The House met at 10 a.m. and was called to order by the Speaker pro tempore (Mrs. BUSTOS).

DESIGNATION OF SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore laid before the House the following communication from the Speaker:

WASHINGTON, DC, March 6, 2019.

I hereby appoint the Honorable CHERYL BUSTOS to act as Speaker pro tempore on this day.

NANCY PELOSI,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

MORNING-HOUR DEBATE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the order of the House of January 3, 2019, the Chair will now recognize Members from lists submitted by the majority and minority leaders for morning-hour debate.

The Chair will alternate recognition between the parties. All time shall be equally allocated between the parties, and in no event shall debate continue beyond 11:50 a.m. Each Member, other than the majority and minority leaders and the minority whip, shall be limited to 5 minutes.

IMPEACHMENT IS NOT DEAD

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Texas (Mr. GREEN) for 5 minutes.

Mr. GREEN of Texas. Madam Speaker, and still I rise, with love of country in my heart. And still I rise, as I did some 659 days ago, more than 21 months, when I first stood on the floor of the House of Representatives and called for the impeachment of the President. In so doing, I had to fend off the multitudes who wanted to know what crime the President had committed, what law did he break.

We had to fight that fight, and we won, because it is now generally perceived and believed that the President does not have to commit a crime to be impeached.

In fact, Article II, Section 4 of the Constitution of the United States of America addresses that question when it deals with high crimes and misdemeanors as misdemeanors or misdeeds, pursuant to the understanding that we have of the Constitution of the United States of America.

And still I rise now, understanding that we have had to fend off those who have said: You have to wait for the Mueller report. You have to wait. Why not wait?

Here is why you don’t have to wait: Because the Mueller report is dealing with violations of the law. Misdeeds don’t necessarily require a violation of the law.

If you are corrupting society, if you are creating harm to society, if you are causing things to happen in society that are unacceptable to the people in the United States of America, an unfit President can be impeached for those misdeeds that corrupt and harm society.

We are winning that fight. This fight is one that is easily won because, as we proceed, it is going to become intuitively obvious that these misdeeds are the problems, and the misdeeds are creating the concerns in society.

It is my belief that we have a duty, a responsibility, and an obligation under the Constitution to deal with an unfit President.

There are those who would want me to withhold my thoughts until after there has been an investigation, when we have clear and convincing evidence before our very eyes of the misdeeds: separating babies from their mothers, who happen to be of color, I might add; talking about s-hole countries that happen to be where people of color live, I might add; talking about good people, or very fine people, in Charlottesville, among those who are bigots, racists, xenophobes, homophobes, and Islamophobes.

Yes, the evidence is there, because the President was putting in his policies these bigoted statements. These statements went beyond his words. They became a part of his policies. For this, he can be impeached.

I stand where I stood 659 days ago, and I will continue to stand until this President is removed from office. We can investigate to the extent that we engage in what Dr. King called the paralysis of analysis, just investigate until it is time for another election, and then the election becomes the focal point.

My dear friends, my dear brothers and sisters, those who desire to wait may do so. I will not wait. Impeachment is not dead.

WOMEN’S HISTORY MONTH

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. CICILLINE). The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Kansas (Mr. MARSHALL) for 5 minutes.

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the many women who have shaped our country’s successes and are inspiring our future.

This month, we celebrate Women’s History Month and recognize the women who have fought for equality and positively impacted their communities. The courage and resolve of our women must not go unnoticed.

In Kansas, we are always quick to highlight the great Amelia Earhart, our hometown aviation pioneer. But today, I want to highlight the millions of women around the world who have made and continue to make significant impacts on their families, communities, and workplaces through meaningful, everyday contributions.

My own mother, Nancy, taught me many family values that continue to give me strength and guide me throughout fatherhood and in my career as an obstetrician. She instilled in me the value of proper nutrition at an early age, which I was able to go on and explain in very concrete terms to all my patients as an obstetrician. My mom emphasized the importance of a healthy breakfast and sitting down each night as a family for dinner, something my wife, Laina, and I prioritized as parents as well.

She taught me all these lessons while also working a full-time job as an office manager. Her dedication to her family and career didn’t garner news headlines, but it made a significant impact and allowed me to grow up understanding the outcomes of hard work.

My wife, Laina, went to school to be a nurse at Butler County Community College and later worked in the neonatal intensive care unit, caring for premature babies. She made a huge impact on all those babies’ lives, as well as their families and their development.

Now, as a mother of four and grandmother of two, I often tell people my wife has the most important job in America: raising our children. I know there are millions of mothers around the globe who have and continue to provide the same energy, time, and dedication to their children, families, and communities. Too often, we don’t take the time to share and celebrate these contributions, but we all know a woman who has made a significant impact on our lives.

As we celebrate Women’s History Month, I challenge you to thank those women who have positively influenced your life, improved our communities, and contributed to the success of this great nation.

RECOGNIZING LEADERSHIP OF DR. BOBBY MOSER

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to recognize my friend and fellow western Kansas physician, Dr. Bobby Moser, for his leadership with the Kansas Heart and Stroke Collaborative, an initiative funded through CMS’ Health Care Innovation Awards.

The effort started in 2014 with the University of Kansas Health System, Hays Medical Center, 10 critical-access hospitals, and the First Care Clinic to provide an innovative care delivery and payment model designed to improve heart health and stroke outcomes for rural Kansans.

When they first received this 3-year Federal grant, they were nothing shy of ambitious. In their proposal, they aimed to reduce healthcare costs by nearly $14 million and reduce deaths from stroke and heart attack by 20 percent. The collaborative wanted to not only comply with using data in a meaningful way, enhancing bedside care, and building sustainable models for access and treatment.

They have indeed shown signs of good work, and they are expanding their efforts. This group has helped hospitals track and audit data to find ways to improve patient performance.

Dr. Moser recently reported that the clinical network of hospitals has improved medications and delivery time for getting clot-busting drugs to patients that literally save lives and prevent lifelong paralysis.

Since its inception, these physicians have grown to reach more counties and are able to help more patients. Now called Care Collaborative, they are exploring new payment systems for rural hospitals and focusing on expanding into new medical treatments, like palliative care.

With more than 50 critical-access hospitals in my district, the resources developed through this collaborative have been lifesaving and critical for our hospitals and, most importantly, rural patients.

ADVOCATING FOR FEDERAL NUTRITION PROGRAMS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. McGovern) for 5 minutes.

Mr. McGovern. Mr. Speaker, I am here today to advocate for the Federal nutrition programs that help our most vulnerable neighbors and to highlight why these programs continue to need our unwavering protection and attention.

March 4 marked the beginning of National School Breakfast Week, a week designed to celebrate students, parents, and school officials the benefits of fueling up for the day with a healthy school breakfast.

I am sure it comes as no surprise to many of you that learning improves when students are not hungry. It is awfully hard to concentrate when you don’t have any fuel in your body.

Last week, I met with several anti-hunger organizations from my district, and they shared with me stories from the people they serve on how nutrition programs, food pantries, and school breakfast and lunch programs impact their lives.

Many of them wrote their thoughts on paper plates, and I would like to read a few of them to you.

Jay Keller from Jeremiah’s Inn in Worcester said: “These food centers make a huge difference when it comes to preparing meals. Without them, I would not be able to make ends meet. Please keep them going. Many people may go hungry if they do not continue.”

A parent from Catholic Charities in Worcester said: “SNAP and school lunches help my daughter and I eat. It helps us get by, and I work part-time. Very grateful for these programs.”

Sometimes, Mr. Speaker, school breakfasts and lunches are the only opportunities a child has to receive a full meal. For example, a student from Memorial Elementary in Winchendon said: “School lunch is important because it keeps me full until I go home.” Another student from Pernet Family Health Services in Worcester wrote: “If I don’t eat, my head hurts.”

While many nutrition program participants are children and persons with disabilities, their reach extends to veterans. A veteran from St. Anthony’s Hospice in Worcester said: “My food bank provides myself and fellow veterans with love and nutrients. Without you guys, it would be a long month. Thanks to your nuns who help us always.”

When a family is worried about whether they can afford basic necessities, nutrition programs and the food security they provide goes a long way.

In 2018, a monthly average of 40.3 million people participated in the SNAP program. Despite the fact that this number has been steadily decreasing, the Trump administration has unveiled several baseless attacks on these nutrition programs.

On December 20, 2018, the Trump administration proposed a rule that will threaten the eligibility of SNAP participants who are considered able-bodied adults without dependents. In an effort to, ironically, “restore self-sufficiency through the dignity of work,” their rule stigmatizes SNAP participants and limits the way to waive 20-hour work requirements.

The able-bodied adult without dependents population is a complex group. Many of them are veterans returning from overseas and having a difficult time reintegrating into our community. Many of them are young adults who have aged out of the foster care system. Some are ex-felons who are products of mass incarceration. Some are workers who are not given 20 hours of work per week.

Mr. Speaker, 75 percent of SNAP participants do work, but often in jobs that are either unstable or don’t pay enough to put food on the table. It is not that the able-bodied adult without dependents population does not have a choice. Many are jobless because they lack privilege and are trying to get on their feet.

This proposed rule also specifically goes against the will of Congress by imposing restrictions that were specifically rejected for inclusion in the farm bill signed into law just last year.

As if that weren’t enough, the Trump administration also announced its intention to propose changes to categorization eligibility. Cat-el, criteria used to determine whether a family is automatically eligible for SNAP because they already qualify for certain other low-income programs. Cat-el is fine as it is because it eliminates redundancy and minimizes hurdles that low-income families must overcome just to keep up with their basic needs.

While the administration changes are forthcoming, I don’t have much optimism about how they will turn out.

The current administration is trying to solve problems that don’t exist, and they are creating problems that have clear solutions. That is why we must continue to raise these issues to the forefront of our agenda.

There is no excuse. We have the resources. It is on all of us to prioritize basic hunger needs. Supporting school breakfast and lunch programs, and maintaining reasonable eligibility for nutrition assistance programs, are the least we can do to end hunger now.

We live in the richest country in the history of the world, and we have millions and millions of people who are hungry. We should all be ashamed of that.

Hunger and food insecurity are political conditions. We can solve these problems if we have the political will. I urge my colleagues to gather that political will.

$22 TRILLION DEBT AND DEBT CEILING REACHED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Alabama (Mr. BROOKS) for 5 minutes.

Mr. BROOKS of Alabama. Mr. Speaker, America recently blew through the $22 trillion debt mark with no end in sight.

In January, the nonpartisan Congressional Budget Office warned Washington that America faces an unending stream of trillion-dollar-a-year deficits beginning in FY 2022 and culminating in a $1.4 trillion deficit in FY 2028, the amount Congress spends each year on our overseas budget that pays for the military, NASA, ATF, FBI, and almost every other Federal agency.

The cumulative effect of these deficits is a debt that explodes from $22 trillion today to $33 trillion in a decade.

As debt goes up, so does debt service. The CBO warns: "In CBO's projections, outlays for net interest increase from $325 billion in 2018 to $383 billion . . . in 2019, and more than double by 2029, to $928 billion a year, which is the rough equivalent of almost 50 NASA programs.

Compounding matters, this past weekend, on March 2, the Federal Government hit the debt ceiling, which means the Federal Government's operational costs are being paid for via extraordinary measures, such as borrowing from the Social Security and Medicare trust funds.

Washington's response to this financial firestorm is akin to that of Roman Emperor Nero, who fiddled as Rome burned.

Rather than be proactive and work to prevent a debilitating national insolvency and bankruptcy, Congress emulates an ostrich that buries its head in the sand and denies lingering danger.

In sum, America's sea of red ink and projected financial path is wholly and completely unsustainable.

America must learn from financially reckless nations like Greece and Venezuela, and from Puerto Rico, an American territory that defaulted on its $70 billion debt.

Unfortunately, the vast majority of American voters are oblivious to America's lurking financial dangers, in large part because of minimal national media coverage.

American voters are too often seduced by debt-junkie politicians who promise free stuff to get elected, while knowing full well America can't pay for it. If American voters do not elect financially responsible officials to Washington, America will succumb to the same debilitating insolvency and bankruptcy that wreaks havoc in Greece and Puerto Rico, with one major difference; unlike Greece, which has been bailed out three times by the European community, and unlike Puerto Rico, which may yet be bailed out by American taxpayers, there is no one, no one who can or will bail out America.

Instead, America will be more like Venezuela, whose annual inflation rate now exceeds 2 million percent, where the International Monetary Fund reports there are: "Widespread shortages of essential goods, including food, exacting a tragic toll," where grocery stores have rows and rows of empty shelves and Venezuelans can't find food to feed their families.

Worse yet, Venezuela's bankruptcy has made it one of the most violent countries in the world, with a chilling 82 homicides per 100,000 population, roughly 20 times worse than America's homicide rate. Caracas, Venezuela's capital is the world's most violent city, with a war-zone-like 120 murders per 100,000 citizens.

Mr. Speaker, America must learn from the financially irresponsible mistakes of others. As the adage says, We can either learn from history, or we are doomed to repeat it.

American voters must wake up and stop being seduced by the wily ways of debt-junkie politicians who promise anything to get elected, who pretend to be Sariah but are really the Grinch that stole America's future.

Time is running out. The American people must start being good stewards for our Republic, and elect Washington officials who both understand the threat posed by defaults, and deficit, and debt, and have the backbone to fix it. America's future depends on it.

PROTECTING ATLANTIC COASTAL ECONOMIES

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. VAN DREW) for 5 minutes.

Mr. VAN DREW. Mr. Speaker, I rise today because I am profoundly concerned with the possible permitting of seismic airgun blasting off the Atlantic Coast, from Jacksonville, Florida, to Cape May, New Jersey, to Portland, Maine. This is an extremely serious issue.

Late last year, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, also known as NOAA, issued five Incidental Harassment Authorizations which advanced permit applications for seismic airgun blasting in the Atlantic Ocean. This action essentially sets the stage for the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management to approve these permits at any time now.

