PRAYER

The Chaplain, the Reverend Daniel P. Coughlin, offered the following prayer: "Not to us, O Lord, not to us, but to Your holy name give the glory."

On the whole, Your people of the ancient covenant had a vocation which was very humbling. Others might glory in their fading riches or give glory to their ancestors, but Your faith-filled ones were to give You the glory, for they had placed all their trust in You.

Today, Lord, give this Nation renewed faith and build the foundation for continued hope in You.

May the Members of the 109th Congress each narrate a thanksgiving story and give you the glory for what You have accomplished in and through them.

May they complete their work under Your guidance and be a consolation to Your people, and give glory to Your holy name, both now and forever. Amen.

THE JOURNAL

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair has examined the Journal of the last day's proceedings and announces to the House his approval thereof.

Pursuant to clause 1, rule I, the Journal stands approved.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from New York (Mr. McNULTY) come forward and lead the House in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Mr. McNULTY led the Pledge of Allegiance as follows:

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

REMEMBERING USMC MAJOR
TRANE McCLOUD

(Mr. WILSON of South Carolina asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. WILSON of South Carolina. Mr. Speaker, I rise today with great sadness in my heart. Sunday afternoon, Marine Corps Major Trane McCloud was killed in a helicopter accident in Iraq. He and three other marines gave their lives for others to survive.

Major McCloud was a marine's marine. He epitomized the Marine motto, Semper Fidelis, Always Faithful. I was fortunate enough to know and work with Major McCloud during 2003 when he served as a Military Fellow in the Washington office of South Carolina's Second Congressional District. After completing his fellowship, Trane kept in touch with the staff and me, remaining a close friend of the office and the people of South Carolina.

Major McCloud is survived by his loving wife, Maggie, his three beautiful children, Hayden, Grace and Meghan, and his parents, Ron McCloud and Roma Anderson. My thoughts and prayers are with them. I hope they will find comfort in knowing Trane truly believed in America and the United States Marine Corps.

In conclusion, God bless our troops. We will never forget September 11. Semper Fi, Trane McCloud.

DEMOCRATS PROPOSE SIX INITIATIVES THAT SHOULD GARNER BIPARTISAN SUPPORT

(Ms. EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON of Texas asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON of Texas. Mr. Speaker, within the first 100 hours of the next Congress, we will have the opportunity to pass six initiatives that should garner bipartisan support.

First, we will increase the minimum wage for the first time in 9 years.

Secondly, we will propose a tough ethics reform bill that finally addresses the link between the politicians and Washington lobbyists.

Third, Democrats will make our Nation safer by implementing the non-partisan 9/11 Commission recommendations.

And we will move our Nation closer to energy independence by investing in critical biofuel research.

Fifth, we will help millions of American families better afford college by cutting the loan interest rates in half.

And finally, Democrats will fill in the doughnut hole so millions of American seniors no longer must choose between their drugs or their groceries.

Within the first 100 hours, we will bring these six bold proposals to the House floor, and I am hopeful that they will be embraced by Democrats and Republicans alike.

CONGRATULATING THE FLORIDA GATORS ON THEIR SELECTION TO PLAY IN NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

(Mr. STEARNS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. STEARNS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to congratulate the University of Florida football team for their deserving selection to play for the national championship against Ohio State.

The Gators had a tremendous season, going 12-1, playing one of the toughest schedules in the Nation, and beating Arkansas to win the SEC championship.

The Florida Gators are excellent representatives of both the university and the great State of Florida in their tenacity, spirit, and desire to succeed. I take great pride in representing the University of Florida and congratulating Coach Urban Meyer and the entire university on this great accomplishment.

I am so confident in a Gator victory that I challenge my colleague from Ohio (Ms. PRYCE) to a friendly wager. In the unlikely event that Florida loses, I will provide her with a crate of Florida oranges. However, I look forward to collecting perhaps one of Ohio's great delicacies. Go Gators.

COLLEGE LOAN INTEREST RATE CUTS

(Ms. LORETTA SANCHEZ of California asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. LORETTA SANCHEZ of California. Mr. Speaker, the cost of higher education in our country has been skyrocketing for far too long. And this year alone, the Republicans raised the student loan interest rates by up to 7 percent and cut $12 billion out of the higher education budget to pay for their tax cuts for the wealthy. Their policy of prioritizing the wealthiest 1 percent over average American families has backfired.

Last month the American voters said "enough is enough" and voted for a Democratic majority in the Congress, after Democrats offered students and their families an end to the rise in student loan interest rates. We ran on a platform that makes higher education one of our top priorities.

Mr. Speaker, Democrats will keep their promise to the American people. Within the first 100 hours of taking office in the next Congress, the Democrats will broaden college opportunities for all students because we believe if you want to go to college, we want to help you get there.

Democrats will work hard to make a college education possible for all who want it here in the United States.

HONORING SERGEANT MITCHEL
THOMAS MUTZ

(Ms. SEKULA GIBBS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. SEKULA GIBBS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Sergeant Mitchel Thomas Mutz who was killed while defending our Nation on November 15, 2006, in Iraq.

Sergeant Mutz was on his second tour of duty in Iraq, rendering faithful, conscientious service to the United States Army and to the people of the United States of America. Sergeant Mutz will be remembered for his commendable service and the dedication he had to this great Nation.

Sergeant Mutz was 23 years old. He was a native of Falls City, Texas, and the loving son of Bobby and Dixie Mutz, brother of Nathan and his wife, Shawna, and the grandson of Elizabeth Mutz.

Mr. Mutz faithfully served our Nation in the 1st Battalion, 12th Cavalry Regiment, 3rd Brigade Combat Team, 1st Cavalry Division out of Fort Hood, Texas.

He is from the area where I was born. And when I was home for Thanksgiving, that Saturday, my husband and I joined the procession of watching where the coffin and the family proceeded through the small town of Poth, Texas, and the people turned out in droves to pay their respects to the family. Veterans, firefighters, law enforcement, patriot guard riders, teachers, farmers and just regular citizens did the best that they could to reduce the pain of Mr. Mutz's family.

Our thoughts, our prayers, and our love go out to the family, as well as to all of the soldiers and our servicemen and women who are protecting our great country. We love you and we respect you.

A TIME FOR HEALING

(Mr. PASCRELL asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. PASCRELL. Mr. Speaker, the election is over. We need to come together. There needs to be a healing process for all of us in both parties; and I can think of no better subject, and there was an article in 2004, in the summer, in New York magazine. The title of that article was "Fallout 3 years after the World Trade Center attacks. Thousands of cops, firefighters, people who work and lived near the 9/11 disaster have fallen sick and fallen ill."

The EPA just a short time after that disaster said all was clear. The air was fit to breathe. The water was sufficient to drink. It contained, in that disaster, glass shards, pulverized concrete, many carcinogens, including hundreds of thousands of pounds of asbestos. It contained benzene.

There are many people who have been hurt. If you expose a person to this amount of lead, cadmium, benzene, asbestos, they are going to get sick.

We fill potholes in Baghdad. We have forgotten our own first responders.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE WAKE FOREST DEMON DEACON FOOTBALL TEAM

(Ms. FOXX asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. FOXX. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to congratulate the Wake Forest Demon Deacon football team on winning the 2006 ACC championship, the team's first since 1970. Formerly known as a basketball school and picked to finish last in their division in August, Wake Forest finished the season with its best record since 1940, 11-2, after beating Georgia Tech in the ACC championship game on Saturday.

Despite suffering injuries to several key players early in the season, the Demon Deacons bounced back and shocked the Nation with their determination and will to win. Jim Grobe, who has been named ACC Coach of the Year, and heads the ballot for National Coach of the Year, led the team to victory after victory with good old-fashioned coaching, a smart offense and a tenacious defense.

With just 36,000 living undergraduate alumni, Wake Forest has developed an athletic program that rivals the biggest and most storied programs in the country. Long known as an academic powerhouse, the Demon Deacons have proven their dominance on the football field and will travel to Miami on January 2 to face the Louisville Cardinals in the BCS Orange Bowl.

I stand alongside all Wake fans when I say congratulations and wish the Deacons the best of luck in Miami. Go Deacs.

NEED TO TAKE IRAQ WAR IN A NEW DIRECTION

(Ms. SOLIS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. SOLIS. Mr. Speaker, tomorrow the bipartisan Iraq Study Group is scheduled to release its recommendations on how best to proceed with the war in Iraq. While the group is led by one of the Bush family's closest friends, it has not actually given, I think, notice or great recommendations.

This does not bode well for change in Iraq. It is time for Bush to face reality. His Democratic experiment in Iraq has been an utter disaster, one that has destabilized even further the Middle East. Last month the American people sent a strong message to the President that they want change in Iraq, that staying the current course is simply not acceptable, but President Bush seems unwilling to listen.

The Iraq Study Group is expected to call for the redeployment of American troops out of Iraq by 2008. Finally, a bipartisan group of leaders are joining us in our calls for a phased redeployment out of Iraq. This report should serve, I hope, as a wake-up call to the Bush administration that Democrats and Republicans alike are calling for change.

Mr. HUNTER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to speak out of order for 1 minute.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the gentleman from California is recognized.

There was no objection.

Mr. HUNTER. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would just say to the gentlewoman who just spoke that it is appropriate when referring to the President of the United States be he Democrat or Republican to refer to him as the President. Thank you.

DEMOCRATS INTRODUCE A BOLD AGENDA THAT INCLUDES ALL AMERICANS

(Mr. PALLONE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. PALLONE. Mr. Speaker, within the first 100 hours of the new Democratic Congress, we will accomplish more than the Republican do-nothing Congress accomplished this entire year. While Republicans refuse to break their questionable cosy relationships with lobbyists, Democrats will pass an ethics reform bill that will once again make this the people's House, not the lobbyists' House. While Republicans refuse to expand economic opportunities to millions of Americans, Democrats will give minimum-wage workers their first raise in 9 years.

While Republicans refuse to go after price gouging oil companies, Democrats will begin the process of making our Nation energy independent by repealing needless tax breaks for Big Oil, and instead putting that money towards crucial funding of biofuel research.

While Republicans refused to help millions of seniors who fell into the prescription drug doughnut hole, Democrats will allow the Federal Government to negotiate lower drug prices so that the doughnut hole can be filled. These are all important initiatives that Democrats will pass within the first 100 hours of the next Congress.

LET THE PEOPLE DECIDE ON ENGLISH

(Mr. POE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. POE. Mr. Speaker, a few days ago, in the small town of Friendswood, Texas, a citizen tried to discuss a water problem with a city worker. Apparently the worker could not be of assistance because the worker did not speak English.

This led City Council to consider a ballot vote by citizens to determine if English should be the official language of their town. City Council Member Chris Perden said, "English as an official language gives us a baseline. The city will publish everything in English. Our meetings will be in English . . . and city forms will be in English." There are even suggestions that all city employees be required to speak English and even teach those that cannot. The critics quickly surfaced, however, and LULAC officials say they will sue, claiming violation of civil rights if the public supports this ordinance.

This is yet another example of how small-town America must solve immigration issues that the Federal Government has not honestly addressed. The people of Friendswood, Texas, not the politicians, not the self-promoters and not even LULAC, should have the right to vote and decide if English should be the official language of their town.

And that's just the way it is.

CONGRATULATING DAKOTA HIGH SCHOOL COUGARS, MICHIGAN DIVISION 1 FOOTBALL CHAMPIONS

(Mrs. MILLER of Michigan asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. MILLER of Michigan. Mr. Speaker, I rise to offer sincere congratulations to the Dakota High School football team from Macomb Township, Michigan, on winning the 2006 Division 1 State title.

The Dakota High School Cougars are the first school in Macomb County history to win the Division 1 football State championship.

Mr. Speaker, this season belonged to the Cougars, whose overall record was 13 wins and only 1 loss. Coach Mike Giannoe did an excellent job of putting together a solid game plan and a solid coaching staff.

Quarterback James Stallons commanded the offense, while running back Greg Gay led the scoring attack and tied a State finals record with four touchdowns.

The offense moved the ball with the great teamwork of fullback Quentin Trotter, tight end Justin Sylvester and all of the linemen.

On defense, linebacker Bobby Hush earned himself two sacks, and kicker Joe Harla connected on a 31-yard field goal and made all five of his extra point attempts.

What a season, what a team. Go Cougars.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX, the Chair will postpone further proceedings today on motions to suspend the rules on which a recorded vote or the yeas and nays are ordered, or on which the vote is objected to under clause 6 of rule XX.

EXPRESSING SENSE OF HOUSE REGARDING HIRING OF MEMBERS OF ARMED FORCES

Mr. HUNTER. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and agree to the resolution (H. Res. 1070) expressing the sense of the House of Representatives that Members of the House should actively engage with employers and the American public at large to encourage the hiring of members and former members of the Armed Forces who were wounded in service and are facing a transition to civilian life, as amended.

H. RES. 1070

Whereas United States soldiers, sailors, airmen, and Marines continue to make significant personal sacrifices to protect and defend the Nation;

Whereas since the start of Operation Iraqi Freedom and Operation Enduring Freedom in late 2001 over 1,406,000 members of the Armed Forces have served overseas in combat theaters of operations;

Whereas over 22,900 members of the Armed Forces have been wounded in theater and as a result of their injuries many have been separated from their respective service;

Whereas as a result of required separation from military service due to their injuries incurred while in service, these members of the Armed Forces are transitioning to civilian careers;

Whereas recent statistics from the Bureau of Labor Statistics show that the transition from military service to a civilian career can be difficult, with veterans who are age 20 through 24 experiencing a jobless rate 3 times the national average; and

Whereas Members of Congress could provide assistance in making businesses and employers aware of the unique skills of wounded veterans and thereby help reduce the jobless rate for wounded veterans: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the House of Representatives that—

(1) Members of the House should actively engage with employers and the American public at large to encourage the hiring of members and former members of the Armed Forces who were wounded in service and are facing a transition to civilian life;

(2) a strong relationship should be forged between Congress, local businesses, and members and former members of the Armed Forces referred to in paragraph (1) towards the goal of finding employment for those who have sacrificed so much; and

(3) Members should carry out the types of activities described in this resolution in accordance with regulations promulgated by the Committee on Standards of Official Conduct and the Committee on House Administration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from California (Mr. HUNTER) and the gentlewoman from Guam (Ms. BORDALLO) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from California.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. HUNTER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks on the resolution under consideration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from California?

There was no objection.

Mr. HUNTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, it is really a pleasure to be down in the Chamber working this issue with the gentlewoman from Guam, for whom I have the utmost esteem. This is a very good cause we are talking about this morning.

Mr. Speaker, the Members of this House of Representatives spend a lot of time each year making recommendations and decisions that directly impact the lives of the men and women of the Armed Forces.

With the global war on terrorism, House Members have taken numerous actions as part of the annual defense authorization and defense appropriations acts to ensure that these fine men and women have the full range of resources they need to be successful in combat.

For those who are wounded and injured, and there have been more than 22,900 during this war, our colleagues have moved quickly and effectively to change laws and provide additional resources to improve the health care system. For as much as we in the House have done to support the men and women of the Armed Forces, I believe that more should be done and could be done, especially for those who have been wounded in defense of this Nation and who as a result of their wounds are leaving the service.

That is the purpose of this resolution today, to explicitly state that it is the sense of the House of Representatives that Members of the House should actively engage with employers and the American public at large to encourage the hiring of members and former members of the Armed Forces who were wounded in service and are facing a transition to civilian life.

Beyond the fact that getting involved is the right thing for Members to do, Members need to get more directly involved in helping wounded servicemembers transition to civilian life because young veterans, those aged 20 through 24, are experiencing a jobless rate three times the national average, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

We have all seen too many Vietnam-era homeless veterans in our districts, a reflection that the Nation then did not fully step up to doing what was necessary for those who serve the Nation. We should not repeat that mistake.

As I began 2 years ago to work this issue of finding ways to help soldiers, sailors, airmen and marines transition to civilian life, concerns were raised to me that such activity by a Member might conflict with the rules of conduct in this House, and I was surprised to hear that, Mr. Speaker, but that was the thrust of legal opinions.

I have worked with both the Committee on Standards of Official Conduct and House Administration, as well as my good colleague, Representative IKE SKELTON, and other members of the committee to shape this resolution. Thus the resolution explicitly states that in encouraging potential employers and the American public to hire veterans, Members should act in accordance with regulations promulgated by the Committee on Standards and by House Administration, and, of course, we hope that after this resolution, which I hope will pass overwhelmingly, that we will see the Committee on Standards of Official Conduct and House Administration accommodate this very important concern of ours.

Mr. Speaker, there are any number of Federal, State and local organizations and many private entities working to employ wounded servicemembers and former servicemembers. I think it is time for House Members to get involved and engaged in this effort, and therefore I strongly urge all Members to vote "yes" on this resolution.

Very simply, Mr. Speaker, this would allow a Member of Congress who goes down to Bethesda and Walter Reed and who meets maybe a young man or young woman getting out of the service, maybe as a diesel mechanic, to call up companies in their district and say, do you have any need for diesel mechanics? If they say yes, you marry up that member of the service and that particular business in your district, and they end up getting a job.

We all know that a lot of jobs in this country are custom made, that is, they are the result of people getting together and having a cup of coffee or making a phone call, and that often starts a career which may continue for 5, 10, 15, 20 years.

Members of Congress have great connections with the businesses in their district, and it is only appropriate that they be involved in this process of making sure that people that wear the uniform, when they get out, have a chance to get a piece of this great opportunity that we call America.

Mr. Speaker, having said that, I reserve the balance of my time. It is great to be here with the gentlewoman from Guam working on this important resolution.

Ms. BORDALLO. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I want to commend my colleague, the chairman of the Armed Forces Committee, Mr. HUNTER of California, and the cosponsors of this resolution for introducing it.

I rise this morning in support of this resolution. It has been said that we often take for granted the very things that most deserve our gratitude, and there is little doubt in our country today that the men and women who are serving our Nation in uniform deserve our deepest gratitude.

I support this resolution, and I urge my colleagues to do the same, because at its heart is the principle that when our veterans return from performing their duty, we in turn owe a duty to them to assist them in their transition from citizen soldier to life as a civilian.

For many veterans, Mr. Speaker, especially those who return wounded, the transition to civilian life can be rocky and challenging. This Congress has committed to provide every tool necessary to our warfighters so that they can overcome any obstacle that they face in combat.

This resolution in a specific employment sense seeks to encourage the application of the same vigor in supporting our wounded veterans in their efforts to overcome obstacles involved in returning to civilian life and securing civilian employment. But as in all things, there is no silver bullet to facilitate the transition from wounded hero to employed civilian.

This resolution reflects the importance of supporting the hurdle of finding employment. But before our war-wounded can even consider employment, our commitment must be to world-class medical treatment that returns the wounded to the greatest health possible before they can enter the workforce.

Similarly, while some wounds may heal quickly, many others endure. So we must work to ensure that a veterans health care system with the capability, the capacity and the care to provide continuing treatment to our veterans is always, always available.

Further, while many military skills are invaluable in the workplace, a commitment to education and training funding for veterans can be critical to providing any opportunity, not just at employment, but at achieving continued advancement and new levels of financial and professional success.

I am proud of the record my colleagues have on championing these and so many related issues, and I know I speak for my colleagues in the upcoming Democratic majority in saying that we look forward to continuing and expanding our commitment to this full spectrum of care that our veterans deserve.

In closing, Mr. Speaker, we are reminded of the ethical mandates of service as Members of Congress, and I am reminded that I was sent to this great legislative body not to just use my position to influence others, but to legislate. So while I strongly support this resolution which encourages Members to use their personal influence to encourage employers to hire wounded veterans, the most important action for our Members will be continued and renewed vigor in our legislative efforts to support our veterans across the broad spectrum of support that they have earned.

I am proud, Mr. Speaker, of the record that employers in my home district, Guam, have established in supporting all veterans, but especially wounded veterans. My partnership with the Guam Chamber of Commerce has proved valuable to promoting such hiring practices, and I encourage all Members to so reach out on behalf of wounded veterans in their community.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. HUNTER. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the gentlewoman's very articulate remarks.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 5 minutes to the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. SEKULA GIBBS).

Ms. SEKULA GIBBS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the chairman for the opportunity to address this resolution.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Resolution 1070 and express my support with the Members of the House of Representatives that Americans should employ people who have served our country. We should actively engage with employers and the American public at large to hire members and former members of the Armed Forces, especially those who have been wounded in service to our country and are facing a transition into civilian life.

I am a physician and have had the opportunity to work in veterans hospitals across the country. I will tell you that there is no group of people more dedicated and more committed to the American way of life and our great country than people who have served in our military. Who knows more about hard work than the people who have worked hard in the military, the men and women in our Armed Forces who have spent time abroad and have faced danger in the battle zones in places like Afghanistan and Iraq?

After serving our country, these men and women deserve a right to find gainful employment and to support themselves and their families. These individuals have sacrificed so much so that all of us can enjoy our freedom, the freedoms that we hold dear.

I suggest that a college degree is very important to an employer and has value and intrinsic value, but also service in the military has that experiential value that an employer can find very, very important when selecting a valuable worker.

I have worked with organizations like Marine for Life and with an individual in the Houston area named Sergeant Tony Martin who helps find Marines jobs when they return from active service. These groups are to be supported. Look them up. Seek them out.

Mr. Speaker, I am proud to support the passage of House Resolution 1070, and I urge my colleagues to join me in voting in favor of it.

Ms. BORDALLO. Mr. Speaker, I have no further speakers, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. HUNTER. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I want to thank Ms. SEKULA GIBBS and the gentlewoman from Guam, Ms. BORDALLO, for assisting in this important resolution. This is something that I think that the membership of this House can enter into with lots of enthusiasm, with lots of energy.

Mr. Speaker, no one knows the businesses better in our districts than Representatives. The ability to connect a wounded soldier, sailor, airman or marine with a business in their particular district is something that will have a far-reaching effect, a long-lasting effect. Because of some of the qualities of our service personnel, that is the discipline, the ability to be a self-starter, the knowledge that you have to get up early and show up on time, the discipline, the talent, all those things I think will create long-lasting employment if we do one thing, and that is help to marry up these great Americans with prospective employers. We are well situated to do that and hopefully will have a good vote in the full House to emphasize that point in the resolution.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time and ask everyone to support this resolution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from California (Mr. HUNTER) that the House suspend the rules and agree to the resolution, H. Res. 1070, as amended.

The question was taken.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. In the opinion of the Chair, two-thirds of those voting have responded in the affirmative.

Mr. HUNTER. Mr. Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX and the Chair's prior announcement, further proceedings on this question will be postponed.

HENRY J. HYDE ROOM

Mr. YOUNG of Alaska. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and agree to the resolution (H. Res. 1087) designating Room H-139 of the Capitol as the "Henry J. Hyde Room".

The Clerk read as follows:

H. RES. 1087

Resolved, That—

(1) Room H-139 of the Capitol shall be known and designated as the "Henry J. Hyde Room"; and

(2) this resolution shall take effect on the day following the date on which Henry J. Hyde is no longer serving as a Member of the House of Representatives.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Alaska (Mr. YOUNG) and the gentlewoman from the District of Columbia (Ms. NORTON) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Alaska.

Mr. YOUNG of Alaska. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, House Resolution 1087 designates room H-139 of the United States Capitol as the HENRY J. HYDE Room. This designation will become effective January 3, 2007. It is an honor to speak today on this resolution, which is a tribute to one of the finest Members of this Chamber, Congressman HENRY HYDE.

Congressman HYDE has served this country well. In 1942, he enlisted in the U.S. Navy, serving in combat in the Philippines. When he retired, he held the rank of commander. He attended Loyola School of Law in 1949 and was a successful attorney in Illinois. He became a State legislator in 1966 and was eventually elected to be the majority leader of the Illinois House of Representatives. In 1975, he was elected to this Chamber by the good people of the Sixth District of Illinois and has served them well over the past 32 years.

Congressman HYDE has been a true champion and hero during his time in Congress. As chairman of the Judiciary Committee and International Relations Committee, Congressman HYDE has authored ground-breaking and effective legislation and has pushed for the promotion of democracy around the world.

Over the past 32 years, Congressman HYDE has served in this building with honor, respect, and prestige. It is only fitting that we name H-139 in his honor as a lasting tribute to his accomplishments and his steadfast dedication to his constituents and the American people.

I support this legislation and encourage all my colleagues to do the same.

Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from California (Mr. HUNTER).

Mr. HUNTER. Mr. Speaker, I was just walking out when I heard the gentleman mention the great HENRY HYDE of Illinois, and I just wanted to add my words as a guy who watched him in monumental debates that affected this Nation and the world over the last 26 years.

□ 1045

HENRY HYDE has been a giant in the House of Representatives and in America, and I want to thank the gentleman.

Mr. YOUNG of Alaska. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. NORTON. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I rise in support of H. Res. 1087 to designate room H-139 in the Capitol as the Henry J. Hyde Room. Congressman HYDE is widely respected and regarded on both sides of the aisle as an effective leader and able legislator. He has served with distinction for more than three decades, working to improve the lives of senior citizens, veterans and families of all sizes. He has focused on job creation and better education for all, better housing for senior citizens, and the needs of special education students.

During his tenure as the chairman of the House International Relations Committee, he focused his work on terrorism and, in particular, biological and chemical weapons threats. Congressman HYDE also served as chairman of the House Judiciary Committee from 1995 to 2001.

It is fitting and proper to honor the distinguished career of HENRY HYDE with this designation. I support the resolution and urge my colleagues to also support this resolution today.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. YOUNG of Alaska. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I would also like to add to my first statement a little bit of litany of Mr. HYDE. He was my neighbor right next door to 2111 in the Rayburn Building. He was always good for a conversation but, most of all, good advice. He also has been one that has protected, or at least protected the unborn, and he has been to my State numerous times and has spoken eloquently and with forcefulness about their need to be protected.

He has been a friend of this body because he brought dignity, as I mentioned before, and the prestige of a gentleman but, more than that, a very intellectual individual that understood the issues.

So I am extremely proud today to support this legislation. I hope all my colleagues understand that we are losing a good colleague. Some of my colleagues that have left prior to this were not recognized by naming a room. It is just a small token of appreciation to someone who brought the needed, I think, gentlemanness to this body.

So it is with great honor that I support this legislation again.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. NORTON. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from Guam (Ms. BORDALLO).

Ms. BORDALLO. Mr. Speaker, I rise also to support H. Res. 1087.

I join my colleagues, Mr. Speaker, in recognizing the distinguished service of our retiring colleague, Mr. HYDE of Illinois. It has been a privilege to serve with him in this body. He has established himself as an effective and dedicated public servant over the course of nearly 40 years in public service and 16 terms in Congress.

He is a gifted public speaker and one of the House's skilled orators. His leadership as chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and the House International Relations Committee has evidenced his skills as a legislator and his commitment to strengthen the principles of our great country, the United States of America. We will miss him, but we will recall the ideals and the principles for which he stands and his graciousness.

So, Mr. Speaker, I find it very fitting that we designate a room in the Capitol in his honor. This room will remind us of his work and his service in this institution.

Mr. YOUNG of Alaska. Mr. Speaker, I yield whatever time he may consume to the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. PENCE).

(Mr. PENCE asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. PENCE. Mr. Speaker, I thank the chairman for yielding and rise in strong support of H. Res. 1087.

As this Congress draws to a close, this legislation that I had the privilege of authoring is a source of great personal satisfaction to me, and I cannot help but feel a sense of privilege about being able to have played a part in bringing this important honor to the floor today.

Mr. Speaker, as this session of Congress draws to a close, so draws to a close the storied career of a lion of the House of Representatives, Congressman HENRY HYDE of Illinois.

As the chairman of several major committees at the center of repeated national controversies, HENRY HYDE, as Members on both sides of the aisle have already said today and know, has been a paragon of dignity, civility, and commitment to principle, and I would add that he has been a lion of the right to life, and this Chamber will miss his roar.

I offer this legislation before us today to name H-139 in the United States Capitol after this storied legislator. It is an act we sometimes do in this body to honor a figure whose public service indicates a significant benchmark or milestone in the history of the House of Representatives, and the career of HENRY HYDE certainly speaks for itself.

He is the holder of no fewer than eight honorary degrees from eight separate colleges and universities, in addition to his B.S. from Georgetown and J.D. from the Loyola University School of Law in Chicago.

His service in the Navy took him to Lingayen Gulf, an extension of the South China Sea. Upon returning home, he was elected to the Illinois House of Representatives in 1966 and then to this body, the United States House of Representatives, in 1974 where he has served with great distinction.

Throughout his career, whether it was closed-door White House briefings or high-level meetings with diplomats, HENRY HYDE has played a vital role in our Nation's security and in defining America's place in the world, and as chairman of the Judiciary Committee, he has held fair hearings and respected the constitutional rule of law ordained by our Founding Fathers.

But Mr. Speaker, it is the Hyde amendment itself for which the gentleman of Illinois will perhaps be best remembered. He eloquently remarked on this floor on one occasion, "I look for the common thread in slavery, the Holocaust and abortion. To me, the common thread is dehumanizing people."

The first Hyde amendment passed in 1976 banning abortions financed by Medicaid and has remained in force ever since. An argument can be made that it is the most important piece of legislation this Congress has considered in the past 50 years, and that would be an argument that I endorse.

HENRY HYDE's respect for life extends to his support of other legislation, including sponsorship of legislation to expand the number of women eligible for pregnancy benefits.

Mr. Speaker, quite simply, when I think of HENRY HYDE's career and the classic speeches he has given in this Chamber, I cannot help but think of the poem "Ulysses" by his favorite poet, Alfred Lord Tennyson. Mr. HYDE once quoted this poem to me verbatim as we sat in this Chamber between votes, and I think it applies to his service and his retirement and his dedication today.

Tennyson wrote:
"Tho' much is taken, much abides;
and tho'

We are not now that strength which in the old days

Moved earth and heaven; that which we are, we are

One equal-temper of heroic hearts,
Made weak by time and fate, but strong in will

To strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield."

Such was the career of this rare leader and the gentleman from Illinois. May God bless his golden years and may God bless all the deliberations that will take place in the Henry Hyde Room in the United States Capitol for generations to come.

Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in strong support of H. Res. 1087, designating Room H-139 of the Capitol as the "Henry J. Hyde Room." I believe that this high honor is a fitting tribute to my friend and colleague for his 32 years of distinguished service in Congress.

Mr. HYDE is truly an institution in the Halls of Congress. His character, his wisdom, and his eloquence will long serve as an inspiration to those who will grace the Halls of Congress in the future. Through his leadership on the House Committee on International Relations, his guidance on the House Committee on the Judiciary, and his selfless dedication to the people of the 6th District of Illinois, Mr. HYDE has proven to be a true statesman, easily worthy of the honor this legislation would bestow on him.

In my experience working with Chairman HYDE on the International Relations Committee, he has proven himself time and again to be a strong leader. On many of the most pressing international issues of our time, such as the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001, North Korea's nuclear ambitions, the humanitarian crisis in Darfur, our Nation's ongoing relations with China, and the pending nuclear agreement with India, Chairman HYDE has been the voice and the conscience of the American people.

Throughout his tenure in Congress, Mr. HYDE has focused on improving the lives of children, working families, seniors, and military veterans. Examples of his service in his home district include public works projects to provide flood control and clean drinking water, new housing developments for senior citizens and children with special needs, and grants to provide new equipment for the local fire and police departments.

A military veteran himself, Mr. HYDE has long championed the cause of today's military veterans. Mr. HYDE served in the U.S. Navy in the South Pacific, New Guinea and the Philippines during World War II and continued to serve in the U.S. Naval Reserve until 1968, retiring at the rank of commander. Earlier this year I was privileged to travel to American Samoa with Chairman HYDE where he recognized and acknowledged the military service and sacrifices of our Samoan soldiers in the global war on terror.

Chairman HYDE is my dear friend and a cherished colleague. He is highly regarded by members from both sides of the aisle for his leadership and integrity. I support H. Res. 1087 and I encourage my fellow members in Congress to support this resolution recognizing the invaluable contribution of Mr. HYDE to this great Nation.

Ms. NORTON. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. YOUNG of Alaska. Mr. Speaker, I have no other requests for time, and I yield back my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Alaska (Mr. YOUNG) that the House suspend the rules and agree to the resolution, H. Res. 1087.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds of those voting having responded in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the resolution was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

EXTENSION OF FUNDING TO PROCESS PERMITS

Mr. YOUNG of Alaska. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 6316) to extend through December 31, 2008, the authority of the Secretary of the Army to accept and expend funds contributed by non-Federal public entities to expedite the processing of permits.

The Clerk read as follows:

H.R. 6316

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. FUNDING TO PROCESS PERMITS.

Section 214(c) of the Water Resources Development Act of 2000 (33 U.S.C. 2201 note; 114 Stat. 2594; 117 Stat. 1836; 119 Stat. 2169; 120 Stat. 318) is amended by striking "December 31, 2006" and inserting "December 31, 2008".

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Alaska (Mr. YOUNG) and the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON) each will control 20 minutes. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Alaska.

Mr. YOUNG of Alaska. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.R. 6316, to authorize the extension of the Army Corps of Engineers' section 214 program.

Section 214 of the Water Resources Development Act of 2000 allows the Army Corps of Engineers to accept and expend funds provided by non-Federal public entities to hire additional personnel to process regulatory permits.

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 6316 is urgently needed since authority for this program expires on December 31 of this calendar year. If this program expires, the Corps will have to fire some regulatory personnel, reducing its ability to process permits in a timely manner.

The Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure has heard from Members on both sides of the aisle supporting the section 214 program. H.R. 6316 is nearly identical to section 2003 of the Water Resources Development Act of 2005, which passed the House on July 14, 2005 by a vote of 406-14. Since the authority for the section 214 program is expiring, it is necessary to move this piece separately.

I thank Representative BAIRD and our colleagues from the western United States for introducing this bill. I urge all Members to vote in favor of H.R. 6316.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I support the passage of H.R. 6316. This bill extends through December 31, 2008, the authority of the Secretary of the Army to accept and expend funds contributed by non-Federal public entities to process permits under the Clean Water Act and the Rivers and Harbor Act of 1899.

The current authority for this program expires on December 31 of this year. The program is popular and well-received, particularly in the northwest part of the country.

I congratulate my committee colleague Mr. BAIRD for his attention to this issue and for securing today's consideration of this bill. I can think of no other Member who has served his local or regional issues with more enthusiasm and effectiveness.

The language in H.R. 6316 is similar to the two previous extensions of this program which passed the House September 20, 2005, and March 14, 2006. Both of these votes to extend the program received strong support from the House.

The language in this legislation is modeled after the language contained in H.R. 2864, the Water Resources Development Act of 2005, which passed this House on July 14, 2005, by an overwhelming vote of 406-14.

While my preference would be to address the extension of this program through passage of the broader Water Resources Development Act, at this later hour in the session it seems increasingly unlikely that work can be completed on the larger bill.

This really is unfortunate because it only further delays the opportunity for the Corps of Engineers to provide essential flood control, navigation and ecosystem restoration projects to our Nation and vital public safety and economic benefits to our constituents.

We are now just one week shy of 6 years since the last water resources bill was enacted, and this is really far too long.

I am certain that there will be questions as to why Congress was unable to enact a water resources bill in the 109th Congress, especially since this is the first time since 2000 that both the House and Senate Chambers were able to approve legislation for the other body to consider.

However, in spite of this significant achievement and roughly 5 months of staff negotiations towards a conference agreement, the fact remains that no agreement has been reached, and we are days away from the adjournment and facing one more year without a water resources bill.

Mr. Speaker, the current administration has no commitment to the Nation's premier water-related infrastructure agencies. This administration fails to understand the importance of the Corps of Engineers and the vital work that this agency does for the American people.

The administration's lack of support for a comprehensive Water Resources Development Act has only made Congress's work more difficult.

During the consideration in both the House and Senate, the administration released two statements of administration policy that were highly critical of the Congress's efforts, especially of the administration's concern with the overall cost of two bills. However, what the administration fails to recognize is that the roughly $10 billion project authorizations contained in this House-passed version and the $12 billion in the Senate-passed version reflect 6 years of requests since the Water Resources Development Act of 2000. Should Congress fail to approve this Water Resources Development Act this year, we should expect that next year's bill will cost more than both the House and Senate versions, perhaps as much as $15 billion. However, the Department of Transportation predicted it would be $19 billion this year.

These numbers are consistent with the historical costs of past water resources bills, and further delay only results in making these vital projects more expensive over time. Yet Congress must also share the blame for its failure to deliver a comprehensive water resources bill this year. With both the House and Senate and the White House under Republican control, it would seem that passage of this legislation would have been achievable. In spite of these significant efforts of both the chairman of the conference committee and my chairman, Mr. YOUNG, the House and Senate has been unable to reach agreement on a final package. I am confident that our committee, under the leadership of our incoming chairman, Mr. OBERSTAR, will make the passage and enactment of the Water Resources Development Act a number one priority in 2007.

Mr. Speaker, I urge support of this bill and reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. YOUNG of Alaska. Mr. Speaker, I agree with the lady from Texas, her comments about the water resources bill. We passed it three times over to the other side of the aisle, and for three times they punted. And I think they have been kicking at the wrong goal, because we have not been able to finish this program.

This is a badly needed piece of legislation. The total bill itself has to be passed sooner or later, and it should be passed sooner; but it is not going to be. I expect to work with Mr. OBERSTAR and the chairman of the subcommittee; we were really thinking we would probably pass the bill that we have in conference today and go immediately to conference to get this done, and I will tell you that I will do everything in my power to work with the majority as the minority leader in trying to get this legislation passed. And, by the way, there are no dollars in the bill's authorization, but in the meantime we have things such as this bill we are talking about today that should have been passed previously that is going to expire.

And I would like to compliment Mr. BAIRD especially for his insistence on getting this bill on the floor, because it is crucial in the areas where we can continue and work is being done without the funding that should have been in the water bill that has passed by using a private donor or other sources of income to get the job done.

So I agree with the gentlewoman, and I do compliment Mr. BAIRD on his insistence of the legislation.

Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON of Texas. Madam Speaker, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from Washington (Mr. BAIRD).

Mr. BAIRD. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding, and I thank my good friend, the chairman of the committee from Alaska, for his insight and leadership in bringing this to the floor.

As has been said, this legislation would extend section 214 of the Water Resources Development Act until December 31, 2008. It is a commonsense bill. It will save jobs, protect the environment, and promote economic growth.

Section 214 was enacted in WRDA 2000 to permit non-Federal public entities to contribute funds to the Army Corps to help expedite the processing of Corps permits. This is especially important in regions such as my own where we have endangered species listed and the permitting load has grown exponentially in recent years. This permission has allowed municipalities and ports to move forward with vital infrastructure projects, and these entities that provide funding are given no partiality by the Corps in their review of the project.

However, by funding additional staff to work on specific time-intensive permits, the staff and the Corps budget is freed up to work on their permit backlog. In fact, in utilizing this authority, the Army Corps of Seattle District has seen their total average review time per project reduced from 804 days to just 69 days in the first 3 years of implementation. And the City of Seattle alone estimates the cost savings at over $5 million, again from a piece of legislation that does not cost the Federal Government a penny.

Additionally, due to urgent construction needs, thousands of Corps staff have volunteered to serve in the Katrina area as well as reconstruction areas in Iraq and Afghanistan. Again turning to the Seattle Corps as an example, they have deployed a total of 233 civilian and military staff, approximately 29 percent of their staff, to these areas. First, we appreciate the service of those staff members and their courageous work in those combat areas. At the same time, however, their departure has left a limited number of staff remaining to handle the needs of the regional area. The deployments of the soldiers and men and women serving overseas can range from 30 days to a year or more, again leaving a substantial gap. It is during such times of increased deployments and increased demand for permits that we need expedited processes such as 214, and they are vital in continuing regional growth and economic need.

This section, as was mentioned, was enacted last year unanimously as H.R.

4826, and currently is unfortunately set to expire on December 31. What we are seeking is simply an extension until the committee finishes their work on WRDA before the end of the 110th, and I share my colleague's frustration that in spite of the House, as my good friend from Alaska said, we passed it across the aisle. We are with you across the aisle; it is across the Capitol that we have got the problem with the other body, as we say.

This provision is absolutely vital to Corps activities. Although this authority exists for all regions in the country, it has been particularly utilized in the Pacific Northwest by the City of Seattle, Ports of Tacoma and Long Beach, as well as the City of San Diego and public entities in Florida as well and around Sacramento. In the Northwest we have seen the backlog in the past had grown to 1,000 permits per year, but we have been able to lower that thanks to this legislation.

I am pleased to have support of all Washington State House Members as cosponsors of the bills, as well as Members representing Oregon, Idaho, and California. Again, I would thank the chairman, Mr. YOUNG, Ranking Member OBERSTAR, Water Resource Subcommittee Chairman DUNCAN and Ranking Member JOHNSON, as well as their staff; and I look forward to working with them. Finally, let me give special thanks to my staff member Katie Stephens who is leaving my office this year but has worked diligently on this piece of legislation and has worked for me for several years and prior to that for Cal Dooley. I wish her all the best and I am grateful for her service.

Mr. HONDA. Madam Speaker, I rise today to express my support for H.R. 6316, and I am glad the House will be approving this bill today.

The bill extends the Army Corps of Engineers authority to accept and expend funds contributed by non-Federal public entities to expedite the processing of permits. If the House and Senate had been able to agree to the Water Resources Development Act, this authority would have been extended, but unfortunately the two bodies have been unable to pass WRDA yet again.

H.R. 6316 helps to address an increasingly important problem in areas that are experiencing significant growth in environmentally sensitive areas. In the Sacramento, CA region, for example, much of the land includes wetlands and endangered or threatened species, meaning that any construction projects require permits from the Corps of Engineers to proceed.

At current staffing levels, the Corps of Engineers cannot process the large number of permits in a timely manner. The authority granted by this bill allows the Corps to accept outside funds to support additional staff to work on the processing of these permits.

I would prefer that in the future we can address this problem permanently, either by giving the Corps of Engineers sufficient funding to do its job or by granting permanent authority similar to that in this bill; but in the interim, I am happy that we will be passing H.R. 6316 and I commend Representative BAIRD for pushing this bill forward.

Ms. EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON of Texas. Madam Speaker, I have no other requests for time, and I yield the balance of the time.

Mr. YOUNG of Alaska. Madam Speaker, I have no other requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mrs. CAPITO). The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Alaska (Mr. YOUNG) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 6316.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds of those voting having responded in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. YOUNG of Alaska. Madam Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that Members have 5 legislative days to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on House Resolution 1087 and H.R. 6316.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Alaska?

There was no objection.

SUPPORTING THE GOALS AND IDEALS OF NATIONAL HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS VOTER REGISTRATION DAY

Mr. EHLERS. Madam Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and agree to the concurrent resolution (H. Con. Res. 73) supporting the goals and ideals of National High School Seniors Voter Registration Day.

The Clerk read as follows:

H. CON. RES. 73

Whereas in order for the government of the United States to remain of the people, by the people, and for the people, individuals must take advantage of their right to vote;

Whereas the right to vote is one of the most important rights of a citizen, and every effort should be made to promote voter registration at school so that students may begin participating in the foundation of the Nation's representative democracy;

Whereas the Legislature of Louisiana voted in 2002 to recognize annually the first Tuesday in May as National High School Seniors Voter Registration Day; and

Whereas the purpose of National High School Seniors Voter Registration Day is to allow students to register to vote at school to encourage their participation in making democracy work; Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), That Congress supports the goals and ideals of National High School Seniors Voter Registration Day, and encourages all eligible students to register to vote.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. EHLERS) and the gentlewoman from California (Ms. MILLENDER-MCDONALD) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Michigan

Mr. EHLERS. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Madam Speaker, I rise in support of House Concurrent Resolution 73, introduced by my colleague from Louisiana, Congressman MCCREERY. This bill will establish the first Tuesday in May as National High School Seniors Voter Registration Day, during which volunteers will register high school seniors and other students of voting age on site in their schools.

As I have often stated, my goal as the chairman of the House Administration Committee is to make sure that every citizen who is able to vote does so. As an educator, I have witnessed firsthand the passion and energy our young people possess when given a chance to voice their beliefs, qualities that will serve them well as they enter the voting booth. The National High School Seniors Voter Registration Day will create an additional mechanism to register young men and women and perhaps encourage an early desire to participate in the political process. Accordingly, I call upon my colleagues to support this resolution.

Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. MILLENDER-McDONALD. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Madam Speaker, I rise today in support of H. Con. Res. 73 and thank Representative MCCREERY for introducing this very important concurrent resolution which encourages our Nation's youth to register to vote. There are few rights as Americans that are more sacred than the precious right to vote. Discussing this resolution today gives all of us in Congress the opportunity to express our support for the goals set forth by the great State of Louisiana to provide the opportunity for all high school seniors to register to vote at school and to encourage their participation in the political process.

Madam Speaker, you and I and many Members very frequently visit our high schools and speak with our students, and it is so important for the high school seniors to register to vote. A lot of them are very much interested in what goes on in this House, and it is important that we continue to engage in dialogue with them so that they will be participants, active participants in this political process.

In the spring session of 2002, the Louisiana legislature ratified House Concurrent Resolution 20, declaring the first Tuesday in May as Louisiana High School Seniors Voting Registration Day. This resolution encourages students to participate in our political process and in making democracy work. In my home State of California, the legislature passed the Student Voting Registration Act of 2003, which gives the Secretary of State the power to annually provide every high school, community college, and California State university and the University of California systems' campuses with voter registration forms to expand the number of youth participating in the voting process.

The goal of California's law is to ensure that every high school and college student receives a voter registration card with his or her diploma. California is achieving its goal by providing voter registration forms at the start of the school year, including voter registration forms with orientation materials, placing voter registration forms at central locations, and including voter registration forms with graduation materials. I am so pleased and so proud of the State of California for expanding this type of service to our high school students, and I hope that all States follow these models to enfranchise all of our Nation's youth.

I hope that this resolution on the floor today will encourage our youth to participate in our democracy not only by registering to vote and voting, but by becoming poll workers. To facilitate youth involvement in our elections, this summer I offered an amendment to H.R. 5576, the Transportation-Treasury-HUD appropriations bill, to double the funding to the Election Assistance Commission to administer the College Poll Workers Grant program. This amendment was accepted to the bill without objection. I realize that the resolution under consideration today only speaks to high school students, but it highlights an important first step in increasing youth civic engagement and strengthening American democracy.

I support this resolution and the continued goals and ideals of National High School Seniors Voter Registration Day and encourage all eligible students not only to register to vote but to exercise that franchise as well.

Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. EHLERS. Madam Speaker, I am very pleased to yield as much time as he may consume to the sponsor of the resolution, Mr. MCCREERY of Louisiana.

Mr. MCCREERY. Madam Speaker, it is a pleasure to be on the floor today to support this resolution, and I thank the chairman and ranking member of the committee for bringing this to the floor today.

The resolution actually encourages the Congress to support the goals and ideals of National High School Seniors Voter Registration Day. This is a program that was actually started in my hometown of Shreveport, Louisiana, back in 1996; and the results have been indeed noteworthy. Just this year, for example, in the class of 2006, the high school graduating class of 2006, nearly 50 percent of the graduating class registered to vote in Shreveport this year. That is far above what you will find in most cities and towns that don't have a program similar to this in effect.

The goals and ideals of the High School Seniors Voter Registration Day are contained in the program's mission statement; and simply, the program's mission is to register to vote high school seniors and students of voting age on the first Tuesday in May.

And also, to encourage students to make a lifelong commitment to civic participation in all areas of society by educating them about the importance of voting.

That's the mission. Certainly I would hope this Congress today by its vote here in the House and I hope later in the other body would support the goals and ideals of this program.

Certainly we can think of no better message to send to young people in this country that civic participation is important, in fact critical to the progress of this Nation and perhaps, some would say, to the survival of this Nation.

So I am pleased to be able to present this resolution today endorsing a program that sprang up in my hometown and now has spread across the State of Louisiana and we hope will spread across the Nation. I urge its adoption.

Ms. MILLENDER-McDONALD. Madam Speaker, I applaud the gentleman from Louisiana for this very interesting and important resolution. I support the resolution.

Madam Speaker, I have no further speakers, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. EHLERS. Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. EHLERS) that the House suspend the rules and agree to the concurrent resolution, H. Con. Res. 73.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds of those voting having responded in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the concurrent resolution was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. EHLERS. Madam Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days in which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on H. Con. Res. 73.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Michigan?

There was no objection.

REGARDING WAIVER OF PATENT AND TRADEMARK REQUIREMENTS IN CERTAIN EMERGENCIES

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Madam Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 4742) to amend title 35, United States Code, to allow the Director of the Patent and Trademark Office to waive statutory provisions governing patents and trademarks in certain emergencies.

The Clerk read as follows:

H.R. 4742

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. WAIVER OF PATENT AND TRADE-MARK REQUIREMENTS IN CERTAIN EMERGENCIES.

Section 2 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

“(e) WAIVER OF REQUIREMENTS IN CERTAIN EMERGENCIES.—The Director may waive statutory provisions governing the filing, processing, renewal, and maintenance of patents, trademark registrations, and applications therefor to the extent the Director deems necessary in order to protect the rights and privileges of applicants and other persons affected by an emergency or a major disaster, as those terms are defined in section 102 of the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act (42 U.S.C. 5122). A decision not to exercise, or a failure to exercise, the waiver authority provided by this subsection shall not be subject to judicial review.”.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. SENSENBRENNER) and the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. CONYERS) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Wisconsin.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Madam Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days in which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on H.R. 4742 currently under consideration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Wisconsin?

There was no objection.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Madam Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 4742, to amend title 35, United States Code, to allow the Director of the Patent and Trademark Office to waive statutory provisions governing patents and trademarks in certain emergencies.

The devastation caused by Hurricane Katrina in the gulf region affected the ability of applicants, patentees, trademark holders and other interested parties to do business with the PTO.

Following the disaster, the agency invoked as much administrative and statutory authority as it could to accommodate those affected. For example, the PTO created a toll-free hotline for victims to call with questions or problems; attempted to place calls to all registered practitioners in Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana; blocked outgoing mail to those living at relevant ZIP codes in the region; vacated all outstanding examiners' actions, to be remailed at a later time; and accorded "special consideration" to all reductions of patent term adjustments where the applicant delay was attributable to the hurricane.

Despite its best efforts to date, the PTO needs additional authority to provide individuals and businesses relief from certain statutory deadlines, especially those pertaining to the maintenance of granted patents and registered trademarks.

Pursuant to the bill, the PTO may waive statutory provisions governing the filing, processing, renewal and maintenance of patents, trademark registrations and applications to the extent the director deems necessary to protect the rights and privileges of applicants and other persons affected by certain emergencies or a major disaster.

Madam Speaker, this is a non-controversial measure that will ensure that the PTO carries out its statutory mandates in a fair manner during emergency conditions.

I urge Members to support it.

Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. CONYERS. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I too rise in support of this legislation. H.R. 4742 has been reported favorably by the Committee on the Judiciary with no controversy.

What we are talking about today responds in part to the devastation caused by Hurricane Katrina. We all know that among the hurricane's wide-ranging impact was the destruction of infrastructure and a legal maelstrom caused by judicially and statutorily imposed deadlines for filing documents and making payments. This also is the case with the patent law, which forces individuals and businesses to comply with statutory deadlines for patent and trademark filings in the midst of a natural disaster.

The measure before us is designed to alleviate that pressure by permitting the Patent and Trademark Office director to extend statutory deadlines during emergencies. This section provides an opportunity to aid innovators who, because of devastation, might lose rights to their inventions and creation.

I am pleased to join with those that urge the swift passage of H.R. 4742.

Mr. SMITH of Texas. Madam Speaker, I thank the Gentleman from Wisconsin for moving this legislation to the House floor.

The Committee Chairman did a good job of summarizing how the bill works, so I won't repeat his description.

I would point out that granting the additional authority to the PTO Director under H.R. 4742 is consistent with other actions by the Committee and Congress to assist other individuals and institutions in the Gulf region.

This includes enactment of legislation that allows Federal courts during emergency conditions to operate outside of their geographic domains; provide transportation and subsistence expenses for indigent defendants; and delay or toll judicial proceedings.

Madam Speaker, this is a good bill that will help inventors, trademark holders, and other interested parties maintain their intellectual property rights under adverse conditions.

I urge Members to support H.R. 4742.

Mr. CONYERS. Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. SENSENBRENNER) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 4742.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds of those voting having responded in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

NONPROFIT ATHLETIC ORGANIZATION PROTECTION ACT OF 2006

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Madam Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 1176) to provide immunity for nonprofit athletic organizations in lawsuits arising from claims of ordinary negligence relating to the passage, adoption, or failure to adopt rules of play for athletic competitions and practices, as amended.

H.R. 1176

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the "Nonprofit Athletic Organization Protection Act of 2006".

SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

Congress makes the following findings:

(1) Amateur Sports and education-based athletics are an important part of our culture. Sports provide a tremendous opportunity for the youth of America to learn the skills of leadership, teamwork, and discipline. Studies have shown that participation in these activities is directly connected to academic achievement and overall social development.

(2) Amateur athletics are integral to the good health and overall well-being of American society. Nonprofit organizations put forward their best efforts to enact rules that are in the best interests of young people. Injuries will occur as a result of the inherent risks involved in sports. These risks, however, should not work to the detriment of the greater good served by amateur athletics.

(3) Young people who participate in school sports and other amateur competition have lower levels of obesity.

(4) Young people who participate in sports tend to be fitter adults, and suffer fewer health problems as they age.

(5) Playing rules in amateur sports are necessary to provide the opportunity for young people to participate in age- and skill level-appropriate competition.

(6) Sport involves intense physical activity. It also involves a certain element of danger. Rule making is anticipatory, and hence a difficult balancing act. Rules committee members face a constant struggle to balance the tradeoffs of limiting risk and preserving the key elements and sound traditions of the sport. Rules makers must draw unambiguous lines; they do not have the luxury of self-protective vagueness. Given the large number of participants and the risks inherent in sport, injuries cannot be avoided. By deciding to partake in competition, athletes assume such risks. Allowing lawsuits based merely on the good faith development of the rules is wrong and unfair.

(7) Rules makers have been the target of an increasing number of lawsuits claiming negligence due to the adoption, or failure to adopt, particular rules for amateur sports.

(8) Repeatedly defending claims will have a detrimental impact on the ability of rules makers to continue to provide these services, and will discourage the best and brightest coaches, officials, and administrators from serving on rules committees. Additionally, some children may lose the opportunity to participate in organized sports if higher insurance premiums compel amateur athletic organizations to raise fees.

SEC. 3. DEFINITIONS.

In this Act:

(1) ECONOMIC LOSS.—The term “economic loss” means any pecuniary loss resulting from harm (including the loss of earnings or other benefits related to employment, medical expense loss, replacement services loss, loss due to death, burial costs, and loss of business or employment opportunities) to the extent recovery for such loss is allowed under applicable State law.

(4) NONPROFIT ORGANIZATION.—The term “nonprofit organization” means—

(A) any organization which is described in section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 and exempt from tax under section 501(a) of such Code; or

(B) any not-for-profit organization which is organized and conducted for public benefit and operated primarily for charitable, civic, educational, religious, welfare, or health purposes.

(5) NONPROFIT ATHLETIC ORGANIZATION.—The term “nonprofit athletic organization” means a nonprofit organization that has as one of its primary functions the adoption of rules for sanctioned or approved athletic competitions and practices. (1) the nonprofit athletic organization was acting within the scope of the organization’s duties at the time of the adoption of the rules at issue;

(2) the nonprofit athletic organization was, if required, properly licensed, certified, or authorized by the appropriate authorities for the competition or practice in the State in which the harm occurred or where the competition or practice was undertaken; and

(2) A State law that makes the nonprofit athletic organization liable for the acts or omissions of its employees, agents, and volunteers to the same extent as an employer is liable for the acts or omissions of its employees.

(3) A State law that makes a limitation of liability inapplicable if the civil action was brought by an officer of a State or local government pursuant to State or local law.

(d) NONAPPLICABILITY TO CERTAIN CLAIMS.—The limitation on liability provided by subsection (a) does not apply to an action or claim arising out of a Federal, State, or local antitrust, labor, environmental, defamation, sexual assault, fraud, sexual molestation, freedom of expression, sexual harassment, tortious interference of contract law, or civil rights law, or any other Federal, State, or local law providing protection from discrimination.

SEC. 5. PREEMPTION.

This Act preempts the laws of any State to the extent that such laws are inconsistent with this Act, except that this Act shall not preempt any State law that provides additional protection from liability relating to the rule-making activities of nonprofit athletic organizations.

SEC. 6. EFFECTIVE DATE.

(a) IN GENERAL.—This Act shall take effect on the date of enactment of this Act.

(b) APPLICATION.—This Act applies to any claim for harm caused by an act or omission of a nonprofit athletic organization that is filed on or after the effective date of this Act but only if the harm that is the subject of the claim or the conduct that caused the harm occurred on or after such effective date.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. SENSENBRENNER) and the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. CONYERS) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Wisconsin.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Madam Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days in which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on H.R. 1176 currently under consideration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Wisconsin?

There was no objection.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Madam Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 1176, the Nonprofit Athletic Organization Protection Act of 2006. This bill is narrowly tailored to correct specific liability exposure problems for nonprofit sports rulemaking bodies, such as the National Federation of State High School Associations. The nonprofit athletic rulemaking bodies covered by this bill play a critical role in facilitating all levels and all types of sports. Nonprofit rulemaking bodies use the expertise of experienced volunteers to set forth rules for athletic competition and practices that preserve sports traditions and minimize risks to participants.

However, this rulemaking function is a predictive endeavor without the benefit of perfect foresight, and sports involve inherent risks that cannot all be minimized with a rule. Thus, when inevitable accidents do occur, nonprofit rulemaking bodies are often sued along with the local school district, coach, and referees because such organizations are presumed to have “deep pockets.”

In 1997, Congress passed the Volunteer Protection Act to shield volunteers from liability for some forms of negligence in response to concerns that America’s lawsuit culture was inhibiting this country’s risk tradition of volunteerism. However, because the Volunteer Protection Act does not protect organizations, this growing trend of lawsuits has led to a dramatic increase in the insurance premiums for many rulemaking associations. For example, the National High School Federation, which develops rules for 17 different sports, saw a 300 percent increase for insurance premiums in just over 3 years. This increase means that insurance premiums now make up over 10 percent of the Federation’s annual budget. These trends deprive the Federation of funds that should be directed towards vital resources, such as sports equipment upgrades or routine field maintenance. If these insurance premiums continue to skyrocket, the rulemaking authorities may be unable to attract the quality of volunteers necessary to write effective rules, or worse, they may be driven out of existence entirely.

This legislation limits liability exposure for these nonprofit athletic rulemaking organizations in a very targeted manner. Modeled on the Volunteer Protection Act, it does not confer blanket immunity. Rather, liability will still attach for gross negligence or reckless, willful or criminal misconduct.

This bill is targeted at liability stemming only from an organization’s promulgation of rules of play. During the committee’s consideration of the bill, some raised concerns about the extent of the liability protections of the bill and claimed that it would protect, among others, entities that hire child molesters without conducting a background check. To ensure against such an unintended consequence, the legislation adds sexual assault, sexual molestation, and sexual harassment to the list of claims, including antitrust, labor, and civil rights claims, that are specifically exempted from the liability protections of this bill.

So, to be absolutely clear, this bill as it comes to the floor today has been amended to meet every single objection to date about the scope and extent of the liability protections of the bill. Consequently, this bill should enjoy overwhelming bipartisan support.

Further, this bill does not prevent suits against nonrulemaking entities, such as the owner of a field of play or an equipment manufacturer, who are likely to be implicated in a sports-related injury claim.

By curbing the worst excesses of the lawsuit culture Congress can ensure that those who teach our children sports are more concerned about fair play and good sportsmanship than their insurance rates or a potential lawsuit. This bill is supported by the National Federation of State High School Associations, the National Collegiate Athletic Association, the National Council of Youth Sports, the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States, and Little League Baseball, among others.

Madam Speaker, I would like to submit for the RECORD a letter from Robert Kanaby, executive director of the National Federation of State High School Associations, showing the support of his organization and each of the 50 individual State high school associations for this legislation.

I hope that all my colleagues will join me in passing this bill.

NATIONAL FEDERATION OF STATE HIGH SCHOOL ASSOCIATIONS,
Indianapolis, IN, March 15, 2006.

DEAR MEMBER OF CONGRESS: On behalf of the National Federation of State High School Associations (NFHS), I am writing to voice our strong support for the "Nonprofit Athletic Organization Protection Act of 2005," H.R. 1176, and urge you to vote for this legislation when it reaches the House floor. On March 2, 2006, the Judiciary Committee voted to support moving this bill forward, and we are looking for your support when the bill reaches the House floor.

Amateur and education-based sports are an important part of our society. These activities provide great benefits for participants and spectators alike. It is widely acknowledged that youth and interscholastic sports are a tremendous asset to young people and an important part of the community. In addition, they provide experiences for athletes that assist them in becoming better human beings and citizens in our society.

The National Federation of State High School Associations, a non-profit organization that makes rules for high school sports, has been the target of liability claims alleging negligence due to the passage or adoption of rules for sanctioned or approved competitions. These allegations have resulted in an increase in the number of liability claims against this organization. The claims are beginning to have a detrimental financial and operational impact on the NFHS and could eventually affect our ability to continue to provide these services to our nation's high schools.

While these claims are believed to be without merit, the cost of defending claims and the uncertainty of judicial proceedings have created significant challenges. It is possible we will need to reconsider providing such rules or guidelines in the future. This may be true of other amateur sports rules makers. Without this legislation, we expect this situation will continue to deteriorate and will further jeopardize non-profit organizations that make rules for amateur athletic competition.

For education-based athletics to continue in America, nonprofit athletic organizations must have the ability to make rules without the threat of these claims.

A list of state associations supporting this legislation by their adoption of the enclosed resolution is attached.

Sincerely,

ROBERT F. KANABY,
Executive Director.

RESOLUTION

Resolved, by the members of the National Council of the National Federation of State High School Associations, representing all 50 states and the District of Columbia, that in the interest of the millions of young people who benefit from participation in amateur sports, the United States Congress be urged to adopt the "Nonprofit Athletic Organization Protection Act of 2004."

Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. CONYERS. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I reluctantly oppose this legislation and spoil the hugely bipartisan nature of the Judiciary Committee's appearance before the floor in the House today.

The reason is that not only does H.R. 1176 provide broad immunity for nonprofit athletic organizations from lawsuits in the adoption of rules for sanctioned or approved athletic competition or practices, but it would indirectly immunize these organizations which were cited as the ones supporting the measure from claims of negligence regarding child molestation.

This is a serious matter. And, by the way, this matter has been before the House on suspension and failed earlier this year. The reason is that the most problematic issue is the failure of the other side to completely address the issue of sexual misconduct in their rush to finish out the legislative year. Specifically, while matters of gross negligence are exempted from immunity under the bill, the legislation does provide immunity from lawsuits arising from claims of ordinary negligence. This simply means that these nonprofit athletic organizations are exempt from having to exercise reasonable care. And, additionally, unless 1176 is amended to include an exemption for all State common-law tort claims, this legislation would bar claims against nonprofit athletic organizations based on negligent behavior.

Thus, if a nonprofit athletic organization negligently hired, failed to assess the background of, or conducted negligent oversight of individuals who may well do great physical or emotional or sexual harm to child athletes, this legislation that we are considering would prevent those child athletes from having their day in court. That is the heart of the problem.

Additionally, the measure extends way beyond barring potential frivolous lawsuits in the Federal judicial system. Although lawsuits filed by parents because their child was not put on a team might rightly be dismissed, cases with legal merit, such as a rule which endangers the life of a child, would be dismissed. These lawsuits are necessary, as they call attention to public safety hazards and are needed to protect our Nation's children.

Madam Speaker, I would like to put in the RECORD the letters of the National Alliance to End Sexual Violence, which urges us to carefully examine this measure before us, and which continue to oppose the legislation, as we have earlier; and as well, Madam Speaker, a letter from the three organizations, Public Citizen, Center for Justice and Democracy, and the Alliance for Justice, which urge opposition to H.R. 1176.

DECEMBER 5, 2006.

Hon. JOHN CONYERS, JR.,
Ranking Member, Committee on the Judiciary, House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

DEAR RANKING MEMBER CONYERS: On behalf of the National Alliance to End Sexual Violence (NAESV), we are writing to express our opposition to H.R. 1176, the Nonprofit Athletic Organization Protection Act of 2006. We understand that the bill is being brought up today for a vote on the House floor under suspension of the rules. While changes have been made to the original language of this piece of legislation, NAESV remains concerned that this bill still precludes victims of sexual assault from being able to bring a civil action against nonprofit athletic organizations which have acted negligently.

We are specifically concerned that a nonprofit athletic association could fail to do a criminal background check on an employee and then if that employee sexually assaulted a player then that victim would be precluded from being able to bring a civil suit against the organization for negligence. Since victims would then have no civil remedy available to them, we must strongly oppose this bill and ask that you not support it as well.

As a leading national sexual assault victim advocacy organization, the NAESV believes that passage of this bill would create a serious problem for victims and would not allow them to hold perpetrators and organizations responsible.

We thank you for your consideration of this serious matter, and we would be pleased to discuss this matter with you and/or your staff if that would be helpful. Please feel free to contact our Government Relations Specialist, Ellen Fern, with any further questions.

Sincerely,

MONIKA JOHNSON HOSTLER,
President, The National Alliance

DECEMBER 5, 2006.

DEAR REPRESENTATIVE: On December 5, Congress is scheduled to take up consideration of H.R. 1176—the Nonprofit Athletic Organization Protection Act. This bill would threaten the health and safety of our nation's athletes—especially student and amateur athletes, including Olympians—by making nonprofit athletic organizations unaccountable regardless of whether or not their negligent acts caused serious injury to an athlete.

H.R. 1176 does more than just immunize nonprofit athletic organizations; it strips away important incentives for such organizations to pay careful attention to the safety of the rules, equipment, and infrastructure used in their events. Current liability standards encourage organizations to follow best practices and to correct dangerous conditions.

In one recent case, a Wisconsin student became a quadriplegic after diving off of a starting block into a pool that was too shallow during a high school swim meet. The athletic association's standards for how deep a pool must be to use a starting block were not in line with national standards. After the student filed a claim against the athletic association, it changed its standards to comply with the standards published by the National Federation of State High School Associations.

This bill creates a disturbing legal double-standard in which the athletic organizations are shielded from suit, while maintaining full access to the courts themselves. Our nation has a proud tradition of amateur athletics through which generations have learned about justice and fair play. Creating one set of rules for one group, and another set of rules for another group is anything but just. Our laws should be at least as fair as our Little Leagues.

H.R. 1176 would deny our athletes vital legal protections. For this reason, we respectfully ask you to oppose H.R. 1176.

Sincerely,

Laura MacCleery,

Public Citizen.

JOANNE DOROSHOW,
Center for Justice & Democracy.
DICK WOODRUFF,
Alliance for Justice.

Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Madam Speaker, parliamentary inquiry. Is the House considering a motion to suspend the rules of the bill, as amended?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. That is the form of the motion that the Chair understands was intended and is pending at the desk.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Madam Speaker, I yield myself 2 minutes.

Madam Speaker, the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. CONYERS), my good friend, is simply incorrect in his statements that this bill does give blanket immunity for various types of sexual harassment and sexual molestation. Because the bill is being considered as amended, the amended version of the bill that is before the House now, on the bottom of page 7, says nonapplicability to certain claims. And it says: The limitation on liability provided by subsection (a) does not apply to an action or claim arising out of a Federal, State, or local antitrust, labor, environmental, defamation, sexual assault, fraud, sexual molestation, freedom of expression, sexual harassment, tortious interference of contract law, or civil rights law or any other Federal, State, or local law providing protection from discrimination.

So this exemption very clearly deals with the objection that has been expressed by the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. CONYERS). The bill does not provide any immunity whatsoever for all of these types of activities and claims that I have mentioned.

Madam Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. SOUDER).

(Mr. SOUDER asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. SOUDER. Madam Speaker, I have additional letters I would like to insert for the RECORD from Myles Brand, NCAA president; and from the National Council of Youth Sports, to go with the earlier letter from the high school organizations.

Madam Speaker, I am going to dispense with most of my formal statement to try to address the question before us. This bipartisan bill was drafted just to deal with the rules-setting organizations, the rules of play. And the chairman of the committee, whom I thank for bringing this bill up, and the members of the committee were working together to try to address what I believe were extraneous concerns, but if they were real concerns of the House, we needed to address them even though they were not, in my opinion, in the first draft of the bill.

Accidents are going to happen. The question is, will the injuries associated with athletics be allowed at all? How can you play youth football? How can you play youth soccer? How can you have swimming? How can you have wrestling if you are going to make it so that there is no risk?

The balance that all these organizations have to do in their procedures to setting a rule is to balance the risk, the offense and the defense, and the care of the children involved and the young people involved in these sports. What this bill does is try to make it so that the people who are making the rules can't get sued unless in drafting the rules there was gross negligence. It has nothing to do with negligence of how a coach applies a rule, whether there are things that happen during the game that were judgment things. These are about the rules themselves.

The net impact of not doing this has been that most of the major people providing the insurance premiums are looking at dropping this. Others have raised it by 400 percent. What this means for IHSAA, the Indiana High School Athletic Association; for the NAIA of Small Colleges, they are going to have to drop sports. They aren't going to provide the rules. That means there won't be different guidelines. There will be no different types of youth leagues. There will be no coaches or people willing to draft the rules as you bring these coaches together, because the costs will escalate. They are escalating exponentially. The losses by the different insurance companies are increasing so greatly that most of them are looking at getting out of the business. I hope that the House will carefully consider this so that the kids who so deeply want to play can be involved in these sports.

One of the other byproducts, by the way, of raising insurance premiums is to raise the costs of playing, and this is going to hurt low-income kids the most because suburban kids may be able to afford the higher premiums and they may be able to get coaches who will take the risks or take personal liabilities to be on the things, but this is going to hurt those who most need the sports, in the urban areas and other places where they do not have this opportunity.

I hope that this House will pass, on behalf of small kids, the high school kids, and the college kids of America, a bill that enables them to play and will understand that all this bill does is deal with the general rules of play. And thanks to the chairman's graciousness in working with the minority in this bipartisan bill, we have addressed what I don't believe was in the original bill but takes out all the civil rights questions, all the child abuse questions, and says those aren't relevant here. All it has to do with is rules of the game and whether there was gross negligence in developing the rules of the game.

Madam Speaker, I rise today in strong support of H.R. 1176, the bi-partisan Nonprofit Athletic Organization Protection Act of 2006, which would help protect the ability of amateur athletic rule-making organizations to do the job that they have done for years, and that is to promulgate the rules of play for Little League Baseball, Pop Warner Football, high school athletics, college athletics, including the NCAA and NAIA, club teams and elite amateur sports teams.

I'd like to thank Chairman SENSENBRENNER for moving this important bi-partisan bill through the Judiciary Committee and bringing it to the floor today. The bill before us has been modified since it passed committee to address concerns raised by the minority, and I'd like to thank the Chairman and his staff for their help in clarifying the narrow intent of the legislation which is to ensure that sports rule-makers are not held liable for athlete injuries (in which they had no responsibility). The bill only exempts non-profit rule-making organizations from liability for physical injury caused by an act or omission of the organization in its adoption of rules of play. The bill does not in any way prevent lawsuits from moving forward that claim harm caused by other rules or guidelines or claim gross negligence on the part of the rule-maker.

It is undeniable that amateur athletic teams make a valuable contribution to the lives of young people. Active participation in sports—particularly at a time when obesity among American youth has reached an alarming level—encourages healthy lifestyles, while also imparting important social qualities such as leadership, teamwork and discipline.

Over the past decade, however, amateur athletic rule-making organizations have been forced to defend themselves against a growing number of questionable lawsuits based on claims of negligence for passing or failing to pass rules to eliminate the risks of injury inherent in athletic competition.

Unfortunately, accidents do happen. There will always be injuries associated with athletics but this is nothing new. For decades rule-makers have responded to changes in technology, coaching methods and athletes by making alterations in athletic rules. Each sport is an ever-moving target for rule-makers and no set of rules can ever make participation in sports as we know it, completely "safe." Thus, it would be wrong to punish rule-makers, who in a good faith effort, have sought to anticipate and prevent injuries to the best of their ability.

As liability costs for rule-making bodies have skyrocketed, these legal claims have had a profound impact on the financial stability of amateur and education-based athletic organizations. Several rule makers are now paying double or triple their previous annual premiums. Others have been forced to self-insure at rates significantly higher than previous years. All of these rule-making organizations are finding it more difficult to locate an insurance company to carry their insurance policy since more and more companies are getting out of the amateur athletic insurance business completely.

In testimony before the House Judiciary Committee, Robert Kanaby, Executive Director of the National Association of State High School Associations (NFHS), noted that NFHS had experienced a threefold increase in their annual liability insurance premiums over the three previous years. This organization, which serves over 7 million young people, currently pays in excess of $1 million in annual liability insurance out of a total operating budget of $9 million.

According to the testimony of Mr. Kanaby and other insurance industry experts, the staggering premium increases affecting NFHS and similar rule-making organizations are certain to continue. It is necessary that Congress act now to raise the standard for liability from ordinary negligence to gross negligence. This change in law would allow the volunteer rule-makers—often coaches with knowledge and experience in a particular sport—to continue doing the best job they can to mitigate risk while keeping the game competitive.

If the status quo is maintained, the losers in this situation will be our nation's kids. As premiums continue to rise and with no relief in sight it is becoming increasingly difficult for amateur athletic organizations to continue providing a sporting outlet for our nation's young people. Moreover, it is highly probable that amateur athletic organizations will shortly be forced to either adopt rules of play that are not specifically crafted for a certain age category (for example, adopting college rules for high school athletics) or increase fees charged to participants in order to offset the liability costs. Both of these scenarios are not desirable and would damage youth sport participation.

I hope my colleagues will consider the importance of preserving amateur athletics and join me in voting in favor of the bi-partisan Non-Profit Athletic Organization Protection Act. All of America's young athletes who participate in school-based athletics, Little League or other club sport teams will be thankful for your support.

NATIONAL COLLEGIATE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION,
Indianapolis, IN, March 31, 2005.

HON. MARK SOUDER,
U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

DEAR CONGRESSMAN SOUDER: The NCAA believes that amateur and education-based sports play a valuable role in the development of our nation's youth. The organizations that provide amateur athletics opportunities for America's youth make every attempt to adopt playing rules that will provide participants with a safe and fair experience. However, there remains an inherent risk of injury when participating in sports activities, which constantly puts these organizations at risk of liability. As a result, the viability of these organizations is being threatened due to the escalating cost of liability insurance. Therefore, the NCAA stands in support of your efforts to provide much needed protection for these nonprofit organizations through the "Nonprofit Athletic Organization Protection Act of 2005."

Sincerely,

MYLES BRAND,
President.

ENDORSEMENT OF H.R. 1176 AND S. 567, THE
NON-PROFIT ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION PROTECTION ACT OF 2005, BY THE NATIONAL COUNCIL OF YOUTH SPORTS

We are writing to voice our support for the "Non-Profit Athletic Association Protection Act" of 2005.

This is an important issue with respect to amateur sports and those who make playing rules governing amateur athletics. Education-based and community-based athletics are an important part of our culture. They provide a tremendous opportunity to the youth of America by teaching leadership, teamwork, and discipline skills. Studies have shown that participation in these activities is directly tied to academic achievement and overall social development.

Non-profit organizations that administer these activities have been the target of an increasing number of claims and lawsuits in sports injury cases claiming negligence due to the passage or adoption of rules of play for amateur sports. Repeatedly defending claims will have a detrimental impact on their ability to continue to provide these services.

This legislation would shield these organizations, their directors, officers, employees, representatives, and agents from liability for claims of negligence in sports injury cases involving the passage, failure to pass, adoption, or failure to adopt rules concerning athletic competition.

We the undersigned fully support this legislation and urge its passage. These organizations provide an important service to our nation's youth and have developed a good system to write rules and administer competitions.

Signed, National Federation of State High School Associations (NFHS), National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA), National Council of Youth Sports (NCYS), Amateur Athletic Union of the United States (AAU), Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) Baseball, Amateur Softball Association of America, American Amateur Baseball Congress, American Youth Football (AYF), Catholic Youth Organization (Seattle), Dixie Softball, Inc., Dixie Youth Baseball Inc., Excel Sports Network Athletic Association (ESNAA), Georgia State Soccer Association (GSSA), Ice Skating Institute Iowa AAU, Little League Baseball, Magazines4OurTroops, Michigan State Youth Soccer Association, Inc., Mt. Olive Recreation, North American Youth Sport Institute, PBG Police Athletic League, PONY Baseball/Softball, Pop Warner Little Scholars, Inc., TeeBall USA, Sport in Society at Northeastern University, USA Baseball, USA Roller Sports, USA Softball, Women's Sports Foundation

Mr. CONYERS. Madam Speaker, I am glad someone mentioned poor kids will need to be protected more in athletic events, and that is precisely the reason I am opposing this measure, because we are eliminating State civil claims, and I think there has been some confusion on the other side about criminal and civil liabilities.

Madam Speaker, I yield such time as she may consume to the distinguished gentlewoman from California, ZOE LOFGREN.

Ms. ZOE LOFGREN of California. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding.

This bill, I believe, is trying to protect sports organizations, but, unfortunately, it does leave children unprotected from child molesters.

We know that sexual predators volunteer to be involved with children's sports programs and pedophiles routinely use the bond between coach and athlete to prey on children.

A Seattle Times investigation uncovered 159 coaches who had been reprimanded or fired for sexual misconduct between 1993 and 2003, and of those coaches, 98 continued to coach or teach children. An investigation in Texas uncovered 60 incidents of high school coaches being fired or reprimanded as a result of allegations of sexual misconduct with minors. And last month a Maryland high school basketball coach was charged with abusing three minors.

This amendment, the amendment to the bill that has been mentioned, does not fix the problem of providing liability relief to these nonprofits. The bill exempts claims based on Federal, State, and local statutes concerning sexual assault, molestation, or harassment. But the bill grants complete immunity for claims of negligence in establishing rules related to adult supervision. I have here a letter from a scholar, Professor Andy Popper, a professor at the American University School of Law, and I would like to read just a small portion of his letter:

“Common-law tort claims for failure to exercise due care in hiring coaches, investigating backgrounds, or overseeing inappropriate activity would be actionable, but I think a plain reading of section 4(d) and section 5 suggests that those claims would be barred, and that is really quite horrendous from the perspective of children who might be victimized by adults treated in ways that are patently destructive from an emotional or psychological vantage point. What possible reason could there be to pass this bill?”

And he goes on to say: “After reading the bill, I see no language that exempts State common-law tort claims. To the contrary, the specific areas exempted, labor law, antitrust law, statutory claims, et cetera, suggests that Congress intends to exempt very specific areas only. Given that list in 4(d), unless the bill were amended to include an exemption for all State common-law tort claims, the bill will be seen as a bar to cases involving negligent hiring, failing to assess background, negligent oversight of individuals who may well do great harm to children, to athletes, to those most in need of protection.”

I would like to note that the National Alliance to End Sexual Violence has asked us to vote against this bill, as amended.

And the reason why, and I quote from President Hostler’s letter, as the leading national sexual assault victim advocacy organization, we believe the passage of this bill would create serious problems for victims and would not allow them to hold perpetrators and organizations responsible.

Now, the amended bill tells athletic organizations that they owe children no duty of care. The bill takes away any incentive to take reasonable steps to keep child molesters out and to keep children safe.

Do I suggest that the authors of this bill intend to protect child molesters? I can’t imagine that they do. But intent doesn’t matter. We are writing law here. And the impact of adopting this bill would, in fact, be to protect child molesters.

Now, I am someone who really believes in Little League. My dad was a Little League manager my entire young life. I have strong memories of sitting in the stands day after day, month after month, watching my brother catch the ball. I believe in Little League. But I also know that my dad, were he alive today, would say, I don’t believe in protecting child molesters.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Madam Speaker, I yield myself 2 minutes, and I ask the gentlewoman from California to yield.

Ms. ZOE LOFGREN of California. I yield.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. What were the dates of those two letters that you cited in your previous speech?

Ms. ZOE LOFGREN of California. The letter from the National Alliance to End Sexual Violence is dated December 5 of this year, and the letter from the law professor is dated December 4 of this year.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Madam Speaker, I think both of these letters have reached the wrong conclusion. And again, I will quote from the section that does make the nonapplicability to certain claims. That says the limitation on liability provided by subsection (a) does not apply to an action or claim arising out of a Federal, State or local antitrust, labor, defamation, sexual assault, fraud, sexual molestation, freedom of expression, sexual harassment, tortious interference of contract law, or civil rights law or any other Federal, State, or local law providing protection from discrimination.

Now, I don’t know how more broadly this exemption could be drafted than that. It is very clear that the complaint about the original bill providing a limitation on liability for sexual molestation or harassment or sexual assault was a legitimate one. So that is why the nonapplicability of certain claims provision was put in here.

This is a red herring. It is not the original bill that people were complaining about. This is a bill that has dealt with that objection, and it should pass.

Madam Speaker, I now yield 2 minutes to the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. SEKULA GIBBS).

Ms. SEKULA GIBBS. Madam Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 1176, and I say that because of the experience in my district where we are seeing an increase in children who are suffering from obesity and an increase in propensity to see dropouts in school. And youth athletics is an opportunity for children to stay in school and to stay active and stay fit.

We need to support more opportunities for youth athletics and youth sports. And one of the deterrents for those youth activities in sports is the increase in lawsuits that are being lodged against board members who are in rulemaking positions.

This resolution will go a great distance in protecting parents and grandparents and family members who want to join in and to provide athletic opportunities for their children and who are fearful of being caught up in lawsuits that stem, not from intentional criminal activities, but from inadvertent rulemaking problems.

So protecting and immunizing parents, grandparents and family members who want to participate in setting standards and rules for their children is the right thing to do. It will help our children, in the long run, stay in school, stay fit, and become good American citizens.

So I think that we should not lose sight of the goal of this bill and make sure that we see that it is in the best interests of our children to pass it.

Mr. CONYERS. Madam Speaker, I yield myself as much time as I may consume.

This is an unusual situation that has arisen here. Here we come back in the closing days of the 109th session, and I would think that everything that has occurred before now, that this Congress would be very sensitive and careful not to protect sex predators.

This is not business as usual. We have had a lot of problems in the 109th session of Congress. And yesterday, at 9:30 a.m., we received this change. And we are now told that we don’t understand it, and that it has all been taken care of and everything is okay. Well, everything is not okay.

H.R. 1176 provides a carve-out for claims arising from State or Federal assault and harassment laws, a carve-out. The problem is that none of the suits by children against an athletic organization, based on the actions of a coach, sex predator, would arise under these laws. The intentions may have been to correct it, but it is not corrected. And that is the reason that we continue to oppose H.R. 1176.

This is not new information. And those who have been working on this with us in the public sector are all in agreement that the so-called fix that has been referred to is not really a fix at all. It may have been meant to be a fix, but it is not a fix. And it is as simple as that. That is why we are still opposed to this proposal as we were when it came up under suspension earlier in the 108th session.

Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Madam Speaker, I am prepared to close if the gentleman will yield back.

Mr. CONYERS. Madam Speaker, I yield as much time as the gentlewoman from California may need, and then we will be ready to close.

Ms. ZOE LOFGREN of California. Madam Speaker, I will be brief.

This bill, or its predecessor bill, H.R. 3369, was not approved when it was brought before the Congress in 2004. It was defeated. And the reason why I believe it was defeated was the concern that, although probably well intentioned, it provided liability relief from predators, from child molesters.

Now, I believe the law professor when he did the analysis. And as the letter is in the record, he cites the cases and does a proper analysis that negligence that results in child molestation would be protected under this bill. We surely cannot be wanting to do that here as this Congress closes.

Now, I have raised this issue in committee. I was, frankly, rather shocked to see this bill on the Suspension Calendar.

As Mr. CONYERS has mentioned, we have not had a wonderful record here in the 109th Congress of doing the right thing to protect children from sexual predators. Let's not compound that problem by enacting this bill today. I urge all of us to vote against it.

And I will say also that in the 110th Congress we should work in a proper way to achieve the goals of supporting Little League and the other organizations, while not letting down the children of our Nation and letting them be victimized by child molesters and sexual predators.

Mr. CONYERS. Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Madam Speaker, I yield myself the balance of the time.

Madam Speaker, I think this is an example about the way this place does business. On a bipartisan basis we passed the Adam Walsh Bill and that was signed into law by the President at the end of July. And that was the single greatest protection of children law that had been passed by the Congress in decades. And I was the author of that legislation. I worked with people on both sides of the aisle and on both sides of the Capitol, and I think that this was a really great accomplishment of this Congress. And it shows what can happen when people work in a bipartisan manner.

Now, we get to this bill after the election is over with, and there has been a change of control on both sides of the Capitol. I don't think that it can be disputed that the volunteers who set the rules of play should be exempted from liability. Now, these are the people that write the rule book. You know, they are not the people that actually coach the kids. They are not the people who make the equipment. They are not the people who provide the playing fields and either maintain them properly or don't maintain them properly. They are the ones that write the rule book. And a lot of the rules for amateur sports, whether it is at the high school or college or intramural level or whatever, those rules are designed to protect to the greatest extent possible the kids who compete in those sports, and that is what this bill is designed to protect.

Now, I think that the complaints that were made by my friends on the other side of the aisle, that this bill could have been interpreted to provide immunity or a limitation of liability on those who commit acts of sexual assault or sexual molestation or sexual harassment against the kids were legitimate. And that is why the bill is amended.

Now, when this bill was put on the Suspension Calendar last week by the leadership, we circulated an amendment to the minority party. We gave them the proposed language that is being debated and disputed early yesterday morning, and we never heard from them. And we followed up several times yesterday by staff to get their comments, and we never got any comments. We tried again this morning before this bill came up and never got any comments as well. The first we heard about their opposition to the legislation and the letters that have been cited by the gentlewoman from California (Ms. ZOE LOFGREN) was when we got to the floor today.

Now, that is their prerogative to do that, as it is the prerogative of any Member of this House, whether in the majority or in the minority. But the fact is that what we have heard from the other side of the aisle is designed to defeat this legislation altogether, as it was in the 108th Congress. And that would be a shame, because defeating this legislation is only going to hurt the volunteers who are making rules to protect children, rather than to protect people who might commit sexual offenses against them. We ought to protect the volunteers who make those rules, those volunteers who write the rule book, and the associations that bring those volunteers together so that kids can enjoy sports and play and learn the value of competition and the value of fair play. And if you can't get volunteers to write the rule book, then you are not going to be able to have kids' sports at all. So let's put the kids first and pass this bill.

Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. SENSENBRENNER) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 1176, as amended.

The question was taken.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. In the opinion of the Chair, two-thirds of those voting have responded in the affirmative.

Mr. CONYERS. Madam Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX and the Chair's prior announcement, further proceedings on this question will be postponed.

GENEVA DISTINCTIVE EMBLEMS PROTECTION ACT OF 2006

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Madam Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 6338) to amend title 18, United States Code, to prevent and repress the misuse of the Red Crescent distinctive emblem and the Third Protocol (Red Crystal) distinctive emblem.

The Clerk read as follows:

H.R. 6338

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the "Geneva Distinctive Emblems Protection Act of 2006".

SEC. 2. GENEVA DISTINCTIVE EMBLEMS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Chapter 33 of title 18, United States Code, is amended by inserting after section 706 the following:

"§ 706a. Geneva distinctive emblems

"(a) Whoever wears or displays the sign of the Red Crescent or the Third Protocol Emblem (the Red Crystal), or any insignia colored in imitation thereof for the fraudulent purpose of inducing the belief that he is a member of or an agent for an authorized national society using the Red Crescent or the Third Protocol Emblem, the International Committee of the Red Cross, or the International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies shall be fined under this title or imprisoned not more than 6 months, or both.

"(b) Except as set forth in section (c) and (d), whoever, whether a corporation, association, or person, uses the emblem of the Red Crescent or the Third Protocol Emblem on a white ground or any sign or insignia made or colored in imitation thereof or the designations 'Red Crescent' or 'Third Protocol Emblem' shall be fined under this title or imprisoned not more than 6 months, or both.

"(c) The following may use such emblems and designations consistent with the Geneva Conventions of August 12, 1949, and, if applicable, the Additional Protocols:

"(1) Authorized national societies that are members of the International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies and their duly authorized employees and agents.

"(2) The International Committee of the Red Cross and its duly authorized employees and agents.

"(3) The International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies and its duly authorized employees and agents.

"(4) The sanitary and hospital authorities of the armed forces of State Parties to the Geneva Conventions of August 12, 1949.

"(d) This section does not make unlawful the use of any such emblem, sign, insignia, or words which was lawful on or before December 8, 2005, if such use would not appear in time of armed conflict to confer the protections of the Geneva Conventions of August 12, 1949, and, if applicable, the Additional Protocols.

"(e) A violation of this section or section 706 may be enjoined at the civil suit of the Attorney General."

(b) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of sections at the beginning of chapter 33 of title 18, United States Code, is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 706 the following new item:

"706a. Geneva distinctive emblems."

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. SENSENBRENNER) and the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. CONYERS) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Wisconsin.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Madam Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on H.R. 6338 currently under consideration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Wisconsin?

There was no objection.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Madam Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 6338, the Geneva Distinctive Emblems Protection Act of 2006. Introduced by the gentleman from Arizona (Mr. FLAKE), this legislation will assist in the implementation of important humanitarian programs. The Geneva Convention has long provided for the use of the Red Cross and Red Crescent emblems by governments and national societies to implement medical and humanitarian programs.

In December of 2005, the Geneva Convention, through the Third Additional Protocol, adopted a third distinctive emblem, the Red Crystal, to join the Red Cross and Red Crescent emblems. The adoption of the Red Crystal emblem cleared the path, with the acceptance of Israel's version of the Red Cross, into the Red Cross and Red Crescent movement after being excluded for more than 30 years.

The approval of the Red Crystal emblem provides the American Red Cross, United States military personnel and humanitarian organizations and workers with another option in the circumstances where the Red Cross or the Red Crescent may not be perceived as a neutral emblem. On the day of its adoption, 27 countries, including the United States, signed the Third Additional Protocol.

Since its adoption, the protocol has been signed by more than 49 other nations and becomes effective on January 14, 2007. Current United States law prohibits anyone, including corporations and associations, from wearing or displaying the American National Red Cross emblem or similar insignia for fraudulent purposes. This bill extends these same prohibitions and protections to the Red Crystal emblem and to the Red Crescent emblem by imposing a fine or a prison term for up to 6 months for fraudulently wearing or displaying the Red Crystal and Red Crescent emblems.

This legislation will help deter the fraudulent use of vital symbols of medical and humanitarian aid. I urge my colleagues to join together to pass this bipartisan legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. CONYERS. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself as much time as I may consume.

I am pleased to join with the chairman in supporting this bipartisan bill. The legislation makes a simple yet extremely important change to current law. It adds the Red Crystal emblem to the list of officially recognized symbols that may be used to denote humanitarian or religious relief efforts. As many know, currently only the Red Cross and Red Crescent emblems are used by humanitarian workers when caring for sick or injured civilians or Armed Forces members overseas.

By adding the Red Crystal symbol to the list of officially recognized emblems, humanitarian workers will have at their disposal yet another symbol that is acceptable in those regions of the world where the cross and crescent are viewed with some level of skepticism.

I would like to thank Mr. FLAKE and the countless number of Democratic members of our committee for taking the lead on this issue, and I strongly urge that my colleagues lend their support to this commonsense proposal.

Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Arizona (Mr. FLAKE), the author of the bill.

Mr. FLAKE. I thank the chairman for yielding.

Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the speed with which this was brought to the floor. This is something the State Department and the administration has asked for. It will allow ratification of a Third Geneva Protocol and protect, as has been said, the Red Crescent as well as the Red Crystal.

This is important, as has been explained, so that those wearing the emblem can be protected in dangerous situations and battlefields, and we can encourage other countries to do the same and offer the same recognition. Again, I thank those who have on a bipartisan basis supported this legislation.

I will not repeat what this does. It has been aptly explained by the chairman and the ranking minority member. I just wish to thank those who have brought this to the floor for doing so and urge its adoption.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. TERRY). The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. SENSENBRENNER) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 6338.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds of those voting having responded in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

SOUTHERN IDAHO BUREAU OF RECLAMATION REPAYMENT ACT OF 2006

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 5666) to authorize early repayment of obligations to the Bureau of Reclamation within the A & B Irrigation District in the State of Idaho, as amended.

The Clerk read as follows:

H.R. 5666

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the "Southern Idaho Bureau of Reclamation Repayment Act of 2006".

SEC. 2. EARLY REPAYMENT OF A & B IRRIGATION DISTRICT CONSTRUCTION COSTS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding section 213 of the Reclamation Reform Act of 1982 (43

U.S.C. 390mm), any landowner within the A & B Irrigation District in the State (referred to in this Act as the "District") may repay, at any time, the construction costs of District project facilities that are allocated to land of the landowner within the District.

(b) APPLICABILITY OF FULL-COST PRICING LIMITATIONS.—On discharge, in full, of the obligation for repayment of all construction costs described in subsection (a) that are allocated to all lands the landowner owns in the District in question, the parcels of land shall not be subject to the ownership and full-cost pricing limitations under Federal reclamation law (the Act of June 17, 1902 (32 Stat. 388, chapter 1093), and Acts supplemental to and amendatory of that Act (43 U.S.C. 371 et seq.), including the Reclamation Reform Act of 1982 (13 U.S.C. 390aa et seq.).

(c) CERTIFICATION.—On request of a landowner that has repaid, in full, the construction costs described in subsection (a), the Secretary of the Interior shall provide to the landowner a certificate described in section 213(b)(1) of the Reclamation Reform Act of 1982 (43 U.S.C. 390mm(b)(1)).

(1) modifies any contractual rights under, or amends or reopens, the reclamation contract between the District and the United States; or

(2) modifies any rights, obligations, or relationships between the District and landowners in the District under Idaho State law.*Z! EXT .048 ...HOUSE... K05DE7 PERSONAL COMPUTER*049060-K05DE7-048--Payroll No.: -Name: -Folios: - -Date: mmdyy -Subformat:

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from California (Mr. RADANOVICH) and the gentlewoman from Guam (Ms. BORDALLO) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from California.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on the bill under consideration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from California?

There was no objection.

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 5666, sponsored by our colleague, MIKE SIMPSON, allows for the early repayment of capital costs associated with a Federal water project in Idaho. Under existing law, landowners who benefit from this water project cannot prepay the capital costs they owe to the Federal Government.

This bill gives the Bureau of Reclamation the ability to accept prepayment from these landowners. This legislation benefits the American taxpayer because it allows early revenue to flow to the U.S. Treasury, and it helps local landowners by reducing their debt.

I urge my colleagues to support this bill because it is a commonsense bill.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. BORDALLO. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

(Ms. BORDALLO asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. BORDALLO. Mr. Speaker, this legislation simply allows landowners to pay off their financial obligations for the Bureau of Reclamation's Minidoka Project. We believe that this legislation is appropriate and, in fact, may provide a slight financial benefit to the United States. Mr. Speaker, we have no objection to the enactment of H.R. 5666.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from California (Mr. RADANOVICH) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 5666, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds of those voting having responded in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

CAPTAIN JOHN SMITH CHESAPEAKE NATIONAL HISTORIC TRAIL DESIGNATION ACT

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 5466) to amend the National Trails System Act to designate the Captain John Smith Chesapeake National Historic Trail, as amended.

The Clerk read as follows:

H.R. 5466

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the "Captain John Smith Chesapeake National Historic Trail Designation Act".

SEC. 2. ADDITION TO NATIONAL SCENIC AND NATIONAL HISTORIC TRAILS.

Section 5(a) of the National Trails System Act (16 U.S.C. 1244(a)) is amended by adding at the end the following:

"(25) CAPTAIN JOHN SMITH CHESAPEAKE NATIONAL HISTORIC TRAIL.—

"(A) IN GENERAL.—The John Smith Chesapeake National Historic Trail, a series of water routes extending approximately 3,000 miles along the Chesapeake Bay and the tributaries of the Chesapeake Bay in the States of Virginia, Maryland, and Delaware, and in the District of Columbia, that traces the 1607-1609 voyages of Captain John Smith to chart the land and waterways of the Chesapeake Bay, as generally depicted on the map entitled 'Captain John Smith Chesapeake National Historic Trail Map MD, VA, DE, and DC', numbered P-16/8000 (CAJO), and dated May 2006.

"(B) MAP.—The map referred to in subparagraph (A) shall be on file and available for public inspection in the appropriate offices of the National Park Service.

"(C) ADMINISTRATION.—The trail shall be administered by the Secretary of the Interior—

"(i) in coordination with—

"(I) the Chesapeake Bay Gateways and Watertrails Network authorized under the Chesapeake Bay Initiative Act of 1998 (16 U.S.C. 461 note; 112 Stat. 2961); and

"(II) the Chesapeake Bay Program authorized under section 117 of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (33 U.S.C. 1267); and

"(iii) in consultation with—

"(I) other Federal, State, tribal, regional, and local agencies; and

"(II) the private sector.

"(D) LAND ACQUISITION.—The United States shall not acquire for the trail any land or interest in land outside the exterior boundary of any federally-managed area without the consent of the owner of the land or interest in land."

SEC. 3. CHANGE IN AUTHORIZATION.

Section 4 of the Act of July 3, 1930 (16 U.S.C. 81f), is amended in the first sentence by striking "10,472,000" and inserting "8,572,000".

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from California (Mr. RADANOVICH) and the gentlewoman from Guam (Ms. BORDALLO) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from California.

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, H.R. 5466 introduced by the gentlewoman from Virginia (Mrs. JO ANN DAVIS) would amend the National Trails System Act to designate the Captain John Smith Chesapeake National Historic Trail within the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries.

This bill would designate a series of water routes along 3,000 miles of the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries as a natural historic water trail. The trail would include routes in the States of Virginia, Maryland and Delaware and the District of Columbia and would be administered by the Secretary of the Interior, with coordination from the Chesapeake Bay Gateways and Water Trails Network, the Chesapeake Bay program and Federal, State, tribal, regional and local agencies.

The goal of the bill is to educate the public about the 1607 and 1608 voyage of Captain John Smith to chart the waterways of the Chesapeake Bay. Designating the trail would provide new opportunities for education, recreation and historic tourism in the region.

As we approach the 400th anniversary of the Jamestown settlement and the beginning of Captain Smith's exploration in 2007, the enactment of this bill is most timely.

I urge the adoption of the bill.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. BORDALLO. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

(Ms. BORDALLO asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. BORDALLO. Mr. Speaker, this trail proposal has been thoroughly studied and is widely supported. Our former House colleague and now-retiring Senator from Maryland, PAUL SARBANES, is to be commended for his sponsorship of the Senate companion measure and for his work on behalf of this proposal. We have no objection to H.R. 5466.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. BORDALLO. Mr. Speaker, I yield 5 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from Virginia (Mr. SCOTT).

Mr. SCOTT of Virginia. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.R. 5466. Next year the Commonwealth of Virginia and our great Nation will celebrate the 400th anniversary of the founding of Jamestown, the first English permanent settlement in North America. Designating the Captain John Smith National Chesapeake Historical Trail is an important component of this historic celebration.

The trail traces the route of Captain John Smith on his exploration voyage of the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries. Captain Smith and his crew of just one dozen men traveled nearly 3,000 miles along the Chesapeake Bay, and it was Captain John Smith's 1612 map which was the first accurate depiction of the Chesapeake Bay region.

Next year the entire world will help us celebrate this historic anniversary, and Virginia is preparing a year-long celebration. The Captain John Smith Chesapeake National Historic Trail will highlight the Chesapeake Bay, and the passage of the bill prior to the 400th anniversary celebration is extremely important.

I would like to thank the bill's sponsor, my distinguished colleague from Virginia (Mrs. JO ANN DAVIS) for her distinguished leadership in this effort. I would also like to thank the House leadership and committee leadership on both sides of the aisle for working to bring this important bill to the floor before the House adjourns.

I urge my colleagues to support the legislation.

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from Virginia (Mrs. JO ANN DAVIS).

Mrs. JO ANN DAVIS of Virginia. Mr. Speaker, I would like to thank the chairman for his leadership and hard work on H.R. 5466, the Captain John Smith National Historic Water Trail, which is very important to my district.

The John Smith Water Trail has support from across the Bay watershed. My colleagues from Virginia, Maryland, Delaware and Pennsylvania have been tremendously supportive. State legislatures, Governors, county governments, local boards of supervisors, citizens groups and nonprofits, including the Chesapeake Bay Foundation, have supported this project.

Also I would like to recognize the leadership of Pat Noonan of the Conservation Fund and Gilbert Grosvenor, chairman of the National Geographic Society, for all of their hard work.

In 1607, Captain John Smith and a small band of Englishmen set foot in North America with the intent of finding gold and quick riches. Instead, they represented the first wave of English colonists that would permanently settle the New World.

Four hundred years ago, 140 men from the Virginia Company settled at Jamestown on the banks of the James River in Tidewater, Virginia. In search of a northwest passage to the Pacific Ocean, Captain John Smith and a dozen men explored the Chesapeake Bay in a small barge. From Jamestown, they explored the Bay's major rivers, the James, the York, the Rappahannock, the Potomac and Susquehanna.

Between 1607 and 1609 Smith mapped and explored nearly 3,000 miles of the Chesapeake Bay. Captain Smith's maps and writings influenced exploration and settlement in the New World for over a century.

During Smith's voyages, he encountered the Native Americans in the Chesapeake Bay watershed. He developed trading relationships with many tribes. He documented the culture, languages and settlements of our country's first people.

This spring, the world will recognize the 400th anniversary of the founding of Jamestown in 1607. The Queen of England will visit America commemorating this significant event. Central to the story of Jamestown is Captain Smith's voyages.

This National Historic Trail designation signifies Captain John Smith's profound influence that shaped the course of our Nation and represents a lasting tribute to the American spirit of discovery and exploration.

Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues to support the Captain John Smith Chesapeake National Historic Trail, and I appreciate all the hard work of our chairman and those who put forth their effort in this event.

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in strong support of H.R. 5466, the Captain John Smith Chesapeake National Historic Trail Designation Act. I am pleased to be an original cosponsor of this legislation which was introduced by my colleagues JO ANN DAVIS of Virginia in the House and PAUL S. SARBANES in the Senate.

Nearly 400 years ago, after helping establish the Jamestown colony and enduring capture by the native Powhatan people, Captain John Smith embarked on two voyages to explore the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries. He and his small crew set off in an open, 28-foot shallop seeking greater knowledge of the region, its inhabitants, and its resources, while also attempting to find the Northwest Passage.

During these and other expeditions, Captain Smith and his crew explored more than 3,000 miles of the Chesapeake Bay watershed. In what is now Maryland's Fifth Congressional District, the team surveyed the Potomac and Patuxent Rivers and disembarked in present day Calvert, St. Mary's, Charles, Prince George's and Anne Arundel Counties.

In 1612, Captain Smith published a map of the Chesapeake Bay region which remains quite accurate and was used for nearly a century by European settlers who colonized the region.

The legislation we consider today will take a critical step in marking Captain Smith's remarkable voyage and underscores the continued importance of the Chesapeake Bay to the people of our region and this Nation.

Passage and enactment of H.R. 5466 will amend the National Trails Act to include the Captain John Smith Chesapeake National Historic Trail—joining such historic routes as the Lewis and Clark expedition and the civil rights march from Selma to Montgomery. However, unlike existing national historic trails, the Captain Smith Trail is unique in that it is almost entirely water-based.

In many instances, those experiencing the trail will have the opportunity to marvel at some of the same sites that Captain Smith and his crew beheld 400 years ago. They will also be able to visit a number of museums and parks along the trail, such as the Calvert Marine Museum, Jefferson Patterson Park, and Piscataway Park, which will help tell the story of this magnificent voyage.

This legislation is supported by the National Park Service, which determined that Captain Smith's Chesapeake Bay voyages meet the criteria for national historic trails as set forth in the National Trails Act. It also has the support of a wide cross section of groups, including the Chesapeake Bay Foundation, the National Geographic Society, and the National Parks Conservation Society.

Mr. Speaker, I again want to underscore my strong support of H.R. 5466 and I urge my colleagues to join with me in voting for this legislation.

Mr. TOM DAVIS of Virginia. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of the Captain John Smith Chesapeake National Historic Trail.

This 2,300-mile trail retraces the waterborne route of Captain John Smith, who charted the Chesapeake Bay 400 years ago. The route stretches from the head of the Bay at Havre de Grace to the mouth at Cape Charles, and would enable visitors to explore Captain Smith's tracks, all of which helped to lay the foundation for our beloved Nation.

The journey of Captain John Smith dates back to June 2, 1608, when he and 14 English colonists set out from Jamestown to explore the Chesapeake Bay. The journey took over 3 months to complete and was marked by its success as the first thorough exploration of the Bay area. It was also key in discovering that the Chesapeake Bay did not open up into the Pacific Ocean. Additionally, Captain Smith's map of the Chesapeake opened up the area to thousands of European settlers, who may not have come to America otherwise.

The Chesapeake Bay has a rich and unique heritage, and deserves to be commemorated through passage of this historic water trail. It is only fitting that such a man and such a discovery be a part of Jamestown's 400th commemoration next year. The proposed trail would consist of a circuit of the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries, of which Captain Smith explored. It would allow visitors, families, school groups and civic organizations to retrace a route of great historic significance. It would also serve to encourage good environmental stewardship of the area to ensure its permanence for future generations.

