PROCEEDINGS AND DEBATES OF THE 111th CONGRESS, SECOND SESSION

Vol. 156

WASHINGTON, TUESDAY, MARCH 23, 2010

No. 45

House of Representatives

The House met at 10:30 and was called to order by the Speaker pro tempore (Ms. MARKEY of Colorado).

DESIGNATION OF SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore laid before the House the following communication from the Speaker:

WASHINGTON, DC,
March 23, 2010.

I hereby appoint the Honorable BETSY MARKEY to act as Speaker pro tempore on this day.

NANCY PELOSI,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

MORNING-HOUR DEBATE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the order of the House of January 6, 2009, the Chair will now recognize Members from lists submitted by the majority and minority leaders for morning-hour debate.

The Chair will alternate recognition between the parties, with each party limited to 30 minutes and each Member, other than the majority and minority leaders and the minority whip, limited to 5 minutes.

DISINGENUOUS SAVINGS IN HEALTH CARE BILL

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Florida (Mr. STEARNS) for 5 minutes.

Mr. STEARNS. Good morning. Madam Speaker, my colleagues, I've come here this morning to talk about the health care bill. The Senate health care bill that we passed which honestly continues to spend far more than we can afford and at a rate faster than anyone could have imagined. The bill itself is chock-full of budget gimmicks to game the system to show that it's revenue-neutral. I am briefly going to outline this morning why it's not revenue-neutral.

In fact, future Congresses will repeal some of these cuts in Medicare and some of those taxes, like the tax on certain Cadillac health care plans. The President indicated that he would veto any health care bill that created a dime, a penny of deficit. Well, Mr. President, I hope you are listening because I have gone through the scoring on the Senate health care bill, and it's chock-full of gimmicks, and in fact, this bill creates a deficit. Let's take a look at them.

These savings that the CBO scored will not be achieved, and let me first of all start by saying there's 10 years of taxes to pay for 6 years of benefits. That's one of the gimmicks we should understand. Many of the taxes will start immediately, yet the health exchange does not begin until 2014. The two large cost drivers are Medicaid expansion and the health care exchange, but there are only 6 years of the exchange costs in the budget window. So if we're going to have taxes for 10 years, and we're going to institute the program four years later, much later, then these will be cost savings obviously.

But once this thing gets going, after 10 years of taxes and 6 years of benefits, what happens after that? No one knows. Obviously there is going to be a deficit. That's the first thing I want to start out with. There are cuts throughout this healthcare bill to Medicare. But they are fiction. Let me give you an example. They have a 21 percent cut in what's called the SGR which is the sustained growth rate, or the funding rate for physicians. So they're going to cut physicians on their SGR by 21 percent, and they're going to do a 2 percent cut every year for the rest of the decade. So this would require a $208 billion fix. Now is this going to occur? Re-member now, we have just passed H.R. 3961, a doc fix. So they're already agreeing that we have to fix Medicare for doctors, yet they are going back into this health care bill and cutting them even more to get cost savings realizing they will have to stop these cuts or devastate the Medicare program.

There are $156 billion in cuts to the hospital market basket. Now this is the reimbursement formula used to calculate payment rates. Can we realistically expect to provide a negative cost increase to hospitals? Or are we creating another so-called SGR-type situation for hospitals in this bill? There is $70 billion in what's called Community Living Assistance Services and Supports program. This is a new entitlement. It's an insurance program for assisted living programs. However, it does not collect enough revenues and pays out too little. It's estimated this program will become insolvent in 2020. Senator KENT CONRAD has called this a Ponzi scheme of the first order that would make Bernie Madoff proud. Another fictitious cost savings. There will be $15 billion cut by the Independent Payment Advisory Board. This is an unelected body who will be able to force Medicare cuts and reforms throughout the system. But where are they going to cut? Congress can only vote to stop it if three-fifths of the Senate votes to stop the cuts. They have continually talked about a tax on Cadillac health care plans. They use this as a saving of $32 billion. You know whose Cadillac health care plans we're talking about? We're talking about unions plans. They are the ones who will be affected. Do you think the Democrats are going to tax unions' Cadillac health care plans? That's not going to happen.

So I will tell you that once this gets passed, they're going to repeal this tax at future points. There are 10 years of taxes to pay for 6 years of benefits, as I mentioned earlier. The two large cost drivers are Medicaid expansion and the health care exchange, but there are only 6 years of the exchange costs in the budget window. So again, that's a gimmick. Also there are costs which are not included by the CBO because they would not be subject to future appropriations. They are not mandatory spending. So that's why the CBO didn't include the following:

There is $10 billion to hire about 16,000 new IRS agents to enforce the individual mandate on every American. So CBO did not include this in the scoring because it would be subject to future appropriations and not mandatory spending. So CBO didn't even include that. And what about the number of employees who are going to be hired by Health and Human Services to operate this bill? That's not in here. There is $55 billion for new bureaucrats to run this government expansion into health care, none of that is included by CBO. So Mr. President, you should realize that if you sign this bill, you're signing a bill that is going to create deficits. The savings we will see are not there. We are continuing to put this country in hock to China and deficits for the foreseeable future.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Members are reminded to address their remarks to the Chair.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 12(a) of rule I, the Chair declares the House in recess until noon today.

Accordingly (at 10 o'clock and 36 minutes p.m.), the House stood in recess until noon.

□ 1200

AFTER RECESS

The recess having expired, the House was called to order by the Speaker pro tempore (Ms. MARKEY of Colorado) at noon.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, the Reverend Daniel P. Coughlin, offered the following prayer:

Lord God, who orders the heavens and guides the affairs of humanity on Earth, be with the Members of this, the 111th Congress of the United States of America. Make known Your will for the common good of the Nation and reveal Your presence in the midst of our activity. By Your spirit, renew in all those who have sworn to uphold and defend the Constitution the original enthusiasm, high ideals, positive attitudes, and desire to make a difference that brought them to serve here.

Banish all indifference and quicken every response in them to the needs of Your people and to the challenges of the time. Proud to serve, raise them with renewed hope and deepened faith to manifest the strength of character, the integrity, and nobility this institution deserves.

May Your Divine Providence lead them to represent and reflect the genuine good and greatness of the American people by their prayer, honest search for truth, unified action, and great deeds. So may the people of this Nation grow in patriotism and give You the glory—now and forever.

Amen.

THE JOURNAL

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair has examined the Journal of the last day's proceedings and announces to the House her approval thereof.

Pursuant to clause 1, rule I, the Journal stands approved.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. PITTS) come forward and lead the House in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Mr. PITTS led the Pledge of Allegiance as follows:

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

REPEAL HEALTH CARE BILL WITH REAL REFORM

(Mr. PITTS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. PITTS. Madam Speaker, today, the liberal editors of the Washington Post state in their lead editorial that the current trajectory of entitlement spending will bankrupt the country. On the facing page, conservative commentator George Will calls America's entitlement programs a Ponzi scheme and "a teetering tower of unkeepable promises." Indeed, this is the true crisis in American health care.

We have already made over $100 trillion in entitlement promises we can't keep. But what Congress has just done is not reform. It does not bend the cost curve. It does not reform entitlements. It just makes more promises that can't be kept. ObamaCare pours gasoline on the fire of our entitlement crisis.

This Congress has squandered an opportunity to save and strengthen America's safety net. When they should have put on the brakes, they put their foot on the accelerator. We need to repeal this terrible bill and replace it in a bipartisan way with real reform.

THE RUSSIANS ARE COMING, THE RUSSIANS ARE COMING

(Mr. POE of Texas asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. POE of Texas. Madam Speaker, there's a new push to drill for oil in the Gulf of Mexico. The "Drill Here, Drill

Now" slogan is finally sinking in. But the new rigs won't be flying American flags. They'll be Russian rigs drilling for oil in the Gulf of Mexico—right there off our own shores.

The Russians and the Cubans are now in cahoots to drill for oil we should be obtaining. Then they'll probably sell it back to us at an increased price. We don't drill off our own coast, so we have to import more crude oil. And it gets worse every year. It's costing Americans millions. Plus, Americans won't be getting those high-dollar rig jobs.

We have our own natural resources, but refuse to explore them because of the elitists. We're a decade or more away from green technology—when we all will be driving those itty-bitty toy cars that you can buy by the six-pack. But the anti-American energy elites dominate Congress and the White House. Unfortunately, they'll let us freeze in the dark before they will allow offshore drilling.

And that's just the way it is.

AMERICA STANDS WITH ISRAEL

(Mr. PENCE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. PENCE. Today, I had the privilege of welcoming the Prime Minister of Israel, Benjamin Netanyahu, for his second visit to the United States Capitol. The American people consider Israel our most cherished ally and we her closest friend and guardian. As we met, Israel lives under the shadow of a threatening neighbor seeking nuclear weapons but, remarkably, this administration seems intent on focusing on a controversy over construction in undisputed areas of Jerusalem instead of the threat of a nuclear Iran. As I just told the Prime Minister, I never thought I'd live to see the day that an American administration would denounce the State of Israel for rebuilding Jerusalem. If the world knows nothing else, let it know this: America stands with Israel.

As the President meets with Prime Minister Netanyahu today, I urge the President to stop all this talk about settlements in Jerusalem and start focusing on isolating a threatening and menacing and rising nuclear Iran. The American people and the American Congress in both parties support the State of Israel.

LET'S GET BALANCE BACK IN THE COUNTRY

(Mr. GOHMERT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. GOHMERT. Madam Speaker, dramatic times require dramatic actions. There's a part of the Constitution that hasn't been used since its inception: Article V, the part that says that "on the application of the legislatures of two-thirds of the several States, Congress shall call a convention for proposing amendments." Since the 17th Amendment took out the last check and balance on usurpation of States' rights, it's time to get the balance back in place.

We have 39 States upset, wanting to do something, and not have another unfunded mandate coming down their throats. This will do it. Let's get an amendment that gets the balance back into the country and the Constitution before this Congress destroys what's left.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 12(a) of rule I, the Chair declares the House in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

Accordingly (at 12 o'clock and 10 minutes p.m.), the House stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

□ 1300

AFTER RECESS

The recess having expired, the House was called to order by the Speaker pro tempore (Ms. TITUS) at 1 o'clock and 1 minute p.m.

PROVIDING FOR CONSIDERATION OF H.R. 4849, SMALL BUSINESS AND INFRASTRUCTURE JOBS TAX ACT OF 2010

Mr. CARDOZA. Madam Speaker, by direction of the Committee on Rules, I call up House Resolution 1205 and ask for its immediate consideration.

The Clerk read the resolution, as follows:

H. RES. 1205

Resolved, That upon the adoption of this resolution it shall be in order to consider in the House the bill (H.R. 4849) to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to provide tax incentives for small business job creation, extend the Build America Bonds program, provide other infrastructure job creation tax incentives, and for other purposes. All points of order against consideration of the bill are waived except those arising under clause 9 or 10 of rule XXI. The amendment in the nature of a substitute recommended by the Committee on Ways and Means now printed in the bill, modified by the amendment printed in the report of the Committee on Rules accompanying this resolution, shall be considered as adopted. The bill, as amended, shall be considered as read. All points of order against provisions in the bill, as amended, are waived. The previous question shall be considered as ordered on the bill, as amended, to final passage without intervening motion except: (1) one hour of debate equally divided and controlled by the chair and ranking minority member of the Committee on Ways and Means; and (2) one motion to recommit with or without instructions.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from California is recognized for 1 hour.

Mr. CARDOZA. Madam Speaker, for the purpose of debate only, I yield the customary 30 minutes to the gentleman from Florida (Mr. LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART). All time yielded during consideration of the rule is for debate only.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. CARDOZA. Madam Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks on House Resolution 1205.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from California?

There was no objection.

Mr. CARDOZA. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Madam Speaker, House Resolution 1205 provides for the consideration of the Small Business and Infrastructure Jobs Tax Act of 2010. The rule provides for 1 hour of general debate controlled by the Committee on Ways and Means. The rule waives all points of order against consideration of the bill except for clause 9 and 10 of rule XXI. The rule also provides that the amendment in the nature of a substitute reported by the Committee on Ways and Means, modified by the amendment printed in the Rules Committee report, shall be considered as adopted. Finally, the rule provides one motion to recommit with or without instructions.

Madam Speaker, despite what you may hear, the fact is that the Recovery Act has saved or created over 2 million jobs, and we have seen signs that our economy is starting to grow once again. In 2009, we saw a 2.8 percent GDP growth in the third quarter, which represented the biggest 6-month turnaround in our economy since 1980. And the fourth quarter's 5.9 percent growth is a dramatic change in direction from when President Obama took office and the economy was then shrinking by minus 6.4 percent.

Before President Obama took office and we passed the Recovery Act, we were losing an average of 600,000 jobs per month. Since passing the Recovery Act, job loss has slowed to an average of 90,000 per month. After suffering through the worst economic crisis since the Great Depression, job loss has nearly leveled off in the past 2 months. We're almost back to par.

It is clear that the economy is growing again and employers are not only not shedding from their payrolls but they are starting to hire once again. Those are the economic facts and a clear sign that the actions taken by the Obama administration and this Democratic Congress are in fact working to turn the economy around.

However, having said that, this does not mean that we are out of the woods by any stretch of the imagination.

In too many parts of the country, including my district in California, the recovery has been slow. Unemployment is still high, and we continue to lose jobs by the thousands. Few regions of the Nation are suffering more from the recession than my San Joaquin Valley of California. The three biggest cities in my district—Merced, Stockton, and Modesto—have some of the highest foreclosure and unemployment rates in the country.

As I've said before, my district has been economically ravaged at a level equal to the devastation that we have seen oftentimes in the aftermath of hurricanes.

Now is not the time to sit back and relax but to continue to give this economy a shot in the arm that it needs in so many areas like mine. And we will get the extra stimulus we need to overcome this recession once and for all by passing this and other measures that will be coming before us.

This is why Congress just passed, and President Obama just signed, the HIRE Act to help create jobs and strengthen our economy, and to bring help to our communities, like the one I represent. It funds infrastructure projects and provides tax incentives and credits for businesses to hire unemployed workers to help small businesses invest and expand.

That is also why we are bringing this bill, H.R. 4849, the Small Business and Infrastructure Jobs Tax Act of 2010, on the floor today with an additional provision, a proven measure to further stimulate the economy.

The small businesses of America form the backbone of economic growth in our country. In fact, they are responsible for creating three out of every four jobs in the United States. That is why with this bill we are continuing to foster their growth and entrepreneurial spirit by completely eliminating the capital gains taxation on stock investments made in small businesses through 2011. This provision will help encourage investments immediately and will help small businesses put more people on their payrolls, continuing to drive our economic recovery.

H.R. 4849 also increases the deduction for start-up expenditures for small businesses from $5,000 to $20,000, giving our budding entrepreneurs a better opportunity to succeed.

The bill provides substantial relief to small businesses who run afoul of certain tax rules. Current law was intended to punish large corporate tax cheats but has had the unintended consequences and effects of threatening small businesses with bankruptcy. This bill removes the stiff penalties for small businesses to ensure that they will keep their doors open and continue creating jobs.

H.R. 4849 makes an additional allocation of Recovery Zone Bonds to ensure that each locality receives a minimum allocation, and hardest-hit areas of the country, such as my district, are not overlooked like they were in the initial allocation in previous legislation.

I'm especially thankful to the Ways and Means Committee for addressing the concerns I raised regarding this issue.

Finally, this bill extends the Recovery Act's Build America Bonds program. To date, State and local governments have financed well over $78 billion in infrastructure projects using this tool to create jobs and help improve water utilities, sewers, schools, hospitals, transit buses, and other public projects.

Financial experts such as Stephen Gandel have called Build America Bonds one of the economic recovery effort's biggest successes.

Madam Speaker, speaking for my own district, nowhere are this and other jobs bills more necessary than the San Joaquin Valley. We needed help last week, we needed it a year ago. Economic relief for my constituents remains long overdue.

It is time to stop blaming. It's time to stop playing political games. It's time to start providing the relief people so desperately need. It's important we keep our foot on the gas pedal and continue to give our economy the jolt it needs while it is starting to awake.

Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART of Florida. I would like to thank my friend, the gentleman from California (Mr. CARDOZA), for the time, and I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Over a year ago, Madam Speaker, the President promised that if Congress passed the so-called stimulus bill, unemployment would not reach 8 percent. Well, here we are today with unemployment just under 10 percent. It turns out that the stimulus bill was anything but a job creator. Instead, it was a monumental waste of money that created tons of debt for the Nation.

Since then, the people have demanded that the majority stop their unbridled spending spree. They want Congress to focus our work on commonsense job creation legislation that does not spend away the Nation's future.

Yet 2 days ago the majority ignored the American people and passed the so-called health care bill. It costs over a trillion dollars. A bill that, just like the so-called stimulus, does nothing to create jobs except for new IRS agents in the case of the new legislation. It has over $500 billion in new taxes and mandates on businesses that will inevitably lead them to lay off workers or forgo hiring new workers.

Knowing that the people have rejected their signature issues, that the majority has ignored the number one issue in this country—the lack of new jobs—the majority now puts forth H.R. 4849, which it calls the Small Business and Infrastructure Jobs Tax Act. They desperately want to be seen by the people as doing something on jobs—anything on jobs. But just calling a bill a stimulus does not mean it will stimulate job creation.

This bill does not create jobs just because the majority has slapped “jobs” on the title of the bill. This bill is nothing more than a hodgepodge of narrow, targeted tax provisions that will not create new jobs. Although it's sold as a jobs bill, it actually amounts to a net tax increase at a time when Congress should be lowering taxes in order to encourage job growth.

In this legislation, the largest tax is a $7.7 billion one on foreign companies located in the United States employing American workers. Yes, a tax on companies employing American workers. Already the U.S. is the only country in the world that taxes the overseas income of its businesses. Every other country taxes the income obviously only that is earned within its borders. So we tax income anywhere in the world.

Now, higher taxes, as called for in this legislation, will further encourage those businesses to keep their income earned abroad in foreign countries and invest it there and create jobs there rather than in the United States.

Jobs will be moved. Jobs that they would have created in the U.S. will be moved to other countries, reducing employment opportunities in the United States, depressing wages for current American workers. This is not a way to get Americans back to work, Madam Speaker. It's an example of the dogma of the absurd at work.

According to the Joint Committee on Taxation, “the effects of the bill are so small relative to the size of the economy and the degree of uncertainty associated with the estimate as to be incalculable within the context of a model of the aggregate economy.” So, at the very least, this jobs bill won't create jobs.

Now, it sounds like the stimulus that didn't stimulate. It's more of the same from this congressional majority.

What is ironic is that, if the stimulus had worked as sold, we wouldn't be here today. We told the majority, Madam Speaker, we told them that their stimulus would do little, if anything, to spur job growth. What is so unfortunate is the American people are having to pay the price for the majority's incompetence.

One of the central tenets of the Democrats' campaign in 2006 was that they would run Congress in a more open and bipartisan manner. On December 6, 2006, the Speaker reiterated her campaign promise. She said, “We promised the American people that we would have the most honest and open government, and we will.”

The Speaker even laid out how she would carry out her promise in a document called, “A New Direction for America.” In it she wrote, “Bills should be developed following full hearings and open subcommittee and committee markups, with appropriate referrals to other committees. Bills should generally come to the floor under a procedure that allows open, full, and fair debate consisting of a full amendment process that grants the minority the right to offer its alternatives, including a substitute.”

This bill, Madam Speaker, like so many before it, fails to meet that standard. Contrary to the promise, the majority brings forth today a rule that forbids Ways and Means Ranking Member CAMP from offering the minority's substitute amendment. It also blocks every other Member from both sides of the aisle from offering amendments.

What makes this violation of the Speaker's promise so unfortunate is that, on Ways and Means bills, Madam Speaker, the House has a long history of allowing the ranking member to offer a minority substitute. We should defeat this rule and allow the House to proceed through regular order and allow Members to participate in the legislative process.

I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. CARDOZA. Madam Speaker, in response to my friend and colleague from Florida, I would just remind him that, in this particular legislation, we are paying for our tax cuts. We are not going to, like they did when they were in charge, by cutting taxes and leaving it for their children to pay for, this bill pays for this tax cut by closing foreign tax loopholes that were given to special interests. I think that that's a trade the American people will accept every single day.

Madam Speaker, I now would like to yield 2 minutes to the gentlewoman from California (Ms. CHU).

Ms. CHU. Madam Speaker, first I want to thank Chairman LEVIN and Chairman MCDERMOTT for including in the manager's amendment the extension of the Jobs NOW program. I would also like to thank Chairman LARSON and the co-Chairs of the Congressional Jobs Working Group, BETTY SUTTON and ALCEE HASTINGS, for their support of this bill and program.

I rise today to support the manager's amendment to H.R. 4849, the Small Business and Infrastructure Jobs Tax Act, which extends an extremely successful employment program I call Jobs NOW. It has created over 156,000 jobs in 29 States across the country. It is extraordinary for the fact that it has been able to create jobs so quickly.

The model is Los Angeles County, where Supervisor Don Knabe created over 11,000 subsidized jobs in 1 year, jobs like park rangers, receptionists, teacher's assistants, and childcare workers. Workers got paid $10 an hour for up to 40 hours a week. The employer provided 20 percent of the wage cost and the Federal Government provided the rest.

The reason it succeeded is that it was a win/win for both small business and workers. Main Street businesses like Armstrong Pies in Linden, Tennessee, used this program to add 10 employees, buy new equipment, increase production, and expand their distribution. That's a big step forward with a little bakery. Workers in this program can sleep better at night knowing they can put food on the table.

Madam Speaker, I submit for the RECORD an email from one of the participants in Los Angeles, Ms. Avila.

Subject: S.T.E.P. program

HELLO JOHN—I am so happy that I have been given the opportunity to receive this incredible work experience through the program. It has been a little over 3 months since I began this job, and I have to say it has changed my life so much in this little time. For one it has given my husband and I a chance to experience the feeling of having a steady income that we can actually live off of. With him only working it wasn't enough for our family to survive on. I have been able to get off of cash aid and have also been able to realize the importance of keeping a job for the financial security. Not only the financial aspect but the learning factor and the chance to prove myself to an employer without them being judgmental. Any other employer wouldn't give me a chance just for my lack of experience. Even though I know that I can definitely do the job it really takes a toll on your self-esteem when you're turned down. I also think it's very important for my children to see me actively working. Now since I've been employed they are constantly reminded how important it is for people to work all their lives. The importance of responsibility starts as a child and it is very important to me to be a good role model and show my children that having a good work ethic is key in life. I just can't be thankful enough for this opportunity and hope that we can get it extended for one more year.

Sincerely,

ALYSSA AVILA.

She says, "It has been a little over 3 months since I began this job, and I have to say it has changed my life so much in this little time." She also states, "I have been able to get off of cash aid and have also been able to realize the importance of keeping a job for the financial security. Not only the financial aspect but the learning factor and the chance to prove myself to an employer without them being judgmental." In addition, she says, "I also think it's very important for my children to see me actively working." Further, "show my children that having a good work ethic is key in life. I just can't be thankful enough for this opportunity and hope that we can get it extended for 1 more year."

The manager's amendment and bill will, indeed, extend this program. I strongly support the manager's amendment.

Mr. LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Madam Speaker, it's my privilege to yield 3 minutes to my friend from Washington (Mr. REICHERT).

Mr. REICHERT. I thank the gentleman for yielding.

Madam Speaker, well, at least today we are talking about incentives for small businesses. That's a start. People are still asking: Where are the jobs? We are still at close to 10 percent unemployment.

Small business, I think as everyone knows, is responsible for over 80 percent of our jobs in this country, and I am standing here today because yesterday I submitted two amendments. In fact, this is the second time I have submitted these amendments. The first time was in the Ways and Means Committee, asking for the current tax laws governing small businesses, the capital gains tax and other taxes on small businesses, to stay the same, to not go up. But come January capital gains tax will increase by 20 percent.

We are going to ask businesses to try and hire new employees under a heavy burden of taxes. We are talking about a bill today that's $15 billion of incentives, limited incentives, hours after we have slapped them with hundreds of billions of dollars of tax increases under the health overhaul bill.

There is a 3.8 percent investment tax; other penalties if you don't provide mandated health care. This doesn't include the $588 billion in other tax hikes coming in December when the current tax rates expire. Because of that, one-third of all businesses and their activity would be taxed more. Raising taxes is the last thing we should be doing to small businesses.

Where are the jobs? People keep asking.

I have to say, I am disappointed that my amendments weren't accepted in the Ways and Means Committee. They were voted down, and I have to say, again, I am disappointed that they were once again voted down last night in the Rules Committee.

The last thing we should be doing to small businesses is raising taxes. The last thing that Congress should be doing is raising taxes. Small businesses today need certainty about what's going to be happening to them in the future. Small businesses today want to hire employees, but they can't hire employees because they are being taxed too much.

I think we have one question in this Congress to ask, and that is: Do we want to raise taxes on small businesses or do we want to help small businesses by keeping their tax burdens low? I am one of those that stand up and say, I want to keep the tax burdens on small businesses low so they can hire employees, so we can generate jobs, so we can generate this economy and get this country moving forward.

Mr. CARDOZA. Madam Speaker, I listened carefully to the comments of Mr. REICHERT, the gentleman from Washington. Typical of the other side of the aisle and his political party, my colleague, the amendment that he offered violated PAYGO.

Now, as I look back on the recent history of our country, as we have lowered taxes and we didn't pay for them, the deficit ballooned out of control. That's exactly what people are upset about, the deficit ballooning out of control, and it was their economic policies that got us into this mess.

Madam Speaker, at this point I would like to yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Oregon (Mr. BLUMENAUER).

Mr. BLUMENAUER. I appreciate the gentleman's courtesy in permitting me to speak on this and his leadership guiding the rule for us. This is important legislation for us to consider. It's ironic that our Republican friends are saying that the solution they want is more tax cuts.

If you look at the jobs trajectory, in the Clinton administration where the tax levels were what they are going to be reverting to under the law, written by the Republicans, by the way, compared to what happened in the Bush administration where spending went up, taxes were cut, the economy collapsed, then we had the lowest rate of job creation during Bush years even though we took their prescription and cut taxes for all sorts of special interests. It is important that we are moving forward from this point by paying for the things that we do.

It's a hard lesson, but it worked in the 8 years of the Clinton administration where we had deficits reduced every single year until, at the end, we were actually in surplus compared to what happened later and had more robust job creation, lower deficits, more jobs by having a balanced economy and focusing on what's important. It is important being able to rebuild and renew this country.

I am pleased that we have in here the Build America Bonds, that we will be able to extend a favored treatment to local governments, to be able to build infrastructure, to be able to fight congestion, fight pollution, be able to revitalize communities. These bonds have been very successful in the last program we had. This extends it for 3 more years.

I would hope, Madam Speaker, that at some point we will be able to return to the era where at least one area was not partisan, and that is infrastructure and rebuilding and renewing America. Even Ronald Reagan supported user fees for things like transportation.

I hope we get to the point where the commitment to infrastructure, to roads, to transit, clean water, clean air, cleaning up Superfund sites, again enjoys the bipartisan support that it has at home here in Capitol Hill.

We have a wide range of groups, from the Chamber of Commerce to AGC to truckers who are willing to work with us to be able to provide this vital program going forward. I hope we reach that point, but, in the meantime, approving this legislation, jump-starting infrastructure for the next 3 years and not adding to the deficit, but being deficit neutral, and dealing with areas, in fact, in some cases, recognized by the Bush Treasury, that there was abuse of the tax system and needed to be changed.

I hope we approve this rule, I hope we approve this legislation and we are able to get on to the business of continuing improving the economy.

Mr. LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Madam Speaker, I remember before the era of President Obama and trillion to trillion-and-a-half dollar deficits, $200 billion, I remember, used to be a lot of money. President Clinton,

I remember his budgets, since the era of the 1990s was just mentioned, called for at least $200 billion budgets ad infinitum. And I remember the great struggles between the Republican congressional majority in the 1990s and the Clinton White House that finally led to a balanced budget, despite President Clinton's submittal of budgets with at least $200 billion of deficits indefinitely into the future. So that's setting the record straight.

What is important to note at this point, I think, is that increasing taxes in a recession is the worst thing that we could do, and the Democratic majority continues to do it time and time again.

I yield such time as he may consume to the distinguished ranking member of the Rules Committee, Mr. DREIER.

(Mr. DREIER asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. DREIER. Madam Speaker, let me first thank my friend from Miami, my Rules Committee seatmate, for his very thoughtful remarks. It was listening to him that led me to come to the floor.

He opened his remarks, Madam Speaker, by referring to the commitment that President Obama made, that if we were to pass the $1 trillion stimulus bill, that the unemployment rate would not exceed 8 percent. He very thoughtfully reminded us, Mr. DIAZ-BALART that is, in his statement that, unfortunately, we have an unemployment rate that is hovering around 10 percent. And as my friend from California regularly shares with us in the Rules Committee and here on the House floor, the unemployment in his congressional district in some areas exceeds 20 percent.

It is a very sad and tragic thing that we deal with, in our State of California, a statewide unemployment rate of 12.2 percent; the unemployment rate in some of the areas that I represent, 14.4 percent. And then, as I said, Mr. CARDOZA has very tragically an unemployment rate that is in excess of 20 percent.

Of course, anecdotally, we continue to hear horror stories of people losing their homes, people losing their businesses. And we know how tough this is. We know how horrible the situation is for families when young children are forced to move from their homes. And that is the reason that I believe that it is absolutely imperative that we focus our attention on the best possible prescription for job creation and economic growth.

I think one of the things we have found, Madam Speaker, is the $1 trillion stimulus bill was not only not the answer, but when we were promised that the unemployment rate would not exceed 8 percent and it is hovering about 2 points above that, we know that it not only has not been the answer to the problem, but I think every shred of empirical evidence that we have is that that has exacerbated the problem. Why? Well, it gets back to the remarks that Mr. DIAZ-BALART just shared with us about the level of Federal spending.

As we look at the problems that are out there, job creation and economic growth is critical; but I continue to hear overwhelmingly from my constituents and from people with whom I speak across this country that the fact that we have seen now in the first 14 months of this administration an increase in the Federal debt that is larger than the increase in the debt that everyone on both sides of the aisle decry during the entire 8 years of the Bush administration is a sad commentary.

Let me repeat that, Madam Speaker. We have seen in the first 14 months of this administration an increase in the national debt that is larger than the entire increase in the debt during the 8 years of the Bush administration.

Now, the byproduct of that is an article that just appeared on March 22 in Bloomberg, and it points to the fact that there is less confidence in the bond market for the Federal Government than there is for private sector companies like Berkshire Hathaway, the Lowes Company, Johnson & Johnson, and others. Meaning, that as we look at what has always been seen not only in the United States, but around the world, as the most stable and confident investment that people can look to, the most stable investment is now developing yields that are below those of private sector companies.

There is less confidence in the future of the Federal Government. And there is a very simple reason for that, and it is that we have seen this constant increase, an exacerbation of our deficit and our debt. And that is why doing everything we can, Madam Speaker, to rein that in needs to continue to be our priority.

What is it that has happened? Well, 1 hour ago the President of the United States signed what will be ultimately a $1.2 trillion bill to deal with the issue of health care.

We all know that having every American have access to quality health insurance is an extraordinarily high priority for people on both sides of the aisle. But as we look at some of the details of what this legislation that will end up because of the doc fix, which everyone says will be included in that, totaling $1.2 trillion, we have gotten to a point where we will see the hiring of reportedly 18,000 new Internal Revenue Service agents who are going to be, through what will look like a new 1099 form, the provider of that insurance policy; and the American citizen will have to ensure that there is compliance with this new mandate, a dictate from the Federal Government that is going to be imposed on every American.

And so as we look at dealing with this problem, and everyone decries government spending, we just 1 hour ago saw a humongous new cost burden imposed on the American taxpayer.

Now, my friend from California, Madam Speaker, has just said, and he did in the Rules Committee yesterday, he talked about the fact that he liked the notion of cutting the capital gains rate and that he was supportive of the general thrust of what Mr. REICHERT was trying to do. And Mr. SESSIONS offered that amendment up in the Rules Committee, but he did mention the fact that it was not paid for. I just listened to the remarks: it is not paid for. And, Madam Speaker, I think it is really important for us to look at this issue of "paid for."

Now, I have stood in this well for a long period of time, frankly, since I first got here, because I came here with Ronald Reagan, to talk about the bipartisan approach that needs to be taken towards getting our economy back on track. Steve Forbes in his great new book entitled, "How Capitalism Will Save Us," refers to real-world economics. We have to look at reality here.

Now, it is a pipe dream for people to believe that somehow, if you reduce the top rate on capital gains, that it is going to be a huge burden to the Federal Government when every shred of evidence that we have is that not only will that kind of tax incentive be paid for, it will dramatically increase the revenues to the Federal Government. And the best example—I don't think I need to appeal to our other side of the aisle by pointing to Ronald Reagan. But as I look to the other side of the aisle, I would appeal by making the argument that this is exactly what President John F. Kennedy, one of our Nation's greatest Presidents, a Democrat, did in 1961.

Madam Speaker, what he did was he brought about broad, across-the-board marginal tax rate reduction, including a large reduction of the capital gains tax rate.

Now, my friend says this needs to be paid for. Madam Speaker, not only was the Kennedy capital gains rate reduction paid for; it led to a doubling of the flow of revenues to the Federal Treasury. Similarly—and that is why I like to talk about this as a bipartisan proposal—in 1981, Ronald Reagan did the exact same thing. We saw across-the-board marginal rate reduction and at the same time we saw a reduction of the capital gains rate. And what happened, Madam Speaker? Not only did that marginal rate reduction and capital gains reduction pay for itself, it actually doubled the flow of revenues to the Federal Treasury during the decade of the 1980s.

Now, we know that there are those who say that the tax reductions that we saw in the early part of this decade, the decade that we have just gone through, are responsible for the increase in the deficits that we had, completely forgetting the fact that we have had to see huge increases in spending on national defense, on veterans benefits, on homeland security, things that came about because of the tragedy of September 11 of 2001. We also have seen other increases in spending.

Madam Speaker, we could have done better when the Republicans were in the majority. I am the first to admit that. But if you look at the fact, again, as I said just a few moments ago, the $2 trillion increase in the national debt that has taken place over the last 14 months is larger than the entire increase in the debt that took place during the 8 years of the Bush Presidency.

So that is why I think that what we need to do is take this bipartisan approach; and since my friend from California, the manager of this rule here on the House floor, has argued that we should bring about capital gains reduction but he says he wants it to be paid for, we need to look at the fact that that kind of reduction not only pays for itself but will help us deal with the tremendous debt burden that we face today. And, again, the cost of that increased debt burden is hurting the United States of America in this country and in international markets around the world.

That is what we need to do, not looking at a hodgepodge of ideas, trying to pick out what incentive here for one part of the economy or another. We need to let real-world economics actually be applied here; and, unfortunately, we haven't been, and this bill does not do that at all.

I thank my friend for yielding.

Mr. CARDOZA. Madam Speaker, it never ceases to amaze me how the Republicans use selective memory when they talk about American economic policy.

On the very day that President Obama was inaugurated into office, he came in with a $1.3 trillion Bush hangover in debt for that year.

Mr. DREIER. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. CARDOZA. I will not yield, Mr. DREIER.

The prescription that we are offering today reduces the national debt by closing foreign tax loopholes. There is plenty of things that we can do to start closing the tax cuts and loopholes that shouldn't be in the tax law to pay for tax cuts for honorable Americans.

I do support reducing capital gains fees. I think we can do that, but they need to be paid for. We put those PAYGO rules in place in the mid-1990s, and we left the last time we had the White House with a $5.4 trillion projected surplus. In 8 short years, we saw that turned around to what we have been left with, the mess that we have been left with now. That is not Mr. Obama's fault. That is not the Democratic Party's fault.

This bill will reduce the deficit by $2.6 billion. We are paying for our tax cuts. We are going to stimulate the economy, we are going to rebuild America with investment bonds, and we are going to reduce the national debt. That is the way you do American economic policy that works, Madam Speaker.

I now yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Indiana, a tireless supporter of Americans and small business, a leading advocate for fixing the flawed IRS penalties on listed transactions, Mr. DONNELLY from Indiana.

Mr. DONNELLY of Indiana. Madam Speaker, today I rise in support of the rule for H.R. 4849, the Small Business and Infrastructure Jobs Tax Act, because it provides crucial tax breaks to America's small businesses and will fix an esoteric IRS penalty that is unintentionally threatening to bankrupt small business owners at a time when we badly need their contributions to economic recovery.

Madam Speaker, a lot of my colleagues in the House may be unaware of the unintended consequences of section 6707A of the Internal Revenue Code. Designed to crack down on large corporate tax cheats, this law has too frequently had the unintended effect of levying huge mandatory penalties on small business owners who make simple mistakes.

Two years ago, I learned that a small business owner who employs four people in my district was assessed $600,000 in mandatory penalties for unintentionally failing to notify the IRS that he had purchased a type of insurance policy that resulted in a total tax savings of only $38,000 over 2 years. This Hoosier business owner was not trying to avoid paying taxes, and he has repaid his back taxes; however, the flawed law requires the IRS to enforce these massive penalties, even if the result would mean instant bankruptcy for a simple filing error.

So, Madam Speaker, we support the rule for H.R. 4849, and I urge my colleagues to vote "yes" on the rule and "yes" on the passage of the bill.

Mr. LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 additional minute to Mr. DREIER.

Mr. DREIER. Madam Speaker, I would like to engage in a discussion, if I might, with my friend from California. He did not want to yield to me, but I am happy to yield to him and I look forward to that, to say that the $1.3 trillion deficit that was inherited by President Obama on the day he came into office has actually been dramatically eclipsed by, as I said, the $2 trillion increase that we have seen in the debt take place.

And I want to also argue that I am not pointing the finger of blame at the Democratic Party. When President Bush came into office, we had just seen the bubble burst, and he inherited an economy that was actually on a downward slope at that juncture. So there is plenty of finger-pointing that can go around. I mean, it is. My friend's from California. Did the bubble not burst? I would say he is shaking his head, and I am happy to yield to my friend.

Mr. CARDOZA. The bubble burst when Mr. Bush got to office and started an economic policy that—

Mr. DREIER. Madam Speaker, if I may reclaim my time, I will remind my friend that the election was held in 2000. The election was November of 2000. That bubble burst in 1999. 1999. Fully a year before that.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Madam Speaker, I yield the gentleman 1 additional minute.

Mr. DREIER. I am happy to yield to my friend, if he would like to respond. I am always happy to engage in a discussion with my friend.

Mr. CARDOZA. I am happy to respond on my own time, since I got cut off when I tried to answer the question the last time.

Mr. DREIER. I would be happy to further yield to my friend. I control the time, and I am happy to yield to my friend.

Mr. CARDOZA. I will answer the gentleman on my own time when I control the time and I won't be cut off.

Mr. DREIER. So, Madam Speaker, the gentleman does not want to engage in a discussion on this issue, simply putting forth platitudes about finger-pointing and all, when I'm trying to, in a bipartisan way, take the vision that was put forth by John F. Kennedy and Ronald Reagan, recognizing that we have challenges that we should address together.

I am happy to further yield to my friend.

Mr. CARDOZA. Madam Speaker, I will respond to my friend by saying this: Every time I've tried to answer him, he's cut me off. I will answer on my own time.

Mr. DREIER. I am happy to further yield to my friend.

Mr. CARDOZA. The gentleman can yield till hell freezes over. I'll answer on my own time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentleman has again expired.

Mr. DREIER. Thank you very much, Madam Speaker.

Mr. CARDOZA. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

When Mr. Clinton left office, he left the next administration a budget surplus for the year that Mr. Bush took office and a projection for $5.6 trillion in surpluses. That bounty was squandered by Mr. Bush and the Republicans in Congress at that time and we got left with an aftermath where we had to bail out the banks, where we had to bail out the economy.

Mr. Obama was left with a $1.6 trillion deficit on the day he took office. Those are undisputable facts. And I am proud to stand on the Democratic record on economic policy, and I am proud to stand on this bill, where we're going to reduce the deficit while rebuilding America and cutting taxes for taxpayers that live in the United States and not for foreign corporations. I will take that record to the bank every single day, Madam Speaker.

Madam Speaker, at this point I would like to yield 2 minutes to the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. JACKSON LEE).

Ms. JACKSON LEE of Texas. Let me thank the distinguished gentleman from California, and I thank his good friend from Florida for managing this bill and their leadership on these issues, as well as the Ways and Means Committee.

Just a few minutes ago, the President of the United States signed a health care bill that many thought would not pass that will save us $1.3 trillion over the next decade. Today, we come to the floor and address the concerns of many Americans, representing to America that this majority is both sensitive and able to address issues that are hurting the American people and the American economy. This bill does just that. And I am very pleased to rise to support legislation that addresses the question of providing incentives for small businesses to hire people and to give them an incentive to do so.

I'm very pleased that we will have the opportunity in our local jurisdictions to be able to rebuild and to issue bonds dealing with water and sewers. The fact that I was a former Houston City Council member, I understand sometimes where the rubber hits the road: to rebuild those entities; to allow State and local governments to be able to save money through the alternative minimum tax; to be able to allow low-income housing to take money over low-income tax credits, hopefully to use it effectively. And I want to join with the chairwoman of the Congressional Black Caucus as I thank this legislation for having the extension of the emergency fund on TANF. That means my State of Texas can actually have provisions that will allow people to be hired for 1 year. Even a conservative policy person, Kevin Hassett, said, "Given the state of the labor market, it is hard to imagine how any sensible person could oppose extending the emergency fund."

Let's see how this Congress votes on this rule. I am supporting this rule because not only have we extended and provided health care for 32 million Americans, we're now addressing the question of jobs, jobs, jobs for America. This bill will help our small businesses, our local municipalities, and the people who have been chronically unemployed. It's time to pass this rule and to pass this bill.

Madam Speaker I rise today in strong support of H. Res. 1205, a rule providing for 4849, "The Small Business and Infrastructure Jobs Tax Act of 2010" a bill that will help to create jobs for Americans.

Last year, through the American Recovery Act of 2009 (stimulus package), Congress threw out a massive lifeline to save Americans who were on the verge of losing their jobs and to create jobs for those who were unemployed. We are constantly getting updates from our leaders in Congress and the Administration, of the positive impact the stimulus funding is having on our economy. Yet, we know there is still more work to do. This bill will allow us to continue making strides in the right direction towards putting jobs in the hands of Americans.

H.R. 4849 will provide a 100 percent exclusion of small business capital gains. Under current law, Section 1202 provides 50 percent exclusion for gain from the sale of certain small business stock that is held for more than 5 years. The bill would temporarily increase the amount of the exclusion to 100 percent for qualifying stock acquired after March 15, 2010 and before January 1, 2012. The amount of gain eligible for the Section 1202 exclusion is limited to the greater of 10 times the taxpayer's basis in the stock, or $10 million gain from stock in that small business corporation.

This provision is limited to individual investments and not the investments of a corporation. This provision is estimated to cost $1.962 billion over the next 10 years. The American Reinvestment and Recovery Act (the "Recovery Act") temporarily increased the Section 1202 exclusion to 75 percent for qualifying stock acquired in 2009 and 2010. Again, this bill would temporarily increase the amount of the exclusion to 100 percent. H. Res. 4849 is a great piece of legislation because it will increase job opportunities for all Americans and allow our citizens to go back to work.

Madam Speaker, through a manager's amendment introduced yesterday at the Rules Committee, TANF Emergency Contingency Fund will be extended for one year. This was a key CBC provision throughout our jobs advocacy. The provision provides $2.5 billion in TANF-ECF, which the my CBC colleagues and I advocated to Ways & Means, House, and Senate leadership.

This amendment would also help those who are most vulnerable and who need our hope the most by extending the TANF Emergency Contingency Fund for one year. This Fund was established by the Recovery Act and is expiring on September 30th and currently assists States in providing assistance to needy families and in establishing or expanding subsidized jobs programs.

We need to put jobs in the hands of Americans. As a Representative of Houston, I am particularly concerned that the unemployment rates have been increasing instead of decreasing; unemployment in the Houston-Sugar Land-Baytown region climbed to 5.4 percent in October of 2009, according to a recent report from the Texas Workforce Commission (TWC). There were 152,300 people without jobs during the month out of a total civilian labor force of about 2.8 million, compared with 144,200 people, or 5.1 percent, unemployed out of a civilian labor force of 2.8 million in September of 2009, according to the TWC. The unemployment rate in October was up from 4 percent a year ago. I know that the people of the 18th Congressional District of Texas will be greatly affected by this bill and begin to receive more employment opportunities.

Madam Speaker, getting all Americans back to work is, and should be our number one priority. It is essential that the Congress continue to create avenues that will provide employers with incentives to hire and retain new employees.

Madam Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in supporting H. Res. 1205.

Mr. LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. CARDOZA. At this time I would like to yield 2 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from New York (Mr. RANGEL).

Mr. RANGEL. I thank the gentleman from California.

I rise in support of this rule because it will give the American people an opportunity to ease some of the pain that's been caused to millions of people because of this recession. Having a job means more than just the income and coverage of health insurance. It means the dignity and the pride in knowing that you're taking care of your family, being able to pay your mortgage, your rent, the kids' tuition for school. And this type of legislation that the Ways and Means Committee was able to put together provides incentives for people to invest in small businesses, where 80 percent, of course, of our jobs are created. It allows for recovery bonds and TANF, Build American Bonds, to be able to allow mayors and Governors to invest in infrastructure and to determine just where the work is needed. This is a dignity that really is a quality that caused America to be as great as she is.

Putting America back to work is what the majority is all about. I cannot perceive that we cannot have bipartisan support on those issues that really build a better America—a healthy America, an educated America, and a working America. That is how we will maintain our competitive edge throughout the world. And we have to do this not just as Democrats, but we have to do this in a bipartisan way. The Governors want this, the mayors want this, and our communities demand it.

Mr. LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART of Florida. I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. CARDOZA. Madam Speaker, I would like to inquire how much time is remaining on both sides.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from California has 9½ minutes. The gentleman from Florida has 6½ minutes.

Mr. CARDOZA. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

At this time I would like to yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. DOGGETT), a member of the Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. DOGGETT. For 8 years, our Republican colleagues told us that we could borrow our way to greatness. They told us that their tax cuts would pay for themselves. And then, after they drove our country into an economic ditch, some of their own economic experts indicated that, in fact, none of those tax cuts had paid for themselves. They had only driven us deeper into debt. And then as the gentleman from California (Mr. CARDOZA) has ably explained, we came forward with a number of proposals that were designed to try to get our economy moving again. And they have worked.

But we also came forward with a commitment to fiscal responsibility that we would pay as we go. And that is precisely what we have just done this past Sunday with the approval of the health care legislation. Not only paid for it, but adopted a proposal that would actually result in many billions of dollars—over a trillion dollars in the second decade—of deficit reduction as a result of our plan.

That brings us to today. Recognizing that small business is the economic engine of our country, we come forward with some specific proposals designed to encourage more economic growth. But we don't do it the old-fashioned Republican way of borrowing all the money. We pay for every dime in this bill. And therein lies their complaint. They always like the benefits that go out; they just don't want to pay for any of them. And so they've come forward today and their principal complaint is a provision in this bill that I authored that deals with tax treaty shopping. Who does that affect? It doesn't affect any company that has its principal headquarters in the United States of America, an American company. It doesn't affect any foreign corporation that has a subsidiary here if they are in one of the many jurisdictions around the world that have a tax treaty—a tax treaty designed to protect American companies from being double-taxed. It doesn't affect them. Even China has a tax treaty. In fact, over 90 percent of the foreign investment in this country comes from companies headquartered in tax treaty countries.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. CARDOZA. I yield the gentleman an additional 30 seconds.

Mr. DOGGETT. The only people that it affects are those who have chosen to go to non-tax-treaty countries, mainly tax havens—people that have avoided paying their fair share and are foreign-owned corporations. And those foreign-owned corporations and tax havens now have a voice, in addition to their lobbyists in this Congress, and it's the Republican Party. They are defending those foreign companies that have not paid their fair share and will not approve using resources drawn from them that they have not paid fairly in order to support our small American businesses.

I urge approval of the rule and rejection of the argument that these foreign businesses ought not to have to play by the same rules as American companies.

Mr. LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART. Madam Speaker, what I attempted to point out is that we disagree. When foreign companies hire workers in the United States, we disagree with raising their taxes. We think it's a good idea for foreign companies to be encouraged to hire workers in the United States, and what this bill is doing is exactly the opposite.

I would reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. CARDOZA. Madam Speaker, I would say in response to the gentleman from Florida, we welcome investment in this country. We welcome it with a treaty. We welcome it when they pay our taxes and don't try and cheat American workers.

Madam Speaker, I would like to at this time yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from California (Ms. LEE).

Ms. LEE of California. I want to thank my colleague, the gentleman from California, for yielding and for his tremendous leadership on this bill.

I rise in support of the rule and, of course, the bill, H.R. 4849, the Small Business and Infrastructure Jobs Tax Act of 2010. I want to especially thank Speaker PELOSI, Chairman LEVIN, Chairman RANGEL, Chairman MCDERMOTT, and the staff of the Ways and Means Committee, and our staff, for working with my colleagues in the Congressional Black Caucus to ensure that this legislation targets those hardest hit by the recession.

The members of the Congressional Black Caucus have been laser-focused on stimulating our economy and creating jobs, especially for the chronically unemployed. As my colleagues know, we are in the midst of a 5-week campaign launched at the beginning of this month to seek policy solutions for the chronically unemployed. We are working together with President Obama, Speaker PELOSI, Senate Majority Leader REID, and all of our leadership and Members of Congress and our coalition partners on a strategy to put America back to work.

One of the key components of our proposed jobs package was to seek an extension of TANF emergency contingency funds for 1 year with an appropriation of $2.5 billion. This valuable program was originally authorized in the American Recovery and Relief Act for a total of $5 billion to help fund certain targeted categories of TANF-related expenditures, including basic assistance, nonrecurrent short-term benefits, and subsidized employment. Put simply, the TANF emergency contingency fund allows States to leverage Federal dollars to subsidize private company wages by providing States with an 80 percent reimbursement rate for their increased TANF expenditures in these categories.

Back in December, we communicated with President Obama and our Speaker and raised the importance of extending the TANF emergency contingency fund, among other priorities. Earlier this month, Chairman MCDERMOTT also held a hearing on TANF within his subcommittee and highlighted the importance of extending the emergency contingency fund. This was another important moment that reinforced the Congressional Black Caucus' call for an extension and helped generate the momentum we needed to move this important provision forward.

I was also pleased to have had the opportunity to be before the Rules Committee yesterday and testify with Chairman LEVIN in support of the manager's amendment and the TANF extension. In addition to the extension, the manager's amendment also allows TANF money to be used for subsidized jobs for people who have run out of unemployment insurance benefits. Ultimately, the TANF emergency contingency fund will create jobs by helping businesses hire, manage, and train new employees by paying part of wages and costs.

As the Chair of the Congressional Black Caucus, I am pleased that we could move this critical bill forward. Taken together, this provision and the bill overall is another important step towards spurring economic growth and creating jobs, particularly for the chronically unemployed. Business tax cuts alone won't work.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentlewoman has expired.

Mr. CARDOZA. I yield the gentlewoman an additional 15 seconds.

Ms. LEE of California. Thank you very much. The Congressional Black Caucus has a very sustained and focused effort to create jobs and economic opportunities, and this is but one step forward in our efforts.

Mr. LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Madam Speaker, I think it's important to keep in mind the seriousness of the fiscal situation the Nation is facing. For the current fiscal year, President Obama submitted a $3.6 trillion budget. Remember, a trillion is a million millions. That's a lot of money, a $3.6 trillion budget. But our revenues, the revenues of the Federal Government, total $2.4 trillion. For the following fiscal year, the President submitted a $3.8 trillion budget, but our revenues, the Federal Government's revenues, are $2.6 trillion. That situation is not sustainable. That's why we are facing a situation that was alluded to earlier by Mr. DREIER, that our AAA bond rating is at risk already.

Obviously there are few issues that are more serious than the ones we are discussing today. Madam Speaker, I will be asking for a "no" vote on the previous question so that we can amend this rule and allow a vote on Ranking Member CAMP's substitute amendment to the bill. The Camp substitute would provide a meaningful tax benefit for small businesses that would, unlike the majority's bill, create new jobs. Small businesses employ about half of all private sector jobs, and they have created nearly 80 percent of the new jobs in the Nation in recent years. They are the engine of economic growth and job creation in the Nation, and they must be the key to our economic recovery.

It's unfortunate that the majority of the Rules Committee blocked Mr. CAMP, despite the tradition of allowing on Ways and Means bills a substitute amendment. The Rules Committee blocked Mr. CAMP from offering his amendment. Obviously there are always exceptions to tradition, to precedence. In this case, the exception is this majority, a majority that continually blocks Members from both parties from offering amendments to all legislation.

I urge my colleagues to return to regular order and allow Mr. CAMP to offer his substitute amendment, and to vote "no" on the previous question now so that we can have a full and open debate on the minority's substitute.

Madam Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to insert the text of the amendment and extraneous materials immediately prior to the vote on the previous question.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Florida?

There was no objection.

Mr. LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART of Florida. I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. CARDOZA. Madam Speaker, I am proud today to stand here advocating for a stimulative tax cut to small business that is not only going to be good for the economy but is paid for and reduces the national debt. Madam Speaker, the bottom line is that this commonsense legislation will invest in infrastructure. It will invest in our budding entrepreneurs. It will help get countless unemployed Americans back on the job, back on company payrolls, and continue to give a much-needed jolt to the American economy. I urge my colleagues on both sides of the aisle to support this American jobs bill on the floor today. I urge a "yes" vote on the rule and on the previous question.

AMENDMENT TO H. RES. 1205 OFFERED BY MR. LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART OF FLORIDA

Strike all after the resolved clause and insert:

That upon the adoption of this resolution it shall be in order to consider in the House the bill (H.R. 4849) to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to provide tax incentives for small business job creation, extend the Build America Bonds program, provide other infrastructure job creation tax incentives, and for other purposes. All points of order against the bill and against its consideration are waived except those arising under clauses 9 or 10 of rule XXI. The amendment in the nature of a substitute recommended by the Committee on Ways and Means now printed in the bill, modified by the amendment printed in the report of the Committee on Rules accompanying this resolution, shall be considered as adopted. The bill, as amended, shall be considered as read. All points of order against provisions in the bill, as amended, are waived. The previous question shall be considered as ordered on the bill, as amended, to final passage without intervening motion except: (1) one hour of debate equally divided and controlled by the chair and ranking minority member of the Committee on Ways and Means; (2) the amendment in section 2 of this resolution if offered by Representative Camp of Michigan or his designee, which shall be in order without intervention of any point of order, shall be considered as read, and shall be separately debatable for one hour equally divided and controlled by the proponent and an opponent; and (3) one motion to recommit with or without instructions.

SEC. 2. The amendment referred to in section 1 is as follows:

Strike all after the enacting clause and insert the following:

SECTION 1. DEDUCTION FOR QUALIFIED SMALL BUSINESS INCOME.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Paragraph (1) of section 199(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 is amended to read as follows:

"(1) IN GENERAL.—There shall be allowed as a deduction an amount equal to the sum of—

"(A) 9 percent of the lesser of—

"(i) the qualified production activities income of the taxpayer for the taxable year, or

"(ii) taxable income (determined without regard to this section) for the taxable year, and

"(B) in the case of a qualified small business for a taxable year beginning in 2010 or 2011, _____ percent of the lesser of—

"(i) the qualified small business income of the taxpayer for the taxable year, or

"(ii) taxable income (determined without regard to this section) for the taxable year."

(b) QUALIFIED SMALL BUSINESS; QUALIFIED SMALL BUSINESS INCOME.—Section 199 of such Code is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

"(e) QUALIFIED SMALL BUSINESS; QUALIFIED SMALL BUSINESS INCOME.—

"(1) QUALIFIED SMALL BUSINESS.—

"(A) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of this section, the term 'qualified small business' means any taxpayer for any taxable year if the annual average number of employees employed by such taxpayer during such taxable year was 500 or fewer.

"(B) AGGREGATION RULE.—For purposes of subparagraph (A), any person treated as a single employer under subsection (a) or (b) of section 52 (applied without regard to section 1563(b)) or subsection (m) or (o) of section 414 shall be treated as 1 taxpayer for purposes of this subsection.

"(C) SPECIAL RULE.—If a taxpayer is treated as a qualified small business for any taxable year, the taxpayer shall not fail to be treated as a qualified small business for any subsequent taxable year solely because the number of employees employed by such taxpayer during such subsequent taxable year exceeds 500. The preceding sentence shall cease to apply to such taxpayer in the first taxable year in which there is an ownership change (as defined by section 382(g) in respect of a corporation, or by applying principles analogous to such ownership change in the case of a taxpayer that is a partnership) with respect to the stock (or partnership interests) of the taxpayer.

"(2) QUALIFIED SMALL BUSINESS INCOME.—

"(A) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of this section, the term 'qualified small business income' means the excess of—

"(i) the income of the qualified small business which—

"(I) is attributable to the actual conduct of a trade or business,

"(II) is income from sources within the United States (within the meaning of section 861), and

"(III) is not passive income (as defined in section 904(d)(2)(B)), over

"(ii) the sum of—

"(I) the cost of goods sold that are allocable to such income, and

"(II) other expenses, losses, or deductions (other than the deduction allowed under this section), which are properly allocable to such income.

"(B) EXCEPTIONS.—The following shall not be treated as income of a qualified small business for purposes of subparagraph (A):

"(i) Any income which is attributable to any property described in section 1400N(p)(3).

"(ii) Any income which is attributable to the ownership or management of any professional sports team.

"(iii) Any income which is attributable to a trade or business described in subparagraph (B) of section 1202(e)(3).

"(iv) Any income which is attributable to any property with respect to which records are required to be maintained under section 2257 of title 18, United States Code.

"(C) ALLOCATION RULES, ETC.—Rules similar to the rules of paragraphs (2), (3), (4)(D), and (7) of subsection (c) shall apply for purposes of this paragraph.

"(3) SPECIAL RULES.—Except as otherwise provided by the Secretary, rules similar to the rules of subsection (d) shall apply for purposes of this subsection."

(c) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—Section 199(a)(2) of such Code is amended by striking "paragraph (1)" and inserting "paragraph (1)(A)".

(d) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall apply to taxable years beginning after December 31, 2009.

SEC. 2. EXCLUSION OF UNPROCESSED FUELS FROM THE CELLULOSIC BIOFUEL PRODUCER CREDIT.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Subparagraph (E) of section 40(b)(6) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 is amended by adding at the end the following new clause:

"(iii) EXCLUSION OF UNPROCESSED FUELS.—The term 'cellulosic biofuel' shall not include any fuel if—

"(I) more than 4 percent of such fuel (determined by weight) is any combination of water and sediment, or

"(II) the ash content of such fuel is more than 1 percent (determined by weight)."

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendment made by this section shall apply to fuels sold or used on or after January 1, 2010.

THE VOTE ON THE PREVIOUS QUESTION: WHAT IT REALLY MEANS

This vote, the vote on whether to order the previous question on a special rule, is not merely a procedural vote. A vote against ordering the previous question is a vote against the Democratic majority agenda and a vote to allow the opposition, at least for the moment, to offer an alternative plan. It is a vote about what the House should be debating.

Mr. Clarence Cannon's Precedents of the House of Representatives, (VI, 308-311) describes the vote on the previous question on the rule as "a motion to direct or control the consideration of the subject before the House being made by the Member in charge." To defeat the previous question is to give the opposition a chance to decide the subject before the House. Cannon cites the Speaker's ruling of January 13, 1920, to the effect that "the refusal of the House to sustain the demand for the previous question passes the control of the resolution to the opposition" in order to offer an amendment. On March 15, 1909, a member of the majority party offered a rule resolution. The House defeated the previous question and a member of the opposition rose to a parliamentary inquiry, asking who was entitled to recognition. Speaker Joseph G. Cannon (R-Illinois) said: "The previous question having been refused, the gentleman from New York, Mr. Fitzgerald, who had asked the gentleman to yield to him for an amendment, is entitled to the first recognition."

Because the vote today may look bad for the Democratic majority they will say "the vote on the previous question is simply a vote on whether to proceed to an immediate vote on adopting the resolution . . . [and] has no substantive legislative or policy implications whatsoever." But that is not what they have always said. Listen to the definition of the previous question used in the Floor Procedures Manual published by the Rules Committee in the 109th Congress, (page 56). Here's how the Rules Committee described the rule using information from Congressional Quarterly's "American Congressional Dictionary": "If the previous question is defeated, control of debate shifts to the leading opposition member (usually the minority Floor Manager) who then manages an hour of debate and may offer a germane amendment to the pending business."

Deschler's Procedure in the U.S. House of Representatives, the subchapter titled "Amending Special Rules" states: "a refusal to order the previous question on such a rule [a special rule reported from the Committee on Rules] opens the resolution to amendment and further debate." (Chapter 21, section 21.2) Section 21.3 continues: "Upon rejection of the motion for the previous question on a resolution reported from the Committee on Rules, control shifts to the Member leading the opposition to the previous question, who may offer a proper amendment or motion and who controls the time for debate thereon."

Clearly, the vote on the previous question on a rule does have substantive policy implications. It is one of the only available tools for those who oppose the Democratic majority's agenda and allows those with alternative views the opportunity to offer an alternative plan.

Mr. CARDOZA. I yield back the balance of my time, and I move the previous question on the resolution.

The previous question was ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the resolution.

The question was taken; and the Speaker pro tempore announced that the ayes appeared to have it.

Mr. LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Madam Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 and clause 9 of rule XX, this 15-minute vote on ordering the previous question on House Resolution 1205 will be followed by 5-minute votes on adoption of House Resolution 1205 and on suspending the rules and passing House Joint Resolution 80, if ordered.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yeas 240, nays 179, not voting 10, as follows:

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore (during the vote). Two minutes remaining in the vote.

So (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the joint resolution was passed.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX, the Chair will postpone further proceedings today on motions to suspend the rules on which a recorded vote or the yeas and nays are ordered, or on which the vote incurs objection under clause 6 of rule XX.

Record votes on postponed questions will be taken later.

NATIONAL DISTRACTED DRIVING AWARENESS MONTH

Ms. MARKEY of Colorado. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and agree to the resolution (H. Res. 1186) expressing support for designation of April as National Distracted Driving Awareness Month.

The Clerk read the title of the resolution.

The text of the resolution is as follows:

H. RES. 1186

Whereas 9-year-old Erica Forney of Fort Collins, Colorado, was struck and killed by a distracted driver in 2008;

Whereas there were more than 276,000,000 wireless cell phone subscribers in the United States as of June 2009, an increase of 42 percent from 194,000,000 in June 2005, and nearly 3 times more than the 97,000,000 wireless subscribers in June 2000;

Whereas over 600,000,000 text messages were sent in 2008, nearly 4 times the number sent in 2006;

Whereas according to the recent National Motor Vehicle Crash Causation Survey, 80 percent of all traffic incidents and 65 percent of all near-crashes involve some type of distraction;

Whereas according to data from the Fatality Analysis Reporting System (FARS), driver distraction was reported to have been involved in 16 percent of all fatal crashes in 2008, which is an increase from 12 percent in 2004;

Whereas the Secretary of Transportation held a Distracted Driving Summit in September 2009; and

Whereas April would be an appropriate month to designate as National Distracted Driving Awareness Month: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives—

(1) supports the designation of Distracted Driving Awareness Month;

(2) encourages all people in the United States to consider the lives of others on the road and avoid distracted driving; and

(3) respectfully requests the Clerk of the House to transmit a copy of this resolution to FocusDriven, an advocacy group for victims of motor vehicle crashes involving drivers using cell phones.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentlewoman from Colorado (Ms. MARKEY) and the gentleman from Tennessee (Mr. DUNCAN) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Colorado.

GENERAL LEAVE

Ms. MARKEY of Colorado. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and to include extraneous material on House Resolution 1186.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentlewoman from Colorado?

There was no objection.

Ms. MARKEY of Colorado. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today to raise awareness about a deadly trend in our Nation, distracted driving. Eighty percent of all crashes involve some sort of distraction, and in 2008, nearly 6,000 people lost their lives in accidents involving a distracted behavior.

One of those 6,000 was Erica Forney of Fort Collins, Colorado. Nine-year-old Erica was riding her bike home from school when she was struck and killed by a large SUV whose driver was on a cell phone. The driver said she never even saw Erica who was a mere 15 pedals away from her home.

The tragic story of Erica's death is all too common, and worse, her story was preventable.

I introduce House Resolution 1186 to raise awareness about the dangers of distracted driving. This resolution will designate April as Distracted Driving Awareness Month. Studies have shown that distracted driving is just as dangerous as driving drunk, and while everyone knows driving drunk is dangerous, far fewer people are aware of the risks of distracted driving. A driver increases the risk of a crash by 2,300 percent if he or she is texting while driving.

Currently, 20 States have enacted texting while driving bans, and I'm proud to say Colorado is one of them.

The Federal Government has also taken a stand against distracted driving. The Department of Transportation introduced federal guidance to prohibit texting by drivers of commercial vehicles. President Obama issued an Executive Order banning texting while driving on official business for federal employees. Last September, Secretary LaHood held a distracted driving summit and celebrated the establishment of Focus Driven, a national nonprofit dedicated to ending this epidemic and for providing support for families who have lost loved ones. After hearing stories of those involved with Focus Driven, even Oprah has urged the public to make their cars a "no phone zone."

I urge all of my colleagues to take the "no phone zone" pledge. The risk that you present to yourself and to others by driving distractedly are not worth it. Please pull over and take a call or send a text message.

I urge a "yes" vote on House Resolution 1186 and ask for the help of my colleagues in ending this epidemic of distracted driving.

I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. DUNCAN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I rise in support of House Resolution 1186, a resolution expressing support for designating April as National Distracted Driving Awareness Month, and I would like to commend the gentlewoman from Colorado for introducing this resolution.

This is a growing problem, as she has pointed out. The Transportation Committee held a hearing on distracted driving in October, and the testimony at the hearing proved that there are no shortage of ways a driver can be distracted. And I would like to commend Transportation Secretary LaHood, who has started a nationwide campaign against distracted driving and has made this one of the top priorities of his Department.

During the hearing we held, testimony was presented showing a threefold, or tripling, of the instance of accidents if the driver is holding a handheld cell phone, and a 23-fold increase in the odds of getting in an accident if a driver is texting. According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, as the gentlewoman from Colorado mentioned, 6,000 people die each year in crashes involving a distracted or inattentive driver.

I had a personal experience a few months ago of this. I changed several stations on an XM radio as I was driving on an interstate connector in Knoxville, and when I looked up, the truck in front of me had come almost to a stop. I had to slam on my brakes. I slid across three lanes of traffic, spun around back across the three lanes, slammed into the median, and then back again going in a 360-degree circle. Fortunately, with traffic whizzing by me all the time, I didn't hit another vehicle and no one was injured. But it sure caught my attention and gave me a new awareness of the danger of distracted driving.

During the month of April, I hope this resolution reminds all drivers of the harmful consequences of distracted driving, and I urge my colleagues to support this resolution.

I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. MARKEY of Colorado. I would like to yield to the gentleman from New York (Mr. ENGEL) as much time as he may consume.

Mr. ENGEL. I thank the gentlewoman for yielding to me and I rise today in strong support of her resolution, H. Res. 1186, to designate April as Distracted Driving Awareness Month.

As Secretary of Transportation Ray LaHood recently said, distracted driving is a deadly epidemic. In its 2009 report on distracted driving, the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration estimated that fully one-quarter of traffic accidents involved distracted driving. These crashes resulted in nearly 6,000 fatalities and over half a million injuries. This is why I so strongly support the gentlewoman, Ms. MARKEY's resolution and why I introduced my own legislation, the Distracted Driving Prevention Act.

Electronic devices have become a ubiquitous part of our daily lives. Many of us use BlackBerries, cell phones, and pagers daily, but it's obvious to anybody who has used those devices that a person becomes very distracted while using them. The growing practice of individuals texting or reading emails while driving puts everyone on the road at risk.

My legislation would provide money for driver education and highway signage, both of which have helped reduce the incidence of driving under the influence or driving without a seat belt, according to the U.S. Department of Transportation, so it will work with distracted driving as well. In addition, it would create a national advertising campaign, administered by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, to educate the public on the dangers of distracted driving.

Mr. Speaker, we all know how important it is to end the deadly practice of distracted driving, and I urge my colleagues to support this resolution and work towards an end to this epidemic. If we are really going to be true to ourselves, it's really logical to understand—anybody who drives understands this—that if they are distracted using a cell phone or if they are distracted texting, they cannot be at 100 percent in terms of safety. And so that's why Ms. MARKEY's resolution is so important, and that's why I hope that my legislation, as well, gets passed and signed into law.

Mr. DUNCAN. Mr. Speaker, the half million figure that the gentleman from New York just mentioned is accurate as far as people now, but it's probably a conservative figure, because that's just what the police know about. There are probably a great many other accidents and injuries that are caused by distracted drivers that the police don't recognize, but that is the accepted figure. It's an astounding figure.

I have no other speakers and I urge all my colleagues to support this resolution.

I yield back the balance of my time. Ms. MARKEY of Colorado. I yield to the gentleman from Minnesota for as much time as he may consume.

Mr. OBERSTAR. I thank the gentlewoman for yielding, and I appreciate very much her personal story. It was a very, very compelling story of a child in not only her district, her hometown.

It was very touching for me, Mr. Speaker, because my youngest daughter lives in Fort Collins with her husband and 3-year-old, Cali Jo. Monica bikes in the neighborhoods where she lives at Fort Collins with a child carrier, and I thought of that tragic accident and I thought of Monica, and I thought of her little Cali and how it could well have been them, could well have been this 3-year-old child.

The distinguished gentleman from Tennessee, former chairman of the Aviation Committee and Chair of the Surface Transportation Subcommittee, and the gentleman has been very candid, very touching in the story that he related of his own shocking and deeply troubling experience, that's not to say, scary. Your life just sort of spins out of control at a certain moment when a tragic event of this kind occurs.

These are all reminders, very graphic reminders that we are not talking about an abstraction, not talking about some possibility that might happen to someone else but I don't have to worry. Yes, we do. We all have to worry.

We all can remember a time—when I started up here as a clerk of the Subcommittee on Rivers and Harbors, we had dial telephones. The idea of a cell phone was something written up in Dick Tracy, in the cartoon strip, and Diet Smith. But Diet Smith is with us today.

There are 276 million of these devices in our midst, 276 million cell phones, BlackBerries, smartphones, wireless call phone subscribers; 600 billion text messages sent last year in the United States, just in the United States alone. It's hard to walk down a street and not count one out of every three people or maybe even more with a cell phone on their ear, looking at a BlackBerry in their hand. I have seen people run into telephone poles looking at these things. Then what happens when they are driving?

There are lots of reasons for distracted driving: eating, drinking, talking to passengers, singing songs, looking at a map. I have seen people with a newspaper on their steering wheel driving down, to be sure, in congested traffic, but they ought to be paying attention to the traffic and not to the newspaper. Worst is the cell phone; it's an extraordinary distraction.

And what we know is that 80 percent of traffic incidents, two-thirds of all the near misses on the roadways, are due to distracted driving; 6,000 fatalities a year. It's not just in the United States.

Two years ago, I met with the 27 Ministers of the European Transportation Ministry. We talked about a wide range of issues. I discussed with them what we were planning on surface transportation, in our committee, and water resources needs, but the one thing they all wanted to talk about was distracted driving.

It's a serious problem in the 520 million population of the 27 members of the European Union such that the Transport Ministry and the European Parliament Committee on Transportation have enacted legislation prohibiting the use of cell phones and BlackBerries while driving.

In Portugal, the Minister of Transportation told me it is a crime. They have made it a crime to use a cell phone while driving; it is that serious an issue, that serious a threat to life and limb.

As we discuss this legislation today, as we voted unanimously in our committee to report this bill out, let us remember 9-year-old Erica Forney. Let us remember Mr. DUNCAN and his life-saving experience. Let us remember the other thousands who are killed annually by people who just aren't paying attention, who are seriously distracted and whose lives we can save as we pass this bill.

Let us also thank our Secretary of Transportation, Ray LaHood, for taking the initiative, having the courage to stand up, call a national conference on distracted driving, and then issue a directive to the Department and use the authority that he has to limit within or prohibit within the Department and set an example for all of our fellow citizens on distracted driving.

But as we do this, let us remember that the lives we save will, unlike other things we do, never be able to say thank you. They don't know that we, this day, passed legislation that will move America in the direction of a much safer roadway, a much safer driving experience for all of our fellow citizens. Let us keep the Erica Forneys in our minds and in our hearts as we pass this legislation.

Ms. MARKEY of Colorado. I would like to thank the gentleman from Minnesota and the chairman of the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee for his very eloquent statement on behalf of this resolution. I also want to thank my colleague from Tennessee (Mr. DUNCAN) for sharing your very personal story of the impact of distracted driving.

If we just save one life or prevent one accident with this resolution to raise awareness for distracted driving, we will have been successful. So, again, this is to remember those who have lost their lives because of a distracted driver on their cell phone or texting and, again, to raise awareness so that we can prevent future accidents like Erica Forney from Fort Collins, Colorado.

Mr. OBERSTAR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in strong support of H. Res. 1186, offered by the gentlewoman from Colorado (Ms. MARKEY), expressing support for the designation of April as National Distracted Driving Awareness Month. I thank the gentlewoman for her leadership on this important highway safety issue.

Last October, the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure held a hearing to examine the issue of distracted driving, and the risks it poses to the traveling public. Research has highlighted the dangers of distracted driving. According to the Department of Transportation (DOT), 80 percent of traffic incidents and 65 percent of near-misses are as a result of distracted driving. More troubling still are the nearly 6,000 fatalities annually that occur as a result of distracted driving, according to DOT estimates.

Distracted driving can occur in three different forms—visual, manual, or cognitive. Distraction stems from a variety of activities, such as eating or drinking, talking to other passengers, looking at a map, or changing the radio station. Although all distractions are dangerous, in recent years, the problem of electronic devices has become particularly troubling, as it can encompass all three types of distraction—visual, manual, and cognitive.

Cell phones, Blackberrys, and smart phones have become ubiquitous, with 276 million wireless cell phone subscribers in America as of June 2009, and 600 billion text messages sent in 2008 alone. Although these devices have improved communications and the flow of information, their use while driving poses a threat to all users of the surface transportation system.

The gentlewoman from Colorado has seen firsthand the tragic impacts of this in her Congressional district. In November 2008, nine-year old Erica Forney was riding her bike home from school when a driver, distracted by a conversation on her cell phone, struck Erica. On Thanksgiving Day, after two days of hospitalization, Erica passed away. Sadly, stories like Erica's are played out across America every day, and are completely preventable.

To substantially reduce the annual number of highway fatalities, we must take a hard look at distracted driving, especially distractions that come from electronic devices. Last September, Secretary of Transportation Ray LaHood hosted a summit on distracted driving, and acted swiftly to ban texting while driving for commercial vehicle operators. I applaud the Secretary's efforts, and look forward to working with him to improve safety on the nation's transportation network.

Addressing this problem will require commitment from all Americans to focus on the road while they are driving. Just as the efforts of the safety community have helped to stigmatize drunk driving, we need to make it clear that texting and using a cell phone while driving are unsafe and socially unacceptable. Too often, the need to be in constant communication leads us to forget that, without our full attention, driving is a high-risk activity.

By designating April as National Distracted Driving Awareness Month, we can raise awareness of this growing problem, and encourage Americans to think twice before picking up a cell phone or texting while driving.

I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting H. Res. 1186.

Ms. MARKEY of Colorado. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. LUJÁN). The question is on the motion offered by the gentlewoman from Colorado (Ms. MARKEY) that the House suspend the rules and agree to the resolution, H. Res. 1186.

The question was taken.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. In the opinion of the Chair, two-thirds being in the affirmative, the ayes have it.

Ms. MARKEY of Colorado. Mr. Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX and the Chair's prior announcement, further proceedings on this motion will be postponed.

NATIONAL PUBLIC WORKS WEEK

Mr. PERRIELLO. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and agree to the resolution (H. Res. 1125) supporting the goals and ideals of National Public Works Week, and for other purposes, as amended.

The Clerk read the title of the resolution.

The text of the resolution is as follows:

H. RES. 1125

Whereas public works infrastructure, facilities, and services have far-reaching effects on the United States economy and the competitiveness of the United States in the world marketplace;

Whereas public works infrastructure, facilities, and services play a pivotal role in the health, safety, and quality of life of communities throughout the United States;

Whereas public works infrastructure, facilities, and services could not be provided without the skill and dedication of public works professionals, including engineers and administrators, representing State and local governments throughout the United States;

Whereas public works professionals design, build, operate, maintain, and protect the transportation systems, water supply infrastructure, sewage and refuse disposal systems, public buildings, and other structures and facilities that are vital to the citizens, communities, and commerce of the United States;

Whereas the Corps of Engineers, in partnership with public port authorities, provides navigational improvements that link United States producers and customers with national and international markets;

Whereas the public waterways, including locks and dams constructed, operated, and maintained by the Corps of Engineers, provide a safe, energy-efficient, and cost-effective means of transporting goods and services;

Whereas the Corps of Engineers, in partnership with local public entities, provides levees, reservoirs, and other structural and nonstructural flood damage reduction measures that protect millions of families, homes, and businesses;

Whereas a recent analysis of the state of the infrastructure of the United States garnered an overall grade of "D";

Whereas every $1 invested in public transportation generates as much as $6 in economic returns to the economy of the United States;

Whereas the public transportation systems of the United States experienced record ridership levels in 2008, the last full year for which data are available, with 10,680,000,000 passenger trips taken;

Whereas, in the "2008 Conditions & Performance" report of the Department of Transportation, the Department confirms that investment in United States highway, bridge, and transit infrastructure has not kept up with growing demands;

Whereas, in the "2008 Conditions & Performance" report of the Department of Transportation, the Department found that an additional $27,000,000,000 per year in capital investments is needed to sustain highway conditions and performance and an additional $96,000,000,000 per year in capital investments is needed to make cost-effective highway improvements and eliminate the existing bridge maintenance backlog;

Whereas capital expenditures in highways, bridges, and public transportation from all levels of government and the private sector are over $91,450,000,000 annually;

Whereas the capital asset program of the General Services Administration is authorized annually to provide Federal employees with necessary office space, courts of law, and other special purpose facilities;

Whereas, since 1972, the United States has invested more than $300,000,000,000 in wastewater infrastructure facilities to establish a system that includes 16,000 publicly owned wastewater treatment plants, 100,000 major pumping stations, 600,000 miles of sanitary sewers, and 200,000 miles of storm sewers;

Whereas the Pipelines and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration is charged with the safe and secure movement of almost 1,200,000 daily shipments of hazardous materials by all modes of transportation and oversees the safety and security of 2,300,000 miles of gas and hazardous liquid pipelines, which account for 64 percent of the energy commodities consumed in the United States;

Whereas the National Railroad Passenger Corporation annually provides more than 27,100,000 people with intercity rail service;

Whereas the National Surface Transportation Policy and Revenue Study Commission estimates that the total capital cost of reestablishing the national intercity passenger rail network by 2050 is approximately $357,200,000,000 (or $8,100,000,000 annually for the next 40 years);

Whereas 21 airfield projects have opened at 18 of the 35 busiest airports in the United States since fiscal year 2000, including 15 runways, 3 taxiways, one runway extension, one completed airfield reconfiguration, and one airfield reconfiguration that is two-thirds completed, and these airfield projects have provided the airports with the potential to accommodate 1,900,000 additional airfield operations each year and decrease average delay per operation by approximately 5 minutes;

Whereas 3 airports have airfield projects under construction, and an additional airport will begin construction this fiscal year, and these 4 airfield projects will provide the airports with the potential to accommodate an additional 110,900 airfield operations each year and decrease average delay per operation by approximately 1.5 minutes;

Whereas transparency and accountability information relating to the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (Public Law 111-5) submitted monthly to the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure demonstrates successful implementation of highway, transit, and wastewater investments under the Act;

Whereas $31,600,000,000, or 83 percent of the $38,100,000,000 provided for highway, transit, and wastewater infrastructure formula programs under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (Public Law 111-5), has been put out to bid on 15,377 projects as of January 31, 2010;

Whereas, across the United States, as a result of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (Public Law 111-5) work has begun on 11,583 projects totaling $25,000,000,000, or 66 percent of the total available for highway, transit, and wastewater infrastructure formula programs under the Act;

Whereas the 11,583 highway, transit, and wastewater infrastructure projects on which work has begun have created or sustained approximately 330,000 direct jobs as of January 31, 2010;

Whereas total employment from the 11,583 highway, transit, and wastewater infrastructure projects on which work has begun, which includes direct, indirect, and induced jobs, totals more than one million jobs;

Whereas direct job creation from highway, transit, and wastewater infrastructure projects under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (Public Law 111-5) has resulted in payroll expenditures of $1,700,000,000; and

Whereas public works professionals are observing National Public Works Week from May 16 through 22, 2010: Now, therefore, be it Resolved, That the House of Representatives—

(1) supports the goals and ideals of National Public Works Week;

(2) recognizes and celebrates the 50th anniversary of National Public Works Week; and

(3) urges citizens and communities throughout the United States to join with representatives of the Federal Government in activities and ceremonies that are designed to pay tribute to the public works professionals of the United States and to recognize the substantial contributions that public works professionals make to the United States.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. PERRIELLO) and the gentleman from Tennessee (Mr. DUNCAN) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Virginia.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. PERRIELLO. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and to include extraneous material on H. Res. 1125.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Virginia?

There was no objection.

Mr. PERRIELLO. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H. Res. 1125, supporting the goals and ideals of National Public Works Week.

This year, we will celebrate the 50th anniversary of National Public Works Week. During the Great Depression, public works rose to prominence as a means to help stabilize our Nation by putting people to work to create a national infrastructure that benefited all Americans.

Once again, our country faces similar challenges and our public works will help our Nation regain its footing.

Every $1 we invest in public transportation produces nearly $6 in return for our economy. These investments include every realm of our infrastructure.

In 2008, over 10 billion trips were taken on our public transportation systems. Commitments to airfield projects have expanded capacity while decreasing delays, and expenditures in wastewater projects have led to the construction of 16,000 treatment plants and 800,000 miles of sanitary and storm sewers.

We must not grow complacent. Our present infrastructure does not meet the needs of our country to move forward.

In addition to recognizing the accomplishments of our public works professionals, this resolution highlights the need to continue moving our country in the right direction. We must commit to increasing the investment in our roads and highways that are badly underfunded while creating jobs that our communities so desperately need.

These projects put Americans to work. They provide citizens with a stable job and a decent wage. Robert Kennedy once stated, "We need jobs; dignified employment at decent pay; the kind of employment that lets a man say to his community, to his family, to his country, and most important, to himself: 'I helped to build this country. I am a participant in its great public ventures.'"

Public works projects help our Nation achieve this vision, and, through this resolution, we celebrate those who have worked to strengthen our country. I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting H. Res. 1125.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. DUNCAN. Mr. Speaker, I recognize myself for such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this resolution, and I want to commend the gentleman from Virginia for introducing this resolution.

Whether it is for aviation, navigation, flood protection, highways, clean water, rail, our public buildings, transportation and infrastructure, projects play a critical part in our daily lives. The benefits of public works projects and those responsible for their design, construction, and maintenance are not often noticed and appreciated, so it is very fitting that we do so today with this resolution.

Much of our public works infrastructure is old and in need of modernization if our Nation is going to be able to compete globally in an environmentally sustainable manner.

The Transportation and Infrastructure Committee, on which I have had the privilege of serving since I came to this Congress in 1988, was formerly called the Public Works and Transportation Committee. The Federal Government, over the last many years, has gotten involved in many things that it really probably shouldn't be involved in and really does not have the authority to be involved in under our constitution.

I have always enjoyed my work on the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee because I believe there is a very legitimate and very important national interest in the work of that committee. People in California sometimes use the airports in Texas. People in Ohio sometimes use the roads in Tennessee. People in New York sometimes use the water systems in Florida, and on and on and on.

The Transportation and Infrastructure Committee has jurisdiction over our water transportation system.

Chairman OBERSTAR mentioned that I have been chairman of the Aviation Subcommittee for several years. I also chaired the Water Resources and Environment Subcommittee and enjoyed chairing both of those subcommittees.

Today I have the privilege of serving on the Highways and Transit Subcommittee, and I was at one point the ranking member many years ago of the Public Buildings and Grounds Subcommittee, so I have seen the full scope of work of this committee. But this resolution came out of the Water Resources and Environment Subcommittee and does emphasize that important part of the work.

Our water transportation system consists of 926 coastal and inland harbors maintained by the Corps of Engineers and 25,000 miles of inland and coastal commercial waterways. If we do not keep our harbors and waterways operating efficiently, this certainly is a great threat to our economic prosperity.

In addition, we can't continue to take our modern wastewater treatment facilities for granted. Not only are they critical to protecting our health and the environment, they are critical to protecting our economy and way of life. Public infrastructure plays a critical role in enhancing our quality of life, improving our environment, and certainly contributes to our economic prosperity.

We too often take these systems and the engineers and other professionals and administrators for granted, so it is very important for Congress to recognize the contribution they make to ensuring that America remains the world's premier economic power and that we continue to have the standard of living that we are so fortunate to have in this country. I urge all Members to support H. Res. 1125.

I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. PERRIELLO. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as she may consume to the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON).

Ms. EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON of Texas. The National Public Works Week is celebrated each year during the month of May, and it has been designated by a number of organizations to celebrate our public works professionals and the critical work they do to keep our infrastructure and transportation systems working efficiently and economically. House Resolution 1125 pays tribute to these professionals, recognizing their work the week of May 16–22, 2010.

Public works are loosely defined as projects that are carried out for the public good, aptly named because they enable the public to complete its work. Hazardous materials, pipelines, and municipal infrastructures such as water supply infrastructure and sewage and refuse disposal systems, and transportation systems such as rail, highways, airports, and public transit, all fall under the public works umbrella.

Public works are vital to our Nation. Our commerce depends on the shipment of goods through rail, on our roads, and through air.

Public transportation provides many with a cost-effective way to travel while also reducing harmful effects on our environment.

Our public health depends on our water supply infrastructure as well as our sewage and disposal systems.

For the importance that they play in our daily lives, our transportation and infrastructure systems and facilities often do not receive the recognition they deserve. Although public works are depended upon daily, they receive no glory or praise when accomplishing the job. Rather, many only pay attention to these public works when they fail, such as levee failures that result in flooded communities.

I recognize the importance of public works for our communities and our country, and I am grateful to the administrators, engineers, and servicemen who continue to utilize their skills and provide hours of service and dedication to ensure these necessary facilities and systems work for our Nation. I support this resolution strongly and I urge my colleagues to support it as well.

Mr. OBERSTAR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H. Res. 1125, as amended, supporting the goals and ideals of National Public Works Week, offered by the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. PERRIELLO).

Our Nation's public works, consisting of transportation systems, water supply infrastructure, sewage and refuse disposal systems, public buildings, and other structures and facilities, help our country function in an efficient and effective manner. Just as public works support our economy, our public health, and our communities' livelihood, we must support the many public works professionals who design, build, operate, maintain, and protect these systems and structures.

H. Res. 1125 pays tribute to these public works professionals, celebrating their work the week of May 16 through 22, 2010.

Without our vast network of rail, highways, airports, and public transit, our industries would not have the reach that they currently utilize each day. Without our water supply systems, or our sewage and waste disposal facilities, our communities would not be able to exist and thrive.

Without public works, quite simply, our nation would suffer.

Simple conveniences that we may take for granted—running water in our homes and even the Washington D.C. Metro system that many of our constituents utilize every year when visiting our Nation's Capitol—could not function properly without the dedicated work of the public works professionals who keep these systems operating on a daily basis.

Indeed, it is often only when our systems and facilities fail to work consistently that we notice their importance in our daily routines.

It is no secret that this body has long recognized the importance of our Nation's infrastructure. In fact, in the 111th Congress, we have placed an emphasis on reinvigorating our infrastructure systems and revitalizing our economy by investing in our Nation's public works sector.

I am pleased to note the significant investments in our infrastructure that have been made by the American Reinvestment and Recovery Act (Recovery Act) (P.L. 111–5). Of the $64.1 billion invested by the Recovery Act in critical transportation and infrastructure programs under the Committee's jurisdiction, Federal, State and local agencies administering programs within the Committee's jurisdiction have announced 16,692 transportation and other infrastructure projects totaling $56 billion.

These investments have proven to be critical to job creation in the past year and our public works systems have greatly benefited from them.

I urge my colleagues to join with me in supporting H. Res. 1125.

Mr. DUNCAN. Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support this resolution, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. PERRIELLO. Mr. Speaker, I urge all my colleagues to support this resolution, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. PERRIELLO) that the House suspend the rules and agree to the resolution, H. Res. 1125, as amended.

The question was taken.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. In the opinion of the Chair, two-thirds being in the affirmative, the ayes have it.

Mr. DUNCAN. Mr. Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX and the Chair's prior announcement, further proceedings on this motion will be postponed.

RECOGNIZING THE FLORIDA KEYS SCENIC HIGHWAY

Mr. PERRIELLO. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and agree to the resolution (H. Res. 917) recognizing the Florida Keys Scenic Highway on the occasion of its designation as an All-American Road by the U.S. Department of Transportation, as amended.

The Clerk read the title of the resolution.

The text of the resolution is as follows:

H. RES. 917

Whereas established by Congress in 1991, the National Scenic Byways program is a collaborative effort to help recognize, preserve, and enhance selected roads throughout the United States;

Whereas the U.S. Department of Transportation recognizes certain roads as All-American Roads or National Scenic Byways based on one or more archeological, cultural, historic, natural, recreational, and scenic qualities;

Whereas, on October 16, 2009, the U.S. Department of Transportation announced 42 new designations to the America's Byways collection, including five All-American Roads and 37 National Scenic Byways, thus increasing the total number of designations to 151;

Whereas the Florida Keys Scenic Highway was listed by the U.S. Department of Transportation as one of five All-American Roads for 2009;

Whereas the Florida Keys Scenic Highway is the first All-American Road in the State of Florida and only one of 30 in the United States, joining an elite list which includes the Blue Ridge Parkway, Alaska's Seward Highway, and Historic Route 66;

Whereas the Florida Keys Scenic Highway follows the railroad trail blazed in the 1900s by Henry Flagler;

Whereas the Florida Keys Scenic Highway comprises of an 110-mile stretch of US 1 from Key Largo to Key West;

Whereas the Florida Keys Scenic Highway incorporates 42 bridges over the waters of the Atlantic Ocean, Florida Bay, and the Gulf of Mexico;

Whereas the road's corridor is a leading tourist destination, featuring world-renowned coral reefs, exotic fish species, and historic shipwrecks; and

Whereas the end of the Florida Keys Scenic Highway, Mile Marker 0, is the southernmost city in the Continental United States: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives—

(1) recognizes the Florida Keys Scenic Highway on the occasion of its designation as an All-American Road by the U.S. Department of Transportation; and

(2) congratulates those residents of the Florida Keys who participated in the effort to support this designation.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from the Virginia (Mr. PERRIELLO) and the gentleman from Tennessee (Mr. DUNCAN) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Virginia.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. PERRIELLO. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and to include extraneous material on H. Res. 917.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Virginia?

There was no objection.

Mr. PERRIELLO. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I rise today in support of H. Res. 917, offered by the gentlewoman from Florida (Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN), recognizing the Florida Keys Scenic Highway on the occasion of its designation as an All-American Road.

Since its establishment in 1991, the Scenic Byways program has recognized a collection of roadways that are notable for their scenic, cultural, and historic characteristics. Last October, the Department of Transportation announced the newest additions to the Federal Scenic Byway program, including the Florida Keys Scenic Highway which was awarded the designation of All-American Road.

I would also like to note another corridor that was designated by the National Scenic Byway at that time, the historical Journey Through Hallowed Ground Byway, which runs from Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, to Charlottesville, Virginia.

The Florida Keys Scenic Highway runs for over 100 miles along U.S. 1, from Key Largo to Key West, following the East Coast Railway line originally established by Henry Flagler in the 1900s. The highway serves as a key transportation link and tourist destination for southern Florida, crossing 42 bridges over the Atlantic Ocean, the Florida Bay, and the Gulf of Mexico.

The designation of All-American Road brings the Florida Keys Scenic Highway into a select group that includes Virginia's Blue Ridge Parkway, Alaska's Seward Highway, and the historic Route 66. In order to be designated as an All-American Road, a highway, must possess two outstanding intrinsic qualities on a national scale and must serve as a destination unto itself. The Florida Keys Scenic Highway is the first All-American Road in the State of Florida and one of just five to receive such a designation from the Department of Transportation in the most recent round of awards.

A scenic byways designation comes as the result of much work from area residents as well as local and State governments. This effort began with the designation of the highway as a Florida State Scenic Byway in 2001, the first step towards gaining recognition under the Federal program. This designation is a testament to the hard work of the residents of the Florida Keys who sought to recognize and enhance this vital corridor.

Being designated as a scenic byway is a significant distinction, as today there are only 151 nationally designated scenic byways around the country. These byways give Americans access to the best our country has to offer and provide a window into our history and our culture.

I thank the gentlewoman from Florida for bringing forth this resolution to honor the designation of the Florida Keys Scenic Highway as an All-American Road and to congratulate the residents of the Florida Keys who worked to support this designation. I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting H. Res. 917.

I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. DUNCAN. I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, House Resolution 917, as amended, recognizes the Florida Keys Scenic Highway on the occasion of its designation as an All-American Road by the U.S. Department of Transportation.

Few roads in America offer such natural beauty and rich history as the Florida Keys Scenic Highway. The 106-mile journey takes the traveler through miles of ocean vistas, State and national parks, and areas rich in cultural heritage. It truly is a road to paradise.

On October 16, 2009, the Florida Keys Scenic Highway was designated an All-American Road through the Federal Highway Administration's National Scenic Byways program.

I have about one of the first scenic highways, the Cherokeela Skyway, through a mountainous area of my district, and I had the privilege of serving as the first Republican cochair of the Scenic Byways Caucus. This designation goes a little further. An All-American Road designation will help recognize and preserve this remarkable road through the collaborative efforts of the Florida Department of Transportation and local grassroots organizations.

This bipartisan resolution has more than 20 cosponsors; but I especially want to commend the gentlewoman from Florida (Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN), who has been such a leader in this Congress on many different issues, for introducing this resolution. I join her and all of the cosponsors in supporting passage of this resolution, and I urge my colleagues to do the same.

I yield such time as she may consume to the gentlelady from Florida (Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN).

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN. I thank the Speaker and I thank my good friend for the time. Thank you very much to my colleagues on the other side.

I obviously rise in strong support of my resolution. I introduced it to recognize the Florida Keys Scenic Highway and its designation as an All-American Road by the U.S. Department of Transportation.

I have the wonderful pleasure of representing this historic highway, long known as the Overseas Highway, which is part of U.S. 1 and runs along 100 miles through a series of tropical islands from Key Largo to Key West. It is paradise.

This resolution also recognizes the many dedicated grassroots activists who have long worked hard on this major endeavor, actually since 1996. They formed the Florida Keys Scenic Corridor in 2007 and finally made this dream a reality.

The Florida Keys Scenic Highway is one of only five All-American Roads named on October 16, 2009, by the U.S. Department of Transportation under the National Scenic Byways program.

Since 1991, the National Scenic Byways program has recognized, preserved, and enhanced a collection of All-American Roads based on their scenic, historic, recreational, cultural, archeological, and natural intrinsic qualities.

The Florida Keys Scenic Highway was chosen in particular on its recreational and scenic qualities, and it is the first All-American Road in my wonderful State of Florida, the Sunshine State.

Since its completion in 1944, the highway has long been a leading tourist destination known for its recreational opportunities, for its State and national parks, its historic sites, its museums and cultural heritage. Along the highway are many historical sites, such as the Florida Keys History of Diving Museum on Islamorada which focuses on the 500-year-old history of salvaging wrecks beginning with the Spanish galleons.

Another milestone in the highway's history is Pigeon Key, which served as the base camp for those who built the old Florida Keys extension of the Florida East Coast Railroad which was destroyed by the 1935 hurricane.

And, finally, at the end of this beautiful road, at the end of the highway is the city of Key West, which includes among its many attractions the Key West Lighthouse, the Civil War-era Fort Zachary Taylor, and the Ernest Hemingway home.

This resolution is a fitting tribute to the many men and women who contributed to the fabled history of this fabulous highway which stretches back hundreds of years. I thank the committee for allowing me to present and hopefully pass this resolution. I thank my good friend from Tennessee for the time.

Mr. DUNCAN. Mr. Speaker, I have no additional speakers. I will simply say that I have had the privilege of having two different visits of several days each to the Florida Keys. It's a beautiful area. I've read much of the history of the area. I've been on this highway on several occasions, and I think it's very fitting and appropriate that it be given this All-American Road designation.

So I urge support of this resolution, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. PERRIELLO. Mr. Speaker, I just want to thank my colleague from Florida for her tremendous work on this effort, congratulate the people of Florida, and urge colleagues on both sides of the aisle to support this resolution.

Mr. OBERSTAR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H. Res. 917, offered by the gentlewoman from Florida (Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN), recognizing the Florida Keys Scenic Highway on the occasion of its designation as an All-American Road. The Florida Keys Scenic Highway is one of the newest additions to the Federal Scenic Byways program, which recognizes, preserves, and enhances scenic routes across the country.

The Florida Keys Scenic Highway runs for more than 100 miles from Key West to Key Largo, bounded by the Atlantic Ocean and the Gulf of Mexico. The highway conveys travelers across 42 bridges and is noted for its unique scenic and recreational qualities.

This designation brings the Florida Keys Scenic Highway into an elite group of All-American Roads, which must possess several outstanding intrinsic qualities and must serve as a destination unto itself. This byway is the first All-American Road in the State of Florida, and one of only five to receive such a designation from the Department of Transportation in the most recent round of awards.

The Scenic Byways program is the cornerstone of our efforts to provide transportation options that celebrate our nation's scenic, cultural, and historic heritage, and has been an integral part of our Federal-aid highway program since its inception in 1991.

Being designated as a scenic byway is a notable distinction, one given only after thorough consideration. Today, there are 151 byways across the country, which represent the best America has to offer in recreation, history, and scenic travel. These byways are the soul of our national infrastructure, taking people where they want to go—not just where the road takes them. The program recognizes the richness that America has to offer—the scenic vistas, diverse cultures, and historic places that define the American landscape.

These byways are a national treasure, providing cultural, scenic, and recreational opportunities for all Americans. From California's scenic Route 1, winding along the Pacific coastline; to the historic National Road, the first federally-funded interstate highway running from Illinois to West Virginia; to the Selma to Montgomery Byway in Alabama, honoring the leaders of the civil rights movement, our byways preserve our history and allow us to appreciate the beauty of the American landscape.

The Surface Transportation Authorization Act, marked up by the Subcommittee on Highways and Transit last summer, will continue our commitment to this important program and preserve these treasures for generations to come.

I thank the gentlewoman from Florida for bringing forth this resolution to honor the designation of the Florida Keys Scenic Highway as an All-American Road, and congratulate the residents of the Florida Keys who worked to bring this designation to fruition.

I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting H. Res. 917.

Mr. PERRIELLO. I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. PERRIELLO) that the House suspend the rules and agree to the resolution, H. Res. 917, as amended.

The question was taken.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. In the opinion of the Chair, two-thirds being in the affirmative, the ayes have it.

Mr. PERRIELLO. Mr. Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX and the Chair's prior announcement, further proceedings on this motion will be postponed.

CHANEY, GOODMAN, SCHWERNER FEDERAL BUILDING

Mr. PERRIELLO. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 3562) to designate the Federal building under construction at 1220 Echelon Parkway in Jackson, Mississippi, as the "James Chaney, Andrew Goodman, and Michael Schwerner Federal Building," as amended.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The text of the bill is as follows:

H.R. 3562

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. BUILDING DESIGNATION.

The Administrator of General Services shall ensure that the federally occupied building located at 1220 Echelon Parkway in Jackson, Mississippi, is known and designated as the "James Chaney, Andrew Goodman, and Michael Schwerner Federal Building".

SEC. 2. REFERENCES.

With respect to the period in which the building referred to in section 1 is federally occupied, any reference in a law, map, regulation, document, paper, or other record of the United States to that building shall be deemed to be a reference to the "James Chaney, Andrew Goodman, and Michael Schwerner Federal Building".

Amend the title so as to read: "A bill to designate the federally occupied building located at 1220 Echelon Parkway in Jackson, Mississippi, as the 'James Chaney, Andrew Goodman, and Michael Schwerner Federal Building'."

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. PERRIELLO) and the gentleman from Florida (Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Virginia.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. PERRIELLO. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and to include extraneous material on H.R. 3562.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Virginia?

There was no objection.

Mr. PERRIELLO. I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today in strong support of H.R. 3562, as amended, which designates the federally occupied building located at 1220 Echelon Parkway in Jackson, Mississippi, as the "James Chaney, Andrew Goodman, and Michael Schwerner Federal Building."

The events surrounding these three young men have a special place in the history of the civil rights movement. James Chaney, Andrew Goodman, and Michael Schwerner were civil rights activists who were training in Ohio to organize African Americans in Mississippi during the Freedom Summer of 1964. These three young men represented a wave of young Americans that took time off from other parts of their lives to wade into certain adversity in the fight for equal rights for all Americans.

During this fateful summer, these three young men were arrested by the local police as they were leaving the site of the burned church and held by the police for several hours. Later, they were released, only to be re-arrested shortly thereafter. After the second arrest, the local police official turned the three civil rights activists over to members of the Ku Klux Klan. All three activists were later murdered and their bodies were buried in an earthen dam outside of Philadelphia, Mississippi.

Many Members of this Chamber came of age during the civil rights movement, and it was a defining time in American history. This bill offers an opportunity to recognize the sacrifice of these young men, which galvanized the Nation's conscience on the brutality that everyday Americans were facing. The public's reaction to these events ultimately provided the momentum necessary for passage of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. The bill is all the more significant since the named building will house the Jackson, Mississippi FBI field office, which was created at the behest of President Lyndon B. Johnson as a result of this horrific crime. It is fitting that we honor the memory of these young men in designating the federally occupied building located at 1220 Echelon Parkway in Jackson, Mississippi, as the "James Chaney, Andrew Goodman, and Michael Schwerner Federal Building." I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting H.R. 3562.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I want to thank the gentleman for his explanation of a moment in history that left a mark on this country and changed this country forever. These three individuals, James Chaney, Andrew Goodman, and Michael Schwerner, whose blood was spilled in 1964 in their quest for freedom for civil rights, that blood was spilled and it became part of a wave of change that swept our country towards civil rights. Others also sacrificed a lot for those efforts. It's fitting that this building will be named for them. It will be a memorial not only for them, for their sacrifice, and for those others who sacrificed as well, but also a reminder as to how far we have come from those sad days in 1964. These three gentlemen gave their lives, but it was not in vain. We've seen the changes ever since. So, again, I think this is a fitting memorial and a fitting reminder for all of us as to the sacrifices that many have made and to how far we have come.

With that, Mr. Speaker, I would reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. PERRIELLO. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. THOMPSON), the author of this bill.

Mr. THOMPSON of Mississippi. I appreciate the time from the gentleman from Virginia.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 3562, a bill to designate the FBI building under construction in Jackson, Mississippi, as the Chaney, Goodman, and Schwerner Federal Building.

Mr. Speaker, 45 years ago, three young men lost their lives while attempting to organize and register voters during what became known as Freedom Summer. These men were James Chaney, a 21-year-old Meridian, Mississippi, native; Andrew Goodman, a 20-year-old college student from New York; and Michael Schwerner, a 24-year-old CORE organizer and social worker, also from New York.

Mr. Speaker, on July 21, 1964, the three men were driving from Meridian, Mississippi, to Longdale, Mississippi, to investigate the burning of Mount Zion United Methodist Church, which had been the meeting place for numerous civil rights groups. Along their journey, the trio was stopped by a Neshoba County deputy, who was also known as a member of the Ku Klux Klan. Subsequently, the three young men were arrested for speeding and held at the Neshoba County jail, without the use of a telephone. Hours later, they were fined and released. Shortly after the trio continued their journey, they were again pulled over by the sheriff's deputy, who was, unbeknown to them, followed by a mob of Klansmen who had assembled to abduct and kill the men. The three individuals were taken to a remote area of the county and were beaten and killed. Their car was burned and their bodies were buried in an earthen dam.

Mr. Speaker, the murders of James Chaney, who was black, and Andrew Goodman and Michael Schwerner, both Jewish, attracted national attention to the voracity of the State's racial problems. As a result of their deaths, there was more pressure on the Federal Government to pass the Voting Rights Act. After significant investigation by the FBI, the individuals' bodies were found on August 4, 1964. Due to Mississippi officials' refusal to prosecute the individuals for murder, the Justice Department brought charges against 17 individuals for conspiracy to deprive the three workers of their civil rights. Seven of the 17 individuals were found guilty, but none of them served terms longer than 6 years in jail. Mr. Speaker, finally, on June 21, 2005, a Neshoba County jury convicted Edgar Ray Killen on three counts of manslaughter and sentenced him to three consecutive terms of 20 years in prison in connection with the deaths of the young men.

Mr. Speaker, these young men paid the ultimate price attempting to bring justice and equality to my home State of Mississippi. While the naming of this building pales in comparison to the loss of a son or brother, we hope that the families of these three young men will find solace in our acknowledgment of their contribution by naming the latest symbol of justice in Mississippi after their loved ones. May the naming of this building service as a notice to domestic terrorists—in this instance, they were law enforcement officials, Ku Klux Klansmen, and trucking company owners—that their actions will never be tolerated again.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to insert in the RECORD from the City of Jackson, Mississippi and the Hinds County Board of Supervisors resolutions passed supporting the naming of this building in honor of Chaney, Goodman, and Schwerner.

Mr. Speaker, while there may be many individuals who are worthy of having their names grace Mississippi's new FBI building, I cannot think of any more fitting for this honor than James Chaney, Andrew Goodman, and Michael Schwerner.

RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF HINDS COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI IN SUPPORT OF NAMING THE FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION (FBI) BUILDING IN HONOR OF JAMES CHANEY, ANDREW GOODMAN AND MICHAEL SCHWERNER

Whereas, it is the intent of the Hinds County Board of Supervisors, to rise strong in support and recognize the contributions of Chaney, Goodman, and Schwerner, remarkable gentlemen who dedicated their lives to the service of others, in the effort to name the Federal Bureau Investigation (FBI) Building located on 1220 Echelon Parkway, Jackson, Mississippi, in their honor; and,

Whereas, in June 1964, three young civil rights workers disappeared outside Philadelphia, Mississippi, where they were involved in the registering of African-Americans who had a desire to vote. The Department of Justice requested the Federal Bureau Investigation (FBI) to intervene and lead the case. During this time, an intensive search for the young men was launched. At the request of President Lyndon Johnson, a new Federal Bureau Investigation (FBI) field office opened in Jackson, Mississippi; and,

Whereas, as a result of the opening of the Jackson Division and the subsequent investigations, the bodies of the three civil workers were found in August 1964, in an earthen dam near Philadelphia, Mississippi. Seven men were convicted of federal conspiracy charges and sentenced to prison terms ranging from three to ten years. MIBURN, "Mississippi Burning" as the case was called, became one of the largest investigations ever conducted in Mississippi; and,

Whereas, today, the Jackson Division has Special Agents assigned at the headquarters office in Jackson and in the nine (9) Resident Agencies, located in Columbus, Greenville, Gulfport, Hattiesburg, Meridian, Oxford, Pascagoula, Southaven, and Tupelo, Mississippi; and,

Whereas, time may blur the enormous personal risk that they took in America in 1964; today these civil rights activists are recognized and remembered by people of all races for not only the effect they had on the civil rights movement but also for their selfless acts of heroism: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, that the Hinds County Board of Supervisors, does hereby express its unconditional support and commend the life and legacy of Chaney, Goodman, and Schwerner, and supports the effort to name the Federal Bureau Investigation (FBI) Building in their honor.

RESOLUTION OF THE CITY OF JACKSON, MISSISSIPPI, IN SUPPORT OF NAMING THE FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION (FBI) BUILDING IN HONOR OF JAMES CHANEY, ANDREW GOODMAN, AND MICHAEL SCHWERNER

Whereas, it is the intent of the governing authorities of the City of Jackson, Mississippi ("City of Jackson"), to recognize the contributions of James Chaney, Andrew Goodman, and Michael Schwerner, three (3) remarkable gentlemen who dedicated their lives to the service of others; and

Whereas, in June 1964, these three young civil rights workers disappeared outside Philadelphia, Mississippi, where they were involved in the registering of African-Americans who had a desire to vote; and

Whereas, the Department of Justice requested the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) to intervene and lead the case; whereby, the FBI lead an intensive search for the young men; and

Whereas, during the investigation, and at the request of President Lyndon B. Johnson, a new Federal Bureau Investigation (FBI) field office was opened in Jackson, Mississippi; and

Whereas, as a result of the opening of the Jackson Division and the subsequent investigations, the bodies of the three civil workers were found in August 1964, in an earthen dam near Philadelphia, Mississippi; and

Whereas, seven (7) men were convicted of federal conspiracy charges and sentenced to prison terms ranging from three (3) to ten (10) years; and

Whereas, MIBURN ("Mississippi Burning"), as the case was called, became one of the largest investigations ever conducted in Mississippi; and

Whereas, today, the Jackson Division employs Special Agents, which are assigned to the headquarters office in the City of Jackson, as well as in the nine (9) Resident Agencies located in the following Mississippi municipalities: Columbus, Greenville, Gulfport, Hattiesburg, Meridian, Oxford, Pascagoula, Southaven, and Tupelo; and

Whereas, these civil rights activists will always be recognized and remembered by people of all races, for not only the effect they had on the civil rights movement, but also for their selfless acts of heroism: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, that the governing authorities of the City of Jackson, Mississippi, do hereby strongly urge and join in the effort to name the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) Building, located on 1220 Echelon Parkway, Jackson, Mississippi, 39201, in honor of the life and legacy of James Chaney, Andrew Goodman, and Michael Schwerner.

Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I would like now to yield such time as he may consume to the ranking member of the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee, the gentleman from Florida (Mr. MICA).

Mr. MICA. First, I want to thank my ranking member of our subcommittee for yielding me the time, and then I want to turn my attention to thanking the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. THOMPSON) for his authorship of this legislation. Also, Ms. NORTON from the District for her cosponsorship and sponsorship of this legislation.

On behalf of all of the Republicans, I am fortunate to be the Republican leader of the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee, the biggest committee in Congress, and proud of the work of this subcommittee in bringing forth this legislation to honor three young heroes, three brave students who, in the summer of 1964, instead of playing games and doing whatever young people did that summer, they chose to become engaged in the civil rights movement and signing up people who previously hadn't had the ability to vote to exercise their constitutional right.

Most young people today wouldn't know the names of James Chaney, Andrew Goodman, and Michael Schwerner. This is 46 years ago. But 46 years later, we're making a small memorial in naming this FBI building now in Mississippi, the headquarters, after these three individuals who made such a difference in the civil rights movement. And through their tragic and horrific death came so much good that other people could have rights that they were fighting for in that summer of 1964.

On behalf of the Republicans on the committee, I know I join in thanking, again, Mr. THOMPSON, Ms. NORTON, and our ranking member, Mr. DIAZ-BALART, for bringing this bill forward and for honoring those who haven't been honored before in this manner. What a great day for this Congress. What a great day for their memory. What a great day for the United States of America.

Mr. PERRIELLO. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from New York (Mr. TOWNS).

Mr. TOWNS. I'd like to thank the gentleman for yielding. Of course, I also would like to join those who have indicated, in terms of Mr. THOMPSON from Mississippi, in recognizing Schwerner, Goodman, and Chaney. I know that this is not bringing them back, but I think it says to the families of those that are left behind that the good that they did changed America, and to move America in the right direction. When you stop and you think about it, they gave of their lives in order to help to change America.

I want to say to the gentleman from Mississippi, I think it's very honorable for him to come to the floor of the House and to offer this naming and this resolution of this Federal building, because when we look back and we see in terms of the things that they went through—not to do anything for themselves; they were trying to help others. And that's the reason why I think that this is so honorable, because they gave of their lives to be able to make America better. They made it possible for people like me to be able to come and be a part of the United States Congress. If it were not for their actions, we probably wouldn't even be here.

Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Mr. Speaker, in closing, I want to thank the gentleman from Mississippi. He mentioned a little while ago that there are some individuals that we name buildings after who are very meritorious. But this is a little bit different. These are three individuals who, frankly, changed our country for the better, and they gave it all. They gave their lives to change our country, to make our country a better place. So this is one of those that, frankly, is of great historic significance. I know it's important to the family members, but it is also equally important for our Nation for all to see, for all to remember, for all to know the sacrifices that so many, including these three individuals, made. This is the country that it is because people have been willing over the years to sacrifice, to even give their lives. And this was a tragic moment. Again, what a fitting tribute and reminder it is to name this building. So I want to thank the gentleman from Mississippi. I also need to thank Chairwoman NORTON. She is now at this moment actually chairing her subcommittee, and I want to thank her also for her involvement, for her leadership, for moving this forward so quickly.

With that, Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. PERRIELLO. Mr. Speaker, let me just thank, again, the gentleman from Mississippi for his comments and his work in this effort. I may be one of the few Members of this body that was born after the events that we discussed here today. I had the great joy of growing up in a generation that knew the freedoms that these men fought and died for.

But their legacy continues, and their lives continue through the inspiration they have spread. I remember working with kids in New Haven when I was in college, and we told the story of these three gentlemen. We told of their bravery and their courage to make sure that those who grow up today in a more free and equal society understand the blood and the tears that went into making that effort possible. Many in this body were part of that struggle to call this Nation to its greatest self and its truest ideals. In making them immortal in the naming of this office, I think we do a great honor to history and a great honor to this country at its best. We thank not only the people involved in bringing this resolution today but the families of these three gentlemen who sacrificed, that they may know that this Nation continues to honor their tremendous courage and their gift to this country.

Mr. OBERSTAR. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.R. 3562, introduced by the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. THOMPSON). H.R. 3562, as amended, designates the federally occupied building located at 1220 Echelon Parkway in Jackson, Mississippi, as the "James Chaney, Andrew Goodman, and Michael Schwerner Federal Building".

James Chaney, Andrew Goodman, and Michael Schwerner were civil rights activists who were lynched in the summer of 1964 while attempting to organize African Americans to vote and pursue other civil rights in Mississippi. On June 21, 1964, the three men drove to Longdale, Mississippi, to investigate the site of a burned church in Neshoba County. They were arrested by the Neshoba County police as they were leaving the site and held by the police for several hours. They were later released only to be rearrested shortly thereafter. After the second arrest, the Neshoba County police officer turned the three civil rights activists over to local Klansmen. On August 4, 1964, 44 days later, their bodies were found buried in an earthen dam near Philadelphia, Mississippi.

I was a young staffer working on Capitol Hill during this time period and can easily remember how the tragic plight of these three young men gripped this nation during that summer. Their deaths remain fixed in my mind and I am deeply moved as I remember how this incident helped strengthen the momentum for the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

The great public uproar also led President Lyndon B. Johnson to direct Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) Director J. Edgar Hoover to open the Jackson Division of the FBI. The FBI flooded the State with agents in an attempt to solve the crime and eventually arrested 18 suspects on Federal conspiracy charges in the murder of these civil rights activists.

These young men were courageous in the face of blistering adversity during the sustained march for civil rights in Mississippi during the summer of 1964. It is fitting we offer this permanent honor of their sacrifices with the designation of the Jackson, Mississippi FBI field office as the "James Chaney, Andrew Goodman, and Michael Schwerner Federal Building".

I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting H.R. 3562.

Mr. PERRIELLO. I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. PERRIELLO) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 3562, as amended.

The question was taken.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. In the opinion of the Chair, two-thirds being in the affirmative, the ayes have it.

Mr. PERRIELLO. Mr. Speaker, I object to the vote on the grounds that a quorum is not present and make the point of order that a quorum is not present.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX and the Chair's prior announcement, further proceedings on this motion will be postponed.

The point of no quorum is considered withdrawn.

SECURE FEDERAL FILE SHARING ACT

Mr. TOWNS. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 4098) to require the Director of the Office of Management and Budget to issue guidance on the use of peer-to-peer file sharing software to prohibit the personal use of such software by government employees, and for other purposes, as amended.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The text of the bill is as follows:

H.R. 4098

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the "Secure Federal File Sharing Act".

SEC. 2. REQUIREMENTS.

(a) UPDATED GUIDANCE ON USE OF CERTAIN SOFTWARE PROGRAMS.—Not later than 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Director of the Office of Management and Budget, after consultation with the Federal Chief Information Officers Council, shall issue guidance on the use of peer-to-peer file sharing software—

(1) to prohibit the download, installation, or use by Government employees and contractors of open-network peer-to-peer file sharing software on all Federal computers, computer systems, and networks, including those operated by contractors on the Government's behalf, unless such software is approved in accordance with procedures under subsection (b); and

(2) to address the download, installation, or use by Government employees and contractors of such software on home or personal computers as it relates to telework and remotely accessing Federal computers, computer systems, and networks, including those operated by contractors on the Government's behalf.

(b) APPROVAL PROCESS FOR CERTAIN SOFTWARE PROGRAMS.—Not later than 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Director of the Office of Management and Budget shall develop a procedure by which the Director, in consultation with the Chief Information Officer, may receive requests from heads of agencies or chief information officers of agencies for approval for use by Government employees and contractors of specific open-network peer-to-peer file sharing software programs that are—

(1) necessary for the day-to-day business operations of the agency;

(2) instrumental in completing a particular task or project that directly supports the agency's overall mission;

(3) necessary for use between, among, or within Federal, State, or local government agencies in order to perform official agency business; or

(4) necessary for use during the course of a law enforcement investigation.

(c) AGENCY RESPONSIBILITIES.—Not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Director of the Office of Management and Budget shall—

(1) direct agencies to establish or update personal use policies of the agency to be consistent with the guidance issued pursuant to subsection (a);

(2) direct agencies to require any contract awarded by the agency to include a requirement that the contractor comply with the guidance issued pursuant to subsection (a) in the performance of the contract;

(3) direct agencies to update their information technology security or ethics training policies to ensure that all employees, including those working for contractors on the Government's behalf, are aware of the requirements of the guidance required by subsection (a) and the consequences of engaging in prohibited conduct; and

(4) direct agencies to ensure that proper security controls are in place to prevent, detect, and remove file sharing software that is prohibited by the guidance issued pursuant to subsection (a) from all Federal computers, computer systems, and networks, including those operated by contractors on the Government's behalf.

SEC. 3. ANNUAL REPORT.

Not later than one year after the date of the enactment of this Act, and annually thereafter, the Director of the Office of Management and Budget shall submit to the Committee on Oversight and Government Reform of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs of the Senate a report on the implementation of this Act, including—

(1) a justification for each open-network peer-to-peer file sharing software program that is approved pursuant to subsection (b); and

(2) an inventory of the agencies where such programs are being used.

SEC. 4. DEFINITIONS.

In this Act:

(1) AGENCY.—The term “agency” has the meaning provided the term “Executive agency” by section 105 of title 5, United States Code.

(2) OPEN-NETWORK.—The term “open-network”, with respect to software, means a network in which—

(A) access is granted freely, without limitation or restriction; or

(B) there are little or no security measures in place.

(3) PEER-TO-PEER FILE SHARING SOFTWARE.—The term “peer-to-peer file sharing software”—

(A) means a program, application, or software that is commercially marketed or distributed to the public and that enables—

(i) a file or files on the computer on which such program is installed to be designated as available for searching and copying to one or more other computers;

(ii) the searching of files on the computer on which such program is installed and the copying of any such file to another computer—

(I) at the initiative of such other computer and without requiring any action by an owner or authorized user of the computer on which such program is installed; and

(II) without requiring an owner or authorized user of the computer on which such program is installed to have selected or designated another computer as the recipient of any such file; and

(iii) an owner or authorized user of the computer on which such program is installed to search files on one or more other computers using the same or a compatible program, application, or software, and copy such files to such owner or user's computer; and

(B) does not include a program, application, or software designed primarily—

(i) to operate as a server that is accessible over the Internet using the Internet Domain Name system;

(ii) to transmit or receive email messages, instant messaging, real-time audio or video communications, or real-time voice communications; or

(iii) to provide network or computer security (including the detection or prevention of fraudulent activities), network management, maintenance, diagnostics, or technical support or repair.

