The revised edition of the Rules and Manual of the House of Representatives for the 107th Congress (House Document No. 106–320) provides the following concerning the Committee on Agriculture:¹

“This Committee was established in 1820 (IV, 4149). In 1880 the subject of forestry was added to its jurisdiction, and the Committee was conferred authority to receive estimates of and to report appropriations (IV, 4149). However, on July 1, 1920, authority to report appropriations for the U.S. Department of Agriculture was transferred to the Committee on Appropriations (VII, 1860).

The basic form of the present jurisdictional statement was made effective January 2, 1947, as a part of the Legislative Reorganization Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 812). Subparagraph (7) was altered by the 93d Congress, effective January 3, 1975, to include jurisdiction over agricultural commodities (including the Commodity Credit Corporation) while transferring jurisdiction over foreign distribution and nondomestic production of commodities to the Committee on International Relations (H. Res. 988, 93d Cong., Oct. 8, 1974, p. 34470). Nevertheless, the Committee has retained a limited jurisdiction over measures to release CCC stocks for such foreign distribution (Sept. 14, 1989, p. 20428). Previously unstated jurisdictions over commodities exchanges and rural development were codified effective January 3, 1975.

The 104th Congress consolidated the Committee’s jurisdiction over inspection of livestock and meat products to include inspection of poultry, seafood, and seafood products, and added subparagraph (20) relating to water conservation (sec. 202(a), H. Res. 6, Jan. 4, 1995, p. 464). Clerical and stylistic changes were effected when the House recodified its rules in the 106th Congress (H. Res. 5, Jan. 6, 1999, p. 47).

The Committee has had jurisdiction of bills for establishing and regulating the Department of Agriculture (IV, 4150), for inspection of livestock and meat products, regulation of animal industry, diseases of animals (IV, 4154; VII, 1862), adulteration of seeds, insect pests, protection of birds and animals in forest reserves (IV, 4157; VII, 1870), the improvement of the breed of horses, even with the cavalry service in view (IV, 4158; VII, 1865), and in addition to the Committee on Energy and Commerce, amending Horse Protection Act to prevent the shipping, transporting, moving, delivering, or receiving of horses to be slaughtered for human consumption (July 13, 2006, p.).

The Committee, having charge of the general subject of forestry, has reported bills relating to timber, and forest reserves other than those created from the public domain (IV, 4160). The Committee on Natural Resources, and not this committee, has jurisdiction over a bill to convey land that is part of a National Forest created from the public domain (March 23, 2004, p.). It has also exercised jurisdiction of bills relating to agricultural colleges and experiment stations (IV, 4152), incorporation of agricultural societies (IV, 4159), and establishment of a highway commission (IV, 4153), to discourage fictitious and gambling transactions in farm products (IV, 4161; VII, 1861), to regulate the transportation, sale and handling of dogs and cats intended for use in research and the licensing of animal research facilities (July 29, 1965, p. 18691); and to designate an agricultural research center (May 14, 1995, p. 11070). The Committee shares with the Committee on the Judiciary jurisdiction over a bill comprehensively amending the Immigration and Nationality Act and including food stamp eligibility requirements for aliens (Sept. 19, 1995, p. 25533).

The House referred the President's message dealing with the refinancing of farm-mortgage indebtedness to the Committee, thus conferring jurisdiction (April 4, 1933, p. 1209).

The Committee has jurisdiction over a bill relating solely to executive level position in the Department of Agriculture (Mar. 2, 1976, p. 4958) and has jurisdiction over bills to develop land and water conservation programs on private and non-Federal lands (June 7, 1976, p. 16768)."

II. COMMITTEE ACTIVITIES DURING THE 110TH CONGRESS

A. MAIN LEGISLATIVE ACTIVITIES

The Committee on Agriculture reported or otherwise considered a variety of bills in the 110th Congress covering many of the diverse areas within its jurisdictional interests.

