

nearly four decades of work for the National Association of Realtors.

Jerry Giovaniello has spent the last 37 years of his career tirelessly advocating on behalf of the Realtors and ends his illustrious career as senior vice president and chief lobbyist for the organization.

As a Realtor, I understand the important work the National Association of Realtors conducts on behalf of its many members nationwide who provide the needed service of helping prospective homebuyers achieve the American dream of homeownership.

Jerry's distinguished career has resulted in positive steps for more Americans by helping create and advocate for policies that have kept the housing market affordable, helped it remain a good investment, and kept it afloat during hard times.

Jerry has been named a top lobbyist multiple times by CEO Update, The Hill, and others, and he has at least twice been identified as among the most influential in real estate.

I close in congratulating Jerry Giovaniello on his success, and I thank and applaud him for his hard work, which has made a difference to countless Americans, helped our job market, and earned him a reputation of success that will be difficult to match in the industry.

Jerry, I wish you nothing but the best in your retirement.●
