SEC. 3012. EFFECTIVE DATE OF MODIFICATIONS TO THE HARMONIZED TARIFF SCHEDULE.

Section 1206(c) of the Omnibus Trade and Competitiveness Act of 1988 (19 U.S.C. 3006(c)) is amended by striking "15th" and inserting "30th".

TITLE IV—EXTENSION OF NONDISCRIMINATORY TREATMENT (NORMAL TRADE RELATIONS TREATMENT) TO THE PRODUCTS OF VIETNAM

SEC. 4001. FINDINGS.

Congress finds the following:

(1) In July 1995, President Bill Clinton announced the formal normalization of diplomatic relations between the United States and Vietnam.

(2) Vietnam has taken cooperative steps with the United States under the United States Joint POW/MIA Accounting Command (formerly the Joint Task Force-Full Accounting) established in 1992 by President George H.W. Bush to provide the fullest possible accounting of MIA and POW cases.

(3) In 2000, the United States and Vietnam concluded a bilateral trade agreement that included commitments on goods, services, intellectual property rights, and investment. The agreement was approved by joint resolution enacted pursuant to section 405(c) of the Trade Act of 1974 (19 U.S.C. 2435(c)), and entered into force in December 2001.

(4) Since 2001, normal trade relations treatment has consistently been extended to Vietnam pursuant to title IV of the Trade Act of 1974.

(5) Vietnam has undertaken significant market-based economic reforms, including the reduction of government subsidies, tariffs and nontariff barriers, and extensive legal reform. These measures have dramatically improved Vietnam's business and investment climate.

(6) Vietnam has completed its negotiations to join the World Trade Organization (WTO). On May 31, 2006, the United States and Vietnam signed a comprehensive bilateral agreement providing greater market access for goods and services and other trade liberalizing commitments. On November 7, 2006, the WTO General Council approved Vietnam's membership. Vietnam's National Assembly ratified Vietnam's WTO accession commitments on November 28, 2006, and Vietnam will become the 150th Member of the WTO 30 days thereafter.

(7) On November 13, 2006, the Department of State removed Vietnam from its list of Countries of Particular Concern (CPC) for severe violations of religious freedom. In reaching this determination, the Department of State cited significant improvements in Vietnam toward advancing religious freedom, though problems remain that merit immediate attention and important work remains to be done to fully protect religious freedom in Vietnam.

SEC. 4002. TERMINATION OF APPLICATION OF TITLE IV OF THE TRADE ACT OF 1974 TO VIETNAM.

(a) PRESIDENTIAL DETERMINATIONS AND EXTENSION OF NON-DISCRIMINATORY TREATMENT.—Notwithstanding any provision of title IV of the Trade Act of 1974 (19 U.S.C. 2431 et seq.), the President may—

(1) determine that such title should no longer apply to Vietnam; and

(2) after making a determination under paragraph (1) with respect to Vietnam, proclaim the extension of nondiscriminatory treatment (normal trade relations treatment) to the products of that country.

(b) TERMINATION OF THE APPLICABILITY OF TITLE IV.—On and after the effective date of the extension of nondiscriminatory treatment to the products of Vietnam under subsection (a), title IV of the Trade Act of 1974 shall cease to apply to that country.

(3) PROCEDURES.—

(A) DETERMINATION TO INITIATE PROCEEDINGS.—If the Trade Representative makes an affirmative determination under paragraph (2) with respect to a petition, the Trade Representative shall publish a summary of the petition in the Federal Register and notice of the initiation of proceedings under this section.

(B) DETERMINATION NOT TO INITIATE PROCEEDINGS.—If the Trade Representative determines not to initiate proceedings with respect to a petition, the Trade Representative shall inform the petitioner of the reasons therefor and shall publish notice of the determination, together with a summary of those reasons, in the Federal Register.

(c) INITIATION OF PROCEEDINGS BY OTHER MEANS.—If the Trade Representative determines, in the absence of a petition, that proceedings should be initiated under this section, the Trade Representative shall publish in the Federal Register that determination, together with the reasons therefor, and notice of the initiation of proceedings under this section.

SEC. 4004. CONSULTATIONS UPON INITIATION OF INVESTIGATION.

If the Trade Representative initiates a proceeding under subsection (b)(3)(A) or (c) of section 4003, the Trade Representative, on behalf of the United States, shall, on the day on which notice thereof is published under the applicable subsection, so notify the Government of Vietnam and request consultations with that government regarding the subsidy.

SEC. 4005. PUBLIC PARTICIPATION AND CONSULTATION.

(a) PUBLIC PARTICIPATION.—In the notice published under subsection (b)(3)(A) or (c) of section 4003, the Trade Representative shall provide an opportunity to the public for the presentation of views concerning the issues—

(1) within the 30-day period beginning on the date of the notice (or on a date after such period if agreed to by the petitioner), or

(2) at such other time if a timely request therefor is made by the petitioner or by any interested person, with a public hearing if requested by an interested person.

(b) CONSULTATION.—The Trade Representative shall consult with the Committee on Ways and Means of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Finance of the Senate, and with the appropriate advisory committees established under section 135 of the Trade Act of 1974 (19 U.S.C. 2155), with respect to whether to initiate proceedings under section 4003 and, if proceedings are conducted, with respect to making the determination under subsection (c).

(c) DETERMINATION.—After considering all comments submitted, and within 30 days after the close of the comment period under subsection (a), the Trade Representative shall determine whether the Government of Vietnam is providing, on or after the date on which Vietnam accedes to the World Trade Organization, a prohibited subsidy to its textile or apparel industry. The Trade Representative shall publish that determination in the Federal Register, together with the justification for the determination.

(d) RECORD.—The Trade Representative shall make available to the public a complete record of all nonconfidential information presented in proceedings conducted under this section, together with a summary of confidential information so submitted.

SEC. 4006. ARBITRATION AND IMPOSITION OF QUOTAS.

(a) ARBITRATION.—If, within 60 days after consultations are requested under section 4004, in a case in which the Trade Representative makes an affirmative determination under section 4005(c), the matter in dispute is not resolved, the Trade Representative shall request arbitration of the matter under the Dispute Settlement Understanding.

