

111TH CONGRESS
2^D SESSION

H. R. 6305

To require financial institutions to offer services to protect seniors from affinity scams, to report suspected affinity scams, and for other purposes.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

SEPTEMBER 29, 2010

Mr. BACA introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on Financial Services, and in addition to the Committee on Ways and Means, for a period to be subsequently determined by the Speaker, in each case for consideration of such provisions as fall within the jurisdiction of the committee concerned

A BILL

To require financial institutions to offer services to protect seniors from affinity scams, to report suspected affinity scams, and for other purposes.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the “Preventing Affinity
5 Scams for Seniors Act of 2010” or the “PASS Act of 6 2010”.

7 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

8 The Congress finds the following:

1 (1) Financial exploitation of the elderly is be-
2 coming an increasingly familiar problem. Regular re-
3 view of news headlines reveals that elders and vul-
4 nerable adults are victimized routinely by frauds and 5 scams at the hands of strangers as well as loved 6 ones.

7 (2) Older individuals may be targeted merely 8 because they possess more assets, such as savings, 9 annuities, and retirement accounts, stocks and 10 bonds, insurance policies, and property than younger
11 people. People over 50 years of age control at least 12 70 percent of the net worth of the nation's house-
13 holds.

14 (3) Those elders with cognitive impairments,
15 mental health conditions, or physical disabilities may 16 be dependent upon others (family members, friends,
17 formal and informal caregivers, or court-appointed 18 representatives) for assistance in making financial 19 decisions or carrying out daily transactions, and 20 therefore may be even more vulnerable to theft, ex-
21 ploitation, or undue influence.

22 (4) Affinity scams on seniors involve trans-
23 actions in which a person trusted by the senior uses
24 the relationship to defraud the senior. Millions of el-25 derly are scammed each year, losing at least

1 2,600,000,000 a year to thieves, many of whom are 2 in their own families (conservative estimate given of 3 the schemes left unreported).

4 (5) Elder financial abuse is commonly linked
5 with other forms of abuse and neglect and threatens
6 the health, dignity, and economic security of millions
7 of older Americans. Elder financial abuse has re-8 ceived limited attention because it is not regarded as 9 visible, life-threatening, or newsworthy as is the 10 physical or sexual abuse of elders.

11 (6) Financial exploitation can be devastating to 12 the victim and is often traced to family members,
13 trusted friends, or caregivers. Financial abuse often 14 occurs with the implied acknowledgment and consent
15 of the elder person and can be more difficult to de-
16 tect.

17 (7) Elder financial abuse affects elders and 18 their families in significant and long-lasting ways by 19 putting enormous emotional duress on the elders, in-20 creasing their risk of depression, decreasing their 21 quality of life, and increasing unnecessary institu-
22 tionalization.

23 (8) The financial services industry is often the 24 first to detect a change in the pattern of customers
25 with whom they have regular contact. This puts in-

1 stitutions in a unique position to assist in protecting
2 customers and upholding the inherent trust relation-
3 ship with clients.

4 SEC. 3. DEFINITIONS.
