

Janice went back to Lane where she was hired as an Educational Assistant. She went through the Career Training Program and obtained her degree from York College and her Teaching License.

During her tenure at Lane, she worked closely with the activities director, the guidance department and was one of the coaches for the cheerleading squad. She accompanied her mother to numerous community and school meetings as well.

Although Lane did not have a teaching position for Janice, Transit Tech High School hired her as a Special Education Teacher. After one year of teaching, Janice became the Coordinator of Student Activities at Transit Tech. The title included many duties such as the leadership program for students, senior activities, the Transit Tech Volunteer Program, SkillsUSA (VICA), and a parent and community liaison.

She worked closely with and underwent training by the Anti-Defamation League, the National Conference of Community, the Department of Justice, and the Department of Education Conflict Resolution and Negotiation Team where she now is a trainer herself. Janice has served on the Board of Trustees for New York City VICA and as the Vice Chairperson of the New York State VICA Board of Trustees.

Janice is very devoted to her students and tries to encourage them to reach for greatness and realize their potential. When time allows, she is also an active volunteer in the community.

Mr. Speaker, Janice Y. Jones has dedicated herself to her community and to educating our children. As such, she is more than worthy of receiving our recognition today and I urge my colleagues to join me in honoring this truly remarkable person.

CONGRATULATING THE FRIENDLY SONS OF ST. PATRICK OF LACKAWANNA COUNTY ON THEIR 100TH ANNIVERSARY

HON. PAUL E. KANJORSKI
OF PENNSYLVANIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. KANJORSKI. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to ask you and my esteemed colleagues in the House of Representatives to pay tribute to a group of men from the past and present who are part of a proud tradition in Northeastern Pennsylvania. The Friendly Sons of St. Patrick of Lackawanna County will celebrate its 100th anniversary on St. Patrick's Day, March 17, 2005.

The Friendly Sons of St. Patrick is a group of men who get together each year on St. Patrick's Day to partake in dinner and camaraderie in a celebration of the Irish-American experience. The Friendly Sons dinners are a tradition in Lackawanna County that have grown from about 80 men in 1906 to 1,200 this year. This year's dinner was sold out months in advance.

The Friendly Sons had its beginning as the Irish-American Society of Lackawanna County, formed by Judge Edward F. Blewitt, former Scranton Diocese Bishop M.J. Hoban, Col. F.J. Fitzsimmons and Scranton Times publisher E.J. Lynett. The organization wanted a more formal way to mark St. Patrick's Day than with the parades in downtown Scranton.

The Lackawanna County group called itself the Irish-American Society until 1940. Members felt that a hyphenated name was no longer appropriate. World War II was just beginning and the organization wanted to have people united as Americans, not identified because of their descent.

For the first few years, the dinner took place at the old Hotel Jermyn. It moved to the former Hotel Casey in 1911, where it remained for 60 years. As time went on, the Friendly Sons had to find another venue because the Hotel Casey could not accommodate the expanding guest list. Some attendees were even forced to sit in the hotel coffee shop or in the nearby Preno's Restaurant and watch the evening's festivities on tiny television monitors.

Eventually, the dinner moved again—this time to St. Mary's Center and then in 1984 to Genetti Manor in Dickson City, where it has been held since.

The dinner has earned quite a reputation for hosting one notable speaker after another. Typically, the organization tries to have two main speakers—a lay person and a member of the clergy. The list of prominent names dates back to the dinner's 1909 speaker, John Mitchell, reverend labor leader and international president of United Mineworkers of America.

President Harry S Truman spoke at the dinner twice—in 1943 and 1956. In 1943, he was a little-known senator from Missouri who spoke about foreign policy during the Cold War. In 1956, he spoke about foreign policy during the Cold War.

The dinner has also served as an example to us all.
War. When he came back to the Friendly Sons dinner in 1956, he had served two terms as president.

Perhaps the most notable speaker came in 1964. The Friendly Sons dinner was the first public appearance made by then-U.S. attorney general Robert W. Kennedy following the assassination of his brother, President John F. Kennedy. In September of that year, Robert Kennedy resigned to run for the U.S. Senate in New York. A column written 10 years later by one of his aidses stated that Mr. Kennedy made his decision to remain in public service because of the amazing support and outpouring of affection shown to him in Scranton as 2,000 people lined the streets to greet him.

Many politicians have spoken at the Friendly Sons dinner. Beginning with John K. Tener in 1911 and including our current governor, Ed Rendell, in 2003, almost all Pennsylvania governors have attended the dinner, including Lackawanna County residents William W. Scranton and the late Robert P. Casey, who himself was a member of the Friendly Sons.

My good friend former U.S. Rep. Joseph McDade is also a Friendly Sons member, spoke in 1986. U.S. senators, including Eugene McCarthy, Henry “Scoop” Jackson, John Glenn, and Delaware’s Joseph Biden—a native of Scranton—have spoken at the dinner.

Guests from abroad have also graced the stage, including former Irish Prime Ministers Garret FitzGerald and Albert Reynolds, Sinn Fein leader Gerry Adams and British Parliament member Martin McGuinness.

The Friendly Sons organization has about 900 members and elects officers each year. The president has the intimidating job of organizing the dinner and arranging for the speaker.

This year’s president is Dr. Joseph T. Kelly Sr. and the speaker is Alex Maskey, the first Catholic mayor of Belfast, Northern Ireland.

Mr. Speaker, please join me and my fellow colleagues in the House of Representatives in congratulating the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick of Lackawanna County, an organization steeped in rich traditions, as they celebrate their 100th anniversary.

Mr. STARK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to congratulate the 2005 “We the People: The Citizen and the Constitution” class of Fremont, California’s Irvington High School.

Mr. STARK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to congratulate the 2005 “We the People: The Citizen and the Constitution” class of Fremont, California’s Irvington High School in my district for winning the state championship in January.

The We the People competition is an educational project sponsored by the Council for Civic Education of Los Angeles and funded by the U.S. Department of Education. The main focus of the program is to commemorate the framing and adoption of the Constitution and the Bill of Rights and to revitalize educational programs on the Constitution in our nation’s elementary and secondary schools. It provides a course of instruction on the basic principles of our Nation’s constitutional democracy and the history of the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. Participants then enter into competitive simulated congressional hearings following the course of study.

Students who wish to participate in the program must go through an interview process the year prior to the start of the class. The applicants must answer questions similar to the ones they will be asked in the competition. Accepted applicants learn and familiarize themselves with current event topics along with curriculum taught in the class. There are six different areas that are taught in the course and each participant must become an expert in each and every area.

The participants prepare for several months before testifying to a panel made up of judges representing the community. The judges ask detailed follow-up questions regarding the presentation, which require the students to think quickly and provide spontaneous answers. They compete first at two competitions at the local level before going to the state championships. Those who win at the state level go on to compete nationally.

In January, students from ten schools representing various areas of California came to Sacramento to compete in the state We the People championship. I am proud to say that the Irvington High School team, coached by their teacher Mrs. Cook-Kallio, won the competition and will be representing California during the national finals, which will be held from April 30th through May 3rd here, in Washington, D.C.

The victory reflects the hard work and dedication these students put together after about nine months of preparation. The Irvington team spent countless hours in and out of class getting ready for the competition. Most groups stayed past 10 p.m. on some nights to take part in practice sessions where their teacher, Mrs. Cook-Kallio, along with other teachers and alumni of Irvington High School, drilled them on their subjects to try and simulate the environment of the competition.

I applaud the We the People class, Mrs. Cook-Kallio, and Irvington High School in reaching the national finals and am honored to have them represent the state of California at the national level. I join with other admirers and members in the community of Fremont in wishing a team managed by Mr. BLUM to be successful.

Mr. Speaker, I commend and congratulate Ms. Hope-Milton upon her nomination as a finalist for the Jefferson Award. Ms. Hope-Milton is a volunteer to the Stop the Violence Coalition, as the program administrator for the PlayStation Too Mentoring Program. Ms. Hope-Milton is predominately concerned with the health, welfare, and safety of young people and takes great care to make sure that they are not overlooked or forgotten.

Ms. Hope-Milton’s passion for volunteer work comes from a religious family legacy of working with today’s youth. Ms. Hope-Milton’s success is a result of her giving back what was given to her. Ms. Hope-Milton’s tireless efforts to help young people have touched the lives of many in our community.

Mr. Speaker, I commend and congratulate Ms. Hope-Milton upon her nomination as a finalist for the Jefferson Award. Ms. Hope-Milton’s selflessness serves as an example to us all.

Mr. Speaker, I am proud to honor Bexar County Constable Robert “Mike” Blount for his dedication and service to the community.

Mr. CASTLE. Mr. Speaker it is with great pleasure that I rise today to honor and pay tribute to Audrey Hope-Milton upon her nomination as a Jefferson Award finalist. Ms. Hope-Milton is a volunteer to the Stop the Violence Coalition, as the program administrator for the PlayStation Too Mentoring Program. Ms. Hope-Milton is predominately concerned with the health, welfare, and safety of young people and takes great care to make sure that they are not overlooked or forgotten.

Ms. Hope-Milton’s success is a result of her giving back what was given to her. Ms. Hope-Milton’s tireless efforts to help young people have touched the lives of many in our community.

Mr. Speaker, I commend and congratulate Ms. Hope-Milton upon her nomination as a finalist for the Jefferson Award. Ms. Hope-Milton’s selflessness serves as an example to us all.

Mr. Speaker, I am proud to honor Bexar County Constable Robert “Mike” Blount for his dedication and service to the community.

Mr. CASTLE. Mr. Speaker it is with great pleasure that I rise today to honor and pay tribute to Audrey Hope-Milton upon her nomination as a Jefferson Award finalist. Ms. Hope-Milton is a volunteer to the Stop the Violence Coalition, as the program administrator for the PlayStation Too Mentoring Program. Ms. Hope-Milton is predominately concerned with the health, welfare, and safety of young people and takes great care to make sure that they are not overlooked or forgotten.

Ms. Hope-Milton’s success is a result of her giving back what was given to her. Ms. Hope-Milton’s tireless efforts to help young people have touched the lives of many in our community.

Mr. Speaker, I commend and congratulate Ms. Hope-Milton upon her nomination as a finalist for the Jefferson Award. Ms. Hope-Milton’s selflessness serves as an example to us all.

Mr. Speaker, I am proud to honor Bexar County Constable Robert “Mike” Blount for his dedication and service to the community.

Mr. CASTLE. Mr. Speaker it is with great pleasure that I rise today to honor and pay tribute to Audrey Hope-Milton upon her nomination as a Jefferson Award finalist. Ms. Hope-Milton is a volunteer to the Stop the Violence Coalition, as the program administrator for the PlayStation Too Mentoring Program. Ms. Hope-Milton is predominately concerned with the health, welfare, and safety of young people and takes great care to make sure that they are not overlooked or forgotten.

Ms. Hope-Milton’s success is a result of her giving back what was given to her. Ms. Hope-Milton’s tireless efforts to help young people have touched the lives of many in our community.

Mr. Speaker, I commend and congratulate Ms. Hope-Milton upon her nomination as a finalist for the Jefferson Award. Ms. Hope-Milton’s selflessness serves as an example to us all.

Mr. Speaker, I am proud to honor Bexar County Constable Robert “Mike” Blount for his dedication and service to the community.
Mr. ACKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, late last year, the Standing Committee of the Chinese National People’s Congress took a very destabilizing action when it voted to submit an “Anti-Secession Law” to the full Congress, which convened on March 5. That Anti-Secession Law was subsequently adopted by the full Congress and is now Chinese law.

There can be absolutely no doubt about the intent of this law, which is to create the legal justification for a military attack against Taiwan.

The law spells out a range of activities which, if taken by the Taiwanese people and their democratically elected leaders, would legally constitute secession to the Chinese. Many of these activities, such as Constitutional reform and popular referendum, are the mainstay of any democracy. Yet the Chinese would use them as an excuse for a military attack on the 21 million people on Taiwan.

The United States fully understands Taiwan is in a very difficult bind. It is a flourishing democracy, one of the most vibrant in Asia, with freedoms of speech, the press and assembly and intense competitive free political parties. Yet it is claimed as a sovereign territory by the Chinese and has no freedom of the press, democracy and has no freedom of the press.

Mr. CASTLE. Mr. Speaker, it is with great pleasure that I rise today to honor and pay tribute to Jennifer Crouse upon her nomination as a Jefferson Award finalist. Ms. Crouse is the founder of Fun Packs. Fun Packs are for use by children patients at area hospitals to help children through difficult times in their lives. In 2001, the program was expanded to include Care Packs, which were distributed to service people who were deployed through the Dover Air Force Base. Ms. Crouse has volunteering within the community for more than 10 years, and has logged more than 3,200 volunteer hours.

Ms. Crouse’s volunteer efforts have touched the lives of many in our community. Ms. Crouse is a deserving candidate for the Jefferson Award.

Mr. Speaker, I commend and congratulate Ms. Crouse upon her nomination as a finalist for the Jefferson Award. Ms. Crouse is truly worthy of this honor.

Mr. TOWNS. Mr. Speaker, I rise in honor of Beatrice Jackson-Walls in recognition of her commitment to her church and her community.

Beatrice is a vivacious, effervescent Virginia Belle. A member of Cornerstone Baptist Church in Brooklyn for 57 years, she has dedicated her teenage and young adult life to serving in the Youth Fellowship, Young People’s Choir and as a teacher in the Baptist Training Union, Junior Department.

Professionally, Beatrice serves Cornerstone Baptist Church as a skillful efficient Administrative Assistant and has had the honor and pleasure of working with three spiritual giants: the late Pastor Emeritus, Reverend Dr. Sandy F. Ray; the Reverend Dr. Harry S. Wright; and her present Pastor, the Reverend Lawrence E. Aker, III.

Artistically, Beatrice is a gifted soprano soloist in the Senior Choir and has performed in concerts throughout the New York Metropolitan area, including Carnegie Recital Hall and the prestigious St. Peters Church in Manhattan. A past Sunday School Teacher, she continues to utilize her educational and volunteer leadership skills as Secretary of the Board of Directors of the Cornerstone Day Care Center, Inc., Chair of Special Projects of the Capital Fund Raising Committee, President of the Senior Choir, Corresponding Secretary of the Brooklyn Ecumenical Choir of Bedford-Stuyvesant, and Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Food Pantry. She also served on the Board of Directors of the American Lumen Missionalist Association.

As a product of the school systems in Virginia and Delaware, she pursued her education at New York Community College (now New York Technical College) in Brooklyn. She is the recipient of numerous religious, community and business awards and honors. Her hobbies include stained glass designing, traveling, serving, gardening, poetry and people.

God blessed her with 39 years of marriage to the late Deacon Joseph M. Walls. She is the mother of two sons, Joseph Darryl senior church and Darryl Christopher and the grandmother of three of the most precious and special children, Jasmyne Marie, D. Christopher II, and Amara Aurelia.

Mr. Speaker, Beatrice Jackson-Walls has strengthened our community through her numerous volunteer efforts. As such, she is more than worthy of receiving our recognition today and I urge my colleagues to join me in honoring this truly remarkable person.

Mr. CUELLAR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the many accomplishments of Hays County Commissioner Susie Carter.

Susie Carter is a proud lifelong citizen of Hays County. She and her husband, John, live on the same farm where Susie grew up. She earned degrees from Southwest Texas State University and the University of Texas at Austin, and returned to rural Hays County to serve her neighbors.

Susie has served Hays County in a variety of capacities: as a health professional, college instructor, character education consultant, and public servant. She was elected President of the Concerned Taxpayers of Hays County, and remains an advocate for taxpayer rights and fiscal responsibility.

As county commissioner, Susie has consistently worked to make Hays County a better place to live. She led the reconstruction of some of the county’s worst roads, installed traffic signals to make intersections safer, passed resolutions to protect the local environment and water supply, and fought against illegal dumping. She has been an advocate for low taxes and budget discipline, and a watchdog for the rights of taxpayers and local government. Susie Carter has been a farsighted and effective advocate for her county.

Mr. Speaker, I am honored to have had this opportunity to recognize the many achievements of Hays County Commissioner Susie Carter.

Mr. Kanjorski. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to ask you and my esteemed colleagues in the
Mr. Hinchey, a native of Kingston, is the son of the late John H. Hinchey Jr. and Margaret Jennings Hinchey. He has three brothers: John III, Frank and Edward.

Michael had a distinguished professional career as vice president of the Matheson Transfer Company. He is also co-owner and vice president of Matheson Warehouse Company, where he still serves in his official capacity along with his three brothers.

Michael is a member of St. Ignatius Church in Kingston, as well as the Church's Holy Name Society. He was a past president of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick in 1984 and was dinner chairman in 1983. Michael is a founding Legacy Member of the Forty Fort Lions Club, an organization in which he served as president, vice president and secretary. He is a board member, golf chairman and building chairman of the Fox Hill Country Club and an active member of the Westmoreland Club as development chairman, historical committee chairman and golf club co-chairman. He is also a committee member of the Pennsylvania Movers Storage Association.

Michael is an active member of many service organizations, including the American Heart Association, American Red Cross, American Cancer Society, Boy Scouts, Keystone College, King's College, St. Vincent de Paul Kitchen, United Way, YMCA and Wilkes University.

Michael has been married to the former Sharon Cravatta for 28 years. He is the proud father of two beautiful daughters, Westyn Layne and Collyn Michael.

Michael was raised by two wonderful parents who instilled in him a love of family and devotion to community. Michael attributes his pride in his Irish heritage to his grandfather, who was a first generation immigrant.

Mr. Speaker, please join me in congratulating Michael Patrick Hinchey upon being named Man of the Year by the Wilkes-Barre Friendly Sons of St. Patrick.

CONSTRUCTIVE DEMOCRATIC DEVELOPMENT IN TURKEY

HON. ALCEE L. HASTINGS OF FLORIDA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. HASTINGS of Florida. Mr. Speaker, we spend a great deal of time in this chamber speaking about democracy and how to ensure its existence, the value of it and how to install it abroad. Encouragingly, one of our most important friends and allies, Turkey, has worked very hard over the past few years to deepen, strengthen and ensure democracy in that country.

Over the past several years Turkey has debated, in the fullness of an open legislative process, measures covering human rights, foreign investment, governance, protection of minority interests, freedom of speech and association. A majority of the duly elected members of that body have voted in the affirmative to amend old laws and pass new ones. Many of these changes have been enshrined as permanent parts of Turkish law through amendments to its national constitution.