Some of the major activities of the committee during the 110th Congress included the following:

An Ambitious Agenda for the House Agriculture Committee

- The Agriculture Committee approached its business in an open, transparent approach and maintained the strong bipartisan tradition of the Committee.
- The House Agriculture Committee successfully drafted and passed a bipartisan, forward-looking Farm Bill that makes historic new investments in food, farm, energy, and conservation programs.
- The process of writing the House version of the Farm Bill was done in public with input from all perspectives. Each of the Committee's six subcommittees held open, public hearings and markups on every title of the Farm Bill before the full Committee approved it with strong bipartisan support.
- The Agriculture Committee held 15 full committee hearings and 11 business meetings during the 110th Congress. Various subcommittees held 37 hearings and 6 business meetings during the 110th Congress.
- The Committee heard testimony from Administration officials on 56 occasions, including 32 testimonies from U.S. Department of Agriculture representatives, 6 from the Commodities Futures Trading Commission, and 4 from the U.S. Food and Drug Administration. Additional testimony heard by the Committee was offered by university researchers, non-profit organizations, trade groups, and farmers and ranchers from across the United States.

The Food, Conservation and Energy Act of 2008

- The Food, Conservation and Energy Act, also known as the Farm Bill, extends and modernizes the basic farm program safety net that protects farmers when crop prices are low. This safety net provides the security our farmers need to stay on the land, producing the safest, most abundant food supply in the world.
- The Farm Bill invests more than $188 billion over five years in nutrition programs to help more than 38 million Americans afford healthy meals and to update the Food Stamp program to reflect the economic reality working families face.
- The Farm Bill provides more than $24 billion in conservation program spending to protect and enhance water, air, and soil quality; to prevent erosion; and to conserve natural resources.
- The Farm Bill makes a substantial new investment of $1.3 billion for programs to promote the production and consumption of fruits and vegetables. This is the first farm bill that directs substantial resources particularly to address the needs of fruit and vegetable producers.
- The Farm Bill provides $1.1 billion for renewable energy programs, particularly programs related to the development of advanced biofuels, which use non-food sources to make ethanol.
- The Farm Bill included significant reforms, reducing payment limits for farm and conservation programs (including an 80% reduction for farm programs), closing business structure loopholes to prevent people from receiving multiple payments, and increasing transparency by requiring farm program payments to be linked directly to the person receiving them.
- The Farm Bill implements the long-delayed Country-of-Origin labeling program that provides consumers with important information about the origin of the meat and produce they purchase.

Nutrition Programs

- The Subcommittee on Department Operations, Oversight, Nutrition and Forestry held two hearings on the importance of federal nutrition program efforts during the 110th Congress; one hearing to review the impact of the federal food stamp program on children's health and one to explore the short and long-term costs of hunger in America.

- The Farm Bill improves benefit rules for the Food Stamp Program to adequately cover food expenses and sustain families in need for the entire month and ensure that benefits will always keep up with inflation. It also expands funding for The Emergency Food Assistance Program (TEFAP), which provides food and other resources to help stock food banks. The Farm Bill also expands to all 50 states the USDA Snack Program, which helps schools provide healthy snacks to students during after-school activities and expands the program.

Oversight of the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Commodities Futures Trading Commission

- During the 110th Congress, the Agriculture Committee held 5 oversight hearings to review concerns related to commodity and energy markets and credit derivative trading. These hearings were held both before and after the recent credit and financial crisis that highlighted the role of credit derivatives.

- In addition to oversight hearings on commodity and energy markets, the Committee held three hearings on reauthorization of the Commodities Futures Trading Commission and the Commodities Exchange Act.

- In May 2007, the Committee investigated the USDA's use and release of Social Security numbers of more than 38,000 USDA farm program participants.

Renewable Energy

- The Committee has made the transition to the next generation of ethanol and biofuels a top priority, holding hearings on the renewable energy financing, the transition to environmentally-beneficial cellulosic feedstocks, and about the continued research into the use of ethanol by-products in livestock feed.

- The Farm Bill provides $1.1 billion for renewable energy programs, particularly programs related to the development of cellulosic bio-fuels, which use non-food sources to make ethanol. It also reduces the tax credit for corn-based ethanol and increases the incentive for ethanol made from non-food sources.

