RECOGNIZING THE LIFE OF FALLEN U.S. NAVY ENGINEMAN PETTY OFFICER FIRST CLASS (PO1) VINCENT E. PARKER, SR.

HON. TRENT KELLY

OF MISSISSIPPI

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, December 1, 2017

Mr. KELLY of Mississippi. Mr. Speaker, today I rise in memory of fallen U.S. Navy Engineman Petty Officer First Class (PO1) Vincent E. Parker, Sr. who paid the ultimate sacrifice while defending our nation on November 18, 2001, during Operation Enduring Freedom. PO1 Parker drowned aboard Samra, an Iraqi freighter, which capsized in the Persian Gulf. Petty Officer Third Class (PO3) Benjamin Johnson also died. PO1 Parker was part of a security team from the USS Peterson (DD969). He was based at Norfolk Naval Station, Virginia.

United States Representative Charles W. "Chip" Pickering, Jr. submitted details of PO1 Parker's service into the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD on Thursday, December 13, 2001. PO1 Parker, a native of Preston, Mississippi, joined the U.S. Navy in 1982 after graduating from Nanih Waiya High School in Louisville, Mississippi. In the document, Rep. Pickering described PO1 Parker as a devout member of the Assembly of God Church in Columbus, Mississippi, and he grew up in a loving, well-respected family with five siblings. PO1 Parker's mission on the day he died was to enforce the United Nations sanctions imposed upon Iraq following the Gulf War. He boarded Samra, a ship believed to be smuggling oil for Saddam Hussein. Rep. Pickering commended PO1 Parker for his lifelong devotion as a son, husband, brother, father, and citizen. Rep. Pickering also said that while serving on board the USS Peterson, PO1 Parker was known not only for his naval leadership, but also for the example he set as a citizen and a man of God.

Stephenie Parker Ybarra, PO1 Parker's niece from Columbus, Mississippi, paid tribute to her uncle in a post on a memorial website. "Uncle Butch, you were loved by the whole family," Stephenie wrote. "You were one of our family's role models. All the nieces and nephews adored you. I can't tell you how much you are missed, but I can tell you I am extremely proud to have been your niece. Your ultimate sacrifice is only a small reflection of the type of person you were. I can't wait to one day see you and grandpa again and recap on all the stories you have missed. I love you and miss you!" Another niece of PO1 Parker, Jessica Owen of Amory, posted a tribute on the same memorial website. "I am so proud of you," Jessica wrote. "You are the bravest man I have ever known, and your courage has reflected upon your family. We are better people because we have loved, and have been loved by you. The sacrifice you made for the family and country you loved will never be forgotten. I carry your memory in my heart every day. Like Steph, I look forward to the day when I can talk to you again and to the day when we can look back at all you have missed and smile together."

PO1 Parker is survived by his wife, Charlotte Parker; their two children, Vincent Parker and Rachel Parker; his sister Ruth Marie Parker; and his four brothers, Glenn Parker, Andy Parker, Steven Parker, and John Parker.

PO1 Parker proudly served in the U.S. Navy for 19 years. His commitment to protect America will always be remembered.

RECOGNIZING THE SESQUICENTENNIAL ANNIVERSARY OF UPLAND, INDIANA

HON. SUSAN W. BROOKS

OF INDIANA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, December 1, 2017

Mrs. BROOKS of Indiana. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to commemorate the 150th anniversary of the incorporation of the town of Upland, Indiana. Upland has played an integral role in the industrial and educational development of Indiana and Hoosiers from every part of the state are thankful for the contributions of the men and women of Upland.

The town of Upland is celebrating 150 years, but the history of Upland dates back further. Settlers came to the area in 1828, clearing the land and trapping wild game for food and furs. In 1867, settler Jacob Bugher gave a right of way to the Central Railroad of Indiana in exchange for a promise that all passenger rail would stop in the soon-to-be-formed town. Central Railroad of Indiana agreed, the railroad was built, and Upland was officially incorporated.

In the years since it gained its name as the highest point on the Central Railroad of Indiana rail line, Upland has developed into a lively and thriving community, serving as a home for generations to families, businesses, professionals, churches, schools, and other organizations.

In 1887, the town saw a great influx in business due to the discovery of natural gas. Just a few years later, in 1893, Taylor University moved to Upland. The University was founded on the belief that education should be available to women as well as men, and Taylor University is now regularly ranked in the top three colleges in the Midwest by U.S. News & World Report. The arrival of Taylor University gave students across the country the opportunity to receive a first-class liberal arts education in a special town.

In recent years there has been an influx of business developments in Upland, which has been great for the economic growth of the town. The town of Upland has a unique balance between established favorites like Ivanhoe's Drive-In, a drive-in restaurant established in 1965 famous for its ice cream and burgers, and attracting new businesses, like coffee shops and clothing stores.

Upland, Indiana exemplifies the best of small-town America. The citizens have a clear passion and love for their town, but are also quick to welcome visitors from around the world. I am proud to represent such an amazing town, one with a history of growth and success as well as the promise of a prosperous future. Please join me in celebrating the sesquicentennial anniversary of the incorporation of the great town of Upland, Indiana.

