

114TH CONGRESS
2D SESSION

H. R. 4770

To amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to provide appropriate rules for the application of the deduction for income attributable to domestic production activities with respect to certain contract manufacturing or production arrangements.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MARCH 16, 2016

Mr. TIBERI (for himself, Mr. NEAL, Mr. STIVERS, and Mrs. BEATTY) introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means

A BILL

To amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to provide appropriate rules for the application of the deduction for income attributable to domestic production activities with respect to certain contract manufacturing or production arrangements.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

1 SECTION 1. APPLICATION OF DEDUCTION FOR INCOME AT- 2 TRIBUTABLE TO DOMESTIC PRODUCTION AC-
3 TIVITIES TO CERTAIN CONTRACT MANUFAC-
4 TURING OR PRODUCTION ARRANGEMENTS.

5 (a) IN GENERAL.—Section 199(d) of the Internal 6 Revenue Code of 1986 is amended—

7 (1) by inserting “the same qualified production 8 activities income derived from” before “any activity” 9 in paragraph (10),

10 (2) by redesignating paragraph (10) (as amend-11 ed by paragraph (1)) as paragraph (11), and 12 (3) by inserting after paragraph (9) the fol-13 lowing new paragraph:

14 “(10) CONTRACT MANUFACTURING OR PRODUC-
15 TION ARRANGEMENTS.—

16 “(A) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in 17 subparagraph (B), in the case of a contract
18 manufacturing or production arrangement
19 under which any person makes a substantial 20 contribution through the activities of its em-
21 ployees within the United States to the manu-22 facture, production, growth, or extraction of 23 qualifying production property, taking into ac-
24 count the factors set forth in subparagraph
25 (D)—

1 “(i) such person shall be treated as 2 engaging in the manufacturing, produc-
3 tion, growth, or extraction of such quali-
4 fying production property, and

5 “(ii) the domestic production gross re-6 ceipts of such person shall include the 7 gross receipts of such person received 8 under such arrangement for such activities.

9 “(B) TREATMENT OF CERTAIN WRITTEN 10 AGREEMENTS.—In the case of a contract manu-
11 facturing or production arrangement, if all par-12 ties to such arrangement agree in writing that 13 only one such person shall be eligible for the de-14 duction under this section, such person shall be 15 treated as performing the activities described in 16 subclauses (I) and (II) of subsection
17 (c)(4)(A)(i) under such arrangement and no 18 other person shall be treated for purposes of 19 this section as performing such activities.

20 “(C) CONTRACT MANUFACTURING OR PRO-
21 DUCTION ARRANGEMENT.—For purposes of this 22 paragraph, the term ‘contract manufacturing or 23 production arrangement’ means any arrange-24 ment under which—

1 “(i) a person contracts with one or 2 more unrelated persons for the manufac-3 ture, production, growth or extraction of 4 an item of qualifying production property 5 or a qualified film, and 6 “(ii) in the case of qualifying produc-

7 tion property, such item of qualifying pro-
8 duction property is manufactured, pro-
9 duced, grown or extracted in whole or sig-
10 nificant part within the United States pur-
11 suant to subsection (c)(4)(A)(i)(I).

12 “(D) FACTORS FOR DETERMINING SUB-13 STANTIAL CONTRIBUTION.—The Secretary shall 14 prescribe regulations setting forth activities to 15 be taken into account in determining whether a 16 person makes a substantial contribution 17 through the activities of its employees within 18 the United States to the manufacture, produc-
19 tion, growth or extraction of qualifying produc-
20 tion property for purposes of subparagraph (A).
21 Such factors shall include—

22 “(i) oversight and direction of the ac-23 tivities or process pursuant to which the 24 property is manufactured, produced, grown 25 or extracted;

1 “(ii) physical transformation of per-
2 sonal property, or assembly or conversion
3 of component parts into qualifying produc-
4 tion property, that does not by itself con-
5 stitute manufacturing, production, growth
6 or extraction pursuant to subsection
7 (c)(4)(A)(i)(I);

8 “(iii) material selection, vendor selec-9 tion, or ownership and control of the raw 10 materials, work-in-process or finished 11 goods;

12 “(iv) management of risk of loss, cost 13 reduction or efficiency initiatives associated 14 with the manufacturing process, demand
15 planning, production scheduling, hedging
16 raw material costs and other manufac-
17 turing costs or capacities;

18 “(v) control of manufacturing related 19 logistics;

20 “(vi) sample testing, establishment of 21 quality control standards and other quality 22 control activities;

23 “(vii) developing, or directing the use 24 or development of, product design and de-25 sign specifications, as well as trade secrets,

1 technology, and other intellectual property
2 for the purpose of manufacturing, pro-
3 ducing, growing or extracting the quali-
4 fying production property; and

5 “(viii) such other activities as shall be 6 determined by the Secretary.

7 “(E) SAFE HARBOR FOR DETERMINING 8 SUBSTANTIAL CONTRIBUTION.—

9 “(i) IN GENERAL.—A person which 10 has economic risk of loss with respect to 11 greater than 50 percent of the direct mate-12 rial costs necessary to the manufacture, 13 production, growth, or extraction of the 14 qualifying production in whole or in signifi-
15 cant part within the United States shall be 16 deemed for purposes of subparagraph (A) 17 to make a substantial contribution through 18 the activities of its employees within the 19 United States to the manufacture, produc-
20 tion, growth, or extraction of such quali-
21 fying production property.

22 “(ii) ECONOMIC RISK OF LOSS.—For 23 purposes of this subparagraph, a person
24 has economic risk of loss if such person
25 bears the ultimate economic responsibility

1 for the direct material cost. The following
2 factors shall not affect the determination 3 of economic risk of loss:

4 “(I) Contractual requirements to 5 insure the direct materials.

6 “(II) Contractual liability for 7 breach of performance.

8 “(iii) DIRECT MATERIAL COST.—For 9 purposes of this subparagraph, the term 10 ‘direct material cost’ includes the cost of 11 materials that become an integral part of 12 qualifying production property and mate-13 rials that are consumed in the ordinary 14 course of production and that can be iden-15 tified or associated with particular units or 16 groups of units of property produced.”.

17 (b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—

18 (1) IN GENERAL.—The amendments made by 19 this section shall apply to taxable years beginning 20 after the date of the enactment of this Act.

21 (2) ELECTION FOR RETROACTIVE APPLICA-
22 TION.—If all of the persons entering into a written 23 agreement described in section 199(d)(10)(B) of the 24 Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (as amended by this 25 Act) elect to have this paragraph apply to taxable

1 years beginning on or before the date of the enact-2 ment of this Act and can demonstrate, by providing 3 copies of timely filed tax returns (including amended 4 returns) or otherwise, that only one person claimed 5 the deduction under section 199 of such Code in 6 such taxable years with respect to the property de-7 scribed in the agreement, then the amendments 8 made by this section shall apply to such taxable 9 years of such persons.

10 (c) NO INFERENCE.—The amendments made by this 11 section are intended as safe harbors and shall not be con-12 strued as adversely affecting the eligibility for a deduction
13 under section 199 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986
14 of any person who contracts with another person to manu-15 facture, produce, grow or extract property described in 16 subsection (e)(5) or (e)(6) of such section.