- The Committee passed H. Con. Res. 25, which expresses the sense of Congress that by the year 2025, America's agricultural, forestry, and working lands should provide at least 25 percent of the total energy consumed in the United States through renewable sources.

- In 2007 and 2008, the Subcommittee on Conservation, Credit, Energy and Research held hearings on the implementation and producer eligibility for the Renewable Fuels Standard and financing for renewable energy projects and companies.

- In December 2007, Congress passed a comprehensive energy bill, the Energy Independence and Security Act that included a strong Renewable Fuel Standard (RFS).

Conserving our Natural Resources

- The Farm Bill includes $24 billion over 5 years for conservation programs to protect and enhance water, air, and soil quality; to prevent erosion; and to conserve natural resources.
- The bill provides crucial funding for the rehabilitation of the Chesapeake Bay and other threatened resources, preservation of open space through the Farm and Ranchland Protection Program, and the Wetlands Reserve Program and other programs that improve water quality in targeted regions.

Preserving the Farm Safety Net

- The Farm Bill extends and modernizes the basic farm program safety net that protects farmers when crop prices are very low.
- The Subcommittee on General Farm Commodities and Risk Management held three hearings in 2007 on the Federal Crop Insurance Program to look at concerns with industry, some of which were addressed in the Farm Bill.
- The Farm Bill included a new safety net option, the Average Crop Revenue Election (ACRE) program. Farmers who choose to participate in this new program instead of the traditional farm safety net programs will receive payments for eligible crops based on the average revenue received from a crop rather than the average price for that crop.

Organic Agriculture and Fruit and Vegetable Production

- At the beginning of the 110th Congress, Chairman Peterson created a new Subcommittee specifically designed to address the needs of horticulture and organic agriculture. Under the leadership of Subcommittee Chairman Dennis Cardoza, the Subcommittee held hearings and included Farm Bill provisions on issues of importance to this growing segment of the agriculture industry.
- The Subcommittee on Horticulture and Organic Agriculture held the first Agriculture Committee hearing dedicated specifically to the needs, concerns and issues of importance to organic agriculture producers, processors and marketers. Organic agriculture is a $14 billion per year industry that is growing exponentially.
- The Subcommittee held the first Congressional hearings to focus exclusively on the honey bee industry and their vital role as pollinators to the nation's food supply. The two hearings focused on Colony Collapse Disorder, an epidemic that is killing honey bees at a rapid rate nationwide and the U.S. Department of Agriculture's efforts to address the situation.
- During two hearings in 2007 and 2008, the Subcommittee looked at food safety concerns and traceability in fresh produce. The Subcommittee also focused on the performance of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service and the U.S. Department of Homeland Security Customs and Border Protection to protect U.S. agriculture from foreign pests and diseases.
- The Farm Bill provides new annual funding for USDA's cost-share program, which defrays the costs that producers and handlers incur when seeking organic certification and new annual funding for organic marketing data collection and publication.

Helping Agriculture Recover From Weather-Related Disasters

- Congress provided disaster assistance needed by farmers who experienced serious losses due to weather related disasters in 2005–2007.
- The Farm Bill included a permanent disaster assistance program that farmers and ranchers can count on when weather-related disasters hurt damage their operations. The permanent disaster program is paid for in advance to avoid emergency spending for future agriculture disasters that would otherwise add billions to the deficit.
- In October 2007, the Committee held a hearing to review agriculture disaster conditions, including droughts, floods, fires and other conditions across the country and the impact on agriculture communities facing these conditions.

Meeting the Credit, Infrastructure and Resource Needs of Rural Communities

- The Committee has made improving the economic health of rural America a top priority by holding hearings on access to health care and credit in rural America, the effectiveness of USDA Rural Development programs, improving access to broadband telecommunications services in underserved rural areas.
- The Farm Bill included programs and funding that make critical investments in the infrastructure, technology, water, emergency services, telecommunications and small business needs of rural communities nationwide.