Seismic airgun blasting is not only the first step toward offshore oil and gas exploration and development, but it is harmful to marine mammal life and to marine life in general, and it encroaches on vital military operations. Seismic airgun blasts can limit the dangers of climate change, such as extreme weather events like Superstorm Sandy, it is unthinkable to further harm the environment and endanger our coastal economy in South Jersey and along the coast, which is largely based on fishing and based on tourism.

Our public policy goal is to create a cleaner and healthier environment, an environment that we can pass on to our children and grandchildren so that they may enjoy it.

I am proud that broad arrays of organizations in New Jersey have supported my legislation. These organizations include the Chambers of Commerce of Cape May County, Ocean City, Vineyard, Greater Wildwood, Greater Atlantic City, the Garden State Seafood Association, the Recreational Fishing Alliance, the Jersey Shore Partnership, Clean Ocean Action, Surfers Environmental Alliance, the American Littoral Society, Ocean Alliance, New Jersey chapters of the Sierra Club, the League of Conservation Voters, Audubon Society, and Environment America.

Mr. Speaker, it was a pleasure to have worked with Congressman RUTHERFORD of Florida on H.R. 1149. I am also grateful that several of our elite colleagues joined us on important efforts, including JOE CUNNINGHAM of South Carolina, CHRIS SMITH of New Jersey, DONNA SHALALA of Florida, and BRIAN MAST of Florida, as well.

Our bipartisan bill, the Atlantic Coastal Economies Protection Act, would prevent the five seismic airgun blasting permits that are now under consideration from the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management from being issued. It would stop them.

I urge my colleagues to protect our precious coastline and to protect the livelihoods of those that depend upon it and to support the RECORD.
Whereas, this new plan includes the entire Atlantic coast from Maine to Florida, including the waters off New Jersey within 3 miles of beaches, as well as including other ocean areas totaling some 90% of US ocean waters; and

Whereas, New Jersey boasts over 127 miles of beautiful ocean coastline and hundreds of miles of rivers, creeks, and other waterways connected to the Atlantic Ocean; and

Whereas, the Jersey Shore is essential to the health of the our communities, environment and the thriving economy of New Jersey; and

Whereas, the physical, hydrodynamic, and biological characteristics of the ocean off the Jersey Shore are unique in the world, as more than 300 species of fish, nearly 350 species of birds, 5 species of sea turtles, and many marine mammals such as 20 species of whales and dolphins, 1 species of porpoise, and 4 species of seals, frequent this region. Nine endangered species, four of which are whales, can be found in these ocean waters, including the Atlantic Right Whale, one of the world’s most endangered marine mammals, and serves as an essential migratory pathway for many of these species; and

Whereas, the Jersey Shore sustains the economy of the region with its bounty of natural resources and intrinsic values for millions of people through tourism. Tourism brings more than $40 million to NJ annually each year and provides jobs to more than 500,000 people with $6.2 billion generated in Cape May County alone; and

Whereas, recreational and commercial fisheries in NJ provide enormous economic benefits, including revenue, food production, and recreational activities with the port of Cape May and Wildwood ranking as the second largest seaport on the east coast. In 2014, recreational fishing supported nearly 20,000 jobs and resulted in $2 billion of retail sales. Commercial fishing supports nearly 7,300 jobs and provides $152 million in landings, not including restaurant and retail sales; and

Whereas, current estimates of the amount of technically recoverable oil off the entire Atlantic coast from Maine to Florida would only be approximately 229 days; and the amount of technically recoverable gas would only last the nation approximately 229 days, and

Whereas, offshore oil and gas development, causes substantial environmental impacts, including: (a) onshore damage due to infrastructure, (b) water pollution from drilling muds and the water brought-up from a well with oil and gas (called “produced waters”), (c) noise from seismic surveys, (d) air pollution, and (e) oil spills; and

Whereas, the harmful environmental consequences of offshore oil and gas exploration and development are serious and threatens the environmental and economic assets of New Jersey; and

Whereas, The BP Horizon disaster in the Gulf of Mexico (2010) is clear evidence of the dangers associated with offshore drilling, including costing the lives of 11 people, devastating coastal economies and countless livelihoods, and killing countless marine animals, including to come from marine life as documented by a steady flow of studies; and

Whereas, Federal Administration officials are also weakening protections of ocean resources by undermining rules and regulations, cutting funding sources for spill response; and

Whereas, oil spills travel vast distances, and the Gulf Stream and Labrador Ocean Current all flow toward New Jersey making the region vulnerable to impacts from spills anywhere in the Atlantic Ocean; and

Whereas, Within 5 days of the release of the DPP Governor of Florida was able to convince Department of Interior Secretary Zinke to remove Florida from further consideration for drilling due to the importance of coastal tourism to that state and NJ shares this same economic dependence on tourism and clean ocean economies; and

Whereas, bi-partisan opposition against drilling off the New Jersey coast has included every Governor since 1985, and a majority of the congressional delegation and most coastal states; and

Whereas, in the January 8, 2018, BOEM Federal Register to requests comments on the Draft Proposed Program (DPP) and scoping comments for the Programmatic Environmental Impact Study whereas, energy conservation and efficiency measures can significantly reduce the nation’s need to explore and drill for non-renewable resources, such as oil and natural gas; and whereas, coastal municipalities have a profound interest in maintaining strong federal protections for our nation’s coastal environment, as well as the economic and social benefits it supports; Now, therefore, Resolved on March 5, 2018, that the Greater Atlantic City Chamber hereby opposes offshore oil and gas exploration and drilling activities that would occur off the coast, and calls upon Secretary of the Interior Ryan K. Zinke who oversees the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management to withdraw New Jersey and the entire Atlantic Ocean from consideration for the offshore oil and gas exploration, development, or drilling.

JOSEPH D. KELLY, President.

Ocean City Regional Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Services, Ocean City, NJ, February 6, 2019.

Congressman Jeff Van Drew,
Maps Landing, NJ.

Dear Congressman Van Drew: On behalf of the Ocean City Regional Chamber of Commerce, I would like extend our endorsement of the Ocean City Regional Chamber of Commerce, which is comprised of more than 550 member businesses, strongly supports this act as we are against seismic airgun blasting in the Atlantic Ocean.

We stand by your support of the Atlantic Coastal Economies Protection Act, and MICHELE GILLIAN, Executive Director.

Greater Vineland Chamber of Commerce,

U.S. Representative Jeffery Van Drew,
Washington, DC.

Dear Congressman Van Drew: On behalf of our organization, in more than 450 members, we write this letter as an endorsement of your proposed bill, known as the “Atlantic Coastal Economies Protection Act”, to prohibit the Department of Interior from issuing certain geological and geo-physical exploration permits under the Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act, and for other purposes.

We agree that seismic air-gun blasting in the Atlantic Ocean has the potential to harm or kill marine mammals and other marine life that are vital to our region’s coastal economies. We are also wary that the survey data collected is not available to the public.

Thank you for your efforts in proposing this bill.

Sincerely,
DAWN S. HUNTER, Executive Director. confident that our educators are providing essential support to their students.

That feeling stayed with me the next day as I visited Cambria Heights High School in Indiana County. The students asked great questions about civic engagement, and we had an open dialogue about the challenges and opportunities that are facing our Nation.

Meeting with all these students gives me great hope for the future, and I know these students will become our next generation of leaders, regardless of what fields they enter after graduation.

Mr. Speaker, I thank the Richland School District, Cambria Heights High School, and the Purchase Line High School for inviting me into their classrooms and the cafeteria.

They also shared with me their many accomplishments that included earning top scores in the county on the State’s Keystone Exams for literature and biology.

Earlier this week I participated in an assembly at the Purchase Line High School in Indiana County. The students asked great questions about civic engagement, and we had an open dialogue about the challenges and opportunities that are facing our Nation.

Meeting with all these students gives me great hope for the future, and I know these students will become our next generation of leaders, regardless of what fields they enter after graduation.

Mr. Speaker, I thank the Richland School District, Cambria Heights High School, and the Purchase Line High School for inviting me into their schools and sharing with me the ways they are transforming education to help students not only graduate, but go on to earn a higher degree or a certification or, quite frankly, go successfully into the workforce.

A good education opens so many doors in life. I am tremendously proud of the students, faculty, and staff of each of these outstanding institutions.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 12(a) of rule I, the Chair declares the House in recess until noon today.

Accordingly (at 10 o’clock and 27 minutes a.m.), the House stood in recess.

□ 1200

AFTER RECESS

The recess having expired, the House was called to order by the Speaker at noon.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, the Reverend Patrick J. Cunroy, offered the following prayer:

Eternal God, we give You thanks for giving us another day.

During these days on the Hill, there are many Americans walking the halls, speaking to their Representatives about interests of great concern to them. The American Osteopathic Society, the National Kidney Foundation, the VFW, the National Down Syndrome Society, the Lupus Foundation, the Boy and Girl Scouts of America, among others, have been advocates for so many who are in need.

We thank You that we live in a nation blessed by the rights and opportunities for Americans to petition their government.

Bless the Members of this assembly, who know best how to respond to such entreaties, with the ability to meet so many needs.

May all that is done this day be for Your greater honor and glory.

Amen.

THE JOURNAL

The SPEAKER. The Chair has examined the Journal of the last day’s proceedings and announces to the House her approval thereof.

Pursuant to clause 1, rule I, the Journal stands approved.

Mr. WILSON of South Carolina. Madam Speaker, pursuant to clause 1, rule I, I demand a vote on agreeing to the Speaker’s approval of the Journal.

The SPEAKER. The question is on the Speaker’s approval of the Journal.

The question was taken; and the Speaker announced that the ayes appeared to have it.

Mr. WILSON of South Carolina. Madam Speaker, I object to the vote on the ground that a quorum is not present and make the point of order that a quorum is not present.

The SPEAKER. Pursuant to clause 8, rule XX, further proceedings on this question will be postponed.

The point of no quorum is considered withdrawn.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

The SPEAKER. Will the gentlewoman from California (Ms. BROWNLEY) come forward and lead the House in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Ms. BROWNLEY of California led the Pledge of Allegiance as follows:

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair will entertain up to 15 requests for 1-minute speeches on each side of the aisle.

CLEANING UP OUR DEMOCRACY AND DELIVERING POWER BACK TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

(Mr. KIM asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. KIM. Madam Speaker, I rise today in support of the efforts in Congress to clean up our democracy and deliver power back to the American people.

I never thought that I would run for Congress. I never thought that I would have the chance to stand right here on the floor of the House of Representatives.

I am here today because I was tired of watching corporations and special interests cutting to the front of the line ahead of the people. I was tired of watching dark money grow, gerrymandering polarize our politics, and the American people pushed aside.

Now we have a precious chance to fix this and to build the kind of government the American people deserve. As we make up our minds and cast our votes, I ask us not to think of this as a partisan issue. I assure you that the people in my district on both sides believe that the system isn’t working for them.

I call on my colleagues to vote to pass H.R. 1 and deliver the change our constituents demand and deserve.

NATIONAL DAY OF THE REPUBLIC OF BULGARIA

(Mr. WILSON of South Carolina asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. WILSON of South Carolina. Mr. Speaker, as co-chair of the Congressional Bulgaria Caucus, I appreciate Ambassador Tihomir Stoytchev and Mrs. Lubka Stoytchev for their hosting a reception yesterday in recognition of National Day of the Republic of Bulgaria at the Library of Congress, celebrating 141 years of liberation.

Bulgaria is a close strategic ally and partner of the United States. This month, we celebrate 15 years since Bulgaria joined the NATO alliance.

During his time recently in Sofia, NATO Secretary General Jens Stoltenberg noted: “Bulgaria has contributed to strengthening the Alliance.” He also thanked Prime Minister Boyko Borissov for his government’s commitment to reach the NATO defense spending goal of 2 percent.

I am confident the partnership between the United States and Bulgaria continue to flourish for years ahead. It will be mutually beneficial to promote peace through strength.

In conclusion, God bless our troops, and we will never forget September the 11th in the global war on terrorism.

CONSTITUENTS SHOULD BE THE TOP PRIORITY

(Mrs. KIRKPATRICK asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. KIRKPATRICK. Mr. Speaker, our constituents sent us here to represent them, to be a voice for their families, to fight for them with passion, to vote in their best interest. I am here for the residents of Arizona’s Second Congressional District. I am here to work for them.

We must reject the culture of corruption and put the power back in the hands of the people we represent. Our government works best when it is focused on people and American families, not some special interest group or large corporation. We can clean up the muddy swamp behaviors by passing H.R. 1. We need to reduce the role of dark special interest money and to make it easier to vote. We need to have some accountability here.

I will be voting for H.R. 1 so that our constituents become the top priority for all of us, not special interest groups.

FAIRNESS IN DISCIPLINE

(Mr. ZELDIN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. ZELDIN. Mr. Speaker, there is no room for anti-Semitism anywhere in this Chamber.

This past January, the House voted nearly unanimously to condemn white supremacy, and it named a Republican Member as we did that. I voted for that.

Back in January, around the same exact time, we had a Member apologize for remarks about how Israel had hypnotized the world, an anti-Semitic trope; a month later, apologizing for an allegation that if you support Israel, then you have been bought off by Jews; and now, claiming that if you support Israel, then that means that you have allegiance to a foreign government.

But this time there will be no apology. I commend my colleagues on the other side of the aisle who have spoken out against it. This Chamber today should be taking action to condemn anti-Semitism, to be naming names; and where that Member in January was removed from his committees, including the Small Business Committee, the Member who has been putting out all those anti-Semitic tropes should not be serving on her committees, especially the House Foreign Affairs Committee, for many reasons.

I encourage a vote today and to remove Congresswoman OMAR from the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

SERVANT LEADERSHIP

(Mr. CROW asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. CROW. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to call on my colleagues to support H.R. 1.

It is no coincidence that the largest freshman class since Watergate will also be the one to pass H.R. 1 this week. We are a class that is born of voters’ frustrations with a broken system.

Americans have seen this Chamber pass bills that hurt the middle class, raise prescription drug prices, gut consumer protections, and fail to act on climate change. Why? Because the special interests have more power than the American people. It is the exact opposite of what should happen in the people’s House.

