The House met at 12:30 p.m. and was called to order by the Speaker pro tempore (Mr. ADERHOLT).

DESIGNATION OF SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore laid before the House the following communication from the Speaker:
WASHINGTON, DC, June 27, 2005.
I hereby appoint the Honorable Robert B. ADERHOLT to act as Speaker pro tempore on this day.

J. DENNIS HASTERT,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

MORNING HOUR DEBATES

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the order of the House of January 4, 2005, the Chair will now recognize Members from lists submitted by the majority and minority leaders for morning hour debates. The Chair will alternate recognition between the parties, with each party limited to not to exceed 30 minutes, and each Member, except the majority leader, the minority leader, or the minority whip, limited to not to exceed 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. FRANK) for 5 minutes.

KARL ROVE

Mr. FRANK of Massachusetts. Mr. Speaker, last week the Deputy Chief of Staff of the President of the United States, Karl Rove, a man who began as a political operator, and was rewarded for his political successes by being named to a very high position in the administration—indeed, he is clearly as influential in shaping the policies of the Bush Administration as anyone other than the President himself—made a speech which was harsh, as is his right, but which was thoroughly dishonest, which again is his right under the first amendment to the Constitution, but ought not to be a right which high officials of the Federal Government avail themselves of so freely.

Mr. Rove lied. The speech consists of a number of conscious, deliberate lies, particular ones and general ones. Here is what he said in his effort to further the deep polarization of this country from which he believes his side will benefit if he is able to shape the way in which it is perceived. “The most important difference between conservatives and liberals can be found in the area of national security. Conservatives saw the savagery of 9/11 in the attacks and prepared for war. Liberals saw the savagery of the 9/11 attacks and wanted to prepare indictments and offer therapy and understanding for our attackers.”

Mr. Speaker, that is a lie. It is a lie consisting of a number of lies. I am a liberal, Mr. Speaker. And along with many, many other liberals in this Chamber, my response to the savage murders of Americans on 9/11 has no resemblance to the political dishonesty that Karl Rove put forward.

I voted for war in Afghanistan. No one who serves here votes for war easily. No one who has the responsibility of defending the country can be cavalier about sending the young men and women of our country off to battle, to kill and be killed. But the vote to go to war in Afghanistan, to authorize the President, in effect, to go to war, to take whatever measures were necessary, and we knew when we did that that we were talking about going after the regime in Afghanistan which was sheltering that murderer, Osama bin Laden, that vote was virtually unanimous. There was one “no” vote here. There were no “no” votes in the other body.

There are a lot of liberals here, Mr. Speaker. And virtually unanimously we voted to go to war in Afghanistan.

Yet Mr. Rove would lie to the American people and characterize that decision to go to war in defense of the country as indictments and therapy and understanding.

Mr. Speaker, there are a number of Members deeply committed to liberalism. And we voted unanimously for a bill that enhanced law enforcement powers. It was not therapy. It was not understanding. It was enhanced law enforcement powers. Now, it is true that many of us subsequently voted against a very different bill that came to the floor.

But the version we reported out of our committee was the one of which the chairman of the Committee on the Judiciary, the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. Sensenbrenner), boasted a while ago about his bipartisanship, because it provided significantly enhanced law enforcement powers.

Yet Mr. Rove would lie to the American people and characterize that decision to go to war in defense of the country as indictments and therapy and understanding.

The Republican leadership then decided to kill that bill, and with no debate, no chance to read it, substitute a very different bill that many of us opposed on procedural as well as substantive grounds.

But the fact is that the liberals on the Judiciary Committee unanimously supported increased law enforcement powers. So the notion that we were offering only therapy, that lie, is of course refuted by the fact that we voted to go to war. We voted for enhanced law enforcement powers.

But then comes the biggest lie of all. What Mr. Rove appears to be trying to do is to perpetuate one of the most damaging acts of dishonesty we have seen from a President of the United States, the argument that part of the reason for invading Iraq was to defend ourselves against 9/11. That is, of course, what is implicit in Mr. Rove’s speech. He would put together the attack of 9/11, and what we did in Iraq.

But, the fact is now very clear, the Iraqi regime, despicable as it was, was not involved in the murders of 9/11. The war in Iraq was not based on an effort to deal with 9/11. That was the war in Afghanistan, which we supported.

So what you have from Mr. Rove, I would say in conclusion, Mr. Speaker, is a couple of specific lies in pursuit of a very big one, a big one that tries to get America to forget how dishonestly this administration argued for the war in Iraq.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 2(a) of rule I, the Chair declares the House in recess until 2 p.m.

Accordingly (at 12 o’clock and 38 minutes p.m.), the House stood in recess until 2 p.m.

AFTER RECESS

The recess having expired, the House was called to order by the Speaker pro tempore (Mr. RADANOVICH) at 2 p.m.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, the Reverend Daniel P. Coughlin, offered the following prayer:

Lord God, the Book of Proverbs tells us of Your care and concern for leaders: “Discretion will watch over you. Understanding will guard you.”

Lord, without discretion, power and position may be wasted and personal virtues produce nothing.

As a special aspect of prudence, discretion enlightens a person to one’s true motives in acting and inspires multiple means to achieve one’s goal.

So fill Members of the House of Representatives with discretion this week. May they be discreet in what they say and discreet in what they do. Since they have such an impact on so many people, they need to be mindful that indiscreet thoughts boomerang their sting when they come to light in word or deed.

In Your sight, O Lord, discretion is the better part of valor now and always.

Amen.

THE JOURNAL

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair has examined the Journal of the last day’s proceedings and announces to the House his approval thereof.

Pursuant to clause 1, rule I, the Journal stands approved.

UNOCAL

Mr. NEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to request that the Bush administration review, under the Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States, the Chinese National Offshore Oil Corporation’s bid to purchase Unocal.

Mr. Speaker, at a time of rising prices on global oil supplies, ready access to energy resources is vital to our economic security. It is imperative that the United States protect its access to these energy resources in order to protect our economy and our national security.

This committee, chaired by Secretary Snow, may block this foreign acquisition of an American corporation if it finds that there is evidence that the Chinese National Offshore Oil Corporation might take action that threatens our national security.

Such a review is not unprecedented. Mr. Speaker, in 2003, the committee reviewed a bid by Hong Kong-based Hutchinson Whampoa to purchase Global Crossing, and earlier this year the committee reviewed the sale of IBM’s personal computer business to the Chinese firm, the Lenovo Group.

Should the committee determine that this acquisition threatens the national security of the United States, it could ultimately issue a suspension or a denial.

Whether the Chinese National Offshore Oil Corporation’s actions, through the takeover of Unocal, will threaten our national security is not yet known; however, they justify a thorough review.

CONGRATULATING THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS LONGHORNS ON WINNING THE 2005 COLLEGE WORLD SERIES

Mr. SMITH of Texas. Mr. Speaker, it is a privilege to congratulate the University of Texas Longhorns, the University of Texas Longhorns.

This is an amazing sixth national title for the Longhorns. It also represents a record 32nd trip to the College World Series.
The Longhorns’ win caps off another impressive season of University of Texas baseball. The team had a combined 51-16 record in the regular season and the playoffs, setting up another opportunity to compete for the national championship.

Under the guidance of Coach Augie Garrido, the Longhorns went undefeated in their five games of the series, pulling off a 6-2 victory over the Florida Gators in the final match-up on Sunday.

Credit for this outstanding victory is due to the entire Longhorns’ baseball team, coaching staff, and the athletic department at the University of Texas.

Special recognition for the win is also owed to the most outstanding player of the series, third baseman David Maroul. His six hits and six runs were a major factor in the Longhorns’ championship win.

Mr. Speaker, congratulations go to Coach Garrido and all the Longhorn players on their great victory.

GUANTANAMO PROTECTS AMERICAN FAMILIES

(Mr. WILSON of South Carolina asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. WILSON of South Carolina. Mr. Speaker, on Saturday, I was grateful to join a 16 member delegation led by the gentleman from California (Mr. HUNTER), the Committee on Armed Services chairman, to view the detention facilities at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

In the extensive briefings by Brigadier General Jay Hood with representatives of JAG, Naval medicine, the FBI, and interrogators, I am convinced we have patriotic professionals conducting a humane mission to protect American families in the war on terrorism. The detainees were as good as we had in my 31 years of Army Guard service, and I can see why the prisoners had in my 31 years of Army Guard service at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

Under the guidance of Coach Augie Garrido with representatives of JAG, Naval medicine, the FBI, and interrogators, I am convinced we have patriotic professionals conducting a humane mission to protect American families in the war on terrorism. The detainees were as good as we had in my 31 years of Army Guard service, and I can see why the prisoners had in my 31 years of Army Guard service at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

I urge all of my colleagues to visit the base to learn firsthand of the hardcore killers who are detained as interrogation proceeds to secure intelligence on terrorist cells. Not a single life has been lost at Guantanamo, but thousands of lives have been saved in the Middle East, Europe and America because of information which enables terrorists to be arrested before they murder at random.

In conclusion, God bless our troops and we will never forget September 11.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. NEY) and the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. FRANK) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. NEY).

Mr. NEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H. Res. 312 which recognizes National Homeownership Month and the importance of homeownership in the United States. It is offered by the gentleman from California (Mr. GARY G. MILLER), my colleague and friend, who could not be here this moment to carry it. He has done a lot of great work on it.

It has very good sponsors, also the gentleman from Ohio (Chairman OXLEY); the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. FRANK), our ranking member, of course myself and the gentlewoman from California (Ms. WATERS); the gentlewoman from Florida (Ms. HARRIS) and other supporters. This resolution is a testament to the benefits of a strong and robust housing market in this country.

A home is more than just the symbol of the American dream. It is the backbone of our American way of life.

Over the past 3 years, the housing market has driven the national economic growth, as Americans bought and refinanced homes in record numbers. Many regions were spared the worst of the recent recession due to the strength of some local housing markets.

Today, the housing sector directly accounts for about 14 percent of the country’s total gross domestic product. Building a home involves multiple segments of our economy, including builders, bankers, mortgage lenders, realtors and numerous other people that are involved in this whole process.

Today is National Homeownership Month, and so many of our partners celebrate this because in America, every citizen, regardless of race, creed, color or place of birth, has the opportunity and should have the opportunity to own a home of their own.

Homeownership creates community stakeholders who tend to be active in charities, churches, and neighborhood activities. Homeownership inspires civic responsibility, and homeowners are more likely to take it get involved with local issues. Families owning a home offer children a stable living environment, and in many cases it influences their personal development.
in many positive, measurable ways, at home and also at school.

Homeownership's potential to create wealth is impressive, too. For the vast majority of families, the purchase of a home represents the path to prosperity. A home is the largest purchase most families will ever make in their lifetime. It is a tangible asset that builds equity, good credit, borrowing power and overall wealth.

Today, nearly 70 percent of American families own their own homes. And minority households are expected to account for two-thirds of household growth over the coming decade.

Improving the ability of such households to make the transition to homeownership will be an important test of the ways to create economic opportunity for minorities and immigrants and to build strong, stable communities.

Last Congress, the Subcommittee on Housing and Community Opportunity, I am pleased to report, assisted in the successful enactment of 17 housing-related bills. Through bipartisan cooperation with our ranking member, the gentlewoman from California (Ms. WATERS); the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. OXLEY); and the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. FRANK), who worked on a good piece of legislation, we were able to enact these pieces of legislation today to make existing housing programs work better.

Overshadowed, however, in the 109th Congress. The Subcommittee on Housing and Community Opportunity will hold a hearing this Thursday on the recently introduced Zero Downpayment Pilot Program Act of 2005. This was introduced by the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. TIBERI) and the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. SCOTT). This legislation, which was first introduced last Congress, would provide a program to eliminate the downpayment requirement for certain families and individuals who buy with FHA-insured mortgages. Changes have been made from last year's bill that would make it a pilot program and limits the program to 50,000 loans.

It is also my hope to look into the recent legislation introduced by the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. FITZPATRICK), which deals with the issue of reverse mortgages. More specifically, it would remove completely the statutory limitation, or ceiling, and the aggregate number of mortgages guaranteed.

In the area of rural housing, the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. DAVIS), who will be speaking later on the floor, has taken the lead by looking into creative ways to reform the Rural Housing Service.

On March 1, I introduced, along with the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. KANJORSKI) and many others, the bipartisan Rural Ashcroft Lending Act, which aims to stop abusive lending practices while allowing the mortgage market to continue to offer affordable credit. I have taken a great deal of time to investigate and find solutions to problems of abusive and predatory lending that exist in the subprime market. As the legislative process moves forward, we will continue to work to improve and refine this bill, I would note.

While homeownership is a desired goal for many Americans, I would be remiss if I did not mention that today we know there are people who are not ready to own their own home, and we cannot forget about that. So it is therefore prudent that we continue to pursue strategies to ensure that affordable rental housing is available.

I am working with members of the committee to craft solutions that will address the effectiveness and efficiency of the government's role in the administration of the programs.

We had some roundtables, which the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. FRANK), the gentlewoman from California (Ms. WATERS), the gentlewoman from New York (Ms. VELAZQUEZ), the gentleman from Alabama (Mr. BACHUS) and others participated in; and I think those are good, effective ways to bring people to the table so they can have an energetic give-and-take about section 8 and where we are.

I recognize there are key questions regarding funding of the Housing Choice Voucher Program. It is my hope to focus strictly on proposals to reform the program to make it a viable alternative in the future. The longer we wait to take the increasing costs of the section 8 program, the greater the risk there is to the section 8 program as well as other programs in HUD that will most surely suffer with some additional problems.

I would also note in this process that I think we have come to an agreement in terms of what we are going to do with section 8; but I believe the whole community in the United States, housing authorities and others, needs to catch their breath. We cannot have one proposal one year that will completely alter it and the next year we see the same thing. So that is why I think the roundtables are productive ways to look at changes we can agree to.

We have much to achieve together. I am pleased to report, assisted in the successful enactment of 17 housing-related bills. Through bipartisan cooperation with our ranking member, the gentlewoman from California (Ms. WATERS); the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. OXLEY); and the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. FRANK), who worked on a good piece of legislation, we were able to enact these pieces of legislation today to make existing housing programs work better.

Overshadowed, however, in the 109th Congress. The Subcommittee on Housing and Community Opportunity will hold a hearing this Thursday on the recently introduced Zero Downpayment Pilot Program Act of 2005. This was introduced by the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. TIBERI) and the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. SCOTT). This legislation, which was first introduced last Congress, would provide a program to eliminate the downpayment requirement for certain families and individuals who buy with FHA-insured mortgages. Changes have been made from last year's bill that would make it a pilot program and limits the program to 50,000 loans.

It is also my hope to look into the recent legislation introduced by the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. FITZPATRICK), which deals with the issue of reverse mortgages. More specifically, it would remove completely the statutory limitation, or ceiling, and the aggregate number of mortgages guaranteed.

In the area of rural housing, the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. DAVIS), who will be speaking later on the floor, has taken the lead by looking into creative ways to reform the Rural Housing Service.

On March 1, I introduced, along with the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. KANJORSKI) and many others, the bipartisan Rural Ashcroft Lending Act, which aims to stop abusive lending practices while allowing the mortgage market to continue to offer affordable credit. I have taken a great deal of time to investigate and find solutions to problems of abusive and predatory lending that exist in the subprime market. As the legislative process moves forward, we will continue to work to improve and refine this bill, I would note.

While homeownership is a desired goal for many Americans, I would be remiss if I did not mention that today we know there are people who are not ready to own their own home, and we cannot forget about that. So it is therefore prudent that we continue to pursue strategies to ensure that affordable rental housing is available. I am working with members of the committee to craft solutions that will address the effectiveness and efficiency of the government's role in the administration of the programs.

We had some roundtables, which the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. FRANK), the gentlewoman from California (Ms. WATERS), the gentlewoman from New York (Ms. VELAZQUEZ), the gentleman from Alabama (Mr. BACHUS) and others participated in; and I think those are good, effective ways to bring people to the table so they can have an energetic give-and-take about section 8 and where we are.

I recognize there are key questions regarding funding of the Housing Choice Voucher Program. It is my hope to focus strictly on proposals to reform the program to make it a viable alternative in the future. The longer we wait to take the increasing costs of the section 8 program, the greater the risk there is to the section 8 program as well as other programs in HUD that will most surely suffer with some additional problems.

I would also note in this process that I think we have come to an agreement in terms of what we are going to do with section 8; but I believe the whole community in the United States, housing authorities and others, needs to catch their breath. We cannot have one proposal one year that will completely alter it and the next year we see the same thing. So that is why I think the roundtables are productive ways to look at changes we can agree to.

We have much to achieve together. I appreciate my colleagues who do so much to try to help people in homeownership, and I support this resolution.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. FRANK of Massachusetts. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I am very pleased to join in support of this resolution. Indeed, I was a prime cosponsor. The main sponsor is the gentleman from California (Mr. GARY G. MILLER), who comes to Congress with a distinguished record himself in building homes.

This is a very important resolution, particularly at this time, because we have, I think, an excessive degree of concern right now about homeownership and its role in the economy.

Obviously, speculation is never a good thing. But those who argue that housing prices are now at the point of being so high that they seem to be missing a very important point. Unlike previous examples, where substantial excessive inflation of prices later caused some problems, we are talking here about an entity, homeownership, houses, where there is not the degree of leverage that we have seen elsewhere.

This is not the dot-com situation. We had problems with people having invested in business plans for which there was no reality and people building fiber-optic cable for which there was no demand. The collapse may see an ebb and flow in the price at a certain percentage level, but you will not see the collapse that you see when people talk about a bubble.

So those of us on our committee in particular will continue to push for homeownership. And I very much agree with the gentleman from Ohio who has chaired the Subcommittee on Housing and Community Opportunity of the Committee on Financial Services about the importance of and the various ways in which we do that.

Obviously, the market will take care of a large number of people, but it will not take care of everybody. And if we are going to expand homeownership, there will have to be a sensible set of public policies, such as reducing the downpayment in the FHA, such as protecting people from lending practices that may at first seem to benefit them but then victimize them. And I hope our colleagues will continue to pursue the legislation that will protect people against that.

We also have pending now, and it came out of our committee, legislation dealing with those government-sponsored enterprises whose function is to provide homeownership and homes in general, the Federal Home Loan Banks, Freddie Mac and Fannie Mae. And I hope that legislation along the lines that came out of our committee, which enhances the regulatory regime but does not intrude unduly on their ability to function, will be maintained.

I also want to express my appreciation to the gentleman from Ohio for having noted a very important point that sometimes gets overlooked. Homeownership is an important part of our policy, but it is not the entire housing policy of the Federal Government; nor is it the entire housing need of the nation. Some people will never own. Some people who choose not to own; there will be people who for their economic circumstances will not be able to own. And there is no conflict between promoting homeownership and recognizing that decent, affordable rental housing also be very important indefinitely for tens of millions of Americans.

I welcome the initiative that the gentleman from Ohio talked about with regard to improving our public policies so that everyone is able to expand the risk of affordable rental housing and do it in a way that protects both the renters themselves and the taxpayers.

I want to add, as I bring these remarks to a close, that I enjoyed working with the gentleman from California (Mr. GARY G. MILLER), that I want to pay tribute to a couple of organizations that have done a good deal to help us with this. I found the National Association of Home Builders has been a very constructive participant in our efforts to promote homeownership. The National Association of Realtors has also played a very useful role in helping us shape public policies that expand homeownership.

There are also a variety of advocacy groups that work with us so that we can make homeownership available to people who might not on their own in a market situation be able to afford it, while those groups, of course, at the same time, work with us on the need for affordable housing.

So as an example of what we are trying to do for an overall comprehensive housing policy, I very much support this. And let us be clear: if a family is inadequately housed, if they either have housing that is not adequate or are paying far too much of their income to get adequate housing, then a degree of social disorganization can result which causes problems elsewhere.

So maintaining a comprehensive set of policies that expand housing opportunities for people at various levels of the income scale is a very important part of our responsibility, and I welcome the chance to support this resolution as an example of one important piece of that.

Mr. Speaker, I have no further request, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. NEY. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume in closing to once again thank the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. FRANK) and also the gentleman from California (Mr. GARY G. MILLER) who has been very active and has been a great member on the Subcommittee on Housing and Community Opportunity. Along with a lot of our other colleagues, he has done a wonderful job on the committee, and it has been a pleasure having him on the committee. We also appreciate this resolution.

Mr. GARY G. MILLER of California. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to celebrate homeownership in America.

Recently, President Bush designated June as National Homeownership Month as he has done for the past three years. To complement this designation, H. Res. 312, provides recognition of June as National Homeownership Month and the importance of homeownership in the United States.

This resolution expresses the sense of Congress that the House of Representatives: (1) Fully supports the goals and ideals of National Homeownership Month; and (2) recognizes the importance of homeownership in building strong communities and families.

IMPORTANCE OF HOMEOWNERSHIP IN AMERICA

For generations, the goal of owning a home has been the bedrock of our economy and a fundamental part of the American Dream. Over the last three years, as we have faced the challenges of war and economic uncertainty, the housing markets have helped to keep our economy strong. Nationally, housing generates more than 22 percent of the Gross Domestic Product and accounts for nearly 40 cents of every dollar spent in our nation.

America’s housing markets are the envy of the world. We enjoy the lowest interest rates and the highest homeownership rates of any developed nation. In fact, the national homeownership rate in the United States has reached a record high of 68.1 percent and more than half of all minority families are homeowners. Over 73.4 million Americans are now homeowners, with many more achieving this goal every day.

Homeownership is the single largest creator of wealth for Americans. It is the largest investment most families will ever make and a key to promoting long-term economic stability. For these reasons, we must continue to promote policies that ensure more Americans may achieve the goal of homeownership.

HOMEOWNERSHIP BUILDS STRONGER COMMUNITIES

Aside from helping millions of Americans achieve their dreams, homeownership also helps to build neighborhoods and strengthen communities.

For families across this Nation, a home is not just four walls and a roof. It is a refuge from the perils of the outside world, a break from the stress of the day, a place where children can learn, play, and grow, and as a place where the elderly may retire with a lifetime of memories.

Owning a home also provides homeowners a tangible stake in their communities. Families who own homes have a vital stake in their neighborhoods, a stronger interest in the safekeeping of their neighborhoods, and a deeper commitment to the quality of their schools and libraries. Each home is a critical piece in a successful neighborhood, allowing families to enjoy community events together and share in the lives of their neighbors and friends.

As millions of American families have demonstrated, increased homeownership helps to build better communities, and better communities help to build a better America.

CONGRESS’S ROLE IN PROMOTING HOMEOWNERSHIP

As responsible leaders, we need to ensure that government helps, rather than impedes, homeownership in America. When I came to Congress, I made it my top priority to highlight Federal policies that have hindered the availability of housing in this country and to find ways for government to positively impact homeownership in America.

While we have done much to help Americans become homeowners, we must do more. We must remove the hurdles and needless regulations that keep homeownership out of the reach of many Americans. We must also promote fair lending and fair housing regulations to increase housing opportunities for all Americans. With June designated as National Homeownership Month, there is no better time to address these issues.

Now more than ever, Congress must cultivate an environment in which more Americans can turn the dream of homeownership into reality.

SUPPORT NATIONAL HOMEOWNERSHIP MONTH AND H. RES. 312

I am very pleased to see the President has made it a priority to promote affordable housing and homeownership. His Administration has taken a leading role in finding new and innovative ways to expand homeownership, particularly among minorities and families in low-income areas. I commend the hard work of Secretary Jackson and his team at HUD for their work in developing programs to increase affordable housing and encourage homeownership.

As a vital part of this goal, National Homeownership Month is a reminder of the importance of housing issues in America. This bipartisan resolution, H. Res. 312, recognizes the need for National Homeownership Month and the overall importance of homeownership in America. I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting H. Res. 312 to reinforce our commitment to housing opportunities and to help guarantee the dream of homeownership for more American families.

Mr. NEY. Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. RADANOVICH). The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. NEY) that the House suspend the rules and agree to the resolution, H. Res. 312.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the resolution agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. NEY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days in which to review and extend their remarks on this legislation, House Resolution 312, and to insert extraneous material into the RECORD. The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Ohio?

There was no objection.

LITTLE ROCK CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL DESEGREGATION 50TH ANNIVERSARY COMMEMORATIVE COIN ACT

Mr. DAVIS of Kentucky. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 358) to require the Secretary of the Treasury to mint coins in commemoration of the 50th anniversary of the desegregation of the Little Rock Central High School in Little Rock, Arkansas, and for other purposes, as amended.

The Clerk read as follows:

H.R. 358

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled:

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.
This Act may be cited as the “Little Rock Central High School Desegregation 50th Anniversary Commemorative Coin Act”.

SEC. 2. FINDINGS.
(1) September 2007, marks the 50th anniversary of the desegregation of the Little Rock Central High School in Little Rock, Arkansas.

(2) In 1957, Little Rock Central High was the site of the first major national test for the implementation of the historic decision of the United States Supreme Court in Brown, et al. v. Board of Education of Topeka, et al., 347 U.S. 483 (1954).

(3) The desegregation of Little Rock Central High by the 9 African American students was recognized by Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. as such a significant event in the struggle for civil rights that in May 1958, he attended the graduation of the first African American from Little Rock Central High School.

(4) A commemorative coin will bring national and international attention to the lasting legacy of this important event.

SEC. 3. COIN SPECIFICATIONS.
(1) The Secretary shall select by the Secretary after consultation with the Commission of Fine Arts and the Secretary of the Interior for the protection, preservation, and interpretation of resources and stories associated with Little Rock Central High School National Historic Site, including the following:

(a) Site improvements at Little Rock Central High School National Historic Site.

(b) Development of interpretive and educational programs and historic preservation projects.

(c) Establishment of cooperative agreements to preserve or restore the historic character of the Park Street and Daisy L. Gatson Bates Drive corridors adjacent to the site.

(2) The Secretary shall award a Congressional Gold Medal to Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. when he attended the graduation of the first African American from the school a year later.

(3) The desegregation of Little Rock Central High School itself, embraced extraordinary African Americans, including, among others:

(a) Elizabeth Eckford
(b) Melba Pattillo Beals
(c) Jefferson Thomas
(d) Carlotta Walls
(e) Terence Roberts
(f) Gloria Ray
(g) Thelma Mothershed Wills
(h) Minnijean Brown Trickey

SEC. 4. DESIGN OF COINS.
(a) DENOMINATIONS.—The Secretary of the Treasury shall be authorized to mint $1 silver coins in commemoration of the desegregation of the Little Rock Central High School.

(b) DESIGN REQUIREMENTS.—The design of the coins minted under this Act shall be emblematic of the desegregation of the Little Rock Central High School and its contribution to civil rights in America.

(c) DESIGNATION AND INScriptions.—On each coin minted under this Act there shall be—

(1) a designation of the value of the coin;

(2) an inscription of the year “2007”; and

(3) Inscriptions of the words “Liberty”, “In God We Trust”, “United States of America”, and “E Pluribus Unum”.

(d) SELECTION.—The design for the coins minted under this Act shall be—

(1) selected by the Secretary after consultation with the Commission of Fine Arts; and

(2) reviewed by the Citizens Coinage Advisory Committee established under section 5135 of title 31, United States Code.

SEC. 5. ISSUANCE OF COINS.
(a) QUALITY OF COINS.—Coins minted under this Act shall be—

(1) selected by the Secretary after consultation with the Commission of Fine Arts and the Secretary of the Interior for the protection, preservation, and interpretation of resources and stories associated with Little Rock Central High School National Historic Site, including the following:

(b) NUMISMATIC ITEMS.—For purposes of section 5136(f) of title 31, United States Code, all coins minted under this Act shall be considered to be numismatic items.

(c) The Secretary shall—

SEC. 6. SALE OF COINS.
(a) SALE OF COINS.—On sale at a reasonable discount.

(b) BULK SALES.—The Secretary shall make bulk sales of the coins issued under this Act at a reasonable discount.

(c) PREPAID ORDERS AT A DISCOUNT.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall accept prepaid orders for the coins issued under this Act at a reasonable discount.

(2) LIMITATION.—Notwithstanding subsection (a), no surcharge may be included with respect to the issuance under this Act of any coin during a calendar year if, as of December 31 of such year, the issuance of such coin would result in the number of commemorative coin programs issued during such year to exceed the annual 2 commemorative coin program issuance limitation under section 512(m)(1) of title 31, United States Code (as in effect on the date of the enactment of this Act). The Secretary of the Treasury shall issue guidance to carry out this subsection.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. Davis) and the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. Frank) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. Davis).

Mr. Davis of Kentucky. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to submit their remarks on this legislation, H.R. 358, and include extraneous material thereon.

Mr. Speaker, this legislation authorizes the striking in 2007 of as many as 500,000 silver $1 commemorative coins, at no cost to the taxpayers, with surcharges on the sale of the coins dedicated to site improvements at the Little Rock Central High School National Historic Site, to development of interpretive and educational programs at the site, to historic preservation projects there, and to the establishment of cooperative agreements to preserve or restore the historic character of the Park Street and Daisy L. Gatson Bates Drive corridors adjacent to the site.

Mr. Speaker, this legislation has 321 cosponsors, amply demonstrating its broad bipartisan appeal. I urge immediate adoption.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. Frank of Massachusetts. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I was a high school senior when the extraordinary brave African American students entered Little Rock High School, and I very vividly remember the combination of emotions I felt: shock, that the Nation of which I was so proud was allowing the mistreatment of these people who simply sought to get an education equal to that of their fellow students; admiration, beyond admiration for their courage; frustration at a Federal Government which was hesitant at first in its response; and anger at those who would betray the spirit of America by racially motivated assaults on these brave young people.

This ended happily, but not nearly soon enough. It was an extraordinarily important event in this country, and it reminds us that you cannot correct evil. And we are talking here, in my judgment, about the great social evil that plagued our country. You cannot confront it halfway. You cannot confront it with the hope that if you just close your eyes and wish, things will get better. You have to deal directly with it.

Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as he may set for the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. FRANK) for yielding me this time.

Mr. Speaker, I want to commend the gentleman from Arkansas (Mr. S N Y D E R) who represents Little Rock and has been the main advocate for this legislation.

Mr. S N Y D E R. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding me this time. I also want to commend the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. D A V I S) and the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. O X L E Y) and the committee staff on both sides of the aisle that worked on this bill.

Last week at American University in Cairo, Egypt, Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice made some remarks. Part of what she said, "When we talk about democracy, though, we are referring to governments that protect certain basic rights for all their citizens. Among these, the right to speak freely, the right to associate, the right to worship as you wish, the freedom to educate your children, boys and girls, and freedom from the midnight knock of the secret police.''

Secretary Rice continues, "Securing these rights is the hope of every citizen, and the duty of every government. In my own country, the progress of democracy has been long and difficult. And given our history, the United States has no cause for false pride. Every reason to feel humility. After all, America was founded by individuals who knew that all human beings and the governments they create are inherently imperfect, and the United States was born half free and half slave. It was only in my lifetime that my government guaranteed the right to vote for all its people. "Nevertheless, the principles enshrined in our Constitution enable citizens of conviction to move America closer every day to the ideal of democracy."

The Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice in Cairo last week.

Mr. Speaker, nowhere was the march toward the ideal of democracy more in evidence than in the fall of 1957 in Little Rock, Arkansas. In 1957, Little Rock Central High School was the site of the first major national test for the implementation of the historic decision of the United States Supreme Court in Brown v. Board of Education of Topeka. President Eisenhower issued an Executive order directing marshals and troops under Federal authority to aid in the compliance of Federal law in Little Rock, Arkansas.

The courage of the "Little Rock Nine," Dr. Martin Luther King as such a significant event in the struggle for civil rights that in May 1958 he attended the graduation of the first African American from Little Rock Central High School, Ernest Green.

The 1957 crisis in Little Rock, brought about by the desegregation of Little Rock Central High School, was a huge part of the march towards freedom and opportunity in America. A 2007 commemorative coin issued by the U.S. Mint to honor the 50th anniversary of this important event will bring national and international attention to its lasting legacy.

As indicated by the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. D A V I S) the money raised from the sale of these coins pays for the cost, there is no cost to the taxpayers, and any moneys beyond the cost may be used to support the national historic site.

We are told one of the difficulties that some of our national parks now have in meeting their basic infrastructure needs, and the intent of this legislation is to provide supplementary funds to the care and maintenance of the Central Little Rock National Historic Site.

Mr. Speaker, I recommend an aye vote on the legislation.

Mr. FRANK of Massachusetts. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as he may consume on the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. D A V I S).

Mr. D A V I S of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. FRANK) for yielding me this time.

I also want to commend the gentleman from Arkansas (Mr. S N Y D E R) for his introduction of this legislation and the committee for moving it expeditiously to the floor so it, in fact, can be passed.

Mr. Speaker, I rise with great pride to honor the legacy of the courageous Little Rock Nine. Dr. Martin Luther King once said, "The swelling summer of the Negro's legitimate discontent will not pass until there is an invigorating autumn of freedom and equality."

One September morning in 1957, on the eve of the new school year, the cool winds of change brushed across the city of Little Rock, Arkansas. Nine young men and women attended Little Rock Central High School. Despite the taunts, violence and venomous hatred endured by these youth during their tenure at Central High, they pressed on and pursued a dream for the millions of African Americans that cheered them on across the country.

It is a very meaningful time for me because I too lived at that time in Arkansas. I was born in a little city in the southeastern part of the State. In 1957, and I guess the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. D A V I S) and I are kind of in the same age group; I, too, was a college freshman on the campus of the University of Arkansas at Pine Bluff, which was then known as Arkansas A&M College about 45 miles from Little Rock. This was our daily news, our daily activity, our daily occurrences.

I have been fortunate to know many of the individuals who were intimately involved, such as Ernie Green, the first African American to attend Little Rock Central High School. Melba Pattillo's mother was a teacher at the school where I did student teaching, and I have had a chance to know them. Wallie Branton, who was the attorney intimately involved with the NAACP, I knew him and his family; and Daisy Bates, who was the leader of the NAACP in Arkansas at that time, are all people with whom I have had an opportunity to interact and I must to know. They were indeed a part of me and I am indeed a part of them. So I take great personal pride in knowing that there will be recognition of this historic struggle and the tremendous courage displayed.

I want to commend the gentleman from Arkansas (Mr. S N Y D E R) for his legislation which brings into work this commendation which puts a footnote in another chapter of the historic struggle for equality and justice in America.

Mr. FRANK of Massachusetts. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

First, I want to thank the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. D A V I S) for those remarks. He noted he was a freshman at college during this time. As a senior in high school, I certainly want to pay deference to my elders and thank the gentleman for his remarks.

I want to note for record that he be of no interest to anybody outside this Chamber, a set of decisions, procedures, and rules that we adopted earlier made it harder to bring this resolution to the
Mr. Speaker, as a testament to the importance of this legislation, it is supported broadly and on a bipartisan basis by 321 Members. I urge its immediate passage.

Ms. JACKSON–LEE of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to be here today to be in support of H.R. 358 to commemorate the desegregation of the Little Rock Central High School.

The desegregation of the Little Rock Central High School was the site of the first major national test for school desegregation in Brown v. Board of Education. The legislation we consider today will go a long way to preserving an historic symbol of the first African American from Little Rock Central High School.

Mr. Speaker, as a testament to the importance of this legislation, it is supported broadly and on a bipartisan basis by 321 Members. I urge its immediate passage.

Mr. Speaker, as a testament to the importance of this legislation, it is supported broadly and on a bipartisan basis by 321 Members. I urge its immediate passage.

Mr. Speaker, as a testament to the importance of this legislation, it is supported broadly and on a bipartisan basis by 321 Members. I urge its immediate passage.
Sec. 102. Prohibition on future sales of periodic payment plans.
Sec. 103. Method of maintaining broker-dealer registration, disciplinary, and other data.
Sec. 104. Filing depositories for investment advisers.
Sec. 105. State insurance and securities jurisdiction on military installations.
Sec. 106. Required development of military personnel protection standards.
Sec. 107. Required disclosures regarding life insurance.
Sec. 108. Improving life insurance products.
Sec. 109. Required reporting of disciplined insurance producers.
Sec. 110. Reporting barred persons engaging in financial services activities.
Sec. 111. Sense of Congress.
Sec. 112. Definitions.

TITLE II—LENDING TO ARMED FORCES PERSONNEL

Sec. 201. Requirements applicable to certain loans to military servicemembers.

TITLE I—INSURANCE AND INVESTMENT PRODUCTS

SEC. 101. CONGRESSIONAL FINDINGS.
The Congress finds the following:

(1) Our military personnel perform great sacrifices in protecting our Nation in the War on Terror and promoting democracy abroad.

(2) Our brave men and women in uniform deserve to be offered first-rate financial products in order to provide for their families and save and invest for retirement.

(3) Our military personnel are being offered high-cost securities and life insurance products by some financial services companies engaging in abusive and misleading sales practices.

(4) One securities product being offered to our service members, the contractual plan, has largely disappeared from the civilian market since the 1980s due to its excessive sales charges and the emergence of low-cost products. A 50-percent sales commission is typically assessed against the first year of contributions made under a contractual plan, even though the average commission on other securities products such as mutual funds is less than 1 percent on each sale.

(5) The excessive sales charge on the contractual plan makes it susceptible to abusive and misleading sales practices.

(6) Certain life insurance products being offered to our service members are being improperly marketed as investment products. These products provide very low death benefits for very high premiums that are front-loaded in the first few years, making them completely inappropriate for most military personnel.

(7) Regulation of these securities and life insurance products and their sale on military bases has been clearly inadequate and requires Congressional legislation to address.

SEC. 102. PROHIBITION ON FUTURE SALES OF PERIODIC PAYMENT PLANS.

(a) AMENDMENT.—Section 27 of the Investment Company Act of 1940 (15 U.S.C. 80a–27) is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

"(1) TERMINATION.—Effective 30 days after the date of enactment of the Military Personnel Financial Services Protection Act, it shall be unlawful, subject to subsection (c)— "(A) for a life insurance investment company to issue any periodic payment plan certificate; or

"(B) for such company, or any depositor of or underwriter for any such company, or any other person, to sell such a certificate.

"(2) NO INVALIDATION OF EXISTING CERTIFICATES.—Any such certificate, or any extension, alteration, invalidation, or other affect any rights or obligations, including rights of re- demption, under any periodic payment plan certificate issued before 30 days after such date of enactment.

"(b) TECHNICAL AMENDMENT.—Section 27(i)(2)(B) of such Act is amended by striking "section 26(e)" and inserting "section 26(f)".

"(c) REPORT ON REFUNDS, SALES PRACTICES, AND REGULATORY PAYMENT PLANS.—Within 6 months after the date of enactment of this Act, the Securities and Exchange Commission shall submit to the Committee on Financial Services of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs of the Senate, a report describing—

"(1) any measures taken by a broker or dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to section 15(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (15 U.S.C. 78o(b)) that allow voluntary refund payments made by military service members on any periodic payment plan certificate, and the amounts of such refunds;

"(2) after such consultation with the Secretary of Defense as the Commission considers appropriate, the sales practices of such brokers or dealers on military installa-

"(3) the revenues generated by such brokers or dealers in the sales of periodic payment plan certificates over the past 5 years and what products such brokers or dealers market to registered investment advisers; and

"(4) One securities product being offered to our service members, the contractual plan, has largely disappeared from the civilian market since the 1980s due to its excessive sales charges and the emergence of low-cost products. A 50-percent sales commission is typically assessed against the first year of contributions made under a contractual plan, even though the average commission on other securities products such as mutual funds is less than 1 percent on each sale.

"(5) the revenues generated by such brokers or dealers in the sales of periodic payment plan certificates over the past 5 years and any legisla-

"(6) Certain life insurance products being offered to our service members are being improperly marketed as investment products. These products provide very low death benefits for very high premiums that are front-loaded in the first few years, making them completely inappropriate for most military personnel.

"(7) Regulation of these securities and life insurance products and their sale on military bases has been clearly inadequate and requires Congressional legislation to address.

"(8) Certain life insurance products being offered to our service members are being improperly marketed as investment products. These products provide very low death benefits for very high premiums that are front-loaded in the first few years, making them completely inappropriate for most military personnel.

"(9) The excessive sales charge on the contractual plan makes it susceptible to abusive and misleading sales practices.

"(10) Certain life insurance products being offered to our service members are being improperly marketed as investment products. These products provide very low death benefits for very high premiums that are front-loaded in the first few years, making them completely inappropriate for most military personnel.

"(11) TERMINATION OF SALES.—

"(j) TERMINATION OF SALES.—

"(k) TERMINATION OF SALES.—

"(l) TERMINATION OF SALES.—

"(m) TERMINATION OF SALES.—
or the offer or sale (or both) of securities shall apply to such activities conducted on Federal land or facilities in the United States and abroad, including military installations. Such activities are those described in subsection (a) and (b) of section 106 of this Act, and include the sale or solicitation of insurance, such activity as described in subsection (a) and (b) of section 106 of this Act, and include the sale or solicitation of insurance, or the offer or sale (or both) of securities, or both, for the purpose of promoting the sale or solicitation of insurance.

(a) REQUIREMENT.—Except as provided in subsection (d), no insurer or producer may sell or solicit, in person, any life insurance product to any member of the Armed Forces on a military installation of the United States unless a disclosure in accordance with this section is provided to such member before the sale of such insurance.

(b) DISCLOSURE.—A disclosure in accordance with this section is a written disclosure that—

(1) states that subsidized life insurance may be available to the member of the Armed Forces at Federal Government rates;

(2) states that the United States Government has in no way sanctioned, recommmended, or encouraged the sale of the product being offered;

(3) is made in plain and readily understandable language and in a type font at least as large as the font used for the majority of the policy; and

(4) with respect to a sale or solicitation on Federal land or facilities located outside of the United States, by an individual or entity engaged in the business of insurance, except to the extent otherwise specifically provided by the laws of such State in reference to this Act, shall provide the telephone number where consumer complaints are received by the State insurance commissioner for the State in which the individual has been issued a resident license or the entity is domiciled, as applicable.

(c) ENFORCEMENT.—If it is determined by a State or Federal agency, or in a final court proceeding, that any individual or entity has intentionally failed to provide a disclosure required by this section, such individual or entity shall be prohibited from further engaging in the business of insurance with respect to employees of the Federal Government on Federal land, except—

(1) with respect to existing policies; and

(2) to the extent required by the Federal Government pursuant to previous commitments.

(d) EXCEPTIONS.—

(1) FEDERAL AND STATE INSURANCE ACTIVITY.—This section shall not apply to insurance activities—

(A) specifically contracted by or through the Federal Government or any State government; or

(B) specifically exempted from the applicability of this Act by a Federal law, regulation, or order that specifically refers to this paragraph.

(2) UNIFORM STATE STANDARDS.—If a majority of the States have adopted, in materially identical form, regulations that shall be considered to have materially identical form to the extent that such standards do not directly conflict with any applicable Federal regulation or directive.

(3) MATERIALLY IDENTICAL FORM.—For purposes of this subsection, standards adopted by more than half of the States shall be considered to have materially identical form to the extent that such standards require or prohibit identical conduct with respect to the same activity, notwithstanding that the standards may differ with respect to conduct required or prohibited with respect to other activities.

SEC. 108. IMPROVING LIFE INSURANCE PRODUCT STANDARDS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—It is the sense of the Congress that the NAIC should, after consultation with the Secretary of Defense and within 12 months after the date of the enactment of this Act, conduct a study to determine the extent to which the States have met the requirement of subsection (a) and report to the Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs of the Senate.

(b) NOTICE AND ACCESS.—The Secretary shall ensure that—

(1) the appropriate Federal and State agencies responsible for any financial services regulation are promptly notified upon the inclusion or removal of a person under such agencies’ jurisdiction; and

(2) the list is kept current and easily accessible.

(1) for use by such agencies; and

(2) in the case of financial institutions considering any such bar, ban, or limitation by the appropriate Federal personnel, including commanders of military installations.

(c) REGULATIONS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall issue regulations in accordance with this subsection to provide for the establishment and maintenance of the list under this section, including appropriate due process considerations.

(2) TIMING.—

(a) PROPOSED REGULATIONS.—Not later than the expiration of the 60-day period beginning on the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall—

(1) propose regulations to the following:

(A) The Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs of the Senate on such proposals within 6 months after the expiration of the 60-day period referred to in subsection (a)(2); and

(b) CONDITIONAL GAO REPORT.—If the NAIC does not submit the report to the committees as described in paragraph (c)(2), the Comptroller General of the United States shall study any proposals that have been made to improve the quality and sale of life insurance products sold by insurers and producers on military installations of the United States and report to the Committee on Financial Services of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs of the Senate on such proposals within 6 months after the expiration of the period referred to in subsection (a)(2).
Act, the Secretary shall prepare and submit to the appropriate Committees a copy of the regulations under this subsection that are proposed to be published for comment. The Secretary shall include any prior written submission for comment in the Federal Register until the expiration of the 30-day period beginning upon such submission to the appropriate Committees.

(B) Final regulations.—Not later than 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall submit to the appropriate Committees a copy of the regulations under this section to be published as final.

(C) Effective date.—Such regulations shall become effective upon the expiration of the 30-day period beginning upon such submission to the appropriate Committees.

(3) Definition.—For purposes of this section, the term ‘‘appropriate Committees’’ means—

(A) the Committee on Financial Services and the Committee on Armed Services of the House of Representatives; and

(B) the Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs and the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate.

SEC. 111. SENSE OF CONGRESS.

It is the sense of Congress that the Federal and State agencies responsible for insurance and securities regulation should provide advice to the appropriate Federal entities regarding the following:

(1) significantly increasing the life insurance coverage made available through the Federal Government to members of the Armed Forces;

(2) implementing appropriate procedures to encourage members of the Armed Forces to improve their financial literacy and obtain objective financial counseling before pursing additional life insurance coverage or investments beyond those provided by the Federal Government;

(3) improving the benefits and matching contributions provided under the Thrift Savings Plan to members of the Armed Forces.

SEC. 112. Definitions.

For purposes of this Act, the following definitions shall apply:

(1) Entity.—The term ‘‘entity’’ includes insurers and producers.

(2) Individual.—The term ‘‘individual’’ includes insurance agents and producers.

(3) NAIC.—The term ‘‘NAIC’’ means the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

(4) State insurance commissioner.—The term ‘‘State insurance commissioner’’ means, with respect to a State, the officer, agency, or other entity of the State that has primary regulatory authority over the business of insurance and over any person engaged in the business of insurance, to the extent of such business activities, in such State.

TITLE II—LENDING TO ARMED FORCES PERSONNEL

SEC. 201. REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO CERTAIN TRANSACTIONS TO MILITARY SERVICEMEMBERS.

(a) Definitions.—For purposes of this section, the following definitions shall apply:

(1) Military lender.—

(A) In general.—The term ‘‘military lender’’ means—

(i) any person engaged in the business of extending consumer credit that—

(II) targets customers who are active duty members of the Armed Forces; or

(III) after the season to know that more than 10 percent of the person’s customers for consumer credit products are active duty members of the Armed Forces; and

(ii) any assignee of such person with respect to any credit extended to any such customer.

(B) Exception.—The term ‘‘military lender’’ does not include any insured depository institution, except as provided in paragraph (3)(B).

(C) Treatment of each office as lender.—In the case of any person engaged in the business of extending consumer credit from more than 1 office or at more than 1 location, any amount of credit that is sold, provided, or extended by any such location shall be treated as a separate entity for purposes of this section.

(2) Covered loan.—The term ‘‘covered loan’’ means—

(A) any extension of credit to an active duty member of the Armed Forces that is not sponsored by a military lender that has an annual percentage rate that exceeds by more than 5 percentage points the average annual percentage rate for 24-month personal loans, as published by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System for the most recent calendar quarter preceding the quarter in which such extension of credit was made; and

(B) does not include any extension of credit on margin on securities by a broker or dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 to the extent such extension of credit complies with the rules and regulations of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and Exchange Commission, and any applicable self-regulatory organization relating to credit on margin on securities.

(3) Insured depository institution.—

(A) In general.—The term ‘‘insured depository institution’’ means—

(i) any insured depository institution in any circumstance in which—

(I) such depository institution is extending credit pursuant to a contractual relationship with a third-party agent; and

(II) such agent would be a military lender, under this section, if the agent made the same loan as a principal; and

(ii) active duty member of the Armed Forces.—The term ‘‘active duty member of the Armed Forces’’ means any member of the Armed Forces who is on active duty (as defined in section 101 (2) of the United States Code) under a call or order that does not specify a period of 30 days or less.

(B) Exclusion.—For purposes of this section, the term ‘‘insured depository institution’’ does not include an insured depository institution in any circumstance in which—

(i) such depository institution is extending credit pursuant to a contractual relationship with a third-party agent; and

(ii) such agent would be a military lender, under this section, if the agent made the same loan as a principal.

(4) Active duty member of the Armed Forces.—The term ‘‘active duty member of the Armed Forces’’ means any member of the Armed Forces who is on active duty (as defined in section 101 (2) of the United States Code) under a call or order that does not specify a period of 30 days or less.

(5) Targets customers.—For purposes of paragraph (1)(A)(ii)(I), the term ‘‘targets customers’’ means to, directly or indirectly, so specify a period of 30 days or less.

(6) Annual percentage rate.—The term ‘‘annual percentage rate’’ has the same meaning as in section 107 of the Truth in Lending Act, as implemented by regulations of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

(B) Protection of military servicemembers.—Any military lender who makes a loan to an active duty member of the Armed Forces (other than a loan described in paragraph (1)(A)(ii)(I)) may not, with respect to such loan—

(i) impose any provision in the loan agreement that is prohibited for military lenders under this section;

(ii) give the appearance, or provide reasonable cause to believe that any component of the Armed Forces, the Department of Defense, or any federal entity sponsors or endorses the military lender, any agent of the lender, or any good, service, commodity, or credit that is sold, provided, or extended by the military lender (unless expressly authorized in writing by such entity); or

(iii) if such loan is a covered loan, enter into the loan without disclosing, prior to consummation of the transaction and in conspicuous form, the following statement:

‘‘This extension of credit is not sponsored or endorsed by any component of the Armed Forces, the Department of Defense, or any Federal entity.

‘‘Your lender may not garnish your salary or wages, or accept any assignment of or institution of an allotment of your salary or wages, to secure repayment of the debt, unless any such allotment or assignment is voluntary and may be cancelled by you at any time. Your lender may not contact your commanding officer or anyone in your chain of command in an effort to collect on the loan.

‘‘You and your dependents may have additional rights and protections under Federal and State law with respect to this loan, including the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act, which you cannot waive and which the lender may not ask or require you to waive.’’

(c) Rule of Construction.—No provision of this section shall be construed as authorizing any person that is not a military lender to engage in any activity that is prohibited for military lenders under this section.

(2) contact, or threaten to contact, the borrower’s commanding officer or any other person in the borrower’s military chain of command in an effort to collect on such loan; or

(3) create any inference that any right or protection provided for consumers under any Federal or State law can be waived by any consumer.

(d) Enforcement.—The provisions of this section shall be enforced under section 917 of the Consumer Credit Protection Act, in the manner provided in such section. For the purposes of any enforcement under such section 917, any violation of a provision or requirement of this section shall be treated as a violation of a provision or requirement of title 15 of such Act.

(e) CIRCUMVENTION PROHIBITED.—The Federal Trade Commission shall, with respect to entities and activities under its jurisdiction, prescribe such regulations at any time later than 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act to prevent a military lender from taking any action in connection with any loan made to an active duty member of the Armed Forces to structure a loan transaction, by structuring any loan as an open-end credit plan (as defined in section 101 of the Truth in Lending Act), dividing any loan into separate transactions, using a lower temporary or introductory rate of interest to lower the overall annual percentage rate applicable for any loan, or any similar action, for the purpose of avoiding designation as a covered loan for purposes of this section or otherwise circumventing or evading any requirement of this title.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. DAVIS) and the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. FRANK) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. DAVIS).

Mr. DAVIS of Kentucky. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on H.R. 458.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Kentucky?

There was no objection.

Mr. DAVIS of Kentucky. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Today I would like to bring to the attention of my colleagues that there is a long history of certain companies and agents using abusive sales tactics to sell financial products of dubious value to our members of the armed services. Problems have included abusive and coercive sales tactics, outdated and high-cost products, and a lack of uniform regulatory oversight of these practices on our military bases and posts.

The Pentagon has issued directives intended to prevent these abuses. But with the ongoing confusion over regulatory jurisdiction, the lack of communication between government agencies, and lack of sufficient protection standards for certain financial products, it is clear that the abuses will not stop unless Congress enacts the Military Personnel Financial Services Protection Act.

Unfortunately, there are a few bad agents in the securities and insurance industry that have been taking advantage of our military personnel by selling them harmful insurance and investment products.

Mr. Speaker, as a matter of fact, when H.R. 458 was a young officer in the Army, a group of salesmen showed up on post and convinced my fellow soldiers and me that I could begin saving for my retirement by buying into an investment plan that included insurance and mutual funds. I was so impressed with their infomercial-like presentation that I invested what was a lot of money to me at the time. It turned out the Army had let me into the business world that I discovered how uncompetitive these products were compared with other opportunities.

While serving as an officer in the 82nd Airborne Division, I knew many soldiers who fell victim to such “contractual plans.”

In my case, I fell for the sales pitch because those agents selling the programs encouraged my fellow soldiers to invite me to a presentation. That program included a respected veteran who could show up on post without the post commander’s permission. I did not make the decision because I was not, I made the decision because a retired servicemember, whom I respected, working as a salesman, presented this, and he was using referrals from other servicemembers who he convinced it was good.

Because of these types of selling practices, I am pleased to report that the House will be voting on this reintroduced, bipartisan legislation, H.R. 458, which will protect those preserving our freedom from some unnecessary, high-cost financial products.

This piece of legislation would clarify that State insurance regulators have jurisdiction over insurance sales on military bases and forward a list of these banned contractual plans. Also, it would ban the sale of contractual mutual funds and require that our military personnel hear about government life insurance programs before buying private life insurance.

This bill would allow our military post commanders to ban unscrupulous agents from their bases and posts and forward a list of these banned agents to the Department of Defense, and the DOI and send them to State departments of insurance for further investigation.

We cannot allow these abusive practices to continue. We must not ask the men and women of our armed services to make sacrifices for our security without doing all that we can to protect their financial futures. You may be pleased to know that in the 108th Congress, this purpose-driven piece of legislation passed overwhelmingly with a vote of 390-1. During this Congress, the Committee on Financial Services reported this bill to protect our servicemen and -women by unanimous vote. This overwhelmingly bipartisan win was not until I got out of the Army and directed my life plan and send them to State departments of insurance for further investigation.

We cannot allow these abusive practices to continue. We must not ask the men and women of our armed services to make sacrifices for our security without doing all that we can to protect their financial futures. You may be pleased to know that in the 108th Congress, this purpose-driven piece of legislation passed overwhelmingly with a vote of 390-1. During this Congress, the Committee on Financial Services reported this bill to protect our servicemen and -women by unanimous vote. This overwhelmingly bipartisan win was not until I got out of the Army and directed my life plan and send them to State departments of insurance for further investigation.

Unfortunately, there are a few bad agents in the securities and insurance industry that have been taking advantage of our military personnel by selling them harmful insurance and investment products.

Mr. Speaker, as a matter of fact, when H.R. 458 was a young officer in the Army, a group of salesmen showed up on post and convinced my fellow soldiers and me that I could begin sav-through no fault of their own because of an unforeseen call-up. They are fully entitled to our protection against those people who would prey on them.

So what we have done in this bill is to protect them from inappropriate sales, given the stressful situation in which they find themselves, the pressures they are under; and we have added, thanks to the initiative of the gentleman from Illinois, protection against abusive payday lending. And I appreciate the majority, the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. OXLEY), the chairman of the committee, in working with the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. GUTIERREZ) so that we were able to bring forward a comprehensive bill that we believe will protect members of our military from any kind of financial imposition on them of an inappropriate sort.

So I am delighted to join in what I hope will be an overwhelming, if not unanimous, vote for this bill; and I hope the Senate will act promptly.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. DAVIS of Kentucky. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I thank the gentleman from Massachusetts for his remarks and also heartily agree and hope that the Senate will pass this bill and take it up in an aggressive manner. I thank all the members of the Committee on Financial Services for their support on both sides of the aisle. It was truly a bipartisan effort.

Mrs. TAUSCHER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to speak in support of H.R. 458, the Military Personnel Financial Services Protection Act of 2005.

I congratulate Chairman OXLEY and all the members of the Financial Services Committee for putting forth a bill that seeks to protect our men and women in uniform from certain deceptive practices.

During the Financial Services Committee’s consideration of this bill, my colleague Representative GUTIERREZ expressed concern about the issue of payday loans and offered an amendment to extend the bill’s coverage to them.

These are deferred-deposit loans that offer borrowers short-term credit that will be repaid on the person’s next payday.

If the borrower does not repay the loan at the end of the period, it can be rolled over with additional fees and interest assessed. Because of the way these loans work, the annual percentage rates are often 390 percent or more.

Representative GUTIERREZ was rightfully concerned that the high interest rates of such loans cause too much debt for military personnel and this could impede their military readiness.

Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to see that the bill before us today contains language that places new requirements on military lenders and requires certain disclosures of lenders offering service members loans with higher-than-average rates, including payday loans.

It is time to crack down on usurious lenders who seek to make a quick buck by selling improper loans to our uniformed service members.

I am pleased that the bill requires the Secretary of Defense to create and maintain a registry of banned payday lenders. The Secretary will be responsible for updating and maintaining the registry, which will provide the name, address, and other identifying information of the banned or barred agent or advisor.

The registry must be accessible and searchable by the public and local installation commanders and appropriate Federal and State financial regulators.

Furthermore, I wish to bring to the House’s attention that the Commander’s webpage section of the Defense Department’s website currently has a section entitled, “Quick Links.”

Under this are several tabs the user can click on dealing with such issues as Compensation, Deployment, Benefits, and the like. I would like to urge the House to stipulate that the Defense Department place another separate tab under this “Quick Links” section and have it be a specific listing of abusive lenders so our service members can know whom to avoid.

Mr. Speaker, I think we all can agree that our soldiers do not deserve to be taken advantage of and the actions taken today are a step in the right direction.

Mr. OXLEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 458, the Military Personnel Financial Services Protection Act. This bill, introduced by my good friend Mr. GEOFF DAVIS from the Commonwealth of Kentucky, will go a long way towards protecting the men and women serving in our Nation’s military from deceptive financial practices and unsuitable financial products.

Mr. Speaker, since the tragic day of September 11, 2001, our country has been at war. In the prosecution of that war, our armed services have performed heroically. Many have made the ultimate sacrifice for the cause of freedom. Unfortunately, there are a few bad actors in the financial services industry who have been taking financial advantage of our armed forces. These unscrupulous companies and salesmen gain access to military installations and use aggressive, misleading, and often illegal sales tactics to sell high-cost, high-interest products of dubious value that are unsuitable for any investor, and are particularly unsuitable for our military personnel.

The Pentagon has issued directives intended to prevent these abuses. But with the ongoing conflict over regulatory jurisdiction, the lack of communication among government agencies, and the lack of sufficient protection standards for certain financial products, it is clear that the abuses will not stop unless Congress enacts this legislation.

H.R. 458 imposes new requirements on lender sales practices, clarifies regulatory jurisdiction on military installations within the United States and abroad, adds appropriate consumer protections and disclosures for financial products, and ensures proper reporting systems between our military and the financial regulators to ensure bad actors cannot escape. It also makes the process of selecting a financial advisor more transparent for all investors, by providing online access to background information on broker-dealers, including disciplinary actions. Finally, the legislation empowers consumers to identify lenders that target a military clientele for high-cost loan products, to ensure that our men and women in uniform are treated fairly when obtaining credit, and are fully informed about the costs and potential consequences of entering into credit arrangements that feature high annual percentage rates.

The House passed similar legislation in the 108th Congress by a vote of 396 to 2. This term, our Committee reported Mr. Davis’ bill to the Members and it passed by an overwhelming, if not unanimous vote. This overwhelming bipartisan consensus is the result of strong leadership by Mr. DAVIS, the author of this legislation; the chairman of the Subcommittee on Capital Markets, Mr. BAKER, who led our investigation into abusive practices and bounty hunters; Mr. JIM RYUN and Mr. ISRAEL who worked closely together on the reporting requirements of this bill; Ms. BROWN-WAITE for ensuring appropriate SEC oversight of broker-dealer sales practices on military installations; and Mr. GUTIERREZ for working on new requirements for high cost lending. Their hard work and bipartisan leadership is well-reflected in this legislation.

I urge my colleagues in the full House to support this bipartisan bill and vote “yes” on H.R. 458.

Mr. EMANUEL. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.R. 458, the Military Personnel Financial Services Protection Act. H.R. 458 is identical to legislation passed by the House of Representatives by a vote of 396 to 2 in the 108th Congress. Unfortunately, the Senate did not act on that legislation.

Last year, I worked closely with Financial Services Committee Chairman MICHAEL OXLEY, Ranking Member BAKER and Capital Markets Subcommittee Chairman RICHARD BAKER in holding hearings and developing legislation to add new protections for enlisted personnel.

The legislation we produced last session is before us once again today. The Military Personnel Financial Services Protection Act will go a long way toward eliminating these abuses and protecting our troops.

First, and most importantly, H.R. 458 bans the sale of contractual mutual funds on military bases. These expensive funds disappeared from the civilian market in the 1980s because their first-year commissions are equal to half of all contributions. If they are not good enough for civilians, why should we allow them to be sold to our men and women in uniform?

Many of our enlistees are of modest financial means and need to cash in food stamps to feed their families. None of them can afford a percent commission, and often, they do not realize they are paying so much.

If we want to give financial services firms access to military bases, that is one thing. But we cannot allow our young men and women to be used as laundries for expensive financial products or to be seen as ATM machines, and that is what contractual mutual funds have made them.

This legislation also includes new disclosure requirements for life insurance products, so it is clear what is being sold. H.R. 458 requires companies to provide recruits with a “Plain English” document telling them subsidized life insurance is available from the Federal Government and that the Government does not endorse, recommend or encourage them to buy the product.

Finally, H.R. 458 clarifies the authority of state insurance regulators to act against fraud and misdeeds. The States are also directed to create uniform military personnel protection standards and to work with the Department of Defense to carry out these standards.

Mr. Speaker, it is time to end a culture on military bases that too often favors financial interests over the interests of our troops, their families, and their futures.

I encourage my colleagues to support this important legislation.

Mr. DAVIS of Kentucky. Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. RADANOVIC). The question is on the motion to reconsider H.R. 458, as amended.

Mr. Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

Mr. DAVIS of Kentucky. Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. RADANOVIC). The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. DAVIS) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 458, as amended.

The question was taken.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX and the Chair’s prior announcement, further proceedings on this motion will be postponed.

SENSE OF CONGRESS THAT THERE SHOULD BE ESTABLISHED A CARIBBEAN-AMERICAN HERITAGE MONTH

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and agree to the concurrent resolution (H. Con. Res. 71) expressing the sense of Congress that there should be established a Caribbean-American Heritage Month.

The Clerk read as follows:

H. CON. RES. 71

Whereas people of Caribbean heritage are found in every State of the Union;

Whereas emigration from the Caribbean region to the American Colonies began as early as 1619 with the arrival of indentured workers in Jamestown, Virginia; whereas during the 17th, 18th, and 19th centuries, a significant number of slaves from the Caribbean region were brought to the United States;

Whereas since 1820, millions of people have emigrated from the Caribbean region to the United States;

Whereas much like the United States, the countries of the Caribbean faced obstacles of slavery and colonialism and struggled for independence;

Whereas also like the United States, the people of the Caribbean region have diverse racial, cultural, and religious backgrounds;

Whereas emigration movements in many countries in the Caribbean during the 1960’s and the consequential establishment of independent democratic countries in the Caribbean strengthened ties between the region and the United States;

Whereas Alexander Hamilton, a founding father of the United States and the first Secretary of the Treasury, was born in the Caribbean;

Whereas there have been many influential Caribbean-Americans in the history of the United States, including Jean Baptiste Point du Sable, the pioneer settler of Chicago; Claude McKay, a poet of the Harlem Renaissance; Charles Alfred English, the creator of the Black National Anthem; Shirley Chisolm, the first African-American Congresswoman and first woman candidate for President; and Celia Cruz, the world renowned queen of Salsa music;

Whereas the many influential Caribbean-Americans in the history of the United States also include Colin Powell, the first African-American Secretary of State; Sidney Poitier, the first African-American actor to receive the Academy Award for best actor in a leading role; Harry Belafonte, a musician, actor, and activist; Marion Jones, an Olympic gold medalist; Roberto Clemente, the first Latino inducted into the baseball hall of fame; and Al Roker, a meteorologist and television personality;

Whereas Caribbean-Americans have played an active role in the civil rights movement and other social and political movements in the United States;

Whereas Caribbean-Americans have contributed greatly to education, fine arts, business, literature, journalism, sports, fashion, politics, government, the military, music, science, technology, and other areas in the United States;

Whereas Caribbean-Americans share their cultural expressions through feature films, dance, literature, film, and literature that enrich the cultural landscape of the United States;

Whereas the countries of the Caribbean are important economic partners of the United States;

Whereas the countries of the Caribbean represent the United States third border;

Whereas the people of the Caribbean region share the hopes and aspirations of the people of the United States for peace and prosperity throughout the Western Hemisphere and the rest of the world;

Whereas June is an appropriate month to establish a Caribbean-American Heritage Month: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), That it is the sense of Congress that—

(1) a Caribbean-American Heritage Month should be established; and

(2) the people of the United States should observe the month with appropriate ceremonies, celebrations, and activities.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. DENT) and the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. DAVIS) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. DENT).

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and examine their remarks and include extraneous material on the concurrent resolution under consideration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Pennsylvania?

There was none.

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, on behalf of the Committee on Government Reform, I rise in support of House Concurrent Resolution 71, a resolution that recognizes the Caribbean-American community. This is a meaningful resolution to many Americans of Caribbean heritage, and I trust my colleagues will join me in support.

Mr. Speaker, America and the islands of the Caribbean have been eternal neighbors, and our pasts and futures are inexorably connected. The first permanent European settlement in the Caribbean was established by Spain on Hispaniola, the island that is now Haiti and the Dominican Republic, in 1496. The first native Caribbean people came to mainland North America as indentured servants at Jamestown, Virginia, in 1619.

Since the birth of our Nation, the United States has greatly benefited from the contributions of those of Caribbean descent. From Alexander Hamilton to Robert McNamara, the first Secretary of Defense, and the first woman candidate for President, Caribbean-Americans have impacted and shaped many aspects of our Nation in tremendous ways.

Mr. Speaker, without question America greatly values its Caribbean-American population. This concurrent resolution is one important way that Congress can express its appreciation of the patriotism and honor of Caribbean-Americans. In addition, the United States Government enjoys great relationships with many island countries in the Caribbean as we work together on many issues including drug trafficking and trafficking in persons.

This concurrent resolution enjoys strong bipartisan support, of course, of the Caribbean-American Cultural Association and the Caribbean Diaspora Empowerment Foundation. Not to mention the 81 cosponsors here in the House. I support the concurrent resolution as well.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to join with the gentleman from Pennsylvania in consideration of H. Con. Res. 71. This Congress expresses the appreciation that June should be designated as National Caribbean-American Heritage Month.

This concurrent resolution, introduced by the gentlewoman from California (Ms. Lee), recognizes that emigration from the Caribbean region to the American colonies began as early as 1619 with the arrival of indentured workers in Jamestown, Virginia. During the 17th, 18th, and 19th centuries, a significant number of slaves from the Caribbean region were brought to the United States.

This concurrent resolution also recognizes that millions of people have emigrated from the Caribbean region to the United States since 1820 and points out that Alexander Hamilton, a Founding Father of the United States, was born in the Caribbean. Other influential Caribbean-Americans include Jean Baptiste Point du Sable, the African-American woman candidate for President; Colin Powell, the first African American Secretary of State; and Al Roker, a meteorologist and television personality.

Caribbean-Americans have played active roles in the civil rights movement and other social and political movements in the United States; and they have contributed greatly to education, fine arts, business, literature, journalism, politics, government, the military, music, science, and technology. This concurrent resolution will increase national awareness of contributions made by Caribbean-Americans to U.S. culture, history, and politics.

I am also pleased to note, Mr. Speaker, that Ambassador Sidney Williams is also a spouse of a Member of this body, the gentleman from California (Mr. Waters).

I know that the gentlewoman from California (Ms. Lee) had wanted to be here to speak to her resolution, but, unfortunately, her flight was such that she could not make it.

Mrs. CHRISTENSEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in strong support of H. Con. Res. 71, expressing the sense of Congress that there should be established a Caribbean-American Heritage Month and urge my colleagues to support its adoption. As a Caribbean-American myself, it gives me great pride to have been an original cosponsor of this resolution as well as to see it on the verge of passage in the House.

Mr. Speaker, the contributions of the people and islands of the Caribbean in the fields of sports, entertainment, politics and culture in the 20th century alone more than makes this resolution worthwhile.

In the fight for emancipation and liberation, my fellow Virgin Islander Edward Blyden, along with George Padmore, Marcus Garvey and Claude McKay were among the first West Indian Americans to become well known and well respected in the African-American’s struggle for racial equality.

Other famous West Indian Americans include former U.S. Representative Shirley Chisholm; Franklin Thomas, former head of the Ford Foundation; Federal Judge Constance Baker Motley, the first black woman appointed to the bench; activists Stokey Carmichael—Kwame Toure—Roy Innis, Malcolm X and Louis Farrakhan; world renowned actor Sidney Poitier; civil rights activist and singer, Harry Belafonte; Earl Greaves, philanthropist, businessman and publisher of Black Enterprise; and now Colin Powell the first black U.S. Secretary of State, have all made impressive contributions on behalf of African Americans.

Mr. Speaker, the small nations of the Caribbean wield a cultural influence that has spread to the remote corners of the world. Our culture, notably the music—calypso, reggae, Afro-Cuban and their derivatives—which was created by—and-large by a people who long endured the denial of themselves, has spread far and wide and enjoys unheard of popularity today.

But more than just our musical influence, Nobel prizes for literature have gone to poets St. Jean Perse of Guadeloupe and Derek Walcott of St. Lucia, who are both Nobel laureates. Yet, there is a number of highly regarded Caribbean writers. Moreover, internationally admired painters Wilfredo Lam of Cuba and Leroy Clarke of Trinidad and Tobago and Haiti’s “naïve” artists took inspiration from a complex cosmology born from West African religions and Christianity. And Trinidad and Tobago’s carnival was the basis for the breathtaking costumed parades designed by Peter Minshall of Guyana and Trinidad for the Barcelonas, Atlanta and Salt Lake City Olympiads.

Mr. Speaker, it is indeed fitting and proper that we honor the contributions of the people of the Caribbean to our history and culture. Indeed, if providence had not made it possible for our founding father Alexander Hamilton to travel to New York in the year of 1766, and St. Croix to further his education, we might not be celebrating the founding of this Nation next week and instead have remained a colony of the United Kingdom even today.

I urge my colleagues to support the adoption of H. Con. Res. 71.

Mr. ENGEL. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H. Con. Res. 71, supporting the establishment of a Caribbean American Heritage Month. I urge the approval of this resolution to support the Caribbean Americans who have contributed immensely to American society throughout our history. They overcame slavery and colonialism to fight for their independence, and emigrated to American colonies as early as 1619.

The countless number of influential figures in American history who are of Caribbean heritage indicates the need to set aside a designated time to celebrate their contribution to our country. Alexander Hamilton, a founding father of the United States and the first Secretary of the Treasury of the United States; St. Lelia Touré among a number of highly regarded Caribbean writers. Moreover, internationally admired painters Wilfredo Lam of Cuba and Leroy Clarke of Trinidad and Tobago and Haiti’s “naïve” artists took inspiration from a complex cosmology born from West African religions and Christianity. And Trinidad and Tobago’s carnival was the basis for the breathtaking costumed parades designed by Peter Minshall of Guyana and Trinidad for the Barcelonas, Atlanta and Salt Lake City Olympiads.

Mr. Speaker, it is indeed fitting and proper that we honor the contributions of the people of the Caribbean to our history and culture. Indeed, if providence had not made it possible for our founding father Alexander Hamilton to travel to New York in the year of 1766, and St. Croix to further his education, we might not be celebrating the founding of this Nation next week and instead have remained a colony of the United Kingdom even today.

I urge my colleagues to support the adoption of H. Con. Res. 71.

Mr. ENGEL. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H. Con. Res. 71, supporting the establishment of a Caribbean American Heritage Month. I urge the approval of this resolution to support the Caribbean Americans who have contributed immensely to American society throughout our history. They overcame slavery and colonialism to fight for their independence, and emigrated to American colonies as early as 1619.

The countless number of influential figures in American history who are of Caribbean heritage indicates the need to set aside a designated time to celebrate their contribution to our country. Alexander Hamilton, a founding father of the United States and the first Secretary of the Treasury of the United States; St. Lelia Touré among a number of highly regarded Caribbean writers. Moreover, internationally admired painters Wilfredo Lam of Cuba and Leroy Clarke of Trinidad and Tobago and Haiti’s “naïve” artists took inspiration from a complex cosmology born from West African religions and Christianity. And Trinidad and Tobago’s carnival was the basis for the breathtaking costumed parades designed by Peter Minshall of Guyana and Trinidad for the Barcelonas, Atlanta and Salt Lake City Olympiads.

Mr. Speaker, it is indeed fitting and proper that we honor the contributions of the people of the Caribbean to our history and culture. Indeed, if providence had not made it possible for our founding father Alexander Hamilton to travel to New York in the year of 1766, and St. Croix to further his education, we might not be celebrating the founding of this Nation next week and instead have remained a colony of the United Kingdom even today.

I urge my colleagues to support the adoption of H. Con. Res. 71.

Mr. ENGEL. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H. Con. Res. 71, supporting the establishment of a Caribbean American Heritage Month. I urge the approval of this resolution to support the Caribbean Americans who have contributed immensely to American society throughout our history. They overcame slavery and colonialism to fight for their independence, and emigrated to American colonies as early as 1619.

The countless number of influential figures in American history who are of Caribbean heritage indicates the need to set aside a designated time to celebrate their contribution to our country. Alexander Hamilton, a founding father of the United States and the first Secretary of the Treasury of the United States; St. Lelia Touré among a number of highly regarded Caribbean writers. Moreover, internationally admired painters Wilfredo Lam of Cuba and Leroy Clarke of Trinidad and Tobago and Haiti’s “naïve” artists took inspiration from a complex cosmology born from West African religions and Christianity. And Trinidad and Tobago’s carnival was the basis for the breathtaking costumed parades designed by Peter Minshall of Guyana and Trinidad for the Barcelonas, Atlanta and Salt Lake City Olympiads.

Mr. Speaker, it is indeed fitting and proper that we honor the contributions of the people of the Caribbean to our history and culture. Indeed, if providence had not made it possible for our founding father Alexander Hamilton to travel to New York in the year of 1766, and St. Croix to further his education, we might not be celebrating the founding of this Nation next week and instead have remained a colony of the United Kingdom even today.

I urge my colleagues to support the adoption of H. Con. Res. 71.
I yield back the balance of my time.

I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker, I urge all Members to support House Concurrent Resolution 71, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. DENT) to suspend the rules and agree to the concurrent resolution, H. Con. Res. 71.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the concurrent resolution was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

JOHN J. HAINKEL POST OFFICE BUILDING

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 2346) to designate the facility of the United States Postal Service located at 105 NW Railroad Avenue in Hammond, Louisiana, as the “John J. Hainkel Post Office Building,” as amended.

The Clerk read as follows:

H.R. 2346

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. JOHN J. HAINKEL, JR. POST OFFICE BUILDING.

(a) DESIGNATION.—The facility of the United States Postal Service located at 105 NW Railroad Avenue in Hammond, Louisiana, shall be known and designated as the “John J. Hainkel, Jr. Post Office Building”.

(b) REFERENCES.—Any reference to a law, map, regulation, document, paper, or other record of the United States to the facility referred to in subsection (a) shall be deemed to be a reference to the “John J. Hainkel, Jr. Post Office Building”.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. DENT) and the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. DAVIS) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. DENT).

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on the bill under consideration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Pennsylvania? There was no objection.

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, this legislation salutes the life of an extraordinary member of the Louisiana legislature, the late John Hainkel, Jr. John Hainkel served 20 years in the Louisiana State house and another 25 years in the State senate until he passed away on April 15 this year. I know he was a tremendous representative of his many constituents and supporters.

The State of Louisiana has mourned the loss of Senator Hainkel for several weeks, but I appreciate the House leadership's selecting this bill for consideration so the entire Nation can acknowledge the life of this highly respected man. I also want to especially thank the distinguished gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. JINDAL) for his support on this bill and his commitment to recognizing Senator Hainkel.

Prior to his passing, Senator Hainkel had served in Baton Rouge since 1968, when he was first elected to the State house. He clearly earned the great respect of his colleagues because he became speaker of the house in 1980, and he held that post through 1984. In 1988, New Orleans voters elected him to be their State senator. He ultimately became president of the Senate from 2000 through last year. He remained in the Senate until his passing in April.

Mr. Speaker, I support this post office designation on behalf of John J. Hainkel, Jr. Mr. Speaker, I urge all Members to do the same. It seems clear his contributions to the State of Louisiana will be long lasting. I look forward to the words of the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. JINDAL), sponsor of this legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I urge all Members to support House Concurrent Resolution 71.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The motion is made by the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. JINDAL) for his sponsor of this legislation.

Mr. JINDAL. Mr. Speaker, I urge all Members to support House Concurrent Resolution 71.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. DAVIS).

Mr. DAVIS of Illinois asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, as a Member of the House Committee on Government Reform, I am pleased to join with my colleagues in consideration of H.R. 2346, legislation naming a postal facility in Hammond, Louisiana, after the late John J. Hainkel, Jr. This measure, which was introduced by the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. JINDAL) on May 12, 2005, and unanimously re-reported to us by our committee on June 16, 2005, enjoys the support and cosponsorship of the entire Louisiana delegation.

John Hainkel was first elected to the Louisiana legislature in 1968. He held the position for 20 years, also serving as speaker of the house from 1980 to 1984.

The voters in uptown New Orleans elected him in 1988 to the State senate, where he served until his death representing the Sixth District. While serving in the senate, his colleagues elected him president of the senate in 1999, a position he held until 2004. He is the only legislator in Louisiana history to hold the leadership position in both houses.

Senator Hainkel supported the arts, was pro-business, worked hard to clean up Lake Pontchartrain, and loved to hold legislative meetings over the barbecue pit. He loved his district and served 38 years in politics working to improve the lives of his constituents. Sadly, John Hainkel passed away this past April.

Mr. Speaker, designating the post office in Hammond, Louisiana, is an excellent way to honor the memory of one of Louisiana’s political legends, John Hainkel, Jr. I commend my colleague for sponsoring this measure and urge swift passage.

Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as he may consume to the distinguished gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. JINDAL), the author of H.R. 2346.

Mr. JINDAL. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding me time. Mr. Speaker, I rise both with a grateful and also a heavy heart. I rise with a grateful heart and I want to thank my colleagues for their speedy consideration of this resolution. I rise with a heavy heart because of the untimely passing of not only a colleague, but a friend.

I first met John Hainkel well over a decade ago, and at that point he had already been involved in elected politics for well over three decades. Senator Hainkel, as you already heard, accomplished many significant things in his public career. Indeed, he was the only person in Louisiana’s history to be elected both speaker of the house and president of our senate.

Mr. Speaker, I know that he will still be watching well in the College World Series. I know that he watched from the dugout during the 1994 season, and went on to do so above as his Green Wave served him as a dedicated senator, a dedicated representative, and a dedicated Tulane fan. I know that he watched from the field in Omaha and went on to do so well in the College World Series. I know that he will still be watching them season after season, just with slightly better seats than he had before.

Indeed, Senator Hainkel was known for his friendship and was known for reaching out to new members of the bodies in which he served, to new members of the administration. He truly brought a passion and an attitude of public servant leadership that too often is missing from our elected halls. He brought a spirit of bipartisanship, a spirit of love for his home State of Louisiana.

Several things have been said about Senator Hainkel and the years of service he offered my State. I also want to note that he is survived by his son, John J. Hainkel, III, his daughter, Juliet Hainkel Holton, his other daughter, Alida Hainkel Furr, and by five grandchildren. I know his family brought him much joy. I know they, like I, am very saddened by his untimely and his early departure.

It is hard, it would be really impossible, to overstate the amount of affection and respect that Senator Hainkel engendered not only in his home district, but the home State of Louisiana. Whether you were with him or against him on a particular legislation, and I was in both places, whether you were with him or against him in a particular election, and I was in both places, he was always a worthy friend and a worthy opponent.

I can certainly think of nothing that would be more appropriate than naming, at least as a small tribute to him, this post office in Hammond, Louisiana, that was within the district he represented in the senate. Indeed, there is a spirited election to replace him now. Two very distinguished women are seeking that post. Though either one of them will serve well, neither of them will truly be able to succeed and replace the giant that was John Hainkel.

I want to thank my colleagues again for their support.

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I simply urge all Members to support the passage of H.R. 2436.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. DENT) and the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. DAVIES) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. DENT).

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that this measure may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on H.R. 2490. The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Pennsylvania? There was no objection.

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 2490 honors Joseph S. Daddona for his respected service to the community, my hometown, Allentown, Pennsylvania. Mr. Daddona was born in 1933, the son of Italian American immigrants. He grew up in the Second Ward of Allentown, in an ethnically diverse neighborhood.

Too poor to attend college after graduating from what was then Allentown High School, he enlisted in the United States Navy and served his country during the Korean War. After safely returning from overseas, Mr. Daddona put himself through Lehigh University and received an engineering degree.

Although he began his career as a planning engineer for the Western Electric Company, he found himself increasingly drawn to politics in the City of Allentown. In the mid-1960s, as a member of the Allentown Jaycees, Joe Daddona spearheaded the effort to create a Charter Study Commission for the city. He subsequently won a seat on that commission, helped draft the charter, and was elected mayor.

In 1973, Daddona was elected mayor for the first time. During his tenure,
Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume. Mr. Speaker, I thank all my colleagues for their support of this effort to honor my late friend, Joe Daddona. Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. DENT) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 2490.

The Speaker put the question; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the bill was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

COMMEMORATING MYSTIC SEA-PORT: THE MUSEUM OF AMERICAN AND THE SEA IN RECOGNITION OF ITS 75TH YEAR

Mr. FORTUNÀ. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and agree to the concurrent resolution (H. Con. Res. 152) commemorating Mystic Seaport: the Museum of America and the Sea in recognition of its 75th year, as amended.

The Clerk read as follows:

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), therefore, be it

(1) commemorates Mystic Seaport: the Museum of America and the Sea in recognition of its 75th year and commends the staff, volunteers, and trustees of Mystic Seaport for their efforts to secure the future of its collections and programs that make these programs even more compelling and engaging.

(2) supports Mystic Seaport’s presentation of its Americas/Centuries of Exploration: 200 Years of U.S. International Shipbuilding Expansion and Transportation exhibition, which expands the scope of Mystic Seaport’s exhibit "America’s Forgotten Village: Mystic Seaport," through April 2006, and encourages them in their efforts to create a greater awareness of America’s relationship to the sea and the profound impact of maritime transportation and commerce upon our Nation’s economic growth;

(3) asks all Americans to join in celebrating this milestone for Mystic Seaport and its mission of preserving and interpreting the legacy of American maritime transportation and tradition; and

(4) encourages Mystic Seaport in its efforts to secure the future of its collections and programs and supports its efforts to make those programs more cohesive and compelling.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Puerto Rico (Mr. Fortuno) and the gentleman from California (Ms. MILLER-McDONALD) each will control 20 minutes.

Mr. FORTUNÀ. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to take up H. Con. Res. 152.

There was no objection.

Mr. Speaker, H. Con. Res. 152 was introduced by the gentlewoman from California (Ms. MILLER-McDONALD) and the gentleman from Puerto Rico (Mr. Fortuno). It was agreed to, and became the concurrent resolution H. Con. Res. 152.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Puerto Rico (Mr. Fortuno).

Mr. FORTUNÀ. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks on H. Con. Res. 152.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Puerto Rico?

There was no objection.

Mr. FORTUNÀ. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.
Mystic Seaport is the largest maritime museum and fourth largest history museum in the Nation and attracts more than 300,000 visitors annually. The mission of Mystic Seaport is to create a greater awareness and deeper appreciation of America’s relationship to the sea and to highlight the impact of that relationship upon us as individuals and as a Nation.

Both the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. Simmons) and I represent constituents and are an important role in the lives of Connecticut (Mr. Simmons) and I represent individuals and as a Nation.

The Mystic Seaport Museum was established in 1929 to protect that history and legacy. The Mystic Seaport Museum is the largest and most diverse maritime museum in the United States. Its collections include many types of ships from our past, including a whaling ship, a fishing schooner, a coal-fired steamship, and a wooden shipping vessel built in 1866.

Mystic Seaport is providing a valuable service to our Nation by teaching Americans about our Nation’s maritime history, promoting research in their vast collections of artifacts, photographs and books, and conducting outreach programs to students of all ages.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. MILLENDER-MCDONALD. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I too rise in support of H. Con. Res. 152 commemorating the 75th anniversary of the Mystic Seaport, Museum of America and the Sea. Many Americans do not appreciate their U.S. maritime history and the legacy of the sea.

The Mystic Seaport Museum was established in 1929 to protect that history and legacy. The Mystic Seaport Museum is the largest and most diverse maritime museum in the United States. Its collections include many types of ships from our past, including a whaling ship, a fishing schooner, a coal-fired steamship, and a wooden shipping vessel built in 1866.

Mystic Seaport is providing a valuable service to our Nation by teaching Americans about our Nation’s maritime history, promoting research in their vast collections of artifacts, photographs and books, and conducting outreach programs to students of all ages.

Mr. Speaker, I urge all of my colleagues to support this resolution commemorating the 75th anniversary of Mystic Seaport, and I hope that they will continue their programs to continue to grow and flourish in the years ahead. I urge the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. LARSON of Connecticut, Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H. Con. Res. 152 which acknowledges the 75th anniversary of Mystic Seaport: the Museum of America and the Sea. This resolution recognizes the efforts of the staff, volunteers, and trustees of the museum in preserving America’s great maritime tradition. Mystic Seaport is also one of the jewels of my home state of Connecticut.

Since the 1600’s, the Mystic Seaport has been a center for shipbuilding. Between 1784 and 1919, Mystic Seaport contributed more than 600 vessels to the American maritime enterprise. It helped launch steam power and railroads, wooden shipbuilding began to decline. Three Mystic, Connecticut residents, Edward Bradley, Dr. Charles Stillman, and Carl Cutler created the Marine Historical Association on December 29, 1929 to prevent the disappearance of the American maritime tradition. Today, the Marine Historical Association is known as Mystic Seaport: the Museum of America and the Sea. Since the inception of the Mystic Seaport Museum, it has become the largest maritime museum, and the fourth largest history museum in the nation. The Seaport’s membership represents 25,000 people from all 50 states and 30 countries. More than 1,500 volunteers assist Mystic Seaport’s 300 employees.

Mystic Seaport has helped increase awareness and appreciation of America’s maritime tradition. The museum features the largest collection of watercraft in the nation, which includes four National Historic Landmark vessels. These vessels include the Charles W. Morgan, the last wooden whaling ship in the world, and the Sabino, the last coal-fired steam ship still in operation. The Mystic Seaport Museum’s Collections Research Center functions as a dynamic resource for maritime research. The Blue Whale Library is one of the leading collections of maritime research material in the world. Recently, the library has assembled a virtual run of the earliest published American ship registers. The Mystic Seaport Museum has made significant contributions in maintaining the cultural integrity of our nation’s maritime legacy.

Mystic Seaport was also involved in the construction of a replica of the freedom schooner Amistad, which serves as a floating classroom and monument to those who lost their freedom or their lives due to the transatlantic slave trade. I was privileged to attend the launch of the Amistad in March 2000 at Mystic Seaport with a delegation from the Congressional Black Caucus.

Mr. Speaker, I ask that my colleagues join me today in honoring Mystic Seaport’s role in preserving America’s maritime culture. For the past 75 years, Connecticut has been proud to be the home of the Mystic Seaport Museum, which continues to be a vital protector of the Nation’s sailed treasures.

Ms. MILLENDER-MCDONALD. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. FORTUNO. Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The Speaker pro tempore (Mr. Issa). The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Puerto Rico (Mr. FORTUNO) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. Issa). The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Puerto Rico (Mr. FORTUNO) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the concurrent resolution, H. Con. Res. 152, as amended, was agreed to.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. Issa). The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Puerto Rico (Mr. FORTUNO) that the House suspend the rules and agree to the concurrent resolution, H. Con. Res. 152, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the concurrent resolution, as amended, was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

DELAWARE RIVER PROTECTION ACT OF 2005

Mr. LoBIONDO. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 1142) to amend the Ports and Waterways Safety Act to require notification of the Coast Guard regarding obstructions to navigation, and for other purposes, as amended.

The Clerk reads as follows:

H.R. 1412

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE. — This Act may be cited as the "Delaware River Protection Act of 2005".

SEC. 2. REQUIREMENT TO NOTIFY COAST GUARD OF RELEASE OF OBJECTS INTO THE NAVIGABLE WATERS OF THE UNITED STATES.

(a) REQUIREMENT.—As soon as a person has knowledge of any release from a vessel or facility into the navigable waters of the United States of any object that creates an obstruction prohibited under section 10 of the Act of March 3, 1899, popularly known as the Rivers and Harbors Appropriations Act of 1899 (chapter 425; 33 U.S.C. 403), such person shall notify the Secretary and the Secretary of the Army of such release.

(b) RESTRICTION ON USE OF NOTIFICATION.—Any notification provided by an individual in accordance with subsection (a) shall not be used against such individual in any criminal case, except a prosecution for perjury or for giving a false statement.

SEC. 3. LIMITS ON LIABILITY.

(a) ADJUSTMENT OF LIABILITY LIMITS.

(1) TANK VESSELS.—Section 1004(a)(1) of the Oil Pollution Act of 1990 (33 U.S.C. 2704(a)(1)) is amended—

(A) by redesignating subparagraph (B) as subparagraph (C); and

(B) by striking subparagraph (A) and inserting the following:

"(A) with respect to a single-hull vessel, including a single-hull vessel fitted with double sides only or a double-bottom only—"

(i) "$1,500 per gross ton for an incident that occurs in 2005;"

(ii) "$1,500 per gross ton for an incident that occurs in 2006; or"

(iii) "$2,500 per gross ton for an incident that occurs in 2007 or in any year thereafter; or"

(B) with respect to a double-hull vessel (other than any vessel referred to in subparagraph (A))—"

(i) "$1,350 per gross ton for an incident that occurs in 2005;"

(ii) "$1,500 per gross ton for an incident that occurs in 2006; and"

(iii) "$1,700 per gross ton for an incident that occurs in 2007 or in any year thereafter; or"

and:

(C) in subparagraph (C), as redesignated by subparagraph (A) of this paragraph—

(i) in clause (i) by striking "$10,000,000" and inserting "$14,000,000"; and

(ii) in clause (ii) by striking "$2,000,000" and inserting "$2,500,000".

(2) LIMITATION ON APPLICATION.—In the case of an incident occurring before the date of the enactment of this Act, section 1004(a)(1) of the Oil Pollution Act of 1990 (33 U.S.C. 2704(a)(1)) shall apply as in effect immediately before the effective date of this subsection.

(b) ADJUSTMENT TO REFLECT CONSUMER PRICE INDEX.—Section 1004(d)(4) of the Oil Pollution Act of 1990 (33 U.S.C. 2704(d)(4)) is amended to read as follows:

"(4) ADJUSTMENT TO REFLECT CONSUMER PRICE INDEX.—The President shall, by regulations issued no later than 3 years after the date of the enactment of the Delaware River Protection Act of 2005 and no less than every 3 years thereafter, adjust the limits on liability specified in subsection (a) to reflect significant increases in the Consumer Price Index."
SEC. 4. REQUIREMENT TO UPDATE PHILADELPHIA AREA CONTINGENCY PLAN.

The Philadelphia Area Committee established under section 311(h)(4) of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (33 U.S.C. 1321(h)(4)) shall, by not later than 12 months after the date of the enactment of this Act and not less than annually thereafter, update and revise the Philadelphia Area Contingency Plan to include available data and biological information on environmentally sensitive areas of the Delaware River and Delaware Bay that has been collected by Federal, State, and local agencies.

SEC. 5. SUBMERGED OIL REMOVAL.

(a) AMENDMENTS.—Title VII of the Oil Pollution Act of 1990 is amended—

(1) by striking “RIVERA,” and inserting “RIVERA and the T/V ATHOS I;”;

(b) EXPENSES.—While away from their homes and regular places of business, members of the Committee shall be paid their necessary expenses in connection with attendance at meetings of the Committee, in accordance with rules of the Congress established pursuant to the Federal Travel Act (Public Law 91-609).

(c) MEMBERSHIP.—The Committee shall consist of 15 members who have particular expertise, knowledge, and experience regarding the transportation, equipment, and techniques that are used to remove vessels or objects from navigable waterways, and the President shall select these members, of whom—

Section 6. Delaware River and Bay Oil Spill Advisory Committee.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—There is established the Delaware River and Bay Oil Spill Advisory Committee (in this section referred to as the “Committee”).

