

115TH CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

S. 1542

For the relief of James Doyle, doing business as Rocky Mountain Ventures and Environmental Land Technologies, Ltd.

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES

JULY 12, 2017

Mr. HATCH introduced the following bill; which was read twice and referred to the Committee on the Judiciary

A BILL

For the relief of James Doyle, doing business as Rocky Mountain Ventures and Environmental Land Technologies, Ltd.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the “Private Relief for 5 James Doyle Act”.

6 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

7 Congress finds that—

8 (1) in the early 1980s, James Doyle, doing
9 business as Rocky Mountain Ventures and Environ-
10 mental Land Technologies, Ltd., began assembling

1 land for a massive real estate development in the 2 rapidly growing St. George area of Utah;

3 (2) the centerpieces of this development were 9
4 golf courses surrounded by luxury homes;

5 (3) during the 1980s, James Doyle acquired
6 2,440 acres and held preferential rights to an addi-
7 tional 11,000 acres for this development;

8 (4) throughout the 1980s and into the 1990s,
9 James Doyle invested large amounts of money to ac-
10 quire and develop this land, including—

11 (A) procuring the water rights and engi-
12 neering studies;

13 (B) developing proposals and designs for 14 transportation corridors;

15 (C) constructing 1 golf course and design-
16 ing 9 more;

17 (D) developing utility layouts and place-
18 ments;

19 (E) installing necessary sewer, water, and 20 power for the various properties; and

21 (F) securing all necessary zoning adjust-
22 ments and development permissions;

23 (5) with planning and preparation essentially 24 complete by 1989, James Doyle was prepared to 25 break ground for the initial phase of his project;

1 (6) on April 2, 1990, the United States Fish
2 and Wildlife Service published a final rule listing the 3 Mojave population of the desert tortoise as “threat-
4 ened” under the Endangered Species Act of 1973
5 (16 U.S.C. 1531 et seq.);

6 (7) on February 8, 1994, the United States
7 Fish and Wildlife Service published a final rule des-
8 ignating all of James Doyle’s land as critical habitat
9 for the Mojave population of the desert tortoise;

10 (8) the listing of the desert tortoise and des-11 ignation of James Doyle’s land as critical habitat for 12 the tortoise made James Doyle’s planned land devel-
13 opment, as well as that of other nearby lands, un-14 lawful;

15 (9) in response to the designation, James 16 Doyle, as a member of the Habitat Conservation
17 Plan Steering Committee, worked with other land-
18 owners, as well as Federal, State, and county offi-
19 cials, to create a Habitat Conservation Plan covering 20 Washington County that would have allowed James 21 Doyle to develop a portion of his land;

22 (10) the United States Fish and Wildlife Serv-
23 ice rejected the plan, stating that the plan set aside
24 insufficient land to protect the tortoise;

1 (11) James Doyle and the Steering Committee
2 prepared a revised Habitat Conservation Plan, which 3 the United States Fish and Wildlife Service ap-
4 proved on February 23, 1996;

5 (12) the revised Habitat Conservation Plan al-
6 lowed the development of 350,000 acres of tortoise 7 habitat, and set aside 61,022 acres, including all of 8 James Doyle's land, as protected tortoise habitat re-9 serve where no development was allowed;

10 (13) in return for placing the land in the tor-
11 toise reserve, the United States promised that it
12 would acquire title to all of the private land, includ-
13 ing James Doyle's, by exchange or purchase at fair
14 market value;

15 (14) despite extensive negotiations, the United 16 States acquired only about 400 acres of James 17 Doyle's land for the tortoise reserve, leaving the re-
18 mainder of his acreage vacant and unproductive;

19 (15) as the years passed, James Doyle's inabil-
20 ity to develop or sell this remaining acreage resulted 21 in severe financial limitations, leaving him unable to 22 service the mortgages he had incurred on the land
23 to finance acquisition and development costs;

24 (16) on March 30, 2004, unable to develop, ex-25 change, or sell the land, in which James Doyle had

1 invested millions of dollars, James Doyle was forced 2 to seek bankruptcy protection;

3 (17) in 2010, James Doyle completed, and the 4 bankruptcy court approved, a plan under which 5 James Doyle was required to transfer to his credi-
6 tors all but 274 acres of his land, which he still owns 7 but cannot develop;

8 (18) in 2015, James Doyle filed suit in the 9 United States Court of Federal Claims, seeking just 10 compensation for the land that has served as a tor-11 toise reserve since 1996, and was taken without 12 compensation;

13 (19) the United States Court of Federal Claims
14 dismissed James Doyle's claim, without prejudice,
15 ruling that he must first seek and be denied a 16 United States Fish and Wildlife Service permit to 17 develop his land, even though it is within the Red 18 Cliffs Desert Reserve where no development is al-19 lowed; and

20 (20) the permit process would take several 21 years and would be futile.

22 SEC. 3. SETTLEMENT OF CLAIM.

23 (a) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of the Treasury
24 shall pay James Doyle, out of money not otherwise appro-
25 priated, a sum of money, in an amount to be determined

1 by the United States Court of Federal Claims, rep-
2 resenting the amount to which James Doyle may be enti-
3 tled in order to make James Doyle whole for any damages
4 and losses sustained by James Doyle by reason of the Fed-5 eral Government's taking of approximately 2,000 acres of 6 his land located in the St. George area of Utah, now des-
7 ignated as the Red Cliffs Desert Reserve and set aside
8 as habitat for the Mojave desert tortoise, a species listed
9 under the Endangered Species Act of 1973 (16 U.S.C.
10 1531 et seq.).

11 (b) FULL SATISFACTION OF CLAIMS.—The payment 12 made under subsection (a) shall be in full satisfaction of 13 all claims of James Doyle against the United States.