In the Army, I was taught the values of servant leadership. As a captain, that meant leading by example. I jumped out of the plane first, and only then would my soldiers follow.

As a Member of Congress, it means we hold ourselves to the highest standards of accountability, and transparency. Servant leaders don’t hold a tight grip on power; they empower those around them. The first step to doing that is to pass H.R. 1 and return power to the people who sent us here.

Let’s show America that we are their Representatives, and that we are elected to serve them, not the mega-donors and not the special interests.

WE THE PEOPLE

(Ms. BROWNLEY of California asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. BROWNLEY. Mr. Speaker, my favorite three words in our Constitution are the first three words, “We the people.”

The will of the people is the basis of our entire democracy. But for far too long, special interests and big money have rigged that system against everyday Americans.

This week, we take a major step to change that. We are voting on H.R. 1, transformational legislation that will finally put the power back in the hands of American people, by toughening Federal ethics laws, fixing the broken campaign finance system, and strengthening voting rights, including two bills that I have worked on with my colleagues to end partisan gerrymandering and requiring same-day voter registration.

I encourage everyone to support H.R. 1 this week, because it is long past time we return our government to one that is of the people, by the people, and for the people once again.

FREE AND FAIR ELECTIONS

(Mr. MOULTON asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. MOULTON. Mr. Speaker, amidst the tragedies of the Iraq war, I witnessed one of the proudest demonstrations of democracy in modern times. When the troops hit the foxholes, they dipped their fingers in ink and, rather than hiding those fingers for fear of reprisal, they held them high walking through the streets.

What they were saying was that, for the first time in their lives, their opinion mattered. Their vote counted. It is the most fundamental requirement of a democracy. Yet, today, we know that this basic right has never been truly guaranteed here at home.

Our elections are not free when Americans are forced to choose between providing for their families and casting a vote; our elections are not fair when gerrymandering predetermines them or dark money makes some votes count more than others; and our people do not have a voice when they are turned away by voter ID laws that make it easier to buy a gun than cast a vote.

H.R. 1 changes that, taking a stand against Citizens United, resolving to end gerrymandering, and making it far easier for Americans to vote.

I believe that America, however imperfect, is the greatest democracy on Earth. H.R. 1 finally makes us act that way.

WE CAN AND WE MUST DO BETTER

(Mr. PHILLIPS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to voice my full-hearted support of H.R. 1, the For the People Act.

As I spend time with parents and business owners, retirees and millennials, Republicans and Democrats back home in Minnesota, one thing is clear: People are losing faith in the integrity and fairness of our political system, and for good reason.

When I arrived in Washington, I witnessed firsthand the corrupting influence of money and politics: envelopes with PAC checks offered after handshakes and a culture in which votes often seem to have price tags attached. Each time another Supreme Court decision is handed down that weakens campaign finance reform our number one issue, please make campaign finance reform your number one issue, please make campaign finance reform your number one issue, please make campaign finance reform your number one issue, please make campaign finance reform your number one issue.

So let’s pass H.R. 1 and begin the hard and principled work of restoring our democracy for the people.

AMERICANS ARE LOSING FAITH IN THEIR GOVERNMENT

(Mr. MALINOWSKI asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. MALINOWSKI. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 1.

When I was running for Congress, I heard again and again that Americans are losing faith in their government, asking why the votes they cast don’t lead to the outcomes they want.

What they were saying was that, for the first time in their lives, their opinion mattered. Their vote counted. It is the most fundamental requirement of a democracy. Yet, today, we know that this basic right has never been truly guaranteed here at home.

To those who have raised concerns about H.R. 1, here, let me say that, in my district, I have not met a single person, Republican or Democrat, who thinks it is a good idea to let non-donors spend millions of untraceable dollars on political attack ads or to have a campaign finance system so opaque that Russian oligarchs can easily channel money into it.

I haven’t met a single person, Republican or Democrat, who thinks it is just fine for Members of Congress to serve on corporate boards or for Presidents to hide their tax returns, or anyone who is pleased with partisan gerrymandering or who is happy that we have done nothing to secure our elections from foreign hacking since 2016.

The biggest issues among the American people. On the contrary, when I vote “yes” on H.R. 1, I will be doing what the vast majority of my constituents are demanding: to make our democracy work better for everyone, regardless of our party or our point of view.

I can’t wait to cast that vote.

EXPANDING ACCESS TO QUALITY AFFORDABLE HEALTHCARE
(Mr. DELGADO asked and was given permission to address the House for one minute.)

Mr. DELGADO. Mr. Speaker, today I rise in support of the Medicare Drug Price Negotiation Act, a bill that I am proud to cosponsor. This bill is a critical step in expanding access to quality affordable healthcare by bringing down prescription drug costs.

Too many of my constituents and too many Americans across this country can’t afford the healthcare coverage they need. There is no bigger driver of this problem than the skyrocketing cost of prescription drugs.

The United States pays the highest prices for prescription drugs in the world, and over the past decade, the prices of 90 percent of brand name drugs have more than doubled.

How is it that one in five American adults cannot afford the medicine they need?

In the wealthiest country in the world, it is inexcusable that we have seniors who have to choose between their prescriptions and buying groceries, cancer patients who can’t afford their medications, and diabetics who need to ration the insulin they need to survive.

The Medicare Prescription Drug Price Negotiation Act couldn’t be more commonsense. It allows the Department of Health and Human Services to negotiate Medicare drug prices, putting consumers first, not the drug industry.

My constituents sent me here with a clear mandate to fight for quality affordable healthcare, and this bill is a crucial part of that work.

OUR POLITICS IS BROKEN
(Mr. COX of California asked and was given permission to address the House for one minute.)

Mr. COX of California. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 1, the For the People Act.

I am an engineer, and as an engineer, I fix things that are broken, but it doesn’t take an engineer to tell you that our politics is broken. Confidence in our government and in the House of Representatives has never been lower.

We have a system of gerrymandering where in many parts of the country today, voters don’t choose their politicians, politicians choose their voters.

Special interest money has drowned out the voices of working people. (H.R. 1) will fix this imbalance. H.R. 1 will ensure the people’s voices are heard at the ballot box.

H.R. 1 will ensure the influence of big money in our politics and our policies is ended.

H.R. 1 will ensure the voices of the people are heard.

Passing this bill is a moral imperative for our democracy and our Nation.

CAMPAIGN EXPENDITURES EXPANSION TO CHILD CARE
(Ms. PORTER asked and was given permission to address the House for one minute.)

Ms. PORTER. Mr. Speaker, I am a single mom. When I ran for Congress last year, I spent thousands and thousands of dollars on childcare.

Running for Federal office requires 60 to 90 hours of work every single day, every single weekend, and I also worked challenging hours, most days starting at 6:45 in the morning and ending with campaign events stretching well into the night.

I juggled dozens of childcare providers for nearly two years, without whom I would never have made it to Congress.

I have three children: Betsy, who is 7; Paul, who is 10; and Luke, who is 13. Leaving them alone was not an option and bringing them on the campaign trail was often impossible, inappropriate, and could have even been dangerous.

For the past two centuries, Congress has written many, many laws about what women may and may not do, but until this year, women’s representation in Congress was less than 20 percent.

Even with the election of my historic class, we are only 102 women. There are even fewer moms in Congress and even fewer single moms, as in, nobody but me.

I have introduced language today as a standalone bill I will introduce.

MAKING IT EASIER, NOT HARDER, FOR PEOPLE TO VOTE
(Ms. WEXTON asked and was given permission to address the House for one minute.)

Ms. WEXTON. Mr. Speaker, our democracy isn’t working the way it should for a majority of Americans, but H.R. 1, the For the People Act, can fix that.

This legislation will end partisan gerrymandering by creating independent redistricting commissions, letting the voters choose the politicians, not the politicians choosing their voters.

H.R. 1 will promote online registration, same day and automatic voter registration, because we should be making it easier, not harder, for people to vote.

It also prohibits arbitrary voter roll purges, expands early voting and vote-by-mail options, and ensures the restoration of voting rights for those who have paid their debts to society.

The right to vote is the cornerstone of our democracy. It is as sacred as the freedom of religion and speech.

The American people want clean and fair elections, and H.R. 1 is a once-in-a-generation opportunity to restore the faith and function in American democracy.

PROVIDING FOR CONSIDERATION OF H.R. 1, FOR THE PEOPLE ACT OF 2019, AND PROVIDING FOR CONSIDERATION OF MOTIONS TO SUSPEND THE RULES
Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, by direction of the Committee on Rules, I call up House Resolution 172 and ask for its immediate consideration.

The Clerk reads the resolution, as follows:

H. RES. 172
Resolved, That at any time after adoption of this resolution the Speaker may, pursuant to clause 2(b) of rule XVIII, declare the House resolved into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for consideration of the bill entitled "The For the People Act of 2019," H.R. 1, to expand Americans’ access to the ballot box, reduce the influence of big money in politics, and strengthen ethics rules for public servants, and for other purposes.

H. RES. 172
In the nature of a substitute recommended by the Committee on House Administration now printed in the bill, an amendment in the nature of a substitute consisting of the text of Rules Committee Print 116-7, modified by the amendment printed in part A of the report of the Committee on Rules accompanying this resolution, shall be considered as adopted in the House of the Whole.

The bill, as amended, shall be considered as the original bill for the purpose of further amendment under the five-minute rule. In lieu of the amendment in the nature of a substitute recommended by the Committee on House Administration now printed in the bill, an amendment in the nature of a substitute consisting of the text of Rules Committee Print 116-7, modified by the amendment printed in part A of the report of the Committee on Rules accompanying this resolution, shall be considered as adopted in the House of the Whole.

The bill, as amended, shall be considered as the original bill for the purpose of further amendment under the five-minute rule and shall be considered as read. All points of order against provisions in the bill, as amended, are waived.

SEC. 2. (a) No further amendment to the bill, as amended, shall be in order except those printed in part B of the report of the Committee on Rules accompanying this resolution and amendments en bloc described in section 3 of this resolution.

(b) Each further amendment printed in part B of the report of the Committee on Rules shall be considered only in the order printed in the report, may be offered only by a Member designated in the report, shall be debatable for the time specified in the report equally divided and controlled by the proponent and an opponent, shall not be subject to amendment, and shall not be subject to a demand for division of the question in the House or in the Committee of the Whole.

(c) All points of order against the further amendments printed in part B of the report of the Committee on Rules shall be considered only in the order printed in the report, may be offered only by a Member designated in the report, shall be debatable for the time specified in the report equally divided and controlled by the proponent and an opponent, shall not be subject to amendment, and shall not be subject to a demand for division of the question in the House or in the Committee of the Whole.
SEC. 3. It shall be in order at any time for the chair of the Committee on House Administration or her designee to offer amendments en bloc consisting of amendments printed in part B of the report of the Committee on Rules accompanying this resolution not earlier disposed of. Amendments en bloc offered pursuant to this section shall be considered simultaneously to votes, 30 minutes equally divided and controlled by the chair and ranking minority member of the Committee on House Administration or their designees.

Lastly, the rule provides suspension authority through Friday, March 8, 2019.

Mr. Speaker, as you know, this past weekend, I had the honor of traveling to Selma, Alabama, with over 40 of our congressional colleagues on a pilgrimage to observe the 54th anniversary of Bloody Sunday, the violent confrontation at the Edmund Pettus Bridge in Selma.

That confrontation seized the Nation’s attention and launched one of the most important periods in the history of our Republic, culminating in the passage of the Voting Rights Act.

When our colleague, Representative John Lewis, along with Martin Luther King and other civil rights pioneers, organized voters to register, crossed the Edmund Pettus Bridge and marched from Selma to Montgomery, they did so knowing that their lives and the lives of those they loved were at risk.

The institutional opposition they faced was fierce and violent, but their message of nonviolence and justice strengthened them and their resolve.

They marched and planted their lives in order to secure the right to vote. They understood that they would never be equal citizens of the United States until they had a voice in their destiny, and they understood that the United States could never be the republic it aspired to become until all of its citizens had the right to participate in decisions affecting their future.

We undeniably have made progress since then, but not enough, and frighteningly, we seem to be moving backward.

In recent years, we have seen new forms of voter suppression emerge, whether in the guise of strict voter ID laws, purges of voting rolls, partisan gerrymandering, or unfounded allegations of voter fraud.

As an election official, election protection organizer, and voting rights advocate for over 3 decades, I have seen all of these tactics in play. In fact, several of us in the Pennsylvania delegation were able to join this Congress in part because a Federal court ordered Pennsylvania’s congressional districts had been so gerrymandered that they must be redrawn, they were unconstitutional.

We have heard, and will undoubtedly hear again today, that Democrats are pushing voting rights reform because of the expectation that new voters will likely be Democratic voters. I would hope that those with a sense of history would resist this, recognizing that the very same argument was used to oppose the Voting Rights Act in 1965 out of fear that those who had been oppressed were far more likely to experience into their voting decisions.

It is telling that a similar fear motivates some in this Chamber today who would rather deprive citizens of a fundamental right than face them at the ballot box.

The cynicism of those who would continue to place barriers in the way of those who wish to vote goes a long way to explaining why our citizens lack faith in our democracy.

Those with power, voting and otherwise, too often try to preserve that power through means that are neither transparent nor understood by the people of this country. We have to be bold, and reclaim some of that institutional power in order to regain the trust of the people.

I thank my colleague, Representative John Sarbanes, who has worked for years in tirelessly crafting this legislation. I also thank Speaker Pelosi and the Democratic leadership team for making this bill the top priority in the House for the 116th Congress. I am so proud that the first order of business of this Congress, our H.R. 1, is dedicated to good government and restoring trust in our democratic institutions.

Our elections are the bedrock of our democracy. During the recent midterm elections, the American people charged us, the new Congress, to make sure that our government works for them. They put their trust in us to champion our uniquely American creed: a government of, by, and for the people, by the people, and for the people.

