A BILL

To amend title 10, United States Code, to ensure that women members of the Armed Forces and their families have access to the contraception they need in order to promote the health and readiness of all members of the Armed Forces, and for other purposes.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

1 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

2 This Act may be cited as the “Access to Contracep-
3 tion for Women Servicemembers and Dependents Act of 4 2017”.

5 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

6 Congress makes the following findings:

7 (1) Women are serving in the Armed Forces at 8 increasing rates, playing a critical role in the na-
9 tional security of the United States. Women com-
10 prise just over 15 percent of military service mem-
11 bers and more than 200,000 women serve on active
12 duty in the Armed Forces or in the Selected Re-
13 serve.

14 (2) More than 95 percent of women serving in 15 the military are of reproductive age. And approxi-
16 mately 1,100,000 female spouses and dependents of 17 active duty military personnel are of reproductive 18 age.

19 (3) TRICARE covered approximately 1,400,000
20 women of reproductive age in 2015, including female
21 spouses and dependents of active duty military per-
22 sonnel. For approximately 900,000 of these women,
23 TRICARE was their only source of coverage.

24 (4) Contraception is critical for women’s health
25 and is highly effective at reducing unintended preg-
26 nancy. The Centers for Disease Control and Preven-

1 tion describe contraception as one of the 10 greatest
2 public health achievements of the twentieth century.

3 (5) Contraceptive access is strongly connected
4 to women's greater educational and professional op-
5 portunities and increased lifetime earnings. In-
6 creased wages and increased control over reproduc-
7 tive decisions provide women with educational and 8 professional opportunities that have increased gen-
9 der equality over the decades since contraception
10 was introduced.

11 (6) Studies have shown that when cost barriers
12 to the full range of methods of contraception are 13 eliminated, and women receive comprehensive coun-
14 seling on the various methods of contraception (in-
15 cluding highly effective and more expensive Long-16 Acting Reversible Contraceptives (LARCs)), rates of 17 unintended pregnancy decline. Costs can be prohibi-
18 tive, particularly for LARCs which can have high
19 upfront costs.

20 (7) Research has also shown that investments
21 in effective contraception save public and private 22 dollars.

23 (8) In order to fill gaps in coverage and access 24 to preventive care critical for women's health, the 25 Affordable Care Act (ACA) requires all non-grand-

1 fathered individual and group health plans to cover
2 without cost-sharing preventive services, including a
3 set of evidence-based preventive services for women
4 supported by the Health Resources and Services Ad-
5 ministration (HRSA). These women’s preventive
6 services include the full range of female-controlled
7 U.S. Food and Drug Administration-approved con-
8 traceptive methods, effective family planning prac-
9 tices, and sterilization procedures. HRSA has af-
10 firmed that contraceptive care includes contraceptive
11 counseling, initiation of contraceptive use, and fol-
12 low-up care (e.g., management, and evaluation as 13 well as changes to and removal or discontinuation of 14 the contraceptive method).

15 (9) Under the TRICARE program, service-
16 women on active duty have full coverage of all pre-17 scription drugs, including contraception, without 18 cost-sharing requirements. However, servicewomen
19 not on active duty and female dependents of mem-
20 bers of the Armed Forces do not have similar cov-
21 erage of all prescription methods of contraception
22 approved by the Food and Drug Administration
23 without cost-sharing.

24 (10) Studies indicate that servicewomen need
25 comprehensive counseling for pregnancy prevention,

1 particularly in their predeployment preparations,
2 and the lack thereof is contributing to unintended
3 pregnancies among servicewomen.

4 (11) Research studies based on the Department
5 of Defense Survey of Health Related Behaviors
6 Among Active Duty Military Personnel found a high
7 unintended rate of pregnancy among servicewomen.
8 Adjusting for the difference between age distribu-
9 tions in the Armed Forces and the general popu-
10 lation, the rate of unintended pregnancy among 11 servicewomen is higher than among the general pop-
12 ulation.

13 (12) The Defense Advisory Committee on
14 Women in the Services (DACOWITS) has rec-
15 ommended that all the Armed Forces, to the extent
16 that they have not already, implement initiatives
17 that inform servicemembers of the importance of 18 family planning, educate them on methods of contra-
19 ception, and make various methods of contraception
20 available, based on the finding that family planning
21 can increase the overall readiness and quality of life
22 of all members of the Armed Forces.

23 (13) Health care, including family planning for 24 survivors of sexual assault in the Armed Forces is 25 a critical issue, particularly given the prevalence of sexual assault in the military. Recent data show that women in the military are five times more likely to be victims of sexual assault than men. Servicewomen who are survivors of sexual assault should not be treated differently from civilian survivors. The Department of Defense reported that there were more than 3,000 reported sexual assaults involving service members in fiscal year 2011.

(14) Servicewomen on active duty report rates of unwanted sexual contact at approximately 16 times those of the comparable general population of women in the United States. Through regulations, the Department of Defense already supports a policy of ensuring that servicewomen who are sexually assaulted have access to emergency contraception.