Food Safety and Animal Health

- Two Subcommittees conducted hearings on food safety: the Subcommittee on Livestock, Dairy and Poultry held a hearing on recalls in the meat industry; and the Subcommittee on Horticulture and Organic Agriculture held a hearing on the produce industry's response to recent foodborne illness outbreaks associated with fresh and fresh-cut produce.
- In September 2008, the Subcommittee on Livestock, Dairy and Poultry held a hearing to review advances in animal health, particularly the use of antimicrobials in the livestock industry.
- In February 2008, the Subcommittee on Livestock, Dairy and Poultry held a hearing to find out why the U.S. Department of Agriculture has not implemented the National Veterinary Medical Service Act. The Act was signed into law in order to establish a student loan repayment program for veterinary students who agree to work in areas with limited or no access to veterinary care.
- In May 2007, the Committee investigated the response of the Department of Agriculture and the U.S. Food and Drug Administration to melamine-tainted imports from China that were used in pet food and animal feed.
- In May 2007, the Subcommittee on Livestock, Dairy and Poultry held the Committee's first hearing since 2000 that was dedicated to discussing various perspectives on animal welfare issues.

Livestock Industry

- In February 2008, the Subcommittee on Livestock, Dairy and Poultry held a hearing to review the Federal Milk Marketing Order rulemaking procedures. After hearing testimony about concerns with the current process, the Farm Bill revised the Federal Milk Marketing Order amendment procedures to increase efficiency and be more responsive to the market.

- In March and April 2007, the Subcommittee on Livestock, Dairy and Poultry held hearings on the market structure of the livestock industry and the impact of feed costs on the industry.

- The 2008 Farm Bill contains a new livestock title, which includes a program that allows selected establishments in State meat or poultry inspection programs to receive Federal inspection from State inspectors, and ship products in interstate commerce if they meet Federal inspection requirements.

Forestry

- The Committee held a hearing on H.R. 1011, the Virginia Ridge and Valley Act of 2007, which would require USDA to develop management plans and ecological restoration requirements for designated areas of the forests. The bill passed the House in October 2007, but the Senate did not act on the bill.

- The Farm Bill sets new national private forest conservation priorities, directs states to conduct assessments of current forest resources, and requires states to develop a long-term strategy for forest resource management

Public Law 110–246 (H.R. 6124)

To provide for the continuation of agricultural and other programs of the Department of Agriculture through fiscal years 2012, and for other purposes.

Title I—Commodity Programs:

- Maintains programs authorized in the 2002 Farm Bill with changes.
- Preserves the non-recourse marketing loan program, a fundamental piece of the farm safety net.
- Continues the price-based counter-cyclical program, which provides assistance when prices decline.
- Offers producers the option of enrolling in a new revenue-based counter-cyclical program.
- Creates the new Average Crop Revenue Election (ACRE) program beginning in crop year 2009. ACRE is a State-based revenue guarantee for participants based on the 5-year State average yield and the 2-year national average price. ACRE provides producers with payments for a commodity when the actual State revenue for the commodity is less than the revenue guarantee.

Program Reforms:

- Reforms program eligibility criteria and strengthens payment limitations.
- Imposes a cap on average adjusted gross income (AGI) for eligibility to receive farm program payments: puts a hard cap on non-farm income at $500,000; and applies a cap on farm income at $750,000, after which a producer will no longer be eligible for direct payments.
- Establishes the total payment cap for direct and counter-cyclical payments for a single farmer to $40,000 and $65,000 respectively.
- Creates a total payment cap for ACRE participants of $32,000 for direct payments and $73,000 for counter-cyclical payments.

- Suspends payments for farms with an aggregate base of 10 acres or fewer (except for socially disadvantaged and limited resource producers).
- Rebalances farm programs to improve equity among commodities and reflect changes in the marketplace.
 - Increases target prices for wheat, sorghum, barley, oats, and soybeans which increases producers' opportunity to receive counter-cyclical payments when prices are low, but makes no payments when prices are high.
 - Rebalances loan rates on wheat, barley, oats, oilseeds, graded wool and honey, enhancing the basic safety net for these commodities.