There are literally hundreds of changes but among the most important are abolition of the death penalty, ability to broadcast in minority languages, ability to be educated in minority languages and censoring civilian control over the military. While we still look forward to more improvements to their democratic infrastructure, Turkey's future looks promising.

Many of these reforms were driven by the demands of the European Union. But to be fair, and to give Turkey its due, irrespective of the reasons why there was a consideration of the need for reform, no reforms would have occurred without the political will of that nation's people and government to squarely face these issues, debate them and overturn, in some cases, policies that have been in existence since the 1923 founding of the Turkish Republic.

Last December 17th, the European Union extended the formal invitation to our friend and ally to begin discussions that will lead to eventual Turkish membership in the EU—the first predominantly Muslim nation to be so considered.

Muslim nations wrestling with the movement toward democracy. I hope all of my colleagues welcome and applaud Turkey's actions.

RECOGNIZING SANDY ALLMON ANDERSON AND HER INDUCTION INTO WOMEN IN AVIATION INTERNATIONAL PIONEER HALL OF FAME

HON. MICHAEL C. BURGESS OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. BURGESS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to commend Sandy Allmon Anderson, from Lewisville, located in the 26th Congressional District of Texas, for her contributions of women in the aviation field.

I congratulate Sandy Anderson for this outstanding achievement. Anderson helped pave the way for women in aviation. She was the first female pilot to check-out in the left seat and the captain's seat, of both the Boeing 727 and 747, first Northwest Airlines Boeing 727 female instructor and check airman, first female Fleet Check Captain among the major U.S. airlines, and the first and only female chief pilot that Northwest Airlines has ever had. Ms. Anderson is the senior female on every flight she takes and one of five females on the Boeing 747–400. She was the second female hired to Northwest Airlines some twenty-two years ago. As a fellow pilot, I recognize the dedication and continual commitment to education that flying demands.

Ms. Anderson was inducted into the Lewisville High School Hall of Fame in 2001 and honored as a Distinguished Alumni at Texas Woman's University in 1996. Sandy Anderson established and managed the first endowment fund as a founding board member representing the airline aviation industry for international organization. In the first seven years of the fund's existence, it has distributed more than $3 million in aviation scholarships.

Today, Anderson speaks at conferences and seminars. She is a master at the message of reaching for your dreams. She has an especially close connection with the young girls who have dreams of being in traditionally male occupations. Anderson believes that these girls need support along the way if they too are to accomplish their dreams.

I am proud of representing such a heroine. Sandy Anderson is an astonishing example of a determined person who would not settle and manage to make her dreams a reality regardless of the odds. She is a role model not only to women but also for everyone who has obstacles to overcome in reaching their goals.

INTRODUCTION OF LEGISLATION CONDEMNING RELIGIOUS PERSECUTION AND INTOLERANCE IN INDIA

HON. JOHN CONYERS, JR. OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. CONYERS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today on behalf of Mr. Pitts and myself to introduce this Resolution to condemn the alleged statements and actions of complicity by the government authorities in Gujarat, led by Chief Minister Narendra Modi, in the face of the religious persecution of the Gujarati people.

In February of 2002, India experienced its greatest human rights crisis in a decade: orchestrated violence against Muslims in the state of Gujarat that claimed at least 2,000 lives in a matter of days. Three years after that horrific incident, Narendra Modi, the Chief Minister of Gujarat has been indicted by various Indian and International human rights organizations for lending his hand to the violence.

Mr. Modi himself has not been shy about proudly professing his anti-Christian, anti-Muslim, and anti-tribal stances. He has repeatedly dehumanized the Muslim population of his state by accusing them of treachery; he has actively sought to interfere in the practice of the Christian faith in Gujarat, and he has caused wide-scale displacement of indigenous populations in the State in the face of stiff popular resistance. I find Mr. Modi's actions to be of the most reprehensible sort.

In an article in the Hindu Times on March 2, 2005, former Indian President K.R. Narayanan stated that "there was a 'conspiracy' between the BJP governments at the Centre and the state behind the 2002 Gujarat riots . . . "4. Further, a number of Indian human rights organizations, international human rights organizations, and a former Supreme Court Justice all recognize Chief Minister Modi's complicity in the violence.

He has attacked Muslims and Christians with vile venom, and according to both India's highest court and many international human rights groups, has condoned terrible, violent religious hate crimes, all the while, shielding those said to have committed them. In fact, in a scathing indictment of Mr. Modi, the Supreme Court of India referred to the Chief Minister's actions as "the modern day Nero". Moreover, in a recent unprecedented order, the Supreme Court of India ordered the reopening of all the criminal cases that Mr. Modi has closed, regarding over 2000 police cases in which the non-Hindu victims filed reports of rapes, killings, and destruction of their property.

Such actions by high ranking government officials of any religion are unacceptable and must not be tolerated.
I urge my colleagues to join me in condemning religious intolerance and promoting religious freedom, so that others may see what our great democracy stands for.

REMEMBERING THE LIFE OF FORMER U.S. REPRESENTATIVE WILLIAM LEHMAN

HON. ALCEE L. HASTINGS
OF FLORIDA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. HASTINGS of Florida. Mr. Speaker, today we mark the passing of William Lehman, retired Member of this august body and exemplary human being. Mr. Lehman was born in Selma, Alabama on October 5, 1913. His reputation for honesty was developed early in life when he moved to Miami and opened a used car business. Television viewers got to know “Alabama Bill” through his commercial advertising. Auto buyers in Dade County quickly realized that he always treated his customers fairly.

In the early 1960s, he began teaching English literature in Dade County public schools, where he was highly valued and greatly respected by his colleagues and his students. Building on his success as an educator, he was elected to the school board in 1966 and became its chairman in 1970.

In 1972, Bill ran for Congress in the newly created 13th District, winning easily. From then until his retirement in 1992, he was a tireless advocate for the citizens of northeast Dade County. He quickly rose to a position of prominence in the House of Representatives, becoming chairman of the Appropriations Committee’s subcommittee that oversaw highways, seaports and mass transit systems. Public transit was always important to Bill Lehman, as he knew it was a lifeline to employment, grocery shopping, doctor visits and other necessary services for poor and working class citizens.

In addition to normal Congressional business, Mr. Lehman’s career in the House of Representatives was noted for many remarkable deeds. Among those were his trips to Cuba and Argentina to secure the release of political prisoners and the brave venture of smuggling an artificial heart valve into the Soviet Union to save the life of a critically ill woman. Throughout his career in Congress, Bill Lehman was known as an “unbending liberal.” This is one of many characteristics that endeared him to me. He was a friend of more than thirty years, a mentor and a very important role model. By his very nature, he was a constant source of inspiration and encouragement to people who want to give all they can to their communities.

Mr. Speaker, Judge Bruni is not alone a public servant but also a father of two amazing children Fredrick and Allison, and I am proud to that him for everything he had done for our community.

HONORING THE CONTRIBUTIONS OF WEBB COUNTY JUDGE LOUIS BRUNI

HON. HENRY CUELLAR
OF TEXAS
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. CUELLAR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to tell the Congress about a man who works constantly to ensure the people of Webb County Texas get the services they need from the local government. Judge Louis Bruni is and always has been committed to working for others; he is the ideal public servant.

The sixth-generation Laredoan has held multiple positions of service to the community from his first position in 1984 as a Laredo City Councilman up to his current position as the Webb County Judge. Every post Judge Louis Bruni has occupied he has pumped out results to the people he so faithfully serves. As Laredo City Councilman he played an influential role in securing funding for roads and recreational areas within his district and also was a driving force behind the construction of the city library.

In 2001 he was elected to serve as the Webb County Judge. It can be seen in this position that he currently holds how dear to his heart the people of Webb County are. He has efficiently allocated the resources of Webb County to better serve the populace in a countless number of ways. Take for instance his environmentally conscious idea of turning all carbon-based waste materials into electric power creating an extra energy source sufficient enough to power 800 additional households. Not only is he a crusader for the proper usage of the environment, he also wants to ensure all his fellow members of Webb County get the first-class economy they deserve. His life in the public sphere should be a model for people who want to give all they can to their communities.

Mr. Speaker, Judge Bruni is not alone a public servant but also a father of two amazing children Fredrick and Allison, and I am proud to that him for everything he had done for our community.

IN MEMORY OF JUNE RITCHIE CHAMBERS, M.D.

HON. ANNA G. ESHOO
OF CALIFORNIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Ms. ESHOO. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the memory of a distinguished American, Dr. June Ritchie Chambers, who died on January 24, 2005, at the age of eighty.

June Ritchie was born in Parkersburg, West Virginia, and graduated from West Virginia University. She attended its School of Medicine before transferring to the Western Reserve University School of Medicine in Cleveland, Ohio. She completed residencies in Internal Medicine and Psychiatry at Charleston Area Medical Center Memorial Hospital, practicing Psychiatry at Shawnee Hills and working as an Internal Medicine specialist as well.

June Ritchie Chambers was married to her husband John T. “Jack” Chambers, also a Charleston physician, for 57 years. In 2002, together with their son and wife, John and Elaine Chambers, her constituents, they donated $1.5 million to their alma mater, West Virginia University, establishing a program to train students in electronic business techniques.

Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in extending our deep sympathy to the family of June Ritchie Chambers and to honor her lifetime of remarkable accomplishments and service to her community and her country.

HONORING THE ACCOMPLISHMENTS AND CONTRIBUTIONS OF MRS. MARGIT WORSHAM

HON. WILLIAM L. JENKINS OF TENNESSEE
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. JENKINS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Mrs. Margit Worsham, a resident of the First Congressional District of Tennessee. Mrs. Worsham is being recognized for her extraordinary efforts by the Tennessee General Assembly, and I would appreciate having the opportunity to recognize her efforts by the United States House of Representatives as well.

Margit, along with her husband Earl, has been a tireless contributor to Sevier County, Tennessee. Through her efforts she has been directly involved and/or responsible for raising over $2,500,000 in benefits to aid those in need.

Margit has served as the Sevier County United Way Chairman, breaking fundraising records during her tenure. She has also served in a variety of capacities within the community; serving as Board Chair of the Sevier County Arts Council, Board Member of the Gatlinburg Gateway Foundation, Board member of Leadership Sevier, member of the Gatlinburg First and Lasting Impressions Committee, Board Member of the Sevier County Bear & Boar Club, and the Sevier County Representative on the Nine Counties One Vision organization. On top of that, Margit has also served as an organizing member of Gatlinburg’s Fourth of July Parade, Taste of Autumn event, Vision Conference, and the Leadership Sevier Graduation Event.

While those missions should be enough to keep Margit fully occupied, she also serves with several conservation groups working to protect the Great Smoky Mountains National Park and the Atlantic Salmon.

When asked to describe her personality, a fellow volunteer remarked that her enthusiasm, friendliness, positive attitude, and energy made her a natural leader. It was also noted that Margit never delegates a job she is not willing to do herself, and never asks for contributions until and unless she has done so herself.

Mr. Speaker, residents like Margit Worsham are the reason many local communities flourish. Margit, and thousands like her, contributes so much time and effort to ensure that important causes and important people continue to be assisted or protected. We should always recognize these valuable personal assets to our local communities, and I ask that the House join me in honoring this remarkable woman.
IN HONOR OF ROBERT BRANDT

HON. MICHAEL N. CASTLE
OF DELAWARE
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. CASTLE. Mr. Speaker, it is with great pleasure that I rise today to honor and pay tribute to Robert Brandt upon his nomination as a Jefferson Award finalist. For nearly 19 years, Mr. Brandt has aided Delawareans confronting personal crisis. Mr. Brandt has logged over 8,000 hours of volunteer service and over 3,000 hours as a help line listener.

Mr. Brandt's tireless dedication to the well being of others is an inspiration to all Americans. Mr. Brandt has touched the lives of countless individuals as one of the organizations most committed rape crisis volunteers. He is a most worthy candidate for the Jefferson Award and a truly outstanding Delawarean.

Mr. Speaker, I commend and congratulate Mr. Ellison upon his nomination as a finalist for the Jefferson Award. Mr. Brandt's selflessness serves as an example to us all.

A TRIBUTE TO MAGGIE HARVEY

HON. EDOLPHUS TOWNS
OF NEW YORK
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. TOWNS. Mr. Speaker, I rise in honor of Maggie Harvey who has committed herself strengthening her community and has had an accomplished thirty-year career in finance.

Maggie was born in Georgetown, Guyana. The second of two girls and two boys, she was born to Unc and Gwendoline Harris-Haynes. She was baptized in St. George Cathedral.

During her early years, she was dedicated as a soldier in the Salvation Army and worshiped at the Citadel Corp. She received her early education and professional training in Guyana and upon graduation, accepted the position of personal secretary to the Divisional Commander of the Salvation Army.

In 1970, she immigrated to the United States and married Ronald Harvey, who is also Guyanese. Maggie and Ronald have three daughters.

During her 30 years of employment with JP Morgan Chase & Co., she has worked in various departments of the bank. Presently, she is in the Legal Department, Corporate Compliance/Money Laundering and Foreign Assets Control.

In 1988, she was received into fellowship at Miracle Temple Ministries in Brooklyn (formerly Church of the First Born), where Bishop E. Stewart is the Pastor. She serves on the Bishop's Anniversary Committee and also has responsibility for the Church's weekly bulletin.

She is also a Home League Member of the Salvation Army Bedford Temple Corp. in Brooklyn. Members of the organization sew handmade blankets, lap throws, cosmetic bags for personal items and smocks, which are given to the homeless, sick and nursing home shut-ins. Maggie finds this work very rewarding, and takes a leading role in the organization as the Service Chairperson for the Home Leaguers. She looks forward to doing greater things through Christ, which strengthens her.

Mr. Speaker, Maggie Harvey has served her community while launching a successful career in the financial industry. As such, she is more than worthy of receiving our recognition today and I urge my colleagues to join me in honoring this truly remarkable person.

CONGRATULATING JAMES CONLON JR. AS HE IS NAMED MAN OF THE YEAR BY THE GREATER PITTSTON FRIENDLY SONS OF ST. PATRICK

HON. PAUL E. KANJORSKI
OF PENNSYLVANIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. KANJORSKI. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to ask you and my esteemed colleagues in the House of Representatives to pay tribute to James Conlon Jr. as he receives the Man of the Year Award from the Greater Pittston Friendly Sons of St. Patrick on St. Patrick's Day, March 17, 2005.

Mr. Conlon is a lifelong resident of Inkerman. He is the son of the late James and Mary McAndrew Conlon. James graduated from Jenkins Township High School in 1944 and was drafted into the Army the following September. He served overseas with the Third Army, 90th Division, fighting in campaigns in Central Europe and Rhineland, Germany.

In 1956, James took a position with the Wilkes-Barre Record and worked there until 1978, when unionized workers went on strike and formed The Citizens' Voice newspaper. He was a member of the board of directors of The Citizens' Voice and was foreman of the plate department until he retired in 1989.

James has been a member of the Jenkins Township Volunteer Fire Department since 1948 and served as Fire Chief from 1970 through 1991. He also belonged to the Luzerne County Fire Chiefs Association and the Greater Pittston Mutual Aid.

James is a member of the Greater Pittston Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, Fox Hill Country Club, Knights of Columbus JFK Council #372 as Fourth Degree Knight, and a lifelong member of St. Mark's Church.

James and his wife, the former Jean McGarry, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary last year. The couple has five children: James III, Mary Jo Pacchioni, William, Robert and Maureen Fetchko. They have seven grandchildren: Kathryn, James IV, Kelly, Mary Kate, William Jr., Michael and Megan.

Mr. Speaker, please join me in congratulating James Conlon Jr. upon being named Man of the Year by the Greater Pittston Friendly Sons of St. Patrick.

HONORING THE DEDICATION OF HARLANDALE INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT BOARD MEMBER JOSHUA J. CERNA

HON. HENRY CUELLAR
OF TEXAS
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. CUELLAR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the dedication of Harlandale Independent School District Board Member Joseph J. Cerna, of my Congressional District for a lifetime of distinguished public service.

Mr. Cerna is a San Antonio native and a graduate of Harlandale High School. He received a Bachelor's of Science Degree at Mississippi State University. He is serving his community as an educator, contributing much of his time and efforts to educational matters.

Joshua Cerna was elected to District 1 Board of Trustees in 2002, and through his years of service he has held the position of the Board’s Vice President, Secretary, and currently he serves as President. His active role in the District has led him to join various committees such as the Building Committee, Finance Committee, and for the past three years he has been the Chairman of the Curriculum Committee.

Mr. Cerna was one of the architects of the Bexar County School Board Coalition, which brings together different School Board leaders to communicate ideas that will lead to a higher level of education for students, parents, and teachers. He also serves as a member of the TASB Legislative Advisory Council, and TASB School Board Advisory network.

Mr. Speaker, I am proud to have had this opportunity to thank Harlandale Independent School District Board President Joshua J. Cerna for all he has done in my community.

TRIBUTE TO DAWN STALEY

HON. ROBERT A. BRADY
OF PENNSYLVANIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. BRADY of Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, I rise to honor Dawn Staley, a three-time Olympic and World Championship gold medalist who is also the outstanding coach of the Temple University women's basketball team. The team, the Temple Women's Owls, just last week captured the Atlantic Ten Conference NCCA tournament championship. The Owls team has won a school record 27 games which includes the last 24 which represents the longest current winning streak for any Division I basketball team, men's or women's.

As a member of the 2004 U.S. Olympic team Ms. Staley was voted by other U.S. team Olympic captains to carry the flag and lead the U.S. delegation into the coliseum, in Athens, Greece. A fixture on U.S. basketball teams since the 1989 Junior World Championship, she competed in the old American Basketball League (ABL) from 1997–1999 where she was a two-time all ABL honoree. She is also just one of three University of Virginia Cavaliers to have their number retired. She twice was named National Player of the Year, during her junior and senior seasons at UVA.

Born in North Philadelphia, as a young girl Ms. Staley played basketball with the boys as a way of staying out of trouble. She attended Dobbins High School and the University of Virginia, where she was all-American. As a sports phenomenon she strives to be the role model that she says she was in search of as a child. In 1996 she created the Dawn Staley Foundation whose mission is to create a future of hope for at-risk youth by providing opportunities to help them realize their dreams and become productive and responsible citizens.