H.R. 1, the For the People bill, is our commitment to that trust. This reform package will address many of the barriers to democracy that prevent too many eligible voters from having their voices heard, including our seniors, communities of color, servicemembers, college students, those with disabilities, and low-income families. But it is up to us to see it through.

I am immensely proud to be part of a Caucus that is prioritizing legislation that the people are asking for, legislation that will protect the right to vote for every American and ensure clean and fair elections, that will end the dominance of big money in our politics, and that will crack down on corruption to make sure that public servants put the public interest first.

Recent polls have found that many Americans do not vote because of difficulty registering or accessing their polling places and that Americans are really concerned about the ethical standards of their elected representatives and government officials and are equally concerned about the influence of special interests and corruption in Washington.

Mr. Speaker, the Democratic majority takes what the people are asking for seriously. This is a bill that addresses their concerns and resets our democracy so that it works for the people, not special interests.

H.R. 1 will make it easier for eligible Americans to vote. Allowing and enabling Americans to vote should not be a divisive partisan issue. Our Nation can only stand to benefit when all eligible voters have a voice.

The very fact that my colleagues on the other side of the aisle have greater electoral success when fewer people come out to vote is not just a stain on our democracy but a direct threat to it.

Automatic voter registration will make it easier for young adults and working families to make sure that they are not left out of the process due to issues with registration.

This bill will make critical fixes to voter purging policies that have disenfranchised millions since section 4 of the Voting Rights Act was struck down by the Supreme Court in Shelby v. Holder. Over 4 million more names were purged from voter rolls after that decision came down than they were in the years before. These purges affected poor minority communities at a vastly disproportionate rate, further marginalizing people who already face significant institutional barriers to voting.

Election security has been a bipartisan concern across the country for years, and H.R. 1 will make considerable investments to ensure our elections are secure, independent, and free from foreign interference. Empowering the Election Assistance Commission will allow States to get the funding they need to upgrade or improve their election infrastructure, and improvements in election administration will help protect voting systems from cyber threats.

Election infrastructure is critical, and this bill finally recognizes the role that Congress must play in protecting our elections.

A specific priority of mine that I am excited to see included in the bill will make it easier for persons with disabilities to participate in the electoral process. For too long, individuals with disabilities have faced barriers that prevent them from participating in our democracy at the ballot box. I have introduced legislation included in H.R. 1 that will direct and assist States to improve access to voter registration and the ballot box for persons with disabilities.

These democracy-driven policies represent just a handful of the voting rights reforms contained in H.R. 1. They will improve access to voting, promote integrity in the voting process, and ensure the security of our elections.

Going further, H.R. 1 acts to shine a light and address the dark money which the Citizens United decision unleashed into our politics. Each year that we do not act on reversing Citizens United, more and more untraceable money is spent on campaigns.

This bill will overhaul the Federal Election Commission, the FEC, so that we have a real cop on the beat to enforce our campaign finance laws.

It will upgrade political advertising disclosures and require donors giving more than $10,000 to politically active organizations to be publicly identified. Simultaneously, this bill seeks to empower everyday Americans by creating a small-dollar match system that will bring more people into the conversation and ensure that large donors can have on any one campaign. While small-dollar campaign funding is relatively new to the Federal system, it has been trialed in States and larger cities to great effect.

I am proud to see included in this bill a draft to keep Presidential inaugural funds from becoming shadowy slush funds or opportunities for dark forces, whether foreign or domestic, to influence our government. The bill will prohibit donations to inaugural funds by foreign nationals or corporations, ban personal use of inaugural funds by a candidate, and require disclosure of all donations and disbursements.

H.R. 1 will also help to restore voter confidence in our democracy by codifying ethics standards for all three branches of government. The bill requires the development of a code of ethics for judges, justices, and mandatory recusal of Presidential appointees from matters that concern the President, and increased enforcement of the registration of foreign agents.

The bill will prohibit Members of Congress from using taxpayer funds to settle employment discrimination cases against them, preventing Members of Congress from hiding this conduct and protecting taxpayer money from being misused.

Finally, H.R. 1 will address Presidential conflicts of interest by requiring sitting Presidents and Vice Presidents, as well as Presidential and Vice Presidential candidates, to release their tax returns. This, along with the executive order by an occupation, the highest office in the land should be required to show if they have financial interests that would influence their decisionmaking. Having an executive behave in any way to a private company or a foreign country serves to undermine our democracy.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I thank my good friend, the gentlewoman from Pennsylvania (Ms. SCALON) for yielding me the customary 30 minutes.

Mr. Speaker, we had quite the debate on this bill in the Rules Committee last night, and I expect the debate on the floor today will be along similar lines. Today’s bill is H.R. 1, which my friends on the other side of the aisle are calling by the misnomer “For the People Act.” It is, instead, this bill is completely misnamed.

It is not for the people. It is, instead, for the Democratic majority, by the Democratic majority, in hopes of maintaining the Democratic majority for many years to come. Every provision in this bill reflects that goal.

That began with the process the majority used to put this bill together. H.R. 1 was referred to 10 different committees, yet only one, House Administration, held a markup. My friends hold a 2-to-1 advantage on that committee. There are only three Republicans who can participate.

Later, we will be hearing from some of the Republican ranking members of these committees, each of whom will talk about provisions that they had hoped to address, had their respective committees marked up the bill. This failure to allow other committees with jurisdiction to mark up the bill reinforces the desire of the majority to push this bill through as quickly as possible without any additional consideration. Without further hearings and markups, it is all too easy for the majority to sweep the bill’s flaws under the rug and pass it quickly without allowing the American people to see what they are up to.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I thank my good friend, the gentlewoman from Pennsylvania (Ms. SCALON) for yielding me the customary 30 minutes.

Oklahoma State Election Board opposing H.R. 1 on precisely these grounds.

Mr. Speaker, I include in the RECORD that letter again today.

OKLAHOMA STATE ELECTION BOARD,
Oklahoma City, OK, March 4, 2019.

Hon. TOM COLE,
House of Representatives,
Washington DC.

DEAR REPRESENTATIVE COLE: As Oklahoma's chief state election official, I am very proud of Oklahoma's election system. Our state is one of the most effective and efficient election systems in the world. It is uniform, it is fair, it is secure, and it is fast.

As a member of the House of Representatives preparing to consider H.R. 1, I want to take a moment to express some concerns about several of its provisions related to election administration. While I believe H.R. 1 to be well-intentioned by its sponsors, its "one-size-fits-all" requirements for state election systems would require Oklahoma to make extensive changes to the way we run elections. I am concerned that some of H.R. 1's mandates could negatively impact the very things Oklahoma does so well.

Based on my review of H.R. 1, here is a list of my top concerns:

1. Voting by Mail: To combat Oklahoma's past history of absentee ballot fraud, several decades ago the Oklahoma Legislature enacted legislation requiring most voters to have their identity confirmed by a notary public when voting by absentee ballot. Oklahoma law also requires absentee ballots to be received by the county election board no later than 7:30 p.m. on Election Day. These procedures reduce the number of ballots voided from fraud and ensure that county election boards have 100% of absentee ballots counted on election night. Unfortunately, H.R. 1 would require the counting of absentee ballots to continue for days or weeks after an election, and would take away a critical security feature of our election system.

2. Exclusion of Oklahoma County election boards: Typically, these boards have a very small staff. (Many have only the secretary and one assistant.) For federal and state elections, Oklahoma currently follows "early voting on the Thursday, Friday and Saturday prior to Election Day. Most counties have a single early voting site, but several have two sites. Even with the assistance of absentee voting boards paid for by the State Election Board, most counties barely have enough budget and staff to successfully conduct early voting or processing. While currently required, H.R. 1's requirement for FIFTEEN CONSECUTIVE DAYS of early voting is simply not feasible given the small budgets and staff at 77 county election boards. This would make it virtually impossible for county election board staff to perform their other critical duties (e.g., processing voter registration applications, and preparing supplies for precinct workers) if they are instead conducting early voting during this time.

3. Same Day Voter Registration: Oklahoma has a very reasonable deadline for voter registration (applications must be submitted 20 days prior to an election). H.R. 1 requires county election boards to conduct voter registration during "early" voting periods and on Election Day. This mandate is not currently feasible with the current funding and staffing levels of county election boards. The logistics of predicting how many ballots a county election board can process and how many precinct officials to assign to polling places, with the number of potential voters unknown, would be extremely difficult and inefficient. Same day registration increases the risk that due to error or fraud an ineligible person is allowed to register and vote.

4. Provisional ballots: Oklahoma has a county-based election system. While Oklahoma uses the same voting system statewide, the voting system is siloed and does not directly interact with other counties' systems. (For example, one county cannot print or count another county's ballots.) H.R. 1 requires a voter to vote in the assigned polling place in the county where the voter is registered. Provisional ballots are issued for a variety of reasons, and, if eligible, are counted after 2:00 p.m. on the Friday following Election Day. However, H.R. 1 requires a provisional ballot to be counted even if it is cast in the wrong county. This requirement does so much insecurity and risk and is not currently possible given Oklahoma's election security features.

5. Online Voter Registration: Oklahoma will implement online voter registration in the near future. Unfortunately, H.R. 1 sets different requirements for its federally-managed online voter registration system than is required by Oklahoma law. (For example, H.R. 1 does everything from defining acceptable signature requirements, to mandating a telephone verification of an online voter registration system, to micromanaging the features required for a state's customer support system.) Further, Oklahoma's future online voter registration system will require that a registrant's identity be confirmed by matching the person's information with an existing driver license or state I.D., but H.R. 1 sets different (and less secure) standards for confirming a registrant's identity.

6. 'Federalism': While I believe H.R. 1's sponsors are well-intentioned, a great many of its election provisions—even those that are not concerns—relate to policy decisions that are best left to the states under our federal system. I am concerned that, in its current form, it would lead to costly and lengthy litigation.

While these are not my only concerns, they are the most significant to the state of Oklahoma, and I urge the Committee to consider H.R. 1 with these concerns in mind. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

PAUL ZIRIAX, SECRETARY
Oklahoma State Election Board.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I would also point out that, in the case of redistricting, if the State cannot reach a resolution, H.R. 1 hands over the redistricting function to an unelected Federal court here in Washington, D.C. Everything you read about redistricting in H.R. 1 is an erosion of traditional State authority and a power grab for Democrats here in Washington.

Perhaps even more egregiously, the bill places limits on freedom of speech, particularly when it would currently describe as mere advocacy for candidates. Not since the Sedition Act of 1798 has the Federal Government tried to pass something that tramples so heavily on freedom of speech as H.R. 1. The bill is no bad in this regard that even the American Civil Liberties Union is opposing it, which is a perfect illustration of just how bad H.R. 1 really is.

Mr. Speaker, I could go on and on. Everywhere you look, H.R. 1 fails to do what the majority has promised. They have promised it is to be about returning power to the people. Instead, this bill only gives power back to the already Democratic politicians. It takes away authority from States and gives it to the Federal Government, wastes taxpayer dollars on political campaigns, weakens the voting system, and limits freedom of speech.

In sum, Mr. Speaker, I cannot imagine how any Member can stand up with a straight face and support this bill. I urge opposition to the rule, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Florida (Ms. CASTOR).

Ms. CASTOR of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman from the Rules Committee for yielding the time.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the For the People Act, H.R. 1, and the rule.

We promised the American people, and our neighbors back home have every right to, to strengthen America's ethics laws, to fix our broken campaign finance system, and to empower American voters.

I represent the State of Florida, and you better believe that we have to protect access to the ballot box, ensure the voting rights of everyone, and count every vote.

I thank the Rules Committee for including a bipartisan amendment that has worked on to address the abuse of zombie campaigns. Many folks don't understand this, but sometimes Members who retire from Congress keep their campaign accounts, and they live on for decades, hence the title "zombie campaigns." Oftentimes, they will misuse campaign funds, use the unspent campaign funds. It is common for candidates to live on forever, and we are going to address that abuse as well.

This bill has important reforms that strengthen American democracy, root out corruption, and ensure that our government here in the United States of America works for the people.

Mr. Speaker, I urge a strong bipartisan vote.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the distinguished gentleman from Oklahoma (Mr. LUCAS), my good friend.

Mr. LUCAS of Oklahoma. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the resolution for consideration of H.R. 1.

H.R. 1 includes provisions that fall under the jurisdiction of the House Committee, of which I am ranking member. Buried in the 600-page bill are requirements that would greatly expand the role of the National Institute of Standards and Technology, NIST, in election security. NIST is an important agency under our committee’s jurisdiction. NIST also plays an important nonregulatory role, providing guidance to State and local governments to help ensure election protection results are secure and accurate.

Keeping our elections safe from cyberattacks and fraud is not a partisan priority. It is a priority for all of us.

Unlike the more partisan parts of H.R. 1, I believe that if we had been given a chance on the committee, Chairwoman EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON and I would have been able to come to an agreement on bipartisan legislation to update NIST election security activities.

However, the Democratic leadership has rushed this legislation to the floor without giving our committee an opportunity to even hold a single hearing on the bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield the gentleman an additional 15 seconds.

Mr. LUCAS. Mr. Speaker, quite simply, all of the issues raised from NIST were ignored. The opportunity to have a hearing on this subject matter in the committee was ignored.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to vote against the rule and the underlying bill. We can do better.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Rhode Island (Mr. CICILLINE).

Mr. CICILLINE. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of the rule and, of course, in support of H.R. 1, the For the People Act, which would provide the most significant reform to our democratic system in decades.

This landmark legislation represents the fulfillment of a promise to the American people to restore our democracy by expanding access to the ballot, reducing the corrupting influence of corporate money and political campaigns, and restoring ethics, integrity, and transparency to government.

We live in a time in our Nation’s history where Americans have a deep sense that government does not work for them, and they are right. That cynicism is caused by policies that respond to the voices of the rich and powerful while ignoring those of ordinary Americans and practices that seek to reduce and restrict participation in our electoral process.

Americans are sick and tired of corruption and mismanagement here in Washington, and they elected us with the expectation that we will take real steps to clean up the mess and return power to the people of our great country.

