

made our life a lot easier about 1 year and a half ago. This house is a lot bigger than the one we had. I needed a house that could fit all of us. So I went from a 1,146 square foot home to a 2,000 square foot home, a lot better. But ever since the prices of gas started going up, it has put us in a bind. Right now I am now about 2 months behind on my mortgage and really do not have any way of making it up. So we have the house on the market for a short sale. Since the gas prices are rising, people are not shopping like they used to, so my wife's work is affected hence her hours are cut. I work all the way in Boise and live in Nampa. I have been at my job for 9 years now, and it seems like I am just working to get back and forth.

I really think that we should start drilling other places now. The economy is going or is already taking a big hit on everything. Since the price of gas basically controls the price of everything like food and since I have four kids, my grocery bill has [gone] up, also. Another option maybe is to have the oil companies cut the Americans a stimulus check at the end of every fiscal year. They are making a huge profit. That tells me that the price can go down a lot and they can still make a little money. Instead they want to help hurt the economy. In my eyes, they are no better than terrorists.

Thanks for taking the time to read my email and hopefully since we the people actually put you guys into these positions to help the economy and keep our country, state, city safe and running like a well-oiled machine, I really hope that something can come of this. I really believe that if gas prices run around $2.50 a gallon they can still make a profit and keep things going in our country with no problem.

JASON.

CONGRATULATING THE WARREN COUNTY PREVENTION PARTNERSHIP

• Mr. BUNNING. Mr. President, today I congratulate the members of the Warren County Prevention Partnership, an antidrug group that represented the Commonwealth of Kentucky in the 2009 inaugural parade. I was pleased to learn that such an outstanding organization represented Kentucky on the national stage.

The Warren County Prevention Partnership holds the distinct honor of representing Kentucky in three consecutive Presidential inaugurations: 2001, 2005, and 2009. The Warren County Prevention Partnership works for a drug-free America and its "Reach for Your Dreams" antidrug and antiviolence program is motivated to help America achieve that goal.

I am proud that such a superior association represented Kentucky on such a historical day in our Nation's history, and I support the organization, as well as others that strive for a drug- and violence-free country. I hope that this recognition assists the Warren County Prevention Partnership in getting its message heard by all Americans.

Again, I congratulate the members of the Warren County Prevention Partnership on their remarkable feat of representing Kentucky in the past three inaugurations. I hope that its accomplishments inspire others to work for a drug-free America.●

TRIBUTE TO MARLENE ELLIOTT BROWN

• Mr. CARPER. Mr. President, today I honor Marlene Elliott Brown, who was appointed in 2001 by former President George W. Bush as the Delaware/Maryland Director for USDA Rural Development where she oversaw housing, business, water and waste loan programs, community facilities and grant programs for my State of Delaware and neighboring Maryland.

My staff and I have had the great privilege of working with her on rural development projects including economic development, housing and the provision of critical public utilities throughout rural Delaware.

She started her remarkable career in politics in 1982 when she served as State director for my predecessor, Senator Bill Roth. While Senator Roth was known for his many accomplishments on the national level, in Delaware, he was best known for providing outstanding constituent services. No one was more responsible for building and sustaining this high level of service than Marlene. Striving to meet this standard has been one of my highest priorities as a U.S. Senator and a great challenge for my staff because Marlene set the bar so high. She truly represents the highest level of excellence in public service. More importantly, Marlene has the heart of a public servant which is a rare quality but one that is sorely needed in the world today.

First and foremost, Marlene was a proud southern Delawarean. She grew up on a family farm near Laurel, DE, graduated as valedictorian of her class at Laurel High School, and subsequently graduated from Delaware Technical and Community College and Salisbury University with a major in business administration. In addition to her public service, she has been, and remains, very active in her church and community, having served as past president of the Georgetown-Millsboro Rotary Club, former vice chairman of the Republican State Committee, a past Honorary Wing Commander at the Dover Air Force Base, a member of the Laurel Chamber of Commerce, a board member of the Delmarva Christian High School, and a member of the Delaware Tech Educational Foundation Council.

She has also received numerous awards, including Outstanding Young Women of America in 1982, Delaware Young Careerist for Delaware Business and Professional Women in 1985, and the first recipient of the William Roth Outstanding Achievement Award in 2004, just to name a few.

I have had the great pleasure of working with Marlene Elliott Brown for many years and joined her frequently to announce USDA funding for projects throughout southern Delaware. Her hard work and dedication to the betterment of rural communities has helped enrich the lives of many Delawareans. Marlene's vibrant spirit is unwavering and her fervent commitment to public service reflects the desire of an individual devoted to making a difference. She is truly a generous and caring friend who has provided inspiration to many. While representing the U.S. Department of Agriculture in Delaware and Maryland, Marlene somehow found time to help train not one but two people who have served as my county directors in Sussex County. For that, I will always be grateful.

Marlene and her husband still live on a family farm near Laurel where she grew up, and I know that her family, community and our state are very proud of her accomplishments. I want to personally thank Marlene's family for their willingness to share her with all of us. Marlene is quite simply a very good person with a great heart, and I wish her well on the next stage of her noteworthy career.●

REMEMBERING AUSTIN CUNNINGHAM

• Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. President, Orangeburg, SC, has lost one of its finest citizens with the passing of 94-year-old Austin Cunningham. Mr. Cunningham led a most distinguished life and his contributions to the people and community will be greatly missed.

During his life, Mr. Cunningham was a soldier, businessman, community leader, writer, lawyer and citizen of the year. His hometown newspaper, the Orangeburg Times and Democrat, summed up his life—Mr. Cunningham was, "the definition of a Renaissance man."

If there was a business or civic endeavor that would improve the life of his town and community, Mr. Cunningham was involved. From putting in new street lights to tackling the war on drugs on the streets of Orangeburg, Mr. Cunningham was proof that one person could make a difference.

Mr. Cunningham played an instrumental role in helping young, underprivileged, at-risk teenagers find employment and learn the value of hard work. In 1984, he was invited to the White House to meet with President Reagan who thanked him for participating in this program.

He was also a patron of the arts who supported and encouraged the choir at South Carolina State University, one of our Nation's foremost historically Black universities. The university awarded him its Distinguished Service Award in 1995.

Orangeburg, SC, has lost a fine citizen, friend, and community leader with the passing of Austin Cunningham. His life work deserves recognition on the contributions he made to his fellow citizens.

Our thoughts and prayers are with the family and citizens of Orangeburg,