(b) IMPOSITION OF QUOTAS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Trade Representative shall impose, for a period of not more than 1 year, the quantitative limitations described in paragraph (2) on textile and apparel products of Vietnam—

(A) if, pursuant to arbitration under subsection (a), the arbitrator determines that the Government of Vietnam is providing, on or after the date on which Vietnam accedes to the World Trade Organization, a prohibited subsidy to its textile or apparel industry; or

(B) if the arbitrator does not issue a decision within 120 days after the request for arbitration, in which case the limitations cease to be effective if the arbitrator, after such limitations are imposed, determines that the Government of Vietnam is not providing, on or after the date on which Vietnam accedes to the World Trade Organization, a prohibited subsidy to its textile or apparel industry.

(2) LIMITATIONS DESCRIBED.—The quantitative limitations referred to in paragraph (1) are those quantitative limitations that were in effect under the Bilateral Textile Agreement during the most recent full calendar year in which the Bilateral Textile Agreement was in effect.

(c) DETERMINATION OF COMPLIANCE.—If, after imposing quantitative limitations under subsection (b) because of a prohibited subsidy, the Trade Representative determines that the Government of Vietnam is not providing, on or after the date on which Vietnam accedes to the World Trade Organization, a prohibited subsidy to its textile or

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 1100, the gentleman from California (Mr. THOMAS) and the gentleman from New York (Mr. RANGEL) each will control 30 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from California.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

(Mr. THOMAS asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, today the House will consider H.R. 6406. This is the companion bill which will be combined with the tax and trade bill to be sent back to the Senate. It was originally structured as H.R. 6406, and it approves several trade measures that really are important to the livelihoods of millions of people, both in developing countries and in the U.S. and affects the global marketplace.

Mr. Speaker, today the House is considering H.R. 6406 to approve several trade measures that are vitally important to the livelihoods of millions of people in developing countries or are necessary to keep U.S. manufacturers and exporters competitive in the global marketplace.

This bill would extend several existing trade preferences for developing countries. The longstanding Generalized System of Preferences, or GSP, which expires at the end of this year, provides duty-free treatment to non-sensitive products from developing countries. This bill extends GSP, adjusting it to ensure that benefits are targeted toward countries that are not competitive. It's important to note that the GSP extension applies the same rules to all countries equally.

The bill would also extend and enhance the African Growth and Opportunities Act, or AGOA, which provides trade preferences to sub-Saharan Africa. This bill would extend the current duty-free benefits on African apparel using third-country fabric through 2012.

The bill grants a six-month extension of preferences to the Andean countries, and allows another six-month extension for each country if a trade promotion agreement with that country is approved. This approach keeps our democratic allies whole while creating an incentive to complete the transition to a mature trading relationship by implementing the trade agreements that have been negotiated and concluding agreements with the other Andean countries.

The bill would also provide modest new trade preferences for Haiti to create jobs in that desperately poor country by encouraging Haiti to use more U.S. and hemispheric inputs. Haiti's poverty is equivalent to the poorest countries in Africa, and yet Haiti has never received U.S. trade preferences like the AGOA benefits.

The second major component of the bill grants permanent normal trade relations, or PNTR, to Vietnam. The bill also creates a mechanism to ensure that Vietnam abides by its obligations to end all prohibited subsidies to its textile sector. Vietnam has completed all the steps necessary to become a member of the World Trade Organization. The Vietnamese National Assembly ratified the implementing package, and the country will officially become a member at the end of the month. A majority of House members supported identical language granting PNTR to Vietnam last month.

Lastly, the bill includes 500 Miscellaneous Trade Bill provisions that went through the usual rigorous vetting process to ensure they are noncontroversial. These provisions suspend duties on products that are not produced in the United States and are usually traded in small volumes. This bill helps lower costs for U.S. manufacturers, retailers, and consumers.

This bill is responsible, bipartisan legislation that deserves support. Providing assistance to these poor countries not only helps to create stronger trading partners in the future but is also our responsibility as one of the world's strongest economies to create humanitarian opportunities through trade. I urge passage of this legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that the remainder of my time until I reclaim my time be provided to the gentleman from Florida who I would usually describe as the chairman of the Trade Subcommittee. Mr. SHAW, however, deserves a bit fuller description.

He came to Congress in 1981. He joined the Ways and Means Committee in the 100th Congress. He joined in 1988 and then became chairman of the Trade Subcommittee in January of 2005. He is the author of the Haiti Economic Opportunity Act. He was chairman of the Human Resources Subcommittee from 1995 until 1998, and one of his major achievements, as far as I am concerned, was the 1996 welfare reform bill, historic and unprecedented. He was chairman and is chairman of the Florida delegation since 1996. And as the proud grandfather of two, I am amazed to say he is the father of four and the grandfather of 15; and I cannot imagine if my two were 15. And so it is my pleasure to turn the time over to the gentleman from Florida (Mr. SHAW).

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from California?

There was no objection.

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. RANGEL. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this bill. I really think that trade, if done right, is so important to our great country and to the world. The people expect us to be able to use our technology to assist them in improving their quality of life.

And I think that is possible, regardless of whether we are Republicans or Democrats, to remove those impediments that keep us apart because they think in the interest of protecting American jobs, increasing American jobs, helping developing countries, that those are the basic things that, whether you are Democrat or Republican, that you have to believe in.

We have some countries that are in deep trouble in these bills, and in each of these cases we have been able to work out the language so not only are we concerned that we have sound trading policies, but we also protect the environment and protect the rights of workers that live in these developing countries.

For some of these countries, the African Growth and Opportunity bill has provided new and great opportunities that people in Sub-Saharan Africa never dreamed that could happen. The Indian countries, of course, have been successful in getting their people to concern itself with agriculture and fighting the drug trade.

But most of you know, notwithstanding all of the countries that are going to be affected, that all of us have in our hearts a little compassion for the pain that for decades the poor people in Haiti have been suffering. It really amazes me how there has been concern from the textile industry about this little country, Haiti. And I said that God should be so good to the people in Haiti that their exports could be a threat to the United States of America. That is not going to happen. I know that there are concerns that people have, but if there is any country in the world that has suffered, it has been the people in Haiti, the poorest country that we have in this continent and one that the international community has ignored.

