SEC. 530. (a) SHORT TITLE.—This section may be cited as the “Health Care Conscience Rights Act”.

(b) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

(1) As Thomas Jefferson declared to New London Methodists in 1809, “[n]o provision in our Constitution ought to be dearer to man than that which protects the rights of conscience against the enterprises of the civil authority’’.

(2) Jefferson’s conviction on respect for conscience is deeply embedded in the history and traditions of our Nation, and codified in numerous Federal laws approved by congressional majorities and Presidents of both parties, including in the Public Health Service Act; the United States Leadership Against HIV/AIDS, Tuberculosis, and Malaria Act; the Religious Freedom Restoration Act; longstanding provisions on respect for conscience rights in the Federal Employees Health Benefits Program and District of Columbia appropriations; and laws to protect individuals from being forced to participate in Federal executions or prosecutions.

(3) Following enactment of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (Public Law 111–148, in this section referred to as “PPACA”), the Federal Government has sought to impose specific requirements that infringe on the rights of conscience of those who offer or purchase health coverage.

(4) While PPACA provides an exemption for some religious groups that object to participation in health insurance generally, and exempts millions of Americans from most of the Act’s provisions, including the preventive services mandate, it fails to provide statutory protection for those seeking to offer and purchase health coverage who have a religious or moral objection only to specific items or services.

(5) Nurses and other health care providers have increasingly been subjected to discrimination for abiding by their conscience rather than providing, paying for, or referring for abortion.

(6) Conscience rights protections for health care providers are an important part of civil rights protections in Federal law and are indispensable to the continued viability of the health care system in the United States. The increasingly significant discrimination suffered by faith-based nonprofit health care providers risks undermining access to high-quality compassionate care for some of the most vulnerable populations in our country.

(c) APPLYING LONGSTANDING POLICY ON CONSCIENCE RIGHTS TO THE AFFORDABLE CARE ACT.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Title I of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (Public Law 111–148) is amended—

(B) by redesignating the third section 1563 (relating to the Sense of the Senate promoting fiscal responsibility) as section 1565;

and

(C) by adding at the end the following new section:

SEC. 1566. RESPECTING CONSCIENCE RIGHTS IN HEALTH CARE COVERAGE.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding any other provision of this title, no provision of this title (and no amendment made by any such provision) shall—

(2) require a sponsor (or, in the case of health insurance coverage offered to students through an institution of higher education, the institution of higher education offering such coverage) to sponsor, purchase, or provide any health benefits coverage or group health plan that includes coverage of an abor-

or institution, respectively, has a moral or religious objection, or prevent an issuer from offering or

or

or religious objection, in relation to health insurance

this section shall be construed to prohibit the Secretary from issuing regulations or other guidance to ensure that abortion or other items or services under this section shall have an aggregate actuarial value at least equivalent to that of health insurance coverage or group health plans at the same level of coverage that do not exclude such items or services.