(4) CONTRACTOR.—The term “contractor” means a prime contractor or a subcontractor, as defined by the Federal Acquisition Regulation.

SEC. 5. BUDGETARY EFFECTS OF PAYGO LEGISLATION FOR THIS ACT.

The budgetary effects of this Act, for the purpose of complying with the Statutory Pay-As-You-Go-Act of 2010, shall be determined by reference to the latest statement titled “Budgetary Effects of PAYGO Legislation” for this Act, submitted for printing in the Congressional Record by the Chairman of the House Budget Committee, provided that such statement has been submitted prior to the vote on passage.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from New York (Mr. TOWNS) and the gentleman from California (Mr. ISSA) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from New York.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. TOWNS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days in which to revise and to extend their remarks.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from New York?

There was no objection.

Mr. TOWNS. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself as much time as I may consume.

The bill we are now considering, H.R. 4098, the Secure Federal File Sharing Act, is intended to improve the cybersecurity of Federal systems in response to a series of troubling breaches of confidential information. It requires the director of the Office of Management and Budget to issue new guidance prohibiting the use of open network peer-to-peer file sharing software on all Federal computers and networks, including those of contractors working on the government's behalf.

Peer-to-peer file sharing software allows users to instantly connect with each other to search and copy electronic files, most commonly music and movies. The committee has been investigating the dangers of peer-to-peer file sharing software for 9 years. During that time, we discovered a frightening amount of child pornography, thousands of personal tax filings, medical records, and highly sensitive government information, including the location of a Secret Service safe house for the first family and an electronic schematic for Marine One, all available on open peer-to-peer networks to millions of users around the world.

What's clear is that as the popularity of file sharing has grown, so have the privacy and security risks. For the Federal Government, those risks are simply too great to ignore. H.R. 4098 would codify an existing OMB memorandum prohibiting Federal employees from using certain peer-to-peer file sharing programs and strengthen that policy by extending it to include Federal contractors working on the government's behalf. This is a good bill, and I strongly encourage my colleagues to join me in supporting this good bill.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. ISSA. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I join with the chairman on a bipartisan basis to support this important legislation. As the chairman said—who, quite frankly, has done an inordinate amount of work on this, including multiple hearings over a period of time—although we have succeeded in some limited way in addressing this problem, when we revisited it after more than a year, we discovered some of the examples the chairman gave us, including the First Family's safe house being made vulnerable.

Mr. Speaker, as you can imagine, everything we do in government, everything we order in government has a cost. The CBO has scored this one at $10 million over its life, about $2 million to $3 million a year. What is the cost of the loss of the President? What is the cost of a soldier's orders to deploy being made public? What is the cost of your tax returns being made public? What is the cost to sensitive national defense information or, in fact, the leaking of people who are in the clandestine service? All of that has been shown to be at risk as long as peer-to-peer continues to operate on the Federal system.

Mr. Speaker, directing the Office of Management and Budget to create the guidance for prohibiting download or installation by government employees of these pieces of software, which are essentially spy software, spy software on behalf of those who sell this information and sell access to this information is, in fact, essential. File sharing within the Federal workforce and within Congress is closely monitored. We do have the ability to do file transfer protocol in a secure way. Clearly, though, as our hearings have shown, those who market this software to the public, usually for free, do so with backdoors deliberately there that make it enticing to those who want access, and that's how their revenue comes.

Our hearings have shown that the very players who will provide you peer-to-peer for free so that you can get thousands of videos, plenty of music, and exchange pictures often do so specifically so that you unwittingly open up all of your information.

Mr. Speaker, the American people deserve to have the information entrusted to us, their private information, kept private. Without this important legislation, that private information is consistently being made public through backdoor software installed by well-meaning individuals who only intended to share their summer pictures and not release the information on soldiers in harm's way. I urge strongly support for this legislation.

I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. TOWNS. Mr. Speaker, I want to commend the staff of the committee. I want to commend the ranking member of the full committee, Congressman ISSA, who has worked very closely with us to get us to this point. I also want to point out how important it is when you work together that you can pull things together and get them to the floor. I want to salute him for his work on this as well, and again, to all the staff members who have participated in helping us to get here today.

I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. ISSA. I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, it is you that we owe a great debt of thanks to. You've championed this. You've made sure both at the subcommittee and the full committee that we've had a thorough evaluation. We've given the companies who claim that they are well-meaning opportunity repeatedly to show that they could fix or would fix their software, only to discover they did not fix their software. So I join with you in commending our staff on both sides of the aisle for the hard work they did, for the individual research, and for some of the other organizations who were concerned about the safety of the American people's vital information for helping us shed light on this. I know this is a good piece of legislation. I know we're going to have to work to get it through the Senate. I look forward to doing that with you, Mr. Chairman.

I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. TOWNS. I thank the gentleman from California, the ranking member, for his kind words.

Ms. CLARKE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of House Resolution 4098, the Secure Federal File Sharing Act. As Chairwoman of the Committee on Homeland Security Subcommittee on Emerging Threats, Cybersecurity, and Science and Technology, I regularly deal with cybersecurity issues related to Federal civilian agencies and am happy to see this effort moving forward.

The Secure Federal File sharing Act directs the Office of Management and Budget to issue guidance that would prohibit the use of peer-to-peer software on Federal computer systems, on home computers of government employees who telecommute, and by Federal contractors. This bill will help improve our government's cyber-security in a number of ways.

First, and most importantly, this bill reduces the risk to our government computer systems of downloading malicious software that could infect other systems within the government. It is well documented that peer-to-peer applications are regularly used by hackers to incorporate spyware, viruses, Trojan horses, or worms onto the downloader's computer. Not only does this expose a person's personal information to exploitation, but could put sensitive information about our government resources into unfriendly hands.

Secondly, peer-to-peer software is frequently used to illegally download software or documents that are otherwise protected by intellectual property laws. Allowing Federal employees to use this software to download pirated materials not only puts them at risk of prosecution, but puts the Federal government in a precarious position of having passively supported illegal acts.

Finally, peer-to-peer software is costly to the U.S. taxpayer. Because of the high risk nature of the software, its use only increases the amount we must spend to secure our computer systems from the cyber attacks it inevitably leads to.

This legislation helps close a security hole among Federal civilian agencies, and I urge my colleagues to join me in passing House Resolution 4098.

Mr. TOWNS. I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from New York (Mr. TOWNS) that the House suspend the rules and agree to the resolution, H.R. 4098, as amended.

The question was taken.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. In the opinion of the Chair, two-thirds being in the affirmative, the ayes have it.

Mr. BROUN of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX and the Chair's prior announcement, further proceedings on this motion will be postponed.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX, proceedings will resume on motions to suspend the rules previously postponed.

Votes will be taken in the following order:

House Resolution 1186, by the yeas and nays;

H.R. 3976, de novo;

H.R. 4592, de novo.

The first electronic vote will be conducted as a 15-minute vote. Remaining electronic votes will be conducted as 5-minute votes.

NATIONAL DISTRACTED DRIVING AWARENESS MONTH

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The unfinished business is the vote on the motion to suspend the rules and agree to the resolution, H. Res. 1186, on which the yeas and nays were ordered.

The Clerk read the title of the resolution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentlewoman from Colorado (Ms. MARKEY) that the House suspend the rules and agree to the resolution, H. Res. 1186.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yeas 410, nays 2, not voting 17, as follows:

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore (during the vote). There are 2 minutes remaining in this vote.

□ 1633

So (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

Stated for:

Mr. PRICE of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, on roll-call No. 176. I was unavoidably detained. Had I been present, I would have voted "aye."

ENERGY JOBS FOR VETERANS ACT

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The unfinished business is the question on suspending the rules and passing the bill, H.R. 4592, as amended.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from California (Mr. FILNER) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 4592, as amended.

The question was taken.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. In the opinion of the Chair, two-thirds being in the affirmative, the ayes have it.

RECORDED VOTE

Mr. TONKO. Mr. Speaker, I demand a recorded vote.

A recorded vote was ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. This is a 5-minute vote.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—ayes 397, noes 19, not voting 13, as follows:

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore (during the vote). There are 2 minutes left in this vote.

So (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

Ms. KILPATRICK of Michigan. Mr. Speaker, I was unable to attend to several votes today. Had I been present, I would have voted "aye" on Final Passage of H. Res. 1186, "aye" on Final Passage of H.R. 3976 and "aye" on Final Passage of H.R. 4592 as amended.

HEALTH CARE REFORM

(Mr. CRENSHAW asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. CRENSHAW. Mr. Speaker, I think we all know that Sunday night the health care bill passed the House, and today it's Tuesday, and there is an awful lot of celebrating going on. But I can tell you firsthand that a lot of people are not celebrating. In fact, a lot of people are very unhappy this bill passed. And I heard from them last night because I had one of my regularly scheduled live telephone town hall meetings, and at the peak of that town hall meeting, we had almost 8,000 people on the call.

And I asked the question, Do you feel that your concerns were heard by the Democratic leadership before that bill was brought to the House? Well, 86 percent of the people said no. And later in that town hall call I said, Do you favor or oppose this health care bill? Ninety percent of the people on that call said we do not favor that bill.

And I happen to listen to my constituents. That is why I spoke out against this bill, this government takeover. That's why I'm going to continue to speak out, and I'm going to work to make a better way.

CONGRATULATING THE UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-GREEN BAY WOMEN'S BASKETBALL TEAM

(Mr. KAGEN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. KAGEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to take a moment here to honor the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay women's basketball team for their historic at-large bid to the NCAA tournament.

Now, this may not seem like a big deal to folks from the big cities or from the east or west coast, but in northeast Wisconsin, we could not be prouder of our Phoenix being the first team from the Horizon League to earn an NCAA at-large bid.

I want to commend Head Coach Matt Boland and his team for their remarkable achievement this year. They entered the tournament with 27 wins and launch into the second round today after upsetting the Virginia Cavaliers over the weekend. I also want to point out most of Coach Boland's team is homegrown in Wisconsin. For the lady Phoenix players, most of them spent their lifetime growing up in northeast Wisconsin.

I want to thank the entire UWGB team for making Wisconsin proud, and I wish them good luck tonight in their road to the Final Four.

UNIVERSITY OF WYOMING'S NORDIC SKIING CLUB

(Mrs. LUMMIS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mrs. LUMMIS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize my alma mater, the University of Wyoming, and their Nordic Skiing Club.

For the second year in a row, both the men's and women's teams have brought home the gold, sweeping the Division II United States Collegiate Ski and Snowboard Association Nationals.

UW's Cowboys dominated the competition—the men's team earning 59 points, giving them a 29-point lead on St. Olaf College. The UW women's team was a closer call. The Cowgirls were in third place heading into the final 15km team relay. Not only did they take the relay, but their performance gave them a one-point lead on Whitman College, earning them the national title.

Individual recognition should go to Evgeniy Panzhinskiy, who tied for first in the overall individual points standings; Eliah Pedersen, fifth; Daniel Lewis, seventh; and John Kirlin, ninth. For the Cowgirls, Gracey Lewis tied for second, Gwynn Barrows sixth, and Marie Cartwright placed seventh overall.

I would like to congratulate Christi Boggs and Rachel Watson, who coached both teams to championship titles 2 years in a row.

Again, I congratulate the University of Wyoming ski teams on all their success. The Cowboy State should be proud of these young men and women.

MEETING DANIEL WEBSTER'S CHARGE

(Mr. COHEN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. COHEN. Madam Speaker, Sunday, this was an historic sight when the health care bill passed this House, and today in the East Room of the White House President Obama signed it into law. The signing of that bill, hopefully changed by the reconciliation bill, will stand with Medicare, Social Security, and civil rights as some of the great laws to ever pass in this Nation's history. I am so proud to have been a part of it.

To reflect on Daniel Webster, whose words are engraved above the Speaker's rostrum in the wall of this building, "Let us develop the resources of our land, call forth its powers, build up its institutions, promote all its great interests and see whether we also in our day and generation may not perform something worthy to be remembered."

This Democratic 111th Congress has met Daniel Webster's charge and done something for this generation and others worthy to be remembered.

HEALTH CARE OVERHAUL: WHAT'S NEXT?

(Ms. FOXX asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. FOXX. Madam Speaker, people are asking: Now that the health care overhaul has been passed, what's next? Well, my colleagues and I are saying we need to repeal the most egregious parts of this legislation and replace them with real, effective reforms.

We must do more than simply repeal this bill. We have to replace it with reforms that will actually bring down the cost of health care. We have solutions that focus first on lowering cost and preserving jobs. We have to repeal the over $500 billion in job-killing taxes on the bill, repeal taxpayer funding of abortion and start over with laws that respect life.

I am a strong supporter of legislation that allows everyone to purchase health insurance across State lines. We should be expanding tax-free health savings accounts for all Americans, giving patients control over their health care and giving small businesses the power to pool together.

Madam Speaker, the health care overhaul is a travesty of justice, and we can do better.

CHRISTIAN WORSHIP SERVICE IN NATIONAL STATUARY HALL

(Mr. AKIN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. AKIN. Madam Speaker, last Sunday, March 21, Republican and Democrat Members and their families gathered for a Christian worship service in Statuary Hall. This actually has been a longstanding tradition. Years ago, services were held in the Rotunda. They were held weekly, and various Presidents would go to those services.

The service Sunday was organized by Congressman FORBES and Congressman MCINTYRE. I led the singing of three hymns. All available seats were taken and Statuary Hall was about half full. The service was dignified and reverent, it was led by Members of both parties, and, finally, Father Frank Pavone gave a short sermon.

As the bright sunlight shone from the windows overhead, the sense of God's grace was abundant. It was a particularly special moment for Members of the House. I thought it would be appropriate to enter that in the journal as a memory of that Sunday service.

SPECIAL ORDERS

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mrs. KIRKPATRICK of Arizona). Under the Speaker's announced policy of January 6, 2009, and under a previous order of the House, the following Members will be recognized for 5 minutes each.

POWER GRAB AND USURPATION OF STATES' RIGHTS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Texas (Mr. GOHMERT) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. GOHMERT. Madam Speaker, I continue to sound the battle cry on this, because since 1913, the States have had no way to prevent usurpation of States' rights; they have had no way to do anything about unfunded mandates that were crammed down their throats.

The Constitution itself provided for that in that it said the State legislatures would select the U.S. Senators. As long as that was the case, every U.S. Senator knew if they created an unfunded mandate, if they took away States' rights or did anything to harm the States' power that was granted to them under the United States Constitution, they would yank that Senator back, and he would never come back to the U.S. Senate and would probably never get elected to the House of Representatives. But that was the check and balance that the brilliance of the Constitution provided.

Since 1913, when that was repealed through the 17th Amendment, there has not been any check or balance on our power grab and usurpation of States' rights. It's time to do something about it, and we saw that by the unfunded mandate requiring billions of dollars that could bankrupt our States being shoved down their throats by a bill that was signed into law today.

The way that can be handled is under article V. It's the part of article V that has never been used before, and that is the part that says that if two-thirds of the States—that's 34—make an application to the Congress for a convention to make amendments to the Constitution, it has to be provided, and then you have a convention and you create an amendment, one or two, whatever is necessary, to finally put back in place, after 97 years, a check and balance on this body usurping powers granted to the States and reserved to the people.

It's high time that's done. It doesn't need the President's authorization, so there's no need for an override of a veto if he doesn't let it happen. We will probably need people who would be open to that idea in charge here in this House, but it needs to happen so that we don't keep this train running so fast down the track the wrong way that it derails and takes the Nation with it.

We cannot continue this kind of unfunded mandate. It's time for an amendment to the Constitution to put a check back on our unbridled usurpation of States' rights, and I look forward to that happening. We've got 39 States that want to do something about this unholy bill that was passed. Well, this is what they can do, and we can change things and get back on track.

IN RECOGNITION OF KEN BROWN

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Nevada (Ms. BERKLEY) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. BERKLEY. Madam Speaker, I am absolutely delighted to be here with my colleague DINA TITUS from Nevada, and I rise today to honor the dedication and service of a true veterans' advocate, Kenneth Brown.

From 1943 to 1945, Mr. Brown served in the United States Navy during World War II as a United States Navy Armed Guard gunner's mate. After receiving an honorable discharge, Mr. Brown dedicated his life to improving the quality of life for Nevada military veterans and their families.

In 1987—and this is just an extraordinary act that he performed—Mr. Brown purchased 83½ acres of land in Boulder City, Nevada. He donated this parcel to the State of Nevada, encouraging the State to use this land to build a veterans cemetery.

On April 6, 1990, Mr. Brown's dream was realized and the Southern Nevada Veterans Memorial Cemetery was officially dedicated. His generous donation and tireless efforts helped Nevada provide its veterans a final resting place in dignity, respect, and honor.

In recognition of his contribution, the Governor declared April 6, 1990, as "Ken Brown Day." Mr. Brown has received countless honors paying tribute to his 50 years of service to Nevada veterans and their families, including the key to the city of Las Vegas for heroism and vision in supporting veterans in Nevada, and the God and Country Award from the United States Navy Armed Guard.

It is truly an honor for me to stand here today and recognize my friend, and he truly is my friend, Mr. Ken Brown, for all of his work that he has done for the veterans community and for helping to bring a veterans cemetery to southern Nevada, where all veterans and their spouses can be buried with dignity.

I cannot tell you how many times I have seen Mr. Brown at our VA cemetery in Boulder City honoring our war dead and being there as an inspiration to those veterans who came home, served their country admirably, and will one day be at that cemetery. He has done a wonderful thing for not only the State of Nevada, not only its veterans, but for mankind.

Mr. Ken Brown, I salute you and I thank you. My respect and admiration are yours today.

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE AND FEDERAL PRISON INDUSTRIES

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. JONES) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. JONES. Madam Speaker, I rise today to express my concern with a Department of Defense policy that has taken jobs away from hardworking Americans in the textile, apparel, and footwear industry at a time when they need these jobs most.

DOD is allowed to purchase textile, apparel, and footwear products from an organization called Federal Prison Industries, an entity that uses prisoners in U.S. jails as labor.

In the 2008 Defense authorization bill, Congress required the Department of Defense to implement strict rules to govern its use of Federal Prison Industries. Congress took that action so DOD would not unfairly exploit its access to virtually free prison labor and put law-abiding U.S. textile, apparel, and footwear workers out of work in the process.

Unfortunately, DOD has not followed congressional intent and has written those rules to include loopholes that give Federal Prison Industries an unfair advantage.

I am going to repeat that, Madam Speaker, because I think it's important.

Unfortunately, Department of Defense has not followed congressional intent and has written those rules to include loopholes that give Federal Prison Industries an unfair advantage.

It is very troubling that a Federal agency would not follow the will of the Congress and, instead, establish policy that destroys American jobs and the industrial base on which it depends.

Madam Speaker, over the past 17 years, the United States has lost over 29 percent of its manufacturing base. That's over 5 million jobs. When do we say enough is enough?

Madam Speaker, it is unacceptable for a Federal agency to adopt policies that cause even more manufacturing job losses. For the good of American workers in the textile, apparel, and footwear industries, I encourage the Department of Defense to reconsider its approach to this issue.

Madam Speaker, at a time that this country owes China over $800 billion, we borrow money from the UAE, we borrow money from Japan, and here we are trying to put our textile workers out of work by having a Federal industry known as the Prison Industries to be competitors to the American worker is just wrong.

Madam Speaker, before I close, I will ask God to continue to bless our men and women in uniform. I will ask God to please bless the families of our men and women in uniform. I would ask God in his loving arms to hold the families who have given a child dying for freedom in Afghanistan and Iraq. I will ask God to please bless the House and Senate that we will do what is right for this country. And I will ask God to give wisdom, strength, and courage to President Obama that he will do what is right for the American people.

I will then say, three times, God please, God please, God please continue to bless America.

HONORING KEN BROWN—"MR. VETERAN"

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Nevada (Ms. TITUS) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. TITUS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor Ken Finis Brown, affectionately known throughout Nevada as "Mr. Veteran."

As my colleague SHELLEY BERKLEY pointed out just a few moments ago, Mr. Brown was instrumental in providing a final sacred resting place for Nevada's veterans in 1987 when he donated the necessary funding for the Southern Nevada Veterans Memorial Cemetery. Mr. Brown personally donated the funding to purchase 83.5 acres of land in Boulder City in District Three that now serves as a cemetery for Nevada's fallen heroes. Our Mr. Veteran worked tirelessly so that military veterans in southern Nevada would have a dignified final resting place in our home State, close to their loved ones.

This unyielding effort was formally recognized by the State of Nevada when it declared April 6, 1990, "Ken Brown Day." On that same day, the Southern Nevada Veterans Memorial Cemetery was officially dedicated. Everyone in southern Nevada knows that this project would never have been completed without the hard work and dedication of Ken Brown.

This was just one of many awards and commendations that our Mr. Veteran has received, including a proclamation of heroism from Clark County, a God and Country award from the U.S. Navy Armed Guard, a formal proclamation from the Las Vegas City Council and keys to the city, and a Certificate of Recognition and Appreciation from the Veterans of Foreign Wars Political Action Committee. His efforts have been recognized, both formally and informally, by countless organizations and individuals, too many to list here.

Mr. Brown served our country admirably in the United States Navy during World War II while our Nation was fighting to rid the world of tyranny and hatred. At a time when our Nation needed heroes, Ken Brown stepped up. He answered the call.

Since his service in our Nation's armed services, Ken has dedicated his life to improving the lives of other veterans in southern Nevada through his advocacy and his own example.

Mr. Brown has also written a poem which was dedicated to our Afghan and Iraq veterans, U.S. Navy Armed Guard, and the U.S. Merchant Marines. The words of his work ring true today as our brave men and women serve valiantly throughout the world to protect our Nation.

LIFE

Dedicated to Afghan and Iraq Veterans and United States Navy Armed Guard
United States Merchant Marines, 36,000 died in WWII

For love and money, our lives we pay, Baubles we earn with a whole soul's tasking; Tis heaven alone that is given away, Tis only God may be had for the asking; No price set on the lavish summer, And June may be had by the poorest comer.

Whether we look, or whether we listen, We hear life murmur, or see it glisten; Every clod feels a stir of might, An instinct within it that reaches and towers, And, grasping blindly above it for light, Climbs to a soul in grass and flowers.

Now the heart is so full that a drop overfills, We are happy now because God so wills it; We may shut our eyes, but we cannot help knowing That the sky is clear and the grass is growing.

Joy comes, grief goes, we know not how; Every thing is happy now, Every thing is upward striving Tis as easy now for the heart to be true As for grass to be green or skies to be blue,—Tis the Natural way of living.

We must always remember that life is precious and the veterans of the great national paid with their lives for your freedom.

Madam Speaker, today we flew a flag over the Capitol in honor of Ken Brown. I want to thank Mr. Brown again for his lifetime of dedication to the United States of America and to our heroes, our men and women in the armed services.

OPPOSITION TO H.R. 4849

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from South Carolina (Mr. BARRETT) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. BARRETT of South Carolina. Madam Speaker, I rise tonight in opposition to H.R. 4849, the Small Business and Infrastructure Jobs Act.

This bill will raise taxes by as much as $16 billion and will limit business' ability to expand and create new jobs. This massive tax increase will deal a devastating blow to the Nation's and South Carolina's already struggling economy.

Democrats say they are trying to introduce legislation that will help foster job creation; but if that is truly the case, then why does H.R. 4849 place new taxes on companies doing business in the U.S. during an economic downturn?

Eighty percent of the bill's funding goes to growing State and local governments, which we all know will not solve our Nation's abysmal unemployment rate. Our Nation's economy is already on life support, Madam Speaker. We cannot afford to enact any legislation that further jeopardizes job creation.

It is time to put an end to excessive taxing and runaway spending. Instead, we should focus on the time-tested principles, such as extending the 2001 and 2003 tax relief provisions which will, just by chance, expire at the end of this year.

Madam Speaker, I came down to the floor this evening because someone has got to stand up for America and small businesses. In fact, there are other places I am really supposed to be right now, but this is exactly where I need to be right now: defending American jobs.

The truth is, this bill will not strengthen our economy or create more jobs. Instead, it will create unnecessary financial hardships for businesses that are already struggling to survive.

For months, Democrats have been pushing job-killing legislation, everything from stimulus to a government takeover of health care. It is time for Congress to stop spending and taxing excessively.

We should start working together on creating viable solutions that create more private sector jobs that our country and especially South Carolina so desperately need.

LEARNING THE SMART LESSON FROM THE IRAQ ELECTIONS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from California (Ms. WOOLSEY) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. WOOLSEY. Madam Speaker, as the drama was building towards this body's passage of health care reform this week, many of us may have forgotten that Friday was the seventh anniversary of the invasion of Iraq. It has been 7 years since we were assured that Americans would be greeted as liberators from the moment they touched down in Baghdad; 7 years since we were told democracy in Iraq would blossom naturally, like spring flowers; and 7 years later, with more than 4,300 Americans having been killed and hundreds of billions of taxpayer dollars wasted. The truth remains: the simple act of self-governance is still a life-threatening proposition in Iraq.

To be sure, in the recent parliamentary elections many Iraqis once again showed enormous courage by going to the polls amidst violence and unrest. The problem is that it is hard to call a democratic election a success when citizens are taking their lives into their hands just to exercise their most basic democratic right.

Despite the resolve of so many Iraqi citizens, the fact is that voter turnout declined from the last national election in the year 2005.

The New York Times described the atmosphere as one of a country under siege, noting that, and I quote, "Iraqis prepared for the election the way that Americans do when battening down for a hurricane." Not exactly the festival of civic pride we normally associate with an election day.

As it is, even before Iraqis voted, this election was marred by chaos, disputed candidacies, corruption, arrests, even assassinations. Jon Stewart on the "Comedy Channel" joked that to call this election a success with just a "few" candidates assassinated is setting the bar pretty low.

What is really unsettling, Madam Speaker, is that there was a pretty aggressive propaganda campaign to convince us here in the United States that election-related violence wasn't really all that bad. In public, top military brass told us not to worry our "pretty little heads," that there were hardly any incidents at all. They dismissed journalists who had witnessed the carnage.

But then someone leaked to the news media the real story, the military's internal numbers: 37 people killed as part of 136 attacks in conjunction with the elections.

And the disputed outcome of the elections could mean that the worst is yet to come. With no clear winner, and with accusations of fraud and vote-rigging being thrown around, we could see an aggravation of ethnic rifts in Iraq, some of the worst sectarian violence in Iraq to come since the inconclusive 2005 elections.

Complicating matters is the electoral strength shown by the followers of the radical cleric Moqtada al-Sadr, because the Sadrists despise the American occupation, have a history of violent nationalism, and enjoy ties to Iran.

I can't help but wonder if we had implemented the principles of what I call "SMART security" a long time ago, maybe it wouldn't be so dangerous just to cast a ballot in Iraq. If we had deployed fewer soldiers and more democracy-building experts; if we had fired fewer guns and had emphasized greater diplomacy and reconciliation, then maybe Iraq could have a genuinely peaceful and successful election.

We cannot learn the wrong lesson from the violence surrounding the Iraqi election. We cannot delay the planned redeployment of our combat troops out of Iraq.

HELP CUBA BE FREE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Florida (Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN. Madam Speaker, last week the Cuban tyranny sunk to an all new low as the communist thugs brutally attacked a procession of mothers, daughters, and wives of Cuban political prisoners collectively known as the Ladies in White, Las Damas de Blanco.

Their crime? Walking. Walking to commemorate the seventh anniversary of the dictatorship's March 2003 crackdown against human rights and pro-democracy activists, a grim event known as the Black Spring.

Many of those imprisoned at the time continue to languish in squalid jail cells and endure unspeakable suffering at the hands of their oppressors.

The processions of the Ladies in White was led by Reyna Luisa Tamayo, whose son, Orlando Zapata Tamayo, died only a few weeks ago at the hands of the Castro regime. Carrying flowers and wearing their white clothing as symbols of peace, they were suddenly and viciously confronted, beaten, and some temporarily detained by agents of the dictatorial regime.

Reyna described the confrontation, explaining, and I quote, "They dragged me. I am all bruised. They beat me. They cannot be forgiven."

Further reports indicate that nearly one-third of the Ladies in White marching that day had to seek hospital treatment for the attack. The cowardice of the regime's agents could not be more obvious in the wake of this attack.

Confronting the nonviolent actions of these women in such a vicious and hateful manner makes it clear: the dictatorship fears these women because the regime officials fear the truth.

The repression by the regime knows no boundaries. Now they are even attempting to deny the people of Cuba the right to mourn the loss of their loved ones.

For anyone who had doubt, these attacks make it clear: the regime has no conscience. There is no limit to its abuse and its indecency.

I was pleased, however, to see the European and the Chilean parliaments deliver strong statements of condemnation and reproach following the regime's actions last week. However, responsible nations must do more.

The newly inaugurated president of Chile understands this moral obligation. He recognized the suffering of the Cuban people, that it must come to an end, and that free nations must lead the charge. President Sebastian Pinera said, and I quote, "The government of Chile will do everything it can so that in Cuba there is a process of peaceful recovery of democracy and a full restoration of respect for human rights and individual freedoms."

But where is the rest of the world? Why are regional leaders silent on the regime's gross human rights violations in Cuba and the abuses of power? Where is the Organization of American States? On the wrong side of history.

It was almost 1 year ago when the OAS voted to reincorporate the Cuban tyranny into the Inter-American system. What a mistake. The United States made a mistake then by shepherding such an effort.

But it is not too late to do the right thing by the Cuban people and take up the cause of freedom for the island nation. The U.S. Ambassador to the OAS should immediately call for consideration of a resolution condemning the tyranny in Cuba for its attack on the Ladies in White and demanding that all political prisoners be immediately released.

The U.S. should call on the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights to immediately convene a meeting to hear testimony on the systematic violations of human rights and the universal freedoms by the Castro dictatorship.

The U.S. must request an investigation by the Special Rapporteur for Freedom of Expression in our Western Hemisphere on the assaults of independent journalists.

It is time for the world to admit the full brutality of the butchers in Havana and to provide the people of Cuba the solidarity and the support that they deserve. It is time for the people of Cuba to have the rights and liberties they deserve and for which they fight every day.

Let this Congress pave the way, Madam Speaker. I ask my colleagues to support H. Con. Res. 252, a resolution I introduced to recognize the life of Orlando Zapata Tamayo, and calling for a renewed focus on the promotion of human rights and democracy in my native homeland of Cuba.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

A message from the Senate by Ms. Curtis, one of its clerks, announced that the Senate has passed with amendments a bill of the House of the following title:

H.R. 1586. An act to impose an additional tax on bonuses received from certain TARP recipients.

IN RECOGNITION AND SUPPORT OF COLORADO GEAR UP

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Colorado (Mr. POLIS) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. POLIS. Madam Speaker, I rise today in recognition and support of Colorado GEAR UP because college access and success is more critical than ever for making our economy strong and competitive and to give every child the access to the gateway of opportunity that an education provides.

Each and every day, Colorado GEAR UP helps us meet the President's goal to lead the world in college graduates by 2020. It prepares our State's low-income students for college. It's funded by the U.S. Department of Education and managed by the Colorado Department of Higher Education. Unfortunately, way too many students are left behind across the country, both in secondary and postsecondary education. Designed to increase the number of low-income students who are prepared to enter into and succeed in postsecondary education, GEAR UP provides 6-year grants to States and partnerships to provide services at high-poverty middle and high schools, and funds are used to provide college scholarships.

Colorado GEAR UP's vision is to engage, encourage, and enable Colorado's low-income students, including first-generation college-goers and new immigrants to get on a pathway to college so they can reach their potential and pursue their dreams. With its current grant, Colorado GEAR UP has served over 2,500 students in 8 middle schools and 12 high schools across Colorado.

Colorado GEAR UP is an effective tool for helping students to close Colorado's Achievement Gap by preparing students to meet rigorous expectations and to level the playing field for Colorado's low-income students. Beginning in the seventh grade, Colorado GEAR UP selects cohorts of students in 10 middle schools and 8 school districts Statewide. Pre-collegiate advisors follow their students through high school, where they empower students and families with the information, resources, academic, and cultural support that they need to finish high school and enroll in college.

A vital element of the program is the connection between students and their advisors. Advisors have a lower student-counselor ratio, and meet with their students at least twice a month. If a student is struggling academically, culturally, or socially, the counselors meet with the student even more often than twice a month. Data drives the programmatic decisions. They enter all data about meetings in a data base and they provide monthly reports to the principals of the school. Colorado GEAR UP also measures success through an annual online student survey that takes place each spring.

The Colorado GEAR UP model focuses on college and career exploration, exposure, and experience. Students participate in monthly college knowledge workshops. They visit college campuses. They learn about different kinds of degrees and different kinds of financial aid that might be available to them. Juniors and seniors use the GEAR UP online college portfolio as a navigation tool to help them with their college selection process, the admissions process, and financial aid. In 2008 and 2009, more than 80 percent of Colorado GEAR UP students understood the financial aid options, compared to 30 percent of their peers.

Colorado GEAR UP has partnered with community colleges and 4-year institutions to offer concurrent enrollment courses as early as the second semester of their sophomore year in high school. This allows students to take courses for actual college credit while they're still in high school. Not only are Colorado GEAR UP students taking advantage of college coursework, they're succeeding. This past fall, 80 percent in the GEAR UP junior cohort completed at least one college course, and 77 percent received at least a C or better in a college course while they were in high school.

As a result of their participation, Colorado GEAR UP students will enter college with a significant amount of college credit, and some may even earn an associate's degree. As students go onto college campuses, GEAR UP partners with the institutions to continue to track progress and make sure that the students have the support services they need to succeed at college.

I want to share with you what some students say about Colorado GEAR UP. "GEAR UP is an opportunity to achieve an education. It just makes a person realize about the real world. GEAR UP is there to make it a little easier," said a tenth-grader from Pueblo East High School. A tenth-grader from North Ridge High School said, "GEAR UP means opportunity to me. It means a chance to go to college and succeed in my life."

Moving forward, Colorado GEAR UP plans to expand to serve even more students across Colorado. This program's performance clearly demonstrates that students can be successful in early college initiatives, can succeed at a 4-year university, given the proper guidance and support and opportunities. Early college experience can even save money by preventing students from dropping out of high school. That's why I applaud Colorado GEAR UP as a national model for innovation and effectiveness in expanding college access for low-income students and first-generation college goers, and I strongly support its continued expansion and success.

CONGRATULATING EVAN LYSACEK

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentlewoman from Illinois (Mrs. BIGGERT) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mrs. BIGGERT. Madam Speaker, I rise today to congratulate Evan Lysacek, the 2009 Men's World Figure Skating Champion and the 2010 Olympic gold medalist. What a feat. Evan started figure skating as a young boy in Naperville, Illinois, a town located in my district. He attended Neuqua Valley High School, where he was on the honor roll and earned many other academic achievement awards while still maintaining a very intense training schedule for figure skating. His discipline and focus certainly paid off. Evan won several titles and championships at the junior level before making his senior international debut at the age of 19. Evan has competed and medaled in several United States Figure Skating Championships, World Figure Skating Championships, and the 2006 Winter Olympics before his thrilling gold medal win at the 2010 Winter Olympics in Vancouver. But he is more than an accomplished figure skater. Word has it that Evan finds time in his grueling schedule to support a variety of charities, including the Ronald McDonald House Charities, the Make-a-Wish Foundation, and the Special Olympics.

I am proud to say that Evan Lysacek and his family call the 13th District of Illinois their home, and I would like to extend to him my congratulations and wish him the best as he takes on his next challenge—"Dancing with the Stars"—which premiered this week.

RESPECT THE INSTITUTION

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. JACKSON LEE) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. JACKSON LEE from Texas. It's always a historic pleasure to be able to sign legislation that can change millions of lives. It is a rare opportunity for Members of Congress, no matter how long they may serve, to be able to serve the people and then to be able to grant the people privileges that they would not have had but for the acts of this Congress. So I stand here today very proud of the fact that just a few hours ago, the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, the Democratic leadership and Members, signed legislation that would provide opportunities for 32 million Americans. Polling over the last 24 hours have characterized Americans as enthusiastic, uplifted, and happy. Quite contrary to some of the unfortunate drama that played out over the last 3 or 4 days as we were debating on the floor of the House.

Today, in Roll Call, a local Hill paper, the headline reads, "House decorum is fraying." It cites a comment about House Democratic leaders may have lost control of this body. I beg to differ with them. They are wrong. This institution is sacred and the House Democratic leadership maintains that sacredness. But, tragically, those who differed with us took to tactics that I believe calls for an apology by the Republican leadership—the actions of Members on the balcony that were beyond the pale; holding up posters that denigrated House leadership on the balcony of the United States House of Representatives; signs that were inappropriate.

Certainly, I have no control, and welcome the First Amendment rights of anybody, including the protestors. Interestingly enough, more than a hundred thousand had gathered on Sunday for immigration reform. Polite, orderly, respectful, and getting their point across. But lo and behold, there were some who decided to disrespect this institution. And I'm offended. Yes, there can be cheers. There can be boos. We do that. It is the order of the day. But to call out words that are offensive to our fellow Members is unacceptable.

I rise today calling on our leadership to ask for an apology from the minority and to have a review and an investigation—that's a too harsh word—but a review of the actions of those who decided to hold signs and I believe disrespect the institution.

So we're not losing control of this body. Individuals may have acted inappropriately. But I will assure you that the debate that was carried on by Democrats were on the issues, albeit you may have agreed or disagreed. It was respectful. And we won the vote. Thank God, we won it on behalf of the American people. But they are my friends on both sides of the aisle. I claim them. But the point is that this kind of behavior is unacceptable and offensive. We must learn that there are some things more important than our individual opportunity to express ourselves as Members of Congress outside of this body. It is the institution and the respect that it's held over the years for the institution that is known as the most powerful lawmaking body in the world. We are owed, then, the duty and responsibility of acting like we have the respect for this body. If no one else does, we need to have it.

Madam Speaker, the behavior was unacceptable. The behavior was without description and without comparison. And I'm offended by the insults to the Democratic leadership. They've got tough skins. But it's not Democratic leadership. It is the Speaker, the Majority Leader. It is the majority whip, the majority chairperson of the Democratic Caucus. It is the vice chairperson and a variety of leaders. Not one did I see on a balcony holding up any untoward message that would have offended the minority.

The time comes now when we'll take back this House in a way that all of us can respect this institution. I'm grateful that we had the courage to do what was right for the American people.

DEMOCRAT SPENDING SINCE TARP

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. BURTON) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. BURTON of Indiana. Well, you know, Madam Speaker, I was watching television today and I saw that the President was down at the White House signing the new health bill, and he was getting all kind of applause and everybody was just having a big time. Something like 61 or 62 percent of the American people are wondering why, because what they passed was something that the vast majority of Americans don't want.

So, tonight, I thought I'd come down here. I don't want to rain on the President's parade but I would like to talk just a little bit about what they're doing to America, because I think it's really important.

I know, Madam Speaker, I can't talk directly to the American people. But if they were listening, I would like to just tell them a few things about what's been going on since this guy took office—oh, excuse me—since the President took office.

In January of '09, they spent $73.3 billion on the State Children's Health Insurance Reauthorization. A lot of people said that was necessary, but it was still $73 billion. February 9, a month later, they passed the stimulus bill that was going to create jobs and keep unemployment below 8 percent. That was $1.16 trillion with interest, and that was not successful in keeping the unemployment down. In fact, it went way above 8 percent, over 10 percent. It's now down a little below 10 percent, but nevertheless, it's still up there much higher. But we spent $1.16 trillion on that. Now I can't tell you how many zeros are involved in that, but you'll figure it out, America—if America were allowed to listen to me, Madam Speaker. They'll figure it out when they start seeing all this extra cash flowing around that's going to depreciate the value of their money. Then on February 9 also, they passed the omnibus bill, the same day that they passed the stimulus bill. But that wasn't much. It was only $625 billion, a little over half a trillion. And then in June, they passed the defense supplemental, which was necessary. That was $106 billion, but they had scads of pork barrel projects in there that the President said he would not tolerate. Then in December the President passed the omnibus bill, the consolidated appropriations omnibus bill, and it was only $3.554 trillion.

We don't have this money. We just don't have it. We're digging a hole that you just won't believe how hard it's going to be to get out of it. Nevertheless, the spending goes on, and on, and on, and on, and I'm hoping that America wakes up and realizes what's going on before it gets so bad that we have hyperinflation and interest rates that go out of sight because they'll try to control inflation that way, like they did in the early 1980s, and we see taxes going through the roof. And in addition to that, the things I just mentioned, they passed cap-and-trade through this body, which was $846 billion—almost another trillion—but it's still languishing in the Senate. But after the President's victory and the signing of the health care bill today, I'm sure he's going to try to ram that dude through too.

And the health care program that they passed today that they said was going to end up saving us money—I mean, listen to this: They say we're going to have 32 million more people that are going to be insured, and it's going to cost less. I want everybody to figure that one out. How can you insure 32 million more people and spend less money? If you can figure that out, I'm going to get you a job as Houdini's assistant. It just isn't going to happen.

As a matter of fact, the cost of the health care bill is going to run at least—at least $1.5 trillion to $3 trillion. The gimmick they're using to try to make it look good is they're going to start taxing us for right now for 10 years, but the health coverage—most of it doesn't start until 2014. So you're paying 10 years of taxes for 6 years of coverage, and that makes it look like they're staying below $1 trillion. But when you put the pencil to 10 years of taxes and 10 years expenditures, you're looking at something like close to $2 trillion. And I believe it's going to end up costing a lot more than that. All these government programs they talk about that are going to cost so little always end up costing more, always create more bureaucracy and always ends up hurting this country and the future generations.

So I would just like to say, Madam Speaker, if I were talking to America tonight, remember what happened today, remember what our colleagues on the other side cheered about 2 days ago, remember what it's going to do to you and your kids and your grandkids because there's an election coming up in 2010 in November. And the people need to be aware of what's happened and what's happening. We are moving toward a socialistic approach in government—not free enterprise that made this country great—but socialism. And America needs to be aware of it.

FISCAL RESPONSIBILITY

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. LANCE) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. LANCE. Madam Speaker, I rise to discuss the health care legislation that has just been signed into law and to discuss the state of the American economy and, in particular, the state of Federal spending and Federal debt. Regarding the health care legislation that the President signed into law today, it was unanimously opposed on our side of the aisle; and in my case, it was opposed principally as a result of what I believe is a fiscally irresponsible approach. Certainly we need to reform health care in this country, and I was supportive of a proposal that permitted the purchase of policies across State lines, major medical malpractice insurance reform, making sure that young people have the opportunity to stay on their parents' policies until their mid-twenties, and the pooling of small businesses together. I think that this would have been an approach that would have received wide bipartisan support.

However, the bill that became law today is not balanced over the next 10 years. The Congressional Budget Office reported over the next 10 years that this does not include spending for the so-called doctors' fix that is roughly $200 billion, and there is no one on either side of the aisle who believes that we will not engage in that appropriate expenditure. In other words, if that were included in the cost over the next 10 years, the bill is not revenue-neutral. It is in the red.

There was an interesting op-ed piece in The New York Times on March 21 by Douglas Holtz-Eakin, formerly the director of the Congressional Budget Office. Mr. HOLTZ-EAKIN is widely respected on both sides of the aisle. The Congressional Budget Office, obviously, is nonpartisan in nature. And what he states is that unless there is a realistic assumption of what is going to occur, then there cannot be a realistic assumption of the total cost involved. He states, "Fantasy in, fantasy out." And the first gimmick he sites is the fact that "the bill front-loads revenues and we back-load spending." In other words, revenues increase over the next 10 years, but the spending does not increase until 4 years from now—10 years of revenue increases as opposed to 6 years of spending. This can only occur once, and moving forward into the second decade, of course that will not be possible. This is an excellent example of why over the first decade, the health care bill is not deficit-neutral. It, in fact, is in the red, something that should be of concern to all Americans.

This is an example of a larger problem in this country. The larger problem in this country is that we have a $12 trillion debt, and that debt is rising rapidly. Last year, our annual deficit was $1.42 trillion. This year it is expected to be $1.6 trillion, the highest annual deficit as a percentage of gross domestic product since 1945, at the end of World War II. Over the course of the next 4 years, debt will increase dramatically, and I urge the Obama administration to begin to address this fundamental issue that really confronts us as a Nation and certainly confronts the next generation.

Moody's, the rating house, has indicated that it is not clear that we will be able to retain our AAA bond rating. And this, of course, would be tragic for the American people, tragic for our taxpayers, and indeed, tragic moving forward, making sure that America remains in its position of preeminence in the world. Moody's cites three different criteria as to whether it will reduce the AAA bond rating of this country. First, the amount of debt we are taking on, and of course that includes not only debt here at the Federal level but also debt at State and local levels as well. We are taking on enormous debt, as I have indicated. So that's not a good sign. Then of course whether or not Federal deficits will increase over the next decade and as a percentage of gross domestic product. This is the highest it has been since the end of World War II.

Moody's is also watching another factor to see whether we borrow less in the future and whether or not we raise taxes, which I oppose, or cut spending or both. Moody's is looking at that. Certainly we should engage in fiscal responsibility in a way moving forward to get our fiscal House in order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. BARTLETT) is recognized for 5 minutes.

(Mr. BARTLETT addressed the House. His remarks will appear hereafter in the Extensions of Remarks.)

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT TAKEOVER

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Minnesota (Mrs. BACHMANN) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mrs. BACHMANN. Madam Speaker, I would like to congratulate the President today. Mr. President, you are halfway there. With the President's signature on the health care bill today, the Federal Government has now taken outright ownership or control of 50 percent of the American economy. The President can rightly say that he has transformed America. Since the inception of bailout nation in September of 2008 with the passage of the $700 billion TARP bailout, the Federal Government lollapalooza takeover began and was under way.

Madam Speaker, President Obama fully embraced the $700 billion bailout plan during the first of his Presidential debates with Senator JOHN MCCAIN. During December of 2008, President-Elect Obama insisted that outgoing President George Bush release billions of dollars to create the automobile task force for the purpose of preventing General Motors and Chrysler Motors from filing for bankruptcy. But like most government interventions, the billions spent on the auto companies did not prevent bankruptcy, but it did provide a gentler landing for the unions who worked so hard to elect President Obama.

Banks were bailed out, and the great Wall Street investment houses, including Goldman et al., turned themselves into banks to be eligible for government-subsidized TARP funds. Soon the Federal Government turned its dividend-paying shares into equity shares, and government became the outright owner—the shareholder of America's largest banks. Next came the unholy bailout of AIG, the largest insurance company in America. A sponge for taxpayer money, AIG held toxic derivatives, and they've yet to right their ship.

The Federal Reserve bought massive, copious reams of toxic commercial paper from private corporations, and the Federal Government's balance sheet forever changed, subsidized by the American taxpayer. Freddie and Fannie, the secondary mortgage purchasers, were the center of the universe for the financial meltdown. Foolishly they pursued a policy of purchasing substandard loans, then repackaging those loans into mortgage-backed securities. Freddie and Fannie greedily spread their economic cancer throughout the financial world, exposing America's taxpayers to potentially trillions of dollars of losses. Freddie and Fannie should have been shuttered. They should have been placed into receivership. But Uncle Sam, ever the chump, couldn't resist, and now Uncle Sam owns 50 percent of America's home mortgages.

Eager for more, the Obama administration consumed the student loan industry, and they completed that transaction today with a signature of a pen. A breathtaking 33 percent of the private economy was either outright purchased or controlled by the Federal Government in a span of 10 months' time. But the brass ring of government-controlled health care still taunted this administration. Eighteen percent of the private economy, the finest health care the world has ever known, was the long-sought-after prize of the political left.

Today they realized their dream. At the 11th hour this morning, President Obama, with the signing of his name, completed the Federal Government takeover of health care. Madam Speaker, 33 percent plus 18 percent equals 51 percent of the private economy today controlled or owned by the Federal Government. It is fitting on this momentous day that we pause for a moment of silence and lament the passage of half of America's economic freedom. In a stunning 18 months' time, for the first time in America's history, the Federal Government now owns or controls over 50 percent of the private economy. Madam Speaker, I say congratulations, Mr. President. You are halfway there.

THE THIRD FRONT

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Texas (Mr. POE) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. POE of Texas. Madam Speaker, I bring you news from the third front. We have the front that America is engaged in war in Iraq, we have the front in Afghanistan, and I bring you news from the silent third front in that nobody talks about it, and that is the southern border of the United States with Mexico.

The inconvenient truth is there is a border war brewing on our southern border, and America needs to be aware of what is taking place and not ignore the obvious. The Texas border sheriffs and the sheriffs' coalition from Brownsville all the way to San Diego talk about the problems that are increasing on the border, and it is violence. It is the organized crime cartels, the drug cartels that are bringing violence to the border area on both sides of the border, on the Mexican side and on the American side, and it is only going to get worse.

I want to talk about a specific incident that is taking place between two drug cartels, the Zetas and the Gulf drug cartel. They are operating in Mexico in several places, but one of those places is Guerrero, Mexico, right on the border between the United States and Texas—or, rather, between Mexico and Texas. It is near a place called Falcon Lake.

Falcon Lake is a man-made dam, and the lake is as a result of that dam. On the southern side of Falcon Lake is Guerrero, Mexico. Six thousand people live there. On the northern side in the United States is Falcon Heights, and Zapata County and Starr County are located there.

Yesterday in Guerrero, Mexico, eight buildings were burned to the ground by the drug cartels, the reason being the owner of those eight buildings was a Zeta, and he switched sides to the Gulf drug cartel and, in retaliation, the Zetas burned down eight of his buildings that he owns or controls. The problem in Guerrero, Mexico is so bad that law enforcement in that Mexican town have told people, Do not leave your homes today, because they expect violence to erupt today, tomorrow, or this weekend between the two cartels fighting over, as we say in the United States, turf, but what they say in Mexico is "la plaza," fighting over control of that area.

Good folks on both sides of the border live in fear because of the violence, because of the crime, because of the drug cartels. And while we talk about health care, we need to talk about the health of Americans who live on the U.S. side of the Mexican-American border and the health of people who live on the southern side as well.

The Texas sheriffs are very worried about what is taking place because the drug cartels have more money. They outgun Americans, they out finance us, and of course they have better equipment than the U.S. sheriffs do.

The Secretary of State today is down in Mexico City talking about how we can spend more money under the Merida Initiative, the billion dollars we gave Mexico to secure the border on that side. We ought to be talking about, as the sheriffs in Texas say, spending money on our side of the border to protect and reinforce the border on our side because, sooner or later, violence will erupt into the United States.

In Guerrero, Mexico, they are expecting a violent fight between these two drug cartels any moment, any day, fighting over this turf. You see, the Zetas are running out of money and they need more money, and so the way that the Zetas are going to finance their operation is to kidnap people; the plan apparently being, from what I understand, to kidnap teenagers who have wealthy parents and hold them for ransom until that money is paid. Hopefully, that does not occur, but we will see.

This is just one area along the vast border between Mexico and the United States where violence continues to erupt and where we need to be in control of our own borders. The Texas Governor has asked for troops on the border, and he has been denied that. It is the first duty of government to protect the dignity of the United States and secure the border and not just talk about the fact that the border needs to be secure.

People have a right, who live on the border, to live free from criminal cartels coming in and committing violence against Americans, and our government better uphold the first duty of government, to protect American citizens. This is today's news from the third front on the Texas-Mexico border.

And that's just the way it is.

FREEDOM FOR THE CUBAN PEOPLE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker's announced policy of January 6, 2009, the gentleman from Florida (Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART) is recognized for 60 minutes as the designee of the minority leader.

Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Madam Speaker, we have had a number of interesting debates in the last year, last few weeks in particular. One of the things that we should never forget is how precious freedom is and how frail freedom is. Just 90 miles away from our shores at this very moment, at this very instant, there are people who have been enslaved for over half a century under the boot of the same oppressive regime, the dictatorship of the Castro brothers. Half a century of brutality.

Just last week marked the seventh anniversary of the beginning of what was known as the Black Spring in Cuba. The Cuban Black Spring in 2003 was where 75 human rights activists, independent journalists, librarians, economists and other peaceful, pro-democracy activists and leaders were jailed for expressing their desire for democracy and democratic change in Cuba. All of them were sentenced to up to 25 years in prison in the worst possible conditions, in the worst possible prisons. Now, that is just some of the thousands of heroes who are standing up for freedom in the enslaved island of Cuba.

The majority of this Congress for many, many years has always stood with the Cuban people, has stood in solidarity with the Cuban people and their struggle for that freedom which is inevitable but has cost so dearly for so long. I have a lot to talk about on this issue, Madam Speaker, but before I proceed, I, frankly, am deeply honored to be able to yield time to an individual who has been a leader in this Congress for issues of freedom, a leader in this Congress who has always been speaking out for the oppressed wherever they may be, but who is so well known by the dissidents, by the opposition leaders, by the pro-democracy leaders in Cuba because his name rings as freedom for the Cuban people who have been enslaved. So I yield to the gentleman from Indiana, because it is a privilege to be able to share tonight with a person who everyone in Cuba—and there are those Cubans who live in freedom, whether it is in the United States or other parts of the world—recognizes this gentleman, DAN BURTON from Indiana, as a fighter for freedom.

Mr. BURTON of Indiana. Wow, I really appreciate you saying that, because when I think of people who are really fighting for freedom in Congress regarding Cuba, I think immediately of LINCOLN and MARIO DIAZ-BALART. You two have been real stalwarts and are very eloquent. We are certainly going to miss LINCOLN when he retires after this year, but I know that he will continue to fight for freedom and democracy in Cuba. And ILEANA ROS-LEHTINEN has been a real fighter, too. I appreciate all three of you and what you have been able to do. You worked so hard to help us get the Helms-Burton bill passed several years ago which dealt with the Cuban issue.

The thing that bothers me the most is, as you said, Castro has been in power down there for over 50 years. When he first came into power when the revolution took place, I remember there were a lot of people in America who thought he was going to be the savior of Cuba because Batista, who was the dictator down there, was supposed to be so bad; but they didn't realize while Batista might have been a problem, Castro was an absolute disaster. He came in and started killing a whole bunch of people and started imposing his communist philosophy and putting people in prison for huge periods of time.

There is a book that I read, "Against All Hope" by Armando Valladares. I know you both know him. When I read that book, I was on a plane. And he was in jail for, I think, 25 years only because he took issue with the communist approach to government in Cuba. I was on the plane, and when I got to a part of it I started to cry and the guy next to me thought something was wrong with me, and I assured him there wasn't and I told him about the book, and he said, I am going to have to read that myself. But I would say to anybody in their offices tonight that might be watching, I hope that you get a chance to read "Against All Hope" by Armando Valladares because it will tell you how bad it really is. I think last week or the week before, we had a person who had a hunger strike. I can't remember his name right now.

Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Yes, Orlando Zapata Tamayo, who died in prison as a political prisoner on a hunger strike.

Mr. BURTON of Indiana. He went on a hunger strike and he ended up dying because he was protesting the terrible treatment and the people who are incarcerated for nothing other than opposing communism, and he died in his fight for freedom. That is just unbelievable. Castro continues to keep people incarcerated for huge periods of time without any real charge against them except they don't agree with communism.

So, tonight, I am adding my support to LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART and MARIO DIAZ-BALART in their Special Order because Cuba should be free. It is only 90 miles from our border. Most of the people down there yearn to have their freedom and the democracy we have here in the United States. Instead, they live in abject poverty and drive cars that are 50 years old because of the economy down there. If they work and the company they are working for is paid in dollars, that money has to go to the government and they are paid in pesos, which are worth almost nothing, and so people are kept in abject poverty with no hope except to continue to live that way.

So I hope and I pray that there will be freedom and democracy in Cuba. I hope it will be before too long. I hope that people like President Chavez in Venezuela will stop giving support to the Cuban communist government. And if there is anything that the United States can do to stop Mr. Chavez from buoying up that government, I certainly want to see us do that, because he is absolutely committed to not only keeping Cuba a communist country, but spreading communism throughout Central and South America.

But as long as the Diaz-Balart brothers are willing to fight and as long as ILEANA ROS-LEHTINEN is willing to fight, I will be glad to carry their bags, because Cuba should and must be free. And one day Cuba will be free. And when it is free, we are all going to go down there and I am going to let the Diaz-Balart brothers buy me a margarita and we will all celebrate together.

Viva Cuba libre.

Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida. I thank the gentleman for his steadfast support for freedom.

I am going to approach the well because I want to show some pictures on some boards of some individuals that I want to briefly talk about.

Madam Speaker, the gentleman from Indiana just mentioned Orlando Zapata Tamayo. This is his picture here. He is a 42-year-old plumber and bricklayer in Cuba. He was arrested and thrown in prison, a peaceful pro-democracy advocate. While he was there, he was constantly being beaten and beaten and beaten, which is not unusual treatment for how that regime treats its political prisoners. It has hundreds upon hundreds upon hundreds of political prisoners.

So in order to protest the beatings against him and the inhumane treatment of all of the other political prisoners and to highlight the cause of freedom, the cause of freedom that so many are struggling for and are suffering so thoroughly for, he stopped eating and went on a hunger strike on December 3. Again, he continued to suffer from that brutality.

He had been arrested in 2003 during the Black Spring that I mentioned. Again, he was a person who had been declared a prisoner of conscience by international organizations like Amnesty International. So he went on this hunger strike, and after 80 days, 80 days, he passed away. He passed away because he refused to give up on the cause of freedom, and he refused to accept, as a normal everyday occurrence that should be accepted, the fact that the political prisoners should be beaten, mistreated, or incarcerated at all.

Let me also put up this poster now. This poster is of Orlando Zapata Tamayo's mother. What she is holding up here is the bloodied T-shirt of her son. That's the kind of beatings that he was receiving in prison as a political prisoner, as a prisoner of conscience, as a peaceful man who was just asking for freedom. And because of that, this is the kind of treatment that he was getting: constant beatings, constant, constant beatings in prison.

And after he died, after Orlando Zapata Tamayo, that hero for freedom that, hopefully, all of us will always remember, because history must remember him for his incredible sacrifice, after that, one would ask, well, is that it? Is the cause dead?

No, because there are other heroes that have come after him like the many heroes that came before. And they will continue to come until Cuba is free. And right after he died, another well-known political prisoner, very well-known activist, a very well-known pro-democracy activist also then stopped eating and went on a hunger strike. He's been on this hunger strike since the 24th of February.

I want everybody to see him. This is a man who's a psychologist; he's a freelance writer. He's on a hunger strike, and he knows what the consequences of that hunger strike may be because he saw what happened to Zapata Tamayo; and he's on a hunger strike, knowing that his fate may very well be the same, that he may give his life so that others will finally wake up and speak out about the horrible atrocities that have taken place just 90 miles away from our shore.

And, again, he says, he has stated that he will remain on this hunger strike until a number of other political prisoners who are—26 of them that are seriously ill, seriously ill—are set free. As you can see by this image, his condition is, well, very fragile. It doesn't take a medical doctor, because I'm not one, to understand that his condition is very, very fragile.

Felix Bonet Carcases, I don't have a picture of him here, unfortunately. But he's an engineer and a former university professor. He has already publicly vowed that he will also go on a hunger strike if Guillermo Farinas were to die on his hunger strike; that he will replace him in the hunger strike until, as he said, the final consequences, to highlight the condition of the political prisoners, to highlight the lack of freedom of the Cuban people, to highlight the fact that that freedom is something that's desired by all, and yet receives so little attention, so little international attention, because where are the international communities? Where are the international groups? Where are they speaking out for the freedom of the Cuban political prisoners? Where are they asking and demanding elections for the Cuban people? Very few are anywhere to be heard, which is why, now, Felix has also said that he will go on a hunger strike as well, again, I repeat, as he said, until the final consequences.

And the story goes on and on and on. I want to now put up a picture of Jorge Luis Garcia Perez and his wife, Iris Perez Aguilera. He is known as Antunez, by one word; everybody knows him as one word. He was arrested while talking to some friends in a public square. In 1990 he was talking about the lack of freedom in 1990 and he was arrested, and he spent 17 years as a political prisoner, and he was consistently and constantly beaten in prison and yet he never gave up. He never lost faith. And he was finally released in 2007.

And what has he done since his release in 2007? Madam Speaker, he's continued to speak out. Madam Speaker, he's continued to speak out. He's continued to complain and denounce the treatment of the political prisoners and the lack of freedom and demanding democracy for Cuba. And just like he was beaten in prison, he and his wife, another hero, are now constantly arrested and rearrested; and they're beaten and beaten and beaten, time and time again. He's 45 years old, another hero that the American people need to know about.

These are heroes 90 miles away from the United States. Both of these individuals are heroes.

Another hero, Madam Speaker, Oscar Elias Biscet. He's a physician. He's a doctor. He was incarcerated. It started because he refused to perform forced abortions. They actually have forced abortions in the island of Cuba. He has dedicated his life to advancing human rights and democracy in Cuba. He's a medical doctor, as I said, and a total pacifist, a believer in Martin Luther King and in Gandhi, a person, who, again, continues to speak out, even from prison, even after the repeated beatings that he has received time and time and time again. He has been placed in solitary confinement. He has lost many of his teeth. And yet he continues to speak out.

And, unfortunately, where are the international organizations demanding his release?

And I can continue to go on and on and on, and we need to talk about some of these heroes that can never be forgotten, that we need to stand with them, next to them, behind them in solidarity.

But to also speak on this issue and tell us a little bit about it—and I know that he actually even, I believe he spoke, I think the gentleman spoke to Dr. Biscet.

Mr. LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART of Florida. To Farinas.

Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida. To Farinas. I'm sorry. To Farinas who is on a hunger strike recently. To talk a little bit about that is a person who has dedicated his life to the cause of freedom, who has spent many years in public service, who will, even though he will be leaving Congress soon, will not stop fighting for the cause of freedom everywhere, not only in Cuba, but obviously, also in particular fighting for the political prisoners, for democracy, for the just causes, for the suffering of the Cuban people, and that is the gentleman from Florida (Mr. LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART).

Mr. LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Thank you. I want to thank Congressman MARIO DIAZ-BALART for convening us here this evening. And, MARIO, if you may, leave Biscet because I'm going to read first a statement he sent out, along with five other heroes on March 3. And I'd like to start by, as I was saying, thanking you for convening us, and by pointing out who the heroes and genuine representatives of Cuba are.

There have not been free elections for many decades, and so the people cannot express themselves. When they are able to express themselves, these heroes and others like them, who, today enjoy the moral authority arising from their conduct, will have political authority. They will be elected at the municipal level, at the provincial level, at the national level as the leaders of Cuba. They are the representatives of the Cuban people.

Dr. Biscet, whose photograph is on top there, and five other heroes, managed to send a statement from their prison. They are in one of the gulags of the Castro brothers, and they sent out a statement on March 3; and I'd like to read it:

We continue to suffer cruel treatment, inhuman, degrading treatment and even torture in the Communist regime's prisons. We ask all who support Cuba's freedom to, between March 12 and March 31, unite in short periods of fasting and study of the Bible, demanding the liberation of all political prisoners and liberty and democracy in Cuba. Please engage in short fasts and prayer sessions in your homes, churches or other public gathering places. And speak out in articles, in conferences, to reflect upon and implement and help implement, through peaceful, just and patriotic means, the long-sought objectives of the Cuban people.

Oscar Elias Biscet, whose photograph is there, Julio Cesar Galvez, Ricardo Gonzales, Normando Hernandez, Tres Iglesias and Angel Moya. Those six heroes sent out the statement that I read.

A few days ago I was able to be in Lithuania, where I was invited to help form the Parliamentary Forum of the Community of Democracies. Over 100 nations belong to the Community of Democracies; and Lithuania, a small country with extraordinary moral authority, is chairing the Community of Democracies, and had the initiative and the idea of the formation of a parliamentary forum. And I was honored to be elected one of the seven vice presidents. The new president of that now-established parliamentary forum, Chairman Zingeris, of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the Lithuanian Parliament, made a motion in the first meeting of the parliamentary forum in Lithuania a few days ago, and drafted a resolution in furtherance of the request of Dr. Biscet and the other heroes. And I'd like to read it:

Resolution, in the convening meeting of the Parliamentary Forum of the Community of Democracies calling for support of Cuba's pro-democracy movement.

Whereas, the pro-democracy movement in Cuba has grown at a rapid pace over the last 3 years, and specific expressions of the movement are evident today in the explosion of bloggers on the island, independent journalists, musicians, artists, writers and others who are using their talents to denounce the atrocities of the dictatorship, all while putting forth new ideas for the transition to democracy;

Whereas there are still extraordinary obstacles to overcome such as the continued repression by the totalitarian dictatorship, extremely limited access to the Internet and texting capabilities and a lack of a coherent message of solidarity from the international community;

Whereas the dictatorship is fearful of the growth of the pro-democracy movement;

Whereas the message of the movement is coherent and clear in demanding freedom for all Cuban political prisoners, beginning with those who are gravely ill inside the prisons, freedom of expression and free, fair multi-party elections with international supervision;

Whereas this common position of the Cuban pro-democracy movement requires greater recognition, dissemination and solidarity on the part of the Community of Democracies;

Whereas now more than ever the Cuban pro-democracy movement requires that the democratic community take concrete steps to demonstrate its solidarity;

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the Community of Democracies Parliamentary Forum condemns the brutality of the Cuban regime against Cuban political prisoners, expresses its full support for the Cuban pro-democracy movement, honors Cuban pro-democracy fighters, such as the martyr, Orlando Zapata Tamayo, and expresses its admiration for the efforts of other heroes such as Guillermo Farinas, calls for the immediate release of all Cuban political prisoners and for free multi-party elections in Cuba, and calls on the democratic community to take concrete steps in demonstrating their solidarity with the Cuban pro-democracy movement by providing humanitarian and technological assistance to the pro-democracy movement, urging foreign diplomatic posts in Havana to strengthen contacts with pro-democracy activists on the island, and encouraging foreign dignitaries to visit Cuba for the sole purpose of meeting with pro-democratic activists, and looking for opportunities to reiterate and support the common position of the Cuban pro-democracy movement in the international community.

That resolution passed at the convening meeting of the Parliamentary Forum of the Community of Democracies in Vilnius, Lithuania on 12 March 2010.

I see a distinguished colleague of ours. There is no one who I admire more than CHRISTOPHER SMITH, who has joined us.

And before yielding back to you Congressman, MARIO DIAZ-BALART, the floor, I would like to make reference to two items. First, I will put in the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD a list of 25 gravely ill political prisoners in Cuba who are the reason for the hunger strike of Guillermo Farinas, who is in the photograph below Dr. Biscet. Guillermo Farinas is on a hunger strike and has been on a hunger strike for weeks now, as we speak, for the reason that these 25 political prisoners are near death because of grave illnesses. And they are still being held and have received sentences at the order obviously of the tyrant Fidel Castro of up to 26 years of length per sentence simply for calling for freedom, supporting freedom, and democracy.

So after CHRIS SMITH speaks, I will, if it is all right, read the names of these 25 heroes. And then I would like to simply make reference, if I may, to—I received a call—I wasn't able to answer it before coming to the floor—from a reporter from the National Journal, Tom Risen, who, according to my staff, is asking my opinion with regard to the initiative now with the subterfuge, under the subterfuge, of an agricultural bill where they tell the American farmer, This is to help you make sales.

Legislation has been filed to open up what the Castro brothers consider their number one priority, to grant them their number one priority: The billions of dollars in mass U.S. tourism to their system, to their island, where they would then be able to receive the tourists, make sure that the tourists see the Potemkin village.

Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida. If the gentleman will yield on that point.

I think it's interesting to note this legislation that you're mentioning, it was filed on the same day that Orlando Zapata Tamayo died in prison in a hunger strike, the same day where you would expect solidarity, where you would expect somebody to say, What can we do to help those that are struggling, suffering in prison. That same day, some in this Congress filed a bill to unilaterally lift sanctions, asking nothing in return for that day.

Mr. LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART of Florida. And granting the Cuban tyranny its number one priority.

When some colleagues have come to me and said, What is your opinion on the agricultural bill that's been filed? I said, Do you realize it has very little to do with agriculture? And it is the number one priority of the Cuban tyranny? To receive the countless billions in U.S. tourism unilaterally, thus in exchange for nothing.

The prisoners would continue being tortured, the Cuban people would continue being bound and gagged, being denied their ability to speak, much less have free and fair multiparty elections. For over 50 years that would continue. And the regime would have unilaterally its billions, countless billions of U.S. dollars. That is what that bill is about. It's not about agriculture.

The regime is allowed to purchase American agriculture by U.S. law, agricultural products. Castro has to pay so that the American taxpayer is not then given the bill afterward for billions, countless billions of dollars that he won't pay after he gets the ability to get financing. And if he gets mass U.S. tourism, then imagine the ability to further repress, to further torture, to further denigrate, to discriminate, because the essence of that regime is not only totalitarian regime; it is a racist regime against the Cuban people.

I wish to read the list of the heroes, but I think it's important that we recognize CHRIS SMITH.

Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida. I'm also going to ask you to relay a little bit of the conversation that you had with one of the heroes. We were speaking about how the majority of Congress has always had great solidarity with the people of Cuba.

One of the gentlemen that you most admire—and I knew of him before I got elected to Congress by having conversations with you, and then seeing his record. I also remember seeing a publication. I don't remember exactly what the quote was, but they called him one of the heroes of the oppressed. Not in Congress, just in our country.

And so it's a privilege to have the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. SMITH). Again, a hero of those who are oppressed, a hero if anyone is struggling in a political prison, in a gulag, for his or her belief. It's a privilege to have you here.

We're talking about heroes and the gulags. We have it easy here because we live in freedom. But we can't forget the struggles of those around the world, including just 90 miles away. I want to thank you for never forgetting, never forgetting those that are struggling like Dr. Biscet who is in there for, frankly, just because he is pro-life. So thank you for being here.

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. I thank my good friend for yielding.

And I just say to the DIAZ-BALART brothers, MARIO and LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART, you have spoken so bravely and for so long and with such clarity about human rights issues all over the world, including and especially in Cuba. The people of Cuba have no greater friends than you brothers, the DIAZ-BALART brothers. There isn't a single argument, fight, debate, amendment, bill that you, the two of you, are not out in front taking all of the flak, all of the disinformation that is dished by those enablers of tyranny who believe that somehow if you coddle dictatorship, you will see an amelioration of their egregious acts. It doesn't happen. It didn't happen with the Nazis. It has not happened with the Chinese Communist regime. It has not happened in North Korea. And over this last half century, it has not happened in Cuba.

The more you enable a dictatorship, the more of an appetite it has for political prisoners, for repression, because there is no check, there is no tourniquet on their horrific abuse.

So let me say it again. No one has done more on behalf of human rights, especially for the beleaguered Cuban people, than LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART and MARIO. And I've been in Congress for 30 years, so I, along with FRANK WOLF and others, have worked very hard along with you on human rights laws and policies. It is a privilege to be called your friend for your steadfast advocacy. It is incredible.

When you spoke about the travel ban and other associated concessions to the dictatorship in Havana, it seems to me—and I say this to both sides of the aisle—but especially to my Democratic friends, especially to the Congressional Black Caucus that traveled down to Cuba, met with Raul and Fidel Castro, and as far as we can tell, never mentioned Dr. Biscet, never mentioned any of these courageous political prisoners who have been tortured, have been put in solitary confinement simply because of their steadfast belief in human rights and that every man, woman, and child in Cuba ought to live in liberty and freedom.

There is an empathy deficit, a lack of empathy, a lack of compassion. We talk a lot about compassion in Congress. Very often it's just a simple word, a throwaway word that has all kinds of meaning. We need to have empathy to get in their shoes, realize what it must be like to spend hours without a light in darkness, eating worm-infested food, being sick, having diarrhea that seems to never go away, losing your teeth, as Dr. Oscar Biscet is in the process of doing, if he hasn't lost them all already.

This brave man, an OB-GYN, a doctor who stood up for human rights, not one member of the Congressional Black Caucus, to the best of my knowledge, and other members who are always patronizing Fidel Castro, stood up and said, What about him? Why can't we go and see him and visit him in his prison cell? Congressman FRANK WOLF and I have tried for 20 years to visit Cuba to go to the prisons. Every time we're turned down by the Castro regime. We have a pending request right now. We were turned down last February.

Those who go in and sing the praises of these modern day Adolf Hitlers. And let's not forget you take Fidel Castro and Raul Castro and what they have done: Torture, humiliation, execution, slow and long, sometimes a bullet, sometimes a very slow death. These people, if they were in a free society, not only would be prosecuted, they probably would be in an insane asylum for the kinds of terrible dark deeds that they commit on other people.

I read Armando Valladares' book years ago, and I recommend it to everyone who wants to enable this dictatorship. It's known as "Against All Hope." It's a chronicle of this brave man, years in the Castro gulags. He talks about one instance where in order to further humiliate the political prisoners, they lined them up and marched them into a vat of human excrement, submerged them; and these men, their noses, their eyes, their ears were filled with human excrement. Many of them lost their hearing. Many had eye problems, nose problems and all kinds of infections from it. They smelt horrible.

That very act caused a kind of PTSD in Armando Valladares. Later on when his wife, after he was exiled, upon his release gave birth to children, he couldn't even change his children's diapers because it brought him back in a flash to that terrible, degrading torture that was inflicted upon him by Fidel Castro.

Fidel Castro, ladies and gentlemen, ought to be at the Hague standing trial for crimes against humanity. He is in the same league as Pol Pot, Idi Amin, Slobodan Milosevic, and all of the passing parade of petty tyrants who maim, humiliate, and kill because they have a secret police that enables them to do it.

We call on this administration, the Obama administration, to cease, stop its coddling of Fidel Castro. It is unconscionable, all of the smiles and happy words. This man needs to be dealt with for the tyrant that he truly is. And I'm not talking about just Fidel but his brother as well. These political prisoners need friends in the White House so that some day they can live in freedom.

Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Before you leave, though, again, the atrocities are such. I would like, if it is possible, there is a poster there right next to you. It's the last one, I believe. And it shows the women in white. The ladies in white. They're the wives and mothers of, daughters of, spouses of political prisoners. And they demonstrate in Havana. And all they do is very quietly they just march. And it's a demonstration basically asking for a release of their loved ones.

This picture is from last week. That demonstration, that march—it's a march, it's a peaceful, quiet, march—was led by Reina Tamayo, whose son had just died in an 80-day hunger strike in a prison as a political prisoner.

And there you see what happens to those women, peaceful women who just walk quietly, peacefully.

A little while ago I showed the T-shirt held up by Reina Tamayo of her son who died in prison, a political prisoner who died in prison after a hunger strike. Imagine the beatings. Imagine the beatings that that human being had to endure. Just look at that T-shirt. And look at that mother. Look at that mother and how anybody can then say, You know something? We're going to unilaterally give that regime what they want, asking nothing in return. Why is that happening?

Mr. LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART of Florida. If I may, CHRIS SMITH's point of the fact if there were justice, if there were justice in the world, the Cuban tyrant, Fidel Castro, and his brother, who now has the titles and carries out, continues to carry out the orders of Fidel Castro but has the titles now, some of the titles of power because Fidel Castro, the tyrant, is immobile and finds it difficult to receive people but still gives the orders and is the instigator and the source of terror in that island prison, if there were justice, the Cuban tyrant and his brother would be facing it in the International Criminal Court in The Hague.

What is most appalling is that instead of that, what we see is, number one, deafening silence. We hear deafening silence.

Where is the outrage? Imagine if these were hunger strikers protesting the lack of freedom in another dictatorship. Imagine. But the Cuban people now have had to, for 50 years, live as nonpersons. Where is the media? Where? These are men who are dying. Zapata Tamayo already died. Guillermo Farinas is in the process of dying. Felix Bonne Carcasses has said he will be next. Those are people who we know are on hunger strikes to protest specifically, to request the release of these 25 heroes.

I would like to, if I may, read their names, and then I will submit their names for the RECORD.

Our friend, DAN BURTON and now CHRIS SMITH talked about MARIO and LINCOLN, the brothers. It has been and it is a great honor for me to serve with my brother first in Tallahassee in the legislature in Florida and now in the Congress of the United States. It has been an honor and a privilege, for the rest of my days I will cherish, to represent the wonderful people of south Florida for 18 years in this Congress and 6 years before that in the State legislature.

But there are two brothers who are genuine heroes. Among these 25 gravely ill political prisoners, two are brothers. At one point, four were political prisoners, four brothers. There are still two, and they are gravely ill, both of them, Ariel Sigler Amaya and Guido Sigler Amaya.

The other names of 25 gravely ill political prisoners who we are aware of, and Guillermo Farinas is on a hunger strike demanding their release, their immediate release, the other names are: Antonio Villareal Acosta, Omar Moises Ruiz Hernandez, Arnaldo Ramos Lauzurique, Alfredo Manuel Pulido

Lopez, Arturo Perez de Alejo Rodriguez, Jesus Mustafa Felipe, Angel Moya Acosta, Luis Milan Fernandez, Librado Ricardo Linares Garcia, Juan Carlos Herrera Acosta, Normando Hernandez Gonzalez, Jorge Luis Gonzalez Tanquero, Lester Gonzalez Penton, Ricardo Gonzalez Alfonso, Jose Luis Garcia Paneque, Julio Cesar Galvez Rodriguez, Miguel Galvan Gutierrez, Luis Enrique Ferrer Garcia, also from another family and brothers who are heroes, two of them are political prisoners. Unfortunately, Luis Enrique Ferrer Garcia, one of the two brothers, is gravely ill. Juan Adolfo Fernandez Sainz, Alfredo Felipe Fuentes, Eduardo Diaz Fleitas, Victor Rolando Arroyo Carmona, and Pedro Arguelles Moran.

Those 25 heroes we know of, and the hero Farinas, that psychologist and independent journalist who I had the privilege of speaking with the other day, the day I was leaving for Lithuania, I managed after many attempts to get through to him. Obviously, it's not easy, the dictatorship call. Now he is no condition to speak on the phone. He was very weak, even when I spoke to him. This was about a week ago. And I said, I am very worried about you. You are going to be very needed. And he said, No, don't worry about me. He said, There are many, many more qualified people who will be ready to help give a reconstruct. This has to be done.

He told me all peoples need martyrs, all nations need martyrs, and the time now has arrived for a different—a different attitude by the opposition in Cuba. I was extremely moved during my conversation with the hero, Farinas, and my thoughts and prayers are with him as they are with all of those who at this moment are suffering in the gulag of the tyranny.

Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida. Thank you for relaying that conversation.

The gentleman from New Jersey.

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. You know, the long-suffering people of Cuba are really in a double unfortunate position. They are subjected to one of the cruelest dictatorships on the face of the Earth. Freedom House recently ranked Cuba as one of the least free countries in the world. The only country that ranked lower on the freedom scale than Cuba was the nightmare gulag of North Korea; yet, in an insane paradox, the Cuban tyrants remain romantic heroes. People have pictures of these tyrants on T-shirts, wear them on college campuses, and for many in the United States, including some Members of Congress, especially those who visited Cuba last year, they gush with admiration for these dictators who have so repressed people.

You know, last year, the U.N. Human Rights Council did what they call the universal periodic review, at which time they looked at the record of human rights abuse in Cuba. It was scathing. Many members of that council raised serious questions at the council meeting and also said, Here are a number of recommendations. Virtually every recommendation was rejected out of hand, and that was the end of the story.

I would call upon the Obama administration to call, as a member of the Human Rights Council, for a specific meeting of the Human Rights Council, the U.N. Human Rights Council—it only takes a third of the membership to do so—to refocus on Cuba and its horrific human rights abuses and the fact that they have taken every recommendation—I mean, even the International Committee of the Red Cross has been denied since Armando Valladares' day, access to those prisons. The ICRC, a sterling record of investigations and interventions on behalf of political prisoners around the world, they can't even get into the Cuban prisons. So I would call on the Obama administration to ask for a specific meeting just on Cuba and the rejected recommendations.

Let me also point out that chronicling the abuse isn't all that hard. The State Department, in its human rights report released just 2 weeks ago, couldn't be more clear in laying out the catalog of abuses routinely visited upon the people, especially the almost 200 known, and there are others, political prisoners in Cuba's gulags.

Let me finally say, during the 1980s, many of us were very active fighting against the abuses of the Soviet Union. In the mid 1980s, Congressman FRANK WOLF and I actually got into Perm Camp 35, the infamous gulag where great heroes like Sharansky and many others and all these other great leaders spent time in solitary confinement and suffering at the hands of the KGB. We actually got in, visited with videotape and agitated for the release of almost two dozen political prisoners, and one by one they got out.

I visited Xanana Gusmao when he was a political prisoner in Indonesia, in a prison in Indonesia. He went on to become the President of East Timor.

FRANK WOLF and I got into Beijing Prison Number 1, where at least 40 Tiananmen Square activists, 40 Tiananmen Square activists with shaved heads were thrown into that gulag, known as the Laogai in China, and suffered horrifically, but at least the Chinese Government allowed us in.

A lot of people want to get out of Cuba. A lot of people—all people want to get out of their political prisons. Mr. WOLF and I are asking to let us in, and I renew that request of the Cuban Government as well as, again, to ask that this administration help to make that happen.

Finally, my friends will know, because I worked so closely with Mr. DIAZ-BALART—MARIO wasn't here yet—on the issue of linking a series of human rights with the lifting of a travel ban, most important of which was the full release of the political prisoners. That legislation passed here. It didn't pass in the Senate, unfortunately, and I will offer that again if given the opportunity, although the rules will probably forbid it.

But that's what we need to do. You need linkage. You need to say to a dictatorship, If you want a benefit, you have to cease persecuting your own people. And, you know, there is a great group, we all know it, Brothers to the Rescue. The DIAZ-BALART brothers are the brothers to the rescue.

Mr. LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART of Florida. You are very kind.

Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida. You mentioned Brothers to the Rescue. I think it is important to note that this is a regime that obviously incarcerates, and oppresses its own people, but it also has a history of murdering Americans.

You mentioned Brothers to the Rescue. Two airplanes, American airplanes, civilian American airplanes in international airspace that were shot down by Cuban MiGs one fine day just because, because they could, because they wanted to, killing four individuals, four innocent individuals that, I guess, their sin was trying to save people in the ocean, looking for people that were in the ocean seeking freedom.

And the same regime that killed those individuals is the same regime that harbors multiple terrorists and criminals and fugitives of American law, including cop killers who are living in Cuba; the same regime that right now as we speak, as some will file bills to unilaterally give concessions and asking nothing in return, has another American hostage. That's the regime that we are dealing with.

Mr. LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART of Florida. I thank CHRISTOPHER SMITH for, first of all, his leadership, commitment, clarity. History will thank him, as it must. I reiterate my admiration.

I want to make a comment with regard to political prisoners. We know of these 25 gravely ill political prisoners.

The reason we know is because Guillermo Farinas, the hero on hunger strike, said that's why I am on hunger strike. Release them now before they die. We know of, yes, the names of 200 prisoners of conscience, but we also know that there are thousands of political prisoners for crimes that are only crimes in the fiefdom of a demented totalitarian tyrant, crimes like dangerousness. What is that? Crimes like trying to leave the country without permission.

But imagine being in prison and charged with dangerousness. Thousands, countless thousands of Cubans are in the gulag because of so-called crimes like that. They are political prisoners, and they have to be released unconditionally, immediately, as all political parties must be legalized—the press, labor unions—and free and fair multiparty elections must be scheduled.

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. The State Department report, the human rights report, released 2 weeks ago again, they can catalog or chronicle 5,000 prisoners who are in there because of "dangerousness."

Mr. LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART of Florida. That are known, that are known.

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Yes.

Mr. LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART of Florida. So it is thousands of political prisoners, because we know the names of 200 prisoners of conscience; let's not forget the countless thousands of political prisoners.

And you, CHRIS SMITH, and FRANK WOLF, who have not sought to go to Cuba to laugh at the jokes of the tyrants, but rather to meet with Biscet and meet with Farinas and meet with Antunez and meet with the other heroes and the leaders of the future, you were called specifically by name by the Cuban tyrant Fidel Castro "provocateurs who will never enter Cuba."

But what he must, he should, know is his days are limited. And the Cuban people, CHRISTOPHER SMITH, are going to thank you and they are going to thank FRANK WOLF, and they are going to thank all those men and women of the world who stood with them. Obviously, we wish there were many more CHRIS SMITHS and FRANK WOLFS, like there are more, now, people. Look at this example in Central Europe and Eastern Europe of solidarity. And more is coming, but much more is needed.

Mr. MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida. I thank the gentleman from New Jersey for spending this time and really explaining what is at stake here.

It is interesting how those who do get it—and again it is important to note that the majority of Congress has stood next and by the Cuban people and continues to stand by the Cuban people, but there are others as well that do. You mentioned the Lithuanians, the Poles, the Czechs, the Romanians. Those who have suffered from lack of freedom understand the frailty of freedom, also particularly understand the horrors of that Marxist regime 90 miles away from the United States, because they suffered under very similar types of totalitarian regimes.

But it is interesting to note, I mention this again, that this Congress in a bipartisan fashion stands by the Cuban people, stands by the political prisoners, stands by those relatives who have lost loved ones in the gulags and in the ocean, will continue to stand by the Cuban people, will not be swayed by propaganda.

This Congress does not forget the suffering of the Cuban people and does not forget that the most important thing that any human being has is freedom.

So I am so grateful to the solidarity of the American people, and I am so grateful because of that strong solidarity of the majority of this Congress. The Cuban people will be free. This Congress will do everything it can to make sure that they know that we are with them. They will be free. They are giving it all. They are sacrificing even their lives. And it is important that tonight they know that they are not alone, they are not forgotten. We know they are there. We admire you, we respect you, and we stand 100 percent behind you.

I yield back the balance of my time.

HEALTH CARE REFORM

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker's announced policy of January 6, 2009, the gentleman from California (Mr. GARAMENDI) is recognized for 60 minutes as the designee of the majority leader.

Mr. GARAMENDI. Madam Speaker, if I might spend a few minutes talking about an extraordinary and historic day today, the day in which America finally, after more than a century, has managed to achieve a program that will in the years ahead create universal access to health care. A country that has universal insurance coverage is not so far away.

A few days ago, one of my colleagues used this quote by Martin Luther King to point out why this is such a historic and important day. Martin Luther King said, "Of all forms of inequality, injustice in health care is the most shocking and the most inhumane." Those days are over. Unfortunately, Martin Luther King is not here today to see this historic passage.

Earlier, 6 hours ago, President Obama signed the health care legislation, and in the week or days ahead the Senate will follow up with corrections to that legislation, and we will be on our road to universal health coverage in America.

Along that road in the days ahead some very important things are going to happen. I received a phone call earlier today, and on radio yesterday was asked by a business person in the San Francisco Bay Area: How does this affect me? My wife and I have a small business. How does this affect me? And I answered this way: Are you purchasing health insurance now? And he said: Yes, and we can no longer afford it. We are going to have to drop it. We are one of those people that have been faced with the 40 percent increase from Blue Cross of California.

I said, well, two things: In the years ahead, companies such as Blue Cross of California will have their rates reviewed as to the appropriateness of the increase. But that is not today. But beginning today, actually January 1, 2010, 35 percent of what you spend on health insurance will become a tax credit and subtracted directly from your tax obligations.

I also received a call in the last couple of days from a rancher in my district. He asked: How does this affect me? I have three employees, part-time, but I try to buy health insurance for them. I asked him: Do you have health insurance for yourself and your wife? He said: Yes, also on the ranch policy.

I said: It will help the same way. You will receive immediately, and every small business in America, 100 people or less, 100 employees or less will receive that tax credit of 35 percent. And in the year ahead, in 2011, that will increase to 50 percent.

So the burden of purchasing insurance for small businesses, which, after all, are the entrepreneurial part of our economy, where most jobs are actually created and where most health insurance policies have been lost, they will receive a significant reduction in the cost of their insurance immediately and more in the days ahead.

I was also asked about seniors. But before I go to that, let me just pick up this issue of why this is such an important day for America.

In America of yesterday, 45,000 Americans died every year prematurely because they did not have health care. Our health care statistics rank us 19th among the industrialized nations of the world and even behind the nation of Colombia. This is the number of our children that die prematurely early in their life. Our general health, we do not live as long as other nations, our people die earlier, our children die more often.

We have also seen an extraordinary rate increase for those of us in California that obtain our insurance from Blue Cross, 94 percent over what amounts to just a little more than a 1-year period of time.

There was talk last summer about the death panel. Well, the death panel actually occurs from the insurance companies. In California, the average number of claims that were rejected, denied—and these are efforts that doctors have made to provide insurance—21 percent, one-fifth of all claims, all requests for services were denied by the health insurance companies. One company actually denied 39 percent of them. The number of Californians without insurance is about 24 percent.

Now let's go to the issue of seniors and think back on those words of Martin Luther King. The Medicare program in America was made stronger as a result of the legislation that was signed today. The Medicare program in America, its financial solvency has been extended somewhere between 7 years and 9 years out ahead. So all of this talk about the Medicare program becoming insolvent simply isn't the case any longer as a result of today's action by President Barack Obama—I should use my left hand—when he signed that legislation.

It's an incredibly important day.

I am also delighted to notice that I have now been joined by my colleague from the great State of Illinois, JAN SCHAKOWSKY, who is here to join me in this. And with the permission of the Chair, I would like to engage in a dialogue with her.

Welcome. I know that you represent a very special part of this Nation. We are talking about seniors here and about the effects of this legislation on seniors. A couple of days ago you spoke to this issue.

How does it affect Illinois?

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Well, one of the things that I think is really refreshing about what is going on today, and ever since the legislation was finally passed, is that there is real focus on how this bill is going to help real people. No more the myths of if we do this, this is going to happen, all these mythical things I heard you talking about, the death panels, et cetera. But now we are having a real conversation. And Americans, including our seniors, are looking at, what does this bill really mean to me?

Let me give you an example of the Ninth Congressional District in Illinois. We know that 101,000 beneficiaries of Medicare are going to be helped by this; that Medicare will be made stronger, including beginning the closing of the doughnut hole. That gap in coverage that can be $36,000 out of pocket, that is going to go away in this bill over time, and it is going to start right away.

So what we are going to find out now, and I actually saw a poll today that the majority of Americans now—it's changing really quickly—say that they are either enthusiastic or pleased that this legislation passed, beating out those who say that they didn't want it or that they are afraid of it. And so I am so glad that we are now at this phase of the discussion.

This day is really one I have dreamed about my whole adult life and what I have been working for for a while as executive director of the Illinois State Council of Senior Citizens for 5 year. So we have been talking about this for a long time.

Mr. GARAMENDI. It's a happy day for America. It is a really happy day for America. We are on our way to solving one of this Nation's great problems.

Earlier today I was in the East Room of the White House with both of you. Sitting next to me is an extraordinary Representative from really an important part of this Nation, a part of the Nation that has been really harmed by the economy. And we were talking about the way in which this legislation as the President was signing it would affect her district. So let me call upon the gentlewoman from western Pennsylvania, KATHLEEN DAHLKEMPER.

Mrs. DAHLKEMPER. Thank you so much for yielding to me.

Pennsylvania has the second largest population of seniors in the country, and this legislation will go a long way to securing our seniors' future in terms of the benefits that they get from Medicare.

I am so proud to be here tonight talking about this, proud to be one of those who voted "yes" and helped to make this historic legislation move forward. It was certainly a great day on Sunday, and it was even a greater day today when the President signed it into law.

I think about the fact that as I campaigned just 1½ years ago, so many seniors told me about the financial problems they were having with this doughnut hole issue, and they would cut their pill in half or they would only take it every other day.

I was with my father-in-law one day driving somewhere and I asked him how his diabetes was. He has got adult onset diabetes. He said, Well, you know I got into that doughnut hole. So one of those pills, I am only taking it every other day. And he was basically self-medicating. He was determining what he could afford, not what the doctor ordered. And I know that this is a problem for so many seniors.

So we are going to close that doughnut hole, which I think is one of the great benefits, and we are also going to allow our seniors to get more preventative care without the copays, and going and getting taken care of themselves so they can get a better quality of life and enjoy those years that we hope to enjoy in our lives.

Mr. GARAMENDI. Actually, in 2011, just 10 months from now, the Medicare program will provide wellness and preventative care, and it will not cost the seniors anything. It will be part of the program, 100 percent paid for by the Medicare program.

Your father-in-law, is it, that was cutting his diabetic medicine in half so that he could make it through?

Mrs. DAHLKEMPER. He was doing that. He was trying to spread it out so he could extend his prescription, his filled prescription longer, and reduce the out-of-pocket cost that he was experiencing.

Mr. GARAMENDI. One thing that would clearly help him, beginning January 1, we backdate this to January 1, 2010, there will be a $250 rebate, a check written to him. If he shows he spent $250 on that medication, he'll get a check from the Federal Government to reimburse him for that $250 that he spent once he got to the doughnut hole. That's an immediate benefit.

You've got to be sure to give him a phone call as soon as you leave.

Mrs. DAHLKEMPER. I will. He's just coming back from a trip, something all seniors should be able to do, go enjoy themselves and not have to spend everything that they have on making sure that they have their prescriptions.

I want to thank the gentleman for hosting tonight. I'm just pleased to be here and pleased to see this legislation come forward.

Mr. GARAMENDI. I know that you have another responsibility that you will soon take, and that is to preside over the House. Thank you so very much for joining us for these few minutes before you take the chair and make sure that we keep our time.

Mrs. DAHLKEMPER. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. GARAMENDI. Thank you.

I notice that a woman that I have had the pleasure of working with now for—well, neither of us will say the total number of years, but she became the chair of the Senate Health and Welfare Committee in California when I moved out of that job to become majority leader in the California senate.

I would like to now introduce and yield to Congresswoman DIANE WATSON, and then if the gentlewoman from Illinois could follow.

Ms. WATSON. Thank you so much, Congressman JOHN GARAMENDI, one of our newer Members; however, old in leadership, ability, ability to conceptualize and he saw a spot for himself in this debate.

And I want to say, we are glowing in the aura of being in the White House and seeing the President, Barack Obama, sign with 19 different pens what is going to change the quality of health care through insurance for this whole country, for Americans.

You're only as strong as your weakest link. I told them earlier today that the people at home who have doubts about what we did and what we're doing and don't really understand; the opposition always showed all of these hundreds and thousands of pages and people became confused and they really were misled. But think of somebody on a high wire and he's got a pole in his hands, or she has a pole in her hands, and she slips, or he slips, and underneath there is a safety net. If that safety net has a hole in it, what's going to happen? People are going to fall through and the end will be there. We in government are the safety net. We have to look larger. They say all politics is local, but we have to look at what we had signed into law by the President, what it will really do.

And I just want to say, that mother who has a son 9 years old and has chronic asthma and had no way of getting him covered can now see that he is covered and get the kind of care that he needs.

This is a true story. It happened in Sacramento. There was a young mother, a beautician. She worked, paid her rent in her little booth where she did hair. She had to quit and go on welfare so her son could be covered because he was in the hospital at least three times a week.

Mr. GARAMENDI. He had a pre-existing condition.

Ms. WATSON. He had a preexisting condition and she could not get insurance coverage. That will be taken care of.

Mr. GARAMENDI. I yield to the gentle lady from Illinois.

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Unfortunately, Representative GARAMENDI, I am going to have to leave, too. But before I did, I wanted to focus on what happens this year for people. The physical rollout of the bill takes a number of years to happen. But if people are wondering what's going to happen this year, I wanted to just give some examples.

Starting as soon as the bill is passed, tax credits to small businesses to make employee coverage more affordable. Those tax cuts of up to 35 percent of premiums will be immediately available to companies, to small businesses that choose to offer coverage to their employees. Of course, in 2014 the tax credits will cover 50 percent of the premiums. Right away. We talked about the $250 rebate to Medicare recipients. And also there's going to be a 50 percent discount on brand name drugs for people who are in that doughnut hole, in that gap in coverage; and the doughnut hole being closed completely by 2020.

Ninety days later, immediate access to insurance for Americans who are uninsured because of a preexisting condition through a temporary high-risk pool. We put billions of dollars into a high-risk pool for people. Six months after enactment, that's when health plans are prohibited from denying coverage to children with preexisting conditions.

Mr. GARAMENDI. That's what Congresswoman WATSON was talking about, that young child, the mother. That child has immediate access—6 months from now. Let's count it up. That would be September. She would be able to get health care coverage for her child.

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Also in 6 months, and this is going to affect 52,000 young adults in my district alone, to require health plans to allow young people up to their 26th birthday to remain on their parents' insurance policies. At their parents' choice, of course. So that's pretty good for our young people.

Mr. GARAMENDI. That's downright exciting.

Now I've got a 24-year-old daughter. About 11 months ago, she went off our policy. She couldn't get insurance, even though she had been with the same insurance company for 23 years, and suddenly she was uninsurable because she was a woman in a child-bearing age. Those days are over. She can come back on my policy. We've got 52,000 people in my district, the same young population, that will be able to stay with their parents. Please continue.

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. That's a story in itself, why your daughter after having been insured with the same company for 23 years, and now couldn't pay for her own insurance and they would raise her rates.

Mr. GARAMENDI. It wasn't a matter of paying. She couldn't get insurance.

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Oh, they excluded her. Unbelievable.

Mr. GARAMENDI. Because she had that preexisting condition called "female."

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Now in 6 months from the enactment of this bill, from today, health plans won't be able to drop people when they get sick. And Illinois happens to be number one in what is called rescission, and that's just canceling people because they go back digging through their records and say, uh-uh, we're going to drop your policy.

Six months from today, health plans will not be able to have lifetime caps on coverage. And people who have chronic illness, they can reach those caps in a very few months if they get sick. And in 6 months tightly restrict new plans' use of annual limits to ensure access to needed care. These tight restrictions will be defined by Health and Human Services. So that's a good thing. We're going to begin to regulate what they do.

And finally, beginning in January of next year, that's when the seniors don't have to pay any copayments for preventive services; exempts preventive services from any deductibles under Medicare. What a great thing that is to keep older adults healthy in this country.

And also in January, what we call a medical loss ratio, that's kind of a fancy term for saying that insurance plans will have to spend 80 percent of premium dollars on medical services for a small group market, or individual market, and 85 percent in a large group market. Eighty-five cents on every dollar is going to have to go to health care, not to bonuses or stock options for executives, but for health care. This is a great bill.

Mr. GARAMENDI. What year does that kick in?

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. January 1, 2011.

Mr. GARAMENDI. So it's not going to be about profit? It's going to be about actually providing benefits to people?

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Exactly. They're going to have to pay, for individual market, 80 cents on the dollar has to go to health care for a small group, and then 85 percent for large groups.

Mr. GARAMENDI. So those companies in Illinois and California that are denying claims to fatten their bottom line are going to have to actually provide medical services and pay for it. Oh, my goodness. What a shock.

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. That's right. But they'll be prohibited 6 months from now from dropping people off their policies. Those days are over.

In some ways, we're saying to the American people now who have been staying up at night like those parents worrying about their children, Sleep well. We're actually going to solve those problems and lift this tremendous weight off the shoulders of Americans.

Thank you so much for doing this. Thank you, Congresswoman WATSON. I appreciate it.

Mr. GARAMENDI. Thank you so very much for joining us and sharing that specific information.

As you were talking about the rescission issue, 4 years ago as Insurance Commissioner in California, we came upon several insurance companies that were just doing this really to fatten their bottom line. It happened to be the biggest company in California, Anthem Blue Cross. There were some complaints brought to us, brought to others, and we began to investigate them when we found that there was a pattern of practice within that company, that when an expensive claim, when one of their customers became sick with something that was expensive, perhaps diabetes or acute heart or cancer, they would go back and comb through the application looking for an error that may have been made.

For example, and this was one that was a very real example, as a young child, one of the people that had had their policy canceled had an asthma attack as a young child, probably 3 or 4 years of age, had an asthma attack. That was sufficient in the minds of Blue Cross Anthem to rescind the policy and to not pay for the very expensive care that the mother had incurred. Those kind of days are over. The message to the insurance industry is, You can no longer harm your customers. You're going to have to abide by your contract. You're going to have to provide coverage. And no longer are you going to be able to discriminate based upon a preexisting condition, upon sex; females, for example. You can no longer do those kinds of practices. Immediately, this year, those insurance reforms go into place and that will help every American that has a private insurance policy, whether you're in a group or you're in an individual policy, an extraordinarily important reform. I would have loved to have had a law like that in California during my days as Insurance Commissioner. We had to use other ways, contractual ways. We didn't have the law, we didn't have the power that is now given to the American people to force the insurance companies to behave.

Ms. WATSON. What we failed to do, Congressman, was emphasize, this really is a health insurance reform.

Mr. GARAMENDI. Yes.

Ms. WATSON. Too many people think that we're going to change the way health is delivered. And I say to people when I have town halls, How many of you have insurance? And the hands go up. How many of you like your insurance? And hands come down. I say, Well, keep your hand up if you like your insurance. If you like it, keep it.

Mr. GARAMENDI. Exactly.

Ms. WATSON. If you don't like it, and it's not meeting the needs of yourself and your loved ones, then you can go and shop around and find an insurance that is affordable. But you know what makes me just delighted tonight? That is that we have prevention written into this law. Wouldn't it be wonderful if you could go and check to be sure that you don't have breast cancer? That's one of the penalties, I guess, for being a woman. But you know, men can get breast cancer. You were in the legislature in California when we discovered in 1980 that breast cancer research was done on men. And a group of us women got together and said, We're not going to vote for the budget unless you have $28 million in there to do research on breast cancer.

Mr. GARAMENDI. I remember those days too. And I also remember what you were talking about a moment ago, and that is the way in which the insurance industry has in the past really harmed us. It's as though we were thrown to the sharks. We had no option. We will have a better option in the purchase of insurance in the days ahead. In fact, for those people in the 50 to 65 age group who have preexisting conditions, there is an insurance exchange that is immediately available to them. They will be part of a group, a high-risk group. They will be able to get insurance immediately. I think it's within 90 days they'll be able to apply for that insurance. Right now there's no way they can get coverage. They're not old enough for Medicare. They're probably virtually unemployable because they have a preexisting condition, and employers don't want to hire them because they know the insurance companies are going to raise the rates on everybody if they would be hired. So they are really in a dark hole. But this legislation provides a mechanism for those people in that category to get insurance in a high-risk pool that is actually paid for by the Federal Government. And that will be available this year right away.

Ms. WATSON. If I can just describe some of the other preventive services that will help to keep people's stress levels down. Because they feel that if they have a condition, but they don't have insurance, that when they go to get help, they're going to say, What's your insurance? I don't have one. Well, you know, I don't know if we can help you here. Go to the county hospital. And what people have to understand, when you have an organized society, everyone has to pay. We are only as strong, as I said, as our weakest link, and if we have communities where everyone is ill in that community, can we be a strong Nation?

We're going around the globe. We're fighting three wars at the current time—or two and a half—and we're saying, Do it our way. Well, I tell you, Congressman GARAMENDI, I have actually felt shame in the last 3 or 4 days. The people that were out on the streets taunting, showing hatred, calling people despicable terms right here on the floor, when another Member destroyed our decorum by saying “baby killer,” and then somebody's apologizing for him.

We're trying to show that we're this strong Nation globally, and we have values, and we care about people. But yeah, we spit on them. We call them names. We make fun of them in some way or the other. And sometimes it's a mental condition that has not been treated.

Mr. GARAMENDI. Well, mental health and addiction health is included in the coverage in the years ahead. No longer will there be this division between physical health and mental health. Mental health will be treated the same as what is the classic physical health insurance. An incredibly important part of this legislation requires that mental health be included in the insurance program. And what family in America hasn't been affected with either an addiction issue in their family or with a mental health issue in the family? It is common to all of us. So the coverage will be there. We're not making any aspersions to anybody in our company in this building or out on the street.

Ms. WATSON. No, no.

Mr. GARAMENDI. But the facts are the facts that mental health is desperately needed, and it will be treated the same as what we call the physical or the normal health programs of the past. And that was brought to us by PATRICK KENNEDY, who fought vigorously over this last year making sure that that issue, addiction and mental health, are included. And if that is, go to any police station around the Nation. Follow the policemen in their work during the day or the night. Many of the calls—and I know from my own experience in California from ride-alongs as the Lieutenant Governor, as the insurance commissioner, ride-alongs with the police. Many of the calls—I don't know, maybe 50 percent or more. On the day I was there, it was every call, and that was about five—was a mental health issue. Oh, it's Gladys. She's off her meds, and she causing trouble again. Or the addiction issues which are common. We know the prisons are filled with addicts. We need to get at that.

There's also in this legislation—and you've talked about prevention. Some of this happens immediately, but it will take time. The research, the mind research—what is addiction? How do we treat it? Is there a way that we can treat addiction? And the mental health issues are so much a part of our lives. So there is an enormous amount of money that will go into research of all kinds that will benefit us in the years ahead, also including medical information technology.

We know that mistakes in hospitals and in the doctor's office are often a result of scribbles on a pad of paper, trying to be interpreted by the nurse or the doctor who follows up in the next shift. But medical information technology that is readily available, where your information can be on a flash drive. You and I are from California. We get hit walking across the street here. We could have a flash drive in our wallets. They can plug it in at the emergency room, and they know everything there is to know about us without having to start at the beginning.

Ms. WATSON. I'm glad you mentioned California and walking across the street. You must have automobile insurance if you have a license and you drive a car in California. Because I don't care how good a driver you are, there will be a time when you're going to need insurance. So we mandate it.

Are you aware that it has been said since the bill has been signed that 12 States are going to come together to sue us because we're mandating that you have to have health insurance? Well, I can tell you this: if we don't require it, then you're going to pay one way or the other. Because you see, when that person gets hit, and they don't have any insurance, and they're laying out in the street, the ambulance is going to come. Because we are a humane society, we're going to pick them up, and we're going to take them to the county hospital or the DSH hospital because we're not going to let anyone in this country lie on the ground because they don't have insurance and die because they can't get health care. That's not the kind of people we are.

But I tell you, listening to these ranters rather than reasoners, you know, I'm thinking, what are we turning into as a Nation? Why are people ranting about providing health insurance? And I want to tag insurance on because that's what this bill is all about.

Mr. GARAMENDI. It certainly is. And for that unfortunate person that was out on the street, got hit by a car, was off to the hospital, the emergency room, there's a cost there. If that person doesn't have insurance, who's going to pay? Well, I'll tell you who's going to pay. It's going to be the taxpayers who pick it up, either the local county, or city, or the State, and the Nation will pick up that cost, or it will be passed on to the insurance policies and the premiums that everybody else pays. So those people who are not insured are getting a free ride, and the rest of the people that are insured and the taxpayers get to pick it up.

So those days where we spread the risk—and this is insurance. I know insurance. I was the insurance commissioner. You spread the risk throughout the entire society, and the entire society shares in the cost of the system. That's the only fair way to do it. If you wait until you don't have insurance, you wait until there's an accident, you may go bankrupt. But the chances are that you don't have enough money to pay for it, and the cost is going to be shifted. So this is a fairness thing also.

You spoke earlier about the attorneys general who want to seek Federal court repeal of this legislation. There's also Members of Congress who have already introduced legislation to repeal it. I'm going, Well, that will be interesting. What are they going to tell the 52,000 young men and women in my district?

Ms. WATSON. In their own districts.

Mr. GARAMENDI. They're going to be able to stay on their parents' insurance for another 3 years. What are you going to do? They're going to get thrown off. You're going to repeal it so they get thrown off? And what about those seniors who are going to get $250 and a closing of the prescription drug doughnut hole? You're going to tell those seniors that, Oh, sorry. We've decided to repeal that, and you're going to have to continue to pay for that out of your pocket. And by the way, the discount on the generic drugs, that's gone away. After all, the drug companies don't have enough profit yet so they deserve to have more profit. Is that what you want? I don't think so. I don't think the public wants that. And I don't think that that rancher who contacted me about providing insurance for himself, his wife, and for his three part-time people is going to be happy to learn that the 35 percent credit on the money he spends for insurance, and in a couple of years, the 50 percent reduction in the cost of health insurance for him, I don't think he's going to be too happy. Or those 50- to 65-year-old people who are sick with a preexisting condition who are uninsurable and under this legislation will be able to enter a pool to get insurance, a high-risk pool that will pay for their insurance, they're not going to be happy.

So for those who want to repeal this, let's keep in mind what this legislation actually does. This law provides access to insurance, high-quality insurance for men, and women, and children. But I forgot to talk about all those children who have preexisting conditions that will in 60 days be able to get insurance. This program is a fundamental change and takes America to a new higher plateau of justice.

Talk about repeal. When the American public comes to understand what is in this—with all of the fearmongering aside, with all of the rhetoric about “kill the bill” aside—when they come to understand what's in this bill, it will not be repealed.

Ms. WATSON. Why would we in this House allow the repeal of something that we did with so much pride?

Mr. GARAMENDI. Well, we won't.

Ms. WATSON. And if it got out of this House and got to the other House, why would they—when they had people sign on to a letter that they would pass it—and what would influence the President of the United States to sign that bill? So I think what's happening is that it's just an opportunity for opposition to be heard again and continue with the devastating misstatements that they're giving to people. You know, it really troubles me that people—well, I guess it's the mob mentality—can buy that. And that's why it's so important that we do what we're doing tonight to try to set some reality.

We talked about mental health. Do you remember, we were walking into the Rayburn Building early this morning after we came back, and there was a gentleman there with fatigues on, and he got up and saluted? And I said, That's an intelligent man. But like in California and under the Reagan administration, they closed many of the DD centers, mental health hospitals, and there were some who wanted to sell off that property with the promise of sending the mentally ill out to be treated in their own communities and that the money would follow. Well, the money never followed. In my city on any given night, there are 80,000 to 90,000 homeless people. And if you were to go through on the streets, if you were to go through that group, you will find that out of 10, 6 of them are in need of mental health treatment.

Well, we did something a few months ago; we increased the budget for veterans and their mental health—thank goodness. Now this will follow. And that gentleman that saluted us as we went in, he can get the kind of help he needs and get off the streets. It's obvious that there's a great deal of intelligence there. He just got a bad deal.

Mr. GARAMENDI. If I might, your discussion reminded me of the community clinics in your district of Los Angeles, in my own district, and throughout the State of California and other States that provide the safety net service for those people that are homeless, those people that are in need, those people that are low income or unemployed. In this legislation, there is an extremely important increase in the safety net services in three different ways.

First of all for the community clinics spread throughout the Nation, there is $11 billion over the next 3 years that will go to those community clinics so they can expand the services for those people that are low income, unable to have insurance right now; but in 3 more years, they will have that insurance. It will bring up the community clinics so they can meet the needs that exist today. That money will begin to flow out to the community clinics, and in my district, in Contra Costa County, Alameda, Solano and Sacramento counties, it will result in enough money to build 10 new clinics in areas that are desperate for medical services.

Ms. WATSON. You know that, in California, 85 percent of our land is agricultural, and sometimes people are great distances away from the delivery of quality health care. Now we are going to have a whole system of clinics where they can go. I am just so thrilled because we emphasize prevention. We are even going to increase Pell Grants so students can get larger amounts of money to stay in school and become a general practitioner to take care of these people and see them on a regular basis to keep them from going into the hospital.

You know, one of the areas that we really haven't dealt with is long-term care. We haven't solved that problem yet, but we hope we can keep people healthy and keep them from having the need to have long-term care. We want to keep our seniors—and in California we receive a lot of them because they are bypassing the overindustrialized States, even Florida and Texas, and they are coming to us. Many years ago we increased the benefits under Medi-Cal. We have our own system, and while I was there, it was many years ago, we increased the benefits up to maybe 32 to 34 that were not required in law. Now we are saying let's emphasize the front end and keep people out of acute care facilities by keeping them healthy.

Mr. GARAMENDI. There are specific provisions in the legislation that expand the programs for long-term care. We have gone on for some time now, and I would like to do two more things, if you will join me. I would like to review what we have done. But before we get to that, I will review what is in the legislation. But before we get to that, somebody is going to ask, How are we going to pay for it?

Well, this piece of legislation is fully paid for. It is paid for in a variety of ways. Part of that pay-for comes from a significant reduction in the unnecessary bonus that the insurance companies get for providing Medicare Advantage programs. This has been the great scare tactic, that Medicare benefits would somehow be cut. Absolutely not. There is a specific line in the bill that says Medicare benefits will not be cut. What is cut is the unnecessary bonus that the previous administration gave to the insurance companies to do what they should have done without having that bonus. It is a 16 percent additional bonus over and above the cost. We get that money back. We plow that money back into Medicare, and we will be certain that the Medicare programs will not see a reduction in benefits. That's one way.

Also in this program, for those people that for years and years have been able to get a free ride, there are tax increases in the outyears for income earned on those people who have $200,000 or more of income, and have income from stocks, bonds, dividends, and capital gains. They have been getting a free ride since Medicare came in some 43 years ago, so that will be the other way. And then there are savings in the legislation. The bottom line is that the program is totally paid for.

And let's talk about the deficit.

Ms. WATSON. It reduces the deficit. I wanted to say that. This will be the largest deficit reduction measure in 17 years and will cut the deficit, get this, by $148 billion; $148 billion over the first 10 years and $1.2 trillion over the next 10 years.

And small businesses—and that is what killed the Clinton proposal, universal health care. They said it would kill small business. This is what we do: Small businesses will receive $40 billion in tax credits to make it easier for them to provide coverage for their workers.

Mr. GARAMENDI. That is the 35 percent credit that we talked about. In my district, I have 14,500 small businesses that will qualify for that if they are purchasing health insurance for their employees. It is an encouragement to purchase health insurance by reducing the cost by a third, and in 3 years out, it will a 50 percent reduction in the cost of insurance for those small businesses.

Ms. WATSON. Now that the bill is signed into law, we probably should have town hall meetings like this so people will actually know. You have these very fine charts, and I am going to let you take the rest of the time to let folks know what we did when that bill was signed.

Mr. GARAMENDI. Let's run through it very, very quickly.

Small businesses' tax credits, we talked about that; 35 percent right now beginning January 1, carrying on, and eventually in 2014, going to 50 percent.

Ms. WATSON. Do you think you might be able to hire some people to work? It is jobs, jobs, jobs.

Mr. GARAMENDI. Exactly, and small businesses are where the job creation is.

We talked a lot about the Medicare program, the doughnut hole on part D, $250 for those senior citizens that are currently in the doughnut hole with their drugs. They are going to get a $250 rebate, a check from the government to help them, and we begin to shrink the doughnut hole, and in the years ahead, it will disappear.

Ninety days from now, this would be in June, there is an immediate help for the uninsured in the exchange. This is what we were talking about. These are those who have a preexisting condition, those 50 to 60, 65 years old, they will be able to enter into a temporary, high-risk pool, and eventually, in 2014, they will be able to purchase insurance through the purchasing exchanges.

Six months, September 2010, no discrimination against children with preexisting conditions. Think of that child. You talked about that child, the mother who had a child with diabetes, uninsurable. At birth with a birth defect, cannot get insurance, but in 6 months, in September 2010, those children will have access to insurance. The insurance companies cannot deny coverage.

This is the one—I only wish this was a year ago, but maybe my daughter can get back on—52,000 young adults in my district will be able to stay on their parents' insurance policies beginning September 2010. This is good news for a whole lot of kids throughout America.

We talked about rescission. We talked about the way in which the insurance companies go back when there is an expensive case and find some excuse to dump the individual from the insurance policy and then the individual is left with the cost. Those days will be over in September 2010.

Lifetime limits. September 2010, lifetime limits, no longer will an individual blow through the lifetime limit on an insurance company and be left totally to themselves. This is the reason we have bankruptcies; 65 percent of bankruptcies are a direct result of medical issues, and those people have insurance.

Ms. WATSON. Let me just interject this here at this point. The public needs to know that if you are insured under this program and you are sick and you can't work, your insurance will cover you. Too many people, as you've said, have gone bankrupt because they had to borrow on their homes and they couldn't repay what they borrowed and they are sick and can't work.

Mr. GARAMENDI. Well, those days are going to be over. September 2010, the lifetime limit on health insurance, over. And restrictions are placed on a descending amount of the annual limits and those eventually phase out in 2014. So annual limits are gone in 2014, and they begin to phase out beginning September 2010.

Effective January 1, 2011, 9 months from now, free preventive care under Medicare. You have talked about prevention. January 1, senior citizens, free prevention care. How important that is, keeping them healthy. And also the issue of what are the insurance companies doing with the premiums we pay. Beginning January 2011, 80 percent of those premiums are guaranteed to go for medical services, not for profit, not for bonuses to the high and the mighty of the insurance companies, but rather, and this is the individual market, but rather for medical services, and in large group markets, employers, 85 percent. So for those big shots in the insurance industry that have been receiving 2, 3, 4, and even greater, million-dollar bonuses, I'm sorry, only after you pay for the services that your customers have contracted with you to provide. The days of rescission are over.

It was a glorious day today as we sat there in the East Room of the White House, after all of the work that has been done for more than a century by Presidents from Theodore Roosevelt, Democrat and Republican Presidents, by men and women in previous Congresses, by you and the others who were here in the early days of this year, finally, a fundamental change for the better for America's health, for the men and women and children in this Nation. It is a good day, and what a privilege for all of us to be part of that this day.

Ms. WATSON. You know what? These people who got elected and feared that an "aye" vote on this would really harm them, they don't belong here, because if you can't make a vote for the greater good of society and go back to your district and explain it to your constituents, you don't belong here. What I have been saying, what we did in the last 48 hours was for the greater good of America and not just a select few.

So, Congressman, I want to thank you for the opportunity to again have this period with you, and I am going to strongly suggest when we are in our caucus that we go back now and hold those town halls and lay it out like you have done this evening, and I want to thank you for that.

Mr. GARAMENDI. Thank you for joining us, and I thank my other colleagues for joining us.

PROCEEDINGS AND DEBATES OF THE 111th CONGRESS, SECOND SESSION

Vol. 156

WASHINGTON, TUESDAY, MARCH 23, 2010

No. 46

Senate

The Senate met at 3:13 p.m. and was called to order by the Honorable MARK BEGICH, a Senator from the State of Alaska.

APPOINTMENT OF ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will please read a communication to the Senate from the President pro tempore (Mr. BYRD).

The legislative clerk read the following letter:

U.S. SENATE,
PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE,
Washington, DC, March 23, 2010.

To the Senate:

Under the provisions of rule I, paragraph 3, of the Standing Rules of the Senate, I hereby appoint the Honorable MARK BEGICH, a Senator from the State of Alaska, to perform the duties of the Chair.

ROBERT C. BYRD,
President pro tempore.

Mr. BEGICH thereupon assumed the chair as Acting President pro tempore.

RECOGNITION OF THE MAJORITY LEADER

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. The majority leader is recognized.

APPROVAL OF THE JOURNAL OF PROCEEDINGS AND EXPIRATION OF THE MORNING HOUR

Mr. REID. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent the Journal of proceedings be approved to date, and the morning hour be deemed expired.

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. Without objection, it is so ordered.

MEASURES PLACED ON THE CALENDAR—H.R. 4872, S. 3152, S. 3153

Mr. REID. I understand there are three bills now at the desk due for a second reading.

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. The clerk will read the bills for the second time.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

A bill (H.R. 4872) to provide for reconciliation pursuant to Title II of the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2010 (S. Con. Res. 13).

A bill (S. 3152) to repeal the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act.

A bill (S. 3153) to provide a fully offset temporary extension of certain programs so as not to increase the deficit, and for other purposes.

Mr. REID. Mr. President, I object to any further proceedings, en bloc, to these three bills.

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. Objection having been heard, the bills will be placed on the calendar.

HEALTH CARE AND EDUCATION RECONCILIATION ACT OF 2010

Mr. REID. Mr. President, I now move to proceed to H.R. 4872 and ask for the yeas and nays.

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. Is there a sufficient second?

The Republican leader is recognized.

Mr. MCCONNELL. Mr. President, if the Chair would indulge me a couple of parliamentary inquiries, which won't delay the process very long.

As I understand it, the budget resolution instructed two Senate committees to report changes in law to reduce the deficit by $1 billion each over the next 5 years. The reconciliation instruction states that they were to report those changes by October 15, 2009, and that those measures are then sent to the Budget Committee to report the final measure. It is my understanding that nothing has been reported to date. Therefore, my inquiry is: Has the Budget Committee reported any reconciliation legislation to the Senate pursuant to the current budget resolution, S. Con. Res. 13?