Because of her efforts to give back to recognizing tom harpool for his endless community service

hon. michael c. burgess
of texas
in the house of representatives
wednesday, march 16, 2005

mr. burgess. mr. speaker, i rise today to commend tom harpool, from denton, texas, in the heart of the 26th congressional district of texas, for his dedicated service to the community.

tom harpool makes helping his community a high priority in his life. he has spent so much of his time dedicated to assisting others in throughout the community. from education to banking, tom harpool has made a difference in our lives.

in 1954, mr. harpool began the first of six terms on the denton independent school district board of trustees serving as its board president from 1969 until 1973. mr. harpool has also been a part of the united way of denton county, boy scouts of america, 4-h club and saint andrew presbyterian church for years. in addition, mr. harpool has served on the boards of a local bank and savings & loan before becoming a board member of the upper trinity river authority.

in his own, mr. harpool has become a “master gardener” and enjoys sharing this hobby with the community through a gardening organization. he has been an active member of the kiwannis club for over 50 years and dutifully served on their board. mr. harpool has even dabbed in politics by being an active supporter of many candidates in both local and national races.

i am proud to represent tom harpool—a man who has given so much back to his community. mr. harpool’s advice, council and support to the community, whether directly or indirectly, over the years, are certainly something for which to be thankful. i am grateful that can represent such wonderful citizens like mr. harpool.

tribute to temple beth jacob on the occasion of the seventy-fifth anniversary of its founding honor. anna g. eshoo

of california
in the house of representatives
wednesday, march 16, 2005

ms. eshoo. mr. speaker, i rise today to honor temple beth jacob as it celebrates the 75th anniversary of its founding. as the oldest congregation on the san francisco peninsula, temple beth jacob stands as a testament to the long tradition of involvement of the jews in religious and public life in the bay area.

founded in 1930, temple beth jacob was the first jewish religious institution created between the cities of san francisco and san jose. its membership today is burgeoning with a vibrant congregation of more than 450 families from throughout the peninsula to worship, to learn, and to strengthen both the jewish community and the bay area community as a whole.

the congregation is led by rabbi nathaniel ezrany, who is now in his tenth year as the head of this congregation. over the years, he’s demonstrated a sincere commitment to translating the lessons of faith into actions that will benefit the community. in a 1995 interview, he said, “what’s compelling for me is the social justice of judaism. i want our congregation to respond together to domestic violence, aids, black-jewish relations. my passion is teaching, but the pulpit allows me the opportunity to teach in many different ways and to create meaning and relevance.” he lives with his wife, mimi, and their daughter, emily, and son, ethan, in redwood city.

in the decades before rabbi ezrany began at the synagogue, rabbi h. david teitelbaum led the congregation at temple beth jacob for 38 years. under his leadership, the congregation grew from only 100 active families to its present size of nearly four times that number. a longtime advocate for civil rights, rabbi teitelbaum traveled to selma, alabama in the 1960’s to march with dr. martin luther king, jr., believing that the history of persecution of the jews is a prerequisite to making the human rights of all. he continues to serve as a beacon for the community and his former congregation in his current role as executive director of the board of rabbis of northern california.

temple beth jacob has a long tradition of coordinating with other religious institutions in the bay area to provide vital services to the community at large. in addition to providing a school and a pre-school to the community, temple beth jacob’s efforts have helped to house the homeless through the interfaith homeless network and feed the hungry through the urban ministry’s “breaking bread” program. they are annual cosponsors of the martin luther king observance in redwood city, and have hosted the event over the years. all told, temple beth jacob is a model of dedicated community action.

mr. speaker, i’m proud to honor temple beth jacob as it celebrates its 75th anniversary. after three quarters of a century, temple beth jacob remains a source of pride for the peninsula, and promises to be a center of our community for decades to come.

united states and russia energy dialogue

hon. pete sessions
of texas
in the house of representatives
wednesday, march 16, 2005

mr. sessions. mr. speaker, much attention has been paid to the recent conversations president bush and president putin have had about democracy. less attention has been paid to their other discussions regarding market economies, supply and demand, and u.s. energy security.

although there are varying ideas in american public discourse about the proper role of government, in the post-september 11th world there can be no disagreement that our government’s main concern is security of american citizens. national security discussions usually focus on threats to public safety, but i would like to call attention to a less-noticed facet of american security: the importance of our energy security.

strengths of our nation is our access to affordable, reliable energy. safeguarding that energy security means ensuring that access to energy continues.

in earlier administrations, energy policies concentrated on lowering the united states’ increasing dependence on imported oil. but the oil embargo of 1973 changed america’s approach to energy policy. the focus shifted to reducing dependence on other countries to meet our energy needs and to minimizing the economic impact of future oil disruptions. the measures put in place (enhanced energy efficiency, increased industrial fuel switching capabilities, decreased use of oil for power generation, and others) altered america’s use of energy by decoupling energy growth from gdp growth and decreasing our average energy intensity, importing less of the u.s. less vulnerable to oil supply disruptions. other measures such as developing strategic stocks (building and filling the strategic petroleum reserve, or spr), developing international institutions to respond collectively to energy disruptions.

the sources of oil imported into the united states have brought more certainty and stability to the energy market. while energy security policies have not stopped oil disruptions (nor stopped the growth of oil imports which are at 58 percent of day’s consumption) they have enhanced our ability cope with disruptions while limiting economic and market impacts.

diversifying the sources of energy refers to both fuel and geographic diversity, as well as working to develop other types of energy supplies. increasingly, america is looking to imports of liquefied natural gas (lng) to fill the supply gap with diverse, reliable, long-term supplies as united states demand increases, domestic supplies decrease and imports. the bush administration has identified liquefied natural gas (lng) imports as one way important way to decrease our over-dependence on a small number of countries.

russia plays an important role in both gas and oil markets, as the location of the world’s largest gas reserves and the world’s largest producer and exporter. in the international oil market, russia is challenging saudi arabia as the largest crude oil producer. the bush administration recognized russia’s increased importance in energy markets, and launched an energy dialogue in may 2002 to enhance united states investment opportunities in russia and to enhance russian opportunities for energy trade with the united states.

results under the energy dialogue have been mixed. american company investment opportunities in russia have been dampened by recent events. despite president putin’s attempts to mollify the international investment community by indicating that russia is open to foreign investment, the russian investment environment has deteriorated through actions undermining the rule of law and contract sanctity such as renationalizing oil assets and limiting bidding on strategic leases in oil, gas, and mining sectors. u.s.-russian oil trade, however, has been stymied through lack of russian infrastructure (a deepwater port that would make it economical to ship crude in large vessels to the U.S.) and pipeline decisions directing future crude oil shipments to the Far East. The more rational, economic choice of a pipeline to the Barents Sea in the north of Russia and the development of a deepwater port near Murmansk has been delayed despite backing by both Russian and American firms.

But there is positive news coming from the Russian gas market, which is dominated by Gazprom, of which the government owns 38 percent. Gazprom exports one third of its production to Europe via pipeline supplying about 25 percent of Europe's gas needs. Over the last two or three decades of service, there has been only one day of interruption in gas service due to a payment problem in Belarus. Gazprom now is seeking to expand and diversify its markets, through both expansion of its pipelines and entry into the LNG trade. Gazprom spoke at the U.S. LNG Summit in December 2003, and the U.S. held a workshop at Gazprom's headquarters in June 2004, again urging Gazprom to focus on the U.S. market. President Alexsey Miller signed agreements last year with three U.S. multinationals to explore developing Russian gas and LNG facilities, and marketing the LNG to the U.S. In fact, Gazprom expects to enter the U.S. LNG market indirectly by 2006, and directly by 2010. After the summit meeting, the joint communiqué from President Bush and President Putin referred to this issue, saying, "We are interested in increasing U.S. commercial investment in Russia, so as to create additional capacity for liquefied natural gas (LNG) in Russia, and also with the aim of increasing LNG exports to U.S. markets. We would welcome increased Russian gas exports to the world market and an increased presence of imports from Russia in the United States." That would be welcome news to the U.S. market.

The U.S. must remain engaged in the U.S.-Russia Energy Dialogue, despite recent adversities. We should not shrink from discussing these setbacks openly, frankly and seriously. But we need to support the May 2002 agreement to increase energy trade between the U.S. and Russia in both oil and gas, since it would enhance U.S. energy security through diversification of supply, while helping to stabilize Russia's economy and tie its interests to American success. Both countries will benefit from a long-term, stable trade in both oil and gas.

IN HONOR OF VIRGINIA LANIER BIASOTTO

HON. MICHAEL N. CASTLE

OF DELAWARE

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. CASTLE. Mr. Speaker, it is with great pleasure that I rise today to honor and pay tribute to Virginia Lanier Biasotto upon her nomination as a Jefferson Award finalist. Ms. Biasotto is the founder of Reading Assist® Institute. This institute is a nonprofit organization that trains volunteer tutors to implement a one-on-one help method using scientific research-based instruction for struggling readers. This program is provided at no cost to families or schools.

Beginning in 1980, Ms. Biasotto developed a reading curriculum based on the Orton-Gillingham model, and trained friends at her kitchen table. One sound at a time, one child at a time, the groups persistence offered the education community a way to deal with the challenge of reading difference.

Mr. Speaker, I commend and congratulate Ms. Biasotto upon her nomination as a finalist for the Department of Education's distinguished community service awards. Ms. Biasotto's determination and drive to educate and empower others serves as an example to us all. She is truly worthy of this honor.
CONGRATULATING JOSEPH J. CARMODY AS HE IS AWARDED THE W. FRANCIS SWINGLE AWARD BY THE GREATER PITTSSTON FRIENDLY SONS OF ST. PATRICK

HON. PAUL E. KANJORSKI
OF PENNSYLVANIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. KANJORSKI. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to ask you and my esteemed colleagues in the House of Representatives to pay tribute to Judge Joseph J. Carmody as he is awarded the W. Francis Swingle Award by the Greater Pittston Friendly Sons of St. Patrick at their annual banquet on St. Patrick’s Day, March 17, 2005.

W. Francis Swingle, a lifelong Pittstonian, was a professor of English at King’s College and tirelessly aided the community and encouraged college students to give back to society. To that end, Judge Carmody has proven himself a worthy recipient of this award.

Judge Carmody is a lifelong resident of Greater Pittston and a former Past President of the Friendly Sons. He was elected to serve as the West Side District Justice in 2004.

Judge Carmody has been an attorney in the area for more than 27 years. In his career, he has served as First Assistant District Attorney of Luzerne County and Solicitor to the Wyoming Area School District and several municipalities. He is a member of St. Mary of Assumption Church and a 4th Degree member of the Knights of Columbus. He has served on numerous boards, including St. Michael’s School for Boys and the Fox Hill Country Club.

Judge Carmody is the son of Jule Carmody of West Pittston and the late Joseph Carmody. He is married to the former Catherine Sowa, and the couple has five children: Joseph, Christopher, Matthew, Sara and Michael.

Mr. Speaker, please join me in congratulating Judge Joseph J. Carmody as he receives the W. Francis Swingle Award from the Greater Pittston Friendly Sons of St. Patrick.

SALUTING THE GRAND OPENING OF THE TRI-STATE WARBIRD MUSEUM IN CLERMONT COUNTY, OHIO

HON. ROB PORTMAN OF OHIO
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. PORTMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to salute the grand opening on May 20, 2005 of the extraordinary new Tri-State Warbird Museum in Clermont County, Ohio.

The museum, based at the Clermont County Airport, will showcase the history of fighter planes in World War II and Vietnam. Housed in a new 20,000 square foot state of the art facility, the museum features an exhibit area for historic artifacts; a library of reference books; a classroom; a professional restoration shop for the preservation and restoration of original historic aircraft; and a storage area for specialized tools and parts.

Historic aircraft are invaluable to understanding our nation’s history, and examples of these planes are few in number and in danger of being lost forever. With the museum’s painstaking preservation efforts, they will come to life for everyone to learn from and enjoy.

Thanks to this museum, the importance of these airplanes to our enduring freedom and the sacrifice of those involved—from engineers to mechanics to the pilots—will never be lost.

The Tri-State Warbird Museum’s unique building has resulted from the hard work and expertise of man volunteers and supporters. In 2003, a group of leaders led by business leader David O’Malley, formed to preserve the memory of those who sacrificed their lives for our freedom. Museum President Paul Redlich, a pilot and professional technician with more than twenty years of historic aviation experience, closed his business and moved his family to Cincinnati to run the museum. The facility also boasts two professional technicians committed to Warbird painstaking restoration and maintenance: Greg Muir and Nathan Dalrymple.

The museum also boasts an advisory board composed of a broad group of area citizens who have unique talents and experience in aviation and history. Members of the advisory board include: Neil Armstrong; Howard Beck; Jim Bushman; Jack Brown; Joe Campanella; Mark Clark; Richard Cross; Ted Laramie; Mark Myers; Dr. Francis Nino; Buck Niehoff; David O’Malley; Jim Orr; Scott Robertson; Hal Shevers; Dudley Taft; and Oliver Waddell. Of particular note is the extraordinary commitment of the advisory board members and the museum’s capital campaign committee, who committed the museum’s entire cost being funded by private donations.

Mr. Speaker, all of us in Southern Ohio congratulate the many professionals and volunteers who have helped to make this wonderful new museum a reality.

HONORING THE CONTRIBUTIONS OF STAFF SERGEANT MICHAEL PAUL BARRERA

HON. HENRY CUELLAR
OF TEXAS
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. CUELLAR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the outstanding contributions of SSG Michael Paul Barrera, and to acknowledge the renaming of Veterans Elementary School as SSG Michael P. Barrera Veterans Elementary. After enlisting in the Army in December of 1995 at the age of 18, he completed his basic training in Fort Knox, KY. Michael was always passionate about his job and strove to be the best.

His commanding officers recognized him with such commendations and achievement awards as a Bronze Star and a Purple Heart. On April 9 of 2003 Michael was sent to Iraq with the 4th Infantry Division from Fort Hood, TX, in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom. During a routine trip for food as Michael and his crew were returning to camp, an improvised explosive device that had been buried in the sand was set off by remote control as the tank rolled over it. As a result of his injuries, Michael passed away on October 28, 2003, at the age of 26.

Michael joined a long list of family members in service. In light of his outstanding service, he was appointed Sergeant by the young age of 20. He sought to make a career in the Army, aspiring to become an ROTC instructor.

Mr. Speaker, I am honored today to have this opportunity to recognize the bravery and dedication of SSG Michael Paul Barrera.

ANTHONY BARSAMIAN SPEAKS ELOQUENTLY ABOUT THE ARMEAN GENOCIDE

HON. BARNEY FRANK OF MASSACHUSETTS
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. FRANK of Massachusetts. Mr. Speaker, last month, Anthony Barsamian, Chairman of the Board of Directors for the Armenian Assembly of America, made an eloquent speech at the "International Refuge, Relief and Recognition Tribute" hosted by the Armenian-American community in California. Mr. Barsamian eloquently stressed the importance to all of us of remembering “the history of genocide must remain inviolable and periodically affirmed regardless of political discomfort or cost so that we may learn its lessons.”

Mr. Speaker, I think it is a grave error that this Congress has not been allowed to vote on the two actions of critical importance to the Armenian-American community in California. Mr. Barsamian cogently and forcefully reminded us why such an omission is unacceptable, and I ask that his moving, thoughtful remarks be printed here.

ASSEMBLY BOARD OF DIRECTORS CHAIRMAN ANTHONY BARSAMIAN’S REMARKS AT THE “INTERNATIONAL REFUGE, RELIEF AND RECOGNITION TRIBUTE”—FEBRUARY 24, 2005

Your Eminence, Reverend clergy, Your Excellencies, Ladies and Gentlemen,

This remembrance and recognition highlights two issues of critical importance to the horrific recurrence of Genocide and the apparent impotence of the world to stop this crime against us all.

First, the history of genocide must remain inviolable and periodically affirmed regardless of political discomfort or cost so that we may learn its lessons.

Second, the actions of 3rd parties are vital to raising awareness about the crime as soon as it becomes known, to taking resolute steps to end the genocidal process, to bring to account the perpetrators, to provide comfort to the survivors, and to forever remember all instances of genocide.

This is why the Armenian Assembly joined with the AGBU and the Diocese to remember those nations and organizations that took action while the Armenian Genocide was being carried out and subsequently. Armenians remain deeply indebted to all who refused the easy path of indifference and inaction. You saved lives, you affirmed the truth, and you bore witness so that the world would be better equipped to act on the meaning of “Never Again”.

As is evident today, the Republic of Turkey refuses to accept the judgment of history that the Ottoman Turkish government committed genocide against its Armenian minority. Instead, Turkey attempts to impose its revisionism on a civilized world that knows better, but the world must remember its demands and intimidation by refraiding from affirming the truth. Nations who had initially committed to participate in this recognition commemoration withdrew in the face of such Turkish pressure. This solves nothing. The dead are not honored by their absence. The actions of the righteous are not recalled. And ironically, the descendants of the victimizers are not allowed to come to terms with the truth.

Nevertheless, we pause today as we begin this 90th commemorative year to give thanks to all nations and organizations that came to our aid—but particularly to those that attended today despite the Turkish government's campaign to stop you.

For Turkey's state-sponsored denial effort, having this event is a defeat. This is a good day for the truth. As Armenian-Americans, we recall with special appreciation the leading role of the United States in attempting to prevent the Armenian Genocide and in aiding those that survived. As Armenian-Americans, we look to the United States to continue this proud chapter of American history by reaffirming the facts of this most calamitous chapter of Armenian history. There is an inevitability to universal affirmation of the Armenian Genocide, and America has not accepted this exception.

A case in point is the recently concluded visit of U.S. Ambassador to Armenia John Evans with major Armenian-American communities across the country. In his public comments, Ambassador Evans repeatedly employed the words “Armenian Genocide” to properly characterize the attempted annihilation of our people by Ottoman Turkey.

This is in keeping with President Reagan's proclamation of April 22, 1981 where he stated in part, “like the genocide of the Armenians before it, and the genocide of the Cambodians which followed it—and like too many other persecutions of too many other people—the lessons of the Holocaust must never be forgotten”.

And also with the thrust of President Bush's 2001 to 2004 April 24 messages that set forth the textbook definition of genocide without using the word. Ambassador Evans completed the thought.

The Ambassador's characterization also is in keeping with public declarations by over 120 renowned Holocaust and Genocide scholars regarding “the incontestable fact of the Armenian Genocide”.

