CONFERENCE REPORT ON H.R. 3058, TRANSPORTATION, TREASURY, HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT, THE JUDICIARY, THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, AND INDEPENDENT AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 2006

Mr. KNOLLENBERG. Mr. Speaker, pursuant to House Resolution 565, I call up the conference report on the bill (H.R. 3058) making appropriations for the Departments of Transportation, Treasury, and Housing and Urban Development, the Judiciary, District of Columbia, and independent agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2006, and for other purposes.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 565, the conference report is considered read.

(For conference report and statement, see prior proceedings of the House of November 17, 2005.)

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Michigan (Mr. KNOLLENBERG) and the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. OLVER) each will control 30 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. KNOLLENBERG).

Mr. KNOLLENBERG. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I bring to the House the first-ever conference report for Transportation, Treasury, Housing and Urban Development, the Judiciary, the independent agencies, plus the District of Columbia. This is a complex bill, but an important bill, making appropriations for our Nation's important infrastructure: roads, airports and rail, for our Nation's capital, for our Nation's housing needs, and for our Nation's judiciary. We have met the needs for fiscal year 2006, all the while staying within our 302(b) allocation of $65.9 billion, and total spending of $133.4 billion.

I would like to thank my friend and ranking member, the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. OLVER), for all of the hard work and the keen interest in the programs in this bill. He has proven to be a valuable partner, and I want to commend him. He has made significant contributions to this bill, and I thank him for his support.

I would also like to thank the members of the subcommittee for their hard work during the hearing process and in creating the bill. I certainly want to mention and point out that this staff, the entire staff, has really done some extraordinary things over the last several days, and they have had some sleepless nights, and so they are prepared to leave here tonight and catch up on some needed sleep.

This is a good bill, a clean bill, and one that I urge a "yes" vote to pass the Transportation, Treasury, Housing and Urban Development, the Judiciary, and the District of Columbia bill.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. OLVER. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I am surprised, I think we must be on the train headed for Turkey or something like that, because I expected to have my chairman to have a good many more comments to say than he has done.

Mr. Speaker, at the outset I would like to thank the staff on both sides for their exceedingly diligent work in putting this conference report together. I want to recognize our committee clerk Dena Baron and her excellent majority staff, including Cheryle Tucker, Dave Gibbons, Steve Crane, Dave Napoliello, Christian Jones and Tammy Hughes.

And for the minority, I thank the committee staff Mike Malone and Michelle Burkett, and Shalanda Young; and from my own staff, Matt Washington and Nora Kaitfors.

All worked under particularly difficult circumstances to complete this bill and deserve our gratitude for a job well done.

I also want to thank Chairman KNOLLENBERG for his hard work and dedication, and for the constructive relationship that we have forged thus far as the chairman and the ranking member of this complicated jurisdiction. I particularly congratulate Chairman KNOLLENBERG for the collaborative way in which the majority and the minority staffs worked to bring this bill forward, and congratulate the chairman because he has not simply allowed, but encouraged that collaboration, and the collaboration has gotten stronger and more effective throughout the workings of the subcommittee in the hearings, then the Appropriations Committee process, then floor consideration, then the conference, and today the conference report. So I am particularly grateful to him for that collaboration.

This is a very complex bill. There are nine titles to this bill really covering two different divisions, because the jurisdiction is a little bit different in the other body than it is in this House. The portion of our jurisdiction which is the District of Columbia makes up a separate subcommittee on the other side.

The allocation for this overall subcommittee was below both the House and the Senate, by more than a billion dollars below the House number and more than a half a billion dollars below the Senate's number. All or part of a billion dollars would have made a great difference where holes remain in this bill. But that was the allocation that we were given, and so we had to deal with it.

With that I want to just point out first that in the matter of the District of Columbia, which is a separate division within this bill, as I mentioned, it is an important and sometimes overlooked portion of the bill, perhaps partly so because of the different jurisdictions in the House and the Senate. It makes up only a small portion of the appropriation in the combined bill, but the value of the initiatives funded through this bill cannot be understated.

I am pleased that we were able to provide valuable funding for important initiatives that include the Anacostia River Trail, the Water and Sewer Authority and for elementary and secondary and postsecondary education. I particularly regret the continuing rider forbidding the use of local funds for needle exchange programs. I think they are an important tool in a city such as our Capital which has a high HIV incidence. But I do commend the chairman for ensuring no new social riders were placed on the District of Columbia.

Mr. Speaker, if one looks at this legislation because of the allocations being low, I think if you have a primary interest in the judiciary, you are going to find good and bad provisions within the title relating to the judiciary. If your primary interest is in housing, you may find good and bad there. If it is in transportation, you may find good and bad there. But I believe that no one can legitimately find the effect of the low and, in my view, inadequate allocation is disproportionately borne by any one title or subtitle within the bill.

