A BILL

To promote savings by providing a tax credit for eligible taxpayers who contribute to savings products and to facilitate taxpayers receiving this credit and open a designated savings product when they file their Federal income tax returns.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the “Financial Security
5 Credit Act of 2013”.

1 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

2 Congress finds the following:

3 (1) The personal savings rate reached historic 4 lows in the past decade, and a lack of personal sav-
5 ings was a major contributor to the depth and sever-
6 ity of the recession of 2007–2009.

7 (2) Households continue to lack the savings or 8 structures to meet short-term and long-term needs,
9 as evidenced by the following:

10 (A) According to the Employee Benefit Re-
11 search Institute, among full-time, full-year wage 12 and salary workers ages 21–64, only 54.5 per 13 cent participated in a retirement plan in 2010.

14 (B) According to the Federal Deposit In-15 surance Corporation’s 2011 Survey of 16 Unbanked and Underbanked Households, an es-
17 timated 8.2 percent of United States house-
18 holds, approximately 10 million households, are 19 unbanked. These households do not have a 20 checking or savings account. In total, 29.3 per-21 cent of households do not have a savings ac-
22 count.

23 (C) More than 1 in 4 American households
24 lives in “asset poverty”, meaning they lack the 25 savings or other assets to cover basic expenses
26 (equivalent to what could be purchased with a

1 poverty level income) for three months if a lay-
2 off or other emergency leads to loss of income.
3 If assets that cannot easily be converted to 4 cash, are excluded, such as a home or a busi-5 ness, as many as 4 in 10 households live in 6 “liquid asset poverty”, meaning they lack the 7 cash savings to survive three months at the 8 poverty line.

9 (3) Savings make families more resilient to fi-
10 nancial shocks and more upwardly mobile, as evi-
11 denced by the following:

12 (A) Even small sums of savings, $2,000 or 13 less, have been shown to significantly reduce 14 the incidence of negative financial or material
15 outcomes, such as foregoing adequate nutrition.

16 (B) Children born to low-income, high sav-
17 ing parents are much more likely (71 percent)
18 to move up the economic ladder than children 19 born to low-income, low-saving parents (50 per-20 cent) over a generation.

21 (4) Successful pilot programs have been run in 22 cities as diverse as Houston, Texas; Newark, New 23 Jersey; New York City, New York; San Antonio,
24 Texas; and Tulsa, Oklahoma. These programs, run
25 through Volunteer Income Tax Assistance sites serv-

1 ing only a fraction of potentially eligible tax filers in 2 each city, have shown that tax filers with low in-3 comes can and will save when presented with the 4 right incentive at the right moment.

5 (5) It is in the economic interests of the United 6 States to promote savings among all members of so-
7 ciety, regardless of income.

8 SEC. 3. FINANCIAL SECURITY CREDIT.

9 (a) IN GENERAL.—Subpart C of part IV of sub-10 chapter A of chapter 1 of the Internal Revenue Code of