Sugar:

- Modifies and extends the current sugar program, preserving American jobs.
- Raises the loan rate for sugar a quarter cent a year for three years (to 18.75 cents for cane sugar and 24 cents for beet sugar) and changes overall allotment quota to be a minimum of 85% of domestic consumption.
- Continues the marketing allotment program, while ensuring that domestic sugar cane and beet producers provide most of the sugar demanded by U.S. consumers.

Dairy:

- Extends the Milk Income Loss Contract Program until 2012.
- Supports the price of cheddar cheese, butter, and nonfat dry milk by government purchase of such products.
- Reestablishes the Dairy Forward Pricing Program, which allows dairy farmers to voluntarily enter into forward contracts with milk handlers.
- Amends the Federal Milk Marketing Order System to increase efficiency and be more responsive to the market.
- Extends the Dairy Export Incentive Program (DEIP).

Title II—Conservation:

- Increases total spending on conservation programs by $7.9 billion.
- Extends the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP); authorizes 32 million acres to be enrolled in the program from 2010–2012; includes a new provision to allow retired landowners participating in CRP to modify their contracts if the land is being transferred to a beginning, limited resource, or socially disadvantaged farmer or rancher.
- Expands the Wetlands Reserve Program (WRP); provides funding to reestablish a baseline of $1.3 billion and extends the program through 2012; increases the maximum enrollment to 3,041,200 acres; and creates a Wetlands Reserve Enhancement Program.
- Increases funding for the Environmental Quality Incentives Program (EQIP) by $3.4 billion; makes EQIP conservation practices related to organic certification and transition eligible for payments; improves the evaluation process for applications; establishes the Agricultural Water Enhancement Program (AWEP) to help producers achieve water quality goals and address water quantity concerns.

- Prohibits USDA from entering into Conservation Security Program contracts after September 30, 2008, but requires that existing Conservation Security Program contracts as of that date continue to apply.

- Establishes the Conservation Stewardship Program (CSP) to encourage producers to address resource concerns on the land in a comprehensive manner; requires nearly 13 million acres to be enrolled annually; includes private forests as eligible lands; and emphasizes attainment of new conservation benefits.

- Provides $438 million in new funding to protect and restore the Chesapeake Bay Region, and helps farmers and ranchers meet regulatory requirements and better contribute to the success of the Bay restoration.

- Extends the Farm Protection Program and increases funding to $773 million; and establishes a more user-friendly certification process that will determine eligibility for program funds.

- Expands the Grassland Reserve Program by adding an additional 1.22 million acres to the program; allows for short term contracts and easements, and for cooperative agreements.

- Creates an Open Fields Program to provide incentives to State governments and Indian tribes to provide public access to private land for hunting and fishing. Provides $50 million in funding for 2009 through 2012.

H. Con. Res. 25, 25x25—expressing the sense of Congress that it is the goal of the United States that, not later than January 1, 2025, the agricultural, forestry, and working land of the United States should provide from renewable resources not less than 25 percent of the total energy consumed in the United States and continue to produce safe, abundant, and affordable food, feed, and fiber.

H. Con. Res. 25 was introduced by Chairman Collin Peterson on January 10, 2007 and referred to the Committee on Agriculture, and in addition to the Committees on Energy and Commerce, and Natural Resources. It also recognizes that sources of renewable energy exist in every one of the 50 states. The resolution envisions setting a national goal, a vision of where the United States wants to go to ensure a sustainable, secure energy future for ourselves and for future generations.

Subtitle B: Amendments to Federal Oil and Gas Royalty Management Act of 1982 repeals the requirement that the federal government pay interest on royalty overpayments made by operators.

Obligates any lessee that makes a royalty adjustment resulting in an underpayment to repay that amount (plus interest) from the date the adjustment is made (thus extending the statute of limitations on that royalty payment).

Allows the Secretary to correspond only with a lease designee in the case of subpoenas or agreements to pause the statute of limitations. (Currently, the Secretary must contact in writing each lessee individually (that has designated that designee).)

Subjects to liability for royalty payments a designee who pays the royalty obligation on behalf the lessee.