H.R. 1 provides us with the opportunity to do this by offering the most sweeping reforms to our democracy since Watergate, and it makes real strides in rooting out corruption, strengthening voting rights, and restoring government by and for the people.

I want to particularly thank you, Mr. Speaker, for your extraordinary leadership in shaping this bill and drafting it, and my colleagues all across the Caucus and producing this product.

H.R. 1 includes the DISCLOSE Act, which I introduced to shine the light on unlimited corporate spending that has overpowered our political system. Without fixing our broken campaign finance system and taking power from the powerful special interests and returning it to the people of this country, it will also be impossible to make progress on the other issues that are important to the American people.

The DISCLOSE Act will require organizations that spend money on elections to promptly disclose donors who give $10,000 or more during the election cycle and prevent political operatives from actions meant to conceal the identity of donors.

I have also introduced legislation which would require motor vehicle registries to automatically register all eligible citizens who obtain criminal justice services from their motor vehicle registries.

In 2006, at least 32.6 million eligible Americans were not registered to vote and, thus, unable to cast a ballot. The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, I yield the gentleman from Rhode Island an additional 1 minute.

Mr. CICILLINE. Mr. Speaker, making registration automatic will ensure that everyone who wishes to be added to the voter rolls will not have to think twice about it, and I am proud that H.R. 1 will implement automatic voter registration.

For too long, Mr. Speaker, Washington has acted on behalf of wealthy and powerful special interests. Last Congress, Republicans passed legislation to take away healthcare from 23 million Americans, to give billions in tax cuts to billionaires, and to ease gun restrictions in the wake of the deadliest shooting in modern America.

Americans responded by voting them out and entrusting us to clean up this culture of corruption. Let us repay that trust by passing this landmark legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support the For the People Act, and I urge adoption of the rule.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the distinguished gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. PERRY).

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Oklahoma (Mr. COLE) for yielding.

Mr. Speaker, this rule is about what is called the For the People Act, but, to me, it should be called the “For the Swamp Act.”

Now, we are going to have plenty of time later to debate the particulars of the bill, but right now we are talking about the rule and what brings this to the floor.

I just want to remind everybody that this bill was given jurisdiction in 10 committees—10 committees—but 1 committee marked it up. And my committee took a look at it and said: Well, this is wrong. Let’s fix this. Let’s change that.

One committee with nine people—2 percent of Congress—has been involved in this bill.

Now, we understand we are in the minority here. We get that. We get that we are not going to get our way, but we are asking to have a say. That is all we are asking for here.

This bill is about shutting down the open process and honest debate—this rule resolution, which actually makes sense, because the underlying bill does the same thing for the American people.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3½ minutes to the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. MCGOVERN), the distinguished chairman of the Committee on Rules.

Mr. MCGOVERN. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the gentlewoman from Pennsylvania (Ms. SCANLON) for yielding me the time.

Mr. Speaker, in 1997, I stood on this floor and urged action to fix our broken campaign finance system. I spoke then about how newspapers were filled with daily stories detailing how unregulated campaign contributions were corrupting our political system and threatening the very essence of our democracy. That was my first year serving in this institution.

I am sorry to say that this problem hasn’t only persisted, it has gotten worse than many of us could have ever imagined.

Who could have thought that the Supreme Court would issue a disaster ruling like Citizens United? that some would try to have us believe that corporations are people? that we would have a President in the White House who has taken the Republican culture of corruption to a whole new level?

Now, I could go on and on, Mr. Speaker. The news that once made the front page of the newspaper is now in front of us on our smartphones nonstop.

We see over and over again how big money has infected our political process and prevented action on things that the American people care most about, how new roadblocks are being put in place to prevent some eligible Americans from casting their ballots, and how some have used their office to side with special interests over the public interest.

This legislation is about finally fixing our broken democracy, including modernizing and securing our election system. We care so much about this that the For the People Act is literally our top priority. That is why it is H.R. 1.

Now, my Republican friends are talking about process like it is something to be ashamed of. Are they kidding? I mean, these are crocodile tears. When they were in charge at the last Congress, their priority, their H.R. 1, was a tax cut for the superrich. Ours is literally a bill for the people.

And their H.R. 1, by the way, as you can see from this chart, had zero hearings. None. Our H.R. 1 had five.

Our H.R. 1 had 15 hours of hearings. Do you know how many hours of hearings their H.R. 1 had? Zero, a big fat zero. No hearings at all.

We had expert witnesses come to testify and give their input, pro and con. They had none when they did H.R. 1.

Our bill, as we have a structured rule, we have a structured rule, we have a closed rule. In order when they had their H.R. 1 to help the superrich, do you know how many amendments they made in order? Zero. None. A big fat closed rule.

The cost of our legislation to kind of clean up our democracy is zero. Do you know how much theirs was? At least $1.5 trillion.

Mr. Speaker, what we are doing here is how the legislative process is supposed to work. And imagine what we could achieve once we get special interests out of the way, whether it is lowering the cost of prescription drugs or strengthening our healthcare system or passing sensible gun safety legislation or protecting the Dreamers.

This is about ensuring that our elections actually reflect the Constitution of this country. This bill does not hinge on whether we have 70 amendments or “We, the special interests.” It says, “We, the People.”

Mr. Speaker, I urge all of my colleagues to join with the majority in supporting this rule and the underlying legislation so we can finally put our government back in the hands of the people.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Members are reminded to refrain from engaging in personalities toward the gentleman from Texas.

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Speaker, I urge that we oppose the rule. If the rule does pass, I promise that we will oppose the legislation as well.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. DOGGETT).

Mr. DOGGETT. Mr. Speaker, Texas is ground zero for voter suppression. Texas Republicans enacted the most stringent voter ID law in the country. They slashed communities across our State through partisan gerrymandering, and now, this year, in what one Federal court has just described as a “ham-handed move” which “exemplifies the powers of government to strike fear and anxiety and to intimidate the least powerful among us,” the Abbott administration has initiated a massive voter purge by making the false claim that tens of thousands of people have voted illegally in our State.

Our State has a problem. It is not too many people voting illegally; it is too many people voting at all. The difference that you see in this debate is that we believe elections should be won for one party or the other based on turning out the voters, and too often, our Republican colleagues believe they are won by throwing out the voters.

I believe that the important reform that we are considering today will replace these purges with the urge to have voters participate by removing the many obstacles that stand in their way.

It makes the right to vote more than a paper guarantee. It makes it a reality by allowing people to know their own power, to shape our democracy, and hold every public official accountable.

For my part, I am fighting the steady Trump erosion of our democracy by empowering the people to make their voices heard.

I am so pleased that this legislation includes a provision that I authored to ensure the business tax returns, as well as the personal individual returns, of candidates for President.

Now, this particular amendment is directed not specifically at Mr. Trump, but his conduct underscores why we must require it. He had his personal law firm review his tax returns, and they awarded him an all-clear from any Russian connection.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Time of the gentleman has expired.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, I yield the gentleman from Texas an additional 1 minute.

Mr. DOGGETT. Mr. Speaker, they noted that he was the sole or principal owner of 500 separate business entities that stretched from Azerbaijan to Miami, and they gave him an all-clear, upon which he asked us to rely without noting that the same firm had proudly boasted that it was “the Russia law firm of the year.”

Some of us believe we need a little more credible source to review his conduct. But not just review his conduct, that of anyone, for either party, who aspires to be the most powerful person in the entire world.

Even President Nixon invited the Joint Committee on Taxation to review his tax returns, explaining that the people have got to know whether their President is a crook—something very relevant to our times. Candidates who cannot meet the very low Richard Nixon standard have no right to our highest office.

If left untouched and unreachable, without exposure to sunlight, we will find that the tax returns hide the darkest secrets. It is good that we have a strong act demanding disclosure of those returns.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. BURGESS), my good friend, fellow member of the Rules Committee, and classmate.

Mr. BURGESS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding.

Mr. Speaker, a little over 2 years ago, President Trump stood on the west front of this Capitol and pledged to dedicate his administration to taking care of the forgotten men and women of this country. This bill does not take seriously the plight of those forgotten men and women. It does take seriously the plight of protecting Democratic incumbents and candidates.

This bill can’t be concealed. It is never going to pass in the Senate. It is never going to be signed by the President. But it is important to talk about it because it reveals the agenda of the Democratic majority here in the House of Representatives.

This bill, things like the Green New Deal, things like a massive single-payer healthcare system, and it is pretty clear that Democrats don’t care about the economy. They don’t care about the middle class. Every election you and I look at, people talk about rebuilding the middle class.

My gosh, Donald Trump has rebuilt the middle class, but you don’t care... about that. You don't care about jobs. You don't care about what people earn in those jobs, otherwise you wouldn't be opening the borders the way you are. You care about your own power. You care about maintaining your own power. It is our job to notify and magnify with thebarefaced temerity of this House of Representatives. That is why I am speaking out about it today.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. RASKIN), a distinguished member of the Rules Committee.

Mr. RASKIN. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the gentlewoman for yielding me the time.

Our friends across the aisle are nothing if not courageous. They have got the brazen temerity to raise the question of process after running the most closed Congress in the history of the United States of America; the most closed House of Representatives that anyone has ever seen.

Let's compare their H.R. 1 when they got started with our H.R. 1. Well, their's was filed, marked up, and passed in 2 weeks with no hearings, no amendments made in order, and no expert testimony at all.

Our H.R. 1 was filed on the first day of the new Congress for all of the public to read. There have been hearings in five different committees with over 15 hours of expert testimony, culminating in a full committee markup by the House Administration. Sixty days later, we are now on the floor for consideration in an open and transparent way.

You would think they would have the decency not to raise the question of process after running the House of Representatives like King Kong over the last 2 years. But the people who ran it like King Kong now want to turn it into a Quaker meeting house somehow. They should be thanking us for the openness of our proceedings.

Their H.R. 1 blew a $1.5 trillion hole in the deficit, a staggering and unprecedented assault on the fiscal integrity of the United States of America, to shower tax cuts on the wealthy and well-connected.

Our H.R. 1 is an effort to reclaim our democracy from the wealthy and well-connected people who were the beneficiaries of their H.R. 1 by creating a 21st century campaign finance system that serves the people.

On the substance of the matter, it is amazing to me that my colleagues raise the question of the swamp. They got elected 2.5 years ago promising to be the swamp. It was a great slogan they borrowed from NANCY PELOSI. They moved to Washington. They moved into the swamp. They built a hotel on it, and they have turned the Government of the United States into a money-making operation for the President, and the President's family, and what President's friends and business associates.

Now, what are we doing in H.R. 1? We are trying to reclaim American democracy. This legislation is anti-gerrymandering legislation. This legislation says that every State in the Union will have to have an independent redistricting commission. No politicians involved. They want the politicians to be involved. Amazingly, they embrace the title of being the gerrymander party. They want to keep gerrymandering because that is how they maintain their stranglehold on political power.

The whole point of H.R. 1 is to liberate us from the gerrymandering of our elections. That is why we start with independent redistricting commissions. We move to publicly financed elections, because either the big, wealthy, special interests are going to own the elections, or else the people are going to own them through a small, donor-leveraged system. And that is what we are doing. We have got ethics reform in this legislation.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, I yield an additional 15 seconds to the gentleman from Maryland.

Mr. RASKIN. Mr. Speaker, I encourage, everyone to actually read the actual mark reform legislation, which insists upon ethics reform at the Supreme Court, ethics reform in the executive branch, empowering the Office of Government Ethics to have real subpoena power, and to actually be able to bring the corruption which is engulfing the Trump administration today, and to prevent corruption in the future.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from Illinois (Mr. RODNEY DAVIS), my friend and the ranking Republican Member on the House Administration Committee.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, it is great to be here and follow up on the House Administration Committee, the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. RASKIN).

Obviously, as you will hear over the next 1 minute and 50 seconds, we disagree. This bill was rushed. This bill does not live up to the promises that the Democratic majority said they were going to do when they ran the House and how open, how bipartisan, and how transparent they were supposed to be.

H.R. 1 means this is the Democrat majority's priority. This bill was introduced on January 3, and at a press conference introducing this bill, many different outside, special interest groups were noted for having helped craft this piece of legislation.

It was 271 pages. It has turned into 622 pages. It has turned into 72 amendments that were ruled in order.

Now, let's take a step back. Ten committees of this House had jurisdiction within this bill. One committee, the smallest committee in the House of Representatives, the House Administration Committee is the only one to mark this bill up.

That is not regular order. That is not an open process. And, frankly, it is a process that the American people should demand be much different.

We Republicans were not consulted during the drafting of this piece of legislation. We Republicans during the markup offered 28 amendments that would have made this bill better, and not a single one was passed. All failed on a party-line vote.

That is not bipartisanship. That is not openness. That is not a process that is inclusive, and, frankly, the American people should be very petrified what this bill will do. It is not a bill that responds to people, as my colleague, Mr. Raskin, just mentioned. This is a bill that is going to cost the American taxpayers billions of dollars, creating a mandatory program that is going to line the campaign coffers of every single Member of Congress with government money.

What is not what the American taxpayers are wanting. That is not what this institution should be doing. We want every single person in this country to be able to cast their vote and make sure that they have the right to try to be able to do it, and to ensure that that vote is protected. This bill does nothing to make sure that happens.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. MCGOVERN).

Mr. MCGOVERN. Mr. Speaker, I am confused when I listen to the gentleman from Illinois when he complains about process. He complains that we have over 70 amendments in order, as if that were a bad thing.

We think that is a good thing. And when they did their H.R. 1, which was a big, fat giveaway to big corporate special interests in this country, they had no amendments. They had no hearings. They had no committees.

The House Administration Committee happens to be the main committee of jurisdiction, and they did a hearing and a markup. So did the other committees. They all did hearings. I don't understand what the problem is.

The problem is, you don't like this bill because it undercuts your stranglehold on the political system where all of the big money, corporate special interests can basically get their way with the Republican majority.

