6 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

7 Congress makes the following findings:

8 (1) Sound natural resource management and 9 healthy levels of biological diversity are vital to alle-

1 viating poverty in developing countries that depend
2 on these resources for food, medicine, housing mate-
3 rial, trade, recreation, and other activities that ben-
4 efit from the intrinsic value of wildlife and its habi-
5 tat.

6 (2) The United States is uniquely positioned to 7 partner with the international community to con-
8 front natural resources challenges in developing 9 countries.

10 (3) The United States needs a strategy for 11 working jointly with other countries to address re-
12 newable natural resource depletion trends around 13 the world and the threats such trends pose to the 14 economy, health, and security of the United States.