Mr. Speaker, in closing, I would like to thank the Chesapeake Bay for the impact it has had on its region and the Nation. I ask that my colleagues join me supporting H.R. 5466 and ensure the establishment of the historic Captain John Smith Chesapeake National Historic Trail.

Ms. BORDALLO. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from California (Mr. RADANOVICH) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 5466, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds of those voting having responded in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

TEMPORARY CONVEYANCE OF WATER RIGHTS TO DRY PRAIRIE RURAL WATER ASSOCIATION, INC.

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the Senate bill (S. 1219) to authorize certain tribes in the State of Montana to enter into a lease or other temporary conveyance of water rights to meet the water needs of the Dry Prairie Rural Water Association, Inc

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. TEMPORARY CONVEYANCE OF WATER RIGHTS TO DRY PRAIRIE RURAL WATER ASSOCIATION, INC.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Assiniboine and Sioux Tribes of the Fort Peck Indian Reservation, Montana (referred to in this section as the “Tribes”) may, with the approval of the Secretary, enter into a lease or other temporary conveyance of water rights recognized under the Fort Peck-Montana Compact (Montana Code Annotated 85-20-201) with the Dry Prairie Rural Water Association, Incorporated (or any successor non-Federal entity) for the purpose of meeting the water needs of that association, in accordance with section 5 of the Fort Peck Reservation Rural Water System Act of 2000 (Public Law 106-382; 114 Stat. 1454).

(b) CONDITIONS OF LEASE.—With respect to a lease or other temporary conveyance described in subsection (a)—

(1) the term of the lease or conveyance shall not exceed 100 years; and

(2)(A) the lease or conveyance may be approved by the Secretary without monetary compensation to the Tribes; and

(B) the Secretary shall not be subject to liability for any claim relating to any compensation or consideration received by the Tribes under the lease or conveyance.

(C) NO PERMANENT ALIENATION OF WATER.—Nothing in this section authorizes a permanent alienation of any water by the Tribes.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from California (Mr. RADANOVICH) and the gentlewoman from Guam (Ms. BORDALLO) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from California.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members have 5 legislative days to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on the bill under consideration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from California?

There was no objection.

Mr. RADANOVICH. I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, S. 1219, introduced by Senator CONRAD BURNS and supported by our Montana colleague, Mr. DENNIS REHBERG, allows two Fort Peck Indian Reservation tribes to lease water to nearby non-Indian communities. Because water supplies are very scarce in northern Montana, Congress authorized the construction of a rural water supply project for the Fort Peck Indian Reservation and some of its neighbors.

With the project now under way, water users realize that the underlying law needs to be clarified to ensure a water transfer can be made. This bill makes this commonsense clarification on a Federal level. The State Water Commission has already approved the conveyance.

I urge my colleagues to support this noncontroversial bill.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. BORDALLO. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

(Ms. BORDALLO asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. BORDALLO. Mr. Speaker, this legislation is the companion to H.R. 2978, a bill that passed the House of Representatives this past May. S. 1219 offers a sensible and a cooperative solution to a water supply problem in eastern Montana. Too often in this body we are witness to conflicts over resources, especially when it comes to water problems in our western States. This bill is a welcome departure from that.

Mr. Speaker, we strongly support the adoption of the Senate bill 1219.

Ms. BORDALLO. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from California (Mr. RADANOVICH) that the House suspend the rules and pass the Senate bill, S. 1219.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds of those voting having responded in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the Senate bill was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from California (Mr. RADANOVICH) and the gentlewoman from Guam (Ms. BORDALLO) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from California.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members have 5 legislative days to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on the bill under consideration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from California?

There was no objection.

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

H.R. 5110, sponsored by our colleague from Colorado, MARK UDALL, authorizes the Department of the Interior to fund projects for the potential use of extracted water for irrigation and other purposes. It will not surprise anybody that water is scarce in the West, but it may surprise some that a potential source of good quality water is just beneath the land surface and is being wasted every day.

During the process of energy development, about 22 million barrels of water are extracted each year, with most of that water pumped back underground. This legislation will facilitate the use of this abundant water for irrigation and other beneficial purposes. It could potentially help us find new water from what is now a virtually untapped water resource.

I thank the gentleman from Colorado for introducing this legislation, and I urge my colleagues to support this bill.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. BORDALLO. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

(Ms. BORDALLO asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. BORDALLO. Mr. Speaker, this legislation, introduced by my colleague on the Resources Committee, Mr. MARK UDALL, presents an exciting opportunity to solve critical water problems in locations with producing oil and gas wells.

Water is almost always brought to the surface along with oil and gas production, and most of the time the water is a very poor quality. For the oil and gas industry, this water is usually a waste product, something to be disposed of.

Mr. UDALL has recognized this problem of so-called produced water as a unique opportunity to solve critical water problems, and, as my colleagues are aware, this is especially important in the arid western States. This legislation will authorize a study and a limited number of demonstration projects to validate the concept that contaminated water produced from oil and gas wells can in fact be treated and put to beneficial use.

We are appreciative of the hard work Mr. UDALL has done to move this legislation through the Resources Committee.

Mr. Speaker, we strongly support the adoption of H.R. 5110.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. BORDALLO. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from Colorado (Mr. UDALL).

(Mr. UDALL of Colorado asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. UDALL of Colorado. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman from Guam for yielding me time, and I thank her for her service to the House.

Mr. Speaker, obviously I rise in support of my bill, H.R. 5110, and I want to begin by thanking Chairman POMBO and Ranking Member RAHALL, as well as subcommittee Chairs RADANOVICH and GIBBONS and Ranking Members NAPOLITANO and GRIJALVA, for making it possible for the House to consider this today.

As we have heard, the bill's purpose is to help change an industry problem that is in the energy industry into an opportunity, not just for oil and gas producers, but for everyone else who would benefit from increased supplies of usable water. Especially in the arid West, that covers everyone, not least our hard-pressed ranchers and farmers.

The focus of the bill is what is called produced water, the underground water extracted in connection with development of energy sources like oil, natural gas or coalbed methane.

The bill would do two things, Mr. Speaker. It would first direct Reclamation and the USGS to identify the obstacles to the greater use of produced water and how they could be reduced or eliminated. Second, it would provide for Federal help in building three pilot plants to demonstrate ways to treat produced water to make it suitable for irrigation or other uses.

One of these pilot plants would be in the Colorado River's upper basin, one would be in either Arizona or Nevada, and the third one would be in California. Under the bill, the Federal Government would pay up to half the cost of building each plant, but no more than $1 million for any one plant, and then no Federal funds could be used for operating the plants themselves.

The bill's goals are reflected in its title, which is the More Water and More Energy Act of 2006. More water because of the way it would help supplement the water available for agriculture, municipal or other uses, and more energy because keeping produced water on the surface instead of re-injecting it into the ground can make it possible to recover more oil and gas from the subsurface. These are two goals I think we all can share, and this bill helps us achieve it.

I would urge its support. I want to thank again in closing Congressman RADANOVICH and my good friend from Guam for acknowledging this bill today and yielding me the time.

Ms. BORDALLO. Mr. Speaker, we have no further speakers, and I yield back the balance of my time. Again I want to take this opportunity to thank Mr. UDALL, who is a water expert who has done a great deal of work on this particular piece of legislation.

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from California (Mr. RADANOVICH) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 5110, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds of those voting having responded in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

LOWELL NATIONAL HISTORICAL PARK BOUNDARY ADJUSTMENT ACT

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 395) to adjust the boundary of Lowell National Historical Park, and for other purposes.

H.R. 395

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the "Lowell National Historical Park Boundary Adjustment Act".

SEC. 2. AMENDMENTS.

The Act entitled "An Act to provide for the establishment of the Lowell National Historical Park in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and for other purposes" approved June 5, 1978 (Public Law 95-290; 92 Stat. 290; 16 U.S.C. 410cc et seq.) is amended as follows:

(1) In section 101(a), by adding a new paragraph after paragraph (2) as follows:

"(3) The boundaries of the park are modified to include five parcels of land identified on the map entitled 'Boundary Adjustment, Lowell National Historical Park,' numbered 475/81,424B and dated September 2004, and as delineated in section 202(a)(2)(G)."

(2) In section 202(a)(2), by adding at the end the following new subparagraph:

"(G) The properties shown on the map identified in subsection (101)(a)(3) as follows:
 "(i) 91 Pevey Street.
 "(ii) The portion of 607 Middlesex Place.
 "(iii) Eagle Court.
 "(iv) The portion of 50 Payne Street.
 "(v) 726 Broadway."

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from California (Mr. RADANOVICH) and the gentlewoman from Guam (Ms. BORDALLO) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from California.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days to revise and extend their remarks and to include extraneous material on the bill under consideration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from California?

There was no objection.

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 395, introduced by Mr. MEEHAN of Massachusetts and supported by the administration, would authorize the Secretary of the Interior to acquire five small tracts of land totaling less than 1 acre to complete development of the Canal Way, a linear park and walkway along Lowell's 5.6 mile historic power canal system. The acquisition of these tracts will provide the access points necessary for development, maintenance and surveillance necessary to complete the Canal Way.

I urge the adoption of the bill.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. BORDALLO. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

(Ms. BORDALLO asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. BORDALLO. Mr. Speaker, the majority has already explained the purpose of H.R. 395, which was introduced by my colleague from Massachusetts, Representative MARTY MEEHAN.

This is really a housekeeping measure. The five parcels to be added to the park total less than 1 acre. Yes, that is correct, less than 1 acre. The gentleman from Massachusetts, Representative MEEHAN, is to be commended for his efforts on behalf of the Lowell National Historical Park. He has worked diligently to advance the preservation and the interpretation of the historic resources located at this historical park, and the addition of these parcels will help further that goal.

So, Mr. Speaker, we support H.R. 395, and I urge adoption of the legislation by the House today.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. BORDALLO. Mr. Speaker, I yield as much time as he may consume to my colleague from Massachusetts (Mr. MEEHAN).

Mr. MEEHAN. Mr. Speaker, it has been indicated what this bill would do relative to small tracts of land.

I want to say that the Lowell National Historical Park was created in 1978, and it really created the vision for my hometown of Lowell, Massachusetts. Lowell was the cradle of America's industrial revolution, and it was determined by this Congress that it was worthy of preservation.

For 30 years, starting in the 1800s, Lowell led the Nation in cotton textile production. Harnessing the power of the mighty Merrimack River, it gave Lowell the fuel for this Nation's largest manufacturing engine.

Today, because of the work of so many people in the city of Lowell and the National Park Service, the Lowell National Historic Park continues to tell the story of America's industrial revolution right in Lowell.

The park stands as a bridge to the past and a looking glass to the future. The same land that hosted textile mills are now home to high-tech companies and a university where nanotechnology research is flourishing.

The park, the first urban park of the Nation, is also a study in contrast. The old brick mills, emblematic of industry and development, are surrounded by pristine, open, green space. As the park has developed and improved, so too has the community around it. The park attracts three-quarters of a million visitors each year, and the ripple effect of that is significant.

Since the park has come into existence, Lowell has been named a distinctive designation city by the National Trust for Historic Preservation and an all-American city by the National Civic League.

This bill will keep the progress of this park rolling, allowing the last two miles of Lowell's historic canalway to be accessed by the public.

I want to thank the park superintendent Michael Creasey, Peter Aucella, and the others who are involved in this project. This is a community project that continues this resolve. This legislation is important for continued development of the park, and I thank my colleagues on both sides of the aisle for their support of this legislation.

Ms. BORDALLO. Mr. Speaker, again, I thank Mr. MEEHAN from the great State of Massachusetts for his diligent work on this piece of legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from California (Mr. RADANOVICH) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 395.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds of those voting having responded in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

PROVIDING FOR PRESERVATION OF HISTORIC CONFINEMENT SITES

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and concur in the Senate amendments to the bill (H.R. 1492) to provide for the preservation of the historic confinement sites where Japanese Americans were detained during World War II, and for other purposes.

The Clerk read as follows:

Senate amendments

On page 2, line 15 through 20, strike and insert:

(b) GRANTS.—

(1) CRITERIA.—The Secretary, after consultation with State, local, and tribal governments, other public entities, educational institutions, and private nonprofit organizations (including organizations involved in the preservation of historic confinement sites), shall develop criteria for making grants under paragraph (2) to assist in carrying out subsection (a).

(2) PROVISION OF GRANTS.—Not later than 180 days after the date on which funds are made available to carry out this Act, the Secretary shall, subject to the availability of appropriations, make grants to the entities described in paragraph (1) only in accordance with the criteria developed under that paragraph.

On page 3, line 21, strike "25 percent" and insert: "50 percent".

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from California (Mr. RADANOVICH) and the gentlewoman from Guam (Ms. BORDALLO) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from California.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members be given 5 legislative days to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on the bill under consideration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from California?

There was no objection.

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as may consume.

H.R. 1492, introduced by Congressman BILL THOMAS, would establish a grant program within the Department of the Interior to protect, preserve, and interpret historic confinement sites where Japanese Americans were detained during World War II.

While there are two units in the National Park System that recognize the internment period, there are many who believe that other internment sites should also be preserved short of becoming a part of the park system. This bill would further that purpose by providing funds, with a partial private match.

The Senate amendment broadens the consultation requirement to develop criteria for making grants, provides a timeline for making grants, and increases the non-Federal matching requirement. These are all improvements to the original bill and we support them.

I urge the adoption of the bill.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. BORDALLO. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

(Ms. BORDALLO asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. BORDALLO. Mr. Speaker, the changes made to this legislation by the Senate have improved the bill, and we continue to support the passage of H.R. 1492. Representatives Doris Matsui and Mike Honda are to be commended for their tireless efforts on behalf of this proposal. We also recognize the senior Senator from the State of Hawaii in the other body, and that is the Honorable Daniel K. Inouye, for his distinguished work in advancing this important legislation.

Within 3 months of the attack on Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941, Executive Order 9066 authorized the removal of over 100,000 Japanese Americans from their homes and their relocation to isolated internment camps in Arkansas, Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Utah and Wyoming. Decades later, our Nation came to understand and regret the grave mistakes of the past and the unacceptable premise that American citizens could lose their constitutional rights in the name of security. The internment camps stand as a stark testimonial to the underlying error of that premise.

As we mentioned when the House first approved this measure on November 15, 2005, the injustice of internment is not some distant, historical artifact. Rather, for former Members of this body, such as former Transportation Secretary Norman Mineta, or our late colleague, Representative Robert Matsui, internment was a painful reality.

Today, this bill is a testament to the legacy of these loyal Americans and honors the memory of their struggles. This legislation is not only a tribute to those who suffered the injustice of internment but also to the triumphs of our distinguished former colleagues. We urge support for H.R. 1492 in their names and in the names of all those who have faced, or continue to face, injustice.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I yield as much time as he may consume to the gentleman from California (Mr. THOMAS).

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, I thank my colleague, the gentleman from California, and I also want to thank Congressman RADANOVICH and Congresswoman BORDALLO for the work that the Resources Committee has done, especially Chairman POMBO, and again salute my colleagues MIKE HONDA and DORIS MATSUI, DEVIN NUNES, also a member of the committee, and, as was indicated, Senators assisting us in moving this in a reasonable fashion, Senators DOMENICI, THOMAS, AKAKA and INOUE.

This legislation is, in essence, a modest effort to provide the structure and resources necessary for citizens, schools, communities and others to undertake projects in the actual locales in which the so-called internment camps were located. For more than a decade, I represented one of those camps in Inyo County, Manzanar. I also came into the Congress with Bob Matsui.

The understanding of this period in our history is essential. It has to do with fundamental rights, even of native-born citizens in time of war.

The ability to preserve the actual sites and provide, if you will, an on-the-ground understanding was rapidly slipping away from us because of the simple distance of time from when this occurred and what has been happening in what were once very remote areas of Utah and California and other States.

So I am very, very pleased that both the House and the Senate has responded in a reasonable time frame to provide some monetary resources, matched by those who are committed to maintain the memory, not for the purpose of rubbing in what happened, but to remember it so that it does not happen again.

I thank the gentleman

Ms. BORDALLO. Mr. Speaker, I yield as much time as he wishes to consume to the gentleman from California (Mr. HONDA), my good friend, the chairman of the Congressional Asian Pacific American Caucus who spent time in an internment camp as an infant.

(Mr. HONDA asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. HONDA. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman from Guam, my colleague and friend, for yielding me the time to address this important measure on the floor today.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.R. 1492, a measure to provide for the preservation of the historic confinement sites where Americans of Japanese descent, of Japanese ancestry, were detained during World War II.

I thank very personally Chairman BILL THOMAS for his steadfast leadership in introducing and working so effectively and ardently to move this bill forward. I am also pleased to be an original cosponsor of this measure, along with Congresswoman DORIS MATSUI. I thank the Committee on Resources and the Senate for their successful efforts to bring us to this point where this bill is about to go to the President to be signed into law.

When I was a member of the California State Assembly, I had the privilege of passing legislation to create the California Civil Liberties Public Education Program. The measure created a program to fund grants for educational activities and the development of educational materials to ensure that the events surrounding the exclusion, forced removal and incarceration of Japanese Americans would be remembered.

This program has also shed light on how Executive Order 9066, the order paving the way for the internment, impacted others such as Italian and German Americans and the people of Japanese ancestry living in Latin America.

While my bill in California helped to preserve the stories of the internment period, this bill will help to preserve the physical and tangible reminders of this period and will have a deep impact on our ability to make the stories real for future generations.

This bill uses the phrase "confinement sites" so funds may be used not only for 10 internment camps but for associated sites as well.

The internment sites, Manzanar, Topaz, Minidoka, Heart Mountain, Tule Lake, Gila River, Poston, Amache where I was born, Rohwer, Jerome and related confinement sites stand as an important and powerful lesson for this Nation.

Ultimately, by preserving these sites we will demonstrate the Nation's commitment to equal justice under the law and preserve a true American lesson.

I commend the groups making up the Japanese American National Heritage Coalition and its constituent groups, and the work of Gerald Yamada and Floyd Mori in bringing this issue to Congress. I would also like to take this opportunity to wish my friend John Tateishi a speedy recovery and to thank him for his commitment to upholding civil rights as he steps down from his long and accomplished career as national director of the Japanese American Citizens League.

Finally, I again wish to thank Chairman BILL THOMAS for his passionate dedication to making this bill a reality. The Japanese American community thanks you for your heartfelt commitment to this important issue and is overjoyed that it can be a part of the final act of your illustrious career in Congress.

Ms. BORDALLO. Mr. Speaker, it is now my distinct privilege to yield as much time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from California (Ms. MATSUI), our colleague from Sacramento, who has worked diligently on this legislation and who understands firsthand the importance of preserving the internment sites, as she was born at the Poston internment camp in Arizona.

(Ms. MATSUI asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. MATSUI. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman from Guam for yielding me this time.

Mr. Speaker, the internment of thousands of Japanese Americans during World War II is a painful part of our past. The memories of the time that so many innocent Americans spent in stark and isolated camps continue to resonate today.

We honor the memories of those people not by forgetting what happened, nor do we honor them by proclaiming that such events could never occur in today's United States. Instead, we honor the past by preserving the sites where the internment took place. In doing so, we deepen our understanding of the internment, and we help educate future generations about how to avoid this recurrence.

Preserving these internment sites is a solemn task we all bear. That is why the legislation before us today is so important.

It directs the Federal Government to partner with local entities to identify and protect internment sites. In the process, it will help to demonstrate our country's commitment to equality, justice and liberty for all.

These are the founding principles of our Republic. We have no greater responsibility as Members of Congress than to protect and further these ideals. This legislation will help us do so by communicating the lessons of the internment to our children and grandchildren.

It has been a distinct pleasure of mine to collaborate with so many of my colleagues to bring this legislation to the House today. I would like to extend my special thanks to my colleague from California, Chairman THOMAS; and, as he mentioned, he came to the class with my late husband, Bob. His leadership has been absolutely instrumental in helping to craft this bill and to advance it to the point of passage. I would also like to thank my dear colleague Mr. HONDA for his tireless advocacy. He has proven to be a leader on internment preservation issues. He has shepherded this bill through the legislation process, and I truly appreciate his efforts. I am proud to stand with him and with Chairman THOMAS as original cosponsors of this timely and necessarily legislation.

Let us pass it today so that those who come after us, like my two young grandchildren Anna and Robby, can visit the places where their grandparents, great grandparents, and great, great grandparents were wrongly imprisoned. Let us pass it today so that those who come after us will know the places where their ancestors struggled for freedom in the country that they loved, and let us pass it today so that those who come after us will have a physical reminder of what they will never allow to happen again.

Ms. BORDALLO. Mr. Speaker, in conclusion, I want to again acknowledge all of the Members of both Chambers who have worked hard on this legislation: Congressman THOMAS, Congressman HONDA, Congressman MATSUI, Senator INOUE, Senator AKAKA, and the leadership of both the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee and the House Resources Committee. It has been a privilege of mine to serve with Chairman POMBO and Congressman RAHALL. We are going to miss working with Chairman THOMAS and Chairman POMBO. We appreciate their support of this legislation, and we look forward to continuing to work under the leadership of Congressman RAHALL. I thank my friend from California (Mr. RADANOVICH) for managing these bills with me today.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from California (Mr. RADANOVICH) that the House suspend the rules and concur in the Senate amendments to the bill, H.R. 1492.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds of those voting having responded in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the Senate amendments were concurred in.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

INNOCENT SPOUSE PROTECTION ACT

Mr. RAMSTAD. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 6111) to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to provide that the Tax Court may review claims for equitable innocent spouse relief and to suspend the running on the period of limitations while such claims are pending, as amended.

H.R. 6111

(c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall apply with respect to liability for taxes arising or remaining unpaid on or after the date of the enactment of this Act.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Minnesota (Mr. RAMSTAD) and the gentleman from New York (Mr. McNULTY) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Minnesota.

Mr. RAMSTAD. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I rise in support of H.R. 6111, a bill to provide the U.S. Tax Court with jurisdiction to review innocent spouse relief claims. I urge my colleagues to join me in passing this legislation introduced by our distinguished colleague and friend from California, Representative TAUSCHER.

Under current law, married couples who submit joint tax returns are individually responsible for paying the taxes owed to the Federal Government. The Internal Revenue Service can, however, relieve this responsibility, Mr. Speaker, in situations where one spouse was unaware that the other spouse understated the amount of taxes due on their joint return. This type of relief, called innocent spouse relief, is granted at the discretion of the IRS. Currently, if the IRS denies a claim for innocent spouse relief, the tax court which specializes in tax law, does not have jurisdiction to review the IRS decision. This bill would provide the tax court with authority to review these claims by innocent spouses.

Mr. Speaker, we have the opportunity today to allow innocent spouses to take their cases to the Federal court with the most knowledge and expertise in handling tax matters. The tax court's experience with tax cases should ensure that denials of claims for innocent spouse relief are handled both fairly and expeditiously.

Mr. Speaker, I commend my colleague and friend, Representative TAUSCHER, for her leadership and key work on this issue. The Senate has passed a similar provision, and I urge my colleagues to do the same by voting in favor of this important common-sense legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. McNULTY. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

(Mr. McNULTY asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. McNULTY. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 6111, legislation which enhances the innocent spouse equitable relief provision of the Internal Revenue

Code. I believe that the enactment of this proposal will provide a straightforward and noncontroversial solution to the unfair treatment of innocent spouses under current law. Through only minor legislative modifications, this bill clarifies the statute's original intent, affording innocent spouses the necessary recourse to ensure their cases and circumstances are given a fair hearing.

Mr. Speaker, at this time, I would like to yield such time as she may consume to the sponsor of this legislation, the gentlewoman from California (Mrs. TAUSCHER).

Mrs. TAUSCHER. Mr. Speaker, please let me thank my colleague, Mr. McNULTY, for his great leadership and my distinguished colleague from Minnesota, Mr. RAMSTAD, for his friendship and leadership, too.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in really strong support of the Innocent Spouse Protection Act. Along with my great friend and colleague Senator FEINSTEIN of California, I introduced this legislation because I believe that it will provide a straightforward solution to the unfair treatment of innocent spouses under the current law.

Under the current Tax Code, the IRS may relieve an innocent spouse of liability for unpaid taxes if it would be unfair to hold that spouse responsible. No recourse exists, however, to prevent the IRS from seizing assets or garnishing wages if relief is not approved. The story of one Californian provides an example of the problem.

The IRS seized all of her husband's income to pay a tax liability incurred 20 years earlier, very long before they were married, which is clearly not the responsibility of this spouse. But because the IRS seized all of the income, the taxes on the income remained unpaid and, as you can imagine, the ball keeps rolling along.

When this woman's spouse died, the IRS pursued the innocent spouse for the taxes on her deceased husband's income. Along rolls the ball. She was forced to then sell her family home and all of her property owned jointly with her husband. In fact, the IRS may have her wages garnished along with funds set aside for her in a trust by a probate court in a completely unrelated family matter.

Recent decisions by the Eighth and Ninth Circuit Courts of Appeals have denied the tax court jurisdiction over petitions for equitable relief. Consequently, there are no mechanisms for review or appeal of these IRS decisions.

The aim of this legislation is to provide an avenue through which these decisions may be appealed. This bill in no way guarantees relief, but rather fixes the broken appeals process for these IRS decisions.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support this small change that is supported by my colleagues on the Ways and Means Committee that will have a profound effect on the lives of many innocent spouses who deserve their day in court.

Mr. McNULTY. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. RAMSTAD. Mr. Speaker, we have no further speakers on this bill, I urge my colleagues to support H.R. 6111, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Minnesota (Mr. RAMSTAD) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 6111, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds of those voting having responded in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. RAMSTAD. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members have 5 legislative days in which to revise and extend their remarks and to include extraneous materials on the subject of the bill just passed.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Minnesota?

There was no objection.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 12(a) of rule I, the Chair declares the House in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

Accordingly (at 12 o'clock and 36 minutes p.m.), the House stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

AFTER RECESS

The recess having expired, the House was called to order by the Speaker pro tempore (Mr. PRICE of Georgia) at 2 o'clock and 4 minutes p.m.

APPOINTMENT OF CONFEREES ON H.R. 5682, HENRY J. HYDE UNITED STATES AND INDIA NUCLEAR COOPERATION PROMOTION ACT OF 2006

Mr. HYDE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to take from the Speaker's table the bill (H.R. 5682) to exempt from certain requirements of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 a proposed nuclear agreement for cooperation with India, with a Senate amendment thereto, disagree to the Senate amendment, and agree to the conference asked by the Senate.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Illinois?

There was no objection.

MOTION TO INSTRUCT OFFERED BY MR. LANTOS

Mr. LANTOS. Mr. Speaker, I offer a motion to instruct conferees.

The Clerk read as follows:

Mr. Lantos moves that the managers on the part of the House at the conference on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses on the Senate amendment to the bill H.R. 5682 be instructed to recede to the provisions contained in section 105(8) of the Senate amendment.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 7 of rule XXII, the gentleman from California (Mr. LANTOS) and the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. HYDE) each will control 30 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from California.

Mr. LANTOS. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume to explain the motion.

Mr. Speaker, this motion instructs the conferees to H.R. 5682, the U.S.-India Nuclear Cooperation Promotion Act, to maintain section 105(8) of the Senate amendment. This section requires a determination by the President that India is fully and actively participating in U.S. and international efforts to dissuade, sanction and contain Iran for its nuclear program consistent with United Nations Security Council resolutions.

Mr. Speaker, I voted in favor of a motion to recommit H.R. 5682 that was offered by my friend Mr. MARKEY during floor consideration of the bill. That motion would have required a similar determination on Iran. I strongly believed that obtaining such an assessment of India's policy in this regard is a critical piece of information to aid our deliberations when we consider an actual agreement for civil nuclear cooperation with India as required by H.R. 5682.

Mr. Speaker, my view has not changed. I am a strong supporter of expanding nuclear cooperation with India, which I believe will greatly benefit both of our great countries. But, Mr. Speaker, we should ensure that we have all relevant information that could pertain to our deliberations regarding expanding nuclear cooperation with India.

I strongly urge my colleagues to support this motion to instruct.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. HYDE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, the administration has strongly requested that the conferees remove from the conference report Senator HARKIN's amendment regarding Iran. This motion would instruct the House conferees to ensure that that language was retained in the conference report. This is one item that well-meaning Members can honorably dispute. But there is not enough time remaining to delay passage of this conference report. Therefore, I have no objection to the motion.

Mr. MARKEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the Motion to Instruct Conferees. The recommittal motion I offered when this bill came to the floor in July would have required the President to certify that India is fully supporting U.S. efforts to prevent Iran from acquiring weapons of mass destruction. The gentleman from California Mr. LANTOS supported my amendment, and I thank him for that, but my amendment unfortunately failed.

In the Senate, a similar but less expansive amendment offered by Sen. HARKIN was successful, and that is the amendment supported by this Motion to Instruct.

The Harkin Amendment would require the President to certify that India was abiding by United Nations Security Council resolutions regarding Iran. Since those resolutions are already binding under international law, that is a low enough bar that the President could make such a certification for almost any country in the world. India would certainly pass.

The Harkin Amendment doesn't do everything that I would like it to, but I believe that it is nonetheless an important provision to keep in the final bill.

But now the Bush Administration is objecting to even this modest requirement. Last week, Secretary Rice wrote to Chairman HYDE and Ranking Member LANTOS asking that all of the significant nonproliferation provisions added by the Congress be removed. She also argued that the Harkin Amendment would be viewed by India as an "additional condition," and therefore the requirement must be removed.

So it seems that the Bush administration is refusing to ask a close ally, India, to abide by established international law and assist in preventing Iran from going nuclear.

Apparently, the Bush Administration has entered the nuclear twilight zone. It can go to war in Iraq to disarm imaginary WMD, but not a word to India in this nuclear agreement about helping us stand up to Iran's WMD programs? I ask my colleagues: Whose foreign policy is the Administration promoting?

This is a modest suggestion. I think we actually should be doing more, and I and other House Members have sent a letter to Chairman HYDE and Ranking Member LANTOS outlining some of the other critical nuclear nonproliferation provisions that are the minimum requirements that we should be including in this bill. I hope that they are included in the final conference report.

But we really do need to ensure that India is not able to simultaneously reap the benefits of nuclear cooperation with the U.S. and others, while continuing to support Iran's efforts to maintain a renegade nuclear program. I urge all of my colleagues to vote for this Motion to Instruct Conferees, because we absolutely must halt Iran's nuclear ambitions.

Mr. HYDE. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. LANTOS. Mr. Speaker, I urge all of my colleagues to strongly support this motion to instruct.

Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the previous question is ordered on the motion to instruct.

There was no objection.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion to instruct offered by the gentleman from California (Mr. LANTOS).

The motion to instruct was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the Chair appoints the following conferees:

Messrs. HYDE, BOEHNER and LANTOS.
There was no objection.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

AUTHORIZING PRINTING OF "UNITED STATES HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, THE COMMITTEE ON WAYS AND MEANS: A HISTORY, 1789-2006"

Mr. EHLERS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that the Committee on House Administration be discharged from further consideration of the concurrent resolution (H. Con. Res. 495) authorizing the printing as a House document of "United States House of Representatives, The Committee on Ways and Means: A History, 1789-2006," and ask for its immediate consideration in the House.

The Clerk read the title of the concurrent resolution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Michigan?

There was no objection.

The Clerk read the concurrent resolution, as follows

H. CON. RES. 495

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring),

SECTION 1. PRINTING OF DOCUMENT.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The document entitled "United States House of Representatives, The Committee on Ways and Means: A History, 1789-2006", prepared under the direction of the Office of the Historian, United States House of Representatives, shall be printed as a House document, with illustrations and suitable binding, in a style and manner determined by the Joint Committee on Printing.

(b) ADDITIONAL COPIES.—With respect to the document described in subsection (a), in addition to the usual number there shall be printed the lesser of—

(1) 1,500 copies, of which 50 shall be bound in leather for the use of Members of the Committee on Ways and Means and 500 shall be casebound for distribution by the Committee on Ways and Means; or

(2) the maximum number of copies for which the total production and printing cost does not exceed $40,000, with production and distribution to be allocated in the same proportion as described in paragraph (1).

The concurrent resolution was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

UNBORN CHILD PAIN AWARENESS ACT

(Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN. Mr. Speaker, tomorrow the House is scheduled to consider H.R. 6099, the Unborn Child Pain Awareness Act. If passed, this bill would ensure that women are informed of the pain experienced by their unborn child at 20 weeks after fertilization.

The bill also gives expecting mothers an opportunity to request pain medicine for their baby. Medical evidence asserts that an unborn child can feel pain at 20 weeks, if not earlier.

According to a report by the Centers for Disease Control, approximately 1.4 percent of the abortions in the U.S. are performed at or after 20 weeks following fertilization. This means that nearly 20,000 women are not given complete information regarding the excruciating pain experienced by their unborn child.

Mr. Speaker, it is our responsibility as legislators and more importantly, as human beings to empower women, their husbands or partners with all the facts, and not merely a sugar-coated version of the truth.

Therefore, I urge my colleagues on both sides of the aisle to support women's right for information and vote "yes" on H.R. 6099.

BRING THE TROOPS HOME NOW

(Mr. KUCINICH asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. KUCINICH. Mr. Speaker, on September 30, 2006, this House appropriated $70 billion in bridge funds for the war in Iraq. There is talk now of another appropriation of $130 billion in the spring, bringing the total for the war in Iraq to $200 billion for a single fiscal year.

This House is going to have to make an historic decision in the spring, and I want the American people to know right now that the money is in the budget to bring our troops home. There is no need for an additional appropriation of $130 billion. That will only keep the troops there. You want the troops to come home, the money is there right now in the budget to bring the troops home. We don't have to keep this war going.

The American people voted for a new direction in November, and that new direction is something they are entitled to. We don't have to dig a deeper grave in Iraq. We can bring the troops

SPECIAL ORDERS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker's announced policy of January 4, 2005, and under a previous order of the House, the following Members will be recognized for 5 minutes each.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Oregon (Mr. DEFAZIO) is recognized for 5 minutes.

(Mr. DEFAZIO addressed the House. His remarks will appear hereafter in the Extensions of Remarks.)

CAPTAIN DAVID FRASER, TEXAS WARRIOR

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Texas (Mr. POE) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. POE. Mr. Speaker, "Duty, honor, country: Those three hallowed words reverently dictate what you ought to be, what you can be, what you will be. They are your rallying point to build courage when courage seems to fail, to regain faith when there seems to be little cause for faith, to create hope when hope becomes forlorn.

"In my dreams I hear again the crash of guns, the rattle of musketry, the strange, mournful mutter of the battlefield. But in the evening of my memory always I come back to West Point. Always there are echoes and reechoes: Duty, honor, country."

Mr. Speaker, General Douglas MacArthur spoke these words to West Point graduates of what the American soldier should be.

Captain David Fraser, West Pointer, personified these words. For the last year, Captain David Fraser patrolled the vast desert battlefields of war-torn Iraq in search of the enemies of freedom.

This December, his tour of duty was over and he would be coming back to Fort Hood, Texas, to spend Christmas with those he cared about.

But on November 26, 2006, 25-year-old Captain Fraser and three other soldiers were killed in Baghdad by a cowardly enemy using an improvised explosive device called an IED.

Captain Fraser excelled at life. He was a native of Spring, Texas. He attended Westfield High School where he was an honor student and a star cross-country athlete. Twice he led the team to qualify for the Texas State cross-country meet. His senior year, Captain Fraser led the boy's team to the first cross-country district title in over 19 years. He was voted the most athletic of his senior class at Westfield.

He was a devout Christian who remained active in his faith, whether he be in Texas or West Point, or stationed in lands far, far away. He was always willing to lend a hand at Sunday school or participate in Christian community events. His faith was his cornerstone. Those who knew Captain Fraser knew a man who was respected and admired by all. He was a born leader, always doing the right thing.

Captain Fraser applied to the West Point Military Academy, he said, out of sense of duty and as his way of giving back to a country that provided him with unlimited opportunities. Such powerful words, Mr. Speaker, of patriotism from one of America's finest.

Captain Fraser had a family history of military service. His mother, Helen; his father, Richard; his brother, Patrick, all served in the United States Armed Forces. He wanted to continue that proud tradition at West Point.

At West Point he ran like the West Texas wind as a member of the cross-country and track teams. Captain Fraser was also a superior student in the classroom. He graduated from that tough academy with honors as the top student in civil engineering. His academic performance promised Captain Fraser a faculty position at West Point during his career.

An accomplished soldier, Captain Fraser completed the rigorous Army Ranger, Airborne, and Air Assault schools. He was relentless in his determination to succeed.

In December 2005, Captain Fraser was deployed to Iraq, assigned to the 3rd Battalion, 67th Armor Regiment, 4th Brigade, 4th Infantry Division, and commanded several units. Recently he commanded a combat engineering platoon responsible for locating and disarming mines and other explosive devices implanted along Baghdad roads by insurgents. It was his mission to protect our soldiers and innocent Iraqis from the unseen enemy, the violent militants, the violent anarchists, those who stand against freedom and liberty.

As a decorated serviceman, Captain Fraser was the recipient of the Overseas Service Ribbon, the Iraqi Campaign Medal, the Global War on Terrorism Service Medal, and the National Defense Service Medal. For his service while in Iraq during a time of war, he was also awarded the Army Service Ribbon.

For his valor during combat on November 26, Captain Fraser was awarded the Bronze Star and the Purple Heart.

Captain Fraser, this photograph I have of him while at West Point, he gave his life for his country, and he will be missed throughout the Spring, Texas, community by those whose lives he positively impacted.

Today Captain Fraser has finally come home to Texas. In fact, he is being buried now, as I speak on the House floor. Taps is being played for this Texas individual, for this committed countryman.

The Fraser family and the Spring, Texas, community will always remember that their son died a hero, serving this great country of ours and defending the basic rights of life and liberty and freedom.

Captain David Fraser lived and died as General MacArthur said, "for duty, for honor, for country."

So God bless the Fraser family and God bless David Fraser and God bless all those who wear the uniform of the American warrior.

And that's just the way it is.

PASS COMMONSENSE GUN LAWS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from New York (Mrs. MCCARTHY) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mrs. MCCARTHY. Mr. Speaker, last month the people voiced their opinion of the 109th Congress. Their message was loud and clear. It is time for common sense, and I hope we can follow the people's lead and pass some commonsense legislation coming this January.

I am particularly interested in commonsense legislation that will keep guns out of the hands of criminals without infringing on anyone's second amendment right. When it comes to commonsense gun laws, the Congress has a dismal record.

Thus far this Congress has given corrupt and incomplete gun dealers immunity from negligent lawsuits. This Congress has made it a crime for two police departments to share information from ATF's ballistics database. This Congress has tied the hands of law enforcement during times of disaster and has made it possible for guns to be brought into hurricane shelters.

But next year I am hoping for a fresh start when it comes to commonsense gun laws. Last spring our Judiciary Committee's Subcommittee on Crime, Terrorism, and Homeland Security approved H.R. 1415, the NICS Improvement Act. That is a bill that I had introduced a number of years ago. This is a bill that would improve the effectiveness of the existing National Instant Criminal Background Check System, the database used to check firearms buyers for any criminal record or other disqualifying criteria. Overall, the NICS has been a great success. Since 1994 more than 1.2 million individuals have been turned down because of a failed background check. NICS also provides the vast majority of honest gun sellers with peace of mind in knowing that they are selling their products to citizens who will use them safely and legally.

However, the NICS system is only as good as the information that is put into it. And, unfortunately, many States do not have the resources necessary to enter all of their disqualifying criteria into the NICS system. This is thanks, in part, to the many unfunded mandates this Congress has imposed upon the States. The end result is that felons and others who are not permitted by existing law to buy guns are passing background checks and buying guns through legitimate means. In fact, 28 States have automated less than 75 percent of their criminal history records. In 15 States domestic violence restraining orders are not accessible through the NICS system.

Mr. Speaker, each year we see thousands and thousands of people dying because of gun violence. We see so many more being wounded because of gun violence. We have a chance to enforce the laws that are on the books, but we need to help the States get the money to computerize the information that they have. We can save lives, number one. We can cut down on health care costs. And all that can be done by passing the NICS Act.

The bill was passed a couple years ago. Unfortunately, the Senate ran out of time. In January we here in Congress will be working 5 days a week; and I am hoping with that we will have the time to pass the laws that this country expects us to do, bread-and-butter issues to make us safe, to help the economy. We can do this. And I am hoping that the Judiciary Committee will bring up the NICS bill, pass it this year, and get it over to the Senate so that we can pass it there and have the President sign it.

The people spoke on November 7 and we here in Congress, Republicans and Democrats, will be working together. We have very large issues in front of us, but let us not forget about the small issues also, those quality-of-life issues for our constituents. Let us show America that we can do better. This Congress, this next Congress, will do better, and we will do a better job.

PROSECUTION OF TWO U.S. BORDER PATROL AGENTS: URGING A PRESIDENTIAL PARDON

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. BOUSTANY). Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. JONES) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. JONES of North Carolina. Mr. Speaker, I am on the floor today to bring to the attention of the House the unjust prosecution of two U.S. Border Patrol agents and to urge the President of the United States to pardon these two men.

Agents Ramos and Compean were found guilty in a Federal court for wounding a Mexican drug smuggler who brought 743 pounds of marijuana across our southern border into Texas. These agents never should have been prosecuted for their actions last year; yet they had been sentenced to 11 and 12 years in Federal prison respectively. Agent Ramos served Border Patrol for 9 years and was a former nominee for Border Patrol Agent of the Year. Agent Compean had 5 years of experience as a Border Patrol agent. By attempting to apprehend an illegal alien drug smuggler, these agents were simply doing their job to protect the American people. These agents should have been commended for their actions, but instead the U.S. Attorney's Office prosecuted the agents and granted full immunity to the drug smuggler for his testimony against our agents. The drug smuggler received full medical care in El Paso, Texas; was permitted to return to Mexico; and is now suing the Border Patrol for $5 million for violating his civil rights. He is not an American citizen. He is a criminal.

Although it is clear that these agents fired shots at the drug smuggler to defend themselves and the border they patrol, Ramos and Compean were convicted mainly on the testimony of a habitual drug smuggler who claimed he was unarmed.

A sealed indictment for drug charges forbade the defense for calling into question the integrity of the drug smuggler as a witness. An October 26 article by Sara Carter of the Inland Valley Daily Bulletin quotes two of the drug smuggler's family members who said he "has been smuggling drugs since he was 14 and wouldn't move drugs unless he had a gun on him." Mr. Speaker, this came from the family member who knows this drug dealer. The family member also reported that the drug smuggler had been bragging about the money he is going to get in a lawsuit against the United States of America.

Despite my repeated requests for an investigation of this case and a request by a dozen Members of Congress for the President to pardon the agents, this administration has ignored the concerns of countless citizens who have decried the unjust prosecution of these two heroes. Mr. Speaker, I am calling on the President to listen to the concerns of the American people and to make it a top priority to pardon these two agents.

In closing, Mr. Speaker, I would like to share the last paragraph of my November 15 letter to the President: "Mr. President, you have an opportunity to reverse a great injustice committed against two agents who have given years of their life in service to this Nation and who have been unjustly punished for doing their job to protect our homeland. On January 17 of 2007, both Agents Ramos and Compean must surrender themselves to Federal authorities unless action is taken to overturn their sentences.

"I strongly urge you, Mr. President, to listen to the concerns of the American people and use the power of your office to pardon these two agents."

Mr. Speaker, I want to say again in closing that these two agents are heroes of this great Nation, and if anything, they should be rewarded and not crucified by the Federal Government for doing their job.

Please, Mr. President, listen to the American people.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair would remind all Members to direct their remarks to the Chair.

THE LAME DUCK SESSION AND IRAQ

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from California (Ms. WOOLSEY) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. WOOLSEY. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to be back in Washington for the final session of the 109th Congress. I only wish that the current leaders on the other side of the aisle had used their final days in the majority to actually exercise leadership and do something constructive for the American people. Instead we are here for the lamest of all possible lame duck sessions.

Just look at what we have done today. With all due respect to my Resources Committee colleague Mr. SIMPSON, the Southern Idaho Bureau of Reclamation Repayment Act of 2006 really isn't one of the most pressing matters facing our Nation. And what about the Captain John Smith Chesapeake National Historic Trail Designation Act?

My friends, we are in the middle of a war, a failed war, which a majority of the American people no longer want any part of; a war which, by the admission of the President's own choice for Secretary of Defense, we are not winning. More than 2,900 of our best and brightest American troops are dead because of this failed policy. At least 46,000 have been wounded, severely wounded. And it is not as if they have sacrificed for a noble cause. Iraq, which was supposed to spontaneously blossom into a democracy the minute our troops arrived, has instead been plunged into a civil war as a direct result of the American occupation. In fact, a lot of people are saying that "civil war" is really too generous a term for what is happening in Iraq. It is actually much worse. "Civil war" implies two sides battling it out for state control. What we have here is many factions of thuggish militia and vigilantes terrorizing the streets and killing indiscriminately. The director of the CIA recently referred to the violence as "Satanic."

So why then are we spending the people's time and the people's money deliberating on naming a room in the Capitol? It is no wonder people have lost confidence in Congress to do the Nation's work effectively. Instead of doing what we were elected to do, we are waiting with bated breath for the findings of a blue ribbon commission to tell us what to do in Iraq. Mr. Speaker, this is political cowardice, pure and simple. The Congress doesn't want to confront the problem and doesn't want to challenge the President. So we pass the buck to a group of unelected so-called wise men who appear prepared to offer a watered-down compromise that will satisfy actually no one. I think it is appalling. What are we here to do if not to address the issues of national security, war and peace, and life and death?

And the White House, meanwhile, persists in a stubborn state of denial. The President continues to say he will not leave until the mission is complete, but at this point there is no clear mission nor how to know when it is complete. As he consistently has, the President is leaving open the very real possibility that our troops will be in Iraq for as long as he occupies the Oval Office.

The White House obviously wasn't listening to the message that was sent on November 7. But we are a co-equal branch of government, and we owe it to the American people to push for a course correction in Iraq. Obviously we won't make any progress on that front this week, but I look forward to the new year when the quacking stops and we will have a new Congress with a mandate and the fortitude to bring an end to this disastrous occupation and to bring our troops home.

URGING REFORM OF IMMIGRATION POLICY PERTAINING TO SANCTUARY CITIES

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Texas (Ms. SEKULA GIBBS) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. SEKULA GIBBS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to speak regarding a subject that is very important to my constituents in Congressional District 22 of Texas and has great national interest as well. This consideration is regarding much needed reform on our Nation's immigration policies, especially those policies that regard such sanctuary cities, as they are known.

As you are aware, my colleague from Texas, Congressman JOHN CULBERSON, led a successful effort to place an amendment in a recent bill that passed the House of Representatives but has not come forward through the Senate, and this bill disallows Federal funding to those cities who do not provide information to Federal immigration officers regarding illegal aliens. Cities such as Houston, cities that operate under general orders such as that signed by a police chief, those orders that prevent police officers from asking about the immigration status of criminals who commit claim C misdemeanors. Such sanctuary policies have contributed to rising crime rates and to, unfortunately, deaths of police officers, such as the death of Police Officer Rodney Johnson in Houston, who was killed this year by an illegal immigrant, one who had been arrested three times and deported once but then subsequently returned to Texas.

Americans are indeed saddened at the loss of our troops in the war in Iraq and also the war conducted across the world against terrorists. We have lost almost 2,900 troops in the war in Iraq. But this figure has to be placed into perspective. We have been given information by Representatives STEVE KING, Republican from Iowa, who used data from the Government Accountability Office, the Violent Crimes Institute of Atlanta, and AAA Foundation, that says that 12 Americans are murdered every day by illegal aliens and 13 Americans are estimated to be killed by illegal aliens who are driving while intoxicated. This gives us a total of almost 4,700 Americans who are murdered annually by illegal aliens. These statistics must not go unrecognized. They call out for action.

Americans also are losing their property rights. Those rights are being trampled in favor of the rights of illegal aliens. Recently a jury awarded $210,000 in damages against a rancher who was attempting to protect his property against trespassing by individuals that he thought were illegal aliens but turned out not to be, but he was really attempting to defend his property. He will ultimately be required to pay $98,000 for trying to defend his property against trespassers. What about his rights? Ranchers have been put on notice that if they attempt to prevent armed trespassers from crossing their property, they could face financial ruin with charges of civil rights violations, especially if those trespassers happen to be illegal aliens.

This is not right. Legal is legal and illegal is illegal. Illegal immigrants should not be accorded more rights than American citizens.

Mr. Speaker, this is a very important issue to the constituents in the congressional district in my part of Texas, Southeast Texas, District 22. Tackling the problem of illegal immigration will require full cooperation of all of our government resources, local, State, and Federal, and I call on this body to work diligently to help us solve this situation. We are all Americans and we must pull together to address difficult issues such as this. Taxpayers demand accountability from elected officials across our country, and they have made it clear that they will not tolerate uncooperative or inefficient use of government resources and their tax dollars.

I would like to urge you to work hard to ensure that this important provision that deals with sanctuary city policies is included in any version of immigration bills that do progress into law through this body.

HONORING DR. MARION FLECK

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from New Mexico (Mr. UDALL) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. UDALL of New Mexico. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Dr. Marion Fleck, co-founder of the College of Nursing at the Health Sciences Center of the University of New Mexico. She was recently honored at a large gathering in Albuquerque, both for her enormous contributions to the field of nursing and also for her 90th birthday.

Marion Fleck is truly a remarkable lady, and her story is legendary. Born in Wisconsin on September 4, 1916, she earned a degree in nursing in her home State, a master's from Yale University, and a doctorate from the University of New Mexico with honors. In 1955 Dr. Fleck and Mary Jane Carter met with then UNM President Tom Popejoy, whose support led to his securing $60,000 from the New Mexico legislature that year to found the first baccalaureate program in nursing in the State. Out of that initial funding, the college grew to graduate thousands of nurses over the years in every aspect of patient care: teaching, research, and all the nursing specialties. Of particular triumph, the UNM College of Nursing will be graduating its first Ph.D. candidates in the 2007 academic year.

Dr. Fleck was Dean of the UNM College of Nursing in the mid-1970s and also served in other important positions in the community. She worked in public health and also served for 17 years as the director of school nursing for the Albuquerque public schools.

She is loved and admired for her commitment and devotion to better health care by her fellow professionals, by students, and by the untold numbers of the community that she has served so well.

Dr. Fleck's late husband was also a legend in public education. Dr. Martin Fleck was a professor and chair of biology at the University of New Mexico. Like his wife, he was a caring and involved member of his community, serving on committees that either founded or supported the symphony, public parks and many educational programs. He was also a devoted family man who, with his wife, raised his children, Martin and Ann Hara.

Dr. Marion Fleck is a visionary whose unwavering enthusiasm, vigorous efforts and diligent action blazed the course for others. She inspired both students and health professionals to be the best they could and to strive to follow her example of commitment and devotion to professional nursing and public health. Because of her courageous and determined spirit over a century ago, thousands of citizens across New Mexico and the Nation have received quality trained nurses to strive to make a better life for others. I respectfully ask my colleagues to join me today in paying the highest tribute to a New Mexico treasure and a great American, Dr. Marion Fleck.

Thank you, Dr. Fleck, for your many years of extraordinary service.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from California (Mr. SCHIFF) is recognized for 5 minutes.

(Mr. SCHIFF addressed the House. His remarks will appear hereafter in the Extensions of Remarks.)

HEALTH CARE EXPENDITURES

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker's announced policy of January 4, 2005, the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. PRICE) is recognized for 60 minutes as the designee of the majority leader.

Mr. PRICE of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank you so very much for allowing me to come to the floor. I want to thank the leadership for allowing me to come and talk about an issue that is extremely, extremely important and timely right now as we complete congressional business this week.

I would like to talk a bit about health care and health care expenditures and how the current system is set up that will, I believe, and many people believe, adversely affect how patients are treated across our Nation. And it has to do with the Medicare program, and it has to do with something called a sustainable growth rate, or SGR, which is currently the way in which it is determined on the part of the government how physicians are compensated for caring for Medicare patients.

Now, before I came to Congress, Mr. Speaker, as you know, and others, I was a physician, orthopedic surgeon; practiced over 20 years in private practice of orthopedic surgery on the north side of Atlanta. And there are probably another 10 or 12 physician Members of the United States House of Representatives, and each of us knows and appreciates and understands that the manner in which the government has decided reimbursement for physicians over the past number of years has resulted in, in many cases, in many cases across this Nation, a disincentive for physicians to be able to see patients.

And that is an important point that we need to think about, Mr. Speaker, because as that disincentive has increased over a period of time, and I, and many others would argue that it continues to increase. In fact, it is getting much, much worse. There is a decrease in the access that patients have to quality care all across this Nation, and we are seeing it in numbers that we will talk about today, time and time again, especially in many of the specialties, subspecialties.

So what has happened with the manner in which the government makes decisions regarding reimbursement, regarding how much physicians are paid for services, oftentimes what has happened is that patients can no longer find doctors, having difficulty finding doctors. So what we would like to do for the next few moments is to chat about, to discuss this issue of physician reimbursement as it relates to patient access to care and to talk about this SGR, sustainable growth rate.

I joke back home about how the SGR really is not a sustainable growth rate; it is an unsustainable reduction rate, URR, and we will have some numbers that will back that up.

Oftentimes when we think about the expenditure of health care dollars in this Nation, we think, well, every single dollar is obviously going to doctors to take care of patients. In fact, that is not what happens. And this chart is a great example of that.

This is national health care expenditures in the year 2004, the most recent for which this kind of data is available. The total in 2004 was $1.88 trillion, Mr. Speaker, $1.88 trillion of money being spent on health care. And I always, whenever I present this kind of information in a forum where individuals can ask questions, they are always surprised to find that a relatively small portion of that health care dollar goes to their doctors. In fact, on this pie chart, only 21 percent goes for what are called clinical services; that has physician/clinical services, which means what it takes to take care of patients, ordering tests and prescription drugs and the like.

In fact, the amount of money going to physicians out of a given health care dollar is in the low teens, 12, 13, 14 percent on the dollar, which means that it really is pennies out of the health care dollar that we are spending in this Nation that goes to the individuals who are providing the vast majority of the care.

Now, that is not to say that these other things aren't important; but it is important to appreciate, Mr. Speaker, that the amount of compensation, the reimbursement, the providing of the cost for the services that are being provided by physicians is a relatively small portion of the health care dollar. And that is important, because what we have seen over the past number of years is that the way in which the Federal Government is reaching their targets as to how much they spend on health care is to decrease the reimbursement for physicians, and therein lies the significant problem.

So how did we end up in this boat?

Well, in 1965, middle '60s, Medicare was passed. And at that time, the manner in which it was determined how much physicians should be paid and therefore what kind of access patients had to physician care was that each individual physician would bill Medicare for certain services, and then the amount of difference between the amount that Medicare paid and what they had billed, the physicians were then allowed to then what's called balance bill or bill the patient. And initially this program compensated the physicians, as I mentioned, on the basis of their charges, and allowed them to balance bill.

What happened over a period of time, for a variety of reasons, and I would suggest, not necessarily physician related, but in 1975 the Medicare payments were continued to be linked to physicians. But the annual increase in cost, the annual increase in fees began to be limited by what was called and is called the Medicare economic index or MEI. And because the changes were not enough to prevent the total payments from rising more than were desired at that time, from 1984 through 1991, the yearly change in fees was determined specifically by legislation.

So between 1984 and 1991, instead of allowing physicians to bill for certain procedures and certain activities that they would perform in taking care of patients, what happened is that Congress decided, between 1984 and 1991, what physicians in the Medicare program would be compensated for those procedures or that activity. And then starting in 1992, this charge-based system was replaced by what was called a physician fee schedule. And this fee schedule bases payment for individual services on measures of the relative resources provided to them.

Now, this is extremely important because in 1992 was the time when the Federal Government, and we as a Nation, decided, in essence, we will determine at the beginning of the year, January 1, how much money we will spend for health care for the entire year to come. Without regard to how many patients there were to be seen, what kind of health challenges and problems they had, we were going to set this finite pot of money as a Nation and say, this is what we will spend on health care. It doesn't make a whole lot of sense when you think about it, because those kinds of things are not necessarily predictable.

Now, at that time it was stated that that schedule, this physician fee schedule, was not intended to control spending; but it was designed to redistribute the spending among various physician specialties, so if it was determined by the Federal Government that thoracic surgeons were gaining too much of this small portion of the pie, then they would shift that money to another specialty, remembering that when those monies are shifted, what happens is that many patients oftentimes lose access to the care of a quality physician.

Now, the schedule was updated at that time, in 1992, using a combination of the Medicare economic index that I mentioned before and an adjustment factor that was designed to counteract changes in volume of services being delivered per beneficiary. That adjustment factor was known as the volume performance standard. And over a period of time, relatively short period of time, that led to significant variability in the amount of payment rates. And Congress then replaced, in 1998, all of this system with what is currently in place, which is called the sustainable growth rate.

Now, the sustainable growth rate is something that has come under significant scrutiny, because in fact it hasn't been a growth rate; it has been, as I mentioned before, a reduction rate. It hasn't answered the true question of how we are going to provide services as a Nation, how the physicians of this Nation are going to provide appropriate health care services to patients all across the Nation and what kind of compensation they should receive.

Many people, when I talk about this at home to folks and talk in health care conferences, many people really don't appreciate and understand that, in fact, the Federal Government is setting reimbursement rates for physicians all across this Nation, the kind of price-fixing that we have as a Nation said, no, it doesn't work in any other industry. But, in fact, that is the way we do it in health care.

The reason that it is important and not just related to Medicare is that the vast majority, Mr. Speaker, the vast majority of insurance companies tie their reimbursement rates of physicians to what the reimbursement rate is for Medicare. So what happens is that an individual insurance company will impose reimbursement for physicians of a certain percentage, 100 percent of Medicare, 90 percent of Medicare, 110 percent of Medicare. The result is that, de facto, the Federal Government is setting the reimbursement rates for physicians all across this country, and it hasn't worked well. It hasn't worked well.

The SGR mechanism aims to control spending on physician services provided under Part B of Medicare, which is where the physician block is, but it is also where other services are. It does so by setting, once again, an overall target amount of spending on certain types of goods and services, as well as payments that Medicare makes for certain items. As I mentioned, there are other things besides physician payment in this portion of this pie; for instance, laboratory tests and X-rays, imaging services and many of the physician-administered drugs.

Now, the Congress had two main goals in mind when it adopted the SGR mechanism: the sustainable growth rate mechanism, ensuring adequate access to physician services and controlling Federal spending on those services in a much more predictable way than that volume performance standard did. The problem is that the SGR accomplishes neither well.

We find ourselves now over the past few years in a very, very difficult situation. Since 2002, the spending measured by the SGR method has consistently been above targets established by the formula. As a result, the SGR mechanism under current law will substantially reduce payment rates for physician services over the next several years. Payment rates would decline by a total of somewhere between 25 and 40 percent, 40 percent, over that period of time.

I have got some charts that will demonstrate a few other matters as they relate to physician reimbursement and access to care and quality care.

This is a chart that compares the payments for varying aspects of our health care delivery system, and each of these bars, there are four bars, for Medicare Advantage which is part of the Medicare program, hospitals, nursing homes and then physicians on the far right portion of the chart.

It is important to keep in mind that the physician portion of this was slated for a decrease in all of these years, but these are the actual payments that have gone out, increases in payments or decreases in payments over the past 4 years. The portion of the Medicare program Medicare Advantage has seen decreases in the 5 to 7 percent range over the past 4 years.

Hospitals, appropriately, they do it, they perform a wonderful service in our health care systems. What they have seen is increases in the range of 3, 3½ percent over the last 4 years. Nursing homes, a comparable level.

It is important that when we have this discussion that we get across the point that nobody, nobody is saying that these numbers necessarily ought to decrease, because hospitals and Medicare Advantage, nursing homes, all of them are providing an absolutely vital and imperative service. The problem comes, I and many others would suggest, in the final group of numbers, which is where the physicians have been over the last 4 years, remembering that the physicians were slated for a decrease every year.

What that means is when physician reimbursement goes down, physicians who have been contemplating retirement say, well, it is just not going to cover my costs anymore; I am not going to be able to practice, too many headaches from the Federal Government. And many of them retire prematurely.

I am a third-generation physician. My grandfather saw patients until he was 94 years old. I guess there are some that would argue that he ought not to have been seeing patients at that time, but physicians routinely, over the last 30 to 100 years of the history of our Nation, routinely retired at a much later date than the general population. They oftentimes practiced into their seventies and eighties.

That whole trend, that whole trend has changed completely, so that now we see physicians retiring, if not at the rate of their peers in other businesses and other endeavors, in fact, many physicians are retiring at a much younger age because of a combination of factors: litigation problems, reimbursement problems, aspects of governmental intervention, regulation kinds of things. But what that means is that when physicians retire is that patients have a decreasing likelihood of having access to care, and that is where the concern lies.

When you see this chart here and the past 4 years as it relates to physician reimbursement, what has happened is that physician increase in 2004 and 2005 was in about the 1.5 percent range last year. It was absolutely flat.

So the proposal for this next year, a 5.1 percent decrease that will take effect, Mr. Speaker, in less than 30 days, in less than 30 days unless this Congress acts, unless this Congress acts, and there are incredible surveys and statistics and information we have on what the consequences, what will be the consequences to American health care if that 5.1 percent decrease takes effect.

As I mentioned a little bit ago, that decrease is slated to be year after year after year for the next 6 to 8 years. So it is not that a 5.1 percent decrease in fiscal year 2007 would result in a significant increase in 2008 or 2009 or 2010 so that folks could plan their future in terms of their practice and caring for their patients; that would be followed by a 5 percent decrease in 2008, a 5 percent decrease in 2009, a 5 percent decrease in 2010 and so on and so on.

The challenges are huge, because what will happen if we allow this to occur is that patients, many patients across this Nation will have continuing and increasing difficulty in finding a physician to care for them. The information on the amount of the number of physicians who would see these decreases, because it isn't absolutely even 5 percent across the board for every single physician, is that the vast majority of physicians would see more than a 5 percent, a 1 to 5 percent cut.

In fact, some physicians would seek decreases in their reimbursement of 16 to 20 percent, 13 percent of those would see decreases up to 15 percent. So you see where the nationwide effect would be. Sometimes you will hear folks from the Center from Medicare and Medicaid Services saying, yes, but some folks would be getting increases. I think that is arguable.

However, even if that were true, it is only in the 6 percent range, and it is not among the primary care folks, the internists, family medicine specialists, family practitioners, those individuals all would be seeing a decrease.

Remember, Mr. Speaker, the consequence of a decrease in physician reimbursement rate in Medicare means that there is a ripple effect throughout the entire system, so that insurance companies reimburse physicians at a decreased rate, and consequently what happens is that patients, patients lose their ability to see physicians all across this Nation.

Now, any of that might be okay if, if there were decreases in the costs of providing the services. But you and I both know, Mr. Speaker, that when you go to your doctor, there are more tests that are oftentimes taken now, because the technology is available. I know when I go it oftentimes seems to me that there are more people in the office itself, and most often they are individuals who are not necessarily involved in the actual care, they are individuals who are involved in the administrative side of a medical practice; so they are filling out the paperwork for the insurance company or filling out the paperwork for the government. So the costs continue to increase.

This chart here is titled "The Gap Between Cost Increases and Payment Updates," and this goes from 2001 through 2007, so the past 6 or 7 years. If you take zero percent at 2001 as the baseline, what has happened to physician practice costs over that period of time is that the annual increase has bumped up each and every year. Each and every year the costs of providing the service to patients in any practice has increased, and that is just like anything else in our economy, by and large.

Now what has happened to physician payments or physician reimbursement over that period of time, and you see, Mr. Speaker, where the challenge is, because this line is not even flat, it is a continual, continual decrease over a period of time.

Again, the problem, the consequence of this, is that patients are not able to see the physicians that they desire oftentimes or they are not able to find a physician to take care of them. It has been estimated that fully a quarter of patients out there who are trying to find a primary care physician who will accept Medicare cannot do it. They cannot do it right now.

When you talk with physician groups about what are the consequences, again this kind of decrease in 2007, what is going to happen? Nearly half of the physicians who say if that decrease goes into effect, then what will happen is that they, their practice, will no longer be able to take new Medicare patients.

Mr. Speaker, you and I both know that as members of the baby-boom generation that we are demographically an aging population in this Nation, and there are more and more individuals who are reaching Medicare age. Now, if there are more and more individuals reaching Medicare age, and fewer and fewer physicians or physician practices who are able to take new Medicare patients into their practice, then, as you see, Mr. Speaker, it means that access to care is limited and consequently quality health care in this Nation will suffer. That is the magnitude of the challenge that we are talking about.

As I mentioned before, there are a dozen or so physicians in the United States Congress, and I am pleased to have, hopefully, many of them join us today, this evening, to talk about this issue. I am so pleased to have my good colleague and friend from Georgia, Congressman PHIL GINGREY, who is a fellow physician and obstetrician/gynecologist. Both he and I served in the Georgia State senate together, and we are both privileged to serve here in the United States House of Representatives.

I thank you so much for coming today and sharing some words about what is truly, truly a matter that we must address as a Congress this week.

Mr. GINGREY. Mr. Speaker, and Dr. PRICE, thank you for giving me the opportunity to weigh in on this. I appreciate Representative, Doctor PRICE, leading this hour. It is such an important issue and time, of course, is of the essence. The physicians, the chart that Dr. PRICE is showing, is a clear indication that, as he points out, Mr. Speaker, the cost of doing business, in this instance, the business of providing medical care to our seniors especially, continues to go up, as does the cost of doing business in any other profession.

Yet the reimbursement is not even staying level. Our physicians, our providers, are not just running in place, they are losing ground each and every year, and that therefore the need is to try to fix this ultimately on a permanent basis by eliminating this flawed formula, this so-called SGR way of reimbursing our providers.

But at this point we have to do something about the scheduled 5.1 percent decrease update, a loss of reimbursement for the fiscal year, or calendar year 2007. And we have a very short period of time to do this. Dr. PRICE and Dr. BOUSTANY and Dr. BURGESS and the other physicians, medical and dental, doctors in this House of Representatives, hopefully on both sides of the aisle, understand the urgency of this.

It is not about necessarily boosting the income of any of our providers, although those who practice the specialty of primary care, our pediatricians, our family practitioners, our general internists, their income is certainly not extravagant by any stretch of the imagination.

But it is really about, and I am sure that Dr. Price has already mentioned this, the availability of providers for our seniors. That pressure is getting greater each and every day. Thank God, they are living longer and healthier lives, and I think the Medicare part D provision that we passed in November of 2003 is really adding to that well-being, that our seniors are going to get the benefit of a prescription drug coverage that they never had.

But if we don't have any of these primary care physicians willing to accept these patients because we are not paying them enough to even reimburse their practice overhead, much less a small profit margin, as has been pointed out by my colleagues, then the situation gets worse and worse.

So thank you to my colleague and friend, Dr. Price. As a physician, Members are here today to try to emphasize the importance to each and every Member, to our leadership. Let's get this done. Let's make sure that we not only mitigate a 5.1 percent loss that is calculated on the basis of this flawed formula, but let's have a positive, a slight increase of maybe 1 percent for all of our providers. Then if voluntary reporting is a part of this bill, then, fine, increase it a little bit more. That is an issue that Dr. Price may want to discuss in more detail as we go forward in the hour.

But I want to thank him again for taking the leadership on this issue and giving me an opportunity to weigh in.

Mr. PRICE of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I thank my colleague for coming and joining us today and pointing out the importance of this, but also pointing out very clearly the urgency of this matter.

As I mentioned before, if this Congress doesn't act, then what happens on January 1, less than 30 days away, is that patients will have less access to high quality health care than they do today; patients all across this Nation, not just Medicare patients, patients all across this Nation, from birth to their last days.

It is extremely important that we as a Congress address this. Again, it is not just Medicare. It ripples into all sorts of other insurance company reimbursement to physicians all across this Nation. I think that is important to appreciate, because with the election results on November 7 of this year, what has happened is that the party in power will shift after the first of the year, and there are some on the other side of the aisle, some of my friends on the other side of the aisle believe we ought to move toward a Medicare system for all, for all people across this Nation. I personally believe that would be an absolute disaster in terms of the level of quality care available to patients all across this Nation. I believe that for a variety of reasons, not the least of which is this kind of issue.

What we see is a Congress that has been for years, not just 2, 3, 4, 5 years, for years, decades, has struggled with how to fashion reimbursement for health care across this Nation. I believe that as we continue to move in the direction of greater control at the level of the Federal Government, that what happens is that we actually decrease the access of patients to care and decrease the quality of care that is provided.

So I thank my colleague from Georgia so very, very much for doing this and for pointing out the urgency of this, the importance of acting while we are here this week.

There are a number of proposals that are available in order to allow us to solve this problem, and I urge my colleagues on both sides of the aisle to embrace one of these and try to make certain that we do so before we head home.

I am so pleased to be joined by a new Member of the United States Congress, another physician Member, Dr. SHELLEY SEKULA GIBBS from Texas, a practicing dermatologist before she came to Congress, who has great experience in the community back in Texas and served on the local city council and has struggled as well, I know, with the kind of ability to deliver high quality health care to her patients.

We appreciate you coming today and look forward to your insights and perspective as it relates to patient access to care and the sustainable growth rates.

Ms. SEKULA GIBBS. Thank you very much, Dr. Price. I appreciate you bringing the subject up for the people at home so that they can understand where their Medicare premiums are going and how the Medicare dollars are being spent.

I want to also thank Congressman Dr. GINGREY, Dr. BOUSTANY, Dr. BURGESS and a number of the other physician Congress Members who have worked very diligently to bring this issue to the floor and ask the American people for their support and understanding of how to make health care more accessible to our seniors.

I think that having family members, like many of us, who are under the Medicare program, it is easy to see how Medicare has become more and more complex over the years and how each time there is one of these actions that you detailed chronologically, 1965 when it was implemented it was much simpler and easier. There were also fewer seniors at that time to cover. Then as time passed, the government looked for ways to reduce expenditures, reduce spending, but at the same time we saw other pressures coming to bear on the senior population.

We saw the fact that more and more people are living longer. They are having vigorous, active lives; and they want to have access to activities that will allow them to enhance those lives. They are working longer. They are active in sports.

In order to achieve that and to make sure that they can participate fully, and that is what I want when I hit those years as well, it requires a lot of work on the part of the physicians and the health care industry. That means that they have to have access to physicians; they have to have access to primary care doctors. And I was one of those before I was a specialist. I went through that residency. I know how hard that is, to take care of the whole person and to work and interrelate with a specialist. It is very difficult, and it requires the right kind of individual to do that.

We need to support it. And the primary care doctors are the ones who get hit sometimes the hardest. In your graph that you showed on which doctors are going to receive a little tiny bit more with that 5 percent cut, and the vast majority, 95 percent are going to get cut, quite frequently it is the primary care doctors who get stuck in that. And we want to encourage people to go into primary care and take that loving hand who will help our seniors.

But those patients are more complicated. They require more medical care when they do get sick, and they require more specialists to bring them out of those medical crises and restore them back to their health so they can get back to the business of living full quality lives.

I have been a physician for over 20 years, and I have watched as the Medicare situation has gone really from a situation of more and more complicated and the reimbursements now are going down, down, down. I have watched it, how it affects my father and my mother.

My father, who recently passed away, was lucky enough to receive veterans benefits. That really moved him out of the Medicare arena and allowed him to have access to the benefits he deserved through the VA.

My mother, on the other hand, has witnessed something that I hope others never have to see, but she actually has had a physician, a primary care doctor in a small town in south Texas, go bankrupt, go out of business.

That is shocking, to think that someone who has spent all the years that this doctor did in training and becoming a quality physician could then lose their practice. It is predominantly because in a small town in south Texas many of the younger people who have private insurance, some of them move away. And who are left? A lot of the seniors.

Now, it is not to say that is all that is left, but whenever that balance of having a larger and larger Medicare practice goes out of kilt, sometimes the physician can't even keep their doors open because there are so many patients who are there, complicated, elderly patients who need that care, and they can't get the reimbursement to keep those doors open, to pay their staff, to keep the lights on and to pay the rising medical malpractice insurance that goes along with it these days.

So the notion, knowing that that already happened to my mother and she lost that doctor who she really trusted and he went out of business, knowing that that happened before this cut goes into place, I shudder to think what will happen across small towns all over the Nation if they are visited with a 5 percent cut, not only in 2007, but then a large cut in 2008 and another cut in 2009. What will that do to the primary care doctors who are trying to give that care across the small towns of our country? We can't let that happen.

So I really support you today, Dr. Price, in asking the colleagues here on the floor, give the physicians an opportunity to continue to deliver care to the seniors. Don't make it so hard that they have to limit the flow of the seniors who are coming in their doors.

That will happen first. They won't out and out quit, but they will start to limit the numbers that they take. And that is also very disabling to a senior, when they call and say, do you take Medicare, don't make it so that they hear on the other end, I am sorry, we can't see you. That is not right, and we need to open the doors so that more seniors can have access to health care.

I join you in asking for that, and I hope that our colleagues will find a way to fix this situation and allow the seniors across the country to continue to receive the very best health care that is available in the world.

Mr. PRICE of Georgia. Thank you so very much for your comments and your participation and for your commitment to service, to standing up and rising and being a Member of the House of Representatives. We commend you and thank you for what you have done and appreciate your perspective and your expertise.

You said it better than anybody could about this isn't about necessarily reimbursement or money for physicians, this is about access to care. Because when that physician closed his or her doors in small-town Texas, which is not unlike small-town America anywhere, then those patients, those citizens, those American citizens, lose their access to care.

So this is an urgent issue. It is absolutely imperative that we in this Congress address it. Once again I call on colleagues on both sides of the aisle to make certain that we do so this week.

I am pleased as well to be joined by some other physician colleagues. Dr. Boustany, Congressman BOUSTANY, is a fellow freshman Member from Louisiana, a cardio-thoracic surgeon, has great expertise in this area and an understanding and appreciation for the finances of what it takes to deliver health care, but more importantly for the finances and what it takes to provide that kind of access to quality health care that patients all across our Nation deserve and expect. So I welcome you, Congressman BOUSTANY, and look forward to your comments.

Mr. BOUSTANY. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to be here today. I want to thank my colleague and friend from Georgia for organizing this hour and for yielding me time.

A December 1 Congressional Quarterly article mentioned that a colleague from California across the aisle shed crocodile tears, "crocodile tears for providers who faced a cumulative cut of almost 30 percent under the Medicare physician payment formula." This colleague quipped that he had difficulty sympathizing with providers who might be giving up their golf games.

Instead of revoking negative stereotypes to justify cuts under an artificial price control formula, Congress ought to consider the real injustice the formula imposes on patients, such as an 85-year-old caregiver who has to wait longer and drive further so her ailing husband can visit a physician.

While Medicare does not force providers to treat Medicare patients, especially when the cost of providing care exceeds declining payments, for seniors who turn 65, it is Medicare or no care. It is virtually impossible for someone at age 65 to find insurance coverage for physician services outside of Medicare part B.

Medicare needs to honor its commitment, and seniors need more than access to a waiting list. MedPAC, the independent Federal body created to advise Congress on Medicare reimbursement issues, calls the Medicare physician payment formula "a flawed inequitable mechanism for volume control." It says it could "threaten beneficiaries' access to care."

In fact, the agency already warns that subsets of beneficiaries report access problems. In 2005, more than one in five Medicare beneficiaries reported that they sometimes, usually or always experienced delays in getting an appointment. The same proportion indicated that they had difficulty finding a new primary care physician to treat them. MedPAC also writes that among the subset of people who reported any problems, Medicare beneficiaries were somewhat more likely in our 2005 sample to characterize the problem as big versus small than their privately insured counterparts.

Also, the share of Medicare beneficiaries indicating that they experienced big problems accessing a primary care physician grew in both 2004 and 2005 samples. One in four seniors who faced access problems said that their problem finding a doctor was because they were covered by Medicare, and this is simply unacceptable.

Equally troubling is a recent survey reporting that 38 percent of responding physicians indicate that they would decrease the number of new Medicare patients they accept when the next physician payment cut occurs and Medicare payments continue falling below the cost of providing care.

Congress might avoid a cut this year, and it is imperative that we do that, while leaving the artificial price control intact, as it did for 2003, 2004 and 2005. Yet officials with the Congressional Budget Office have repeatedly explained that the formula requires these automatic cuts to be made up in future years. This kick-the-can approach might seem like the least expensive on paper, but it is clearly unsustainable. The formula must be changed. Otherwise, the annual cuts will become more difficult to avoid, and the problem of access will only grow worse.

Congress needs to look past government accounting gimmicks and realize that adequate payments will help to ensure timely care and be more cost-effective for the overall program than addressing serious health problems with more intrusive and costly medical procedures later.

Also, all Americans have a personal stake in this issue, and once informed of the cuts, people understand that cuts mean more than just a canceled golf game. Almost 9 out of 10 respondents agree that cuts would severely limit seniors' access to physicians.

Seniors want the freedom to access their physicians, but cuts will exacerbate projected provider shortages as the baby-boom generation, one-third of our workforce, becomes Medicare eligible. MEDPAC aptly warns that the formula's cuts could "discourage medical students and residents from becoming primary care physicians."

Today, fewer radiologists specialize in mammography and fewer surgeons complete breast cancer fellowships. In addition, fewer students are entering the specialty of heart and lung surgery, while half of the heart and lung surgeons in the United States intend to retire within the next decade, and more than 70 percent plan to retire within 13 years.

Mr. Speaker, it is disappointing that some lawmakers want to expand price-fixing in Medicare under the false label of negotiation. Economists widely agree that artificial price controls lead to scarcity, which is why Americans do not rely on them in other sectors of our economy and why we must develop market-based alternatives in Medicare.

Congress, Mr. Speaker, has a duty to avoid the cuts and to replace the artificial price control formula with a realistic physician payment system that protects patient access.

Mr. PRICE of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I thank Congressman BOUSTANY so much and appreciate your perspective and the stories that you told and the statistics you brought to us because it really puts a face on it. When we have the kind of divisive conversations that oftentimes occur on the floor of the House, it is not helpful, does not help patients all across this Nation. So I appreciate you bringing that perspective.

You mentioned again many of the ripples that occur when these kinds of decisions are made here. What happens in terms of access to care is maybe the most important thing, but what also happens is it ripples down the line of what bright young men and women across this country choose as a profession. Are they choosing to go into medicine; are they choosing to go into some of the more difficult subspecialties that many of us will require the care from over our lifetime? And what is indeed happening is that they are not choosing those things. They are not choosing to go into medicine in the numbers that they have in the past. So the ripple effect is huge.

All of it boils down to a decreasing access to care that patients have across this Nation and a decreasing access to quality care across this Nation.

I am so humbled by the participation of many of our physician colleagues in this hour on the floor of the House today. And Congressman BURGESS from Texas has joined us, an individual who has great expertise in the health care arena, a preeminent member of the Energy and Commerce Committee, and has a wonderful perspective and has talked about this issue since his arrival in Congress and has put on the table specific solutions.

So I welcome him today and thank you for your comments.

Mr. BURGESS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for his kind comments. Of course, the gentleman from Georgia has already done a great task with the posters this afternoon, but let me just reuse one that was seen a little bit earlier today.

This one tells such a great story, but unfortunately, it only tells a portion of the story. The year I took office was 2003. That means my last active year in practice was the year 2002, and missing from this graph, the year 2002, is a similar downward bar when doctors received the 5.1 percent what we euphemistically called a negative update. So the actual physicians' compensation for the 5- or 6-year moving budgetary window that we are all so fond of talking about has in fact been much less than is actually shown on this graph. And that is an important point to be made because, as we can see, all of the other aspects that deal with health care reimbursement once a year receive a cost of living, a market-basket update, but physicians' offices are expected to bear the brunt of cost reductions on a year-by-year basis.

As you so eloquently pointed out a few moments ago, that is unsustainable for any small business. If you are losing something on every transaction, you do not make it up in volume and stay in practice for very long.

One of the things that I think is so important that we discuss, we spend some time discussing this afternoon, as hopefully we get to a resolution of this problem in the conference committee that is now going on, is to talk a little bit about the pay-for-performance aspect of it. So much of the physicians' reimbursement is tied up in the talk of the pay-for-performance concept.

I would just like to submit that if we drive the best doctors out of providing Medicare services, if we really let the train run off the tracks on this, we will not be able to pay enough for performance in the future if we do not recruit our best and brightest to be the physicians of tomorrow, as Dr. PRICE has so eloquently stated, or if we drive out doctors who are in their mid-forties to their mid-sixties, doctors who are at the peak of their diagnostic abilities, the peak of their skills in the operating room. If these individuals stop seeing Medicare patients, we then make the whole system more expensive to administer if we have only the second and third tier of providers involved in that care.

Well, one of the things that we hear talked about is a pay-for-performance indicator, one that has the initials PVRP that stands for Physician Voluntary Reporting Program. Now, this is a program that is going to be articulated by CMS some point later in this year, and the reason I am concerned about it is we are being asked to accept the PVRP performance indicators as the standard against which we are going to judge physician practices for years to come, and we have not yet seen them in their totality. These are rules that will be put out by CMS some time later this year, perhaps April, perhaps May or perhaps June.

My understanding of the PVRP program is that it is largely a structural program and not necessarily outcomes-based. That is, does every diabetic receive a hemoglobin A1C test every so many months, rather than do we look at the world of diabetic patients within this physician's care and make certain that the emergency room visits and the out-of-control hospitalizations are, in fact, in line with what would be expected.

Earlier this year, I introduced bill, H.R. 5866, to repeal the SGR formula in its totality, in order to acknowledge that there is a growing sentiment out there that some type of performance measure has to be built in. I did ask that the individual quality organizations that are already in place be allowed to provide voluntary guidelines for physicians to follow. These quality measures taken as a whole provide a balanced overview of the performance of an individual doctor or clinic or billing unit, if you will.

The whole idea was that they would be consistent; they would be relevant. They would be not overly burdensome time to collect and they would account for patient satisfaction. The goal of the system was fair assessment to reduce health care costs, improve health care outcomes, but very importantly, not contribute to the problem that we already have in this country of health care disparities in some communities.

Therefore, in order to account for the differences in patient population, health status and compliance, these formulas would need to be very tightly drawn.

In addition, there would be a measure reported back to the physician himself or herself as to how they did in comparison with their peer groups. These report cards, if you will, would not necessarily be made generally available to the public, but whether or not a physician or a clinic complied with the data that was required, would be made public.

I think it is important to give providers, to give clinics, to give doctors some measure of flexibility in this regard, and whether it be the participation in a medical home, whether it be the participation in the PVRP program, whether it be the participation in the national quality forum programs, that any of these should be seen as complying with the intent of the legislation to provide quality measures. They should be voluntary, and any increase in reimbursement should not necessarily be tied to the baseline of quality reporting, but an additional increase in reimbursement would be provided to those physicians and clinics and offices that did indeed provide some type of reporting data.

Again, I want to thank the gentleman from Georgia for bringing this very timely issue to the floor of the Congress. I do know there is a lot of work going on on this very issue right now, and my goal in this is to be helpful in the overall process and make certain that in the future we do not saddle physicians' offices and physicians' practices with additional reporting requirements that are not voluntary, that are mandatory, that are punitive in their nature and end up decreasing the overall quality and character of medicine that we have grown to enjoy in this country.

I thank the gentleman from Georgia. Mr. PRICE of Georgia. Thank you so much for your perspective and for your wisdom in this area. It is extremely helpful and positive and productive for the debate that we are having or the discussion that we are having.

I think you point out a very important aspect, and that is, this voluntary reporting requirement that might come soon for physicians is an increase in the regulation. And as you so appropriately point out, it ought not be punitive in nature, because if it is, what we will see in addition to the challenges that we have with levels of reimbursement, decreasing access that patients have to care, we will see further decrease in physicians in the community, and that will significantly harm the ability of patients to see physicians and get the care that they so appropriately deserve and require.

Sometimes you will hear folks say in this debate or this discussion, well, there really is not an access problem. And in having some discussions with the folks at the Center for Medicare Medicaid Services, the high-level individuals in the department who are charged with making certain that physicians are there to take care of patients from a Federal Government perspective, I had a specific conversation with one of them.

I said it is imperative that you not continue to decrease the reimbursement to physicians because they will no longer be able to cover the costs of providing that care and they will decrease the number of Medicare patients, if not end seeing Medicare patients all together.

The response from that individual was chilling, Mr. Speaker. What that person said was, well, we have not seen it yet, and until we do, we have not cut them enough.

Mr. Speaker, that is not the kind of collegial activity that we know to be productive in health care. It also takes incredible advantage of the Hippocratic oath that all physicians take in this Nation.

I have come to a conclusion that has been very difficult over the past decade, and it is more so true now, I believe, than ever before, and that is, that our health care system is held together today by many things but not the least of which is the altruism of the physicians involved in caring for patients who understand and appreciate the importance of that care and also respect and recognize that the oath that they took to care for patients, oftentimes regardless of the reimbursement, is the most important thing, but that takes advantage of the goodwill of so many men and women who are highly trained and educated across this Nation and who each of us rely on for high-quality health care.

Because all of us are patients at some point, every single one of us. So it is imperative that we do the right thing here as a Congress and make certain that we address this issue.

Sometimes you will hear folks say there is not an access problem, like the fellow at CMS who made that statement. Let me point out, Mr. Speaker, a couple items.

A recent survey, a recent study by the Medicare Payment Advisory Commission charged with looking into these things found that even before these cuts that we are talking about today might go into effect, 25 percent, fully one-quarter of Medicare patients looking for a new primary care physician are having difficulty finding one.

One out of every four new Medicare patients is having difficulty finding a primary care physician, and that is all the more important as we mentioned before, Mr. Speaker, that our population is aging. The demographics are making it such that we are seeing a graying of our population. So more and more Medicare patients will be coming online.

The congressionally created Council on Graduate Medical Education, which is the body charged with making certain that we have high quality physicians trained in this Nation, have reported existing or looming physician shortages. In fact, they are predicting that as again the baby boomers enter Medicare and more seniors are requiring health care, that the country will experience a shortage of 100,000 physicians over the next 15 years. 100,000 physicians over the next 15 years. And that is an important time frame to talk about because that is about the time that it takes to train a physician. From undergraduate school to medical school and through residency, it is somewhere between 10, 12, 15 years, sometimes even longer.

Mr. Speaker, it is appropriate that we are discussing this. It is urgent, it is urgent that we correct this remarkable, remarkable challenge that we have to make certain that all patients across this Nation have the opportunity to see and be seen and cared for by a caring, high quality physician.

In closing, Mr. Speaker, let me just say that you have heard much discussion about the problem, you have heard some discussion about the solution. I would point out that I think there is a short-term solution and a long-term solution. A short-term solution is to make certain that the cuts that have been envisioned and are on the books right now and will take place on January 1 if the Congress does not act, to make certain that those decreasing reimbursements don't occur. It is imperative that we make certain that those don't occur so that we maintain the opportunity for patients all across this Nation to see their physicians.

In the long term, it requires either a fix of the formula or truly changing the system that we have in place that provides for reimbursement of physicians so that we can ensure into generations to come that we have a system in place that respects individuals who are caring for patients and, more importantly, respects patients' opportunity to receive access to the highest quality health care that is available.

And the system that we currently have will not provide for that. It will not deliver that kind of health care system not only today but into the future. And so I challenge and ask my colleagues on both sides of the aisle, we have so much opportunity to do good in this institution, this is one of those instances that ought not be a Republican challenge or a Democrat challenge. It is an American challenge, and we need to come together to make certain that we address this in a way that allows patients all across this Nation to continue to have access or to regain access to the highest quality health care that is available.

I thank once again the leadership for allowing me to organize this hour. I thank my colleagues who participated and brought so much wisdom and light to this issue. I appreciate the leadership for allowing me this time, and I thank you, Mr. Speaker.

VACATING 5-MINUTE SPECIAL ORDER

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the 5-minute Special Order speech of the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. KIRK) is vacated.

There was no objection.

IRAN

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker's announced policy of January 4, 2005, the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. KIRK) is recognized for 60 minutes.

Mr. KIRK. Mr. Speaker, our American body politic is turning to a renewed examination of Iran, its government, and our relations with that country. It has become an important member of the OPEC oil-producing cartel. Iran is also a state sponsor of terrorism and a leading voice for one part of Shia Islam.

Recently, Iran elected a new president, a leader who replaced a moderate but ineffectual office holder who had presented Iran in a softer light, hiding a continuing policy of supporting terrorism and a nuclear program largely hidden from the view of the Nuclear Non-proliferation Treaty that Iran signed and the U.N. inspectors who enforced it.

Iran's new president, Mahmoud Ahmadinejad, has presented an entirely new face for the government of Iran. We have heard various quotes by the Iranian president in news media sources, but nowhere have all of President Ahmadinejad's statements on key topics been presented in one place for a review by the American public and our allies. Recently, I asked the Congress-sional Research Service to compile a list entitled "Ahmadinejad In His Own Words" and I present it to the House today. History can be a very good guide in informing us on the direction of countries, of movements of dictators. When we are well informed, we may see the warning signs of dangers ahead so that the American people, our government, and our allies can respond with the most effective and least costly policies to avoid a coming danger. Our past teaches us that we failed to see the coming danger from Germany and Japan, and that mistake led us into a very costly Second World War. Conversely, President Truman saw the threat of the Soviet Union, and his response, including the Marshall Plan, the Voice of America, and NATO, helped the United States avoid a third and costly world war.

Our lessons teach us that tyrants or would-be tyrants often tell us what they are going to do long before they do it. And if we listen, if we truly listen, then the warnings that we are given can move us to action to avert a humanitarian crisis or even a future war involving the United States or our allies. President Ahmadinejad has been prolific on the subject of Israel, of Jews, and of the Holocaust.

And who is this new president of Iran? Mahmoud Ahmadinejad was born in Garmsar, southeast of Tehran in 1956. He is the fourth son of an Iranian iron worker who had seven children. He and his family migrated to Tehran when he was one year old. He got his diploma and was admitted to the University of Science and Technology in the field of civil engineering, where he ranked 130th among nationwide university entrance exams in 1975. He was accepted as an MS student at that same university and in 1986 got his doctorate in the field of engineering and traffic transportation and planning.

Following the 1979 Iranian revolution, he became a member of the ultra-conservative faction of the Office for Strengthening Unity. Between universities and theological seminaries, the OSU was established by Ayatollah Mohammad Beheshti, one of Khomeini's key collaborators, to organize Islamist students against the rapidly growing Mojahedin-e Khalq. When the idea of storming the American embassy in Tehran was raised by Ahmadinejad's OSU, he also suggested storming the Soviet embassy as well.

With the start of Iraq's war against Iran in 1980, Ahmadinejad rushed to the western fronts to fight against the enemy, and he volunteered to join the special forces of the Islamic Revolution's Guard Force in 1986. He served in the Revolution Guards Corps in intelligence and security operation.

Ahmadinejad was a senior officer in the Special Brigade of Revolutionary Guards stationed at the Ramazan Garrison near Kermanshah in western Iran. It was there at his headquarters of the Revolutionary Guards' extraterritorial operations that he helped mount attacks on Iran's borders. His work in the Revolutionary Guards was related to the suppression of dissidents in Iran and abroad, and he personally participated in covert operations in Iraq around the city of Kirkuk.

With the formation of the elite Qods, Jerusalem, Force of the Iranian Revolutionary Guards, Ahmadinejad became one of its senior commanders. He directed assassinations in the Middle East and Europe, including the assassination of Iranian Kurdish leader Abdorrahman Qassemlou, who was shot dead by senior officers of the Revolutionary Guards at a Vienna apartment in July of 1989. Ahmadinejad was a key planner of that murder. He also is reported to have been involved in planning an attempt to assassinate author Salman Rushdie.

Ahmadinejad served as a governor of Maku and Khoy cities in the northwestern West Azarbaijan province for 4 years in the 1980s, and he was an adviser to the governor general of the western province of Kurdistan for 2 years. While serving as a cultural adviser to then Ministry of Culture and Higher Education in 1983, he was appointed as governor general of the newly established province of Ardebil. He was elected as the exemplary governor general for three consecutive years, but in 1997 the newly installed Khatami moderate administration removed Ahmadinejad from his post as a governor general.

Ahmadinejad returned to university to teach in 1997, and there he also became involved in the cultural and political work of Ansar-i Hizbullah, the Followers of the Party of God, a violent Islamic vigilante group.

In April of 2003, Ahmadinejad was appointed the mayor of Tehran by the capital's municipal council, dominated by hard-line Islamic Iran Developers Coalition. As mayor, he reversed many of the policies of previous moderate and reformist mayors, placing serious and religious emphasis on the activities of cultural centers, turning them into prayer halls. He also closed fast-food restaurants and required all male employees to have beards and wear long sleeves. He instituted the separation of elevators for men and women in municipal offices and also suggested the burial of bodies of the martyrs of the Iran-Iraq war in the major city squares of his capital, Tehran.

Ahmadinejad was also a member of the hard-line Islamic Revolution Devotees' Society. While they endorsed another candidate in the 2005 election, it was Ahmadinejad that emerged out of that flawed process, for it was during the elections in 2005 in Iran that thousands of moderate candidates were knocked off the ballot by Iran's ruling council of clerics. As one of the candidates still allowed to be on the ballot, Mahmoud Ahmadinejad won the presidency on June 24, 2005.

Now, since being elected the president of Iran, Ahmadinejad has left no doubt about his views on Jews, Israel, and the Holocaust. On October 25, 2005, in advance of Iran's Jerusalem Day, established by Ayatollah Khomeini, he wrote at a conference for the Society Defense of the Palestinian Nation and Islamic Students Union. In his speech, he described his vision for an age-old confrontation between the world of Islam and, as he put it, the world of arrogance, that is the West, portraying Israel and Zionism as the spearhead of the West against the Islamic nation.

He emphasized in that speech the need to eliminate Israel, which he said was an attainable goal. He delivered this speech before several representatives of Hezbollah and its leader, Hassan Nasrallah, and Hamas leader Khaled Mash'al.

Speaking to a student conference entitled, "A World Without Zionism," Mahmoud Ahmadinejad stated: "Very soon this stain that is Israel will vanish from the center of the Islamic world, and that is attainable. The people who sit in closed rooms cannot decide this matter. The Islamic people cannot allow this historic enemy to exist in the heart of the Islamic world. I hope that Palestinians will maintain their wariness and intelligence, much as they have pursued their battles in the last 10 years. This will be a brief period, and if we pass through it successfully, the process of eliminating the Zionist regime will be smooth and simple.

"Our dear Imam Khomeini ordered that the occupying regime in Jerusalem be wiped off the face of the earth. This was a very wise statement."

On April 15, 2006, at the opening of a conference on supporting Palestinians he said, "Like it or not, the Zionist regime is headed towards annihilation."

On April 27, 2006, he stated in a speech in the western Iranian town of Zanjan, carried on live state television, "The regime in Israel will one day vanish."

On May 11, 2006, in a reference to Israel, in a speech to students and instructors at the University of Jakarta, "I advise all of you to pack up and move out of the region before being caught in the fire they have started in Lebanon."

On July 8, 2006, speaking to regional officials at the opening of a two-day conference in Tehran on the security of Iraq he said, "The basic problem in the Islamic world is the existence of the Zionist regime, and the Islamic world and the region must mobilize to remove this problem."

On July 29, 2006, during an emergency meeting with Muslim leaders he said, "The real cure for the Lebanon conflict is the elimination of the Zionist regime, but there should be first an immediate cease-fire."

On August 3, 2006, in a speech before the Organization of the Islamic Conference, to Presidents and Prime Ministers and policymakers of 17 Muslim-majority nations in Malaysia, a major international conference, he said, "The Zionist regime is fraudulent and illegitimate and cannot survive."

On October 19, 2006, speaking to crowds of people in Islamshahr, southwest of Tehran, he said, "The regime in Israel will be gone, definitely. You," the western powers, "should know that any government that stands by the Zionist regime from now on will not see any result but the hatred of people."

Earlier this year Congressman STEVE ISRAEL and I had lunch with Iran's Ambassador to the United Nations in New York. After a businesslike 20-minute discussion, the Ambassador for the Islamic Republic of Iran entered into a 30-minute monologue on how he believed the Holocaust in Europe had not happened.

After about half an hour I interrupted the Ambassador and told him I was surprised that he used our time to discuss the Iranian nuclear non-proliferation commitment, under a treaty that Iran had signed, to instead discuss issues: number one, of which there was no significant debate about the Holocaust occurring; number two, on events happening over half a century ago; and number three, all occurring outside Iran.

Iran's Ambassador said that his President had ordered him to deny the Holocaust. It was no accident. And on several occasions, we have seen President Ahmadinejad has tried to convince his people that indeed there was no Holocaust.

On December 1, 2005, in a speech to thousands in the southeastern city of Zahedan in southeastern Sistan va Baluchistan Province, and this was carried on Iranian television, he said, "Today, the Europeans have created a myth in the name of Holocaust and consider it to be above God, religion and the prophets. If you committed this big crime, then why should the oppressed Palestinian people pay the price? This is our proposal: If you committed the crime, then give part of your own land in Europe, the United States, Canada or Alaska to them so the Jews can establish their country."

On April 24, 2006, at a press conference in Tehran, he said, "Every German-born is indebted to the arrogant and greedy Zionists. Sixty years after the war, why do the Palestinians have to burn in the crimes of Zionists under the pretext of the Second World War."

And on December 8, 2005, speaking at a press conference on the sidelines of an Organization of the Islamic Conference antiterrorism summit in Mecca, Saudi Arabia, he said, "Today, they have created a myth in the name of the Holocaust and consider it to be above God, religion and the prophets. If you," Europeans "committed this big crime, then why should the oppressed Palestinian nation pay the price? You should pay the compensation yourself. This is our proposal: Give a part of your own land in Europe, the United States, Canada or Alaska to them so that the Jews can establish their country."

This is President Ahmadinejad in his own words that I place before the House, all accurately translated and provided in one place by the Congressional Research Service to present clearly a rising danger to our allies in Israel and to the West in general.

Tomorrow we will see the results of the bipartisan Iraq Study Group report. This report is the work of serious men and women. It will lay out well thought out proposals for the United States in the Middle East.

One proposal that it may contain is to increase our dialogue with Iran. Now we should always talk with every country and every leader, but we should have this dialogue with Iran in an informed way so our discussion is clearly led by knowing with whom we are speaking. We should not begin our dialogue with Iran from a position of ignorance as to what the president of Iran has already said to large crowds in published works and on their national television.

What I have laid before the House this afternoon is Ahmadinejad in his own words, so that as we begin a new phase of U.S. relations in the Middle East, we begin by learning more and knowing about this man and what he believes and what he thinks he must do to the world.

I was looking briefly at a recently translated quote by another leader who said, "Why does the world shed crocodile tears over the richly merited fate of the small Jewish minority? What has happened to the conscience of the world when millions in Germany are suffering from hunger and misery? I ask the American people: Are you prepared to receive in your midst these well-poisoners of people and the universal spirit of Christianity?"

It may sound like a recent speech from President Ahmadinejad. It was actually the works of Adolf Hitler published in the magazine Staatszeitung.

Looking at these words, we have an eerie echo of the past, but potentially a warning of the future. I lay them before the House today so we see them all clearly for who this leader is, what he has stated publicly, and where he would like to take his Nation and its relation with his neighbors in the Middle East.

I want to thank Peter Black, senior historian for the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum, and Greta Stults and Harold Edinger for their help in these translations.

With that, we have laid Ahmadinejad, in his own words, before the House on this very special week for U.S. foreign policy in the Middle East.

APPALACHIAN STATE UNIVERSITY FOOTBALL

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentlewoman from North Carolina (Ms. FOXX) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. FOXX. Mr. Speaker, it was just about a year ago that I had the privilege of standing before the House to recognize and congratulate the 2005 NCAA Division I-AA football national champions, Appalachian State University.

I am here today to congratulate Appalachian State University's football team and coaches for another outstanding year of many triumphs. The Mountaineers football team has now reached the playoff semifinals and currently is 12-1, tying last year's record when the team won the NCAA Division I-AA championship, the university's first-ever national championship.

Not only is head coach Jerry Moore the winningest coach in the Southern Conference's history, he was named the American Football Coaches Association (AFCA) Region 2 Coach of the Year, his fourth such honor during his 18 years at ASU. Coach Moore has now achieved his 100th Southern Conference victory and its 150th win at ASU.

The players of this year's team have also earned seven national accolades, including, but not limited to the following: Running back Kevin Richardson, who is only a junior and is a candidate for the Walter Payton Award, set and matched seven school records with his 131 rushing yards and four touchdowns in last week's win over Montana State. He is also ASU's all-time leader in career points with 282.

Defensive tackle Omarr Byrom led the team with 3.5 sacks in the game against Montana State while the total number of sacks by the defense was 7. Both of these feats broke school records for playoff games.

I applaud the players and coaches who are getting the recognition they so deserve, and I am proud to represent Appalachian State University in Congress. I particularly want to compliment Coach Moore for his faith and his expression of his faith and being the wonderful role model he is, along with his assistant coaches.

Please join me in wishing the Appalachian State University football team good luck in this weekend's game against Youngstown State. Go Mountaineers!

The Senate met at 12 noon and was called to order by the Honorable RICHARD BURR, a Senator from the State of North Carolina.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Dr. Barry C. Black, offered the following prayer:
Let us pray.

Our Father in heaven, the giver of all good gifts, guide our Senators as they carry heavy responsibilities. Lead them to do what is right rather than what is politically expedient. Deliver them from the traps of seeking selfish interests and illumine their minds to sacrifice for the good of all. May their ambitions never blind them to the opportunities to help the lost, the lonely, and the least.

Lord, God of Hosts, lead our lawmakers with Your power to a humility that unites hearts and builds alliances. Help them to dwell secure in Your peace. We pray in Your loving Name. Amen.

SCHEDULE

Mr. FRIST. Mr. President, I hope everyone has had a good Thanksgiving recess—enjoyable, relaxing. We have a busy few days ahead of us as we have our final week for the 109th Congress, and there are a number of priorities we need to address.

We have the Gates nomination. The hearing on that nomination began this morning. It is our intent to have the Senate address and complete action on this nomination no later than this Friday.

We have a continuing resolution. I was just talking to the Democratic leader about that. The continuing resolution does expire at midnight on Friday. Absent action on any other appropriations, this continuing resolution will extend funding for Government operations into 2007, and it will not contain earmarks or policy initiatives.

Also on the agenda are various tax, trade, and health extenders. Bipartisan Senate work has been spearheaded by Senator GRASSLEY and Senator BAUCUS. They assembled a package of necessary tax, trade, and health policy extensions. That is being filed as we speak.

Fourth, yesterday Senate conferees were named to the United States-India civil nuclear cooperation deal. The burden now falls on the Senate and House conferees to conclude final work on this very important piece of legislation. It would implement a nuclear power technology sharing agreement with the United States and India. This morning I talked with Prime Minister Singh of India, who underscored the importance of this legislation.

Fifth, the Senate is also close to action on the bioterrorism bill, a bill we had worked on in a bipartisan way. This legislation will make improvements and enhancements in our ability to anticipate and react to bioterrorism attacks—again a bipartisan priority. I very much hope we will be able to finish that this week as well.

Sixth, we have the Vietnam trade agreement. If the House can act on the Vietnam trade agreement, the Senate will act on that measure.

There are a whole range of other legislative initiatives that the Senate will consider as they do become available. These will include necessary programmatic extensions as well as any cleared nominations, so we have a packed agenda.

Specifically for today, this afternoon we will begin with the time until 2 p.m. set aside for Senator DEWINE. I will have a brief statement. The Democratic leader will have a brief statement after my opening remarks and announcements this morning. Shortly after 2 o'clock today we will proceed to the consideration of the Agriculture appropriations bill. Following the statements from the bill's managers, Senator CONRAD will be recognized to offer his amendment on agricultural disaster. It is expected a point of order will be raised to the Conrad amendment, and a vote on the motion to waive will occur around 5 o'clock this afternoon. That will be the first roll-call vote this week. We have a number of items to address over the course of the week, which I have outlined.

Mr. President, I do want to make a very brief statement.

JUDICIAL NOMINATIONS

Mr. FRIST. Mr. President, there is a very common question I been asked over the last several days: During your 4-year tenure as majority leader, what has been the most constitutionally challenging issue confronting the Senate?

I didn't have to think very long. I very quickly came to this whole topic of judicial filibusters, which unfortunately reflected one of the most difficult and challenging aspects of this institution over the last 4 years; that is, the partisanship that would come to the surface and the obstruction that resulted from that partisanship. It was this unprecedented use of these filibusters, judicial filibusters, in the last two Congresses that came very close to fundamentally disrupting the Senate's relationship with the executive branch and the Senate's relationship with the judicial branch. It impaired the Senate's ability to discharge a very basic constitutional obligation—to advise and consent.

In the process, Senate traditions were damaged. I believe they have been resolved. I am very hopeful that this partisanship will not resurface in future Congresses. In those 214 years between 1789 and 2003, exactly one judicial nominee was stopped by filibuster, and over that period of 214 years that single case was a lonely historical aberration. Until this Congress and the Congress right before that, the previous Congress, which was my first as leader, we had this Senate tradition literally shattered and we saw in that one Congress, and it continued into this Congress; after 214 years of one blocked nominee by filibuster, there were 10 in that very short period of time. So for decades we have had two great Senate traditions that existed side by side: For one, a general respect for the filibuster itself, and the other, a consensus that judicial nominations brought to the floor would receive an up-or-down vote.

