

SEC. 7. APPLICABILITY; TERMINATION OF AUTHORITY.

This Act and the authority provided by this Act (including by any amendment made by this Act) shall—

(1) apply to each major disaster declared in accordance with section 401 of the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act (42 U.S.C. 5170) during calendar year 2005; and

(2) terminate on the date that is 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act.

REMOVAL OF INJUNCTION OF SECRECY—TREATY DOCUMENTS NOS. 109-5 AND 109-6

Mr. MCCONNELL. Mr. President, as in executive session, I ask unanimous consent that the injunction of secrecy be removed from the following treaties transmitted to the Senate on October 27, 2005, by the President of the United States: the Tax Convention with Bangladesh, Treaty Document No. 109-5; and the U.N. Convention Against Corruption, Treaty Document No. 109-6. I further ask unanimous consent that the treaties be considered as having been read the first time; that they be referred, with accompanying papers, to the Committee on Foreign Relations and ordered to be printed; and that the President's messages be printed in the RECORD.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The messages of the President are as follows:

To the Senate of the United States:

I transmit herewith for the advice and consent of the Senate to ratification a Convention Between the Government of the United States of America and the Government of Bangladesh for the Avoidance of Double Taxation and the Prevention of Fiscal Evasion with Respect to Taxes on Income signed at Dhaka on September 26, 2004 (the "Convention"). An exchange of notes is enclosed, and the report of the Department of State with respect to the Convention is transmitted for the information of the Senate.

This Convention, which is similar to tax treaties between the United States and other developing nations, provides maximum rates of tax to be applied to various types of income and protection from double taxation of income. The Convention also provides for the resolution of disputes and sets forth rules making its benefits unavailable to those who are engaged in treaty forum shopping.

I recommend that the Senate give early and favorable consideration to this Convention and that the Senate give its advice and consent to ratification.

GEORGE W. BUSH.

To the Senate of the United States:

With a view to receiving the advice and consent of the Senate to ratification, I transmit herewith the United Nations Convention Against Corruption (the "Corruption Convention"), which was adopted by the United Nations General Assembly on October 31, 2003. I also transmit, for the information of the Senate, the report of the Secretary of State with respect to the Corruption Convention, with an enclosure.

The international fight against corruption is an important foreign policy priority for the United States. Corruption hinders sustainable development, erodes confidence in democratic institutions, and facilitates transnational crime and terrorism. The Convention will be an effective tool to assist in the growing global effort to combat corruption.

The U.N. Corruption Convention is the first global multilateral treaty to comprehensively address the problems relating to corruption. It provides for a broad range of cooperation, including extradition and mutual legal assistance, and commits governments to take measures that will prevent corruption from happening in the first place. The Corruption Convention includes provisions to criminalize and prevent corruption and provides procedures for governments to recover assets that have been illicitly acquired by corrupt officials.

The provisions of the Corruption Convention are explained in the accompanying report of the Department of State. The report also sets forth proposed reservations that would be deposited by the United States with its instrument of ratification. With these reservations, the Convention will not require implementing and consent to its ratification, subject to the reservations, understandings, and declarations described in the accompanying report of the Department of State.

I recommend that the Senate give early and favorable consideration to the Corruption Convention and give its advice and consent to its ratification, subject to the reservations, understandings, and declarations described in the accompanying report of the Department of State.

GEORGE W. BUSH.

AUTHORIZING THE REMAINS OF ROSA PARKS TO LIE IN HONOR IN THE ROTUNDA OF THE CAPITOL

Mr. MCCONNELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate proceed to the immediate consideration of S. Con. Res. 61, submitted early today.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report the concurrent resolution by title.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

A concurrent resolution (S. Con. Res. 61) authorizing the remains of Rosa Parks to lie in honor in the rotunda of the Capitol.

There being no objection, the Senate proceeded to consider the concurrent resolution.

Mr. DODD. Mr. President, on Monday, this Nation lost a great American humanitarian, public servant, and true modern day civil rights hero, Mrs. Rosa Parks. The powerful and nonviolent act of defiance of this single, extraordinary lady changed the course of human history in this Nation, and around the world. By her respectful refusal to give up her seat to a white man and move to a seat in the back of a Montgomery, AL, city bus 50 years ago, Rosa Parks spoke to the fundamental truth of our democracy: that all men are created equal. None of us living today, nor the future generations of an eternity of tomorrows, will ever be the same because of the act of this brave woman. By her solitary action, Rosa Parks proved that one person can make a difference. And she did.

Rosa Parks is not just a national hero, she is the embodiment of our social and human conscience and the spark that lit the flame of liberty and equality for African Americans and minority groups in this country and around the globe. Nelson Mandela, the former President of South Africa, once called her "the David who challenged Goliath" and his inspiration during his long imprisonment prior to taking office.

It is altogether fitting and proper that this Nation honor the memory and gentle spirit of this great American and her legacy by providing an opportunity for the ordinary citizens of this Nation to pay their last respects to Mrs. Rosa Parks.

Therefore, I proposed to the Senate leadership that we adopt a resolution authorizing such, and I am grateful to them for sponsoring the resolution that I authored to authorize the use of the Capitol Rotunda for the remains of Mrs. Rosa Parks to lie in honor beginning on Sunday, October 30.

It has been the longstanding tradition of the Congress to authorize this honor for not just Members of Congress and Presidents, but ordinary citizens whose extraordinary efforts and service distinguished them in the history of this Nation. Other great Americans who have been similarly honored date back to 1909 when Pierre Charles L'Enfant, planner of the Capital City of Washington, lay in state in the Rotunda. Others include Admiral George Dewey in 1917; General John Joseph Pershing in 1948; General Douglas MacArthur in 1964; Director of the FBI, J. Edgar Hoover in 1972; and most recently, Capitol Police Officers Jacob Joseph Chestnut and John Michael Gibson in 1998.

Congress recognized the need for the Nation to pay its respects to these honorable men and Congress should permit the Nation to pay its last respects to this honorable woman, Mrs. Rosa Louise Parks, as well.

I thank my colleagues for their assistance and support and urge the House to adopt this measure expeditiously so that America may properly honor this courageous lady and great America.

Mr. MCCONNELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the concurrent resolution be agreed to, the