In housing, for instance, the sections that were so hotly contested on the floor when the House bill was under consideration here back in July, that section, most of those hotly contested items have been included simply by balancing halfway, reaching halfway between the two branches. One in particular, if I remember in particular, the shop program, it was in the House bill and not in the Senate, and the House number is the one that is used in the final report. So these provisions are fairly dealt with.

In the transportation section, probably the most hotly contested issue was the issue of Amtrak. And in this conference report, we have provided the largest total number of dollars for Amtrak that has ever been provided by going halfway between the House and the Senate numbers.

But at the same time, we have used what I think are very valuable fire walls between capital spending and debt financing and operating subsidy, and provided also language that should lead to important and significant reforms in the operation of Amtrak. So, I think that too is very fair. In fact, my comments about there being, for those who might be interested in only one title, or primarily in one title, could also apply to the good and bad in the titles which are the part of the 60 or 70 or so outside sections, those sections are included in the two titles that are general provisions for the agencies in this bill alone, and then general provisions that apply to all of government.

I want to mention just a couple of those because in one case, the case of Cuba language, we fought a war in Vietnam against the Communist North Vietnamese, the Viet Cong, in which more than 50,000 American young men and women died. Yet we have normalized relations with Vietnam by following an engagement communication trade and travel policy.

Similarly, we fought a war against China, which is virtually to the day now 55 years ago, started 55 years ago on the Korean peninsula, and we have again followed the engagement communication trade and travel policy with Communist China. And China, it goes so far as to now have China with the largest trade surplus with respect to us. Obviously our largest trade deficit is with Communist China, and China holds the second largest amount of our national debt that is held by a foreign nation.

Again, this year, the House and the Senate passed, by roll call votes in each branch, identical language to bring us to a rational engagement communication trade and travel policy in Cuba, which has been so successful in the case of Vietnam and China. You will not find any such language in this conference report. I regret that deeply because what I think that means is that America will continue its hyperventilated tantrum against Cuba for another year, and that is unfortunate that we are putting off the normalization of our relations with Cuba.

But at the same time, while I regret that, I see elsewhere other provisions that are in the so-called general provisions, which are very good. The conference report includes corporate expatriates language that was in the Senate bill which prohibits Federal agencies which are part of this act from contracting with corporations that located outside the United States to avoid paying corporate taxes. This language has been fought over year after year in this House of Representatives, and I am glad that we have gone along with the Senate's language and included it in this conference report.

This report provides a level playing field for our dedicated Federal employees by including language that deals with the Federal employee contracting out protections often referred to as "A-76." This is the third straight year that conferees negotiated a compromise provision; however, this year the provision remains, and once again the intent of this House is carried out. And I thank Chairman KNOLLENBERG for that.

On balance, I believe that this is a very good bill. Under Chairman KNOLLENBERG's guidance the staff has produced a fair and proportionate bill, and I hope that the conference report will be adopted overwhelmingly.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. KNOLLENBERG. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3½ minutes to the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. PETRI), the ranking member on the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee.

Mr. PETRI. Mr. Speaker, I want to express my outrage that this conference report substantially weakens provisions providing greater consumer protection for victims of unscrupulous movers that were part of the transportation bill that was signed into law less than 4 months ago.

Let me first say thank you to Chairman KNOLLENBERG and also to the Speaker. And I want to thank the staff, as well, for the consideration that they have given to the authorizing committees and for providing such strong support for as long as was possible. I appreciate your efforts.

But it is simply wrong that this conference report contains provisions that were specifically rejected by the Senate when it was considering its transportation bill earlier this year and that were rejected during the conference on the transportation bill this past summer.

For years I have worked to provide relief to the many citizens from all across this country who call my office and other offices around here seeking help because they have been victimized and find they have nowhere to turn. The most egregious of these situations is where a moving company holds all of their earthly possessions until they pay thousands of dollars in excess of the original estimate, basically extortion. These people find themselves in a strange city with no goods and no recourse.

The Department of Transportation is simply not suited to police the 1.5 million interstate moves that occur each year. Until recently, a total of three people were assigned to handle complaints, and they could do little about them. States which want to get involved and oversee intrastate moves with little controversy have been told by the courts that they have no jurisdiction since this is interstate commerce. So SAFETEA-LU created a partnership with the States by allowing them to enforce Federal consumer protection rules, a model that works well in other areas.

It is disheartening that only a few months after these new authorities were put in place, before they could really even take effect, some in the Senate have seen fit to reopen these provisions and basically neuter the consumer protection provisions included in SAFETEA-LU. Most shockingly, State authorities will only be able to initiate actions against certain carriers, and all others are protected no matter what their actions may be. We are putting up roadblocks when we should be tearing them down.

Mr. Speaker, inclusion of these provisions is wrong on so many levels. It is an affront to all authorizing committees that language just negotiated after years of discussion can be cast aside and changed in an appropriation bill. It is wrong that those who did not get what they wanted and were rejected both in the Senate and in conference can then get another bite at the apple and basically hijack the consumer protection provisions this Congress approved in July. What we are doing is, once again, leaving the little guy unprotected with nowhere to turn, with no recourse, as their lives are in ruins.