It is not just that we hope that this country will be able to pick up the pieces and maintain this democracy, but we hope by showing the United States has an interest and is willing to invest in this country, it might serve as a signal for other industrialized countries to come to the assistance and, indeed, maintain the trade with Haiti that has not only suffered in poverty but has really suffered as demons and military people have exploited them and denied them the opportunity to live in a democracy.

They are on their way back. We hope that the new government will be able to fulfill all the dreams and promises that they have talked about.

But right now I would like to yield the balance of my time to a person who has dedicated his life to public service. He has served this Congress so well over the years. We on the Ways and Means Committee have depended on his wisdom and his guidance not only in trade but in so many other subjects. And now he moves on to the other body, and as I said earlier, his presence in the other body can only increase their prestige and the intellect as he has served us so well here.

Mr. Speaker, with the permission of the Members and the Chair, I yield the balance of my time to the distinguished gentleman from Maryland, the Honorable BEN CARDIN, and I ask unanimous consent that he be allowed to control that time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. KIRK). Without objection, the gentleman from Maryland will control the time.

There was no objection.

Mr. CARDIN. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, at this time I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. ROHRBACHER).

Mr. ROHRBACHER. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong opposition to H.R. 6406. And while I believe in free trade between free people, this bill would extend trading rights to the dictatorship of Vietnam and other questionable countries.

Why are we doing this? We are told that, of course, increasing commerce with such dictatorships will eventually lead that dictatorship to evolve into a more docile or a more democratic society. That has not worked. It has created a monster in China. Why is there any reason for us to think it won't do the same in Vietnam?

The Vietnamese themselves have been pleading with us not to grant Most Favored Nation status; basically permanent normal trade status is what we are talking about tonight.

I include this letter in the RECORD. It is a letter to the President of the United States from 28 leading Vietnamese, who probably will end up in prison, discussing how their country is not free, that the people there have none of the liberties that we are talking about and that such trade would go in the opposite direction rather than making the leadership of the dictatorship more open to reforms.

A CALL FOR DEMOCRACY—OPEN LETTER TO PRESIDENT GEORGE W. BUSH ON THE OCCASION OF HIS TRIP TO VIETNAM TO ATTEND THE APEC SUMMIT IN NOVEMBER 2006

VIETNAM,
November 14, 2006.

DEAR MR. PRESIDENT: On behalf of all Vietnamese people who struggle for democracy and freedom in Vietnam we warmly welcome you to our country on the occasion of your trip to Hanoi to attend the Asian Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC) Summit.

When arriving in Vietnam, you will see, in addition to the natural beauty of our country, many high-rise buildings and splendid mansions belonging to the elite of the Vietnamese Communist Party and wealthy businessmen. However, you won't see the poverty of the majority of Vietnamese people who live in the countryside or in suburban areas. You will not be allowed to see the impoverished farmers who keep on coming to Hanoi to protest against the confiscation of their land year after year, their plight unheard.

Mr. President:

The Vietnamese people have no free elections. In Vietnam, the Communist Party chooses all candidates prior to an election, and people who are not chosen by the Communist system cannot run in an election. Since all candidates are nominated by the Party, from the People's Committee at the village level to the National Assembly, elections are only a ploy used by the regime to disguise their intentions. This is the reason why people's legitimate complaints are never addressed.

The Vietnamese people have no freedom of the press, and therefore freedom of speech is severely limited. Although Vietnam currently has more than 600 newspapers, all are owned and controlled by the Party. Until now, no private newspaper has ever been allowed to appear. Vietnam has one of the strictest systems of control over public use of the Internet in the world. Many web sites with information on freedom and democracy are not available in Vietnam.

The Vietnamese people do not have freedom of religion and worship. Religious organizations which were not established by the state, such as the Unified Buddhist Church of Vietnam, the Hoa Hao Buddhist Church, the Cao Dai Congregation and the Mennonite Church of Vietnam, are all prohibited from operating. Many Buddhist monks and Christian priests are placed under "administrative restrictions," i.e. under detention in their own pagodas or churches.

Recently, due to pressure from the United States, the European Union, and other countries and international organizations, the Vietnamese government released some prisoners of conscience. Nevertheless, hundreds of political dissidents are still detained or placed under "administrative restriction" based on Decree 31-CP which allows anyone to be detained up to two years without a court order.

Corruption in the Communist Party of Vietnam is at an epidemic level. Vietnam is classified as one of the most corrupt countries in the world but nobody within Vietnam dares to point that out because we don't have freedom of the press. The most corrupt people are high-ranking members of the Vietnamese Communist Party themselves.

Despite legal restrictions, the Vietnamese people still seek real democracy and freedom. Among the appeals is the "Call for Democracy for Vietnam" issued by the Unified Vietnamese Buddhist Congregation in 2001, the "Nine Steps towards Democracy in Vietnam" by the Non-Violent Movement for Human Rights in 2005, and most recently the "Declaration for Democracy and Freedom" courageously released on April 8, 2006 by 118 private citizens inside Vietnam.

Mr. President:

You have said many times that spreading democracy is one of your great goals. We found it very encouraging when you said that you always side with those who fight for freedom in the world and will support them in this effort. We hope, therefore, that you will use your forthcoming visit to encourage the Communist leaders of Vietnam to adopt real democracy. In order to implement this policy, first and foremost they would have to discard Article 4 of the Vietnam constitution which gives absolute power to the Vietnam Communist Party, repeal the 31-CP Decree, release all political dissidents currently detained in prisons or under house arrest, and move resolutely in restoring the freedom of the press, freedom of religion, and freedom to form organizations and political parties, and freedom to stand for election.