(b) APPOINTMENT OF MEMBERS.—The Committee shall consist of—

(1) three members who represent the general public;

(2) two members who represent organizations that load and unload cargo at ports on the Delaware River and Delaware Bay;

(3) two members who represent shipping companies that transport cargo by vessel from ports on the Delaware River and Delaware Bay;

(4) two members who represent operators or oil refineries on the Delaware River and Delaware Bay;

(5) two members who represent environmental and conservation interests;

(6) two members who represent State-licensed pilots who work on the Delaware River and Delaware Bay;

(7) one member who represents labor organizations that load and unload cargo at ports on the Delaware River and Delaware Bay;

(8) one member who represents the general public.

The Committee shall consist of—

(1) as members of the Delaware River and Bay Oil Spill Advisory Committee, and

(2) in the case of the ATHOS I, rip open the bottom of a ship. Mr. Speaker, let me give an example of why this provision is necessary. Under current regulations, an individual must report the creation of an obstruction to navigation or, in the case of the ATHOS I, rip open the bottom of a ship.

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 1412 would require persons to notify the Coast Guard in the event that an object is released into U.S. waters that could cause the obstruction to navigation or, in the case of the ATHOS I, rip open the bottom of a ship.

Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members object to the request of the gentleman from New Jersey?
enhance our capabilities to prevent and respond to future oil spills in U.S. waters. I would like to thank my colleagues, the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. SAXTON), the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. ANDREWS), the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. CASTLE), and the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Ms. SCHWARTZ), for their help, participation, and cosponsoring this bill.

I urge the House to support H.R. 1412. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. MILLENDER-MCDONALD. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 1412, the Delaware River Protection Act of 2005. On November 26, 2004, the tanker ATHOS I hit a piece of pipe and an anchor that had been dumped into the Delaware River, spilling oil into the Delaware River near Paulsboro, New Jersey. The Coast Guard incident commander found that the oil was sitting on the bottom of the river. The recommendations need to be made to prevent this type of accident from happening again. H.R. 1412 was written as a result of that hearing.

No one seems to know where the pipe and anchor came from that the ATHOS I hit, but it could be possible that it was dumped into the water that creates an obstruction to navigation.

As the gentlewoman from Pennsylvania (Ms. SCHWARTZ) pointed out at the hearing, the limit of liability for tank vessel owners has not been increased since the Oil Pollution Act of 1990 was enacted in response to the Exxon Valdez. OPA granted the Coast Guard the authority to increase the limits of liability for tank vessel owners based on the increase in the Consumer Price Index. However, they have never increased those limits. H.R. 1412 will increase the liability limits for oil spills up to a more modern amount and require these amounts to be adjusted not less than every 3 years.

One of the significant problems facing the agencies trying to cleanup this spill is that much of the heavy oil is sitting on the bottom of the river. H.R. 1412 will establish a program to monitor and evaluate the environmental effects of submerged oil.

H.R. 1412 also establishes the Delaware River and Bay Oil Spill Advisory Committee to make recommendations on methodologies to improve the prevention and response to future oil spills on the Delaware River and Delaware Bay.

I would like to thank the gentleman from New Jersey (Chairman LoBIONDO) for the bipartisan approach that he has used to develop this legislation, and I urge my colleagues to support the enactment of H.R. 1412, the Delaware River Protection Act of 2005.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. LoBIONDO. Mr. Speaker, I yield 5 minutes to the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. CASTLE), and I thank him again for his participation and help.

Mr. CASTLE. Mr. Speaker, I do rise in support of this important legislation, and I thank the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. LoBIONDO) for working on this bill for several months. He has worked extraordinarily hard on it and deserves a lot of credit. As chairman of the Subcommittee on Coast Guard and Maritime Transportation, he is a fierce defender of our environmental resources, and specifically the Delaware River; and we all appreciate it in that neck of the woods.

I do share his goal of protecting the viability of the Delaware River as a valued natural resource, and I also believe that the commerce channel is a top priority for the surrounding States.

Last November, a tragic oil spill, which has been referred to by the previous speakers, in the Delaware River set off a course of events which has led to expedited legislation. Here before us today, the Delaware River Protection Act. Beginning with a congressional hearing in January, it has been a top priority to not only address the cleanup of the oil spill but how we can look to the future. One clear outcome is prevention, working together as a region to learn from this accident.

The gentleman from New Jersey (Chairman LoBIONDO) has worked hard to draft legislation that I believe will make a real difference in protecting the Delaware River from another spill and in protecting the Delaware River as a valued natural resource.

I support the bill, which will establish the Delaware River and Bay Oil Spill Protection Act. A regional committee will be paramount to addressing issues facing the Delaware River, both environmental and industrial, and will serve as a sounding board for issues concerning the Delaware River.

Some of the committee’s responsibilities will include developing recommendations for Congress on the prevention of and response to future oil spills on the Delaware River and bay; reporting on important issues affecting the health of the Delaware River, while ensuring that there is a balanced approach to the issues.

The committee will be made up of appointed experts in many different areas, from the operators of oil refineries to environmental advocates. As a result, this committee will be able to examine the breadth of issues facing the river. The recommendations need not be unanimous, allowing representation of transparent and likely divergent viewpoints.

In the coming years, our States will face numerous proposed industrial and government activities that have potential safety, environmental, and economic consequences. This bill will help our region to be prepared and assure that important steps are taken to preserve the Delaware River.

Again, I thank the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. LoBIONDO) and the others who worked on this, and I sincerely encourage my colleagues’ support for this legislation. I hope that, with the cooperation of the Senate, this will become law shortly to protect the Delaware River.

Mr. LoBIONDO. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to yield 5 minutes to the gentlewoman from Pennsylvania (Ms. SCHWARTZ) and again thank her for her participation.

Mr. SCHWARTZ of Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the efforts of the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. LoBIONDO) and the opportunity to make a few remarks on this legislation.

On November 26, 2004, the ATHOS I oil tanker struck a submerged object near Paulsboro, New Jersey, and spilled 265,000 gallons into the Delaware River. The spill, the largest to occur in the Delaware River in the last 16 years, struck at the heart of our region, occurring in the Port of Philadelphia.

Two months after the spill, on my 15th day as a Member of Congress, my 15th day on the job, the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. LoBIONDO) convened a hearing in Philadelphia to examine the damage of the spill, the cleanup effort, and what else might be needed to be done, either now or in the future. I appreciated the chairman’s willingness to have me participate in that hearing as a very new member of the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure.

We all found, and we heard from the testimony, that this spill had caused millions of dollars in damages and affected more than 100 miles of shoreline in three States. Moreover, it impeded commerce, temporarily shut down a nuclear power plant, put area drinking water at risk, and injured and killed wildlife. Unfortunately, many regional environmental experts testified that the impact of the oil spill would continue to linger, further damaging critical species such as oysters and horseshoe crabs.

The devastating multiplier effect of the spill and the expert testimonies made clear that action was needed, not just for the cleanup, but for prevention.

As a consequence of what we found, the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. LoBIONDO), the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. CASTLE), the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Ms. ANDREWS), and the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. SAXTON) and I coauthored this bill, a bill that would protect the environmental integrity and economic vitality of the Delaware River and the greater Philadelphia region.

Mr. Speaker, the Delaware River Protection Act will take several very important steps to help prevent future oil spills. It will require mandatory reporting to the Coast Guard of overboard objects in order to facilitate their recovery and will impose civil or criminal penalties for those who fail to give prompt notification. It will encourage the use of double-hull tankers, which are safer and less susceptible to the damage caused by the single hull tankers. It will hold shippers accountable for damages caused by a spill by phasing in an increased liability standard, the first increase since 1990. And it will establish a River and Bay Advisory Committee which will be comprised of representatives from shipping, oil, labor, environment, and the general public to report to Congress on how best to prevent and respond to future incidences along the Delaware River.

I also want to note that in addition to these actions, the Water Resources Development Act, which will be considered by the House later this week, includes a key provision that was originally part of this legislation. Specifically, it will provide the Army Corps of Engineers with the authority to remove debris along the Delaware River, a vital authority as we increase efforts to keep our waterways clear of dangerous debris. It is my hope that the Water Resources Development Act will be received in an equally bipartisan manner.

Mr. Speaker, the Delaware River Protection Act represents a true collaborative effort. I want to thank the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. LoBIONDO) for his leadership on this bill, as well as his office staff, Geoff Gosselin, and the Subcommittee on Coast Guard and Maritime Transportation staff John Cullather, Eric Nagel and John Rayfield for their hard work on this important issue and working so closely with my staff.

Undoubtedly, implementation of this legislation will help to prevent future oil spills along the river, while also preserving the Port of Philadelphia as the regional resource that it is. That is why I urge my colleagues to support passage of this legislation.

Mr. LOBIONDO. Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there a quorum? Mr. LOBIONDO. Mr. Speaker, I have a motion to reconsider the passage of this legislation.

The Clerk reads as follows:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, SEC. 1. SHORT TITLE. This Act may be cited as the “Sand Creek Massacre National Historic Site Act of 2005”.

SEC. 2. DEFINITIONS. In this Act:

(1) FACILITY.—The term “facility” means any structure, utility, or construction within the trust property on or after the date of enactment of this Act.

(2) IMPROVEMENT.—The term “improvement” means—

(A) a 1,625 square foot i-stor farm house, built in 1952, located in the SW quarter of sec. 30, T. 17 S., R. 45 W., sixth principal meridian;

(B) a 1,600 square foot metal-constructed shop building, built in 1975, located in the SW quarter of sec. 30, T. 17 S., R. 45 W., sixth principal meridian;

(C) a livestock corral and shelter; and

(D) a water system and wastewater system with all associated utility connections.

(3) SECRETARY.—The term “Secretary” means the Secretary of the Interior.

(4) TRIBE.—The term “Tribe” means the Cheyenne and Arapaho Tribes of Oklahoma, a federally recognized Indian tribe.

(5) TRUST PROPERTY.—The term “trust property” means the real property, including rights to all minerals, and excluding the improvements, formerly known as the “Dawson Ranch”, consisting of approximately 1,465 total acres presently under the jurisdiction of the Tribe, situated within Kiowa County, Colorado, and more particularly described as follows:

A. The portion of sec. 24, T. 17 S., R. 46 W., sixth principal meridian, that is the Eastern half of the NW quarter, the SW quarter of the NE quarter, the NW quarter of the SE quarter, sixth principal meridian.

B. All of sec. 25, T. 17 S., R. 46 W., sixth principal meridian.

C. All of sec. 30, T. 17 S., R. 45 W., sixth principal meridian.

D. A. The term “Lands Held in Trust for the Cheyenne and Arapaho Tribes of Oklahoma.”—Or conveyance of title to the trust property by the Tribe to the United States, without any further action by the Secretary, the trust property shall be held in trust for the benefit of the Tribe.

(1) IN GENERAL.—On completion of the survey and the map and include extraneous material to the rule, the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. MUSGRAVE) would authorize the Secretary of the Interior to hold 1,465 acres of the Sand Creek Massacre National Historic Site in accordance with the Sand Creek Massacre National Historic Site, only for historical, traditional, cultural, and other uses in accordance with the Sand Creek Massacre National Historic Site Establishment Act of 2000 (16 U.S.C. 461 note; Public Law 106–465).

(b) ACCESS FOR ADMINISTRATION.—For purposes of administration, the Secretary shall have access to the trust property, improvements, and facilities as necessary for management of the Sand Creek Massacre National Historic Site in accordance with the Sand Creek Massacre National Historic Site Establishment Act of 2000 (16 U.S.C. 461 note; Public Law 106–465).

(c) DUTY OF THE SECRETARY.—The Secretary shall take such action as is necessary to ensure that the trust property is used only in accordance with this section.

(d) SAVINGS PROVISION.—Nothing in this Act supersedes the laws and policies governing units of the National Park System.

SEC. 3. CONVEYANCE OF LAND TO BE HELD IN TRUST FOR THE CHEYENNE AND ARAPAHO TRIBES OF OKLAHOMA.

(a) LAND HELD IN TRUST FOR THE CHEYENNE AND ARAPAHO TRIBES OF OKLAHOMA.—On conveyance of title to the trust property by the Tribe to the United States, without any further action by the Secretary, the trust property shall be held in trust for the benefit of the Tribe.

(b) TRUST.—(1) All right, title, and interest of the United States in and to the trust property, except any facilities constructed under section 4(b), are declared to be held by the United States in trust for the benefit of the Tribe.

(2) OWNERSHIP.—Facilities constructed with Federal funds or funds donated to the United States shall be owned in fee by the United States.

(c) FEDERAL FUNDS.—For the purposes of the construction, maintenance, or demolition of improvements or facilities that shall be expended only on improvements or facilities that are owned in fee by the United States.
and recognizes the national significance of the Sand Creek Massacre in American History.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. UDALL of New Mexico. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

(Mr. UDALL of New Mexico asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. UDALL of New Mexico. Mr. Speaker, as the majority has explained, H.R. 481 will further the purposes of the Sand Creek Massacre National Historic Site by enabling a significant parcel of land to be added to the site.

The Sand Creek Massacre National Historic Site was authorized in 2000 to preserve, commemorate and interpret the location of the 1864 massacre of Cheyenne and Arapaho people who encamped along the banks of the Big Sandy Creek in southeastern Colorado. The effort to establish the site has been a cooperative one. The inclusion of the land authorized by H.R. 481 will be a significant step leading to the formal establishment of the site by the Secretary of the Interior.

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 481 will help advance the interpretation and protection of the Sand Creek Massacre National Historic Site and we support the adoption of the legislation by the House today.

Mr. Speaker, let me thank the staff of the Resources Committee, both the minority and majority staff, and especially Rick Healy, who worked diligently on this bill.

Mrs. MUSGRAVE. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased, to offer my bill H.R. 481, the Sand Creek Massacre National Historic Site Act. I want to thank Chairman Pombo of the Committee on Resources for the expeditious way in which this bill moved through committee and onto the floor.

This bill is not only important to the Cheyenne and Arapaho Indian tribes, the citizens of the 4th district of Colorado and the entire state, but it is also important to help secure a permanent reminder in America of the tragic event that forever altered the course of Western frontier history.

On November 29, 1864, 700 Colorado Volunteers commanded by Colonel John Chivington attacked a village of Cheyenne and Arapaho Indians who were encamped along Big Sandy Creek in what is now Kiowa County, Colorado—part of the district that I represent today. Cheyenne and Arapaho people were killed in the attack, the majority of whom were women and children. This event is now known as the Sand Creek Massacre.

On March 13, 1865, this event was addressed in Congress by the Joint Committee on the Conduct of the War. Today, 141 years after the Massacre and 140 years after the first congressional hearings, Congress is again discussing this tragedy. This time we are here to honor the victims and preserve a historic parcel of land in Southeastern Colorado where this event took place.

In 1999, Congress authorized a study to investigate the suitability and feasibility of designating the Sand Creek Massacre National Historical Site in the State of Colorado as a unit of the National Park System. In November 2000, after the completion of the site location study, Congress passed the Sand Creek Massacre National Historic Site Establishment Act. This Act instructs the Secretary of the Interior to establish the Sand Creek Massacre National Historic Site as a unit of the National Park System once accepted to interpret and commemorate the massacre.

Today, we consider H.R. 481, to place 1,465 acres of tribally owned land inside the Sand Creek Massacre National Historic Site boundary into Tribal Trust. This will allow the Cheyenne and Arapaho tribes to manage property within the Historic Site to be managed by the National Park Service in partnership with the Northern and Southern Cheyenne and Arapaho Tribes and consistent with the purposes of the Sand Creek Massacre National Historic Site Establishment Act of 2000.

The passage of H.R. 481 is an important step in establishing this National Historic Site. With passage of this bill, the National Park Service would be given management responsibility over an additional 1,465 acres and would bring the acreage of the managed site to almost 2,400 acres. Many involved in this project believe the addition of 1,465 highly important acres to the Park Service's previous holdings will amount to a "sufficient portion" to complete the establishment of this National Historic Site. The Secretary of the Interior finally designates this site as an official National Historic Site, the Northern and Southern Cheyenne and Arapaho Tribes, the State of Colorado, Kiowa County and other stakeholders can begin the planning necessary to open this massacre site to the public.

I truly believe my bill will help heal the wounds of the past. I ask for the support of my colleagues on this bill.

Mr. UDALL of Colorado. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this bill. I congratulate my Colorado colleague, Mrs. MUSGRAVE, for introducing it and thank the leadership of the Resources Committee for making it possible for the House to consider it today.

Enactment of the bill is a vital step toward formal establishment of the Sand Creek National Historic Site as authorized in 2000 by Public Law 106-465.

The purpose of the Historic Site will be to recognize the national significance of what we now recognize as a permanent stain on the history of our State of Colorado—the Sand Creek massacre and its ongoing significance to the Cheyenne and Arapaho people and descendants of the massacre victims.

The Act authorizes establishment of the national historic site once the National Park Service has acquired sufficient land to preserve, conserve, commemorate, and interpret the massacre site.

The National Park Service has acquired approximately 920 acres, but the majority of land within the authorized boundary is privately owned and is not open to the public. The National Park Service has been working in partnership with the Cheyenne and Arapaho Tribes and the State of Colorado towards establishment of the Sand Creek Massacre National Historic Site.

This bill will authorize the Cheyenne and Arapaho Tribes to convey approximately 1,465 acres to the Secretary of the Interior to be held in trust for the tribes. Once these lands are conveyed, the National Park Service will be able to formally establish the Sand Creek Massacre National Historic Site.

Sand Creek was the site of an attack with terrible and long-lasting effects. Its history speaks to what can happen when military force is misused for political purposes.

One of the leaders of the attack was John M. Chivington, who earlier had been hailed as the hero of the battle at La Glorieta Pass—sometimes called the "Gettysburg of the West"—which ended the efforts of the Confederacy to seize New Mexico and other western territories.

As history records, Chivington seemed destined for even greater prominence. He was a leading advocate of quick statehood for Colorado, and spoken of as a likely candidate for Congress. At the same time, tensions between Colorado's growing white population and the Cheyenne Indians reached a feverish pitch. The Denver newspaper printed a frontpage editorial advocating the "extermination of the red devils" and urging its readers to "take a few minutes off and think of ways to wipe out the Indians." Chivington took advantage of this public mood, attacking the territorial governor and others who counseled a policy of conciliation and treaty-making with the Cheyenne.

Finally, during the early morning hours of November 29, 1864, he led a regiment of Colorado Volunteers to where the band led by Black Kettle, a well-known "peace" chief, was encamped. Federal army officers had promised Black Kettle safety if he would return to this location, and he was in fact flying the American flag and a white flag of truce over his lodge, but Chivington ordered an attack on the unsuspecting village nonetheless.

After hours of fighting, the Colorado volunteers had lost only 9 men in the process of murdering between 200 and 400 Cheyenne, most of them women and children. After the slaughter, they scalped and sexually mutilated many of the bodies, later exhibiting their trophies to cheering crowds in Denver. Chivington was at first congratulated for the "battle" at Sand Creek, and honored with a widely-attended parade through the streets of Denver.

Attitudes began to change as tales circulated of drunken soldiers butchering unarmed women and children. At first, these rumors seemed confirmed when Chivington was arrested six of his men and charged them with cowardice in battle.

But the six, who included Captain Silas Soule, were in fact militia members who had refused to participate in the massacre and now spoke openly of the carnage they had witnessed. Shortly after their arrest, the U.S. Secretary of War ordered the six men released and Congress began preparing for a formal investigation.

Soule himself could not be a witness at any of the investigations, because less than a week after his release he was shot from behind and killed on the streets of Denver.

Although Chivington was eventually brought up on court-martial charges for his involvement in the massacre, he was no longer in the U.S. Army and could therefore not be punished. No criminal charges were ever filed against him. An Army judge, however, publicly stated that Sand Creek was "a cowardly and cold-blooded slaughter, sufficient to cover its perpetrators with indelible infamy, and the face of every American with shame and indignation."
The massacre remains a matter of great historical, cultural and spiritual importance to the Cheyenne and Arapaho Tribes, and is a pivotal event in the history of relations between the Plains Indians and Euro-American settlers.

The effort to establish the Sand Creek National Historic Site was led by former Senator Ben Campbell of Colorado. It has gone through several stages:

The Sand Creek Massacre National Historic Site Act (Public Law 105-243) directed the National Park Service, in consultation with the State of Colorado, the Cheyenne and Arapaho Tribes of Oklahoma, the Northern Cheyenne Tribe, and the Northern Arapaho Tribe, to complete two tasks. First, the Act directed the Park Service to "identify the location and extent of the massacre area." Second, the Act directed the Park Service to prepare a report that assessed the national significance of the Sand Creek Massacre site, the suitability and feasibility of designating it as a unit of the National Park System, and a range of alternatives for the management, administration and protection of the area.

Following completion of these studies, Senator Campbell introduced legislation to authorize the establishment of the Sand Creek Massacre National Historic Site as a unit of the National Park System. Enactment of this bill is an important step toward completing that effort. I urge its approval by the House.

Mr. UDALL of New Mexico. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. UDALL of New Mexico. Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Puerto Rico (Mr. FORTUNO) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 861, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

AUTHORIZING ESTABLISHMENT AT ANTIETAM NATIONAL BATTLEFIELD OF NEW HAMPSHIRE MEMORIAL

Mr. PEARCE. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 1084) to authorize the establishment at Antietam National Battlefield of a memorial to the officers and enlisted men of the Fifth, Sixth, and Ninth New Hampshire Volunteer Infantry Regiments and the First New Hampshire Light Artillery Battery who fought in the Battle of Antietam on September 17, 1862.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from New Mexico (Mr. PEARCE) and the gentleman from New Mexico (Mr. UDALL) each will control 20 minutes.

Mr. PEARCE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on H.R. 1084, the bill under consideration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. There being no objection to the request of the gentleman from New Mexico, the rule is suspended, and Mr. PEARCE is granted permission to move to suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 1084, as amended.

Mr. PEARCE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, House Resolution 1084 introduced by the gentleman from New Hampshire (Mr. BRADLEY) would authorize the construction of a memorial at the Antietam National Battlefield to members of the New Hampshire Infantry that fought in the battle of Antietam. The bill directs the Secretary of the Interior to select persons responsible for the establishment of the memorial and prohibits the use of Federal funds in the design, acquisition, preparation, and installation of the memorial. Additionally, the Secretary must approve the size, design, and inscriptions placed on the monument. Once the memorial is in place, the Secretary will accept responsibility for its maintenance, but will be permitted to accept donations into a specific account for the New Hampshire memorial.

I urge passage of the bill.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. UDALL of New Mexico. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. UDALL of New Mexico asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.

Mr. UDALL of New Mexico. Mr. Speaker, as the majority has explained, H.R. 1084 authorizes the establishment of a Civil War Memorial to New Hampshire soldiers who fought at the Battle of Antietam in 1862.

Evidently, New Hampshire is the only State that participated in the Battle of Antietam that does not have a memorial to its soldiers at the site. The citizens of New Hampshire are proud of their ancestors' participation in the battle and would like to commemorate their participation.

Mr. Speaker, we have no objection to the adoption of H.R. 1084, as amended, by the House today.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to thank the majority and minority staff of the House Resources Committee, and especially Rick Healy of the Resources Committee, for their diligent work on this bill.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. PEARCE. Mr. Speaker, I also thank the staffs from both majority and minority to get this bill through.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. PEARCE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on H.R. 1428, the bill under consideration.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

NATIONAL FISH AND WILDLIFE FOUNDATION REAUTHORIZATION ACT OF 2005

Mr. PEARCE. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 1428) to authorize appropriations for the National Fish and Wildlife Foundation, and for other purposes, as amended.

The Clerk read as follows:

H.R. 1428

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, SEC. 1. ESTABLISHMENT OF NEW HAMPSHIRE MEMORIAL, ANTIETAM NATIONAL BATTLEFIELD, MARYLAND.

(a) MEMORIAL AUTHORIZED.—The Secretary of the Interior shall authorize the establishment, at a suitable location approved by the Secretary within the boundaries of Antietam National Battlefield, of a memorial to the officers and enlisted men of the Fifth, Sixth, and Ninth New Hampshire Volunteer Infantry Regiments and the First New Hampshire Light Artillery Battery who fought in the Battle of Antietam on September 17, 1862.

(b) AUTHORIZATION.—The Secretary shall select the persons who will be permitted to establish the memorial authorized by subsection (a).

(c) DESIGN APPROVALS.—The size, design, and inscriptions of the memorial authorized by subsection (a) shall be subject to the approval of the Secretary.

(d) PROHIBITION AGAINST USE OF FEDERAL FUNDS FOR ESTABLISHMENT.—No Federal funds may be expended to design the memorial authorized by subsection (a), to acquire the memorial, to prepare the site selected for the memorial, or to install the memorial.

(e) SUSPENSION FOR MISREPRESENTATION IN FUNDRAISING.—The Secretary may suspend the authority of the persons selected under subsection (b) to establish the memorial authorized by subsection (a) if the Secretary determines that fundraising efforts relating to the memorial have misrepresented an affiliation with the memorial or the Federal Government.

(f) ANNUAL REPORT.—Until the memorial authorized by subsection (a) is installed, the persons selected under subsection (b) to establish the memorial shall submit to the Secretary an annual report of operations relating to fundraising efforts for the memorial and progress on the establishment of the memorial.

(g) MAINTENANCE.—Upon installation of the memorial authorized by subsection (a), the Secretary shall assume responsibility for the maintenance of the memorial and credited to a separate account with the National Park Service.

(h) DONATIONS.—No Federal funds may be expended with other funds available to the Secretary for the maintenance of the memorial and credited to a separate account with the National Park Service.

(i) REPORT TO CONGRESS.—Within 4 years of the completion of the memorial, the Secretary shall submit to Congress a report that assessed the national significance of the Sand Creek Massacre site, the suitability and feasibility of designating it as a unit of the National Park System, and a range of alternatives for the management, administration and protection of the area.

(j) INSCRIPTIONS.—The Secretary shall select the persons who will be permitted to install the memorial.

(k) MAINTENANCE.—Upon installation of the memorial authorized by subsection (a), the Secretary shall assume responsibility for the maintenance of the memorial.

(l) FUNDRAISING.—The Secretary may suspend the authority of the persons selected under subsection (b) to establish the memorial authorized by subsection (a) if the Secretary determines that fundraising efforts relating to the memorial have misrepresented an affiliation with the memorial or the Federal Government.

(m) MAINTENANCE.—Upon installation of the memorial authorized by subsection (a), the Secretary shall assume responsibility for the maintenance of the memorial.

(n) INSTALLATION.—The Secretary shall assume responsibility for the maintenance of the memorial until the memorial is in place, the Secretary determines that fundraising efforts relating to the memorial have misrepresented an affiliation with the memorial or the Federal Government, and inscriptions of the memorial authorized by subsection (a) are installed, the Secretary shall select the persons who will be permitted to install the memorial.

(o) FUNDRAISING.—The Secretary may suspend the authority of the persons selected under subsection (b) to establish the memorial authorized by subsection (a) if the Secretary determines that fundraising efforts relating to the memorial have misrepresented an affiliation with the memorial or the Federal Government.

(p) ANNUAL REPORT.—Until the memorial authorized by subsection (a) is installed, the persons selected under subsection (b) to establish the memorial shall submit to the Secretary an annual report of operations relating to fundraising efforts for the memorial and progress on the establishment of the memorial.

(q) MAINTENANCE.—Upon installation of the memorial authorized by subsection (a), the Secretary shall assume responsibility for the maintenance of the memorial and credited to a separate account with the National Park Service.

(r) DONATIONS.—No Federal funds may be expended with other funds available to the Secretary for the maintenance of the memorial and credited to a separate account with the National Park Service.

(s) REPORT TO CONGRESS.—Within 4 years of the completion of the memorial, the Secretary shall submit to Congress a report that assessed the national significance of the Sand Creek Massacre site, the suitability and feasibility of designating it as a unit of the National Park System, and a range of alternatives for the management, administration and protection of the area.

(t) INSCRIPTIONS.—The Secretary shall select the persons who will be permitted to install the memorial.

(u) MAINTENANCE.—Upon installation of the memorial authorized by subsection (a), the Secretary shall assume responsibility for the maintenance of the memorial.

(v) INSTALLATION.—The Secretary shall assume responsibility for the maintenance of the memorial until the memorial is in place, the Secretary determines that fundraising efforts relating to the memorial have misrepresented an affiliation with the memorial or the Federal Government, and inscriptions of the memorial authorized by subsection (a) are installed, the Secretary shall select the persons who will be permitted to install the memorial.

(w) FUNDRAISING.—The Secretary may suspend the authority of the persons selected under subsection (b) to establish the memorial authorized by subsection (a) if the Secretary determines that fundraising efforts relating to the memorial have misrepresented an affiliation with the memorial or the Federal Government.

(x) ANNUAL REPORT.—Until the memorial authorized by subsection (a) is installed, the persons selected under subsection (b) to establish the memorial shall submit to the Secretary an annual report of operations relating to fundraising efforts for the memorial and progress on the establishment of the memorial.

(y) MAINTENANCE.—Upon installation of the memorial authorized by subsection (a), the Secretary shall assume responsibility for the maintenance of the memorial.

(z) INSTALLATION.—The Secretary shall assume responsibility for the maintenance of the memorial until the memorial is in place, the Secretary determines that fundraising efforts relating to the memorial have misrepresented an affiliation with the memorial or the Federal Government, and inscriptions of the memorial authorized by subsection (a) are installed, the Secretary shall select the persons who will be permitted to install the memorial.

AA. APPROPRIATIONS.—The Secretary may suspend the authority of the persons selected under subsection (b) to establish the memorial authorized by subsection (a) if the Secretary determines that fundraising efforts relating to the memorial have misrepresented an affiliation with the memorial or the Federal Government.
from California (Mr. POMBO), the dis-

SEC. 2. AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.

H.R. 1428 introduced by the gentleman go marks and include extraneous material

Mr. PEARCE. I yield myself such time as I

Mr. BRADLEY of New Hampshire. Mr.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from New Mexico (Mr. PEARCE) and the gentleman from New Mexico (Mr. UDALL) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from New Mexico (Mr. PEARCE).

Mr. PEARCE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on H.R. 1428, the bill under consideration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from New Mexico? There was no objection.

Mr. PEARCE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to support H.R. 1428 introduced by the gentleman from California (Mr. Pombo), the distinguished chairman of the House Resources Committee, which extends the existing authorization levels for the National Fish and Wildlife Foundation.

Since its creation in 1984, the National Fish and Wildlife Foundation has funded more than 6,420 conservation projects. These efforts have been coordinated with more than 1,800 different conservation organizations. The fundamental goal of these projects has been to increase resources for fish and wildlife conservation and to develop innovative conservation solutions, respect private property rights, and sustain healthy ecosystems.

Unlike most conservation groups, this organization requires its grantees to sign an agreement stipulating that no Federal funds will be used for lobbying or litigation purposes. Instead of simply talking about conserving critical habitat, the foundation has accom-

National Fish and Wildlife Foundation Reauthorization Act of 2005

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the bill, H.R. 1428, passed by the House without further ado.

Mr. PEARCE. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. Speaker, these men exemplified the steadfast bravery that is a hallmark of American soldiers across generations. On behalf of the citizens of New Hampshire, I ask for the assistance of the House in helping to furnish a proper monument to these commendable Americans.

Mr. UDALL of New Mexico. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from New Mexico (Mr. PEARCE) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 1428, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

NATIONAL GEOLOGIC MAPPING REAUTHORIZATION ACT OF 2005

Mr. PEARCE. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 2362) to reauthorize and amend the National Geologic Mapping Act of 1992, as amended.

The Clerk read as follows:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the “National Geologic Mapping Reauthorization Act of 2005”.

SEC. 2. AMENDMENT REFERENCES.

Except as otherwise expressly provided, whenever in this Act an amendment or repeal is expressed in terms of an amendment to, or repeal of, a section or other provision, this reference shall be considered to be made to such section or other provision of the National Geologic Mapping Act of 1992 (35 U.S.C. 304 et seq.).

SEC. 3. FINDINGS.

Section 2(a) (35 U.S.C. 304(a)) is amended as follows:

(1) By striking paragraph (1) and inserting the following:

“(1) although significant progress has been made in the production of geologic maps

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD — HOUSE

H5203

June 27, 2005

0013-5620

WASHINGTON, D.C.

H5203

June 27, 2005

0013-5620

WASHINGTON, D.C.

H5203

June 27, 2005

0013-5620

WASHINGTON, D.C.
since the establishment of the National Cooperative Geologic Mapping Program in 1992, no modern, digital, geologic map exists for approximately 75 percent of the Nation;”.

(2) Paragraph (2) is amended—

(A) in subparagraph (A) by striking “not later than one year after the date of enactment of the National Geologic Mapping Reauthorization Act of 2005” and inserting “not later than one year after the date of the enactment of the National Geologic Mapping Reauthorization Act of 2005”;

(B) by striking “provides” and inserting “provides”.

SEC. 6. GEOLOGIC MAPPING PROGRAM OBJEC-IVES.

Section 4(c)(2) (43 U.S.C. 31c(c)(2)) is amended—

(1) by striking “geophysical-map data base, geochemical-map data base, and a”; and

(2) by striking “provide” and inserting “provide”.

SEC. 7. GEOLOGIC MAPPING PROGRAM COMPO-NENTS.

(1) in paragraph (1) by striking “not later than” and all that follows through “the end of clause (I);” and

(2) by striking “and” after the semicolon at the end of subclause (I); and

(3) by striking “and” after “Energy or a”.

SEC. 8. GEOLOGIC MAPPING ADVISORY COM-MITTEE.

Section 5(a) (43 U.S.C. 31d(a)) is amended—

(1) in paragraph (2) by striking “Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency or a designee” and inserting “Secretary of the Interior or a designee”;

(A) by striking “that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on H.R. 2362, the bill under consideration.”;

(B) by striking “the needs of Department of the Interior land management agencies.”;

and

(C) by striking “and the Assistant to the President for Science and Technology or a designee”;

and

(2) in paragraph (3)—

(A) by striking “Not later than” and all that follows through “in consultation” and inserting “in consultation”;

(B) by striking “Chief Geologist, as Chairman” and inserting “Associate Director for Geology as Chairman”;

(C) by striking “two representatives from the private sector” and inserting “two representatives from the private sector”.

SEC. 9. FUNCTIONS OF NATIONAL GEOLOGIC MAP DATABASE.

Section 7(a) (43 U.S.C. 31f(a)) is amended—

(1) in paragraph (1) by striking “geologic map” and inserting “geologic-map”; and

(2) in paragraph (2)—

(A) by inserting “two representatives from the private sector” and inserting “two representatives from the private sector”.

Mr. UDALL of New Mexico. Mr.
Speaker, as my friend and colleague the gentleman from New Mexico (Mr.
PEARCE) has stated, H.R. 2362 would re-

The U.S. Geological Survey and the State geological authorities carry out the geologic mapping program jointly.
Under this program, Federal and State geologists develop comprehensive geologic maps of the United States and a related database of environmental and scientific information.

The mapping program contributes significantly to our understanding of geologic information such as the distribution of mineral energy and groundwater resources.

Mr. Speaker, we should support H.R.
2362 and I urge its passage.

I would also at this time like to thank the entire Resources staff, including especially Debra Lanzone.
Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. PEARCE. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as he may consume.

Mr. GIBBONS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to thank the gentleman from New Mexico (Mr. GIBBONS) for allowing me time to speak on this very important bill which I introduced along with my very good friend and colleague the gentlewoman from Wyoming (Mrs. CUBIN).

H.R. 2362 demonstrates a commitment, a commitment by not only this body, but by our country, to provide timely geologic information in a dig-tal format to a variety of users, including our county health departments, State environmental agencies, Federal agencies, and even the private sector, Mr. Speaker. To date, no modern digital geologic map exists for approximately 75 percent of the United States.

Geologic mapping has a variety of important uses as we have already heard. And understanding the subsurface soil, geology soil profiles through the use of geologic mapping can facilitate better planning, better planning for a variety of community projects including housing developments, schools and hospitals, septic systems for rural and urban communities and water treatment facilities and the construction of even highw yways and roadways as well.

Now, sitting these types of facilities in appropriate geologic settings is important to avoid or mitigate for geologic hazards such as landslides, earthquakes, and even floodplains.

H.R. 2362 authorizes the cooperative matching grant program between the State geologic surveys and the United States Geological Survey through the fiscal year 2010.

With that, Mr. Speaker, I would urge all of my colleagues, understanding the value of this important piece of legislation, to vote in the affirmative for its passage.

Mr. PEARCE. Mr. Speaker, I have no additional requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. Issa). The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from New Mexico (Mr. PEARCE) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 2362, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

UPPER WHITE SALMON WILD AND SCENIC RIVERS ACT

Mr. PEARCE. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 38) to designate a portion of the White Salmon River as a component of the National Wild and Scenic Rivers System.

The Clerk read as follows:

H.R. 38
Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled.

SEC. 1. SHORT TITLE.
This Act may be cited as the “Upper White Salmon Wild and Scenic Rivers Act”.

SEC. 2. UPPER WHITE SALMON WILD AND SCENIC RIVER.
Section 3(a) of the Wild and Scenic Rivers Act (16 U.S.C. 1274(a)) is amended by adding at the end the following:

''(A) The approximately 1.6-mile segment of the main stem of the White Salmon River from the Mount Adams Wilderness boundary as a scenic river.

(B) The approximately 1.5-mile segment of the main stem of the White Salmon River and Cascade Creek, totaling 20 miles, as “wild and scenic.”

(C) The approximately 1.5-mile segment of Cascade Creek from its headwaters on Mount Adams in section 10, township 8 north, range 10 east, downstream to the Mount Adams Wilderness boundary as a wild river.

(D) The approximately 1.5-mile segment of Cascade Creek from its headwaters on Mount Adams in section 10, township 8 north, range 10 east, downstream to the Mount Adams Wilderness boundary as a scenic river.

SEC. 3. AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.
There are authorized to be appropriated such sums as are necessary to carry out this Act.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from New Mexico (Mr. PEARCE) and the gentleman from New Mexico (Mr. UDALL) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from New Mexico (Mr. PEARCE).

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. PEARCE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on H.R. 38.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from New Mexico?

There was no objection.

Mr. PEARCE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 38, as introduced by the gentleman from Washington (Mr. BAIRD), would designate 20 miles of the Upper White Salmon River as a component of the Wild and Scenic Rivers system.

This legislation would designate four different segments of the Upper White Salmon River and Cascade Creek, totaling 20 miles, as “wild and scenic.”

The segments are limited to Federal land, located in the Gifford Pinchot National Forest, and include 6.7 miles in the Mt. Adams Wilderness.

This designation is supported by the local community as well as the Forest Service. I urge support for this important measure.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. UDALL of New Mexico. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 38 designates the main stem of the Upper White Salmon River and Cascade Creek, totaling 20 miles, as a component of the National Wild and Scenic Rivers System. Congress added the lower White Salmon River to the National Wild and Scenic Rivers System in 1986.

The White Salmon River originates in the glaciers of Mt. Adams and flows through south central Washington to the Columbia River. The river is known for its remarkable scenery and abundant wildlife and is popular with white water enthusiasts.

The designation from Washington (Mr. BAIRD) should be recognized for his leadership on H.R. 38. My good friend, the gentleman from Washington (Mr. BAIRD), is one of our strong conservation leaders in the Northwest and has worked very hard in showing strong leadership in getting this bill to the point that it is today.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 5 minutes to the gentleman from Washington (Mr. BAIRD), the sponsor of the bill.

Mr. BAIRD. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from New Mexico (Mr. PEARCE) and my other colleague, the gentleman from New Mexico (Mr. UDALL).

I want to begin by thanking the gentleman from California (Chairman Pombo), the ranking member, the gentleman from West Virginia (Mr. RAHALL) of the Committee on Resources; the gentleman from Oregon (Mr. WALDEN); and the gentleman from New Mexico (Mr. UDALL), the ranking member of the Subcommittee on Forests and Forest Health, for their guidance. And I certainly appreciate the help of their staff throughout this process.

I also want to acknowledge the work of my good friend and colleague, Senator CANTWELL, who has introduced the companion legislation in that Chamber.

The House of Representatives and a number of people locally in our region deserve credit, including among them Phyllis Clausen of the Friends of the White Salmon River, Connie Kelleher from American Rivers, the SDS Lumber Company, the U.S. Forest Service, and local county commissioners from the region as well. This process has taken several years and represents a true collaborative local effort.

The Upper White Salmon River is literally a world-famous river. Located in south central Washington, it is known for its great white water, stunning scenery, and fish and wildlife resources. The designation before us today will preserve the river’s free-flowing status as well as the natural values and rural lifestyle in the surrounding area.

In 1986, the river’s outstanding quality received national recognition when Congress designated the lower 8 miles of the White Salmon as a National Wild and Scenic River. Congress directed the Forest Service to study the Upper White Salmon for possible designation into the Wild and Scenic Rivers System.

H.R. 38 seeks to protect 20 miles of Upper White Salmon River segments within the Gifford Pinchot Forest as part of the National Wild and Scenic Rivers System by designating them wild and scenic. This designation has broad public support within the local community and throughout the region. It has been endorsed by a wide variety of environmental and recreational organizations, local community and business leaders.

The land to be designated as wild and scenic consists entirely of public land; no private land is included; the area is currently being managed as if it is already part of the Wild and Scenic Rivers System.

I want to reiterate my gratitude to the gentleman from New Mexico (Mr. UDALL) and the chairman of the overall committee. I thank Members for their support and urge passage of this valuable piece of legislation.

Mr. UDALL of New Mexico. Mr. Speaker, I would like to thank the entire Committee on Resources staff and especially Meghan Conklin for her work on this bill.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.
Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from New Mexico (Mr. PEARCE) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 1512, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 1512) to direct the Secretary of the Interior to conduct a special resources study regarding the suitability and feasibility of designating certain historic buildings and areas in Taunton, Massachusetts, as a unit of the National Park System, and for other purposes, as amended.

The Clerk read as follows:

H.R. 1512

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the “Taunton, Massachusetts Special Resources Study Act”.

SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

Congress finds the following:

(1) The city of Taunton, Massachusetts, is home to 9 historic districts, with more than 600 properties on the National Register of Historic Places. Included among these districts are the Church Green Historic District, the Courthouse Historic District, the Taunton Green Historic District, and the Reed and Barton Historic District.

(2) All of these districts include buildings and buildings of great historical, cultural, and architectural value.

(3) Taunton Green is the site where the Sons of Liberty first raised the Liberty and Union Flag in 1774, an event that helped to spark a popular movement, culminating in the American Revolution, and Taunton citizens have been among the first to volunteer for America’s subsequent wars.

(4) Robert Treat Paine, a citizen of Taunton, and the first Attorney General of Massachusetts, was a signer of the Declaration of Independence.

(5) Taunton was a leading community in the Industrial Revolution, and its industrial area has been the site of many innovations in such industries as silver manufacture, paper manufacture, and ship building.

(6) The landscaping of the Courthouse Green was designed by Frederick Law Olmsted, who also left landscaping ideas and plans for other areas in the city which have great value and interest as historical archives and objects of future study.

(7) Main Street, which connects many of the historic districts, is home to the Taunton City Hall and the Leonard Block building, 2 outstanding examples of early 19th Century American architecture, as well as many other historically and architecturally significant structures.

(8) The city and people of Taunton have presented a significant body of important documents dating back to 1638 when Taunton was founded.

(9) Taunton was and continues to be an important destination for immigrants from Europe and other parts of the world who have helped to give Southeastern Massachusetts its unique ethnic character.

SEC. 3. STUDY.

The Secretary, in consultation with the appropriate State historic preservation officers, the National Park Service of the Department of the Interior, and other appropriate organizations, shall conduct a special resources study regarding the suitability and feasibility of designating certain historic buildings and areas in Taunton, Massachusetts, as a unit of the National Park System. The study shall be conducted and completed in accordance with section 10 of Public Law 91-383 (16 U.S.C. 1a-5(c)) and shall include analysis, documentation, and determinations regarding whether the historic areas in Taunton—

(1) can be managed, curated, interpreted, restored, preserved, and presented as an organic whole under management by the National Park Service or under an alternative management structure;

(2) have an assemblage of natural, historic, and cultural resources that together represent distinctive aspects of American heritage worthy of preservation, interpretation, and continuing use;

(3) reflect traditions, customs, beliefs, and historical events that are valuable parts of the national story;

(4) provide outstanding opportunities to conserve natural, historic, cultural, architectural, or scenic features;

(5) provide outstanding recreational and educational opportunities; and

(6) can be managed by the National Park Service in partnership with residents, business interests, private organizations, the city of Taunton, and State and local governments to develop a unit of the National Park System consistent with State and local economic activity.

SEC. 4. REPORT.

Not later than 3 fiscal years after the date on which funds are first made available for this Act, the Secretary shall submit to the Committee on Resources of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources of the Senate a report on the findings, conclusions, and recommendations of the study required under section 3.

SEC. 5. PRIVATE PROPERTY.

The recommendations in the report submitted pursuant to section 4 shall include discussions and any concerns expressed by private landowners with respect to designating certain structures referred to in this Act as a unit of the National Park System.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from New Mexico (Mr. PEARCE) and the gentleman from New Mexico (Mr. UDALL) each will control 20 minutes.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from New Mexico (Mr. PEARCE).

Mr. PEARCE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on H.R. 1512.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from New Mexico?

There was no objection.

Mr. PEARCE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 1512, introduced by the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. FRANK), would direct the Secretary of the Interior to conduct a special resources study regarding the suitability and feasibility of designating certain historic buildings and areas of the City of Taunton, Massachusetts, as a unit of the National Park System. It memorializes the City of Taunton and the Sons of Liberty first raised the Liberty and Union Flag in 1774, an event that helped to spark the American Revolution.

I urge the adoption of the bill.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. UDALL of New Mexico. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. UDALL of New Mexico. Mr. Speaker, the Taunton area to be included in the study authorized by H.R. 1512 is rich in cultural and historic resources. A comprehensive study of these resources will help determine if inclusion within the National Park System is appropriate.

The sponsor of this legislation, the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. FRANK) is to be commended for his tenacity and resolve in pursuing this important legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 5 minutes to the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. FRANK).

Mr. FRANK of Massachusetts. Mr. Speaker, I thank the members of the committee who have brought this bill forward.

This is a bill that has particular meaning to me. The City of Taunton has been in the district I have been privileged to represent for just a couple of years. Prior to that, it was represented by one of our late colleagues; and when you talk about history, which this bill does, building as it does on the history of the City of Taunton, you could not talk about the history of this institution without some reference to the man who represented Taunton before me and that is our late colleague, Joe Moakley.

Joe Moakley represented Taunton for years. He was the one under whose representation the discussion of a national park began. I was privileged to take this over actually from his immediate successor, my colleague, the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. Udall). It is on behalf of both of us that we present this, and we do want to invoke the memory of Joe Moakley when we go forward with this bill.

The City of Taunton, Massachusetts, is a wonderful place. I am lucky enough to have one of my congressional district offices right in the heart of this area. I have checked and I do not believe I will derive any particular benefit from it, so I do not have to vote "present" on the bill. What I do have is a chance right now to really be a part of this great history.

The Sons of Liberty Flag was first raised here. The Sons of Liberty raised the flag Liberty Union in 1774. There were buildings that played an important role in the Revolution. They were there in Taunton. Taunton Green is a major place in our history. We would include here the Church Green Historic District. It has the Church Green National Historic District.

One of the original settlers, and I think this is particularly relevant to talk about, the modern impact of this,
Elizabeth Pole was the first woman we believe to found a community in America, and of the city of Taunton the phrase “Dux Femina Facti” is included. That translates, I am reliably informing by better Latin scholars than myself, into “the person responsible for this was a woman.”

It was in early recognition of what we are still dealing with, namely, that we make a great mistake when we refuse to give individuals the full opportunity to engage their talents, no matter what their gender or whatever other characteristics they have. I realize that this does not mean that we get a park immediately. It begins the process of study. I am confident,
Mr. Speaker, that an objective study of the sort we get from the excellent staff that the National Park Service will document the importance to the history of this country of this area of Taunton and the importance of making it a part of our National Park System. I thank the two gentlemen from New Mexico for their energy and work.

Mr. Speaker, the following is a list of some of the salient points of the City of Taunton.

The city of Taunton has a history of equality, patriotism, commerce and innovation that make the areas ideal candidates for inclusion within the National Park System.
The area to be included within the study includes the Church Green Historic District, which includes the Church Green National Register District, Main Street, and the Taunton Green National Register District.

Among the settlers of Taunton, Elizabeth Pole is credited as being the first female to found a community in America.
Her legacy is preserved at the Old Colony
Historical Society Museum on Church Green.
The role that Elizabeth Pole, a woman, played in founding Taunton is an important aspect of our colonial history that should be emphasized in a part of the study. The National Park System has devoted many resources to the role of women in our nation and history. However, no other site presently in the System matches the unique circumstances surrounding Ms. Pole and her role as a pioneering colonial female.
The phrase “Dux femina facti” which translates as a woman person responsible for the deed or accomplishment was a woman’s adorns the Seal of the City of Taunton.
A statue of Robert Treat Paine symbolically faces away from the Church Green National Register District down Main Street towards the Taunton Green National Register District. With the transformation from Taunton Green to Taunton resident, the center of the city moved towards the Taunton Green. Robert Treat Paine, a Taunton resident, was as a signer of the Declaration of Independence. He along with John Adams served as members of the First Continental Congress in 1774. Paine and Adams’ careers were linked again as Paine served as an Associate Prosecutor at the trial of the Boston Massacre. Paine went on to become the first Attorney General of Masachusetts and was a mayor of the Massaachusetts Supreme Judicial Court. While serving in the Continental Congress in October of 1774, Paine was not a party to the historic decision to declare his home when the Sons of Liberty raised the “Liberty & Union” flag that still flies over the Taunton Green is recognized as the first flag of open defiance to the crown.

In addition to Robert Treat Paine, Taunton’s General David Cobb left his mark on the Revolutionary War. General Cobb served as aide-de-camp to General Washington and was instrumental in the design of a new coinage that was entered into circulation after the evacuation of New York. After the war, General Cobb served as Judge of the Court of Common Pleas for Bristol County and was involved in the development of a new Library and Union Flag that symbolize the formation of the colony to independence.

The anchor for the U.S.S. Constitution was forged in Taunton, as was the anchor for the U.S. Navy’s Independence and the现存 flag Liberty & Union Flag are sym-

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

HONORING UNITED STATES AIR FORCE MEMBERS KILLED IN KHOBAR TOWERS BOMBING

Mr. PEARCE. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and agree to the concurrent resolution (H. Con. Res. 188) honoring the members of the United States Air Force who were killed in the attack on June 25, 1996, terrorist bombing of the Khobar Towers United States military housing compound near Dhahran, Saudi Arabia.

The Clerk read as follows:

H. CON. RES. 188

Whereas June 25, 2005, marks the ninth anniversary of the terrorist bombing of the Khobar Towers United States military housing compound in Dhahran, Saudi Arabia, on June 25, 1996;

Whereas 19 members of the United States Air Force were killed in the bombing and 300 other Americans were injured;

Whereas the families of these brave airmen
still mourn their loss;

Whereas three months after that terrorist bombing, on September 24, 1996, the House of Representatives agreed to House Concurrent Resolution 200 of the 104th Congress, honoring the victims of that terrorist bombing, and on the fifth anniversary of that bombing, on June 25, 2001, the House of Representatives agreed to House Concurrent Resolution 188 of the 107th Congress, which was approved in by the Senate on July 12, 2002, further honoring the victims of that bombing;

Whereas the families of these brave airmen
mourn their loss;

Whereas terrorism remains a constant and ever-present threat around the world: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), That on the occasion of the ninth anniversary of the terrorist bombing of the Khobar Towers United States military housing compound near Dhahran, Saudi Arabia, the Congress—

(1) recognizes the service and sacrifice of the members of the United States Air Force who died in that attack;

(2) calls upon every American to pause and pay tribute to those brave airmen;

(3) extends its continued sympathies to the families of those who died; and
(4) assures the members of the Armed Forces serving anywhere in the world that the people of the United States hold them in the highest regard at all times.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Florida (Mr. MILLER) and the gentleman from Arkansas (Mr. SNYDER) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Florida (Mr. MILLER).
Mr. MILLER of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks on H. Con. Res. 188.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the插入 of the gentileman from Florida?

There was no objection.

Mr. MILLER of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I rise today in support of this resolution which reminds us that brave American service men and women willing risk their lives to defend the United States’ interests and the freedom and values that we all enjoy as citizens. Such commitment imposes on the rest of us an obligation, an obligation to ensure that we do not break faith with those who serve, and that we respond to such commitment by resolving to provide the necessary resources for our military forces to successfully carry out the missions assigned to them.

Nine years ago this past Saturday, a truck bomb exploded outside the fence around the Khobar Towers compound in Dhahran, Saudi Arabia. The bomb, estimated at more than 3,000 pounds, detonated about 85 feet from a residential housing unit that housed U.S. troops, killing 19 U.S. Air Force servicemen, and wounding hundreds of other Americans.

The force of that explosion destroyed or damaged six high-rise apartment buildings and shattered windows throughout the residential compound. Today, we honor the 19 airmen who gave their lives, the supreme sacrifice, at the hands of terrorists 20 miles away from Dhahran. This Congress joins me in paying tribute to those men who are individually recognized in H. Con. Res. 188.

Mr. Speaker, I thought when I was drafting this resolution that it is ironic that just a month ago we celebrated Memorial Day, where we honored the men and women who have died in the pursuit, and subsequently the defense, of freedom in wars, domestic and foreign, since the founding of our country. One week from today, we will be celebrating the founding of America, our birth, the Declaration of Independence, upon which our Founding Fathers pledged their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honor.

As we celebrate our Fourth of July or Memorial Day on their designated day, we are a constant reminder of the sacrifice of these men. Twelve of the 19 men killed were based at Eglin Air Force Base in my district and several, along with their families, were constituents. It is my hope that all of America will pause and give thanks to their memory.

This week in Washington, D.C., the parents and loved ones of many of those who sacrificed their lives are the guests of the FBI, and some of them are here today in the House gallery as we present this resolution. I want to personally pay a word of deepest appreciation to the families of these heroes.

We can never undo the tragedy that they have lived. We can never alleviate the guilt and grief felt by each of them every day, but I would hope and I know my colleagues join me in this hope, that with the adoption of this resolution, they will take from our action some solace in the fact that we do not forget the sacrifices and sacrifices of their loved ones. They are much more than men in uniform to them; they were their lives.

Bridget Brooks, mother of Airman First Class Joseph E. Rimkus, is a constituent of mine and works at Eglin even today. I regret that she is not able to be here today, so, Mr. Speaker, I would like to share with my colleagues the kind of man who was lost, in his mother’s own words.

“When Joseph joined the military, he told me that now he could have a flag that would be a Catholic all of his family members, our Nation and the rest of the world that we honor the sacrifices of these airmen and the families that they left behind. They served with the highest and best military traditions. No one could have served better or given more.

I urge all of my colleagues to join me and the 47 original cosponsors in support of this resolution.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Concurrent Resolution 188 introduced by the gentleman from Florida (Mr. MILLER). I appreciate all the work he has done on the Committee on Armed Services on which we both serve. He has been a valiant supporter of our men and women in uniform, our veterans, and our national security.

The gentleman from Florida (Mr. MILLER) outlined well the terrible tragedy that occurred at Khobar Towers. This was really brought home to me several years ago when I had the honor of participating in a Purple Heart ceremony at the Little Rock Air Force Base, a C–130 base in my district, one of those things that all of us Members at some point get to see in their daily.

During this ceremony, previous Purple Heart winners were introduced, and several of them were survivors of Khobar Towers, and it really brought home for me that for many of us Americans, we hear these names, they sound exotic, they sound foreign, and yet for the families that are here with us today and the families of these men and women who died and were wounded, those names, those places, mean very much to them daily.

We are also reminded by the tragedy at Khobar Towers, the attack on Khobar Towers, of the other sacrifices that our men and women in uniform have made at places that are not that well known to many Americans.

We recall the attack on Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, at the U.S. military headquarters, November 13, 1995, in which we lost five servicemembers.

Then 2 years following the Khobar Towers attack, we had the attack against two of our embassies on August 7, 1998, one in Nairobi, Kenya, and the other in Tanzania. The two truck bombs killed 11 Americans, including three servicemembers, and hundreds of Kenyans and nearly a dozen Tanzanians.

Then we had the attack October 12, 2000, on the USS Cole and finally the attacks on the World Trade Center, the Pentagon and the plane that crashed in Pennsylvania.

So this is a very important reminder today of the sacrifice that our men and women in uniform are called on to make, but also the sacrifice that their family and friends and all of us make when we lose such fine, fine Americans.

Once again, I commend the gentleman from Florida (Mr. MILLER) for introducing this resolution, and I urge all Members to support it.

Mr. MICA. Mr. Speaker, Saturday, June 25th, marked 9 years since the tragic bombing of the Khobar Towers, the U.S. military housing facility in Saudi Arabia where 19 American servicemen were killed and hundreds wounded.
Four years ago, on June 21st, 2001, the United States indicted some of those who were responsible for those murders. While a few of these individuals have been identified, not one has been brought to trial yet. However long it takes, our country must continue to pursue and bring to justice all of those indicted and all those responsible for this murderous, terrorist act against our servicemen and our country. We must not rest until this has been accomplished.

Florida and our Nation lost too many innocent victims for this matter to be brushed aside.

Master Sergeant Michael G. Heiser, of Palm Coast, and Airman First Class Brian W. McVeigh, of DeBary, are 2 of the 19 heroes who left behind loved ones and families in my Congressional District. Their young lives were cut short when they made the ultimate sacrifice for our country. The United States must never rest until those responsible for these deaths are brought to justice.

We must ensure that these surviving relatives and all the others who lost their loved ones continue to feel the pain of great loss. We know that they cannot rest—until justice prevails.

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas, Mr. Speaker, I rise today in strong support of H. RES. 199, which recognizes the 19th anniversary of the terrorist bombing of the Khobar Towers United States military housing complex near Dhahran, Saudi Arabia.

On the evening of June 25th, 1996, a truck bomb exploded at Dhahran, Saudi Arabia. This terrorist attack killed 19 servicemen of the U.S. Air Force and wounded 300 other Americans. The bomb tore away an entire wall of a high-rise apartment building, part of the Khobar Towers complex housing U.S. Air Force personnel and their families assigned to nearby Dhahran Air Base.

Although their mission was to patrol the skies of southern Iraq and prevent Iraqi planes from threatening the peace of the Middle East, this terrorist attack was a painful demonstration and reminder of the risks Americans in uniform are faced with every day around the world.

Therefore, it is our duty to recognize the service and sacrifice of these men and women and to honor those who perished upon our fellow Americans. We ask that all Americans pause and pay tribute to those 19 brave airmen and airwomen who have given their lives so that others throughout the world may live in a free and democratic society. Together, as Americans, we offer our continued sympathies to the families affected by this tragedy. We know that because their loved ones could never be replaced; we will never forget the values they replaced; we will never forget the duty upon our fellow Americans.

Mr. MILLER of Florida, Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. Issa). The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Florida (Mr. MILLER) that the House suspend the rules and agree to the concurrent resolution, H. Con. Res. 188.

The SPEAKER. The Speaker pro tempore and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the concurrent resolution was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

EXPRESSION OF THE HOUSE REGARDING THE MASSACRE AT SREBRENICA IN JULY 1995

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and agree to the resolution (H. Res. 199) expressing the sense of the House regarding the massacre at Srebenica in July 1995, as amended.

The Clerk read as follows:

H. Res. 199

Whereas in July 1995 thousands of men and boys who had survived the war in the United Nations-designated “safe area” of Srebrenica in Bosnia and Herzegovina under the protection of the United Nations Protection Force (UNPROFOR) were killed by Bosnian Serb forces operating in that country;

Whereas beginning in April 1992, aggression and ethnic cleansing perpetrated by Bosnian Serb forces, while taking control of the surrounding territory, resulted in a massive influx of Bosniaks seeking protection in Srebrenica; whereas the international community, including the United Nations Security Council designated a “safe area” in Resolution 819 on April 16, 1993;

Whereas the UNPROFOR presence in Srebrenica consisted of a Dutch peacekeeping battalion, with representatives of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees, the International Committee of the Red Cross, and the humanitarian medical aid agency Médecins Sans Frontières (Doctors Without Borders) helping to provide humanitarian assistance to living in conditions of massive overcrowding, destitution, and disease;

Whereas Bosnian Serb forces blockaded the enclave early in 1995, depriving the entire population of humanitarian aid and outside communication and contact, and effectively isolating the Dutch peacekeeping battalion to deter aggression or otherwise respond effectively to a deteriorating situation;

Whereas beginning on July 6, 1995, Bosnian Serb forces attacked UNPROFOR outposts, seized control of the isolated enclave, held captured Dutch soldiers hostage and, after skirmishes with local defenders, ultimately took control of the town of Srebrenica on July 11, 1995;

Whereas an estimated one-third of the population of Srebrenica, including a relatively small number of soldiers, made a desperate attempt to pass through the lines of Bosnian Serb forces to the relative safety of Bosnian-held territory, but many were killed by patrols and ambushes;

Whereas the remaining population sought protection with the Dutch peacekeeping battalion and, once again, were víctima of aggression by Serb forces, in violation of the 1995 Dayton Peace Agreement which included the Dutch in their protection; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the concurrent resolution was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD — HOUSE

H5209

Mr. MILLER of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. Miller. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.
Resolved, That it is the sense of the House of Representatives that—

(1) the thousands of innocent people executed at Srebrenica in Bosnia and Herzegovina in July 1995, along with all individuals who were victimized during the conflict and genocide in Bosnia and Herzegovina from 1992 to 1995, should be solemnly remembered and honored;

(2) the policies of aggression and ethnic cleansing as implemented by Serb forces in Bosnia and Herzegovina from 1992 to 1995 meet the terms defining the crime of genocide in Article 2 of the Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of the Crime of Genocide;

(3) foreign nationals, including United States citizens, who have risked and in some cases lost their lives in Bosnia and Herzegovina while working toward peace should be solemnly remembered and honored;

(4) the United Nations and its member states should accept their share of responsibility for allowing the Srebrenica massacre and genocide in 1995 in Bosnia and Herzegovina from 1992 to 1995 by failing to take sufficient, decisive, and timely action, and the United Nations and its member states should constantly seek to ensure that this failure is not repeated in future crises and conflicts;

(5) it is in the national interest of the United States that those individuals who are responsible for crimes, genocide, crimes against humanity, and grave breaches of the 1949 Geneva Conventions, committed in Bosnia and Herzegovina, should be held accountable for their actions;

(6) all persons indicted by the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia (ICTY) should be apprehended and tried at the Hague without further delay, and all countries should meet their obligations to cooperate fully with the ICTY at all times; and

(7) the United States should continue to support the independence and territorial integrity of Bosnia and Herzegovina, peace and stability in southeastern Europe as a whole, and the right of all people living in the region, regardless of national, racial, ethnic or religious background, to return to their homes and enjoy the benefits of democratic institutions, the rule of law, and economic opportunity, as well as to know the fate of missing relatives and friends.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. SMITH) and the gentleman from California (Mr. LANTOS) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. SMITH).

PHOLOGUE

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on H. Res. 199, the resolution under consideration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from New Jersey?

There was no objection.

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, in consideration of H. Res. 199, today the House of Representatives brings honor to the men, women and children of Srebrenica in Bosnia-Herzegovina. In a little over 2 weeks, it will have been 10 years since the massacre of approximately 8,000 men and boys from that small town.

Mr. Speaker, renewed attention is focused on this event in light of the recently released video showing members of the Serb paramilitary group, the Scorpions, executing young Bosnian men from Srebrenica. Many Members of the House were fortunate enough to view this video, including an interview of a woman who never knew what actually happened to her young son at Srebrenica in July 1995 until she saw the footage on television that he was among those executed. As we pass this resolution, we are expressing solidarity with the thousands of women like her, and others, who a decade ago witnessed something so evil that it defies comprehension.

There are four basic motivations. Mr. Speaker, for passing this resolution today. First, there are those who, despite being indicted for genocide, continue to evade justice. Second, some believe that it is safe to leave the perpetrators to roam free knowing that the atrocity even occurred or they contend it was something other than genocide. Third, the international community must learn from its failure to stop slaughter from taking place in a declared safe area and let us all remember that Srebrenica was called a safe haven, especially as we look at similar situations around the globe. Finally, 10 years after Srebrenica, Srebrenica survivors, including many who came to this country as refugees and are now American citizens, still feel the excruciating pain of losing so many of their innocent loved ones.

Mr. Speaker, I want to stress that the resolution notes the direct support that came from the Serbian regime of Slobodan Milosevic and its followers. This is no small circle of Milosevic henchmen, as some in Belgrade have claimed. We are referring to an entire regime, albeit an undemocratic one, and not just a few individuals in positions of authority. Moreover, followers of the regime existed in the military, the police and other state institutions, and when it appeared that he was succeeding in a conflict against neighboring peoples, Milosevic actually garnered popular support.

Milosevic has rightfully been in The Hague, as we all know, Mr. Speaker, since 2001, but why have others like Radovan Karadzic and Ratko Mladic remained at large? Why until recently, we are not referring to those in Serbia, has it been so difficult for the Hague to make an arrest? Why was Radovan Karadzic allowed to stay there for a number of years after everything was all right and that the Serbs in the village of Potocari, 6 kilometers north of Srebrenica on 13 July 1995. They have never been seen since. The Dutch peacekeepers threw my family out of the camp right in front of my eyes. The people, especially the men and boys who were inside the camp, didn’t want to leave the relative safety of it.

It goes on to say, “The Dutch refused to tell the refugees inside the camp what was going on with the people outside.” He says, “They lied, saying that everything was all right and that the people from inside the camp were also going to be evacuated to the federation territory. The Dutch lied to the refugees inside the camp.”

The Dutch knew that the men and boys outside the camp were being separated from the women and children and that some of them were even killed right on the spot. The Dutch watched the Serbs take away and kill civilians. They did nothing to prevent it.”

Mr. Speaker, this resolution remembers those 7-8,000 men and boys who were slaughtered in Srebrenica, and it says in a collective voice of the House of Representatives, Democrats and Republicans alike, that we care, we care deeply. We are sorrowful for those who lost their lives, and hopefully never again.

I will insert the Chronicle of Genocide in the Record at this point.

CHRONICLE OF GENOCIDE

PROLOGUE

The town of Srebrenica is located in eastern Bosnia’s Drina River Valley, about 15 kilometers from the Serbian border. In 1991, the town was home to 37,000 inhabitants, including roughly 27,000 Bosnian Muslims (Bosniaks) and 9,000 Serbs. Prior to the outbreak of Yugoslavia’s civil war, members of Srebrenica’s different ethnic groups lived together for decades without major conflict.

After the end of the Cold War, Srebrenica had its first encounter with conflict in April 1992. BosnianSerb paramilitary forces captured control of the city for several weeks. One month later, Srebrenica was recaptured by Bosnian Muslim fighters from the Army of Republika Srpska and Bosnian Muslim forces had succeeded in uniting Srebrenica with the neighboring town of Zepa and increasing the size of the territory under their control to about four kilometers. However, the enclave remained isolated from the main Army of Bosnia and Herzegovina and strategically vulnerable to advancing Serb forces.

In January 1993, Bosnian Serb troops (which logistically and financially were not entirely independent from and were supported by Serbian military and police forces) from the self-proclaimed Republika Srpska launched an offensive to retake the Muslim-controlled areas around Srebrenica. After months of fighting, the villages of Konjević Polje and Čeręska were captured, severing the connection between Srebrenica and Zepa and reducing the Srebrenica area to 150 square kilometers. Bosnians from neighboring areas streamed into the town of Srebrenica, increasing the population to as many as 60,000 people.
June 27, 2005

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD — HOUSE
H5211

When the Commander of the U.N. Protection Force (UNPROFOR), French General Philippe Morillon, visited Srebrenica in March, he found an oversized city beset by siege conditions. The Bosnian Serb troops had destroyed the town’s water supply and the population was running short on food, medicine, and other necessities. Before his departure, General Morillon promised residents that Srebrenica was under U.N. protection and that he would never abandon the city’s inhabitants.

On April 16, 1993, the U.N. Security Council passed a resolution declaring that “all parties to the conflict surrounding Srebrenica should not engage in activities that are not consistent with the decoding of the enclave and the safe area of Bratunac.”

The first group of UNPROFOR soldiers arrived in Srebrenica on April 18, 1993 and fresh Bosnian Serb forces were reaching the city. In March and April, Bosnian Muslim civilians began to flee from Srebrenica and residents fled toward the neighboring city of Bratunac. General Ratko Mladić chairs the meeting, and the two sides discuss the mounting refugee crisis.

Around 10:00 p.m.: In Srebrenica, military leaders of the Army of Bosnia and Herzegovina and local civilians decide to abandon the city’s inhabitants. General Ratko Mladić and other VRS officers enter Srebrenica.

EPILOGUE

Evidence presented at The Hague in the trial of Bosnian Serb General Ratko Mladić, the highest political and military leader of the Bosnian Serbs, was indicted by the International Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia (ICTY) found “beyond any reasonable doubt that a crime of genocide was committed in Srebrenica.”

Immediately after the massacre, Republika Srpska President Radovan Karadžić and VRS Chief Ratko Mladić, the political and military leaders of the Bosnian Serbs, surrendered to the Tribunal for their roles in the Srebrenica genocide. In October 1995, Bosnian Serb forces engaged in a concerted effort to conceal the mass execution of Bosnian Muslims in Srebrenica, including by exhuming mass graves, turning over the ground, and reburying human remains in smaller, remote grave sites.
targeted for extinction the forty thousand Bosnian Muslims living in Srebrenica, a group which was emblematic of the Bosnian Muslims in general. They stripped all the males between the ages of 12 and 77 and took 30,000 of them to Srebrenica. The Bosnian Serb forces were aware, when they embarked on this genocidal venture, that the harm they caused would continue to plague the Bosnian Muslims. The Appeals Chamber states unequivocally that the law condemns, in appropriate terms, the deep and lasting injury inflicted, and calls the massacre at Srebrenica by its proper name: genocide. Those responsible will bear this stigma, and it will serve as a warning to those who may in future contemplate the commission of such a heinous act.

To date, several thousand bodies and parts of bodies from victims of the genocide have been exhumed from mass graves. So far, 1,327 of these bodies have been identified and buried in the Memorial Centre in Potocari near Srebrenica. Of the 27,000 Bosnian Muslims who inhabited Srebrenica before the war, only a few hundred have returned to live in the city.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of our time.

Mr. LANTOS. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume, and base my strong support of this resolution on the Subcommittee on Europe and Emerging Threats, to which it was also referred. I urge all of my colleagues to do so.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time.

As we consider this resolution, I want to thank those who have worked hard to craft the text that meets our various concerns and reflects the realities of Srebrenica as we know them. In particular, I want to thank the Congress of North American Bosniaks and its members for stressing the need for the United States Congress to address this issue at this time, not only for their sake but for the sake of humanity.

I also want to thank the Coalition for International Justice for providing us with background on who was indicted for crimes in Srebrenica by the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia at the Hague, as well as their current status.

Finally, I want to thank the chairman of the International Relations Committee, the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. HYDE), and especially the gentleman from California (Mr. LANTOS), who is one of the cosponsors of this resolution and a great friend of human rights; and also for our friends on the Subcommittee on Europe and Emerging Threats, to which it was also referred, for working with us on helping to craft this regulation. And to the 39 cosponsors, including the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. CARDIN), who is the ranking member on the Commission on Security and Cooperation in Europe, which I chair in the House.

Let me say, finally, Mr. Speaker, that Article 2 of the Genocide Convention, quoted in the text of this resolution, defines genocide as, “Any of the following acts committed with intent to destroy, in whole or in part, a national, ethnical, racial, or religious group, or a class of persons in such a group, with intent to render the said group incapable of survival: A, killing members of the group; B, causing serious bodily or mental harm to members of the group; C, deliberately inflicting on the group conditions of life calculated to bring about its physical destruction in whole or in part; E, forcibly transferring children of the group to another group.”

Genocide is defined as the commission of acts with that intention, whether or not the acts succeed or are completed. If accomplished, it is too late to prevent it.

When I look at this definition, Mr. Speaker, and then hear what happened in Srebrenica 10 years ago, I, and I know others, can only agree with the Appeals Chamber at the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia, which confirmed in April 2004 that the crime of summarily executing almost 8,000 men and boys at Srebrenica alone meets the legal definition of genocide.

The Appeals Chamber, in which an American is the presiding judge, concluded in its decision appealing a conviction that “the prevention is also in the title of the Genocide Convention. While not specifying what to be done or obligating countries to do anything specific, clearly genocides must be defined as something taking place and not as something necessarily accomplished. If accomplished, it is too late to prevent it.

The court got it right, Mr. Speaker. This resolution gets it right.

And, finally, I just want to thank the gentleman to my left, Bob Hand, who has been with the Commission on Security and Cooperation in Europe and Emerging Threats, to which it was also referred, for his work and his attention to this issue at this time.

I am deeply grateful for his work as well. And Dan Freeman, our expert parliamentarian, to my rear, I want to thank him for his work as well. And Dan Freeman, our expert parliamentarian, to my rear, I want to thank him for his work as well.

Mr. CARDIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of this resolution and urge my colleagues to vote for its passage.
Article 2 of the Genocide Convention, quoted in the text of this resolution, defines genocide as “any of the following acts committed with intent to destroy, in whole or in part, a national, ethnical, racial or religious group, such as: (a) killing members of the group; (b) causing serious bodily or mental harm to members of the group; (c) deliberately inflicting on the group conditions of life calculated to bring about its physical destruction in whole or in part; (d) imposing measures intended to prevent births within the group; (e) forcibly transferring children of the group to another group”. Genocide is defined as the commission of acts with that intention whether or not the acts succeed or are completed. The word “prevention” is also in the title of the Genocide Convention. While not specifying what could be done or obligating countries to do any specific thing, clearly genocide must be defined as something taking place and not as something necessarily accomplished. If accomplished, it is too late to prevent it.

When I look at this definition and then hear what has happened in Srebrenica 10 years ago, I can only agree with the Appeals Chamber at the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia, which confirmed in April 2004 that the crime of summarily executing almost 8,000 men and boys at Srebrenica alone meets the legal definition of genocide. The Appeals Chamber, an American judge and a Dutch judge, who were presiding judges, concluded in a decision appealing a conviction that “the law must not shy away from referring to the crime committed by its proper name . . . . The Appeals Chamber states unequivocally that the law condemns, in appropriate contexts, the deep and lasting injury inflicted, and calls the massacre at Srebrenica by its proper name: genocide. Those responsible will bear this stigma, and it will serve as a warning to those who may in the future contemplate the commission of such a heinous act.”

Twenty-three people have been indicted for genocide by the Hague. Regardless of individual guilt or innocence, the acceptance of the legitimacy of the charges is a recognition that genocide occurred. Indeed, if it is accepted that what happened in Srebrenica was genocide, we must consider the 20–30,000 non-Serbs killed in the Prijedor region, which gets less attention mainly because it took place over a 6-month period rather than a week, especially given that the crime was committed perhaps by some of the same people and certainly under the same command. Similarly, we must consider the more than 10,000 killed and 50,000 wounded by the sniper fire and an average of over 300 shells per day fired into the city Sarajevo in the more than 3-year siege of that city that was committed by the authorities of some of the same people and certainly under the same command. We must consider what happened in Foča and Brcko. When we add all these and other places together, we must conclude that genocide occurred.

This, of course, does not mean that Serbs were not also victimized, nor does it mean that all Serbs are somehow guilty for what has been done in their name. But today, it is entirely appropriate that we focus on what happened in Srebrenica, and to put Srebrenica in the context of the larger Bosnian conflict. It is also appropriate to urge the authorities in Belgrade, who have made considerable progress this year, to finally complete their cooperation with the tribunal. Serbia must transfer Ratko Mladic and other at-large indictees to the Hague immediately, so that this issue no longer holds Serbia back from taking on a more prominent role in Europe.

I urge my colleagues to support the passage of this important resolution. Mr. HOYER strongly supports this important Resolution expressing the sense of the House of Representatives regarding the massacre at Srebrenica in July 1995.

This summer is the 30th anniversary of the signing of the Helsinki Final Act, which established principles to be followed by participants states that include respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms. The Helsinki Final Act and the conference it established have since been institutionalized in the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe, or OSCE. This multilateral diplomatic effort was taken seriously by both Republican and Democratic Administrations over the years, and it helped tremendously in ending the Cold War division of Europe and in giving millions upon millions of people freedom from communism across Europe.

Those of us who have had the privilege to serve on the U.S. Helsinki Commission can recall the powerful impact the Helsinki Final Act had, as well as the hard work and sacrifice that helped bring its ideals so much closer to reality. Some of us, indeed, will be commemorating Helsinki’s 30th anniversary in about 1 week when the Organization’s Parliamentary Assembly convenes here in Washington.

One cannot honestly and credibly assess the accuracy of the Srebrenica massacre, however, without taking note of the gravest single violation of its provisions in those three decades. Srebrenica undoubtedly is that single greatest violation. Eight thousand men and boys, maybe more, were executed and thrown into mass graves. Their bodies continue to be exhumed and identified to this day. The surviving victims continue to feel the pain from the loss of their loved ones.

This tragedy is compounded by the truly horrifying fact that it could have been prevented. Indeed, it should have been prevented. ‘Srebrenica’ was designated by the United Nations as a “safe area.” Attacks upon it were not to be tolerated. It was protected by U.N. peacekeepers. Yet, for months Serb forces prevented humanitarian convoys from entering Srebrenica; even the Dutch peacekeeping contingent was rendered ineffective by its isolation. When the Serb forces attacked, the air strikes necessary to repel them never came. The United Nations and its member states were not at all helpless, but they were indecisive and reckless in the face of this nightmare.

Many of us in the Congress at the time appealed for decisive action. Even after documenting the policy of ethnic cleansing in Bosnia since 1992, we admittedly did not know the scale and horrific nature of the acts to follow, but we certainly knew something evil was about to occur in Srebrenica. And it did occur, due to the simple fact that it was allowed to occur.

We can, if we choose, find some silver linings in that experience. For the first time since World War II, individuals have been held to account for their crimes, including genocide, before an international tribunal. NATO operated “out of area,” setting a stage for broadening the scope of the alliance to support the interests of its members in Afghanistan and elsewhere. Within months of Srebrenica, the international community under U.S. leadership at least restored a peace to Bosnia that, despite problems, has lasted to this day.

It is, however, with deep regret that such advances in international law and justice have come at such a heavy price to so many innocent people. It is a price which Srebrenica survivors continue to pay as Ratko Mladic and Radovan Karadzic remain at large and as so many people continue to deny the massacre even took place. If, as least, the international community can do to ease their pain is to ensure that the realities of Srebrenica are acknowledged as genocide, to vow that they never happen again, and this time to mean it.

I therefore call upon my colleagues to support this important resolution.

Mr. BURTON of Indiana. Mr. Speaker, as Chairman of the Congressional Serbian Caucus, and a long-time champion of human rights, I was pleased to work with Chairman Smith to bring to the House, immediately, so that this issue never be condoned, and should never be accepted by the international community. It was a truly horrifying experience and harrowing for all those involved, from those directly participating in the slaughter, to those who sat idly by while the killing took place. Now, almost 10 years later, it is only appropriate for this House to pause and remember the victims of this horrendous crime, and to vow that such atrocities will never happen again.

But, this Resolution misses the mark by singling out only one group for condemnation. This House, as well as the leaders of the Balkans, should speak unequivocally and with one voice to condemn all the atrocities that occurred during the Balkan Wars of the 1990s on all sides; whether committed by Serb, Croat or Bosnian. Furthermore, this House should encourage all parties in the region to renew their commitments to fully comply with all international treaties and regulations, such as the International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia, by handing over all outstanding war criminals. For only then can the region, as a whole, move forward to a more peaceful, stable, and democratic Trans-Atlantic future, with eventual membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the European Union.

Once again, I commend my colleague, Chairman Smith for bringing this issue before the House. I wish we had been able to strike an understanding on some of the broader issues but I still believe that House Resolution 199 has great merit and I vote “aye.”

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. ISSA). The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. SMITH) that the House suspend the rules and agree to the resolution, H. Res. 199, as amended.

The question was taken.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. In the opinion of the Chair, two-thirds of URGING ALBANIA TO ENSURE ELECTIONS TO BE HELD ON JULY 3, 2005, ARE IN ACCORDANCE WITH INTERNATIONAL STANDARDS FOR FREE AND FAIR ELECTIONS

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and agree to the concurrent resolution (H. Con. Res. 155) urging the Government of the Republic of Albania to ensure that the parliamentary elections to be held on July 3, 2005, are conducted in accordance with international standards for free and fair elections.

The Clerk read as follows:

H. CON. RES. 155

Whereas the United States maintains strong and friendly relations with the Republic of Albania and appreciates the ongoing support of the people of Albania;

Whereas the President of Albania has called for elections to Albania’s parliament, known as the People’s Assembly, to be held on July 3, 2005;

Whereas Albania is one of 55 participating States in the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe (OSCE), all of which have adopted the 1990 Copenhagen Document containing specific commitments relating to the conduct of elections;

Whereas these commitments, which encourage transparency, balance, and impartiality in an election process, have become the standards by which observers determine whether elections have been conducted freely and fairly;

Whereas, though improvements over time have been noted, the five multiparty parliamentary elections held in Albania between 1991 and 2001, as well as elections for local offices held between and after those years, have fall short of international standards for free and fair elections contained in the Copenhagen Document to varying degrees, according to OSCE and other observers;

Whereas with OSCE and other international assistance, the Government of Albania has improved the country’s electoral and civic institutions, including the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO); and

Whereas the new Albanian government will need to take the next steps to full Euro-Atlantic integration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. SMITH) and the gentleman from California (Mr. LANTOS) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. SMITH).

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, 14 years ago, Albania was just emerging from decades of brutal isolation from Europe when they held their first genuinely contested elections in 1991. Not surprisingly, they fell short of the standards for free and fair elections as defined by the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe, or OSCE, as did subsequent elections for parliament and local government. The United States and other friends of Albania, however, remained engaged with the Albanian people throughout their turbulent transition.

Today, Albania is at the point where the country can actually hold free and fair elections, something the citizens of that country deserve. Parliamentary elections have been scheduled, as Members of this House know, for July 3, and the campaign period is well underway. Staff in the U.S. Helsinki Commission, which I co-chair, will be serving on the international observer mission for Albania’s elections.

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), That Congress—

(1) welcomes the opportunity for the Republic of Albania to demonstrate its willingness and preparedness to take the next steps in European and Euro-Atlantic integration by holding parliamentary elections on July 3, 2005, that meet the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe (OSCE) standards for free and fair elections as defined in the 1990 Copenhagen Document;

(2) firmly believes that the citizens of Albania, like all people, should be able to choose their own representatives in parliament and hold free and fair elections, and to hold these representatives accountable through elections at reasonable intervals;

(3) supports commitments by Albanian political parties to adhere to a basic code of conduct for campaigning and urges such parties and all election officials in Albania to adhere to laws relating to the elections, and to conduct their activities in an impartial and transparent manner, by allowing international and domestic observers to have unobstructed access to all aspects of the election process, including public campaign events, candidates, news media, voting, and post-election tabulation of results and procurement of election complaints;

(4) supports assistance by the United States to help the people of Albania establish a fully free and open democratic system, a prosperous and competitive market economy, and a rightful place in European and Euro-Atlantic institutions, including the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO); and

(5) encourages the President to communicate to the Government of Albania, to all political parties and candidates, and to the people of Albania the high importance attached by the Government of the United States to this parliamentary election as a central factor in determining the future relationship between the United States and Albania.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. SMITH) and the gentleman from California (Mr. LANTOS) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. SMITH).

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, it was 15 years ago this month that I had the privilege of being the first American Government official to set foot in Albania after a 44-year hiatus. At that time, Albania was taking its first halting steps to end a century of Communist dictatorship and self-imposed international isolation.

Wherever I traveled throughout the country, from formal meetings with
I thank the gentleman from California (Mr. LANTOS) for this partnership resolution, as well as the gentleman from New York (Mr. ENGEL) and the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. WOLF), and others. We had 27 cosponsors of this resolution.

Last July in the Commission on Security Cooperation in Europe, we held a hearing in Albania. We heard from a number of important and prominent witnesses, including representatives of MJATP! which is the youth organization that is doing some important pioneering and important work in Albania today. I want to thank them for their work as well.

Mr. ENGEL. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H. Con. Res. 155, urging Albania to hold its July 3 parliamentary elections in accordance with international standards. I would also like to thank the lead sponsor, Chris SMITH, for his work on this legislation. These elections are not only important as Albania works to develop its democratic system, but also will set the tone for the Balkan nation in the months and years ahead.

The United States and Albania have strong ties that go well beyond government relations. For that reason, we believe it is very important to support the people of Albania and their right to choose their elected representatives freely and fairly.

In the 15 years since Albania's brutal communist dictatorship came to an end, the country has struggled in its transition. While some elections have been problematic, there have also been improvements over time, and now the country has a real chance to achieve the same international election standards that the United States, Canada, and all of Europe adopted in 1990. Between now and election day, the real issue is whether the authorities, political parties and other stakeholders have the will to abide by the laws, regulations and a code of conduct. The active U.S. congressional interest expressed in this resolution can encourage all involved to do the right thing.

A good election process will have enormous benefits for Albania. It will enable the next government to take stronger economic recovery. Internationally, it will enable Albania to take the next steps to joining NATO and the European Union. Supporting Albanian elections today will only strengthen our relations in the future.

I will be in Albania for the July 3rd elections and will lead a National Albanian American Congressional delegation which will monitor that the elections are conducted in accordance with international standards. This resolution will help make the case for a good election.

As the lead Democratic sponsor of this resolution, I urge my colleagues to support H. Con. Res. 155.

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in strong support of this resolution urging the Government of the Republic of Albania to ensure that the parliamentary elections to be held on July 3, 2005, are conducted in accordance with international standards for free and fair elections. This is an important piece of legislation that will notify the people of Albania that the United States is dedicated to safe, free, and open democracy in Albania and the region. It will let the people of Albania know that we are at their side as they strive for a more free and open society.

As the nation of Albania approaches its July 3rd parliamentary elections we must stand in support of free, fair, and transparent elections. As a member of the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe and a signatory of the 1990 Copenhagen Document containing specific commitments relating to the conduct of elections, Albania must maintain its commitment to these democratic ideals. Indeed, the Copenhagen Document, which encourages transparency, balance, and impartiality in the election process, is so sound that it has become the standard by which elections are judged.

Although Albanian democracy has strengthened over the past several years, it has nonetheless failed to live up to the standards of the Copenhagen Document. Over the past 10 years, Albanian elections have not been as free, fair, and open as the Albanian people deserve. As nations around Europe and the world have made considerable strides towards democracy, meeting the standards in the Copenhagen Document for free and fair elections is absolutely essential to Albania's desired integration into Euro-Atlantic institutions, including membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, NATO. Additionally, transparent democratic elections will inexorably lead to a more free and open society and government able to combat Albania's problems with organized crime.

The Republic of Albania must demonstrate its commitment to the principles of free, fair and open elections. It must take the next steps towards strong and stable democracy. This can only be achieved when the people of Albania choose their own representatives in parliament in free and fair elections. The Albanian government, political parties, and politicians must conduct this election in adherence to the laws that regulate all free and fair elections; transparency, free press, and unfettered access to electoral procedures by international and domestic observers.

I commend all the Albanian political parties for their commitment to adhere to campaign and election laws. If Albania make considerable strides towards democracy, meeting the standards in the Copenhagen Document it must conduct elections that meet international standards. Failure to meet these requirements could have disastrous effects. Europe and the United States stand together in agreement with all free and fair elections; transparency, free press, and unfettered access to electoral procedures by international and domestic observers.

I commend all the Albanian political parties for their commitment to adhere to campaign and election laws. If Albania make considerable strides towards democracy, meeting the standards in the Copenhagen Document it must conduct elections that meet international standards. Failure to meet these requirements could have disastrous effects. Europe and the United States stand together in agreement with all free and fair elections; transparency, free press, and unfettered access to electoral procedures by international and domestic observers.

I commend all the Albanian political parties for their commitment to adhere to campaign and election laws. If Albania make considerable strides towards democracy, meeting the standards in the Copenhagen Document it must conduct elections that meet international standards. Failure to meet these requirements could have disastrous effects. Europe and the United States stand together in agreement with all free and fair elections; transparency, free press, and unfettered access to electoral procedures by international and domestic observers.
The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX and the Chair’s prior announcement, further proceedings on this motion will be postponed.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 12(a) of rule 1, the Chair declares the House in recess until approximately 6:30 p.m. today.

Accordingly (at 4 o’clock and 35 minutes p.m.), the House stood in recess until approximately 6:30 p.m.

APPOINTMENT OF MEMBERS TO BRITISH-AMERICAN INTERPARLIAMENTARY GROUP

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to 22 U.S.C. 2761, and the order of the House of January 4, 2005, the Chair announces the Speaker’s appointment of the following Members of the House to the British-American Interparliamentary Group:

Mr. PETRI, Wisconsin, Chairman.
Mr. BOOZMAN, Arkansas, Vice Chairman.

ANNUAL APPOINTMENT OF MEMBERS TO BRITISH-AMERICAN INTERPARLIAMENTARY GROUP

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX, proceedings will resume on motions to suspend the rules previously postponed.

Votes will be taken in the following order:
H. Res. 199, by the yeas and nays;
H. Con. Res. 155, by the yeas and nays.

Proceedings on H. Res. 458 will resume on a later day.
Mrs. NAPOLITANO changed her vote from “nay” to “yea.”

So (two thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the resolution, as amended, was agreed to.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

Stated for:
Mr. FILNER. Mr. Speaker, on rollover No. 322, on H. Res. 199, I was in the Congressional District on official business. Had I been present, I would have voted “yea.”

URGING ALABAMA TO ENSURE ELECTIONS TO BE HELD ON JULY 3, 2005, ARE IN ACCORDANCE WITH INTERNATIONAL STANDARDS FOR FREE AND FAIR ELECTIONS

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. PEARCE). The pending business is the question of suspending the rules and agreeing to the concurrent resolution, H. Con. Res. 155.

The Clerk read the title of the concurrent resolution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. SMITH) that the House suspend the rules and agree to the concurrent resolution, H. Con. Res. 155, on which the yeas and nays are ordered.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yeas 369, nays 1, not voting 63, as follows:

[Roll No. 323]

YEAS—369

Aackerman
Ackerman
Adcohn
Alexander
Andrews
Avery
Barrett
Barlett
Barrett
Bass
Bean
Beaupre
Becerra
Berkeley
Berman
Berry
Biggers
Bilirakis
Bishop (GA)
Bishop (UT)
Blackburn
Blumenauer
Blum
Bolton
Bone
Booth (NY)
Boehlert
Boehlert (PA)
Brown
Brown, Corrine
Burton (IN) Burton (WI)
Cain
Catlett
Caulfield
Cassidy
Catlett
Cavanagh
Cecil
Cedzow
Cecil
Cerone
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil
Cecil

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yeas 369, nays 1, not voting 63, as follows:
Mr. FILNER. Mr. Speaker, on rollcall No. 323, on H. Con. Res. 155, I was in my Congressional District on official business. Had I been present, I would have voted “yea.”

PERSONAL EXPLANATION
Ms. MATSUI. Mr. Speaker, I was absent on Monday, June 27th and missed the rollcall votes ordered. Had I been present, I would have voted as noted below:

Rollcall vote 322: “yea”; rollcall vote 323: “yea.”

PERSONAL EXPLANATION
Mr. BURTON of Indiana. Mr. Speaker, due to illness I was regretfully delayed in my return to Washington, DC, and therefore unable to be on the House floor for rollcall votes 322 and 323. Had I been here I would have voted “yea” for rollcall vote 323, and “yea” with reservation for rollcall vote 322 on House Resolution 199, which expresses the sense of the House of Representatives regarding the massacre at Srebrenica in July 1995.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION
Ms. KILPATRICK of Michigan. Mr. Speaker, personal business prevents me from being present for legislative business scheduled for today, Monday, June 27, 2005. Had I been present, I would have voted “yea” on H. Res. 199, a resolution expressing the sense of the House regarding the massacre at Srebrenica in July 1995 (Rollcall No. 322); and “yea” on H. Con. Res. 155, a resolution urging the Government of the Republic of Albania to ensure that the parliamentary elections to be held on July 3, 2005, are conducted in accordance with international standards for free and fair elections (Rollcall No. 323).

PERSONAL EXPLANATION
Mr. OXLEY. Mr. Speaker, I was unavoidably absent from the House floor during rollcall votes on H. Res. 199 (Expressing the sense of the United States House of Representatives regarding the massacre at Srebrenica in July 1995) and H. Con. Res. 155 (Urging the Government of the Republic of Albania to ensure that the parliamentary elections to be held July 3, 2005, are conducted in accordance with international standards for free and fair elections). I was giving a presentation on the 179th Anniversary of the National Guard in Mansfield, OH at the Base Readjustment and Closure Commission hearing in Buffalo, New York. Had I been present for the votes I would have voted “yea” for both measures.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION
Mr. GUTIERREZ. Mr. Speaker, I was unavoidably absent from this Chamber today. I would like the RECORD to show that, had I been present, I would have voted “yea” on rollcall votes 322 and 323.