Filibusters, of course, are periodically conducted on legislative matters. Sometimes successfully and sometimes they are ended by cloture. However, filibusters on judicial nominees have not impeded this basic constitutional responsibility of our Senate's advice and consent, that important role in judicial nominations. In the exceedingly rare cases in the past where filibusters were attempted on these nominations, very quickly cloture was always invoked with bipartisan support, support from both sides, and the filibusters ceased.

But in the last Congress, the previous Congress, these judicial filibusters became an instrument of partisan politics. As I said, I hope that such partisan politics can be set aside in the future.

Due to these filibusters—again, a whole series of them in the last Congress and this Congress—the Senate traditions were set aside. They were set aside but then also they collided before they were set aside. If matters were left to their own purpose, either the power to give advice and consent would yield to the filibuster or the filibuster would ultimately have to yield to advise and consent. So in response to these tradition-shattering filibusters, we sought to create a precedent. The precedent came to be known as the constitutional option, and that would guarantee a very simple principle, one which had been respected over time by tradition here. And that is after substantial debate each judicial nominee brought to the floor would get an up-or-down vote.

Proceeding with the constitutional option was painful to many Senators, including myself, because of that respect for minority rights. But even these longstanding rights can take on new forms from time to time and become abused. That is exactly what happened in the last Congress. We could not permit the filibuster, the judicial filibuster, to take root, to become the new precedent in this Congress and therefore, to restore constitutional precedent, the constitutional option—putting it forth on the floor, bringing it to the floor—became a necessary last resort.

It was fascinating because once we stood on principle and moved toward that constitutional option, literally the night before we carried it out, a compromise was reached and important Senate traditions were restored. Senate traditions all of a sudden came back to what they had always been up until two Congresses ago, and that is the filibusters would be confined to “extraordinary circumstances.” That is an exercise of self-restraint, something, again, I encourage this new Congress to adhere to in the future.

So after that, Democrats who would be voting against these nominees by continuing these filibusters did switch and did allow these nominees to, for the most part, pass.

If we had not put that constitutional option on the table, great nominees never would have been confirmed. But for the constitutional option, judicial filibusters would have become an ever more routine part of business on the floor and, but for the constructional option, deal brokers would have had no deal to broker.

Because we acted, the sword of the judicial filibuster was sheathed. Highly qualified nominees who would have been blocked now sit on courts of appeals. Sam Alito, who was, in fact, himself subject of a failed filibuster, now serves on the U.S. Supreme Court. The problem of judicial filibusters was of monumental importance. It affected the internal functioning of the Senate, that relationship between the Senate and the Presidency and the relationship between the Senate and the courts. It was the biggest challenge that I confronted as majority leader and was the issue of largest consequence for our constitutional system.

Mr. President, to reiterate, during my tenure as majority leader, the most vexatious and constitutionally challenging issue confronting the Senate was judicial filibusters. This tactic threatened to disrupt fundamentally the Senate’s relationship with coordinate branches of Government and to impair the Senate’s ability to discharge its constitutional obligation to advise and consent. In the process, Senate traditions were damaged.

In the 214 years between 1789 and 2003, exactly one judicial nominee was stopped by filibuster. That case occurred in 1968, when President Lyndon Johnson nominated Abe Fortas to be Chief Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court. The filibuster that erupted was broadly bipartisan, mainly on ethics grounds, but many commentators worried about the constitutional implications the filibuster presented. Chief among them was the Senate majority leader, Mike Mansfield. In Senate debate on September 25, 1968, he put this issue squarely:

I reiterate we have a constitutional obligation to consent or not to consent to this nomination. We may evade that obligation, but we cannot deny it. As for any post, the question which must be faced is simply: Is the man qualified for the appointed position? That is the only question. It cannot be hedged, hemmed, or hawed. There is one question: Shall we consent to this Presidential appointment? A Senator or group of Senators may frustrate the Senate indefinitely in the exercise of its constitutional obligation with respect to this question. In so doing, they presume great personal privilege at the expense of the responsibilities of the Senate as a whole, and at the expense of the constitutional structure of the Federal Government.

For 35 years thereafter, Senator Mansfield’s words were given heed, and the Fortas case remained a lonely historical aberration. But in the last Congress—my first as leader—the minority shattered Senate traditions and filibusters blocked 10 nominees.

It began with the nomination of Miguel Estrada to serve on the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia. Mr. Estrada epitomized the American dream. An immigrant from Honduras, he arrived in America speaking no English, but he graduated from Harvard Law School, and argued numerous cases before the Supreme Court while serving as a Deputy Solicitor General. The American Bar Association gave him its highest recommendation and his confirmation by the Senate seemed assured.

But the confirmation vote never came. Each time we sought a consent agreement to limit debate, the minority leadership objected. In open session, they remarked that no amount of debate time would be sufficient and that they would not permit the Senate to vote.

After 13 days, I filed a cloture motion to close debate. Every Republican voted for it along with a handful of Democrats, but the minority held firm and we fell short with 55 votes. This process was repeated on the Estrada nomination six more times. But the discipline imposed by the minority leadership never weakened and we never budged a single vote.

Debate was not the issue. Obstruction was the issue. Finally, to the shame of the Senate and the harm of the American people, Mr. Estrada asked President Bush to withdraw his nomination.

Before the last Congress, the record number of cloture votes on a judicial nomination was two and no nomination with clear majority support ever died by filibuster. The Estrada case rewrote that tradition, and for the worse. On Miguel Estrada, seven cloture votes were taken, to no avail. He was a nominee who plainly could have been confirmed, but he was denied an up or down vote.

And the Estrada case was just the beginning. After Miguel Estrada, nine additional nominees were filibustered and the minority threatened filibusters on six more.

As the filibusters began to mushroom, Democratic Senator Zell Miller and I introduced a cloture reform resolution. Our proposal would have permitted an end to filibusters of nominations after reasonable and substantial debate. The Senate Rules Committee held a hearing on our resolution and reported it with an affirmative recommendation.

But the proposal languished on the Senate calendar, facing a certain filibuster from Senators opposed to cloture reform. Quite simply, those who undertook to filibuster these nominees wanted no impediments put in their way.

Consent orders had failed to resolve this issue, as had cloture and a rules change through the regular order. So we looked to the 2004 elections. And we made judicial filibusters an election issue in many States.

Notwithstanding election outcomes strengthening the margin of the majority, the minority dug in, saying that they had not filibustered too many nominees but too few. So even election outcomes failed.

When the present Congress convened last January, I was urged to move immediately for a change in Senate procedure so that these unprecedented filibusters could not be repeated. But I decided on a more measured and less confrontational course. Rather than move immediately to change procedure, I promoted dialogue at the leadership and committee level to seek a solution to this problem. Rather than act on the record of the last Congress, I hoped that the passage of a clearly won election and presence of new Democratic leadership would result in a sense of fairness being restored.

Sadly, these hopes were not fulfilled. More filibusters were promised, not only against seven nominees President Bush resubmitted but also against other nominees as then yet to be proposed. A renewal of filibusters against persons denied an up or down vote in the last Congress was a grave problem and would be reason enough for reform. Threatening filibusters against new nominees compounded the wrong and was further reason for reform. My choice was stark: accept a new tradition of judicial filibusters or act to address them.

For many decades, two great Senate traditions existed side by side. These were a general respect for the filibuster and a consensus that nominations brought to the floor would receive an up or down vote. Filibusters have been periodically conducted on legislation, sometimes successfully and sometimes ended by cloture. However, filibusters have not impeded the Senate’s advice and consent role on nominations. In the exceedingly rare cases they were attempted, cloture was always invoked with bipartisan support and the filibusters ceased.

But in the last Congress, judicial filibusters became instruments of partisan politics. Organized and promoted by the minority leadership, these filibusters proved resilient to cloture.

Due to these filibusters, the two great Senate traditions that used to coexist came to collide. If matters were left in this posture, either the power to advise and consent would yield to the filibuster or the filibuster would yield to the power to advise and consent.

Until these judicial filibusters were launched, the Senate lived by the principle that filibusters would not impede the exercise of constitutional confirmation powers and that a majority of Senators could vote to confirm or reject a nominee brought to the floor. The unparalleled filibusters undermined that tradition, denying nominees the courtesy of an up or down vote. They represented an effort by a Senate minority to obstruct the duty of the full Senate to advise and consent. The current minority claimed it had no choice but to filibuster, because Republicans controlled the White House and Senate. But the minority's conclusion defied history.

For 70 of the 100 years of the last century, the same party controlled the Presidency and the Senate, but the minority party leadership exercised restraint and refused to filibuster judicial nominees. The past half-century amply illustrates this point. During the Kennedy and Johnson administrations, Democrats controlled the Senate, but the Republican minority leader Everett Dirksen did not filibuster judicial nominees. While President Carter was in office, Democrats controlled the Senate, but Republican leader Howard Baker did not filibuster judicial nominees. For President Reagan's first 6 years, Republicans controlled the Senate, but Democratic Leader ROBERT BYRD did not filibuster judicial nominees. In President Clinton's first 2 years, Democrats had the Senate but Republican leader Bob Dole did not filibuster judicial nominees. During all those years, all those Congresses, and all those Presidencies, nominees brought to the floor got an up or down vote.

Democrats argued that by curbing judicial filibusters, the Senate would turn into a rubberstamp. But for more than two centuries, those filibusters did not exist. Shall we conclude that for 200 years the Senate was a rubberstamp and only now awakened to its responsibilities? What of those minority leaders who did not filibuster? Were they also rubberstamps? Was Dirksen? Was Baker, Was BYRD? Was Dole? Could the minority be right that only through the filibuster may the Senate's advice and consent check be vindicated? This was a novel conclusion and it stained the reputation of the great Senators that preceded us.

To make their case against curbs on judicial filibusters, the minority cited the 1968 nomination of Abe Fortas to be Chief Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, and Franklin Roosevelt's court-packing plan of 1937. But use of these examples was an overreach and drew false comparisons.

In 1968, Abe Fortas was serving on the Supreme Court as an Associate Justice. Three years earlier, he had been confirmed by the Senate by voice vote, following a unanimous affirmative recommendation from the Judiciary Committee. Then Chief Justice Earl Warren announced his retirement, effective on the appointment of his successor. President Lyndon Johnson proposed to elevate Fortas to succeed Warren.

The non-controversial nominee of 1965 became the highly controversial nominee of 1968. Justice Fortas was caught in a political perfect storm. Some Senators raised questions of ethics. Others complained about cronyism. Yet others were concerned about Warren Court decisions. And still others thought that with the election looming weeks away, a new President should fill the Warren vacancy. But this political perfect storm was thoroughly bipartisan in nature, and reflected concerns from certain Republicans as well as numerous southern and northern Democrats.

Senator Mike Mansfield brought the Fortas nomination to the Senate floor late on September 24, 1968. After only 2 full days of debate, Mansfield filed a cloture motion. Almost a third of the 26 Senators who signed the cloture motion were Republicans, including the Republican whip. The vote on cloture was 45 yeas and 43 nays, well short of the two-thirds then needed to close debate. Nearly a third of Republicans supported cloture, including the Republican whip. Nearly a third of Democrats opposed it, including the Democratic whip. Of the 43 negative votes on cloture, 24 were Republican and 19 were Democratic.

Opponents of cloture claimed that debate had been too short in order to develop the full case against the Fortas nomination. In contrast to the Miguel Estrada filibuster, no one claimed that debate would go on endlessly and that no amount of time would be sufficient. Indeed, those who opposed cloture denied there was a filibuster at all.

So, the Fortas case was not analogous to the judicial filibusters we now confront. Support for and opposition to Fortas was broadly bipartisan, a fact that stands in stark contrast to the partisan filibusters that began in the last Congress as an instrument of party policy. At most, it was opposition to one man, and was not an effort to leverage judicial appointments through the threat of a filibuster-veto. The Fortas opposition came together in one aberrational moment. Nothing like it had happened in the previous 180 years and nothing like it was repeated for the next 35 years. Absolutely, it did not represent a sustained effort by a party minority to shatter Senate confirmation traditions and exercise a filibuster-veto destructive of checks and balances. No comparison can be made between that single aberrational moment and the pattern of judicial filibusters we confronted.

The minority also contended that if Republicans moved against the judicial filibusters, we would follow in the footsteps of Franklin Roosevelt's attempt to pack the Supreme Court. But this was a comparison without basis.

Frustrated by the Supreme Court's ruling unconstitutional several New Deal measures, President Roosevelt sought legislation to pack the court by appointing a new Justice for every sitting Justice over the age of 70. In a fireside chat, he compared the three branches of Government to a three horse team pulling a plow. Unless all three horses pulled in the same direction, the plow could not move. To synchronize all the horses, Roosevelt proposed to pack the court.

Roosevelt's effort was a direct assault on the independence of the judiciary and plainly undermined the principles of separation of powers and checks and balances. He failed in a Senate with 76 members of his own party.

No good analogy can be drawn between what Roosevelt attempted and our effort to end judicial filibusters. Unlike Roosevelt, Republicans were not trying to undermine the separation of powers. And unlike Roosevelt, Republicans were not trying to destabilize checks and balances, but to restore them.

That the judicial filibusters undermined a longstanding Senate tradition is evident. But traditions are not laudable merely because they are old. This tradition is important because it underpins a vital constitutional principle that the President shall nominate, subject to the advice and consent of the Senate. When filibusters are used to block a vote, the advice and consent of the Senate is not possible.

A cloture vote to end a filibuster is not advice and consent within the Constitution's meaning. Notwithstanding the minority's claim, nominees denied a confirmation vote due to filibuster were "rejected." Instead, what was rejected was the constitutional right of all Senators to vote up or down on the nominees.

To require a cloture threshold of 60 votes for confirmation disturbs checks and balances between the executive and the Senate and creates a strong potential for tyranny by the minority. A minority may hold hostage the nomination process, threatening to undermine judicial independence by filibustering any appointment that does not meet particular ideological or litmus tests.

The Constitution provides that a duly elected executive shall nominate, subject to advice and consent by a majority of the Senate. Implicit in that structure is that the President and the Senate shall be politically accountable to the American people, and that accountability will be a sufficient check on the decisions made by each of them. That was the system by which we Americans addressed nominations for more than two centuries, until the last Congress. But judicial filibusters would replace that system with one that gave the minority a filibuster-veto in the confirmation process.

Trying to legitimize their judicial filibusters, the minority took to the floor to extol the virtue of filibusters generally. And as to legislative filibusters, I agree with them. But judicial filibusters are not cut from the same cloth as legislative filibusters and must not receive similar treatment. So, I concur with the sentiments Senator Mansfield expressed during the Fortas debate:

In the past, the Senate has discussed, debated and sometimes agonized, but it has always voted on the merits. No Senator or group of Senators has ever usurped that constitutional prerogative. That unbroken tradition, in my opinion, merely reflects on the part of the Senate the distinction heretofore recognized between its constitutional responsibility to confirm or reject a nominee and its role in the enactment of new and far-reaching legislative proposals.

History demonstrates that filibusters have almost exclusively been applied against the Senate's own constitutional prerogative to initiate legislation, and not against nominations. Judicial filibusters put fundamental constitutional values in jeopardy, hallowed principles of checks and balances, the separation of powers and an independent judiciary.

Having exhausted all other alternatives and unwilling to acquiesce in the judicial filibusters, we in the Republican leadership looked for a solution. We recognized that article I, section 5 of the Constitution states that "each House may determine the Rules of its proceedings". In short, that means the Constitution gives the Senate the power to govern itself. And we proposed to draw on that power to change how the Senate ends debate on judges. We called this the constitutional option, and we built support for it.

The Senate is an evolving institution. Its rules and processes are not a straitjacket. Over time, adjustments have occurred in Senate procedure to reflect changes in Senate behavior. Tactics no longer limited by self-restraint became restricted by new rules and precedents.

In response to the tradition-shattering filibusters, we sought to create a precedent. And that precedent would guarantee that after substantial debate, each judicial nominee brought to the floor got an up or down vote.

As I said, proceeding with the constitutional option was painful to many Senators, including myself, because minority rights are deeply respected. But even longstanding rights can take new forms and become abused. And that is what happened when judicial filibusters damaged Senate traditions.

We could not permit the precedent of these filibusters to take root. To restore Senate traditions, the constitutional option became a necessary last resort.

As we moved toward a vote on the constitutional option, a compromise was reached, and important Senate traditions were restored. Filibusters were confined to "extraordinary circumstances"—an exercise of self-restraint. So some Democrats who had routinely supported the judicial filibusters began voting for cloture.

Of this I am confident: but for the constitutional option, great nominees never would have been confirmed. But for the constitutional option, judicial filibusters would have become ever more routine. And but for the constitutional option, deal brokers would have had no deal to broker.

Because we acted, the sword of the filibuster was sheathed. Highly qualified nominees who would have been blocked now sit on courts of appeals. And Samuel Alito, who was the subject of a failed filibuster, now serves on the U.S. Supreme Court.

The problem of judicial filibusters was of monumental importance. It affected the internal functioning of the Senate, the relationship between the Senate and the Presidency, and the relationship between the Senate and the courts. It was the biggest challenge I confronted as majority leader and the issue of largest consequence for our constitutional system.

RECOGNITION OF THE MINORITY LEADER

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. The minority leader is recognized.

HONORING MARY ARNOLD

Mr. REID. Mr. President, in life we all have changes. They are so difficult to accept. In the last month or so, I have had a lot of changes in my life. One of the changes that has been so troubling for me is that we have lost a friend in the Senate. Ralph Waldo Emerson said:

Sorrow makes us all children again. [It] destroys all differences of intellect. The wisest know nothing.

The family member we have lost is Mary Arnold. She was such a wonderful, pleasant, thoughtful, kind person. Anyone would recognize her even though they wouldn't know her by name, simply because of her description—beautiful white hair, elegantly dressed every day, a wonderful smile. She never drew attention to herself, but she was so good for the institution. She sat right back here every day we were in session.

She was the best when things weren't going so well. She was here for more than two decades. She was the best when things were real tumultuous here on the floor. If somebody wanted an easel for a chart, that was available. She directed the pages as to what they were supposed to do and not do. She always did it with such a pleasantness.

I first met Mary Arnold when her daughter worked here. She was a Republican floor person. She, like her mom, had this great, disarming smile. I was not in the city when the funeral took place and was unable to attend, but I saw in the program a picture of the deceased Mary Arnold. She looked exactly like her daughter. Exactly. She could have passed for her daughter.

She came to Washington over 40 years ago. Born in the late 1930s in Jonesboro, Arkansas, she attended Memphis State University. She worked as a flight attendant—a stewardess, as they used to be called. All the stewards and stewardesses are very attractive people, but in the old days that was a requirement. Stewardesses had to look real good; Mary Arnold looked real good. I am sure she was a great flight attendant, a stewardess.

She worked for a number of Members of Congress, including Congressman Harvey of Indiana and Representative Zion. She worked for the Sergeant at Arms, of course.

She was a wonderful person. I had conversations with her. She loved animals, especially the ugly little dogs people fall in love with, Boston terriers. She was in love with her Boston terriers. She was a wonderful person. Coming to the Senate today and not having Mary back there is a tremendous loss to me and to the Senate. I want her wonderful daughter Mary Elizabeth to know she will be missed. Her spirit is something all in the Senate should have a little bit of. My thoughts are with Mary wherever she might be and my love and respect for her family is paramount as a result of the wonderful person she was.

Mr. FRIST. Mr. President, as the Democratic leader has so eloquently described, it is hard to imagine the smiles and the charm of Mary Miller Arnold will no longer grace the Senate.

I have had the opportunity to talk to her daughter Mary Elizabeth several times since her mom's demise. The love and the respect, that bond a mother and a daughter together share, is magnificent; it sparkles so much in her voice today.

Mary was a fellow Tennessean. She will be remembered most for her uncanny ability to very efficiently enforce the Senate rules at this door, without sacrificing at any point in time her unfailing, consistent professionalism, her dedication, her polite demeanor.

The Senate simply could not function, we all know, without our staff and committed staff. We 100 Senators are, for the most part, the face of the Senate, but it is people such as Mary who are here, day after day, the cogs in the wheels behind it, who keep this Senate moving along, keep it ticking.

She was the pulse of the Senate, in many ways. To Mary's friends and to her family, let me say, our thoughts and prayers are with you during these difficult days ahead. To quote Senator BYRD from the other day, she was "one of a kind."

She had a tangible presence in the Senate. We are lesser now with the loss of her southern grace.

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Senator from Illinois.

Mr. DURBIN. Mr. President, I join with the majority leader and the Democratic leader in a tribute to Mary Miller Arnold who served us so well in the Senate and recently passed away. We join in expressing our condolences to Mary Arnold's family, her husband Ed, her son Edwin, Jr., and her daughter Mary Elizabeth.

Her sudden and unexpected death comes as a shock to all of us as we return to the Senate Chamber expecting to see her smiling face as we have for so many years. I am so used to seeing her sitting near the door on the bench where the Democratic staffers sit. What an impression she made every single day I saw her. Perfect posture, impeccably dressed, every hair in place, always gracious, always professional, carried herself with such dignity and grace.

Those who watch C-SPAN across America will know her instantly because she was part of the Senate process, part of the Senate family. She sat just as straight, just as polished, even before the C-SPAN cameras. She did this because of the respect she had for the Senate and for her role, which was very important. She loved the Senate and everything it stood for. She considered it a privilege to work in the U.S. Capitol, as we all do, and especially on the Senate floor.

I didn't know until the other day that Mary actually began working for a Republican Congressman from Illinois, Roger Zion. She moved to Washington in 1960 with her husband Ed, who had taken a job with a congressman from Indiana. Her daughter Mary Elizabeth worked in the Republican cloakroom for several years while she was a law student. As for Mary's own political affiliation, I don't have any idea. She was a true professional. It is to her credit that she was in service to the Democratic side of the aisle but had equal respect for both sides of the aisle. She was beyond partisanship. She really was a part of the whole Senate family. She treated everyone with such respect and professionalism, so gracious to junior staffers and pages and Senators alike.

She performed so many countless acts of kindness in the 21 years she served here. People are now speaking out about those and I am glad they shared some of them. If a coworker needed a kind word, Mary was one of the first. Once a coworker had a financial difficulty. Mary found out about it and lent that person some money, then gently refused to accept full repayment. She was such a good and generous person. Mary will be missed.

I yield the floor.

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. The minority leader.

FINAL WEEK OF THE 109TH CONGRESS

Mr. REID. Mr. President, today we begin the final week, as I understand it, for the work created for the 109th Congress. There are only a few days left to complete a mountain of work, 2 years of work, really. The mission we have before the Senate these next few days is an impossible mission. It is truly a mission impossible, but we have to try.

The American people made it clear last month they want Members to work together. The judgment was held on whether a one-party town works and the American people said no. We have to work together. We have to work together this week and certainly when we come back after the first of the year.

To accomplish what needs to be accomplished in the next few days is mission impossible. We cannot get it all done. Appropriations bills, budget, health care nominations, conference reports for all kinds of things that, as I have said, somehow never make it to the other side of the Capitol.

I told Democratic Senators gathered recently that many of them have never, ever, participated in a conference, a conference between the House and Senate. Why? Because the Republicans would not hold them. We simply did not have them. Some of the most memorable times of my career were when I participated in conferences. A bill passed the Senate, a bill passed the House, you meet together, Democrats and Republicans, House and Senate, to work out the differences.

This administration and the Republican-dominated House and Senate did not believe in that. They did not believe in 200 years of experience. They did not hold conferences. They would bring a bill back that the Republicans in the House and the Republicans in the Senate agreed upon. We had to take it or leave it, period.

That is not the way it is going to be next year. We are going to have Senators participating in things that many of them have never participated in: a real live conference, where Democrats and Republicans from the House and the Senate meet in a room and work out the differences on a bill.

This year we have so much to do. And as I said, it is mission impossible. If we had years left, if we had months left, if we had weeks left in the 109th Congress, maybe we could do something about it. But we have days remaining to finish all the items I have mentioned, and many more.

I want to comment briefly. My friend, the distinguished majority leader, talked about the nuclear option. One reason we are here in the waning moments of the 109th Congress trying to complete the work that needs to be completed is because, again, the Republicans who control the House and the Senate—but here in this instance the Senate—decided to do away with 200 years of experience in this Senate. It was decided by the Republicans—because there were 55 Republicans and 45 Democrats—that they did not want the Senate to be the Senate. They wanted the Senate to be the House.

In the House of Representatives, if you have more than the other party, you get whatever you want. That is not how the Senate has worked for more than 200 years. The Republicans in the Senate in the 109th Congress said, we want another House of Representatives. They adopted the so-called nuclear option. They were not getting enough judges, enough of their right-wing, ideological judges. They were not getting enough—but it was well over 100. I don't know how many it is now. They were not getting enough. They wanted every one of them and they were willing to throw the traditions of this Senate overboard.

One of the negative things that happened in my political career was having to oppose the nuclear option. I said at the time, I say today, the most important thing I have ever worked on in my governmental career is the nuclear option because it was so anti-Senate, so antigovernment. I said in the Senate, why are you doing this? Why are you doing this, my friends, the Republicans? It would take a miracle for us to retake the Senate. As a result of the nuclear option and the other very bad things this Republican-dominated Senate did, the miracle occurred. One reason it occurred is because of the nuclear option. The American people knew that was beyond the pale.

We want to get our work done this year. We are willing to work up until Christmas, if necessary. We want to finish what we have to finish. I have talked to the majority leader. He knows the things I think should be done, must be done. We are leaving many things undone. However, as I said before, it is mission impossible. We cannot do it all; there is simply not enough time.

We spent too much time on the nuclear option, on estate tax, on gay marriage, on flag burning. The American people said, Why don't you work on our issues? On November 7, they said, Work together on our issues. We are committed to working together on the issues of the American people.

MORNING BUSINESS

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. Under the previous order, there will be a period for the transaction of morning business until the hour of 2 o'clock, with the Senator from Ohio, Senator DEWINE, permitted to speak for up to 2 hours.

ORDER OF PROCEDURE

Mr. DURBIN. I ask the Senator from Ohio if I might be given permission at this point to speak for up to 10 minutes and then yield the floor to him.

Mr. DEWINE. I yield to my colleague for 10 minutes.

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Senator from Illinois.

109TH CONGRESS FINAL WEEK

Mr. DURBIN. Mr. President, I agree with my colleague, the Democratic leader, Senator REID. We spend a lot of time making speeches in the Senate. Elected officials and Government officials and politicians across America speak a lot to the American people. The American people have an opportunity once every 2 years to speak to us. On November 7 the American people spoke to the Members of Congress. The message was very clear. It was a message calling for change and new direction.

Equally important, it was a message from the American people to the Members of the Senate and the House, stop the infighting, roll up your sleeves, do your work, get your work done, and do something to help America, help the families across America, who count on you to be responsive to the costs of health insurance, the cost of gasoline, the issues that confront us in America.

That was the message of November 7, a message of change. And there will be changes in Congress as a result of that election. That is why it was such a surprise for us to return to Washington at the end of this session and to hear the Republican leadership in the House and the Senate announce that, frankly, they were going to adjourn without doing their work.

The Republican leaders in the Senate and the House have decided to race for the exits. They have decided to leave without doing the most fundamental job Congress is expected to do; that is, pass the spending bills, pass the appropriations bills so our Government can continue to perform the valuable functions which are their responsibility.

To call this Congress a do-nothing Congress would slight Harry Truman's original 1948 do-nothing Congress. The congressional scholar Thomas Mann pointed out that even that do-nothing Congress of 1948 did pass the Marshall Plan, and that was certainly historic and noteworthy.

According to Thomas Mann and Norman Ornstein, this Congress worked less than 100 days this year. It is like the average person who works across America showing up for work 2 days a week. Would you expect to get a full paycheck, would you expect to get praise from your boss if you worked 2 days a week instead of 5? The 100 days was less than any other Congress in our lifetimes. For at least 25 of those days, incidentally, there were no votes scheduled before 6:30 in the evening, so they were really more like half days or quarter days. Yet during that period of time, this Congress refused to increase the minimum wage for millions of American workers, who got up this morning, and every single morning, to clean the rooms and bus the tables and wash the dishes and prepare the food for America, at a minimum wage of $5.15 an hour.

For 10 straight years, this Congress has refused to give those people, struggling at the lowest end of income in America, an increase in the minimum wage. And for 10 years, Congress has voted itself a pay raise during that period of time to the tune of $30,000, saying no to minimum wage workers and yes to Members of Congress—another illustration of how this Republican Congress lost its way and forgot the values that should bind us together as Americans.

Well, the Democrats heard the message voters sent last month. We are ready to work hard for the American people, as hard as they work for their own families. But let's be clear. It is not going to be easy to clean up the financial mess of 12 years of Republican control of Congress.

We wanted to start off the 110th Congress, the next Congress, by working on urgent challenges, such as health care and making it more affordable, helping middle-class families pay for college, and we will focus on those. But at the same time, we have to finish the unfinished work of this Republican Congress.

The last time a new majority party took charge of both Houses, in 1994, the Democrats passed every single appropriations bill by October 1, which is the deadline. That marked the last time all these bills were passed on time, by the way.

Now that the Democrats are taking over both Houses, will the Republicans finish their work before leaving town? Sadly, they will not. It is a fitting end to the do-nothing Congress. They will not only do nothing this year, they will do less when it comes to meeting their constitutional responsibility.

Refusing to work on this year's budget is just the tip of the iceberg. The increase in our national debt left behind by this Republican Congress and this administration and the deterioration of our fiscal health are a matter of public record. The President likes to say we are on track to "cut the deficit in half" by the time he leaves office.

But, as Paul Harvey says, let's go to the rest of the story. First, there was no national deficit when President Bush took office. President Clinton eliminated the deficit and we were paying down our national debt.

Second, this year's $248 billion deficit, which the White House points to as a source of pride, is still nearly as large as the largest deficit under the first President Bush, which was, until this President Bush, the largest deficit in U.S. history.

Third, and most important, that $248 billion figure for this year's deficit is not a true reflection of fiscal reality. It does not include the interest we have to pay on all of that borrowing, nor does it include all the funds that have been raided from the Social Security trust fund that will have to be paid back. When you add up all of that, we do not have a national deficit of $248 billion; our deficit is $546 billion, more than twice what the President admits.

If you want to understand how big a hole the Republicans are leaving behind after this Congress, look at our national debt. Why? Because when you sit down with your family's finances, what do you really worry about? How many new charges you put on your credit card in the last month or the total amount you owe on that credit card? It is the total amount of the debt that matters. The total amount of debt on our national credit card today is $8.5 trillion—$3 trillion more today than when President Bush took office 6 years ago. That is $30,000 in debt for every man, woman, and child in America.

Think about this fact: Under President Bush, America has borrowed more money from foreign governments to keep our ship of state afloat, borrowed more money than all of the Presidents in the history of the United States combined. And who are the creditors? China, Japan, many others—the same countries that, sadly, are showing an advantage when it comes to trading with the United States.

The Nation's fiscal situation is difficult. If we continue to follow the Republican playbook, it would only get worse. By 2011, the national debt would grow to $11.6 trillion. That is nearly $40,000 in debt for every American. It is a debt tax that is being left by this Republican Congress. We cannot sustain this level of debt. David Walker of the Government Accountability Office recently said:

The status quo is unacceptable and unsustainable, and anybody who tells you—whether they be Republican, Democrat, or Independent—that we can solve this problem without having to reform entitlement programs, re-engineering the base of discretionary spending, and have additional tax revenues—anybody who says that we are not going to have to do all three of those is not telling you the truth. It's as simple as that.

The American people deserve honest budgeting and a restoration of the "pay as you go principle"—not more out-of-control deficits. The American people deserve better than a Congress that votes itself a pay raise and continues to vote that the minimum wage stay without any increase.

Americans want ethical standards for Congress that are tough and enforced, a plan to protect our country with the 9/11 Commission recommendations, help in paying for college for working families, lower prices for prescription drugs, Federal support for stem cell research, a real national energy plan, and much more. They deserve a Congress that works as hard as Americans work themselves.

Sadly, this Congress is going to be AWOL, absent without leave. It will leave behind a continuing resolution so we can limp along for another few weeks without addressing the serious responsibility every Congress faces. So we will not only, in a new Congress, face a new agenda, we are going to have to finish the unfinished business of this Republican Congress.

Mr. President, I yield floor.

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Senator from Ohio.

HONORING OUR ARMED FORCES

SERGEANT FIRST CLASS GREGORY ROGERS

Mr. DEWINE. Mr. President, I come to the Senate floor this afternoon to honor Army SFC Gregory Rogers. Gregory Rogers was from Deer Park, OH. He was killed on April 9, 2006, when a roadside bomb detonated near his humvee in Iraq. He was serving in his third tour of duty in Iraq with the 101st Airborne Division's 4th Brigade Combat Team. He was 42 years of age when he died.

Gregory Rogers grew up in Deer Park and graduated from Deer Park High School. During his 22-year career in the Army, he received dozens of service medals, including the Meritorious Service Medal and the Army Achievement Medal.

After high school, Gregory worked with his uncle in vending. Although Gregory initially tried this career path, he could not ignore his passion—to serve in the U.S. Army. So he joined the military. His brother Kevin recalls that "It's what he lived for."

A career soldier, Gregory played an integral role in the first gulf war in 1991 and had also spent time serving in Afghanistan and in South America. He was in the initial invasion force in Iraq and spent a few years as a drill instructor and as an airborne Ranger, jumping out of combat helicopters.

He was highly regarded by all who knew him. Army BG John Bartley said, "We tried so hard to bring Gregory home unharmed. He will always be in our hearts and prayers. He will always be an American hero." Many of Gregory's comrades wrote letters about him, calling him "a true soldier in every sense of the word."

Gregory's father, Luther Rogers, said this about his son's commitment to service:

Being a soldier was what he always wanted to do, and he always did his job.

Gregory's brother Kevin echoed this sentiment, saying:

[Gregory] liked traveling the world; he was dedicated to his country.

Gregory came from a large family and was extremely close to his father and his mother Donna, as well as his two brothers, Jeff and Kevin, and his sister Tammy. His brothers communicated with Gregory almost daily through e-mails and instant messages. His older brother Jeff wants Gregory to know that "We're very proud of him, we miss him, and we love him."

Although he intended to retire in 2003, Gregory received orders to stay in the service and ended up serving two additional tours of duty. His brother Jeff remembers that "[Gregory] believed in what he did—[and that was] making a difference."

Once he completed his last tour in December 2006, Gregory was finally going to retire. He would be able to spend more time with the love of his life, his wife Sandy, and their two daughters, Whitney and Chelsea. Tragically, however, in 2005, Sandy died. Although she had suffered from type I diabetes since childhood, Sandy had just received a new insulin pump and her sugar levels were coming under control. Connie Root, a caretaker for Sandy during her illness, said her passing came as a shock. "Greg loved his wife very much," recalls Connie, "and he took care of her and was always very supportive."

Even in the face of his beloved wife's death, Gregory wanted to give hope to another family. Before his wife Sandy died, she and Gregory had agreed to donate her insulin pump to a child who needed it. Gregory wrote that if Sandy would have had the pump when she was a child, she would still have been alive today. Beth Smith, a senior diabetes management consultant for MedTronic, which manufactured insulin pumps, said that in the many years of working with diabetic patients, she has never known anyone to donate a pump specifically to a child.

Before Gregory Rogers could choose a recipient for his wife's insulin pump, and just 2 months after her death, he was deployed to Iraq. While there, Gregory received information about Jessica Burkhart, a young girl in need of Sandy's insulin pump, and he decided to donate it to her. He chose Jessica as the recipient of his wife's pump. Just 13 years old, Jessica Burkhart had been diagnosed with type I diabetes and needed the pump to regulate her blood sugar levels. Her family could not afford a new pump, which costs around $6,000. When Jessica heard the news that she would receive Sandy's insulin pump, she could not wait to thank the man who was giving her new hope in life. Jessica and Gregory then became pen pals. In her first e-mail, an elated Jessica wrote:

Thank you so much for choosing me over so many people. Thank you so much again.

Rogers responded a week later, writing:

I know you must hate shots. I know I hated my wife struggling with her sugar and having to take sometimes up to 14 shots a day, so I know what a pain it must be.

It turned out that Jessica and Gregory shared something other than the struggle against diabetes. They both loved softball. Gregory told Jessica he loved the game and looked forward to coming home so he could play again. In every e-mail, Jessica thanked Gregory for the pump. She updated him on how it was already changing her life for the better. He always signed his letters to her "Your friend Greg." Gregory's father Luther learned about the donation after his son died. He said:

I'm really proud of my son for doing that.

Mr. President, Jessica Burkhart is just one of many who will miss Gregory Rogers. No sacrifice was too great for the man who dedicated his life to protecting his country, his family, and the life of an unknown child in one of his darkest hours.

He was a good son, husband, brother, and father. Though he will be missed tremendously, he will never be forgotten.

My wife Fran and I continue to keep Gregory's family in our thoughts and in our prayers.

(Mr. COCHRAN assumed the Chair.)

STAFF SERGEANT GORDON G. SOLOMON

Mr. President, I rise today to honor a fellow Ohioan and a brave Marine who gave his life in service to our Nation. On August 24, 2006, Marine SSG Gordon G. Solomon was killed by an improvised explosive device while conducting combat operations against enemy forces in the Al Anbar Province of Iraq. He was 35 years old.

Growing up in Fairborn, OH, Gordon was eager to begin serving his country in the military. He graduated from Fairborn High School in 1990 and joined the Marines in June of that same year. For Gordon, there was simply no time to waste.

In April 2006, before leaving for Iraq, Gordon joined the 3rd Battalion, 2nd Marine Regiment, 2nd Marine Division, 2nd Marine Expeditionary Force, based out of Camp Lejeune, NC. Once in Iraq, he was selected to work with the Iraqi Army as a part of the Military Transition Team.

As an infantry unit leader in charge of a platoon, Gordon left a great legacy. His heroism and leadership were evident to all, and his service earned him many awards and medals. His decorations are too numerous to list here, but they include a Purple Heart with a gold star, the Navy and Marine Corps Achievement Medal, a Combat Action Ribbon, an Iraqi Campaign Medal, and a Global War on Terrorism Service Medal.

Those who knew and loved Gordon will always remember him for his dedication to his friends. Back in 1920, MG John A. Lejeune stressed the importance of camaraderie in the Marines Corps. He wrote that "the spirit of comradeship and brotherhood in arms, which has traditionally existed throughout the ranks of the Marines Corps, is a vital characteristic of the Corps. It must be fostered and kept alive. . . ."

Over 85 years later, those words still hold true today. Looking at the lives of Marines, like Gordon, we can truly say that they have never lost the spirit of comradeship and brotherhood. It is certainly alive today.

On September 8, 2006, Gordon's life was honored—along with six of his Marine brothers—at a memorial service held at a chapel in Iraq. More than 200 Marines and sailors attended the service, where the seven rifles were placed in front of the chapel, each inverted with the helmets resting on top. Identification tags for each Marine hung from the rifles.

Gordon's friend and fellow Marine, SSG Frank Lipsak from Lima Company, spoke about Gordon during the service. He remembered how Gordon became known for always being a team player. That's simply the type of person Gordon was—always willing to work with others, always willing to do his best for the greater good. "He and I became pretty good friends in the short time that he was with us," the Staff Sergeant recalled. "When you talked to Gordon Solomon you were dealing with a man, a Marine, and a staff non-commissioned officer—in that order."

He also said that even after Gordon left Lima Company, he still made time to come back and visit with his old company. This is what he said:

[Gordon] would come back to our company area from time to time to hang out with us and see how things were going with our Marines. I have faith that Gordon is in a better place. He was our brother, and we miss him dearly. Our prayers are with his wife, son, and the rest of his family.

At the memorial service, LT Todd S. Desgrosseilliers, the battalion's commanding officer, spoke of the bravery and courage that Gordon and his fellow fallen Marines exhibited.

Look no further for heroes. We know seven of them. . . . We memorialize them because, in the end, they were true to their word. They swore an oath that they would follow orders and defend our Nation against all enemies foreign and domestic. They gave a part of themselves to be a part of something larger than themselves. We honor their sacrifice and their courage in the face of danger. They will forever be with us.

Unquestionably, Gordon Solomon was a man who believed in the greater good. He served America selflessly—more concerned for the safety and well-being of others than for his own. He defined bravery and courage.

When I think of the sacrifice made by SSG Gordon Solomon, I think of words once spoken by one of our country's greatest leaders, President Dwight D. Eisenhower, when he said:

Neither a wise man nor a brave man lies down on the tracks of history to wait for the train of the future to run over him.

Indeed, Gordon Solomon never lied down on those tracks. Instead, he was moving into the future, making history as he went. He was wise, and he was brave. With his life and actions, he changed the world so that we all live in a better and safer place. He did not sit idle. He did not rest. Rather, he willingly chose to serve our Nation the best way he knew how—as a United States Marine.

We are eternally grateful for the incredible service that Gordon provided during his time with the Marines. It is clear that he had a great impact on the men and women with whom he served. A dedicated Marine, who loved his family and his friends, Gordon will be deeply missed. His death is a loss to us all.

As 1LT Barry Edwards noted, "[When] losing a Marine, especially a well-decorated one like this, the loss will be felt by the unit and Marine Corp-welt."

My wife, Fran, and I will continue to keep Gordon and his family in our thoughts and prayers.

SERGEANT ADAM KNOX

Mr. President, I rise today to pay tribute to Army Sergeant Adam Knox, who was killed on September 17, 2006, when his patrol encountered small-arms fire during combat operations in Baghdad, Iraq. Sergeant Knox was assigned to the 346th Psychological Operations Company, based in Columbus, OH. He was 21 years old.

Adam was born on January 26, 1985. As a life-long resident of the Columbus area, he developed strong relationships with his family and friends. Friends describe Adam as a "man's man," who loved rebuilding and taking care of cars, especially his prized possession—a Z28 Camaro that he would "scrub inside and out every weekend." Friends say that Adam's inclination to precision and order made him well-suited for the Army.

Adam graduated from Westland High School in Galloway, OH, and shared with his friends and family his love for the Ohio State University Buckeyes football team. In fact, Adam was probably one of the Buckeye's biggest fans—he would cheer so loudly during football games that his friends said "people two counties over could hear him." Adam even missed his homecoming dance at Westland High School to watch an Ohio State football game. While living in Columbus, Adam was also a dedicated worker at a Meijer store, Skyline Chili and, just before he mobilized with his unit, at a business-products wholesaler operation.

Adam loved his family and was very proud that his father, Jay Knox, had served in the Army. In fact, it was his father's service and influence that played a major part in Adam's own decision to join the Army Reserves in 2003, just after he graduated from high school. Although Adam's father Jay was sick with an inoperable spinal tumor when his son enlisted, he lived long enough to see Adam complete most of his training. After the loss of his father, Adam sought to continue his father's legacy of fighting for our country.

In March 2006, Adam deployed with the 346th Psychological Operations Company to Iraq. Part of the company's job is to help the United States develop relationships with the Iraqi people. Adam handed out candy and soccer balls to Iraqi children, and he ate dinner with Iraqi officials. Adam loved his mission and truly believed in what the military was doing in Iraq.

Indeed, Adam touched countless lives through his service to America and his support of the Iraqi people. Adam would often tell friends that people should focus on the good that individual soldiers were doing in Iraq. It was this optimism and strength that made Adam so special.

Even while serving in Iraq, Adam was still a die-hard fan of Ohio State football. During the Ohio State versus Texas game, he eagerly stayed up until 2 a.m., so he could watch. Adam also scheduled his leave around the Ohio State versus Michigan game, so he could be in Columbus at the time. Adam's goal was to attend The Ohio State University after his military service. I am certain that Adam would have reached this goal, and that his family and friends would have been very proud.

The same qualities that made Adam an outstanding human being made him an exceptional soldier. He was a dedicated and courageous soldier, who was greatly respected by his comrades. When his patrol team found a weapons cache, he was the first person to go through the entrance to the building. Adam's fellow soldiers looked to him for his bravery and support.

Because of his hard work and commitment in the field, Adam was quickly promoted to Sergeant on September 15, 2006, after only three years in the Army. He had told his mother that he had only about another week left of dangerous missions in Baghdad, and then he would be sent back to his unit to train other soldiers.

For his bravery and service to our Nation, Adam received multiple awards, including the Bronze Star, Purple Heart, National Defense Service Medal, Iraqi Campaign Medal, and the Armed Forces Reserve Medal.

MG Herbert Shuler, who commands the Army's Psychological Operations and Civil Affairs and who served with Adam, said this about him: "Every generation has its heroes. Adam Knox is a hero for this generation."

One of Adam's friends and fellow Marines, SGT Travis Watson, spoke at a memorial service in Adam's honor in Iraq. And on an Internet tribute website, Travis left the following message for Adam's family:

I send my sympathies for your loss of Adam. He was a dear friend of all of us at the 346th, and he will be terribly missed. I feel extremely fortunate to have spent the time I did with him and to have deployed with him. He was a very good soldier, and an even better friend.

Adam was an outstanding person—someone who was loved dearly by his family and friends, his fellow servicemembers, the children of Iraq, and simply anyone else who came in contact with him. Adam truly is a symbol of bravery, sacrifice, and honor. We owe it to him to celebrate his life—a life devoted to helping others and keeping us safe. It is in these good deeds that his memory lives on.

Adam Knox was a caring, brave, and selfless man. He will be remembered as a devoted son, a kind brother, and a beloved friend. The world is a better place because of him.

My wife Fran and I continue to keep Adam's mother Deborah and his brothers Tom and Tony in our thoughts and prayers.

CORPORAL ROBERT WEBER

Mr. President, I rise today to pay tribute to a young Ohioan who lost his life while serving our Nation on his second tour of duty in Iraq—Army Corporal Robert Weber, from Western Hills. Corporal Weber was killed on September 30, 2006, when his military vehicle overturned. He was 22 years old.

Mr. President, as a soldier, Corporal Weber took great pride in reconstructing Iraq. He told his family that he and his fellow soldiers were building schools, roads, and churches. He was a brave young man who was deeply committed to serving and aiding our Nation. For his dedicated service in the Army and his unwavering courage, he earned the distinguished Bronze Star Medal.

Robert, who was called “Bobby” by those closest to him, grew up in Delhi Township outside Cincinnati, as the only child of Cathy and Martin Weber. Robin McIntosh, a family friend, describes Bobby as, “a sweet, caring young man, who died doing something he believed in. He knew the risks, but felt he was doing the right thing.”

Bobby was dedicated both to his family and to his country. His aunt, Debbie Niehoff, recalls that Bobby loved children and enjoyed spending time with his younger relatives, wrestling and playing. They all looked up to him.

Bobby’s love and dedication to children compelled him to dream about one day becoming a history teacher. To pursue his goal, he enlisted in the Army several months after graduating from Dater High School in 2003. Mary Ann Ellis, an English teacher at Dater High School who taught Bobby for 2 years, said she enjoyed his quiet nature and thorough work ethic. “He was very giving, loving, and funny,” she described.

Fresh out of basic and advanced training in May 2004, Bobby was assigned to the artillery battalion of the 3rd brigade, based in Fort Lewis, WA. Major Robert Bennett was the artillery battalion’s operations officer at the time. He said this about Bobby:

Weber was one of those kids who never met a stranger in his life. He was outgoing, very friendly. He was just a good kid. He always wanted to be helpful.

Jason Thompson, who served with Bobby, described their time together in a message on an Internet tribute website:

[Bobby] was a very good man. I served with Weber in his first tour to Iraq. He spent a lot of time on my truck as a gunner. He had a wonderful sense of humor and always kept a smile on my face. He will be missed.

Mr. President, between his first and second assignments in Iraq, Bobby stopped by his old high school. By the stories he shared there, you could tell that he really felt like he was doing the right thing. His former teacher, Mary Ann Ellis, explained that “he was very excited about serving his country . . . and proud of the work he was doing.” Principal Beverly Eby remembers that during his visit, Bobby explained to staff that the tour conditions were very hot, but that “he had found his place.”

While e-mailing his family back home, Bobby described his work in his second tour in Iraq as tougher and more dangerous. He worked as a gunner and was put in many difficult situations. But his positive attitude kept him—and his fellow soldiers—going. Major Robert Bennett recalls one of his upbeat moments:

Even if we were in the field, [or] if it was raining like crazy, up to our knees in muck and mud, he’d say “Sir, it rained about five percent less in my tent last night, so I’d say things are looking up!”

Bobby was light-hearted and good-natured. He enjoyed teasing Major Bennett about baseball. Bobby was a fervent fan of the Cincinnati Reds and never missed a chance to rib his senior officer about baseball. Major Bennett remembers, “He used to give me unending grief about my beloved Chicago Cubs.”

Besides his passion for the Cincinnati Reds, Bobby also loved the mountains and talked about living there after this tour of duty was up. His aunt Debbie remembers when Bobby first spoke of joining the military. “I wasn’t thrilled about his decision,” she said. “But, he was very adamant about serving his country.” She remembers how proud Bobby was of the rebuilding work he was doing with the Army.

Of course Debbie, as well as Bobby’s other family and friends, will remember much more than just his bravery and service in Iraq. They will remember his good character and willingness to help anyone in need. Debbie remembers a snowstorm that hit during the 2004 Christmas season. Bobby came over to her house and shoveled her driveway. Afterwards, he went over to his aunt’s neighbor, who was home with her two children, and did the same for her. But he didn’t stop there. “He worked all day helping neighbors,” Debbie recalls.

Bobby and his bright blue eyes are dearly missed. His bravery is matched only by the size of his big heart. He was a good person, who was full of life and had a passion to serve.

I think the marquee outside his high school on the day of his funeral said it best: “Out of our lives. But not out of our hearts.”

Indeed, Mr. President, Bobby Weber will remain always in our hearts.

My wife Fran and I continue to keep his family and friends in our thoughts and prayers.

MASTER SERGEANT BRAD CLEMMONS

Mr. President, I rise today to honor the life of MSgt Brad Clemmons, from Chillicothe, OH. On August 21, 2006, Master Sergeant Clemmons died when his convoy in Iraq was hit by an improvised explosive device. At the time, he had been serving in Iraq for only two weeks. He was 37 years old.

Master Sergeant Clemmons was the husband of Rebecca and the devoted father of Isabelle, Nicholas, and Zachary. He was also the son of David Clemmons and Pamela Clemmons, and the brother of Amy, Shelley, and Michael Clemmons. He is also survived by his grandparents—Cecil and Anne Clemmons, and Richard and Marjorie Graves.

Two days before his death, Brad’s wife Rebecca told him that he was going to be a dad for the fourth time. She remembers that Brad, a doting father, was delighted by the news. It is, indeed, tragic that Brad did not live to see his new baby. However, the child is expected to be born in April, and Rebecca says it will be named Brad if it’s a boy.

Even as a child, Brad felt drawn to the military. His childhood friend Marcus Bost remembers the days when he and Brad would play war games together; that is, if they weren’t already busy chasing snakes or catching crawdads in Stoney Creek. Brad’s mother recalls that her son would even pretend to make bombs out of tubes of Old Spice deodorant.

Explosives interested Brad. And it was this interest that led him to a successful career in the military, where he an explosive ordnance disposal craftsman—someone who helped diffuse bombs.

Brad entered the Air Force in 1987, after graduating from Southeastern High School. He had signed up to join even before his 18th birthday. According to his father, Brad had always known that the military was going to be his career.

Brad was deployed to Iraq as a weapons intelligence flight team leader for the 354th Civil Engineer Squadron, based in Alaska. His work in Iraq was both critical and dangerous. According to LTC Frank Freeman, Brad’s job was to lead his team in collecting crucial evidence and post-blast analysis of improvised explosive devices—IEDs—the number one killer in Iraq. Brad would then take what he learned and teach his fellow servicemen how to remain safe from IEDs.

Lieutenant Colonel Freeman particularly remembers Brad’s leadership capability. During a memorial ceremony for Brad in Iraq, he said the following:

One of his best qualities was [Brad’s] leadership. His team couldn’t wait to get back out after the incident, because they know that is what Sergeant Clemmons would want them to do. In times of war, we see human nature at its extremes. We see it at both its absolute worst and absolute best. Today, we honor one of the best. Brad was a true hero; a hero who put service before self and died in the line of duty.

Lieutenant Colonel Stan Giles, a chaplain, also remembered Brad’s extraordinary bravery, saying this:

Nearly 20 years ago, Brad entered perhaps the most dangerous of all career fields. He became an instructor in the most dangerous of all professions and then volunteered to work in the most dangerous of all neighborhoods here in Iraq.

Brad spent nearly 20 years of his life serving our Nation in the Air Force.

When he died, he was on a mission to analyze two reported IEDs—simply, he was working to keep his fellow servicemembers safe. For his bravery and dedication, Brad received both the Purple Heart and the Bronze Star.

Clearly, Brad was an exceptional Airman, but he was also an exceptional human being. Pastor F. Douglas Hudson is a reserve military chaplain in Rammstein, Germany, where Brad had once been stationed. Hudson came to know both Brad and his wife Rebecca well, and baptized their daughter, Isabelle. Hudson recalls that he was always impressed by Brad's wit, knowledge, and devotion to his family. This is what he said about Brad:

He was always talking about training the soldiers and getting them prepared for the worst-case scenario. If there's one thing I can say about Brad, I'm not sure if he was afraid of anything.

Brad was a wonderful man, completely dedicated to his family and those he loved. His parents recall that he was an honors student who consistently held himself to the very highest standards. Pam remembers, "He was one of the most honest people that I've ever met in my life."

It was while serving in Germany that Brad met Rebecca—the love of his life. She remembers that she was first drawn to Brad because of his way with children. "He was Uncle Brad to everybody," she recalls. As a couple, Brad and Rebecca were always happiest simply spending time with family and friends, doing things like going to church or playing board games.

Before Brad left for Iraq, Rebecca put her feelings into a poem she gave to him. This is what she wrote:

As you leave tomorrow, promise we won't be far apart.

As you leave tomorrow, promise the love will never part.

Brad kept this poem close to him until the day he died. According to Rebecca, "He didn't like you to know he was a sentimentalist. He carried it around in his wallet."

Brad will always be a hero to his family, not just because he served in Iraq, but simply because of his love and compassion. In Rebecca's words, Brad "was a great person. He was a great father, a great husband—a dedicated father, dedicated to serving his country."

Brad's mother remembers his last words to her—"That he loved me," she said. She continued, "And that's one thing that I always knew—that his family and his country were uppermost in his life and God is number one. And my son is with God tonight."

Mr. President, I was fortunate enough to attend the calling hours in Brad's memory. I am honored that I had the opportunity to meet his wife Rebecca, his mother Pam and his father David. As I learned talking to them, Brad Clemmons was, indeed, an exceptional human being, who was loved by his wife, his children, his parents, his family, his friends, his fellow Air Force airmen, and anyone else who met him. His Aunt Jackie Arbaugh remembers that he simply had a magnetic personality. As she put it, "He was a fine young man. He was just loved by everyone who knew him."

Brad Clemmons was a good person—someone who will always be remembered both for his laughter and his intelligence. Because he lived, our world is a better place. My wife Fran and I will continue to keep his family in our thoughts and prayers.

SERGEANT JUSTIN TYLER WALSH

Mr. President, this afternoon I come to the Senate floor to pay tribute to a selfless marine from Cuyahoga Falls, OH—SGT Justin Tyler Walsh. Justin died on October 11, 2006, after he had been critically wounded by an improvised explosive device 1 week earlier in Al Anbar Province in Iraq. Justin was 24 years of age at the time of his death.

Justin enlisted in the Marines shortly after graduating Cuyahoga Falls High School in 2001. Greg Roth, his advanced placement U.S. History teacher, said that Justin had talked about going into the Marines from the time he was a freshman. He had a great sense of humor but a serious side as well. Roth said:

Justin [just] seemed to know what was important and what wasn't. You're talking about a fantastic young man.

At Cuyahoga Falls High, Justin played football. He also wrestled. Don Ross was Justin's football coach there and remembers that Justin was extremely hard working. He recalls this about him:

Justin wasn't your biggest lineman, but he made up for his lack of size with hustle. He always had a tremendous attitude and always had a smile on his face. He was a great kid. As a football coach, you don't always remember all your players. But, he was one of those players who you always remember.

Justin was also involved in the school's student council and was a member of the Latin Club, National Honor Society, and Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Humanities teacher Joel Morgan remembers that Justin was a focused young man who led by example.

I remember his leadership skills in the classroom. He did it in a way that the other students didn't know he was doing it. If you needed him to bail you out of a quiet, non-participating event, you could count on Justin to get the conversation going.

Upon entering the Marines in 2001, Justin trained to become a nuclear, biological, and chemical defense specialist. He was deployed to Kuwait as part of Operation Iraqi Freedom on January 9, 2003. He served for 6 months in his first deployment and returned to Iraq less than 1 year later for his second deployment. It was during this deployment that he was promoted to the rank of sergeant.

Still, Justin pushed himself further. He requested a lateral move within the Marine Corps to the Explosive Ordnance Disposal field where he would be working on bomb disposal.

Justin quickly learned the new skills needed for this job and graduated from EOD school in November of 2005. Eager to continue his service and to utilize his new training, he left for his third Iraq deployment in August 2006. During this time, he conducted numerous EOD combat missions where he rendered safe roadside bombs. Ultimately, though, this was the work that would take Justin's life.

On October 5, 2006, Justin was disassembling a roadside bomb, working to ensure the safety of his fellow marines, as well as other military and civilian personnel. A second roadside bomb in the area detonated, critically wounding Justin. He received medical care both in Iraq and Germany before being transferred to the National Naval Medical Center in Maryland.

Justin died from his wounds on October 11, 2006, with his family and close friends by his side. His father James said his son was proud to be a marine, and he was glad Justin passed away in the country that he died fighting for.

After his death, Justin was honored by his alma mater during their homecoming football game. His jersey number, No. 56, was painted in the end zones and his picture appeared on a giant poster with a banner reading "Fallen Hero."

Those who knew Justin weren't surprised that his leadership skills and selfless nature transferred over to his career as a member of the U.S. Marine Corps. One friend recalled this about him:

Justin had every opportunity to do other things in his life, and he chose to do this. There aren't many kids who want to be a bomb specialist, especially for the Marines.

His brother James said that Justin chose a dangerous position in the EOD unit because "he felt he could save some marines' lives by doing that." James recalled that:

Justin took his job very seriously. But as far as life went, he enjoyed life. He lived in the moment.

He was also selfless. Justin was constantly concerned about the well-being of others, more so than his own. Kara Desmarais, whose husband was stationed with Justin in North Carolina, shared this memory of Justin:

At our cookouts, he was helping me in the kitchen—mostly telling stories or the latest gossip to make me laugh—on the grill helping my husband, or playing with the kids to help out. We are going to miss his funny stories, his laugh, his smile, and, most of all, his friendship.

SGT Jeremy McAbee wrote the following on a tribute Web site to Justin:

Thanks for leading the way and bringing out my true colors. You were always a hero to me, even when I pinned sergeant on you.

Justin is truly a hero. With his selfless courage, leadership, and service, he was the model of what every parent dreams their child will become. Today we remember the sacrifices of this fine marine and resolve that his life will not be forgotten but rather emulated by all who are left behind to cherish his memory.

My wife Fran and I continue to keep Justin's father James, his mom and his stepfather, Terry Walsh-Silvey and Thomas Silvey, brother James, and sister Heather in our thoughts and our prayers.

CAPTAIN MATTHEW C. MATTINGLY

Mr. President, this afternoon I wish to speak in the Senate to honor the life of Army CPT Matthew C. Mattingly from Reynoldsburg, OH. Captain Mattingly, a decorated officer, commanded Troop A of the 1st Squadron, 17th Cavalry Regiment of the 82nd Airborne Division based out of Fort Bragg, NC. On September 13, 2006, he was killed when direct gunfire struck a reconnaissance helicopter he was copiloting near Mosul, Iraq. He was 30 years old.

Growing up in Reynoldsburg, Matt, as his family and friends called him, loved sports, particularly softball and football. And according to his father Dennis, he had a passion for flying ever since he was a small boy. As a student at Reynoldsburg High School, Matt proudly wore No. 63 as a member of the football team. Dan Hoffman, the former principal of Reynoldsburg High, recalls this about Matt:

He was a top-flight kid, the kind of kid you would want defending your country—a solid kid from a solid family.

After graduating from high school, Matt attended Xavier University, where he seized the opportunity to serve his country by joining the Reserve Officers' Training Corps, ROTC. One of Matt's classmates wrote the following in a message posted to an Internet tribute Web site in Matt's honor:

Matt always had a smile on his face and was always having a good time. He loved life, and he loved the Army. I have no doubt that Matt was as superior an officer as he was a superior cadet. I will miss him very much.

Matt graduated from Xavier University in 1998, after which he was commissioned as a second lieutenant and went into the Army. In 1999, he successfully completed aviation officer basic training.

Matt was a committed and dedicated soldier. In 2002, he served in Bosnia with the 25th Infantry Division as part of the NATO stabilization force. In 2003, he deployed to Iraq and served with distinction in the 4th Infantry Division. During his first deployment, his actions earned him the Bronze Star and an Air Medal with Valor honor for his bravery and for his heroism. In 2004, Matt was assigned to the 82nd Combat Aviation Brigade and returned to Iraq.

According to his father, Matt was planning on making the Army his career. Family friend, Beverly Denney, said that Matt saved the lives of several soldiers on the ground during the battle with his helicopter—the battle in which Matt tragically lost his life. In Beverly's words, Matt "was a very kind, considerate, respectable young man. He was truly always thinking about others."

COL Kelly Thomas is the commander of the 82nd Combat Aviation Brigade. This is what Colonel Thomas had to say about Matt:

This is a huge loss. I've known Matt since he was a lieutenant in Sarajevo. He was a professional warrior, a combat veteran, a caring troop commander. He was a dynamic officer. He served his squadron and nation doing what he did best, leading and caring for his troopers.

For his brave actions in Iraq, Matt was awarded the Purple Heart.

Matt had another love besides the military, a love that was strong, and that was for Alicia Burke. This past July, before being deployed to Iraq for a second time, Matt became engaged to Alicia, a captain in the Air Force. She was truly the love of his life.

Matt's family and friends fondly remember his wonderful sense of humor. At the funeral, his sister Michelle read a letter from a first sergeant who had served with him. In the letter, the first sergeant remembered how he would puzzle all day over something Matt had said that morning that seemed particularly smart, only to have Matt tell him that evening that he just made it up.

Those who knew Matt will always remember how he liked to sing karaoke and that he was a fan of the Ohio State University Buckeyes. His sister Michelle will remember him as the best brother she ever could have had—a childhood rival and then a friend and then a role model.

Army Captain Mattingly truly was an extraordinary American. He was a man who loved God, family, and country. Selfless and humble, Matt put the needs and concerns of others above his own.

Sergeant First Class Martinez served with Matt in both Texas and Hawaii. He remembers Matt's caring nature and will always treasure a special hat he gave him. The sergeant said this about his friend:

I'd served with Captain Matthew Mattingly while at Fort Hood, Texas, and in Hawaii, while he was my platoon leader, my mentor, and most of all, my friend. . . . We did learn a lot from each other and even though I'm dealing with this great loss, I'm also celebrating his life and treasuring all the great moments we'd shared. . . . I do promise that you will never be forgotten.

Motivated by a sense of honor and duty, Matt always tried to do what was right and not what was always necessarily easy. We are eternally thankful for Matthew's enduring convictions, his character, and for his service.

I conclude with the words of Matt's sister, Michelle, who wrote the following in tribute to him:

It is overwhelming to know how much Matt was loved by the Army and to know the love from Ohio was the same. I wanted to thank his troop and Officer Quinn for bringing my brother home. My brother loved flying and his family even when we weren't there. The only thing that saddens me is that Matt never got to have a family. He would be a great dad. But knowing that the 1-17 Cavalry was his family gives me great peace. Thank you so much.

My wife Fran and I continue to keep Matthew's family—his father and stepmother, Dennis and Barbara Mattingly, his mother and stepfather, Randi Mattingly and Ron Fridley, his sisters Michelle, Kethryn Mattingly, and his fiancée, CPT Alicia Burke—in our thoughts and in our prayers.

CORPORAL TIMOTHY DAVID ROOS

Mr. President, this afternoon I would like to pay tribute to Marine Cpl Timothy David Roos from Delhi Township, OH. On July 27, 2006, Corporal Roos was killed when an improvised explosive device detonated while he was conducting combat operations in the Al Anbar Province in Iraq. He was 21 years old at the time and just a month away from returning home to Ohio.

Timothy was a vehicle commander for the 2nd Platoon of the 3rd Battalion, 8th Marine Regiment. He joined the Marines with his cousin Jeffrey. He had wanted to be in the Marines ever since he was a very small boy. Timothy's father Rick had also served as a marine and had spent time in Vietnam. His dad remembers how Timothy and his brother Adam would always play in the woods as boys. As Rick recalls:

Timothy always had my old uniforms on, and that's what he wanted to be: A marine.

Timothy's family remembers him as a brave young man who was so proud to be a marine. "He loved doing his job and loved the Marine Corps," his father said.

His brother Adam recalls this about Timothy's career as a marine:

Tim was a great marine. He loved his job. He loved doing it. There really wasn't much that Tim wasn't proud of about his service.

Since joining the Marines in 2003, Timothy had faced major attacks several times. He was deployed to Haiti in the year 2004 and came under fire twice in Iraq in 2005. Just this past May, Timothy's humvee ran over an IED that exploded. All of the marines in the vehicle escaped uninjured.

After the humvee incident, Timothy told a Marine Corps news publication that working as a marine could be frightening. This is what he said:

The explosion shattered all of the glass in the vehicle, popped all 4 doors open, and sent shrapnel ripping through the engine. It's scary, and if you are not scared, there is something wrong with you. But it is our job, so you've got to do it.

Those were very brave words from a young man who was only 21 years old.

Timothy graduated from Oak Hills High School in Bridgetown in 2003. A dedicated swimmer, he still holds some of the local records. Before graduating, Timothy also attended Diamond Oaks Vocational School in Dent, OH, where he studied automotive technology and was active in their Reserve Officer Training Corps Program.

Along with the rest of his family, Timothy was an avid fan of the Green Bay Packers football team. The day before he was killed, he spoke with his father, and they made plans to see a Packers game and to go camping.

Timothy was scheduled to return to Ohio on brief leave so he could see his wife of 3 years, Sara, and their newborn daughter Annaliese, who was born just 2 weeks before he died. Tragically, Timothy never had the chance to—never had the chance to hold his baby girl.

His brother Adam recalls that Timothy was ready to be a dad. He was excited and a bit nervous. Timothy's brother-in-law Brian Pearson remembers how important family was to him. "He was very much looking forward to coming home and seeing his daughter," he says.

Days after Timothy's death, "It's a girl!" signs were still posted around the house. As his wife Sara recalls:

He was all about having a baby from day one. He was just so excited, so excited to be a father.

Sara was indeed the love of Timothy's life. They had been sweethearts ever since their time together at Delhi Junior High School when they sat next to each other in their eighth grade math class. Sara fondly remembers their school days together and the time when Timothy transformed from a quiet boy into a tall man. As she recalls:

My jaw hit the floor when I realized who he was. He was skinny and as handsome as could be.

Timothy and Sara were made for each other. They so enjoyed their time growing up together. Sara often laughs about their punk phase when the two of them sported dyed hair and pierced ears. Outside of the classroom, they often attended concerts together. Sara once commented:

I don't think a lot of people really believe you find your soulmate when you're 17, but we did. I doubt many people ever have what we had.

Timothy and Sara were married just a month before he left for boot camp in North Carolina. While home on leave in March 2006, Timothy visited his old high school. His former teachers there remember him so well. As the school's public relations coordinator Rebecca Beckstedt said:

He felt very connected to the students and staff at Great Oaks. There's nothing harder for a school to lose than a student. It's heartbreaking.

Those who knew Timothy will always remember him for the way he made everyone laugh. At school he had a reputation of being a great kid with a great sense of humor. As his brother Adam said at Timothy's funeral:

He was hilarious. He was always doing something goofy.

Timothy's dedication and sacrifice continue to be an inspiration to those who knew him. Even though he had survived previous attacks and was well aware of the dangers of life in a combat zone, he often spoke of reenlisting. In the words of his brother: "That's why he's my hero."

Adam also knows his brother Timothy died doing what he wanted to do—serving our Nation. In Adam's words:

Deep, deep in Timothy's heart, that's what he wanted to do.

The hundreds of people lining the Delhi Township streets to watch Timothy's funeral procession were equally moved. As the procession passed, 8-year-old Vincent Neely commented that he, too, wants to be a marine when he gets older. "It's the biggest sacrifice anyone can make for anything," he said.

His family friend Diane Heileman said:

It really gets your heart when you know we lost another one, but if it weren't for them, we wouldn't all be here—our freedom, they're protecting all of us.

Indeed, our world is simply a better place because he lived. He was a young man who genuinely loved life and had compassion for others. His dedication to his family, his friends, his fellow marines, his local community, and his country is inspiring.

Let me conclude by mentioning, as I was preparing to speak today in honor of Timothy, I saw in his biography that he had served in Haiti. I recalled when I was there visiting our marines. I went back to some photographs that were taken during a trip that Fran and I took there in 2004. When we were there, we made a point of visiting with the Ohio marines who were serving in Port-au-Prince, Haiti. I went back through the individual pictures we took of them and I found one. I found one that I had taken of Timothy. Here is the picture. I am privileged to have had a brief meeting with Timothy in Port-au-Prince, Haiti. I saw then firsthand the differences our troops were making in Haiti. I know the Chair in his travels and the other Members of the Senate have seen what I have seen when we have seen our troops overseas. They are the best. They are people who are making a difference every single day. Timothy made a difference in Haiti. He made a difference in Iraq. He made a difference wherever he served. Of that, Mr. President, I am certain.

My wife Fran and I continue to keep Timothy, his wife Sara, their daughter Annaliese, his parents, Rick and Janice, and his older brother Adam in our thoughts and in our prayers.

PRIVATE FIRST CLASS JAMES P. "J.P." WHITE, JR.

Mr. President, this afternoon I would like to pay tribute to a remarkable young man, Army PFC James P. "J.P." White, Jr., from Huber Heights, OH. On August 11, 2006, Private White was killed in Afghanistan when enemy forces attacked his platoon with rocket-propelled grenades and small arms fire. He was just 19 years of age at the time of his death.

Mr. President, it is impossible to make sense of the death of anyone so young. J.P. lived a great deal of life in his all too brief 19 years on this Earth. It is important that we recognize that he died for something he believed in, doing an important job he loved. J.P.'s grandmother Amy Phipps perhaps said it best:

J.P. always, always wanted to join the Army. He thought he should protect us by fighting the terrorists. I'm proud of everything he has done. We were very blessed. He gave his life for us.

J.P. was indeed a blessing to all who knew him and to those of us who did not. He was one of those special and courageous individuals who spent his life defending others. And for that, we owe him and his family a debt of gratitude which we simply will never ever be able to repay.

Growing up in a family with a rich military tradition, J.P. knew early on he wanted to serve his country, and he nourished that desire every chance he got. At Wayne High School he joined the Reserve Officers Training Corps where he rose to the rank of cadet captain and class leader his senior year. He captained the Armed Exhibition Drill Team, a unit that he led to within a single point of a trophy in local competition. His friend and teammate, Joshua Shea said:

J.P. was disciplined. He knew what he was doing.

For all of his focus and determination, J.P. was also a very fun-loving person. Like other teenagers, he enjoyed computers, video games, and hanging out with his friends. Many of his friends remember him playing a game which they had improvised. It involved bouncing a racquet ball off a wall using only a player's head. Not surprisingly, J.P. referred to it as "head ball." One of J.P.'s friends, Casey Sullivan, said that underneath the disciplined Army soldier was a big goofball at heart. His friends loved him dearly.

Upon graduation from Wayne High School in 2005, J.P. immediately enlisted in the Army. J.P.'s father James said that they discussed at length his decision to join, but there was never a moment's hesitation on his son's part. As James put it simply: "He was sure."

J.P. joined the military along with a childhood friend, Marine LCpl Ryan Pennington. The two kidded each other all the time about who had joined the better branch of the military. Between a committed Army man and a committed marine, I am not sure this was an argument they would ever resolve, but both knew what it meant and understood what it meant to serve.

Ryan recalled that J.P. was extremely committed to serving and was prepared to make the ultimate sacrifice.

I know J.P. knew the risks. We all do, and we accept them.

In July of 2005, J.P. shipped out for boot camp at Fort Drum in New York. He completed basic and advanced training at Fort Benning, GA, to be an infantryman. He was a member of the 1st Battalion, 32nd Infantry Division, 3rd Brigade Combat Team for the 10th Mountain Division. In March of 2006, his platoon was deployed to Afghanistan as part of Operation Enduring Freedom.

Serving in the field and frontline is precisely what J.P. had envisioned when he was growing up. According to his high school ROTC instructor, SGT Michael Cannon:

J.P. probably could have had any job in the Army. He didn't want a desk job. He was doing exactly what he wanted—combat and convoy operations.

After several months of deployment, J.P. returned home for his sister April's high school graduation in June 2006. Tragically, this would be his last time with his family and friends at home. He left on Father's Day.

Before leaving, J.P. and his father talked about the war and his experience of fighting for our country. In spite of all the danger, J.P. was resolute in his commitment to the fight for freedom. His father said:

He never feared going back. He just told me he was doing his job. He was proud to serve his country. I believe that he's a great hero.

News of J.P.'s death this past August came as shock to all his family and friends. When his father got word, he knew that there was no way he could tell J.P.'s other relatives in Illinois over the telephone. Instead, he got in his car and drove his family the 4 hours from Huber Heights, OH, to Mount Pulaski, IL, to deliver the news in person.

"It was a long ride to be driving and crying," his father said. "He was a wonderful kid—very well behaved and well respected."

J.P.'s life and sacrifice were honored at a funeral on the morning of August 21st at St. Peter Catholic Church in Huber Heights. Reverend Darrell Perry presided over the ceremony. He closed by reminding everyone that "J.P. gave his life doing what he believed in."

With flags flying at half staff throughout Huber Heights, a procession took J.P. to his final resting place at Dayton's National Cemetery, where he was buried with full military honors. During the procession, 30 Patriot Guard Riders from across the State of Ohio joined J.P.'s family. These men came from all over on their bikes to serve as part of a color guard for J.P.

Bryan McCoy, one of the Patriot Guard Riders who joined family and friends at the service, traveled all the way from Akron to pay his respects to J.P. and his loved ones. "I'm too old (to join the fighting overseas)," he said. "I just want to offer my support."

At the Cemetery, BG Joe Orr presented J.P.'s family with the Bronze Star on his behalf for bravery, heroism and meritorious service.

"He's going to be very, very sadly missed," said J.P.'s grandmother Amy. "But we know he's in God's arms."

Yes, J.P. is in God's arms and in the hearts and minds of all who had the good fortune to have known him.

My wife Fran and I continue to keep J.P.'s parents, James and Robin, his sisters April and Denise, and all his family and friends in our thoughts and in our prayers.

LANCE CORPORAL TIMOTHY MICHAEL BELL

Mr. President, I rise today to honor a fellow Ohioan who was killed while serving in Iraq—LCpl Timothy Michael Bell, Jr., from West Chester. Lance Corporal Bell was killed in Iraq, on August 3, 2005, when a roadside bomb exploded underneath his military vehicle. He was 22 years old.

Timothy Bell—"Tim" to family and friends—was a man who greatly respected his country—a man who was proud of every day he served our Nation as a Marine. As Greg McDaniel, Pastor at Impact Baptist Church, said about Tim:

He loved the Marine Corps. [Tim] always said, "I want to be a [Marine]." The day he graduated from boot camp, he told his mother, "This is why I was born. This is my destiny."

From the time he was 6 years old, Tim knew that he wanted to be a Marine. His room was full of Marine posters and memorabilia, and a camouflage Marine blanket even covered his bed. For Tim Bell, there was never any question of what he wanted to be when he grew up.

Most Ohioans know Tim's family as a baseball family. His uncle Buddy was a star player for the Cleveland Indians and the Cincinnati Reds, and I remember his grandfather Gus was a star player for the Reds when I was a kid. Buddy currently manages the Kansas City Royals. Tim's cousins, David and Michael Bell, also played Major League Baseball.

But, there is another uniform that has been very important in the Bell family—and that is the uniform of the U.S. Marine Corps. Two of Tim's uncles and an aunt wore the Marines' uniform. While many boys dream of becoming professional athletes, Tim saw his relatives in their military uniforms and decided that he wanted to be just like them—that joining the military was going to be his dream. Tim's admiration for these family members, including his grandfather, who had served in the Navy, compelled him to follow in their footsteps.

Those at Lakota East High School, where Tim graduated in 2003, remember that Tim always displayed a strong affinity for military service. In fact, he enlisted even before he graduated. Principal Ruth Barber said that "when Tim settled his mind on being a Marine, he couldn't wait to serve his country."

When the news came that Tim was shipping overseas, his family and friends remember that he was excited to go. When his parents dropped him off in Columbus for training with Lima Company, Tim told them that this was simply what he was born to do.

Before leaving for Iraq, Tim gave his father something special for safekeeping—his Marine Corps ring. "Wear this until I come home," he told his dad. Well, Mr. President, Tim Bell, Sr. wore that ring every day his son was in Iraq—and will continue to wear it every day.

Tim's discipline was extraordinary. Not only did he undergo military training, but he also had a black belt in judo. He did not express fear, and he never doubted his purpose as a marine.

During one phone call home, Tim proudly told his father that their battalion commander had said they were the most active company since the Vietnam War. According to his dad, "They were busy every day fighting. Every day."

Tim was scheduled to return home in September 2005. He was thinking of buying a motorcycle was looking forward to visiting family in Kansas City. Nothing was more important to Tim than family. While at Marine base camp, he would call his father about once a week. He would relive the excitement of his adventures over the phone, but also always took the time to ask how his parents and siblings were doing.

"It seemed he was more concerned about me than himself," his dad recalls. "The concern was how everybody was doing. Every conversation I had with him ended with 'I love you dad' and 'I love you Timmy.' Every conversation. I am going to miss those calls."

Tim's dad went on to say:

My son was a brave and wonderful man. All he ever wanted to do was be a Marine. He felt like it was an extremely important job. I was fortunate to get to tell him that I loved him every week when he called.

Tim's stepmother Vivian said this about Tim:

Tim is a hero and we are proud of him. He liked to live and just do what he wanted to do. He didn't think about danger or anything like that or consequences. When he wanted to do something and thought it was something worth doing, he just stuck to it.

In addition to the weekly phone calls home, Tim also exchanged e-mails and instant messages over the computer with his sister Jamie. He shared with her his plans to return to Iraq for another tour of duty. He believed strongly in his role in Iraq.

"He was there for a reason," his dad said. "Everybody needs to know that. And it's not just my son—it's all the young men and women over there. They're over there for each and every one of us."

On a night shortly after Tim's death, the Kansas City Royals honored him with a moment of silence before the game. The stadium announcer asked everyone to remember the United States Marines from Lima Company who had been killed in Iraq. He particularly asked the stadium to remember the sacrifice of Tim Bell, the nephew of Royals manager Buddy Bell.

According to Mike Sweeny, the team captain for the Royals, the moment of silence for the slain marines had a special meaning for them. "It was the most meaningful moment of silence I've had since we resumed play after 9-11," he recalled.

Tim Bell lived the Marine credo—he was always faithful—faithful to his family, faithful to the Marine Corps, and faithful to our country. His father described him as the "last of the John Waynes, but tougher." Tim loved the Marines and the reason they serve.

We celebrate the life of this brave young man and honor his dedication to preserving our freedom and liberty. Fran and I continue to keep the family and friends of LCpl Timothy Bell in our thoughts and prayers.

MAJOR MICHAEL D. STOVER

Mr. President, I rise today to pay tribute to a fellow Ohioan—Marine MAJ

Michael D. Stover from Mansfield. Major Stover died on June 3, 2006, while serving his second tour of duty in Iraq. He was the executive officer for the Marine Wing Support Squadron 374, based in Twentynine Palms, CA. He was 43 years old.

Major Stover is survived by his sister and his brother-in-law, Cheryl and Kim Meister, and by his brother, retired MAJ Edward Allen Stover. He also leaves to cherish his memory many nieces and nephews, aunts, uncles, and cousins. He is preceded in death by his parents LaVern "Smoky" and Doris Stover.

Michael Stover craved adventure from the time he was a boy. His sister Cheryl remembers that her baby brother's nickname was "Monkey," "because he was always falling out of trees, breaking his arm, riding bicycles and flying over the handlebars and ending up in hospitals." Michael grew up an avid outdoorsman, joining the Boy Scouts and quickly rising in their ranks. He wrestled while in junior high and always sought out physical activities that pushed him as an individual.

In 1980, Michael graduated from Malabar High School in Mansfield. Michael was an excellent student and though there were many career paths he could have chosen, his older sister and brother weren't surprised when he decided to enlist in the Marines. They had watched him grow up and knew that the Marines provided the kind of adventure and physical challenge he had always loved. As his sister Cheryl explained: "Anything that was exciting or extreme, Michael had to be involved in."

Although Michael's parents—aware of their son's love for books and literature—were initially skeptical of his decision to become a Marine, it quickly became a source of pride for them. Michael remained close to his family throughout his time in the service, calling and writing frequently.

After enlisting, Michael reported for recruit training at Parris Island in January 1981. This was only his first step in a military career that exemplified the core Marine values of honor, courage, and commitment.

Books and reading had always been important to Michael, and as a Marine he was able to use his talent for writing and communicating. He was designated a Public Affairs Marine and underwent training at the Defense Information School, where he learned how to tell the stories of the U.S. Marine Corps. He then completed an enlisted tour with the Fleet Hometown News Center in Norfolk, VA, which sends out press releases on Marine achievements.

According to his brother Edward, Michael hadn't joined the Marines intending to make the military his career. But, he fell in love with the service and decided to stay so that he could become an officer. He accepted a Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps Marine Option scholarship and was released from active duty so that he could attend the Ohio State University.

Not surprisingly, Michael was a leader at OSU. He became a residential assistant, a position in which he was an important role model for incoming freshmen. It was his job to guide those younger than he and used his Marine training to do it. His residents looked up to him, not only as a resource, but also as a friend and even a big brother.

Michael graduated from OSU in 1990 with a bachelor of arts degree in journalism. He was then commissioned as a Marine Corps 2LT and became a logistics officer in an engineer support battalion—eventually serving as platoon and then company commander.

After then being promoted to Captain, Michael served as a logistics officer while also attending the Amphibious Warfare School from July 1994 to June 1997. From 1998–2005, he then served in different capacities in California, Hawaii, and Arizona. Throughout these years, Michael was a leader and an educator for young marines, helping to shape and mold the following generation.

Lieutenant Chris Kaprielian was just one of the many young marines who Major Stover inspired. This is how he described his former commander:

[Major Stover] was like a father to our [operations] section. The amount of knowledge he brought in from his prior experiences in the Marine Corps was incredible. Like a father, he looked out for the men in his command. And like a father, he was very demanding.

He particularly remembers Major Stover's commitment to duty. "We all worked really long hours," he said, "but he was there before anyone else and stayed even later. I never knew anyone who worked as hard as he did."

Michael was serving as the executive officer for the Marine Wing Support Squadron 371 when the squadron was deployed to Iraq in February 2005. After returning to the United States the next September, he was then temporarily assigned to another squadron in October. The Marine Wing Support Squadron 374 was preparing to deploy to Iraq—and Major Stover was needed to help prepare the marines for war.

His sister Cheryl remembers his exact words. "It's my job," he said. "If I don't go, young Marines will be dying. I can go and prevent their deaths." No other words better represent Major Stover's selfless and compassionate commitment to the young men and women whom he could train to become excellent marines. With his actions, he was saving lives every day.

The day Michael died, our Nation tragically lost a wonderful brother, a caring mentor, and a truly outstanding marine. At the time of his death, Michael had been recently selected for promotion to the rank of lieutenant colonel. His brother Edward—a retired major with the Ohio National Guard—knew it was a promotion that he richly deserved. It would have been the first time that Michael outranked his older brother. Edward eagerly anticipated his brother's promotion. "You'll never know how proudly I looked forward to that time," he said.

Major Stover's 26-year career of leadership and fortitude earned him more decorations and honors than I can name here. They include the Meritorious Service Medal, three Navy and Marine Corps Commendation Medals, and the Iraq Campaign Medal. But his best reward, perhaps, is simply the respect and admiration felt by all who knew him.

At Michael's funeral, numerous mourners gathered to pay their respects to the departed marine, paying tribute to the lifetime he spent teaching the young marines who would come after him. Reverend David Pound said that Michael "took great pride in the young Marines that he could teach and develop." And, LTC Phillip Woody, Michael's commanding officer, said this:

The only way for a mortal man to be immortal is to teach. Those you teach will remember you forever. Mike will be remembered forever. It was an honor to call him a friend. It was an honor to call him a comrade.

The world is a better place since Michael Stover has been in it. He was a brave man, with a genuine commitment to service, leadership, education, and excellence. His dedication to his country was tremendous and his commitment to his fellow service members was unparalleled. My wife Fran and I continue to keep his family in our thoughts and prayers.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. VOINOVICH). The Senator from Nebraska.

Mr. HAGEL. Mr. President, I ask I be allowed to speak as in morning business for up to 15 minutes.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

RETIRING SENATORS

Mr. HAGEL. Mr. President, I have listened carefully to our colleague from Ohio, spending his few minutes in the Senate talking about brave men and women who serve our country. It is the mark of our colleague from Ohio, the kind of person he is—not just the kind of Senator he is—that he would come to the floor of the Senate in his last few days as a Member of this institution and focus on others, focus on those who have given the ultimate for their families, for our country and for our future. It shows us, once again, that Senator DEWINE is the consummate Senator.

I am here this afternoon to recognize and thank and pay tribute to our colleagues who will be leaving the Senate. They are a varied group. Again, I can think of no finer example of this group of public servants than one of Senator DEWINE's last speeches in the Senate to recognize others.

I thank you, Senator DEWINE, for your service.

As we recognize, it is a distinct privilege and high honor to serve our country. It is a distinct privilege and high honor to serve our country in any capacity, and certainly none higher than in uniform. But it is especially important we recognize those who have given years of their lives, sacrificing their families, their own time, to help make a better world for all of us. I know of no capacity in which we serve our country that has given those who have had this rare opportunity to serve in the Senate anything more noble than trying to shape a better world from this Senate.

These individuals who will leave the Senate, some on their own terms, some on the terms of the election, but, nonetheless, in their own specific way have contributed a great deal to this country.

I take a few minutes to recognize each. I start with our colleague, your dear friend, former lieutenant governor, the senior Senator from Ohio. I need not tell the distinguished Presiding Officer what Senator DEWINE has meant to his State and to this country. I had the privilege of serving on the Intelligence Committee with Senator DEWINE for 4 years. I have teamed up with Senator DEWINE over the years on many legislative matters. I don't know of an individual who cares more, contributes more, to what they believe, than Senator DEWINE. His years of service in the House, the Senate, and as lieutenant governor are to be recognized. We should thank him and tell him that we will miss him and we will especially miss a friend.

Senator PAUL SARBANES, the longest serving Senator in Maryland, serving five terms in the Senate, was elected to the U.S. House of Representatives in 1970. I first got acquainted with Senator SARBANES not as a Senator but as a young staff member, chief of staff to a congressman from Nebraska, John McCollister, who also had been elected to the House in 1970.

I have had the privilege of serving on two committees for the last 10 years with Senator SARBANES—on the Foreign Relations Committee and the Committee on Banking. His courtesies to me, his sharp, defined intellect, his ability to dissect problems and focus on a resolution, will be greatly missed in this institution. We wish the Sarbanes continued success and a little rest.

Senator JIM JEFFORDS, from Vermont. Not many former chief justices of their State have served in this Senate. He is one. Senator JEFFORDS, in his long, distinguished service to our country, served as Chief Justice of the Vermont Supreme Court, served in the House of Representatives, and then served here in the Senate. He served our country in the U.S. Navy. JIM JEFFORDS' life has been about service.

I had an opportunity to get acquainted particularly with Senator JEFFORDS and work closely with him on the Individuals with Disability Education Act, IDEA. There has been no one in this Senate over the last 25 years more committed to education for our young people than JIM JEFFORDS. We will miss JIM JEFFORDS.

Senator CONRAD BURNS. The best thing we can say about Senator BURNS is he married a girl from Nebraska. His wife Phyllis is from North Platte. Senator BURNS represents some of the best the West has to offer. He will be the longest serving Republican Senator in Montana history. His background is varied: distinguished entrepreneur, broadcaster, and that which he is most proud of, a U.S. marine.

I have had the honor of working with Senator BURNS on a number of bills and occasions, many related to agriculture and the cattle industry. For Senator BURNS' service to our country, we thank him. We will miss him.

Senator RICK SANTORUM one of the leaders of the majority in the Senate the last few years, from Pennsylvania, came to the Senate in 1994 and helped shape a different agenda. He believed fervently in the power of the institution to change the world and felt deeply about issues.

I served on the Committee on Banking with Senator SANTORUM for many years and came to respect the junior Senator from Pennsylvania. I have a high regard for his ability to work through the big issues.

For service to our country, both the House and the Senate, thank you, Senator SANTORUM. We will miss you.

Senator LINC CHAFEE. Senator CHAFEE comes from a long line of public servants from the State of Rhode Island. The name "Chafee" is a famous name in this institution. His father John Chafee was one of the great Senators in this Senate in the 20th century. LINC picked up where his father left off.

I had the opportunity to serve with Senator CHAFEE on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. We sat next to each other for many years. He had a keen ability to cut through the fog, the nonsense, the superficial, the obsequious, and get to the real issues. We will miss that ability. We will miss that laser. I am sorry to see Senator CHAFEE leave. He will continue to serve his country in many areas as he has done before his service in the Senate.

Senator GEORGE ALLEN. We will miss footballs. Many of my colleagues received footballs. He was a quarterback for the Cavaliers at the University of Virginia and he could throw almost as well as even a Nebraska quarterback.

Senator ALLEN, for a very young man, has a very distinguished record of public service, serving as the Governor of the great State of Virginia, serving in the House of Representatives, serving in the U.S. Senate. I served on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee with Senator ALLEN for many years, and I will miss his ability to say it clearly and plainly. And his leadership position within the Republican majority, which he served so ably, will be missed.

Senator MARK DAYTON from Minnesota, a neighbor. I served on two committees with Senator DAYTON, the Rules Committee and the Foreign Relations Committee. He is a unique individual who served in many ways, beginning with his service to Senator and then Vice President Walter Mondale. Senator DAYTON has a rich history and understanding of this institution and his State. We will miss Senator DAYTON's character, his ability to also cross party aisles and help resolve the issues of our day.

Senator JIM TALENT from Missouri has had 14 years of service in the House and Senate. I worked very closely with Senator TALENT on his bill, the Combat Methamphetamine Act. I believe it is one of the most significant, relevant, important bills to pass the 109th Congress. He, too, will be missed. No one worked harder than Jim Talent for the interests of his State. He understands agriculture, he understands energy like very few in his State. He began his service to his country and to the State of Missouri at the age of 28, when he was elected to the House of Representatives. We will continue to hear more from JIM TALENT.

I conclude my recognition of our colleagues who will be leaving us at the end of this Congress by recognizing our leader, Senator BILL FRIST, from Tennessee.

Senator FRIST has been referred to, as we all are, in many ways and in many terms. "Renaissance man" has been one of those terms that have described BILL FRIST. This is a unique individual. This is a man whose life has much been about serving others.

For his leadership in the Senate during a very difficult time, this body owes him a great deal of thanks and gratitude. He will go on to continue to do significant things with his ability, his talent, his life, and we wish him well. We will miss him. We will miss his ability to, in an always steady way, help reach a consensus.

Mr. President, in conclusion, it is not easy to put one's self on the firing line and offer one's self as a candidate for any office. It takes a certain amount of courage and, I suspect, a little dose of insanity. But nonetheless individuals who believe deeply enough to commit themselves to a cause greater than their own self-interests need to be recognized. Having nothing to do with me or you or any one individual, but it is the essence of our country, it is the very fabric of our democracy that makes it all work and probably gives rise to, more than any one reason, why we have been such a successful nation for over 200 years—because people from all walks of life, in every community, in every State, offer themselves for office. Whether it is a mayor, a Governor, city councilman, county official, a sheriff, these individuals deserve recognition.

We all make mistakes. That is who we are. But in the end, it is not unlike what Teddy Roosevelt once referred to in his magnificent quote about the man in the arena. And it is the man and the woman in the arena who change our lives. It makes a better world that shapes history, that defines our destiny. And for these individuals who will no longer have that opportunity to serve our country in the Senate, we wish them well, we thank them, and we tell them we are proud of them and their families and wish them Godspeed.

Mr. President, I thank you for the time and yield the floor.

(1) the United States cattle industry produces abundant, safe, and healthful food for consumers in the United States and around the world;

(2) Japan prohibited imports of beef from the United States during the period beginning December 2003 and ending December 2005, after a single case of Bovine Spongiform Encephalopathy (BSE, or “mad cow disease”) was found in a Canadian-born animal in Washington State;

(3) the United States has implemented and maintained a BSE surveillance and safeguard program that exceeds the internationally recognized standards of the World Organization for Animal Health (OIE) for BSE control, eradication, and testing to protect human and animal health;

(b) It is the sense of the Senate that if, by the date of enactment of this Act, Japan does not permit the importation of beef from the United States, additional tariffs on selected articles that are grown by, the products of, or manufactured by Japan and that enter the customs territory of the United States should be imposed until Japan permits the importation of beef from the United States.

This Act may be cited as the "Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 2007".

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Utah.

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. President, today I am pleased to bring H.R. 5384, the fiscal year 2007 Agriculture appropriations bill, to the Senate for its consideration. It was written after carefully examining the administration's budget proposal, holding a number of hearings, and receiving significant input from Senators and other stakeholders. It was approved unanimously by the subcommittee on June 20 and reported to the Senate by the full committee on June 22. The bill is the product of a completely bipartisan effort.

I thank Senator KOHL and his excellent staff for their hard work. We have established a pattern of bipartisanship in this subcommittee which we are delighted has continued on in this bill as well.

The bill is commonly known as the Agriculture appropriations bill, but its impact goes far beyond the farms and ranches of the United States. The largest portion of the funding in this bill goes to nutrition and food programs for mothers and children, low-income individuals, and senior citizens. It also funds the agencies which conduct vital agricultural research, protect America's food and drug supply, conserve soil and water resources and wildlife habitat, and promotes the economic development of rural America. It is, indeed, a far-reaching measure.

The bill the Senate is now considering totals approximately $98.3 billion in mandatory and discretionary funding. Of this amount, $18.2 billion is for discretionary funding, fully utilizing the 302(b) allocation which we were given.

To touch on a few of the highlights, specifically, the bill increases funding by 5 percent for the land grant colleges, historically Black land grant institutions, Hispanic serving institutions, forestry schools, and the National Research Initiative. This is the first substantial increase in the formula funds since I took over the chairmanship of the Agriculture Subcommittee in these areas.

It restores funding for the Commodity Supplemental Food Program to $108.3 million and funds the Women, Infants, and Children Program at $5.264 billion, fully meeting the estimated caseload requirements. It allows the enrollment of 250,000 acres in the Wetlands Reserve Program and restores the Grazing Lands Conservation Initiative.

Further, it provides for new research into renewable energy and $25 million in renewable energy loans and grants. It fully funds the President's request for avian influenza at USDA and FDA. It maintains the safest food supply in the world by fully funding the Food Safety Inspection Service.

And it speeds the approval of generic drugs to the marketplace by increasing the Office of Generic Drugs at the FDA by 10 million.

All in all, I believe this is a bill Members can be proud of, and I am happy to bring it to the floor.

At this point, I am happy to yield so we can hear from the distinguished ranking member of the subcommittee, with whom we have worked so close over these last 4 years, Senator KOHL.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Wisconsin.

Mr. KOHL. Thank you, Mr. President and Chairman BENNETT.

I rise today in support of H.R. 5384, which is the fiscal year 2007 appropriations bill for Agriculture, Rural Development, and Related Agencies.

This year, the Agriculture Subcommittee received an allocation of $18.2 billion. While this was an increase of approximately $1.1 billion over last year, the increase was largely absorbed by scorekeeping adjustments driven by the 2006 budget reconciliation bill. However, the increased allocation, while certainly not a windfall, was certainly a help in writing a good bill, allowing us to restore programs the administration proposed to eliminate and provide other critical programmatic increases.

I believe that Senator BENNETT and his staff did an excellent job of balancing limited funding with important priorities, and I strongly encourage all Senators to support this bill. I will briefly discuss some of the highlights of the bill.

Avian flu, while it has not maintained the level of public attention that it commanded earlier this year, is nevertheless, still a threat to our agricultural sector and to public health, and this bill provides an increase of more than $110 million in various accounts for research, regulatory programs, and vaccine-related funding for highly pathogenic avian flu. This funding is essential to helping prevent the spread of avian flu, as well as increasing research in order to contain it where necessary.

The Food Safety and Inspection Service, charged with ensuring that the United States continues to have the safest food supply in the world, received the full funding amount requested by the President. This includes increased funding for food safety inspection, the food emergency response network, and information technology costs.

The Food and Drug Administration received an increase of approximately $100 million above last year's level, including increases of more than $5 million for food defense, nearly $4 million for drug safety, and $50 million for pandemic flu preparedness.

I thank Senator BENNETT for working with me on one of my highest priorities for this bill, to give the Office of Generic Drugs at FDA a $10 million increase over the President's budget, which brings total funding for the Office of Generic Drugs to nearly $40 million, and total funding for generic drug approvals within FDA to nearly $75 million. I believe this increase is an important step and I will continue to work to ensure that FDA has the resources necessary to decrease the growing backlog of generic drug applications within the FDA and to make lower-cost generic drugs available to consumers as early as possible.

In the area of nutrition, the bill provides $5.264 billion, an increase of $64 million above the President's request, for the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children, WIC, Program. This will fully fund WIC; and the committee did not accept the President's plans to limit WIC eligibility and to reduce funding to carry out the program. The bill also restores funding for the Commodity Supplemental Food Program, which the President proposed to eliminate.

For the foreign assistance programs, the committee included an increase of $86 million for international humanitarian food assistance—providing U.S. commodities to fight hunger throughout the world—under Public Law 480 title II. With major crises facing us throughout the world and emergency relief demands continuing to rise, it is extremely important that this program is funded at the highest possible level. Mr. President, $100 million is provided for the McGovern-Dole Food for Education Program. This program provides what is oftentimes the only meal a child receives in a day, and is used to encourage children, especially girls, to come to school in developing countries.

In conservation accounts, no limitation is provided on the Conservation Security Program or the Wetlands Reserve Program. The Natural Resources Conservation Service also received a slight increase. Funding for Conservation Operations was increased by $4 million over last year's level; Watershed and Flood Prevention Operations received over $62 million; the Healthy Forests Reserve Program received $5 million; and funding for Watershed Surveys and Planning, the Watershed Rehabilitation Program, and Resource Conservation and Development was maintained at last year's level.

Agricultural research accounts within USDA also received an increase of approximately $30 million. This includes increases for both competitively awarded research grants and formula-based funding for land grant universities and minority serving institutions.

In rural development, the Rural Community Advancement Program received an increase of nearly $20 million over last year's funding—and $114 million over the President's request—to provide assistance for infrastructure and essential community facilities in rural communities. This includes restoring significant cuts for water and wastewater utility systems in rural communities. The Renewable Energy Program was funded at twice the level proposed by the administration, allowing for critical work on ethanol and other alternative fuels. The committee did not accept the President's proposal to eliminate the section 515 Direct Rental Housing loan program which since 1963 has provided construction and rehabilitation of affordable housing for rural families and elderly residents with very low to moderate incomes. That administration budget submission is the first proposal to dispose of this program since its inception.

Overall, as I said earlier, I think that Senator BENNETT has done a good job in making sure that this bill balances limited funding and multiple priorities. I would like to thank Senator BENNETT, for putting together an excellent bill, as well as Fitz Elder, IV, who has done a superb job during his first year as clerk of the subcommittee, Dianne Preece, Stacy McBride, and Graham Harper. Senator BENNETT has assembled a smart, hard-working staff who are always professional and work seamlessly with my staff, something for which I am very grateful. I strongly support this bill, and I encourage all Senators to vote in favor of it.

Thank you, Mr. President. I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Utah.

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. President, I thank Senator KOHL for his comments and once again pay tribute to the spirit of bipartisanship he and I have been able to maintain. I appreciate his kind words about the staff and the attempts we have made to integrate both staffs so we have had the kind of professional result to which he has referred.

Now, pursuant to the unanimous consent agreement that is in place, I understand the first order of business will concern agricultural disaster assistance. So I now ask further unanimous consent that once the Conrad amendment is offered to the Agriculture appropriations bill, the time until 5 o'clock be equally divided in the usual form, with a vote occurring in relation to the Conrad amendment at 5 o'clock today, with no second-degree amendments in order to the amendment prior to the vote. Now, I would add that we do expect a budget point of order to be raised, and therefore the vote is likely to be on the motion to waive the budget, assuming that is done.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. BENNETT. With that, Mr. President, I yield the floor. I see Senator CONRAD is in the Chamber prepared to discuss his amendment and expect that probably will take the remainder of the time until we come to the vote.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from North Dakota.

Mr. CONRAD. Mr. President, I thank my colleagues, the chairman and ranking member of the Agriculture Appropriations Subcommittee, for the many courtesies extended to those of us who are seeking to get a vote on disaster assistance this year. My colleagues, the chairman and ranking member, Senators BENNETT and KOHL, have been generous and kind with respect to allowing this amendment to be considered, and we deeply appreciate it. We certainly will not forget it.

The matter before the body is the fundamental question of whether there is going to be disaster assistance to this Nation's farmers and ranchers this year.

I also thank Senator FRIST for allowing us to take up the Agriculture Appropriations bill today, allowing me to offer this amendment to provide agricultural disaster assistance for our farmers and ranchers. It took a bit of a struggle to achieve this result, to get this opportunity, but Senator FRIST has been exceptionally kind throughout this discussion and willing to have the Senate discuss this matter.

Some of my colleagues may ask: Senator, the majority has already indicated they do not intend to finish appropriations bills so what is the point of this vote?

Well, that is a good question. When we sought this vote, we did not know that the Agriculture appropriations bill would then not be completed. We did not know that there was going to be an intention to stop work on appropriations bills, to leave that all until next year. We did not know that. So we were working in good faith to put this before the body as a matter that is urgently needed by tens of thousands of farm families all across America. So why go on with the debate and the vote today if this bill is not going to be completed? There is one very good reason: Depending on how close this vote is, farmers and ranchers and their bankers will at least have an idea of whether there is the prospect for disaster assistance next year. It is going to require a supermajority vote today for us to prevail because the other side is going to offer a budget point of order. That is their right. If we are close to the 60 votes, then farmers and ranchers can assume there is a pretty good likelihood of disaster assistance next year. If we are not close to 60, then they will be safe in concluding the prospects, although still possible, are certainly more remote.

Why is this important? Because literally tens of thousands of farm and ranch families will not be able to go on without disaster assistance. In my own State, the independent bankers of North Dakota were meeting in my office when Mr. Hubbard, chief economic adviser, came to see me on a separate matter. I asked Mr. Hubbard to go into the conference room to listen to these independent bankers, 11 or 12 of them from across the State of North Dakota. They told Mr. Hubbard clearly and directly: If there is no disaster assistance forthcoming, 5 to 10 percent of the farm and ranch families in North Dakota will be forced off the land. That is how serious the current circumstance is. It is why we come on an emergency basis for this funding.

Let me indicate that this disaster approach will cost $4.8 billion. That is much less than disaster packages in 2000 and 2001, about a third of what disaster packages were in those years. But it is critically important. Why? Because in 2005 and 2006, we had a series of natural disasters across this country that were not covered in any way. The last disaster package that actually went through only applied to hurricanes. Those who suffered from drought, from flooding, were excluded. They were given no help.

Let me show the headlines from my State from last year: "North Dakota Anthrax Outbreak Grows"; "Rain Halts Harvest"; "North Dakota Receives Major Disaster Declaration"; "Heavy Rain Leads to Crop Diseases"; "Beet Crop Could Be Smallest In 10 Years"; "Crops, Hay Lost to Flooding"; "Area Farmers Battle Flooding, Disease".

These are only a handful of the headlines from that year. Here is a picture of a farm. Last year I flew over southeastern North Dakota, and it looked like a giant lake because farm after farm looked like this—water from one horizon to the other. In the southeastern part of North Dakota, there was massive flooding. A million acres were prevented from even being planted. Hundreds of thousands of additional acres were ultimately drowned out. In other words, they could plant, they did plant, and then the crops were drowned out.

This was a devastating year for thousands of farm families. I had a young farmer, one of the best in our State, come to a farm meeting I held. He told me: Senator, unless something happens, a lot of my neighbors are going to be gone, because we have had such an extraordinarily unusual weather cycle in North Dakota.

That young man told me he has not had a normal crop in 6 years. He is not alone. I don't know whether it is global climate change or this is some very unusual weather pattern, but something is happening in my State, something that is dramatic and unusual and devastating to thousands of agricultural producers. We have a lake in North Dakota called Devil's Lake. Devil's Lake has risen 26 feet in the last 8 years. Devil's Lake is three times the size of the District of Columbia, and that lake has risen 26 feet in the last 8 years. I don't know how one would describe this, but it is outside any experience I have had to have a giant lake rise 26 feet.

Three years ago in a small town in eastern North Dakota, we had 18.5 inches of rain in a 24-hour period, in a place that only receives that amount of moisture in a year. Something extraordinary is happening. The question is, will there be any Federal response or are we going to say, Tough luck, you are on your own, you are out?