With our best wishes for a successful trip and for good health and happiness to you and Mrs. Bush, we remain,

Yours most respectfully,

Also let me note this: If not for the cause of freedom and justice, which we are supposedly fighting for in Iraq right now, we at least should back up our own military troops who gave their lives in Vietnam. The Vietnamese have never come clean with us on the POW issue. Ask SAM JOHNSON, who is one of our own colleagues. Yes, they have given us the right to dig, but they have kept from us all of the prison records of those POWs who we knew were alive and in captivity. They have refused time and again. Until they come clean on POWs, until there is some reform that shows they are going in the right direction, it is wrong, it is morally wrong for us to extend this Permanent Normal Trading Status for this type of dictatorship.

And, in fact, we know what it is all about. It is not trying to evolve Vietnam into a more democratic society. It is about our big businessmen sacrificing the interests of American workers by chasing cheap labor, cheap labor under dictatorships where they don't have a right to stand up for their own rights.

I ask that this bill be defeated.

Mr. CARDIN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this legislation. This legislation would extend permanent normal trade relations to Vietnam. That is necessary for the United States to be able to benefit from Vietnam's entering the World Trade Organization, and Vietnam is entering the World Trade Organization. It will give U.S. manufacturers and producers more access to the market in Vietnam, which is the fastest growing economy in Southeast Asia. It also provides stronger protection for American companies in regards to intellectual property rights.

But I want to make it clear no one should interpret the passage of Permanent Normal Trade Relations for Vietnam as a clean bill of health on their human rights. Vietnam has a long way to go in dealing with human rights issues. Yes, we are pleased that the State Department has removed them from a country of particular concern as it relates to religious freedom. That is an important step forward. But when you look at the list of issues that still remain in Vietnam on human rights, it is a matter of concern for our country.

Vietnam fails to provide its citizens with any meaningful vote, and the government censors domestic media sources, blocks foreign radio broadcasts and Web sites, and denies its people the right to form independent organizations, including independent unions representing working people. The government also routinely cracks down harshly on antigovernment protesters.

We cannot let these shortcomings go unchallenged. PNTR should not be stopped. That is not the right tool for us to deal with those issues. Vietnam is entering the World Trade Organization. We need to be part of that. We need to engage Vietnam. We need to look for new ways in which we can have Vietnam deal with these human rights issues. It is a good step that Vietnam is entering the World Trade Organization. That is going to be helpful for us in dealing with the human rights issues.

I think we need to take note that Vietnam has taken some important steps in the right direction and that we need to make sure that they continue with their entry into the WTO, that more is expected, and that they will adhere to the rule of law. And countries with open economies are more likely to have more open societies.

I also support the provisions in this bill that deal with trade preferences for Haiti and Africa. Haiti is the poorest country in our hemisphere. We have a moral obligation to do all that we can to raise the standard of living of its people, our neighbors in the Caribbean, and to support the fragile democracy. The administration of Haiti offers a hope of an improved standard of living for the Haitian people, but only if the United States is prepared to engage with trade and investment and support Haiti with assistance. We have a chance with this legislation to do exactly that.

The countries of Sub-Saharan Africa also merit and need stronger trade and investment relationship and our support. The AGOA program has had wide support in this Congress and has been highly successful since its inception more than 6 years ago. Since its passage in the spring of 2000, U.S. imports from eligible African countries have increased by more than 300 percent, AGOA has attracted over $340 million in new investment, and it has helped to create thousands of new jobs in Africa. Thirty-seven African countries now participate in AGOA. I hope that others, including Liberia, will soon be eligible. African exports to the United States under AGOA totaled $38 billion in 2005, an increase of more than 300 percent since 2002. The list goes on and on and on where we have been able to see economic progress through AGOA.

The problem is that we can do more and should do more. This bill includes a 6-year extension of the third-country fabric provision, the longest extension for this provision in the history of the AGOA program. It also extends other benefits in the textile and apparel sector from 2008 to 2015, a major improvement.

Mr. Speaker, these provisions will help the African workers and businesses compete against China and other competitors, including competitors who suppress their workers' rights and provide subsidies to their industries. That is in the interest of the United States and our manufacturers and producers to have that type of competition from Sub-Saharan Africa.

It is for all these reasons that this is a well-balanced bill that will advance U.S. interests, and I urge my colleagues to support the legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I think it is very clear that we clarify exactly what we are talking about with Vietnam. We are simply making what we have been doing every year as a permanent-type position so we don't have to come back and vote on it every year. And what do we get for it? We get access to their markets. So this is something that is to the benefit of the United States, and it is not giving any free trade agreement or any special deal to Vietnam. And I think people that are watching this debate tonight should be very much aware of that.

Mr. Speaker, at this time I yield 3 minutes to a valued member of the Ways and Means Committee, the gentleman from Minnesota (Mr. RAMSTAD).

Mr. RAMSTAD. Mr. Speaker, I thank Chairman SHAW for yielding.

I rise in strong support of H.R. 6406, which includes the legislation I introduced to extend permanent normal trade relations to Vietnam.

Mr. Speaker, the bottom line here is economic growth and jobs. Fully 95 percent of the world's population lives outside the United States, and the global economy is projected to grow at three times the rate of the U.S. economy. We must, we must, continue to take steps to make sure that American farmers, businesses, and service providers remain leaders in the international marketplace and that our products have fair and open access to foreign markets.

As was said by Mr. CARDIN, Vietnam is the fastest growing economy in Southeast Asia. It continues to grow in significance as a United States trading partner. By giving Vietnam PNTR status, our businesses and farmers will be able to take advantage of increased market access opportunities that the Vietnamese have offered in return. And increased market access in Vietnam will also help provide our companies a competitive sourcing counterbalance to China in this region.

Without passage of this legislation, U.S. companies will not be able to take advantage of the Vietnamese concessions. And the United States will not be able to engage in dispute settlement cases with Vietnam in the World Trade Organization. So not to pass this legislation with respect to Vietnam, extending PNTR to Vietnam, is a lose-lose situation.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to thank Chairman THOMAS and Chairman SHAW for their leadership and key efforts in crafting this package and also for including Vietnam PNTR. The House is truly losing two legislative giants, and it has been a great privilege to serve with Chairman THOMAS and Chairman SHAW on the Ways and Means Committee.