Mr. KELLY of Mississippi. Mr. Speaker, today I rise in memory of Army Sergeant (SGT) Gregory Leroy Tull who paid the ultimate sacrifice while defending our nation on November 25, 2005, during Operation Iraqi Freedom. SGT Tull was killed when an improvised explosive device detonated near the armored Humvee he was riding in during combat operations in Anbar Province, Iraq. SGT Tull was the gunner on the Humvee. SGT Tull was assigned to the 1st Battalion, 194th Field Artillery, Iowa Army National Guard, Storm Lake, Iowa. At the time of his death, SGT Tull was temporarily assigned to the 2nd Battalion, 114th Field Artillery, Mississippi Army National Guard.

According to the Associated Press, SGT Tull enlisted in the Iowa Army National Guard in 2002 and graduated from Pocahontas Area High School the following year. He then attended South Dakota State University before volunteering for Operation Iraqi Freedom in November 2004.

Lieutenant Colonel (LTC) Gregory O. Hapgood, a National Guard spokesman, said SGT Tull was proud of his service. "He was a very bright young man and he really was a go-to guy in his unit," LTC Hapgood said. "He was a guy who didn't shirk his duty. He wanted to be where it was happening."

"He had tremendous character and strength and I don't ever remember him getting into any sort of trouble whatsoever. I carry a picture of him in my wallet and will do so for the rest of my life, to be reminded of his bravery for inspiration. He is greatly missed, especially by his parents and brother who handled this hardship with tremendous dignity and class."

Greg Tull, SGT Tull's father, thanked more than 100 people who posted tributes to his son on a memorial website. "I want to thank everybody for their support and for having Greg as a friend," Mr. Tull said. "I never knew how many lives Greg touched. GOP TAX SCAM

HON. SHEILA JACKSON LEE

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, December 1, 2017

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Mr. Speaker, it is not enough to subject the GOP tax plan to the test of fiscal responsibility.

To keep faith with the nation's past, to be fair to the nation's present, and to safeguard the nation's future, the plan must also pass a "moral test."

This tax plan fails both the fiscal responsibility test and the moral responsibility test.

This tax cut package is a return to trickle-down economics.

This tax bill is a thoughtless and immoral GOP tax scam that will explode our nation's deficit and hurt poor, working, and middle class families.

It will explode the deficit by $2.2 trillion over 10 years.

The non-partisan Congressional Budget Office has concluded that the Senate bill would, on average, raise taxes or reduce federal expenditures for households with incomes below $75,000 by about $60 billion.

This tax cut bill is a repudiation of the social contract that F.D.R. announced in the New Deal.

The overwhelming portion of the bill is a lowering of the corporate tax rate, from the current 35 percent down to 20 percent.

In my home state of Texas, more than 1.7 million households earning less than $127,000 would see a tax hike.

The proposed elimination of the personal exemption will harm millions of Texans by taking away the $4,050 deduction for each taxpayer and claimed dependent; in 2015, roughly 9.3 million dependent exemptions were claimed in the Lone Star State.

In this tax bill, by taking away the student loan interest and educator expense deductions, more than 876,000 Texas students will lose an average credit of $1,063, while nearly 354,000 Texas teachers who buy notebooks and erasers for their classrooms will lose an average credit of $261.

The Republicans in Congress ASSUME that corporations will pass down savings to consumers.

But this never works. Corporations simply stash their money in tax havens.

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the last time the GOP cut taxes for corporations, they spent as much as 90 percent of their windfall buying back shares, giving dividends to shareholders, stock options and executives.

This "tax bill" would lift a 1954 ban on political activism by churches, further blurring the line between church and state.

The House and Senate bills would circumscribe the ability of states and local governments to levy own taxes, which would force states to cut spending on health, care education, public transportation and social services.

The full 10-year plan for the bill reveals how bad it is: by 2027, individuals making between $40,000 and $50,000 would pay a combined $5.3 Billion more in taxes, while those earning more than $1 billion or more would get a $5.8 billion cut.

To quote the former Chief of Staff of the congressional Joint Committee on Taxation: "[This tax bill] is not aimed at growth. It is not aimed at the middle class."

It is at every turn carefully engineered to deliver a kiss to the donor class."

According to the New York Times, in a recent survey of from the University of Chicago, only one of 38 prominent economists said the proposed tax cuts would yield substantial growth.

The proposed tax cuts would add to the long term federal debt burden.

This health bill would also alter healthcare in America.

Health Coverage would shrink in the United States, while wealthy estates would not pay at all.

The Senate version of the tax bill would cause 13 million people to lose health care and insurance premiums overall could rise by up to 10 percent.

This would result in savings of about $53 billion, which the GOP will use to fund corporate tax cuts.

America will not be made great by financing a $1.7 trillion tax cut for the rich by stealing $1.8 trillion from Medicare and Medicaid, abandoning seniors and families in need, depriving students of realizing a dream to attend college without drowning in debt, or disinvesting in the working families.

This bill is opposed by colleges and universities, too.

The tax cut proposal would end the deductibility of tuition waivers for graduate students, repealing the deduction for interest paid on student loans and taxing university endowments.