Could we not, for a change, stand up for the consumer against industry and correct the injustice? It is a sad day when we make it more difficult, and not less, for our citizens to get the recourse that they deserve.

This was not a move on the part of this body. Again, thanks to Chairman KNOLLENBERG, the leadership, the Senate Commerce Committee and others who fought this hijacking. It is unfortunate for consumers across the Nation that we were not able to beat back this assault.

Mr. OLVER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentlewoman from Michigan (Ms. KILPATRICK), a member of the subcommittee.

Ms. KILPATRICK of Michigan. Mr. Speaker, I thank my ranking member for yielding. Thank you very much.

I say to the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. KNOLLENBERG), I am so very proud of his leadership, as he has taken this bill, a very difficult bill with many agencies and multimillions of dollars, and am very proud of the gentleman as a Congressman, and certainly for our State, for his leadership.

I thank Ranking Member OLVER for, as well, working to see that we got through this and did our best to fund the roads, the bridges, the transit agencies and all that goes with that. I appreciate how the gentlemen work together and how you allow all of us, the subcommittee members, to participate. I think we were unique in that, and I want to thank the gentlemen.

I want to give special thanks to the staffs on both sides of the aisle. We know how important staff is, and I tell you, from Mike Malone, and I am going to mess up if I start naming names, but I want to name a couple of them. Just thank you very much for all the work that you do. Our staffs, we could not do half the work we do as efficiently if it were not for the staffs on both sides of the aisle, so I thank you for that as well.

I am a little concerned that in the HUD budget we did not assess and continue to work to change what was changed a few years ago, for the snapshot for receiving section 8 vouchers from the 3-month look to a 12-month look. At a time when housing needs are most pressing, I do believe that still we need to be able to take a 12-month snapshot of the housing authorities and then determine what their funding ought to be.

In my own State of Michigan, and my district particularly, we are losing 1,500 slots because we use a 3-month snapshot of expenses rather than a full 12 months. So, as a result, some housing authorities will get more money. Others, like mine, will get less and we will find many, many people out in the cold literally because they do not have adequate housing.

Metro Airport, at our Detroit Metro Airport, it is a brand new airport. FAA is finding, and we had in our report language last year and it did not happen, and we tried to do it again this year, to make it a little stronger. Black mold is in there with the air traffic controllers; we need to alleviate that so that they can be healthy and do their jobs as well, and I hope the FAA will take another look at that. It is most important; a new facility, air traffic controllers are working in black mold, and we all know how toxic black mold can be.

Overall, I love the bill. It is a good bill. I urge my colleagues to support it, with two exceptions. With HUD, I want us to work more on that and I look forward to working with both the chairman and ranking member on better HUD funding and a better snapshot of the expenses so that all the housing authorities can get their equal share of that.

Again, I thank the chairman and the ranking member and your staffs for bringing forth a wonderful transportation bill.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the bill, and I want to commend Chairman KNOLLENBERG, Ranking Member OLVER and the staff of the Transportation, Treasury, Housing and Urban Development, the District of Columbia and Independent Agencies Subcommittee for their hard work in getting this bill to the House floor.

This bill provides a total of $137 billion in total budgetary resources and $65.9 billion in discretionary spending for the Departments of Transportation, Treasury, Housing and Urban Development, the District of Columbia, and Independent Agencies. This is $5.2 billion above the request and $2.7 billion more than the previous year.

SURFACE TRANSPORTATION

Under the bill, highways and transit receive healthy increases under the conference report. The bill follows the guidelines under SAFETEA-LU for surface transportation projects. It provides a $36.0 billion highway obligation limitation, which is a $1.6 billion increase over FY05 and a $1.3 billion increase over the President's request.

Like SAFETEA-LU, the bill provides significant increases in the transit accounts, and funds New Starts programs $1.5 billion.

The increases in transportation will help cities like Detroit to invest in and maintain their transportation infrastructure and enhance the mobility of the traveling public to move to their jobs and make our communities more livable.

SC AMTRAK

Amtrak is funded at $1.313 billion, which will enable the national passenger rail system to maintain current operational requirements. The bill contains a number of mandates on the system: find savings in food and beverage service, first class service, and commuter rail fees. Amtrak also would be barred from marketing ticket discounts of more than 50 percent in peak hours; includes a new discretionary account, the Efficiency Incentive Fund, which the Secretary of Transportation can parse out as grants to fund priority capital improvements that are directly tied to short-term operating savings.

The bill funds the Federal Aviation Administration at $13.8 billion—$276 million above the fiscal year 2005 level and $1.105 billion above the President's request. This includes $3.55 billion for the Airport Improvement Program. The bill includes $25 million to hire and train 595 new air traffic controllers, and an additional $12 million above the request to hire and train safety inspectors in the office of aircraft certification and flight standards.