I also want to thank my friends on the other side of the aisle, Ranking Member RANGEL and Mr. CARDIN, for working on this important package in a bipartisan way. It has also been a great privilege to serve with you, and we are going to miss you, BEN, when you move to the other body.

I also want to thank Representative THOMPSON for his bipartisan support, his steadfast support, and hard work on this important legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support passage of H.R. 6406.

Mr. CARDIN. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to yield 7 minutes to the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. LEVIN), one of the senior members of the Ways and Means Committee and one of the most active on trade issues.

(Mr. LEVIN asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. Speaker, I want to join in congratulating the three mentioned Members for their service. I also want to try to give this bill some perspective. It is going to be a bit different than expressed before this.

I just want to assure everybody in terms of process that as far as I am concerned, and I know Mr. RANGEL joins me and I think many others, we are not going to bring legislation to the floor the way this has been brought to this floor tonight. Some of these bills have not had any hearings. This is a last-minute effort and we are under the gun because there is a need to extend or at least consider the extension of some of the provisions. Otherwise, they go out of operation, and that would be unfortunate. So in terms of process, I want to assure everybody there is going to be a more open procedure, and, indeed, I think that can lead to a more bipartisan procedure on key trade issues.

There is also going to be a very clear approach by the majority to these trade issues.

I want to talk about a few of the details because we haven't had much discussion of them on the floor. Three of these components involve extension of present programs. The GSP program has a 2-year extension. If we don't act, it goes out of existence. It has been in existence for decades. It has worked to our mutual benefit. There are within the GSP structures a core labor standard provision and it has been invoked in petitions by various people. So we are going to extend it. By the way, there is a waiver provision here and it is very possible that the administration will decide to no longer grant the waiver. But this legislation doesn't affect that, really. It simply expresses the opinion here that they should. They don't have to, and our committee, I am sure, is going to look into the merits of this, including as it might affect India.

The second is AGOA, the African Growth and Opportunity Act. We are extending it. I think most people believe it has worked on both sides, for African countries and by and large for us, not that there are no problems, but as a result of the fabric provision, Africa can now compete more than anything else with China. And if we don't give Africa that chance because of the end of the system that regulated fabrics, the Chinese would continue and increase their role in terms of that. There is a cap on the apparel provision. Everybody should understand that. There is some increase in it, not very large over it historically, and Africa has not met the cap.

So when you balance these provisions relating to this extension, I think it makes sense to extend the AGOA act, and it passed the last time it was up by voice vote.

Thirdly, the Andean preference, also under GSP. What this legislation does is to create a kind of a linkage that we will not allow as a majority. I think I can say that safely. It links it to the enactment, to the putting together and the passage of an FTA with four Andean countries. Many of us don't agree with what was put together for Peru and for Colombia, and I want that very clear. We don't agree with the Peruvian and Colombia-U.S. FTA as it was negotiated. It cannot pass in my judgment and in the judgment of many others as it was negotiated. It is going to have to be renegotiated. So this effort to put a little leverage on this Congress and the other countries under this new majority is simply not going to work.

So I urge support of this bill because I think the three preferences, if you want to call it, the three provisions, need to be extended, the GSP, the African and also the Andean.

Let me spend just a couple of minutes, because we need to talk about details, about Haiti and about Vietnam. Briefly about Vietnam. They are going into the WTO without Permanent Normal Trade Relations with the U.S. We can't stop that as I understand it, and I think that is true. So we are not going to help out, in my judgment, on balance by simply saying that they go in without us and we will not get the provisions of their entry into the WTO. It is not two-sided in this respect.

Lastly, let me say a word about Haiti. There is some controversy over it. But, look, it has been carefully crafted. A lot of people have worked very hard on this, taking into account the needs of Haiti and the needs of our workers and our companies. There is in there a cap. Right now Haiti, their imports here represent a small part of our apparel industry. It is very small. In order for Haiti to get on its feet, it is going to have to be able to have a larger export industry. The people have worked on this and this has been bipartisan, have tried to balance this, and I want to finish by pointing this out. Under this agreement, the core labor standard provisions that we worked hard to elevate over the years remain. And so if there is exploitation of workers in Haiti, there will be an ability of us to get at that problem, either by petition or, as I remember it, we can initiate that.

So it is important in terms of our relationships and our economic development, both Haitian and Americans, on balance that we pass this Haiti bill. We need to move this ball forward, and I close with this assurance. Processwise, it is going to be much more open, much more in advance, and I hope bipartisan. And substantively, there is going to be a new day.

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, at this time, I am pleased to yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. HERGER), a distinguished member of the Ways and Means Committee.

Mr. HERGER. Mr. Speaker, economic growth through increased trade and investment is one of our most effective tools in our arsenal for fighting poverty around the world. It also creates opportunity at home by opening foreign markets to U.S. agriculture, goods and services. The legislation before us today extends several trade preference programs which benefit millions of workers in African, Andean and developing countries around the world. It also extends Permanent Normal Trade Relations to Vietnam which will officially join the World Trade Organization later this month. Vietnam's membership in the WTO will bring substantial economic benefits to American consumers, farmers, businesses and workers only if we approve this measure. Without PNTR, farmers, firms and consumers in the U.S. will not be able to take full advantage of Vietnam's WTO commitments. U.S. agricultural exports to Vietnam exceeded $192 million last year and represented nearly 17 percent of our total exports to the country. PNTR will reduce tariffs to 15 percent or less on most agricultural exports. Vietnam has also agreed to allow imports of all U.S. beef from animals under 30 months of age. Today's legislation paves the way for greater economic and strategic cooperation between our Nation and the many countries that will benefit from a broader trade relationship.

Mr. Speaker, I would also like to thank Chairman THOMAS for his work on this legislation. I urge its passage.

Mr. CARDIN. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from California, MAXINE WATERS.

Ms. WATERS. Mr. Speaker and Members, I thank the gentleman from Maryland and the Senator-elect for this time.

I rise reluctantly to support this trade bill. I say "reluctantly" because the bill includes several different trade provisions, each of which deserves to be considered on its own merit. These provisions should not be lumped together as a single bill and brought to the floor with no opportunity for meaningful debate or amendments. However, I strongly support the HOPE bill which provides duty-free treatment for apparel imports from Haiti, the most impoverished country in the Western Hemisphere.