Subtitle C: Public Interest in the Federal Energy Program requires the operator and surface owners to file a signed document with the Secretary that the operator has secured a written surface use agreement with the surface estate owner as a prerequisite to exploration and drilling operations on lands with federal title to oil and gas resources, but not federal ownership of the surface estate. On that same date all the other Committees were discharged with no further action taking place.

Title I of the Carbon-Neutral Government Act requires federal agencies, annually, to inventory and report their greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions. Requires each inventory and report to indicate as discrete categories: (1) any direct emission of GHG as a result of an agency's activity; and (2) the quantity of indirect GHG emissions attributable to the generation of electricity used by the agency and commercial air travel by agency personnel; and (3) the quantity of GHG emissions associated with the work performed for the agency by federal contractors, comprising direct and indirect emissions associated with electricity used by, and commercial air travel by, such contractors. Requires the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to issue guidance and provide assistance to agencies regarding such inventories. Requires such guidance to establish inventory and reporting procedures that are at least as rigorous as the EPA's Climate Leaders program's inventory procedures and to define the scope of the inventories of direct emissions to be consistent with the obligation for reporting inventories under the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change. Requires each agency to submit to the Administrator and make publicly available an initial inventory of the agency's GHG emissions for the proceeding year. Directs the Administrator to review and certify or decline to certify the inventory within six months. Requires an agency to submit to a revised inventory within six months after the Administrator declines to certify an inventory.

Requires the Secretaries of the Interior and Agriculture to include as a discrete category in any such inventory any emission or biological sequestration of GHG associated with land managed by the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) or the Forest Service. Declares that such emissions and biological sequestration of GHG shall not be considered for the purposes of setting or measuring progress toward emission reduction targets.

Requires the Administrator to promulgate annual reduction targets for federal government GHG emissions for FY2010–FY2050. Requires the targets to be calculated so as to: (1) prevent the total quantity of GHG emissions of all agencies in FY2011 and each subsequent year from exceeding the total quantity of such emissions in FY2010; and (2) reduce such GHG emissions as rapidly as possible, but at a minimum by a quantity equal to 2% of projected FY2010 emissions each fiscal year, so as to achieve zero net annual federal GHG emissions by FY2050.

Requires agencies to develop plans to achieve such targets through FY2020. Requires agencies to develop, submit to the Administrator, and make publicly available updated plans for achieving such targets for the 10-year period beginning in 2021 and each subsequent 10-year period. Directs the Administrator, if a national, mandatory, economy-wide cap-and-trade program for GHGs has not been enacted by FY2010, to submit to Congress by 2011 a proposal to allow agencies to meet their targets in part through emission offsets beginning in FY2015. Declares that the Administrator shall implement the proposal if Congress has not enacted it by 2012.

Requires the Forest Service, BLM, the National Park Service, and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service to: (1) identify management strategies with the greatest potential to enhance net biological sequestration of GHGs on federal lands they manage while avoiding harmful effects on other environmental values and to reduce negative impacts of global warming on biodiversity, water supplies, forest health, biological sequestration and storage; (2) implement programs on selected land management units in different parts of the nation to test the strategies identified as having the greatest potential to achieve the described benefits; and (3) report to Congress on the results of the studies and the strategies identified.

Requires the Forest Service to study the opportunities of urban and wildland-urban interface forestry programs to enhance net biological sequestration of GHGs. Requires agencies to report to the Administrator and make publicly available annual reports on implementation of plans for managing emissions. Requires the Administrator to annually report to Congress on the federal government's progress toward carbon neutrality.

Requires the Comptroller General to issue the report requested by Congress on May 17, 2007, regarding markets for GHG emissions offsets. Authorizes a pilot project under which agencies and legislative branch offices may purchase GHG offsets and renewable energy certificates. Requires the Administrator to issue guidelines for agencies establishing criteria for qualified GHG offsets and qualified renewable energy certificates. Requires such guidelines to take into account the findings and recommendations of the report by the Comptroller General and to establish: (1) performance standards for GHG offset projects that benchmark reliably expected GHG reductions from identified categories of projects that reduce GHG emissions or sequester carbon; and (2) criteria for qualified renewable energy certificates to ensure that energy generated is renewable. Requires the Comptroller General to report to Congress on an evaluation of the pilot program and recommendations for improvement. Limits the amount of discretionary funds used for the pilot program to no more than .01% of such amount. Terminates the program at the end of FY 2010.