PRIVATE PROPERTY RIGHTS
(Mr. PRICE of Georgia asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. PRICE of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, the fifth amendment to the Constitution states that “No person shall be deprived of life, liberty, or property without due process of law, nor shall private property be taken for public use without just compensation.” However, that is what true religious freedom and liberty are all about.

That is why I am glad to be an American and believe in the first amendment. I salute the Reverend Billy Graham, a great American and a great patriot.

SHEDDING LIGHT ON THE SUPREME COURT
(Mr. GOHMERT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. GOHMERT. Mr. Speaker, with the Supreme Court’s decision regarding the Ten Commandments, they basically ruled as they had inferred, during oral arguments, as I witnessed them personally, in their chamber. They made fairly clear through their opinion that the only way the Ten Commandments are supposed to be displayed is if it is done in such a way as to render them completely meaningless.

Now, they just seem to have forgotten the fact that when the Founders and writers of the Constitution were alive, Old Testament scriptures, including the Ten Commandments, were frequently cited as a basis for laws being passed. Now, the majority has come wise in their own eyes to the detriment of the country, but it is only when the Ten Commandments are rendered completely meaningless that you can come out with a decision like we had the last 2 weeks where a city is allowed to take someone’s property just because they think somebody may build a bigger, better, more expensive housing project that they can get a bigger tax.

We need to shed some light in the windowless ivory tower in which these decisions have been made.
SPECIAL ORDERS

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. PEARCE). Under the Speaker's announced policy of January 4, 2005, and under a previous order of the House, the following Members will be recognized for 5 minutes each.

SAFER VEHICLES FOR SOLDIERS: A TALE OF DELAYS AND GLITCHES

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Oregon (Mr. DeFAZIO) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. DeFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, I am going to read a bit, which I do not usually do on the floor; from yesterday's New York Times front page, because I think it is so extraordinary and it goes so much to the incompetence and the indifference of Donald Rumsfeld and others in this administration regarding what is going on in Iraq and the lack of protection for our troops.

"When Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld visited Iraq last year to tour the Abu Ghraib Prison camp, military officials did not rely on a government-issued Humvee to transport him safely on that mission; even an armored Humvee, that is my own little addition. Instead, they turned to Halliburton, the oil services contractor, which lent the Pentagon a rolling fortress of steel called the Rhino Runner."

Now, no wonder Secretary Rumsfeld goes to Iraq and says everything is going great. He is rolling around in an armored fortress of steel provided by his former employer. Well, I am sorry, the former employer of Vice President Cheney, Halliburton, riding around in something called a Rhino Runner, which is supposed to be able to withstand a thousand-pound bomb.

Now, our troops are out there, some of them in armored Humvees that cannot resist any bomb, bullets, or shrapnel; some of them are in armored Humvees which can resist between 4- and 8-pound bombs, but then there are other options out there.

Back to the New York Times: "State Department officials traveling in Iraq use armored vehicles that are built with V-shaped hulls to better deflect bullets and bombs. Members of Congress favor another model called the M117, which can endure 12-pound explosives and 50-caliber, armor-piercing rounds."

"Unlike the Humvee, the Pentagon's vehicle of choice for American troops, the others were designed from scratch to withstand attacks in battlefields like Iraq with no safe zones. Last fall, for instance, a Rhino traveling the treacherous airport road in Baghdad endured a bomb that left a 6-foot-wide crater. The passengers walked away unscathed. I have no doubt should I have been in that other vehicle, wrote an Army captain, 'the lone military passenger, 'the results would have been catastrophically different.'

"Yet more than 2 years into the war, efforts by United States military units to obtain large numbers of these stronger vehicles for soldiers have faltered, even as the Pentagon's program to armor Humvees continues to be plagued byelay's, an examination by The New York Times has found."

And then, the end of last week, we had the revelation about the extraordinary shortages for the Marines.

Mr. Speaker, I guess I should not be surprising to my friend the Secretary of Defense who predicted that our troops would be greeted with flowers and candies and sweets; and that the occupation would last, that we would be down to 30,000 troops within 2 months and would not be there longer than 5; that he has been two, four, six, or a hundred steps all the way along the way. But to still deny the reality, because he is riding around in an armored Rhino provided by Halliburton, of our troops, the bitter reality of them in unarmored Humvees, as many Marines still are, and we still hear from time to time of Army units that are out there in unarmored Humvees, although they claim they never go off base anymore; and then to hear that State Department personnel in a month may get superior vehicles that are not available to the regular troops, this is extraordinary.

More than 2 years into this war, and now this insurgency, and the Pentagon is focused on Star Wars and other fantasies; and the troops still lack basics, things for which we need no technological development. The technology exists, the manufacturers exist, but the will to purchase those vehicles to protect our troops does not exist in Secretary Rumsfeld's higher echelons of the organization.

But, again, he is riding around, he cannot even hear or see the explosions in the Rhino Runner. They probably have the music turned up loud and the AC is blasting away, and he does not have the slightest idea where he is. But the troops sure know where they are; they sure do.

Mr. Speaker, it is time for this embarrassment to end. He should have gone long ago, he should go now, and it is time to start providing the troops the basics they need to come home safe.

THE HIGH COST OF PRESCRIPTION DRUGS IN THE UNITED STATES

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Minnesota (Mr. Gutknecht) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. GUTKNECHT. Mr. Speaker, once again I rise to talk tonight about the unfairness of what Americans pay for prescription drugs compared to what consumers pay around the rest of the industrialized world.

"Norvasc, $19.31 in Germany, $54.83 in the United States. Zyrtec, $34.33 in Germany, $73.02. Prevacid, $55.22, $146.47. Zocor, $23.83 in Germany, $85.39 here. The list goes on. These are 10 of the most commonly prescribed brand drugs. The total in Germany, $455.57. The total here in the United States, more than double that, at $1,040.40. Americans pay 128 percent more for exactly the same drugs made in the same plants under the same FDA approval.

But many Members ask me, well, how did you become so involved in this issue? What made you so passionate? I would like to share that story of how I got involved in this issue. A number of years ago I had a town hall meeting and there were some seniors who came to the meetings and they told me about going up to Canada to buy their prescription drugs. And they said, well, can you believe it was one of those events where I heard but I did not really listen. And then at a subsequent meeting one of the seniors asked me a very tough question. She said, why are we treated like common criminals for going to Canada to save some dollars on our prescription drugs? Well, I did not have a very good answer.

And then a few months later something happened that had nothing to do with prescription drugs. The price of live hogs in the United States collapsed. The price of pigs dropped from about $37 per hundredweight down to about $7. It was one of the worst catastrophes for American pork producers since the Great Depression. And they did what many constituents do. They called their Congressman and said, can you do something about this? And I said, well, I do not know what I can do, but I did, they said, well, can you not somehow at least stop all these Canadian pigs from coming into our market, making our supply-demand situation even worse? Is not there something you can do about that, Congressman?

So I called the Secretary of Agriculture, I called the Secretary of Commerce, and I got essentially the same answer. They both said, well, that is called NAFTA. That is called free trade. We have open markets. And finally to the Secretary of Commerce I said, wait a second; you mean we have open borders when it comes to pork bellies but not when it comes to Prilosec? And he sort of laughed on the other end of the phone and said, well, I guess that is right. And I said, well, that does not sound right to me.

And so this little pilgrimage started there with the price of pigs. And there is something wrong with a system that protects the large pharmaceutical companies, but does nothing to protect our pork producers. And so I began to do research and realized how much more Americans pay.
Now, I do not want price controls. In fact, I do not want people buying their prescription drugs over the Internet. But I think it should be legal. What I really want is American pharmacists to have access to what pharmacists in Europe have. It is called parallel trade. Because that pharmacist in Frankfurt, Germany can go ahead and order his drugs from Sweden or Norway or France or Spain, wherever they can buy them cheapest.

You see, information was a President by the name of Ronald Reagan who said that markets are more powerful than armies. And it really is time that we use market pressures and market forces to help control the runaway prices of prescription drugs. I believe American consumers have a right to that. I believe American consumers have a right to world-class drugs at world-market prices. So I hope Members will join me in this great effort to make certain that we have a competitive market so that Americans can buy Zocor for $30 rather than $85. We are not asking for a free lunch. We can buy Zocor for $30 rather than $85.

Some of us do not like guns. I used to do skeet shooting. It was not my sport. We are post-9/11 now, and I think it is something that we should be taking into account.

Now, as I said, under the previous order of the House, the gentlewoman from New York (Mrs. McCarthy) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mrs. McCarthy. Mr. Speaker, many here in this Chamber, each and every one of us here on the Congress today, and make a difference, and each one of us are trying to make that difference.

I came to Congress to try and reduce gun violence in this Nation. And many people have heard me talk about this for close to 8½ years now. What I want to talk about tonight are three pieces of legislation that I have and why I feel they are so important, especially in the climate that we have.

We see that, and I think what we need to do is start looking at our gun laws that are here today and how we can make this country safer, certainly being part of our homeland security.

One of the bills that I think is probably extremely important is the NICS Improvement Act. Unfortunately, I had a tragedy back in my district going back 3 years ago, where a person came into one of our local churches and ended up shooting the priest and a parishioner. On further investigation, we found out that New York State actually had a record where he should not have been able to buy a gun. But being that they did not have that information to the NICS system, and we all know that a computer is only as good as the system that has the information in it.

Now, with that we did legislation, it actually passed here in the House by a voice vote, and I think it is important that we get that going again and get that improved.

And another reason why, many of us are experiencing high volumes of gangs in our community. And it was only a few months ago that some gangs that were caught by our local police, who did a great job, traced the guns that these young people had, and they were bought legally in Alabama. And I say that, legally. But, again, if they had tried to buy them in New York, they would have been in the system. They were in the system and basically they would not have been able to buy the gun if the NICS system had the correct information.

Right now, 25 States have entered less than 60 percent of the convictions of why some people should not be able to buy guns. Thirteen States do not even have the system. And in those States and restraints under the system are denied the right to buy a gun. The privacy issue is kept in place. Mainly, if you are denied on a gun, all does is come up rejected; it does not say for what area you were rejected. And I think it is important that we get this bill up on the system. This way we will be able to certainly prevent people that should not be able to buy guns, by law under the 1968 Gun Control Act, which is only now doing what is already on the books. We had terrific bipartisan support in the 107th Congress, and I think it is something that we should be doing to move around.

The gun show loophole. I know we have had our battles here on the gun show loophole, but even information again for post, 9/11, the FBI has found that over 40 of the terrorist watch list have gone into gun shows and been able to buy AK–47s and other guns.

Now, it is common sense that those that go buy a gun, and 13 States have already passed legislation, it has not stopped anyone from buying a gun. It has not closed down any gun shows, because I know that many of our friends in the Midwest, this is a family weekend. They go out and spend a day there and that is fine. I do not have a problem with that. But I think the major problem is, if you are going to buy a gun, you need to go through a background check. I think that is the basic law that we could do. The other thing that really perturbs me, and by the way this actually goes into the privacy, if you are going to buy a gun, you need to go through a background check. I think that is the basic law that we could do.

Another important one that is up to me. Yet, I know there are many people around this Nation that like to go hunting. And I understand that, but if you are going to hunt, you have to have your hunting license. And some of these hunting licenses that I have seen have not closed down any gun shows.

Some of us do not like guns. I used to do skeet shooting. It was not my sport. We are post-9/11 now, and I think it is something that we should be taking into account.

Now, I do not want price controls. In fact, I do not want people buying their prescription drugs over the Internet. But I think it should be legal. What I really want is American pharmacists to have access to what pharmacists in Europe have. It is called parallel trade. Because that pharmacist in Frankfurt, Germany can go ahead and order his drugs from Sweden or Norway or France or Spain, wherever they can buy them cheapest.

You see, information was a President by the name of Ronald Reagan who said that markets are more powerful than armies. And it really is time that we use market pressures and market forces to help control the runaway prices of prescription drugs. I believe American consumers have a right to that. I believe American consumers have a right to world-class drugs at world-market prices. So I hope Members will join me in this great effort to make certain that we have a competitive market so that Americans can buy Zocor for $30 rather than $85. We are not asking for a free lunch. We can buy Zocor for $30 rather than $85.
there average four medical visits a week or, rather, a month. That is more than most Americans do in a year.

The medical personnel there performed 128 surgeries, and no one that has been there, of the 700 guests that have been there, not one has died from any cause. In fact, the medical personnel saved the lives of numerous ones.

They come from all over the world, 24 different countries; 520 of them are there; 2,900 of them have gone back home.

The rooms are very clean. I notice that there are no Gideon Bibles in any of the rooms, but every room has a Koran. You know, American troops do not get U.S.-funded taxpayer Bibles overseas. But all these guests get taxpayer-funded Korans. And of course the staff that is there cannot touch these Korans.

Of course I am talking about Gitmo, the Guantanamo Bay terrorist detention center. These people are prisoners of war and the guards that are there are doing an outstanding job.

Speaking of the Koran, the guards are not permitted to touch the Koran except under rare circumstances. And if they do, they have to wear linen gloves before they can move this Koran to a different cell.

These people that are there are there for two purposes. They are suspected terrorists that are going to be tried for war crimes, like killing people all over the world, many of whom are Americans. The others that are there are being interrogated, those suspected terrorists.

Now I observed those interrogations, Mr. Speaker. There are no abuses. There are no dogs. There is no abuse. The interrogations that took place, neither the interrogator nor the prisoner knew that we were observing. And numerous Members of Congress went this past week and observed these facilities.

One hundred fifty of these individuals have attorneys. Any prisoner that is there that wants an attorney is entitled to have one.

Two hundred of them have been released; in fact, maybe releasing some who should not release, because 12 of the ones that have been released have been either recaptured or killed on the battlefield. One is of particular note. When he was first arrested and captured as a terrorist he had a leg that was infected. It was amputated. And he was fitted with a new prosthesis by American medical personnel. Later released and he was captured, recaptured on the battlefield, and of course he was still wearing that American prosthesis that taxpayers paid for.

These people do not work. You know, even in Texas we work our inmates. Today they are out picking cotton. But they are just there to be observed and to be housed. You know, one of these facilities meets American Corrections Association standards.

And these people, Mr. Speaker, are not nice. They spit on our guards. They throw urine and feces at our guards. And some of these people want to kill Americans.

The guards, Mr. Speaker, are first class. They are from all branches of the service. They have tremendous cooperation with each other, and they make us proud. The accusations of abuse in a dungeon-like facility do a disservice to these troops and the troops in combat.

I had lunch with two of these guards, George Telles and Enrique Lopez, Jr., both Navy sailors that guard cell blocks. And they do us a great honor and a service there.

These inmates are not protected by the Geneva Convention, although we treat them like they are. The Geneva Convention says that POWs, to be a real prisoner of war, they must be in a uniform, they must not have concealed weapons, they must not kill innocents, and they must have a chain of command. And these terrorists violate all four of these rules, but yet we treat them with greater respect than in the Geneva Convention.

The International Red Cross observes the entire facility and has access to all of the prisoners to talk to them on a one-on-one basis. There have been no deaths in Guantanamo. And you know, in prisoner-of-war camps in the past, Americans have died. Back in the war between the States, thousands of prisoners, Confederate and Union soldiers died. In Vietnam, about 9 percent of the Americans in custody died there. In Korea, about 30 percent. In World War II, we know that about 40 percent of Americans in custody in Japan died, all in prisoner-of-war camps, and not one person has died in these.

Amnesty International calls this a "gulag." Well, these are words from the uninformed elite. They want "Club GITMO" or "Disney World of the Caribbean."

Some said to close it down. That is just not appropriate, Mr. Speaker. We probably ought to make it bigger. It would be a good place to keep these people, to put them in a different cell and let these criminals loose on the world. There is a war on terror going on and these people want to kill Americans. They are dangerous. The 20th highjack of 9/11 is there, and these people need to be tried for war crimes.

Mr. Speaker, I went to Iraq. I have seen what these people have done, these terrorists have done to civilians and to our military. Even one 8-year-old kid was killed while I was there. Mr. Speaker, I am more concerned about Americans being killed by terrorists by beheading and suicide bombings and the welfare of our troops than any architect of our policy that says the terrorist outlaw that is upset because his blueberry muffin gets cold.

SMART SECURITY AND VETERANS FUNDING

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. KUHL of New York). Under a previous order of the House, the gentlewoman from California (Ms. WOOLSEY) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. WOOLSEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise in sadness and in frustration over the news that the Nation finds itself $1 billion short of the funding that is needed to cover health care for our Nation's veterans this year.

It is bad enough that next year's VA budget will almost surely be inadequate; now we are having trouble paying for this year's needs. Just as the architects of our Iraq policy did not have a plan for winning the peace, it appears that the budget experts in the executive branch did not plan for increased veteran costs associated with the deadly foreign war, a preemptive war that has killed over 1,700 troops and injured more than 13,000, a war that will certainly result in an increased burden on the Veterans Administration.

This shortfall comes on the heels of efforts by the Bush administration to increase veterans prescription drug co-payments and to add an enrollment fee to enter the veterans health care system in the first place. There is even talk of classifying veterans in ways that entitle some veterans to benefits and leaves others on the outside looking in.

How is this possible, Mr. Speaker, all the talk of supporting the troops, is this just rhetoric? Is it just bumper sticker boiler plate, or are we really serious about honoring the sacrifices of war and showing our gratitude to those who have risked life and limb on our behalf?

What is even worse is that some people saw this budget problem coming and were ignored or rebuffed. Minority Members in the other Chamber, the Senate, proposed adding money to the VA budget in anticipation of this shortfall, but they were told by the Secretary of Veterans Affairs this spring that no emergency supplemental funds were needed.

Well, guess what? Emergency supplemental funds are needed. And now we either have to get an advance on next year’s limited VA appropriations; borrow from other parts of the VA budget; or pass a supplemental bill to fill the gap. One of the key committee Chairs has said that it would be best to avoid a supplemental package. But where they said that, Mr. Speaker, when we were debating an over-$200 billion supplemental bill to fund the war effort in the first place? It does not make sense to me.

We have no problem approving billions upon billions of dollars and taking on massive debt to send our brave soldiers to Iraq in the first place. And while they are there, we are denying them of the protective body armor and vehicles that would prevent these severe wounds in the first place, and they are returning home more injured than ever. And when the time comes then we start pinching pennies, pinching pennies on their care. Are these the priorities of a great Nation?
Now, it is tempting to see this VA situation as simply an actuarial miscalculation, but it is indicative of something far more serious that we have been seeing over and over again from this administration, a rob-Peter-to-pay-Paul mentality; a tendency to ignore problems until they become crises; a habit of embracing war without accounting for its costs, human or financial.

Mr. Speaker, this is just one example of the way our Iraq policy has been bungled. Not only do we need to bring our troops out of Iraq as soon as realistically possible, a position that the majority of the American people agree with; we need an overhaul of our approach to national security in general.

I have proposed a new plan called SMART Security. SMART stands for Sensible Multi-lateral American Response to Terrorism For the 21st Century. The guiding principle behind SMART is that we should be the absolute last resort. Prevention of war, not pre-emptive war, which we know from the Downing Street memo was not the thinking on Iraq.

So SMART includes an ambitious international development agenda, democracy building, human rights education, business loans, agricultural assistance and more for the troubled, underdeveloped nations of the world.

SMART is tough, pragmatic, and patriotic. It protects America by relying on the very best of American values: our commitment to freedom, our compassion for the people of the world, and our capacity for multilateral leadership.

HEALTH CARE FOR RURAL AMERICA

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Kansas (Mr. MORAN) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. MORAN of Kansas. Mr. Speaker, my address today was about what do I do to make certain that folks in Kansas, people across rural America have a quality of life, that they have the opportunity to put food on the family’s table, that they have enough money to save for their retirement and for their kids’ college education. But even perhaps more important than that, the goal for me as a policymaker has been what we can do to see that the communities that make up my State are around for a while longer.

Rural America faces many challenges; and among those challenges is an often declining economy, and an economic relation to agriculture. But one of the things that became clear to me early on in my time in Congress is access to health care matters. If we care about the future of our communities, we need to make certain that our citizens, the people who live there, can access physician care; can access services; that if they need to go to a hospital, that the hospital doors remain open, that there is home health care and nursing home care.

So for much of my time in Congress, I have worked on issues related to the availability of health care. I have been an active member and chaired the Rural Health Care Coalition. And I commend my colleagues who are actively engaged in a group of Republican and Democrat Members of this body who work and time and again to see that good things happen in the delivery of health care in rural America. The goal there has to be to make certain that we are reimbursed, that our providers, our physicians and nurses and other health care providers, are reimbursed through Medicare in particular in a way that makes it possible for financially those health care providers to continue to provide the service and that we need to continue to make efforts to reduce the paperwork and bureaucratic burden that increase the cost of providing services, especially in communities where senior citizens comprise a significant component of the population.

Many of the hospitals in the First Congressional District of Kansas, 60, 70, 80, and sometimes even 90 percent of the patients admitted to a hospital seen by our physicians are over the age of 65; and, therefore, Medicare is responsible for payment at least in part of the hospital or physician bill.

During my time in Congress despite this continual focus on access to health care, one other thing has become clear to me. There is an overriding issue that should consume us all. I rise tonight to try to bring to my colleagues’ attention the necessity of beginning to address the ever-rising cost of health care.

I am in the middle of 69 townhall meetings. I represent 69 counties in Kansas, and every year I conduct a townhall meeting in each of those counties. I remember the townhall meeting in Hoxie, Kansas. During that townhall meeting, the most common question I was from a teacher who said, Last year my premiums for my health insurance to the school district that I paid out of my pocket were $450. This year it is $700. What are you going to do about it?

The next question was from the farm implement dealer who said, We are trying to stay afloat here. It has been a difficult year. Drought on the high plains. You know how difficult the ag industry is for 5 minutes trying to keep our employees insured. We raised our co-payments. We raised our deductibles and our insurance premiums still went up 49 percent. And there was the question, What are you going to do for our hospitals and physicians?

The third question came from a lady who said, My brother has cancer. He has been in Texas in an experimental treatment program, and he has now returned home to Kansas and his treatment costs are $40,000 a year. My mom and dad and my brothers and sisters, are we all trying to figure out how do we as a family come up with $40,000 a year to take care, to perhaps save my brother’s life. Again, the implied question, What is you going to do about it?

So from that townhall meeting several years ago, it has been a growing desire on my part to move the House of Representatives, the Senate, the policymakers toward addressing the issue of health care costs. I think there are things we can do. It is more than just decrying the problem.

We clearly need more access to primary care physicians. Too much health care is delivered through the emergency room. I commend the Bush administration for their focus on community clinics. That is an important component of making certain that people who could not otherwise afford health care are not showing up at the emergency room, but could access a primary care physician or a nurse practitioner through our community clinics.

We need to focus more on wellness and prevention. I think perhaps the biggest bang for our buck in reducing health care costs is to encourage and to educate citizens of our country about nutrition, about life-style, about habits, about exercise.

Clearly our information technology system has to be overhauled. We have tremendous technology in the delivery of health care, but not in the way that we keep records and provide for their payment. It needs to be overhauled for better and easier data retrieval. We clearly need to make certain that our reimbursements for our hospitals under Medicare and Medicaid are adequate to cover the costs, otherwise there is simply a cost-shifting onto those who have insurance.

I have been supportive of health savings accounts and opportunities for small businesses to pool their purchasing power to access health care for their patients.

I mentioned earlier about prescription drugs. We need to continue to work as a body, as a Congress and as policymakers in our Nation’s capital to reduce the ever-escalating costs of health care.

RENEGOTIATE CAFTA

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. BROWN) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. BROWN of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, at a White House news conference earlier this month, President Bush called on Congress to pass CAFTA, the Central American Free Trade Agreement.

Also earlier this month, the most powerful Republican in Congress, the gentleman from Texas (Mr. DELAY), promised a vote by July 4. Actually, it is the third time the gentleman has promised a vote on CAFTA. The first time in 2001 he said there would be a vote “this year” on the Central American Free Trade Agreement by the end of the year, December of 2004. Then earlier this year he promised a vote on CAFTA by Memorial Day, and now he is promising a vote by July 4.
CONGRESSIONAL RECORD — HOUSE

June 27, 2005

Where I come from, 3 strikes means you are out. As a result, Congress is waiting and waiting and waiting for the CAPTA vote count down to begin. While we wait, the many of us who have been battling, and I guess against the Central American Free Trade Agreement have a message for the gentleman from Texas (Mr. DELAY) and for the President, and that is renegotiate the Central American Free Trade Agreement.

President Bush signed CAPTA more than a year ago. Every trade agreement negotiated by this administration was voted on by this Congress within 60 days of the President signing the agreement. CAPTA has languished in Congress for more than a year without a vote because this wrongheaded trade agreement offends Republicans and Democrats alike.

It offends small manufacturers. It offends labor unions. It offends environmentalists and ranchers and small farmers and food safety advocates. It offends religious leaders in Central America, and many religious leaders in this country.

Most importantly, just look what has happened with trade policy in this country in the last 12 years. In 1989, the year I was elected to Congress, the United States trade deficit was $38 billion. That means we imported $38 billion more than we exported. Today, a dozen years later, in 2004, last year, our trade deficit was $618 billion. From $38 billion to $618 billion in only a dozen years. It is hard to argue that our trade policy is working.

Some people say, well, those are only just numbers, that is the trade deficit; who really cares? What that means is it means a significant loss in manufacturing jobs.

The States in red are States that have lost 20 percent of their manufacturing jobs. The States in blue have lost 10 percent. In the last 5 years, Michigan, 210,000 manufacturing jobs lost; Illinois, 224,000; Pennsylvania, 200,000; Mississippi and Alabama combined, 130,000. In the gentleman from Georgia’s (Mr. LOWN) home State, they have lost between 15 and 20 percent.

These are the States in blue, 107,000. In the gentlewoman from California’s (Ms. WATSON) and the gentleman from California’s (Mr. BERMAN) State, 354,000 jobs lost.

In State after State after State we have seen hundreds of thousands of manufacturing jobs lost in the last 5 years, not entirely because of but in large part because of failed trade policies. Each one of those jobs translates into the loss of a breadwinner, translates into less money for education in the community, less money for police and fire as the tax base shrinks with more and more industrial concerns shutting down.

These are faces of real people, what these numbers represent, and it is hurting an awful lot of families in every one of these States and our country.

As we see, the Central American Free Trade Agreement was negotiated by a select few for a select few. It was negotiated by the U.S. pharmaceutical industry. It was negotiated by big energy companies in the United States to help big energy companies in the United States. It was negotiated by insurance and financial institutions to help insurance and financial institutions. But it is not helping workers. It is not helping the environment. It is not helping small manufacturers. It is not helping small farmers and small ranchers in our country.

It is the same old story, Mr. Speaker. Every time there is a trade agreement, the President makes three promises. He promises there will be more jobs in the U.S., more manufacturing products that are exported to other countries, and it is going to be a higher standard of living for workers in the developing country. Yet, with every single trade agreement, their promises fall by the wayside.

Benjamin Franklin said, the definition of insanity is doing the same thing over and over and over and expecting a different result. The President makes the same promises about NAFTA, about PNTR with China, about CAPTA, about every trade agreement. Over and over and over and over, and the results are the same: more manufacturing job loss; more stagnation of wages in the developing world where their standard of living does not go up; more plant shutdowns in community after community in our country.

In the face of overwhelming bipartisan opposition, the administration and the gentleman from Texas (Mr. DELAY), the most powerful Republican in the House, the gentleman from Nebraska (Mr. OSBORNE) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. OSBORNE. Mr. Speaker, there has been a great deal of debate on this issue. First of all, there is one issue that is important to me. The President made a commitment, and he made a commitment, Mr. Speaker, that to the American people that he would train and equip the Iraqi military battalion that was trained and equipped. Now there are more than 100 battalions trained and equipped, and those are reflected over here on this 75,701 total of Ministry of Defense forces. Also, in addition, there are 90,883 policemen and other patrol and security guards that have been trained. So it is a total of 170,000 Iraqis who are currently trained and equipped.

I have been to Iraq where I have seen some of this training occur. I have been to Amman, Jordan, where a lot of the police academies are held. So at the present time we are aiming for 270,000, and we have most of the way there. We still have 100,000 to go, and we are training about 10,000 a month. So that means in about 10 months we will be at roughly 270,000.

General Petraeus says there is no shortage of volunteers; we have more people applying for this position than we have slots to fill them at the present time.

Now, the numbers represent, and it is what those numbers represent, and it is what those numbers represent; those numbers represent means in about 10 months we will be at roughly 270,000.
works have become bastions of illegal activity, providing safe havens for pirates to swap copied versions of copyrighted material without paying a cent. Every day, millions of copyrighted protected movies, songs, computer games, and other pieces of intellectual property are stolen over peer-to-peer networks.

The statistics speak for themselves. Over 90 percent of the file-sharing activity on Grokster is illegal copyright infringement. Of the music files available online, 99 percent are unauthorized, leading to a substantial drop in shipments of music to retailers.

In the last year alone, the number of feature films posted on file-sharing sites more than doubled to 44 million. Some estimates show that as many as 400,000 movies have been downloaded in one day alone.

Last month, it took just a few hours after the latest Star Wars movie opened in theaters for a copy to show up online on a file-sharing site. While we have seen so many movie theaters across the country with their children and families to see the latest episode of this great Hollywood franchise, millions had access to an unauthorized copy of the film online, free for the taking.

Our Nation's economy and creative industries that employ over 5 million Americans suffer a huge blow from the billions of dollars lost annually through illegal downloading. These networks of content piracy pose a serious threat to the livelihood of copyright creators and artists, many of whom live in my district.

One of our country's greatest exports, indeed the only area where we have a positive balance of trade with every Nation on earth, is in the area of creative content and our intellectual property, which is derived from the hard work of song writers, technicians, producers, musicians, independent filmmakers and scores of others who make their living from the intellectual property that we are protected by copyright law. Just moments after to-night's decision, millions had access to an unauthorized copy of the film online, free for the taking.

The Supreme Court decision today strikes the right balance by protecting copyright holders from such illegal activity and promoting legal avenues for downloading movies, music, and other works by consumers.

Very simply, the Court decision today codifies an age-old principle: stealing one's way out of the fruit of another man's labor.

As the Court noted, their decision leaves breathing room for innovation, and a vigorous commerce and does nothing to compromise the legitimate commerce which will incorporate many user benefits common to the peer-to-peer file-sharing experience, and a number of sites have already been launched that offer Internet music downloads at affordable prices without infringing on copyright laws. These positive efforts provide a victory for both consumers and artists.

Today's decision will further encourage and spur even more technological innovation. As a result, consumers will be the ultimate winners as they will have more access to high-quality music, film, and other content on the Internet and elsewhere.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. PRICE) is recognized for 5 minutes.

(Mr. PRICE of Georgia addressed the House. His remarks will appear hereafter in the Extensions of Remarks.)

ORDER OF BUSINESS

Mr. GOHMERT. Mr. Speaker, I ask to take my Special Order at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Texas?

There was no objection.

BRINGING TROOPS HOME

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Texas (Mr. GOHMERT) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. GOHMERT. Mr. Speaker, as the right honorable gentleman from Nebraska (Mr. OSBORNE), a good friend, former coach, had indicated, there are Members of this body who believe the solution in Iraq is to set a date certain by which we will begin removing or have our troops removed from Iraq. When asked recently if such a strategy would not have been devastating if used in World War II and would not have ended Hitler in peace, one Congressman said, well, World War II is not really an appropriate comparison. We believed the more appropriate model was that of Vietnam, where we set a time and then we got out.

I do not question anyone’s motive here, but for freedom’s sake, what is the world kind of a mission is that? The retreat from Vietnam created a vacuum that was filled by dead and mutilated bodies of those we ran out and deserted, and it is one of our darkest and most heinous hours in American history. It is rivaled, however, for its humiliating nature by the very war in Vietnam itself in which we sent soldiers to fight but tied one arm behind their backs and did not give them the equipment and backing to actually win. They were not authorized to win. They were told to just hold what they had. No war can ever be won unless there is a commitment by the government to win.

If we did not learn anything from the wars of the 20th century, it would be obvious here, but in 1979, we had an attack on American soil. That is what it is when someone attacks an American embassy, and they took hostages of our diplomats and we did nothing. We failed to defend our soil and our people and our diplomats and a terrible message went forward.

Mr. BERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I want to join with my colleagues, the gentleman from California (Mr. Schiff), the gentlewoman from California (Ms. Watson), the gentlewoman from California (Ms. Linda T. Sánchez), and a colleague who wanted to be here as well.

SUPREME COURT DECISION ON MGM V. GROKSTER

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. Kuhl of New York). Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from California (Mr. Berman) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. Berman. Mr. Speaker, I want to join with my colleagues, the gentleman from California (Mr. Schiff), the gentlewoman from California (Ms. Watson), the gentlewoman from California (Ms. Linda T. Sánchez), and a colleague who wanted to be here as well.

but could not be, the gentlewoman from California (Mrs. Boxo), to react to a unanimous decision that came down today by the Supreme Court in the MGM v. Grokster case.

That ruling is a victory for American innovation. And it will thrive, be encouraged to create the music and movies we love, and legitimate technology companies that distribute those same movies and music will no longer have to compete with piracy profiteers. Conversely, services that breed a culture of contempt for intellectual property will have to answer for their ill-gotten gains.

In addition to providing us with movies, sound recordings, computer games and software, books and other creative works, the core copyright industry accounts for over 6 percent of the U.S. gross domestic product. Businesses that rely on copyright employ more than 11 million U.S. workers. Unfortunately, the copyright piracy taking place over peer-to-peer networks has become a great threat to the livelihoods of all copyright creators. Therefore, robust protection for creativity is necessary to prevent the擅自 from the most famous artists to the completely unknown set designer, from shareholders and executives of studios and R&D record companies and software companies to the many thousands of hourly-wage earners who work for them.

Piracy robs creators and owners of sound recordings and movies of their right to be first in the market. But most harm from these networks have created a culture where too many consumers, including our children, are accustomed to receiving their choice of entertainment anytime, anywhere, in any format for free, without providing the creator his or her rightful compensation.

In a 9-0 opinion, the Supreme Court has told businesses that facilitate copyright infringement that they will be held directly accountable for their actions. It’s time to model its success on the destruction of another’s industry. To paraphrase Justice Kennedy’s observation in the oral argument, unlawful expropriated property cannot be used by a business as part of its start-up capital.

This decision “does nothing to compromise legitimate commerce or discourage innovation having lawful promise.” It has merely found a balance between legitimate demand of copyright owners for effective protection and the rights of others to engage in substantially unrelated areas of commerce. Just because the transmission of these files happen in the ether does not mean the protection should only be symbolic. Just because we are in a digital age, the definition of stealing does not change.

If I go to a store and take a CD without paying for it, I am stealing. If I go to a peer-to-peer network and download a song for free, I am also stealing.

The Supreme Court has instructed businesses: “You may not entice individuals to commit a moral and legal wrong.” It is willing to hold businesses responsible for the part they play in promoting theft. It has issued a loud warning that companies will not be allowed to gain from illegal distribution. Those that specifically design their business models to demand for copyright infringement will be stuck wearing the bulls-eye.

Shed no tears: these illegitimate peer-to-peer networks are not innovators; they are free riders. Their services make it hard for our children about right and wrong. They send adware, spyware, viruses, and pornography on to our computers and into our homes. There are a great many reasons for parents, teachers, creators, and others to rejoice about the message the Supreme Court sent today.

Both the content and tech industry must continue developing innovative and legitimate ways to distribute content so that consumers can access entertainment on a variety of devices. This decision will improve opportunities for legitimate music and movie distribution, putting out of business the black marketeers.

This decision has provided greater protection for intellectual property rights and has provided the tools to effectively combat copyright theft. In turn, it will keep an engine of America’s economic growth thriving by promoting innovation and creativity in entertainment and the arts. The decision is also a win for legitimate technology companies. Those who have structured their businesses to distribute content in innovative and legal ways that compensate the creator while providing consumers quality in choice should laud this decision.

The Founding Fathers dealt with pirates on the high seas and had the intuition to address the pirates over the air. They afforded protection in the Constitution for intellectual property rights that serve as the cornerstone of American innovation. The Supreme Court today has helped carry out the mission of article I section 8 of the Constitution by promoting the progress of science and the useful arts.

MGM V. GROKSTER

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentlewoman from California (Ms. Watson) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. Watson. Mr. Speaker, I would join with my colleagues about today’s unanimous decision by the Supreme Court in MGM v. Grokster, for it represents a great triumph for American creativity and innovation. File-sharing companies that actively coax consumers into violating copyright laws can no longer escape legal consequences under the guise of fair use. They will no longer be able to rip off the hard work of our Nation’s creators. In ruling for our Nation’s creative artists, the Supreme Court today struck a proper balance. between the protection of intellectual property rights and the need to expand our technologies.

As a representative of Hollywood, my district contains many movie and recording studios, which serve as the driving force for our local economy and provide tens of thousands of jobs to many of my constituents. As Chair of the Congressional Entertainment Industries Caucus, one of my key concerns has been the continuing erosion of our copyright laws.

Let me share some shocking statistics. According to recent FBI data, U.S. producers of movies, music, computer games, and software lost $23 billion in 2002 to illegal copying. In Operation Digital Gridlock, the first Federal law enforcement action against a peer-to-peer network, regulators seized the equivalent of 60,000 illegally distributed movies last August. It is clear to me that piracy of our creative products has reached an epidemic level, both domestically and internationally, creating a huge drain on our economy, job creation, and technological innovation. We are forced to resort to legal actions to help stem this tide of intellectual property theft.

That is why today’s Supreme Court ruling was so important. In the unanimous opinion, the Justices held that “one who distributes a device with the object of promoting its use to infringe copyright is liable for the resulting acts of infringement by third parties using the device, regardless of the device’s lawful uses.” It is this unequivocal guidance from our Nation’s highest court that I believe will help enhance the effective enforcement of our Nation’s copyright laws and strengthen the public’s respect for the value of intellectual property rights.

Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on the subject matter of my Special Order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentlewoman from California?

There was no objection.

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY AND THE GROKSTER DECISION

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentlewoman from California (Ms. LINDA T. SÁNCHEZ) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. LINDA T. SÁNCHEZ of California. Mr. Speaker, I rise to applaud the United States Supreme Court for their ruling today in the case of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios, Incorporated v. Grokster. By a unanimous ruling, 9–0 in favor of MGM, the Supreme Court sent a strong message today that our courts will protect the work of creative artists.

I represent the 39th Congressional District in California. My State, region, and district are home to the motion picture industry, the music industry, and software companies. Many of my constituents work in these creative industries. Our local entertainment and technology officials warn us that piracy hits their companies hard and their pocketbooks harder.

Intellectual property is important to our economy as a whole, so copyright infringements also severely damage our national economy. In fact, according to the International Intellectual Property Alliance, in 2002, core copyright industries accounted for over 6 percent of the U.S. gross domestic product. That is over $236 billion. When you look at all industries, they accounted for approximately 12 percent of the U.S. gross domestic product, or $1.25 trillion in 2002 alone.

Obviously, intellectual property is a vital part of our economy, and piracy robs our economy of billions of dollars from this important industry.

Conservative estimates say that counterfeiting of “businesses’ copyrighted goods costs our economy between $200–$400 billion each year. When our economy suffers like that, America’s workers suffer, too. The “core” copyright industries alone were estimated to have employed 4 percent of U.S. workers in 2002, a total of 5.48 million workers. But piracy causes 750,000 American workers to lose their jobs each year.

This is where intellectual property laws come in and why the Supreme Court decision in Grokster is so important. The Court drew a line in the sand in the Grokster case and said that peer-to-peer file-sharing networks that encourage illegal file-sharing should not be shielded by our laws. The ruling protects this creative community but also allows the public to retain access to the benefits of peer-to-peer file-sharing technology.

Mr. Speaker, I love movies and music as much as any consumer, and I use computer software every single day. I want technology to benefit consumers and I want consumers to be able to use technology to get their favorite music and movies conveniently.

But stealing is stealing. Swapping copyrighted files online is illegal, and just because it is easy doesn’t make it right. We can have peer-to-peer networks that give every American access to the files they want online, and also provide creators with copyright protections.

As long as companies like Grokster are allowed to facilitate illegal file swapping, we will continue to lose hundreds of dollars and hundreds of thousands of U.S. jobs each year.

I am pleased that the Supreme Court took the first step today in Grokster towards ending illegal copyright infringement online, and protecting the industries that produce copyrighted works.

Mr. CONYERS. Mr. Speaker, today’s ruling is a victory for content creators and consumers. It is clear that those who encourage content theft are responsible for their conduct down the line. With this ruling, creators will be encouraged to take advantage of the digital marketplace and provide consumers with even more digital content.

For years, consumers have been clamoring for access to digital content. Because content protection technology and content owners had not caught up with the Internet, music lovers turned to illegal download sites like Napster and Kazaa for digital content.

We had heard that the content industry would just create a legal avenue for obtaining digital music, consumers would embrace it. The premonition was largely true. The record industry and high-tech worked together to develop digital content protection, to clear the rights needed to get music online, and to get music on the Internet. According to the Pew Internet and American Life Project, the response to legitimate digital content has been overwhelming: in 2004, only twenty-four percent of music downloaders had tried legitimate download sites; by 2005, the number jumped to forty-three percent.

Internet sites like Apple iTunes, Napster, and Rhapsody offer consumers a variety of ways of obtaining music, from one-time downloads to monthly subscriptions. In just the past few years, over 300 million songs were sold on just one single website. No matter how you view it, the marketplace is working.

Today’s Supreme Court decision makes it clear that encouraging others to steal is as nefarious as stealing directly. I have no doubt that, with this added assurance, content creators will roll out even more digital content to consumers.

Mr. ENGEL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to join my Democratic colleagues in supporting our Nation’s intellectual property. For years, consumers have been clamoring for access to digital content. Because content protection technology and content owners had not caught up with the Internet, music lovers turned to illegal download sites like Napster and Kazaa for digital content.

We had heard that the content industry would just create a legal avenue for obtaining digital music, consumers would embrace it. The premonition was largely true. The record industry and high-tech worked together to develop digital content protection, to clear the rights needed to get music online, and to get music on the Internet. According to the Pew Internet and American Life Project, the response to legitimate digital content has been overwhelming: in 2004, only twenty-four percent of music downloaders had tried legitimate download sites; by 2005, the number jumped to forty-three percent.

Internet sites like Apple iTunes, Napster, and Rhapsody offer consumers a variety of ways of obtaining music, from one-time downloads to monthly subscriptions. In just the past few years, over 300 million songs were sold on just one single website. No matter how you view it, the marketplace is working.

Today’s Supreme Court decision makes it clear that encouraging others to steal is as nefarious as stealing directly. I have no doubt that, with this added assurance, content creators will roll out even more digital content to consumers.

Mr. ENGEL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to join my Democratic colleagues in supporting our Nation’s intellectual property. For years, consumers have been clamoring for access to digital content. Because content protection technology and content owners had not caught up with the Internet, music lovers turned to illegal download sites like Napster and Kazaa for digital content.

We had heard that the content industry would just create a legal avenue for obtaining digital music, consumers would embrace it. The premonition was largely true. The record industry and high-tech worked together to develop digital content protection, to clear the rights needed to get music online, and to get music on the Internet. According to the Pew Internet and American Life Project, the response to legitimate digital content has been overwhelming: in 2004, only twenty-four percent of music downloaders had tried legitimate download sites; by 2005, the number jumped to forty-three percent.

Internet sites like Apple iTunes, Napster, and Rhapsody offer consumers a variety of ways of obtaining music, from one-time downloads to monthly subscriptions. In just the past few years, over 300 million songs were sold on just one single website. No matter how you view it, the marketplace is working.

Today’s Supreme Court decision makes it clear that encouraging others to steal is as nefarious as stealing directly. I have no doubt that, with this added assurance, content creators will roll out even more digital content to consumers.
and each took active steps to encourage infringement." Neither of these programs offered themselves as legitimate devices for VCR. A great majority of users knew and intended to subvert copyright and deny not just the record and movie companies’ compensation, but the royalty out of the pockets of songwriters, studio personnel, camera men and make-up artists.

We are also undertaking an effort to move to digital television. In the future, if the Congress does not act, copying and uploading a broadcast show will be too easy. Many of us have worked on the "Broadcast Flag," which is a technology that will allow consumers to continue to record a show for later viewing, but prevent the mass redistribution. The Federal Communications Commission had instituted a rule to this end, but the federal courts found the FCC lacked such authority. Thus, it falls on us in Congress to continue to update our laws in the digital era to stop copyright infringement. I hope we can do so to update our laws in the digital era to stop copyright infringement. I hope we can do so quickly or, I fear, the best entertainment will be moved to cable and satellite and be unaffordable to some Americans.

EMINENT DOMAIN ABUSE

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. KUHL of New York). Under a previous order of the House, the gentlewoman from California (Ms. WATERS) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. WATERS. Mr. Speaker, I had not intended to be on the floor this evening speaking on this particular issue. As a matter of fact, I was hoping over the next few days I could concentrate all of my time on the Out of Iraq Congressional Caucus that we are working so hard on.

But this is National Homeowner Month, and I could not help but focus on the fact that in America owning your own home is one of the most ideal things that you can do. Americans aspire to own homes. We socialize in such a way that we teach our children to go to school, to get an education, to get a good job or have a good career, become an entrepreneur, and buy your home.

And so as I focus on National Homeowner Month, I am outraged that the Supreme Court of the United States of America last Thursday made a decision that local entities could take American’s homes in eminent domain proceedings other than public use. I am amazed that the Supreme Court of the United States on a 5-to-4 decision, I believe it was, decided that the law, the Constitution as we know it, I think it is the fifth amendment, that saying yes, you may use eminent domain for good public use, is something other than what was intended. This ruling says you can take anybody’s home for private use. In this case Suse Kelso, the woman from New London, Connecticut, who brought the case, was trying to protect her home from the desire by a huge corporation to build some condominiums.

And so now with this Supreme Court decision, the State, the city, the public entity, can take your home for private use. They can take your home and they can give it to private developers to build shopping centers. They can take your home and give it to developers to build condominiums. They can take your home for any reason that they decide is in the public interest, and they are trying to hide behind the idea that there are some cities and some entities that need to get rid of slums and they need to do something to reduce the best interest of the citizens of that community.

Yes, it may go to a private company or to a private corporation and yes, they may get rich from that development. But if the city fathers get together and believe that that somehow is in the best interest and it is already all right, that flies in the face of the Constitution of the United States.

I do not think Members have to be a strict constructionist or a liberal constructionist. All you need is good sense to know that the Constitution of the United States did not mean for your city government or any other entity to be able to ride over your rights and take your private property and give it to somebody else.

As a matter of fact, I think this is dangerous. I think it is dangerous because your city fathers could get together with developers and take land in ways it has never been done before. We know too many stories about the influence of developers on county council members and on city governments. We know too much about the flow of money. We know too much about campaign contributions to those who would just as soon institute eminent domain as do anything.

As a matter of fact, without this interpretation that we got last Thursday, we have city fathers who have tried it, even though they did not have this ruling. You have communities that have to deal with developers and mayors getting together trying to take their property and at least trying to call it for public use.

But now the Supreme Court has made it clear that they can take it for private use. I do not like it. Members do not have to be a Democrat or Republican, liberal or conservative. Members just need to be an American with good sense that says you will not stand for it.

Mr. Speaker, I am going to get together with some of my friends on the other side of the aisle and we are going to create a law that will undermine this decision of the Supreme Court and take back amendment 5 of the Constitution so we can redefine the meaning in the way it is supposed to be defined.

HONORING THOSE WHO MADE THE ULTIMATE SACRIFICE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker’s announced policy of January 4, 2005, the gentleman from Illinoi...
Mr. LEWIS of Georgia. Mr. EMANUEL. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. LEWIS).

Mr. LEWIS of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Connecticut (Ms. LYNCH).

Ms. LYNCH. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Connecticut (Ms. LYNCH).
296. Lance Corporal Cesar F. Machado-Olmos
297. Lance Corporal Michael J. Halal
298. Lance Corporal Dominic C. Brown
299. Staff Sergeant Guy Stanley
300. Sergeant Carl Thomas
301. Lance Corporal Mathew D. Puckett
302. Corporal Adrian V. Soltau
303. Corporal Jaygee Ngimridol
304. Sergeant Jacob H. Demand
305. Major Kevin M. Shea
306. First Lieutenant Tyler Hall Brown
307. Lance Corporal Drew M. Uhles
308. Lance Corporal Gregory C. Howman
309. First Lieutenant Andrew K. Stern
310. Corporal Steven A. Rintamaki
311. Corporal Christopher S. Ebert
312. Sergeant Thomas Chad Rosebaun
313. Private First Class James W. Price
314. Sergeant Brandon E. Adams
315. Specialist Joshua J. Henry
316. Lance Corporal Steven C. T. Cates
317. Sergeant Foster L. Harrington
318. Private First Class Nathan E. Stahl
319. Staff Sergeant Lance J. Koenig
320. Private First Class Adam J. Harris
321. Sergeant Skipper Soram
322. Sergeant Benjamin K. Smith
323. Lance Corporal Aaron Boyles
324. Lance Corporal Ramon Mateo
325. Sergeant Timothy Folmar
326. Second Lieutenant Ryan Leduc
327. Specialist David W. Johnson
328. Specialist Clifford L. Moxley, Jr.
329. Specialist Robert Oliver Unruh
330. Captain Eric L. Allton
331. Specialist Gregory A. Cox
332. Sergeant First Class Joselito O. Villanueva
333. Private First Class Kenneth L. Sickels
334. Sergeant Tyler D. Prewitt
335. Private First Class Joshua K. Titcomb
336. Staff Sergeant Mike A. Dennie
337. Specialist Rodney A. Jones
338. Staff Sergeant Darren J. Cunningham

June 27, 2005
CONGRESSIONAL RECORD — HOUSE
H5229

203. Lance Corporal Joseph L. Nice
204. Sergeant Yadir G. Reynoso
205. Private First Class Raymond J. Faulstich, Jr.
206. Specialist Donald R. McCune
207. Sergeant Moses Daniel Rocha
208. Specialist Joshua I. Bunch
209. Lance Corporal Larry L. Wells
210. Corporal Roberto Abad
211. Private First Class David L. Potter
212. Lance Corporal Jonathan W. Collins
213. Civilian Rick A. Ulbright
214. Captain Andrew R. Houghton
215. Staff Sergeant John R. Howard
216. Lance Corporal Tavon L. Hubbard
217. Captain Michael Yuri Tarlavsky
218. Lance Corporal Nicholas B. Morrison
219. Lance Corporal Kane M. Funk
220. First Lieutenant Neil Anthony Santoriello
221. Sergeant Daniel Michael Shepherd
222. Second Lieutenant James Michael Goins
223. Private First Class Brandon R. Sapp
224. Private First Class Geoffrey Perez
225. Private First Class Fernando B. Hannon
226. Specialist Mark Anthony Zapata
227. Sergeant David M. Heath
228. Lance Corporal Caleb J. Powers
229. Specialist Brandon T. Titus
230. Lance Corporal Dustin R. Fitzgerald
231. Sergeant Harvey Emmett Parkerson III
232. Specialist Jacob D. Martin
233. Private First Class Henry C. Riner
234. Sergeant Richard M. Lord
235. Corporal Brad Preston McCormick
236. First Lieutenant Charles L. Wilkins III
237. Private First Class Ryan A. Martin
238. Corporal Nicanor Alvarez
239. Sergeant Jason Cook
240. Lance Corporal Seth Huston
241. Private First Class Nachez Washalanta
242. Private First Class Kevin A. Cuming
243. Gunner Sergeant Edward T. Reeder
244. Second Lieutenant Matthew R. Stovall
245. Corporal Christopher Belchik
246. Staff Sergeant Robert C. Thornton, Jr.
247. Sergeant Donald N. Davis
248. Lance Corporal Jacob R. Lugo
249. Lance Corporal Alexander S. Arredondo
250. Specialist Charles L. Neeley
251. Specialist Marco D. Ross
252. Private First Class Nicholas M. Skinner
Mr. EMANUEL. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. Branning).
| 520. | Lance Corporal Bradley M. Fairstock |
| 521. | Lance Corporal David B. Houck |
| 522. | Corporal Kirk J. Bosselmann |
| 523. | Sergeant Michael A. Smith |
| 524. | Specialist Jeremy E. Christensen |
| 525. | Lance Corporal Joshua E. Lucero |
| 526. | Lance Corporal Adam R. Brooks |
| 527. | Lance Corporal Charles A. Hanson, Jr. |
| 528. | Sergeant Trinidad R. Martinez-Huizis |
| 529. | Staff Sergeant Michael B. Shackelford |
| 530. | Sergeant Carl W. Lee |
| 531. | Private First Class Stephen C. Benish |
| 532. | Sergeant Christian P. Engeldrum |
| 533. | Private First Class Wilfredo P. Urbina |
| 534. | Specialist Daryl A. Davis |
| 535. | Specialist Erik W. Hayes |
| 536. | Lance Corporal Blake A. Magaocy |
| 537. | Sergeant Jose Guereca, Jr. |
| 538. | Sergeant Pablo A. Calderon |
| 539. | Specialist David M. Fisher |
| 540. | Gunnery Sergeant Javier Oleas-Prado |
| 541. | Corporal Zachary A. Kolda |
| 542. | Private First Class George Daniel Harrison |
| 543. | Specialist David P. Mahlenbrock |
| 544. | Staff Sergeant Henry E. Irizarry |
| 545. | Corporal Binh N. Le |
| 546. | Corporal In C. Kim |
| 547. | Corporal Matthew A. Wyatt |
| 548. | Sergeant Michael L. Boatright |
| 549. | Private First Class John Lewis Brown Jr. |
| 550. | Sergeant Christian P. Engeldrum |
| 551. | Sergeant David A. Mitts |
| 552. | Corporal Bryan S. Wilson |
| 553. | Private First Class George Daniel Harrison |
| 554. | Specialist David P. Mahlenbrock |
| 555. | Staff Sergeant Henry E. Irizarry |
| 556. | Corporal Binh N. Le |
| 557. | Corporal In C. Kim |
| 558. | Corporal Matthew A. Wyatt |
| 559. | Sergeant Michael L. Boatright |
| 561. | Specialist Daryl A. Davis |
| 562. | Specialist Erik W. Hayes |
| 563. | Lance Corporal Blake A. Magaocy |
| 564. | Sergeant Jose Guereca, Jr. |
| 565. | Sergeant Pablo A. Calderon |
| 566. | Specialist David M. Fisher |
| 567. | Gunnery Sergeant Javier Oleas-Prado |
| 568. | Corporal Zachary A. Kolda |
| 569. | Private First Class George Daniel Harrison |
| 570. | Specialist David P. Mahlenbrock |
| 571. | Staff Sergeant Henry E. Irizarry |
| 572. | Corporal Binh N. Le |
| 573. | Corporal In C. Kim |
| 574. | Corporal Matthew A. Wyatt |
| 575. | Sergeant Michael L. Boatright |
| 577. | Lance Corporal Richard D. Warner |
| 578. | Private First Class Brent T. Vroman |
| 579. | Specialist Victor A. Martinez |
| 580. | Lance Corporal Franklin A. Sweger |
| 581. | Sergeant Barry K. Meza |
| 582. | Staff Sergeant Donald B. Farmer |
| 583. | Sergeant Lynn Robert Poulin, Sr. |
| 584. | Specialist Thomas John Destiney |
| 585. | Specialist Nicholas C. “Nick” Mason |
| 586. | Sergeant David A. Ruhren |
| 587. | Sergeant First Class Paul D. Karpowich |
| 588. | Chief Petty Officer Joel Egan Baldwin |
| 589. | Specialist Cory Michael Hewitt |
| 590. | Private First Class Lionel Ayro |
| 591. | Specialist Jonathan Castro |
| 593. | Sergeant Robert S. Johnson |
| 594. | Staff Sergeant Julian S. Melo |
| 595. | Staff Sergeant Darren D. Van Komen |
| 596. | Sergeant Major Robert D. O’Dell |
| 597. | Lance Corporal Neil D. Petsche |
| 598. | First Lieutenant Christopher W. Barnett |
| 599. | Lance Corporal Eric Hillenburg |
| 600. | Lance Corporal James R. Philpots |
| 601. | Corporal Raleigh C. Smith |
| 602. | Staff Sergeant Todd D. Olson |
| 603. | Specialist José A. Rivera-Serrano |
| 604. | Seaman Pablito Peña Briones, Jr. |
| 605. | Staff Sergeant Jason A. Lehto |
| 606. | Staff Sergeant Nathaniel J. Nyren |
| 607. | Private First Class Oscar Sanchez |
| 608. | Specialist Craig L. Nelson |
| 609. | Sergeant Damien T. Picek |
| 610. | Lance Corporal Jason E. Smith |
| 611. | Lance Corporal Brian P. Parrello |
| 612. | Specialist Jeff LeBrun |
| 613. | Sergeant Thomas E. Houser |
| 614. | Specialist Jimmy D. Buie |
| 615. | Private Cory R. Depew |
| 616. | Specialist Joshua S. Marcum |
| 617. | Specialist Jeremy W. McHalffey |
| 618. | Sergeant Bennie J. Washington |
| 619. | Private First Class Curtis L. Wooten III |
| 620. | Sergeant Christopher J. Babin |
| 621. | Specialist Bradley J. Bergeron |
| 622. | Lance Corporal Julio C. Cisneros-Alvarez |
| 623. | Sergeant First Class Kurt J. Comeaux |
| 624. | Sergeant Zachariah Scott Davis |
| 625. | Specialist Huey P. L. Fassbender |
| 626. | Specialist Armand L. Frickey |
| 627. | Specialist Warren A. Murphy |
| 628. | Private First Class Kenneth G. Vornon |
| 629. | Private First Class Daniel F. Guastafredo |
| 630. | Corporal Joseph E. Fite |
| 631. | Specialist Dwayne James McFarlane, Jr. |
| 632. | Staff Sergeant William F. Manuel |
| 633. | Sergeant Robert Wesley Sweeney III |
| 634. | Specialist Michael J. Smith |
| 635. | Private First Class Gunnar D. Beckler |
| 636. | Lance Corporal Matthew W. Holloway |
| 637. | Sergeant First Class Brian A. Mack |
| 638. | Lance Corporal Juan Rodrigo Rodriguez Velasco |
| 639. | Corporal Paul C. Holter III |
| 640. | Sergeant Jayton D. Patterson |
| 641. | Sergeant Nathaniel T. Swindell |
| 642. | Specialist Alain L. Kamolavatthan |
| 643. | Private First Class Jesus Fonseca |
| 644. | Private First Class George R. Gee |
| 645. | Private First Class Francis C. Obaji |
| 646. | Staff Sergeant Thomas E. Vitagliano |
| 647. | Captain Christopher J. Sullivan |
| 648. | Sergeant Kyle William Childress |
| 649. | Captain Joe Fenton Luuk II |
| 650. | First Lieutenant Nainoa K. Hye |
| 651. | Sergeant José C. Rangel |
| 652. | Sergeant Leonard W. Adams |
| 653. | Sergeant Michael C. Carlson |
| 654. | Private First Class Jesus A. Leon-Perez |
| 655. | Sergeant Javier Marin, Jr. |
| 656. | Staff Sergeant Joseph W. Stevens |
| 657. | Sergeant Brett D. Swank |
| 658. | Captain Paul C. Alainiz |
| 659. | Staff Sergeant Brian D. Bland |
| 660. | Corporal Jonathan W. Bowling |
| 661. | Specialist Taylor J. Burk |
| 662. | Lance Corporal Jonathan Edward Etterling |
| 663. | Sergeant Michael W. Finke, Jr. |
| 664. | First Lieutenant Travis J. Fuller |
| 665. | Corporal Timothy M. Gibson |
| 666. | Corporal Richard A. Gilbert, Jr. |
| 667. | Captain Lyle L. Gordon |
| 668. | Corporal Kyle J. Grimes |
| 669. | Lance Corporal Tony L. Hernandez |
| 670. | Lance Corporal Brian C. Hopper |
| 671. | Petty Officer Third Class John Daniel House |
| 672. | Lance Corporal Saeed Jafarkhani-Torshizi, Jr. |
| 673. | Corporal Stephen P. Johnson |
| 674. | Corporal Sean P. Kelly |
| 675. | Staff Sergeant Dexter S. Kimble |
| 676. | Sergeant William S. Kinzer, Jr. |
| 677. | Lance Corporal Allan Klein |
| 678. | Corporal Timothy A. Knight |
| 679. | Lance Corporal Karl R. Linn |
| 680. | Lance Corporal Fred L. Maciel |
| 681. | Corporal James Lee Moore |
| 682. | Corporal Nathaniel K. Moore |
| 683. | Lance Corporal Mourad Ragimov |
| 684. | Lance Corporal Ronald Dain Rairdan |
| 685. | Lance Corporal Hector Ramos |
| 686. | Lance Corporal Gael Sceivitz |
| 687. | Corporal Nathaniel A. Schubert |
| 688. | Lance Corporal Darrell J. Schumann |
| 689. | First Lieutenant Dustin M. Shumney |
| 690. | Corporal Matthew R. Smith |
| 691. | Lance Corporal Joseph B. Spence |
| 692. | Lance Corporal Michael L. Starr, Jr. |
recognizing each of our fallen heroes by name on the floor of the people’s House. On behalf of my colleagues, I would also like to take this opportunity to thank the brave men and women and their families who continue to serve our Nation in Iraq and Afghanistan. Our thoughts and prayers are with you and your families.

HOMELAND SECURITY

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. MCHENRY). Under the Speaker’s announced policy of January 4, 2005, the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. DENT) is recognized for 60 minutes as the designee of the majority leader. Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker, tonight we will be engaging in a discussion about our Nation’s homeland security. I will be joined by several of my colleagues here tonight who have some very interesting thoughts and perspectives they would like to share with the American people on this most important issue. Homeland security is a matter of concern to all Americans irrespective of their political affiliation. This is especially true in the United States Congress. The Committee on Homeland Security, of which I am a member, reflects our national concern.

In the last 6 months, our committee has sent to the floor of the House some very important legislation designed to make America’s borders, ports, and transportation facilities less vulnerable to terrorist attack or other catastrophes. One such bill is H.R. 1218, the Faster and Smarter Funding For First Responders Act of 2005. Prior to this bill, grant funding for first responders tasked with responding to homeland emergencies was provided in equal percentage to all States with an allowance upward for population. Because these funds are distributed without regard to safeguarding against risk, there were many documented abuses within the system. Of the $6.3 billion in grants appropriated by Congress and awarded by the Department of Homeland Security since fiscal year 2002, only 31 percent of those funds have been spent. Let me repeat: of the $6.3 billion in grants appropriated by Congress and awarded by the Department of Homeland Security since fiscal year 2002, only 31 percent of those funds have been spent. Let me repeat: of the $6.3 billion in grants appropriated by Congress and awarded by the Department of Homeland Security since fiscal year 2002, only 31 percent of those funds have been spent.

My own home State of Pennsylvania, that State has only spent 17 percent of these homeland security funds. Hundreds of millions of dollars earmarked for homeland projects are currently unaccounted for. Moreover, in some instances, local communities received these funds, but utilized them in ways that were not consistent with the promotion of our homeland security.

The chart I have here, and I will have those displayed in a moment, but these charts that I have here highlight some of the most egregious examples of misspent homeland security funds:
In Washington, DC, Dale Carnegie public speaking training for sanitation workers, $100,000 was spent. These were homeland security dollars we are talking about.

Again in Washington, DC, a rap song to teach children emergency preparedness, $100,000.

Santa Clara County, California, four Segway scooters to transport bomb squad personnel at a cost of $18,000.

Mason County, Washington, bio-chemical decontamination units left sitting in a warehouse for more than a year, with no one trained to use it, $63,000.

South Dakota, on-site paging system for the State agricultural fair at $29,995.

Converse, Texas, a trailer to transport lawnmowers to lawnmower drag races, $3,000.

Des Moines, Iowa, traffic cones, State of Missouri, 13,000 HazMat suits for every law enforcement official at $7.2 million.

Tiptonville, Tennessee, purchases totaling $3,000 including a Gator all-terrain vehicle at $8,700 and two defibrillators, one for use at high school basketball games, $5,200.

Washington, DC, computerized car towing service, $300,000. Again, we are talking about homeland security funds here.

Montgomery County, Maryland, 8 large screen plasma television monitors for $160,000.

Prince Georges County, Maryland, digital camera system used for mug shots at a half million dollars.

Newark, New Jersey, air-conditioned garbage trucks at a quarter million dollars.

H.R. 1544 seeks to rectify this deplorable situation by awarding grant funds based on risk. It requires that moneys be disbursed to those areas where threat vulnerability and consequence of attack is the greatest. It provides priority assistance to those first responders and first preventers that in fact are facing the highest risk. It streamlines the process by which local authorities can apply for and receive terrorism preparedness grants. It establishes specific flexible and measurable goals for the Department of Homeland Security and promotes the development of national standards for first responder equipment and training. It encourages regional cooperation to increase emergency preparedness. It follows the recommendations of the 9/11 Commission which had this to say about the prior funding formula: “Homeland Security assistance should be based strictly on an assessment of risks and vulnerabilities. Federal Homeland Security assistance should not remain a program for general revenue sharing. It should supplement State and local resources based on the risk or vulnerabilities that merit additional support. Congress should not use this as a pork barrel.” That was the 9/11 Commission.

By directing grant funding to threatened areas without regard to politics, H.R. 1544 has become a key part of the national security reforms necessitated by the September 11 attacks.

The second piece of legislation that reflects the Homeland Security Committee’s bipartisan commitment to the preservation of homeland security is H.R. 1817, the Homeland Security Authorization Act for fiscal year 2006. This act promotes our national security in a number of different areas. To help secure our porous borders it authorizes funds for 2,000 new border patrol agents. In addition, it provides $40 million so that local law enforcement agencies have access to the training required to apprehend illegal immigrants, some of whom may be involved in terrorist activities. To safeguard the cargo coming into our ports, it provides money to promote risk-based screening of containers in transit to the United States. The Container Security Initiative, or CSI, is a Department of Homeland Security initiative or program that uses advanced imaging at 36 foreign ports to target and inspect these containers before they can gain entry to the United States. H.R. 1817 not only funds the existing program, but also makes provisions to expand inspections and expand the number of CSI inspectors.

Finally, with regard to deterring a nuclear or biological attack, the act promotes the improvement of the department’s intelligence-gathering capabilities that is necessary to detect and prevent these horrific attacks. It also develops the means to prevent these efforts.

H.R. 1817 provides the authorization to maintain the funds necessary to keep the country secure, while H.R. 2360, the Homeland Security Appropriations Act for Fiscal Year 2006, appropriates the moneys required to do the job. Our committee has approved $30.85 billion for operations and activities of the Department of Homeland Security. This represents an increase of $1.37 billion over last year’s appropriation and $1.3 billion above the President’s budget request. As with the authorization bill, border security is a high priority in this legislation. We have appropriated $1.61 billion for border security and an additional $3.2 billion for customs enforcement, which will allow the Bureau for Immigration and Customs Enforcement, or ICE, to hire an additional 150 criminal investigators and 200 immigration enforcement agents. We have appropriated $9.055 billion to develop vehicle and cargo inspection technologies and we have given the Coast Guard $2.6 billion to perform its homeland security missions.

H.R. 2360 also helps local first responders perform their vital homeland security mission. Among other expenditures we have earmarked $200 million for a first responders training, $400 million for State and local law enforcement terrorism prevention programs and $600 million for firefighter grants. Since last Congress has appropriated over $32 billion to first responders. Again, since September 11, 2001, Congress has provided over $32 billion to our first responders, including terrorism prevention and preparedness, general law enforcement, firefighter assistance, airport security, seaport security, and public health preparedness.

And this year’s share of that funding continues to grow.

Finally, H.R. 2360 goes a long way toward helping us to maintain security at our transportation hubs and places deemed to be critical infrastructure. We have directed moneys for air cargo security, rail security and trucking security. We have earmarked $1.3 billion toward research and development, including $651 million to develop radiological, nuclear, chemical, biological and high explosives countermeasures designed to protect power plants, other industrial properties, and the people that work in or live near those particular facilities. These programs are expensive, but no mission is more important than safeguarding the country against the threat of attack by chemical, biological or nuclear or biological or radioactive or other thinkable attacks, and we are doing all we can to protect ourselves.

These three bills, taken together, the First Responders Act, the Homeland Security Authorization Act, and Homeland Security Appropriations Act reveal that the gentleman from California (Chairman Cox), an extraordinary man who the President quite wisely nominated to become the head of the Securities and Exchange Commission and willing to take the job. Chairman Cox and the rest of the Homeland Security Committee possess the highest possible commitment to keeping our Nation safe from terrorist attack and from other catastrophic events. While all these measures were thoroughly debated in the committee, they all passed to the floor with relative ease, a testament to the timeless adage that so aptly characterizes our political process. In America, debates on homeland security, like those regarding partisan politics, end at the water’s edge.

And with that I would like now to turn to some of my colleagues who have joined me here tonight from the Homeland Security Committee, each of whom, many of whom, bring very interesting skills and background to this issue. And the first Member of the committee I would like to draw your attention to is a good friend, my colleague from the 10th district of Texas. In addition to working on the International Relations and Science Committees, he also serves with me on, as I mentioned, the Homeland Security Committee where he is assigned to the Subcommittee on the Prevention of Nuclear and Biological Attack and the Subcommittee on Management, Integration and Oversight.

My colleague is a former Texas deputy attorney general and chief of terrorism and national security in the Department of Justice for the Western Judicial District of Texas. Further, because of his expertise in homeland security affairs, the Governor of Texas appointed him to be the adviser to the Governor’s office on homeland security. So with that, I would like to introduce to all of you my good friend from the 10th District of Texas (Mr. McCaul).

Mr. McCaul. Mr. Speaker, I would like to also thank the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. Dent) for managing this important debate on probably what is the most important issue facing this Nation today. As we heard the names of the men and women who served in Iraq and Afghanistan who paid the ultimate sacrifice just a few minutes ago in this Chamber, I say to the families, we remember. We thank you. We will never forget.

Every day I meet, it is part of our job, we meet with the families who have lost loved ones over there. And they all tell me the same thing, and that is, finish the job; I do not want my son to have died in vain. And finish the job we will. We thank you for your sacrifices war or peace so that we do not have to face it here at home. And it has made this Nation more secure in our homeland.

Back home, this Congress has moved faster than ever in passing legislation, which, among other things, fulfills the 9/11 Commission’s recommendations by bolstering the security along our borders and sending the badly needed funding to those areas of our Nation that serve as targets. Indeed, recently the Homeland Security Committee visited Ground Zero. The tragic events of 9/11 are still very much alive and well in that city. We met with the police commissioner. We met with the Liberty Street Firehouse, the fallen heroes, the families who survived that tragic day, who lost so many people. And I can tell you, you can feel it. It is as if it happened just yesterday.

And everything we do in this Congress is to provide the tools necessary to ensure that another 9/11 never happens again in this country. The need for this hard-hitting legislation comes from the United States grave and growing problem with undocumented aliens. An estimated 8 to 12 million undocumented aliens are here in the United States, and it is also estimated that two slip across the border for every one that is apprehended. That means that almost 3 million undocumented aliens enter our country every year; to put it in perspective, roughly the size of the city of Dallas. And in the post-9/11 world, these figures no longer represent just an immigration problem, but rather one of national security.

This Nation is being compromised by our inability to identify those who are coming into our country. And I am convinced that the first step we need to take to solve this problem is to secure our borders and to better enforce the laws currently on the books. Congress knows that our laws are not being part of our national security. Accordingly, we have provided more than $1.5 billion in spending for border protection, immigration enforcement, and related activities in the 109th Congress.

When combining the homeland security authorization and appropriations bill that the House has passed, Congress has supplied funding for all 2,000 border patrol agents recommended by the 9/11 Commission and fully authorized by last year’s intelligence reform bill. These agents will have greater authority to detain and incarcerate illegal immigrants, instead of sending them back into our communities. This legislation was still in court, something very few abide by.

Indeed, we do not have to look too far back in history to see an example of this when Ramsey Yusef entered our country in 1992 and was apprehended. He too failed to show up to the hearing, and instead he joined his fellow colleagues from the bin Laden academy to join the first al Qaeda cell in the United States. He then conspired to blow up the World Trade Center. Fortunately, he was not successful. But that day would come later and his dream would be realized with Osama bin Laden’s dream to bring down the towers that fateful day.

But I say to you, the days of this catch-and-release policy are numbered. Congress has also worked hard to ensure that our agents catch undocumented aliens, we now have somewhere to hold them before they are extradited. Congress has funded over 4,000 new detention beds to help our Federal law enforcement uphold our Nation’s immigration laws.

Our Federal law enforcement officers are being stretched too thin and being asked to do too much. According to current law, immigration laws can only be enforced by Federal law enforcement officials. Couple that with existing policies in most of our big cities and one can easily see why our Federal officers have such a difficult time enforcing the laws on our borders.

This is why I offered an amendment to the Homeland Security Authorization Bill that would fund local law enforcement training at Federal facilities in order to create a force multiplier so that our Federal law enforcement gets the assistance it needs.

These additions will crack down on illegal immigration in between our borders and ultimately lessen the threat of terrorism.

Congress has also passed legislation to make America’s first responders more effective by improving the process by which they receive their resources. The Faster and Smarter Funding For First Responders Act guarantees that the States with the biggest risk and the greatest threats receive the necessary funding to protect their communities. For example, currently Texas, for example, currently ranks last in the amount of homeland security dollars received per person.

And that in a State which claims an international border, the Western White House, and a prominent State capital.

Texas and other States like New York should be receiving more money than those other States with fewer targets. And by closing these gaps in the defense of our homeland, we have learned what our weaknesses are and how to better prepare for, defend against, and preempt a terrorist plot.

And that al Qaeda like al Qaeda like other rogue states like Iran do no harm to America have a track record of being patient and conspiring until they succeed in their terrorist agenda.

In my former job, I was chief of counterterrorism in the Justice Department. I had the Mexican border, the State capital, I had the President’s ranch. I can tell you the threat is very much still alive in this country, and we need to give law enforcement every working on the Committee on the Judiciary and the Committee on the Budget, he also serves with me on the Committee on Homeland Security where he is assigned to the Subcommittee on Protection of Nuclear Critical Infrastructure, Information Sharing, and Terrorism Risk Assessment.

My colleague is a former attorney general for the State of California, that State’s top law enforcement officer; and he is strongly committed to enhancing the quality and depth of congressional oversight of our government’s intelligence gathering and analysis in the provision of homeland security. I would like to introduce the gentleman from California (Mr. Daniel E. Lungren).

Mr. DENT. The next speaker tonight will be joining us in this discussion on homeland security is another good friend who brings to us a great deal of experience. I would like to introduce to you now my colleague from the third district of California. In addition to working on the Committee on the Judiciary and the Committee on the Budget, he also serves with me on the Committee on Homeland Security where he is assigned to the Subcommittee on Protection of Nuclear Critical Infrastructure, Information Sharing, and Terrorism Risk Assessment.

My colleague is a former attorney general for the State of California, that State’s top law enforcement officer; and he is strongly committed to enhancing the quality and depth of congressional oversight of our government’s intelligence gathering and analysis in the provision of homeland security. I would like to introduce the gentleman from California (Mr. Daniel E. Lungren).

Mr. DENT. The next speaker tonight will be joining us in this discussion on homeland security is another good friend who brings to us a great deal of experience. I would like to introduce to you now my colleague from the third district of California. In addition to working on the Committee on the Judiciary and the Committee on the Budget, he also serves with me on the Committee on Homeland Security where he is assigned to the Subcommittee on Protection of Nuclear Critical Infrastructure, Information Sharing, and Terrorism Risk Assessment.

My colleague is a former attorney general for the State of California, that State’s top law enforcement officer; and he is strongly committed to enhancing the quality and depth of congressional oversight of our government’s intelligence gathering and analysis in the provision of homeland security. I would like to introduce the gentleman from California (Mr. Daniel E. Lungren).

Mr. DANIEL E. LUNGREN of California. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman and commend him for having this Special Order.

When we talk about homeland security, we have to talk about those investigative techniques that are necessary for us to be able to forestall terrorism, terrorist attacks on our homeland; and the points that I would like to make is prompted by comments that aids to the ranking Democrat on the Committee on the Judiciary of the United States, the gentleman from California (Mr. Daniel E. Lungren), who pointed to the importance of the Homeland Security Act of 2002. Congress has supplied funding for all 2,000 border patrol agents, which was one of the points I would like to make today.
States Senate said that he would introduce legislation aimed at limiting the government’s ability to detain material witnesses indefinitely.

The reason I mention this is that this is just a part of an overall criticism of this administration’s handling of the war on terror and the way it has engaged the community. As a matter of fact, the New York Times recently described it this way: that we, that is the Federal Government, are “thrust into a Kafkaesque world of indefinite detention without charge, secret evidence, and baseless accusations.” Dozens of people, some were held for weeks and even months and the majority were never even charged with a crime. The Times sees, the “Bush administration twist the American system of due process.”

An interesting article appeared today in the National Review by Andrew McCarthy, who is a former federal prosecutor who has actually prosecuted some of the major terrorist cases in this country, that aptly responds to these criticisms of this effort by the Federal law enforcement community.

He says, in point of fact, material witness detentions have been with us for decades pursuant to duly enacted law. They’re found in section 3144 of title 18 of the U.S. Code. They were used countless times prior to 9/11. Hysteria aside, it should come as no surprise that these are detentions without charges since by definition the person being detained is being detained as a witness, not being charged with a crime.

What would require baseless accusations would be to hold such a person as a defendant, which is precisely what the government refrains from doing in detaining on material witness law. The proceedings, moreover, involve secret evidence only in the sense that all proceedings before the grand jury, whether they involve terrorism, unlawful gambling or anything in between, are secret by law. The lawyer is given information about its champions sees into the public domain, it routinely complains about the reprehensible violation of grand jury secrecy rules, a useful diversion from dealing with the substance of any suspicions.

Mr. McCarthy goes on. There were many, many people who were identified in that investigation of having had some connection or another with the 19 suicide attackers and their al Qaeda support network. Some of those connections seem intimate, some attenuated; but all of them had to be run down. Just imagine what the 9/11 Commission would have said if they had not been.

So here is the problem, says Andrew McCarthy. You identify a large number of people who at a minimum have information that might be vital to protecting against terrorist attacks and who might in fact be terrorists or at least facilitators. It is very early in the investigation, so you do not have sufficient evidence to charge them with a crime or to say conclusively either that they are not dangerous or they are willing to tell you what they know rather than flee.

What do you do? It would be irresponsible to do nothing, but you cannot watch these people 24-7. There are not enough grand juries, federal judges, or federal agents for that. Well, the law does not require you to do nothing. The law which existed before 9/11 but used here permits the government to detain people for a brief time in order to compel their information. That information might be vital.

Contrary to what you might think from the latest spate of coverage and from the comments to aides of the ranking member of the Judiciary Committee on the Senate side, the government may not sweep innocent people up and hold them in secret.

While grand jury proceedings are supposed to be kept from the New York Times, government counsel is not required to keep secret from the court. A prosecutor has to go to court and get a material witness arrest warrant. This means the arrest does not happen unless the government satisfies a Federal judge that there is reason to believe, A, the person at issue has information that would be important to an ongoing investigation and B, the person might flee without providing that information to the grand jury or the court unless the person is given the grand jury or some other court proceedings.

And that is not all. Mr. McCarthy goes on to tell us the arrested witness, even though he is not being charged with a crime, still enjoys some kinds of protections that are afforded to actual defendants. The witness must promptly be presented upon arrest to a judge so that a neutral official can advise him of why he is being held. More efficiently if the government can immediately appoint him at public expense if he cannot afford an attorney. Indeed, if he is a foreign national, the United States is obligated by law to advise him that he is right to have his consulate counsel. And frequently the consulate will not only obtain counsel on behalf of its citizen but will also closely monitor the case, including by demands for information from the U.S. State Department.

The lawyer is given information about why the witness is being detained. Counsel is permitted to be present at any interview of the witness by the government. And although counsel is not permitted to accompany the witness inside the Federal grand jury, no witness, material or otherwise, has that right, the government is not permitted to interview the witness outside the grand jury unless counsel allows it.

In addition, at any time during the course of the detention, counsel is permitted to make a bail application to the court; and if the judge is satisfied that the bail offered vitiates the risk of flight, the witness is freed on the promise to appear for his testimony.

Furthermore, if at any point the length of detention or the condition of the witness’s confinement actually offends the witness’s fundamental rights, counsel may submit a habeas corpus petition seeking the witness’s immediate release.

Mr. Speaker, I have to ask, how is this responsive to this criticism? How is this putting people outside the bounds of law? How is that having this administration twisting the Constitution in some way?

It is, I would suggest, Mr. Speaker, the kind of hyperbole, this Kafkaesque misstatement which makes it more difficult for us to do our duty with respect to homeland security. We need to have those investigative tools that have been used against organized crime, that have been used against organized drug dealers and organizations. We need to be able to use those same investigative techniques, those same prosecutorial tools against those who would destroy us as a Nation, against those who have allied with those who would destroy us, and it is the job of any American, man, woman or child, anywhere in the world, combatant or non-combatant.

We are in a new world, a world of terror, in which we have to respond in ways that are consistent with the Constitution, but ways that allow us to protect ourselves in a proper and forceful way. And these kinds of criticisms that come from the outside, whether it is with respect to Guantanamo or whether it is with respect to the use of any of these laws which allow our application of the law against material witnesses, these kinds of attacks weaken our ability to do the job.

And with respect to my second point, let me talk briefly about what we have done here in the House of Representatives to respond to the demand for us to respond to this unique challenge that is the challenge of terrorism.

One cannot criticize a Congress for responding as best it could. It could do the direct aftermath of 9/11. One cannot criticize Congress for doing as Congress always does in attempting to respond to some problems, throwing money at it. But one can criticize Congress at a time it has to take a pause and look at what it has done and seen what it can perhaps do better. And that is what we have done with the various bills that we have passed out of the House that were mentioned by the gentleman from Texas (Mr. McCaul). One of the things that we did in that was respond to the recommendations of the 9/11 Commission report when they said homeland security assistance should be based strictly on an objective, non-political assessment of risks and vulnerabilities. The assessments should consider the threat of an attack, localities vulnerability to an attack, and the possible consequences of an attack.

Secondly, they told us, Congress should not make this money as a pork barrel. Third, they said, Federal homeland security assistance should not remain a program for general revenue sharing. Fourth, they told us, the Federal Government should develop specific benchmarks for evaluating community needs and require that spending decisions be made in accordance with those benchmarks. Fifth, they told us, each State should receive funding based on an analysis of how funds are allocated and spent within the State.

Finally, they said, each city and State should have a minimum infrastructure for emergency response.

2200

This is precisely what we have done with the two bills that have been mentioned before. We have said that rational risk assessment should drive our strategy, should drive our tactics and should drive our funding.

The House Committee on Homeland Security, with the leadership of the gentleman from California (Chairman Cox), created the Faster and Smarter Funding for First Responders Act. This bill will reduce the across-the-board formula for providing homeland security funds to State and local responders from .75 to .25 percent. Therefore, under this bill, a greater amount of funds will be disbursed solely based on risk assessment.

In April of this year new-Secretary Michael Chertoff testified before our committee regarding the need within DHS to analyze risk-based prioritization and management. He said one of the goals before him is to “build a culture in which the disparate pieces of information are being transmitted to our analysts so that they, who have the benefit of the fuller picture, can properly analyze all of our information and inform our decision-making.” We do need to make informed decisions.

So, Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for having this Special Order tonight and for having the opportunity to recount some of the things that are necessary for us to do to provide for the defense of our homeland and understand that this threat remains.

The biggest challenge we have here today is that the longer we are successful in forestalling terrorist attacks, the more difficult it is to explain to people why we need to continue to keep our defenses up, the harder it is to explain that we do not have a bumper-to-bumper happenstance. Rather, it is because of strong work done by brave men and women involved in the protection of our homeland that allow us to be safer than we would be otherwise.

The worst thing we could possibly do is to not maintain our persistence and our dedication, our true dedication to doing those things that are necessary to protect it, despite the criticism of those who easily look at law enforcement, look at homeland security, the community, and saying they are going too far too fast.

Contrary to that, we know we have not done enough, and while in the Congress are required to provide the oversight to ensure that there are not abuses in the system and to ensure that no prosecutor, no law enforcement agent takes advantage of those tools we have given them, we also must make sure that they are not cowed by criticism from doing the job that they need to do.

I thank the gentleman for the time.

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to thank the gentleman from Texas (Mr. MCCAUL) and the gentleman from California (Mr. DANIEL E. LUNGREN). I think we have heard quite clearly from these individuals who have tremendous and deep experience in law enforcement in their States. They bring a perspective here that is very valuable to the Committee on Homeland Security and, frankly, to the security of our Nation.

The next person I would like to introduce tonight also has a great deal of experience in law enforcement. Acting director today, he has been as a first responder. He was the sheriff of King County, Washington. That is the Seattle area, for those of you not from the State of Washington, but the gentleman from Washington’s (Mr. REICHERT), again, is just loaded with experience as a first responder or a first preventer.

Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Washington (Mr. REICHERT), my colleague, former sheriff and extraordinary member of the Committee on Homeland Security.

Mr. REICHERT. Mr. Speaker, I thank my good friend from Pennsylvania and commend him for sponsoring this hour tonight.

We have heard about the Faster Smarter First Responder Act. We have talked about risk assessment. We have talked about the PATRIOT Act. We have talked about better cooperation and those things that we have done as a member of the Committee on Homeland Security to support first responders.

As a freshman Member and law enforcement officer of 33 years, as my friend has indicated, I am honored to be a member of the Committee on Homeland Security to represent the thoughts, ideas, needs and concerns of first responders across the Nation. The role of the first responder has changed since September 11, and it is important that they be prioritized and equipped accordingly. In the first months of this session, we have given them priority risk-based funding and brought them into important homeland security decisions.

What I want to do tonight is to really focus on where the rubber meets the road and to just take a moment to look back and then take a look forward.

Where were first responders in 1972 when I started out as a cop, as a 21-year-old, naive police officer? The things that we did back in 1972 through the 1970s and into the 1980s was to respond to crimes, to operate from our police cars and answer burglary calls and respond to other crime needs in our community and work with local police departments and local school districts.

Then in the 1980s, we moved ahead and we actually ended up with some additional tools. We look back to 1972, and I think about what I would use for tools? We had a police car, a gun and a badge essentially, and a pair of handcuffs. As we moved forward into the 1980s and into the 1990s, we ended up with tools like DNA, an automated finger print identification system, and I know it sounds funny, computers started to come onto the scene. So we added those tools to our arsenal of crime-fighting weapons.

Then we find ourselves in the 1990s, also in the middle of community policing and our efforts to work with the community to solve not only crime in the communities but to improve the quality of life, to interact with leaders of the community, to sit down and listen to their needs and concerns and come up with some solutions to neighborhoods, even as far as painting over graffiti and towing away old cars. That was what police officers did in the 1970s, 1980s and 1990s.

Then came along September 11 and our role changed forever, and as my good friend, the gentleman from California (Mr. DANIEL E. LUNGREN) just said, we now live in a different world.

After September 11, the role of the first responder has changed. It still includes those things that we talked about, the stuff that cops do every day, helping people, arresting crooks, criminals on the streets of our cities across this country, but the added responsibility now of also being a part of the team and protecting our homeland, and they truly are on the front line of that effort.

In our local community in Seattle we have a Joint Analytical Center where police officers from local police departments are assigned to the Federal intelligence task force. We have a regional intelligence task force gathering information within our specific region in the Northwest and sharing with the FBI Joint Analytical Center. That information is analyzed, prioritized, and then assigned to the joint terrorism task force where, again, local police detectives are a part of and member of and participate in investigating and following up those leads that are not prioritized at the analytical center. Every day, cops on the streets today are following up leads to find terrorists, people who are in this country to do us harm, and we in the Committee on Homeland Security are here to support that effort.

We would have never thought years ago that police officers on the street would have to respond to calls or train in HazMat uniforms. We would have never thought 5, 10, 15 years ago that we would have had to worry about our police officers and first responders responding to a dirty bomb, a biothreat, or some other weapon of mass destruction, but these are the things today that our local police officers are trying to deal with, and it is a tough, tough job.

So let us not forget them. Let us support them and we will continue to do our work on the Committee on Homeland Security, and I am proud to be a member of that committee.

I thank the gentleman so much for the time to speak tonight on the role of first responders.

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to thank the gentleman from Washington (Mr. REICHERT) for sharing his thoughts and perspectives with us, again a 33-year first responder and police officer from the Seattle year.

Now, I yield to the gentleman from Alabama (Mr. ROGERS), another fine individual, member of the committee, from the Third District of Alabama. In addition to working on the Committee on Armed Services and the Committee on Agriculture, he also serves with me on the Committee on Homeland Security. That is where I am assigned to the subcommittee on Homeland Security.

Now, I yield to the gentleman from Alabama (Mr. ROGERS) of the Committee on Homeland Security, and I am proud to be a member of that committee.

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the gentleman from Alabama for his comments as well and appreciate his leadership on the Committee on Homeland Security.

I would now like to further this conversation tonight, this Special Order and this discussion with the American people, and I would like to say a few words about the interrelationship between immigration and homeland security.

While so many immigrants who come to this country do so legally and with the sole intention of seeking a better life, there are those who have links to terrorist organizations or who come here to do us harm. To be fully effective, then, the homeland security programs need to contain measures to curb illegal immigration and to prevent those who would seek to propagate acts of violence from crossing international borders.

Mr. Speaker, I yield the floor to the gentleman from New York (Mr. ROGERS) to discuss the camera system that monitors our Nation's northern and southern borders.

Unfortunately, this system is not working as planned. What began as a program to monitor the border crossing of illegal immigrants, drug trafficker, and even terrorists has morphed into what one of our witnesses called "a major project gone awry.

According to a 2004 GSA audit, the problems go even further. For example, the initial $2 million contract was awarded without full competition. Just 1 year later that same contract ballooned to over $200 million, again without full competition, and the problems do not stop there.

The GSA audit also reported significant issues relating to the surveillance system itself: 60-foot poles that were paid for but never installed; sensitive equipment that failed to meet electrical codes; an operations center where contractors and government employees did little or no work for over a year; and, not surprisingly, numerous cost overruns. To top it off, in September 2003, the GSA abruptly ended the maintenance contract. This left approximately 70 border sites without monitoring equipment.

Mr. Speaker, the American people deserve better. What we have here, plain and simple, is gross mismanagement of a multimillion-dollar contract. This agreement has violated Federal contracting rules, and it has wasted taxpayers' dollars. Worst of all, it has seriously weakened our Nation's border security.

Before DHS spends another $2.5 billion on a replacement system known as the America's Shield Initiative, we need to first fix the system we have got. With Federal dollars scarce and budgets tight, it is vital that the American people know what they are getting.

Thanks to the work of this Congress and many of my colleagues here tonight, we are improving the safety of our Nation's northern and southern borders. Known as the Integrated Surveillance Intelligence System, or ISIS, these cameras are a critical link to highlight some of our accomplishments this evening.

Mr. Speaker, this Congress has done many good things to help secure our homeland, some of which we are discussing tonight, but in other areas, we still have a ways to go.

Take, for example, the issue of border surveillance. About 2 weeks ago, the subcommittee I chair held a hearing to discuss the camera system that monitors our Nation's northern and southern borders. Known as the Integrated Surveillance Intelligence System, or ISIS, these cameras are a critical link for helping secure our border.

Unfortunately, this system is not working as planned. What began as a program to monitor the border crossing of illegal immigrants, drug trafficker, and even terrorists has morphed into what one of our witnesses called "a major project gone awry.

The REAL ID Act also makes it easier to deny asylum to and deport would-be terrorists. Prior to REAL ID, individuals who allegedly committed certain terrorist acts could be denied admission to the U.S., but an anomaly within U.S. immigration law provided that once here, individuals who had committed these same acts could not be deported. The REAL ID Act rectifies this situation.

In addition, terrorist organizations have been using front organizations and alleged charities to support and provide cover for their terrorist activities. As President Bush has stated, "International terrorist networks make frequent use of charitable or humanitarian organizations to obtain clandestine, financial and other support for their activities." Money given to terrorist organizations is then laundered into the system. Unfortunately, prior to the act, an alien could provide funding or other material support to many terrorist organizations and then escape deportation merely by claiming he did not know the funds would be spent on weapons or explosives.

The REAL ID Act, by contrast, directs that an alien who provides funds or other material support to a terrorist is deportable. If he knew or reasonably should have known that he was giving to a terrorist organization.

Finally, the REAL ID Act provides an important component to the physical security of the United States. In 1996, Congress mandated the building of a 14-mile border fence inland from the Mexican border in the San Diego area. The goal was to curb illegal entries into the most heavily trafficked corner of the United States and to guarantee security at the U.S. naval base in San Diego. More than 8 years later, that fence is still not completed, in large part because the construction is tied up in litigation. In order to facilitate immigration control and other important security perimeter, the act waives all Federal laws necessary to ensure the expeditious completion of this structure.

