IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

JULY 29, 2008

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN (for herself, Mr. TANCREDO, Ms. BERKLEY, Mr. BURTON of Indiana, Mr. PENCE, and Mr. MCCOTTER) introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs

A BILL

To require the Secretary of State, in consultation with the Secretary of Defense, to provide detailed briefings to Congress on any recent discussions conducted between United States Government and the Government of Taiwan and any potential transfer of defense articles or defense services to the Government of Taiwan.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. FINDINGS.

4 Congress finds the following:

1 (1) Relations between the United States and
2 Taiwan are governed by the Taiwan Relations Act
3 (22 U.S.C. 3301 et seq.; Public Law 96–8), three 4 joint communiques, and the Six Assurances.

5 (2) The Taiwan Relations Act has governed
6 United States arms sales to Taiwan since 1979,
7 when the United States extended diplomatic recogni-
8 tion to the People’s Republic of China.

9 (3) The Taiwan Relations Act specifies that it
10 is United States policy, among other things, to con-
11 sider any nonpeaceful means to determine Taiwan’s 12 future “a threat” to the peace and security of the 13 Western Pacific and of “grave concern” to the 14 United States, “to provide Taiwan with arms of a 15 defensive character”, and “to maintain the capacity 16 of the United States to resist any resort to force or 17 other forms of coercion” jeopardizing the security or 18 social or economic system of Taiwan’s people.

19 (4) Section 3(a) of the Taiwan Relations Act 20 states that “the United States will make available to 21 Taiwan such defense articles and defense services in 22 such quantity as may be necessary to enable Taiwan
23 to maintain a sufficient self-defense capability”.

24 (5) Section 3(b) of the Taiwan Relations Act
25 stipulates that both the President and the Congress

1 shall determine the nature and quantity of such de-2 fense articles and services “based solely” upon their 3 judgment of the needs of Taiwan.

4 (6) Taiwan has recently reversed a downward
5 trend in defense spending with a $2.2 billion in-6 crease in 2007 to $9.8 billion and the Defense Min-
7 istry has requested and the Executive Yuan ap-
8 proved a 2008 budget of $10.6 billion, an increase
9 of 15 percent.

10 (7) According to the Congressional Research
11 Service, the executive branch has yet to send any 12 arms transfer notifications to Congress during cal-
13 endar year 2008, including notifications on at least 14 seven pending arms sales programs with a total
15 value of about $11 billion that encompass programs
16 on a submarine design, Patriot PAC-3 missile de-
17 fense systems, and Apache and Blackhawk heli-18 copters.

19 (8) Taiwanese President Ma Ying-jeou stated
20 on July 12, 2008, that the island needs to secure de-
21 fensive weapons from the United States, despite a
22 warming of relations with mainland China.

23 (9) On July 16, 2008, Admiral Timothy
24 Keating, Commander of the Hawaii-based United 25 States Pacific Command, acknowledged that the ex-

1 executive branch had imposed a “freeze” on arms sales
2 to Taiwan, a decision that is in contradiction to 3 longstanding United States law and policy.

4 SEC. 2. MANDATORY CONGRESSIONAL BRIEFINGS.

6 date of enactment of this Act, and not later than 120 days