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. It has not.

Mr. MCCONNELL. Mr. President, the answer is: No, it has not?

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. Correct.

Mr. MCCONNELL. Mr. President, one other parliamentary inquiry: My understanding is, each time the Senate has taken up a reconciliation bill on the floor, a Senate committee has reported a bill to the Senate, either through the Budget Committee or directly from the committee instructed. Therefore, my question to the Chair is: Is this the first time in history the Senate will consider a reconciliation even though no Senate committee has reported a bill to the Senate?

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. It is the first time that the Chair is aware of it.

Mr. MCCONNELL. I thank the Chair.

Mr. REID. I ask for the yeas and nays.

The ACTING PRESIDENT pro tempore. Is there a sufficient second?

There appears to be a sufficient second.

The question is on agreeing to the motion.

The clerk will call the roll.

The assistant legislative clerk called the roll.

Mr. DURBIN. I announce that the Senator from West Virginia (Mr. BYRD) and the Senator from New Mexico (Mr. UDALL) are necessarily absent.

Mr. KYL. The following Senators are necessarily absent: the Senator from Utah (Mr. BENNETT) and the Senator from Georgia (Mr. ISAKSON).

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mrs. GILLIBRAND). Are there any other Senators in the Chamber desiring to vote?

The result was announced—yeas 56, nays 40, as follows:

NOT VOTING—4

Bennett	Isakson
Byrd	Udall (NM)

The motion was agreed to.

Mrs. MURRAY. Madam President, I move to reconsider the vote.

Mr. BAUCUS. Madam President, I move to lay that motion on the table.

The motion to lay on the table was agreed to.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report the bill by title.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

A bill (H.R. 4872) to provide for reconciliation pursuant to Title II of the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2010, S. Con. Res. 13.

Mr. BAUCUS. Madam President, for the information of all Senators—and I might ask the Senator from New Hampshire if he agrees—it is probably best to alternate the time back and forth on each side with roughly one-half hour blocks of time, if that meets the approval of the minority.

Mr. GREGG. I would suggest we do that for the first 2 hours, at least until we see how this is evolving. So the first half hour will go to the majority and the second half hour will go to the Republican side.

Mr. BAUCUS. That would be my intention.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. BAUCUS. Madam President, this morning President Obama signed a law that will guarantee meaningful insurance reform, such as coverage for people with preexisting conditions. He signed comprehensive health care reform into law. Many of us have dreamed of that day for years. Now it is a fact. Now it is law. Now it is history. Indeed, it is historic. He signed a law that will ensure that average people without insurance will get health insurance choices just as Members of Congress do. This morning, President Obama signed a law that will control the growth of health care costs in years to come.

Today, we have before us a bill to improve the new law. We do not have before us the whole health care reform bill. We do not have to reopen every argument we had over the last 2 years. We do not have to say everything we said about health care one more time. Rather, we have a bill before us that will do a few good things.

We have before us a bill that will improve affordability by increasing tax credits to help pay for insurance premiums—increase those tax credits. We have before us a bill that will help with out-of-pocket costs for lower and middle-income families; that is, to raise the assistance. We have before us a bill that will increase aid to States to help them shoulder the costs of covering Americans under Medicaid. We have before us a bill that will give additional help to States that took extra steps to cover the uninsured before reform took place. Together, these improvements will level the playing field among States under health care reform.

We have before us a bill that will make sure no State is singled out for special treatment. We have before us a bill that will completely close the doughnut hole; that is, the coverage gap for Medicare prescription drug coverage. It is closed by the end of the budget window. We have before us a bill that will start with a $250 increase in Federal assistance toward coverage of the doughnut hole right away, this year, 2010. We have before us a bill that will fight fraud and fight waste and abuse in Medicare and Medicaid.

That is the bill we have before us today. This is not the whole health care reform bill; this is a set of commonsense improvements to that new law signed by the President earlier today. I do not expect opponents of the bill to talk about these commonsense improvements. Frankly, it is pretty difficult to understand why Senators would want to oppose these commonsense improvements. Rather, if this debate is anything like the debate so far, opponents of this bill will try to change the subject. When people look at what health reform really does, they are more likely to support it, when they separate truth from fiction, separate the wheat from the chaff. So I expect that opponents of this bill will try to distract observers from what is really going on.

Rather than talk about commonsense improvements to this bill, opponents will talk about the process. Over the 2 years we have been working on health care reform, there have been many on the other side who have sought to make the debate about process—not about what is in the bill, what improves people's lives, but about the process, the legislative process. They have sought to emphasize how messy the legislative process is—and sometimes it is a bit messy—and, of course, criticizing how Congress works is a heck of a lot easier than improving health care for the American people. Many opponents of health care reform are obsessed with process and procedure.

I am much more focused on the people whom health care reform will help.

I am focused on people such as Pat and her late husband Dan from Lincoln County in the northwestern corner of Montana.

Pat and Dan used to have a ranch in southwestern Lincoln County. Dan was the fourth generation of his family to run the ranch. He grew up on the ranch, and he worked very hard every day of his life.

In 2000, the doctors told Dan he had Hodgkin's lymphoma, but Pat and Dan did not have health insurance. Dan never took a handout, and Pat and Dan thought they could handle their bills on their own. That is the way they had always lived. That is the way a lot of people—I daresay most people—live. Then the medical bills started piling up. Swallowing his pride, Dan made what he called the hardest decision of his life: he filed for Medicaid. The State told him the only way they could be eligible for Medicaid was to put a lien on their ranch. As Dan's medical bills piled out of control, Pat and Dan were forced to sell their land. Pat said the cancer ravaged her husband's body. But selling their ranch to pay for medical costs broke his spirit. That is why we need to enact health care reform.

Most bankruptcies in America these days are related to medical costs. Just think of that: Most bankruptcies in America today are related to medical costs. No one in America should have to sell everything they have, no one should have to go bankrupt just to pay medical bills.

But I am not going to let the opponents' charges about the process go unanswered either. The idea that health care reform has been some sort of rush job is a total myth. It is a myth that deserves busting.

The facts are, the Finance Committee and the HELP Committee—committees with jurisdiction on health care reform—each went through a full and transparent process to consider health care reform legislation. By that I mean fully open, totally open to the public at all points. This has been the fullest and most transparent process for any major piece of legislation in memory.

I might say, a journalist once approached me about a year ago and said: Senator, are you starting a new trend with such openness and such transparency, putting all the amendments on the Web, 8 days' notice; is that a whole new approach the Senate is going to pursue from now on?

I said: I don't know, but I think it is the right thing to do today. From the start, I wanted us to develop a bipartisan consensus package. I wanted to work together. When someone gets ill or gets cancer, he or she is not a member of one party or the other. It is personal. We have to work together. That is what the American public wants. That is what I tried so hard to do. I wanted a bill that would have broad political support across the political spectrum.

There has been a long tradition in the Republican Party in favor of comprehensive health care reform. That tradition stretches back to Theodore Roosevelt, to Richard Nixon, to Bob Dole, and to John Chafee. I believe what we set out to do and what we have done fits comfortably within the tradition of what those Republican leaders sought to do.

We began almost 2 years ago. On May 6, 2008, we held our first hearings in a series on health care reform. In fact, the Finance Committee held 11 hearings in a series in 2008 alone. We held those hearings to help Senators come to a commonsense understanding of the health care crisis; to help explain why we are in such a crisis, what needs to be done, how the various parts of our health care system work, and what parts do not work. I held these hearings purely from an educational point of view, not an ideological point of view. I held them to educate all of us on the committee to get us ready for 2009. It was clear to me this Congress was going to work very hard and pass health care reform. We sought in the last Congress to lay the groundwork for passing the bill in this Congress.

On June 16, 2008, nearly 2 years ago, Senator GRASSLEY, my good friend and ranking member of the committee, and I convened a bipartisan health reform summit at the Library of Congress. We called it "Prepare for Launch, Health Care Reform Summit of 2008." Chairman Ben Bernanke was there. Other notables were there. It was a full-day conference with members of the Finance Committee from both sides of the aisle to help us better understand how to solve our health care reform crisis. I was very impressed that all day long most Senators stayed. Late in the afternoon, I counted a majority of Senators on both sides still there asking questions of experts.

Senator GRASSLEY and I have brought some of the best minds in the country together to discuss health care reform. Senators from both sides of the aisle have engaged in open and constructive discussion.

Then right after the 2008 election, on November 12, 2008, this Senator released an 89-page blueprint on health care reform. I have it right here. We named it "Call to Action: Health Reform 2009." It was a comprehensive framework for health care reform. We posted that blueprint on the Internet for all to read.

The ideas in that white paper reflected the broad consensus of thinking among health care efforts. We searched far and wide. What is the best thinking; what do other countries do. While looking at what other countries do, we clearly wanted to come up with a uniquely American solution. We are America. We are not Canada. We are not Great Britain. We are not Ireland. We are America. We spent about $2.5 trillion on health care in America with public Medicaid, Medicare, and the Children's Health Insurance Program and private, commercial health insurance. I wanted to maintain that same balance with a uniquely American solution. They are reflected in this white paper.

The ideas in that white paper remain the foundations of health care reform that became law this morning. That is a strong statement to make, but it is true—almost all the ideas all committees on both sides of the Congress have enacted and what are in the bill the President signed today.

Of course, there are changes here and there. But the basic foundation in that white paper—this white paper right here that was put together in November 2008—remains the foundation of the health care bill that became law this morning.

The ideas behind our health care reform legislation have been available for all Senators and the public to consider for more than 16 months.

The Washington Post called our white paper "striking in both its timing and scope." The Washington Post said:

Rarely, if ever, has a lawmaker with his clout moved so early—eight days after the election of a new president—to press for such an enormous undertaking.

Then in April and May of last year, Senator GRASSLEY and I released three bipartisan health care reform policy papers on the three major areas of reform. What are they? First, delivery system reform; second, insurance coverage; and third, options for financing. Once again, we made these papers public and posted them on the Finance Committee's Web site.

Senator GRASSLEY and I convened three open, televised bipartisan roundtable discussions with experts on those subjects. We held several day-long meetings of Finance Committee Senators to discuss the topics of those policy papers.

On April 20, 2009, the New York Times reported:

In setting forth detailed "policy options" and inviting public comment, Mr. BAUCUS and Mr. GRASSLEY set a precedent for openness.

On May 18, 2009, the newspaper Politico reported on our efforts to build consensus. Politico said that my "frequent progress reports to reporters always include some discussion of keeping peace in the delicate alliance of Republicans, Democrats, industry, labor, physicians and consumer advocates."

That is so true. From the outset, I worked hard to keep all the groups talking to each other. That was a shortcoming back in the early nineties when health care reform fell apart, when the groups proposed the bills. By "the groups," I mean consumer groups, hospitals, labor, medical device manufacturers, nursing homes—all the groups. I called up their CEOs and kept talking with them constantly: What do you think? A problem here? Let's make an adjustment. Stay at the table. Don't walk away from the table. Suspend judgment for 5 minutes. Let's find a way to put this together that is in everybody's best interest, America's best interest, if this passed.

I had more than 142 meetings, both one on one and in groups, to discuss health care reform with Senators on both sides of the aisle. In all, those meetings added up to more than 150 hours of discussions.

I tried to work out a bipartisan package with the Finance Committee. I started, as I always do, with the ranking Republican member of the Finance Committee, my good friend, CHUCK GRASSLEY. Since the Finance Committee and the HELP Committee share jurisdiction over health care, Senator GRASSLEY and I agreed we wanted to include the ranking Republican member of the HELP Committee, MIKE ENZI, and our colleague, JEFF BINGAMAN, who is also a member of both those two committees. As well, we reached out to the chairman of the Budget Committee, KENT CONRAD, and the ranking Republican member of the Small Business Committee, Senator OLYMPIA SNOWE, both of whom are also members of the Finance Committee. Both Senators CONRAD and SNOWE have a long history of working across the aisle to reach a consensus. We also reached out to Senator Kennedy, then-chairman of the HELP Committee. We had meetings with him, all the relevant chairmen and ranking members together, meeting over in the other part of the Capitol with Senator Kennedy. How gracious he was and how he wanted to work together. He was not trying to do it for Ted Kennedy but for people who needed health care. It was very touching.

It ended up we had a group of six Senators—three Democrats and three Republicans. We worked hard. We rolled up sleeves and plowed through the issues. We met 31 times for 63 hours over the course of 4 months.

Many have said we met too long. Many said I should have broken up my discussions with my colleagues. But I wanted to go the extra mile. I wanted to try. I wanted to bend over backwards. I wanted to do everything I could to reach a bipartisan consensus. Why? Because that is the right thing to do.

That group of six Senators came very close to an agreement. We did not end up reaching an agreement among all six of us, but I took the product of those bipartisan discussions, areas of tentative agreement, and made them the starting point for our committee markup; that is, the group of six helped forge through immense hours of discussing major improvements on our thinking.

We converted that product into a committee mark. I made that mark public and posted it online on the Finance Committee's Web site on September 16, 2009. That was a full 6 days before the markup and 4 days longer than committee rules require.

For the first time in history, on September 19, the Finance Committee posted online every amendment submitted to the clerk. We posted the full text of all 564 amendments. Members of the committee and the public had 3 days to review the amendments and prepare for the markup.

Our Finance Committee markup stretched over 8 days. They were fully public. We worked well past 10 p.m. on most of the those days. The markup was the longest that the Finance Committee has conducted on any bill in 22 years.

Prior to the markup, I accepted 122 amendments as part of a modified chairman's mark; 26 of those amendments incorporated into the mark came from Republican colleagues.

During the markup, the committee considered 135 amendments. The committee accepted 41 amendments and rejected 55.

On October 2, 2009, a full 11 days prior to a committee vote on the bill, I posted online the mark, as amended.

On October 13, 2009, the Finance Committee ordered the bill reported by a bipartisan vote of 14 to 9.

The majority leader then melded the Finance Committee and HELP Committee work products into a single bill. The majority leader moved to proceed to the bill on November 19 of last year. We had a full and open debate on the bill on the Senate floor, and on December 24 of last year, Christmas Eve, more than a month later, the Senate finally passed health care reform.

I have taken some time to detail the long legislative history of this effort, and I did so because I believe that any fair observer of this legislative history will draw three conclusions: One, we tried mightily to work with our Republican colleagues to reach a broad consensus bill. We went the extra mile. We bent over backwards, and for a variety of reasons, our Republican colleagues simply did not want to be part, in the end, of this effort.

Two, nobody rushed this bill. This has been a full and deliberative process—about 2 years. There is no way that health care reform was “rammed” through the Congress. No way. Not true.

Three, we have conducted a process more open than for any other major piece of legislation in the modern Senate. But opponents of the bill have tried to raise as many charges as they can. They have tried to throw as much mud at this effort as they can, hoping that something sticks.

Their latest attack has been to criticize the use of the budget reconciliation process for the bill before us today. Some have charged that using reconciliation is somehow unusual. They argue that using budget reconciliation for health care is somehow unheard of. And they argue that we never use reconciliation for major bills. Nothing could be further from the truth.

Is reconciliation unusual? The answer is clearly no. Budget reconciliation is a pretty common process in Congress. Since Congress began using the budget reconciliation process in 1980, some 30 years ago, Congress has passed some 23 reconciliation bills—23 in the last 30 years. Thus, most years have seen reconciliation bills. It is an exceptional year that Congress does not pass a reconciliation bill.

What about health care? Is health care something unusual for reconciliation? Once again, the answer is no.

The nonpartisan Congressional Research Service took a survey of the 22 reconciliation bills that made it through Congress to the President's desk. Of those 22 reconciliation bills, CRS, the Congressional Research Service, identified 12 of them with titles or other major legislative components pertaining to Medicare or Medicaid Programs. In other words, most reconciliation bills have addressed health care. Once again, it is the exceptional case where a reconciliation bill does not contain health care matters.

What about major health care legislation? Is major health care legislation in reconciliation unusual? No. Once again the answer is no. CRS counted the number of pages in the law books on health care that the reconciliation process has put there. It was not a small number. CRS found that bills enacted using the reconciliation process contributed some 1,366 pages on health care to the Statutes at Large. CRS found that the average reconciliation bill with health care in it contributed some 124 pages to the Statutes at Large.

Pages in Statutes at Large have more words than bills do, so these pages reflect far more pages than in bill text.

Let's consider some of the major changes through health care that Congress has enacted in the last 30 years. There is COBRA, a health insurance program for people who lose their jobs. Congress enacted the COBRA health insurance program as part of a reconciliation bill. COBRA stands for the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act—reconciliation. A Republican-controlled Senate passed the COBRA health insurance program as part of reconciliation in 1986. Since then, three later reconciliation bills have amended the COBRA continuation coverage rules. Congress changed COBRA in reconciliation bills in years 1989, 1990, and again in 1993.

Another one of the largest health care expansions that Congress enacted in the last 30 years was the Children's Health Insurance Program, otherwise known as CHIP. Once again, we enacted it—you got it right—in reconciliation. Congress enacted CHIP as part of the Balanced Budget Act of 1997. Once again, it was a Republican-controlled Senate that passed the Children's Health Insurance Program as part of reconciliation in 1997.

Then there is the Medicare Advantage Program. Medicare Advantage, or Medicare+Choice they called it then, was a major change in Medicare, introducing private insurance companies into the system. Once again, a Republican-controlled Senate passed that in reconciliation in 1997.

It is hard to think of a major health insurance expansion that has not involved reconciliation. Sure, there were some. But it is an exceptional case where Congress enacts major changes to health care outside of reconciliation. When you think about it, that makes more sense. Congress created the budget reconciliation process to affect the budget, and any competent budget economist will tell you that health care cost growth is the biggest financial challenge facing our Nation. The President and other commentators on our fiscal plight make that statement repeatedly.

If you want to address the budget in a significant way you need to address health care. Health care is exactly what the budget process was designed to address.

Why did Congress create the budget process this way? Simple: Congress created the budget process so that Congress could make fiscal policy with a simple majority vote. The Congress that created reconciliation wanted to ensure that future Congresses could vote budget matters up or down, yes or no. Is it unusual for anything this large to have been passed in reconciliation? Once again, the answer is no. In terms of dollars and cents, the biggest reconciliation bill by far was the 2001 Bush tax cuts. The 2001 reconciliation bill worsened the deficit by more than $550 billion over the first 5 years. That was a reconciliation bill.

Not far behind was the 2003 Bush tax cut. That reconciliation bill worsened the deficit by more than $430 billion over the first 5 years.

In terms of policy changes, it is hard to match the two Bush tax cuts. But another measure that came close was the 1996 welfare reform bill. Once again, that was a reconciliation bill. The 1996 welfare reform bill was the most sweeping revision of poverty programs since the Great Society. Once again, that reconciliation bill was passed by a Republican-controlled Senate.

It is hard to say that we have not done big things in reconciliation. In sum, it is not as though we sneaked health care reform through the Senate. We passed it with an exhaustive open process and the Senate passed health care reform with a supermajority. We passed it with 60 votes.

Now all that remains to be done to complete health care reform is an up-or-down vote on this final bill. This last step in the health care reform deserves to get a simple majority vote. That is all that needs to be done to finish the job of reforming health care.

Let me return to what this bill would do. This bill would help to make health care more affordable for people who do not have it and improve upon the Senate bill which the President signed this morning. We do it for people such as Carmen and her daughter Merilee, from Paulson, MT. Carmen had insurance, but she still had problems with coverage and costs. Before March 2008, Carmen had insurance with a $5,000 deductible. She found herself avoiding care because of the high deductible. She and her daughter Merilee waited until they knew they needed help before they went to a doctor—certainly, with a deductible that high, $5,000. At one point Carmen's daughter contracted a urinary tract infection. Wanting to avoid the high deductible, Carmen and her daughter decided to wait a day and see how it goes, but her daughter did not get better. She needed to get care. Since it was Saturday and there was no urgent care open for 50 miles, the only option was to go to the emergency room. The hospital bill to Carmen was for $500, but her insurance company refused to pay it. Carmen appealed, asking them to pay the $70 insurance would normally pay for urgent care and Carmen would pay the remaining balance, but her insurance company still denied her claim.

When Carmen broke her fingers, her insurance company refused to pay for treatment. The insurance company paid only for x rays, even though Carmen was entitled to $650 of first-dollar coverage for accidents. Carmen paid for her own treatment, but she gave up on the therapy because it cost too much. Carmen's fingers will never fully heal.

In March 2008, Carmen switched to another insurance company and lowered the deductible to $2,500. Remember, the last policy was a deductible of $5,000. Last month, Carmen received notice that her premiums would go up by about 32 percent. Carmen will have to keep her premiums down by decreasing her coverage. It is a strategy she has been using for years.

We fight for health care for people such as Carmen and Merilee. We fight for health care for people such as William and Erinn, from Red Lodge. Erinn lost her father William when he was only 59 years old because their insurance company denied and delayed his bone marrow transplant until it was too late. William taught school for more than 30 years. He thought he had good insurance through his retirement package. The doctors told William he had leukemia, but the doctors were able to treat it with oral chemotherapy for a long time.

In 2002, the doctors determined that William would need more advanced chemotherapy. He underwent chemotherapy as long as he could and then the doctors determined he would need a bone marrow transplant. The insurance company paid for all the preparations, testing, and treatment leading up to the transplant, but the insurance company denied the procedure itself.

Mr. President, I note I am running out of my half hour here. Let me say I will conclude here by noting that this is why we fight for people. This is why this health care bill is before us, for people such as Carmen and Merilee,

Pat, and many people across this country who deserve much better. We are at the very end here, about to pass this legislation. The President signed the bill this morning. This is just to make it even a little bit better. It is a normal process, an open process. I urge all my colleagues to quickly pass this and help a lot of people and get on to other matters.

I thank the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. KAUFMAN). The Senator from New Hampshire.

Mr. GREGG. I wish I could stand here and agree with the Senator from Montana. I wish as I looked at these bills that passed the House, and now we are getting the trailer bill, the buy-it bill, the bill that was used to purchase the votes in the House to pass the big bill, so I could say: America's children are going to be better off; that the people who have health care issues in this country are going to be better off. But that is impossible to say.

Why is it impossible to say? Because this bill as it passed the House was an atrocity. It was an explosion of government the likes of which we have never seen in this country. It grows the Government by $2.6 trillion and in the process it will interfere with almost every American who has private health insurance and how they get their insurance. It will take Americans who have health insurance today and it will push them out of that health insurance as the small employers across this country decide they can no longer afford it. It will say to Medicare recipients: We are going to cut your Medicare by $1 trillion when this is fully implemented—$1 trillion. We are going to take that money and we are going to use it to fund a brandnew entitlement over here for people who are not on Medicare, who are not seniors, and we are going to use it to expand other entitlements for people who are not on Medicare and who are not seniors.

Then the Medicare recipients who have seen their program reduced by $1 trillion are going to be left with a program that remains on a path to insolvency, a path which will inevitably lead to lesser quality of care for people who get Medicare because providers will find themselves forced out of the system. People who are on Medicare Advantage will virtually find that insurance plan is eliminated.

This bill has a lot of major problems, the big bill that passed the House. Now we get this trailer bill, this buy-it bill, which was used for purposes of getting votes in the House. This bill aggravates the fundamental problems of the bigger bill the President signed today. This bill adds more costs, creates more taxes, and will reduce Medicare's viability in a more significant way. Yet it is called good policy. It is very hard to understand that.

When you look at these bills as a combination, especially when you put them in the context—thrown on this train was the nationalization of the student loan program, where 19 million students today are going to be forced into the process of getting their loans through the Federal Government instead of through their local banks, their community banks. When you look at this in that context, what this bill is about—and the President has been very forthright about this—it is a massive explosion in the size of the government, growing the government for one fundamental purpose: because this administration believes a bigger government creates prosperity.

We do not believe that on our side of the aisle. We believe there are a lot of good things that could have been done to make health care better. I have offered a proposal to do that. Other Senators—Senator BARRASSO has a proposal to do that. They would have all addressed the health insurance issues of making sure that everybody could get coverage if they have a preexisting condition. All these strawmen that are being thrown up as the reasons why this bill had to be passed would have been taken care of if a more reasonable bill had been passed. But what would not have happened would be this massive explosion in the size of the Federal Government which we will inevitably pass on to our children, a government they cannot afford.

Under this bill, the cost to the Federal Government, which has traditionally been about 20 percent of our gross national product, will jump up to about 25, 26, or 27 percent of our gross national product. It will be unaffordable as a result of this.

But they claim they pay for it. The way they claim they pay for it primarily is to cut Medicare by $1 trillion when fully implemented. This seems fundamentally unfair to the people on our side of the aisle. We all recognize that Medicare has serious problems. It has a $36 trillion unfunded liability.

We all recognize that Medicare recipients depend on that program. So if we are going to adjust Medicare payments, cut them as they do in this bill, eliminate programs such as Medicare Advantage for all intents and purposes, then those savings, as a matter of fairness, should stay with the Medicare system. I mean, that is what should happen. Those savings, which are huge in this bill—and I respect the fact that my colleagues on the other side of the aisle stepped up and made this massive attempt to cut Medicare. That was quite a decision on their part. But what they did was they took these savings, which should have gone to giving senior citizens a stronger and more vibrant program, they took them and they started a brandnew program and brandnew entitlements and expansions of other existing entitlements, none of which have anything to do with Medicare or senior citizens. So essentially they are funding this program, in large part, on the backs of the seniors of this country without doing anything substantive which will, in the long run, have made Medicare more solvent. In fact, they basically doubled down on the problem because we know Medicare is headed into insolvency, and then they created these new entitlements.

We know the record of the government around here on the issue of entitlements. We always underfund them. The promises are made, but they are never kept. So this will all end up rolling into a giant ball, like a huge, massive asteroid headed to Earth which is basically going to land on our children's head as debt. That is what we have headed toward us here.

We already know we have a government we cannot afford. The debt of this country is going to double in the next 5 years under the President's budget, and it is going to triple in the next 10 years. The President's budget is going to get to a level of unsustainability within 5 to 7 years. We are already seeing the warning signs. The Chinese are telling us they might not want to buy our debt, and they are the ones who are financing us. Moody's says we may have to have our ratings looked at. Even Warren Buffett's debt today, this week, for the first time, sold at a better premium than U.S. debt. What does that mean? People have more confidence that Warren Buffet will pay them back than the United States. It is a pretty serious sign when the United States is supposed to be the best creditor in the world.

What this bill does at its core on fiscal policy is to radically expand the size of government. And we all know it will not be paid for, so we all know it will significantly—probably radically—expand the debt our children are going to bear. Inevitably, we are not going to pass on to our children a healthier country fiscally; we are going to pass on to our children a sicker country fiscally. Are we going to get better health care for it? I seriously doubt it.

I think we will hear from Dr. BARRASSO about how he sees this affecting health care, and other Members of our side of the aisle who have some expertise in this area. Inevitably, when you start these major government programs, which essentially amount to quasi-nationalizations of different areas of the American economy, you end up with less quality. It is inherent in having the government run things.

So the first amendment we are going to offer here today is to try to straighten out this incredible inequity we would be paying for these new entitlements for uninsured Americans and for people on Medicaid with senior citizens' dollars by cutting the Medicare Program by over $1 trillion when fully implemented. So we have an amendment which essentially says this: You cannot reduce the Medicare spending if CBO cannot tell us that the other expenditures in this bill are paid for with something other than Medicare. It is a hard-and-fast commitment that Medicare savings will go to benefit Medicare, and that should be our purpose.

AMENDMENT NO. 3567

I know some of my other colleagues wish to talk on this issue. First, I send an amendment to the desk.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report.

The assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from New Hampshire [Mr. GREGG], for himself and Mr. COBURN, proposes an amendment numbered 3567.

Mr. GREGG. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To prevent Medicare from being raided for new entitlements and to use Medicare savings to save Medicare)

At the end of subtitle B of title I, add the following:

SEC. ____ . PREVENTING THE IMPLEMENTATION OF NEW ENTITLEMENTS THAT WOULD RAID MEDICARE.

(a) BAN ON NEW SPENDING TAKING EFFECT.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Secretary of the Treasury and the Secretary of Health and Human Services are prohibited from implementing any spending increase or revenue reduction provision in either the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act or this Act (referred to in this section as the "Health Care Acts") unless both the Director of the Office of Management and Budget (referred to in this section as "OMB") and the Chief Actuary of the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services Office of the Actuary (referred to in this section as "CMS OACT") certify that they project that all of the projected Federal spending increases and revenue reductions resulting from the Health Care Acts will be offset by projected gross savings from the Health Care Acts.

(2) CALCULATIONS.—For purposes of this section, projected gross savings shall—

(A) include gross reductions in Federal spending and gross increases in revenues made by the Health Care Acts; and

(B) exclude any projected gross savings or other offsets directly resulting from changes to Medicare made by the Health Care Acts.

(b) LIMIT ON FUTURE SPENDING.—For the purpose of carrying out this section and upon the enactment of this Act, CMS OACT and the OMB shall—

(1) certify whether all of the projected Federal spending increases and revenue reductions resulting from the Health Care Acts, starting with fiscal year 2014 and for the following 9 fiscal years, are fully offset by projected gross savings resulting from the Health Care Acts (as calculated under subsection (a)(2)); and

(2) provide detailed estimates of such spending increases, revenue reductions, and gross savings, year by year, program by program and provision by provision.

Mr. GREGG. I have defined what the amendment's purpose is: to make sure that Medicare reductions in this bill, things that directly impact seniors, such as reducing their provider payments, so probably fewer doctors will see them, or eliminating things or dramatically reducing Medicare Advantage—if we are going to do that as a Congress, those savings have to go to benefit Medicare, not to create new programs no matter how worthy they may be.

I see many of my colleagues rising wishing to talk about this. I ask unanimous consent to be able to proceed as if in a colloquy.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The Senator from Tennessee.

Mr. ALEXANDER. If I might ask a question of the Senator from New Hampshire, the President's budget said it would cost $371 billion over 10 years to properly pay for doctors who see Medicare patients. I believe the Congressional Budget Office says the number was over $250 billion. Can you imagine a comprehensive health care bill that improves Medicare without paying doctors to serve Medicare patients? Can you then explain to me how you can possibly say the bill does not add to the Federal deficit if it does not include paying doctors to serve Medicare patients?

Mr. GREGG. Well, the Senator from Tennessee has asked an excellent question, which is, How can you pass a health care reform bill and leave off the reform that is necessary to pay the doctors to see their patients and claim you are actually covering the cost of health care? And CBO has scored that at about $250 billion, maybe as high as $350 billion. It is simply ignored. It is as if paying doctors is not part of health care reform, and therefore it has been ignored by the majority. But if you wanted to properly score the cost of this bill, you have to add back in that $250 to $350 billion. Obviously, that puts them in a very tight debt situation, deficit situation, even under the gamesmanship which was used to get to the score in the first place, which, as we all remember, was you score it 10 years of income, 10 years of taxes, 10 years of spending cuts, against 6 years of actual programs. That is how they got the score they claim. The real score on this bill is $2.6 trillion of new spending, and it is a massive expansion of the deficit, much of which will be caused by the failure to fix the doctor issue.

Mrs. HUTCHISON. Mr. President, I would ask the Senator from New Hampshire how it is that we can cut back on Medicare for our seniors, and I would like for him to talk about the impact especially on rural hospitals because rural hospitals serve a larger number, percentage-wise, of Medicare patients. In my home State of Texas, 29 percent of all of our hospitals are located in rural areas.

I received a letter from the Texas Organization of Rural and Community Hospitals, which represents 150 rural hospitals in the State, saying: We fear the Medicare cuts, as proposed, could disproportionately hurt rural hospitals, which are the health care safety net for more than 2 million rural Texans.

I would ask the Senator from New Hampshire if, in his State and from what he is hearing from other States, they are likewise concerned about the impact on our rural residents who are Medicare patients and the cuts to hospitals that are going to be really disproportionate when you look at the big picture, and for what purpose? Fewer people served, and that is supposed to be health care reform?

Mr. GREGG. Well, the Senator is absolutely right. This is going to have a huge impact, especially on rural hospitals that have heavy Medicare populations because those populations will find their providers are no longer able to make enough money to exist.

We actually have one of the leading Members of the Senate here, who is a doctor, who provided health care in a rural setting and is just recently out of the field, so to say, who might be able to comment, to add even more expertise on that.

Mr. BARRASSO. I would absolutely like to do that because Wyoming clearly is a rural State, long distances between patients and the hospitals.

This Sunday, just 2 days ago, I was visiting the Elk Horn Valley Rehab Hospital in Casper, WY, down the road from the Wyoming Medical Center, to see a friend of mine, Ted Lee. Ted is now in his eighties. Ted is a veteran of World War II. Ted actually drove a Jeep for Eisenhower, who was a general at the time, and Ted has been back to Washington as part of the Honor Flights, as we honor our World War II veterans.

Ted had fallen at home on the Wyoming ice and snow and had broken his hip. His wife Jackie called my wife Bobbi and me at home over the weekend to say: Ted is in the hospital. Would you stop by?

Ted is a terrific guy. I repaired his shoulder. I operated on his leg, when, at the age of 70, he jumped from an airplane to show he could still jump out of a plane with a parachute. And I replaced both of Jackie's knees. I know these people like family.

I went to the hospital to see Ted, and he said: What are those people in Washington thinking? What are they thinking?

Ted is very sharp. He said: I paid in. I fought for my country. I put my money into Medicare. Why are they taking my Medicare money, not to save Medicare but to start a whole new government program—a whole new government program for people who did not pay into the system, did not fight for their country, on and on. What is wrong with the people in Washington? What are they thinking? Don't they realize that it is our money, we paid in, we are expecting care, and now all of a sudden they are going to take Medicare money and start a new government program.

Ted said—and he knows; this is a guy who follows us—they are going to take it from the hospitals, and he had just been in the hospital; they are going to take it from Medicare Advantage, $120 billion, because there are a lot of people in Wyoming who see the advantages of signing up for Medicare Advantage; they are taking it from the home health care agency, and Ted is likely to need home health care help when he gets home. It is a lifeline to allow him to stay out of the hospital and at home. He also knows it is going to cut a lot of money from nursing homes. We are trying to keep Ted out of a nursing home. But he understands clearly that these Medicare cuts are going to affect doctors, hospitals, nursing homes, home health agencies, even hospice providers, and all of that money is going to be taken away not to save Medicare, which he knows is going to be broke in 2017, but to start a whole new government program.

When we get to the specifics of rural hospitals and rural health—and I see my colleague from Nebraska, who is a former Governor of Nebraska.

There was a front-page story in the New York Times a few months back: "For Elderly in Rural Areas, Times Are Distinctly Harder." Times are distinctly harder. And they quote a woman from Oshkosh, NE, who says: "One foot in the grave, the other sliding." One foot in the grave, the other sliding.

So I ask my colleague and friend from Nebraska, who has served as Governor—lots of rural areas in Nebraska—in Nebraska does the Senator see these same concerns where folks here in Washington are taking money away from our seniors on Medicare, money they depend on for their health care, to start a whole new government program? And it is fundamentally not right, and that is why we are bringing this amendment.

Mr. JOHANNIS. I so appreciate the opportunity to speak to this issue because this is enormously important for our rural States.

We took a look at this bill. We tried to give it a good, fair look in terms of its impact on Nebraska. If I might, let me cite some statistics, and you can repeat these statistics whether you are in Texas or Tennessee or Wyoming or wherever. Two-thirds of our home health agencies, if this bill—well, this bill became law today—two-thirds will be operating in the red by 2016, home health agencies. So what does that mean? Here is what it means: Back home in Nebraska, if you are in a major city such as Omaha, Lincoln, Kearney, whatever, it appears to me that you are probably going to get through this pretty reasonably. However, if you are in a rural area, you are going to lose service. They are going to pull in on the services to these rural areas. Why? Because they can't afford to send a home health person out 50 or 75 or 100 miles.

We asked ourselves, What would be the impact of this bill on nursing homes? Again, we have rural nursing homes all over our State. This is exactly what has happened in other States. People want to spend their elderly years in their community or near their community. These nursing homes are fighting to stay open today; they will take a $93 million hit. We are going to have nursing homes close in Nebraska.

Hospitals and hospice will also experience major reductions.

To those Nebraskans who are on Medicare Advantage, 35,000 Nebraskans are going to see a cut in the amount of money they receive only exacerbated by what we are talking about today.

If I might, let me anticipate an argument. I know, because you have been watching this, somebody from the other side is going to say: Come on, MIKE. This is the way it works. We extend the life of Medicare.

The Actuary in CBO has looked at that, in a rather amazing analysis, and said: Yes; right. What you are doing is double counting the same dollar. This comes from CBO, but I can take the same from CMS. CBO said: The key point is, the savings to the HI trust fund, under the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, would be received by the government only once, so they cannot be set aside to pay for future Medicare spending and at the same time pay for current spending.

That is exactly what they have tried to do here.

Mr. GREGG. If the Senator will yield on that point, CBO also says: In effect, the majority of the HI trust fund savings, under the big bill which was signed today and the reconciliation proposal which we are dealing with today, would be used to pay for other spending and, therefore, would not enhance the ability of the government to pay for the future of Medicare benefits.

The amendment we have at the desk does the opposite. It will allow us to use any savings to pay for Medicare benefits and enhance the strength of the trust fund.

Mr. JOHANNIS. That is exactly why I stand here today—to bring honesty to the accounting. If you bring honesty to the accounting, you can see what we are doing to the American people.

A former CBO Director recently said: Fantasy in, fantasy out. They will only score what is laid in front of them. They had this gimmick laid in front of them which is what they had to score. I applaud what this amendment does because what it is saying is: Let's cut through all this. Let's score this honestly. If we have savings in Medicare, let's keep that money in Medicare. Believe me, that is the right way to go about this. This idea of double counting the same dollar makes no sense whatsoever.

Mr. GREGG. The Senator is right. It is important to note that one program under Medicare will be absolutely devastated. I understand Texas has a lot of people in that program. Maybe the Senator from Texas could speak to that.

Mrs. HUTCHISON. The Senator from New Hampshire is correct. That is why I strongly support the amendment at the desk. The bill will wipe out Medicare Advantage, make no mistake about it. Texas has 500,000 people who pay into Medicare Advantage because it gives them extra things that they don't get under Medicare, such as eye care and eye glasses and things that are so important. In fact, what is so interesting about the bill before us, the reconciliation bill, is it actually increases the cuts in Medicare Advantage over and above what was in the Senate bill.

Mr. GREGG. It takes that money out of Medicare and uses it to fund a new entitlement for people who are not on Medicare and have never paid into Medicare.

Mrs. HUTCHISON. Exactly; taking away way from seniors who tried to do something a little bit better for themselves, mostly in rural areas. It cuts them even more than the Senate bill the President signed today: $200 billion in cuts to Medicare Advantage. It will obliterate the Medicare Advantage Program for so many of our seniors, in the millions across the country. In fact, here is a statistic: Between 2003 and 2007, more than 600,000 beneficiaries in rural areas joined the Medicare Advantage Program, a 420-percent increase in Medicare Advantage, because seniors saw it was a better deal for them and they decided to take it.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I wonder if I might ask the Senator from New Hampshire, I hear it often said by supporters of the bill, which became law today, that we on the Republican side are overstating it when we say there are Medicare cuts. Don't I remember that the Director of the CBO testified that fully half of those on Medicare Advantage would see their benefits cut by a bill such as the one that became law today? Don't one out of four recipients of Medicare subscribe to Medicare Advantage? Can we not expect for at least one out of those four Medicare Advantage beneficiaries to have their benefits affected by this law?

Mr. GREGG. The Senator is absolutely right. The original number under the original bill was 11 million seniors would lose their Medicare Advantage. That number has to go up now because, if this bill passes, it increases the cut to Medicare Advantage. Again, it takes that money and funds bringing people onto the system who don't have insurance coverage today but who are definitely not seniors and who have never paid into the Medicare trust fund.

I see the Senator from Idaho rising. Does he wish to speak?

Mr. RISCH. Mr. President, I came to the floor to join in this. I can't understand this. It amazes me that the other side thinks the American people are so stupid that they are going to believe you can take $500 billion out of Medicare and that it is going to be good for the American people and that it is going to be good for the system. In addition, what has been discussed about this phony smoke-and-mirrors accounting, the American people understand this. Most importantly, we have heard from the American people over and over: Don't touch our Medicare. When they say "our Medicare," they mean our Medicare. This isn't a gift from the Federal Government. There was a bipartisan coalition of Republicans and Democrats who brought the Medicare system online in America. They made a contract with the American people. If you work, you are going to contribute into the Medicare trust fund, and your employer is going to contribute into the Medicare trust fund. It is going to be there for you to be used when it is necessary for Medicare purposes.

My office is flooded with phone calls saying: You politicians, leave your hands off our Medicare.

I have watched this process over the years and have seen people try to raid Medicare for substantially less than what we are talking about here. We are talking about $½ trillion that is being stolen from Medicare. Where is the media on this? They tout this bill, that it will do this and it will do that. Nobody ever talks about the downside of a $½ trillion theft from Medicare. The American people are smart. They understand what is being done.

Anyone who supports this is going to pay the price for this in November. I guarantee you, your seniors at home, even young people and people who are middle-aged who are looking forward to Medicare are going to ask: Did you vote to steal money from my Medicare?

You better be ready to answer that question. Don't give them an answer with the smoke and mirrors, that by double accounting somehow taking $½ trillion out is going to make Medicare better. The American people are smarter than this. You are going to find that out this fall.

Mr. GREGG. Remember, the only way that can be avoided, the only way this bill and the bill that was just passed today, signed today by the President, can be kept from taking Medicare funds to fund new initiatives that have nothing to do with Medicare, such as insurance fraud and the expansion of Medicaid, is to pass this amendment. This is it. If you don't vote for this amendment, then you are voting to raid Medicare for the purpose of using that money for some other purpose which has nothing to do with Medicare. Basically, you are funding this bill on the backs of seniors.

How much time do we have remaining?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator has 1 minute remaining.

Mr. GREGG. I know the Senator from Tennessee wanted to conclude.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. President, I conclude by congratulating the Senator from New Hampshire for a very straightforward amendment. As I understand it, it says: If you are going to take any money out of Medicare, it has to be spent on Medicare.

Mr. GREGG. That is correct.

Mr. ALEXANDER. It can't be spent on some new government program.

Mr. GREGG. You can't create a new program until you can prove it is paid for with something other than Medicare money.

Mr. ALEXANDER. You have reemphasized that $½ trillion is coming out of Medicare and that it will affect the benefits of one-fourth of those who have Medicare Advantage. What you are trying to do is simply say: If there are savings in Medicare, spend it on Medicare because Medicare is going broke. This will help keep it solvent.

Mr. GREGG. That is the only fair thing to do for the seniors of America who are facing a system which has a very significant unfunded liability and which they paid into for all their lives and have a right to assume will be solvent and not have it used as a piggy bank for other programs which the other side of the aisle thinks are important but which have nothing to do with Medicare.

As I understand, the Democratic side now has a half hour and then we have a half hour.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator is correct.

The Senator from Montana.

Mr. BAUCUS. Senator HARKIN wishes to speak, but allow me to make a few points clear. The amendment offered by the Senator from New Hampshire is a killer amendment. It kills the bill. It is that simple. It basically is an amendment that kills the health care bill that just became law that the President signed this morning. This is a debate we had when we were on the bill. The Senate has already considered the arguments made by the Senator from New Hampshire and others. The Senate decided against those arguments. The Senate has decided to pass health care reform, as has the House of Representatives, and the President signed it. So this, in a certain sense, is a stale argument. This is an argument after the bill has already been passed. It makes more sense to make these arguments beforehand, not after.

Second, what is the effect? Let me read from the amendment. It says: The Secretary of the Treasury and the Secretary of Health and Human Services are prohibited from implementing any spending increase/revenue reduction provisions in the bill just signed by the President unless certain conditions occur. That means no spending to fill the doughnut hole. That means seniors will still have to spend more on drugs. That means no spending to help States cover Medicaid expenses for the expanded population. That means States will be left high and dry. That means no primary care payments to primary care physicians, whether it is Medicaid or Medicare. That means no tax credits for Americans who are struggling to buy health insurance. That means no payments to help struggling Americans make the out-of-pocket costs. It makes no sense. This is an example of why this is a killer amendment.

I strongly urge my colleagues to recognize we have had this debate already. This is not new. They have not said anything new. This debate occurred while we were considering health care reform. The Senate has considered those arguments, has listened to those arguments. We debated this amendment already back and forth. The Senate decided by a vote not to accept those arguments. So we are talking about something that is history. It has already passed. In a certain sense it is irrelevant.

On the other hand, this amendment is relevant on reconciliation. This amendment is an attempt to kill the bill. I strongly urge my colleagues to reject this amendment.

Don't forget, our bill includes financial incentives for doctors and hospitals to collaborate and coordinate care for seniors. I thought that is something we wanted. This amendment says: No, you can't do that. We can't come up with financial incentives for doctors and hospitals to collaborate. This does not happen often enough in Medicare today. We need to have more collaboration. We need doctors and hospitals to work better together. We need some demonstration systems. We need pilot projects to help us find ways to better pay doctors and hospitals based on quality of care and less on quantity of care. There is nobody who disagrees with that statement, at least nobody who has given a lot of thought to health care reform. This amendment would stop that. It would prevent us from trying to find a way to reduce health care costs which are eating us alive, eating up family budgets, eating up company budgets and also public budgets, in terms of Medicaid and Medicare, unless we get health care costs under control. The way to do that is to change the delivery system. I think that is the game changer in the bill; frankly, one of the most important parts of the bill. But—no, no, no—this amendment says you cannot do that. You cannot begin to take the steps necessary in the long term to start reducing health care costs.

Our bill also—the underlying bill, which this amendment would kill—reduces Medicare spending by reducing hospital readmissions. I thought we wanted to do that. I thought we wanted to reduce the hospital readmissions. This amendment would, in effect, say: No, you cannot do that.

Better coordination of care again means patients do not have to come back to the hospital because of complications, because of allergies and problems post surgery. What else does the underlying bill do? It keeps more money in the Medicare accounts by making smart reforms to the program. Fewer funds will be spent simply by paying doctors for quality of care and not quantity of care—by cutting out wasteful overpayments to providers and private insurance companies that do not add value to patients, and by creating an innovation center within the Medicare Program so that groundbreaking ways to deliver health care better are discovered more often and put in place without delay.

That is a very important point. We need to have, by creating an innovation center within the Medicare Program, groundbreaking ways to deliver better health care. We have to spend some money on these new demonstration and pilot projects so we can have a much better health care system.

Mr. President, I now yield the remainder of the time in this half hour to the chairman of the HELP Committee. I yield time under control on the bill.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Iowa.

Mr. HARKIN. Mr. President, thank you very much. I thank Chairman BAUCUS for yielding me this time.

I listened with great interest to the distinguished senior Senator from Montana as he recounted the extraordinary lengths to which Democrats went on his committee in soliciting bipartisan Republican support in the drafting of the health reform bill in the Finance Committee.

On both the Finance Committee, which Senator BAUCUS chairs, and on the Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions, which I chair, the majority party insisted on a process that was consistently open, transparent, and inclusive.

At every step, the Democratic majority acted in good faith. Republican Senators were fully involved during public committee hearings and markups, as well as in private discussions and negotiations. The ideas and amendments of Republican Senators helped to shape the substance of the bill in a multitude of ways.

In the HELP Committee, in 2008 and 2009, we held 47 bipartisan meetings on health reform, including 14 bipartisan roundtables, 13 bipartisan committee hearings, and 20 bipartisan walk-throughs on the bill.

Then the HELP Committee spent nearly 3 weeks during June and July marking up the bill—June and July of last year. To be exact, our markup spanned 13 days and a total of 54 hours. We went out of our way to accommodate our Republican colleagues who offered over 200 amendments. We accepted 161 Republican amendments on our bill. By any standard, this was an extraordinarily open and inclusive process.

I must point out that Democrats in good faith and in the best spirit of bipartisanship insisted on this inclusive process, despite numerous public statements by some Republican Senators to the effect that their game plan was to delay and obstruct and filibuster and kill the bill. Indeed, the junior Senator from South Carolina famously said:

If we're able to stop Obama on this, it will be his Waterloo. It will break him.

Even in the face of that, we said, nonetheless, that is just one person. We are going to have an open and inclusive process.

Many critics have said that Democrats pursued inclusion and bipartisanship to a fault. They have criticized us for consuming many months negotiating with Republicans, accepting their amendments, accommodating their ideas and objections, even in the teeth of their public declarations that they intended to kill the bill.

For the record, I am proud of the fact that we went the extra mile to include Republican Senators and to incorporate their ideas and input. It was the right thing to do, even if the hand of cooperation and bipartisanship we extended was rejected.

With passage of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, the 111th Congress has made history, just as previous Congresses did in 1935 by passing Social Security and in 1965 by passing the law creating Medicare. Each of those bills marked a giant step forward for the American people, and each was stridently opposed by defenders of the status quo. But in the end, a critical mass of Senators and Representatives rose to the historic occasion. They voted their hopes and not their fears. And—as we now know in retrospect—they passed laws that transformed America in profoundly positive ways.

The health reform law President Obama signed earlier today will also transform America in profound and positive ways. Indeed, it already has. Despite all the talk recently about how our Nation has become divided and ungovernable, we have proved not only that we are governable, but also that we still have the capacity to take charge of our destiny and to act with boldness and vision.

One prominent commentator said passage of the health reform bill is “a victory for America's soul.” I could not agree more. Yet this new law is fully paid for. Indeed, it helps to reduce the deficit by $143 billion in the first decade, and by a whopping $1.2 trillion in the second decade. That is deficit reduction.

Yes, this new law includes important and long overdue measures to crack down on abuses by health insurance companies—abuses that leave all Americans, including those with insurance, just one illness away from financial catastrophe. No longer will health insurance companies be able to cancel your insurance when you get a serious illness. No longer will they be able to impose lifetime caps or annual caps on their payoffs. No longer will they be able to systematically discriminate against women by charging higher premiums just because—just because—you are a woman. No longer—once this bill becomes fully operational—will they be able to deny coverage based on pre-existing conditions.

In addition, the new law includes a whole array of provisions promoting wellness, prevention, and public health—something I have personally championed for many years. This will finally begin to change the paradigm from our current sick care system to a true health care system—one that keeps people healthy and out of the hospital in the first place. This bill will begin to recreate America as a wellness society, focused on healthful lifestyles, good nutrition, physical activity, and preventing the chronic diseases that take such a toll on our bodies and on our budgets.

There has been a lot of talk about bending the cost curve in health care, and there have been a lot of different ways people have suggested on how we bend the cost curve. Quite frankly, I think the one biggest way we are going to be able to bend the cost curve is by focusing more on prevention. We know how to do it. We know it works. We know it saves money. We have good data on this. If you do not believe me, ask Pitney Bowes and what they did to their bottom line. Ask Safeway corporation what happened to their bottom line in terms of health care costs when they put in place widespread prevention and wellness policies. So we have private companies out there that are doing wonderful things we could be doing nationwide, and we can have the same kind of savings nationally for America as these private companies have for their bottom line.

There is one more critical reform in this new law. It includes the Community First Choice Option, which represents a major advance in allowing people with disabilities and older Americans with chronic conditions to remain in their homes and with their family and community. It will increase access to medical examination and diagnostic equipment designed to accommodate people with disabilities.

Here I want to speak to all of my friends in the disability community in America. After the passage of the Americans with Disabilities Act in 1990, the next big hurdle was to break down the discrimination that exists in Federal law that pertains to people who are eligible for institutional care but who would rather live in their own homes and in their communities. Right now, under Federal law, if you qualify for institutional care, Medicaid must pay for that—must pay for that. If, however, you do not want to live in an institution, and you want to live on your own, near your friends or your family in the community, Medicaid does not have to pay for that. Yet we know that for every one person in a nursing home, we can support three people with disabilities living in the community.

So we have tried ever since 1990 to change this. We had the first bill in the mid-1990s. It was called MiCASSA, the Medicaid Community-Based Attendant Services and Supports Act. We tried for a long time to get that. We could never get it done. Then in the last few years, we changed the name of it to the Community Choice Act, and we still could not get that done.

Last year, at about this time, I paid my first visit to President Obama in the White House. I wanted to have a personal meeting with him to talk about this one issue; that if we are going to do health care reform, we cannot leave people with disabilities behind, and the one thing that matters most is to ensure that people with disabilities have their own choice about where they want to live. If they want to live in an institution, fine. But if they would rather live by themselves in the community, with their family and their friends, they ought to have that choice. President Obama agreed with that, and so began the long process.

There is one part of the bill that not too many people know about. I say to my friends in the disability community, we have finally overcome the obstacle. In this bill is the Community First Choice Option, which will allow the Federal Government—beginning in October of 2011—to begin to pay to States an increased part of their Medicaid payment so people with disabilities can choose where they want to live—not where the government tells them they have to live.

To me, this is a profound change in how we are going to treat people with disabilities in our society. This is one of the landmark disability rights parts of this bill, and not too many people know about it. But I think after the signing of the bill today, people in the disability community all over America will know it is in there.

So these are important landmark reforms that benefit all Americans. But, as a commentator put it, the new health care reform law is also a victory for America's soul. At long last, we are realizing Senator Kennedy's dream of extending access to quality affordable health insurance to every American. We are ending the last shameful bastion of legal discrimination and exclusion in our country.

I have stated this before when people said: What are you talking about, discrimination, well, over the decades, we have outlawed discrimination in our country on the basis of race, color, national origin, based on gender. We have outlawed discrimination also based on disability with the Americans with Disabilities Act in 1990. But until now—think about it—it has been perfectly legal to discriminate against our fellow Americans because of illness, because of sickness—to exclude tens of millions of our citizens from decent health care simply because they cannot afford it. Think about that.

I hear some people talking about setting up pools: They are going to have a pool here and a pool here—a pool for the elderly, a pool for high risk—a pool here and a pool there; different people get in these different pools. My friends, that is nothing more or less than blatant discrimination. Are we not all one American family? That is what we said when we passed the Americans with Disabilities Act. This is our family. It should not be shunted aside, separated out. We said the same thing on the basis of race years ago with the Civil Rights Act, on the basis of gender, national origin.

With the signing of the bill today, we have said no longer are we going to discriminate against people because they are sick. Think about that. No longer are we going to discriminate against people simply because they are sick. This is a profound change in the way we are going to deal with each other as a society.

So when President Obama signed that bill this morning, he set in motion a series of changes that will tear down these last barriers of discrimination and exclusion. That truly is a great moral victory. And it is a victory for America's soul. It is a victory that every American can be proud of.

On that score, I certainly include our Republican friends. In the end, not a single Republican in either the House or the Senate voted for health care reform. I say that is unfortunate. But, make no mistake, Republican ideas are much a part of this new law. In our committee, the HELP Committee, which I chair, Republicans were full-fledged participants, as I said. They offered 210 amendments. We accepted 161—many of them making substantive contributions to the bill.

As others have pointed out, our national health reforms are similar in many respects to the very successful reforms undertaken by Republican Governor Mitt Romney in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

I fully predict that, as with Social Security and Medicare, the changes in the new health reform law, as they become better known and take effect, will win overwhelming bipartisan support among the American people.

In the near term, however, it is disappointing that some Republican legislators—I think maybe taking their cue from the more extreme voices on talk radio or Fox TV—are pledging to repeal this new law. In fact, the distinguished minority leader, the Republican leader, a couple of weeks ago in a press conference said if we pass this bill, their motto was going to be "Elect Republicans and We'll Repeal It." This strikes me as bad public policy and, quite frankly, bad politics.

Do Republicans really want to repeal the ban on denying insurance coverage due to preexisting conditions? Do they really want to repeal the ban on insurance companies cancelling your policy if you get sick? Do they really want to repeal the ban on annual and lifetime benefit payments? Do they really want to repeal the dramatic shrinking of the doughnut hole? Do Republicans really want to take away from the American people the fact that now in law your child can remain on your policy until the age of 26? Do they want to take that away from you? Do they want to take away from you the right you have now—the right under law—that no matter how sick your child gets—maybe born with a disability, maybe born with an illness—the insurance company cannot discriminate against your child based on a preexisting condition? That is the law of the land. Do Republicans really want to take that away from you?

I would strongly advise against these scorching tactics. This health reform bill has been passed and signed into law. It is now time for the bitter partisan rancor to stop. It is time to move forward united as an American people, just as we did on Social Security and Medicare. It is time to put politics aside and put our country first.

Today we have before us this reconciliation bill that includes a number of modifications to strengthen the reform bill President Obama signed earlier today. The bill he signed earlier today was the exact same bill we passed on Christmas Eve of last year. But there is something else. This reform bill also includes reforms in the student lending program that in their own way are also profound and historic.

Let me mention a few of these provisions that will build on the new health reform law. This reconciliation bill will make health insurance—as Senator BAUCUS said earlier, all families between 133 percent and 400 percent of poverty will see lower health care costs. The bill will shrink and notably do away with the doughnut hole in the Medicare prescription drug program. We have new provisions cutting back on waste and fraud in Medicare and Medicaid. In fact, these are some ideas proposed by Republicans at the White House summit, and we put it in the bill. It increases funding for community health centers by $2.5 billion, new consumer protections for employer-provided health plans that are grandfathered in by the health reform law.

In addition, the bill includes a provision that is critically important to ensuring that our health care providers and hospitals are fairly reimbursed. Many folks know Medicare varies reimbursement based on geography. That means many rural States such as Iowa, Oregon, Arkansas, Minnesota, and many others are reimbursed at much lower rates than urban areas regardless of the quality of the services they provide. This bill helps to right that, to address the geographic disparities, both for doctors and hospitals. In addition, we have received a written guarantee from Health and Human Services Secretary Kathleen Sebelius for further action to reform Medicare reimbursement rates.

This will finally move us to a fairer, more effective reimbursement model that emphasizes quality over quantity. I said this reconciliation bill includes both health care and education provisions. The education title of the bill includes landmark provisions to make college more affordable and accessible. It does so by eliminating tens of billions of dollars in wasteful subsidies to banks, redirecting most of that money to low-income college students in the form of increased Pell grants. The status quo in student lending is just incredibly wasteful. It is like a bizarre Rube Goldberg process that makes no sense.

Think about the present system. The Federal Government pays fees to private banks to make entirely risk-free loans using taxpayer money. The loans, which are already guaranteed by the Federal Government, are then sold back to the Federal Government. The banks pocket tens of billions of dollars—taxpayers' dollars—in fees and totally risk-free profits. This is a brazen case of corporate welfare—a huge government giveaway to bankers and to Sallie Mae. It is time to end it. This bill does. Simply put, this bill cuts out the middleman, saves $61 billion over the next 10 years, and gives it to students. The remainder we have invested, as I said, in more generous Pell grants.

We reduce the deficit by $10 billion. We have deficit reduction in here. We increase the Pell grants from now, from 2010 to 2017, from $5,550 to $5,975, and then we put in a cost-of-living increase on Pell grants based on the Consumer Price Index. This $36 billion includes an investment of $13.5 billion right now for the Pell grants—right now—to fill a hole in the Pell grant. That would increase student aid this year for students going to college, low-income students who need that help. It also invests $2.5 billion in Historically Black Colleges and Universities. It also provides money to student services so they can support students and give them the support they need to stay in school and to graduate—money to help nonprofits do that.

So, again, this reconciliation bill builds on and strengthens the health reforms signed into law by President Obama today. As I have said many times in the past, I look upon the health care bill we passed in December as a starter home, something on which we can build now and in the future. We make modifications now, and we will make them in the future. We can always make modifications. It is a bill, a law. We can make changes as we go along. So we are making some of those fixes today to bridge some of the differences between the House and the Senate, to make some needed changes.

The Congressional Budget Office, again, says deficit reduction will be $143 billion in the first decade, an additional $1.2 trillion in the second decade—big deficit reductions.

I am sorry the Republicans seem to take pride in their reputation as the party of no. We all remember William F. Buckley's conservative motto; William F. Buckley, the father of the conservative movement. He said: The role of conservatives is "to stand athwart history yelling stop." Well, that is exactly what our Republican colleagues did by filibustering and trying to kill health care reform. That is exactly what they are trying to do now—to obstruct and kill this reconciliation bill. But it will not succeed. We are going to get the reconciliation bill done. We are going to get it passed, and we are going to move beyond. We are going to move beyond the rancor and the bitterness and bring our American family together. We will bring them together so everyone is guaranteed the right to health care and that we stop the abusive practices of the health insurance industry we have seen in the past.

So, by any measure, this bill is good for the American people. It is good for students. It is good for our colleges, our community colleges, our private colleges in getting rid of the guaranteed loan program and going to a direct loan program. It is also good for the health of the American people.

As I said at the beginning, this bill is good for the soul of America. It is good to remind us that we are, once again, an American family; that no one should be discriminated against simply because they are sick or have an illness or because fate has dealt them a blow by becoming disabled. That is what this bill is about more than anything else. It is time to get on with it, get it passed, and move on.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mrs. HAGAN). The Senator from Montana.

Mr. BAUCUS. Madam President, how much time is remaining on this half-hour block?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. No time remains for the Democrats.

Mr. BAUCUS. I thank the Senator.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from New Hampshire.

Mr. GREGG. Madam President, we are about to hear from Senator MCCAIN who has an amendment dealing with a number of these special deals that are in this bill. First off, this bill is an outrage on the body politic to begin with, the way it was handled. It was drafted in a secret room, behind a secret room, behind a hidden door somewhere over on the majority side. It was brought out on Saturday night, put on our desks. We were told we had to vote on it on Christmas Eve. Then it was sent to the House. The House didn't get to amend it. They sent it to the President. But in order to get it passed in the House, they had to do this trailer bill which we are dealing with tonight, and which I call the buy-it bill, where they went around and bought votes. A lot of votes were bought around here using the buy-it bill method.

Senator MCCAIN has sort of been the conscience of the Senate on this type of issue, where there are targeted benefits for special States which aren't appropriate and have nothing to do substantively with the bill. Therefore, we should address those openly. We haven't had a chance to do that because our side has never been allowed to amend anything around here on this bill of any substance.

So it is Senator MCCAIN's intention, when he gets here, to offer an amendment dealing with one of these, or maybe a series of these situations where there were special deals cut which have been given certain names, such as the "Cornhusker kickback" and the "Louisiana purchase" and the Florida "Gator aid." So I believe that is what Senator MCCAIN is here for, and we are looking forward to it because it is appropriate that we bring out into the light these deals which no American had a chance to participate in other than that small cadre in that small room—as I said, the hidden room behind the hidden room behind the hidden door.

Certainly, they didn't go through any committee, these deals. They didn't come across the floor of the Senate, these deals, and they didn't go through the floor of the House, and they should be voted on as to whether they are appropriate.

Mr. ALEXANDER addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Tennessee.

Mr. GREGG. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent to proceed as in a colloquy.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Madam President, could Senator MCCAIN be allowed to lead the colloquy? I ask unanimous consent that Senator MCCAIN be allowed to lead the colloquy.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Madam President, I am glad to see the Senator from Arizona who has been a consistent proponent of openness in government. I heard the Senator from New Hampshire say that a lot of these sweetheart deals hadn't been voted on. I wonder if we may have a chance to vote on them soon, I ask the Senator from Arizona.

Mr. MCCAIN. Madam President, I thank my friend from Tennessee. May I say I am going to offer an amendment that would remove some of the remaining sweetheart deals. To be honest with my colleagues, I don't think we are going to find out all of what was in this 2,733-page legislation for a long time.

As you know, it is that size, and it takes an expert, even though I read the bill, to go from one point to another. For example, it took us a long time to figure out that the State of Connecticut has a $100 million deal to build a hospital in Connecticut.

Now, you wouldn't know that at first glance, but after going through it, you figure out it is there. There are a lot of provisions in this 2,733-page piece of legislation that we will find, but we are going to try to get rid of some of them in this amendment, which is, by the way, a commitment I thought had been made but obviously was not.

The most egregious have been removed. The "Cornhusker kickback" has been removed, and I believe the "Gator aid" provision has been removed as well. But we certainly have a number of others that remain in the bill, and we will be finding them in the future.

I ask my colleague from New Hampshire, is it in order for me to propose the amendment? What is the parliamentary situation?

Mr. GREGG. As I understand it, the majority would like to see the amendment, which is certainly reasonable. We will give them a copy of the amendment, and then hopefully at the end of our debate time we will be able to set my amendment aside. We will get a copy.

Mr. MCCAIN. I say to my friend from New Hampshire, while we are on the subject, it is not only the sweetheart deals that are carved out for individual Members, the latest being additional Medicaid funding for Tennessee hospitals, which was just added, I understand, within the last 48 hours or so, but there is also the part that is really hard for us to amend, as I am sure the Senator from New Hampshire knows—for example, the PhRMA deal, the deal that was cut for the pharmaceutical manufacturers.

The Senator from New Hampshire may remember that back in August, there was a story in the New York Times:

Drug industry lobbyists reacted with alarm this week to a House health care overhaul measure that would allow the government to negotiate drug prices and demand additional rebates from drug manufacturers.

In response, the industry successfully demanded that the White House explicitly acknowledge for the first time that it had committed to protect drug makers from bearing further costs in the overhaul. The Obama administration had never spelled out the details of the agreement.

"We were assured: 'We need somebody to come in first. If you come in first, you will have a rock-solid deal.'" Billy Tauzin—

By the way, I understand he has a salary of over $2 million a year—the former Republican House member from Louisiana who now leads the pharmaceutical trade group, said Wednesday: "Who is ever going to go into a deal with the White House again if they don't keep their word? You are just going to duke it out instead."

A deputy White House chief of staff, Jim Messina, confirmed Mr. Tauzin's account of the deal in an e-mail message on Wednesday night.

"The president encouraged this approach," Mr. Messina wrote. "He wanted to bring all the parties to the table to discuss health insurance reform."

I say to my friend from New Hampshire, while we are awaiting approval of this amendment from the other side, how many deals were cut with PhRMA? What were the deals cut for the AMA? What were the deals cut with the hospital association? What were the deals cut with all these other organizations that have caused Americans to be so unhappy with this process we have gone through?

There really is not any way, I say to my colleague from New Hampshire, that I can amend the PhRMA deal. We tried to have drug reimportation from Canada. We tried to have pharmaceutical companies compete for Medicare recipients. As Mr. Tauzin said:

"We were assured: 'We need somebody to come in first. If you come in first, you will have a rock-solid deal'..."

I don't know whether it was the President found himself on the road to Damascus or what caused the conversion from then-Senator Obama who strongly supported drug reimportation from Canada for prescription drugs to the administration now opposing it.

AMENDMENT NO. 3570

Anyway, I understand my amendment has been agreed to.

I call up the McCain-Burr-Coburn amendment.

Mr. GREGG. I believe the Senator has to set my amendment aside.

Mr. BAUCUS. The Gregg amendment is already pending. I understand Senator MCCAIN would like to ask unanimous consent that the pending amendment be set aside so that his amendment could then be in order. If so, I have no objection.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there an objection to setting aside the pending amendment? Without objection, it is so ordered.

The clerk will report.

The assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from Arizona [Mr. MCCAIN] proposes an amendment numbered 3570.

Mr. MCCAIN. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent that the reading of the amendment dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To eliminate the sweetheart deals for Tennessee, Hawaii, Louisiana, Montana, Connecticut, and frontier States)

At the end of subtitle F of title I, add the following:

SEC. 1502. ELIMINATION OF SWEETHEART DEALS.

(a) REPEALS.—Effective as if included in the enactment of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, the following provisions are repealed:

(1) SWEETHEART DEAL TO PROVIDE TENNESSEE WITH MEDICAID DSH FUNDS.—Clause (v) of section 1923(f)(6)(A) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1396f–4(f)(6)(A)), as added by section 1203(b) of this Act.

(2) SWEETHEART DEAL TO PROVIDE HAWAII WITH MEDICAID DSH FUNDS.—Clause (iii) of section 1923(f)(6)(B) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1396f–4(f)(6)(B)), as added by section 10201(e)(1)(A) of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act.

(3) SWEETHEART DEAL TO PROVIDE LOUISIANA WITH A SPECIAL INCREASED MEDICAID FMAP.—Subsection (aa) of section 1905 of the Social Security Act, as added by section 2006 of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act.

(4) SWEETHEART DEAL THAT INCREASES MEDICARE REIMBURSEMENT JUST FOR FRONTIER STATES.—Section 10324 of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (and the amendments made by such section).

(5) SWEETHEART DEAL GRANTING MEDICARE COVERAGE FOR INDIVIDUALS EXPOSED TO ENVIRONMENTAL HAZARDS IN LIBBY, MONTANA.—Section 10323 of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (and the amendments made by such section).

(6) SWEETHEART DEAL FOR A HOSPITAL IN CONNECTICUT.—Section 10502 of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act.

(b) ELIMINATION OF SWEETHEART DEAL THAT RECLASSIFIES HOSPITALS IN MICHIGAN AND CONNECTICUT TO INCREASE THEIR MEDICARE REIMBURSEMENT.—Section 3137(a) of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, as amended by section 10317 of such Act, is amended—

(1) in paragraph (2)—

(A) by striking "FISCAL YEAR 2010" and all that follows through "for purposes of implementation of the amendment" and inserting "FISCAL YEAR 2010.—For purposes of implementation of the amendment"; and

(B) by striking subparagraph (B); and

(2) by striking paragraph (3).

Mr. MCCAIN. Madam President, I thank my colleague, the Senator from Montana, for his courtesy.

This amendment removes some of the remaining egregious sweetheart deals contained in the health reform legislation. It removes the following items from the health reform legislation: additional Medicaid funding for Hawaii hospitals; additional Medicaid funding for Tennessee hospitals; the "Louisiana purchase" provided special Medicaid funding for Louisiana; special Medicare funding primarily for reclassified hospitals in Michigan and Connecticut; the UConn proposal that provides $100 million for a Connecticut hospital; the frontier funding provision providing new Medicare money for Montana, South Dakota, North Dakota, and Wyoming; the provision allowing for certain residents in Libby, MT, to participate in a new Medicare Program.

Let me say that I believe many of these proposals, including the Libby, MT, proposal, may be worthwhile, but what are they doing in a health care reform bill? What is the purpose except to put in a special deal for a favored group? They may need this help. They may possibly very badly and urgently need it. It seems to me, if that were the case, we could make that argument and provide the people in Libby, MT, the ability to participate in a Medicare Program as it stands. It is something that is not in keeping with health care reform.

The funding for Hawaii hospitals is there.

I want to say a word about the "Louisiana purchase." The Senator from Louisiana comes down and forcefully and very convincingly argues that this is very needed for the State of Louisiana, and Louisiana was hit by Hurricane Katrina. I point out that the State of Mississippi was also hit and devastated by Hurricane Katrina, but we do not have anything in here for the State of Mississippi. I know the Governor of Mississippi would argue that the devastation on the Mississippi coast was equally as terrible as that for Louisiana. Instead, we have $300 million providing special Medicaid funding for Louisiana.

There are also States, including my own, that have suffered devastating acts of God, acts of nature also from time to time.

Here we are at the eleventh hour with a situation where there are still these backroom deals done that possibly we could address with an amendment. The other deals we cannot because they were side agreements, such as the pharmaceutical companies I just read from, such as the deal with the American Medical Association, the ones with the hospitals, the others that were cut in order to get Members to come on board and support this legislation. This provides for an opportunity to remove these provisions from the bill.

Comments made by Senator REID's office:

You will find a number of States are treated different from other States. That's what legislation is all about. It's compromise. We worked on a number of things to get different people's votes. There are many things you will look at in this legislation and say: I wonder why that happened? A lot of times you think something was done and, oh, that's how you got their vote. Most of the time, that's really not true. Some of the time it is.

If I could quote to my colleagues again the recent article from March 21 called "Inside the Pelosi Sausage Factory," I quote from the Wall Street Journal article:

Never before has the average American been treated to such a live-action view of the sordid politics necessary to push a deeply flawed bill to completion. It was dirty deals, open threats, broken promises and disregard for democracy that pulled ObamaCare to this point, and yesterday the same machinations pushed it across the finish line . . .

As for those who needed more persuasion: California Rep. Jim Costa bragged publicly that during his meeting in the Oval Office, he'd demanded the administration increase water to his Central Valley district. On Tuesday, Interior pushed up its announcement, giving the Central Valley farmers 25 percent of water supplies, rather than the expected 5 percent allocation. Mr. COSTA, who denies there was a quid pro quo, on Saturday said he'd flip to a yes.

Florida Rep. Susan Kosmas (whose district is home to the Kennedy Space Center) admitted that in her own Thursday meeting with the president, she'd brought up the need for more NASA funding. On Friday she flipped to a yes. So watch the NASA budget.

Democrats inserted a new provision providing $100 million in extra Medicaid money for Tennessee. Retiring Tennessee Rep. Bart Gordon flipped to a yes vote on Thursday.

Outside heavies were enlisted to warn potential no votes that unions and other Democrats would run them out of Congress.

The list goes on and on.

Again, eight times the President of the United States said in the campaign that all negotiations on health care reform would be conducted with C-SPAN cameras in the room. He said: We will find out who is on the side of pharmaceutical companies, who is on the side of the voters. Unfortunately, these deals were made out of the view of the C-SPAN cameras—in fact, behind closed doors.

This is a pretty simple amendment. I repeat, it removes the additional Medicaid funding for Hawaii hospitals; additional Medicaid funding for Tennessee hospitals; the "Louisiana purchase;" special Medicare funding primarily for reclassified hospitals in Michigan and Connecticut; $100 million for a Connecticut hospital; the frontier funding provision providing new Medicare money for Montana, South Dakota, North Dakota, and Wyoming; and the special provision for Libby, MT.

I know, again, that people will stand and defend each one of these provisions. They are provisions that were not allowed or provided to every other State in America. That is what makes them a special deal. That is what makes Americans think that the way we do business around here is not in their interest. It makes Americans believe we are cutting these deals in order to secure votes. Whenever these deals are cut, then the residents of other States are the ones who foot the bill.

I hope my colleagues will consider this amendment and remove all of these remaining provisions. I cannot assure my colleagues or my constituents that we have found them all, but at least it is a step in the right direction.

Mr. GREGG. Will the Senator yield for a question?

Mr. MCCAIN. I will be glad to.

Mr. GREGG. It seems to me that what the Senator is trying to do is get back to what the other side claimed they were doing, which is health care reform. What the Senator is trying to do is take out of this health care bill a lot of special walking-around money events that did not have anything to do with health care reform; they just had to do with getting a vote—getting a vote here, getting a vote there. If they were going to do real health care reform, then it should rise and fall of its own weight. It should not require that these special deals be put in there to get a vote, should it?

Mr. MCCAIN. I believe all of my colleagues are of the highest integrity, honorable people. I respect and admire their service to their States and the Nation. But there is no doubt, I say to my friend from New Hampshire, there is no doubt that these kinds of provisions in a 2,700-page piece of legislation create the appearance that some States are favored over others because of either the influence of their elected representative or in order to secure those votes. That is the appearance the American people have when we find these earmarks in legislation which are somehow inserted without votes, without debate, without discussion, and there they are.

Mr. GREGG. I guess my point is, independent of these amendments, Members should be able to vote on this bill up or down without these amendments in it. These amendments are extraneous to health care reform. The core of health care reform has nothing to do with any of these amendments. As the Senator from Arizona says, they may be worthwhile in some instances, but they are not tied to the purpose of this bill, which was allegedly health care reform; isn't that correct?

Mr. MCCAIN. I totally agree. Again, I pointed out a short time ago—as in the day before yesterday—what was the rationale for adding $100 million in extra Medicaid money for Tennessee? Why, after a year of debate and discussion on this, all of a sudden $100 million extra for Medicaid is deemed necessary for the State of Tennessee? This is what arouses the suspicion of the American people, I say to my colleague.

There will be a stout defense of every one of these. But the point is that if they are done in the regular authorization and appropriations bills, and certainly not in the name of health care reform, they are extra money. Where is the reform in $100 million for a hospital in Connecticut? What does that have to do with reform? Nothing.

I reserve the remainder of my time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Who yields time to the Senator from Wyoming?

Mr. MCCAIN. I yield to the Senator from Wyoming such time as he may consume.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Wyoming has the floor.

Mr. BARRASSO. Madam President, it is a privilege to be here on the floor with my colleague from Arizona because he talks so well on this topic and he knows it so very well. He knows how to read this legislation and look through the nooks and the crannies.

I will tell all of you and my colleagues that I spent some time Sunday visiting my friend, a veteran from World War II, in the hospital. He broke his hip and he is recovering and he is bothered by a lot of things. He said what are the people in Washington thinking? He is recovering from his surgery and he said why are they taking my Medicare money to start a new government program and how in the heck did they get all of those votes that they needed to get this bill passed? He said has it been vote buying, sweetheart deals, a culture of corruption in Washington?

Those are the questions being asked by people all around this country which is why this bill, when it was brought to the floor in the House, what we have seen is that half of the people of America are vehemently opposed, strongly opposed to the bill and fewer than one in four supports it.

The thing that touched the nerve of the American people before Christmas was the "Cornhusker kickback." That actually has not been taken out of the bill. What they have done is said let's spend more money and give that same special sweetheart deal to other States around the rest of the country. So that actually is still in there. Yet the President said we are not going to have any special deals. It happened when Senator MCCAIN and I were at the White House for this summit and Senator MCCAIN asked the specific question of the President, he said, What about all these deals.

He said they should come out.

Yet we see today that not only have many of those deals not come out, there is a whole list of additional sweetheart deals put in to get this bill through the House of Representatives. The people of Wyoming are asking why.

Mr. GREGG. Will the Senator from Wyoming on that point yield because I think he has made a very important point. I was not at the summit but I would like the Senator from Arizona to relate to us what the exchange was with the President on the issue of those sweetheart deals because I think if the President's position is they should be out and they don't have anything to do with the fundamental reform exercise, shouldn't they be out?

Mr. MCCAIN. I would say to my friend, I had the exchange with the President specifically over the so-called "Gator Aid" amendment because 330,000 citizens of my State were enrolled in Medicare Advantage who are going to be placed at a great disadvantage because we had carved out a special provision for 800,000 citizens of Florida who were under the Medicare Advantage Program.

By the way, I remind my colleagues that I proposed an amendment to remove that on this floor from that bill. Does anybody really believe that if it had not been for the publicity surrounding these special deals that they would have voluntarily taken out the 800,000-person carve-out for the State of Florida? I do not think so because I proposed an amendment to take it out and it was defeated. It was kept in on a party-line vote.

Fortunately I brought it up at the White House with the President and the President agreed it was not a good idea. So, after voting to keep it in, after defeating an amendment that—I tried to remove it—fortunately there was enough publicity, there was enough focus on it that it forced them to take it out.

Unfortunately, there is not enough focus on the hospital in Connecticut and these other provisions which are special deals.

Mr. BARRASSO. So here we are. We are looking at a bill, in my opinion, having practiced medicine for 25 years, taking care of families all across the State of Wyoming, that is fundamentally going to be bad for patients, bad for providers, our nurses and our doctors, and bad for payers, the people who are going to pay the bill, the American taxpayers. That is why Warren Buffett, when he looked at this whole piece of legislation, said it is time to eliminate about 2,500 pages of the nonsense and focus on cutting costs.

In my opinion, having looked at this and visiting with other physicians and hospital administrators, it looks to me that with the bill the President signed into law today, which cuts Medicare by $500 billion, not to save Medicare but to start a whole new government program, which raises taxes by another $500 billion on American families, I believe this bill, still loaded with sweetheart deals, is going to cause people to see that their own insurance premiums are going to go up, their taxes are going to go up, and they are going to find out that the quality of their medical care is going to go down.

We saw it in Massachusetts where, with the result of this program, a program very similar, it is now the most expensive State in the country for health insurance. It is breaking the budget of the State and people have to wait 42 days to get a physician. Yet the President says we are going to cover more people and he is going to do it by cramming 16 million more Americans onto Medicaid, a program in which many doctors will not even see those patients because the reimbursement is so low.

I see my colleague from New Hampshire and I said that is what I am hearing in Wyoming. Is that what we are hearing in New Hampshire? And then maybe our friend from Arizona has different thoughts.

Mr. GREGG. It absolutely is, and the doctor has described it personally, from his own personal experience and that is a lot of doctors are not going to see patients, especially on Medicaid or Medicare, because the reimbursement rates are so low.

There is a philosophical issue here of whether a bill should be filled with these sweetheart deals, but there is a practical issue too. I can't imagine why anybody on the other side of the aisle would be against eliminating these sweetheart deals other than the people who come from these States that benefit from them. This is not going to be extraordinarily disruptive to this bill. If this amendment were to pass, which took out these various deals which should not be in the bill to begin with, the bill goes back to the House. The House doesn't like these deals. Heck, they are for Senators. I suspect the House would be happy to have these deals come out so they will repass the bill without these deals.

Why not vote this amendment? Why not positively vote this amendment? There is no logical reason not to do it other than, I guess, nobody wants to let any amendments pass that deal with this bill in any way, even if they are extraordinarily reasonable amendments such as this, on which there should be unanimity, except for the folks who benefit from the specific deals.

Mr. MCCAIN. Madam President, I wish to summarize by saying I hope we will take out these deals. I hope every time we find another one in this 2,733-page legislation, we will take it out too. But I hope also that my friends on the other side of the aisle and the President of the United States will learn a lesson. Next time you want to sit down and enact a major piece of legislation, bring us in in the beginning. Bring us in so we can have true bipartisan negotiations, and any allegation to the contrary is patently false. I know because I have been involved in bipartisan negotiations and this is what happens when you have to go around shopping for votes to finally put you over the top. The American people, with the election of a new Senator from Massachusetts, have rejected this process. They have rejected this process.

Let's listen to the people of this country who say they want these things out. That is not how they want the Congress of the United States to do business. Let's take them out. Let's stop this legislation and let's start from the beginning and let's fix health care in America. And, certainly, let's all pledge to stop doing these kinds of backroom behaviors that the American people have grown sick and tired of.

Mr. GREGG. Madam President, I congratulate the Senator from Arizona, again, for being the voice of conscience for this body relative to making sure we are playing straight with the American people and their tax dollars by not allowing these types of special deals to be put into bills. He has a long and very strong record in this area. This amendment—I cannot imagine why it would be opposed.

I understand that the 2 hours which we had time agreements under has basically been completed. I suggest for the next 2 hours we continue with this same course of action, if it is agreeable to the Democratic manager. We have a half hour on the Democratic side, a half hour on our side; a half hour on the Democratic side, a half hour on our side. Is that acceptable?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Montana.

Mr. BAUCUS. At this point let's keep it to 1 hour; a half hour to each side and we can go back and revisit it.

Mr. GREGG. So the next hour will be divided 30 minutes with the majority and 30 minutes with the minority.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. BAUCUS. I am sorry, was there consent?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There will be 1 hour equally divided, with the majority having the first half hour.

The Senator from Arizona has 1 minute remaining.

Mr. MCCAIN. I will summarize again. These deals were cut for special situations. We have had disasters all over America. We had a disaster in the State of Mississippi. There was nothing in this for the State of Mississippi, which was struck by Katrina as well. The fact is it was also done in a managers' package. There was no debate, there was no discussion. I certainly, and the rest of this side, was not told about it and I was not the only one.

It was a deal that was cut. These deals have all got to be removed. I certainly will support doing anything necessary to help any State in America that is struck by a disaster, not just Louisiana, but Arizona and California and every other State that has been. But I will not do it by inserting a special provision in what is supposed to be a health care reform bill.

I urge my colleagues to remove all of these sweetheart deals.

I yield the remainder of my time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Montana.

Mr. BAUCUS. Madam President, I yield the chairman of the Budget Committee, Senator CONRAD, 20 minutes from our time in opposition to the McCain amendment.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from North Dakota.

Mr. CONRAD. Madam President, I thank Chairman BAUCUS for his extraordinary leadership in legislation that became the law of the land today with the signature by the President. That is the bill that came out of the Senate. It came out of the Finance Committee, it came out of the HELP Committee. This bill went to the House, was passed and was signed into law by the President today.

This was the headline from the New York Times yesterday: "Congress Sends White House Landmark Health Overhaul." Landmark health overhaul indeed it is.

The Senate is now turning to a separate reconciliation bill passed by the House. That bill includes modifications to the comprehensive reform measure President Obama signed today.

These are changes that have been negotiated with the House. This health care fixer bill represents a limited and appropriate use of the reconciliation process. And the reconciliation bill also includes certain education provisions to make college more affordable, and to support higher education.

I want to begin by highlighting the impact of the comprehensive bill passed by the Senate on Christmas Eve, passed by the House over the weekend, signed into law by the President today. That bill meets key reform benchmarks. It is fully paid for and in fact reduces both the short- and long-term deficits. It expands coverage to 94 percent of Americans. It promotes choice and competition. It contains critical insurance market reforms and bans the denial of coverage based on preexisting conditions. It contains delivery system reforms that will bring us better quality at lower cost.

Here is what this health care reform bill will mean for my State of North Dakota. It ends insurance abuses. Insurers will no longer be able to deny coverage for you or your children because of preexisting conditions or raise premiums when you get sick.

It provides tax breaks for small businesses. Small businesses will get tax credits to help buy coverage for their workers.

I had a Republican businessman tell a friend of mine over the weekend that he has had to stop coverage of his employees, although he would like to extend it to them, but believes that this bill now will allow him to once again provide insurance coverage to his employees.

It insures young people. Young North Dakotans will be able to stay on their parents' health insurance until they are 26 years old. It expands coverage. North Dakotans will get more choice and tax credits to make health coverage more affordable. It helps workers. Workers will be able to change jobs without fear of losing health care coverage. It improves Medicare. Seniors will get preventive services without copayments, and the gap in prescription drug coverage will be eliminated. It lowers costs. Premiums for the same level of coverage will be lower after health care reform than they would have been without it.

Despite claims from some of my Republican colleagues that this health care reform adds to the deficit, it does not. The Congressional Budget Office, which is the official scorer, has said that the comprehensive bill signed by the President today reduces the deficit by $118 billion over the first 10 years. As I will show later, when you add in the impact of the reconciliation bill before us now, the total deficit reduction in the first 10-year period is $143 billion. It is not my estimate, not the Democratic Party's estimate, not the Democratic leadership's estimate; that is the estimate by the nonpartisan Congressional Budget Office that officially scores legislation before this Congress.

This reform continues to reduce the deficit in the second 10 years. Here is what CBO said in its analysis of the reform signed into law by the President today:

CBO expects that the legislation would reduce Federal budget deficits over the decade after 2019 relative to those projected and under current law, with a total effect during that decade that is in a broad range between one-quarter and one-half percent of GDP.

To translate that into dollar terms, that would be a reduction in the deficit in the second 10 years of $650 billion to $1.3 trillion. And now we have the happy ability to inform our colleagues that with the reconciliation bill added in, the total deficit reduction will be one-half of 1 percent of GDP in the second 10 years or $1.3 trillion.

This health care reform package also expands coverage. Again, I am referring now to the bill signed into law by the President today because that bill alone expands coverage to 94 percent of the American people by building off the existing employer-based system. It creates State-based health exchanges for individuals and small businesses. It provides tax credits to help individuals and small businesses buy insurance. It expands Medicaid eligibility while providing additional assistance to the States to pay for it.

This health care reform also includes dramatic reforms in the health insurance market—measures that will positively impact millions of Americans. It prohibits insurers from denying coverage for preexisting conditions. It prohibits insurers from rescinding coverage when people get sick. It bans insurers from imposing lifetime caps and unreasonable annual limits on health care benefits. It prevents insurers from charging more based on health status.

This reform package signed by the President today takes a number of important steps to improve the quality of care. It covers preventive services. It provides incentives for healthy lifestyles. It promotes the adoption of best practices and the use of comparative effectiveness research to find out, on a scientific basis, what actually works. Who is against using something that actually works?

It includes delivery system reforms that encourage quality over quantity of care—something health care economists have told us is the single most important part of this package. These delivery system reforms do not get a lot of attention, but they have the potential to dramatically improve our long-term health outcomes. These reforms include accountable care organizations, primary care payment bonuses, readmissions, hospital value-based purchasing, comparative effectiveness research, a CMS innovation center, an independent payment advisory board and payment bundling—all of them recommended by Democratic and Republican health care economists who told us these are the things that can fundamentally change our system to lower costs over time and improve quality.

You would not know it from listening to some of the coverage, but this health care reform has widespread support among health care experts and health care organizations in my State of North Dakota. This legislation has been endorsed by the North Dakota Hospital Association; the North Dakota Medical Association, representing our State's doctors; the North Dakota Nurses Association, representing our State's nurses; the North Dakota AARP, representing our State's seniors; the Community Health Care Association, and on and on.

There has been a lot of misinformation spread about this health care reform package, so I want to take a moment to say what is not in this plan. It does not include government-run health care. There is no government takeover. This is private insurance, not government insurance. It includes no cut in guaranteed benefits for seniors. The Medicare savings overwhelmingly are savings from providers negotiated with providers. Why would they agree to hundreds of billions of dollars in lower payments than they were expecting—in other words, less of an increase than they were anticipating? Because they know, with 30 million more people insured, that their costs will be reduced and they can afford less of an increase. It includes no death panels. It includes no coverage for illegal immigrants. It includes no expansion of Federal funding for abortion services.

I would like to briefly address the reconciliation bill that is before us now. Remember, we have already passed comprehensive reform. That was done on Christmas Eve. That was passed by the House this weekend. That was signed into law by the President today. What is before us now is a reconciliation package. It includes limited modifications or fixes to the comprehensive health care bill which passed earlier. It is fully paid for and includes additional deficit reductions over and above the comprehensive bill that became law today. This reconciliation bill follows the requirements of reconciliation by including budget-related provisions only, no proposed changes on strictly policy matters.

Here are key health care fixes in this bill: It improves the affordability of health care. It eliminates the gap in Medicare drug coverage, also known as the doughnut hole. It adjusts the amount of Federal aid going to States for Medicare, and also States are treated the same. Despite the rhetoric on the other side, let's be clear on Medicaid. All States are treated the same. It further reduces overpayments to Medicare Advantage, and it takes additional steps to reduce waste, fraud, and abuse.

Here are key education provisions in the reconciliation bill as well: It expands Pell grants to make college more affordable. It eliminates bank-based student lending, which saves, according to CBO, $61 billion of taxpayer money that can then be redirected to actually support students. I thought that is what student aid was about, to support students. It supports historically Black colleges and extends funding for higher education.

Some of my colleagues of the party opposite have described reconciliation as an obscure and rarely used procedure. The fact is, it has been used 22 times, 16 times when they were in control of the Senate. And we are using reconciliation to appropriately reduce the deficit, unlike our friends on the other side, who used the process to pass unpaid-for tax cuts that resulted in much higher deficits.

Here is how Senator GREGG justified the use of reconciliation by the then Republican majority in 2005 in its effort to open the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge to drilling. He stated:

Reconciliation is a rule of the Senate set up under the Budget Act . . . The fact is, all this rule of the Senate does is allow a majority of the Senate to take a position and pass a piece of legislation [and it does it with a simple majority vote.] Is there something wrong with majority rules? I do not think so. The reason the Budget Act was written in this way was to allow certain unique issues to be passed with a majority vote. That is what is being asked for here.

That is the quote of Senator GREGG, who was then chairman of the Budget Committee. He said: It allows a simple majority vote. He asked: What is wrong with that? It is interesting now to hear the other side say that somehow that is wrong.

As I noted, this reconciliation bill will add further deficit reduction to the health care reform estimate. Here is CBO's estimate of the combined effect of the bill signed into law by the President today and the bill that is before us now. It shows that the deficits will be reduced by a total of $143 billion over the first 10 years—$143 billion. That is according to the Congressional Budget Office. The two measures taken together will continue to reduce deficits in the second 10 years and beyond.

Here is what CBO said in its cost estimate:

. . . [T]he combined effect of enacting [the Senate bill] and the reconciliation proposal would . . . be to reduce federal budget deficits over the ensuing decade [beyond 2019] relative to those projected under current law—with a total effect during that decade in a broad range around one-half percent of GDP.

That translates into dollars of $1.38 trillion. One-half percent of GDP in the second decade is $1.3 trillion of deficit reduction—not million, not billion; trillion—$1.3 trillion dollars of deficit reduction, according to the Congressional Budget Office.

Anybody who does not want additional deficit reduction ought to vote no. Those who want to reduce the burgeoning deficit and debt ought to vote aye.

This health care reform bill does not represent the end of the story. It is a beginning. But it is an important beginning, one that reduces the deficit and reduces the debt—not according to Democrats, not according to Republicans, but according to the non-partisan Congressional Budget Office, which has the responsibility of giving us objective analysis. That is their job. They do it well.

This bill, combined with the bill signed earlier today by the President, reduces the deficit by $1.3 trillion. In addition, it has these critically important insurance and delivery system reforms that every health care economist who came before us said would, over time, make a meaningful difference in reducing health care costs for American consumers.

How much time do I have remaining?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator has 3 minutes remaining.

Mr. CONRAD. I would like to end by talking about a matter that has been brought up by some on the other side, the so-called frontier amendment. The frontier amendment was offered openly here on the floor of the Senate by my colleague, Senator DORGAN. Everybody had a chance to review that amendment. It does not affect one State; it affects five States. Some of the States are represented by just Republican Senators. In fact, two of the States are represented just by Republican Senators. One of the States is represented by one Democrat and one Republican, the other two by two Democrats. This is certainly not a partisan amendment.

Why was it offered by my colleague, Senator DORGAN? It was offered because these five States are at the bottom in Medicare reimbursement and have been for many years. They are the most rural States in the Nation. The way the formula works, those States have been penalized.

Let me just say that in my State, to treat the exact same illness, the hospitals in my State get one-third to one-half as much as the more populous States in the country to treat the exact same illness.

When we go to get technology, we don't get a rural discount. In fact, we pay more because we are buying in smaller order quantities. When we go to attract a doctor or nurse, they don't say to us: Because you get one-third or one-half as much in Medicare reimbursement, we will only charge you one-third to one-half as much to come to your State or to stay in your State. That isn't what happens.

I have had the major hospital administrators in my State say: Unless health care reform fixes this, we are going to begin to have to lay off people and to begin to reduce services, and reduce them dramatically, because we can no longer survive getting reimbursement for the majority of our patients because, remember, the majority of the patients in these rural hospitals are Medicare-eligible patients. They are getting one-third to one-half as much as the more populous States, the hospitals in the more populous States, to treat the exact same illnesses.

That is not fair. That is fundamentally an issue for health care reform. That is why this amendment is included, and that is why it deserves to be retained.

I thank the chairman of the Finance Committee for his extraordinary effort. I am in my 24th year here. I have never seen a Member put in the kind of concentrated and focused effort as the chairman of the Finance Committee did on this bill—hundreds of hours of his personal time over a year and a half to get a good package, a responsible package.

I also thank CHRIS DODD, chairman of the HELP Committee, for his exceptional efforts; and certainly our leader, HARRY REID, for bringing the two together in a way that enjoyed the unanimous support of the Members on our side of the aisle. That is a remarkable accomplishment.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. UDALL of Colorado). The Senator from Montana.

Mr. BAUCUS. Mr. President, speaking on the bill, I thank my friend from North Dakota for his kind statement. Knowing all the hours and days and weeks, months that we spent on this bill, I thank him because my good friend has been there for most of those hours and weeks and months spent on this bill. I thank him very much for that observation, as well as Senators HARKIN and DODD and the ranking members, too, in many respects.

I yield 5 minutes to the Senator from Louisiana from the time under our control on the bill.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Louisiana.

Ms. LANDRIEU. I thank the chairman and add my compliments to him for his extraordinary leadership over the last several months in managing this very important piece of legislation through the process, a major piece of legislation that garnered 60 votes on the floor of the Senate.

The Chair knows because he has worked on many pieces of legislation, even in his short time in the Senate, but his longer time in the House, how difficult that is, particularly on an issue such as this that has eluded our country time and time again. Even though great attempts were made by extraordinary Presidents and wonderful Congresses in the past, this victory has eluded them. But we are close to capturing it now.

I thank the chairman of the Finance Committee. He probably spent more time, except maybe for HARRY REID himself, on ushering us to this point. I was in many of those meetings, and his patience was inspirational, as was his steady hand when things got tough. I thank him, and I also thank the chairman of the Budget Committee. No one has a better command of this budget in this entire body than KENT CONRAD. He has spoken in some detail and depth about the significant cost reductions and deficit reductions that will occur because of our work.

I came down to speak specifically about the amendment just offered by the Senator from Arizona. I actually went to the desk to get a copy of it because I wanted to read it for myself. This amendment is a stunt. It doesn't deserve the time I am going to give to explain the portion of it that refers to Louisiana. The reason I say it is a stunt is because it is actually written for television or the Internet. It is not written for any serious debate. In my view, it is beneath the Senator from Arizona who at one time was a candidate for President. The reason I say it is a stunt is because the word "sweetheart" is actually written in this amendment.

Normally, the only time I see that word is when my husband sends me a dozen roses on Valentine's Day, which he does most years. But to actually draft an amendment like this that actually uses the words "sweetheart deal" is an insult to the people of our country, and I would expect more from him.

I have tried to explain this to him privately on any number of occasions. I have provided him and his staff with every document they have ever requested. I am here to say one more time, the people of Louisiana do not deserve the derision from him or from any member of the Republican team, my Republican allies, because of asking for a correction in a formula that would have been devastating to the State of Louisiana or to any State that experienced the kind of catastrophic disaster we did.

This amendment that I got on might have been unknown to Senator MCCAIN, but it was not a secret. How would I know that? Because actually I called a press conference with the Governor of Louisiana, Republican Governor, and announced it. That is why I know it wasn't a secret. We didn't have one press conference together; we had three.

As I have explained to the Senator from Arizona, just because he didn't know about it doesn't mean it was a secret. There are lots of things that happen in Washington—it is a big place; it is a big country—that he doesn't know about. This is one of them.

There were three press conferences called, and our entire delegation wrote a letter, a public letter, which I have given to every reporter who has asked for it, asking for consideration for this.

No. 3, how would I know it is not a secret? Because my legislature, which is represented by 50 percent Republican and 50 percent Democrat, unanimously passed it in a public forum. So the people of Louisiana, whom I represent, believe me, are sick and tired of hearing their name dragged through the mud. You want to drag a name through the mud, drag mine. But leave the people I represent out of it.

When the health care debate came forward and we recognized, at the Governor's request—I ask for a minute more.

Mr. BAUCUS. Off the bill.

Ms. LANDRIEU. When the health care debate started, our Governor recognized that without this change, the State of Louisiana would lose somewhere about $450 million because, under the formula that was calculated, which is done publicly, the Federal Government declared that the Louisiana per capita income had increased 40 percent. It has never happened in the history of the United States. No State in no year in no decade—even with the gold rush, even with discovering oil, even with the greatest inventions of the world—no State's income has ever gone up 40 percent. And ours did not. The people I represent are not richer because of Katrina; we are poorer.

I will not back up a minute to ask for help for them. All I have asked in this bill, and we have gotten, despite the effort on the other side to undo it, and we will not undo it—all we are asking for is to let us pay the same Medicaid match that we have paid for the last 10 years, as long as I know. Louisiana pays 30 cents; the Federal Government pays 70. Our people are covered.

I ask for 30 more seconds, and I promise I will end here. We are not asking for special treatment. We are asking just to pay the same amount of Medicaid as we have paid for the last 10 years. It was not done secretly. It was not done behind closed doors. It was not done to buy my vote. My vote was given to this bill because this bill deserves it, because it is a very good piece of legislation.

I told the leader I would vote for it whether this was in it or not. I am tired, but I am not going to sit down and not defend the people of my State.

The other Members can speak about what they wanted. This is not a sweetheart deal. It is a stunt from a Senator I would expect more from.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Montana.

Mr. BAUCUS. Mr. President, I have very little time left, perhaps maybe a minute or two. I will use it. But I want to speak more on this subject at a later time. I might also inform my colleagues that the next half hour, which is allocated to the Republican side, will expire at around roughly 6:40. At that time, we will try to work out an agreement where we trade, both sides, half hour per side.

I alert colleagues, if they wish to speak on this reconciliation bill, in about 30 minutes we will try to set up an arrangement for colleagues to speak.

How much time do I have remaining?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator has 55 seconds.

Mr. BAUCUS. I think it more prudent not to use those 55 seconds but to keep it. I will let the Senator from New Hampshire allocate time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Idaho.

Mr. CRAPO. Mr. President, I would like to respond to a couple comments just made and then at the first available option, I will file a motion to recommit the bill. Before I get into a discussion of this motion, I would like to respond to the argument that is consistently made that the health care legislation that was signed by the President today and is supplemented by this reconciliation bill is going to actually result in deficit reduction.

What we need to understand is that among the many other pieces of this bill, ultimately it will result in growing the Federal Government by about $2.6 trillion over the next 10 years. This chart shows graphically or pictorially what will happen.

You will notice I have had to mark out the numbers there and change the 2.5 to 2.6. That is because under the original bill it was 2.5. Now with the bill before us today it is going up, not down, to $2.6 trillion of new spending.

There are only a few ways you can claim that is going to result in a reduction of our deficit. Nobody denies it is going to result in a massive increase in the size of the Federal Government, regardless of the other portions of this bill.

How does a $2.6 trillion increase in spending result in deficit reduction? First, because there are massive new taxes in this bill that go along with this increase in spending that are offset against it. Secondly, because there are massive cuts in Medicare, over $500 billion, $610 billion of new taxes, $529 billion of new Medicare cuts, which results in about a $1 trillion offset, about $1.1 trillion of offset. How do you get to the rest of the offset to claim that this bill is deficit neutral or reduces the deficit?

That is what I call the gimmicks. For example, $29 billion of Social Security revenue is raided from the Social Security trust fund and allocated to this bill. The CLASS Act, which has been called a Ponzi scheme by Members of the other side of the aisle, is adding another $70 billion of revenue. The Medicare cuts are actually counted twice because they are not used to sustain the Medicare system. They are used to finance a brandnew entitlement system in this bill.

When you sort through it all, if you stop the gimmicks, and if you do the math with the gimmicks taken out, we don't have deficit reduction. We actually have a deficit increase, about $619 billion of increased deficit under this bill.

I think we need to get the facts all out in front of us and discuss them. But I want to talk specifically for just a moment now about the motion I am going to make. The motion I am going to make is the same motion I made when we debated the main health care bill last December. It is a motion that simply helps us make sure this bill complies with the President's promise.

What did the President promise? The President has said multiple times—and here is one of his quotes:

I can make a firm pledge . . . no family making less than $250,000 will see their taxes increase—not your income taxes, not your payroll taxes, not your capital gains taxes, not any of your taxes . . . you will not see any of your taxes increase one single dime.

That was the President's pledge.

When I brought this motion—when we debated the original health care bill that was signed into law by the President today—it was attacked and actually defeated on the floor on the grounds that to do so, to adopt my motion, would result in killing the bill. It would destroy the bill. All my motion did was say, let's temporarily send this bill back to the committee, have them strip out all of the taxes that hit the middle class—families making less than $250,000—and bring the bill right back to the floor. I was told that would kill the bill, that would gut the bill.

Well, first of all, if that was going to gut the bill, then that is a concession that the bill is full of taxes on families who make less than $250,000. As a matter of fact, that is true. Again, the bill before this reconciliation bill was analyzed by the Joint Committee on Taxation, and their conclusion—not mine—was that by 2019 at least 73 million American households earning below $200,000 will be paying more taxes because of the taxes imposed by this bill—that $610 billion of taxes that is used to help claim that this bill does not increase the deficit.

Well, what happened last time when we debated it? It was attacked because it would gut the bill if we took these taxes out of it, and my motion was defeated.

There was another argument made against the motion at that time; that is, the bill we were debating was not actually a tax increase, it was a tax cut. The way that argument went was: We have more tax cuts in the bill than we have tax increases. The only way that argument could be made is by saying the subsidies that are provided to low-income individuals in our country are tax cuts, even though they do not pay any taxes. Yet, all of the subsidies in the new entitlement program were counted as tax cuts, and they were offset against the true tax increases that are going to be paid by the middle class in America; and the argument was made it was a tax cut.

Well, first of all, it is not a valid argument. There are $610 billion of new taxes in this bill. Secondly, I do not think that is what President Obama was talking about. He did not say: I will not raise your taxes more for some people than I will cut them for someone else. He was saying he would not raise taxes, and that this bill would not be allowed to be used as a vehicle to do so.

Let's get back to the main argument that was made against my motion before; that is, it would gut the bill. Well, that cannot be true anymore. The bill was signed into law by the President today, so it is law today. And now I think it is time for this Congress to simply fix the problem. All we have to do with my motion—when I am allowed to have an opportunity to propose it—is to commit this bill to the committee and have the committee take out all the taxes that apply to individuals who make less than $200,000 and families who make less than $250,000.

It is very straightforward. You can argue that there are not such taxes in the bill, and if there are not, then my motion will not do a thing to the bill. But the reality is, the vast majority of the taxes in this bill are going to be paid by the middle class. By the Joint Tax Committee's analysis, 73 million households in America are going to be paying these taxes, and all this motion does is say let's get back to the President's pledge and do what the President said. Let's take out of the bill the taxes that are going to be slamming the middle class in America as this bill becomes law.

With that, Mr. President, I would be glad to yield to any of my colleagues here on the floor who would like to make comments on this issue. Senator RISCH, my colleague from Idaho.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Idaho.

Mr. RISCH. Thank you, Mr. President.

I rise in support of my distinguished colleague from Idaho. He has brought to the floor the language that the President of the United States gave to the American people in order to convince them to vote for him for President of the United States. It was a serious promise. It was a serious commitment. He said: I will not increase the taxes on individuals making less than $200,000 a year or families making less than $250,000 a year. My good friend from Idaho points out there are numerous provisions in this bill that break that promise.

I am disappointed the President has done this. I am disappointed he will not take responsibility for it. I am disappointed he did not point it out when he signed the bill. He talked only about the good things it did. The President should—he really should—keep the commitment he made to the American people. If we are going to have a country where people have faith in their government, particularly in its Chief Executive, they have to believe what he said.

My good friend from Idaho has indicated he is going to bring a motion to commit the bill to get all of these out of there. I want to talk about one that is very focused. I am only going to talk about one of these taxes the President of the United States is raising on people who make less than $200,000 a year. The reason I bring this one to the floor is this is a direct assault on some of the most vulnerable people in this country.

This particular increase in taxes is on 14.7 million people who earn less than $200,000 a year and who have had substantial medical bills during the year. How this bill does it, it simply changes the percentage which you can deduct on your income tax return if you incur medical expenses. It is not a slight amount. It is $15 billion that this tax takes from some of the most vulnerable people in America.

The President of the United States promised he would not raise taxes on people who made less than $200,000 a year. He made that promise, and this provision in the bill—in the bill that has been signed into law by the President—breaks that promise, and it breaks the promise not just on people who make $200,000 or less a year, but it breaks the promise as to the most vulnerable people in America.

The provision in this bill the President signed into law this morning affects 14.7 million people. Today, 14.8 million people take this deduction. They are people who have been injured, people who have been sick, people who suffer from diseases, and they take this deduction because the Congress of the United States has deemed it appropriate that when you expend this kind of money, and you are in this vulnerable a position, you should be entitled to deduct it from your taxes. This bill changes that.

When the President of the United States put the pen to that bill this morning, it was in direct violation of his pledge not to increase taxes on people who make less than $200,000 a year.

So what do we have here? We have a bill that is reaching into the pockets of 14.7 million Americans and taking directly out of their pocket $15 billion, in direct contravention of the promise the President of the United States made to the American people when he stood up and asked them to elect him. Not only does it do that, it hurts the most vulnerable people in America.

My fellow Senators, I urge that you vote for this motion when it comes up for a vote. And it will come up for a vote. It will help constituents in every single State in America. It will put that $15 billion back in the pockets of some of the most vulnerable people in America. It will restore the promise the President of the United States made to these 14.7 million people—many of whom voted for the President, and voted for the President believing he would take care of them and see that their taxes did not increase. We can help the President keep his promise that he broke this morning when he signed that bill.

I yield to my good friend, Senator BROWNBACK.

Mr. BROWNBACK. I thank the Senator.

I rise to support my colleague from Idaho on this motion. I think this makes sense. The Senator from Idaho is helping the President fulfill a campaign promise. It made sense to everybody across the country. I have looked at it, and I do not think we should raise taxes, period. I think it is taking money out of the economy. But he said: I want to raise some taxes on people making over $200,000. Everybody heard it and thought: OK, that is not me, so I will vote for that. I like that idea.

I want to take a particularly narrow piece of this that is in the bill that we have wrestled with in this body for some period of time, and that is the issue of the alternative minimum tax. That was passed years ago. It was supposed to be a tax on wealthy people who were avoiding paying income tax. So we put it in place and said: Well, people who are wealthy should not be able to plan their way out of paying income tax, so we are going to put this alternative minimum tax in, and it is going to be on a set amount of money.

It was not indexed for inflation over time. So now, 10 years later, all of a sudden, there are a number of people—because of inflation happening over a period of time—who get brought in under the alternative minimum tax, to where we then fight about it in this body as to how we are going to do the AMT fix. That is an annual debate we have here.

Well, this tax on Medicare plans, or on the health care reform plans, where, OK, it is not supposed to tax people who make below $200,000—which I agree with, even though there are pieces in here that do—with inflation, over a period of time, you are going to see a large number of people, in 2009 dollars, making $200,000 or below who get taxed because of inflation and its value. We are looking at a situation in the country now, with the monetary policy—lots of money out in the money supply, with the Federal Government's excessive spending, huge amounts: $1.5 trillion in deficit spending—that the likelihood of inflation coming along is pretty high. Maybe it does not come this year, but it does next year.

We normally run somewhere around a 3-percent inflation rate anyway. You get that stoking up. Here is a chart the Joint Economic Committee staff has done about what happens over a period of time when you do not index for inflation, and this bill is not indexed for inflation.

So all of a sudden you end up having the middle class, and even people currently determined as poor, actually paying the wealthy tax, and it is because of the lack of indexing for inflation over time. So you end up over a period of time having people currently classified as poor paying a wealthy tax—unless you adopt something such as the Crapo motion that says if you are making below this figure, you do not get taxed, you are not going to get taxed.

This actually ends up being pretty substantial and hitting a large number of people over time, to the point where you are going to have a large group—again, this is from the Joint Economic Committee: For every low to middle-income family with a tax cut, three low to middle-income families have a tax increase.

The President said: That is not what I am going to do. I am not going to raise taxes on people who are low or middle income. Unless you adopt the Crapo motion, you are going to have this taking place. So I think this makes sense overall to fix the bill. It certainly does not kill the bill. The bill is signed into law, as Senator CRAPO pointed out. You cannot kill the bill now. I think it should be repealed, but I certainly think we should not be having people taxed who are making below $200,000. We should not be having them taxed now. We should not be having them taxed into the future, even though that is actually now built into the bill and part of its pay-for provision.

But let's be sincere with the American public. Let's fulfill this piece. Unless you adopt the Crapo motion, we are not going to be able to guarantee that to the American public.

I think this is a very commonsense amendment. I think this is one that helps deal with the problems in the underlying bill. I think it is one that is honest with the American public, and it is certainly one I hope we can pass.

I would ask my good friend from Idaho to address this issue from, as you put this forward, has the administration said: Yes, we agree with you because this is what we said on the campaign trail and this only fulfills the promise. Maybe they have offered you an Executive order, that you could get this by Executive order.

Mr. CRAPO. Well, I would say to my colleague from Kansas that I have not had any direct response from the White House, although when I made these speeches and when I made the motion when we debated the original bill, there were some responses on the Web that indicated that, in fact, I was not correct in my facts. The argument was made at that time that, in fact, the bill we were debating did not have—was not a tax increase bill, it was a tax cut bill. You probably heard my response to that argument earlier.

The way the defenders of this bill claim it is a tax cut is, they take all the subsidies that are being provided for this new entitlement that is created in the bill, administer those through the IRS, and then claim that those are tax cuts and that they outweigh the tax increases that are included in the bill and that, therefore, the bill is a net tax cut. As I said earlier, first of all, the President was not talking in net terms. He didn't say: We will raise taxes for this group more than we will cut taxes for this group.

Leaving that aside, the fact is, I don't think most Americans fall for that. Most Americans don't think that the subsidy which is scored as spending is a tax cut.

Mr. BAUCUS addressed the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Montana.

Mr. BAUCUS. Might I ask my friend if he wishes to have the pending amendment set aside so his motion can be made in order?

MOTION TO COMMIT

Mr. CRAPO. Mr. President, if that would be allowed, I ask unanimous consent to set aside the pending amendment to offer a motion to commit with instructions that I have here and which I submit to the desk.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. BAUCUS. Mr. President, I have no objection. I ask unanimous consent that if the time is consumed, the motion be set aside at that point.

Mr. GREGG. Reserving the right to object, I do not believe any time has been consumed on this motion.

Mr. BAUCUS. I think that is correct. When the time is consumed.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Without objection, it is so ordered.

The clerk will report the motion.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from Idaho [Mr. CRAPO] moves to commit the bill H.R. 4872, to the Committee on Finance with instructions to report the same back to the Senate within 3 days with changes that provide that the combined effect of this Act, and the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, shall not result in an increase in Federal tax liability for any individual with adjusted gross income of less than $200,000 or any married couple with adjusted gross income of less than $250,000.

Mr. CRAPO. Mr. President, could I ask how much time remains on our side?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There is 1 hour, equally divided, on the motion.

Mr. GREGG. Mr. President, I believe we were functioning under an agreement where the Republican side had one-half hour and the Democratic side had one-half hour. How much time is available under that agreement to our side?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There is 9 minutes remaining.

Mr. GREGG. I thank the Chair.

Mr. CRAPO. Mr. President, I would ask, at this time, if my colleague from Tennessee or any of our other colleagues have anything further to say at this point on the motion.

Mr. BROWNBACK. Mr. President, I do. If we are going to grow the economy of the United States, we need to provide some sort of tax certainty. We have learned over our history that when we deal with taxes, people don't react if they think things are up in the air—if they look at it and they say: I don't know, my taxes may go up or down, I will sit on the sideline.

One of the things the Crapo amendment does that provides some certainty to it is to say: OK, if you are in this category, this is what your taxes are going to be. It isn't going to go up on you. When people can provide a level of certainty on tax policy, typically, then people are more willing to act. Because they say: Yes, maybe I will go out and I can invest and I will do this as a small business. This will help investment. We have a climate right now where people are not willing to invest because they don't know what the rules are. They don't know what their tax rates are going to be, so they are sitting back. This will help provide that level of certainty. So I hope we will do this as a way to help the economy, as a way to fulfill the President's promise, as a way to help fix the bill and do what the President said he wanted to see done and to help grow the economy and give some certainty on our tax policy.

With that, I yield back to my colleague from Idaho.

Mr. CRAPO. Mr. President, I thank the Senator from Kansas. I wish to go back and summarize now as we conclude, unless the Senator from New Hampshire has any comments to make at this point.

Mr. GREGG. I wish to congratulate the Senator from Idaho for bringing this forward because there has been a lot of representation as to what this bill does, and much of it has been, regrettably, inaccurate. Certainly, one of the most inaccurate representations is that people over $250,000 are the only people who are going to pay for this.

The Senator from Idaho is absolutely right. This is going to be paid for by people who have incomes well under $200,000. There is going to be a significant tax increase for a lot of Americans. Equally important, premiums are going to go up for a lot of Americans, which is the equivalent of a tax increase.

I can't understand how anybody could vote against his motion, which essentially says: Let's hold the administration to its language, which says if you have income under $200,000 for an individual and $250,000 as a couple, you will not be required to pay taxes under this bill.

They have represented that is their position. They should have no problem at all with supporting the Senator's motion, and it makes it legally binding. I congratulate the Senator for his motion.

Mr. President, how much time is remaining on our side?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There is 7 minutes remaining.

Mr. GREGG. Mr. President, I believe the way we are proceeding is we proceed on our side.

Mr. BAUCUS. Yes.

Mr. CRAPO. Mr. President, I would conclude in the last 7 minutes. If any of my colleagues wish to jump in, please let me know.

I wish to go back to where we started. As I indicated, when I brought this very same motion to commit during the debate on the health care legislation in December in the Senate, the response was not that these taxes aren't in the bill but that to take these taxes out of the bill would kill the bill. Why would those taxes being taken out of the bill kill the bill? Because it would expose the cost of the bill, because the argument that the bill is not a deficit—that it actually reduces the deficit—would evaporate if you take out the massive taxes that are included in the bill. That is why it was considered to be such a dangerous amendment then.

I personally believe that for us to adopt legislation the President has signed into law that grows the Federal Government by $2.6 trillion, dramatically increases the role and control of the Federal Government over our health care economy, cuts Medicare by $500-plus billion, and then engages in gimmicks of trying to adjust the numbers in the budget in order to make it appear that there is no deficit increase is the wrong way to approach this legislation, regardless of one's opinion of the merits otherwise of the substance of the bill.

The bottom line is, this is a massive growth of the Federal Government, massive increase in control by the Federal Government, financed by hundreds and hundreds of billions of dollars of taxes that are going to be paid by the middle class in America as defined by the President; those who make less than $250,000 as a family or $200,000 as an individual. Again, all this motion would do is to say: Let's take out those taxes. If they don't exist, then it would not do anything to the bill. If they do exist—and, as I said, they do—then they would be taken out of the bill and we would not be putting the massive cost of this phenomenally large growth of the Federal Government on the backs of the middle class in America. Again, the argument that was made in December cannot fly today because today the bill is law. It cannot be argued that to support this motion would kill the bill.

The bill has passed the Senate, passed the House, and has been signed into law by the President. What we need to do now is to make sure the bill does not violate the President's pledge that nobody in America will see their taxes go up.

I wish to again read that pledge: The President's own words were:

I can make a firm pledge . . . No family making less than $50,000 will see their taxes increase . . . Not your income taxes, not your payroll taxes, not your capital gains taxes, not any of your taxes . . . You will not see any of your taxes increase one single dime.

Well, that is simply not the case, and it is not the case to the tune of hundreds and hundreds and hundreds of billions of dollars that this class of people—the middle class as defined by the President—are going to be called upon to pay.

That is only during the first 10 years of this bill. If you start looking further out, as we get into the second 10 years of this bill, the amount of taxes the American people will pay rises exponentially into the trillions and trillions of dollars as you get further out. Yet we are expecting them to carry the burden of this bill, when they were promised—and I am sure many voted in the last election on the basis of this—they would not see their taxes go up.

Again, it is a very simple motion. The motion simply says: Let's take the bill back to committee and take out any of the taxes that apply to individuals making less than $200,000 and families making less than $250,000. I urge all my colleagues to support this motion.

If there is any time left for any of my other colleagues who wish to make a statement—

Mr. RISCH. Mr. President, how much time does the minority have?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There is 1 minute remaining.

Mr. RISCH. Very briefly, I wish to speak about one of these tax increases for 73 million people. This morning when the President signed the bill, he bragged about how they were going to give subsidies to 13 million people so they can buy insurance. He is absolutely right. But as frequently happens, we didn't get the whole story. The whole story is there are 163 million Americans who are not going to get that subsidy and whose taxes are going to go up. How many of those make under $200,000 a year? There are 73 million Americans who make under $200,000, from that little sleight of hand, who will see a tax increase.

Thank you.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Montana.

Mr. BAUCUS. Mr. President, in the spirit of back and forth, I ask unanimous consent that the next hour be equally divided, one-half hour on each side, and the first half hour to be allocated to the majority side and the next half hour to the Republican side.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. BAUCUS. Mr. President, I yield myself 3 minutes to speak on the motion.

I wish to make clear that this bill reduces taxes in the amount of about $460 billion for Americans who will get tax credits for buying health insurance. That is a huge, big tax reduction: about $460 billion in tax credits to people buying insurance. I don't think I have heard much about that from the other side of the aisle, but it is a fact.

In addition, small business gets very large tax credits for offering health insurance—large, very large incentives. It is up to 35 percent, if I recall correctly, the first couple years, and then it moves up to a 50-percent tax credit for the employers' half of the health insurance that the employer will be providing. Those are huge, big tax cuts.

