

the National Defense Authorization Act is enacted well before the Nuclear Posture Review and the President's fiscal year 2011 budget request are completed, but it will still be an opportunity to educate the Senate.

The Kyl amendment as modified also states that the Senate urges the President to maintain his position that the post-START agreement will not contain limitations on ballistic missile defense systems, space capabilities, or advanced conventional weapons systems of the United States. I am absolutely confident, based on the Obama-Medvedev statements of April 1 and July 6, 2009, that their instructions to negotiators are not to include such limitations in the agreement.

For example, there will be "a provision on the interrelationship of strategic offensive and strategic defensive arms," but "a provision" does not mean a limitation on U.S. missile defense or space capabilities. Similarly, the existing START Treaty has "a provision" regarding antiballistic missile systems but does not limit those systems.

Regarding the Senate's desire to avoid limitations on "advanced conventional weapons," I would just emphasize that the adoption of this substitute amendment is not intended to be a backdoor way to oppose limitations on strategic delivery vehicles.

In short, I believe that the Kyl substitute amendment adopted last week should do no harm and that the administration can use it to begin the process of educating the Senate on a matter we will have to address in any event. Again, I commend Senators KYL and LEVIN for reaching this result.

NOMINATION OF THOMAS A. SHANNON, JR.

Mr. GRASSLEY. Mr. President, I want to note for the record that I will object to any unanimous consent request relating to the nomination of Thomas A. Shannon Jr., to be Ambassador to Brazil. On July 28, I wrote a letter to Secretary of State Hillary Clinton and U.S. Trade Representative Ron Kirk asking for a clarification of the President's position regarding the U.S. ethanol tariff in light of Mr. Shannon's stated view on the tariff. I will continue to object to any unanimous consent request proffered with respect to Mr. Shannon's nomination until such time as the administration responds to my letter and I have an opportunity to review such response.

OIL SPILL PREVENTION ACT

Mr. LAUTENBERG. Mr. President, the managers' amendment to S. 685, the Oil Spill Prevention Act, will eliminate the authorization of appropriations from the international seafarer protection provision, reduce a bi-annual Coast Guard reporting requirement to an annual reporting requirement, and remove an annual Coast Guard reporting requirement that is no longer necessary or appropriate. These modifications to the committee-reported bill render it revenue neutral.

CONGRATULATING JOHN LECLAIR

Mr. LEAHY. Mr. President, I wish to congratulate St. Albans VT, native John LeClair for being chosen as a 2009 inductee into the U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame.

John LeClair had a remarkable amateur and professional hockey career. The first American-born player to record three consecutive 50-goal seasons in the National Hockey League, LeClair played 16 years in the NHL—with stops in Montreal, Philadelphia, and Pittsburgh—and he helped the Montreal Canadiens capture the Stanley Cup in 1993. He registered 406 goals and 413 assists for 819 points in 967 career games, which ranks him 13th on the NHL's alltime points list among American-born players. LeClair also was a 2-time Olympian, where he netted 34 career points, 22-12, 31 games in a Team USA uniform.

Most hockey fans remember LeClair for his dramatic two game-winning goals in overtime during the 1993 Stanley Cup Finals, for being a member of the dreaded "Legion of Doom" line with the Philadelphia Flyers, and for leading Team USA to a Silver Medal in the 2002 Winter Olympics.

Vermonters, though, go further back with their native son. After his high school graduation from Bellows Free Academy in St. Albans, the Montreal Canadiens drafted LeClair with the 33rd pick in the 1987 entry draft. Instead of immediately going to the NHL, LeClair chose to attend the University of Vermont, where he thrilled Catamount fans for four, exciting seasons. Less than a week after playing his final collegiate game, LeClair signed with Montreal and hit the ice with the Canadiens right away.

While LeClair quickly went on to stardom and fame in the NHL, he always enjoyed a loyal following back home. Many Vermonters are naturally Canadiens fans because Montreal is so close to Vermont, but it was amazing to see how many people converted to Flyer fans when LeClair moved to Philadelphia and Penguin fans when he moved to Pittsburgh. I remember that no matter whether it was hockey season or not, it seemed like you couldn't walk down the street in St. Albans or Burlington or Rutland without seeing someone wearing some sort of Flyers paraphernalia, which stood out because of the team's distinguishing orange and black colors.

Once again, I congratulate John LeClair on this high honor of being selected as a member of the U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame. I ask unanimous consent to have a copy of a July 29 article from the Burlington Free Press printed in the RECORD.

The material was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

75TH BIRTHDAY OF REUBEN K. HARPOLE, JR.

● Mr. KOHL. Mr. President, today I honor Reuben K. Harpole, Jr.—a man who has changed countless lives in Wisconsin through his selfless devotion to helping people.

Reuben developed an entrepreneurial spirit growing up in Milwaukee. His family worked at the family grocery store, sold their home-raised chickens in the front yard, and rented out bicycles. This work ethic went with him throughout his life. He went on to serve our Nation in Korea from 1957 to 1959. Then he came back home, earned his bachelor's degree, and began his professional life as a teacher and community activist.

With 31 years service to University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee and continued community activism, Reuben helped mold the future of Wisconsin. In the 1960s Reuben began working to direct youth away from gangs into fruitful career paths. When central Milwaukee's health services were shutting down in the 1970s, Reuben worked with local, county, and university officials to reinstate much needed assistance. He helped establish the Isaac Coggs Health Center and a coalition of neighborhood health organizations. Reuben also founded or developed the College Prep Program at Marquette University High School, the UWM Center for Urban Community Development, the