Illegal immigration as a security issue was also the subject of portions of the Homeland Security Authorization Act for fiscal year 2006. The act fully funded the hiring and training of some 2,000 border patrol agents. It also clarifies the existing authorities of State and local law enforcement personnel to apprehend, detain, remove, and transport illegal aliens in the routine course of their duty.

Further, it buttresses up that policy determination that local police have the right to help enforce U.S. immigration laws by appropriating $40 million in training funds for these same municipal authorities. These funds are available to those communities that choose to send officers to the Department of Homeland Security programs run by ICE, Immigrations and Customs Enforcement, designed to train and certify these officers in the enforcement of Federal immigration laws. Having officers trained in this way can only work to the detriment of a would-be terrorist detained as a result of his committing a crime unrelated to national security.

As I have described, the Homeland Security has a strong border security component, but so does the homeland appropriation bill. The appropriation bill provides $19.4 billion for border protection, immigration enforcement, and related activities, an increase over our fiscal year 2005 enacted levels and $285 million over the President's budget request. These funds support a robust revitalization of immigration enforcement efforts, both along our borders and within the interior of the Nation.

Specific funding includes, but is not limited to, $3.2 billion for Immigration and Customs Enforcement, providing an additional 150 criminal investigators and 300 immigration enforcement agents; $61 million for border security technology, including surveillance and unmanned aerial vehicles; $20 million for replacement border patrol aircraft; $690 million to fund 3,870 beds to house illegal immigrants detained in U.S. facilities; $61 million to fund 2,000 immigration enforcement operations teams; and $211 million for transportation and removal of undocumented aliens.

All these measures I have previously described are designed to enforce immigration laws, but we must also remember that in doing so we are contributing to the preservation of our homeland security as well. By preventing access to this country by undocumented aliens, by removing those who are here illegally, by training our local police officers to help enforce immigration laws, we will increase the odds that a would-be terrorist seeking to enter our country will be stopped before he can wreak any acts of violence against our citizenry.

Another comment I would like to make with respect to this whole issue of homeland security is this. We have heard from a number of speakers tonight about what the United States Congress is doing to make our homeland more safe and more secure. We have heard about the PATRIOT Act, the Homeland Security Authorization Act, the First Responder Bill, and the appropriations act. But, really, the bottom line is, why are we going through this? The events of 9/11 should have woken up everyone. I believe they did. Many of us lost friends. I had a relative in the first tower on the 91st floor who escaped, luckily. The plane entered the building on the 80th floor, and he lived to talk about it.

So we have all been touched by this in one way or another, and certainly as a freshman Member of Congress I spend a great deal of time going to orientation sessions and trying to make sense of a lot of information. I have felt sometimes that being a Member of Congress is sometimes like drinking water out of a fire hose. A lot of information is thrown at you very quickly, and you do your best to absorb it all.

When I was up at Harvard University to be engaged in the orientation program, I met an interesting individual up there, a man name Graham Allison, who wrote a book called 'Nuclear Terrorism: The Ultimate Preventable Catastrophe,' written by Graham Allison, but he quotes an individual named Suleiman Abu Gheit, who was Osama bin Laden's official press spokesman. Nine months after the 9/11 attacks, Suleiman Abu Gheit made this announcement, and it was put out on al Qaeda Web sites. He says: 'We have the right to kill 4 million Americans, 2 million of them children, and to exile twice as many and wound another one million. And in addition to all of this, there will require killing 4 million Americans.'

This is very frightening. And I would suggest to everyone here today that 4 million Americans is a very big number. On September 11 we lost nearly our own 3,000 people, and to get to 4 million, Al Qaeda is quite clear in their intentions, and it is my belief that they intend to pursue whatever weapons are available to them to maximize the amount of damage they can upon the American people. And that is why our committee is so dedicated, is so committed to making sure that our folks at Homeland Security have what they need to do the job to protect us.

Finally, I want to turn to another man who is a great leader and a friend from my home State of Pennsylvania. I would like to introduce my colleague from the Seventh District of Pennsylvania, Mr. Weldon, who is a member of the Committee on Armed Services and the Committee on Science, he also serves with me on the House Homeland Security Committee, where he is vice chairman.

He is also active on the Subcommittee on Emergency Preparedness, Science and Technology, as well as the Subcommittee on Intelligence, Information Sharing and Risk Assessment. He is a former first responder himself, an active student of international relations, and an expert on ballistic missile proliferation.

He, too, is an author of a highly acclaimed book, "Countdown to Terror." I have been talking about books, so I might as well mention this one too. It has been talked about quite a bit in the press, and it highlights his concerns about terrorist failures and the spread of ballistic missile technology in Iran. So without any further discussion from me, Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Pennsylvania. (Mr. WELDON.)

Mr. WELDON of Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, I thank my good friend and of ballistic missile technology in Iran. So without any further discussion from me, Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. WELDON).

Mr. WELDON of Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, I thank my good friend and colleague for yielding to me and thank him for this outstanding Special Order. I hope that our colleagues tonight have been listening, because they have seen an outstanding assemblage of excellent young Members of Congress who are picking up the mantle and taking the lead on homeland security issues in our committee.

This is the first year for the full operation of the authorization committee for homeland security funding and oversight, and it is extremely important that we get off to a good start. I just want to say, as a Member who was very aggressively behind this committee, I am overwhelmingly pleased and positive with the type of membership we have on this committee. My colleague, the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. DENT), is an example of an outstanding leader who is committed; and he has brought together an assemblage of Members tonight who have articulated the various parameters of the concerns we face, from first responders, to our borders, to protecting our ports and our airports, and for all of the significant work that has been accomplished under Secretary Ridge, now being accomplished under our current new Secretary and under the able leadership of the chairman of our House Homeland Security Committee, the gentleman from California (Mr. Cox), and our appropriations subcommittee, the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. ROGERS).

Mr. Speaker, later on this evening I will be offering another Special Order that will reveal some absolutely amazing ideas for the American people. I will divulge tonight the information that prior to 9/11, not only did we know about the Mohammed Atta cell, but that the Special Forces Command in our military actually wanted to take action against that cell, and we did not take that action. I will be discussing our intelligence in detail, and by following through on a special project that was initiated under the leadership of General Shelton focusing on al Qaeda. But at this point in time, I wanted to stop by and thank my distinguished Members, thank the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. DENT) for his leadership, and say to those who participated in this Special Order, if we are going to win the battle and protect the homeland, all Members must play the critical role that you have played tonight and pick a specialty area that you have a focus on so we as a team can make sure that our country is properly protected.

THIRTY-SOMETHING WORKING GROUP

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. MCHENRY). Under the Speaker's announced policy of January 4, 2005, the gentleman from Florida (Mr. MEEK) is recognized for half the time until midnight, H 477.

Mr. MEEK of Florida. Mr. Speaker, once again it is an honor to address the House, and the 30-Something Working Group would like to send our appreciation to the gentlewoman from California (Ms. PELOSI) for allowing us to have the time to come to the floor once again to talk about issues that are facing everyday Americans.

The 30-Something Working Group was created in the 108th Congress, some 3 years ago, to start talking about issues that focus on young people, children and grandchildren, about their future and the direction this country is going in. Every 30-Something Working Group hour, we talk about issues that are important to young Americans and Americans in general should know about, but we also talk about what Democrats are doing that is different than the majority side.

I celebrate the fact that in this democracy we have an opportunity to give our views and opinions as it relates to what is happening and what is not happening. I think both are very, very important. For us to continue to move in the direction that we moved in since we took control of the Congress, it is important that we have not only factual information to share with the Members and the American people, but to make sure that we are consistent.

Tonight I am joined by the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. Ryan). We will talk about issues that are at the forefront of the debate here in Washington, D.C. One is Social Security. Two, we want to continue not necessarily in this order, that is we have to make sure that we keep our end of the deal as it relates to their veterans affairs once they get back.

We have individuals that have served in past conflicts on behalf of this country, that have returned to the very freedom that we live under today. We cannot leave them behind. We cannot forget them, or turn our back on them. In many places we will point out where there are those in Congress fighting on behalf of veterans, and those in Congress who say they are fighting on behalf of veterans, but it is not coming out on the other end.

I want to talk about the Social Security proposal that has been put forward by not only the President and some Republican leaders, not only in the House but in the other body. I think it is important that the American people understand that in Washington, D.C., all you may see and hear may not be true. It is also important that we point out those inequities because anything that goes toward private accounts, I think that the American people need to continue to be very wary of. You can dress a private account up and put a fake mustache on it and privatization of Social Security is still privatization of Social Security.

The bottom line is across the board with both of these proposals, Americans will lose benefits if we go into private accounts. Will private accounts deal with the Social Security solvency issue? I must add that is 47 years away; 100 percent of benefits will still be provided to 48 million Americans, those 33 million in retirement, the rest who are receiving disability and survivor benefits. It will be here. What are we asking for on this side as it relates to the Democratic leadership, not only the gentlewoman from California (Ms. PELOSI) but also the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. HOYER), the Democratic leadership, not only the chairmen (Mr. MENENDEZ), our chairman, and our vice chairman, the gentleman from South Carolina (Mr. CLYBURN), we have not only an ongoing, but are working toward a bipartisan approach.

Mr. Speaker, I must also add there is a discussion going on now, there was a press conference last week talking about we have a bill and private accounts. It is not as bad as the President's bill, but it is starting us off on the wrong road. At the press conference it was admitted by the sponsors of the bill this will not deal with the solvency of Social Security. I do not know why we are trying to fool the American people. I do not know why we are going through this dance that we call here in Washington the Potomac two-step, trying to fake out the American people.

The gentleman from Ohio (Mr. RYAN) and I are going to attempt to share not necessarily with the Members exactly what they are doing, and we are here, elected by the people from our districts, and also representing the people of the United States of America, to make sure that they know exactly what is going on.

Tonight is not about the 30-Something Working Group and what we want to talk about. It is factual. It is not the Tim Ryan report or the Kendrick Meek report, it is what is known as fact, and it is not party validators. And we will continue to come to the floor to point out factual inequities in what the majority side is talking about. We want to make sure that the American people understand the difference, the difference between the leadership of veterans, or not; and the difference between leadership on behalf of Social Security and making sure that we do not leave the present generation and future generations behind. I talked last week about the issue of the ever-growing deficit. Guess what, we are going to have to pay it off, and I do mean all of us, some
Mr. MEEK of Florida. Mr. Speaker, the Members need to truly understand this. We know where we are as Democrats. We are sold on the side of the issue of dealing with the solvency of Social Security beyond the 48 years it will be solvent, and beyond 80 percent benefits that individuals will receive after that.

The gentlewoman from Florida (Ms. WASSERMAN SCHULTZ) and I have been working on this issue. We have had town hall meetings and meetings in communities. Democrats have had some 900 town hall meetings throughout the country and will continue to have more to make sure that we fight against this issue of privatization and make sure that we make sure that Social Security is there for future generations.

Ms. WASSERMAN SCHULTZ. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding to me.

It is wonderful to be here with both of them, my two esteemed colleagues from the next generation in the United States Congress, and I have been able to listen to a little of what they have been saying on my way over here.

A few weeks ago when we were talking about this before the latest version of the privatization scheme was put on the table, we were talking about how interesting it is that no matter how many times they are told no, they still keep coming back with the same concept, just a different version. And I know I analogized it is like when I speak to my children and they keep asking me and asking me if they can do something that I do not think they should do for one reason or another, whether it is not responsible or they are not old enough, and they try a lot of different versions of the same thing, and the answer is still no because I have carefully reviewed what they want to do, as their parent, and decided it is not the best timing right now or

If you are not a recipient of Social Security, you have a family member that is a recipient of Social Security. If you do not have a family member that is a recipient of Social Security, you will have a family member that will be a recipient of Social Security. That is the good thing about America, is that we care about one another. These individuals work every day and may hurt themselves on the job, and they count on Social Security.

Mr. Speaker, it is once again an honor to have the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. RYAN) to share this hour, and also to let the Members of this House, to let them know exactly what the truth is.

Mr. RYAN of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, I think it is important as we start tonight and get things rolling here to talk about what the new proposal is. The 30-Something Working Group has taken a step in another direction as far as our billboards. We are going to put some new graphics. It is like we are in the locker room during half-time of the football game.

I think it is important to know where we end up after the second proposal that was proposed in Congress. Democrats have not seen one plan yet, but the important thing for the American people to understand is the second proposal that is now circulating around Congress ends up at the same exact place that the first proposal put us.

So here we have on our little chart here everything broken down. The original Bush proposal is on the right, and the newest proposal that is circulating in Congress is on the left.

Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Florida (Mr. MEEK) may remember that the first proposal was out of the 12-plus percent, 12.4 percent you pay into Social Security, half by the employer and half by the employee, the Bush proposal was saying that the employee could take up to 4 percent of that and put it in this side private account. Right out of your paycheck, you could save 4 percent but it did not go into a private account. The rest of yours, the 2.2 left from yours and I think the 2.2 left from the employer, would go into the Social Security trust fund. The employer was actually getting a break. They would not have to match. So the Wal-Marts of the world would not have to match their employees’ 4 percent that they put in the private account. So the diversion into the side account is what led to the whole shortfall.

In the second proposal that is now being circulated around Congress, it is just a shell game. All they do, instead of allowing someone to divert the money right away from their paycheck, that is something to Social Security and then Social Security takes a portion of it and puts it into a private account with your name on it. So it is just a typical Potomac two-step.

Mr. MEEK of Florida. Mr. Speaker, that is exactly what they are doing.

Mr. RYAN of Ohio. It is a typical shell game in Washington. All of a sudden we have a new proposal. It is all different. The end result is the same thing. There is money not going into a trust fund that is being diverted into a private account. Here is the kicker. There is going to be a tremendous increase in administrative costs for people trying to have to navigate this body that is going to reduce the benefits that people get. That is why we are here every week talking about the same issue over and over because we are not going to allow any privatization scheme to come before this body that is going to reduce the benefits.

In the first proposal from the paycheck to the private account, the rest goes in Social Security. The second proposal, here is the paycheck, and everything goes to Social Security and then Social Security will then divert it to a private account with your name on it. It is just a shell game to try to sell the new proposal. You can put lipstick on a pig, but it is still a pig.

Mr. MEEK of Florida. Mr. Speaker, the Members need to truly understand this. We know where we are as Democrats. We are sold on the side of the issue of dealing with the solvency of Social Security beyond the 48 years it will be solvent, and beyond 80 percent benefits that individuals will receive after that.

The gentlewoman from Florida (Ms. WASSERMAN SCHULTZ) and I have been working on this issue. We have had town hall meetings and meetings in communities. Democrats have had some 900 town hall meetings throughout the country and will continue to have more to make sure that we fight against this issue of privatization and make sure that we make sure that Social Security is there for future generations.

Ms. WASSERMAN SCHULTZ. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding to me.

It is wonderful to be here with both of them, my two esteemed colleagues from the next generation in the United States Congress, and I have been able to listen to a little of what they have been saying on my way over here.

A few weeks ago when we were talking about this before the latest version of the privatization scheme was put on the table, we were talking about how interesting it is that no matter how many times they are told no, they still keep coming back with the same concept, just a different version. And I know I analogized it is like when I speak to my children and they keep asking me and asking me if they can do something that I do not think they should do for one reason or another, whether it is not responsible or they are not old enough, and they try a lot of different versions of the same thing, and the answer is still no because I have carefully reviewed what they want to do, as their parent, and decided it is not the best timing right now or for whatever reason I have concluded it is not a good idea.

It would be as if one’s teenager came to them and said Mom, Dad, I really want to go to this party, and I want to stay out until 2 o’clock in the morning, and the parent said, no, that is a really bad idea. And when we look at white voters in rural America believe that the President talks about this, the less people like it, it is mindboggling to me. And I am the sort of baby of the group of the three of us, I am a freshman, I was just elected. It is mindboggling to me that they do not want to come to the table now, as we have been asking them to do, and come up with a bipartisan solution.

Privatization balloons the deficit. It cuts benefits; and yet every version of their proposal is to privatize Social Security, and that pulls the safety net out from future retirees and, quite honestly, from people who are about to retire.

When I asked at my live town hall meeting today at 4:30, which was amazing. We got tremendous feedback. But can I tell my colleagues that not one person who participated, and I had over 100 people participate live and 120 people signed on in advance of our beginning, and no one said, “You really need to consider private accounts. We really want you to do this.” I mean, it is time to sit down and put privatization aside, and like in 1983 when Tip O’Neill and Ronald Reagan and Daniel Patrick Moynihan and others in this House in a bipartisan way came up with a solution. It is time.

Mr. RYAN of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?
Mr. MECK of Florida, I yield to the gentleman from Ohio.

Mr. RYAN of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, the gentilewoman just said in a State like Florida that the President won in the last election is not getting the kind of support. Here is an interesting statistic, group of statistics, asking rural voters: “Are Bush’s proposed changes to Social Security mainly consistent with the values of the people in your community or out of step?” And here is the pie chart. All rural voters, consistent with rural voters’ values, 27 percent; out of step with our values, 61 percent. And Bush cleaned Senator Kerry’s clock in rural areas, and 61 percent of rural America believe that the President’s proposed changes to Social Security are out of step with their values. And when we look at white fundamentalists, 55 percent; conservatives, 47 percent; white women, 65 percent; Bush voters, 44 percent; and Southerners, 58 percent.

Why are we having this debate? Why are we having this argument when we have all these other issues that need to be addressed in Congress and the President keeps running against the wall, hitting his head on the wall, and thinking if he keeps running and keeps hitting his head that somehow it is going to change. And when this President in particular, who has done so well in rural areas, is losing support on this issue, how ironic. Ms. WASSERMAN SCHULTZ. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. MECK of Florida. I yield to the gentlewoman from Florida.

Ms. WASSERMAN SCHULTZ. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Florida will continue to yield, if he does not mind my adding one more thing, like I said, and the gentleman from Florida and I have been in Congress for 6 months. I really expected there to be a lot more collegiality in this body. The gentlemen are veterans, now, of this process. I have talked to my Republican freshmen members on the other side. We all expected there to be more of an opportunity to work together, less rancor. It is sort of astonishing, and it is astonishing, I think, to the average American that we are still bickering about this and that we are all sharpening our elbows and digging in and going to our respective corners instead of acknowledging, like we are willing to do, that there is a problem with Social Security.

It is not a crisis like the President has been portraying; but there is a problem, a long-term problem with Social Security, and we need to come together and make some changes. But, unfortunately, the leadership in this Congress, the Republican leadership, just wants to be right, or somehow if they say it enough times, perhaps they think that they will be right when the American people are clearly telling them they are not.

Mr. RYAN of Ohio. Or that they just want to win, Mr. Speaker. If the gentleman will continue to yield, this sometimes is not even about policy. It is about winning the argument, and they are losing; so they are trying to find a new way to win it, and it is just not working out.

Mr. MECK of Florida. And, Mr. Speaker, that is the reason why we are here. It is not about winning or losing under the Capitol dome. It is about the people. I just said that the Republican leadership just want to take an exercept out of this.

There was an article on Friday, and it was in The Washington Post: “GOP Sound the Alarm but didn’t Respond to” the issue of Social Security. And I would recommend Members take a look at this. It was written by Michael Allen. And I just want to take an excerpt out of this.

The gentleman from Ohio (Mr. RYAN) mentioned something about winning, wanting to win. We are here to win on behalf of the American people; and one Republican Member of the other body, not this House but the other body, and I know that Members understand that we have the legislative branch, judicial branch, and executive branch but the legislative branch consists of the House and the Senate. But in the other body, the Senate, the Republicans who take this to a vote and the Democrats try to stop us, we will end up as the winners. That comes from a Member of the other body that is from South Carolina.

Let me just share this with my colleagues. This is not school yard kickball here. This is Social Security, and this is serious business; and this is not about us, as we speak, or about doing the right thing. And it really is stomach-turning when we see individuals taking an end zone dance and talking about what we can do because we can do it.

If I can, I would like to talk a little bit, because we have limited time here tonight, and we can talk about Social Security, but I have to address this issue of not only the Veterans Affairs but what is happening right now in Iraq and Afghanistan. Earlier tonight during the first Democratic hour, members of the Democratic Caucus read the names of those individuals who have fallen in the line of duty, and we honor and we respect them, and on behalf of a grateful country, we appreciate our members’ sacrifices. They paid the ultimate sacrifice, and so did their loved ones.

A lot of mothers and fathers are no longer with us because we asked them, this Congress asked them, to go into battle and protect their lives. And Mr. Speaker, this is the reason why we run not only for Congress. And I hate to hear the gentlwoman from Florida say 6 months. I mean, she spent double-digit years in the State legislature. She has dealt with many of these issues in the Florida house and the Florida senate, and many of those issues are the same here. Unfortunately, the inaction on behalf of the Republican leadership is very disturbing, and I say some of them because I know some are people of good will and want to make sure we do the right thing.

I want to point the attention of the Members, Mr. Speaker, to the June 27, today, I think that was on page A13 of The Washington Post: “VA Gets the Picture, No Shortfall Here.” I just want to take some excerpts out of this article because we have limited time, but we have to make sure that we call a spade a spade, and that is the reason why I like the 30-something Working Group because we put it on the table and let it be known. If anybody wants to make an argument, it is democracy. Bring it on and defend the situations that they are making. But, unfortunately, this is no longer school yard kickball. This is the United States Congress.

“Turns out that $1 billion shortfall for health care funding for our Nation disclosed last week by the House Committee on Veterans’ Affairs hearing is only $1 billion important and vexing dilemmas facing top officials at the Department of Veterans Affairs.”

I am going to go a little further down in the article. It talks about a conversation I had with a conference call, by the Deputy Under Secretary Laura Miller, who said on the May 27 call, “Many of our facilities, medical centers, community-based outpatient clinics, there are about 850 of them in the country, many in rural areas.” Mr. Speaker, “and some open only 1 or 2 days a month.” Not 1 or 2 days a week; 1 or 2 days a month in rural areas.

“And other offices have a picture of Secretary Jim Nicholson prominently displayed. Unfortunately, however,” Ms. Miller continued, “there are many facilities that currently do not have the picture displayed. I am aware that the mailings of the pictures occurred on April 22, 2005. That’s more than 5 full weeks.” It goes on to say that “We are asking that you give this your highest priority.”

This is from Washington, DC. The highest priority, we will continue to ask daily on updates of the status until we are sure that all facilities have a current displayed picture. In the defense of local VA officials, it turns out that Miller was wrong. Not all the photos went out on the 22nd. We are hearing that some officials disagree that the photos should be the highest priority. They are asking that it should not be. Also they are saying what they are focused on right now that these local VA facilities is they are trying to sell furniture to buy prescription drugs on behalf of veterans out there now.

Then it goes on, and, unfortunately, it gets worse. The Secretary, Mr. Nicholson, when he testified in a hearing last week, Nicholson was the author of an April 5 letter to Senators saying “I can assure you that the VA does not need additional funds to continue to provide timely and adequate service.”

Let me just share something with you. The bottom line here, Mr. Speaker, when we have a Secretary of the Department of Veterans Affairs that is more concerned about his picture being displayed in VA hospitals and community-based facilities, some that I must add are only open 1 or 2 days a month, than about the fact that he tearfully here on the floor talking about what we need to do for the troops and for the veterans, but meanwhile, back at the ranch, we have a $1 billion shortfall. And Democrats have tried to do something about it.

All I have to say to the Secretary is, he wants his picture displayed. I am going to put his picture in my office. His picture will no longer be the priority on behalf of veterans. We will to the Hill and fight on behalf of veterans and make sure that they do not have to wait 6 months to be able to see the ophthalmologist.

Mr. Speaker, I am aware that on the time I need to share this with my colleagues, because I think it is important that everyone understands we are about the business of not just saying pouring our chest and saying “we are going to go to Iraq and make sure that we have democracy out there.” We are making sure we keep our promise, not only to those individuals that have served in past conflicts, but are in present conflicts.

So the individuals walking around here talking about what we are going to do, and how long we are going to stay, and there is no plan to make the coalition bigger or no plan really to start talking about how we are going to do that. What is wrong with Republicans? Meanwhile Democrats are here adding amendments to the Committee on the Budget. And I must add again, we all know, and it is important our constituents know, that the majority runs this show that it is Republicans that hold an iron fist line is, they bring bills to the floor, they bring issues to the floor. Some issues we can work with them on. But when it comes down to veterans, to health care, when it comes down to Social Security, is appropriate representation that they need here in Congress to make sure that they get what they need.

Am I emotional about this? You are doing right. I am, because I would not be here under this flag if it was not for individuals that have served this country, day in and day out. Many of them have to put on a prosthetic limb to walk around in the morning. Many of them, individuals who have the kind of functions that they carried out prior to going into a conflict. So, I have no time and no tolerance for the Potomac Two-Step.

Once again, Democrats, people want to know the difference. I am sharing it with them right now. Once again, an amendment in the committee by one of our great Members, the gentleman from Texas (Mr. Edwards), increased health care funding above President Bush’s proposed budget of $1.5 billion, an estimate that the Republican budget plan for $798 million in veterans cuts over 5 years. Once again, a Democratic Member from Texas supported by Democratic members of the Committee on Ways and Means, 15 to 20 votes.

The bottom line is, one of two things needs to happen: Either some individuals on the Republican side have to step up and represent the people that sent them here, or the American people are going to have to make a difference. I will tell Members in closing that I am really, truly not concerned about individuals’ feelings being hurt about what I am sharing with them as it relates to facts and what we are sharing with them as it relates to facts. If we were here talking fiction, I would not be able to sleep well at night.

I want you tonight, this is factual. Individuals can go into the record. As a matter of fact, they can go to nationaljournal.com/members/mark-ups/2005/03/200506812.htm and find it. It is what it is. And if individuals do not want to man up and woman up and lead, then the American people need to make other decisions.

The gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. SMITH), the former chairman of the Committee on Veterans’ Affairs, was removed; not by Democrats, not by the people in his district, but by the Republican Conference. Why? Why? This is Fox News, okay? This is what I am reading right now, Fox News, right off the website. “Smith passed an increase in investment on the Veterans Affairs budget. Why?” This is Fox News, okay? This is what I am reading right now, Fox News, right off the website. “Smith passed an increase in investment on the Veterans Affairs budget. Why?”

I noted when I went and spoke at Memorial Day services this year and Veterans’ Day services on November 11 of last year, that every previous Veterans’ Day and Memorial Day that I was able to participate in as an elected official, even when I was in the military, I was able to thank them. And generally the crowds that come to those events are older folks, senior citizens especially in Florida, veterans of many wars. I was able to say “thank you” from our generation, because prior to now, our generation is the first since before World War II that has never been called to war, that had never had the casualties that the generations before us had. And I was able to thank them for allowing us to stand on their shoulders and live our lives. But I cannot say that any more. I cannot say that any more, because, as was read tonight, the more than 1,500 names that we are in the process of reading, we could have a whole hour just on the Iraq war and our deep concern over that.

But to continue in the gentleman’s thought process about health care for veterans, I visited Walter Reed Army Medical Center a few weeks ago and had an opportunity to visit with soldiers who had come back from Iraq and Afghanistan without their legs, hearing their stories, watching the pain etched in their face, and the dedication that they have. To the person, they wanted to go back, and their regret was they were not able to, they had to leave their comrades behind.

These people are struggling to get the health care they need. I went to Walter Reed Army Medical Center a few weeks ago and at home in South Florida and across the country, our veterans, as the gentleman said, 6 months is not an exaggeration for how long our veterans have to wait to get their health care needs taken care of. Is there anyone here who gives them the proud veterans that have served this country?

We sound so soap-boxish, but your actions have to back up your words. It is really nice to stand on the floor and give a good speech and get all choked up, but what matters is how you cast that vote and what your light up on that board when they put it up there says, and you are either with them or against them. The Members that voted to bring a letter today that were offered in committee and on this floor and who opposed them, in spite of valiant speeches that were made on behalf of those veterans, should be ashamed of themselves.

Mr. RYAN of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman will yield, 70 percent of those currently in Iraq and Afghanistan are under 30, so they are going to need to access this system because they are going to have a lot of years in it.

Mr. Speaker, we are wrapping up here; I think we just have a few minutes left. If you have any e-mails you want to send to us, the address is as follows:

30something.dems@mail.house.gov.

Again, the address is 30something.dems@mail.house.gov.

I received a letter today from a local veteran in Ohio. Korean War veteran Bob Brothers wrote and sent me a copy of a letter to the editor that he was sending. He wrote this after the flag burning amendment that we voted on last week. He calls it, “Conundrum: Congress of the United States is voting on a flag desecration amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America. The riddle is, this allows Congressmen to stand under the American flag and declare, I am patriotic. The pun is these same Congressmen vote against mandatory funding for the Veterans Affairs Department. This demonstrates to me the true hypocrisy of Congressmen and women who vote against mandatory funding for the Veterans Affairs Department. Why are these two items not attached so that courage, honor, and valor become necessary when they enter the Chamber to vote?

“A veteran is a veteran is a veteran. When a young kid I hit the beach in Korea, I did not see any Congressman or Congresswomen, and I was not asked my income before going ashore. I will not vote for anyone who tries to show they are patriotic by voting for the flag desecration amendment and voting against mandatory funding for the Veterans Affairs Department. Iraqi Freedom veterans take note: as soon as you are discharged, you will begin a life’s work to get this system for them. A vote for the flag desecration amendment coupled with a vote against mandatory funding for the Veterans Affairs Department brings shame on the very symbol of liberty and freedom that my comrades gave their lives for, and more since it all began over 200 years ago. Not giving the care veterans earned and deserved is burning the flag.”

That was from Bob Brothers, a Korean War veteran from my district who is at every Veterans’ Day event that there is. They are committed to the community. So I just wanted to share that.

We have a long way to go here, and I think the point tonight is, the argument is not just about Social Security and how we are going to fix a problem that does not exist for 40 years, or are we going to address the veterans issues that we face today.

Ms. WASSERMAN SCHULTZ. Mr. Speaker, I think that we have demonstrated here tonight, as we will in the future, that there are so many issues facing our generation, and we need to make sure that we take this country back in the right direction so that when our generation inherits the results of the decisions that we are making here, that we are not struggling to make sure that we can clean up the mess that was left for us.

Mr. MEEK of Florida. Mr. Speaker, once again, we had another good 30-something Working Group Special Order. We look forward to coming back after we celebrate our independence on the Fourth of July. As my colleagues know, here on the Washington Mall we have quite a celebration and throughout America in many small towns and cities. We will be coming back to the floor to talk about Social Security, federal information, and to talk about how Democrats are part of the solution.

I must say, once again, we are not here to generalize. We have some Republicans on the other end that are totally against the privatization of Social Security and totally for the full funding, as the gentleman from New Jersey (Chairman SMITH) was, as it relates to veterans affairs, doing better by our veterans. Seventy percent of the individuals who are fighting in Iraq are young people who are doing what they have to do.

Mr. Speaker, with that, we would like to not only thank the Democratic leader but the Democratic leadership for allowing us to come together.

U.S. INTELLIGENCE

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. MCHenry). Under the Speaker’s announced policy of January 4, 2005, the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. WELDON) is recognized for 44 minutes.
Mr. WELDON of Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, I rise this evening to discuss for the next 45 minutes the most important topic that will allow us to protect the homeland, provide for the security of the American people and our allies and our troops around the world: our intelligence.

Last Thursday, Mr. Speaker, I had a meeting with the very able and distinguished chairman of the Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence, the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. HOEKSTRA). We discussed many things, one of which was a source that I had hoped that we could get some information to assist us in understanding the threats in Iraq and the Middle East, and especially in regard to Iran.

I said to the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. HOEKSTRA), I am going to make a prediction to you. Based on my source, I said, common wisdom tells us that the winner of the election in Iran that will take place on Friday and Saturday will probably be the Rafsanjani. He is the name that most pundits have said would be the likely winner in a two-person runoff against the more conservative and not well-known mayor of Tehran. But I said to the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. HOEKSTRA), based on information we had, the election was not going to be close; it will be a landslide. But the conservative mayor of Tehran, a relative unknown, had been anointed by Ayatollah Homeni in Iran and he would in fact win the Iranian election.

We all saw the results. Mr. Speaker, on Saturday night and Sunday morning as, in fact, the mayor of Tehran won the election with a margin of 62 to 38 percent, an overwhelming landslide. I raise this issue, Mr. Speaker, because good intelligence and good information is the most critical tool that we can have over the next several years and decades to protect our homeland.

Mr. Speaker, what this now means is that when that recommendation was discussed within that Federal agency, the lawyers in the administration at that time said, you cannot pursue contact with the FBI against that cell. Mohamed Atta was involved in New York City, along with the other terrorists.

I have also learned, Mr. Speaker, that when that recommendation was discussed within that Federal agency, the lawyers in the administration at that time said, you cannot pursue contact with the FBI against that cell. Mohamed Atta was in the U.S. on a green card, and we are fearful of the fallout from the Waco incident. So we did not allow that Federal agency to proceed.

Mr. Speaker, what this now means is that prior to September 11, we had employees of the Federal Government in one of our agencies who actually identified the Mohamed Atta cell and made a specific recommendation to act on that cell, but were denied the ability to go forward. Obviously, if we had taken out that cell, 9/11 would not have occurred and, certainly, taking out those three principal players in that cell would have crippled, if not totally stopped, the operation that killed 3,000 people in America.

Tonight, I am going to provide some background to my colleagues, because I think this represents a major problem with our intelligence that needs to be focused on by the committees of the House and the Senate, by the leadership of the House and the Senate, by John Negroponte, the new person assigned as President Bush, and a very close colleague, to integrate the 33 classified systems overseen by the 15 Federal agencies.

I want to also start off by praising Porter Goss, the director of the CIA. Porter served us extremely well in this important and aggressive agenda that the Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence; and he went over to the CIA with an aggressive agenda to change that agency, and he has begun that process. We, in this body, not only rally the American people to support our efforts brought forward by Porter Goss and to allow John Negroponte to undertake perhaps the most difficult task in protecting the security of America, a task that will not be easy. I give the history of our Federal agency system.

Let me take my colleagues back, Mr. Speaker, to 1999. It was, in fact, the spring of 1999 when I was first involved in taking a delegation of 10 Members of Congress, with the support of my friend and colleague, the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. HOYER), and with the support of the Clinton State Department.

The 11-member delegation of five Democrats, five Republicans and myself, along with the State Department employee, traveled to Vienna to meet with five senior leaders of the Russian political parties. Our purpose was to try to reach a framework that could allow for a peaceful resolution of the war in Kosovo on the terms that the U.S. had desired after Rambouillet.

After securing a military plane, my Russian friends told me they were bringing a Serb along with them, a Serb who would be able to understand what we were talking about and help us decide and determine whether or not Milosevic back in Belgrade would accept any recommendations that we would develop. I did not know anything about the Serb. I knew the Russians. But I figure I had better ask the CIA what they knew about this Serb so I could be better prepared, and to make sure that the Serb was not a part of the Milosevic regime, because that would cause myself and my colleagues to be in violation of the Hobbs Act because we were at war with Serbia at that time.

So I called George Tenet. I said, Director Tenet, can you give me some information about this Serb? His family is evidently well known. I need to know whether or not he is a part of the Milosevic regime. I need to know any other information you can provide to me because we are going to meet with them when we travel to meet with the Russian leaders to help provide a beginning of a solution to end the war in Kosovo.

He called me back the next day and he gave me a couple of sentences and did not go on, he was not a part of the Milosevic regime. And he had strong ties to the Communist Party inside of Moscow and had ties to other leaders in the Russian Government. It was not much to go on.

But at the time, Mr. Speaker, I was chairman of the Defense Research Subcommittee of the Armed Services Committee. My job was to oversee the funding, approximately $40 billion of defense research money on new systems and new technologies. And one of the most striking technologies was the work being done by the Army’s Information Dominance Center at Fort Belvoir, formerly known as the LIWA, the Land Information Warfare Assessment Center. I had visited the LIWA several times and was tremendously impressed with not just the ability to provide security for our Army classified systems, but I saw a unique approach to doing well beyond that, data mining, data collection, cutting-edge software tools like Starlight and Spires, able to do profiling. Having plussed-up funding for this facility after talking to George Tenet, I called my friends at the Army’s Information Dominance Center and said, can you do something for me as a favor, off the record? And they said sure. Congresswoman, whatever you like. Would you run me a profile of this Serb, for the same reason I had asked the Director of the CIA. They said, no problem, Congressman, he is evidently well known. I need to know whether or not he is a part of the Information Dominance Center was able to pull together very quickly. I used that information as we traveled to Vienna to understand who we were meeting with. We had those meetings for 2 days and my colleagues, my five Republicans and five Democrats, worked aggressively to establish a framework that would begin the end of the Kosovo war. In fact, it was historic.

When we returned to Washington several weeks later I was contacted by the FBI and they said, Congressman, we would like to debrief you. We would like you to tell us what you know about that Serb that you all met in Vienna. I said, no problem, I will be happy to do it Monday afternoon in my office. The Friday before the Monday, I called the 911 page. When I called them they said, you have got to call CIA Congressional Affairs immediately, which I did. CIA Congressional Affairs said, Congressman Weldon, we are going to fly two agents to Philadelphia this evening. They will meet you at the airport, at a hotel, at your home, wherever you want to meet them. And I said, I am sorry, I got to go back to D.C. It is a Friday night. I have got events already planned. What is the urgency of this meeting? And the CIA Congressional Affairs person said well, Congressman, we have been tasked by the State Department to brief our Ambassador, who is negotiating the final terms to end the war in Kosovo, and he needs to know something about this Serb that you met in Vienna. I said, well, the FBI has already called me for that. Can we not do it together? And finally, after pushing back for 10, 15 minutes, the CIA agreed. And so on Monday afternoon in my office I hosted four agents, two FBI and two CIA. These agents asked me four pages of questions about the Serb that I had met with along with our colleagues in the House.

When I finished answering all their questions and giving them all of the information I had, I said to them, now you got all of my data, right? And they said, well, you got it from the Russians. I said, no. Well, you got it from the Serb. I said, no. I said, before I left Washington, before I left my office, I called the Army’s Information Dominance Center and asked them to do me a favor. They ran a profile and gave me 10 pages. The CIA rep and the FBI rep said, what is the Army’s Information Dominance Center, congressman?

It was then, Mr. Speaker, that I knew we had a problem; that our intelligence systems were not linked together, that the stovepipes were so great that we would never be able to deal with emerging transnational terrorist threats. So beginning in the spring of 1999, I began a process working with the Army, and their subgroup working with them, Special Forces Command down in Florida, which had a similar capability to develop a national prototype, a prototype that could be providing support for the President, the National Security Adviser, and all of our policymakers. In fact, working together over a multiweek period, we came up with a plan, a document. And Mr. Speaker, I would like to place this document in the RECORD at this point in time.

National Operations and Analysis Hub:

NOAH

Policy makers need an overarching information and intelligence architecture that will quickly assimilate, analyze and display assessments and recommended course of action from many national agencies simultaneously.

Policy makers need tools to aid them in developing courses of action against threats to U.S. policy, interests, or security.

Policy makers need virtual communications with one another.

White House, Congress, Pentagon and at the agency levels should each have centers they can go to and receive, send, share, discuss, and collaborate on assessments before they act.

National Level Collaboration Solution: NOAH, National Operations and Analysis Hub

Tasks supported by NOAH’s overarching collaborative environment:

1. Provide Multi Issue, Multi-agency Hybrid Picture to White House Situation Room, JCIS.
2. HUMINT Support:
   - Peacemaking Missions;
   - Humanitarian Aid;
   - Battle Damage Assessment;
   - Develop and Leverage new Technologies of importance to national security;
3. Support Congressional Committees/Hearings:
   - Apply Analysis of Foreign Threat to Policy;
   - Provide Hybrid Situational Awareness Picture of the Threat;
   - Incorporate Industrial Efforts of Interests to the Policy Maker;
   - Link academia directly to policy maker; and

NOAH can leverage existing networks to address diverse NOAH’s Hub Center if linked to other agency centers electronically:

Each key agency must possess a Pod Site and be connected to the NOAH network; The Pod can consist of a large screen and appropriate connect for collaboration. Operations Centers can simply be converted into NOAH; National Policy makers cannot control agency Pods, agencies must post replicated data on the NOAH system so that sister groups can access these data.

Support multi-level security requirements and can sanitize and “push” data to many types of users to many levels; NOAH can manage National, law enforcement and military needs. The situation will determine the mission; Ties policy maker, military and law enforcement together.

Goals of the NOAH Hub Center is to apply agency operations, strategies analysis, tactical assessments to a course of action for the policy maker; and Optimizes group of expertise within each organization—experts always on hand regardless of NOAH and Pod Site Network:

1. Part of national policy creation and execution system;
2. Will existing sites and connectivities where available;
3. Will share tools available at LIWA IDC so every agency has same tools;
4. All agencies will post data on NRO highway in a replicated format sensitive to classification;
5. NOAH’s Global Network will use NRO System as backbone;
6. All centers connect to other centers electronically; and
7. Mechanism for gathering, analyzing, displaying, tailoring, and disseminating all kinds of information quickly at the national level.

Steps to Achieve NOAH Capability:

1. Establish baseline capability by building initial Hub Center and congressional virtual hearing room. Equip White House Situation Room to Collaborate with these sites;
2. Staff the Hub Center with two reps from each of the 28 key participating agencies; Link up NOAH internal and external collaborative environment;
3. Hook in Back up Site for redundancy and begin training on collaborative tools; Build the 28 Key Agency Pod Sites along model of the Information Dominance Center at Fort Belvoir, VA;
4. Link all Pod Sites to NOAH hub center establish Protocols for Inter-agency data sharing;
5. Exercise live ability to retrieve, collate, analyze, display disparate data and provide policy makers course of action analysis at the NOAH Hub Center; and Agencies Represented in the National Collaborative Center:

1. Central Intelligence Agency; Defense Intelligence Agency; National Imagery and Mapping Agency; National Security Agency; National Reconnaissance Office; Defense Threat Reduction Agency; Joint Chiefs of Staff; Army/ LIWA: Air Force; Navy; Marine Corps; Joint Counter-Intelligence Assessment Group; ODINP; and FBI;
2. Drug Enforcement Agency; U.S. Customs; National Criminal Investigative Service; National Infrastructure Protection Center; Department of Energy; Department of Commerce; Department of the Treasury; Justice Department; Office of the Director of National Intelligence; National Military Command Center; and National Joint Military Intelligence Command.

Elements to be connected to the national collaborative center would include the White House Situation Room, a Congressional Virtual Hearing Room and a possible redundant, or back-up site.

This document, as you can see, Mr. Speaker, is entitled the NOAH, National Operations and Analysis Hub, Policy Makers’ Tool for Acting Against Emerging Transnational Threats and Dangers to U.S. National Security. This 9-page briefing, Mr. Speaker, was put together in late fall of 1999.

I asked the Deputy Secretary of Defense, John Hamre, to take a look at this capability. He went down to the LIWA and he came back and said he liked, Congressman, you are right. I agree with you. This capability is exciting. It offers unlimited potential. How about sending me a letter describing your interest, Congressman?
So on July 30, 1999, I sent this 3-page letter to Deputy Secretary John Hamre, Deputy Secretary of Defense, at his request, talking about creating an integrated collaborative center for all of our intelligence. I would like to place this letter in the RECORD at this point in time. Mr. Speaker, dated October 21, 1999: “Dear Dr. Hamre: I believe the time has come to create a central national level entity that can acquire, fuse and analyze disparate data from many agencies in order to support the policy maker in taking action against threats from terrorism, proliferation, illegal technology diversions, espionage, narcotics, information warfare and cyberterrorism. These challenges are beginning to overlap, thereby blurring their distinctness while posing increasing threats to our Nation.

Before we take action to counter these emerging threats, we must first understand their relationship to one another, their patterns, the people and countries involved, and the level of danger posed to our Nation. The Department of Defense has a unique opportunity to create a centralized national center that can do this for the country. It would be patterned after the Army’s Land Information Operations Center (LIWA) at Fort Belvoir, but would operate on a much broader scale. This entity would allow for near-time information and analysis to flow to a central fusion center, which I would designate the National Operations Analysis Hub (NOAH). I think this title is fitting, as NOAH will provide a central hub to build to protect our nation from these threats.

NOAH would be comprised of a system of agency-specified mini-centers, or “pods” of participating agencies and services associated with growing national security concerns (attachment 1). NOAH would link the policymaker with action recommendations derived from fused information provided by the individual pods. NOAH would provide the automation and connectivity to allow the pods to talk together, share data and perspectives on a given situation in a near-real-time, environment.

The NOAH center in the Office of the Secretary of Defense would be comprised of representative staff and subject-matter experts from many agencies and offices. This center might include: CIA, DIA, National Imagery and Mapping Agency (NIMA), NSA, NRO, Defense Threat Reduction Agency (DTSA), JCS, Army, Air Force, Navy, Marine Corps, ONDCP, FBI, DEA, Customs, National Criminal Investigative Service (NCIS), National Infrastructure Protection Center, Defense Information Systems Agency (DISA), State, the five CINCS, DOE, INS, Commerce, Treasury.

Elements which would be connected into NOAH would include the White House Situation Room, a Congressional Virtual Hearing Room and a possible redundant (back up) site.

The benefits of creating a NOAH include:

For national policy makers, a national collaborative environment offers situational awareness and threat profiling support, and field status national awareness.

Along with its system of connected agency pods, NOAH would permit the display of collaborative threat profiling and analytical assessments on a large screen. It would be a national level operations and control center capable of dealing with a missle warning, various imagery, data and analytical viewpoints for decision-makers in support of national actions. I see NOAH as going beyond the capability of the National Military Command Center (NMCC) and the National Joint Military Intelligence Command (NJMIC), providing recommended courses of action that allow us to effectively meet those emerging challenges from asymmetrical threats in near real-time. Given its mission, I believe that NOAH should reside in the Office of the Secretary of Defense (Attachment 2). I am aware of the initiative to link counterintelligence groups throughout the community. I am aware of the counterterrorism center at the CIA, the new National Infrastructure Protection Center at the FBI, and the new HUMINT special operations center. We must attempt to connect the Office of Drug Control Policy (ONDCP) and OSD assets with federal, state and local law enforcement agencies. I also have seen what the Army has done at LIWA, which has created a foundation for creating a higher-level architecture collaborating all of these efforts. Each of these independent efforts should be central to the national level. I believe LIWA has created a model that should be used as a basis for creating the participating agency pod sites. I do not expect that establishment of NOAH should exceed $10 million. Each agency involved could set up their own pod to connect with the central NOAH site or to exchange data with any of its participants. Each agency could dedicate money to establish their own pod site, while the $50 million available in DARPA for related work could be used to establish the NOAH structure immediately.

The NOAH concept of a national collaborative environment policy and decision-makers mirrors the ideas you have expressed to me in recent discussions, and it is a tangible way to confront the growing challenges associated with the asymmetrical threats. I have a number of ideas regarding staffing options and industry collaboration, and would appreciate the opportunity to discuss them with you. Thank you for your consideration. I look forward to hearing from you at your earliest convenience.

Sincerely,

Curt Weldon, Member of Congress.

Secretary Hamre was interested and he told me, Congressman, I will even pay the bill. The Defense Department will provide the funding for this. And I do not care where they put it, Congress. It could be at the White House, it could be at the NSC, whatever it is most appropriate, but I will pay the bill. But, Congressman, the problem is not with me or the money. You have got to convince the CIA and the FBI that this is something they want to pursue.

In fact, he wrote me a letter, Mr. Speaker, dated October 21, 1999: “Dear Congressman Weldon, I wholeheartedly agree that combating asymmetrical threats challenging national security requires a collaborative interagency approach as suggested in your concept of the National Operations Analysis Hub. We are actively engaged in assessing how the Department should leverage ongoing activities and develop a long-term strategy along these lines. I will keep you apprised of our progress. I would be happy to meet with you on the subject.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to place this in the RECORD.

DEPUTY SECRETARY OF DEFENSE, Washington, DC, October 21, 1999.

Mr. Speaker, that was in October of 1999 at John Hamre’s suggestion on November 4 of 1999, almost 2 years before 9/11. I had John Hamre and the representatives of the CIA and the FBI in my office. And at John Hamre’s suggestion, we went through the 9-page briefing to create an overarching national collaborative center. When I finished the briefing which had been prepared for me with our intelligence officials off the record, the CIA said, Congressman Weldon, that is all well and good, but we really do not need that capability. It is not necessary. We are doing something called CI-21; and, therefore, we do not need to pursue that multi-system approach that you have outlined where we bring in all of these other classified systems.

I was very unhappy with that response because I knew full well the Army and our special forces commands were using that capability at that very moment in a special project against al Qaeda.

So, Mr. Speaker, in 1999 and in 2000 and in 2001, I put language in each of our defense bills calling for the creation of an interagency cooperative center to bring together our disparate intelligence capabilities and systems for 3 consecutive years. And, in fact, one of those bills required a response by the CIA as to why this system had not been put into place.

But in the meantime, on November 12, 1999, the Defense Information and Electronics Report published an article about the management community's intelligence network for shared threat information. On April of 2000, Signal Magazine did another story on a fusion center concept taking root as we kept pushing this process.

Mr. Speaker, the following are both of these articles:

[DOD NEEDS MASSIVE INTELLIGENCE NETWORK FOR SHARED THREAT INFORMATION]

Senior Pentagon officials are mulling over an idea proposed by Rep. Curt Weldon (R-PA) that would link classified and unclassified documents in a massive intelligence clearinghouse that could be accessed by 33 federal agencies—a concept similar in some ways to one floated by DOD intelligence officials but with significantly fewer players involved.

“Our problem with intelligence is that we’re stove-piped,” said Weldon, chairman of the House Intelligence Committee’s intelligence and intelligence assurance at a conference in Arlington, VA.

“Right now the military is limited to [its] own sources of information,” Weldon said. “We need [an] intelligence network for shared threat information. On May 29, 2000, Weldon said in the interview he believes JCAG is useful to the CIA, FBI and the White House. He said in the interview he believes JCAG is useful to the CIA, FBI and the White House. He said in the interview he believes JCAG is useful to the CIA, FBI and the White House.

Yet most federal agencies don’t even know LIWA exists, he added.

While Weldon continues to push for NOAH to be patterned after LIWA, he sees it operating on a much larger scale. Impressed by its ability to pull together huge amounts of information, Weldon noted LIWA’s Information Dominance Center can create in-depth profiles that could be useful to the CIA, FBI and the White House.

But in the meantime, on November 12, 1999, the Defense Information and Electronics Report published an article about the management community’s intelligence network for shared threat information. On April of 2000, Signal Magazine did another story on a fusion center concept taking root as we kept pushing this process.

Mr. Speaker, the following are both of these articles:

[DOD NEEDS MASSIVE INTELLIGENCE NETWORK FOR SHARED THREAT INFORMATION]

Senior Pentagon officials are mulling over an idea proposed by Rep. Curt Weldon (R-PA) that would link classified and unclassified documents in a massive intelligence clearinghouse that could be accessed by 33 federal agencies—a concept similar in some ways to one floated by DOD intelligence officials but with significantly fewer players involved.

“Our problem with intelligence is that we’re stove-piped,” said Weldon, chairman of the House Intelligence Committee’s intelligence and intelligence assurance at a conference in Arlington, VA.

“Right now the military is limited to [its] own sources of information,” Weldon said. “We need [an] intelligence network for shared threat information. On May 29, 2000, Weldon said in the interview he believes JCAG is useful to the CIA, FBI and the White House. He said in the interview he believes JCAG is useful to the CIA, FBI and the White House. He said in the interview he believes JCAG is useful to the CIA, FBI and the White House.

Yet most federal agencies don’t even know LIWA exists, he added.

While Weldon continues to push for NOAH to be patterned after LIWA, he sees it operating on a much larger scale. Impressed by its ability to pull together huge amounts of information, Weldon noted LIWA’s Information Dominance Center can create in-depth profiles that could be useful to the CIA, FBI and the White House.

But in the meantime, on November 12, 1999, the Defense Information and Electronics Report published an article about the management community’s intelligence network for shared threat information. On April of 2000, Signal Magazine did another story on a fusion center concept taking root as we kept pushing this process.

Mr. Speaker, the following are both of these articles:

[DOD NEEDS MASSIVE INTELLIGENCE NETWORK FOR SHARED THREAT INFORMATION]

Senior Pentagon officials are mulling over an idea proposed by Rep. Curt Weldon (R-PA) that would link classified and unclassified documents in a massive intelligence clearinghouse that could be accessed by 33 federal agencies—a concept similar in some ways to one floated by DOD intelligence officials but with significantly fewer players involved.

“Our problem with intelligence is that we’re stove-piped,” said Weldon, chairman of the House Intelligence Committee’s intelligence and intelligence assurance at a conference in Arlington, VA.

“Right now the military is limited to [its] own sources of information,” Weldon said. “We need [an] intelligence network for shared threat information. On May 29, 2000, Weldon said in the interview he believes JCAG is useful to the CIA, FBI and the White House. He said in the interview he believes JCAG is useful to the CIA, FBI and the White House. He said in the interview he believes JCAG is useful to the CIA, FBI and the White House.

Yet most federal agencies don’t even know LIWA exists, he added.

While Weldon continues to push for NOAH to be patterned after LIWA, he sees it operating on a much larger scale. Impressed by its ability to pull together huge amounts of information, Weldon noted LIWA’s Information Dominance Center can create in-depth profiles that could be useful to the CIA, FBI and the White House.

But in the meantime, on November 12, 1999, the Defense Information and Electronics Report published an article about the management community’s intelligence network for shared threat information. On April of 2000, Signal Magazine did another story on a fusion center concept taking root as we kept pushing this process.

Mr. Speaker, the following are both of these articles:

[DOD NEEDS MASSIVE INTELLIGENCE NETWORK FOR SHARED THREAT INFORMATION]

Senior Pentagon officials are mulling over an idea proposed by Rep. Curt Weldon (R-PA) that would link classified and unclassified documents in a massive intelligence clearinghouse that could be accessed by 33 federal agencies—a concept similar in some ways to one floated by DOD intelligence officials but with significantly fewer players involved.

“Our problem with intelligence is that we’re stove-piped,” said Weldon, chairman of the House Intelligence Committee’s intelligence and intelligence assurance at a conference in Arlington, VA.

“Right now the military is limited to [its] own sources of information,” Weldon said. “We need [an] intelligence network for shared threat information. On May 29, 2000, Weldon said in the interview he believes JCAG is useful to the CIA, FBI and the White House. He said in the interview he believes JCAG is useful to the CIA, FBI and the White House. He said in the interview he believes JCAG is useful to the CIA, FBI and the White House.

Yet most federal agencies don’t even know LIWA exists, he added.

While Weldon continues to push for NOAH to be patterned after LIWA, he sees it operating on a much larger scale. Impressed by its ability to pull together huge amounts of information, Weldon noted LIWA’s Information Dominance Center can create in-depth profiles that could be useful to the CIA, FBI and the White House.

But in the meantime, on November 12, 1999, the Defense Information and Electronics Report published an article about the management community’s intelligence network for shared threat information. On April of 2000, Signal Magazine did another story on a fusion center concept taking root as we kept pushing this process.
Weldon contends. "LIWA's Information and LIWA, the CIA and FBI agents had no that the information came from the Army officials and trips to facilities in the region.
quick to recall vignettes about Russian of-number of Russians and understands their rations and recommend courses of action for many simultaneous national emergencies," he declares. The concept of NOAH also calls for virtual communications among policy makers.
Weldon's plan is for White House, Congress, Pentagon and agency-level leaders each in a separate pod where they would send, share and collaborate on assessments before they act. He calls NOAH the policy maker's tool. In the collaborative environment, the system could provide a multiage-yric hybrid picture to the White House situation room and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.
NOAH's concept also includes support for HUMINT and peacekeeping missions along with battle damage assessment. The same system could later help brace congressional committees and hearings. The NOAH capability would allow application of foreign threat analyses to policy, while providing a hybrid situational awareness picture of the threat landscape. "The goal is to drive industrial efforts of interest to the policy maker could be incorporated, and academia also could be directly linked.

In meetings with high-level FBI, CIA and defense officials, Weldon stressed the need to "acquire, fuse and analyze disparate data from many agencies in order to support the policy maker's actions against threats from terrorism, (ballistic missile) proliferation, illegal technology diversions, espionage, narcotrafficking and cyberterrorism," he stated.
It is convinced that current collection and analysis capabilities in various intelligence agencies are stovepi-ed. "It involves the collection itself, but it clearly hinders policy making."
Weldon, who was a Russian studies major, offers some of his own recent experiences as examples of why there is a strong need for NOAH. He maintains close contact with a number of Russians and understands their programs and technologies. The congressman is quick to point out Russian capabilities on the battlefield and that he has "some knowledge from their stovepipes. Yet, information on a drug lord, as an example, could be vitally important to help combat terrorism." He makes a point that the stovepipes overlap, each other in their efforts to collect intel-lence against those threats, or they fail to pool their resources and share vital information. "This redundancy of effort and confusion of jurisdiction only inhibits our nation's capabilities," he offers.
NOAH would provide high-bandwidth, virtual connectivity to experts at agency pod sites. Protocols for interagency data sharing would be established and refined in links to all agency networks so that analysts could analyze and display data would be exercised for the generation of courses of action. A backup site would be established for redundancy, and trained collaborative tools as soon as it is activated.

The hub system would become part of the national policy creation and execution system. The tools that LIWA would be shared so that every agency would have the same tools. Weldon explains that all agencies would have data on the National Reconnaissance Office (NRO) highway in a replicated format sensitive to classification.
NOAH's global network would take the NRO system as its foundation.

NOAH optimizes groups of expertise within each organization—experts who are always on hand regardless of the issue. This approach ties strategic analysis and tactical assessment to a course of action. "Before the U.S. can take action against emerging threats, we must first understand the relationship to one another, their patterns, the people and countries involved and the level of danger posed to our nation," Weldon says "It would be a national capability."'

So we have pushed the process, Mr.
Speaker. We pushed it in legislation passed by this Congress 3 years in a row.
I pushed it publicly in magazine articles, in newspapers, in speeches before intelligence symposiums and agency briefings; but the CIA continued to drink.

In fact, Mr. Speaker, I have one of the report languages from H.R. 5408, the conference report printed October 6, 2000, the section entitled "Joint Re-dence and the Director of Central Intellectual Information Analysis Capability."

That section is as follows:

"Joint report on establishment of national collaborative information analysis capability (sec. 953)"

The House bill contained a provision (sec.
956) that would: (1) require the Secretary of Defense and the DNI to establish the Central Intelligence to prepare a joint report assessing alternatives for the establishment of a national collaborative information analysis capability; (2) require the Secretary of Defense to complete the data mining, profiling, and analysis capability of the Army's Land Information Warfare Activity; and (3) restrict further funding for an Army implementation of the data mining and analysis capability until such a capability is specifically authorized by law.

The Senate amendment contained no similar provision.

The Senate recedes with an amendment that would: (1) require the Secretary of De-defense to prepare a joint report assessing alternatives for the establishment of a national collaborative information analysis capability; and (2) require the Secretary of De-defense to complete the data mining, profiling, and analysis capability of the Army's Land Information Warfare Activity. The amendment would not require the Senate to require the Secretary to make appropriate use of such capability to provide support to appropriate national defense components.

Mr. Speaker, to push this process, a report came back from the CIA dated May 1, 2001, just a few short months before 9/11. And I will read one sentence in this report in the summary: "A single overarching collaborative solution addressing the totality of mission requirements is not pending. AB they were using it in 1999 and 2000. I knew they were using it, but was not quite sure of the extent of the use until 2 weeks after 9/11.

Mr. Speaker, exactly 2 weeks after 9/11, before I lost any of my good friends, Ray Downey, the chief of all rescue for the New York City Fire Deartment and one of my best friends, was the chief of all rescue at Ground
Zero when the first tower came down. It was Ray Downey who had taken me through the Trade Center in 1993 when bin Laden hit us the first time. It was Ray Downey who convinced me in the late 1990s to introduce legislation, even without a homeland security commission to make recommendations to prepare for the next terrorist threat. My legislation was passed, became law, and created what is now known as the Gilmore Commission, chaired by Virginia Senator Jim Gilmore. Ray Downey was one of those commissioners. The Gilmore Commission and Ray Downey gave us three reports before 9/11 of recommendations of things we should be doing to prepare for the next terrorist attack. And they gave us those three reports before 9/11 occurred. In fact, almost 40 percent of the recommendations of the 9/11 Commission were actual recommendations of the Gilmore Commission. But because the attack had occurred, it did not get as much visibility.

On September 11, Ray Downey was killed. I brought his wife and five kids to my district 1 month after 9/11, and 40,000 of my constituents came out to honor Ray as an American hero at a parade ending at our county park. We also lost one of my neighbors, Mr. Speaker, a fellow graduate of Westchester University, Michael Horrocks who served our Nation in the Navy, was a pilot on one of the planes that was commandeered on September 11. Michael left behind a young wife, a teacher in my district, and two young children in the Rose Tree Media School District. In fact, we built a playground in Michael’s honor at the school of the two children.

Mr. Speaker, September 11 touched all of us; 3,700 of us were wiped out. Two weeks after 9/11, my friends from the Army’s Information Dominance Center in cooperation with special ops brought me a chart. This chart, Mr. Speaker, this chart. Two weeks after 9/11, I took the basic information in this chart, through the White House, I asked for a meeting with Steve Hadley, who at that time was Deputy National Security Advisor. The chart was smaller. It was 2 feet by 3 feet, but the same information was in the center.

Steve Hadley looked at the chart and said, Congresswoman, where did you get that chart from? I said, I got it from the military. I said, This is the process; this is the result of the process that I was pitching since 1999 to our government to implement, but the CIA kept saying we do not need it.

Steve Hadley said, Congressman, I am going to take this chart, and I am going to take the man, that he meant, Mr. Speaker, was the President of the United States. I said, Mr. Hadley, you mean you have not seen something like this before from the CIA, this chart of al Qaeda worldwide and in the U.S.? And he said, No, Congressman. So I gave him the chart.

Now, Mr. Speaker, what is interesting in this chart of al Qaeda, and you cannot see this from a distance, but right here in the center is the name of the leader of the New York cell. And that name is very familiar to the people of America. That name is Mohammed Atta, the leader of the 9/11 attack against us. So prior to 9/11, this military system the CIA said we did not need and could not do actually gave us the information that identified Mohammed Atta’s cell in New York. And with Mohammed Atta they identified two of the other terrorists with them.

But I learned something new, Mr. Speaker, over the past several weeks and months. I have talked to some of the military intelligence officers who produced this document, who worked on this effort. And I found something out very startling, Mr. Speaker. Not only did our military identify the Mohammed Atta cell; our military made a recommendation in September of 2000 to bring the FBI in to take out that cell. And they made that recommendation because Madeleine Albright had declared that al Qaeda, an international terrorist organization, and the military units involved here felt they had jurisdiction to go to the FBI.

Why, then, did they not proceed? That is a question that needs to be answered, Mr. Speaker. I have to ask, Mr. Speaker, with all the good work that the 9/11 Commission did, why is there nothing in their report about able danger? Why is there no mention of the work that able danger did against al Qaeda? Why is there no mention, Mr. Speaker, of a recommendation in September of 2000 to take out Mohammed Atta’s cell which they have detained three of the terrorists who struck us?

Those are questions, Mr. Speaker, that need to be answered.

Last week, I asked the gentleman from California (Mr. HUNTER), the chairman of the Committee on Armed Services, my good friend, and the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. HOEKSTRA), the chairman of the Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence, my good friend, who I have the highest respect for both of these individuals, to allow us to proceed with an investigation that has not yet been brought forward to the American people and our colleagues in this body.

We need to know, Mr. Speaker, why those recommendations, if they, in fact, occurred, as my intelligence military friends told me that they occurred, why they stopped. Now, Mr. Speaker, I have been very informally that they were stopped because the lawyers at that time in 2000 told them that Mohammed Atta had a green card and they could not go after someone with a green card.

I have also been told, Mr. Speaker, that it was because of the fear of the lawyers of the fallout that had occurred on the Waco attack in Texas at that same time. Mr. Speaker, if that is, in fact, the case, that is an outrage and a scandal. If our reason for not going after the Mohamed Atta cell was because of the fear of the fallout from Waco, then someone needs to answer that question.

The bottom line process in all of this, Mr. Speaker, is that this capability, which the CIA said we did not need, which the CIA said was not necessary, which, in fact, because used by the military, both the Army and Special Forces command did something the CIA did not do. It identified the key cell of Mohamed Atta prior to 9/11, and it actually gave us a suggestion to deal been reformed. I am now known as this story needs to be investigated. This information needs to be pursued.

Now, Mr. Speaker, in spite of the CIA’s refusal to implement a national collaborative center, thank goodness the President did recommend in January of 2003, standing in this very chamber, in the State of the Union speech, he announced the TTIC, the Terrorism Threat Integration Center. Mr. Speaker, the TTIC is identical to the NOAH, the National Counterterrorism Center, but Mr. Speaker, I still have concerns, and I rise this evening to express those concerns.

This capability was produced in 1999 and was run by the IDC, the Information Dominant Center. I asked them to update me on al Qaeda, to show me what they can do today at the IDC. This, Mr. Speaker, is al Qaeda today. It is obviously impossible for anyone watching our television monitor to see what is on this chart. I have had this chart magnified by a large factor and have large copies in my office.

Each of these little individual people as cells of al Qaeda, clusters of al Qaeda around the world. In fact, Mohammed Atta’s cell is identified in this chart. This chart, Mr. Speaker, was prepared through the national collaborative efforts of our IDC, Mr. Speaker, open source data. That chart was produced with open source data.

What troubles me, Mr. Speaker, is in talking to my friends in the defense community who work with the NCTC, I have learned that quite possibly the NCTC cannot duplicate this capability. That is a question I plan to get answered this week because we have a very new and very capable leader of the NCTC that hopefully will tell me I am wrong, that they can produce this kind of capability to understand a threat group like al Qaeda.

I rise tonight, Mr. Speaker, to raise the intelligence oversight question. We can never allow ourselves to return to the days prior to 9/11, to the days where individual agencies or individual agencies that think that they have all of the answers in providing security for our country and intelligence agencies and policy-makers. Mr. Speaker, we can never return to the days of 1999 and 2000, and I hope this is not the case today. But back in those days where the agency bureaucrats were fighting with each other over who would take credit for the best information. Let me read a couple of excerpts, Mr. Speaker.

Back in 1999, when I was pushing the CIA to establish this collaborative capability and our military was actually using it, my capacity, focusing on emerging threats like al Qaeda, this conversation went back and forth, Mr. Speaker, September 1999. This is, by the way, written from military intelligence officers, a summary of notes to me.

At the military’s inception, the CIA drags its feet and limits its support to the effort. In an off-the-record conversation between the DCI and the CIA representative to this military unit, a man that I will call Dave and our military intelligence officer explains that even though he understands the military’s effort is against the global infrastructure of al Qaeda, he tells me that the CIA will, and I quote, never provide the best information on al Qaeda, end quote. Why would they not do that? Because of the effort that they were taking as part of a finding they had on bin Laden himself and if the military’s project was successful it would, quote, steal their thunder. Steal the CIA’s thunder.

Dave went on to say that short of the CINC, General so and so, calling the Director, George Tenet, directly, the CIA would never provide the best information to the military on al Qaeda. To my knowledge, that information was never provided.

Mr. Speaker, never again can America allow intelligence bureaucrats to argue back and forth over who is going to steal whose thunder, that you have for that capability, focusing on the fact that is supposed to be under their authority and jurisdiction.

Mr. Speaker, I am not going to read all these pages, but this classified information that I have to back up what I have given in unclassified format, will be provided and has been provided for the chairman of our intelligence oversight committee and our armed services oversight committee.

Again, I have to ask the question, why did the 9/11 Commission not investigate this entire situation? Why did the 9/11 Commission not ask the question about the military’s recommendation against the Mohamed Atta cell? Why did the 9/11 Commission not document the internal battles and disputes between agency personnel going after the same terrorist organization, al Qaeda?

If we are truly going to have an understanding of the need to re-form our intelligence system, then we have to be honest with the American people about the past.

Mr. Speaker, I rise tonight because I am very troubled by what I have seen and what I have heard. I have interviewed and talked to some very brave military intelligence officers who, back in 1999 and 2000, were involved in protecting America. They knew what we needed, and they were trying to do it.

As I have read to you, there were some in other agencies, especially the CIA and some in DIA, who were saying you cannot do that, that is not your area. That is our area. You cannot steal our thunder. That is our job, not your job.

Never again, Mr. Speaker, can we allow agency bureaucrats to argue over who is going to get the credit for solving the next attack or planned attack against us. I do not rise tonight, Mr. Speaker, to embarrass anyone. I rise tonight because of my own frustration. We knew 6 years ago that direction we had to go. The agency said we do not need that, Congressman, we know better than the Congress. Trust us.

Thank goodness President Bush put that system in place when he took office. If we had had that system in 1999 and 2000, which the military had already developed as a prototype, and if we had followed the lead of the military entity that identified the al Qaeda cell of Mohamed Atta, then perhaps, Mr. Speaker, 9/11 would never have occurred.

Certainly, taking out the Mohamed Atta cell and two of the terrorists that were with him, would have had a profound positive impact in shutting down the major plan against us that moved forward on September 11, 2001.

Mr. Speaker, I have placed these documents in the RECORD because I want our colleagues to have a chance to read them. I want our colleagues to see the facts and the information, and I want the support of the chairman, the gentleman from California (Mr. HUNTER) and the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. HOEKSTRA) as they move forward with an investigation.

We have to ask the question, why have these issues not been brought forth before this day? I had my Chief of Staff call the 9/11 Commission staff and ask the question: Why did you not mention Able Danger in your report? The Deputy Chief of Staff said, well, we looked at it, but we did not want to go down that direction.

So the question, Mr. Speaker, is why did they not want to go down that direction? Where will that lead us? Why do we not want to see the answers to the questions I have raised tonight? Who made the decision to tell our military not to pursue Mohamed Atta? Who made the decision that said that we are fearful of the fallout from Waco politics?

Were those decisions made by lawyers? Were they made by policymakers? Who within the administration in 2000 was responsible for those actions? This body and the American people need to know.
There was no objection.

Is a separate vote demanded on any amendment? If not, the Chair will put them en gross.

The amendments were agreed to.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question on engrossment and third reading of the bill. The bill was ordered to be engrossed and read a third time, and was read the third time.

---

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent, leave of absence was granted to:

Mr. ABERCROMBIE (at the request of Ms. PELOSI) for today on account of business in the district.

Mr. BISHOP of New York (at the request of Ms. PELOSI) for today on account of personal business.

Mr. BOYD (at the request of Ms. PELOSI) for June 22 and the balance of that week on account of medical reasons.

Mr. CARDIN (at the request of Ms. PELOSI) for today.

Mr. ISRAEL (at the request of Ms. PELOSI) for today on account of health reasons.

Ms. CARSON (at the request of Ms. PELOSI) for today on account of business in the district.

Mrs. JONES of Ohio (at the request of Ms. PELOSI) for today on account of BRAC hearings.

Mr. HIGGINS (at the request of Ms. PELOSI) for today on account of official business.

Ms. KILPATRICK of Michigan (at the request of Ms. PELOSI) for today.

Mr. MICHAUD (at the request of Ms. PELOSI) for today and June 28 on account of official business.

Mr. RAHALL (at the request of Ms. PELOSI) for today on account of official business.

Mr. ROSS (at the request of Ms. PELOSI) for today on account of personal business.

Mr. ISTOOK (at the request of Mr. DELAY) for today on account of official business in New York City.

Mr. MCHUGH (at the request of Mr. DELAY) for today and June 28 on account of official business in his district.

Mr. MCKON (at the request of Mr. DELAY) for today on account of travel logistics.

Mr. WALDEN of Oregon (at the request of Mr. DELAY) for today on account of family business.

---

SPECIAL ORDERS GRANTED

By unanimous consent, permission to address the House, following the legislative program and any special orders hereunto entered, was granted to:

(The following Members (at the request of Mr. SCHIFF) to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material.)

Mr. DEFAZIO, for 5 minutes, today.

Mrs. McCARTHY, for 5 minutes, today.

Ms. WOOLSEY, for 5 minutes, today.

Mr. BROWN of Ohio, for 5 minutes, today.

Mr. SCHIFF, for 5 minutes, today.

Mr. BERNAM, for 5 minutes, today.

Ms. WATSON, for 5 minutes, today.

Ms. LINDA T. SANCHEZ of California, for 5 minutes, today.

Ms. WATERS, for 5 minutes, today.

(The following Members (at the request of Mr. GUTKNECHT) to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material!)

Mr. MORAN of Kansas, for 5 minutes, June 29.

Mr. FRANKS of Arizona, for 5 minutes, June 29 and 30.

Mr. JONES of North Carolina, for 5 minutes, June 28, 29, and 30.

Mr. PRICE of Georgia, for 5 minutes, today.

Ms. FOXX, for 5 minutes, June 28.

Mr. GOMERT, for 5 minutes, today.

---

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WELDON of Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House do now adjourn.

The motion was agreed to; accordingly (at 11 o’clock and 54 minutes m.), under the previous order, the House adjourned until tomorrow, Tuesday, June 28, 2005, at 9 a.m., for morning hour debates.

---

EXECUTIVE COMMUNICATIONS, ETC.

Under clause 8 of rule XII, executive communications were taken from the Speaker’s table and referred as follows:

H. Res. 512. A resolution authorizing the Speaker to send a letter from the Acting Assistant Secretary for Legislative Affairs, Department of State, transmitting notification of an Accountability Review Board to examine the facts and the circumstances of the loss of life at a U.S. mission abroad and to report and make recommendations at a U.S. mission abroad, pursuant to 22 U.S.C. 4831 et seq., to the Committee on International Relations.

H. Res. 514. A resolution authorizing the Speaker to send a letter from the Director, U.S. Census Bureau, Department of Commerce, transmitting the Department’s final rule — Requirements for Reporting the Kimberley Process Certificate Number for Exports and Reexports of Uncut Rough Diamonds (RIN: 0607- AA44) received May 19, 2005, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 801(a)(1)(A); to the Committee on International Relations.

H. Res. 515. A resolution authorizing the Speaker to send a letter from the Acting Assistant Secretary for Legislative Affairs, Department of State, transmitting pursuant to section 36(c) and (d) of the Arms Export Control Act, certification regarding the proposed transfer of major defense equipment to the Government of Japan (Transmittal No. DDTIC 022-35), to the Committee on International Relations.

H. Res. 516. A resolution authorizing the Speaker to send a letter from the Acting Assistant Secretary for Legislative Affairs, Department of State, transmitting pursuant to section 36(c) of the Arms Export Control Act, certification regarding the proposed license for the export of defense articles or defense services from the Government of Japan (Transmittal No. DDTIC 06-65), to the Committee on International Relations.

---

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES ON PUBLIC BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

Under clause 2 of rule XIII, reports of committees were delivered to the Clerk for printing and reference to the proper calendar, as follows:

Mr. LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART of Florida: Committee on Rules. House Resolution 341. Resolution providing for consideration of the bill (H.R. 3057) making appropriations for foreign operations, export financing, and related programs for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes (Rept. 109-156). Referred to the House Calendar.

Mr. LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART of Florida: Committee on Rules. House Resolution 342. Resolution providing for consideration of the bill (H.R. 3058) making appropriations for the Departments of Transportation, Treasury, and Housing and Urban Development, the Judiciary, District of Columbia, and independent agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes (Rept. 109-156). Referred to the House Calendar.

Mr. BORELLENT: Committee on Science. H.R. 246. A bill to encourage the development and integrated use by the public and private sectors of remote sensing and other Special Orders.
By Mr. PAUL:
H.R. 3076. A bill to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to allow individuals a credit against income tax for the cost of insurance, including against malpractice of a physician, including against malpractice of a physician, and to the Committee on Ways and Means.

By Mr. PAUL:
H.R. 3077. A bill to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to allow individuals a credit against income tax for medical expenses for dependents; to the Committee on Ways and Means.

By Mr. PAUL (for himself and Mr. MILLER of Florida):
H.R. 3079. A bill to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to waive the employee portion of Social Security taxes imposed on individuals who have been diagnosed as having cancer or a terminal disease; to the Committee on Ways and Means.

By Mr. PAUL (for himself and Mr. OTTERR):
H.R. 3080. A bill to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to increase tax benefits for educational programs; to the Committee on Education and the Workforce, including against malpractice of a physician, and to Session.

By Mr. TERRY (for himself, Mr. BARTLETT of Maryland, Mr. FORBES, Mr. MILLER of Florida, Mrs. MUSCHAVE, Mr. DOOLITTLE, Mr. PENCE, Mr. GINGREY, Ms. GINNY BROWN-WATTE of Florida, Mr. PTTTS, Mr. STROUD, and Mr. MUNZULLO):
H.R. 3080. A bill to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to increase tax benefits for parents with children, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Ways and Means.

By Ms. LEE:

By Mr. CROWLEY (for himself, Mr. BROWN of Ohio, Mrs. DAVIS of California, Mr. ENGLE, Mr. HIQUINS, Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas, Ms. EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON of Texas, Mrs. KELLY, Mrs. BLACKBURN, Mr. RAMSTAD, Mr. YOUNG of Alaska, Ms. WOOLSEY, Ms. BOUSTANY, Mr. PAYNE, Mr. GUTENKLECHT, Mr. BARROW, Mr. DUNCAN, Mr. KULH of New York, and Mr. LARSEN of Washington).
H. 2248. Ms. SCHAKOWSKY.
H. 2340. Ms. SCHAKOWSKY.
H. 2355. Mr. PAUL, Mr. MURPHY, and Mrs. BROWN of Texas.
H. 2356. Mr. ANDREWS, Mr. SCHAKOWSKY, and Ms. MURPHY.
H. 2358. Mr. GERALCH.
H. 2360. Mr. HASTINGS of Florida, Mr. MURPHY, and Ms. SCHAKOWSKY.
H. 2364. Mr. CANNON, Mr. HIQUINS, and Mr. CARDIN.
H. 2368. Mr. HERRIG.
H. 2371. Ms. KAPTUR, Mr. HINCHY, Mr. PAYNE, Mrs. CHRISTENSEN, and Mr. WAXMAN.
H. 2379. Ms. SCHAKOWSKY, and Ms. BORDALLO.
H. 2392. Mr. LOBONDO.
H. 2397. Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas.
H. 2399. Mr. MILLER of Florida and Mr. AL GREEN of Texas.
H. 2399. Mr. FITZPATRICK of Pennsylvania and Mr. CALVET.
H. R. 2807. Mr. BARROW.
H. 2809. Mr. PRICE of North Carolina.
H. 2870. Mr. GUTENKLECHT.
H. 2874. Ms. SCHAKOWSKY, and Mrs. CHRISTENSEN.
H. 2877. Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas and Mr. HINCHY.
H. 2892. Mr. GONZALEZ.
H. 2390. Mr. CONVYRS, Mr. HASTINGS of Florida, Mr. MURPHY of Michigan, Mr. MCNULTY, Mr. NADER, Mr. DEFAZIO, Mr. SCHAKOWSKY, Mr. BLACKBURN, Mr. RAMSTAD, Mr. YOUNG of Alaska, Ms. WOOLSEY, Ms. BOUSTANY, Mr. PAYNE, Mr. GUTENKLECHT, Mr. BARROW, Mr. DUNCAN, Mr. KULH of New York, and Mr. LARSEN of Washington.
H. 2248. Ms. SCHAKOWSKY.
H. 2340. Ms. SCHAKOWSKY.
H. 2355. Mr. PAUL, Mr. MURPHY, and Mrs. BROWN of Texas.
H. 2356. Mr. ANDREWS, Mr. SCHAKOWSKY, and Ms. MURPHY.
H. 2358. Mr. GERALCH.
H. 2360. Mr. HASTINGS of Florida, Mr. MURPHY, and Ms. SCHAKOWSKY.
H. 2364. Mr. CANNON, Mr. HIQUINS, and Mr. CARDIN.
H. 2368. Mr. HERRIG.
H. 2371. Ms. KAPTUR, Mr. HINCHY, Mr. PAYNE, Mrs. CHRISTENSEN, and Mr. WAXMAN.
H. 2379. Ms. SCHAKOWSKY, and Ms. BORDALLO.
H. 2392. Mr. LOBONDO.
H. 2397. Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas.
H. 2399. Mr. MILLER of Florida and Mr. AL GREEN of Texas.
H. 2399. Mr. FITZPATRICK of Pennsylvania and Mr. CALVET.
H. R. 2807. Mr. BARROW.
H. 2809. Mr. PRICE of North Carolina.
H. 2870. Mr. GUTENKLECHT.
H. 2874. Ms. SCHAKOWSKY, and Mrs. CHRISTENSEN.
H. 2877. Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas and Mr. HINCHY.
H. 2892. Mr. GONZALEZ.
H. 2390. Mr. CONVYRS, Mr. HASTINGS of Florida, Mr. MURPHY of Michigan, Mr. MCNULTY, Mr. NADER, Mr. DEFAZIO, Mr. SCHAKOWSKY, Mr. BLACKBURN, Mr. RAMSTAD, Mr. YOUNG of Alaska, Ms. WOOLSEY, Ms. BOUSTANY, Mr. PAYNE, Mr. GUTENKLECHT, Mr. BARROW, Mr. DUNCAN, Mr. KULH of New York, and Mr. LARSEN of Washington.
H. 2248. Ms. SCHAKOWSKY.
H. 2340. Ms. SCHAKOWSKY.
H. 2355. Mr. PAUL, Mr. MURPHY, and Mrs. BROWN of Texas.
H. 2356. Mr. ANDREWS, Mr. SCHAKOWSKY, and Ms. MURPHY.
H. 2358. Mr. GERALCH.
H. 2360. Mr. HASTINGS of Florida, Mr. MURPHY, and Ms. SCHAKOWSKY.
H. 2364. Mr. CANNON, Mr. HIQUINS, and Mr. CARDIN.
H. 2368. Mr. HERRIG.
H. 2371. Ms. KAPTUR, Mr. HINCHY, Mr. PAYNE, Mrs. CHRISTENSEN, and Mr. WAXMAN.
H. 2379. Ms. SCHAKOWSKY, and Ms. BORDALLO.
H. 2392. Mr. LOBONDO.
H. 2397. Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas.
H. 2399. Mr. MILLER of Florida and Mr. AL GREEN of Texas.
H.R. 3057

Offered By: Mr. Garrett of New Jersey

Amendment No. 5: Page 132, after line 13, insert the following:

LIMITATION ON FUNDS RELATING TO ATTENDANCE OF FEDERAL EMPLOYEES AT CONFERENCES OCCURRING OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES

SEC. _____. None of the funds made available in this Act may be used to send or otherwise pay for the attendance of more than 50 Federal employees at any single conference occurring outside the United States.

H.R. 3057

Offered By: Mr. McGovern

Amendment No. 6: Page 31, line 7, after the dollar amount, insert the following: “(reduced by $100,000,000)”.

H.R. 3058

Offered By: Mr. Gingrey

Amendment No. 1: At the end of the bill (before the short title), insert the following:

SEC. 948. None of the funds made available in this Act may be used to provide assistance under the community development block grant program under title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 (42 U.S.C. 5301 et seq.) for any private economic development project (including assistance for any project under paragraph (17) of section 105(a) of such Act) involving the obtaining of property by the exercise of the power of eminent domain.

H.R. 3058

Offered By: Mr. Al Green of Texas

Amendment No. 3: Page 91, line 8, after the dollar amount, insert the following: “(increased by $7,700,000)”.

Page 91, line 9, after the dollar amount, insert the following: “(increased by $3,900,000)”.

Page 92, line 23, after the first dollar amount, insert the following: “(reduced by $7,700,000)”.

H.R. 3058

Offered By: Mr. Gingrey

Amendment No. 2: At the end of the bill (before the short title), insert the following:

SEC. 948. None of the funds made available in this Act for the community development block grant program under title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 (42 U.S.C. 5301 et seq.) may be used to provide assistance under paragraph (17) of section 105(a) of such Act for any economic development project involving the obtaining of property by the exercise of the power of eminent domain.

H.R. 3058

Offered By: Mr. Al Green of Texas

Amendment No. 3: Page 91, line 8, after the dollar amount, insert the following: “(increased by $7,700,000)”.

Page 91, line 9, after the dollar amount, insert the following: “(increased by $3,900,000)”.

Page 92, line 23, after the first dollar amount, insert the following: “(reduced by $7,700,000)”.

Page 92, line 23, after the first dollar amount, insert the following: “(reduced by $7,700,000)”.
The Senate met at 1 p.m. and was called to order by the President pro tempore (Mr. STEVENS).

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Dr. Barry C. Black, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

O God, our help and shelter, we look to You for defense. Defend us from temptation. Help us to say no to tempting voices and the things that lead to ruin as You teach us to follow Your blueprint for abundant living. Defend us from arrogance as You help us to esteem others as significant because we can see Your image in them. Defend us from ingratitude in the day of prosperity.

Today, defend our lawmakers from discouragement so that they will persevere in well-doing, with the knowledge that the harvest, though delayed, is not denied. Help them to remember that no time exists when You will fail them, and no moment comes when You will forsake them.

Lord, defend each of us from a stubbornness that refuses to be guided by Your light and sustained by Your grace.

We pray in Your strong Name. Amen.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

The PRESIDENT pro tempore led the Pledge of Allegiance, as follows:

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

RESERVATION OF LEADER TIME

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. Under the previous order, the leadership time is reserved.

MORNING BUSINESS

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. Under the previous order, there will be a period for the transaction of morning business until 3 p.m., with the first half of the time under the control of the majority leader or his designee and the second half of the time under the control of the Democratic leader or his designee.

The Senator from Kentucky is recognized.

GUANTANAMO BAY

Mr. BUNNING. Mr. President, today I rise to speak about our operation at Guantanamo Bay, in Cuba. There is so much information out there that is untrue, it must be corrected. Yesterday, I went to Guantanamo Bay with my colleagues, Senator CRAPO and Senator ISAKSON. We went to see for ourselves what all the so-called fuss is about down there, and we want to help set the record straight.

While we were there we also saw Senator WYDEN and Senator BEN NELSON. I am sure they will tell you what they saw when they come to speak on the Senate floor.

Our soldiers assigned in Cuba are on an island within an island. The base is isolated from the rest of Cuba, and it is isolated from the rest of our military. Our troops do not just drive off post to go watch a movie or to go to the mall. All they have is on post, from shopping to entertainment to food.

Many serving at Guantanamo leave their families behind. Some are National Guard troops, far away from home. It is a tough life, and they have a job that is mentally and physically challenging.

As we toured the detention camps, our troops patrolled the buildings and open areas in full uniform. In the afternoon, the temperatures reached the high 80s, and the humidity could not have gotten much worse. But those brave young men and women stood guard over the detainees to keep them in line and protect them from other detainees.

It is a job that is mentally and physically challenging.

While we were there we also saw Senator WYDEN and Senator BEN NELSON. I am sure they will tell you what they saw when they come to speak on the Senate floor.

Many serving at Guantanamo leave their families behind. Some are National Guard troops, far away from home. It is a tough life, and they have a job that is mentally and physically challenging.

As we toured the detention camps, our troops patrolled the buildings and open areas in full uniform. In the afternoon, the temperatures reached the high 80s, and the humidity could not have gotten much worse. But those brave young men and women stood guard over the detainees to keep them in line and protect them from other detainees.

Probably the weather and the Sun are the last things our troops are worried about. The people they are guarding are the terrorists. They are the worst of the worst. They are all dangerous. Many directly fought Americans on the battlefield, killing and wounding our soldiers, yet our young men and women watch over these terrorists and provide for them. They do this despite the terrorists having taken up arms against fellow American servicemen. The danger the terrorists pose to our military in Guantanamo is real and enduring. While we were inspecting one of the detention facilities, the halls were filled with detainees hanging on metal doors of their cells and yelling at anyone who could hear. Weapons have been found in the detainees' cells and are often made from ordinary items they are provided. Our tour around in Guantanamo are putting their lives on the line to protect and provide for terrorists. Yet some of my colleagues and others, commentators, suggest that these brave young men and women are the criminals, and when they make such outrageous statements, there are many in the media willing to repeat the accusation without bothering to check the facts for themselves.

For example, almost any picture seen of detainees at Guantanamo is from Camp X-Ray. Everyone is familiar with those pictures. They are the ones with men in orange suits, living in open-air cells made of chain-link fences.

I went to Camp X-Ray. Do you know what I saw? I saw weeds several feet high growing all along the fencing. Do you know what I did not see? People. Camp X-Ray has been closed since 2002. It is no longer used at all. But those images are the ones that continue to appear in print and on the news. It is no secret that Camp X-Ray is closed, but pictures of the new and improved facilities are never shown.

I wish to talk about these new facilities. They have come a long way from concrete slabs surrounded by chain-link fencing. I cannot say I felt bad for any terrorist who had to spend the night in Camp X-Ray, but the new camps are significantly better. They offer the terrorists more privacy, space, and protection from the weather. Terrorists are no longer making bombs because they are being held next to a Caribbean beach. Others at Guantanamo were caught with heavy weapons, explosives, or anti-aircraft missiles, but not to get to use those weapons to kill Americans because we are holding them in the detention facilities. One person being held there very well may be the intended 20th hijacker for September 11, but because he is locked in a cell in Cuba, he will not be able to fly a plane into a building anytime soon.

I could describe many individuals held at Guantanamo and give reasons they need to remain in our custody, but I only will mention a few more—12, to be exact—is the number of those we know who have been released from Guantanamo and returned to fight against the coalition troops. Some have been killed and some have been recaptured. But we must not miss the opportunity to discuss the intelligence those dangerous people who will stop at nothing to kill innocent Americans.

But there is more to Guantanamo than locking up terrorists. As important as keeping the terrorists from carrying out terrorist attacks. Still others worked on finance and personnel recruitment for terrorist groups. Think of the wealth of terrorist organizations. They know locations and transportation routes. They can validate information gathered on the battlefield. To this day, they continue to provide us with critical information in our fight against terrorism.

We are not gathering information from them in any inhuman way. I saw an example of this at Guantanamo. Before they were being beaten. There was no torture, and they were not being starved. Throughout the entire detention camp, terrorists were given clothes and bedding. They are given Muslim prayer rugs and Korans. There are art programs, music, and free visits to Mecca. We even witnessed a prayer call announcing to the terrorists that it was time for them to turn to Mecca and pray.

That, Mr. President, is a far cry from the repressive regimes to which critics of Guantanamo have compared our military. Did the Nazis respect the Jewish faith? Did Stalin and Pol Pot practice religious tolerance? Absolutely not.

The detainees are being fed well. In fact, their meals often cost more than the meals served to our troops because of their cultural dietary restrictions. When Hitler imprisoned Jews, he did not go out of his way to ensure them kosher meals that followed their faith.

The military has constructed a hospital for the detainees. While we were there, we saw a detainee being transported to the hospital for an examination. When needed, the terrorists have access to other doctors and medical facilities. If a specialist is needed, then one is brought in. In other words, we give the terrorists the same medical care our troops get.

Many get dental care and glasses for the first time in their lives. Others have been diagnosed with diseases and other medical issues and have received treatment. We have even given amputees new medical limbs.

I ask my colleagues, did Hitler and Pol Pot provide dental care to their prisoners before they killed them?

And the terrorists are not being held without a review process. Each person brought to Guantanamo is reviewed to make sure they really are an enemy combatant. They are also periodically reviewed to make sure they still need to be held at Guantanamo or if they should be moved elsewhere or even released.

The detainees are given a chance to explain their side of the story. International law does not require these combatants be given a review board. Our military is going out of its way to give these terrorists rights above and beyond the evil regimes the war's critics have cited. After all, there were not review boards in the gulags or the concentration camps. The Nazis did not care if their prisoners had taken up arms against Germany. They locked them up into slavery anyway.

Anyone who compares our operations at Guantanamo to those ruthless killers is lying to the public and insulting our troops. No detainees at Guantanamo have died due to their treatment by our troops—none, zero.

Hitler murdered 6 million Jews and caused the death of tens of millions more on the battlefield. Stalin had tens of millions killed. Pol Pot was responsible for the deaths of about 1 million in his "killing fields."

Of course, the detainees are not living in luxury. But these are dangerous killers we are talking about. They are terrorists. But we treat them with respect, which is much more than they have ever treated us with.

Conditions improve every day at Guantanamo. But as long as they are dangerous to America, we must continue to hold them and gather information. We have a determined enemy that wants to do nothing but harm us. The only way to beat them is to stand strong, fight longer, and not back down.
What we are doing at Guantanamo is a key part of our fight. These terrorists cannot hurt us as long as they are locked up. They will continue to provide us with valuable intelligence, and we continue to treat them with the dignity and decorum that is due to all of our citizens.

Finally, Mr. President, I want to say thank you to all the brave men and women working for our freedom at Guantanamo and throughout the world. I am always impressed with the fine young Americans in our military. And yesterday was no exception. I had the privilege of meeting a few soldiers from Kentucky while at Guantanamo Bay. I cannot say their names due to the security reasons we have and to ensure their future safety. They, and others, are serving our country with honor. I thank them and their families for their sacrifices.

Mr. President, it was an unbelievable experience yesterday in Cuba at Guantanamo Bay, one I will remember for the rest of my life. I yield the floor.