One other point that I think is very important to make. It is true, in certain cases, taxes will go up for some Americans who may be making less than $200,000. But why? Because they have more money in their pocket. When you earn more money, your taxes go up, and you can earn more money because health insurance is going to be less expensive. Companies are going to compensate you with health insurance that is less expensive and reward you with more wages. That is what CBO says. Don't take my word for it. That is what the Congressional Budget Office says. So when wages go up, guess what. Sometimes taxes go up when wages go up. On a net basis, Americans are going to be better off. They are going to be wealthier. Their health insurance is going to be less expensive. For those, we are finding that because health insurance is less expensive, their employers want to compensate the employees, so they compensate them with higher wages, and higher wages will mean some increase in income taxes. So I wish to be very clear, that is what is happening.

Also, I wish to make a third point, basically that gets lost esoterically, but the reconciliation bill lowers the high-premium excise tax in the underlying bill. By doing so, that means those wages will not increase as much as they otherwise might but, rather, it is offset with an increase under an income but only for Americans earning above $200,000 individually and families above $250,000. I wish to make it clear this is a big tax cut for Americans.

CBO has also said—not directly on point—but CBO also said there will be a big reduction in deficits and debts this decade and the next decade.

The other side likes to make it sound as if it is a big tax increase. It is not. It is a tax cut. It is a tax increase for some Americans, but those Americans in the main earn more than $200,000.

I yield 15 minutes to the Senator from Vermont from the time on the bill.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Vermont.

Mr. LEAHY. Mr. President, this is the dawn of a new day of hope for tens of millions of Americans who have fallen through the cracks—or who worry with good reason that they may fall through the cracks—of our broken health insurance system.

The signing into law of comprehensive health insurance reform by President Barack Obama is a defining moment in our history, ranking with the creation of Social Security and Medicare.

Reforming the health insurance system has been talked about for decades. This has been an arduous process, but it has proven that change is possible, even with the pitched opposition of entrenched and powerful special interests. America again has risen to meet one of its foremost challenges and to renew its promises.

America has some of the best health care in the world, if you can afford it. Millions of families in Vermont and across the Nation worry that they are just one paycheck away from medical and financial disaster. This is a new dawn for them.

Wherever I travel in Vermont, I am often stopped in the grocery store, at church, on the street or at the gas station to listen to personal, wrenching stories, like the woman from Winhall who needs to spend $500 a month on prescriptions but who would be uninsured if not for her husband's job. She is working two jobs just to make ends meet and to afford their health care costs. Or the small business owner who works 6 and 7 days a week but still can't afford the blood tests her doctor recommended. If she becomes sick she will lose her business and her home. Or the man from central Vermont who told me of his sister-in-law who lost parts of both her feet because she did not have health insurance. When she needed medical attention, she waited, hoping things would get better. By the time her family was able to step in, she had to be rushed to the emergency room for amputations. This is a new dawn for them.

I grew up in my family's small business in Montpelier. I know that business owners want to attract and keep good workers and many want to be able to offer health insurance options. Spiraling insurance costs are rapidly taking that option away. Some of the most immediate and far-reaching reforms in this new law are the tax credits that will help small businesses continue to offer insurance to their employees. This is a new dawn for small business owners and for those who are self-employed.

This week the Senate is already working on improvements to this legislation. These include closing the Medicare donut hole in the next several years, making coverage more affordable, and creating a more equitable distribution of Medicaid reimbursements to States like Vermont that have acted early on reform.

Health insurance reform has prevailed through the grueling gauntlet of obstructionism erected by defenders of the status quo. One remaining gauntlet remains in the Senate, where partisan opposition has prompted an effort to derail these further improvements to this law—improvements that many of these opponents say they support. Opponents of reform already have wasted much of the public's time over the last year by provoking arguments over their distortions about what health reform really means. Last summer the American people endured myths about "death panels" and other falsehoods about what reform would mean for families across the country.

It is no wonder that while Americans vastly support the individual components of these bills they remain skeptical when asked about the hazy concept of "comprehensive reform."

The building blocks of health reform are more popular than the sum of the plan's parts. Polls show public unease about the hazy concept of “comprehensive health reform” but solid support for what is in the plan.

This paradox recently was put to a real life test, with a vote on a reform I proposed to repeal health insurance companies’ antiquated exemption from the antitrust laws. These are the pro-competition rules that apply to virtually all other businesses, to help promote vibrant markets and consumer choice. Competition and choice help lower costs, expand access and improve quality.

I launched this effort last fall, built a hearing record to examine its merits and worked to build bipartisan support. House leaders late last year added it to their plan. And last month it became the first stand-alone part of the health reform package to pass on its own, in a strong bipartisan vote of 406 to 19. To me this is the latest proof that, appearances aside, there is much common ground in the health reform plan—more than partisan opponents or the insurance industry would have the public believe.

Insurance companies, of course, will continue to lobby like crazy to keep from being covered by the antitrust laws. No surprise there. The rules they have operated under have been stacked in their favor.

Some have argued that doing nothing is the “safe,” option, but it is anything but safe. Health policy experts and economists across the political spectrum agree that the rapidly increases in health costs will hurt everyone—costing us more, driving up Medicare’s budget, cutting back coverage, and preventing businesses from being able to afford offering insurance to their workers. Without reform, in the next decade half of all nonelderly adults at some point will find themselves without coverage. If we do nothing, the same insurance coverage a family had in 2008 will nearly double to $24,291 by 2016, soaking up a whopping 45 percent of median family incomes.

We have seen all too well what would have happened if we had not acted to pass comprehensive reform. Just last month, insurance companies planned a series of premium hikes as large as 39 percent in one State. Last year the five largest for-profit insurance companies booked $12.2 billion in profits, and they raised the average family premium three times faster than wages. One company alone, WellPoint, is hiking rates by double digits in 11 States, while their profits are up 91 percent. Meanwhile, even with soaring profits, insurers continue to drop sick people from their rolls, spend less on care, and avoid competition.

Vermont, a State that has led the way on many health insurance reforms, is not immune from the rising costs of health insurance. On Town Meeting Day a few weeks ago in Vermont, town officials in Hartford reported that the community’s health insurance rates last year jumped by a third, forcing them to lay off town workers.

Despite dire warnings of “government takeovers” and other charged rhetoric, this bill in reality is a solidly American solution to our health insurance crisis. The new law largely builds upon our current system and reforms parts that are not working well, while maintaining much of what Americans like.

Now that this bill is law, annual caps on coverage are eliminated. Insurance companies are now barred from dropping people from their plans, even if they have paid their premiums, simply because they have gotten sick. Denying children health insurance coverage because of preexisting conditions is now illegal, and parents are now allowed to keep their children on their health insurance policy until a child’s 26th birthday. And now that comprehensive reform has become law, a down payment has been made toward completely closing the so-called donut hole for seniors on Medicare, by providing a $250 rebate for those in the Medicare Part D coverage gap.

In addition to the immediate improvements to our health insurance system, over time this bill will make further improvements and also will eventually insure 95 percent of our population, while making a substantial investment in our economic vitality in the years ahead. In addition to ending the discriminatory insurance company practices of denying coverage because of preexisting conditions and canceling coverage when beneficiaries get sick, the new law will lower costs for small businesses and will help prevent medical bankruptcies by removing any arbitrary limit on annual or lifetime “caps” on medical expenses. This bill also is the largest deficit reduction measure many in Congress have ever cast votes on. The Congressional Budget Office estimates that comprehensive reform will reduce the federal deficit by $143 billion through 2019, and by more than $1 trillion in the decades to come.

These comprehensive reforms also will test ways to reduce health care costs while improving quality. The bill contains pilot initiatives for efforts like Vermont’s Blueprint for Health, under which patient care is coordinated to reduce unnecessary hospital visits and to keep patients healthy. Other programs will test various ways to pay doctors and hospitals that could be more efficient than the current fee-for-service structure. A greater emphasis on prevention—long championed by the late Senator Edward Kennedy and Senator TOM HARKIN on the Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions Committee—will reduce preventable deaths and hospitalizations.

I am also proud that the bill explicitly prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, disability or age in any health program or activity receiving Federal funds. These protections were necessary to remedy the shameful history of invidious discrimination and the stark disparities in outcomes in our health care system based on traditionally protected factors such as race and gender. The nondiscrimination provision makes clear that the enforcement mechanisms from other statutes prohibiting discrimination in federally funded programs, such as title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, apply with equal force to federally funded health programs and activities. I worked closely with Majority Leader REID to include these protections in the Senate bill to ensure that all Americans are able to reap the benefits of health insurance reform equally, without discrimination.

The bill the President signed into law and that I supported is not without its problems. But it succeeds in adhering to the core principles I sought at the beginning of this debate. It gives Americans affordable access to health care coverage, it reduces costs for families, businesses and government, and it protects consumers’ ability to choose doctors, hospitals and insurance plans. Many other substantial social policy reforms such as Medicare and Social Security were improved through actual experience after they were first enacted. For instance, Social Security as passed did not contain disability insurance—a significant oversight, which was rightly remedied later. While this plan might not make every reform we think necessary, we have the ability to modify and improve it in the months and years ahead.

In fact, the reconciliation bill now before the Senate includes a series of improvements to comprehensive reform that I strongly support. The bill will fully close the prescription donut hole that forces thousands of seniors across the country and in Vermont to pay out of pocket for necessary prescriptions until their expenditures reach a catastrophic level. Immediately, Medicare beneficiaries who fall within the hole will receive a $250 rebate in 2010. By 2020 the donut hole will be closed completely, and beneficiaries will receive 75 percent discounts on brandname and generic drugs. The reconciliation package eases the cost-sharing for individuals purchasing insurance on the exchange, and it offers more generous tax credits for those with the lowest incomes who still have trouble affording health insurance. The largest employers will be fined more heavily for the failure to offer insurance to their workers.

The reconciliation package furthers the strong antifraud provisions Senator KAUFMAN and I worked to incorporate into the Senate-passed bill. Among other steps, it increases our investment in fighting health care fraud by providing $250 million over the next decade to investigate and prosecute the people who drain our health care system of billions of dollars each year, driving up costs and risking patient lives. It also streamlines procedures to review Medicare payments before they are made to ensure that we identify and stop fraud as quickly as possible. These antifraud initiatives build on the impressive steps the Obama administration has already taken to improve health care fraud prevention and enforcement, and on the real progress represented by the antifraud provisions adopted by the Finance and HELP Committees. I was pleased to be able to contribute to all of these efforts.

Like many sweeping reforms of our history, this legislation will likely be improved in the coming years as these reforms are implemented. For example, I will continue to push for a public option and for repeal of the health insurance industry's antitrust exemption, in order to promote competition, choice and lower prices.

The people of Vermont have given me the honor of representing them in the Senate for 35 years. I have joined in many debates that were contentious, yet ultimately productive. As we leaf through the pages of history, we can read of the many times when Congress has shown its remarkable ability to rise up to reflect the conscience of the Nation.

As many here have noted, our dear friend Senator Ted Kennedy would have been remarkably proud of the President and this Congress for passing reform that was unachievable for so many before us. Ted reminded all of us in a letter written to President Obama what the stakes are in this debate. He wrote, "What we face is above all a moral issue; that at stake are not just the details of policy, but fundamental principles of social justice and the character of our country."

When the dust settles and emotions are calmed, I believe this effort will be viewed as a credit to this good and great Nation and its people. This President and this Congress have responded to a pressing national issue and have proven once again our ability rise above partisanship and act with the purpose of advancing a pressing national interest.

I am proud of this latest proof that change is possible in this great country when a pressing national interest is at stake. And I am proud to have had the honor that Vermonters have given me to represent and advance their interests in this effort.

This really is a new day of hope for tens of millions of Americans who have fallen through the cracks or who worry they may fall through the cracks of our broken health insurance system.

When President Barack Obama signed the comprehensive health insurance reform bill this morning, I could not help but think as I sat there that this ranks with the creation of Social Security and Medicare. We have talked about reforming health insurance for decades, but it has not been done. Of course, it has been an arduous process, but it has proven that change is possible even when you have had the pitched opposition of entrenched and powerful and, I might say, very wealthy special interests. America rose to meet one of its foremost challenges and to renew its promises.

America has some of the best health care in the world if you can afford it. Millions of families in America and in Vermont worry that they are just one paycheck away from medical and financial disaster. This is a new day for them.

I ask all those Members of Congress who fought so hard against this health care and voted against it, are they willing to give up the great health care system they have as Members of Congress, that they can buy as Members of Congress, and trade places with the millions of Americans who cannot buy the great health care system Members of Congress have? I have not heard a single one of them who voted against giving help to these millions of Americans say they would give up their own.

Whenever I travel in Vermont, whether it is at the grocery store, church, on the street, or at a gas station, I often stop to listen to personal and wrenching stories, such as the woman from Winhall, VT, who needs to spend $500 a month on prescriptions but who would be uninsured if not for her husband's job. She is working two jobs to make ends meet and to afford the health care costs, or the small business owner who works 6 and 7 days a week but she still cannot afford the blood tests her doctor recommended—if she becomes sick, she will lose her business and her home—or the man from central Vermont who told me of his sister-in-law who lost parts of both of her feet because she could not afford the simple care that would have saved her feet because she did not have health insurance. When she needed medical attention, she waited, hoping things would get better, knowing she could not afford to go to the doctor. By the time her family was able to step in, she had to be rushed to the emergency room, not for a cure but for amputations. This is America. I do not hear a single Member of Congress saying they are ready to give up their insurance they are able to buy through the Senate or the House of Representatives and trade places with this woman.

I grew up in my family's small business in Montpelier, a printing business. I know small businesses want to try to keep good workers, and many want to offer health insurance options, as my parents did, but spiraling insurance costs are taking that option away. Some of the most immediate and far-reaching reforms in this new law are tax credits that will help small businesses continue to offer insurance to their employees.

Health insurance has prevailed through the grueling gauntlet of obstructionism erected by the defenders of the status quo—worse than anything I have seen in my years in the Senate. One gauntlet remains in the Senate, where partisan opposition has prompted efforts to derail these further improvements to this law. It is no wonder that while Americans vastly support the individual components of these bills, they have been skeptical when asked about the hazy concept of comprehensive reform.

Some have argued that doing nothing is a safe option. Last month, insurance companies planned a series of premium hikes, as large as 39 percent in one State. Last year, the five largest for-profit insurance companies booked $12.2 billion in profits and they raised the average family premium three times faster than wages. One company alone, WellPoint, is hiking rates by double digits in 11 States, while their profits are up 91 percent. Meanwhile, even with soaring profits, insurers continue to drop sick people from their rolls, spend less on care, and because they have an exemption in antitrust laws they avoid competition.

Now that this bill is law, annual caps on coverage are eliminated. Insurance companies are now barred from dropping people from their plans, even if they paid their premiums, simply because, gosh, they got sick—the reason for which they bought health insurance. Denying children health insurance coverage because of preexisting conditions is illegal. Parents can keep their children on their health insurance policies until they are 26 years old.

I think of the people who worked so hard on this legislation. I see Chairman BAUCUS and Chairman DODD on the floor. We would not be here without the two of them. I think we must continue and we must be able to make this final step.

The people of Vermont have given me the honor of representing them in the Senate for 35 years. I have joined in many debates that were contentious yet ultimately productive. As we leaf through the pages of history, we can read the many times when Congress has shown its remarkable ability to rise up and reflect the conscience of the Nation. This body especially should reflect the conscience of our Nation.

As many here have noted, our dear friend Senator Ted Kennedy would have been remarkably proud of the President and this Congress for passing reform that was unachievable for so many years before. He reminded all of us in a letter written to President Obama what the stakes are in this debate. He wrote:

What we face is above all a moral issue; that at stake are not just the details of policy, but fundamental principles of social justice and the character of our country.

When emotions are calmed, I believe this effort will be viewed as a credit to this good and great Nation and its good people. The President and the Congress have responded to a pressing national issue. They have shown we can rise to the challenge before them.

I am proud to have had the honor Vermonters have given me to represent and advance their interests in this effort. I am glad to say to my fellow Vermonters: Now the day comes when you have the opportunity to have the kind of insurance we Members of Congress have. I am sorry some have voted to deny that to you. This Senator votes to give it to you.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Montana.

Mr. BAUCUS. Mr. President, I yield 15 minutes to the chairman of the Banking Committee, also the de facto chairman of the HELP Committee, the great Senator from Connecticut, who has devoted countless time and creativity in helping shape the HELP Committee version of health care reform. Along with the Finance Committee, we have the HELP Committee. Chairman DODD has been terrific.

Mr. LEAHY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that what time I did not use be yielded back to the chairman.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. DODD. Mr. President, let me first of all thank my great friend from Montana, Senator BAUCUS. We arrived in the Congress of the United States together on the same day, back about 35 years ago. We have been friends for 35 years. We arrived in the Senate at different times. He got here a little before me. We have been in this institution for 30 years. I cannot describe in the limited time I have what a difference he has made—the fact we are here debating, finally, the last piece of this legislative effort to give the Americans what they have sought for more than a century, and that is the basic right to health care.

I always found it somewhat ironic in a way that we in this country provide for those accused of criminal offenses the right to a lawyer, the right to an attorney. I believe in that. I think it is correct. But isn't it somewhat ironic that the same country that would provide you with a right to a lawyer if you are charged with a criminal defense cannot provide you with a doctor if your child is sick? There is something fundamentally wrong with that, in my view.

For the first time, we are on a track that will correct that error. Henceforth, in the years to come, they can mark the calendar date of March 23, 2010, when for the first time in American history an American President signed into law a bill that will provide Americans the opportunity to live free from the fear that they or their loved ones will be faced with a health care crisis and they will not have the capacity, without bankrupting themselves or watching a loved one lose their life or become chronically or permanently ill or sick because they could not afford it, to see a doctor.

I rise today on this very historic day to thank my friend from Montana, to thank the terrific staff of the Finance Committee, to thank the members of the Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions Committee, chaired by my great pal and friend Ted Kennedy for so many years. I was asked to take over last summer and to work through the efforts of that committee to participate and contribute to our part of this bill. On July 16 last summer, we completed our work.

I see my friend MIKE ENZI here. We worked together on issues over the years. LAMAR ALEXANDER, my friend from Tennessee, as well is part of that committee. While we did not come together on final passage of that bill, I wish to express my gratitude to them and their staffs as well for the contributions they made to this product. Even though they might not be anxious to acknowledge the contributions, they made contributions. I am grateful to them and, of course, my staff as well—Tamar Magarik Haro and Jeremy Sharp, as well, who is with me on the floor today, along with many others who did a fabulous job in providing us with support and assistance.

We heard the word "historic" with regard to this legislation. Sometimes those words are thrown around a little too lightly, in a little too cavalier fashion to describe other events. Today truly is historic. I have been here 30 years, and I cannot think of another day quite like it in the annals of our Nation to provide, at long last, the ability to have a national health care plan. For tens of millions of ordinary citizens, the passage of this bill means more than just a page in history, of course. It means real security for older Americans who rely on Medicare and still need help paying for prescriptions. It means relief for small business owners who are forced to choose between cutting off benefits and laying off the workers they need so much in their operations. It means an end, more than anything else, to the sleepless nights when fathers and mothers worry about how to pay for a cancer treatment or a child's checkup.

My colleagues know I am a late bloomer in the father business. I have a 5-year-old and an 8-year-old. I started a little late in this business of parenthood.

Two weeks ago, my little 5-year-old was pretty sick. She got a stomach virus. She was throwing up quite a bit, about every 20 minutes or so. We called our family doctor. He said I should get her up to Children's Hospital emergency room, about 7 o'clock on a Saturday night. She was terribly dehydrated—not uncommon when this happens. She spent the next 18 hours in the hospital getting hydrated.

I wanted to share with my colleagues what that emergency room was like that evening. Again, I have a health plan. All of us do—8 million Federal workers. We have pretty good coverage. I am grateful for that. I walked in, put that card on the table, and things began to move. My daughter was going to get the kind of treatment she needed.

But that room was filled with a lot of people that night, people with no health care, people showing up well beyond a point you would want to see a physician because they did not have the resources to do it. That goes on every single night and day all across our country. If anybody has doubts about it, I urge you, in the break coming up, the 2 weeks, if you have a chance, to go by late in the evening to an emergency room in a hospital in your area. You will encounter what I did a few Saturday nights ago when I took my young daughter to receive the kind of help she needed.

I kept on thinking that night that my daughter was not unique in getting a stomach virus and getting dehydrated. How many other children in this city or across America that night had parents sitting around, sleepless, wondering whether that child was going to get better, knowing they were getting more dehydrated and putting them at great risk of spiraling down, putting them at greater and greater risks, not knowing what to do, not having the resources to do it, not having that kind of health care, not having the money and insurance to pay for it, and wondering when they were going to show up in the emergency room to take care of that child. That goes on every single day in America, in the United States of America, in the 21st century.

This bill does not solve all of those problems, but the idea that we can lift the burden of fear from those families, those people who work hard—remember, a majority of all the bankruptcies last year occurred because of a health care crisis in that family, and a majority of those people who went bankrupt because of a health care crisis had health insurance. These were not people without insurance; it is just the copays were so high, the deductible so high that they were going to get in financial trouble before the insurance would even kick in. We are not just talking about the uninsured. Even people with some insurance find themselves in that situation. So my daughter is fine today and doing well because I didn't have to worry about the cost of her care. I have a good health care plan. But for other families across this country who don't have that security, that sense of confidence that if their loved ones end up ill or need attention or care, that unless they have the kind of coverage and the ability to pay for it, their child might not have had the same outcome that mine did. That shouldn't happen in this country.

So for us in Congress, the passing of this legislation represents more than just the culmination of a century-long movement for reform. It began with Teddy Roosevelt. I regret today that President Obama didn't mention Richard Nixon. He mentioned Roosevelt and Truman and Bill Clinton, but Richard Nixon tried as well to get national health care. He is not recognized often for it. People only talk about him in a negative sense. But Richard Nixon tried this. It was Democrats and Republicans who tried to get this done.

What this effort represents is proof that while progress is not easy, neither is it impossible, and that, maybe more than anything else, is important about what we saw today.

As President Obama said, we didn't come here to the Senate, to the Congress of the United States to fear the future; we came here to try to shape it. And despite the complexity of the problems, the political power of those stubbornly defending the status quo, and even the refusal of many in this community to acknowledge the urgency of reform, that is exactly what we have done.

A broken health care system is not the last challenge we are going to face now as a nation or as a Congress. Far from it. Today, our Union became a little more perfect, but is still far from it. There is still much to do to help American families build better lives for themselves. But, Mr. President, I hope when we again find ourselves at moments of great national import—and we will and we are—we can look back not at the polls or the petty partisan fights that too often contaminate our debates and that always seem to stand in the way of progress, but rather at the fact we rose above them and we acted—and we acted, Mr. President.

We have a chance again to act this evening or tomorrow, as soon as this process comes to an end, by voting up or down on the legislation designed to make this good law even a better one. If you strip away the overheated rhetoric, the false claims that have become commonplace during this debate, this bill is nothing more than a set of commonsense fixes. Let me quickly remind my colleagues and others what they are.

The commonsense fixes will extend the solvency of Medicare. The bill will fill the so-called prescription drug doughnut hole and lower premiums for seniors. Another commonsense fix will extend to all insurance plans the consumer protections in the newly passed health care reform law. It will end the lifetime caps on benefits to people. It will also provide the guarantees that your coverage would not be taken away if you get sick and includes a prohibition on excessive waiting periods, and the extension of coverage to adult children up to the age of 26. It will ban discrimination against people with pre-existing conditions. These commonsense fixes will increase the tax credits that help low- and middle-income families pay for insurance, boost funding for community health centers, strengthen provisions for cracking down on waste and fraud in the Medicare and Medicaid systems.

Mr. President, these commonsense fixes will improve the shared responsibility of policies, ensuring that employers and individuals do their part to keep the country healthy, both physically and economically. It includes valuable protections as well for hospitals and physicians, and more fairly distributes Federal funding among the States so that State governments aren't overburdened at a time when it is already rather difficult to balance those budgets. It revises revenue provisions in the law to take some of the burden off middle-class families and put it on the pharmaceutical industry, which can afford to bear those burdens.

On top of all these commonsense fixes, it includes a badly needed, fully-paid-for investment in Pell grants enabling more Americans to go to college and get the education they need to compete in the 21st-century world in which these children will face. The bill increases Pell grants, I know my colleagues know, up to $6,000 by 2017. Hardly enough, in many cases, to pay for the ever-growing cost of education, but it can make a difference. It links scholarship amounts to the cost of living so they never again have to fall behind, and all of us know how valuable that can be. Because the legislation switches to the far less expensive direct loan program, it will also reduce our deficit by more than $10 billion over 10 years.

Now, that is what is in this bill. Those are the commonsense fixes. If you don't like the health care bill, fine; but don't tell me what we are doing is a bad idea. I think it takes a good law and makes it a better law, and I hope we can get broad-based support for these provisions.

I know some of our friends have made plans to spend the rest of the week delaying passage of this bill. I would hope they not engage in that. I don't think it serves our interests. Vote against it, if you want, and let us get on with the other business we have before us. To go through some marathon voting for the sake of delaying the process I don't think does a great service to this great institution. That is not what we are sent here to do.

That is all you are going to witness, unfortunately, Mr. President, if this goes on for a protracted basis over the next couple of days—one cute little amendment after the other to see if it can embarrass colleagues to vote on something that may cause people to worry about their sense of sanity in all of this. Yet all it is designed to do, and nothing else, is but one thing: to delay voting for the provisions included in this commonsense fix.

Mr. President, I hope, again, that we can move on to other business; that the large issues in front of us require us all to work together. As the chairman of the Banking Committee, I have the responsibility of trying to bring to this floor some reforms in financial services. I am blessed with wonderful members on my committee—Democrats and Republicans. There is a growing desire in our committee, I think, to do just that. My intention is to try to do just that in the coming weeks, working with my friends on the Republican side as well as my colleagues on the Democratic side of the aisle. It is a big set of important issues, and that is what we ought to be doing.

That is what we did on this bill. Unfortunately, we were forced to do it as one party, not as a Senate acting together, and I am saddened by that fact. But my sadness is overwhelmed by the sense of joy that I have that this Congress, this President, was able to sign into law one of the most historic pieces of legislation ever adopted by any Congress in the 200-plus-year history of our Nation. I urge my colleagues to support this reconciliation bill.

With that, I yield back any time I may have to Senator BAUCUS for some later consideration that he may need.

I see the chairman has arrived back out here, and I yield the floor.

Mr. BAUCUS. Mr. President, how much time remains?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There remains 3½ minutes.

Mr. BAUCUS. Mr. President, I would like to speak a few minutes on the amendment offered by the Senator from Arizona with respect to the declaration of a public health emergency.

Under the 1980 Superfund law, an administration has the authority to issue a public health emergency whenever it determines based on science that there is a certain part of the country for which that declaration makes sense. It applies to anyplace in the country. An earlier administrator, Christine Todd Whitman, was about to declare a public health emergency in Libby, MT, because the conditions were so dire. Frankly, I read the e-mail traffic between her office—HHS—and the Bush administration in the White House.

The White House put the kibosh on that declaration. The EPA, based on the science, was going to make that declaration. Administrator Jackson has now made that declaration based on the science.

There is more asbestos contamination in Libby, MT, on a per capita basis than any other place in the country. It is appalling. People are dying of asbestos-related diseases and mesothelioma. Tremolite is the form of asbestos that is present. It is so sad. It is a small town, a poor town. The company, W.R. Grace, has left them high and dry. There was a criminal trial against its officers for intentionally contaminating Libby. Frankly, that did not result in a successful criminal prosecution but, in my judgment, having read lots of transcripts of hearings, it is clear a declaration of a public health emergency is not only valid, but this is a company, frankly, that should have been brought to justice. In fact, they moved assets off the books so they would be judgment proof. W.R. Grace is a very bad company, in my judgment.

Anyway, this law applies to all States in the Nation—all States—where, based on the science, the EPA Administrator thinks a public health emergency should be declared at a certain site that is then required by the law. Screenings are then allowed and medical treatment is allowed to people who would otherwise not get any, or get very little because the company has cut back on any health care benefits they had.

So this is, in a sense, health care reform. These are people who don't get health care. They have been left without health care. There is no coverage, frankly. They have this so-called pre-existing condition because they have asbestos-related disease. I think it is only proper these people in Libby finally get their due.

My time has probably expired, but I could go on and on and on about this sad situation and how much these people deserve to have at least some health care that they would otherwise not receive.

Mr. President, I believe now the time is to be allocated to the Republican side.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The majority time has expired.

The Senator from Wyoming is recognized.

Mr. ENZI. Mr. President, I am going to rise to offer an amendment in a while to protect American workers from the punishing job-killing taxes in this reconciliation bill. My amendment would send this flawed bill to the Finance Committee with instructions to report back a bill without an employer mandate and with an offset.

Mr. BAUCUS. May I inquire of my good friend if he has a copy of his amendment so we could see it. Before I make a request to set the current pending amendment aside, I would like to see the amendment.

Mr. ENZI. I thought a copy had been delivered to you.

Mr. BAUCUS. Maybe it has. Let's just check to be sure we have it.

Mr. President, I suggest the Senator proceed with his argument on his amendment.

Mr. ENZI. That is all I was going to do for the moment, is present the argument and then offer the amendment.

Mr. BAUCUS. OK.

Mr. ENZI. Of course, this process we are going through seems like Groundhog Day to me. I worked on health care with Senator Kennedy for 3 years. We came up with some principles that translated into what is on my Web site: 10 steps that would actually solve health care and do what the President promised.

I am the ranking member on the Health, Education, Labor and Pensions Committee, so I went through the markup on that. As far as any predesign or drafting prior to the markup, I had no opportunity to do that. We were given a bill and told: Here it is. If you want, you can do amendments. Well, it was put together pretty fast, so there were typos in it. We thought maybe we ought to help solve those, and as a result there were 150 amendments that were accepted, but none of substance except a couple.

One of those amendments accepted was one that Senator HARKIN and I both cosponsored. It became a part of the bill, and that was the Safeway plan that would have provided some prevention. It would have given companies the ability to provide incentives to their employees to do prevention.

Like I say, it wound up in the bill. But when it was printed on September 17, it was not in the bill anymore and we never had a vote on it. I don't understand how that can happen, and that is why I say this feels a little like Groundhog Day because we keep trying to get things in there.

I was part of the group of six, and one of the things I asked for was the Gregg amendment that we had earlier, which said Medicare money ought to just go to Medicare. And I keep seeing these side deals made, which is the amendment Senator MCCAIN did.

Each time we have been presented with the bill and they said: Here it is, take it or leave it. We tried to do amendments. The amendments don't wind up in it. The way it gets passed is by having side deals made. I am not familiar with that kind of legislating. It is foreign to me and I don't think it is the right thing to do.

I also went to the White House summit. Again, the President said: Tell us your ideas. And we did. Every time a Republican presented ideas they were rebutted immediately. My idea of a listening session is the person putting it on does a little preamble and explains the format they are going to do and then they actually listen. At the end after a listening period, when people have had a chance to voice their opinions, the leader, which in this case would have been the President, says: Here is what I learned today or: Here is what I didn't learn today. Instead, what we got was a pitch for why we ought to accept the bill the way it was and that is exactly the way it has progressed every step of the way.

Here we are again, another Groundhog Day, trying to do some amendments that will make this a better bill. In fact, it will make it a bill that will work; a bill that will be sustainable. Right now I am trying to save business in America, particularly small business, at a time when our Nation's unemployment rate is 9.7 percent. Millions of Americans have lost their jobs and millions more go to work every day, worried about keeping the job they have. Many States are seeing double-digit jobless rates which are weighing heavily on their local economies. Businesses of all sizes are struggling to keep their doors open and are finding it harder and harder to make payroll.

When our Nation's businesses struggle, workers and their families struggle just as much if not more. American workers depend on a strong economy to create jobs that help them feed their families and build their dreams. Unfortunately, the employer mandate in the reconciliation bill will only make it more difficult for America's businesses to hire and pay their workers.

This reconciliation bill being pushed through the Senate contains $52 billion of new taxes—that used to be big money—$52 billion of new taxes on business, businesses that cannot afford to provide health insurance, especially at the higher rate being required. The bill has in it a Federal minimum standard that is better than 50 percent of the insurance that Americans already have. If you don't think your rate is going to go up, if you have something that is below that Federal minimum standard and you like it, too bad. We are going to force businesses to buy better insurance than what they already have, and if they do not, they get to pay $52 billion in new taxes. Most employers do provide insurance for their employees, but there are some that cannot afford to.

What does health care reform mean to those businesses that cannot afford health insurance? Unfortunately, health care reform for them will mean higher taxes. These are the same businesses that are barely making it today, they are the same businesses that are currently laying off workers in order to keep the company afloat. They are the same businesses that are cutting shifts to prevent further layoffs and cutting wages to keep their employees on the payroll—and much of that is with the agreement of the employees. They understand. They are with a small business. It is more like a family. They understand what the consequences are of new taxes and new requirements and new regulations and it scares them. They make concessions so they can continue to work. They are working fewer hours than they used to work. Productivity is up but there are less hours.

The problem we have is that Congress doesn't understand business, especially small business. I go and visit Wyoming most weekends. I travel a different part of the State and one thing I like to do is get into some businesses and find out about them. I found out most businesses look pretty simple until you scratch the surface a little. We get a completely different opinion here because we print our own money, but that doesn't happen out there in the business world. They have a lot to take into consideration. They have to figure what it costs them to be in business and they have to make sure they bring in a little more revenue than it costs them if they are going to stay in business.

An example of that is, if you take a six-pack of soda, the store charges you $2. They didn't make the soda and it didn't appear magically out of thin air. The store had to buy it from a distributor. That costs money. The distributor had to buy it from a bottler and the bottler had to buy the water, the sugar, and the flavoring to make the soda. You add up all those purchases plus the costs of renting and heating space, paying people and paying taxes, and you get the price. They have to come up with that kind of price in order to stay in business.

Nobody sells it for cost, not for very long. They can't. If they sell a product at the price that is the same as it costs them to buy the product, rent the space, pay the employees, and pay the taxes, they don't make any money. They go out of business.

One of the things we hear about around here is all the greedy businessmen there are. That is not how you get to set your price. There is competition out there that forces you into the lowest price you can charge and stay in business. If that were not the case, if greed were the answer, why doesn't a loaf of bread cost $10 or $50? The simple answer is no one would pay that price. You have to be able to sell the product in order to stay in business and it has to come in at a cost that you can afford.

One of the things we are doing here with this employer mandate is piling more costs on the businesses. Economists have told us repeatedly that the new job-killing taxes in the reconciliation bill will be paid on the backs of workers. The Congressional Budget Office has repeatedly said that workers will bear the brunt of an employer mandate. In fact, CBO has said that the $52 billion in new job-killing taxes will result in a corresponding reduction in wages, and if the worker doesn't make enough money to cover the new taxes, that worker will be at risk of losing his or her job.

Low-income workers have been particularly hard hit by the current economic conditions. Low-income workers are typically employed by small businesses and see the demand for their services fluctuate wildly with the ups and downs of the economy. These low-income workers typically have less formal education and have an even harder time trying to find any job. In fact, workers without a high school diploma have a 50-percent higher unemployment rate than workers with higher education levels.

The current economic situation for young, relatively unskilled workers is dire. They are facing an increasingly difficult job market that is flooded with older, more qualified workers. Unfortunately, the job-killing taxes in the reconciliation bill will actually make their situation worse.

The bill creates incentives against hiring low-income workers and unskilled workers. In fact, we have a problem in this country right now with businesses being concerned about what kind of additional regulations are going to come out of this body and the one at the other end of the building. So they are not hiring people. They are waiting to see what it is going to cost them. If the cost is too high, they will not hire people so we will not be able to absorb those people who are already without jobs.

According to the Congressional Budget Office, employer mandates such as those included in the reconciliation bill would "reduce the hiring of low-wage workers." Harvard Professor Kate Baicker reported that as a result of an employer mandate, "workers who would lose their jobs are disproportionately likely to be high school dropouts, minority and women."

So with the unemployment rate highest among high school dropouts and minorities, this bill would actually make their situation worse. The job-killing taxes in this bill fall disproportionately upon the people who are struggling the most, putting their jobs at risk and making it even more difficult to find a new one. At a time when Americans across this country are looking for signs of an economic recovery, the Senate should be debating a bill that helps the situation, not makes it worse.

I offer this amendment to protect American workers from new job-killing taxes that will lower wages and cut jobs. Senators can make a statement right now and support American workers who are facing the toughest job market since the Great Depression. I urge my colleagues to vote in favor of my amendment.

My motion is at the desk. I ask to call it up.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

The Senator from Montana.

Mr. BAUCUS. Mr. President, reserving the right to object, I ask once the time on the Enzi motion has expired, the motion be set aside until a time to be determined by the leaders.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. BAUCUS. I thank the Chair.

MOTION TO COMMIT

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report the motion.

The assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from Wyoming [Mr. ENZI] moves to commit the bill H.R. 4872 to the Committee on Finance with instructions to report the same back to the Senate within 1 day with changes that strike the employer mandate that will lower wages and increase unemployment and add an offset.

Mr. ENZI. I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Missouri.

Mr. BOND. Mr. President, I am proud to take the floor to support the motion from my good friend, the Senator from Wyoming. I can understand his frustration, having been through what he described in the process in the committee where this bill allegedly was marked up—although it is unrecognizable. The things that he was able to get in and thought were in disappeared. He also has another committee on which I join him and that is the Small Business Committee. So there is no one better than an accountant from Wyoming who has small business experience and who has served on the HELP committee in drafting this legislation to outline the problems with this bill.

We have not even heard him speak at great length about his background in accounting, but this bill, filled with gimmicks, 10-year taxes and 6-year spending, is overwhelming. But he is correct when he says that the cost, according to CBO, will fall on the backs of the workers, the costs of the employer mandate, and they will fall disproportionately on young workers, teenage workers, particularly minority teenage workers who have a very high unemployment rate now. He said, and I would have to agree with him, it appears that Congress doesn't understand how small business works. Clearly the administration doesn't.

When you look at how this bill was done on Sunday, House Democrats accomplished what we thought was unimaginable—they successfully passed the health care boondoggle that the Democrats passed here on Christmas Eve where they stuffed our stockings with a partisan 2700-page bill chock-full of political payoffs, kickbacks, and sweetheart deals, some of which my friend from Arizona mentioned.

But this Sunday the House Democrats ignored the will of the American people and on a party-line vote passed this $2 trillion bill that will increase health care costs, raise taxes, and cut Medicare for seniors. Despite the story Democrats are now trying to sell to the American people, this $2 trillion bill is one the President has now signed into law containing the "Louisiana purchase," a sweetheart deal for Connecticut hospital, and several more deals on the side, in exchange for votes and so on. It is one that the American people do not want. They say no to this government takeover.

I stand with the American people who say repeal the bill and replace it with the things we need. We need to repeal the bill and enact real health care reform that will lower health care costs and not break the banks of taxpayers or take Medicare from seniors. That is exactly what we propose to do. I joined several colleagues in cosponsoring a bill that would repeal this monstrosity because we need to get back to business, to give the American people the health care reform they deserve—not the bill they don't want.

This Christmas Eve health care bill is not the only legislation to which the American people have said no. They also do not want the so-called reconciliation bill which is going to force the American people to reconcile themselves to even higher taxes, even more cuts in Medicare. This is the kind of thing that will not fix the problems of the American people, it will make them worse. If you thought cuts to seniors in the previous bill were bad enough, this reconciliation will cut services even more and taxes will go up. But as my colleague from Wyoming said, right now we need jobs. That is what the American people are telling me they want. They cannot be any clearer. One in ten Americans is unemployed. A fellow Missourian, Harry Truman, once said, for those people it's not a recession but a depression.

With these kinds of dismal unemployment numbers it is no surprise that polls keep telling us that they want jobs created, not the government to take over health care.

It is not just the people in Missouri who have been stopping me on the street. I get e-mails, phone calls, and letters to my office. But they stop me wherever I go, from a grocery store to the post office to restaurants. They do not want this job-killing bill. They want a job-creating effort.

They do not want this monstrosity of a health care bill. Unfortunately, the majority in this body and the other body have ignored their demands. This bill undermines the employer's ability to create jobs and by extension it extends the recession and all of the misery associated with it.

Most people, I would hope, would recognize that small business is the engine that creates the jobs in the United States. People who are informed, as we would hope Members of this body are, know that most small businesses are taxed as individuals, as proprietorships, partnerships, or sub-S corporations. That is why the small business tax relief in 2003 cut taxes and led to the creation of 8 million new jobs.

Despite what some of my colleagues on the other side believe, it is not the government, not a massive government stimulus bill that creates jobs in the private sector. In fact, the massive stimulus bill discouraged it, and the reconciliation bill will be even a bigger blow to job creation.

And the timing, when unemployment is still too high, is a perfect storm because the 2003 tax cuts are expiring. So these small businesses are already facing one boost in their taxes, and now they are going to get several more. Pair these two and the effect is that Congress is piling an overwhelming burden on small business.

The tax on health insurance will result in increased premiums. However, these who are self-insured, like big businesses and not-for-profits, like labor unions, are exempt from this tax. It is not going to hurt them. This means those who are forced into the fully insured market, such as small businesses, will bear the burden of the premium increases.

The President and the majority may tell you they are giving tax credits to help small business. Well, they are not going to be fooled by that. The tax credit expires after only 5 years. If you have 11 employees and hire another one, it starts phasing it out, so you cannot have your business grow. If you raise the salaries, you lose the benefits.

The reconciliation bill makes things worse. It increases the penalty under the employer mandates from $750 to $2,000 per employee, on top of all of the other taxes. If you are already offering your employees insurance in this high-cost market and the government decides it is not good enough, they hit you again, if it is too expensive. If that was not bad enough, both full-time and part-time employees will be counted. The majority wants the American people to think they are not really hurting business with this reconciliation bill. They like to talk about sticking it to or raising the taxes on the wealthy.

They want the American people to believe—and I believe the American people are too smart and know—that these new taxes are going to just hit the CEOs of Fortune 500 companies or professional athletes or entertainers, wealthy lawyers, Hollywood moguls, and international finance speculators. That is what they charge.

But what my colleagues on the other side of the aisle will not tell you is the collateral damage will destroy small businesses. Who are the “rich” the Democrats want to target? As high as 79 percent, some figures say, of those paying taxes at the highest rate have a large part or at least a small part of their income from small business. Small business is the backbone of the country and represents 99.7 percent of all employer firms; over half of all private sector employees are in small business; 44 percent of the total U.S. private payroll; and small business generated over 64 percent of the net new jobs over the past 15 years.

Despite this importance of small business, we are facing a new employer mandate which the Enzi-Bond amendment would strike. I urge my colleagues to have a heart. Understand that the people they are hurting are not just small businesses, it is the people who work for small businesses or who would work for small businesses who will be denied the chance to get a job in small business because of the increasing costs this bill puts on them.

This bill takes away incentives for small businesses to keep the workers they have, to hire and expand. Some of these small business owners who think now is not a good time to expand their business or hire more people cite the political climate as the second most cited reason they are not doing it, after poor sales.

The government is literally prohibiting economic growth. Small businesses are struggling. They are struggling in this economy to be able to offer affordable health insurance. I have worked for years with people such as Senator ENZI and other colleagues to get small businesses permission to go together in nationwide purchasing pools and buy their insurance in the national market like the big employers and the unions do so they can get better rates, get the administrative savings.

Well, we cannot get it through. This would be the time to do that. It would not cost the taxpayers anything. It would save taxpayers money. Allow people to purchase health care across State lines. You can see auto insurance advertised, and they cut through competition to get you the best deal. Would not my folks in Missouri who are having trouble affording health care like to look for a national health plan? They would love it.

If you care about the jobs in this country and the future of the economy, you cannot vote for this reconciliation bill which would further devastate one of our most important job-creating sectors. It is not only a bad bill, it will make the struggling market worse.

Mr. President, how much time is remaining on this side?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There is 6 minutes remaining.

Mr. BOND. I want to add one other thought. In the 20 years I have been in the Senate, I have traveled around the world. I have seen remarkable changes that have come from countries throughout the world, particularly after the fall of the Soviet Union. With the fall of socialism and communism, countries around the world immediately began to look to the United States as the economic model.

They saw our progress. They saw what we were doing because of the system we had. Our free enterprise system demonstrated that successful businesses, successful entrepreneurs can provide opportunities. This is a classic case of a rising tide lifting all boats. That is why countries from some of the least developed to the reasonably well developed want to mimic our system. They are not looking to Denmark or Sweden with their very high tax rates as a model; they see the difference between a government-controlled economy and a free economy with appropriate government regulation.

They know in the free economy, the free marketplace, entrepreneurs can go forward and come up with an idea, take a risk, risk their fortune, risk their ideas, and go out and make money that will allow them to hire more people and provide benefits for the community.

Unfortunately, when our President says health care should be the model for the role of the government in the economy, I am afraid he is talking about the European Socialist model which has demonstrated that the economy does not grow as quickly as the U.S. economy. They have high levels of unemployment.

What does government-created high unemployment do? It generates more social welfare and transfer payments. These transfer payments put pressure on governments to raise taxes even higher, make more people dependent on the largesse of the Federal Government, and further depress the incentive for entrepreneurs, men and women with good ideas who want to build a job and want to hire people.

Last year's stimulus program did a tremendous job of putting more people on government payrolls; that is, the Federal, State, and local level. But did not do much to create jobs in the private sector. I believe the private sector in America has historically been vibrant. It will create jobs despite increasing government taxation, deficits, and regulations. They may do that for a while, but I can tell you that the number of jobs will necessarily be far less than what the free market system could create if it were not inflicted with this increasing government burden on businesses.

Using history as our guide, health care and the reconciliation bill and the other proposals the majority has planned are likely to lead to a longer recession, continued high unemployment, and a lower standard of living for all Americans than would otherwise be possible. That is the source of the anger among the public.

No one is against health care reform. You can tell that from the angry people. I have met the clerks in a store, in a hardware store, who say: Do not take away my health care. I want some reforms, but I do not want to lose my health care. That person, I told her, she would lose her health care. She would not be able to use the same plan. I said: I agree with you. I want to stop this bill. I want to get commonsense reforms that will really help more people get insured, get better deals, and do it without raising costs, and cutting Medicare.

Americans understand what this type of health care reform will do to the good health care system we have now, what it will do to our economy. There is a real danger. The people understand. That is why they are angry. I will tell you, they are angry. They are angry at me. They call my office and they are yelling at me.

I said: I am on your side.

They said: I know, but we are angry. We do not want to see it go through.

They are concerned and we are concerned about our families, about the economic prospects for our children and grandchildren because they are going to be carrying the burden on their backs of the heavy spending we do today.

I see my colleague from Wyoming rising. I will end my remarks here.

Mr. ENZI. I thank the Senator from Missouri for his passionate remarks. He was the former chairman of the Small Business Committee before he moved to the chairman of the Intelligence Committee. You can see the passion and his understanding, former Governor, and one of Jaycee's "10 outstanding young men." I appreciate him raising the issue of small business health plans. We have exchanges, we have the Shop Act, we have some other things, co-ops, in the bill. But we should have put in more opportunities for competition. Increased competition brings prices down. So I thank the Senator for mentioning that.

I believe our time has expired?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The minority's time has expired.

The Senator from Montana.

Mr. BAUCUS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the next hour of debate be equally divided, as we have been doing, back and forth, with the first half under the control of the majority, the second half under the control of the Republican side.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. BAUCUS. Mr. President, I yield 10 minutes to the Senator from Illinois from the time on the Enzi amendment.

Mr. DURBIN. I thank the chairman of the Finance Committee for his leadership on this issue and I thank my colleagues for joining in this debate. We are now starting the end of the fourth hour, into the fifth hour of this debate.

I have listened to many of the speeches that have been given. They are not only good, they are familiar. They are familiar because most of the speeches which we have heard on the floor are critical of the Health Care Reform Act which passed the House of Representatives on Sunday night and was signed into law by the President this morning.

Now, I can understand why some on the other side of the aisle did not like that. They did not vote for it. But the fact is, to come before us in this Chamber and to attack that now law of the land is to ignore why we are supposed to be here. We are here with a reconciliation bill that is basically designed to reduce the budget deficit.

We have several provisions in this reconciliation bill which have not been addressed by most of the speakers on the other side. For example, did the Republicans oppose the reconciliation provision that makes health insurance premiums more affordable for those in lower income categories? That is what is in the reconciliation bill. If they oppose that, then they should come out and say just that.

Do they oppose the expansion of community health clinics across America, more than doubling the number of community health clinics so there is more primary care so every family has a family doctor? Do the Republicans oppose that? Do they oppose family doctors for every family? If they do, step up and say so.

Do they oppose the efforts in this bill to close the doughnut hole; in other words, to make sure that seniors under Medicare have help in paying for prescription drugs they do not have today? I have yet to hear the first Republican say he opposes it. Yet that is what the bill is before us.

So the news flash to the Senate Chamber is, this morning the President of the United States of America signed into law the health care reform bill. To come before us and renew this debate is to ignore the measure that we are supposed to be considering, the reconciliation bill.

I haven't heard all the speeches on the floor, but I want to know if the Republicans oppose the provision in the reconciliation bill that ends a $60 to $80 billion subsidy for banks across America on student loans. Do you think that subsidy for banks is good? If it is, stand and say so. I think it is bad. It adds to the cost of loans. It adds to the debt of young people. We eliminate it. If they think banks should enjoy this subsidy, let's hear it. Stand and address the provisions in this bill. But they haven't done it.

Instead, what they have done is to file, at latest count, some 22 or 24 amendments. Remember, this is a reconciliation bill about reducing the budget deficit. I leave it to those following this debate to decide whether these Republican amendments are serious efforts to address the budget deficit or something else. Here is one we have seen so many times before by one of the Republican Senators, attacking the ACORN organization. Unfortunately, this Senator's newspapers have not been arriving on a timely basis because if they had, he would know this organization is going bankrupt. But he wants us to stop on this health care debate, stop on this budget deficit debate, and go back and flog ACORN again, as they languish in bankruptcy court. Common sense tells us that doesn't have a thing to do with health care reform or budget deficit reduction. It is a political amendment.

Here is an amendment by a Republican Senator to prohibit prescription coverage of Viagra for child molesters and rapists. I am not making this up. There is a fertile mind somewhere on the staff of the other side of the aisle dreaming up gotcha amendments. Here is one, Viagra for child molesters. Let's see if they will vote against that. Common sense tells us that doesn't have anything to do with health care reform or reducing the budget deficit. It is a political amendment. It is unfortunate.

Here is one Members should be held accountable for, but the question is, Why would you debate it on this bill? An amendment to require all Members of Congress to read a bill before voting on the bill. I have been asked repeatedly: Did you read the health care reform bill? The answer is yes. I think our constituents should ask us that question. But are we going to make it the law of the land? Who is going to monitor the reading of these amendments and bills to make sure every page is read by every Member of Congress? Is this a commonsense amendment or is this a political amendment?

Here is an amendment by a Republican Senator. You tell me what this has to do with health care reform or budget deficit reduction: to call for a referendum in the District of Columbia on gay marriage. What does that have to do with health care reform? The answer is nothing.

What we are going to face in the next few hours or days, whatever it happens to be, are more and more amendments such as this that are not serious amendments. They don't deal with health care reform. They don't deal with the budget deficit. They deal with somebody's idea of a political gotcha, to offer an amendment to try to trap Members.

I don't think we are going to fall for that. I think Members on this side of the aisle realize what is at stake. We need to pass this reconciliation bill so we can help pay for health insurance premiums for those in lower income categories, extend the reach of community health clinics, close the doughnut hole, make sure we are helping States pay for the new Medicaid burden they will face. I thought the Republicans were in support of that. Obviously, they are not.

There is one point I would like to add. I have heard so many speeches by Republican leaders, including the Republican minority leader, that the reason why this whole effort is wrong is because the American people oppose health care reform. Another news flash: I wish to share with the Members of the other side of the aisle a poll announced today. When people were asked, after passage of the health care bill in the House of Representatives, whether they believe it is a good thing or bad thing that Congress passed the bill, good thing, 49, bad thing 40. By a 9-percentage margin, the American people say it was a good thing to do. America's emotional reaction on the bill, 50 percent enthusiastic or pleased, 42 percent angry or disappointed. I wonder if my Republican colleagues are now going to amend the premise that we should follow the opinion polls of America, now that the bill is passed and the American people, a majority, support this. Are they now going to change their position on whether opinion polls should drive our votes? I thought that was a pretty simplistic analysis to start with.

Here is what it come down to. Many of us went to the White House today to watch the President sign a bill that will be historic in nature. Similar to Social Security and Medicare, it extends the reach of health care protection and peace of mind to millions of Americans who don't have it. It was a hard-fought battle; I will concede that point. The fact is, at the end of the day, we won that battle. The President signed that bill, and it is the law of the land. The so-called Republican repealers, the ones who are going to run down in the next election to repeal it, better come and explain to small businesses across America, almost 4 million that are going to qualify for tax credits to help pay for health insurance. I heard all the comments from the previous speaker from Missouri, the Senator talking about be sensitive to small business. By opposing that bill, he opposed tax credits for almost 4 million small businesses. That bill will also extend health insurance to 30 million Americans who don't have it, Americans who, when they get sick and get treated, pass their bills along to other people. Those 30 million will have health insurance. That means less of a burden on those of us with health insurance to pick up their cost.

I say to my colleagues on the other side of the aisle: The political amendments don't make sense. Most of the American people have had enough of them, amendments about ACORN and gay marriage on a bill on health care. It doesn't fit. Common sense tells us we should not be delaying the Senate's final decision on a critically important bill. If the Republican side of the aisle was waiting for American public opinion to express itself, the American people have spoken. They think we did the right thing in passing this bill on health care reform, and the President did the right thing signing it into law this morning. They don't want to repeal this help. They want all the help they can get for affordable health insurance for quality care.

I yield the floor.

Mr. BAUCUS. Mr. President, I yield 10 minutes off the bill to the Senator from Michigan, Ms. STABENOW.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Michigan.

Ms. STABENOW. Mr. President, I thank the chairman of the Finance Committee, with whom I am honored to serve, and colleagues who have been working very hard on this initiative, as all our colleagues have. I wish to talk first about what is in front of us because it is true that today is a historic day. The President signed a very important bill, passed by the House and the Senate, that lays the groundwork for what we all believe should happen in terms of making sure every family has a family doctor and that we tackle the costs that are crippling businesses and the country. What we have in front of us now is a bill to make a good bill better. That is what we are doing. We are making a good bill better with what we are doing right now. It is tackling the issue of cost.

We are saving money in this bill we will be voting on, saving money for middle-class families by making health care more affordable, saving money for seniors by making their prescription drugs more affordable, and saving money for our children and grandchildren because this is the largest deficit-reduction effort we have seen in many years—in fact, since President Clinton brought us into balance when the Democrats were last in charge.

We know from the Congressional Budget Office and we now have 43 leading health economists who all agree that health care reform will reduce the deficit, about $143 billion in the first 10 years and over $1.2 trillion in the next 10 years. This is important, as we go forward and get our House in order, to bring down the deficit and focus on jobs and other parts of the economy that are so important.

What are we talking about, as our colleagues talk about the broader bill that has already been signed into law? What does that bill mean for families and businesses? First, starting right now, today, I was very pleased to author a provision to make the small business tax cut immediate. So as of today, for this year, small businesses are going to receive up to a 35-percent tax cut to help them afford health insurance. In my State, health care is very much about saving jobs. Health care costs are costing us jobs. We have too many small businesses getting a 20- or 30- or 40-percent premium increase notice. They are deciding: Do I keep people employed and cut the health insurance or do I pay the health insurance increase and lay people off?

That is what is happening all across America. Our bill this year now begins a 35-percent tax cut for businesses that have 10 or fewer employees and a tax cut for those up to 25 employees. Four years from now, that tax cut goes up to 50 percent. So it starts at 35 percent and goes up to 50 percent of the cost for small businesses to help them pay for health insurance.

Right now we are going to begin to see the largest effort to provide community health centers that our country has seen. Approximately 10,000 neighborhoods, communities across the country will have the opportunity and funding to create a community health center so people who have lost jobs don't lose their health insurance, so people who don't today have health insurance will have a place to go to take their children to see a family doctor rather than to an emergency room. It is estimated we will be able to serve 25 million people by this effort that is starting today.

Starting today, seniors are going to receive immediate help for their prescription drugs, if they are caught in that gap in coverage that has been called the doughnut hole. We are going to be closing that doughnut hole over time.

What happens next? We are going to see lower costs for early retirees. This is a very important matter in the State of Michigan and other places where we have people being required or forced to retire at 55 because of losing their job or because of cost-cutting efforts. I was proud to join with Senator KERRY in an effort to create a way to lower the cost for employers that have early retirees on their health insurance or for early retirees themselves, between 55 and 65. We will be bringing down the cost of health insurance for people. That is very important.

No preexisting conditions for children. Insurance companies will not be able to block parents from getting insurance for their children. That is pretty important. Young people are going to be able to stay on their parents' insurance until age 26. I wish that one was a little bit higher. I kind of missed that one myself. But the reality is, for a lot of young people and a lot of parents, this is a very big deal. It is very important. I am surprised colleagues would want to repeal something that would take that away.

We have, starting this year, a set of insurance reforms that will say the insurance companies can't cancel your insurance if you get sick. I have so many people who have said to me: I have insurance, but then all of a sudden somebody gets sick, and they find out a technicality. They get dropped. We are going to hold insurance companies accountable in a way that has not happened before in this country. We are going to eliminate lifetime limits on coverage. It is not your fault if you have cancer and you need treatments for a long period or you have some other kind of disease. There should not be artificial caps and lifetime limits.

What this is about for us is that it is time to stand for middle-class families and small businesses. That is what we are doing. That is what we are doing by lowering costs, by saving money for families, saving money for seniors, saving money for future generations, for our children by lowering the deficit, by focusing on small businesses, where most of the people who don't have insurance are working. They are working in a small business that can't find affordable insurance.

In the short run, we will help them with tax cuts and, 4 years from now, a larger insurance pool so they can buy from the private sector in a larger pool, such as big business does. That will bring down costs. This is about standing for middle-class families, standing for small businesses.

What we are seeing, unfortunately, on the other side of the aisle, as the distinguished assistant majority leader informed us, are all kinds of amendments. First, they have nothing to do with health care, nothing to do with this bill. They are all about games. I say to colleagues on the other side of the aisle: Don't play games with Americans' health care. Do not play games with the lives of Americans who are counting on us to finish the job—to pass the bill in front of us, to make a good bill better, to be able to save money for Americans, and to be able to get this job done.

We do not need more political games. I think the American people have seen enough. Frankly, I do not blame them for being frustrated about what happened and all that we have gone through in the last year. I share that frustration. They expect us to get things done. Frankly, they are not caring what configuration gets that done in terms of the vote. They want us to get things done.

So I would ask colleagues to drop the games. We are going to get a lot of different kinds of amendments that are designed to embarrass, designed to hold things up. I would ask colleagues to please stop the games. Do not play games with Americans' health care.

In conclusion, I would simply say again, health insurance reform is about a family doctor for every family. Isn't that what we want—the ability to know that when you tuck the kids in tonight, if one of them gets sick, you are going to be able to call the doctor, you are going to be able to care for your children, you are going to be able to get insurance for them, and you are going to be able to know that your children are going to get the care they need because you have a family doctor?

That is what this is about, fundamentally. It is about a set of values that starts from the premise that everybody in America, every family, should have a family doctor. This bill in front of us completes that task and sets us on the road to fulfill that vision. I urge colleagues to vote for this bill, put aside the games, and let us get on with the business of our country.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Montana.

Mr. BAUCUS. Mr. President, I yield 10 minutes to the Senator from California, Mrs. BOXER, off the bill.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from California.

Mrs. BOXER. Thank you, Mr. President.

In 1912, a Republican President named Teddy Roosevelt ran for the Presidency on a platform that promised national health care reform. Today, I had the privilege of watching President Barack Obama sign into law a landmark bill that is being perfected today in the legislation now before the Senate. It was quite a moment. The Senate health care reform bill the President signed today gives small businesses tax credits to help them purchase insurance for themselves and their employees. In my State of California, that is 400,000 businesses that will have access to tax credits.

The new law is very important to early retirees because it will ensure lower insurance rates, and we will see a high-risk pool so that in my State, and all States, adults who cannot get insurance because of a preexisting condition will be able to do so.

The bill the President signed prohibits preexisting condition exclusions for children. So if you have insurance, but your child has asthma or diabetes or something else, and they cannot get covered, that discrimination is over. It ended today. The new law will cover preventive services such as mammograms and vaccinations at little or no cost.

This bill is so important—I should say this law because it is now the law—is so important for our people. It will create new community health care centers throughout our States, and we will see primary care doctors serving in those community health care centers, and nurses. It will require 80 percent of premium income to be spent on our health care—not on outrageous bonuses for the CEOs. They cannot say that overall they have spent 50 percent on us, the policyholders, and 50 percent on themselves. That is called medical loss ratio, and we have fixed it in this law.

Seniors on Medicare will get free preventive care, and we have a new, voluntary, long-term care insurance program that people can buy into starting in 2011.

In 2014, even more things are added to this extremely important list of benefits. Health insurance exchanges will open so that there is a marketplace for businesses, families and individuals to go. It is going to help us make better choices and have more choices. It provides tax credits to help individuals and families with incomes below $88,000 to purchase insurance through the exchange. So this has a lot of benefits for our working families and our middle-class families. We go up to $88,000 for a family of four. It expands Medicaid to cover families earning less than $29,000. Now it is a much lower level. So these are very good things.

The bill before the Senate now—this is our unfinished business. We need to make a good bill better, and that is what we are doing today. How do we do it? The bill before us entirely closes the gap in Medicare drug coverage. It starts with a $250 rebate to those senior citizens who are in that doughnut hole, that payment gap. In my State, it is about 800,000 senior citizens. Imagine, 800,000 senior citizens in my State, when we pass the bill, will get $250—each one of them, if they have fallen into the coverage gap.

It allows young people to stay on their parents' insurance until they are 26. That happens this year. How many stories have we heard about young people who may have—I use asthma as an example—who get kicked off their parents' health care? They have to. An insurance company says: We are not going to insure you, and they are in deep trouble. The bill before us today says to an insurance company: No more rescissions. That is a cancellation of a policy when you get sick. You can not do that anymore. And no more lifetime limits on your plans. Because a lot of times when people get sick—they did not read the fine print—they find out they are up against a limit. If they have a serious condition such as cancer, they may reach that limit. What happens is, they have to, in many cases, sell their home, sell their possessions, and they declare bankruptcy. No more. Insurance companies cannot do that—once we pass this bill tonight, and once it is signed.

So there are many good things in the bill the President signed today—things that are very important to our families and very good things to make that bill better in the bill before us.

I hope we are not going to see the kind of tactics that some on the other side have said they are going to use, by offering amendments that have nothing to do with anything except killing this very important bill.

I want to say, there are so many improvements in this bill. For example, Medicaid. My State will be able to put millions of people on to Medicaid—1.7 million people, to be exact. And my State, as all other States, will get 100 percent reimbursement for that in the years 2014, 2015, and 2016.

We are going to see 32 million more people in our Nation have access to health insurance. The Medicare trust fund will be extended by 9 years. My State benefits greatly. There are many ways I have already discussed. But I want to lay this out. By 2014, up to 7 million Californians will finally have access to health insurance, and it will reverse a horrible trend, year after year people not able to get it.

I want to spend a moment to address Republican concerns that the process was partisan. I think it is important to note over and over again that the bill that was signed by the President today, that is going to help so many of our people, contains 147 Republican amendments. Let me repeat that. The bill the President signed today contains 147 Republican amendments.

For example, there is an amendment by a Republican colleague that all Members of Congress and their staff have to enroll in the exchanges. That is in the law. There is an amendment by another Republican Senator to allow premium rates to vary by tobacco use. That was accepted and is now law. There is an amendment to ensure that the voluntary long-term insurance program, the CLASS Act, remains solvent over 75 years. We have taken those amendments. They are now law.

Now my Republican friends are saying they want to repeal the bill. This is going out all across the airways. They want to repeal the bill. And they say if a lot of us lose, and they can get more votes here, they are going to repeal the bill. So I want to ask a few rhetorical questions.

Which of the protections in the bill do they want to repeal? Do they want to repeal the end of gender rating, where women have had to pay much more than men? Do they want to repeal the protections for our children, who will now have coverage even if they have a preexisting condition? Do they want to repeal free prevention services, such as vaccinations or mammograms? Do they want to repeal the prohibition on lifetime caps on insurance policies? Or maybe they want to repeal the $250 rebate for prescription drug costs to seniors.

Well, do they want to repeal other things? There is a law now that says you cannot get kicked out of your insurance plan when you get sick. That is the one I described before: no rescissions. Do they want to repeal that? Or maybe they want to repeal generous tax credits for small businesses.

I guess they want to repeal all of these things because they said they want to repeal the entire law. But I would urge them to stand up and tell their constituents exactly which of these provisions they want to repeal. I want to put it on the RECORD that I look forward to that battle because I can tell you the letters to my office are saying: Please, please protect us. We feel vulnerable.

I wish to state at this time that this bill reduces the deficit in addition to doing all these other things. In closing—and I would ask how much time I have?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Thirty seconds.

Mrs. BOXER. OK. I would say, in closing, that a lot of fear has been injected into this debate. And you are going to get a barrel of it coming up. There is one thing to fear, and that is doing nothing. It is unsustainable. Mr. President, 14,000 people lose their health insurance every day; 1,400 in my State. Sixty-six percent of bankruptcies are linked to a health care crisis. Mr. President, 45,000 Americans die every year because they have no health insurance.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator's time has expired.

Mrs. BOXER. So let's do something. Let's do this. Let's finish the job.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Wyoming is recognized.

Mr. BARRASSO. Thank you, Mr. President. I ask unanimous consent to proceed in a colloquy with a number of my colleagues.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Against which block of time will this be charged?

Mr. BARRASSO. The next 30 minutes for the Republicans.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Off the bill?

Mr. BARRASSO. Yes.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. BARRASSO. Thank you, Mr. President.

I come to discuss an amendment that has to do with the fact that—as I read this bill, as I talk to my colleagues who are physicians, as I talk to Senators—I believe this bill that was signed into law, as well as the reconciliation bill that is before this body right now, is going to significantly increase the cost of health insurance premiums paid by American citizens.

I am bringing up an amendment tonight that says if the Department of Health and Human Services certifies that premiums will rise faster under this Democratic health care bill signed into law, and the reconciliation bill, than they would under current law, then the provisions of the bill will sunset. Because we have been promised—the American people have been promised—that by passing this law, what would happen is that the cost of their own health insurance premiums would go down. The President of the United States promised it. The President of the United States, while campaigning, talked about that, made that promise, and then early in his term said he would actually lower the premiums for families by an average of $2,500 per family for the cost of their health care insurance. That is what the President said.

So then the bill is written behind closed doors. People had very little input. That bill came out, and then Senator RICHARD DURBIN, the Democrat from Illinois, the majority whip, comes to the floor on March 10 and says: Anyone who would stand before you and say, Well, if we pass health care reform, next year's health care premiums are going down—which is what the President has said—anyone who says that I don't think is telling the truth. He went on to say: I think it is likely they would go up—they would go up. What we are trying to do, he said, is slow the rate of increase.

Well, only 2 days before Senator DURBIN said that on this floor, the President was in Glenside, PA, and he said: Our cost cutting measures mirror most of the proposals in the current Senate bill which reduces—he said—reduces most people's premiums.

Mr. MCCAIN. Mr. President, may I ask my colleague whether he recalls when at Blair House our colleague from Tennessee began the discussion with the President and our Democratic colleagues, and he said at that time that the Congressional Budget Office said premiums would increase from 10 percent to 13 percent for individuals purchasing health insurance? That comes out to $2,100 more for a typical family. The President challenged that, as you may recall, and said: Well, we are going to settle this before the end of this—what later turned out to be 7 hours of fun.

So what was the answer to that, I ask Dr. BARRASSO. What was the answer? Was Senator ALEXANDER correct when he quoted the Congressional Budget Office that premiums would increase by 10 percent to 13 percent for individuals purchasing health insurance or was the President correct by saying that was not true?

Mr. BARRASSO. Well, Senator ENZI, who has joined us on the floor, was also sitting with us that day at Blair House, and my recollection and from doing the research afterward and the press reported that Senator ALEXANDER was correct. Individuals buying health insurance in the individual market would see their health insurance premiums go up by 10 percent to 13 percent if this bill becomes law, and the President signed it into law today.

So the American public needs to know that their insurance premiums are going to go up as a result of what the President signed today, and I am bringing up an amendment opposed to that.

Mr. ENZI. That is exactly what was concluded in that Blair House meeting. It was supposed to be a listening session, but nothing appears to have been listened to. Nothing was included from any of the multiple suggestions the Republicans made there.

About the 10 percent to 13 percent that premiums are going to increase, there is a very important addition to that. It is 10 percent to 13 percent more than if we did nothing. The President keeps talking about how we need to do this bill because health care costs are escalating dramatically. And they are. But they are going to escalate even faster—10 percent to 13 percent more—than if we did nothing.

Mr. MCCAIN. Could I ask Senator ENZI, then, what was the President referring to? In fairness to the President, what was he referring to when he challenged the assertion of the Senator from Tennessee that individual premiums would go up by some 10 percent to 13 percent?

Mr. ENZI. I am not exactly sure what he was referring to. He has used that in the numbers speeches, just as they keep using the number that this bill will reduce the deficit by $138 billion. Again, you have to read the rest of the sentence and find out that is if we don't take care of all of the things we normally take care of, such as the doc fix, which is going to cost $300 billion, which more than uses up that money.

Mr. MCCAIN. So it seems to me pretty legitimate to hold the President and the sponsors of this legislation to their word; that is, if it doesn't increase the premiums, then they are true to their word, but if it does increase premiums, then the American people have not been told the truth. Therefore, this legislation should be scrapped and we should start all over.

By the way, may I add one point? I have grown a little weary—a lot weary—about when they say to do nothing will do X, Y, and Z. We are not talking about doing nothing. We are talking about medical malpractice reform. How does anybody excuse the fact that there is not medical malpractice reform in this legislation? There is only one answer. It is that the trial lawyers control this legislation, and that is disgraceful.

Mr. GREGG. If the Senator will yield, I think it is important to understand why the premiums go up so that the argument that they don't go up can be pointed out as being really transparently inaccurate. The reason the premiums go up is because under this bill, Americans who have health insurance will be forced to buy more expensive health insurance. They are going to be forced to buy health insurance which is at a much higher level of coverage for a lot of things which many Americans simply don't need and therefore don't buy it today. They are going to be required to buy that higher cost health insurance, and that is going to force up the premiums.

This is a classic, top-down you do what the government says relative to what type of health insurance plan you are going to be able to buy plan, which we should expect from this administration. But we should not deny that it has an immediate impact on the cost of that health insurance and that CBO has said—as both Senators from Wyoming have so accurately pointed out, CBO has scored this as increasing the premiums for individuals because of that; is that not correct?

Mr. BARRASSO. That is absolutely correct. The nonpartisan Congressional Budget Office says it is going to go up. The Joint Committee on Taxation says people are going to have to end up paying more in health care premiums than if there was no bill at all. The Chief Actuary for the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services said the same, as did eight additional private sector studies. They all confirm that the health care reform bill signed into law today will drive insurance costs up greater than if there was no bill at all signed into law.

There are mandates we are putting on young people who are going to be forced, many of whom are going to be forced to buy insurance, forced by this law—all of them are going to be forced to buy insurance that many of them don't need, many of them don't want, and many of them can't afford, because they are going to have to buy levels that are far in excess of what they might want. It is going to be very expensive, as many of them are going to be subsidizing others because of what is called the community rating and the way this whole program has been set up.

Mr. MCCAIN. May I ask the Senator from New Hampshire—just a personal point. Suppose we had decided to do away with the tax benefit for employer-provided health insurance and given every American family a $5,000 refundable tax credit. Would we have then been able to provide the ability to acquire insurance to some 30 million Americans?

Mr. GREGG. Yes, I think the Senator is right, and the type of insurance they would have gotten would have been the type of insurance they wanted. If you are a young person today and you are not buying health insurance, it is probably in many instances not because you can't afford it. In fact, it is estimated that of the uninsured population, of the 47 million uninsured, approximately 20 million have incomes over $70,000, and they can afford insurance. They just simply decided they are not going to buy it.

If you gave them this refundable tax credit, what they could buy is a catastrophic plan so they could assure themselves of coverage in the case of that accident or that catastrophic disease that might wipe them out financially, and it would probably be more tailored to what they want as opposed to what some bureaucrat here in Washington wants or what the President of the United States wants or what somebody here on the other side of the aisle decided they should have.

Mr. LEMIEUX. If my colleague will yield, this is really a bait-and-switch. During the campaign, President Obama said this is about lowering the cost of health insurance. We know the cost of health insurance has gone up 130 percent in the past 10 years. The debate was: Don't you want your health insurance to be lower? And the American people said: Sure, yes. Of course they did. The switch is what this is all about, which is putting more people into Medicaid. It will put 15 million more people into a program that is failing; a program where Walgreens in Washington State is no longer taking Medicaid; a program where doctors are no longer taking Medicaid. It is not health care reform if the doctor is not in. But for the rest of Americans, the 159 million people who have health insurance, their costs aren't going to go down. In fact, their costs are going to go up.

I ask my friend, the Senator from Arizona, who comes from a State where there is a population just like Florida with a lot of seniors, what do we say to our seniors, our seniors who are now going to have a cut in Medicare of $500 billion-plus to finance this big expansion in Medicaid? How do we justify that to them?

Mr. MCCAIN. And the program, I am sure Dr. BARRASSO and Senator ENZI would agree, that is going to be cut the most is a program called Medicare Advantage where seniors do have some relative choice as to what type of care they wish to receive. Fortunately, the 800,000 enrollee carve-out has been removed because of the national attention it got.

Mr. BARRASSO. There is an advantage to Medicare Advantage. That is why people signed up for it, as 11 million Americans have. The advantage works with coordinating care, prevention of illness and disease. That is why people want to be in that program. But now the President is eliminating it.

My colleague from Florida talked about the 15 million people dumped onto Medicaid, and the New York Times reports that as Medicaid payments shrink, patients and doctors drop out. The President is not only dumping on 15 million through the health care bill, with the bill we are discussing right now, the reconciliation bill, it also adds another million people to those rolls dumped into Medicaid.

Mr. MCCAIN. So perhaps the worst fraud being perpetrated in this entire legislation is the doc fix. No one who is an expert on health care believes we are going to cut physicians' payments for treatment of Medicare enrollees by 21 percent. No one. Yet that is calculated in so there can be this phony actual reduction in the deficit.

Mr. BARRASSO. And for the ginned-up numbers we have been presented by the Democrats to work where they say we have actually helped lower the deficit, for it to work, in the next couple of months they would have to cut doctors' fees for all of the Medicare patients they take care of by 21 percent and then keep those fees frozen at that low level for the next 10 years. Now, is that going to happen? But if it doesn't happen—and I ask the accountant from Wyoming as opposed to the surgeon from Wyoming—from an accounting standpoint, can you do that?

Mr. ENZI. The Senator from Wyoming not only is correct that we are going to have a huge problem, but something that is new in the reconciliation bill besides this 21 percent that, of course, we are going to have to fix and that is going to cost us $300 billion—and all of the proposals so far have not paid for that proposal—they slipped in a little cliff in there for Medicaid this time, too, and in 2 years we are going to drop off a cliff with Medicaid just the same way as Medicare. Does anybody believe we won't fix that? That is going to drive up the deficits too.

Wasn't everybody promised catastrophic care as one of the Presidential promises? It kind of fascinates me that Medicare doesn't have catastrophic care unless you buy Medicare Advantage, and then you can have the catastrophic care. But we are trying to get rid of Medicare Advantage now and force all of those people into a different kind of insurance.

I appreciate the Senator from New Hampshire mentioning mandates. Yes, they are going to require you to have a lot more different kinds of insurance than you might want to have. We are going to say: The Federal Government knows best, and this is the minimum insurance you can have, and you are going to have to buy it or we are going to put a mandate on you—another mandate.

This is the mandate for what you have to get in health care, but there is also going to be a mandate that says every single person has to buy insurance. There are a lot of people right now who make a good living, who are healthy, who don't think they need insurance and won't buy it. They will pay the penalty up until the time they have a preexisting condition, and then they will jump into the market and that will drive up the price for everybody else.

So there is a whole lot of accounting finagling that is going on to make different statements possible. But it is going to drive up the premiums, it is going to cause people to get more insurance than they want to get, and it is going to cause everybody to have to get insurance whether they want to or not.

In the history of the United States, we have never had the Federal Government tell anybody they had to buy something. We have set up safety measures in their purchasing to protect them, but we haven't said you have to buy it. In this case, we are going to say you have to buy it, and there are a whole bunch of people who say that is unconstitutional.

Mr. LEMIEUX. If the Senator will yield on a point made by my friend from Wyoming, isn't it amazing that the Federal Government is going to penalize—send an IRS agent to tax you if you don't buy health insurance, if you fail to take it out. Has the Federal Government ever, in the history of our country, penalized a person for failing to act? That is why we have these folks around the country who are experts in the Constitution, folks such as my attorney general in Florida, Bill McCollum, who is going to bring a lawsuit against this bill because the commerce clause has never been interpreted to say your failure to do something is in the realm of Congress. Imagine this, if you can say to somebody: Your failure to purchase health insurance is within the role of the Federal Government. Why can't the Federal Government say you have to go to the gym or you have to eat your broccoli? What can the Federal Government not do if it can do this? It is beyond the Framers' intention. It is beyond any of the Supreme Court law.

When you think about our relationship to our government, we are supposed to have the rights. Our Declaration of Independence says we have the rights and we give them up to the government. The government is with the consent of the governed. But in this situation, it seems the Democrats believe the government knows best.

I wish to make one other point about this cost issue. In the last 10 years, health insurance has gone up 130 percent. The reason why this bill will not control the cost of health care is because it takes the consumer out and keeps the consumer out of the equation. The consumer has no motivation to reduce the cost of health care.

We did not do the tax credit idea that the Senator from Wyoming mentioned, which would put the consumer back in the game, make the consumer conscious of prices, and make a competitive environment that would actually reduce health care costs.

I wonder if my colleague and friend from Wyoming might speak to that point because I know he was very much involved as author of this idea of giving us tax breaks.

Mr. ENZI. I appreciate the Senator from Arizona bringing that up because when he mentioned tax credits in his campaign, he was chastised by now-President Obama, saying that cannot happen, that is terrible. You will find that slipped into the bill anyway. So far, it just catches the top insurance people. They are going to be taxed—no, they are not going to be taxed because it is shoved in as a hidden tax, so it does not expose they are actually doing what the Senator from Arizona was suggesting. It is going to be a hidden tax the company is going to have to pay, but the company is going to take it out on the employee. It is another way they are going to tax and tax, raise prices or lower benefits.

The price on insurance is going to go up because right now the insurance companies are trying to protect themselves. On the one hand, they have been protected a lot in this bill. We are accused of helping out the insurance companies, but take a look at some of the stuff that helps out the insurance companies with the individual mandates, the employer mandates and those things. At the same time, they are being threatened that they are going to be price fixing.

I was in the shoe business with my wife. When we first went into the shoe business, Nixon was talking about fixing prices. In response, the companies immediately raised the price of shoes 50 percent, and then every time they were allowed to raise the price again, they did. Within 1 year, shoes cost twice as much as before. That is what happens when government interferes. This is government interference. It is going to cause premiums to go up and prices to go up.

The other side says: Don't worry about it, there are subsidies. From where are the subsidies coming? Oh, yes, we are going to take $½ trillion from Medicare and put it in new programs which are subsidies, and besides that, we are going to come up with $½ trillion in taxes and that is going to go for the new subsidies. Does anybody in America believe you can put in new programs at a cost of $1 trillion and it is not going to cost any of us a dime?

Of course not. The seniors know it and the people who will be paying the premiums are going to know it and the companies are all going to know it.

Whom are they going to be mad at? They are not going to be mad at Republicans because not a one of us voted for it. On this reconciliation bill, I don't think they are going to be mad at us on it either. They can see what is happening. Premiums are going to go up, just as the other Senator from Wyoming mentioned.

AMENDMENT NO. 3582

Mr. BARRASSO. If I may interject, that is why I have an amendment at the desk that deals with this specific aspect in the bill that is going to cause premiums to go up higher, in my opinion, than if nothing were done at all. If that actually happens because the President and the Democrats have promised something different, then we ought to sunset the entire bill. With that, I call up the amendment that is at the desk.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

The Senator from Montana.

Mr. BAUCUS. I ask unanimous consent that once the time on the Barrasso amendment expires—

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Montana does not have the floor.

Mr. BAUCUS. Can the Senator from Montana ask unanimous consent for the floor?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Wyoming has the floor. There is a unanimous consent request pending to offer an amendment. Is there objection?

Mr. BAUCUS. Reserving the right to object, will the Senator agree to modify as follows: that once the time on his amendment expires, the amendment be set aside until a time to be determined by the leaders.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Does the Senator so modify his request?

Mr. BARRASSO. Yes.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. BAUCUS. No objection.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered. The clerk will report.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from Wyoming [Mr. BARRASSO] proposes an amendment numbered 3582.

Mr. BARRASSO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To ensure that Americans can keep the coverage they have by keeping premiums affordable)

At the end of subtitle B of title II, insert the following:

SEC. 2 —. AFFORDABLE PREMIUMS AND COVERAGE.

The implementation of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (and the amendments made by such Act) shall be conditioned on the Secretary of Health and Human Services certifying to Congress that the implementation of such Act (and amendments) would not increase premiums more than the premium increases projected prior to the date of enactment of such Act.

Mr. BARRASSO. Mr. President, how much time do we have remaining?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There is 7½ minutes remaining.

Mr. BARRASSO. Mr. President, we have a number of colleagues on the floor, and we believe absolutely this amendment is critical because it goes specifically to the heart of the promises that have been made to the people of our home States and the people of the country.

The promise made to the 85 percent of Americans who have coverage they like is that their costs would actually go down. But yet as I travel around my State and around the country, I see people are very worried that this bill that cuts Medicare for our seniors, raises taxes on all is loaded with sweetheart deals, is going to cause their health insurance premiums to go up at a time when they believe the quality of their care will go down.

Mr. GREGG. Will the Senator yield?

Mr. BARRASSO. Yes.

Mr. GREGG. I wish to make one point I hope is obvious to everyone. This amendment simply says that if the premiums rise faster than what they would under current law, then the bill will not go into effect. Isn't that what it says?

Mr. BARRASSO. That is exactly what it says.

Mr. GREGG. It is basically reinforcing what the other side of the aisle claims and what the President claims. Why should there be any opposition to something that basically puts into place the language which enforces what the President has claimed he is doing and what the other side of the aisle is claiming they are doing? Can the Senator from Wyoming think of why there would be opposition to this amendment?

Mr. BARRASSO. It should be unanimously accepted, with all sides agreeing because that is what the promise was to the American people when this bill was brought forth and when the President first addressed the Nation, that he wants to get the cost curve down, the cost of insurance down to $2,500 per American family. We just want to hold folks to the promises that have been made to the American people.

The American people have spoken overwhelmingly and loudly in opposition to the bill that has come out from behind closed doors for them to finally see and try to understand all the machinations and maneuvers. They ultimately looked at it and in overwhelming numbers said: We don't want this for ourselves, for our families, for our neighbors or for our country. Yet it was crammed down the throats of the American people.

I bring up this amendment tonight to say that I wish to hold those who voted for this bill to the promises they made to the American people. If, in fact, insurance premiums go up faster because this bill has become law than they would have gone up without this bill, then the law is no longer in effect.

As I look to colleagues from other States, I imagine this is what you hear in Florida when you head home for the weekend: What have we been promised? What are we going to get? How are we going to hold people to the promises made?

Mr. LEMIEUX. I thank my good friend and doctor for bringing up that point. My constituents in Florida say we care about the rising cost of health insurance, so I think the Senator's amendment is exactly on point.

If this bill makes the situation worse, it should not go into effect. Why would any of the 100 of us not support the Senator's amendment if we are not going to control the cost of health insurance? That is what we are supposed to be about. That was supposed to be the No. 1 goal.

It is a great amendment. I certainly will support it. I hope all our colleagues do. I think the challenge to our colleagues on the other side of the aisle is I know they do not want to take any of our amendments. I know they just want to cram this through and get it done so it does not have to go back to the House of Representatives. But the duty of our friends on the other side of the aisle is as always, as it is our duty, to enact good laws and make things better.

If there is an amendment such as this one that is good for the American people, it is their duty, I respectfully suggest, to vote in favor of it, even if it has to be sent back to the House of Representatives. Because when we go home to our constituents, they are going to ask us: Did you lower the cost of health insurance?

I am going to have to go home to more than 3 million Floridians on Medicare who continue to question me and say: Why are they taking $½ trillion out of our Medicare? Why is there now $200 billion coming out of the Medicare Advantage? Over the next 12, 24, 36 months, I am not going to enjoy the conversations with my constituents, even after my time in the Senate is through, who come to me and say: Why can't I go to Medicare Advantage anymore? Why did they shut down that program? Why can't I keep the health insurance the President told me I could keep? Why did my employer drop me?

The estimate is that 33 percent of folks on Medicare Advantage by 2015—this is Rick Foster saying this—are going to lose it. We have more than 1 million people on Medicare Advantage in Florida—more than 1 million. These are going to be tough questions to answer.

I applaud my colleague, the good doctor, for bringing this forward. It is exactly the right thing to do. I hope our colleagues on the other side of the aisle will have the courage to accept these amendments that are in the best interests of the people of the country.

Mr. President, how much time do we have remaining?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There is 2 minutes remaining.

Mr. BARRASSO. Mr. President, we continue tonight to bring forth to the American people our concerns about a bill that I believe from my years of practice in medicine, taking care of families in Wyoming, and now as a Senator for the last several years, is going to be bad for patients, it is going to be bad for providers, the nurses and the physicians who take care of those patients, and it is going to be bad for payers, people who pay for their health insurance, people who pay taxes in this country, the taxpayers of this country as a bill continues down the road which is going to contribute to the debt, contribute to the deficit and, as I hear, week after week at home in telephone and townhall meetings, the debt is the threat.

Our spending at this point is unsustainable. It is irreversible. It is irresponsible. I bring this up to say we cannot pass bills in the Senate and have them signed into law which promise one thing and do something very different—promises to help people and ends up hurting our Nation, hurting our economy, hurting our jobs, hurting the opportunity to hire more people with mandates, hurt young people who are trying to buy insurance because their rates are going to go up.

This is a bill that is going to cost all of America in ways in the decades to come that, from a financial standpoint as well as a health standpoint, are going to be detrimental to our Nation.

I say with my colleagues on the floor, please, take a very serious and close look at this amendment because the American people should not be promised one thing during a campaign and during a bill being written and then when it comes into law, they are going to see something very different, which is going to be detrimental to them, much more expensive for them, for their families, and impact on the kind of care they want for themselves and their families. That is why when I have townhall meetings in Wyoming and other States and people raise their hand, they think the cost of their own care is going to go up and the quality of the care is going to go down.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator's time has expired.

The Senator from Montana.

Mr. BAUCUS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that we have an additional hour available, one-half hour each side, as has been the practice.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. BAUCUS. I yield 10 minutes to the Senator from Washington, Mrs. MURRAY, off the bill.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Washington.

Mrs. MURRAY. Mr. President, throughout this debate, I have come to the floor to share the stories of families and small business owners from my home State of Washington who were suffering under our broken health care system.

I talked about Washington State small business owners, from Kitsap and Kennewick—good people who wanted to cover their employees but who could not afford to continue to pay the skyrocketing premiums. I spoke about mothers and fathers in Seattle and Spokane, grandmothers and grandfathers east of the Cascades and the west—men and women from every part of my State, some barely holding on to their health insurance and some with no coverage at all.

I told the stories of so many people from so many different backgrounds, but each one of them shared a common thread: the health care system we have today didn't work for them. It failed our families one way or another over and over again.

I have received well over 10,000 letters from Washington State residents, and too many of them share that theme: stories of coverage dropped when they needed it most, premiums going up at rates of 20 or 30 or 40 percent, seniors struggling after falling into the doughnut hole. Terrible stories—stories of loved ones who were lost, of children and patients, brothers and sisters, stories about what they had to go through before they passed away—battling insurance companies, losing their coverage, fighting for their care, never giving up but fighting against powers too great for them to bear.

That is why I have fought so hard to reform our broken health insurance system—to fight for our families who need help, to level the playing field for people who just need a little support—for families with real struggles and real problems that we can work together to help. And that is why I am so proud to stand here today and say to those families, and so many others, that although we have not fixed everything that is wrong with our health care system overnight, we have taken a real step forward for people across my home State of Washington and across America.

Today, when President Obama signed health insurance into law, a number of significant improvements kicked in, and some of the worst practices of those insurance companies were tossed into the dustbin of history. Great changes went into effect immediately for families and small business owners, for children and seniors in Washington State and across the country.

Now that this bill is signed into law, if you ever worried about losing your coverage when you or a family member got sick, you don't have to worry anymore. It is no longer allowed. Now that this bill is signed into law, no family ever has to worry about the unreasonable and unfair lifetime caps on coverage that we have seen from insurance companies in the past. Now that this bill has been signed into law, never again will families have to fight for the preventive services they paid for and they deserve—families such as the Labrums, from Port Orchard, WA. Joseph Labrum sent a letter to me about his wife who went to her doctor complaining of pain in her breast. A mammogram failed to show anything, but she personally wasn't convinced. She knew something wasn't right and she knew there was a history of breast cancer in her family. So she asked for an MRI, but her doctor told her that her insurance company wouldn't pay for it, and she just couldn't pay for it on her own. After 3 years of fighting with her insurance company, 3 years of pain and uncertainty, she was finally able to convince them to take that test. By that time, her cancer had grown to 8 centimeters and required a full mastectomy, chemotherapy, and 8 weeks of radiation.

Joseph told me that he is convinced if his wife's care had been up to her doctor and not her insurance company she would have been cured with a minor lumpectomy and wouldn't have had to go through so much pain and suffering.

The bill President Obama signed into law today makes sure that starting today insurance companies will be required to cover preventive services with little or no cost on the part of Washington State patients. Starting today, Washington State families will have access to new streamlined assistance to help them appeal services that have been denied or not covered adequately by their insurance companies. This is going to help anyone who has ever felt buried under a blizzard of forms and denials, and it will start helping our families right away.

For small business owners, starting today, the health insurance market will begin working better for them. Starting today, people such as Mark Peters, the owner of a small technology company in Port Townsend, WA, will be able to better afford care for his employees. Months ago, Mark wrote to tell me that he offers insurance to his employees. He does the right thing. But last year, he got a letter from his insurance company raising rates by 25 percent. Mark told me his small business can't sustain increases like that. No business today can.

In our current health insurance system, small businesses are often at the mercy of the insurance company. They lack the leverage, they lack the negotiating power of larger firms, and they can't afford to hire a human resource department to spend days fighting and haggling for better rates. But those days are coming to an end. Starting today, thanks to the bill President Obama signed, small business owners such as Mark will immediately qualify for the first phase of a tax credit program to help them purchase insurance for their families and for their employees. That credit that will kick in immediately is up to 35 percent of the employer's contribution to coverage, which is going to make a huge difference for almost 100,000 small business owners in my State of Washington right away.

Starting today, if you are a young person or a senior citizen, you will also be helped immediately. Over 159,000 Washington State seniors who fall into that doughnut hole are going to have their brand-name prescription drug costs cut in half starting right away. The law that passed begins to close this destructive coverage gap, and the bill we are discussing today finishes the job and closes that doughnut hole once and for all.

Starting today, insurance companies are going to be required to permit young people to stay on family policies until the age of 26, which is especially important, I must say, now that so many young people are having trouble finding that first job. Again, real help for real people right away. That is why I supported this law, and that is why I fought so hard to get it.

We have been talking about reforming the health insurance system for a long time. Many leaders in this country have tried to fix this broken system. Each of them has failed. But today, thanks to the bill President Obama signed, we begin the move toward real reform—reform that will help families such as the Labrums and small business owners such as Mark Peters, and seniors and young people in Washington State and across the entire country; reform that will help people immediately, starting today, and that will move our families one step closer to lower premiums, more choices, and, at long last, the health care security and stability Americans deserve.

Starting today, things are looking brighter for millions of Americans who have waited far too long for the help they need and deserve.

Mr. President, I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Montana.

Mr. BAUCUS. Mr. President, I yield 10 minutes to the Senator from New Jersey, Mr. MENENDEZ.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from New Jersey.

Mr. MENENDEZ. Mr. President, I thank the distinguished chairman of the Finance Committee for his work on this bill and the bill the President signed earlier today.

Mr. President, the time has come—historic health care has passed this Congress, the President has signed it into law, and the American people will live healthier, safer, more secure lives because of it. Now we come to the floor again, called upon once more, to finalize this historic legislation and make it even better. Once again I ask my colleagues on the other side of the aisle to take their place on the right side of history and end the obstructionism, stop the fear mongering, the apocalyptic predictions, and think about what they are about to do through the long lens of history.

Think of the legacy you want to leave. Think of your grandchildren. Think of all those who will look back a generation from now, maybe two generations, as we did with Social Security and Medicare, the Civil Rights Act, the Voting Rights Act, and ask: How did you vote? Think of what you will say then, and think of what you will tell your children and your grandchildren.

Will you look them in the eye and say you stood up for our families against the big insurance companies and voted for one of the greatest pieces of reform legislation in history? That is exactly what this bill will do. It will change the lives of millions of Americans, just as Social Security and Medicare changed the lives of Americans, and thank God they did. Those two pieces of legislation defined who we are as a people and the strength of the American community, each of us working for the betterment of all of us. It is our obligation, it is our duty, it is our call to history to leave a legacy of hope and health security for every American family.

Now, there are those who stood steadfast against Social Security at a time when millions of seniors were facing ruin in this country—when old women were selling apples on street corners, and seniors who had played by the rules and worked hard all their lives found themselves with nothing and no health care at a time in life when they needed it the most. The concept of Social Security and Medicare, as we know, was a long time coming, but it was the right thing to do. It was a Democratic proposal derided by those who used the same arguments then that they are using today against this legislation: Beware, a government takeover, socialism; the insurers will do the right thing.

Well, they have not. The difference between us then and now is that our friends on the other side of the aisle believe the business of government is to protect big insurance companies. But we believe the business of government is about our people—their lives, their hopes, their dreams for a better, safer, healthier, more secure life for themselves and their families. This is the debate on the floor today, just as it was when we debated Social Security, Medicare, and every other major piece of historic legislation that benefitted people over big business.

The health care needs of our families must prevail over what we see on the floor still today—the delay, the obstructionism, the almost irrational fervor to stand in the way of change that is being driven by talk shows and tea parties in unacceptable outbursts of demeaning language and behavior such as we saw on the steps of the Capitol this past weekend against an American hero such as John Lewis, which will be judged harshly by history.

Let us be clear: Republicans have said no for a century, and once again we hear a resounding no to changing a broken system. I want to say yes. I want to say yes to the people of New Jersey, and let that be our legacy to those we represent. I want to tell the 1.5 million people of New Jersey who are uninsured and the 326,000 who have individual market insurance that they will now have access to affordable health care coverage.

I want to say to the 854,000 New Jerseyans that they will now qualify for tax credits to purchase the health coverage they need and deserve.

I want to say yes to preventive services for 1.3 million seniors in New Jersey who don't have those services today. I want to say yes to the 227,000 seniors in my State who will finally have their drug costs under the Medicare Part D doughnut hole covered over time.

I want to say yes to the tax credits for 107,000 New Jersey small businesses that will be eligible for tax credits to offset their premium costs.

I want to say yes to $14 billion in tax credits and cost-sharing tax credits for New Jerseyans to purchase private health insurance, many for the first time.

I want to say yes to an estimated $9 billion more for Medicaid that New Jersey would receive in this reconciliation bill, which is $580 million more than the original Senate-passed version.

I want to stand and say yes to basic commonsense protections that stop insurance companies from making health care about the bottom line and not the lives of people.

I want to say yes to stopping insurers from denying coverage for preexisting conditions—something that you have no control over, something that happened to you in your health and now stops you from getting health insurance.

I want to say yes to stopping companies from canceling policies when people get sick.

I want to say yes to ending lifetime limits on coverage.

I want to say yes to all of that and leave a legacy of hope to all the families who would benefit from this legislation. Yet it seems the only answer we get from those who have been against this legislation from the beginning is, let's start over. But we are not starting over. It is the law of the land now.

Not only do they want to say no to it, well, they want to repeal it. They want to repeal all of those things. They want to take away those rights that now exist for all Americans as a result of the President's signature. They want to take that away from you. The fact is, hard as it may be for some to realize or accept, Americans voted for change in their lives, change so that they would not have all of these obstacles to the health care of their families and themselves, and that is the change that is being delivered.

Affordable, accessible health care is now the law of the land, and this reconciliation bill makes it even fairer and more affordable for middle-class families. It helps seniors, protects consumers, it eliminates waste and fraud, and it further reduces our national deficit. This bill will eliminate special deals no matter how many times we hear bumper sticker slogans shouted from those who see health care reform in terms of their own political future rather than what is right for America. It makes health care insurance accessible to low- and moderate-income families who never thought they would be able to afford health care for themselves and their children.

It extends the prohibition on dropping people when they get sick and they need it the most and the requirement to provide coverage for non-dependent children up to their 26th birthday, starting 6 months after enactment.

It attacks waste and fraud in Medicare and Medicaid by cracking down on abusive billing practices for hospitalization services, and it strengthens Medicare prepayment reviews to reduce abuses in the system and therefore help build the system.

The time has come once again to be counted. The time has come to take a historic vote once again, to take our place before the lens of history as our predecessors did on Social Security and Medicare and think of what we will tell our grandchildren. History will judge whose side you were on and the legacy we will leave. Voting yes gives young people, such as 24-year-old Christopher Joyce of Old Bridge, NJ, who had no insurance from work and suffered a massive stroke in January that left him paralyzed, barely able to speak, an opportunity to be on their family's policy instead of leaving the family on the verge of losing their home.

Vote yes and never again will a mother and father in America awaken in the middle of the night with a sick child and look at each other knowing they cannot afford the medical care their child needs.

Vote yes and never again will a man, woman or child in America be discriminated against because they are sick or once had something an insurance executive decided was a disqualifying preexisting condition.

Vote yes and never again will an insurance executive be able to make medical decisions instead of a doctor to manage risk for shareholders and hold the bottom line above the lives of people.

Vote yes and Christopher Joyce would have the health insurance he needed to save his family's home.

Vote yes and we will change things for the better for every American family. That is what this bill is all about. It is about a legacy of hope and opportunity and health care security and that is why I will be casting a "yes" vote on reconciliation.

I yield the remainder of any time I have and yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. BROWN of Ohio). The senior Senator from Montana is recognized.

Mr. BAUCUS. I yield 5 minutes to the Senator from Maryland off the bill.

Mr. CARDIN. I thank the Senator for his incredible leadership in our successful completion of health insurance and health care reform. This was a special day, to be with the President of the of the United States when he signed into law the law with which the United States will finally join every other industrialized nation in the world in providing universal health insurance coverage, universal access to health care.

The best news is, we can improve it. We can improve that legislation with the bill that is currently before us. With this bill and the bill the President signed, 32 million Americans who currently do not have health insurance will be insured; 95 percent of Americans under the age of 65 will have health insurance. The good news is, we do this by reducing the Federal budget deficit which we need to do. We all know we need to do that—$100 billion over the next 10 years, over $1 trillion over the next 20 years.

It provides immediate help to small businesses and individuals so people can get insured immediately. For small businesses, if you are under 25 employees, you can get help; 10 or under you can get a tax credit this year, up to 35 percent of the premiums for covering your employees. Then, when the health exchanges come into effect, small companies can get credits up to 50 percent of the premiums they pay.

It provides immediate help for our seniors. I can't tell you how many seniors have talked to me about the dilemma of filling their prescriptions or paying their food bills or cutting pills in half. This year, with the bill the President signed, with the improvements we make to the underlying bill today, seniors will receive a $250 check to help cover the prescription drug costs if they fall within the doughnut hole. Under the bills, we completely eliminate, over time, the so-called doughnut hole seniors fall into and have to pay 100 percent of their prescription drug costs. That will be gone.

Under this legislation, there will be immediate help for individuals who have preexisting conditions to go into a community-based risk pool so they can get affordable health care now as a result of the passage of these bills. Under this legislation, we take on the abusive practices of private insurance companies. Effective within 6 months of enactment, no further discrimination against children with preexisting conditions; extending coverage for young people up to the age of their 26th birthday; ending the rescission of a health insurance policy because a person gets sick; banning lifetime limits on your insurance protection and starting down the path of restricting eliminating annual limits that are unreasonable. All that is included in the legislation we are talking about, providing immediate help to American families to find affordable health care.

Then we add also access to emergency care. I am particularly pleased with these provisions because these were additions, amendments I offered to extend this to emergency care, so insurance companies cannot deny you coverage for going to an emergency room if you had the symptoms where a prudent layperson should go to the emergency room, where you can pick your own primary care physician, where you can take an independent appeal from a decision of an insurance company that is contrary to what you believe is right.

Then, starting in 2011, we start telling insurance companies there is a limit as to how much they can take from your insurance premiums and use for their bureaucratic administrative costs or profits, that they have to put the money back into benefits for you, between 80 and 85 percent. If they do not, you get a refund, a rebate from your insurance company because they have taken too much in premiums from you. That is all in this legislation.

We build upon the community health centers. I particularly wish to thank Senator SANDERS for his leadership. Community health centers are critical to access to care. That is in this bill and it takes effect immediately. These are important changes.

I am also very pleased about the provisions added to this bill in an amendment I offered for minority health that will set up in the Department of Health and NIH a division of minority health so we can start to deal with the disparity in health care in America in a more aggressive way, in a more continuous way, so we can truly provide equal access to health care for all Americans.

The bill the President signed was great. This bill improves upon that. I urge my colleagues, let's take pride in what we were able to do collectively, let's improve it with the bill that is before us. It will help our seniors with prescription drugs, it will reduce the deficit further, make health insurance more affordable, and it will help our States in payment of Medicaid. I urge my colleagues to support the legislation and with that I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The time of the Senator has expired. The senior Senator from Delaware is recognized.

Mr. CARPER. How much time do we have on our side?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator has 6 minutes 5 seconds.

Mr. CARPER. Mr. President, I would like to take a few minutes, before our Republican colleagues return to the floor, to talk about some provisions in the legislation the President signed today that are not very well understood but I think could be of real help in reining in the growth of health care costs. I have said all along—a number of my colleagues have heard me say this before—it is all well and good we want to extend coverage to people who don't have it. There are way too many people who do not have it. But if all we do is extend coverage without reining in the growth of costs, we will not do it for very long.

Among the provisions that I think are especially noteworthy—one, if a person turns 65 next month and they become eligible for Medicare, they are offered, under current law, at least before today's signing of the bill, the opportunity to get a once-in-a-lifetime deal, an annual physical. Under the law of the land until today, that was it. Under Medicare, if they live to be 105, they would not get another physical paid for by Medicare.

I have been getting annual physicals as a naval flight officer, and naval midshipman before that, for 27 years in all. I have had a lot of annual physicals. I think one of the reasons I am a fairly healthy guy is because of that and the feedback from annual physicals. We have a lot of people who never got an annual physical and one of the reasons why is it is not covered under your health insurance coverage. Under the legislation the President signed today, if a person turns 65 and becomes part of Medicare, they get an annual physical; in the next year, another one; in the year after that, if they live to 75 or 85 or 95 or, God bless them, 105, they will get a lot of annual physicals. I think that has the potential for addressing one of the real shortcomings in our health care system in this country. We don't do a very good job in primary care and part of primary care is, frankly, physicals from time to time. We are going to address that.

Another provision in the legislation that has not gotten a whole lot of attention—some but not a lot—is what can we do to incentivize people to take better care of themselves. It is all well and good that we want doctors to get more and nurses and hospitals, and so forth, and go after insurance companies, but what are we doing to incentivize people to take better care of themselves? If you look at a lot of countries where people have better health care than we do, one of the reasons is they take better care of themselves.

Something that has always fascinated me is, how do we figure out how to harness market forces for the delivery of health care? How do we harness market forces and incentives to drive good public policy behavior? We know it is not good for people to be overweight. How can we encourage them to lose weight? One of the things in the underlying bill is a provision that says, I think starting next year, we are going to have a provision requiring menu labeling. What do you mean by menu labeling? If you happen to be a restaurant company with 20 or more restaurants around—if you have a restaurant company and have restaurants in 20 or more sites around the country, you have to start, next year, putting on the menu board in the restaurant how many calories are in the items they serve. If they have a menu, you have to put it on the menu, how many calories they serve. It doesn't mean people will not go in and order 3 or 4,000 calories to consume, but people are going to start thinking about it. It will be a reminder.

Another provision in the legislation that I think is especially noteworthy is to build on something already in the current law but to make it, I think, stronger. We all know people who needed to lose weight and they go on a diet and join a gym or something. They stop. They start. They stop. They exercise for a while, go on a diet and then fall off the wagon and go back to their old habits. You know people stop smoking and they do it for a while and then they start stealing cigarettes from people and eventually they go back full time. What we are trying to do with our legislation is to say: Look, if companies have employees, they know they are overweight, they want to encourage them to lose weight, let them offer a premium discount.

In the legislation, the President said today employers can offer premium discounts of as much as 30 percent for their employees for whom they are providing health insurance. If they are overweight, if they are losing weight and keep it off, if they are smoking and stop smoking and continue to stop smoking, if they have high cholesterol or high blood pressure and they can control those and continue to control those, they can get premium discounts of as much as 30 percent. Everybody in this Chamber today, we all know people who have tried to lose weight, lose it for a while and then go back the other way. We know people who try to stop smoking, they do it for a while and then they go back. What our legislation does is say we want to put more money back in the pockets of people who do what is the right thing for them to do for their own personal health, and by doing that, they actually bring down the health care costs of their group, the place wherever they are working. I think those are ideas that make pretty good sense.

Let me ask the Presiding Officer how much time is left on our side.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Delaware has 50 seconds.

Mr. CARPER. Fifty seconds? The last thing I want to mention is our Presiding Officer is from Ohio. He has been to Cleveland many times. I spent some time in Ohio as well. One of my return visits to Ohio last year was to go back to the Cleveland Clinic to see how they are able to provide better health care for less money than a whole lot of other health care delivery systems. It is because they and the Mayo Clinic and Geisinger and others focus on the same kind of model, better focus on primary care, focus on prevention. All those patients have electronic health records. All the docs are salaried employees. They don't get more money if they do more tests or more MRIs or more this or that. It is a better model. What we do in our legislation signed by the President today is we incentivize a lot of other folks providing health care to use the same models.

With that, my time has expired.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The time of the Senator from Delaware has expired. The senior Senator from Iowa is recognized.

Mr. GRASSLEY. Mr. President, I ask the pending amendment be set aside, if that is necessary.

Mr. CARPER. Reserving the right to object.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. CARPER. We just request to see a copy.

Mr. GRASSLEY. I will discuss the amendment while that is going on.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator is recognized.

AMENDMENT NO. 3564

Mr. GRASSLEY. First of all, if the amendment can be called up, it is 3564. I would like to have Senator ROBERTS added as a cosponsor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. GRASSLEY. Mr. President, I worked for years to pass what is called the Congressional Accountability Act, which was signed into law by President Clinton in 1995. I worked so hard to get that bill passed because I strongly believe that Congress should live under the same laws it passes for the rest of the country.

If you remember, prior to 1995 Congress had exempted itself from 12 different pieces of legislation, starting with the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938. Now, of course, we in Congress, as employers, have to live by the same laws as the ABC Company of Des Moines, IA, as an example. So the same principle applies to some parts of this bill.

That is why I offered an amendment during Finance Committee markup to require that Members of Congress and congressional staff get their employer-based health insurance through the same exchanges as our constituents. Part of that original amendment that I got adopted back then is in the bill the President signed today. And that amendment was adopted without objection, let me say, so it had consensus support. I am hoping the majority will support a similar amendment for the President, the Vice President, senior White House staff, political appointees from the Cabinet and sub-Cabinet, but, of course, not civil servants within the executive branch of government.

Also, my amendment would close a loophole that was added behind closed doors—meaning the closed doors of the majority leader's office, Senator REID, during the time that he was merging the Finance and HELP Committee bills. That loophole would exempt staff from committee and leadership offices from being required to use the exchanges even though individual offices of individual Senators and their staffs and the Senators would still be covered.

Now, you know, it takes a lot of chutzpa behind closed doors to say:

Well, you know, it is okay for the Members' offices and the Members' staff and the individual Senator, but it is not okay for committee staff, it is not okay for leadership staff. Somehow, they are a heck of a lot better than the rest of us. So it would also bring that back to a level playing field for everybody here on Capitol Hill because most of our constituents would find it pretty unbelievable that the President, his closest advisers, and some staff remain untouched by the reforms they pushed for the rest of the country.

To put it simply, President Obama's health care reform will not apply to President Obama or other people, political appointees, within the executive branch. The message the White House, then, is sending to the grassroots of America is that it is good enough for everybody else but not for political appointees in the executive branch of government. So is it really any wonder, then, why most Americans oppose this effort?

Last December, I tried to correct the inequity that I talked about of leadership staff and committee staff, but the effort to apply any new law to the administration was objected to by the Senate majority leader at that particular time. In other words, I didn't get a chance to get a vote on it. But there is no justification for such a double standard. That is blatantly wrong. It is only fair and logical that top administration officials who fought so hard for passage of this overhaul of America's health care system experience it themselves. If it is as good as promised, they will know firsthand. If there are problems, they will be able to really understand those problems, as they should, just as the Congressional Accountability Act teaches each of us Senators, who have to live under the same laws as the rest of the country, that somehow we have to experience them, and then we know what it takes for small businesses to live by the civil rights laws, the wage and hour laws—I can't remember all 12 laws that we exempted ourselves from that we are not now exempted from.

We need to understand grassroots America. What is wrong with Washington is it is an island surrounded by reality, and we have to bring some of the common sense of the rest of the country inside here where we work all the time because the only business in Washington is government, and everybody in government is in the way. Everybody outside of Washington is pulling that way. And we have to make sure that the people in the wagon at least understand the problems of those pulling the wagon, and I think this will be one way to do it.

I ask unanimous consent request that the pending amendment be set aside so that can I offer amendment No. 3564, the amendment I just talked about.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. CARPER. Reserving the right to object, would the Senator modify his unanimous consent request to provide that once all time has been used on the Grassley amendment, the amendment be set aside until a time designated by the leader?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Does the Senator from Iowa so modify his request?

Mr. GRASSLEY. I am fine with that.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The clerk will report.

The assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

The Senator from Iowa [Mr. GRASSLEY], for himself and Mr. ROBERTS, proposes an amendment numbered 3564.

Mr. GRASSLEY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the reading of the amendment be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment is as follows:

(Purpose: To make sure the President, Cabinet Members, all White House Senior staff and Congressional Committee and Leadership Staff are purchasing health insurance through the health insurance exchanges established by the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act)

At the end of subtitle A of title I, insert the following:

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 1312(d)(3)(D) of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act is amended to read as follows:

“(i) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding chapter 89 of title 5, United States Code, or any provision of this title—

“(I) the President, Vice President, each Member of Congress, each political appointee, and each Congressional employee shall be treated as a qualified individual entitled to the right under this paragraph to enroll in a qualified health plan in the individual market offered through an Exchange in the State in which the individual resides; and

“(II) any employer contribution under such chapter on behalf of the President, Vice President, any Member of Congress, any political appointee, and any Congressional employee may be paid only to the issuer of a qualified health plan in which the individual enrolled in through such Exchange and not to the issuer of a plan offered through the Federal employees health benefit program under such chapter.

“(ii) PAYMENTS BY FEDERAL GOVERNMENT.—The Secretary, in consultation with the Director of the Office of Personnel Management, shall establish procedures under which—

“(I) the employer contributions under such chapter on behalf of the President, Vice President, and each political appointee are determined and actuarially adjusted for age; and “(II) the employer contributions may be made directly to an Exchange for payment to an issuer.

“(iii) POLITICAL APPOINTEE.—In this subparagraph, the term ‘political appointee’ means any individual who—

“(I) is employed in a position described under sections 5312 through 5316 of title 5,

United States Code, (relating to the Executive Schedule);

“(II) is a limited term appointee, limited emergency appointee, or noncareer appointee in the Senior Executive Service, as defined under paragraphs (5), (6), and (7), respectively, of section 3132(a) of title 5, United States Code; or

“(III) is employed in a position in the executive branch of the Government of a confidential or policy-determining character under schedule C of subpart C of part 213 of title 5 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

“(iv) CONGRESSIONAL EMPLOYEE.—In this subparagraph, the term ‘Congressional employee’ means an employee whose pay is disbursed by the Secretary of the Senate or the Clerk of the House of Representatives.”.

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendment made by this section shall take effect as if included in the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act.

Mr. CARPER. Would the Senator yield for 30 seconds? One of the things Senator GRASSLEY and I have endeavored to do in working on this legislation in the Finance Committee is to try to figure out what works to rein in the growth of health care costs and improve outcomes.

Where we agree is on one of the best ideas that is in our bill—the idea of large purchasing pools that we modeled after the Federal Employees Health Benefits Plan. We know that we as Members and our staff have to be part of the exchange. The idea is to create large purchasing pools in all of our States and even regional purchasing pools as well.

Mr. GRASSLEY. Without a doubt.

Mr. CARPER. I am glad that provision has survived so far, and I hope it will go on. I wish we could implement it sooner.

Mr. GRASSLEY. I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Alaska.

Ms. MURKOWSKI. I rise this evening in support of the Grassley amendment, and I appreciate that my colleague has brought this forward. We had an opportunity to discuss this months ago in the HELP Committee.

The fact is, the health care bill that is now law creates these State exchanges where all non-Medicaid and Medicare individuals will go to purchase their health insurance. And included in the exchanges are Members of Congress and their personal staff, who are required to join these exchanges in order to obtain their health care benefit.

But as the Senator from Iowa has mentioned, the rules that apply here—the rule that came to my mind when we were discussing this is this rule we were all taught as young children: Do unto others as you would do unto yourself. Unfortunately, I think what we see with this new health care law is that it fails to adhere to this rule.

So what you are going to have under this new law is every American will have to be part of this new health care exchange. But who is going to be left out? Who is going to be excluded? Well, the law itself here is pretty clear in terms of the definitions. It says Members of Congress, congressional staff. Congressional staff means all full-time and part-time employees employed by the official office of a Member of Congress, whether in Washington, DC, or outside of Washington.

But let's think of whom it does not include. It does not include the President, it does not include Cabinet members, it does not include members of the White House senior staff, it does not include committee staff that we may have. As the ranking member on the Energy Committee, I have committee staff for that. As the vice chair of the conference, I have leadership staff. But neither my committee staff nor my leadership staff would be covered under this new law. In other words, many of the chief architects of this health care law were apparently, very conveniently, omitted from any requirement of being within the health exchange.

So, again, whether it is the Cabinet members, the White House senior staff, the committee members, the leadership staff, you have to ask the question, Why have they been left out of this? Why is there a double standard? And if you are not asking that question, is it just a glaring omission or is there something else? Is this yet further evidence of what we are seeing that was done in the back rooms, the outcome of the late nights, the back-room deals that certain staffers who might perhaps work for the majority leader or certain staffers who work for the White House get to be treated differently than every other American out there? I do not think that is what we intended here.

As I mentioned, during the HELP Committee markup, I supported an amendment that was offered by Senator COBURN that most Democrats on the committee did not support. But it would require Members of Congress and their staffs to be included in the health care exchange. And the conversation that was had at the committee at that point in time, certainly by Members on the Republican side, was: Hey, if it is good enough for my constituents, if it is good enough for the people of the State of Alaska, then it ought to be good enough for me, it ought to be good enough for the President. But what we see is the President and the House and the Senate leadership offices who have pulled this bill together have conveniently left themselves out from being subjected to this provision.

So I appreciate Senator GRASSLEY bringing up this issue, pointing it out, pointing out that there are omissions. There are perhaps convenient omissions. I am not one to say whether it has been convenient or not, but it does raise the question, So what else has been left out? What else is contained within this bill that might be viewed by others as a special deal?

Earlier on the floor, Senator MCCAIN came and, along with many of our colleagues, kind of outlined some of those special deals about which I know people in Alaska are quite concerned.

They are like, wait a minute, if you are going to move health care reform in the manner you have, make sure it is even, make sure it is equal, make sure people are treated fairly and in a manner that we think and we recognize is consistent.

So I think we need to ask ourselves certain questions about what is in and what is out. We know there is certainly more spending—more spending in terms of the proposal. We know we have gone from $200 billion in spending to now $2.6 trillion in spending. We know there are more entitlements, we see that repeated and repeated, $115 billion in new entitlement spending, bringing the combined new spending in the proposal to $1.2 trillion. We know there are more taxes. We know there are more Medicare cuts. We know there are more gimmicks. You know, these are why the folks back home are saying: Wait a minute, these are the types of things you have promised us, and now you are telling us there are some good provisions in this bill, you are going to like this bill once you get to know it.

Some of my colleagues will tell you Medicare patients will now see free preventive services. I admit that sounds great. I am all for making sure we have screenings, whether they be mammograms or preventive services. But I have to ask the question, in a State such as Alaska where we face such an incredible crisis when it comes to access to care, to primary providers, knowing that we now have this bill before us, this new law of the land, how many of the few primary care doctors in my State are going to be accepting those new Medicare patients to provide them these wonderful preventive services, these free preventive services?

According to experts, not only in Alaska but in many parts of rural America, Medicare patients are not going to have a provider who will be willing to take them on. We have a think tank in the State, the Institute of Socioeconomic Research, that has said that seniors in low-payment Medicare States are going to be forced to wait in line. They have said: Independent of the doc fix, in Alaska, seniors are at risk for long lines to see a primary care doctor and overflowing to community health centers and hospital emergency rooms where existing capacity is highly likely to be quickly overwhelmed and long wait times become increasingly common. They go on to say that additional insured patients are going to hurt the existing Medicare beneficiaries, again, because of the access issue.

What we will have done is, we will have been able to issue that card, we will be able to say, yes, this is now available to you. But if you still can't get in to see the provider, then what have we provided for these seniors other than the card? That is not access. My mom used to tell us: If it sounds too good to be true, it is probably too good to be true. We are going to be spending a fair amount of time in these next few days and in the next many hours going through so many aspects of this reconciliation bill, trying to understand what is in it, what is not in it, who it applies to, and how it applies.

I am hopeful tomorrow I will have an opportunity to talk a little bit more about not necessarily the health care side of this reconciliation bill but one way in which the health care reforms are going to be paid for, and that is on the backs of students; students who have taken out loans, who, as we eliminate the Federal Family Education Loan program, the FEL program, essentially we are going to be helping to pay these young people. These some 19 million young people who take out student loans are going to be paying for the cost of the health care provisions contained within this bill. Is that right? Is that fair?

There is so much that needs to be discussed, that needs to be uncovered. Because what we have before us within this reconciliation bill is more of the same in terms of the bad provision that passed this Senate on December 24—more taxes, more cuts to Medicare, more hits to our seniors and our small business people. It was not good in the Senate bill. It is made worse in the reconciliation provision. Our job tonight and in the intervening hours is to make sure that the American public fully understands that.

I yield the floor.

THE PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Iowa.

Mr. GRASSLEY. Please tell me how much time remains on this side.

THE PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Iowa has 15 minutes remaining.

Mr. GRASSLEY. I thank the Chair.

Mr. President, I know many folks look at this week's debate as the end of the process. I know some people look at the conclusion of this week with relief. I look at it with regret, regret for the opportunity squandered and regret for problems that we must now address. Our health care system is in need of reform. Our health care system spends too much, leaves too many people without coverage, and doesn't provide quality care that it should. We had an opportunity to do something about it the right way. We could have passed a bill with broad support in Congress and among the American people. That opportunity was lost. This process started in a bipartisan fashion. In 2008, the Finance Committee held a health care summit. The committee brought in experts from all over the country and all over the health care spectrum. We held numerous hearings. In 2009, the Finance Committee put together bipartisan roundtables and walk-throughs of the critical issues in creating this health care legislation.

