

or 5 on almost all the streets in the numbered blocks. And nothing can be done because “they” are protected. Please let it be our turn to be protected again. Let the people that need help go to a real Detox and recovery home. I’ve heard the Betty Ford Center and Hoag Hospital in Newport Beach have wonderful dependency programs and they CARE about the people that are there to get help. Many places are available for people to get real help. And I doubt that would be across from a bar and liquor store. Or around a lot of innocent children and families. We are trying to teach our kids not to steal and to care about others, not to be afraid of all the strangers. We are just trying to keep our children away from drugs and alcohol and needles. There is a place for recovery it’s just not in our residential neighborhoods.

This is really a plea for help and I hope we get some help soon because it’s just getting worse every day.

CELEBRATING MR. ALPHONSO DEAL

HON. ADRIANO ESPAILLAT

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, October 30, 2018

Mr. ESPAILLAT. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to celebrate and commemorate Mr. Alphonso Deal on the 30th anniversary of his passing, which was earlier this year, on July 7th.

From his lifetime commitment to the Harlem community, Mr. Deal will be remembered for his significant efforts to increase access and participation for diverse communities. This included organizing a house crawl on Saturday afternoons to encourage people to live in Harlem all while showcasing the beauty in Harlem’s history and architecture. He was a staunch believer in expanding opportunities for the wider community. To expand access for Latinos, Asians, and African Americans to take the New York State Court Officer’s examination, Mr. Deal also asked the Tribune Society to hold a free test preparation course.

Mr. Deal was a dedicated public servant who served as a New York State court officer for decades until he was tragically murdered on July 7, 1988—heroically pursuing a ruthless criminal who robbed one man at gun point and shot two others.

Aside from his work for the New York State Supreme Court, Mr. Deal was a lifelong member of the NAACP, an active member of the Tribune Society, and a founding member of the New York State Commission on Minorities.

“E Pluribus Unum” is our motto in the United States. The Latin term which translates to “Out of many, one” is central to the values we hold dear as a nation. Mr. Deal understood that diversity is this country’s strength and fought to bring about impactful change in his field. We all come from different backgrounds but come together as one beautiful American people—regardless of our race or ethnicity.

It is my pleasure and distinct honor to celebrate the life of Mr. Alphonso Barclay Deal, whose tremendous work left a lasting impact on his community.

HONORING H. CLAY DAULTON, III

HON. JIM COSTA

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, October 30, 2018

Mr. COSTA. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor H. Clay Daulton, a longtime farmer of the San Joaquin Valley, who has been recognized as the 2018 Agriculturist of the Year by the Madera County Farm Bureau.

Born in Madera, California to a cattle ranching family in 1943, Mr. Daulton graduated from Madera High School, where he raised steers part of the 4-H Club. After earning his degree in Farm Management from Cal Poly San Luis Obispo, he began his extensive career in agriculture and ranching.

In 1975, Mr. Daulton joined the California Agricultural Leadership Program, where he studied the agricultural, political, and economic systems in the United States and South America. At that same time, Mr. Daulton was a member and vice chairman of the Madera County Republican Central Committee.

Mr. Daulton later brought together his understanding of politics and knowledge of agriculture to serve as an advocate for farmers and ranchers. Mr. Daulton served on the board of both the California and National Cattlemen’s Associations, advocating for policies that favor the dairy and cattle industries at the state, national, and global levels. In 1987, Mr. Daulton was appointed by the U.S. Trade Representative and Agriculture Secretary to serve on the Agricultural Technical Advisory Committee, where he advocated for the U.S. cattle industry during the NAFTA and General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade negotiations.

Mr. Daulton is part of the fifth-generation of his family that has owned the same Madera ranch since 1853. He currently owns and operates Daulton Ranch with his wife of 29 years, Nancy. In addition to his advocacy at the national and global level, he has been and remains active in the community. He has served as president of the Madera Rotary Club, Madera County Farm Bureau, and currently is on the board of the Fresno State Agricultural Foundation.

In addition to his roles as a skilled farmer, rancher, and advocate, Mr. Daulton holds a private pilot’s license and as the owner of Daulton Ranch, keeps himself busy managing the family operation.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to join me in honoring the exceptional life of H. Clay Daulton. I ask that you join me in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Daulton and their family continued success and prosperity.

HONORING THE FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OF MCALLEN

HON. VICENTE GONZALEZ

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, October 30, 2018

Mr. GONZALEZ of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the First Presbyterian Church of McAllen. For 110 years, First Presbyterian has brought members of the community together in song, faith and service.

The First Presbyterian Church of McAllen had humble beginnings, starting with just 13 people in a lumber field in 1908. As time went on, the church grew, overcoming every obstacle that came its way. Today, the church has a congregation of over 300 people.

Among its achievements is the establishment of Su Casa De Esperanza—a nonprofit which helps families both before and after childbirth to ensure the health and happiness of the child and parents. First Presbyterian also launched a Presbyterian Disaster Assistance hosting site for newly arrived asylum seekers, providing them with food, clothing, and a warm welcome to the United States.

Mr. Speaker, it is my honor to represent the hard-working individuals of the First Presbyterian Church of McAllen. Church leadership and its congregants are a shining example of what the 15th District of Texas has to offer.