People, whether they are Democrats, Republicans, or Independents, have had enough of this corrupt political system that my Republican friends have embraced. We are sick of it. They are sick of it. We are going to change it and it begins here today with passing H.R. 1.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues on both sides of the aisle: stand with us, clean up our political system and support H.R. 1.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Arizona (Mrs. LESKO), my good friend and fellow member of the Rules Committee.
Mrs. LESKO. Mr. Speaker, I thank my good friend, Mr. Cole, the ranking member of the Rules Committee, for yielding me time to speak on this most important issue.

Mr. Speaker, I tell those of you who are here watching this from around America, this is a terrible bill. I have to tell you, the more that I read about it, the more that I study about it, the worse I think that it is.

First of all, it is a total overreach of the federal government into States’ rights. In this bill, the majority didn’t even consult with the secretaries of States and the election officials throughout the entire country to see if they even liked it. And so you are mandating to the States how they should run their elections.

Not only that, it is mandating to the States how they should run redistricting. Now, in the State of Arizona, the voters of Arizona set up a redistricting commission and determined how we do this. But in this bill it says, no, no, it shouldn’t be up to the State. It shouldn’t be up to the voters. We know better here in Washington, D.C. how to do your business.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time is now 2:00 o’clock. The gentlewoman has expired.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield an additional 15 seconds to the gentlewoman from Arizona.

Mrs. LESKO. Mr. Speaker, the worst part is that it subsidizes politicians with public money, a 6-to-1 matching ratio giving millions, billions more dollars to candidates. My constituents don’t want to see any more of those TV commercials at all; no more signs; no more robocalls. This bill would add more money to those nasty things.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. McHENRY), the distinguished ranking member on the Financial Services Committee.

Mr. MCHENRY. Mr. Speaker, I thank the Republican leader on the Rules Committee for yielding.

It is unfortunate we are here today to debate a bill like this. This bill is nothing more than a partisan power grab. That is the sum and substance of what has been offered here as H.R. 1.

This is about the priorities of Democrats in the House, and the priorities of Democrats in the House is to change our election laws in such a way as to benefit their party and hurt the American voters and their will at the ballot box. That is the deep problem here with H.R. 1.

This is a partisan power grab by one party to seize power by manipulating our laws to get an outcome counter to the will of the people.

It is not about fairness. It is just the opposite. This is a problem, the process that the Democrats went through, the majority went through for this bill. We had one markup in one committee even though we had multiple committees, including the House Financial Services Committee. That is how big this bill is. It had multiple committees of jurisdiction that were supposed to have markups on this, and they did not go through that full process.

This bill, at the end of the day, seeks to limit free speech. It uses taxpayer dollars to subsidize campaign efforts, and mandates outcomes designed to get more Democrats into power.

This is not about fairness. It is just the opposite. Let’s vote against this rule, and let’s vote down this bad bill.

Ms. ESHOO. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from California (Ms. ESHOO).

Ms. ESHOO. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding.

Mr. Speaker, I can’t believe what I am hearing from my colleagues on the other side of the aisle.

Against higher ethics in Congress, they are, what, accepting any kind of corruption in this institution and what corrupts our democracy? You are doing something that is unforgivable. You want dark money to continue? This is absurd. This is about strengthening our democracy. This should have 435 votes. I am so proud that two of my bills have been incorporated into H.R. 1; one is that we have a national day for our national elections. People shouldn’t have to choose between their job or their families. They should be able to go and vote.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, if we defeat the previous question, I will offer an amendment to add a provision that bars candidates from receiving matching funds under this bill unless that candidate certifies that no tax lien exists on any property owned by that candidate by reason of a failure of the candidate to pay any Federal, State, or local tax.

Mr. Speaker, the logic of this is simple. If the majority is going to insist that millions—really, billions—of Federal tax dollars should be spent subsidizing campaigns, then candidates should also certify that they have paid all the taxes due from them. If a candidate has a tax lien against them, then they should not receive taxpayer dollars to subsidize their campaign. This is common sense and simple fairness.

Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to insert the text of my amendment in the RECORD, along with extraneous material, immediately prior to the vote on the previous question.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Oklahoma?

There was no objection.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I urge a “no” vote on the previous question, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, may I inquire if the gentleman from Oklahoma has any more speakers?

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I am prepared to close.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time to close.

Mr. Speaker, I urge opposition to this rule and the underlying measure. The majority has brought up a misnamed bill that instead serves only to preserve its own power. H.R. 1 will create a taxpayer-funded ATM to waste Federal dollars on political campaigns.

Let me say that again: to waste Federal dollars on campaigns.

My friends are worried about the power of money, but they are injecting billions of new taxpayer dollars into this. And not only that, the taxpayer has no say in where those dollars go. They don’t get to pick a candidate or who wins. We are just going to willy-nilly have their dollars support candidates whom they may or may not agree with.

This does not only apply to Democrats and Republicans. There are fringe candidates who will get funding under this, too, candidates, quite frankly, who will probably embarrass my friends and ourselves.

So I think this is an enormously misguided idea. It will take over elections and voter registration. H.R. 1 will create a bipartisan coalition for election reform, and transfer power to Washington.

Let me say that again. My friends are voting to literally turn over the State election operations of 50 separate States and federalize them. They haven’t talked to very many secretaries of state. I think there was only one who actually was allowed to testify in opposition to this bill.

Instead, we are going to foist off billions of dollars in unpaid mandates on every State in the country, so my friends can continue this misguided effort to alter the political landscape of the greatest Republic and democracy in the world.

This bill will weaken voting systems and weaken the enforcement mechanism that guards against fraud, and it will undermine Americans’ fundamental First Amendment rights.

Mr. Speaker, I would strongly urge my friends on the other side to reconsider their course of action. This bill is not going to be heard by the Senate; it will never be signed by the President of the United States; and instead of building a bipartisan coalition for election and campaign reform, it will partisanship this process further.

There was and still is an opportunity to have this bill considered in markups across every committee of jurisdiction. Instead, the majority is simply ramming it through, forcing a committee on their own to hold a 2-to-1 majority and limiting, frankly, the ability of Members to participate in the process of writing the bill.
We can do better than this, Mr. Speaker, and we should strive to do better than this now.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to vote “no” on the previous question, “no” on the underlying measure, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. SCALON. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Speaker, the reforms in H. R. 1, the For the People Act, will remove barriers to our democracy that drown out the voices of too many Americans.

H. R. 1 will put the people back in charge. These reforms will bring about systemic change which, in turn, will lead to policy outcomes that improve the lives of all Americans.

From lowering the cost of prescription drugs to rebuilding our Nation’s infrastructure to raising wages and creating better job opportunities, each of these policies requires that we lead by the people, for the people, by the people, for the people.”

Our uniquely American creed: “of the people, for the people, by the people”. That is how I got here and that is how I will continue to work to live up to the mandate with which we were entrusted by voters past November, and it is the first step in restoring faith in our institutions.

Mr. Speaker, I urge all Members of this Congress to support this rule to show that you belong to the people, to support this rule to show that you believe voting should be made easier—not harder—for eligible voters, and support this rule to show that you believe those elected to public positions deserve to be held to the highest possible ethical standards.

In the words of our esteemed colleague, Representative LEWIS: “The fight to vote is precious, almost sacred. It is a fight for a government powerful nonviolent tool or instrument that we have in a democratic society.”

To the American People: We hear you. In the words of the civil rights anthem, we must keep our eyes on the prize and hold on to the vision of a more perfect Union, one in which the voices of the people are heard and respected. Our Caucus is eager to restore the promise of our democracy and give you the government you deserve. That is why we are urging passage of H.R. 1—"For the People.”

Mr. Speaker, I urge a “yes” vote on the rule and the previous question.

The material previously referred to by Mr. COLE is as follows:

At the end of the resolution, add the following:

SEC. 6. Notwithstanding any other provision of this resolution, the amendment printed in section 7 shall be in order as though printed as the last amendment in part B of the report of the Committee on Rules accompanying this resolution if there were present before the Resident Representative Cole of Oklahoma or a designee. That amendment shall be debatable for 10 minutes equally divided and controlled by the proponent and any opponent. SEC. 7. The amendment referred to in section 6 is as follows:

Page 421, insert after line 11 the following: "(5) The candidate certifies that no lien exists on any property of the candidate by reason of a failure of the candidate to pay any Federal, State, or local tax.”

Ms. SCALON. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time, and I move the previous question on the resolution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on ordering the previous question.

The question was taken; and the Speaker pro tempore announced that the ayes appeared to have it.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 9 of rule XX, this 15-minute vote on ordering the previous question will be followed by 5-minute votes on:

Adoption of House Resolution 172, or order required.

Approval of the Journal, or ordered.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yeas 232, nays 191, not voting 8, as follows:

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD — HOUSE
March 6, 2019

Mr. KINZINGER, Mrs. HARTZLER, and Mr. CRAWFORD changed their vote from "yea" to "nay.

So the previous question was ordered.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

For Mr. HORSFORD. Mr. Speaker, had I been present, I would have voted "yea" on rollcall No. 106.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. CUÉLLAR). The question is on the resolution.

The question was taken; and the result of the vote was announced.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

RECOGNIZING THE HONORABLE DON YOUNG AS THE LONGEST-SERVING REPUBLICAN MEMBER OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES (Ms. PELOSI asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. PELOSI. Mr. Speaker, I rise to mark a historic moment in our institution as DON YOUNG, the dean of the House, becomes the longest-serving Republican member of the House's history.

Is that a blushing DON YOUNG that we see behind the beard there?

On behalf of the entire House, Mr. Speaker, I congratulate Congressman YOUNG on this honor and on your 46 years of proud service on behalf of the people of Alaska.

DON YOUNG has served alongside, from Alaska, six Senators and 11 governors of his proud State. Photographs of eight Presidents signing his bills in law proudly cover the walls of his Rayburn office.

Despite the length of time, every single day he serves here, it is clear that DON is passionate about his patriotism and about working in this institution to make a difference for America.

As he said upon becoming dean—remember we celebrated his becoming dean not that long ago—he said:

I love this body, I believe in this body, my heart is in the House.

Just over 2 months ago, DON honored one of the special traditions of our institution when he, as dean, administered the oath of office to me, a woman Speaker of the House. That oath began: "... I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies foreign and domestic..."

As DON's name becomes further etched in the history of this House, his caucus and this Congress will look to him for leadership to protect our Constitution, to defend our institution, and to drive progress for the American people.

Just so you know, my colleagues, in becoming the longest-serving Republican of the House, DON surpasses the
He has been a Member of Congress, but he has been a father, and he has been a very, very great husband.

Mr. Speaker, we all travel far and wide to be here to represent our constituents, but no one travels further, no one has the challenge to match Don. There are no real weather requirements, he takes a dogsled, and it is no joke. That is his dedication.

Don also makes sure this institution stays running on time. I noticed that last vote was yours, I like to monitor the difference when we are in the minority. On average, the votes last 5 to 10 minutes less when we were in the majority, not by anything I did, but by the calls of Don Young.

But on a serious note, Madam Speaker, I have always heard that if you find a job you love, you will not work a day in your life. It is clear that Don Young loves what he does, because he loves this institution and he loves the people’s House.

So to Don, we say congratulations on this incredible accomplishment, something nobody probably sitting here today will ever be able to achieve, but you did it for your passion, you did it for the love, but more importantly, you did it for our country.

I thank you.

Ms. Pelosi. Mr. Speaker, as usual, the distinguished dean is eager to take to the microphone, but not yet. There is more to come.

When the distinguished Republican leader of the House referenced the animals in your office, the menagerie there, I was reminded of one of your ties, and I shared this story with Members on the day that you became the dean of the House, now the longest-serving Republican today. But I saw you one day with a tie that really gave me hope, because it had an owl and a baby seal on it, and I said, “Oh, Mr. Chairman, I am so happy to see you paying tribute to these endangered species,” to which you said, “I call this tie lunch.”

I knew you were only kidding, right? So, in any event, we have all had our stories with the chairman. We all respect and admire him.

Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. Hooyer), the distinguished Democratic majority leader of the House for purposes of commenting on the distinguished dean, the longest-serving Republican today.

Mr. Hooyer. Mr. Speaker, I thank the Speaker for yielding.

Mr. Speaker, I rise to congratulate Don Young, who the minority leader and the Speaker both indicated loves this House. The minority leader then added appropriately, “You haven’t worked a day in your life, at least that is how I interpreted it, Don. That was a liberal interpretation, you know, this side of the aisle. What can I tell you? We just honored the longest-serving Member of the House just a few weeks ago, and as I sat here, I thought, what a resemblance there is between the longest-serving Democrat of the House and the longest-serving Republican of the House: irascible comes to mind; caring about this institution comes to mind; faithful to principle comes to mind; blunt, speaks truth, not only to power, but to everybody else as well. Don Young has made a difference.

Don Young comes from Alaska, as all of us know, although the Speaker and the minority leader recognized that he came from California, but, Don, you have really made a difference, particularly for your State.

As chairman of Natural Resources, you were focused like a laser on making sure that your State was treated fairly. I know there are still some things you didn’t accomplish that you would like to have accomplished, and you have much time left to do that, but the fact is all of us have benefited, I think, from your honesty, your recognition of how the House ought to work, and, yes, your regular order, which you demanded and didn’t always get.

Of course, you took that with just very low-key responses, as I recall, walking by your seat from time to time.

But Don Young is an institution. Don Young is an institutionalist. Don Young is the kind of Member that makes this House, over the decades, work as constructively as it can, not as constructively as it should.

Hopefully, we will follow Don Young and John Dingell’s example, because both of them are lions of partisanship, but both of them were not only willing but thought it appropriate to work across the aisle to reach objectives that they could hold in common.

Mr. Speaker, I rise to thank Don for his service. Don and I have served together for 37 years. Between us, we have little bit of partisanship, but we look forward to serving with him for some years to come. God bless him and Godspeed.

Ms. Pelosi. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to yield to the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. Scalise), the distinguished Republican whip of the House.

Mr. Scalise. Mr. Speaker, I think Speaker Pelosi for her remarks.