Throughout the summer of 2009, six of us worked together in a bipartisan fashion to try to reach an agreement that could achieve broad-based support, because we felt that is traditional of social change in America, to be bipartisan. This was a restructuring of one-sixth of the economy. Doing that ought to be done not on a partisan basis, not on a slight bipartisan basis, but on the basis of a broad consensus. Somewhere along the line, though, getting it done quickly became more important than getting it done right. Was it when the HELP Committee produced a partisan draft that would have cost more than $2 trillion? Was it when the House slammed bills that were outright government takeovers through committee? Every year I hold 99 town-hall meetings, one for each county in Iowa. When I went home last July and August, I found anger back home in my State. People were mad. People were fearful. They saw a government that took over General Motors, took over banks, spent us into mind-boggling debt. My people were worried about the direction of this country. Nothing has happened since August that has improved that situation.

While Americans get up every morning worried that the struggling economy may cost them their jobs, Congress has been hyperfocused on health care reform. This hyperfocus has led Congress to abandon bipartisanship and make some very questionable deals in the name of just getting it done. Congress had an opportunity to enact something the American people could support, but congressional Democrats and the White House seemed so focused on making history, they stopped actually listening to the American people. All the backroom deals, the budget gimmicks, and broken promises made it clear they are willing to go to any length to pass any bill, just any bill.

Health care reform will raise taxes by a half a trillion dollars. It will cut Medicare by more than a half a trillion dollars and not strengthen Medicare, but doing it solely to create a new and unsustainable entitlement program. Of course, it will cause health insurance premiums to go up even more than they are already going up. Rather than bringing the country together around some commonsense reform, it has driven the country farther apart at the very time we need to come together, especially for economic recovery efforts and the creation of jobs.

Health care reform legislation should have been done with broad-based support. Now, of course, this excessive bill is law. An opportunity has been lost. This legislation will raise taxes by a trillion dollars.

This is not the end, not by a long shot. Now the process of cleaning up the mess begins. Hopefully we can get some of these changes started this week in this very bill before the Senate. Because Congress will be back to fix challenges created by this bill. The Medicare physician payment problem, for one, is still out there. It will cost more than $300 billion to fix. Neither the bill the House passed Sunday nor this reconciliation bill addresses that very major problem. Congress will have to come back and fix it.

Another problem: Medicare is still going bankrupt. Hundreds of billions of dollars were taken out of the Medicare Program and were not used to improve the solvency of that program. Even the President has now acknowledged that you can't count the savings to pay for the new entitlement and to improve Medicare solvency, something I tried to tell this body many a time. Now the President says it. I hope people who avoided this last time are listening to the President. Congress will have to come back and fix it.

There are billions of dollars of cuts to Medicare providers in the health care reform bill that are totally unsustainable. Providers will not be able to survive if these cuts go into effect. A cynical person might suggest some providers supported the bill knowing there would be an influx of dollars to pay for new coverage, knowing that they would have years to stave off the corresponding payment cuts. So as I have said before, Congress will have to come back to this 2,700-page law the President just signed and fix it.

The bill gets half of the new coverage through the Medicaid Program. Everybody knows that Medicaid is threadbare to begin with. Adding 16 million people to Medicaid with tens of billions of dollars of unfunded liability for States is not going to improve that program. The reconciliation bill has a farcical 2-year payment increase for physicians in Medicaid that ends with a 50-percent cliff. No one has yet explained to me how that is supposed to improve the program. Congress will have to come back and fix it.

The bill prohibits health plans from denying coverage of preexisting conditions for kids under 19, starting 6 months after enactment. Sounds very positive; right? But in the rush to get things done, the majority failed to notice that prohibiting preexisting condition exclusions but allowing insurance companies to still deny kids entirely will end up in more kids being denied coverage.

Finally, the health care reform bill included a long-term care entitlement called by the acronym the CLASS Act. The CLASS Act is a fiscal disaster waiting to happen. When it starts to run out of money, when the insurance death spiral hits the program, the taxpayers will be on the hook to fix it. Congress will have to come back and fix it. Congress will have hundreds and hundreds of billions of dollars of problems to come back and fix.

I yield the floor.

AMENDMENT NO. 3567, AS MODIFIED

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from New Hampshire.

Mr. GREGG. I ask unanimous consent to call up and modify my amendment which is pending at the desk.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, the amendment is so modified.

The amendment (No. 3567), as modified, is as follows:

At the end of subtitle B of title I, add the following:

SEC. ____ . PREVENTING THE IMPLEMENTATION OF NEW ENTITLEMENTS THAT WOULD RAID MEDICARE.

(a) BAN ON NEW SPENDING TAKING EFFECT.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Secretary of the Treasury and the Secretary of Health and Human Service are prohibited from implementing any spending increase or revenue reduction provision in either the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act or this Act (referred to in this section as the “Health Care Acts”) unless the Chief Actuary of the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services Office of the Actuary (referred to in this section as “CMS OACT”) certifies that all of the projected Federal spending increases and revenue reductions resulting from the Health Care Acts will be offset by projected gross savings from the Health Care Acts.

(2) CALCULATIONS.—For purposes of this section, projected gross savings shall—

(A) include gross reductions in Federal spending and gross increases in revenues made by the Health Care Acts; and

(B) exclude any projected gross savings or other offsets directly resulting from changes to Medicare made by the Health Care Acts.

(b) LIMIT ON FUTURE SPENDING.—For the purpose of carrying out this section and upon the enactment of this Act, CMS OACT shall—

(1) certify whether all of the projected Federal spending increases and revenue reductions resulting from the Health Care Acts, starting with fiscal year 2014 and for the following 9 fiscal years, are fully offset by projected gross savings resulting from the Health Care Acts (as calculated under subsection (a)(2)); and

(2) provide detailed estimates of such spending increases, revenue reductions, and gross savings, year by year, program by program and provision by provision.

Mr. GREGG. I express my appreciation to the Senator from Montana for allowing me to do this at this time.

I understand we will have some agreement; is that correct?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Montana is recognized.

Mr. BAUCUS. Mr. President, I yield 12 minutes off the bill to the Senator from Minnesota.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Minnesota is recognized.

Mr. FRANKEN. Mr. President, today we took a historic step forward toward a healthier America. I am proud that the Senate is debating the reconciliation bill this evening, fulfilling our pledge to make some crucial adjustments to the Senate bill we passed in December. The reconciliation bill before us will make the newly minted reform bill even better. It will provide stronger subsidies for low- and middle-income working families so they can afford insurance. That means fewer people getting primary care in emergency rooms. It will limit the number of families affected by the excise tax on high-cost plans and address geographic disparities in Medicare. It will finally close the Medicare prescription drug doughnut hole so that so many of our seniors no longer will have to choose between eating or taking medicine.

But let's be honest, even with these changes, it still is not perfect. We will continue to improve it because there are always things we cannot foresee. Look, we are still making adjustments to Medicare 40 years later. When Medicare passed, there was also ample opposition, not dissimilar to what we are hearing about this bill. Opponents said Medicare would be a government takeover of health care. But today you will not find a single senior in Minnesota who wants to give up his or her Medicare.

In fact, just in these past few months, I am so pleased that so many of my colleagues on the other side of the aisle have spoken out in favor of Medicare and of strong benefits for seniors. I am confident, similar to Medicare, support for health care reform—which is already strong—will continue to grow with time as people understand how helpful it will be to working families.

Unfortunately, many people have been scared by the misinformation that has been used to try to defeat reform. For example, there is an important point that has been lost in the overblown and apocalyptic rhetoric these past few months: This bill is not a government takeover of health care. In fact, it is an expansion of private coverage, with millions more Americans covered by private insurance companies.

Let me say this again. The Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act expands private insurance. Since we are giving these companies a huge influx of new business, we have to hold them accountable. We do that by improving regulation of these companies by making sure they keep patients as their highest priority. Our bill ends preexisting condition exclusions, no more lifetime and annual caps. Mental health services will be covered, and companies will not be able to kick people off their plans when they get sick.

The truth is, in my State, there are a lot of good things happening in health care already. But even in Minnesota we need help. We have people who cannot afford their coverage, rising costs, and a huge State budget deficit.

I support this bill because it helps Minnesota in all the ways we need right now—incentives to advance State innovation and instant relief to cover low-income Minnesotans in Medicaid. This is helpful at a time when the State legislature is struggling to make ends meet. For Minnesota small business owners who are stretched but want to cover their workers will have access to tax credits this year, in 2010. I am also very pleased that this bill will begin to fix one of the most flawed elements of our current system: Medicare reimbursements.

Our system punishes—punishes—high-quality Minnesota providers, such as the Mayo Clinic, by paying them less because they provide efficient, low-cost care. The Senate bill includes provisions that I fought for with my colleagues, Senators CANTWELL and KLOBUCHAR, to reward value not volume in Medicare.

Thanks to my colleague, Representative MCCOLLUM of Minnesota, we have a commitment from Secretary Sebelius to continue to expand these efforts to hospitals and nursing homes.

I am proud to represent Minnesota at this historic time and to have contributed to improving the health of this country for future generations. Our new law, improved by the reconciliation bill, will be a major victory for Minnesota families.

But if this reconciliation bill passes, we will also be scoring a double victory for working families. In addition to expanding access to health care, this bill will make it less expensive for working families to send their kids to college. By cutting out the middleman from the student lending system, we are able to increase funding for Pell grants and make it easier for college graduates to repay their loans. Not only are these measures fully paid for, they will also reduce the deficit.

Under the current Federal Family Education Loan Program, or FFEL, the Federal Government pays lenders enormous subsidies to entice them to lend to students. Then, on top of that, the government guarantees the loans so there is virtually no risk to the banks—just taxpayer-subsidized profits. This is not a private enterprise program, as the banks would like you to believe. It is corporate welfare, masquerading as private enterprise.

The good news is that there is a better way to run the government loan program than keeping banks on the dole. It is called direct lending, and it slashes $61 billion in costs by cutting out the middleman and lending to students directly.

This idea is hardly new. In the early 1990s, Senator David Durenberger of Minnesota, a Republican, joined with Senator Paul Simon of Illinois, a Democrat, in a bipartisan effort to end the wasteful practices of the bank lending program. They were able to give colleges the option of switching to direct lending, but the bank lobbyists thwarted their efforts to eliminate the bank subsidy program altogether.

Today, I am proud to be continuing Senator Durenberger's fight to eliminate wasteful bank subsidies. I am also proud that the University of Minnesota is leading the way. The U of M was one of the first universities in the Nation to switch to direct lending. I recently met with students and administrators at several U of M campuses, and they told me that the direct lending program is working very well. Not only does it provide students with the same benefits as the bank subsidy program at a lower cost, but it also reduces the administrative headaches of financial aid officers by decreasing the number of entities they have to deal with.

To be blunt, our choice is simple. We can continue to waste billions to line the pockets of banks or we can use that money to help low-income and middle-class kids go to college. I certainly do not want to go home to Minnesota next week and explain to my constituents that the Senate decided to keep forking over their hard-earned tax dollars to banks rather than help their kids go to college.

For many families, it is the opportunity to send their kids to college that is at stake. Most of the money that would be saved from switching to direct lending would be used to strengthen the Pell grant. Pell grants give over 8 million low-income and middle-class students the opportunity to realize the dream of attaining a college education.

Pell grants hold a special place in my heart because of the opportunity they gave my wife and her family. When Franni was 17 months old, her father died in a car accident, leaving Franni's mom widowed at age 29 with five kids. My brother-in-law Neil went into the Coast Guard and became an electrical engineer. But all four girls went to college, and they were able to do it with a combination of scholarships and Pell grants.

Unfortunately, since then, the purchasing power of the Pell grant has declined dramatically. Thirty years ago, the maximum Pell grant covered 77 percent—77 percent—of the cost of attending the average 4-year public college. These days, it only covers 35 percent.

This economy has made a bad situation worse. Many of the students and families I have met in Minnesota are struggling with high tuition and a tough economy. The average Minnesota student graduates from college with over $25,000 of debt. Job losses and cutbacks have left many middle-class families barely hanging on. That means more students who depend on Pell grants have to spend more hours at work and away from their studies to help pay for their education.

Unfortunately, the economic crisis has also increased the demand for Pell grants, as more families have fallen on tough times. The increase in demand has left us with a $19 billion shortfall in the Pell grant program. If we do not fix this shortfall, nearly 600,000 students could lose their Pell grants entirely. Another 8 million students could have their grants cut by almost 60 percent. This would be catastrophic for those students and their families.

In this economy, it would be an unforgivable failure for Congress to allow Pell grants to be cut in half. It would also be shortsighted, since we know that within a decade 75 percent of all new jobs will require a college education. A national switch to direct lending is simply the right thing to do for our students, for our families, and for our economy.

So I wish to urge my colleagues to stand for what is right and support this reconciliation package that further improves our health care system, puts kids in front of banks, and reduces the deficit.

I thank the Chair. I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator's time has expired.

The Senator from Rhode Island is recognized.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Mr. President, on behalf of Senator BAUCUS, I yield myself up to 20 minutes and that Senator BROWN be recognized for up to 10 minutes and that the time be charged against the bill.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Mr. President, on this historic day, I rise to speak, as I have many times before, about our historic opportunity to turn away from the path of fiscal crisis and toward the difficult and vital work of bringing down the costs of health care.

After the wild and unsustainable borrowing of the Bush era, we now face an era of limited resources, in which every last dollar is needed to spur economic recovery, create jobs, and restore economic security for all. Economists agree with virtual unanimity that the needless and excessive cost of health care is the heaviest weight dragging down America's economic growth.

In 1955, the year I was born, the Nation spent $12 billion annually on health care. Last year, we spent $2.5 trillion—$134 billion more than the previous year, the largest year-to-year increase in history, and 200 times what we spent the year I was born. That spending constitutes a stunning 17.3 percent of our Nation's entire gross domestic product—also the highest level in our history.

The cost of our Republican colleagues' desire to do nothing would have been impossibly high. In my home State of Rhode Island, a family of four would have faced more than $26,000 in premiums for family health insurance in 2016. Last year, premiums for Medicare Advantage nationally jumped an average of 14.2 percent—just in 1 year. Indeed, this escalation is unsustainable, but it is not inevitable.

A great deal of health care cost is nothing more than waste—waste resulting from a status quo that is irrational, disorganized, and often downright greedy and mean. The only good news about all this waste and excess cost is that we know where to look for savings. In the reform bill signed by President Obama today, we deploy every tool at our disposal to reap those savings.

This health care debate has been enveloped in—indeed, sometimes blinded by—a blizzard of numbers: CBO reports, actuarial analyses, projections upon estimates upon projections. Too often, my colleagues on the other side pluck out only those figures that serve their purpose—their purpose to delay and ultimately defeat this bill for their insurance company friends.

However, I believe that a fair view of the evidence demonstrates that this reform bill will do more to lower health care costs, reduce the deficit, and free up precious resources in the private sector than any reform has ever done before.

Let me start with the budget deficit. In its most recent report, CBO projects that the bill, combined with the package of improvements that is now before the Senate, will reduce the deficit by $138 billion over the next decade. Economists in the Commonwealth Fund have estimated that the bill will reduce the deficit even more dramatically by $409 billion over the next 10 years. In the second decade, CBO projects that the combined bills will reduce the deficit by a broad range around one-half percent of GDP. One-half percent of GDP is $1.3 trillion over 10 years, a significant achievement in deficit reduction.

Let's look at another number the critics too frequently ignore: savings in Medicare and Medicaid spending from innovative reforms in the delivery of health services, particularly increased efficiencies, improved quality, and the elimination of wasteful spending. Both CBO and the CMS Actuary estimate those savings at roughly \$490 billion, nearly  $\frac{1}{2}$  trillion over the next 10 years. The economists at the Commonwealth Fund peg that number over half a trillion dollars, at \$576 billion. Examples of this are found in CBO's forecast that an independent, nonpartisan commission of experts with authority to determine payment rates under Medicare will save the Treasury \$13.3 billion over a 10-year period. CBO also credits Medicare payment reforms that seek to limit hospital readmissions and hospital-acquired infections with \$7.1 billion in savings, and incentives that encourage physicians to group together in cost-saving organizations with \$4.9 billion in savings. We know these things work because places such as the Mayo Clinic in Minnesota are out there doing that right now.

Not only does this bill protect the Medicare trust fund and preserve Medicare benefits, it also reduces spending growth in the outyears. The savings I have been talking about are not just a one-off proposition and then back on the spending growth ratchet; this bill reshapes the delivery system so that Federal health care costs should never grow at this outrageous rate again. CBO and Commonwealth Fund economists find that the bill reduces the Medicare rate of growth by 2 percent. President Obama's Council of Economic Advisers estimates that the bill will:

Reduce the annual growth rate of Federal spending by a percentage point in the upcoming decade and by an even greater amount in the subsequent decade—which would increase national savings and improve the long-run performance of the U.S. economy, in their words.

Widening the focus from public programs to the economy as a whole, the challenge posed by wasteful health care costs expands. The President's Council of Economic Advisers recently released an updated report in which they concluded that: Annual waste and inefficiency in the health care status quo approaches 5 percent of GDP, $700 billion—billion with a ‘b’—$700 billion every year in waste and inefficiency. Set aside for a moment duplicative tests, lost medical records, unnecessary treatments, and uncoordinated care for chronic patients and look just at the administrative overhead of the private insurance market. As we know, the administrative costs for Medicare run about 3 percent to 5 percent. Overhead for private insurers is an astounding 20 percent to 27 percent. A Commonwealth Fund report indicates that private insurer administrative costs increased 109 percent from 2000 to 2006, more than double in 6 years, and my colleagues can just imagine the mischievous purposes to which all that bureaucracy is being put.

The McKinsey Global Institute estimates that Americans spend roughly $128 billion annually on excess administrative overhead of private insurance companies—$128 billion every year. Then, of course, there are those duplicative tests: lost medical records, unnecessary treatments, and uncoordinated care for patients. Because of all of this waste in the system, the Council of Economic Advisers concludes that:

[i]t should be possible to cut total health expenditures about 30 percent without worsening outcomes . . . which would again suggest that savings on the order of 5 percent of GDP could be feasible.

Remember, again, that 5 percent of our Nation's gross domestic product is $700 billion a year.

They are not alone. Other experts agree. The New England Health Care Institute reports that as much as $850 billion in annual excess costs: “can be eliminated without reducing the quality of care.” Former Treasury Secretary O'Neill has written recently that the excess cost is $1 trillion a year. And the Lewin Group, which is often cited by my colleagues on the other side of the aisle here, finds that we burn up over $1 trillion a year through excess cost and waste in our broken health care delivery system.

Whether it is $700 billion a year or $1 trillion a year, it is a big savings target—bigger than anything discussed by CBO—and the tools to achieve these potential savings are in this bill. Analysts of all stripes agree that this bill does more than any previous measure to relieve the economy of this dead weight of waste and excess health care costs.

The Commonwealth Fund has projected that our bill will reduce the annual growth of national health expenditures—that is the amount that the private and public sector spend on health care every year—by 0.6 percentage points annually—$683 billion over the next 10 years. The Council of Economic Advisers writes that “total slowing of private sector cost growth” will be approximately 1 percentage point per year.

Why does this happen? This happens because the bill begins to restructure, streamline, and modernize our disorganized and illogical medical delivery system. It changes outmoded payment systems that you will pay for good health care outcomes, not just more procedures. It funds comparative effectiveness research so you will know whether something works before you pay for it. It creates financial incentives for low-quality but high-cost providers to improve their performance, and for transparency so you will know who they are and you can avoid them. It makes investments in wellness and prevention to reduce costs by keeping you healthy in the first place. It improves the coordination of care for chronic care and multiple diagnosis patients. Anyone with a family member in that situation knows how difficult trying to organize their care is. It starts demonstration and pilot projects in Medicare to create quality-based efficiencies in health care delivery that will spread out to the private sector.

Such investments in quality of care pay proven dividends. For example, I often talk about the Keystone Project in Michigan which reduced infections, respiratory complications, and other medical errors in Michigan's intensive care units. It didn't even go to all of the intensive care units. Just in the participating ones, it saved more than 1,800 lives, over 140,000 days that patients would have spent in the hospital—140,000 saved patient days—and, of course, over 271 million health care dollars, saving lives and saving dollars.

In my home State, the Rhode Island Quality Institute has taken this model statewide with every one of our hospitals participating, and we are already seeing hospital-acquired infections and costs declining: a 16.5 percent decrease in mortality and a statewide mortality rate almost 21 percent lower than the national average, saving the State's health care system $6 million overall so far.

Analysts agree that there is a big savings opportunity, and many agree that we are taking the right approach to tackling it. But they also agree that the amount of savings we can achieve is uncertain. Why? Why is it uncertain if the tools are in the bill to achieve the savings? It is uncertain because administering and applying these tools effectively will be essential. Remember: We have never before taken aim at this target. We have never launched such a battery of innovative reforms, even though experts have been advocating them in some cases for decades. Success will depend on the quality of executive management, how dynamic we are in bringing these innovative tools to bear on a problem. The quality of executive management with innovative tools is simply not something that CBO knows how to score. It is not something they can do.

CBO Director Doug Elmendorf has conceded in a letter to Budget Committee Chairman KENT CONRAD:

Changes in government policy have the potential to yield large reductions in both national health care expenditures and Federal health care spending without harming health.

Many experts agree on some general directions in which the government's health care policy should move. Many of the specific changes that might ultimately prove most important cannot be foreseen today and could be developed only over time through experimentation and learning.

That is Doug Elmendorf: experimentation and learning.

That sounds an awful lot like the example used by Dr. Atul Gawande, one of our most thoughtful commentators on this subject, who analogized health care to the agricultural sector. He wrote about the agricultural sector:

That [it] was strangling the country at the beginning of the 20th century . . . The government never took over agriculture, but the government didn't leave it alone either. It shaped a feedback loop of experiments and learning and encouragement for farmers across the country.

Experiments and learning. How did that work out? To continue with Dr. Gawande:

The results were beyond what anyone could have imagined. Productivity went way up. Prices fell by half. Today, food is produced on no more land than was devoted to it a century ago and with far greater variety and abundance than ever before in history.

The strategy works because United States agencies were allowed to proceed by trial and error, continually adjusting policies over time, in response not to ideology but to hard measurement of the results against social goals . . . Pick up the Senate health care bill—yes, all 2,074 pages—and leaf through it. Almost half of it is devoted to programs that would test various ways to curb costs and increase quality . . . The bill is a hodgepodge. And it should be.

Here is how he wraps things up. He says this:

We crave sweeping transformations. However, all the current bill offers is those pilot programs, a battery of small-scale experiments. The strategy seems hopelessly inadequate to solve a problem of this magnitude. And, yet—history suggests otherwise.

David Cutler is a widely respected Harvard health care economist. He wrote in the Wall Street Journal recently that:

[o]ver the past year of debate, 10 broad ideas have been offered for bending the health care cost curve. The Democrats' proposed legislation incorporates virtually every one of them.

Professor Cutler gives the bill "full credit" on six of the cost control ideas and "partial credit" on three, including ideas regularly championed by my colleagues on the other side, such as combating fraud and abuse in the Medicare system and reform in the medical malpractice liability system.

The only area in which Cutler gives the bill zero credit is in its failure to include a public option. It is hard for our colleagues on the other side to criticize us for that since it is the thing they fought the hardest against. As codrafter with the distinguished Presiding Officer, Senator BROWN of Ohio, I deeply regret that provision was excluded. Perhaps on another occasion we will have the chance to revisit that issue. But 9 of the 10 cost control mechanisms are in this bill, and the 10th was a public option our colleagues opposed.

David Cutler concludes that "[w]hat is on the table is the most significant action on medical spending ever proposed in the United States." In spite of the uncertainty described by CBO Director Elmendorf, Cutler estimates that the reforms will save "nearly $600 billion over the next decade and even more in the subsequent one."

Nobel laureate Paul Krugman agrees that "there's good reason to believe that [CBO's] estimates are too pessimistic. There are many cost-saving efforts in the proposed reform, but nobody knows how well any one of these efforts will work. And as a result, official estimates don't give the plan much credit for any of them. . . . Realistically, health reform is likely to do much better at controlling costs than any of the official projections suggest."

Recently, three more respected health economists—Len Nichols of George Mason, Ken Thorpe of Emory, and Alan Garber of Stanford—described the bill's cost controls as vital, a significant improvement on the status quo. As Professor Thorpe neatly described it:

Under the do-nothing scenario, everything gets worse.

And MIT professor Jonathan Gruber, one of our leading health economists, said this of the bill's cost control measures:

I can't think of a thing to try they didn't try.

I ask unanimous consent for an additional minute.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Professor Gruber said:

I can't think of a thing to try that they didn't try. They really make the best effort anyone has ever made. Everything is in here. . . . You couldn't have done better than they are doing.

When the do-nothing crowd on the other side argues that this bill is a cost disaster, that it has no master plan, I urge that American ingenuity, through experimentation and learning, can overcome the toughest challenges, not through command and control but through a flexible, dynamic, and persistent exercise—experimentation, learning, and encouragement.

I will close by urging President Obama to specify a savings target for his administration to achieve. I have before recommended setting the target at $200 billion in annual savings by 2014. That should be conservative and easy to achieve. But a clear and specific goal will wheel the vast apparatus of Federal bureaucracy more rapidly toward the comprehensive change we need.

When President Kennedy announced in September of 1962 that America would strive to put a man on the Moon, he set a specific target. He did not say he was going to bend the curve of space exploration; he said he would put a man on the Moon. What he said about that is this:

We choose to do such things not because they are easy, but because they are hard, because that goal will serve to organize and measure the best of our energies and skills, because that challenge is one that we are willing to accept, one we are unwilling to postpone, and one which we intend to win. . . .

Health care cost is a challenge we are indeed willing to accept, it is one we cannot afford to postpone, and it is one which we can and must and will win.

I thank the Presiding Officer for his courtesy. I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. WHITEHOUSE). The Senator from Ohio.

Mr. BROWN of Ohio. Mr. President, I thank you for the work you did on this bill that the President signed today to bring costs under control in our health care system, to do what we need to do to insure 32 million people, to provide consumer protections this bill offers, and to give these tax breaks immediately to America's small businesses.

One of the most important components of that is the work you and others in this Chamber did to bring costs down in this health care system, the costs that afflict taxpayers, the costs that afflict small businesses, the costs that afflict, in effect, our ability to compete around the world, and the costs that come directly out of people's pockets, those who have health insurance and those who do not, and the huge burdens of costs. We are finally on a track to do the right thing. I thank the Presiding Officer, the Senator from Rhode Island, Mr. WHITEHOUSE.

I will speak for just a few minutes. I have come to this floor since July, as we voted the health care bill initially out of the Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions Committee, night after night mostly for the last 7 or 8 months, to share letters from Ohioans with my colleagues. There are a couple of things these letters have in common.

In most cases, these letters are written by people who have had significant problems, generally have lost their insurance or are paying so much it is hardly insurance. These letters typically come from people who a year or two ago would have told you they were satisfied with their insurance; they thought it covered what they needed. Then something happened. They either lost their job or lost their insurance or had a child born with a preexisting condition and could not get insurance for her or him or they got very sick and their care was very expensive and the insurance company cut them off or the insurance company realized they were going to be expensive—they perhaps had a preexisting condition and they were getting more expensive—or they were getting older and the insurance company found a way by charging them so much. They could not cancel the insurance, so they thought perhaps they could force the letter writer—the insurer—to cancel the insurance.

The other thing they had in common so often was so many of the letter writers were 60, 61, 62 years old and said: I can't wait until I get on Medicare because I can trust Medicare; I know Medicare is stable; it will be there for me. It is a strong government program, not socialism. Government is simply the insurer. The government has made such a difference in the lives of so many senior citizens because the Medicare Program worked.

As the Presiding Officer knows—just a little history of this institution and this bill—the same arguments that were used this year against this health care bill were used against Medicare in 1965: socialism, government takeover. Back then, it was the John Birch Society. Today, it is the tea parties. They said: A government bureaucrat will get between my doctor and me. It was not true about Medicare; it is not true now.

The public clearly sees through this. That is why this Congress passed this bill, and that is why the President today—and one of the most important things professionally in my lifetime by a long shot, maybe the most important thing as I watched the President of the United States today sign this legislation.

Let me share three or four letters from Ohioans to give you an idea what this bill means to people whom it affects. We on this floor hear the debate and the partisanship and see the obstructionism from the other side, and who is going to win, Republicans or Democrats. The reason we are doing this bill is these letters. That is why it matters. You will see this.

David from northern Ohio:

My best friend's husband is a hemophiliac. He has had a pretty scary life and could be just one bleed away from death or financial ruin. They are about to hit their cap for their employer-provided insurance and have very few choices to seek out other insurance because of his preexisting condition. They have done everything that people should do—they have worked hard, put money aside for retirement, and only used their insurance when it was absolutely necessary. I can't imagine—the fear they must constantly feel. Please stand firm and remember those whose voices are small individually, but are strong standing together.

She writes about her friend—

Health reform will help families such as David's friend's family because it will get rid of lifetime limits and arbitrary annual caps on benefits. In this case of the man who has hemophilia and his wife, they know if their health care gets too expensive, under the present system or at least the system before today, before the President signed the bill, they know they can lose their insurance if it gets too expensive. They will not have any coverage then. Under this bill, insurance companies simply can no longer do that.

Diane from Cuyahoga County writes:

We have a small business that has been in the family for many years. But after doing well, our situation is precarious because of the high cost of health insurance.

In the last few years, we have continually downgraded our health insurance coverage. We are struggling to pay our health care bills and, of course, have no dental or eye coverage.

Putting children through college, paying health insurance, and trying to keep the business afloat makes life difficult.

That is what has happened with so many small businesses. They struggle to insure themselves and their employees. In one small business, the small business has 10 employees, and if one person gets really sick and it is very expensive—cancer or something else—that company so often has to cancel their insurance simply because they cannot afford it, and their employees, even though they were not very sick, lose out.

In so many cases, as Diane points out, the insurance people do have more and more holes in it. She said: We continually downgraded our health insurance.

This bill, starting tomorrow—the President signed it today—will help by offering small businesses tax credits so employers can offer coverage to their employees. This is the first major impact this bill will have.

This bill will take a while because we want to implement it correctly and quickly enough to help people but not so quickly that we will make significant mistakes.

The first thing this bill does is provide tax incentives to small businesses, such as Diane's, so they can actually write good insurance policies for themselves if they are self-employed and for themselves if they have a business, and with their employees.

The last letter I will share is from Cynthia from Hocking County, Logan, OH, southeast of Columbus:

My son-in-law is 40 years old with a serious medical condition that makes it extremely difficult to get around. My daughter is 42 years old and on disability. . . .

Neither of them can work and make supplemental income. They have to spend so much on medication that they are not able to pay their house payments and may have to file for bankruptcy. They also have a 16-year-old son to support. Who doesn't want to send their child to college and help him have a better life? But where will that money come from if they can't pay the bills now?

Please continue to fight for the middle and lower middle class families who insist that we be treated fairly and with dignity. We just want good insurance like lawmakers in Washington have.

This plan with the insurance exchange was based on the Federal employee plan that most Senators and Congressmen have, that most Federal employees have. This bill will provide for those who are lower income than we are, significantly lower income than we are, for people who are making $10,000, $20,000, or $30,000, or $50,000 a year, even a little more than that. It will provide them with subsidies so they can afford health insurance. We want everybody to be insured.

We know right now that every American who has insurance pays about $1,000 extra—a tax for all intents and purposes—pays $1,000 extra to pay for the care of people who don't have insurance and go to the hospital. Somebody has to pay for that. It is being spread around to everybody who has insurance. That extra $1,000 will no longer happen to any significant degree because as everybody in this country or almost everybody gets insurance, people will be paying for themselves. They will get subsidies with their low income. If they have a little more money than that, they will pay everything themselves. That is why this legislation makes so much sense.

Today, we saw the President of the United States move this country forward—tax breaks for small businesses, no more preexisting conditions for a child, no more exclusions to keep a family from getting insurance. If your 22-year-old son or daughter comes home from college and cannot get a job with insurance, that daughter or son can stay on the insurance plan of their parents until they are 26.

There are a whole lot of important things. Senior citizens, starting next year, will be able to get a physical every year without a copay, making sure our senior population stays healthier longer. We begin to close the doughnut hole so seniors, with the bill that was passed a few years ago that gave the drug companies a whole lot more money than it helped seniors—at least we are fixing that bill so seniors will see that doughnut hole closed. All of those things are part of the legislation in the next year or so as it takes effect.

This is the right thing for our country. It is an honor and a privilege to represent Ohio and to have an opportunity to vote for this legislation and to push it to work for public health.

If we look back, President Truman, when he spoke to the Congress in 1946, spoke about the importance of health care. Now 65 years later and 10 Presidents later, it has happened. It is a good day for our country, and we celebrate that. Most importantly, it gives people such as Cynthia from Hocking County, Diane, the business owner in Cleveland, and David in northern Ohio the opportunity to get on with their lives in a much more workable, practical, happier way.

Mr. President, I yield the floor.

Mr. CONRAD. Mr. President, section 301(a) of S. Con. Res. 13, the 2010 budget resolution, permits the chairman of the Senate Budget Committee to adjust the allocations of a committee or committees, aggregates, and other appropriate levels and limits in the resolution, and make adjustments to the pay-as-you-go scorecard, for legislation that is deficit-neutral over 11 years, reduces excess cost growth in health care spending, is fiscally responsible over the long term, and fulfills at least one of eight other conditions listed in the reserve fund.

I find that H.R. 3590, the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, which Congress cleared on March 21, 2010, fulfills the conditions of the deficit-neutral reserve fund to transform and modernize America's health care system. Therefore, pursuant to section 301(a), I am adjusting the aggregates in the 2010 budget resolution, as well as the allocation to the Senate Finance Committee.

I ask unanimous consent to have the following revisions to S. Con. Res. 13 printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

Mr. CONRAD. Mr. President, section 301(a) of S. Con. Res. 13, the 2010 budget resolution, permits the chairman of the Senate Budget Committee to adjust the allocations of a committee or committees, aggregates, and other appropriate levels and limits in the resolution, and make adjustments to the pay-as-you-go scorecard, for legislation that is deficit-neutral over 11 years, reduces excess cost growth in health care spending, is fiscally responsible over the long term, and fulfills at least one of eight other conditions listed in the reserve fund. In addition, section 303 of S. Con. Res. 13 permits the chairman of the Senate Budget Committee to adjust the allocations of a committee or committees, aggregates, and other appropriate levels and limits in the resolution, for legislation that makes higher education more accessible and affordable, including expanding and strengthening student aid, such as Pell grants, and that does not increase the deficit over either the period of the total of fiscal years 2009 through 2014 or the period of the total of fiscal years 2009 through 2019.

I find that H.R. 4872, the Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act of 2010, fulfills the conditions of the deficit-neutral reserve funds for health care and higher education. Therefore, pursuant to sections 301(a) and 303, I am adjusting the aggregates in the 2010 budget resolution, as well as the allocations to the Senate Finance Committee and the Senate Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions Committee.

I ask unanimous consent to have the following revisions to S. Con. Res. 13 printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

Mr. CONRAD. Mr. President, as chairman of the Committee on the Budget, pursuant to section 313(c) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, I ask that the following list of reconciliation provisions considered to be extraneous and subject to the Byrd rule be printed in the RECORD. The inclusion or exclusion of a provision on the following list does not constitute a determination of extraneousness by the Presiding Officer of the Senate.

The list follows:

EXTRANEIOUS PROVISIONS OF H.R. 4872

None.

FAA REAUTHORIZATION

Mrs. HUTCHISON. Mr. President, I would like to thank my colleagues for their work on the Reagan National perimeter rule issue.

Last week, I sat down with several interested colleagues in an effort to try and find a path forward on this issue. As a result, we have the modified Ensign amendment before us.

I would like to say a few words about the intent of that amendment. I am one who is sympathetic to the concerns of from my friend from Virginia, Senator WARNER, who also serves as a member of the Senate Commerce Committee. While in a somewhat different position, in the past, I have had similar issues raised concerning my home State of Texas, and I recognize well that the impacts of dealing with a decision to change the status quo are enormously difficult.

With that in mind, I believe we have come up with a compromise proposal that meets the concerns of my Western State colleagues and others and tries to address, to the extent possible, my friend from Virginia's concerns.

The modified Ensign amendment is a simple solution to a complex problem. The amendment would allow any air carrier with existing "inside" the perimeter large hub airport slots into Reagan National the ability to "convert" those slots to any community "outside" the perimeter, with each air carrier being capped at 15 round trip operations eligible for conversion.

By utilizing the idea of "conversions," we don't add any new flights to the airport, but we do give the air carriers the opportunity to better utilize their networks. I am hopeful we can take that concept and message to the House in the next round of the legislative process on this bill.

I thank Senators ENSIGN and KYL, as well as Senators DEMINT, BOXER, MCCAIN, ROCKEFELLER, DORGAN, and WARNER for their work on this very important issue. I remain hopeful that the final version of this FAA reauthorization bill will include a consensus agreement on this issue, and allow the opportunity for direct service to our Nation's Capitol for a number of communities that are eager for such service.

AIG SEVERANCE PAYMENTS

Mr. GRASSLEY. Mr. President, I recently asked Secretary Geithner why the Treasury Department is allowing AIG to pay millions of dollars of severance pay to executives given the billions of dollars of taxpayer assistance AIG has received.

At one point I even said that AIG has the American taxpayer over a barrel and that AIG has outmaneuvered the administration.

Mr. Kenneth Feinberg, the Treasury Special Master for executive compensation, insisted he was not outmaneuvered by AIG. As it turns out, he was not outmaneuvered by AIG. Instead, he was outmaneuvered by Secretary Geithner. Let me explain what I mean.

In February, 2009, we enacted the Recovery Act. The law required Secretary Geithner to take control of the runaway executive compensation at companies that the American taxpayer bailed out.

Congress provided Mr. Geithner with several tools to accomplish this critical job.

By far the most important and most flexible tool Congress gave Mr. Geithner was a general mandate to require bailed-out companies like AIG to meet "appropriate standards" for executive compensation.

This rule was applicable to compensation already in place, compensation in the future, and compensation for all executives, not just a handful of the most senior executives.

What happened to this tool?

Well, even before the law was passed the bonuses, retention awards, and incentive compensation were "grandfathered."

That means that while one part of the statute banned them for a handful of senior executives, another part said they had to be paid if the payments were based on a contract that existed in February 2009.

We all remember the outrage when people learned that this provision was quietly added by the Senate drafters on the other side of the aisle because it required AIG to pay massive bonuses in March 2009 and again earlier this year.

Secretary Geithner was quoted in the press at the time saying that "Treasury staff" worked with the Senate drafters on the grandfather carve-out. Well, the damage was done.

The grandfather loophole was law. You might say the American taxpayer was outmaneuvered by Treasury staff too.

The President instructed Secretary Geithner to "pursue every single legal avenue to block these bonuses and make the American taxpayers whole."

The next step required Treasury to implement the law and use the tools Congress gave Mr. Geithner to put the brakes on runaway executive compensation at firms where taxpayers are footing the bill.

What did Treasury do?

One thing Treasury apparently did was hire a Wall Street executive compensation lawyer from a firm that specializes in helping highly paid executives maximize their pay, but more about that later.

Despite the public outcry over the loophole, which permitted AIG employees and others to walk away with millions, Treasury wrote a regulation that actually expands the loophole even further.

That's right, in the face of overwhelming public outrage, Treasury quietly worked to expand the loophole! Let me explain how they did that.

The grandfather provision in the law that Congress enacted protected three things: bonuses, retention awards, and incentive compensation. It did not protect severance. Let me repeat: it did not protect severance.

But in what appears to be an effort to protect severance agreements despite the statutory language, the regulations Treasury drafted expanded the term "bonus" beyond its normal meaning.

Unlike bonuses, severance payments are intended to ease someone out the door, not reward them for doing a great job. Severance is basically the opposite of a retention bonus.

But, after Treasury drafted the regulation, suddenly, severance payments were also protected by the grandfather loophole, just like bonuses. Treasury must have known exactly what it was doing.

AIG had an executive severance plan that dated back to March 2008. It was just the sort of contract the grandfather provision would protect if Treasury expanded the loophole.

And what was the impact of the Treasury regulation on the bottom line? What did American taxpayers have to pay?

Because of this regulation, AIG recently paid two of its executives $1 million and $3.9 million in severance pay. We don't yet know how many others have received severance or may receive it in the future.

As the law was passed, these payments would not have been protected by the grandfather provision because they were not a bonus, retention, or incentive payment.

But Treasury officials took care of that. Rather than setting appropriate standards for executive severance payments generally, as the law passed by Congress required, the regulation leaves AIG free to pay excessive severance payments to many of its executives. Then, the American taxpayer gets the bill.

The Recovery Act told Mr. Geithner that he "shall" require each bailed-out company to meet appropriate standards for executive compensation. This command covers all types of executive compensation for all executives, not just bonuses for the most senior executives.

It is a command, not a suggestion. And the grandfather provision that protects certain bonuses does not apply to this more general provision.

But the Treasury regulation almost completely ignores this mandate. It does address one form of executive compensation. The regulation bars tax gross-up payments for senior executives.

That is the practice of allowing the company to pay the executive's income taxes for him. Now don't get me wrong—tax gross-up payments should be banned for companies that were bailed out, and I am glad to see that this was done.

But Congress gave Mr. Geithner a powerful tool that should have been used to curb other types of inappropriate executive compensation as well.

That includes tax gross-ups, extravagant severance payments, and other goodies to which Wall Street thinks it is entitled.

Secretary Geithner should have used the tool as it was intended. It is like using a big tractor to plow a little flower garden.

There is nothing wrong with banning tax gross-ups or planting flower gardens, but you could have done so much more with the tool you had.

If Secretary Geithner had done what he was directed to do in the law, we would not be witnessing this spectacle.

AIG is paying multimillion-dollar severance payments at taxpayer expense to executives who chose to resign rather than work for the maximum salary of $500,000 per year set by the Special Master.

This is a scandal as far as I am concerned. The American taxpayer, as well as Mr. Feinberg, was outmaneuvered by Secretary Geithner and his staff. And it all happened before the Special Master's first day on the job.

There is another troubling matter that I must address. I mentioned earlier that the Treasury Department hired at least one Wall Street executive compensation lawyer from a firm that specializes in helping wealthy executives maximize their pay.

There is nothing wrong, as a general matter, with hiring talented people with expertise in technical legal subjects to draft regulations and administer the law.

But there are some red flags here that need a little sunshine. We need to be sure that the people working on these issues at Treasury have dealt with any potential conflicts of interest carefully and openly.

Recently I learned that at least one Treasury official previously worked for Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen and Katz, a top Wall Street law firm. Wachtell, Lipton has represented at least two former AIG executives.

The firm's job was to look out for the interests of the executives, not the shareholders. They were paid to make sure the compensation contracts, including severance provisions, were as generous as possible for their clients.

Wachtell, Lipton also represented Bank of America on its controversial Merrill, Lynch acquisition in 2008. A Wachtell attorney who worked on that deal joined Treasury in the spring of 2009.

He said that he then worked on the Treasury executive compensation regulations. These are the regulations I have been describing: the regulations that were to govern AIG, Bank of America and all of the other bailed-out companies.

This situation raises a host of questions, for example:

How many other Treasury officials have similar potential conflict issues?

Why wasn't the attorney recused from participating in the drafting of a regulation that was going to have a direct effect on Bank of America, his former client, and AIG executives, his firm's former clients?

Did the attorney comply with the revolving door provision of the President's Executive order, which prevents appointees from working on matters that relate to their former clients?

The President has committed to publicly disclosing all the waivers issued to exempt appointees from his ethics executive order. If this attorney recused himself, as he should have, why was that recusal not also disclosed so that the public would know about the potential conflict?

At a minimum there is the potential for an appearance of impropriety here.

What we know so far raises serious questions and red flags. But there also are facts we do not know.

Therefore, I am asking that the special inspector general for TARP investigate these issues and report his findings to Congress and the public as soon as possible.

Specifically, I am asking the inspector general to examine why Treasury did not set appropriate compensation standards pursuant to section 111(B)(2) of the Recovery Act sufficient to prevent severance payments like those AIG recently paid to its former general counsel and chief compliance officer.

I am also asking him to determine whether Treasury officials working on executive compensation matters have fully complied with the revolving door provision of the President's Ethics Executive order.

In the meantime, there are still numerous documents that I have requested that have not been provided to me despite assurance that I was going to get them.

There are many questions I have asked that remain unanswered, and I will continue to seek information on these issues.

I call on Secretary Geithner to stop stonewalling. Oversight is important. Oversight is necessary to protect the American taxpayer. I take that duty seriously, and I am not going away. American taxpayers deserve to know where their money is going.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that a copy of my letter to special inspector general Barofsky be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the material was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

U.S. SENATE,
COMMITTEE ON FINANCE,
Washington, DC, March 23, 2010.

Hon. NEIL M. BAROFSKY,
Special Inspector General, Office of the Special
Inspector General, Troubled Asset Relief
Program, United States Department of the Treasury, Washington, DC.

DEAR SPECIAL INSPECTOR GENERAL BAROFSKY: I have communicated on several occasions during the last few months with the Secretary of the Treasury and the Special Master for TARP executive compensation to try to get to the bottom of why AIG was allowed to pay excessive severance awards to AIG executives after the passage of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (Recovery Act). Answers have not been forthcoming and therefore I am writing to ask that you investigate these matters and report your findings to me as soon as possible. I am particularly troubled by a chronology of events that seems to suggest a deliberate decision on the part of Treasury to improperly protect executive severance pay and tie the hands of the Special Master.

The Recovery Act required the Treasury Secretary to set standards for appropriate levels of executive compensation at TARP recipients generally. It specifically prohibited the payment of bonuses, retention awards and incentive compensation to the top 25 executives at bailed-out companies like AIG, but then protected many such payments by the controversial "grandfather" provision added late in the drafting process. Consequently, bonus payments, retention awards and incentive compensation based on a contract in existence on or before February 11, 2009, were required to be paid. But the provision did not cover severance pay because severance is not generally understood to be within the meaning of incentive or retention bonuses. That is why I was surprised to learn earlier this year that AIG reportedly paid its former General Counsel $3.9 million and its former Chief Compliance and Regulatory Officer $1 million in severance.

Treasury published regulations on June 15, 2009, implementing the Recovery Act's executive compensation provisions. Treasury also named Mr. Kenneth Feinberg as the Special Master. It appears that, despite the earlier public outcry over the retention bonus grandfather loophole, Treasury's regulation added severance pay to the list of executive compensation items covered by the grandfather. Worse still, Treasury virtually ignored the requirement in section 111(b)(2) of the Recovery Act that the Secretary "shall require each TARP recipient to meet appropriate standards for executive compensation." Section 111(b)(2) is a general provision and is not limited by the more specific restrictions in 111(b)(3) related to the top 25 executives and the grandfather provision. Nevertheless, this mandated authority was not used to regulate severance pay for executives like the former AIG General Counsel. Therefore, I am asking you, among other things, to evaluate why Treasury did not effectively implement the Congressional mandate in section 111(b)(2) to prevent inappropriate executive compensation, such as excessive severance payments, more broadly.

There is another troubling matter that I am asking you to review. The current Deputy Special Master joined Treasury in May 2009. He told us he participated in drafting the Treasury regulations. Of course, those regulations governed executive compensation at TARP recipients like AIG and Bank of America. The problem is that this attorney worked for the Wall Street law firm Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz prior to joining Treasury. While at Wachtell, it is my understanding that this attorney represented Bank of America during its acquisition of Merrill, Lynch in the fall of 2008. Also, the Wachtell firm represents the former CEO and former CFO of AIG on executive compensation matters, including severance. In fact, I understand that those executives may still be planning to make claims against AIG for millions of dollars of severance pay.

At a minimum this presents the appearance of serious impropriety. There are several red flags and questions stemming from this information including, for example, why was this Treasury official permitted to work on a regulation that would directly affect his former client and a client of his former law firm? Did he fully comply with the revolving door provisions of the President's Ethics Executive Order, prohibiting appointees from participating in matters involving their former clients? If he was recused, when did the recusal occur and why was it not publicly disclosed? How many other Treasury officials working on executive compensation matters have similarly undisclosed potential conflicts for which recusals have been necessary to ensure compliance with the President's executive order? What are the details of the other potential conflicts, if any? Therefore, I also ask that you examine this situation and report your findings.

Thank you in advance for your attention to this important matter. Please contact my staff if you have any questions or need additional information.

Sincerely,

CHARLES E. GRASSLEY,
Ranking Member.

ADDITIONAL STATEMENTS

REMEMBERING DONALD RUSSELL

• Mr. LIEBERMAN. Mr. President, I wish to pay tribute to the extraordinary life and service of Donald Russell, a longtime columnist for the Advocate newspaper in Stamford, CT. Don was a true American patriot and a valued public intellectual in the Stamford community. Beloved for his brilliant mind and big heart, Don Russell will be missed deeply.

I knew Don Russell for many years, and I am grateful for all of the wisdom he has offered me personally. Mostly though, I treasure the example he set in his career of devoted service. During the Second World War, Don served this country with courage and distinction as a navigator with the U.S. Army Air Corps. He went on to help pioneer the field of television news, beginning with the DuMont Television Network, one of the first ever commercial television networks in the world.

With insight, wit, and passion, Don Russell captured some of the most important moments of the 20th century as a journalist. Over a half a century ago, Don anchored the first coast-to-coast television broadcast of a Presidential inauguration when President Dwight Eisenhower took office and later won an award for his credible and well-balanced commentary during the controversial Army-McCarthy hearings in 1954. Although Don Russell was quickly recognized for his journalistic skill on the national stage—working closely with stars like Jackie Gleason and Merv Griffin—his heart remained with the hometown that I am proud to share with him: Stamford, CT.

For decades, Don Russell illuminated the hearts and minds on the radio and in his weekly columns for the Advocate. Don never hesitated to ask tough questions or take a contrarian stance on an issue. For this, he was respected and trusted by countless readers; many of whom he knew personally and others who admired him from afar. Don wrote about many of the most important issues facing our country and our world but also uniquely brought to life the challenges and opportunities facing Stamford, a city he understood and cherished like few others.

Don Russell never missed a deadline and continued writing until the end of his long and extraordinary life. We, his readers, were blessed with the opportunity to have learned from Don Russell, and I believe more broadly that our state and this nation are blessed to have people like Don Russell who truly enrich our communities. Don Russell's brilliant mind, generous spirit, and warm smile will never fade from our memory.●

TRIBUTE TO LEADER DAN MCKAY

• Mrs. MCCASKILL. Mr. President, today I honor Dan McKay, a great Missourian, who has devoted much of his life to advocating for workers' rights.

Dan was born in St. Louis, MO, on February 21, 1946, to the late Harry and Marie McKay. His upbringing taught him the core Missouri values of hard work, respect, honor, and discipline. Dan started his career as a truckdriver, working for several companies in the freight industry including Yellow Transit, Time DC, Commercial Motor Freight, and many more.

Recognizing the labor movement's unwavering commitment to working families, Dan joined the movement in order to advocate on behalf of his fellow workers. He served as business representative, recording secretary, and ultimately, president of Teamsters Local 600. He also served as president of Teamsters Joint Council 13, representing 10 Teamster locals and more than 25,000 Teamster families in the State of Missouri. In those leadership roles, Dan has advocated for collective bargaining rights, fair wages, adequate and secure pensions, and better working conditions.

His work with the Teamsters often pulled him away from his wonderful family, as he spent countless hours in contract negotiations and meetings around the State and the country. Even with his work, Dan and his wife Sharron raised two beautiful boys, Daniel Patrick and Mark Timothy McKay, and are the proud grandparents of Jesse Danielle, Dana Elaine, and Daniel Joseph McKay. His diligent and honorable tenure serves as a shining example to his children and grandchildren.

Dan and I have known each other for more years than I care to disclose. We have worked together in efforts to better the lives of thousands of our fellow Missourians. This year, Dan will be retiring after 44 years of service with the Teamsters, 14 of which were spent as the president of Teamsters Local 600. On behalf of so many Missourians, I thank Dan for his tireless work and wish him a wonderful, well-earned, and relaxing retirement. While he will no longer hold his numerous titles, I know that he will never stop fighting the good fight on behalf of all working families.●

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

At 2:17 p.m., a message from the House of Representatives, delivered by Mr. Novotny, one of its reading clerks, announced that the House has passed the following bills, in which it requests the concurrence of the Senate:

H.R. 4667. An act to increase, effective as of December 1, 2010, the rates of compensation for veterans with service-connected disabilities and the rates of dependency and indemnity compensation for the survivors of certain disabled veterans, and for other purposes.

H.R. 4810. An act to amend title 38, United States Code, to make certain improvements in the services provided for homeless veterans under the laws administered by the Secretary of Veterans Affairs.

H.R. 4872. An act to provide for reconciliation pursuant to Title II of the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2010 (S. Con. Res. 13).

MEASURES REFERRED

The following bills were read the first and the second times by unanimous consent, and referred as indicated:

H.R. 4667. An act to increase, effective as of December 1, 2010, the rates of compensation for veterans with service-connected disabilities and the rates of dependency and indemnity compensation for the survivors of certain disabled veterans, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Veterans' Affairs.

H.R. 4810. An act to amend title 38, United States Code, to make certain improvements in the services provided for homeless veterans under the laws administered by the Secretary of Veterans Affairs; to the Committee on Veterans' Affairs.

MEASURES PLACED ON THE CALENDAR

The following bills were read the second time, and placed on the calendar:

S. 3152. A bill to repeal the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act.

S. 3153. A bill to provide a fully offset temporary extension of certain programs so as not to increase the deficit, and for other purposes.

H.R. 4872. An Act to provide for reconciliation pursuant to Title II of the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2010 (S. Con. Res. 13).

MEASURES READ THE FIRST TIME

The following bills were read the first time:

H.R. 4872. An Act to provide for reconciliation pursuant to Title II of the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2010 (S. Con. Res. 13).

S. 3152. A bill to repeal the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act.

S. 3153. A bill to provide a fully offset temporary extension of certain programs so as not to increase the deficit, and for other purposes.

S. 3158. A bill to require Congress to lead by example and freeze its own pay and fully offset the cost of the extension of unemployment benefits and other Federal aid.

EXECUTIVE AND OTHER COMMUNICATIONS

The following communications were laid before the Senate, together with accompanying papers, reports, and documents, and were referred as indicated:

EC-5118. ## STATEMENTS ON INTRODUCED BILLS AND JOINT RESOLUTIONS

By Ms. MURKOWSKI (for herself, Mr. JOHNSON, Ms. LANDRIEU, and Mr. INOUE):

S. 3154. A bill to amend the Public Health Service Act to reauthorize and extend the Fetal Alcohol Syndrome prevention and services program, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. President, today I join Senators INOUE, LANDRIEU, and MURKOWSKI in introducing the Advancing FASD Research, Prevention, and Services Act. I thank them for joining in this important effort to improve the surveillance, identification, and prevention of Fetal Alcohol Syndrome Disorders, or FASD.

I have great concern about the impact of FASD in South Dakota and across the country. This disease is entirely preventable, and yet as many as 40,000 infants each year are estimated to be born with an FASD. Researchers estimate that 1 percent of our population lives with an FASD, which is more than 3 million Americans. In my home State of South Dakota, over 7,800 individuals are suspected of living with an FASD.

The tragedy of FASD must be addressed at the source, by increasing awareness that any amount of alcohol during pregnancy can have heart-breaking, lifelong effects. We must increase efforts to reach out to all women of child-bearing age and connect those most at risk to treatment and counseling services. This bill will make available grants to federally qualified health centers to implement and evaluate programs to increase awareness and identification of FASD in those settings. Participating health centers will be able to provide training to health care providers on identifying and educating women who are at risk for alcohol consumption during pregnancy and on screening children for FASD.

Another provision in this bill will create public awareness and education campaigns in at-risk areas to further the prevention of this disease. This bill will authorize the development and broadcast of national public service announcements to raise public awareness of the risks associated with alcohol consumption during pregnancy.

We must also move past the stigma of this devastating disease to truly help those and their families who are affected by FASD get the health, education, counseling and support services they need and deserve. This bill focuses provision of services in areas where FASD-affected individuals are already receiving help. In South Dakota, more than 60 percent of people diagnosed with an FASD lived within a foster care home for some part of their lives. With that in mind, our bill works to train foster care workers and foster parents on how to best communicate with and serve children living with FASD.

Furthermore, it is estimated that 60 percent of individuals with FASD will spend some time in a correctional institution or mental health facility during their lives. Most individuals with FASD will commit their first crime between the ages of 9 and 14. To that end, our bill will provide health care and judicial system workers with the resources they need to work with and understand FASD-affected individuals when they encounter them in health care settings or the court system.

The costs of this completely preventable condition to our country are staggering, in dollars and in loss of human potential. According to a 2003 study by the Lewin Group, an FAS birth carries lifetime health costs of $860,000 to $4.2 million. The annual cost of FASD to South Dakota, including medical treatment, special education services, and home and residential care, is estimated to be $18 million. Nationally, the cost for these services will approach $6 billion this year alone, but neither of these estimates include the economic costs of lost productivity.

In my home state of South Dakota, we have had great successes in working on this issue. With the leadership of the health professionals at our esteemed universities, parents, and teachers, among countless others, we have made some important progress in addressing FASD. This legislation will bolster the efforts of these dedicated South Dakotans and many others across the country who are working hard to prevent FASD and support the children and families living with its consequences.

This bill will also provide much needed support in the area of research by requiring the National Institutes of Health to develop a research agenda focusing on the most promising avenues in diagnosis, intervention, and prevention, as well as factors that may mitigate the effects of fetal alcohol exposure.

I have long-supported efforts to put an end to this entirely preventable and destructive disease. I am pleased to be reintroducing this bill with my colleagues and encourage all of our colleagues to consider supporting this bill. I would also like to take a moment to thank former Senator Tom Daschle for his leadership on FASD. His commitment to combating this illness continues in South Dakota and in the lives of those who battle FASD every day.

By Mrs. GILLIBRAND (for herself and Mr. HATCH):

S. 3155. A bill to require reporting on certain information and communications technologies of foreign countries, to develop action plans to improve the capacity of certain countries to combat cybercrime, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

Mr. HATCH. Mr. President, I rise today to introduce the International Cybercrime Reporting and Cooperation Act with Senator KIRSTEN GILLIBRAND, which if enacted, will establish a framework for global cooperation on the fight against cybercrime. As the U.S. continues to work on combating cybercrime here at home, we must simultaneously direct our attention to the international arena. With bipartisan support and valued input from affected industry, we have worked together on drafting a bill that encompasses reporting measures, action plans, and multilateral efforts in support of government cooperation to dismantle this global threat.

This bill increases the U.S. Government's focus on combating cybercrime internationally by requiring the President to annually report to Congress with respect to the information and communications technologies, ICT, capabilities of foreign countries, and the multilateral efforts that are undertaken. In this digital age of global connectivity, businesses and governments must always be mindful of a potential cyberattack. Cyberspace remains borderless, with no single proprietor. Accordingly, the U.S. must take the lead on maintaining the openness of the Internet, while securing accountability.

The White House cybersecurity coordinator, Howard Schmidt, recently commented about the cyberattacks on Google and referenced that the best thing to handle cyber conflicts and attacks abroad is to work with countries involved, "making sure they are doing a full-blown investigation and conferring with our law enforcement." This is one of the objectives that I have sought to accomplish in this bill. If a country is a haven for cybercrime, or simply has demonstrated a pattern of uncooperative behavior with efforts to combat cybercrime, that nation must be held accountable. The government of each country must conduct criminal investigations and prosecute criminals when there is credible evidence of cybercrime incidents against the U.S. Government, our private entities or our people.

In this bill, the President would submit to Congress an annual report assessing the extent of use of the Internet in critical infrastructure, telecommunications and the financial industry for each member state of the United Nations. The report would assess the effectiveness of each country's legal and law enforcement systems in addressing cybercrime, and the measures taken by each country to ensure free flow of commerce and the protection of Internet consumers. The annual report would also describe U.S. actions to promote multilateral efforts, as well as other multilateral efforts to prevent and investigate cybercrime, and develop best practices to combat cybercrime. The report will also identify and prioritize countries that are at risk of becoming cybercrime havens due to their lack of technology and enforcement resources. We must be able to utilize our foreign assistance programs to help countries with low ICT development, and ensure they are ready to stand on their own to combat cybercrime, even long after the foreign assistance has ended.

Obviously, to be effective in our fight against cybercrime, the global community must work together to keep all countries accountable for their actions. Toward that end, one year after submitting the first report, the International Cybercrime Reporting and Cooperation Act would direct the President to create an action plan for each country of cyber concern, to assist the government of that country and create benchmarks. If the country of cyber concern has not taken any of the recommended actions to curtail or prevent cybercrime, various enforcement actions against the country may be taken, including prohibiting the approval of financing from the Overseas Private Investment Corporation or the Export-Import Bank. With so many U.S. companies doing business overseas, we must do our part to safeguard their employees, their jobs, and their clients from cyberattacks. Our objective is simple: We need international cooperation to increase assistance and prevention efforts of cybercrime from those countries deemed to be of cyber concern. Without international cooperation, our economy, security, and people will continue to be under threat.

To ensure that the most comprehensive information is considered, this bill encourages the President to reach out to industry, civil society and other interested parties in crafting the annual report. Senator GILLIBRAND and I took the time to listen to many stakeholders and create a bill that addresses real concerns. To provide an outlet to bring together the input of affected and interested parties, we have worked with the Department of State to designate not only a senior official in Washington to coordinate and focus on cybercrime as a foreign policy issue, but the assignment of employees with primary responsibility of cybercrime policy in each country or region that is a key player in the fight to combat cybercrime globally. These government employees assigned overseas will ensure that companies doing business abroad will have an additional channel to report and discuss cybercrime. I am pleased to say that this bill has gained vast support from all areas of the financial and high-tech sectors.

Cybercrime is a tangible threat to the security of the global economy, which is why we need to coordinate our fight worldwide. Until countries begin to take the necessary steps to fight criminals within their borders, cybercrime havens will continue to flourish. We do not have the luxury to sit back and do nothing, and the International Cybercrime Reporting and Cooperation Act will not only function as a deterrent of cybercrime, but will prove to be an essential tool necessary to keep the Internet open for business. Countries that knowingly permit cybercriminals to attack within their borders will now know that the U.S. is watching, the global community is watching, and there will be consequences for not acting.

SUBMITTED RESOLUTIONS

SENATE RESOLUTION 465—TO PERMIT THE SENATE TO AVOID UNNECESSARY DELAY AND VOTE ON MATTERS FOR WHICH FLOOR DEBATE HAS CEASED

Mr. LAUTENBERG submitted the following resolution; which was referred to the Committee on Rules and Administration:

S. RES. 465

Resolved,

SECTION 1. AMENDMENT TO THE STANDING RULES OF THE SENATE.

Paragraph 2 of rule XXII of the Standing Rules of the Senate is amended by—

(1) inserting after the second undesignated subparagraph the following:

“Following the filing of the cloture motion and prior to the cloture vote, as long as the matter on which cloture has been filed remains the pending matter—

“(1) there shall be no dilatory motion, including dilatory quorum calls, in order; and

“(2) if, at any time, no Senator seeks recognition on the floor, it shall be in order for the Majority Leader to move the question on cloture as long as any applicable filing deadline for first degree amendments has passed.”; and

(2) inserting after the fifth undesignated subparagraph (after the amendment by paragraph (1)) the following:

“If, at any time after cloture is invoked on an executive nomination or a motion to proceed, no Senator seeks recognition on the floor, it shall be in order for the Majority Leader to move the question on which cloture has been invoked.”.

SENATE RESOLUTION 466—SUPPORTING THE GOALS AND IDEALS OF WORLD WATER DAY

Mr. KERRY (for himself, Ms. COLLINS, Mr. DURBIN, Mr. DODD, Mr. FEIN-GOLD, Mrs. GILLIBRAND, and Mr. CARDIN) submitted the following resolution; which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations:

S. RES. 466

Whereas United Nations Resolution 47/193, adopted by the General Assembly on December 22, 1992, designates March 22 of each year as World Day for Water;

Whereas a person needs a minimum of 20 liters of water per day to live;

Whereas a person can live weeks without food, but only days without water;

Whereas diseases related to inadequate water, sanitation, and hygiene trigger 4,000,000 cases of diarrhea and 2,000,000 infections by parasitic intestinal worms annually;

Whereas 50 percent of childhood malnutrition in the world is caused by water- and sanitation-related diseases;

Whereas a child dies from a water-borne disease every 15 seconds;

Whereas water- and sanitation-related diseases are the leading cause of death for children under 5 years of age;

Whereas millions of women and children spend several hours a day collecting water from distant, often polluted sources;

Whereas women and children bear disproportionate economic and educational costs associated with unsafe drinking water and poor sanitation;

Whereas every dollar spent on water and sanitation saves an average of $8 in costs averted and productivity gained;

Whereas water- and sanitation-related diseases account for 80 percent of the sicknesses in developing countries;

Whereas 884,000,000 people lack access to an improved water supply;

Whereas 2,500,000,000 people in the world lack access to improved sanitation;

Whereas the 263 transboundary lake and river basins in the world include territory in 145 countries and cover nearly ½ of the Earth's land surface;

Whereas climate change may cause more extreme floods and droughts, increasing tension and potential clashes over transboundary freshwater resources;

Whereas the global celebration of World Water Day is an initiative that grew out of the 1992 United Nations Conference on Environment and Development in Rio de Janeiro to draw attention to the global water, sanitation, and hygiene crisis;

Whereas the Plan of Implementation of the World Summit on Sustainable Development, adopted by the 2002 Johannesburg summit participants, including the United States, sets forth the goal to reduce by ½, between 1990 and 2015, “the proportion of people who are unable to reach or to afford safe drinking water” and “the proportion of people who do not have access to basic sanitation”; and

Whereas the Senator Paul Simon Water for the Poor Act of 2005 (Public Law 109-121) required the Secretary of State to develop a strategy to “elevate the role of water and sanitation policy in the development of U.S. foreign policy and improve the effectiveness of U.S. official programs undertaken in support of the strategy”;

Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate—

(1) supports the goals and ideals of World Water Day, which will be observed on March 22;

(2) urges the Department of State, the United States Agency for International Development, and all relevant Federal departments and agencies to increase the efforts and resources dedicated to—

(A) providing sustainable and equitable access to safe drinking water and sanitation; and

(B) improving the capacity for water resource management for the poor and the very poor; and

(3) encourages the people of the United States to observe the day with appropriate activities that promote awareness of the importance of—

(A) access to clean water and adequate sanitation; and

(B) stakeholder cooperation on transboundary water management.

Mr. DURBIN. Mr. President, yesterday, countries around the world celebrated World Water Day. This is a day to celebrate the progress we have made protecting this most important resource and to reflect on the many challenges we still face in providing clean, safe water to the world's poor.

I was heartened to see that Secretary of State Clinton spoke at the National Geographic World Water Day event on Monday. She and others at the Department of State and USAID are doing a great job stepping up U.S. leadership on issues of clean water and sanitation.

Last year alone, American development assistance helped more than 4 million people access an improved water source for the first time. While we are proud of this help, we recognize that much more needs to be done.

Today, nearly 1 billion people still lack access to safe drinking water, and more than 2 billion still lack basic sanitation. Lack of access to stable supplies of water is reaching critical proportions, particularly for agricultural purposes. The problem will only worsen with rapid urbanization worldwide. Experts suggest that another 1.2 billion people will lack access to clean water and sanitation within 20 years.

The overall economic loss in Africa alone due to lack of access to safe water and basic sanitation is estimated at $28.4 billion a year. In many poor nations, women and girls walk 2 or 3 hours or more each way, every day, to collect water that is often dirty and unsafe. The U.N. estimates that women and girls in sub-Saharan Africa spend a total of 40 billion working hours each year collecting water. That is equivalent to all of the hours worked in France in a year. Clearly, the world needs to do more to help with such a basic human need.

That is why Senator CORKER and I introduced the Paul Simon Water for the World Act—a bill that would strengthen America's ability to provide clean water and sanitation to 100 million of the world's poor over the next 6 years.

I am pleased that the bill is on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee agenda and thank Senators KERRY, LUGAR, CORKER and so many others for their support on this effort. I look forward to the bill's consideration from the Foreign Relations Committee and urge my colleagues to support passage of the bill once it has been reported.

The Paul Simon water for the world bill would put the United States in the forefront of providing poor people around the world with a most fundamental need—water. This is not an effort to create vast new programs, but to focus our foreign assistance efforts on a comprehensive, strategic series of investments related to water and sanitation. These are simple, commonsense steps that will make a real difference in people's lives.

Our legislation would make the U.S. a leader in meeting key millennium development goals for drinking water and sanitation, which is to reduce by half the proportion of people without safe water and sanitation by 2015. The bill targets aid to areas with the greatest need. It helps build the capacity of poor nations to meet their own water and sanitation challenges.

The Water for the World Act also supports research on clean water technologies and regional partnerships to find solutions to shared water challenges. The bill provides technical assistance—best practices, credit authorities, and training—to help countries expand access to clean water and sanitation. Our development experts will design the assistance based on local needs.

The bill would also strengthen the capacity of USAID and the State Department to implement development assistance efforts related to water and ramp up U.S. developmental and diplomatic leadership.

I know that these steps do make a difference. On a recent trip to east Africa, I saw American development assistance in Tanzania, the Democratic Republic of Congo, Ethiopia, and Sudan and had an opportunity to look at a number of global health programs including clean water and sanitation.

One program in Ethiopia was provided by a nongovernmental organization called AMREF in the Kechene slum area of the capital of Addis Ababa. The 380 people living in the Kechene area have basically had to carry in water for years because there was no running water. But because of an AMREF project, they were able to build 22 water kiosks in the country and one in this slum area. It seems like something so simple, but it has changed their lives. They now have a source of safe drinking water.

Very near the small lean-tos they live in, they have two showers, toilet facilities, and a source of clean drinking water—none of which they had before. The small fee that is charged by the residents who maintain it helps keep it clean and functional.

The residents couldn't help but beam with pride as we took a look at a most basic yet critical source of community pride. Disease is down, threats to women who otherwise would have to walk great distances to obtain water are down, and the community even has a small source of income and employment. These are the kinds of simple self-sustaining projects the U.S. should be supporting for the world's poor.

Water scarcity can also be a source of conflict and economic calamity. Last year millions in the horn of Africa suffered from famine because of droughts. Without reliable supplies of water, farmers struggle to grow crops, and areas once abundant with water are slowly becoming barren.

I was reminded of these challenges talking to a government minister in Sudan. When I asked about the impact of climate change in his country, he immediately wanted to take me to the Nile to show how the river had shrunk in volume. Can you imagine the Nile River, which sustains a land where historic civilizations emerged, is now shrinking?

Helping other nations is in our national interest. Some say that now is not the time to invest in poor nations half a world away when our economy is in crisis and so many Americans are hurting. That view is understandable. Recovering from this recession and rebuilding our economy for the long-term must be, and is, our government's top priority. But investing in clean water for the world is a smart strategy that will make our foreign assistance dollars achieve more—something we need in these hard economic times.

We know what the solutions are and we know they are cost effective. For every dollar invested in water and sanitation, $8 are returned in increased productivity and decreased health care costs. Just imagine how bringing such a basic need to the world's poor will impact America's image—particularly at a time when we are in a battle of ideas in many parts of the world.

The Water for the World Act builds on the similarly named landmark legislation—the Senator Paul Simon Water for the Poor Act—that at long last made safe drinking water and sanitation a priority of U.S. foreign development assistance.

I owe my passion on water to my predecessor and long time mentor the late Senator Paul Simon. Paul Simon was a prolific author and visionary. He wrote books on a variety of compelling issues, and solving the global water crisis was his last great campaign. He knew the United States had the ability to be a leader on this issue.

Two years after Paul Simon died the Senator Paul Simon Water for the Poor Act was signed into law in December 2005. The act has made a big difference to the world's poor, but we can do more. I can think of no better way to honor a man who did so much for so many, than to commit ourselves to achieving this vision and the ideals of the Senator Paul Simon Water for the Poor Act.

Water is one of the defining challenges of the 21st century. No other issue is more important to human health, peace and security than access to sustainable supplies of water. As we celebrate World Water Day this week, let us renew our commitment to making sure the world's poor have access to this most basic human need.

SENATE RESOLUTION 467—TO AUTHORIZE REPRESENTATION BY THE SENATE LEGAL COUNSEL IN THE CASE OF SOLLARS V. REID, ET AL

Mr. MCCONNELL submitted the following resolution; which was considered and agreed to:

S. RES. 467

Whereas, in the case of Sollars v. Reid, et al., Case No. 1:09-CV-361, pending in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Indiana, plaintiff has named as defendants eight Senators; and

Whereas, pursuant to sections 703(a) and 704(a)(1) of the Ethics in Government Act of 1978, 2 U.S.C. §§288b(a) and 288c(a)(1), the Senate may direct its counsel to defend Members of the Senate in civil actions relating to their official responsibilities: Now therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate Legal Counsel is authorized to represent all defendant Senators in the case of Sollars v. Reid, et al.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 55—COMMEMORATING THE 40TH ANNIVERSARY OF EARTH DAY AND HONORING THE FOUNDER OF EARTH DAY, THE LATE SENATOR GAYLORD NELSON OF THE STATE OF WISCONSIN

Mr. FEINGOLD (for himself and Mr. KOHL) submitted the following concurrent resolution; which was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary:

S. CON. RES. 55

Whereas Gaylord Nelson, former United States Senator from the State of Wisconsin, is recognized as 1 of the leading environmentalists of the 20th century;

Whereas Gaylord Nelson helped launch an international era of environmental awareness and activism;

Whereas Gaylord Nelson grew up in Clear Lake, Wisconsin;

Whereas Gaylord Nelson maintained and exemplified the progressive values of Clear Lake, Wisconsin while rising to national prominence;

Whereas Gaylord Nelson served with distinction—

(1) as a Senator in the Wisconsin State Senate from 1949 through 1959;

(2) as Governor of the State of Wisconsin from 1959 through 1963; and

(3) as a Senator in the United States Senate from 1963 through 1981;

Whereas Gaylord Nelson founded Earth Day, which was first celebrated on April 22, 1970, by approximately 20,000,000 people across the United States;

Whereas, at the time, the first celebration of Earth Day was the largest environmental grassroots event ever held;

Whereas, on the first celebration of Earth Day, Gaylord Nelson called on the people of the United States to hold elected officials accountable for protecting the health of the people of the United States and the natural environment;

Whereas the first celebration of Earth Day launched the Environmental Decade, an unparalleled period of legislative and grassroots activity that resulted in the passage of 28 major pieces of environmental legislation from 1970 through 1980, including—

(1) the Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. 7401 et seq.);

(2) the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (33 U.S.C. 1251 et seq.); and

(3) the National Environmental Education Act (20 U.S.C. 5501 et seq.);

Whereas Gaylord Nelson was responsible for legislation that—

(1) created the Apostle Islands National Lakeshore and the St. Croix Wild and Scenic Riverway; and

(2) protected other important natural treasures of the State of Wisconsin and the United States;

Whereas Gaylord Nelson sponsored legislation to ban phosphates in household detergents and the use of dichlorodiphenyltrichloroethane (DDT);

Whereas Gaylord Nelson worked tirelessly to ensure clean water and clean air for all people of the United States;

Whereas, in addition to providing environmental leadership, Gaylord Nelson—

(1) fought for civil rights;

(2) enlisted in the War on Poverty;

(3) challenged drug companies and tire manufacturers to protect consumers; and

(4) to defend and protect civil liberties, stood up to Senator Joseph McCarthy, the Un-American Activities Committee of the House of Representatives, and the Nixon Administration;

Whereas Gaylord Nelson was a patriot, who as a young soldier honorably served 46 months in the Armed Forces during World War II;

Whereas Gaylord Nelson, as a Senator, courageously opposed the Vietnam War and worked to ban the use of the toxic defoliant Agent Orange;

Whereas, in 1995, Gaylord Nelson was awarded the Presidential Medal of Freedom, the highest honor awarded to civilians in the United States;

Whereas the legacy of Gaylord Nelson has inspired an environmental ethic and an appreciation and understanding of the importance of being good stewards of the environment and the planet in generations of the people of the United States;

Whereas Gaylord Nelson was an extraordinary statesman, public servant, environmentalist, husband, father, and friend; and

Whereas Gaylord Nelson never let disagreement on the issues become personal or partisan: Now, therefore, be it

TEXT OF AMENDMENTS

SA 3556. Mr. COBURN submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 4872, to provide for reconciliation pursuant to Title II of the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2010 (S. Con. Res. 13); which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

At the end of subtitle D of title I, add the following:

SEC. 1306. REDUCING HEALTH CARE COSTS BY ELIMINATING PAYMENTS FOR FRAUDULENT CLAIMS AND PROHIBITING COVERAGE FOR ABORTION DRUGS AND ERECTILE DYSFUNCTION DRUGS FOR RAPISTS AND CHILD MOLESTERS.

(a) ELIMINATING FRAUDULENT PAYMENTS FOR PRESCRIPTION DRUGS.—The Secretary shall establish a fraud prevention system and issue guidance to—

(1) prevent the processing of claims of prescribing providers and dispensing pharmacies debarred from Federal contracts or excluded from the Medicare program under title XVIII of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1395 et seq.) or the Medicaid program under title XIX of such Act (42 U.S.C. 1396 et seq.);

(2) ensure that drug utilization reviews and restricted recipient program requirements adequately identify and prevent doctor shopping and other abuses of controlled substances;

(3) develop a claims processing system to identify duplicate enrollments and deaths of Medicaid beneficiaries and prevent the approval of fraudulent claims; and

(4) develop a claims processing systems to identify deaths of Medicaid providers and prevent the approval of fraudulent claims filed using the identity of such providers.

(b) PROHIBITING COVERAGE OF CERTAIN PRESCRIPTION DRUGS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Health programs administered by the Federal Government and American Health Benefit Exchanges (as described in section 1311 of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act) shall not provide coverage or reimbursement for—

(A) prescription drugs to treat erectile dysfunction for individuals convicted of child molestation, rape, or other forms of sexual assault; or

(B) drugs prescribed with the intent of inducing an abortion for reasons other than as described in paragraph (2).

(2) EXCEPTIONS.—The limitation under paragraph (1)(B) shall not apply to an abortion—

(A) in the case where a woman suffers from a physical disorder, physical injury, or physical illness that would, as certified by a physician, place the woman in danger of death unless an abortion is performed, including a life-endangering physical condition caused by or arising from the pregnancy itself; or

(B) if the pregnancy is the result of an act of forcible rape or incest.

SA 3557. Mr. COBURN submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 4872, to provide for reconciliation pursuant to Title II of the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2010 (S. Con. Res. 13); which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

At the end of subtitle B of title II, add the following:

SEC. 2304. BUREAUCRAT LIMITATION.

For each new bureaucrat added to any department or agency of the Federal Government for the purpose of implementing the provisions of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (or any amendment made by such Act), the head of such department or agency shall ensure that the addition of such new bureaucrat is offset by a reduction of 1 existing bureaucrat at such department or agency.

SA 3558. Mr. COBURN submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 4872, to provide for reconciliation pursuant to Title II of the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2010 (S. Con. Res. 13); which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

At the end of subtitle B of title II, add the following:

SECTION 2304. LIMITATION OF POWERS OF THE SECRETARY.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Secretary of Health and Human Services shall have no power or authority other than such power and authority granted by statute and in effect before January 1, 2010.

SA 3559. Mr. COBURN submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 4872, to provide for reconciliation pursuant to Title II of the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2010 (S. Con. Res. 13); which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

Strike subsection (a) of section 2301.

SA 3560. Mr. COBURN submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 4872, to provide for reconciliation pursuant to Title II of the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2010 (S. Con. Res. 13); which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

At the end of title I, add the following:

Subtitle G—Additional Provisions
Eliminating Waste, Fraud, and Abuse

SEC. 1601. SITE INSPECTIONS; BACKGROUND CHECKS; DENIAL AND SUSPENSION OF BILLING PRIVILEGES.

(a) SITE INSPECTIONS FOR DME SUPPLIERS, COMMUNITY MENTAL HEALTH CENTERS, AND OTHER PROVIDER GROUPS.—Title XVIII of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1395 et seq.), as amended by sections 3022 and 3403 of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, is amended by adding at the end the following:

“SITE INSPECTIONS FOR DME SUPPLIERS, COMMUNITY MENTAL HEALTH CENTERS, AND OTHER PROVIDER GROUPS

“SEC. 1899B. (a) SITE INSPECTIONS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall conduct a site inspection for each applicable provider (as defined in paragraph (2)) that applies to enroll under this title in order to provide items or services under this title. Such site inspection shall be in addition to any other site inspection that the Secretary would otherwise conduct with regard to an applicable provider.

“(2) APPLICABLE PROVIDER DEFINED.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in subparagraph (B), in this section the term ‘applicable provider’ means—

“(i) a supplier of durable medical equipment (including items described in section 1834(a)(13));

“(ii) a supplier of prosthetics, orthotics, or supplies (including items described in paragraphs (8) and (9) of section 1861(s));

“(iii) a community mental health center; or

“(iv) any other provider group, as determined by the Secretary (including suppliers, both participating suppliers and non-participating suppliers, as such terms are defined for purposes of section 1842).

“(B) EXCEPTION.—In this section, the term ‘applicable provider’ does not include—

“(i) a physician that provides durable medical equipment (as described in subparagraph (A)(i)) or prosthetics, orthotics, or supplies (as described in subparagraph (A)(ii)) to an individual as incident to an office visit by such individual; or “(ii) a hospital that provides durable medical equipment (as described in subparagraph (A)(i)) or prosthetics, orthotics, or supplies (as described in subparagraph (A)(ii)) to an individual as incident to an emergency room visit by such individual.

“(b) STANDARDS AND REQUIREMENTS.—In conducting the site inspection pursuant to subsection (a), the Secretary shall ensure that the site being inspected is in full compliance with all the conditions and standards of participation and requirements for obtaining billing privileges under this title.

“(c) TIME.—The Secretary shall conduct the site inspection for an applicable provider prior to the issuance of billing privileges under this title to such provider.

“(d) TIMELY REVIEW.—The Secretary shall provide for procedures to ensure that the site inspection required under this section does not unreasonably delay the issuance of billing privileges under this title to an applicable provider.”

(b) BACKGROUND CHECKS.—Title XVIII of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1395 et seq.) (as amended by subsection (a)) is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

“BACKGROUND CHECKS; DENIAL AND SUSPENSION OF BILLING PRIVILEGES

“SEC. 1899C. (a) BACKGROUND CHECK REQUIRED.—Except as provided in subsection (b), in addition to any screening conducted under section 1866(j), the Secretary shall conduct a background check on any individual or entity that enrolls under this title for the purpose of furnishing any item or service under this title, including any individual or entity that is a supplier, a person with an ownership or control interest, a managing employee (as defined in section 1126(b)), or an authorized or delegated official of the individual or entity. In performing the background check, the Secretary shall—

“(1) conduct the background check before authorizing billing privileges under this title to the individual or entity, respectively;

“(2) include a search of criminal records in the background check;

“(3) provide for procedures that ensure the background check does not unreasonably delay the authorization of billing privileges under this title to an eligible individual or entity, respectively; and

“(4) establish criteria for targeted reviews when the individual or entity renews participation under this title, with respect to the background check of the individual or entity, respectively, to detect changes in ownership, bankruptcies, or felonies by the individual or entity.

“(b) USE OF STATE LICENSING PROCEDURE.—The Secretary may use the results of a State licensing procedure as a background check under subsection (a) if the State licensing procedure meets the requirements of such subsection.

“(C) ATTORNEY GENERAL REQUIRED TO PROVIDE INFORMATION.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Upon request of the Secretary, the Attorney General shall provide the criminal background check information referred to in subsection (a)(2) to the Secretary.

“(2) RESTRICTION ON USE OF DISCLOSED INFORMATION.—The Secretary may only use the information disclosed under subsection (a) for the purpose of carrying out the Secretary’s responsibilities under this title.

“(d) REFUSAL TO AUTHORIZE BILLING PRIVILEGES.—

“(1) AUTHORITY.—In addition to any other remedy available to the Secretary, the Secretary may refuse to authorize billing privileges under this title to an individual or entity if the Secretary determines, after a background check conducted under this section, that such individual or entity, respectively, has a history of acts that indicate authorization of billing privileges under this title to such individual or entity, respectively, would be detrimental to the best interests of the program or program beneficiaries. Such acts may include—

“(A) any bankruptcy;

“(B) any act resulting in a civil judgment against such individual or entity; or

“(C) any felony conviction under Federal or State law.

“(2) REPORTING OF REFUSAL TO AUTHORIZE BILLING PRIVILEGES TO THE HEALTHCARE INTEGRITY AND PROTECTION DATA BANK (HIPDB).—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—Subject to subparagraph (B), a determination under paragraph (1) to refuse to authorize billing privileges under this title to an individual or entity as a result of a background check conducted under this section shall be reported to the healthcare integrity and protection data bank established under section 1128E in accordance with the procedures for reporting final adverse actions taken against a health care provider, supplier, or practitioner under that section.

“(B) EXCEPTION.—Any determination described in subparagraph (A) that the Secretary specifies is not appropriate for inclusion in the healthcare integrity and protection data bank established under section 1128E shall not be reported to such data bank.”.

(c) DENIAL AND SUSPENSION OF BILLING PRIVILEGES.—Section 1899C of the Social Security Act, as added by subsection (b), is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

“(e) AUTHORITY TO SUSPEND BILLING PRIVILEGES OR REFUSE TO AUTHORIZE ADDITIONAL BILLING PRIVILEGES.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary may suspend any billing privilege under this title authorized for an individual or entity or refuse to authorize any additional billing privilege under this title to such individual or entity if—

“(A) such individual or entity, respectively, has an outstanding overpayment due to the Secretary under this title;

“(B) payments under this title to such individual or entity, respectively, have been suspended; or

“(C) 100 percent of the payment claims under this title for such individual or entity, respectively, are reviewed on a pre-payment basis.

“(2) APPLICATION TO RESTRUCTURED ENTITIES.—In the case that an individual or entity is subject to a suspension or refusal of billing privileges under this section, if the Secretary determines that the ownership or management of a new entity is under the control or management of such an individual or entity subject to such a suspension or refusal, the new entity shall be subject to any such applicable suspension or refusal in the same manner and to the same extent as the initial individual or entity involved had been subject to such applicable suspension or refusal.

“(3) DURATION OF SUSPENSION.—A suspension of billing privileges under this subsection, with respect to an individual or entity, shall be in effect beginning on the date of the Secretary’s determination that the offense was committed and ending not earlier than such date on which all applicable overpayments and other applicable outstanding debts have been paid and all applicable payment suspensions have been lifted.”.

(d) REGULATIONS; EFFECTIVE DATE.—

(1) REGULATIONS.—Not later than one year after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Health and Human Services shall promulgate such regulations as are necessary to implement the amendments made by subsections (a), (b), and (c).

(2) EFFECTIVE DATES.—

(A) SITE INSPECTIONS AND BACKGROUND CHECKS.—The amendments made by subsections (a) and (b) shall apply to applications to enroll under title XVIII of the Social Security Act received by the Secretary of Health and Human Services on or after the first day of the first year beginning after the date of the enactment of this Act.

(B) DENIALS AND SUSPENSIONS OF BILLING PRIVILEGES.—The amendment made by subsection (c) shall apply to overpayments or debts in existence on or after the date of the enactment of this Act, regardless of whether the final determination, with respect to such overpayment or debt, was made before, on, or after such date.

(e) USE OF MEDICARE INTEGRITY PROGRAM FUNDS.—The Secretary of Health and Human Services may use funds appropriated or transferred for purposes of carrying out the Medicare integrity program established under section 1893 of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1395ddd) to carry out the provisions of sections 1899B and 1899C of that Act (as added by subsections (a) and (b)).

SEC. 1602. REGISTRATION AND BACKGROUND CHECKS OF BILLING AGENCIES AND INDIVIDUALS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Title XVIII of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1395 et seq.) (as amended by section 1601) is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

“SEC. 1899D. (a) REGISTRATION.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall establish procedures, including modifying the Provider Enrollment and Chain Ownership System (PECOS) administered by the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services, to provide for the registration of all applicable persons in accordance with this section.

“(2) REQUIRED APPLICATION.—Each applicable person shall submit a registration application to the Secretary at such time, in such manner, and accompanied by such information as the Secretary may require.

“(3) IDENTIFICATION NUMBER.—If the Secretary approves an application submitted under subsection (b), the Secretary shall assign a unique identification number to the applicable person.

“(4) REQUIREMENT.—Every claim for reimbursement under this title that is compiled or submitted by an applicable person shall contain the identification number that is assigned to the applicable person pursuant to subsection (c).

“(5) TIMELY REVIEW.—The Secretary shall provide for procedures that ensure the timely consideration and determination regarding approval of applications under this subsection.

“(6) DEFINITION OF APPLICABLE PERSON.—In this section, the term ‘applicable person’ means any individual or entity that compiles or submits claims for reimbursement under this title to the Secretary on behalf of any individual or entity.

“(b) BACKGROUND CHECKS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in paragraph (2), the Secretary shall conduct a background check on any applicable person that registers under subsection (a). In performing the background check, the Secretary shall—

“(A) conduct the background check before issuing a unique identification number to the applicable person;

“(B) include a search of criminal records in the background check;

“(C) provide for procedures that ensure the background check does not unreasonably delay the issuance of the unique identification number to an eligible applicable person; and “(D) establish criteria for periodic targeted reviews with respect to the background check of the applicable person.

“(2) USE OF STATE LICENSING PROCEDURE.—The Secretary may use the results of a State licensing procedure as a background check under paragraph (1) if the State licensing procedure meets the requirements of such paragraph.

“(3) ATTORNEY GENERAL REQUIRED TO PROVIDE INFORMATION.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—Upon request of the Secretary, the Attorney General shall provide the criminal background check information referred to in paragraph (1)(B) to the Secretary.

“(B) RESTRICTION ON USE OF DISCLOSED INFORMATION.—The Secretary may only use the information disclosed under paragraph (1) for the purpose of carrying out the Secretary’s responsibilities under this title.

“(4) REFUSAL TO ISSUE UNIQUE IDENTIFICATION NUMBER.—In addition to any other remedy available to the Secretary, the Secretary may refuse to issue a unique identification number described in subsection (a)(3) to an applicable person if the Secretary determines, after a background check conducted under this subsection, that such person has a history of acts that indicate issuance of such number under this title to such person would be detrimental to the best interests of the program or program beneficiaries. Such acts may include—

“(A) any bankruptcy;

“(B) any act resulting in a civil judgment against such person; or

“(C) any felony conviction under Federal or State law.

“(c) IDENTIFICATION NUMBERS FOR PROVIDERS AND SUPPLIERS.—The Secretary shall establish procedures to ensure that each provider of services and each supplier that submits claims for reimbursement under this title to the Secretary is assigned a unique identification number.”.

(b) PERMISSIVE EXCLUSION.—Section 1128(b) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1320a-7(b)), as amended by section 6402(d) of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(17) FRAUD BY APPLICABLE PERSON.—An applicable person (as defined in section 1899D(a)(6)) that the Secretary determines knowingly submitted or caused to be submitted a claim for reimbursement under title XVIII that the applicable person knows or should know is false or fraudulent.”.

(c) REGULATIONS; EFFECTIVE DATE.—

(1) REGULATIONS.—Not later than one year after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Health and Human Services shall promulgate such regulations as are necessary to implement the amendments made by subsections (a) and (b).

(2) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by subsections (a) and (b) shall apply to applicable persons and other entities on and after the first day of the first year beginning after the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 1603. EXPANDED ACCESS TO THE HEALTHCARE INTEGRITY AND PROTECTION DATA BANK (HIPDB).

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 1128E(d)(1) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1320a-7e(d)(1)), as amended by section 6403(a)(2) of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, is amended to read as follows:

“(1) AVAILABILITY.—The information in the data bank maintained under this section shall be available to—

“(A) Federal and State government agencies and health plans, and any health care provider, supplier, or practitioner entering an employment or contractual relationship with an individual or entity who could potentially be the subject of a final adverse action, where the contract involves the furnishing of items or services reimbursed by one or more Federal health care programs (regardless of whether the individual or entity is paid by the programs directly, or whether the items or services are reimbursed directly or indirectly through the claims of a direct provider); and

“(B) utilization and quality control peer review organizations and accreditation entities as defined by the Secretary, including but not limited to organizations described in part B of this title and in section 1154(a)(4)(C).”

(b) NO FEES FOR USE OF HIPDB BY ENTITIES CONTRACTING WITH MEDICARE.—Section 1128E(d)(2) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1320a-7e(d)(2)), as amended by such section 6403(a)(2), is amended in the first sentence by inserting “(other than with respect to requests by Federal agencies or other entities, such as fiscal intermediaries and carriers, acting under contract on behalf of such agencies)” before the period at the end.

(c) CRIMINAL PENALTY FOR MISUSE OF INFORMATION.—Section 1128B(b) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1320a-7b(b)) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(4) Whoever knowingly uses information maintained in the healthcare integrity and protection data bank maintained in accordance with section 1128E for a purpose other than a purpose authorized under that section shall be imprisoned for not more than three years or fined under title 18, United States Code, or both.”

(d) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall take effect on the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 1604. LIABILITY OF MEDICARE ADMINISTRATIVE CONTRACTORS FOR CLAIMS SUBMITTED BY EXCLUDED PROVIDERS.

(a) REIMBURSEMENT TO THE SECRETARY FOR AMOUNTS PAID TO EXCLUDED PROVIDERS.—Section 1874A(b) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1395kk(b)) is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

“(6) REIMBURSEMENTS TO SECRETARY FOR AMOUNTS PAID TO EXCLUDED PROVIDERS.—The Secretary shall not enter into a contract with a Medicare administrative contractor under this section unless the contractor agrees to reimburse the Secretary for any amounts paid by the contractor for a service under this title which is furnished by an individual or entity during any period for which the individual or entity is excluded, pursuant to section 1128, 1128A, or 1156, from participation in the health care program under this title if the amounts are paid after the 60-day period beginning on the date the Secretary provides notice of the exclusion to the contractor, unless the payment was made as a result of incorrect information provided by the Secretary or the individual or entity excluded from participation has concealed or altered their identity.”

(b) CONFORMING REPEAL OF MANDATORY PAYMENT RULE.—Section 1862(e) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1395y(e)) is amended—

(1) in paragraph (1)(B), by striking “and when the person” and all that follows through “person”; and

(2) by amending paragraph (2) to read as follows:

“(2) No individual or entity may bill (or collect any amount from) any individual for any item or service for which payment is denied under paragraph (1). No individual is liable for payment of any amounts billed for such an item or service in violation of the preceding sentence.”

(c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The amendments made by this section shall apply to claims for payment submitted on or after the date of the enactment of this Act.

(2) CONTRACT MODIFICATION.—The Secretary of Health and Human Services shall take such steps as may be necessary to modify contracts entered into, renewed, or extended prior to the date of the enactment of this Act to conform such contracts to the provisions of this section.

SEC. 1605. COMMUNITY MENTAL HEALTH CENTERS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 1861(ff)(3)(B) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1395x(ff)(3)(B)), as amended by section 1301(a), is amended by striking “entity that—” and all that follows and inserting the following: “entity that—

“(i) provides the community mental health services specified in paragraph (1) of section 1913(c) of the Public Health Service Act;

“(ii) meets applicable certification or licensing requirements for community mental health centers in the State in which it is located;

“(iii) provides a significant share of its services to individuals who are not eligible for benefits under this title; and

“(iv) meets such additional standards or requirements for obtaining billing privileges under this title as the Secretary may specify to ensure—

“(I) the health and safety of beneficiaries receiving such services; or

“(II) the furnishing of such services in an effective and efficient manner.”

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendment made by this section shall apply to items and services furnished on or after the first day of the sixth month that begins after the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 1606. LIMITING THE DISCHARGE OF DEBTS IN BANKRUPTCY PROCEEDINGS IN CASES WHERE A HEALTH CARE PROVIDER OR A SUPPLIER ENGAGES IN FRAUDULENT ACTIVITY.

(a) IN GENERAL.—

(1) CIVIL MONETARY PENALTIES.—Section 1128A(a) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1320a-7a(a)) is amended by adding at the end the following: “Notwithstanding any other provision of law, amounts made payable under this section are not dischargeable under section 727, 944, 1141, 1228, or 1328 of title 11, United States Code, or any other provision of such title.”

(2) RECOVERY OF OVERPAYMENT TO PROVIDERS OF SERVICES UNDER PART A OF MEDICARE.—Section 1815(d) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1395g(d)) is amended—

(A) by inserting “(1)” after “(d)”; and

(B) by adding at the end the following:

“(2) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, amounts due to the Secretary under this section are not dischargeable under section 727, 944, 1141, 1228, or 1328 of title 11, United States Code, or any other provision of such title if the overpayment was the result of fraudulent activity, as may be defined by the Secretary.”

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by subsection (a) shall apply to bankruptcy petitions filed after the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 1607. ILLEGAL DISTRIBUTION OF A MEDICARE OR MEDICAID BENEFICIARY IDENTIFICATION OR BILLING PRIVILEGES.

Section 1128B(b) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1320a-7b(b)), as amended by section 1603, is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(5) Whoever knowingly, intentionally, and with the intent to defraud purchases, sells or distributes, or arranges for the purchase, sale, or distribution of two or more Medicare or Medicaid beneficiary identification numbers or billing privileges under title XVIII or title XIX shall be imprisoned for not more than three years or fined under title 18, United States Code (or, if greater, an amount equal to the monetary loss to the Federal and any State government as a result of such acts), or both.”

SEC. 1608. TREATMENT OF CERTAIN SOCIAL SECURITY ACT CRIMES AS FEDERAL HEALTH CARE OFFENSES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 24(a) of title 18, United States Code, is amended—

(1) by striking the period at the end of paragraph (2) and inserting “; or”; and

(2) by adding at the end the following:

“(3) section 1128B of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1320a-7b).”

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendment made by subsection (a) shall take effect on the date of the enactment of this Act and apply to acts committed on or after the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 1609. AUTHORITY OF OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL OF THE DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES.

(a) AUTHORITY.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, upon designation by the Inspector General of the Department of Health and Human Services, any criminal investigator of the Office of Inspector General of such department may, in accordance with guidelines issued by the Secretary of Health and Human Services and approved by the Attorney General, while engaged in activities within the lawful jurisdiction of such Inspector General—

(1) obtain and execute any warrant or other process issued under the authority of the United States;

(2) make an arrest without a warrant for—

(A) any offense against the United States committed in the presence of such investigator; or

(B) any felony offense against the United States, if such investigator has reasonable cause to believe that the person to be arrested has committed or is committing that felony offense; and

(3) exercise any other authority necessary to carry out the authority described in paragraphs (1) and (2).

(b) FUNDS.—The Office of Inspector General of the Department of Health and Human Services may receive and expend funds that represent the equitable share from the forfeiture of property in investigations in which the Office of Inspector General participated, and that are transferred to the Office of Inspector General by the Department of Justice, the Department of the Treasury, or the United States Postal Service. Such equitable sharing funds shall be deposited in a separate account and shall remain available until expended.

SEC. 1610. UNIVERSAL PRODUCT NUMBERS ON CLAIMS FORMS FOR REIMBURSEMENT UNDER THE MEDICARE PROGRAM.

(a) UPNS ON CLAIMS FORMS FOR REIMBURSEMENT UNDER THE MEDICARE PROGRAM.—

(1) ACCOMMODATION OF UPNS ON MEDICARE CLAIMS FORMS.—Not later than February 1, 2011, all claims forms developed or used by the Secretary of Health and Human Services for reimbursement under the Medicare program under title XVIII of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1395 et seq.) shall accommodate the use of universal product numbers for a UPN covered item.

(2) REQUIREMENT FOR PAYMENT OF CLAIMS.—Title XVIII of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1395 et seq.), as amended by sections 1601 and 1602, is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

“USE OF UNIVERSAL PRODUCT NUMBERS

“SEC. 1899E. (a) IN GENERAL.—No payment shall be made under this title for any claim for reimbursement for any UPN covered item unless the claim contains the universal product number of the UPN covered item.

“(b) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

“(1) UPN COVERED ITEM.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in subparagraph (B), the term ‘UPN covered item’ means—

“(i) a covered item as that term is defined in section 1834(a)(13);

“(ii) an item described in paragraph (8) or (9) of section 1861(s);

“(iii) an item described in paragraph (5) of section 1861(s); and

“(iv) any other item for which payment is made under this title that the Secretary determines to be appropriate.

“(B) EXCLUSION.—The term ‘UPN covered item’ does not include a customized item for which payment is made under this title.

“(2) UNIVERSAL PRODUCT NUMBER.—The term ‘universal product number’ means a number that is—

“(A) affixed by the manufacturer to each individual UPN covered item that uniquely identifies the item at each packaging level; and

“(B) based on commercially acceptable identification standards such as, but not limited to, standards established by the Uniform Code Council-International Article Numbering System or the Health Industry Business Communication Council.”.

(3) DEVELOPMENT AND IMPLEMENTATION OF PROCEDURES.—

(A) INFORMATION INCLUDED IN UPN.—The Secretary of Health and Human Services, in consultation with manufacturers and entities with appropriate expertise, shall determine the relevant descriptive information appropriate for inclusion in a universal product number for a UPN covered item.

(B) REVIEW OF PROCEDURE.—From the information obtained by the use of universal product numbers on claims for reimbursement under the Medicare program, the Secretary of Health and Human Services, in consultation with interested parties, shall periodically review the UPN covered items billed under the Health Care Financing Administration Common Procedure Coding System and adjust such coding system to ensure that functionally equivalent UPN covered items are billed and reimbursed under the same codes.

(4) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendment made by paragraph (2) shall apply to claims for reimbursement submitted on and after February 1, 2011.

(b) STUDY AND REPORTS TO CONGRESS.—

(1) STUDY.—The Secretary of Health and Human Services shall conduct a study on the results of the implementation of the provisions in paragraphs (1) and (3) of subsection (a) and the amendment to the Social Security Act in paragraph (2) of such subsection.

(2) REPORTS.—

(A) PROGRESS REPORT.—Not later than 6 months after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Health and Human Services shall submit to Congress a report that contains a detailed description of the progress of the matters studied pursuant to paragraph (1).

(B) IMPLEMENTATION.—Not later than 18 months after the date of the enactment of this Act, and annually thereafter for 3 years, the Secretary of Health and Human Services shall submit to Congress a report that contains a detailed description of the results of the study conducted pursuant to paragraph (1), together with the Secretary’s recommendations regarding the use of universal product numbers and the use of data obtained from the use of such numbers.

(c) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) UPN COVERED ITEM.—The term “UPN covered item” has the meaning given such term in section 1899E(b)(1) of the Social Security Act (as added by subsection (a)(2)).

(2) UNIVERSAL PRODUCT NUMBER.—The term “universal product number” has the meaning given such term in section 1899E(b)(2) of the Social Security Act (as added by subsection (a)(2)).

(d) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There are authorized to be appropriated such sums as may be necessary for the purpose of carrying out the provisions in paragraphs (1) and (3) of subsection (a), subsection (b), and section 1899E of the Social Security Act (as added by subsection (a)(2)).

SEC. 1611. USE OF TECHNOLOGY FOR REAL-TIME DATA REVIEW.

Part A of title XI of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1395 et seq.), as amended by section 6703(b) of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

“SEC. 1150C. USE OF TECHNOLOGY FOR REAL TIME DATA REVIEW.

“(a) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall establish procedures for the use of technology (similar to that used with respect to the analysis of credit card charging patterns) to provide real-time data analysis of claims for payment under the Medicare, Medicaid, and SCHIP programs under title XVIII, XIX, and XXI to identify and investigate unusual billing or order practices under such programs that could indicate fraud or abuse.

“(b) COMPETITIVE BIDDING.—The procedures established under subsection (a) shall ensure that the implementation of such technology is conducted through a competitive bidding process.

“(c) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—To carry out this section, there are authorized to be appropriated such sums as may be necessary, not to exceed $50,000,000 for each of fiscal years 2010 through 2014.

“(d) REPORT TO CONGRESS.—The Secretary shall submit to Congress an annual report on the effectiveness of activities conducted under this section, including a description of any savings to the programs referred to in subsection (a) as a result of such activities and the overall administrative cost of such activities and a determination as to the amount of funding needed to carry out this section for subsequent fiscal years, together with recommendations for such legislation and administrative action as the Secretary determines appropriate.”.

SEC. 1612. COMPREHENSIVE SANCTIONS DATABASE AND ACCESS TO CLAIMS AND PAYMENT DATABASES.

(a) COMPREHENSIVE SANCTIONS DATABASE.—The Secretary of Health and Human Services (in this section referred to as the “Secretary”) shall establish a comprehensive sanctions database on sanctions imposed on providers of services, suppliers, and related entities. Such database shall be overseen by the Inspector General of the Department of Health and Human Services and shall be linked to related databases maintained by State licensure boards and by Federal or State law enforcement agencies.

(b) ACCESS TO CLAIMS AND PAYMENT DATABASES.—The Secretary shall ensure that the Inspector General of the Department of Health and Human Services and Federal law enforcement agencies have direct access to all claims and payment databases of the Secretary under the Medicare or Medicaid programs.

(c) CIVIL MONEY PENALTIES FOR SUBMISSION OF ERRONEOUS INFORMATION.—In the case of a provider of services, supplier, or other entity that knowingly submits erroneous information that serves as a basis for payment of any entity under the Medicare or Medicaid program, the Secretary may impose a civil money penalty of not to exceed $50,000 for each such erroneous submission. A civil money penalty under this subsection shall be imposed and collected in the same manner as a civil money penalty under subsection (a) of section 1128A of the Social Security Act is imposed and collected under that section.

SA 3561. Mr. COBURN submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 4872, to provide for reconciliation pursuant to Title II of the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2010 (S. Con. Res. 13); which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

At the end of subtitle B of title II, add the following:

SEC. 2304. NONDISCRIMINATION ON ABORTION AND RESPECT FOR RIGHTS OF CONSCIENCE.

(a) NONDISCRIMINATION.—A Federal agency or program, and any State or local government, or health care entity that receives Federal financial assistance under the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (or an amendment made by such Act), shall not—

(1) subject any individual or institutional health care entity to discrimination; or

(2) require any health care entity that is established or regulated under the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (or an amendment made by such Act) to subject any individual or institutional health care entity to discrimination, on the basis that the health care entity does not provide, pay for, provide coverage of, or refer for abortions.

(b) DEFINITION.—In this section, the term “health care entity” includes an individual physician or other health care professional, a hospital, a provider-sponsored organization, a health maintenance organization, a health insurance plan, a plan sponsor, a health insurance issuer, a qualified health plan or issuer offering such a plan, or any other kind of health care facility, organization, or plan.

(c) ADMINISTRATION.—The Office for Civil Rights of the Department of Health and Human Services is designated to receive complaints of discrimination based on this section, and coordinate the investigation of such complaints.

SA 3562. Mr. COBURN submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 4872, to provide for reconciliation pursuant to Title II of the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2010 (S. Con. Res. 13); which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

At the end of section 1405, add the following:

(e) NONAPPLICATION TO CLASS I DEVICES.—Paragraph (2) of section 4191(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as added by subsection (a), is amended by redesignating subparagraphs (A) through (D) as subparagraphs (B) through (E), respectively, and by inserting before subparagraph (B) (as so redesignated) the following new subparagraph:

“(A) devices classified in class I under section 513 of such Act.”.

SA 3563. Mr. COBURN submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 4872, to provide for reconciliation pursuant to Title II of the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2010 (S. Con. Res. 13); which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

At the end of subtitle F of title I, add the following:

SEC. 1502. REPEAL OF PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY EDUCATION PROGRAM.

Section 513 of the Social Security Act, as added by section 2953 and amended by section 10201(h) the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, is repealed.

SA 3564. Mr. GRASSLEY (for himself and Mr. ROBERTS) submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 4872, to provide for reconciliation pursuant to Title II of the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2010 (S. Con. Res. 13); as follows:

At the end of subtitle A of title I, insert the following:

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 1312(d)(3)(D) of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act is amended to read as follows:

“(i) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding chapter 89 of title 5, United States Code, or any provision of this title—

“(I) the President, Vice President, each Member of Congress, each political appointee, and each Congressional employee shall be treated as a qualified individual entitled to the right under this paragraph to enroll in a qualified health plan in the individual market offered through an Exchange in the State in which the individual resides; and

“(II) any employer contribution under such chapter on behalf of the President, Vice President, any Member of Congress, any political appointee, and any Congressional employee may be paid only to the issuer of a qualified health plan in which the individual enrolled in through such Exchange and not to the issuer of a plan offered through the Federal employees health benefit program under such chapter.

“(ii) PAYMENTS BY FEDERAL GOVERNMENT.—The Secretary, in consultation with the Director of the Office of Personnel Management, shall establish procedures under which—

“(I) the employer contributions under such chapter on behalf of the President, Vice President, and each political appointee are determined and actuarially adjusted for age; and “(II) the employer contributions may be made directly to an Exchange for payment to an issuer.

“(iii) POLITICAL APPOINTEE.—In this subparagraph, the term ‘political appointee’ means any individual who—

“(I) is employed in a position described under sections 5312 through 5316 of title 5, United States Code, (relating to the Executive Schedule);

“(II) is a limited term appointee, limited emergency appointee, or noncareer appointee in the Senior Executive Service, as defined under paragraphs (5), (6), and (7), respectively, of section 3132(a) of title 5, United States Code; or

“(III) is employed in a position in the executive branch of the Government of a confidential or policy-determining character under schedule C of subpart C of part 213 of title 5 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

“(iv) CONGRESSIONAL EMPLOYEE.—In this subparagraph, the term ‘Congressional employee’ means an employee whose pay is disbursed by the Secretary of the Senate or the Clerk of the House of Representatives.”.

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendment made by this section shall take effect as if included in the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act.

SA 3565. Mr. INHOFE submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 4872, to provide for reconciliation pursuant to Title II of the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2010 (S. Con. Res. 13); which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

On page 99, between lines 9 and 10, insert the following:

(e) EXCLUSION OF ASSISTIVE DEVICES FOR PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of section 4191(b)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as added by subsection (a), the term “taxable medical device” shall not include any device which is primarily designed to assist persons with disabilities with tasks of daily life.

(2) EXPANSION OF AFFORDABILITY EXCEPTION TO INDIVIDUAL MANDATE.—Section 5000A(e)(1)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as added by section 1501(b) of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act and amended by section 10106 of such Act, is amended by striking “8 percent” and inserting “5 percent”.

(3) APPLICATION OF PROVISION.—The amendment made by paragraph (2) shall apply as if included in the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act.

SA 3566. Mr. COBURN submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 4872, to provide for reconciliation pursuant to Title II of the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2010 (S. Con. Res. 13); which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

At the end of subtitle F of title I, insert the following:

SEC. ____ . INCREASED TRANSPARENCY.

(a) SCORING AND SUMMARY.—It shall not be in order in the Senate or the House of Representatives to vote on final passage on a bill, resolution, or conference report unless a final Congressional Budget Office score and Congressional Research Service summary report on policy changes in the bill, resolution, or conference report has been posted online on the public website of the body 72 hours before such final vote.

(b) ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS.—The information required to be posted by subsection (a) shall also include—

(1) an affidavit that the policy summary of the Congressional Research Service adequately reflects the measure signed by the Majority and Minority Leaders; and

(2) signed affidavits from every member of the body attesting that they have read the measure.

(c) WAIVER AND APPEAL.—

(1) WAIVER.—This section may be waived or suspended in the Senate or House of Representatives only by an affirmative vote of  $\frac{2}{3}$  of the members, duly chosen and sworn.

(2) APPEAL.—An affirmative vote of  $\frac{2}{3}$  of the members of the Senate or House of Representatives, duly chosen and sworn, shall be required to sustain an appeal of the ruling of the Chair on a point of order raised under this subsection.

(d) PUBLIC AVAILABILITY OF AMENDMENTS.—Each amendment offered in the Senate or House of Representatives shall to be posted online on the public website of the body as soon as practicable after the amendment is offered.

SA 3567. Mr. GREGG (for himself and Mr. COBURN) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 4872, to provide for reconciliation pursuant to Title II of the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2010 (S. Con. Res. 13); as follows:

At the end of subtitle B of title I, add the following:

SEC. ____ . PREVENTING THE IMPLEMENTATION OF NEW ENTITLEMENTS THAT WOULD RAID MEDICARE.

(a) BAN ON NEW SPENDING TAKING EFFECT.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Secretary of the Treasury and the Secretary of Health and Human Services are prohibited from implementing any spending increase or revenue reduction provision in either the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act or this Act (referred to in this section as the “Health Care Acts”) unless both the Director of the Office of Management and Budget (referred to in this section as “OMB”) and the Chief Actuary of the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services Office of the Actuary (referred to in this section as “CMS OACT”) certify that they project that all of the projected Federal spending increases and revenue reductions resulting from the Health Care Acts will be offset by projected gross savings from the Health Care Acts.

(2) CALCULATIONS.—For purposes of this section, projected gross savings shall—

(A) include gross reductions in Federal spending and gross increases in revenues made by the Health Care Acts; and

(B) exclude any projected gross savings or other offsets directly resulting from changes to Medicare made by the Health Care Acts.

(b) LIMIT ON FUTURE SPENDING.—For the purpose of carrying out this section and upon the enactment of this Act, CMS OACT and the OMB shall—

(1) certify whether all of the projected Federal spending increases and revenue reductions resulting from the Health Care Acts, starting with fiscal year 2014 and for the following 9 fiscal years, are fully offset by projected gross savings resulting from the Health Care Acts (as calculated under subsection (a)(2)); and

(2) provide detailed estimates of such spending increases, revenue reductions, and gross savings, year by year, program by program and provision by provision.

SA 3568. Mr. BENNETT (for himself, Mr. WICKER, Mr. BROWNBACK, Mr. HATCH, Mr. ROBERTS, Mr. INHOFE, Mr. CORNYN, and Mr. ENZI) submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 4872, to provide for reconciliation pursuant to Title II of the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2010 (S. Con. Res. 13); which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

At the end of subtitle B of title I, add the following:

SEC. ____ . RIGHT OF THE PEOPLE OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA TO DEFINE MARRIAGE.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

(1) a broad coalition of residents of the District of Columbia petitioned for an initiative in accordance with the District of Columbia Home Rule Act to establish that “only marriage between a man and a woman is valid or recognized in the District of Columbia”;

(2) this petition anticipated the Council of the District of Columbia’s passage of an Act legalizing same-sex marriage;

(3) the unelected District of Columbia Board of Elections and Ethics and the unelected District of Columbia Superior Court thwarted the residents’ initiative effort to define marriage democratically, holding that the initiative amounted to discrimination prohibited by the District of Columbia Human Rights Act; and

(4) the definition of marriage affects every person and should be debated openly and democratically.

(b) REFERENDUM OR INITIATIVE REQUIREMENT.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, including the District of Columbia Human Rights Act, the government of the District of Columbia shall immediately suspend the issuance of marriage licenses to any couple of the same sex until the people of the District of Columbia have the opportunity to hold a referendum or initiative on the question of whether the District of Columbia should issue same-sex marriage licenses.

SA 3569. Mr. GRASSLEY submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 4872, to provide for reconciliation pursuant to Title II of the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2010 (S. Con. Res. 13); which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

At the end of subtitle B of title I, insert the following:

SEC. ____ . REVISIONS TO THE PRACTICE EXPENSE GEOGRAPHIC ADJUSTMENT UNDER THE MEDICARE PHYSICIAN FEE SCHEDULE.

Effective as if included in the enactment of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, subparagraph (H) of section 1848(e)(1) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1395w-4(e)(1)), as added by section 3102(b) of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, is amended to read as follows:

“(H) PRACTICE EXPENSE GEOGRAPHIC ADJUSTMENT FOR 2010 AND SUBSEQUENT YEARS.—

“(i) FOR 2010.—Subject to clause (iii), for services furnished during 2010, the employee wage and rent portions of the practice expense geographic index described in subparagraph (A)(i) shall reflect ½ of the difference between the relative costs of employee wages and rents in each of the different fee schedule areas and the national average of such employee wages and rents.

“(ii) FOR 2011.—Subject to clause (iii), for services furnished during 2011, the employee wage and rent portions of the practice expense geographic index described in subparagraph (A)(i) shall reflect ¼ of the difference between the relative costs of employee wages and rents in each of the different fee schedule areas and the national average of such employee wages and rents.

“(iii) HOLD HARMLESS.—The practice expense portion of the geographic adjustment factor applied in a fee schedule area for services furnished in 2010 or 2011 shall not, as a result of the application of clause (i) or (ii), be reduced below the practice expense portion of the geographic adjustment factor under subparagraph (A)(i) (as calculated prior to the application of such clause (i) or (ii), respectively) for such area for such year.

“(iv) ANALYSIS.—The Secretary shall analyze current methods of establishing practice expense geographic adjustments under subparagraph (A)(i) and evaluate data that fairly and reliably establishes distinctions in the costs of operating a medical practice in the different fee schedule areas. Such analysis shall include an evaluation of the following:

“(I) The feasibility of using actual data or reliable survey data developed by medical organizations on the costs of operating a medical practice, including office rents and non-physician staff wages, in different fee schedule areas.

“(II) The office expense portion of the practice expense geographic adjustment described in subparagraph (A)(i), including the extent to which types of office expenses are determined in local markets instead of national markets.

“(III) The weights assigned to each of the categories within the practice expense geographic adjustment described in subparagraph (A)(i).

In conducting such analysis, the Secretary shall not take into account any data that is not actual or survey data.

“(v) REVISION FOR 2012 AND SUBSEQUENT YEARS.—As a result of the analysis described in clause (iv), the Secretary shall, not later than January 1, 2012, make appropriate adjustments to the practice expense geographic adjustment described in subparagraph (A)(i) to ensure accurate geographic adjustments across fee schedule areas, including—

“(I) basing the office rents component and its weight on occupancy costs only and making weighting changes in other categories as appropriate;

“(II) ensuring that office expenses that do not vary from region to region be included in the ‘other’ office expense category; and

“(III) considering a representative range of professional and non-professional personnel employed in a medical office based on the use of the American Community Survey data or other reliable data for wage adjustments. Such adjustments shall be made without regard to adjustments made pursuant to clauses (i) and (ii) and shall be made in a budget neutral manner.

“(vi) SPECIAL RULE.—If the Secretary does not complete the analysis described in clause (iv) and make any adjustments the Secretary determines appropriate for 2012 or a subsequent year under clause (v), the Secretary shall apply clause (ii) for services furnished during 2012 or a subsequent year in the same manner as such clause applied for services furnished during 2011.”

SEC. ____ . ELIMINATION OF SWEETHEART DEAL THAT INCREASES MEDICARE REIMBURSEMENT JUST FOR FRONTIER STATES.

Effective as if included in the enactment of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, section 10324 of such Act (and the amendments made by such section) is repealed.

SA 3570. Mr. MCCAIN (for himself, Mr. BURR, and Mr. COBURN) proposed an amendment to the bill H.R. 4872, to provide for reconciliation pursuant to Title II of the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2010 (S. Con. Res. 13); as follows:

At the end of subtitle F of title I, add the following:

SEC. 1502. ELIMINATION OF SWEETHEART DEALS.

(a) REPEALS.—Effective as if included in the enactment of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, the following provisions are repealed:

(1) SWEETHEART DEAL TO PROVIDE TENNESSEE WITH MEDICAID DSH FUNDS.—Clause (v) of section 1923(f)(6)(A) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1396r-4(f)(6)(A)), as added by section 1203(b) of this Act.

(2) SWEETHEART DEAL TO PROVIDE HAWAII WITH MEDICAID DSH FUNDS.—Clause (iii) of section 1923(f)(6)(B) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1396r-4(f)(6)(B)), as added by section 10201(e)(1)(A) of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act.

(3) SWEETHEART DEAL TO PROVIDE LOUISIANA WITH A SPECIAL INCREASED MEDICAID FMAP.—Subsection (aa) of section 1905 of the Social Security Act, as added by section 2006 of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act.