Irony of ironies, after the massive flooding of last year, after the extended flooding in eastern North Dakota of the last 7 or 8 years, this year drought struck, the third worst drought, according to scientists, in our country's history. That is what happened this year. And so instead of headlines about flooding, this is the headline: "Dakotas 'epicenter' of a drought-stricken nation." This is a report from the Grand Forks Herald, one of the major newspapers of our State; in fact, a Pulitzer Prize-winning newspaper for covering the disastrous flooding of 1997, which many will recall, when we had the spectacle of a fireman chest deep in water fighting a fire. The 1997 flood was the worst flood in 500 years in eastern North Dakota. And now that newspaper is reporting on the "epicenter of a drought-stricken nation."

They say here more than 60 percent of the United States is in drought. And we can see the epicenter is in South Dakota. But we are by no means alone because right down the center of the country, right down the heartland of America, is terrible drought this year, the third worst drought in our history.

"Experts say dry spell third worst on record." The only worse droughts were the horrendous droughts of the 1930s, which we refer to now as the Dust Bowl, and the extended drought of the 1950s. Some who are listening may ask, why haven't we heard about this? Why hasn't this been on the national news?

I think we all know why. Go back to 2005 and 2006. The disasters that were in the news were Hurricanes Rita and Katrina. That is what was in the news. And we have responded to those disasters. We have not responded to this disaster because, frankly, it has gotten very little attention.

This will be the last opportunity for the Senate to act on this important issue. Producers across the country can look to this vote today and be able to determine whether the prospects are hopeful. If we get close to the 60 votes or hopefully achieve a 60-vote hurdle, then the possibility of disaster assistance next year is brightened. If we do not come close, then tens of thousands of farm families are going to be at their bankers in the coming weeks, and they are going to be given the grim news that they are done; they are finished; they will not be able to continue.

For over a year I, along with many Senate colleagues from both sides of the aisle, have been coming to the floor of the Senate seeking to pass disaster assistance for our farmers. Today I come with a bill cosponsored by 27 of my colleagues and myself. That makes 28 of us. On a thoroughly bipartisan basis, we have joined to urge our colleagues to consider disaster assistance. Last spring, as part of the hurricane supplemental, the Senate approved an agricultural disaster package for the 2005 crop year. That measure was later dropped in conference due to opposition from the administration and House leadership. The amendment I am offering today is similar to the bipartisan disaster relief legislation I introduced on September 28 of 2006.

The need for this amendment is compelling. I think my previous remarks made clear why it is so important in my State. It is not just my State. It is North Dakota, Montana, Minnesota, South Dakota, Wyoming, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Texas, Colorado. There are many States that have been affected. In my State, in July I went on a drought tour with my colleague Senator DORGAN and our Congressman. This is my home county. This is a cornfield in July. You have heard the old saw that corn should be knee high by the Fourth of July. You can see there is almost nothing coming up. It is a moonscape. This is what southern North Dakota looked like this year, absolutely devastated.

I even went to a farm where they had irrigated corn. The farmer took me out and we started peeling the ears. And on irrigated corn, the kernels hadn't filled. Why? Because in one day, it was 112 degrees in my hometown. I am not talking about the heat index; I am talking about the actual temperature—in one day, 112 degrees.

When I say North Dakota is not alone, this is from the Drought Monitor from July 25 of this year. The yellow areas are termed abnormally dry; the tan areas are moderate drought; the darker tan, severe drought; the red is extreme drought; the dark brown is exceptional drought. You can see that we have had drought throughout the heartland of America—as I have indicated, the third worst drought in our Nation's history.

Others are communicating with us, telling us of the urgent need for this assistance. We received a letter from 32 of the major farm organizations in America saying pass this disaster assistance. Let me read you the letter:

We write to respectfully urge you to support agricultural disaster assistance for the 2005 and 2006 production years. While many of us are hopeful that even more can be done to provide disaster-related assistance, we believe the bipartisan Conrad amendment, and other such amendments that would make disaster assistance even more inclusive, should be approved by Congress this year.

As you may know, a large coalition has been seeking disaster assistance for more than a year. The coalition is so large and united because last year 88 percent of U.S. counties were declared disaster areas by USDA. This year, more than 66 percent have received that same designation.

With wide support earlier this year, the Senate approved a disaster assistance package. Unfortunately, the provision was changed in conference and the final language only assisted rural residents who were victims of hurricanes, not those who were victims of other natural disasters, such as drought and flooding. While many of us believe that even more needs to be done—and would be supportive of additional assistance—we nevertheless want to ensure that the Conrad amendment is approved.

Quite simply, a disaster is a disaster. We urge you to support the Conrad disaster amendment and oppose a budget point of order against the amendment. Congress should do all they can to provide victims of natural disaster with the assistance that they need and deserve this year.

My amendment incorporates many of the provisions already approved by the Senate. But I have made several modifications to address the objections raised by the administration. The economic assistance provisions to help program crop and dairy producers offset rising energy costs in 2005 have been dramatically reduced. Payments will only be made to producers who can demonstrate they suffered reduced income in 2005 compared with 2004, and the provision requires that those who wish to receive these direct payments forego the crop disaster payments the amendment makes available for 2005 and 2006.

The administration has stated that we need to wait until harvest is concluded. The harvest is over for 2006 and the losses are real and significant throughout many parts of the country. Crop and livestock production loss provisions contained in the original legislation are retained and will apply for both 2005 and 2006.

For those who say you don't have to have a loss to get assistance—wrong. Nobody gets a dime who has not suffered a material loss. In fact, crop producers must have a loss of at least 35 percent before they get a thing. Let me repeat that. Crop producers will have to have a loss of at least 35 percent before any of these provisions take effect for them.

The livestock compensation program will only be made to producers whose operations are in counties designated as disaster areas by the Secretary and who can demonstrate that they suffered a material loss. The provision also contains modest funding for conservation programs to help restore and rehabilitate drought and wildlife losses on grazing lands, and the provision assists small agriculturally dependent businesses that have been dramatically hurt as a result of these natural disasters.

Because of the modifications, the cost of providing disaster assistance for 2005 and 2006 has been substantially reduced, from $6.7 billion in previous provisions to about $4.8 billion in this amendment. Some have suggested that this amendment will result in farmers becoming more than whole and that crop insurance is adequate to address the losses our producers have sustained during the last 2 years.

Nothing in this debate has disturbed me more than people making that argument because it is apparent that they simply don't know how crop insurance works. They simply don't understand the formula that applies.

I wanted to provide a specific example to show my colleagues what is going to happen to a typical farmer under the provisions of this legislation. In North Dakota, the average wheat yield is 34 bushels to the acre. The average harvest price is $4.57 a bushel. So per acre, a farmer could have expected, in a normal year, to get $157.21 an acre. Now, this year, if they would have a 50-percent loss, their market income would be reduced to $78.60. With their insurance indemnity, if they bought coverage at one of the most generous levels—the 75 percent level—they would get a $27 insurance payment. Under my legislation, they would get an additional $7, for a total of $113, compared to what they could have expected in a normal year of $157. They are losing $44.21 per acre in a normal year. They are still down 28 percent, even with this disaster package. For those who suffer a 75-percent loss—let me say I have many in my State who suffered a 75-percent loss—they would get $39.30 from the market. They would get an insurance payment of $54.18.

Under this legislation, they would get an additional $19.50, for a total of about $113—still losing $44 an acre, still at a loss of almost 30 percent.

Mr. GREGG. Will the Senator yield for a question?

Mr. CONRAD. Yes.

Mr. GREGG. Mr. President, I wonder if we can set a timeframe on speaking. Would it be possible for us to ask unanimous consent that after the Senator completes his statement, the other Senator from North Dakota be recognized and then I be recognized?

Mr. CONRAD. Mr. President, we already have a unanimous consent agreement.

Mr. GREGG. I am talking about time.

Mr. CONRAD. We have an order. As I understand it, the order is to be my opening statement, followed by Senator DORGAN for what time he will consume, followed by Senator LANDRIEU for 10 minutes. Is that not correct, I ask the Chair?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator is correct.

Mr. CONRAD. So we have a unanimous consent agreement in place. I think we should follow that. In terms of time, I have maybe 5 minutes left in this opening statement and Senator DORGAN needs probably 20 minutes and then Senator LANDRIEU is scheduled for 10, if that is of assistance to the Senator. That would indicate that we have about 40 minutes.

Mr. GREGG. Of course, we usually go back and forth in a debate of this nature. But since that is the order, that is fine.

I ask unanimous consent that after the Landrieu statement, I be recognized for an equal amount of time consumed by the Democratic side.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. CONRAD. Mr. President, again, I want to indicate the facts. For those who have said crop insurance is the answer, crop insurance will keep these people from dramatic losses—wrong. That is not true. This bill will not prevent farmers from dramatic losses. If they have had a 50-percent loss, even with this legislation, they are going to lose nearly 30 percent. If they have had a 75-percent loss, even with this legislation, even with crop insurance, even with buying up to the level that is the most frequent level that farmers buy, they will have a loss of nearly 30 percent.

This program is not going to make farmers rich or even make them whole. But it will make the difference for thousands of farm families who otherwise may be forced off the land. Farmers and ranchers need assistance for the 2005 and 2006 natural disaster losses, and they need it now. If these emergencies are not dealt with, tens of thousands of farm families and Main Street businesses will suffer, many irreparably.

I have had farm meeting after farm meeting all across my State. Farmers and their families have told me that if assistance is not forthcoming, this will be their last year. I am not talking about a few, I am talking about thousands in my State. As I have indicated, North Dakota, unfortunately, is not alone. This is a drought that has been devastating to the heartland of America. That is why there are 28 sponsors of this legislation on a fully bipartisan basis.

Let me conclude by saying that some have said—I know we will hear this from the chairman of the Budget Committee—this is a budget buster. Now, he knows—and everyone who follows the budget process knows—we do not budget for natural disasters. There is no line item in the budget for natural disasters—none. Natural disasters are handled on an emergency basis. That is what we are seeking—emergency funding outside of the budget because there is no budget for natural disasters—none, zero. If there is going to be any assistance, it is going to have to come as it typically has, by an emergency declaration.

To uphold an emergency designation requires a supermajority vote in the Senate. It requires at least 60 percent to support that designation of emergency. So those who say it is a budget buster—wrong. There is no budget line item for natural disasters—none. The only way there is support for natural disasters is through an emergency declaration over and above the rest of the budget. Why? Because decisions have been made in the past that you cannot predict disasters by their nature. You cannot say a drought is going to happen or a hurricane or a flood is going to happen. Those are acts of God. They are acts that are unpredictable and, therefore, are not budgeted for. Perhaps they should be. Perhaps we should at least make an estimate, based on previous experience, of what natural disasters cost. But it is not done. So if there is going to be any assistance forthcoming for the tens of thousands of people who have been hurt, this is the chance this year to send a signal of help, a signal of hope, a signal that we will stand with these farm and ranch families and help them in their time of need.

AMENDMENT NO. 5205

Mr. President, before I yield the floor, I send my amendment to the desk.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report.

The assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from North Dakota [Mr. CONRAD] proposes an amendment numbered 5205.

Mr. CONRAD. I ask unanimous consent that reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

(The amendment is printed in today's RECORD under "Text of amendments.")

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from North Dakota.

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, first of all, my colleague Senator CONRAD has described this amendment very well. I appreciate his leadership, as do other Members of the Senate.

For those of us who care about the future of family farming, this is a very important issue for us. I am pleased to be here today to be a cosponsor of this amendment to provide disaster aid to farmers.

Bob Wills and His Texas Playboys in the 1930s in one of their songs had a refrain that I have often used on the floor of the Senate: The little bee sucks the blossoms and the big bee gets the honey; the little guy picks the cotton and the big guy gets the money.

It hasn't changed much over 70 or 80 years. Somehow the big interests always have their day in the Congress. It wasn't too many months ago that they had their day. There was a little provision tucked in a bill that passed the Congress that said to the largest corporations in America: When you repatriate the income you have earned from abroad, we will give you a big deal. You get to pay an income tax rate of 5¼ percent. I think that was worth about a $100 billion tax cut to the biggest economic interests in this country.

It was done without a lot of debate. There is plenty of money to give a $100 billion tax cut to the big interests, but now it is time to talk about working families, family farmers, small producers.

The big interests get their day. Now we are talking about the people who shower after work rather than before work. We are talking about the people who go out and work all day. They grease combines. They plow the fields. They milk cows. They do chores. Then, at the end of the day, they take a shower and clean up because they worked hard all day. They and their families live under a yard light hoping they are going to be able to make a living. Often they plant a seed and hope it grows. They wonder whether they are going to have disease that will destroy their crop. Perhaps hail will destroy their crop. Maybe it will rain too much, or maybe it won't rain at all. Maybe if they get a crop, avoiding all those diseases and natural disasters, including weather disasters, maybe if they get a crop and they haul it to the elevator, it is worthless because that price has collapsed.

Yet that family living on the farm takes all of those risks by itself, and sometimes it doesn't work out for them.

This country for decades—for decades—has always said to family farmers who live out there alone in the country: When things happen that are tough for you—natural disasters, collapse in prices—we want to help you; we want to offer you a helping hand. We have always said that in the form of disaster aid.

It used to be that the disaster aid came in the regular farm bill because we had a disaster title in that bill. That has been changed. So now each year we have to come and plead for disaster help when a disaster occurs that hurts families living out on the farms in this country.

What has happened this year? Here is a satellite description of what happened in our country. This is July, I believe, of this year. The red in this satellite photo shows the drought. The red shows the destroyed forage. One can see the epicenter of this drought is right up in here, but the drought occurs in a wide area of this country. Look at the epicenter of this drought.

Let me read something that comes from a rancher right up here, right in the epicenter of the drought. He says in a letter dated July 12:

The grass is so dry that it breaks off when the cows walk on it. The cricks and dams, they're all dried up. We're going to have to sell some of the cows pretty soon so we can try to save the rest of them. If you can do anything to help us out, we would really appreciate it.

"If you can do anything to help us out, we would really appreciate it." Did anybody get an appreciative note from those who were saved $103 billion by getting a 5¼-percent income tax break? Did anybody get a note of thanks? Did anybody else get to pay a 5¼ income tax rate? Nobody in America gets to do that. But the biggest economic interests got to do that last year because this Congress was generous: Let me give you a big tax cut of $103 billion. Now we are talking about a few billion dollars that would reach out and help families—yes, the small producers—reach out and help families over troubled times. That is what this is about.

Let me describe a little of the history of this situation. Three times the Senate Appropriations Committee on which I serve has approved amendments to provide disaster assistance. Three times I have offered those amendments, and three times they have been accepted. Last December, 1 year ago, during the conference committee on the fiscal year 2006 Defense appropriations bill, I offered a disaster amendment. The Senate conferees—both sides, Republicans and Democrats—agreed to it and accepted it. The House conferees, at the request of President Bush, objected to it because President Bush said he would veto the bill if it was part of the bill.

In June of this year again, the full Senate approved an amendment that was on the Katrina-Iraq supplemental bill, which I included in the Appropriations Committee. Let me mention that in both cases, my colleague Senator CONRAD played quite a significant role in helping to draft the amendment. He serves on the Senate Agriculture Committee, and I serve on the Appropriations Committee. We used the Appropriations Committee as the mechanism by which we have tried to get this done.

Three times the Appropriations Committee in the Senate has passed amendments that I have offered to provide disaster relief. The first two occasions were occasions in which the White House objected. The President actually said, and his advisers said, they would recommend that he veto legislation that would provide disaster help for family farmers.

In June of this year, I attached the other disaster package. It is the one Senator CONRAD and a large group of us—Republicans and Democrats—put together. That is what is on the floor of the Senate right now, to be amended by the new disaster package my colleague Senator CONRAD offers this afternoon, which I fully support.

So this is not a new subject. No one should come to the floor of the Senate surprised. We have dealt with this subject before. The Senate has approved it before by a fairly significant margin. We have been blocked in two conferences with the House of Representatives because the White House decided to block that help.

Let me describe a couple of pieces of history about drought. It is not a new thing to have a weather disaster wipe out family farmers across this country. One can see the epicenter up in the northern Great Plains, but one can see the destroyed forage in a wide band in the heartland of our country.

Some while ago, we saw the tracking and the description and the physical damage of Hurricane Katrina. It occurred right down here in the gulf. It hit this land with devastating force, unbelievable force, and it destroyed a lot of things. Our hearts were broken as we watched what happened in the gulf.

Part of what the hurricane destroyed was the crops that family farmers had down in these fields. They got washed away and destroyed completely. The Congress passed legislation that said to those farmers: You lost your crops due to a weather-related disaster, and here is some disaster aid. The Congress said to these farmers: You lost your crops due to weather, we are going to help you.

These farmers have lost their crops due to weather. They are just in a different part of the country. No, it is not a hurricane, it is a drought. This had a name; this didn't. Is there a difference? These farmers write to us and ask: What is the difference? We had a weather-related disaster that wiped out everything we had—all the feed, all the crops. We had to sell our cows because if you have a cow and you have no feed, that cow is going to market. We lost everything, they say.

How is it you help farmers in one part of the country who suffered an entire loss of their crops due to a hurricane and then turn a blind eye to farmers in other parts of the country who lost their crops due to drought and other weather-related disasters? How do you justify that, Congress?

The answer is there is no justification for that. When we decide we are going to help—and we should, and I have always supported that, during tough times we are going to help family farmers—then we must reach out to all the farmers in this country who suffer these devastating losses.

I am not interested in sending financial help to farmers who didn't have these losses. They are just fine. That is not what we are here about today. Today we are about the issue of trying to reach out a helping hand to those farmers who suffered a weather-related disaster and suffered losses.

Franklin Delano Roosevelt went out in the country during disasters, and he actually had a tough time traveling. He traveled by train. He showed up in my part of the country on a drought tour. Then he showed up in Huron, SD, on a drought tour. Let me read what the President said. The reason I say this is we asked the President to come out and do a drought tour this past year, or one of his underlings to come out and do a drought tour. In 1936, Franklin Delano Roosevelt did a drought tour. He stopped in Huron, SD, and here is what he said:

No city in agriculture country can exist unless the farms are prosperous. We have to cooperate with one another rather than buck one another. I have come out here to find you with your chins up looking toward the future with courage and hope, and I'm grateful to you for the attitudes you are taking.

He was on a drought tour speaking from a platform on the back of a train.

He was also in Devils Lake, ND, August 7, 1934. Let me tell my colleagues what he said about a drought tour, this President who took a train around the country. He said:

I cannot honestly say my heart is happy today because I have seen with my own eyes some of the things I have been hearing and reading about a year or more.

A growing drought that was eating the crops and destroying the crops. He said:

But when you come to the water problems up here, you are up against two things. In the first place, you're up against the forces of nature. The second, you're up against the fact that man, in its present stage of development, cannot definitely control those forces.

The fact is, the President went on a drought tour and said: We want to help family farmers. It is not much different than what we say today. This is important.

Let me show a photograph of a North Dakota family farmer. He allowed me to show this photograph on the floor of the Senate. This is a picture of one of the ranchers, these ranchers who, in many cases, had to sell their entire herds or parts of their herds because they had nothing to feed their cows. As I said before, if you have cows and you don't have feed, those cows are going to go to market and be sold. That is what has happened.

This is Frank Barnick. Frank and his wife and son raise cattle in Glen Ullin, ND. In this picture, he is walking in a creek bed that normally would provide water for his cattle. As one can see, it looks more like the surface of the Moon. There is no grass there, no water there. Frank says:

It's the worst drought I've ever seen. You do a lot of praying wondering how you're going to get through it.

One of the issues about getting through these tough times is the issue of what is Congress prepared to do. What is the better instinct of those who serve here? I have served in Congress for some long while, and I have always been proud of being willing to vote for emergency legislation to help people in need. It doesn't matter where it is for me. If it is a hurricane that hits the South in the gulf coast, a hurricane that hits Florida, I want to be there with my vote to say this country wants to say to you, victims of hurricanes, weather-related disasters: You are not alone. You are not alone because this country cares about you. I have always been proud to cast those votes. I never had a second thought about them, and I never wondered very much whether we should. It is part of the better nature of this country to reach out to people and say: You are not alone and we want to help you.

I think of all of the things that we have done in this Congress in the last couple of years to help people. We go all around the world. It is an enormously generous country. We do a lot of things to help with everything virtually everywhere, and that is very important and I am supportive of that. But I think it is very important as well that we help people here at home and that we say to people here at home with respect to problems here at home that they are important to us, that what is happening in America is important to us as well.

Last year, we had people in the northern part of our State who woke up one morning to find that they had a million acres, a million acres of their ground—these are family farmers who had planted in grains—washed away and gone and could not be replanted. We had another million acres that could never be planted. We are talking about 2 million acres of ground because of torrential rains that were destroyed with respect to their productivity to raise a crop, and those family farmers sitting out there with that 2 million acres were left to wonder: What next? Will I be able to continue to farm? Will I and my spouse and my son and daughter be able to continue to own this farm?

Well, we have had torrential rains and flooding that devastated a region of our State, and then we have the epicenter of the drought, as I have just shown, that is almost unbelievable.

My colleague, Senator CONRAD, and I and a Congressman took several drought tours, and I have never seen anything like it. When you lose your crop or you lose your pasture and you have no capability to feed cattle or to plant a seed or harvest a crop, is it exactly the same circumstance which that family faces as the circumstance faced by a family farmer in the gulf region in Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana? Of course it is. It is exactly the same.

So my colleague today brings a piece of legislation to the floor that we have worked on and tried to perfect that does, as best we can, say to family farmers: Here is a package of disaster relief. No, it is not going to make anybody whole. This is not a massive package that everybody is going to be happy with, but at least it says to those farmers: We want you to have a chance to continue farming.

On a couple of occasions I have described the value of this, the cultural value of even caring about farming. Some people say: So what. Let the market system work. If a family is too small to make it and it floods and they can't get a crop and they are broke, tough luck. So long. See you in town someplace. Somebody else will farm that land.

We, over some 5, 8, 10 decades in this country have known better than to take that attitude. Rodney Nelson, a writer from my State and a rancher from out near Almont, ND, wrote a wonderful piece about farming. And he asked a question which is important for people in this Chamber to ask. He asked the question: What is it worth? What is it worth, he asks. What is it worth for a kid to know how to weld a seam? What is it worth for a kid to know how to plow a field? What is it worth for a kid to know how to hang a door? What is it worth for a kid to know how to grease a combine? What is it worth for a kid to know how to change the oil in a tractor? What is it worth for a kid to know how to teach a calf to suck milk out of a pail? What is it worth for a kid to know how to brand? What is all that worth? What is all that worth?

There is only one place in America where they teach all that. Read the history of the Second World War and see all those young men that marked off America's farms that could fix anything, drive anything, do anything all around the world. There is only one place they teach that, and that university exists on America's family farms. So what is that worth to this country? Does it matter that families live under the yard lights out in the country on our farms? Does it matter? It does to me. It does to me.

No, they are not big interests. I understand that. They are small producers. But they deserve a voice in this Chamber. They deserve their day. They deserve the debate about their value and their worth to this country. I guarantee you the big interests get their day virtually every day in these Chambers.

This is a day to talk about what it is worth. What is it worth for this country to say to family farmers: You matter and you are not alone when trouble strikes. What is that worth for this country?

That is why we offer this amendment today. It is important. In March and April as we prepare for a new year in the Congress and work on appropriations bills and so on, there will be farmers who will learn whether they are able to plant another crop or whether they are going to be kicked off the land. They and their families will learn: Does their dream continue or is it over? And it will depend in large part on what this Congress does on this issue. We should not consider this some sort of idle exercise.

It is true that amending this Agriculture appropriations bill is not going to apparently produce this product by the end of this week. But this Agriculture appropriations bill, one way or another, is going to end up in some kind of an omnibus bill in February or early March. I am an appropriator. I am on the committee. And we are going to do some kind of an Omnibus appropriations bill, and I will do everything I can to see that this kind of disaster package is included in it. Putting it in this Agriculture appropriations bill today is the first step in trying to insist that this, too, be a priority for our country.

Let me say to my colleague, Senator CONRAD, I appreciate working with him on this and many others, and underscore the point that he has made repeatedly: This is not partisan, it is bipartisan. We have aggressive, strong Republican supporters and Democratic supporters to this provision. It is important to understand that. This is about our priorities. It is always about priorities, what is important and what is not important. And so I congratulate and thank the chairman of the subcommittee and the ranking member, Senator BENNETT, Senator KOHL, and thank all of those who have joined in a very substantial bipartisan amendment to once again say to this country and this Chamber that family farmers matter to this country. And when they are in trouble, we need to reach out to say to them: You are not alone. The best, most effective way to do that today is to pass this amendment, and I hope we will do that by the end of this day.

I yield the floor.

Mr. CONRAD. Mr. President, I thank my colleague, Senator DORGAN, who has been such a leader on this issue for our farm and ranch families and who has repeatedly offered disaster legislation on the appropriations bill and has repeatedly passed it on the appropriations bill. In fact, there is, in the underlying appropriations bill of the Agriculture Committee, disaster assistance. The problem is, though, it only covers 1 year, and we now know we have had 2 years of remarkable disasters.

While we are waiting for Senator GREGG to come to the Senate floor, I thought I would just take a moment to read from some of the letters from farmers in my State, the things that they have written me. This is a letter from last year, the flood year. This is what the man wrote:

The rains began in earnest the last days of May 2005. Our crops were in the ground so the majority of the input costs for the crops were already realized. We received 25 inches of rain in 33 days. The attached pictures show the result. In our local town residents were going up and down the streets in boats.

We did our very best to cope with expenses but with the increased energy prices and the loss of crop income, we and all the other producers in our area lost the battle. Our farm had financial reversals in the amount of $110,000. We carry crop insurance but this program does not begin to cover our risks.

In speaking with loan officers at 2 of our local banks I was told that First National Bank expects to restructure 60 percent of their ag loans. State Bank estimates restructuring 75 to 80 percent of their loans. This is serious business in agriculture.

He closed by saying:

Please support disaster relief currently working its way through Congress. If you do, you will literally be the difference between me being able to continue to produce food and fiber for this great Nation and not being able to continue this production.

A second letter from a man this year:

I farm and ranch with my father and mother and this is the second year in a row that our neighbors and ourselves have endured natural disasters. When I say disaster, I mean 25 inches of rain in the month of June alone, and complete crop loss. I farm approximately 630 acres myself, and I did not harvest a single kernel of grain from any of it. The rivers started to run the 3rd of July and pushed across 80 acres of my alfalfa field, killing approximately 40 acres.

Enclosed are pictures to give you an idea of what the conditions were like. The pictures look as though they could have been taken after Katrina, but we know otherwise. Those people need assistance for a complete loss. What we had here was not as catastrophic on a widespread manner, but destruction of crops was there. Please assist us. Thank you for your time and any assistance you might provide.

This is another letter. This letter is from this year. And, remember, last year we had this incredible flooding, and now this incredible drought.

We are writing to ask for your help. We were burnt out this week by a prairie fire on the Standing Rock Reservation. We lost 5,000 acres of pasture. We don't know how we are going to feed our cattle this winter, as we have lost our winter grazing.

This, on top of the drought here in south central North Dakota, we don't know how much more we can contend with. We planted wheat, but have nothing to harvest this year due to a lack of rain, and crop insurance will barely pay our input costs, so there will not be any income from a crop this year.

As for buying feed for cattle, hay will cost approximately $100 per ton with trucking. We will also need to purchase supplement and corn. This is in addition to the high cost of electricity, fuel, and propane.

We don't know how much more we can endure. We don't know why our country helps other nations, but not our own people, and especially the farmers. Other nations give nothing back.

Selling the cattle is not the answer either. As a result, there will be no income. Please let us know if there is any assistance for us.

And another letter. This is from the head of a bank, the Commercial Bank of Mott, ND, near where Senator DORGAN grew up:

Attached are six agricultural operations associated with the Commercial Bank of Mott. Five of these businesses are located in Hettinger County and one in Grant County. Over the course of the last two weeks, these producers have come to the bank to discuss their financial position. The projections attached have been assembled to reflect accurately each producer's current standard.

As you review each and every projection, it is apparent that all of these producers were dramatically affected by the drought of 2006. At this writing, without any government intervention or disaster aid, it appears that three of these producers will be going out of business. They simply cannot absorb losses of this magnitude.

The last spreadsheet attached shows that the six producers have collectively lost $875,000 in this year.

Six producers losing $875,000.

We are here today because you have asked us to come. We now ask you to support agriculture and to help provide these producers with a fair and equitable disaster program. I might add, the program is needed now.

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I wonder if my colleague would yield for a question.

Mr. CONRAD. I am happy to yield.

Mr. DORGAN. In the context of how much money is required to try to be helpful to family farmers as they struggle through this weather-related disaster period to determine whether they are actually going to be able to continue farming, I noticed a story the other day—I believe it was yesterday—which stated that we now have 100,000 private contractors we are paying in the country of Iraq. We are passing pieces of legislation here in the Congress, hundreds of billions of dollars of supplementals, emergency supplementals. My understanding is that we are going to be presented with another emergency supplemental for $120 billion.

In terms of what one spends, at least with respect to helping farmers who have gotten hit with tough times, you know what you are doing and where it is going to go.

The point I am making is, isn't it the case that in the context of all of this, we are not talking about a great deal of money, but in this case we are talking about a lot of people who will be directly helped, and it likely will determine whether many of them will be able to continue working on the family farm and operating the family farm? I understand this is an expenditure of money, but to the extent that we have emergencies bantered around here virtually all the time, it really is an emergency when a weather-related disaster hits—really hits—and devastates a region. That really is an emergency, to determine whether you are going to be able, or willing, to help families in deep trouble. Isn't it the case that this is not a substantial amount of money, given all the other things we have decided to very quickly say yes to?

Mr. CONRAD. I say to my colleague, this equals about 10 days of expenditure in Iraq, based on what we are told the supplemental will be and what is already in the budget. So this is modest compared to previous disaster packages. It will not make farmers whole.

As I have indicated in the examples I have provided, farmers who had a 50-percent loss will still have a 28-percent loss in economic terms, even with this package. A farmer who has lost 75 percent, even with this package and with aggressive crop insurance, will still have a 28-percent loss as well.

This is a defining moment for thousands of people.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from New Hampshire.

Mr. GREGG. Mr. President, what is the parliamentary situation relative to time?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from New Hampshire controls 60 minutes.

Mr. GREGG. Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this amendment. I do feel it is uniquely ironic that the first amendment offered—and this was the first amendment offered after the election—would increase the debt of this country by $4.9 billion; that it would abandon the budget and essentially say we should spend additional funds and pass those costs on to our children.

Throughout the election cycle, I think I heard a great deal about fiscal responsibility. I especially heard it from the other side of the aisle, about how we as Republicans have been profligate allegedly. Maybe those were just words, because the first formal action taken by the other side, which is now moving into the majority position, is to spend $4.9 billion which we do not have on an emergency which is declared in the agricultural community, and which funds are, in many instances, not even emergency related if you were to define a traditional emergency.

It is hard to understand how we can want to increase the debt on our children in this manner. Clearly I think it is inconsistent with what the American people asked for when they voted in the last election. I think they asked that we have a reasonable approach to fiscal policy, that we start spending within our means, and that we stop passing on to our kids the costs of today. This is a cost of today.

This amendment should have been handled in the regular order of the appropriations process. It should have been handled by being offset or by a reduction in expenses somewhere else, or it should have been handled within the spending cap which was proposed for the agricultural community. It is not. It is an emergency which is a designation placed on it basically for the purposes of avoiding the obligations of the budget.

Let me ask, is it really an emergency that we spend $24 million provided solely to the sugar beet producers rather than giving them the assistance through the crop disaster program? That is an earmark, that is not an emergency.

Is it really an emergency to spend $3 million specifically providing sugarcane growers in Hawaii nondisaster assistance? It is simply an earmark. A $95 million payment to dairy producers for losses? Earmark. What about $6 million provided for a flood area in North Dakota? An earmark. Or $1 million for a land replacement and retention program? An earmark. Or $10 million for the purposes of a watershed project in another State? An earmark. These are not emergencies. This is simply an attempt to get votes. That is the way it works around here. You get a big chunk of money, you put an "emergency" title on it, and then you run around and adjust the spending in that amount of money so you can pass it and avoid the 60-vote point of order. Logrolling is the term that historically has been applied to that. People don't remember that term, but that is what it is historically.

The irony is, of course, the underlying bill already had $4 billion of emergency money designated in it which should not have been designated, but that money wasn't allocated in a way that the sponsors of this bill felt comfortable enough with to get the 60 votes, so they took that money and cleared it with this money and basically added $4 billion to the debt.

When we say added to the debt, what we are saying basically is our children are going to have to pay for it. Our children are going to have to pay tomorrow for costs that are going to benefit a small group of farmers today. That cost should have been borne by expenditures being reduced today or expenditures being reallocated today. It should not be borne by throwing it on the deficit and making our kids pay for it.

There are some other things in this declaration of additional deficit spending of $4.9 billion which are questionable. For example, dairy farmers and certain crop programs can receive this payment for production if they can show they had a loss in 2005 net farm income compared to 2004. There is no requirement that loss be shown related to anything that had to do with an emergency; it could be that they became inefficient, ineffective, or simply didn't know what they were doing and made mistakes. But they are going to get paid for not making as much money in 2005 as they did in 2004. It has nothing to do with an emergency. It is only if they can show they didn't do as well in 2005 as they did in 2004, they are going to get tax dollars.

There are a lot of businesses in this country today that did not do as well in one year as they did in the next year. Are we to declare that every one of those businesses should get emergency funds simply because they had a difference between their income in one year from the next year? The fact may be that the difference in income was because 2004 was a great year, as it happened to be, and 2005 wasn't a great year. It was a good year, a very good year in many farm communities, but the difference is now going to be picked up by the taxpayers. So essentially there wasn't a lot of incentive to do better in 2005 than 2004. Essentially we are saying to those folks who worked harder and were more productive and did have a better year in 2005 than 2004: Sorry, your activity wasn't relevant. The person who didn't work as hard as you, who wasn't as productive as you, maybe ran his farm more poorly than you, we are going to pay him the difference in income from 1 year to the next. That is classic 1930s Government, I guess, if you believe in that theory of governance, the theory that people should be paid for doing a lousy job and not being productive.

This amendment in and of itself represents a 23-percent increase in 1 year in the subsidies for farm programs in this country; 23 percent. That is a huge 1-year shot of expenditures. It is rather dramatic, to reflect the fact it is in relationship to the emergency process when there is no relationship; they are disjointed here. There is some, but it is primarily disjointed.

The way this amendment is structured, the way this language is structured, under the traditional crop insurance program a person is supposed to buy crop insurance. Under this bill, if you do not buy crop insurance you are still going to get paid. In fact, they are no longer subject to the percentage cap, which is the traditional way. So you could actually end up making more under this program, under these proposals, with a crop loss than you would make if you had actually brought your crops in on target.

It is inconsistent with marketplace economics, as is the concept that you would get paid for having a bad year, the difference between a good year and a very good year.

The contrast is pretty significant because what they have done is reversed what has been a historical factor with our agriculture bills, which is that you include in most of the agriculture disaster bills that come through this body—in fact, all of them—that they have included a percentage cap and a requirement to purchase crop insurance. This bill rejects both of those concepts, which is sort of even a bigger grab at the taxpayers' wallet.

This bill affronts the sensibilities of fiscal responsibility. I mean, the idea that you would spend $4.9 billion outside the budget as the first act of the Congress, after returning from an election when the American people said get your fiscal house in order, is an affront to the election process. It is like saying there was no election. People didn't have anything to say in the last election about fiscal responsibility; it was all about other subjects. I disagree with that.

This sets a very bad tone, in my opinion, for the next Congress. This is truly the first act of the next Congress, whether we are going to live within the budget for the fiscal year under which the next Congress is going to function. Under this proposal, we are not only going to not live within it, we are going to make a joke out of it. We are going to spend $4.9 billion, much of it earmarked—not much of it but a significant amount of it earmarked—much of it reorganized so it is structured in a way that benefits folks who may not have had a disaster at all and much of it structured in a way that rejects what has been the historical approach toward farm disasters, which is it has to have a relationship to a percentage cap and to production and to purchasing of crop insurance.

It is terrible, fiscally. It is bad policy from a farm standpoint, also. It is essentially an attempt to build a coalition of 60 votes, which 60 votes will then represent a raid on the Treasury on behalf of an interest group, an interest group which has compelling arguments but which is still an interest group and is difficult to defend in the context of fiscal responsibility.

That being the case, this proposal is subject to a point of order. If the Senator from North Dakota is ready, I will make the point of order now.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that I be allowed to raise the point of order at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. GREGG. Mr. President, pursuant to the fiscal year 2006 budget resolution, I raise a point of order against the emergency designation of the pending amendment.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from North Dakota.

Mr. CONRAD. Mr. President, pursuant to section 402 of House Concurrent Resolution 95, the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2006,

I move to waive section 402 of that concurrent resolution for purposes of the pending amendment.

I ask for the yeas and nays at the designated time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there a sufficient second?

There is a sufficient second.

The yeas and nays are ordered.

Mr. GREGG. I now yield to the Senator from Oklahoma such time as he may desire.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Oklahoma is recognized.

Mr. COBURN. Mr. President, first, I compliment my colleagues from North Dakota. They have described a very real problem in farm country. Western Oklahoma and north central Oklahoma have been plagued by drought. Much of the wheat crop could not be planted last year because there was no soil moisture in which to plant it. The problem they are describing is a very real problem. The emotional context in which they put it is a very true indication of the plight of some of the farmers from Oklahoma and throughout the country.

When you look at agriculture in our country, what we find is it is basically undercapitalized. If the average farm was about 1,800 acres, the average farmer could take 2 terrible crop years and still be OK, still have his assets, still have the ability to come back and earn again. We have great commodity prices right now. The problem is there were no crops to take advantage of those great product prices.

The idea that we ought to be about helping our farmers is a correct idea. I applaud both Senators from North Dakota for their persistence in bringing up this issue. As a matter of fact, I think this issue is so important to the real problems that are out there because I don't see how we can leave here on Friday, which everyone is planning on doing, and not address this issue.

There is a lot I disagree with in this bill. The Senators from North Dakota know that. I have expressed it. I am going to outline some of those.

If this election taught us anything, it is that the American taxpayers want us to put good value with what we do.

A couple of facts: This bill can be paid for. It is not. This amendment is not paid for. But it could be. As a matter of fact, I would bet that after this election we have a consensus within the Senate to pay for it. Let me give you some examples how we pay for it.

I know the Senator from North Dakota has another which I didn't think of, but I know several on this side would probably agree it is a great pay-for. There is $8.13 billion in unobligated balances in the Agriculture Department right now. That money could be used to pay for this, and then in the re-appropriations process that we start in February we could come back through, recognizing that we are using $4.8 billion of that money to pay for this.

One of my problems with the Agriculture appropriations bill that this amendment is going to be attached to is there is $800 million worth of earmarks, most of which come out of the very services the farmers are dependent upon to grow a good crop. A lot of it comes out of ARS, the very thing we shouldn't be taking money out of, but yet we have $758 million worth of earmarks that aren't necessarily a priority for our country or the farm communities but are a priority in terms of the political benefits that it gives the Members of this body and the House.

This is a fine-print page of all the earmarks in this bill. Most of the American public, when they look at it, 50 percent of these projects they would have trouble stomaching saying this is a priority at this time. There is no attempt to eliminate the earmarks to pay for this, which would pay 20 percent of this Agriculture bill disaster amendment we have before us.

Mr. CONRAD. Mr. President, will the Senator yield for one moment?

Mr. COBURN. I would be happy to.

Mr. CONRAD. I am very much in sympathy with the Senator on the notion of paying for this. In fact, I spent much of the morning trying to figure out a way I could offer a pay-for which I think the Senator and I might agree with and I think most of the body would agree with. It would more than pay for this. I have been advised by legal counsel that if we offer a pay-for in the context of this bill and this amendment, we would then be subject to rule XVI. Under rule XVI, any Senator can raise it and the amendment would fall with no vote. So we are in a very unfortunate circumstance. We can't offer a pay-for.

Let me be very direct about what the pay-for is which I would have offered today if I weren't prevented by the rules from doing so. It turns out the Interior Department failed in contracts with oil companies to provide for royalties when oil prices went above a certain amount. Oil prices are above that amount today. The loss to the Treasury, I am told, is in the range of $11 billion. That would pay for this twice over. Unfortunately, we can't offer our proposal and the Senator can't offer his without being subject to rule XVI. I wanted to say that for the RECORD. I appreciate very much that the Senator knows I wish to pay for this as well. We have a way to do a pay-for, but I am precluded by the rules from offering it.

Mr. COBURN. Mr. President, I thank the Senator. I reclaim the floor.

Let me talk again about some of the problems that are behind the bill as it is presently written. We are never going to have a crop insurance program in this country that will ever work if we keep bailing people out who fail to buy crop insurance. Granted, there is a change in this bill from what it was. It was 35 percent or 40 percent available to those who didn't buy crop insurance. Now we have cut it to 20. But we are still sending a signal that you don't have to buy crop insurance, because even if you do not, we are going to be there with the money. That is exactly the wrong signal. If we want to have a crop insurance program to work, we have to have the discipline to say if you choose not to buy it and we had this available to you, then in fact you are not going to get the benefit.

Mr. CONRAD. Will the Senator yield on that point without interfering with the Senator's time?

Mr. COBURN. I am happy to.

Mr. CONRAD. Mr. President, I will take this on my time.

The Senator makes a very good point. In previous disaster bills, those that did not have crop insurance got 45 percent of the prevailing price. Under this bill, we have dropped that dramatically to 20 percent. Why? The Senator asks a very good question. Frankly, the overriding reason is there are certain crops for which crop insurance doesn't work at all, largely specialty crops in this country for which the crop insurance program badly needs reform. I think most of us from farm country would agree on that. There are real problems with crop insurance. Crop insurance for specialty crops was never written in a way that makes any economic sense, or in many cases covers the crops at all. That is why we still have a provision that gives some assistance to those who do not have crop insurance.

Mr. COBURN. Mr. President, reclaiming the floor again, the point is had we not given 45 percent before, many of these would have bought crop insurance. The very fact that we are going to go out and give money to people who had an opportunity to protect their losses and chose not to, we are sending a signal that we are going to get less participation in crop insurance, not more. What we want is a crop insurance program that will work and which has the incentive so that many farmers say, Uncle Sam isn't going to come; I have an opportunity to protect myself and I am going to buy it. Does it cost me something? Sure.

The second point I was going to make relates to the chart which the Senator from North Dakota showed which showed the amount of losses. What he didn't say is that farmers also had the opportunity to buy a much higher level of coverage which they chose not to do. But it is out there. Had they done this, their losses would have been far less than they are today. Economically, they have to make a decision. I am not against helping those who are in need today. But I think there are things which could perfect the amendment which I hope the Senators from North Dakota would consider. We have had two great production years in this country where net farm income has been as high as it has been except this last year. We are going to be calculating off a base of the highest that we had. That is number one.

Number two, there is nothing in this that looks at net assets of a farmer because farmers who in fact are capitalized to the degree that they can take a tough year—we are going to pay them, too. The American people have kind of spoken in November. Use common sense. Give us value for our dollar. The very well-to-do farmer who is very well capitalized we are going to bail out as we are going to bail the guy who is not, and he is the one who doesn't need bailing out.

What I want to see us at some point go to in the future with our farm programs is how we increase the capital of the individual farmers where they are capitalized to the level where they can in fact hit a bump in the road and still make it; can in fact hit 20 bumps in the road, and we know what that is. I have the studies. It is a minimum of 1,800 acres and the capital to supply the equipment to farm such 1,800 acres.

The other thing in this bill is the duplication of programs that are already out there. That is $300 million to help small businesses who supply the farm community. That is what the Small Business Administration is all about. We are going to turn around and give $80,000 to small businesses. We have a program for that. Yet we are going to turn around and create another Government program that is going to say you didn't have to be a good businessman if there is a little bit of a dent in the crop year; all you have to do is come and be bailed out, too, instead of taking a program that we need to make better, that sends a signal to the farmers, saying we are going to help you when you need help, but you have to be responsible in terms of crop insurance. We will let the other branch of the Government that has these areas covered be made available and we will help nurture the staff there.

One other area that kind of drives me crazy with this amendment is we are adding staff to the Department of Agriculture. They have 95,000 employees. Not all of those are in agricultural production. They have several thousand contract employees, and we are going to add employees to implement this.

I tell you that from my visits around Oklahoma, there are more than enough people at FSA and all the different branches and all the different organizations associated with the Department of Agriculture to implement this now. We don't need to add people. What we need to do is get the money to the people who need it. And we can do that. All we have to do is have good management and good direction.

I abhor the fact that we steal money from ARS for earmarks to help us politically but hurt the very people that we say we want to help with this amendment.

I think it is also wrong to take money from AFS which deals with bovine encephalitis and bird flu. We are taking money and time away from that agency to pay for earmarks. That is wrong. We shouldn't be doing that. If we are going to have earmarks, let us take it from some place that is not going to undermine the very farmers we say we are trying to help.

We have a ton of cattle in Oklahoma, and I know we do all through the central Midwest and in the upper plains, that have been markedly harmed by the drought.

We need to be careful with the precedent we set here. We are slowly moving in a direction to make all production agriculture similar to what we have done with crop insurance agriculture. I think we need to have the patience to say how do we do this in a way that does not create another expectation of bailing someone.

The Senator from New Hampshire was very correct when he talked about what this bill is going to do in terms of busting the budget. I am going to be voting to sustain the point of order because I don't think we should be doing it that way.

I want to be very clear. That doesn't mean I think we should not be doing something to help farmers. I also will say very insistently that if this Congress goes home without addressing this issue on a freestanding bill for agriculture assistance, I think we will have let down the American people. I know we will have let down the American farmer and rancher.

I think we ought to consider looking at the adjournment resolution and mount an opposition to this if this issue is not addressed before we go home. I think we can work behind the scenes to pay for this. I think we can work behind the scenes to change it where we can build the support for it, and I think we can work behind the scenes to give something to the President that he can sign and start implementing the month of December into January, and farmers will know whether they are going to plant a corn crop in March or a wheat crop next fall if they haven't been able to plant one this year.

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, will the Senator yield?

Mr. COBURN. Certainly.

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, the Senator from Oklahoma, makes some important points. He talks about the need to have patience. One of the issues for all of us is we are about out of patience on this issue. The fact is it has been almost a year and a half trying to move this the third time—not just this but a different variation of this—trying to find a way to help those producers who are hurting. Patience is a virtue, but sometimes we run out of patience, and we are near that end.

With respect to the question of payment limits and so on, I agree with the Senator. Senator GRASSLEY from Iowa and I have coauthored amendments—and we will again offer amendments on the floor of the Senate—to establish payment limits in the farm bill. My colleague Senator CONRAD has been an active supporter of that. We don't have disagreement on those kinds of issues. I think the crop insurance program, while important, has never been sufficiently contracted to reap prices and replace disasters when a real disaster strikes. That is part of the issue here. These aren't just bad rains or high winds; these are real disasters when you see the epicenter of a drought that destroys all of the farmers. I am sympathetic. I understand what the Senator from Oklahoma is saying. I hope he understands patience is not inexhaustible when producers are wondering whether they and their family are going to be able to continue. I am talking about a lot of families who are struggling very hard.

Let me say finally the sentiments of the Senator from Oklahoma about trying to help family farmers is very much, in sync with the sentiments of Senator CONRAD and others. We very much want this Congress to reach out a helping hand to those farmers who risk losing everything if we don't help them some, and say, You are not alone, we are going to help you. That is what we are trying to do here.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. MARTINEZ). The Senator from Oklahoma.

Mr. COBURN. Mr. President, the overall point of all this is we can do this the easy way or we can do this the hard way. The hard way is what the American people expect us to do—and the hard way is paying for this. The easy way is not to pay for it. The easy way is to walk out of here this Friday having maybe passed your amendment or not. It is not going to make any difference in terms of the farmers because it isn't going anywhere. We have already been told that. The hard way is to make the tough choices about the priority of the Government spending of this country and say the farmers ought to be prioritized at this point in time. We are going to do the hard work to make the cuts somewhere else to pay for it.

Mr. DORGAN. Will the Senator yield for a brief point?

Mr. COBURN. Let me make my point. I will yield in a minute.

What we are doing, if we pass this without offset, we are taking out the good old politician credit card saying we don't have the guts to do it the right way, we don't have the stamina to do it, we don't have the courage to do it. By the way, grandchildren, here you go. Back in 2006, we couldn't do the right thing, we didn't have the courage to do the right thing, and we are charging it to you. And besides charging it to you, we will charge the interest from the time now until you are 40 years of age, so you are paying 40 percent or 50 percent regular, middle-income-America taxes because that is the only way we will get out of this.

Three points, and then I am finished.

There are things that need to be changed in the bill that send the wrong message, especially on crop insurance. We will never get crop insurance fixed if we keep sending the message we are sending with this amendment.

No. 2, there are other organizations within the Federal Government designed to help small businesses. We ought to use them rather than create another one.

The third point, we ought to pay for it. We as a Congress do not have the courage to stand here and fight and say we are not going home until we have taken care of this problem for the farm community in America and done it right—not limiting payments but looking at payments as a percentage of your net assets rather than having a fixed dollar amount. We don't have the courage to do that for the American people.

That is what the American people rejected in this last election. They want Congress to stand up and fight courageously for the values they use every day in their homes and their jobs when they have to make decisions. They have to decide on priorities. We will walk out. There isn't going to be any aid for the farm community. Come back in February. When we do it again, it probably isn't going to get paid for—either the Agriculture bill, for $4 billion in the original Agriculture bill, or this one probably won't get paid for, and we will slip them a credit card and say: Timeout; we will not make the tough choices; we did not have the courage to fight for your future.

By the way, the exit polls at the last election show that 57 percent of Americans do not believe their kids will have it as good as we have it today. If we keep doing this, they won't. It is our obligation to start acting and doing what we say on the campaign trail. We are interested in securing the future for the next generations of this country.

I yield the floor.

Mr. DORGAN. I don't have disagreements about the issue of the pay-for here, and I think my colleague has already described he has a provision that would pay for this. There is a rule XVI against it if he puts it in this bill. I suggest perhaps we do a unanimous consent on the pay-for. If he doesn't, I know a politician who will easily pay for it. I will do a unanimous consent to pay for it. It will be objected to, regretably.

These things ought to be paid for. The first time we suggest this is when a family is in trouble on the farm. We have had hundreds of billions of dollars come through here with hardly a blink, none of it paid for. That ought to change. I am with the Senator from Oklahoma. Let's try to change that.

The fact is, this does not have a pay-for, not because Senator CONRAD doesn't want it there or I don't want it there; it ought to be there. We have the device by which this can be paid for. There is a rule against it, but we ought to do a unanimous consent to describe the fact that it will be objected to, but we want it paid for.

Mr. COBURN. I agree with the Senator. He knows my record. I have not voted to not pay for anything in this body. I don't believe we borrow the future of our children to take care of our present-day needs.

Mr. CONRAD. Will the Senator yield?

Mr. COBURN. I am happy to yield.

Mr. CONRAD. On the question of paying for it, I have complete agreement with the Senator from Oklahoma. I wish the rules permitted us to offer an amendment to pay for it.

No. 1, on the question of requiring—that we have dropped the crop insurance requirement, we did because it cost money. It is the scoring rules around this place that don't make much sense to me. When we submitted it to CBO, they said if you have a crop—I submitted it with the crop insurance requirement in it, and they said if you do that, it costs $40 million.

No. 2, there is a payment limit in this legislation. It is an $80,000 payment limit. There is a gross income test in this legislation.

We tried to address some of the things the Senator is concerned about, and he is right about those things. We have tried to address it with a payment limitation—$80,000—with a gross income test, which is a little different from a net asset test, but it tries to get at the same point the Senator is making.

I say to the Senator on the question of the small business economic loss grants, the Senator cited the $300 million that was in the previous legislation. We cut that to $100 million. We left it in there for this reason. We have heard from crop sprayers all over the country, at least the drought-stricken area. In the heartland of the country, they have reported they have gone to the SBA. They told them they have suffered such devastating losses, they are not eligible for SBA, they are out. That is the reason the $100 million is left. It really is for those who are most directly affected by a dramatic falloff in acreage. This started with a company in North Dakota that called me. The acreage they were spraying was reduced 80 percent this last year. Their losses were staggering. If there is not something like this, they are out at SBA. Then we started research in other States and found the same thing. That is the reason for that.

I go back to the question of providing some assistance to those who didn't buy crop insurance because I basically agree with the Senator's point. We do have this fundamental problem of crop insurance not being practical and not being available, in many cases, for the specialty crop people. We did try to get at the point the Senator is making by dramatically reducing what they get.

Under previous disaster bills, they would get 45 percent of prevailing prices. In this disaster bill, we have dropped that to 20 percent. We didn't think it was fair to eliminate it given the fact we have not crafted a crop insurance program—especially that the specialty crop people could have available to them—that is economically viable.

I thank the Senator very much for his courtesy.

Mr. COBURN. Mr. President, I thank the Senators from North Dakota for their effort.

This bill coming to the floor, the underlying bill—not this amendment—the emergency money could have been offset when it came through the appropriation process, and it wasn't. It was just put in. We don't want to make the hard choices. We don't want to pay for them. That has to change in the future.

My hope is we will give some consideration because as things stand and look now, we are not going to have an emergency bill with which the agricultural community that has been so hurt by the drought this past year and year and a half is going to have something to hang their hat on come the first of the year. I look forward to working with the two Senators from North Dakota to try to accomplish that.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from North Dakota.

Mr. CONRAD. Mr. President, I have not had a chance to respond to my colleague, the chairman of the Committee on the Budget. The Senator from South Dakota has been waiting patiently, but if he would not mind if I took 2 minutes to respond to Senator GREGG.

The chairman of the Committee on the Budget said: Look, this doesn't just respond to natural disasters; this is a series of earmarks. I say to my colleague, there are no earmarks here. There is nothing individual Members put in this bill. I drafted this bill. I drafted it in broad consultation with Members of this Senate. There are no earmarks in the sense of what typically is in an appropriations bill where individual Members put in provisions that have never been on any legislation before.

One would be hard pressed to point to a single provision in this bill that has not been in previous disaster legislation. One would be hard pressed to find a single provision here that has not been in previous disaster legislation, in fact, in a far more generous way than is in this bill. In 2000, we had a disaster bill that cost $14 billion. The next year, in 2001, it cost between $11 and $12 billion. This disaster bill is for 2 years, and it is $4.8 billion. On a comparable basis to 2000 and 2001, that was a total of $25 billion for 2 years, and this is $4.8 billion for 2 years. The truth is, we have cut, cut, cut to be fiscally responsible.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Who yields time?

Mr. CONRAD. How much time does the Senator require? I advise the Senator we have 23 minutes remaining on our side.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There is 21½ minutes.

Mr. CONRAD. I yield 5 minutes to the Senator.

Mr. THUNE. I will try to do it in 5 minutes. I thank the Senator for yielding.

Mr. President, I rise today in support of the amendment offered by the Senator from North Dakota to the Agriculture appropriations bill. I have been listening to the discussion in the Senate between my colleagues from North Dakota and my colleague from Oklahoma over the whole issue of whether this ought to be paid for and how it is paid for. Frankly, I am with all of you—I will stay here as long as is necessary to get this done. If we can come up with a mechanism that doesn't run into an objection that allows us, by unanimous consent or whatever mechanism is necessary, to pay for it, I am for that because I agree entirely. I happen to think if there is a mechanism whereby we can offset this, we ought to make every effort we possibly can to do that.

However, if you look at the impact the drought had on the Dakotas this year—it has been described on the maps shown earlier this day as the epicenter—the bull's-eye of the drought across this country, and the upper Midwest, the upper Plains States, South Dakota and North Dakota in particular, have been crippled by it. It was not just a 1-year event but a multiple-year event. It has been successive years, year after year after year, of drought. This last summer in particular was dreadful for producers across South Dakota. It was the hottest July in 70 years. The rainfall accumulations we received this year were lower than the average during the Great Depression of the 1930s.

I traveled my State of South Dakota on numerous days in the month of June. I visited Sully County in the middle of our State. In the month of July, I was in Walworth County in the middle of our State. In the month of August, Senator JOHNSON and I went on a five-county tour in central South Dakota. Everywhere we went, the story was the same: The drought had destroyed our crops; destroyed the wheat crop; it wiped out much of the corn crop. Cornstalks, where there should have been corn growing, were very short. And even cornstalks that were a little taller than that, when you would look further—took a closer look—there were no ears on the cornstalks. Where there were soybeans that should have been lush and thick, they were not. Where there should have been hay and grass, there was not. And now, this fall, where there should have been cows, there aren't any because producers have had to sell their herds.

We have a practice in the Senate and the Congress of responding when a disaster strikes an area of the country. All of us voted to support the people in the gulf area who were impacted, just devastated by the effects of the hurricanes. We do not have hurricanes in the Midwest. We have droughts. And it does not happen overnight. It is not a 24-hour news cycle. It is not something that gets the same focus or attention. But it has the same effect in terms of the way it affects people's lives.

If you look at droughts, you might describe them as slow-motion disasters, but the economic impact on farmers, ranchers, small businesses, and rural communities is just as devastating. In the aftermath of one of the worst drought conditions since the Great Depression, the people of the Midwest are looking for us in Washington to provide assistance.

I am in agreement with my colleagues who have argued we ought to be looking at how we can, in farm bills, design programs that will anticipate these things so we do not have to continue to do it on an ad hoc basis. I, for one, hope in the next farm bill we will be writing next year that we can insert provisions that would accomplish just that. But the reality is, we have had year after year after year of drought. We have written a bill that, as my colleague from North Dakota has noted, addresses some of that problem, not on a level that has been addressed in previous years. The whole issue of crop insurance is addressed in here. I think that is a good idea. We ought to encourage people to buy crop insurance. This does do that. It reduces the payment that would be made available to those who do not buy crop insurance.

But the simple reality is, we need to do something to respond to what is a very devastating and real disaster for the people of South Dakota and other States in the Midwest whose futures are dramatically impacted by the drought we have experienced in this last year.

Agriculture is the backbone of our State's economy. That is true in a lot of the States in the Midwest. I would hope, before we leave this year, we can get this issue addressed, whether that is in the form of emergency relief such as this that is fashioned today or, as my colleague from Oklahoma has suggested, some sort of offset. Whether that takes unanimous consent, I am for that. I am all for that.

But the simple fact is, we need to respond. We need to do it in a timely way. I hope, before we leave today, we will be able to get an affirmative vote in support for farmers and ranchers and small businesspeople and citizens in the rural economy across this country who have been devastated by one of the worst drought disasters literally in the last century.

Mr. President, I understand my time has expired, so I yield back to the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from North Dakota.

Mr. CONRAD. Mr. President, I say to the Senator, we have other Members who have said they are coming, but if the Senator would like to take an additional 2 minutes, I would be happy to grant it to him.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from South Dakota.

Mr. THUNE. Mr. President, I thank the Senator for yielding additional time because I do not think that oftentimes we give enough attention on the floor to the effect this drought has had on the agricultural economy or the conditions our farmers and ranchers are facing in many of the Midwestern States. And we need to have a good, robust debate about the future of agriculture and how we anticipate, in the future dealing, with this type of disaster.

But, as I said before, it is important for us to respond in the same way we did when the gulf area was hit by the hurricanes, to make sure people of this country understand that when disaster strikes, the people in the Congress are hearing their voices and are willing to take the necessary steps to provide assistance.

I also note, because it has been stated earlier today, the Agriculture Department does have a lot of unobligated funds on hand. One of the reasons they do is the payments that are normally made under the farm bill have not been made. So there are a lot of unobligated balances there because countercyclical payments and loan deficiency payments have not been made.

I had suggested, in the previous iteration of this a few years back, that we use those savings, those offsets, to apply them to disaster relief. They say for scoring purposes that does not count. But the reality, again, is that when you look at the balances that are available at USDA, they are in a position to respond. This is a $4.8 billion, $4.9 billion disaster bill that applies, as the Senator from North Dakota noted, to 2 years, 2005 and 2006.

It seems to me at least that this is a minimum level of effort we ought to make to respond to the disaster in the Midwest and provide direct assistance to our farmers and our ranchers and our small businesses.

So, again, I ask my colleagues in the Senate to support the vote on this when it comes up. I hope we can get a good, strong vote out of the Senate and ultimately act on the underlying bill, send it to the House, and get it on the President's desk, so we can get disaster assistance out there.

Mr. President, I yield back the remainder of my time.

Mr. FEINGOLD. Mr. President, I support the amendment offered by Senator CONRAD to provide agricultural disaster assistance. I would have preferred that we had found a way to pay for this in the normal budget. But the Conrad amendment is an appropriate response to the severe drought and other weather-related disasters this year. Even in areas like western Wisconsin, which were significantly impacted but missed the most brutal conditions, many farmers have been pushed to the brink. Just as we did for the farmers devastated by hurricanes on the gulf coast, we should provide a helping hand to farms and rural communities that have been overwhelmed by this extreme weather.

Mr. AKAKA. Mr. President, I rise in support of an amendment offered by the senior Senator from North Dakota, KENT CONRAD, to H.R. 5384, the Fiscal Year 2007 Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act. I am proud to have joined Senator CONRAD, as well as the senior Senator from Hawaii, DAN INOUE, to provide much needed relief to agricultural communities across our nation in need of assistance.

This legislation is important to the agricultural industry in the State of Hawaii, in particular the County of Hawaii which was significantly impacted by the October 15, 2006, earthquake. I was in my home State during this earthquake measuring 6.7 in magnitude and present during aftershocks that were felt days after the initial tremor. A few hours after the earthquake occurred, I spoke with Federal Emergency Management Agency, FEMA, Director David Paulison to ensure that FEMA was ready to support State and local response and recovery efforts in Hawaii. In addition, the day after the earthquake I toured the Big Island with Senator INOUE, the National Guard, and State Civil Defense to assess the resulting damage.

While I am pleased that Federal, State, and local agencies have been able to work cooperatively to provide public and individual assistance, the needs of our agricultural community must not be ignored. Irrigation systems damaged by the earthquake are the sole source of water for a majority of farmers and members of rural communities in this region. In addition to the economic impact, it is imperative that we recognize that the livelihoods of these hard working individuals have drastically been impacted by the earthquake. It is for this reason I join my colleagues in supporting this amendment which would provide $3 million to the Farm Service Agency, FSA, for its Emergency Conservation Program to repair broken irrigation pipelines and damaged and collapsed water tanks. Of this amount, $2 million will go toward repairing the damages to stone fences on cattle ranches in the Kona and Kohala areas, and another $1 million is needed under the Emergency Loan Program to cover losses of agricultural income. The amendment also provides $2 million to the Big Island Resource Conservation and Development Council to repair of the Kohala Ditch system that was also severely damaged by the earthquake; and $10 million to the Natural Resources Conservation Service, NRCS, Emergency Watershed Protection Program for the repair of the Lower Hamakua Ditch and the Waimea Irrigation System/Upper Hamakua Ditch—which were heavily damaged by the earthquake and are negatively impacting the farming community on the Big Island.

I commend Senator CONRAD for his dedication and commitment to our Nation's farmers and ranchers. This amendment is necessary to ensure that they may continue to provide U.S. agricultural products, and I ask my colleagues to support this important amendment.

Mr. NELSON of Nebraska. Mr. President, I rise today to again speak in support of the Emergency Farm Relief Act—this time as an amendment to the fiscal year 2007 Agriculture appropriations bill. I want to start by thanking my colleague Senator CONRAD for all of his hard work and his continued leadership in trying to get this relief to our farmers and ranchers.

Mr. President, this Congress has dragged its feet long enough. It is well past time for us to provide this relief for our Nation's farmers and ranchers—many of whom have suffered through multiple years of drought.

Now I know that some in this Congress and in the administration have questioned the need for emergency farm relief. But I have to wonder whether those individuals have seen the many fields in Nebraska that weren't even worth harvesting because the drought had killed off the crop.

I wonder if they have talked to the farmers and ranchers who are barely hanging on to their farms and ranches because of this multiyear drought and Congress's failure to provide relief.

And, I wonder if they have even seen their own statistics. Last week USDA released a report that stated that net farm income will have dropped by 20 percent this year in comparison to last year. This included a $4.7 billion drop in the value of livestock production.

Nebraska farmers and ranchers are estimated to have lost over $340 million just this production year due to the ongoing drought conditions. Nebraska farmers have also had to spend an extra $51 million in energy costs as their irrigation pumps ran longer than usual this year because of drought conditions.

And the Drought Monitor at the University of Nebraska continues to show that much of Nebraska is still suffering from severe to extreme drought.

Yet even the Secretary of Agriculture continues to question the need for disaster relief and this Congress stubbornly refuses to provide relief to those farmers and ranchers that have been harmed by this particular natural disaster.

And that, I think, is one of the most frustrating aspects about this debate over emergency farm relief. Congress and the administration seem to have no problems providing relief for other natural disasters like hurricanes. In fact, earlier this year we provided billions of dollars for Hurricane Katrina relief.

But even then, our attempt to provide emergency disaster relief to farmers and ranchers was substantially reduced and those farmers and ranchers unlucky enough to be hurt by drought were left behind and not given any relief.

I do not understand why this Congress is willing to help farmers damaged by hurricanes and is at the same time unwilling to help farmers that are damaged by other natural disasters such as drought. Both are natural disasters and both cause widespread economic harm.

That is why for the last few years when I talk about the drought I also talk about how I decided to nickname the drought "Drought David."

I gave it a name in the hope that it will help people realize that it is a natural disaster just like a hurricane even if it doesn't command the same types of headlines and television coverage.

A drought, unlike a hurricane or a flood, is a slow-moving disaster that can go over a course of years. In some cases Drought David is celebrating its fifth birthday. In other places it's celebrating its seventh birthday.

By giving it some identity, I had hoped to attract the same kind of attention that very often is given to hurricanes, which are named. And I had hoped that with that attention, this Congress would provide relief like it does for hurricanes.

Naming the drought was meant to help my colleagues focus on this being a natural disaster, with devastation of major economic proportions to large areas within our country and help them understand that it can have the same impact in terms of economic loss that very often a hurricane will cause in its wake.

I cannot overemphasize to my colleagues that the losses suffered and the losses we are asking relief for are those caused by a natural disaster.

These losses are due to events beyond the control of our farmers and ranchers. And that is why this Congress needs to provide relief, just as it does for losses caused by other natural disasters.

We cannot prevent drought. But Congress can help when a drought devastates large portions of our country.

And I remind my colleagues that failure to provide this needed relief threatens many small, rural businesses and communities and it threatens our nation's food and fuel security efforts.

This amendment will provide relief to farmers that have suffered production losses in 2005 and 2006 and it will also provide relief to livestock producers that have suffered losses in both years. And I urge my colleagues to support this relief.

I also want to remind my colleagues that this Congress can help in other ways, too. One of which is to provide farmers, ranchers and other agribusinesses with information for smart planning.

To that end, I also urge this Congress to take up and pass S. 2751, my NIDIS legislation, that will create a National Integrated Drought Information System.

The NIDIS bill will help create a drought "early warning system" that will be capable of providing accurate and timely information on drought conditions so State and local officials can plan for and mitigate the effects of drought.

An "early warning system" will give producers information they need to make planting and other decisions. They can use the information to limit their risk, thus limit their losses.

Unfortunately, due to the lack of a national drought policy, there has been no development to date of a coordinated, integrated drought monitoring and forecasting system.

With better research and better tools for planning and mitigation, we could significantly reduce losses and ultimately the need for large emergency disaster aid packages.

It is important to keep in mind that for every $1 we invest in mitigation and preparedness, we can save $4 in reduced impacts when the natural disaster occurs. And my NIDIS bill will invest $59 million over the next 6 years to help with mitigation and preparedness.

But that is what we are working on to help with droughts in the future. Today we must focus on providing relief for the devastating impacts that Drought David has caused the last two growing seasons.

Congress must do both: we must provide relief for the damages suffered now and we must provide for better planning and mitigation for the future.

Mr. President, this Congress cannot be excused for its failure to provide this much-needed relief. I urge my colleagues to support our nation's farmers and ranchers by supporting this emergency farm relief amendment.

Ms. CANTWELL. Mr. President, I have come to the floor today to discuss a critically important issue to Washington's farmers and ranchers—disaster assistance.

I support the agriculture disaster assistance legislation that is before us here on the floor and am proud to be an original cosponsor of the bill.

Washington's agriculture economy is supported by small and medium-sized family farms. Our farmers are a key economic engine for the state, producing more than 300 different commodities on 15.3 million acres valued at over $6.4 billion every year. And in our state, agriculture alone supports more than 300,000 good paying jobs.

Washington's farm families understand hardship. They understand that when you are in the business of farming, you have good years and you have bad years.

Recent years have been particularly hard for them. Many are struggling just to make ends meet as they face low commodity prices, an influx of commodities grown abroad, and high fuel and fertilizer prices stemming from the hurricane disasters of last year.

Unfortunately, in recent years, many producers have also had to cope with crops lost to adverse weather. Over the last three crop years, inclement weather, wildfires, and flooding have exacerbated the already difficult challenges farmers in my state face.

In 2004, 32 of Washington state's 39 counties received disaster declarations. In 2005, it was 13 counties.

So far this year, 24 counties in the State have received disaster declarations.

Once assessments have been completed on the damages sustained from recent flooding throughout Puget Sound and across the Olympic Peninsula, I am confident even more counties will receive declarations.

This year many producers lost their crops or had their crops severely damaged due to adverse weather. Others lost livestock or had herds displaced due to wildfires.

This summer, I visited with farmers in central Washington after the region sustained significant crop losses from hail, wind, and rain in June and July.

I saw firsthand the damage that many of Washington's apple, pear, and cherry orchards incurred. I saw the fruit that was no longer salvageable. I saw the losses that these orchards sustained.

Individual orchards throughout much of the tree fruit-growing regions in north central Washington state—in counties like Chelan, Douglas and Okanogan—lost significant portions of their crop. Some farms were decimated by the storms and lost their entire harvest.

These losses threaten the continued viability of many of these family farms and orchards.

The losses also affect the rural communities and economies these farms help support. Agriculture is the primary, and in some cases the only, economic driver in many rural communities throughout Washington state.

Packing houses, processors, dusters, shippers and other small businesses depend on the harvest almost as much as the producers themselves. Many of these businesses had to lay off hundreds of workers this year because there simply was no fruit to pick or pack.

The agriculture disaster legislation currently before the Senate contains important provisions that will provide desperately needed relief for our farmers and ranchers as they begin to recover during this difficult time. It also contains economic assistance grants to help the small businesses that support our farming communities.

We must act now to provide assistance and ensure the continued viability of American farmers and farm families who lost their crop to disaster. Without it, many will not survive.

I urge my colleagues to join me today in making a commitment to help our farm families and the communities in which they live by providing them the assistance they desperately need.

Voting for the Conrad amendment is to vote for funding that will come to your state and help your farmers stay viable. I urge my colleagues to support the Conrad amendment.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Who yields time?

Mr. CONRAD. Mr. President, is the Senator from Louisiana seeking time? Not on this matter?

Mr. President, I suggest the absence of a quorum and ask unanimous consent that the time be charged equally to both sides.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The clerk will call the roll.

The bill clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. CONRAD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. CONRAD. Mr. President, I ask the Senator from Minnesota, does he seek time?

Mr. COLEMAN. Yes.

Mr. CONRAD. I am advised I only have 13 minutes. The Senator from Montana is here as well. Would the Senator from Montana like time as well?

Mr. BURNS. No, thank you. I appreciate the Senator asking.

Mr. CONRAD. I ask the Senator from Minnesota, how much time would you like?

Mr. COLEMAN. Six minutes, probably less.

Mr. CONRAD. Mr. President, I am glad to yield the Senator from Minnesota 6 minutes.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Minnesota is recognized.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I thank my colleague from North Dakota for his leadership on agricultural disaster assistance.

I wish to let this body know what assistance means to Minnesota's farmers by reading a few excerpts from letters I have received from producers in my State. I have been on the floor a number of times about this issue. We need to get it done.

One man starts out saying, "I am a struggling young family farmer in Northwest Minnesota," and registers his plea:

We were counting on some help this summer to cash flow for the year after last year's devastating floods. We are now attempting to work with our banker to increase our operating credit limit, refinance our machinery, or refinance our land, just to make ends meet till we can harvest our crop. Please do not give up on this issue.

This urgency is repeated again and again in the letters I receive and conversations I have. Another Minnesota farmer writes there is an "urgent need for ag disaster assistance for our family farmers devastated by weather disasters in 2005 and 2006. My family has farmed in Minnesota since 1882 and we need ag disaster assistance now. Please, please help us."

These are heartbreaking stories. These are real emergencies for our farmers. These folks need our help or they will be put out of business, plain and simple.

And the need for agricultural disaster assistance is great. Minnesota's farmers have had to fend for themselves in the face of real natural disaster—first, against record flooding in 2005 and now against record drought in 2006.

In the sugar sector alone, revenue was reduced by $60 million in Minnesota in 2005, thanks to this natural disaster. In one county, crop loss exceeded $52 million and farmers were prevented from planting over 90,000 acres thanks to saturated fields. Now, thanks to one of the worst droughts ever experienced in the Great Plains, Minnesota farmers have experienced hundreds of millions of dollars of crop loss in 2006.

But it is not just about statistics. It is about farmers enduring personal struggles whom I have met all over the State. It is about farmers calling my office, desperate to save the family farm. Farmers are losing their operations, pure and simple. The producers who will not be coming back to the fields next year thanks to catastrophic weather are not just losing a business, many are losing a family tradition. We are losing a way of life. We are losing some of the heart and soul of America and of Minnesota.

I am concerned about the comments of some of my colleagues. My colleague and friend, the Senator from New Hampshire, indicated that the separate disaster assistance for sugar beets is akin to earmarks. I want to state that is not the case. It is not about porkbarrel spending. I think what some folks fail to recognize is that due to the nature of the sugar program, they don't get direct payments. It cannot be structured in the same way as other production loss assistance for other crops.

If you look at what has been laid out, we have been trying to be very focused and very clear. This is not about excess. This is about keeping families alive. This is about keeping farming alive. Some of the families have farmed for almost 100 years. With all due respect, these faulty characterizations do not do our farmers justice.

Another farmer in my State gets at the crux of this amendment when he writes:

Maybe the farmers in this area should have applied to FEMA for hurricane relief—it seems that hard working people in my community are looking to their government for help and getting ignored.

It is not that this Congress has refused to pass agricultural disaster assistance. We have provided $1.6 billion in emergency agricultural assistance. Of course, none of the farmers in Minnesota will benefit from this assistance because they do not own a farm in one of the Gulf States. Congress has not provided a dime for farmers suffering from natural disasters outside of the gulf region.

I have stood on this floor supporting our farmers in the Gulf States. I support us doing what we need to do to lift them up. I think it would shock many Americans to learn that natural devastation must come in the right package to be worthy of Federal aid. The message being sent is that record flooding and drought do not count. That is not a good message.

Again, I have traveled to the Gulf States. I have seen the hurricane damage firsthand. And you should see the devastation here. The Senator from North Dakota has done a good job of making it real. Seeing it. And it is real. We cannot put one region against the next. This is about America doing the right thing. That is what we should be doing on the floor of the Senate.

The core of this issue is about equity and fairness for all regions that are suffering. And to the thousands of Minnesotans whose very livelihoods have been jeopardized, and those losing their farms due to last year's disastrous weather, withholding assistance is nothing short of cruel. We can do better. We should do better. I urge my colleagues to support this assistance package.

Mr. President, I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Who yields time?

The Senator from Louisiana.

AMENDMENT NO. 5151

Mr. VITTER. Mr. President, I ask my colleagues' indulgence to speak on another very important topic, another amendment filed under this bill. And the topic is sky-high prescription drug prices and the ability to temper those prices, to bring them down, to some significant extent, through what is called reimportation, allowing all American consumers a fair, safe opportunity to buy prescription drugs from Canada or other countries.

I filed this amendment, amendment No. 5151, on this Agriculture appropriations bill with my colleague from Florida, Senator NELSON. I thank him for all of his work and support on this amendment and on this issue.

This follows up on work earlier this year, when we successfully passed an amendment on the Homeland Security appropriations bill. That was a breakthrough vote, particularly on the floor of the Senate, to allow Americans greater access to those safe prescription drugs from Canada at much more reasonable prices.

Our amendment on the Agriculture appropriations bill would go a little further still and expand those opportunities for Americans to buy safe, yet affordable, prescription drugs through reimportation from Canada.

First, let me step back and speak about the need for this in general because there is a significant need. At a time when pharmaceutical companies are making record profits, the cost of prescription drugs—many of which are necessary to keep seniors and other Americans healthy or sometimes, in fact, alive—is skyrocketing. And these are the very same medicines that are sold at a fraction of the U.S. cost a few miles north of our border in Canada.

With all that going on—again, in the context of sky-high, record pharmaceutical company profits—Americans are deeply skeptical. I am here to say that Americans should be.

Opposing the right of an American to buy a small amount of prescription drugs—approved medication they intend to use for themselves—does not make sense to the average American.

Yet that is still, to a large extent, our policy.

Many of my colleagues have spoken passionately on this floor, the floor of the Senate, about their own neighbors' stories, about how folks in their States have had to go to cheaper markets, such as Canada, to afford their prescriptions.

In September, my colleague from Michigan spoke of her bus trips with her constituents up to Canada to get these more affordable medicines. She traveled there by bus with her constituents, and they were able to get safe, FDA-approved drugs at a fraction of the cost in the United States. She told us about her constituents who were able to buy the cholesterol-lowering drug Lipitor for about 40 percent less than the U.S. price, the ulcer medication Prevacid at 50 percent less, and antidepressants such as Zyprexa at 70 percent less.

In June, another colleague from North Dakota spoke eloquently of the need to allow reimportation of safe drugs as a way to pressure U.S. pharmaceutical companies that manufacture these very same drugs—our companies are the source of the same drugs—to lower prices in the United States.

I have spoken over and over again about my neighbors in Louisiana, their struggles, in many cases, to afford these lifesaving and life-sustaining drugs, being torn by various needs—to pay the rent, the food bill, the gasoline bill, energy costs—and yet have to pay sky-high pharmaceutical costs. Clearly, one part of the solution is reimportation, allowing all Americans to buy safe prescription drugs from other countries such as Canada.

As I said, I am proud to be joined by Senator NELSON of Florida on this amendment. He joined me several months ago on a similar amendment which we offered to the Homeland Security appropriations bill. It passed overwhelmingly with 72 votes, a strong consensus show of support on the Senate floor. That amendment was very simple. It said: We are no longer going to let the border security bureaucracy of the Federal Government use taxpayer money to take away those cheaper prescription drugs many Americans go into Canada to buy and bring back to their homes. We are going to let those Americans do that because that is fair and right. We were only talking about Canada. We were only talking about taking them back across the border in quantities that are for their personal use, not to go into business to be a middleman selling drugs to other consumers but for their personal use. That amendment not only passed by a strong vote in the Senate, but it remained in the bill through the entire process.

After a lot of fighting, a lot of discussion and argument and work on this crucial issue, we were able to retain an important version of that amendment in the final version of the Homeland Security appropriations bill. President Bush signed it into law. Now we have made that important change that says Americans can go into Canada, buy those safe, cheaper prescription drugs for their personal use and bring them back without border security agents taking them away, confiscating them, and having them out the cost, trouble, and time of their trip.

Today Senator NELSON and I offer amendment No. 5151 to the Agriculture appropriations bill. Of course, that bill covers the FDA as well. This amendment builds upon our earlier work and our earlier success and applies that same policy to the Food and Drug Administration, which is another enforcement arm of the Government on this topic. Again, it is simple. We are simply saying: Our taxpayer dollars should not be used to confiscate those prescription drugs bought by Americans in Canada. Just as it should not be used to confiscate them at the border as Americans cross back across the border to their home country, so, too, that bureaucracy, those taxpayer dollars, should not be used to confiscate drugs when they come from mail order or Internet sales. That is exactly what our amendment is about—Canada only, personal use only, a thoroughly reasonable, straightforward provision to honor the American people and give them this limited yet reasonable and important mechanism to get cheaper prescription drugs from elsewhere.

I am very hopeful that either this week or in the near future this sort of provision will pass, particularly given the strong vote we had on the earlier Vitter-Nelson amendment. I am also hopeful that in the next Congress we will be able to pass a full-blown reimportation bill to allow broad-based reimportation of safe, cheaper prescription drugs into this country. That is needed by Americans, particularly seniors, across the land. It is a fair and reasonable approach. It is not a magic wand, not a silver bullet. It won't solve the challenge of very high prescription drug prices overnight or alone. But it can and will be an important and significant part of the solution.

I look forward to continuing to work with Senator NELSON of Florida and many others on this vitally important effort. I look forward to our work on this amendment to the Agriculture appropriations bill. I look forward to our following up on the success we had with our amendment to the Homeland Security appropriations bill.

Most of all, I look forward to passing a broad-based reimportation bill early in the next Congress to give Americans what they deserve—the opportunity, the freedom to buy safe, cheaper prescription drugs from other sources, Canada, other countries, including by mail order and the Internet. This will give Americans access to cheaper drugs. Perhaps even more importantly, it will break down that system that allows pharmaceutical companies to charge dramatically different prices in other countries versus ours. Of course, we pay the highest prices by far.

I look forward to that continuing work. I look forward to those victories, because the American people are waiting for it, counting it, depending on it. We can do this with major safety provisions built in to make sure these drugs are safe and reliable, as advertised.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Who yields time?

The Senator from North Dakota.

Mr. CONRAD. Mr. President, I suggest the absence of a quorum and ask unanimous consent that the time be equally divided.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The clerk will call the roll.

The assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. CONRAD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. CONRAD. Mr. President, may we have a report on how much time remains on both sides?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from North Dakota has 4½ minutes. The Senator from New Hampshire has 10 minutes.

Mr. CONRAD. Mr. President, I ask the Chair to advise me after I have used 2½ minutes.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair will do so.

Mr. CONRAD. Mr. President, we are about to have a consequential vote. The question before the body is whether the Senate believes disaster assistance ought to be provided to this Nation's farmers and ranchers—what is now reported to be the third worst drought in the Nation's history. Right down the center of America, we have had a blistering drought. The results: farm fields that look like moonscapes and economic losses that are stunning and ruinous.

In other disasters, Congress has responded, especially disasters that have gotten more attention. Perhaps because this disaster is right in the heart of America, where most of the national news media is not headquartered, this disaster has not gotten the attention so many other disasters have.

Make no mistake, this disaster is no less devastating. People's economic lives are on the line. We understand full well that this will not be decided today because our friends on the other side, who are in the majority still, have determined not to finish work on the pending appropriations bills. They are leaving that to next year. So this work will not be complete. But this vote remains important because it will signal to the Nation's farmers and ranchers whether there is hope that help is on the way. If there is no hope and there is no help, we are going to see literally tens of thousands of farm and ranch families forced off the land. That is clear.

This is a fiscally responsible package. Some have said it is a budget buster. They know, as all of us in this Chamber know, there is no budget for natural disasters—none. That is because it is hard to predict what natural disasters will occur. So every natural disaster must be dealt with on an emergency basis. That is why it requires a supermajority vote. That is the question that is before the body this afternoon.

This bill costs $4.8 billion for relief for 2005 and 2006. It is a fraction of what disaster relief was for the years 2000 and 2001. That disaster package was $25 billion. This is less than one-fifth that amount.

In answer to the question some colleagues have raised, there are payment limitations—an $80,000 payment limitation. There is a gross-income test. On the question of those who grow the grains we consume as a nation, let me just say, you have to have at least a 35-percent loss before you get anything. Nobody with no loss gets a dime under this proposal.

I urge my colleagues to vote to waive the budget point of order so we can send a signal to the Nation's farmers and ranchers that help is on the way.

I thank the Chair and yield the floor. I suggest the absence of a quorum and ask that the time be equally charged.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The clerk will call the roll.

The assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. CONRAD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. CONRAD. Mr. President, the order is for the vote to occur at 5 o'clock; is that correct?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. That is correct.

Mr. CONRAD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that I be given an additional 4 minutes.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. CONRAD. Mr. President, let me just point out that 32 major farm organizations have asked this body to support my amendment and also to support a budget waiver, if it is raised, against the amendment. That has already been done. So that will be the key vote. What is essential is that we get 60 votes, or close to it, so that farmers know there is a possibility of disaster assistance. There are 32 national organizations, including the National Farmers Union, American Farm Bureau, Farm Credit Council, the Sugarbeet Growers, Soybean Association, and the American Corn Growers Association. It also has the National Association of State Departments of Agriculture. The commissioners of agriculture from all 50 States have come forward and said: Please pass this legislation. It also includes the Barley Growers, the Farmer Cooperatives, National Farmers Organization, Milk Producers, the Sunflower Association, the Rice Belt Warehousemen, the Fertilizer Institute, U.S. Dried Peas and Lentils Council, U.S. Beet Sugar Association, U.S. Canola Association, and Women Involved in Farm Economics. They all say unanimously that this legislation is important and it is important now.

To those colleagues or their staffs who are watching the final minutes of this debate and discussion who are wondering, Gee, does this do what the critics say; does it unjustly enrich someone; let me say that the answer to that is an emphatic no. This example I have prepared shows, in North Dakota, what a farmer would get in a typical year on an acre of wheat, which is $157. With a 50-percent loss, he gets $78.60 from the market, $27 in insurance premium, and $7 for this amendment, for a total of $113. He would still be left with a 28-percent loss. For a farmer who has a 75-percent loss of his crop, he would get $39 from the market, $54 in insurance premium, $19.50 from this amendment, for a total of $113, leaving him or her with a loss of 28 percent as well. People are not being unjustly enriched and they are not being made whole. We are simply offsetting some of the dramatic losses people have received as a result of natural disaster—the third worst drought in our Nation's history.

I don't know how much more clear I can be. I ask my colleagues to support this amendment. In our part of the country, we have supported every region when they have had disasters. We were the first to sign up after Katrina for aid to them and the Gulf Coast States. We recognized their loss. We were among the first to sign up to help Florida in the terrible losses it has suffered. We were among the first to sign up when California experienced terrible losses as a result of natural disasters, whether it was wildfires, mud slides, or any of the rest. We have had a disaster in our part of the country now. We are asking our colleagues to help us. We will remember those who helped, just as we have helped others in their time of need.

Mr. President, how much time remains?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator has used his 4 minutes.

Mr. CONRAD. I thank the Chair and suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I understand we are, by a previous order, to vote at 5 o'clock. There appears to be 4 minutes remaining. I ask unanimous consent to speak during that time if no one else is present.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. DORGAN. Mr. President, I only wanted to follow Senator CONRAD and point out that this amendment is truly bipartisan. Those who have watched this debate will recognize we have had Republicans and Democrats come to the floor of the Senate to say this is an important amendment. They support it, and they hope the Senate will pass it.

I want to point out again that this is the third time we have brought this to the floor of the Senate. On two other occasions, it passed the Senate and had gone to conference. On both of those occasions, it was blocked in conference with the U.S. House. It was blocked by the House conferees. I believe on both occasions I asked for a vote of the Senate conferees, and the Senate conferees insisted on their position. So it is not a weak will here with respect to disaster assistance for farmers that exists. It is a very strong will, and the Senate has expressed itself previously on two occasions.

On the third occasion in the Appropriations Committee, we had a unanimous vote—by unanimous consent in the Appropriations Committee—to add the disaster legislation earlier this year. That bill has not previously come to the floor but not because we have not tried. We have pushed and pushed to get that bill to the floor of the Senate. Only now, in what is the last week of the session, have we managed to get the bill on the floor and, by consent, offer an amendment.

So I think it is important to understand that we have been trying for a long while to get this amendment fully debated, get it through the Senate and back to conference with the House.

It appears now that, whatever may happen on the floor this afternoon, this is likely to be a part of an omnibus appropriations bill at some point in late January or, likely, mid-February. Time is very short. Someone used the word "patience" earlier today. Boy, we have had a lot of patience in dealing with this issue. There is broad, bipartisan support for it—or there has been at least. We have been waiting and waiting, and it has been blocked in the Senate from bringing this to the floor. Finally we are here today.

This is not an idle matter for a lot of American families. For many farm families, the decision will be a decision about whether they will be able to continue living on and working on their family farms. For those who don't know about them, those who never lived on a farm and don't know what they do on a family farm, don't understand the risks that are taken on a family farm, there are ways they should avail themselves to find out. It is an important part of this country.

The network of farm families that are spread across the prairies and lands of this country and produces the foodstuffs, raises cattle, plants and harvests crops, takes all the risks, is an unbelievable group of Americans, and in many ways they are America's all-stars, the entrepreneurs who risk everything virtually every year. When real trouble comes—a natural disaster—the best instinct of this Chamber has always been to say to them: We want to help you. That is all we are saying with this amendment. We want to help family farmers have a chance to continue to stay on the lands. My hope is we will give broad, bipartisan support for this legislation today.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The hour of 5 p.m. having arrived, the question is on agreeing to the motion to waive the Budget Act point of order with respect to amendment No. 5205. The yeas and nays have been previously ordered. The clerk will call the roll.

The assistant legislative clerk called the roll.

Mr. MCCONNELL. The following Senators were necessarily absent: the Senator from Kansas (Mr. BROWNBACK), the Senator from Georgia (Mr. CHAMBLISS), the Senator from South Carolina (Mr. GRAHAM), and the Senator from Utah (Mr. HATCH).

Mr. DURBIN. I announce that the Senator from Delaware (Mr. BIDEN) and the Senator from Connecticut (Mr. DODD) are necessarily absent.

I further announce that, if present and voting, the Senator from Delaware (Mr. BIDEN) would vote "yea."

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. ALLEXANDER). Are there any other Senators in the Chamber desiring to vote?

The yeas and nays resulted—yeas 57, nays 37, as follows:

The PRESIDING OFFICER. On this vote, the yeas are 57, the nays are 37. Three-fifths of the Senators duly chosen and sworn not having voted in the affirmative, the motion is rejected. The point of order is sustained. The emergency designation is removed.

The Senator from Utah.

Mr. BENNETT. I raise a point against the pending amendment because it would cause the subcommittee to exceed its allocation.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The point of order is sustained. The amendment falls.

FUNDING FOR SPINACH GROWERS

Mrs. FEINSTEIN. Mr. President, I would like to take a moment to thank Senator KOHL for his stewardship of the Agriculture appropriations bill. His work on this bill will provide funding to support our Nation's farmers and consumers, and I support those efforts wholeheartedly.

Mr. President, my colleague from California, Senator BOXER, and I would like to take a moment to engage our colleague from Wisconsin in a colloquy.

Mr. KOHL. I thank my colleague for her kind words and would be happy to engage in a colloquy with the Senators from California.

Mrs. FEINSTEIN. A few months ago, nearly every grocery store in the country was advised not to sell fresh spinach due to confirmed incidents of E. coli bacteria coming out of California. The impact of this outbreak was devastating: it sickened nearly 200 people, killing 3. It also resulted in more than $70 million in economic losses to spinach growers.

As you know, one of the many responsibilities of the FDA is to oversee the safety of fruits and vegetables. In my State, where more than half of all fresh fruits and vegetables are grown, this is clearly an enormous task and one that requires advanced scientific methods for detection and response.

Unfortunately, the FDA does not have that kind of presence in the Western United States to conduct and carry out the necessary scientific testing and outreach that we should expect. There are currently three FDA food safety research centers in the Nation: one in Maryland, one in Illinois, and one in Mississippi. None of these centers is connected with the vital and dominant food systems in California, which greatly impairs the FDA's effectiveness in addressing the food safety and security research, teaching, and outreach needs in the Western United States.

Last year we provided funding to establish an FDA Western Center for Food Safety to serve the vast agricultural food safety needs of the Western United States. This center would be collocated with the Western Center for Food Safety and Security at the University of California at Davis, a place where the FDA would benefit from the synergy of working in an academic research environment with university scientists and with university extension specialists who already have the critical relationships with farmers that the FDA needs to be effective. Unfortunately, this funding was not agreed to by the House conferees.

The University of California at Davis already has a facility for the FDA scientists to move in to. This year I am once again seeking your assistance for a modest appropriation to begin the development of this FDA presence to serve the food safety needs of the vast agricultural regions in the Western United States and the consumers across the country who depend on a safe and reliable food supply.

Mrs. BOXER. Mr. President, first I would like to thank the chairman of the Agriculture Appropriations Subcommittee, Senator KOHL, for working with Senator FEINSTEIN and me on these important food safety projects.

As Senator FEINSTEIN has already explained, a recent E. coli outbreak in spinach produced in California has reminded us of the critical importance of food safety and public health scientific research. We hope that with a renewed focus on providing food safety scientists with the proper tools, we can learn more about how to control the impact of future E. coli outbreaks and protect the Nation's food supply from all food-borne illnesses.

To accomplish this goal, the Agricultural Research Service, ARS, is ready to begin work on a leafy green food safety research program that will help inform the choices producers and regulators make to secure the safety of the leafy vegetable food supply. With the necessary funding that we hope can be provided in conference for these important goals, ARS will complete the ongoing process of expanding its small existing vegetable food safety program and produce applied science that the Nation's growers can use to help keep their products safe.

After all of the work done in recent years to get Americans to eat more fruits and vegetables, taking no action to prevent food safety scares like the recent E. coli outbreak in spinach will threaten to depress consumption and reverse progress made to encourage healthy eating choices. With a renewed focus on food safety science, we can create an atmosphere for increased consumer confidence and at the same time strengthen public health protections.

Mr. KOHL. I appreciate the remarks of the Senators from California and assure them that I will work to address these items.

VHS TESTING FACILITIES

Mr. VOINOVICH. Mr. President, as you know, the Animal Plant and Health Inspection Service, APHIS, issued an emergency order on October 24, 2006 which prohibited the importation of 37 species of live fish from two Canadian provinces and the interstate movement within the eight Great Lakes States. APHIS issued this order with the intention of stopping the spread of viral hemorrhagic septicemia, VHS, within the Great Lakes States which has been linked to fish kills. On November 14, 2006 APHIS modified their emergency order to allow the interstate movement of live fish within and from the Great Lakes States provided the fish have tested negative to VHS. I appreciate the concerns APHIS has about the spread of this virus and their concern about protecting the Great Lakes from this virus. I share the goal in restoring and protecting our Great Lakes. I too am deeply concerned about the negative effects associated with the spread of this virus within the Great Lakes and its potential impact on our fishing and aquaculture industry. It is very important that we take responsible steps forward in limiting the spread of this virus which could impact the region. The commercial and sport fishing industry in the Great Lakes is a $4 billion industry and is a source of pride in our region.

I am concerned, however, that this emergency order does not adequately take into consideration the economic concerns of the region. The Ohio Department of Natural Resources and the aquaculture industry in the region have all expressed that this order will adversely affect businesses and the State's ability to stock Lake Erie. The Ohio Department of Agriculture has indicated to me they are not equipped to test for this disease at this time and that the cost could be approximately $200,000 to update their labs to meet the demands of the APHIS order. It is critical that we be able to provide the Great Lakes States the ability to begin testing in order to comply with the APHIS order in a timely manner. Funding will be needed to meet these demands. Without this assistance, the aquaculture industry will suffer. Because I believe this issue can be resolved in conference, I have introduced, but will not offer, an amendment to provide funding for the Great Lakes States to help them set up facilities to test fish for VHS. The chairman and ranking member are aware of this important issue and share my concerns about the problem facing the Great Lakes States today. It is my hope that we can work together during conference negotiations on the FY2007 Agriculture Appropriations bill to find relief for the Great Lakes States in this matter.

Mr. DEWINE. Senator VOINOVICH has stated, the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Animal Plant Health Inspection Service emergency Federal order banning the interstate shipment of several species of fish is having a crippling effect on Ohio's aquaculture industry. While my colleague and I recognize APHIS' attempt to stop the spread of a damaging disease and their readiness to make amendments to the emergency order, many Great Lakes States, such as Ohio, lack sufficient testing programs and facilities to fully comply with the new testing regulation.

It is appropriate to make our Senate colleagues aware of this issue during FY2007 Agriculture appropriations debate, as resources are needed to assist State and Federal agencies to establish additional testing facilities, monitor the spread of VHS throughout the region, and conduct research on the disease. At this time, it is difficult to fully quantify the financial needs of the entire Great Lakes region in light of these new amendments. The aquaculture industry operates on a short time-frame, and our aquaculture producers and sportsmen need assistance, or their livelihoods will be in jeopardy. Mr. President, Senator VOINOVICH and I are committed to working with APHIS officials and State departments of agriculture and departments of natural resources to provide them with resources to resume commerce responsibly and combat this disease. We are hopeful that FY2007 Agriculture appropriations conference negotiations will provide an opportunity to allocate much-needed funding to Ohio and other Great Lakes States.

Mr. KOHL. As ranking member of the Senate Agriculture Appropriations Subcommittee and a member of the Great Lakes Task Force, I share in my colleagues' efforts to restore and protect the Great Lakes. I am aware of the risks associated with the spread of this virus within the Great Lakes and understand the need to limit its spread. It is my hope that we can help the Great Lakes states address this challenge and enhance their ability to ensure the safe movement of live fish within the region. I look forward to working with my colleagues on this issue.

Mr. BENNETT. I recognize the concerns the distinguished Senators from Ohio have about protecting the Great Lakes and their efforts to balance the environmental and economic needs of the region. I look forward to working with my colleagues on this issue.

Mr. VOINOVICH. I thank the chairman and ranking member and look forward to working on this effort during conference negotiations.

Mr. DEWINE. I appreciate the chairman's attention and collaboration on this issue.

DELAWARE AGRICULTURAL MUSEUM AND VILLAGE

Mr. CARPER. Mr. President, I would like to take a moment to discuss with my friends, the Senators from Utah and Wisconsin, an important proposal that will enhance Delaware's economy by promoting agri-tourism and our agricultural heritage.

As we all know, Senator BENNETT, the chairman, and Senator KOHL, the ranking member, of the Agriculture Appropriations Subcommittee have the difficult job of managing funding priorities for the Nation's agriculture spending and do a superb job in that role.

I bring to my colleagues' attention an important proposal that merits serious consideration—the Delaware Agricultural Museum and Village, which interprets and preserves the story of Delaware's past and promotes an understanding of the vital role agriculture plays in our daily lives.

This is a vital cultural resource center that presents the history and function of American agriculture. It is very important that the American people, and especially our youth, understand the source of their food supply. This is especially so in view of such critical issues as childhood obesity, food safety, and the continuing loss of farmland to development.

Each year the Delaware Agricultural Village hosts thousands of school children and tens of thousands of tourists. These visitors experience 19th century farming life and witness the evolution of American agriculture. The school children of Delmarva benefit from the summer camps, field trips, and educational programs provided by this facility. These activities help our children understand and appreciate the joys and struggles of farming life in the past as well as today. This institution is a great demonstration of the valuable role that farming ingenuity and technological innovation play in dairy, poultry farming, and rural life in Delaware and across the country.

Every year 25,000 people visit this center, and between 6,000 and 9,000 school children participate annually in field trips, summer camps, and other activities. The village serves all of the Delmarva Peninsula and receives visitors from across the Nation. Last week, the center hosted a school from as far away as Texas.

Specifically, the funds requested will be combined with additional funds from private individuals, businesses, and other government sources to ensure the Delaware Agricultural Museum and Village will be able to better serve their agri-tourism and educational guests. Every year it seems the facility is asked to do more and more. These additional funds will help provide additional space and more accommodating facilities while avoiding construction of an entirely new building.

I and the rest of the Delaware congressional delegation are very supportive of this program and seek the support of the bill managers in asking the Department of Agriculture to consider and assist this project with resources available in the Rural Development mission area. We also request that the managers help support this item in the conference committee on the Agriculture appropriations bill.

So, with this background, I ask my friends from Utah and Wisconsin whether it is correct that the Delaware Agricultural Museum and Village will be considered in the conference between the House and Senate on this bill?

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. President, The Senator from Delaware has obviously made a very strong case for this important educational resource center in Delaware, and it is apparent that the Delaware Agricultural Museum and Village provides an important contribution to Delaware's economy and its agri-tourism and agriculture industry. I yield to my distinguished colleague, the Senator from Wisconsin.

Mr. KOHL. I agree with my colleague. This project appears to be a well-established enterprise worthy of consideration for rural development program assistance, so we thank the Senator for his work in this regard.

Mr. BENNETT. In response to the Senator's question concerning this proposal, I am confident that this request will receive very careful consideration by the Senate conferees.

Mr. KOHL. I concur with the distinguished subcommittee chairman.

Mr. CARPER. I thank my friends for taking a moment to discuss this matter with me. I urge my colleagues who will be negotiating these provisions with the House to carefully consider the benefits of this proposal. I thank them in advance for any assistance they may render.

PENICILLIN

Mrs. CLINTON. Mr. President, I rise today to talk about an issue that I believe needs attention during debates on the Agriculture appropriations bill for fiscal year 2007. Antimicrobial drugs that are used to treat human diseases are being used at an alarming rate in large-scale animal production. There is growing evidence of an increased human health risk as a result, specifically the development of antibiotic resistance.

Penicillin is a very important antimicrobial drug. It is an essential treatment for serious human diseases and infections, such as Meningococcal meningitis and strep throat. Since its discovery in 1928, it has been estimated that penicillin has saved nearly 200 million lives. Overuse of this drug in agriculture could cause humans to build up resistance to penicillin, limiting our treatment options during health outbreaks.

According to the Union of Concerned Scientists, livestock producers in the United States use an estimated 24.6 million pounds of antimicrobials on healthy animals every year. Furthermore, the overall use of antimicrobials for nontherapeutic purposes has risen by nearly 50 percent since 1985.

The World Health Organization outlined recommendations for healthy livestock production without the use of antimicrobials in the report "Overcoming Antimicrobial Resistance" in 2000. The report illustrated those farmers who stopped "relying on antimicrobials as growth promoters in livestock have experienced no economic repercussions—provided that animals were given enough space, clean water, and high-grade feed." These living conditions are also crucial in avoiding the spread of diseases.

I was pleased that in July 2000, the Food and Drug Administration, FDA, announced its intention to ban the use of fluoroquinolone for poultry production due to increasing evidence of antibiotic resistant Campylobacter cultures. Campylobacter infects over 2 million people each year, particularly babies under 1 year old and young adults, and it is a leading cause of diarrhea and food-borne illness.

In 1999, more than 11,000 people infected with Campylobacter were receiving less effective or ineffective treatment with fluoroquinolones, up from 5,000 people just one year before. Scientist later discovered the fluoroquinolone-resistant strand of Campylobacter found in humans was the same as those found in animals. Concerns over the emergence of fluoroquinolone-resistant bacteria led the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, CDC, to oppose approval of fluoroquinolones for animal use.

The fact is diseases that were once easily treated and cured by antimicrobial drugs are becoming more difficult to treat. Resistance to these drugs has been linked to the overuse of these drugs in animal treatment. The Food and Drug Administration, FDA, has recently expressed concerns regarding the overuse of penicillin in the feeds of the animals humans consume. In a May 2004 a statement to manufacturers of veterinary penicillin, the FDA stated that their products could play a role in building up human resistance to this drug, as penicillin is often used in animals to induce animal growth and prevent diseases.

I share in the FDA's concern regarding growing resistance to antibiotics like penicillin, and I believe that we should not use these drugs in animal feed without fully understanding the impact on human health. I believe it is important for the Center for Veterinary Medicine to conduct more research on the effects of penicillin in animal feeds, and encourage funding to be added for this purpose. Doing so would shed much needed light on how widespread use of these drugs in feed can affect treating human infections.

Mr. KOHL. I thank the Senator for her attention to this issue. I appreciate all of the important facts she has raised, and look forward to working with her.

Mrs. CLINTON. Mr. President, I have an amendment to offer to the Agriculture appropriations bill for fiscal year 2007. My amendment calls for the Center for Veterinary Medicine to study the effects that certain uses of penicillin in animal feeds have on the human immune system.

Antimicrobial drugs that are used to treat human diseases are being used at an alarming rate in large-scale animal production. There is growing evidence of an increased human health risk as a result, specifically the development of antibiotic resistance.

I hope that my colleagues will join me in support of this important amendment.

Mr. KOHL. Mr. President, although it does not appear that we will be able to complete action on the Agriculture appropriations bill this evening, I would like to take a quick moment to thank Senator BENNETT and his staff for their hard work. I have had the pleasure of serving with Senator BENNETT on this subcommittee for the last 4 years, and every year he and his staff have worked very hard to write a responsible, bipartisan bill that spends the American citizens tax dollars wisely. They have also worked very closely with my staff, and I remain grateful for that. Once again, I would like to thank Fitz Elder, who did a great job in his first year as clerk, Dianne Preece, Stacy McBride, and Graham Harper. Senator BENNETT, you have an exemplary staff, and I am grateful for all of their, and your, hard work and professionalism.

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. President, I would first like to applaud and thank the senior Senator from Mississippi and chairman of the Appropriations Committee, Senator COCHRAN. Because of his leadership, the Committee on Appropriations reported each of the 12 appropriations bills to the Senate before the August recess, while also shepherding the passage of a supplemental appropriations bill in the spring for the war in Iraq and the lingering effects of Hurricane Katrina. This is the earliest the committee has reported all its bills since 1988. I believe the Appropriations Committee to be one of the most difficult committees to chair in the Senate, and Chairman COCHRAN has done a marvelous job. During his tenure, he has worked diligently to maintain regular order, and once again this year he made sure the committee met its responsibilities.