The President pro tempore. The Senator from Idaho is recognized.

Mr. CRAPO. Thank you very much, Mr. President.

Mr. President, I stand and join my colleague, Senator BUNNING from Kentucky. I was one of those who were able to be on this trip to Guantanamo yesterday, along with Senator ISAKSON from Georgia, who was joined there by two other Senators, Senator WYDEN from Oregon and also Senator NELSON from Nebraska, who came in on a separate trip.

We had an opportunity to view exactly what is happening at Guantanamo. As I said, I am glad to be able to stand with my colleague, Senator BUNNING, and set the record straight about what the United States and the honorable men and women of our armed services are doing to serve the United States and the people of this country, and, frankly, the people of the world as we fight to defeat terrorism.

I want to first thank my colleague, Senator BUNNING, who has given a very thorough and helpful review. I will try not to repeat too many of the things he went through, but he has identified the core points that need to be made as we discuss what is truly happening at Guantanamo.

I want to start out by going into a little bit more detail about who exactly is there. Secondly, I want to talk a little bit about the legal framework because, frankly, a lot of the debate we hear throughout the country and throughout the world today has to do with different points of view about the legal framework within which we are dealing with the circumstances at Guantanamo.

Then I want to talk about the question of transparency; in other words, do we really know what is happening there? There are a lot of people who wonder what they will say: You went there and you visited, but did you really see the truth? I want to talk about that. I also want to talk about what we saw—how are the detainees being treated.

Finally, I want to talk about our own troops. What is their morale? And what is their conduct? And then, actually, the last thing I want to talk about is: Of what benefit to the United States and the world is Guantanamo?

I am going to go back now and talk, first of all, about who is there. I think there has been a bit of a misconception about who it is we are detaining at Guantanamo.

Since the effort began in defeating the Taliban in Afghanistan—and it has expanded to the war in Iraq—the United States has captured more than 70,000 detainees—70,000—in the conduct of the war in Afghanistan and Iraq. Among that number, the vast majority have been handled in other ways. Either they have been released or they have been turned over to other authorities, other nations, or they are being held in facilities in the area of the battle. But we are working with Iraq, Afghanistan, and other governments to make sure they take control of detainees to the maximum extent possible.

But there are some detainees who are so dangerous that we have made the decision, and they are not to be turned over. They are also controlled because they have information that is critical to us in the battle against terrorism. And after a very thorough vetting process, if of 70,000 who have been captured in these battles and in other efforts to fight against terrorism, approximately 800 have been moved to Guantanamo.

My numbers are going to be kind of rounded here, but of that 800, about 235 have already been released or moved into the custody of other countries. My colleague, Senator BUNNING, indicated that is not always good news. At least 12 of those who have been released have been found again in the battlefield—some of them killed in battle, others captured again, and at least one was found to have ordered some very significant terrorist activities after being released from Guantanamo.

But about 235 of the 800 who we determined were so dangerous they needed to be moved to Guantanamo have been released or put into the custody of other countries. Approximately 530 remain at Guantanamo. Who are these 530? These are terrorist trainers. These are the logistics, couriers, the recruiters, and facilitators for al-Qaeda and other terrorist groups. These are terrorist financiers. These are bodyguards of Osama bin Laden; these are suicide bombers—name just a few of those who we have identified and the activities we are stopping by keeping them detained.

I am going to come back a little bit later and talk about who we learn from these detainees. But I would like to talk, next, a little bit about some of the principles from which we have identified. An elaborate process has been put into place, as I indicated, to identify whom we will return and take to Guantanamo to assess the threat they pose to the United States and the international community, and then to give regular review to this process to be sure they are still the threat that they were and deserve to be kept at the Guantanamo base.

But as a result of this effort, we have collected the most dangerous, and the ones with the most information who can give us the most assistance, through the interrogation process, to help us pursue the war against terrorism.

These detainees include terrorists who are linked to a major al-Qaeda attack, including attacks in east Africa, the U.S. Embassy bombings, and the USS Cole attack; terrorists who taught, or received training teams on arms, explosives, surveillance, and interrogation resistance at al-Qaeda camps in Afghanistan and elsewhere; terrorists who continue to express their commitment to kill civilians, Muslims, and Americans; terrorists who have sworn personal allegiance to Osama bin Laden; terrorists who have been linked to several al-Qaeda operational plans, including possible targeting of facilities in the United States; members of al-Qaeda’s international terrorist network including the financiers, the couriers, the recruiters, and the operatives and those who participated in attempted hijacking instances.

I want to give a couple specific examples. One al-Qaeda explosives trainer is there who has provided information to the United States on the September 2001 assassination of Massoud and on the al-Qaeda organization’s use of mines; another individual who completed advanced terrorist training at camps in Afghanistan and participated in an attempted hijacking and escaped while in custody that resulted in the deaths of Pakistani guards; another individual who was involved in terrorist financiers who provided information on Osama bin Laden’s front companies, accounts, and international money movements for financing terror. The list goes on and on. This is who is there at Guantanamo. These are the people whom we seek to detain and about whom the debate in this country revolves. They are dangerous, and they must be kept under control or they will kill more Americans and threaten people throughout the world.

Let me give you some of the legal framework within which they are being detained. That is the crux, though it is not often stated that way, of the debate. I will get into this in more detail, but Senator BUNNING has already indicated, the treatment that is being provided to the detainees is probably the most humane, high quality treatment any nation that has ever captured detainees at war has ever provided to its prisoners. I suspect no other nation today or throughout history could claim to do it in the way we do it.

But as a result of this effort, we have collected the most dangerous, and the ones with the most information who can give us the most assistance, through the interrogation process, to help us pursue the war against terrorism.

These detainees include terrorists who are linked to a major al-Qaeda attack, including attacks in east Africa, the U.S. Embassy bombings, and the USS Cole attack; terrorists who taught, or received training teams on arms, explosives, surveillance, and interrogation resistance at al-Qaeda camps in Afghanistan and elsewhere; terrorists who continue to express their commitment to kill civilians, Muslims, and Americans; terrorists who have sworn personal allegiance to Osama bin Laden; terrorists who have been linked to several al-Qaeda operational plans, including possible targeting of facilities in the United States; members of al-Qaeda’s international terrorist network including the financiers, the couriers, the recruiters, and the operatives and those who participated in attempted hijacking instances.

I want to give a couple specific examples. One al-Qaeda explosives trainer is there who has provided information to the United States on the September 2001 assassination of Massoud and on the al-Qaeda organization’s use of mines; another individual who completed advanced terrorist training at camps in Afghanistan and participated in an attempted hijacking and escaped while in custody that resulted in the deaths of Pakistani guards; another individual who was involved in terrorist financiers who provided information on Osama bin Laden’s front companies, accounts, and international money movements for financing terror. The list goes on and on. This is who is there at Guantanamo. These are the people whom we seek to detain and about whom the debate in this country revolves. They are dangerous, and they must be kept under control or they will kill more Americans and threaten people throughout the world.

Let me give you some of the legal framework within which they are being detained. That is the crux, though it is not often stated that way, of the debate. I will get into this in more detail, but Senator BUNNING has already indicated, the treatment that is being provided to the detainees is probably the most humane, high quality treatment any nation that has ever captured detainees at war has ever provided to its prisoners. I suspect no other nation today or throughout history could claim to do it in the way we do it.
detainees do not serve in a normal army. They do not wear uniforms. They do not serve a nation that is a signee to the Geneva Conventions. They do not honor Geneva Conventions, meaning they do not refrain from murdering civilians and conducting terrorist activities. And because they do not qualify in these categories, they don’t qualify under the Geneva Conventions as prisoners of war. Here is the irony. If they were prisoners of war, they wouldn’t be entitled to the legal benefits about which we are now wrangling. They would be entitled to humane treatment, but they would not be entitled to get into the court system of the country that has captured them.

Many throughout this Nation and throughout the world are saying we should provide all of the legal benefits in a criminal law system, such as the criminal justice system in the United States, to these detainees. The United States has declined to do so, stating that these are enemy combatants under the Geneva Conventions. But they are not prisoners of war under the Geneva Conventions. And there is the irony. If we classify these enemies as prisoners of war under the Geneva Conventions, we could avoid the debate about what their rights are and how they should be treated. Instead, since they are not a group entitled to participate in the criminal justice system and are not a group entitled to be considered prisoners of war under the Geneva Conventions, but are instead enemy combatants under the Geneva Conventions in a category for which nations have not yet agreed on how they should be treated, the United States is embroiled in a debate as to how to treat them.

How have we resolved this decision? On January 19, 2002, the Secretary of Defense gave specific guidance that all detainees are to be treated humanely. On January 21, the same year, the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff issued executive orders to commanders that transmitted the Secretary of Defense order that these detainees be treated humanely. On February 7, 2002, President Bush determined that all Qaida and Taliban detainees shall be treated humanely, consistent with the principles of the Geneva Conventions and military necessity. The detention of enemy combatants in wartime is not an act of punishment. It is a matter of security and military necessity. It prevents enemy combatants from continuing to fight against the United States or its partners in the war on terrorism. Releasing enemy combatants before the end of hostilities and allowing them to rejoin the fight would only prolong the conflict and endanger our coalition and American forces.

Here is the point of the debate. The United States, in acknowledging these enemy combatants are in an uncertain category, has provided to them all of the humane treatment required by the Geneva Convention and more legal rights than they would have if they were prisoners of war. Yet the United States continues to be criticized because there are those—and this is what everyone needs to understand—who will not be able to stop the war. The United States correctly treated some of these enemy combatants in the context of a war but instead choose to treat them as criminals in a criminal justice system and thereby change the legal framework under which they are being handled. The United States correctly treated them and properly refuses to do so. If we were to do so, we would not be able to defend the interests of the country against enemies who are conducting war against us as effectively as we can. If we are able to treat them under the Geneva Conventions as enemy combatants. And when you hear the debate about how they are being treated, listen carefully, because most of the debate is not about their physical condition or whether they are being treated humanely. It is about whether they are being categorized with regard to these legal battles that those who are engaged in the issue wish to see ensue. Let’s talk about what we saw, and then I will describe how they are actually treated and whether their rights are true. I have already had those who knew that I went there ask me whether the opportunity we had is one which truly showed us what was happening at Guantanamo. To make this an issue of transparency. What is happening there, and were we shown what was truly going on?

First, we visited every facility there. Five Senators, with many other individuals with us from other government agencies, went through and visited every facility. My colleague Senator Bunning indicated that we even went to Camp X-Ray which has not been utilized for 2 or 3 years and which is literally overgrown. I walked into one of the cells there. It was Camp X-Ray. I had to brush away the weeds in order to move through the door and to go in and see what it looked like. We visited Camps 1, 2, 3, and 4. And they are numbered in terms of the order in which they were built. These are the newer camps that were constructed to provide better facilities for these detainees than were originally there at Camp X-Ray when we first started using the base. We were able to observe literally everything at the base. And I can say that I don’t think it would have been possible for them to have hidden from us what was happening. We were able to observe the interrogations, to interview and discuss with the personnel present what was happening, right down to the troops who were conducting the specific guarding activities inside the cell blocks. If that is not sufficient, the International Committee of the Red Cross has had 24-hour-a-day, 7-day-a-week access to the facility at its discretion. They have had a permanent presence, recently changing that only at their choosing. The media, both national and international, have had 400 visits to Guantanamo, representing over 1,000 members of the media who have been there to also observe. Lawyers for the detainees who would not be entitled if we categorized them as prisoners of war, have come and, in many of the habeas corpus cases, to observe and discuss with the detainees. And somewhere in the neighborhood of 15 to 20 nations that I could not name, as I believe Russian, in addition to over 100 congressional staff, have been there to observe. My point is that in terms of transparency, is the United States letting its own people, its Congress, and the world know what is being done there? I believe the answer is clearly yes.

My colleague Senator Bunning went through the numbers of deaths in the Nazi concentration camps, in the gulags under Stalin, and the numbers, you will recall, were in the millions. Not one detainee has died at Guantanamo. On the contrary, they have the best medical care that I believe any detainees in history have ever had. So as far as the question goes with regard to whether we are providing a true and accurate picture to the public about what is happening there, the answer is unequivocally yes.

What is happening there? I would like to talk a little bit about what we saw. As I indicated, we had a number of facilities. They are called Camp 1, 2, 3, and 4. They are building Camp 5 and Camp 6. They are different in terms of the levels of security and in terms of the operations. Those who are detained there are able to be in one of the camps versus the other camps depending on how they respond to their detention. If they are the more violent kind who do not follow instructions, then they are often in individual confinement. This individual confinement does not mean that they would be alone. They would be in a cell block with 40 or 50 others, and you can see each other through the cell. These are not enclosed. So they have the ability to play chess between cells and so forth. They have running water, sinks, and toilets in each cell.

They have religious paraphernalia so they can practice their religion. They are facilitated in the practice of that religion by being provided with prayer materials and with direction. Wherever in the camp you are, you can see an arrow that points toward Mecca so you know the directions. They are provided recreational opportunities, showers, and three, good, solid meals a day, as well as outside medical care. Those are the ones who are in the most closely confined circumstances. Those who are more willing to follow instructions and less willing to attack their guards are allowed to live in more communal circumstances where the rooms, in fact, may have two units, are in units where ten or more can live together, and then those groups can go out in recreational facilities and have a little bit expanded recreational opportunity and the like.

Then there is the maximum security facilities which would be comparable to the kinds of similar facilities that are there that you could find anywhere in the world in prison facilities that are subject to extensive litigation and oversight by attorneys and our own judicial system. Throughout this entire process, whether one is in the most extreme, highest maximum security circumstance or whether one is in some of those areas where the more responsible detainees are able to be, they are always provided with the best possible treatment. I don’t believe it would be possible for a valid argument of some type of physical abuse to be made because there is such care there to be certain that even when the detainees are being interrogated—and, by the way, the interrogation is a very humane and, frankly, easygoing process which does not create physical threat to the detainees—there are always more than one or two or three people observing what is happening so there cannot be a circumstance where something goes awry and someone abuses the relationship and the situation.

Let me talk a little bit about the medical care. I said they are getting top-notch medical care. I asked many of those who were there with what the condition was would be between the medical care provided to these detainees and that provided to detainees by other nations in other wars or in other circumstances. Consistently no one could give me an example of better medical care ever being provided anywhere. I asked if it was equivalent to the kind of medical care that our own troops were being provided. The answer was yes. It is probably better medical care than these detainees have ever had in their lifetime. When they were first brought there, many of them had medical injuries from the battles in which they were captured. Those injuries were treated. Now they have reached a point that they have been there several years, some of them, where they are being treated for the kinds of problems you and I and others would want to have medical care for. They are getting annual checkups. They are being treated for diabetes, if they have back ailments or heart problems. They are being treated, if they have dietary needs, they are being treated for them.

A number of them have lost their limbs, not because they lost them in battle but because they lost them while they were building bombs to blow up Americans. And we have provided treatment for their loss of limbs and actually provided them with prosthetics and helped them with the physical therapy so they can regain the use of their bodies to the maximum extent we can. We have provided them, if they have medical needs that go beyond what we have there available, they are taken elsewhere to get that medical treatment.

In fact, I would like to move now to the discussion of what the morale of our troops is. I think as we met there with the guards to those who ran the hospitals to the managers to everyone else, I could honestly say the morale of our troops there is very high. But there is a concern that was consistently expressed to me by them. I had the opportunity to have lunch with some of those who were literally on the front lines having to go into the cell blocks and to provide the guard service around the clock with these detainees. And they are concerned about what the American people and the international public think about them and about what they are doing because they believe they are treating these detainees with the highest respect and with the most humane treatment possible. They are doing it rigorously. If any of them steps out of line, they get handled and they get in trouble. Yet they are subjected constantly to threats and harassment and abuse from the detainees.

It is my view that if anyone is being abused at Guantanamo, it is not the detainees, it is the good young men and women guards who are there on the front line, who are themselves physically threatened, verbally threatened, and in other ways abused. It has been reported what kinds of things are thrown at them through the cell blocks as they walk through. When they happen to go through and a detainee throws urine or feces on them, they have to go out, be hosed off, and go back into duty. If anyone is being abused at Guantanamo, it is the treatment that is being afforded to our men and women of the military that is causing the abuse to them, rather than the reverse.

For those here in this body or anywhere else to accuse our men and women of mistreating those at Guantanamo is a great irony because any abuse or mistreatment that is happening is the reverse.

I am proud of our men and women there. They are truly doing a great service for this country and for this world. Let me conclude by talking a little bit about what that is. By the way, I forgot one piece of information. I have talked about the medical facilities and other kinds of support that have been provided to these detainees to make sure they are being properly cared for. In the newest facilities, the prisoners even get air conditioning, which is not something most of the troops get, at least during their working hours. But what does that cost us? What kind of investment has the United States made? To this point, the United States has spent over one billion dollars on medical facilities, these containment and detention facilities, and for the care and treatment and feeding of these detainees. The annual cost will go on probably at $100 million a year, until we are able to resolve this conflict. The United States has also spent over $140 million in existing or new detention facilities in Afghanistan and Iraq. So we are getting a tremendous amount in here.

What benefit does it provide to us? As I indicated, the purpose of this detention, to me, is twofold. First of all, it is to stop danger from being put back into the field so they can go back out and continue to kill Americans and others and train and facilitate other terrorists in doing the same thing. The first thing is to stop them from committing terrorist activity. The second purpose is to be able to gain from them information that will help us better pursue or fight against terrorists around the world. The question of Guantanamo detainees, which I will again, operation is not the kind of interrogation that one thinks of when they think of a gulag, or what you might see on TV as a threatening interrogation. This is entirely nonthreatening interrogation. It improved the security of our Nation and coalition partners by helping us to expand our understanding of the operations of the terrorists. It has given us an expanded understanding of the organizational structure of al-Qaida and other terrorist groups. It has given us more knowledge of the extent of the terrorist presence in Europe, the United States, and the Middle East. It has given us knowledge of al-Qaida’s purpose of weapons of mass destruction, of methods of recruitment and location of recruitment centers, terrorist skill sets, general and specialized operative training, and of how legitimate financial activities are being used to hide terrorist operations.

The intelligence we are gaining by the interrogations of those who are kept at Guantanamo has prevented terrorist attacks and has saved American lives. Not only has the United States spent over one billion dollars at Guantanamo, not only has the highest health care possible been provided to them, but lives have been saved as a result of our activities there. Detainees have revealed al-Qaida leadership structures and operating funding mechanisms, training and selection programs, travel patterns, support infrastructure, and plans for attacking the United States and other countries. Information has been used by our forces on the battlefield of significantly military and tribal leaders who are engaged in or supporting attacks on coalition forces. Detainees have continuously provided information that confirms other reporting regarding the roles and intentions of al-Qaida and other terrorist operatives.

I could get into details, but I will not do that publicly. The fact is, we are getting extensive, detailed information from the terrorists who are kept at Guantanamo, which is saving American lives and helping us to protect our young men and women in the military and people in other nations.
I want to conclude my remarks by coming back to the beginning. There has been a lot of debate about what is going on at Guantanamo. What is the United States doing? Why is it doing it? Is the United States creating some type of a new detention circumstance in which we are paralleling some of the most terrible examples that our critics have been able to throw up at us? I went down there wanting to know and wanting to see and to be able to report back to the American people about what truly is happening.

What I found was that the U.S. men and women of our Armed Forces are committed, honorable, loyal, duty-bound members of the American military who are following the orders of their Commander in Chief to the letter, following the Geneva Conventions, and providing beyond what the Geneva Conventions even require in terms of protection to these detainees, in a service to peace and to the world. I found a circumstance where I don’t believe a valid argument can be made that there is any nonhumane treatment of these detainees. I found a circumstance in which it appears to me that what is being portrayed by some is simply manufactured out of whole cloth in order to perpetuate a broader debate against the United States and our interests.

I also became convinced that, far beyond our detention facility, Guantanamo is one of the key strategic interrogation facilities necessary for the United States in pursuit of the war against terror in this world. As we have said in both of our remarks, Guantanamo is where the worst of the worst are taken. They are taken there to be protected so that we can be protected from them and so that we can gain information from them that will help us better protect ourselves as we continue to fight to defend against the likes of Osama bin Laden.

I also stand here to commend the young men and women of our fighting forces—not just those who at Guantanamo are suffering the abuse of the detainees and the extremes of the weather and the living circumstances there to defend us, but those who serve throughout this world, whether it be in Iraq or Afghanistan or any of the other places of conflict or in any other of the stations around this world, where we have men and women deployed to defend our interests.

The United States is at war against terrorists and we must acknowledge that. The efforts of the men and women in our military should be commended, not discredited. I stand as one Senator to thank the men and women of our Armed Forces for the tremendous job they do. They put their lives on the line daily for us and they should be given our thanks, not our criticism.

With that, I yield back the remainder of my time.

Mr. CRPO. I thank my colleague from Idaho for his great observation of our trip yesterday. I also know that Senator ISAKSON was unable to be here, but he will make a statement later this evening. I hope Senator BEN NELSON and Senator RON WyDEN will also come forward and report what they saw at Guantanamo.

I am happy to also thank, as Senator CRAPO has, all of our men and women in the military who serve our great country.

Mr. President, I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The clerk will call the roll.

The legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. REID. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. BURNT). Without objection, it is so ordered.

SOCIAL SECURITY PRIVATIZATION

Mr. REID. Mr. President, soon after President Bush won reelection last November, he made clear that the top priority of his second term would be the privatization of Social Security. This is something the President had thought of long before his second term. In fact, when he ran for Congress in the late seventies, he talked then about the Social Security plan going broke and that it should be privatized. So this is something he has thought of a long time. But since he was elected the second time, he and other members of his administration have organized a massive campaign, given countless speeches, and cross-country in an effort to sell the American people privatization.

It has been a tough sell, though. The polls show that most of us don’t believe this whole Social Security agenda about 25 percent. When he started it was in the 70s. Now it is down to 25 percent. It has been a tough sell because the President’s privatization proposal is flawed in many ways. It would require deep benefit cuts, even for workers who don’t choose to privatize accounts. It would require massive borrowing from countries such as China, Saudi Arabia, where we borrow about 40 percent of the money we borrow for this year’s deficit, which will be in the hundreds of billions of dollars, probably closer to half a trillion than not. It would turn Social Security from a guarantee into a gamble. And his privatized accounts would not strengthen Social Security’s finances at all. In fact, it would make the long-term challenge worse, not better. The President has said the privatization plan will not stabilize Social Security. It is important to remember that even if we do nothing, which no one here is advocating, Social Security will pay 100 percent of promised benefits until about 2055 and about 80 percent thereafter. In fact, President Bush will Protect Social Security and stop privatization. It is a message my colleagues are hearing from their constituents in every part of the country.

Because of this widespread opposition, some here in Washington have apparently concluded they could not pass this proposal on the Senate floor in open and public debate. Rather than give up on this unpopular proposal, they are, instead, adopting a stealth strategy. It has been widely reported that many in the minority party are now working behind closed doors to ensure that private accounts or benefit cuts included in the President’s plan, not because the President has abandoned privatization or benefit cuts but, instead, because they recognize this is the only means available to them to get their flawed plan adopted by Congress.

Under this bait-and-switch strategy, what the Senate says or does on private accounts or benefit cuts during its consideration of legislation would be largely off the record. The Senate would pass a bill lacking private accounts or significant cuts and send it to conference with the House, which would be controlled by a handful of privatization supporters. These supporters would work behind closed doors to ensure that private accounts emerge in the conference report.

We will not allow that to happen. In recent weeks, we have seen new evidence that this is, in fact, the administration’s strategy. Last week, for example, bills were introduced in the Senate and the House that were advertised as establishing private accounts with no pain whatsoever. But these proposals are nothing more than political gimmicks. In truth, they still would threaten benefits, they still would require massive borrowing from foreign countries, and they would still fail, at one day, Social Security’s solvency. In fact, like the President’s plan, the private accounts they propose would make matters worse.

No one is going to be fooled by this type of gimmickry, and Democrats are not naive or foolish enough to fall for a bait-and-switch strategy that has been widely advertised in advance.

So I call on the President and his supporters to face reality and give up on privatization. Rather than continuing to push for this radical and ideologically driven proposal, which is a buzzword for getting rid of Social Security, I propose they listen to the words of another Republican President from 50 years ago, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

This is what General Eisenhower said back then—This is not some Democratic Senator, Democratic Governor, Democratic State legislator, or Democratic colleague of the Senate. This is President Eisenhower:

Should any political party attempt to abolish Social Security, unemployment insurance, and eliminate labor laws and farm programs, it would not hear of that again in our political history. There is a tiny splinter group, of course, that believes you can do all these things. Among them are H.L. Hunt . . . and a few other Texas oil millionaires, and an occasional politician or businessman from other areas. Their number is negligible and they are stupid.

President Eisenhower:

As I have said, I want to make sure these words are not coming from me. These are President Eisenhower’s words. But if President Eisenhower’s view is not persuasive to our current President, I would propose he listen to the words of another Republican President, his dad. In 1987, the first President Bush called privatization, “nutty.” As he said at the time: “It may be a new idea, but it’s a dumb one.”

That is what two Republican Presidents said about privatization. They are right.

So I hope we can move beyond privatization, move beyond gimmicks, move past the attempt to secure private accounts through a transparent strategy of bait and switch. Instead, let’s agree to strengthen Social Security and to do it on a bipartisan basis. That would be the right thing to do for America’s workers.

Is it my understanding the distinguished Senator from Texas wants to speak in time that has been reserved to the minority?

Mr. CORNYN. That is correct. I will need about 10 minutes.

Mr. REID. I don’t think we have anyone coming, so you are sure welcome to use our time.

Mr. CORNYN. I thank the distinguished Democratic leader.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, the Senator from Texas is recognized.

The remarks of Mr. CORNYN, relating to the introduction of S. 1313, are printed in today’s Record under “Statements on Introduced Bills and Joint Resolutions.”

Mr. CORNYN. I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. BURNS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for unanimous consent be discharged.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

CONCLUSION OF MORNING BUSINESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Morning business is now closed.

Mr. BURNS. Parliamentary inquiry. Mr. President, we are now on the Interior appropriations bill; is that correct?

DEPARTMENT OF INTERIOR, ENVIRONMENT, AND RELATED AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 2006

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Under the previous order, the Senate will re-examine consideration of H.R. 2361, which the clerk will report.

The assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

A bill (H.R. 2361) making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes.

PENDING:

Pending: Burns (for Voinovich) amendment No. 1010, to prohibit the use of funds to take certain land into trust without the consent of the Governor of the State in which the land is located.

AMENDMENT NO. 1022

Mr. BURNS. Mr. President, I send an amendment to the desk. First of all, it is on behalf of the majority leader and minority leader. It relates to congressional security.

This issue relates to a recent DC Board zoning adjustment granting a building height variance for a developer here in the vicinity of the Capitol. Without going through some sensitive detail, let me simply say our two leaders have offered this amendment to prevent this variance from going into effect until the Capitol Police Board, with the consent of the Senate and House leadership, certifies that such a variance will not have a negative impact on congressional security and increase Federal expenditures related to congressional security.

This amendment does not preclude development of the property, but it ensures that existing height regulations are honored and the security of the Capitol and all the people who work here is protected.

So I offer this amendment for the majority leader and minority leader. The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, the pending amendment is set aside. The clerk will report.

Mr. BURNS. Mr. President, I have a very important little conference to go to at 3:15. I see the ranking member of the committee on the floor. He did a great job on Friday, I am told, flying solo. So I am going to go to that meeting and just kind of turn the reins over to Senator Dorgan, my good friend from North Dakota.

We will start going through some amendments and start working this bill out this afternoon. It is our intention not to keep the Senate open all that long today. We will start working on those amendments as soon as possible.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will now report the amendment.

The assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from Montana [Mr. BURNS] for Mr. Pascrell, for himself and Mr. Reid, proposes an amendment numbered 1022.

The amendment is as follows:

At the end of title IV, insert the following:

SEC. 1. CONGRESSIONAL SECURITY RELATING TO CERTAIN REAL PROPERTY.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided under subsection (b)—

(1) the District of Columbia Board of Zoning Adjustments and the District of Columbia Planning Commission may not take any action to grant any variance relating to the property located at 51 Louisiana Avenue NW,
Mr. OBAMA, proposes an amendment number 1024. Mr. DORGAN, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the amendment be set aside so I can offer an amendment. The PRESIDING OFFICER. The bill clerk reads as follows: The Senator from North Dakota [Mr. DORGAN] for Mrs. F. FEINSTEIN, proposes an amendment numbered 1024. Mr. DORGAN, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that reading of the amendment be dispensed with. The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered. The amendment is as follows: (Purpose: To require Federal reserve banks to transfer certain surplus funds to the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System for transfer to the Secretary of the Treasury for deposit in the general fund of the Treasury, a total amount of $1,080,000,000 in fiscal year 2006. (2) ALLOCATION BY FED. — Of the total amount required to be paid by the Federal reserve banks under paragraph (1) for fiscal year 2006, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System shall determine the amount that each such bank shall pay in such fiscal year. (3) REPLETEMENT OF SURPLUS FUND PROHIBITED. — No Federal reserve bank may replenish the surplus fund of such bank by the amount of any transfer by such bank under paragraph (1) during fiscal year 2006. (b) USE OF SURPLUS. — Of amounts transferred to the general fund of the Treasury under section 7(d) of the Federal Reserve Act as added by this section— (1) $140,000,000 shall be made available to the Secretary of the Interior for use by the Bureau of Indian Affairs; and (2) $890,000,000 shall be made available to the Secretary of Health and Human Services for use by the Director of the Indian Health Service in providing Indian health care services and facilities.

Mr. DORGAN, Mr. President, I suggest the absence of a quorum. The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. SUNUNU. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded. The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

AMENDMENT NO. 1025

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I offer an amendment on behalf of Senator BARBARA BOXER, for herself, Senator NELSON of Florida, Senators CLINTON and SCHUMER of New York, and Senator OBAMA of Illinois, and send it to the desk. The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, the bill clerk will report. The bill clerk reads as follows:

The Senator from North Dakota [Mr. DORGAN] for Mrs. BOXER, for herself, Mr. NELSON of Florida, Mrs. CLINTON, Mr. SCHUMER, and Mr. OBAMA, proposes an amendment numbered 1025.

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that further reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered. The amendment is as follows: (Purpose: To prohibit the use of funds by the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency to accept, consider, or rely on third-party intentional dosing human studies for pesticides or to conduct intentional dosing human studies for pesticides) At the appropriate place, add the following:
simply: To place a restriction on the use of Federal taxpayer funds to be used to build logging roads in the Tongass National Forest on behalf of private companies. This is a case where we need to be very careful about providing Federal subsidies for private corporations.

This was a topic of discussion during some of the remarks I made on the Energy bill and I have raised this issue many times in the past. We need to be careful about using Federal resources to provide subsidies for private companies because it distorts the marketplace, promotes inefficiencies, and isn’t good stewardship of Federal resources.

In 2004, the Federal Government, through the Forest Service, spent between $45 and $50 million building logging roads in this segment of the national forest. They took in roughly $1 million in revenues. I would like to make sure we give the benefit of the doubt any time we are spending money. We understand it can have economic impacts, it can create jobs and the like, but to spend $45 or $50 million on programs that provide $1 million in revenues when there is a timber sale seems like an enormous inequity to me. And, of course, these shortfalls over 20 years, the losses amount to between $750 and $850 million. I don’t think this is an appropriate use of Federal resources.

I am pleased to offer this amendment with Senator BINGAMAN. I hope it will restore a little bit of fiscal restraint and balance to this Interior appropriation bill. It is important to recognize what this amendment does not do because, as the debate is carried forward, I want to make sure that concerns raised speak to the amendment and not to other issues.

What this amendment does not do is prohibit logging in the Tongass or any other segment of our national forest. It doesn’t about policy regarding logging—logging in any substantive way. It doesn’t curtail uses in the national forest, again, in the Tongass or anywhere else in the country. I come from a State, New Hampshire, that has a great tradition of multiple use in our national forest system—recreational use, economic operations, timber program, hunting, fishing. It is a true multiuse forest. I believe that general approach to our national forest makes the most sense.

This amendment does not restrict the use of private funds to build logging roads. I don’t think that is inappropriate in any way. If we have a timber sale on any segment of the national forest, that should be conducted in an open, transparent way, but the market should dictate the attractiveness of a particular cut, the sale of that timber, the pricing, and the like.

People who speak to this amendment may well raise concerns about regulation, about legal barriers and legal obstacles, about subsidies that other timber concerns in other countries may enjoy. Those are all valid concerns. I have stepped forward to try to address those concerns to allow timber management, an important segment of our economy, to operate in a fair and reasonable way. But this amendment doesn’t address or solve or make worse any of those concerns. Those are issues that need to continue to be addressed. We should have reasonable regulatory processes that are understandable, that allow appropriate timber sales and logging operations to continue on national forest land. We should do everything in our power to avoid frivolous lawsuits throughout our economy but also those types of frivolous lawsuits that might necessarily hinder and raise the cost of the timber program. And, of course, there are subsidies being provided by other countries. New Hampshire and Canada share a border, and the issue of subsidies in the timber industry—placing operations in the United States at a competitive disadvantage—is something that I have dealt with time and time again. But all the things we say we will no longer use Federal funds to support the building, construction, and planning and development of roads for private entities in the Tongass. When you have a cost of $45 or $50 million for revenue of just $1 million, you don’t have to be an economist to understand why this amendment makes good, common sense for the taxpayer.

I encourage my colleagues to support this legislation. It has been endorsed by a number of individuals who are looking at this matter from a purely fiscal perspective and doing what is right for taxpayers. It reflects much more commonsense use of Federal resources.

I yield the floor.

AMENDMENT NO. 1029

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from North Dakota [Mr. DORGAN].

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the pending amendment be set aside.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendments are as follows:

AMENDMENT NO. 1030

(Purpose: To modify a provision relating to funds appropriated for Bureau of Indian Affairs postsecondary schools)

On page 182, strike lines 20 through 25 and insert the following:

SEC. 110. (a)(1) For fiscal year 2006 and each succeeding fiscal year, any funds made available by this Act for the Southwest Indian Polytechnic Institute and Haskell Indian Nations University for postsecondary programs of the Bureau of Indian Affairs in excess of the amount made available for those postsecondary programs for fiscal year 2005 shall be allocated in direct proportion to the need of the schools, as determined in accordance with the postsecondary funding formula adopted by the Office of Indian Education Programs.

(b) For fiscal year 2007 and each succeeding fiscal year, the Bureau of Indian Affairs shall use the postsecondary funding formula adopted by the Office of Indian Education Programs based on the needs of the Southwest Indian Polytechnic Institute and Haskell Indian Nations University to justify the amounts submitted as part of the budget request of the Department of the Interior.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, $175,790 is authorized to be appropriated for the Southwest Indian Polytechnic Institute.

AMENDMENT NO. 1031

(Purpose: To set aside additional amounts for Youth Conservation Corps projects)

On page 130, line 2, strike “$1,000,000” and insert “$1,250,000.”

On page 136, line 7, strike “$2,000,000” and insert “$2,500,000.”

On page 146, line 19, strike “$1,937,000” and insert “$2,500,000.”

On page 211, line 25, strike “$2,000,000” and insert “$2,500,000.”

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to speak in morning business for 5 minutes.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

CARLOS LAZO

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, on Friday I brought to the floor a picture of a wonderful young soldier. This soldier is a man who fled from Cuba on a raft in 1992. His name is Carlos Lazo.
S7406  CONGRESSIONAL RECORD — SENATE  June 27, 2005

Sergeant Lazo has not been able to bring his family to this country from Cuba. He kept in contact with them, visiting them a number of times under the rules that allow Cuban Americans to visit close relatives in Cuba once a year.

In 1998, Carlos joined the National Guard. They were mobilized in 2003, deployed to Iraq in March of 2004. In June of 2004, Sergeant Lazo came back to the United States from Iraq on a 2-week visit. He hoped to use that time to make his annual visit to Cuba to see his sons. But just before Sergeant Lazo came home on leave, the President announced new regulations that would limit Cuban-American family visits to once every 3 years. Even though Sergeant Lazo got to the Miami airport a day before the new regulation went into effect, our State Department prohibited him from boarding a charter flight to Cuba to visit his children.

Mr. Lazo, in the country of Iraq wearing a uniform, was given the Bronze Star award. Let me show you the award, the Bronze Star medal given SPC Carlos Lazo, Charlie Company, 181st Support Battalion, for exceptionally meritorious service while serving as a combat medic with Charlie Company. It goes on to talk about his heroism and courage. Here is an American soldier who went to fight in Iraq because his country asked him to fight in Iraq. He was fighting for freedom. This American soldier—the Bronze Star fighting in Iraq. He comes home to this country and his young child in Cuba has a very high temperature and is in the hospital, quite ill. He wants to go to Cuba to visit his child. After fighting in Iraq, he is told he doesn’t have the freedom to travel to Cuba except once every 3 years to see his family.

I said: Surely there must be some humanitarian exceptions to that. This guy wins the Bronze Star fighting for this country but doesn’t have the freedom to go visit a sick kid?

They said: There are no exceptions. We have people calling us saying: My mother is dying in Cuba. I need to go see her. We tell them no because there are no humanitarian exceptions.

I said what on Earth are you thinking about? You created the regulation. Don’t tell me the regulations prevent you from doing the right thing. You created them; change them. So here it is, on Monday afternoon, this Sergeant Lazo—Carlos Lazo—still asks the question: Why, when I fought in Iraq, demonstrated courage under battlefield conditions, won a Bronze Star, do I come home and find I don’t have the freedom to visit my sick child 90 miles away from the shores of America?

That is unbelievable. Not surprising to me, but unbelievable.

I will show you a picture of another young woman who visited my office. This is Joann Scott. Joann went to Cuba, but she didn’t get permission. She didn’t know she had to get permission. She went to Cuba because she wanted to distribute free Bibles. She took a supply of Bibles and went to Cuba to distribute them. Guess what this Government did. They tracked her down and slapped a $10,000 fine on her. Why? She didn’t have a license to go to Cuba. Fidel Castro has been sticking his finger in our eye for many years. But if we think we are slapping him around by restricting the rights of the American people to travel there, we are seriously mistaken.

The quickest way to get Castro out of office in Cuba—and he has lived through 2,200 Presidential terms—is through trade and travel. Just as we do with China and South Vietnam, both of which are also Communist countries. Trade and travel will rapidly advance the day in which Cuba will have a new government. To penalize and punish American citizens—someone who wants to distribute free Bibles in Cuba, or someone who wants to take his father’s ashes with his last request to distribute his ashes on the grounds of a church to which he once ministered in Cuba, to punish these people—and this Government is doing that—is unbelievable.

In this case, it is Sergeant Lazo who is penalized. So this Monday afternoon when I went in and I was given a call from the State Department saying, No, our rules in America are that you can fight for America and for freedom, but you don’t have the freedom to go see a sick kid? If that is the result, that is unbelievable.

Mr. President, we will see if I get a telephone call this afternoon. If they don’t find a humanitarian way to provide exceptions, not just for Sergeant Lazo but for someone whose father or mother is dying and they need to go to Cuba, then we are going to vote on that on this appropriations bill. Yes, it will take a suspension and it will take a two-thirds vote. But we will see who wants to stand up for the interests of a young soldier who was willing to fight for this country but doesn’t have the freedom to go see his sick son. We will see who is willing to stand up for his interests and the interests of the basic proposition that you ought to be free to travel. We will see at the end of the day.

I say, again, I fully intend to offer an amendment to this bill, and it will require suspension of the rules, but I will offer that and ask my colleagues to vote on it.

Mr. President, there is more to say, but I will reserve that until I get a call from the State Department today telling us what they have decided to do.

AMENDMENT NO. 1092

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following amendment be set aside, and I send to the desk an amendment by Senator DURBIN.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report.

The bill clerk read as follows:

The Senator from North Dakota [Mr. DORGAN], for Mr. DURBIN, produces an amendment numbered 1092.

Mr. DORGAN. I ask unanimous consent that further reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To prohibit the use of funds in contravention of the Executive order relating to Federal actions to address environmental justice in minority populations and low-income populations)

On page 294, after line 25, add the following:

Siz. 4 . None of the funds made available by this Act may be used in contravention of, or to delay the implementation of, Executive Order No. 12898 of February 11, 1994 (59 Fed. Reg. 7629; relating to Federal actions to address environmental justice in minority populations and low-income populations).
Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I suggest the absence of a quorum. The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll. The bill clerk proceeded to call the roll. Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded. The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered. Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that I be able to speak in morning business for 5 minutes.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

WASTE, FRAUD, AND ABUSE

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I have spent the last nearly 2 hours prior to coming to the floor chairing a hearing of the Democratic Policy Committee on waste, fraud, and abuse, dealing with the Halliburton Corporation with respect to contracting in Iraq. I don’t—along with my colleagues who joined me—take pleasure at holding hearings to expose waste and abuse and, I think, fraud. What hurts the most is because the authorizing committees in this Congress have decided they are not interested in having these kinds of hearings.

Let me just give you some idea of what we have learned at the five hearings that I have held on this subject. Today, at the hearing, an employee of Halliburton who was providing food service in a portion of Iraq to our troops, said something to me that was almost unbelievable. He said they were routinely serving food to American troops that had out-dated stamps on it. When you go to the grocery store, you see that food is going to be good through a certain date. They were getting that kind of food that was out of date and serving it to American soldiers.

I understand greed because we see it in some of these circumstances at these hearings. I don’t understand abhorrent behavior of somebody who is charging this Government for feeding our troops, and then would feed our troops food that is date stamped out of date. The Halliburton Corporation, by the way, said that it was feeding 42,000 troops a day in one contract, and it turns out that only 14,000 were eating. They were charging for 28,000 meals they were not serving. Now we discover, more than that—more than charging for 42,000 meals when only 14,000 meals—they were serving food that was out of date to American soldiers. That is unbelievable to me.

We send these soldiers to a war zone and contract that company to feed them, and they feed them food that is date stamped out of date. Nobody wants to investigate these things. No hearings. It is eerily quiet here. Normally, when you see fraud, waste, and abuse, we have people who are interested in investigating that and putting a stop to it right now. We have heard so many tales of waste, fraud, and abuse.

Halliburton orders 50,000 pounds of nails that are the wrong size, so they are laying on the sand in Iraq. Just another bit of waste. It is $40 for a case of pop or soda and $7,000 a month to lease SUVs. There are $850,000 trucks that are abandoned on the roads and are torching because they have a plugged fuel pump. These are all stories we have heard at our hearings, which the authorizing committees won’t have. They have been asked to have them, but they will not. I have chaired hearings where they said “we won’t”—on these issues. It doesn’t serve American troops. It desserts American troops to allow this sort of thing to happen.

When we get involved in circumstances where our country has an obligation to the troops we ask to go into harm’s way, we have a responsibility to make sure there is not corruption and looting and thieving going on.

We had a woman testify today, Bunnatine Greenhouse. She was the highest civilian official in the Pentagon dealing with Corps of Engineer projects. She was called in at one point and told: Either you can retire or you are going to be demoted. We are not putting up with your objections anymore.

She was objecting to sole-source contracts being given to Halliburton—no bids. What is the result of that? Headline after headline about waste and fraud. Here is what she said today: I can not understand that the abuse related to contracts awarded to KBR [a subsidiary of Halliburton] represents the most blatant and improper contract abuse I have witnessed during the course of my professional career.

By the way, she had a meeting last week with the acting general counsel, I believe, of the Corps of Engineers, and she was told that it would not be in her best interest to speak publicly about these things. Don’t worry so much about the waste or the fraud or the abuse; worry about the people who are going to speak up, who have the courage to step out and say here is what is going on, and I am willing to risk my career to talk about it.

For good of this woman. It took courage for her to come forward today. She was one of the top senior officials in that whole pyramidal. The old boys just worked around her and worked their way to the top and then they ask that she do what? Go to the buddy system. This is what they are supposed to do—provide oversight? When you have $10 billion or $12 billion lining the pockets of big contractors whose documented abuse of that money is legend—don’t take it from me, take it from the facts—that and the recriminations the committees of the Congress do what they have a responsibility to do? We will see.

I wanted to point out that this afternoon was spent by me—at least from 1:30 and for the first 2 hours—listening to things that I find shameful with respect to practices by some companies—notably Halliburton—in the country of Iraq, profiteering during a war.
Mr. President, the last time we held a hearing dealing with Iraq, we had one of the people there hold up a towel, and he said: My job was to buy towels, among other things. I was a procurement agent. I was to buy towels—the hand towels you would use in the bathroom. I was to buy sheets. He showed us the hand towel he was going to buy, and then he showed us the one he didn’t buy. The one he did buy had a logo of the company on it—the contracting company. The contracting company would then sell them to buy a higher-priced towel, a more expensive towel, so they could put their logo on it. Waste of the money? I think so. It is unbelievable when you see all that is going on and nobody is minding the store.

I hope perhaps one day this Congress, in a deep slumber about accountability and oversight responsibilities, will wake up and do what it is required to do. At that point, we will no longer have to do hearings in our policy committee. Until that point, however, we intend to continue such hearings.

Mr. President, I yield the floor and suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The bill clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to speak in morning business for 5 minutes.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

CORPORATION FOR PUBLIC BROADCASTING

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, there has been quite a controversy developing in recent weeks about the Corporation for Public Broadcasting. I have been on the Senate floor a couple of times about the subject, and I wish to address it now, particularly because actions that were taken last week.

The Corporation for Public Broadcasting has a Board of Directors that is headed by a Mr. Kenneth Tomlinson. Mr. Tomlinson decided to take it upon himself to describe public broadcasting as having a liberal bias. Because it has a liberal bias, according to the Chairman of the Board of Directors, all pointed by President Bush, he hired a consultant, a fellow who had worked for 20 years at a journalism center founded by the American Conservative Union. He hired a consultant for just over $11,000 without the knowledge of the Board of Directors to evaluate particularly programming by the Bill Moyers show called “Now.” The Inspector General at the Corporation for Public Broadcasting is now investigating that expenditure of money, but a higher PBS, is not biased, is good information, provides good programming, balanced programming, and yet the Chairman of the Board, who is partisan, has made it his cause to tell the American people there is a liberal bias in public broadcasting over television and radio on NPR and on PBS.

Most of us, of course, know public television by Big Bird, Ernie, the Cookie Monster, the Count, Grover. I was thinking, when I have heard the discussions about consolidation of radio stations by the Chairman of the Board, Mr. Tomlinson, I was thinking of Oscar the Grouch, who complains about everything. I would not take the analogy so far because Oscar the Grouch lives in a trash can, but every time he peeks his head out something is wrong. He complains about everything, Oscar the Grouch.

Well, maybe we have an Oscar the Grouch running the Corporation for Public Broadcasting. After all, he is a partisan who has decided to allege that there is a liberal and conservative bias at the Corporation for Public Broadcasting. Then he hires a conservative to do an evaluation of that.

When he did that with public funding, I asked Mr. Tomlinson, by letter, to provide me with a copy of the evaluation of the consultant, some of the listings giving that raw data, which was many pages of raw information. I have described that on the Senate floor. I will not do that again. He told me that it was not a summary but a complete rendering of the summary. I have now given the summary in the last couple of days—I believe last Friday.

In the intervening period, Chairman Tomlinson also decided that his candidate to become President of the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, a position that was open, should be assumed by a former Co-Chair of the Republican National Committee. Over the objections of some members of the Board, who is partisan, he made that happen last week. So the former Co-Chair of the Republican National Committee is now going to become the President of the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, an organization that the Chairman of the Board of the Corporation for Public Broadcasting alleges has a liberal bias. He believes that it is political or partisan; therefore, he brings in a partisan.

If a former co-chair of the Democratic National Committee had been hired, I assume there would be a howl that one could hear all the way to West Virginia coming from this Chamber and the Chamber across the hall because they would say: You are politicizing the Corporation for Public Broadcasting. Regrettably, that is exactly what Mr. Tomlinson is doing by hiring a former Co-Chair of the Republican National Committee.

Public broadcasting does a real service in this country. There are some stories no other broadcaster will do. Do my colleagues think that ABC, CBS, NBC or FOX will ever do a no holds barred, in-depth story about concentration in the media and about the rules that the Federal Communications Commission tried to foist on this country that would allow further concentration until they were stopped by the Federal courts? Do my colleagues think that would ever be done with such a public service network? Not on your life because they are all making money consolidating.

The Federal Communications Commission came up with a goofy rule—one that, in my judgment, subjects the Inspector General’s office to the same kind of treatment as a political process. He complained about everything. I was thinking of the American people. Mr. President, I think perhaps one day this Congress in a deep slumber about accountability and oversight responsibilities, will wake up and do what it is required to do. At that point, we will no longer have to do hearings in our policy committee. Until that point, however, we intend to continue such hearings.

Mr. President, I yield the floor and suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Government to include that question in the summary but he was completing a summary that was open, should be assumed by a former Co-Chair of the Republican National Committee. Over the objections of some members of the Board, who is partisan, he made that happen last week. So the former Co-Chair of the Republican National Committee is now going to become the President of the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, an organization that the Chairman of the Board of the Corporation for Public Broadcasting alleges has a liberal bias. He believes that it is political or partisan; therefore, he brings in a partisan.
Mr. DORGAN. I ask unanimous consent that the reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To authorize recipients of grants provided under section 104(k)(4)(B)(i)(IV) for fiscal year 1999 and all that follows through “2005” and inserting “for each of fiscal years 2006 through 2015”.

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the amendment be set aside.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Amendments Nos. 1036 and 1037, en bloc

Mr. DORGAN. I send two amendments to the floor to briefly discuss this amendment that has been offered by the Senator from New Hampshire and others and tell the Senate this is opening the door to a whole series of agreements that were made in previous Congresses and approved by the President, and it is a subject I intend to debate at length. I will tell the Senate a little bit of history tonight and take an opportunity to more subsequently discuss this issue.

This amendment that has been offered will prevent the use of Federal funds to plan, design, study, or construct new forest development roads in the Tongass. The Tongass National Forest is our largest national forest. It has a southern division and a northern division. When I came to the Senate, the harvest level was about 1.5 billion board feet a year from the total Tongass. In subsequent years it has been under attack severely, until today I think it is less than 17 percent of the Tongass is available for harvesting timber.

This amendment discriminates against Alaska. There are national forests in many States and the Forest Service spends a lot of money on forest roads, but this would say that only in Alaska can the Forest Service be prohibited from spending money for forest roads.

Let me go back a little bit in the history. I am gathering the information we need to address the matter in depth tomorrow and subsequently. This area is not unique in the sense of timber harvest. The Forest Service follows about the same regulations in Alaska they would in any other national forest. As a matter of fact, in 1980, the Alaskan National Interests Conservation Land Act which withdrew a great portion of this forest from any future harvesting of timber; then after that we had the Tongass Timber Reform Act which further limited the amount that could be harvested from the Tongass; and then we had the enormous dispute over roads in the Tongass. This is another way to limit the development of Alaska’s timber because of the policies of our national Government with regard to harvesting the national forests.

The debate over forest roads also has included the question of the provisions that would be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, what is the parliamentary situation? The PRESIDING OFFICER. The pending question is amendment 1037 to the Interior appropriations bill.

Mr. STEVENS. What amendment is pending?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Amendment 1037.

Amendment No. 1036

Mr. STEVENS. What is the number of Senator SUNUNU’s amendment?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Senator SUNUNU’s amendment is 1026.

Mr. STEVENS. I thank the Chair. Mr. President, I have come to the floor to briefly discuss this amendment that has been offered by the Senator from New Hampshire and others and tell the Senate this is opening the door to a whole series of agreements that were made in previous Congresses and approved by the President, and it is a subject I intend to debate at length. I will tell the Senate a little bit of history tonight and take an opportunity to more subsequently discuss this issue.

This amendment that has been offered will prevent the use of Federal funds to plan, design, study, or construct new forest development roads in the Tongass. The Tongass National Forest is our largest national forest. It has a southern division and a northern division. When I came to the Senate, the harvest level was about 1.5 billion board feet a year from the total Tongass. In subsequent years it has been under attack severely, until today I think it is less than 17 percent of the Tongass is available for harvesting timber.

This amendment discriminates against Alaska. There are national forests in many States and the Forest Service spends a lot of money on forest roads, but this would say that only in Alaska can the Forest Service be prohibited from spending money for forest roads.

Let me go back a little bit in the history. I am gathering the information we need to address the matter in depth tomorrow and subsequently. This area is not unique in the sense of timber harvest. The Forest Service follows about the same regulations in Alaska they would in any other national forest. As a matter of fact, in 1980, the Alaskan National Interests Conservation Land Act which withdrew a great portion of this forest from any future harvesting of timber; then after that we had the Tongass Timber Reform Act which further limited the amount that could be harvested from the Tongass; and then we had the enormous dispute over roads in the Tongass. This is another way to limit the development of Alaska’s timber because of the policies of our national Government with regard to harvesting the national forests.

The debate over forest roads also has included the question of the provisions that would be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, what is the parliamentary situation? The PRESIDING OFFICER. The pending question is amendment 1037 to the Interior appropriations bill.

Mr. STEVENS. What amendment is pending?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Amendment 1037.

Amendment No. 1036

Mr. STEVENS. What is the number of Senator SUNUNU’s amendment?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Senator SUNUNU’s amendment is 1026.

Mr. STEVENS. I thank the Chair. Mr. President, I have come to the floor to briefly discuss this amendment that has been offered by the Senator from New Hampshire and others and tell the Senate this is opening the door to a whole series of agreements that were made in previous Congresses and approved by the President, and it is a subject I intend to debate at length. I will tell the Senate a little bit of history tonight and take an opportunity to more subsequently discuss this issue.

This amendment that has been offered will prevent the use of Federal funds to plan, design, study, or construct new forest development roads in the Tongass. The Tongass National Forest is our largest national forest. It has a southern division and a northern division. When I came to the Senate, the harvest level was about 1.5 billion board feet a year from the total Tongass. In subsequent years it has been under attack severely, until today I think it is less than 17 percent of the Tongass is available for harvesting timber.

This amendment discriminates against Alaska. There are national forests in many States and the Forest Service spends a lot of money on forest roads, but this would say that only in Alaska can the Forest Service be prohibited from spending money for forest roads.

Let me go back a little bit in the history. I am gathering the information we need to address the matter in depth tomorrow and subsequently. This area is not unique in the sense of timber harvest. The Forest Service follows about the same regulations in Alaska they would in any other national forest. As a matter of fact, in 1980, the Alaskan National Interests Conservation Land Act which withdrew a great portion of this forest from any future harvesting of timber; then after that we had the Tongass Timber Reform Act which further limited the amount that could be harvested from the Tongass; and then we had the enormous dispute over roads in the Tongass. This is another way to limit the development of Alaska’s timber because of the policies of our national Government with regard to harvesting the national forests.

The debate over forest roads also has included the question of the provisions that would be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. President, what is the parliamentary situation? The PRESIDING OFFICER. The pending question is amendment 1037 to the Interior appropriations bill.

Mr. STEVENS. What amendment is pending?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Amendment 1037.
in the 1980 act which prohibited any further withdrawal of Alaska's lands without prior approval of the Congress. This is an amendment that looks as if there is an economic concept involved, but really it is one of the goals of those who want to limit further use of the Tongass.

Regarding the roadless concept, they tried to apply it to our national forests, the Tongass National Forest. Because of the provisions in the 1980 act which prohibit further withdrawals of Alaska's land without prior approval of the Congress, that concept did not get applied to the Tongass. The last President did issue an Executive order which purported to change that, but that has been rescinded as that was an error on the part of the last administration. We are operating under the basis that there could be roads built in the portions of the Tongass that have not been withdrawn.

The problem is this: The cost of developing the Tongass in Alaska is different from other States. In most States, there is a road infrastructure in the area that surrounds the national forest. As a matter of fact, most national forests have a Federal highway going right through them. Southeast Alaska has no roads. It is an island community. There is no connection between those islands. There is no attempt to build a highway system in southeast Alaska. As a matter of fact, our capital city has no road that can be used to enter Juneau from another area. I think it is the only capital you can reach only by boat or air. There is no way to drive to our capital because it is on one of the islands I am talking about.

When we look at the situation of southeast Alaska, we have to realize one of the costs of developing a timber industry in southeast Alaska is building roads on islands on which there are no roads. The temporary roads that have been built under specification of the Forest Service and designed to become wilderness, in effect, once the regrowth is commenced.

What I am saying is, once the timber is harvested, the natural product of what we call the "slash" that comes from developing and cutting the timber is laid across the ground, and within a very few years that area will be totally grown over again. In most instances, we will not be able to develop new temporary roads because the regrowth will have been eliminated by regrowth. I invite everyone to take a look at Admiralty Island, across from Juneau. That at one time was cut for timber and now is regrown to such an extent that it has been named a wilderness area. It is the only area in the country that is a wilderness area despite the fact that its timber has been cut once.

As we get the information I am seeking from the Forest Service and from other agencies, I want to demonstrate to the Senate that the only way to be able to harvest the timber we are entitled to harvest is to follow the process the Forest Service itself has selected; that is, that it build the forest roads. As it selects an area for timber harvest, it will build the roads, and the purchaser of the timber will agree to pay the cost of those roads as part of the cost of the contract to harvest the timber.

As time has passed and many of our areas have been selected for harvest in the area set aside for timber production now—I remind the Senate that well over three-fourths of the Tongass is for timber production to be used by industries without wild and scenic rivers, forest wilderness, and is not available for any kind of timber harvest. In the areas where it was agreed timber harvests would be permitted, the Forest Service builds these roads and uses the funds we appropriate for that purpose, and those funds are repaid by the person who harvests the timber.

As time has passed, the challenges from the environmental organizations of the country—the environmental impact statements, and often-repeated environmental impact statements, have added up to the fact that some assert that this is not a profitable endeavor, for the Federal Government to allow timber to be harvested in the Tongass. But they forget—and that is why I am here—they forget there was an understanding and a commitment that a portion of this area would be available for timber harvest. That is one of the local products that the area is good for. The cutting cycle in our timber area is over 100 years. It means an area harvested this year will not be put up for sale for 100 years. Under the circumstances, to have a provision that says the roads that are to be built would be built by an individual in advance of getting a contract for timber harvesting means that great speculation would enter into this industry.

It would also mean that the decision would lie with the interests of the area, speculators. Currently our logging industry is a local industry. They are small logging companies. They log small areas on the islands at a competitive bid to obtain the right to harvest that timber. This is not a case of wasting Federal money.

Those who are approaching it from the point of view, saying the Federal Government should not spend this money, do not realize the best way to develop our timber in the Tongass is to have roads built by a Federal agency, designed by a Federal agency, and constructed for the safety not only of the people who are going to be working in the area but also for the protection of other resources such as the fish and wildlife resources of the area.

The problem for a person who wants to harvest this area is overwhelming if they have to make the decision of where the road should go because there is so much inter-Federal-agency conflict. If we allow that, these roads for timber harvest, that it would be almost impossible for a private sector person to be able to get to the point where there would be approval for the location of the road. The design is determined by the Federal Government, the location is determined by the Federal Government, the safety features are determined by the Federal Government, and the purchaser of the timber has to agree to pay the cost.

The way it is done right now is in the best way, in the interests of the environment, and the interest of the people of the area. Once the roads are built, it is possible for the local people to be able to bid to harvest the timber and to make it available to the international community. By Federal law, we do not export this timber. It must be sold in the United States. This is from Federal land, and therefore is subject to the Federal law that prohibits the export of this timber.

It is a forest product that would be worth a great deal more if it could be exported. That was a hysterical battle that Native-owned timber is exported, but the timber from the Federal lands is not exported.

The main reason I am here is to ask the Senate to recognize that this is a provision that applies only in the Tongass National Forest of Alaska. Why not the rest of the country? Why not the forests in New Hampshire? There is a forest in New Hampshire. What about the forests of other areas of the country? I am considering offering a second-degree amendment—I understand second-degree amendments will be in order and are in order—to apply it to the whole country.

Above all, what happened to the commitment made to Alaska when so much of Alaska was withdrawn? In 1980, the law that was passed we called the Alaska National Interests Land Conservation Act which withdrew over 100 million acres. That was a huge battle that lasted 7 years in this Senate. We finally reached a conclusion that many of my constituents disagreed with, that in order to go forward with our economy and in order to go forward with our relationship with the Federal Government, we agreed to that act. It became law despite the fact that so many people disagreed with it because it did have some commitments to Alaska. This is one of the commitments, that the areas that were not set aside would be subject to harvest by the timber industry under the concepts that existed at the time.

Now if we come along and change those concepts and say you cannot use Federal funds in the beginning, it means we will have to go back and fashion a basic Federal law that deals with the investment of private funds in those roads before the decision has been made. It is possible for anyone to conceive building roads in an area before the final decision has been made that the timber can be harvested. The decision used to be made just by the Forest Service, but it is made by the courts now. Every single sale has gone to court repeatedly.

Two years ago, I had an amendment to limit the amount of time that could be taken in those appeals. That is an issue that needs to be examined. But very clearly, the concept of using this approach that none of the funds available in this act may be used for the development of these roads is another way to make the area wilderness. This is a wilderness bill. This is not an economic amendment. This is an amendment to assure that the commitment was made to us that a portion of the timber in the Tongass could be harvested. This will be reneging on that commitment.

There is no way now for us to proceed with this type of road construction until we identify the purchaser of the timber, and there is no way really to get to the point of purchasing the timber until the roads are created. There are no roads available in the area except the ones to be constructed by the logging company that will cut the timber.

I am sure the sponsors of this amendment do not realize what they are setting in motion. They are setting in motion a total block to development of the Tongass and a total reneging on the commitment that was made to our State that timber in this area would be subject to harvest.

I hope to have an amendment that will make this apply to the whole country. I also have an amendment that I would want the Senate to consider, and that is that there should be a study made of the developing of these roads in the forest system, and that there be a report on to a new process to develop roads in the units of the National Forest System if we are not to use Federal funds to build the roads.

Again I say, from the point of view of safety, from the point of view of consistency as far as environmental protection, having the Forest Service build the roads in the areas that they agree to be available for timber harvesting is the best way we have devised so far. This concept, if it is to be studied, I studied throughout the whole National Forest Service System, not my State, not just my State.

I do think there is a great deal more to this debate that needs to be brought up to the Senate. But above all, people have asked: Why don’t we just have a vote? The main reason is I think there are Senators here who really do not know the history of the development of this area between Alaska and the Federal Government with regard to the resources of our State.

If you look at the 1980 act that withdrew over 100 million acres, you will find that because of those withdrawals you cannot get to the southeast part of Alaska. You cannot build an east-west road in Alaska. There is no way to get through the various passes and across the rivers where you should be able to do it. It means that wilderness. This for national parks, wild and scenic rivers. There are a whole category of withdrawals to prevent that kind of development.

There actually was a Senator on the floor of the Senate at one time who said our whole State should be made a national park and we should not be allowed to develop any portion of it. Our State is one-fifth the size of the United States. We would be part of the 48 States of what we call the South 48. We are entitled to a lifestyle. We are entitled to be treated as a State. We fought long and hard to become a State. What we are seeing here is this inching away from being treated as a State in Alaska. This is our State. Of all the units of the forest system in the United States, it would only apply to Alaska. I think that type of discrimination should be reason enough for any Senator to vote against this amendment.

But above all, I do hope the Senate will take time with us. My colleague, Senator MURkowski, will be with me tomorrow, and we will discuss this amendment at length.

Right now, I have to express my deep disappointment in an amendment of this type. I cannot conceive of offering an amendment to discriminate against another State. We sought to become a member of this Union because we thought we would be equal to other States. We have witnessed, time and time again, this attitude of people from other parts of the country that we are not entitled to the same rights as other Americans in terms of our relationship to the Federal Government.

I think this is an area that needs examination. And it needs understanding. I cannot recall since I have been here holding up an appropriations bill. This one I do think is going to be held up. I want the Senate to know that I have a whole series of amendments that will be offered to this amendment. I do not take lightly the attack on our State, a discriminatory attack on Alaska.

There are few Senators who have been privileged of a battle for statehood for their State who end up on the floor of the Senate. I think one of my duties as a Senator for Alaska is to see to it that we are not discriminated against. And this is a discriminatory amendment, one that really disturbs me, as I have indicated, greatly. I do hope those who come from States that have national forests will examine the practices in their States.

One of the strange things about this is we have inquired from the Forest Service about the money they are spending for roads in each of the forests. The way they handle the money, it is not too easy to find out how much money is being spent in each of the forests.

But clearly we know there are forest roads being built in the national forests in other States. I believe the Senate should understand the gravity of this kind of discrimination against my State.

I am not offering these amendments yet because I want to confer with my colleague who went home this past weekend since there are no votes today. I will be here tomorrow to try to explain further our amendments. But I do want to explain to my friends who are the managers of this bill, I hope they will not become overly disturbed with us. But we want to find some way to convince the Senate not to discriminate against our State.

If there is some change that should be made to forest roads, it should apply to all forests. And if there is some concept of making a decision with regard to the economics of this aspect of this, let’s look at the Senate rather than with the Forest Service altogether, not just the Forest Service that applies to Alaska.

I close with what I started. Last year, I think we harvested less than 200 million board feet of timber, less than one-seventh of what was harvested the year I came to the Senate. Successive Congresses have found ways to whittle away, whittle away, whittle away at our ability to use the resources of our State. I think this is a time to ask the Senate to pause and consider that.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Colorado.

Mr. SALAZAR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the pending amendment be set aside.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

AMENDMENTS Nos. 1038 AND 1039

Mr. SALAZAR. Mr. President, I send two amendments to the desk en bloc and ask unanimous consent for their immediate consideration.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, the clerk will report.

The assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from Colorado (Mr. SALAZAR) proposes en bloc amendments numbered 1038 and 1039.

Mr. SALAZAR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that further reading of the amendments be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendments are as follows:

AMENDMENT NO. 1038

(Purpose: To provide additional funds for the payment in lieu of taxes program, with an offset)

On page 171, line 13, strike "$94,627,000" and insert "$97,627,000".

On page 172, line 17, strike "$235,000,000" and insert "$235,000,000".

AMENDMENT NO. 1039

(Purpose: To provide that certain user fees collected under the Land and Water Conservation Act of 1965 be paid to the States)

On page 254, after line 25, add the following:

"SEC. 4. (a) Notwithstanding subsection (b)(3) of section 6 of the Land and Water Conservation Fund Act of 1965 (36 U.S.C. 600-8), any user fees collected under that Act with respect to recreational and related activities in a State shall be paid to the State in which the fees were collected.

(b) Amounts paid to a State under subsection (a) shall be in additional to, and shall not reduce, the apportionment of the collecting State under section 6(b) of the Land and Water Conservation Fund Act of 1965 (36 U.S.C. 600-8(b))."
Mr. SALAZAR. Mr. President, I want to just spend a few quick minutes speaking about both of these amendments. The first amendment is an amendment relating to the payment in lieu of taxes. For those of us who come from the West, where so much of our land is owned by the Federal Government, payment in lieu of taxes is essential for our local governments to be able to function. In my great State of Colorado, most of the western half of the State is owned by the Federal Government. There are many counties in my State that rely on payment in lieu of taxes for up to 90, 95 percent of their budgets.

The amendment I have sent forward that deals with payment in lieu of taxes is an amendment that would add an additional $7 million into the payment in lieu of taxes fund. That would bring the amount up to a level of consistency with what has come out of the House of Representatives.

I urge my colleagues in the Senate to support the amendment.

Mr. President, the second amendment deals with the Land and Water Conservation Fund. My proposal, in this amendment, is that the user fees that are collected in, for example, ski areas in places such as Montana or Wyoming or Colorado—that those amounts of money be returned back to the Land and Water Conservation Fund in those States in addition to the amount of money they already receive under the Land and Water Conservation Fund.

It seems to me it would be an appropriate investment of these dollars to be invested through the programs of the Land and Water Conservation Fund.

Again, we may be talking more about this in the days ahead, but the Land and Water Conservation Fund has had an exemplary record in the contributions it has made to preserve our water and our air and our land. I think this amendment will be helpful for us as we work on that agenda at a national level.

Mr. President, I yield the floor.

THE PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Montana.

AMENDMENT NO. 1008

Mr. BURNS. Mr. President, I send to the desk an amendment offered by Senator Bond regarding the U.S. Geological Survey.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, the pending amendments are set aside. The clerk will report the amendment.

The assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from Montana [Mr. BURNS], for Mr. Bond, proposes an amendment numbered 1004.

Mr. BURNS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To set aside funds for the University of Missouri-Columbia to establish a wetland ecology center of excellence) On page 154, line 12, strike “That” and insert “That from the amount provided for the biological research activity, $300,000 shall be made available to the University of Missouri-Columbia to establish a wetland ecology center of excellence: Provided further, That.”

Mr. BURNS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the amendment be set aside.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

AMENDMENT NO. 1002

Mr. BURNS. Mr. President, I send to the desk an amendment offered by Senator Craig of Idaho regarding mineral rights in the Payette National Forest. The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report.

The assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from Montana [Mr. BURNS], for Mr. Craig, proposes an amendment numbered 1001.

Mr. BURNS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To withdraw from mineral entry or appropriation under mining lease laws, and from leasing claims under mineral and geothermal leasing laws, certain land in the Payette National Forest) At the appropriate place, add the following: “Provided further, That, subject to valid existing rights, all land and interests in land acquired in the Thunder Mountain area of the Payette National Forest (including patented claims and land that are encumbered by unpatented claims or previously appropriated funds under this section, or otherwise relinquished by a private party) are withdrawn from mineral entry or appropriation under Federal mining laws, and from leasing claims under Federal mineral and geothermal leasing laws.”.

Mr. BURNS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the amendment be set aside.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. BURNS. Mr. President, I send to the desk an amendment offered by Senator Warner of Virginia regarding the National Park Service.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report.

The assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from Montana [Mr. BURNS] for Mr. Warner, proposes an amendment numbered 1042.

Mr. BURNS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

AMENDMENT NO. 1012

Mr. BURNS. Mr. President, I call up amendment No. 1012 offered by Senator Ensign regarding the sale of certain lands in Nevada.

Mr. BURNS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To provide for the conveyance of certain Bureau of Land Management land in the State of Nevada to the Las Vegas Motor Speedway) On page 254, after line 25, add the following:
... (a) In this section:
(1) The term ‘‘Federal land’’ means the approximately 115 acres of Bureau of Land Management land identified on the map as “Land-named Las Vegas Speedway Parking Lot Extension’’.
(2) The term ‘‘map’’ means the map entitled ‘‘Las Vegas Speedway Improvement Act’’, dated February 4, 2005, and on file in the Ofcine of the Director of the Bureau of Land Management.
(3) The ‘‘Secretary’’ means the Secretary of the Interior.
(b)(1) If, not later than 30 days after the date of completion of the appraisal required under paragraph (2), Nevada Speedway, LLC, submits to the Secretary an offer to acquire the Federal land for the appraised value, notwithstanding the land use planning requirements of section 202 and 203 of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 (43 U.S.C. 1712, 1713), the Secretary shall, not later than 30 days after the date of the offer, convey to Nevada Speedway, LLC, the Federal land, subject to valid existing rights.
(2)(A) Not later than 90 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall complete an appraisal of the Federal land.
(B) The appraisal under subparagraph (A) shall be conducted in accordance with—
(i) Uniform Appraisal Standards for Federal Land Acquisitions; and
(ii) The Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice.
(C) The appraisal shall include—
(i) A description of the land, the Federal land, to be conveyed;
(ii) Costs associated with the appraisal required under subparagraph (A) shall be paid by Nevada Speedway, LLC.
(4) If Nevada Speedway, LLC, or any subsequent owner of the Federal land, conveyed under subsection (b)(1), uses the Federal land for purposes other than a parking lot for the Nevada Speedway, all right, title, and interest in the land (and any improvements to the land) shall revert to the United States at the discretion of the Secretary.
(5) The Secretary shall deposit the proceeds of the sale of the Federal land under section (b)(1) in accordance with section 202 and 203 of the Federal (6)(A) Except as provided in subsection
(b)(1), the Federal land is withdrawn from—
(A) All forms of entry, appropriation, and disposition under the public land laws;
(B) Location, entry, and patent under the mining laws; and
(C) Operation of the mineral leasing, mineral materials, and geothermal leasing laws.
(7) The withdrawal of the Federal land under paragraph (1) shall be in effect for the period between the date of enactment of this Act and ending on the earlier of—
(A) The date that is 2 years after the date of enactment of this Act; or
(B) The date of the completion of the conveyance of Federal land under subsection (b)(1).
Mr. BURNS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the amendments be set aside.
Mr. BURNS. Mr. President, I call up amendment No. 1033 offered by Senator
...
The assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from North Dakota [Mr. Dorgan], for Mr. Feingold, proposes an amendment numbered 1043.

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To require the Government Accountability Office to conduct an audit of the competitive sourcing program of the Forest Service)

On page 249, line 19, before the period, insert the following: “conducted in accordance with generally accepted full cost accounting principles”.

On page 250, between lines 23 and 24, insert the following:

(e) AUDIT.—(1) In this subsection:
(A) The term "baseline organization" means the organization performing the work to be studied prior to initiation of a competitive sourcing study under this section.
(B) The term "new organization" means the private contractor, or the most efficient public group or agency, and associated management and oversight functions used at the conclusion of a competitive sourcing study under this section.
(2) Not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Comptroller General of the United States shall conduct an audit of the competitive sourcing program of the Forest Service.
(3) The audit shall include—
(A) an analysis of the costs and benefits of the competitive sourcing initiative conducted by the Forest Service;
(B) an analysis of existing procedures to track (in accordance with full cost accounting principles) all costs required to calculate accurate savings or losses attributable to a competitive sourcing study, and recommendations on how the existing procedures can be improved, including all costs attributable to developing, implementing, supporting, managing, monitoring, and reporting on competitive sourcing (including personnel, consultant, travel, and training costs associated with program management), including—
(i) costs incurred by the Forest Service before the land and waterways Montgomery County, Maryland; and
(ii) costs of performing the competitive sourcing study, including—
(I) travel and per diem costs;
(II) training and communications costs;
(III) contractor costs; and
(IV) the cost to the Federal Government of Federal employees working on any aspect of the study or performing any work necessitated by the study;
(b) the following:
(i) the determination of the competitive sourcing study results, including costs described in clause (ii) and costs associated with buyouts, transfers of station, and reductions in force;
(ii) ongoing operational costs of performing the work that the new organization will perform as a result of competitive sourcing study; and
(iii) modifications to the contract or letter of obligation necessitated by omissions in the statement of work of the solicitation;
(c) costs associated with oversight and maintenance of the contract or letter of obligation;
(d) savings realized or costs borne by the Forest Service that are not included under clause (iv), including savings or costs due to—
(I) changes in the timeliness or quality of the work provided by the new organization;
(II) changes in procedures of the Forest Service necessitated by the new organization;
(III) the assignment to employees or contractors outside of the new organization of duties previously performed by the baseline organization;
(IV) changes in the availability of personnel to perform high priority fire suppression or other emergency response work on a collateral basis; and
(vii) costs of maintaining and operating a competitive sourcing infrastructure, including office, salary, contractor, and travel costs associated with the Forest Service Competitive Sourcing Office and the cost to the Federal Government of Federal employees for the time for which the employees are managing the program;
(d) recommendations on what accounting practices should be adopted by the Forest Service to improve accountability;
(e) an evaluation of the comparative efficiencies of the Forest Service competitive sourcing and business process reengineering procedures; and
(f) an analysis of—
(i) the A-76 study that resulted in the information services organization and the continuing Federal Government activity.
(ii) the A-76 study of Region 5 fleet maintenance work that resulted in the transfer of work to Serco; and
(iii) the financial management improvement project, accomplished by means of business process reengineering.

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the pending amendment be set aside.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To require the Government Accountability Office to conduct an audit of the competitive sourcing program of the Forest Service)

On page 195, line 7, after “costs”, insert the following: “, of which $200,000 shall be made available for a brownfields assessment of the Fortuna Radar Site”.

AMENDMENT NO. 1046

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the pending amendment be set aside.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To provide for a study of the feasibility of designating the Captain John Smith Chesapeake National Historic Watertrail as a national historic trail)

On page 249, after line 25, add the following:

SEC. 4. Section 5(c) of the National Trails System Act (16 U.S.C. 1244(c)) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(3)(A) The Captain John Smith Chesapeake National Historic Watertrail, a series of routes extending approximately 3000 miles along the Chesapeake Bay and the tributaries of the Chesapeake Bay in the States of Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, and Delaware and the District of Columbia that traces Captain John Smith’s voyages charting the land and waters of the Chesapeake Bay and the tributaries of the Chesapeake Bay.

(B) The study shall be conducted in consultation with Federal, State, regional, and local agencies and representatives of the private sector, including the entities responsible for administering—
(i) the Chesapeake Bay Gateways and Watertrails Network authorized by the Chesapeake Bay Initiative Act of 1998 (16 U.S.C. 861 note; Public Law 105-312); and
(ii) the Chesapeake Bay Gateways and Watertrails Network authorized under section 117 of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (33 U.S.C. 1287).”.

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. BAUCUS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

EDUCATION

Mr. BAUCUS. Mr. President, in the book of Isaiah, the prophet wrote, “[My people have gone into captivity, because they have no knowledge.]”

Francis Bacon wrote, “Knowledge itself is power.”

And when H.G. Wells summed up his history of the world, he concluded: “Human history has been nothing more than a race between education and catastrophe.”

In the next two decades, America’s history will become more and more a race for economic leadership. For more than a century, America’s economy has set the pace. We have led all competitors. Year after year, we have become used to winning the race.

But now, over our shoulder, we can hear the footsteps of another runner. That competitor is China. And it is gaining fast.

If we wish not to go into economic subservience, if we wish to maintain our economic power, if we wish to avert economic misfortune, the answer is education.

America’s economic leadership has been a remarkable achievement. We Americans are just 4.6 percent of the world’s people. More than a fifth of the world’s people live in China. There are nearly 4 1⁄2 times as many Chinese as there are Americans.

Yet America produces 60 percent more goods and services than China.

That is how Americans can enjoy one of the world’s foremost standards of living. The average American’s share of our economy, of our productivity, is $37,000 a year. The average Chinese’s share of theirs is $1,100 a year.

But from a slow start, China has picked up the pace. Starting with Deng Xiaoping in the late 1970s, China began to reform its economy. Deng was eminently practical, when it came to economic policy. He said: “It doesn’t matter whether the cat is black or white, as long as it catches mice.”

Today, you can find those capitalist cats everywhere in China.

Over the last two decades, China’s economy has been growing at an average of 9.5 percent, nearly three times as fast as America’s. And some project that within 20 years, China’s could become the world’s largest economy, ending more than a century of American leadership.

You can see how they do it at an American or Japanese factory in Shanghai. You see rows and rows of hardworking workers, in colorful uniforms, at well-lit work stations. The company pays them about $2,000 a year, plus food and housing benefits. But that is good money in a country with an average income of $1,100 a year. The workers there want to keep their jobs. And 200 million other workers stand ready to take their jobs if they do not.

The challenge for America in the decades to come will be: How can America compete with that factory in Shanghai? How can we get paid $37,000 a year or more to produce products, at well-lit work stations, for 200 million Chinese workers willing to work hard for $2,000 a year?

The answer is not protectionism. We cannot build a wall around America. We cannot lift the drawbridge and flood a moat around our Country. If American companies do not employ those willing workers at the Shanghai factory, companies from Japan and Italy and China will. Then Japanese and Italian and Chinese companies will sell products more cheaply into America. And American consumers will gladly buy those products at lower prices. American consumers will be buying those products at lower prices.

If America raises tariffs on goods made in China, then American consumers will pay more for their cost of living than will people in other countries. Americans will have less money to spend on other things that they want, less money to spend on other things in America. The American economy will be smaller, if America raises tariffs.

If America raises tariffs, then American businesses will pay more for their industrial inputs than will businesses in other countries. American businesses will become less competitive, lose sales, and lose jobs. Once again, the American economy will be smaller, if America raises tariffs.

No, the answer to how America can compete with that factory in Shanghai is not protectionism.

The way that we can get paid $37,000 for our work—when Chinese workers are willing to work for $2,000—is for Americans to add more value. Americans earn more because we produce better. Americans produce smarter.

And that means that for us to remain economic leaders of the world, Americans need to stay smarter. We need to educate our children and our workers so that American workers can add more value in an hour of work than workers in any other place in the world.

Knowledge will be economic power. Ensuring that we continue to have more knowledge than the Chinese will not be easy. China has worked on its education system. Nine out of ten Chinese can read.

It is very Chinese to take the long view. More than 2,600 years ago, the master Kuan Chung said:

If you plan for a year, plant a seed. If for 10 years, plant a tree. If for a hundred years, teach the people. When you sow a seed once, you will reap a single harvest. When you teach the people, you will reap a hundred harvests.

We need to plant those seeds of education and tend those young saplings, in our schools. In 1893, the Supreme Court Justice Joseph Story wrote: Every successive generation becomes a living memorial of our public schools, and a living example of their excellence.

Ensuring that those schools are a living example of excellence will take more than just money. But ensuring that our schools are a living example of excellence will take money, as well.

We need to ensure that children can come to school ready to learn. We need to ensure that children have modern and well-equipped schools. We need to ensure that children have small classes. And most importantly, we need to ensure that children have good teachers.

In the next decade, America will need to hire 2 million new teachers. One in five new teachers will leave teaching within three years. In urban schools, half of new teachers leave the profession within 5 years.

Nearly two out of five low-income children are taught by teachers without a college degree in their primary instructional field. Low-income students are taught by more teacher’s aides than credentialed classroom teachers. Four out of five aides do not have a 4-year college degree.

Columnist Tom Friedman wrote recently:

We are heading into an age in which jobs are likely to be invented and made obsolete faster and faster. The chances of today’s college kids working in the same jobs for the same companies for their whole careers are about zero. In such an age, the greatest survival skill you can have is the ability to learn how to learn. The best way to learn to learn is to love to learn, and the best way to love to learn is to have great teachers who inspire. And the best way to ensure that we have teachers who inspire their students is to recognize and reward those who clearly have done so.

We need to give good teachers the recognition that they deserve. Friedman told how every year, Williams College honors four high school teachers who made a difference. Every year, members of its senior class nominate their best high school teachers. A committee at Williams then goes through the nominations, does its own research, and chooses the four most inspiring teachers.

Williams gives each of the teachers $2,000, plus a $1,000 donation to the teacher’s high school. And Williams flies the winners and their families to the college to honor them at graduation.

Williams’s president, Morton Schapiro, told Friedman: “We take these teachers, who are not well compensated and often underappreciated, and give them a great weekend.”

Schapiro: “Every time we do this, one of the teachers says to me, ‘This is one of the great weekends of my life.’ It’s a great idea.

Each of us can do our part. I have started a program that will recognize Montana teachers acknowledged for excellence. This is something that all Senators can do in their home States. And the recognition can go a long way. But if knowledge is power, then we must also devote the resources necessary to maintain that power.

Columnist Matt Miller argues: “The answer is to think bigger.” He suggests that we make the best teachers millionaires by the time that they retire. Miller proposes a “grand bargain” where we raise salaries for teachers in poor schools by 50 percent. And in return, teachers would agree to change their pay scale so that we could raise their salaries and in math and science another 50 percent.

Miller, who used to work at the Office of Management and Budget, calculates that his plan would cost about $30 billion a year. That would provide a 7 percent increase in the nation’s K-12 spending.

I ask my colleagues: Why don’t we invest $30 billion for top teachers, and pay for it by closing abusive tax shelters?

And we need to help students to learn math and science. Companies are moving jobs offshore to China, India, and Eastern Europe not only because workers there work for less, but also because they are well educated in math and science.

Sadly, American high school students now perform below most of the world in national math and science tests. Most have little interest in pursuing scientific fields. Only 5.5 percent of the high school seniors who took the college entrance exam in 2002 planned to pursue an engineering degree. We have to do more to encourage students to love to learn math and science.

And we need to help students to learn geography and languages. Visit a primary school in a middle-sized Chinese city. Bright, enthusiastic children will greet you in English. Chinese schools are preparing students to compete in a multinational, multilingual world economy. The coming generation of Chinese businesspeople will do business around the world. Americans need to broaden our linguistic and geographic abilities, or Chinese businesspeople will cut the deals before us. As our former colleague Bill Bradley said in 1988, “If we are going to lead the world, we have to know where it is.”

And after school, almost 6 million latch-key children go without access to after-school learning opportunities. More than seven in ten mothers of children under 18 are in the workforce. America can no longer afford a school day based on 1950s family structures. Quality after-school programs can both keep children safe and improve academic achievement. We need to ensure that children have quality after-school programs.

Similarly, we continue to have a school year that reflects the harvest schedule of an agrarian economy that America long ago left behind. Long summer vacations mean reading levels drop and other learning is lost.

Schools like Des Moines’ Downtown School point to another way. They have a six-week summer break. And that means less time to forget. Besides six weeks in the summer, students also have week-long breaks in October, February, and May.

Jan Dyes, the principal of the Downtown School, says: “The research is becoming more and more clear that students retain more learning and need less review with shorter summer breaks.”

The Downtown school is popular, too. More than 800 children are on a waiting list to get into the school.

Iowa law requires schools to provide a minimum of 180 instructional days a year. But the Downtown School teaches students for 192 days a year. They are getting more learning in, every year. For Americans to stay smarter, students should spend more of the school year in school.

China’s increasing competitive strength is also fueled by its growing population of college graduates. Last year, nearly 3 million Chinese entered the workforce from 3- and 4-year colleges and graduate programs. This is one-third more than the year before, and double the year before that.

America’s college system is the finest in the world. And the work of the 21st century is the college education. But rising college costs increasingly bar Americans from getting the college education for which they are qualified.

We must make college affordable for all. We need to ensure that young Americans are not discouraged from obtaining post-secondary education because of costs. Tuition costs have risen considerably in recent years. And federal assistance programs have not kept pace.

Pell Grants help to make college education affordable for 5 million students, a third of American undergraduates. But students receive grants averaging just $3,000. The average annual cost of tuition at a public college in-state averages more than $9,000 a year, and private college averages more than $23,000 a year. The most that a student can get in Pell Grants is $4,050 a year. Expanding Pell Grants would increase the ability of low-income young Americans to prepare for the 21st century.

As well, we should improve, consolidate, and expand the government’s education tax incentives to make them more effective. We could expand and extend the deduction for tuition expenses. We could expand the Hope and Lifetime Learning credits. We could craft targeted incentives for students pursuing science and engineering careers. We could do more to make it possible for non-traditional students to obtain an education. There are many good options.

As with elementary school students, we need to help encourage college students to learn the subjects needed in the 21st century.

In 1975, America ranked third in the world in the share of 24-year-olds who held a bachelor’s degree. By 2000, we had slipped to 15th. By 2004, we were 17th. And in the future, the Department of Labor projects that new jobs requiring science, engineering, and technical training will increase four times faster than the average national job growth rate.

Last year, China produced 220,000 new engineers, while America educated just 60,000. And America trains only half as many engineers as Japan and Europe.

In a recent report, McKinsey Global Institute found that there are already twice as many young university-trained professionals in low-wage countries as in high-wage countries. China has twice as many young engineers as America.

Engineers play a critical role in the development of new jobs and new income. We should double scholarships and loan forgiveness for engineering students to entice more people to love to learn engineering.

At that Shanghai factory, American and Japanese research and development work behind many of the products being built. But ask the American or Japanese company their plans, and they will tell you that they plan to move R&D work closer to the plant, there in China. And Shanghai’s government, much as high-wage countries, Chinese business understands that innovation is the source of American value-added. And they want part of that action, too.

Brockson reported in the Financial Times about a bioscience park outside Beijing. A firm there called CapitalBio is emerging as a world leader in the new technology of biochips.

Biochips are cutting-edge devices that combine biotechnology and electronics for biological testing and medical diagnostics. The 4-year-old company is already selling instruments to American drug companies.

Last month, CapitalBio entered into a joint venture with Affymetrix, the world’s largest biochip producer. CapitalBio’s chief executive said: “Affymetrix had never imagined that there was such a big research effort in biochips in China, working to such a high standard. And Chinese researchers will do research and development spending roughly tripled.

You can judge a scientific paper’s effect by how often other researchers cite it. The number of frequently-cited Chinese research papers has risen from just 21 in 1984 to 229 in 2003. And China’s contribution to the world’s scientific journals has increased from less than half a percent in 1981 to more than 5 percent in 2003.

And Chinese researchers will do research for less cost. Newly-graduated researchers earn about a quarter of what Americans do. For more senior staff, salaries are usually at least half American salaries. And in exceptional cases, they can sometimes exceed ours.

Chinese scientists who have returned after studying and working in the west are playing an important role. In Beijing, CapitalBio’s CEO said that he made a special effort at the beginning to attract [Chinese expatriates] from abroad, with salary and stock options. We offered at least to match the salaries that senior scientists were receiving; the highest we offered was $120,000 a year.

So far, Asia has been able to make a global mark only in a few new areas of the life sciences where western expertise is not entrenched. Stem cell technology is an example. South Korea, China, Singapore, and India are racing ahead in this research. The countries accept human embryo research in a way that the American government has not.

But America still has an advantage in innovation. And America also benefits from a risk-taking entrepreneurial culture. You can see it in the venture capital that funds companies spun out of American research laboratories or universities. America’s capital markets remain the envy of the world. We need to maintain that edge in innovation by supporting research. American universities and research institutions do much of the most innovative research in the world.

But over the last 20 years, Federal research funding for the physical sciences and engineering has declined by nearly a third as a share of the economy.

We should reverse this trend and increase Federal spending on basic research. The money we spend will come back to us many times over in the creation of new jobs in new industries making products yet to be invented.

We should support the National Science Foundation. The NSF funds research and education in science and engineering through a variety of successful programs. It accounts for a fifth of all Federal support to academic institutions for basic research, a crucial engine of innovation.

NSF funds have helped discover new technologies that have led to the multi-billion dollar industries and millions of new jobs. NSF-funded work in the basic sciences and engineering made possible fiber optics, radar, wireless communication, nanotechnology, plant genomics, magnetic resonance imaging, ultrasound, and the Internet.

Each year, the NSF helps fund over 200,000 students, teachers, and researchers. Many of them take their NSF-supported work into industry. They often spin off companies selling new products and new technologies.

In addition, we should make it easier—consistent with the requirements of national security—for foreign students to study in America. America has traditionally poached many of the best foreign students from around the world. We should do no less.

Since 9/11, however, many students are having a difficult time getting visas to study in America. In 2004, foreign student applications to American graduate schools declined by 28 percent. Enrollments of foreign students at all levels of college declined for the first time in 30 years.

Foreign students are increasingly studying in Europe and elsewhere. That is a terrible loss. It will affect our economic health in the long-term.

We need to do a better job of balancing security and economic health.

America must not compromise on its security needs in hosting foreign businesspeople or foreign students. But there must be ways to streamline visa processing. What we need to do is lighten the burden. We need to make it easier for foreigners to study and conduct business in America.

We should support community colleges, and strengthen the link between them and the workforce. That will allow schools to develop training programs relevant to jobs in the real world. That is a primary goal of the Enzi-Baucus Higher Education Access, Affordability and Opportunity Act.

And when American jobs are lost to trade, we need to retrain people and help them to get back into the workforce. The philosopher and educator John Dewey said, “Education is not preparation for life; education is life itself.” We no longer afford to think of education as something just for the young.

We need to help displaced workers to receive the retraining that they need to succeed in a changing economy. Jobs will change. We should help workers to get the educational tools to change with those jobs.

That is why I joined with Senators Wyden and Coleman to introduce legislation to expand Trade Adjustment Assistance to service workers who lose their jobs because of trade. TAA is a vital means of helping displaced workers get the education to change careers and stay productive.

When Plato envisioned the ideal society in his work The Laws, he wrote of the importance of education, through the course of life. He wrote:

[N]ever should education be dishonored, as it is first among the noblest things for the best men. If it is, and if it is possible to set it right, everyone ought always to do as much as he can, throughout the whole of life.

And so, through advancing education, America competes with that factory in Shanghai. Through advancing education, America can respond to competition, without erecting harmful barriers to trade. And through advancing education, America can respond to a growing China, without forcing confrontation with China.

University of California economist Brad DeLong wrote of the choice that we face in how we address the challenge of China. He wrote:

A world 60 years from now in which Chinese schoolchildren are taught that the U.S. did what it could to spread their economic growth is a much safer world for my grandchildren than a world in which Chinese schoolchildren are taught that the U.S. did all it could to keep China poor.

Through advancing education, America can seek that safer world.

But perhaps most importantly, America should seek to advance education not just to preserve our economy, but also to preserve our freedom.

As Senator Daniel Webster said in a speech in 1837, “On the diffusion of education among the people lies the preservation and perpetuation of our free institutions.”

As Thomas Jefferson wrote in 1816, “If a nation expects to be ignorant and free, in a state of civilization, it expects what never was and never will be.”

And as the Phrygian philosopher Epictetus said, “Only the educated are free.”

And so, let us advance education to preserve our economic power.

Let us advance education to win the race for economic leadership.

And most importantly, let us advance education to help preserve our American democracy.

Mr. President, I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Arizona.

Mr. KYL. Mr. President, I appreciate the Senator from Arkansas allowing me to either call up or offer three specific amendments.