(4) SWEETHEART DEAL THAT INCREASES MEDICARE REIMBURSEMENT JUST FOR FRONTIER STATES.—Section 10324 of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (and the amendments made by such section).

(5) SWEETHEART DEAL GRANTING MEDICARE COVERAGE FOR INDIVIDUALS EXPOSED TO ENVIRONMENTAL HAZARDS IN LIBBY, MONTANA.—Section 10323 of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (and the amendments made by such section).

(6) SWEETHEART DEAL FOR A HOSPITAL IN CONNECTICUT.—Section 10502 of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act.

(b) ELIMINATION OF SWEETHEART DEAL THAT RECLASSIFIES HOSPITALS IN MICHIGAN AND CONNECTICUT TO INCREASE THEIR MEDICARE REIMBURSEMENT.—Section 3137(a) of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, as amended by section 10317 of such Act, is amended—

(1) in paragraph (2)—

(A) by striking “FISCAL YEAR 2010” and all that follows through “for purposes of implementation of the amendment” and inserting “FISCAL YEAR 2010.—For purposes of implementation of the amendment”; and

(B) by striking subparagraph (B); and

(2) by striking paragraph (3).

SA 3571. Ms. COLLINS submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by her to the bill H.R. 4872, to provide for reconciliation pursuant to Title II of the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2010 (S. Con. Res. 13); which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

At the end of subtitle F of title I, insert the following:

SEC. 1. SPECIAL RULE FOR INDIVIDUALS AGE 30 AND OVER NOT ELIGIBLE FOR EXCHANGE CREDITS AND REDUCTIONS.

Section 1302(e) of the Patient Protection and Affordability Act is amended—

(1) by redesignating paragraph (3) as paragraph (4); and

(2) by inserting after paragraph (2), the following:

“(3) SPECIAL RULE FOR INDIVIDUALS AGE 30 AND OVER NOT ELIGIBLE FOR EXCHANGE CREDITS AND REDUCTIONS.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—Subject to subparagraph (B), an individual who has attained at least the age of 30 before the beginning of a plan year shall be treated as an individual described in paragraph (2) if the individual is not eligible for the plan year for the premium tax credit under section 36B of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 or the cost-sharing reductions under section 1402 with respect to enrollment in a qualified health plan offered through an Exchange. The preceding sentence shall not apply to an individual if the individual is not eligible for such credit or reductions because the individual is eligible to enroll in minimum essential coverage consisting of coverage under a government sponsored program described in section 5000A(f)(1)(A).

“(B) REQUIREMENTS.—Subparagraph (A) shall only apply to an individual if the individual elects the application of this paragraph and such election provides that—

“(i) the individual acknowledges that coverage under the catastrophic plan is the lowest coverage available, that the plan provides no benefits for any plan year until the individual has incurred cost-sharing expenses in an amount equal to the annual limitation in effect under subsection (c)(1) for the plan year (except as provided for in section 2713), and that these cost-sharing expenses could involve significant financial risk for the individual; and

“(ii) the individual agrees that—

“(I) the individual will not change such coverage until the next applicable annual or special enrollment period under section 1311(c)(5); and “(II) if the individual elects to change such coverage at the time of such enrollment period, the individual may only enroll in the bronze level of coverage.

“(4) STATE AUTHORITY.—In accordance with section 1321(d), a State may impose additional requirements or conditions for catastrophic plans described in this subsection to the extent such requirements or conditions are not inconsistent with the requirements under this subsection.”.

SA 3572. Ms. COLLINS submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by her to the bill H.R. 4872, to provide for reconciliation pursuant to Title II of the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2010 (S. Con. Res. 13); which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

At the end of subtitle B of title I, add the following:

SEC. ____ . ASSESSMENT OF MEDICARE COST-INTENSIVE DISEASES AND CONDITIONS.

(a) INITIAL ASSESSMENT.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of Health and Human Services (in this section referred to as the “Secretary”) shall conduct an assessment of the diseases and conditions that are the most cost-intensive for the Medicare program under title XVIII of the Social Security Act and, to the extent possible, assess the diseases and conditions that could become cost-intensive for the Medicare program in the future.

(2) REPORT.—Not later than January 1, 2011, the Secretary shall transmit a report to the Committees on Energy and Commerce, Ways and Means, and Appropriations of the House of Representatives and the Committees on Health, Education, Labor and Pensions, Finance, and Appropriations of the Senate on the assessment conducted under paragraph (1). Such report shall—

(A) include the assessment of current and future trends of cost-intensive diseases and conditions described in such paragraph;

(B) address whether current research priorities are appropriately addressing current and future cost-intensive conditions so identified;

(C) include the input of relevant research agencies, including the National Institutes of Health, the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality, and the Food and Drug Administration; and

(D) include recommendations concerning research in the Department of Health and Human Services that should be funded to improve the prevention, treatment, or cure of such cost-intensive diseases and conditions.

(b) UPDATES OF ASSESSMENT.—Not later than January 1, 2013, and biennially thereafter, the Secretary shall—

(1) review and update the assessment and recommendations described in subsection (a)(1); and

(2) submit a report described in subsection (a)(2) to the Committees specified in subsection (a)(2) on such updated assessment and recommendations.

(c) CMS MEDICARE COST-INTENSIVE RESEARCH FUND.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—There is established in the Treasury of the United States a fund to be known as the “CMS Medicare Cost-Intensive Research Fund”, in this subsection referred to as the “Fund”. The Administrator of the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services shall administer the Fund. The Fund shall consist of such amounts as may be appropriated or credited to such Fund for the purposes described in paragraph (2). The Administrator shall not transfer appropriations to or from other relevant research agencies, including the National Institutes of Health, the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality, and the Food and Drug Administration.

(2) PURPOSES OF FUND.—From amounts in the Fund, the Administrator of the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services shall make available research grants, contracts, and other funding mechanisms to facilitate research into the prevention, treatment, or cure of cost-intensive diseases and conditions under the Medicare program as recommended by the reports under this section.

SEC. 2. AMENDMENTS TO TITLE 49, UNITED STATES CODE.

Except as otherwise expressly provided, whenever in this Act an amendment or repeal is expressed in terms of an amendment to, or a repeal of, a section or other provision, the reference shall be considered to be made to a section or other provision of title 49, United States Code.

SEC. 3. EFFECTIVE DATE.

Except as otherwise expressly provided, this Act and the amendments made by this Act shall take effect on the date of enactment of this Act.

TITLE I—AUTHORIZATIONS

SEC. 101. OPERATIONS.

Section 106(k)(1) is amended by striking subparagraphs (A) through (E) and inserting the following:

“(A) $9,336,000,000 for fiscal year 2010; and “(B) $9,620,000,000 for fiscal year 2011.”.

SEC. 102. AIR NAVIGATION FACILITIES AND EQUIPMENT.

Section 48101(a) is amended by striking paragraphs (1) through (5) and inserting the following:

“(1) $3,500,000,000 for fiscal year 2010, of which $500,000,000 is derived from the Air Traffic Control System Modernization Account of the Airport and Airways Trust Fund; and
 “(2) $3,600,000,000 for fiscal year 2011, of which $500,000,000 is derived from the Air Traffic Control System Modernization Account of the Airport and Airways Trust Fund.”.

“(2) $3,600,000,000 for fiscal year 2011, of which $500,000,000 is derived from the Air Traffic Control System Modernization Account of the Airport and Airways Trust Fund.”.

SEC. 103. RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT.

Section 48102 is amended—

(1) by striking subsection (a) and inserting the following:

“(a) IN GENERAL.—Not more than the following amounts may be appropriated to the Secretary of Transportation out of the Airport and Airway Trust Fund established under section 9502 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (26 U.S.C. 9502) for conducting civil aviation research and development under sections 44504, 44505, 44507, 44509, and 44511 through 44513 of this title:

“(1) $200,000,000 for fiscal year 2010.
 “(2) $206,000,000 for fiscal year 2011.”;
 (2) by striking subsections (c) through (h); and

(3) by adding at the end the following:

“(c) RESEARCH GRANTS PROGRAM INVOLVING UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS.—The Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall establish a program to utilize undergraduate and technical colleges, including Historically Black Colleges and Universities, Hispanic Serving Institutions, tribally controlled colleges and universities, and Alaska Native and Native Hawaiian serving institutions in research on subjects of relevance to the Federal Aviation Administration. Grants may be awarded under this subsection for—

“(1) research projects to be carried out at primarily undergraduate institutions and technical colleges;

“(2) research projects that combine research at primarily undergraduate institutions and technical colleges with other research supported by the Federal Aviation Administration;

“(3) research on future training requirements on projected changes in regulatory requirements for aircraft maintenance and power plant licensees; or

“(4) research on the impact of new technologies and procedures, particularly those related to aircraft flight deck and air traffic management functions, and on training requirements for pilots and air traffic controllers.”.

SEC. 104. AIRPORT PLANNING AND DEVELOPMENT AND NOISE COMPATIBILITY PLANNING AND PROGRAMS.

Section 48103 is amended by striking paragraphs (1) through (6) and inserting the following:

“(1) $4,000,000,000 for fiscal year 2010; and
 “(2) $4,100,000,000 for fiscal year 2011.”.

SEC. 105. OTHER AVIATION PROGRAMS.

Section 48114 is amended—

(1) by striking “2007” in subsection (a)(1)(A) and inserting “2011”;

(2) by striking “2007,” in subsection (a)(2) and inserting “2011,”; and

(3) by striking “2007” in subsection (c)(2) and inserting “2011”.

SEC. 106. DELINEATION OF NEXT GENERATION AIR TRANSPORTATION SYSTEM PROJECTS.

Section 44501(b) is amended—

(1) by striking “and” after the semicolon in paragraph (3);

(2) by striking “defense.” in paragraph (4) and inserting “defense; and”; and

(3) by adding at the end thereof the following:

“(5) a list of projects that are part of the Next Generation Air Transportation System and do not have as a primary purpose to operate or maintain the current air traffic control system.”.

SEC. 107. FUNDING FOR ADMINISTRATIVE EXPENSES FOR AIRPORT PROGRAMS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 48105 is amended to read as follows:

“§48105. Airport programs administrative expenses

“Of the amount made available under section 48103 of this title, the following may be available for administrative expenses relating to the Airport Improvement Program, passenger facility charge approval and oversight, national airport system planning, airport standards development and enforcement, airport certification, airport-related environmental activities (including legal services), and other airport-related activities (including airport technology research), to remain available until expended—

“(1) for fiscal year 2010, $94,000,000; and

“(2) for fiscal year 2011, $98,000,000.”.

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—The table of contents for chapter 481 is amended by striking the item relating to section 48105 and inserting the following:

“48105. Airport programs administrative expenses”.

(c) PASSENGER ENPLANEMENT REPORT.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall prepare a report on every airport in the United States that reported between 10,000 and 15,000 passenger enplanements during each of the 2 most recent years for which such data is available.

(2) REPORT OBJECTIVES.—In carrying out the report under paragraph (1), the Administrator shall document the methods used by each subject airport to reach the 10,000 passenger enplanement threshold, including whether airports subsidize commercial flights to reach such threshold.

(3) REVIEW.—The Inspector General of the Department of Transportation shall review the process of the Administrator in developing the report under paragraph (1).

(4) REPORT.—The Administrator shall submit the report prepared under paragraph (1) to Congress and the Secretary of Transportation.

TITLE II—AIRPORT IMPROVEMENTS

SEC. 201. REFORM OF PASSENGER FACILITY CHARGE AUTHORITY.

(a) PASSENGER FACILITY CHARGE STREAMLINING.—Section 40117(c) is amended to read as follows:

“(c) PROCEDURAL REQUIREMENTS FOR IMPOSITION OF PASSENGER FACILITY CHARGE.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—An eligible agency must submit to those air carriers and foreign air carriers operating at the airport with a significant business interest, as defined in paragraph (3), and to the Secretary and make available to the public annually a report, in the form required by the Secretary, on the status of the eligible agency's passenger facility charge program, including—

“(A) the total amount of program revenue held by the agency at the beginning of the 12 months covered by the report;

“(B) the total amount of program revenue collected by the agency during the period covered by the report;

“(C) the amount of expenditures with program revenue made by the agency on each eligible airport-related project during the period covered by the report;

“(D) each airport-related project for which the agency plans to collect and use program revenue during the next 12-month period covered by the report, including the amount of revenue projected to be used for such project;

“(E) the level of program revenue the agency plans to collect during the next 12-month period covered by the report;

“(F) a description of the notice and consultation process with air carriers and foreign air carriers under paragraph (3), and with the public under paragraph (4), including a copy of any adverse comments received and how the agency responded; and “(G) any other information on the program that the Secretary may require.

“(2) IMPLEMENTATION.—Subject to the requirements of paragraphs (3), (4), (5), and (6), the eligible agency may implement the planned collection and use of passenger facility charges in accordance with its report upon filing the report as required in paragraph (1).

“(3) CONSULTATION WITH CARRIERS FOR NEW PROJECTS.—

“(A) An eligible agency proposing to collect or use passenger facility charge revenue for a project not previously approved by the Secretary or not included in a report required by paragraph (1) that was submitted in a prior year shall provide to air carriers and foreign air carriers operating at the airport reasonable notice, and an opportunity to comment on the planned collection and use of program revenue before providing the report required under paragraph (1). The Secretary shall prescribe by regulation what constitutes reasonable notice under this paragraph, which shall at a minimum include—

“(i) that the eligible agency provide to air carriers and foreign air carriers operating at the airport written notice of the planned collection and use of passenger facility charge revenue;

“(ii) that the notice include a full description and justification for a proposed project;

“(iii) that the notice include a detailed financial plan for the proposed project; and

“(iv) that the notice include the proposed level for the passenger facility charge.

“(B) An eligible agency providing notice and an opportunity for comment shall be deemed to have satisfied the requirements of this paragraph if the eligible agency provides such notice to air carriers and foreign air carriers that have a significant business interest at the airport. For purposes of this subparagraph, the term ‘significant business interest’ means an air carrier or foreign air carrier that—“(i) had not less than 1.0 percent of passenger boardings at the airport in the prior calendar year;

“(ii) had at least 25,000 passenger boardings at the airport in the prior calendar year; or “(iii) provides scheduled service at the airport.

“(C) Not later than 45 days after written notice is provided under subparagraph (A), each air carrier and foreign air carrier may provide written comments to the eligible agency indicating its agreement or disagreement with the project or, if applicable, the proposed level for a passenger facility charge.

“(D) The eligible agency may include, as part of the notice and comment process, a consultation meeting to discuss the proposed project or, if applicable, the proposed level for a passenger facility charge. If the agency provides a consultation meeting, the written comments specified in subparagraph (C) shall be due not later than 30 days after the meeting.

“(4) PUBLIC NOTICE AND COMMENT.—

“(A) An eligible agency proposing to collect or use passenger facility charge revenue for a project not previously approved by the Secretary or not included in a report required by paragraph (1) that was filed in a prior year shall provide reasonable notice and an opportunity for public comment on the planned collection and use of program revenue before providing the report required in paragraph (1).

“(B) The Secretary shall prescribe by regulation what constitutes reasonable notice under this paragraph, which shall at a minimum require—

“(i) that the eligible agency provide public notice of intent to collect a passenger facility charge so as to inform those interested persons and agencies that may be affected;

“(ii) appropriate methods of publication, which may include notice in local newspapers of general circulation or other local media, or posting of the notice on the agency's Internet website; and “(iii) submission of public comments no later than 45 days after the date of the publication of the notice.

“(5) OBJECTIONS.—

“(A) Any interested person may file with the Secretary a written objection to a proposed project included in a notice under this paragraph provided that the filing is made within 30 days after submission of the report specified in paragraph (1).

“(B) The Secretary shall provide not less than 30 days for the eligible agency to respond to any filed objection.

“(C) Not later than 90 days after receiving the eligible agency's response to a filed objection, the Secretary shall make a determination whether or not to terminate authority to collect the passenger facility charge for the project, based on the filed objection. The Secretary shall state the reasons for any determination. The Secretary may only terminate authority if—

“(i) the project is not an eligible airport-related project;

“(ii) the eligible agency has not complied with the requirements of this section or the Secretary's implementing regulations in proposing the project;

“(iii) the eligible agency has been found to be in violation of section 47107(b) of this title and has failed to take corrective action, prior to the filing of the objection; or “(iv) in the case of a proposed increase in the passenger facility charge level, the level is not authorized by this section.

“(D) Upon issuance of a decision terminating authority, the public agency shall prepare an accounting of passenger facility revenue collected under the terminated authority and restore the funds for use on other authorized projects.

“(E) Except as provided in subparagraph (C), the eligible agency may implement the planned collection and use of a passenger facility charge in accordance with its report upon filing the report as specified in paragraph (1)(A).

“(6) APPROVAL REQUIREMENT FOR INCREASED PASSENGER FACILITY CHARGE OR INTERMODAL GROUND ACCESS PROJECT.—

“(A) An eligible agency may not collect or use a passenger facility charge to finance an intermodal ground access project, or increase a passenger facility charge, unless the project is first approved by the Secretary in accordance with this paragraph.

“(B) The eligible agency may submit to the Secretary an application for authority to impose a passenger facility charge for an intermodal ground access project or to increase a passenger facility charge. The application shall contain information and be in the form that the Secretary may require by regulation but, at a minimum, must include copies of any comments received by the agency during the comment period described by subparagraph (C).

“(C) Before submitting an application under this paragraph, an eligible agency must provide air carriers and foreign air carriers operating at the airport, and the public, reasonable notice of and an opportunity to comment on a proposed intermodal ground access project or the increased passenger facility charge. Such notice and opportunity to comment shall conform to the requirements of paragraphs (3) and (4).

“(D) After receiving an application, the Secretary may provide air carriers, foreign air carriers and other interested persons notice and an opportunity to comment on the application. The Secretary shall make a final decision on the application not later than 120 days after receiving it.”

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—

(1) REFERENCES.—

(A) Section 40117(a) is amended—

(i) by striking “FEE” in the heading for paragraph (5) and inserting “CHARGE”; and

(ii) by striking “fee” each place it appears in paragraphs (5) and (6) and inserting “charge”.

(B) Subsections (b), and subsections (d) through (m), of section 40117 are amended—

(i) by striking “fee” or “fees” each place either appears and inserting “charge” or “charges”, respectively; and

(ii) by striking “FEE” in the subsection caption for subsection (l), and “FEES” in the subsection captions for subsections (e) and (m), and inserting “CHARGE” and “CHARGES”, respectively.

(C) The caption for section 40117 is amended to read as follows:

“§40117. Passenger facility charges”.

(D) The table of contents for chapter 401 is amended by striking the item relating to section 40117 and inserting the following:

“40117. Passenger facility charges”.

(2) LIMITATIONS ON APPROVING APPLICATIONS.—Section 40117(d) is amended—

(A) by striking “subsection (c) of this section to finance a specific” and inserting “subsection (c)(6) of this section to finance an intermodal ground access”; and

(B) by striking “specific” in paragraph (1);

(C) by striking paragraph (2) and inserting the following:

“(2) the project is an eligible airport-related project; and”;

(D) by striking “each of the specific projects; and” in paragraph (3) and inserting “the project.”; and

(E) by striking paragraph (4).

(3) LIMITATIONS ON IMPOSING CHARGES.—Section 40117(e)(1) is amended to read as follows:

“(1) An eligible agency may impose a passenger facility charge only subject to terms the Secretary may prescribe to carry out the objectives of this section.”.

(4) LIMITATIONS ON CONTRACTS, LEASES, AND USE AGREEMENTS.—Section 40117(f)(2) is amended by striking “long-term”.

(5) COMPLIANCE.—Section 40117(h) is amended—

(A) by redesignating paragraph (3) as paragraph (4); and

(B) by inserting after paragraph (2) the following:

“(3) The Secretary may, on complaint of an interested person or on the Secretary's own initiative, conduct an investigation into an eligible agency's collection and use of passenger facility charge revenue to determine whether a passenger facility charge is excessive or that passenger facility revenue is not being used as provided in this section. The Secretary shall prescribe regulations establishing procedures for complaints and investigations. The regulations may provide for the issuance of a final agency decision without resort to an oral evidentiary hearing. The Secretary shall not accept complaints filed under this paragraph until after the issuance of regulations establishing complaint procedures.”.

(6) PILOT PROGRAM FOR PFC AT NONHUB AIRPORTS.—Section 40117(l) is amended—

(A) by striking “(c)(2)” in paragraph (2) and inserting “(c)(3)”;

(B) by striking “October 1, 2009.” in paragraph (7) and inserting “the date of issuance of regulations to carry out subsection (c) of this section, as amended by the FAA Air Transportation Modernization and Safety Improvement Act.”.

(7) PROHIBITION ON APPROVING PFC APPLICATIONS FOR AIRPORT REVENUE DIVERSION.—Section 47111(e) is amended by striking “sponsor” the second place it appears in the first sentence and all that follows and inserting “sponsor. A sponsor shall not propose collection or use of passenger facility charges for any new projects under paragraphs (3) through (6) of section 40117(c) unless the Secretary determines that the sponsor has taken corrective action to address the violation and the violation no longer exists.”.

SEC. 202. PASSENGER FACILITY CHARGE PILOT PROGRAM.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 40117 is amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

“(n) ALTERNATIVE PASSENGER FACILITY CHARGE COLLECTION PILOT PROGRAM.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall establish and conduct a pilot program at not more than 6 airports under which an eligible agency may impose a passenger facility charge under this section without regard to the dollar amount limitations set forth in paragraph (1) or (4) of subsection (b) if the participating eligible agency meets the requirements of paragraph (2).

“(2) COLLECTION REQUIREMENTS.—

“(A) DIRECT COLLECTION.—An eligible agency participating in the pilot program—

“(i) may collect the charge from the passenger at the facility, via the Internet, or in any other reasonable manner; but “(ii) may not require or permit the charge to be collected by an air carrier or foreign air carrier for the flight segment.

“(B) PFC COLLECTION REQUIREMENT NOT TO APPLY.—Subpart C of part 158 of title 14, Code of Federal Regulations, does not apply to the collection of the passenger facility charge imposed by an eligible agency participating in the pilot program.”

(b) GAO STUDY OF ALTERNATIVE MEANS OF COLLECTING PFCs.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Comptroller General shall conduct a study of alternative means of collection passenger facility charges imposed under section 40117 of title 49, United States Code, that would permit such charges to be collected without being included in the ticket price. In the study, the Comptroller General shall consider, at a minimum—

(A) collection options for arriving, connecting, and departing passengers at airports;

(B) cost sharing or fee allocation methods based on passenger travel to address connecting traffic; and

(C) examples of airport fees collected by domestic and international airports that are not included in ticket prices.

(2) REPORT.—No later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, the Comptroller General shall submit a report on the study to the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation and the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure containing the Comptroller General's findings, conclusions, and recommendations.

SEC. 203. AMENDMENTS TO GRANT ASSURANCES.

Section 47107 is amended—

(1) by striking “made;” in subsection (a)(16)(D)(ii) and inserting “made, except that, if there is a change in airport design standards that the Secretary determines is beyond the owner or operator's control that requires the relocation or replacement of an existing airport facility, the Secretary, upon the request of the owner or operator, may grant funds available under section 47114 to pay the cost of relocating or replacing such facility;”;

(2) by striking “purpose;” in subsection (c)(2)(A)(i) and inserting “purpose, which includes serving as noise buffer land;”;

(3) by striking “paid to the Secretary for deposit in the Fund if another eligible project does not exist.” in subsection (c)(2)(B)(iii) and inserting “reinvested in another project at the airport or transferred to another airport as the Secretary prescribes.”; and

(4) by redesignating paragraph (3) of subsection (c) as paragraph (4) and inserting after paragraph (2) the following:

“(3) In approving the reinvestment or transfer of proceeds under paragraph (2)(C)(iii), the Secretary shall give preference, in descending order, to—

“(i) reinvestment in an approved noise compatibility project;

“(ii) reinvestment in an approved project that is eligible for funding under section 47117(e);

“(iii) reinvestment in an airport development project that is eligible for funding under section 47114, 47115, or 47117 and meets the requirements of this chapter;

“(iv) transfer to the sponsor of another public airport to be reinvested in an approved noise compatibility project at such airport; and

“(v) payment to the Secretary for deposit in the Airport and Airway Trust Fund established under section 9502 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (26 U.S.C. 9502).”

SEC. 204. GOVERNMENT SHARE OF PROJECT COSTS.

(a) FEDERAL SHARE.—Section 47109 is amended—

(1) by striking “subsection (b) or subsection (c)” in subsection (a) and inserting “subsection (b), (c), or (e)”;

(2) by adding at the end the following:

“(e) SPECIAL RULE FOR TRANSITION FROM SMALL HUB TO MEDIUM HUB STATUS.—If the status of a small hub primary airport changes to a medium hub primary airport, the United States Government's share of allowable project costs for the airport may not exceed 95 percent for 2 fiscal years following such change in hub status.”

(b) TRANSITIONING AIRPORTS.—Section 47114(f)(3)(B) is amended by striking “year 2004.” and inserting “years 2010 and 2011.”

SEC. 205. AMENDMENTS TO ALLOWABLE COSTS.

Section 47110 is amended—

(1) by striking subsection (d) and inserting the following:

“(d) RELOCATION OF AIRPORT-OWNED FACILITIES.—The Secretary may determine that the costs of relocating or replacing an airport-owned facility are allowable for an airport development project at an airport only if—

“(1) the Government's share of such costs is paid with funds apportioned to the airport sponsor under sections 47114(c)(1) or 47114(d)(2);

“(2) the Secretary determines that the relocation or replacement is required due to a change in the Secretary's design standards; and

“(3) the Secretary determines that the change is beyond the control of the airport sponsor.”;

(2) by striking “facilities, including fuel farms and hangars,” in subsection (h) and inserting “facilities, as defined by section 47102;”;

(3) by adding at the end the following:

“(i) BIRD-DETECTING RADAR SYSTEMS.—Within 180 days after the date of enactment of the FAA Air Transportation Modernization and Safety Improvement Act, the Administrator shall analyze the conclusions of ongoing studies of various types of commercially-available bird radar systems, based upon that analysis, if the Administrator determines such systems have no negative impact on existing navigational aids and that the expenditure of such funds is appropriate, the Administrator shall allow the purchase of bird-detecting radar systems as an allowable airport development project costs subject to subsection (b). If a determination is made that such radar systems will not improve or negatively impact airport safety, the Administrator shall issue a report to the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation and the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure on why that determination was made.”

SEC. 206. SALE OF PRIVATE AIRPORT TO PUBLIC SPONSOR.

Section 47133(b) is amended—

(1) by resetting the text of the subsection as an indented paragraph 2 ems from the left margin;

(2) by inserting “(1)” before “Subsection”;

and

(3) by adding at the end thereof the following:

“(2) In the case of a privately owned airport, subsection (a) shall not apply to the proceeds from the sale of the airport to a public sponsor if—

“(A) the sale is approved by the Secretary;

“(B) funding is provided under this title for the public sponsor's acquisition; and

“(C) an amount equal to the remaining unamortized portion of the original grant, amortized over a 20-year period, is repaid to the Secretary by the private owner for deposit in the Trust Fund for airport acquisitions.

“(3) This subsection shall apply to grants issued on or after October 1, 1996.”

SEC. 207. GOVERNMENT SHARE OF CERTAIN AIR PROJECT COSTS.

Notwithstanding section 47109(a) of title 49, United States Code, the Federal Government's share of allowable project costs for a grant made in fiscal year 2008, 2009, 2010, or 2011 under chapter 471 of that title for a project described in paragraph (2) or (3) of that section shall be 95 percent.

SEC. 207(b). PROHIBITION ON USE OF PASSENGER FACILITY CHARGES TO CONSTRUCT BICYCLE STORAGE FACILITIES.

SEC. 213. ENVIRONMENTAL MITIGATION DEMONSTRATION PILOT PROGRAM.

(a) PILOT PROGRAM.—Subchapter I of chapter 471 is amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

“§47143. Environmental mitigation demonstration pilot program

“(a) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of Transportation shall carry out a pilot program involving not more than 6 projects at public-use airports under which the Secretary may make grants to sponsors of such airports from funds apportioned under paragraph 47117(e)(1)(A) for use at such airports for environmental mitigation demonstration projects that will measurably reduce or mitigate aviation impacts on noise, air quality or water quality in the vicinity of the airport. Notwithstanding any other provision of this subchapter, an environmental mitigation demonstration project approved under this section shall be treated as eligible for assistance under this subchapter.

“(b) PARTICIPATION IN PILOT PROGRAM.—A public-use airport shall be eligible for participation in the pilot.

“(c) SELECTION CRITERIA.—In selecting from among applicants for participation in the pilot program, the Secretary may give priority consideration to environmental mitigation demonstration projects that—

“(1) will achieve the greatest reductions in aircraft noise, airport emissions, or airport water quality impacts either on an absolute basis, or on a per-dollar-of-funds expended basis; and

“(2) will be implemented by an eligible consortium.

“(d) FEDERAL SHARE.—Notwithstanding any other provision of this subchapter, the United States Government’s share of the costs of a project carried out under this section shall be 50 percent.

“(e) MAXIMUM AMOUNT.—Not more than $2,500,000 may be made available by the Secretary in grants under this section for any single project.

“(f) IDENTIFYING BEST PRACTICES.—The Administrator may develop and publish information identifying best practices for reducing or mitigating aviation impacts on noise, air quality, or water quality in the vicinity of airports, based on the projects carried out under the pilot program.

“(g) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

“(1) ELIGIBLE CONSORTIUM.—The term ‘eligible consortium’ means a consortium that comprises 2 or more of the following entities:

“(A) Businesses operating in the United States.

“(B) Public or private educational or research organizations located in the United States.

“(C) Entities of State or local governments in the United States.

“(D) Federal laboratories.

“(2) ENVIRONMENTAL MITIGATION DEMONSTRATION PROJECT.—The term ‘environmental mitigation demonstration project’ means a project that—

“(A) introduces new conceptual environmental mitigation techniques or technology with associated benefits, which have already been proven in laboratory demonstrations;

“(B) proposes methods for efficient adaptation or integration of new concepts to airport operations; and

“(C) will demonstrate whether new techniques or technology for environmental mitigation identified in research are—

“(i) practical to implement at or near multiple public use airports; and

“(ii) capable of reducing noise, airport emissions, or water quality impacts in measurably significant amounts.”.

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—The table of contents for chapter 471 is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 47142 the following:

“47143. Environmental mitigation demonstration pilot program”.

SEC. 214. ALLOWABLE PROJECT COSTS FOR AIRPORT DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM.

Section 47110(c) is amended—

(1) by striking “; or” in paragraph (1) and inserting a semicolon;

(2) by striking “project.” in paragraph (2) and inserting “project; or”; and

(3) by adding at the end the following:

“(3) necessarily incurred in anticipation of severe weather.”.

SEC. 215. GLYCOL RECOVERY VEHICLES.

Section 47102(3)(G) is amended by inserting “including acquiring glycol recovery vehicles,” after “aircraft.”.

SEC. 216. RESEARCH IMPROVEMENT FOR AIRCRAFT.

Section 44504(b) is amended—

(1) by striking “and” after the semicolon in paragraph (6);

(2) by striking “aircraft.” in paragraph (7) and inserting “aircraft; and”; and

(3) by adding at the end thereof the following:

“(8) to conduct research to support programs designed to reduce gases and particulates emitted.”.

SEC. 217. UNITED STATES TERRITORY MINIMUM GUARANTEE.

Section 47114(e) is amended—

(1) by inserting “AND ANY UNITED STATES TERRITORY” after “ALASKA” in the subsection heading; and

(2) by adding at the end thereof the following:

“(5) UNITED STATES TERRITORY MINIMUM GUARANTEE.—In any fiscal year in which the total amount apportioned to airports in a United States Territory under subsections (c) and (d) is less than 1.5 percent of the total amount apportioned to all airports under those subsections, the Secretary may apportion to the local authority in any United States Territory responsible for airport development projects in that fiscal year an amount equal to the difference between 1.5 percent of the total amounts apportioned under subsections (c) and (d) in that fiscal year and the amount otherwise apportioned under those subsections to airports in a United States Territory in that fiscal year.”.

SEC. 218. MERRILL FIELD AIRPORT, ANCHORAGE, ALASKA.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, including the Federal Airport Act (as in effect on August 8, 1958), the United States releases, without monetary consideration, all restrictions, conditions, and limitations on the use, encumbrance, or conveyance of certain land located in the municipality of Anchorage, Alaska, more particularly described as Tracts 22 and 24 of the Fourth Addition to the Town Site of Anchorage, Alaska, as shown on the plat of U.S. Survey No. 1456, accepted June 13, 1923, on file in the Bureau of Land Management, Department of Interior.

(b) GRANTS.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the municipality of Anchorage shall be released from the repayment of any outstanding grant obligations owed by the municipality to the Federal Aviation Administration with respect to any land described in subsection (a) that is subsequently conveyed to or used by the Department of Transportation and Public Facilities of the State of Alaska for the construction or reconstruction of a federally subsidized highway project.

SEC. 219. RELEASE FROM RESTRICTIONS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Subject to subsection (b), and notwithstanding section 16 of the Federal Airport Act (as in effect on August 28, 1973) and sections 47125 and 47153 of title 49, United States Code, the Secretary of Transportation is authorized to grant releases from any of the terms, conditions, reservations, and restrictions contained in the deed of conveyance dated August 28, 1973, under which the United States conveyed certain property to the city of St. George, Utah, for airport purposes.

(b) CONDITION.—Any release granted by the Secretary of Transportation pursuant to subsection (a) shall be subject to the following conditions:

(1) The city of St. George, Utah, shall agree that in conveying any interest in the property which the United States conveyed to the city by deed on August 28, 1973, the city will receive an amount for such interest which is equal to its fair market value.

(2) Any amount received by the city under paragraph (1) shall be used by the city of St. George, Utah, for the development or improvement of a replacement public airport.

SEC. 220. DESIGNATION OF FORMER MILITARY AIRPORTS.

Section 47118(g) is amended by striking “one” and inserting “three” in its place.

SEC. 221. AIRPORT SUSTAINABILITY PLANNING WORKING GROUP.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator shall establish an airport sustainability working group to assist the Administrator with issues pertaining to airport sustainability practices.

(b) MEMBERSHIP.—The Working Group shall be comprised of not more than 15 members including—

(1) the Administrator;

(2) 5 member organizations representing aviation interests including:

(A) an organization representing airport operators;

(B) an organization representing airport employees;

(C) an organization representing air carriers;

(D) an organization representing airport development and operations experts;

(E) a labor organization representing aviation employees.

(3) 9 airport chief executive officers which shall include:

(A) at least one from each of the FAA Regions;

(B) at least 1 large hub;

(C) at least 1 medium hub;

(D) at least 1 small hub;

(E) at least 1 non hub;

(F) at least 1 general aviation airport.

(c) FUNCTIONS.—

(1) develop consensus-based best practices and metrics for the sustainable design, construction, planning, maintenance, and operation of an airport that comply with the guidelines prescribed by the Administrator;

(2) develop standards for a consensus-based rating system based on the aforementioned best practices, metrics, and ratings; and

(3) develop standards for a voluntary ratings process, based on the aforementioned best practices, metrics, and ratings;

(4) examine and submit recommendations for the industry's next steps with regard to sustainability.

(d) DETERMINATION.—The Administrator shall provide assurance that the best practices developed by the working group under paragraph (a) are not in conflict with any federal aviation or federal, state or local environmental regulation.

(e) UNPAID POSITION.—Working Group members shall serve at their own expense and receive no salary, reimbursement of travel expenses, or other compensation from the Federal Government.

(f) NONAPPLICABILITY OF FACA.—The Federal Advisory Committee Act (5 U.S.C. App.) shall not apply to the Working Group under this section.

(g) REPORT.—Not later than one year after the date of enactment the Working Group shall submit a report to the Administrator containing the best practices and standards contained in paragraph (c). After receiving the report, the Administrator may publish such best practices in order to disseminate the information to support the sustainable design, construction, planning, maintenance, and operations of airports.

(h) No funds may be authorized to carry out this provision.

SEC. 222. INCLUSION OF MEASURES TO IMPROVE THE EFFICIENCY OF AIRPORT BUILDINGS IN AIRPORT IMPROVEMENT PROJECTS.

Section 47101(a) is amended—

(1) in paragraph (12), by striking “; and” and inserting a semicolon;

(2) in paragraph (13), by striking the period and inserting “; and”; and

(3) by adding at the end the following:

“(14) that the airport improvement program should be administered to allow measures to improve the efficiency of airport buildings to be included in airport improvement projects, such as measures designed to meet one or more of the criteria for being a high-performance green building set forth in section 401(13) of the Energy Independence and Security Act of 2007 (42 U.S.C. 17061(13)), if any significant increase in upfront project costs from any such measure is justified by expected savings over the lifecycle of the project.”.

SEC. 223. STUDY ON APPORTIONING AMOUNTS FOR AIRPORT IMPROVEMENT IN PROPORTION TO AMOUNTS OF AIR TRAFFIC.

(a) STUDY AND REPORT REQUIRED.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall—

(1) complete a study on the feasibility and advisability of apportioning amounts under section 47114(c)(1) of title 49, United States Code, to the sponsor of each primary airport for each fiscal year an amount that bears the same ratio to the amount subject to the apportionment for fiscal year 2009 as the number of passenger boardings at the airport during the prior calendar year bears to the aggregate of all passenger boardings at all primary airports during that calendar year; and

(2) submit to Congress a report on the study completed under paragraph (1).

(b) REPORT CONTENTS.—The report required by subsection (a)(2) shall include the following:

(1) A description of the study carried out under subsection (a)(1).

(2) The findings of the Administrator with respect to such study.

(3) A list of each sponsor of a primary airport that received an amount under section 47114(c)(1) of title 49, United States Code, in 2009.

(4) For each sponsor listed in accordance with paragraph (3), the following:

(A) The amount such sponsor received, if any, in 2005, 2006, 2007, 2008, and 2009 under such section 47114(c)(1).

(B) An explanation of how the amount awarded to such sponsor was determined.

(C) The average number of air passenger flights serviced each month at the airport of such sponsor in 2009.

(D) The number of enplanements for air passenger transportation at such airport in 2005, 2006, 2007, 2008, and 2009.

TITLE III—AIR TRAFFIC CONTROL MODERNIZATION AND FAA REFORM

SEC. 301. AIR TRAFFIC CONTROL MODERNIZATION OVERSIGHT BOARD.

Section 106(p) is amended to read as follows: “(p) AIR TRAFFIC CONTROL MODERNIZATION OVERSIGHT BOARD.—

“(1) ESTABLISHMENT.—Within 90 days after the date of enactment of the FAA Air Transportation Modernization and Safety Improvement

Act, the Secretary shall establish and appoint the members of an advisory Board which shall be known as the Air Traffic Control Modernization Oversight Board.

“(2) MEMBERSHIP.—The Board shall be comprised of the individual appointed or designated under section 302 of the FAA Air Transportation Modernization and Safety Improvement Act (who shall serve ex officio without the right to vote) and 9 other members, who shall consist of—

“(A) the Administrator and a representative from the Department of Defense;

“(B) 1 member who shall have a fiduciary responsibility to represent the public interest; and “(C) 6 members representing aviation interests, as follows:

“(i) 1 representative that is the chief executive officer of an airport.

“(ii) 1 representative that is the chief executive officer of a passenger or cargo air carrier.

“(iii) 1 representative of a labor organization representing employees at the Federal Aviation Administration that are involved with the operation of the air traffic control system.

“(iv) 1 representative with extensive operational experience in the general aviation community.

“(v) 1 representative from an aircraft manufacturer.

“(vi) 1 representative of a labor organization representing employees at the Federal Aviation Administration who are involved with maintenance of the air traffic control system.

“(3) APPOINTMENT AND QUALIFICATIONS.—

“(A) Members of the Board appointed under paragraphs (2)(B) and (2)(C) shall be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate.

“(B) Members of the Board appointed under paragraph (2)(B) shall be citizens of the United States and shall be appointed without regard to political affiliation and solely on the basis of their professional experience and expertise in one or more of the following areas and, in the aggregate, should collectively bring to bear expertise in—

“(i) management of large service organizations;

“(ii) customer service;

“(iii) management of large procurements;

“(iv) information and communications technology;

“(v) organizational development; and “(vi) labor relations.

“(C) Of the members first appointed under paragraphs (2)(B) and (2)(C)— “(i) 2 shall be appointed for terms of 1 year;

“(ii) 1 shall be appointed for a term of 2 years;

“(iii) 1 shall be appointed for a term of 3 years; and “(iv) 1 shall be appointed for a term of 4 years.

“(4) FUNCTIONS.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—The Board shall—

“(i) review and provide advice on the Administration's modernization programs, budget, and cost accounting system;

“(ii) review the Administration's strategic plan and make recommendations on the non-safety program portions of the plan, and provide advice on the safety programs of the plan;

“(iii) review the operational efficiency of the air traffic control system and make recommendations on the operational and performance metrics for that system;

“(iv) approve procurements of air traffic control equipment in excess of $100,000,000;

“(v) approve by July 31 of each year the Administrator's budget request for facilities and equipment prior to its submission to the Office of Management and budget, including which programs are proposed to be funded from the Air Traffic control system Modernization Account of the Airport and Airway Trust Fund;

“(vi) approve the Federal Aviation Administration's Capital Investment Plan prior to its submission to the Congress;

“(vii) annually review and make recommendations on the NextGen Implementation Plan;

“(viii) approve the Administrator's selection of the Chief NextGen Officer appointed or designated under section 302(a) of the FAA Air Transportation Modernization and Safety Improvement Act; and “(ix) approve the selection of the head of the Joint Planning and Development Office.

“(B) MEETINGS.—The Board shall meet on a regular and periodic basis or at the call of the Chairman or of the Administrator.

“(C) ACCESS TO DOCUMENTS AND STAFF.—The Administration may give the Board appropriate access to relevant documents and personnel of the Administration, and the Administrator shall make available, consistent with the authority to withhold commercial and other proprietary information under section 552 of title 5, cost data associated with the acquisition and operation of air traffic control systems. Any member of the Board who receives commercial or other proprietary data from the Administrator shall be subject to the provisions of section 1905 of title 18, pertaining to unauthorized disclosure of such information.

“(5) FEDERAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE ACT NOT TO APPLY.—The Federal Advisory Committee Act (5 U.S.C. App.) shall not apply to the Board or such rulemaking committees as the Administrator shall designate.

“(6) ADMINISTRATIVE MATTERS.—

“(A) TERMS OF MEMBERS.—Except as provided in paragraph (3)(C), members of the Board appointed under paragraph (2)(B) and (2)(C) shall be appointed for a term of 4 years.

“(B) REAPPOINTMENT.—No individual may be appointed to the Board for more than 8 years total.

“(C) VACANCY.—Any vacancy on the Board shall be filled in the same manner as the original position. Any member appointed to fill a vacancy occurring before the expiration of the term for which the member's predecessor was appointed shall be appointed for a term of 4 years.

“(D) CONTINUATION IN OFFICE.—A member of the Board whose term expires shall continue to serve until the date on which the member's successor takes office.

“(E) REMOVAL.—Any member of the Board appointed under paragraph (2)(B) or (2)(C) may be removed by the President for cause.

“(F) CLAIMS AGAINST MEMBERS OF THE BOARD.—

“(i) IN GENERAL.—A member appointed to the Board shall have no personal liability under State or Federal law with respect to any claim arising out of or resulting from an act or omission by such member within the scope of service as a member of the Board.

“(ii) EFFECT ON OTHER LAW.—This subparagraph shall not be construed—

“(I) to affect any other immunity or protection that may be available to a member of the Board under applicable law with respect to such transactions;

“(II) to affect any other right or remedy against the United States under applicable law; or “(III) to limit or alter in any way the immunities that are available under applicable law for Federal officers and employees.

“(G) ETHICAL CONSIDERATIONS.—Each member of the Board appointed under paragraph (2)(B) must certify that the member—

“(i) does not have a pecuniary interest in, or own stock in or bonds of, an aviation or aeronautical enterprise, except an interest in a diversified mutual fund or an interest that is exempt from the application of section 208 of title 18;

“(ii) does not engage in another business related to aviation or aeronautics; and “(iii) is not a member of any organization that engages, as a substantial part of its activities, in activities to influence aviation-related legislation.

“(H) CHAIRMAN; VICE CHAIRMAN.—The Board shall elect a chair and a vice chair from among its members, each of whom shall serve for a term of 2 years. The vice chair shall perform the duties of the chairman in the absence of the chairman.

“(I) COMPENSATION.—No member shall receive any compensation or other benefits from the Federal Government for serving on the Board, except for compensation benefits for injuries under subchapter I of chapter 81 of title 5 and except as provided under subparagraph (J).

“(J) EXPENSES.—Each member of the Board shall be paid actual travel expenses and per diem in lieu of subsistence expenses when away from his or her usual place of residence, in accordance with section 5703 of title 5.

“(K) BOARD RESOURCES.—From resources otherwise available to the Administrator, the Chairman shall appoint such staff to assist the board and provide impartial analysis, and the Administrator shall make available to the Board such information and administrative services and assistance, as may reasonably be required to enable the Board to carry out its responsibilities under this subsection.

“(L) QUORUM AND VOTING.—A simple majority of members of the Board duly appointed shall constitute a quorum. A majority vote of members present and voting shall be required for the Committee to take action.

“(7) AIR TRAFFIC CONTROL SYSTEM DEFINED.—In this subsection, the term ‘air traffic control system’ has the meaning given that term in section 40102(a).”

SEC. 302. NEXTGEN MANAGEMENT.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator shall appoint or designate an individual, as the Chief NextGen Officer, to be responsible for implementation of all Administration programs associated with the Next Generation Air Transportation System.

(b) SPECIFIC DUTIES.—The individual appointed or designated under subsection (a) shall—

(1) oversee the implementation of all Administration NextGen programs;

(2) coordinate implementation of those NextGen programs with the Office of Management and Budget;

(3) develop an annual NextGen implementation plan;

(4) ensure that Next Generation Air Transportation System implementation activities are planned in such a manner as to require that system architecture is designed to allow for the incorporation of novel and currently unknown technologies into the System in the future and that current decisions do not bias future decisions unfairly in favor of existing technology at the expense of innovation; and

(5) oversee the Joint Planning and Development Office's facilitation of cooperation among all Federal agencies whose operations and interests are affected by implementation of the NextGen programs.

SEC. 303. FACILITATION OF NEXT GENERATION AIR TRAFFIC SERVICES.

Section 106(l) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(7) AIR TRAFFIC SERVICES.—In determining what actions to take, by rule or through an agreement or transaction under paragraph (6) or under section 44502, to permit non-Government providers of communications, navigation, surveillance or other services to provide such services in the National Airspace System, or to require the usage of such services, the Administrator shall consider whether such actions would—

“(A) promote the safety of life and property;

“(B) improve the efficiency of the National Airspace System and reduce the regulatory burden upon National Airspace System users, based upon sound engineering principles, user operational requirements, and marketplace demands;

“(C) encourage competition and provide services to the largest feasible number of users; and

“(D) take into account the unique role served by general aviation.”

SEC. 304. CLARIFICATION OF AUTHORITY TO ENTER INTO REIMBURSABLE AGREEMENTS.

Section 106(m) is amended by striking “without” in the last sentence and inserting “with or without”.

SEC. 305. CLARIFICATION TO ACQUISITION REFORM AUTHORITY.

Section 40110(c) is amended—

(1) by inserting “and” after the semicolon in paragraph (3);

(2) by striking paragraph (4); and

(3) by redesignating paragraph (5) as paragraph (4).

SEC. 306. ASSISTANCE TO OTHER AVIATION AUTHORITIES.

Section 40113(e) is amended—

(1) by inserting “(whether public or private)” in paragraph (1) after “authorities”;

(2) by striking “safety.” in paragraph (1) and inserting “safety or efficiency. The Administrator is authorized to participate in, and submit offers in response to, competitions to provide these services, and to contract with foreign aviation authorities to provide these services consistent with the provisions under section 106(l)(6) of this title. The Administrator is also authorized, notwithstanding any other provision of law or policy, to accept payments in arrears.”; and

(3) by striking “appropriation from which expenses were incurred in providing such services.” in paragraph (3) and inserting “appropriation current when the expenditures are or were paid, or the appropriation current when the amount is received.”.

SEC. 307. PRESIDENTIAL RANK AWARD PROGRAM.

Section 40122(g)(2) is amended—

(1) by striking “and” after the semicolon in subparagraph (G);

(2) by striking “Board.” in subparagraph (H) and inserting “Board; and”;

(3) by inserting at the end the following new subparagraph:

“(I) subsections (b), (c), and (d) of section 4507 (relating to Meritorious Executive or Distinguished Executive rank awards), and subsections (b) and (c) of section 4507a (relating to Meritorious Senior Professional or Distinguished Senior Professional rank awards), except that—“(i) for purposes of applying such provisions to the personnel management system—

“(I) the term ‘agency’ means the Department of Transportation;

“(II) the term ‘senior executive’ means a Federal Aviation Administration executive;

“(III) the term ‘career appointee’ means a Federal Aviation Administration career executive; and “(IV) the term ‘senior career employee’ means a Federal Aviation Administration career senior professional;

“(ii) receipt by a career appointee of the rank of Meritorious Executive or Meritorious Senior Professional entitles such individual to a lump-sum payment of an amount equal to 20 percent of annual basic pay, which shall be in addition to the basic pay paid under the Federal Aviation Administration Executive Compensation Plan; and

“(iii) receipt by a career appointee of the rank of Distinguished Executive or Distinguished Senior Professional entitles the individual to a lump-sum payment of an amount equal to 35 percent of annual basic pay, which shall be in addition to the basic pay paid under the Federal Aviation Administration Executive Compensation Plan.”.

SEC. 308. NEXT GENERATION FACILITIES NEEDS ASSESSMENT.

(a) FAA CRITERIA FOR FACILITIES REALIGNMENT.—Within 9 months after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator, after providing an opportunity for public comment, shall publish final criteria to be used in making the Administrator’s recommendations for the realignment of services and facilities to assist in the transition to next generation facilities and help reduce capital, operating, maintenance, and administrative costs with no adverse effect on safety.

(b) REALIGNMENT RECOMMENDATIONS.—Within 9 months after publication of the criteria, the Administrator shall publish a list of the services and facilities that the Administrator recommends for realignment, including a justification for each recommendation and a description of the costs and savings of such transition, in the Federal Register and allow 45 days for the submission of public comments to the Board. In addition, the Administrator upon request shall hold a public hearing in any community that would be affected by a recommendation in the report.

(c) STUDY BY BOARD.—The Air Traffic Control Modernization Oversight Board established by section 106(p) of title 49, United States Code, shall study the Administrator’s recommendations for realignment and the opportunities, risks, and benefits of realigning services and facilities of the Administration to help reduce capital, operating, maintenance, and administrative costs with no adverse effect on safety.

(d) REVIEW AND RECOMMENDATIONS.—

(1) Based on its review and analysis of the Administrator’s recommendations and any public comment it may receive, the Board shall make its independent recommendations for realignment of aviation services or facilities and submit its recommendations in a report to the President, the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation, and the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure.

(2) The Board shall explain and justify in its report any recommendation made by the Board that is different from the recommendations made by the Administrator pursuant to subsection (b).

(3) The Administrator may not realign any air traffic control facilities or regional offices until the Board’s recommendations are complete, unless for each proposed realignment the Administrator and each exclusive bargaining representative certified under section 7114 of title 5, United States Code, of affected employees execute a written agreement regarding the proposed realignment.

(e) REALIGNMENT DEFINED.—In this section, the term “realignment”—

(1) means a relocation or reorganization of functions, services, or personnel positions, including a facility closure, consolidation, deconsolidation, collocation, decombining, decoupling, split, or inter-facility or inter-regional reorganization that requires a reassignment of employees; but

(2) does not include a reduction in personnel resulting from workload adjustments.

SEC. 309. NEXT GENERATION AIR TRANSPORTATION SYSTEM IMPLEMENTATION OFFICE.

(a) IMPROVED COOPERATION AND COORDINATION AMONG PARTICIPATING AGENCIES.—Section 709 of the Vision 100—Century of Aviation Reauthorization Act (49 U.S.C. 40101 note) is amended—

(1) by inserting “strategic and cross-agency” after “manage” in subsection (a)(1);

(2) by adding at the end of subsection (a)(1) “The office shall be headed by a Director, who shall report to the Chief NextGen Officer appointed or designated under section 302(a) of the FAA Air Transportation Modernization and Safety Improvement Act.”;

(3) by inserting “(A)” after “(3)” in subsection (a)(3);

(4) by inserting after subsection (a)(3) the following:

“(B) The Administrator, the Secretary of Defense, the Administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, the Secretary of Commerce, the Secretary of Homeland Security, and the head of any other Department or Federal agency from which the Secretary of Transportation requests assistance under subparagraph (A) shall designate an implementation office to be responsible for—

“(i) carrying out the Department or agency’s Next Generation Air Transportation System implementation activities with the Office;

“(ii) liaison and coordination with other Departments and agencies involved in Next Generation Air Transportation System activities; and “(iii) managing all Next Generation Air Transportation System programs for the Department or agency, including necessary budgetary and staff resources, including, for the Federal Aviation Administration, those projects described in section 44501(b)(5) of title 49, United States Code).

“(C) The head of any such Department or agency shall ensure that—

“(i) the Department’s or agency’s Next Generation Air Transportation System responsibilities are clearly communicated to the designated office; and “(ii) the performance of supervisory personnel in that office in carrying out the Department’s or agency’s Next Generation Air Transportation System responsibilities is reflected in their annual performance evaluations and compensation decisions.

“(D)(i) Within 6 months after the date of enactment of the FAA Air Transportation Modernization and Safety Improvement Act, the head of each such Department or agency shall execute a memorandum of understanding with the Office and with the other Departments and agencies participating in the Next Generation Air Transportation System project that—

“(I) describes the respective responsibilities of each such Department and agency, including budgetary commitments; and “(II) the budgetary and staff resources committed to the project.

“(ii) The memorandum shall be revised as necessary to reflect any changes in such responsibilities or commitments and be reflected in each Department or agency’s budget request.”;

(5) by striking “beyond those currently included in the Federal Aviation Administration’s operational evolution plan” in subsection (b);

(6) by striking “research and development roadmap” in subsection (b)(3) and inserting “implementation plan”;

(7) by striking “and” after the semicolon in subsection (b)(3)(B);

(8) by inserting after subsection (b)(3)(C) the following:

“(D) a schedule of rulemakings required to issue regulations and guidelines for implementation of the Next Generation Air Transportation System within a timeframe consistent with the integrated plan; and”;

(9) by inserting “and key technologies” after “concepts” in subsection (b)(4);

(10) by striking “users” in subsection (b)(4) and inserting “users, an implementation plan,”;

(11) by adding at the end of subsection (b) the following:

“Within 6 months after the date of enactment of the FAA Air Transportation Modernization and Safety Improvement Act, the Administrator shall develop the implementation plan described in paragraph (3) of this subsection and shall update it annually thereafter.”; and

(12) by striking “2010.” in subsection (e) and inserting “2011.”.

(b) SENIOR POLICY COMMITTEE MEETINGS.—Section 710(a) of such Act (49 U.S.C. 40101 note) is amended by striking “Secretary.” and inserting “Secretary and shall meet at least once each quarter.”.

SEC. 310. DEFINITION OF AIR NAVIGATION FACILITY.

Section 40102(a)(4) is amended—

(1) by striking subparagraph (B) and inserting the following:

“(B) runway lighting and airport surface visual and other navigation aids;”;

(2) by striking “weather information, signaling, radio-directional finding, or radio or other electromagnetic communication; and” in subparagraph (C) and inserting “aeronautical and meteorological information to air traffic control facilities or aircraft, supplying communication, navigation or surveillance equipment for air-to-ground or air-to-air applications;”;

(3) by striking “another structure” in subparagraph (D) and inserting “any structure, equipment;”;

(4) by striking “aircraft.” in subparagraph (D) and inserting “aircraft; and”;

(5) by adding at the end the following:

“(E) buildings, equipment, and systems dedicated to the National Airspace System.”.

SEC. 311. IMPROVED MANAGEMENT OF PROPERTY INVENTORY.

Section 40110(a)(2) is amended by striking “compensation; and” and inserting “compensation, and the amount received may be credited to the appropriation current when the amount is received; and”.

SEC. 312. EDUCATIONAL REQUIREMENTS.

The Administrator shall make payments to the Department of Defense for the education of dependent children of those Administration employees in Puerto Rico and Guam as they are subject to transfer by policy and practice and meet the eligibility requirements of section 2164(c) of title 10, United States Code.

SEC. 313. FAA PERSONNEL MANAGEMENT SYSTEM.

Section 40122(a)(2) is amended to read as follows:

“(A) DISPUTE RESOLUTION.—

“(A) MEDIATION.—If the Administrator does not reach an agreement under paragraph (1) or subsection (g)(2)(C) with the exclusive bargaining representatives, the services of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service shall be used to attempt to reach such agreement in accordance with part 1425 of title 29, Code of Federal Regulations. The Administrator and bargaining representatives may by mutual agreement adopt procedures for the resolution of disputes or impasses arising in the negotiation of a collective-bargaining agreement.

“(B) BINDING ARBITRATION.—If the services of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service under subparagraph (A) do not lead to an agreement, the Administrator and the bargaining representatives shall submit their issues in controversy to the Federal Service Impasses Panel in accordance with section 7119 of title 5. The Panel shall assist the parties in resolving the impasse by asserting jurisdiction and ordering binding arbitration by a private arbitration board consisting of 3 members in accordance with section 2471.6(a)(2)(ii) of title 5, Code of Federal Regulations. The executive director of the Panel shall request a list of not less than 15 names of arbitrators with Federal sector experience from the director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service to be provided to the Administrator and the bargaining representatives. Within 10 days after receiving the list, the parties shall each select 1 person. The 2 arbitrators shall then select a third person from the list within 7 days. If the 2 arbitrators are unable to agree on the third person, the parties shall select the third person by alternately striking names from the list until only 1 name remains. If the parties do not agree on the framing of the issues to be submitted, the arbitration board shall frame the issues. The arbitration board shall give the parties a full and fair hearing, including an opportunity to present evidence in support of their claims, and an opportunity to present their case in person, by counsel, or by other representative as they may elect. Decisions of the arbitration board shall be conclusive and binding upon the parties. The arbitration board shall render its decision within 90 days after its appointment. The Administrator and the bargaining representative shall share costs of the arbitration equally. The arbitration board shall take into consideration the effect of its arbitration decisions on the Federal Aviation Administration’s ability to attract and retain a qualified workforce and the Federal Aviation Administration’s budget.

“(C) EFFECT.—Upon reaching a voluntary agreement or at the conclusion of the binding arbitration under subparagraph (B) above, the final agreement, except for those matters decided by the arbitration board, shall be subject to ratification by the exclusive representative, if so requested by the exclusive representative, and approval by the head of the agency in accordance with subsection (g)(2)(C).

“(D) ENFORCEMENT.—Enforcement of the provisions of this paragraph shall be in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia.”.

SEC. 314. ACCELERATION OF NEXTGEN TECHNOLOGIES.

(a) OEP AIRPORT PROCEDURES.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Within 6 months after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall publish a report, after consultation with representatives of appropriate Administration employee groups, airport operators, air carriers, general aviation representatives, and aircraft manufacturers that includes the following:

(A) RNP/RNAV OPERATIONS.—The required navigation performance and area navigation operations, including the procedures to be developed, certified, and published and the air traffic control operational changes, to maximize the efficiency and capacity of NextGen commercial operations at the 35 Operational Evolution Partnership airports identified by the Administration.

(B) COORDINATION AND IMPLEMENTATION ACTIVITIES.—A description of the activities and operational changes and approvals required to coordinate and utilize those procedures at those airports.

(C) IMPLEMENTATION PLAN.—A plan for implementing those procedures that establishes—

(i) clearly defined budget, schedule, project organization, and leadership requirements;

(ii) specific implementation and transition steps; and

(iii) baseline and performance metrics for measuring the Administration’s progress in implementing the plan, including the percentage utilization of required navigation performance in the National Airspace System.

(D) COST/BENEFIT ANALYSIS FOR THIRD-PARTY USAGE.—An assessment of the costs and benefits of using third parties to assist in the development of the procedures.

(E) ADDITIONAL PROCEDURES.—A process for the identification, certification, and publication of additional required navigation performance and area navigation procedures that may be required at such airports in the future.

(2) IMPLEMENTATION SCHEDULE.—The Administrator shall certify, publish, and implement—

(A) 30 percent of the required procedures within 18 months after the date of enactment of this Act;

(B) 60 percent of the procedures within 36 months after the date of enactment of this Act; and

(C) 100 percent of the procedures before January 1, 2014.

(b) EXPANSION OF PLAN TO OTHER AIRPORTS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—No later than January 1, 2014, the Administrator shall publish a report, after consultation with representatives of appropriate Administration employee groups, airport operators, and air carriers, that includes a plan for applying the procedures, requirements, criteria, and metrics described in subsection (a)(1) to other airports across the Nation.

(2) IMPLEMENTATION SCHEDULE.—The Administrator shall certify, publish, and implement—

(A) 25 percent of the required procedures at such other airports before January 1, 2015;

(B) 50 percent of the procedures at such other airports before January 1, 2016;

(C) 75 percent of the procedures at such other airports before January 1, 2017; and

(D) 100 percent of the procedures before January 1, 2018.

(c) ESTABLISHMENT OF PRIORITIES.—The Administrator shall extend the charter of the Performance Based Navigation Aviation Rule-making Committee as necessary to authorize and request it to establish priorities for the development, certification, publication, and implementation of the navigation performance and area navigation procedures based on their potential safety and congestion benefits.

(d) COORDINATED AND EXPEDITED REVIEW.—Navigation performance and area navigation procedures developed, certified, published, and implemented under this section shall be presumed to be covered by a categorical exclusion (as defined in section 1508.4 of title 40, Code of Federal Regulations) under chapter 3 of FAA Order 1050.1E unless the Administrator determines that extraordinary circumstances exist with respect to the procedure.

(e) DEPLOYMENT PLAN FOR NATIONWIDE DATA COMMUNICATIONS SYSTEM.—Within 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall submit a plan for implementation of a nationwide communications system to the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation and the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure. The plan shall include—

(1) clearly defined budget, schedule, project organization, and leadership requirements;

(2) specific implementation and transition steps; and

(3) baseline and performance metrics for measuring the Administration’s progress in implementing the plan.

(f) IMPROVED PERFORMANCE STANDARDS.—Within 90 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall submit a report to the Senate committee on commerce, Science, and Transportation and the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure that—

(1) evaluates whether utilization of ADS-B, RNP, and other technologies as part of the NextGen Air Transportation System implementation plan will display the position of aircraft more accurately and frequently so as to enable a more efficient use of existing airspace and result in reduced consumption of aviation fuel and aircraft engine emissions;

(2) evaluates the feasibility of reducing aircraft separation standards in a safe manner as a result of implementation of such technologies; and

(3) if the Administrator determines that such standards can be reduced safely, includes a timetable for implementation of such reduced standards.

SEC. 315. ADS-B DEVELOPMENT AND IMPLEMENTATION.

(a) IN GENERAL.—

(1) REPORT REQUIRED.—Within 90 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall submit a report to the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation and the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure detailing the Administration’s program and schedule for integrating ADS-B technology into the National Airspace System. The report shall include—

(A) a clearly defined budget, schedule, project organization, leadership, and the specific implementation or transition steps required to achieve these ADS-B ground station installation goals;

(B) a transition plan for ADS-B that includes date-specific milestones for the implementation of new capabilities into the National Airspace System;

(C) identification of any potential operational or workforce changes resulting from deployment of ADS-B;

(D) detailed plans and schedules for implementation of advanced operational procedures and ADS-B air-to-air applications; and

(E) baseline and performance metrics in order to measure the agency's progress.

(2) IDENTIFICATION AND MEASUREMENT OF BENEFITS.—In the report required by paragraph (1), the Administrator shall identify actual benefits that will accrue to National Airspace System users, small and medium-sized airports, and general aviation users from deployment of ADS-B and provide an explanation of the metrics used to quantify those benefits.

(b) RULEMAKINGS.—

(1) ADS-B OUT.—Not later than 45 days after the date of enactment of this Act the Administrator shall—

(A) complete the initial rulemaking proceeding (Docket No. FAA-2007-29305; Notice No. 07-15; 72 FR 56947) to issue guidelines and regulations for ADS-B Out technology that—

(i) identify the ADS-B Out technology that will be required under NextGen;

(ii) subject to paragraph (3), require all aircraft to be equipped with such technology by 2015; and

(iii) identify—

(I) the type of such avionics required of aircraft for all classes of airspace;

(II) the expected costs associated with the avionics; and

(III) the expected uses and benefits of the avionics; and

(B) initiate a rulemaking proceeding to issue any additional guidelines and regulations for ADS-B Out technology not addressed in the initial rulemaking.

(2) ADS-B IN.—Not later than 45 days after the date of enactment of this Act the Administrator shall initiate a rulemaking proceeding to issue guidelines and regulations for ADS-B In technology that—

(A) identify the ADS-B In technology that will be required under NextGen;

(B) subject to paragraph (3), require all aircraft to be equipped with such technology by 2018; and

(C) identify—

(i) the type of such avionics required of aircraft for all classes of airspace;

(ii) the expected costs associated with the avionics; and

(iii) the expected uses and benefits of the avionics.

(3) READINESS VERIFICATION.—Before the date on which all aircraft are required to be equipped with ADS-B technology pursuant to rulemakings under paragraphs (1) and (2), the Air Traffic Control Modernization Oversight Board shall verify that—

(A) the necessary ground infrastructure is installed and functioning properly;

(B) certification standards have been approved; and

(C) appropriate operational platforms interface safely and efficiently.

(c) USES.—Within 18 months after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall develop, in consultation with appropriate employee groups, a plan for the use of ADS-B technology for surveillance and active air traffic control by 2015. The plans shall—

(1) include provisions to test the use of ADS-B prior to the 2015 deadline for surveillance and active air traffic control in specific regions of the country with the most congested airspace;

(2) identify the equipment required at air traffic control facilities and the training required for air traffic controllers;

(3) develop procedures, in consultation with appropriate employee groups, to conduct air traffic management in mixed equipage environments; and

(4) establish a policy in these test regions, with consultation from appropriate employee groups, to provide incentives for equipage with ADS-B technology by giving priority to aircraft equipped with such technology before the 2015 and 2018 equipage deadlines.

(d) CONDITIONAL EXTENSION OF DEADLINES FOR EQUIPPING AIRCRAFT WITH ADS-B TECHNOLOGY.—

(1) ADS-B OUT.—In the case that the Administrator fails to complete the initial rulemaking described in subparagraph (A) of subsection (b)(1) on or before the date that is 45 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the deadline described in clause (ii) of such subparagraph shall be extended by an amount of time that is equal to the amount of time of the period beginning on the date that is 45 days after the date of the enactment of this Act and ending on the date on which the Administrator completes such initial rulemaking.

(2) ADS-B IN.—In the case that the Administrator fails to initiate the rulemaking required by paragraph (2) of subsection (b) on or before the date that is 45 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the deadline described in subparagraph (B) of such paragraph shall be extended by an amount of time that is equal to the amount of time of the period beginning on the date that is 45 days after the date of the enactment of this Act and ending on the date on which the Administrator initiates such rulemaking.

SEC. 316. EQUIPAGE INCENTIVES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator shall issue a report that—

(1) identifies incentive options to encourage the equipage of aircraft with NextGen technologies, including a policy that gives priority to aircraft equipped with ADS-B technology;

(2) identifies the costs and benefits of each option; and

(3) includes input from industry stakeholders, including passenger and cargo air carriers, aerospace manufacturers, and general aviation aircraft operators.

(b) DEADLINE.—The Administrator shall issue the report before the earlier of—

(1) the date that is 6 months after the date of enactment of this Act; or

(2) the date on which aircraft are required to be equipped with ADS-B technology pursuant to rulemakings under section 315(b) of this Act.

SEC. 317. PERFORMANCE METRICS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—No later than June 1, 2010, the Administrator shall establish and track National Airspace System performance metrics, including, at a minimum—

(1) the allowable operations per hour on runways;

(2) average gate-to-gate times;

(3) fuel burned between key city pairs;

(4) operations using the advanced procedures implemented under section 314 of this Act;

(5) average distance flown between key city pairs;

(6) time between pushing back from the gate and taking off;

(7) uninterrupted climb or descent;

(8) average gate arrival delay for all arrivals;

(9) flown versus filed flight times for key city pairs; and

(10) metrics to demonstrate reduced fuel burn and reduced emissions.

(b) OPTIMAL BASELINES.—The Administrator, in consultation with aviation industry stakeholders, shall identify optimal baselines for each of these metrics and appropriate methods to measure deviations from these baselines.

(c) PUBLICATION.—The Administration shall make the data obtained under subsection (a) available to the public in a searchable, sortable, downloadable format through its website and other appropriate media.

(d) REPORTS.—

(1) INITIAL REPORT.—Not later than 90 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall submit to the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation and the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure that contains—

(A) a description of the metrics that will be used to measure the Administration's progress in implementing NextGen Air Transportation System capabilities and operational results; and

(B) information about how any additional metrics were developed.

(2) ANNUAL PROGRESS REPORT.—The Administrator shall submit an annual progress report to those committees on the Administration's progress in implementing NextGen Air Transportation System.

SEC. 318. CERTIFICATION STANDARDS AND RESOURCES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Within 6 months after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall develop a plan to accelerate and streamline the process for certification of NextGen technologies, including—

(1) updated project plans and timelines to meet the deadlines established by this title;

(2) identification of the specific activities needed to certify core NextGen technologies, including the establishment of NextGen technical requirements for the manufacture of equipage, installation of equipage, airline operational procedures, pilot training standards, air traffic control procedures, and air traffic controller training;

(3) staffing requirements for the Air Certification Service and the Flight Standards Service, and measures addressing concerns expressed by the Department of Transportation Inspector General and the Comptroller General regarding staffing needs for modernization;

(4) an assessment of the extent to which the Administration will use third parties in the certification process, and the cost and benefits of this approach; and

(5) performance metrics to measure the Administration's progress.

(b) CERTIFICATION INTEGRITY.—The Administrator shall make no distinction between public or privately owned equipment, systems, or services used in the National Airspace System when determining certification requirements.

SEC. 319. REPORT ON FUNDING FOR NEXTGEN TECHNOLOGY.

Not later than 120 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall submit to Congress a report that contains—

(1) a financing proposal that—

(A) uses innovative methods to fully fund the development and implementation of technology for the Next Generation Air Transportation System in a manner that does not increase the Federal deficit; and

(B) takes into consideration opportunities for involvement by public-private partnerships; and

(C) recommends creative financing proposals other than user fees or higher taxes; and

(2) recommendations with respect to how the Administrator and Congress can provide operational benefits, such as benefits relating to preferred airspace, routings, or runway access, for all aircraft, including air carriers and general aviation, that equip their aircraft with technology necessary for the operation of the Next Generation Air Transportation System before the date by which the Administrator requires the use of such technology.

SEC. 320. UNMANNED AERIAL SYSTEMS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Within 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall develop a plan to accelerate the integration of unmanned aerial systems into the National Airspace System that—

(1) creates a pilot project to integrate such vehicles into the National Airspace System at 4 test sites in the National Airspace System by 2012;

(2) creates a safe, non-exclusionary airspace designation for cooperative manned and unmanned flight operations in the National Airspace System;

(3) establishes a process to develop certification, flight standards, and air traffic requirements for such vehicles at the test sites;

(4) dedicates funding for unmanned aerial systems research and development to certification, flight standards, and air traffic requirements;

(5) encourages leveraging and coordination of such research and development activities with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the Department of Defense;

(6) addresses both military and civilian unmanned aerial system operations;

(7) ensures the unmanned aircraft systems integration plan is incorporated in the Administration's NextGen Air Transportation System implementation plan; and

(8) provides for verification of the safety of the vehicles and navigation procedures before their integration into the National Airspace System.

(b) TEST SITE CRITERIA.—The Administrator shall take into consideration geographical and climate diversity in determining where the test sites to be established under the pilot project required by subsection (a)(1) are to be located.

SEC. 321. SURFACE SYSTEMS PROGRAM OFFICE.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Air Traffic Organization shall—

(1) evaluate the Airport Surface Detection Equipment-Model X program for its potential contribution to implementation of the NextGen initiative;

(2) evaluate airport surveillance technologies and associated collaborative surface management software for potential contributions to implementation of NextGen surface management;

(3) accelerate implementation of the program; and

(4) carry out such additional duties as the Administrator may require.

(b) EXPEDITED CERTIFICATION AND UTILIZATION.—The Administrator shall—

(1) consider options for expediting the certification of Ground Based Augmentation System technology; and

(2) develop a plan to utilize such a system at the 35 Operational Evolution Partnership airports by September 30, 2012.

SEC. 322. STAKEHOLDER COORDINATION.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator shall establish a process for including qualified employees selected by each exclusive collective bargaining representative of employees of the Administration who are likely to be affected by the planning, development, and deployment of air traffic control modernization projects (including the Next Generation Air Transportation System) in, and collaborating with, such employees in the planning, development, and deployment of those projects.

(b) PARTICIPATION.—

(1) BARGAINING OBLIGATIONS AND RIGHTS.—Participation in the process described in subsection (a) shall not be construed as a waiver of any bargaining obligations or rights under section 40122(a)(1) or 40122(g)(2)(C) of title 49, United States Code.

(2) CAPACITY AND COMPENSATION.—Exclusive collective bargaining representatives and selected employees participating in the process described in subsection (a) shall—

(A) serve in a collaborative and advisory capacity; and

(B) receive appropriate travel and per diem expenses in accordance with the travel policies of the Administration in addition to any regular compensation and benefits.

(c) REPORT.—No later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall submit a report on the implementation of this section to the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation and the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure.

SEC. 323. FAA TASK FORCE ON AIR TRAFFIC CONTROL FACILITY CONDITIONS.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—The Administrator shall establish a special task force to be known as the "FAA Task Force on Air Traffic Control Facility Conditions".

(b) MEMBERSHIP.—

(1) COMPOSITION.—The Task Force shall be composed of 11 members of whom—

(A) 7 members shall be appointed by the Administrator; and

(B) 4 members shall be appointed by labor unions representing employees who work at field facilities of the Administration.

(2) QUALIFICATIONS.—Of the members appointed by the Administrator under paragraph (1)(A)—

(A) 4 members shall be specialists on toxic mold abatement, "sick building syndrome," and other hazardous building conditions that can lead to employee health concerns and shall be appointed by the Administrator in consultation with the Director of the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health; and

(B) 2 members shall be specialists on the rehabilitation of aging buildings.

(3) TERMS.—Members shall be appointed for the life of the Task Force.

(4) VACANCIES.—A vacancy in the Task Force shall be filled in the manner in which the original appointment was made.

(5) TRAVEL EXPENSES.—Members shall serve without pay but shall receive travel expenses, including per diem in lieu of subsistence, in accordance with subchapter I of chapter 57 of title 5, United States Code.

(c) CHAIRPERSON.—The Administrator shall designate, from among the individuals appointed under subsection (b)(1), an individual to serve as chairperson of the Task Force.

(d) TASK FORCE PERSONNEL MATTERS.—

(1) STAFF.—The Task Force may appoint and fix the pay of such personnel as it considers appropriate.

(2) STAFF OF FEDERAL AGENCIES.—Upon request of the Chairperson of the Task Force, the head of any department or agency of the United States may detail, on a reimbursable basis, any of the personnel of that department or agency to the Task Force to assist it in carrying out its duties under this section.

(3) OTHER STAFF AND SUPPORT.—Upon request of the Task Force or a panel of the Task Force, the Administrator shall provide the Task Force or panel with professional and administrative staff and other support, on a reimbursable basis, to the Task Force to assist it in carrying out its duties under this section.

(e) OBTAINING OFFICIAL DATA.—The Task Force may secure directly from any department or agency of the United States information (other than information required by any statute of the United States to be kept confidential by such department or agency) necessary for the Task Force to carry out its duties under this section. Upon request of the chairperson of the Task Force, the head of that department or agency shall furnish such information to the Task Force.

(f) DUTIES.—

(1) STUDY.—The Task Force shall undertake a study of—

(A) the conditions of all air traffic control facilities across the Nation, including towers, centers, and terminal radar air control;

(B) reports from employees of the Administration relating to respiratory ailments and other health conditions resulting from exposure to mold, asbestos, poor air quality, radiation and facility-related hazards in facilities of the Administration;

(C) conditions of such facilities that could interfere with such employees' ability to effectively and safely perform their duties;

(D) the ability of managers and supervisors of such employees to promptly document and seek remediation for unsafe facility conditions;

(E) whether employees of the Administration who report facility-related illnesses are treated fairly;

(F) utilization of scientifically approved remediation techniques in a timely fashion once hazardous conditions are identified in a facility of the Administration; and

(G) resources allocated to facility maintenance and renovation by the Administration.

(2) FACILITY CONDITION INDICES.—The Task Force shall review the facility condition indices of the Administration for inclusion in the recommendations under subsection (g).

(g) RECOMMENDATIONS.—Based on the results of the study and review of the facility condition indices under subsection (f), the Task Force shall make recommendations as it considers necessary to—

(1) prioritize those facilities needing the most immediate attention in order of the greatest risk to employee health and safety;

(2) ensure that the Administration is using scientifically approved remediation techniques in all facilities; and

(3) assist the Administration in making programmatic changes so that aging air traffic control facilities do not deteriorate to unsafe levels.

(h) REPORT.—Not later than 6 months after the date on which initial appointments of members to the Task Force are completed, the Task Force shall submit a report to the Administrator, the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation, and the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure on the activities of the Task Force, including the recommendations of the Task Force under subsection (g).

(i) IMPLEMENTATION.—Within 30 days after receipt of the Task Force report under subsection (h), the Administrator shall submit to the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure and the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation a report that includes a plan and timeline to implement the recommendations of the Task Force and to align future budgets and priorities of the Administration accordingly.

(j) TERMINATION.—The Task Force shall terminate on the last day of the 30-day period beginning on the date on which the report under subsection (h) is submitted.

(k) APPLICABILITY OF THE FEDERAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE ACT.—The Federal Advisory Committee Act (5 U.S.C. App.) shall not apply to the Task Force.

SEC. 324. STATE ADS-B EQUIPAGE BANK PILOT PROGRAM.

(a) IN GENERAL.—

(1) COOPERATIVE AGREEMENTS.—Subject to the provisions of this section, the Secretary of Transportation may enter into cooperative agreements with not to exceed 5 States for the establishment of State ADS-B equipage banks for making loans and providing other assistance to public entities for projects eligible for assistance under this section.

(b) FUNDING.—

(1) SEPARATE ACCOUNT.—An ADS-B equipage bank established under this section shall maintain a separate aviation trust fund account for Federal funds contributed to the bank under paragraph (2). No Federal funds contributed or credited to an account of an ADS-B equipage bank established under this section may be commingled with Federal funds contributed or credited to any other account of such bank.

(2) AUTHORIZATION.—There are authorized to be appropriated to the Secretary $25,000,000 for each of fiscal years 2010 through 2014.

(c) FORMS OF ASSISTANCE FROM ADS-B EQUIPAGE BANKS.—An ADS-B equipage bank established under this section may make loans or provide other assistance to a public entity in an amount equal to all or part of the cost of carrying out a project eligible for assistance under this section. The amount of any loan or other assistance provided for such project may be subordinated to any other debt financing for the project.

(d) QUALIFYING PROJECTS.—Federal funds in the ADS-B equipage account of an ADS-B equipage bank established under this section may be used only to provide assistance with respect to aircraft ADS-B and related avionics equipage.

(e) REQUIREMENTS.—In order to establish an ADS-B equipage bank under this section, each State establishing such a bank shall—

(1) contribute, at a minimum, in each account of the bank from non-Federal sources an amount equal to 50 percent of the amount of each capitalization grant made to the State and contributed to the bank;

(2) ensure that the bank maintains on a continuing basis an investment grade rating on its debt issuances or has a sufficient level of bond or debt financing instrument insurance to maintain the viability of the bank;

(3) ensure that investment income generated by funds contributed to an account of the bank will be—

(A) credited to the account;

(B) available for use in providing loans and other assistance to projects eligible for assistance from the account; and

(C) invested in United States Treasury securities, bank deposits, or such other financing instruments as the Secretary may approve to earn interest to enhance the leveraging of projects assisted by the bank;

(4) ensure that any loan from the bank will bear interest at or below market interest rates, as determined by the State, to make the project that is the subject of the loan feasible;

(5) ensure that the term for repaying any loan will not exceed 10 years after the date of the first payment on the loan; and

(6) require the bank to make an annual report to the Secretary on its status no later than September 30 of each year for which funds are made available under this section, and to make such other reports as the Secretary may require by guidelines.

SEC. 325. IMPLEMENTATION OF INSPECTOR GENERAL ATC RECOMMENDATIONS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—As soon as practicable after the date of enactment of this Act, but no later than 1 year after that date, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall—

(1) provide the Los Angeles International Air Traffic Control Tower facility, the Southern California Terminal Radar Approach Control facility, and the Northern California Terminal Radar Approach Control facility a sufficient number of contract instructors, classroom space (including off-site locations as needed), and simulators for a surge in the number of new air traffic controllers at those facilities;

(2) to the greatest extent practicable, distribute the placement of new trainee air traffic controllers at those facilities evenly across the calendar year in order to avoid training bottlenecks;

(3) commission an independent analysis, in consultation with the Administration and the exclusive bargaining representative of air traffic controllers certified under section 7111 of title 5, United States Code, of overtime scheduling practices at those facilities; and

(4) to the greatest extent practicable, provide priority to certified professional controllers-in-training when filling staffing vacancies at those facilities.

(b) STAFFING ANALYSES AND REPORTS.—For the purposes of—

(1) the Federal Aviation Administration's annual controller workforce plan,

(2) the Administration's facility-by-facility authorized staffing ranges, and

(3) any report of air traffic controller staffing levels submitted to the Congress, the Administrator may not consider an individual to be an air traffic controller unless that individual is a certified professional controller.

SEC. 326. SEMIANNUAL REPORT ON STATUS OF GREENER SKIES PROJECT.

(a) INITIAL REPORT.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall submit to Congress a report on the strategy of the Administrator for implementing, on an accelerated basis, the NextGen operational capabilities produced by the Greener Skies project, as recommended in the final report of the RTCA NextGen Mid-Term Implementation Task Force that was issued on September 9, 2009.

(b) SUBSEQUENT REPORTS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 180 days after the Administrator submits to Congress the report required by subsection (a) and not less frequently than once every 180 days thereafter until September 30, 2011, the Administrator shall submit to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation of the Senate and to the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure of the House of Representatives a report on the progress of the Administrator in carrying out the strategy described in the report submitted under subsection (a).

(2) CONTENTS.—Each report submitted under paragraph (1) shall include the following:

(A) A timeline for full implementation of the strategy described in the report submitted under subsection (a).

(B) A description of the progress made in carrying out such strategy.

(C) A description of the challenges, if any, encountered by the Administrator in carrying out such strategy.

SEC. 327. DEFINITIONS.

In this title:

(1) ADMINISTRATION.—The term “Administration” means the Federal Aviation Administration.

(2) ADMINISTRATOR.—The term “Administrator” means the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration.

(3) NEXTGEN.—The term “NextGen” means the Next Generation Air Transportation System.

(4) SECRETARY.—The term “Secretary” means the Secretary of Transportation.

SEC. 328. FINANCIAL INCENTIVES FOR NEXTGEN EQUIPAGE.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration may enter into agreements to fund the costs of equipping aircraft with communications, surveillance, navigation, and other avionics to enable NextGen air traffic control capabilities.

(b) FUNDING INSTRUMENT.—The Administrator may make grants or other instruments authorized under section 106(l)(6) of title 49, United States Code, to carry out subsection (a).

TITLE IV—AIRLINE SERVICE AND SMALL COMMUNITY AIR SERVICE IMPROVEMENTS

SUBTITLE A—CONSUMER PROTECTION

SEC. 401. AIRLINE CUSTOMER SERVICE COMMITMENT.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Chapter 417 is amended by adding at the end the following:

“SUBCHAPTER IV—AIRLINE CUSTOMER SERVICE

“§41781. Air carrier and airport contingency plans for long on-board tarmac delays

“(a) DEFINITION OF TARMAC DELAY.—The term ‘tarmac delay’ means the holding of an aircraft on the ground before taking off or after landing with no opportunity for its passengers to deplane.

“(b) SUBMISSION OF AIR CARRIER AND AIRPORT PLANS.—Not later than 60 days after the date of the enactment of the FAA Air Transportation Modernization and Safety Improvement Act, each air carrier and airport operator shall submit, in accordance with the requirements under this section, a proposed contingency plan to the Secretary of Transportation for review and approval.

“(c) MINIMUM STANDARDS.—The Secretary of Transportation shall establish minimum standards for elements in contingency plans required to be submitted under this section to ensure that such plans effectively address long on-board tarmac delays and provide for the health and safety of passengers and crew.

“(d) AIR CARRIER PLANS.—The plan shall require each air carrier to implement at a minimum the following:

“(1) PROVISION OF ESSENTIAL SERVICES.—Each air carrier shall provide for the essential needs of passengers on board an aircraft at an airport in any case in which the departure of a flight is delayed or disembarkation of passengers on an arriving flight that has landed is substantially delayed, including—

“(A) adequate food and potable water;

“(B) adequate restroom facilities;

“(C) cabin ventilation and comfortable cabin temperatures; and “(D) access to necessary medical treatment.

“(2) RIGHT TO DEPLANE.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—Each air carrier shall submit a proposed contingency plan to the Secretary of Transportation that identifies a clear time frame under which passengers would be permitted to deplane a delayed aircraft. After the Secretary has reviewed and approved the proposed plan, the air carrier shall make the plan available to the public.

“(B) DELAYS.—

“(i) IN GENERAL.—As part of the plan, except as provided under clause (iii), an air carrier shall provide passengers with the option of deplaning and returning to the terminal at which such deplaning could be safely completed, or deplaning at the terminal if—

“(I) 3 hours have elapsed after passengers have boarded the aircraft, the aircraft doors are closed, and the aircraft has not departed; or “(II) 3 hours have elapsed after the aircraft has landed and the passengers on the aircraft have been unable to deplane.

“(ii) FREQUENCY.—The option described in clause (i) shall be offered to passengers at a minimum not less often than once during each successive 3-hour period that the plane remains on the ground.

“(iii) EXCEPTIONS.—This subparagraph shall not apply if—

“(I) the pilot of such aircraft reasonably determines that the aircraft will depart or be unloaded at the terminal not later than 30 minutes after the 3 hour delay; or “(II) the pilot of such aircraft reasonably determines that permitting a passenger to deplane would jeopardize passenger safety or security.

“(C) APPLICATION TO DIVERTED FLIGHTS.—This section applies to aircraft without regard to whether they have been diverted to an airport other than the original destination.

“(D) REPORTS.—Not later than 30 days after any flight experiences a tarmac delay lasting at least 3 hours, the air carrier responsible for such flight shall submit a written description of the incident and its resolution to the Aviation Consumer Protection Office of the Department of Transportation.

“(e) AIRPORT PLANS.—Each airport operator shall submit a proposed contingency plan under subsection (b) that contains a description of—

“(1) how the airport operator will provide for the deplanement of passengers following a long tarmac delay; and

“(2) how, to the maximum extent practicable, the airport operator will provide for the sharing of facilities and make gates available at the airport for use by aircraft experiencing such delays.

“(f) UPDATES.—The Secretary shall require periodic reviews and updates of the plans as necessary.

“(g) APPROVAL.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 6 months after the date of the enactment of this section, the Secretary of Transportation shall—

“(A) review the initial contingency plans submitted under subsection (b); and “(B) approve plans that closely adhere to the standards described in subsections (d) or (e), whichever is applicable.

“(2) UPDATES.—Not later than 60 days after the submission of an update under subsection (f) or an initial contingency plan by a new air carrier or airport, the Secretary shall—

“(A) review the plan; and

“(B) approve the plan if it closely adheres to the standards described in subsections (d) or (e), whichever is applicable.

“(h) CIVIL PENALTIES.—The Secretary may assess a civil penalty under section 46301 against any air carrier or airport operator that does not submit, obtain approval of, or adhere to a contingency plan submitted under this section.

“(i) PUBLIC ACCESS.—Each air carrier and airport operator required to submit a contingency plan under this section shall ensure public access to an approved plan under this section by—

“(1) including the plan on the Internet Web site of the carrier or airport; or

“(2) disseminating the plan by other means, as determined by the Secretary.

“§41782. Air passenger complaints hotline and information

“(a) AIR PASSENGER COMPLAINTS HOTLINE TELEPHONE NUMBER.—The Secretary of Transportation shall establish a consumer complaints hotline telephone number for the use of air passengers.

“(b) PUBLIC NOTICE.—The Secretary shall notify the public of the telephone number established under subsection (a).

“(c) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There are authorized to be appropriated such sums as may be necessary to carry out this section, which sums shall remain available until expended.”.

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—The table of contents for chapter 417 is amended by adding at the end the following:

“SUBCHAPTER IV—AIRLINE CUSTOMER SERVICE

“41781. Air carrier and airport contingency plans for long on-board tarmac delays

“41782. Air passenger complaints hotline and information”.

SEC. 402. PUBLICATION OF CUSTOMER SERVICE DATA AND FLIGHT DELAY HISTORY.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 41722 is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(f) CHRONICALLY DELAYED FLIGHTS.—

“(1) PUBLICATION OF LIST OF FLIGHTS.—Each air carrier holding a certificate issued under section 41102 that conducts scheduled passenger air transportation shall, on a monthly basis—

“(A) publish and update on the Internet website of the air carrier a list of chronically delayed flights operated by such air carrier; and

“(B) share such list with each entity that is authorized to book passenger air transportation for such air carrier for inclusion on the Internet website of such entity.

“(2) DISCLOSURE TO CUSTOMERS WHEN PURCHASING TICKETS.—For each individual who books passenger air transportation on the Internet website of an air carrier, or the Internet website of an entity that is authorized to book passenger air transportation for an air carrier, for any flight for which data is reported to the Department of Transportation under part 234 of title 14, Code of Federal Regulations, such air carrier or entity, as the case may be, shall prominently disclose to such individual, before such individual makes such booking, the following:

“(A) The on-time performance for the flight if the flight is a chronically delayed flight.

“(B) The cancellation rate for the flight if the flight is a chronically canceled flight.

“(3) DEFINITIONS.—In this subsection:

“(A) CHRONICALLY DELAYED FLIGHT.—The term ‘chronically delayed flight’ means a regularly scheduled flight that has failed to arrive on time (as such term is defined in section 234.2 of title 14, Code of Federal Regulations) at least 40 percent of the time during the most recent 3-month period for which data is available.

“(B) CHRONICALLY CANCELED FLIGHT.—The term ‘chronically canceled flight’ means a regularly scheduled flight at least 30 percent of the departures of which have been canceled during the most recent 3-month period for which data is available.”.

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendment made by subsection (a) shall take effect 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act.

SEC. 403. EXPANSION OF DOT AIRLINE CONSUMER COMPLAINT INVESTIGATIONS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Subject to the availability of appropriations, the Secretary of Transportation shall investigate consumer complaints regarding—

(1) flight cancellations;

(2) compliance with Federal regulations concerning overbooking seats flights;

(3) lost, damaged, or delayed baggage, and difficulties with related airline claims procedures;

(4) problems in obtaining refunds for unused or lost tickets or fare adjustments;

(5) incorrect or incomplete information about fares, discount fare conditions and availability, overcharges, and fare increases;

(6) the rights of passengers who hold frequent flier miles, or equivalent redeemable awards earned through customer-loyalty programs; and

(7) deceptive or misleading advertising.

(b) BUDGET NEEDS REPORT.—The Secretary shall provide, as an annex to its annual budget request, an estimate of resources which would have been sufficient to investigate all such claims the Department of Transportation received in the previous fiscal year. The annex shall be transmitted to the Congress when the President submits the budget of the United States to the Congress under section 1105 of title 31, United States Code.

SEC. 404. ESTABLISHMENT OF ADVISORY COMMITTEE FOR AVIATION CONSUMER PROTECTION.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of Transportation shall establish an advisory committee for aviation consumer protection to advise the Secretary in carrying out airline customer service improvements, including those required by subchapter IV of chapter 417 of title 49, United States Code.

(b) MEMBERSHIP.—The Secretary shall appoint members of the advisory committee comprised of one representative each of—

(1) air carriers;

(2) airport operators;

(3) State or local governments who have expertise in consumer protection matters; and

(4) a nonprofit public interest group who has expertise in consumer protection matters.

(c) VACANCIES.—A vacancy in the advisory committee shall be filled in the manner in which the original appointment was made.

(d) TRAVEL EXPENSES.—Members of the advisory committee shall serve without pay but shall receive travel expenses, including per diem in lieu of subsistence, in accordance with subchapter 1 of chapter 57 of title 5, United States Code.

(e) CHAIRPERSON.—The Secretary shall designate, from among the individuals appointed under subsection (b), an individual to serve as chairperson of the advisory committee.

(f) DUTIES.—The duties of the advisory committee shall include—

(1) evaluating existing aviation consumer protection programs and providing recommendations for the improvement of such programs, if needed; and

(2) providing recommendations to establish additional aviation consumer protection programs, if needed.

(g) REPORT.—Not later than February 1 of each of the first 2 calendar years beginning after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall transmit to Congress a report containing—

(1) the recommendations made by the advisory committee during the preceding calendar year; and

(2) an explanation of how the Secretary has implemented each recommendation and, for each recommendation not implemented, the Secretary's reason for not implementing the recommendation.

SEC. 405. DISCLOSURE OF PASSENGER FEES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Within 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Transportation shall complete a rulemaking that requires each air carrier operating in the United States under part 121 of title 49, Code of Federal Regulations, to make available to the public and to the Secretary a list of all passenger fees and charges (other than airfare) that may be imposed by the air carrier, including fees for—

(1) checked baggage or oversized or heavy baggage;

(2) meals, beverages, or other refreshments;

(3) seats in exit rows, seats with additional space, or other preferred seats in any given class of travel;

(4) purchasing tickets from an airline ticket agent or a travel agency; or

(5) any other good, service, or amenity provided by the air carrier, as required by the Secretary.

(b) PUBLICATION; UPDATES.—In order to ensure that the fee information required by subsection (a) is both current and widely available to the travelling public, the Secretary—

(1) may require an air carrier to make such information on any public website maintained by an air carrier, to make such information available to travel agencies, and to notify passengers of the availability of such information when advertising airfares; and

(2) shall require air carriers to update the information as necessary, but no less frequently than every 90 days unless there has been no increase in the amount or type of fees shown in the most recent publication.

SEC. 406. DISCLOSURE OF AIR CARRIERS OPERATING FLIGHTS FOR TICKETS SOLD FOR AIR TRANSPORTATION.

Section 41712 is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(c) DISCLOSURE REQUIREMENT FOR SELLERS OF TICKETS FOR FLIGHTS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—It shall be an unfair or deceptive practice under subsection (a) for any ticket agent, air carrier, foreign air carrier, or other person offering to sell tickets for air transportation on a flight of an air carrier to not disclose, whether verbally in oral communication or in writing in written or electronic communication, prior to the purchase of a ticket—

“(A) the name (including any business or corporate name) of the air carrier providing the air transportation; and

“(B) if the flight has more than one flight segment, the name of each air carrier providing the air transportation for each such flight segment.

“(2) INTERNET OFFERS.—In the case of an offer to sell tickets described in paragraph (1) on an Internet Web site, disclosure of the information required by paragraph (1) shall be provided on the first display of the Web site following a search of a requested itinerary in a format that is easily visible to a viewer.”.

SEC. 407. NOTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS WITH RESPECT TO THE SALE OF AIRLINE TICKETS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Office of Aviation Consumer Protection and Enforcement of the Department of Transportation shall establish rules to ensure that all consumers are able to easily and fairly compare airfares and charges paid when purchasing tickets for air transportation, including all taxes and fees.

(b) NOTICE OF TAXES AND FEES APPLICABLE TO TICKETS FOR AIR TRANSPORTATION.—Section 41712, as amended by this Act, is further amended by adding at the end the following:

“(d) NOTICE OF TAXES AND FEES APPLICABLE TO TICKETS FOR AIR TRANSPORTATION.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—It shall be an unfair or deceptive practice under subsection (a) for an air carrier, foreign air carrier, or ticket agent to sell a ticket for air transportation on the Internet unless the air carrier, foreign air carrier, or ticket agent, as the case may be—

“(A) displays information with respect to the taxes and fees described in paragraph (2), including the amount and a description of each such tax or fee, in reasonable proximity to the price listed for the ticket; and

“(B) provides to the purchaser of the ticket information with respect to the taxes and fees described in paragraph (2), including the amount and a description of each such tax or fee, before requiring the purchaser to provide any personal information, including the name, address, phone number, e-mail address, or credit card information of the purchaser.

“(2) TAXES AND FEES DESCRIBED.—The taxes and fees described in this paragraph are all taxes, fees, and charges applicable to a ticket for air transportation, consisting of—

“(A) all taxes, fees, charges, and surcharges included in the price paid by a purchaser for the ticket, including fuel surcharges and surcharges relating to peak or holiday travel; and

“(B) any fees for baggage, seating assignments; and

“(C) operational services that are charged when the ticket is purchased.”.

(c) REGULATIONS.—The Secretary of Transportation, in consultation with the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration, shall prescribe such regulations as may be necessary to carry out subsection (d) of section 41712 of title 49, United States Code, as added by subsection (b) of this section.

(a) COMMUNITIES ABOVE PER PASSENGER SUBSIDY CAP.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Subchapter II of chapter 417 is amended by adding at the end the following:

“§41749. Essential air service for eligible places above per passenger subsidy cap

“(a) PROPOSALS.—A State or local government may submit a proposal to the Secretary of Transportation for compensation for an air carrier to provide air transportation to a place described in subsection (b).

“(b) PLACE DESCRIBED.—A place described in this subsection is a place—

“(1) that is otherwise an eligible place; and

“(2) for which the per passenger subsidy exceeds the dollar amount allowable under this subchapter.

“(c) DECISIONS.—Not later than 90 days after receiving a proposal under subsection (a) for compensation for an air carrier to provide air transportation to a place described in subsection (b), the Secretary shall—

“(1) decide whether to provide compensation for the air carrier to provide air transportation to the place; and

“(2) approve the proposal if the State or local government or a person is willing and able to pay the difference between—

“(A) the per passenger subsidy; and “(B) the dollar amount allowable for such subsidy under this subchapter.

“(d) COMPENSATION PAYMENTS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall pay compensation under this section at such time and in such manner as the Secretary determines is appropriate.

“(2) DURATION OF PAYMENTS.—The Secretary shall continue to pay compensation under this section only as long as—

“(A) the State or local government or person agreeing to pay compensation under subsection (c)(2) continues to pay such compensation; and

“(B) the Secretary decides the compensation is necessary to maintain air transportation to the place.

“(e) REVIEW.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall periodically review the type and level of air service provided under this section.

“(2) CONSULTATION.—The Secretary may make appropriate adjustments in the type and level of air service to a place under this section based on the review under paragraph (1) and consultation with the affected community and the State or local government or person agreeing to pay compensation under subsection (c)(2).

“(f) ENDING, SUSPENDING, AND REDUCING AIR TRANSPORTATION.—An air carrier providing air transportation to a place under this section may end, suspend, or reduce such air transportation if, not later than 30 days before ending, suspending, or reducing such air transportation, the air carrier provides notice of the intent of the air carrier to end, suspend, or reduce such air transportation to—

“(1) the Secretary;

“(2) the affected community; and

“(3) the State or local government or person agreeing to pay compensation under subsection (c)(2).”.

(2) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of contents for chapter 417 is amended by adding after the item relating to section 41748 the following new item:

“41749. Essential air service for eligible places above per passenger subsidy cap”.

(b) PREFERRED ESSENTIAL AIR SERVICE.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Subchapter II of chapter 417, as amended by subsection (a), is further amended by adding after section 41749 the following:

“§41750. Preferred essential air service

“(a) PROPOSALS.—A State or local government may submit a proposal to the Secretary of Transportation for compensation for a preferred air carrier described in subsection (b) to provide air transportation to an eligible place.

“(b) PREFERRED AIR CARRIER DESCRIBED.—A preferred air carrier described in this subsection is an air carrier that—

“(1) submits an application under section 41733(c) to provide air transportation to an eligible place;

“(2) is not the air carrier that submits the lowest cost bid to provide air transportation to the eligible place; and

“(3) is an air carrier that the affected community prefers to provide air transportation to the eligible place instead of the air carrier that submits the lowest cost bid.

“(c) DECISIONS.—Not later than 90 days after receiving a proposal under subsection (a) for compensation for a preferred air carrier described in subsection (b) to provide air transportation to an eligible place, the Secretary shall—

“(1) decide whether to provide compensation for the preferred air carrier to provide air transportation to the eligible place; and

“(2) approve the proposal if the State or local government or a person is willing and able to pay the difference between—

“(A) the rate of compensation the Secretary would provide to the air carrier that submits the lowest cost bid to provide air transportation to the eligible place; and

“(B) the rate of compensation the preferred air carrier estimates to be necessary to provide air transportation to the eligible place.

“(d) COMPENSATION PAYMENTS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall pay compensation under this section at such time and in such manner as the Secretary determines is appropriate.

“(2) DURATION OF PAYMENTS.—The Secretary shall continue to pay compensation under this section only as long as—

“(A) the State or local government or person agreeing to pay compensation under subsection (c)(2) continues to pay such compensation; and

“(B) the Secretary decides the compensation is necessary to maintain air transportation to the eligible place.

“(e) REVIEW.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall periodically review the type and level of air service provided under this section.

“(2) CONSULTATION.—The Secretary may make appropriate adjustments in the type and level of air service to an eligible place under this section based on the review under paragraph (1) and consultation with the affected community and the State or local government or person agreeing to pay compensation under subsection (c)(2).

“(f) ENDING, SUSPENDING, AND REDUCING AIR TRANSPORTATION.—A preferred air carrier providing air transportation to an eligible place under this section may end, suspend, or reduce such air transportation if, not later than 30 days before ending, suspending, or reducing such air transportation, the preferred air carrier provides notice of the intent of the preferred air carrier to end, suspend, or reduce such air transportation to—

“(1) the Secretary;

“(2) the affected community; and

“(3) the State or local government or person agreeing to pay compensation under subsection (c)(2).”

(2) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of contents for chapter 417, as amended by subsection (a), is further amended by adding after the item relating to section 41749 the following new item: “41750. Preferred essential air service”.

(c) RESTORATION OF ELIGIBILITY TO A PLACE DETERMINED BY THE SECRETARY TO BE INELIGIBLE FOR SUBSIDIZED ESSENTIAL AIR SERVICE.—Section 41733 is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(f) RESTORATION OF ELIGIBILITY FOR SUBSIDIZED ESSENTIAL AIR SERVICE.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—If the Secretary of Transportation terminates the eligibility of an otherwise eligible place to receive basic essential air service by an air carrier for compensation under subsection (c), a State or local government may submit to the Secretary a proposal for restoring such eligibility.

“(2) DETERMINATION BY SECRETARY.—If the per passenger subsidy required by the proposal submitted by a State or local government under paragraph (1) does not exceed the per passenger subsidy cap provided under this subchapter, the Secretary shall issue an order restoring the eligibility of the otherwise eligible place to receive basic essential air service by an air carrier for compensation under subsection (c).”

(d) OFFICE OF RURAL AVIATION.—

(1) ESTABLISHMENT.—There is established within the Office of the Secretary of Transportation the Office of Rural Aviation.

(e) FUNCTIONS.—The functions of the Office are—

(1) to develop a uniform 4-year contract for air carriers providing essential air service to communities under subchapter II of chapter 417 of title 49, United States Code;

(2) to develop a mechanism for comparing applications submitted by air carriers under section 41733(c) to provide essential air service to communities, including comparing—

(A) estimates from air carriers on—

(i) the cost of providing essential air service; and

(ii) the revenues air carriers expect to receive when providing essential air service; and

(B) estimated schedules for air transportation; and

(3) to select an air carrier from among air carriers applying to provide essential air service, based on the criteria described in paragraph (2).

(f) EXTENSION OF AUTHORITY TO MAKE AGREEMENTS UNDER THE ESSENTIAL AIR SERVICE PROGRAM.—Section 41743(e)(2) is amended by striking “2009” and inserting “2011”.

(g) ADJUSTMENTS TO COMPENSATION FOR SIGNIFICANTLY INCREASED COSTS.—Section 41737 is amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

“(f) FUEL COST SUBSIDY DISREGARD.—Any amount provided as an adjustment in compensation pursuant to subsection (a)(1)(D) shall be disregarded for the purpose of determining whether the amount of compensation provided under this subchapter with respect to an eligible place exceeds the per passenger subsidy exceeds the dollar amount allowable under this subchapter.”

SEC. 419. REPEAL OF ESSENTIAL AIR SERVICE LOCAL PARTICIPATION PROGRAM.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Subchapter II of chapter 417 of title 49, United States Code, is amended by striking section 41747, and such title 49 shall be applied as if such section 41747 had not been enacted.

(b) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of sections for chapter 417 of title 49, United States Code, is amended by striking the item relating to section 41747.

SUBTITLE C—MISCELLANEOUS

SEC. 431. CLARIFICATION OF AIR CARRIER FEE DISPUTES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 47129 is amended—

(1) by striking the section heading and inserting the following:

“§47129. Resolution of airport-air carrier and foreign air carrier disputes concerning airport fees”;

(2) by inserting “AND FOREIGN AIR CARRIER” after “CARRIER” in the heading for subsection (d);

(3) by inserting “AND FOREIGN AIR CARRIER” after “CARRIER” in the heading for subsection (d)(2);

(4) by striking “air carrier” each place it appears and inserting “air carrier or foreign air carrier”;

(5) by striking “air carrier’s” each place it appears and inserting “air carrier’s or foreign air carrier’s”;

(6) by striking “air carriers” and inserting “air carriers or foreign air carriers”; and

(7) by striking “(as defined in section 40102 of this title)” in subsection (a) and inserting “(as those terms are defined in section 40102 of this title)”.

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—The table of contents for chapter 471 is amended by striking the item relating to section 47129 and inserting the following:

“47129. Resolution of airport-air carrier and foreign air carrier disputes concerning airport fees”.

SEC. 432. CONTRACT TOWER PROGRAM.

(a) COST-BENEFIT REQUIREMENT.—Section 47124(b)(1) is amended—

(1) by inserting “(A)” after “(1)”; and

(2) by adding at the end the following:

“(B) If the Secretary determines that a tower already operating under this program has a benefit to cost ratio of less than 1.0, the airport sponsor or State or local government having jurisdiction over the airport shall not be required to pay the portion of the costs that exceeds the benefit for a period of 18 months after such determination is made.

“(C) If the Secretary finds that all or part of an amount made available to carry out the program continued under this paragraph is not required during a fiscal year, the Secretary may use during such fiscal year the amount not so required to carry out the program established under paragraph (3) of this section.”

(b) COSTS EXCEEDING BENEFITS.—Subparagraph (D) of section 47124(b)(3) is amended—

(1) by striking “benefit.” and inserting “benefit, with the maximum allowable local cost share for FAA Part 139 certified airports capped at 20 percent for those airports with fewer than 50,000 annual passenger enplanements.”

(c) FUNDING.—Subparagraph (E) of section 47124(b)(3) is amended—

(1) by striking “and” after “2006,”; and

(2) by striking “2007” and inserting “2007, $9,500,000 for fiscal year 2010, and $10,000,000 for fiscal year 2011” after “2007,”; and

(3) by inserting after “paragraph.” the following: “If the Secretary finds that all or part of an amount made available under this subparagraph is not required during a fiscal year to carry out this paragraph, the Secretary may use during such fiscal year the amount not so required to carry out the program continued under subsection (b)(1) of this section.”

(d) FEDERAL SHARE.—Subparagraph (C) of section 47124(b)(4) is amended by striking “$1,500,000.” and inserting “$2,000,000.”

(e) SAFETY AUDITS.—Section 41724 is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(c) SAFETY AUDITS.—The Secretary shall establish uniform standards and requirements for safety assessments of air traffic control towers that receive funding under this section in accordance with the Administration’s safety management system.”

SEC. 433. AIRFARES FOR MEMBERS OF THE ARMED FORCES.

(a) FINDINGS.—The Congress finds that—

(1) the Armed Forces is comprised of approximately 1,450,000 members who are stationed on active duty at more than 6,000 military bases in 146 different countries;

(2) the United States is indebted to the members of the Armed Forces, many of whom are in grave danger due to their engagement in, or exposure to, combat;

(3) military service, especially in the current war against terrorism, often requires members of the Armed Forces to be separated from their families on short notice, for long periods of time, and under very stressful conditions;

(4) the unique demands of military service often preclude members of the Armed Forces from purchasing discounted advance airline tickets in order to visit their loved ones at home; and

(5) it is the patriotic duty of the people of the United States to support the members of the Armed Forces who are defending the Nation’s interests around the world at great personal sacrifice.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that each United States air carrier should—

(1) establish for all members of the Armed Forces on active duty reduced air fares that are comparable to the lowest airfare for ticketed flights; and

(2) offer flexible terms that allow members of the Armed Forces on active duty to purchase, modify, or cancel tickets without time restrictions, fees (including baggage fees), ancillary costs, or penalties.

SEC. 434. AUTHORIZATION OF USE OF CERTAIN LANDS IN THE LAS VEGAS MCCARRAN INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT ENVIRONS OVERLAY DISTRICT FOR TRANSIENT LODGING AND ASSOCIATED FACILITIES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law and except as provided in subsection (b), Clark County, Nevada, is authorized to permit transient lodging, including hotels, and associated facilities, including enclosed auditoriums, concert halls, sports arenas, and places of public assembly, on lands in the Las Vegas McCarran International Airport Environs Overlay District that fall below the forecasted 2017 65 dB day-night annual average noise level (DNL), as identified in the Noise Exposure Map Notice published by the Federal Aviation Administration in the Federal Register on July 24, 2007 (72 Fed. Reg. 40357), and adopted into the Clark County Development Code in June 2008.

(b) LIMITATION.—No structure may be permitted under subsection (a) that would constitute a hazard to air navigation, result in an increase to minimum flight altitudes, or otherwise pose a significant adverse impact on airport or aircraft operations.

TITLE V—SAFETY*SUBTITLE A—AVIATION SAFETY*SEC. 501. RUNWAY SAFETY EQUIPMENT PLAN.

Not later than December 31, 2009, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall issue a plan to develop an installation and deployment schedule for systems the Administration is installing to alert controllers and flight crews to potential runway incursions. The plan shall be integrated into the annual Federal Aviation Administration NextGen Implementation Plan.

SEC. 502. JUDICIAL REVIEW OF DENIAL OF AIRMAN CERTIFICATES.

(a) JUDICIAL REVIEW OF NTSB DECISIONS.—Section 44703(d) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(3) JUDICIAL REVIEW.—A person substantially affected by an order of the Board under this subsection, or the Administrator when the Administrator decides that an order of the Board will have a significant adverse impact on carrying out this part, may obtain judicial review of the order under section 46110 of this title. The Administrator shall be made a party to the judicial review proceedings. The findings of fact of the Board in any such case are conclusive if supported by substantial evidence.”

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—Section 1153(c) is amended by striking “section 44709 or” and inserting “section 44703(d), 44709, or”.

SEC. 503. RELEASE OF DATA RELATING TO ABANDONED TYPE CERTIFICATES AND SUPPLEMENTAL TYPE CERTIFICATES.

Section 44704(a) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(5) RELEASE OF DATA.—

“(A) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Administrator may designate, without the consent of the owner of record, engineering data in the agency’s possession related to a type certificate or a supplemental type certificate for an aircraft, engine, propeller or appliance as public data, and therefore releasable, upon request, to a person seeking to maintain the airworthiness of such product, if the Administrator determines that—

“(i) the certificate containing the requested data has been inactive for 3 years;

“(ii) the owner of record, or the owner of record’s heir, of the type certificate or supplemental certificate has not been located despite a search of due diligence by the agency; and

“(iii) the designation of such data as public data will enhance aviation safety.

“(B) In this section, the term ‘engineering data’ means type design drawings and specifications for the entire product or change to the product, including the original design data, and any associated supplier data for individual parts or components approved as part of the particular aeronautical product certificate.”

SEC. 504. DESIGN ORGANIZATION CERTIFICATES.

Section 44704(e) is amended—

(1) by striking “Beginning 7 years after the date of enactment of this subsection,” in paragraph (1) and inserting “Effective January 1, 2013.”;

(2) by striking “testing” in paragraph (2) and inserting “production”; and

(3) by striking paragraph (3) and inserting the following:

“(3) ISSUANCE OF CERTIFICATE BASED ON DESIGN ORGANIZATION CERTIFICATION.—The Administrator may rely on the Design Organization for certification of compliance under this section.”

SEC. 505. FAA ACCESS TO CRIMINAL HISTORY RECORDS OR DATABASE SYSTEMS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Chapter 401 is amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

“§40130. FAA access to criminal history records or databases systems

“(a) ACCESS TO RECORDS OR DATABASES SYSTEMS.—

“(1) Notwithstanding section 534 of title 28 and the implementing regulations for such section (28 C.F.R. part 20), the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration is authorized to access a system of documented criminal justice information maintained by the Department of Justice or by a State but may do so only for the purpose of carrying out its civil and administrative responsibilities to protect the safety and security of the National Airspace System or to support the missions of the Department of Justice, the Department of Homeland Security, and other law enforcement agencies. The Administrator shall be subject to the same conditions or procedures established by the Department of Justice or State for access to such an information system by other governmental agencies with access to the system.

“(2) The Administrator may not use the access authorized under paragraph (1) to conduct criminal investigations.

“(b) DESIGNATED EMPLOYEES.—The Administrator shall, by order, designate those employees of the Administration who shall carry out the authority described in subsection (a). Such designated employees may—

“(1) have access to and receive criminal history, driver, vehicle, and other law enforcement information contained in the law enforcement databases of the Department of Justice, or of any jurisdiction in a State in the same manner as a police officer employed by a State or local authority of that State who is certified or commissioned under the laws of that State;

“(2) use any radio, data link, or warning system of the Federal Government and of any jurisdiction in a State that provides information about wanted persons, be-on-the-lookout notices, or warrant status or other officer safety information to which a police officer employed by a State or local authority in that State who is certified or commissioned under the laws of that State has access and in the same manner as such police officer; or

“(3) receive Federal, State, or local government communications with a police officer employed by a State or local authority in that State in the same manner as a police officer employed by a State or local authority in that State who is commissioned under the laws of that State.

“(c) SYSTEM OF DOCUMENTED CRIMINAL JUSTICE INFORMATION DEFINED.—In this section the term ‘system of documented criminal justice information’ means any law enforcement databases, systems, or communications containing information concerning identification, criminal history, arrests, convictions, arrest warrants, or wanted or missing persons, including the National Crime Information Center and its incorporated criminal history databases and the National Law Enforcement Telecommunications System.”

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—The table of contents for chapter 401 is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 40129 the following:

“40130. FAA access to criminal history records or databases systems”.

SEC. 506. PILOT FATIGUE.

(a) FLIGHT AND DUTY TIME REGULATIONS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—In accordance with paragraph (2), the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall issue regulations, based on the best available scientific information—

(A) to specify limitations on the hours of flight and duty time allowed for pilots to address problems relating to pilot fatigue; and

(B) to require part 121 air carriers to develop and implement fatigue risk management plans.

(2) DEADLINES.—The Administrator shall issue—

(A) not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act, a notice of proposed rulemaking under paragraph (1); and

(B) not later than one year after the date of enactment of this Act, a final rule under paragraph (1).

(b) FATIGUE RISK MANAGEMENT PLAN.—

(1) SUBMISSION OF FATIGUE RISK MANAGEMENT PLAN BY PART 121 AIR CARRIERS.—Not later than 90 days after the date of enactment of this Act, each part 121 air carrier shall submit to the Administrator for review and approval a fatigue risk management plan.

(2) CONTENTS OF PLAN.—A fatigue risk management plan submitted by a part 121 air carrier under paragraph (1) shall include the following:

(A) Current flight time and duty period limitations.

(B) A rest scheme that enables the management of fatigue, including annual training to increase awareness of—

(i) fatigue;

(ii) the effects of fatigue on pilots; and

(iii) fatigue countermeasures.

(C) Development and use of a methodology that continually assesses the effectiveness of the program, including the ability of the program—

(i) to improve alertness; and

(ii) to mitigate performance errors.

(3) PLAN UPDATES.—A part 121 air carrier shall update its fatigue risk management plan under paragraph (1) every 2 years and submit the update to the Administrator for review and approval.

(4) APPROVAL.—

(A) INITIAL APPROVAL OR MODIFICATION.—Not later than 9 months after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall review and approve or require modification to fatigue risk management plans submitted under this subsection to ensure that pilots are not operating aircraft while fatigued.

(B) UPDATE APPROVAL OR MODIFICATION.—Not later than 9 months after submission of a plan update under paragraph (3), the Administrator shall review and approve or require modification to such update.

(5) CIVIL PENALTIES.—A violation of this subsection by a part 121 air carrier shall be treated as a violation of chapter 447 of title 49, United States Code, for purposes of the application of civil penalties under chapter 463 of that title.

(6) LIMITATION ON APPLICABILITY.—The requirements of this subsection shall cease to apply to a part 121 air carrier on and after the effective date of the regulations to be issued under subsection (a).

(c) EFFECT OF COMMUTING ON FATIGUE.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 60 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall enter into appropriate arrangements with the National Academy of Sciences to conduct a study of the effects of commuting on pilot fatigue and report its findings to the Administrator.

(2) STUDY.—In conducting the study, the National Academy of Sciences shall consider—

(A) the prevalence of pilot commuting in the commercial air carrier industry, including the number and percentage of pilots who commute;

(B) information relating to commuting by pilots, including distances traveled, time zones crossed, time spent, and methods used;

(C) research on the impact of commuting on pilot fatigue, sleep, and circadian rhythms;

(D) commuting policies of commercial air carriers (including passenger and all-cargo air carriers), including pilot check-in requirements and sick leave and fatigue policies;

(E) post-conference materials from the Federal Aviation Administration’s June 2008 symposium entitled “Aviation Fatigue Management Symposium: Partnerships for Solutions”;

(F) Federal Aviation Administration and international policies and guidance regarding commuting; and

(G) any other matters as the Administrator considers appropriate.

(3) PRELIMINARY FINDINGS.—Not later than 90 days after the date of entering into arrangements under paragraph (1), the National Academy of Sciences shall submit to the Administrator its preliminary findings under the study.

(4) REPORT.—Not later than 6 months after the date of entering into arrangements under paragraph (1), the National Academy of Sciences shall submit a report to the Administrator containing its findings under the study and any recommendations for regulatory or administrative actions by the Federal Aviation Administration concerning commuting by pilots.

(5) RULEMAKING.—Following receipt of the report of the National Academy of Sciences under paragraph (4), the Administrator shall—

(A) consider the findings and recommendations in the report; and

(B) update, as appropriate based on scientific data, regulations required by subsection (a) on flight and duty time.

SEC. 507. INCREASING SAFETY FOR HELICOPTER AND FIXED WING EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICE OPERATORS AND PATIENTS.

(a) COMPLIANCE REGULATIONS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in paragraph (2), not later than 18 months after the date of enactment of this Act, helicopter and fixed wing aircraft certificate holders providing emergency medical services shall comply with part 135 of title 14, Code of Federal Regulations, if there is a medical crew on board, without regard to whether there are patients on board.

(2) EXCEPTION.—If a certificate holder described in paragraph (1) is operating under instrument flight rules or is carrying out training therefor—

(A) the weather minimums and duty and rest time regulations under such part 135 of such title shall apply; and

(B) the weather reporting requirement at the destination shall not apply until such time as the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration determines that portable, reliable, and accurate ground-based weather measuring and reporting systems are available.

