

114TH CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

H. R. 194

To award posthumously a Congressional Gold Medal to Medgar Wiley Evers, in recognition of his contributions and ultimate sacrifice in the fight for racial equality in the United States.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

JANUARY 7, 2015

Mr. HARPER (for himself and Mr. THOMPSON of Mississippi) introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on Financial Services

A BILL

To award posthumously a Congressional Gold Medal to Medgar Wiley Evers, in recognition of his contributions and ultimate sacrifice in the fight for racial equality in the United States.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the “Medgar Wiley Evers
5 Congressional Gold Medal Act”.

6 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

7 The Congress finds the following:

1 (1) An integral part of the fight for racial
2 equality, Medgar Wiley Evers, was born July 2,
3 1925, in Decatur, Mississippi, to James and Jessie
4 Evers.

5 (2) Faithfully serving his country, Medgar
6 Evers willingly left high school to join the Army at 7 the start of World War II.

8 (3) After the conclusion of the war, Mr. Evers
9 returned home to Mississippi, completed high school,
10 enrolled in Alcorn Agricultural and Mechanical Col-
11 lege (presently known as Alcorn State University)
12 and earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in Business
13 Administration.

14 (4) While at Alcorn State University, Medgar
15 Evers met and married fellow Alcorn student, Myrlie
16 Beasley, of Vicksburg, Mississippi.

17 (5) Upon graduation, Myrlie and Medgar Evers
18 moved to Mound Bayou, Mississippi, where Medgar
19 held a job with Magnolia Mutual Life Insurance
20 Company, and began establishing local chapters of 21 the National Association for the Advancement of 22 Colored People (“NAACP”) throughout the Mis-
23 sissippi Delta.

24 (6) Having been so moved by the immense suf-
25 fering of African-Americans in Mississippi, Medgar

1 Evers felt compelled to fight to change the cir-
2 cumstances and challenges facing them and, in
3 1954, Medgar Evers became the first known Afri-
4 can-American to apply to the University of Mis-
5 sissippi School of Law. Mr. Evers was denied enroll-
6 ment.

7 (7) In 1954, Medgar Evers became the first
8 Field Secretary for the Mississippi chapter of the 9 NAACP.

10 (8) In the capacities of his new position Medgar
11 Evers hosted numerous voter registration efforts in 12 Mississippi and, as a result of these activities, re-
13 ceived numerous threats against his life.

14 (9) Despite these threats, Mr. Evers carried on 15 his work with dedication and courage, organizing 16 rallies, building membership within the NAACP, and 17 traveling around the country educating the public on 18 the fight for Civil Rights.

19 (10) Medgar and Myrlie Evers' passion for 20 quality education for all children led them to file suit
21 against the Jackson, Mississippi, public school sys-
22 tem gaining him attention with the national media
23 as a leader of the Civil Rights Movement in Mis-
24 sissippi.

1 (11) As a result of his continued and ongoing
2 efforts—rallies, sit-ins, and protests—to stand up
3 for the rights of African-Americans in Mississippi,
4 Mr. Evers was arrested, beaten, and jailed with his 5 due process rights denied.

6 (12) The senseless and abhorrent violence
7 against Mr. Evers reached its pinnacle on June 12, 8 1963, when he was violently shot in front of his 9 home and died shortly afterwards in a local hospital,
10 mere hours after President John F. Kennedy had 11 made a national televised speech from the Oval Of-12 fice calling for full racial integration in America.
13 The Civil Rights Act was enacted the following year.

14 (13) As a veteran, Evers was buried with full 15 military honors at Arlington National Cemetery.

16 (14) On June 23, 1963, Byron De La
17 Beckwith, a member of the White Citizens' Council,
18 was arrested for Evers' murder, but juries in 1964,
19 composed solely of White men, twice deadlocked on 20 De La Beckwith's guilt, resulting in mistrials.

21 (15) Following two trials resulting in acquittal,
22 in 1990, Mrs. Evers convinced Mississippi prosecu-
23 tors to reopen Medgar Evers' murder case, and a
24 new trial led to the conviction and life imprisonment
25 of Medgar Evers' killer in 1994.

1 (16) It is befitting that Congress bestow the 2 highest civilian honor, the Congressional Gold
3 Medal, to Medgar Wiley Evers, posthumously in 4 honor of his work on behalf of racial equality which 5 tragically led to his assassination, but also was a
6 major catalyst in passage and enactment of the Civil 7 Rights Act in 1964.

8 SEC. 3. CONGRESSIONAL GOLD MEDAL.

10 the House of Representatives and the President pro tem-

25 under subsection (a), the medal shall be given to the Mis-

3 as appropriate.

8 a price sufficient to cover the cost thereof, including labor,
9 materials, dies, use of machinery, and overhead expenses,
10 and the cost of the gold medal.

11 SEC. 5. STATUS OF MEDALS.

13 ant to this Act are national medals for purposes of chapter
14 51 of title 31, United States Code.