Mr. KYL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To require the Secretary of Agriculture to report to Congress on the rehabilitation of the Biscuit Fire area in southern Oregon, including:

1. the change in reforestation capabilities and costs between the date of the containment of the Biscuit Fire and the completion of the Biscuit Fire Recovery Project, as detailed in the Record of Decision;

2. the commercial value lost, as well as recovery, of fire-killed timber within the Biscuit
Fire area; and

3. all actions included in the Record of Decision for the Biscuit Fire Recovery Project, but forgone because of delay or funding shortfall.

(Sec. 3. Biscuit Fire Recovery Project, Report.)

Mr. KYL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To require the Secretary of Agriculture to report to Congress on the rehabi-ilitation of the Biscuit Fire area in southern Oregon, including:

1. the change in reforestation capabilities and costs between the date of the containment of the Biscuit Fire and the completion of the Biscuit Fire Recovery Project, as detailed in the Record of Decision;

2. the commercial value lost, as well as recovery, of fire-killed timber within the Biscuit
Fire area; and

3. all actions included in the Record of Decision for the Biscuit Fire Recovery Project, but forgone because of delay or funding shortfall.)

Mr. KYL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the reading of the amendment be dispensed with.
The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To provide certain earmarks for State and tribal assistance grants funds)

On page 195, line 9, after the semicolon, insert the following:

"$500,000 shall be for the expansion of the wastewater treatment plant in Lake Havasu City, Arizona; $1,000,000 shall be for the expansion of the wastewater treatment plant in Avondale, Arizona;"

AMENDMENT NO. 1050

Mr. KYL. Mr. President, I ask that the pending amendment be laid aside, and I call up amendment No. 1050.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, the clerk will report.

The legislative clerk read as follows: The Senator from Arizona [Mr. KYL] proposes an amendment numbered 1050.

Mr. KYL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the reading of that amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To modify the formula for the allotment of grants to States for the establishment of State water pollution control revolving funds)

On page 254, after line 25, add the following:

SEC. 4. Section 604 of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (33 U.S.C. 1384) is amended—

(1) by redesignating subsections (b) and (c) as subsections (c) and (d), respectively; and

(2) by striking subsection (a) and inserting the following:

"(a) DEFINITIONS.—In this subsection—

(i) NEEDS SURVEY.—The term ‘needs survey’ means a needs survey section under section 516(b).

(ii) NEEDS SURVEY PERCENTAGE.—The term ‘needs survey percentage’, with respect to a State, means the percentage applicable to the State under a formula for the allotment of funds made available to carry out this section for a fiscal year to States in amounts determined by the Administrator, based on the ratio that—

(A) the needs of a State described in categories I through VII of the most recent needs survey; and

(B) the needs of all States described in categories I through VII of the most recent needs survey.

(3) STATE.—The term ‘State’ means—

(A) a State;

(B) the District of Columbia; and

(C) the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

(4) IN GENERAL.—Funds made available to carry out this section for a fiscal year shall be allocated by the Administrator in accordance with this subsection.

(5) INDIAN TRIBES.—Of the total amount of funds available for a fiscal year, the Administrator shall reserve, before making allotments to States under paragraph (4), not less than 1.5 percent of the funds to be allocated to Indian tribes (within the meaning of section 516(c)).

(6) CERTAIN TERRITORIES AND FREELY ASSOCIATED STATES.—Of the total amount of funds made available for a fiscal year, 0.25 percent shall be allocated to and among, as determined by the Administrator—

(A) Guam;

(B) American Samoa;

(C) the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands;

(D) the Federated States of Micronesia;

(E) the Republic of the Marshall Islands;

(F) the Republic of Palau;

(G) the United States Virgin Islands.

(4) STATES.—

(A) TARGET ALLOCATION.—Each State shall have a target allocation for a fiscal year, which—

(i) in the case of a State for which the needs survey percentage is less than 1.0 percent, shall be 1.0 percent and

(ii) in the case of any other State, shall be the most recent needs survey percentage.

(B) UNALLOCATED BALANCE.—Any unallocated balance of available funds shall be allocated in equal parts to all States that, in the most recent needs survey, report higher total needs both in absolute dollar terms and as a percentage of total United States needs.

".

AMENDMENT NO. 1051

Mr. KYL. Mr. President, on behalf of Senator INHOFE, I send an amendment to the desk.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, the clerk will report.

The legislative clerk read as follows: The Senator from Arizona [Mr. KYL], for Mr. INHOFE, proposes an amendment numbered 1051.

Mr. KYL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the reading of that amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To encourage competition in assistance agreements awarded by the Environmental Protection Agency)

On page 200, after line 2, add the following:

None of the funds made available by this Act may be used by the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency to award assistance agreements to national organizations that represent the interests of State, tribal, and local governments unless the award is subject to open competition.

Mr. KYL. Mr. President, I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Arkansas.

Mr. PRYOR. Mr. President, I rise today to thank the chairman, Senator CONRAD BURNS, and the ranking member, Senator BYRON DORGAN, of the Appropriations Subcommittee on the Interior for their support of a project that is most important to me: the National Park Service’s Little Rock Central High School Museum and Visitors Center.

Due to Senator BURNS’ and Senator DORGAN’s ongoing efforts, the new Little Rock Central High Museum and Visitors Center is back on track to be built for the 50th anniversary of the 1957–1958 Little Rock desegregation crisis. I thank the subcommittee staff, Bruce Evans and Peter Kiefhaber, for their help as well in making this project a reality.

This is important because in September of 2007, it is anticipated that we will have a very large 50th anniversary commemoration of the Little Rock Central High School desegregation crisis. Hopefully, one of the things that we will have there to show-case is a brand new visitors center that will allow people to learn about not only Little Rock Central High and the role it played in integration, but also learn about the civil rights movement in general.

I ask my colleagues and others listening about the events that took place at Little Rock Central High almost 50 years ago.

Little Rock Central High School was a place in 1957 where nine Black teenagers integrated the all-White Central High in Little Rock, testing the Brown v. Board of Education Supreme Court decision that ultimately ended legal segregation in our schools in this Nation.

To its credit, the Little Rock School Board took Brown v. Board of Education seriously. When the Supreme Court said “all deliberate speed,” they took that literally. They looked at their calendars and thought: That decision came out in 1954. They probably thought they could get it done in 1955, probably not in 1956, but in the fall of 1957, they made the determination that they could have the high school in Little Rock ready to integrate.

As these nine teenagers attempted to enter the doors of Central High School, they were confronted with an angry, rampaging mob. President Eisenhower was forced to order Federal troops to Little Rock to end the brutal intimidation campaign mounted against the Black children and to uphold the Brown decision.

The Little Rock Nine—Ernest Green, Elizabeth Eckford, Gloria Ray Karimark, Carlotta Walls LaNier, Minnie Jean Brown Trickey, Terrence Roberts, Jefferson Thomas, Thelma Mothershed Wair, and Melba Pattillo Beals—changed the course of American history by claiming the right to receive an equal education.

I must let the moment pass without mentioning the amazing courage exhibited by Daisy Bates of Little Rock who was a civil rights leader and, by all accounts, was a key person in making equal education a reality in Arkansas and also in the Nation.

Little Rock Central High School Museum and Visitors Center will provide America with an understanding of the events of 1957 and 1958, the broader civil rights movement, and how the events of the Little Rock Nine still influences life in the 21st century. It will teach our youth that nine young high school students proved that all men are created equal and that the rule of law is paramount in the democracy of the United States. It will remind the world that children all over America have the right to learn because of the courage and the sacrifice of the Little Rock Nine.

We have been racing against time to secure the funds to build the center in time for the commemorations of the Little Rock Central High School desegregation crisis. On June 9 of this year, I had the privilege of having a conference call with eight of the nine. By the way, all nine are still living. I had the privilege of having a conference call with eight of the nine and reporting news that Senator BURNS and Senator DORGAN had provided the crucial $5.1 million for the Central High center in this year’s bill.

The joy expressed by the Little Rock Nine made me once again reflect on their acts of courage and heroism. Their gratitude made me reflect on the importance of our current generation and generations to follow.

In the words of Minnijean Brown Trickey, the funds in this bill are an "affirmation of a very beautiful and tragic story."

Carlotta Walls LaNier said:

With this museum, visitors will remember the events of 1957, but perhaps more importantly understand the difference individuals can make in promoting equal rights and tolerance.

On behalf of Little Rock Nine, the Arkansas delegation, and the Nation, I express my deepest gratitude for the support of Little Rock Central High School Museum and Visitors Center. I thank my colleagues for ensuring that these extraordinary achievements are recorded and shared for a better America.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from North Dakota.

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, while the Senator from Arkansas is on the floor, I want to mention to him how pleasantly surprised I was to find that the Judge Ronald Davies, this Federal judge from North Dakota, played a very pivotal role in making that day happen with his ruling and paid quite a price for it at the time, with threats on his life and anger about what he had done.

But 45 years after that Little Rock day, sitting in that room with now middle-aged African Americans, to understand the courage it must have taken not just for them, especially them, but the then nine young children marched into the Little Rock school and integrated the Little Rock school.

That integration was ordered by Judge Ronald Davies of North Dakota. He was a Federal judge who was from the Fargo Federal district in North Dakota, who traveled to Little Rock, AR, and issued the landmark ruling that resulted in the integration of that school.

I was privileged to name a courthouse, in legislation, after Judge Ronald Davies about 5 years ago because I wanted North Dakotans to long remember this man. He was a short fellow, 5 foot 2, perhaps. He strutted around with great flair, but was a remarkable Federal judge by all accounts and issued a courageous decision. He was, in fact, required to have security because of threats on his life when he issued the landmark civil rights decision that required the integration of that school.

With respect to the story, I want to read a couple paragraphs from Prairie Public Television in North Dakota. They did an interview with the judge’s family. It talked about when Judge Davis and Governor Faubus were deadlocked and the nine students were still not in school. There was an injunction that had been ordered.

On September 29, Davies ruled that Faubus used the National Guard to prevent integration, not to prevent violence, and the governor was forced to withdraw the troops. The situation was now in the hands of the Little Rock Police Department.

There was a mob of a thousand people outside Central High School when those young students showed up. They will remember the Norman Rockwell portrait of a young Black schoolgirl in pigtails and knee socks holding the hand of a U.S. Marshal walking into the Little Rock public school.

The crowd learned the students were inside, and out of fear for their safety, the police then evacuated them. President Eisenhower issued a special proclamation that evening, calling for opponents of integration to “cease and desist.”

The next morning, Little Rock’s mayor sent the president a telegram asking him to send troops to maintain order.

President Eisenhower sent 10,000 Arkansas National Guard and 1,000 members of the 101st Airborne. Those young students the next day, under heavy guard with substantial military around the city, entered Little Rock Central High School.

I tell my colleague that only to say that Judge Ronald Davies, this Federal judge from North Dakota, played a very pivotal role in making that day happen with his ruling and paid quite a price for it at the time, with threats on his life and anger about what he had done.

Mr. Byrd. Mr. President, our country is now involved in two wars—not one, but two—northern Afghanistan and the other in Iraq. Each day we read in the newspapers about the human toll this nation is paying. As of today, 1,370 troops, men and women, have been killed in Iraq; 194 have been killed in Afghanistan and elsewhere. The toll of these wars is also borne by those men and women who carry the scars of battle.

In Iraq, more than 13,000 troops have been wounded. And 476 troops have shed their blood in service to our country. The American people thank these servicemembers for their sacrifice. However, late last week, Congress learned that the Department of Veterans Affairs has been shortchanged in the mission to provide care to these warriors and all of the other men and women who have served in time of war before them.

Now, this is a shame. This is a sham. If our Nation owes just one thing to all of those men and women who have risked their lives in answer to our country’s call, it surely must be, in the words of Abraham Lincoln, “to care for him who shall have borne the battle.”

It is a shock that the administration has only now revealed it has not budgeted the funds to fulfill this mission. I offer an amendment this afternoon on behalf of Senator Patty Murray, myself, and Senator Feinstein to provide $1.42 billion in emergency funds to address the shortfall in health care funds for the Department of Veterans Affairs. Of this figure, $600 million would be used to reimburse VA construction accounts that have been raided to pay for health care costs. Another $400 million would be used to reimburse other accounts that have been raided for the same purpose.

Finally, an additional $420 million is included to compensate each Veterans and Integrated Service Network, or VISN, for the additional expenses incurred because of the high caseload of wounded veterans. This bill is urgently needed and the Senate must not delay in providing the funds that are required to allow our veterans to see their physicians at the Department of Veterans Affairs.

Earlier this year, the Senate rejected a nearly party-line vote an amendment to the Iraq supplemental appropriations bill to add funding to VA health care. The administration told Congress additional funds were not needed to care for our Nation’s veterans. We now know this claim was wrong. According to the President’s budget, the Department of Veterans Affairs, VA funding is short $1 billion this year. Congress must act to care for our veterans. When it comes to veterans care, a loaf is not good enough.

Some may argue against this amendment by urging the Senate to wait for the administration’s plan. However, according to VA testimony before the House of Representatives last week, the administration intends to respond with a plan, but the Senate’s response is not good enough.

I understand the difference individuals can make in promoting equal rights and tolerance. Their gratitude made me reflect on the importance of our current generation and generations to follow. In the words of Minnijean Brown Trickey, the funds in this bill are an "affirmation of a very beautiful and tragic story."
veterans. The Murray-Byrd-Feinstein amendment is the Senate’s opportunity to end this year’s shortchanging of veterans.

I ask unanimous consent that the pending amendment be set aside so that I may bring to the desk this amendment offered by me on behalf of Mrs. MURRAY, for herself, myself, and Mrs. FEINSTEIN.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, the amendment is set aside.

The clerk will report.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from West Virginia (Mr. BYRD), for herself, Mrs. MURRAY, for herself, and Mrs. FEINSTEIN, proposes an amendment numbered 1052.

Mr. BYRD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: Making emergency supplemental appropriation for fiscal year ending September 30, 2005, for the Veterans Health Administration)

On page 254, after line 25, add the following:

S 429. (a) From any money in the Treasury not otherwise obligated or appropriated, there are appropriated to the Department of Veterans Affairs for nonconstruction purposes the amount of $320,000,000 for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2005, for medical services provided by the Veterans Health Administration, of which $120,000,000 shall be divided equally between the Veterans Integrated Service Networks.

(b) The amount appropriated under subsection (a) shall remain available until expended.

(c) This section shall take effect on the date of enactment of this Act.

AMENDMENT NO. 1053

(Purpose: To provide funds for the memorial to Martin Luther King, Jr.)

Mr. BYRD. Mr. President, the greatness of women and men is often best judged from a historical perspective. History gives us the detached perspective that allows us to better understand and appreciate the person, the cause, and the legacy.

This happens because great individuals often have been leaders who challenged the status quo as they pushed the country into areas where it had feared to go. As a result, such leaders often arouse criticism and opposition.

The Revered Dr. Martin Luther King certainly was a controversial figure in his own time.

Black power advocates attacked him for moving too slowly, while more than one presidential administration attacked him too swiftly.

The NAACP criticized his take-to-the-streets tactics.

Civil rights leaders broke with Dr. King because of his opposition to the Vietnam War.

I certainly had my share of differences with Reverend King—a lot of them. We were both products of our times, and both of us were doing what we believed was right.

But time and the march of history afforded a better understanding of Dr. King and his contributions toward making the United States a better, stronger, and greater Nation.

It is for this reason, I am proposing that $10 million in funding be made available for the memorial to Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. This $10 million, which will be available within the subcommittee’s allocation, would supplement the approximately $42 million that has already been raised and stands as a solid foundation to help make this memorial a reality.

I have come to appreciate how Martin Luther King, Jr., sought to help our Nation overcome racial barriers, bigotry, hatred, and injustice, and how he helped to inspire and guide a most important, and most transforming social movement.

Despite the hatred and the bigotry he encountered in his efforts, Dr. King never allowed his movement to be reduced to a simple racial conflict. He stressed on more than one occasion, that the struggle was not one between people of different colors. Rather, Dr. King believed that his fight was a fight “between the forces of light and the forces of darkness.”

His vision and his movement included all Americans. I remind my colleagues, and all Americans, that when Martin Luther King stood on the steps of the Lincoln Memorial and proclaimed that he had “a dream,” he pointed out that he also looked forward to the time “when all of God’s children, black men and white men, Jews and Gentiles, Protestants and Catholics, will be able to join hands.”

I remind my colleagues that Dr. King’s efforts also focused on the economic rights of economically deprived people of all races and creeds, as well as on the civil rights of African Americans. In this quest, he proposed a Bill of Rights for the Disadvantaged. He advocated a guaranteed national income.

At the time of his death, Dr. King was organizing a “Poor Peoples March” on Washington, an effort meant to focus national attention on poverty among not only African-Americans, but among the poor whites of Appalachia, as well.

Dr. King’s vision was not only about what America could be, but what America should be.

With the passage of time, we have come to learn that his dream was the American dream, and few ever expressed it more eloquently.

Dr. King touched the conscience of a Nation, and forced us, as a country, to confront our contradictions. How could the United States present itself as the leader of the free world, he asked, while denying equality and equal opportunity to a large segment of our own people? In his book, “Where Do We Go from Here,” Dr. King asked why 40 million Americans were living in poverty in “a nation overflowing with unbelievable affluence.”

Writing of the destructive effects of militarism, he wrote that he placed himself in the position of being God’s military agent on earth? “Why have we substituted the arrogant under-taking of policing the whole world for the high task of putting our own ‘house in order’?”

With his works as well as his words, Dr. King left us a legacy that inspires and guides millions of Americans today. It is a legacy that demonstrates that human problems—no matter how big or complex—can be addressed—a legacy that proves that one determined person can help make a difference.

Amid all his successes and triumphs, and all of his personal accomplishments, including receiving the Noble Peace Prize, Dr. King always kept his perspective. The night before he was assassinated, he explained: “I just want to do God’s will.” What a powerful statement this was: “I just wanted to do God’s will.” What an inspiration it should be to all of us: “To do God’s will.”

Critiqued, denounced, and opposed in his own time, Martin Luther King has become not only an American icon, but also an international symbol of social justice and one of the history’s most beloved champions of freedom.

Mr. President, we have named a National Holiday in his honor. It is just and proper that we now place a memorial on The Mall of the Nation’s Capital as a visible and tangible symbol of the thanks of a grateful nation. Martin Luther King taught us tolerance. How we need such teachings today. May his life, his legacy, and someday soon, his memorial ever remind us of his vision.

I am about to offer an amendment, and Senator COCHRAN, the illustrious chairman of the Appropriations Committee in the Senate, is the principal cosponsor of the amendment that I will offer, so it is bipartisan. I thank Senator COCHRAN, and I hope that many other Senators will join us in this effort to honor Dr. King.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the pending amendment or amendments be set aside.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. BYRD. That I may offer this amendment on behalf of myself and Senator COCHRAN, I send the amendment to the desk.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report the amendment.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from West Virginia (Mr. BYRD), for himself and Mr. COCHRAN, proposes an amendment numbered 1053:

On page 189, after line 20, add the following:

S 123. (a) For necessary expenses for the Memorial to Martin Luther King, Jr., there is hereby made available to the Secretary of the Interior $10,000,000, remain available until expended, for activities authorized by section 308 of the Omnibus Parks and Public Lands Management Act of 1996 (40 U.S.C. 8903 note; Public Law 104-333).

(b) Section 508(c) of the Omnibus Parks and Public Lands Management Act of 1996 (40 U.S.C. 8903 note; Public Law 104-333) is amended by striking the second sentence.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, the amount reduced in Title I in the second proviso under the heading Departmental Management, Salaries and Expenses, is further reduced by $10,000,000.

Mr. BYRD. Mr. President, I thank the Chair. I thank the clerk, and I thank our distinguished chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, Senator COCHRAN.

Now I ask unanimous consent that Senator KERRY be added as a cosponsor on the veterans amendment.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. BYRD. Mr. President, I yield the floor. I thank all Senators.

AMENDMENTS NOS. 1054, 1055, 1056, 1057, AND 1058, EN BLOC

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, let me send the amendments to the desk. I have five amendments that I submit on behalf of Senator BINGAMAN. Let me ask first that the pending amendment be set aside by consent.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. DORGAN. Let me by consent submit five amendments and ask that they be numbered separately and separately considered on behalf of Senator BINGAMAN.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, the clerk will report the amendments.

The assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from North Dakota [Mr. DORGAN], for Mr. BINGAMAN, proposes en bloc amendments numbered 1054, 1055, 1056, 1057, and 1058.

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the pending amendment be set aside.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

AMENDMENT NO. 1059

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I submit the following notice in writing: In accordance with rule V of the Standing Rules of the Senate, I hereby give notice in writing that it is my intention to move to suspend paragraph 4 of section XVI for the purpose of proposing to the bill H.R. 2361 amendment No. 1059.

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I send an amendment to the desk on behalf of myself and ask for its consideration.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report the amendment.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from North Dakota [Mr. DORGAN] proposes an amendment numbered 1059.

Mr. DORGAN. I ask unanimous consent that reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment is as follows:

AMENDMENT NO. 1060

(Purpose: To set aside additional amounts for Youth Conservation Corps projects)

On page 130, line 2, strike "$1,000,000" and insert "$1,250,000".

On page 138, line 7, strike "$2,000,000" and insert "$2,500,000".

On page 146, line 19, strike "$1,957,000" and insert "$2,500,000".

On page 211, line 25, strike "$2,000,000" and insert "$2,500,000".

AMENDMENT NO. 1065

(Purpose: To provide for the consideration of the effect of competitive sourcing on wildland fire management activities)

On page 250, between lines 23 and 24, insert the following:

(e) In carrying out any competitive sourcing study involving Forest Service employees, the Secretary of Agriculture shall—
  (1) determine whether any of the employees concerned are also qualified to participate in wildland fire management activities; and
  (2) take into consideration and document the effect that contracting with a private sector source would have on the ability of the Forest Service to effectively and efficiently fight and manage wildfires.

AMENDMENT NO. 1066

(Purpose: To strike the title providing for the disposition of Forest Service land and the realignment of Forest Service facilities)

Beginning on page 255, strike line 1 and all that follows through page 263, line 22.

AMENDMENT NO. 1077

(Purpose: To extend the Forest Service conveyances pilot program)

Beginning on page 255, strike line 1 and all that follows through page 263, line 22, and insert the following:

  (1) in subsection (b), by striking ‘‘40 sites’’ and inserting ‘‘60 sites’’;
  (2) in subsection (c), by striking ‘‘13 sites’’ and inserting ‘‘36 sites’’; and
  (3) in subsection (d), by striking ‘‘2008’’ and inserting ‘‘2009’’.

AMENDMENT NO. 1098

(Purpose: To provide a substitute for title V)

The amendment is printed in today's RECORD, under "Text of Amendments."

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the pending amendment be set aside.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

AMENDMENT NO. 1099

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I submit the following notice in writing: In accordance with rule V of the Standing Rules of the Senate, I hereby give notice in writing that it is my intention to move to suspend paragraph 4 of section XVI for the purpose of proposing to the bill H.R. 2361 amendment No. 1059.

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I send an amendment to the desk on behalf of myself and ask for its consideration.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report the amendment.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from North Dakota [Mr. DORGAN] proposes an amendment numbered 1059.

Mr. DORGAN. I ask unanimous consent that reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

AMENDMENTS NOS. 1061 AND 1062, EN BLOC

Mr. DORGAN. I send to the desk two amendments I offer on behalf of Senator LANDRIEU and ask for their immediate consideration.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from North Dakota [Mr. DORGAN], for Ms. LANDRIEU, proposes amendments numbered 1061 and 1062.

Mr. DORGAN. I ask unanimous consent to dispense with the reading of the amendment.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

AMENDMENTS NOS. 1061 AND 1062, EN BLOC

Mr. DORGAN. I send to the desk two amendments I offer on behalf of Senator OBAMA and ask for their consideration.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from North Dakota [Mr. DORGAN], for Mr. OBAMA, proposes amendments numbered 1061 and 1062, en bloc.

Mr. DORGAN. I ask unanimous consent that the pending amendment be set aside.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendments are as follows:

AMENDMENT NO. 1061

At the appropriate place insert:

SEC. — None of the funds made available in this Act may be used in contravention of 15 U.S.C. § 2602(c)(3) or to delay the implementation of that section.

AMENDMENT NO. 1062

At the appropriate place insert:

Provided. That of the funds made available under the heading "Environmental Programs and Management," not less than $100,000 shall be made available to issue the proposed regulations required under 15 U.S.C. § 2602(c)(3) by November 1, 2005, and promulgate the final rule.
Mr. BURNS. Mr. President, we have some amendments we can accept. I ask unanimous consent that the amendment offered by Mr. ENSIGN, 1033; Mrs. FEINSTEIN, 1024; the majority leader, Mr. FRIST, 1028; Mr. WYDEN, 1035; and Mr. CRAIO’s amendment numbered 1041 be called up, and I ask unanimous consent they be agreed to en bloc.

Mr. DORGAN. The amendments have been cleared on both sides. I support their approval.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendments were agreed to, as follows:

AMENDMENT NO. 1033
(Purpose: To prohibit the use of funds for the demolition of buildings at the Zephyr Shoals property, Lake Tahoe, Nevada.)

On page 254, after line 25, add the following:

Sec. 4. None of the funds made available to the Forest Service under this Act shall be expended or obligated for the demolition of buildings at the Zephyr Shoals property, Lake Tahoe, Nevada.

AMENDMENT NO. 1034
(Purpose: To authorize the imposition of fees for overnight lodging at certain properties at Fort Baker, California.)

On page 254, after line 25, add the following:

Sec. 4. Section 114 of the Department of the Interior and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 2003 (16 U.S.C. 460bb-3; Public Law 108-7), is amended—
(1) in the second sentence, by inserting “; including utility expenses of the National Park Service or lessees of the National Park Service” after “Fort Baker properties”; and (2) by inserting between the first and second sentences the following: “In furtherance of a lease entered into under the first sentence, the Secretary of the Interior or a lessee may impose fees on overnight lodgers at Fort Baker properties.”

AMENDMENT NO. 1035
(Purpose: To reinstate a provision relating to National Parks with deed restrictions.)

On page 254, after line 25, add the following:

Sec. 4. Section 323(a) of the Department of the Interior and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 1999 (16 U.S.C. 4604(a); Public Law 105-277) shall be applied and administered as if section 323(a) of the Federal Lands Recreation Enhancement Act (16 U.S.C. 6812(a)) (and the amendments made by that section) had not been enacted.

AMENDMENT NO. 1041
(Purpose: To allow withdrawal from mineral entry or appropriation under mining lease laws, and from leasing claims under mineral and geothermal leasing laws, certain land in the Payette National Forest.)

At the appropriate place, add the following: “Provided further. That, subject to valid existing rights, all land and interests in land acquired in the Thunder Mountain area of the Payette National Forest (including patented claims and land that are encumbered by unpatented claims or previously appropriated funds under this section, or otherwise relinquished by a private party) are withdrawn from mineral entry or appropriation under Federal mining laws, and from leasing claims under Federal mineral and geothermal leasing laws.”.

Mr. GREGG. Mr. President, the pending Department of Interior and Related Agencies Appropriations Bill fiscal year 2006, H.R. 2361, as reported by the Senate Committee on Appropriations provides $36,261 billion in budget authority and $27,421 billion in outlays in fiscal year 2006 for the Department of Interior and related agencies. Of these totals, $54 million in budget authority and $60 million in outlays are for mandatory programs in fiscal year 2006.

The bill provides total discretionary budget authority in fiscal year 2006 of $26,207 billion. This amount is $532 million more than the President’s request, equal to the 302(b) allocations adopted by the Senate, $100 million more than the House-passed bill, and $53 million less than fiscal year 2005 enacted levels.

Mr. President, I commend the distinguished chairman of the Appropriations Committee for bringing this legislation before the Senate, and I ask unanimous consent that a table displaying the Budget Committee scoring of the bill be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

HR 2361, 2006 INTRIOR APPROPRIATIONS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>General Purpose</th>
<th>Mandatory</th>
<th>Total</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Senate-reported bill.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Budget authority</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Outlays</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Senate 302(b) allocation.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Budget authority</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Outlays</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2005 Enacted.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Budget authority</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Outlays</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>President’s request.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Budget authority</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Outlays</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>House-passed bill.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Budget authority</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Outlays</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Senate-Reported Bill Compared to.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Senate 302(b) allocation.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Budget authority</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Outlays</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2005 Enacted.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Budget authority</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Outlays</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>President’s request.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Budget authority</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Outlays</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>House-passed bill.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Budget authority</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Outlays</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

* Initial 302(b) allocation report for 2006 omitted subcommittee allocations for mandatory spending. These baseline spending levels for appropriated mandatory accounts reflect anticipated mandatory suballocations in next report. NOTE: Details may not add to totals due to rounding. Totals adjusted for consistency with scorekeeping conventions.

Mr. BURNS. I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.
Mr. BURNS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

MORNING BUSINESS

Mr. BURNS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent there now be a period of morning business with Senators permitted to speak for up to 10 minutes each.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. BURNS. I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. MCCONNELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

HONORING OUR ARMED FORCES

TRIBUTE TO U.S. ARMY STAFF SERGEANT

HAROLD "GEORGE" BENNETT

Mrs. LINCOLN. Mr. President, I rise today to honor the memory of U.S. Army SSG Harold "George" Bennett.

In the jungles of Vietnam, this young Arkansan displayed courage and honor while serving his Nation in uniform. Tragically, almost 40 years to the day, on or about June 26, 1965, he became the first American prisoner of war executed by the Viet Cong.

George Bennett was born on October 16, 1940, in Perryville, AR, a small town that rests just northwest of Little Rock in the foothills of the Ozarks. His father, Gordon, was a veteran of World War I, and he instilled in his sons the values and rewards of service to country. All 4 would follow his footsteps into the U.S. Army.

Sgt George Bennett was trained in the Army as an airborne infantryman and served with the famed 82nd and 101st Airborne Divisions, made up of some of the finest soldiers in the world. He earned his Master Parachute Wings and Expert Infantry Badge before volunteering in 1964 for service in what was a relatively unknown area of southeast Asia called Vietnam. While deployed, Sergeant Bennett served as an infantry advisor to the 33rd Ranger Battalion, one of South Vietnam’s best trained and toughest units. On December 29, 1964, they were airlifted to the village of Binh Gia after it had been overrun by a division of Viet Cong. Immediately upon landing, Sergeant Bennett’s unit was confronted by a well-dug-in regiment of enemy forces and despite fighting furiously and courageously throughout the afternoon, their unit was decimated and overrun.

Sergeant Bennett and his radio operator, PFC Charles Crafts, fell into the hands of the Viet Cong.

Before being captured, Sergeant Bennett twice called off American helicopter pilots who were attempting to navigate through the combat zone to rescue him and his radioman. Displaying a remarkably calm demeanor, his focus seemed to be on their safety and not his own. His last words to his would-be rescuers were, “Well, they are going to have my name on it.” That little word, "my," never left my mind. He was one of many, for the South Vietnamese soldiers under his command, “are laying down their weapons and they want me to turn off my radio. Thanks a lot for your help and God Bless you.”

As a prisoner, there was only thing more remarkable than the courageous resistance he displayed throughout his captivity was his steadfast devotion to duty, honor, and country. His faith in God and the trust of his fellow prisoners was unshakable. Sadly, the only way his captors could break his spirit was to execute him and today Sergeant Bennett lies in an unmarked grave known only to God, somewhere in the jungles of Vietnam.

Recent efforts by a group of Vietnam veterans will ensure that Sergeant Bennett’s valiant service will not be forgotten. Over the years, they have worked tirelessly on behalf of the Bennett family to secure the valor awards that should have been presented to Sergeant Bennett’s mother, Pauline, in 1965. I am proud of all they have accomplished and have pledged my support to this effort. Most recently, their work helped lead to Sergeant Bennett’s posthumous induction into the U.S. Army Ranger Hall of Fame at Fort Benning, GA, on July 8, 2004. Sergeant Bennett’s brother Dicky, and his sisters, Eloise Wallace, Laura Sue Vaugh, and Peggy Williams were in attendance. I hope this long overdue moment of recognition provided some sense of solace for his family. Although he may no longer be with us, the example and selflessness of this brave young Arkansan will forever live in our hearts.

The 40th anniversary of Sergeant Bennett’s execution offers us an opportunity, not to remember the events of his death, but to reflect upon the life he led and the kind of person he was. He was a selfless young man who answered his Nation’s call to service any place duty and honor above all else. While a grateful nation could never adequately express their debt to men such as George Bennett, it should take every opportunity to honor them and their families for the sacrifice they have paid on our behalf.

I would also like to ask for unanimous consent to include in the record the citation from Sergeant Bennett’s posthumous induction into the Ranger Hall of Fame and an article titled “Bad Day at Binh Gia,” by retired Army COL Douglas E. Moore, that provides us additional insight into the heroic service of Sgt George Bennett.

BAD DAY AT BINH GIA

(By Col. Douglas E. Moore)

When we first landed, we were green for the first time, we usually take them to Washington to see the Vietnam Veterans Memorial. Al-
The crews of the newly arrived Canberras had barely settled when in the Viet Cong struck. I was doing in our alert shack at Tan Son Nhut Air Base when the radio operator brought me a call from Ben Hoa’s base. As we ran to our helicopter for the short flight to Ben Hoa, we could see flashes of rockets and mortars on the horizon.

Binh Gia, the Viet Cong ammunition were exploding everywhere as we landing. The wounded. To our horror, we watched a Vietnamese A-1E Skyraider crash as the pilot tried to take off during the melee. The plane’s huge engine and other burning parts rolled to a stop a few yards behind. Four Americans, several other Vietnamese were wounded, and 13 U.S. aircraft were destroyed that night in one of the major attacks that seemed to be specifically targeted against us.

Not long afterwards Bob Hope arrived for his first Christmas tour. While his group was traveling from the airport to downtown Saigon, two Viet Cong saboteurs drove an explosive-laden truck into the parking lot of the Brinks Hotel. Two Americans died in the blast and more than 50 were wounded. I missed hearing this, but I understand that he quipped, “A funny thing happened on the way in last night—a hotel passed us!”

As I traveled from the north, the North Vietnamese apparently concluded that they could not win the war with the hit-and-run tactics they had been using. Instead, a major shift in the American war effort was being made. Two veteran Viet Cong regiments to an assembly area about 50 miles southeast of Saigon. Coastal freighters brought new rifles, mortars, and anti-aircraft rocket-propelled grenade launchers. In the jungles of Phuoc Tuy province, the dreaded 9th Viet Cong Division was assembling. Not long afterwards Bob Hope arrived for his 25th Christmas tour. He was flying, but I understand that he quipped, “A funny thing happened on the way in last night—a hotel passed us!”

Binh Gia was a peaceful village surrounded by jungle and populated mostly by Catholics who had fled to the South following an earlier partition of their country. In late December, one regiment of the 9th Division attacked the village and quickly overran it. They slipped into ambush positions around a nearby clearing. They knew the American helicopters would be coming soon, loaded with Vietnamese soldiers and their American advisors.

The casualties told mounted quickly. About midafternoon, I took a load of wounded Vietnamese to the 907th Field Hospital at Tuan Binh in the Cambodian border. Because there was no tactical operations center or any of the ubiquitous command and control helicopters hovering over the battlefield, as was the case in later years. After a flight, I landed with an Army 15,000-pound RTO (rescue, evacuate, transport, unload) helicopter, which lifted three Americans who had been captured and we were helpless to do anything except fly out of the camp.

Several minutes before our radio crackled to life again, “Have no fear, blue-eyed VNAP is here!” The call came from a gunship pilot. He and his wingman in an A-1E Skyraider, piloted by U.S. Air Force advisors, were rushing to help but were still needed. I left Vietnam the following summer and spent two years in Japan before I returned to Vietnam. While in Japan, I was in another medevac unit whose mission was to ferry casualties from the air bases at Yokota and Tachikawa to several Army, Navy and Air Force hospitals scattered around Tokyo. After the week and a half of lightly wounded were sufficiently stabilized, we returned them to the airheads for the long flight home.

One afternoon, I was reading a copy of The Stars and Stripes while waiting for an in-bound flight at Yokota. My attention was drawn to an announcement by the North Vietnamese government that an American POW had been freed. I was stunned to the news. I was standing near a small mound near a large clump of bushes and waving a white handkerchief. You have clearance to fire anywhere more than a hundred meters from my position.”

Shortly thereafter, the gunship pilot reported that he and his wingman had fired all hell, and had little machine-gun ammunition remaining. At this point, the gunship pilot told the advisor to begin moving toward the Southwest because he claimed he had planned the situation. The advisor’s response was quick. “Don’t try it! They’re all around me down here, and you’ll do is get shot down.”

The gunship pilot managed to move, but he was in the dark. At one of the major attacks that seemed to be specifically targeted against us.

One afternoon, I was reading a copy of The Stars and Stripes while waiting for an in-bound flight at Yokota. My attention was drawn to an announcement by the North Vietnamese government that an American POW had been freed. I was stunned to the news. I was standing near a small mound near a large clump of bushes and waving a white handkerchief. You have clearance to fire anywhere more than a hundred meters from my position.”

Shortly thereafter, the gunship pilot reported that he and his wingman had fired all hell, and had little machine-gun ammunition remaining. At this point, the gunship pilot told the advisor to begin moving toward the Southwest because he claimed he had planned the situation. The advisor’s response was quick. “Don’t try it! They’re all around me down here, and you’ll do is get shot down.”

The gunship pilot managed to move, but he was in the dark. At one of the major attacks that seemed to be specifically targeted against us.

One afternoon, I was reading a copy of The Stars and Stripes while waiting for an in-bound flight at Yokota. My attention was drawn to an announcement by the North Vietnamese government that an American POW had been freed. I was stunned to the news. I was standing near a small mound near a large clump of bushes and waving a white handkerchief. You have clearance to fire anywhere more than a hundred meters from my position.”

Shortly thereafter, the gunship pilot reported that he and his wingman had fired all hell, and had little machine-gun ammunition remaining. At this point, the gunship pilot told the advisor to begin moving toward the Southwest because he claimed he had planned the situation. The advisor’s response was quick. “Don’t try it! They’re all around me down here, and you’ll do is get shot down.”

The gunship pilot managed to move, but he was in the dark. At one of the major attacks that seemed to be specifically targeted against us.

One afternoon, I was reading a copy of The Stars and Stripes while waiting for an in-bound flight at Yokota. My attention was drawn to an announcement by the North Vietnamese government that an American POW had been freed. I was stunned to the news. I was standing near a small mound near a large clump of bushes and waving a white handkerchief. You have clearance to fire anywhere more than a hundred meters from my position.”

Shortly thereafter, the gunship pilot reported that he and his wingman had fired all hell, and had little machine-gun ammunition remaining. At this point, the gunship pilot told the advisor to begin moving toward the Southwest because he claimed he had planned the situation. The advisor’s response was quick. “Don’t try it! They’re all around me down here, and you’ll do is get shot down.”

The gunship pilot managed to move, but he was in the dark. At one of the major attacks that seemed to be specifically targeted against us.

One afternoon, I was reading a copy of The Stars and Stripes while waiting for an in-bound flight at Yokota. My attention was drawn to an announcement by the North Vietnamese government that an American POW had been freed. I was stunned to the news. I was standing near a small mound near a large clump of bushes and waving a white handkerchief. You have clearance to fire anywhere more than a hundred meters from my position.”

Shortly thereafter, the gunship pilot reported that he and his wingman had fired all hell, and had little machine-gun ammunition remaining. At this point, the gunship pilot told the advisor to begin moving toward the Southwest because he claimed he had planned the situation. The advisor’s response was quick. “Don’t try it! They’re all around me down here, and you’ll do is get shot down.”

The gunship pilot managed to move, but he was in the dark. At one of the major attacks that seemed to be specifically targeted against us.

One afternoon, I was reading a copy of The Stars and Stripes while waiting for an in-bound flight at Yokota. My attention was drawn to an announcement by the North Vietnamese government that an American POW had been freed. I was stunned to the news. I was standing near a small mound near a large clump of bushes and waving a white handkerchief. You have clearance to fire anywhere more than a hundred meters from my position.”

Shortly thereafter, the gunship pilot reported that he and his wingman had fired all hell, and had little machine-gun ammunition remaining. At this point, the gunship pilot told the advisor to begin moving toward the Southwest because he claimed he had planned the situation. The advisor’s response was quick. “Don’t try it! They’re all around me down here, and you’ll do is get shot down.”

The gunship pilot managed to move, but he was in the dark. At one of the major attacks that seemed to be specifically targeted against us.

One afternoon, I was reading a copy of The Stars and Stripes while waiting for an in-bound flight at Yokota. My attention was drawn to an announcement by the North Vietnamese government that an American POW had been freed. I was stunned to the news. I was standing near a small mound near a large clump of bushes and waving a white handkerchief. You have clearance to fire anywhere more than a hundred meters from my position.”

Shortly thereafter, the gunship pilot reported that he and his wingman had fired all hell, and had little machine-gun ammunition remaining. At this point, the gunship pilot told the advisor to begin moving toward the Southwest because he claimed he had planned the situation. The advisor’s response was quick. “Don’t try it! They’re all around me down here, and you’ll do is get shot down.”

The gunship pilot managed to move, but he was in the dark. At one of the major attacks that seemed to be specifically targeted against us.
of his constant aggressiveness in the brutal conditions of the jungle war zones. He verbally berated his guards, daring them to confront him man-to-man. On one of his three unsuccessful attempts, a Viet Cong officer almost bit off SSG Bennett's finger as he punched the guard. Driven by dedication to duty, personal honor, and his religious beliefs, he continued to serve. In June of 1966, the Communist National Liberation Front announced that they had executed SSG Harold G. Bennett, reportedly in reprisal for actions of the South Vietnamese government; he was the “first” American soldier to be executed in Vietnam. Ranger Bennett's exemplary boldness, complete disregard for his own safety, and his deep concern for his fellow fighting men at the risk of his own life, reflects the highest traditions of the United States Army; his actions are the embodiment of the Ranger Spirit.

ADDITIONAL STATEMENTS

RECOGNIZING THE 50TH ANNIVERSARY OF TEMPLE BENJAMIN

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. President, I would like to take this opportunity to pay tribute to the past and present leaders and congregation of Temple Benjamin as they celebrate 50 years of service to their community, learning, and faith on June 25, 2005. This milestone provides the perfect opportunity to reflect on the rich history of this institution and to remember the many individuals who played an integral part in its success.

In 1955 Rabbi Joseph Kratzenstein, who escaped Nazi persecution and ultimately settled in Bay City, inspired the original idea for Temple Benjamin through his efforts to educate children in the Mount Pleasant community. Upon arriving in Michigan, Rabbi Kratzenstein frequently visited the Mount Pleasant area, drawing attention to the need for religious education for local children. The rabbi's call was answered by Goldberg, Simon, Ben Traines, and Dr. Phil Silvert, who raised the necessary seed money to establish the temple we enjoy today.

Within 2 months of laying the first stone, the temple was completed and families began to use the services it provided. Temple Benjamin is one of the first Jewish community and religious centers to be established in the Central Michigan area and began with 10 families, some of whom would travel more than 50 miles for services. Today, the temple serves more than 50 families and has continued to grow and embrace the surrounding community.

The founding mission of education, originally developed by Gene Traines, has remained a cornerstone tenet of Temple Benjamin through the years. Many notable community leaders, including Rose Traines, Mildred Goldberg, and Helen Klein, have helped to shape Temple Benjamin's instructional elements and to promote community outreach.

In work with children in Michigan, Temple Benjamin has contributed to the overall welfare and safety of our Nation through the dedicated service of many in the congregation. There are many in the congregation who served in our Armed Forces, including Robert Klein, Charles Muskowitz, Arnie Bransdorfer, Joe Simon, and Carvel Wolfson, who served with distinction during WWII. Through the years, those associated with Temple Benjamin have embodied the values of community spirit, faith, and leadership. I know my Senate colleagues join me in congratulating the members of Temple Benjamin for their service to the community and in wishing them many more years of success in the future.

SAMUEL NASSIE, 2005 EAGLE SCOUT OF THE YEAR

Mrs. BOXER. Mr. President, I rise to share with my colleagues the outstanding accomplishment of one of my constituents, Samuel Nassie of Paradise, CA. I am so proud to announce that in May 2005, Samuel was named the American Legion's national "2005 Eagle Scout of the Year."

The title of Eagle Scout represents the highest rank a Boy Scout can achieve. It is achieved by work, dedication, leadership and community service to earn this honor that only 4 percent of all Boy Scouts achieve. Therefore, to be selected as the American Legion's Eagle Scout of the Year is a very high honor for a young man. I am very proud of Samuel for his accomplishments that led to this meritorious honor.

Samuel's list of awards and accomplishments are too numerous to list today, but I would like to share with you some of his work that proves Samuel's dedication to his community is second to none. He was the first Boy Scout in Northern California to receive the William P. Hornaday Conservation Award, the oldest conservation award in the history of this country, with only 1,000 recipients in its 94-year history. Because of his service to the community, Samuel earned the Medal of Honor and the Congressional Youth Award in Bronze, Silver, and Gold. At the age of 13, Samuel achieved the rank of Eagle Scout. He was chosen as Eagle Scout of the Year for both California and the United States by the Sons of the American Revolution. The Veterans of Foreign Wars also chose him as Eagle Scout of the Year for California and awarded him second place in the United States. He is a member of the Boy Scout Honor Society, and a life member of the National Eagle Scout Association. Samuel remains active in the Boy Scouts of America by teaching at Boy Scout camps and serving as a Junior Scoutmaster for his local Boy Scout troop.

I would like to highlight two of Samuel's community projects that are particularly noteworthy. In his first community service project, "Veterans Honor," Samuel created a program to locate, identify, plot and record the location of every veteran at his local cemetery. Another community service project, "Buckets Full of Batteries," created an environmental program to recycle household batteries. Four years ago, he implemented this program in two school districts and over 20 businesses in Paradise, and is now working with 4 other cities to expand his program.

Samuel maintains a 4.0 GPA, and plans to attend college and study American History. He is a past Eagle Scout of the Year and Business. Samuel has selflessly given years of his time and energy to the community.

Samuel Nassie brings a great deal of pride to California. He has accomplished more in his 17 years than most of us will in our entire lives. His community, State, and country are fortunate to have a citizen of his caliber. I have no doubt that his future will be a bright and fulfilling one.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

ENROLLED BILL SIGNED

At 1:02 p.m., a message from the House of Representatives, delivered by Ms. Niland, one of its reading clerks, announced that the Speaker has signed the following enrolled bill:

H.R. 1812. An act to amend the Public Health Service Act to authorize a demonstration grant program to provide patient navigator services to reduce barriers and improve health care outcomes, and for other purposes.

The enrolled bill was signed subsequently by the President pro tempore (Mr. STEVENS).

At 3:41 p.m., a message from the House of Representatives, delivered by Ms. Niland, one of its reading clerks, announced that the House has passed the following bill, in which it requests the concurrence of the Senate:

H.R. 3010. An act making appropriations for the Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education, and Related Agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes.

MEASURES REFERRED

The following bill was read the first and the second times by unanimous consent, and referred as indicated:

H.R. 3010. An act making appropriations for the Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education, and Related Agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Appropriations.

EXECUTIVE AND OTHER COMMUNICATIONS

The following communications were laid before the Senate, together with accompanying papers, reports, and documents, and were referred as indicated:

EC-2737. A communication from the Legal Advisor to the Chief, Media Bureau, Federal Communications Commission, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled “Amendment of Section 73.202(b), Table of Allotments, FM Broadcast Stations (Crystal Falls, Michigan; Laona, Wisconsin; Blythe, California; and the ‘Black Rock Desert, Nevada’)(Texas)”; (MB Docket Nos. 04-370, 04-371, 04-388, 04-390, and 04-391) received on June 17, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2738. A communication from the Legal Advisor to the Chief, Media Bureau, Federal Communications Commission, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled “Amendment of Section 73.202(b), Table of Allotments, FM Broadcast Stations (Ammun and Dubois, Idaho)” (MB Docket No. 04-427) received on June 17, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2739. A communication from the Legal Advisor to the Chief, Media Bureau, Federal Communications Commission, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled “Amendment of Section 73.202(b), Table of Allotments, FM Broadcast Stations (Jackson and Charlotte, Michigan)” (MB Docket No. 05-35) received on June 17, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2740. A communication from the Legal Advisor to the Chief, Media Bureau, Federal Communications Commission, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled “Amendment of Section 73.202(b), Table of Allotments, FM Broadcast Stations (McCook, Maxwell, and Broken Bow, Nebraska)” (MB Docket No. 04-203) received on June 17, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2741. A communication from the Acting General Counsel, Department of Commerce, transmitting, the draft of a bill entitled ‘Marine Mammal Protection Act Amendments of 2005’ received on June 13, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2742. A communication from the Program Analyst, Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled “Standard Instrument Approach Procedures; Miscellaneous Amendments (37); Amdt. No. 3123” ((RIN2120-AA65)(2005-0018)) received on June 18, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2743. A communication from the Program Analyst, Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled “Amendment of Class E Airspace; Harrisburg, PA; CORRECTION” ((RIN2120-AA66)(2005-0117)) received on June 18, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2744. A communication from the Program Analyst, Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled “Amendment of Class E Airspace; Newburgh, NY” ((RIN2120-AA66)(2005-0277)) received on June 18, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2745. A communication from the Program Analyst, Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled “Amendment of Class E Airspace; Brunswick, ME” ((RIN2120-AA66)(2005-0210)) received on June 18, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2746. A communication from the Program Analyst, Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled “Amendment of Class E Airspace; V–623” ((RIN2120-AA66)(2005-0219)) received on June 18, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2747. A communication from the Program Analyst, Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled “Airworthiness Directives: BAE Systems Limited Model BAE 146 Airplanes” ((RIN2120-AA64)(2005-0281)) received on June 18, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2748. A communication from the Program Analyst, Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled “Airworthiness Directives: Boeing Model 757–200 Series Airplanes Equipped with an & 3 Cargo Door” ((RIN2120-AA64)(2005-0280)) received on June 18, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2749. A communication from the Program Analyst, Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled “Airworthiness Directives: Bombardier Model DHC 8 102, 103, 106, 201, 301, 311, and 315 Airplanes” ((RIN2120-AA64)(2005-0279)) received on June 18, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2750. A communication from the Program Analyst, Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled “Airworthiness Directives: GROB– Werke Model G120A Airplanes” ((RIN2120–AA64)(2005–0276)) received on June 18, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2751. A communication from the Program Analyst, Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled “Amendment of Class E Airspace; Widmer, OR” ((RIN2120–AA65)(2005–0151)) received on June 18, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2752. A communication from the Program Analyst, Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled “Amendment of Class E Airspace; Salmon, ID” ((RIN2120–AA65)(2005–0148)) received on June 18, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2753. A communication from the Program Analyst, Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled “Amendment of Class E Airspace; Castoria, NY” ((RIN2120–AA65)(2005–0144)) received on June 18, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2754. A communication from the Program Analyst, Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled “Amendment of Class E Airspace; Newburgh, NY” ((RIN2120–AA66)(2005–0277)) received on June 18, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2755. A communication from the Program Analyst, Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled “Airworthiness Directives: Precise Flight, Inc. Models SVS I and SVS IA Standby Vacuum Systems” ((RIN2120–AA64)(2005–0275)) received on June 18, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2756. A communication from the Program Analyst, Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled “Airworthiness Directives: Sikorsky Aircraft Corporation Airworthiness Directives: Bombardier Model DHC 8 102, 103, 106, 201, 301, 311, and 315 Airplanes” ((RIN2120-AA64)(2005-0279)) received on June 18, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.
Aircraft Ltd. Models PC-12 and PC-12/45 Airplanes" ((RIN2120-AA64)(2005-0272)) received on June 18, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2766. A communication from the Program Analyst, Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled "Airworthiness Directives: McDonnell Douglas Model DC 9 15F Airplanes Modified in Accordance with Supplemental Type Certificate SA19950S; and Model DC 9 10, 20, 30, 40, and 50 Series Airplanes in All-Cargo Configuration, Equipped with a Main Deck Cargo Door" ((RIN2120-AA64)(2005-0288)) received on June 18, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2767. A communication from the Program Analyst, Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled "Airworthiness Directives: Airbus Model A300 B2 and B4 Series Airplanes and Glaser-Dirks Flugzeugbau GmbH Model DG-500B Sailplanes and Glaser-Dirks Flugzeugbau GmbH Model DG-400B Sailplanes" ((RIN2120-AA64)(2005-0271)) received on June 18, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2768. A communication from the Program Analyst, Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled "Modification of Class E Airspace; Washington, KS; CONFIRMATION OF EFFECTIVE DATE" ((RIN2120-AA66)(2005-0122)) received on June 18, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2769. A communication from the Program Analyst, Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled "Airworthiness Directives: Boeing Model 747-000, 100, 200, 300, 300F Series Airplanes" ((RIN2120-AA64)(2005-0263)) received on June 18, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2770. A communication from the Program Analyst, Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled "Airworthiness Directives: Boeing Model 747-400 and 747-200F Series Airplanes" ((RIN2120-AA64)(2005-0265)) received on June 18, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2771. A communication from the Attorney, Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration, Department of Transportation, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled "Hazardous Materials; Miscellaneous Amendments" (RIN2137-AD02) received on June 18, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2772. A communication from the Attorney, Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration, Department of Transportation, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled "Harmonization with the United Kingdom’s Model of International Categorization" (RIN2120-AA65) received on June 18, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2773. A communication from the Program Analyst, Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled "Airworthiness Directives: Turbo- matica S.A. Arrius 1A Turboshaft Engines" ((RIN2120-AA64)(2005-0262)) received on June 18, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2774. A communication from the Program Analyst, Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled "Airworthiness Directives: Boeing Model 767-200, 300, 300F and 300F Series Airplanes" ((RIN2120-AA64)(2005-0260)) received on June 18, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2775. A communication from the Program Analyst, Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled "Airworthiness Directives: Bombardier Model CL-600-1A11 (CL-600), CL-600-2A12 (CL-601), and CL-600-2B16 (CL-601-3A, CL-601-5A, and CL-601-5B), and Model CL-605 Modified by Supplemental Type Certificate (STC) SA49005SW" ((RIN2120-AA64)(2005-0259)) received on June 18, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2776. A communication from the Program Analyst, Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled "Airworthiness Directives: Boeing Model 777-200 and 777-300ER Series AIRCRAFT" ((RIN2120-AA64)(2005-0258)) received on June 18, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2777. A communication from the Chief, Regulations and Administrative Law, U.S. Coast Guard, Department of Homeland Security, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled "Special Local Regulations: Annual Offshore Super Series Boat Race, Fort Myers Beach, FL" (RIN1625-AA80) received on June 22, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2778. A communication from the Chief, Regulations and Administrative Law, U.S. Coast Guard, Department of Homeland Security, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled "Security Zones (including 3 regulations): (CGD09-05-019), (CGGD1-05-019), (CGD01-05-019)" (RIN1625-AA99) received on June 22, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

EC-2779. A communication from the Chief, Regulations and Administrative Law, U.S. Coast Guard, Department of Homeland Security, transmitting, pursuant to law, the report of a rule entitled "Security Zones: Duluth Harbor, Duluth, Minnesota" (RIN1625-AA67) received on June 22, 2005; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

The following reports of committees were submitted:

By Mr. INHOFE, from the Committee on Environment and Public Works, with amendments:

S. 1017. A bill to reauthorize grants for the water resources research and technology institutes established under the Water Resources Research Act of 1984 (Rept. No. 109–90).

By Mr. ENZI, from the Committee on Appropriations, with an amendment in the nature of a substitute:

S. 1011. A bill to amend the Public Health Service Act with respect to the National Foundation for the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (Rept. No. 109–91).

By Mr. STEVENS, from the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation, with amendments.

S. 298. A bill to provide competitive grants for training court reporters and closed captioners to meet requirements for realtime writers under the Telecommunication Act of 1996, and for other purposes (Rept. No. 109-93).

By Mr. STEVENS, from the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation, without amendment.

S. 432. A bill to establish a digital and wireless network technology program, and for other purposes (Rept. No. 109-94).

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS AND JOINT RESOLUTIONS

The following bills and joint resolutions were introduced, read the first and second times by unanimous consent, and referred as indicated:

By Mr. McCAIN:
S. 1312. A bill to amend a provision relating to employees of the United States assigned to, or employed by, an Indian tribe, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Indian Affairs.

By Mr. CORNYN:
S. 1313. A bill to protect homes, small businesses, and other private property rights, by limiting the power of eminent domain; to the Committee on the Judiciary.

By Mr. Voinovich (for himself and Mr. STEVENS):
S. 1314. A bill to amend the Federal Water Pollution Control Act to authorize appropriations for States water pollution control revolving funds, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Environment and Public Works.

By Mr. Lugar:
S. 1315. A bill to require a report on progress toward the Millennium Development Goals, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

By Ms. Snowe (for herself, Mr. Kerry, Ms. Collins, Mr. Chafee, and Mr. Kennedy):
S. 1316. A bill to authorize the Small Business Administration to provide emergency relief to small businesses affected by toxic red tide losses; considered and passed.

By Mr. Hatch (for himself, Mr. Dodd, Mr. Burr, Mr. Reid, and Mr. Ensign):
S. 1317. A bill to provide for the collection and maintenance of cord blood units for the treatment of patients and research, and to amend the Public Health Service Act to authorize the Bone Marrow and Cord Blood Cell Transplantation Program to increase the number of transplant recipients suitable matched to donors of bone marrow and cord blood; to the Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions.

ADDITIONAL COSPONSORS

S. 21
At the request of Ms. Collins, the name of the Senator from Iowa (Mr. Grassley) was added as a cosponsor of S. 21, a bill to provide for homeland security grant coordination and simplification, and for other purposes.

S. 211
At the request of Mrs. Clinton, the names of the Senator from California (Mrs. Feinstein) and the Senator from New Mexico (Mr. Bingaman) were added as cosponsors of S. 211, a bill to facilitate nationwide availability of 2-1-1 telephone service for information and referral on human services, volunteer services, and for other purposes.

At the request of Mr. Johnson, the name of the Senator from Iowa (Mr. Harkin) was added as a cosponsor of S. 331, a bill to amend title 38, United States Code, to provide for an assured adequate level of funding for veterans health care.

At the request of Mr. Bingaman, the name of the Senator from Rhode Island (Mr. Shaheen) was added as a cosponsor of S. 537, a bill to increase the number of well-trained mental health service professionals (including those based in schools) providing clinical mental health care to children and adolescents, and for other purposes.

At the request of Mr. Conrad, the name of the Senator from Colorado (Mr. Salazar) was added as a cosponsor of S. 548, a bill to amend the Food Security Act of 1985 to encourage owners and operators of privately-held farm, ranch, and forest land to voluntarily make their land available for access by the public under programs administered by States and tribal governments.

At the request of Mr. Bingaman, the name of the Senator from Wisconsin (Mr. Feingold) was added as a cosponsor of S. 604, a bill to amend title XVIII of the Social Security Act to authorize expansion of medicare coverage of medical nutrition therapy services.

At the request of Mr. Johnson, the name of the Senator from Utah (Mr. Bennett) was added as a cosponsor of S. 653, a bill to require the Secretary of the Treasury to mint coins in commemoration of veterans who became disabled for life while serving in the Armed Forces of the United States.

At the request of Mr. Dorgan, the name of the Senator from Arkansas (Mr. Pryor) was added as a cosponsor of S. 675, a bill to reward the hard work and risk of individuals who choose to live in and help preserve America's small, rural towns, and for other purposes.

At the request of Mr. Byrd, the name of the Senator from Montana (Mr. Baucus) was added as a cosponsor of S. 695, a bill to suspend temporarily new shipper bonding privileges.

At the request of Mrs. Feinstein, the name of the Senator from Arizona (Mr. Kyi) was added as a cosponsor of S. 751, a bill to require Federal agencies, and persons engaged in interstate commerce, in possession of data containing personal information, to disclose any unauthorized acquisition of such information.

S. 963
At the request of Mr. Thune, the name of the Senator from Iowa (Mr. Harkin) was added as a cosponsor of S. 1050, a bill to amend the Tariff Act of 1930 to provide for an expedited antidumping investigation when imports increase materially from new suppliers after an antidumping order has been issued, and to amend the provision relating to adjustments to export price and constructed export price.

At the request of Mr. Coleman, the name of the Senator from Montana (Mr. Burns) was added as a cosponsor of S. 1060, a bill to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to allow a credit against income tax for the purchase of hearing aids.

S. 1064
At the request of Mr. Cochran, the name of the Senator from Georgia (Mr. Isakson) was added as a cosponsor of S. 1064, a bill to amend the Public Health Service Act to improve stroke prevention, diagnosis, treatment, and rehabilitation.

S. 1066
At the request of Mr. Hagel, his name was added as a cosponsor of S. 1066, a bill to authorize the States (and subdivisions thereof), the District of Columbia, territories, and possessions of the United States to provide certain tax incentives to any person for economic development purposes.

S. 1069
At the request of Mr. Grassley, the name of the Senator from Utah (Mr. Bennett) was added as a cosponsor of S. 1112, a bill to make permanent the enhanced educational savings provisions for qualified tuition programs enacted as part of the Economic Growth and Tax Relief Reconciliation Act of 2001.

S. 1206
At the request of Mr. Bunning, the name of the Senator from Oregon (Mr. Wyden) was added as a cosponsor of S. 1200, a bill to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to reduce the depreciation recovery period for certain roof systems.

S. 1299
At the request of Mr. Gregg, the name of the Senator from Tennessee (Mr. Alexander) was added as a cosponsor of S. 1209, a bill to establish and strengthen postsecondary programs and courses in the subjects of... traditional American history, free institutions, and Western civilization, available to students preparing to teach these subjects, and to other students.

At the request of Mr. BINGAMAN, the names of the Senator from Arkansas (Mrs. LINCOLN) and the Senator from Minnesota (Mr. DAYTON) were added as cosponsors of S. 1217, a bill to amend title II of the Social Security Act to phase out the 24-month waiting period for disabled individuals to become eligible for Medicare benefits, to eliminate the waiting period for individuals with life-threatening conditions, and for other purposes.

At the request of Mrs. CLINTON, her name was added as a cosponsor of S. 1290, a bill to appropriate $1,975,183,000 for medical care for veterans.

At the request of Mrs. LINCOLN, the name of the Senator from New Jersey (Mr. LUTENBERG) was added as a cosponsor of S. 1298, a bill to amend titles XIX and XXI of the Social Security Act to permit States to cover low-income youth up to age 21.

At the request of Mr. LUGAR, the name of the Senator from Nebraska (Mr. HAGEL) was added as a cosponsor of S. Res. 42, a resolution expressing the sense of the Senate on promoting initiatives to develop an HIV vaccine.

At the request of Mr. BIDEN, the name of the Senator from Vermont (Mr. LEAHY) was added as a cosponsor of S. Res. 154, a resolution designating October 21, 2005 as ‘‘National Mammography Day’’.

STATEMENTS ON INTRODUCED BILLS AND JOINT RESOLUTIONS

By Mr. MCCAIN:
S. 1312. A bill to amend a provision relating to employees of the United States assigned to, or employed by, and Indian tribe, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Indian Affairs.

Mr. MCCAIN. Mr. President, today I am introducing legislation to address conflicts of interest and the appearance of conflicts involving former Federal officers and employees who represent Indian tribes.

The legislation amends the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (ISDEA), 25 U.S.C. 450i(j), by limiting the exemption from Federal conflicts of interest laws. Current law exempts from the conflicts laws former Federal officers and employees who are employed by Indian tribes, thus permitting these former Federal officers and employees immediately to lobby the departments they just left and act as agents and attorneys for the tribes. The legislation limits this exemption only to those former Federal officers and employees who are employees of Indian tribes pursuant to self-determination contracts or self-governance compacts.

The bill clarifies what I believe was the intent of the Congress, as evidenced by House Report No. 93 4600 that accompanies the ISDEA, that Federal employees who work in an area that is contracted or compacted to a tribe be able to continue performing their jobs if they become employees of the Indian tribe for purposes of working in the contracted or compacted area. The exception that was made to the conflict laws appeared to have been made to recognize the responsibility of operating programs traditionally fulfilled by the Federal Government, they would need experienced individuals to fulfill contracted or compacted functions.

Former Federal employees who leave the Federal Government and go to work as outside lawyers or lobbyists for Indian tribes, however, would, under the legislation I am introducing today, be subject to the same conflicts of interest restraints that apply to other former Federal employees who work for other entities. The bill takes effect one year after enactment to allow time for people to familiarize themselves with the new law and for tribes to seek alternative representation if necessary.

Limiting the waiver of conflicts laws in this manner proposed in this bill will address a problem identified by the Inspector General of the Department of Interior. In a report dated February 2002, entitled ‘‘Allegations Involving Irregularities in the Tribal Recognition Process and Concerns Relating to Indian Gaming, the IG laid out a number of contacts by former BIA and DOI officials, who left Federal employment to represent tribes at law firms, to the BIA regarding recognition matters that, but for the exemption from the conflicts rules, they would be barred from making. The IG suggested that these contacts were improper, but not illegal. These contacts were all made by former Federal employees who worked as outside lawyers and lobbyists for tribes. In his testimony before the Senator Committee on Indian Affairs earlier this year, the Inspector General again raised the issue of conflicts of interest and referred to a problem of a ‘‘revolving door’’ involving former Department of Interior officials. This legislation seeks to address this issue by permitting Indian tribes to continue performing their jobs if they become employees of the Indian tribe for purposes of working in the contracted or compacted area.

SEC. 1. SHORT TITLE. This Act may be cited as the ‘‘Reducing Conflicts of Interests in the Representation of Indian Tribes Act of 2005’’.

SEC. 2. ADDITIONAL EMPLOYMENT RIGHTS. Section 104 of the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (25 U.S.C. 450i) is amended by striking subsection (j) and inserting the following:

‘‘(j) ADDITIONAL EMPLOYMENT RIGHTS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding sections 285 and 207 of title 18, United States Code, an officer or employee of the United States assigned to an Indian tribe under section 3372 of title 5, United States Code, or section 207 of this title (25 U.S.C. 48), or an individual that was formerly an officer or employee of the United States and who is an employee of an Indian tribe employed to perform services pursuant to self-governance contracts or compacts under this Act that the individual formerly performed for the United States, may communicate with and appear before any appropriate department, agency, court, or commission on behalf of the Indian tribe with respect to any matter relating to the contract or compact, including any matter in which the United States is a party or has a direct and substantial interest.

(2) NOTIFICATION OF INVOLVEMENT IN PENDING MATTER.—An officer, employee, or former officer or employee described in paragraph (1) shall submit to the head of each appropriate department, agency, court, or commission all writing, a personal and substantial involvement the officer, employee, or former officer or employee has as an officer or employee of the United States with respect to the pending matter.’’

SEC. 3. EFFECTIVE DATE. The effective date of the amendment made by this Act shall be the date that is 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act.

By Mr. CORNYN:
S. 1313. A bill to protect homes, small businesses, and other private property rights, by limiting the power of eminent domain; to the Judiciary.

Mr. CORNYN. Mr. President, I rise today to introduce new legislation, entitled the Protection of Homes, Small Businesses, and Private Property Act of 2005. I introduce this legislation in response to a controversial ruling of the United States Supreme Court issued just last Thursday. The protection of homes, small businesses, and other private property rights against government seizure and other unreasonable government interference is a fundamental principle and core commitment of our Nation’s Founders. As Thomas Jefferson famously wrote on April 6, 1816, the protection of such rights is:

the first principle of association, ‘‘the guarantee to everyone of a free exercise of his industry, and the fruits acquired by it.’’

The Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution specifically provides that ‘‘private property’’ shall not ‘‘be taken for public use without just compensation.’’ The Fifth Amendment thus provides an essential guarantee of liberty against the abuse of the power of eminent domain, by permitting government to seize private property only ‘‘for public use.’’

On June 23, 2005, the U.S. Supreme Court issued its controversial 5-4 decision in Kelo v. City of New London. In that ruling, the Court acknowledged that the Kelo case ‘‘has been described as a clarion call that the sovereign may not take the property of A for the sole purpose of transferring it to another private party B.’’ and that under the Fifth Amendment, the power of eminent domain may be used only “for public use.”

Yet the Court nevertheless held, by a 5–4 vote, that government may seize the home of a small business; or other private property of one owner, and transfer that same property to another private owner, simply by concluding that such a transfer would benefit the community through increased economic development.

This is an alarming decision. As the Houston Chronicle editorialized this past weekend:

It seems a bizarre anomaly. The government has the power to take private property to hand over to wealthy developers to build shopping malls and office plazas, but it wouldn’t happen in the United States. Yet, that is precisely what the U.S. Supreme Court narrowly approved this week. Local governments, the court ruled, may seize private homes and businesses so that other private entities can develop the land into enterprises that generate higher taxes.

I ask unanimous consent that a copy of this editorial be printed in the Record of my remarks.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered. (See exhibit 1.)

Mr. CORNYN. The Court’s decision in Kelo is alarming because, as Justice O’Connor accurately noted in her dissenting opinion, joined by the Chief Justice and Justices Scalia and Thomas, the Court has:

effectively deleted the words “for public use” from the Takings Clause of the Fifth Amendment and thereby “refused to enforce properly the Federal Constitution.”

Under the Court’s decision in Kelo, Justice O’Connor warns, “[t]he power of condemnation hangs over all property. Nothing is to prevent the State from replacing any Motel 6 with a Ritz-Carlton, any home with a shopping mall, or any farm with a factory.

She further warns that, under Kelo, “any property may now be taken for the benefit of another private party, and (that) the taking of ‘public use’ will now be a fraud. The beneficiaries are likely to be those citizens with disproportionate influence and power in the political process, including large and powerful development fiends.

As for the victims, the government now has license to transfer property from those with fewer resources to those with more. The Founders could not have intended this perverse result.

Indeed, as an amicus brief filed by the National Association for the Advancement of People, AARP, and other organizations noted:

[a]s a result of the Supreme Court’s decision, the power to take private property will be employed more frequently. The takings that result will disproportionately affect and harm the economically disadvantaged and, in particular, racial and ethnic minorities and the elderly.

In a way, the Kelo decision at least is consistent with the administration to assess the proper role of government in the future of our communities.

As the Houston Chronicle noted, “[t]he Kelo decision at least gives government the tools to do well to pass restrictions on this distasteful form of eminent domain.

“Finally, I am introducing today the Protection of Homes, Small Businesses, and Private Property Act of 2005. The legislation would declare Congress’s view that the power of eminent domain should be exercised only “for public use,” as guaranteed by the Fifth Amendment, and that this power to seize homes, small businesses, and other private property should be reserved only for true public uses. Most importantly, the power of eminent domain should not be used simply to further economic development. The act would apply this standard to two areas of government action which are clearly within Congress’s authority to regulate: (1) All exercises of eminent domain power by the Federal Government, and (2) All exercises of eminent domain power by State and local governments through the use of Federal funds.

It would likewise be appropriate for states to take action to voluntarily limit their own power of eminent domain. As the Court in Kelo noted, “nothing in our opinion precludes any State from placing further restrictions on the exercise of the takings power.”

The protection of homes, small businesses, and other private property rights against government seizure and other unreasonable government interference, is a core commitment of our Nation’s Founders. The Kelo decision was a disappointment, but I congratulate the attorneys at the Institute for Justice for their exceptional legal work and for their devotion to liberty. We must not give up, and I know that the talented lawyers at the Institute for Justice have no intention of giving up. In the aftermath of Kelo, we must take all necessary steps to undo this decision and strengthen the protections of the Fifth Amendment.

I ask my colleagues to lend their support to this effort, by supporting the Protection of Homes, Small Businesses, and Private Property Act of 2005. (See Exhibit 1.)

EXHIBIT 1

STeALING HOME

It seems a bizarre anomaly. The government in China can seize private property to hand over to wealthy developers to build shopping malls and office plazas, but it wouldn’t happen in the United States. Yet, that is precisely what the Court narrowly approved this week. Local governments, the court ruled, may seize private homes and businesses so that other private entities can develop the land into enterprises that generate higher taxes.

The Supreme Court found, 5–4, that local elected officials are not barred by the Constitution from condemning whole neighborhoods and small businesses if, in their view, doing so would lead to redevelopment that increases tax collections.

A majority on the Court was convinced that the possibility of improving the tax base for the benefit of the wider community satisfies the Fifth Amendment’s requirement that private property be taken by eminent domain only for a public purpose.

Justice Sandra Day O’Connor, who dissented, pinned pointed the problem with the majority’s argument. She cited “disproportionate influence and power” to a community’s most powerful and well-connected residents.

Public parks, schools and right of way for thoroughfares traditionally have provided the sort of public purpose to justify government’s use of eminent domain. Grand redevelopment schemes, especially when they are cooked up by government officials, often lack a sound economic basis as the potential of becoming boondoggles that hurt taxpayers.

Justice John Paul Stevens wrote for the majority that local judges, not the people of the community, decide whether an economic development project will benefit the community. In this case, city officials in New London, Conn., tore down public houses to make way for a riverfront hotel, offices and a fitness club.

“The city has carefully formulated an economic development plan that it believes will provide appreciable benefits to the community, including—but by no means limited to—new jobs and increased tax revenue,” Stevens wrote.

But is that universally true? Municipal and county governing bodies frequently miscalculate or wildly overestimate the benefits of tax abatements and other incentives.

Besides that, individual taxpayers don’t necessarily benefit from increased government revenues.

Sometimes the increased revenue proves insufficient to cover the cost of providing some needed public service or new development. Sometimes increased revenues are wasted on things other than essential services.

Now that the high court has cleared the way for officials to trump private property rights, absent of eminent domain becomes more likely, particularly in neighborhoods populated by the least influential citizens. In Texas, lawmakers would do well to pass restrictions on this distasteful form of eminent domain.

By Mr. LUGAR:

S. 1315. A bill to require a report on progress toward the Millennium Development Goals, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

Mr. LUGAR. Mr. President, I rise today to introduce a bill that calls on the administration to assess the progress of poverty reduction efforts around the world since September 2000, when the Millennium Declaration was unanimously adopted by more than 180 nations, including the United States. Each of these nations signed an agreement to work toward defined objectives, called the Millennium Development Goals, which include the commitments to: build a global partnership for... development; eradicate extreme poverty by halving the number of people living on less than one dollar a day and the number who suffer hunger; achieve universal primary education for boys and girls alike; reduce by two-thirds the under-5 child mortality rate; halt and reverse the spread of AIDS, malaria and other major disease; promote gender equality, reduce maternal mortality by two-thirds; and ensure environmental sustainability.

This bill also highlights the important research and recommendations of the Report of the Commission for Africa that was commissioned by Prime Minister Tony Blair in preparation for the July 2005 Gleneagles Summit in Scotland. The report, entitled “Our Common Interest,” is an excellent study of past development efforts and current opportunities to respond to the challenges of extreme poverty in Africa.

Three important international fora will occur this year that will help define the world’s response to extreme poverty; the group of Eight highly industrialized countries will meet in July at Gleneagles, Scotland and will address the challenges and opportunities of the African continent. The United Nations Millennium Summit to review progress on the Millennium Development Goals will occur in September. It will provide an opportunity to measure global coherence and commitment to specific objectives in eradicating extreme poverty and hunger. The Sixth Ministerial Conference of the World Trade Organization will meet in Hong Kong in December. Progress toward a genuinely equitable trade round in Hong Kong could provide a significant boost to global international development.

This bill asks that the Secretary of State produce a report on the commitments made by the United States and the international community to achieve the Millennium Development Goals and the decisions made in regard to these goals in the three upcoming summits. It asks that the report assess the prospects of achieving these goals by 2015 and to review policies that maintain continued United States leadership in reducing poverty worldwide. The report would be due 60 days after the completion of the WTO summit December 13–18, 2005.

The purpose of this report is to encourage a discussion of the goals themselves and the practical challenges with which each of these goals must contend. This discussion should take place within and among donor and developing governments, on a continuing basis. The upcoming summits are an important opportunity to continue that discussion as well as to make concrete efforts, and if necessary adjustments, to achieving such goals.

Since the Millennium Summit in 2000, the United States has taken steps to invest in development in a more comprehensive manner. President Bush made an historic commitment to address the threat and impact of HIV-AIDS on the countries most affected by this pandemic. The United States also established a bold new development initiative that closely parallels important elements of the MDGs and the recommendations of the Commission for Africa report. The Millennium Challenge Corporation has begun to deliver Millennium assistance to developing nations that are committed to investing in their own people, to ruling justly, and to encouraging economic freedom. In addition, the United States removed barriers to trade with eligible African countries through the African Growth and Opportunity Act.

There are many other significant efforts by the United States to address the challenges to poor countries face, from technical assistance to bilateral and multi-lateral debt relief, from peacekeeper training and equipping to capacity building and emergency assistance. Whether bilaterally or through multilateral institutions, the international community should capitalize on this strategy that reinforces the prospect of a more peaceful and stable world.

The commitment of the United States to the moral and humanitarian goal of reducing the inequities seen across the developing world is a key factor in achieving greater security at home and abroad. Since September 11, 2001, our nation has been engaged in a debate over how to apply national power and resources most effectively to realize the maximum degree of security. Throughout this process, I have been making the point that we are not placing sufficient weight on the diplomatic and economic tools of national power.

Even as we seek to capture key terrorists and destroy terrorist units, we must be working to perfect a longer term strategy that reshapes the world in ways that are not conducive to terrorist recruitment and influence. To win the war against terrorism, the United States must place sufficient weight on economic and diplomatic capabilities. The same strategic priority that we assign to military capabilities, there are no shortcuts to victory. We must commit ourselves to the painstaking work of foreign policy day by day and year by year. As we undertake this mission, we must be persistent in our advocacy among our fellow nations to encourage a global partnership and commitment to eradicating poverty.

I ask unanimous consent that the text of the bill be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the bill was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

S. 1315

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the “International Cooperation to Meet the Millennium Development Goals Act of 2005”.

SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

Congress makes the following findings:

(1) At the United Nations Millennium Summit in 2000, the United States joined more than 180 other countries in committing to work toward goals to improve life for the world’s poorest people.

(2) Such goals include reducing the proportion of people living on less than $1 per day by ½, reducing child mortality by ⅓, and assuring access to basic education, while sustaining the environment upon which human life depends.

(3) At the 2002 International Conference on Financing for Development, the United States representative reiterated the support of the United States for the Millennium Development Goals and advocated, along with international participation, a stronger focus on measurable outcomes derived from a global partnership between developed and developing countries.

(4) On March 22, 2002, President Bush stated, “We fight against poverty because hope is an answer to terror. We fight against poverty because opportunity is a fundamental right to human dignity. We fight against poverty because faith requires it and conscience demands it. We fight against poverty with a growing conviction that major progress within our reach.

(5) The 2002 National Security Strategy of the United States notes that “a world where some live in comfort and plenty, while half of the human race lives on $2 per day, is neither just nor stable. Including all of the world’s poor in an expanding circle of development and opportunity is a moral imperative and one of the top priorities of U.S. international policy”.

(6) The National Commission on Terrorist Attacks Upon the United States concluded that the Government of the United States must offer an example of moral leadership in the world and offer parents and their children a vision of the future that emphasizes individual, educational, and economic opportunity as essential to the efforts of the United States to defeat global terrorism.

(8) The summit of the Group of Eight scheduled for July 6-8, 2005, in Gleneagles, Scotland, will bring together the countries that can make the greatest contribution to alleviating extreme poverty in Africa, the region of the world where extreme poverty is most prevalent.

(9) On June 11, 2005, the United States helped secure the agreement of the Group of Eight Finance Ministers to cancel 80 percent of the debt obligations owed to the World Bank, African Development Bank, and International Monetary Fund by countries that are eligible for the Highly Indebted Poor Countries Initiative, the initiative established in 1996 by the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund for the purpose of reducing the debt burdens of the world’s poorest countries, or under the Enhanced HIPC Initiative, as defined in section 1625 of the International Financial Institutions Act (22 U.S.C. 262p–2), which are poor countries that are on the path to reform.

(10) The report prepared by the Commission on Africa and issued for Prime Minister Tony Blair on March 11, 2005, entitled “Our Common Interest”, called for coherence and coordination in the development of an over-arching package of action put out by the countries of Africa and the international community to address the complex interlocking issues that challenge the continent, many of which have already been addressed individually in previous summits and under the Africa Action Plan enacted by the Group of Eight.

(11) The United States has recognized the need for strengthened economic and trade opportunities, as well as increased financial and technical assistance to Africa and other countries burdened by extreme poverty, through significant initiatives in recent years, including—

(A) the African Growth and Opportunity Act (19 U.S.C. 3701 et seq.) that has opened United States markets to thousands of products from Africa.

(B) the President’s Emergency Plan for AIDS Relief developed under section 101 of the United States Leadership Against HIV/AIDS, Tuberculosis, and Malaria Act of 2003 (22 U.S.C. 7611), the major focus of which has been on African countries;

(C) the Millennium Challenge Corporation established under section 904 of the Millennium Challenge Act of 2003 (22 U.S.C. 7703) that is in the process of committing new and significant levels of assistance to countries, including countries in Africa, that are poor but show great promise for boosting economic growth and bettering the lives of their people; and

(D) the United States has canceled 100 percent of the bilateral debt owed to the United States by countries eligible for debt relief under the Enhanced HIPC Initiative.

(12) The report prepared by the Commission for Africa entitled “Our Common Interest” includes the following findings:

(A) The people of Africa must demonstrate the leadership necessary to address the governance challenges they face, setting priorities that ensure the development of effective civil and police services, independent judiciaries, and strong parliaments, all of which reinforce a stable and predictable economic environment attractive to investment.

(B) Many leaders in Africa have pursued personal self-interest rather than national goals, a tendency that has been in some instances exacerbated and abetted by the manipulation of foreign governments pursuing their own agenda in the region to the detriment of the people of Africa.

(C) With conflict having occurred in Africa during the period between 1965 and 2005 but in other circumstances in the countries of Africa, that the countries of Africa must engage on the individual, national, and regional level to prevent and manage conflict.

(D) The capacity to trade is constrained by a derelict or nonexistent infrastructure in most African countries as well as by the double-edged sword of tariff and nontariff barriers that comprise that complicates markets and discourages investment both within and beyond the continent.

(E) The local resources for investment in people are insufficient necessary for good governance have been squandered, misappropriated, and, to an increasingly devastating effect, spent on servicing debt to the developed world. Such resources should be reoriented to serve the needs of the people through the use of debt forgiveness and support for institutional reform and internal capacity building.

(F) Failing to prevent conflict in Africa results in incalculable costs to African development and expense to the international community. Investment in preventing conflict is a fraction of such costs and expenses, in human, security, and financial terms.

(G) Despite difficulties, there is optimism and energy reflected in the scope of activities of individuals such as 2004 Nobel Peace Prize recipient, Wangari Maathai, as well as those of improved regional organizations such as the African Union and the New Partnership for Economic Development’s Peer Review Mechanism and sub-regional entities such as the Economic Community of West African States, the Inter-Governmental Authority on Development, and the potential of the Southern African Development Community.

(H) Political reform in Africa has produced results. For example, while in 1960 countries in sub-Saharan Africa were the norm, by 2005 dictatorships are a minority and democracy has new life with governments chosen by the people increasing fourfold since 1991.

(13) The report prepared by the Commission for Africa entitled “Our Common Interest” includes the following recommendations:

(A) At this vital moment when globalization and growth, technology and trade, and mutual security concerns allow, and common humanity demands, a substantial tangible and coherent package of actions should immediately be taken by the international community to support the most indigent and underdeveloped countries, in partnership with the countries of Africa, to address the poverty and underdevelopment of the African continent.

(B) The people of Africa must take responsibility and show courageous leadership in addressing problems and taking ownership of solutions. The international community must support professional, accountable governance and, while ensuring the rights of women, and work to increase the number of women in leadership positions so as to capitalize on the ability of women to deliver scarce resources effectively and fairly.

(C) The international community must join in providing creative incentives for commercial firms to research and develop products that improve water, sanitation, health, and the environment in ways that would dramatically reduce suffering and increase productivity in Africa.

SEC. 3. DEFINITIONS.

In this Act:

(1) APPROPRIATE CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEES.—The term ‘‘appropriate congressional committees’’ means the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations and the House Committee on Foreign Affairs.

(2) AFRICA.—The term ‘‘Africa’’ means the forum for addressing international economic, political, and social issues attended by representatives of Canada, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, Russia, the United Kingdom, and the United States.

SEC. 4. SENSE OF CONGRESS.

It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) The President should continue to provide the leadership necessary at the summit of the Group of Eight scheduled for July 2005 and beyond to encourage the countries of the world to develop a true partnership to pursue the Millennium Development Goals;

(2) The President should urge the Group of Eight to consider the recommendations contained in the report prepared by the Commission for Africa entitled “Our Common Interest”, as a fundamental guide on which to base their planning, in partnership with the nations of Africa, for the development of Africa;

(3) The Group of Eight, as well as governments of the countries of Africa and regional organizations of such governments, should reaffirm and honor the commitments made in the Africa Action Plan enacted by the Group of Eight in previa in United Nations Millennium Declaration, resolution 55/1 adopted by the General Assembly of the United Nations on September 8, 2000.

SEC. 5. REPORT.

(a) REQUIREMENT.—Not later than 60 days after the date of the conclusion of the World Trade Organization Ministerial meeting in Hong Kong that is scheduled to be held December 13 through December 18, 2005, the Secretary of State in consultation with other appropriate United States and international agencies shall submit to the appropriate congressional committees on the progress the international community is making toward achieving the Millennium Development Goals.

(b) CONTENT.—The report required by subsection (a) shall include the following:

(2) A review of United States policies and progress toward achieving the Millennium Development Goals.
June 27, 2005

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD—SENATE

S7433

Development Goals by 2015, as well as policies to provide continued leadership in achieving such goals by 2015.

(3) An evaluation of the contributions of other national and international actors in achieving the Millennium Development Goals by 2015.

(4) An assessment of the likelihood that the Millennium Development Goals will be achieved.

By Mr. HATCH (for himself, Mr.
DODD, Mr. BURR, Mr. REED, and Mr. ENSENCE):

S. 1317. A bill to provide for the collection and maintenance of cord blood units for the treatment of patients and research, and to amend the Public Health Service Act to authorize the Bone Marrow and Cord Blood Cell
Transplantation Program to increase the number of transplants for recipiants suitable matched to donors of bone marrow and cord blood; to the Committee on Health, Education,
Labor, and Pensions.

Mr. HATCH. Mr. President, today, I am pleased to introduce "The Bone Marrow and Cord Blood Therapy and Research Act of 2005." I am grateful that Senators DODD, BURR, REED and Ensign view me as sponsor of this important, bipartisan bill. All five sponsors of this bill have been working on this legislation for the past few months. We have met with organizations that are deeply interested in participating in this new program and heard their input. We talked to other Senators, including members of the Senate Health, Education, Labor and Pension Committee, who have a deep commitment to getting this legislation signed into law by the President.

This bill was a group effort and I commend the sponsors of this bill on a job well done.

I am pleased that this legislation will be considered by the Senate HELP Committee on Wednesday; we are hopeful it will be passed by the Senate in the near future. HELP Chairman
ENZI and Ranking Democrat KENNEDY and their staffs have been very supportive of our efforts in getting this bill through the Senate in a timely manner. I greatly appreciate their willingness to work with all of us on this important issue.

As many of my colleagues know, I introduced a bill earlier this year S. 681, have introduced this bill legislation during the past three Congresses. The bill I have introduced with my colleagues today is a much improved version of my original cord blood legislation, primarily because it reflects a compromise between the key stakeholder groups that are deeply interested in providing federal funding to establish cord blood banks for public use. This legislation creates an easily accessible network of adult stem cell transplant material for the treatment of patients and supports the research into the uses of such cells.

One of the biggest changes in this bill is the establishment of a three year demonstration project for the collection and storage of cord blood units for a family in which a child has been diagnosed with a condition that will benefit from a cord blood transplant at no cost to the family. When we were meeting with individuals who testified in this legislative process, they were told by scientific experts that the most successful cord blood transplants come from a sibling's cord blood. Once a cord blood unit is put in a public cord blood bank, there is no guarantee that a family will be able to get that specific cord blood unit back if it is needed. Therefore, we believed that it was necessary to create this demonstration project so that families would have immediate access to its cord blood units. It is important to emphasize that the only families that may participate in this demistration project are those that have a sick child or parent.

In addition, this legislation includes language calling for single point of access. The single point of access is to provide health care providers with the ability to search for bone marrow donors and cord blood units through a single electronic point of access. Today, doctors have to search over 200 databases to find available cord blood units and bone marrow donors. A single point of access improves this process dramatically for both doctor and patient by making the search process much more efficient.

There is a strong interest throughout the Congress for using adult stem cells to treat a wide variety of medical conditions. Our bill not only reauthorizes the National Marrow Donor Program, but it also creates a national network of public cord blood banks. Together, these two programs for umbilical cord blood and adult bone marrow will provide us with a widely-accepted source of hematopoietic stem cells for transplant and research.

For the millions of Americans who have received and been saved by bone marrow transplants.

But thousands more die for lack of an appropriate donor. The good news is that research now suggests that the blood and stem cells from human placenta and umbilical cords may in some cases provide an alternative to bone marrow transplantation. For some patients, particularly those for whom a bone marrow match cannot be found, transplantation is a tough, life-saving therapy.
Cord blood stem cells are readily available, and they require less-stringent matching from donors to recipients, thus decreasing the dif-culty of finding a fully matched donor.

Cord blood transplantation has been used successfully to treat leukemia, lymphoma, immunodeficiency diseases, sickle cell anemia, and certain metabolic diseases. However, the number of available cord blood stem cells in the United States is insufficient to meet the need. The Bone Marrow and Cord Blood Therapy and Research Act of 2005 will establish an inventory of 150,000 new cord blood stem cell units that reflects the diversity of the United States' population. In conjunction with the five million potential deep bone marrow donors registered through the National Marrow Donor Program, this cord blood network will enable 95 percent of Americans to find an appropriately matched transplant.

The Bone Marrow and Cord Blood Therapy and Research Act of 2005 also incorporates recommendations from the Institute of Medicine's recent record blood. The Institute provided Congress with guidelines and recommendations to enhance the structure, function, and utility of the program. As a result, I am confident that this Nation's system for obtaining adult stem cells for transplantation purposes will improve dramatically, and that many more of our citizens will have access to the life-saving therapies they offer. Through transplants of this nature, we can finally cure previously incurable diseases such as sickle cell anemia. I hope this legislation will help us ensure that children with this and other illnesses will be able to achieve their full potential, unhindered by poor health.

My goal, which I share with the other sponsors of this bill, is to create the best possible system to provide patients, clinicians, and families with acto these life-saving treatments. I believe the current bill does this by ensuring that the number of bone marrow donors and cord blood units available for transplant and research increases in the coming years.

The integrated system will include not only the international bone marrow donor registry, but also a network of qualified cord blood banks which will collect, test, and preserve cord blood stem cells. This cord blood system will educate and recruit donors, facilitate the rapid matching of donors and recipients, and quickly make such cells available to transplant centers for stem cell transplantation.

The establishment of a national in-rastructure for transplant material will help save the lives of thousands of critically ill Americans. We must be sure that our Nation can meet the needs of patients and physicians by ensuring a strong future for bone marrow and cord blood in this country. My primary goal is to ensure that the amount of transplant material available for patient care and research increases in the coming years. The only way that goal may be accomplished is through strong federal support. I look forward to working with my colleagues on doing everything possible to provide transplant patients with the best possible options by ensuring a strong future for bone marrow and cord blood transplan-tation in this country. This is a good bill and I urge my colleagues to support it.

I ask unanimous consent that the text of this bill be printed in the RECORD.
There being no objection, the bill was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

S. 1317

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the “Bone Marrow and Cord Blood Therapy and Research Act of 2005.”

SEC. 2. CORD BLOOD INVENTORY.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of Health and Human Services shall enter into one-time contracts with qualified cord blood banks to assist in the collection and maintenance of 150,000 new units of high-quality cord blood to be made available for transplantation under the Bone Marrow and Cord Blood Cell Transplantation Program and to carry out the requirements of subsection (b).

(b) REQUIREMENTS.—The Secretary shall require each recipient of a contract under this section—

(1) to acquire, tissue-type, test, cryopreserve, and store donated units of cord blood acquired with the informed consent of the donor in a manner that complies with applicable Federal and State regulations;

(2) to encourage donation from a genetically diverse population;

(3) to make cord blood units that are collected blood units that are collected consistent with paragraphs (1), (2), (3), and (5) of section 379(c)(4) of the Public Health Service Act (as added by this Act) and meet all applicable Federal standards available to transplant centers for transplantations;

(4) to make cord blood units that are collected, but not appropriate for clinical use, available for peer-reviewed research;

(5) to make data available, as required by the Secretary, to the Advisory Council; and

(6) to submit data in a standardized electronic format for inclusion in the stem cell therapeutic outcomes database maintained under section 379A of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 274k(c)(3)), as amended by this Act, in a standardized electronic format, as determined by the Secretary, for the Bone Marrow and Cord Blood Cell Transplantation Program; and

SEC. 3. BONE MARROW AND CORD BLOOD CELL TRANSPLANTATION PROGRAM.

(a) NATIONAL PROGRAM.—Section 379 of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 274k) is amended to read as follows:

“SEC. 379. NATIONAL PROGRAM.