The House report contained language that requires the FAA to provide the Committee with a report on its effort to remediate a Black Mold problem in the control tower at the Detroit Metropolitan and Wayne County Airport. My colleagues in Southeast Michigan have received complaints from the people who work in the tower that this problem is causing workers to become ill and unfit for work. I am looking forward to receiving FAA's response.

HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT

The Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) is funded at $34.0 billion; $2.1 billion above last year's level and $4.9 billion above the President's request.

I am disappointed that the conference failed to address the problem of the unfair distribution of renewal funding for the Section 8 Housing Choice Voucher Program.

The trend of the past few years has been to base budget allocations on a 3-month "snapshot." This arbitrary snapshot creates a disparity where some housing agencies wind up with more money than they need and others have to turn families out into the cold because their under-estimated budgets could no longer support the same number of vouchers.

At a time when rising energy costs are driving utility costs up, and job markets are fluctuating, particularly in areas like Michigan, we cannot ignore the impact of yearly market changes on subsidy needs.

TREASURY

Department of Treasury is funded at $11.7 billion, $400 million above FY05 and $50 million above the President's request.

The Internal Revenue Service is funded at request level of $10.7 billion, $434 million above FY05.

The bulk of the increase is for the tax enforcement activities of the IRS.

Federal Election Commission is funded at the budget request of $55 million, $3 million above FY05 and the Election Assistance Commission is funded at $16 million.

Mr. KNOLLENBERG. Mr. Speaker, I yield as much time as he may consume to the gentleman from California (Mr. LEWIS), the chairman of the full Appropriations Committee.

Mr. LEWIS of California. Mr. Speaker, Chairman KNOLLENBERG, my colleague from Massachusetts (Mr. OLVER) I rise simply to express my deepest appreciation for the work that you have been about on this newly organized subcommittee that has a variety, a mix, of complex issues that can conflict with each other, issues that if taken the wrong way, can cause bills to be stymied and no progress made. You have done a very, very fine job of establishing a tone that says that we can work together. And where Appropriations does its best work is when we reach across the aisle and recognize that while we do not have to agree 100 percent of the time, there is little doubt that a real solution comes when we do think about these alternatives, talking to one another as human beings and people who represent citizens across the country as well.

The bill is a very fine bill, a great job. I want to congratulate the staff, especially, as we have gone through this transition. They have done wonderful work. I congratulate the entire subcommittee.

Mr. OLVER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. FRANK), the ranking member of the Financial Services Committee.

Mr. FRANK of Massachusetts. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the good work that was done by members of the subcommittee, and I am going to vote for the bill in recognition of the very good efforts. I believe the chairman, operating within the constraints that he had to operate within, did a reasonable job. I very much agree with the gentleman from Michigan who lamented some of the decisions that were made with regard to HUD, and I appreciate the work that has been done by my colleague from Massachusetts in a number of areas.

Just briefly, I want to comment on one subject, and that is the question of earmarks in transportation. The Governor of my State put out a transportation plan for the entire State earlier this year. The only two highway projects for the entire region of the State in southeastern Massachusetts that several of us represent came because our colleagues in the committees did what we asked and earmarked some funding.

That is, not only were those earmarks very important for the local areas, but the State then adopted them as their only projects. So for people who think that earmarks somehow are some excrescence imposed from without, in my judgment, they often reflect better the local priorities; and one of the ones where I have gotten some help from the ranking member and others is to create the first handicapped-accessible commuter rail station on an important commuter route going into Boston from the west. I make no apologies for that earmark.

Unfortunately, this subcommittee, however, had to operate within the constraints of a terrible budget, and while they did the best they could, with one exception, I would join the gentleman from Michigan in regretting the choice that was made about the voucher funding formula; they did not, I think, take the right choice there. They adopted a formula that locks into the past, and let me predict now that Members, once again, are going to start hearing from their local communities as the year goes on about problems with vouchers, about the waiting list being too long, about people being upset; and it is probably because of what we have been coerced into doing here.

The other problem, though, is that in some cases we simply have too little money for the programs. Community Development Block Grants is cut I am told about 9 percent, $362 million. That is a very important program. It is not the fault of the subcommittee. They have been given an allocation. Well, I take it back. It is not the fault of those members of the subcommittee that did not vote for the budget. Members of the subcommittee that voted for the budget I think are hard-pressed to complain about what it did to their allocation. That is a self-inflicted wound.

But we ought to be clear that as a result of the spending constraints, I take it back, not spending constraints, the misallocated priorities, because there is certainly plenty of money being spent elsewhere in this budget that need not have been spent; but because of these terrible priorities, Community Development Block Grants gets about a 9 percent cut, and there is not much money for brownfields.

Hope VI is a very important program. Three years ago it was at $574 million. Today it is at $100 million because we have an administration ideologically opposed to it, despite an overwhelming bipartisan consensus that it is a good way to deal with housing.

Home funds, one of the few sources left now for construction, is cut further.