I also would like to thank my staff and the staff of Senator KOHL. Specifically, I would like to thank Galen Fountain, Jessica Frederick, Bill Simpson, and Tom Gonzales of the minority staff and Fitz Elder, Dianne Preece, Stacy McBride, and Graham Harper of the majority. A special mention goes to Hunter Moorhead, who ably assisted in the drafting of this legislation before leaving the subcommittee staff to take a position at the White House. These individuals work in a truly bipartisan manner, and I thank them for their hard work this year.

Shortly, the Senate will vote in relation to the agricultural disaster amendment, and the Agriculture appropriations bill will come to a premature end. It was the first appropriations bill to be reported to the Senate this year, and it will likely be the last to be considered by the Senate in the 109th Congress. While I would prefer a vote on final passage, we will have to finish the fiscal year 2007 Agriculture appropriations bill in the 110th Congress.

I wish Senator KOHL Godspeed as he takes over the helm of the subcommittee in the next Congress. It has been my pleasure to work with him over the last 3 years.

MORNING BUSINESS

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent the Senate now proceed to a period of morning business with the following Senators being recognized to speak: Senator CONRAD for 2 minutes, Senator SPECTER for 20 minutes, Senator BYRD for 20 minutes, Senator LANDRIEU for 10 minutes, Senator VOINOVICH for 20 minutes, and Senator DEWINE for an hour.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The Senator from North Dakota.

AGRICULTURAL ASSISTANCE

Mr. CONRAD. Mr. President, I thank my colleagues for this very strong show of support for disaster assistance; 57 votes. We had three votes in favor who are missing today, who will be back. So perhaps we will have another opportunity this week to have a vote on this question when we are at full strength.

To those who are on the other side, we respect the differences. We hope you understand the desperate situation that our farm and ranch families face. I again thank each of our 57 colleagues who voted for this. I thank three of our colleagues who are not present and voting today who had announced publicly their support for this position. We believe either later this week or in the new Congress we will prevail.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Pennsylvania is recognized.

A LABOR, HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES, EDUCATION APPROPRIATIONS BILL AND HABEAS CORPUS

Mr. SPECTER. Mr. President, I have sought recognition to comment about the appropriations bill covering the Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education. It had been my hope that before we finished our work in the 109th Congress we would address an appropriations bill on the very important subjects covered by those three major departments—the Department of Labor, the Department of Health and Human Services, and the Department of Education. It appears at this juncture that we will not be taking up that bill, and I think it is very regrettable. Conceivably we could still act, having the balance of this week, and we could be in session next week, but I understand that does not appear to be the will of the Senate to proceed. It is unfortunate because there are a great many priorities which ought to be revised in that budget, which approximates $147 billion.

We have had a decrease in funding for cancer. As tough as that malady is in the United States, and as many people as it claims, we now find that we have $50 million a year less for the National Cancer Institute.

We find that there has been a decrease in the funding for the National Institutes of Health generally, which is unacceptable. Senator TOM HARKIN and I, as chairman and ranking—we change gavels from time to time on that, and we are about to do so again, but we called it a seamless exchange of the gavel—have worked with leadership to increase the funding for the National Institutes of Health from $12 billion in 1995 to the current recommended funding level of $28.5 billion. Enormous advances have been made in combating Alzheimer's, Parkinson's, heart disease, cancer, and so many other maladies.

We need to reevaluate many of the other programs in the health field, and in education funding for GEAR UP mentoring program. We need some rescission in appropriations on No Child Left Behind. We need revisions on worker safety. It is totally unsatisfactory to leave the 109th Congress with our having completed action on only 2 of 12 appropriations bills. Ten bills are unattended to. Only the Department of Defense appropriations bill and Homeland Security will have been acted upon, which is not adequate for our responsibilities on these very important subjects.

We had a series of hearings to investigate and inquire into how we ought to spend the money for the Department of Education. Now we are not permitted to act on those recommendations and to reassess the priorities and the interests of the American people. Chairman REGULA of the House of Representatives and I have tried to conference on an informal basis. But I think it is most unfortunate that we are not able to complete this bill.

It is my hope that we will take up the bill early in the 110th Congress. The new majority leader has outlined an ambitious work schedule. This ought to be a priority item to take up.

I have been on the Appropriations Committee for all of my tenure in the Senate, ending my 26th year. We need to do better when we take a look at the appropriations process next year.

Similarly, it had been my hope that we would have moved on the legislation to provide protection for civil liberties on the surveillance program put into effect by the President, which is designed to protect America from another terrorist attack and to balance security interests versus privacy interests.

When this program was disclosed on December 16 of last year, almost a year ago, we moved ahead in the Judiciary Committee to have a series of hearings to try to find a way to have judicial review in accordance with the tradition and concept in the United States, having the impartial magistrate between the Government and the person subject to surveillance, to search and seizure, or to wiretapping. The initial legislation would have given that authority to the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Court, which was selected because of the expertise that court has and because they can maintain secrecy.

In my legal opinion, there is no doubt that the administration program violates FISA, the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act. But the President has asserted that there was article II power, inherent powers as Commander in Chief, which warrants this program without—justifies this program without warrants.

I cosponsored legislation introduced by the senior Senator from California, Mrs. FEINSTEIN, which would extend the time for retroactive approval by the FISA court in 3 to 7 days and would increase the resources so that according to General Alexander, the head of NSA, there were such resources to have individualized warrants for calls originated in the United States and going outside the United States. According to General Alexander and the National Security Administration, and General Hayden his predecessor, there are too many calls coming from outside and in to have individualized warrants. But it would be an enormous step forward for civil liberties to have the individual warrants for calls originating in the United States and going out.

As to the calls originating outside the United States and coming in, let's have the judicial determination made as to whether the President is correct that he has article II powers. That can only be determined by the court, weighing the invasion of privacy on the one hand against the interests of security on the other.

The legislation which I introduced, S. 4051, modifies earlier versions, modifies the so-called Feinstein-Specter bill by recognizing the changing circumstances where a number of district courts have taken up the issue in the U.S. District Court in Detroit to declare the surveillance program unconstitutional. It is now in the Sixth Circuit.

Let the process proceed to have the adjudication as to whether the President is right that there are article II powers or whether there is a violation.

The legislation which I have introduced, S. 4051, on November 14, provides further for mandatory review by the Supreme Court and expedited review. If we would focus on this issue, we could come to grips with it and we could legislate. Every day that passes there is incursion on civil rights and constitutional rights because there are wiretaps which are not supported by affidavit or probable cause and court authorization. We have it within our power to alter that today if we would come to grips with the issues on all the calls originating in the United States and going out and then, to repeat, to allow the court to decide whether the President is correct on whether calls outside coming in are covered by his article II powers.

It is my hope that this legislation will be taken up early in the next session because we ought to come to grips with the balance of rights versus security.

HEDGE FUNDS

Mr. SPECTER. Mr. President, earlier today the Judiciary Committee held a hearing on hedge funds and what is happening in that important area where we now find that we have an area in the securities field which involves some $1.3 trillion, some 30 percent of the stock trading, and no regulation. The Judiciary Committee held hearings contemporaneously with the consideration of Sarbanes-Oxley and that legislates in the field to deal with criminal sanctions for insider trading violations. The issue which we took up in some detail in the Judiciary Committee today involves allegations that there was insider trading, a matter yet to be resolved. But out of the Judiciary Committee inquiry, draft legislation has been circulated which has three very important provisions.

First of all, on criminal jurisdiction there are Federal decisions which have precluded the Department of Justice from collaborating with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The draft legislation which has been circulated would authorize that. There is no reason the SEC and the Department of Justice should not be able to collaborate when they find evidence of criminal conduct to act to prosecute.

The second provision of the draft legislation would authorize more compensation for whistleblowers. The fact is, the SEC is doing very little by way of encouraging whistleblowers to bring forward insider information and to stop insider trading. The legislation would authorize the Attorney General to provide for compensation up to 30 percent for whistleblowers from a penalty, fines or settlement, and also protection for the whistleblowers.

The third provision in the draft legislation which has been circulated would provide for regulations on small investors who do not have the sophistication to conduct due diligence and also for pension funds which are invested in hedge funds.

The testimony of the attorney general from Connecticut, Richard Blumenthal today went into some detail about how the failure of Amaranth recently, which amounted to some $6.5 billion, touched pension funds and many of the small investors.

We have circulated this legislation, and we will be asking for comments. I thought I would describe it very briefly this afternoon. It will be introduced formally as soon as we have had an opportunity to get comments from interested parties.

(The remarks of Mr. SPECTER pertaining to the introduction of S. 4081 are printed in today's RECORD under "Statements on Introduced Bills and Joint Resolutions.") to make careful choices about how to spend the taxpayers' dollars. We are now over 67 days into the fiscal year. The Senate has passed only 3 of the 12 appropriations bills. Only two of the bills have been signed into law. The operations of government for 13 of the 15 executive branch Cabinet departments are being funded by a very restrictive continuing resolution. This dismal performance is not the result of the work of the Committee on Appropriations. The Committee on Appropriations did its work and on a bipartisan basis reported all 12 of its bills by July 26. Chairman COCHRAN did an outstanding job in leading the committee. Yet the appropriations process, once again, has fallen victim to politics.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. ISAKSON). The Senator from West Virginia.

APPROPRIATIONS FAILURE

Before the November election, the Senate majority leadership decided that the Senate should not be given an opportunity to debate critical issues facing the Nation, so 8 of the 12 bills never came before the Senate. When it comes to the funding bills for domestic agencies, with the exception of Homeland Security, the majority leadership—and I say this respectfully—is apparently satisfied with a mindless continuing resolution. When it comes to the education of our children, the health of our elderly citizens, the ability of our deteriorating infrastructure to sustain a growing economy, the majority leadership apparently wants no debate, just a rubberstamp of a formula-based continuing resolution for 13 of the 15 departments.

The majority leadership made a specific choice to delay bringing the domestic appropriations bills to the floor because it wished to avoid an open debate in the Senate about many issues confronting Americans in their daily lives.

The President submitted a budget for domestic programs that cut funding by $14 billion below the level necessary to keep pace with inflation. The President's proposal to increase fees on our veterans for their health care is indefensible. The White House proposed cuts in education and in programs to fight crime. The President's budget is not sustainable. Yet behind closed doors the majority leadership inserted an $872.8 billion cap on spending at the level proposed by the President's budget. This was done by jamming a cap on spending in an unamendable conference report intended to provide disaster relief for the victims of Hurricane Katrina and to fund the efforts of our troops serving heroically in Iraq and Afghanistan.

To avoid debate on the domestic appropriations bills, the Senate majority leadership kept the Senate operating at a snail's pace all summer. In July, the Senate had rollcall votes on just 9 days. In August, we voted on only 3 days. How about that? In September, we had votes on just 10 days. So in the 3 months in which the Senate should have been in overdrive to finish the appropriations bills, we had votes on only 22 days. That is a pathetic, a sorry performance.

Why? Apparently the majority wants to avoid debate about its broken promises concerning the No Child Left Behind Act. The President's budget proposed the largest cut to education funding in the 26-year history of the Education Department—a $2.1 billion or 4 percent reduction. This is a nonsensical squandering of the future of our children, the American people's children.

The Labor, HHS, and Education appropriations bill underfunds the title I program, the cornerstone of the No Child Left Behind Act, by a whopping $12.3 billion. Rather than increasing funding to meet this commitment, the bill freezes funding for this program. As a result, this bill leaves behind 3.7 million students who could be fully served by title I if the program were funded at the level promised by the No Child Left Behind Act. I offered an amendment in the committee markup to increase title I funding by $6.1 billion, half of this year's shortfall. What happened? The Republican majority rejected it. Was the Senate, the full Senate, given an opportunity to debate the need to invest in the education of our children? No. Let me repeat: Was the Senate given an opportunity—I am talking about the whole Senate, the full Senate—to debate the need to investigate the education of the country's children? No.

In June, the FBI released its violent crime figures. The FBI found that murders in the United States jumped 4 percent last year, and overall violent crime was up by 2.5 percent for the year, the largest annual increase in crime since 1991. Yet what happened? The President proposed to cut law enforcement grants to State and local governments by $1.2 billion and to eliminate the COPS hiring program. Was the Senate given an opportunity to debate how best to respond to the largest annual increase in crime in 15 years? No.

On July 19, the Commissioner of Social Security wrote to me a letter in which she stated that the level of funding in the Labor-HHS bill "would require employee furloughs of approximately 10 days Agency-wide." That is what she said: "would require employee furloughs of approximately 10 days Agency-wide." Has the Senate, the full Senate, the 100 Members of the Senate, had a chance to debate whether our elderly citizens want long lines at our Social Security offices? No.

The Environmental Protection Agency projects that our communities need in excess of $200 billion for clean and safe drinking water systems. Yet the Interior appropriations bill would cut funding from a level of $1.1 billion in fiscal year 2005 to $687 million in fiscal year 2007, a cut of 38 percent. Has there been any debate in the Senate about the need for safe and clean drinking water in our communities? Has there? The answer is no.

If there is one lesson we all should have learned from Hurricane Katrina, it is that there are consequences to starving Federal agencies. FEMA, which performed marvelously after the North Ridge earthquake, the Midwest floods, and the September 11 attacks, simply was no longer up to the task when Hurricane Katrina hit the gulf coast last year.

Now, which other Federal agencies are going to be the next FEMA? I wonder. I wonder which other Federal agencies will be the next FEMA. Could it be the Food and Drug Administration? Has the Senate had an opportunity to debate whether FDA has the resources and the leadership it needs to make sure we have safe food and safe drugs? I will ask the question, again. Has the Senate, the full Senate, had an opportunity to debate whether FDA has the resources and leadership it needs to make sure we have safe food and safe drugs? No.

The cost of attending a public 4-year college has increased 32 percent since the beginning of this administration. Yet the maximum Pell grant award has not been increased since 2002. Has the Senate discussed the wisdom of making it harder for our children to afford a college education? Hear me. No.

On the heels of the first cut to funding for the National Institutes of Health since 1970, the President proposed level funding of NIH in fiscal year 2007. As a result, the total number of NIH-funded research project grants would drop by 642 or 2 percent below last year's level.

The President's budget would cut funding for 18 of the 19 Institutes of Health. Funding for the National Cancer Institute would drop by $40 million, and funding for the National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute would drop by $21 million. Has there been a debate about the wisdom of these cuts? No.

When the Congress returned to session after the elections, Senator HARRY REID and I urged the Senate Republican leadership to complete the fiscal year 2007 appropriations process prior to adjourning sine die. Apparently, this request fell on deaf ears. Even with the elections over, the Republican leadership could not bring itself to govern, to make choices.

Instead, apparently, the House Republican leadership has decided to send the Senate a third continuing resolution that will last until mid-February—mid-February. Instead of making careful choices, they, apparently, have chosen to punt—to punt—the funding decisions for 13 departments, for over $463 billion of spending, to the next Congress.

What a sad mess. What a sad mess.

Under the continuing resolution, 500,000 veterans will have to wait longer for their health care or not get health care at all. Lines at our Social Security offices will get longer. Our elderly will find it more difficult to get answers to their questions about the new prescription drug benefit or about their retirement benefits. Commitments to address our clogged highways with more funds for highway construction will have to wait. Efforts to protect the food supply will be undermined by furloughs of meat and poultry inspectors. This is no way—this is no way—to do our Nation's business.

When I was chairman of the Appropriations Committee from 1989 to 1994, and in 2001, the Senate debated and passed every appropriations bill but one. And it takes persistence, determination, and a commitment to the Senate to debate and approve all of the bills. Chairman COCHRAN has that determination, and he was successful last year in bringing every bill to the Senate floor. However, the majority leadership, apparently, does not value that persistence, that hard work, that determination. Apparently, in an election year, the only thing of value was the politics of the moment.

Mr. President, the irresponsible actions of the Republican leadership are setting the stage for the beginning of the 110th Congress next year. In January, the new Congress will be faced with approving funding for 10 leftover bills for fiscal year 2007, a large war supplemental, and 12 bills for fiscal year 2008. Where the Republican leadership could do no more than pass two annual appropriations bills all year, the Democrats will be expected to pass 22 annual bills and a supplemental.

And this will be a huge, a huge—I would say a whopping—challenge. However, in the bipartisan tradition of the Senate Appropriations Committee, I am committed to working with my colleagues on both sides of the aisle to meet this challenge.

Mr. President, I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from West Virginia yields.

The Senator from Ohio.

2007 APPROPRIATIONS

Mr. VOINOVICH. Mr. President, I rise to address my serious concern about our movement toward a decision to adjourn the 109th Congress without completing our work on the remaining 2007 appropriations bills and to recognize, also, my friend and senior Senator from the State of Ohio, Mr. MIKE DEWINE.

As my colleagues are well aware, the fiscal year 2006 appropriations expired on September 30, 2006. And with the exception of the Departments of Defense and Homeland Security, the Federal Government is currently operating on its second temporary continuing resolution, set to expire on December 8, 2006. We now intend to enact a third continuing resolution to fund the Government into February 2007.

Passage of a long-term continuing resolution, as some have advocated, means the Federal Government will work without a budget for at least 5 months into the current fiscal year, without knowing what spending levels will be approved for discretionary programs. Federal Departments and agencies will be forced to oversee programs and manage employees without knowing whether they are overspending their fiscal year 2007 budgets.

This approach toward managing our Nation's checkbook is indicative of Congress's attitude toward fiscal discipline and is a serious problem. Other Senators have spoken about how serious the problems are. And Senator BYRD did a very good job of outlining the serious impact that our not passing our appropriations on time is going to have on some of our Departments in the Federal Government. And earlier, Senator SPECTER did the same thing. We are aware of the problems it is going to create for the management of our Government.

Operating without a budget impacts our effectiveness in fighting the war on terror. It affects our ability to maintain and improve our transportation infrastructure and enhance our educational system. And it further contributes to the public perception that Congress has no appreciation of the importance of good management and the importance of hiring the right people with the right knowledge and skills at the right time and at the right place.

This is not a good record for either side of the aisle. And with due respect to the senior Senator from West Virginia, I think it cannot be laid at the feet of the Republicans; it should be laid at the feet of both Republicans and Democrats. This is not a partisan issue. Congress has the power of the purse, but we are not the best stewards of the taxpayers' money if time after time we pass omnibus bills without even knowing what is in them, and if, again and again, we fund programs without knowing how these programs are performing.

Managing by continuing resolution is inherently wasteful and inefficient. It results in spending disruptions and chaos in the operations of Federal programs and dramatic productivity slowdowns. We have no appreciation of what not having a budget for 5 months has on the various Federal agencies that are supposed to be providing services to the people of our country.

In recent years, many Federal Departments have taken positive steps toward streamlining their budgets and tightening the reins on their daily operations—conduct that ought to be rewarded. Instead, Departments are forced to thin their staffs and put critical projects on hold when Congress fails to pass appropriations bills on time, placing an unnecessary strain on the relationship between Congress and the administrative branch of Government.

Such a funding shortfall is expected to have particularly adverse effects on human capital-intensive agencies, such as the Government Accountability Office, where attracting and retaining good employees is critical to running a competitive and productive organization.

Agencies such as the GAO have made it very clear that without a budget, they risk losing top-quality personnel. They are unable to properly recognize and reward individuals for good service—a problem that threatens the efficiency of their day-to-day activities and hampers the image of the Federal Government. As an employer, we want to get people to come on board, and we cannot pass our appropriations.

This added pressure on human capital is not limited to the GAO. In fact, there are lots of similar agencies, such as the SEC, the FBI, and the IRS, which experience the same problem. According to a report in Congress Daily, the Social Security Administration maintains it will have to furlough every employee if its regular appropriations are not signed into law. I think that may be a big exaggeration, but it has a real impact on the operations of that agency.

Many companies with Government contracts are laying people off because they are not sure that the contracts will be renewed because of the budget process. And I know this from a member of my family who was laid off a year ago. Because we did not pass the budget on time, the company said: We don't know whether we are going to have the contracts. Seventy people lost their jobs while they waited around to find out whether the appropriations were going to be passed and how it impacted on the operations of NASA Glenn in Cleveland.

Sometimes programs are ineffective, and their budgets should be reduced or eliminated. By resorting to a continuing resolution, ineffective programs continue to operate, despite poor performance results. For example, the House would have terminated 53 programs, for a savings of $4 billion. But under a continuing resolution, we cannot even discuss whether these programs deserve to be terminated. Literally, dozens of unauthorized programs continue to be funded.

On the flip side, the appropriations process has expanded beyond the budget domain to include shaping and authorizing policy. This is especially the case with Foreign Operations programs. It then becomes even more important to enact the Foreign Operations appropriations bill because it is the way we modify foreign aid and foreign policy initiatives.

One such instance is the Transformational Diplomacy Program at the State Department, which would allow for the repositioning of American diplomats to essential locations and for the movement of public diplomacy centers to smaller posts outside of foreign capitals.

But it is not just the Federal Government that suffers. States, counties, and cities all depend on funding from Washington. If you are a county commissioner or you are a mayor and you have Federal programs and you are not sure what you are going to be getting, that causes a major problem for your respective agency.

When Congress fails to enact appropriations on time, highways, emergency preparedness, and economic development programs are all neglected, and Congress creates a new burden for Governors, mayors, and local officials. Maintaining and improving America's transportation is vital to our economy, the environment, and the welfare of the American people.

The Interstate Highway System is one of the country's greatest public works projects, but it requires Federal investment. States plan their highway construction programs for the coming year based on anticipated Federal funding set by SAFETEA legislation. If Congress fails to pass the 2007 Transportation appropriations bill on time, States will have reduced Federal funding and are going to be forced to delay construction projects for the upcoming year.

In my home State of Ohio, for instance, construction cost increases in inflation have already forced the Ohio Department of Transportation to cancel and postpone nearly $450 million in new highway projects. Adding a continuing resolution to this current slowdown will simply exacerbate the problem and result in further delay and further construction problems, if we don't pay any attention to that. That is going to impact the contracts they would like to let. That is why our States and workers cannot afford for us to ignore our budget responsibilities.

It is incredible to me, as someone who has been a mayor and Governor, that the U.S. Senate has not completed its appropriations work. As a mayor and Governor, the law mandated that we get our appropriations done by the end of the fiscal year. I am sure the Presiding Officer, when he was a member in the State of Georgia Legislature, saw that they got their appropriations done on time. In Ohio, once in a while we had to put a cloth over the clock for a couple of days. The fact is, we got it done.

I know I am not alone in my frustration. In fact, THAD COCHRAN, chairman, calls it irresponsible. He is the chairman of the Appropriations Committee. It is irresponsible; I second that. It is absolutely irresponsible.

Let's look at our record on the path of fiscal irresponsibility. In fact, in 25 of the past 30 years, Congress has failed to enact all the appropriations bills by the start of the fiscal year, which is a major responsibility, to get the budget passed and get the appropriations bills done on time. The last time Congress enacted all appropriations bills by September 30 was 1997. And for 17 of the past years, Congress has had to combine two or more appropriations bills together in an omnibus or minibus legislation. Given the facts, it is an indication to the American people that we are not doing our job. We are not being responsible.

We send a signal to those in the Federal Government that we don't give a darn about how, when we don't do our jobs, they can't do theirs. Congress may hold the power of the purse, but we undermine our credibility by starving good managers and agencies of necessary resources and by turning a blind eye to failing programs. This is about more than allocating funds. It is about good management, and it is about good public policy. All of us on a bipartisan basis should pledge that we are going to get the appropriations bills done for 2008 on time and that next year we are not going to have a repeat performance of what we are experiencing this week in the Senate.

I think if you talk about the frustration of the American people in terms of Congress and our responsibility to them, you can only conclude one thing if you were out there watching this. Folks are saying: They can't even get their appropriations bills done on time. That is a sad commentary. Let's start out next year on a new leaf. Let's all pledge to do this, both Republicans and Democrats. Let's say we are going to get this job done. I know some people have a problem with the process and some of the porkbarrel and the rest of it, but let's start out and say we are going to get it done, bring it to the floor, debate it, and get it done on time.

TRIBUTE TO SENATOR MIKE DEWINE

Mr. VOINOVICH. Mr. President, I rise to speak about our senior Senator from Ohio, MIKE DEWINE. Let me begin by saying this is a speech I hoped I would never have to give. For many in this Chamber, winter came a little early this year. A blizzard of political change swept through the country and, unfortunately, many were unable to weather the storm; in my particular case, in our State, through no fault of their own.

MIKE DEWINE was one of the most effective legislators we have in the U.S. Senate. He was a victim of this storm. I am deeply saddened that our respective colleagues will not be joining us when we congregate again for the 110th Congress. MIKE's tireless commitment to legislating, his willingness and ability to work with both parties, and his ingenuity will be sorely missed by everyone in the Senate and the State of Ohio.

MIKE has served the people of Ohio for more than 30 years, beginning as an assistant county prosecutor in 1992. He served as Green County prosecutor for 4 years, State senator for 2 years, Congressman for 8 years, and he was my Lieutenant Governor for 4 years when I was Governor of Ohio. And, of course, he has served us for 12 years as our U.S. Senator. He is one of the most effective and least partisan Members in this body.

During campaign season, some of our colleagues on the other side of the aisle kept asking me: How is MIKE doing, how is he doing? Frankly, I think they were secretly hoping his poll numbers would be strong enough that he would not become a target. Unfortunately, those numbers never got up to that place, and he ended up being a target.

Far too many Members see differences between Republicans and Democrats as an unsurpassable deep divide. Not MIKE DEWINE. Over and over again, MIKE built bridges between our parties, and he got things done for America and for Ohio. Janet and I feel like MIKE and his wonderful wife Fran are part of our family. After working with MIKE for the past 16 years, I can tell you that there is something special about him. In fact, right from the start, I knew there was something refreshingly different about MIKE DEWINE.

The inception of our friendship came in 1990, when MIKE and I were both running in the Republican primary for Governor of Ohio. It was a crowded field with MIKE, Bob Taft, and I vying for the Governor's slot. It was then we really got to know each other. We talked about what would be the best for Ohio and for the Republican Party and, quite frankly, for our respective political futures. We decided to combine our efforts as running mates, and MIKE agreed to run as my Lieutenant Governor.

I knew this was a very tough decision for MIKE because he wanted to be Governor and was giving up a very safe congressional seat to run for State office. At that moment, I knew I had a first-rate partner, a man with great character and humility as well as unique political poise and promise. Both of us knew we had a long, tough race ahead of us with no guarantees. This was not a layup shot. There was a real question of whether we were going to be successful. He had given up a safe seat in the U.S. Congress, with a big family. But we had a great time running for State office. MIKE had an opportunity to connect with the State as a whole. I remember when he and Fran packed the kids in the van and traveled every inch of Ohio, becoming intimate with the Appalachian east, its manufacturing north, and its interior farmland.

We went on to win the general election and, as I like to say, together we did it. Together we won the election, and together we charted a new course for Ohio.

As Lieutenant Governor, MIKE took over the State's criminal justice agencies, where he led the fight against crime and illegal drugs. It was a relief to have MIKE as my partner when we had the Lucasville riots which broke out on Easter Sunday in 1993. It was the largest prison disturbance in the history of the United States, generating a great deal of national tension. MIKE's background in criminal justice and his close relationship with law enforcement helped us respond quickly and effectively. It could have been a tragedy, but fortunately, together, and with the help of the Holy Spirit, we made it through.

In 1992, when the Ohio Republican Party needed a challenger to run against the famous astronaut and giant in Ohio politics, John Glenn, MIKE was the obvious choice. He and Fran worked tirelessly to win that seat. Unfortunately, victory was not in the cards that year but triumph was imminent. Two years later, MIKE became a U.S. Senator and our party swept the State, just as the Democrats did this year in Ohio. MIKE returned to Washington as a U.S. Senator with more perspective, more experience, and more insight into the challenges facing Ohio than when he left the Congress as a Member of the House of Representatives. Without a lot of fanfare, he quietly went to work.

Of course, MIKE has been shaped by many things. It is impossible to talk about his achievements in public service without mentioning the terrible misfortune he and Fran experienced back in 1994. I will never forget the day MIKE and Fran lost their daughter Becky. I am familiar with the tremendous pain they suffered. The day that changed their lives sticks in my memory, much like the day Janet and I lost our daughter Molly. MIKE translated the love he and Fran had for Becky into his work in the Senate. He became a champion for our youth and for those who cannot represent themselves. That is why today I am hard pressed to think of anyone who has not been helped by MIKE DEWINE.

His legislative achievements, which span both domestic and foreign policy, reflect his effectual and compassionate nature. MIKE has shown tremendous dedication toward improving the safety of our highway system. He not only amended the 2005 highway bill to make preferences for highways noted as being unsafe, but he also allocated more than $56 million of SAFETEA-LU, intended for improving highway safety.

He succeeded in getting further testing and approval of medications for children. He helped establish a national toll-free poison control hotline. He acted on behalf of the children of U.S. servicemembers to make sure they had access to affordable health care. And he has stood up for foster children to make sure they are protected and to help them find adoptive parents.

Time after time, Senator DEWINE has protected Ohio. He was a critical voice in passing the Senate pension bill which helped ensure that workers' futures in Ohio are on better footing. He is a cosponsor of the Health Partnership Act because he understands how important health care reform is to Ohioans and to this country. He helped ensure that our fire departments are better equipped to fulfill their missions as first responders.

During the BRAC process, he worked to keep Federal facilities, such as Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton and the Defense Finance and Accounting Center in Cleveland and Columbus, open and operating. And he led a new mission for Ohio's NASA-Glenn in Cleveland. Today these facilities are thriving and contributing to Ohio's aerospace industry and national defense. I don't think there was a State in the country that benefited more from the BRAC process than Ohio, and it is attributable to the outstanding leadership MIKE DEWINE gave all of us in terms of that BRAC process.

MIKE has also been a friend of the Jewish community and has made it a priority to help stamp out anti-semitism and intolerance in America. He played a pivotal role in helping disclose previously classified documents about Nazi aggression, legislation that made those records available to the public through the National Archives and Records Administration. Today, thanks to MIKE, doctors, nurses, and aid workers are more prepared to confront the global AIDS epidemic.

MIKE has carried a heavy burden while he has been in the Senate. He sits on the Judiciary Committee, the HELP Committee, and the Intelligence Committee. He also sits on one the most prestigious committees in the Senate, Appropriations. In fact, MIKE was the first Ohioan in 50 years to sit on Appropriations. His position of leadership—and the resources he has been able to bring back to Ohio—has made a tremendous difference for our State and a tremendous difference in the lives of the people of our State. I used to joke with MIKE that my job as the debt hawk was to make sure we didn't spend the money. But once we decided we were going to spend it, his job was to make sure Ohio got its fair share. And boy, did he do a good job.

These are just a handful of examples where my close friend and colleague MIKE DEWINE has made a difference. His legislative accomplishments and his legacy of principled public service have had a deep impact on all of our lives. The Senate will suffer a loss without MIKE. But he will not slip out of the Senate. He will walk out these doors with his head held high because he can feel good about all he has given to the people of Ohio and to the United States of America. He has truly made a difference in their lives.

Married for more than 39 years, MIKE and Fran are parents to 8 children and grandparents to 10. They have been blessed with much happiness and success, and they have carved out many meaningful paths during their life together.

While MIKE will be missed, I am confident that he and Fran will begin something new in this next chapter of their lives. We have both been given so much. I believe that God does have a plan. Sometimes we are not sure about what it is, but God does have a plan.

I am reminded of one of my favorite verses from the Bible, Proverbs chapter 3, verses 5 and 6:

Trust in the Lord with all your heart; and learn not unto your own understandings. In all your ways acknowledge Him, and He will direct your path.

MIKE will be missed. But I know the Holy Spirit will continue to inspire

MIKE and Fran as they embark on a new journey together.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. THUNE). The Senator from Ohio, Mr. DEWINE, is recognized.

Mr. DEWINE. Mr. President, I thank my dear friend—the now junior Senator from Ohio, who in January will become the senior Senator from Ohio—for those very generous and kind comments.

GEORGE VOINOVICH and I first got to know each other in 1989. I will not repeat the story the Senator recounted, but we got together and formed a partnership that has lasted until today. I gave up my run for Governor and joined with GEORGE as his Lieutenant Governor candidate. We won and, as they say, the rest is history. GEORGE was a great Governor for 8 years. I was his Lieutenant Governor for the first 4 of those years. We worked very closely during that period of time, of course, and after I went to the Senate, when he was still Governor. We have worked even closer since he has been a Senator from Ohio. So I thank him. GEORGE VOINOVICH and Janet are dear friends. They are people whom we care very much about. GEORGE is a great public servant, and I appreciate him very much and am touched, frankly, by his very kind comments.

HONORING OUR ARMED FORCES

SPECIALIST ALLEN JAMES KNOP

Mr. DEWINE. Mr. President, I come to the Senate floor today in remembrance of a brave Ohioan from Willowick—Army SPC Allen James Knop. On November 23, 2005, Specialist Knop died while serving our Nation in Iraq. He was serving with the 2nd Battalion, 502nd Infantry Regiment, 2nd Brigade Combat Team, 101st Airborne Division, based at Fort Campbell, KY. He was 22 years old.

Specialist Knop is survived by his mother Eileen D'Ercole, his father William Knop, and his siblings Brandon, Rachel, Max, Natalie, and Alison.

Allen graduated from North High School in Eastlake, OH, in 2002. He loved sports—especially golf. His mother Eileen remembers that Allen was extremely charismatic and that he willingly would make sacrifices that helped others. She said, “Blessings come from the heart, and my son had the most wonderful heart of anyone I know.”

As a high school student, Allen developed a strong work ethic. He relished responsibility. His father William does masonry work and often would hire Allen during his summer vacations. William said, “[Al] would work with me in the summer. He was strong. He was thin. And, he was fast. Sometimes my guys would come up to me and say, ‘Hey! That kid works harder than we do!’”

Allen’s father remembers that it was the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001, that motivated his son to enlist in the Army immediately after high school. William worried about the decision, but was deeply impressed by Allen’s responses to his questions. This is what Allen said: “Just think, Dad. If everyone thought like you, there wouldn’t be anybody over there fighting now.” Recalling this conversation, William said, “That’s probably the bravest thing I’ve ever heard anybody say.”

Al’s mother Eileen remembers how proud her son was to be in the Army. She said, “He could have gone to any college in the country, but he chose to join for a cause he truly believed in.”

His father also recalls that Allen didn’t have any delusions about war. He understood the danger of combat, but willingly enlisted because he felt such pride in our country. That is simply the kind of person he was.

Allen spent 13 months on combat duty in Iraq—and then reenlisted. His second tour began in August of 2005. His father said that “that tour was hard on him, but he was so proud to serve that he re-enlisted to go back. It meant everything to him. He was a true patriot.”

Still though, Allen knew that re-enlisting worried his family—and nothing meant more to him than his family. So he decided to use a family golfing trip to get a few laughs with them before he left. He showed up dressed in a light-blue leisure suit and talked his younger brother Max into dressing up like Johnny Cash, the Man in Black. William always laughs at the memory. “It’s Al,” he said. “Always goofing around. . . . That’s one of the best memories I’ll have of him.”

It was during this same golf outing that Allen gave his brother Max a special gift. Even though Allen was careful with money and didn’t like to spend it freely, he had recently bought an expensive new golf set and driver for himself. William remembers, however, that when Allen said goodbye and went to drive away, he stopped, turned around, and summoned his brother Max. This is how William describes what happened next:

So he got out of the car and walked over to [me]. He had that driver with him and he said, “Here, Max. Keep an eye on this until I get back.”

Allen’s family and friends will always remember him as someone who was extremely generous, caring, and selfless. Once, during his first tour of Iraq, Allen got a pass to come home for a visit. But he didn’t use it for himself. Instead, he gave it to a fellow soldier whose wife and children were eager to see him. His mother Eileen remembers, “It broke my heart, but he did what was right. How could you argue with that?”

Hundreds of friends, colleagues, and family members attended Allen’s funeral, which took place on a snowy day in Ohio. U.S. Army Staff Sergeant Christopher Davis, Allen’s squad leader during his 2003 tour of duty in Iraq, spoke at the service. This is what he said of Allen:

Rest assured, he will live forever in the tales of heroism that we brothers will tell. . . . Today, Al’s band of brothers are here to pay tribute to one of our own.

Staff Sergeant Davis also recalled that while Allen exhibited tremendous leadership abilities, he also had the ability to make his fellow soldiers laugh and possessed a unique “lightheartedness and boundless energy.” He said this of Allen:

He was a fierce fighter, and he was quick with a joke. Our unit suffered some very difficult times, but Al was like a beacon. He was the only one that could make me laugh.

During the funeral, Pastor Larry Bogenrief spoke of Allen’s strong faith in God and his commitment to military service. He said that he “was a young man who found a cause he was willing to put his life on the line for.” The Pastor also recalled conversations between Allen and his mother Eileen about the dangerous conditions in Iraq. He remembers how Allen would say, “We’ve been through some pretty close scrapes, Mom. Keep praying for us. I know God is watching over us.”

U.S. Army BG Michael J. Lally III, also spoke at the funeral. “He was a born leader,” he said of Allen. “He had integrity, and he knew what was right.”

Mr. President, Allen Knop will never be forgotten by the friends and family who all loved him so much. He was simply fun to be around. His stepmother Francine Knop remembers he was so close to his family and always happy when with them. She said, “We were absolutely a close family. He was with us during a lot of good times.”

Allen’s father remembers the joy with which his son lived. He said, “Oh, [Al] was always joking, always pulling pranks. He was just a happy-go-lucky guy, and he would do anything in the world for you.”

Allen was close to his grandmother, Alberta Knop. She lived down the street from him, and he’d often ride his bike to see her. “He was just such a good boy, just a good person. He’s just such a sweetheart,” she said. “He’s my hero. I’m very, very proud of him.”

Mr. President, I conclude my remarks with the words of Allen’s father. This is what he said:

I want people to know my son was a brave and honest man, and he was loved by so many people—but nobody more than by his father.

Mr. President, Allen Knop lived his life with a selflessness that is rare. His loss is truly a loss for each and every one of us. My wife Fran and I will continue to keep his family in our thoughts and in our prayers.

SERGEANT DAVID KREUTER

Mr. President, I rise today to remember a brave Marine and a fellow Ohioan who gave his life in service to our Nation—Marine Sergeant David Kreuter, from Cincinnati. On August 3, 2005, Sergeant Kreuter was killed when a roadside bomb exploded under his amphibious assault vehicle. He was 26 years old.

Throughout his life, David loved everything about the outdoors. He enjoyed camping and joined the Boy Scouts as a child. From the time he was a small boy, David had an extraordinary sense of adventure equal only to his sense of humor. He was simply the kind of person who was always bringing a smile to the face of others.

Mark Wiete, one of David's former Boy Scout troop leaders, remembers that David was always making everyone laugh. "He was always doing funny voices," he said. "He was very animated." And according to his father, Ken, David simply "brightened a room when he came in, and it's that kind of spirit you can't replace."

David graduated in 1997 from St. Xavier High School, where he ran on the cross-country team. After graduation in 1998, he joined the Marine Reserves. His godfather Norm Clarke remembers David's determination to always be the best. "David wanted to do the toughest thing there is," he said, "and the Marines represented that."

As a Reservist, David attended Ohio University and then graduated from the University of Cincinnati in 2004, with a Bachelor of Science degree in Criminal Justice.

In September 2004 after graduating, he married his college sweetheart, Chrystina. Chrystina truly found the love of her life in the dedicated and fun-loving David. He was her rock of stability.

David had always made everyone in his life laugh. It was no different with his fellow marines in Iraq. With friend LCpl Tim Bell, a fellow Ohioan who was killed that same day alongside David, he was always cracking jokes. Despite being overseas and fighting in one of the most dangerous places in the world, David remained a good-natured prankster, someone who could always make his marine brothers smile.

Being a marine meant so much to David. When his tour of duty ended in Iraq, he was hoping to attend Officers' Training School and make the military his career. His friends and family remembered that he loved every part of being a marine—from the uniform he wore to working the most dangerous missions in the most insecure part of the world. "He wanted to be the best," his father Ken remembers. "He wanted to do the hardest thing possible. As far as we can tell, he was involved in just about every major mission or event over there."

David consistently volunteered for his unit's most dangerous missions, even though he knew he might not return. But, you see, David believed in what he was doing and that he was fighting for what he believed was right. During phone conversations with his mother Pat he told her that he could see his marines making such a positive difference in Iraq.

David was passionate about his marines and passionate about his own unit. But he was also passionate about his family. He grew up with loving and devoted parents, and his two younger sisters, Kristin and Laura, adored him, even though he teased them endlessly.

Tragically, David was just beginning his own family when he was killed. According to his mom, "He was going to be a really good husband and a good father." He and Chrystina had been married less than a year, and she had given birth to their son Christian just 7 weeks before his death. David was looking forward to his return so that he could meet his son for the first time. In one of his last letters home to his sister Laura, he wrote the following:

No matter what, I think we should be home by the first week of October. I will see you then and we can talk about Halloween costumes for Christian.

David was never able to meet Christian in person, but the 7 weeks before his death were full of love and devotion for his son. On telephone calls with Chrystina, David would listen joyfully to the sound of his newborn son's peaceful breathing.

At David's funeral, the Rev. Tim Williams read a letter Chrystina wrote to David after his death. "I promise you," she wrote, "Christian will know you every day of his life and how much you love him. You paid the ultimate price to protect him."

After David's death, there was an amazing outpouring of love and support for his family. One night they returned home from his visitation services, after spending hours meeting with friends and strangers, to find that their neighbors, along with the Oak Hills High School football team, had lined the streets of Miami Township, OH, with mile after mile of luminaries. At David's funeral, hundreds of mourners attended to pay their respects.

I never met David, but I was honored to be asked by the family to speak at his funeral. Everyone I met that day had countless stories about his wonderful sense of humor, his charisma, his devotion to family, and his devotion to country.

Indeed, David was the model of what a marine should be. No matter what challenge he was faced with, he always gave it his best. Once he started something, he wouldn't quit. He was committed to the values of freedom and democracy—the values that we all hold dear, and, in the end, he gave his life so that those ideals will be preserved for all of us. David was a marine through and through—completely dedicated to his mission and to the belief that what he did was right.

When I think of David's life, it reminds me of something President Dwight David Eisenhower once said:

Only our individual faith in freedom can keep us free.

David truly had that faith in freedom and fought so hard to protect it. He didn't fight because he had to; he volunteered. He served in Iraq because this is what he believed in, and because of what he did our world has been made a better place. It is a safer place, both for us and for our children.

Christian Kreuter will grow up in a better world because of his dad. He will be proud of his dad, just as all of us are.

My wife Fran and I will continue to keep the family and friends of Marine SGT David Kreuter in our thoughts and in our prayers.

SERGEANT FIRST CLASS DANIEL B. CRABTREE

Mr. President, I wish to pay tribute this evening to a fellow Ohioan, Army National Guard SFC Daniel Brian Crabtree from Canton, OH. On June 8, 2006, Sergeant Crabtree died in Iraq when a roadside bomb detonated near his vehicle. He was 31 years of age.

Born in Columbus, Dan, as his family and friends called him, grew up dreaming that some day he would become a soldier. His mother Judy remembers coming home one afternoon to find her 13-year-old son on the phone with a strange adult. That adult was an Army recruiter, and Dan had signed up to join the service in 4 years. "He was just a born warrior," Judy remembers.

Even as a boy, Dan displayed uncommon bravery and courage. His longtime friend Steve Hodges remembers one night in particular when he and some others were making noises outside a camping tent in which Dan was sleeping. Of those sleeping in the tent, Dan was the first to come out to see what the noise was. "Even then," Steve said, "you would recognize the military man Dan was to become."

Dan simply could not wait to help defend his Nation. The only thing that stopped him from serving in the first gulf war is he was too young at the time, even though he tried to get his mother to sign papers allowing him to serve.

Dan joined the Army Reserves in 1992 when he was a junior at Lake High School in Hartville, OH. After graduating the following year, he transferred to the Ohio Army National Guard as an administrative specialist. He later trained as a military police officer and served the 135th Military Police Company in Brook Park. Along the way, he earned his associate degree in criminal justice from the University of Akron.

Dan's entire life was devoted to protecting others. Before defending his country overseas, he worked as a police officer guarding us at home. He was an officer in the Cuyahoga Falls police department for 9 years where he was assigned to the patrol division and was a member of the SWAT team and Honor Guard. Before that, Dan had worked with the Hartville police department for more than a year.

Dan's fellow officers remember him as a dedicated officer who was very comfortable patrolling the streets. They also remember him as a "sweethearted" man who would do anything for his fellow officers and his friends.

"He was young and ambitious, just a good guy," recalled Hartville police chief George Dragovich. "He did a great job."

Although Dan loved being a police officer, family and friends say that military service had always been his passion, particularly the Special Forces. He signed up for the Special Forces just 2 weeks before the terrorist attacks on September 11 and joined the 19th Special Forces Group of the Ohio National Guard in March 2002. He graduated from the vigorous Special Forces qualifications course in May 2004, finally earning that coveted green beret.

Family and friends remember that Dan's determination to succeed in the Special Forces was unmatched. No one worked harder. When Dan was training for the qualifications course, he was also working night shifts as a police officer. But simply being tired wasn't going to keep him from his dream. Instead, he would go for 15-mile runs with a backpack strapped to him—a backpack filled with several pounds of rock.

As an adult, Dan was very much the boy he had once been—eager to serve his Nation. "At the time, he seemed excited to go over," Hartville police sergeant Dan Stiles said, remembering the time Dan was preparing to go to California to train for urban combat before being sent to Iraq. "He was ready to go." When he left for Iraq, his fellow police officers gave him a parting gift—a medal of St. Christopher, the patron saint of travelers.

Dan loved the work he was doing with the Special Forces in Iraq. His civilian knowledge and experience with weapons uniquely qualified him for his mission—and that mission was the development and implementation of a SWAT training program for the Iraqi police force in Al Kut. In addition, Dan simply had a knack for teaching. Even with the members of his own unit, he always took the time to explain things. He was patient and understanding and so very knowledgeable.

A young soldier who trained with Dan in the United States remembers his kindness:

He always stopped and took the time to talk to me. . . . He answered my questions no matter how stupid they were. That was Dan. He was what being a Special Forces soldier is all about.

But Dan was more than a knowledgeable comrade and teacher to his fellow soldiers. He was also a good friend, one who will be remembered with laughter and smiles. His fellow soldiers from the 19th Special Forces Group particularly remember Dan's first jump with the elite troops after he successfully completed the qualifications course. He landed badly, breaking his leg in the fall. One of his friends rushed over to make sure he was OK, only to find that Dan was lying there laughing, even while grimacing from the pain.

That was typical of Dan. That is what friends and family tell. He simply loved being in the Army. He believed in his mission. According to a fellow member of his unit, Dan "died doing what he liked to do."

Dan's death was a terrible blow felt by his entire community. More than 500 mourners, many of whom were uniformed police officers from Hartville and Cuyahoga Falls, attended his funeral to pay their respects to the fallen soldier. Volunteers from nearby police stations took over police officer duties in Cuyahoga Falls so that almost the entire department could attend the services.

As Cuyahoga Falls police chief John Connally said:

We are just crushed. Everyone at the department is in shock. . . . We're going to miss him for a long time.

Those who attended the service remembered Dan's dedication to the military. Rev. Robert Baker said this:

No one ever went up to Dan and said, "Join the Army, join the Special Forces." It was in his heart. He was a man of uncommon valor and invincible courage.

Hartville police officer John Norman said that his friend was living his high school dream by serving as a member of the Special Forces. "This is what he wanted," Officer Norman said.

Dan also will be remembered as a devoted husband and a father. He loved his wife Kathy and missed her when he was away. According to Officer Norman, Dan was planning to take some vacation time after he returned from Iraq so he could be a stay-at-home dad for several weeks to help Kathy. "He was going to basically put the rest of his life into his wife and family," he recalls.

Steve Hodges, Dan's longtime friend, read a letter at his funeral that he addressed to Mallory, Dan's young daughter. In his letter, Steve remembered the proudest moment in Dan's life had been when Mallory was born. He told her about the things her father had loved, such as playing soccer, Atari video games, and Axis and Allies, a World War II strategy game.

Steve told her that her father had been a "brave and kind" man, someone who deeply loved to help people and deeply loved his country. Steve also read the following words about Dan:

He was worried, Mallory, for your safety. He wanted the best for you—for you to be happy, for you to be able to enjoy the freedoms he loved so much.

Mr. President, Dan Crabtree will be remembered and missed by all who knew him. They will laugh at the memorable things, the funny things he said and did, and they will remember his smile. They will remember that he was a fitness fanatic who practiced kung fu and that he had one of the largest "Star Wars" collections in Ohio, a collection including everything from action figures to DVDs of the movies themselves. Most of all, they will remember the devotion and loyalty Dan had for his family, for his Special Forces, and for his Nation. Dan dedicated his life to serving our country. His actions have earned him more medals and awards than we can list tonight, including the Meritorious Service Medal, the Bronze Star, and the Purple Heart.

I conclude with words from a statement released by Dan's family. This is what Dan's family wrote:

Dan was proud of the career he built in the Army. He was a loving husband, a dedicated and proud father, and a caring son. He was also a soldier who unwaveringly placed our country before himself. Dan was honored to serve with his fellow soldiers, proud to serve in the United States Army, and grateful to be an American.

Mr. President, Fran and I will continue to keep the family of SFC Daniel B. Crabtree, his wife Kathy, his daughter Mallory, his parents Ronald and Judy, his brother Bill, and his sister Debbie in our thoughts and our prayers.

LANCE CORPORAL BRIAN PAUL MONTGOMERY

Mr. President, this evening I would like to pay tribute to my fellow Ohioan, Marine LCpl Brian Paul Montgomery from Willoughby. On August 1, 2005, Lance Corporal Montgomery, age 26 at the time, gave his life in service to his country when insurgents in Iraq ambushed his sniper unit. He was serving with the Marine Reserve's Third Battalion, 25th Regiment from Brook Park, OH.

His family and friends will remember him most for his contagious smile and his patriotic sense of duty. His father Paul describes him as someone who was "very selfless." Everyone who knew Brian agrees that he died doing what he wanted to do, which was serving his country as a member of the U.S. Marine Corps.

Brian graduated from South High School in Willoughby in 1998. He then went on to become a political science major at Cleveland State University and planned to have a career in law enforcement. At the same time, he was running a small video store in Willoughby with his wife Pamela.

After the terrorist attacks of September 11, Brian strongly felt his country was calling him to duty, so he joined the Marine Corps Reserves the next year.

Brian was close to his younger brother Eric, who had idolized his protective older brother while growing up. As young men, the two would become something more than brothers—they would become barracks mates in Iraq. Eric decided to enlist in the Marines when word started circulating that Brian's unit would be shipping to Iraq. Eric said:

The first time I saw my brother in his dress blues, I wanted to do this with him. If my brother was going to Iraq, I was going to serve with him.

In January 2005, Brian and Eric were deployed together in the same unit. While at their base camp in Iraq, they would have long talks about the importance of family, country, and service. Brian told Eric that he had a responsibility to their parents to get him home safe. He said:

I know you will take care of my wife and son if I don't make it, so I have to get you home.

No one was more proud than Brian Montgomery to be a marine. His wife remembers how he loved to show off his marine tattoos in bars. Brian's friend Lesley Bolden, who worked in his video store, remembers that a marine was something he always wanted to be.

In Iraq, even though Brian had been trained as a mortar man, he volunteered for sniper duty. Talking to his father on the phone, however, Brian always downplayed the danger: "I'm good to go," is the most he would say, but his father knew the truth. "Keep lying to me, Brian," he would say. "We can talk about it when you get home."

When Brian died, he died alongside five other members of his sniper unit. They were really a close-knit group—friends, comrades, and brothers. I would like to share the words of SGT Brian Casagrande, who served with the snipers of the 3-25. This is what he said about Brian:

I recall on numerous occasions after returning from a mission Brian would find Eric to make sure he was OK. 'Monty,' as we called him, would argue a point he didn't even believe, just for the sake of debate.

After Brian's death, Eric's marine brothers rallied around him in support. Eric said that:

From the moment I found out, I couldn't go anywhere without another Marine grabbing me. That was their brother, too.

Their father Paul remembers how much being a marine meant to Brian. He said:

Even though we've had a great loss, it's still very comforting to know he was doing something that he believed very deeply in.

Brian was an outstanding, dedicated, heroic marine. But even more importantly, Brian Montgomery was a loving family man who was devoted to his wife and son Alexander. His wife remembers that she knew she was going to marry him the very day they met. Brian was quite simply the love of her life. She said:

You never believe in love at first sight until it happens to you.

Their son was born a few months before Brian was deployed to Iraq and marked his first birthday just 2 days after Brian was killed. Held in his grandfather's arms, he wore his own Marine dress blue uniform to Brian's funeral.

Brian's wife Pamela says that every day she will tell Alexander about his dad. She went on to say the following:

I'll just tell him what a great man that Brian was, and he's a hero. What he did for his country, for his family, for every American citizen, we will never forget. He'll be proud of his dad.

At a church funeral service in Brian's honor, his father remembered how Brian always put others before himself, how as a small boy he had rushed to help a 5-year-old friend who had fallen and skinned his knee. He also remembered how the shock of the September 11 terrorist attacks prompted Brian to join the Marines. In Paul Montgomery's words, Brian simply "had a deep conviction that he needed to protect his country."

During the funeral, his brother Eric led mourners in a 2-minute standing ovation in Brian's honor. He said that "Brian will always be right here with me, with all of you."

Eric is currently attending the U.S. Naval Academy so he can become a Marine officer. In his brother's memory, he got a tattoo that Brian had always

Indeed, Brian Montgomery will never be forgotten. I had the honor of attending calling hours for Brian. I was able to meet the family and friends for whom he fought. Brian's stepmother Loren was making a giant scrapbook for him when he died. It was filled with the mementos of Brian's life. In it is a picture of the January day that he shipped out. He is cuddling newborn Alexander. There was a giant smile across his face. As Loren said:

I never got to finish it for Brian. I will have to finish it for Alexander now.

In her husband's memory, all Pamela asks is that we support all of our servicemembers. She says:

We need to honor our servicemembers every single day. If you see one, salute them. Or stop in the recruiting office or the VFW and thank them.

Pretty good advice, Mr. President.

Brian Montgomery was a young man with a deep commitment and resolve for service—a young man with an abiding love and dedication to his family, community, and country. Brian was the model of what we all hope our young men and women will become.

My wife Fran and I continue to keep the family of Brian Montgomery in our thoughts and in our prayers.

LANCE CORPORAL DEVON SEYMOUR

Mr. President, this evening I would like to pay tribute to a great soldier and fellow Ohioan, Marine LCpl Devon P. Seymour from St. Louisville, who lost his life on July 9, 2005, when an improvised explosive device exploded near his military vehicle in the Al Anbar Province of Iraq. Devon was only 21 years of age at the time.

Devon was a young man who always knew that he would one day join the military. As a boy, his favorite clothes were khakis and camouflage, and he was an avid collector of model airplanes. During high school, he joined the Civil Air Patrol Cadet Program and attended National Guard summer camps.

His mother Janet says she always knew her son would one day serve his country in the military. According to her, Devon was more interested in military life than he was in sports. She tried to persuade him to join the Air Force or the Army, but he was passionate about being a marine. In her words:

Devon was a stubborn kid, but he was proud, and I was proud of him. I wish I could tell him that now.

From an early age, he displayed the dedication and responsibility that would make him an outstanding marine. His father James remembers how determined his son was to get a dog. He recalls:

Devon wanted a dog, so what he did was he cut pictures out of magazines. Every time you opened a door, there would be a picture of a dog.

It was that same tenacity Devon brought with him into the military, a career he loved. As his friends have said, the military was just in his blood. His father James was a warrant officer in the Army National Guard, and his uncles were military men as well.

James said that his son decided to become a marine during his senior year of high school after the terrorist attacks of September 11. He believed so strongly in the cause that he talked to a recruiter right after 9/11 but was turned away because he was only 17 years of age at the time.

"He took his birth certificate in, but he was too young," James recalls. The 17-year-old Devon was told to wait until his birthday that November.

Devon joined the Marines shortly after graduating from Utica High School in 2002. His decision did not come as a surprise to Timothy Barrett, who is the principal at Utica.

Devon was doing it not because his dad did it, but because it was the right thing to do. I am sure he had pretty strong convictions about being part of the fight in Iraq and helping secure freedom there.

While waiting to be deployed to Iraq, Devon worked with a tractor supply company in Newark, where he was both a valuable employee and a jokester. According to the manager Dave Butler, he "soon blossomed into a treasured and dedicated employee."

Devon was deployed to Iraq in February of 2005 and was assigned to the Weapons Company, 3rd Battalion, 25th Marines, out of Akron, OH. He was placed on active duty just 8 months after his father James returned from having served in Afghanistan.

Before leaving, Devon talked to a friend, retired school teacher Ron Thompson. Ron remembers the final conversation very well, and this is what Ron said:

What was going on seemed to be the right thing, and Devon thought he was prepared. He knew it was a job that had to be done. He always struck me as that kind of person—always doing the right thing. I was very proud of him.

From Iraq, Devon often called Dave Butler at the Tractor Supply Company and other coworkers. According to Dave, Devon never complained. In fact, the day before he was killed, he called his mother to wish her well after her birthday. Janet said he told her about a fierce sandstorm and that conditions were bad. But he also defended the mission. "He believed in the cause," she recalled. During the phone call, he also assured his mother that he was fine. "Don't worry, Mom," he said. "But I've seen a lot."

His mother also remembers that he believed in what he was doing. This is how she explained his dedication:

Before Devon left, he said that the Iraqi people had been bullied around and didn't have anyone to stand up for them. He said that was their job, to stand up for them, and he was there to do it.

Janet added:

He was one of the good and decent people willing to help somebody. He was certainly worth knowing.

Devon is missed by all who knew and loved him. His community rallied around his family as well as the families of the other marines who were killed alongside him. "His death was a tragic loss," said his former principal, Timothy Barrett. "When it's one of your own, it hits home a little closer. This is the first one from our high school to be killed in service. It gives you a deeper appreciation for freedom when it is one of your own who paid the ultimate price."

Mr. President, Devon's father James remembers the fine young man his son became. "He was a good kid," he said. "He was very proud to be a Marine. And, I should say, we were very proud of him."

The world is a better place because Devon lived in it. A young man with a great sense of compassion, a tremendous dedication to his family, community, and country, he is missed by all who knew and loved him.

MACHINIST'S MATE SECOND CLASS JOSEPH A. ASHLEY

Mr. President, I rise today to honor a fellow Ohioan and a brave seaman—Machinist's Mate 2nd Class Joseph Allen Ashley, from Manchester. Machinist's Mate Ashley died on January 9, 2005, when the nuclear submarine he was serving on—the USS San Francisco—collided with an undersea mountain. He was 24 years old. He is survived by his parents Vicki and Daniel Ashley, and two brothers Daniel Jr. and Benjamin.

Joey—as family and friends called him—attended Manchester High School where he was a percussionist in the marching band and a member of the Boy Scouts. Joey always had a huge smile on his face when he was on the field beating his drums. Those who knew him remember that beaming smile most and how he loved being in the spotlight.

"[Joey] liked to stand out in a crowd," said his brother Benjamin. "Dan and I are the quiet ones. Joseph would more likely do the talking for us both."

His brother Dan Jr. remembers that Joey thought of himself as a "good ol' Southern country boy," swaggering about in cowboy hat and boots. Joey even modeled the horn on his green jeep from his favorite T.V. show—The Dukes of Hazzard. When he honked, the song "Dixie" blared loudly enough to announce his presence all across town.

Everyone always knew when Joey was around. Once, when he was stationed overseas, his father Dan honked the horn to see if it still worked. Before Dan knew it, people were calling him to see if his son was home.

After high school, Joey attended Stark State College of Technology for a year and took welding classes. He passed both the welding certification exams and the Navy entrance test in 2001. His father Dan had served 8 years in the Navy, and his mother Vicki remembers how excited Joey was to follow in his dad's footsteps. When he signed up, he told her, "Mom I passed the Navy test; I'm going to do what daddy did." According to his mom, Joey "always excelled in what he did."

Joey was planning a career in the Navy, the service he loved. He made his rank in minimal time, and his enthusiasm and ability earned him the Junior Sailor of the Year Award at the Guam Naval base. His crewmates noticed his obvious talent for repairing machinery and his affinity for The Dukes of Hazzard, and gave him the nickname "Cooter," after the show's mechanic.

Family was incredibly important to Joey. He frequently called home to check up on his parents and brothers and to let them know he was doing okay. He often swapped stories with his grandfather, who had also been stationed in the South Pacific during his time with the United States Army in WWII. During each phone call, Joey always made it a point to tell his family how much he loved them. That's simply the kind of person he was.

His faith was also important to Joey, and he found a church to attend wherever he was based. In Ohio, he was a member of both the Canal Fulton Baptist Church and the Akron Baptist Temple, and frequented other churches in the area, as well. And wherever he was, he had a smile for everyone he met.

Joey's mother describes her son with the following words:

When he had his heart set on something, he would try his best to get it done. I always told him to do what he wanted in life, but to be the best at it and to always try his hardest.

Joey did, indeed, achieve his best, and lived his life to the fullest. The day he died, his family lost a loving son and the Navy lost a brave sailor. He was an excellent submariner, and a valued member of what is a truly unique brotherhood. The moment Joey earned his dolphin pin—which symbolized his fitness to serve on a submarine—he joined an elite family of explorers and warriors—our Navy's submariners.

When I think about Joey and his service and dedication to our country, I am reminded of words that Sir Winston Churchill once said:

Of all the branches of men in the forces, there is none which shows more devotion and faces grimmer perils than the submariners.

Certainly, Joseph Ashley was the embodiment of those words. He was a brave sailor, devoted to his family, the Navy, and our Nation. He will never be forgotten. Family, friends, and fellow submariners from around the world have recognized his passing by leaving comments on his Internet tribute page. There are literally hundreds. The following words come from one of these tributes, written by a crewmate of Joey's on the USS San Francisco:

... I am completely honored to have served with such a great man, a loving person, a hardworking individual, and especially a friend. He has touched my soul, as well the rest of the crew, forever.

Joey's father said that his son died doing what he loved—serving his country. "This is what he wanted to do," he said.

Joey was buried next to his great-grandfather and namesake, who had also been a veteran. At the funeral, the Dixie horn on his green jeep played one last time for him.

Joey left a lasting impression on all who knew him. No one was a stranger to him. His crewmates will remember his "wicked Michael Jackson" impersonation—which one friend describes as "moonwalking in cowboy boots." Manchester High School has established a scholarship in his honor. And most important, his family will always remember his smile, his warmth, and his enthusiasm.

I conclude by sharing the words of Reverend Dallas R. Billington, who spoke at Joey's funeral. Here is what he said:

I want you to know what Joey has done for you. He gave his life so you can live in freedom.

Machinist's Mate 2nd Class Joseph Ashley served for us in foreign waters and patrolled our shores to keep us safe. We will remember him always.

My wife Fran and I will continue to keep Joey's family and friends in our thoughts and in our prayers.

SERGEANT DAVID R. CHRISTOFF, JR.

Mr. President, tonight I rise to pay tribute to a fallen hero who gave his life in service to this Nation—Marine Corps Sgt David Russell Christoff, Jr. from Rossford, OH. Sergeant Christoff was killed in Iraq on May 22, 2006, from wounds he received when a roadside bomb exploded while he was on foot patrol. He was 25 years old.

David Christoff was deeply devoted to our country. During his time in the Marines, he had toured the world with assignments in Australia, Thailand, Korea, Kuwait, and the Marshall Islands. At the time of his death, he was serving his second tour of duty in Iraq.

David had distinguished himself during his first deployment to Iraq, earning himself three commendation medals and the Purple Heart. One day, the young marine had been walking behind a truck full of troops when a roadside bomb went off. David's step-father, Jim, said that "he risked his life quite a bit to pull a number of people away."

David had also fought bravely through the Fallujah streets and was awarded a Purple Heart during his first tour for the shrapnel wounds he received during that battle. Despite these awards and honors, David never wavered in his desire to continue serving his country. He always felt that there was more he could do.

After returning to Ohio on leave in February 2005, David decided to leave his company—which was headed to Afghanistan—so that he could join one that was going to Iraq—and that was the Hawaii-based 3rd Battalion, 3rd Marine Regiment, 3rd Marine Division. David simply couldn't wait to return to the job he had been doing in the Middle East.

His mother Amy remembers that David believed he was making a positive difference. He felt a sense of duty to use his combat experience to train younger marines, as others had done for him. Amy said, "They were there to help train him, and he wanted to be there for the younger Marines, also."

A 1999 graduate of Shawnee High School—where he played golf and was a media center aid—David was a hero to those who knew him. The day after the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001, he left his job in construction and enlisted in the Marines. Like countless other brave individuals, he felt compelled to help our Nation. He died doing what his family said he loved—and that was defending his country.

David's faith in the Marines was as great as his faith in America. His grandmother Ann remembers this about David:

David was very smart and got good grades and worked his way up to sergeant very quickly in the Marines. He was always so sure that was what he was supposed to be and that was what he was supposed to be doing. He thought as long as the Marines were over there fighting we could all sleep good at home.

Bob Willman, a former Clark-Shawnee Superintendent, remembers David as a young man who was well-spoken, liked, and respected. It didn't surprise him that David joined the Marines. He said that "David was loyal to his family, to his classmates, to his school, and obviously, to his country."

When David enlisted, he made his intentions clear to his family. "After 9/11, he wanted to protect everyone," said his aunt Bethann. And his father David Sr. said that therefore "the only thing he could do was join the military. He does things all the way."

Students, friends, and family all have such fond memories of David growing up. He love playing golf and also liked all kinds of music—rap when he was younger and classic rock most recently. He had big plans for his future, hoping for a career in law enforcement. But, after the terrorist attacks of September 11, he knew that his career could wait. His country simply needed him more.

I would like to share David's own words, from a 2002 interview with The Toledo Blade. This is what he said:

I don't want my brother and sister to live in fear. I want to fight and defend the greatest country in the world.

David truly was a hero to his family. He was given leave to fly home in February 2005—and ended up saving his father's life by driving him to the hospital when David Sr. was suffering a heart attack. "He came home to save my life," his father said. "Just having him here [safe] and not in Iraq saved my life."

David was a hero to his fellow Marines, as well. Corporal J.J. Aguirre, a fellow marine and friend, remembers what the marines in David's squadron had to say about the young sergeant: "The guys would be like, 'Man, I'd follow that guy anywhere. If he said lay down here and open a field of fire with no cover, I'd do it.'"

SGT Hector Zelaya remembers that he found a brother in David—not just a friend:

I've been through everything with him, from the beginning of boot camp to (school of infantry), from the Philippines and Korea and Thailand to Fallujah. He's my little brother. He was a true leader, and he had the confidence to stand alone.

Branden Skabla was David's best friend—they called themselves "brothers from different mothers," and David was the godfather to Branden's son. The boys had grown up together and decided to join the Marines on the very same day. It was a day Branden will never forget. They were working a construction job together when the news of the September 11 attacks reached them. The young men looked at each other, and simply knew that their country needed them.

Branden will never forget his friend. "It can't be real, but I know it is," he said. "I keep waiting for that phone call from him to tell me that he's coming home. I'll be waiting for that phone call for the rest of my life."

Branden was with David's father when David's belongings arrived. Included were two letters, one to each of David's parents. In the letters, he asked family and friends to pray for those still serving our country overseas.

David was buried with full military honors in Arlington Cemetery. There was also a service in his honor in Ohio. At that service, David's parents were each presented with a Purple Heart medal. David, who joined the Marine Corps in 2001, had been awarded eight medals during his time in the Marines.

David Christoff, Jr. was a young man with a sincere dedication to our country, a compassion for others, and a love of life and liberty. He deeply believed in America, in his fellow Marines, and in his family. He was motivated by a single desire—the wish to protect those he loved most.

My wife Fran and I will continue to keep David's father, David Sr., his mother and step-father Amy and Jim Hogan, his brother Michael, and his sister Lauren in our thoughts and in our prayers.

MASTER SERGEANT ROBERT H. WEST

Mr. President, I rise today to pay tribute to a fellow Ohioan—Army MSG Robert H. West from Elyria. Master Sergeant West was killed in Baghdad on May 14, 2006, when an improvised explosive device detonated near his armored vehicle. He was serving with the 1st Battalion, 312th Regiment, 4th Brigade, 78th Division, based at Fort Bragg, North Carolina. He was 37 years old.

Master Sergeant West is survived by his wife Jeannie and their daughter Shelby, his mother Mary Heaton, and many loving aunts, uncles, and cousins.

Bobby—as he was known by family and friends—dedicated his life to training the young soldiers who would follow in his footsteps. When he was killed, he was serving his second tour of duty in Iraq and was helping train the new Iraqi police force. He had volunteered for the deployment because he felt his country needed him and because the military was a job he loved and wanted to do well. According to his aunt Bonnie, Bobby believed strongly that he had the experience and know-how needed to train Iraqi police officers. "He wasn't afraid," remembers Nora Hudson, another aunt of Bobby's. "He said, 'I'm a trained professional, it'll be all right.'"

Bobby graduated from Elyria Catholic High School in 1987, where he played on the legendary 1984 state championship football team. He was also involved in choir, baseball, and the ski club.

Lou Rotunda, Bobby's former basketball coach at Elyria Catholic, described him as "a quiet, great kid. He was just a fantastic person."

After graduating, Bobby enlisted in the Army in 1988. He was originally assigned to the armored cavalry. From there, he served for 6 years as drill instructor. Later, he transferred back to cavalry and served as a tank commander during his first deployment to Iraq in 2003 and 2004. A member of a Division experienced in training Army reservists, Bobby then returned to Iraq for a second deployment to help train the new Iraqi police force.

Bobby loved the camaraderie of Army life. Sergeant 1st Class Gerry Galloway, who was traveling with Bobby when the fatal attack occurred, had first met him several years ago at Fort Knox in Kentucky. In his words, Bobby was a "great NCO, great leader, good decision-maker, [and] good friend. I would follow him anywhere."

Joseph McFarlane, who served with Bobby, wrote the following about him in an email message posted to an Internet tribute Web site:

Thank you, Bobby, for being a great mentor, peer, and most of all, friend. It hurts me as I write this message and my prayers go out to your loved ones left behind. You have impacted so many young men in your service to this nation. A true Hero, I will miss you always.

When Bobby was killed, he was riding in a humvee, alongside 45-year-old CWO John W. Engeman, who was also killed in the attack. The two men were close and had been good friends ever since meeting 3 years prior. Both deployed voluntarily.

"They loved what they did, and they were good at it," said Bobby's wife Jeannie, speaking of the devotion both men felt for the Army and for their country—a devotion that was just in their blood. According to Donna, John Engeman's wife, "It's just what they did. They were just very quiet and very privately dedicated to what they did."

Fort Bragg's Main Post Chapel held a memorial service in memory of both Bobby and John. Over 200 mourners attended—most of them soldiers wearing the lightning patch of the 78th Division on their uniforms.

Bobby enjoyed many things, including football, golf, hunting, and other sports. He had plans of someday possibly becoming a county sheriff's deputy. The most important thing in his life, though, was always his family. He loved spending time with his loved ones. He married Jeannie—the love of his life—in 1989. His mother Mary, in the words of his Aunt Bonnie, “was gold to him.” And to Bonnie, herself, and her children, Bobby was like a son and a brother. She said,

We had a special bond, and it grew stronger through the years. No matter how many times he was in and out, he always gave me a big bear hug and a kiss.

Bobby was close to his cousins, as well. John Shreve, Jr., wrote the following about his cousin:

Bobby brightened every life he touched. You were much more than a cousin to me. You will be greatly missed by all. You are my hero.

Bobby's family remembers him as a funny guy, whose off-hand comments and sunny disposition could brighten even the worst mood. “People were drawn to him, especially kids,” said his Aunt Tammi. “They wouldn't leave him alone!”

Those who knew Bobby describe him as someone who could make you laugh until you cried—until your cheeks hurt. He loved his family and he loved being a soldier. His colleagues will always remember his friendship, his experience, and his sense of humor. Bobby was a mentor to many soldiers and drill sergeants throughout his life and has influenced countless young men and women in their service to our Nation.

Because of his courage and leadership, Master Sergeant West was a true hero to all who knew him. He was a man who lived his life with great love for and commitment to his family and friends—a man who dedicated his life to protecting others. With his actions, Bobby truly made this world a better place.

My wife Fran and I will continue to keep the family of MSG Robert H. West in our thoughts and in our prayers.

SPECIALIST ANTHONY D. KINSLOW

Mr. President, I rise today to pay tribute to a fellow Ohioan—Army Specialist Anthony D. Kinslow, from Westerville, who died on June 13, 2005, when his military vehicle came under attack in Iraq. He was serving with the 2nd Battalion, 17th Field Artillery Regiment, 2nd Brigade, 2nd Infantry Division from Fort Carson, Colorado. He was 21 years old.

Anthony was a young man liked and respected by all who knew him. He attended Big Walnut High School, where he was in Roy Merchant's mythology class. Roy remembers Anthony as a good student, always quiet and polite. And Anthony's friends and family describe him as gentle, bookish, and gentlemanly.

He was kind—someone who was always considerate of others. His was a calming presence, some have said. According to his mother Kathleen, the only time she ever saw him intense was when he was writing.

A family friend remembers the type of good, hard-working person that Anthony was. As she put it, “he was a very kind, nice person. He worked through high school. Some of the nicest seem to be the ones who go.”

Anthony had strong ties in his community, where his grandfather had built the house where he lived. Neighbors say that some members of Anthony's family had lived there for at least 40 years.

Anthony graduated high school in 2002 and enlisted in the Army in May 2004. He was first stationed in South Korea, where he saw the rain and lightning of the monsoon season. He was then redeployed to Kuwait and then shortly afterward to Iraq.

Before being deployed to Iraq, Anthony had worked in the local Waffle House restaurant. It was here that he met his girlfriend Nichole. Although no date had been set, the two were planning on getting married when Anthony's deployment was finished. Heather Potts recalls that Anthony was always sending Nichole flowers while he was home—sometimes four times a week. She said, “Our living and dining room and kitchen were always filled with flowers.”

Heather wrote and sang a song entitled “Come Back to Me” for Anthony when he returned home on leave in January 2005. She said, “I was so scared he wouldn't come back.”

Anthony was very close to his family. He adored his brothers and sisters, while growing up, and cradled his nieces and nephews as an adult. As his mother said, “We all thought that when he passed away, how sad it was that he wouldn't have children.”

Anthony was completely devoted to his family and friends. Whenever they needed him, he was simply there for them. This same selfless devotion characterized his service in Iraq. One of his Army comrades wrote the following to Anthony on an Internet tribute website:

You were my friend and brother through thick and thin. You were always there for me when I needed a hand. We had many great times over the last year, regardless of the circumstances. I miss you much already, and I only wish you were here now.

Another soldier from Ohio died along with Anthony on June 13, 2005—and that was SGT Larry Kuhns from Austintown. Sergeant Kuhns' sister Sarah left the following message on that same Internet tribute Web site:

My brother Sergeant Larry Kuhns served with Anthony, and they both fell together. Ever since that day, I have felt lost and alone. I am truly sorry for your loss. My brother talked about Kinslow and thought he was a brave man. My heart goes out to all of you.

At Anthony's funeral, BG Albert Bryan described him as “first and foremost a soldier.” He went on to say:

Specialist Kinslow, in choosing to be a soldier, chose a life of service over personal fulfillment . . . to provide for the greater community rather than to seek out those things that lead to personal gain.

At the same service, the Reverend James Walter called Anthony a “peacemaker.”

Anthony's mother remembers her son's bravery when he departed for Iraq. She wrote Anthony a letter after his death, which was read by a friend during his funeral. Her words describe Anthony as stoically turning to board the plane that would take him back to the battlefields. She wrote, “I marveled at your immense strength and bravery.”

Anthony will be remembered and deeply missed by all who knew him. He was a kind, loving man who served his country selflessly. In the end, however, the best words to honor him belong to his mother. She said this about her beloved son:

You were one of the brightest lights of my life, and I know you will shine down on us from heaven. I will always love you, tons, bushels, and spoonfuls.

My wife Fran and I continue to keep Army SPC Anthony D. Kinslow's family—his mother Kathleen, his father and step-mother A. Scott and Julia Kinslow, his sisters Emily, Mary, and Lucie Kinslow; his brothers Peter Kinslow and PFC Owen Kinslow, and his step-sister Kelli Vanover—in our thoughts and in our prayers.

LANCE CORPORAL EDWARD AUGUST “AUGIE” SCHROEDER II

Mr. President, I rise today to honor a fellow Ohioan—Marine LCpl Edward Schroeder II, who died on August 3, 2005, when a roadside bomb exploded by his vehicle in Iraq. He was 23 years old.

The son of Paul Schroeder and Rosemary Palmer and the brother of Amanda Schroeder, Lance Corporal Schroeder's middle name was August, and to family and friends he was known simply as “Augie.” Born in Columbus, he and his family lived in China during his pre-school years before moving to New Jersey, where he graduated from Columbia High School in 2000.

Augie's father remembers his son as a young man of great promise, with an “easy charm and readiness to help.” Indeed, Augie was the type of person whom we can all admire. At Columbia High, he was a member of the swim team and lacrosse team. During his free time, he would go door-to-door collecting food for needy families and was a member of a church outreach program that painted run-down homes, built wheelchair ramps, and repaired roofs. He also passed the qualifications test to become an emergency medical technician and served on two emergency squads. A friend from his church outreach program remembers that Augie was simply the kind of person everyone should strive to be.

Augie's mother Rosemary recalls that “he just liked to help people.” And sister says that Augie “was a hero before he died—not just because he went to Iraq. I was proud of him before.”

After graduating from high school, Augie followed family tradition and enrolled at The Ohio State University, while his family moved to Cleveland. Augie studied criminal justice at OSU and was a member of the Phi Kappa Theta fraternity. His fraternity brothers remember that he loved to hang out in the fraternity house, sipping beers and talking about Buckeyes football.

Augie began thinking of joining the Marines after the terrorist attacks of September 11. He enlisted in 2002. Augie wanted to serve his country and felt that the Marines was simply the best way for him to do that.

Mr. President, Augie is remembered most of all for his wonderful sense of humor. His mother describes him as a boy of contrasts—he could be somber, but he also had a good sense of fun. Friends and family still laugh over his many jokes and pranks.

For example, Augie's pre-school once held an event where the kids were told to dress in a manner highlighting their heritage. Augie showed up wearing a pair of lederhosen. He pulled them way up and told everyone that he was the German cousin of the famous television character Steve Urkel and then did a perfect imitation.

Augie kept his sense of humor throughout school. Once, during a middle school talent show, he performed as an inept magician, who, along with his dummy partner, fumbled all his tricks.

And, Augie never lacked ideas for humorous Halloween costumes. He showed up at one Halloween party dressed as Tonya Harding, wearing a figure-skating outfit and carrying a lead pipe. Another legendary costume involved four fingers, a thumb, and a T-shirt lettered "L.A. Evidence Room" and "one size fits all." He was the infamous bloody glove from the O.J. Simpson case.

Augie's mother said that she always thought that he would eventually become either a police officer or a stand-up comic—she just didn't know which.

Rosemary also remembers that being part of a team was incredibly important to Augie. Whether growing up in China—where collaborative work is stressed—or playing on his many sports teams in New Jersey, Augie was always someone who believed in working with others toward a greater goal. He loved to participate on the football, soccer, baseball, lacrosse, and swimming teams. He was simply a person who believed in placing teamwork before individual gain. "Some people are just on that wavelength and that was Augie," his mother said.

Augie's belief in the importance of teamwork is reflected in the work he did while growing up and as a young man. At different times, he worked as an emergency medical technician, a lifeguard, a Boy Scout, a church youth counselor at Camp Glen Gray, and a marine. Along the way, he made a positive impact on every life he touched.

Augie was a young man of great maturity and compassion. Maralynn

Fahey, a church youth group leader, describes him as a "selfless" teenager. She particularly remembers his help during food collections. She said, "Dropping 500 bags in the neighborhood was a real effort, and that was something Augie was willing to do."

An anonymous author once wrote, "How lucky I am to have known someone who was so hard to say goodbye to." No better words reflect the sentiments of those who knew and loved Augie Schroeder. His desire and willingness to help others—even those he didn't know—endeared him to all. He was simply a great friend and model citizen.

Augie's fraternity brother Brian Cox said the following at his friend's funeral:

With Augie, there were no enemies—only friends. He was put on Earth for a reason. Augie was, is, and always will be my hero. [. . .] There are very few people of whom you can truly say [they] never let you down—whom you can call a best friend.

During his funeral, Reverend Charles Yoost also remembered the many lives Augie had touched. He said that "it doesn't seem possible to believe that Augie is gone. His brief life made some of us more thoughtful people."

His mother remembers that Augie was always asking what was out there. He wanted to experience everything he could. His approach to life was simple—"Let me try."

Augie was a man who lived life to its fullest. He was a devoted friend, son, brother, and soldier. His sense of humor brightened others' days and his generosity and strength of spirit were an inspiration to all who knew him.

Augie's family and friends will never forget the young man who brought so much joy to their lives. He was an individual who understood the importance of honor and integrity, who believed in loving and respecting his family, and who knew the importance of serving one's community.

I am honored to speak about him today.

My wife Fran and I will continue to keep the family of Augie Schroeder in our thoughts and prayers.

SERGEANT BENJAMIN J. LAYMON

Mr. President, I rise today to remember a fallen soldier, who gave his life while serving our Nation in Iraq—Army Sgt Benjamin J. Laymon, from Mount Vernon, OH. On June 24, 2006, Sergeant Laymon died during foot patrol when a roadside bomb exploded. He was 22 years old.

Ben, as family and friends called him, was a good-natured jokester, who loved to pull pranks and make others laugh. Those who knew him best described him as the light in the room, and his family called him "Gentle Ben" because of his deeply caring nature. "He was so sweet and considerate," remembers his mother Gale. And according to his step-father David, Ben "was the type of kid who would call if he was going to be late because he didn't want you to worry."

As a boy, Ben would often visit a 72-acre farm belonging to his aunt and uncle Shirley and Richard Laymon. He was always a welcome visitor. Shirley said that "Ben was one of the sweetest, most thoughtful persons you'd ever want to know. He was so sweet, cared about everybody, and cared about his country."

Ben attended Mount Vernon High School, where he proudly wore No. 73 on the football field for the Yellow Jackets. His former football coach, Scott Spitler, wasn't surprised at all when he learned that Ben had decided to enlist in the Army. "He was just a very hard worker and very caring," Scott said. "Ben was the type of kid who was willing to do anything, that he could to help his teammates, to better himself, and to better his team."

Ben's former teammate, Chad Biddle, remembers the positive impression Ben always made. "He was the type of guy everyone got along with," Chad said. "He was always the center of attention, even when he wasn't trying to be. He was just an all-around, down-to-earth good guy."

Ben's close friend, Jessica Frazee, also recalls his great sense of humor and his compassion for others:

Ben was the class clown. He liked to laugh. He was the kind of friend who could make all of your troubles go away. He always put people in front of himself, always listening to what everyone else had to say. He is everybody's hero. He just wanted you to be happy.

Ben's sense of humor truly was legendary at Mount Vernon High School. He would often dress up in funny costumes to attend basketball games, and once even convinced his friend Joey Armstrong to go with him dressed as hunters in bright orange hats with ear flaps. "He was always making everyone laugh," Joey remembers. "He was hysterical. . . . He was my best friend—the best friend anyone could ever have."

Ben's childhood dream was to become a soldier. He simply knew what he wanted to do. As his brother Andy said during his funeral, "Few people at Ben's age knew what they wanted to do with their lives. But Ben did. He had goals and plans. He gave the Army 110 percent, and for that, I am so proud of you Ben."

Ben enlisted in the Army in September 2002 and began serving his first tour of duty in Iraq in 2003. His second tour began in November 2005. Family friend, Dick Shafer, remembers how excited Ben was about what he was doing—about how he believed in what he was doing and would write often of the good he saw happening in Iraq.

And, Ben's family remembers that he liked being in Iraq because of the challenges and the freedom to do his job. After his tour finished, he was hoping to become a SWAT officer in the Columbus police department.

Ben was dedicated not only to serving his country, but also to the family he loved so very much. His sense of humor and love of laughter made him most popular with his six young nieces and nephews. His mother Gale particularly remembers the love Ben had for kids. She said: I always thought he would be a great teacher for younger children.

Even while in Iraq, Ben wanted to keep his family happy. When calling or emailing, he was always more concerned about them than himself. His mother remembers the very words he always said—"Don't worry, I'll be fine."

Those who knew Ben remembered his rich life during his funeral at the First Christian Church. Reverend Jamie Gump said that Ben lived a full life but died too soon for those who loved him. Reverend Gump also read a letter from Ben's mother, in which she wrote: I miss you so much and long to see your face.

At the service, MG David Huntoon presented Ben's parents with their son's Purple Heart and Bronze Star, and said:

Sergeant Laymon was part of the 10th Cavalry, a proud outfit that has seen many heroes. His mission required courage and compassion. It was clear to the United States Army that he was an outstanding leader.

Ben's death has been a loss to his entire community. His friends and neighbors will never forget him. Kathy Blair knew both Ben and his family. "I'm feeling great sadness, unbelievable sadness," she said. Beth Totman also knew Ben. "He was a super-nice guy, so kind and fun to be around," she said. "He always seemed to have a smile on his face."

Ben brought joy and laughter to all who knew him. I would like to conclude with the words of one of Ben's fellow soldiers, a young man named Pete, who was with Ben when the roadside bomb exploded. This is what Pete said:

I'm going to miss him so much. He was a great friend. He could make me laugh at the worst possible times in my life. Even now, I look back on the stuff he did and laugh.

Ben will always be remembered. His compassion and positive attitude were truly rare, and he simply brightened the lives of all who knew him. My wife Fran and I will continue to keep Ben's father and step-mother James and Kathy Laymon his mother and step-father Gale and David Harstine, and his brothers Trevor, Curt, and Andrew in our thoughts and in our prayers.

I yield the floor.

CORPORAL NICHOLAS A. ARVANITIS

Mr. GREGG. Mr. President, I rise today to pay special tribute to U.S. Army CPL Nicholas A. Arvanitis of Salem, NH. On October 6, 2006, this brave 22-year old paratrooper gave his life for his Nation while engaged in combat operations with enemy forces near Bayji, Iraq. Corporal Arvanitis had been stationed in Iraq since August 2006, serving as a squadron leader assigned to Company C, 1st Battalion, 505th Parachute Infantry Regiment, 82nd Airborne Division, Ft. Bragg, NC.

Nicholas, or "Nick" to family and friends, grew up in Salem, NH, and was a 2003 graduate of Salem High School. He was a member of the wrestling team and played guitar in the jazz band and sousaphone in the marching band. Friends remember him as a team player, who got along with everyone and was always smiling.

Nick joined the U.S. Army in August 2003 because he wanted to protect his country and his family. Friends and family said he loved his country, wanted to defend it, and sensed a call to duty. He completed Infantry One Station Unit Training at Fort Benning, GA, in December 2003 and the Basic Airborne Course in January 2004. He reported to Fort Bragg, NC, in March 2004 and was assigned to the 82nd Airborne Division in April 2004. Corporal Arvanitis deployed to Afghanistan in the fall of 2004 in support of the Afghan elections and deployed to Iraq in July 2006 as a member of 3rd Brigade Combat Team in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom.

Corporal Arvanitis' awards and decorations include the Bronze Star Medal, Purple Heart, Army Commendation Medal, Army Good Conduct Medal, National Defense Service Medal, Iraq Campaign Medal, Global War on Terrorism Expeditionary Medal, Global War on Terrorism Service Medal, Army Service Ribbon, Overseas Service Ribbon, Combat Infantryman Badge, Parachutist's Badge, and Expert Weapons Qualification Badge.

Patriots from the State of New Hampshire have served our Nation with honor and distinction from Bunker Hill to Bayji—and U.S. Army CPL Nicholas Arvanitis served and fought in that same fine tradition.

My sympathy, condolences, and prayers go out to Nick's maternal grandparents Leonard and Rita, his parents Maureen and Richard, his sister Kimberly, and to his other family members and many friends who have suffered this most grievous loss. All will sorely miss Nicholas Arvanitis, the forgiving young man with a heart of gold, the patriot who always thought of his family and friends, the courageous and outstanding paratrooper who served our Nation with distinction and honor. In the words of Daniel Webster, may his remembrance be as long lasting as the land he honored. God bless Nicholas A. Arvanitis.

LANCE CORPORAL MICHAEL SCHOLL

Mr. HAGEL. Mr. President I rise to express my sympathy over the loss of U.S. Marine LCpl Michael Scholl of Nebraska. Lance Corporal Scholl died from wounds suffered in combat operations in Iraq's Al Anbar Province.

Lance Corporal Scholl was from Lincoln, NE. A 2002 graduate of Lincoln High School, he was originally denied enlistment with the Marines. But with persistence, Lance Corporal Scholl received a medical waiver and became a marine in 2003.

While stationed in Hawaii, Lance Corporal Scholl met his future wife Melissa. The couple were married a day before he was deployed to Afghanistan.

He served in Afghanistan from summer 2005 to January 2006. Within a month of his return, he and Melissa were expecting a baby. On October 11, 2006, only a few weeks after Lance Corporal Scholl was deployed to Iraq, Melissa gave birth to Addison Rose Scholl. Although he never met his daughter, Lance Corporal Scholl was a proud father. He received pictures of her while he was in Iraq and also recorded stories for her to hear as she grew. Thousands of brave men and women like Lance Corporal Scholl are serving in Iraq.

In addition to his wife and daughter, Lance Corporal Scholl is survived by his father Steven Scholl of Friend, NE, and his mother Debora Chandler of Lincoln, NE.

I ask my colleagues to join me and all Americans in honoring LCpl Michael Scholl.

HONORING SENIOR MASTER SERGEANT MICHAEL L. LEMKE

Mr. ENZI. Mr. President, I would like to recognize airman SMSgt Michael L. Lemke, stationed at Francis E. Warren Air Force Base in Cheyenne, WY. Senior Master Sergeant Lemke was selected as one of the Air Force's 12 Outstanding Airmen for 2006. The award is based on his superior leadership, job performance, and personal achievements.

The Air Force honors the 12 Outstanding Airmen of the Year at the annual Air Force Association's Air and Space Conference and Technology Exposition in September. Over 352,000 Active-Duty airmen were considered for this award. I am pleased they recognized Senior Master Sergeant Lemke with this well deserved honor. I had the pleasure of meeting with Senior Master Sergeant Lemke while he was in Washington to receive his award.

Senior Master Sergeant Lemke has been in the Air Force for 19 years and is the superintendent of the 90th Contracting Squadron at F.E. Warren AFB. He was also selected as the top graduate at the Senior Non-Commissioned Officer Academy out of 2,515 Senior NCOs who graduated in 2005. He recently returned from deployment in Iraq and I thank him for his sacrifice and service. Senior Master Sergeant Lemke is preparing to retire from the Air Force.

I have always said that anyone wanting to live in Wyoming will do so if they can create a job. As chairman of the Senate Committee on Health, Education, Labor and Pensions and also a member of the Small Business Committee, I am pleased that Senior Master Sergeant Lemke will be entering the private sector as a small business owner in Cheyenne. He and his wife Maria, who is an accountant, will be partners in Front Range Nuclear Medicine. One of the biggest problems in rural America is access to health care facilities. Front Range Nuclear Medicine helps improve access to health care for people in Wyoming by transporting medical scanning technology to the hospitals. Before I came to the Senate in 1997, I operated a small business with my wife, and I wish the Lemkes the best of luck in this new endeavor.

Again, I congratulate SMSgt. Lemke for his selection as one of the Air Forces' 12 Outstanding Airmen for 2006.

COMMEMORATING THE 100TH ANNIVERSARY OF ALPHA PHI ALPHA FRATERNITY

Mr. REID. Mr. President, today I rise to salute Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, which celebrated its 100th anniversary on December 4, 2006. Founded at Cornell University in 1906, Alpha Phi Alpha is the Nation's oldest African-American fraternity. In addition to Martin Luther King, Jr., the fraternity also proudly claims notable American leaders such as former U.S. Supreme Court Justice Thurgood Marshall, former Senator Edward Brooke, Congressman CHARLIE RANGEL, Detroit Mayor Kwame Kilpatrick, and countless others.

From advocating for the rights of African Americans to encouraging young people to attend college, Alpha Phi Alpha has played an important role in our country. Most recently, the fraternity successfully pushed to create a national memorial for Martin Luther King, Jr., on the National Mall in Washington, DC. I send my best wishes upon this important milestone, and I am certain that the fraternity will continue its rich legacy of service and social justice in the next 100 years.

LOCAL LAW ENFORCEMENT ENHANCEMENT ACT OF 2005

Mr. SMITH. Mr. President, I rise today to speak about the need for hate crimes legislation. Each Congress, Senator KENNEDY and I introduce hate crimes legislation that would add new categories to current hate crimes law, sending a signal that violence of any kind is unacceptable in our society. Likewise, each Congress I have come to the floor to highlight a separate hate crime that has occurred in our country.

On October 11, 2006, in New York, NY, Michael Sandy, a gay man, was attacked by four men. During the attack, Sandy was struck by a car while trying to flee. According to police, Sandy went to meet a man that had contacted him through a singles website. They drove to a parking lot where three other men were waiting, the group subsequently attacked and beat Sandy. Police believe that these men have used the Internet to find victims numerous times in the past.

I believe that the Government's first duty is to defend its citizens, to defend them against the harms that come out of hate. The Local Law Enforcement Enhancement Act is a symbol that can become substance. I believe that by passing this legislation and changing current law, we can change hearts and minds as well.

PORTLAND—UNWIRED

Mr. SMITH. Mr. President, I rise today to recognize my home State of Oregon and the city of Portland. Thanks to the visionary leadership of Portland city officials and their plan to "Unwire Portland," the forecast in Portland today is "overcast, with free broadband access for everyone." You see, there is a new cloud covering the city—a Wi-Fi broadband cloud.

Residents, businesses, and city officials will be able to access the Internet anywhere under the 134 square mile Wi-Fi cloud, download content as quickly as 1 megabyte per second, and upload at speeds reaching 256 kilobits per second. And they will be able to do it all for free.

The Wi-Fi network will not only offer city residents and businesses a new affordable choice for broadband access, but will also improve the efficiency of city government operations. Public safety and other field-based employees will now be able to wirelessly download and upload reports and data from the field.

The public / private partnership that was struck by the city to realize this accomplishment perfectly illustrates how municipalities, free of State restrictions, can improve access to broadband opportunities for its citizens while improving city services.

The Wi-Fi cloud over Portland also reminds us that the future competitiveness of our country depends upon ubiquitous broadband deployment.

Congress must enact legislation that clearly articulates a national broadband policy and provides affordable broadband access for all Americans. I look forward to working with each of you, my colleagues, toward this endeavor.

TIME FOR A CHANGE

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. President, crime in our Nation is increasing. Too often guns are involved. In 2005, our country experienced a surge in murder and robbery rates. Unfortunately, that surge has continued in 2006. The Police Executive Research Forum, a think tank that serves many of the Nations' police departments, examined the murder and robbery statistics of 53 U.S. cities for the first 6 months of this year. In their report, "A Gathering Storm: Violent Crime in America," they report that murder has increased in 26 of the 53 cities, and robberies have increased in 43 of the 53 cities.

In Boston, after a 19.6-percent increase in murder in 2005, the first 6 months of 2006 produced another 27.5-percent increase. In Memphis, murder increased 27 percent in 2005 and 43 percent in 2006. Police officials attribute these severe increases to increases in gang activity, violent offenders returning from prison and kids who have easy access to guns.

In September, the Federal Bureau of Investigation reported that in 2005 violent crime increased 2.3 percent, murder and non-negligent manslaughter increased 3.4 percent, robbery increased 3.9 percent, and aggravated assault increased 1.8 percent from 2004.

What may be even more dramatic is the fact that these statistics are not exclusive to larger cities. Smaller communities that typically had relatively low amounts of crime have also been affected. In the first 6 months of 2006, robbery was up 47 percent in Rochester, NY, 37 percent in suburban Montgomery County, MD, 36.8 percent in Minneapolis, 36 percent in Milwaukee, and 27 percent in Norfolk, VA. This translates into thousands more people being robbed, often at gunpoint.

According to a poll conducted by the Washington Post and ABC News, 61 percent of Americans favor stricter gun laws. This is up from 57 percent in 2002. The 109th Congress's record on gun safety is not one of which to be proud. It has been a "do nothing" Congress. I will continue in the 110th Congress to work to pass sensible gun safety legislation to help make our communities safer.

THANKING UTAH VOLUNTEERS

Mr. HATCH. Mr. President, I rise to pay tribute to all the men and women in Washington County, UT, whose hard work and diligence have made and are making the Dinosaur Discovery Site at Johnson Farm such a success. These dedicated volunteers are helping to protect and display an asset of great value not only to Utah but to the world.

The history of this discovery is fascinating. A few years ago, retired optometrist Dr. Sheldon Johnson was preparing his farm site for development, and as he turned over the earth, he discovered tracks of early residents of Washington County—very early residents, in fact. Dinosaur tracks dating back to the Jurassic period of history were uncovered. They are being preserved and are bringing economic and historic benefit to St. George, Washington County, UT, and the Nation. To date, visitors from 68 nations and all 50 States have visited the site.

I want to recognize and thank Dr. Sheldon and LaVerna Johnson who discovered the tracks and then donated the land to preserve this heritage. The Johnsons have made it all possible. Linda Sappington, Washington County volunteer coordinator, aided by volunteer supervisors Kae Crabtree and Carole Chadwick, began in February 2000 to bring together individuals who cared about the tracks and who were willing to give of themselves to help preserve the find.

I also want to recognize and thank Mayor Dan McArthur, the city of St. George, Washington County, and the Utah State Legislature for their efforts. Past and present museum staff Theresa Walker, Andrew R.C. Milner, Janice Evans, Bob Kroff, and Anneli Segura have put forth countless hours of work and dedication to enhance, preserve, and share this prehistoric treasure with the community and future generations.

In addition to the Johnsons, I recognize Suzanne Allen; Dr. Andrew Barnum; Herb Basso; Dr. David Borris; Alan Crooks; Lyle Drake; Kenneth Hinton; Sharon Isom; unfortunately, now deceased; LaRee Jones; Dr. James Kirkland; Dr. Martin Lockley; Dan Matheson; the late Layton Ott; Kathy Smith; Darcy Stewart; Marshall Topham; Gary Watts; John Willie. They are all members of the DinosaurAh!torium, a 501 (c) 3 foundation responsible for funding the project. Advisory members include James Hansen, Dr. Jerry Harris, Gary Sanders, with Cliff Green and Robert Milner, resident artist. I also thank Paul Jensen and Jeff Chapman for allowing access to their properties for the collection, preservation, and storage of fossils.

Finally, today, I specifically want to recognize and thank the many volunteers who have made and are making the Dinosaur Discovery Site at Johnson Farm possible. Many of these wonderful individuals have been contributing their time and energy for more than 5 years. A tremendous thank you to the Dinosaur Discovery Site at Johnson Farm volunteers. I commend each of them.

NURSING RELIEF FOR DISADVANTAGED AREAS REAUTHORIZATION ACT

Mr. CORNYN. Mr. President, I would like to go on the record regarding H.R. 1285, the Nursing Relief for Disadvantaged Areas Reauthorization Act of 2005, a bill that I support as it moves through the Senate today.

This legislation extends for 3 years the Nursing Relief for Disadvantaged Areas Act of 1999 which provides non-immigrant visas for nurses in areas where there is a shortage of health professionals.

Many hospitals across the Nation and, particularly in my home State of Texas, have been experiencing great difficulties over the last several years in attracting nurses. This shortage has been especially severe in both inner-city neighborhoods and in rural isolated areas.

It was for this reason that in 1999 Congress passed the Nursing Relief for Disadvantaged Areas Act. This legislation created a new H-1C temporary worker program with 500 visas available per year for registered nurses. In order to be eligible to petition for an alien nurse, a hospital must be located in a health professional shortage area as designated by the Secretary of Health and Human Services, the hospital must have at least 190 acute care beds, and it must have a certain percentage of Medicare and Medicaid patients.

The legislation also included strong protections for American nurses by requiring that any H-1C nurses be paid the prevailing wage and mandating that hospitals take steps to recruit American nurses. Furthermore H-1C nurses may not comprise more than 33 percent of a hospital's registered nurses, and these hospitals may not contract out any H-1C nurses to other hospitals.

The legislation before us, H.R. 1285, will reauthorize the H-1C nurse program for 3 more years. The H-1C visa category is vital to Texas hospitals like McAllen Medical Center and Mercy Health System, located in Laredo, TX. The United States is facing a critical nursing shortage in the coming years, and this small but significant program is essential to our efforts to recruit more nurses to the United States. I believe this legislation strikes a balance between the critical need for nurses in certain shortage areas while protecting the wages and working conditions of U.S. citizen nurses.

I urge my colleagues to support this bill.

TESTIMONY OF MALLORY FACTOR

Mr. SHELBY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following testimony given by Mr. Mallory Factor before the Senate Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs on September 29, 2004, and before the Senate Committee on Governmental Affairs on June 15, 2004, be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

WRITTEN TESTIMONY OF MALLORY FACTOR BEFORE THE COMMITTEE ON BANKING, HOUSING, AND URBAN AFFAIRS, UNITED STATES SENATE, SEPTEMBER 29, 2004

Chairman Shelby, Senator Sarbanes, and Distinguished Members of this Committee, thank you for inviting me to testify today about my views on the critical issue of curbing terror financing.

Chairman Shelby, I would like to commend you in particular for your unwavering commitment to addressing the financing of terror. The work that this Committee is undertaking is extremely important to the United States and the world. Thank you for your leadership.

My testimony will focus on terror financing emanating from within the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. Clearly, there are numerous other states that allow terror financing to continue and that should be examined also. I have chosen to focus on Saudi Arabia because of the enormous resources that are funneled from within Saudi Arabia to terrorist groups around the world.

My recommendations are contained in a report of an Independent Task Force on Terrorist Financing, sponsored by the Council on Foreign Relations, on which I served as Vice-Chair. Since the report, along with its various appendices, is almost 300 pages in length, I will only be able to highlight core points and ask that the full report and its appendices be placed into the record.

I would like to thank the Task Force Chairman, Maurice R. Greenberg, who has been a leader in bringing this issue to the nation's attention. I would also like to thank Council President Richard Haass for his commitment to this topic and to the Task Force's mission. I am testifying in my personal capacity, as is customary, and not on behalf of the Task Force or the Council on Foreign Relations.

Among the core findings of the first Terrorist Financing Task Force report, released in October 2002, was that "For years, individuals and charities based in Saudi Arabia have been the most important source of funds for al-Qaeda; and for years, Saudi officials have turned a blind eye to this problem."

It should be noted that the Task Force found no evidence that the Saudi government—as an institution—participated in the financing of terror directly. However, the Saudi government has clearly allowed individual and institutional financiers of terror to operate and prosper within Saudi borders.

The Bush administration has accomplished a great deal since 9/11. Some of the Administration's achievements in this area have been integrating terrorist financing into the U.S. government's overall counterterrorism effort, securing unprecedented international support for UN sanctions against al-Qaeda, strengthening international standards for financial supervision through the Financial Action Task Force (FATF), issuing significant and meaningful regulations under the Patriot Act and implementing a wide-ranging strategy to engage Saudi Arabia on the subject of financial and ideological support of extremists. Still, there is much work to be done.

I would like to set forth the following framework of constructive, forward looking recommendations for improving U.S. efforts against terrorism financing.

First, U.S. policymakers must build a new framework for U.S.-Saudi relations. The terror financing issue is situated in the complex and important bilateral relationship between the United States and Saudi Arabia. For decades, U.S.-Saudi Arabia relations have been built upon a consistent framework understood by both sides: Saudi Arabia would be a constructive actor with regard to the world's oil markets and regional security issues, and the United States would help provide for the defense of Saudi Arabia, work to address the Israeli-Palestinian conflict, and not raise any significant questions about Saudi Arabian domestic issues, either publicly or privately.

More recently however, this framework has come under strain because al-Qaeda, a terrorist organization rooted in issues central to Saudi Arabian domestic affairs, has murdered thousands of Americans. Al-Qaeda and similar organizations continue to conspire to kill even more Americans and to threaten our way of life.

Changed circumstances require a new policy framework for U.S.-Saudi relations. When domestic Saudi issues threaten Americans at home and abroad, the U.S. must pay attention to those Saudi "domestic" issues that impact U.S. security such as terrorist financing and the global export of Islamic extremism. These issues can no longer be "off the table"; they must be front and center in our bilateral relationship.

This transition is already well underway, as evidenced by turbulence in the bilateral relationship since 9/11. Some Bush administration officials have privately characterized the current state of affairs in Saudi Arabia as a "civil war" and suggested that the appropriate objective for U.S. policy in this context is to help the current regime prevail. I agree, but believe the domestic Saudi problem will not be solved by dispersing al-Qaeda cells and members in Saudi Arabia alone. Rather, the "civil war" will be won only when the regime confronts directly and unequivocally addresses the ideological, religious, social, and cultural realities that fuel al-Qaeda, its imitators, and its financiers all over the world.

Second, Saudi Arabia must fully implement its new laws and regulations and take additional steps to further improve its efforts to combat terrorist financing. In addition to implementing its recently enacted laws and regulations in this area, Saudi Arabia should also deter the financing of terrorism by publicly punishing those Saudi individuals and organizations that have funded terrorist organizations. Although a recent report by FATF noted several prosecutions in Saudi Arabia under the terror financing laws, arrests and punitive steps against financiers of terror have only taken place in the "shadows". I am not aware of any publicly announced arrests, trials or incarcerations in Saudi Arabia relating to the financing of terrorism. Saudi Arabia must also increase the financial transparency and programmatic verification of its global charities and publicly release audit reports of those charities. Saudi Arabia should ratify and implement treaties that create binding international legal obligations relating to combating money laundering and terrorist financing.