Requires the Administrator to: (1) annually issue guidance identifying the makes and model numbers of low GHG emitting vehicles; and (2) take into account the most stringent standards for vehicle GHG emissions applicable to and enforceable against manufacturers for vehicles sold in the United States. Prohibits the Administrator from identifying as a low GHG emitting vehicle any vehicle that emits GHGs at a higher rate than such standards allow for the manufacturer's fleet average grams per mile of carbon dioxide-equivalent emissions for that class of vehicle, taking into account any emissions allowances and adjustment factors such standards provide.

Amends the National Energy Conservation Policy Act to require agencies, with respect to each of their federal buildings with greater than 40,000 square feet of space or greater than $75,000 per year in energy costs, to: (1) benchmark, annually, the energy efficiency performance of certain federal buildings using the Energy Star Portfolio Manager Buildings Benchmark Tool and rate performance; (2) use the benchmark performance, rating, and annual energy costs to evaluate improving the building's energy efficiency performance and reducing costs; and (3) post benchmark information on their websites.

Requires federal agencies to recommission or retrocommission, and conduct diagnostic energy audits, with respect to 20% of such buildings annually. Requires agencies to ensure that any large capital energy investment in an existing building that is not a major renovation but that involves replacement of installed equipment or renovation, rehabilitation, expansion, or remodeling of existing space employs the most energy efficient designs, systems, equipment, and controls that are life-cycle cost effective.

Requires agencies to provide for metering of natural gas, steam, chilled water, and water in federal buildings.

Prohibits agencies from entering into contracts: (1) to lease space in buildings that have not earned the Energy Star label in the most recent year; or (2) for the procurement of an alternative or synthetic fuel for mobility-related uses, other than for research or testing, unless the associated lifecycle GHG emissions will be less than or equal to emissions from fuel from conventional petroleum sources. Allows agencies to enter into contracts to lease space in buildings that have not earned the Energy Star label if: (1) no space is available in such buildings that meets an agency's functional requirements; or (2) the agency is proposing to remain in a building that the agency has occupied previously; and (3) the lease contract includes provisions requiring the space's renovation for all energy efficiency improvements that would be cost effective over a five-year period or the life of the lease, whichever is greater.

Limits a contract for public utilities of renewable energy to not more than 20 years.

D. OVERSIGHT

The Committee on Agriculture and its Subcommittees were active in their oversight functions, holding a number of oversight hearings during the course of the 110th Congress. The hearings related to the application, administration, and effectiveness of laws that lie within the Committee’s jurisdiction as well as the organization and operation of the Department of Agriculture and other federal agencies having responsibility for the administration of such laws. The hearings often resulted in recommendations for improvements in the administration of the laws, regulations and policies in effect in the Executive Branch as they related to the Committee’s jurisdiction. Information gathered at these hearings was useful in preparing legislation for consideration in the House of Representatives.

As part of its hearings, the Committee and its Subcommittees reviewed the way the particular federal agency or department (usually the Department of Agriculture) administered existing laws related to the subject matter of the legislation before, or to be considered by, the Committee. In some cases, legislation favorably reported to the House carries a termination date (a “sunset”) to ensure that in the future Congress will again review the effectiveness and the methods with which the Executive Branch of Government has carried out the letter and the spirit of that statute.

In keeping with the objective of the Oversight Plan as submitted to the Committee on Oversight and Government Reform and House Administration, the Committee and its subcommittees conducted the following chronological oversight hearings during the 110th Congress (Note: To see a copy of the Oversight Plan as submitted, see “I. Summary of Organization, Jurisdiction, and Oversight Plan of the Committee on Agriculture”):