“(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—The Secretary, acting through the Administrator of the Health Resources and Services Administration, shall by one or more contracts establish and maintain a Bone Marrow and Cord Blood Cell Transplantation Program (referred to in this section as the ‘Program’) that has the purpose of increasing the number of transplants for recipients suitably matched to biologically unrelated donors of bone marrow and cord blood, and that meets the requirements of this section. The Secretary may award a separate contract to perform each of the major functions of the Program described in paragraphs (1) and (2) of subsection (c) if deemed necessary by the Secretary to operate an effective and efficient system that is in the best interest of patients. The Secretary shall conduct a separate competition for the initial establishment of the cord blood functions of the Program. The Program is under the general supervision of the Secretary. The Secretary shall establish an Advisory Council to advise, assist, consult with, and make recommendations to the Administrator on matters related to the activities carried out by the Program. The members of the Advisory Council shall be appointed in accordance with the following:

“(1) Each member of the Advisory Council shall serve for a term of 2 years, and each such member may serve as many as 3 consecutive 2-year terms, except that

“(A) such limitations shall not apply to the Chair of the Advisory Council (or the Chair-elect) or to the member of the Advisory Council who most recently served as the Chair;

“(B) in addition, consecutive 2-year term may be served by any member of the Advisory Council who has no employment, government, or financial affiliation with any donor center, recruitment organization, transplant center, or cord blood bank.

“(2) A member of the Advisory Council may continue to serve after the expiration of the term of such member until a successor is appointed.

“(3) To seek to enter into a contract under this section, a qualified cord blood bank shall submit an application to the Secretary at such time, in such manner, and containing such information as the Secretary may reasonably require. At a minimum, an application for a contract under this section shall include a requirement that the applicant—

“(1) will participate in the Bone Marrow and Cord Blood Cell Transplantation Program for a period of 3 years or later if extended by the Secretary;

“(2) will make cord blood units collected pursuant to this section available through the Bone Marrow and Cord Blood Cell Transplantation Program in perpetuity; and

“(3) if the Secretary determines through an assessment, or through petition by the applicant, that a cord blood bank is no longer operational or is not meeting the requirements of section 379(c)(4) of the Public Health Service Act (as added by this Act) and as a result may not distribute the units, transfer the units collected pursuant to this section to another qualified cord blood bank approved by the Secretary to ensure continued availability of such units.

“(e) DURATION OF CONTRACTS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in paragraph (2), the term of each contract entered into by the Secretary under this section shall be for 10 years. The Secretary shall ensure that Federal funds provided under any such contract terminate on the earlier of—

“(A) the date that is 3 years after the date on which the contract is entered into; or “(B) September 30, 2019.

“(2) EXTENSIONS.—In considering contract extensions under paragraph (2), the Secretary shall give preference to qualified cord blood banks that have demonstrated ability to satisfy the requirements described in subsection (b) and to achieve the overall goals for which the contract was awarded.

“(f) REGULATIONS.—The Secretary may promulgate regulations to carry out this section.

“(g) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

“(1) The term ‘Bone Marrow and Cord Blood Cell Transplantation Program’ means the Bone Marrow and Cord Blood Cell Transplantation Program established under section 379 of the Public Health Service Act, as amended by this Act.

“(2) The term ‘cord blood donor’ means a mother who has delivered a baby and consents to donate the neonatal blood remaining in the placenta and umbilical cord after separation from the newborn baby.

“(3) The term ‘cord blood’ means the neonatal blood collected from the placenta and umbilical cord of a single newborn baby.

“(4) The term ‘first-degree relative’ means a sibling or parent who is one meiosis away from a particular individual in a family.

“(5) The term ‘qualified cord blood bank’ has the meaning given in section 379(c)(4) of the Public Health Service Act, as amended by this Act.

“(6) The term ‘Secretary’ means the Secretary of Health and Human Services.

“(h) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—

“(1) EXISTING FUNDS.—Any amounts appropriated to the Secretary for fiscal year 2004 or 2005 for the purpose of developing in the collection or maintenance of cord blood shall remain available to the Secretary until the end of fiscal year 2007.

“(2) SUBSEQUENT FISCAL YEARS.—There are authorized to be appropriated to the Secretary $15,000,000 for each of fiscal years 2007, 2008, 2009, and 2010 to carry out this section.

“(3) LIMITATION.—Not to exceed 5 percent of the amount appropriated under this section in each of fiscal years 2007 through 2009 may be used to carry out the demonstration project under subsection (c).
used to support casualties with marrow damage, so the capability of supporting patients with marrow damage can be used to support casualties with marrow damage.

"(E) carry out informational and educational activities in accordance with subsection (d);

"(F) at least annually update information to accept donations of bone marrow that an individual has a recipient of a cord blood transplant, persons who require such transplants, family members of a recipient of a cord blood transplant, persons with expertise in typing, matching, and transplant physiology, persons with expertise in the social sciences, basic scientists with expertise in the biology of adult stem cells, and members of the general public;

"(B) shall include as nonvoting members representatives from the Department of Defense Marrow Donor Recruitment and Research Program operated by the Department of the Navy, the Division of Transplantation of the Health Resources and Services Administration, the Food and Drug Administration, and the National Institutes of Health.

"(5) Members of the Advisory Council shall be chosen so as to ensure objectivity and balance and reduce the potential for conflicts of interest. The Secretary shall establish by laws and procedures—

"(A) to prohibit any member of the Advisory Council who has an employment, governing, organizational, professional, or financial affiliation with a center, recruitment organization, transplant center, or cord blood bank from participating in any decision that materially affects the center, recruitment organization, transplant center, or cord blood bank; and

"(B) to limit the number of members of the Advisory Council with any such affiliation.

"(6) The Secretary, acting through the Advisory Council, shall submit to the Congress—

"(A) an annual report on the activities carried out under this section; and

"(B) not later than 6 months after the date of the enactment of the Bone Marrow and Cord Blood Therapy and Research Act of 2005, a report of recommendations on the scientific factors necessary to define a cord blood unit as a high-quality unit.

"(a) BONE MARROW RECRUITMENT; PRIORITIES; INFORMATION AND EDUCATION.—

"(1) Recruitment; priorities.—The Program shall carry out activities for the recruitment of bone marrow donors.

"(A) The Program shall give priority to recruit bone marrow donors that are suitably matched to candidate patients.

"(B) consistent with paragraph (3), permit transplant physicians, other appropriate health care professionals, and patients to search by means of electronic access all available cord blood units made available through the Program.

"(C) allow transplant physicians and other appropriate health care professionals to receive, as defined by the Secretary, a cord blood unit through the Program.

"(D) support studies and demonstration and outreach projects for the purpose of increasing the number of individuals who are willing to be marrow donors to ensure a genetically diverse donor pool;

"(E) ensure the research to improve the availability, efficiency, safety, and cost of transplants from unrelated donors and the effectiveness of Program operations.

"(2) Cord Blood Function. With respect to cord blood, the Program shall—

"(A) operate a system for listing, searching, and facilitating the distribution of de- nated cord blood units that are suitably matched to candidate patients and meet all applicable Federal and State regulations (including Medicare and Medicaid regulations) from a qualified cord blood bank;

"(B) consistently maintain linkage between a cord blood bank and the Program.

"(C) provide for a system of patient advocacy through the office established under subsection (g);

"(D) maintain and expand medical contingency response capabilities, in coordination with Federal programs, to prepare for and respond effectively to biological, chemical, or radiological attacks, and other public health emergencies that can damage marrow, so that the capability of supporting patients with marrow damage can be used to support casualties with marrow damage.

"(3) Single point of access; submission of data.—

"(A) Single point of access.—The Secretary shall ensure that the health care profes- sionals for bone marrow donors are trained to minimum, locate, consistent with the functions described in paragraphs (1)(A) and (2)(A), cells from bone marrow donors and cord blood donors through a single electronic point of access.

"(B) Standard data.—The Secretary shall require all recipients of contracts under this section to make available a standardized electronic file for purposes of subparagraph (A) in a standard- ized electronic format the enables trans- plant physicians to compare among and between marrow and cord blood units to ensure the best possible match for the patient.

"(4) Definition.—The term qualified cord blood bank means a cord blood bank that—

"(A) has obtained all applicable Federal and State licenses, certifications, registra- tions (including pursuant to the regulations of the Food and Drug Administration), and other authorizations required to operate and maintain a cord blood bank;

"(B) has implemented donor screening, cord blood collection, and processing methods intended to protect the health and safety of donors and transplant recipients to improve transplant outcomes, including with respect to prevention of potentially harmful infections and other dis- eases;

"(C) is accredited by an accreditation entity recognized by the Secretary under sub- section (b);

"(D) has established a system of strict confidentiality to protect the identity and pri- vacy of patients and donors in accordance with existing Federal and State law.

"(E) establishes a system for encour- aging donation by a genetically diverse group of donors; and

"(F) has established a system to confiden- tially maintain linkage between a cord blood unit and a maternal donor.

"(5) Bone marrow recruitment; priorities; information and education.—

"(1) Recruitment; priorities.—The Program shall carry out activities for the recruitment of bone marrow donors. Such re- cruitment program shall identify popu- lations that are underrepresented among po- tential donors enrolled with the Program. In the case of populations that are underrepresented under the preceding sentence—

"(A) The Program shall give priority to carrying out activities under this part to in- crease the representation of such populations in order to enable a member of such a popu- lation, to the extent practicable, to have a probability of finding a suitable unrelated donor that is comparable to the probability that an individual who is not a member of an underrepresented population would have.

"(B) The Program shall ensure that the donor population for purposes of this para- graph and, shall carry out paragraph (A) with respect to such populations.

"(2) Information and education regarding recruitment; testing and enrollment.—

"(A) In general.—The Program shall carry out informational and educational activities, in coordination with organ donation public awareness campaigns operated through the Department of Health and Human Services, for purposes of recruiting individuals to serve as donors of bone marrow, and shall test and enroll with the Program potential bone marrow donors. Such information and educational activities shall include the following:
“(1) Making information available to the general public, including information describing the needs of patients with respect to donors of bone marrow;

“(ii) Providing, for a potential bone marrow donor, information on procedures that are underrepresented among minority groups;

“(ii) Training individuals in requesting information related to personal identification and information regarding marrow donors and potential bone marrow donors;

“(B) PRIORITIES.—In carrying out information and educational activities under subparagraph (A), the Program shall give priority to recruiting individuals to serve as donors of bone marrow for populations that are identified under paragraph (1).

“(1) MARROW CRITERIA, STANDARDS, AND PROCEDURES.—The Secretary shall enforce, for participating entities, including the Program, marrow donors, marrow donor centers, registries, marrow collection centers, and marrow transplant centers—

“(i) standards for the system for patient advocacy operated under subsection (g), including standards requiring the provision of appropriate information (at the start of the search process and throughout the search) to patients and their families and physicians;

“(1) RECRUITMENT; PRIORITIES; INFORMATION AND EDUCATION.—

“(C) TRANSLATION AS TREATMENT OPTION.—In addition to activities regarding recruitment, the Program shall provide information to physicians, other health care professionals, and the public regarding bone marrow transplants from unrelated donors as a treatment option.

“(i) General.—In carrying out the recruitment program under paragraph (1), the Program shall provide information and educational activities in coordination with qualified cord blood banks and organ donation public awareness campaigns operated through the Department of Health and Human Services, for purposes of recruiting pregnant women to serve as donors of cord blood. Such information and educational activities shall include the following:

“(i) quality standards and standards for tissue typing, detailing the information pertinent to donors, and providing patient advocacy;

“(2) donor selection criteria, based on established medical criteria, to protect both the donor and the recipient and to prevent the transmission of potentially harmful infectious diseases such as the viruses that cause hepatitis and the etiologic agent for Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome;

“(3) procedures to ensure the proper collection and transportation of the marrow;

“(4) standards for the system for patient advocacy operated under subsection (g), including standards requiring the provision of appropriate information (at the start of the search process and throughout the process) to patients and their families and physicians;

“(5) standards that—

“(A) require the establishment of a system of strict confidentiality of records relating to the identity, address, HLA type, and managing marrow donor center for marrow donors and potential marrow donors; and

“(B) prescribe the purposes for which the records described in subparagraph (A) may be disclosed, and the circumstances and extent of the disclosure; and “(6) in the case of a marrow donor center or marrow donor registry participating in the program, procedures to ensure the establishment of a system for integrating donor records, files, searches, and general procedures of the center or registry with the Program.

“(1) CORD BLOOD RECRUITMENT; PRIORITIES; INFORMATION AND EDUCATION.—

“(1) RECRUITMENT; PRIORITIES.—The Program shall support activities, in cooperation with qualified cord blood banks, to encourage the recruitment of cord blood donors. Such recruitment program shall identify populations that are underrepresented among cord blood donors. In the case of populations that are identified under the preceding sentence:

“(A) The Program shall give priority to support activities under this part to increase representation for such populations in order to enable a member of such a population, to the extent practicable, to have a probability of finding a suitable cord blood unit that is comparable to the probability that an individual who is not a member of an underrepresented population would have.

“(B) The Program shall consider racial and ethnic minority groups (including persons of mixed ancestry) to be populations that have been historically underrepresented (as the Program determines) and shall provide activities under this paragraph with respect to such populations.

“(2) INFORMATION AND EDUCATION REGARDING RECRUITMENT; TESTING AND DONATION.—

“(A) In general.—In carrying out the recruitment program under paragraph (1), the Program shall provide information and educational activities regarding the progress being made in the search, to the extent practicable.

“(i) The Program shall, through the Office, maintain a database of potential bone marrow donors or cord blood units that are suitably matched to the patient, and other information regarding the progress being made in the search.

“(ii) Informing the patient (or other such individual) if the search has been interrupted or discontinued.

“(iii) Identifying and resolving problems in the search, to the extent practicable.

“(F) The Office shall ensure that the following data are made available to patients:

“(i) The resources available through the Program.

“(ii) A comparison of transplant centers regarding search and other costs that prior to transplantation are charged to patients by transplant centers.

“(iii) The post-transplant outcomes for individual transplant centers.

“(iv) Information concerning issues that patients may face after a transplant.

“(v) Such other information as the Program determines to be appropriate.

“(G) The Office shall conduct surveys of patients (or family members, physicians, or other individuals acting on behalf of patients) to determine the extent of satisfaction with the system for patient advocacy under this subsection, and to identify ways in which the system can be improved to best meet the needs of patient.

“(C) CASE MANAGEMENT.—

“(A) In general.—In serving as an advocate for a patient under paragraph (2), the Office shall, on behalf of patients who have completed the search for a bone marrow donor or cord blood unit, provide information and education on the process of receiving a transplant, including the post-transplant period.

“(B) COMMENT PROCEDURES.—The Secretary shall establish and provide information to the public on procedures under which the Secretary shall receive and consider comments from interested persons relating to the manner in which the Program is carrying out the duties of the Program.

“(i) CONSULTATION.—In developing policies affecting the Program, the Secretary shall consult with the Advisory Council, the Department of Defense Marrow Donor Recruitment and Research Program operated by the Department of the Navy, and the board of directors of any entity awarded a contract under this section.

“(C) CONTRACTS.—

“(1) APPLICATION.—To be eligible to enter into a contract under this section, an entity shall submit to the Secretary and obtain approval of an application at such time, in such manner, and containing such information as the Secretary shall by regulation prescribe.

“(2) CONSIDERATIONS.—In awarding contracts under this section, the Secretary shall give priority to the submission of an application by an entity of donors and patients and other factors deemed appropriate by the Secretary.
"(k) ELIGIBILITY.—Entities eligible to receive a contract under this section shall include private nonprofit entities.

(1) RECORDKEEPING.—Each recipient of a contract or subcontract under subsection (a) shall keep such records as the Secretary shall prescribe, including records that fully disclose and dispositive the cost of the undertaking to which the contract was made, and the total cost of the undertaking in connection with which the contract was made, and the amount of the portion of the cost of the undertaking supplied by other sources, and such other records as will facilitate an effective audit.

(2) EXAMINATION OF RECORDS.—The Secretary and the Comptroller General of the United States shall have access to any books, documents, papers, and records of the recipient of a contract or subcontract entered into under this section that are pertinent to the contract, for the purpose of conducting audits and examinations.

(m) PENALTIES FOR DISCLOSURE.—Any person who discloses the content of any record referred to in subsection (o)(4)(D) or (o)(5)(A) without the written consent of the donor or potential donor with respect to whom the record is maintained, or in violation of the standards described in subsection (e)(5)(A) of this section, shall, upon conviction, be subject to a fine of not more than 2 years or fined in accordance with title 18, United States Code, or both.

(2) STEM CELL THERAPEUTIC OUTCOMES DATABASE.—The Secretary shall establish a database of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 274l) amended to read as follows:

SEC. 379A. STEM CELL THERAPEUTIC OUTCOMES DATABASE.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—The Secretary shall by contract establish and maintain a scientific information registry to keep information relating to patients who have been recipients of a stem cell therapeutics product (including bone marrow, cord blood, or other such product) from a donor.

(b) INFORMATION.—The outcomes database shall include information in a standardized electronic format with respect to patients described in subsection (a), diagnosis, transplant procedures, results, long-term follow-up, and such other information as the Secretary determines to be appropriate, to conduct research and analysis of adverse events and clinical status of transplantation involving recipients of a stem cell therapeutics product from a donor.

(c) ANNUAL REPORT ON PATIENT OUTCOMES.—The Secretary shall require the entity awarded a contract under this section to submit to the Secretary an annual report concerning patient outcomes with respect to each transplant center, based on data collected and maintained by the entity pursuant to this section.

(d) PUBLICLY AVAILABLE DATA.—The outcomes database shall make relevant scientific information not containing individually identifiable information available to the public in the form of summaries and data sets to encourage medical research and to provide information to transplant programs, physicians, patients, entities awarded a contract under section 379A donor registries, and cord blood banks.

(c) DEFINITIONS.—Part 1 of title III of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 274k et seq.) is amended by inserting after section 379A the following:

SEC. 379A-1. DEFINITIONS.

In this part—

"(1) The term ‘Advisory Council’ means the advisory council established by the Secretary under section 379(a)(1).

"(2) The term ‘bone marrow’ means the cells found in adult bone marrow and peripheral blood.

The relatively infrequent use of cord blood in our country is at least partly attributable to the lack of a national infrastructure for the matching and distribution of cord blood units. There are a handful of cord blood banks around the country doing excellent work, but there is a much more developed infrastructure for bone marrow. The need for bone marrow was highlighted by Congress in 1986 that established a national registry for bone marrow, which this bill would reauthorize. Our bill

Not later than 90 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Health and Human Services, in consultation with the Commissioner of Food and Drugs, shall submit to Congress a report concerning the progress made by the Food and Drug Administration in developing requirements for the licensing of cord banks.

Mr. DODD. Mr. President, I am pleased to join Senator HATCH, Senator BURR, Senator REED, and Senator ENSIGN in introducing legislation that will significantly benefit some of the most gravely ill patients—those in need of a bone marrow transplant.

By reauthorizing the national program for bone marrow, creating a similar program for umbilical cord blood, and expanding the national stockpile of umbilical cord blood units, this legislation will dramatically increase the chances that patients in need of a lifesaving transplant will be able to find an appropriate genetic match.

The bill that we are introducing today is similar to legislation that Senator HATCH introduced earlier this year to create a national network of cord blood banks and a cord blood registry. However, there are two important differences. First, this legislation is consistent with recommendations made by the Institute of Medicine, IOM, in their recent report, "Cord Blood: Establishing a National Hematopoietic Stem Cell Bank Program," about the structure of a national cord blood program. Second, and more importantly, this bill would also reauthorize the national bone marrow program, and put both bone marrow and cord blood under the auspices of a single national program. This structure reflects the complimentary nature of bone marrow and cord blood, and will ensure that physicians and patients can more easily find the best possible match for transplantation.

The therapeutic benefits of bone marrow are well established. Bone marrow transplants have been used for nearly half a century to treat patients suffering from leukemia, Hodgkin's Disease, sickle cell anemia, and others. The use of cord blood as an alternative to bone marrow is a more recent development, but one that is just as promising and exciting.

The bill that we are introducing today will begin a new national commitment to the development of this technology which has the potential to reduce pain and suffering and save the lives of many people afflicted with some of the most debilitating illnesses. Cord blood has already been used successfully in treating a number of diseases, including sickle cell anemia and certain childhood cancers. However, the use of cord blood is still in an early stage relative to the use of bone marrow, and may have even broader application in the future.

Like many Americans, I had never heard of cord blood before the birth of my first daughter, almost 4 years ago. It is not widely used—at least in this country. Approximately 95 percent of all bone marrow reconstitutions are done using a bone marrow transplant—only 5 percent use cord blood. This figure is surprising when we consider the benefits of cord blood.

First, it can be very difficult to find a suitable bone marrow donor. According to a General Accounting Office, GAO, report, of the 15,231 individuals who were bone marrow donors between 1997 and 2000 who conducted a preliminary search of the National Bone Marrow Donor Registry, NBMDR, only 4,056 received a transplant—a 27 percent success rate. This number is even lower for minorities. Cord blood would not only produce an additional source of donation; it also does not require as exact a genetic match as bone marrow.

In addition, cord blood is readily available. While it can take months between finding a bone marrow match and actually receiving a transplant, a unit of cord blood can be utilized in a matter of days or weeks. Cord blood also lowers the risk of complications for both the donor and the recipient. The need to extract bone marrow from the donor is eliminated, and the risk of infection or rejection by the recipient is significantly reduced. Finally, research has suggested that cord blood might produce better outcomes than bone marrow in children.

Why then, given all of these benefits, has the use of cord blood not become much more prevalent in the United States? In Japan, where the use of cord blood is more widespread, nearly half of all transplants now use cord blood instead of bone marrow.

The relatively infrequent use of cord blood in our country is at least partly attributable to the lack of a national infrastructure for the matching and distribution of cord blood units. There are a handful of cord blood banks around the country doing excellent work, but there is a much more developed infrastructure for bone marrow. The need for bone marrow was highlighted by Congress in 1986 that established a national registry for bone marrow, which this bill would reauthorize. Our bill

"(3) The term ‘outcomes database’ means the database established by the Secretary under section 379A.

"(4) The term ‘Program’ means the Bone Marrow and Cord Transplantation Program established under section 379B.

(d) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—Section 379B of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 274m) is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 379B. AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.

For the purpose of carrying out this part, there are authorized to be appropriated $37,000,000 for fiscal year 2006 and $38,000,000 for each of fiscal years 2007 through 2010.

(e) CONFORMING—Part I of title III of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 274k et seq.) is amended in the part heading, by striking "NATIONAL BONE MARROW DONOR REGISTRY" and inserting "BONE MARROW AND CORD BLOOD CELL TRANSPLANTATION PROGRAM".

SEC. 4. REPORT ON LICENSURE OF CORD BLOOD UNITS.

Not later than 90 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Health and Human Services, in consultation with the Commissioner of Food and Drugs, shall submit to Congress a report concerning the progress made by the Food and Drug Administration in developing requirements for the licensing of cord blood units.
would create a similar infrastructure for cord blood, operating under the auspices of a newly established Bone Marrow and Cord Blood Cell Transplantation Program. In addition to connecting physicians and patients with a suitable bone marrow donor or cord blood unit, the program would be required to educate the general public about cord blood and bone marrow, and encourage an ethnically diverse population of donors.

Our bill would also provide grants to qualified cord blood banks to acquire 150,000 new cord blood units. This number is consistent with recommendations made by the IOM, and should be sufficient to provide a suitable match for 90 percent of the U.S. population.

Finally, the legislation authorizes an appropriation of $15 million for each of fiscal years 2007 through 2010 for the cord blood inventory grants, and $186 million over the next 5 years for the establishment and maintenance of the Bone Marrow and Cord Blood Cell Transplantation Program.

Before finishing today I would like to make it clear that, just as I believe that cord blood should act as a complement to, not a replacement for, bone marrow, I also believe that cord blood should act as a complement to, not a replacement for, bone marrow, I also believe that cord blood should act as a complement to, not a replacement for, bone marrow. Just as cord blood does not eliminate the need for research into the potential benefits of embryonic stem cells. Just as cord blood seems to be preferable to bone marrow for treating certain individuals or conditions—and the reverse is certainly true as well—the same may prove to be true for embryonic stem cells. Certainly, we should provide doctors with the best tools to help cure their patients, whether those tools come from bone marrow, cord blood, embryonic stem cells, or another source entirely.

I firmly believe that the strengthening of our national infrastructure for bone marrow and the creation of a similar infrastructure for cord blood will save the lives of thousands of gravely ill Americans. I urge my colleagues to support this legislation.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I join my colleagues, Senators ENSIGN, DODD, HATCH, and BURR, in introducing the Bone Marrow and Cord Blood Therapy and Research Act of 2005. This bipartisan legislation represents a critical step forward in establishing expanded access to lifesaving therapies to millions of patients. Patients that can be treated and even cured with bone marrow or cord blood.

The bill we are introducing today builds upon the already highly successful National Marrow Donor Program that has been in operation since 1987. In addition to reauthorizing this program, our bill calls for the establishment of a formal registry of cord blood units available for transplantation and expands to cord blood transplant recipients many of the programs existing for donors including education, information, and patient advocacy, presently available to only bone marrow recipients. It creates an umbrella program, aptly called the Bone Marrow and Cord Blood Cell Transplantation Program.

Our legislation also captures many of the key recommendations of the Institute of Medicine, IOM, in their April 2004 report entitled, “Cord Blood: Establishing a National Hematopoietic Stem Cell Bank Program.” The report called for a stepped up effort to expand the inventory of cord blood units available for transplantation and, when appropriate, for research. Our bill establishes a grant program for qualified cord blood banks to help facilitate building an inventory of 150,000 new cord blood units. At that level, 95 percent of Americans with a condition that can be treated through a cord blood transplant could find a genetically suitable match. Additionally, the bill establishes an advisory council to consult and make recommendations to ensure the efficient and effective operation of the program.

Another important aspect of this bill is the creation of a demonstration project to study cord blood donations within families where a first degree relative has been diagnosed with a condition that could benefit from a cord blood transplant. The legislation sets aside 5 percent of the cord blood inventory grants for the collection and storage of cord blood units at no cost to such families. This effort will be beneficial for families who find themselves in the tragic situation of having a sick child with another child that could provide a cure to the sibling. This demonstration program ensures that families will have this treatment option available to them.

I believe that the Bone Marrow and Cord Blood Transplantation and Research Act of 2005 represents a strong compromise that upholds the principals my colleagues and I held as essential in developing a combined bone marrow and cord blood program. The bill also builds upon the strengths of the National Marrow Donor Program, which has facilitated over 20,000 transplants since its inception and has built a donor registry of over 5.5 million potential donors.

I urge the support of all of my colleagues for this bipartisan legislation so that we can send it quickly to the President for his signature.

AMENDMENTS SUBMITTED AND PROPOSED

SA 1020. Mr. COBURN submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes.

SA 1021. Mr. INHOFE submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 2361, supra; which was ordered to lie on the table.

SA 1022. Mr. BURNS (for Mr. FEINSTEIN) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, supra.

SA 1023. Mr. DOGAN (for Mrs. BOXER (for herself, Mr. NELSON of Florida, Mrs. CLINTON, Mr. SCHUMER, Mr. OBAMA, Mr. JEFFORDS, and Mr. KERRY)) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, supra.

SA 1024. Mr. DOGAN (for Mrs. FEINSTEIN) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, supra.

SA 1025. Mr. DOGAN (for himself, and Mr. BINGAMAN) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, supra.

SA 1026. Mr. SUNCUNU (for himself, Mr. BINGAMAN, Mr. MCCAIN, and Mr. FEINGOLD) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, supra.

SA 1027. Mr. McCAIN submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 2361, supra; which was ordered to lie on the table.

SA 1028. Mr. FRIST (for himself and Mr. ALEXANDER) submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 2361, supra.

SA 1029. Mr. DORGAN (for Mr. KERRY) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, supra.

SA 1030. Mr. DORGAN (for Mr. BINGAMAN) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, supra.

SA 1031. Mr. DORGAN (for Mr. BINGAMAN) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, supra.

SA 1032. Mr. DORGAN (for Mr. DURBIN) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, supra.

SA 1033. Mr. ENSIGN submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 2361, supra.

SA 1034. Mr. CHAMBLISS submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 2361, supra.

SA 1035. Mr. DORGAN (for Mr. WYDEN) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, supra.

SA 1036. Mr. DORGAN (for Mr. REED) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, supra.

SA 1037. Mr. DORGAN (for Mr. REED) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, supra.

SA 1038. Mr. SALAZAR proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, supra.

SA 1039. Mr. SALAZAR proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, supra.

SA 1040. Mr. BURNS (for Mr. BOND) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, supra.

SA 1041. Mr. BURNS (for Mr. CRACICI) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, supra.

SA 1042. Mr. WARNER (for Mr. BURNS) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, supra.

SA 1043. Mr. DOGAN (for Mr. FEINSTEIN) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, supra.

SA 1044. Mr. DOGAN (for Mr. BYRD) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, supra.

SA 1045. Mr. DOGAN (for Mr. CONRAD) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, supra.

SA 1046. Mr. DOGAN (for Mr. SARABANES (for himself, Mr. ALLEN, Mr. WARNER, and Ms. MIKULSKY)) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, supra.

SA 1047. Ms. COLLINS (for herself and Ms. SNOWE) submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by her to the bill H.R. 2361, supra; which was ordered to lie on the table.

SA 1048. Mr. SMITH submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 2361, supra.

SA 1049. Mr. KYL proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, supra.

SA 1050. Mr. KYL proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, supra.
TEXT OF AMENDMENTS

SA 1020. Mr. COBURN submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; as follows:

At the appropriate place, insert the following:

SEC. 4. [CONGRESSIONAL SECURITY RELATING TO CERTAIN REAL PROPERTY.]

(a) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided under subsection (b), the Capitol Police Board may make a determination that any such variance shall not (1) the Capitol Police Board makes a determination that any such variance shall not (a) negatively impact congressional security; and (B) increase Federal expenditures relating to congressional security;

(b) CONDITIONS FOR VARIANCE.—A variance described under paragraph (1) may be granted if—

(1) the Capitol Police Board makes a determination that such variance shall not (A) negatively impact congressional security; and

(2) increase Federal expenditures relating to congressional security;

(2) the Majority and Minority Leaders of the Senate and the Speaker and Minority Leader of the House of Representatives approve such determination;

(3) the Capitol Police Board certifies the determination in writing to the District of Columbia Board of Zoning Adjustments and the District of Columbia Zoning Commission;

(c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—This section shall take effect on the date of enactment of this Act.

SA 1023. Mr. DORGAN (for Mrs. BOXER (for herself, Mr. NELSON of Florida, Mrs. CLINTON, Mr. SCHUMER, Mr. OBAMA, Mr. JEFFORDS, and Mr. KERRY)) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; as follows:

At the appropriate place, insert the following:

SEC. 4. None of the funds made available in this Act may be used by the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency—

(1) to accept, consider, or rely on third-party intentional dosing human studies for pesticides;

(2) to conduct intentional dosing human studies for pesticides.

SA 1024. Mr. DORGAN (for Mrs. FEINSTEIN) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; as follows:

At the appropriate place, insert the following:

SEC. 4. None of the funds made available in this Act may be used by the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency—

(1) to accept, consider, or rely on third-party intentional dosing human studies for pesticides;
SA 1027. Mr. McCaIN submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

On page 254, after line 25, add the following:

SEC. 4. None of the funds made available by this Act may be used to carry out any study relating to bear DNA, including a bear DNA sampling study.

SA 1028. Mr. FRISt (for himself and Mr. ALEXANDER) submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; as follows:

On page 254, after line 25, add the following:

SEC. 4. None of the funds made available by this Act may be used to carry out any study relating to bear DNA, including a bear DNA sampling study.

SA 1031. Mr. DORGAN (for Mr. BINGAMAN) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; as follows:

On page 182, strike lines 20 through 25 and insert the following:

SEC. 110. (a)(1) For fiscal year 2006 and each succeeding fiscal year, any funds made available by this Act for the Southwest Indian Polytechnic Institute and Haskell Indian Nations University for postsecondary programs of the Bureau of Indian Affairs in excess of the amount made available for those postsecondary programs for fiscal year 2005 shall be allocated in direct proportion to the need of the schools, as determined in accordance with the postsecondary funding formula adopted by the Office of Indian Education Programs.

(b) For fiscal year 2007 and each succeeding fiscal year, the Bureau of Indian Affairs shall use the postsecondary funding formula adopted by the Office of Indian Education Programs based on the needs of the Southwest Indian Polytechnic Institute and Haskell Indian Nations University to justify the amounts submitted as part of the budget request of the Department of the Interior.

SA 1032. Mr. DORGAN (for Mr. DURKIN) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; as follows:

On page 254, after line 25, add the following:

SEC. 4. None of the funds made available by this Act may be used to carry out any study relating to bear DNA, including a bear DNA sampling study.

SA 1029. Mr. DORGAN (for Mr. KERRY) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; as follows:

On page 254, after line 25, add the following:

SEC. 4. (a) From any money in the Treasury not otherwise obligated or appropriated, there are appropriated $600,000,000 for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2005, for the Veterans Health Administration.

(b) The amounts appropriated under subsection (a) are designated as an emergency requirement pursuant to section 402 of H. Con. Res. 96 (109th Congress).

SA 1030. Mr. DORGAN (for Mr. BINGAMAN) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; as follows:

On page 182, strike lines 20 through 25 and insert the following:

SEC. 110. (a)(1) For fiscal year 2006 and each succeeding fiscal year, any funds made available by this Act for the Southwest Indian Polytechnic Institute and Haskell Indian Nations University for postsecondary programs of the Bureau of Indian Affairs in excess of the amount made available for those postsecondary programs for fiscal year 2005 shall be allocated in direct proportion to the need of the schools, as determined in accordance with the postsecondary funding formula adopted by the Office of Indian Education Programs.

(b) For fiscal year 2007 and each succeeding fiscal year, the Bureau of Indian Affairs shall use the postsecondary funding formula adopted by the Office of Indian Education Programs based on the needs of the Southwest Indian Polytechnic Institute and Haskell Indian Nations University to justify the amounts submitted as part of the budget request of the Department of the Interior.

SA 1034. Mr. CHAMBLISS submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

On page 263, after line 25, add the following:

TITLE VI—ARABIA MOUNTAIN NATIONAL HERITAGE AREA

SEC. 601. SHORT TITLE.

This title may be cited as the "Arabia Mountain National Heritage Area Act".

SEC. 602. FINDINGS AND PURPOSES.

(a) FINDINGS—Congress finds the following:

(1) The Arabia Mountain area contains a variety of natural, cultural, historical, scenic, and recreational resources that together represent distinctive aspects of the heritage of the United States that are worthy of recognition, conservation, interpretation, and continuing use.

(2) The best methods for managing the resources of the Arabia Mountain area would be through partnerships between public and private entities that combine diverse resources and active communities.

(3) Davidson-Atlanta Nature Preserve, a 685-acre park in DeKalb County, Georgia—

(A) protects granite outcrop ecosystems, wetland, and pine and oak forests; and

(B) includes federally-protected plant species.

(4) Panola Mountain, a national natural landmark, located in the 866-acre Panola Mountain State Conservation Park, is a rare example of a pristine granite outcrop.

(5) The archaeological site at Miners Creek Preserve along the South River contains documentation of early European activity.

(6) The city of Lithonia, Georgia, and related sites of Arabia Mountain and Stone Mountain possess sites that display the history of granite mining as an industry and culture in Georgia, and the impact of that industry on the United States.

(7) The community of Kiondike is eligible for designation as a National Historic District.

(8) The city of Lithonia has 2 structures listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

(b) PURPOSES.—The purposes of this title are as follows:

(1) To recognize, preserve, promote, interpret, and make available to the public the natural, cultural, historical, scenic, and recreational resources in the area that includes Arabia Mountain, Panola Mountain, Miners Creek and other significant sites and communities.

(2) To assist the State of Georgia and the counties of DeKalb, Rockdale, and Henry in the State in developing and implementing an integrated cultural, historical, and land resource management program to protect, enhance, and interpret the significant resources within the heritage area.

SEC. 603. DEFINITIONS.

For the purposes of this title, the following definitions apply:

HERITAGE AREA.—The term "heritage area" means the Arabia Mountain National Heritage Area established by section 604.

MANAGEMENT ENTITY.—The term "management entity" means the Arabia Mountain Heritage Area Alliance or a successor of the Arabia Mountain Heritage Area Alliance.

MANAGEMENT PLAN.—The term "management plan" means the management plan for the heritage area developed under section 604.

SECRETARY.—The term "Secretary" means the Secretary of the Interior.

STATE.—The term "State" means the State of Georgia.
SEC. 604. ARABIA MOUNTAIN NATIONAL HERITAGE AREA.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—There is established the Arabia Mountain National Heritage Area in the State of Georgia, to consist of such lands and waters, as the Secretary of the Interior may designate, in consultation with the State, political subdivisions of the State, and private organizations that have a substantial interest in the area.

(b) BOUNDARIES.—The heritage area shall consist of all lands and waters, as the Secretary of the Interior may designate, in consultation with the State, political subdivisions of the State, and private organizations that have a substantial interest in the area.

(c) USE OF FEDERAL FUNDS.—Any funds made available under this title shall be used to develop and implement the management plan.

(d) USE OF STATE AND LOCAL FUNDS.—Nothing in this title shall preclude the Secretary from making grants to, or entering into agreements with, the State, political subdivisions of the State, and private organizations for the purpose of implementing the management plan.

SEC. 605. AUTHORITIES AND DUTIES OF THE MANAGEMENT ENTITY.

(a) AUTHORITIES.—For purposes of developing and implementing the management plan, the management entity may:

(1) make grants to, and enter into cooperative agreements with, the State, political subdivisions of the State, and private organizations;

(2) hire and compensate staff; and

(3) enter into contracts for goods and services.

(b) DUTIES.—

(1) MANAGEMENT PLAN.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The management entity shall develop a management plan for the heritage area.

(B) CONSIDERATIONS.—In developing and implementing the management plan, the management entity shall consider the interests of the groups depicted on the map entitled ‘‘Arabia Mountain National Heritage Area’’, numbered AMNHA–80,000, and dated October 2003.

2. Priorities.—The management entity shall give priority to implementing actions described in the management plan, including the following:

(A) Assisting units of government and nonprofit organizations in preserving resources within the heritage area.

(B) Encouraging local governments to adopt land use policies consistent with the management of the heritage area and the goals of the management plan.

(3) PUBLIC MEETINGS.—The management entity shall conduct public meetings at least quarterly on the implementation of the management plan.

4. ANNUAL REPORT.—For any year in which Federal funds have been made available under this title, the management entity shall submit to the Secretary an annual report that describes the following:

(A) The accomplishments of the management entity.

(B) The expenses and income of the management entity.

(5) AUDIT.—The management entity shall:

(A) make available to the Secretary for audit all records relating to the expenditure of Federal funds and any matching funds; and

(B) require, with respect to all agreements authorizing expenditure of Federal funds by other organizations, that the receiving organizations make available to the Secretary for audit all records relating to the expenditure of Federal funds and any matching funds.

(c) USE OF FEDERAL FUNDS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The management entity shall not use Federal funds made available under this title to acquire real property or an interest in real property.

(2) OTHER SOURCES.—Nothing in this title precludes the management entity from using Federal funds made available under other Federal laws for any purpose for which the funds are authorized to be used.

SEC. 606. MANAGEMENT PLAN.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The management entity shall develop a management plan for the heritage area that incorporates an integrated, interagency, intra-agency, and collaborative approach to protect, interpret, and enhance the natural, cultural, historical, scenic, and recreational resources of the heritage area.

(b) BASIS.—The management plan shall be based on the preferred concept in the document entitled ‘‘Arabia Mountain National Heritage Area Feasibility Study’’, dated February 28, 2001.

(c) CONSIDERATION OF OTHER PLANS AND ACTIONS.—The management plan shall:

(1) take into consideration State and local plans; and

(2) involve residents, public agencies, and private organizations.

(d) REQUIREMENTS.—The management plan shall include the following:

(1) An inventory of the resources in the heritage area, including:

(A) a list of property in the heritage area that—

(i) relates to the purposes of the heritage area; and

(ii) should be preserved, restored, managed, or maintained because of the significance of the property; and

(B) an assessment of cultural landscapes within the heritage area.

(2) Provisions for the protection, interpretation, and enjoyment of the resources of the heritage area consistent with the purposes of this title.

(3) An interpretation plan for the heritage area.

(4) A program for implementation of the management plan that includes:

(A) actions to be carried out by units of government, private organizations, and public-private partnerships to protect the resources of the heritage area; and

(B) the identification of existing and potential sources of funding for implementing the plan.

(5) A description and evaluation of the management entity, including the membership and organizational structure of the management entity.

(e) SUBMISSION TO SECRETARY FOR APPROVAL.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 3 years after the date of the enactment of this Act, the management entity shall submit the management plan to the Secretary for approval.

(2) EFFECT OF FAILURE TO SUBMIT.—If a management plan is not submitted to the Secretary by the date specified in paragraph (1), the Secretary shall not expend any additional funding under this title until such date as a management plan for the heritage area is submitted to the Secretary.

(f) APPROVAL AND DISAPPROVAL OF MANAGEMENT PLAN.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 90 days after receiving the management plan submitted under paragraph (1), the Secretary shall—

(A) approve the management plan submitted under paragraph (1), the Secretary shall—

(i) advise the management entity in writing of the reasons for the disapproval;

(ii) make recommendations for revisions to the management plan; and

(iii) allow the management entity to submit to the Secretary revisions to the management plan.

(g) REVISION OF MANAGEMENT PLAN.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—After approval by the Secretary of a management plan, the management entity shall periodically—

(A) review the management plan; and

(B) submit to the Secretary, for review and approval by the Secretary, the recommendations of the management entity for any revisions to the management plan that the management entity considers to be appropriate.

(2) EXPENDITURE OF FUNDS.—No funds made available under this title shall be used to implement any revisions to the management plan under paragraph (1)(B) until the Secretary approves the revision.

SEC. 607. TECHNICAL AND FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE.

(a) IN GENERAL.—At the request of the management entity, the Secretary may provide technical and financial assistance to the heritage area to develop and implement the management plan.

(b) PRIORITY.—In providing assistance under subsection (a), the Secretary shall give priority to actions that facilitate—

(1) the conservation of the significant natural, cultural, historical, scenic, and recreational resources of the heritage area; and

(2) the provision of educational, interpretive, and recreational opportunities that are consistent with the purposes and associated values of the heritage area.

SEC. 608. EFFECT ON CERTAIN AUTHORITY.

(a) OCCUPATIONAL, SAFETY, CONSERVATION, AND ENVIRONMENTAL REGULATION.—Nothing in this title—

(1) imposes an occupational, safety, conservation, or environmental regulation on the heritage area that is more stringent than the regulations that would be applicable to the land described in section 604(b) but for the establishment of the heritage area by section 604(b); or

(2) authorizes a Federal agency to promulgate an occupational, safety, conservation, or environmental regulation for the heritage area that is more stringent than the regulations applicable to the land described in section 604(b) as of the date of enactment of this Act, solely as a result of the establishment of the heritage area by section 604(b).

(b) LAND USE REGULATION.—Nothing in this title—

(1) modifies, enlarges, or diminishes any authority of the Federal Government or a State or local government to regulate any use of land as provided for by law (including regulations in existence on the date of enactment of this Act) or

(2) grants powers of zoning or land use to the management entity.

SEC. 609. AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—There is authorized to be appropriated to carry out this title $10,000,000, to remain available until expended, of which not more than $1,000,000 may be used in any fiscal year.

(b) FEDERAL SHARE.—The Federal share of the cost of any project or activity carried out with funds made available under this title shall not exceed 50 percent.

SEC. 610. TERMINATION OF AUTHORITY.

The authority of the Secretary to make any grants or provide any assistance under this title shall terminate on September 30, 2016.
SA 1036. Mr. DORGAN (for Mr. REED) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; as follows:

On page 154, line 12, strike “That” and insert “That from the amount provided for the biological research activity, $300,000 shall be made available to the University of Missouri-Columbia to establish a wetland ecology center of excellence: Provided further, That’.

SA 1041. Mr. BURNS (for Mr. CRAIG) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; as follows:

At the appropriate place, add the following:

Provided further, That, subject to valid existing rights, all land and interests in land acquired in the Thunder Mountain area of the Payette National Forest (including patented claims and land that are encumbered by unpatented claims or previously appropriated funds under this section, or otherwise relinquished by a private party) are withdrawn from mineral entry or appropriation under mining laws, and from leasing claims under Federal mineral and geothermal leasing laws.

SA 1042. Mr. WARNER (for Mr. BURNS) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; as follows:

On page 149, line 7, after “acquisitions,” insert the following: “of which $4,285,000 shall be made available for the replacement of the main gate facility at the Filene Center, Wolf Trap National Park for the Performing Arts, Virginia.”

SA 1043. Mr. DORGAN (for Mr. FRINGOLD) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; as follows:

(a) Notwithstanding subsection (b)(3) of section 5 of the Land and Water Conservation Fund Act of 1965 (16 U.S.C. 460c–8), any user fees collected under that Act with respect to recreational and related activities in a State shall be paid to the State in which those fees were collected.

(3) The audit shall include—

(A) an analysis of the costs and benefits of the competitive sourcing study under this section.

(B) an analysis of existing procedures to determine the appropriate use of competitive sourcing.

(C) recommendations on how the existing procedures can be improved, including all costs attributable to developing, implementing, supporting, managing, monitoring, and reporting.

(D) an analysis of the competitive sourcing study under this section.

(E) an analysis of—

(i) the A-76 study that resulted in the information services organization and the competitive sourcing study.

(ii) the A-76 study that resulted in the information services organization and the competitive sourcing study.

(F) recommendations on what accounting practices should be adopted by the Forest Service.

(G) an evaluation of the comparative efficiencies of the Forest Service competitive sourcing and business process reengineering procedures.

SA 1044. Mr. DORGAN (for Mr. BYRD) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; as follows:
On page 139, line 5, before the period insert the following: "Provided further. That of the total amounts made available under this heading, $500,000 shall be made available for the management of the White Sulphur Springs National Fish Hatchery".

SA 1045. Mr. DORGAN (for Mr. CONRAD) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; as follows:

On page 195, line 7, after "costs", insert the following: "of which $200,000 shall be made available for a brownfields assessment of the Fortuna Radar Site".

SA 1046. Mr. DORGAN (for Mr. SARRONES (for himself, Mr. ALLEN, Mr. WARNER, and Ms. MIKULSKI)) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; as follows:

On page 254, after line 25, add the following:

SEC. 4. Section 5(c) of the National Trails System Act (16 U.S.C. 1241(c)) is amended—

(a) by redesignating subclauses (B) and (C) as subclauses (C) and (B), respectively; and

(b) by adding the following after the amendments made by subsection (B):

(1) the Chesapeake Bay Gateways and Watertrails Network authorized under the Chesapeake Bay Protection Act of 1988 (16 U.S.C. 551 note; Public Law 100–312); and

(2) the Chesapeake Bay Program authorized under section 117 of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (33 U.S.C. 1276)."

SA 1047. Ms. COLLINS (for herself and Ms. SNOWE) submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by her to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

On page 290, line 23, after "Fund", insert the following: "of which $32,320,000 shall be made available for the Downeast Lakes Forestry, for the acquisition of land by the Partnership)"

SA 1048. Mr. SMITH submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Departments of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; as follows:

At the appropriate place, insert the following:

SEC. 4. BISCUIT FIRE RECOVERY PROJECT. REPORT.

(a) Within 90 days of enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall report to Congress a report regarding the rehabilitation of the Biscuit Fire area in southern Oregon, including:

(1) the status of rehabilitation efforts in the Biscuit Fire area;

(2) the commercial forest value, lost as well as recovered, of fire-killed timber within the Biscuit Fire area; and

(3) all actions prescribed in the Record of Decision for the Biscuit Fire Recovery Project, forgone because of delay or funding shortfall.

SA 1049. Mr. KYL proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; as follows:

On page 195, line 9, after the semicolon, insert the following: "$500,000 shall be for debt retirement for the State Water Pollution Control Revolving Fund for the wastewater treatment plant in Safford, Arizona; $3,000,000 shall be for the expansion of the wastewater treatment plant in Lake Havasu City, Arizona; $1,000,000 shall be for the expansion of the wastewater treatment plant in Avondale, Arizona"

SA 1050. Mr. KYL proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; as follows:

On page 254, after line 25, add the following:

SEC. 4. Section 604 of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (33 U.S.C. 1384) is amended—

(1) by redesignating subclauses (b) and (c) as subclauses (c) and (d), respectively; and

(2) by striking subsection (a) and inserting the following:

(1) DEFINITIONS. "-In this subsection-

(A) the needs of a State described in categories I through VII of the most recent needs survey;

(B) the needs of all States described in categories I through VII of the most recent needs survey; bears to

(C) the needs survey percentage, as a percentage of total United States needs.

(D) the needs survey percentage is less than 1.0 percent;

(E) the Republic of the Marshall Islands;

(F) the Republic of Palau; and

(G) the United States Virgin Islands.

(iii) in the case of any other State, shall be 0.25 percent, and

(b) the amount appropriated under subsection (a) shall be the most recent needs survey percentage.

(ii) the needs survey percentage is less than 1.0 percent, shall be 1.0 percent and

(iii) the amount of funds allocable

(b) UNALLOCATED BALANCE. Any unallocated balance of available funds shall be allocated in equal parts to all States that, in the most recent needs survey, report higher

(c) TARGET ALLOCATION. Each State shall have a target allocation for a fiscal year, which—

(i) in the case of a State for which the needs survey percentage is greater than 1.0 per-

(ii) shall be 0.25 percent, and

(iii) in the case of any other State, shall be the most recent needs survey percentage.

Provided further

(d) ALLOCATIONS. The amount appropriated under subsection (a) shall be allocated by the Administrator in accordance with the Act.

SA 1051. Mr. KYL (for Mr. INHOFE) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; as follows:

On page 200, after line 2, add the following:

SEC. 4. None of the funds made available by this Act may be used by the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency to award assistance agreements to national organizations that represent the interests of State, tribal, and local governments unless the award is subject to open competition.

SA 1052. Mr. BYRD (for Mrs. MURRAY (for herself, Mr. BYRD, Mrs. FEINSTEIN, Mr. KERRY, Mr. AKAKA, and Mr. DURBIN)) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; as follows:

On page 294, after line 25, add the following:

SEC. 229. (a) From any money in the Treasury not otherwise obligated or appropriated, there are appropriated to the Department of Veterans Affairs $1,420,000,000 for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, for medical services provided by the Veterans Health Administration, of which $200,000,000 shall be divided evenly between the Veterans Integrated Service Networks.

(b) The amount appropriated under subsection (a) shall be divided evenly between the Department of Veterans Affairs and the Department of Defense.

SA 1053. Mr. BYRD (for himself and Mr. COCHRAN) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; as follows:

SEC. 429. (a) From any money in the Treasury not otherwise obligated or appropriated, there are appropriated to the Department of Veterans Affairs $1,420,000,000 for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, for medical services provided by the Veterans Health Administration, of which $200,000,000 shall be divided evenly between the Veterans Integrated Service Networks.

(b) The amount appropriated under subsection (a) shall be divided evenly between the Department of Veterans Affairs and the Department of Defense.
On page 189, after line 20, add the following:

SEC. 128. (a) For necessary expenses for the Memorial to Martin Luther King, Jr., there is hereby made available to the Secretary of the Interior $10,000,000, to remain available until expended, for activities authorized by section 306 of the Omnibus Parks and Public Lands Management Act of 1996 (40 U.S.C. 8903 note; Public Law 104-333) is amended by striking the second sentence.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, the amount reduced in Title I in the second proviso under the heading Departmental Management, Salaries and Expenses, is further reduced by $10,000,000.

SA 1054. Mr. DORGAN (for Mr. BINGAMAN) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; as follows:

On page 190, line 2, strike “$1,000,000” and insert “$1,250,000”.

On page 190, line 7, strike “$2,000,000” and insert “$2,500,000”.

On page 191, line 19, strike “$1,957,000” and insert “$2,500,000”.

On page 191, line 25, strike “$2,000,000” and insert “$2,500,000”.

SA 1055. Mr. DORGAN (for Mr. BINGAMAN) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; as follows:

On page 250, between lines 23 and 24, insert the following:

(e) In carrying out any competitive sourcing study involving Forest Service employees, the Secretary of Agriculture shall—

(1) determine whether any of the employees concerned are also qualified to participate in wildland fire management activities; and

(2) take into consideration and document the effect that contracting with a private sector source would have on the ability of the Forest Service to effectively and efficiently fight and manage wildfires.

SA 1056. Mr. DORGAN (for Mr. BINGAMAN) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; as follows:

Beginning on page 255, strike line 1 and all that follows through page 263, line 22.

SA 1057. Mr. DORGAN (for Mr. BINGAMAN) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; as follows:

Beginning on page 255, strike line 1 and all that follows through page 263, line 22, and insert the following:

(1) in subsection (b), by striking “40 sites” and inserting “60 sites”;

(2) in subsection (c), by striking “13 sites” and inserting “25 sites”; and

(3) in subsection (d), by striking “2008” and inserting “2009”.

SA 1058. Mr. DORGAN (for Mr. BINGAMAN) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; as follows:

Beginning on page 255, strike line 1 and all that follows through page 263, line 25, and insert the following:

TITLE V—FACILITY REALIGNMENT AND ENHANCEMENT ACT OF 2005

SEC. 501. SHORT TITLE. This title may be cited as the “Forest Service Facility Realignment and Enhancement Act of 2005”.

SEC. 502. DEFINITIONS. In this title:

(1) ADMINISTRATIVE SITE.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The term “administrative site” means—

(i) any facility or improvement, including curtailage that was acquired or is used specifically for purposes of administration of the National Forest System; and

(ii) any associated Federal land necessary to include for Federal administration of the National Forest System that was acquired or is utilized specifically for purposes of administration of Forest Service activities and underlies or serves an administrative facility, improvement, or curtilage; or

(iii) up to 10 isolated parcels of not more than 80 acres which were acquired for administrative purposes but have remained such as vacant town lots outside of a National Forest proclaimed boundary.

(B) INCLUSIONS.—The term “administrative site” includes—

(i) a forest headquarters;

(ii) ranger station;

(iii) a research station or laboratory;

(iv) a dwelling;

(v) a warehouse;

(vi) a scaling station;

(vii) a fire-retardant mixing station;

(viii) a lookout;

(ix) a visitor center;

(x) a guard station;

(xi) a storage facility;

(xii) a telecommunication facility; and (xiii) other administrative installations for conducting Forest Service activities.

(C) EXCLUSIONS.—Federal land to be conveyed under this Act shall not include—

(i) any area within a unit of the National Forest System specifically designated for resource protection, conservation, or recreational purposes, including land within the National Wilderness Preservation System, the Wild and Scenic River System, and National Monuments; or

(ii) land that is needed for resource management purposes or that would be in the public interest to retain.

(2) ADMINISTRATOR.—The term “Administrator” means the Administrator of the General Services Administration.

(3) MARKET ANALYSIS.—The term “market analysis” means the identification and study of the real estate market for a particular economic good or service.

(4) SECRETARY.—The term “Secretary” means the Secretary of Agriculture.

SEC. 503. AUTHORIZATION OF CONVEYANCES.

(a) GENERAL.—For fiscal years 2006–2009, the Secretary may convey, by sale, lease, exchange, a combination of sales and exchanges, or any other means, any administrative site or interest in an administrative site that is—

(1) except for those administrative sites described in section 502(1)(a)(iii), less than 40 acres for each administrative site or compound of administrative sites; and

(2) under the jurisdiction of the Secretary.

(b) LEAD-BASED PAINT AND ASBESTOS ABATEMENT.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, any conveyance under subsection (a), the Secretary shall not be required to mitigate or abate lead-based paint or asbestos-containing building materials with respect to the administrative site conveyed.

(2) NOTICE.—Notwithstanding paragraph (1), in any conveyance involving a lead-based paint or asbestos-containing building materials, the Secretary shall—

(A) provide to the person acquiring the administrative site notice of the presence of lead-based paint or asbestos-containing material; and

(B) obtain from the person acquiring the administrative site a written assurance that the person will comply with applicable Federal, State, and local laws relating to the management of the lead-based paint or asbestos-containing material.

(c) FEDERAL PROPERTY AND ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES.—A conveyance under this section shall not be subject to subchapter I of chapter 5, title 40, United States Code.

(d) NOTICE TO CONGRESS.—At least once a year, the Secretary shall submit to the Committee on Appropriations and the Committee on Resources of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Appropriations and the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources of the Senate notice of any conveyances under this section.

(e) ENVIRONMENTAL REVIEW.—In any environmental review or analysis required under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.) for the disposal of an administrative site under this section, the Secretary shall only consider or analyze the reasonably foreseeable use of the administrative site as determined through a market analysis and whether to reserve any right, title, or interest in the administrative site in subsection (f)(3).

(f) CONFIGURATION OF LAND.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—To facilitate a conveyance under this section, the Secretary may configure the administrative site to be conveyed to—

(A) maximize the marketability of the administrative site;

(B) achieve management objectives.

(2) IMPROVEMENTS.—Improvements to the administrative site to be conveyed may be severed from the land and disposed of in separate conveyances.

(3) RESERVATION.—In any disposition of an administrative site under this section, the Secretary may reserve any right, title, and interest in and to the administrative site that the Secretary determines to be necessary, including—

(A) a reservation of water rights;

(B) a right-of-way; and

(C) a utility easement.

(g) CONSIDERATION.—In consideration for a conveyance authorized under subsection (a), the purchaser shall pay to the Secretary the amount that is equal to the fair market value of the administrative site conveyed, as provided in paragraph (3).

(2) APPRAISAL.—The Secretary shall determine fair market value by—

(A) conducting an appraisal that is performed in accordance with the Uniform Appraisal Standards for Federal Land Acquisitions and the Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice; or

(B) competitive sale.

(3) FORM.—
SA 1059. Mr. DORGAN proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; as follows:

SEC. 1 FAMILY TRAVEL TO CUBA IN HUMANITARIAN CIRCUMSTANCES.

(a) In general.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Secretary of the Treasury shall issue a general license for travel to, from, or within Cuba to any person—

(1) who is a member of the immediate family of a member of the Armed Forces of the United States (and any member of the person’s immediate family) for the purpose of visiting a member of the person’s immediate family for humanitarian reasons; and

(b) Definitions.—In this section:

(1) MEMBER OF THE PERSON’S IMMEDIATE FAMILY.—The term ‘‘member of the person’s immediate family’’ means (A) a person’s spouse, child, grandchild, parent, grandparent, great-grandparent, uncle, aunt, brother, sister, nephew, niece, first cousin, mother-in-law, father-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, sister-in-law, or brother-in-law; or

(2) HUMANITARIAN REASONS.—The term ‘‘humanitarian reasons’’ means —

(A) to visit or care for a member of the person’s immediate family who is seriously ill, injured, or dying; (B) to make funeral or burial arrangements for a member of the person’s immediate family; (C) to attend religious services related to a funeral or a burial of a member of the person’s immediate family; and

SEC. 1060. Mr. DORGAN (for Ms. LANDRIEU) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes; as follows:

SEC. 4. None of the funds made available in this Act—

(a) shall be used for the diversion, storage, transportation, or use of water that is located in, associated with, or acquired, under vested water rights that are—

(1) recognized under Colorado law; and

(2) associated with a facility that is—

(A) in existence on the date of enactment of this Act; and

(B) used for the diversion, storage, transportation, or use of water that is located in, associated with, or acquired, under vested water rights that are—

SEC. 5. None of the funds made available in this Act—

(a) shall be used for the diversion, storage, transportation, or use of water that is located in, associated with, or acquired, under vested water rights that are—

(1) recognized under Colorado law; and

(2) associated with a facility that is—

(A) in existence on the date of enactment of this Act; and

SEC. 6. None of the funds made available in this Act—

(a) shall be used for the diversion, storage, transportation, or use of water that is located in, associated with, or acquired, under vested water rights that are—

(1) recognized under Colorado law; and

(2) associated with a facility that is—

(A) in existence on the date of enactment of this Act; and

(b) used for the diversion, storage, transportation, or use of water that is located in, associated with, or acquired, under vested water rights that are—

(A) in existence on the date of enactment of this Act; and

(b) used for the diversion, storage, transportation, or use of water that is located in, associated with, or acquired, under vested water rights that are—

SEC. 7. None of the funds made available in this Act—

(a) shall be used for the diversion, storage, transportation, or use of water that is located in, associated with, or acquired, under vested water rights that are—

(1) recognized under Colorado law; and

(2) associated with a facility that is—

(A) in existence on the date of enactment of this Act; and

(b) used for the diversion, storage, transportation, or use of water that is located in, associated with, or acquired, under vested water rights that are—

(A) in existence on the date of enactment of this Act; and

(b) used for the diversion, storage, transportation, or use of water that is located in, associated with, or acquired, under vested water rights that are—

Notice of meeting of the Committee on Indian Affairs, Tuesday, June 28, 2005, at 10 a.m., in room 106 of Dirksen Senate Office Building, pursuant to a request under the Regulation of Indian Gaming. Those wishing additional information may contact the Committee on Indian Affairs.
(1) S.J. Res. 15, A bill to acknowledge a long history of official degradations and ill-conceived policies by the United States Government regarding Indian tribes and offer an apology to all Native Peoples on behalf of the United States.

(2) S. 374, A bill to provide compensation to the Lower Brule and Crow Creek Sioux Tribes of South Dakota for damage to tribal land caused by Pick-Sloan projects along the Missouri River.

(3) S. 113, A bill to modify the date as of which certain tribal land of the Lytton Rancheria is deemed to be held in trust.

(4) S. 881, A bill to compensate the Spokane Tribe of Indians for the use of tribal land for the production of hydro-power by the Grand Coulee Dam, and for other purposes.

(5) S. 449, A bill to facilitate shareholder consideration of proposals to make Settlement Common Stock under the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act available to missed enrollees, eligible elders, and persons born after Dec. 18, 1971, and for other purposes.

(6) H.R. 797/S. 475, A bill to amend the Native American Housing Assistance and Self-Determination Act of 1996 and other acts to improve housing programs for Indians.

(7) S. 623, A bill to direct the Secretary of Interior to convey certain land held in trust for the Paiute Indian Tribe of Utah to the City of Richfield, UT, and for other purposes.

(9) S. , A bill to condemn certain subsurface rights to land held trust by the State of Arizona, and convey subsurface rights held by BLM, for the Pascua Yaqui Tribe.

(10) S. , A bill to authorize funding for the National Indian Gaming Commission.

(11) S. 1239, A bill to authorize the use of Indian Health Service funds to pay Medicare Part D premiums on behalf of Indians.

(12) S. 1231, A bill to provide initial funding for the National Fund for Excellence in American Indian Education previously established by Congress.

(13) S. , A bill to require former Federal employees who are employed by tribes to adhere to conflict of interest rules.

(14) S. , A bill to amend the Tribally Controlled Community College and Universities Assistance Act.

Those wishing additional information may contact the Indian Affairs Committee.

RED TIDE EMERGENCY RELIEF ACT OF 2005

Mr. MCCONNELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent the Senate proceed to the immediate consideration of S. 1316 introduced earlier today. The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report the bill by title. The legislative clerk read as follows:

A bill (S. 1316) to authorize the Small Business Administration emergency relief to shellfishgrowers affected by toxic red tide losses.

There being no objection, the Senate proceeded to consider the bill. Mr. KERRY. Mr. President, today Senator SNOWE and I have introduced a bill to help a group of nearly 300 fishermen, known as aquaculturists, who are suffering through the cracks of the Government’s assistance programs. Right now these businesses are prohibited from receiving SBA disaster loans, and they are eligible for USDA disaster loans only under limited circumstances.

To our dismay, we have learned that SBA has come across this dilemma many times in the past, most recently last year in Connecticut, and yet no one at that agency has ever tried to coordinate with the Department of Agriculture to make matters worse, the SBA waited two weeks to let us know that they wouldn’t be able to serve all of our small businesses. So even in those cases in which these harmed small businesses would be eligible for loans from the USDA, hundreds of small businesses are left waiting for the Secretary of Agriculture to go through the same hoops to certify a disaster and make that agency’s disaster loans available. I appreciate all the Farm Service Agency has done to expedite the process, and compliment their staff for being so responsive. However, this isn’t right.

Our State has been hit by the worst case of red tide in more than 30 years. These small business owners have seen their income disappear because they can’t sell their inventory. With no income they can’t pay their bills, invest in seeds to plant future crops, and they can’t afford to buy their current crops. They need access to these low-cost loans to help them make ends meet until the Government opens the shores and declares shellfish once again safe to eat.

Businesses in trouble can’t, and shouldn’t have to, wait for this red tape to be resolved. To make sure this doesn’t happen in the future, I am joining Senator Snowe to make it possible for aquaculturists to be eligible for the Small Business Administration disaster loans. This will complement what the Department of Agriculture’s Farm Service Agency can offer in disaster loans. I want to also assure my colleagues that businesses are only eligible for loans through the SBA or Farm Service Agency but not both. This is already prohibited by law, and the agencies have in place procedures to protect against misuse. I than Senator Snowe for working with me to help our fishermen hurting from red tide.

I ask unanimous consent that an article on this problem be printed in the Record.

There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the Record, as follows:

SHELLFISH GROWERS FEEL SNUBBED BY “RED TIDE” LOAN PROGRAM

(By Michael Kunzelman)

BOSTON—Shellfish grower Barbara Austin had made a big effort to get out of work, just like hundreds of shellfishermen, ever since a toxic “red tide” closed shellfishing areas across the state earlier this month.

The difference is that she and nearly 300 other aquaculturists aren’t eligible for the same low-interest loans to help them weather the financial storm.

Austin, of Wellfleet, pursued a loan from the Small Business Administration before learning they’re reserved for the state’s roughly 1,500 shellfishermen. The state’s 267 licensed aquaculturists, who plant and harvest shellfish, aren’t eligible because the SBA considers them farmers, not fishermen.

Austin said the rule was “kind of a slap in the face.”

“If they’re going to make offers like this, they should have been clear about what they’re really offering,” she said Tuesday.

In response, members of the state’s congressional delegation Tuesday sent a letter to Agriculture Secretary Mike Johanns, urging him to make emergency financial assistance available to aquaculturists and fish farmers in eight Massachusetts counties.

Democratic Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, who also co-sponsored a larger $2.5 billion Emergency Management Agency Director Michael Brown asking him to meet with the delegation, said FEMA should coordinate the federal disaster relief for those affected by the red tide.

The shellfishermen, said Sen. John Kerry, D-Mass., “shouldn’t be blocked from receiving low interest loans because of bureaucratic red tape.”

The SBA’s enforcement of an “obscure rule” was “surprising,” said Rep. William Delahunt, D-Mass.

“Obviously, we are not pleased,” Forest said. “We’re working to get the problem fixed quickly.”

Efforts to reach SBA regional director William Leggerio weren’t immediately successful Tuesday.

On June 9, Gov. Mitt Romney declared a state of emergency and asked the SBA for disaster assistance for the shellfishing industry, which is losing an estimated $3 million a week. Less than a week later, the SBA announced that it would offer loans of up to $1.5 million with a 4 percent interest rate.

Other forms of financial assistance could be available soon. The state also is asking for disaster aid from the Federal Emergency Management Agency.

In the meantime, most of the shellfish beds shut down along the coast of Massachusetts will remain closed for at least four to five more weeks, state shellfish biologist Michael Hickey said Tuesday.

Hickey said the size and intensity of the toxic algae bloom is dropping in the waters off the North Shore and Cape Cod, but it could take two more weeks for the bloom to completely disappear. After that, he added, it would take two to three more weeks before shellfish beds can reopen.

“The good news is that areas we do have open are safe. The shellfish on the market is safe. The beaches are safe,” Hickey said.

“The bad news is, it’s not over.”

The red tide contaminates shellfish such as clams and mussels, making them unsafe for people and animals to eat. The outbreak is the region’s worst since 1972.
Mr. MCCONNELL. I ask unanimous consent the bill be read a third time and passed, the motion to reconsider be laid upon the table, and any statements be printed in the RECORD.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection it is so ordered.

The bill (S. 1316) was read the third time and passed, as follows:

S. 1316 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the “Red Tide Emergency Relief Act of 2005”.

SECTION 2. FINDINGS AND PURPOSE.

(a) Findings—
(1) shellfish growers, known as “aquaculturists”, from the Schoodic Peninsula in Maine to Buzzards Bay in Massachusetts have suffered substantial economic injury due to the worst occurrence of toxic algae bloom, known as “Red Tide”, along the New England Coast since 1972;
(2) toxins produced by the Red Tide algae contain the biotoxins known as domoic acid and other toxins, making them unsafe for people and animals to eat, forcing the extended closure of shellfish beds along contaminated areas;
(3) shellfish growers have been affected by the Red Tide, and losses industry-wide are estimated at $3 million a week; and
(4) shellfish growers are currently considered to be agricultural enterprises, and are therefore ineligible for economic injury disaster loans available to other small business concerns through the Small Business Administration;
(5) shellfish growers are only eligible for emergency loans through the Farm Service Agency, and the Department of Agriculture under limited circumstances;
(6) the Small Business Act should be amended to make shellfish growers eligible for emergency small business assistance, as a complement to assistance otherwise offered through Federal programs.

(b) Purpose—The purpose of this Act is to provide technical biological information that the public can access to assist with the application of state- or the- market techniques to restore, enhance, and manage fish and wildlife habitats;
(c) voluntary cost-effective program that leverages public and private funds to assist private landowners in the conduct of state- or the- market fish and wildlife habitat restoration, enhancement, and management projects is needed;
(d) partnerships working collaboratively with willing landowners to implement on-the-ground projects has led to the reduction of endangered species listings;
(e) Executive Order No. 13352 (68 Fed. Reg. 52869) directs the Departments of the Interior, Agriculture, Commerce, and Defense and the Environmental Protection Agency to pursue new cooperative conservation programs involving the collaboration of Federal, State, local, and tribal governments, private for-profit and non-profit institutions, non-governmental entities, and individuals;
(f) since 1987, the Partners for Fish and Wildlife Program has exemplified cooperative conservation as an innovative, voluntary partnership program that helps private landowners restore wetland and other important fish and wildlife habitat; and
(g) through 33,103 agreements with private landowners, the Partners for Fish and Wildlife Program, a program that works with private landowners to conduct cost-effective habitat projects for the benefit of fish and wildlife resources in the United States.

SECTION 3. AUTHORITY TO PROVIDE DISASTER ASSISTANCE TO AQUACULTURE ENTERPRISES.

Section 18(b)(1) of the Small Business Act (15 U.S.C. 647(b)(1)) is amended—
(1) by striking “aquaculture,”; and
(2) by inserting before the semicolon at the end of “aquaculture”.

PARTNERS FOR FISH AND WILDLIFE ACT

Mr. MCCONNELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate proceed to the immediate consideration of Calendar No. 134, S. 260.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will read the bill by title.

The legislative clerk reads as follows:

A bill (S. 260) to authorize the Secretary of the Interior to provide technical and financial assistance to private landowners to restore and manage private land to improve fish and wildlife habitats through the Partners for Fish and Wildlife Program.

There being no objection, the Senate proceeded to consider the bill which had been reported from the Committee on Environment and Public Works, with amendments.

[Srike the parts shown in black brackets and insert the part shown in italic.]
The Secretary shall carry out the Partners for Fish and Wildlife Program within the United States Fish and Wildlife Service to provide technical and financial assistance to private landowners for the conduct of voluntary projects to benefit Federal trust species by promoting habitat improvement, habitat restoration, habitat enhancement, and habitat establishment.

SEC. 4. PARTNERS FOR FISH AND WILDLIFE PROGRAM.

The Secretary shall carry out the Partners for Fish and Wildlife Program within the United States Fish and Wildlife Service to provide—

(1) technical and financial assistance to private landowners for the conduct of voluntary projects to benefit Federal trust species by promoting habitat improvement, habitat restoration, habitat enhancement, and habitat establishment;

(2) technical assistance to other public and private entities regarding fish and wildlife habitat restoration on private land.

SEC. 5. AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.

There is authorized to be appropriated to carry out this Act not more than $75,000,000 for each of fiscal years 2006 through 2011.

Mr. MCCONNELL. I ask unanimous consent that the committee-reported amendments be agreed to, the bill as amended be read the third time and passed, as follows:

S. 260

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled:

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the “Partners for Fish and Wildlife Act”.

SEC. 2. FINDINGS AND PURPOSE.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

(1) approximately 60 percent of fish and wildlife in the United States are on private land;

(2) it is imperative to facilitate private landowner-centered and results-oriented efforts that promote efficient and innovative ways to protect and enhance natural resources;

(3) there is no readily available source of technical biological information that the public can access to assist with the application of state-of-the-art techniques to restore, enhance, and manage fish and wildlife habitats;

(4) a voluntary cost-effective program that leverages public and private funds to assist private landowners in the conduct of state-of-the-art fish and wildlife habitat restoration, enhancement, and management projects is needed;

(5) durable partnerships working collaboratively with willing private landowners to implement on-the-ground projects has lead to the reduction of endangered species listings;

(b) EXECUTIVE ORDER NO. 13392.—Executive Order No. 13392 (69 Fed. Reg. 52869) directs the Departments of the Interior, Agriculture, Commerce, and Defense and the Environmental Protection Agency to pursue new cooperative conservation programs involving the conduct of voluntary projects to benefit Federal trust species by promoting habitat improvement, habitat restoration, habitat enhancement, and habitat establishment.

SEC. 3. DEFINITIONS.

In this Act:

(1) FEDERAL TRUST SPECIES.—The term “Federal trust species” means migratory birds, threatened species, endangered species, species, interjurisdictional fish, marine mammals, and other species of concern.

(2) HABITAT RESTORATION.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The term “habitat restoration” means the manipulation of the physical, chemical, or biological characteristics of a site with the goal of returning the original ecological condition to that which existed prior to the loss or degradation, including—

(I) removing tile drains or plowing drainage ditches in former or degraded wetland;

(II) returning meanders and sustainable profiles to straightened streams;

(III) burning grasslands and prairies infested by exotic species to reestablish native grass and plant communities; and

(IV) planting plant communities that are native to the project site.

(B) INCLUSIONS.—The term “habitat restoration” includes—

(i) an activity conducted to return a project site, to the maximum extent practicable, to the ecological condition that existed prior to the loss or degradation, including—

(I) removing tile drains or plowing drainage ditches in former or degraded wetland;

(II) returning meanders and sustainable profiles to straightened streams;

(III) burning grasslands and prairies infested by exotic species to reestablish native grass and plant communities; and

(IV) planting plant communities that are native to the project site.

(ii) if restoration of a project site to its original ecological condition is not practicable, an activity that repairs 1 or more of the original habitat functions and that involves the use of native vegetation, including—

(I) the installation of a water control structure in a swale on land isolated from overbank flooding by a major levee to simulate natural hydrological processes; and

(II) the placement of streambank or instream habitat diversity structures in streams that cannot be restored to original conditions or profile; and

(iii) removal of a disturbing or degrading element to enable the native habitat to reestablish itself or become fully functional.

(3) PRIVATE LAND.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The term “private land” means any land that is not owned by the Federal Government or a State.

(B) INCLUSIONS.—The term “private land” includes tribal land and Hawaiian homeland.

(4) PROJECT.—The term “project” means a project carried out under the Partners for Fish and Wildlife Program established by section 4.

(C) EXCLUSIONS.—The term “habitat establishment” does not include regularly scheduled and routine maintenance and management activities, such as annual mowing or spraying of unwanted vegetation.

(5) HABITAT ESTABLISHMENT.—The term “habitat establishment” means the manipulation of physical, chemical, or biological characteristics of a project site to create and maintain the habitat that previously existed on the project site, including construction of—

(A) shallow water impoundments on non-hydric soils; and

(B) side channel spawning and rearing habitats.

(6) HABITAT IMPROVEMENT.—The term “habitat improvement” means restoring, enhancing, or establishing physiographic, hydrological, or disturbance characteristics necessary to establish or maintain native plant and animal communities, including periodic manipulations to maintain intended habitat conditions on completed project sites.

(7) HABITAT RESTORATION.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The term “habitat restoration” means the manipulation of the physical, chemical, or biological characteristics of a site with the goal of returning the original ecological condition to that which existed prior to the loss or degradation.

(B) INCLUSIONS.—The term “habitat restoration” includes—

(i) an activity conducted to return a project site, to the maximum extent practicable, to the ecological condition that existed prior to the loss or degradation, including—

(I) removing tile drains or plowing drainage ditches in former or degraded wetland;

(II) returning meanders and sustainable profiles to straightened streams;

(III) burning grasslands and prairies infested by exotic species to reestablish native grass and plant communities; and

(IV) planting plant communities that are native to the project site.

(ii) if restoration of a project site to its original ecological condition is not practicable, an activity that repairs 1 or more of the original habitat functions and that involves the use of native vegetation, including—

(I) the installation of a water control structure in a swale on land isolated from overbank flooding by a major levee to simulate natural hydrological processes; and

(II) the placement of streambank or instream habitat diversity structures in streams that cannot be restored to original conditions or profile; and

(iii) removal of a disturbing or degrading element to enable the native habitat to reestablish itself or become fully functional.

(8) SECRETARY.—The term “Secretary” means the Secretary of the Interior.
SPONSORSHIP OF AMENDMENT NO. 98

Mr. MccONNELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent all references to amendment No. 98, which was adopted by the Senate on Wednesday, June 23, reflect that the sponsor is Senator Conrad, not Senator Obama.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

ORDERS FOR TUESDAY, JUNE 28, 2005

Mr. MccONNELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that when the Senate completes its business today, it stand in adjournment until 9:45 a.m. on Tuesday, June 28. I further ask that following the prayer and pledge, the morning hour be deemed expired, the Journal of proceedings be approved to date, the time for the two leaders be reserved, and the Senate then resume consideration of H.R. 6, the Energy bill, and immediately proceed to a vote on passage as provided under the previous order.

I further ask consent that the Senate stand in recess from 12:30 to 2:15 to accommodate the weekly party lunches.

I now ask unanimous consent that second-degree amendments be relevant to the first degree to which they are offered.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

PROGRAM

Mr. MccONNELL. Mr. President, tomorrow the Senate will resume consideration of the Energy bill. Under a previous agreement, we will immediately proceed to a vote on the passage of that bill. Following the disposition of the Energy bill, the Senate will resume consideration of the Interior appropriations bill.

We have had a number of amendments offered to the bill, and we will begin working through those amendments tomorrow morning. Senators should expect votes in relation to amendments throughout the day tomorrow. It is our hope we will be able to move the bill to passage sometime during tomorrow's session. Following passage of the Interior appropriations bill, we expect to begin consideration of the Homeland Security appropriations bill.

ADJOURNMENT UNTIL 9:45 A.M. TOMORROW

Mr. MccONNELL. If there is no further business to come before the Senate, I ask unanimous consent the Senate stand in adjournment under the previous order.

There being no objection, the Senate, at 6:24 p.m., adjourned until Tuesday, June 28, 2005, at 9:45 a.m.
EXTENSIONS OF REMARKS

DEPARTMENTS OF LABOR, HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES, AND EDUCATION, AND RELATED AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 2006

SPEECH OF
HON. JERROLD NADLER
OF NEW YORK
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, June 24, 2005

The House in Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union had under consideration the bill (H.R. 3010) making appropriations for the Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education, and Related Agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes:

Mr. NADLER. Mr. Chairman, I rise today to note that during the debate on the Nadler amendment to H.R. 3010, which would have restored funding to Arts in Education programs, a procedural error occurred. The RECORD will reflect that at the end of the debate, as a result of the agreement by Chairman REGULA to work to maintain funds for Arts in Education programs in conference, I stated that I would not seek a vote on my amendment. Immediately following the debate, however, in his haste to keep the proceedings moving, the Chair called a vote, contradicting my intention to withdraw my amendment. With nobody apparently listening, or realizing there was a vote in progress—no "aye" or "nay" vote was heard—the Chair declared the voice vote in the negative.

I would like the RECORD to reflect that it was my intention to withdraw my amendment, because of Chairman REGULA’s commitment to the Arts in Education program. I trust that commitment will not be affected by the procedural error.

DEPARTMENTS OF LABOR, HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES, AND EDUCATION, AND RELATED AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 2006

SPEECH OF
HON. DANNY K. DAVIS OF ILLINOIS
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, June 24, 2005

The House in Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union had under consideration the bill (H.R. 3010) making appropriations for the Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education, and Related Agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes:

Mr. DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chairman, I rise in strong opposition to Mr. PAUL’s amendment that would bar Federal funds from being used for mental health screening programs. This amendment misunderstands the recommendations offered by President Bush’s New Freedom Commission on Mental Health, minimizes the importance of mental health to the well-being of Americans, and threatens vital efforts to promote access to mental health services.

Mental health is one of the greatest problems facing our society. During any one-year period, up to 50 million Americans—more than 22 percent—suffer from a clearly diagnosable mental disorder involving a degree of incapacity that interferes with employment, attendance at school or daily life. Among other things, mental health affects whether one gets involved in substance abuse, commits violence, follows through on medical advice, cares for a child, performs his work, and engages in healthy behaviors. In short, one’s mental health affects almost every aspect of life.

I believe strongly in the need to support children’s physical and mental health, while respecting parental rights. Recognizing that early childhood is a critical period for the onset of emotional and behavioral problems, the President’s Commission on Encouraged Organization that works with children to improve early identification of children with mental health needs. Research shows that early detection, assessment, and connection to treatment and support helps prevent mental health problems from worsening. Because more than 52 million students attend schools in the U.S., the Commission recognized that schools are in a key position to identify mental health problems early and help link children to appropriate services. The Commission in no way recommends mandatory legislation or any effort to circumvent parental consent to screening. Quite the opposite, in fact. It repeatedly recommends that child-serving organizations work with parents to support identification and treatment efforts.

Like so many disorders, mental illness does not discriminate and affects every age, ethnic, and socioeconomic group. Given its widespread effect on individuals and society, we need to put more emphasis on mental health, not less. I urge my colleagues to vote against the Paul amendment.

David Mueller of Westfield, Indiana

HON. MIKE PENCE OF INDIANA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, June 27, 2005

Mr. PENCE. Mr. Speaker, for many years we in this body have been discussing the issue of the use of methyl bromide and the impact of the elimination of this chemical as stated in the Montreal Protocol. We must look at how this will affect our diverse economy as well as lay the groundwork for new alternatives to replace methyl bromide. As signatories to the Montreal Protocol, the United States negotiators have a responsibility to Congress and the Administration to seek an acceptable balance as they travel to Montreal in a few days to attend the Twenty-fifth Open-Ended Working Group Meeting of the Parties to the Montreal Protocol, Second Extraordinary Meeting of the Parties, and associated meetings June 26–2 July 2005.

This person is David Mueller of Westfield, Indiana. He is a fumigator and the son of a flour miller and has been fumigating since he was a teenager. His privately owned family business was founded in 1981 and has 25 employees.

Methyl bromide is a product that his company Fumigation Service & Supply, Inc. began using in the 1980s for fumigating flourmills, food processing structures, and post harvest commodities throughout the United States. At one point Mr. Mueller and his company used over 300,000 pounds of methyl bromide per year in the early 1990s. This represented about 55 percent of their total fumigation business.

As of January 1, 2005, this Indiana company no longer uses methyl bromide. How did this phase out of this biocide?

In 1995 they heard that methyl bromide was going to be phased out under the Montreal Protocol. Dave understood that the loss of methyl bromide would have a dramatic effect on his business. He attended several domestic and international meetings to determine if this was a true story. After determining that alternatives would, in fact, be required under the U.S. Clean Air Act and the international treaty signed by President Reagan called the Montreal Protocol, his company began to search for credible alternatives.

As a stored product entomologist, Mr. Mueller started this search process by looking at methyl bromide and how it affects the insects and other pests. It is a biocide that kills like napalm. When it touches something, it kills it: egg, larva, pupa and adult. Other fumigants needed more time or a higher dosage rate to work. However, he understood that the respiration of the insects could be increased substantially by increasing the temperature in the flourmills and food factories or choosing the warmest time of the year to plan the scheduled fumigations.

By increasing the temperature of the insects they were observed to become stressed, dehydrated, and would die faster. The dosage rates for conventional fumigants and insecticides like phosphate, dichlorvos, and sulfuryl fluoride worked better, faster, and at lower dosage rates when temperatures of 90–100° F (30–40° C) were created.

He also added carbon dioxide (3–5 percent) to the mix to allow for better mortality and shorter shutdown times for these post harvest fumigations. The carbon dioxide makes the insects and rodents breathe harder and faster allowing the fumigants to kill better and faster.
This is called the combination fumigation method. The ten-year findings to this search for alternatives to methyl bromide showed those who were willing to listen that credible alternatives to methyl bromide do exist. The combination of heat and carbon dioxide added to existing E.P.A. registered fumigants and insecticides offers credible, technical, and economic alternatives to methyl bromide.

During this search for alternatives, Mr. Mueller noticed that many companies don’t use methyl bromide. He asked how they do it. The answer was simple, they don’t fumigate because they do all the things that they should do to prevent having to fumigate. Brand name companies like Frito Lay, Nestle, PepsiCo, Kel Kan, Purina, Gerber, Procter and Gamble, Wal-Mart, and many more don’t fumigate with methyl bromide. Good cleaning, good prevention and monitoring strategies to be proactive rather than reactive have allowed these companies to prioritize their sanitation program with excellent results and corporate reputations. Their brand names are the best in the industry because they spend the resources to stop the insects and other pests from entering their facilities. If pests do get through the “gatekeeper” they have strategies to monitor for their early detection. Local treatments then applied in a timely manner to eliminate any outbreaks. This is post harvest IPM and it works for those willing to be proactive instead of reactive.

In summary, life without methyl bromide is possible. This Hoosier company is doing it and other companies are doing it with credible alternatives for the protection of the environment. There is a price to pay for protecting the environment and everyone can find credible alternatives if they search for them like Fumigation Service & Supply, Inc. did. Companies that continue to use methyl bromide when there are credible alternatives available should spend the time, resources, and effort to make the right choice as did Mr. Mueller and Fumigation Service & Supply, Inc.

TRIBUTE TO THE BOOKER T. WASHINGTON JUNIOR-SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL CLASS OF 1963

HON. KENDRICK B. MEEK
OF FLORIDA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, June 27, 2005

Mr. MEEK of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I want to pay tribute to the reunion of Miami-Dade County’s Booker T. Washington’s class of 1963. In a special way, I commend this dedicated group of alumni, who entered our community’s landmark institution in 1967. Forty-two years later, the members of this class are journeying to Washington, DC to celebrate a memorable “60th Birthday Bash,” beginning on July 21, 2005.

Indeed, these distinguished alumni symbolize a cadre of young men and women daring to be great in their own right during their years at the school. Inspired by their motto, “Not the largest, but the best,” this class represents a convergence of their desire to achieve greater enhancement of our noble traditions and the meaning of our common struggles.

Booker T. Washington is truly a school for students of all ages. It was established in the days of segregation in 1926 and underwent many and varied changes, including its conversion to middle school status. But through the resilience of this class, its members achieved the unthinkable and convinced the Miami-Dade County School Board to reinstate its senior high school status in August 1999. The alumni are now prominent members of our community and occupy positions of honor and prestige in many professions at the local, State and Federal levels. Among its distinguished leaders is Les Brown, who is on the national speakers’ circuit, advising people of all ages to strive to be the best they can be; the Miami Dolphins’ extraordinary athlete Larry Little; professor and author Audrey Thomas McCluskey of Indiana University; teacher-of-the-year awardee Laurasteen Thompson Jones, who continues to tutor children in innercity schools; preeminent educator Robert Thompson Daniels; and educational counselor Stanley Squire—these are but a few of the members of the class of ’63. They are bonded by their quest to serve others, and together they evoke a unique family of achievers and dreamers who have prided themselves in enduring the same burdens for the sake of others, especially the less fortunate.

As the class of ’63 gathers to revive the memories of years gone by, I fully recognize the character of the members’ genuine friendship that has given them hope and optimism for a better future amidst life’s unceasing challenges. I am proud of this distinguished class because it exemplified the nobility of our Miami-Dade County community and beyond amidst the countless struggles they have had to endure during a most difficult time of their years of learning. I look forward to their continued help in reviving the genuine love for our proud heritage and enlightening us with greater wisdom while they continue to uphold the good name of their Alma Mater, Booker T. Washington High School.

COMMEMDING PAUL WILLIAM CANNFIELD UPON THE OCCASION OF RECEIVING THE YMCA COACH OF THE YEAR AWARD

HON. BRIAN HIGGINS
OF NEW YORK
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, June 27, 2005

Mr. HIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to commend Paul William Canfield, a resident of Chautauqua County, City of Jamestown, upon the occasion of receiving the YMCA Coach of the Year Award.

Paul was honored at the Jamestown YMCA annual meeting for his dedication and devotion to his job and the community. This honor was given to Paul for his exemplary services at the YMCA, not only as a volunteer, but also as a staff member.

In addition to donating his time and energy to the YMCA, Paul is also a special education teacher for the Jamestown Public Schools. Mr. Canfield has shown extraordinary dedication and generosity to the community, and I am proud, Mr. Speaker, to have the opportunity to honor him here today.

CLARIFICATION OF REPRESENTATIVE GRIJALVA AS AN ORIGINAL COSPONSOR OF H.R. 3051

HON. JIM KOLBE OF ARIZONA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, June 27, 2005

Mr. KOLBE. Mr. Speaker, on Thursday, June 23, I introduced H.R. 3051, the Pima County Land Adjustment Act. At introduction I inadvertently did not indicate Representative RAÚL GRIJALVA as an original cosponsor. Representative GRIJALVA made significant contributions during the authoring of this legislation and played an integral role throughout the process. Although the House rules do not permit Representative GRIJALVA’s name to be shown as an original cosponsor of H.R. 3051, I wish to clarify that he rightly deserves this recognition. I would like to express my sincerest apologies to Representative GRIJALVA and his staff for this inadvertent oversight.

INTRODUCTION OF THE PARENTS’ TAX RELIEF ACT

HON. LEE TERRY OF NEBRASKA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, June 27, 2005

Mr. TERRY. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to introduce the Parents’ Tax Relief Act, PTRA, to empower parents who choose to stay home with their children.

This legislation will end the longstanding inequity in the Tax Code that encourages day care above stay-at-home parenting. It will also help parents to spend more time with their children by encouraging flexible employment opportunities such as home-based businesses and telecommuting jobs.

Congress should recognize and support the incredible sacrifices parents make to raise their children. I have heard from Nebraska families who struggle to make ends meet so one parent can stay at home and provide the love, care and attention that every child deserves. The high Federal tax burden, which falls most heavily on the middle-class, has unfortunately made this option extremely difficult, if not unreachable, for many families.

Parents perform a tremendous balancing act between work and family responsibilities. It can be difficult for families to survive without a second income, much of which goes towards day care and work-related expenses such as dry-cleaning bills and gasoline, but which can also support grocery bills, medical expenses and savings for a child’s future education.

Greater tax relief will make it a more realistic option for parents to stay at home with their little ones in the early formative years that are so crucial to a child’s physical, mental and emotional development. The legislation that I am introducing today will improve options for parents to contribute to family income while staying at home for their children, including home-based businesses and telecommuting jobs.

It is clear that parents want these options. A comprehensive study on balancing work and family, conducted by four major charitable foundations, found that 70 percent of parents believe the best arrangement for the care of young children is to have one parent at home. An ABC News poll last month showed that 77 percent of parents agree that while it may be necessary for a mother to work and contribute to family income, it would be better if she could stay home to care for the house and children.

In a parenting survey done for Warner Books, 87 percent of mothers said they would stay at home to raise their children if they could afford it. The Family and Work Institute reported that 70 percent of working parents feel they lack enough time with their children, and nearly two-thirds of all workers would reduce their work hours by an average 11 hours a week if they could.

In addition, 82 percent of parents with preschoolers want policymakers to concentrate on making it more affordable for a parent to stay at home during a child’s first few years than on improving the quality and affordability of day care. In fact, 53 percent of parents preferred not to work at all. For many, only one in 3, 33 percent, would cut costs for families using day care. Members of Congress should trust in the judgement of parents, especially regarding the care of preschool children.

The Parents’ Tax Relief Act, which I am introducing today with a dozen original cosponsors, contains seven major tax improvements to empower parents and strengthen families in America.

First, this legislation extends the Dependent Care Tax Credit to parents who choose to be at home with their children. Established in 1954, this credit allows families to claim up to 35 percent of $3,000 in documented, non-parental child care costs, and 35 percent of $6,000 in day care expenses for two children. Families who make the financial sacrifice to have one parent stay at home for their children should also benefit from this tax credit.

Second, the Parents’ Tax Relief Act will make the $1,000 child tax credit permanent and index it to inflation to retain its long-term value. This tax relief is critical for Nebraska families with dependent children.

Third, this legislation will double the personal income tax exemption to half of its original 1948 value of $1,100 to $5,500 of income for 1948 to 1963 when this exemption was equivalent to $10,000 in today’s inflation-adjusted dollars, America witnessed a “marriage boom,” a “baby boom,” and a decline in the divorce rate. There is evidence suggesting these outcomes were significantly advanced by federal tax policy to strengthen families.