Third, multilateral initiatives need to be better coordinated, appropriately funded, and invested with clear punitive authorities. The need for a new international organization specializing in terrorist financing issues, as recommended by the Task Force's initial report, has diminished as a result of significant efforts being undertaken by a variety of international actors. The need for proper coordination and clearer mandates has increased for the same reason. It is now time to minimize duplicative efforts and reallocate resources to the most effective and appropriate lead organization.

Fourth, the executive branch should formalize its efforts to centralize the coordination of U.S. measures to combat terrorist financing. My understanding is that, in practice, responsibilities for the coordination of terrorist financing issues have shifted from the Treasury Department to the White House. I commend the Bush Administration for this action. However, setting up a formal allocation of responsibilities is crucial to maintain continuity and focus as the specific individuals involved in these efforts turn over. Therefore, allocation of responsibility to the White House needs to be formalized through a National Security Presidential Directive (NSPD) or otherwise.

Fifth, Congress should enact a Treasury-led certification regime specifically on terrorist financing. Many governments are working on shutting down terror financing from within their borders, but many are not.

Congress should adopt a certification regime under which the Treasury Department provides a written certification on an annual basis (classified if necessary) detailing the steps that foreign nations have taken to cooperate in U.S. and international efforts to combat terror financing. In the absence of a presidential national security waiver, jurisdictions that do not receive this certification would be subject to sanctions provided by section 311 of the Patriot Act—including denial of U.S. foreign assistance monies and limitations on access to the U.S. financial system.

The Administration has used the powers granted to it by section 311 of the Patriot Act but only once in the terror financing context. Section 311 allows Treasury to require domestic financial institutions and agencies to take "special measures" against certain parties, including both institutions and jurisdictions, believed by the Treasury to be engaged in money laundering/terror financing. These special measures can include placing prohibitions or conditions on "correspondent" or "payable through" accounts involving the parties engaged in the money laundering/terror financing.

Of course, foreign financial institutions and jurisdictions that do not have significant financial relations with the United States would not be meaningfully impacted by Section 311 sanctions imposed by the United States. However, a similar sanction imposed in the money laundering context resulted in the targeted jurisdiction promulgating desired legislative and regulatory changes.

A certification regime for terror financing would ensure that these special measures are used appropriately and thoughtfully against "rogue" jurisdictions. A separate certification regime for terror financing—distinct from any other reporting requirements on the promulgation of terror itself or money laundering—ensures that stringent requirements are maintained specifically with respect to each jurisdiction's practices on terror financing without consideration of other issues.

I commend Congresswoman Sue Kelly and others who have introduced legislation in the House, as H.R. 5124, that would require a terror financing certification regime.

Sixth, the UN Security Council should broaden the scope of the UN's al-Qaeda and Taliban Sanctions Committee. The UN Security Council should specifically impose international sanctions on other groups and individuals that have been designated as terrorists, as Hamas has been by the United States and E.U. I understand that these UN committees continue to discuss various actions but have not taken any affirmative action as yet. Furthermore, the UN should require, as a matter of international law, that member states take enforcement action against groups, persons and entities designated by the Sanctions Committee. The enabling resolution for these expanded authorities should explicitly reject the notion that acts of terror may be legitimized by the charitable activities or political motivations of the perpetrator. The UN should make it clear that no cause, however legitimate, justifies the use of terror.

Seventh, the U.S. government should increase sharing of information with the financial services sector as permitted by Section 314(a) of the PATRIOT Act so that this sector can cooperate more effectively with the U.S. government in identifying financiers of terror. Helping private sector financial institutions become effective partners in identifying financiers of terror should be a top priority. The procedures set forth in Section 314(a) of the PATRIOT Act, which promote information sharing between the U.S. government and financial institutions to increase detection of terror financing, are not working as well as they should. The U.S. government is still not providing financial institutions with adequate information to enable the institutions to detect terror financing and identify unknown perpetrators. The government is still using financial institutions primarily to assist in investigating known or suspected terror financiers, not in identifying unknown ones. In addition, our government does not currently have the appropriate resources to process and make full use of information that is flowing to it from financial institutions.

I recognize that the information that would enable financial institutions to become effective partners with the U.S. government in identifying terror financing may be highly protected intelligence information. In other industries such as defense and transportation, however, persons can be designated by the U.S. government to receive access to certain high value information as necessary. A similar approach could be used to facilitate information sharing and cooperation between the U.S. government and private financial institutions.

Eighth, the National Security Council (NSC) and the White House Office of Management and Budget (OMB) should conduct a cross-cutting analysis of the budgets of all U.S. government agencies as they relate to terrorist financing. Monitoring the financial and human resources that are actually devoted to the various tasks involved in combating terrorist financing will facilitate fully informed, strategic decisions about whether resource allocations are optimal or functions are duplicative. For this reason, the NSC and OMB should conduct a cross-cutting analysis of all agencies' budgets in this area, to gain clarity about who is doing what, how well, and with what resources. With such a cross-cut in hand, the Administration and Congress can begin to assess the efficiency of existing efforts and the adequacy of appropriations relative to the threat.

Ninth, the U.S. government and private foundations, universities, and think tanks should increase efforts to understand the strategic threat posed to the United States by radical Islamic militancy, including specifically the methods and modalities of its financing and global propagation. At the dawn of the Cold War, the U.S. government and U.S. nongovernmental organizations committed substantial public and philanthropic resources to endow Soviet studies programs across the United States. The purpose of these efforts was to increase the level of understanding in this country of the profound strategic threat posed to the United States by Soviet Communism. A similar undertaking is now needed to understand adequately the threat posed to the United States by radical Islamic militancy, along with its causes, which we believe constitutes the greatest strategic threat to the United States at the dawn of this new century. To be commensurate with the threat, much more will need to be done by private U.S. foundations, universities, and think tanks in a sustained, deliberate, and well-financed manner.

I look forward to your questions.

STATEMENT OF MALLORY FACTOR, SENATE COMMITTEE ON GOVERNMENTAL AFFAIRS, "AN ASSESSMENT OF CURRENT EFFORTS TO COMBAT TERRORISM FINANCING," JUNE 15, 2004

Madame Chairman, Senator Lieberman and Distinguished Members of the Committee:

I am honored to testify here today to report to you on the recommendations of the Independent Task Force of the Council on Foreign Relations on Terrorist Financing, of which I have served as Vice-Chair.

Madame Chairman and Senator Lieberman, I would like to commend you for your unwavering commitment to these issues. The work this Committee is undertaking is of critical importance to the United States and the world. Thank you for your important leadership.

Until relatively recently, too little was done to curb the flow of funds to terrorists and extremists. That is why the Council on Foreign Relations sponsored this Task Force in 2002 and renewed its mandate more recently. I would like to thank Council President Richard Haass for all that he has done to make this Task Force a success.

Our distinguished bi-partisan Task Force is chaired by Maurice R. Greenberg and directed by William F. Wechsler and Lee S. Wolosky. They led this Task Force in the interest of serving our nation. I believe they have succeeded.

I would particularly like to commend Lee Wolosky, without whose leadership, judgment, diplomacy, draftsmanship and dedicated efforts this task force would not have been a success. Lee worked tirelessly to reach consensus among task force members on the report and its recommendations.

The Bush administration has accomplished a great deal since 9/11. Some of the administration's achievements in this area have been integrating terrorist financing into the U.S. government's overall counterterrorism effort, securing unprecedented international support for UN sanctions against al-Qaeda, strengthening international standards for financial supervision through FATF, issuing significant and meaningful regulations under the PATRIOT Act and implementing a wide-ranging strategy to engage Saudi Arabia on the subject of financial and ideological support of extremists. Still, there is much work to be done and I believe that the Task Force report sets forth a framework of constructive, forward looking recommendations for improving U.S. efforts against terrorism financing.

Our report focuses on terror financing from within the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia because of the enormous resources emanating from that state that fund terrorist activities. Clearly, there are numerous other states that finance terror and that should be examined also.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia has accomplished a great deal since May 2003. Most notably, Saudi Arabia has enacted extensive laws and regulations which, if fully implemented, would significantly reduce the flow of funds from within Saudi Arabia to terrorists. However, we have not found Saudi Arabia to be effectively enforcing these laws and regulations as Lee Wolosky has discussed. Many issues still need to be addressed before Saudi Arabia will have an acceptable regime in place to combat terror financing.

Our task force report generally reaffirms the recommendations made in the Task Force's first report and makes nine new recommendations. I will discuss them in varying levels of detail and would welcome the opportunity to discuss any of them in greater length in response to your questions.

First, we urge U.S. policymakers to build a new framework for U.S.-Saudi relations. We recognize the broader context of the complex and important bilateral relationship in which the terrorist financing issue is situated. For decades, U.S.-Saudi Arabia relations have been built upon a consistent framework understood by both sides: Saudi Arabia would be a constructive actor with regard to the world's oil markets and regional security issues, and the United States would help provide for the defense of Saudi Arabia, work to address the Israeli-Palestinian conflict, and not raise any significant questions about Saudi Arabian domestic issues, either publicly or privately.

More recently however, this framework has come under strain because al-Qaeda, a terrorist organization rooted in issues central to Saudi Arabian domestic affairs, has murdered thousands of Americans. Al-Qaeda and similar organizations continue to conspire to kill even more Americans and to threaten our way of life.

Changed circumstances require a new policy framework for U.S.-Saudi relations. When domestic Saudi problems threaten Americans at home and abroad, the U.S. must pay attention to those Saudi "domestic" issues that impact U.S. security such as terrorist financing and the global export of Islamic extremism. These issues can no longer be "off the table"; they must be front and center in our bilateral relationship.

We acknowledge that this transition is already well underway, as evidenced by the turbulence in the bilateral relationship since 9/11. We note that some Bush administration officials have privately characterized the current state of affairs in Saudi Arabia as a "civil war" and suggested that the appropriate objective for U.S. policy in this context is to help the current regime prevail. We agree, but we believe the domestic Saudi problem will not be solved by dispersing al-Qaeda cells and members in Saudi Arabia alone. Rather, the "civil war" will be won only when the regime confronts directly and unequivocally addresses the ideological, religious, social, and cultural realities that fuel al-Qaeda, its imitators, and its financiers all over the world.

Second, we recommend that Saudi Arabia fully implement its new laws and regulations and take additional steps to further improve its efforts to combat terrorist financing. In addition to implementing its recently enacted laws and regulations in this area, Saudi Arabia should also deter the financing of terrorism by publicly punishing those Saudi individuals and organizations that have funded terrorist organizations. It should increase the financial transparency and programmatic verification of its global charities and publicly release audit reports of those charities. Saudi Arabia should also ratify and implement treaties that create binding international legal obligations relating to combating money laundering and terrorist financing.

Third, we suggest that multilateral initiatives be better coordinated, appropriately funded, and invested with clear punitive authorities. The need for a new international organization specializing in terrorist financing issues, as recommended by our initial report, has diminished as a result of significant efforts being undertaken by a variety of international actors. The need for proper coordination and clearer mandates has increased for the same reason. It is now time to minimize duplicative efforts and reallocate resources to the most effective and appropriate lead organization.

Fourth, we believe that the executive branch should formalize its efforts to centralize the coordination of U.S. measures to combat terrorist financing. Our understanding is that, in practice, responsibilities for the coordination of terrorist financing issues have shifted from the Treasury Department to the White House, as we recommended in our original Task Force report. I commend the Bush Administration for this action. However, we believe that this allocation of responsibility to the White House needs to be formalized through a National Security Presidential Directive (NSPD) or otherwise.

Fifth, we recommend that Congress enact a Treasury-led certification regime specifically on terrorist financing. The financial support for terrorism is the life-blood of global terrorism and requires its own certification regime. A separate certification process will ensure that stringent requirements are maintained specifically with respect to a nation's policies and practices on terrorist financing without consideration of other issues.

I believe that the Saudi Arabia Accountability Act of 2003, S. 1888, sponsored by Senator Arlen Specter and co-sponsored by Chairman Collins and others would provide a good starting point for a terrorist financing certification regime if it were narrowed to focus solely on the financing of terrorism and expanded to apply to other nations.

We understand that certification regimes are generally disfavored by the executive branch (which must implement them) and favored by the legislative branch (which they empower). Although controversial, they also have the ability to galvanize quickly action consistent with U.S. interests. Moreover, they require official findings of fact that have the effect of promoting transparency and compelling sustained U.S. attention to important topics that, on occasion, U.S. officials find it more expedient to avoid.

For these reasons, we believe that Congress should pass and the President should sign legislation requiring the executive branch to submit to Congress on an annual basis a written certification (classified if necessary) detailing the steps that foreign nations have taken to cooperate in U.S. and international efforts to combat terrorist financing. We suggest that in the absence of a presidential national security waiver, states that do not receive this certification would be subject to sanctions—including denial of U.S. foreign assistance monies and limitations on access to the U.S. financial system.

Sixth, we urge the U.N. Security Council to broaden the scope of the U.N.'s al-Qaeda and Taliban Sanctions Committee. The UN Security Council should specifically impose international sanctions on other groups and individuals that have been designated as terrorists, as Hamas has been by the United States and E.U. Furthermore, it should require, as a matter of international law, that member states take enforcement action against groups, persons and entities designated by the Sanctions Committee. The enabling resolution for these expanded authorities should explicitly reject the notion that acts of terror may be legitimized by the charitable activities or political motivations of the perpetrator. No cause, however legitimate, justifies the use of terror; indeed, the use of terror delegitimizes even the most worthy causes.

Seventh, we suggest that the U.S. government increase sharing of information with the financial services sector as permitted by Section 314 of the USA PATRIOT ACT so that this sector can cooperate more effectively with the U.S. government in identifying incidences of terror financing. International financial institutions subject to U.S. jurisdiction are among our best sources of raw financial intelligence to identify terror financing, but these institutions need to be given appropriate information from the U.S. government on what to look for. Currently, the procedures required by Section 314 of the Patriot Act which are designed to promote cooperation with financial institutions in identifying terror financing are not working as effectively as they might. We suggest greater information sharing between the U.S. government and the financial institutions within the framework of the Patriot Act in order to allow these institutions to cooperate more effectively with the U.S. government in identifying incidences of terror financing.

Eighth, we recommend that the National Security Council (NSC) and the White House Office of Management and Budget (OMB) conduct a cross-cutting analysis of the budgets of all U.S. government agencies as they relate to terrorist financing. We understand this recommendation is difficult to implement; however, we think that monitoring the financial and human resources that are actually devoted to the various tasks involved in combating terrorist financing will facilitate fully informed, strategic decisions about whether resource allocations are optimal or functions are duplicative. For this reason, the NSC and OMB should conduct a cross-cutting analysis of all agencies' budgets in this area, to gain clarity about who is doing what, how well, and with what resources. Only with such a cross-cut in hand can we begin to make assessments regarding the efficiency of our existing efforts and the adequacy of appropriations relative to the threat. We commend Jody Myers, the former NSC staffer, for suggesting a similar cross-cutting analysis in his Senate testimony given last month.

Ninth, we urge the U.S. government and private foundations, universities, and think tanks to increase efforts to understand the strategic threat posed to the United States by radical Islamic militancy, including specifically the methods and modalities of its financing and global propagation. At the dawn of the Cold War, the U.S. government and U.S. nongovernmental organizations committed substantial public and philanthropic resources to endow Soviet studies programs across the United States. The purpose of these efforts was to increase the level of understanding in this country of the profound strategic threat posed to the United States by Soviet Communism. A similar undertaking is now needed to understand adequately the threat posed to the United States by radical Islamic militancy, along with its causes, which we believe constitutes the greatest strategic threat to the United States at the dawn of this new century. To be commensurate with the threat, much more will need to be done, not only in Washington, but also by private U.S. foundations, universities, and think tanks, in a more sustained, deliberate, and well-financed manner than that afforded through ad hoc initiatives such as our Task Force.

I look forward to your questions.

10TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE USS CHEYENNE

Mr. ENZI. Mr. President, I rise today to honor SSN 773, the USS Cheyenne, for her 10 years of service in the U.S. Navy in defense of our freedom.

On July 6, 1992, the keel was laid for the USS Cheyenne in Newport News, VA. She was launched on April 16, 1995. On September 13, 1996, Mrs. Ann Simpson sponsored the USS Cheyenne. I am pleased to now occupy the seat of Ann's husband, Senator ALAN SIMPSON, in the U.S. Senate.

Since September 11, 2001, the USS Cheyenne has been engaged in important missions as part of the global war on terrorism. The USS Cheyenne earned the distinction of the first to strike when she was the first ship to launch Tomahawk missiles in Operation Iraqi Freedom under the command of CDR Charles Doty. She would go on to successfully launch her entire complement of Tomahawks, earning a clean sweep for combat actions in the final 3 months of her 9 month deployment. That level of excellence continues today from her homeport in Pearl Harbor, HI.

The USS Cheyenne is the last Los Angeles class submarine built and the third ship in our Nation's fleet named in honor of the city home to Wyoming's State capital. The first USS Cheyenne, a tug boat, entered service in 1898. The second USS Cheyenne, BM 10, was originally the monitor class USS Wyoming. In 1909 it was renamed USS Cheyenne to make the name available for the battleship BB 32, the new USS Wyoming. Fiction writer Tom Clancy further cemented the legend of the USS Cheyenne when he made the submarine a central player in a battle for the Spratly Islands in his novel "SSN."

Cheyenne, Wyoming's motto is "Live the Legend." The 145 submariners who are aboard the USS Cheyenne have adopted the motto "Ride the Legend." The city of Cheyenne has formed a special bond with the crew of her namesake. Each year the outstanding sailors of the USS Cheyenne are the guests of the city of Cheyenne for Cheyenne Frontier Days, the world's largest outdoor rodeo, and the daddy of them all. Many of the sailors have never been out West or been to a rodeo. For a week, the submariners enjoy Wyoming hospitality and have a chance to live the legend. It is a small chance for Wyoming and the people of Cheyenne to repay a debt of gratitude to the crew of the USS Cheyenne.

CDR Richard Testyon, Jr., assumed command of the USS Cheyenne on June 4, 2006. I wish him well in his new command and thank CDR Charles Doty for his time at the helm. Commander Testyon brings extensive experience to the USS Cheyenne and will lead SSN 773 well.

The best skippers are complemented by outstanding crew; I would like to honor the crew of the USS Cheyenne. BALANCED TRADE RESTORATION ACT

Mr. FEINGOLD. Mr. President, I am delighted that the Senator from North Dakota and I have introduced this bill to address one of the most serious economic problems facing our Nation; namely, the trade deficit. There is no greater advocate for sensible trade policies than Senator DORGAN, and I am proud to join him in this effort.

The measure we have introduced is based on a proposal advocated by one of the foremost free market advocates in the world, Warren Buffett. It is a straightforward and market-based approach to our massive trade deficit, and I commend Mr. Buffett for his willingness to step forward with this idea.

In a seminal article in Fortune magazine, Mr. Buffett made the case for taking action on this problem and laid out the basics of the approach that Senator DORGAN and I take in this bill. In that article, Mr. Buffett argued that our trade deficit is, in effect, a transfer of our Nation's net worth. He describes our situation by using the imaginary example of two islands, Squanderville and Thriftville. Here is some of what he wrote:

A perpetuation of this transfer will lead to major trouble. To understand why, take a wildly fanciful trip with me to two isolated, side-by-side islands of equal size, Squanderville and Thriftville. Land is the only capital asset on these islands, and their communities are primitive, needing only food and producing only food. Working eight hours a day, in fact, each inhabitant can produce enough food to sustain himself or herself. And for a long time that's how things go along. On each island everybody works the prescribed eight hours a day, which means that each society is self-sufficient.

Eventually, though, the industrious citizens of Thriftville decide to do some serious saving and investing, and they start to work 16 hours a day. In this mode they continue to live off the food they produce in eight hours of work but begin exporting an equal amount to their one and only trading outlet, Squanderville.

The citizens of Squanderville are ecstatic about this turn of events, since they can now live their lives free from toil but eat as well as ever. Oh, yes, there's a quid pro quo—but to the Squanders, it seems harmless: All that the Thrifts want in exchange for their food is Squanderbonds (which are denominated, naturally, in Squanderbucks).

Over time Thriftville accumulates an enormous amount of these bonds, which at their core represent claim checks on the future output of Squanderville. A few pundits in Squanderville smell trouble coming. They foresee that for the Squanders both to eat and to pay off—or simply service—the debt they're piling up will eventually require them to work more than eight hours a day. But the residents of Squanderville are in no mood to listen to such doomsaying.

Meanwhile, the citizens of Thriftville begin to get nervous. Just how good, they ask, are the IOUs of a shiftless island? So the Thrifts change strategy: Though they continue to hold some bonds, they sell most of them to Squanderville residents for Squanderbucks and use the proceeds to buy Squanderville land. And eventually the Thrifts own all of Squanderville.

At that point, the Squanders are forced to deal with an ugly equation: They must now not only return to working eight hours a day in order to eat—they have nothing left to trade—but must also work additional hours to service their debt and pay Thriftville rent on the land so imprudently sold. In effect, Squanderville has been colonized by purchase rather than conquest.

Mr. Buffett paints a grim picture for the future of our economy in his article. At the time he wrote those words, our trade deficit was about $500 billion. Last year, the trade deficit was about 60 percent higher.

There are many factors contributing to our trade deficit, but there can be no doubt that the deeply flawed trade policies of the past decade and more have contributed greatly to the mess in which we find ourselves.

The trade agreements into which we have entered, based on the model established by the North American Free Trade Agreement, known as NAFTA, have helped ship much of our wealth overseas, often in the form of factories that provided entire communities with good-paying, family-supporting jobs.

I hold listening sessions in each of Wisconsin's 72 counties every year. This is my 14th year holding those listening sessions, listening to tens of thousands of people from all over Wisconsin. I completed my 1000th of those sessions just a few weeks ago, and I can tell you that there is nearly universal frustration and anger with the trade policies we have pursued since the late 1980s. Even among those who would have called themselves traditional free-traders, it is increasingly obvious that the so-called NAFTA model of trade has been a tragic failure.

I voted against NAFTA, GATT, and permanent most favored nation status for China, in great part because I felt they were bad deals for Wisconsin businesses and Wisconsin workers. At the time I voted against those agreements, I thought they would result in lost jobs for my State.

But, Mr. President, even as an opponent of those trade agreements, I had no idea just how bad things would be.

And things could hardly be worse. You can see the results of those policies in hundreds of communities around my State.

And I note that these trade policies are not the result of partisan politics. I wish they were. I wish I could lay the blame at the feet of our colleagues in the other party. But Members of both parties have aided and abetted these flawed policies. Presidents of both parties have advanced them, and Members of Congress from both sides of the aisle have approved them.

This legislation is not a substitute for a sound trade policy. It is not intended to be. Even if we enact this measure, we will still need to straighten out the flawed trade policies of the past several administrations. But there is a clear relationship between the flawed trade agreements into which we have entered and the mushrooming trade deficit.

In 1993, before NAFTA was implemented, our trade deficit with Canada and Mexico was $9 billion. In 2004, 10 years after NAFTA was implemented, our trade deficit with those two countries has ballooned 1,200 percent—1,200 percent—to $111 billion. By one estimate, the massive growth of imports into this country from Canada and Mexico relative to exports to those two countries has displaced almost 1 million jobs.

Giving China permanent most favored nation trading status and ratifying the creation of the World Trade Organization have only made matters worse.

Far from improving our trade balance, NAFTA and these other trade agreements have only made matters worse.

When questions were raised about the actual provisions of these flawed agreements, supporters were quick to play the free trade card and label those who questioned these policies as “protectionist.” It is somewhat encouraging that some who blindly accepted these agreements are now beginning to read the fine print.

One might think it obvious, but apparently it needs to be reiterated—these aren't your father's trade agreements, and the elegant theories of Adam Smith and others do not apply to the agreements we are asked to approve. As Thea Lee wrote in a column in the Wall Street Journal:

We should all understand by now that modern (post-NAFTA) free-trade agreements are not just about lowering tariffs. They are about changing the conditions attached to trade liberalization, in ways that benefit some players and hurt others. These are not your textbook free-trade deals. These are finely orchestrated special-interest deals that boost the profits and power of multinational corporations, leaving workers, family farmers, many small businesses, and the environment more vulnerable than ever.

Millions of working families across Wisconsin know this. If instead of exporting manufacturing goods, China exported editorial writers, the opinion pages of our newspapers might reflect an understanding of this as well.

The argument we hear is that trade deals like NAFTA and CAFTA may cause some short-term pain, but they are ultimately good for all countries concerned. Maybe we lose a few jobs to Mexico or China, the argument goes, but we would also gain jobs. Each country would engage in the economic activity for which it has a so-called comparative advantage and everyone wins.

But as I noted during the CAFTA debate, this nice, neat academic theory bears little relation to what is actually happening in the real world. And one of the reasons for this disconnect is that in an arena that has been fundamentally changed by technical advances, such as the Internet and the rapid flow of capital, we are not playing by the same rules as our trading partners.

The trade agreements into which our country has entered in recent years too often lack even the most reasonable standards to ensure that our businesses and workers can compete on a level playing field. This was certainly the case with CAFTA, which failed to include meaningful labor standards. The weak standards it did include were effectively unenforceable. Similarly, the environmental provisions it included were largely cosmetic. And the promised positive impact claimed for U.S. agriculture is far more likely to benefit middlemen and large agribusiness, while putting smaller family farms at a long-term competitive disadvantage as they continue to keep both the water and air clean while paying their employees a living wage.

As I said, we have to stop entering into trade agreements that are so fundamentally skewed and that result in a race to the bottom. I was pleased to introduce a resolution laying out standards for the kind of trade policies we should pursue. The principles set forth in my resolution are not complex. They are straightforward and achievable. They require enforceable worker protections in our trade agreements, including the core International Labor Organization standards. They insist that trade agreements preserve the ability of the United States to enact and enforce its own trade laws. They provide that trade agreements may protect foreign investors but state that foreign investors should not be provided with greater rights than those provided under U.S. law.

The standards in my resolution also require that trade agreements protect public interest laws from challenge by foreign investors in secret tribunals. They require that the agreements into which we enter ensure that food entering into our country meets domestic food safety standards. They mandate that trade agreements preserve the ability of Federal, State, and local governments to maintain essential public services and to regulate private sector services in the public interest. They require that trade agreements contain environmental provisions that are subject to the same enforcement as commercial provisions.

My resolution requires trade agreements to preserve the right of Federal, State, and local governments to use procurement as a policy tool, including through Buy American laws, environmental laws such as recycled content, and purchasing preferences for small, minority, or women-owned businesses. And it requires that trade negotiations and the implementation of trade agreements be conducted openly.

These are sensible policies. They are entirely consistent with the goal of increased international commerce, and in fact they advance that goal.

We should pursue trade agreements that are built around these principles, but I fully understand that such a change in our trade policies is unlikely to occur overnight.

The bill Senator DORGAN and I are introducing today focuses on reducing the trade deficit, and while it is not a substitute for soundly crafted trade agreements, it can stem some of the damage done by the trade policies of the past several years.

This proposal is straightforward. It requires that the total value of what we import not exceed the total value of what we export, and rather than trying to pick winners and losers, as some of our trade agreements do, it lets the market decide which product areas will thrive in global competition and which will not.

This is done through the use of Balanced Trade Certificates, BTCs. BTCs would be issued to U.S. exporters in an amount equal to the dollar value of their exports. Those BTCs would be sold, directly or indirectly, to foreign exporters who wanted to bring goods into the United States. Foreign exporters would have to have BTCs in an amount equal to the dollar value of the goods they want to bring into the United States. To import $1 million worth of products, a foreign exporter would have to have $1 million worth of BTCs, representing $1 million worth of U.S. exports.

By limiting the total value of all BTCs to the total value of all products we export, the bill would result in a balance of trade.

Unlike an industry-specific tariff or quota, the BTCs proposed in this bill will not shield any particular industry or penalize any specific country. While there would clearly be a net benefit to American industries competing in the global market, that marketplace ultimately would determine which industries and businesses succeed and which do not.

This new balanced trade system is phased in over 5 years to minimize any economic shocks, with a longer phase-in period of 10 years for oil and gas. While our addiction to oil is not the focus of this bill, that addiction continues to have an impact on our balance of trade. The additional time provided in the bill for oil and gas imports will give Congress an opportunity to advance a serious energy policy, one that moves us away from our addiction to oil, an addiction that only aggravates our dangerous trade imbalance.

As Mr. Buffet warns in making this proposal, "there is no free lunch here." These balanced trade certificates will increase the price of imported goods. Some domestically produced goods might also increase in price. But the alternative, continuing down the path we are now on, will mean that we will increasingly transfer our net worth overseas, and with it our economic future.

Nor are we the only ones put at risk by our trade deficit. A recent story in the New York Times headlined "U.S. Trade Deficit Is Called a Threat to Global Growth" reported the concerns of the Managing Director of the International Monetary Fund, Rodrigo de Rato, and others, over our trade deficit with China and other countries. The story reports on the threat our trade deficit poses to global economic growth and notes that the warnings about our trade deficit by Mr. de Rato and other financial experts will be addressed later this month "at the annual meeting of the directors of the I.M.F. and the World Bank this month in Singapore."

Some of the foremost experts in the world of international finance are concerned about our mushrooming trade deficit. It is time that we did something about it.

In the article describing the proposal on which this legislation is based, Mr. Buffett compares our country to a very rich family that owns an immense farm. He writes: "In order to consume 4 percent more than we produce, we have, day by day, been both selling pieces of the farm and increasing the mortgage on what we still own."

Mr. President, if we don't do something to straighten out our trade policies and turn our trade deficit around, before we know it, we won't have any more of the farm to sell off. We will have sold off all of it.

I urge my colleagues to join Senator DORGAN and me in sponsoring this legislation.

BROWNS CANYON WILDERNESS ACT

Mr. SALAZAR. Mr. President, I today reiterate my support for the permanent protection of one of our Nation's most spectacular sections of canyon country. Browns Canyon, CO, along the Arkansas River, is a beloved stretch of wilderness that is deserving of permanent protection under the 1964 Wilderness Act.

The 20,000 acres of wilderness in Browns Canyon are pristine, dramatic, and worthy of wilderness designation. My colleague from Colorado, Representative JOEL HEFLEY, has done heroic work over the last several years to craft a wilderness bill that protects these lands and meets the needs of the local communities. Thanks to his diligent work, they are eager to see Congress pass the Browns Canyon Wilderness Act as soon as possible.

Over the last several months, I have been working hard to pass this bill. I have worked with Representative HEFLEY to adjust the bill's water rights language and, should we take the Senate version of this bill up, I will work to include language that will bring it in line with an updated House version, which includes the agreed-to water rights language.

With only a few days left in this session, it is high time we act on this bill. The Browns Canyon Wilderness Act is a great example of Representative HEFLEY's sensible, pragmatic work, and we should make this wilderness designation a part of his legacy.

Mr. President, for the sake of our retiring colleague and for the benefit of Colorado's wild places, I hope we can get this bill to the President's desk as soon as possible.

ADDITIONAL STATEMENTS

TRIBUTE TO WAYNE SAYER

Mr. BINGAMAN. Mr. President, today I pay tribute to Wayne Sayer, who died suddenly on November 3 of this year.

When I came to the Senate in 1983, Wayne was among the first people I met who was interested in and concerned about the loss of our semiconductor industry to Asia. He was one of the first to recognize the value of a close partnership between government policy and the U.S. high-tech industry. His advice and counsel to members and staff through these early debates until the day he died were invaluable. His contributions to American competitiveness cannot be overstated.

An Air Force veteran, he first worked for Precision Scientific, an instrumentation company. When Precision Scientific was acquired by GCA Corporation, he stayed with the new company and eventually opened GCA's Washington, DC office. At the time of his death, he was the senior government affairs consultant to Applied Materials.

He was a smart, hard-working man with a great sense of humor and style. Those of us who valued his counsel and enjoyed his company over the years will miss his voice of good sense, his skill with policy issues and mostly his friendship. This is a loss, Mr. President, not only to the industry but to the country.

IN MEMORY OF JUDGE JAMES DEANDA

• Mrs. BOXER. Mr. President, I am saddened to inform you of the passing of Judge James DeAnda. I would like to take a few moments to recognize Judge DeAnda's many important accomplishments and the tremendous impact he made in protecting civil liberties.

James DeAnda was born in Houston, TX, in 1925. The son of Mexican immigrants, DeAnda fought bravely as a marine for his country during World War II. Shortly after returning from war, at a time when only a small number of Latino students were enrolled in higher education, he returned to his studies and graduated from Texas A&M University and the University of Texas Law School. As an attorney, DeAnda fought for the rights of all Latinos through his work on cases dealing with segregation and threats to civil liberties. He also was a cofounder of the Mexican American Legal Defense Fund, a nationwide nonprofit Latino litigation, advocacy and educational outreach institution.

DeAnda became the second Mexican-American judge appointed to the Federal bench when he was confirmed in 1979. During his tenure, he served for 13 years with the U.S. District and Bankruptcy Court's Southern District of Texas including four as chief judge until his retirement in 1992. In more than a half century of service to the law, Judge DeAnda was involved with many cases. He is, however, best known for his efforts as the youngest member of a 4-person legal team that argued the Hernandez v. Texas case which was ultimately decided by the Supreme Court. The 1954 decision overturned the murder conviction of Pete Hernandez by an all-White jury and held that Latinos deserved the same constitutional protections as other minorities including the right to serve as jurors.

I invite all of my colleagues to join me and the many mourning members of the legal, Latino, and civil liberties communities in recognizing and honoring Judge James DeAnda for his long and distinguished service to our country. He is survived by his wife Joyce and 4 children.●

WILLIAM "JOE" HUDNALL: IN MEMORIAM

● Mrs. BOXER. Mr. President, I ask my colleagues to join me in honoring the memory of a dedicated law enforcement officer, Deputy William "Joe" Hudnall of the Kern County Sheriff's Department. For the past 9 years, Deputy Hudnall worked tirelessly to provide the citizens of Kern County with safety and service. On the evening of November 14, 2006, Deputy Hudnall's life was tragically cut short in the line of duty when a vehicle driven by a suspected drunk driver struck his patrol vehicle on Highway 178 near Kernville.

Deputy Hudnall graduated from the Kern County Sheriff's Department Academy and began his career at the pretrial section of Lerdo Jail. In nearly a decade of service to the department, he also worked at the Frazier Park substation and Metro Patrol before moving to the Kern Valley substation. Throughout his career, Deputy Hudnall demonstrated a passion for law enforcement and commitment to helping others, qualities that enabled him to become a respected and model member of the Kern County Sheriff's Department. Deputy Hudnall's colleagues shall always remember him for his professionalism and devotion to serving the public.

Deputy Hudnall is survived by his wife Carrie and four children. When he was not on duty or spending time with his beloved family, Deputy Hudnall was an avid fisherman who also enjoyed working in his yard. Deputy Hudnall served Kern County with honor and dignity, and fulfilled his oath as deputy sheriff officer. His contributions to law enforcement and the many lives that he touched will serve as a shining example of his legacy.

We shall always be grateful for Deputy Hudnall's service and the valor that he displayed while serving and protecting the people of Kern County.●

JEFFREY MITCHELL: IN MEMORIAM

● Mrs. BOXER. Mr. President, today I ask my colleagues to join me as I honor the memory of a dedicated public servant, Sacramento County sheriff's deputy Jeffrey Mitchell. For 9 years, Deputy Mitchell devoted his life to protecting the citizens of Sacramento County. On October 27, 2006, Deputy Mitchell was tragically killed in the line of duty.

Upon graduation from Westmont High School in 1986, Jeffrey Mitchell joined the U.S. Air Force and served as a security officer for 5 years. After leaving the Air Force, he earned a teaching credential at California State University, Sacramento, and taught as a substitute teacher at local schools. His talent, passion, and humor dealing with students, coupled with his dedication to education, made him a natural teacher in the classroom.

In 1997, Jeffrey Mitchell chose to continue his public service and joined the Sacramento County Sheriff's Department. He brought with him the same good-natured spirit that he exhibited in his previous professions to his new career in law enforcement. Jeffrey Mitchell served as the recreational technician at Rio Cosumnes Correctional Center in Elk Grove and was promoted to deputy in 2002.

Deputy Mitchell's family, friends, and colleagues all remember his infectious smile and kind heart. He is survived by his wife Crystal, son Jake, and sister Kim Gervasoni. Deputy Mitchell was a devoted family man who chose to work the overnight shift so he could pick his son up from school and prepare dinner for his wife when she arrived home from work. He shared his love of sports with Jake and coached his T-ball team.

Deputy Jeffrey Mitchell served the County of Sacramento with honor and distinction and fulfilled his oath as a deputy sheriff. His contributions and dedication to public safety are greatly appreciated and will serve as a shining legacy to his service.

We will always be grateful for Deputy Mitchell's exemplary service and the sacrifices he made.●

IN MEMORY OF ELIZABETH
TERWILLIGER

● Mrs. BOXER. Mr. President, it is with a heavy heart that I ask my colleagues to join me today in honoring the memory of an extraordinary Californian, Elizabeth Terwilliger.

To the Marin County community, Elizabeth Terwilliger was a renowned naturalist and educator, beloved by school children and adults, who leaves an amazing environmental legacy. She died on November 27, 2006, at the age of 97. She is survived by her daughter Lynn, her son John, and several grandchildren.

Elizabeth Cooper was born in Hawaii in 1909. She moved to the mainland to pursue a master's degree in nutrition from Columbia University in New York and then attended Stanford nursing school. While at Stanford, she met her husband, Dr. Calvin Terwilliger. After World War II, the couple settled in Mill Valley, CA, where they raised two children.

Elizabeth took her children on nature walks throughout Marin County. Soon, she was leading nature walks for local Girl Scout and Boy Scout troops. Her unique hands-on style and storytelling ability became known throughout the community, and soon she began leading field trips for area schools and environmental organizations. Leading such trips 5 days a week became her life's work.

For the 50 years that followed, every child growing up in Marin County knew Mrs. Terwilliger. She was a famous and beloved educator who traveled across the county in her familiar van filled with life-like animal models to teach school children about nature. Upon sight of her characteristic floppy straw hat, children would come running and follow her through the woods with excitement and adoration. They would soak up her stories and bring them home to teach their parents.

Those who knew Mrs. Terwilliger well recount her mesmerizing personality, her passion for nature and wildlife, and her openhearted way with children and adults alike.

In 1984, President Ronald Reagan honored Mrs. Terwilliger as an outstanding volunteer. While accepting the award at the White House, she shared one of her famous stories about "Mr. Vulture" and had President Reagan holding his arms over his head in the "V" position, representing a vulture in flight.

In addition to leading nature education programs, Mrs. Terwilliger was an advocate for environmental conservation and open space. She campaigned for a monarch butterfly preserve, bicycle paths, wetlands, and open space preservation. She received numerous awards and has two preserves named after her: Terwilliger Marsh in Mill Valley and Terwilliger Grove in Muir Woods.

She founded the Elizabeth Terwilliger Nature Education Center, which later became known as WildCare. Using educational programs developed by Mrs. Terwilliger, the center provides nature programs for over 40,000 Bay Area school children each year. The center also treats thousands of wildlife each year, rehabilitating them and returning them to their natural environment.

Mrs. Terwilliger often said, "While you're learning, you're living." Her life's passion was to teach people how to embrace and love nature. She was a local treasure and a wonderful, inspiring woman.

I knew Mrs. Terwilliger and respected and admired her greatly. She will be deeply missed.

For those of us who were fortunate to know her, we take comfort in knowing that school children will continue to learn from Mrs. Terwilliger's unique educational style at WildCare. Her vision, her passion, and her spirit will remain in the countless lives she touched.●

TRIBUTE TO THE RABBIT HASH
GENERAL STORE

● Mr. BUNNING. Mr. President, today I pay tribute to the Rabbit Hash General Store on its 175th anniversary. The Rabbit Hash General Store has continuously operated relatively unchanged in the town of Rabbit Hash, KY, since 1831.

For 175 years, the Rabbit Hash General Store has been a meeting place for the local community where citizens of Rabbit Hash have come together. The Rabbit Hash General Store has withstood ice jams and floods from the Ohio River. The establishment shows the true fortitude of the people who live in this great river town.

The Rabbit Hash General Store has been recognized as a landmark by the Commonwealth of Kentucky since the late 1970s. Nationally, the Rabbit Hash General Store was recognized by the Department of the Interior on the National Register of Historic Places, and the town of Rabbit Hash has been recently honored by First Lady Laura Bush as a Preserve America Community.

I ask my fellow colleagues to join me in congratulating the Rabbit Hash General Store on its 175th anniversary. The Rabbit Hash General Store is a true American treasure.●

TRIBUTE TO BRAYTON WILLIS

● Mr. CRAPO. Mr. President, in early 2007, the Army Corps of Engineers will see one of its finest employees retire after 28 years of exemplary service to individuals, communities, and agencies that the Corps serves.

Brayton Willis has lived in Idaho since 1999, serving as the project manager in the Walla Walla District's Boise office. He served in the U.S. Marine Corps and later graduated from Northwestern University with a degree in civil engineering. His career began in Massachusetts where he worked on one of the first environmental impact statements required under the Clean Air Act.

Brayton has worked for the Corps of Engineers in Arizona, Washington and South Carolina, in addition to his work in Idaho. Over the course of his career, he worked at two of the Nation's nuclear facilities providing environmental restoration support to the Department of Energy. He found time to use his expertise in a volunteer capacity as well, helping local communities in California and Puerto Rico assess damages after natural disasters. In Idaho, in particular, Brayton specialized in flood control and issues related to environmental improvement in urban and suburban flood-prone areas. He also worked with local communities to address the critical issues of water and wastewater management and actively sought to involve community stakeholders in flood control and environmental improvement. Brayton preferred to approach flooding and its implications in a preventive manner, before disaster happened. He worked under the firm belief that this method was the most effective and efficient use of taxpayer dollars.

Brayton's work reflects the complementary ideals of caring for communities and the environment. Increased population growth in the West means greater and more sensitive interface between the environment and people. If managed effectively and proactively, the result can be positive for the environment and hold far less risk of disaster for the residential population. Brayton understands this and implemented it in his almost three decades of employment in the Corps. I congratulate Brayton Willis on his retirement and wish him and his wife Debbie well in future endeavors.●

A FRIEND TO IDAHO FISH AND GAME

● Mr. CRAPO. Mr. President, on January 1, Idaho sportsmen and women and wildlife will lose a great agency friend in the Idaho Department of Fish and Game. Steve Huffaker, 22-year veteran of Fish and Game, and director since 2002, will be retiring after a full and successful career with this important agency.

Steve has been my great friend and supporter on many issues including wolves, elk, slick spot peppergrass, sage grouse, and cooperative conservation agreements with landowners. His enthusiasm for the Collaboration for the Recovery of the Endangered Species Act and the Owyhee Initiative has been instrumental as I seek the support of others on these important land management policy initiatives. Steve also provided expert advice and recommendations with regard to Federal implementation of these initiatives. He served as an invaluable resource for considerations of wildlife habitat in designations in several State and Federal conservation programs. Steve has been a staunch supporter of my Elk Collaborative; he has worked closely with my staff on these and many other issues over the years. He led the charge to delist grizzly bears, restored confidence and trust with agricultural interests, and remained determined to keep me informed of his activities, ideas, and beliefs. Steve's strengths include a positive demeanor and clear and tough but fair and reasonable stance when he was called upon to defend his position and decisions.

During his years at Fish and Game, Steve served as both Fisheries Bureau chief and Wildlife Bureau chief. He oversaw the agency during a time of constant and frequent change. State management of wolves, fee increases, access issues, conservation, and troubled agency relationships with sportspeople, farmers, and ranchers were some of the challenges that Steve met head-on, and today Idaho is better off with his years of leadership. Now, he will have the time to privately enjoy the fields, streams, and mountains of Idaho that he took such good care of over the years. The man who will be "taking his grandkids fishing" will be sorely missed, and his boots, hard to fill. I wish Steve health, success, and successful hunting and fishing, in his well-deserved retirement.●

MISSISSIPPI HEIGHTS ELEMENTARY SCHOOL, SAUK RAPIDS, MINNESOTA

● Mr. DAYTON. Mr. President, today I honor Mississippi Heights Elementary

School, in Sauk Rapids, MN, which will soon earn an Award for Excellence in Education for its exceptional and innovative achievements in educating children.

Mississippi Heights Elementary School is truly a model of educational success. The school begins each school day by welcoming all staff and pupils in the gym with a unique "Lift Off" program, which is led by the children and is designed to recognize birthdays, make announcements, and strengthen the school's strong sense of community. Another special characteristic of Lift Off is its buddy system, which matches each child in the primary classes with a buddy from the intermediate classes to act as a mentor. The buddies sit together at Lift Off and read to each other before the program begins.

Mississippi Heights is dedicated to a successful literacy initiative, whose goals are: implementation of a balanced literacy program that will include independent shared, guided reading, writing, and read-alouds throughout the day; students' demonstration of individual improvement in reading levels; reading and writing throughout the day which aims toward raising RIGBY and Guided Reading levels for each student; and daily reading aloud by teachers, with 5,000 read-aloud books as a building goal.

Teachers at Mississippi Heights have made reading and writing a top priority, and it shows in their enthusiasm and passion in the classroom. The students' reading and writing scores have improved: More than 30 percent of the students scored in the top level of the Minnesota Comprehensive Assessment in 2006, and the school earned four stars from the Minnesota Department of Education in reading this year.

Much of the credit for Mississippi Heights Elementary School's success belongs to its principal, Jean Clark, and the dedicated teachers. The children and staff at Mississippi Heights Elementary School understand that in order to be successful a school must go beyond achieving academic success; it must also provide a nurturing environment where children can develop the knowledge, skills, and attitudes for success throughout life. All of the faculty, staff, and pupils at Mississippi Heights Elementary School should be very proud of their accomplishments.

I congratulate Mississippi Heights Elementary School in Sauk Rapids for winning the Award for Excellence in Education and for its exceptional contributions to education in Minnesota.●

NEVIS PUBLIC SCHOOL, NEVIS, MINNESOTA

● Mr. DAYTON. Mr. President, today I honor Nevis Public School, in Nevis, MN, which will soon receive an Award for Excellence in Education for its exceptional and innovative achievements in educating children.

Nevis Public School is truly a model of educational success. It is a unique school that utilizes the strengths of the teachers, community, and rural setting, as well as educational opportunities in the Twin Cities and elsewhere to provide its students with an exemplary learning environment.

The school's rural setting and connection to the local community offer many exceptional learning benefits for the students. The school is adjacent to an 80-acre school forest, which is often the classroom for the forest management class, while local rivers serve as the classroom for the aquatic management class. Each Earth Day, students plant trees in the school forest and throughout the community. Fourth-graders attend an annual Agriculture in the Classroom presentation, and sixth-graders learn about lakes and aquatic management at the Freshwater Festival.

The school is committed to a well-rounded education for its students and makes a strong effort to expose them to learning opportunities outside of the community, as well. Students have gone on ecological trips to Russia and Peru; the band and choir have traveled to Chicago; and students are given a variety of opportunities to travel to the Twin Cities for theatrical, sporting, and educational events. Students in the art program have been selected to display their work at the State capitol; and, for the past 3 years, Nevis School students have earned scholarships to attend the Minneapolis College of Art and Design.

In 2006, Nevis School was recognized as an "outperformer" by Standard & Poor's School Evaluation Services. Nevis School was one out of 22 schools in Minnesota to be recognized for having significantly higher percentages of students who scored proficient or above on State reading and math tests than other Minnesota school districts with similar levels of student poverty.

Much of the credit for Nevis Public School's success belongs to its principal, Jodi Sandmeyer, and the dedicated teachers. The students and staff at Nevis Public School understand that, in order to be successful, a school must go beyond achieving academic success; it must also provide a nurturing environment where students can develop the knowledge, skills, and attitudes for success throughout life. All of the faculty, staff, and students at Nevis Public School should be very proud of their accomplishments.

I congratulate Nevis Public School in Nevis for winning the Award for Excellence in Education and for its exceptional contributions to education in Minnesota.●

TRAILVIEW SCHOOL, MORA,
MINNESOTA

● Mr. DAYTON. Mr. President, today I honor Trailview School, in Mora, MN, which will soon receive an Award for Excellence in Education for its exceptional and innovative achievements in educating children.

Trailview School is truly a model of educational success. The school has always had lofty expectations for the students. The highly qualified staff provides a challenging and enriching curriculum that encourages student success. The personnel at Trailview go above and beyond to connect with students by providing a variety of after-school enrichment programs. Respect for others and school pride are evident throughout the school.

Trailview School's afterschool programs were all suggested by the students and significantly enrich the students' learning experience. Some of the most popular programs are cake decorating, architectural drafting, Spanish, book club, chess club, Yu-Gi-Oh card club, quilt making, nutritious snacks, junior master gardener's club, and scrapbooking. There are also a variety of supplementary and enrichment programs offered during the day.

The Trailview School and its staff have received a variety of awards in recognition of the school's exceptional learning environment. In 2002, Trailview School received the Minnesota Elementary School Principals' Association School of Excellence award. In 2003, Principal Wendie Anderson was nominated to the Minnesota Alliance for Arts in Education by the local Collegiate Assessment of Academic Proficiency committee, and she received the honor of being named "Minnesota's Leading School Administrator in Arts Education." In 2004, she was named "MESPA's Minnesota National Distinguished Principal." Trailview School has also been recognized by the Minnesota Department of Education as a five-star school in reading in 2003 and 2004, and as a four-star school in reading in 2005.

Much of the credit for Trailview School's success belongs to its principal, Wendie Anderson, and the dedicated teachers. The children and staff at Trailview School understand that, in order to be successful, a school must go beyond achieving academic success; it must also provide a nurturing environment where children can develop the knowledge, skills, and attitudes for success throughout life. All of the faculty, staff, and pupils at Trailview School should be very proud of their accomplishments.

I congratulate Trailview School in Mora for winning the Award for Excellence in Education and for its exceptional contributions to education in Minnesota.●

LANCASTER PUBLIC SCHOOL, LANCASTER, MINNESOTA

● Mr. DAYTON. Mr. President, today I honor Lancaster Public School, in Lancaster, MN, which will soon receive an Award for Excellence in Education for its exceptional and innovative achievements in educating children.

Lancaster Public School is truly a model of educational success. Members of the staff, who understand that not all children learn the same way or at the same rate but that all children are capable of learning, work hard to personalize Lancaster's learning environment to ensure that every student's educational needs are met. To achieve this goal, the staff uses a variety of instructional strategies to accommodate individual learning styles. The result is a creative learning environment that is flexible, innovative, and highly successful.

Lancaster Public School has been recognized by Standard & Poor's School Evaluation Services as a district that outperformed demographically similar school districts in reading and math proficiency for 4 of the past 4 school years. Lancaster Public School is 1 of only 10 school districts in Minnesota that have attained this status. This achievement is particularly impressive because Lancaster is the smallest school in the group, with only 212 students in grades kindergarten through grade 12, and the most economically disadvantaged with 59.9 percent of the students qualifying for free and reduced lunch.

Lancaster Public School District has been recognized by the Minnesota Department of Education for making adequate yearly progress for the past 3 years. The school's high achievement on the Minnesota Comprehensive Assessment tests has earned both the elementary and secondary schools a five-star rating from the State Department of Education in reading.

Much of the credit for Lancaster Public School's success belongs to its principal, Bradley Homstad, and the dedicated teachers. The students and staff at Lancaster Public School understand that, in order to be successful, a school must go beyond achieving academic success; it must also provide a nurturing environment where students can develop the knowledge, skills, and attitudes for success throughout life. All of the faculty, staff, and students at Lancaster Public School should be very proud of their accomplishments.

I congratulate Lancaster Public School in Lancaster for winning the Award for Excellence in Education and for its exceptional contributions to education in Minnesota.●

CHALLENGER ELEMENTARY SCHOOL, THIEF RIVER FALLS,
MINNESOTA

● Mr. DAYTON. Mr. President, today I wish to honor Challenger Elementary School, in Thief River Falls, MN, which will soon receive an Award for Excellence in Education for its exceptional and innovative achievements in educating children.

Challenger Elementary School is truly a model of educational success. In 2002, the staff at Challenger initiated a grassroots effort to improve the quality of education at the school by implementing a successful literacy program. Their efforts resulted in the Literacy Collaborative, which is designed to improve reading for all children.

The school's framework for literacy lessons is based on providing multiple opportunities to participate in reading and writing projects. Recently, Challenger Elementary pupils partnered with the Arctic Cat Corporation to create educational books about snowmobiles and all-terrain vehicles for elementary-age children. These books now are being sold nationwide.

Challenger Elementary has benefited greatly from the strong support of the school board, which backed the Literacy Collaborative financially, as well as the community, which donated more than $40,000 for the school's book room. To date, staff members and volunteers have given more than 1,160 hours of their time preparing the book room, which boasts more than 5,000 volumes. Clearly, the Literacy Collaborative is more than a school initiative; it is also a prized community initiative that has been embraced by many volunteers and generous donors.

The program's success is evident in the students' strong test scores. Minnesota Comprehensive Assessment scores have improved since the initiation of the Literacy Collaborative, and Northwest Evaluation Association scores are also on the rise. In 2006, Challenger Elementary received four stars in reading from the Minnesota Department of Education.

Much of the credit for Challenger Elementary School's success belongs to its principal, Patrick Marolt, and the dedicated teachers. The children and staff at Challenger Elementary School understand that, in order to be successful, a school must go beyond achieving academic success; it must also provide a nurturing environment where children can develop the knowledge, skills, and attitudes for success throughout life. All of the faculty, staff, and pupils at Challenger Elementary School should be very proud of their accomplishments.

I congratulate Challenger Elementary School in Thief River Falls for winning the Award for Excellence in Education and for its exceptional contributions to education in Minnesota.●

BAXTER ELEMENTARY SCHOOL, BAXTER, MINNESOTA

● Mr. DAYTON. Mr. President, today I honor Baxter Elementary School, in Baxter, MN, which will soon receive an Award for Excellence in Education for its exceptional and innovative achievements in educating children.

Baxter Elementary School is truly a model of educational success. Located in one of Minnesota's most rapidly growing communities, Baxter Elementary School is setting a high standard for academic achievement throughout the school district. Baxter Elementary is committed to continuous curriculum review and staff development. The school offers a variety of enrichment opportunities to children, such as the Junior Achievement Program and the Junior Great Books Program. An after-school program called Pals at Play is offered for children who need support in certain curricular areas.

Baxter Elementary has developed an innovative program called Teachers Needing Teachers, designed to assist pupils who are struggling in the classroom but who do not meet the criteria for special education services. The Teachers Needing Teachers Program is composed of an intervention team of experienced teaching professionals: a representative from each grade level at the school, the principal, a special education teacher, and the school's home-to-school collaborative liaison. The team has helped colleagues improve the classroom performance of children who are challenged academically and/or behaviorally.

Baxter Elementary has an active Parent-Teacher Organization that contributes greatly to the excellence of the school. The recent efforts of the PTO resulted in a significant expansion of the book collection in the library, as well as upgrades to the computer lab, playgrounds, and the Literacy Collaborative book room.

The success of Baxter Elementary is also reflected in its test scores. In 2005, the school was awarded five stars in reading and math from the Minnesota Department of Education.

Much of the credit for Baxter Elementary School's success belongs to its principal, Erin Herman, and the dedicated teachers. The children and staff at Baxter Elementary understand that, in order to be successful, a school must go beyond achieving academic success; it must also provide a nurturing environment where children can develop the knowledge, skills, and attitudes for success throughout life. All of the faculty, staff, and pupils at Baxter Elementary School should be very proud of their accomplishments.

I congratulate Baxter Elementary School in Baxter for winning the Award for Excellence in Education and for its exceptional contributions to education in Minnesota.●

BADGER SCHOOL DISTRICT, BADGER, MINNESOTA

● Mr. DAYTON. Mr. President, today I honor Badger School District, in Badger, MN, which will soon receive an Award for Excellence in Education for its exceptional and innovative achievements in educating children.

Badger School is truly a model of educational success. The school is dedicated to insuring that all students are prepared to function successfully and contribute to our ever-expanding world of technology and knowledge. Realizing that education is a multifaceted system involving the school, community, family, and governing bodies, Badger has developed an innovative curriculum that challenges students to achieve higher standards.

To prepare students to succeed in a global economy, Badger School recently received a grant to implement Project Lead the Way, a pre-engineering curriculum that promotes the integration of science, math, technology, and engineering. The district has also partnered with Humanitarian Services for Children of Vietnam and has a sister school in Hanoi. Through this partnership, the children are learning about cultural diversity and helping those less fortunate.

Badger School District serves 217 students in kindergarten through grade 12. The elementary school was recognized by the Minnesota Department of Education as a four-star school in reading and as a five-star school in math in 2003 and 2004. In 2005, the school received five stars in both subjects. Badger Secondary School received a three-star rating in math and reading in 2004 and improved to a four-star rating in math in 2005. As further testimony to the exemplary performance of Badger School District, the district was named an outperformer in math and reading based on academic achievement levels compared with the percentage of economically disadvantaged students in the district by Standard & Poor's School Evaluation Services.

Much of the credit for Badger School District's success belongs to its principal and superintendent, Gwen Borgen, and the dedicated teachers. The students and staff at Badger School District understand that in order to be successful a school must go beyond achieving academic success; it must also provide a nurturing environment where students can develop the knowledge, skills, and attitudes for success throughout life. All of the faculty, staff, and students at Badger School District should be very proud of their accomplishments.

I congratulate Badger School District in Badger for winning the Award for Excellence in Education and for its exceptional contributions to education in Minnesota.●

LAKEVIEW ELEMENTARY SCHOOL, LAKEVILLE, MINNESOTA

● Mr. DAYTON. Mr. President, today I honor Lakeview Elementary School, in Lakeville, MN, which will soon receive an Award for Excellence in Education for its exceptional and innovative achievements in educating children.

Lakeview Elementary School is truly a model of educational success, and its staff is committed to the success of every child. The school has developed an early intervention program to identify children, early in their school career, who could have difficulties in reading and to provide intensive assistance in both kindergarten and first grade. This program has been extremely successful and has served as a model for other Lakeville schools and other school districts throughout the State.

Lakeview Elementary challenges all pupils to excel in reading through participation in an extensive, out-of-school reading program called "Accelerated Reader." The AR program encourages children to read more and to increase comprehension through computer-based assessments, which the children take after reading each book. For their efforts, pupils earn points, which they can then spend at the AR store twice a year.

Parents' involvement is another reason for Lakeview Elementary's exceptional performance. This fall, 99.6 percent of all parents attended their child's conferences. Parents are also very active in both the Lakeville Elementary Volunteer Organization and in the Parent Advisory Council. Last year, LEVO raised over $17,900 to improve the educational program, providing a poetry residency for all pupils, funding two assembly presentations, purchasing lap-top computers for the children's use, providing funds for transportation for all field trips, expanding the number of AR tests available, and funding the new art bulletin boards.

Lakeview Elementary stresses the importance of being a good citizen through service projects. Last year, the children adopted an elementary school in Louisiana in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina and held a fundraiser to buy school supplies and coats for the displaced children. This service project created a strong bond between the two schools, and the children communicated with their counterparts throughout the school year. The children also held a fund drive for the Pennies for Patients Children's Leukemia Campaign for which they raised more than $2,600.

Lakeview Elementary School has consistently been ranked a Minnesota five-star school over the past few years, recognized for excellence by the Minnesota Department of Education.

Much of the credit for Lakeview Elementary School's success belongs to its principal, Terry Lind, and the dedicated teachers. The children and staff at Lakeview Elementary School understand that in order to be successful a school must go beyond achieving academic success; it must also provide a nurturing environment where children can develop the knowledge, skills, and attitudes for success throughout life. All of the faculty, staff, and pupils at Lakeview Elementary School should be very proud of their accomplishments.

I congratulate Lakeview Elementary School in Lakeville for winning the Award for Excellence in Education and for its exceptional contributions to education in Minnesota.●

SCHOOLCRAFT LEARNING COMMUNITY, BEMIDJI, MINNESOTA

● Mr. DAYTON. Mr. President, today I honor Schoolcraft Learning Community, in Bemidji, MN, which will soon receive an Award for Excellence in Education for its exceptional and innovative achievements in educating children.

Schoolcraft Learning Community is truly a model of educational success. The school, which is designed according to the principles of "service and compassion," uses learning through service as a supplement to scholarly study to deepen intellectual growth, build character, and contribute to the community in a meaningful way. The school views combining service with study as a powerful motivator for giving young people a purpose to learn. In the context of service work, students writing a letter, making a brochure, or creating a book are encouraged to perform at a higher level because the audience is a real one and because students have an authentic reason to communicate.

An integral part of the Schoolcraft culture is the weekly conflict management/resolution class, which teaches peacekeeping skills. A group of 29 students, part of a Students Teaching Attitudes of Respect—STAR—team, visits other schools to promote conflict resolution skills.

Schoolcraft deepens educational opportunities through a half-year integrated unit of study during which a student conducts an in-depth investigation of a theme or topic through authentic research, projects, field work, service, and reflection.

The success of Schoolcraft Learning Community is reflected in the students' development into self-directed, lifelong learners who have the skills and knowledge to navigate confidently and compassionately in the world. The school's strong test scores have also been recognized by the Minnesota Department of Education; in 2006, Schoolcraft Learning Community received four stars in reading from the department.

Much of the credit for Schoolcraft Learning Community's success belongs to its director and superintendent, Scott Anderson, and the dedicated teachers. The students and staff at Schoolcraft Learning Community understand that in order to be successful, a school must go beyond achieving academic success; it must also provide a nurturing environment where students can develop the knowledge, skills, and attitudes for success throughout life. All of the faculty, staff, and students at Schoolcraft Learning Community should be very proud of their accomplishments.

I congratulate Schoolcraft Learning Community in Bemidji for winning the Award for Excellence in Education and for its exceptional contributions to education in Minnesota.●

TRIBUTE TO CAROLE KELL OF COBB COUNTY, GEORGIA

● Mr. ISAKSON. Mr. President, today I wish to pay tribute in the RECORD of the Senate to my friend Carole Kell, who is a great Georgian, a great American, and a great citizen of Cobb County. Next week Carole will be honored by the Cobb Chamber of Commerce as the East Cobb Citizen of the Year for her many contributions to the quality of life in Cobb County, GA.

Carole has a long and distinguished record as an educator in Cobb County, where she has lived for over 40 years. During her career, she served as the principal of Dickerson Middle School and Hightower Trail Middle School. I believe education is the most important thing we can provide for our children and for our country's future, and I commend Carole for her dedication to the success of her students over the years.

Carole also has a long history of community involvement in my hometown of Marietta, GA, where she is a well-respected and dedicated leader. Although Carole has retired from the workforce, she has not "retired" from her commitment to her community. Hopefully, she never will.

Carole is a longstanding member of the board of directors of the Cobb YMCA and the Business Education Steering Committee of the Cobb Chamber of Commerce. She is the chair of the Committee for Election of the Cobb County Commission and chair of the Wellstar Cancer Council.

Carole also serves on the advisory board for Johnson Ferry Community Bank of the South, the Cobb and Douglas Board of Health, and the Cobb and Douglas Community Services Board. In addition, she is a member of the Cobb County Republican Women's Club and a board member of the Cobb Boys and Girls Club as well as a member of the Citizens Advisory Committee for Kell High School, which is named after her late husband.

Carole was an active member of Marietta Baptist Church, where she taught Sunday School for children, sang in the adult choir, and helped with the children's choir. She is currently a member of Johnson Ferry Baptist Church. Carole has also raised funds over the years for the American Cancer Society, the Leukemia Society, and the American Heart Association.

It gives me a great deal of pleasure and it is a privilege to recognize on the floor of the U.S. Senate the contributions of Carole Kell to Cobb County and the State of Georgia.●

25TH ANNIVERSARY OF ORCHARD HOUSE

● Mr. LIEBERMAN. Mr. President, I speak today in honor of The Orchard House Adult Day Center and its hardworking and dedicated staff on the occasion of their 25th anniversary.

For the past 25 years, Orchard House has been serving the needs of the elderly and the disabled, with loving care. The center has provided medical monitoring, recreational therapeutic treatment, and innovative programs to the mentally and physically challenged adults of the Connecticut community. Hundreds of families from the greater New Haven area have been granted respite at the Orchard House and both the State and the Nation have recognized Orchard House with awards for service and humanitarianism.

The Orchard House's dedication and commitment to the citizens of Connecticut can be seen not only through its continued efforts to provide clients and families with comfort and support but also in its Intergenerational Program, a program designed to involve children from various local schools in the area, in activities at the center. Considering this, it is no wonder that Governor M. Jodi Rell has called Orchard House “a jewel of the Connecticut shoreline.”

I am confident that I speak for all the citizens of Connecticut in expressing pride and gratitude for the Orchard House Adult Day Center as it celebrates its 25th anniversary. The executive director, Thomas Russell Romano, and his staff have committed themselves to providing much needed care and treatment for the people of Connecticut.●

TRIBUTE TO BRIGADIER GENERAL DAVID K. (BOB) EDMONDS

● Mr. LOTT. Mr. President, today I wish to recognize an outstanding officer upon his retirement from the U.S. Air Force. Brigadier General David K. “Bob” Edmonds will retire on February 1, 2007, after almost 28 years of service. His successes and accomplishments have been significant and many. He has been recognized by his superiors and subordinates alike for his ability to motivate and lead teams and mentor future leaders. Today, it is my pleasure to recognize some of General Edmond's many accomplishments and commend his service to the Air Force, the Congress, and our grateful Nation.

Brigadier General Edmonds was born and raised in Charlotte, NC. He graduated from the U.S. Air Force Academy in 1979 as a distinguished graduate and the top cadet in the civil engineering major. He was selected for a Guggenheim Fellowship at Columbia University and graduated in May 1980 with a master of science degree in civil engineering. He began his Active Duty career at Columbus Air Force Base, Mississippi, where he completed undergraduate pilot training as a distinguished graduate and was selected to fly the F-15 Eagle. He has served in numerous flying positions throughout his career, both as an instructor pilot and a commander, and led 45 combat missions with the 53rd Tactical Fighter Squadron during Operation Desert Storm. He is a command pilot with over 2500 flight hours and 300 combat hours.

General Edmonds' last assignment was deputy director for operations, National Military Command Center, the Joint Staff, Pentagon, where he led a team that performed initial analysis of developing military and political situations worldwide for the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the Secretary of Defense, and President of the United States. He also performed nuclear watch in conjunction with the North American Aerospace Defense Command and U.S. Strategic Command and was ready to advise the President on available courses of action and transmit the President's nuclear decisions.

We especially remember General Edmonds' his service to the Congress as the Deputy Director for Air Force Legislative Liaison from 2003 to 2004 and as the Chief of Air Force Senate Liaison from 2001 to 2003. During these tours of duty, he was responsible for articulating Air Force priorities and programs to members and their staffs and responding to congressional inquiries regarding a broad range of issues.

From 1999 to 2001, General Edmonds was the 16th commander of the 131st Fighter Wing, St. Louis, MO, where he uniquely served as an Active Duty officer commanding an Air National Guard Wing. He had great success leading the Wing to achieve and maintain air superiority with the F-15 Eagle aircraft and, accordingly, was awarded the 2001 Executive of the Year for the St. Louis metropolitan region. Prior to assuming this command, he was the chief, Joint Requirements Division in the Directorate of Force Structure, Resources, and Assessments, J-8, Joint Staff, at the Pentagon. In June 1997, he graduated from the National War College as a Distinguished Graduate. From 1995 to 1996, he was a White House Fellow assigned as a Special Assistant to Philip Lader, a member of President Clinton's Cabinet, and the Administrator of the Small Business Administration.

Under his leadership, the squadron was recognized as the 325th Fighter Wing Squadron of the Year. Previously, he served in the Air Force Headquarters, with the Air Staff Training Program, and was an air officer commander, civil engineering instructor, motorglider instructor pilot, and women's rugby coach at the U.S. Air Force Academy.

On the eve of General Edmonds' retirement, I offer my congratulations to him, his wife Ann, his son Gregory, who is a freshman at the Air Force Academy, and daughter Katelyn. General Edmonds will be missed, and I know that I speak for all my colleagues in expressing my heartfelt appreciation to him. He is a credit to both the Air Force and the United States of America. We wish our friend the best of luck in his future endeavors and congratulate him on completion of an outstanding and successful active-duty career.●

TRIBUTE TO CAROL HAGEL

● Mr. LUGAR. Mr. President, today I wish to celebrate the important leadership of Carol Hagel upon her retirement from the Indiana Farm Bureau, Inc. Over the years, she has traveled tirelessly representing Indiana agriculture in her position as the second vice president and head of the Women's Division.

In 1985, the Indiana Farm Bureau and I conceived the idea of sponsoring a youth essay contest focusing on the importance of Indiana agriculture in their daily lives. Throughout the years, essay topics have focused on health and nutrition, global trade, and most recently, alternative energy consumption. The Indiana Farm Bureau Women's Division has generously given of its time to judge over 15,000 essays at the county, district, and State levels.

For the past several years, I have looked forward to visiting with Carol when she traveled to Washington, DC, with the State essay winners and their families.

Carol has been a true friend to Indiana agriculture, and I cherish our years of friendship. I hope that you will join me as we honor and celebrate her many contributions to the State of Indiana.●

TRIBUTE TO DR. JENNIFER RICHESON

● Mr. OBAMA. Mr. President, today I wish to acknowledge an extraordinary constituent of mine, Dr. Jennifer Richeson. An associate professor at Northwestern University, Jennifer has recently been named a MacArthur Fellow.

Each year, the MacArthur Fellows Program typically accepts our Nation's most ingenious and diligent minds. The Program is highly selective; typically only 20 to 30 applicants are accepted. Moreover, although the fellowship grants a $500,000 stipend, it is not meant to be a reward. Rather, it is an investment in the creative potential of our Nation. To activate this potential, the stipend is free of stipulations; scholars spend their grant on whatever projects they choose.

In 1994, Dr. Richeson received a bachelor's degree in psychology from Brown University. Then, in 2000, Jennifer received a doctorate in social psychology from Harvard University. Now, at Northwestern, she has used innovative research techniques to study the effects of racial stereotyping and discrimination on cognition and behavior. With the stipend she receives from her fellowship, Dr. Richeson will surely make further contributions to our society's understanding of psychological and racial issues.

I congratulate Dr. Richeson on her accomplishments. She is a model of academic excellence and commitment, and I am proud to be her Senator.●

HONORING LIEUTENANT GENERAL JOHN R. VINES

● Mr. SHELBY. Mr. President, today I honor LTG John R. Vines, the commanding general of the XVIII Airborne Corps and Fort Bragg.

General Vines, an outstanding American soldier from Alabama, will soon retire after more than 35 years of selfless service to this great Nation in the U.S. Army. General Vines' dedication to our soldiers, commitment to excellence, and performance of duty has been extraordinary throughout his career. General Vines' lifetime of service culminated in an assignment as the commanding general of the XVIII Airborne Corps and Fort Bragg, which he has held since 2003.

During his time in uniform, General Vines served in a succession of command and staff positions worldwide. The embodiment of an Army Ranger, General Vines has served all over the world, commanding paratroopers in combat during three separate conflicts. As a battalion commander in the 82nd Airborne Division, General Vines led a combat parachute assault in Operation Just Cause in Panama in 1989 and then led the same soldiers in Operation Desert Shield as the first ground combat unit in the gulf.

Soon after the United States went to war in 2001, General Vines, as commanding general of the 82nd Airborne Division, led his forces into Afghanistan as head of Coalition Task Force 82 and then assumed control of Combined/Joint Task Force 180 in Bagram. From January 2005 until January 2006, General Vines served as the joint forces commander of Multi-National Corps Iraq in Operation Iraqi Freedom, becoming the first general officer to command forces in both Iraq and Afghanistan.

LTG John Vines holds a B.S. degree in chemistry from the University of Alabama and an M.A. degree in National Security and Strategy from the Naval War College. His numerous awards and accolades include the Defense Distinguished Service Medal; Distinguished Service Medal; Defense Superior Service Medal, with Oak Leaf Cluster; Bronze Star Medal, with Oak Leaf Cluster; Legion of Merit, with Oak Leaf Cluster; Combat Infantryman Badge; Master Parachutist Badge, with Combat Star and the Ranger Tab.

During his distinguished Army career, General Vines earned a reputation as one of the Department of Defense's most forward-thinking and insightful leaders. Remembered by those who served under his command as both an extraordinary man and leader, General Vines wrote personal condolence letters to the families of each one of his soldiers killed in combat. General John Vines represents the epitome of what Army leaders, soldiers, and the country expect from our military officers. He is a sterling roll model for young soldiers. Well known as the "Soldiers' General," his commitment to the troops he led was unparalleled, even being quoted as saying that success in combat is not about military hardware or technology. "It boils down to the individual soldiers. It's about having people who have the commitment, the courage, the will, and the warrior values to confront the forces that threaten us. And only so long as we have those men and women who are able and willing to confront this will we be safe."

His service to the Nation has been exceptional, and General Vines is more than deserving of this recognition. His sacrifices are appreciated and important to the freedom we enjoy every day. I hope my colleagues will join me in thanking LTG John Vines for his commendable service to our Nation and the U.S. Army. I thank his wife Pamela and his sons, Joshua and Jacob, for their steadfast support while he fulfilled this essential duty to our country. I personally wish the Vines' family all the best as they celebrate General Vines' richly deserved retirement.●

TRIBUTE TO SOUTHERN OREGON REHABILITATION CENTER AND CLINICS

● Mr. SMITH. Mr. President, it is my sincere pleasure to congratulate the Southern Oregon Rehabilitation Center and Clinics on being awarded the 15th Annual Secretary Robert W. Carey Performance Excellence Award. On November 16, 2006, the SORCC was honored with the Carey Award, an award given by the Department of Veterans Affairs acknowledging those VA organizations which exhibit performance and organizational excellence.

Nearly 400,000 of our Nation's veterans reside in the State of Oregon.

The service of these men and women makes me proud to be an Oregonian. Unfortunately, oftentimes with great heroism comes great risk. Mental impairments, along with a variety of contributing factors, have led to a large concentration of homeless veterans in Oregon, totaling roughly one-third of Oregon's homeless population.

The SORCC in White City, Oregon directly focuses on the needs of the homeless, mentally ill, and substance abusers. Serving for over 56 years, the SORCC is the VA's only freestanding rehabilitation center, carefully tailored to treat debilitating problems unaddressed by standard VA medical centers and clinics. White City pays special attention to Oregon's substantial Veterans homeless population, with 75 percent of all applicants stating that they are without a home.

While about one-fourth of the Veterans living within the general proximity of the facility receive some type of care from the SORCC, its exclusivity in Veteran specialty care has attracted patients from over 35 States. Potential patients are likely persuaded not solely by the specialized treatment and expertise of the staff, but because of the time invested in each patient's recovery. White City offers a variety of community activities which expedite patient development and growth, while forming valuable relationships with staffers. Perhaps most impressive of all, the SORCC retains consistently high outpatient scores between 80 and 90 percent.

Referred to by many as "The Dom," in reference to its history and present role as a domiciliary, the SORCC is an important facility for Oregon veterans who need treatment outside of the home. Just over two years ago, the VA considered closing the White City facility. I was strongly against the potential closure and worked to ensure that its doors remained opened to our Nation's veterans. After careful deliberation, the Department of Veterans Affairs concluded that its success in treating difficult addiction cases is unheralded, and immediately implemented plans to repair and expand the existing facility.

The SORCC continues to operate and serve Oregon's veterans with high levels of professionalism and success. The population served by White City continues to expand, including more than 120 returning veterans from the global war on terrorism. I am privileged today to offer my congratulations to the SORCC. Their continued commitment to safety, compassion, and growth will serve as a model for VA organizations nationwide.●

TRIBUTE TO ROBERT COOK

● Mr. THUNE. Mr. President, today I recognize Robert Cook of Central High School in Rapid City, SD. Robert was named the 2006 Teacher of the Year by the National Indian Education Association.

As the English and social studies teacher at Central High School, Robert has played an integral and unique role in furthering the education of South Dakota's students. His initiative, expertise, and kind heart, has created an exceptional learning environment at Central High School. His selfless dedication to educating students for 17 years is truly commendable. I am proud to have such a fine teacher influencing our State's future leaders.

Robert is a graduate of Black Hills State University and he resides in Rapid City. Today I rise with Robert Cook's friends, family, and colleagues in honoring his selfless dedication and service to South Dakota's students.●

STATEMENTS ON INTRODUCED BILLS AND JOINT RESOLUTIONS

By Mr. HATCH (for himself, Mr. ALLARD, Ms. CANTWELL, and Mrs. FEINSTEIN):

S. 4079. A bill to amend the Reclamation Safety of Dams Act of 1978 to authorize improvements for the security of dams and other facilities, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources.

Mr. HATCH. Mr. President, I rise today to introduce the Water and Power Infrastructure Security bill, S. 4079. This legislation will amend the Reclamation Safety of Dams Act of 1978 to authorize improvement for the security of dams and other facilities.

On September 11, 2001, America's view of national security changed. The threat of terrorist attacks on our own soil became a reality for each and every one of us. This possibility forced Americans to rethink security in many different sectors including the need to secure infrastructure such as our Nation's dams.

As a result of the 9/11 attacks, the Bureau of Reclamation set up site security programs, implemented more complex surveillance systems, erected protection barriers, and devoted substantial funding in the process.

Initially, the Bureau covered these added security costs, recognizing that water and power infrastructure benefits the public generally. This was a pattern established after the Pearl Harbor attacks when the Federal Government covered the added security costs at these public facilities.

Indeed, all Americans benefit from stable power sources and improved flood control. Other universal benefits of public dams include recreation, water supply, and fish and wildlife.

However, in recent years the Bureau has begun to shift these costs onto the energy rate payers probably due to pressure from Office of Management and Budget. Thus, hard working American families, many of whom are family farmers with limited incomes, are forced to shoulder this large financial burden. Shifting the burden of national security to family farmers is patently unfair.

Our bill amends the Reclamation Safety of Dams Act to require to clarify that consumers of public power must contribute to site security at Federal dams. However, the bill would limit their contribution to 15 percent of total security costs. This provides a more equitable division of dam security costs between local and national beneficiaries. The bill also would require the Secretary of the Interior to involve project beneficiaries in the planning and building of site security. Finally, the bill requires the Bureau to provide Congress a five-year plan on dam security and an annual report of its expenditures.

There is no question we need to protect our critical infrastructure. It seems logical that the costs of these national and multi-purpose facilities should not be imposed on a concentrated group of energy consumers. However, customers who depend on the Bureau of Reclamation facilities are willing to pay their fair allotment of the security reflected in this legislation.

I believe this bill strikes a good balance between reasonable costs and a legitimate amount of transparency. Ultimately, its about working together as Americans to protect our critical infrastructure and provide a fair cost distribution system. I urge my colleagues to support this bill.

I ask unanimous consent that the text of the bill be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the bill was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

Mr. SPECTER (for himself and Mr. LEAHY):

S. 4081. A bill to restore habeas corpus for those detained by the United States; to the Committee on the Judiciary.

Mr. SPECTER. Mr. President, I introduce legislation which is captioned "Habeas Corpus Restoration Act of 2006" which I introduced on behalf of myself and Senator LEAHY.

The legislation which was adopted earlier this year on war crimes struck out habeas corpus jurisdiction of the Federal courts, sought to limit jurisdiction of the Federal courts on habeas corpus for Guantanamo detainees and others detained on charges of being enemy combatants or war criminals.

There was very extended debate on the issue at that time. The bill reported by the Armed Services Committee and backed by the administration eliminated the jurisdiction of the Federal courts. I offered an amendment to reinstate habeas corpus. It was defeated 51 to 48. This legislation would reinstate habeas corpus jurisdiction of the Federal courts. It is my view that the Federal courts will strike down the provisions in the legislation eliminating Federal court jurisdiction for a number of reasons. One is that the Constitution of the United States is explicit that habeas corpus may be suspended only in time of rebellion or invasion. We are suffering neither of those alternatives at the present time. We have not been invaded, and there has not been a rebellion. That much is conceded.

There has been an effort made to contend that those constitutional rights are maintained with the very limited review which goes to the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

In the limited time I have today I will not go into great detail during the course of the argument as it appears in the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD as to why that does not maintain the traditional constitutional right of habeas corpus, a right which has existed in Anglo Saxon jurisprudence since King John in 1215 at Runnymede. The Supreme Court of the United States in the Hamdi case made it plain that these habeas corpus rights apply to aliens as well as to citizens.

The administration has taken the position now that someone who is making a charge of having been tortured, which is a violation of U.S. law, may not be permitted to disclose the specifics of his interrogation which he says constituted torture because al-Qaida will find out what our interrogation techniques are and will move to train their operatives so they can withstand those interrogations.

It is unthinkable, in my opinion, to have a system of laws where someone who claims to have been tortured cannot describe what has happened to him to get judicial relief because al-Qaida may be able to educate or train their operatives to avoid those techniques.

I supported the ultimate legislation on war crimes tribunals because it provided for recognition of the Geneva Conventions. It also provided for confrontation. It also provided for limitations on interrogation techniques.

It was my view as I expressed it at the time that with the severability clause the Federal courts would eliminate the restriction on their jurisdiction. But as a precautionary matter, to put the matter in issue, this legislation is being introduced at this time.

I ask unanimous consent that the summary of the Habeas Corpus Restoration Act of 2006 be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

HABEAS CORPUS RESTORATION ACT OF 2006

The bill strikes the new limitations on habeas corpus created in the Military Commissions Act of 2006, Public Law 109-366, 2006 Stat. 3930.

The MCA added two new habeas provisions—

(1) A new paragraph in the federal habeas statute, 28 U.S.C. §2241(e), that would bar any alien detained by the United States as an enemy combatant from filing a writ of habeas corpus. The new paragraph was to apply to all pending cases "without exception" thereby barring all pending habeas corpus applications pending on behalf of Guantanamo Bay detainees.

(2) An entirely new habeas corpus limitation that barred any habeas review of military commission procedures. Had this bill been passed before the Hamdan v. Rumsfeld case was decided, the Supreme Court would not have had jurisdiction to review and reject the military commission procedures that were at issue. This new habeas limitation was added to federal law as 10 U.S.C. §950j(b).

The Habeas Corpus Restoration Act would strike these two provisions from the law in their entirety, thereby restoring the right of aliens detained within U.S. territorial jurisdiction (including at Gitmo) to challenge their detention via file writs of habeas corpus.

Because the Military Commissions Act already completely repealed and superseded the habeas limitations created by the Graham Amendment to the Detainee Treatment Act of 2005, the bill would restore the state of play before the DTA.

Actual effect—The MCA would deprive federal courts of jurisdiction to hear the 196 habeas corpus applications currently pending on behalf of the detainees at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. This bill would restore jurisdiction and allow those cases to be decided on their merits. It would also allow habeas corpus challenges to military commission procedures.

ARTICLE 1, SECTION 9, CLAUSE 2 OF THE UNITED STATES CONSTITUTION

"The privilege of the Writ of Habeas Corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in Cases of Rebellion or Invasion the public Safety may require it."

SELECT UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT DECISION QUOTES

Hamdi

In the 2004 Supreme Court decision of Hamdi v. Rumsfeld, Justice O'Connor stated,

"All agree that, absent suspension, the writ of habeas corpus remains available to every individual detained within the United States."

Justice O'Connor was unequivocally in stating, "[w]e have long since made clear that a state of war is not a blank check for the President when it comes to the rights of the Nation's citizens."

The Hamdi court made clear that "[i]t is during our most challenging and uncertain moments that our Nation's commitment to due process is most severely tested; and it is in those times that we must preserve our commitment at home to the principles for which we fight abroad."

Regarding habeas corpus, Justice O'Connor wrote, "we have made clear that, unless Congress acts to suspend it, the Great Writ of habeas corpus allows the Judicial Branch to play a necessary role in maintaining this delicate balance of governance, serving as an important judicial check on the Executive's discretion in the realm of detentions."

Korematsu

In 1949, Justice Murphy dissented in Korematsu v. United States: "[i]ndividuals must not be left impoverished of their constitutional rights on a plea of military necessity that has neither substance nor support" . . . "[t]he judicial test of whether the Government, on a plea of military necessity, can validly deprive an individual of any of his constitutional rights is whether the deprivation is reasonably related to a public danger that is so 'immediate, imminent, and impending' as not to admit of delay and not to permit the intervention of ordinary constitutional processes to alleviate the danger."

CSRTS ARE NOT AN ADEQUATE AND EFFECTIVE SUBSTITUTE FOR HABEAS CORPUS

Combatant Status Review Tribunals, commonly referred to as "CSRTs," are not an adequate and effective means to challenge detention in accordance with the Supreme Court's decision in Swain v. Pressley ("the substitution of a collateral remedy which is neither inadequate nor ineffective to test the legality of a person's detention does not constitute a suspension of the writ of habeas corpus").

CSRTs are not adversarial, but consist of a one-sided interrogation of the detainee by the tribunal members. The proceedings do not comport with basic fairness because the individuals detained do not have the right to confront accusers, call witnesses, or know what evidence there is against them. As Justice O'Connor wrote in her plurality opinion in the Hamdi case, "[a]n interrogation by one's captor, however effective an intelligence-gathering tool, hardly constitutes a constitutionally adequate factfinding before a neutral decisionmaker."

According to the September 25, 2006 Judiciary Committee testimony of the former U.S. Attorney for the Northern District of Illinois, Thomas Sullivan, who has been to Guantanamo on many occasions and has represented many detainees. Mr. Sullivan cited hearings where individuals were summoned before the tribunal, but did not speak the language, did not have an attorney, did not have access to the information which was presented against them, and continued to be detained.

For example, in the case of Abdul Hadi al Siba'i, a Saudi Arabian police officer who came to Afghanistan in August 2001 to build schools and a mosque. Mr. Sullivan described how Mr. Siba'i had no lawyer, spoke through a translator, and was read the charges against him, but with no access to the underlying evidence. According to Mr. Sullivan, his client was returned to Saudi Arabia after a prolonged detention without a trial, compensation, or apology. Mr. Sullivan received no notice that his client was to be returned to Saudi Arabia.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the text of the bill be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the bill was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

S. 4081

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the "Habeas Corpus Restoration Act of 2006".

SEC. 2. RESTORATION OF HABEAS CORPUS FOR THOSE DETAINED BY THE UNITED STATES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 2241 of title 28, United States Code, is amended by striking subsection (e).

(b) TITLE 10.—Section 950j of title 10, United States Code, is amended by striking subsection (b) and inserting the following:

"(b) LIMITED REVIEW OF MILITARY COMMISSION PROCEDURES AND ACTIONS.—Except as otherwise provided in this chapter or in section 2241 of title 28 or any other habeas corpus provision, and notwithstanding any other provision of law, no court, justice, or judge shall have jurisdiction to hear or consider any claim or cause of action whatsoever, including any action pending on or filed after the date of the enactment of the Military Commissions Act of 2006, relating to the prosecution, trial, or judgment of a military commission under this chapter, including challenges to the lawfulness of procedures of military commissions under this chapter."

SEC. 3. EFFECTIVE DATE AND APPLICABILITY.

The amendments made by this Act shall—

(1) take effect on the date of the enactment of this Act; and

(2) apply to any case that is pending on or after the date of enactment of this Act.

Mr. LEAHY. Mr. President, I am pleased to join the chairman of the Judiciary Committee and cosponsor the Habeas Corpus Restoration Act of 2006. This bill would restore the great writ of habeas corpus, a cornerstone of American liberty for hundreds of years that Congress and the President rolled back in an unprecedented and unnecessary way with September's Military Commissions Act.

I am also pleased to join Senator DODD as a cosponsor of the Effective Terrorists Prosecution Act of 2006. That bill would likewise restore the liberties guaranteed by the writ of habeas corpus. It would also correct many of the other very disturbing provisions of the Military Commissions Act by narrowing that act's extremely broad definition of "unlawful enemy combatants," excluding evidence obtained by coercion, and allowing defendants to review evidence used against them.

Habeas corpus provides a remedy against arbitrary detentions and constitutional violations. It guarantees an opportunity to go to court, with the aid of a lawyer, to prove one's innocence. As Justice Scalia stated in the Hamdi case: "The very core of liberty secured by our Anglo-Saxon system of separated powers has been freedom from indefinite imprisonment at the will of the Executive." The remedy that secures that most basic of freedoms is habeas corpus.

The Military Commissions Act eliminated that right, permanently, for any non-citizen determined to be an enemy combatant, or even "awaiting" such a determination. That includes the approximately 12 million lawful permanent residents in the United States today, people who work for American firms, raise American kids, and pay American taxes. This new law means that any of these people can be detained, forever, without any ability to challenge their detention in federal court—or anywhere else—simply on the Government's say-so that they are awaiting determination whether they are enemy combatants.

I regret that Chairman SPECTER and I were unsuccessful in our efforts to stop this injustice when the President and the Republican leadership insisted on rushing the Military Commissions Act through Congress in the lead-up to the elections. We supported an amendment which would have removed the habeas-stripping provision from the Military Commissions Act. It failed by just three votes. I was saddened that the bill passed even with this poisonous habeas provision. Since then, the American people have spoken against the administration's "stay the course" approach to national security and against a rubber stamp Congress that accommodated this administration's efforts to grab more and more power.

When we debated Chairman SPECTER's amendment to remove the habeas-stripping provision back in September, I spelled out a nightmare scenario about a hard-working legal permanent resident who makes an innocent donation to, among other charities, a Muslim charity that the Government thinks might be funneling money to terrorists. I suggested that, on the basis of this donation and perhaps a report of "suspicious behavior" from an overzealous neighbor based on visits from Muslim guests, the permanent resident could be brought in for questioning, denied a lawyer, confined, and even tortured. And this lawful permanent resident would have no recourse in the courts for years, for decades, forever.

Many people viewed this kind of nightmare scenario as fanciful, just the rhetoric of a politician. It was not. It is all spelled out clearly in the language of the law that this body passed. Last month, the scenario I spelled out was confirmed by the Department of Justice itself in a legal brief submitted in a Federal court in Virginia. The Justice Department, in a brief to dismiss a detainee's habeas case, said that the Military Commissions Act allows the Government to detain any noncitizen declared to be an enemy combatant without giving that person any ability to challenge his detention in court. This is true, the Justice Department said, even for someone arrested and imprisoned in the United States. The Washington Post wrote that the brief "raises the possibility that any of the millions of immigrants living in the United States could be subject to indefinite detention if they are accused of ties to terrorist groups."

In fact, the situation is more stark even than the Washington Post story suggested. The Justice Department's brief says that the Government can detain any noncitizen declared to be an enemy combatant. But the law this Congress passed says the Government need not even make that declaration; they can hold people indefinitely who are just awaiting determination whether or not they are enemy combatants. It gets worse. Republican leaders in the Senate followed the White House's lead and greatly expanded the definition of "enemy combatants" in the dark of night in the final days before the bill's passage, so that enemy combatants need not be soldiers on battlefield. They can be people who give money, or people that any group of decision-makers selected by the President decides to call enemy combatants. The possibilities are chilling.

The administration has made it clear that they intend to use every expansive definition and unchecked power given to them by the new law. Last month's Justice Department brief made clear that any of our legal immigrants could be held indefinitely without recourse in court. Earlier in November, the Justice Department went to court to say that detainees who had been held in secret CIA prisons could not even meet with lawyers because they might tell their lawyers about the cruel interrogation techniques used against them. In other words, if our Government tortures somebody, that person loses his right to a lawyer because he might tell the lawyer about having been tortured. A law professor was quoted as saying about the government's position in that case: "Kafka-esque doesn't do it justice. This is 'Alice in Wonderland.'" We are not talking about nightmare scenarios here. We are talking about today's reality.

We have eliminated basic legal and human rights for the 12 million lawful permanent residents who live and work among us, to say nothing of the millions of other legal immigrants and visitors who we welcome to our shores each year. We have removed the check that our legal system provides against the Government arbitrarily detaining people for life without charge, and we may well have made many of our remaining limits against torture and cruel and inhuman treatment obsolete because they are unenforceable. We have removed the mechanism the Constitution provides to check Government overreaching and lawlessness.

This is wrong. It is unconstitutional. It is un-American. It is designed to ensure that the Bush-Cheney administration will never again be embarrassed by a U.S. Supreme Court decision reviewing its unlawful abuses of power. The conservative Supreme Court, with seven of its nine members appointed by Republican Presidents, has been the only check on the Bush-Cheney administration's lawlessness. Certainly the outgoing rubberstamp Republican Congress has not done it, or even investigated it. With passage of the Military Commissions Act, the Republican Congress completed the job of eviscerating its role as a check and balance on the administration.

Abolishing habeas corpus for anyone who the Government thinks might have assisted enemies of the United States is unnecessary and morally wrong. It is a betrayal of the most basic values of freedom for which America stands. It makes a mockery of the Bush-Cheney administration's lofty rhetoric about exporting freedom across the globe.

Admiral John Hutson testified before the Judiciary Committee that stripping the courts of habeas jurisdiction was inconsistent with American history and tradition. He concluded, "We don't need to do this. America is too strong." Even Kenneth Starr, the former independent counsel and Solicitor General to the first President Bush, wrote that the Constitution's conditions for suspending habeas corpus have not been met, and that doing so would be problematic.

Under the Constitution, a suspension of the writ may only be justified during an invasion or a rebellion, when the public safety demands it. Six weeks after the deadliest attack on American soil in our history, the Congress that passed the PATRIOT Act rightly concluded that a suspension of the writ would not be justified. Yet 6 weeks before a midterm election, the Bush-Cheney administration and the Republican Congress deemed a complete abolition of the writ their highest priority. Notwithstanding the harm the administration has done to national security with its mismanaged misadventure in Iraq, there was no new national security crisis. There was only a Republican political crisis. The people have now spoken, and it is time to reverse the dangerous choices this Congress made.

Rolling back the Military Commissions Act's disastrous habeas provision will set the stage for us to approach that issue in a way consistent with our needs and our values. We should take steps to ensure that our enemies can be tried efficiently and quickly and to prevent our courts from being tied up with frivolous suits. But abolishing the writ of habeas corpus for millions of legal immigrants and others, denying their right to get into court to challenge indefinite detention on the Government's say-so, is not the answer.

I hope that others will hear the call of the American people for a new direction and work to correct these and other problems with the new law, including the gutting of the War Crimes Act, which I was proud to help spearhead with strong bipartisan support in 1997.

I will keep working on these issues until we restore the checks and balances that make our country great. We can ensure our security without giving up our liberty.

The Secretary shall, to the extent practicable, make the determination of advance payment at the same time as the issuance of a solicitation. The contract shall provide that such advance payment is required to be repaid if there is a failure to perform by the vendor under the contract. Mr. BURR. Mr. President, I rise today in support of S. 3678, the Pandemic and All-Hazards Preparedness Act. This bipartisan bill, which was drafted closely with Senator KENNEDY, will improve our public health and medical preparedness and responses during emergencies and disasters. I thank the Senator from Massachusetts for his partnership on this important legislation. I also thank Chairman ENZI for his leadership, Majority Leader FRIST, Senator GREGG and all 14 bipartisan cosponsors of this legislation for their hard work and support.

S. 3678 achieves two overarching goals. It reauthorizes the Bioterrorism Act of 2002, which was signed into law following the terrorist attacks of September 11 and expired at the end of September, and it builds on the Project Bioshield Act of 2004, to speed up the development of drug and vaccine countermeasures against bioterrorist and other public health threats.

In June 2002, President Bush signed the Bioterrorism Act into law and stated the legislation was proof that “When people of both parties work together, they can work on behalf of our country.” Over the last 2 years, S. 3678 has been developed through the same bipartisan process. We all understand that the threats of bioterrorism and other public health emergencies, such as pandemic flu, are very real and we are committed to act now to protect the American people.

We know we must act now, before avian flu reaches our shores, before the next hurricane devastates a great city, before a bioterrorist attack kills an innocent American.

The threat of bioterrorism remains. Around the world, radical religious groups are being urged to establish new terror cells that specialize in biological warfare. It is increasingly easy to access Internet guides to bioterrorism, including methods for contaminating food and water supplies and spreading deadly microbes using do-it-yourself sprayers.

We often think of smallpox and anthrax as the gravest bioterrorism threats; however, as science and technology advance, the number of worrisome agents is expanding. In fact, the Department of Homeland Security recently determined that an additional nine biological agents present material threats against the United States sufficient to affect national security.

It is clear we will not keep up with new and emerging threats if we continue to be constrained by practices and procedures which require, for example, a decade to develop a new drug or vaccine countermeasure. Instead, we must take a faster, more creative approach to developing flexible, dynamic defenses against these threats.

Hurricanes Katrina and Rita proved once again that Mother Nature can be extremely destructive. And now, the United States is preparing for a potential flu pandemic that may be carried by birds. The biodefense plan laid out in this bill will enable us to be more flexible and will allow us to rapidly respond to all-hazards emergencies—be they natural, deliberate, or accidental.

We take five key actions in S. 3678, which will better prepare the Nation for the all-hazards public health emergencies of the future.

First, the bill puts someone in charge. After Hurricane Katrina, it was unclear who was in charge of our public health and medical response to this devastating storm. I believe unity of command and control is the key to rapid emergency response. This legislation identifies the Secretary of Health and Human Services as the lead Federal official for public health and medical response to emergencies, thereby eliminating confusion and chaos and increasing accountability and predictability. S. 3678 also unifies HHS preparedness and response programs under a renamed Assistant Secretary for Preparedness and Response, ensuring someone in the Federal Government is constantly improving our preparedness.

Second, S. 3678 funds State and local preparedness. We know the best emergency response begins at the local level. My bill reauthorizes over $1 billion per year in grants from HHS for State and local public health and medical preparedness. Authorization for these important grant programs expired in September 2006. The legislation also stresses accountability and fiscal responsibility in order to measure the progress made through these funds, and it requires States to match Federal investments in preparedness, beginning in 2009.

Third, the bill improves public health security. Public health departments across the country have varying abilities to identify a case of bird flu and contain its spread. S. 3678 establishes a set of key capabilities that all health departments must strive for. It also modernizes how public health departments detect, respond to, and manage public health threats, by collecting instant electronic information which will enable public health officials to make informed decisions before, during, and after a public health emergency.

Fourth, S. 3678 will speed up emergency medical response. During the response to Hurricane Katrina, it was too difficult for willing health care providers to volunteer their time and provide much-needed medical expertise to the gulf coast region. My bill makes it easier for health care providers to volunteer in emergency situations, and it enables the Secretary of Health and Human Services to provide liability protections for approved volunteers. This legislation also promotes the use of mobile hospitals and alternative Federal facilities which can help handle an increased number of patients during an emergency. Additionally, the bill improves planning and logistics for health care providers and volunteers to ensure emergency medical care can be delivered faster during a disaster.

Finally, the bill ensures the development of more drug and vaccine countermeasures to combat public health emergencies. The process for developing a new medical countermeasure still takes up to a decade and costs hundreds of millions of dollars. S. 3678 will improve our ability to quickly develop drugs and vaccines to protect against threats such as bird flu and bioterrorism. It reorganizes and enhances HHS medical countermeasure research, development, and procurement activities, through the Biomedical Advanced Research and Development Authority, or BARDA. Modeled after the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency's successes in defense research, BARDA will bring innovation to a process that is simply too slow to combat terrorist activities or Mother Nature.

Making the Government more dynamic, nimble, and accountable will bring more and better medical countermeasures to the public faster case of emergency.

In closing, I applaud my Senate colleagues for taking a decisive step forward today in improving the Nation's preparedness for all-hazards public health emergencies—including acts of terrorism and those brought to us by Mother Nature, by passing S. 3678, the Pandemic and All-Hazards Preparedness Act.

I would like to thank the staff of my Subcommittee on Bioterrorism and Public Health Preparedness for their hard work, Jennifer Bryning, Kendall Byrum, Jenny Ware, Heidi Swygard, former staff director, Dr. Bob Kadlec, and former Senate fellow, David Marcozzi. Also, thank you to the majority leader's staff, especially Elizabeth Hall. Thank you to Chairman ENZI's staff, Katherine McGuire, Ilyse Schuman, Steve Northrup, and David Schmickel. Thank you to Senator KENNEDY's staff for their hard work, David Bowen, and Caya Lewis. And thank you to Senator GREGG's staff for their support, David Fisher, and Richard Weiblinger.

Earlier this year, I had the opportunity to travel to the Gulf Coast to learn from the disaster of Hurricane Katrina. It is our solemn responsibility to do all we can to make sure our Federal response is better. I want to also thank the many State and local public health officials from across the country, the hospitals, health care providers, elected officials, patients, EMT personnel and citizens who gave us their ideas and shared their experiences in this process. Together, we have laid out a plan to improve our Nation's public health and to better respond to disasters in the future.

Mr. KENNEDY. Mr. President, this afternoon, the Senate will consider legislation that will have far-reaching effects on the Nation's readiness for bioterrorist attacks, epidemics, and other public health emergencies.

The passage of the bill today is the culmination of a long process that our subcommittee, under the able leadership of Senator BURR, conducted to evaluate recommendations for renewing and strengthening the public health legislation enacted in 2002 and the BioShield proposal enacted the following year.

That was no small challenge. Our lack of preparedness was painfully clear to the hundreds of thousands of Americans who suffered and are still suffering in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina.

Today we face the possibility of a pandemic or a bioterrorist attack, which could be as bad as a Hurricane Katrina in every community in America. We know that we are not yet ready for a catastrophe of that scale.

We need new medicines and new vaccines to protect against the disease threats of the twenty-first century. Yet many biotechnology companies are unwilling to invest in this area because of its uncertain commercial rewards.

Congress previously enacted the BioShield law to provide a guaranteed market for these products, but that program has been implemented poorly and has failed to live up to its promise.

Our legislation makes improvements in BioShield and supplements it by creating a new agency based on the successful model of DARPA, which has enhanced the development of important new products for our national defense. In recent years, the innovative research funded by DARPA has led to breakthroughs in supercomputers, robotics, materials science, nanotechnology, and in many other areas. Through the creation of a new agency, the Biomedical Advanced Research and Development Agency, we can emulate that success in the development of new vaccines and medicines.

But creating new products is only half the story. The newest vaccines and the most sophisticated technology are of little value if our hospitals and health agencies are overwhelmed and underequipped.

Time and again, Congress has called on the administration to take the steps needed to protect America against these new threats. But time and again, the response has been insufficient.

In 2000, Congress enacted the Frist-Kennedy legislation to provide a framework for bioterrorism preparedness. In the first year after the legislation was enacted, these programs received just $1 million out of the $360 million called for by the legislation.

Even in the aftermath of the September 11 attacks, the administration initially proposed only $50 million to upgrade our hospitals and emergency rooms, and requested only $125 million to improve our health agencies. Thanks to the leadership of Senator DASCHLE, Senator FRIST, and Senator BYRD, and of now-Senator BURR when he served in the House, Congress rejected these recommendations and provided over half a billion dollars for hospital readiness and nearly a billion dollars for health agencies.

Yet the administration has cut these needed funds. The support for hospital readiness through HRSA has decreased from $518 million in 2003 to $483 million this year. The story is the same in the CDC program to improve our health agencies. Funding has dropped from $939 million in 2003 to $834 million this year.

Is it any wonder that study after study shows that America is not ready for a biological attack? Our former colleague, Senator Lowell Weicker, is chairman of the board of the Trust for America's Health, which convened a panel of experts in public health to assess each State's readiness for bioterrorism. The sad story is that no State was fully ready. Even the most prepared States scored only 8 out of 10 on measures of basic preparedness.

And these measures don't ask the impossible. One measure is whether a State has plans to ensure continuity of care in an emergency. Another is whether the State can provide additional ventilator beds for ten—yes, just ten—additional patients. Even on these basic measures of readiness the majority of States scored a five or worse—and four States scored only a woeful 2 out of 10.

We have seen the consequences of failure. Now we must prepare for success.

With this bill, we take many important steps to increase our preparedness and response capabilities for public health emergencies. This bill will increase our medical surge capacity, strengthen our public health infrastructure, and clarify the responsibilities of Federal officials.

The first response to emergencies happens at the State and local level. But State and local governments were quickly overwhelmed by the magnitude of the tragedy during Hurricane Katrina and would soon be overwhelmed in a pandemic. Federal assistance is essential. But for the past 4 years, we have been giving States money for public health preparedness without giving them adequate guidance on how to spend it. This bill reauthorizes these grants to State and local public health departments, but now provides benchmarks, performance standards and increased technical assistance from HHS that will allow State and local governments to improve their performance.

Accurate and up-to-the-minute information is essential to managing an emergency. Health information technology is the key to a more effective health care system in so many areas, and it can immeasurably improve our ability to monitor a health emergency. Our legislation includes an important program to harness the power of health IT to aid our health emergency response.

We must learn the lessons of the past and see that our hospitals and health professionals can treat the victims of disease, that our health agencies can detect disease threats rapidly and accurately and that all parts of our society have adequate plans to contain a disease outbreak. This bill takes the right steps to better prepare our Nation for the next public health emergency, no matter what its source. I urge my colleagues to approve this proposal and to work with us to see that we can send it to the President's desk before the end of the Congress.

Mr. BURR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the amendment at the desk be agreed to, the committee-reported amendment, as amended, be agreed to, the bill, as amended, be read a third time and passed, the motion to reconsider be laid upon the table, and that any statements relating to the bill be printed in the RECORD.

