14 (3) In 2016, the National Intelligence Council
15 found that “climate change and its resulting effects

10 proving understanding of those effects.

11 (6) The United States needs to be fully pre-

24 source commitments, in a manner consistent with

1 the protection of intelligence sources and methods
2 and other national security interests; and

3 (2) the United States Government should re-
4 lease to the public as much information as possible