On May 14, Rene Preval was sworn in as the democratically elected President of Haiti following a period of political instability and violence that lasted over 2 years. Now President Preval needs to provide economic opportunity for the Haitian people.

The HOPE bill will enable Haiti to manufacture apparel products for export to the United States. These trade benefits would only apply as long as Haitian apparel products do not exceed 2 percent of U.S. apparel imports. While these benefits are small by American standards, they will create jobs and promote economic development in this very small, impoverished country.

I would urge my colleagues to support the bill, given all of the questions they may have about the bill. I have worked very closely with the problems of Haiti and I think that we need to give them a chance. I, too, am concerned about whether or not workers will be exploited, but we can keep a close eye on that. Some of us are involved in a CODEL to Haiti as soon as we close down this floor and leaving tomorrow morning where we will be talking with President Preval and parliamentarians. Their greatest hope and their greatest desire is to get support of this trade bill tonight and to give them this HOPE program. Let's just give them a chance, again, despite whatever questions we may have.

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. HAYES).

(Mr. HAYES asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. HAYES. Mr. Speaker, first let me thank the gentleman from Florida for his incredibly distinguished service over the years. We will miss him so, so much.

Mr. Speaker, today I rise in strong opposition to the Haiti trade bill which is included in the package. Folks, if you want to see more "made in China" labels in your clothes, this bill is for you. It is clearly a bill that will help China and their textile industry take advantage of Haiti at the expense of the U.S. industry and the Haitians, I might add.

Mr. Speaker, the U.S. textile industry has been raising alarms about Asia in general and China in particular. Last year we succeeded in getting new limits on Chinese imports. But this harmful bill would allow Haiti to ship millions of dollars' worth of textile and apparel products to the U.S. duty-free from China, products made with Chinese fabrics and Chinese yarns. Not only does the bill increase the legal duty-free import limits for Chinese goods, it vastly increases loopholes that give the Chinese more incentive to transship illegal textile goods through Haiti into the U.S. duty-free. There is no doubt in my mind that this places at risk many of the 700,000 textile and apparel jobs we have remaining in our country.

U.S. Customs have repeatedly told us they have strong concerns with the rule of origin proposal. They know it cannot be enforced. Again, the benefits will go to China rather than Haiti. Last year alone, U.S. Customs seized over $100 million in illegal textile goods. Our Customs officials are catching more and more transshipments. If we are seizing $100 million in illegal goods, think how many we have not been able to catch and how this Haiti bill will vastly increase the number of goods getting into the country.

Let's think about it for a minute. We are considering legislation that includes a dramatic change in the yarn-forward rule of origin that U.S. Customs tell us they cannot enforce, which means more illegal textile goods will enter the U.S. No congressional hearings have been held on the bill. The U.S. industry has not even had an opportunity to provide input or feedback on the proposal. Why in the world would we bring this up for a vote when the problems with this bill are strikingly apparent?

The U.S. textile and apparel industry is vital to the economic security and national security of our Nation. The industry has contributed $120 billion to our GDP and supplied more than 8,000 products to our Nation's military.

□ 1815

U.S. textile sector is also one of the Nation's most competitive manufacturing industries that has invested more than $30 billion in new plants and equipment over 10 years. If you care about preserving the strong manufacturing sector in the future, an industry that provides good-paying jobs to American citizens, no way you can support the bill.

Folks, this is a simple choice. It is about doing the right thing. It is about preserving American textile jobs and American textile businesses. We cannot and must not allow these flawed policies. We want to help Haiti, but we are helping China.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. KUHLMAN of New York). The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. HAYES. May I ask for an additional 20 seconds?

Mr. SHAW. I don't have it.

Mr. CARDIN. Mr. Speaker, I will be glad to give my friend the 20 seconds he wanted.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from North Carolina is recognized for 20 seconds.

Mr. HAYES. I thank the gentleman for his courtesy. Again, I thank Chairman SHAW.

This does not help Haitians. This helps Chinese. We want to help the Haitians, but by giving more jobs to China and allowing more goods to come in, the well-intentioned folks, and I applaud their support because I support their desire to help the Haitians, they do not accomplish it with this bill.

Again I thank Mr. SHAW, Chairman THOMAS, and Senator CARDIN for their courtesy.

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time in order to read a paragraph into the RECORD. This is a letter dated December 8 from the United States Customs and Border Protection.

Mr. Speaker, the commissioner in this letter says: "As the customs and border protection official ultimately charged with our trade facilitation and enforcement efforts, including protecting United States industry against unfairly traded textile imports, we can and will enforce this legislation, if enacted. I was disturbed to learn that some interests are characterizing the Customs and Border Protection's position as opposed to the package of legislation. That is not the case."

Of course, he was referring to the legislation that is before the body at this time.

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HOMELAND SECURITY,
Washington, DC, December 8, 2006.

Hon. BILL THOMAS,
Chairman, Committee on Ways and Means,
Washington, DC.

DEAR CHAIRMAN THOMAS: Thank you for contacting us with an opportunity to clarify the views of U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) on H.R. 6346 and its predecessor H.R. 6142 which contain various free trade agreement provisions related to Permanent Normal Trade Relations (PNTR) for Vietnam, Generalized System of Preferences (GSP), the Andean Trade Promotion and Drug Eradication Act (ATPDEA), the African Growth and Opportunity Act (AGOA), the Haitian Hemispheric Opportunity through Partnership Encouragement (HOPE) Act, and various tariff measures.

As the CBP official ultimately charged with our trade facilitation and enforcement efforts, including protecting U.S. industry against unfairly traded textile imports, we can and will enforce this legislation, if enacted. I was disturbed to learn that some interests are characterizing CBP's position as opposed to the package of legislation. That is not the case.

Every major change to trade laws poses enforcement challenges for our agency, and this legislation is no different. Simply acknowledging these challenges however does not constitute agency opposition to the legislation as a whole nor to the underlying agreements nor do they pose insurmountable obstacles to textile enforcement. I want to assure you that CBP remains committed to enforcing all textile trade laws that impact the domestic industry.

