means that a $1,000 tax hike on Nevada families is prevented. And it means that Nevada small businesses have more money to create jobs. But instead of wholesale support for this commonsense measure, we’re getting excuses and roadblocks.

It’s time for action. Let’s pass this bill.

NATIONAL FAMILY CAREGIVERS MONTH

(Mr. HOLT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. HOLT. Madam Speaker, as the President has designated this month as National Family Caregivers Month, I rise to give honor and to recognize the tens of millions of Americans and the million New Jerseyans who provide loving care for family members and friends living with disabilities and illnesses.

Caregiving is not easy. The caregivers themselves face physical and mental health complications. Some are working with almost unbelievable endurance. Some of these caregivers are part of the “sandwich” generation, providing care for their children as well as their parents. There are economic costs as well. U.S. employers estimate the cost to be about $34 billion a year in lost productivity.

I look forward to working with my colleagues here in Congress to provide caregivers with the help they need—respite care, a reauthorized Older Americans Act, tax credits. Just because the CLASS Act will not be implemented does not mean the need to provide care will go away. We have work to do.

PAYROLL TAX CUT

(Mrs. CAPPS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. CAPPS. Madam Speaker, I rise to urge you to bring legislation today to extend and expand the payroll tax cut to the floor today.

If Congress fails to extend the payroll tax cut, the average American family will pay $1,000 more in taxes next year. Countless families in my district are still struggling to stay afloat; they can’t afford to lose $1,000 in income next year.

Extending and expanding the payroll tax cut is not just the right thing to do for families on the central coast of California; it’s the right thing to do for our economy.

Leading nonpartisan economists estimate that letting the payroll tax expire could cost the economy 400,000 jobs by the end of next year. Such tremendous job losses would be devastating to our already ailing economy and to American families.

Extending the payroll tax cut should have bipartisan support. With all the anti-tax pledges taken by our colleagues across the aisle, you’d think this would be a no-brainer. More than half of the Republican Conference already voted for the payroll tax cut last December.

Madam Speaker, let’s extend the payroll tax cut now. It’s a win for the middle class, it’s a win for small businesses, and it’s a win for our economy.

VOTER SUPPRESSION

(Mr. CLAY asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. CLAY. Madam Speaker, the attempt to intimidate, discourage, or otherwise prevent certain people from voting has a long and notorious history. Unfortunately, voter suppression isn’t just a part of our past; it’s a current event.

Southern States used tactics such as literacy tests and poll taxes to deny African Americans, Native Americans, and poor immigrants their right to vote. While civil rights achievements in the 1960s did away with these tactics, the strategy continues. The old ways have been replaced with voter ID laws, outrageous registration requirements, dishonest inactive voter lists, unfair purging of voter rolls, disinformation campaigns, and unlawful disenfranchisement of ex-offenders.

Madam Speaker, when anyone’s right to vote is threatened, we’re all threatened. We need to stop these blatant attempts to deny American citizens the right to vote.

WORKING ON BEHALF OF AMERICA

(Mr. RANGEL asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. RANGEL. At a time that government is held in such low esteem, it’s time that we all really say to each other that we all love America and we respect America. And all over the world people are just trying to get here.

Recently, we talked about In God We Trust, and the question is whether God is going to continue to trust us. Because the fact is that one of the things that makes our country different is that people don’t come here to become rich. They come here to be respected.

And that is what we have learned, no matter whether it’s Jew or Gentile or Mormon, every religion emphasizes the fact that we have a moral obligation to take care of those people that are vulnerable, whether it’s our kids, our old folks, or sick people.

We don’t talk that way in the House. We talk about education, Medicaid and Social Security. But all of those things, including the opportunity to have a job, make America what it’s supposed to be. It’s the hope for the future that our kids will have a better opportunity than we did.

Let’s say God bless America, and let’s work and make certain that we do all that we can do.

EXTEND UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE AND PAYROLL TAx CUTS

(Mr. PAYNE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. PAYNE. Madam Speaker, it’s time to extend the unemployment insurance and payroll tax cuts.

LET’S NOT FORGET

(Ms. HANABUSA asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. HANABUSA. Madam Speaker, let’s not forget. We talk about the Great Depression and how close we’ve come to it. Let’s recognize and realize as a country did then. We passed the Social Security Act of 1935. And let’s also not forget that part of that is the protection of not only our seniors, but also of those who are unemployed through no fault of their own. That is what we’re looking at. Madam Speaker, we must recognize that it is time to extend the unemployment insurance, or we’re going to cost our economy $30 billion, and we’re going to also affect 1 million people.

Madam Speaker, let’s also recognize what makes us a great country. It is not our military might. What makes us a great country is compassion; it is the fact that we have defined ourselves by how we treat our people. Let’s never forget that.

It is time to be compassionate, Madam Speaker. It is time for us to extend the unemployment insurance.