Further, Ambassador Evans' characterization conforms to the summary conclusion of the International Center for Transitional Justice on the use of the term Armenian Genocide. ICTJ stated that “the Events, viewed collectively, can thus be said to include all of the elements of the crime of genocide as defined in the Convention, and legal scholars as well as historians, political scientists, journalists and other people would be justified in continuing to so describe them.”

The Armenian-American community will not rest until the United States formally and irrevocably reaffirms the Armenian Genocide. By so doing, we forever advance the special role of the United States in genocide prevention.

Today, we are here to honor 17 nations who have joined the movement towards universal affirmation of the Armenian Genocide. You have appropriately remembered this instance of man's inhumanity to man. You have stepped forward to combat denial and revisionism. We will never forget your solidarity.

As Voltaire said, “to the living we owe respect, but to the dead we owe only the truth”.

Regarding S. 384, to Extend the Nazi War Crimes and Japanese Imperial Government Records Interagency Working Group for 2 Years

SPEECH OF HON. ALCEE L. HASTINGS OF FLORIDA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, March 14, 2005

Mr. HASTINGS of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of S. 384, a bill extending the Nazi War Crimes and Japanese Imperial Government Records Interagency Working Group for two years. This crucial legislation amends the Japanese Imperial Government Disclosure Act of 2000 to extend from four to six years the existence of the Nazi War Crimes and Japanese Imperial Government Records Interagency Working Group. H.R. 842 extends by two years this worthy working group, which was originally created by Cong. Rep. Tom Davis, (Iowa Publications, 105-246, legislation). The group is made up of government agency representatives who are directed to oversee the declassification of U.S. Government records that contain information about Nazi war crimes.

Such information includes trafficking of assets seized by the Nazis and post-war communications between U.S. Government and former Nazi officials, unless declassification would unduly violate personal privacy or harm national security or foreign policy interests. The law also allowed for expedited processing of Freedom of Information, requests made by survivors of the Holocaust.

On December 6, 2000, as part of the Intelligence Authorization Act for 2001, Congress changed the group's name to the Nazi War Crimes and Japanese Imperial Government Records Interagency Working Group. This action expanded the mission of the group to include the declassification of U.S. Government records related to World War II-era war crimes committed by the Japanese Imperial government.

Mr. Speaker, the Nazi War Crimes and Japanese Imperial Government Records Interagency Working Group is a valuable effort that informs the American people of the actions of their government while balancing the protection of legitimate national secrets.

I support this noble effort so that we can continue to confront this dark chapter in American history. The vicious and barbaric war crimes committed by the Nazis, and the atrocities committed by the Japanese Imperial Government during World War II, were some of the worse criminal acts of the 20th century. Both of these historical crimes against humanity must be studied and chronicled in their entirety. The acts of barbarism and genocide committed by the German Nazi and Japanese Imperial governments should never be forgotten. Therefore, it is up to the elected representatives of the American people to ensure that the United States Government complies completely with the Nazi War Crimes and Japanese Imperial Government Records Interagency Working Group and makes accessible all information that is allowable by law.

I urge my colleagues to support this bill.

Introduction of the "End Gridlock Act"

HON. JAMES P. MORAN OF VIRGINIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. MORA11 of Virginia. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to join my colleagues ELEANOR HOLMES NORTON and TOM DAVIS in introducing the "End Gridlock Act." This bill is a refinement of a proposal, the "Washington Regional Transportation Act" (H. R. 2882) that I introduced last session.

Unfortunately, this region is not yet prepared to embrace last year's proposal and establish a regional transportation authority. Last year's bill called for the creation of a regional transportation authority, one that could receive a dedicated revenue source, issue bonds and be in an ideal position to coordinate land use and transportation funding decisions. I regret that the time is not ripe for this a proposal.

I'd trade the price of a daily cup of coffee for real investments in transit and road improvements, something that would shave 10 minutes off my commute. I think a majority of the public share this view, but they have been skeptical and fear that the money raised would not be spent wisely or spent on projects that have their own built-in opposition and controversy.

The legislation I am introducing today does not to create a regional authority, it won't build new roadways. Instead, it focuses on making improvements to what already exists. It is a small but important first step that I hope builds the foundation for greater regional coordination and cooperation and builds public confidence for longer term solutions.

Believe me, we need better coordination and cooperation. We need to rebuild confidence. The legislation I am introducing today borrows from some of the best, simplest and most cost-effective proposals. Some of the ideas were drawn from local transportation and planning experts. They are small ticket items, but if they prove successful, maybe the consensus will be there to support a more ambitious agenda. The Washington Post highlighted some of these potential projects in a series featured last year.

These ideas included building side-walks and pedestrian and bike paths to connect communities to schools, transit centers, Metrorail stations and commercial centers. This legislation will provide grants to help localities synchronize traffic lights signals on major transportation corridors which will reduce travel time and improve capacity. The bill provides money to encourage more businesses to offer greater telework and telecommuting options. It will provide grants to give transit riders real-time information on bus and rail schedules so they can time their departures from home and get to a transit stop just when the bus pulls up. It will also fund advance technologies to allow buses to skip through interchanges before the traffic lights change and on and offload passengers without blocking traffic. These simple measures can be done for a few million dollars as opposed to the tens or hundreds of millions other projects require but for lack the funds are not being built and would therefore be a complete waste of money. It is said that if you can encourage just 3 percent to today's drivers to carpool or take the bus, you can reduce congestion by 10 percent.

In addition to these types of investments, the bill also allows the regional governments to fund a transportation incident management operations center. The center would be modeled after the New York-New Jersey-Connecticut program, known as TRANSCOM, where a full-time staff is focused on helping the public get around congestion problems when they occur. How many people remember the “Tractor Man” episodes? There were hundreds of law enforcement and emergency response people on the scene, but it was hours before anyone there began to try to figure out how to move traffic around when all the adjacent streets were closed. Similarly, how many times do commuters find road or utility construction closing traffic lanes in a haphazard manner. Jurisdictions should be working together to coordinate their construction schedule to minimize the time a lane along a transportation corridor remains closed. A New York-New Jersey TRANSCOM-type program for the National Capital Region would be on point for coordinating critical transportation information 24/7.

These are simple solutions, but ones that are not in the interest of any one jurisdiction to fund. But, if a federal grant was offered as an incentive, the local governments might all be willing to contribute, or better yet, compete to pull down the extra federal money. Mr. Chairman, this bill is the first step to end this region's gridlock. It gets us started and could bring measurable quality of life improvements to this region's citizens at a relatively small cost.

I will be working with my colleagues from this region to try to incorporate this proposal into this year’s surface transportation reauthorization bill.

HONORING THE CONTRIBUTIONS OF BEXAR COUNTY DISTRICT ATTORNEY SUSAN REED

HON. HENRY CUELLAR OF TEXAS IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. CUELLAR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize Susan Reed for her distinguished career in law, and her many contributions to the justice system in the state of Texas.

Susan Reed was raised in San Antonio, Texas, and graduated from Alamo Heights High School. She attended the University of Texas at Austin, where she received an undergraduate degree in Economics, and completed her JD at the University of Texas Law School in 1974.

Ms. Reed began her legal career as an Assistant District Attorney for Bexar County in 1974. She served in that position for eight years, when she became the prosecutor in the 144th and 187th District Courts.

Following a successful career in civil practice, Ms. Reed served as Judge of the 144th District Court for 12 years. She was Administrative Judge for the District Courts of Bexar County in 1996 and 1997, and spearheaded the development of the gang unit within the Adult Probation Department, which she counts as one of her proudest accomplishments. Her work on this project resulted in her being awarded the Justice of the Year Award by the Texas Gang Investigators Association.

Since 1998, Susan Reed has served the people of Bexar County as District Attorney. She is a member of the National Advisory Council on Violence Against Women, and a member of the Regional Anti-Terrorism Task Force. She has been a tireless advocate for victims of crime, and a powerful force for making our communities and our State safer.

Mr. Speaker, the people of Bexar County have benefitted greatly from Susan Reed, and I am proud to have the opportunity to thank her today.

IN MEMORY OF DR. JAMES O. MCBRIDE

HON. MICHAEL C. BURGESS OF TEXAS IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. BURGESS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to give tribute to Dr. James O. McBride, from Fort Worth in the 26th Congressional District of Texas, for his lifelong contributions to his community and to medicine. Dr. McBride started the first open-heart surgery program in Fort Worth. Dr. Brooks died on March 11th at the age of 86.

I would like to recognize and celebrate Dr. McBride's life today. Dr. McBride was a third generation Fort Worth resident. Dr. McBride graduated from Central High School before going on to college at Texas Christian University. He then went to the University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston and received his PhD in 1942. When Dr. McBride finished his internship in Fort Worth, he went on active duty with the Navy as a surgeon in the Pacific Theater. There, he received a Navy Unit Citation and nine battle stars.

Upon completion of his active duty in 1946, Dr. McBride completed medical residencies at Bellevue Hospital and Columbia Presbyterian Hospital in New York. In 1951, Dr. McBride moved back to Fort Worth where he set up a thoracic surgery practice. He was known for visiting with patients' families after performing an operation, which was virtually unheard of then. While at Saint Joseph Hospital, Dr. McBride began the first open-heart surgery program in Fort Worth. He was later promoted to chief of surgery at Saint Joseph Hospital.

Dr. McBride was also the chief of thoracic surgery at John Peter Smith Hospital.

Dr. McBride was very active in several philanthropic organizations and served on the boards of a number of boards, including the Fort Worth Chapter of the American Lung Association, YMCA's Camp Carter, Joseph White Foundation, Carter Blood Center, and Country Day School and Union Bank. Dr. McBride's contributions to the community realized his great services in 1989 when he presented with the Gold-Headed Cane Award for the Fort Worth Chapter of the American Lung Association, YMCA's Camp Carter, Joseph White Foundation, Carter Blood Center, and Country Day School and Union Bank. Dr. McBride's community work on this project resulted in her being awarded the Justice of the Year Award by the Texas Gang Investigators Association. Since 1998, Susan Reed has served the people of Bexar County as District Attorney. She is a member of the National Advisory Council on Violence Against Women, and a member of the Regional Anti-Terrorism Task Force. She has been a tireless advocate for victims of crime, and a powerful force for making our communities and our State safer.

Mr. Speaker, the people of Bexar County have benefitted greatly from Susan Reed, and I am proud to have the opportunity to thank her today.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize and celebrate Dr. McBride's life today. Dr. McBride was a third generation Fort Worth resident. Dr. McBride graduated from Central High School before going on to college at Texas Christian University. He then went to the University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston and received his PhD in 1942. When Dr. McBride finished his internship in Fort Worth, he went on active duty with the Navy as a surgeon in the Pacific Theater. There, he received a Navy Unit Citation and nine battle stars.

Upon completion of his active duty in 1946, Dr. McBride completed medical residencies at Bellevue Hospital and Columbia Presbyterian Hospital in New York. In 1951, Dr. McBride moved back to Fort Worth where he set up a thoracic surgery practice. He was known for visiting with patients' families after performing an operation, which was virtually unheard of then. While at Saint Joseph Hospital, Dr. McBride began the first open-heart surgery program in Fort Worth. He was later promoted to chief of surgery at Saint Joseph Hospital.

Dr. McBride was also the chief of thoracic surgery at John Peter Smith Hospital.

Dr. McBride was very active in several philanthropic organizations and served on the boards of a number of boards, including the Fort Worth Chapter of the American Lung Association, YMCA's Camp Carter, Joseph White Foundation, Carter Blood Center, and Country Day School and Union Bank. Dr. McBride's community work on this project resulted in her being awarded the Justice of the Year Award by the Texas Gang Investigators Association. Since 1998, Susan Reed has served the people of Bexar County as District Attorney. She is a member of the National Advisory Council on Violence Against Women, and a member of the Regional Anti-Terrorism Task Force. She has been a tireless advocate for victims of crime, and a powerful force for making our communities and our State safer.

Mr. Speaker, the people of Bexar County have benefitted greatly from Susan Reed, and I am proud to have the opportunity to thank her today.

I respected him as a fellow doctor and was honored to represent him here in Congress. I extend my sympathies to his family and friends. Dr. McBride was described by one of his sons as a “source of guidance for whoever sought his counsel.” Such a man can never be replaced and will be dearly missed.

RECOGNIZING DR. R. DUNCAN LUCE ON THE OCCASION OF HIS RECEIVING THE 2003 NATIONAL MEDAL OF SCIENCE

HON. CHRISTOPHER COX OF CALIFORNIA IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I am proud to rise today to recognize Dr. R. Duncan Luce of the University of California-Irvine for his outstanding contributions to the scientific community. Professor Luce is one of eight U.S. scientists and engineers—and one of four Californians—to receive the 2003 National Medal of Science, the Nation’s highest scientific honor.

Professor Luce is no stranger to high honors. Over his 50-year career, Professor Luce has been awarded the Society of Experimental Psychologists’ Norman Anderson Award, the Decision Analysis Society’s Frank P. Ramsey Medal, and the American Psychological Foundation’s Gold Medal for Life Achievement in the Science of Psychology. Among his many influential publications are the seminal texts Games and Decisions (1957) and Individual Choice Behavior (1959), both of which remain in widespread academic use. His pioneering work in game and choice theory has resulted in dramatic advances in the fields of economics and psychology, and is applied to a variety of disciplines, including the analysis and prediction of stock market fluctuations.

Professor Luce has made vital contributions to Orange County in the course of his 20 years of service at the University of California-Irvine. He first came to UCI in 1972 before leaving in 1975 to serve in a variety of positions at the forefront of mathematical research at some of the Nation’s finest universities, including the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Columbia University, Harvard University, and the University of Pennsylvania. In 1988, he returned to Irvine, where he created UCI’s Institute for Mathematical Behavioral Sciences, thereby reinforcing the campus’s reputation as a leader in that field. He has served on search committees for three UCI chancellors.

Mr. Speaker, I know that all of our colleagues join me in paying tribute to Dr. R. Duncan Luce. In behalf of all of us in the United States Congress, I am pleased to recognize Professor Luce’s remarkable achievements, and to thank him and his family for all that they have given to the improvement of learning and the betterment of our society.

HONORING COLONEL BILL GUINN OF PENNSYLVANIA IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. SHUSTER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Colonel Bill Guinn, Commander of...
HONORING KEITH WOOD MEURLIN

OF VIRGINIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. WOLF. Mr. Speaker, it is my pleasure to draw the attention of the House to the retirement of Keith Wood Meurlin from the position of vice president and airport manager of Washington Dulles International Airport. He will leave the end of March.

Keith has helped Washington Dulles grow from an airport that was used by few to an airport that is well respected world-wide. I remember attending an event on the runway of Dulles Airport when I was first elected to Congress. Last year alone 22.9 million passengers traveled through Dulles Airport.

As airport manager, Mr. Meurlin directed operations, maintenance, and commercial activities at Dulles, which employs nearly 7,000 people and is the sixth-busiest airport in the country in terms of aircraft operations. During Keith's tenure as airport manager, the Metropolitan Washington Airports Authority (MWAA) has invested nearly $1.5 billion in expanding the air port facilities in the late 1990's and is currently under contract with MWAA and 28 billion construction program to keep pace with current and future growth.

Mr. Meurlin came to the Washington airports in 1977 following his active duty in the United States Air Force. He began his service as an airport operations officer and successively advanced through the organization in engineering and maintenance and operations management positions before becoming the airport manager in 1989.

Mr. Meurlin helped guide Dulles after the September 11th terrorist attacks and has helped lead the way as the airport and the aviation industry have grown since that time. Last year at Dulles saw a passenger increase of almost 35 percent compared to 2003.

Keith has been extensively involved in the community. He has served on the Board of Directors of the Greater Reston and the Loudoun Chambers of Commerce; Board of Directors of the Loudoun County Convention and Visitors Association; member of Leadership Fairfax; the Board of the United Way for both Loudoun County and the National Capital Area; and is the past chairman of the Heart Association of Northern Virginia.

He was also the recipient of the 2000 Citizen of the Year award from the Loudoun Rotary and the 2002 Tower of Dulles Award from the Committee for Dulles.

In addition to his service with MWAA, Mr. Meurlin has continued his military service in the Air Force Reserve where he has attained the rank of major general, the highest rank a citizen of the United States can achieve.

I wish Keith and his family the best as he retires from his military career. I wish him for his efforts to make Dulles Airport the thriving aviation center it is today.

INTRODUCTION OF NUCLEAR DISARMAMENT AND ECONOMIC CONVERSION ACT OF 2005

HON. ELEANOR HOLMES NORTON

OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Ms. NORTON. Mr. Speaker, today, I am again introducing the Nuclear Disarmament and Economic Conversion Act, NDECA, as I have done since 1994. I have introduced this bill every year based on a ballot initiative passed by D.C. residents in 1993. NDECA will require the United States to disable and dismantle its nuclear weapons when all other nations possessing nuclear weapons enact laws to do the same. NDECA further provides that when U.S. nuclear weapons are dismantled, the resources used to support nuclear weapon programs would be diverted to our growing human and infrastructure needs, such as housing, health care, Social Security and the environment.

This year's introduction of this bill has special meaning because this is the sixtieth anniversary of the U.S. bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki. Only the United States has used an atomic bomb, but today, many nations with this capability have grown dangerously and continue without effective intervention by the Bush administration.

In addition to the economic cost of nuclear weapons, the weapons have increased as a destabilizing force in world affairs. North Korea, at least in part in response to stepped up aggressive talk and U.S. policies, has responded in a dangerously paranoiac fashion by announcing that it is expanding its nuclear capabilities and even that it now has a nuclear weapon, although these claims have not been entirely verified. Iran also appears to be pursuing greater nuclear capability and is resisting inspections. India and Pakistan have moved back from the precipice of several years ago but each remains poised with nuclear weapons.

This country must lead the world community in redoubling efforts to push back the new surge of nuclear proliferation. Our country would be better able to dissuade other nations who aspire to become or remain nuclear powers if we ourselves took greater initiative in discarding our own nuclear weapons program. We moved in the right direction when the Senate ratified the Moscow Treaty in 2003, which provides that by 2012 both the U.S. and Russia will reduce their long-range warheads to 1,000. This reduction will reach to 2,200. However, the administration has failed to build on that effort. According to a recent study, "Securing The Bomb: An Agenda for Action" May 2004; prepared by the Belfer Center, Harvard University Kennedy School of Government: "Total nuclear-threat reduction spending remains less than one quarter of one percent of the U.S. military budget. Indeed, on average, the Bush administration requests for nuclear-threat reduction spending over FY 2002—2005 have been less, in real terms, than the last Clinton administration request made long before the 9/11 attacks ever occurred."

