

Patricia “Trish” Cagliostro
Sr. Manager, Global Government Solution Architects
Anomali

Trish is the Head of Global Government Solution Architects at Anomali, a leader in threat intelligence management technology. She is responsible for designing and delivering Global Public Sector Solutions, as well as consulting on strategic commercial accounts. At Anomali, Trish has supported information sharing initiatives with DHS AIS, HITRUST, Retail ISAC and Industrial Control System ISAC. Trish has presented at several events as a subject matter expert on a variety of topics, including operationalizing shared intelligence, controlled collaboration, and the Cybersecurity Act of 2015.

Trish has spent her public and private sector career dedicated to the largest and most critical federal institutions, guiding best practices and empowering the implementation of security products in complex architectures. Before joining Anomali, she worked in operations at Department of Energy and Defense Information Systems Agency as a Senior Subject Matter Expert in the Host Base Security System program.