Mr. Speaker, it is really a special moment for all of us to pay tribute to Don Young for this great achievement, being the longest-serving Republican in the House, especially for someone who loves this institution so much. As we talked about John Dingell and had the honor of serving with John Dingell in the House Energy and Commerce Committee and seeing his passion, not just for the issues he believed in, in fighting for the auto industry and so many other issues, but for his love of the people’s House, Don’s love is the same. In fact, anybody who knows Don Young knows that his secrets to longevity are always speaking his mind.
fighting every day to be a champion for the great people of Alaska, and always speaking his mind.

On a somber note, Don started his career out of a tragedy. A lot of you remember that back in October of 1972, there was a plane crash in Alaska. Nicholas Begich and Hale Boggs, who at the time was the majority leader, went down in a plane crash. There was a massive search to try to find the plane. They never did find that plane. Ultimately, they finally recognized that we had lost two great leaders, they had special elections.

I get to serve and actually work every day in the office that Hale Boggs once worked in, the same office that Majority Leader Hoyer worked in as well, and I think about Hale a lot, as we think about Nicholas Begich as well. But I know Don was elected in a special election. That is when he came to Congress. Somebody else came to Congress: Hale Boggs’ wife, Lindy Boggs, who some of you may have served with. They are probably too very different personalities, but they formed a special bond because of the unique institutions in which they came to Congress. He shared with me some of those stories.

It just shows you how sometimes our differences can, ultimately, bring us together to at least pay tribute not only to an institution, but to respect our backgrounds and how we all come here from different walks of life. Ultimately, it is our desire to serve the people who we represent.

This is the gentleman I love the most about serving with Don Young. It is that he has such a passion. He fights for his beliefs, and he works with other people.

We all knew that, for 37 years, one of his greatest causes was to open up ANWR. Finally, we were on the White House lawn in December 2017 to have that ceremony and watch Don Young giddy as a schoolchild as the President was making that announcement, and then to see him every day, and every day, come to work with the passion of representing the great people of Alaska and continuing to work with all of us on all the different issues that we come here to address.

As we celebrate this great achievement, I think, as we all know, he comes and sits in that same spot and he yells “order,” and he yells a few other things, and he pushes us all to do our job more efficient way. But how fitting it is that the United States’ largest State has such a larger than life personality as its representative. I think, as we all know, he has such a passion. He fights for the people who he represents. He is the strongest, frankly, Congressman I have ever served with.

We had one thing in common: He respected my beliefs, and I respected his. I would say, John, this is the right thing to do. And he would do it. I think a lot of us here today have to learn that, and quite watching the media. There are people who represent that district, listen to what they have to say and support them. That makes this House work a lot better, frankly, than it is right now.

This is nothing new. We have to do this for this country to have the control of the Congress to run this Nation. If not, we will lose our democracy.

I think, as we all know, he comes and sits in that same spot and he yells “order,” and he yells a few other things, and he pushes us all to do our job more efficient way. But how fitting it is that the United States’ largest State has such a larger than life personality as its representative.

Congratulations, Don. It is an honor to serve with you.

Ms. Pelosi. Mr. Speaker, it is clear from listening to the comments of the bipartisan leadership of the House of Representatives that, as Speaker, I can say, on behalf of the entire House of Representatives: Thank you, Don Young, and congratulations.

Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Alaska (Mr. Young), the distinguish longest serving Republican in history in the Congress.

Mr. Young. Mr. Speaker, I thank Speaker Pelosi for those kind words, the kind words of the Republican leadership, and the kind words of all my colleagues.

It was mentioned that I love this institution, and I do because this is the great United States of America, and we are representatives of our districts.

The one thing I learned, during my 46 years, is that each one of you represent your people, and I respect it. I may not agree with some of the things you stand for, but I respect that you were elected by your people.

I had the privilege of traveling a lot, and I still do, in Members’ districts, not to campaign against them, but to find out why and how they are elected and what they stand for in that community. This House is the people’s House.

I have to sort of confess to one thing that was alluded to by Kevin. It is a fact that I was a schoolteacher to fifth grade students, and it prepared me for this job. There is some truth in that because, I have to tell you, I have timed it as a teacher. The average attention span of most Congressmen is about 4½, because they are so busy trying to do everything they can, and they are so busy representing their people.

John Dingell was mentioned. And, Debbie, God bless you for him. He was one of my dear friends. Everybody says that, but he was a dear friend.

I met him in 1964 in my hometown of Fort Yukon. He was on the Fish and Wildlife Committee. He was 9 years a Congressman. I met with him and talked to him about an issue I was interested in.

Of course, when I got elected, he came to me, and I went to see him. We had one thing in common: We loved to hunt. We hunted on weekends, because we stayed here. We fished on weekends. And we became dear friends. He is the strongest, frankly, Congressman I have ever served with.

We had one thing in common: He respected my beliefs, and I respected his. I would say, John, this is the right thing to do. And he would do it. I think a lot of us here today have to learn that, and quite watching the media. There are people who represent that district, listen to what they have to say and support them. That makes this House work a lot better, frankly, than it is right now.

This is nothing new. We have to do this for this country to have the control of the Congress to run this Nation. If not, we will lose our democracy.

Mr. Speaker, I thank everyone in this room for recognizing my tenure. I want to especially thank my wife, Anne, who is up in the stand. I have been trying to get the State of Alaska to pay her because when I lost my dear Lu, I thought I was going to die. She came along, picked me up off the ground, supported me, loved me, cherishes me, and makes me want to come to work every day to serve the great State of Alaska.

Mr. Speaker, I thank everyone. God bless them, and God bless America.

Ms. Pelosi. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

THE JOURNAL

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX, the unfinished business is the question on agreeing to House Resolution 172 and rule XVIII, the Chair declares the House in favor of the For the People Act of 2019.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. Butterfield). Under guidelines consistently issued by successive Speakers, as recorded in section 956 of the House Rules and Manual, the Chair is constrained not to entertain the request unless it has been cleared by the bipartisan floor and committee leaderships.

Mr. Watkins. Mr. Speaker, if this unanimous consent request cannot be entertained, I urge the Speaker and the majority leader to immediately schedule a vote on the Born-Alive bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is not recognized for debate.
House on the state of the Union for the consideration of the bill (H.R. 1) to expand Americans’ access to the ballot box, reduce the influence of big money in politics, and strengthen ethics rules for public servants, and for other purposes, Mr. CUellar in the chair. The Clerk read the title of the bill. The CHAIR. Pursuant to the rule, the bill is considered read the first time.

General debate shall be confined to the bill and shall not exceed 2 hours equally divided and controlled by the chair and the ranking minority member of the Committee on House Administration.

The gentlewoman from California (Ms. LOFGREN) and the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. RODNEY DAVIS) each will control 60 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from California.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chair, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chair, H.R. 1 will begin the process of making our government to the people. Many provisions of H.R. 1 have been pending and ignored for years in this House. No more.

H.R. 1 has been the subject of hearings in five committees and 15 hours of testimony from witnesses. Throughout these hearings, we have heard our Republican friends bemoan a rushed process or a government to the people. These claims are false, they had 8 years to consider these proposals but failed to do so.

Today, we deliver on our promise to the American people. H.R. 1 is critically important at this point in our history. Trust in government and in many institutions has eroded because of years of putting profit before the people and letting politicians pick their voters.

Dark money has been allowed to poison our system crowning out the voices of the very people who we were sent here to represent. Access to the ballot box has been impeded by arbitrary obstacles that have made voting a privilege, not a right.

Without trust, our representative system suffers. Too many Americans view themselves as shut out from our democracy. Others cannot participate because of election administration procedures that fail to account for how Americans live and work in the 21st century.

Some of these barriers make it harder for certain populations, including communities of color and other under-represented groups, to vote. This is especially the case after the Supreme Court gutted the enforcement provisions of the Voting Rights Act in Shelby County v. Holder.

Meanwhile, the Supreme Court’s 2010 Citizens United decision has further empowered wealthy special interests and ushered in nearly a billion dollars in money from undisclosed sources, even though the Court affirmed the importance of disclosure by a vote of 8 to 1.

H.R. 1 reverses course and strengthens our democracy and makes it easier and more convenient for all eligible Americans to vote. It offers solutions to the dominance of big money in politics, and it ensures public officials will work in the public interest.

One of the things that has been discussed is the proposal for a freedom from influence fund that will allow for small donors to reclaim control of candidates through $200 or less donations. I want to say that no tax payer funds are permitted to flow into this freedom from influence fund. Instead, as was approved in our last vote, a modest additional assessment of 2.75 percent on Federal fines, penalties, and settlements for certain tax crimes and corporate malfeasance will be the sole source of funding for this freedom from influence fund. In fact, the bad guys will be funding the clean system.

This bill will lower barriers to voting for all eligible Americans. It will save costs for the integrity of election administration, and, for example, it will modernize voter registration systems by enabling automatic voter registration and same-day voter registration, taking advantage of technology to ensure all Americans can register and update their voter registration status online. Automatic voter registration, alone, may bring up to 50 million new American citizens onto the rolls and, therefore, able to vote.

It makes it easier and more convenient to ensure ballot access for voters with disabilities as well as our overseas and military voters.

It ensures early voting for at least 15 days and will require States to use voter-verified paper ballots. This is a commonsense safeguard to cybersecurity threats, especially after the 2016 election showed vulnerabilities in our system.

H.R. 1 will reform redistricting to ensure fairness in the process to guard against partisanship and respect communities of interest.

This legislation will shine a light on dark secret money that influences campaigns and will protect everyone’s right to know who is influencing their votes and their views.

As I mentioned earlier, it provides an alternative voluntary system for candidates to finance their campaigns by empowering small dollar contributors and watchdogs. This will reduce candidates’ reliance on wealthy special interests and open the political process to more people. This will create a government for the people.

H.R. 1 will also implement high ethical standards and boost confidence in self-government.

It has been said that we should not take these steps, but Article I, Section 4 of the United States Constitution provides that Congress may, by law, regulate votes in Federal elections. It is time that we take this step. Democracy is resilient, but it requires our continual work to ensure that it lives up to its promise.

H.R. 1 is a major, comprehensive step forward, a step that we must take if we are to be true to our promise of our representative government.

Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, I yield myself as much time as I may consume.

Mr. Chair, I agree with my colleagues across the aisle that there is a role for the Federal Government to play in election infrastructure, campaign finance disclosure, ballot access transparency, and election security. However, H.R. 1 was developed to serve the special interests of Democrats and the outside organizations that support the Democratic Party and will not accomplish its alleged goal of being for the people.

The greatest threat to our Nation’s election system is partisanship, and that is exactly why the American Civil Liberties Union echoes my concerns. The ACLU said that there are provisions that unconstitutionally impinge on the free speech rights of citizens and public interest organizations.

When groups that have traditionally supported the Democratic Party cannot support H.R. 1, it underscores why election reform legislation should not be developed in a partisan manner.

H.R. 1 overreaches our Constitution by taking power away from States that decide how their election should be administered, States that know their residents’ election system better than a Federal bureaucracy does.

Congress should be partnering with States to support them in increasing voter registration instead of forcing a federally mandated one-size-fits-all approach that will be costly and ineffective.

This bill also fails to include safeguards, while implementing new voter registration and voting practices, Congress should absolutely be in favor of increasing access to the polls, but we do that by adding the necessary checks and balances to ensure these votes and that access are protected.

Mr. Chair, I yield to the remainder of the gentleman from Texas.
If we pass new voter registration practices in H.R. 1 without creating safeguards to prevent voting irregularities in these practices, we risk taking away the choice of the American people. Simply, another way, H.R. 1 is taking away the voice of each American voter.

If we want to increase our election security, Congress should support States choosing their own methods and machines. Multiple points of entry are more secure than one system. Federalizing election security, as this legislation does, will not protect voters.

When H.R. 1 was introduced, it was referred to 10 committees in the House. This bill, which is now over 600 pages, will now have gone from introduction to general debate on the floor of the House with only half of those 10 committees holding a single hearing, and only one of those committees holding a markup.

The Democrats promised greater transparency in the majority, but we are not seeing that in their first major piece of legislation. We just received the CBO score for H.R. 1, which egregiously underestimates H.R. 1’s cost to the taxpayers by converting over 200 of the legislation’s most expensive provisions.

H.R. 1’s campaign match provision is what is being left out. CBO said they needed more time to develop a more comprehensive score. That was ignored.

Though my Democratic colleagues may have changed where exactly the bucket is, they are still using H.R. 1 to put more money into politicians’ campaigns. H.R. 1 is creating public subsidies through the 6-to-1 government match program on small dollar campaign contributions of up to $200. For every $200, the Federal Government, the taxpayers, will now pay $1,200 to a politician, to Members of Congress’ campaigns.

While my colleagues across the aisle now say this will be of no cost to the taxpayer—as of a new gimmick that they developed yesterday—I would like to point out that every single House Democrat signed on to cosponsor this legislation before any changes were made to this provision.

Make no mistake, the new majority wants to put your hard-earned tax dollars into their own campaigns. While they may have changed the route to get there, that is their fundamental goal with this obvious sham campaign finance reform. They say they want to get money out of politics, but they are using this bill, H.R. 1, to funnel more in.

Provisions like this do not belong in any campaign or finance election reforms. Election reforms should be bipartisan, not serving the interests of partisan politicians.

As the first word with the debate today, I hope my colleagues across the aisle will thoughtfully reconsider their eager support of a bill that will harm the American voter and taxpayer and not simply vote, as we have seen throughout this not-open process, along partisan lines.

Every American’s vote should be counted and protected.

Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from New York (Mr. NADLER), chairman of the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. NADLER. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding.

Mr. Chair, the right to vote has been called protective of all other rights. Without it, you can’t protect your rights. That right has been eroded in recent years.

We have seen many attempts on the State and local level to limit the right to vote for minorities, to close polling places, to limit the hours of voting, to put in phony requirements that prevent people from voting.

We must restore, as this bill will do, the protections of the 1965 Voting Rights Act that guarantee the right to vote, that stop local politicians from choosing their own electorates.

We must eliminate the poison of large campaign contributions from hidden money. The dominance in our politics of large campaign contributions when someone anonymously can give $20,000 to $30,000—or millions of dollars—to various PACs which then funnel the money to politicians is subversive of our democracy.