However, the problem today is far more complicated than nuclear disarmament by nation states. The greatest threat today is from inadequately defended and guarded sites in many countries where there is enough material to make nuclear weapons and many opportunities for terrorists to secure nuclear materials. Astonishingly, because of the absence of Presidential leadership, less nuclear material are more dangerous in the post 9/11 era than at any time since I first introduced this bill in 1994.

The way to begin is closing down nuclear proliferation and available nuclear materials. Astonishingly, because of the absence of Presidential leadership, less nuclear materials are more dangerous in the post 9/11 era than at any time since I first introduced this bill in 1994. The way to begin is closing down nuclear capability here and around the world.

With 45 million people still without health insurance, Social Security without the benefits for the huge baby boomer generation, an economy burdened with a dangerous deficit, and millions of Americans pushed back into poverty during the last 4 years, the time has... come to begin the transfer of nuclear weapons funds to urgent domestic needs.

HONORING THE CONTRIBUTIONS OF WILSON COUNTY JUDGE MARVIN QUINNEY

HON. HENRY CUellar
OF TEXAS
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. CUellar. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize Wilson County Judge Marvin Quinney for a lifetime of dedicated public service.

A native Texan, Marvin Quinney grew up in Wilson County. In 1968 he worked with the Texas Department of Safety. Mr. Quinney served his community as a DPS state trooper in Wilson County for 27 years. He also served his country as a Military Police Officer in Vietnam and in the United States.

Providing a valuable service to our courts, Marvin Quinney has spent years as a Court Security Officer at the John Wood Federal Courthouse in San Antonio. He also belongs to numerous trooper organizations and participates in multiple safety projects for the citizens residing in his county.

Marvin Quinney currently serves as the County Judge of Wilson County, and currently serves as the presiding officer of the Wilson County Commissioners Court. He has been instrumental in the growth and infrastructure development of Wilson County, and serves the office with honor and distinction.

Mr. Speaker, Wilson County Judge Marvin Quinney is a credit to his community and a tremendous resource to his country. His concern for the people and his willingness to work hard has enabled him to accomplish great things and help serve the people of his community.

EXPRESSING SENSE OF HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES TO ESTABLISH “NATIONAL TARTAN DAY” RECOGNIZING ACHIEVEMENTS AND CONTRIBUTIONS OF SCOTTISH-AMERICANS

SPEECH OF
HON. RAHM EMANUEL OF ILLINOIS
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 9, 2005

Mr. EMANUEL. Madam Speaker, on behalf of nearly six thousand Scottish-Americans who live in my district, I rise today as a proud co-sponsor and in strong support of H. Res. 41.

This bipartisan resolution supports the establishment of a ‘National Tartan Day’ to recognize the outstanding achievements and contributions made by Scottish-Americans throughout our nation’s history.

In America’s early history, many colonists pursued higher education at universities founded by Scottish settlers. Many of the non-Anglican students who were prohibited from enrolling at other institutions attended these universities where the Scottish-American ideals of universal education, religious freedom and law flourished and became significant influences on the development of our Nation.

In fact, our nation’s Declaration of Independence was modeled largely on Scotland’s Declaration of Independence, the Declaration of Arbroath, which was signed four and a half centuries earlier. An often overlooked fact is that nearly half the signers of our Declaration of Independence were of Scottish descent.

Throughout our nation’s history, Scottish-Americans contributed to diverse areas of American life such as science, technology, medicine, government, politics, economics, architecture, literature, media, and visual and performing arts. President Woodrow Wilson and Andrew Carnegie are two examples of notable Scottish-Americans who excelled in these fields.

These contributions and achievements are celebrated by more than 200 cultural organizations throughout the United States. One of these organizations, the Illinois Saint Andrew Society serves the city and suburbs of Chicago, Illinois by honoring the culture and traditions of Scotland and Scottish-Americans.

These organizations provide a valuable service by educating all Americans about the time-honored values and ideals of the Scottish culture.

Madam Speaker, I thank the Scottish cultural organizations for documenting and promoting these contributions, and I am proud to be a cosponsor and support this important resolution.

IN RECOGNITION OF HEATHER RAY

HON. MARK UDALL OF COLORADO
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. UDALL of Colorado. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize an outstanding young woman in my district, Heather Ray. Heather is a sophomore at Northglenn High School. She was recently honored with the Human Rights Campaign’s 1st Annual Colorado Youth Award.

Heather was selected for her exceptional commitment to diversity.

Specifically, she was instrumental in forming a diversity group at Northglenn High School called “Students Teaching Not Discrimination” or STAND. This organization is designed to give students a safe environment to talk about issues involving sexual orientation, discrimination and the peer pressure that can often lead young people to contemplate dropping out of school, or even worse, suicide.

Heather and her fellow students in STAND have spoken out against the violence and hatred that so many young people are subjected to, and no matter what your position or religious views may be on controversial issues like gay marriage or sexual orientation, I believe we can all applaud this young woman for having the courage of her convictions, and for pursuing a constructive vehicle to explore these issues.

Heather’s teacher and mentor, Victoria Bull, describes Heather as an exceptional young person who not only cares passionately about equal rights and human dignity but is also tenacious in her desire to affect change. Heather understands the importance of language and insists that those around her take care to make sure their words reflect the values of respect due all human beings. She plans to become a lawyer or a teacher so that she can continue to educate about and defend human rights.

I ask my colleagues to join me in honoring Heather for her commitment to diversity. I join her family and friends in acknowledging her courage and idealism.

SUPPORTING THE DESIGNATION OF THE YEAR OF THE LANGUAGES

SPEECH OF
HON. BETTY MCCollum
OF MINNESOTA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Tuesday, March 8, 2005

Ms. MCCollum of Minnesota. Mr. Speaker, as a member of the Education and Workforce and the International Relations committees, I rise in strong support of H. Res. 122, Mr. Holt’s resolution to support and encourage the study of languages in the United States.

The promotion and expansion of language studies will ensure our nation’s ability to compete in a global marketplace of the 21st Century. The United States needs a skilled workforce in government, national security, the scientific community and business who possess the language and cross-cultural skills to successfully engage our global community.

While colleges and universities across the U.S. provide for the study of languages and employ teachers and scholars in specialized languages, they have not had the resources or the incentives to recruit, retain, and graduate students in specialized languages at a rate equal to the demand. We need more students to study languages for the strength of our economy and for the security of U.S. interests here at home and abroad.

The federal government provides incentives for the study of math, science, and engineering because we have recognized the value of encouraging strong graduation rates in those areas. We should have the same recognition for the value that foreign language proficiency adds to other professional degrees.

At the University of Minnesota, between July 1, 2003 and June 30, 2004, while fourteen bachelor’s degrees in East Asian languages were conferred, zero Masters and PhDs in East Asian languages were conferred. During the same time, zero degrees in Arabic languages were conferred at any level. And, zero degrees were conferred in South Asian languages at either the bachelor’s or advanced degree levels.

In contrast, Chinese students as well as men and women from countries in the Middle East, India, and across the globe come, to the United States to study math, engineering, biology, and medicine—in English—their second or even third language. How many Americans have the ability or incentive to study languages for the strength of our community and business who possess the language and cross-cultural skills to succeed in a global marketplace of the 21st Century? In Japan? In South Korea? The learning gap between the U.S. and countries in Europe and Asia is widening in math and science. Language acquisition is an essential component of our nation retaining our competitive edge.

I commend Mr. HOLT for his leadership on this important issue and, again, offer my strong support.
HONORING THE ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF ANDREA LEEDS

HON. STEVE ISRAEL
OF NEW YORK
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. ISRAEL. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the accomplishments of Andrea Leeds. Andrea’s steadfast involvement in the community has truly enriched the lives of children and families in our Long Island communities.

Upon graduating from Boston University with a BA in Psychology, Andrea began her career in Human Resources at Kenyon and Eckhardt Advertising. She continued in the Wall Street offices of Chemical Bank as a Corporate Training Specialist. Finally, as Assistant Director of Human Resources at Ziff Davis Publishing, she met her favorite applicant and most notable “hire”—Michael Leeds. Following their engagement, Andrea left Ziff Davis to become Director of Human Resources at Lebhar Friedman Publishing.

While Michael was expanding CMP Media, Andrea became a full-time mom—raising three daughters. With her focus on the family, she became very involved in numerous school activities—most notably the PTA and girls’ athletics.

Andrea’s involvement in the community extends far beyond her own family. As a founding member and President of the Woodbury Jewish Center Sisterhood, Andrea was honored by the community as “Woman of Achievement.” She is currently a Trustee of the Woodbury Jewish Center and is the Board liaison to the Senior Citizens Group.

Andrea also co-chairs the United Jewish Agencies Long Island Legislative Committee and is Executive Vice President and a member of the Board of Directors of the North Shore Child and Family Guidance Center. Throughout her service to center, which is the largest non-profit mental health center on Long Island, Andrea has led numerous initiatives including the establishment of the Trauma and Bereavement Center. Along with her husband, Michael, Andrea was recognized with the prestigious “Family Life Award” in 2002.

Together, this dynamic spouse-team runs the Andrea and Michael Leeds Family Foundation, which focuses on community health care, education and support for Israel. The Center upholds one of Andrea’s core beliefs that the “key to success and understanding each other begins with education.” This statement is one that Andrea maintains throughout her abundant work in our community, and I applaud her many achievements and contributions.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. GINNY BROWN-WAITE
OF FLORIDA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Ms. GINNY BROWN-WAITE of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I was out on Monday, March 14, and as a result, missed three votes. Had I been present:

For Roll Call No. 66—H. Res. 135, I would have voted “yea.”

For Roll Call No. 68—H. Res. 151, I would have voted “yea.”

HONORING EARL V. JONES SR.
HON. MICHAEL F. DOYLE
OF PENNSYLVANIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. DOYLE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor a great American and Pittsburgher, Mr. Earl V. Jones, Sr. Mr. Jones is a constituent of mine and the founder of the worldwide Peace on Earth Campaign.

The Peace on Earth Campaign is centered on community leaders and the many volunteers in the community who do their part day in and day out. Local firefighters, police and paramedics have co-sponsored Mr. Jones’ project which is showcased by a flag designed by Mr. Jones himself. The flag and symbol for the world peace campaign is a dove and globe in red, black, brown, yellow, and white to acknowledge the ongoing struggle for world peace.

In a post-9/11 world where terrorism and war surround us, Mr. Jones’ Peace on Earth Campaign is a symbol for all nations to strive towards. The Peace on Earth campaign has been recognized and endorsed by President George W. Bush, former President Bill Clinton and Former Russian President Boris Yeltsin.

Mr. Jones organizes numerous events to promote ongoing discussions in the Peace on Earth Campaign. One of the many events Mr. Jones’ organization promotes is a highly successful student essay program in our public schools. Each essay is designed to bring awareness of the theme of peace on Earth to the youth of the world.

With his efforts to promote the noble goal of peace on Earth, Mr. Jones truly epitomizes the American values of peace, community, and brotherhood. I commend Mr. Jones on his countless hours of volunteer work spent as the ambassador and organizer for the Peace on Earth Campaign.

RECOGNIZING THE ARMENIAN GENOCIDE
HON. JAMES R. LANGEVIN OF RHODE ISLAND
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. LANGEVIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to commend U.S. Ambassador to Armenia John Evans for properly labeling the atrocities committed by the Ottoman Empire against the Armenians as genocide and to urge the President to follow his example and accurately characterize this crime against humanity in his commemorative statement next month.

Ambassador Evans recently completed his first U.S. visit to major Armenian-American communities to share his initial impressions of Armenia and our programs there. During his public exchanges with Armenian-American communities throughout the United States late last month, Ambassador Evans declared that “the Armenian Genocide was the first genocide of the twentieth century.”

By employing this term, the Ambassador is building on previous statements by Presidents Reagan and Bush, as well as the repeated declarations of numerous world-renowned scholars. In effect, Evans has done nothing more than succinctly name the conclusions enunciated by those before him.

In 1981, President Reagan issued a presidential proclamation that said in part: “like the genocide of the Armenians before it, and the genocide of the Cambodians which followed it—and like too many other persecutions of too many other people—the Holocaust must never be forgotten . . .” President Bush, himself, has invoked the textbook definition of genocide in his preceding April 24th statements by using the expressions “annihilation” and “forced exile and murder” to characterize this example of man’s inhumanity to man.

Furthermore, Evans’ remarks correspond with the signed statement in 2000 by 126 Genocide and Holocaust scholars affirming that the World War I Armenian Genocide is an uncontested historical fact and accordingly urging the governments of Western democracies to likewise recognize it as such. The petitioners, among whom is Nobel Laureate for Peace Elie Wiesel, also asked the Western Democracies to urge the Government and Parliament of Turkey to come to terms with a dark chapter of Ottoman-Turkish history and to recognize the Armenian Genocide.

The Ambassador’s declarations also conform to the summary conclusions of the International Commission for Transitional Justice (ICTJ) when it facilitated an independent legal study on the applicability of the 1948 Genocide Convention to events that occurred during the early twentieth century. The ICTJ report stated that “the Events, viewed collectively, can thus be said to include all of the elements of the crime of genocide as defined in the Convention, and legal scholars as well as historians, politicians, journalists and other people would be justified in continuing to so describe them.”

The Armenian people’s ability to survive in the face of the repression carried out against them stands as a monument to their endurance and will to live. Therefore, it is critically important that the United States speak with one voice in condemning the horrors committed against the Armenians. Only by working to preserve the truth about the Armenian Genocide can we hope to spare future generations from the horrors of the past.

In conclusion, Mr. Speaker, I join the Armenian Caucus Co-Chairs, Representatives Frank Pallone and Joe Knollenberg, in applauding the statements of Ambassador Evans and others, and urge the President to reaffirm the U.S. record on the Armenian Genocide.

IN HONOR OF ROBERT MANCUSO
HON. SAM FARR
OF CALIFORNIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. FARR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Mr. Robert J. Mancuso, C.E.C., Executive Chef for the world-renowned Sardine Factory Restaurant on Cannery Row, who has been named Chef of the Year by the Monterey Bay Chapter of the American Culinary Federation.
Mr. Mancuso won high honors at the Culinary Institute of America in Hyde Park, New York, graduating in 1990. He also earned an associate's degree in culinary arts, and in April of 2003, he received the prestigious Certified Executive Chef certification from The American Culinary Federation.

His career has taken him to prominent restaurants throughout the United States, giving him a strong background in the diversity of dining styles in this country. According to Mancuso, “California is a culinary mecca and as the Executive Chef at The Sardine Factory, I will have the opportunity to strengthen American cuisine by working with individual agriculture growers. The resources are here—coastal seafood, fresh vegetables, and prime poultry.”

His outstanding talents have won him numerous national and international culinary awards, including 13 gold medals in national and international competitions. He is a member of Les Toques Blanches, an honor society of chefs in the United States. In 1996 he was on the Culinary Olympic Team USA, representing 25,000 chefs from the American Culinary Federation.

In addition, Mancuso is a regular participant in fundraising for charity events in the local community and has mentored many students in the culinary field. Mr. Speaker, I wish to honor Chef Robert Mancuso for his many accomplishments, his dedication to his art, and to express my sincere gratitude for his service to the community.

RECOGNIZING THE ACHIEVEMENTS OF THE 341st DISTRICT COURT JUDGE ELMA T. SALINAS ENDER

HON. HENRY CUellar
OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. CUellar. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the achievements of Judge Elma T. Salinas Ender in Laredo, Texas, my district.

Appointed as Judge of the 341st District Court by Governor Mark White, Judge Elma T. Salinas Ender became the first Mexican-American woman appointed and elected to a district court bench in state and U.S. history. Her knowledge and commitment that she has brought to the bench has made her an inspiration to many.

Professional activities include: member of the Governor’s Juvenile Standards Task Force; the Funding/Judiciary branch of government in Texas; State Bar of Texas; and has served on the Texas Bar Association council for “Women in Law.” Judge Salinas Ender is involved in numerous civic and community activities, i.e. Laredo 1010 Youth Task Force; Communities in Schools; and Leadership Laredo.

She holds a Juris Doctor degree from St. Mary’s University School of Law in San Antonio, Texas. Judge Salinas Ender is a fine example to women in our community, demonstrating what hard work and dedication can accomplish.

Mr. Speaker, I am proud to have this opportunity to recognize the contributions of Judge Elma T. Salinas Ender.

INTRODUCING THE REGIONAL ECONOMIC AND INFRASTRUCTURE DEVELOPMENT ACT

HON. JAMES L. OBERSTAR
OF MINNESOTA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. OBERSTAR. Mr. Speaker, today Congresswoman NORTON and I have introduced the “Regional Economic and Infrastructure Development Act”. A detailed summary of the bill’s provisions is attached.

The bill organizes four regional commissions under a common framework, thereby providing a more uniform method for distributing economic development funds throughout the regions most in need of such assistance. It reauthorizes the Delta Regional Authority and the Northern Great Plains Regional Authority and creates two new regional commissions: the Southeast Crescent Regional Commission and the Southwest Border Regional Commission. Both of these commissions have been proposed in legislation introduced in the previous Congress and are designed to address problems of systemic poverty and chronic underdevelopment in those regions. Every county or parish that is currently included in a commission through enacted legislation is similarly included in that same commission under this bill. While the bill follows the successful organizational model of the Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC), it does not include the ARC or the Denali Commission (a wholly intrastate commission) in its framework.

Regional commissions provide vital assistance to the development of the Nation’s most chronically poor and distressed regions. They are true federal-state partnerships, bringing together federal, state, and local governments to expand the economic and development opportunities of a chronically distressed region. These regions typically experience rates of poverty and unemployment that are more than 150 percent of the national average. Further, some of these areas lack the transportation and basic public infrastructure necessary to support business development, and importantly, create jobs in the region.

The regional commissions are designed to assist areas in overcoming chronic economic distress by focusing on the distressed region as a whole. By recognizing that systemic economic distress follows geographic and natural resource realities, rather than arbitrary state or political subdivision borders, the commissions are able to concentrate their efforts over the entire region—regardless of state lines. One way that these latter regional commissions work within the region to overcome the effects of chronic underdevelopment is through investment in infrastructure, including transportation, telecommunications, and other basic public infrastructure. The commissions also assist the region in obtaining job skills training, entrepreneurship, and small business development. Through these efforts, commissions work to improve the economic development of these systemically distressed regions.