SAN MATEO COUNTY SHERIFF DON
HORSLEY—A DISTINGUISHED
LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICIAL

HON. TOM LANTOS

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. LANTOS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to congratulate Sheriff Donald Horsley on his long and distinguished law enforcement service for the County of San Mateo, and cities of East Palo Alto and Daly City, California, in my congressional district. As a patrol officer and as Sheriff, Don Horsley has dedicated thirty-eight years to law enforcement and has a proven record of combating the community's most vexing criminal challenges with effective strategies.

Under Sheriff Horsley's professional and dedicated leadership, the San Mateo County Sheriff's Office has developed an extensive number of innovative programs to ensure a safer community. These include the Graffiti Abatement Program, Community Policing Program, Vehicle Theft Task Force, Gang Intelligence/Investigative Unit, Sexual Habitual Offender Program, an expanded DARE Program, an identity theft and computer related crime task force, and a School Resource Officer Program as well as the Sheriff's Activity League to help kids become successful in school and keep at-risk kids out of gangs.

Sheriff Horsley has also exhibited a great talent in working with other public officials in coordinating cohesion among municipalities within San Mateo County, neighboring counties in the San Francisco Bay Area, and working with federal law enforcement. Sheriff Horsley has been actively involved in coordinating with the FBI and other Bay Area Sheriffs' Departments as part of a regional Joint Terrorism Task Force and has established a regional information sharing network.

Sheriff Horsley has proven instrumental in obtaining the necessary funds for enhancing law enforcement in San Mateo County. He has been integral in directing the Sheriff's Office of Emergency Services to obtain federal grants from the Department of Homeland Security to secure equipment and training for first responders and public health workers. Additionally, Sheriff Horsley successfully worked with Congresswoman ESHOO and me to obtain federal funds for San Mateo County to build a state of the art crime laboratory.

In performing the many responsibilities of his job, Sheriff Horsley has not lost sight of the goal of attempting to rehabilitate and treat prisoners humanely. Under his leadership, Sheriff Horsley has brought educational, religious and substance abuse programs to the county jail. He has also ensured medical and mental health services for prisoners as well as instituting Critical Incident Training for officers in the field to more effectively communicate with mentally ill individuals.

Mr. Speaker, I invite my colleagues to join me in thanking Sheriff Donald Horsley for his contribution to the protection and improvement of our community in San Mateo County. I am truly delighted and inspired by Sheriff Horsley's dedication to law enforcement and public service and wish him continued success in his future endeavors.

50TH BUSINESS ANNIVERSARY OF MR. JOSEPH H. BALL

HON. JIM GERLACH

OF PENNSYLVANIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. GERLACH. Mr. Speaker, I would like the below article to be included in the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD. Mr. Ball is an outstanding constituent and I am honored to help him celebrate his fifty years of service to his family, community, and business. This article, "LM Honors Joe Ball for Five Decades in a Business He Loves", by Melissa Steven, appeared in the Main Line Times on November 9, 2006.

LM HONORS JOE BALL FOR FIVE DECADES IN A BUSINESS HE LOVES

Although he has been working for a half-century as founder and CEO of American Advertising Services, Joseph Ball said he feels like he hasn't worked at all. "I didn't work a day in 50 years because I loved every minute of it," said Ball of Penn Valley. "I believe in advertising. I sincerely do." This past August, the Lower Merion Township Board of Commissioners recognized Ball and his American Advertising Services with an "Official Commendation" plaque for the company's 50th anniversary. Throughout five decades, Ball has spawned numerous other businesses in the communications area, including ACT (Advertising/Communications Times), the longest established marketing and business-to-business monthly journal for the Philadelphia region. And just a few weeks ago, Ball created yet another new business, American Business Development, which "marries businesses," said Ball.

"I don't live in yesterday," said Ball. "I look ahead and live in today." Ball was just 26 when he launched American Advertising Services in 1956. Working since 17 for The Philadelphia Inquirer, where he started as a copy boy, Ball volunteered to do just about anything his managers would let him do to learn, including writing and editing. He left the newspaper business because he wanted to take a chance and start his own company.

He started American Advertising Services company with a $35 Royal typewriter on a desk in a room he shared with his 10-year-old sister. The company grew and moved to Philadelphia, where he rented a space in a basement on South 22nd Street for $50 a month. Two more relocations later, Ball settled for the next 40 years at Second and Chestnut streets in Old City, Philadelphia. Two years ago, he moved the business to a new home in Bala Cynwyd.

Ball and his wife of 48 years, Sandy, have made Penn Valley their home for the past 40 years. They raised their three children there and sent all through Lower Merion School District schools. Now, with eight grandchildren, Ball still shows no signs of slowing down.

Melinda Williams, managing partner of the Williams Group, an ad agency, started her communications career as an account executive at American Advertising Services after graduating from Syracuse University. She had trouble finding a job, she said, because "you come out of college with a lot of knowledge, but yet no one would hire you because you didn't have any experience. Joe took a chance on me and on a lot of other people when they were young," said Williams. "And you never forget the first person who takes a chance on you."

Williams spent a year and a half with Ball's company, working with different companies as an account executive. She said the experience provided an education second to none. "It gave me a unique perch on the market. It allowed me to figure out which areas in communications I wanted to go into."

Including Williams, Ball has helped launch the careers of many other communications professionals who have walked through the doors of his businesses. Ball gave Warren Conely his start as an artist in the late '70s. Conely, now working at the Philadelphia Inquirer in advertising art, started as an artist for ACT. "He did give me my start in the business," said Conely. "He gave you a true taste of the ad industry." Ball believes so many former employees have succeeded because they learned very essential techniques from working with him. He teaches employees to "persevere, persevere, persevere" and "In sales, never hear the first 'no,' just give another idea."

"You just smile your way through the day and never see a problem," said Ball, "[but] see a challenge and think 'How can I overcome it?'" "Any facet in the ad industry, whether it be radio, television or print, you learned it all from Joe because he did it all," said Conely. "He got everybody involved in every aspect of the business." Williams said Ball's dedication to his job and love for it really showed every day. "He was always the first one in and last one out," she said. One key ingredient to Ball's success, said Williams, was his knack for hiring the right people for the job. "He always hired nice people who were smart, innovative, creative and who had a lot of potential."

In the '60s, at a time when women were going on interviews in white gloves, pumps at a reasonable height, and pearls, Ball was basing his hiring decisions on talent, not gender. "It was very hard for women to get positions because you needed experience to get hired, and Joe hired me without experience," said Jane Stark, who was hired by Ball in 1965 as a copywriter. Stark went on to be promoted to a public relations position at American Advertising Services. "Joe was responsible for opening a lot of doors and was very open to promoting employees within his business," said Stark, who later became the general manager of NBC TV-40 in South Jersey for 21 years. "He gave women lots of opportunities. From little acorns, big trees grow."

Williams agreed that Ball gave many women opportunities to start their careers when there were not too many opportunities to be had. Williams said that the amount of people who have come through Ball's businesses, then moved on to bigger and better things—as well as the employees who have stayed over the years—is a testament to Ball. "The students are doing better today than the teacher," said Ball, "and that's the way it should be in America."

TRIBUTE TO JELKA JANKOVIC

HON. CHRIS VAN HOLLEN

OF MARYLAND

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. VAN HOLLEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to congratulate Mrs. Jelka Jankovic on her 100th birthday, which she celebrated on November 25, 2006. Since her immigration to the United States over fifty years ago, Mrs. Jankovic has been a model citizen, contributing to her community and bringing joy to the lives of family members and friends.

Mrs. Jankovic married Janko N. Jankovic, a lawyer, on October 4, 1925 in Serbia. Their son, Miodrag, was born in 1926. For the first part of her married life, Mrs. Jankovic concentrated on raising her son and running her household. In 1942 her son joined the army to fight the Germans and later the Communists. Tragically, he was lost in the war. Meanwhile, her husband who was serving in the Royal Yugoslav Reserve Forces, was captured by the Germans and spent the war years in a POW camp in Germany. Mr. Jankovic immigrated to the United States in 1950 and settled in Washington, D.C. where Mrs. Jankovic joined him in 1953.

Mrs. Jankovic has been an active and productive member of her community for over fifty years. She has worked as a private tailor, a baker at a French restaurant, and a beautician at a local salon. After retiring, Mrs. Jankovic moved to Bethesda, Maryland where she is well-known and loved for her generosity and kindness.

Mr. Speaker, I extend my heartfelt congratulations to Mrs. Jankovic as she celebrates her 100th birthday and I wish her good health and happiness. I ask my colleagues to join me in congratulating Mrs. Jankovic.

HONORING THE 50TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE HAYWARD AREA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

HON. FORTNEY PETE STARK

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. STARK. Mr. Speaker, December 2006 marks the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Hayward Area Historical Society in Hayward, California. I rise to pay tribute to the Society's significant anniversary.

On an autumn night in 1956, 25 Hayward Area residents met at Bret Harte School to discuss a growing concern in the community. Amidst the progress and prosperity of the post World War II boom, the history of the area once known as Eden Township seemed to be missing from the cultural landscape.

The Hayward Chamber of Commerce Post-war Planning Committee first recommended the formation of a historical society in 1944. With so much happening at the conclusion of World War II and the community experiencing unprecedented growth in the following years, no action was taken on the committee's suggestion. However, 10 years later, the City of Hayward celebrated its 80th birthday with great fanfare. Though the festivities were considered a success, the planners had encountered a huge problem identifying pioneer residents to ride in the city's anniversary parade. There was no established resource for gathering and providing information on Hayward's past.

The Community Services Committee of the Hayward Chamber of Commerce, chaired by Allen Strutz, decided to take matters into their hands and took steps to begin saving Hayward history. Soon, the Hayward Area Historical Society, HAHS, was born.

The first official election of officers was scheduled for the night of December 6, 1956. Volunteers immediately began gathering members and asking pioneer families to fill out historical questionnaires. Those documents became the foundation for HAHS's extensive archives.

During the ceremony to sign the Society's charter, which took place at the historic Eden Congregational Church, the Society proclaimed its intent to "discover, preserve and disseminate knowledge of the history of the Hayward Area." Among the first artifacts to be donated was a pencil drawing of Mission Dolores and a copy of the Hayward Journal from 1894.

HAHS has reached a number of benchmarks in growth and prosperity over the last fifty years. It has published numerous books, an "Adobe Trails" member newsletter, established a museum, a research library, and has amassed a collection of thousands of historical artifacts, self-produced exhibitions and has been a partner in restoring historical property in Hayward.

As the Hayward Area Historical Society continues its progress, I join the community in wishing them a very happy 50th birthday and continued success.

HONORING FEDERAL JUDGE PAUL
BROWN

HON. RALPH M. HALL

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. HALL. Mr. Speaker, I am honored to pay tribute to one of the outstanding Federal judges in our Nation, U.S. District Judge Paul Brown, who is retiring after 21 years of distinguished service on the bench in the Eastern District of Texas. Judge Brown has been my good friend for many years, and he is a respected and beloved judge and member of the community in Sherman, Texas.

Judge Brown represents the finest qualities of jurisprudence. Hanging on his wall in the Sherman Federal Courthouse are Socrates' four qualities for a good judge—to hear courteously, to answer wisely, to consider soberly, and to decide impartially. Judge Brown embodied all of these qualities, and he dispensed justice accordingly. He was highly regarded, well-respected, and was a role model for many.

Paul Brown was the youngest of a family of six raised on a farm near Pottsboro, TX. He graduated from Denison High School and although underage, he got his parents' consent to join the U.S. Navy when World War II broke out. He served as a minesweeper in both the Atlantic and Pacific Theaters and as a part of the occupation forces in Japan. He was discharged as an Electrician's Mate 2nd Class in June 1946.

He returned to his studies and received a law degree in 1950 from the University of Texas before being recalled to active duty in the Korean war. He saw combat aboard a minesweeper which was sunk by mines, and he received an honorable discharge in December 1951.

Judge Brown began his practice of law following the war and following President Dwight Eisenhower's election, he went to work as an assistant U.S. Attorney in Texarkana under U.S. Attorney William Steger, who would become his mentor, good friend, and fellow colleague on the bench in the Eastern District until Judge Steger's passing this year. He served as Assistant U.S. Attorney from 1953 to 1959, then followed in Judge Steger's footsteps as U.S. District Attorney from 1959 to 1961.

While in Texarkana, Judge met and married Frances Morehead, and the two returned home to Sherman, where Judge Brown practiced law for a number of years. In 1985 Senator Phil Graham recommended him to President Ronald Reagan for a new judge's position created for the Eastern District of Texas, and Judge was confirmed that year. He held court in Beaumont, Paris, Sherman, and Texarkana, and as the caseload in Sherman grew, he eventually presided over the Sherman courthouse exclusively.

Premiere cases over the years included intellectual property, patent cases, and criminal cases precipitated by the bank and savings and loan failures of the 1980s and 1990s. In recent years he noted the increase in drug cases and expressed his regret that, in spite of all the efforts that have been made to prosecute drug dealers, the Nation is not making much progress in curtailing the use of drugs. No matter what type of cases came before him, Judge Brown always enjoyed the work and ran an efficient and orderly courtroom. His personal work ethic and judicial integrity have been remarkable, and his reputation for punctuality has been legendary.

At his retirement reception, hundreds of local attorneys, area judges and friends and family paid tribute to Judge Brown. The Eastern District Chief Judge, Thad Heartfield, speaking for the 15 judges on their court, has recommended that Congress name the U.S. District Courthouse in Sherman the "Paul Brown U.S. Courthouse." Judge Heartfield noted that Judge Brown has demonstrated the finest qualities of a U.S. district judge: knowledge of the law, courtesy, patience, wisdom and compassion. It will be my pleasure to introduce legislation to that end.

As we near adjournment of the 109th Congress, I ask my colleagues to join me in celebrating the life of a great American, outstanding public servant, and respected jurist, the Honorable Paul Brown, U.S. District Judge for the Eastern District of Texas.

PAYING TRIBUTE TO BONNIE SCHOFIELD

HON. JON C. PORTER

OF NEVADA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. PORTER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Mrs. Bonnie Schofield for her dedication to the community and families she served.

Bonnie has been serving 22 families in Hiko, NV, as a postmaster relief since 1973, 6 hours a day, 6 days a week. Last year, she became postmaster. Bonnie's families picked their mail up at the post office in front of her house in an old-fashioned way. Instead of using the modern-day post office boxes, the mail was sorted into old-fashioned sacks Bonnie handmade herself and then hung onto pegs. Families would then pick up their mail while the traditions of past generations stayed intact.

For the 30 years prior to her appointment as postmaster, Bonnie's mother-in-law held the position. Her daughter also continues the family tradition for she was named postmaster for 2004 in Alamo, NV. Bonnie also has served the National Association of Postmasters of the U.S., NAPUS, as state president, on its state council, and representing Nevada in Washington, DC.

On December 1, 2006, Bonnie retired from her position as postmaster and, with her, lay to rest the traditions of Hiko's community. What she will miss the most is the customer interaction and personalized service. Now that she is retired, she plans on nurturing her garden and traveling with her husband of 49 years. Bonnie also plans on spending more time with her 4 children, 18 grandchildren, and 8 great-grandchildren.

Mr. Speaker, it is with great honor that I recognize the gracious efforts of Mrs. Bonnie Schofield. Her diligence and dedication are to be admired. I wish her luck with all her future endeavors.

PAYING TRIBUTE TO ERSILIA CRUZ

HON. JOHN T. SALAZAR

OF COLORADO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. SALAZAR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize a woman who made a difference to so many people in the community of Pueblo, CO.

Ersilia Cruz, who was a driving force for Hyde Park and "remodeling the West Side," as she put it, died of a stroke Friday. She was 75.

She helped bring the Cesar Chavez Academy and, most recently, the Dolores Huerta Preparatory High School to Hyde Park. She was director for many programs at the Hyde Park Community Center, was active at church and, her family said, had strong interests in the community and children.

Her son Steve said that Ersilia decided to stay alive long past when she was supposed to because "she wanted to talk to everyone before she left. She wasn't going until everyone in the family talked to her, and the whole week was like that. She was all family. That's what she stood for, and it was a neat experience for our family."

The recipient of several local, State and national awards, Cruz's most distinguished was probably the Dorothy Richardson Award in 2003, for which she was flown to Washington.

That same year she also had a street in Hyde Park named after her, called Cruz Court.

In the 1970s, Cruz operated G&E Grocery Store and later worked for Kwik Way and PDQ convenience stores, from which she retired while a manager.

Cruz is survived by her husband of 59 years, George. The two met and wed in Mora, NM.

Mrs. Cruz also is survived by 20 grandchildren, 22 great-grandchildren and a great-great-granddaughter.

The entire community of Pueblo, CO, will miss Ersilia Cruz.

TRIBUTE TO THE 2006 KENWOOD
ELEMENTARY SCHOOL
ROBOTIACS TEAM

HON. PETER J. VISCLOSKY

OF INDIANA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. VISCLOSKY. Mr. Speaker, it is with great pride and enthusiasm that I take this time to recognize the 2006 Kenwood Elementary School Robotiacs. The team, which competes as part of the FIRST LEGO League (FLL), recently finished in first place for robot design and second place overall at the local competition held in Hammond, Indiana on November 11, 2006. With their success, the Robotiacs have advanced to the State competition, which will be held at Indiana University—Purdue University in Fort Wayne, IN on December 9, 2006.

The FLL is the result of an alliance between For Inspiration and Recognition of Science and Technology, FIRST, and the LEGO Company. The purpose of the FLL is to allow students to be creative and, with the assistance of mentors, solve real-world engineering challenges, develop important life skills, and learn to make positive contributions to society.

Kenwood Elementary School has been no stranger to success in this competition. This is the 4th consecutive year they have won first place awards at the regional level, which includes awards for research and robot design, as well as an overall championship. They advanced each of these years to compete at the State level, each time competing against more than 45 other teams. One of these State competitions resulted in the team being honored with the distinguished Judge's Award.

The 2006 Robotiacs team consists of: Lena Colon, R.J. Groszewski, and Antonio Rosa, all sixth grade students, and two new members, third grade student Christopher Tucker and fifth grade student Connor Westerfield. With this year's theme being centered on nanotechnology, the team was given the task of creating a way to use existing technologies or to create a new product utilizing nanostructures. The result of their research and innovation was a quite impressive roofing system, which produces hydrogen that is compressed, stored, and used in the future by a fuel cell found in a home, thus eliminating the need for dependence on natural gas, oil, and coal. This, which the team is quick to point out, is very different than a solar panel that uses the sun's energy to produce electricity.

The Robotiacs are coached by Mrs. Alicia Madeka, a third grade teacher at Kenwood Elementary School. Mrs. Madeka, who has coached the team for the past 4 years, is a shining example of what it means to be a teacher. She is dedicated to educating tomorrow's leaders, and she encourages these students to realize that through hard work and self-sacrifice, they can make a significant contribution to the future.

Mrs. Madeka and these amazing students are truly an inspiration to their school and the community. The Robotiacs' commitment to furthering their knowledge in math, science, and technology, and then using this knowledge in ways that can benefit society is truly remarkable. The tireless efforts of all involved in such endeavors are a source of pride for the community and the First Congressional District.

I would be remiss if I did not take a moment to offer a word of praise to all of the faculty, administrators, and supporters who play a special role in enriching these young lives with the desire to learn and succeed. Finally, special recognition is due for the parents and guardians of these gifted students. It is clear that these individuals have been raised in an environment where character and work ethic are instilled at an early age, and for that, they are to be commended.

Mr. Speaker, it is with great pride that I congratulate the Kenwood Robotiacs, Mrs. Alicia Madeka, and Principal Mary Beth Nickolaou on their success, and I wish them continued success as they go on to participate in the State competition this weekend. These gifted young students possess the work ethic and dedication that will make them successful leaders and contributing members of society throughout their lives. I hope that the rest of my colleagues will join with me in applauding the Kenwood Robotiacs for their commendable efforts.

He continued to shape the culture of Baldwin-Wallace to reflect values of diversity, expression, global interconnectedness, and spirituality. Mr. Speaker and colleagues, please join me in honor and recognition of Dr. Mark H. Collier, as he leaves the post of President of Baldwin-Wallace College in Berea, Ohio, an academic institution which I know has benefited in tremendous ways through his time, effort, and leadership throughout the past 31 years.

IN HONOR OF NANCY ANN BUDDEN

HON. SAM FARR

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. FARR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor my good friend Nancy Ann Budden as she transitions to a new career. She currently serves as Associate Provost for Strategic Development at the Naval Postgraduate School in Monterey, California, and as of December 1, 2006 she will become the Director for Counter Terrorism Technology under the Secretary of Defense.

Nancy graduated from Carmel High School with the highest honors, earned her Bachelor of Sciences in Earth Sciences from the University of California at Santa Cruz in 1974, went on to get her Master of Sciences in Marine Geology from Oregon State University's School of Oceanography in 1977, and also took an M.B.A. at California Lutheran University's Graduate School of Business in 1982, again with highest honors. From earth science to counter terrorism seems like a big step, but it's not at all surprising for those of us who know Nancy.

In 1977 Ms. Budden joined Union Oil Company of California, (UNOCAL), as an exploration geologist and oceanographer. There she conducted research and wells site geology, and served as chief scientist on research vessels conducting exploratory cruises off the shore of California.

In 1983 she joined the National Science Foundation in Washington D.C. as a White House Placement in the Reagan Administration, where she worked in Science Policy and Planning for the Assistant Director for Geosciences.

Nancy began a long career with NASA in 1988 at the Johnson Space Center in Houston, Texas, where she was Manager of the Office of Science Integration within the Lunar and Mars Exploration Program Office. During those years she participated in mission planning for human missions to the Moon and to Mars, published technical papers in professional journals and books, spoke to professional and government audiences around the world, and appeared on television programs and films dealing with the human exploration of space. She accepted several special assignments: Project Scientist for the NASA and NSF Antarctic Space Analog Program, and Acting Deputy Director of NASA's Mission Development Office. Nancy continues her association with NASA to this day as Acting Chair of NASA Headquarters Advisory Committee on Planetary Protection, and as Visiting Scientist to the Lunar and Planetary Institute. She is also an Associate Fellow of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics.

In 1999 Nancy's husband, R. Terrance Budden, President of UNOCAL, was transferred to Dhaka, Bangladesh with UNOCAL Bangladesh, Ltd. Nancy and their son, Spencer, accompanied him on this assignment. Nancy worked two years there as Director of the Office of External Affairs. In that short period of time Nancy was instrumental in building the first tuberculosis hospital in Bangladesh, four regional libraries, and seven schools. She was a team leader for the regional joint USAID and UNOCAL Polio Campaign, and in 2000 she coordinated national flood relief efforts with CARE and Shell Oil Company.

After Bangladesh she returned to the Monterey Bay area with her family and began yet another career at the Naval Postgraduate School as Associate Provost for Strategic Development. In this capacity she worked with various directorates within the defense, intelligence and academic realms to advance the mission and accomplishments of NPS. These included the Office of the Secretary of Defense, the Combatant Commands, Combating Terrorism Technology Task Force, OSD Office of Stabilization and Reconstruction, Departments of Homeland Defense and Homeland Security, the Office of Naval Research, NASA, the National Science Foundation, and advisory bodies such as the Defense Science Board, National Research Council, and the Naval Research Advisory Committee.

I have known and worked with Nancy over a number of years, but especially in helping save the NPS and DLI from base closure efforts. Her inside work was most helpful and in the end, successful.

Mr. Speaker, I join her colleagues, friends, and family in congratulating her on this well-deserved promotion.

TRIBUTE TO EULA HALL

HON. HAROLD ROGERS

OF KENTUCKY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. ROGERS of Kentucky. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Ms. Eula Hall, an exceptional Kentuckian. On October 27, 2006, friends and colleagues of Eula Hall gathered at the Mud Creek Clinic on Kentucky Route 979, KY 979, in Grethel, KY, to celebrate the life and accomplishments of a brave mountain woman. As a result of a resolution passed unanimously by the Kentucky General Assembly, KY 979 will be renamed Eula Hall Highway.

For the past 40 years, Eula Hall has probably traveled Kentucky Route 979 more than anyone else. She was a woman with a mission—to bring quality health care to people who had no medical insurance and could not afford to pay for things like visits to the doctor, shots, prescription medicine, much less surgery, physical therapy, and other more expensive treatments and procedures. She's made it her life's work to make sure that no one within her reach goes without the basic health care they need to live full, productive lives.

Born on Greasy Creek in Pike County, Eula didn't start school until she was 9 years old. She remembers crying on her last day of the eighth grade because she knew she couldn't continue her education. The closest high school was about 20 miles away, and school buses did not travel that far out in the county. She had six brothers and sisters; her parents didn't own a vehicle and as farm workers they couldn't afford to send her to boarding school or college.

In 1973, as a young mother raising five children on her own, she realized the terrible toll that lack of proper health care took on people without money or insurance. She organized screenings using medical students from the University of Kentucky and Vanderbilt as well as volunteer nurses and physicians. They found undiagnosed tuberculosis, pneumoconiosis—black lung, diabetes, heart disease, and high blood pressure. Shortly afterward, Eula managed to get a clinic licensed to operate on Mud Creek in Floyd County. The Mud Creek Clinic opened in a rented house on Tinker Fork, which it quickly outgrew. Hall moved the facility to her own home on Mink Branch. Her house was bigger and easier to get to. But it meant moving her family into a mobile home. Eula Hall picked up patients and took them home because many of them had no means of transportation.

By 1977 the clinic merged with Big Sandy Health Care, which remains its parent organization today. Today, there are 24 employees, including two full-time physicians, a full-time certified physician assistant, and a part-time doctor. The clinic is housed in a modern brick building with another facility behind it that houses a dental clinic and food pantry. Now she even works to get people their rightful Social Security and other benefits. Eula Hall is 78 years old but still goes to work at 8 o'clock every morning.

Mr. Speaker, on behalf of my colleagues and myself, I want to thank Eula Hall for her sacrifices and service on behalf of the people of Floyd County, KY. Her dedication and integrity are an inspiration to us all.

Kathryn was inducted as president at a ceremony on Friday, December 1, 2006.

Kathryn is an agent with the Century 21 Alliance in Blue Bell, Pennsylvania. She joined the Central Montgomery County Association of Realtors in 1986 and rose to various leadership roles before it merged with several local real estate groups to form the current association in 1998.

Kathryn currently holds the position of Vice President for the local group, and she serves as a Director and a member of the Standard Forms Committee for the Pennsylvania Association of Realtors.

In addition to the dedication she shows to her organization, Kathryn, a former nurse, volunteers her energy and time to the community through numerous church, civic, and charitable organizations. She balances all of her community commitments with caring for her two daughters and husband in Norristown.

Mr. Speaker, I ask that my colleagues join me today in honoring Kathryn Opperman on her installation as the President of the Montgomery County Association of Realtors and extending best wishes for a successful tenure in leading this outstanding professional organization.

Despite strict Army regulations and the difficulties imposed by segregation, Dr. Withers always performed bravely and with the highest moral and ethical standards. Indeed, during the war, Dr. Withers courageously rescued two Polish Jewish orphan boys from the Dachau concentration camp. Thanks to his heroic efforts, one of those boys became a successful businessman in Connecticut. Dr. Withers stayed in touch with that young man all of his life.

PE

HON. EDOLPHUS TOWNS

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. TOWNS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in recognition of Alton A. Burton, PE, a distinguished member of the New York City community. It behooves us to pay tribute to this outstanding leader and I hope my colleagues will join me in recognizing his impressive accomplishments.

During the course of history there have been a select few people known as visionaries. Mr. Burton is one these visionaries that view our world not as it necessarily is, but as it can be.

Alton A. Burton was a U.S. Air Force lieutenant, serving as bombardier, navigator, and pilot during World War II. After distinguished service in our Armed Forces as a Tuskegee Airman, Mr. Burton pursued the power of ideas through higher education by obtaining a Bachelor of Science and Masters Degrees in Civil Engineering. He also obtained a license as a Professional Engineer, PE, in the State of New York. Soon after receiving his degrees and license, Alton A. Burton, PE, joined the staff of the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey in design engineering. Mr. Burton's assignments included contract plans for various facilities, including marine terminals. Little did Mr. Burton know that he was being positioned by the hand of destiny for something more. During the 1950s and 60s, Mr. Burton toiled in the eye of the storm of civil and political unrest, a time of cultural, human and civil rights crisis. Against all odds, Alton A. Burton was able to understand the situation and conditions of a racially charged environment and era that would have been deemed impossible. In 1962, the late Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, appointed Mr. Burton the Chief Civil Engineer in charge of the planning phase of the multi-billion dollar project known as the World Trade Center.

In the minds of most Americans, the deeply disturbing images of the inferno that engulfed the Twin Towers and then the crumbling to the ground after being hit by two hijacked commercial airliners 5 years ago on 9-11-01, will never be forgotten. Most of us are unaware that over 40 years ago, Chief Civil Engineer Alton A. Burton designed and fortified the infrastructure, which accounted for the reliability of the Twin Tower structures to withstand tremendous force, including that of an earthquake. Chief Civil Engineer Alton A. Burton and his team of civil engineers had no idea that some 40 or so years later, terrorists would fly jets into the towers. Because of the fortification of the infrastructure, due to Mr. Burton's vision and preparation for the unexpected, the towers as damaged as they were, managed to hold—giving our first responders, EMS, NYPD, FDNY and other emergency units a grace period to do what they do best, save lives. If not for Chief Civil Engineer Alton A. Burton's vision of a fortified infrastructure, the World Trade Center's Twin Towers would have immediately toppled to the streets below. With steel beams heating to over 3000 degrees F, the infrastructure still managed to endure. The North Tower held for 1 hour 42 minutes and the South Tower for 56 minutes before the total collapse. We note with regret that approximately 3,000 lives were lost that infamous day and we offer our sincere condolences to their families. However, keeping in mind Mr. Burton's efforts to fortify the infrastructure with the best materials known to architectural and civil engineering at that time, between 10,000 and 20,000 individuals were safely evacuated from the towers and surrounding areas, so many more lives were saved.

Chief Alton A. Burton's prolific civil engineering work carries with it profound moral and philosophical insight, possessing power without arrogance, bringing redemptive clarity whose truths have never been more necessary, as we honor the lives of those that were lost and their legacy by how we live. Alton A. Burton, PE has risen at the age of 82 years-old to become a Great American Hero, and we claim him as one of our own, both in title and in spirit. As our Nation moves forward with a unified purpose, we realize that purpose is perhaps more significant than outcome. It is what we all become in the process to embrace all of the opportunities this country has to offer is the real purpose. Alton A. Burton continues to live his life with purpose. The people of the City of New York, the United States of America and the world became a better place because Mr. Burton has given us all his best; and he has created a mark in American history and the world that cannot be erased.

Mr. Speaker, I believe that there are no words too magnanimous to fully describe our gratitude; we thank former Chief Civil Engineer Alton A. Burton for inspiring modesty, selfless devotion of the advancement of humanity, through his devoted service to the United States of America.

Mr. Speaker, I believe that it is incumbent on this body to recognize that in Alton A. Burton, PE, we have an outstanding citizen worthy of the highest respect and esteem, from his community, the City of New York and our Nation.

TRIBUTE TO JERRIS LEONARD, A GREAT AMERICAN

HON. RALPH M. HALL

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. HALL. Mr. Speaker, I am honored today to pay tribute to a great American, outstanding public servant, and an esteemed colleague and good friend, the Honorable Jerris Leonard, whose sudden passing on July 27, 2006, was mourned by his family and countless friends whose lives he touched. Jerris's life was devoted to God, family, country, and his fellow man, and he leaves a legacy of integrity and service that will long be remembered and appreciated.

Jerris received his undergraduate and law degrees from Marquette University, where he was president of the Marquette student body and was elected to Alpha Sigma Nu, the National Jesuit Honor Society. Following graduation from Marquette University Law School in 1955, Jerris began his career in Wisconsin. He was elected to the Wisconsin Assembly in 1956, representing the North Shore suburbs of Milwaukee. In 1960 he was elected to the state Senate and became Senate majority leader in 1967. In 1968 he was the Republican nominee for the U.S. Senate, but lost to incumbent Senator Gaylord Nelson.

In 1969 Jerris moved his family to Washington, D.C., when he was appointed by President Nixon and confirmed by the U.S. Senate as Assistant Attorney General for Civil Rights. He served in that capacity until 1971, when President Nixon appointed him the first Administrator of the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, a position he held for the next two years. Jerris remained in Washington, where he has been actively engaged in the practice of law and advocacy. Most recently, in 2005, he launched The Leonard Group to focus on legislative and lobbying activities. He also served on the Bush-Cheney Transition Department of Justice Advisory Committee, which helped the Administration find key candidates for the agency.

In recognition of his considerable accomplishments, Jerris was the recipient of the Lifetime Achievement Award from Marquette University Law School in 2000. In 1969 he received the Belle Case LaFollette Outstanding Professional Award from the Wisconsin Law Foundation. He is the author of numerous articles and was frequently invited to speak to groups throughout the United States.

Jerris was one of the original true conservatives, who championed core conservative values throughout his career and through his service in various organizations, such as Free Congress. His intellect and experience were invaluable to advancing the conservative agenda, and his engaging personality and enthusiasm for policy and politics were contagious. Jerris was a true statesman who made friends on both sides of the political aisle.

His friendships extended well beyond the realm of politics and career, however. He made friends in all walks of life. "He treated everyone the same, and that is what I think made him special," said his daughter Kate Leonard. On the day he was to be sworn in by President Nixon as an assistant attorney general, Jerris gathered his children and instructed them that they were going to meet the President, but they were to remember that the man who parks the car is just as important and just as deserving of respect.

Jerris was devoted to his wife, Mariellen, to whom he was married for 52 years, and to his family. He took an active interest in the lives of his six children and attended countless sports events and other activities in which they were involved. In addition to Mariellen, he is survived by his children, Mary Leonard Ralston and husband David, Gib Leonard and wife Joni, John Leonard and wife Jeannine, Kathleen (Kate) Leonard, Francis Leonard and wife Kelly, and Daniel Leonard and wife Kelly, 16 grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren. He was greatly loved.

Mr. Speaker, many of our colleagues in the House of Representatives knew and admired Jerris Leonard. I valued his friendship and advice, as did so many others, and we will greatly miss him. It is impossible to fully grasp the breadth and depth of a life of someone like Jerris, who gave every project or responsibility his very best effort and who lived his life with boundless enthusiasm and compassion. He was a role model and mentor to so many, and he leaves a powerful legacy that will last for generations to come. As we adjourn today, let us do so in tribute to this great American, dedicated public servant, and truly great man—Jerris Leonard.

PAYING TRIBUTE TO PHIL WELLAND

HON. JON C. PORTER

OF NEVADA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. PORTER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Mr. Phil Welland for his endless kindness to those members of our community who are less fortunate.

Phil spent hours dedicating his life to providing various items to charity organizations to help those in need. He sewed blankets, handbags, smocks for kindergarten students for finger painting, and even some graduation gowns for grade school students.

Phil was born on March 27, 1913 and worked for 40 years as a lithographer for National Can in Maspeth, NY, where he worked as supervisor. Under his direction, the company honored a contract to make bomb shells and other can items during World War II. In 1988, he and his family moved to Las Vegas, Nevada.

When he was a young man, Phil learned to sew and, from that, his passion grew, reaching the lives of hundreds of less fortunate people through various charity organizations. After he retired and his wife passed away, Phil moved in with his daughter and her family where he purchased two separate sewing machines to accomplish his work. He began making bags and smocks for young people for Paragon Pools, his son-in-law, Joe Vassallo's company, which was doing charity work for Street Teens at the time. Over the years, he donated at least 500 bags to Street Teens. Other charity organizations that he donated his handiwork included Child Focus, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army, St. Jude's Ranch for Children, CCSD Title 1 HOPE education resource organization for homeless students, NECHN Partial Care—a New Jersey hospital servicing the mentally challenged—and New Jersey's St. Thomas preschool/kindergarten.

What made Phil's work unique, though, was the tag he placed inside each finished product. Each little tag read, "Made Especially for You by Phil Welland." He always thought ahead and, even though he recently passed away, his final donation of bags and blankets will be this Christmas to Child Focus.

Mr. Speaker, I gladly rise today to honor a selfless citizen who dedicated his life to helping others. His warmhearted acts of kindness will truly be missed by those he touched.

PAYING TRIBUTE TO LT. COL.
(RET.) JAMES M. GRECO

HON. JOHN T. SALAZAR

OF COLORADO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. SALAZAR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to the life of retired Lieutenant Colonel James M. Greco of Canon City, Colorado—a beloved husband of 37 years, father of two, corrections official and veteran, who passed away on November 27th.

It was a privilege to know Jim and I offer my deepest condolences to his family and friends.

Jim was born in Pittsburgh and graduated from Immaculate Conception High School in Washington, PA. After graduation, Jim enlisted as a United States Marine and served in Vietnam in 1965.

Jim earned his B.A. from Northwestern Oklahoma State University, an M.A. from Oklahoma City University, and an M.A. from the Army Command and General Staff College. He received an Army Reserve Commission in 1974 and retired in 2004, after having served a decorated and distinguished military career.

Jim worked as a corrections official with the Federal Bureau of Prisons for 25 years, holding various assignments throughout eight states.

Prior to his death, he worked as a defense contractor and was scheduled to deploy to Africa later this month in support of ongoing military operations worldwide.

But Jim will be remembered most as a kind and gentle soul, whose charisma and caring nature endeared him to his many friends and family members.

Although Jim left us at far too young an age, he made the most of every day that he spent on this earth. We can all learn from his example.

For his dedication, courage and service to our nation, he will be greatly missed. But he will live on in the memories of the many people whose lives he touched.

May he rest in peace.

TRIBUTE TO DR. AND MRS. DAVID AND NANCY GROSS

HON. PETER J. VISCLOSKY

OF INDIANA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. VISCLOSKY. Mr. Speaker, it is with great pride and sincerity that I take this time to honor Dr. and Mrs. David and Nancy Gross of Schererville, Indiana. On Sunday, December 3, 2006, David and Nancy were honored for their years of service and many contributions to the Jewish Federation of Northwest Indiana and the community it serves. The Jewish Federation of Northwest Indiana honored David and Nancy at the 2006 Northwest Indiana Israel Dinner of State, which was held at the Jewish Federation Community Building in Munster, Indiana.

David Gross, originally from Canton, Ohio, has always proved himself to be a dedicated member of the Jewish community. From a very young age, David realized the need for community participation in causes aimed at supporting the State of Israel. As a fourth grade student, David's abilities in this regard began to emerge, as he organized an event that would raise over one thousand dollars for the Jewish United Fund (JUF). Throughout his youth, David was committed to the goals of the JUF, to help provide for the survival and welfare of the Jewish people and to benefit all mankind. Since relocating from Chicago to Northwest Indiana, following completion of his residency in Ophthalmology, David has continued to spend much of his spare time working with the Jewish community. He has served on numerous committees with the Congregation Beth Israel (CBI), and he has also contributed a great deal of time working on the Jewish Federation's annual fundraising campaign.

Nancy Gross, a native of Highland Park, Illinois, has always shared the same compassion and willingness as her husband to serve. Nancy has made her commitment to the Jewish community known through her contributions to several organizations, including ORT, which strives to educate communities with the skills and knowledge necessary to succeed in an ever-changing environment and to foster self-sufficiency. Nancy has also served on and chaired several committees, including programs of the Jewish Center Youth Camp and K'ton Ton, where her children attended, not to mention her many contributions to the CBI, where she currently serves on the school board. Like David, Nancy has seen the importance of the Jewish Federation's annual fundraising campaign, even serving as co-chair for the campaign. Nancy's commitment to youth and her willingness to share her time and talents with her community is truly remarkable, and for this, she is most deserving of the honors bestowed upon her.

While they remain truly committed to the Jewish community, David and Nancy's greatest enjoyment is the time spent with their three beautiful daughters: Samantha, Rachel, and Elly. David and Nancy's commitment to improving the future for the youth and the entire Jewish community is surely an extension of their commitment to their daughters.

Mr. Speaker, at this time, I ask that you and my other distinguished colleagues join me in congratulating Dr. and Mrs. David and Nancy Gross as they are honored for their service and dedication to the Jewish community. Their years of service have touched and improved the lives of all whom they have served. Their unselfish and lifelong dedication is worthy of the highest commendation, and I am proud to represent them in Congress.

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. KUCINICH. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to celebrate the efforts of Mr. Jim Rokakis, who has dedicated his life to public service in Ohio. Mr. Rokakis has improved life for all residents of Cuyahoga County as he initiates sweeping reform from the treasurer's office. He has been dedicated to both economic development and job creation and retention.

Mr. Rokakis has served diligently both Cuyahoga County and Ohio. Mr. Rokakis represented Cleveland's Ward 15 as councilman for 19 years, the final seven of which he served as Chairman of the Finance Committee. As councilman, Mr. Rokakis aided in upgrading Cleveland's bond rating, improving the city's investment returns, was a leader in developing the Gateway Sports Complex, responsible for Cleveland's gun buy-back program, the Indoor Clean Air Act, the creation of Cleveland's Housing Court, and a law aimed at fighting car thefts. Since 1997, Mr. Rokakis has excelled as Cuyahoga County Treasurer where his innovative ideas have revolutionized the county's investment and collection procedures.

Mr. Rokakis has significantly improved Cuyahoga County's investment function, increasing the county's return and the diversification of the portfolio, while significantly reducing the fees spent on advisory services. He worked successfully to pass several Ohio House bills to better serve the state. In addition, Mr. Rokakis' work has earned him the recognition of The Cleveland Plain Dealer who in 1999–2001 awarded the county's portfolio as having the best performance among those evaluated for the period; as well as being honored by the State of Israel Bonds for his values and ideals rooted in democracy and the inalienable rights of working men and women. Specifically, Mr. Rokakis developed the Home Enhancement Loan Program, the first of its kind in the country, which has received the Community Impact Award from Dominion East Ohio/Inside Business Magazine, an award from the National Association of the Remodeling Industry, and won the 2003 EPA Smart Growth Award. As treasurer, Mr. Rokakis has aided in developing numerous programs to better all residents from students to seniors.

RECOGNIZING HUTTON HOUSE

HON. GEORGE RADANOVICH

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize Hutton House, a State-licensed youth shelter, for providing 30 years of steadfast commitment to troubled teens and their families in Central California.

Hutton House began in 1976 with the goal of providing a safe, temporary shelter for runaway, homeless, and youth in crisis. In addition to providing the shelter, it is also a goal of Hutton House to provide resources aimed at keeping these youth off the streets, out of the criminal justice system and to aid in mending relationships with their families.

For the past 30 years, Hutton House has made great strides to meet and expand its original goals. The center has been remodeled to accommodate up to eight youth, and some of the services they now offer are: individual, group and family counseling; meals and snacks for both residential and non-residential clients; bus passes and transportation to medical appointments; coordination of medical, dental and counseling services; youth development activities; reunification planning so that youth can return home or to another permanent housing situation; substance abuse intervention; and parent education. Hutton House is currently the only facility helping youth from Stockton to Fresno and from the foothills to the Bay area.

Mr. Speaker, I rise to recognize Hutton House for 30 years of dedication and philanthropy to troubled youth and their families. I urge my colleagues to join me in wishing Hutton House years of continued beneficence and success.

IN HONOR OF TED BURKE AND BOB MUNCEYHON. SAM FARR

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. FARR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the generosity of the co-owners of the Shadowbrook Restaurant in the city of Capitola, Ted Burke and Bob Muncey. The Shadowbrook is known as one of the best restaurants in Santa Cruz County. But I am not here to commend them on their wonderful cuisine. I stand here today to thank them for their humanity and kindness to those in need.

Since 1982, Big Brothers Big Sisters of Santa Cruz County has created one-on-one mentoring relationships between children and responsible, caring, and dependable adult volunteers. These volunteers provide guidance and friendship to children in need. Many times these adults act as role models to children who lack this type of support system in their homes. The vast majority of the children live in very low-income, single-parent households. The mentoring services of Big Brothers Big Sisters have proven effective in preventing juvenile delinquency and decreasing school drop out rates. It also improves self-esteem, as well as peer-family relationships. By exposing children to new opportunities, the volunteer mentors show that options do exist; no matter how difficult the child's situation or life experience.

In 1986, Ted Burke and Bob Muncey began a tradition of closing down the Shadowbrook Restaurant to host a luncheon for the little brothers and sisters and their mentors. Ted Burke has carried on this tradition. During the past 20 years, over 1,000 children and volunteer mentors have shared the warmth of the holiday season at a restaurant many of the children may never have had the pleasure to dine at. Not only do the co-owners provide an amazing festive meal to the children, but the staff of the establishment volunteer their time to serve the children and volunteers.

Ted is no stranger to the challenges of raising a family. He has been a single parent and knows the value of mentoring in a child's life. He values those who take their time to spend with children, and he is aware that many of these children neither expect nor ask for anything in return. For many of the children, the holidays serve as an additional reminder of the hardship they face, as there may be very few if any gifts beneath the tree. Ted and his staff kindly share the holiday spirit with these children. This annual luncheon is a way to not only thank the mentors for their dedication and service, but to bring joy to the children during the holiday season.

Mr. Speaker, for all of these reasons it is with gratitude that I acknowledge the Shadowbrook Restaurant during this holiday season for 20 years of unselfish giving.

RECOGNIZING THE NEW ERA CAP COMPANY ON THE OPENING OF THEIR NEW CORPORATE HEAD-

Mr. HIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to one of western New York's premier local corporate citizens, New Era Cap Company.

New Era began producing hats in Buffalo in 1920 and has been one of the local communities most stable companies ever since.

While the production and corporate facilities moved to the rural region surrounding the city of Buffalo, New Era has always remained loyal to western New York.

New Era is and will always be a western New York company, and they proved that point once again when their new corporate headquarters opened in the heart of downtown Buffalo, Saturday, November 25.

For their investments made into the community and their commitment to excellence, I pay tribute to the New Era Cap Company as they embark on another chapter in their marvelous history.

TRIBUTE TO CLYDE A. THOMAS,
SR.HON. HAROLD ROGERS

OF KENTUCKY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. ROGERS of Kentucky. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay to pay tribute to an exceptional Kentuckian, Judge Clyde Thomas. After serving 16 years as Rowan County Judge Executive, Judge Thomas is retiring and embarking on a new stage of life. I want to express my deepest gratitude for his many contributions and years of public service.

Clyde Thomas' service in Kentucky began almost 50 years ago as a dispatcher for the Kentucky State Police. In 1964 he graduated from the Kentucky State Police Academy and 6 years later was promoted to Detective Sergeant after earning the highest test score in the history of the Kentucky State Police. Clyde Thomas was later promoted to Lieutenant and graduated from the FBI National Academy. Before his retirement in 1984, Clyde Thomas made many positive changes and contributions to the Kentucky State Police, including serving as the first president of the Kentucky State Police Professional Association.

With this keen law enforcement background and a commitment to our community, Clyde Thomas was elected Rowan County Judge Executive in 1989. During his tenure, Judge Thomas has been a strong leader for various job creation and community development projects transforming this rural county into a formidable, regional economic engine. Judge Thomas has championed countywide sewer and infrastructure improvements including the recent expansion of the Morehead Wastewater Treatment Facility. Through his efforts, more than 1,500 homes and businesses have adequate sewer. Another 100 sub-standard road bridges have been upgraded, and over 250 miles of roadway paved all under his careful watch.

Judge Executive Thomas has kick-started several long-term growth initiatives including securing a new Army National Guard Readiness Center, expanding regional healthcare and educational facilities, and working with county neighbors to construct industrial development zones. I particularly want to acknowledge the Judge's strong backing of the new airport in Rowan County which will be a general aviation hub and important gateway to eastern Kentucky. By bringing local leaders together and working with the State and federally elected leadership, including myself, Judge Thomas has brought a first-rate, 5,500 foot, safe and secure airport to our region. This project will bring economic benefits and a robust aviation industry well into the future.

Mr. Speaker, I want to thank Judge Clyde Thomas for his sacrifice and service on behalf of the people of Rowan County, KY, and the entire Commonwealth. Although his days as Rowan County Judge Executive are drawing to a close, I know his contributions will live on for many years to come. I want to wish him and his family all the best for this new chapter in life.

TRIBUTE TO RICHARD GROVOM

HON. DALE E. KILDEE

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. KILDEE. Mr. Speaker, I ask the House of Representatives to join me in paying tribute to Richard Grovom as he prepares to donate his 307th pint of blood to the American Red Cross.

Richard began donating blood in 1945 when he was in the U.S. Army. One of his fellow soldiers needed emergency surgery and Richard stepped forward and donated blood. He continued donating on and off over the next 10 years until 1955. At that time his oldest daughter was born with a peptic ulcer. She was 2 days old, bleeding, and was given donated blood. The kindness of that anonymous person inspired Richard and he decided to make donating blood an ongoing part of his life. His motto is "It is better to give than receive."

When Richard had donated his 36th gallon of blood the Red Cross presented him with a case to hold the gallon pins he had earned over the years. He has now earned both his 37th and 38th gallon pins and the blood he donated when stationed at Camp Roberts in California is not included in this amount. A resident of Grand Blanc, Michigan, Richard is a retired tool and die foreman with Chevrolet. He is part of the elite group of Americans that donate blood. The American Red Cross estimates that 5 percent of our population donates blood, but 95 percent of Americans will need blood at least once in their lifetime.

Mr. Speaker please join me in congratulating Richard Grovom for his immense achievement and may God bless him for his generosity to his fellow citizens.

HONORING SPENCER COUNTY STUDENTS FOR THEIR PARTICIPATION IN NATIONAL HISTORY DAY

HON. RON LEWIS

OF KENTUCKY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. LEWIS of Kentucky. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize six remarkable students from the Spencer County School System for their participation and high achievement in the National History Day Competition held last month at the University of Maryland.

National History Day is an innovative history education program for students in grades 6–12 who are interested in improving their historical knowledge in a fun and challenging environment. Each year, students choose a topic congruent with an annual theme, conduct research, then synthesize and analyze their findings into a paper, exhibit, documentary or performance. These projects are then evaluated at the local, state, and national levels. Finalists from each level advance to the next round of competition.

This year's theme was "Rights and Responsibilities in History." Ten Shelby County students, who placed first or second at the state contest held at the Kentucky History Center in Frankfort last April, traveled to Washington, DC, to compete in the national contest at the University of Maryland, June 15–19. Together, they demonstrated great academic prowess, teamwork and sportsmanship before a regional audience, representing competitive values that make Kentucky proud.

I would like to commend Maureen McCoy, Paige Walls, Joel Fickel, Ashleigh Steever, Chase Thomas and Breisa Baker for their accomplishment. I would also like to recognize the effort and support of their coaches. I am very proud to represent these students, educators and their families.

I ask my colleagues in the U.S. House of Representatives to join me in congratulating these students for their achievement and wish them continued success in their promising future years.

IN RECOGNITION OF POLICE CHIEF RANDAL MICHAEL ULIBARRI

HON. FORTNEY PETE STARK

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. STARK. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Randal Michael Ulibarri, Chief of Police of the Union City, California Police Department. Chief Ulibarri is retiring after 30 years of exemplary service on the force.

Chief Ulibarri grew up in Fremont and first worked at the Pacific States Steel Mill in Union City and joined the police department in 1976. As an officer, he served as a member of the Department's Specialized Enforcement Response Team (SERT) and held the positions of Detective and Field Training Officer.

He rose through the ranks and was promoted to Sergeant on October 16, 1986. As a sergeant, Chief Ulibarri served as the SERT team leader. His other assignments included Personnel and Training Manager, Crime Prevention and Research Analysis Supervisor, and patrol watch commander. He is a graduate of the Herman Block Supervisory Leadership Institute.

On October 25, 1995, Chief Ulibarri was promoted to lieutenant and was assigned as the SERT team commander and in addition was assigned to the Administrative Division and Field Operations Division. He is credited with developing and implementing the Community Policing Program for the Department.

Chief Ulibarri was promoted to captain on December 15, 1997 and was responsible for administrative oversight over both the Support Services Division and the Field Operations Division. He attended the FBI National Academy in Quantico, Virginia and graduated with the 192nd class. He is a member of the California Police Chief's Association and the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

On July 20, 2000, Chief Ulibarri was promoted to the position of Chief of the Union City Police Department. During his long and distinguished career, two of his most noteworthy accomplishments are the development of the Volunteer Program and the Police Chaplain's Program.

Chief Ulibarri's colleagues, friends, family and admirers will come together on January 13, 2007 to honor his illustrious career as he retires after years of dedicated law enforcement service. I join in thanking him for a job well done.

A POSTHUMOUS TRIBUTE TO ERNESTINE THOMAS MORRISON

HON. EDOLPHUS TOWNS

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. TOWNS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in recognition of Mrs. Ernestine Thomas Morrison. Mrs. Morrison was a distinguished member of the Brooklyn, New York community. It behooves us to pay tribute posthumously to this outstanding leader and I hope my colleagues will join me in recognizing her impressive accomplishments.

Ernestine Thomas Morrison was born on June 8, 1935 in Birmingham, Alabama to Virginia Kirkland Allen Thomas and Ernest Thomas. During her early childhood years, she lived in Birmingham and Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania after the death of her father, who passed away when she was just 2 years-old. At age 12, her mother passed on and Ernestine went to live in Brooklyn, NY with her sister and brother-in-law, Cleopatra Allen Riley and Clifford Riley. Although her sister was just 22 years-old, Ernestine recognized her not only as her sister, but as a mother. Ernestine attended P.S. 41 and graduated from the old Girls High School in Brooklyn. She married the late Roscoe Morrison, a Korean War veteran and later they had three children, Ruth, Lavinia and Charles.

Mrs. Morrison more than loved her children; she doted over them, as they were her life. While they were in elementary school, she worked part-time in the schools that they attended to be certain that her children had the best teachers and received the best services that the schools had to offer. All who knew her, knew that her love for children went beyond her own children, as she adopted her friends' children, her children's friends, her clients, her clients' kids etc., and she had the pictures to prove it.

She was elected president of the Parent Teachers Association at P.S. 243 and JHS 210; and in those roles she served as a member of the local school board for Districts 16 and 17. Additionally, she managed a summer recreation program for the youth of Albany Houses, which included several athletic teams that competed against other teams from the housing developments around New York City. Mrs. Morrison coached the Albany Houses Girls' Volleyball Team and as a first-time coach, her beloved team brought home the city championship trophy.

Mrs. Morrison was a strong voice for African-American studies in schools and open enrollment. She compelled the principal of her children's elementary school to not only order more black history books, but to allow the children to borrow those books that were already in the library. She worked with Reverend Milton A. Galamison on open enrollment for New York City public schools, a tumultuous issue of that time. Mrs. Morrison's activism in the NYC school system presented her with the opportunity to meet on several occasions with the late Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller. Open enrollment in New York City went from a concept to a reality and children all over the city were now able to attend schools outside of their neighborhoods. It was no surprise that Mrs. Morrison's activism led her to politics. She was a very active member of Unity Democratic Club. She worked on the campaigns of the then Assemblywoman Shirley Chisholm, who later became the first African-American woman elected to the U.S. Congress. Other elected officials she worked with included the late Assemblyman Thomas R. Fortune; District Leader Narcissus Frett; Judges Thomas R. Jones, James Shaw and James Hutchinson; Assemblyman Edward Griffith and Congressman EDOLPHUS "ED" TOWNS.

She was also a member of Community Planning Board 5, which covers East New York, Spring Creek and Cypress Hills.

As her children grew older, she started a career in social work with the New York City Human Resources Administration. After her retirement in 1992, she went back to live in her birth home of Birmingham, Alabama, the place that she loved so dearly and longed to go back to. After being away for 50 years, Mrs. Morrison was in for a rude awakening. She was a New Yorker, no longer a Southerner and she didn't quite fit into the Southern lifestyle. Consequently, in 1999, she returned home to Brooklyn.

On Friday, August 22, 2003, God called home one of his best soldiers.

Mr. Speaker, I believe that it is incumbent on this body to recognize the accomplishments of Mrs. Ernestine Thomas Morrison as she spent many years offering her love, talents and services for the betterment of our local and national communities.

Mr. Speaker, Mrs. Ernestine Thomas Morrison's selfless service continuously demonstrated a level of altruistic dedication that makes her most worthy of our recognition today.

PAYING TRIBUTE TO LARRY WILLIAMS

HON. JON C. PORTER

OF NEVADA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. PORTER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the accomplishments and service contributions of Larry Williams, Veterans Services Coordinator for U.S. VETS—Las Vegas.

Mr. Williams has risen above the challenges of life and has triumphed over adversity to become a leader in the ranks of the U.S. VETS and as a 2005 AmeriCorps alum. AmeriCorps is the only national service collaboration serving homeless veterans. Before his service with AmeriCorps, Larry was a recipient of their charity. On July 29, 2003, an AmeriCorps member reached out to him, providing guidance and service. Larry attributes this simple act of compassion from Ron Bass as his turning point from hopelessness to a renewed life and future.

Just 3 months later, in October 2003, Larry was able to begin his journey of recovery upon entering the U.S. VETS—Los Angeles program. It was here over a 10-month period that he started to regain his independence and embark upon his own service within the Compensated Work Therapy Program. During this time he began to dream of helping other people in the way he had been helped by becoming an AmeriCorps member himself. Within a year, after being reunited with his wife and children in Las Vegas, Nevada, that dream of helping others came true.

Larry's service in AmeriCorps Outreach allowed him to meet with homeless veterans and non-veterans alike on the streets of Las Vegas, in shelters and in desert camps. It is estimated by the Veterans Administration that there are 4,300 homeless veterans in Las Vegas alone. With one in every three adult homeless males being classified as a military veteran, Larry's personal journey has made the time and attention he renders a priceless contribution in helping to alleviate these unfortunate statistics. As Veterans Service Coordinator for U.S. VETS in Las Vegas, he provides clinical support services to approximately 450 veterans in a given year while also providing the support needed to help them plan for successful and stable living. Larry also provides residential and moral support for formerly homeless Veterans living at U.S. VETS.

Mr. Speaker, it is my privilege to honor Larry Williams for his shining example of hope and service. He truly is a success story that deserves to be told. I applaud his service and dedication and wish him the best in his future endeavors.

RECOGNIZING RETIRING SUISUN
CITY MAYOR JIM SPERING

HON. ELLEN O. TAUSCHER

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mrs. TAUSCHER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to recognize Suisun City mayor, Jim Spering, who after serving 20 years as the mayor of Suisun City will be stepping down to assume his newly elected position as the Solano County supervisor for District Three in January.

Under the leadership of Jim Spering, the city of Suisun constructed a new city hall on the waterfront, symbolizing Suisun City's transformation from what the San Francisco Chronicle rated as "the worst city to live in" to what is now considered a jewel on the water. City hall, which for many years was located in a trailer, was "the only city hall in California that was registered with the Department of Motor Vehicles." The city now contains some of the best public spaces in the county, has a vibrant downtown, the quality of housing has improved tremendously, and the city's crime rate has dropped dramatically.

Similar to Billy Beane, the general manager of his favorite team, the Oakland Athletics, Jim has been creative in finding innovative solutions during times of fiscal stress.

In addition to his leadership position on the Suisun City council, Jim Spering has assumed a leadership role on regional transportation issues. This has earned him the reputation as Solano County's "go to guy" on transportation matters. Jim Spering has been past chairman of the Metropolitan Transportation Commission for the 9-county San Francisco Bay area region and is currently on the board. At the MTC, Jim helped found the Transportation for Livable Communities Program which provides incentives for pedestrian and transit-oriented developments that strengthen the link between transportation, land use and community goals.

Jim Spering has also represented Suisun City or Solano County on several boards and commissions including the City Housing Authority, the Solano Transportation Authority, and District, and Capitol Corridor Joint Powers Board. Jim has been a tremendous asset to the city of Suisun and Solano County as one of their most experienced and valued mayors. His efforts earned for him the high esteem of his associates and the appreciation of the public.

As Jim Sperring steps down as mayor of Suisun City, I would like to thank him and his wife Pam for their commitment and service to the community of Suisun City. I wish Jim the best of luck in his new leadership role on the Solano County board of supervisors.

IN HONOR AND RECOGNITION OF
MR. RICHARD W. DURST

HON. DENNIS J. KUCINICH

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. KUCINICH. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in honor and recognition of Richard W. Durst, as he assumes the role of president of Baldwin-Wallace College, an extraordinary institution of higher learning in Berea, OH.

Mr. Durst comes to the Cleveland area after 6 years as dean of the College of Arts and Architecture and executive director of University Arts Services at the Pennsylvania State University. He will undoubtedly succeed in continuing to build Baldwin-Wallace's academic recognition, especially in the areas of arts, music, and theater as an international expert in theater set design and the role of the arts in academic training.

His creative work has been featured in group exhibitions in Beijing and Seoul, and he was invited to design the world premiere of The Belltower for the Paris Opera. He also was the codesigner of the United States' exhibit for the 1999 Prague Quadrennial, the world's largest and most prestigious exhibition of theater design and theater architecture.

He brings to B-W demonstrated strengths in curriculum development and review, administration, recruitment and retention planning, fund raising and facilities construction and management. He has already received distinction for receptiveness, presence, and academic stature which has connected with all of the portions of the college community.

Mr. Speaker and colleagues, please join me in recognition and welcome to Mr. Richard W. Durst, an individual with both significant academic accomplishments and a record of community involvement which will positively add to the campus community of Baldwin-Wallace and the Cleveland area in general, and I look forward to working with him to further enrich the College and all elements of higher education.

HONORING BETTY ORTEN

HON. MARK UDALL

OF COLORADO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. UDALL of Colorado. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize and honor the life of Mrs. Betty Orten, a great Coloradan who passed away on November 24, 2006, the day after a spirited Thanksgiving celebration with her family. She demonstrated great leadership and social conscience in civic affairs and will be missed by friends and loved ones.

Betty Orten grew up on military posts as her father's career as an Army officer took his family across the country, overseas, and finally to Colorado. Betty graduated from high school in Colorado Springs and then went on to receive a degree in history and sociology from the University of Colorado. While at the University of Colorado, she met her future husband, Russell Sage Orten. In 1951, they married and made their home in Westminster, Colorado.

After graduation, Betty began a career as a social worker and also became involved in the Democratic Party. She served as a precinct committeewoman, Democratic State vice chairperson, Adams County Democratic chairperson, and Democratic National Committee member. In 1974, after all of her hard-earned experience in social work and politics, she was elected to the Colorado House of Representatives.

Betty served as a representative for four terms, as well as one term as the House caucus chairwoman. Throughout her career, she concentrated on issues concerning the disadvantaged. She focused on dental care for the elderly, help for battered women and displaced homemakers, housing for single-parent families, and child care for single moms.

Those who knew Betty have fond memories and undoubtedly recognize her remarkable impact on them and fellow Coloradans along with Colorado politics. Betty was a role model and an example for women as she took leadership roles and worked tirelessly for the disadvantaged. Betty was always thoughtful, honest, and persuasive in work and politics.

In 1997, I had the privilege to be a representative in the Colorado House of Representatives where inspiring stories of Betty's labors and personality still resound. She was a true pioneer who broke new ground throughout her political career and in her numerous leadership positions.

If the measure of a life well-led is the impact that a person has on others, then Betty's impact is broad and deep. We all owe her a debt of gratitude and respect, and I ask my colleagues to join me in celebrating and remembering a life of service while expressing our deepest sympathies for her family's loss.

IN HONOR OF ALFIE TEWFICK KHALIL

HON. SAM FARR

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. FARR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the memory of a good friend and great American who passed away tragically on November 18, 2006. Alfie Tewfick Khalil was a native of Egypt who came to this country in the late 1960s. In 1979, Alfie joined the faculty of the Monterey-based Defense Language Institute (DLI) where he taught Arabic to U.S. military personnel. He soon stood out as a leader among the DLI faculty. In 1980, he became a shop steward with AFGE Local 1263, the union representing the DLI faculty. By 1987, he was elected president of Local 1263.

In the post 9-11 world, foreign language is a national security tool. In 2005, General John Abizaid, Commander of U.S. Central Command, testified before the House Appropriations Subcommittee on Military Quality of Life and Veterans Affairs, that the "ability to cross the cultural divide is not an Army issue. It is a national issue. We have to be able to deal with the people in the rest of the world as the globe shrinks in terms of communication and problem solving and sharing." DLI plays an indispensable role in moving this defense strategy forward. But DLI can't do it without its faculty. They are native speakers of their mother languages who, like Alfie, come from the distant places all over the globe to help our Nation better defend itself.

Alfie understood this and made the advocacy for DLI faculty and staff his life's work. After my first election to Congress, I learned quickly that there were two people I needed to know at DLI: the commandant, a Colonel so and so who would retire or move on in a year or two, and Alfie, who would always be there. Alfie made his presence felt in so many ways.

One of the best examples of this was his hard work on behalf of "locality pay"—the small salary boost for Federal workers based in particularly high cost areas. Alfie pointed out that Monterey County was, indeed, one of those areas, but that the Federal Government still considered it rural so DLI faculty were paid at much lower rates. Alfie and I worked together for more than 3 years to secure a decision by the Office of Personnel Management that Monterey County-based civil service workers deserved locality pay. This hard work on Alfie's part has helped DLI attract and retain the best language teachers in the world.

Alfie was about more than pay at DLI, however. He was about professionalism. That became clear in the recent fight to keep DLI off the base closure list. Alfie was a never-ending resource to my office and the BRAC Commission. He provided information and statistics on the level of expertise and depth of training of the DLI faculty. With this information it was easy to make the case that DLI could not be recreated anywhere else—that it was dependent on and unique to the talent of the Monterey area. Alfie was a key player in keeping DLI open and in Monterey.

Mr. Speaker, I know that I speak for the entire House in sharing our most sincere condolences to Alfie's family both here in the United States and in Egypt and to his extended family of students and colleagues throughout the DLI community.

HONORING NYS ASSEMBLY MAJORITY LEADER PAUL A. TOKASZ

HON. BRIAN HIGGINS

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. HIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, today I rise to commemorate the career in public service of an outstanding representative of the residents of Western New York—retiring New York State Assembly Majority Leader Paul A. Tokasz.

Paul Tokasz served honorably as Member of Assembly in the 143rd District from the time of his initial election in a special election in 1988 to this very day. Paul will end his service in the State Assembly at the end of this year.

A graduate of Hobart and Buffalo State Colleges, Paul began his career in public service as a Buffalo Public School teacher. After teaching elementary school for several years, Paul was elected Clerk of the Erie County Legislature, and later accepted appointment as a Deputy County Clerk in the administrations of the late Genevieve Starociak and current County Clerk David J. Swarts.

In early 1988, following the November 1987 election of then-Assemblyman Dennis T. Gorski as Erie County Executive, Paul became a candidate for the open seat in the 143rd Assembly District. Paul handily won election in 1988, was re-elected later that year, and never again faced a serious challenge for re-election.

We know why he never faced a serious challenge—because Paul was and is an outstanding public servant, a capable and effective Member of “the people’s house,” who steadfastly defended Western New York while in service in Albany.

Over the years, Paul earned several important committee posts, including the chairmanship of the Assembly’s committees on Election Law, where under Paul’s leadership a state constitutional amendment was adopted to implement the 1993 federal “Motor Voter” law. Paul also chaired the Assembly’s committee on Tourism, Arts and Sports Development, where he emerged as a statewide leader and an advocate for cultural tourism, particularly as it impacted Western New York, and his advocacy in increasing opportunities for cultural institutions to gain access to State capital funds as a means of expanding economic development in local communities.

The apex of Paul’s Assembly career coincided with his ascension into the Assembly’s formal leadership structure, culminating in his January 2001 appointment by Assembly Speaker Sheldon Silver as Majority Leader. As Majority Leader, Paul assumed responsibility for directing the day-to-day operations of the legislative session in the Assembly chamber, serving as floor leader, setting the daily agenda, and overseeing debate and voting on all legislation coming before the house. As someone who served under Paul as a rank-and-file member for 4 of my 6 years, I was witness to the tremendous skill and dignity he displayed in that role. Simply put, Paul performed remarkably in that role.

Speaking on a personal level, when I came to the State Assembly as a freshman member in 1999, Paul was someone I sought out immediately as a person with a tremendous amount of institutional knowledge—as someone with 10 years of seniority, Paul clearly had knowledge of the institution of the State Legislature that I did not myself possess. Paul was a tremendous help to me as I gained an understanding of the inner workings of Albany, and I have always credited his help and guidance as of critical importance.

In 2004, when New York’s 27th District seat in Congress suddenly came open, Paul and I were both potential candidates. As days wore on, Paul and I met, and he soon offered me his unconditional support. Paul co-chaired my successful election campaign in 2004, and has been an ally and a friend as I have sought to effectively represent Western New York in Congress.

Paul has a great many accomplishments about which to be proud, but knowing him as I do, Paul takes no greater pride in any of his personal accomplishments than that which concerns his family. Paul and his Sylvia are parents of three outstanding adult children, Kristie, Jennifer, and Andrew. Paul and Sylvia also rightly take tremendous pride in their three grandchildren, Jacob and Bradley Kantor and Sydney Tokasz. To his immense credit, Paul’s decision to retire from public service at such a relatively young age was undertaken out of his sincere desire to spend more time with his family.

Paul Tokasz is a tremendous example of a dedicated, effective public servant, and I was and remain proud to call him a governmental colleague. More to the point, I am prouder still to call Paul Tokasz my friend. In closing, Mr. Speaker, I ask you to join me in wishing Paul, Sylvia and their entire family good luck and Godspeed in all of their future endeavors.

IN RECOGNITION OF THE SERVICE OF JANET FITZGERALD

HON. MICHAEL C. BURGESS

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. BURGESS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the service of Janet Fitzgerald as the Denton Parks and Recreation Director. Ms. Fitzgerald will be retiring from 15 years of service to the city of Denton in the 26th District of Texas.

Ms. Fitzgerald joined the city of Denton as a park planner in 1991. After demonstrating years of leadership and dedication to the city of Denton, Ms. Fitzgerald became the parks and recreation director in 2003. Under her visionary direction, Denton’s parks have received national recognitions and awards, including Excellence in Aquatics, the Gold Medal for Excellence in Parks and Recreation Management, and the Texas Gold Medal, the highest award from the Texas Recreation and Parks Society.

Ms. Fitzgerald has the enriched lives of Denton community citizens through comprehensive recreation initiatives and a wide variety of local programs. Denton Mayor Perry McNeill noted that the city will miss her presence in the city of Denton.

Mr. Speaker, I am proud to recognize Janet Fitzgerald for her service and leadership in the Denton community. Retiring to spend more time with her daughter and volunteer at her church, I wish Ms. Fitzgerald the best of luck in her future endeavors. Her contributions and commitment to the city of Denton should inspire us all.

TRIBUTE TO THE 100TH ANNIVERSARY OF MOUNT OLIVE MISSIONARY BAPTIST CHURCH

HON. DALE E. KILDEE

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. KILDEE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today and ask the House of Representatives to join me in honoring Mount Olive Missionary Baptist Church as they celebrate 100 years of worship. The church is holding a banquet on December 9 to kickoff a yearlong celebration of the centennial anniversary.

In 1902 several members of Flint, Michigan’s African-American community gathered with the Reverend William Lyons at the home of Mrs. Sarah Howard and held worship services. They aspired to organize an official church and in 1907 their dream was realized. A church home was established on Ward Street, now Twelfth Street, and Mount Olive Missionary Baptist Church was born.

Over the years the church moved twice until it found a permanent home at 424 Kennelworth Street in 1950. Under the guidance of Reverend Robert T. Turpin the church grew. Reverend Turpin led the congregation for 33 years and made many improvements to the property including the construction of Turpin Fellowship Hall.

Reverend Roy I. Greer became the pastor in 1972. Reverend Greer has directed the sanctuary renovations, installed a new baptistery, refurbished the offices and classrooms. In 1999 the Family Life Center was constructed. The basketball court, kitchen, and classrooms are the cornerstone of the community outreach spearheaded by Reverend Greer. The recreation center has provided a place for young people to gather in a safe, loving environment.

As the first African-American Baptist Church in the Flint area, Mount Olive Missionary Baptist Church has fostered many persons that went on to become ordained ministers of the Word of God. It has stood as a beacon of light for every social justice movement over the past 100 years and continues to provide solace and help for the most vulnerable in our community.

Mr. Speaker, please join me in congratulating Mount Olive Missionary Baptist Church as they celebrate 100 years of consecrated service to Our Lord, Jesus Christ. May they continue to act in the Name of the Lord for another 100 years.

IN HONOR OF THE 100TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE SAN LEANDRO PUBLIC LIBRARY

HON. FORTNEY PETE STARK

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. STARK. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to the 100th anniversary of the San Leandro, CA, Public Library. San Leandro’s first free public library was established in January 1906 and was located at the old City Hall on Davis Street.

On January 31, 1906, the Library Board of Trustees appointed Mary Brown as San Leandro’s first official librarian. Her starting salary was $12.50 a month and she served as librarian from 1906 to 1938.

In 1907, plans were made to construct a library building. Library Trustee Talcott P. Cary donated the 35-acre plot and wealthy steel magnate Andrew Carnegie donated $10,000 towards its construction. William H. Weeks, an architect famous for designing Carnegie libraries, was selected. The library’s dedication ceremony was held on May 14, 1909.

The old Carnegie library was demolished to make way for a new 1½-story library building. The architect was Francis Joseph McCarthy. The new library, dedicated on January 15, 1961, was over 44,660 square feet and had a capacity for 120,000 books. Its features included two garden courts, a lecture hall, several meeting rooms and an art studio.

Retrofitting and renovation of the 1961 main library began in 1997. The library was expanded to a two-story building and 75,000 square feet. Its grand opening was on December 16, 2000 and showcased its impressive features, which include 75 public computers, an electronic learning center, lecture hall, art gallery, 6 meeting rooms as well as a gift shop, café and book store. There are currently over 219,000 books in the San Leandro Library's collection and the library serves an average of 50,000 patrons a month.

I applaud the city of San Leandro and the administrators and staff of the San Leandro Public Library for their exemplary efforts to keep the library functioning with enhanced technology and outstanding patron services.

Happy 100th birthday and best wishes for continued success.

IN RECOGNITION OF LETHA
ADAMS CANNON'S 100TH BIRTHDAY

HON. ELLEN O. TAUSCHER

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mrs. TAUSCHER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to recognize the 100th birthday of a woman who is not only an example of strength to her family, but to all of us as well.

Born in Hartville, OH, December 11, 1906, Letha was the second-born of 10 children to Alvin and Jesse Adams. The family of 12 resided in Ohio until 1915, when they moved west, on what she describes as "a very long train ride." The family settled on a farm in French Camp, just outside of Stockton, CA.

Letha married Wilfred Cannon in 1928. They raised two children, Ruth and Wilfred, Jr., in the Stockton area.

After Wilfred passed away, Letha persevered, and even began a new career as a nurse. She spent 11 years at St. Joseph's Hospital.

In addition to her roles as a nurturing mother and nurse, Letha has made time for her community. She has been active in the PTA, Grange, Escalon Presbyterian Church, French Camp Vaqueros, and Dixon Community Church.

As if her plate was not full enough, Letha is a prize-winning gardener. Her African Violets took first place at the Dixon May Fair.

Letha also takes pleasure in travel. Even at her age, in the past year, she has flown across the country to New Jersey and Wisconsin.

Letha is blessed with 5 surviving siblings, 2 children, 8 grandchildren, 17 great grandchildren, and 29 nieces and nephews.

Her family and friends have gathered together to celebrate her remarkable age of 100 and to thank her for being their "foster mom," as many fondly call her.

Letha Adams Cannon has spent her life enjoying travel, gardening, and most of all, her family. I wish Letha and her family the best on this momentous occasion.

IN REMEMBRANCE OF TIMOTHY M.
SATOLA AND RECOGNITION OF THE SATOLA FAMILY

HON. DENNIS J. KUCINICH

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. KUCINICH. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in memory of Tim Satola. A model citizen throughout his life, Tim's enthusiasm, motivation, and personal drive to help people is echoed in his accomplishments.

A leader all his life, Tim was high school linebacker for the Garfield Bulldogs. His energy and spirit was an inspiration to his teammates and anyone who knew him. On the football team, his passion and energy earned him a reputation as "the light of the team." Tim went on to graduate from nursing school and began his career as a registered nurse shortly before his untimely passing.

Tim's commitment to helping people continues even after his death with the establishment of the Tim Satola Scholarship Fund. His parents, Donna and Dennis Satola, set up the scholarship fund to help students of Garfield Heights High School with the financial burdens of attending college. Already, the fund has awarded two $500 scholarships.

The Tim Satola Memorial Scholarship Fund honors students who share Tim's zest for life and his commitment to helping others. The fund continues the tremendous compassionate spirit that Tim would have wanted to inspire in the students of his high school alma mater.

Mr. Speaker and Colleagues, please join me in honoring the memory of Tim Satola and the continuing inspiration he brings through the Tim Satola Scholarship Fund to the students of Garfield Heights High School.

HONORING THE LIFE OF DR.
GILBERT F. WHITE

HON. MARK UDALL

OF COLORADO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. UDALL of Colorado. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize and honor the life of Dr. Gilbert F. White, the "Father of Floodplain Management," who died October 5, 2006 in his home in Boulder Colorado. He will be missed by friends and loved ones, yet the legacy of his social and environmental vision will long continue in communities throughout the world.

Gilbert F. White was born on November 26, 1911 in Hyde Park, Illinois and received his undergraduate and graduate degrees from the University of Chicago. As a graduate student in the late 1930s, he studied the Mississippi River Basin for the federal government when many planners followed a flood control policy based on the construction of dams. White questioned the impact of such projects and suggested alternatives that protected people, as well as floodplain ecosystems. He served as president of Haverford College in Pennsylvania from 1946 until 1955 and taught at the University of Chicago from 1956 to 1969. He was a visiting professor at the University of Oxford in 1962-63, and he chaired the American Friends Service Committee from 1963 to 1969.

In 1970, White joined the faculty of the University of Colorado at Boulder as a Professor of Geography and Director of the Institute of Behavioral Science, remaining active in academic work well into his 90s. He founded the University of Colorado's Natural Hazard Research and Applications Information Center in 1974 which has become the nation's leading repository of knowledge on human behavior in disasters. White's work in natural hazard mitigation changed the way people addressed their surroundings and made the world safer for its inhabitants in the process. In his doctoral dissertation of 1942, White wrote, "Floods are acts of God, but flood losses are largely acts of man." So significant was this work that it has since been called the most influential book ever written by an American geographer.

In an era characterized by the construction of bigger and stronger flood control devices, Dr. White pioneered effective models of flood management that promoted public safety while preserving rivers and waterways. He was a true humanitarian, making extraordinary contributions toward educating governments on the most effective actions available in managing floodplains and alleviating flood losses. Dr. White's persistence convinced the nation to take a broader view in reducing flood risks, culminating with the implementation of the National Flood Insurance Program. This program encouraged responsible floodplain management at the local level and created stronger, safer communities for generations of Americans.

Among White's numerous honors are the National Geographic Society's highest honor, the Hubbard Medal; the United Nation's Sasakawa International Environmental Prize; and the Association of American Geographer's Lifetime Achievement Award. He was also presented with an honorary doctorate from CU-Boulder in May of 2006.

Dr. White's legacy derives from the programs he helped implement. His contributions will continue to keep communities safer and protect the environment while making smart investments in mitigation activities at all levels of government. We all owe this great man a debt of gratitude and respect. I ask my colleagues to join with me in celebrating and remembering this life of service.

IN HONOR OF GENE ARDEN VANCE, JR.

HON. SAM FARR

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. FARR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor an American hero, Army SSG Gene Arden Vance, Jr. Staff Sergeant Vance was tragically killed in action while serving in Afghanistan in 2002. Though I never had the honor of meeting Staff Sergeant Vance, I am saddened by his loss and want to share my own condolences and those of this House with his family, friends, and comrades.

Staff Sergeant Vance, Jr. was born on 30 November, 1963, in Frankfurt, Germany, the son of an Army Special Forces officer. He enlisted in the Army in 1981, after graduating from Oceana High School in Oceana, West Virginia. He served in a variety of posts from Germany to Monterey, finally leaving active duty in 1990. In 1992, he enlisted in the West Virginia National Guard, and graduated from the Defense Language Institute's (DLI) Persian-Farsi Basic Course in 1998. He reentered active duty immediately following September 11th, 2001, and he deployed to eastern Afghanistan with the 2nd Battalion, 19th Special Forces Group (Airborne) in February 2002.

On 19 May, 2002, Staff Sergeant Vance's patrol was ambushed by Taliban fighters in the province of Paktika, Afghanistan. Although critically wounded in the initial attack, Staff Sergeant Vance continued to translate battlefield intelligence for Afghan forces in the area, directing them out of danger. His calm actions and command of the situation saved the lives of two fellow Americans and as many as 18 Afghani soldiers, and helped to defeat the enemy ambush. For his actions, Staff Sergeant Vance was awarded the Bronze Star Medal with a "V" for valor in combat, the Purple Heart Medal, and the West Virginia Distinguished Service Medal.

His actions in combat represented the highest level of bravery and professionalism of the American soldier. His actions also represent the unique heroism of the military linguist. In the conflicts that our nation now finds itself in, languages and their key role in understanding and influencing the cultures that they speak for, are essential to our national security. That is why I feel it is so fitting that the Army has dedicated a new barracks building at the DLI in honor of Staff Sergeant Vance, where his service can stand as an example to the current generation of linguists who are the key to prevailing against the terrorism and instability that threaten America.

On a personal note, I am doubly touched because as the Member of Congress who represents California's Central Coast, I worked hard to secure the funding to construct the barracks building that will bear Staff Sergeant Vance's name. At the time, I was simply working with the DLI leadership to help improve the living conditions for their students. I can't overstate now how proud I am that this building will now bear witness to the heroism Staff Sergeant Vance and in his name, all military linguists who will serve in the global war on terrorism.

HONORING BARB MILES

HON. BRIAN HIGGINS

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. HIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Ms. Barb Miles for her years of service as the Carroll Town Clerk. Ms. Miles served her community well during her tenure in office.

Public Service is a difficult path to take. Any person with a dream may enter but only a few are able to reach the end. Ms. Miles traveled that path with her head held high and a smile on her face throughout her tenure. I have no doubt that her kind demeanor left a lasting impression on the constituents of Carroll.

Chautauqua County is blessed to have such strong and dedicated public servants with a desire to make this county the wonderful place that we all know it can be. Ms. Miles is one of those people and that is why, Mr. Speaker, I rise to honor her today.

STAFF TRIBUTE

HON. ROB SIMMONS

OF CONNECTICUT

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. SIMMONS. Mr. Speaker, in the closing days of the 109th Congress, Members will rise to acknowledge the departure of their colleagues. Some are retiring of their own volition while others, such as me, are leaving as a consequence of the November elections.

While my colleagues deserve all of the accolades they will receive, I would like to devote just a few minutes to the loyal and capable men and women who have made my six years here in Congress so productive and rewarding. I would like to thank my wonderful staff.

My staff has shared in every success and victory we have had over the past six years. They have also shared in the personal disruption and professional disappointment of leaving this place before our important work is done.

They are as follows:

Todd Mitchell, Chief of Staff, and my alter ego on all issues and decisions, whose steady hand and wise counsel allowed us to assemble and manage a dynamic and productive staff over the past five years;

Erik Heilman and Lise Lynam, Legislative Directors, who energetically and faithfully pursued an aggressive legislative agenda in three committees, eight subcommittees and twenty caucuses, as well as for the District Office;

Justin Bernier, Senior Legislative Assistant, whose acute insights and dynamic energy were largely responsible for saving Naval Submarine Base New London, which in turn saved Connecticut over 31,500 jobs and $3.5 billion in annual revenues;

John Goodwin, Press Secretary and Jonathan Martin, Legislative Assistant, whose hard work and respect for America's working families won me accolades as a "pro-labor Republican" from The Wall Street Journal;

Leigh Hightower, Senior Legislative Assistant of Mansfield, Connecticut, and Amy Pellegrino, Legislative Assistant from Westerly, Rhode Island, whose diligence and sympathy helped us to "keep the promise" to our veterans and improve health care for all Americans;

Meghan Curran, Legislative Assistant from Bolton, Connecticut, whose commitment to the education of our Nation's children resulted in important legislative initiatives, and whose respect for Teachers resulted in her eventually leaving our staff to teach;

Shauna Hewes, Legislative Assistant of Ledyard, Connecticut, whose persistent efforts and negotiating skills were instrumental in passing the Long Island Sound Stewardship Act;

Dan Hartnett, Legislative Assistant, who received, processed and helped answer over 100,000 pieces of mail and countless e-mails so that our constituents were never out of touch with their Congressman;

Emily Cantin, Scheduler of Marlborough, Connecticut, who ran a tight but happy front office, and kept me on time and on message through many busy weeks in Washington, DC;

Will Cox, Staff Assistant of Mystic, Connecticut, whose cheerful demeanor and helpful habits made every visitor to the Washington Office feel welcome and important;

Mr. E.J. Chubbs, my personal Transportation Advisor, who loyally and faithfully ensured that I arrived, departed and moved about the Nation's Capitol in a safe and congenial fashion for six wonderful years;

John Bradley, former Staff Director, Veterans Affairs Health Subcommittee, whose dynamic leadership and concern for the health of our Nation's veterans resulted in a 40 percent increase in funding and numerous legislative improvements in veterans' health care;

Deron McElroy, Staff Director, Homeland Security Intelligence Subcommittee, whose insights and legislative skill were responsible for establishing a productive agenda for this important new subcommittee;

Jane Dauphinais, District Director of Groton, Connecticut, whose management skills and knowledge of municipal government made the Norwich and Enfield offices vital resources to "help the people" of the Second Congressional District's sixty five towns;

Jeff Nelson, Deputy District Director of Groton, Connecticut, who managed and implemented a hectic and sometimes hysterical schedule with calm aplomb, and shared many hours and 120,000 miles on the road in the district;

Joe Bell, Communications Director of Mystic, Connecticut, our office intellectual, who read much and wrote more than was considered humanly possible, all in an effort to educate me and to enlighten the people of the region and the Nation;

Betty Wagner, Constituent Services Director of Colchester, Connecticut, whose organizational skills and caring attitude brought aid and comfort to the many constituents of the district, and provided tenacious advocacy for our farmers and union members;

Linda Camelio, Event Coordinator and Constituent Services Representative for Immigration of Pawcatuck, Connecticut, who helped those in need around the district and around the world, and provided an extra measure of organization and excitement to all our public events;

K. Robert Lewis, Military and Veterans Constituent Services Representative of New London, Connecticut, whose diligent and dedicated work brought medals, benefits, aid and comfort to those who had or were serving our Nation in uniform, as well as to their families, widows and orphans;

Paula Ferrara, Constituent Services Representative and "Grant Goddess" of Westbrook, Connecticut, who coordinated a highly successful effort to bring millions of our tax dollars back from Washington, DC, for the benefit of Fire, Police, Emergency Workers, Schools and all 65 towns in the district as well as helping thousands of Medicare eligible constituents with their Prescription Drug coverage and Social Security issues; and

Al Powell, Executive Office Assistant of Waterford, Connecticut, who was the smiling face and cheerful voice of the Norwich Office, who welcomed visitors and protesters alike, answered tens of thousands of calls, and processed all mail, in and out, without fail for six wonderful years.

I also thank those loyal and devoted professionals who labored long and hard in the Mystic Office: Eric Janney, Esq., of Stonington; Susan Bessette of Pawcatuck; Chris Healy of Wethersfield; Diane Generous of Sprague; Aaron McGarry of Thompson and Heath Fahle of Pawcatuck, Connecticut.

Mr. Speaker, I owe a debt of gratitude to these loyal workers for helping me to help others. They gave life to my vision of a congressional office that truly "helps people" with case work, grants and positive legislation to benefit the Second District, Connecticut and the Nation.

I thank them for a record of accomplishment, and I say thanks for the memories. Working together in a bipartisan fashion with a "gung ho" attitude, we did our best and we did well.

HONORING DR. JUDITH RODIN

HON. CHAKA FATTAH

OF PENNSYLVANIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. FATTAH. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize Judith Rodin, a native Philadelphian and former President of the University of Pennsylvania, and to congratulate her on receiving the 2006 Gold Medal Award from the Pennsylvania Society. In her decade long tenure leading the University, Dr. Rodin demonstrated a strong commitment to the Greater Philadelphia region and the West Philadelphia neighborhood in which the University is located. She has proven herself not only an asset to the academic community but more broadly to the City of Philadelphia.

As an established social psychologist, Dr. Rodin has contributed much to our knowledge of pressing social issues and has been instrumental in bringing women's health concerns and behavioral health issues more generally to the forefront. The first female president of an Ivy League institution, she has opened doors for young women across the country and it is with Dr. Rodin's leadership that Penn saw a period of remarkable growth and development strengthening and transforming the University's academic core.

In keeping with her commitment to the common good, she currently serves as President of the Rockefeller Foundation and works to advance that organization's mission of alleviating global poverty. It is a privilege for me to recognize Dr. Rodin and her work. I congratulate her on the receipt of this prestigious honor.

TEMPORARY DUTY SUSPENSION FOR UMBRELLAS

HON. CAROLYN B. MALONEY

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mrs. MALONEY. Mr. Speaker, today I am introducing a temporary duty suspension for certain umbrellas. These include golf umbrellas and fashion umbrellas with non-collapsible shafts for use by men, women and children. The current duty rate on these umbrellas is 8.2 percent, while the duty rate on similar umbrellas with collapsible shafts is 0 percent. There appears to be no purpose for this disparity; and yet it drives up the cost of the non-collapsible umbrellas for U.S. consumers.

This measure is supported by Essex Manufacturing, Inc. whose headquarters are in my district. It also is supported by other leading umbrella producers, including Peerless Umbrella Co. in Harrison, New Jersey; Shedrain Corporation in Portland, Oregon; and Totes in Cincinnati, Ohio. I look forward to working with my colleagues on this measure next year.

IN RECOGNITION OF ERIC VOIGHT

HON. MARK GREEN

OF WISCONSIN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. GREEN of Wisconsin. Mr. Speaker, it is my honor and pleasure to recognize before this House Eric Voight who was recently awarded Hometown Radio's Employee of the Year honors for his extraordinary service.

Hired straight out of college, Eric Voight had a dream of being in radio programming one day. In just four short years, Voight worked his way up the ladder of success at Hometown Radio, first as a member of the sales team, to sales manager, and now as operations manager. In fact, because of his hard work, Voight is now responsible for the sound of the entire four station cluster operated by Hometown Radio.

Those who know Eric Voight appreciate the little things that make him so deserving of the Employee of the Year award. His motivation, proud Wisconsin work ethic and dedication got him where he is today and I'm sure this is just the beginning.

Mr. Speaker, I congratulate Mr. Voight on receiving this outstanding honor, and wish him continued success in the years to come.

HONORING DR. TED VICK FOR 55
YEARS OF LEADERSHIP THROUGH EDUCATION

HON. JERRY LEWIS

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. LEWIS of California. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in recognition of Dr. Ted Vick, a long-time public servant who is retiring after a 55-year career in leadership through education.

Dr. Vick has proven his dedication to educational pursuits by earning his bachelor's degree in elementary education at the University of California at Santa Barbara and a Ph.D. in Education from the University of California at Riverside. His desire to serve in public education led to his service as a principal and vice principal in various school districts throughout his career, including 12 years spent as the superintendent of Adelanto School District. His proven leadership led to 20 years of service on the San Bernardino County Board of Education, and his enthusiasm was quickly noticed by other local organizations. While Dr. Vick dedicated his time to the county board of education, the Needles Unified School District asked for his service when they required another member to join their local district board.

Aside from teaching, Dr. Vick strove to influence others by holding several leadership positions in educational and community organizations. His list of distinguished posts includes the California School Boards Association Delegate Assembly, and the board of directors on the California County Boards of Education. His interest in the needs of the local community is prevalent through his time with the Adolescent and Family Service Center, and while serving on the board of directors for Desert Communities United Way. Dr. Vick's remaining time has been spent devoted to the First Christian Church in San Bernardino, serving as chairman of the board, elder, and deacon.

This relentless involvement in the lives of his fellow citizens has made Dr. Vick an important influence in the community, earning him the well-deserved San Bernardino County School Board Association's 2005 Distinguished Service Award. Although the appreciation of the community is shown on the faces of those whom he has instructed, it was most notably visible in 2005 when Adelanto School District named a local school in his honor; the Theodore Vick Elementary School.

Mr. Speaker, after 55 years of public service, Dr. Vick will retire from his teaching and leadership posts. Although Dr. Vick's presence in the community will be greatly missed, his zeal for leadership and education will continue to inspire the students and adults who have crossed his path. On behalf of the people of San Bernardino County, I ask you and my colleagues to join me in thanking Dr. Vick for his work and in wishing him well in his future pursuits.

A TRIBUTE TO OFFICER SCOTT
WERTZ

HON. JOSEPH R. PITTS

OF PENNSYLVANIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. PITTS. Mr. Speaker, today I seek to pay tribute to a true hero of Pennsylvania's 16th Congressional District, Reading Police Officer Scott Wertz.

On Sunday, August 6, 2006, Officer Wertz made the ultimate sacrifice carrying out his duties to serve and protect the people of Reading, Pa.

Officer Wertz's exemplary service is a stark reminder of the valor and honor that our public safety personnel display every single day. When danger arises, these brave men and women run to answer the call. Officer Wertz was no exception, and I honor his great courage and sacrifice.

His 9 years of dedicated service to the Reading Police Department have made the Reading community a safer place to live and work for thousands of families, and we all owe him a tremendous debt of gratitude.

On behalf of a grateful community, I offer my heartfelt condolences to his wife and two sons. They will continue to be in our thoughts and prayers.

ON THE 100TH ANNIVERSARY OF IVY BAPTIST CHURCH

HON. ROBERT C. SCOTT

OF VIRGINIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. SCOTT of Virginia. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to congratulate an institution in my hometown of Newport News. On December 1, 2006, the members of Ivy Baptist Church celebrated their 100th anniversary, and I would like to take a moment to highlight the rich history of this church and its contribution to our community.

In 1906, Rev. James Carr, along with Shaddy Clark and J.B. Peyton founded the first ancestor of the Ivy Baptist Church of today. It was called the First Baptist Church Dawson City. First Baptist Dawson was a blessing in a community plagued by crime in a city nicknamed "Blood Field." In 1915, under the leadership of Reverend Carr, the First Baptist Church Dawson City building was purchased for $350 in cash.

Rev. Samuel Brown, the second pastor, moved the church to the 500 block of 18th Street in Newport News and renamed it the 18th Street Baptist Church.

In 1923, the church elected its third pastor, Rev. James M. Bray. After 27 years of growth, witnessing and fellowship under Reverend Bray, the church sold its building at 18th Street, and a new church was built at 1612 Ivy Avenue at the cost of $60,000. Based on this change of location, the church was renamed Ivy Avenue Baptist Church in 1952.

In 1958, the Reverend D.L. Charity became the fourth pastor of Ivy Avenue Baptist Church. The church continued to experience substantial growth with new programs implemented by Reverend Charity, who served for 8 years.

On February 4, 1968, Rev. Dr. W. Henry Maxwell was selected as the fifth pastor of Ivy Avenue Baptist Church. Three years later, a new house of worship located at 50 Maple Avenue was purchased, and the first worship service was conducted there in February 1972. In order to maintain the heritage of the church, but to reflect the church's location change, the name was shortened from Ivy Avenue Baptist, to the Ivy Baptist we know today.

Under Reverend Maxwell, Ivy Baptist continued to flourish. A church day care center was established in 1974, and a multipurpose annex named the W. Henry Maxwell Family Life Center was opened in 1999. After 36 years of faithful service to Ivy Baptist Church, Reverend Maxwell retired.

After a year-long search, Rev. Kevin G. Swann was elected the sixth pastor of Ivy Baptist Church. The church has already experienced significant growth in membership under Reverend Swann, and I believe he will live up to the legacy left to him. Over these 100 years, pastors at Ivy have licensed nine other pastors, and ordained nine pastors to the ministry. The day care program is popular throughout the community, and the Family Life Center is a community asset under constant demand as a venue for various church, civic and social programs.

I would like to once again congratulate Reverend Swann and the members of Ivy Baptist on their centennial and I wish them another century of continued service to their community.

MOUNT SINAI MISSIONARY BAPTIST CHURCH CELEBRATES 50 YEARS

HON. MICHAEL C. BURGESS

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. BURGESS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to congratulate the Mount Sinai Missionary Baptist Church for 50 years of service and involvement in the Fort Worth Community. Mount Sinai is located in the 26th District of Texas.

Since opening its doors in 1956, Mount Sinai has encouraged the ministry, fellowship, and outreach of its members. Under the faithful guidance of Bishop B.C. McPherson II, Mount Sinai has flourished as a cornerstone of worship in our community.

The event will be celebrated with a Mass Choir Musical, and a service the following day by guest Pastor Carl Woodard. Current and former Mount Sinai members and prominent members of the community will be on hand to celebrate the anniversary.

Mr. Speaker, I am honored to represent this congregation. I congratulate the Mount Sinai Missionary Baptist Church as they celebrate 50 proud years of commitment to ministry, and look forward to many years to come.

TRIBUTE TO PASTOR ARTHUR LEE

HON. DALE E. KILDEE

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. KILDEE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Pastor Arthur Lee of the Rock of Asia Missionary Baptist Church. Pastor Lee and his pastoral staff will be honored by the congregation at a celebration on December 10th in my hometown of Flint, Michigan.

After serving in the United States Army from 1963 to 1975, Pastor Lee was honorably discharged and worked as an offshore oil rigger in Singapore. He moved to Michigan in 1986 and served as a deacon at 1st Corinthian Missionary Baptist Church. He became an assistant pastor acting together with his brother, Pastor Henderson Lee. Arthur Lee was called to the ministry in 1990 and was ordained at 1st Corinthian Missionary Baptist Church in 1993.

He became the pastor of Rock of Asia Missionary Baptist Church and has faithfully served the congregation for the past 12 years. In addition to Sunday morning worship services, Pastor Lee also holds Sunday School and a Wednesday Bible Class. In keeping with the church's motto, 2nd Corinthians 5:7 "We walk by faith, not by sight," the congregation goes out once a month and witnesses to the community. They distribute food to the needy at the holidays. During the past 12 years the congregation has grown from 8 members to 80 members. Pastor Lee organized the drive to extend the sanctuary and install new pews to accommodate the growing number of faithful. During this time Pastor Lee also worked at MTA, and was a loving husband and father. He retired from MTA in 2001 to assume fulltime pastoral duties.

Taking his ministry beyond the church walls, Pastor Lee is active in several local and national groups. He has served with Concerned Pastors for Social Action since 1993 and is a member of Concerned Pastors of Genesee County. For 20 years he has served as a chaplain at Hurley Medical Center and he took on the role of chaplain at Genesys Hospice 18 months ago. He is the spiritual coach for Hamady High School Athletic Department. As a veteran, Pastor Lee understands the problems of veterans in our community and has worked for the past 7 years tending to the spiritual needs of the disabled veterans at the DVA Post 122. Pastor Lee has attended Mott Community College and continues to find new ways to improve his ministry. He recently completed a series of enrichment classes sponsored by Genesys Health Systems.

Mr. Speaker, please join me in congratulating Pastor Arthur Lee, his pastoral staff and his congregation for 12 years of consecrated service to Our Lord, Jesus Christ. I wish them the best as they continue to spread the Gospel through the Flint area.

TRIBUTE TO FIRE CHIEF WILLIAM J. (BILL) MCCAMMON

HON. FORTNEY PETE STARK

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. STARK. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to the First Chief of the Alameda County Fire Department, Bill McCammon. Chief McCammon is retiring after 28 years of exemplary service to the County of Alameda, California.

The district and contract service areas that Chief McCammon serves are approximately 460 square miles with a population of over 250,000. He was born and raised in Oakland, California and received a B.S. degree in Agricultural Science and Management from the University of California at Davis.

After completing his education, he sought a career in the fire service working first for the Dublin San Ramon Services District Fire Department where he spent two years before moving to the San Leandro, California Fire Department. During his fourteen years in San Leandro, he held the ranks of Firefighter, Engineer, Captain, Battalion Chief, and Deputy Chief/Fire Marshal prior to becoming the Fire Chief.

When Alameda County consolidated its incorporated fire protection responsibilities into the Alameda County Fire Department, McCammon became the first Fire Chief of the newly formed department in 1993. The Department has doubled in size since 1993 with the addition of contracts for service with several local cities and the Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory.

Chief McCammon has introduced and implemented programs that include retrofitting and expansion of the public buildings and fire stations as well as new construction of several fire stations. He also implemented a water rescue, heavy rescue and HazMat Response Team that provides mutual aid to the entire County of Alameda and served as a key negotiator representing Alameda County for an ambulance contract for citywide services.

An advocate of regionalization, Chief McCammon fostered and promoted the idea of creating a regional fire dispatch center within the County. Since its creation in 1999, six jurisdictions receive dispatch services from the center at the Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory, with countywide fire and emergency medical services mutual aid coordinated through the center.

Chief McCammon's list of involvement addressing fire and emergency medical services issues at the local, state and national levels is impressive. He has served on numerous boards, commissions and associations, and has been appointed by several governors for leadership positions to address incident management, homeland security, fire service and other issues relevant to his expertise.

On January 5, 2007, Fire Chief Bill McCammon's friends and family will gather at the Castlewood Country Club in Pleasanton, California to honor his achievements in his profession, to thank him for his years of dedicated service and to wish him well on his retirement. I am honored to recognize him on his special occasion.

MINERAL WELLS VETERANS DAY PROGRAM

HON. MAC THORNBERRY

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. THORNBERRY. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to acknowledge and commend an innovative partnership between the Mineral Wells, Texas Independent School District and several veterans' organizations in that community. For each of the past 24 years, citizens of Mineral Wells have come together on Veterans Day to honor those who have served our Nation in the military with a special "Day of Remembrance" program.

Every year, the program draws over 3,700 youth, community leaders, and area residents to pay tribute to those who embody the American spirit. Working together as a community has helped promote pride and patriotism among students while honoring veterans. Members of the American Legion Post 75, the Sons of the Legion Squadron 75, and Farris Anderson Unit 75 of American Legion Auxiliary, Mineral Wells, along with school leaders and students help plan and participate in an event that features a parade, music, displays of military power, and much camaraderie among generations.

Throughout our history, men and women have answered the call of a Nation in need, and on Veterans Day, we are especially mindful of their service, sacrifice, and that of their families. I appreciate what the city of Mineral Wells does to honor those most responsible for our freedom, and I am hopeful they will continue to serve as an example for years to come.

HONORING JOHN CASE, CHAIRMAN OF THE PACE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

HON. JUDY BIGGERT

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mrs. BIGGERT. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to thank John Case for his 8 years of service as Chairman of the Pace Board of Directors. Under John's leadership, numerous improvements were instituted to North America's 6th largest bus system, resulting in better service for millions of Americans living in the Chicagoland area.

It is no surprise that John was chosen to serve as Chairman of the Board—he has a long history of serving his community and nation. As a retired United States Air Force Major with 20 years of service, including the third bomber wing during the Korean War, he brought many valuable skills to his role as Chairman. His experience is evident in the many improvements he instituted. These include developing Board Committees to handle specific decision areas, implementing use of biodiesel in the Pace bus fleet, doubling the size of Pace's vanpool program, ensuring that retirement funds are being adequately funded, and implementation of the Intelligent Bus System, which provides real-time information on bus locations, ridership and on-time performance.

John is a dedicated public servant. For more than 40 years, he has served his community in many public roles. He began his public career in Lisle Township—located in the 13th District of Illinois, which I represent—and, since then, has held the position of Township Trustee and Supervisor for Lisle Township. In DuPage County, in which Lisle Township resides, he has served as a DuPage County Board Member, County Board Chairman, and Forest Preserve President.

Once again, I would like to congratulate and thank John Case on his eight successful years as Chairman of the Pace Board of Directors and for all he has done for his community.

RECOGNIZING THE GENEROUS ACTIONS OF THE NATIONAL AERONAUTICAL AND SPACE ADMINISTRATION

HON. CHARLES W. DENT

OF PENNSYLVANIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the generous actions of National Aeronautics and Space Administration, NASA, following the damaging affects of Hurricane Katrina on our nation's liquid hydrogen infrastructure.

On August 29, 2005, Hurricane Katrina made landfall on the Gulf Coast Region of the United States. In addition to the devastating impact that Hurricane Katrina levied on the residents and municipalities of the Gulf Coast Region, the storm also severely damaged numerous business and manufacturing establishments, including the world's largest liquid hydrogen manufacturing facility located in New Orleans, LA.

For 40 years, NASA has been a major user of liquid hydrogen for many of its programs, including its Space Shuttle program. Today, NASA remains a significant and preferential customer of the New Orleans liquid hydrogen facility and, as such, is entitled to preferential supply due to its Defense Priority rating.

Liquid hydrogen is essential in many commercial manufacturing applications including the production of metals, float glass and electronics products that are, in turn, critical resources for other major American manufactures.

In anticipation of the Space Shuttle launch scheduled for March 2006, NASA had accumulated a considerable amount of liquid hydrogen in its spheres at the Kennedy Space Center, and had also planned significant testing of the Space Shuttle engines at Stennis Space Center prior to the March launch.

Upon learning of the severe shortage of liquid hydrogen supply in North America due to the effects of Hurricane Katrina on the facility located in New Orleans, NASA voluntarily agreed to transfer back to the facility a total of 391,220 pounds of liquid hydrogen and agreed to "stand down" its engine testing requirements at Stennis Space Center until liquid hydrogen production was resumed in November 2005.