I appreciate the opportunity to respond and clarify the agency's position, please do not hesitate to contact me if I may be of further assistance.

Sincerely,

W. RALPH BASHAM,
Commissioner.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. BRADY), a distinguished gentleman of the Ways and Means Committee.

Mr. BRADY of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I wanted to take a minute to thank Chairman SHAW for his leadership, not only in opening markets around the world to American products and services, but his leadership over the years on key issues like Social Security and others.

I think it is appropriate for Mr. HAYES to raise the issues of enforcement. If there is a common ground among Republicans and Democrats in this body, it is to strongly enforce free trade agreements and the benefits programs, and we, I know, can work together on that in this next session. I strongly support this bill.

America is the world's largest consumer of goods. We are also the largest seller of goods. It gives us an opportunity to open new markets and the power also to help other countries be lifted out of poverty.

This bill extends to our neighbors and friends in sub-Saharan Africa, Haiti, the Andean region of Latin America trade benefits to help stimulate economic growth and provide jobs for their people. It supports businesses and workers here in the United States by giving them a break on a necessary tariff so we are able to pass more of their dollars back to their employers and customers. It helps ensure American companies won't be left behind while our competitors overseas benefit from Vietnam's recent entry into the global trading system.

As a Representative of the 8th District of Texas, I tell you we see billions of dollars of cargo and goods come into our State, as well as shipping. It creates tens of thousands of jobs. It is key to our livelihood. Under a long-standing bipartisan program, our Latin American neighbors Peru, Colombia, Bolivia and Ecuador currently receive trade benefits that have reached many, many thousands of jobs in the region, meaningful jobs. They offer an alternative to the drug trade and guerrilla warfare and contribute to the stabilization and economic growth in the region, all of which are in America's interests.

We must continue the Andean program over the short term to encourage approval of already negotiated trade promotion agreements with Peru and Colombia that are critical to our region.

I strongly support this measure.

Mr. CARDIN. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SHAW. I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. DEAL).

Mr. DEAL of Georgia. I thank the gentleman and also for his years of dedicated service to this institution. He will truly be missed.

Mr. Speaker, regrettably I rise to oppose this legislation, in particular the portion that would grant permanent trade relationship with Vietnam. I do so for one very particular reason. According to the National League of POW/MIA families, there are currently 1,798 personnel missing, still missing, from a Vietnam war that ended about 35 years ago.

These families have continued to meet with resistance from the communist Vietnamese Government and have failed to allow them to adequately search for their loved ones. Yet today, this legislation will reward that country and that government. I believe that is unacceptable. I think we should be talking about how to reward Vietnam for its good conduct if they were to cooperate fully with the efforts to recover these individuals.

We have within the Department of Defense an office that is called the Defense POW Missing Personnel Office, whose sole purpose is to help account for these missing personnel that we lost during that conflict. Yet of the hundreds of individuals that accompanied President Bush on his visit to Vietnam last month, the director of that organization was excluded from the visit. What does this say to the Vietnamese Government? I think it says we are not serious about the issue.

Today, I think we can honestly say that if we intend to honor those who gave their lives and their sacrifice for our country, we should be willing to confront the Government of Vietnam concerning these missing POW/MIAs. Until Vietnam fully cooperates in that effort with these families to recover their loved ones, I cannot support the normalization on a permanent basis of trade relations with that country, and I would urge my colleagues to do likewise.

Mr. CARDIN. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Connecticut (Mr. SIMMONS), who will certainly be missed next year.

Mr. SIMMONS. I thank the gentleman for his courtesy. I rise in support of extending permanent trade relations to Vietnam. I do this as somebody, who as a Vietnam veteran, served in that country for almost 4 years, and who 3 years ago returned to Vietnam with the assistance of the Vietnamese Government to look for the crash site and remains of Captain Arnold Holm from Waterford, Connecticut, who went down in 1972.

We spent a week with the Vietnamese looking for the crash site, did not find it. But just this year, with continued effort, located the crash site 200 meters from the location in the jungle where my wife and I and others were looking. This legislation is about more than just economics, although the economics are important. This legislation is about working with the Vietnamese to heal the wounds of the war that ended 30 years ago.

I personally have experienced the support of the Vietnamese Government in this initiative. I know that support will continue. As a Vietnam veteran, I urge my colleagues to support this legislation.

Mr. CARDIN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Speaker, if I might first start by saying, the past 2 years I have had the honor of being the ranking Democrat on the Trade Subcommittee of the Ways and Means Committee. I want to thank Mr. SHAW for his help and cooperation during these past 2 years. I think that we have acted responsibly on many initiatives, but, more importantly, we have had an opportunity to talk directly with trade representatives from many other countries in an effort to move forward trade with the United States.

I want to thank Tim Reif, the staff director on the Democratic side, for his help during all this period of time. It was a new subcommittee for me, and I can tell you I could not have done it without the help of our staff, Mr. Reif and the others.

On a personal note, this will be my last opportunity to speak on the floor of this body, and I want to thank my constituents in the Third Congressional District of Maryland for giving me the opportunity to serve in this body during the past 20 years; 18 of those years I have served on the Ways and Means Committee. The voters of Maryland have now given me the opportunity to move to the other body.

I want to thank all of the Members that I have served with over these past 20 years. This is an incredible body of the people's House in which the Members truly are concerned about the traditions of this body and the work that we do.

I have had a chance to serve with many Members on the Ways and Means Committee, and we don't always agree on issues. I know that BILL THOMAS will be leaving and CLAY SHAW will be leaving this body also. Both carried the tradition of the Ways and Means Committee in this body of doing what they thought was right, not only to advance a policy for this Nation, but to make sure that anything that came out of our committee lived up to the highest standards of the Ways and Means Committee and was drafted properly, and there was no misunderstanding of the intentions of what we were trying to do.

Many times that was difficult to be done, and I just want to congratulate Mr. THOMAS for carrying out that awesome responsibility as Chair of the Ways and Means Committee. I can tell you that I have enjoyed every moment in this body, even those difficult evenings. This is truly a unique opportunity, to be given the opportunity to serve in this great body.