So I understand that the subcommittee did a good job within the constraints that they were given, although some of them gave themselves those constraints, but the consequence of these spending priorities of this Congress is underfunding of several important housing and community development priorities.

Mr. KNOLLENBERG. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from Kansas (Mr. TIAHRT), a member of the subcommittee.

Mr. TIAHRT. Mr. Speaker, I want to bring to light an issue that several of my colleagues on the subcommittee and the gentleman from California (Mr. DOOLITTLE) feel should be a critical concern of the American taxpayer. I want to ensure that the IRS understands the intent of Congress that is stated in the report language of this bill.

Mr. DOOLITTLE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. TIAHRT. I yield to the gentleman from California.

Mr. DOOLITTLE. Mr. Speaker, I thank the chairman very much; he has been extremely generous in listening to our concerns. I thank the gentleman from Kansas (Mr. TIAHRT) as a member of the subcommittee for working on this and working with me as well.

This "Return-Free" tax filing system, Mr. Speaker, would create a conflict of interest by making the IRS not only the tax collector and the enforcer, but also the tax preparer. The loser in such a scenario would be the American taxpayer. Return-free creates, by definition, a fundamental conflict of interest by making the same agency that collects the taxes, writes the tax regulations, collects the revenues, performs audits, and enforces compliance, now also becomes the tax preparer.

Mr. TIAHRT. Mr. Speaker, reclaiming my time, is it the chairman's understanding that the IRS is bound from setting up tax preparation services, and does the chairman agree that it is the intent of the subcommittee that the Treasury and the IRS must abide by the Free File agreement and not go into the business of preparing taxes for taxpayers?

Mr. KNOLLENBERG. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman will yield, I do indeed. There is language in the bill addressing the Free File Alliance stating that "the conferees are aware that the IRS and the FFA have signed a new 4-year agreement under which the IRS continues to agree not to enter the tax preparation market."

The conferees direct IRS to abide by the terms and conditions of the agreement.

We believe that this will ensure that the IRS adheres to the agreement and will not enter the tax preparation market.

Mr. TIAHRT. Mr. Speaker, reclaiming my time, I would like to thank the gentleman from California (Mr. DOOLITTLE) for addressing this important issue to the American taxpayer. If the IRS does deviate from this agreement, then we will seek to stop them through statutory language to prevent tax preparation originating within the IRS.

Mr. OLVER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 5 minutes to a member of the subcommittee and the minority whip, the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. HOYER).

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Speaker, today we consider the conference report on the Treasury, Transportation, HUD bill. That in and of itself is a remarkable achievement, given that in recent years the tendency has been to circumvent the established appropriation process.

I want to commend Chairman KNOLLENBERG and Ranking Democrat Olver for working diligently and cooperatively on a bill that is profoundly important to every American. We have seen much conflict over the last few days, and it is, I think, a happy event that we can come to the floor and be supportive of a bill that was worked on in a bipartisan, cooperative way; and I think that is a testament to Mr. KNOLLENBERG and to Mr. OLVER, and thanks to them as well.

Now, they would agree, and we all agree, this is not a perfect conference report, hardly any conference report is, and there are limited resources. Critical social programs are hurt. Public housing, Hope VI, people with AIDS, rural housing and economic development, Community Development Block Grants, brownfields, and the HOME program all face, frankly, fewer resources than I would hope they would have. But that is the reality of the dollars that were given to Mr. KNOLLENBERG and Mr. OLVER to deal with.

I am pleased that the transportation bill report includes an adjustment for our Federal civilian employees in their cost of living consistent with the pay adjustment proposed for the military personnel. It is essential that we provide this adjustment as recognition of the contribution made by both Federal civilian employees and military personnel to the safety and security of the Nation. It also allows us to recruit and indeed retain those that we need to carry out important and vital services for our citizens.

I am also pleased that the President's request for the FDA consolidation is in this bill. These funds will go a long way in helping to relocate FDA employees from their current substandard facilities into modern, state-of-the-art facilities.

I am enormously grateful, and I want to say this publicly, I have said it privately, to Chairman KNOLLENBERG for his leadership in making possible reimbursement to small business people who operated small airports and, for security reasons, were shut down by the Federal Government and sustained substantial losses. We have been working on this for many years, and Mr. KNOLLENBERG and Mr. OLVER have now ensured that we resolve this, and I thank the chairman for that. The failure to provide these small businessmen with compensation in the years past has caused great difficulty, and this will be a welcome addition to this bill.

I also want to commend the conferees for withstanding pressure from the White House, including the Bond-Mikulski reform provision, which will correct fundamental flaws in the contracting-out provisions. Simply put, the provision will eliminate waste and save taxpayer money while, at the same time, preserving appropriate competition by employees with the private sector to get the most efficient and effective results for our taxpayers.