(b) IMPLEMENTATION OF FLIGHT RISK EVALUATION PROGRAM.—

(1) INITIATION.—Not later than 60 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall initiate a rulemaking—

(A) to create a standardized checklist of risk evaluation factors based on Notice 8000.301, which was issued by the Administration on August 1, 2005; and

(B) to require helicopter and fixed wing aircraft emergency medical service operators to use the checklist created under subparagraph (A) to determine whether a mission should be accepted.

(2) COMPLETION.—The rulemaking initiated under paragraph (1) shall be completed not later than 18 months after it is initiated.

(c) COMPREHENSIVE CONSISTENT FLIGHT DISPATCH PROCEDURES.—

(1) INITIATION.—Not later than 60 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall initiate a rulemaking—

(A) to require that helicopter and fixed wing emergency medical service operators formalize and implement performance based flight dispatch and flight-following procedures; and

(B) to develop a method to assess and ensure that such operators comply with the requirements described in subparagraph (A).

(2) COMPLETION.—The rulemaking initiated under paragraph (1) shall be completed not later than 18 months after it is initiated.

(d) IMPROVING SITUATIONAL AWARENESS.—Within 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, any helicopter or fixed-wing aircraft used for emergency medical service shall have on board a device that performs the function of a terrain awareness and warning system and a means of displaying that information that meets the requirements of the applicable Federal Aviation Administration Technical Standard Order or other guidance prescribed by the Administrator.

(e) IMPROVING THE DATA AVAILABLE ON AIR MEDICAL OPERATIONS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall require each certificate holder for helicopters and fixed-wing aircraft used for emergency medical service operations to report not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act and annually thereafter on—

(A) the number of aircraft and helicopters used to provide air ambulance services, the registration number of each of these aircraft or helicopters, and the base location of each of these aircraft or helicopters;

(B) the number of flights and hours flown by each such aircraft or helicopter used by the certificate holder to provide such services during the reporting period;

(C) the number of flights and the purpose of each flight for each aircraft or helicopter used by the certificate holder to provide such services during the reporting period;

(D) the number of flight requests for a helicopter providing helicopter air ambulance services that were accepted or declined by the certificate holder and the type of each such flight request (such as scene response, inter-facility transport, organ transport, or ferry or repositioning flight);

(E) the number of accidents involving helicopters operated by the certificate holder while providing helicopter air ambulance services and a description of the accidents;

(F) the number of flights and hours flown under instrument flight rules by helicopters operated by the certificate holder while providing helicopter air ambulance services;

(G) the time of day of each flight flown by helicopters operated by the certificate holder while providing helicopter air ambulance services; and

(H) The number of incidents where more helicopters arrive to transport patients than is needed in a flight request or scene response.

(2) REPORT TO CONGRESS.—The Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall report to Congress on the information received pursuant to paragraph (1) of this subsection no later than 18 months after the date of enactment of this Act.

(f) IMPROVING THE DATA AVAILABLE TO NTSB INVESTIGATORS AT CRASH SITES.—

(1) STUDY.—Not later than 120 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall issue a report that indicates the availability, survivability, size, weight, and cost of devices that perform the function of recording voice communications and flight data information on existing and new helicopters and existing and new fixed wing aircraft used for emergency medical service operations.

(2) RULEMAKING.—Not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall issue regulations that require devices that perform the function of recording voice communications and flight data information on board aircraft described in paragraph (1).

SEC. 508. CABIN CREW COMMUNICATION.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 44728 is amended—

(1) by redesignating subsection (f) as subsection (g); and

(2) by inserting after subsection (e) the following:

“(f) MINIMUM LANGUAGE SKILLS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—No certificate holder may use any person to serve, nor may any person serve, as a flight attendant under this part, unless that person has demonstrated to an individual qualified to determine proficiency the ability to read, speak, and write English well enough to—

“(A) read material written in English and comprehend the information;

“(B) speak and understand English sufficiently to provide direction to, and understand and answer questions from, English-speaking individuals;

“(C) write incident reports and statements and log entries and statements; and “(D) carry out written and oral instructions regarding the proper performance of their duties.

“(2) FOREIGN FLIGHTS.—The requirements of paragraph (1) do not apply to service as a flight attendant serving solely between points outside the United States.”.

(b) ADMINISTRATION.—The Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall work with certificate holders to which section 44728(f) of title 49, United States Code, applies to facilitate compliance with the requirements of section 44728(f)(1) of that title.

SEC. 509. CLARIFICATION OF MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING WITH OSHA.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Within 6 months after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall—

(1) establish milestones, in consultation with the Occupational Safety and Health Administration, through a report to Congress for the completion of work begun under the August 2000 memorandum of understanding between the 2 Administrations and to address issues needing further action in the Administrations' joint report in December 2000; and

(2) initiate development of a policy statement to set forth the circumstances in which Occupational Safety and Health Administration requirements may be applied to crewmembers while working in the aircraft.

(b) POLICY STATEMENT.—The policy statement to be developed under subsection (a)(2) shall be completed within 18 months after the date of enactment of this Act and shall satisfy the following principles:

(1) The establishment of a coordinating body similar to the Aviation Safety and Health Joint Team established by the August 2000 memorandum of understanding that includes representatives designated by both Administrations—

(A) to examine the applicability of current and future Occupational Safety and Health Administration regulations;

(B) to recommend policies for facilitating the training of Federal Aviation Administration inspectors; and

(C) to make recommendations that will govern the inspection and enforcement of safety and health standards on board aircraft in operation and all work-related environments.

(2) Any standards adopted by the Federal Aviation Administration shall set forth clearly—

(A) the circumstances under which an employer is required to take action to address occupational safety and health hazards;

(B) the measures required of an employer under the standard; and

(C) the compliance obligations of an employer under the standard.

SEC. 510. ACCELERATION OF DEVELOPMENT AND IMPLEMENTATION OF REQUIRED NAVIGATION PERFORMANCE APPROACH PROCEDURES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—

(1) ANNUAL MINIMUM REQUIRED NAVIGATION PERFORMANCE PROCEDURES.—The Administrator shall set a target of achieving a minimum of 200 Required Navigation Performance procedures each fiscal year through fiscal year 2012, with 25 percent of that target number meeting the low visibility approach criteria consistent with the NextGen Implementation Plan.

(2) USE OF THIRD PARTIES.—The Administrator is authorized to provide third parties the ability to design, flight check, and implement Required Navigation Performance approach procedures.

(b) DOT INSPECTOR GENERAL REVIEW OF OPERATIONAL AND APPROACH PROCEDURES BY A THIRD PARTY.—

(1) REVIEW.—The Inspector General of the Department of Transportation shall conduct a review regarding the effectiveness of the oversight activities conducted by the Administration in connection with any agreement with or delegation of authority to a third party for the development of flight procedures, including public use procedures, for the National Airspace System.

(2) ASSESSMENTS.—The Inspector General shall include, at a minimum, in the review—

(A) an assessment of the extent to which the Administration is relying or intends to rely on a third party for the development of new procedures and a determination of whether the Administration has established sufficient mechanisms and staffing to provide safety oversight functions, which may include quality assurance processes, flight checks, integration of procedures into the National Aviation System, and operational assessments of procedures developed by third parties; and

(B) an assessment regarding whether the Administration has sufficient existing personnel and technical resources or mechanisms to develop such flight procedures in a safe and efficient manner to meet the demands of the National Airspace System without the use of third party resources.

(c) REPORT.—No later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, the Inspector General shall submit to the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation and the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure a report on the results of the review conducted under this section.

SEC. 511. IMPROVED SAFETY INFORMATION.

Not later than December 31, 2009, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall issue a final rule in docket No. FAA-2008-0188, Re-registration and Renewal of Aircraft Registration. The final rule shall include—

(1) provision for the expiration of a certificate for an aircraft registered as of the date of enactment of this Act, with re-registration requirements for those aircraft that remain eligible for registration;

(2) provision for the periodic expiration of all certificates issued after the effective date of the rule with a registration renewal process; and

(3) other measures to promote the accuracy and efficient operation and value of the Administration's aircraft registry.

SEC. 512. VOLUNTARY DISCLOSURE REPORTING PROCESS IMPROVEMENTS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Within 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall—

(1) take such action as may be necessary to ensure that the Voluntary Disclosure Reporting Process requires inspectors—

(A) to evaluate corrective action proposed by an air carrier with respect to a matter disclosed by that air carrier is sufficiently comprehensive in scope and application and applies to all affected aircraft operated by that air carrier before accepting the proposed voluntary disclosure;

(B) to verify that corrective action so identified by an air carrier is completed within the timeframe proposed; and

(C) to verify by inspection that the carrier's corrective action adequately corrects the problem that was disclosed; and

(2) establish a second level supervisory review of disclosures under the Voluntary Disclosure Reporting Process before any proposed disclosure is accepted and closed that will ensure that a matter disclosed by an air carrier—

(A) has not been previously identified by a Federal Aviation Administration inspector; and

(B) has not been previously disclosed by the carrier in the preceding 5 years.

(b) GAO STUDY.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Comptroller General shall conduct a study of the Voluntary Disclosure Reporting Program.

(2) REVIEW.—In conducting the study, the Comptroller General shall examine, at a minimum, whether—

(A) there is evidence that voluntary disclosure is resulting in regulated entities discovering and correcting violations to a greater extent than would otherwise occur if there was no program for immunity from enforcement action;

(B) the voluntary disclosure program makes the Federal Aviation Administration aware of violations that it would not have discovered if there was not a program, and if a violation is disclosed voluntarily, whether the Administration insists on stronger corrective actions than would have occurred if the regulated entity knew of a violation, but the Administration did not;

(C) the information the Administration gets under the program leads to fewer violations by other entities, either because the information leads other entities to look for similar violations or because the information leads Administration investigators to look for similar violations at other entities; and

(D) there is any evidence that voluntary disclosure has improved compliance with regulations, either for the entities making disclosures or for the industry generally.

(3) REPORT.—Not later than one year after the date of enactment of this Act, the Comptroller General shall submit a report to the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation and the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure on the results of the study conducted under this subsection.

SEC. 513. PROCEDURAL IMPROVEMENTS FOR INSPECTIONS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 44711 is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(d) POST-EMPLOYMENT RESTRICTIONS FOR FLIGHT STANDARDS INSPECTORS.—

“(1) PROHIBITION.—A person holding an operating certificate issued under title 14, Code of Federal Regulations, may not knowingly employ, or make a contractual arrangement which permits, an individual to act as an agent or representative of the certificate holder in any matter before the Federal Aviation Administration if the individual, in the preceding 3-year period—

“(A) served as, or was responsible for oversight of, a flight standards inspector of the Administration; and “(B) had responsibility to inspect, or oversee inspection of, the operations of the certificate holder.

“(2) WRITTEN AND ORAL COMMUNICATIONS.—For purposes of paragraph (1), an individual shall be considered to be acting as an agent or representative of a certificate holder in a matter before the Federal Aviation Administration if the individual makes any written or oral communication on behalf of the certificate holder to the Administration (or any of its officers or employees) in connection with a particular matter, whether or not involving a specific party and without regard to whether the individual has participated in, or had responsibility for, the particular matter while serving as a flight standards inspector of the Administration.”.

(b) APPLICABILITY.—The amendment made by subsection (a) shall not apply to an individual employed by a certificate holder as of the date of enactment of this Act.

SEC. 514. INDEPENDENT REVIEW OF SAFETY ISSUES.

Within 30 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Comptroller General shall initiate a review and investigation of air safety issues identified by Federal Aviation Administration employees and reported to the Administrator. The Comptroller General shall report the Government Accountability Office's findings and recommendations to the Administrator, the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation, and the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure on an annual basis.

SEC. 515. NATIONAL REVIEW TEAM.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Within 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall establish a national review team within the Administration to conduct periodic, unannounced, and random reviews of the Administration's oversight of air carriers and report annually its findings and recommendations to the Administrator, the Senate Commerce, Science, and Transportation Committee, and the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure.

(b) LIMITATION.—The Administrator shall prohibit a member of the National Review Team from participating in any review or audit of an air carrier under subsection (a) if the member has previously had responsibility for inspecting, or overseeing the inspection of, the operations of that air carrier.

(c) INSPECTOR GENERAL REPORTS.—The Inspector General of the Department of Transportation shall provide progress reports to the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation and the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure on the review teams and their effectiveness.

SEC. 516. FAA ACADEMY IMPROVEMENTS.

(a) REVIEW.—Within 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall conduct a comprehensive review and evaluation of its Academy and facility training efforts.

(b) FACILITY TRAINING PROGRAM.—The Administrator shall—

(1) clarify responsibility for oversight and direction of the Academy's facility training program at the national level;

(2) communicate information concerning that responsibility to facility managers; and

(3) establish standards to identify the number of developmental controllers that can be accommodated at each facility, based on—

(A) the number of available on-the-job-training instructors;

(B) available classroom space;

(C) the number of available simulators;

(D) training requirements; and

(E) the number of recently placed new personnel already in training.

SEC. 517. REDUCTION OF RUNWAY INCURSIONS AND OPERATIONAL ERRORS.

(a) PLAN.—The Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall develop a plan for the reduction of runway incursions by reviewing every commercial service airport (as defined in section 47102 of title 49, United States Code) in the United States and initiating action to improve airport lighting, provide better signage, and improve runway and taxiway markings.

(b) PROCESS.—Within 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall develop a process for tracking and investigating operational errors and runway incursions that include—

(1) identifying the office responsible for establishing regulations regarding operational errors and runway incursions;

(2) identifying who is responsible for tracking and investigating operational errors and runway incursions and taking remedial actions;

(3) identifying who is responsible for tracking operational errors and runway incursions, including a process for lower level employees to report to higher supervisory levels; and

(4) periodic random audits of the oversight process.

SEC. 518. AVIATION SAFETY WHISTLEBLOWER INVESTIGATION OFFICE.

Section 106 is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(s) AVIATION SAFETY WHISTLEBLOWER INVESTIGATION OFFICE.—

“(1) ESTABLISHMENT.—There is established in the Administration an Aviation Safety Whistleblower Investigation Office.

“(2) DIRECTOR.—

“(A) APPOINTMENT.—The head of the Office shall be the Director, who shall be appointed by the Secretary of Transportation.

“(B) QUALIFICATIONS.—The Director shall have a demonstrated ability in investigations and knowledge of or experience in aviation.

“(C) TERM.—The Director shall be appointed for a term of 5 years.

“(D) VACANCY.—Any individual appointed to fill a vacancy in the position of the Director occurring before the expiration of the term for which the individual's predecessor was appointed shall be appointed for the remainder of that term.

“(3) COMPLAINTS AND INVESTIGATIONS.—

“(A) AUTHORITY OF DIRECTOR.—The Director shall—

“(i) receive complaints and information submitted by employees of persons holding certificates issued under title 14, Code of Federal Regulations, and employees of the Administration concerning the possible existence of an activity relating to a violation of an order, regulation, or standard of the Administration or any other provision of Federal law relating to aviation safety;

“(ii) assess complaints and information submitted under clause (i) and determine whether a substantial likelihood exists that a violation of an order, regulation, or standard of the Administration or any other provision of Federal law relating to aviation safety may have occurred; and

“(iii) based on findings of the assessment conducted under clause (ii), make recommendations to the Administrator in writing for further investigation or corrective actions.

“(B) DISCLOSURE OF IDENTITIES.—The Director shall not disclose the identity of an individual who submits a complaint or information under subparagraph (A)(i) unless—

“(i) the individual consents to the disclosure in writing; or “(ii) the Director determines, in the course of an investigation, that the disclosure is unavoidable.

“(C) INDEPENDENCE OF DIRECTOR.—The Secretary, the Administrator, or any officer or employee of the Administration may not prevent or prohibit the Director from initiating, carrying out, or completing any assessment of a complaint or information submitted subparagraph (A)(i) or from reporting to Congress on any such assessment.

“(D) ACCESS TO INFORMATION.—In conducting an assessment of a complaint or information submitted under subparagraph (A)(i), the Director shall have access to all records, reports, audits, reviews, documents, papers, recommendations, and other material necessary to determine whether a substantial likelihood exists that a violation of an order, regulation, or standard of the Administration or any other provision of Federal law relating to aviation safety may have occurred.

“(4) RESPONSES TO RECOMMENDATIONS.—The Administrator shall respond to a recommendation made by the Director under subparagraph (A)(iii) in writing and retain records related to any further investigations or corrective actions taken in response to the recommendation.

“(5) INCIDENT REPORTS.—If the Director determines there is a substantial likelihood that a violation of an order, regulation, or standard of the Administration or any other provision of Federal law relating to aviation safety may have occurred that requires immediate corrective action, the Director shall report the potential violation expeditiously to the Administrator and the Inspector General of the Department of Transportation.

“(6) REPORTING OF CRIMINAL VIOLATIONS TO INSPECTOR GENERAL.—If the Director has reasonable grounds to believe that there has been a violation of Federal criminal law, the Director shall report the violation expeditiously to the Inspector General.

“(7) ANNUAL REPORTS TO CONGRESS.—Not later than October 1 of each year, the Director shall submit to Congress a report containing—

“(A) information on the number of submissions of complaints and information received by the Director under paragraph (3)(A)(i) in the preceding 12-month period;

“(B) summaries of those submissions;

“(C) summaries of further investigations and corrective actions recommended in response to the submissions; and “(D) summaries of the responses of the Administrator to such recommendations.”.

SEC. 519. MODIFICATION OF CUSTOMER SERVICE INITIATIVE.

(a) MODIFICATION OF INITIATIVE.—Not later than 90 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall modify the customer service initiative, mission and vision statements, and other statements of policy of the Administration—

(1) to remove any reference to air carriers or other entities regulated by the Administration as “customers”; and

(2) to clarify that in regulating safety the only customers of the Administration are members of the traveling public; and

(3) to clarify that air carriers and other entities regulated by the Administration do not have the right to select the employees of the Administration who will inspect their operations.

(b) SAFETY PRIORITY.—In carrying out the Administrator's responsibilities, the Administrator shall ensure that safety is given a higher priority than preventing the dissatisfaction of an air carrier or other entity regulated by the Administration with an employee of the Administration.

SEC. 520. HEADQUARTERS REVIEW OF AIR TRANSPORTATION OVERSIGHT SYSTEM DATABASE.

(a) REVIEWS.—The Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall establish a process by which the air transportation oversight system database of the Administration is reviewed by a team of employees of the Agency on a monthly basis to ensure that—

(1) any trends in regulatory compliance are identified; and

(2) appropriate corrective actions are taken in accordance with Agency regulations, advisory directives, policies, and procedures.

(b) MONTHLY TEAM REPORTS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The team of employees conducting a monthly review of the air transportation oversight system database under subsection (a) shall submit to the Administrator, the Associate Administrator for Aviation Safety, and the Director of Flight Standards a report on the results of the review.

(2) CONTENTS.—A report submitted under paragraph (1) shall identify—

(A) any trends in regulatory compliance discovered by the team of employees in conducting the monthly review; and

(B) any corrective actions taken or proposed to be taken in response to the trends.

(c) QUARTERLY REPORTS TO CONGRESS.—The Administrator, on a quarterly basis, shall submit a report to the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation and the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure on the results of reviews of the air transportation oversight system database conducted under this section, including copies of reports received under subsection (b).

SEC. 521. INSPECTION OF FOREIGN REPAIR STATIONS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Chapter 447 is amended by adding at the end the following:

“§44730. Inspection of foreign repair stations

“(a) IN GENERAL.—Within 1 year after the date of enactment of the FAA Air Transportation Modernization and Safety Improvement Act the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall establish and implement a safety assessment system for all part 145 repair stations based on the type, scope, and complexity of work being performed. The system shall—

“(1) ensure that repair stations outside the United States are subject to appropriate inspections based on identified risk and consistent with existing United States requirements;

“(2) consider inspection results and findings submitted by foreign civil aviation authorities operating under a maintenance safety or maintenance implementation agreement with the United States in meeting the requirements of the safety assessment system; and

“(3) require all maintenance safety or maintenance implementation agreements to provide an opportunity for the Federal Aviation Administration to conduct independent inspections of covered part 145 repair stations when safety concerns warrant such inspections.

“(b) NOTICE TO CONGRESS OF NEGOTIATIONS.—The Administrator shall notify the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation and the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure within 30 days after initiating formal negotiations with foreign aviation authorities or other appropriate foreign government agencies on a new maintenance safety or maintenance implementation agreement.

“(c) ANNUAL REPORT.—The Administrator shall publish an annual report on the Federal Aviation Administration's oversight of part 145 repair stations and implementation of the safety assessment system required by subsection (a). The report shall—

“(1) describe in detail any improvements in the Federal Aviation Administration's ability to identify and track where part 121 air carrier repair work is performed;

“(2) include a staffing model to determine the best placement of inspectors and the number of inspectors needed;

“(3) describe the training provided to inspectors; and

“(4) include an assessment of the quality of monitoring and surveillance by the Federal Aviation Administration of work provided by its inspectors and the inspectors of foreign authorities operating under a maintenance safety or implementation agreement.

“(d) ALCOHOL AND CONTROLLED SUBSTANCE TESTING PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretaries of State and Transportation jointly shall request the governments of foreign countries that are members of the International Civil Aviation Organization to establish international standards for alcohol and controlled substances testing of persons that perform safety sensitive maintenance functions upon commercial air carrier aircraft.

“(2) APPLICATION TO PART 121 AIRCRAFT WORK.—Within 1 year after the date of enactment of the FAA Air Transportation Modernization and Safety Improvement Act the Administrator shall promulgate a proposed rule requiring that all part 145 repair station employees responsible for safety-sensitive functions on part 121 air carrier aircraft are subject to an alcohol and controlled substance testing program determined acceptable by the Administrator and consistent with the applicable laws of the country in which the repair station is located.

“(e) BIENNIAL INSPECTIONS.—The Administrator shall require part 145 repair stations to be inspected twice each year by Federal Aviation Administration safety inspectors, regardless of where the station is located, in a manner consistent with United States obligations under international agreements.

“(f) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

“(1) PART 121 AIR CARRIER.—The term ‘part 121 air carrier’ means an air carrier that holds a certificate issued under part 121 of title 14, Code of Federal Regulations.

“(2) PART 145 REPAIR STATION.—The term ‘part 145 repair station’ means a repair station that holds a certificate issued under part 145 of title 14, Code of Federal Regulations.”.

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—The table of contents for chapter 447 is amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

“44730. Inspection of foreign repair stations”.

SEC. 522. NON-CERTIFICATED MAINTENANCE PROVIDERS.

(a) REGULATIONS.—Not later than 3 years after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall issue regulations requiring that all covered maintenance work on aircraft used to provide air transportation under part 121 of title 14, Code of Federal Regulations, be performed by individuals in accordance with subsection (b).

(b) PERSONS AUTHORIZED TO PERFORM CERTAIN WORK.—No individual may perform covered maintenance work on aircraft used to provide air transportation under part 121 of title 14, Code of Federal Regulations unless that individual is employed by—

(1) a part 121 air carrier;

(2) a part 145 repair station or a person authorized under section 43.17 of title 14, Code of Federal Regulations;

(3) a person that provides contract maintenance workers or services to a part 145 repair station or part 121 air carrier, and the individual—

(A) meets the requirements of the part 121 air carrier or the part 145 repair station;

(B) performs the work under the direct supervision and control of the part 121 air carrier or the part 145 repair station directly in charge of the maintenance services; and

(C) carries out the work in accordance with the part 121 air carrier's maintenance manual;

(4) by the holder of a type certificate, production certificate, or other production approval issued under part 21 of title 14, Code of Federal Regulations, and the holder of such certificate or approval—

(A) originally produced, and continues to produce, the article upon which the work is to be performed; and

(B) is acting in conjunction with a part 121 air carrier or a part 145 repair station.

(d) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) COVERED MAINTENANCE WORK.—The term “covered maintenance work” means maintenance work that is essential maintenance, regularly scheduled maintenance, or a required inspection item, as determined by the Administrator.

(2) PART 121 AIR CARRIER.—The term “part 121 air carrier” has the meaning given that term in section 44730(f)(1) of title 49, United States Code.

(3) PART 145 REPAIR STATION.—The term “part 145 repair station” has the meaning given that term in section 44730(f)(2) of title 49, United States Code.

SUBTITLE B—FLIGHT SAFETY*SEC. 551. FAA PILOT RECORDS DATABASE.

(a) RECORDS OF EMPLOYMENT OF PILOT APPLICANTS.—Section 44703(h) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(16) APPLICABILITY.—This subsection shall cease to be effective on the date specified in regulations issued under subsection (i).”.

(b) ESTABLISHMENT OF FAA PILOT RECORDS DATABASE.—Section 44703 is amended—

(1) by redesignating subsections (i) and (j) as subsections (j) and (k), respectively; and

(2) by inserting after subsection (h) the following:

“(i) FAA PILOT RECORDS DATABASE.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Before allowing an individual to begin service as a pilot, an air carrier shall access and evaluate, in accordance with the requirements of this subsection, information pertaining to the individual from the pilot records database established under paragraph (2).

“(2) PILOT RECORDS DATABASE.—The Administrator shall establish an electronic database (in this subsection referred to as the ‘database’) containing the following records:

“(A) FAA RECORDS.—From the Administrator—

“(i) records that are maintained by the Administrator concerning current airman certifications, including airman medical certificates and associated type ratings and information on any limitations to those certificates and ratings;

“(ii) records that are maintained by the Administrator concerning any failed attempt of an individual to pass a practical test required to obtain a certificate or type rating under part 61 of title 14, Code of Federal Regulations; and

“(iii) summaries of legal enforcement actions resulting in a finding by the Administrator of a violation of this title or a regulation prescribed or order issued under this title that was not subsequently overturned.

“(B) AIR CARRIER AND OTHER RECORDS.—From any air carrier or other person (except a branch of the Armed Forces, the National Guard, or a reserve component of the Armed Forces) that has employed an individual as a pilot of a civil or public aircraft, or from the trustee in bankruptcy for such air carrier or person—

“(i) records pertaining to the individual that are maintained by the air carrier (other than records relating to flight time, duty time, or rest time), including records under regulations set forth in—

“(I) section 121.683 of title 14, Code of Federal Regulations;

“(II) paragraph (A) of section VI, appendix I, part 121 of such title;

“(III) paragraph (A) of section IV, appendix J, part 121 of such title;

“(IV) section 125.401 of such title; and “(V) section 135.63(a)(4) of such title; and “(ii) other records pertaining to the individual's performance as a pilot that are maintained by the air carrier or person concerning—

“(I) the training, qualifications, proficiency, or professional competence of the individual, including comments and evaluations made by a check airman designated in accordance with section 121.411, 125.295, or 135.337 of such title;

“(II) any disciplinary action taken with respect to the individual that was not subsequently overturned; and “(III) any release from employment or resignation, termination, or disqualification with respect to employment.

“(C) NATIONAL DRIVER REGISTER RECORDS.—In accordance with section 30305(b)(8) of this title, from the chief driver licensing official of a State, information concerning the motor vehicle driving record of the individual.

“(3) WRITTEN CONSENT; RELEASE FROM LIABILITY.—An air carrier—

“(A) shall obtain the written consent of an individual before accessing records pertaining to the individual under paragraph (1); and

“(B) may, notwithstanding any other provision of law or agreement to the contrary, require an individual with respect to whom the carrier is accessing records under paragraph (1) to execute a release from liability for any claim arising from accessing the records or the use of such records by the air carrier in accordance with this section (other than a claim arising from furnishing information known to be false and maintained in violation of a criminal statute).

“(4) REPORTING.—

“(A) REPORTING BY ADMINISTRATOR.—The Administrator shall enter data described in paragraph (2)(A) into the database promptly to ensure that an individual's records are current.

“(B) REPORTING BY AIR CARRIERS AND OTHER PERSONS.—

“(i) IN GENERAL.—Air carriers and other persons shall report data described in paragraphs (2)(B) and (2)(C) to the Administrator promptly for entry into the database.

“(ii) DATA TO BE REPORTED.—Air carriers and other persons shall report, at a minimum, under clause (i) the following data described in paragraph (2)(B):

“(I) Records that are generated by the air carrier or other person after the date of enactment of the FAA Air Transportation Modernization and Safety Improvement Act.

“(II) Records that the air carrier or other person is maintaining, on such date of enactment, pursuant to subsection (h)(4).

“(5) REQUIREMENT TO MAINTAIN RECORDS.—The Administrator—

“(A) shall maintain all records entered into the database under paragraph (2) pertaining to an individual until the date of receipt of notification that the individual is deceased; and

“(B) may remove the individual's records from the database after that date.

“(6) RECEIPT OF CONSENT.—The Administrator shall not permit an air carrier to access records pertaining to an individual from the database under paragraph (1) without the air carrier first demonstrating to the satisfaction of the Administrator that the air carrier has obtained the written consent of the individual.

“(7) RIGHT OF PILOT TO REVIEW CERTAIN RECORDS AND CORRECT INACCURACIES.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law or agreement, the Administrator, upon receipt of written request from an individual—

“(A) shall make available, not later than 30 days after the date of the request, to the individual for review all records referred to in paragraph (2) pertaining to the individual; and

“(B) shall provide the individual with a reasonable opportunity to submit written comments to correct any inaccuracies contained in the records.

“(8) REASONABLE CHARGES FOR PROCESSING REQUESTS AND FURNISHING COPIES.—The Administrator may establish a reasonable charge for the cost of processing a request under paragraph (1) or (7) and for the cost of furnishing copies of requested records under paragraph (7).

“(9) PRIVACY PROTECTIONS.—

“(A) USE OF RECORDS.—An air carrier that accesses records pertaining to an individual under paragraph (1) may use the records only to assess the qualifications of the individual in deciding whether or not to hire the individual as a pilot. The air carrier shall take such actions as may be necessary to protect the privacy of the individual and the confidentiality of the records accessed, including ensuring that information contained in the records is not divulged to any individual that is not directly involved in the hiring decision.

“(B) DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION.—

“(i) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided by clause (ii), information collected by the Administrator under paragraph (2) shall be exempt from the disclosure requirements of section 552 of title 5.

“(ii) EXCEPTIONS.—Clause (i) shall not apply to—

“(I) de-identified, summarized information to explain the need for changes in policies and regulations;

“(II) information to correct a condition that compromises safety;

“(III) information to carry out a criminal investigation or prosecution;

“(IV) information to comply with section 44905, regarding information about threats to civil aviation; and “(V) such information as the Administrator determines necessary, if withholding the information would not be consistent with the safety responsibilities of the Federal Aviation Administration.

“(10) PERIODIC REVIEW.—Not later than 18 months after the date of enactment of the FAA Air Transportation Modernization and Safety Improvement Act, and at least once every 3 years thereafter, the Administrator shall transmit to Congress a statement that contains, taking into account recent developments in the aviation industry—

“(A) recommendations by the Administrator concerning proposed changes to Federal Aviation Administration records, air carrier records, and other records required to be included in the database under paragraph (2); or “(B) reasons why the Administrator does not recommend any proposed changes to the records referred to in subparagraph (A).

“(11) REGULATIONS FOR PROTECTION AND SECURITY OF RECORDS.—The Administrator shall prescribe such regulations as may be necessary—

“(A) to protect and secure—

“(i) the personal privacy of any individual whose records are accessed under paragraph (1); and

“(ii) the confidentiality of those records; and

“(B) to preclude the further dissemination of records received under paragraph (1) by the person who accessed the records.

“(12) GOOD FAITH EXCEPTION.—Notwithstanding paragraph (1), an air carrier may allow an individual to begin service as a pilot, without first obtaining information described in paragraph (2)(B) from the database pertaining to the individual, if—

“(A) the air carrier has made a documented good faith attempt to access the information from the database; and

“(B) has received written notice from the Administrator that the information is not contained in the database because the individual was employed by an air carrier or other person that no longer exists or by a foreign government or other entity that has not provided the information to the database.

“(13) LIMITATIONS ON ELECTRONIC ACCESS TO RECORDS.—

“(A) ACCESS BY INDIVIDUALS DESIGNATED BY AIR CARRIERS.—For the purpose of increasing timely and efficient access to records described in paragraph (2), the Administrator may allow, under terms established by the Administrator, an individual designated by an air carrier to have electronic access to the database.

“(B) TERMS.—The terms established by the Administrator under subparagraph (A) for allowing a designated individual to have electronic access to the database shall limit such access to instances in which information in the database is required by the designated individual in making a hiring decision concerning a pilot applicant and shall require that the designated individual provide assurances satisfactory to the Administrator that—

“(i) the designated individual has received the written consent of the pilot applicant to access the information; and “(ii) information obtained using such access will not be used for any purpose other than making the hiring decision.

“(14) REGULATIONS.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator shall issue regulations to carry out this subsection.

“(B) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The regulations shall specify the date on which the requirements of this subsection take effect and the date on which the requirements of subsection (h) cease to be effective.

“(C) EXCEPTIONS.—Notwithstanding subparagraph (B)—

“(i) the Administrator shall begin to establish the database under paragraph (2) not later than 90 days after the date of enactment of the FAA Air Transportation Modernization and Safety Improvement Act;

“(ii) the Administrator shall maintain records in accordance with paragraph (5) beginning on the date of enactment of that Act; and

“(iii) air carriers and other persons shall maintain records to be reported to the database under paragraph (4)(B) in the period beginning on such date of enactment and ending on the date that is 5 years after the requirements of subsection (h) cease to be effective pursuant to subparagraph (B).

“(15) SPECIAL RULE.—During the one-year period beginning on the date on which the requirements of this section become effective pursuant to paragraph (15)(B), paragraph (7)(A) shall be applied by substituting ‘45 days’ for ‘30 days’.”

(c) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—

(1) LIMITATION ON LIABILITY; PREEMPTION OF STATE LAW.—Section 44703(j) (as redesignated by subsection (b)(1) of this section) is amended—

(A) in the subsection heading by striking “LIMITATION” and inserting “LIMITATIONS”;

(B) in paragraph (1)—

(i) in the matter preceding subparagraph (A) by striking “paragraph (2)” and inserting “subsection (h)(2) or (i)(3)”;

(ii) in subparagraph (A) by inserting “or accessing the records of that individual under subsection (i)(1)” before the semicolon; and

(iii) in the matter following subparagraph (D) by striking “subsection (h)” and inserting “subsection (h) or (i)”;

(C) in paragraph (2) by striking “subsection (h)” and inserting “subsection (h) or (i)”;

(D) in paragraph (3), in the matter preceding subparagraph (A), by inserting “or who furnished information to the database established under subsection (i)(2)” after “subsection (h)(1)”;

(E) by adding at the end the following:

“(4) PROHIBITION ON ACTIONS AND PROCEEDINGS AGAINST AIR CARRIERS.—

“(A) HIRING DECISIONS.—An air carrier may refuse to hire an individual as a pilot if the individual did not provide written consent for the air carrier to receive records under subsection (h)(2)(A) or (i)(3)(A) or did not execute the release from liability requested under subsection (h)(2)(B) or (i)(3)(B).

“(B) ACTIONS AND PROCEEDINGS.—No action or proceeding may be brought against an air carrier by or on behalf of an individual who has applied for or is seeking a position as a pilot with the air carrier if the air carrier refused to hire the individual after the individual did not provide written consent for the air carrier to receive records under subsection (h)(2)(A) or (i)(3)(A) or did not execute a release from liability requested under subsection (h)(2)(B) or (i)(3)(B).”

(2) LIMITATION ON STATUTORY CONSTRUCTION.—Section 44703(k) (as redesignated by subsection (b)(1) of this section) is amended by striking “subsection (h)” and inserting “subsection (h) or (i)”.

SEC. 552. AIR CARRIER SAFETY MANAGEMENT SYSTEMS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Within 60 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall initiate and complete a rulemaking to require part 121 air carriers—

(1) to implement, as part of their safety management systems—

(A) an Aviation Safety Action Program;

(B) a Flight Operations Quality Assurance Program;

(C) a Line Operational Safety Audit Program; and

(D) a Flight Crew Fatigue Risk Management Program;

(2) to implement appropriate privacy protection safeguards with respect to data included in such programs; and

(3) to provide appropriate collaboration and operational oversight of regional/commuter air carriers by affiliated major air carriers that include—

(A) periodic safety audits of flight operations;

(B) training, maintenance, and inspection programs; and

(C) provisions for the exchange of safety information.

(b) EFFECT ON ADVANCED QUALIFICATION PROGRAM.—Implementation of the programs under subsection (a)(1) neither limits nor invalidates the Federal Aviation Administration’s advanced qualification program.

(c) LIMITATIONS ON DISCIPLINE AND ENFORCEMENT.—The Administrator shall require that each of the programs described in subsection (a)(1)(A) and (B) establish protections for an air carrier or employee submitting data or reports against disciplinary or enforcement actions by any Federal agency or employer. The protections shall not be less than the protections provided under Federal Aviation Administration Advisory Circulars governing those programs, including Advisory Circular AC No. 120-66 and AC No. 120-82.

(d) CVR DATA.—The Administrator, acting in collaboration with aviation industry interested parties, shall consider the merits and feasibility of incorporating cockpit voice recorder data in safety oversight practices.

(e) ENFORCEMENT CONSISTENCY.—Within 9 months after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall—

(1) develop and implement a plan that will ensure that the FAA’s safety enforcement plan is consistently enforced; and

(2) ensure that the FAA’s safety oversight program is reviewed periodically and updated as necessary.

SEC. 553. SECRETARY OF TRANSPORTATION RESPONSES TO SAFETY RECOMMENDATIONS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The first sentence of section 1135(a) is amended by inserting “to the National Transportation Safety Board” after “shall give”.

(b) AIR CARRIER SAFETY RECOMMENDATIONS.—Section 1135 is amended—

(1) by redesignating subsections (c) and (d) as subsections (d) and (e), respectively; and

(2) by inserting after subsection (b) the following:

“(c) ANNUAL REPORT ON AIR CARRIER SAFETY RECOMMENDATIONS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall submit an annual report to the Congress and the Board on the recommendations made by the Board to the Secretary regarding air carrier operations conducted under part 121 of title 14, Code of Federal Regulations.

“(2) RECOMMENDATIONS TO BE COVERED.—The report shall cover—

“(A) any recommendation for which the Secretary has developed, or intends to develop, procedures to adopt the recommendation or part of the recommendation, but has yet to complete the procedures; and

“(B) any recommendation for which the Secretary, in the preceding year, has issued a response under subsection (a)(2) or (a)(3) refusing to carry out all or part of the procedures to adopt the recommendation.

“(3) CONTENTS.—

“(A) PLANS TO ADOPT RECOMMENDATIONS.—For each recommendation of the Board described in paragraph (2)(A), the report shall contain—

“(i) a description of the recommendation;

“(ii) a description of the procedures planned for adopting the recommendation or part of the recommendation;

“(iii) the proposed date for completing the procedures; and

“(iv) if the Secretary has not met a deadline contained in a proposed timeline developed in connection with the recommendation under subsection (b), an explanation for not meeting the deadline.

“(B) REFUSALS TO ADOPT RECOMMENDATIONS.—For each recommendation of the Board described in paragraph (2)(B), the report shall contain—

“(i) a description of the recommendation; and

“(ii) a description of the reasons for the refusal to carry out all or part of the procedures to adopt the recommendation.”

SEC. 554. IMPROVED FLIGHT OPERATIONAL QUALITY ASSURANCE, AVIATION SAFETY ACTION, AND LINE OPERATIONAL SAFETY AUDIT PROGRAMS.

(a) LIMITATION ON DISCLOSURE AND USE OF INFORMATION.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided by this section, a party in a judicial proceeding may not use discovery to obtain—

(A) an Aviation Safety Action Program report;

(B) Flight Operational Quality Assurance Program data; or

(C) a Line Operations Safety Audit Program report.

(2) FOIA NOT APPLICABLE.—Section 522 of title 5, United States Code, shall not apply to reports or data described in paragraph (1).

(3) EXCEPTIONS.—Nothing in paragraph (1) or (2) prohibits the FAA from disclosing information contained in reports or data described in paragraph (1) if withholding the information would not be consistent with the FAA's safety responsibilities, including—

(A) a summary of information, with identifying information redacted, to explain the need for changes in policies or regulations;

(B) information provided to correct a condition that compromises safety, if that condition continues uncorrected; or

(C) information provided to carry out a criminal investigation or prosecution.

(b) PERMISSIBLE DISCOVERY FOR SUCH REPORTS AND DATA.—Except as provided in subsection (c), a court may allow discovery by a party of an Aviation Safety Action Program report, Flight Operational Quality Assurance Program data, or a Line Operations Safety Audit Program report if, after an in camera review of the information, the court determines that a party to a claim or defense in the proceeding shows a particularized need for the report or data that outweighs the need for confidentiality of the report or data, considering the confidential nature of the report or data, and upon a showing that the report or data is both relevant to the preparation of a claim or defense and not otherwise known or available.

(c) PROTECTIVE ORDER.—When a court allows discovery, in a judicial proceeding, of an Aviation Safety Action Program report, Flight Operational Quality Assurance Program data, or a Line Operations Safety Audit Program report, the court shall issue a protective order—

(1) to limit the use of the information contained in the report or data to the judicial proceeding;

(2) to prohibit dissemination of the report or data to any person that does not need access to the report for the proceeding; and

(3) to limit the use of the report or data in the proceeding to the uses permitted for privileged self-analysis information as defined under the Federal Rules of Evidence.

(d) SEALED INFORMATION.—A court may allow an Aviation Safety Action Program report, Flight Operational Quality Assurance Program data, or a Line Operations Safety Audit Program report to be admitted into evidence in a judicial proceeding only if the court places the report or data under seal to prevent the use of the report or data for purposes other than for the proceeding.

(e) SAFETY RECOMMENDATIONS.—This section does not prevent the National Transportation Safety Board from referring at any time to information contained in an Aviation Safety Action Program report, Flight Operational Quality Assurance Program data, or a Line Operations Safety Audit Program report in making safety recommendations.

(f) WAIVER.—Any waiver of the privilege for self-analysis information by a protected party, unless occasioned by the party's own use of the information in presenting a claim or defense, must be in writing.

SEC. 555. RE-EVALUATION OF FLIGHT CREW TRAINING, TESTING, AND CERTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS.

(a) TRAINING AND TESTING.—The Administrator shall develop and implement a plan for reevaluation of flight crew training regulations in effect on the date of enactment of this Act, including regulations for—

(1) classroom instruction requirements governing curriculum content and hours of instruction;

(2) crew leadership training; and

(3) initial and recurrent testing requirements for pilots, including the rigor and consistency of testing programs such as check rides.

(b) BEST PRACTICES.—The plan shall incorporate best practices in the aviation industry with respect to training protocols, methods, and procedures.

(c) CERTIFICATION.—The Administrator shall initiate a rulemaking to re-evaluate FAA regulations governing the minimum requirements—

(1) to become a commercial pilot;

(2) to receive an Air Transport Pilot Certificate to become a captain; and

(3) to transition to a new type of aircraft.

(d) REMEDIAL TRAINING PROGRAMS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator shall initiate a rulemaking to require part 121 air carriers to establish remedial training programs for flightcrew members who have demonstrated performance deficiencies or experienced failures in the training environment.

(2) DEADLINES.—The Administrator shall—

(A) not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act, issue a notice of proposed rulemaking under paragraph (1); and

(B) not later than 24 months after the date of enactment of this Act, issue a final rule for the rulemaking.

(e) STICK PUSHER TRAINING AND WEATHER EVENT TRAINING.—

(1) MULTIDISCIPLINARY PANEL.—Not later than 120 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall convene a multidisciplinary panel of specialists in aircraft operations, flightcrew member training, human factors, and aviation safety to study and submit to the Administrator a report on methods to increase the familiarity of flightcrew members with, and improve the response of flightcrew members to, stick pusher systems, icing conditions, and microburst and windshear weather events.

(2) REPORT TO CONGRESS.—Not later than one year after the date on which the Administrator convenes the panel, the Administrator shall—

(A) submit a report to the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation based on the findings of the panel; and

(B) with respect to stick pusher systems, initiate appropriate actions to implement the recommendations of the panel.

SEC. 556. FLIGHTCREW MEMBER MENTORING, PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT, AND LEADERSHIP.

(a) AVIATION RULEMAKING COMMITTEE.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall conduct an aviation rulemaking committee proceeding with stakeholders to develop procedures for each part 121 air carrier to take the following actions:

(A) Establish flightcrew member mentoring programs under which the air carrier will pair highly experienced flightcrew members who will serve as mentor pilots and be paired with newly employed flightcrew members. Mentor pilots should be provided, at a minimum, specific instruction on techniques for instilling and reinforcing the highest standards of technical performance, airmanship, and professionalism in newly employed flightcrew members.

(B) Establish flightcrew member professional development committees made up of air carrier management and labor union or professional association representatives to develop, administer, and oversee formal mentoring programs of the carrier to assist flightcrew members to reach their maximum potential as safe, seasoned, and proficient flightcrew members.

(C) Establish or modify training programs to accommodate substantially different levels and types of flight experience by newly employed flightcrew members.

(D) Establish or modify training programs for second-in-command flightcrew members attempting to qualify as pilot-in-command flightcrew members for the first time in a specific aircraft type and ensure that such programs include leadership and command training.

(E) Ensure that recurrent training for pilots in command includes leadership and command training.

(F) Such other actions as the aviation rulemaking committee determines appropriate to enhance flightcrew member professional development.

(2) COMPLIANCE WITH STERILE COCKPIT RULE.—Leadership and command training described in paragraphs (1)(D) and (1)(E) shall include instruction on compliance with flightcrew member duties under part 121.542 of title 14, Code of Federal Regulations.

(3) STREAMLINED PROGRAM REVIEW.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—As part of the rulemaking required by subsection (a), the Administrator shall establish a streamlined process for part 121 air carriers that have in effect, as of the date of enactment of this Act, the programs required by paragraph (1).

(B) EXPEDITED APPROVALS.—Under the streamlined process, the Administrator shall—

(i) review the programs of such part 121 air carriers to determine whether the programs meet the requirements set forth in the final rule referred to in subsection (b)(2); and

(ii) expedite the approval of the programs that the Administrator determines meet such requirements.

(b) DEADLINES.—The Administrator shall issue—

(1) not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act, a notice of proposed rulemaking under subsection (a); and

(2) not later than 24 months after such date of enactment, a final rule under subsection (a).

SEC. 557. FLIGHTCREW MEMBER SCREENING AND QUALIFICATIONS.

(a) REQUIREMENTS.—The Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall conduct a rulemaking proceeding to require part 121 air carriers to develop and implement means and methods for ensuring that flightcrew members have proper qualifications and experience.

(b) MINIMUM EXPERIENCE REQUIREMENT.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The final rule prescribed under subsection (a) shall, among any other requirements established by the rule, require that a pilot—

(A) have not less than 800 hours of flight time before serving as a flightcrew member for a part 121 air carrier; and

(B) demonstrate the ability to—

(i) function effectively in a multi-pilot environment;

(ii) function effectively in an air carrier operational environment;

(iii) function effectively in adverse weather conditions, including icing conditions if the pilot is expected to be operating aircraft in icing conditions;

(iv) function effectively during high altitude operations; and

(v) adhere to the highest professional standards.

(2) HOURS OF FLIGHT EXPERIENCE IN DIFFICULT OPERATIONAL CONDITIONS.—The total number of hours of flight experience required by the Administrator under paragraph (1) for pilots shall include a number of hours of flight experience in difficult operational conditions that may be encountered by an air carrier that the Administrator determines to be sufficient to enable a pilot to operate an aircraft safely in such conditions.

(c) DEADLINES.—The Administrator shall issue—

(1) not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act, a notice of proposed rulemaking under subsection (a); and

(2) not later than December 31, 2011, a final rule under subsection (a).

(d) DEFAULT REQUIREMENTS.—If the Administrator fails to meet the deadline established by subsection (c)(2), then all flightcrew members for part 121 air carriers shall meet the requirements established by subpart G of part 61 of the Federal Aviation Administration's regulations (14 C.F.R. 61.151 et seq.).

(e) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) FLIGHTCREW MEMBER.—The term "flightcrew member" has the meaning given that term in section 1.1 of the Federal Aviation Administration's regulations (14 C.F.R. 1.1).

(2) PART 121 AIR CARRIER.—The term "part 121 air carrier" has the meaning given that term by section 4172(d)(1) of title 49, United States Code.

SEC. 558. PROHIBITION ON PERSONAL USE OF CERTAIN DEVICES ON FLIGHT DECK.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Chapter 447, as amended by section 521 of this Act, is further amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

“§44731. Use of certain devices on flight deck

“(a) IN GENERAL.—It is unlawful for any member of the flight crew of an aircraft used to provide air transportation under part 121 of title 14, Code of Federal Regulations, to use a personal wireless communications device or laptop computer while at the crew member’s duty station on the flight deck of such an aircraft while the aircraft is being operated.

“(b) EXCEPTIONS.—Subsection (a) shall not apply to the use of a personal wireless communications device or laptop computer for a purpose directly related to operation of the aircraft, or for emergency, safety-related, or employment-related communications, in accordance with procedures established by the air carrier or the Federal Aviation Administration.

“(c) ENFORCEMENT.—In addition to the penalties provided under section 46301 of this title applicable to any violation of this section, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration may enforce compliance with this section under section 44709.

“(d) PERSONAL WIRELESS COMMUNICATIONS DEVICE DEFINED.—The term ‘personal wireless communications device’ means a device through which personal wireless services (as defined in section 332(c)(7)(C)(i) of the Communications Act of 1934 (47 U.S.C. 332(c)(7)(C)(i))) are transmitted.”.

(b) PENALTY.—Section 44711(a) is amended—

(1) by striking “or” after the semicolon in paragraph (8);

(2) by striking “title.” in paragraph (9) and inserting “title; or”; and

(3) by adding at the end the following:

“(10) violate section 44730 of this title or any regulation issued thereunder.”.

(c) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—The table of contents for chapter 447 is amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

“44731. Use of certain devices on flight deck”.

(d) REGULATIONS.—Within 30 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Transportation shall initiate a rulemaking procedure for regulations under section 44730 of title 49, United States Code, and shall issue a final rule thereunder within 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act.

(e) STUDY.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall review relevant air carrier data and carry out a study—

(A) to identify common sources of distraction for the cockpit flight crew on commercial aircraft; and

(B) to determine the safety impacts of such distractions.

(2) REPORT.—Not later than 6 months after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall submit a report to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation of the Senate and the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure of the House of Representatives that contains—

(A) the findings of the study conducted under paragraph (1); and

(B) recommendations about ways to reduce distractions for cockpit flight crews.

SEC. 559. SAFETY INSPECTIONS OF REGIONAL AIR CARRIERS.

The Administrator shall, not less frequently than once each year, perform random, unannounced, on-site inspections of air carriers that provide air transportation pursuant to a contract with a part 121 air carrier to ensure that such air carriers are complying with all applicable safety standards of the Administration.

SEC. 560. ESTABLISHMENT OF SAFETY STANDARDS WITH RESPECT TO THE TRAINING, HIRING, AND OPERATION OF AIRCRAFT BY PILOTS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall issue a final rule with respect to the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking published in the Federal Register on January 12, 2009 (74 Fed. Reg. 1280), relating to training programs for flight crew members and aircraft dispatchers.

(b) EXPERT PANEL TO REVIEW PART 121 AND PART 135 TRAINING HOURS.—

(1) ESTABLISHMENT.—Not later than 60 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall convene a multidisciplinary expert panel comprised of, at a minimum, air carrier representatives, training facility representatives, instructional design experts, aircraft manufacturers, safety organization representatives, and labor union representatives.

(2) ASSESSMENT AND RECOMMENDATIONS.—The panel shall assess and make recommendations concerning—

(A) the best methods and optimal time needed for flightcrew members of part 121 air carriers and flightcrew members of part 135 air carriers to master aircraft systems, maneuvers, procedures, take offs and landings, and crew coordination;

(B) the optimal length of time between training events for such crewmembers, including recurrent training events;

(C) the best methods to reliably evaluate mastery by such crewmembers of aircraft systems, maneuvers, procedures, take offs and landings, and crew coordination; and

(D) the best methods to allow specific academic training courses to be credited pursuant to section 11(d) toward the total flight hours required to receive an airline transport pilot certificate.

(3) REPORT.—Not later than one year after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall submit a report to the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure and the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation based on the findings of the panel.

SEC. 561. OVERSIGHT OF PILOT TRAINING SCHOOLS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 1 year after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall submit to Congress a plan for overseeing pilot schools certified under part 141 of title 14, Code of Federal Regulations, that includes—

(1) ensuring that the curriculum and course outline requirements for such schools under subpart C of such part are being met; and

(2) conducting on-site inspections of each such school not less frequently than once every 2 years.

(b) GAO STUDY.—The Comptroller General shall conduct a comprehensive study of flight schools, flight education, and academic training requirements for certification of an individual as a pilot.

(c) REPORT.—Not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Comptroller General shall submit a report to the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure and the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation on the results of the study.

SEC. 562. ENHANCED TRAINING FOR FLIGHT ATTENDANTS AND GATE AGENTS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Chapter 447, as amended by section 558 of this Act, is further amended by adding at the end the following:

“§44732. Training of flight attendants and gate agents

“(a) TRAINING REQUIRED.—In addition to other training required under this chapter, each air carrier shall provide initial and annual recurring training for flight attendants and gate agents employed or contracted by such air carrier regarding—

“(1) serving alcohol to passengers;

“(2) recognizing intoxicated passengers; and

“(3) dealing with disruptive passengers.

“(b) SITUATIONAL TRAINING.—In carrying out the training required under subsection (a), each air carrier shall provide situational training to flight attendants and gate agents on the proper method for dealing with intoxicated passengers who act in a belligerent manner.

“(c) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

“(1) AIR CARRIER.—The term ‘air carrier’ means a person or commercial enterprise that has been issued an air carrier operating certificate under section 44705.

“(2) FLIGHT ATTENDANT.—The term ‘flight attendant’ has the meaning given the term in section 44728(f).

“(3) GATE AGENT.—The term ‘gate agent’ means an individual working at an airport whose responsibilities include facilitating passenger access to commercial aircraft.

“(4) PASSENGER.—The term ‘passenger’ means an individual traveling on a commercial aircraft, from the time at which the individual arrives at the airport from which such aircraft departs until the time the individual leaves the airport to which such aircraft arrives.”.

(b) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of contents for chapter 447 is amended by adding at the end the following:

“44732. Training of flight attendants and gate agents”.

(c) RULEMAKING.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Transportation shall issue regulations to carry out section 44730 of title 49, United States Code, as added by subsection (a).

SEC. 563. DEFINITIONS.

In this subtitle:

(1) AVIATION SAFETY ACTION PROGRAM.—The term “Aviation Safety Action Program” means the program described under Federal Aviation Administration Advisory Circular No. 120-66B that permits employees of participating air carriers and repair station certificate holders to identify and report safety issues to management and to the Administration for resolution.

(2) ADMINISTRATOR.—The term “Administrator” means the Administrator.

(3) AIR CARRIER.—The term “air carrier” has the meaning given that term by section 40102(2) of title 49, United States Code.

(4) FAA.—The term “FAA” means the Federal Aviation Administration.

(5) FLIGHT OPERATIONAL QUALITY ASSURANCE PROGRAM.—The term “Flight Operational Quality Assurance Program” means the voluntary safety program authorized under section 13.401 of title 14, Code of Federal Regulations, that permits commercial air carriers and pilots to share confidential aggregate information with the Administration to permit the Administration to target resources to address operational risk issues.

(6) LINE OPERATIONS SAFETY AUDIT PROGRAM.—The term “Line Operations Safety Audit Program” has the meaning given that term by Federal Aviation Administration Advisory Circular Number 120-90.

(7) PART 121 AIR CARRIER.—The term “part 121 air carrier” has the meaning given that term by section 41719(d)(1) of title 49, United States Code.

SEC. 564. STUDY OF AIR QUALITY IN AIRCRAFT CABINS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 1 year after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall initiate a study of air quality in aircraft cabins to—

(1) assess bleed air quality on the full range of commercial aircraft operating in the United States;

(2) identify oil-based contaminants, hydraulic fluid toxins, and other air toxins that appear in cabin air and measure the quantity and prevalence, or absence of those toxins through a comprehensive sampling program;

(3) determine the specific amount and duration of toxic fumes present in aircraft cabins that constitutes a health risk to passengers;

(4) develop a systematic reporting standard for smoke and fume events in aircraft cabins;

(5) identify the potential health risks to individuals exposed to toxic fumes during flight; and

(6) determine the extent to which the installation of sensors and air filters on commercial aircraft would provide a public health benefit.

(b) AUTHORITY TO MONITOR AIR IN AIRCRAFT CABINS.—For purposes of conducting the study required by subsection (a), the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall require domestic air carriers to allow air quality monitoring on their aircraft in a manner that imposes no significant costs on the air carrier and does not interfere with the normal operation of the aircraft.

TITLE VI—AVIATION RESEARCH

SEC. 601. AIRPORT COOPERATIVE RESEARCH PROGRAM.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 44511(f) is amended—

(1) by striking “establish a 4-year pilot” in paragraph (1) and inserting “maintain an”; and

(2) by inserting “pilot” in paragraph (4) before “program” the first time it appears; and

(3) by striking “program, including recommendations as to the need for establishing a permanent airport cooperative research program.” in paragraph (4) and inserting “program.”.

(b) AIRPORT COOPERATIVE RESEARCH PROGRAM.—Not more than $15,000,000 per year for fiscal years 2010 and 2011 may be appropriated to the Secretary of Transportation from the amounts made available each year under subsection (a) for the Airport Cooperative Research Program under section 44511 of this title, of which not less than $5,000,000 per year shall be for research activities related to the airport environment, including reduction of community exposure to civil aircraft noise, reduction of civil aviation emissions, or addressing water quality issues.

SEC. 602. REDUCTION OF NOISE, EMISSIONS, AND ENERGY CONSUMPTION FROM CIVILIAN AIRCRAFT.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT OF RESEARCH PROGRAM.—From amounts made available under section 48102(a) of title 49, United States Code, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall establish a research program related to reducing civilian aircraft energy use, emissions, and source noise with equivalent safety through grants or other measures, which may include cost-sharing, authorized under section 106(l)(6) of such title, including reimbursable agreements with other Federal agencies.

(b) ESTABLISHMENT OF CONSORTIUM.—

(1) DESIGNATION AS CONSORTIUM.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall designate, using a competitive process, one or more institutions or entities described in paragraph (2) as a Consortium for Continuous Low Energy, Emissions, and Noise (CLEEN) to perform research in accordance with this section.

(2) PARTICIPATION.—The Administrator shall include educational and research institutions or private sector entities that have existing facilities and experience for developing and testing noise, emissions and energy reduction engine and aircraft technology, and developing alternative fuels in the research program required by subsection (a).

(3) COORDINATION MECHANISMS.—In conducting the research program, the Consortium designated under paragraph (1) shall—

(A) coordinate its activities with the Department of Agriculture, the Department of Energy, the National Aeronautics and space Administration, and other relevant Federal agencies; and

(B) consult on a regular basis with the Commercial Aviation Alternative Fuels Initiative.

(c) PERFORMANCE OBJECTIVES.—Not later than January 1, 2016, the research program shall accomplish the following objectives:

(1) Certifiable aircraft technology that reduces fuel burn 33 percent compared to current technology, reducing energy consumption and carbon dioxide emissions.

(2) Certifiable engine technology that reduces landing and takeoff cycle nitrogen oxide emissions by 60 percent, at a pressure ratio of 30 over the International Civil Aviation Organization standard adopted at the 6th Meeting of the Committee on Aviation Environmental Protection, with commensurate reductions over the full pressure ratio range, while limiting or reducing other gaseous or particle emissions.

(3) Certifiable aircraft technology that reduces noise levels by 32 Effective Perceived Noise in decibels (EPNdb) cumulative, relative to Stage 4 standards.

(4) Advance qualification and environmental assurance of alternative aviation fuels to support a goal of having 20 percent of the jet fuel available for purchase by United States commercial airlines and cargo carriers be alternative fuels.

(5) Determination of the extent to which new engine and aircraft technologies may be used to retrofit or re-engine aircraft so as to increase the level of penetration into the commercial fleet.

SEC. 603. PRODUCTION OF ALTERNATIVE FUEL TECHNOLOGY FOR CIVILIAN AIRCRAFT.

(a) IN GENERAL.—From amounts made available under section 48102(a) of title 49, United States Code, the Secretary of Transportation shall establish a research program related to developing jet fuel from natural gas, biomass and other renewable sources through grants or other measures authorized under section 106(l)(6) of such title, including reimbursable agreements with other Federal agencies.

(b) PARTICIPATION IN PROGRAM.—The Secretary shall—

(1) include educational and research institutions that have existing facilities and experience in the research, small-scale development, testing, or evaluation of technologies related to the creation, processing, and production of a variety of feedstocks into aviation fuel under the program required by subsection (a); and

(2) consider utilizing the existing capacity in Aeronautics research at Langley Research Center of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to carry out the program required by subsection (a).

(c) DESIGNATION OF INSTITUTION AS A CENTER OF EXCELLENCE.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall designate an institution described in subsection (b) as a Center of Excellence for Alternative Jet-Fuel Research in Civil Aircraft. The Center of Excellence shall be a member of the CLEEN Consortium established under section 602(b), and shall be part of a Joint Center of Excellence with the Partnership for Air Transportation Noise and Emission Reduction FAA Center of Excellence.

SEC. 604. PRODUCTION OF CLEAN COAL FUEL TECHNOLOGY FOR CIVILIAN AIRCRAFT.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT OF RESEARCH PROGRAM.—From amounts made available under section 48102(a) of title 49, United States Code, the Secretary of Transportation shall establish a research program related to developing jet fuel from clean coal through grants or other measures authorized under section 106(l)(6) of such title, including reimbursable agreements with other Federal agencies. The program shall include participation by educational and research institutions that have existing facilities and experience in the development and deployment of technology that processes coal to aviation fuel.

(b) DESIGNATION OF INSTITUTION AS A CENTER OF EXCELLENCE.—Within 6 months after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall designate an institution described in subsection (a) as a Center of Excellence for Coal-to-Jet-Fuel Research.

SEC. 605. ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON FUTURE OF AERONAUTICS.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—There is established an advisory committee to be known as the “Advisory Committee on the Future of Aeronautics”.

(b) MEMBERSHIP.—The Advisory Committee shall consist of 7 members appointed by the President from a list of 15 candidates proposed by the Director of the National Academy of Sciences.

(c) CHAIRPERSON.—The Advisory Committee members shall elect 1 member to serve as chairperson of the Advisory Committee.

(d) FUNCTIONS.—The Advisory Committee shall examine the best governmental and organizational structures for the conduct of civil aeronautics research and development, including options and recommendations for consolidating such research to ensure continued United States leadership in civil aeronautics. The Committee shall consider transferring responsibility for civil aeronautics research and development from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to other existing departments or agencies of the Federal Government or to a non-governmental organization such as academic consortia or not-for-profit organizations. In developing its recommendations, the Advisory Committee shall consider, as appropriate, the aeronautics research policies developed pursuant to section 101(d) of Public Law 109-155 and the requirements and priorities for aeronautics research established by title IV of Public Law 109-155.

(e) REPORT.—Not later than 12 months after the date on which the full membership of the Advisory Committee is appointed, the Advisory Committee shall submit a report to the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation and the House Committees on Science and Technology and on Transportation and Infrastructure on its findings and recommendations. The report may recommend a rank ordered list of acceptable solutions.

(f) TERMINATION.—The Advisory Committee shall terminate 60 days after the date on which it submits the report to the Congress.

SEC. 606. RESEARCH PROGRAM TO IMPROVE AIRFIELD PAVEMENTS.

(a) CONTINUATION OF PROGRAM.—The Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall continue the program to consider awards to nonprofit concrete and asphalt pavement research foundations to improve the design, construction, rehabilitation, and repair of airfield pavements to aid in the development of safer, more cost effective, and more durable airfield pavements.

(b) USE OF GRANTS OR COOPERATIVE AGREEMENTS.—The Administrator may use grants or cooperative agreements in carrying out this section.

SEC. 607. WAKE TURBULENCE, VOLCANIC ASH, AND WEATHER RESEARCH.

Within 60 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall—

(1) initiate evaluation of proposals that would increase capacity throughout the air transportation system by reducing existing spacing requirements between aircraft of all sizes, including research on the nature of wake vortices;

(2) begin implementation of a system to improve volcanic ash avoidance options for aircraft, including the development of a volcanic ash warning and notification system for aviation; and

(3) establish research projects on—

(A) ground de-icing/anti-icing, ice pellets, and freezing drizzle;

(B) oceanic weather, including convective weather;

(C) en route turbulence prediction and detection; and

(D) all hazards during oceanic operations, where commercial traffic is high and only rudimentary satellite sensing is available, to reduce the hazards presented to commercial aviation.

SEC. 608. INCORPORATION OF UNMANNED AIRCRAFT SYSTEMS INTO FAA PLANS AND POLICIES.

(a) RESEARCH.—

(1) EQUIPMENT.—Section 44504, as amended by section 216 of this Act, is further amended—

(A) by inserting “unmanned and manned” in subsection (a) after “improve”;

(B) by striking “and” after the semicolon in subsection (b)(7);

(C) by striking “emitted.” in subsection (b)(8) and inserting “emitted; and”;

(D) by adding at the end of subsection (b) the following:

“(9) in conjunction with other Federal agencies as appropriate, to develop technologies and methods to assess the risk of and prevent defects, failures, and malfunctions of products, parts, and processes, for use in all classes of unmanned aircraft systems that could result in a catastrophic failure.”.

(2) HUMAN FACTORS; SIMULATIONS.—Section 44505(b) is amended—

(A) by striking “and” after the semicolon in paragraph (4);

(B) by striking “programs.” in paragraph (5)(C) and inserting “programs; and”;

(C) by adding at the end thereof the following:

“(6) to develop a better understanding of the relationship between human factors and unmanned aircraft systems air safety; and

“(7) to develop dynamic simulation models of integrating all classes of unmanned aircraft systems into the National Airspace System.”.

(b) NATIONAL ACADEMY OF SCIENCES ASSESSMENT.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Within 3 months after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall enter into an arrangement with the National Academy of Sciences for an assessment of unmanned aircraft systems that may include consideration of—

(A) human factors regarding unmanned aircraft systems operation;

(B) “detect, sense and avoid technologies” with respect to both cooperative and non-cooperative aircraft;

(C) spectrum issues and bandwidth requirements;

(D) operation in suboptimal winds and adverse weather conditions;

(E) mechanisms such as the use of transponders for letting other entities know where the unmanned aircraft system is flying;

(F) airworthiness and system redundancy;

(G) flight termination systems for safety and security;

(H) privacy issues;

(I) technologies for unmanned aircraft systems flight control;

(J) technologies for unmanned aircraft systems propulsion;

(K) unmanned aircraft systems operator qualifications, medical standards, and training requirements;

(L) unmanned aircraft systems maintenance requirements and training requirements; and

(M) any other unmanned aircraft systems-related issue the Administrator believes should be addressed.

(2) REPORT.—Within 12 months after initiating the study, the National Academy shall submit its report to the Administrator, the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation, and the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure containing its findings and recommendations.

(c) PILOT PROJECTS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 6 months after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall establish 3 2-year cost-shared pilot projects in sparsely populated, low-density Class G air traffic airspace new test sites to conduct experiments and collect data in order to accelerate the safe integration of unmanned aircraft systems into the National Airspace System as follows:

(A) 1 project shall address operational issues required for integration of Category 1 unmanned aircraft systems defined as analogous to RC models covered in the FAA Advisory Circular AC 91–57.

(B) 1 project shall address operational issues required for integration of Category 2 unmanned aircraft systems defined as non-standard aircraft that perform special purpose operations. Operators must provide evidence of airworthiness and operator qualifications.

(C) 1 project shall address operational issues required for integration of Category 3 unmanned aircraft systems defined as capable of flying throughout all categories of airspace and conforming to part 91 of title 14, Code of Federal Regulations.

(D) All 3 pilot projects shall be operational no later than 6 months after being established.

(2) USE OF CONSORTIA.—In conducting the pilot projects, the Administrator shall encourage the formation of participating consortia from the public and private sectors, educational institutions, and non-profit organization.

(3) REPORT.—Within 90 days after completing the pilot projects, the Administrator shall transmit a report to the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation and the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure setting forth the Administrator's findings and conclusions concerning the projects.

(4) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There are authorized to be appropriated to the Administrator for fiscal years 2010 and 2011 such sums as may be necessary to conduct the pilot projects.

(d) UNMANNED AIRCRAFT SYSTEMS ROADMAP.—Within 30 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall approve and make available in print and on the Administration's website a 5-year “roadmap” for the introduction of unmanned aircraft systems into the National Airspace System being coordinated by its Unmanned Aircraft Program Office. The Administrator shall update the “roadmap” annually.

(e) UPDATED POLICY STATEMENT.—Not later than 90 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall issue a notice of proposed rulemaking to update the Administration's most recent policy statement on unmanned aircraft systems, Docket No. FAA–2006–25714.

(f) EXPANDING THE USE OF UAS IN THE ARCTIC.—Within 6 months after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator, in consultation with the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, the Coast Guard, and other Federal agencies as appropriate, shall identify permanent areas in the Arctic where small unmanned aircraft may operate 24 hours per day from 2000 feet to the surface and beyond line-of-sight for research and commercial purposes. Within 12 months after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall have established and implemented a single process for approving unmanned aircraft use in the designated arctic regions regardless of whether the unmanned aircraft is used as a public aircraft, a civil aircraft, or as a model aircraft.

(g) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) ARCTIC.—The term “Arctic” means the United States zone of the Chukchi, Beaufort, and Bering Sea north of the Aleutian chain.

(2) PERMANENT AREAS.—The term “permanent areas” means areas on land or water that provide for terrestrial launch and recovery of small unmanned aircraft.

SEC. 609. REAUTHORIZATION OF CENTER OF EXCELLENCE IN APPLIED RESEARCH AND TRAINING IN THE USE OF ADVANCED MATERIALS IN TRANSPORT AIRCRAFT.

Section 708(b) of the Vision 100—Century of Aviation Reauthorization Act (49 U.S.C. 44504 note) is amended by striking “$500,000 for fiscal year 2004” and inserting “$1,000,000 for each of fiscal years 2008 through 2012”.

SEC. 610. PILOT PROGRAM FOR ZERO EMISSION AIRPORT VEHICLES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Subchapter I of chapter 471 is amended by inserting after section 47136 the following:

“§47136A. Zero emission airport vehicles and infrastructure

“(a) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of Transportation shall establish a pilot program under which the sponsor of a public-use airport may use funds made available under section 47117 or section 48103 for use at such airports or passenger facility revenue (as defined in section 40117(a)(6)) to carry out activities associated with the acquisition and operation of zero emission vehicles (as defined in section 88.120–94 of title 40, Code of Federal Regulations), including the construction or modification of infrastructure to facilitate the delivery of fuel and services necessary for the use of such vehicles. Any use of funds authorized by the preceding sentence shall be considered to be an authorized use of funds under section 47117 or section 48103, or an authorized use of passenger facility revenue (as defined in section 40117(a)(6)), as the case may be.

“(b) LOCATION IN AIR QUALITY NONATTAINMENT AREAS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—A public-use airport shall be eligible for participation in the pilot program only if the airport is located in an air quality nonattainment area (as defined in section 171(2) of the Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. 7501(2))).

“(2) SHORTAGE OF CANDIDATES.—If the Secretary receives an insufficient number of applications from public-use airports located in such areas, then the Secretary may consider applications from public-use airports that are not located in such areas.

“(c) SELECTION CRITERIA.—In selecting from among applicants for participation in the program, the Secretary shall give priority consideration to applicants that will achieve the greatest air quality benefits measured by the amount of emissions reduced per dollar of funds expended under the program.

“(d) FEDERAL SHARE.—Notwithstanding any other provision of this subchapter, the Federal share of the costs of a project carried out under the program shall be 50 percent.

“(e) TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The sponsor of a public-use airport carrying out activities funded under the program may not use more than 10 percent of the amounts made available under the program in any fiscal year for technical assistance in carrying out such activities.

“(2) ELIGIBLE CONSORTIUM.—To the maximum extent practicable, participants in the program shall use an eligible consortium (as defined in section 5506 of this title) in the region of the airport to receive technical assistance described in paragraph (1).

“(f) MATERIALS IDENTIFYING BEST PRACTICES.—The Secretary may develop and make available materials identifying best practices for carrying out activities funded under the program based on projects carried out under section 47136 and other sources.”.

(b) REPORT ON EFFECTIVENESS OF PROGRAM.—Not later than 18 months after the date of enactment of the FAA Air Transportation Modernization and Safety Improvement Act, the Secretary of Transportation shall transmit a report to the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure containing—

(1) an evaluation of the effectiveness of the pilot program;

(2) an identification of all public-use airports that expressed an interest in participating in the program; and

(3) a description of the mechanisms used by the Secretary to ensure that the information and know-how gained by participants in the program is transferred among the participants and to other interested parties, including other public-use airports.

(c) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—The table of contents for chapter 471 is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 47136 the following:

“47136A. Zero emission airport vehicles and infrastructure”.

SEC. 611. REDUCTION OF EMISSIONS FROM AIRPORT POWER SOURCES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Subchapter I of chapter 471 is amended by inserting after section 47140 the following:

“§47140A. Reduction of emissions from airport power sources

“(a) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of Transportation shall establish a program under which the sponsor of each airport eligible to receive grants under section 48103 is encouraged to assess the airport's energy requirements, including heating and cooling, base load, back-up power, and power for on-road airport vehicles and ground support equipment, in order to identify opportunities to reduce harmful emissions and increase energy efficiency at the airport.

“(b) GRANTS.—The Secretary may make grants under section 48103 to assist airport sponsors that have completed the assessment described in subsection (a) to acquire or construct equipment, including hydrogen equipment and related infrastructure, that will reduce harmful emissions and increase energy efficiency at the airport. To be eligible for such a grant, the sponsor of such an airport shall submit an application to the Secretary, at such time, in such manner, and containing such information as the Secretary may require.”.

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—The table of contents for chapter 471 is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 47140 the following:

“47140A. Reduction of emissions from airport power sources”.

SEC. 612. SITING OF WINDFARMS NEAR FAA NAVIGATIONAL AIDES AND OTHER ASSETS.

(a) SURVEY AND ASSESSMENT.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—In order to address safety and operational concerns associated with the construction, alteration, establishment, or expansion of wind farms in proximity to critical FAA facilities, the Administrator shall, within 60 days after the date of enactment of this Act, complete a survey and assessment of leases for critical FAA facility sites, including—

(A) an inventory of the leases that describes, for each such lease—

(i) the periodic cost, location, site, terms, number of years remaining, and lessor;

(ii) other Administration facilities that share the leasehold, including surveillance and communications equipment; and

(iii) the type of transmission services supported, including the terms of service, cost, and support contract obligations for the services; and

(B) a list of those leases for facilities located in or near areas suitable for the construction and operation of wind farms, as determined by the Administrator in consultation with the Secretary of Energy.

(2) REPORT.—Upon completion of the survey and assessment, the Administrator shall submit a report to the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation, the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure, and the Comptroller General containing the Administrator's findings, conclusions, and recommendations.

(b) GAO ASSESSMENT.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Within 180 days after receiving the Administrator's report under subsection (a)(2), the Comptroller General, in consultation with the Administrator, shall report on—

(A) the current and potential impact of wind farms on the national airspace system;

(B) the extent to which the Department of Defense and the Federal Aviation Administration have guidance, processes, and procedures in place to evaluate the impact of wind farms on the implementation of the Next Generation air traffic control system; and

(C) potential mitigation strategies, if necessary, to ensure that wind farms do not have an adverse impact on the implementation of the Next Generation air traffic control system, including the installation of navigational aides associated with that system.

(c) ISSUANCE OF GUIDELINES; PUBLIC INFORMATION.—

(1) GUIDANCE.—Within 60 days after the Administrator receives the Comptroller's recommendations, the Administrator shall publish guidelines for the construction and operation of wind farms to be located in proximity to critical Federal Aviation Administration facilities. The guidelines may include—

(A) the establishment of a zone system for wind farms based on proximity to critical FAA assets;

(B) the establishment of turbine height and density limitations on such wind farms;

(C) requirements for notice to the Administration under section 44718(a) of title 49, United States Code, before the construction, alteration, establishment, or expansion of a such a wind farm; and

(D) any other requirements or recommendations designed to address Administration safety or operational concerns related to the construction, alteration, establishment, or expansion of such wind farms.

(2) PUBLIC ACCESS TO INFORMATION.—To the extent feasible, taking into consideration security, operational, and public safety concerns (as determined by the Administrator), the Administrator shall provide public access to information regarding the planning, construction, and operation of wind farms in proximity to critical FAA facilities on, or by linkage from, the homepage of the Federal Aviation Administration's public website.

(d) CONSULTATION WITH OTHER FEDERAL AGENCIES.—In carrying out this section, the Administrator and the Comptroller General shall consult, as appropriate, with the Secretaries of the Army, the Navy, the Air Force, Homeland Security, and Energy—

(1) to coordinate the requirements of each department for future air space needs;

(2) to determine what the acceptable risks are to the existing infrastructure of each department; and

(3) to define the different levels of risk for such infrastructure.

(e) REPORTS.—The Administrator and the Comptroller General shall provide a copy of reports under subsections (a) and (b), respectively, to the Senate Committee on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs, the Senate Committee on Armed Services, the House of Representatives Committee on Homeland Security, the House of Representatives Committee on Armed Services, and the House of Representatives Committee on Science and Technology, as appropriate.

(f) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) ADMINISTRATION.—The term “Administration” means the Federal Aviation Administration.

(2) ADMINISTRATOR.—The term “Administrator” means the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration.

(3) CRITICAL FAA FACILITIES.—The term “critical FAA facilities” means facilities on which are located navigational aides, surveillance systems, or communications systems used by the Administration in administration of the national airspace system.

(4) WIND FARM.—The term “wind farm” means an installation of 1 or more wind turbines used for the generation of electricity.

SEC. 613. RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT FOR EQUIPMENT TO CLEAN AND MONITOR THE ENGINE AND APU BLEED AIR SUPPLIED ON PRESSURIZED AIRCRAFT.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 60 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall, to the degree practicable, implement a research program for the identification or development of appropriate and effective air cleaning technology and sensor technology for the engine and auxiliary power unit (APU) bleed air supplied to the passenger cabin and flight deck of all pressurized aircraft.

(b) TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS.—The technology referred to in subsection (a) should, at a minimum, have the capacity—

(1) to remove oil-based contaminants from the bleed air supplied to the passenger cabin and flight deck; and

(2) to detect and record oil-based contaminants in the portion of the total air supplied to the passenger cabin and flight deck from bleed air.

(c) REPORT.—Not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall submit to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation of the Senate and the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure of the House of Representatives a report on the results of the research and development work carried out under this section.

(d) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There are authorized to be appropriated such sums as are necessary to carry out this section.

TITLE VII—MISCELLANEOUS

SEC. 701. GENERAL AUTHORITY.

(a) THIRD PARTY LIABILITY.—Section 44303(b) is amended by striking “December 31, 2009,” and inserting “December 31, 2012.”.

(b) EXTENSION OF PROGRAM AUTHORITY.—Section 44310 is amended by striking “December 31, 2013.” and inserting “October 1, 2017.”.

(c) WAR RISK.—Section 44302(f)(1) is amended—

(1) by striking “September 30, 2009,” and inserting “September 30, 2011.”; and

(2) by striking “December 31, 2009,” and inserting “December 31, 2011.”.

SEC. 702. HUMAN INTERVENTION MANAGEMENT STUDY.

Within 6 months after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall develop a Human Intervention Management Study program for cabin crews employed by commercial air carriers in the United States.

SEC. 703. AIRPORT PROGRAM MODIFICATIONS.

The Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration—

(1) shall establish a formal, structured certification training program for the airport concessions disadvantaged business enterprise program; and

(2) may appoint 3 additional staff to implement the programs of the airport concessions disadvantaged business enterprise initiative.

SEC. 704. MISCELLANEOUS PROGRAM EXTENSIONS.

(a) MARSHALL ISLANDS, FEDERATED STATES OF MICRONESIA, AND PALAU.—Section 47115(j) is amended by striking “2009,” and inserting “2011.”.

(b) MIDWAY ISLAND AIRPORT.—Section 186(d) of the Vision 100—Century of Aviation Reauthorization Act (117 Stat. 2518) is amended by striking “2009,” and inserting “2011.”.

SEC. 705. EXTENSION OF COMPETITIVE ACCESS REPORTS.

Section 47107(s) is amended by striking paragraph (3).

SEC. 706. UPDATE ON OVERFLIGHTS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 45301(b) is amended to read as follows:

“(b) LIMITATIONS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—In establishing fees under subsection (a), the Administrator shall ensure that the fees required by subsection (a) are reasonably related to the Administration’s costs, as determined by the Administrator, of providing the services rendered. Services for which costs may be recovered include the costs of air traffic control, navigation, weather services, training, and emergency services which are available to facilitate safe transportation over the United States, and other services provided by the Administrator or by programs financed by the Administrator to flights that neither take off nor land in the United States. The determination of such costs by the Administrator is not subject to judicial review.

“(2) ADJUSTMENT OF FEES.—The Administrator shall adjust the overflight fees established by subsection (a)(1) by expedited rulemaking and begin collections under the adjusted fees by October 1, 2010. In developing the adjusted overflight fees, the Administrator shall seek and consider the recommendations, if any, offered by the Aviation Rulemaking Committee for Overflight Fees that are intended to ensure that overflight fees are reasonably related to the Administrator’s costs of providing air traffic control and related services to overflights. In addition, the Administrator may periodically modify the fees established under this section either on the Administrator’s own initiative or on a recommendation from the Air Traffic Control Modernization Board.

“(3) COST DATA.—The adjustment of overflight fees under paragraph (2) shall be based on the costs to the Administration of providing the air traffic control and related activities, services, facilities, and equipment using the available data derived from the Administration’s cost accounting system and cost allocation system to users, as well as budget and operational data.

“(4) AIRCRAFT ALTITUDE.—Nothing in this section shall require the Administrator to take into account aircraft altitude in establishing any fee for aircraft operations in en route or oceanic airspace.

“(5) COSTS DEFINED.—In this subsection, the term ‘costs’ means those costs associated with the operation, maintenance, debt service, and overhead expenses of the services provided and the facilities and equipment used in such services, including the projected costs for the period during which the services will be provided.

“(6) PUBLICATION; COMMENT.—The Administrator shall publish in the Federal Register any fee schedule under this section, including any adjusted overflight fee schedule, and the associated collection process as a proposed rule, pursuant to which public comment will be sought and a final rule issued.”

(b) ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISION.—Section 45303(c)(2) is amended to read as follows:

“(2) shall be available to the Administrator for expenditure for purposes authorized by Congress for the Federal Aviation Administration, however, fees established by section 45301(a)(1) of this title shall be available only to pay the cost of activities and services for which the fee is imposed, including the costs to determine, assess, review, and collect the fee; and”

SEC. 707. TECHNICAL CORRECTIONS.

Section 40122(g), as amended by section 307 of this Act, is further amended—

(1) by striking “section 2302(b), relating to whistleblower protection,” in paragraph (2)(A) and inserting “sections 2301 and 2302,”;

(2) by striking “and” after the semicolon in paragraph (2)(H);

(3) by striking “Plan.” in paragraph (2)(I)(iii) and inserting “Plan.”;

(4) by adding at the end of paragraph (2) the following:

“(J) section 5596, relating to back pay; and

“(K) sections 6381 through 6387, relating to Family and Medical Leave.”; and

(5) by adding at the end of paragraph (3) “Notwithstanding any other provision of law, retroactive to April 1, 1996, the Board shall have the same remedial authority over such employee appeals that it had as of March 31, 1996.”

SEC. 708. FAA TECHNICAL TRAINING AND STAFFING.

(a) STUDY.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Comptroller General shall conduct a study of the training of airway transportation systems specialists of the Federal Aviation Administration that includes—

(A) an analysis of the type of training provided to such specialists;

(B) an analysis of the type of training that such specialists need to be proficient in the maintenance of the latest technologies;

(C) actions that the Administration has undertaken to ensure that such specialists receive up-to-date training on such technologies;

(D) the amount and cost of training provided by vendors for such specialists;

(E) the amount and cost of training provided by the Administration after developing in-house training courses for such specialists;

(F) the amount and cost of travel required of such specialists in receiving training; and

(G) a recommendation regarding the most cost-effective approach to providing such training.

(2) REPORT.—Within 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, the Comptroller General shall transmit a report on the study containing the Comptroller General’s findings and recommendations to the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation and the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure.

(b) STUDY BY NATIONAL ACADEMY OF SCIENCES.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 90 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall contract with the National Academy of Sciences to conduct a study of the assumptions and methods used by the Federal Aviation Administration to estimate staffing needs for Federal Aviation Administration air traffic controllers, system specialists, and engineers to ensure proper maintenance, certification, and operation of the National Airspace System. The National Academy of Sciences shall consult with the Exclusive Bargaining Representative certified under section 7111 of title 5, United States Code, and the Administration (including the Civil Aeronautical Medical Institute) and examine data entailing human factors, traffic activity, and the technology at each facility.

(2) CONTENTS.—The study shall include—

(A) recommendations for objective staffing standards that maintain the safety of the National Airspace System; and

(B) the approximate length of time for developing such standards.

(3) REPORT.—Not later than 24 months after executing a contract under subsection (a), the National Academy of Sciences shall transmit a report containing its findings and recommendations to the Congress.

(c) AVIATION SAFETY INSPECTORS.—

(1) SAFETY STAFFING MODEL.—Within 12 months after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall develop a staffing model for aviation safety inspectors. In developing the model, the Administrator shall consult with representatives of the aviation safety inspectors and other interested parties.

(2) SAFETY INSPECTOR STAFFING.—The Federal Aviation Administration aviation safety inspector staffing requirement shall be no less than the staffing levels indicated as necessary in the staffing model described under subsection (a).

(d) ALASKA FLIGHT SERVICE STATIONS.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Administrator, in conjunction with flight service station personnel, shall submit a report to Congress on the future of flight service stations in Alaska, which includes—

(1) an analysis of the number of flight service specialists needed, the training needed by such personnel, and the need for a formal training and hiring program for such personnel;

(2) a schedule for necessary inspection, upgrades, and modernization of stations and equipment; and

(3) a description of the interaction between flight service stations operated by the Administration and flight service stations operated by contractors.

SEC. 709. COMMERCIAL AIR TOUR OPERATORS IN NATIONAL PARKS.

(a) SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR AND OVERFLIGHTS OF NATIONAL PARKS.—

(1) Section 40128 is amended—

(A) by striking paragraph (8) of subsection (f);

(B) by striking “Director” each place it appears and inserting “Secretary of the Interior”;

(C) by striking “National Park Service” in subsection (a)(2)(B)(vi) and inserting “Department of the Interior”;

(D) in subsection (b)—

(i) in paragraph (1)—

(I) in subparagraph (A)—

(aa) by striking “, in cooperation with” and inserting “and”; and

(bb) by striking “The air tour” and all that follows; and

(II) by redesignating subparagraph (B) as subparagraph (C);

(III) by inserting after subparagraph (A) the following:

“(B) PROCESS AND APPROVAL.—The Federal Aviation Administration has sole authority to control airspace over the United States. The National Park Service has the sole responsibility for conserving the scenery and natural resources in National Parks and providing for the enjoyment of the National Parks unimpaired for future generations. Each air tour management plan shall be—

“(i) developed through a public process that complies with paragraph (4); and

“(ii) approved by the Administrator and the Director.”; and

(IV) by adding at the end the following:

“(D) EXCEPTION.—An application to begin commercial air tour operations at Crater Lake National Park may be denied without the establishment of an air tour management plan by the Director of the National Park Service if the Director determines that such operations would unacceptably impact park resources or visitor experiences.”; and

(ii) in paragraph (4)(C), by striking “National Park Service” and inserting “Department of the Interior”.

(2) The National Parks Air Tour Management Act of 2000 (49 U.S.C. 40128 note) is amended—

(A) by striking “Director” in section 804(b) and inserting “Secretary of the Interior”;

(B) in section 805—

(i) by striking “Director of the National Park Service” in subsection (a) and inserting “Secretary of the Interior”;

(ii) by striking “Director” each place it appears and inserting “Secretary of the Interior”;

(iii) by striking “National Park Service” each place it appears in subsection (b) and inserting “Department of the Interior”;

(iv) by striking “National Park Service” in subsection (d)(2) and inserting “Department of the Interior”;

(C) in section 807—

(i) by striking “National Park Service” in subsection (a)(1) and inserting “Department of the Interior”;

(ii) by striking “Director of the National Park Service” in subsection (b) and inserting “Secretary of the Interior”.

(b) ALLOWING OVERFLIGHTS IN CASE OF AGREEMENT.—Paragraph (1) of subsection (a) of section 40128 is amended—

(1) by striking “and” after the semicolon in subparagraph (B);

(2) by striking “lands,” in subparagraph (C) and inserting “lands; and”; and

(3) by adding at the end the following:

“(D) in accordance with a voluntary agreement between the commercial air tour operator and appropriate representatives of the national park or tribal lands, as the case may be.”.

(c) MODIFICATION OF INTERIM OPERATING AUTHORITY.—Section 40128(c)(2)(I) is amended to read as follows:

“(I) may allow for modifications of the interim operating authority without further environmental process, if—

“(i) adequate information on the existing and proposed operations of the commercial air tour operator is provided to the Administrator and the Secretary by the operator seeking operating authority;

“(ii) the Administrator determines that the modifications would not adversely affect aviation safety or the management of the national airspace system; and

“(iii) the Secretary agrees that the modifications would not adversely affect park resources and visitor experiences.”.

(d) REPORTING REQUIREMENTS FOR COMMERCIAL AIR TOUR OPERATORS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, and annually thereafter, each commercial air tour conducting commercial air tour operations over a national park shall report to the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration and the Secretary of the Interior on—

(A) the number of commercial air tour operations conducted by such operator over the national park each day;

(B) any relevant characteristics of commercial air tour operations, including the routes, altitudes, duration, and time of day of flights; and

(C) such other information as the Administrator and the Secretary may determine necessary to administer the provisions of the National Parks Air Tour Management Act of 2000 (49 U.S.C. 40128 note).

(2) FORMAT.—The report required by paragraph (1) shall be submitted in such form as the Administrator and the Secretary determine to be appropriate.

(3) EFFECT OF FAILURE TO REPORT.—The Administrator shall rescind the operating authority of a commercial air tour operator that fails to file a report not later than 180 days after the date for the submittal of the report described in paragraph (1).

(4) AUDIT OF REPORTS.—Not later than 2 years after the date of the enactment of this Act, and at such times thereafter as the Inspector General of the Department of Transportation determines necessary, the Inspector General shall audit the reports required by paragraph (1).

(e) COLLECTION OF FEES FROM AIR TOUR OPERATIONS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of the Interior shall assess a fee in an amount determined by the Secretary under paragraph (2) on a commercial air tour operator conducting commercial air tour operations over a national park.

(2) AMOUNT OF FEE.—In determining the amount of the fee assessed under paragraph (1), the Secretary shall collect sufficient revenue, in the aggregate, to pay for the expenses incurred by the Federal Government to develop air tour management plans for national parks.

(3) EFFECT OF FAILURE TO PAY FEE.—The Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall revoke the operating authority of a commercial air tour operator conducting commercial air tour operations over any national park, including the Grand Canyon National Park, that has not paid the fee assessed by the Secretary under paragraph (1) by the date that is 180 days after the date on which the Secretary determines the fee shall be paid.

(f) FUNDING FOR AIR TOUR MANAGEMENT PLANS.—The Secretary of the Interior shall use the amounts collected under subsection (e) to develop air tour management plans under section 40128(b) of title 49, United States Code, for the national parks the Secretary determines would most benefit from such a plan.

(g) GUIDANCE TO DISTRICT OFFICES ON COMMERCIAL AIR TOUR OPERATORS.—The Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall provide to the Administration’s district offices clear guidance on the ability of commercial air tour operators to obtain—

(1) increased safety certifications;

(2) exemptions from regulations requiring safety certifications; and

(3) other information regarding compliance with the requirements of this Act and other Federal and State laws and regulations.

(h) OPERATING AUTHORITY OF COMMERCIAL AIR TOUR OPERATORS.—

(1) TRANSFER OF OPERATING AUTHORITY.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Subject to subparagraph (B), a commercial air tour operator that obtains operating authority from the Administrator under section 40128 of title 49, United States Code, to conduct commercial air tour operations may transfer such authority to another commercial air tour operator at any time.

(B) NOTICE.—Not later than 30 days before the date on which a commercial air tour operator transfers operating authority under subparagraph (A), the operator shall notify the Administrator and the Secretary of the intent of the operator to transfer such authority.

(C) REGULATIONS.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall prescribe regulations to allow transfers of operating authority described in subparagraph (A).

(2) TIME FOR DETERMINATION REGARDING OPERATING AUTHORITY.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Administrator shall determine whether to grant a commercial air tour operator operating authority under section 40128 of title 49, United States Code, not later than 180 days after the earlier of the date on which—

(A) the operator submits an application; or

(B) an air tour management plan is completed for the national park over which the operator seeks to conduct commercial air tour operations.

(3) INCREASE IN INTERIM OPERATING AUTHORITY.—The Administrator and the Secretary may increase the interim operating authority while an air tour management plan is being developed for a park if—

(A) the Secretary determines that such an increase does not adversely impact park resources or visitor experiences; and

(B) the Administrator determines that granting interim operating authority does not adversely affect aviation safety or the management of the national airspace system.

(4) ENFORCEMENT OF OPERATING AUTHORITY.—The Administrator is authorized and directed to enforce the requirements of this Act and any agency rules or regulations related to operating authority.

SEC. 710. PHASEOUT OF STAGE 1 AND 2 AIRCRAFT.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Subchapter II of chapter 475 is amended by adding at the end the following:

“§47534. Prohibition on operating certain aircraft weighing 75,000 pounds or less not complying with Stage 3 noise levels

“(a) PROHIBITION.—Except as provided in subsection (b), (c), or (d), a person may not operate a civil subsonic turbojet with a maximum weight of 75,000 pounds or less to or from an airport in the United States unless the Secretary of Transportation finds that the aircraft complies with stage 3 noise levels.

“(b) EXCEPTION.—Subsection (a) shall not apply to aircraft operated only outside the 48 contiguous States.

“(c) OPT-OUT.—Subsection (a) shall not apply at an airport where the airport operator has notified the Secretary that it wants to continue to permit the operation of civil subsonic turbojets with a maximum weight of 75,000 pounds or less that do not comply with stage 3 noise levels. The Secretary shall post the notices received under this subsection on its website or in another place easily accessible to the public.

“(d) LIMITATION.—The Secretary shall permit a person to operate Stage 1 and Stage 2 aircraft with a maximum weight of 75,000 pounds or less to or from an airport in the contiguous 48 States in order—

“(1) to sell, lease, or use the aircraft outside the 48 contiguous States;

“(2) to scrap the aircraft;

“(3) to obtain modifications to the aircraft to meet stage 3 noise levels;

“(4) to perform scheduled heavy maintenance or significant modifications on the aircraft at a maintenance facility located in the contiguous 48 states;

“(5) to deliver the aircraft to an operator leasing the aircraft from the owner or return the aircraft to the lessor;

“(6) to prepare or park or store the aircraft in anticipation of any of the activities described in paragraphs (1) through (5); or

“(7) to divert the aircraft to an alternative airport in the 48 contiguous States on account of weather, mechanical, fuel air traffic control or other safety reasons while conducting a flight in order to perform any of the activities described in paragraphs (1) through (6).

“(e) STATUTORY CONSTRUCTION.—Nothing in the section may be construed as interfering with, nullifying, or otherwise affecting determinations made by the Federal Aviation Administration, or to be made by the Administration, with respect to applications under part 161 of title 14, Code of Federal Regulations, that were pending on the date of enactment of the Aircraft Noise Reduction Act of 2006.”.

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—

(1) Section 47531 is amended by striking “47529, or 47530” and inserting “47529, 47530, or 47534”.

(2) Section 47532 is amended by striking “47528–47531” and inserting “47528 through 47531 or 47534”.

(3) The table of contents for chapter 475 is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 47533 the following:

“47534. Prohibition on operating certain aircraft weighing 75,000 pounds or less not complying with Stage 3 noise levels”.

(c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall take effect 5 years after the date of enactment of this Act.

SEC. 711. WEIGHT RESTRICTIONS AT TETERBORO AIRPORT.

On and after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration is prohibited from taking actions designed to challenge or influence weight restrictions or prior permission rules at Teterboro Airport in Teterboro, New Jersey, except in an emergency.

SEC. 712. PILOT PROGRAM FOR REDEVELOPMENT OF AIRPORT PROPERTIES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Within 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall establish a pilot program at up to 4 public-use airports for local airport operators that have submitted a noise compatibility program approved by the Federal Aviation Administration under section 47504 of title 49, United States Code, under which such airport operators may use funds made available under section 47117(e) of that title, or passenger facility revenue collected under section 40117 of that title, in partnership with affected neighboring local jurisdictions, to support joint planning, engineering design, and environmental permitting for the assembly and redevelopment of property purchased with noise mitigation funds or passenger facility charge funds, to encourage airport-compatible land uses and generate economic benefits to the local airport authority and adjacent community.

(b) NOISE COMPATIBILITY MEASURES.—Section 47504(a)(2) is amended—

(1) by striking “and” after the semicolon in subparagraph (D);

(2) by striking “operations.” in subparagraph (E) and inserting “operations; and”; and

(3) by adding at the end the following:

“(F) joint comprehensive land use planning including master plans, traffic studies, environmental evaluation and economic and feasibility studies, with neighboring local jurisdictions undertaking community redevelopment in the area where the land or other property interest acquired by the airport operator pursuant to this subsection is located, to encourage and enhance redevelopment opportunities that reflect zoning and uses that will prevent the introduction of additional incompatible uses and enhance redevelopment potential.”

(c) GRANT REQUIREMENTS.—The Administrator may not make a grant under subsection (a) unless the grant is made—

(1) to enable the airport operator and local jurisdictions undertaking the community redevelopment effort to expedite redevelopment efforts;

(2) subject to a requirement that the local jurisdiction governing the property interests in question has adopted zoning regulations that permit airport compatible redevelopment; and

(3) subject to a requirement that, in determining the part of the proceeds from disposing of the land that is subject to repayment or reinvestment under section 47107(c)(2)(A) of title 49, United States Code, the total amount of the grant issued under this section shall be added to the amount of any grants issued for acquisition of land.

(d) DEMONSTRATION GRANTS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator shall provide grants for up to 4 pilot property redevelopment projects distributed geographically and targeted to airports that demonstrate—

(A) a readiness to implement cooperative land use management and redevelopment plans with the adjacent community; and

(B) the probability of clear economic benefit to the local community and financial return to the airport through the implementation of the redevelopment plan.

(2) FEDERAL SHARE.—

(A) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Federal share of the allowable costs of a project carried out under the pilot program shall be 80 percent.

(B) In determining the allowable costs, the Administrator shall deduct from the total costs of the activities described in subsection (a) that portion of the costs which is equal to that portion of the total property to be redeveloped under this section that is not owned or to be acquired by the airport operator pursuant to the noise compatibility program or that is not owned by the affected neighboring local jurisdictions or other public entities.

(3) MAXIMUM AMOUNT.—Not more than $5,000,000 in funds made available under section 47117(e) of title 49, United States Code, may be expended under the pilot program at any single public-use airport.

(4) EXCEPTION.—Amounts paid to the Administrator under subsection (c)(3)—

(A) shall be in addition to amounts authorized under section 48203 of title 49, United States Code;

(B) shall not be subject to any limitation on grant obligations for any fiscal year; and

(C) shall remain available until expended.

(e) USE OF PASSENGER REVENUE.—An airport sponsor that owns or operates an airport participating in the pilot program may use passenger facility revenue collected under section 40117 of title 49, United States Code, to pay any project cost described in subsection (a) that is not financed by a grant under the program.

(f) SUNSET.—This section, other than the amendments made by subsections (b), shall not be in effect after September 30, 2011.

(g) REPORT TO CONGRESS.—The Administrator shall report to Congress within 18 months after making the first grant under this section on the effectiveness of this program on returning part 150 lands to productive use.

SEC. 713. TRANSPORTING MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Subchapter I of chapter 417 is amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

“§41724. Musical instruments

“(a) IN GENERAL.—

“(1) SMALL INSTRUMENTS AS CARRY-ON BAGGAGE.—An air carrier providing air transportation shall permit a passenger to carry a violin, guitar, or other musical instrument in the aircraft cabin without charge if—

“(A) the instrument can be stowed safely in a suitable baggage compartment in the aircraft cabin or under a passenger seat; and

“(B) there is space for such stowage at the time the passenger boards the aircraft.

“(2) LARGER INSTRUMENTS AS CARRY-ON BAGGAGE.—An air carrier providing air transportation shall permit a passenger to carry a musical instrument that is too large to meet the requirements of paragraph (1) in the aircraft cabin without charge if—

“(A) the instrument is contained in a case or covered so as to avoid injury to other passengers;

“(B) the weight of the instrument, including the case or covering, does not exceed 165 pounds;

“(C) the instrument can be secured by a seat belt to avoid shifting during flight;

“(D) the instrument does not restrict access to, or use of, any required emergency exit, regular exit, or aisle;

“(E) the instrument does not obscure any passenger's view of any illuminated exit, warning, or other informational sign;

“(F) neither the instrument nor the case contains any object not otherwise permitted to be carried in an aircraft cabin because of a law or regulation of the United States; and “(G) the passenger wishing to carry the instrument in the aircraft cabin has purchased an additional seat to accommodate the instrument.

“(3) LARGE INSTRUMENTS AS CHECKED BAGGAGE.—An air carrier shall transport as baggage, without charge, a musical instrument that is the property of a passenger traveling in air transportation that may not be carried in the aircraft cabin if—

“(A) the sum of the length, width, and height measured in inches of the outside linear dimensions of the instrument (including the case) does not exceed 150 inches; and

“(B) the weight of the instrument does not exceed 165 pounds.

“(b) REGULATIONS.—The Secretary may prescribe such regulations as may be necessary or appropriate to implement subsection (a).”

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—The table of contents for chapter 417 is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 41723 the following:

“41724. Musical instruments”.

(c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall take effect 30 days after the date of enactment of this Act.

SEC. 714. RECYCLING PLANS FOR AIRPORTS.

(a) AIRPORT PLANNING.—Section 47102(5) is amended by striking “planning.” and inserting “planning and a plan for recycling and minimizing the generation of airport solid waste, consistent with applicable State and local recycling laws, including the cost of a waste audit.”

(b) MASTER PLAN.—Section 47106(a) is amended—

(1) by striking “and” in paragraph (4);

(2) by striking “proposed.” in paragraph (5) and inserting “proposed; and”; and

(3) by adding at the end the following:

“(6) if the project is for an airport that has an airport master plan, the master plan addresses—

“(A) the feasibility of solid waste recycling at the airport;

“(B) minimizing the generation of solid waste at the airport;

“(C) operation and maintenance requirements;

“(D) the review of waste management contracts;

“(E) the potential for cost savings or the generation of revenue; and

“(F) training and education requirements.”

SEC. 715. DISADVANTAGED BUSINESS ENTERPRISE PROGRAM ADJUSTMENTS.

(a) PURPOSE.—It is the purpose of the airport disadvantaged business enterprise program (49 U.S.C. 47107(e) and 47113) to ensure that minority- and women-owned businesses do not face barriers because of their race or gender and so that they have a fair opportunity to compete in Federally assisted airport contracts and concessions.

(b) FINDINGS.—The Congress finds the following:

(1) While significant progress has occurred due to the enactment of the airport disadvantaged business enterprise program (49 U.S.C. 47107(e) and 47113), discrimination continues to be a barrier for minority- and women-owned businesses seeking to do business in airport-related markets. This continuing barrier merits the continuation of the airport disadvantaged business enterprise program.

(2) The Congress has received recent evidence of discrimination from numerous sources, including congressional hearings and roundtables, scientific reports, reports issued by public and private agencies, news stories, reports of discrimination by organizations and individuals, and discrimination lawsuits. This evidence also shows that race- and gender-neutral efforts alone are insufficient to address the problem.

(3) This evidence demonstrates that discrimination across the nation poses a barrier to full and fair participation in airport related businesses of women business owners and minority business owners in the racial groups detailed in parts 23 and 26 of title 49, Code of Federal Regulations, and has impacted firm development and many aspects of airport related business in the public and private markets.

(4) This evidence provides a strong basis for the continuation of the airport disadvantaged business enterprise program and the airport concessions disadvantaged business enterprise program.

(c) IN GENERAL.—Section 47107(e) is amended—

(1) by redesignating paragraph (8) as paragraph (9); and

(2) by inserting after paragraph (7) the following:

“(8) MANDATORY TRAINING PROGRAM FOR AIRPORT CONCESSIONS.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—Not later than one year after the date of enactment of the FAA Air Transportation Modernization and Safety Improvement Act, the Secretary shall establish a mandatory training program for persons described in subparagraph (C) on the certification of whether a small business concern in airport concessions qualifies as a small business concern owned and controlled by a socially and economically disadvantaged individual for purposes of paragraph (1).

“(B) IMPLEMENTATION.—The training program may be implemented by one or more private entities approved by the Secretary.

“(C) PARTICIPANTS.—A person referred to in paragraph (1) is an official or agent of an airport owner or operator who is required to provide a written assurance under paragraph (1) that the airport owner or operator will meet the percentage goal of paragraph (1) or who is responsible for determining whether or not a small business concern in airport concessions qualifies as a small business concern owned and controlled by a socially and economically disadvantaged individual for purposes of paragraph (1).

“(D) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There are authorized to be appropriated to the Secretary such sums as may be necessary to carry out this paragraph.”.

(d) REPORT.—Not later than 24 months after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall submit a report to the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation, the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure, and other appropriate committees of Congress on the results of the training program conducted under section 47107(e)(8) of title 49, United States Code, as added by subsection (a).

(e) DISADVANTAGED BUSINESS ENTERPRISE PERSONAL NET WORTH CAP; BONDING REQUIREMENTS.—Section 47113 is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(e) PERSONAL NET WORTH CAP.—Not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of the FAA Air Transportation Modernization and Safety Improvement Act, the Secretary shall issue final regulations to adjust the personal net worth cap used in determining whether an individual is economically disadvantaged for purposes of qualifying under the definition contained in subsection (a)(2) and under section 47107(e). The regulations shall correct for the impact of inflation since the Small Business Administration established the personal net worth cap at $750,000 in 1989.

“(f) EXCLUSION OF RETIREMENT BENEFITS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—In calculating a business owner's personal net worth, any funds held in a qualified retirement account owned by the business owner shall be excluded, subject to regulations to be issued by the Secretary.

“(2) REGULATIONS.—Not later than one year after the date of enactment of the FAA Air Transportation Modernization and Safety Improvement Act, the Secretary shall issue final regulations to implement paragraph (1), including consideration of appropriate safeguards, such as a limit on the amount of such accounts, to prevent circumvention of personal net worth requirements.

“(g) PROHIBITION ON EXCESSIVE OR DISCRIMINATORY BONDING REQUIREMENTS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall establish a program to eliminate barriers to small business participation in airport-related contracts and concessions by prohibiting excessive, unreasonable, or discriminatory bonding requirements for any project funded under this chapter or using passenger facility revenues under section 40117.

“(2) REGULATIONS.—Not later than one year after the date of enactment of the FAA Air Transportation Modernization and Safety Improvement Act, the Secretary shall issue a final rule to establish the program under paragraph (1).”.

SEC. 716. FRONT LINE MANAGER STAFFING.

(a) STUDY.—Not later than 45 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall initiate a study on front line manager staffing requirements in air traffic control facilities.

(b) CONSIDERATIONS.—In conducting the study, the Administrator may take into consideration—

- (1) the number of supervisory positions of operation requiring watch coverage in each air traffic control facility;
- (2) coverage requirements in relation to traffic demand;
- (3) facility type;
- (4) complexity of traffic and managerial responsibilities;
- (5) proficiency and training requirements; and
- (6) such other factors as the Administrator considers appropriate.

(c) DETERMINATIONS.—The Administrator shall transmit any determinations made as a result of the study to the Chief Operating Officer for the air traffic control system.

(d) REPORT.—Not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall submit to the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation and the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure a report on the results of the study and a description of any determinations submitted to the Chief Operating Officer under subsection (c).

SEC. 717. STUDY OF HELICOPTER AND FIXED WING AIR AMBULANCE SERVICES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Comptroller General shall conduct a study of the helicopter and fixed-wing air ambulance industry. The study shall include information, analysis, and recommendations pertinent to ensuring a safe air ambulance industry.

(b) REQUIRED INFORMATION.—In conducting the study, the Comptroller General shall obtain detailed information on the following aspects of the air ambulance industry:

(1) A review of the industry, for part 135 certificate holders and indirect carriers providing helicopter and fixed-wing air ambulance services, including—

(A) a listing of the number, size, and location of helicopter and fixed-wing aircraft and their flight bases;

(B) affiliations of certificate holders and indirect carriers with hospitals, governments, and other entities;

(C) coordination of air ambulance services, with each other, State and local emergency medical services systems, referring entities, and receiving hospitals;

(D) nature of services contracts, sources of payment, financial relationships between certificate holders and indirect carriers providing air ambulance services and referring entities, and costs of operations; and

(E) a survey of business models for air ambulance operations, including expenses, structure, and sources of income.

(2) Air ambulance request and dispatch practices, including the various types of protocols, models, training, certifications, and air medical communications centers relating to part 135 certificate holders and indirect carriers providing helicopter and fixed-wing air ambulance services, including—

(A) the practices that emergency and medical officials use to request an air ambulance;

(B) information on whether economic or other nonmedical factors lead to air ambulance transport when it is not medically needed, appropriate, or safe; and

(C) the cause, occurrence, and extent of delays in air ambulance transport.

(3) Economic and medical issues relating to the air ambulance industry, including—

- (A) licensing;
- (B) certificates of need;
- (C) public convenience and necessity requirements;

(D) assignment of geographic coverage areas;

(E) accreditation requirements;

(F) compliance with dispatch procedures; and

(G) requirements for medical equipment and personnel onboard the aircraft.

(4) Such other matters as the Comptroller General considers relevant to the purpose of the study.

(c) ANALYSIS AND RECOMMENDATIONS.—Based on information obtained under subsection (b) and other information the Comptroller General considers appropriate, the report shall also include an analysis and specific recommendations, as appropriate, related to—

(1) the relationship between State regulation and Federal preemption of rates, routes, and services of air ambulances;

(2) the extent to which Federal law may impact existing State regulation of air ambulances and the potential effect of greater State regulation—

(A) in the air ambulance industry, on the economic viability of air ambulance services, the availability and coordination of service, and costs of operations both in rural and highly populated areas;

(B) on the quality of patient care and outcomes; and

(C) on competition and safety; and

(3) whether systemic or other problems exist on a statewide, regional, or national basis with the current system governing air ambulances.

(d) REPORT.—Not later than June 1, 2010, the Comptroller General shall submit a report to the Secretary of Transportation, the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation, and the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure containing the Government Accountability Office's findings and recommendations regarding the study under this section.

(e) ADOPTION OF RECOMMENDED POLICY CHANGES.—Not later than 60 days after the date of receipt of the report under subsection (d), the Secretary shall issue a report to the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation, and the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure that—

(1) specifies which, if any, policy changes recommended by the Comptroller General and any other policy changes with respect to air ambulances the Secretary will adopt and implement; and

(2) includes recommendations for legislative change, if appropriate

(f) PART 135 CERTIFICATE HOLDER DEFINED.—In this section, the term “part 135 certificate holder” means a person holding a certificate issued under part 135 of title 14, Code of Federal Regulations.

SEC. 718. REPEAL OF CERTAIN LIMITATIONS ON METROPOLITAN WASHINGTON AIRPORTS AUTHORITY.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 49108 is repealed.

(b) CONFORMING REPEAL.—The table of sections for chapter 491 is amended by striking the item relating to section 49108.

SEC. 719. STUDY OF AERONAUTICAL MOBILE TELEMETRY.

Not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration, in consultation with other Federal agencies, shall submit a report to the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation, the House of Representatives Committee on Science and Technology, and the House of Representatives Committee on Energy and Commerce that identifies—

(1) the current and anticipated need over the next decade by civil aviation, including equipment manufacturers, for aeronautical mobile telemetry services; and

(2) the potential impact to the aerospace industry of the introduction of a new radio service operating in the same spectrum allocated to the aeronautical mobile telemetry service.

SEC. 720. FLIGHTCREW MEMBER PAIRING AND CREW RESOURCE MANAGEMENT TECHNIQUES.

(a) STUDY.—The Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall conduct a study on aviation industry best practices with regard to flightcrew member pairing, crew resource management techniques, and pilot commuting.

(b) REPORT.—Not later than one year after the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator shall submit a report to the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure and the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation on the results of the study.

SEC. 721. CONSOLIDATION OR ELIMINATION OF OBSOLETE, REDUNDANT, OR OTHERWISE UNNECESSARY REPORTS; USE OF ELECTRONIC MEDIA FORMAT.

(a) CONSOLIDATION OR ELIMINATION OF REPORTS.—No later than 2 years after the date of enactment of this Act, and every 2 years thereafter, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall submit a report to the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation and the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure containing—

(1) a list of obsolete, redundant, or otherwise unnecessary reports the Administration is required by law to submit to the Congress or publish that the Administrator recommends eliminating or consolidating with other reports; and

(2) an estimate of the cost savings that would result from the elimination or consolidation of those reports.

(b) USE OF ELECTRONIC MEDIA FOR REPORTS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Federal Aviation Administration—

(A) may not publish any report required or authorized by law in printed format; and

(B) shall publish any such report by posting it on the Administration's website in an easily accessible and downloadable electronic format.

(2) EXCEPTION.—Paragraph (1) does not apply to any report with respect to which the Administrator determines that—

(A) its publication in printed format is essential to the mission of the Federal Aviation Administration; or

(B) its publication in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (1) would disclose matter—

(i) described in section 552(b) of title 5, United States Code; or

(ii) the disclosure of which would have an adverse impact on aviation safety or security, as determined by the Administrator.

SEC. 722. LINE CHECK EVALUATIONS.

Section 44729(h) is amended—

(1) by striking paragraph (2); and

(2) by redesignating paragraph (3) as paragraph (2).

SEC. 723. REPORT ON NEWARK LIBERTY AIRPORT AIR TRAFFIC CONTROL TOWER.

Not later than 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall report to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation of the Senate, and the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure of the House of Representatives, on the Federal Aviation Administration's plan to staff the Newark Liberty Airport air traffic control tower at negotiated staffing levels within 1 year after such date of enactment.

SEC. 724. PRIORITY REVIEW OF CONSTRUCTION PROJECTS IN COLD WEATHER STATES.

The Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall, to the maximum extent practicable, schedule the Administrator's review of construction projects so that projects to be carried out in States in which the weather during a typical calendar year prevents major construction projects from being carried out before May 1 are reviewed as early as possible.

SEC. 725. AIR-RAIL CODESHARE STUDY.

(a) CODESHARE STUDY.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the GAO shall conduct a study of—

(1) the current airline and intercity passenger rail codeshare arrangements;

(2) the feasibility and costs to taxpayers and passengers of increasing intermodal connectivity of airline and intercity passenger rail facilities and systems to improve passenger travel.

(b) CONSIDERATIONS.—The study shall consider—

(1) the potential benefits to passengers and costs to taxpayers from the implementation of more integrated scheduling between airlines and Amtrak or other intercity passenger rail carriers achieved through codesharing arrangements;

(2) airport operations that can improve connectivity to intercity passenger rail facilities and stations.

(c) REPORT.—Not later than 1 year after commencing the study required by subsection (a), the Comptroller shall submit the report to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation of the Senate and the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure of the House of Representatives. The report shall include any conclusions of the Comptroller resulting from the study.

SEC. 726. ON-GOING MONITORING OF AND REPORT ON THE NEW YORK/NEW JERSEY/PHILADELPHIA METROPOLITAN AREA AIRSPACE REDESIGN.

Not later than 270 days after the date of the enactment of this Act and every 180 days thereafter until the completion of the New York/New Jersey/Philadelphia Metropolitan Area Airspace Redesign, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall, in conjunction with the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey and the Philadelphia International Airport—

(1) monitor the air noise impacts of the New York/New Jersey/Philadelphia Metropolitan Area Airspace Redesign; and

(2) submit to Congress a report on the findings of the Administrator with respect to the monitoring described in paragraph (1).

SEC. 727. STUDY ON AVIATION FUEL PRICES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Comptroller General of the United States shall conduct a study and report to Congress on the impact of increases in aviation fuel prices on the Airport and Airway Trust Fund and the aviation industry in general. The study shall include the impact of increases in aviation fuel prices on—

(1) general aviation;

(2) commercial passenger aviation;

(3) piston aircraft purchase and use;

(4) the aviation services industry, including repair and maintenance services;

(5) aviation manufacturing;

(6) aviation exports; and

(7) the use of small airport installations.

(b) ASSUMPTIONS ABOUT AVIATION FUEL PRICES.—In conducting the study required by subsection (a), the Comptroller General shall use the average aviation fuel price for fiscal year 2010 as a baseline and measure the impact of increases in aviation fuel prices that range from 5 percent to 200 percent over the 2010 baseline.

SEC. 728. LAND CONVEYANCE FOR SOUTHERN NEVADA SUPPLEMENTAL AIRPORT.

(a) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) COUNTY.—The term "County" means Clark County, Nevada.

(2) PUBLIC LAND.—The term "public land" means the land located at—

(A) sec. 23 and sec. 26, T. 26 S., R. 59 E., Mount Diablo Meridian;

(B) the NE  $\frac{1}{4}$  and the N  $\frac{1}{2}$  of the SE  $\frac{1}{4}$  of sec. 6, T. 25 S., R. 59 E., Mount Diablo Meridian, together with the SE  $\frac{1}{4}$  of sec. 31, T. 24 S., R. 59 E., Mount Diablo Meridian; and

(C) sec. 8, T. 26 S., R. 60 E., Mount Diablo Meridian.

(3) SECRETARY.—The term "Secretary" means the Secretary of the Interior.

(b) LAND CONVEYANCE.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—As soon as practicable after the date described in paragraph (2), subject to valid existing rights, and notwithstanding the land use planning requirements of sections 202 and 203 of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 (43 U.S.C. 1712, 1713), the Secretary shall convey to the County, without consideration, all right, title, and interest of the United States in and to the public land.

(2) DATE ON WHICH CONVEYANCE MAY BE MADE.—The Secretary shall not make the conveyance described in paragraph (1) until the later of the date on which the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration has—

(A) approved an airport layout plan for an airport to be located in the Ivanpah Valley; and

(B) with respect to the construction and operation of an airport on the site conveyed to the County pursuant to section 2(a) of the Ivanpah Valley Airport Public Lands Transfer Act (Public Law 106-362; 114 Stat. 1404), issued a record of decision after the preparation of an environmental impact statement or similar analysis required under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.).

(3) WITHDRAWAL.—Subject to valid existing rights, the public land to be conveyed under paragraph (1) is withdrawn from—

(A) location, entry, and patent under the mining laws; and

(B) operation of the mineral leasing and geothermal leasing laws.

(4) USE.—The public land conveyed under paragraph (1) shall be used for the development of flood mitigation infrastructure for the Southern Nevada Supplemental Airport.

SEC. 729. CLARIFICATION OF REQUIREMENTS FOR VOLUNTEER PILOTS OPERATING CHARITABLE MEDICAL FLIGHTS.

In administering part 61.113(c) of title 14, Code of Federal Regulations, the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration shall allow an aircraft owner or aircraft operator who has volunteered to provide transportation for an individual or individuals for medical purposes to accept reimbursement to cover all or part of the fuel costs associated with the operation from a volunteer pilot organization.