Regional commissions also supplement the state share of other federal programs to ensure that areas that do not even have the economic means of meeting a required state or local funding share are not denied the opportunity to participate in these programs. Regional commissions assist in local development planning by helping provide local development districts with the resources and expertise necessary to formulate and follow a comprehensive, strategic regional development plan. Often it is the local planning that is the key for the successful implementation of economic and infrastructure development programs.

The Regional and Economic Infrastructure Development Act is modeled after the statute authorizing the ARC. The Act has demonstrated that regional commissions are successful in fighting chronic underdevelopment and poverty. Since the ARC’s creation in 1965, employment in the thirteenth-state region has grown by nearly 66 percent. In the decade preceding its creation, employment in the region had declined by 1.5 percent. Further, the poverty rate of the region has been cut by more than one half—from 31.1 percent in 1960 to 13.6 percent in 2000. Moreover, workers who have lost their jobs are having more trouble finding new jobs. The average length of unemployment is now almost 20 weeks, and more than one in five unemployed workers have been out of work for more than six months.

As the economy continues to struggle, it is these historically depressed regions—the regions that have already been struggling—that suffer a disproportionate poverty burden. Now, perhaps more than ever, there is a greater need for these regional commissions. This bill recognizes the importance of the regional commissions to these chronically distressed areas. The bill strengthens the commissions by establishing a uniform organizational structure, under which an affirmative vote of a commission requires a majority of state members plus the affirmative vote of the federal cochairperson. With this voting structure, the bill ensures that the federal and state roles in a commission are equal and interdependent, thereby promoting a true federal-state partnership.

In addition, the bill establishes a coordinating council for the regional commissions consisting of representatives from all the commissions, including the Appalachian Regional Commission and the Denali Commission. The coordinating council is directed to meet biannually to discuss issues facing regions that suffer chronic distress and successful strategies for promoting regional development. While the council will assist the commissions in promoting regional development, it has no decision-making authority over any of the commissions.

Finally, the bill authorizes sufficient funds for each commission so that a commission will have the means available to fulfill its mission of promoting economic and infrastructure development. The bill authorizes $30 million for each commission in fiscal year 2006 (the amount currently authorized for the ARC and Northern Great Plains Regional Authorities) and increases that authorization by $5 million for each successive year through fiscal year 2010.
Frankly, I am concerned about this Administration's lack of funding for existing regional commissions and lack of interest in promoting economic development programs that create jobs and improve communities. In its fiscal year 2006 budget proposal, the Administration proposes $6 million for the Delta Regional Authority, $30 million for the Northern Great Plains Regional Authority. Further, the Administration's budget proposes to dismantle 18 different economic development programs and instead "consolidate" these programs into a formula-based program housed in the Department of Commerce. Presumably these 18 programs include funding for grants and other economic development activities that total $5.5 billion. The new program will be funded at $3.7 billion—a reduction of nearly $2 billion in economic development program funds!

It is time that we affirm our commitment to regional economic development by authorizing these commissions and providing the funding necessary from them to break the cycle of chronic distress in these regions. I believe this bill will help us do that.

Summary of the Regional Economic and Infrastructure Development Act

The Regional Economic and Infrastructure Development Act organizes four regional commissions under a common framework, thereby providing a more uniform method for distributing economic assistance throughout the regions most in need of such assistance. It reauthorizes the Delta Region and the Northern Great Plains Regional Authority and creates two new regional commissions: the Southeast Crescent and the Southwest Border Regional Commissions. These latter commissions have been proposed in legislation introduced in the previous Congress and are designed to address problems of systemic poverty and chronic underdevelopment in those regions. Every county or parish that is currently included in a commission through enacted or proposed legislation is similarly included in that same commission under this bill. While the bill follows the successful organizational model of the Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC), it does not include the Denali Commission (a wholly intrastate commission) in its framework.

Purpose

To organize the regional commissions in the location of existing (with the exception of the Appalachian Regional Commission) under a common framework, providing a more uniform organization structure among the commissions and a more uniform method for distributing economic assistance throughout the country.

Commissions

The bill reauthorizes the Delta Regional Commission, the Northern Great Plains Regional Commission, and creates the Southeast Crescent Regional Commission and the Southwest Border Regional Commission. The Delta Regional Commission and the Northern Great Plains Regional Commission are composed of the same states, counties, and parishes included in the existing Delta Regional Authority and Northern Great Plains Regional Authority. The Southeast Crescent Regional Commission and the Southwest Border Regional Commission are composed of the same states and counties proposed in legislation introduced in the 108th Congress to create a Southeast Crescent Regional Authority and a Southwest Border Regional Commission.

Each commission is authorized to receive appropriations of $30 million for fiscal year 2006; $35 million for fiscal year 2007; $40 million for fiscal year 2008; $45 million for fiscal year 2009; and $50 million for fiscal year 2010. Currently, some counties qualify for membership in more than one regional commission. The bill does not change that. However, the bill provides that an individual county may only receive economic assistance from one regional commission. Therefore, if a county is eligible for membership in more than one commission, it must select one commission in which it would like to participate and be eligible to receive funds. A county or parish can change its selection 90 days before the start of the fiscal year.

The Delta Region and the Appalachian Regional Commission are not included in this statute.

Composition

Each commission includes a Federal co-chairperson and a state co-chairperson, who is selected from among the state members. Like current law, the Northern Great Plains Commission also includes a tribal co-chairperson.

An affirmative vote of a commission requires an affirmative vote of the federal co-chairperson plus a majority of state members.

Like the current laws authorizing regional commissions, the bill sets forth provisions for the salaries of commission members, the appointment of alternate commissioners, and the hiring of additional staff, including an Executive Director.

The bill establishes a coordinating council for the regional commissions consisting of representatives from all the commissions, including the Appalachian Regional Commission and the Denali Commission. The coordinating council is directed to meet biannually to discuss issues facing regions that suffer chronic distress and successful strategies for promoting regional development. The council has no decision-making authority.

Also like current law, each state must develop a comprehensive economic development plan and each commission must develop an economic and infrastructure development plan.

Commissions are required to designate distressed, transitional and attainment counties, and identify areas of distress within attainment counties, within their region and must allocate at least 50 percent of the appropriations made available to the commission to projects in distressed counties and isolated areas of distress.

Economic and Community Development Grants

Commissions have the authority to make grants to State and local governments, and public and nonprofit organizations, for economic development projects, with an emphasis on infrastructure projects, including transportation, basic public and tele- communications infrastructure projects.

The bill provides for a commission share of 50 percent of the total grant amount; that percentage increases to up to 80 percent for distressed counties. These shares are increased by 10 percent (to 60 percent and 90 percent, respectively) for those projects that have a significant regional impact, including projects that involve 3 or more counties or more than one State.

Commissions have the authority to make grants to local development districts to assist in the payment of the administration of the district. The commission of these grants is limited to 80 percent of the administrative expenses of the local development district receiving the grant.

Commissions have the authority to supplement part of the general contribution to projects authorized under other Federal grant programs and to increase the Federal contribution above the fixed maximum part of the cost. The federal share is the same for projects 50 percent and 80 percent of the cost. The local share of the total federal contribution cannot exceed 80 percent.

In Memory of the Kurdish Victims of March 16, 1988

HON. TOM LANTOS

Representative from California

In the House of Representatives

Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. LANTOS. Mr. Speaker, I invite my colleagues to join me in remembering the horrible events that took place in Halabja, Iraq, on March 16, 1988. Today is the 17th anniversary of Saddam Hussein's chemical weapons attack on his own people during a battle waged between a Kurdish force resisting Saddam's oppression and Saddam's Iraqi army. This attack was part of Saddam's systematic genocidal attack on the Kurds known as the Anfal campaign.

In seeking to subdue Kurdish resistance, Saddam Hussein used chemical weapons indiscriminately against Kurdish fighters and civilians alike. The attack on Halabja was one of some forty chemical assaults staged by Hussein against the Kurdish people. In fact, the Kurds of Halabja and neighboring towns constitute the largest civilian population ever exposed to chemical weapons, including sarin, VX, tabun, and mustard gas. As a result of the extensive and devastatingly cruel Anfal campaign, hundreds of Kurdish villages were totally destroyed and as many as 200,000 Kurds were killed.

The tragedy of Halabja should yield lessons for those concerned about responding to future chemical and biological emergencies. The world stood by as innocent men, women, and children suffered and died at the hands of a barbarous regime, and, for 14 long years, the Saddam Hussein dictatorship went unpunished for the murder of hundreds of thousands of innocent Iraqis, the use of banned chemical weapons against Iraqi Kurds, and innumerable other human rights violations. During those 14 years, the number of victims, Kurdish and non-Kurdish, increased dramatically, as the discovery of mass graves testifies.

Mr. Speaker, now history has avenged Saddam's victims, however belatedly and inadequately, and soon Saddam Hussein will face the consequences of his war crimes. I ask that my colleagues join me in speaking out against oppression and against the use of chemical and biological weapons. That is now the best way to commemorate the suffering of the people of Halabja and all the victims of Saddam's inhuman Anfal campaign and of his subsequent depredations.

Tribute to South Park High School

HON. BRIAN HIGGINS

Representative from New York

In the House of Representatives

Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. HIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to call your attention to the great South Park
Mr. MENENDEZ. Mr. Speaker, today I am introducing a resolution urging Turkey to respect the rights and religious freedoms of the Ecumenical Patriarchate.

The Ecumenical Patriarchate is the spiritual leader of 300 million Orthodox Christians around the world, including millions of Americans. The Turkish government continuously violates the Ecumenical Patriarch's religious rights and freedoms by refusing to recognize its international status. Training for the clergy has also been effectively banned because the Turkish government refuses to reopen the Greek Orthodox Halki seminary. Furthermore, the Turkish government requires all candidates for the Patriarchate be Turkish nationals, thus severely limiting the field. Additionally, the Turkish government has confiscated 75 percent of Ecumenical Patriarchal properties since 2002 and has levied a 42 percent retroactive tax on the Balukli Hospital, a philanthropic institution run by the Ecumenical Patriarchate. Meanwhile, Turkey is scheduled to begin accession negotiations with the European Union in October 2005.

Mr. Speaker, the legislation I am introducing today is very simple. This resolution calls on Turkey to meet the criteria on eliminating all forms of discrimination set forth by the European Union, particularly those based on race or religion. This bill urges the Turkish government to grant the Ecumenical Patriarch appropriate international recognition and ecclesiastic succession, the right to train clergy of all nationalities, and demands that Turkey respect the property rights and human rights of the Ecumenical Patriarchate. These are simple demands, Mr. Speaker. The path of democracy must be laid with the bricks of freedom without them, democracy becomes a hollow word devoid of promise and hope. We must take a stand for religious rights and freedoms. We must call on Turkey to fulfill its obligations to the European Union and stop violating the human and religious rights of the Ecumenical Patriarchate.

STATEMENT BY THE FRIENDS OF IRELAND ST. PATRICK'S DAY 2005

HON. JAMES T. WALSH
OF NEW YORK
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker, the Friends of Ireland in the Congress join 38 million Irish Americans in celebrating the unique ties between America and the island of Ireland. We welcome the Taoiseach Bertie Ahern to the United States, and we send our warmest greetings to all the people of Ireland and Northern Ireland.

Irish Americans care deeply about Northern Ireland, and we commend President Bush for his efforts to keep the American government involved in the pursuit of peace. We also praise Mitchell Reiss, the President's special envoy to Ireland, for his unwavering commitment and his bi-partisan American approach to the process.

We do regret that none of the political parties from Northern Ireland will be represented at the Shamrock Ceremony or the Speaker's Luncheon this year, but this should be taken as a clear signal reflecting the severity of the situation, and the immediate need for all parties to return to the negotiating table.

In 1998, the parties to the Good Friday Agreement committed to partnership, equality and mutual respect as the basis for moving forward. We continue to believe that inclusive power sharing—based on those three defining qualities—is essential to the viability and advancement of the democratic process in Northern Ireland. A political system based on inclusive power sharing requires trust and confidence. The parties to the Good Friday Agreement also affirmed their total and absolute commitment to exclusively democratic and peaceful means.

The recent events in Northern Ireland involving alleged and admitted criminality by IRA members have put tremendous pressure on all the governments and have seriously undermined the trust and confidence that are essential to advance the process. We deplore this tragic setback. Circumstances on both the Nationalist and Unionist sides have created great chasms of mistrust. Neither side is blameless in this tragic breakdown, and the British, Irish and United States Governments must devote themselves to instill the trust and continue the forward movement.

Clearly, there is essential work to be done in ending all paramilitary activity, permanently restoring the democratic institutions, progressing with demilitarization, and advancing an equality agenda. It is also imperative, in all democratic societies, for all parties to be willing to work with the criminal justice system or in this case the Police Service.

We regret that the dramatic effort to reach an agreement over the Christmas Holiday fell short. The world watched as the framework was set, and all parties were steps away from a victorious moment in history. We must remind all the parties that this framework is still in place and there was a reason why an agreement was almost settled only a few months ago. It is from this point that negotiations must resume.

We commend the Irish and British Governments for their ongoing efforts to work with the political leaders in Northern Ireland to restore the trust and confidence that are essential to advance the peace. On this St. Patrick's Day, we look forward to the day when the Good Friday Agreement will be finally and fully implemented, and to the day when stable democratic institutions, peace, and justice will be achieved in Northern Ireland.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. BRIAN BAIRD
OF WASHINGTON
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. BAIRD. Mr. Speaker, due to circumstances stemming from the recent birth of my two sons, William and Walter, I was not able to be present for legislative business on the morning of March 16, 2005, during which time the House considered and passed H.R. 1268. Had I been present, I would have voted as follows:

On House Amendment #60 I would have voted “aye.”

On the motion to recommit H.R. 1268 to the Committee on Appropriations with instruction to provide an additional $100 million for veterans healthcare, and $50 million for veterans job training and transitional assistance, I would have voted “aye.”
Thursday, March 17, 2005

Daily Digest

HIGHLIGHTS

- Senate agreed to S. Con. Res. 18, Concurrent Budget Resolution.
- The House agreed to H. Con. Res. 103, Adjournment Resolution.

Senate

Chamber Action

Routine Proceedings, pages S2875–S2897

Measures Introduced: Forty bills and eleven resolutions were introduced, as follows: S. 646–685, S. Res. 84–91, and S. Con. Res. 20–22. (See next issue.)

Measures Reported:

- S. 48, to reauthorize appropriations for the New Jersey Coastal Heritage Trail Route, with amendments. (S. Rept. No. 109–41)
- S. 182, to provide for the establishment of the Uintah Research and Curatorial Center for Dinosaur National Monument in the States of Colorado and Utah, with an amendment. (S. Rept. No. 109–42)
- S. 188, to amend the Immigration and Nationality Act to authorize appropriations for fiscal years 2005 through 2011 to carry out the State Criminal Alien Assistance Program.
- S. 589, to establish the Commission on Freedom of Information Act Processing Delays.
- S. 667, to reauthorize and improve the program of block grants to States for temporary assistance for needy families, improve access to quality child care. (See next issue.)

Measures Passed:

- Condemning Violence and Criminality by the Irish Republican Army: Senate agreed to S. Res. 84, condemning violence and criminality by the Irish Republican Army in Northern Ireland. (See next issue.)

  Private Relief: Senate passed S. 653, for the relief of the parents of Theresa Marie Schiavo. (See next issue.)

  Concurrent Budget Resolution: By 51 yeas to 49 yeas (Vote No. 81), Senate agreed to S. Con. Res. 18, setting forth the congressional budget for the United States Government for fiscal year 2006 and including the appropriate budgetary levels for fiscal years 2005 and 2007 through 2010, after taking action on the following amendments proposed thereto: (Pages S2875–97 (continued next issue))

  Adopted:

  - By 52 yeas to 48 nays (Vote No. 58), Bingaman (for Smith) Amendment No. 204, to create a reserve fund for the establishment of a Bipartisan Medicaid Commission to consider and recommend appropriate reforms to the Medicaid program, and to strike Medicaid cuts to protect states and vulnerable populations. (Pages S2875–86 (continued next issue))
    - Hutchison Amendment No. 218, to fully fund the level of Border Patrol Agents authorized by the National Intelligence Reform Act of 2004 and as recommended by the 9/11 Commission. (Pages S2875 (continued next issue))
    - Salazar/Conrad Amendment No. 215, to provide additional funding for rural education, rural health access, and rural health outreach programs. (Pages S2875 (continued next issue))

  By a unanimous vote of 100 yeas (Vote No. 62), Landrieu Amendment No. 219, to establish a reserve fund in the event that legislation is passed to provide a 50 percent tax credit to employers that continue to pay the salaries of Guard and Reserve employees who have been called to active duty. (Pages S2875 (continued next issue))

  Vitter Amendment No. 223, to express the sense of the Senate that Congress should provide dedicated funding for port security enhancements. (Pages S2875 (continued next issue))

  Subsequently, the amendment was modified. (See next issue.)

  By 63 yeas to 37 nays (Vote No. 64), Collins (for Lieberman/Collins) Amendment No. 220, to protect the American people from terrorist attacks by restoring $565 million in cuts to vital first-responder programs in the Department of Homeland Security, including the State Homeland Security Grant program, by providing $150 million for port security grants and by providing $140 million for 1,000 new border patrol agents.

Vitter Amendment No. 224, to restore funding for Corps of Engineers environmental programs to fiscal year 2005 levels.

By 68 yeas to 31 nays (Vote No. 66), Coleman Amendment No. 230, to fully fund the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program.

By 73 yeas to 26 nays (Vote No. 67), Cochran Amendment No. 208, to modify the designation authority for an emergency requirement.

By 51 yeas to 49 nays (Vote No. 68), Kennedy Modified Amendment No. 177, relative to education funding.

Feinstein Amendment No. 188, to express the sense of the Senate that Congress should enact a long-term reauthorization of the State Criminal Alien Assistance Program and appropriate $750,000,000 for the program in fiscal year 2006.

By 68 yeas to 31 nays (Vote No. 66), Bunning Amendment No. 241, to repeal the 1993 increase on Social Security benefits.

By 94 yeas to 6 nays (Vote No. 73), Conrad Amendment No. 243, to express the sense of the Senate concerning the care and treatment of children with HIV/AIDS.

By 81 yeas to 19 nays (Vote No. 72), Talent Amendment No. 225, to provide the flexibility to consider all available transportation funding options.

