A BILL

To combat cyber espionage of intellectual property of United States persons, and for other purposes.

1       Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2       tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3       SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4       This Act may be cited as the “Cyber Economic Espio-
5       nage Accountability Act”.

6       SEC. 2. FINDINGS AND SENSE OF CONGRESS.

7       (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

1           (1) The United States faces persistent cyber es-
2           pionage of intellectual property from foreign govern-
3           ments that threatens United States economic and 4           national security interests, results in an unfair com-
5           petitive advantage for foreign companies, and is a
6           major contributor to the loss of manufacturing jobs
7           in the United States.

8           (2) Cyber espionage of intellectual property by 9           foreign actors is one of the most pressing issues fac-
10          ing innovators and entrepreneurs in the United 11          States today.

12          (3) The National Counterintelligence Executive
13          stated in its October 2011 biennial economic espio-
14          nage report that “Chinese actors are the world’s 15          most active and persistent perpetrators of economic 16          espionage” and that “United States private sector
17          firms and cybersecurity specialists have reported an 18          onslaught of computer network intrusions that have 19          originated in China”.

20          (4) The National Counterintelligence Executive 21          also stated that “Russia’s intelligence services are 22          conducting a range of activities to collect economic 23          information and technology from U.S. targets”.

24          (5) The People’s Republic of China, the Rus-
25          sian Federation, and other countries threaten the

1 privacy of United States citizens by accessing and 2 exploiting personally identifiable information
3 through cyber economic espionage.

4 (6) The People’s Republic of China, the Rus-
5 sian Federation, and other countries responsible for 6 such cyber economic espionage are members of the 7 World Trade Organization (WTO) and have agreed
8 to comply with the global system of rules and obliga-
9 tions governing the international commerce and 10 trade among member states.

11 (7) The United States has recognized the mem-
12 bership of the People’s Republic of China, the Rus-
13 sian Federation, and other countries into the WTO
14 by granting them Permanent Normal Trade Rela-
15 tions (PNTR) status under United States law.

16 (8) Cyber economic espionage undermines the 17 cooperative relationships between the United States
18 and countries tolerating or encouraging such activi-
19 ties.

20 (b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Con-
21 gress that—

22 (1) cyber economic espionage should be a pri-
23 ority issue in all economic and diplomatic discussions
24 with the People’s Republic of China, including dur-
25 ing all meetings of the U.S.-China Strategic and

1 Economic Dialogue, and with the Russian Federa-
2 tion and other countries determined to encourage,
3 tolerate, or conduct such cyber economic espionage
4 at appropriate bilateral meetings;

5 (2) the United States should intensify diplo-
6 matic efforts in appropriate international fora such 7 as the United Nations, the Organisation for Eco-
8 nomic Cooperation and Development (OECD), and 9 summits such as the G–8 and G–20 summits, to ad-
10 dress the harm to the international economic order
11 by cyber economic espionage; and

12 (3) the Department of Justice should increase
13 its efforts to bring economic espionage criminal 14 cases against offending foreign actors, with penalties
15 to include both fines and imprisonment, as well as 16 encourage further cooperation among countries to 17 address cyber economic espionage through criminal 18 prosecutions.

19 SEC. 3. IDENTIFICATION OF PERSONS RESPONSIBLE FOR 20 CYBER ESPIONAGE OF INTELLECTUAL PROP-

3           priate congressional committees notice of, and a 4           justification for, including or continuing to in-
5           clude each person in the classified annex despite 6           any publicly available credible information indi-

17           sional committees not less than 15 days prior to the re-
18           moval of the person from the list that credible information