I want to close by saying that I am concerned about what I believe to be one very significant provision that is not in this bill, or funding that is not in this bill. As the sponsor of the Help America Vote Act with the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. NEY), and it was overwhelmingly supported on this side, Senator MCCONNELL and Senator DODD on the Senate side, strong support, we promised the States some $3.8 billion in funding. We have given $3 billion to get our technology up to date, to ensure that every voter has access to the polls, that our registration rolls are up to date and accurate, that no American is precluded from voting because of inefficiencies in the registration system, and we required the States to have statewide registration systems, a centralized database so that no Marylander, no Massachusetts resident, no Michigander would be shut out of the process because they were not properly included on the rolls.

That is an expensive process, and the States are required to have it in place by January 1 of 2006. We have short-changed them to this date $800 million of the promised $3.8 billion. Mr. Speaker, $3 billion is a large sum of money; but when you spread it throughout 50 States, it diminishes.

Mr. Speaker, I would hope that we could work together with the White House that has been helpful in the past and Speaker HASTERT, who has been very helpful in the past; Mr. OBEY and Mr. OLVER have both been helpful in making sure that next year we can work with the administration to try to get this funding at the level that it really ought to be, because that is what we promised the States and, but for that, it will be an unfunded mandate.

So, again, in closing, I thank the chairman, I thank Mr. OLVER, Mr. OBEY and Mr. LEWIS for working together to bring this bill to the floor, and I will certainly be supportive.

Mr. KNOLLENBERG. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. OLVER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. JACKSON-LEE).

(Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Speaker, let me thank the distinguished ranking member from Massachusetts for a tough job, a tough task, and very good work. I add my appreciation to the chairman, the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. KNOLLENBERG). I could not imagine a more combined challenge than the appropriations bill that we have before us. Unfortunately, in tough times we have tough choices, and many times some along the way are affected by those tough choices.

So, Mr. Speaker, I add my appreciation for a number of aspects of this bill. First of all, I want to thank the combined Texas delegation and, as I said, the ranking member and chairman of the subcommittee, and the gentleman from Texas (Mr. CULBERSON) in particular, on at least providing for New Start monies for Metro in Houston.

Mr. OLVER knows that this has been a long journey. We have had discussions on the floor in sessions past when we have not made it. We have had conflicting views coming out of the Houston delegation. But I can stand proudly and say that the Houston money, $12 million for New Starts, will not go unused and unappreciated.

We have a system that is one of the most used New Starts in America, with very large numbers of utilization; and it is important that we get started and continue to commit.

Might I also say, however, it is important for Metro to listen to community input so that we will have light rail and not have BRT. Light rail is what we voted on, and light rail is what we want.

I am gratified that the judiciary, or the Justice Department, has been funded in aspects where the staff has been kept. I do raise a point about an overuse of the national security letters by the FBI and hope that we may look at that in the future.

But the real issue, Mr. Speaker, is to talk about HUD, which really has become a bank for this bill, as hard as my colleagues have worked. The bad news is that CDBG funds have been cut; that is the very heart of many of our communities, and we see that it has been cut by 9 percent.

The voucher question is severe. The section 8 vouchers have been cut. Unfortunately, public housing authorities will come up short this year. Even though we have used the House formula of a snapshot of a few years back, we are going to face a crisis because Houston is an example where we have thousands of Hurricane Katrina survivors and Rita survivors, and we are short of vouchers for housing as we speak. FEMA has shut off the doors for the hotels by December 1. We hope to press them to realize that that is an untenable position.

I also hope the elderly repair housing dollars are protected because the elderly are some of our most vulnerable populations.

□ 1100

Then we do not even have Section 8 vouchers for the 25,000 backlog list that we already have in Houston.

I am disappointed that the brownfields are effectively zeroed out. That has, of course, been an effort to clean up many of the dastardly conditions in urban and rural areas, particularly some of the chemical plants that have been in our inner cities.

This is a bill that took a lot of choices and I know a lot of hard work. I wish we could have done better the housing area, Mr. Speaker, and I hope we do so in the future.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mrs. MALONEY. Mr. Speaker, after being derailed for generations, I am delighted to report to New Yorkers that the Second Avenue Subway is on track and moving with real momentum, thanks to hard-fought battles for funding in Washington and an unwavering coalition of support for the project in New York.

In the last two weeks alone, the Second Avenue Subway has taken two giant leaps forward.

First, New Yorkers passed the Transportation Bond Act, putting $450 million towards the project.

Combined with $1.05 billion in subway funds previously authorized by the State, New Yorkers have now put forward nearly half of the financing for the subway's first phase.

New Yorkers did their part, and now the focus has shifted to the Federal government to ante up for its share of the project.

Last night, the Congress said loud and clear that it will stand strong for the Second Avenue Subway: I'm proud to announce that we've secured another $25 million for the project—giving us five straight years of Federal funding for the subway.

Earlier this year, the Federal Transit Administration declared the Second Avenue Subway one of only two "highly recommended" projects in the Nation.

The other project is East Side Access, which also received a boost from the federal government last night—to the tune of $340 million dollars.