Doubling the personal income tax exemption provides critical support to families with children, as well as elderly or disabled dependents.

Fourth, the Parents’ Tax Relief Act eliminates the marriage tax penalty once and for all. This penalty discourages the sacred institution of marriage by unfairly taxing married couples filing jointly at a higher rate than two single individuals earning the same income. The 2001 tax cut law reduced this penalty by doubling the standard deduction for joint filers, and doubling the size of the 15 percent tax bracket for married couples. Unfortunately, these reforms will expire by 2010, along with the rest of the tax cuts enacted by Congress.

The Parent’s Tax Relief Act will extend marriage tax relief to all tax brackets to prevent the government from discouraging marriage or forcing both parents into the workforce.

Fifth, this legislation will support parents who operate a home-based business in order to spend more time with their children. The bill establishes a standard home-office tax deduction to replace complicated IRS regulations that prevent many small business owners from deducting legitimate expenses. The Congressional Budget Office estimated that 9% of the 17.3 million small businesses in the United States are homebased, and 55 percent are operated by women. Many home businesses are started to provide a secondary income.

Sixth, the Parents’ Tax Relief Act encourages telecommuting for families with young children. It will create a Telecommuting Tax Credit allowing employers to deduct a portion of a telecommuting employee’s wages for income tax purposes. It will also support President Bush’s budget request to allow individuals to exclude from income the value of employer-provided computers and related equipment necessary for work from home. Telecommuting is one way mothers or fathers can stay at home with their children while still contributing to family income.

Finally, the Parents’ Tax Relief Act protects the Social Security benefits of women or men who choose to stay-at-home with preschool children. When a parent leaves the workforce to be at home with a child, the family’s finances may not only suffer, but career opportunities and future earnings potential may be diminished. Parents who stay at home to care for children during prime working years may also jeopardize their future Social Security benefits—especially in the unfortunate case of disability or divorce.

The Parents’ Tax Relief Act addresses the realities stay-at-home parents face by allowing up to 10 years of flexible Social Security employment credits for parents who stay at home to raise children age six and under. Public policy should recognize and safeguard stay-at-home parenting as valuable work that contributes to the character and security of our Nation.

These seven tax improvements will empower parents and strengthen families. The Federal government must not tax parents out of their homes the way it has done to children. I am pleased to note that Senator Sam Brownback is introducing this legislation in the other Chamber. It is my hope this bill will address the needs of modern families who want to stay at home with their children without decimating their family finances.

I urge my colleagues to support families by cosponsoring the Parents’ Tax Relief Act today.

TRIBUTE TO THE REVEREND MONSIGNOR PETER M. POLANDO

HON. TIM RYAN
OHIO
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, June 27, 2005

Mr. RYAN of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in recognition of The Reverend Monsignor Peter M. Polando, who celebrates the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination this year.

Monsignor Polando was born in Youngstown, Ohio in 1954, and was ordained in 1980 at Youngstown's Cathedral of St. Columba. He has led a distinguished life, marked by numerous degrees of higher education, an array of honors and awards, and a variety of career positions that have impacted many throughout Ohio. His impressive educational background includes a Bachelor of Arts degree from St. Gregory Seminary, Masters of Arts degrees from St. Mary Seminary of the West, Notre Dame University, and Ursuline College, and a licentiate in Canon Law from Catholic University of America.

Monsignor Polando is a Chaplain of His Holiness, a high honor that was bestowed upon him by Pope John Paul II in 1997. Bishop Tobin, former head of the Youngstown Diocese, appointed him to the position of Adjutant Judicial Vicar of the Diocese of Youngstown in 2003. Monsignor Polando has served as Supreme Chaplain, Vice President and National Chaplain for the First Catholic Slovak Union of the United States and Canada, and as a Chaplain and Pastor for various churches, parishes, and organizations throughout Ohio. He has worked as an instructor at Walsh University, Ursuline College, and Cardinal Mooney High School, where he also served as principal and a cross country and track coach.

Monsignor Polando is also an active member of many organizations and societies including alumni associations, Knights of Columbus, Youngstown Council of Catholic Nurses and several Catholic organizations, including Slovak Catholic Sokol Wreaths 54 and 108, First Catholic Slovak Ladies Association Branch 169, and Ladies Pennsylvania Slovak Catholic Union.

Monsignor Polando has touched the lives of many with his dedication and faith, and I would like to honor and congratulate him on his twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination.

A STATEMENT BY SECRETARY OF STATE CONDOLEEZZA RICE AT THE AMERICAN UNIVERSITY IN CAIRO

HON TOM LANTOS
OF CALIFORNIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, June 27, 2005

Mr. LANTOS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to inform my colleagues of the forthright, courageous, and eloquent speech on democratization that Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice delivered on June 20, 2005, to an audience at the American University in Cairo during her trip this week to Egypt.

In Cairo, Secretary Rice acknowledged that democracies may vary somewhat from place to place, but she emphasized that there are certain ground-rules common to all democracies: “the right to speak freely, the right to assemble and to change, the freedom to educate your children—boys and girls, and freedom from the midnight knock of the secret police” among others.

Then she delivered powerful messages to both Middle Eastern authoritarian rulers and their citizens. To the rulers, Rice warned that “the fear of free choices can no longer justify the denial of liberty. It is time to abandon the excuses that are made to avoid the hard work of democracy.”

To the citizens of the Middle East she offered hope: “Millions of people are demanding freedom for themselves and democracy for their countries. To these courageous men and women, I say today: All free nations will stand with you as you secure the blessings of your own liberty.”

The Secretary commended President Mubarak’s reform of presidential elections in Egypt, but she made clear that Egypt’s implementation of the reform will be watched closely. And she also stressed that implementation means: “Opposition groups must be free to assemble, and to participate, and to speak to the media. Voting should occur without violence or intimidation. And international election monitors and observers must have unfettered access to their work.”

Moreover, she made clear that, even in the best circumstances, Egypt has a long way to go: “The day must come when the rule of law replaces emergency decrees—and when the independent judiciary replaces arbitrary justice.”

“Our Secretary of State has returned from the Middle East having reaffirmed American values and having made clear that our commitment to freedom in the Middle East is unflinching. And she communicated her message of the difficulties of democracy-building—as when she acknowledged America’s painful history of slavery and discrimination—that made clear to her audience that the U.S. will be an empathetic partner along the path to freedom.”

Mr. Speaker, I ask that Secretary Rice’s address be placed in the RECORD, and I urge my colleagues to read and give attention to her thoughtful remarks.

And now, Mr. Chairman.

VERSITY IN CAIRO

CONDOLEEZZA RICE AT THE AMERICAN UNIVERSITY IN CAIRO

Thank you very much. Dr. Haia Mustafa, for the warm introduction, and your inspiring thoughts about democracy here in the region. I am honored to be here in the great and ancient city of Cairo. The United States values our strategic relationship and our strengthening economic ties with Egypt. And American presidents since Ronald Reagan have benefited from the wisdom and counsel of President Mubarak, with whom I had the pleasure of meeting earlier today.

The people of Egypt and of America and Egypt have always desired to visit one another and to learn from one another. And the highest ideals of our partnership are embodied right here, in the great intellectual tradition of Cairo. This great center of learning has endured and thrived—from the days when our friendship was somewhat rocky, to today, when the relationship is strong. And I am very grateful and honored to address you in the halls of this great center of learning.

Throughout its history, Egypt has always led this region through its moments of greatest decision. In the early 19th century, it was the reform-minded dynasty of Muhammad Ali that distinguished Egypt from the Ottoman Empire and began to transform it into the region’s first modern nation.

In the early 20th century, it was the forward-looking leadership of Saad el-Din el-Katatni that realized the dream of freedom. And in 1952, Nasser showed the way forward for the entire Middle East—beginning difficult economic reforms and making peace with Israel. In these periods of historic decision, leaders like Nasser showed the way for a new era in the Arab world. And today, once again, we are faced with equally momentous choices—choices that will echo for generations to come.

In this time of great decision, I have come to Cairo not to talk about the past, but to look to the future—to a future that Egyptians can lead and can define. Ladies and Gentlemen: In our world today, a growing number of men and women are securing their freedom. And they regain that power to choose, they are creating democratic governments in order to protect their natural rights.

We should all look to a future when every government respects the will of its citizens—because the ideal of democracy is universal. For 60 years, my country, the United States, pursued a policy of not engaging with, or promoting democracy in, this region here in the Middle East—and we achieved neither. Now, we are taking a different course. We are supporting the democratic aspirations of the Egyptian people. As President Bush said in his Second Inaugural Address: “America will not impose our style of government on the people of other lands. Our goal, instead, is to help others find their own voice, to attain their own freedom, and to make their own way.”

We know these advances will not come easily, or all at once. We know that different societies will find forms of democracy that work for them. When we talk about democracy, though, we should go through the governments that protect certain basic rights for all their citizens—among these, the right to speak freely. The right to associate. The right to use your vote to educate your children—boys and girls. And freedom from the midnight knock of the secret police.

Securing these rights is the hope of every citizen, and the duty of every government. In my own country, the progress of democracy has been long and difficult. And given our history, the United States has no cause for false pride and we have every reason for humility.

After all, America was founded by individuals who knew that all human beings—and the governments they create—are inherently imperfect. And the United States was born half free and half slave. And it was only in my lifetime that my government guaranteed the right to vote for all of its people.

Nevertheless, the principles enshrined in our Constitution enable citizens of conviction to move America closer every day to the ideal of democracy. Here in the Middle East, that same long hopeful process of democratic change is now beginning to unfold. Millions of people are demanding freedom for themselves. And the Syrian people themselves share that aspiration.

The time has come for the United States to renew our commitment to move Egypt closer every day to the ideal of democracy. Here in the Middle East, that same long hopeful process of democratic change is now beginning to unfold. Millions of people are demanding freedom for themselves. And the Syrian people themselves share that aspiration.

In Iran, the people are losing patience with an oppressive regime that is using force and intimidation to maintain its hold on power. And in the Palestinian territories, it is time to make a strategic choice to join the process that is going on all around it.

In Iraq, thousands of Iraqi citizens have taken to the streets to demand the freedom that was promised to its people—and to the entire world—by giving its citizens the freedom to choose. Iraq’s elections, including the Parliamentary elections, must meet objective standards that define every free election.

Opposition groups must be free to assemble, and to participate, and to speak to the media. Voting should occur without violence or intimidation. And international election monitors and observers must have un restricted access to do their job.

The Palestinian Authority must fulfill the promise it has made to its people—and to the entire world—by giving its citizens the freedom to choose. Egypt’s elections, including the Municipal elections, must meet objective standards that define every free election.

The Egyptian Government must fulfill the promise it has made to its people—and to the entire world—by giving its citizens the freedom to choose. Egypt’s elections, including the Parliamentary elections, must meet objective standards that define every free election.

President Mubarak has unlocked the door for change. Now, the Egyptian Government must put its faith in its own people. We are all concerned for the future of Egypt’s reforms when peaceful supporters of democracy and for Syria to make a strategic choice to join the process that is going on all around it.

In Iran, people are losing patience with an oppressive regime that is using force and intimidation to maintain its hold on power. And in the Palestinian territories, it is time to make a strategic choice to join the process that is going on all around it.

In Saudi Arabia, brave citizens are demanding accountable government. And some governments that have taken steps toward reform have been taken with recent municipal elections. Yet many people pay an unfair price for exercising their basic rights. Three individuals in particular are currently imprisoned for exercising their basic rights. Three individuals in particular are currently imprisoned for exercising their basic rights. Three individuals in particular are currently imprisoned for exercising their basic rights. Three individuals in particular are currently imprisoned for exercising their basic rights.

The time has come for the United States to renew our commitment to move Egypt closer every day to the ideal of democracy. Here in the Middle East, that same long hopeful process of democratic change is now beginning to unfold. Millions of people are demanding freedom for themselves. And the Syrian people themselves share that aspiration.

In Iran, the people are losing patience with an oppressive regime that is using force and intimidation to maintain its hold on power. And in the Palestinian territories, it is time to make a strategic choice to join the process that is going on all around it.

In Iraq, thousands of Iraqi citizens have taken to the streets to demand the freedom that was promised to its people—and to the entire world—by giving its citizens the freedom to choose. Iraq’s elections, including the Parliamentary elections, must meet objective standards that define every free election.

The Egyptian Government must fulfill the promise it has made to its people—and to the entire world—by giving its citizens the freedom to choose. Egypt’s elections, including the Municipal elections, must meet objective standards that define every free election.

President Mubarak has unlocked the door for change. Now, the Egyptian Government must put its faith in its own people. We are all concerned for the future of Egypt’s reforms when peaceful supporters of democracy and for Syria to make a strategic choice to join the process that is going on all around it.

In Iran, people are losing patience with an oppressive regime that is using force and intimidation to maintain its hold on power. And in the Palestinian territories, it is time to make a strategic choice to join the process that is going on all around it.

In Saudi Arabia, brave citizens are demanding accountable government. And some governments that have taken steps toward reform have been taken with recent municipal elections. Yet many people pay an unfair price for exercising their basic rights. Three individuals in particular are currently imprisoned for exercising their basic rights. Three individuals in particular are currently imprisoned for exercising their basic rights. Three individuals in particular are currently imprisoned for exercising their basic rights. Three individuals in particular are currently imprisoned for exercising their basic rights.
Ladies and Gentlemen: Across the Middle East, the fear of free choices can no longer justify the denial of liberty. It is time to abandon the excuses that stand in the way of true democracy. There are those who say that democracy is being imposed. In fact, the opposite is true: Democracy is never imposed. It is tyranny that is imposed, wrongly.

People choose democracy freely. And successful reform is always homegrown. Just look around the world today. For the first time in history, people are creating democracies, rather than imposing them on others. This is the result of choice, not of coercion.

There are those who say that democracy leads to chaos, or conflict, or terror. In fact, the opposite is true: Freedom and democracy are the only ideas powerful enough to overcome hatred, and division, and violence. For people of diverse races and religions, the inclusive nature of democracy can lift the fear of difference. People choose democracy freely. And so democracy thrives.

There are those who say that the democratic process cannot function if certain groups have one foot in the realm of politics and one foot in the camp of terror.

There are those who say that democracy destroys social institution and erodes moral standards. In fact, the opposite is true: The success of democracy depends on public character and respect for law. For democracy to thrive, free citizens must work every day to strengthen their families, to care for their neighbors, and to support their communities.

There are those who say that long-term economic and social progress can be achieved without free minds and free markets. In fact, humanity’s creativity, and only fully released when governments trust their people’s decisions and invest in their people’s future. And the key investment is in people’s education. Because education—for men and for women—transforms their dreams into reality and enables them to overcome poverty.

There are those who say that democracy is for men alone. In fact, the opposite is true: Half a democracy is not a democracy. As one Muslim woman leader has said, “Society is like a bird. It has two wings. And a bird cannot fly if one wing is broken.” Across the Middle East, women are inspiring us all.

In Kuwait, women protested to win their right to vote, carrying signs that declared: “Women are Kuwaitis, too.” Last month, Kuwait’s legislature voiced its agreement. In Saudi Arabia, the promise of dignity is half a democracy is not a democracy. As one woman said, “Society is like a bird. It has two wings. And a bird cannot fly if one wing is broken.” Across the Middle East, women are inspiring us all.

In Kuwait, women protested to win their right to vote, carrying signs that declared: “Women are Kuwaitis, too.” Last month, Kuwait’s legislature voiced its agreement. In Saudi Arabia, the promise of dignity is half a democracy is not a democracy. As one woman said, “Society is like a bird. It has two wings. And a bird cannot fly if one wing is broken.” Across the Middle East, women are inspiring us all.

In Kuwait, women protested to win their right to vote, carrying signs that declared: “Women are Kuwaitis, too.” Last month, Kuwait’s legislature voiced its agreement. In Saudi Arabia, the promise of dignity is half a democracy is not a democracy. As one woman said, “Society is like a bird. It has two wings. And a bird cannot fly if one wing is broken.” Across the Middle East, women are inspiring us all.

In Kuwait, women protested to win their right to vote, carrying signs that declared: “Women are Kuwaitis, too.” Last month, Kuwait’s legislature voiced its agreement. In Saudi Arabia, the promise of dignity is half a democracy is not a democracy. As one woman said, “Society is like a bird. It has two wings. And a bird cannot fly if one wing is broken.” Across the Middle East, women are inspiring us all.
stand in tribute and remembrance of those veterans, women and men, who have made the ultimate sacrifice when they answered the call to duty.

For the past three years, the service, sacrifice and courage of women veterans of the United States Armed Forces have been honored and celebrated in Cleveland at the “Women Veterans Banquet.” The idea was brought to life by U.S. Marine Corps Sergeant Cindy Campbell, Desert Storm Veteran, and her husband, John Campbell.

The organizers of the Women Veterans Banquet provide a significant opportunity for the Cleveland community to honor and recognize the unwavering dedication and bravery exhibited by women who have been on the front lines of combat throughout America’s history—from women soldiers on the battlefield, to women piloting F-14’s, to women doctors and nurses working in makeshift medical units administering to the wounded. By recognizing the immense contribution and sacrifice of women soldiers and veterans, the members of the Women Veterans Banquet have also worked to raise funds for the upkeep and maintenance of the Women in Military Service Memorial in Washington, DC.

Mr. Speaker and Colleagues, please join me in honor of the women of our United States Armed Forces. Let us forever remember their service, courage and steadfast commitment, and keep especially close in our hearts those soldiers, women and men, who have made the ultimate sacrifice on behalf of our country, when they heeded the call to serve.

HONORING MATTHEW MAZGAJ FOR HIS ALL AROUND EXCELLENCE IN ACADEMICS AND ATHLETICS

HON. BRIAN HIGGINS
OF NEW YORK
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, June 27, 2005

Honor. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to commend the exemplary academic and athletic contributions of Matthew Mazgaj.

Matthew is one of those students who does not go unnoticed. This article as published in the Jamestown Post Journal pays tribute to an outstanding young man.

Area Wrestler A Standout In and Out of Classroom

(By Scott Kidberg)

Richard Rybicki saw something special in Matt Mazgaj almost from the moment he met him on the first day of school in 1998.

As his homeroom teacher at Southwestern Middle School, Rybicki was struck by Mazgaj’s leadership skills, even as an 11-year-old sixth-grader.

As a standout in and out of the classroom as an academic student and athlete, Rybicki said.

Fast forward more than 6 years and nothing’s changed.

Mazgaj’s work ethic and drive to excel, first seen by Rybicki in the late 1990s, continued throughout his tenure at Southwestern Central School. From the classroom to the football field and from his church to the wrestling mat, the Trojans senior has laid a blueprint for other students to follow.

And somewhere Frank Hyde is smiling.

Hyde, who was the Post-Journal sports editor for 34 years, valued the all-around excellence of young people.

“Matt exemplifies the type of student athlete-scholar Frank Hyde admired most—those for whom participation in sports is an important part of the educational experience, but just how, he did it,” Post-Journal Editor Cristie Herbst said.

“He valued those students who also learned through participation in sports the lessons of hard work, determination to strive toward a goal. And as just as Matt has done, Frank believed that students should apply those values in all of their activities, in and out of school,” Ms. Herbst said.

Hyde, no doubt, would also be happy to know that Mazgaj is this year’s recipient of the 21st annual Scholarship.

The $1,000 scholarship, given by The Post-Journal, is awarded to the outstanding college-bound athlete from the newspaper’s circulation area, which covers Chautauqua, Cattaraugus and Warren counties.

The scholarship was presented during an awards assembly at Southwestern Central School on Wednesday morning.

Mazgaj has been accepted at Washington and Jefferson College, where he plans to major in biology and physics, and play football.

“I believe this type of an extensive education past high school is vital for an individual to succeed and advancing America today.” Mazgaj wrote in an essay accompanying his scholarship application.

Judging from his academic performance and extracurricular accomplishments, Mazgaj is on his way to a successful college experience.

Ranked 11th in his class with a 96 average, Mazgaj is a member of the National Honor Society, the Ophelia mentoring program and the math club; is an usher at Sacred Heart Church; and is a volunteer coach with the Southwestern Spartans midget football league team.

Athletically, he turned in one of the finest careers in school history.

In wrestling, he captured consecutive New York State Public High School Athletic Association small school championships in 2004 and 2005 at 215 pounds and shared the Ilio DiPaolo Scholarship this year.

Along the way, Mazgaj, a two-year captain, posted a 130-28 career record, was the Division 1 wrestler of the year, and twice the 215-pound division champion. The Trojans were also successful as a team during Mazgaj’s era, claiming a small-school state championship once, Section 6 championship twice and league championship three times.

“When I first met Matt I noticed that he had an incredible work ethic that far surpassed his peers,” Southwestern coach Mark Hetrick said in his letter of recommendation. “Matt was undefeated throughout middle school wrestling, but the thing that impressed me the most was his drive and motivation to get better. His hard work paid off.”

Former Southwestern wrestling coach Walt Turbeta is equally complimentary.

“He has always displayed the characteristics of a true gentleman,” Thurnau said in his letter of recommendation. “It doesn’t matter if it’s practice or competition, Matt is always respectful of his opponent or practice partner. He always treats everyone with respect and courtesy.”

“Matt is very humble and would never brag about his accomplishments. If you didn’t know that he was a two-time state champion, you’d have to ask the government by listening to Matt. He still helps clean the mats and is always one of the last to leave the practice room.”

Mazgaj’s devotion to wrestling is immense, but his first love is on the gridiron. A first-team all-state linebacker, the Post-Journal co-Player of the Year and first-team all-Western New York selection last fall, Mazgaj led the Trojans to a 9-2 record and a Section 6 championship, the first sectional title in school history. Both on the field and in the classroom, was recognized when he was selected the Section 6 Scholar-Athlete of the Year.

Statistically, Mazgaj, a two-year captain, holds team records for career tackles (357) and single-season tackles for a loss (22), and is tied for first in tackles in a season (133).

“I think the most important characteristic that Matt possesses is his character,” Southwestern football coach and government economics teacher Jay Siriani wrote in his letter of recommendation. “Matt displays the attributes of a natural leader. He has integrity, loyalty, a strong work ethic, and he leads by example. In an era with few positive role models, Matt has been a positive role model to his classmates and younger students.”

Because of his considerable wrestling talents, Mazgaj could have continued his career at Division I or Division II level. Instead, he chose to follow his heart and his true love—football.

“With making the decision to play football in college, I gave up my athletic scholarship financial aid,” Mazgaj wrote. “Washington and Jefferson is a Division III school and a football coach and government teacher.”

“With the decision to play football in college, I gave up my athletic scholarship financial aid,” Mazgaj wrote. “Washington and Jefferson is a Division III school and a football coach and government teacher.”

“With the decision to play football in college, I gave up my athletic scholarship financial aid,” Mazgaj wrote. “Washington and Jefferson is a Division III school and a football coach and government teacher.”

“With the decision to play football in college, I gave up my athletic scholarship financial aid,” Mazgaj wrote. “Washington and Jefferson is a Division III school and a football coach and government teacher.”

“I am honored, Mr. Speaker, to have an opportunity to honor this amazing young man.

HONORING THE 50TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE TOWN OF HYPOLUXO

HON. E. CLAY SHAW, JR.
OF FLORIDA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, June 27, 2005

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, the Town of Hypoluxo, a gem in the strand of our jeweled communities of Palm Beach County, is celebrating its 50th anniversary on July 3, 2005. I have proudly represented Hypoluxo for 13 years in the United States Congress, and have come to know its residents and town leadership very well.

It is interesting to note that Hypoluxo got its name not from a Greek root, but from the Seminole name for Lake Worth which roughly translates to “water all around—no get out.”

Today a great number of people want to move into the friendly confines of Hypoluxo, but because no one wants to “get out,” home sites are difficult to find. No doubt, because of the wonderful people and the coastal breezes.

Hypoluxo is one of the smallest communities in my District with its nearly 2,500 people, but it has in its rich heritage played a very important role in the history and growth of Palm Beach County. It was the center of the story of the legendary Barefoot Mailman, who connected Jupiter with Lemon City (now the Miami area) in the 19th Century, long before any type of road existed.

At one time, the mail to Miami had to be shipped to Jacksonville, then by rail to Cedar Key, steam shipped to Key West and lastly by schooner to Miami. The big advancement took place in 1885, with a railroad line south to West Palm Beach. The mail then traveled by row boat to Hypoluxo. At Hypoluxo, the Barefoot Mailman took over and walked six days along the hard sand next to the ocean for over 60 miles (and occasionally crossing inlets by swimming or by canoe) to Miami—and back. All for $175 every three months.

The Postal Creed says that “neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night will stay these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds.” To the Barefoot Mailman you can add on gators, sharks, snakes, hurricanes, and swift currents.

In fact, it is legend that alligators or sharks caused the demise of a Barefoot Mailman on one of his appointed rounds.

Mr. Speaker, Hypoluxo has created in its natural scrub park, a statue monument to the Barefoot Mailman, to recognize the heroic traditions of each person who served the coastal residents and brought the news, commercial transactions, and many smiles to them during their years of service.

To the citizens of Hypoluxo gathered to celebrate its 50 years in the shadow of its beautiful Key West Town Hall, its natural Florida hammock, and under the watchful eye of the Barefoot Mailman, I congratulate you and wish you the best in the next 50 years. I am sure that by that time the mail will arrive a little faster—but not with the colorful traditions of the Barefoot Mailman. Congratulations on 50 years, and on behalf of Florida’s 22nd Congressional District, I wish you many, many more.

MGM V. GROKSTER DECISION

HON. ROBERT WEXLER
OF FLORIDA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, June 27, 2005

Mr. WEXLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in strong support of today’s 9–0 Supreme Court decision in the MGM v. Grokster case. By ruling that providing the software makes a file-sharing service liable for facilitating this online theft and for encouraging illegal downloads, the Court preserved this country’s 200 year history of inspiring American creativity by protecting the rights of those who create it.

Traffic in copyrighted material has already cost American industry hundreds of millions of dollars. One-half of all teenagers have downloaded music for free, with two-thirds of them saying they buy less music now that they can steal it over the Internet so easily. Given the seventy and magnitude of the problem, I sincerely hope that today’s ruling will force these defendants either clean up their acts or discontinue entirely.

The Court unanimously found what so many of us already knew: peer-to-peer networks are merely the latest technology used to steal from copyright owners. Online file-sharing services, like Grokster and KaZaa, may not distribute copyrighted materials off of their own servers, but they certainly encourage that theft and profit from it. Just as in the physical world, promoting criminal activity is itself a crime. I am pleased peer-to-peer networks that actively encourage piracy will now be held responsible for their actions.

THE VOLUNTEER FIGHTERS OF VERMONT

HON. BERNARD SANDERS OF VERMONT
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, June 27, 2005

Mr. SANDERS. Mr. Speaker, there are over 800,000 volunteer firefighters in the United States. Of the 30,000 fire departments in the United States, two thirds are entirely made up of volunteers—21,761 companies. Another 5,271 companies are mostly made up of volunteers.

In my own state of Vermont there are 246 small towns—and 244 fire departments. Five of them are in large cities, where there first responders are full time, paid firefighters. Vermont has 265 paid firefighters—all brave and dedicated men and women.

But in rural Vermont, dotted with small cities and smaller towns, there is often neither the population base nor the budget to support full-time firefighters. But thousands of remarkable men and women step into the breach, giving generously of their time and energy and commitment to make sure our residences, our businesses, our farms, our towns, are safe.

Vermont, with a population of about 620,000, has an astonishing 6,235 volunteer firefighters. Just over one person in every hundred who lives in our largely rural state has devoted himself or herself to protecting the community in which they live.

These first responders are models for people across our entire nation of what commitment to one’s neighbor looks like. Every day they demonstrate, in good weather and bad, in sweltering summer heat when their boots and coats are like ovens, and in the depths of winter when the temperature goes to 25 below and frostbite threatens, that they are willing to put their lives on the line to protect the lives of others.

Our nation was built by people who were as concerned about their neighbors as they were about their own interests. It has been sustained by brave men and women who love their country, their community, their neighbors and family, as much as they love life itself. And that tradition of service and bravery continues in Vermont. I proudly celebrate, today, the remarkable volunteer firefighters of Vermont. We all owe them a debt of gratitude: They are among the great unsung heroes of our times.

HONORING LUCILLE SALTER

HON. JON C. PORTER OF NEVADA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, June 27, 2005

Mr. PORTER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Mrs. Lucille Salter, as she celebrates her 100th birthday. It is my great pleasure to commemorate this milestone for a woman who is a pillar in her community of Boulder City, Nevada.

Mrs. Salter arrived in Boulder City in 1931 at the height of the Great Depression. She spent time working for the telephone company, the Federal Government, and the City of Henderson.

Today, Mrs. Salter lives with her husband, Ross Salter, in Henderson, Nevada and enjoys visits from her grandchildren and playing bridge. She leads a full life and is admired by her many friends for her willingness to help in any way she can.

Mr. Speaker, it is my great privilege to honor Lucille Salter and give her my deepest thanks for her contributions to the Southern Nevada community. It is my hope that those that have been touched by her giving spirit will remember her example and use it in their own lives.

INTRODUCING THE AGRICULTURE EDUCATION FREEDOM ACT

HON. RON PAUL
OF TEXAS
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, June 27, 2005

Mr. PAUL. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to introduce the Agriculture Education Freedom Act. This bill addresses a great injustice being perpetrated by the Federal Government on those youngsters who participate in programs such as 4-H or the Future Farmers of America. Under current tax law, children are forced to pay Federal income tax when they sell livestock they have raised as part of an agricultural education program.

Think about this for a moment. These kids are trying to better themselves, earn some money, save some money and what does Congress do? We pick on these kids by taxing them. It is truly amazing that with all the hand-wringing in Congress over the alleged need to further restrict liberty and grow the size of government “for the children” we would continue to tax young people who are trying to lead responsible lives and prepare for the future. Even if the serious social problems today’s youth face could be solved by new Federal bureaucracies and programs, it is still unfair to pick on those kids who are trying to do the right thing.

These children are not even old enough to vote, yet we are forcing them to pay taxes! What ever happened to no taxation without representation? No wonder young people are so cynical about government!

It is time we stopped taxing youngsters who are trying to earn money to go to college by selling livestock they have raised through their participation in programs such as 4-H or Future Farmers of America. Therefore, I call on my colleagues to join me in supporting the Agriculture Education Freedom Act.
Weise will enter SUNY Fredonia as a junior degree in individual studies. In August, Ms. Weise will enter SUNY Fredonia with an associate's degree in horticulture. Cody-Anne is a 2003 graduate of Sherwood High School in Strongsville, Ohio, and a retired 30-year employee of Welch's. Ms. Weise was awarded with the scholarship. This fall Amy plans to return to Fredonia State to major in music education. I am honored Mr. Speaker, to have an opportunity to honor these accomplished and bright women.

CONGRATULATING THE GRANT FAMILY ON THE BIRTH OF THEIR CHILD, ALLISON MARIE

HON. GINNY BROWN-WAITE OF FLORIDA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, June 27, 2005

Ms. GINNY BROWN-WAITE of Florida, Mr. Speaker, I rise today to offer my congratulations to Bill and Claudia Grant on the birth of their child. Allison Marie Grant was welcomed into this world at 7:04 am on June 17th, 2005, weighing 6 pounds 12 1/2 ounces. Both the mother and father's families were present to celebrate the joyful birth. The entire Citrus County Community welcomes its newest citizen. I congratulate Bill and Claudia on the new addition to their family and wish them years of continued health and happiness.

DEPARTMENTS OF LABOR, HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES, AND EDUCATION, AND RELATED AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 2006

SPEECH OF
HON. CHARLES W. DENT OF PENNSYLVANIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, June 24, 2005

The House in Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union had under consideration the bill (H.R. 3010) making appropriations for the Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education, and Related Agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes:

Mr. DENT. Mr. Chairman, I would like to express my support for the Community Services Block Grants, and take a moment to highlight the effect these grants have on my District. CSBG funds are used to support the Community Action Committee of the Lehigh Valley (CACLV). I have a long history of working with the CACLV on a wide range of antipoverty initiatives which include housing, hunger, and community development, and I have the positive contributions that CACLV has made as a result of CSBG funding.

CSBG grants are uniquely effective because they are locally-controlled and respond to the particular need of each individual community. The grants produce a return on investments that have been leveraged by our partners and the CSBG accountability system. In my district, the CACLV generates over $8 for each CSBG dollar; half of that leveraged money comes from private sources which include utilities, banks, churches, foundations, and individuals. CACLV runs two homeless shelters in my district—Safe Harbor in Easton and the 6th Street Shelter in Allentown. These shelters serve individuals and families with issues ranging from drug and alcohol dependence to mental health. The CACLV also operates Second Harvest Food Bank, distributing about 5 million pounds of donated and government food to over 170 agencies each year. CACLV operates three community development subsidiaries that are creating entrepreneurship training and other microloans to help create dozens of micro enterprises each year. These CDC's operate two inner-city farmers' markets, offer cash assistance to struggling neighborhood-based businesses, provide residential and commercial facade improvement grants, and youth recreation programs.

Finally, CACLV operates a comprehensive financial services program that teaches dozens of low income families to save money and buy homes. Additionally, the CACLV offers free tax preparation services to over 600 tax-paying households.

Beyond these impressive efforts, the CACLV has a record of building partnerships. It conceived and led a campaign that resulted in two open space referenda. This project is set to generate $70 million to create and enhance parks, protect natural areas and preserve farms. The CACLV's housing initiatives have led campaigns to create housing trust funds in two counties in my district, and funded programs that have dramatically expanded homeownership throughout the Lehigh Valley. These funding reductions included in this bill will greatly impact CACLV and Community Action Agencies across the country. The Executive Director of CACLV expects that a cut in excess of 50 percent will result in the closing of one of its homeless shelters and all of its small business development work and perhaps even more.

Mr. Speaker, it is clear that my district and the nation need the services that Community Action agencies provide. Although I understand the tight budget constraints we face, these programs are crucial to helping the economy and improve the quality of life for the residents of my district. As the appropriations process advances, I would like to express my support for funding levels equal to the final FY 2005 appropriations for CSBG.
Currently, 362 hardworking Mainers are employed in the Limestone facility. Aroostook County and Northern Maine have already been devastated by the closure of the Loring Air Force Base. Additional job loss, along with the losses due to the proposed realignment at Brunswick Naval Air Station and Portsmouth Naval Shipyard, would have a serious impact in Maine. It is important for me to meet personally with General Newton, along with Governor Baldacci, so that we can stress the critical importance that this facility provides for the military and its vital importance to the Maine economy.

INTRODUCING THE FREEDOM FROM UNNECESSARY LITIGATION ACT

HON. RON PAUL
OF TEXAS
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, June 27, 2005

Mr. PAUL. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to introduce the Freedom from Unnecessary Litigation Act. As its title suggests, this bill provides an effective means of ensuring that those harmed during medical treatment receive fair compensation while reducing the burden of costly malpractice litigation on the health care system. This bill achieves its goal by providing a tax credit for negative outcomes insurance purchased before medical treatment. The insurance will provide compensation for any negative outcomes of the medical treatment. Patients can receive this insurance without having to go through lengthy litigation and without having to give away a large portion of their award to a trial lawyer.

Relying on negative outcomes insurance instead of litigation will also reduce the costs imposed on physicians, other health care providers, and hospitals by malpractice litigation. The Freedom from Unnecessary Litigation Act also promotes effective solutions to the malpractice crisis by making malpractice awards obtained through binding, voluntary arbitration tax-free.

The malpractice crisis has contributed to the closing of a maternity ward in Philadelphia and a trauma center in Nevada. Meanwhile, earlier this year, surgeons in West Virginia walked off the job to protest increasing liability rates. These are a few of the examples of how access to quality health care is jeopardized by the epidemic of large (and medically questionable) malpractice awards, and the resulting increase in insurance rates.

As is typical of Washington, most of the proposed solutions to the malpractice problem involve government usurpations of areas best left to the states. These solutions also ignore the root cause of the litigation crisis: the shift away from treating the doctor-patient relationship as a contractual one to viewing it as one governed by regulations imposed by insurance company functionaries, politicians, government bureaucrats, and trial lawyers. There is no reason why questions of the assessment of liability and compensation cannot be determined by a private contractual agreement between physicians and patients. The Freedom from Unnecessary Litigation Act is designed to take a step toward resolving these problems through private contracts.

Using insurance, private contracts, and binding arbitration to resolve medical disputes benefits patients, who receive full compensation in a timelier manner than under the current system. It also benefits physicians and hospitals, which are relieved of the costs associated with litigation. Since it will not cost as much to provide full compensation to an injured patient, these bills should result in a reduction of malpractice premiums. The Freedom from Unnecessary Litigation Act benefits everybody except those trial lawyers who profit from the current system. I hope all my colleagues will help end the malpractice crises while ensuring those harmed by medical injuries receive just compensation by cosponsoring my Freedom from Unnecessary Litigation Act.

HONORING THE 25TH ANNIVERSARY OF ST. MATTHIAS PARISH

HON. DENNIS J. KUCINICH OF OHIO
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, June 27, 2005

Mr. KUCINICH. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in honor and recognition of the leaders and members of St. Matthias Parish, of Parma, Ohio, as they celebrate twenty-five years of faith, guidance and love for parishioners, and for the greater good of the community.

Twenty-five years ago, St. Matthias was established by the late Bishop James A. Hickey. Bishop Hickey was later appointed to serve as Cardinal James A. Hickey. He announced that St. Matthias, a former mission parish, would now evolve into a full-fledged parish. Father Vincent Moraghan became the first Pastor of the church. On June 28, 1980, the first Mass was held at Green Valley School in Parma. The friendly and warm atmosphere of St. Matthias Parish has remained constant through the years. This spirit of cooperation and unity brought forth the planning and construction of a new church and rectory, completed by 1987. Following Pastor Moraghan’s retirement, Father Raymond Sutter was appointed as Pastor, and continues his service to St. Matthias to this day.

The leadership and members of St. Matthias are a unified force of strength and assistance for many within the parish, and also for those in need, outside the parish. Volunteers continue to plan and implement programs such as the Volunteer Visitors Program, St. Vincent DePaul Society, Red Cross Drives, and the “Manna” Fundraiser, all of which serve to provide assistance and lift the spirit of individuals and families throughout our community.

Mr. Speaker and Colleagues, please join me in honor and recognition of every leader and member of St. Matthias Parish, as they celebrate twenty-five years of offering spiritual guidance for countless families and individuals. Since 1980, the parish has evolved in structure and location, yet it remains a steady beacon of light, faith and hope, that embraces the spiritual needs and everyday struggles of all parishioners.

HONORING ZACHARY AGETT UPON RECEIVING THE J.C. MATTESON MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

HON. BRIAN HIGGINS
OF NEW YORK
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, June 27, 2005

Mr. HIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to commend Zachary Agett, a resident of Chautauqua County, City of Jamestown, upon the occasion of receiving the J.C. Matteson Memorial Scholarship.

Zachary was awarded the scholarship for his honorable character and athletic achievement. Both on and off the football field: Agett displays dedication, selflessness, integrity and leadership, many of the same admirable attributes that J.C. Matteson demonstrated.

This scholarship fund was established by the Chautauqua Region Community Foundation in honor of J.C. Matteson who died a very honorable death in Iraq last October. J.C. Matteson was a student and football player at Southwestern High School. His father, James, worked to head up the fund-raising efforts for the scholarship for years to come. James Matteson’s goal is to raise $29,000 and award two $1,000 scholarships in the coming years.

In the fall Agett plans to attend Washington and Jefferson University, where he will play football and major in biology. It is a wonderful honor to share the characteristics possessed by a fallen hero.

Zachary Agett is an upstanding young man and I am proud, Mr. Speaker, to have an opportunity to honor him today.

TECHNOLOGY, TRADE AND CHINA

HON. ZOE LOFGREN
OF CALIFORNIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, June 27, 2005

Ms. LOFGREN of California. Mr. Speaker, Harris Miller, president of the Information Technology Association of America, recently wrote an opinion piece for the San Jose Mercury News. In this piece, Mr. Miller addresses some serious concerns about the Chinese government’s trade policies and their efforts to control and limit information on the Internet. Mr. Miller makes some excellent points and I encourage all of my colleagues to review his article.

(From the San Jose Mercury News, May 23, 2005)

IN WALKING OFF SOFTWARE MARKET, CHINA FORGETS TRADE GOES TWO WAYS

(By Harris N. Miller)

Chinese trade practices have long been the subject of complaint from U.S. manufacturers, particularly in the textile industry. American high-tech firms now see the storm clouds forming for their own business sectors. Two trends are particularly disturbing: China’s leaders are quietly closing the doors to domestic market software competition while simultaneously attempting to expand government control over the Internet.

Despite U.S. protests, the Chinese government has published draft regulations that effectively would close China’s government market to American and other foreign software companies. Software is likely to be the first of many government markets to close to foreign competition.

When it comes to information technology,
China is a wakening giant. With a total information and communications technology marketplace of almost $100 billion, the Chiinese appetite for computers, software and networks has more than doubled since 2000.
All things being equal, China’s high-tech growth is a good thing. With more than 1 bil-ion people and a rapidly growing economy,
China’s government wants to continue the Internet policy-making ‘‘trilateralism’’ because it denies ‘‘the due process of civil society, China rejects this assertion.’’ Mr. Speaker, there are few communities in the world that are instantly recognizable, that immediately conjure up an image, an identity, a lifestyle. Venice, California is one such place—a place that people dream about in the depths of winter; that promises eternal sunshine, warm beaches, buff and shapely lifeguards; and the soothing, cell-loss wash of the Pacific Ocean.

On July the 4th, as our Nation celebrates its 229th birthday, Venice, California celebrates its 100th. As a resident of Venice, I am proud to join my neighbors and local leaders in acknowledging this remarkable milestone.

Founded in 1905 by real estate entrepreneur Abbot Kinney, Venice was modeled after the canals and boardwalks of its namesake in Italy. Kinney’s vision established Venice as an entertainment mecca, attracting visitors from around the world to its amusement park, boardwalk businesses, ocean swimming and street performances.

Since its inception, Venice has been a personal attraction for artists and free spirits, beautnik writers, and innovative musicians—
from Jack Kerouac to the Doors. Venice today remains a hub of artistic expression and cultural diversity with its graffiti art murals, sidewalk musicians, street basketball games, roller skate dancers, bodybuilding competitions, and lively restaurants, shops and cafes.

Venice is not only one of the nation’s most unique artistic communities, it is booming with well-informed, politically engaged, civic-minded activists. A visit to the wonderful Farmer’s Market on any weekend morning provides endless opportunities for introspection, from the produce to feed the body, one can feed the mind at the many booths promoting diverse local causes.

Founded in 1905 by real estate entrepreneur Abbot Kinney, Venice was modeled after the canals and boardwalks of its namesake in Italy. Kinney’s vision established Venice as an entertainment mecca, attracting visitors from around the world to its amusement park, boardwalk businesses, ocean swimming and street performances.

Since its inception, Venice has been a personal attraction for artists and free spirits,
beautnik writers, and innovative musicians—
from Jack Kerouac to the Doors. Venice today remains a hub of artistic expression and cultural diversity with its graffiti art murals, sidewalk musicians, street basketball games, roller skate dancers, bodybuilding competitions, and lively restaurants, shops and cafes.

Venice is not only one of the nation’s most unique artistic communities, it is booming
with well-informed, politically engaged, civic-minded activists. A visit to the wonderful Farmer’s Market on any weekend morning provides endless opportunities for introspection, from the produce to feed the body, one can feed the mind at the many booths promoting diverse local causes.

The award-winning Venice Family Clinic is the largest free clinic in the country and provides inspiration to the community through life-saving health care for low-income, uninsured and homeless individuals.

Whether through the skills they learn at the Venice Boys & Girls Club or by cultivating their imagination at Venice Arts in Neighborhoods, our children grow up to be productive citizens. Many go on to dedicate themselves to enriching the community through the Vencise-Marina Rotary or the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Speaker, I am honored to represent the diverse Venice community in the United States Congress. Each 4th of July, we celebrate two historic events together: American independence and the founding of our country.
INTRODUCING THE QUALITY HEALTH CARE COALITION ACT

HON. RON PAUL

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, June 27, 2005

Mr. PAUL. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to introduce the Quality Health Care Coalition Act, which takes a first step towards restoring a true free market in health care by restoring the rights of freedom of contract and association to health care professionals. Over the past few years, we have had much debate in Congress about the difficulties medical professionals and patients are having with Health Maintenance Organizations (HMOs). HMOs are devices used by insurance industries to ration health care. While it is politically popular for members of Congress to bash the HMOs and the insurance industry, the growth of the HMOs are rooted in past government interventions in the health care market through the tax code, the Employee Retirement Security Act (ERSIA), and the federal anti-trust laws. These interventions took control of the health care dollar away from individual patients and providers, thus making it inevitable that something like the HMOs would emerge as a means to control costs.

Many of my well-meaning colleagues would deal with the problems created by the HMOs by expanding the federal government’s control over the health care market. These interventions will inevitably drive up the cost of health care and further erode the ability of patients and providers to determine the best health treatments free of government and third-party interference. In contrast, the Quality Health Care Coalition Act addresses the problems associated with HMOs by restoring medical professionals’ freedom to form voluntary organizations for the purpose of negotiating contracts with an HMO or an insurance company.

As an OB–GYN with over 30 years in practice, I am well aware of how young physicians coming out of medical school feel compelled to sign contracts with HMOs that may contain clauses that compromise their professional integrity. For example, many physicians are contractually forbidden from discussing all available treatment options with their patients because the HMO gatekeeper has deemed the cost too high. Furthermore, because the HMO gatekeeper has deemed the cost too high, many health care professionals cannot sustain a medical practice unless they agree to conform their practice to the dictates of some HMO.

One way health care professionals could counter the power of the HMOs would be to form a voluntary association for the purpose of negotiating with an HMO or an insurance company. However, health care professionals who attempt to form such a group run the risk of persecution under federal anti-trust laws. This not only reduces the ability of health care professionals with HMOs and insurance companies to compete on a level playing field, but also constitutes an unconstitutional violation of medical professionals’ freedom of contract and association.

Under the United States Constitution, the Federal government has no authority to interfere with the private contracts of American citizens. Furthermore, the prohibitions on contracting contained in the Sherman antitrust laws are based on a flawed economic theory which holds that Federal regulators can improve upon the competitive process and restricting the rights of certain market participants deemed too powerful by the government. In fact, anti-trust laws harm consumers by preventing the operation of the free-market, causing prices to rise, quality to suffer, and, as is certainly the case with HMOs and insurance companies, they have taken advantage of the power of the HMO and the medical professionals, favoring certain industries over others.

By restoring the freedom of medical professionals to voluntarily come together to negotiate as a group with HMOs and insurance companies, this bill removes a government-imposed barrier to a true free market in health care. Of course, this bill does not infringe on the rights of health care professionals by forcing them to join a bargaining organization against their will. While Congress should protect the rights of all Americans to join organizations for the purpose of bargaining collectively, Congress also has a moral responsibility to ensure that no worker is forced by law to join or financially support such an organization.

Mr. Speaker, I am hopeful that Congress will not only remove the restraints on medical professionals’ freedom of contract, but will also empower patients to control their health care by passing my Comprehensive Health Care Reform Act. The Comprehensive Health Care Reform Act puts individuals back in charge of their own health care by providing Americans with large tax credits and tax deductions for their health care expenses, including a deduction for premiums for a high-deductible insurance policy purchased in combination with a Health Savings Account. Putting individuals back in charge of their own health care decisions will enable patients to work with providers to ensure they receive the best possible health care at the lowest possible price. If providers and patients are able to form the contractual arrangements that best suit their needs, the HMO monster will wither on the vine without the imposition of new Federal regulations on the insurance industry.

In conclusion, Mr. Chairman, I urge my colleagues to support the Quality Health Care Coalition Act and restore the freedom of contract and association to America’s health care professionals. I also urge my colleagues to join me in working to promote a true free market in health care by putting patients back in charge of the health care dollar by supporting my Comprehensive Health Care Reform Act.

IN OPPOSITION TO THE ONGOING WAR IN IRAQ

HON. HILDA L. SOLIS

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, June 27, 2005

Ms. SOLIS. Mr. Speaker, I rise tonight in opposition to the ongoing war in Iraq.

The Bush Administration has no plan to secure peace in Iraq and has refused to develop a comprehensive exit strategy which ensures the safe return of our troops. When our troops return home, this Administration also has refused to provide the care and services that our veterans need and deserve.

Since President Bush stood on an aircraft carrier to declare the end of “combat,” more than 13,000 troops have been injured—nearly half have sustained serious injuries that prevent them from returning to combat. More than 1,730 servicemembers have died. These servicemen and women are more than just casualty statistics. They have families; they are mothers and fathers, sisters and brothers, daughters and sons. They have families, they are mothers and fathers, sisters and brothers, daughters and sons. And they all have Members of Congress who are supposed to represent their best interests.

I represent 10 brave servicemen who did not return to their families, nor the life they knew before the war. They are Marine Corporal Jorge A. Gonzalez, Army Sergeant Atanasio I Haromarin, Army Private First Class Jose Casanova, Marine Private First Class Francisco A. Martinez Flores, Army Specialist Leroy Harris-Kelly III, Marine Corporal Rudy Salas, Lance Corporal Benjamin M. Gonzalez, Lance Corporal Manuel A. Ceniceros, Specialist Private First Class Marcos O. Nolasco, and Corporal Stephen P. Johnson. These men, our fallen soldiers, are heroes. I have many constituents serving our Nation in Iraq and around the world. Many of them do not even have their U.S. citizenship, yet they put their lives on the line in defense of our Nation. In fact, more than 50,000 green card soldiers are proudly serving this Nation as part of the U.S. military.

Our troops continue to do their commitment and duty to our country. However, this Administration and the military’s leadership have failed in their responsibility to our troops. To date, there is no strategy to ensure that our troops return home. There is a $1 billion shortfall for veterans care. When these troops return home they are returning to a system that cannot care for them or provide the benefits they so greatly sacrificed for and deserve.

Ultimately, a successful Iraq is an Iraq run by Iraqis, not the U.S. military. We owe Iraqis a peace dividend. Many of them do not even have their U.S. citizenship, yet they put their lives on the line in defense of our Nation. And we owe our troops a secure return home to a grateful Nation and a secure future. This mission will not be complete until each one of our servicemen and women are home, something I strongly believe needs to happen soon. Tonight I am proud to stand alongside my colleagues in honoring our fallen heroes. We owe it to them, their families and active service members at home and abroad to have a strategy to bring the troops home.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. WALTER B. JONES

OF NORTH CAROLINA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, June 27, 2005

Mr. JONES of North Carolina. Mr. Speaker, on Friday, June 24, 2005, I missed several rollcall votes due to a family engagement in North Carolina. I ask that my absence be excused. The CONGRESSIONAL RECORD show that had I been present:

For rollcall No. 310—an amendment to H.R. 3010, I would have voted “nay,” for rollcall No.
into law the Fitzgerald Act, now known as the Massachusetts.

Furla, Montana; Neil Heisey, Montana; and 2002—Richard Karas, Michigan. 2003—Rob-

HONORING THE UNITED STATES APPRENTICESHIP ASSOCIATION HALL OF FAME RECIPIENTS

HON. PETER A. DEFAZIO OF OREGON IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES Monday, June 27, 2005

Mr. DEFAZIO. Mr. Speaker, on the 16th day of August, 1937, Franklin D. Roosevelt signed into law the Fitzgerald Act, now known as the National Apprenticeship Act. In the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD of August 7, 1937, Representative Fitzgerald (CT) said, “this bill sets up standards by Federal cooperation with the States and through the formation of voluntary committees in the states, throwing a cloak of protection around boys and girls and setting up standards for certifying them and guaranteeing that when their time of service in a trade has expired, they will come out full-fledged mechanics”.

In 1992 the United States Apprenticeship Association initiated the U.S.A.A. Donald Grabowski Hall of Fame, honoring individuals who have served at least 25 years helping the growth and development of apprenticeship and must be at least 65 years of age.

GENE BICKNELL, FOR THE FINAL GENE BICKNELL GOLF CLASSIC

HON. JIM RYUN OF KANSAS IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES Monday, June 27, 2005

Mr. RYUN of Kansas. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize Gene Bicknell of Pittsburg, Kansas for his dedication to giving back to his community.

Gene has remained an active contributor to the Pittsburg community, and has greatly impacted his neighbors through his generous efforts at Pittsburg State University and the city as a whole. Gene’s devotion to charitable causes is recognized by many as truly inspirational.

The weekend of July 8, 2005 marks the fifteenth and final Gene Bicknell Charity Golf Classic, which benefits Pittsburg’s Mt. Carmel Regional Medical Center and Pittsburg State University. Gene’s alma mater. The tournament has raised over $1.2 million since its first year, and supporters hope to raise an additional $100,000 this summer.

I congratulate Gene on the great success of this annual function and celebrate his humanitarian passion that has touched so many lives.

RECOGNIZING THE OUTSTANDING WORK OF DIANA JORGENSEN UPON HER RETIREMENT

HON. GEORGE MILLER OF CALIFORNIA IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES Monday, June 27, 2005

Mr. MILLER of California. Mr. Speaker, I rise to pay tribute to Ms. Diana Jorgenson, a friend, constant supporter and advocate for the Contra Costa community, as she retires. Diana has a long history dedicated to improving the lives of families in my district and we are all beneficiaries of her service.

Diana’s long career in mental health and disability services began after she received her Masters of Social Work from the University of California at Berkeley in 1968. From there, she went on to work in the Mental Health Agency in San Francisco and was liaison to Sonoma Development Center. She continued her work at the agency until 1971, when she moved to the Golden Gate Regional Center.

From 1973–1975 while her husband was in graduate school, Diana put her skills to work at the Family Service Agency in Honolulu, Hawaii, later returning to the Golden Gate Regional Center and serving as head of the Concord Office. It was in this role she played a major part in establishing the Regional Center of the East Bay, sharing the dream of integrating persons with developmental disabilities into the community.

By 1978, Diana had taken on the role of Manager and Acting Director of Client Services. From there she moved to the San Francisco School and facilitated services for the Visually Handicapped Program. Diana also provided services for the County Office of Education in both the Special Education Division and George Miller Center West.

The Developmental Disability Council welcomed her as a member in 1982 and for five years Diana worked simultaneously for Richmond Unified School District’s as a mental health specialist and in the DD Council.

For the past ten years Diana has worked tirelessly as staff to the Development Disability Council of Contra Costa as well as the Director of the Medically Vulnerable Infant Program for Contra Costa County. Her role has been vital in the Home Visiting Strategy for First Five and the Consultation and Response Team for home visitors.

Diana has served on the Board of the Infant Development Association for twenty-five years and was at one time the State Chair. For four years she also provided training on working with young children exposed to drugs.

Mr. Speaker, Diana has made monumental contributions in the world of social work world and I am pleased to recognize her many accomplishments.

Today, I am proud to commend her for her service to the community, her dedication to those in need and her commitment to the people of Contra Costa County. In recognizing Diana’s great contributions, I would also like to wish her a happy and healthy retirement.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. DEVIN NUNES OF CALIFORNIA IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES Monday, June 27, 2005

Mr. NUNES. Mr. Speaker, on the legislative day of Friday, June 24, 2005, I was unavoidably detained with family matters and was unable to cast a vote on roll call vote Nos. 313–321.

INTRODUCING THE CANCER AND TERMINAL ILLNESS PATIENT HEALTH CARE ACT

HON. RON PAUL OF TEXAS IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES Monday, June 27, 2005

Mr. PAUL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to help working Americans stricken with cancer or other terminal illnesses, and their families, by introducing the Cancer and Terminal Illness Patient Health Care Act. This act exempts people with terminal illnesses from the employee portion of payroll taxes while they are suffering from such illnesses or are incurring significant medical costs associated with their conditions. The Cancer and Terminal Illness Patient Health Care Act also provides a payroll deduc-tion to any worker who is the primary caregiver for a spouse, parent, or child with a ter-

When stricken with cancer or another terminal illness, many Americans struggle to pay for the treatment necessary to save, or extend, their lives. Even employees with health insurance incur costs such as for transportation to and from care centers, prescription drugs not covered by their insurance, or for child care while they are receiving treatment. Yet, the federal government continues to force these employees to pay for retirement benefits they may never live to see.

Many Americans struggle to pay the costs of treating children, a spouse, or a parent with a terminal illness. My bill also provides much
HON. RANDY "DUKE" CUNNINGHAM OF CALIFORNIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, June 27, 2005

Mr. CUNNINGHAM. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to ask my colleagues to join me in honoring Alan Bersin, who this June will conclude his seventh year as Superintendent of San Diego City Schools. As such, he finishes his term of service as the nation’s longest serving superintendent in an urban district of 100,000 or more. He has served our community in Southern California with great distinction as United States Attorney from 1993–1998 and as the Attorney General’s Southwest Border Representative from 1995 to 1998, the so-called “border czar.” Superintendent Bersin has rendered distinguished public service in the cause of leading the transformation of the eighth largest public school district in America.

Under Superintendent Bersin’s leadership, San Diego City Schools earning the highest academic rank increased by more than a third while the number of schools in the lowest category fell from 13 to 1. Mr. Bersin also promoted and successfully inspired 78.8 percent of the electorate to support a $1.5 billion bond to repair and renovate the physical infrastructure of the city schools. He downsized the central office to streamline operations and directed further resources to the classroom. His outreach efforts set a new standard for community participation and dialogue and helped to foster an atmosphere of mutual respect. By maintaining a relentless focus on enhanced instruction and improved student achievement, Superintendent Bersin achieved great things for public education in San Diego.

Mr. Bersin oversaw a transformation of San Diego City Schools. The district is now better able to serve its students, their families and the broader San Diego community. The credit belongs to students. He has taught our community of school and parent leaders who were galvanized and energized by Superintendent Bersin’s leadership. I am also pleased to announce that Mr. Bersin’s service in support of public education will continue as Governor Arnold Schwarzenegger has appointed him Secretary for Education.

A TRIBUTE TO DONALD RUGGERY, SR.
HON. BILL SHUSTER OF PENNSYLVANIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, June 27, 2005

Mr. SHUSTER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Donald Ruggery, Sr., owner of Ruggieri Enterprises LLC of Altoona, who has been honored as the 2005 Small Business Person of the Year by the St. Francis University Small Business Development Center. The Center recognizes businesses that have participated in the University’s small business outreach program whose primary goal is to educate new business owners on how to create a successful business plan as well as assist in locating proper financing for their fledging businesses.

After serving for more than 30 years as the Regional Director for the State Job Services and Unemployment Compensation Office in Altoona, Donald Ruggery, Sr. retired from his duties to assume a position as a consultant. In January 1992, he founded a Spherion staffing services franchise which today has grown into a full-service staffing and human resource consulting company providing permanent and temporary employment to thousands in the area. The success of the Spherion franchise in Altoona has spawned 11 other Spherion locations throughout central and western Pennsylvania.

Today, Ruggieri Enterprises, LLC doing business as Spherion under Donald’s helm, is one of the top franchisees of a publicly-traded, three billion dollar staffing and human capital consulting company.

Donald selflessly refuses to take the full credit for such achievements and insists that others beside him were responsible for accomplishing their success in finding jobs for out-of-work Pennsylvanians. Despite Donald’s refusal to take full recognition, through his careful guidance and leadership, Spherion has developed from a small start-up with one Altoona office at its inception to a multiple location firm with over $34 million in revenue in 2004 alone.

The thousands of Pennsylvanians who now have jobs due to his continued hard work would certainly join me in thanking Donald for his contributions to the community and the economy, as well as serving as an inspiration for the spirit of chivalrous virtue.

INTRODUCING THE GERIATRICIANS LOAN FORGIVENESS ACT OF 2005
HON. ROSA L. DeLAURO OF CONNECTICUT
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, June 27, 2005

Ms. DeLAURO. Mr. Speaker, as our nation’s 76 million baby boomers near retirement age, the number of Americans over age 65 will double to 70 million—one-fifth of the population. Americans older than 85 represent the fastest growing segment of this population and membership in this once exclusive demographic group is projected to grow from four million Americans today to an estimated 19 million by 2050.

Unfortunately, our health care system is ill-prepared to handle the strain of this enormous senior population, largely because we have a critical shortage of geriatric physicians. Fewer than 9,000 geriatricians practice in the United States, less than half of the current need. By 2030, the shortfall of geriatricians may reach 25,000 doctors. Approximately, 2,500 psychiatrists have received added qualifications in geriatric psychiatry, yet our current number of geriatric psychiatrists are needed to provide patient care.

According to estimates from the President’s Commission on Mental Health, at the current rate of approximately 80 new geriatric psychiatrists graduating each year and an estimated 3 percent attrition, there will be approximately 2,640 geriatric psychiatrists by the year 2030, or one per 5,682 older adults with a psychiatric disorder.

America must plan for the burdens the baby boomers demographic shift will place on our health care system and health care providers. Our first step is ensuring the country has an adequate number of trained physicians who specialize in geriatrics.

Today, I am introducing legislation along with my colleague Congresswoman ILEANA ROS-LEHTINEN of Florida, that will encourage more doctors to become certified in geriatrics. The Geriatricians Loan Forgiveness Act would amend the Public Health Service Act to include each year of fellowship training in geriatric medicine or geriatric psychiatry as a year of obligated service under the National Health Corps Loan Repayment Program. Specifically, it would forgive $35,000 of education debt incurred by medical students for each year of advanced training required to obtain a certificate of added qualifications in geriatric medicine or psychiatry.

Geriatric medicine is the foundation of a comprehensive health plan for our most vulnerable seniors. Geriatrics, by focusing on assessment and care coordination, promotes appropriate care and improves the quality of life by allowing them greater independence and eliminating unnecessary and costly trips to the hospital or institutions. A fellowship in geriatric psychiatry provides intensive training in the biological and psychological aspects of normal aging, the psychiatric impact of acute and chronic physical illness, and the biological and psycho-social aspects of the pathology of primary psychiatric disturbances of older age. Thus, these specialists are equipped to diagnose and treat these complex conditions among our frailest citizens.

Mr. Speaker, this kind of specialized care is complicated and demanding. Many doctors inclined to study and practice geriatrics are dissuaded from doing so because treating the elderly takes more time and carries financial disincentives for doctors.

Medical training takes time, and it is important that we take steps now to alleviate the shortages in geriatrics that are only going to grow in the next decade and beyond. This legislation is a commonsense approach and a cost-effective investment, and I hope it will receive the support of the House.
The tax credit would be available to all citizens, regardless of whether or not they itemize their deductions. The credit applies against both income and payroll tax liability. The tax credits provided in this bill will be especially helpful to those Americans whose employers cannot afford to provide health insurance for their employees. These workers must struggle to meet the medical bills of themselves and their families. This burden is especially heavy on parents whose children have a medical condition; such as cancer or a physical disability that requires long-term or specialized health care.

As an OB–GYN who has had the privilege of delivering more than four thousand babies, I know how important it is that parents have the resources to provide adequate health care for their children. The inability of many working Americans to provide health care for their children is rooted in one of the great inequities of the tax code—Congress’ failure to allow individuals the same ability to deduct health care costs that it grants to businesses. As a direct result of Congress’ refusal to provide individuals with health care related tax credits, parents whose employers do not provide health insurance have to struggle to provide health care for their children. Many of these parents work in low-income jobs; oftentimes, their only recourse for health care is the local emergency room.

Sometimes parents are forced to delay seeking care for their children until minor health concerns that could have been easily treated become serious problems requiring expensive treatment! If these parents had access to the type of tax credits provided in the Child Health Care Affordability Act, they would be better able to provide care for their children, and our nation’s already overcrowded emergency rooms would be relieved of the burden of having to provide routine care for people who otherwise cannot afford it.

According to research on the effects of this bill done by my staff and legislative counsel, the benefit of these tax credits would begin to be felt by joint filers with incomes slightly above $18,000 per year, or single income filers with incomes slightly above $15,000 per year. Clearly, this bill will be of the most benefit to low-income Americans balancing the demands of taxation with the needs of their children.

Under the Child Health Care Affordability Act, a struggling single mother with an asthmatic child would at last be able to provide for her child’s needs, while a working-class family will not have to worry about how they will pay the bills if one of their children requires lengthy hospitalization or some other form of specialized care.

Mr. Speaker, this Congress has a moral responsibility to provide tax relief so that low-income parents struggling to care for a sick child can better meet their child’s medical expenses. Some may say that we cannot enact the Child Health Care Affordability Act because it would cause the government to lose revenue. But, who is more deserving of this money, Congress or the working parents of a sick child?

The Child Health Care Affordability Act takes a major step toward helping working Americans meet their health care needs by providing them with generous health care related tax cuts and tax credits. I urge my colleagues to support the pro-family, pro-health care tax cuts contained in the Child Health Care Affordability Act.
SENATE COMMITTEE MEETINGS

Title IV of Senate Resolution 4, as agreed by the Senate on February 4, 1977, calls for establishment of a system for a computerized schedule of all meetings and hearings of Senate committees, subcommittees, joint committees, and committees of conference. This title requires all such committees to notify the Office of the Senate Daily Digest—designated by the Rules Committee—of the time, place, and purpose of the meetings, when scheduled, and any cancellations or changes in the meetings as they occur.

As an additional procedure along with the computerization of this information, the Office of the Senate Daily Digest will prepare this information for printing in the Extensions of Remarks section of the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD on Monday and Wednesday of each week.

Meetings scheduled for Tuesday, June 28, 2005 may be found in the Daily Digest of today’s RECORD.

MEETINGS SCHEDULED

JUNE 29

9:30 a.m.

Armed Services

To hold hearings to examine the nominations of General Peter Pace, USMC, for reappointment to the grade of general and to be Chairman, Joint Chiefs of Staff, Admiral Edmund P. Giambastiani, Jr., USN, for reappointment to the grade of admiral and to be Vice Chairman, Joint Chiefs of Staff, General T. Michael Moseley, USAF, for reappointment to the grade of general and to be Chief of Staff of the Air Force, Eric S. Edelman, of Virginia, to be Under Secretary of Defense for Policy, Daniel R. Stanley, of Kansas, to be Assistant Secretary of Defense for Legislative Affairs, and James A. Rispoli, of Virginia, to be Assistant Secretary of Energy for Environmental Management.

SD–106

Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs

To hold hearings to examine vulnerabilities in the United States passport system.

SD–562

Indian Affairs

Business meeting to consider S.J. Res. 15, to acknowledge a long history of official deprivations and ill-conceived policies by the United States Government regarding Indian tribes and offer an apology to all Native Peoples on behalf of the United States, S. 374, to provide compensation to the Lower Brule and Crow Creek Sioux Tribes of South Dakota for damage to tribal land caused by Pick-Sloan projects along the Missouri River, S. 113, to modify the date as of which certain tribal land of the Lytton Rancheria of California is deemed to be held in trust, S. 681, to amend the Public Health Service Act to establish a National Cord Blood Stem Cell Bank Network to prepare, store, and distribute human umbilical cord blood stem cells for the treatment of patients and to support peer-reviewed research using such cells, and any nominations cleared for action.

SD–430

Foreign Relations

To hold hearings to examine the nominations of John Ross Beyrle, of Michigan, to be Ambassador to the Republic of Bulgaria, Marie L. Yovanovitch, of Connecticut, to be Ambassador to the Kyrgyz Republic, Robert H. Tuttle, of California, to be Ambassador to the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, and Ronald Spogli, of California, to be Ambassador to the Italian Republic.

SD–419

International Economic Policy, Export and Trade Promotion Subcommittee

To hold hearings to examine U.S. economic development strategy and the south caucuses.

SD–450

Intelligence

To hold a closed briefing regarding certain intelligence matters.

SH–219

JUNE 30

9:30 a.m.

Armed Services

To hold hearings to examine the status of the U.S. Army and U.S. Marine Corps in fighting the global war on terrorism.

SR–325

Foreign Relations

To hold hearings to examine challenges of the Middle East road map.

SD–419

Judiciary

Business meeting to consider pending calendar business.

SD–226

10 a.m.

Commerce, Science, and Transportation Technology, Innovation, and Competitiveness Subcommittee

To hold hearings to examine how information technology can reduce medical errors, lower healthcare costs, and improve the quality of patient care, including the importance of developing interoperable electronic medical records and highlight new technologies that will impact how health services are provided in the future.

SR–253

Aging

To hold hearings to examine the importance of prevention in curing Medicare.

SH–216

2 p.m.

Appropriations

Business meeting to markup proposed legislation making appropriations for fiscal year 2006 for the Department of State and foreign operations.

SD–106

Finance

Taxation and IRS Oversight Subcommittee

To hold business to examine savings and investment issues.

SD–215

Veterans’ Affairs

To hold hearings to examine the nominations of James Philip Terry, of Virginia, to be Chairman of the Board of Veterans’ Appeals, Department of Veterans Affairs, and Charles S. Cicciolino, of Virginia, to be Assistant Secretary of Labor for Veterans’ Employment and Training.

SR–418

Conferences

Immigration, Border Security and Citizenship Subcommittee

To hold hearings to examine the cooperation of participating countries relating to the need for comprehensive immigration reform.

Intelligence
To hold a closed briefing regarding certain intelligence matters.

3 p.m.
Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions
Education and Early Childhood Development Subcommittee
To hold hearings to examine issues relating to American history.

3 p.m.

JULY 1

9:30 a.m.
Appropriations
Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, and Related Agencies Subcommittee
To hold hearings to examine funding for the Corporation for Public Broadcasting.

JULY 12

9:30 a.m.
Appropriations
Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, and Related Agencies Subcommittee
To hold hearings to examine stem cell research (single cell technique without destruction of the embryo).

10 a.m.
Energy and Natural Resources
To hold an oversight hearing to examine the effects of the U.S. nuclear testing program on the Marshall Islands.

SEPTEMBER 20

10 a.m.
Veterans’ Affairs
To hold joint hearings with the House Committee on Veterans Affairs to examine the legislative presentation of the American Legion.

JUNE 29

10 a.m.
Commerce, Science, and Transportation
To hold hearings to examine SpectrumDTV.

JUNE 30

2 p.m.
Veterans’ Affairs
To hold hearings to examine the nominations of James Philip Terry, of Virginia, to be Chairman of the Board of Veterans’ Appeals, Department of Veterans Affairs, and Charles S. Ciccolella, of Virginia, to be Assistant Secretary of Labor for Veterans’ Employment and Training.

CANCELLATIONS

JUNE 29

SR-253

JUNE 30

SR-418
Chamber Action

Routine Proceedings, pages S7397–S7449

Measures Introduced: Six bills were introduced, as follows: S. 1312–1317.

Measures Reported:

S. 1017, to reauthorize grants for the water resources research and technology institutes established under the Water Resources Research Act of 1984, with amendments. (S. Rept. No. 109–90)

S. 655, to amend the Public Health Service Act with respect to the National Foundation for the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, with an amendment in the nature of a substitute. (S. Rept. No. 109–91)

S. 268, to provide competitive grants for training court reporters and closed captioners to meet requirements for realtime writers under the Telecommunications Act of 1996, with amendments. (S. Rept. No. 109–93)

S. 432, to establish a digital and wireless network technology program. (S. Rept. No. 109–94)

Measures Passed:

Red Tide Emergency Relief Act: Senate passed S. 1316, to authorize the Small Business Administration to provide emergency relief to shellfish growers affected by toxic red tide losses.

Partners for Fish and Wildlife Act: Senate passed S. 260, to authorize the Secretary of the Interior to provide technical and financial assistance to private landowners to restore, enhance, and manage private land to improve fish and wildlife habitats through the Partners for Fish and Wildlife Program, after agreeing to the committee amendments.

Interior Appropriations: Senate resumed consideration of H.R. 2361, making appropriations for the Department of the Interior, environment, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and pursuant to the order of June 23, 2005, agreed to the committee amendment in the nature of a substitute, which will be considered as original text for the purpose of further amendment, taking action on the following amendments proposed there-to:

Adopted:

Burns (for Ensign) Amendment No. 1033, to prohibit the use of funds for the demolition of buildings at the Zephyr Shoals property, Lake Tahoe, Nevada.

Dorgan (for Feinstein) Amendment No. 1024, to authorize the imposition of fees for overnight lodging at certain properties at Fort Baker, California.

Burns (for Frist) Amendment No. 1028, to reinstate a provision relating to National Parks with deed restrictions.

Dorgan (for Wyden) Amendment No. 1035, to extend the authority for watershed restoration and enhancement agreements.

Burns (for Craig) Amendment No. 1041, to withdraw from mineral entry or appropriation under mining lease laws, and from leasing claims under mineral and geothermal leasing laws, certain land in the Payette National Forest.

Pending:

Burns (for Voinovich) Amendment No. 1010, to prohibit the use of funds to take certain land into trust without the consent of the Governor of the State in which the land is located.

Burns (for Frist/Reid) Amendment No. 1022, to provide for Congressional security relating to certain real property.

Dorgan (for Boxer) Amendment No. 1023, to prohibit the use of funds by the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency to accept, consider, or rely on third-party intentional dosing human studies for pesticides or to conduct intentional dosing human studies for pesticides.

Dorgan Amendment No. 1025, to require Federal reserve banks to transfer certain surplus funds to the general fund of the Treasury, to be used for the provision of Indian health care services.
Sununu/Bingaman Amendment No. 1026, to prohibit the use of funds to plan, design, study or construct certain forest development roads in the Tongass National Forest.

Dorgan (for Kerry) Amendment No. 1029, making emergency supplemental appropriations for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2005, for the Veterans Health Administration.

Dorgan (for Bingaman) Amendment No. 1030, to modify a provision relating to funds appropriated for Bureau of Indian Affairs postsecondary schools.

Dorgan (for Bingaman) Amendment No. 1031, to set aside additional amounts for Youth Conservation Corps projects.

Dorgan (for Durbin) Amendment No. 1032, to prohibit the use of funds in contravention of the Executive order relating to Federal actions to address environmental justice in minority populations and low-income populations.

Dorgan (for Reed) Amendment No. 1036, to modify certain administrative provisions relating to the brownfield site characterization and assessment program.

Dorgan (for Reed) Amendment No. 1037, to authorize recipients of grants provided under the brownfield site characterization and assessment program to use grant funds for reasonable administrative expenses.

Salazar Amendment No. 1038, to provide additional funds for the payment in lieu of taxes program, with an offset.

Salazar Amendment No. 1039, to provide that certain user fees collected under the Land and Water Conservation Act of 1965 be paid to the States.

Burns (for Bond) Amendment No. 1040, to set aside funds for the University of Missouri—Columbia to establish a wetland ecology center of excellence.

Burns (for Warner) Amendment No. 1042, to set aside funds for the replacement of the main gate facility at the Wolf Trap National Park for the Performing Arts, Virginia.

Burns (for Ensign) Amendment No. 1012, to provide for the conveyance of certain Bureau of Land Management land in the State of Nevada to the Las Vegas Motor Speedway.

Burns (for Coburn) Amendment No. 1002, to reduce total appropriations in the bill by 1.7 percent for the purpose of fully funding the Department of Defense.

Burns (for Coburn) Amendment No. 1003, to require conference report inclusion of limitations, directives, and earmarks.

Burns (for Coburn) Amendment No. 1015, to transfer funding to Wildland Fire Management from the National Endowment for the Arts and the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Burns (for Coburn) Amendment No. 1019, to transfer funding to the Special Diabetes Program for Indians and the Alcohol and Substance Abuse Program within the Indian Health Service from funding for Federal land acquisition.

Burns (for Coburn) Amendment No. 1020, to express the Sense of the Senate that any additional emergency supplemental appropriations should be offset with reductions in discretionary spending.

Dorgan (for Feingold) Amendment No. 1043, to require the Government Accountability Office to conduct an audit of the competitive sourcing program of the Forest Service.

Dorgan (for Byrd) Amendment No. 1044, to set aside funds for the White Sulphur Springs Fish Hatchery.

Dorgan (for Conrad) Amendment No. 1045, to set aside funds for a brownfields assessment of the Fortuna Radar Site.

Dorgan (for Sarbanes) Amendment No. 1046, to provide for a study of the feasibility of designating the Captain John Smith Chesapeake National Historic Watertrail as a national historic trail.

Kyl (for Smith) Amendment No. 1048, to require the Secretary of Agriculture to report to Congress on the rehabilitation of the Biscuit Fire area of southern Oregon.

Kyl Amendment No. 1049, to provide certain earmarks for State and tribal assistance grant funds.

Kyl Amendment No. 1050, to modify the formula for the allotment of grants to States for the establishment of State water pollution control revolving funds.

Kyl (for Inhofe) Amendment No. 1051, to encourage competition in assistance agreements awarded by the Environmental Protection Agency.

Byrd (for Murray) Amendment No. 1052, making emergency supplemental appropriations for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2005, for the Veterans Health Administration.

Byrd/Cochran Amendment No. 1053, to provide funds for the Memorial to Martin Luther King, Jr.

Dorgan (for Bingaman) Amendment No. 1054, to set aside additional amounts for Youth Conservation Corps projects.
Dorgan (for Bingaman) Amendment No. 1055, to provide for the consideration of the effect of competitive sourcing on wildland fire management activities.

Dorgan (for Bingaman) Amendment No. 1056, to strike the title providing for the disposition of Forest Service land and the realignment of Forest Service facilities.

Dorgan (for Bingaman) Amendment No. 1057, to extend the Forest Service conveyances pilot program.

Dorgan (for Bingaman) Amendment No. 1058, to provide a substitute for title V, Facility Realignment and Enhancement Act of 2005.

Dorgan Amendment No. 1059, to facilitate family travel to Cuba in humanitarian circumstance.

Dorgan (for Landrieu) Amendment No. 1060, to make certain funding revisions relating to Historically Black Colleges and Universities, and Department of the Interior administrative expenses.

Dorgan (for Obama) Amendment No. 1061, to provide that none of the funds made available in this Act may be used in contravention of 15 U.S.C. section 2682(c)(3) or to delay the implementation of that section.

Dorgan (for Obama) Amendment No. 1062, to provide that of the funds made available under the heading “Environmental Programs and Management,” not less than $100,000 shall be made available to issue the proposed rule required under 15 U.S.C. section 2682(c)(3) by November 1, 2005, and promulgate the final rule required under 15 U.S.C. section 2682(c)(3) by September 30, 2006.

A unanimous-consent agreement was reached providing for further consideration of the bill on Tuesday, June 28, 2005.

Energy Policy Act Amendment—Agreement: A unanimous-consent agreement was reached providing that all references to Amendment No. 978, to clarify the definition of coal to liquid fuel technology, to the bill H.R. 6, to ensure jobs for our future with secure, affordable, and reliable energy, agreed to on Wednesday, June 22, 2005, reflect that the sponsor of the amendment is Senator Conrad and not Senator Obama.

Energy Policy Act—Agreement: A unanimous-consent agreement was reached providing for further consideration of H.R. 6, Energy Policy Act, at 9:45 a.m. on Tuesday, June 28, 2005, with a vote on final passage of the bill to occur immediately thereon.

Messages From the House:

Measures Referred:

Executive Communications:

Additional Cosponsors:

Statements on Introduced Bills/Resolutions:

Additional Statements:

Amendments Submitted:

Notices of Hearings/Meetings:

Adjournment: Senate convened at 1 p.m., and adjourned at 6:24 p.m. until 9:45 a.m., on Tuesday, June 28, 2005. (For Senate’s program, see the remarks of the Acting Majority Leader in today’s Record on page S7449.)

Committee Meetings

No committee meetings were held.
House of Representatives

Chamber Action

Public Bills and Resolutions Introduced: 11 public bills, H.R. 3070–3080 and 2 resolutions, H. Con. Res. 193; and H. Res. 343, were introduced.

Additional Cosponsors:

Reports Filed: Reports were filed today as follows:

H. Res. 341, providing for consideration of H.R. 3057, making appropriations for foreign operations, export financing, and related programs for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006 (H. Rept. 109–155);

H. Res. 342, providing for consideration of H.R. 3058, making appropriations for the Departments of Transportation, Treasury, and Housing and Urban Development, the Judiciary, District of Columbia and independent agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006 (H. Rept. 109–156);

H.R. 426, to encourage the development and integrated use by the public and private sectors of remote sensing and other geospatial information, amended (H. Rept. 109–157); and

H.R. 1022, to provide for a Near-Earth Object Survey program to detect, track, catalogue, and characterize certain near-earth asteroids and comets (H. Rept. 109–158).

Speaker: Read a letter from the Speaker wherein he appointed Representative Aderholt to act as speaker pro tempore for today.

Recess: The House recessed at 12:38 p.m and reconvened at 2 p.m.

Suspensions: The House agreed to suspend the rules and pass the following measures:

Recognizing National Homeownership Month: H. Res. 312, recognizing National Homeownership Month and the importance of homeownership in the United States;

Little Rock Central High School Desegregation 50th Anniversary Commemorative Coin Act: H.R. 358, amended, to require the Secretary of the Treasury to mint coins in commemoration of the 50th anniversary of the desegregation of the Little Rock Central High School in Little Rock, Arkansas;

Sense of Congress that a Caribbean-American Heritage Month should be established: H. Con. Res. 71, expressing the sense of Congress that there should be established a Caribbean-American Heritage Month;

John J. Hainkel Post Office Building Designation Act: H.R. 2346, amended, to designate the facility of the United States Postal Service located at 105 NW Railroad Avenue in Hammond, Louisiana, as the “John J. Hainkel Post Office Building”;

Agreed to amend the title so as to read: to designate the facility of the United States Postal Service located at 105 NW Railroad Avenue in Hammond, Louisiana, as the “John J. Hainkel, Jr., Post Office Building”.

Mayor Joseph S. Daddona Memorial Post Office Designation Act: H.R. 2490, to designate the facility of the United States Postal Service located at 442 West Hamilton Street, Allentown, Pennsylvania, as the “Mayor Joseph S. Daddona Memorial Post Office”;

Commemorating Mystic Seaport: the Museum of America and the Sea in recognition of its 75th year: H. Con. Res. 152, amended, commemorating Mystic Seaport: the Museum of America and the Sea in recognition of its 75th year;

Delaware River Protection Act of 2005: H.R. 1412, amended, to amend the Ports and Waterways Safety Act to require notification of the Coast Guard regarding obstructions to navigation;

Authorizing the establishment of a memorial to regiments from New Hampshire at Antietam National Battlefield: H.R. 1084, amended, to authorize the establishment at Antietam National Battlefield of a memorial to the officers and enlisted men of the Fifth, Sixth, and Ninth New Hampshire Volunteer Infantry Regiments and the First New Hampshire Light Artillery Battery who fought in the Battle of Antietam on September 17, 1862;

Upper White Salmon Wild and Scenic Rivers Act: H.R. 38, amended, to designate a portion of the White Salmon River as a component of the National Wild and Scenic Rivers System; Pages H5205–06

Taunton, Massachusetts Special Resources Study Act: H.R. 1512, amended, to direct the Secretary of the Interior to conduct a special resources study regarding the suitability and feasibility of designating certain historic buildings and areas in Taunton, Massachusetts, as a unit of the National Park System; Pages H5206–07

Honoring members of the U.S. Air Force who were killed in the June 25, 1996 terrorist bombing of the Khobar Towers U.S. military housing compound: H. Con. Res. 188, honoring the members of the United States Air Force who were killed in the June 25, 1996, terrorist bombing of the Khobar Towers United States military housing compound near Dhahran, Saudi Arabia; Pages H5207–09

Sense of the House regarding the massacre at Srebrenica in July 1995: H. Res. 199, amended, expressing the sense of the House of Representatives regarding the massacre at Srebrenica in July 1995, by a yea-and-nay vote of 370 yeas to 1 nay, Roll No. 322; and Pages H5209–14, H5216–17

Urging the Government of the Republic of Albania to ensure that the elections on July 3, 2005 are conducted in accordance with international standards for free and fair elections: H. Con. Res. 155, urging the Government of the Republic of Albania to ensure that the parliamentary elections to be held on July 3, 2005, a conducted in accordance with international standards for free and fair elections, by a 2/5 yea-and-nay vote of 369 yeas to 1 nay, Roll No. 323. Pages H5214–16, 5217–18

Recess: The House recessed at 4:35 p.m. and reconvened at 6:30 p.m. Page H5216

Suspension—Proceedings Postponed: The House began consideration of the following measure under suspension of the rules. Further consideration will continue tomorrow, June 28. Pages H5216

Military Personnel Financial Services Protection Act: H.R. 458, amended, to prevent the sale of abusive insurance and investment products to military personnel. Pages H5186–92

British-American Interparliamentary Group—Appointment: The Chair announced the Speaker’s appointment of the following Members to the British-American Interparliamentary Group: Representative Petri, Chairman; and Representative Boozman, Vice Chairman. Page H5216

Quorum Calls—Votes: Two yea-and-nay votes developed during the proceedings of today and appear on pages H5216–17 and H5217–18. There were no quorum calls.

Adjournment: The House met at 12:30 p.m., and adjourned at 11:54 p.m.

Committee Meetings

TRANSPORTATION, TREASURY, AND HUD, THE JUDICIARY, DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, AND INDEPENDENT AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS FY 2006

Committee on Rules: Granted, by voice vote, an open rule providing one hour of general debate on H.R. 3058, making appropriations for the Departments of Transportation, Treasury, and Housing and Urban Development, the Judiciary, District of Columbia, and independent agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, equally divided and controlled by the chairman and ranking minority member of the Committee on Appropriations. The rule waives all points of order against consideration of the bill. Under the rules of the House the bill shall be read for amendment by paragraph. The rule waives all points of order against provisions in the bill for failure to comply with clause 2 of rule XXI (prohibiting unauthorized appropriations or legislative provisions in an appropriations bill), except as specified in the resolution. The rule authorizes the Chair to accord priority in recognition to Members who have pre-printed their amendments in the Congressional Record. Finally, the rule provides one motion to recommit with or without instructions. Testimony was heard from Representatives Knollenberg and Olver.

FOREIGN OPERATIONS, EXPORT FINANCING, AND RELATED PROGRAMS APPROPRIATIONS FY 2006

Committee on Rules: Granted, by voice vote, an open rule providing one hour of general debate on H.R. 3057, making appropriations for foreign operations, export financing, and related programs for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, equally divided and controlled by the chairman and ranking minority member of the Committee on Appropriations. The rule waives all points of order against consideration of the bill. Under the rules of the House the bill shall be read for amendment by paragraph. The rule waives all points of order against provisions in the bill for failure to comply with clause 2 of rule XXI (prohibiting unauthorized appropriations or legislative provisions in an appropriations bill), except as specified in the resolution. The rule authorizes the Chair to accord priority in recognition to Members who have pre-printed their amendments in the Congressional Record. Finally, the rule provides one motion to recommit with or without instructions. Testimony was heard from Representatives Kolbe and Lowey.

COMMITTEE MEETINGS FOR TUESDAY, JUNE 28, 2005

(Committee meetings are open unless otherwise indicated)

Senate

Committee on Agriculture, Nutrition, and Forestry: to hold hearings to examine the Agricultural Risk Protection Act of 2000 and related crop insurance issues, 10 a.m., SR–328A.

Committee on Energy and Natural Resources: Subcommittee on National Parks, to hold hearings to examine S. 206, to designate the Ice Age Floods National Geologic Trail, S. 556, to direct the Secretary of the Interior and the Secretary of Agriculture to jointly conduct a study of certain land adjacent to the Walnut Canyon National Monument in the State of Arizona, S. 588, to amend the National Trails System Act to direct the Secretary of the Interior and the Secretary of Agriculture to jointly conduct a study on the feasibility of designating the Arizona Trail as a national scenic trail or a national historic trail, and S. 955, to direct the Secretary of the Interior to conduct a special resource study to determine the suitability and feasibility of including in the National Park System certain sites in Williamson County, Tennessee, relating to the Battle of Franklin, 10 a.m., 2318 Rayburn.

Committee on Finance: business meeting to mark up S. 1307, to implement the Dominican Republic-Central America-United States Free Trade Agreement, and S.J. Res. 18, approving the renewal of import restrictions contained in the Burmese Freedom and Democracy Act of 2003, 9 a.m., SH–216.

Full Committee, to hold hearings to examine threatening the health care safety net regarding Medicaid waste, fraud and abuse, 10 a.m., SH–216.

Committee on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs: Subcommittee on Oversight of Government Management, the Federal Workforce, and the District of Columbia, to hold hearings to examine the security clearance process of the Department of Defense (DOD), focusing on the transfer of investigative responsibilities from DOD to the Office of Personnel Management (OPM), including the impact this shift will have on the ability to investigate and adjudicate security clearances in a thorough and expeditious manner, including strategies employed by DOD and OPM to remove the Personnel Security Clearance Program from the high-risk list, 10 a.m., SD–562.

Committee on Indian Affairs: to hold an oversight hearing to examine regulation of Indian gaming, 10 a.m., SD–106.

Committee on Veterans’ Affairs: to hold hearings to examine the shortfall in VA’s medical care budget, 10:30 a.m., SR–418.

Special Committee on Aging: to hold hearings to examine the structure of the Medicaid program and its use of mandatory and optional populations and benefits, focusing on how Congress can meet its budgetary obligations to find savings in Medicaid and strengthen the program for the long-term, 3 p.m., SD–G50.

House

Committee on Appropriations, Subcommittee on Military Quality of Life, and Veterans’ Affairs, and Related Agencies, on Veterans Affairs, 9 a.m., 2362–A Rayburn.

Committee on Armed Services, Subcommittee on Military Personnel, hearing on the religious climate at the U.S. Air Force Academy, 2 p.m., 2118 Rayburn.

Committee on Education and the Workforce, Subcommittee on Education Reform, hearing entitled “How the Private Sector is Helping States and Communities Improve High School Education?,” 2 p.m., 2175 Rayburn.

Committee on Government Reform, hearing entitled “Under Fire: Does the District of Columbia’s Gun Ban Help or Hurt the Fight Against Crime?,” 2:30 p.m., 2154 Rayburn.

Subcommittee on Regulatory Affairs, hearing entitled “The Impact of Regulation on U.S. Manufacturing: Spotlight on Department of Labor and Department of Transportation,” 2 p.m., 2203 Rayburn.

Committee on the Judiciary, Subcommittee on Commercial and Administrative Law, hearing on the Legal Services Corporation: A Review of Leasing Choices and Landlord Relations, 12 p.m., 2141 Rayburn.

Subcommittee on Courts, the Internet and Intellectual Property, to mark up the following bills: H.R. 2791, United States Patent and Trademark Fee Modernization Act of 2005; and H.R. 2955, Intellectual Property Jurisdiction Clarification Act of 2005, 10 a.m., 2141 Rayburn.

Committee on Science, hearing on The Future of NASA, 10 a.m., 2318 Rayburn.
Subcommittee on Environment, Technology, and Standard, hearing on Small Business Innovation and Research: What is the Optimal role of Venture Capital?” 3 p.m., 2318 Rayburn.

Committee on Small Business, Subcommittee on Workforce, Empowerment and Government Programs, hearing entitled “How the Clean Air Act Affects Auto Repair,” 2 p.m., 311 Cannon.

Committee on Ways and Means, Subcommittee on Select Revenue Measures, hearing on Funding Rules for Multi-employer Defined Benefit Plans in H.R. 2830, Pension Protection Act of 2005, 10 a.m., 1100 Longworth.
Next Meeting of the SENATE
9:45 a.m., Tuesday, June 28

Senate Chamber

Program for Tuesday: Senate will resume consideration of H.R. 6, Energy Policy Act, with a vote on final passage of the bill to occur immediately thereon; following which, Senate will continue consideration of H.R. 2361, Interior Appropriations.

(Senate will recess from 12:30 p.m. until 2:15 p.m. for their respective party conferences.)

Next Meeting of the HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
9 a.m., Tuesday, June 28

House Chamber

Extensions of Remarks, as inserted in this issue

Becerra, Xavier, Calif., E1370
Brown-Waite, Ginny, Fla., E1364
Cunningham, Randy “Duke”, Calif., E1369
Davis, Danny K., Ill., E1357
DeFazio, Peter A., Ore., E1368
DeLauro, Rosa L., Conn., E1369
Dent, Charles W., Pa., E1364
Harman, Jane, Calif., E1366
Higgins, Brian, N.Y., E1368, E1362, E1364, E1365
Jones, Walter B., N.C., E1367
Kolbe, Jim, Ariz., E1358
Kucinich, Dennis J., Ohio, E1361, E1364, E1365
Lofgren, Zoe, Calif., E1365
Meeke, Kendrick B., Fla., E1358
Michaud, Michael H., Me., E1364
Miller, George, Calif., E1368
Nadler, Jerrold, N.Y., E1357
Nunes, Devin, Calif., E1368
Paul, Ron, Tex., E1361, E1363, E1365, E1367, E1368, E1370
Pence, Mike, Ind., E1357
Porter, Jon C., Nev., E1363
Rangel, Charles B., N.Y., E1366
Ryan, Tim, Ohio, E1358
Ryan, Jim, N.Y., E1358
Sanders, Bernard, Vt., E1363
Shaw, E. Clay Jr., Fla., E1362
Shuster, Bill, Pa., E1369
Solis, Hilda L., Calif., E1367
Terry, Lee, Neb., E1358
Wextor, Robert, Fl., E1363