By 94 yeas to 6 nays (Vote No. 73), Conrad Amendment No. 243, to express the sense of the Senate regarding tax relief to encourage charitable giving incentives.

By 55 yeas to 45 nays (Vote No. 74), Bunning Amendment No. 241, to repeal the 1993 tax increase on Social Security benefits.

Boxer Amendment No. 259, to express the sense of the Senate on the acquisition of the next generation destroyer (DDX).

DeWine/Dodd Modified Amendment No. 153, to express the sense of the Senate regarding funding for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for subsonic and hypersonic aeronautics research.

Lott Amendment No. 182, to express the sense of the Senate on the acquisition of the next generation destroyer (DDX).

By 81 yeas to 19 nays (Vote No. 72), Talent Amendment No. 225, to provide the flexibility to consider all available transportation funding options.

By 94 yeas to 6 nays (Vote No. 73), Conrad Amendment No. 243, to express the sense of the Senate that the tax cuts assumed in the budget resolution should include the repeal of the 1993 increase in the income tax on Social Security benefits.

By 55 yeas to 45 nays (Vote No. 74), Bunning Amendment No. 241, to repeal the 1993 tax increase on Social Security benefits.

By 94 yeas to 6 nays (Vote No. 73), Conrad Amendment No. 243, to express the sense of the Senate that the tax cuts assumed in the budget resolution should include the repeal of the 1993 increase in the income tax on Social Security benefits.
States from the Water Pollution Control State Revolving Fund should be increased to $1,350,000,000. (See next issue.)

Baucus Amendment No. 167, to express the sense of the Senate that the full amount of the President's request for the administrative costs of the Social Security Administration for fiscal year 2006 should be funded. (See next issue.)

Clinton Modified Amendment No. 154, to express the sense of the Senate concerning comparative effectiveness studies. (See next issue.)

Kohl Modified Amendment No. 217, to restore $1 billion to juvenile justice and local law enforcement programs funded by the Department of Justice. (See next issue.)

Salazar Modified Amendment No. 254, to restore funding for the payment in lieu of taxes program (PILT), in order to compensate rural counties for decreased tax revenues as a result of non-taxed federally owned county lands. (See next issue.)

Pryor Modified Amendment No. 252, to create a reserve fund for extension of the treatment of combat pay as earned income for purposes of the earned income tax credit and the child tax credit. (See next issue.)

By 53 yeas to 46 nays (Vote No. 80), Levin Modified Amendment No. 238, to promote innovation and U.S. competitiveness by expressing the sense of the Senate urging the Senate Committee on Appropriations to make efforts to fund the Advanced Technology Program, which supports industry-led research and development of cutting-edge technologies with broad commercial potential and societal benefits. (See next issue.)

Leahy Modified Amendment No. 237, to increase funding for Boys and Girls Clubs. (See next issue.)

Gregg (for Grassley) Amendment No. 262, to express the sense of the Senate with respect to pension reform. (See next issue.)

DeWine/Leahy Modified Amendment No. 161, to increase funding for Child Survival and Maternal Health Programs. (See next issue.)

Rejected:

By 49 yeas to 51 nays (Vote No. 57), Gregg (for Frist) Amendment No. 229, to express the sense of the Senate regarding Medicaid reconciliation legislation consistent with recommendations from the Secretary of Health and Human Services.

Pages S2886 (continued next issue)

By 49 yeas to 51 nays (Vote No. 59), Carper Amendment No. 207, to provide for full consideration of tax cuts in the Senate under regular order. Pages S2875 (continued next issue)

By 49 yeas to 50 nays (Vote No. 60), Snowe Amendment No. 214, to ensure that any savings associated with legislation that provides the Secretary of Health and Human Services with the authority to participate in the negotiation of contracts with manufacturers of covered part D drugs to achieve the best possible prices for such drugs under part D of title XVIII of the Social Security Act, that requires the Secretary to negotiate contracts with manufacturers of such drugs for each fallback prescription drug plan, and that requires the Secretary to participate in the negotiation for a contract for any such drug upon request of a prescription drug plan or an MA–PD plan, is reserved for reducing expenditures under such part. Pages S2875 (continued next issue)

By 44 yeas to 56 nays (Vote No. 61), Harkin Amendment No. 172, to restore the Perkins Vocational Education program and provide for deficit reduction paid for through the elimination of the phase out of the personal exemption limitation and itemized deduction limitation for high-income taxpayers now scheduled to start in 2006. Pages S2875 (continued next issue)

By 40 yeas to 59 nays (Vote No. 63), Conrad (for Dorgan) Amendment No. 210, to repeal the tax subsidy for certain domestic companies which move manufacturing operations and American jobs offshore. Pages S2875 (continued next issue)

By 49 yeas to 51 nays (Vote No. 65), Sarbanes Amendment No. 156, to restore funding for the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program. Pages S2286–94 (continued next issue)

By 46 yeas to 54 nays (Vote No. 69), Baucus/Conrad Amendment No. 234, to ensure that legislation to make cuts in agriculture programs receives full consideration and debate in the Senate under regular order, rather than being fast-tracked under reconciliation procedures. (See next issue.)

By 45 yeas to 55 nays (Vote No. 70), Biden Amendment No. 239, relative to funding to the Office of Community Oriented Policing Services. (See next issue.)

By 45 yeas to 54 nays (Vote No. 71), Byrd/Baucus Amendment No. 240, relative to transportation funding. (See next issue.)

By 47 yeas to 53 nays (Vote No. 75), Reid (for Clinton) Modified Amendment No. 244, to expand access to preventive health care services that reduce unintended pregnancy (including teen pregnancy), reduce the number of abortions, and improve access to women's health care. (See next issue.)

By 45 yeas to 54 nays (Vote No. 76), Lautenberg Amendment No. 187, to strike the debt ceiling reconciliation instruction. (See next issue.)

By 44 yeas to 54 nays (Vote No. 77), Boxer Amendment No. 257, to establish a point of order. (See next issue.)

By 45 yeas to 55 nays (Vote No. 78), Dorgan Amendment No. 211, to restore funding for tribal programs and provide necessary additional funding based on recommendations from Indian country. (See next issue.)

Feingold Amendment No. 258, to ensure that savings associated with legislation that reduces over-payments to Medicare Advantage plans is reserved for deficit reduction and to strengthen the Federal Hospital Insurance Trust Fund. (See next issue.)

By 37 yeas to 63 nays (Vote No. 79), Dayton Amendment No. 202, to provide full funding for the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) part B grants over five years. (See next issue.)

Pryor Amendment No. 213, to increase funding for the Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Program. (See next issue.)

Withdrawn:

Allen Modified Amendment No. 197, to increase by $1,582,700,000 over fiscal years 2006 through 2010 funding for Transportation (budget function 400) with the amount of the increase intended to be allocated to the Vehicle Systems account of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for subsonic and hypersonic aeronautics research.

National Asbestos Awareness Day: Committee on the Judiciary was discharged from further consideration of S. Res. 43, designating the first day of April 2005 as "National Asbestos Awareness Day", and the resolution was then agreed to, after agreeing to the following amendment proposed thereto:

Frist Amendment No. 264, to amend the preamble. (See next issue.)

Leaking Underground Storage Tank Trust Fund: Senate passed H.R. 1270, to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to extend the Leaking Underground Storage Tank Trust Fund financing rate, clearing the measure for the President.

Financial Literacy Month: Senate agreed to S. Res. 88, designating April 2005 as "Financial Literacy Month". (See next issue.)

Montana Future Farmers of America: Senate agreed to S. Res. 89, congratulating the Montana FFA on its 75th Anniversary and celebrating the achievements of Montana FFA members. (See next issue.)

Holocaust Commemoration Week: Senate agreed to S. Res. 90, to designating the Week of May 1, 2005, as "Holocaust Commemoration Week". (See next issue.)

Arms Export Embargo on China: Senate agreed to S. Res. 91, urging the European Union to main-tain its arms export embargo on the People's Republic of China. (See next issue.)

Concurrent Budget Resolution: A unanimous-consent agreement was reached providing that when the Senate receives H. Con. Res. 95 from the House, a concurrent resolution setting forth the congressional budget for the United States Government for fiscal year 2006, revising appropriate budgetary levels for fiscal years 2005, and setting forth appropriate budgetary levels for fiscal years 2007 through 2010, the Senate begin its consideration; that all after the resolving clause be stricken and the text of S. Con. Res. 18, Concurrent Budget Resolution, as agreed to be inserted in lieu thereof; that the resolution then be agreed to as amended, the Senate insist on its amendment, request a conference with the House thereon, and the Chair be authorized to appoint con-ferees on the part of the Senate. (See next issue.)

Authorizing Leadership to Make Appointments—Agreement: A unanimous-consent agreement was reached providing that notwithstanding the adjournment of the Senate, the President of the Senate, the President Pro Tempore, and the Majority and Minority Leaders be authorized to make appointments to commissions, committees, boards, conferences, or interparliamentary conferences authorized by law, by concurrent action of the two Houses, or by order of the Senate. (See next issue.)

Authority for Committees: A unanimous-consent agreement was reached providing that notwithstanding the adjournment of the Senate, all committees were authorized to file legislative and executive matters on Wednesday, March 30, 2005, between the hours of 10 a.m. and 12 noon. (See next issue.)

Signing Authority—Agreement: A unanimous-consent agreement was reached providing that during this adjournment of the Senate, the Majority Leader, Assistant Majority Leader and Senator Warner, to be authorized to sign duly enrolled bills or joint resolutions. (See next issue.)

Appointments:

United States Holocaust Memorial Council: The Chair, on behalf of the President pro tempore, pursuant to Public Law 96–388, as amended by Public Law 97–84 and Public Law 106–292, appointed the following Senators to the United States Holocaust Memorial Council: Senators Feingold and Lautenberg. (See next issue.)

Nominations Confirmed: Senate confirmed the following nominations:

George M. Dennison, of Montana, to be a Member of the National Security Education Board for a term of four years.
James William Carr, of Arkansas, to be a Member of the National Security Education Board for a term of four years.

Harold Damelin, of Virginia, to be Inspector General, Department of the Treasury.

David B. Balton, of the District of Columbia, for the rank of Ambassador during his tenure of service as Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for Oceans and Fisheries.

Joseph R. DeTrani, of Virginia, for the rank of Ambassador during his tenure of service as Special Envoy for the Six Party Talks.

John Thomas Schieffer, of Texas, to be Ambassador to Japan.

Kiron Kanina Skinner, of Pennsylvania, to be a Member of the National Security Education Board for a term of four years.

R. Nicholas Burns, of Massachusetts, to be an Under Secretary of State (Political Affairs).

C. David Welch, of Virginia, to be an Assistant Secretary of State (Near Eastern Affairs).

Jeffrey Clay Sell, of Texas, to be Deputy Secretary of Energy.

Christopher R. Hill, of Rhode Island, to be an Assistant Secretary of State (East Asian and Pacific Affairs).

Rudolph E. Boschwitz, of Minnesota, for the rank of Ambassador during his tenure of service as Representative of the United States of America on the Human Rights Commission of the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations.

35 Air Force nominations in the rank of general.

37 Army nominations in the rank of general.

2 Navy nominations in the rank of admiral.

Routine lists in the Air Force, Army, Marine Corps, Navy.

Routine lists in the Air Force, Army, Marine Corps. (See next issue.)

Messages From the House: (See next issue.)

Measures Referred: (See next issue.)

Measures Read First Time: (See next issue.)

Executive Communications: (See next issue.)

Executive Reports of Committees: (See next issue.)

Additional Cosponsors: (See next issue.)

Statements on Introduced Bills/Resolutions: (See next issue.)

Additional Statements: (See next issue.)

Amendments Submitted: (See next issue.)

Notices of Hearings/Meetings: (See next issue.)

Authority for Committees to Meet: (See next issue.)

Privilege of the Floor: (See next issue.)

Record Votes: Twenty-five record votes were taken today. (Total—81) (See next issue.)

Adjournment: Senate convened at 9 a.m., and adjourned at 11:48 p.m., until 4 p.m., on Monday, March 21, 2005. (For Senate’s program, see the remarks of the Majority Leader in the next issue of the Record.)

Committee Meetings

(Committees not listed did not meet)

NATIONAL SECURITY THREATS

Committee on Armed Services: Committee concluded open and closed hearings to examine current and future worldwide threats to the national security of the United States, after receiving testimony from Porter J. Goss, Director of Central Intelligence; and Vice Admiral Lowell E. Jacoby, USN, Director, Defense Intelligence Agency, Department of Defense.

BUSINESS MEETING

Committee on Armed Services: Committee ordered favorably reported the nominations of John Paul Woodley, Jr., of Virginia, to be an Assistant Secretary of the Army, James William Carr, of Arkansas, George M. Dennison, of Montana, and Kiron Kanina Skinner, of Pennsylvania, each to be a Member of the National Security Education Board, Anthony Joseph Principi, of California, to be a Member of the Defense Base Closure and Realignment Commission, and 5,664 nominations in the Air Force, Army, Navy and Marine Corps.

BUSINESS MEETING

Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs: Committee ordered favorably reported an original

COAST GUARD BUDGET
Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation: Subcommittee on Oceans, Fisheries and Coast Guard concluded a hearing to examine the President’s proposed budget request for fiscal year 2006 for the Coast Guard Operational Readiness/Mission Balance, after receiving testimony from Admiral Thomas H. Collins, Commandant, and Master Chief Petty Officer Franklin A. Welch, both of the United States Coast Guard, Department of Homeland Security; and Margaret T. Wrightson, Director, Homeland Security and Justice Issues, Government Accountability Office.

BUSINESS MEETING
Committee on Finance: Committee ordered favorably reported the nomination of Daniel R. Levinson, of Maryland, to be Inspector General, Department of Health and Human Services.

NOMINATION
Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions: Committee concluded a hearing to examine the nomination of Lester M. Crawford, of Maryland, to be Commissioner of Food and Drugs, Department of Health and Human Services.

BUSINESS MEETING
Committee on the Judiciary: Committee ordered favorably reported the following business items:
S. 188, to amend the Immigration and Nationality Act to authorize appropriations for fiscal years 2005 through 2011 to carry out the State Criminal Alien Assistance Program;
S. 589, to establish the Commission on Freedom of Information Act Processing Delays; and
Also, committee announced the following subcommittee assignments:

Committee on Administrative Oversight and the Courts: Senators Sessions (Chairman), Grassley, Kyl, Schumer, Feinstein, and Feingold.
Committee on Antitrust, Competition Policy and Consumer Rights: Senators DeWine (Chairman), Specter, Hatch, Grassley, Graham, Brownback, Kohl, Leahy, Biden, Feingold, and Schumer.
Committee on Constitution, Civil Rights and Property Rights: Senators Brownback (Chair), Specter, Graham, Cornyn, Coburn, Feingold, Kennedy, Feinstein, and Durbin.
Committee on Corrections and Rehabilitation: Senators Coburn (Chairman), Specter, Sessions, Cornyn, Brownback, Durbin, Leahy, Biden, and Feingold.
Committee on Crime and Drugs: Senators Graham (Chairman), Grassley, Kyl, DeWine, Sessions, Coburn, Biden, Kohl, Feinstein, Feingold, and Schumer.
Committee on Immigration, Border Security and Citizenship: Senators Cornyn (Chairman), Grassley, Kyl, DeWine, Sessions, Brownback, Coburn, Kennedy, Biden, Feinstein, Feingold, Schumer, and Durbin.
Committee on Intellectual Property: Senators Hatch (Chairman), Kyl, DeWine, Graham, Cornyn, Brownback, Coburn, Leahy, Kennedy, Biden, Feinstein, Kohl, and Durbin.
Committee on Terrorism, Technology and Homeland Security: Senators Kyl (Chairman), Hatch, Grassley, Cornyn, DeWine, Sessions, Graham, Feinstein, Kennedy, Biden, Kohl, Feingold and Durbin.

VETERANS
Committee on Veterans’ Affairs: Committee concluded a hearing to examine the report entitled, “Back from the Battlefield: Are we providing the proper care for America’s Wounded Warriors?”, after receiving testimony from Jonathan B. Perlin, Acting Under Secretary of Veterans Affairs for Health; Major General Kenneth L. Farmer, Jr., Commanding General, North Atlantic Regional Medical Command and Walter Reed Army Medical Center, United States Army; Cynthia A. Bascetta, Director, Health Care—Veterans’, Health and Benefits Issues, Government Accountability Office; Major Tammy Duckworth, United States Army National Guard; Joseph J. Costello, Vista Vet Center, Vista, California; and David J. Hosking, Vet Center, Madison, Wisconsin.
House of Representatives

Chamber Action

Measures Introduced: 96 public bills, H.R. 1356–1451; and 34 resolutions, H.J. Res. 38–39; H. Con. Res. 103–120, and H. Res. 167–180, were introduced.

Additional Cosponsors:

Reports Filed: Report were filed today as follows:

H. Con. Res. 53, expressing the sense of the Congress regarding the issuance of the 500,000th design patent by the United States Patent and Trademark Office (H. Rept. 109–22);

H.R. 683, to amend the Trademark Act of 1946 with respect to dilution by blurring or tarnishment, amended (H. Rept. 109–23);

H.R. 1038, to amend title 28, United States Code, to allow a judge to whom a case is transferred to retain jurisdiction over certain multidistrict litigation cases for trial (H. Rept. 109–24);

H.R. 366, to amend the Carl D. Perkins Vocational and Technical Education Act of 1998 to strengthen and improve programs under that Act, amended (H. Rept. 109–25); and H.R. 185, to require the review of Government programs at least once every 5 years for purposes of evaluating their performance (H. Rept. 109–26).

Budget Resolution for Fiscal Year 2006: The House passed H. Con. Res. 95, establishing the congressional budget for the United States Government for fiscal year 2006, revising appropriate budgetary levels for fiscal year 2005, and setting forth appropriate budgetary levels for fiscal years 2007 through 2010, by a yeo-and-nay vote of 218 yeas to 214 nays, Roll No. 88. The bill was also considered yesterday, March 16.

Agreed by unanimous consent that a final period of general debate be in order at the conclusion of consideration of amendments.

Yesterday it was agreed that during further consideration of the bill, the Hensarling amendment (No. 2 printed in H. Rept. 109–19) may be considered out of the specified order.