For far too long, New York City residents have been riding some of the most overcrowded mass transit lines in the nation.

So, to my fellow New Yorkers, I say: take heart. The Second Avenue Subway is coming.

Mr. BUYER. Mr. Speaker, the completion of the Hoosier Heartland Corridor gets another step closer today with the House passage of the FY 2006 Transportation Appropriations conference report.

For over thirteen years, I have worked with many others in a bipartisan effort across north-central Indiana as this project has developed from a design plan, to the first groundbreaking, to this latest step in bringing efficiency and safety to North Central Indiana. I commend Congressman CHRIS CHOCOLA who has provided leadership in the completion of this project and commend the $1.3 million he secured for the Cass County-Carroll County segment.

Included in this bill is a $1.5 million designation for the Hoosier Heartland's most dangerous segment yet to be completed between Lafayette and Delphi. This project continues to be a priority for me and many other community leaders and elected officials along the route.

Also included in this conference report is $750,000 to continue the Lafayette Bus Replacement plan that I have worked on in the past several years with CityBus's Marty Sennett and State Senator Brandt Hershman. Earlier this year the Transportation Authorization bill included $500,000 for FY 2006 and this appropriation places us on schedule to meet $2.5 million by FY 2009.

Finally, Johnson County is one of the fastest growing counties in the state and significant traffic congestion exists and will only get worse. To assist in local efforts to keep traffic moving and doing so safely, $1 million is included in the conference report to help ease this congestion through a feasibility study for the proposed East/West Corridor. These investments in Indiana's infrastructure will improve safety and efficiency and create opportunity for Hoosiers.

Mr. OBERSTAR. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the Conference Report on H.R. 3058, the FY2006 Transportation, Treasury, Housing and Urban Development, the Judiciary, District of Columbia, and Independent Agencies Act.

This Conference Report, and the process by which this Body considers it, are another disappointing chapter in the Republican's Leadership's management of this House.

At 5:30 a.m. this morning, the House Appropriations Committee filed this Conference Report. At 8:00 a.m., the Rules Committee met in emergency session to report a rule waiving all points of order against a bill that no one, other than Members of the Appropriations Committee and the Republican Leadership, had seen or read. The Rules Committee waived all points of order against the Conference Report and its consideration. Within hours, the House is now forced to vote on the bill. This process, requiring Members to vote on bills they have never seen nor read, has become the all too common practice of this majority.

The days of filing a conference report, giving Members an opportunity to read it, and allowing the House to consider it without all points of order waived against the bill are a distant memory of a Democratic majority. When Democrats were the majority party of the House, under House Rules, provisions that were beyond the scope of an Appropriations Conference Report were subject to a separate vote. A Member could vote against these types of riders without killing the Conference Report. In the early 1990's, I recall how proud then-Appropriations Committee Chairman Natcher was to bring appropriations bills to the Floor with no authorizing provisions and no points of order waived. Clean bills and transparency are no longer the goal. The new order is to ram through this House the Majority's agenda.

Although there is much in this Conference Report that I support, I regret that the Committee on Appropriations, with no consultation with the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure, has made numerous changes to the Safe, Accountable, Flexible, Efficient Transportation Equity Act: A Legacy for Users (SAFETEA-LU), just months after the President signed the Act.

The Conference Report alters the SAFETEA-LU highway formula for distribution of funds to the States to provide more than $600 million in earmarks at 100% federal funding for the chosen few. The Report cuts funding for the National Highway System, Interstate Maintenance, Bridge, Surface Transportation Program, Congestion Mitigation and Air Quality Improvement, Equity Bonus, Appalachian Development Highway System, and Federal Lands programs in order to finance these earmarks. Simply earmarking every available dollar of the Department of Transportation's discretionary funding is apparently not enough—the Appropriators need to skim highway formula dollars too. The earmarks are 100 percent Federally funded and subject to no reduction like other programs and projects. There appears no limit to the majority's insatiable appetite for highway and transit earmarks.

I also regret that the Appropriators, with the concurrence of the Republican Leadership, have enabled Members and Senators to revisit issues that were clearly decided in the Conference on SAFETEA-LU. We appear to be moving from a time when an agreement could be secured with a handshake to a period in which an agreement is only for today: there is always the opportunity, with an appropriations rider, to get another "bite at the apple"—fair compromise be damned.

The Conference Report's household goods appropriations rider provides a telling example. The Report overturns SAFETEA-LU's consumer protection provisions that give States the power to enforce federal consumer laws on interstate moving companies.

Just three months ago, the President signed SAFETEA-LU with important consumer protection provisions to address the serious problem of fraud by unscrupulous moving companies. Fraud in the household goods moving industry affects thousands of victims each year, as documented in hearings of the Surface Transportation Subcommittee. Unscrupulous movers offer low estimates, then later inflate the price of the move and hold the customer's goods hostage until they pay the inflated price.

