PURPOSE AND SUMMARY

H.R. 3685 was introduced on September 30, 2009 by Representative Cliff Stearns of Florida. H.R. 3685 would require the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) to include on the main page of the Department's Internet site, a link to the VetSuccess Web site. The bill would also require VA to publicize the existence of the link and to conduct outreach to veterans of the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan.

BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR LEGISLATION

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS), there were 1,039,000 unemployed veterans in August of 2010. Among those veterans, there were 44,000 unemployed veterans ages 18 to 24, for a rate of 19.3 percent. Among older veterans aged 25 to 64, while the rates of unemployment were lower, there were over 850,000 veterans searching for jobs with rates as high as 11.5 percent among the designated age cohorts.

The Committee notes that while the latest unemployment rates among the overall veteran population are slightly lower than the national unemployment rate, unemployment among veterans, especially disabled veterans should be a primary focus of efforts to reduce unemployment.

During the June 6, 2010, legislative hearing on H.R. 3685 held by the Subcommittee on Economic Opportunity, Representative Stearns described concerns expressed by his constituents about the difficulty in determining local employment opportunities. He noted this was especially important as disabled veterans were faced with choosing an education and training in the VA Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment (VRE) program. He also noted that it is important to use taxpayer resources to train veterans for jobs that exist in the area where they live or intend to live and that the VA Web site did not facilitate such job searches.

H.R. 3685 would provide more visible information on the Internet regarding employment opportunities for veterans. In addition to being able to view jobs for veterans posted by several sources, VA's Web site needs remodeling to provide a comprehensive list of links to multiple resources designed to assist veterans in obtaining a job. Resources include such topics as resume building, interviewing skills, networking, and national Web sites containing job listings by very specific locations. The Committee notes that many state employment service Web sites already display employment information in highly detailed formats and encourages VA to adopt a similar approach.

By requiring VA to conduct more rigorous outreach by instituting a national media campaign, veteran job-seekers will find the expanded access to sources of employment a valuable tool to join or rejoin the ranks of the employed.