Rejected:

Obey amendment, No. 1 printed in H. Rept. 109–19, that increases $15.8 billion in FY06 new BA and outlays for veterans, education, health care needs, homeland security, the environment and infrastructure; and reduces the FY06 tax benefit for those earning more than $1 million; (by a recorded vote of 180 ayes to 242 noes, Roll No. 82);

Debated Wednesday, March 16: Hensarling amendment in the nature of a substitute (Republican Study Committee), No. 2 printed in H. Rept 109–19, that replaces the current 19 functional categories with four functions: Defense, Homeland Security, Non-Defense Discretionary and Mandatory Spending, and Interest; and accepts the Iraq Operations Reserve Fund and creates a new “rainy day” fund for non-military emergencies (by a recorded vote of 102 ayes to 320 noes, Roll No. 83).

Watt amendment in the nature of a substitute (Congressional Black Caucus), No. 3 printed in H. Rept. 109–19, that calls for an additional $36.3 billion in spending and a $4 billion deficit reduction for FY 2006 (by a recorded vote of 134 ayes to 292 noes and 3 voting “present”, Roll No. 85);

Spratt amendment in the nature of a substitute, No. 4 printed in H. Rept. 109–19, that projects spending and revenue levels that would eliminate deficits and result in a balanced budget by FY 2012 (by a recorded vote of 165 ayes to 264 noes with 1 voting "present", Roll No. 87);

Motion to rise: Rejected the Blumenauer motion that the Committee rise by a recorded vote of 101 ayes, to 313 noes and 1 voting “present”, Roll No. 86.

H. Res. 154, the rule providing for consideration of the measure was agreed to yesterday, March 16.

Suspensions—Proceedings Postponed: The House agreed to suspend the rules and pass the following measures which were debated yesterday, March 16:

Expressing concern regarding the occupation of the Republic of Lebanon by the Syrian Arab Republic: H. Con. Res. 32, amended, expressing the grave concern of Congress regarding the occupation of the Republic of Lebanon by the Syrian Arab Republic, by a 2/3 yea-and-nay vote of 419 yeas to 1 nay and 4 voting “present”, Roll No. 84; and Agreed to amend the title so as to read: concurrent resolution expressing the grave concern of Congress regarding the occupation of the Lebanese Republic by the Syrian Arab Republic.

Expressing concern regarding the continued violations of human rights and civil liberties of the Syrian and Lebanese people by the Government of the Syrian Arab Republic: H. Con. Res. 18, amended, expressing the grave concern of Congress regarding the continuing gross violations of human rights and civil liberties of the Syrian and Lebanese people by the Government of the Syrian Arab Republic, by a ⅔ yea-and-nay vote of 402 yeas to 3 nays, Roll No. 89.

Spring District Work Period: The House agreed to H. Con. Res. 103, providing for a conditional adjournment of the House and a conditional recess or adjournment of the Senate.

Calendar Wednesday: Agreed to dispense with the Calendar Wednesday business of Wednesday, April 6.

Meeting Hour: Agreed that when the House adjourns today, it adjourns to meet at 2 p.m. on Monday, March 21, unless it sooner has received a message from the Senate transmitting its concurrence in H. Con. Res. 103, in which case the House shall stand adjourned pursuant to that concurrent resolution.

Speaker Pro Tempore: Read a letter from the Speaker wherein he appointed Representative Wolf, or if not able to perform this duty, Representative Tom Davis (VA) to sign enrolled bills and joint resolutions through April 5.

Quorum Calls—Votes: Three yea-and-nay votes and five recorded votes developed during the proceedings of today and appear on pages H1632, H1639–40, H1640, H1653, H1654, H1664–65, H1674, and H1674–75. There were no quorum calls.

Adjournment: The House met at 10 a.m. and at 6:15 p.m., pursuant to the provisions of H. Con. Res. 103, it stands adjourned until 2 p.m. on Monday, March 21, unless it sooner has received a message from the Senate transmitting its adoption of the concurrent resolution, in which case the House shall stand adjourned until 2 p.m. on Tuesday, April 5, 2005.

Committee Meetings

AGRICULTURE, RURAL DEVELOPMENT, FDA AND RELATED AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS Committee on Appropriations: Subcommittee on Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies held a hearing on Under Secretary for Rural Development. Testimony was heard from Gilbert Gonzalez, Acting Under Secretary, Rural Development, USDA.

DEFENSE APPROPRIATIONS
Committee on Appropriations: Subcommittee on Defense held a hearing on Air Force Posture. Testimony was heard from the following officials of the Department of the Air Force: Peter B. Teets, Acting Secretary; and GEN John P. Jumper, Chief of Staff.

The Subcommittee also met in executive session to hold a hearing on Air Force Acquisition. Testimony was heard from the following officials of the Department of the Air Force: Peter B. Teets, Acting Secretary; and LTG John D. W. Corley, Principal Deputy Assistant Secretary, Acquisitions.

DEPARTMENT OF HOMELAND SECURITY APPROPRIATIONS
Committee on Appropriations: Subcommittee on the Department of Homeland Security held a hearing on Citizenship and Immigration Services. Testimony was heard from Eduardo Aguirro, Jr., Director, Bureau of Citizenship and Immigration Services, Department of Homeland Security.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR, HHS, EDUCATION, AND RELATED AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS
Committee on Appropriations: Subcommittee on the Department of Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, and Related Agencies held a hearing on the Secretary of Labor. Testimony was heard from Elaine L. Chao, Secretary of Labor.

DEPARTMENTS OF TRANSPORTATION, TREASURY, AND HUD, JUDICIARY, D.C., AND INDEPENDENT AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS
Committee on Appropriations: Subcommittee on the Departments of Transportation, Treasury, and Housing and Urban Development, the Judiciary, District of Columbia, and Independent Agencies held a hearing on the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development. Testimony was heard from Alphonso R. Jackson, Secretary of Housing and Urban Development.

INTERIOR, ENVIRONMENT, AND RELATED AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS
Committee on Appropriations: Subcommittee on Interior, Environment, and Related Agencies held a hearing on Bureau of Indian Affairs. Testimony was heard from James Casen, Assistant Deputy Secretary, Bureau of Indian Affairs, Department of the Interior.

SCIENCE, THE DEPARTMENTS OF STATE, JUSTICE, AND COMMERCE, AND RELATED AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS Committee on Appropriations: Subcommittee on Science, the Departments of State, Justice, Commerce, and Related Agencies held a hearing on the SBA. Testimony was heard from Hector V. Barreto, Administrator, SBA.
The Subcommittee also held a hearing on the Federal Prison System. Testimony was heard from Harley G. Lappin, Director, Bureau of Prisons, Department of Justice.

IRAQ—CURRENT OPERATIONS AND POLITICAL TRANSITION
Committee on Armed Services: Held a hearing on current operations and the political transition in Iraq. Testimony was heard from public witnesses.

NATIONAL DEFENSE AUTHORIZATION BUDGET REQUEST FOR FISCAL YEAR 2006
Committee on Armed Services: Subcommittee on Terrorism, Unconventional Threats and Capabilities held a hearing on the Fiscal Year 2006 National Defense Authorization budget request—United States Special Operations Command policy and programs. Testimony was heard from officials of the Department of Defense: Thomas W. O’Connell, Assistant Secretary, Special Operations/Low Intensity Conflict; and GEN Bryan D. Brown, USA, Commander, U.S. Special Operations Command.

HIGHER EDUCATION—TRACKING INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS
Committee on Education and the Workforce: Subcommittee on 21st Century Competitiveness and the Subcommittee on Select Education held a joint hearing entitled “Tracking International Students in Higher Education: A Progress Report.” Testimony was heard from Victor X. Cerda, Counsel to the Assistant Secretary, Immigration and Customs Enforcement, Department of Homeland Security; Stephen A. Edson, Managing Director, Visa Services Directorate, Bureau of Consular Affairs, Department of State; Randolph C. Hite, Director, Information Technology Architecture and Systems Issues, GAO; and public witnesses.

NIH PORTFOLIO MANAGEMENT
Committee on Energy and Commerce: Subcommittee on Health held a hearing entitled “Setting the Path for Reauthorization: Improving Portfolio Management at the NIH.” Testimony was heard from Elias Zerhouni, M.D., Director, NIH, Department of Health and Human Services.

SECURITIES ARBITRATION SYSTEM
Committee on Financial Services: Subcommittee on Capital Markets, Insurance, and Government Sponsored Enterprises held a hearing entitled “A Review of the Securities Arbitration System.” Testimony was heard from William Francis Galvin, Secretary, MA; and public witnesses.

DEPOSIT INSURANCE REFORM ACT
Committee on Financial Services: Subcommittee on Financial Institutions and Consumer Credit held a hearing on H.R. 1185, Deposit Insurance Reform Act of 2005. Testimony was heard from Donald E. Powell, Chairman, FDIC.

STEROID USE IN BASEBALL
Committee on Government Reform: Held a hearing entitled “Restoring Faith in America’s Pastime: Evaluating Major League Baseball’s Efforts to Eradicate Steroid Use.” Testimony was heard from Senator Bunning; Nora D. Volkow, M.D., Director, National Institute on Drug Abuse, NIH, Department of Health and Human Services; the following officials of Major League Baseball: Allan H. Selig, Commissioner; and Elliott J. Pellman, M.D., Medical Advisor for Major League Baseball, Office of the Commissioner; Sandy Alderson, Executive Vice President of Baseball Operations, Major League Baseball; the following Major League baseball players: Curt Schilling, Frank Thomas, Sammy Sosa, and Rafael Palmeiro; and the following former Major League baseball players: Jose Canseco and Mark McGuire.

AFGHANISTAN—U.S. COUNTERNARCOTICS POLICY
Committee on International Relations: Held an oversight hearing on U.S. Counternarcotics Policy in Afghanistan: Time for Leadership. Testimony was heard from Maureen E. Quinn, Coordinator on Afghanistan, Department of State; Mary Beth Long, Deputy Assistant Secretary, Counternarcotics, Department of Defense, and Michael A. Braun, Special Agent, Chief of Operations, DEA, Department of Justice.

HUMAN RIGHTS—GLOBAL VIEW
Committee on International Relations: Subcommittee on Africa, Global Human Rights and International Operations held an oversight hearing on A Global Review of Human Rights: Examining the State Department’s 2004 Annual Report. Testimony was heard from Michael G. Kozak, Acting Assistant Secretary, Bureau of Democracy, Human Rights and Labor, Department of State; and public witnesses.

OVERSIGHT—U.N. AND THE FIGHT AGAINST TERRORISM
Committee on International Relations: Subcommittee on International Terrorism and Nonproliferation held an oversight hearing on the United Nations and the Fight Against Terrorism. Testimony was heard from public witnesses.

The Subcommittee also held a briefing on this subject. Testimony was heard from Stephen J. Stedman, Special Advisor to Secretary-General United Nations.

OVERSIGHT—U.N. OIL-FOR-FOOD PROGRAM
Committee on International Relations: Subcommittee on Oversight and Investigations held an oversight hearing on The United Nations Oil-for-Food Program: The Cotecna and Saybolt Inspection Firms. Testimony was heard from public witnesses.
CHILD INTERSTATE ABORTION NOTIFICATION ACT; OVERSIGHT—U.S. COMMISSION ON CIVIL RIGHTS

Committee on the Judiciary: Subcommittee on the Constitution approved for full Committee action, as amended, H.R. 748, Child Interstate Abortion Notification Act.

The Subcommittee also held an oversight hearing on the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights. Testimony was heard from the following officials of the U.S. Commission Civil Rights: Russell Redenbaugh, and Michael Yaki, both Commissioners; Kenneth Marcus, Staff Director; and George Harbison, Director, Human of Resources and Active Chief of Budget and Finance.

OVERSIGHT—PATENT APPEALS

Committee on the Judiciary: Subcommittee on Courts, the Internet, and Intellectual Property held an oversight hearing on Holmes Group, the Federal Circuit, and the State of Patent Appeals. Testimony was heard from public witnesses.

STOP COUNTERFEITING IN MANUFACTURED GOODS ACT; ORGANIZED CRIME

The Subcommittee also held an oversight hearing on Responding to Organized Crimes Against Manufacturers and Retailers. Testimony was heard from Chris Swecker, Assistant Director, Criminal Investigative Division, FBI, Department of Justice; and public witnesses.

OVERSIGHT—OFF RESERVATION GAMING RESTRICTIONS

Committee on Resources: Held an oversight hearing on a measure to amend the Indian Gaming Regulatory Act to restrict off-reservation gaming. Testimony was heard from public witnesses.

OVERSIGHT—NATIONAL PARK SERVICE BUDGET

Committee on Resources: Subcommittee on National Parks held an oversight hearing on the Fiscal Year 2006 National Park Service Budget. Testimony was heard from Fran Mainella, Director, National Park Service, Department of the Interior.

MISCELLANEOUS MEASURES

NATURAL GAS PRICES

Committee on Small Business: Subcommittee on Rural Enterprise, Agriculture and Technology held a hearing entitled “The High Price of Natural Gas and its Impact on Small Businesses: Issues and Short Term Solutions,” Testimony was heard from Representative Terry; and public witnesses.

OVERSIGHT—COMMUNITY ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure: Subcommittee on Economic Development, Public Buildings and Emergency Management held an oversight hearing on The Administration’s “Strengthening America’s Communities” Initiative and its impact on economic development. Testimony was heard from David A. Sampson, Assistant Secretary, Economic Development, Department of Commerce; and public witnesses.

MEDICAL IMAGING SERVICES

Committee on Ways and Means: Subcommittee on Health held a hearing on Managing the Use of Imaging Services. Testimony was heard from Mark Miller, Executive Director, Medicare Payment Advisory Commission; and public witnesses.

GLOBAL UPDATES; BUDGET HEARING

Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence: Met in executive session to hold a hearing on Global Updates. Testimony was heard from departmental witnesses.

The Committee also met in executive session to hold a hearing on the Budget. Testimony was heard from departmental witnesses.

COMMITTEE MEETINGS FOR FRIDAY, MARCH 18, 2005

(Committee meetings are open unless otherwise indicated)

Senate

No meetings/hearings scheduled.

House

Committee on Appropriations, Subcommittee on the Department of Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, and Related Agencies, hearing on Quality Teachers, Principals and High Schools, 10 a.m., 2358 Rayburn.

Subcommittee on the Departments of Transportation, Treasury, and Housing and Urban Development, the Judiciary, District of Columbia and Independent Agencies, on Secretary of Transportation, 10 a.m., 2358 Rayburn.

Next Meeting of the SENATE
4 p.m., Monday, March 21

Senate Chamber

Program for Monday: Senate will be in a period of morning business.

Next Meeting of the HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
2 p.m., Monday, March 21

House Chamber

Program for Monday: To be announced.

Extensions of Remarks, as inserted in this issue.

HOUSE

Ackerman, Gary L., N.Y., E463
Baird, Brian, Wash., E477
Brady, Robert A., Pa., E466
Brown-Waite, Ginny, Fla., E474
Burgess, Michael C., Tex., E464, E467, E471
Castle, Michael N., Del., E461, E462, E463, E466, E468
Conyers, John, Jr., Mich., E464
Cox, Christopher, Calif., E471
Cuellar, Henry, Tex., E461, E462, E463, E465, E466, E468, E469, E471, E473, E475
Doyle, Michael F., Pa., E474
Emmanuel, Rahm, Ill., E473
Eskoo, Anna G., Calif., E465, E467
Farr, Sam, Calif., E474
Frank, Barney, Mass., E469
Hastings, Alcee L., Fla., E464, E465, E470
Higgins, Brian, N.Y., E476
Israel, Steve, N.Y., E474
Jenkins, William L., Tenn., E465
Kanjorski, Paul E., Pa., E461, E463, E466, E469
Langervin, James R. I., E474
Lantos, Tom, Calif., E476
McCollum, Betty, Minn., E473
Menendez, Robert, N.J., E477
Moran, James P., Va., E470
Norton, Eleanor Holmes, D.C., E472
Oberstar, James L., Minn., E475
Portman, Rob, Ohio, E469
Sessions, Pete, Tex., E467
Shuster, Bill, Pa., E471
Stark, Fortney Pete, Calif., E462
Thompson, Bennie G., Miss., E462
Town, Edolphus, N.Y., E461, E463, E466, E468
Udall, Mark, Colo., E473
Walsh, James T., N.Y., E477
Wolf, Frank R., Va., E472

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD—DAILY DIGEST
March 17, 2005

The Congressional Record (USPS 087–390). The Periodicals postage is paid at Washington, D.C. The public proceedings of each House of Congress, as reported by the Official Reporters thereof, are printed pursuant to directions of the Joint Committee on Printing as authorized by appropriate provisions of Title 44, United States Code, and published for each day that one or both Houses are in session, excepting very infrequent instances when two or more unusually small consecutive issues are printed one time. ¶ Public access to the Congressional Record is available online through GPO Access, a service of the Government Printing Office, free of charge to the user. The online database is updated each day the Congressional Record is published. The database includes both text and graphics from the beginning of the 103d Congress, 2d session (January 1994) forward. The record is available through GPO Access at www.gpo.gov/gpoaccess. Customers can also access this information with WAIS client software, via telnet at swais.access.gpo.gov, or dial-in using communications software and a modem at 202–512–1661. Questions or comments regarding this database or GPO Access can be directed to the GPO Access User Support Team at: E-Mail: gpoaccess@gpo.gov; Phone 1–888–293–6498 (toll-free), 202–512–1530 (D.C. area); Fax: 202–512–2250. The Team’s hours of availability are Monday through Friday, 7:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, except Federal holidays. ¶ The Congressional Record paper and 24x microfiche edition will be furnished by mail to subscribers, free of charge to the user. The online database is updated each day the Congressional Record is published. The database includes both text and graphics from the beginning of the 103d Congress, 2d session (January 1994) forward. It is available through GPO Access at www.gpo.gov/gpoaccess. Customers can also access this information with WAIS client software, via telnet at swais.access.gpo.gov, or dial-in using communications software and a modem at 202–512–1661. Questions or comments regarding this database or GPO Access can be directed to the GPO Access User Support Team at: E-Mail: gpoaccess@gpo.gov; Phone 1–888–293–6498 (toll-free), 202–512–1530 (D.C. area); Fax: 202–512–2250. The Team’s hours of availability are Monday through Friday, 7:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, except Federal holidays. ¶ Following each session of Congress, the daily Congressional Record is revised, printed, permanently bound and sold by the Superintendent of Documents in individual parts or by sets. ¶ With the exception of copyrighted articles, there are no restrictions on the republication of material from the Congressional Record.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to the Superintendent of Documents, Congressional Record, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, along with the entire mailing label from the last issue received.