Once again, I want to thank the courtesies that I have received from each of the Members, and, again, thank the people from Maryland for giving me this opportunity.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I might consume.

Mr. Speaker, at this time I do rise in very strong support of H.R. 6406, which is a shining example of how international trade can help the world's poorest people by creating jobs in impoverished nations, also bettering the lives of Americans by reducing costs, creating export opportunities for United States business, and offering United States consumers more choices at lower prices.

Living in Florida, I am especially sensitive to the plight of the Haitian people. This legislation includes the Haitian Hemispheric Opportunity through Partnership Encouragement, also known as the HOPE Act, which is aimed at helping our desperately poor neighbors. This is an act that was created in a bipartisan way with many Members on each side of the aisle participating, and I was very, very pleased to be a part of that.

This HOPE Act contains modest provisions to allow Haiti's struggling apparel sector to create jobs and to better integrate the United States and other hemispheric textile industries, such as in Central America. This legislation is critical to help Haiti build an economy to sustain its very young and very fragile democracy and give the Haitian people hope and purpose to cease conflict and embrace a better tomorrow.

In this way, the benefits included in the HOPE Act could have a tangible and meaningful impact on the people of Haiti, but would have a very minimal, even, I might say, trivial impact on the United States markets.

For example, Haiti's benefit in the first year capped at 1 percent of the United States apparel imports, 1 percent of the imports, a level less than the current 1 percent of the current apparel imports from Haiti. I think one thing is abundantly clear, and we can see it all over the globe, whether you look in Haiti. You cannot sustain a democracy without an economy. That is black letter law as far as I am concerned. In order for this democracy to flourish, it is going to be absolutely necessary that we do help them as best we can to build their economy.

I also draw the Members' attention to the short-term extension of unilateral trade benefits for Peru, Colombia, Ecuador, yes, and even Bolivia. The United States signed bilateral trade promotion agreements with Peru and Colombia, and I would greatly prefer that we were approving these bilateral agreements today rather than simply extending the current benefits. But the administration did not submit the implementing packages for these agreements for congressional consideration before the preferences expired, so we must ensure that our allies are not harmed economically while the Congress completes its process, and, hopefully, this will be early next year.

This bill provides a seamless tradition for extending the trade preferences for 6 months, yet it maintains an incentive for everyone to quickly approve and implement the trade agreements by providing an additional 6 months of benefits only if the legislatures here and there approve their respective agreements. This approach also encourages Ecuador and Bolivia to follow the lead of Peru and Colombia to include comprehensive and commercially meaningful trade promotion agreements within that year.

I certainly support this bill, and if I may, as a point of personal privilege, want to thank all that I have had the privilege of working with throughout so many years on the Ways and Means Committee. It has been an honor, not only to serve in this body, but particularly to serve on this particular committee.

The gentleman from Maryland and I have been close friends for many, many years, as I have with soon-to-be Chairman RANGEL on the other side of the aisle. We have had our differences here on the floor, but never off of the floor, and it has been a tremendous, tremendous opportunity for me to be able to work. And also to watch the skilful work of Chairman THOMAS. Sometimes he gets a little prickly and a little hard to work with, but he always ends up doing the right thing, and it has been a privilege to serve with him too.

This will be the last time that I will be able to appear on this floor, but thank you for the great opportunity to serve the people of the 22nd Congressional District of Florida and the people of the United States of America, the greatest country on the face of this Earth.

Mr. Speaker, I yield the balance of my time to the gentleman from California, Chairman THOMAS.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, unaccustomedly, the gentleman from Florida has handled the substance of the bill, so I am not going to talk about the substance, which means I normally don't have very much to talk about if I don't talk about the substance.

This is kind of unique, because normally at the end of a session and at the end of a committee's legislative responsibilities, one or two people may be retiring, but, frankly, six members of the Ways and Means Committee will not be in the 110th Congress. Some have left willingly, some unwillingly. Here we are with three of us at the end of this particular bill, which will be the last legislative responsibility of the committee.

I, too, I want to thank the gentleman from Maryland. Based upon my knowing him and the extremely difficult position he found himself in, moving over to the Senate, if anyone is walking close to him, I wouldn't be surprised to hear him humming, "free at last, free at last." He is going to be able to go over and completely exercise his legislative beliefs and structure. I know how difficult it has been for him in this constraint, because he has been, in words that I think are significant compliments, a legislator, as best he could be in the environment. I look forward to watching him continue his career over in the Senate.

My colleague from Florida, who became the chairman of the Trade Subcommittee, I was on the Trade Subcommittee for a long time but I was never chair, so I envied him in that role, has a number of opportunities in front of him.

It is always customary to thank those people that everyone sees, obviously Angela Ellard, chief counsel on the Trade Subcommittee, and Alex Brill, chief counsel for the committee. But I want to just take a minute, because people don't realize that there are a lot of people who even a lot of the Members never see, who are absolutely essential to make this place work.

One of them is in Leg Counsel. His name is Ed Grossman. He has made it possible for this committee to work, year after year after year. Ed Grossman told his wife-to-be that they would have their honeymoon after he finished a Ways and Means bill, and she still married him.

Tom Barthold over at the Joint Committee on Taxation, Reggie Greene, who helps the Ways and Means Committee work, and a long list of others. I just want to indicate that the people who are in front of the cameras and who do the talking could not do the job without all those people that you can't see.

So, it comes to a point now where I say this willingly, but I do say it with mixed emotions:

Mr. Speaker, I relinquish my time, forever.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. BOEHNER). On this rollcall, 373 Members have recorded their presence by electronic device, a quorum.

Under the rule, further proceedings under the call are dispensed with.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and to include extraneous material on the subject of the bill presently under consideration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Florida?

There was no objection.

TRADE LAWS MODIFICATION

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, it is now my privilege to yield the balance of my time to the Speaker of the House, the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. HASTERT).

The SPEAKER. I thank the gentleman from Florida.

Mr. Speaker, later tonight I expect that this House will adjourn sine die. This is the last day that we will be together on this floor during my Speakership, and so with your indulgence I