The frequency of such scams increased after federal authority over these companies was transferred from the Interstate Commerce Commission to the Department of Transportation (DOT) in 1995. These responsibilities fell to the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) and later to the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (FMCSA). FMCSA's primary mission is safety, and the agency has few resources to focus on consumer protection. Corrupt movers increasingly exploited this regulatory gap.

In March of 2001, the General Accounting Office (GAO) reported that complaints of consumer fraud in the household goods moving industry rose dramatically from 1996 to 1999. Complaints to DOT rose 107 percent and the number of requests for arbitration to the American Moving and Storage Association went up 750 percent.

In response, and after much discussion in the Conference Committee, we included language in SAFETEA-LU that provided greater protection against unscrupulous "rogue" movers. The law authorized state attorneys general and state consumer protection agencies to enforce federal regulations governing the interstate movement of household goods.

Today, the Transportation-Treasury Appropriations Conference Report undoes this protection. The new language prevents state authorities from taking action against established movers, or those who do not egregiously violate federal motor carrier safety regulations, regardless of how flagrantly these companies violate consumer protection laws. It also prevents state consumer protection agencies from taking administrative action against unscrupulous movers, and limits these agencies to filing cases in United States District Courts.

I am disappointed that the Appropriations Committee and the Republican Leadership would not honor the agreements of SAFETEA-LU and allow such a rider to be added.

Although the Conference Report includes dozens of other surface transportation authorizing provisions that were included without the concurrence of the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure, I will focus on only one other provision—which I find truly indefensible. Section 1926 of SAFETEA-LU requires the Department of Transportation to provide budget justification documents to the Transportation Committee and the Committee on Environment and Public Works of the U.S. Senate with the President's annual budget submission. The budget justification documents provide the line-item detail of the President's Budget that helps the Transportation Committee analyze the programs within our jurisdiction. Although the Transportation Committee routinely receives these budget documents from non-DOT agencies within the Committee's jurisdiction, the Department of Transportation has been reluctant to provide the information without express authorization. Thus, SAFETEA-LU specifically required that DOT provides the documents to the Committee with the President's budget, in February each year.

The Conference Report amends this provision to prevent our Committee from receiving these documents until June, four months after the President's Budget is submitted. Why would the Committee on Appropriations not want an authorizing Committee to have the necessary information to conduct budgetary oversight over the agencies within its jurisdiction? Does the Committee on Appropriations believe that it is the only committee entitled to such budget information? The Conference Report's provision is indefensible and I can assure you that the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure, which provides the mandatory budget authority for the highway, transit, highway safety, and aviation programs, has every right to this information and will restore the SAFETEA-LU provision.

The Conference Report also disregards the aviation budgetary firewalls established under Vision 100—Century of Aviation Reauthorization Act. The Report cuts the capital investment guaranteed in Vision 100 by more than $500 million.

These cuts, in direct violation of the aviation budgetary firewalls, will directly impact our efforts to address the continued growth of commercial aviation. Commercial aviation is on track to reach 1 billion enplanements by 2015. DOT predicts up to a tripling of passengers, operations, and cargo by 2025. The Commission on the Future of the United States Aerospace Industry reported that consumers could lose as much as $30 billion annually if people and products cannot reach their destinations within the time periods expected today.

Yet, the Conference Report dramatically cuts the Federal Aviation Administration's (FAA) Facilities and Equipment (F&E) capital account—the primary vehicle for modernizing the National Airspace System (NAS)—for the second year in a row. Together, the FY2005 and FY2006 Transportation Appropriations Acts have cut the F&E account by almost $1 billion below the level authorized and guaranteed by Congress in Vision 100. The DOT Inspector General testified before the Subcommittee on Aviation of the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure that the FAA could not technologically transform the NAS with only the approximate level of F&E funding provided by the Conference Report.

In addition, according to the FAA's own analysis, two thirds of its $30 billion worth of assets is beyond their useful life. Air traffic control towers average 30 years in age. TRACON facilities average 34 years. Primary En Route Radar Systems average 27 years. En Route Control Center facilities average 40 years and are rated by the General Services Administration as being in poor condition and getting worse each year. The cuts to FAA's capital account will make it more difficult for the FAA to maintain its current deteriorating facilities and equipment, much less technologically transform the system to handle the nation's future needs.

The Appropriators, with the concurrence of the House Republican Leadership, include these and dozens of other authorizing provisions in the Conference Report that we consider today. Votes are cast before the Conference Report is even printed. I regret that so few Members know that it needn't be this way. I regret that the Republican rank-and-file Members allow their Leadership to run the House in such a way. I regret that, under this majority, we may never be able to recapture an appropriations process that made Bill Natcher so proud.

Mr. OLVER. Mr. Speaker, I have no further speakers. I urge the adoption of the conference report, and yield the balance of my time.

Mr. KNOLLENBERG. Mr. Speaker, likewise, I urge everyone to support this bill. It is a good bill.

I yield back the balance of my time.