NASA's generous actions allowed for the continued, albeit reduced, supply of liquid hydrogen to most commercial customers across the United States and prevented the shutdown of numerous manufacturing facilities and commensurate job losses throughout the Nation.

Mr. Speaker, I ask that my colleagues join me today in recognizing NASA for its exceptional response and efforts in support of the U.S. manufacturing base by unselfishly committing its liquid hydrogen resources immediately following Hurricane Katrina's devastation of the Gulf Coast liquid hydrogen production capacity on August 29, 2005.

CAPITOL HILL MOURNS THE PASSING OF THE COSTUME LADY

HON. ELEANOR HOLMES NORTON

OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Ms. NORTON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to pay tribute to Lola Beaver, a longtime Capitol Hill resident who owned and operated The Costume Shop for 34 years after an equally long and successful career as a dancer, choreographer and dance instructor. She died at home in her sleep on Tuesday, November 28. When she died at 96, Lola's sharp wit, sparkling intelligence and high-spirited spunk had not deserted the woman whose loyalty and love were treasured by countless friends, customers and neighbors.

Born Luola (Lola) Murchison Hurkamp in Fredricksburg, Virginia, on July 5, 1910, she moved to the Washington area after her mother committed suicide when Lola was four years old. After five long years as a boarding student at the National Cathedral School, she graduated in 1929, came into her inheritance and promptly hopped on a Holland American liner headed for Europe. At summer's end, she returned to the States and arrived in New York City in a Chevrolet roadster that boasted a rumble seat and an item she had picked up in a Paris flea market and screwed onto the outside of her car: a French horn.

The 1929 stock market crash forced Lola, a student at NYC's Grand Central Art School, to earn a living as a dime-a-dance girl. She met and married a struggling actor, Andy Beaver, who was sharing an apartment with Henry Fonda and Burgess Meredith. When her husband joined the Marine Corps, the couple moved to Washington, DC. After twin boys died within two months of their birth, Lola opened the Lola Beaver Dance School in downtown Washington.

While her husband was fighting overseas, she performed for the troops at Washington's Stage Door Canteen and with the USO, traveling from the Caribbean to the Arctic with dancers from her school. A White House request that Lola create handmade bow ties to match President Lyndon Johnson's navy blue tuxedo marked her career move into costume design and rental. She moved to Capitol Hill in 1972 and converted a dry cleaning shop at the corner of 8th and A streets NE into The Costume Shop. "I liked Capitol Hill," she told an oral historian. "It had a nice small-town atmosphere. The people on the Hill are people you wouldn't mind knowing." Donna Brazile, my former chief of staff, moved across the street from Lola about 10 years ago. They became fast friends, and Lola knew that Donna was a friend to have. Donna virtually adopted Lola, cooking for her and nurturing Lola with friendship until the end.

Along with the city's most prestigious live theaters and Halloween revelers of all ages, members of Congress and burlesque queens, Lola's customers included every president from Johnson to Bill Clinton. During the height of the Watergate scandal, the lifelong Democrat took particular glee in outfitting then Indiana Sen. Birch Bayh as a burglar and his wife as a bug for Halloween. The ever-slim beauty with a thick mane of white hair never hesitated to render her opinion on a customer's choice of costume or actual weight. "You're too fat for that dress" or "You should be a pirate/princess/clown—you look like one" were the price of rental at The Costume Shop. Regarding the elegant turn-of-the-century cutaway Bill Clinton rented, Lola recalled, "He was bigger than I thought he was. He must've worn a corset when he had his picture taken."

It was considered a high honor to be invited to join Lola, a grandmother figure for countless Hill residents, children and adults alike, for a bourbon-soaked "teatime" that lasted until the wee hours of the morning. Many a glass of Jim Beam will be raised in her honor at a luncheon that will immediately follow a memorial service to be held December 9 at Christ Church, noon, 620 G St., SE.

In lieu of flowers, Lola, a lifelong animal lover, asked that contributions be made in her name to the Washington Humane Society (washhumane.org) and The Elephant Sanctuary (elephants.com).

STATEMENT HONORING SALLY LILIENTHALHON. NANCY PELOSI

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Ms. PELOSI. Mr. Speaker, with deep admiration and affection I pay my respects to a great San Franciscan and global citizen, Sally Lilienthal, who died on Oct. 24 at the age of 87. I join my constituents in honoring her vision, her courage, her leadership and her immense contributions to building a safer and more peaceful world. A magnificent role model, she lived her conscience and practiced her ideals each and every day.

In 1981, at the height of the Cold War—as superpowers stockpiled nuclear weapons, the international arms trade boomed and intercontinental ballistic missiles grew more lethal—Sally Lilienthal founded the Ploughshares Fund. Based in her living room and driven by her determination to inform the public about the issues and the danger, it became an enormously influential foundation dedicated to the prevention of nuclear, biological and chemical weapons of war.

She supported researchers, policy activists, and scientists in the United States and overseas who were trying to change government policies and was a vital figure in shaping the anti-proliferation agenda during the Cold War. As of now, the fund has given away more than $50 million, mostly for startup research and is the largest grant-making foundation in the United States focused exclusively on peace and security issues.

Sally Ann Lowengart was 12 when her family moved to San Francisco. She graduated from Sarah Lawrence College and returned to San Francisco in 1940. During the 1950s, she studied sculpture at the San Francisco Art Institute. Elegant and artistic, she could have spent her life comfortably moving in San Francisco's art and social circles. Instead, she turned her attention and her might to the issues of war, peace, and social justice.

Together with her husband Philip Lilienthal she founded the Northern California Committee of the NAACP Legal Defense and Education Fund in 1970. She served on the regional ACLU board. She co-founded Amnesty International Western Region and was an early supporter of the International Campaign to Ban Landmines that, while she was vice chair, resulted in a global treaty and a Nobel Peace Prize in 1977. In 1990, the United Nations Association bestowed to her its Eleanor Roosevelt Humanitarian Award.

In addition to her work for peace, for social justice, and the arts, Sally Lilienthal was an active member of our community supporting progressive policies and politicians. For 30 years I was blessed with her support, her advice, and her friendship.

I extend my deepest sympathy to her family; Laurie Cohen, Liza Pike, Thomas Cohen, Matthew Royce, Steven Cohen, Sukey Lilienthal, Andrea Lilienthal, and her 11 grandchildren. I hope it is a comfort to them that so many people mourn her passing and will hold Sally in their hearts forever.

INTRODUCTION OF LEGISLATION TO STUDY THE FEASIBILITY OF CREATING A UNIT OF THE NATIONAL PARK SYSTEM AT TULE LAKE SEGREGATION CENTERHON. DORIS O. MATSUI

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Ms. MATSUI. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to join with my colleague, Representative JOHN DOOLITTLE of California, to introduce legislation which is important to California, to Japanese-American communities all across the country, and to our collective understanding of history as Americans. This legislation will initiate a resource study of Tule Lake to determine whether or not it should be included as a unit of the National Park System. However, it represents so much more than just another government study.

Indeed, the information which will be produced from the examination of Tule Lake's potential for inclusion in the National Park System will begin to ease the wrongs of the past and point the way toward a future devoid of prejudice and fear. Passing this bill will help ensure that current and future generations of Americans learn from and avoid repeating the wrongs that were committed during the internment of Japanese and Americans of Japanese descent during World War II.

It has been nearly sixty-five years since President Franklin Delano Roosevelt issued Executive Order 9066. From Poston, Arizona—where I was born—to Minidoka, Idaho, productive and loyal Japanese Americans were interned under this executive order in camps which robbed them of their dignity, denied them the opportunity to build their lives, and undercut the very freedom which had attracted these individuals and their ancestors to America in the first place. Few can imagine such an episode occurring in a nation such as ours, which was in the midst of fighting to defeat the forces of tyranny and evil abroad.

Over the more than six decades which have passed since that fateful decision was made to imprison so many innocent people, much progress has been made to analyze, redress, and commemorate the crimes perpetrated against Japanese Americans during this dark period.

My late husband, Representative Robert T. Matsui, for example, was integral in passing the Civil Liberties Act of 1988, which represented a first step toward healing the wounds suffered by those who were interned. But righting the wrongs of our forebears does not absolve us of our duty to guard against their recurrence, no matter how much we may have increased our tolerance and respect for the many diverse cultures which comprise this great tapestry of a country.

Indeed, as the time of the internment becomes more and more remote, our responsibility to learn its lessons falls ever more squarely upon our shoulders. We can accomplish this solemn task by preserving the locations and structures which stood at places like Manzanar, Heart Mountain, and Tule Lake, so that our children and grandchildren can learn these lessons of tolerance, understanding, and loyalty.

Including Tule Lake Segregation Center as a part of the National Park System will add a critical element to the federal government's inventory of Japanese internment sites. Tule Lake was a camp like any other until the fall of 1943, when it was converted into a maximum-security detention center for those Japanese Americans who were deemed to be exceptionally disloyal and dangerous. The vast majority of the 18,000 internees at Tule Lake Segregation Center were there because of their answers to one of two questions on a government loyalty questionnaire, which caused them to be categorized as "disloyal." Having been uprooted from their homes in 1941, their lives were upended for a second time when they were transferred from one internment camp to the even more remote installation at Tule Lake, near the California-Oregon border.

For this reason, Mr. Speaker, it is crucial that Tule Lake join sites like Manzanar and Minidoka as units of the National Park System. As a segregation center, Tule Lake embodies some of the most wrenching aspects of the internment. It was there that the unfair choices between heritage and current loyalties were most harshly forced on Japanese Americans. As such, Tule Lake represents an additional perspective to be added to the historical record of the internment. Including it as a unit of the National Park System will ensure that the historical narrative which is unique to Tule Lake is never lost, but instead learned and understood by current and future generations.

I urge my colleagues to support this bill, which will help marshal the resources of the federal government to ensure that the experiences of World War II and of the internment do not simply contribute to further resentment and anger. With this legislation, we will continue to convert the pain and regret of the internment into a positive force for change in the future.

HONORING THE SERVICE OF MRS.
JOSEFA CRUZ CERTEZA TO THE GUAM COMMUNITYHON. MADELEINE Z. BORDALLO

OF GUAM

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Ms. BORDALLO. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Mrs. Josefa Cruz Certeza, known affectionately to her family and friends as Tan Pai, on the occasion of her 90th birthday, which she celebrates today, Monday, November 27, 2006.

Tan Pai was born and raised in the village of Piti, Guam, and currently resides in the village of Agat. Her parents are Enrique Santos and Josefa Perez Cruz. She was married to the late Delfin Quenga Certeza and has six children, 21 grandchildren and 40 great grandchildren.

On this special occasion we recognize Tan Pai's many contributions and her selfless service to our community over the past 60 years. Tan Pai is a strong Chamorro woman, and she is respected by our community as one of the eldest and few surviving Suruhanas (Traditional Healer) on our island today.

Tan Pai's life and vocation as a Suruhana began when her youngest son fell ill, and when she went to seek help for him from a Suruhana in a nearby village. That Suruhana was too busy and told Tan Pai to come back the next day. Tan Pai felt that it would be too late for her son to wait, so she decided to find a cure herself.

Tan Pai learned the techniques of massage and herbal (the Chamorro) medicine from her mother, Josefa Perez Cruz, and from her husband's grandmother, Vicenta Quidachay Quenga.

Mrs. Vicenta Quidachay Quenga had learned the practices of a Suruhana herself firsthand from her mother. Mrs. Quenga was a gifted teacher who divulged the recipes to Tan Pai. There were many known Suruhanas at that time of Tan Pai's youth, but Tan Pai did not pay close attention to their practices and gifts until the incident befell her son and her strong interest in the tradition took root.

Raised in the Chamorro and Catholic traditions, Tan Pai is strong in her faith and believes that God has granted her a special gift, the power to cure, and that she should use this gift to help others in need. Since the age of 30, Tan Pai's specialty as Suruhana was in treatment of those illnesses which were considered ailments of children (chetnot famagu'on) and she has cured (Guiya uma amte) children of many illnesses which were traditionally treated by a Suruhana, and those of which modern medicine has no remedy. She uses massage, making medicines (using "lommock"), massage with applications of medicine, and massage with consumption of medicine.

Tan Pai was one of the Suruhanas mentioned in a manuscript, entitled, "I Che'E'Cho Suruhana Yan Suruhanu (The Use of Traditional Medicine and Healers on Guam)." It was written, for review only, by three students working on a documentary at the University of Guam. The manuscript represents work over 10 years of research which began in 1981 as a student project. This project has evolved to include indigenous participation in cultural preservation and education, and has become a scholarly and scientific endeavor for the benefit of our island community.

Tan Pai has been featured as one of "The Last of the Suruhanas" in the Guahan Magazine and has received, on various occasions, local exposure from KUAM news and Guam Cable Television for her traditional Suruhana methods.

On behalf of a grateful island community, I join her children, Abeline, Bertha, Adelbert, Galo, Joseph, and Franklin, her family and friends, and all of the people of Guam, in extending a heartfelt "Dangkulo na Si Yu'os Ma'ase" to Mrs. Josefa Cruz Certeza for all of the good work she has done for our people, and for her continued selfless service to our community.

TRIBUTE TO HAROLD STONES

HON. DENNIS MOORE

OF KANSAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. MOORE of Kansas. Mr. Speaker, I take this opportunity today to bring to the attention of the Members of the House a recent tribute to Harold Stones, of Topeka, KS, that was published in the Topeka Capital-Journal.

The longtime former executive director of the Kansas Bankers Association, since retiring from that position in 1997, Harold Stones has served as special projects director for Kansas Senator PAT ROBERTS. As the Capital-Journal article details, at the age of 75, Harold continues to work diligently in the service of his fellow Kansans, working on economic development issues and serving as a liaison with Kansas military families.

I commend Harold Stones to my colleagues and encourage all to take his example to heart!

[From the Capital-Journal, Nov. 28, 2006]

STILL A "POLITICAL JUNKIE"

(By Jan Biles)

Harold Stones retired as executive vice president of the Kansas Bankers Association in 1997 after 30 years of service. But instead of taking it easy, he embarked on a second career—Kansas special projects director for Sen. Pat Roberts.

Stones, 75, of Topeka, said he had known Roberts for several years before the senator asked him to join his staff to work in the areas of economic development and military affairs.

"I will do this job as long as he wants me to," he said.

Stones grew up in a Smith County farming family who taught him the importance of voting and never shied away from politics.

"My great-grandfather was a probate judge. My grandfather was a county treasurer, and my dad was a township committeeman," he said.

After attending Fort Hays State University for a year, Stones taught in a county school for a year before joining the U.S. Air Force. When his four-year stint was over, he returned to Fort Hays State University, where he earned bachelor's and master's degrees. He was hired by the university to teach speech and coach the debate team and then became director of alumni affairs and student placement.

About a decade later, in 1967, he joined the Kansas Bankers Association. When he celebrated his 25th year there, the association set up a scholarship fund in his name at Fort Hays State University. Each year, four students are awarded scholarships.

"It's a general scholarship for a child of someone who works at a Kansas bank," he said.

Stones' experience at the bankers association gave him the opportunity to learn more about the ups and downs of the Kansas economy. The 1980s were particularly hard on the state's farming, energy and banking businesses.

"Every time a farmer went (under), an ag bank went with it," he said.

Stones tapped into that experience when Roberts tapped him for a staff position. He traveled throughout Kansas to meet with local chambers of commerce and economic development groups. He now is advising Roberts on how to build a high-tech job base in the state.

When the Iraq war started, Roberts asked Stones to act as the senator's liaison with Fort Riley, Fort Leavenworth and McConnell Air Force Base. He has attended dozens of deployment and welcome-home ceremonies at the military bases, as well as memorial and funeral services.

"Senator Roberts writes a letter to each family (who has lost a loved one in the war) and I hand deliver the letter and talk to them," he said.

One of the highlights of his years with the senator was traveling to Bosnia in October 1997 as a volunteer to assist in organizing a multi-ethnic, democratic Bosnia Bankers Association.

"It was a slow process, but 18 to 24 months later Bosnia established a Bosnia bankers group," he said.

Stones said he exercises on a regular basis at a local fitness center and continues to be a "political junkie"—something that would please his office-holding ancestors.

Above all, he is optimistic about where the country and state are going.

"The past is gone," he said. "Our best days are yet to come."

TRIBUTE TO WILLIAM B. GOULD

IV

HON. ANNA G. ESHOO

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Ms. ESHOO. Mr. Speaker, I rise to place into the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD the words of William B. Gould IV, former Chairman of the National Labor Relations Board and professor emeritus at Stanford University Law School. He recently wrote an article advocating changes to the National Labor Relations Act which merits inclusion in our Nation's RECORD. The following article was published in the San Francisco Chronicle on November 21, 2006, and was titled Why Labor Law Is Not Working.

America's labor law system and much of the workplace environment surrounding it are dysfunctional. But proposals about reforming the National Labor Relations Act, initially enacted as a "Bill of Rights" for workers to join unions and bargain collectively, have been bandied about without action for at least four decades. Most Americans who care about good labor-management relations have seen this movie before. Yet the Sept. 30 decision by the National Labor Relations Board that excludes many hospital charge nurses from labor law coverage as supervisors and its potential for doing the same to other professionals as well as skilled workers, is part of a new dimension to the story's plot.

For more than a half century, each new president's appointees have made the pendulum shift. But the changes, as most recently illustrated by the charge nurse decisions, take it up more than a notch; prominent management labor law firms are quickly providing Web postings about how to change the duties of employees so that they qualify for statutory exclusion. Well before this decision, the appointees of President Bush busily reinterpreted the law so as to deny many workers the opportunity for representation at the workplace.

For example, graduate teaching assistants at private universities, who function as both students and employees, were written out of the law two years ago. Prohibitions against fraternization amongst employees during non-working hours, a major avenue for self-organization, were viewed as lawful. The same applied to employer and NLRB denial of union protests in shopping malls. The collective-bargaining process was impaired by virtue of NLRB rulings that employers did not have an obligation to open their books to unions, contrary to Supreme Court mandate when the employer claims an inability to pay.

True, the law is a secondary factor in the precipitous decline in union membership to less than 13 percent of the workforce and to 7.8 percent in the private sector. Other factors—globalization, deregulation in transportation, vulnerable contingent and part-time employees, including illegal immigrants—are more significant as an explanation for labor's near-demise than the law's many weaknesses.

However, for the past 35 years, the inability of the law to provide an expeditious resolution to worker and employer complaints—and thus assurance that justice will not be denied through its delay as well as inadequate remedies, have made reform necessary long before the Bush-appointed NLRB began to work its mischief. The newly elected Democratic-led Congress should address labor-law reform.

Notwithstanding the subordinate role the law plays in the workplace malaise, respect for the law and its function are an important element in the democratic process.

This time around, however, the discussion must take into account a need for more sweeping changes which affect the agency itself. More formidable than one-sided statutory interpretations is a lack of production of cases. Ironically, as the number of cases filed with the NLRB has dropped, in part because unions lost confidence in its rulings, the resolution of those cases remaining declined. The reason for NLRB lethargy is not only Bush's hostility to collective bargaining, but also the appointment process: the past decade and a half has witnessed the emergence of partisan appointees and a greater reliance on Washington insiders from Capitol Hill, who, having no place to return, cling to office while they fail to decide cases which, they fear, will interfere with their re-appointment process.

The consequence of this is a politicization of decision-making, an ever-deeper NLRB ideological divide and the unwillingness of Congress to approve any presidential nominees without "batching" the appointments, i.e. providing for at least two appointments at a time, one with the blessing of labor, the other with the blessing of business. This means no more appointments like those made in labor law's early and halcyon days of the 1940s and '50s, when genuine impartial neutrals were appointed by Presidents Roosevelt and Truman.

One answer to the production problem and its denial of the prompt relief to which both workers and employers are entitled is longer terms and a prohibition against reappointment. The number of board members should be reduced to three members rather than five. This year, the board is at full strength, and its production is worse than ever. It is obvious that politically anxious prevarication is exacerbated when there are a greater number of cooks standing around the cold soup. The denial of collective bargaining to the overwhelming majority of the American workforce is one of our democracy's great failings. While changing our labor law and those who administer it will not remedy all that ails us, it would be a step forward.

IN CELEBRATION OF THE 125TH ANNIVERSARY OF SPOKANE, WASHINGTON

HON. CATHY McMORRIS RODGERS

OF WASHINGTON

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mrs. McMORRIS RODGERS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the 125th birthday of the city of Spokane, Washington. Known as a "tough" town when Spokane was first developed, it quickly became known as the City of Wonder as tourists and sightseers flocked to the Inland Northwest to enjoy the beauty of its natural resources.

In their publication about Spokane, E.P. Charlton and Company wrote in 1909 that "Nature seems to have ordained that Spokane, the City Beautiful and Prosperous, should endure without a rival, and it may well be called the keystone in the arch of states which span the western country between the Rockies and the Puget Sound."

Today, Spokane continues to be a beautiful and prosperous city. And when we look at the current and future state of Spokane, we see a city of innovation, success, and growth. Not only is Spokane surrounded by wonderful natural resources, but it is home to innovative small businesses that are changing the world of technology, educational institutions that are ensuring a strong future for our students, and a thriving health care industry that is revolutionizing the way we receive and deliver health care.

I commend the city for its efforts to grow the economy while still maintaining its historical roots. Through the revitalization of downtown and the restoration of key historical landmarks, Spokane has grown into a wonderful community that has an incredible amount to offer both residents and visitors. The restoration of historic landmarks such as the Davenport Hotel, Steam Plant Grill, Old City Hall and Fox Theater help keep the spirit of Spokane alive while serving as new centers for high quality accommodations, restaurants, and entertainment.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today to celebrate with the citizens of Spokane, Washington as we mark 125 years of success as a city. Eastern Washington has become a wonderful place to live, work and raise a family because of the incredible people that reside here. I invite my colleagues to join me in recognizing the hard work of the citizens of Spokane, Washington as we commemorate our 125th birthday.

TRIBUTE TO MR. NICHOLAS
MORABITO

HON. THOMAS M. REYNOLDS

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, with great pride and delight I rise today to honor a dedicated and respected community member, family man and veteran upon his 50th anniversary of exceptional service in the East Rochester School District.

Mr. Nicholas Morabito has led a life deeply connected and committed to his hometown of East Rochester, New York. Through his distinguished professional career and his spirit to make his community a better place, Mr. Morabito has left a lasting mark since graduating from East Rochester High School in 1943. Ten years later, Mr. Morabito would become the first graduate of East Rochester to be admitted to the New York bar, and in 1956 he would start his tenure as school attorney to the East Rochester School District, the position he still holds today. In this role for more than a half-century now, Mr. Morabito's priority and personal charge has been to serve educators and students, providing incomparable expertise and counsel to his Alma Mater.

That sense of dedication and service has defined Mr. Morabito his whole life, in East Rochester and beyond. In 1943, in the midst of World War II, Mr. Morabito joined the Navy after graduating from high school. Serving at Pearl Harbor and the Midway Islands through 1946, Mr. Morabito would return home a proud yet humble veteran who fulfilled his duty with honor and defended his country in the neediest of times.

After the war, Mr. Morabito began his distinguished legal career, which would be marked by his service in the New York State Assembly and Senate. From 1955 to 1960, Mr. Morabito served as counsel to the Military Affairs Committee in the state assembly, and from 1960 to 1963 served as counsel to the Labor and Industry Committee in the state senate. His civil service continued as Village Justice in East Rochester from 1960 to 1967, all the while fulfilling the position he so dutifully serves to this day as school attorney in East Rochester.

Mr. Morabito, through it all, has first and foremost been a devoted family man: husband to wife Patricia Ann for well over 50 years, father to 7 sons, and grandfather to 23 grandchildren. Born to parents Antonio and Angeline who emigrated from Italy, Mr. Morabito was instilled with the belief that family comes first. For Mr. Morabito, it does, and it always will.

Thus, Mr. Speaker, in recognition of his 50 years of tremendous service to the East Rochester School District and his courageous service to his country, and for his sense of community and his sense of family, I ask that this honorable body join me in honoring Mr. Nicholas Morabito.

RESOLUTION HONORING RUTH
BROWN

HON. JOHN CONYERS, JR.

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. CONYERS. Mr. Speaker, I am proud to introduce this resolution today honoring the life of Ruth Brown. I join my colleagues Chairman JIM SENSENBRENNER and Ranking Member CHARLES RANGEL in recognizing the accomplishments of rhythm and blues singer Ruth Brown and her efforts to reform copyright royalty payments for recording artists.

On a sad day for the music community and myself, Ruth Brown passed away on November 17, 2006. She was a rhythm and blues singer known as Miss Rhythm and her talent rocketed her to become one of Atlantic Records' first recording stars. Her voice made her a hit from the 1940s and onward with such songs as "So Long," "Teardrops from My Eyes," and "He Treats your Daughter Mean." Richard Harrington of the Washington Post said "there was a world of hurt in those songs and an insistence on some justice, a boldness of voice that Miss Rhythm reached for as Miss Righteous."

Ruth Brown's peers recognized her talent, as well. She won a 1989 Tony Award for Best Actress in a Musical in Black and Blue; a 1989 Grammy Award for her album "Blues on Broadway;" and 1993 induction into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, and a 1999 Lifetime Achievement Award from The Blues Foundation. Her autobiography, Miss Rhythm, received the Ralph Gleason Award for Music.

Aside from her own singing career, Ruth Brown became a tireless advocate for the rights of other rhythm and blues singers. She worked with Congress to advance the cause of copyright royalty reform so that rhythm and blues artists could receive the royalties they deserved from their music. She also helped found the Rhythm and Blues Foundation in 1988 to recognize, promote, and preserve rhythm and blues music. The important work of the Foundation continues to this day.

The resolution we introduce today acknowledges these important contributions to American culture, recognizes Ruth Brown for her efforts to reform the royalty system, and expresses the House's deepest condolences to Ruth Brown's family and friends.

IN RECOGNITION OF THE COMMITMENT AND COMPASSION OF FAITH ELLIS FOR THE PEOPLE OF THE 26TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT OF TEXAS

HON. MICHAEL C. BURGESS

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. BURGESS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the outstanding achievements and commitment of Faith Ellis to the people of the 26th Congressional District of Texas. Faith has been a trusted employee and friend of mine for several years, and her expertise, humor and true love for north Texas and her local Fort Worth community will be sorely missed.

Faith was invaluable in her outreach role within Fort Worth. Her experiences growing up and assisting her father, Reby Cary, in the Texas State House provided her a unique training ground to understand the intersection and balance of community representation and the legislative process. It also provided her with a very early exposure to elected officials at all levels within the State that afforded her a professional comfort to associate with them in her outreach and representative capacity.

This experience, followed by her role as a loving mother, and her community efforts, make her an inspiring role model. She always brought the best out in people and gently guided us all to a better understanding of the world around us. Her compassion was evident to all, and she searched for practical solutions to any stumbling blocks that ever arose.

Combined, these life experiences allowed Faith Ellis the unique skill set needed to carry with credibility the commitment I have offered to southeast Fort Worth to actively represent their needs, and put forth the effort and leadership needed to identify and address their economic challenges at the federal level.

In a community harboring partisan wounds resulting from Texas, this was no small challenge. Faith faced the challenges with determination, professionalism, and hard work and there is no question that she will be impossible to replace. The community will likely never fully appreciate her impact, but she has clearly laid the foundation for the efforts of me and my staff. Her work, both personal and professional for her fellow man, will bring outstanding long-term benefits.

I only hope that Faith knows how much she is loved and how much she meant to all of us. The outreach model she set forth in southeast Fort Worth and indeed, throughout the 26th District, will certainly stand the test of time. Thank you Faith, for all you are and all you have done.

PAYING TRIBUTE TO LINDA SMITH

HON. JON C. PORTER

OF NEVADA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. PORTER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Linda Smith for her tireless efforts as a fundraising specialist for Opportunity Village, a laudable organization that provides vocational training and advocacy for the disabled.

Linda has been a major force at Opportunity Village in planning and developing fundraising strategies, most notably the privately-funded, multi-million dollar capital campaigns to build the Opportunity Village campuses and training centers that have served thousands of disabled people. Linda oversees the Opportunity Village Resource Development Department, which generates millions of dollars annually for programs for people with profound disabilities through special events and annual giving programs she has largely pioneered.

Her tenacity and dedication have resulted in the involvement of vocalist Celine Dion in the Opportunity Village mission, culminating a performance at a benefit concert on the Las Vegas Strip in honor of Opportunity Village's 50th birthday. Linda has also initiated capital campaigns totaling more than $48 million including the Leid Opportunity Campus on West Oakey Blvd., the Walters Family Campus in Henderson, the Culinary Training Center on the Opportunity Village main campus and the Southwest campus at Buffalo and Patrick.

For her efforts, Linda has received numerous accolades, including: being named the "Fundraising Executive of the Year" by the National Society of Fundraising Executives, receiving the Woman of Achievement Award from the Las Vegas Chamber of Commerce, being named an honorary member of the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs, and being named "Nevada Woman of the Year" in 1994.

Mr. Speaker, I am proud to honor Linda Smith. Her hard work has allowed Opportunity Village to grow exponentially and enrich countless lives. I applaud her efforts and wish her the best in her future endeavors.

HONORING DALE ROBBINS

HON. BRIAN HIGGINS

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. HIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Mr. Dale Robbins for his years of service as the Busti Town supervisor. Mr. Robbins served his community well during his tenure in office.

Public service is a difficult path to take. Any person with a dream may enter but only a few are able to reach the end. Mr. Robbins traveled that path with his head held high and a smile on his face throughout his tenure. I have no doubt that his kind demeanor left a lasting impression on the constituents of Busti.

Chautauqua County is blessed to have such strong and dedicated public servants with a desire to make this county the wonderful place that we all know it can be. Mr. Robbins is one of those people and that is why, Mr. Speaker, I rise to honor him today.

MARINE PVT HEATH D. WARNER

HON. RALPH REGULA

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. REGULA. Mr. Speaker, it is with both sorrow and pride that I rise today to pay tribute to a dedicated Marine and citizen from my district in Ohio who gave his life defending our country while serving in Iraq.

Marine PVT Heath D. Warner was killed on Wednesday, November 22, 2006, while conducting combat operations against anti-Iraqi forces in Haqlaniyah, in Al Anbar province. He was 19 years old. With his entire life before him, Heath risked everything to fight for the values Americans hold close to our hearts, in a land halfway round the world.

Heath was a gunner on a Humvee when he, LCpl James Davenport, 20, of Danville, Indiana, and LCpl Joshua Alonzo, 21, of Dumas, Texas, were killed while conducting combat operations. The three were part of the 2nd Battalion, 3rd Marine Regiment, 3rd Marine Division, and were based in Kaneohe Bay, Hawaii.

He was born on Friday, January 2, 1987, in Massillon, and was a lifetime resident of Canton. He was a 2005 graduate of McKinley High School. He had been a Boy Scout, taught break dancing at Living Fountain Dance Company, and was a member of the McKinley Young Republican Club. He enjoyed reading, martial arts, and was teaching himself Japanese and Arabic.

Even at the young age of 5, Heath dreamed of someday serving in the military. Following his high school graduation, Heath's dream of joining the Marines became a reality. His father, Scott, shared memories of Heath with the Canton Repository, recounting that his son was committed to the Marines, and had been intent on joining since childhood, even more so since September 11, 2001.

"He always had a desire to serve," he said. "I was from a family with the core values of 'God, family and country.' I instilled that in Heath. It was natural that he would join the service."

Heath was known for his deep faith, his dedication to his family, and his love of country. Today and always, Heath will be remembered by family members, friends, and fellow Ohioans as a true American hero, and we honor the sacrifice he made while dutifully serving his country.

It is my honor to enter the name of Heath D. Warner in the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD of the U.S. House of Representatives for his service to this country and for his profound commitment to freedom, democracy, and peace. As I search for words to do justice in honoring Heath's sacrifice, I am reminded of the words of Jesus when He was comforting his disciples:

Do not let your hearts be troubled. Trust in God; trust also in Me. In My Father's house are many rooms; if it were not so, I would have told you. I am going there to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come back and take you to be with Me that you also may be where I am.

May God grant strength and peace to those who mourn, and may God be with all of you, as I know He is with Heath. Our Nation extends its heartfelt condolences to his family.

To his father, Scott, his mother, Melissa, and his brothers, Chandler and Ashton, we extend our profound gratitude for sharing this outstanding Marine with us, and we offer our prayers and support.

IN THE MINUTES OF OUR LIVES

HON. JOE WILSON

OF SOUTH CAROLINA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. WILSON of South Carolina. Mr. Speaker, upon learning of the tragic death of United States Marine Corps Major Trane McCloud, the following poem was penned by Albert Carey Caswell, United States Capitol Tour Guide.

“In the minutes of our lives,
In these our short times, what of our true worth in the moments we’re alive. . .
In what we’ve all so done!
“For it’s how we’ve so lived and died,
All within these our short lives, are all of those magnificents who’ve so strived!
As did you Trane, as for America’s fine son
we now so cry!
“For Trane, your splendid life. . . will always be one of great meaning and sacrifice!
Yes, you America’s True Son. . . of Liberty the one. . . shall so ever shine into that night!
Yes, Trane you were such the one!
“For a Gallant Hero who goes off to war,
Who so leaves their most precious loved ones behind, all for our freedom to ensure!
Is but The Brightest of All Sons!
“Trane, To Make A Difference with it all. . .
As You would not fail, as you would not fall.
As what you so fought for, as what you saw!
Until, your fine life was done!
“In life, we all must make choices!
But it’s only from the heart, so comes uncommon valor. . . from deep down these inner voices!
To do what must be done!
“To Heaven now rise my son!
You are but a Hero in our Lord’s eyes. . . yes
you are the one!
For only those brave of heart, who so play their part. . . souls up to Heaven shall so run!
“In these the moments of our lives,
Only in these, all of what we’ve so fought for. . . lived and died!
Shall take us To Heaven’s Sun!
“And when there comes a gentle rain,
Trane’s tears from up in Heaven shall wash down upon you to ease your pain. . .
Until, up in Heaven you so meet again. . .
once again!”

TRIBUTE TO MAX H. DODSON

HON. MARK UDALL

OF COLORADO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. UDALL of Colorado. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to acknowledge the exemplary service of Mr. Max Dodson. Mr. Dodson will be retiring from the Environmental Protection Agency’s (EPA) Region 8 office in Denver, Colorado, this coming January.

For over 35 years, Mr. Dodson has been at the forefront of EPA’s initiatives and programs.

His career at EPA is marked with many firsts and a tireless dedication to the Agency and its mission. Since joining EPA in August 1971, Max held numerous positions in the Denver, Colorado, and Helena, Montana, offices. These include: Director, Montana Operations Office, Helena, Montana; Director, Water Quality Management Division, Denver, Colorado; and Assistant Regional Administrator, Office of Ecosystems Protection and Remediation, Denver, Colorado. He holds a B.A. in Geography and two masters’ degrees, one in Geography and one in Public Administration.

In addition, Max served 4 years as an intelligence officer with the U.S. Department of Navy and spent more than 20 years in the Naval Reserve where he was the Regional Commander of a District Office for several years. On top of his service to our country, Max has been a past member of the South Platte River Commission, and the Red River, Poplar River and Souris River Boards of the International Joint Commission (a binational United States-Canada organization established under the Boundary Waters Treaty of 1909) and the Steering Committee for the American Water Resources Association.

In the early 1970s, Max was a major contributor to EPA’s very first wastewater facility plan and the first ever basin-wide water quality management plan. Both of these plans guided the development and management of wastewater treatment systems within Summit County, Colorado, and Weber County, Utah. As the first of their kind, these plans were used as models for the rest of EPA and to this day, provide a guide to development and citing of wastewater treatment facilities in these two counties. Likewise, Max worked with the State of Montana to develop the first State/EPA agreement which provided the basis for environmental work within the State and enabled EPA to award millions of dollars in grants to the State in support of that work.

While a member of the Poplar and Red River International Boards, Max was instrumental in the development of some of the earliest agreements between Canada and the United States detailing how each country would manage activities in the river basin to minimize water quality impacts that each country’s activities had on the other country. Another first for EPA, which Max initiated and cultivated from the 1980s through now, was bringing together the Superfund and Clean Water Programs to address serious water quality problems in the Western United States due to historical mining activities. As a consequence of Max’s leadership, EPA Region 8 was the first region in the country to list mining sites on the Superfund National Priorities List. Today, several mine cleanups have been completed and many others are underway using Superfund resources to pay for the cleanup. Through his efforts the very first “Good Samaritan” agreement was developed for an abandoned mining site located in the American Fork Canyon in Utah. This agreement is serving as a model for others and has informed the Congressional deliberations related to new “Good Sam” legislation.

Another example of Max’s leadership is the development of a Response Support Corps and Regional Response Center for EPA Region 8 during the early 2000s. Due to his foresight, Region 8 was able to contribute more than its proportional share of the EPA staff who worked on the Katrina recovery efforts.

Max also served as a ranking officer during the initial response to the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina. Max was an important asset in the early days of the Katrina recovery efforts to get all of the disparate parties to work together and to ensure that the work done in the field was responsive to the needs identified.

For the last 11 years of Max’s career he has been the Senior Manager overseeing the Region’s Superfund, Brownfields, Emergency Response/Preparedness and National Environmental Policy Act programs, as well as several parts of the Agency’s Clean Water Program. In all, his office of over 200 personnel has responsibility for implementation of six environmental statutes: Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act (a.k.a., Superfund); Oil Pollution Act; Brownfields Revitalization Act; National Environmental Policy Act; Clean Water Act; and Safe Drinking Water Act. Additionally, his office oversees cleanup of the Department of Defense sites under its Base Realignment and Closure, and Defense Environmental Restoration programs.

Region 8 has the distinction of being the home to some of the country’s largest and most complicated Superfund sites and projects: Rocky Mountain Arsenal, Rocky Flats, Clark Fork Watershed, Clear Creek Watershed, and Libby Asbestos cleanups to name a few. The capstone of his many Superfund accomplishments was the work Max performed related to the final cleanup of Rocky Flats in 2006, enabling most of it to be converted to a wildlife refuge. Max served on the governing board that directed and oversaw the cleanup of Rocky Flats. Through his leadership and guidance, the $6.7 billion project was completed 14 months ahead of schedule and over $550 million under budget. Since 1980, 61 sites in the region have been listed on Superfund’s National Priorities List—a list of sites representing the greatest risk to human health, welfare and the environment. By the end of 2006, 44 of the 61 sites will have been cleaned up, all but 4 under Max’s tenure. Of the 44 cleaned sites, 11 have been deleted from the NPL.

Region 8 is a leader for the country in terms of the number of acres and cleanup projects restored to beneficial uses. For example, since April, 2004, over 13,000 out of a possible 17,000 acres of Rocky Mountain Arsenal have been converted from weapons and pesticides manufacturing to a National Wildlife Refuge, the largest urban refuge in the Nation. Revitalization projects which have received national recognition or awards under Max’s watch have been:

1. Prairie Gateway—an over 900 acre project involving recreational and commercial uses Northeast of Denver, Colorado, including a world class soccer stadium and practice fields and a new U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service visitor center for the Rocky Mountain Arsenal Wildlife Refuge.

2. SLC Gateway—former 650 acre railyard that was converted to mixed retail, hotel, and residential use in Salt Lake City, Utah. The redevelopment was integral part of the 2002 Winter Olympics and was selected as a Brownfields Showcase Project.

3. Murray Lead Smelter—142 acre former lead smelter that was converted to a public transit station, hospital, and commercial/retail space located in Murray, Utah.

4. Colorado Bioscience Park and Health Sciences Center—the former property that housed the Fitzsimons Army Hospital has been redeveloped into a $4.3 billion "square mile of life science projects" and is the focus for the biotechnology industry in the Rocky Mountain Region. The Colorado Bioscience Park located in Aurora, Colorado is the first university-affiliated "biopark" to be developed west of the Mississippi. It is adjacent to the University of Colorado Health Sciences Center and Hospital Complex, the Children's Hospital, and the Fitzsimons Commons town center, all of which make up the new development at the former Fitzsimons Army Hospital.

5. Lowry Redevelopment—the former 1866 acre Lowry Air Force Base has been converted to 4500 residential properties, 4 college campuses, a town center with shopping and commercial space, and 800 acres of open/recreational space. Lowry has been so successful that it received the Governor's Award for Smart Growth and is a model community for urban-infill projects across the country.

Throughout his career, Max has been the recipient of many honors and awards, including two bronze medals, a U.S. Forest Service award, the prestigious 4Cs award from the Bureau of Land Management, a Department of Defense Award for work on Rocky Mountain Arsenal, and several special SES service awards. In 2004 Max received the coveted Presidential Rank Award for Meritorious Executive. The Presidential Rank Award recognized, among several other things, his leadership in setting up the first "one stop" funding process for Clean Water Act programs which was subsequently adopted by the Agency; reinvigorating and streamlining the Regional National Priorities Listing efforts which resulted in the addition of 12 new sites located in Region 8 to the National Priorities List; and evaluating the impacts of wastewater point and non-point sources of contamination on a watershed basis instead of the traditional discharge by discharge basis. Through Max's leadership, the EPA changed several of its approaches for addressing environmental problems and managing different aspects of the Clean Water and Superfund programs.

Max has contributed 40 years of service to the people of this nation and especially the communities encompassed within EPA's Region 8 area. His "can do" approach and personal style of working with people make him a role model for public servants in all aspects of government. I want to personally thank him for his work on the clean up of Rocky Flats and mine waste issues—especially "Good Samaritan" concepts—two issues that are especially important to my Congressional District. He has laid the foundation for all of us to continue his great work for the benefit of the environment, our quality of life and effective public service. I ask my colleagues to join me in thanking Max for his contributions and wishing him the very best in his future endeavors.

TRIBUTE TO CHARLES HIGGINS

HON. JOHN D. DINGELL

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. DINGELL. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Mr. Charles Higgins, in honor of his work and accomplishments for the Lincoln Park Board of Education.

Mr. Higgins has lived in Lincoln Park since the age of 5, and throughout his life he has been committed to making it a better place to live. Charles was first elected to the Board of Education in 1967 and he made it his goal to improve subjects that, from his time in high school in Lincoln Park, he felt were lacking. Such areas included vocational education and the math curriculum. Mr. Higgins' dedication to parent-teacher associations while on the Board granted him the Distinguished Service Award for his efforts with the students. His time on the Board earned him the recognition of the longest-serving board member in the district of Lincoln Park and in the state of Michigan, and the honorable position of Board President.

Mr. Higgins served as a liaison to the Michigan Association of School Boards, the City Council of Lincoln Park, to the City Recreation Commission. He has been deservingly honored with tributes such as the Book of Golden Deeds Award from the Lincoln Park Exchange Club and Award Merit and Award of Distinction from the Michigan Association of School Boards. He also served with dedication as one of 28 board members from the state as a Michigan Ambassador for Public Education.

Before his time on the Board, Mr. Higgins worked for General Motors and was a deacon at the Lincoln Park Presbyterian Church. He is deeply involved in his community, and some of his current commitments include the Lincoln Park Athletic Club, Little League Baseball, Girl Scouts, and the Lincoln Park Democratic Club. He is also active with the senior community, delivering baked goods to the Lincoln Park Senior Center Towers.

I wish Mr. Higgins, his wife Marilyn, and their three children many good years filled with family, friends, and good health. The Southeast Michigan Community deeply appreciates his fantastic devotion and loyal service. I ask that all of my colleagues join me in wishing Charles Higgins a happy and relaxing retirement.

PAYING TRIBUTE TO BRANDON BYERS

HON. JON C. PORTER

OF NEVADA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. PORTER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Airman First Class Brandon Byers for his courage and dedication to his comrades and his country by serving in Iraq.

On November 6th, 2006, Brandon returned home from serving at Camp Bucca, Iraq, as a Combat Convoy .50 Cal Gunner for ASO Missions and Commonly Remote Operated Weapons System (CROWS). He was greeted at Nellis Air Force Base, Nevada by his unit, the 99th Security Forces Squadron with his wife and 5-year-old daughter by his side and his wounds healing.

On October 16th, 2006 Brandon experienced a terrifying ordeal that nearly cost him his life. While on active duty, Brandon's Humvee was hit with a bomb detonated by Iraqi insurgents. The improvised explosive device wounded him and two of his comrades while they were returning to camp in Southern Iraq from a mounted patrol mission. Brandon was manning a .50-caliber machine gun in the Humvee's turret when the bomb went off. Shrapnel peppered his body and two large pieces struck him—one in the right wrist and another in the upper left thigh.

Following the attack, Brandon was airlifted to a military trauma center in Kuwait to undergo extensive emergency surgery to remove the shrapnel and stabilize his injuries. Colonel Paul Curlett, commander of the 386th Air Expeditionary Wing, presented Brandon with a Purple Heart medal before his return to the U.S. to receive additional treatment at Wilford Hall Medical Center at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio.

In addition to his Purple Heart, Brandon has received a number of other awards and decorations, which include the National Defense Medal, Global War on Terrorism Expeditionary Medal, Global War on Terrorism Service Medal, and the Air Force Small Arms Expert Ribbon with cluster award.

After his wounds heal and his rehabilitation complete, Brandon will have to go before a medical review board to determine his eligibility to return to duty. Otherwise, he plans to return to his previous post as an Installation Patrolman and Security Response Team Leader for the 99th Security Force Squadron. Brandon feels as if he has let down his "brothers and sisters down range" because he cannot be with them, fighting in the fields.

Mr. Speaker, it is with great honor that I recognize Airman First Class Brandon Byers for his undaunted demeanor and courageous conduct in defense of democracy. He is a true patriot who serves the United States with valor and courage; I commend him for his service and I wish him luck with all his future endeavors.

IN RECOGNITION OF THE DEMOCRATIC PACIFIC UNION'S INTERNATIONAL SYMPOSIUM ON DEMOCRACY AND CONGRESS

HON. DONALD M. PAYNE

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. PAYNE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to recognize the Democratic Pacific Union's (DPU) upcoming international symposium on democracy and congress this December 8 through 10 in Taipei, Taiwan. I also offer my congratulations to Taiwan Vice President Annette Lu for putting this symposium together.

COMMENDING THE ABBOT SHI
YONGXIN OF THE SHAO LIN
MONASTERY IN CHINA

HON. DAN BURTON

OF INDIANA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. BURTON of Indiana. Mr. Speaker, on November 15th Abbot Shi Yongxin of the Shao Lin Temple in China visited Washington, DC to meet with Members of Congress and other U.S. Government officials. I had the privilege to meet this remarkable man and his traveling companions all of whom are expert practitioners of a specialized form of the martial arts commonly known as Kung Fu.

The Abbot leads one of the most ancient and most respected monasteries of its type in China, where he and his colleagues teach a synergistic philosophy based on the Buddhist, Confucian, and Taoist traditions. Thousands of Americans have traveled to the Shao Lin Temple over the years in order to advance their spiritual lives; and upon their return to the United States shared what they learned with their friends, family, and neighbors. I firmly believe that these types of person-to-person exchanges are and rightly ought to be a critical component of our foreign policy strategy. These types of exchanges inevitably break down old stereotypes and foster deeper understanding between the United States and other countries. Although my conversation with Abbot Shi Yongxin was all too brief, I was impressed with the Abbot's unique insight into China and Chinese culture. As our nation struggles to cope with the rising power and influence of China, these are the kinds of insights and perspectives we will need in order to understand what motivates China's leaders.

The Abbot's visit to the United States, specifically, Alabama, New York, and Washington, DC, was facilitated by Dr. Thomas J. Rosandich, the president of the United States Sports Academy. The Academy is a unique degree-granting institution of higher education, focused primarily on sports management, sports medicine, and sports education. In fact, Abbot Shi Yongxin recently received an honorary degree from the United States Sports Academy to coincide with the launch of a cooperative agreement between the Temple and the Academy to teach Shao Lin Kung Fu in various locations around the globe.

Mr. Speaker, the efforts of the Abbot and the other monks of the Shao Lin Temple—as well as the parallel efforts of the United States Sports Academy—to use their teachings to help foster international peace and understanding deserve our deepest appreciation and respect. I ask all of my colleagues to join me in commending Abbot Shi Yongxin and his colleagues for their outstanding work, and wishing them a safe and pleasant journey back home to China.

HON. ROY BLUNT

OF MISSOURI

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. BLUNT. Mr. Speaker, Albert Caswell wrote the following tribute to my constituent,

Scott West, who was injured while serving the United States in Iraq.

GO WEST YOUNG MAN

Go West Young Man!

Scott You are but The Very Best Young Man, as you are nothing less Young Man!

As oh how our Nation You So Bless Young Man!

A Brave Heart who went off to War . . .

Who so walked through The Valley of Death, all so our Freedom could be insured!

A Patriot who gave his most precious of all gifts, his legs! But came back home with far much more!

A Heroes Hero . . . This Army Man . . .

Such Strength In Honor . . . As such a Magnificent Hero, before us now so stands!

Who can defeat terror and death, who with but only his courage left . . . to new heights so ran!

For his new battle has just begun,

From Sun-up to Sunset, as This Magnificent Heroes quest shall never be done!

For there is no quit, for This Champion Is! Is the stuff of which movies are made of my son!

Just look at His Heart, Just look into His Eyes!

For in This Splendid Man of Courage and Faith, you'll find No Missouri Compromise!

He's not giving up! He's not giving in! As before us, The True Fine Definition of Where Courage so Lies!

And our time here upon this Earth, is but such a short time's worth!

Most people lead such useless lives, for only those of such splendid faith . . . shall so to Heaven rise!

As they teach us, as they so reach us . . . the ones in our Lord's Heart who so come first!

For We All must Walk This Road of Life,

Could we, in such dark moments in time . . . to somehow the courage find, as Scott to not think twice?

With head up high, with no pity to find . . . how we love you Scott! As to our World You bring Your Light!

Our Country Tis Thee, this our Sweet Land of Liberty . . .

Where our fine Nation, was so built upon such Heroic Heroes all throughout her history!

Go West Young Man, You Are America's Best Young Man . . . if I have a son, I pray like you he'd be!

Dedicated to Scott West and his family, and all those like them. Who teach us so much!

May our Lord Bless you, and he will!

HONORING NEW YORK STATE SENATOR MARC COPPOLA

HON. BRIAN HIGGINS

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. HIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, today I rise to inform the House of the effective and faithful service in the New York State Senate of a great son of North Buffalo, New York State Senator Marc A. Coppola.

Marc Coppola's career in elective public service began with his appointment and subsequent election to the Buffalo Common Council's Delaware District seat in 2000. In that capacity, Marc and his office staff developed a reputation as one of the most effective and efficient constituent service operations in city hall. Constituents from throughout the city came to know that their problems and concerns could be addressed in Councilman Coppola's office.

In 2004, following an election cycle that saw the Common Council successfully downsized from 13 to 9 members, Marc was chosen by his council colleagues to serve as Majority Leader of the Common Council. Marc's leadership resulted in a number of important reforms in city hall and opened up city government to the people in greater numbers than ever before. I recall watching sessions of the Common Council in those days—I began my career as a Buffalo Councilman back in the 1980s—and I remember being struck by the professionalism that Marc displayed in serving as floor leader for the council at that time. Gone was the infighting and the grandstanding that marked floor debates years ago; Marc's steady hand and patient leadership brought dignity and honor to that legislative body.

Early in the year, after the election of then-Senator Byron Brown to the office of Mayor of the City of Buffalo, Marc Coppola won a special election as State Senator. In only several months in office, Marc developed a formidable record in the State. As a veteran of the New York State Legislature myself, I know well how partisan that institution can be, and as a Democratic senator in a Republican-dominated Senate, Marc demonstrated time and again his ability to reach across the aisle and work with the party in power. In so doing, Marc was able to see important legislation pass and become enacted into law, and he was able to best represent his constituents in Buffalo, Tonawanda, Grand Island and Niagara Falls.

Although Marc won't be returning to Albany in January 2007, the impact of his brief service in Albany will be felt long after his senatorial career concludes. The people of Buffalo and Western New York were well served by Marc Coppola, and as a young leader in our area, his service to our community is not complete. My personal best wishes go out to Marc, his wife Denise and their three sons, and I hope that you, Mr. Speaker, will join with me in extending to the Coppola family our best wishes of good luck and Godspeed in all of their future endeavors.

CONGRATULATIONS TO MR. FRANK

PAYING TRIBUTE TO THE MGM MIRAGE

HON. JON C. PORTER

OF NEVADA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. PORTER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the MGM Mirage for its laudable treatment of its Reserve and National Guard employees.

Under the leadership of Terri Lanni, Chairman and Chief Executive of the MGM Mirage, employees who are also serving in the armed forces as either Reservists or in the National Guard receive their full pay and benefits when they are deployed. This program has been in effect since 2003, and has so far covered 113 employees. Recently, the MGM Mirage, Nevada's largest casino operator, was honored by the Department of Defense with its Employee Support Freedom Award, the highest award that the military can bestow on employers.

In a time when many Reservists and National Guard troops are getting deployed and having to leave their primary sources of income, this program shows an acute awareness of the needs of those individuals and their families. When asked how much this program costs the company, Mr. Lanni responded, "I literally don't care . . . it was the right thing to do, its just that simple."

Mr. Speaker, I am proud to honor the MGM Mirage and its Chairman, Terri Lanni. The program they instituted truly shows a dedication to the well-being of employees of the MGM Mirage and their families. I applaud them for their dedication and congratulate them on their recent honors by the Department of Defense.

TRIBUTE TO DR. MAX MAYFIELD

HON. MARIO DIAZ-BALART

OF FLORIDA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in appreciation of the works and accomplishments of Dr. Max Mayfield, Director of the National Hurricane Center in Miami, FL. Mr. Mayfield has played a key role in hurricane forecasting and has helped protect the lives and property of millions of people in the United States.

Since taking the helm of the National Hurricane Center in 2000, Director Mayfield has overseen a team of hurricane forecasters, specialists, and technical personnel at the center's headquarters in Miami. Mr. Mayfield strives to improve the warning lead times and increase the center's understanding of the tracks and intensity of hurricanes. As dangerous storms approached our Nation's coastal shores, Director Mayfield personally contacted governors and state officials stressing the importance of preparation and timely evacuation. He has spent countless hours providing warnings and valuable information to all those Americans located in the potential path of a hurricane.

Mr. Mayfield and his wife, Linda, celebrated their 28th wedding anniversary over the weekend of October 21, 2005. What was initially supposed to be a weekend get-away in Duck Key, just south of Miami, turned into another working weekend for Mr. Mayfield. Once again, a Category 3 hurricane, Wilma, was headed towards South Florida and Mr. Mayfield provided calm and clear hurricane forecasting.

Just a few days after the landfall of Hurricane Wilma, on October 27th, President Bush received a tour of the important hurricane facility and thanked Mr. Mayfield for his notable service to our Nation.

After more than 30 years of distinguished service to weather and hurricane forecasting, Mr. Mayfield will be retiring in January 2007. I know that the residents of South Florida will miss his calm and clear voice as approaching hurricanes threaten our coast. His pending retirement will mark the end of an exceptional career, and finding a worthy successor will undoubtedly be a difficult endeavor.

South Florida and our country are grateful for Mr. Mayfield's dedication in preparing and assisting the people of our community. Through his guidance and skilled predictions, Director Mayfield and his staff closely watched the path of countless hurricanes.

Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in honoring Director Max Mayfield's numerous accomplishments and his dedication to weather forecasting. The citizens of South Florida and the United States as a whole have benefited from this man's service, and we owe him our gratitude. As Mr. Mayfield and his wife prepare to spend more time with their families and enjoy retirement, I know that my colleagues will join me in wishing them well.

COMMENDING MR. MAX MAYFIELD, DIRECTOR OF THE NATIONAL HURRICANE CENTER FOR HIS SERVICE TO THE NATION

HON. BART GORDON

OF TENNESSEE

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. GORDON. Mr. Speaker, earlier this year the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration announced that Mr. Max Mayfield, Director of the National Hurricane Center in Miami, Florida would be retiring in January 2007.

I want to take this opportunity on behalf of myself and all the Democratic Members of the Committee on Science to thank Mr. Mayfield for his service to our nation and to wish him well in his future endeavors.

Mr. Mayfield will be missed. He has served our nation with distinction for over 30 years. Mr. Mayfield is well known to all of our citizens, especially those in hurricane-prone areas. Mr. Mayfield's leadership of his forecasting team at the National Hurricane Center, his clear presentation of hurricane forecasts, and his abilities to coordinate and communicate with local emergency management personnel resulted in countless saved lives and better informed communities.

Prior to the tragic events resulting from Hurricane Katrina, the National Weather Service and the National Hurricane Center—under the Directorship of Mr. Mayfield—did an excellent job of predicting the track of the storm and issuing watches and warnings that permitted state and local officials to evacuate many of the people who were in the path of this devastating storm.

The active hurricane seasons of 2004 and 2005 demonstrated the tireless dedication of Mr. Mayfield and his team, each of whom worked tirelessly to refine and deliver forecasts of the tracks and intensities of the storms that threatened our coasts.

Max Mayfield has set a high standard for future Directors of the Hurricane Center. I suspect he will continue to be involved in meteorology through his membership in the American Meteorological Society, and I can think of no better mentor and teacher for current and future meteorological professionals.

Thank you again, Mr. Mayfield, for your work at the National Weather Service. Your knowledge, experience and sound direction have been assets to the safety of our nation and the security of our citizens.

TRIBUTE ON THE OCCASION OF
MR. BRITT "MAX" MAYFIELD'S RETIREMENT FROM THE NA-TIONAL WEATHER SERVICE

HON. VERNON J. EHLERS

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. EHLERS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to congratulate Mr. Britt "Max" Mayfield on an exemplary career of service to his fellow citizens, and to wish him well in his much-deserved retirement. In his 34 years of service to the nation, Max Mayfield has personified the dedication and excellence that make the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's National Weather Service one of the crown jewels of the federal government. Since he began forecasting weather for the Air Force in 1970, and over more than three decades with the National Weather Service, Max has helped push forward the science of forecasting to help make our nation a safer place. But just making better forecasts has never been enough for Max, because a forecast does no good if nobody hears it. Mr. Mayfield has also dedicated his career to making sure that his always-improving forecasts get out as quickly as possible to the people who need them. For example, he has worked tirelessly to make more educational opportunities available to emergency managers so that they have the tools they need to interpret and respond to hurricane and severe weather forecasts quickly and intelligently.

There is no doubt in my mind that Max Mayfield's exemplary efforts, and those of his hard-working staff at the National Hurricane Center's Tropical Prediction Center, have helped communities prepare for impending disasters and have saved lives in communities across the country and around the world.

I am not alone in my esteem for Mr. Mayfield. The American Meteorology Society, the National Association of Government Communicators, ABC Television, the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences, the National Hurricane Conference, the Department of Commerce, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, and President George W. Bush have all presented Max with formal awards for his outstanding achievements and service to his craft and to society. And those are just the formal awards—they do not include the many personal “thank-you’s” that he has received from the very people he has spent his life serving, and from the people whose lives he has helped save.

So I am pleased to express my deepest gratitude to Max Mayfield, and to his endlessly supportive family for sharing him with us for this time. God bless you and the work you have done; I wish you calm weather and smooth sailing in your retirement.

MAX MAYFIELD RETIREMENT

HON. SHERWOOD BOEHLERT

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. BOEHLERT. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize an outstanding public servant, Mr. Britt “Max” Mayfield, Director of the National Weather Service's National Hurricane Center. Since 2000, Mr. Mayfield has been the face and voice Americans trust for information about hurricane forecasts and warnings. He led the National Hurricane Center tirelessly during a time of many intense hurricanes hitting our highly populated coasts, including the record-breaking 2005 hurricane season that saw 28 named tropical storms.

For each tropical storm or hurricane, Mr. Mayfield and the staff of the National Hurricane Center work around the clock gathering information about the storms and constantly improving the projection of the storm's track. As a storm nears the U.S. coast, they often spend days at a time at the National Hurricane Center making sure that the public continues to receive vital forecast and warning information, even as their own families and properties may be in the storm's path.

Mr. Mayfield has served our Nation for 34 years, beginning in 1970 as a meteorologist for the Air Force before joining the National Weather Service in 1972. He is internationally recognized for his expertise in forecasting hurricanes. But, Mr. Mayfield also goes above and beyond his responsibility as a hurricane scientist. He dedicates much of his time to educating communities about the risks of hurricanes and making sure that the public understands the information in hurricane forecasts and what they need to do to protect themselves from these dangerous storms. Both his forecasting efforts and community service have been recognized with awards from many prestigious organizations.

I thank Mr. Mayfield for his more than three decades of service to this country and for the countless lives his hurricanes forecasts and warnings have saved. I also thank his family for the sacrifices they made to support him in this demanding job and wish him a long and relaxing retirement.

One final note. My wife, Marianne, contends that Max Mayfield is her favorite federal employee—and that, alas, probably includes me.

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

They co-founded Teal Magnolias, the south Jersey chapter of the National Ovarian Cancer Coalition, to raise funds for ovarian cancer research and to bring together others suffering from the terrible disease—the fifth leading cause of cancer death among women in the United States.

Dara and Mimi are inspirations to us all, and their stories remind us that while we might face difficulties in our own lives, we have the power to overcome. These two remarkable survivors not only overcame their own challenges but now support others in their times of need. Their tireless efforts make our community, and our Nation, a better place.

HON. JON C. PORTER

HONORING DON HILLMAN

HON. DEVIN NUNES

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. NUNES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to pay tribute to the late Don Hillman of Tulare, California, who died Oct. 19, 2006 at the age of 86.

Don was known as Mr. Tulare. His life exemplified the character traits of integrity, humility, public service and love of family and community. He represented the community he loved on the Tulare County Board of Supervisors for 20 years, twice serving as its chairman. From that position of trust, he helped shape a county that has become one of the most productive agricultural regions in the world.

He was recently remembered by friends as the man every community needs and so few communities have. As a personal friend of Don's, I wholeheartedly agree with that statement.

Don was part of the Greatest Generation, serving in the U.S. Navy during World War II, rising to the rank of lieutenant commander.

Born May 17, 1920, in Glendale, Hillman's family moved to Tulare a few months later. He graduated from Tulare Union High School in 1938. He was the student body president and, years later, he was on the organizing class reunion committee and the Tulare Community Auditorium Restoration Foundation.

He is also credited with helping revitalize downtown Tulare, which remains a vibrant and welcoming business district to this day.

He is survived by his wife, Laverne, his son, Dave, and two grandchildren. I ask my colleagues to join me in paying tribute to this great American.

HONORING THE DETROIT TIGERS,
2006 AMERICAN LEAGUE CHAMPIONS

HON. JOHN CONYERS, JR.

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. CONYERS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the Detroit Tigers, winners of Major League Baseball's American League Championship. This October, for the first time in 22 years, my city of Detroit, Michigan was represented in the World Series. After years of setbacks, 2006 marked a turning point in the fortunes of my beloved home team.

Just three years after the club suffered through a 119 loss season, the Tigers surged to the top of the major league standings in May, a position they did not relinquish until late September. Thanks to the play of veterans like left-hander Kenny Rogers and closer Todd Jones, the emergence of previously unestablished players Curtis Granderson, Brandon Inge, Craig Monroe and Marcus Thames, and the significant production from erstwhile All-Stars Ivan Rodriguez, Magglio Ordóñez and Carlos Guillén, the Tigers completed an extraordinary season by facing the St. Louis Cardinals in the Fall Classic. While our Detroit boys fell short in the series, finally losing to St. Louis in 5 games, they made all of Michigan proud with their sportsmanship and hard work.

Every great team needs a great leader and the Tigers are no exception. Last October, after a disappointing late season fade the Tigers hired Jim Leyland to right the club's ship and under his brilliant leadership the Tigers roared to life. Layland, who spent the first 18 years of his professional baseball career in Detroit, guided the Tigers to a 95–67 record, the Tigers' best season since 1987. In doing so, he also became the seventh manager in history to win pennants in both the National and American Leagues. Due to his achievement this year he was recognized with the 2006 Manager of the Year award for the third time in his career. Leyland also became the third person to win the award in both leagues.

Even though the Tigers did not ultimately win the World Series, in winning the American League Championship Series they demonstrated a spirit and determination that rekindled memories of the great Tiger teams of the past. I join both the citizens of Detroit and the great state of Michigan in congratulating the Detroit Tigers for their remarkable 2006 season.

HONORING CONGRESSMAN MAJOR OWENS

HON. JOHN D. DINGELL

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. DINGELL. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to congratulate and pay tribute to Congressman MAJOR OWENS on the occasion of his retirement after 12 terms of service in the United States Congress.

Born in Collierville, Tennessee in 1936, Congressman OWENS' commitment to education began at an early age with his own scholastic achievements. He received a bachelor's degree from Morehouse College, a Master of Science degree from Atlanta University, and later went on to serve as a librarian before entering the political arena. Congressman OWENS also served as a Community Activist and Ivy League Professor.

As Ranking Democrat on the Subcommittee for Workforce Protections, OWENS defended workers' rights by supporting minimum wage increases and strong protections of overtime payment. OWENS promoted the benefits of integrating technology and education, and fought to expand access to classroom technology for disadvantaged students.

The ethnic and socioeconomic diversity of Congressman OWENS' district—including constituents of Hasidic, Caribbean, and Eastern European backgrounds—is largely reflected in the multiplicity of his success within Congress. Congressman OWENS' influence has extended beyond our nation's borders: As a member of the Congressional Black Caucus, he fought vehemently to restore the democratically-elected President of Haiti. His dedication to Africa and the Caribbean has shaped American foreign policy, including HIV/AIDS legislation and the African Growth and Opportunities Act.

The hard work and enduring legacy of MAJOR OWENS should be applauded. Mr. Speaker, I invite all of our colleagues to join me in congratulating Congressman OWENS on his retirement, and sending him our best wishes for the next chapter of his life.

CONGRATULATIONS TO LUCRETIA
JACKSON

HON. JAMES P. MORAN

OF VIRGINIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. MORAN of Virginia. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to congratulate Lucretia Jackson of Alexandria, Virginia, on being awarded the Washington Post's Distinguished Education Leader Award for 2006.

As principal of Maury Elementary School in Alexandria, Ms. Jackson has led the school's dramatic turnaround. In the four years since Maury was "accredited with warning" in four content areas, Ms. Jackson has worked tirelessly to improve all aspects of school life. Since joining the school in 2004, she has spent endless hours recruiting a "dream team" of teachers for the school, revamping the entire licensed and support staff with dedicated and inspiring new staff who were ready to work hard and turn the school around.

Standards of Learning test scores at Maury have improved drastically due to Ms. Jackson's work. Every student at Maury passed the science SOL in 2006, compared to only fifteen percent in 2003. Similar improvements have been seen in math and reading SOL scores: Ninety-three percent of students passed their reading SOLs compared to only forty-five percent in 2003, and eighty-three percent passed the math portion compared to only thirty-eight in 2003. Ms. Jackson encouraged teachers to work closely with students to improve these scores, even instituting a "Secret SOL Supporters" program to help encourage students through difficult study periods with notes and gifts hidden at students' desks.

Maury Elementary is now a model example for underperforming schools thanks to the hard work of Ms. Jackson and her staff. Despite an early drop in enrollment after the poor test scores of 2003, enrollment has risen right along side test scores at Maury. I am sure that under Lucretia Jackson's leadership, the school will continue to see immense improvements in the years to come. I ask my colleagues to join me in congratulating Ms. Jackson on this award and her tremendous success.

TRIBUTE TO M. ATHALIE RANGE

HON. KENDRICK B. MEEK

OF FLORIDA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. MEEK of Florida. Mr. Speaker, today I rise with great sadness to memorialize the late M. Athalie Range, who, at age 91, died on Tuesday, November 14, 2006. I join our community, now saddened by the passing of this great civil rights icon, who represented all that is decent and honorable about our common humanity.

A genuine legend, this eloquent and courageous lady held our disenfranchised community together when access to equal justice was denied to us. She led the struggle of reason and conscience in righting this wrong.

She was barely 5 feet tall, but she stood indomitable against the forces of segregation and racism. She was a pioneer in forcing equal opportunity and justice for all. M. Athalie Range was a beacon who showed the way for us in fighting for the rights of others. The magnitude of her courage and the strength of her heart defined her will to end inequality and discrimination everywhere she found their evil vestiges.

A native Floridian, Ms. Range was born in Key West, was educated in Miami, and graduated from the Booker T. Washington High School. Her achievements were numerous, but a prominent accomplishment was her election as the first African-American to the Miami City Commission. She was the first Black woman ever to head a State agency, appointed by then-Florida Governor Reuben Askew as Secretary of Community Affairs, and she was appointed by President Jimmy Carter to the National Board of AMTRAK. Her humanitarianism was duly recognized when she was given the Silver Medallion Award by the Florida chapter of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, followed by the Spirit of Excellence Award by The Miami Herald.

"She knew more about politics than anyone I knew," said former U.S. Rep. Carrie P. Meek. "She taught me humility, first and foremost. She taught me to go out and talk with the little people in the community, who no one else thought about."

Mr. Speaker, I find it difficult to write these statements on behalf of this "Grande Dame of Public Service" without thinking of my many wonderful memories of her. The most appropriate way I can describe her was that her life was as gentle as her words were gracious, purposeful and elegant. Her descriptions of our challenges as a people were insightful—so simple and yet so impeccable that no one doubted that we were in the presence of an awesome leader whose promise of liberation was inspiring.

This is the legacy left by M. Athalie Range. With humble faith, we will now consign her back to the God she loved and served. I am glad that leaders like M. Athalie Range never have to say goodbye, because she will truly live on with us.

TRIBUTE TO H.B. PLANT HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS' VOLLEYBALL TEAM

HON. JIM DAVIS

OF FLORIDA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. DAVIS of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I rise in honor of the H.B. Plant High School girls' volleyball players, a powerhouse team who just this weekend won its first Class 5A state volleyball title since 2003.

With a 28–2 record, the number one ranked Panthers defeated Fort Meyers 25–16, 25–23, 25–19 in the championship match at The Lakeland Center. The team was led by senior Christine Williamson's 14 kills, five blocks and 12 digs.

Last season, the Panthers' march to victory was cut short by a heartbreaking loss to Venice during the state regional semifinals. At the beginning of this season, the Panthers made their intentions clear by wearing warm-up t-shirts that read "Unfinished Business." "Unfinished," however, was printed on a strip of Velcro, and on Saturday, the team proudly tore off "Unfinished" to announce their completed mission—"Finished Business."

The Panthers' victory could not have been possible without the tireless efforts of coach Leanna Taylor. The team's final win gave Taylor her first state championship medallion as head coach.

Saturday's victory marked the culmination of countless hours of practice, the team members' unwavering dedication and unmatched skill. On behalf of the entire Tampa Bay community, I commend all the Panthers for their championship win. We are all looking forward to your next season.

GEORGETOWN HONORS FATHER ROBERT DRINAN

HON. BARNEY FRANK

OF MASSACHUSETTS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. FRANK of Massachusetts. Mr. Speaker, on October 23 one of the most accomplished and distinguished people to serve in this House was the recipient of a wholly deserved high honor from one of the leading law schools in this country—Georgetown Law School. On that day, Georgetown Law School, where Father Drinan has taught since leaving the House twenty-six years ago, established the Robert F. Drinan, S.J., Chair in Human Rights. The establishment of this Chair—a very significant honor in academia—recognizes the pioneering work that Father Drinan did as a Member of this House for ten years, and his continued commitment to that great work. Few people in our history have had as great a dedication to the cause of human rights and have been so consistently effective in advocating for this cause. Unlike many who have tried to make this a partisan issue, Father Drinan was equally fierce in his objection to human rights violators of the left, right and center, and accepted no excuses from those who would deny the basic rights of others.

Mr. Speaker, Father Drinan served here in this body for ten years as one of its intellectual leaders, having been elected in 1970 as one of the most effective opponents at that time of the war in Viet Nam. He also played a very significant role in the impeachment of President Nixon, insisting that appropriate legal standards be applied in that matter. He was also a leader in matters that did not divide the House on either partisan or ideological lines, for example in the field of copyright, where he made contributions during that period that remain important foundations of our law today.

Mr. Speaker, when Father Drinan declined to run for reelection in 1980 at the direction of Pope John Paul II, I was elected to succeed him. While I had been aware previously of the great respect and affection in which he was held by his colleagues, I came to appreciate that even more fully when I took the seat he had so ably filled in 1981.

In the years since leaving this body, Father Drinan has continued to be a leader in the application of religious teachings to important moral issues; in lecturing and teaching about the law; and of course in continuing his great work in the field of human rights. Georgetown Law School deserves recognition, Mr. Speaker, for establishing this Chair in Father Drinan's name. I congratulate Professor T. Alexander Aleinikoff, who will be the first holder of the Chair, and I ask that the discussion of Father Drinan's work included in the program announcing the event be printed here so that people will understand how important his impact has been on the best traditions of our country.

ROBERT F. DRINAN, S.J., CHAIR IN HUMAN RIGHTS LAW

Today, Georgetown Law proudly announces the creation of the Robert F. Drinan, S.J., Chair in Human Rights. Priest, scholar, lawyer, politician, activist, ethicist, and one of the nation's leading advocates for international human rights, Father Drinan has dedicated his life to humanitarian causes and to improving the legal profession.

A member of the Law Center's faculty since 1981, Father Drinan teaches courses in international human rights, constitutional law, civil liberties, legislation, legal ethics, and professional responsibility. During his tenure at Georgetown, he has taught over 6,000 students.

Father Drinan earned his B.A. degree in 1942 and his M.A. degree in 1947 from Boston College and his LL.B. in 1949 and LL.M. in 1951 from Georgetown University Law Center. He entered the Society of Jesus while at Boston College, and in 1953, he was ordained a Jesuit priest. From 1956 to 1970, he served as Dean and Professor of Law at Boston College Law School. During the ten years between his deanship and joining the Georgetown Law faculty, he served in the United States Congress as a Representative from Massachusetts, where he was a member of various committees and chair of the Subcommittee on Criminal Justice of the House Judiciary Committee.

Throughout his career, Father Drinan has stood as a leading voice in the human rights movement. He serves on the boards of numerous organizations devoted to the furtherance of human rights, including the International League for Human Rights, Human Rights First, the Council for a Livable World Education Fund, Americans for Democratic Action, and the NAACP Legal Defense and Education Fund. He was a founder of the Lawyers' Alliance for Arms Control and the National Interreligious Task Force on Soviet Jewry. Father Drinan has traveled the globe, both as a member of Congress and as a private citizen, on human rights missions to Chile, the Philippines, El Salvador, Guatemala, Nicaragua, Argentina, France, and Vietnam to document human rights abuses and to work for their eradication. He is the author of several notable works on human rights, including The Mobilization of Shame, of which Elie Wiesel said, "Anyone interested in human rights will read Robert Drinan's informative, passionate and challenging book with deep concern and hope."

In 2004, Father Drinan joined such American legal luminaries as Oliver Wendell Holmes, Thurgood Marshall, and Sandra Day O'Connor when the American Bar Association awarded him its ABA Medal—the organization's highest honor—which recognizes exceptionally distinguished service to the cause of American jurisprudence. The award citation notes, "For more than half a century, Father Robert F. Drinan has been an esteemed and beloved leader of the bar and a fearless advocate for the powerless and oppressed around the world. . . . Throughout his career, Father Drinan has heeded the call for human rights and social justice. With unparalleled passion and dedication, he has strived to improve the plight of the disadvantaged and oppressed, and to advance the rule of law throughout the world."

Through the generosity of alumni and friends, Georgetown now recognizes and honors one of its greatest sons, Robert F. Drinan, S.J., L'49, L'51, with the creation of the Robert F. Drinan, S.J., Chair in Human Rights. This meaningful and lasting tribute will enable the Law Center to attract teachers, advocates, and scholars who share Father Drinan's passion and concern for liberty, equality of opportunity, and human dignity and who will inspire the next generation of Georgetown Law students to become leaders, protectors, and defenders of human rights.

PAYING TRIBUTE TO DR. MIRIAM AND SHELDON G. ADELSON

HON. JON C. PORTER

OF NEVADA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. PORTER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor longtime philanthropists and community supporters, Dr. Miriam and Sheldon G. Adelson for their generous contributions to the Las Vegas community with the endowment of the Adelson School.

The Adelson School is the first and only Jewish High School in the Las Vegas area. The Adelson School will provide these students the opportunity to further their educational ambitions by combining rigorous academic standards with a strong foundation in morality and ethics. Opening during the 2007–08 school year, the Adelson School will provide students with state-of-the-art classrooms with integrated technology, a performing arts center, full-service dining facilities, and a full physical education facility. The physical education facility will include the only indoor, competitive-size swimming pool in Las Vegas. Dr.

Miriam and Sheldon G. Adelson donated a charitable $25 million gift to establish this institution.

Sheldon is the Chairman of the Board and principal owner of Las Vegas Sands Corporation which is the parent company of The Venetian Resort-Hotel-Casino in Las Vegas, Nevada, and the Venetian Macao Limited in Macao, China. Throughout his career as a financial consultant, Sheldon has created and developed over 50 different companies, including COMDEX, a tradeshow he developed for the computer industry. In 1989, Sheldon purchased the Sands Hotel & Casino in Las Vegas and then imploded it in 1991 to develop and build the Venetian Resort-Hotel-Casino, which has become known as one of the finest hotels in the world. Throughout the years, Sheldon has received numerous honorary degrees and other illustrious awards in recognition of his business and philanthropy achievements and success.

Born in Tel Aviv, Israel, Dr. Miriam Adelson has devoted her life to the medical profession and helping others in need. Miriam specializes in internal and emergency medicine, specifically chemical dependency and drug addiction. She heads both the Dr. Miriam and Sheldon G. Adelson Clinics in Tel Aviv, Israel and Las Vegas, Nevada, which have successfully treated thousands of individuals suffering from heroin and cocaine drug addictions. She has authored several scientific papers about the effects of drug addiction on the human immune system and she continues to serve on the faculty of Rockefeller University as a guest researcher. I applaud her commitment to providing access to quality healthcare and education to the residents of Southern Nevada.

In addition to education and healthcare, Dr. and Mr. Adelson are dedicated supporters of Yad Vashem and other causes in Israel and Jewish communities abroad. As a result of their generous support, the Museum of Holocaust Art at Yad Vashem was established in memory of members of the Zamelson and Farbstein families as well as Dr. Adelson's parents, all of whom perished in the Holocaust.

Mr. Speaker, it is with great honor that I recognize Dr. Miriam and Sheldon G. Adelson for their unwavering kindness and generous donations to the communities they strive to improve. They are dedicated to improving the quality and the availability of education. The Adelson's enthusiastic commitment to education will help students reach new heights of achievement with the opening of the Adelson School. Dr. Miriam and Sheldon G. Adelson have made a profound difference in our community and we are most fortunate to have such wonderful and caring supporters of education and health care. Their heartfelt dedication is commendable and I wish them luck in all their future endeavors.

ANIMAL ENTERPRISE TERRORISM ACT

SPEECH OF

HON. STEVE ISRAEL

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, November 13, 2006

Mr. ISRAEL. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to express my concerns with S. 3880, The Animal Enterprise Terrorism Act.

I believe that individuals and groups cannot resort to intimidation, vandalism or violence in the advancement of a cause. Protests must be lawful and disagreements respected. But, this bill, as drafted, could criminalize lawful and constitutionally protected activists.

This bill criminalizes conduct that "intentionally damages or causes the loss of any real or personal property," however, the bill fails to define what "real or personal property" means. As a result, legitimate advocacy—such as a boycott, protest, or mail campaign—that causes an animal enterprise to merely lose profits could be criminalized under S. 3880.

It also fails to adequately define the term "animal enterprise." Nothing in the current definition requires that an enterprise be lawful. Therefore, investigations into unlawful animal enterprises, such as animal fighting organizations or illegal puppy mills, could be deterred as employees, citizens, and legitimate animal activists may be afraid to cooperate or provide information to law enforcement agencies for fear of prosecution under the terms of this bill.

I am a strong supporter of research, but I also believe that animal rights need to be vigilantly enforced. In order to achieve that goal, I have been working with the Humane Society on amendments to the Animal Rights Act, which is the law that governs the humane care, handling, treatment and transportation of animals in laboratories and dealers who sell animals to laboratories and animal exhibitors. My bill would provide two key changes to this law. First, it doubles the fine for violations (from $5,000 to $10,000) and increases the number of annual inspections at laboratories.

I will be introducing this measure when the House comes back for the 110th Congress, and I hope that all of my colleagues will join me in providing these additional animal protections.

HONORING PATRICIA THOMPSON OF NAPA, CALIFORNIA

HON. MIKE THOMPSON

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. THOMPSON of California. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to thank Patricia Thompson for many years of visionary leadership as the city manager of Napa, CA. Pat has been an outstanding leader for all of us over the 17 years she has been with the city, and her hard work and dedication will be felt in the many projects and improvement she nurtured and brought to fruition during that time.

Mrs. Thompson was born in San Diego and attended San Diego State University, where she received first a bachelor's degree and then her Masters of Public Administration with highest honors. She held a number of jobs with cities in Nevada, culminating in 7 years as the city manager of Sparks from 1981–1988. In 1988, Mrs. Thompson was honored by the American Society of Public Administration as the organizations National Administrator of the Year.

The city and people of Napa have benefited immensely from Mrs. Thompson's arrival in 1989. Among the numerous projects that she has spearheaded are infrastructure improvements like the new Highway 29-Trancas interchange, new parks, walking paths, and a fire station. She has been a leader in attracting businesses to the Napa area through a series of development projects that have restored and expanded commercial spaces in the city. On numerous occasions when a decisive leader was needed, she has stepped in as a temporary Director of Emergency Services to meet the city's needs during floods, drought and the earthquake. She was the main force behind the city of Napa's effort to pass the Measure A Flood Control Sales Tax, and this facilitated ongoing developments and improvements to Napa County's flood control project.

In addition to her busy roll as city manager, Mrs. Thompson has found time to serve on numerous local governance and non-profit boards. Her participation in these forums has allowed the various governments of Napa County to better coordinate their efforts. She has also served as an Advisory Member to the board of the Salvation Army.

Mr. Speaker, it is appropriate at this time that we thank Patricia Thompson for her invaluable service to the city of Napa, and for the numerous projects she has overseen and led to completion. Her exemplary leadership has left a legacy for our community that will extend far into the future.

HONORING BARRY BUCEY AS THCA'S NASHVILLE DISTRICT CAREGIVER OF THE YEAR

HON. BART GORDON

OF TENNESSEE

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. GORDON. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Certified Nursing Assistant Barry Bucey as Tennessee Health Care Association's Caregiver of the Year, representing the Nashville District.

Barry began working at Woodbury Nursing Center 24 years ago as a janitor. After holding additional positions in housekeeping and as a dietary aide, he wanted to be more involved with the patients, so he became a certified nursing assistant. In a job that can be physically and emotionally demanding, Barry helps people with the basic tasks of living while giving them respect and dignity.

Barry's inclination toward helping people is not limited to the patients he assists. He is always more than willing to help other departments as needed, and his previous positions in the facility give Barry valuable understanding of these departments.

I thank Barry for his commitment to helping others, and I commend him on this award.

THE USS "INTREPID"

HON. CAROLYN B. MALONEY

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mrs. MALONEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to express my deep admiration for the work done by the Intrepid Foundation and the great Intrepid Sea-Air-Space Museum.

The Museum, the world's largest naval museum, is housed on the historic and battle-scarred USS Intrepid.

The Museum pays homage to the valiant efforts of the U.S. Armed Forces in defense of our liberties.

Commissioned in 1943, the USS Intrepid is a unique educational resource that promotes public awareness of the history and future development of the sea, air and space sciences.

The Intrepid fought valiantly in World War II, was a primary recovery vessel for NASA and then was sent to Southeast Asia where it launched the jets that supported our ground forces in Vietnam.

During World War II, the carrier was hit by five Japanese Kamikaze suicide planes in separate incidents that killed dozens of crewmen and injured many others.

Nonetheless, the ship exacted its toll on the Japanese air force, downing 43 planes and 4 kamikaze planes in one day.

During the post-World War II period the Intrepid exemplified the United States' leadership and devotion to freedom.

Unfortunately, despite its glorious past, there came a time when the ship was due to be scrapped.

Zachary Fisher, founder of the Intrepid Foundation, rescued the ship in 1978 and arranged for it to be brought to Manhattan where it opened as a Museum in 1982.

Visitors can explore some of the innovative aircraft that made America's air force the strongest in the world, from vintage World War II planes to the latest supersonic jets.

The Intrepid's unique educational programs reach 40,000 school children each year, while the Foundation's Vocational-Technical program has helped hundreds of at-risk youth develop work and life skills.

The Nation's men and women still serving in uniform are always at the forefront of the Foundation's activities.

Its Intrepid Fallen Heroes Fund provides financial support for the families of United States military personnel who have been lost in the line of duty, while Fleet Week is a celebration honoring those who are currently serving in our nation's military.

Other Fisher Foundations serve the military in numerous ways.

Zachary Fisher established the Zachary and Elizabeth M. Fisher Armed Services Foundation, which has provided funding to numerous military families who have lost loved ones under tragic circumstances.

His Armed Services Foundation provides scholarship funds to active and former service members and their families.

In 1990, Mr. and Mrs. Fisher began the Fisher House program, dedicating more than $20 million to the construction of 26 comfort homes for families of hospitalized military personnel.

Since the program's inception, more than 35,000 families have stayed in Fisher Houses while their loved ones are receiving treatment.

Thus, the Intrepid Museum is merely the most visible symbol of an enterprise entirely dedicated to serving our nation's men and women in uniform.

Unfortunately, this great symbol of support for our armed forces is aging.

During the past 24 years, the Intrepid has resided at Pier 86 in Manhattan, where she has been subjected to the storms, the vicissitudes of the Hudson River and a vast buildup of silt. All of that has taken a toll, and the Foundation has arranged for the ship to receive some loving care.

The ship will spend 18–24 months in Bayonne, New Jersey being refurbished, while the pier is completely rebuilt. At the end of that period, the ship will return, better able to pursue its mission of honoring our Nation's heroes, educating the public and inspiring youth.

As Robert Burns famously wrote, "The best-laid schemes of mice and men gang aft a-gley."

Like many visitors to New York, the Intrepid simply did not want to go.

Despite spending $1.6 million to dredge 15,000 cubic yards of mud and silt that had built up over the past 24 years, the ship could not be budged in the first try.

With the support of my office and others, and under the leadership of Chairman YOUNG, we have reached out to the Honorable Donald C. Winter, Secretary of the Navy, who has agreed to spending $3 million to free the ship from New York harbor. We are deeply grateful to him and to the Navy for their help with this effort.

I would also like to thank and recognize, Gordon England, Deputy Secretary of Defense who has responded quickly and professionally to our requests and continues to keep us updated.

Given the enormous support the Intrepid Foundation gives to our armed forces, and the extraordinary education visitors to the Intrepid receive, this is money well spent.

Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in honoring the Fisher family, the Intrepid Museum, the Intrepid Foundation and the remarkable men and women who have made the Intrepid an extraordinary public resource.

HONORING ROBERT PAUL LOSEY, MD, OF NAPA, CALIFORNIA

HON. MIKE THOMPSON

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. THOMPSON of California. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in recognition of the tremendous contributions Dr. Robert Paul Losey has made to the lives of infants and families in Napa County. As the founder of Healthy Moms and Babies, Dr. Losey has created a successful, non-profit community health initiative that has yielded tangible results in children's health.

Dr. Losey was born in Pasadena, California, where he attended high school before serving in the Marine Corps from 1957 to 1959. After leaving the Marine Corps, he attended college in southern California where he earned degrees from Pasadena City College and the University of California, Riverside. He earned his medical degree from Creighton University in Nebraska in 1966 before returning to California to complete his internship and residency in Los Angeles.

Dr. Losey moved to the Napa Valley in 1986 when he was hired as the medical director of the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit at Queen of the Valley Hospital. His work has further developed Napa County's only facility for the care of premature or critically ill infants. Through his successful private practice at Harvest Pediatrics, Dr. Losey has continued to serve the families of the Napa Valley.

Mr. Speaker, Healthy Moms and Babies was founded in 1988 with the vision to provide comprehensive healthcare for low-income and uninsured women in order to guarantee that every baby is born healthy. By educating expectant women about their own health during pregnancy, Healthy Moms and Babies has brought a dramatic increase in infant health to the Napa Valley. Healthy Moms and Babies has also made special efforts to develop bilingual resources and do outreach into communities that have traditionally been medically underserved. Napa County has the healthiest babies in the State of California, and Dr. Losey and Healthy Moms and Babies have greatly contributed to this achievement.

Mr. Speaker, I rise at this time to thank Dr. Robert Paul Losey for his many contributions to the community and families of Napa County. He has been active in a variety of health care- and youth-related causes, and his work as the founder of Healthy Moms and Babies has brought a new standard of care to all who live in our community.

RECOGNIZING THE NOAA WEATHER FORECAST OFFICE IN LAKE CHARLES, LOUISIANA

HON. CHARLES W. BOUSTANY, JR.

OF LOUISIANA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. BOUSTANY. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the outstanding accomplishments of the NOAA Weather Forecast Office (WFO) in Lake Charles, Louisiana. In September 2005, as Hurricane Rita was approaching the coast of Southwest Louisiana, the WFO Lake Charles developed a life saving partnership with elected officials and emergency managers that was instrumental in minimizing deaths from the storm. While Rita destroyed critical infrastructure and forever changed the landscape of Southwest Louisiana, WFO Lake Charles lived up to the motto of the National Weather Service by "Working Together to Save Lives."

With up-to-date storm-tracking information, elected officials, law enforcement and emergency response personnel were able to lead a safe and thorough evacuation. In recognition of their heroic efforts, the staff of the WFO Lake Charles was recently awarded the Bronze Medal from the U.S. Department of Commerce, as well as a special award from the American Meteorological Society.

Although Hurricane Rita has changed the coast of Southwest Louisiana, it has also reinforced the belief in all of us that preparation is the key to ensuring our families, and our homes, are safe from future disaster. To that end, I commend the WFO Lake Charles for their outstanding job and dedication to the people of Southwest Louisiana.

HONORING THE SMYRNA BULLDOGS ON THEIR STATE CHAMPIONSHIP WIN

HON. BART GORDON

OF TENNESSEE

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. GORDON. Mr. Speaker, today I rise to recognize the championship season of the Smyrna Bulldogs. On Saturday night, the Bulldogs capped their football season with a convincing win in the 2006 TSSAA Class 5A BlueCross Bowl.

My father taught science and coached girls basketball at Smyrna High. As a result, I feel a special connection to the purple and gold.

With their victory over the Ravenwood Raptors, the Bulldogs secured their first ever football title and finished the season with a school record 13 wins. While it was their first appearance in the BlueCross Bowl, Coach Philip Shadowens and the Bulldogs left no doubt that they belonged on the field. They overcame a 14–6 deficit against the defending champs, scoring 29 unanswered points on their way to victory.

During their playoff run, the Bulldogs avenged their two regular season losses to Riverdale and Ravenwood. In the quarterfinal round, they defeated the Riverdale Warriors for the first time in school history.

I commend the Bulldogs and their head coach, Philip Shadowens, for a fine season and an outstanding championship win. Steve Carson, Jason Pitts, Shawn Middleton, Kent Pippenger, Will Hawkins, Will Forkum, Scott Keasler, Travis Schrimsher, Alex Robbins, Luke Shepherd and Justin Morton serve as the team's assistant coaches. Robert "Bud" Raikes is Smyrna High School's principal.

I congratulate all the talented members of the 2006 5A State Champion Bulldogs: Sonny Gray, Antoine Hendricks, Rod Wilks, Orlando Martin, Will Martin, Tyler Slater, Kyle Frazier, Andrew Wiggins, Eddie Lalap, Joseph Butler, Sam Youree, Josh Crouch, Cleave Shaw, David Sanders, Jonah Hendricks, Maceo Harris, Cody Williams, Tony Window, Lonnie Turner, Tony Alexander, Quentin Burford, Cotie Dickson, Chris Yoder, Cordarius Johnson, Donovan Craig, Reuben Shadrake, Jarvis Hicks, Justin Martin, Sean Mckay, Michael Hosford, Michael Bolton, Singleton Garrett, Johnathan Vaughn, Laith Al Tamimi, Kelly Thomason, Brandon Hendricks, Josh Day, Karrar Al Hassan, Dawson Wooten, Reese Haywood, Tony Carr, Cody Sutherland, Cody Gower, Johnathan Wilcox, James Hudson, Matt Rofrano, Quentin Allen, Kyle Carter, Josh Pfe Witt, Bradly Folds, Alex Hill, Keith Martin, Westley Cadena, Darrell Goad, Tyler Eady, Anthony Khamphenphet, Pham Trungtin, Nathan Cantrell, Keiton Hendry, Cassidy Spence, Brandon Jaradat, D.J. Johns, James Williams, Davion Baxter, Tyler Montgomery, Jordan Bell, Cody Hagar, Daivid Pierre-Paul, Mickey West, Jeremy King, Jesse Torres, Blair Willis, Tre Tunstill, Richard Maynard, Nick Richardson, Harrison Gill and Nathan Torres.

INTRODUCTION OF THE "STUDY OF WAYS TO IMPROVE THE ACCURACY OF THE COLLECTION OF FEDERAL OIL, CONDENSATE, AND NATURAL GAS ROYALTIES ACT OF 2006"

HON. CAROLYN B. MALONEY

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mrs. MALONEY. Mr. Speaker, today I am introducing the "Study of Ways To Improve the Accuracy of the Collection of Federal Oil, Condensate, and Natural Gas Royalties Act of 2006." I am pleased to be joined by Representatives HINCHEY (D-NY), GRIJALVA (D-AZ), and CONYERS (D-MI) in introducing this legislation. On May 7, 2006, the Washington Post reported allegations that American taxpayers are being shortchanged by oil and gas companies in the royalties that they are paying to the Federal Government ("Firms Harvesting Energy from Public Lands May Owe U.S."). Jack Grynberg, a plaintiff in a false claims action against seventy-three energy and pipeline companies, was featured in the article. Based on his expertise, the legislation I am introducing asks the National Academy of Engineering to conduct a study regarding improving the accuracy of collection of royalties on production of oil, condensate, and natural gas under leases of both onshore and offshore Federal lands and onshore Indian lands.

These valuable resources are owned by the American people, who should be fairly and accurately compensated. I believe that this study would prove invaluable in accomplishing this important goal and will tell us if there is a problem, including the extent of the problem, with the collection of royalties from Federal lands and Indian lands.

IN RECOGNITION OF THE 100TH ANNIVERSARY OF ST. PAUL'S COMMUNITY UNITED METHODIST CHURCH OF POINT ARENA, CALIFORNIA

HON. MIKE THOMPSON

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. THOMPSON of California. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the 100th anniversary of St. Paul's Community United Methodist Church in Point Arena.

St. Paul's was the first Protestant church on the rural and relatively isolated south Mendocino coast. It started out with 24 parishioners and was led by Rev. David H. Haskin as its first pastor. In 1906 it was consecrated as a Methodist church.

Tragically, on April 18th, 1906, a fire occurred in the aftermath of the San Andreas earthquake and destroyed the original St. Paul's Church and elementary school. With the support of its community, the church and elementary school were quickly rebuilt.

Three items were rescued from the fire: the organ, two rectory chairs and the pulpit, all of which still grace the sanctuary. The most interesting item rescued was a unique, hand-carved pulpit made of three simulated Bibles. Mr. Ole Jensen, a church member and immigrant from Denmark, who was trained to make figureheads for ships, created it.

St. Paul's Church has enriched the lives of its parishioners and fellow community members through weekly religious services and an elementary school. The church is a pillar of the community on the coast.

Mr. Speaker, we honor this church for its contributions to the community and the continued resilience of its parishioners. It has been a welcoming haven and example of community strength since its original founding. It is appropriate at this time that we recognize St. Paul's Community United Methodist Church on its 100th anniversary.

FREEDOM FOR EFRÉN FERNÁNDEZ FERNÁNDEZ

HON. LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART

OF FLORIDA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to speak about Efrén Fernández Fernández, a political prisoner in totalitarian Cuba.

Mr. Fernández is a member of the Christian Liberation Movement and an opponent of the tyranny in Havana. In March of 2003, Mr. Fernández was arrested as part of an abhorrent island-wide crackdown on peaceful pro-democracy activists who were calling for the most basic of human rights for Cuba. His participation in a collection of signatures in support of a call for some elemental rights for Cubans was all that the communist regime needed to incarcerate him.

In a sham trial, Mr. Fernández was sentenced to 12 years in the totalitarian gulag. He has endured numerous prison transfers and solitary confinements based only on his captors' whims and arbitrary reasons. Since his "sentencing", he has managed to survive against all odds in the most deplorable of human conditions. Mr. Fernández' bravery and commitment to freedom has not wavered even though since his unjust incarceration he has lost more than thirty pounds and suffers from frequent fits of vomiting and chronic intestinal problems.

According to Carta de Cuba, on September 7, 2006, Mr. Fernández was administered antibiotics intravenously for an unidentified bacterial infection affecting his kidneys. Immediately following that treatment, Mr. Fernández fainted and complained of experiencing severe heart palpitations and arterial tension.

Let me be very clear, Mr. Fernández is languishing in the totalitarian gulag simply for believing that every Cuban citizen has the fundamental right to live in freedom with the most basic of human rights and protections of their individual liberties. He suffers the consequences, no matter how brutal or at what risk to his health, and continues his dignified struggle for freedom on that oppressed island.

It is unconscionable that a mere ninety miles from our shores, men and women are suffering in the darkness of totalitarian repression. Mr. Speaker, this constitutes a crime against humanity. Mr. Fernández's only crime is to demand that basic human rights be restored to the people of Cuba.

It is incumbent on all of us who serve in this great democratic body to recognize and remember the terrible plight of those brave men and women like Mr. Fernández who suffer the living nightmare of despotic totalitarianism. Let us all join in demanding the immediate release of Efrén Fernández Fernández and all political prisoners in Cuba.

TRIBUTE TO MRS. EEEVE LEWIS

HON. LYNN C. WOOLSEY

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Ms. WOOLSEY. Mr. Speaker, together with my colleague Congressman MIKE THOMPSON, I rise today to recognize the outstanding career of Mrs. Eeve Lewis, the County Clerk-Recorder-Assessor-Public Administrator for Sonoma County. Mrs. Lewis has worked for Sonoma County for over 35 years, rising from her starting position of Clerk Typist to win 6 elections and serve a total of 7 terms as the County Clerk, during which time she has overseen and led numerous structural adjustments to the division of responsibilities in the county offices.

Mrs. Lewis was born in West Germany, the daughter of an Estonian woman living in a displaced person's camp. Her family immigrated to the United States in 1950, and she cites the welcome and opportunity they found here as one of her primary motivations to enter a life of public service. She graduated with Bachelor's and Master's degrees from Chico State and Sonoma State University, respectively.

Mrs. Lewis was hired by Sonoma County in 1971, and transferred to the Clerk's Office in 1974. A swift series of promotions followed. She was appointed the Acting County Clerk 1977 when her predecessor died in office. She won her first election in a runoff and has since won 6 more terms in office. During almost 30 years as the elected Clerk of Sonoma County, Mrs. Lewis has presided over expansion and refinement of the responsibilities and jurisdiction of the office of the Clerk. By always approaching jurisdictional matters with an open attitude and a concern for the relevant statutes, Mrs. Lewis has guided a series of changes that have greatly benefited the government and people of Sonoma. By working closely with court staff, Mrs. Lewis straightforwardly organized the reapportionment of duties and streamlined costs when it became necessary to create a separate office to administer the county's court system. Similar structural adjustments in 2001 saw the Clerk's Office absorb the County Recorder's responsibilities and then the County Assessor's role. Through all of these changes Mrs. Lewis has carefully studied the new responsibilities assigned to her, and maintained the high standard of performance for which the Clerk's Office is known.

In addition to her work in Sonoma County, Mrs. Lewis has been active in professional organizations around the state helping other counties emulate the success of Sonoma in developing and maintaining an effective Clerk staff. She is responsible for the development of a series of workshops to help train staff around the state, with the first of these meetings scheduled to take place this coming March. Additionally, she participated in a legal taskforce mandated to update confusing or outdated portions of California Code related to the duties of County and Court Clerks. All of these activities greatly contribute to a higher quality of governance throughout the State of California and represent a service to the people every bit as important as her work in Sonoma County.

Mr. Speaker, we rise today to congratulate Mrs. Eeve Lewis on the occasion of her retirement after 35 years of service to Sonoma County, including a remarkable 28 years of capably guiding that office as the elected County Clerk. She will leave behind the finest organization in the state and a legion of admirers who valued the insight and care with which she approached her work.

TRIBUTE TO THE DEMOCRATIC PACIFIC UNION

HON. JULIA CARSON

OF INDIANA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Ms. CARSON. Mr. Speaker, I salute the Democratic Pacific Union which was formally inaugurated in Taipei, Taiwan on May 14, 2005, the 60th anniversary of the end of World War II. Notable guests at the inaugural ceremony included presidents of Taiwan, Costa Rica and Guatemala as well as vice presidents of Taiwan, Nicaragua and Palau. The goals of the Union are to integrate resources in the pan-Pacific region for joint development and regional cooperation and to promote democracy, peace and prosperity among DPU member democracies.

Since May of 2005, the Union has established a Secretariat, published its first quarterly, planned West Pacific regional meetings, formed a Pacific economic advisory group, and initiated the Pacific Congressional Caucus project. The project seeks to bring congressional and parliamentary members of DPU together to promote exchange and cooperation among lawmakers throughout DPU member countries. The Taiwan Chapter of the Pacific Congressional Caucus was inaugurated on May 20, 2006 and convened by the Speaker of Taiwan's Legislature Yuan.

My commendations also to the Taiwan Chapter of the Pacific Congressional Caucus. The Chapter will sponsor a symposium on congressional reforms December 8–10, 2006, in Taipei, Taiwan. Legislative members of the DPU, member states and U.S. Members of Congress have been graciously invited to attend this symposium either as participants or observers. I hope that my colleagues will find time to attend this very important event in Taipei and lend our encouragement and support to The Pacific Congressional Caucus.

Mr. Speaker, I also commend the Union for its goals, achievements, and initiations which include a training program on hazard mitigation on typhoon-related disasters held May 8–12, 2006 in Taiwan. The DPU has also established a 2006 fellowship and scholarship program providing funds for students from DPU member states to attend universities in Taiwan. Another significant achievement for this young organization is an invitation to distinguished women from member states to attend meetings in Taiwan to identify and address gender issues and problems women face in the Pacific region. The DPU has also invited political experts to observe elections in Taiwan; and established the Pacific Center for Disaster Reduction in Taipei.

HONORING MICHAEL REX DICK OF CALISTOGA, CALIFORNIA

HON. MIKE THOMPSON

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. THOMPSON of California. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in honor of Mr. Michael R. Dick who is retiring as Police Chief of Calistoga. Mr. Dick has been a member of the Calistoga Police Department for 31 years, during which time he has served Calistoga honorably and conscientiously in many roles.

As a graduate of Calistoga High School, Mr. Dick grew up familiar with the area he eventually served. He studied at Napa Valley College, where he worked for his Associate of Science Degree in Law Enforcement. His constant residence in and around Calistoga has made Mike especially well attuned to the needs of his community. Throughout his career he has made an extra effort to encourage young people from Calistoga to follow his path by becoming cadets with the police force.

Mr. Dick became an Officer on the force in 1975. He has earned a reputation as a thorough officer whose tenacity and initiative helped him obtain convictions in tough investigations. Beyond his conventional duties as an officer, he served for many years as the Juvenile Officer and liaison to the schools of Calistoga. His connections to the community served him well in this regard, and he developed numerous local programs targeting drug-use prevention and children's safety. For all of his hard work, Mr. Dick has 3 times been recognized as Police Officer of the Year, and in 1996 he was the City of Calistoga's Citizen of the Year.

Beyond his work as a police officer, Mr. Dick has been a model citizen for the City of Calistoga, serving in numerous local volunteer capacities. He has been the Chairman of the St. Jude's Children's Hospital Bike-a-thon and served several terms as President of the Calistoga Police Officer's Association. Demonstrating once again his commitment to the children of our community, he has for many years been the Cub Scout Master for the Silverado Chapter of the Boy Scouts of America.

Mr. Speaker and colleagues, it is appropriate at this time that we recognize the long and active career of Mr. Michael R. Dick, who served his hometown of Calistoga as an officer of the greatest distinction. I join the many members of his community in extending my appreciation for all of his hard work, and I wish him all the best in the future.

SOUTHEAST ARIZONA LANE EX-CHANGE AND CONSERVATION ACT OF 2006

HON. RICK RENZI

OF ARIZONA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 5, 2006

Mr. RENZI. Mr. Speaker, in regard to the three site visits that I have made to the mining location and the recreation area, in regard to the over 20 meetings that I have with former president of Resolution Copper, their current president, their lobbyists and employees, and in regard to the over one dozen meetings with the San Carlos Apaches, I re-introduce this refined legislation today.

I recognize that a portion of the land being conveyed to Resolution Copper in the vicinity of the Oak Flat Campground is used by the Apache people for traditional acorn gathering and other cultural purposes. My staff and I have discussed this matter with Resolution Copper on several occasions, and Resolution has assured us that upon conveyance of the land to them, the company will make every effort to allow such traditional uses to continue. As much of the land in question lies immediately adjacent to Arizona Highway 60, Resolution Copper believes that it is unlikely the bulk of the area in question will be significantly disturbed by exploration or mining activities in the foreseeable future.

In addition, Resolution has assured me that they will establish job training and employment opportunities for potential Apache employees. As such, it is with great hope that I introduce this legislation for the future prosperity of the region.