SEC. 730. CYLINDERS OF COMPRESSED OXYGEN, NITROUS OXIDE, OR OTHER OXIDIZING GASES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The transportation within Alaska of cylinders of compressed oxygen, nitrous oxide, or other oxidizing gases aboard aircraft shall be exempt from compliance with the requirements, under sections 173.302(f)(3) and (f)(4) and 173.304(f)(3) and (f)(4) of the Pipeline and Hazardous Material Safety Administration's regulations (49 C.F.R. 173.302(f)(3) and (f)(4) and 173.304(f)(3) and (f)(4)), that oxidizing gases transported aboard aircraft be enclosed in outer packaging capable of passing the flame penetration and resistance test and the thermal resistance test, without regard to the end use of the cylinders, if—

(1) there is no other practical means of transportation for transporting the cylinders to their destination and transportation by ground or vessel is unavailable; and

(2) the transportation meets the requirements of subsection (b).

(b) EXEMPTION REQUIREMENTS.—Subsection (a) shall not apply to the transportation of cylinders of compressed oxygen, nitrous oxide, or other oxidizing gases aboard aircraft unless the following requirements are met:

(1) PACKAGING.—

(A) SMALLER CYLINDERS.—Each cylinder with a capacity of not more than 116 cubic feet shall be—

(i) fully covered with a fire or flame resistant blanket that is secured in place; and

(ii) placed in a rigid outer packaging or an ATA 300 Category 1 shipping container.

(B) LARGER CYLINDERS.—Each cylinder with a capacity of more than 116 cubic feet but not more than 281 cubic feet shall be—

(i) secured within a frame;

(ii) fully covered with a fire or flame resistant blanket that is secured in place; and

(iii) fitted with a securely attached metal cap of sufficient strength to protect the valve from damage during transportation.

(2) OPERATIONAL CONTROLS.—

(A) STORAGE; ACCESS TO FIRE EXTINGUISHERS.—Unless the cylinders are stored in a Class C cargo compartment or its equivalent on the aircraft, crew members shall have access to the cylinders and at least 2 fire extinguishers shall be readily available for use by the crew members.

(B) SHIPMENT WITH OTHER HAZARDOUS MATERIALS.—The cylinders may not be transported in the same aircraft with other hazardous materials other than Division 2.2 materials with no subsidiary risk, Class 9 materials, and ORM-D materials.

(3) AIRCRAFT REQUIREMENTS.—

(A) AIRCRAFT TYPE.—The transportation shall be provided only aboard a passenger-carrying aircraft or a cargo aircraft.

(B) PASSENGER-CARRYING AIRCRAFT.—

(i) SMALLER CYLINDERS ONLY.—A cylinder with a capacity of more than 116 cubic feet may not be transported aboard a passenger-carrying aircraft.

(ii) MAXIMUM NUMBER.—Unless transported in a Class C cargo compartment or its equivalent, no more than 6 cylinders in each cargo compartment may be transported aboard a passenger-carrying aircraft.

(C) CARGO AIRCRAFT.—A cylinder may not be transported aboard a cargo aircraft unless it is transported in a Class B cargo compartment or a Class C cargo compartment or its equivalent.

(c) DEFINITIONS.—Terms used in this section shall have the meaning given those terms in parts 106, 107, and 171 through 180 of the Pipeline and Hazardous Material Safety Administration's regulations (49 C.F.R. parts 106, 107, and 171–180).

SEC. 731. TECHNICAL CORRECTION.

Section 159(b)(2)(C) of title I of division A of the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2010, is amended by striking clauses (i) and (ii) and inserting the following:

“(i) requiring inspections of any container containing a firearm or ammunition; and

“(ii) the temporary suspension of firearm carriage service if credible intelligence information indicates a threat related to the national rail system or specific routes or trains.”

SEC. 732. PLAN FOR FLYING SCIENTIFIC INSTRUMENTS ON COMMERCIAL FLIGHTS.

(a) PLAN DEVELOPMENT.—Not later than 270 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Transportation and the Secretary of Commerce, in consultation with interested representatives of the aviation industry and other relevant agencies, shall develop a plan and process to allow Federal agencies to fly scientific instruments on commercial flights with airlines who volunteer, for the purpose of taking measurements to improve weather forecasting.

TITLE VIII—AIRPORT AND AIRWAY TRUST FUND PROVISIONS AND RELATED TAXES

SEC. 800. AMENDMENT OF 1986 CODE.

Except as otherwise expressly provided, whenever in this title an amendment or repeal is expressed in terms of an amendment to, or repeal of, a section or other provision, the reference shall be considered to be made to a section or other provision of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

SEC. 801. EXTENSION OF TAXES FUNDING AIRPORT AND AIRWAY TRUST FUND.

(a) FUEL TAXES.—Subparagraph (B) of section 4081(d)(2) is amended by striking “March 31, 2010” and inserting “September 30, 2013”.

(1) PERSONS.—Clause (ii) of section 4261(j)(1)(A) is amended by striking “March 31, 2010” and inserting “September 30, 2013”.

(2) PROPERTY.—Clause (ii) of section 4271(d)(1)(A) is amended by striking “March 31, 2010” and inserting “September 30, 2013”.

(c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall take effect on April 1, 2010.

SEC. 802. EXTENSION OF AIRPORT AND AIRWAY TRUST FUND EXPENDITURE AUTHORITY.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Paragraph (1) of section 9502(d) is amended—

(1) by striking “April 1, 2010” in the matter preceding subparagraph (A) and inserting “October 1, 2013”, and

(2) by striking the semicolon at the end of subparagraph (A) and inserting “or the FAA Air Transportation Modernization and Safety Improvement Act.”

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—Paragraph (2) of section 9502(e) is amended by striking “April 1, 2010” and inserting “October 1, 2013”.

(c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall take effect on April 1, 2010.

SEC. 803. MODIFICATION OF EXCISE TAX ON KEROSENE USED IN AVIATION.

(a) RATE OF TAX ON AVIATION-GRADE KEROSENE.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Subparagraph (A) of section 4081(a)(2) (relating to rates of tax) is amended by striking “and” at the end of clause (ii), by striking the period at the end of clause (iii) and inserting “, and”, and by adding at the end the following new clause:

“(iv) in the case of aviation-grade kerosene, 35.9 cents per gallon.”

(2) FUEL REMOVED DIRECTLY INTO FUEL TANK OF AIRPLANE USED IN NONCOMMERCIAL AVIATION.—Subparagraph (C) of section 4081(a)(2) is amended to read as follows:

“(C) TAXES IMPOSED ON FUEL USED IN COMMERCIAL AVIATION.—In the case of aviation-grade kerosene which is removed from any refinery or terminal directly into the fuel tank of an aircraft for use in commercial aviation by a person registered for such use under section 4101, the rate of tax under subparagraph (A)(iv) shall be 4.3 cents per gallon.”

(3) EXEMPTION FOR AVIATION-GRADE KEROSENE REMOVED INTO AN AIRCRAFT.—Subsection (e) of section 4082 is amended—

(A) by striking “kerosene” and inserting “aviation-grade kerosene”,

(B) by striking “section 4081(a)(2)(A)(iii)” and inserting “section 4081(a)(2)(A)(iv)”, and

(C) by striking “KEROSENE” in the heading and inserting “AVIATION-GRADE KEROSENE”.

(4) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—

(A) Clause (iii) of section 4081(a)(2)(A) is amended by inserting “other than aviation-grade kerosene” after “kerosene”.

(B) The following provisions are each amended by striking “kerosene” and inserting “aviation-grade kerosene”:

(i) Section 4081(a)(3)(A)(ii).

(ii) Section 4081(a)(3)(A)(iv).

(iii) Section 4081(a)(3)(D).

(C) Section 4081(a)(3)(D) is amended—

(i) by striking “paragraph (2)(C)(i)” in clause (i) and inserting “paragraph (2)(C)”, and

(i) in the heading by striking “KEROSENE” and inserting “AVIATION-GRADE KEROSENE”, and

(ii) by striking “paragraph (2)(C)(i)” and inserting “paragraph (2)(C)”.

(E) Section 4081(d)(2) is amended by striking “(a)(2)(C)(ii)” and inserting “(a)(2)(A)(iv)”.

(b) RETAIL TAX ON AVIATION FUEL.—

(1) EXEMPTION FOR PREVIOUSLY TAXED FUEL.—Paragraph (2) of section 4041(c) is amended by inserting “at the rate specified in subsection (a)(2)(A)(iv) thereof” after “section 4081”.

(2) RATE OF TAX.—Paragraph (3) of section 4041(c) is amended to read as follows:

“(3) RATE OF TAX.—The rate of tax imposed by this subsection shall be the rate of tax in effect under section 4081(a)(2)(A)(iv) (4.3 cents per gallon with respect to any sale or use for commercial aviation).”

(c) REFUNDS RELATING TO AVIATION-GRADE KEROSENE.—

(1) KEROSENE USED IN COMMERCIAL AVIATION.—Clause (ii) of section 6427(l)(4)(A) is amended by striking “specified in section 4041(c) or 4081(a)(2)(A)(iii), as the case may be,” and inserting “so imposed”.

(2) KEROSENE USED IN AVIATION.—Paragraph (4) of section 6427(l) is amended—

(A) by striking subparagraph (B) and redesignating subparagraph (C) as subparagraph (B), and

(B) by amending subparagraph (B), as redesignated by subparagraph (A), to read as follows:

“(B) PAYMENTS TO ULTIMATE, REGISTERED VENDOR.—With respect to any kerosene used in aviation (other than kerosene to which paragraph (6) applies), if the ultimate purchaser of such kerosene waives (at such time and in such form and manner as the Secretary shall prescribe) the right to payment under paragraph (1) and assigns such right to the ultimate vendor, then the Secretary shall pay (without interest) the amount which would be paid under paragraph (1) to such ultimate vendor, but only if such ultimate vendor—

“(i) is registered under section 4101, and

“(ii) meets the requirements of subparagraph (A), (B), or (D) of section 6416(a)(1).”

(3) AVIATION-GRADE KEROSENE NOT USED IN AVIATION.—Subsection (l) of section 6427 is amended by redesignating paragraph (5) as paragraph (6) and by inserting after paragraph (4) the following new paragraph:

“(5) REFUNDS FOR AVIATION-GRADE KEROSENE NOT USED IN AVIATION.—If tax has been imposed under section 4081 at the rate specified in section 4081(a)(2)(A)(iv) and the fuel is used other than in an aircraft, the Secretary shall pay (without interest) to the ultimate purchaser of such fuel an amount equal to the amount of tax imposed on such fuel reduced by the amount of tax that would be imposed under section 4041 if no tax under section 4081 had been imposed.”

(4) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—

(A) Section 4082(d)(2)(B) is amended by striking “6427(l)(5)(B)” and inserting “6427(l)(6)(B)”.

(B) Section 6427(i)(4) is amended—

(i) by striking “(4)(C)” the first two places it occurs and inserting “(4)(B)”, and

(ii) by striking “, (l)(4)(C)(ii), and” and inserting “and”.

(C) The heading of section 6427(l) is amended by striking “DIESEL FUEL AND KEROSENE” and inserting “DIESEL FUEL, KEROSENE, AND AVIATION FUEL”.

(D) Section 6427(l)(1) is amended by striking “paragraph (4)(C)(i)” and inserting “paragraph (4)(B)”.

(E) Section 6427(l)(4) is amended—

(i) by striking “KEROSENE USED IN AVIATION” in the heading and inserting “AVIATION-GRADE KEROSENE USED IN COMMERCIAL AVIATION”, and

(ii) in subparagraph (A)—

(I) by striking “kerosene” and inserting “aviation-grade kerosene”,

(II) by striking “KEROSENE USED IN COMMERCIAL AVIATION” in the heading and inserting “IN GENERAL”.

(d) TRANSFERS TO THE AIRPORT AND AIRWAY TRUST FUND.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Subparagraph (C) of section 9502(b)(1) is amended to read as follows:

“(C) section 4081 with respect to aviation gasoline and aviation-grade kerosene, and”.

(2) TRANSFERS ON ACCOUNT OF CERTAIN REFUNDS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Subsection (d) of section 9502 is amended—

(i) in paragraph (2) by striking “(other than subsection (l)(4) thereof)”, and

(ii) in paragraph (3) by striking “(other than payments made by reason of paragraph (4) of section 6427(l))”.

(B) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—

(i) Section 9503(b)(4) is amended by striking “or” at the end of subparagraph (C), by striking the period at the end of subparagraph (D) and inserting a comma, and by inserting after subparagraph (D) the following:

“(E) section 4081 to the extent attributable to the rate specified in clause (ii) or (iv) of section 4081(a)(2)(A), or

“(F) section 4041(c).”

(ii) Section 9503(c) is amended by striking paragraph (6).

(iii) Section 9502(a) is amended—

(I) by striking “appropriated, credited, or paid into” and inserting “appropriated or credited to”, and

(II) by striking “, section 9503(c)(7).”.

(e) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall apply to fuels removed, entered, or sold after June 30, 2010.

(f) FLOOR STOCKS TAX.—

(1) IMPOSITION OF TAX.—In the case of aviation fuel which is held on July 1, 2010, by any person, there is hereby imposed a floor stocks tax on aviation fuel equal to—

(A) the tax which would have been imposed before such date on such fuel had the amendments made by this section been in effect at all times before such date, reduced by

(B) the sum of—

(i) the tax imposed before such date on such fuel under section 4081 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on such date, and

(ii) in the case of kerosene held exclusively for such person's own use, the amount which such person would (but for this clause) reasonably expect (as of such date) to be paid as a refund under section 6427(l) of such Code with respect to such kerosene.

(2) LIABILITY FOR TAX AND METHOD OF PAYMENT.—

(A) LIABILITY FOR TAX.—A person holding aviation fuel on July 1, 2010, shall be liable for such tax.

(B) TIME AND METHOD OF PAYMENT.—The tax imposed by paragraph (1) shall be paid at such time and in such manner as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe.

(3) TRANSFER OF FLOOR STOCK TAX REVENUES TO TRUST FUNDS.—For purposes of determining the amount transferred to the Airport and Airway Trust Fund, the tax imposed by this subsection shall be treated as imposed by section 4081(a)(2)(A)(iv) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

(4) DEFINITIONS.—For purposes of this subsection—

(A) AVIATION FUEL.—The term “aviation fuel” means aviation-grade kerosene and aviation gasoline, as such terms are used within the meaning of section 4081 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

(B) HELD BY A PERSON.—Aviation fuel shall be considered as held by a person if title thereto has passed to such person (whether or not delivery to the person has been made).

(C) SECRETARY.—The term “Secretary” means the Secretary of the Treasury or the Secretary's delegate.

(5) EXCEPTION FOR EXEMPT USES.—The tax imposed by paragraph (1) shall not apply to any aviation fuel held by any person exclusively for any use to the extent a credit or refund of the tax is allowable under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 for such use.

(6) EXCEPTION FOR CERTAIN AMOUNTS OF FUEL.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—No tax shall be imposed by paragraph (1) on any aviation fuel held on July 1, 2010, by any person if the aggregate amount of such aviation fuel held by such person on such date does not exceed 2,000 gallons. The preceding sentence shall apply only if such person submits to the Secretary (at the time and in the manner required by the Secretary) such information as the Secretary shall require for purposes of this subparagraph.

(B) EXEMPT FUEL.—For purposes of subparagraph (A), there shall not be taken into account any aviation fuel held by any person which is exempt from the tax imposed by paragraph (1) by reason of paragraph (5).

(C) CONTROLLED GROUPS.—For purposes of this subsection—

(i) CORPORATIONS.—

(I) IN GENERAL.—All persons treated as a controlled group shall be treated as 1 person.

(II) CONTROLLED GROUP.—The term “controlled group” has the meaning given to such term by subsection (a) of section 1563 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986; except that for such purposes the phrase “more than 50 percent” shall be substituted for the phrase “at least 80 percent” each place it appears in such subsection.

(ii) NONINCORPORATED PERSONS UNDER COMMON CONTROL.—Under regulations prescribed by the Secretary, principles similar to the principles of subparagraph (A) shall apply to a group of persons under common control if 1 or more of such persons is not a corporation.

(7) OTHER LAWS APPLICABLE.—All provisions of law, including penalties, applicable with respect to the taxes imposed by section 4081 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 on the aviation fuel involved shall, insofar as applicable and not inconsistent with the provisions of this subsection, apply with respect to the floor stock taxes imposed by paragraph (1) to the same extent as if such taxes were imposed by such section.

SEC. 804. AIR TRAFFIC CONTROL SYSTEM MODERNIZATION ACCOUNT.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 9502 (relating to the Airport and Airway Trust Fund) is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

“(f) ESTABLISHMENT OF AIR TRAFFIC CONTROL SYSTEM MODERNIZATION ACCOUNT.—

“(1) CREATION OF ACCOUNT.—There is established in the Airport and Airway Trust Fund a separate account to be known as the ‘Air Traffic Control System Modernization Account’ consisting of such amounts as may be transferred or credited to the Air Traffic Control System Modernization Account as provided in this subsection or section 9602(b).

“(2) TRANSFERS TO AIR TRAFFIC CONTROL SYSTEM MODERNIZATION ACCOUNT.—On October 1, 2010, and annually thereafter the Secretary shall transfer $400,000,000 to the Air Traffic Control System Modernization Account from amounts appropriated to the Airport and Airway Trust Fund under subsection (b) which are attributable to taxes on aviation-grade kerosene.

“(3) EXPENDITURES FROM ACCOUNT.—Amounts in the Air Traffic Control System Modernization Account shall be available subject to appropriation for expenditures relating to the modernization of the air traffic control system (including facility and equipment account expenditures).”

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—Section 9502(d)(1) is amended by striking “Amounts” and inserting “Except as provided in subsection (f), amounts”.

(c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall take effect on the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 805. TREATMENT OF FRACTIONAL AIRCRAFT OWNERSHIP PROGRAMS.

(a) FUEL SURTAX.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Subchapter B of chapter 31 is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

“SEC. 4043. SURTAX ON FUEL USED IN AIRCRAFT PART OF A FRACTIONAL OWNERSHIP PROGRAM.

“(a) IN GENERAL.—There is hereby imposed a tax on any liquid used during any calendar quarter by any person as a fuel in an aircraft which is—

“(1) registered in the United States, and

“(2) part of a fractional ownership aircraft program.

“(b) AMOUNT OF TAX.—The rate of tax imposed by subsection (a) is 14.1 cents per gallon.

“(c) FRACTIONAL OWNERSHIP AIRCRAFT PROGRAM.—For purposes of this section—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The term ‘fractional ownership aircraft program’ means a program under which—

“(A) a single fractional ownership program manager provides fractional ownership program management services on behalf of the fractional owners,

“(B) 2 or more airworthy aircraft are part of the program,

“(C) there are 1 or more fractional owners per program aircraft, with at least 1 program aircraft having more than 1 owner,

“(D) each fractional owner possesses at least a minimum fractional ownership interest in 1 or more program aircraft,

“(E) there exists a dry-lease exchange arrangement among all of the fractional owners, and “(F) there are multi-year program agreements covering the fractional ownership, fractional ownership program management services, and dry-lease aircraft exchange aspects of the program.

“(2) MINIMUM FRACTIONAL OWNERSHIP INTEREST.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—The term ‘minimum fractional ownership interest’ means, with respect to each type of aircraft—

“(i) a fractional ownership interest equal to or greater than  $\frac{1}{16}$  of at least 1 subsonic, fixed wing or powered lift program aircraft, or “(ii) a fractional ownership interest equal to or greater than  $\frac{1}{32}$  of at least 1 rotorcraft program aircraft.

“(B) FRACTIONAL OWNERSHIP INTEREST.—The term ‘fractional ownership interest’ means—

“(i) the ownership of an interest in a program aircraft,

“(ii) the holding of a multi-year leasehold interest in a program aircraft, or

“(iii) the holding of a multi-year leasehold interest which is convertible into an ownership interest in a program aircraft.

“(3) DRY-LEASE EXCHANGE ARRANGEMENT.—A ‘dry-lease aircraft exchange’ means an agreement, documented by the written program agreements, under which the program aircraft are available, on an as needed basis without crew, to each fractional owner.

“(d) TERMINATION.—This section shall not apply to liquids used as a fuel in an aircraft after September 30, 2013.”

(2) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—Section 4082(e) is amended by inserting “(other than an aircraft described in section 4043(a))” after “an aircraft”.

(3) TRANSFER OF REVENUES TO AIRPORT AND AIRWAY TRUST FUND.—Section 9502(b)(1) is amended by redesignating subparagraphs (B) and (C) as subparagraphs (C) and (D), respectively, and by inserting after subparagraph (A) the following new subparagraph:

“(B) section 4043 (relating to surtax on fuel used in aircraft part of a fractional ownership program),”

(4) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of sections for subchapter B of chapter 31 is amended by adding at the end the following new item:

“Sec. 4043. Surtax on fuel used in aircraft part of a fractional ownership program.”

(b) FRACTIONAL OWNERSHIP PROGRAMS TREATED AS NON-COMMERCIAL AVIATION.—Subsection (b) of section 4083 is amended by adding at the end the following new sentence: “For uses of aircraft before October 1, 2013, such term shall not include the use of any aircraft which is part of a fractional ownership aircraft program (as defined by section 4043(c)).”

(c) EXEMPTION FROM TAX ON TRANSPORTATION OF PERSONS.—Section 4261, as amended by this Act, is amended by redesignating subsection (j) as subsection (k) and by inserting after subsection (i) the following new subsection:

“(j) EXEMPTION FOR AIRCRAFT IN FRACTIONAL OWNERSHIP AIRCRAFT PROGRAMS.—No tax shall be imposed by this section or section 4271 on any air transportation provided before October 1, 2013, by an aircraft which is part of a fractional ownership aircraft program (as defined by section 4043(c)).”

(d) EFFECTIVE DATES.—

(1) SUBSECTION (a).—The amendments made by subsection (a) shall apply to fuel used after June 30, 2010.

(2) SUBSECTION (b).—The amendment made by subsection (b) shall apply to uses of aircraft after June 30, 2010.

(3) SUBSECTION (c).—The amendments made by subsection (c) shall apply to taxable transportation provided after June 30, 2010.

SEC. 806. TERMINATION OF EXEMPTION FOR SMALL AIRCRAFT ON NONESTABLISHED LINES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 4281 is amended to read as follows:

“SEC. 4281. SMALL AIRCRAFT OPERATED SOLELY FOR SIGHTSEEING.

“The taxes imposed by sections 4261 and 4271 shall not apply to transportation by an aircraft having a maximum certificated takeoff weight of 6,000 pounds or less at any time during which such aircraft is being operated on a flight the sole purpose of which is sightseeing. For purposes of the preceding sentence, the term ‘maximum certificated takeoff weight’ means the maximum such weight contained in the type certificate or airworthiness certificate.”

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—The item relating to section 4281 in the table of sections for part III of subchapter C of chapter 33 is amended by striking “on nonestablished lines” and inserting “operated solely for sightseeing”.

(c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall apply to taxable transportation provided after June 30, 2010.

SEC. 807. TRANSPARENCY IN PASSENGER TAX DISCLOSURES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 7275 (relating to penalty for offenses relating to certain airline tickets and advertising) is amended—

(1) by redesignating subsection (c) as subsection (d),

(2) by striking “subsection (a) or (b)” in subsection (d), as so redesignated, and inserting “subsection (a), (b), or (c)”, and

(3) by inserting after subsection (b) the following new subsection:

“(c) NON-TAX CHARGES.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—In the case of transportation by air for which disclosure on the ticket or advertising for such transportation of the amounts paid for passenger taxes is required by subsection (a)(2) or (b)(1)(B), it shall be unlawful for the disclosure of the amount of such taxes on such ticket or advertising to include any amounts not attributable to the taxes imposed by subsection (a), (b), or (c) of section 4261.

“(2) INCLUSION IN TRANSPORTATION COST.—Nothing in this subsection shall prohibit the inclusion of amounts not attributable to the taxes imposed by subsection (a), (b), or (c) of section 4261 in the disclosure of the amount paid for transportation as required by subsection (a)(1) or (b)(1)(A), or in a separate disclosure of amounts not attributable to such taxes.”.

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall apply to taxable transportation provided after June 30, 2010.

TITLE IX—BUDGETARY EFFECTS

SEC. 901. BUDGETARY EFFECTS.

The budgetary effects of this Act, for the purpose of complying with the Statutory Pay-As-You-Go Act of 2010, shall be determined by reference to the latest statement titled “Budgetary Effects of PAYGO Legislation” for this Act, submitted for printing in the Congressional Record by the Chairman of the Senate Budget Committee, provided that such statement has been submitted prior to the vote on passage.

TITLE X—RESCISSION OF UNUSED TRANSPORTATION EARMARKS AND GENERAL REPORTING REQUIREMENT

SEC. 1001. DEFINITION.

In this title, the term “earmark” means the following:

(1) A congressionally directed spending item, as defined in Rule XLIV of the Standing Rules of the Senate.

(2) A congressional earmark, as defined for purposes of Rule XXI of the Rules of the House of Representatives.

SEC. 1002. RESCISSION.

Any earmark of funds provided for the Department of Transportation with more than 90 percent of the appropriated amount remaining available for obligation at the end of the 9th fiscal year following the fiscal year in which the earmark was made available is rescinded effective at the end of that 9th fiscal year, except that the Secretary of Transportation may delay any such rescission if the Secretary determines that an additional obligation of the earmark is likely to occur during the following 12-month period.

SEC. 1003. AGENCY WIDE IDENTIFICATION AND REPORTS.

(a) AGENCY IDENTIFICATION.—Each Federal agency shall identify and report every project that is an earmark with an unobligated balance at the end of each fiscal year to the Director of OMB.

(b) ANNUAL REPORT.—The Director of OMB shall submit to Congress and publically post on the website of OMB an annual report that includes—

(1) a listing and accounting for earmarks with unobligated balances summarized by agency including the amount of the original earmark, amount of the unobligated balance, and the year when the funding expires, if applicable;

(2) the number of rescissions resulting from this title and the annual savings resulting from this title for the previous fiscal year; and

(3) a listing and accounting for earmarks provided for the Department of Transportation scheduled to be rescinded at the end of the current fiscal year.

Amend the title so as to read: “An Act to modernize the air traffic control system, improve the safety, reliability, and availability of transportation by air in the United States, provide for modernization of the air traffic control system, reauthorize the Federal Aviation Administration, and for other purposes.”.

SENATE LEGAL COUNSEL AUTHORIZATION

Mr. BROWN of Ohio. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate proceed to the immediate consideration of S. Res. 467 submitted earlier today.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report the resolution by title.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

A resolution (S. Res. 467) to authorize representation by the Senate Legal Counsel in the case of Sollars v. Reid, et al.

There being no objection, the Senate proceeded to consider the resolution.

Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, this resolution concerns a civil action filed against eight Senators for actions taken in their official capacity as legislators in the process of considering health care legislation. This lawsuit is not cognizable before the federal courts. The actions at issue in this case are part of the legislative process and are not subject to review by the courts. This resolution authorizes the Senate Legal Counsel to represent the Senators named as defendants in this case and to move for its dismissal.

Mr. BROWN of Ohio. I ask unanimous consent that the resolution be agreed to, the preamble be agreed to, the motion to reconsider be laid upon the table, with no intervening action or debate, and any statements relating to the resolution be printed in the RECORD.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The resolution (S. Res. 467) was agreed to.

The preamble was agreed to.

The resolution, with its preamble, reads as follows:

S. RES. 467

Whereas, in the case of Sollars v. Reid, et al., Case No. 1:09-CV-361, pending in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Indiana, plaintiff has named as defendants eight Senators; and

Whereas, pursuant to sections 703(a) and 704(a)(1) of the Ethics in Government Act of 1978, 2 U.S.C. §§288b(a) and 288c(a)(1), the Senate may direct its counsel to defend Members of the Senate in civil actions relating to their official responsibilities: Now therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate Legal Counsel is authorized to represent all defendant Senators in the case of Sollars v. Reid, et al.

MEASURE READ THE FIRST TIME—S. 3158

Mr. BROWN of Ohio. Mr. President, I understand there is a bill at the desk, and I ask for its first reading.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will read the bill by title for the first time.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

A bill (S. 3158) to require Congress to lead by example and freeze its own pay and fully offset the cost of the extension of unemployment benefits and other Federal aid.

Mr. BROWN of Ohio. Mr. President, I now ask for a second reading, and in order to place the bill on the calendar under the provisions of rule XIV, I object to my own request.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Objection is heard. The bill will be read for the second time on the next legislative day.

ORDERS FOR WEDNESDAY, MARCH 24, 2010

Mr. BROWN of Ohio. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that when the Senate completes its business today, it adjourn until 9 a.m. on Wednesday, March 24; that following the prayer and pledge, the Journal of proceedings be approved to date, the morning hour be deemed expired, the time for the two leaders be reserved for their use later in the day, and the Senate resume consideration of H.R. 4872.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

PROGRAM

Mr. BROWN of Ohio. Mr. President, tomorrow the Senate will resume consideration of the Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act. Senators should expect a long day, with votes occurring throughout the day.

ADJOURNMENT UNTIL 9 A.M. TOMORROW

Mr. BROWN of Ohio. Mr. President, if there is no further business to come before the Senate, I ask unanimous consent that it adjourn under the previous order.

There being no objection, the Senate, at 10:33 p.m., adjourned until Wednesday, March 24, 2010, at 9 a.m.

EXTENSIONS OF REMARKS

IN HONOR OF THE CHESTER COUNTY COUNCIL'S CELEBRATION OF THE 100TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

HON. JOE SESTAK

OF PENNSYLVANIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mr. SESTAK. Madam Speaker, today I honor the Boy Scouts of America (BSA) on the occasion of the 100th Anniversary of that remarkable organization and celebration of that milestone by one of the BSA's premier institutions, the Chester County Council headquartered in West Chester, Pennsylvania.

As we well know, the BSA is one of the nation's largest and most prominent values-based youth development organizations. The Boy Scouts provide a program for young people that builds character, trains them in the responsibilities of participating citizenship, and develops personal fitness. For a century, the BSA has helped build the future leaders of this country by combining educational activities and lifelong values with fun. The Boy Scouts of America believes—and, through a century of experience, knows—that helping youth is a key to building a more conscientious, responsible, and productive society.

It is the purpose of the Chester County Council to provide the communities of Chester County in Pennsylvania and the northwestern corner of Cecil County in Maryland with the finest of Scouting programs and services. They have done so admirably since 1910 with the fledgling West Chester Troop 1. The following year a more robust Paoli Troop 1 was formed and today it is the oldest continuously documented troop in Chester County.

The Chester County Council is comprised of four exceedingly well run districts: Lenni Lenape serving communities in the West Chester Area and Unionville-Chadds Ford School Districts; Diamond Rock serving the Phoenixville Area, Great Valley, and Tredyfferin-Easttown School Districts; Horseshoe Trail serving the Downingtown Area, Coatesville Area, Owen J. Roberts, and Chester County portions of Twin Valley and Springfield School Districts; and Octoraro serving the Avon Grove, Kennett Consolidated, Octorara, Oxford School Districts and the Cecil County, Maryland communities of Rising Sun and Conowingo. Together these impressive organizations offer 151 sponsored clubs with approximately 13,000 members.

Joining the Chester County Council in its centennial celebration will be two American heroes, Drs. Vincent and Vance Moss. Vince, a cardiothoracic surgeon, and Vance, a renal transplant surgeon, earned the rank of Eagle Scout at the age of 14. Soon after, they joined the Civil Air Patrol to earn the second highest honor in that organization—the Amelia Earhart award. Drs. Moss and Moss earned their undergraduate degrees in Science from Pennsylvania State University and medical degrees from Temple University School of Medicine.

While at Temple, Drs. Moss and Moss initiated "Increase the Peace" rallies in and around Philadelphia to help combat violent crimes against African Americans. After graduating from medical school, they were each commissioned as a Captain in the United States Army Medical Corps in 1998, and promoted to Major in 2004. In the course of their military service, these two extraordinary humanitarians have deployed to Afghanistan and Iraq as members of the U.S. Army Reserves where they have rendered inestimable assistance to Afghan and Iraqi civilians and our Soldiers in the field. They are role models of the first order and epitomize all that is right in Scouting and the United States of America.

The Boy Scouts' record of achievement is exemplary, and I join all of the good people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and our nation in wishing the Boy Scouts of America and its Chester County Council another century of invaluable service to our community.

TRIBUTE TO THE EXCELLENCE OF SCHOOLS IN THE 4TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT OF IOWA

HON. TOM LATHAM

OF IOWA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mr. LATHAM. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the excellence of schools in the 4th Congressional District of Iowa, and to specifically congratulate the fourteen high schools in the district that made the list of America's Best High Schools.

U.S. News and World Reports compiled a list of America's Best High Schools by using a formula produced in collaboration with Standard and Poor's School Evaluation Services, a K–12 data research group. Each school was measured and evaluated in a three-step process that analyzes how schools are educating all of their students, then minority and disadvantaged students, and finally their college bound students based on student scores on statewide tests, Advanced Placement tests, and International Baccalaureate tests.

Of the more than 21,500 high schools in the United States, 1,189 earned a Bronze ranking. I am proud to congratulate Corwith-Wesley High School in Corwith; Eagle Grove High School in Eagle Grove; Graettinger/Terril High School in Graettinger; Kee High School in Lansing; Perry High School in Perry; Pomeroy High School in Pomeroy; North Central Junior-Senior High School in Manly; Nashua-Plainfield High School in Nashua; Lake Mills Senior High School in Lake Mills; Turkey Valley Junior-Senior High School in Jackson Junction; Ruthven-Ayrshire High School in Ruthven; Rockwell City-Lytton High School in Rockwell City; West Marshall High School in State Center; and Woden-Crystal Lake-Titonka High School in Crystal Lake; for all earning Bronze rankings. These high schools characterize the high value Iowans have always placed in quality education.

I consider it a great honor to represent the teachers, students, school board members and administrations of each of the fourteen high schools in the 4th Congressional District who made the list of one of America's Best High Schools in the United States Congress. I wish these schools, and all educators in the 4th Congressional District continued academic excellence as they provide a positive impact on our future generations to come.

RETIREMENT OF JOHN B. CATOE, JR., FROM THE WASHINGTON METROPOLITAN AREA TRANSIT AUTHORITY

HON. ELEANOR HOLMES NORTON

OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Ms. NORTON. Madam Speaker, I rise to recognize John B. Catoe, Jr., who was born and raised in the District of Columbia and returned home to one of the toughest jobs in Washington, the General Manager of the Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority (WMATA or Metro, which includes the Metrorail, Metrobus and MetroAccess systems). Mr. Catoe is retiring from the agency he led into a new era, the transition from construction of the system toward a core mission of safely operating and modernizing the system. Undertaking such a dramatic change in culture, attitude, and mission is not for the faint of heart. John Catoe was the first general manager of WMATA to take this giant leap forward, and doing so has not been an easy task.

He met the problems of WMATA as he walked into the agency. The agency itself had churned through four general managers in the span of about a year. In the weeks before and after his arrival in January 2007, four pedestrians were fatally struck by Metrobuses. A train derailed, sending 20 people to the hospital. Fire and smoke caused major delays during the morning commute on the busiest Metrorail line. A Metrobus caught fire. Reports of three suspicious packages disrupted the morning commute on a busy day.

Mr. Catoe convened weekend safety meetings with bus operators and supervisors. He established a mentor program for new bus operators, and saw to it that more than 3,200 bus operators were trained to understand traffic from a pedestrian's perspective. His intense efforts effectively put an end to the spate of pedestrian fatalities involving Metrobus.

Catoe faced nearly insurmountable challenges with grace and strength. He expertly navigated a political thicket within the highest levels of government when billions of dollars in funding were at stake for the extension of Metrorail to Tysons Corner and Dulles Airport. Those extensions will go forward due in no small part to John Catoe's leadership.

He helped bring a successful conclusion to the five-year effort to secure a source of dedicated funding for WMATA, which has been authorized to receive $3 billion from the federal government and from WMATA's jurisdictional partners. He staved off an attempt by the nation's financial industry to collect hundreds of millions of dollars during the financial crisis of 2008 from leaseback transactions entered into by public transit systems. As a result of his leadership both on Capitol Hill and in the national media, the public transportation industry was saved from a financial domino effect that would have devastated not only WMATA but also major transit systems across the country.

Nearly every major political and historic event that took place in Washington, DC, over the past three years has been a success due, in part, to John Catoe. When a new ballpark opened to serve Washington's first baseball team in 40 years, Metro rose to the occasion, and a trip to the ballpark on Metro became part of the entire Nationals experience. When Pope Benedict XVI chose Washington, DC, as the first city in the United States to visit after his investiture, security needs led to restricted travel around the city. With street closures and tight security, Metro was the primary way that hundreds of thousands of people were able to be a part of the historic visit.

With each of these events, John Catoe was preparing his team for the next opportunity for WMATA to take part in history. At the same time, he was undertaking the painstaking work of transforming his agency from one that for years had construction at its center to one whose primary mission was safe operation.

Glimmers of that realignment and evidence of John Catoe's leadership manifested during the most successful week in Metro's history. Metro's performance was nearly flawless in January 2009, for the most historic Inauguration in modern history, as Metro provided a record 17 hours of rush hour rail service; a unique type of rapid bus service on 23 priority corridors; and special outreach to passengers with disabilities to ensure that they too were part of the most inclusive Inauguration in history. The results of John Catoe's leadership on that day speak for themselves: 1.5 million trips were taken on trains, buses, and paratransit, as millions of people from around the world gathered to witness the historic Inauguration of Barack Obama as President of the United States.

It seems fitting to me that John Catoe was at the helm of Metro when President Obama was inaugurated. Mr. Catoe grew up in a segregated Washington, DC. When he was a young soldier in the U.S. Army Reserve, John Catoe was denied entry into a restaurant in Maryland while fellow white soldiers were permitted inside. Through all of his experiences, John Catoe retained a quiet confidence and serene grace that have sustained him in times of volatility.

This strength was needed on June 22, 2009, when a rail crash took the lives of nine people, including a Metrorail operator. The weeks and months that ensued have been grueling for families of victims, survivors, and the entire Metro family, particularly its leader, John Catoe. The investigation into that accident continues, and we hope that there will soon be an opportunity to remedy the problems that caused the accident, so that we can prevent others, not only at Metro, but at transit systems around the world. We in the region have been grateful for John Catoe's compassion during an especially tough period and for his resolve to get to the root of whatever problems exist.

In Washington, DC, the capital of the free world, we deserve the finest executives for our public transportation system. John B. Catoe, Jr., is a rare breed of leader who has proven not only that he can deliver results within the highest echelons of governance, but perhaps more importantly, that he can do so with humility, strength, and grace. This city and this region have been blessed by his leadership. I ask, therefore, that my colleagues join me and the National Capital Region in expressing gratitude to John Catoe for his work in leading Metro into a new era.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. CAROLYN MCCARTHY

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mrs. MCCARTHY of New York. Madam Speaker, yesterday, I missed 2 votes. Had I been present, I would have voted as follows.

Rollcall No. 170, on the Motion to Suspend the Rules and Pass H.R. 4810, I would have voted "yea."

Rollcall No. 171, on the Motion to Suspend the Rules and Pass H.R. 4667, I would have voted "yea."

END VETERAN HOMELESSNESS ACT OF 2010

SPEECH OF

HON. PHIL HARE

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, March 22, 2010

Mr. HARE. Madam Speaker, I rise today in strong support of H.R. 4810, the End Veteran Homelessness Act. I want to thank Chairman FILNER for his leadership on this issue.

Madam Speaker, on any given night this year, over 100,000 veterans are sleeping on the streets. And this year alone, 300,000 veterans will experience homelessness.

Additionally, there has been an alarming increase in the number of female homeless veterans over the last decade.

Madam Speaker, addressing the National Coalition for Homeless Veterans National Conference, Secretary Shinseki said, "We have a moral duty to prevent and eliminate homelessness among Veterans." I could not agree more and I applaud the Secretary for his commitment to end veterans homelessness in the next 5 years.

Madam Speaker, we have seen how using the media to educate veterans about available services has been extremely effective, and in order to meet this goal, the Veterans Affairs Department should immediately begin conducting media outreach to connect homeless veterans to available programs, services and benefits.

That is why I introduced the Help our Homeless Veterans Act. My bill would direct the Secretary of the Department of Veterans Affairs to carry out a national media campaign to raise awareness about programs and services available to homeless veterans and those at risk of becoming homeless.

Madam Speaker, I want to thank Chairman FILNER for including my bill into H.R. 4810 and acknowledge the special attention the committee has made to promote awareness of such assistance available to homeless women veterans and homeless veterans with children.

Madam Speaker, with increased awareness about programs to assist homeless veterans, we can end veterans homelessness by 2014.

No veteran should experience homelessness, and this bill ensures our nation's heroes know where to turn to for help. I urge all my colleagues to support H.R. 4810.

25TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE ARCTIC MAN RACE

HON. DON YOUNG

OF ALASKA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mr. YOUNG of Alaska. Madam Speaker, today I would like to recognize the 25th anniversary of the Arctic Man race, one of the most unique competitive events in winter sports. Combining downhill skiing, snowboarding, skijoring, and snowmachine racing, Arctic Man exemplifies Alaska's rugged outdoor spirit.

Every year, 13,000 spectators ride their snowmachines up to a magnificent alpine setting between Anchorage and Fairbanks, Alaska, to watch this impressive spectacle. The race combines athleticism and horsepower as a two-man team, consisting of one downhill skier or snowboarder and one snowmachiner, navigates a perilous course at high speeds. With the firing of the starting pistol, athletes lunge down a 1,700 foot drop in less than two miles, without the aid of ski poles. As the skiers approach the bottom of the hill, they merge into a narrow canyon and grab a rope tethered to their partners' snowmachine to then be towed at speeds of up to 86 miles per hour for 2¼ miles uphill. This difficult intersection can decide the race, as the snowmachine must perfectly match the skier's or boarder's speed and course while also effectively getting the pull rope into the athlete's hand. Once the team reaches the top of the mountain, the skier or snowboarder releases the tow rope and is slingshotted down another 1,200 foot descent to slip through the gates at the finish line.

When these men and women mount the slopes, they exhibit an admirable model of aggressive athleticism and backcountry moxie to make this one of Alaska's most remarkable competitions. As this year's competitors prepare for the Arctic Man challenge, fine tuning their snowmachines, waxing their skis, and practicing their technique, I would like to wish them all good luck and a safe race!

Having attended this event before, I can attest that it is one of the most exciting and exhilarating competitions which I have ever witnessed. I look forward to joining my fellow Alaskans at this year's Arctic Man to celebrate its 25th year of competition.

TRIBUTE TO MARY GILLEY

HON. TOM LATHAM

OF IOWA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mr. LATHAM. Madam Speaker, I rise to recognize the retirement of Mary Gilley, the long-time clerk of the Greene County district court, and to express my appreciation for her dedication and commitment to her community in Iowa.

For the past 26 years, Mary has worked with the clerk of court's office, providing dependable service to the community. Since 1985 she has been the clerk of the district court. Before her time with Greene County, Mary worked at a law firm in Fort Dodge, Iowa and was employed as a legal secretary in a private practice.

Mary Gilley has left a permanent mark on Greene County and will be truly missed at the district court, although she plans to continue serving the community through volunteer work. I know that my colleagues in the United States Congress join me in commending Mary for her outstanding service to her community and congratulating her on her retirement. I consider it an honor to represent Mary in Congress, and I wish her a long, happy and healthy future.

HONORING THE INAUGURATION OF THE IKARIA® DISTINGUISHED PROFESSORSHIP OF CRITICAL CARE

HON. TAMMY BALDWIN

OF WISCONSIN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Ms. BALDWIN. Madam Speaker, I rise today concerning a matter of great interest to me, which is the need for greater progress and support for children and infants who require critical care.

Each year, five million Americans are admitted to Intensive Care Units (ICUs), and it is estimated that as many as half a million of these are infants and children. Indeed, estimates show that nearly one-half of infants and one-third of older children who die each year received ICU care.

While medical technologies advance across the world, there unfortunately have been fewer true breakthroughs in critical care therapies in recent years, including those designed for children and infants. Babies and children are the most fragile of critically ill patients; their ability to thrive and survive should be among our highest priorities.

It is for these reasons that I am pleased to observe that today, the Children's National Medical Center (CNMC) in Washington, D.C. will hold an inauguration ceremony naming The Ikaria® Distinguished Professorship of Critical Care. This chair will be sustained by a donation of $2.5 million by Ikaria, a bio-therapeutics company which provides acute care products that address significant unmet needs of ICU and neonatal ICU patients. Ikaria, which has manufacturing facilities in my hometown of Madison, Wisconsin, is providing an unconditional gift to endow and establish a distinguished professorship for an outstanding physician-scientist who will provide leadership to advance the science of critical care medicine.

Madam Speaker, I hope you will join me in recognizing the tremendous potential value of this vital research professorship, and to applaud Ikaria and Children's National Medical Center for their vision and commitment to the health of our Nation's children.

TRIBUTE TO BRIGADIER GENERAL JAMES L. MELIN

HON. KEN CALVERT

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mr. CALVERT. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor and pay tribute to an individual from my Congressional District who has dedicated his life to defending the people of this country and preserving the basic freedoms and liberties that we hold dear. Brigadier General James L. Melin, of the United States Air Force Reserve, is a true American hero and today I thank him for his 39 years of service. On Saturday, March 27, 2010, General Melin will be honored at his retirement and Change of Command Ceremony at March Air Force Base in California.

General Melin was commissioned through the ROTC program at St. Louis University, Missouri, and graduated in 1971. After graduation, he began active duty and completed his flight training at Reese Air Force Base, Texas, in 1974.

During his career, General Melin's assignments included Administrative Officer, 1550th Aircrew Training Test Wing at Hill Air Force Base; KC-135 Pilot, 28th Bombardment Wing, Ellsworth Air Force Base; KC-135 Pilot and Mission Development Officer, 93rd Bombardment Wing, Castle Air Force Base; Instructor Pilot, 931st Air Refueling Group, Grissom Air Force Base; and Evaluator Pilot, Chief of Plans, Chief of Standardization and Evaluation, Director of Training, Operations Officer, and Operations Group Commander, 940th Air Refueling Wing, McClellan Air Force Base.

In 1997, General Melin commanded the 434th Operations Group, Grissom ARB, Indiana and later assumed command of the 434th Air Refueling Wing. Starting in 2006, General Melin took command of the 452nd Air Mobility Wing at March Air Force Base in California.

Throughout his exemplary career, General Melin has flown over 5,500 hours and participated in tanker operations in Desert Shield, Desert Storm, Joint Forge, Noble Eagle, Enduring Freedom and Iraqi Freedom.

General Melin's awards include the Legion of Merit with oak leaf cluster, Meritorious Service Medal with two oak leaf clusters, Aerial Achievement Medal, Air Force Commendation Medal, Air Force Achievement Medal, Air Force Outstanding Unit Award with "V" device and four oak leaf clusters, Southwest Asia Service Medal with two bronze stars, Global War on Terrorism Service Medal, Kuwait Liberation Medal (Kingdom of Saudi Arabia), and Kuwait Liberation Medal (Government of Kuwait).

General Melin will retire from the United States Air Force service with more than just his experience, decorated career and remarkable accomplishments; his enduring legacy will serve as a shining example and constant reminder of what it means to be an American patriot and leader. I am grateful for his service and salute him as he retires from the Air Force.

TRIBUTE TO DALI AND FELIX GONZALEZ

HON. TOM LATHAM

OF IOWA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mr. LATHAM. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize and congratulate Dali and Felix Gonzalez, students at Perry High School in Perry, Iowa, for their efforts in raising money to help those devastated by the recent earthquake in Haiti.

Dali and Felix are siblings who are originally from the Dominican Republic. Growing up in such close proximity to Haiti and having friends and acquaintances still living in Haiti, they felt a calling to help those in need. Felix, who is an avid artist, designed posters to demonstrate how close he used to live to the devastated region, and Dali made English and Spanish announcements about the fundraising effort over the school's PA system. Over several days they collected over $150.00 at their donation setup in the lunch room. It is estimated that Dali and Felix's efforts will feed more than 750 people.

This collective effort at Perry High School is an example of what Iowa is all about—Iowans motivated and dedicated to personally helping people in need, and in this case those who have lost everything. I consider it an honor to represent Dali and Felix Gonzalez, all of those who donated money to Haiti, and ESL Instructor Julie Walstrom in the United States Congress. Again, I congratulate Dali and Felix for their great act of compassion and charity.

NATIONAL GUARD EMPLOYMENT PROTECTION ACT OF 2010

SPEECH OF

HON. SHEILA JACKSON LEE

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, March 22, 2010

Ms. JACKSON LEE of Texas. Madam Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 1879, "National Guard Employment Protection Act," a bill that amends title 38, United States Code, to provide for employment and reemployment rights for certain individuals ordered to full-time National Guard duty.

In these challenging economic times, with returning veterans experiencing unemployment rates in the double digits, we must do more to provide for our veterans' basic needs. This legislation shows that the U.S. is grateful for our veterans' service. Just as the military pledges to leave no soldier behind on the battlefield, this nation will leave no veteran behind when they come home.

National Guard is America's oldest armed force—dating back to 1636—and the only branch that serves both the Federal and State governments. The Guard answers to both the president of the United States and the governors of their respective states and territories.

This means that the National Guard can be mobilized any time natural disasters or other emergencies occur within America's borders, and also serve alongside U.S. combat forces in other parts of the world.

The Guard's roots go back to North America's earliest colonial militias: farmers, shopkeepers and everyday citizens willing to put their lives on hold and pick up their weapons to defend their communities and their country. Today, Citizen-Soldiers live, work and go to school in cities and towns all across America and its territories. And just as they have for over 370 years, the men and women of the National Guard are trained, willing and proud to assist their neighbors during emergencies, and to protect their nation whenever they are called.

This bill allows us to show our appreciation and honor the service of veterans who have served in the National Guard. These veterans have given great contributions and made incredible personal sacrifices so that all of us in this country might live in a safe and secure nation and world.

Madam Speaker, whether it is the ultimate sacrifice of life or the loss of limb or the loss of time with family and friends, we owe our veterans an enormous outstanding debt of gratitude. The debt of gratitude we owe to the soldiers, sailors, marines, and airmen who answered their nation's call and made supreme sacrifices can never be repaid. But the nation can follow President Lincoln's admonition to 'care for him who has borne the battle, and for his [family].' Indeed, it is the least we can do.

It is out of my profound respect and gratitude for all who wear and have worn the uniform of the United States that I continue to work so to support legislation that will ensure that veterans receive the health care, job opportunities, housing assistance, and educational benefits they deserve. As their slogan says, "Always ready, always there. That is the National Guard." Now, it is time for us to be there for them.

Madam Speaker, I am honored to express my strong support for this bill and I urge my colleagues to join me in doing what is only right—taking care of and honoring our heroes who serve to protect us.

“BE ABOUT PEACE DAY”

HON. DONALD M. PAYNE

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mr. PAYNE. Madam Speaker, I rise to commend my constituents in South Mountain Peace Action of Maplewood and South Orange, NJ. These citizens work in their community on behalf of peace and they hold an annual all-day event called “Be About Peace Day” that attracts hundreds of children and parents. Currently, South Mountain Peace Action is organizing a public forum called “Israeli-Palestinian Peace: The Obama-Clinton Program for a Two-State Solution and How We Can Support It” that will be held on March 24, 2010, at Maplewood Memorial Library. The meeting will enable residents to increase their understanding of the issues and to learn how to get involved themselves in the peace process.

There is no greater cause than peace and there is no issue more important for achieving peace than resolving the Israeli-Palestinian conflict. In February, I visited Israel and the Palestinian Territory as part of a congressional delegation and met with leaders of government and civil society to assess the state of American efforts to end the region's conflicts.

We learned much on the trip—seeing firsthand the urgency shared across the region to end the Israeli-Palestinian conflict through a two-state solution. We met the Deputy Prime Minister of Israel, the Prime Minister of the Palestinian Authority in Ramallah and civil society leaders across the region. In Israel, we heard from settlers and human rights activists. Over and over again, we heard about the importance of American leadership in efforts to end the conflict diplomatically. It is why I am encouraged by groups like South Mountain Peace Action, who are supporting the peace process at the grassroots level.

TRIBUTE TO THE LIONS CLUB OF OGDEN, IOWA

HON. TOM LATHAM

OF IOWA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mr. LATHAM. Madam Speaker, I rise today to congratulate the Lions Club of Ogden, Iowa on their 80th anniversary. The club has been active since November 29, 1929 in Ogden, which is located in Boone County in Central Iowa.

The International Lions Club is a volunteer organization which works together to answer the needs that challenge communities around the world, including an end to preventable blindness, cleaning local parks and providing essential supplies to victims of natural disasters.

In records that date back 40 years, the local organization has donated over $88,000 to various organizations including: Ogden High School scholarships, eye exams and glasses for the needy, the food pantry, Boy Scouts, Relay for Life, and more. The group meets bi-monthly and has 36 active members who honorably live by their motto, “We serve.”

Again, I congratulate the Lions Club of Ogden and current club president, Harry Dannen, on this historic anniversary. The Lions Club of Ogden is an example of what Iowa is all about—citizens motivated and dedicated to improving their communities and helping their neighbors in need. It is an honor to represent each member of this remarkable group in the United States Congress, and I wish them an equally storied future.

TRIBUTE TO COMMANDER FATORA

HON. NORMAN D. DICKS

OF WASHINGTON

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mr. DICKS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to an outstanding Naval Officer, Commander Jeffrey Fatora, and to recognize his dedicated service to our Nation. It is a great honor for me to thank Commander Fatora for his distinguished service in the Submarine Force. Commander Fatora has proudly and selflessly served our Nation for 23 years, and he will retire from the naval service on July 1 of this year.

It was during his last assignment to the Secretary of the Navy's Appropriations Matters office that I first came to know Commander Fatora. In this capacity, he has proved to be an invaluable link between the Navy and me, my staff, and the Appropriations Committee. For nearly four years Commander Fatora provided valuable assistance to me and to Members of the House Appropriations Committee. He often traveled with Members of the Committee—sometimes into combat zones—and always ensured that the Committee had direct access to Department of Defense facilities and combat units worldwide.

On every occasion, Commander Fatora performed his duties in an exacting and precise manner. But far more important to me and the members of the Appropriations Committee was the effectiveness by which he kept us informed of important developments within the Department of the Navy, allowing us to make important decisions on resource allocation based upon the facts.

Commander Fatora began his submarine service aboard USS Indianapolis (SSN 697) in Pearl Harbor, completing two Western Pacific Deployments. As a member of the commissioning crew of USS Louisiana (SSBN 743), he was the very first officer qualified as Officer of the Deck on the ship. But clearly, his most notable service was as the Weapons Officer aboard USS Providence (SSN 719), which was the first American warship to arrive off the coast of Pakistan following the attacks of September 11th, 2001. As the leader of the Providence strike team, he ensured that 25 Tomahawk Cruise Missiles found their targets in Afghanistan during the opening salvos of Operation Enduring Freedom.

Later, as a Staff Officer for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, he worked diligently with a multi-national task force to execute the anti-terrorist Operation Active Endeavour. Finally, serving as Executive Officer aboard USS Pittsburgh (SSN 720), he guided the crew through a very challenging Engineered Overhaul at Portsmouth Naval Shipyard.

In closing, on behalf of the House of Representatives and especially my colleagues on the Appropriations Committee, I want to express my thanks and appreciation for the special contribution Commander Fatora has made during his naval service. We wish him and his family continued success and the traditional naval wish of “fair winds and following seas.”

RECONCILIATION ACT OF 2010

SPEECH OF

HON. GLENN THOMPSON

OF PENNSYLVANIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Sunday, March 21, 2010

Mr. THOMPSON of Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, for the first time in history, the House of Representatives will pass a life-changing measure without a single Republican vote in favor. That vote will impact one-sixth of our U.S. economy and affect every man, woman and child in the nation, now and for generations to come.

In almost every poll, the majority of Americans didn't like this bill or the manner in which it was placed before the Congress for a vote.

According to the most recent Gallup Poll, 66 percent of Americans think the Democrats' massive government takeover of health care would make things worse or make no difference for themselves and their families.

I believe we have started down a path of total government takeover of our health care system at a cost of almost $1 trillion now, and untold costs to be paid later in taxes, fines and loss of care. As a health care professional, my evaluation of the measure is that it will decrease access to health care, increase costs, put a bureaucrat between you and your physician and place quality care as an afterthought.

I fear the impact on our rural hospitals and I fear this measure puts us on a path of no return, which will be spoken about in depressing and critical terms for decades to come.

One hundred and thirty economists wrote to the President March 18th to tell him that the Health Care bill is a job-killer. Speaker of the House John Boehner released the contents of that letter.

They wrote: "The bill raises taxes by almost $500 billion over ten years. A significant portion of these tax increases will fall on small business owners, reducing capital and limiting economic growth and hiring."

And they wrote: "The bill will impose a tax of $2000 per employee on employers with more than 50 employees that do not provide health insurance. The bill will also tax employers that offer health coverage deemed 'unaffordable' by the government. These new taxes on employers will reduce employment or be passed on to workers in the form of lower wages or reduced hours."

It doesn't take much deduction to figure out that if you have 49 employees now, you will never hire the 50th employee. Why would you bring that burden on your business?

Those with 53 or 54 employees will potentially fire four or five employees in order to go below the mandate.

The economists concluded, "The new and higher taxes on America's small businesses and workers included in the bill are detrimental to job creation and economic growth, especially now given the fragile state of the economy."

But the bill will create jobs—for the tax collector. Some 16,500 people will be hired as auditors, agents and other employees needed by the Internal Revenue Service to collect the hundreds of billions in new taxes. The cost of enforcement is estimated to be between $5 and $10 billion over 10 years and it is not paid for in the bill.

The wealthier American people will be taxed to subsidize those who cannot afford their health care. And few will be able to afford health care as the mandates take shape and insurance companies are unable to make a profit under the new rules. The eventual result will be rationing of care.

Rural hospitals already suffer from low reimbursement rates under Medicare and Medicaid. Those rates are eighty to ninety cents for one dollar of health care value in Medicare and forty to sixty cents for one dollar of health care value in Medicaid. When the federal government controls the private health care industry as well, no one will be paid the full cost of medical care.

The bill cuts more than $200 billion from the Medicare Advantage program.

Rural hospitals now get by with a one to three percent profit per year. If that evaporates, small hospitals will close.

Republicans have been vocal in their support of the need to fix our health care system. We have dozens of bills including the "Putting Patients First Act"—a bill I have co-sponsored. It allows purchase of health care across state lines, deals with pre-existing conditions and allows parents to keep their children on their health care plans until age 26. It does all of this without taxes or cuts in Medicare.

We could have agreed on a number of issues. Instead, we have more than 3,000 pages of Senate bill, reconciliation package and manager's amendment that we will be unfolding and deciphering for years to come. The undiscovered, perhaps unintended, consequences will be continuing surprises.

For example, according to The Wall Street Journal, Caterpillar Inc. announced that the bill will increase its health-care costs by $100 million in the first year—no doubt giving it, and many other American companies, another reason to move American jobs to foreign countries. I fear this is the tip of the iceberg.

WRESTLEMANIA COMES TO GLENDALE/PHOENIX

HON. ED PASTOR

OF ARIZONA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mr. PASTOR of Arizona. Madam Speaker, I rise today to welcome WWE and WrestleMania XXVI (26) to Glendale's University of Phoenix Stadium on Sunday, March 28, 2010. WWE will take over the greater Glendale/Phoenix area during WrestleMania Week from March 24–March 29, 2010.

We are very pleased to welcome the 70,000 fans from 26 countries, all 50 states, and more than 130 members of the international media who will descend upon the Valley of the Sun.

We welcome WrestleMania, the WWE, and their fans because they will experience the culture of our city, the great weather, and have the opportunity to patronize our wonderful businesses. For the last three years, WrestleMania has averaged nearly $50 million in new economic impact into the local economy. We are happy to have this investment coming to the Glendale and Phoenix regions.

In addition to WrestleMania, WWE has brought a variety of wonderful community activities: WrestleMania Axxess—WWE's interactive fan festival; WrestleMania Art—fund-raiser benefitting the Make-A-Wish Foundation of Arizona and Phoenix Children's Hospital; the finals of the WWE's international literacy program, WrestleMania Reading Challenge; a WrestleMania Pro-Am Golf Tournament with our beloved Arizona Cardinals; the WWE Hall of Fame Induction Ceremony; and WWE's Monday Night Raw.

WrestleMania XXVI will be televised to a global pay-per-view audience in 75 countries.

WrestleMania is truly a family-friendly event that creates an atmosphere where families from around the world can join together to celebrate their love for WWE and their favorite "Superstars" and "Divas."

Madam Speaker, I would like to thank the WWE and its fans for choosing to come to Glendale and Phoenix and wish them a wonderful Arizona stay.

ENSURING THAT AMERICAN FAMILIES AND SMALL BUSINESSES RECEIVE THE FULL BENEFITS OF COMPETITION IN HEALTH CARE AND HEALTH INSURANCE REFORM

HON. JOHN CONYERS, JR.

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mr. CONYERS. Madam Speaker, Sunday night, Congress voted to affirm the right of all Americans to quality health care at affordable cost, by fixing our country's broken health insurance marketplace. This is an effort that I and others have been working on for decades, and while the bill does not yet achieve everything we have sought, it is a monumental step forward, of which those who voted to take it, in the face of the relentless campaign of disinformation bankrolled by its opponents, can all be rightly proud.

Now, as this historic effort moves from the legislative arena to implementation, I would like to say a few words, as Chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, about the critical role for competition in making the health care insurance marketplace work effectively to serve consumers and promote prosperity—and the assistance that the federal antitrust enforcement agencies can and should provide in keeping competition considerations at the forefront.

In implementing this comprehensive legislation, the Department of Health and Human Services will be called upon, as will other federal agencies, and the States, to make assessments in a variety of contexts as to whether the marketplace is functioning properly, or whether abuses are occurring. In making these assessments, and in deciding on appropriate steps to address any abuses or dysfunction, the federal agencies and the States can benefit greatly from competitive analysis provided by our federal antitrust agencies, the Department of Justice's Antitrust Division and the Federal Trade Commission. I would urge them to make full use of this assistance.

Both the Antitrust Division and the FTC have a long history of advising other federal agencies, as well as State legislatures and agencies, on ways to formulate policies and make regulatory decisions consistent with maintaining and promoting healthy competitive market incentives. In addition to formal advice, generally in the form of public comments, which both federal agencies provide in areas in which they have developed expertise, the Antitrust Division routinely provides informal guidance to other federal agencies through interagency consultation and through OMB-supervised interagency review and comment.

While the advice of the two antitrust enforcement agencies is non-binding, it is generally given substantial weight. The two agencies are widely recognized as having developed, in the course of antitrust investigations and enforcement actions over many decades, unmatched experience and expertise in analyzing markets for how competition is working, or not working. They can assess whether lack of effective competition is behind a problem, or is worsening it, and if it is, can recommend ways to unblock competition as part of any regulatory response.

Even when competition cannot fix a dysfunctional market on its own entirely, it will almost always contribute to the solution, by ensuring that market incentives are aligned in a healthy fashion, in the direction of serving consumers rather than taking advantage of them.

Competition advice from the federal antitrust enforcement agencies will not only help ensure that health care and health insurance regulatory policy is appropriately sensitive to competitive conditions and dynamics in the markets involved. By helping place regulatory policy on a sound analytical footing, it will strengthen it against any potential legal challenge by those opposing reform efforts. Moreover, the very fact of antitrust oversight in connection with this advisory analysis will help deter anticompetitive behavior.

To take just one important example, the new law creates health insurance exchanges, to be set up by the States, to help make sure families and small businesses have meaningful choices for health insurance. In order for these exchanges to achieve their purpose, they need to attract not just the insurance companies that are already dominant in their market, but other insurance companies, including new ones eager to establish themselves. Dominant health insurance companies have many ways of protecting their dominance by making it harder for others to make competitive inroads. And they have powerful anticompetitive incentives to do just that.

Accordingly, we can expect the dominant health insurance companies to be offering plenty of their own advice to State legislatures and agencies on how to structure the new exchanges, and we can expect that their advice will be tailored to favor their own interests. Their self-serving advice, if followed, could have the potential to stop competition in its tracks, and deny consumers the benefits of choice, innovation, and affordability that competition brings.

The more the States can keep promotion of competition in their sights as they design and implement the exchanges, the better those exchanges will work to widen the effective choices available for the families and small businesses who need them. And the federal antitrust enforcement agencies can be a valuable source of expertise in ensuring that the exchanges are designed and implemented so as to harness the power of competitive market incentives as fully as possible.

Along with the antitrust savings clause in the text of the health care bill, which ensures that the normal operation of the antitrust laws is in no way altered or disrupted, use of this well-established advisory role will help ensure that the health insurance marketplace is fixed in a manner that makes maximum use of competitive market forces to achieve these important objectives for American families and small businesses.

END VETERAN HOMELESSNESS ACT OF 2010

SPEECH OF

HON. SHEILA JACKSON LEE

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, March 22, 2010

Ms. JACKSON LEE of Texas. Madam Speaker, I rise in support of H. Res. 4810,

"End Veterans Homelessness Act of 2010" introduced by my distinguished colleague from California, Representative FILNER.

H. Res. 4810 will amend Title 38 of the United States Code, in order to make certain improvements in the services rendered to homeless veterans under the laws that are administered by the Secretary of Veterans Affairs. Improvements in services rendered to homeless veterans will include increases in the amount authorized to be appropriated for comprehensive programs, adjusted payments for providing various services such as furnishing services to homeless veterans, supported housing program outreach, financial assistance for low-income families, and the promotion of awareness of available Department of Veterans Affairs programs.

Throughout our country's history, our brave men and women in uniform have made the ultimate sacrifice to protect our freedom around the world, and I am proud to support legislation that will aid our nation's veterans. I have worked tirelessly to pass legislation that will give our veterans the benefits that they need and deserve. I have supported legislation, such as H. Res. 6081, "The Heroes Earnings Assistance and Relief Tax of 2008", H. Res. 1054, "Honoring the service and achievements of women in the Armed Forces and female veterans", H. Res. 2790, "To establish the position of Director of Physician Assistant Services within the office of the Under Secretary of Veterans Affairs for Health as amended", and H. Res. 3480, "Let Our Veterans Rest in Peace Act of 2008" to support our veterans. My fellow Americans, we must remember that it is because of them that we are able to continue to be a democratic nation. All Americans must realize that we owe our liberty to those veterans who have served their nation 110% without fear. They definitely deserve our assistance and support in every way possible. I have always and will continue to fight for legislation that protects our veterans.

I really find it unacceptable that an estimated 131,000 veterans are homeless on any given night after honorably serving their country. We are doing our veterans a great disservice. We owe our veterans the utmost respect, appreciation, and definitely a home to come home to after serving as a member of our armed forces. In these challenging economic times, we must do more to provide for our veterans' basic needs. H. Res. 4810 shows that all Americans take pride in our veterans' service to this nation, and just as the military doesn't believe in leaving a soldier behind on the battlefield, I believe that I speak for all Americans that we don't believe in leaving our veterans behind . . . we must help them push forward!

Strengthening comprehensive programs by investing in our veterans, requiring housing counselors to grant more housing opportunities at each Veteran Affairs center, and paying attention to homeless women veterans and veterans with children is the right thing to do. I would like to urge my colleagues to support this powerful piece of legislation for our veterans that proudly support our freedoms and defend our U.S. Constitution. Again, I would like to commend all of our soldiers for their unselfish service and devotion to the welfare of others.

HONORING HEALTH4HAITI

HON. JOHN T. SALAZAR

OF COLORADO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mr. SALAZAR. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor Health4Haiti, an international aid group founded by Pueblo surgeon Dr. James Smith. For many years, Dr. Smith has been traveling to Haiti in the wake of devastating hurricanes to provide crucial surgeries to impoverished people across the country. In November of 2009, Health4Haiti and Dr. Smith were awarded the International Humanitarian Service Award in recognition of their remarkable dedication and service to the Haitian people.

We are all familiar with the incredibly destructive earthquake that struck Haiti on January 12, 2010. The images from that terrible series of days will stay with us forever. However, the disaster was also an incredible demonstration of the compassion of the people of Colorado's Third District. When the first reports from Haiti came in, several Pueblo residents immediately mobilized to visit Haiti and offer their assistance. These incredible Pueblans were among the first U.S. Search and Rescue Teams to arrive. All doctors and nurses, they immediately began treating wounded Haitians, saving lives and delivering vital aid and comfort. I would like to commend Dr. James Smith, Dr. Ginger Vaughn, Dr. Benjamin Massey, Debbie Valdez, Eric Miller, and Mary Anne Woods for their generosity and humanity in the face of overwhelming tragedy.

This group of people and Health4Haiti have inspired countless others to serve those less fortunate, and I honor them for their work.

TRIBUTE TO BRYANT ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

HON. TOM LATHAM

OF IOWA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mr. LATHAM. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize and congratulate the fifth grade students at Bryant Elementary School in Boone, Iowa, for their efforts in raising money to help those devastated by the recent earthquake in Haiti.

Students Brady Wright, Isidro Gonzalez and Erica Mehlhaus put their heads and hearts together to come up with a way to raise funds for the American Red Cross' Haitian relief efforts. In addition to accepting local donations, these students developed a fun and competitive project called "Penny Wars" which took place in February for three weeks. This school-wide contest was implemented to see which class could collect the most pennies. Containers, labeled for each classroom, were filled with pennies, and students could add silver coins to the containers of opposing classrooms to reduce that class's penny count. To further entice students to contribute, students were able to chew gum and wear hats in class when they donated quarters. The class with the highest penny credit earned a pizza party.

The collective effort at Bryant Elementary School is a characteristic of what Iowa is all about—citizens motivated and dedicated to help people in need, and in this case those who have lost everything. I commend all the students, their families and especially their guidance counselor, Karlene Hughes, and Principal Pam Nystrom, who facilitated this heartwarming effort with the students. I consider it an honor to represent each of these fifth graders and all of those involved in "Penny Wars," in the United States Congress and again I thank them for their great act of kindness and charity.

RECONCILIATION ACT OF 2010

SPEECH OF

HON. DARRELL E. ISSA

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Sunday, March 21, 2010

Mr. ISSA. Mr. Speaker, as Americans, one of our most sacred and fundamental rights is the right to protest that with which we disagree, and I am encouraged to see Americans exercising that right by joining together at the Capitol to voice their opinion on health care reform. The actions of a few individuals, revealed last week in news reports, who shouted profane and bigoted language at members of Congress, has no place in this debate or any other. These actions are deeply regrettable. Across our nation, Americans have engaged in peaceful demonstrations all across the country voicing their opinions in townhalls, rallies, marches and protests. By engaging in robust, civil debate, we honor the highest and best tradition of our democracy.

HONORING UNITED STATES PARALYMPIAN ADAM PAGE OF LANCASTER, NEW YORK

HON. CHRISTOPHER JOHN LEE

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mr. LEE of New York. Madam Speaker, I ask that the House join me in recognizing Adam Page of Lancaster, New York, a proud member of the United States Paralympics sled hockey team, who most recently won a gold medal in the Winter Games at Vancouver.

Currently a senior at St. Mary's High School in Lancaster, Adam was born with spina bifida, a birth defect caused by the incomplete formation of vertebrae. His parents were told that Adam would never walk, probably would be blind and probably retarded. Adam had other ideas.

At the age of eight, Adam was determined to do what so many of his fellow Western New Yorkers do growing up—play ice hockey. He started his formal hockey playing days with the Buffalo Sabres sled hockey club team, and his hard work and hockey skills soon propelled him to the junior national team, and a year after that Adam was named to the senior national team.

Adam scored his first goal at the 2008 IPC Ice Sledge Hockey World Championships, and in addition to his participation on this year's gold medal-winning Paralympian team, he has also been a member of the gold medal-winning 2010 Japan Para Ice Sledge team, the 2009 Paralympic Team of the Year, the gold medal-winning 2009 World Champion team, and the 2008 bronze medal-winning IPC Ice Sledge Hockey World Champion.

Adam has overcome so much in his life, and it is a testament to his hard work and dedication and the support of his family and friends who have stood by his side.

I again ask that the House join me in congratulating Adam on winning the gold medal as a member of Team USA's Paralympics sled hockey team, and wish him much success in the future.

RECOGNIZING SUSAN CAMPBELL AS THE OKALOOSA COUNTY SUP- PORT PERSON OF THE YEAR

HON. JEFF MILLER

OF FLORIDA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mr. MILLER of Florida. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize Mrs. Susan Campbell as the Okaloosa County, Florida Support Person of the Year for the 2009–2010 school year. I am honored to acknowledge her exemplary achievements and her dedication to the students and teachers of Northwest Florida.

Susan has worked as a school clerk and guidance counselor at Niceville High School for the past eight years. Over her career, she has been one of the most dedicated resources for Niceville's students. She teaches financial aid workshops, schedules college visits, mentors new students, and provides parent/student seminars on a range of college-related topics. She also takes a special interest in Niceville's seniors, preparing them for graduation and life after high school. The high school's seniors regularly earn close to $10 million in scholarships every year based in large part on Susan's hard work.

For her dedication both inside and outside the classroom, Susan has been recognized on numerous occasions. She is a supporter of the American Heart Association and the American Cancer Society, as well as a volunteer for the Covenant Hospice. She and her husband Wayne Campbell are members of the Alexis de Tocqueville Society for their contributions to the Okaloosa County community through United Way. Susan's other volunteer service includes the Northwest Florida State College Meagan Lynne Campbell Nursing Scholarship and the Emerald Coast Children's Advocacy Center.

Madam Speaker, on behalf of the United States Congress, I am privileged to recognize Susan Campbell as the Okaloosa County Support Person of the Year. Her passion for her students is commendable and her dedication to her profession and her community is highly deserving of this award. My wife Vicki and I wish Susan, her husband Wayne, and her family all the best for the future.

HONORING DAVID KLEPAREK

HON. BRIAN HIGGINS

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mr. HIGGINS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to the years of service given to the people of Chautauqua County by Mr. David Kleparek. Mr. Kleparek served his constituency faithfully and justly during his tenure as a member of the Chautauqua County Legislature, serving district 24.

Public service is a difficult and fulfilling career. Any person with a dream may enter but only a few are able to reach the end. Mr. Kleparek served his term with his head held high and a smile on his face the entire way. I have no doubt that his kind demeanor left a lasting impression on the people of Chautauqua County.

We are truly blessed to have such strong individuals with a desire to make this county the wonderful place that we all know it can be. Mr. Kleparek is one of those people and that is why, Madam Speaker, I rise in tribute to him today.

RECONCILIATION ACT OF 2010

SPEECH OF

HON. RANDY NEUGEBAUER

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Sunday, March 21, 2010

Mr. NEUGEBAUER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to voice my opposition to this government takeover of health care. I believe improvements could be made to the existing health care system, but this government takeover of one-sixth of the economy is not the right answer. It will not lower the cost of health care, but will add layers of bureaucracy and confusion to the existing system.

I am not alone in opposing this flawed, irresponsible bill. In the past week, more than a thousand constituents from the 19th District of Texas have emailed and called me to express their opposition, and thousands more have contacted me in opposition since this debate began last year.

My constituents don't understand why the House leadership insists on going down the road of trying to enact a government takeover of health care that our nation can't afford and that will not improve their health care. They don't understand why leaders in Congress refuse to listen to the American people. They do not support this expansion of government; they do not support their tax dollars funding coverage for abortion; and they do not want us to approve this legislation.

We must ask ourselves whether this legislation advances the principle of empowerment or expands entitlement. I strongly believe government should empower individuals to be successful in the economy, rather than enact policies that make them more dependent on the federal government. Our Founders believed in empowerment, but this legislation shows how far this Congress has strayed from this principle.

This legislation clearly expands entitlement and blatantly fails to empower Americans. The policies being proposed today will create more uncertainty for employers trying to create new jobs, increase costs for families and create new unfunded liabilities for the federal government. We cannot continue down this path of entitlement; it simply does not work.

This bill increases government spending by $1.2 trillion and increases taxes by $569 billion. It also includes unfunded mandates that states cannot afford in the form of Medicaid expansions.

Rather than lowering health care premiums for families by up to $2,500, as the Republican plan would do, this bill does nothing to help contain rising health care costs—the chief health care concern of most Americans. In fact, the Congressional Budget Office reports that the reconciliation bill will have a similar effect on premiums as the Senate bill, which is to increase insurance premiums for families by $2,100 per year compared to passing no bill at all. Up to 9 million Americans who currently have health insurance coverage from their employer could lose it under this bill.

I am deeply disappointed that this legislation fails to provide robust protection for the unborn and for taxpayers who oppose their dollars going toward abortion.

Over the next 10 years, this legislation will increase the federal government's commitment to health care by $400 billion. At a time when the federal deficit is $1.5 trillion and the national debt is projected to triple by 2020, it is completely irresponsible for Congress to add more unsustainable government spending to the tab that our children and grandchildren will have to pick up.

We can make health care more affordable, available and accessible for everyone without nationalizing the system, raising taxes and piling on the debt. We need to sit down, in a bipartisan way, and work on real reform that will help American families. That is what the American people want and what they deserve.

On behalf of the 19th Congressional District, I stand in strong opposition to this legislation. This Congress must do better; the American people demand that we do better. We must reject this bill.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. J. GRESHAM BARRETT

OF SOUTH CAROLINA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mr. BARRETT of South Carolina. Madam Speaker, unfortunately, I missed the following recorded votes on the House floor the week of Tuesday, March 9, 2010 through Friday, March 12, 2010.

For Tuesday, March 9, 2010, had I been present I would have voted "no" on Rollcall vote No. 92 (on motion to suspend the rules and agree to H.R. 3650), "aye" on Rollcall vote No. 93 (on motion to suspend the rules and agree to H. Res. 1069), "aye" on Rollcall vote No. 94 (on motion to suspend the rules and agree to H. Res. 935).

For Wednesday, March 10, 2010, had I been present I would have voted "no" on Rollcall vote No. 95 (on agreeing to H. Res. 1146, which provides for consideration of H. Con. Res. 248), "aye" on Rollcall vote No. 96 (on motion to suspend the rules and agree to H. Res. 1088), "aye" on Rollcall vote No. 97 (on motion to suspend the rules and agree to H.R. 4621), "no" on Rollcall vote No. 98 (on agreeing to H. Con. Res. 248), "aye" on Rollcall vote No. 99 (on motion to suspend the rules and agree to H. Con. Res. 249), "aye" on Rollcall vote No. 100 (on motion to suspend the rules and agree to H. Res. 1144).

EARMARK DECLARATION

HON. THOMAS E. PETRI

OF WISCONSIN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mr. PETRI. Madam Speaker, pursuant to the Republican Leadership standards on earmarks, I am submitting the following information regarding a provision classified as an earmark in H.R. 3619, the Coast Guard Authorization Act of 2010, which passed the House on October 23, 2009.

Requesting Member: The Honorable THOMAS E. PETRI

Bill Number: H.R. 3619

Account: No funding, legislative provision in the Coast Guard Authorization Act

Legal Name of Requesting Entity: VCNA Prairie Illinois Inc.

Address of Requesting Entity: 7601 W. 79th Street, Bridgeview, IL 60455

Description of Request: The legislative provision in the Coast Guard authorization bill would restore Coastwise Trading privileges to the barge St. Marys Cement. From the time of construction in 1986 to 2000, St. Marys Cement was registered under the U.S. flag with Coastwise Trading privileges. In 2000, the St. Marys Cement relinquished Coastwise Trading privileges upon being reflagged under the Canadian flag. Operations have since changed and, in order to maximize efficiency of its U.S. operations, St. Marys Cement proposes to operate the barge directly between U.S. ports (including several in Wisconsin). On September 9, 2009, St. Marys Cement received a Certificate of Documentation, reestablishing the vessel as an American flagged vessel. Since the vessel was once registered outside the U.S., the only way for St. Marys Cement to return to operating directly between U.S. ports is to restore its Coastwise Trading privileges legislatively. Allowing the barge to do so would add American maritime jobs and provide Great Lakes-based manufacturing plants additional business opportunities. The cost of transporting raw materials to U.S. manufacturing facilities in Ohio, Michigan, and Wisconsin would be reduced. This was a joint request with Representative BART STUPAK and Representative STEVE KAGEN, M.D.

IN HONOR OF NAVY SEAL CHIEF PETTY OFFICER ADAM BROWN

HON. MIKE ROSS

OF ARKANSAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mr. ROSS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor a true American hero. On March 18, 2010, our state and nation lost a great patriot when Navy SEAL Chief Petty Officer Adam Brown, age 36, died in Afghanistan from injuries sustained during combat operations in support of Operation Enduring Freedom.

Chief Brown was raised in Arkansas by his loving parents, Larry and Janice Brown, and graduated from Lake Hamilton High School in Hot Springs. Chief Brown also attended Arkansas Tech University in Russellville where he played football. Although I never had the honor to meet Chief Brown, I extend my deepest condolences on behalf of all Arkansans to his family, friends, colleagues, and acquaintances for this devastating loss.

Chief Brown enlisted in the U.S. Navy in 1998 and joined the Navy SEALs in 2001. Since that time, he has been assigned to various East Coast-based SEAL teams where he made several combat deployments in support of the global war on terror, distinguishing himself during numerous combat operations in Iraq and Afghanistan. He carried out his duties with pride in his country and without reservation, and each of us owes him our eternal gratitude for his selfless sacrifice.

Chief Brown was a highly-decorated combat veteran and received numerous awards and citations during his 12-year Navy career, including the Bronze Star with combat "V" distinguishing device; Purple Heart; Joint Service Commendation Medal with combat "V" distinguishing device; Joint Service Achievement Medal; five Navy and Marine Corps Achievement Medals; three Good Conduct Medals; the National Defense Service Medal; Afghanistan Campaign Medal; Iraq Campaign Medal; Marksmanship medals for both rifle and pistol; and a multitude of personal, unit, and campaign decorations.

My deepest thoughts and prayers are with his loving wife and two children who live in Virginia Beach, Virginia; his parents, and the rest of his family during this extraordinarily difficult time.

Our nation is safer and stronger because of brave heroes like Chief Brown. Today, I ask all members of Congress to join me as we honor the life of Navy SEAL Chief Petty Officer Adam Brown and his legacy, as well as each man and woman in our armed forces who give the ultimate sacrifice in service to our great country.

RECOGNIZING THE 65TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE BLINDED VETERANS ASSOCIATION

SPEECH OF

HON. JOE COURTNEY

OF CONNECTICUT

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, March 22, 2010

Mr. COURTNEY. Madam Speaker, I rise to recognize and honor the Blinded Veterans Association on its 65th anniversary of representing blinded veterans and their families.

On March 28, 1945, 100 blinded members of the Armed Forces who served in World War II formed the Blinded Veterans Association at Avon "Old Farms" Army Convalescent Hospital in Connecticut. The founders of the Blinded Veterans Association were a cross-section of heroes and pioneers who not only shaped the rich history, philosophy, and knowledge of education and rehabilitation of the blind, but also provided insight into current and future challenges facing the blind and engaged in continual advocacy efforts to ensure that services for all blinded persons would be unique and specialized. In 1946, General Omar Bradley, of the Veterans Administration, appointed the Blinded Veterans Association as the first official representative for blinded veterans for the filing of claims and appeals to the Veterans Administration, making the Blinded Veterans Association only the eighth veterans service organization to receive such authorization.

The Blinded Veterans Association was originally incorporated in New York State as a nonprofit association, and then moved to Washington, DC, in 1947. In 1958, the 58th Congress approved the Congressional Charter for the Blinded Veterans Association. From its early beginnings, the Blinded Veterans Association encouraged the blinded veterans it served "to take their rightful place in the community with their fellow men and work with them toward the creation of a peaceful world," and it has continued to advocate for the war-blinded to regain independence, confidence, and self-esteem through rehabilitation and training; and many people of the United States recognize March 28 of each year as Blinded Veterans Day.

On March 28, 2010, the Blinded Veterans Association will mark its 65th anniversary of dedication to blinded members of the Armed Forces, veterans, and their families. I urge all members of the House of Representatives, and Americans around the country, to join me in honoring these American heroes.

HONORING THE SERVICE OF THE LATE ROBERT MYERS, CHIEF ACTUARY AT THE SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION, AND RECOGNIZING THE OUTSTANDING SERVICE SSA'S ACTUARIES PROVIDE TO CONGRESS, THEIR AGENCY, AND THE AMERICAN PUBLIC

HON. EARL POMEROY

OF NORTH DAKOTA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mr. POMEROY. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor actuaries in general and two actuaries in particular: the longtime actuary of the Social Security Administration (SSA), the late Robert J. Myers, and the current chief actuary, Stephen C. Goss.

Bob Myers died February 13 of this year at the age of 97, and a memorial service was held for him this past weekend. Mr. Myers had a long, exemplary career with the Social Security Administration, starting in 1934 as a junior actuary with SSA's predecessor, the Committee on Economic Security. He later served for 23 years as the agency's chief actuary and was considered one of our country's foremost experts on Social Security.

Bob played a vital role in developing the special relationship between Congress and the Office of the Actuary. Historically, the actuary has been available to provide Members of Congress and the executive branch with confidential, expert, impartial, and trustworthy analysis of Social Security policy and legislative proposals. The Office of the Chief Actuary has truly an unparalleled record of service in the federal government.

Congress specifically recognized the value and importance of an independent and impartial actuary in the conference report accompanying Social Security's enabling statute, the "Social Security Administrative Reform Act of 1994." This report said that "The Office of the Actuary has a unique role within the agency in that it serves both the Administration and the Congress. . . . Thus, the independence of the Office of the Chief Actuary with respect to providing assistance to the Congress is vital in maintaining a trusting and useful relationship." (H. Report 103-670, at page 96)

Though Bob left SSA in 1970, the tradition he established lives on in the work of the chief actuaries who came after him. SSA's current chief actuary, Steve Goss, is an outstanding example. Steve has been an actuary with SSA since 1973 and has served as its chief actuary since 2001. To me and many of my colleagues, Steve personifies the meaning of public service.

Steve's contributions have also been recognized by his colleagues and others. He received the Commissioner's Leadership Award in 1999 and was named a Presidential Distinguished Rank Executive in 2002. In 2004, he was the recipient of the very first Robert M. Ball Award for Outstanding Achievements in Social Insurance. Upon announcing their selection, the National Academy of Social Insurance described Steve this way:

He gives tirelessly and selflessly of himself to try to clarify, illuminate, and explain complex Social Security issues and how estimates are made of revenues, expenses, and actuarial projections within that program. He openly and forthrightly invites suggestions and criticism, hoping to improve the quality of his knowledge and the accuracy of estimates put forward by SSA. Steve Goss and the entire Office of the Chief Actuary provide an exemplary model of integrity and transparency, while maintaining a very high level of productivity.

I could not agree more. Steve Goss has ably continued the tradition Bob Myers started that has kept the Office of the Chief Actuary a trustworthy and consistently reliable source for confidential and honest analysis on which Congress relies to make sound policy decisions affecting Social Security programs. I think Bob Myers would be very proud.

I have worked personally with Steve for many years, and I look forward to relying on his expert knowledge and experience even more now that I am the chairman of the Subcommittee on Social Security. The Social Security Administration could not have as great a reputation among my colleagues without Steve Goss. I congratulate and thank him for his service.

RECOGNIZING THE 4TH ANNUAL CESAR CHAVEZ MARCH

HON. DALE E. KILDEE

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mr. KILDEE. Madam Speaker, I rise today and ask the House of Representatives to join me in recognizing the 4th Annual Cesar Chavez March to be held in my hometown of Flint, Michigan on Saturday, March 27th. The March is being sponsored by the Hispanic Latino Collaborative of Genesee County in honor of Cesar Chavez's birthday on March 31.

Cesar Chavez began his fight for the rights of migrant workers after serving in the U.S. Navy during World War II. He labored in the fields and knew firsthand the terrible conditions endured by migrant workers. He chose to lead the fight to bring justice and dignity to farm workers. Through his leadership, the United Farm Workers was able to win the right for farm workers to organize. Through his work, migrant farmers across our Nation have better working conditions, better pay, better living quarters, and better hours. Cesar Chavez and the United Farm Workers were instrumental in getting dangerous pesticides banned, improving the safety of both our farm fields and the food on our tables.

Madam Speaker, please join me in congratulating the Hispanic Latino Collaborative of Genesee County for keeping the memory and legacy of Cesar Chavez alive. His enthusiasm for justice, his work for his fellow humans, his achievements in the face of adversity, has provided an example for future generations to emulate. Cesar Chavez has demonstrated the difference one person can make in the lives of others.

VETERANS' COMPENSATION COST-OF-LIVING ADJUSTMENT ACT OF 2010

SPEECH OF

HON. SHEILA JACKSON LEE

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, March 22, 2010

Ms. JACKSON LEE of Texas. Madam Speaker, I rise in support of H. Res. 4667, "Veterans' Compensation Cost-of-Living Adjustment Act of 2010" introduced by my distinguished colleague from Virginia, Representative PERRIELLO.

H. Res. 4667 will increase the rates of compensation for veterans with service-connected disabilities and the rates of dependency and indemnity compensation for survivors of certain disabled veterans, and for other purposes. Increases will include wartime disability compensation, additional compensation for dependents, clothing allowances, and compensation for the surviving spouse, and for children. The Secretary of Veteran Affairs shall be responsible for publishing in the Federal Register the amounts, as increased, as specified under the Social Security Act. The Secretary of Veteran Affairs shall increase the dollar amounts in effect on November 30, 2010, for the payment of disability compensation for the rate adjustment that will take effect on December 1, 2010.

It is my distinct honor to stand here today to support a bill that will allow us to show our appreciation to our veterans and honor the service of veterans who have become disabled while serving in the armed forces. These veterans have given great contributions and made incredible personal sacrifices so that all of us in this country might live in a safe and secure nation and world. Providing a cost-of-living increase is only a small step towards repaying the insurmountable debt that all of us owe to all veterans. For, what is the price of freedom?

As President Kennedy once said, "The price of freedom is high, but Americans have always paid it." And no one has paid a higher price than the brave men and women through the years who gave the last full measure of devotion to their country. Whether it is the ultimate sacrifice of life or the loss of limb or the loss of time with family and friends, we owe our veterans an enormous outstanding debt of gratitude.

From Bunker Hill to Yorktown, from Washington, DC to the Battle of New Orleans, from Bull Run to Gettysburg and Antietam to Appomattox, brave Americans gave their lives so that the nation might live. And from Alsace Lorain to Verdun, and Normandy to Berlin and Pearl Harbor to Okinawa, from Inchon and Corregidor to Vietnam, Lebanon, Grenada, Kuwait, Afghanistan, and Iraq, Americans have nobly sacrificed their lives so that the world may live in freedom.

The debt of gratitude we owe to the soldiers, sailors, marines, and airmen who answered their nation's call and made supreme sacrifices can never be repaid. But the nation can follow President Lincoln's admonition to "care for him who has borne the battle, and for his [family]." Indeed, it is the least we can do.

It is out of my profound respect and gratitude for all who wear and have worn the uniform of the United States that I continue to work so hard to pass legislation that will ensure that veterans receive the health care, job opportunities, housing assistance, and educational benefits they deserve.

HONORING THE PASSING OF A DISTINGUISHED COAST GUARD
VETERAN, LT HERBERT COL-LINS, USCG RETIRED

---

HON. JAMES L. OBERSTAR

OF MINNESOTA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mr. OBERSTAR. Madam Speaker, I take this opportunity to honor the service of Lieutenant Herbert Collins, a retired Coast Guard officer, who passed away on March 14, 2010 at the age of 89.

Lieutenant Herbert Collins was the last surviving member of the Coast Guard's Life Boat Station Pea Island, which was the first and only station manned by an all African American crew. This station was in service from 1880 to 1947 and was originally part of the U.S. Life Saving Service until it merged with the Revenue Cutter Service in 1915, creating the U.S. Coast Guard. Members of the Pea Island Life Saving Station performed many heroic rescues and saved countless lives off the Outer Banks of North Carolina during the Station's 67 year existence.

Lieutenant Collins enlisted in the Coast Guard in 1939 and during his 30-year career he was promoted through the ranks to chief boatswain's mate, then to chief warrant officer and eventually to the rank of lieutenant.

During his career, Lieutenant Collins served on five Coast Guard Cutters and in a number of shore assignments, including two tours at the Pea Island Life Saving Station. In 1947, Lieutenant Collins served as Officer-in-Charge of the Coast Guard Station Oregon Inlet in 1947 and then later decommissioned Coast Guard Station Pea Island. Lieutenant Collins retired from the Coast Guard in 1976.

Lieutenant Collins was the last surviving member of the Pea Island Life Saving Station. Additionally, with his passing, another legacy ends as his family held the record for the longest continuous service with the Coast Guard dating back to his grandfather, Joseph H. Berry, who entered the Life Saving Service in 1880.

Lieutenant Collins, I wish you fair winds and following seas.

CONGRATULATING HELEN C.
VANCE ON RECEIVING THE BROWN-HUDSON AWARD FROM THE NORTH CAROLINA FOLK-LORE SOCIETY

HON. HEATH SHULER

OF NORTH CAROLINA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mr. SHULER. Madam Speaker, I rise today to congratulate Helen C. Vance on receiving the Brown-Hudson Award from the North Carolina Folklore Society for her outstanding work to preserve the North Shore Cemeteries in Swain County, North Carolina.

In the 1940s, many families in Western North Carolina were displaced when the Fontana Dam was constructed on the Little Tennessee River in Swain County, and as a result they had to leave behind their homesites and family cemeteries. Plans to build the North Shore Road that would connect displaced families to their old homesites were discontinued in the 1960s. Although the lack of a road makes it difficult to access these sites, Ms. Vance has worked hard to ensure that local communities are able to visit their cemeteries.

For over 30 years, Ms. Vance has organized the Appalachian tradition of Decoration Day, a day where relatives, friends, and neighbors of the deceased in Western North Carolina travel together on trails through the woods, or by boat over the Fontana Lake to these local these cemeteries for a day of remembrance. On Decoration Day, communities spend the day together cleaning the cemeteries and placing decorations on the sites.

The Brown-Hudson Award recognizes Ms. Vance's exceptional contributions to preserving our traditions in our mountain region, and her tireless work to maintain the North Shore cemeteries for future generations. Her community activism is a source of pride to me and to Western North Carolina.

Madam Speaker, I ask my colleagues today to rise with me in recognizing the amazing efforts of Ms. Vance, and the dedication she has shown to preserving the historic North Shore cemeteries Western North Carolina. I urge my colleagues to join me in celebrating her outstanding commitment to our community traditions.

A TRIBUTE TO DR. ROYCE MONEY

HON. RANDY NEUGEBAUER

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mr. NEUGEBAUER. Madam Speaker, I want to recognize Dr. Royce Money for his dedication to Abilene Christian University and, in particular, for his 19 years of service as the university's president. As Dr. Money transitions to the role of chancellor, I join with the ACU community in thanking him for all he has done for the university.

Dr. Money obtained both his bachelor's and master of divinity degrees from Abilene Christian University, and he holds a Ph.D in religion from Baylor University. He continued his education later at the University of Nebraska, where he received an additional master's degree in human development and the family.

Dr. Money and his wife of 45 years, Pam, have both been an integral part of ACU and the Abilene community. Pam Money is a licensed marriage and family therapist and has served as an adjunct professor in the College of Biblical Studies at ACU. They have two daughters, Alison and Jennifer, and are proud grandparents of David, Elizabeth, Andrew, Jonathan, and Caleb. Their favorite hobbies include anything that involves their children and grandchildren.

Dr. Money is a current board member and past chairman of the Independent Colleges and Universities of Texas and a past chairman of the Council for Christian Colleges and Universities. He was named Abilene's "Citizen of the Year" for 2007 by the Abilene Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Royce Money was appointed president of Abilene Christian University June 1, 1991 after serving as an associate professor, department chairman, vice president and provost. Upon his retirement, he will take over the role of chancellor of the university where he will continue to be a strong leader and advocate for ACU. Both Royce and Pam's continued service to the university is greatly appreciated and highly recognized by the city of Abilene and the students, faculty and staff of ACU.

I want to again commend Dr. Money for his service as the president of ACU, and I look forward to his continued leadership as chancellor.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. MICHELE BACHMANN

OF MINNESOTA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mrs. BACHMANN. Madam Speaker, yesterday I accidentally electronically voted "yea" twice for rollcall 170. Consequently, the subsequent vote (rollcall 171) indicated that I was "Not Voting". Madam Speaker, it was my intention to vote "yea" on the last recorded vote on March 22, 2010.

It is of vital importance we care for our disabled veterans who have personally sacrificed to protect our liberties. I fully support The Veterans Compensation Cost-of-Living Adjustment Act.

HONORING MARY ANN
VANDEMARK

HON. DALE E. KILDEE

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mr. KILDEE. Madam Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Mary Ann Vandemark as she is honored by the Michigan Community Action Agency Association. Mary Ann recently retired from her position as Executive Director of the Human Development Commission. She will be honored for her work at a dinner on March 25th in Lansing, Michigan.

Mary Ann Vandemark served as the Executive Director of the Human Development Commission for 31 years prior to her retirement on February 1, 2010. The Commission is a Community Action Agency serving Huron, Lapeer, Sanilac and Tuscola Counties. Their emphasis is on community economic development, housing and energy-related activities. Through their economic development program, they have developed a storm window manufacturing unit into a corporation named Cass River Enterprises, Incorporated with Mary Ann as the Chief Executive Officer.

In addition to her duties with the Human Development Commission, Mary Ann has held several leadership positions with both local and national organizations. Mary Ann served two terms as President of the National Association of Community Action Agencies and three terms as Secretary, was President of both the State and Regional Community Action Agency Associations, a member of the National Symposium on Poverty and Economic Security Steering Committee, Treasurer of the Mid America Community Action Association, Board Member and President of the Great Lakes Rural Network, President of the Michigan Economic Development Coalition, member of the National Community Action Foundation Board of Directors, Board member of the Economic Development Association of Michigan, Board member of Rural Partners of Michigan, and Chairperson of the Michigan Community Action Agency Association Legislative Committee. Locally, she is Chairperson of the Christian Services Committee of the Church of the Sacred Heart and serves as a Lay Minister. Mary Ann is the recipient of the Caro Business & Professional Women's Woman of Achievement Award, honored as Caro's Citizen of the Year, and was the recipient of the Caro Knights of Columbus Council's Family of the Year Award.

Madam Speaker, I ask the House of Representatives to join me in applauding the work of Mary Ann Vandemark. She is a dear friend and I value her advice, her wisdom and her enthusiasm. I congratulate her on a well deserved retirement and wish her the best in this new phase of her life.

OUR UNCONSCIONABLE NATIONAL DEBT

HON. MIKE COFFMAN

OF COLORADO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mr. COFFMAN of Colorado. Madam Speaker, today our national debt is $12,661,039,727,506.65.

On January 6th, 2009, the start of the 111th Congress, the national debt was $10,638,425,746,293.80.

This means the national debt has increased by $2,024,946,690,541.30 so far this Congress. The debt has increased $2,332,709,328.50 since just yesterday.

This debt and its interest payments we are passing to our children and all future Americans.

FLAWS OF MEDICAID EXPANSION

HON. JASON CHAFFETZ

OF UTAH

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mr. CHAFFETZ. Madam Speaker, there are major flaws in the health care legislation that passed the U.S. House of Representatives this week. Utah Governor Gary Herbert recently shared with me two major deficiencies in the Medicaid expansion as addressed in the health care bill.

First, Medicaid expansion ignores the fiscal impact on states. Utah, along with many other states, currently faces challenging financial circumstances. It would be impossible to pay for a sizeable Medicaid expansion and still maintain other critical state priorities such as education and social services without tax increases. This would dampen any economic recovery.

Second, Medicaid expansion ignores the program's current deficiencies. Medicaid is designed to be a temporary help and not a permanent solution for financing medical care because it restricts patient responsibility and limits choices and options. Utah is struggling to find enough providers who are willing to treat Medicaid patients as it is. Putting more people on this program will likely overwhelm the provider system and decrease access for those that need it most.

Medicaid expansion solves the problem of the uninsured by forcing more people into an already overburdened public program. This is an inevitable crush on states' finances and the economy.

STATE OF UTAH,

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR,

Salt Lake City, UT, March 21, 2010.

Hon. JASON CHAFFETZ,
Longworth Building,
Washington, DC.

DEAR CONGRESSMAN CHAFFETZ: I am writing in the hope there is still an opportunity to eliminate the proposed Medicaid expansion in the current health care reform legislation. There are two major flaws with the proposed expansion.

First, the Medicaid expansion ignores the fiscal impact on states. Even though there was a previous commitment that states will not be burdened with the cost of a growing program, it is clear the current versions of the expansion proposal do not keep this commitment. Utah, along with many other states, currently faces challenging financial circumstances. We, in Utah, have fought to minimize the impact on our citizens, but it would be impossible to pay for a sizeable Medicaid expansion and still maintain our commitment to other critical state priorities such as education and social services without tax increases. This would dampen the economic recovery we are beginning to experience.

Second, Medicaid expansion ignores the program's current deficiencies. This proposal would significantly increase the number of Utahns on Medicaid. Instead, we need to get more people off Medicaid and covered by private insurance. Medicaid is designed to be a temporary help to those in need. It is not designed to be a permanent solution for financing medical care because it restricts patient responsibility and limits choices and options. It would be better to pursue approaches that help individuals and families become the primary decision-makers when it comes to their health and health care.

We are struggling to find enough providers who are willing to treat Medicaid patients as it is. Putting more people in this program will likely overwhelm the provider system and decrease access for those that need it the most. Nothing in the current proposal addresses how this problem will be resolved.

I am firmly opposed to a plan that intends to solve the problem of the uninsured by forcing more people into an already overburdened public program. Even though the bill intends to soften the impact with a 2019 full implementation date, this is simply delaying the inevitable crush on states' finances and the economy.

Thank you for your consideration and thank you for your service to our country.

Sincerely,

GARY R. HERBERT,
Governor.

HONORING THE ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF SUPREME COURT JUSTICE SANDRA DAY O'CONNOR, THE FIRST WOMAN TO SERVE ON THE UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT

HON. LAURA RICHARDSON

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Ms. RICHARDSON. Madam Speaker, I rise today in support of H. Res. 1141, which honors the achievements and distinguished career of Justice Sandra Day O'Connor, and recognizes her impact as an American symbol of hard work and rugged individualism. H. Res. 1141 is an important measure that acknowledges the truly impressive career of Sandra Day O'Connor and pays tribute to her distinguished record as one of the nation's great jurists that has inspired generations of women across the country and around the world.

I thank Chairman JOHN CONYERS for his leadership in bringing this bill to the floor. I would also like to thank the sponsor of this legislation, Congresswoman GABRIELLE GIFFORDS, for taking the time to acknowledge Justice O'Connor's positive impact on the legal profession, the world of public service, and the lives of women and girls with dreams as ambitious as her own.

Madam Speaker, Justice Sandra Day O'Connor's rise to the top of the legal profession is a testament to the power of tirelessly dedicating yourself to the pursuit of your dreams and staying true to your core values. After graduating in the top three of her class at Stanford Law School, Justice O'Connor practiced law in Frankfurt, Germany and Phoenix, Arizona. Soon, however, she took her talents to the arena of public service, serving as the Arizona Assistant Attorney General and Majority Leader in the Arizona State Senate. In 1979, she was appointed by Arizona Governor Bruce Babbitt to serve on the Arizona Court of Appeals. Her fair-minded decisions, detailed knowledge of the law, and growing stature in the legal profession led President Ronald Reagan to nominate Sandra Day O'Connor in 1981 to serve as the first woman on the United States Supreme Court.

Justice O'Connor served for 24 terms on the United States Supreme Court. Her service was marked by her centrist judicial philosophy, consensus-building role on the Court, and determination to uphold the law and the Constitution. A shining moment in Justice O'Connor's legacy was her support of the proposed Equal Rights Amendment, which further strengthened her role as a role model for women of all generations. On August 12, 2009, President Barack Obama awarded Sandra Day O'Connor the Presidential Medal of Freedom, a deserved honor for an important national figure who inspires countless Americans.

It is entirely fitting that we take this time to honor Justice Sandra Day O'Connor. The story of Justice O'Connor's ascent to the United States Supreme Court is an inspirational one that reaffirms the power of hard work, determination, and fidelity to core values. Her service on the Court helped make our country better and fairer. Most importantly, through her successful career, she paved the way for female leaders throughout the arena of public service. And it is significant to note that Sandra Day O'Connor achieved all of this while helping raise three children. Her refusal to make the unfair choice between family and career is another reason why she has become a role model for women throughout the country.

Madam Speaker, I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting H. Res. 1141.

HONORING THE 25TH ANNIVERSARY OF WAQP-TV 49

HON. DALE E. KILDEE

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mr. KILDEE. Madam Speaker, please join me in recognizing the achievements of WAQP-TV 49 as it celebrates 25 years broadcasting the Gospel of Jesus Christ in the Flint, Saginaw, Bay City, Midland and Lansing areas. WAQP-TV will celebrate this anniversary on March 25th at the station in Saginaw Michigan.

WAQP-TV 49 is part of TCT, Total Christian Television founded by Drs. Garth and Tina Coonce. The station broadcasts Christian programming 24 hours a day to give inspiration to those in need, and maintains an 800 Prayer Line. The volunteers manning this line pray with the callers and provide hope, encouragement and strength to the most vulnerable. Both callers and volunteers experience the joy that comes from partnering with the Lord. As part of the TCT family, the station and its viewers can connect with Christians around the globe, forming a prayer chain that reaches throughout the world.

Madam Speaker, I ask the House of Representatives to join me in commending WAQP-TV 49 for its commitment to preaching the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Their dedication, enthusiasm and prayers are a blessing to the community and the countless people that encounter Our Lord, Jesus Christ, through their ministry.

RECONCILIATION ACT OF 2010

SPEECH OF

HON. BILL PASCRELL, JR.

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Sunday, March 21, 2010

Mr. PASCRELL. Mr. Speaker, in my capacity as co-chair of the Congressional Brain Injury Task Force, I would like to share my understanding of the intent of the provisions of H.R. 3590, the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act regarding coverage of the treatment continuum for persons with brain injury. I believe that health care reform should address the unique health care needs of individuals with brain injury by recognizing that brain injury is the start of a lifelong disease process requiring access to a full continuum of medically necessary treatment, including rehabilitation and chronic disease management, furnished by accredited programs in the most appropriate treatment setting as determined in accordance with the choices and aspirations of the patient and family, in concert with an interdisciplinary team of qualified and specialized clinicians.

News reports of returning veterans and recent high profile brain injury stories indicate what researchers have been reporting for years—brain injury is a leading public health problem in U.S. military and civilian populations. Brain injury is not an event or an outcome but is the beginning of a lifelong disease process that impacts brain and body functions resulting in difficulties in physical, communication, cognitive, emotional, and psychological performance that undermines health, function, community integration and productive living. Brain injury is also disease causative and disease accelerative in that it predisposes individuals to re-injury and the onset of other conditions (e.g., brain injury impacts neurologic disorders such as epilepsy, vision and hearing impairments, psychiatric disorders, and orthopedic, gastrointestinal, urologic, sexual, neuroendocrine, cardiovascular and musculoskeletal dysfunction).

The Brain Injury Association of America, BIAA, has developed a series of guiding principles for assessing any health reform bill from a brain injury perspective. I am pleased to conclude that the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act reflects and is consistent with these principles.

One principle identified by BIAA is that an individual with brain injury should have access to the full treatment continuum to manage the disease that includes early, acute treatment to stabilize the condition followed by acute and specialized post-acute brain injury treatment and rehabilitation, including inpatient, outpatient, day treatment and home health programs, to minimize and/or prevent medical complication, recover function and cope with remaining physical or mental disabilities, and achieve durable outcomes that maintain an optimal level of health, function and independence following brain injury. The Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act authorizes the Secretary of Health and Human Services to define the details and limits of the essential health benefits package but establishes certain general categories of benefits that must be covered. The bill specifically lists, among other things, hospitalization, outpatient hospital and outpatient clinic services, professional services of physicians and other health professionals, and prescription drugs. In addition, I am pleased that the list includes the following benefits that are of particular importance to persons with brain injury:

Rehabilitative and habilitative services and devices,

Mental health and substance use disorder services, including behavioral treatment, and Chronic disease management.

I believe that for individuals with disabilities such as brain injury, rehabilitation and habilitation is equivalent to the provision of antibiotics to a person with an infection—both are essential medical interventions. The term “rehabilitative and habilitative services” includes items and services used to restore functional capacity, minimize limitations on physical and cognitive functions, and maintain or prevent deterioration of functioning as a result of an illness, injury, disorder or other health condition. Such services also include training of individuals with mental and physical disabilities to enhance functional development.

The term “rehabilitative and habilitative devices” includes durable medical equipment, prosthetics, orthotics, and related supplies. It is my understanding that the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act requires the Secretary of HHS to develop, through regulation, standard definitions of many terms, including durable medical equipment for purposes of comparing benefit categories from one private health plan to another. It is my expectation “prosthetics, orthotics, and related supplies” will be defined separately from “durable medical equipment” and the Secretary is not to define durable medical equipment for purposes of “in-home” use only.

I defining the list of categories of essential health benefits, I am particularly pleased that the bill states that the Secretary shall:

Ensure that such benefits reflect an appropriate balance among the categories so that benefits are not unduly weighted toward any category;

Not make coverage decisions, determine reimbursement rates, establish incentive programs, or design benefits in ways that discriminate against individuals because of their age, disability, or expected length of life;

Take into account the health care needs of diverse segments of the population, including women, children, persons with disabilities, and other groups; and Ensure that essential benefits not be subject to denial on the basis of the individual's present or predicted disability, degree of medical dependency, or quality of life.

Taken together, these are strong protections that will help ensure that the essential health benefits package—that must be offered by all health plans that participate in the new Health Insurance Exchanges—will take into account the needs of people with brain injury and other disabilities and chronic conditions and not impose value judgments about disability and quality of life. This legislative language makes clear that Congress understands the subtle discrimination that can occur against people with brain injury and other disabilities in the area of benefit design.

A provision in the bill allows insurance companies to sell insurance products across State lines. It is my understanding that the new federal standards regarding essential benefits are meant to act as a floor, not a ceiling, for these essential benefits, giving room for plans within states to offer more generous coverage to their constituents. Thus, it is also my understanding that all state benefit and consumer protection laws will be accorded full force and effect when multi-state compacts are organized under one state's laws but sell insurance across state lines.

A second principle identified by BIAA is that an individual with a brain injury should have an individualized medical treatment plan that documents specific diagnosis-related goals when the person has a reasonable expectation of achieving measurable functional improvements in a predictable period of time through the provision of treatment of sufficient scope, duration and intensity. As described above, I am pleased to report that under the bill, payment for items and services included in the essential benefits package should be made in accordance with generally accepted standards of medical and other appropriate clinical or professional practice. In addition, under the bill, a qualified health benefits plan may not impose any restriction (other than cost-sharing) unrelated to clinical appropriateness on the coverage of the health items and services included in the essential benefits package. Consistent with medical, clinical, and professional practice, appropriateness should be determined based on the unique needs of the individual with brain injury and treatment should be of sufficient scope, duration, and intensity.

A third principle identified by BIAA is that individuals with brain injury should receive treatment in the most appropriate treatment setting by accredited programs including acute care hospitals, inpatient rehabilitation facilities, residential rehabilitation facilities, day treatment programs, outpatient clinics and home health agencies as determined in accordance with the choice and aspirations of the patient and family in concert with an interdisciplinary team of qualified and specialized clinicians. I am pleased that the bill includes important patient protections that are designed to permit providers to fully discuss treatment options with patients and their families and permit the patient to render an informed choice as to their course of rehabilitation or other treatment. These patient protections are also designed to ensure that the patient receives appropriate medical care and that the health care treatment is available for the full duration of the patient's medical needs.

More specifically, the bill restricts the Secretary in a number of important ways from creating rules that potentially restrict access to certain benefits or settings of care. The bill states that the Secretary shall not promulgate any regulation that:

Creates any unreasonable barriers to the ability of individuals to obtain appropriate medical care;

Impedes timely access to health care services;

Interferes with communications regarding the full range of treatment options between the patient and provider;

Restricts the ability of health care providers to provide full disclosure of all relevant information to patients making health care decisions;

Violates the principles of informed consent and the ethical standards of health care professionals; or Limits the availability of health care treatment for the full duration of the patient's medical needs.

In addition, the bill specifies that a group health plan and a health insurance issuer shall not discriminate with respect to participation in the group or individual health insurance plan or coverage against any health care provider who is acting within the scope of that provider's license or certification under applicable state law. The bill also specifies that health plans to be considered "qualified" by the Secretary must ensure "a sufficient choice of providers (in a manner consistent with applicable network adequacy provisions under section 2702(c) of the Public Health Services Act) and provide information to enrollees and prospective enrollees on the availability of in-network and out-of-network providers" in order to ensure enrollee access to covered benefits, treatments and services under a qualified health benefits plan. Thus, rehabilitative and habilitative services and chronic disease management services must be available from a full continuum of accredited programs and treatment settings at a level of intensity that is consistent with the needs of the patient.

A fourth principle identified by BIAA is that the bill should prevent private insurance systems from delaying or denying treatment as a means of transferring the burden of brain injury care to taxpayers at federal, state and local levels; ensure that both public and private health insurance systems meet the health care needs of people with brain injury; and avoid using Medicaid and Medicare as the first option for coverage of people with brain injury. I am pleased to report that the bill includes numerous requirements reforming the health insurance marketplace that should prevent private insurance systems from delaying or denying treatment for individuals with brain injury. These reforms include: prohibiting pre-existing condition exclusions; requiring guaranteed issue and renewal; requiring nondiscrimination in health benefits or benefit structure in terms of factors such as health status, medical condition, medical history, disability or any other health status-related factor; limits cost-sharing, and prohibits the imposition of lifetime limits or unreasonable annual limits on the dollar value of benefits for any individual. I believe that these provisions should help prevent private insurance from delaying or denying treatment to persons with brain injury.

The Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act includes provisions rewarding quality through market-based incentives, including consideration of payment structures that provide increased reimbursement or other incentives for, among other things, improving health outcomes through the implementation of activities that include effective case management, care coordination, and chronic disease management. The bill also includes numerous provisions designed to encourage the development of new patient care models that address the needs of persons requiring comprehensive rehabilitation and chronic care management, including models that facilitate the maintenance of close relationships between care coordinators, primary care physicians, specialist physicians, community-based organizations, and other providers of services and suppliers.

Separate provisions are included in the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act regarding post-acute care (PAC) bundling under Medicare. The bill provides for the establishment of a national pilot program for integrated care around a hospitalization in order to improve coordination, quality, and efficiency of health care services. Under the bill, the Secretary will select 1 or more of 8 conditions, taking into consideration, among other things, whether a condition is high volume and most amenable to bundling. Applications to participate in the pilots may be made by "participating providers" consisting of providers of services and suppliers, including but not limited to hospitals.

BIAA, in a submission to the chair of the Senate Finance Committee commented that post-acute payment systems must facilitate, not impede, improvements in functional status of individuals with brain injury and their ability to return to their homes and communities. BIAA supports a deliberative planning process and rigorous pilot testing. The deliberative process should determine, among other things, whether PAC bundling should exempt diagnoses such as brain injury, which are of low predictability and highly complicated; and test innovative payment methods that make payments directly to nonhospital-based treatment centers, including residential rehabilitation facilities specializing in the treatment of brain injury that have earned accreditation by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Facilities and/or the Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities.

I agree with the comments presented by BIAA. I am pleased that the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act is consistent with BIAA's comments and addresses their concerns. I have some reservations regarding the bundling of post-acute care that require the "bundle" be earmarked to an acute care hospital for patients with complex and highly unpredictable diagnosis and health outcomes, as is the case for individuals with brain injury and other catastrophic conditions. I agree with BIAA that such payment systems may impede, rather than facilitate, improvements in functional status and may result in premature return to homes and undue levels of preventable disability without adequate facilitation of progression through necessary step down levels of treatment.

In closing, I believe the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act addresses the unique health care needs of individuals with brain injury by recognizing that brain injury is the start of a lifelong disease process requiring access to a full continuum of medically necessary treatment, including rehabilitation services and devices and chronic disease management, furnished by accredited programs in the most appropriate treatment setting as determined in accordance with the choices and aspirations of the patient and family in concert with an interdisciplinary team of qualified and specialized clinicians.

LA MIRADA 50TH ANNIVERSARY

HON. LINDA T. SÁNCHEZ

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Ms. LINDA T. SÁNCHEZ of California. Madam Speaker. I rise to honor the City of La Mirada's 50th Anniversary.

Fifty years ago, on March 23, 1960, the village residents of Mirada Hills witnessed their homeplace incorporated as a city. At the time, it was a brave step in challenging circumstances, signaling the area's transition from a rural and agriculture community to a beautiful suburb of Los Angeles. This spirit of transition continued when on November 8, 1960, the people of Mirada Hills approved a change of name to the current La Mirada.

It is this striving to meet the challenges of the future for which La Mirada stands and which I would like to share with you today, celebrating the City's 50th anniversary.

La Mirada's development has been, for its first 70 years, closely linked to the family of Andrew McNally, the founder and president of the Rand McNally Publishing Company. In 1888, McNally purchased over 2,200 acres of rangeland and named it La Mirada, which in Spanish means "The View." He built a home and surrounded it with olive, orange, grapefruit and lemon groves. In order to be able to ship his finest olive oil and fruits throughout the United States, he made plans for the construction of a plant and a railroad station, thus providing the basic infrastructure for the further development of La Mirada.

In 1896, McNally turned the property over to his daughter's family, the Neffs. Their home- stead, known as the Neff House, is today listed on the National Register of Historic Sites.

In the early 1950s, the Neff family once more cleared the way for the transition of La Mirada to become a modern city. By selling the land to a number of developers in one of the largest real estate transactions in California, it gave way to an astounding growth in population. In 1946, La Mirada counted 213 inhabitants, by its incorporation in 1960 the city comprised over 8,000 homes.

This overwhelming growth over a short period of time posed great challenges to La Mirada's leaders. But they met those challenges successfully. In the early 1950s, La Mirada was admired as a well structured city. Its spirit was reflected by the State Fair which in 1953 praised La Mirada for planning for the future while at the same time maintaining practicality for today.

This notion holds true today, and I'm confident that it will guide the City's development through the next 50 years.

I want to share La Mirada's spirit and success with the rest of our Nation as an inspiration for how we can master current and future challenges: by taking them on in a positive, pro-active way.

I ask my colleagues to join me in ushering in La Mirada's 50th Anniversary.

Res. 1127).

THE LEGENDARY PRICE PRUETT OF BAYTOWN, TX

HON. TED POE

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, March 23, 2010

Mr. POE of Texas. Madam Speaker, we often speak of great American heroes like Benjamin Franklin, George Washington, and Thomas Jefferson. In Texas, we speak of state heroes like Sam Houston, Stephen F. Austin, and William Barrett Travis. Similar to these great men, in the Second District of Texas, we honor local community heroes like Price Pruett.

Price Pruett was born in the 1800s on a farm in Dayton located in southeast Texas. He attended college at Southwestern University in Georgetown and graduated with a major in Business Administration. After college he spent time rounding up cattle in between Beaumont and Houston. Following in the footsteps of his grandfather who was a rancher in Liberty County, Pruett later established his own ranch in the area now known as Baytown.

In 1902 he married Georgia Estelle Lawrence and the two built a home located at Baytown's present-day Bicentennial Park. In 1917 Pruett teamed up with good friend Ross S. Sterling to form Goose Creek Realty Co. Sterling bought land from Pruett that was acquired when he established his ranch. The land was used for a new town and railroad depot. The town eventually became Goose Creek which was the first incorporated town in east Harris County.

Pruett and Sterling worked hard to sell a great amount of land. The offices of Goose Creek Realty Co. became the depot for the Dayton-Goose Creek Railroad. One of their most notable contributions to the area was the preservation of the beloved oak tree on Texas Avenue. Even when developers recommended cutting the tree down to extend roads in the town Pruett refused.

It has become a long-standing tradition in Baytown to keep the tree alive and well. It is a way for the citizens to honor the men who worked hard to preserve its beauty and originality. Pruett would be proud to know the people of Baytown have continued to carry on his legacy. Today we honor Price Pruett for the establishment of the town and for helping to initiate a tradition of pride, one well-known to the constituents of southeast Texas.
