

been called to serve this Nation by the administration. The confirmation of a judge to a lifetime appointment is a vital responsibility given to this body by the Constitution and one that I take very seriously.

Mr. Chagares has been nominated to replace the current Secretary of Homeland Security, Michael Chertoff, on the Third Circuit. No matter one's political persuasion, we all take pride in the honor that has been bestowed on a fellow New Jerseyan.

Mr. Chagares is a New Jersey native who graduated from Gettysburg College and Seton Hall School of Law, with honors. Upon graduation, he clerked for Judge Greenberg on the Third Circuit. Over the past 15 years, Mr. Chagares has served the public with distinction in the U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of New Jersey and has also worked in private practice.

In addition, he is a popular Professor of both appellate advocacy and civil trial practice at Seton Hall. I believe this popularity is a testament to his ability to both convey the essence of the subject matter and do it in a way that excites a new generation of lawyers.

The American Bar Association has rated Mr. Chagares as "well qualified" for the position that he has been nominated. It is a view that I share as well.

I am pleased that see that people of his quality are willing to serve our Nation in the administration of justice, and join Senator LAUTENBERG in commending him to the Senate.

Mr. President, I urge my colleagues to support the nomination of Mr. Chagares to be a judge on our Nation's Third Circuit Court of Appeals.

ADDITIONAL STATEMENTS

TRIBUTE TO LEE HUMPHREY AND COREY BREWER

• Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. President, the University of Tennessee, Belmont University, and the University of Memphis men's basketball teams all deserve congratulations for qualifying for the men's NCAA tournament this year. The Lady Vols made it to the Sweet Sixteen in women's basketball for the 25th consecutive time. None of those teams made it all the way to the championship, but two Tennesseans who play for the University of Florida did. I want to congratulate them, especially since one is from my hometown, Maryville.

Lee Humphrey was Tennessee's Class AAA Mr. Basketball when he attended Maryville High School. He is the school's all-time leader in points and steals. His dad, Tony, a middle school teacher in Maryville, had the key to the gym. And on many nights, Lee and his dad would go to the gym and while Lee took shots his dad rebounded. Apparently, the practice paid off. Dick Vitale said that Lee was the "X factor" in the Final Four. In the championship game he scored 15 points, making 4 of 8 shots from the field. Coincidentally, the game was played in the current home stadium of Lee's boyhood idol, Peyton Manning.

Lee's teammate Corey Brewer from Portland, TN, was 1 of 24 seniors named nationwide as a 2004 McDonald's All-American player. He scored 29.4 points a game and averaged 12.8 rebounds his senior season at Portland High. He received a lot of honors that year, including being named grand marshal of Portland's Strawberry Festival. Corey has credited his success to hard work in practice and a childhood spent playing sports with his older brother Jason and Jason's friends. He is a role model who returns to Portland and talks to elementary school kids, urging them to study and warning about the dangers of drugs. He follows the lessons he learned from his mother, Glenda, a teacher.

Recruited for his tenacious defense as well as his scoring ability, Corey has been a big game player for the University of Florida all year. In the championship game, he scored 11 points and grabbed 7 rebounds to go along with 4 assists and 3 steals.

Mr. President, we Tennesseans are proud of our State's basketball teams. We want them to win. But we are also proud of our young scholar-athletes who play for other teams. They are Tennesseans, too, and we want them to know we are proud of their accomplishments. •