It is a metastasized cancer on our democracy. And if we don’t excise this cancer through this bill, the historians will eventually write, I fear, that the American Republic, like the Roman Republic, had a good 250-year run with democracy but then evolved into an oligarchy, which is the direction we are headed.

We must ban those huge campaign contributions, substitute a system of small contributions by ordinary people that will be matched so that the public, not the plutocrats, will dominate our politics and control our legislation.

We should restore our right to vote for people who committed crimes long ago and have long since paid their debts to society.

These restrictions and ex-felons voting were put in specifically to guarantee white supremacy. Read the debates in the various State conventions in the 1900s and 1910.

This bill will help strengthen Americans’ faith in their government institutions and ensure that everyone has a voice in determining how our country is governed.

Mr. Chair, I urge all of my colleagues to support this landmark legislation.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Chair, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. WALKER), my colleague, good friend, and member on the House Administration Committee.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Chair, I thank the ranking member for his work.

Mr. Chair, I rise today in opposition to H.R. 1. While my colleagues on the other side of the aisle have deemed this bill to be “for the people,” a more proper characterization would be “for the politicians.”

Voting is a foundational right for all Americans, and the egregious provisions of this bill would jeopardize our fundamental rights. In particular, this legislation fails to address the issue of ballot harvesting.

As we have seen in California and my own State of North Carolina, ballot harvesting has created troubling irregularities in several cases due to the lack of oversight and opportunities for voter manipulation and intimidation.

Ballot harvesting allows political operatives with a partisan agenda to get involved in the collection and submission of votes, creating an opportunity for organizations or campaign workers to exploit voters and violate our fundamental rights.

Americans should have a choice on how they want to vote, who they want to support, and if they want to vote at all.

Not only would H.R. 1 manipulate the voting process, but it would also restrict our rights as Americans to donate to the campaigns of our choosing and would allow the Federal Government to use our taxpayer dollars to subsidize elections.

Aside from the proposed matching donations with a 6-to-1 ratio, H.R. 1 would create a pilot program to provide $25 vouchers for eligible voters. In practice, that means taxpayer money from hardworking Americans could be used to finance campaigns for candidates they do not support.

If this doesn’t limit free speech enough, another provision of the bill politicizes the Federal Election Commission by reducing membership from six to five. This makes a traditionally nonpartisan organization political, giving one party the power to make partisan decisions about election communications.

With the vague standards created by H.R. 1, this would affect any group wishing to advocate on behalf of any legislative issue.

In short, this legislation violates the First Amendment. Even the ACLU has problems with it. It creates an avenue for fraud and subjects voters to potential exploitation.

While my colleagues across the aisle will support this bill to subsidize their own elections and keep their party in the majority, I will stand up for our rights as Americans and vote against one of the worst bills ever, this abhorrent assault on our election system.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. PRICE), a pioneer and leader in clean government.

Mr. PRICE of North Carolina. Mr. Chair, I thank my colleague and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. Price. Mr. Chair, I urge all of my colleagues to support, and if they want to vote at all.
system, ranging from gerrymandering to voter suppression, and voting rights to the dominance of unaccountable big money in our politics. It is an urgent priority rightly numbered H.R. 1, and basic to everything else we need to do. If our democracy doesn't work, nothing will work.

It represents a culmination of issues I have worked on during my entire time in Congress, particularly, the way moneyed interests can corrupt our politics and how they drown out the voices of everyday Americans.

The For the People Act will modernize our Presidential public financing system. It will establish a new public matching system for congressional races to empower small donors. It will crack down on improper super-PAC coordination with campaigns.

H.R. 1 also includes my legislation to repeal the IRS dark-money rule, and it expands my original stand-by-your-ad provision to require corporations and other groups to disclose the top funders when they run political ads over the air or on the internet.

These reforms will empower American voters and encourage more diverse candidates to run for office, and will help rectify the transparency of big money in our politics.

Let's deliver on the promises we have made to restore integrity, accountability, and transparency to our democracy. I urge my colleagues to vote "yes" on H.R. 1.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from South Carolina (Mr. DUNCAN), my good friend.

Mr. DUNCAN. Mr. Chairman, I rise to strongly oppose H.R. 1. This is an egregious assault on the fundamental rights and freedoms of Americans.

H.R. 1, really, is a fight over liberty. This is a fight over the constitutional duties and roles of the States, one of which is a role in conducting elections.

Article I, section 4 says clearly, "The times, places, and manner of holding elections for Senators and Representatives, shall be prescribed in each State by the legislature thereof."

Having individual States conduct elections has been vital to preserving the integrity and security of elections across the country. But this debate really is about the Democrats' desire to centralize power here in one place, Washington, D.C.

Instead of actively giving more power to Washington bureaucrats, we should be divesting power away from the expansive Federal Government, and re-serv- ing that power for the States, because that is the way the Founding Fathers designed our Republic.

But, sadly, this bill is nothing but a top-down power grab by the Democrats using the Federal Government to micromanage the electoral process, impose limits on free speech, and further impose unconstitutional mandates.

Mr. Chair, this is not the liberty our Founders intended. In fact, this is a dangerous proposal that centralizes power, enhances Big Government in Washington, and takes decisionmaking power out of the hands of the States and the people.

Let's ask ourselves: Is this the proper and constitutional role of the Federal Government? And the answer to that question is, no. H.R. 1 encroaches on the liberties and powers of the Constitution reserved for the States and the people, and I oppose this type of power grab. I think that is what so infuriates Americans.

We take an oath here to uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States. We shouldn't be passing bills like H.R. 1. We should be passing bills that preserve the liberty and freedom enshrined in the Constitution.

I encourage all Members to adamantly oppose this legislation, because if you take your oath seriously—because we aren't voting for a fancy title when you actually read the language of this legislation, you see that it undermines the Constitution and the rights of every single American across the country, under the guise of making elections safer.

Mr. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume. I have to note that the last speaker failed to read the entire section. Article I, section 4 says: "The times, places and manner of holding elections for Senators and Representatives, shall be prescribed in each State by the legislature thereof;" as was mentioned. And it then goes on to say, "but the Congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations. . . ." And that is what we are doing here.

Why? Because we have seen in States throughout the country efforts to prevent people from voting in Federal elections. And so a voter in one State is treated differently than in another State, and that is what we are going to change with H.R. 1.

Mr. Chair, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. KRISHNAMOORTHI).

Mr. KRISHNAMOORTHI. Mr. Chair, I rise today in support of the For the People Act, which includes language from my legislation with Senator Cory Booker, the Help Students Vote Act.

Young Americans vote at the lowest rates of any age group, and a key factor in that are the challenges of voting on a new college campus far away from home. My bill will give students the provisions to address this challenge.

First, it requires every college and university to email timely voter registration information to all of its students.

Second, it requires every school to designate a campus vote coordinator to answer students' questions about voting.

Third, it authorizes grants to colleges and universities that take exemplary action to promote civic engagement.

I want to thank the many organizations supporting the legislation, including Young Invincibles, and the Students Learn Students Vote Coalition.

By helping students register and vote, we can ensure our government better responds to the people it serves, while encouraging our next generation of leaders to rise.

Mr. Chair, I strongly urge my colleagues to support this measure.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chairman, I am very privileged to stand here with somebody who grew up in the same rural country as I did, in Christian County, Illinois.

Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. BUCSHON), my good friend.

Mr. BUCSHON. Mr. Chairman, I rise today in opposition to H.R. 1, the Democrat politician protection act. This legislation is a radical attempt to hijack our free and fair election system, and limit the voices of the American people.

For example, in H.R. 1, Democrats are proposing the public financing of elections which would force Americans' hard-earned tax dollars to be subsidizing political campaigns they do not support, limiting constitutionally guaranteed freedoms of speech and association.

Furthermore, this one-size-fits-all Federal takeover of the election process will open the door for voting irregularities through Federal mandates on voter registration practices that will be forced on the States—a massive Federal power grab.

Last time I checked, voting happens at the State level, and is the right and responsibility of the State and local governments.

They say this only affects Federal elections, but does anyone really believe that the States will have two separate systems? I am in full support of increasing voter registration participation in our election process. Unfortunately, this legislation goes far beyond increasing voter participation, and, instead, is a misguided attempt to rig our Nation's electoral systems for the benefit of the Democratic Party by telling Americans, once again, that the Federal Government and Washington bureaucrats know best.

Mr. Chair, I urge my colleagues to oppose this liberty- and freedom-limiting legislation.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from California (Mrs. DAVIS), a valued Member of the House Administration Committee.

Mrs. DAVIS of California. Mr. Chairman, this bill was not rushed. It is long overdue, registration and voting practices that will be forced on the States—a massive Federal power grab.

We can never forget how many people have risked and lost their lives for that right. Fifty-four years later, our election system is still stacked against many Americans. Some eligible voters are still prohibited from voting by mail and can’t make it to the polls.

Some eligible voters have still been unfairly purged from the rolls, and some communities still do not have enough polling locations, leading to long lines.

We need justice. We need to expand the fixes that have been proven to work in so many of our States, and that is exactly what H.R. 1 does.

If we are for the people, not just the ones we think will vote for us, then we should be for this bill.

Mr. LOUDERMILK. Mr. Chair, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chair, I love this country. I love this country for what it is. I love this country for the principles and the ideas on which it was founded. America is not a people. It is a government. It is not a people. It is an idea.

One of the ideas our Founders is that the time it is most effective when it is local, the closest to the people.

I want to correct something that I think my colleagues on the other side may not understand or are just not presenting to the American people. Yes, the Constitution gives Congress the ability at times to come in and modify election law, but this bill is so sweeping, it strips the States of their constitutional authority that was given to them by the Constitution by eliminating their influence in elections altogether.

The true intention of the Founders when it came to this provision in the Constitution was predominantly to ensure that the States could not render the Congress ineffective by refusing to hold elections so they would ensure that we always have a quorum here.

That was the purpose of that. We need to go back to the original intent of the Founders when they added this in the Constitution.

Mr. Chairman, if you read the writings of the Founding Fathers, this is ultimately clear. I want to read to you something that James Madison said regarding the States’ authority, especially when it comes to elections. He said, “The powers delegated by the proposed Constitution to the Federal Government are few and defined. Those which are to remain in the State governments are numerous and indefinite. . . . The powers reserved to the several States will extend to all the objects which in the ordinary course of affairs, concern the lives and liberties, and properties of the people, and the internal order, improvement and prosperity of the State. They could not be clearer that the States should be the ones setting the laws regarding elections. This would totally undermine that.

Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. WOODALL), my good friend and colleague.
Mr. Chair, this legislation and this hearing is particularly timely because more than half a century after the passage of the Voting Rights Act of 1965, and the Civil Rights Movement—it liberated communities of color from legal restrictions barring them from exercising the fundamental right to civic engagement and political representation.

But uncaged by Supreme Court’s infamous 2013 decision in Shelby County v. Holder, 570 U.S. 529 (2013), which neutered the preclearance provision of the Voting Rights Act, 14 states, including my state of Texas, took extreme measures to enforce new voting restrictions before the 2016 presidential election.

It is not a coincidence that many of these same states have experienced increasing numbers of black and Hispanic voters in recent elections.

If not for invidious, state-sponsored voter suppression policies like discriminatory voter ID laws, reduced early voting periods, and voter intimidation tactics that directly or indirectly target racial minorities, the 2016 presidential election might have had a drastically different outcome.

Mr. Chair, H.R. 1 must be passed because many of the civil rights that I fought for as a student and young lawyer have been undermined or been rolled back by reactionary forces in recent years.

To this end, the Trump Administration issued an Executive Order establishing a so-called “Election Integrity” Commission to investigate not voter suppression, but so-called “voter fraud” in the 2016 election.

Trump and his followers have been unceasing in their efforts to perpetuate the myth of voter fraud, but it remains just that: a myth.

Between 2000 and 2014, there were 35 credible allegations of voter fraud out of more than 834 million ballots cast—that is less than 1 in 28 million votes!

An extensive study by social scientists at Dartmouth College uncovered no evidence to support Trump’s hysterical and outrageous allegations of widespread voter fraud “rigging” the 2016 election.

Just for the record, Mr. Chair, the popular vote of the 2016 presidential election was:

Hillary Clinton, 65,853,516
Donald Trump, 62,884,824

Trump’s deficit of 2.9 million was the largest of any major candidate in history by a massive margin, and despite the allegations of the current Administration, there have been only 4 documented cases of voter fraud in the 2016 election.

The Voter Fraud Commission, like many of Trump’s business schemes, was a massive scam built on countless lies that do not hold up to any level of scrutiny.

As Members of Congress, we should be devoting our time, energy, and resources addressing Russian infiltration of our election infrastructure and campaigns, along with other pressing issues.

Instead of enjoying and strengthening the protections guaranteed in the Voting Rights Act—people of color, women, LGBTQ individuals, and immigrants—have been given the joyless, exhausting task of fending off the constant barrage of attacks levied at our communities by Trump and other conspiracy theorists.

Not only are we tasked with reversing the current dismal state of voter suppression against minorities; we are forced to refute the blatant, propagandist lie of voter fraud.

To this end, I have been persistent in my efforts to protect the rights of disenfranchised communities in my district of inner-city Houston and across the nation.

Throughout my tenure in Congress, I have cosponsored dozens of bills, amendments, and resolutions seeking to improve voters’ rights at all stages and levels of the election process.

This includes legislation aimed at:
1. Increasing voter outreach and turnout;
2. Ensuring both early and same-day registration;
3. Standardizing physical and language accessibility at polling places;
4. Expanding early voting periods;
5. Decreasing voter wait times;
6. Guaranteeing absentee ballots, especially for displaced citizens;
7. Modernizing voting technologies and strengthening our voter record systems;
8. Establishing the federal Election Day as a national holiday; and
9. Condemning and criminalizing deceptive practices, voter intimidation, and other suppression tactics;

Along with many of my CBC colleagues, I was an original cosponsor of H.R. 9, the Fannie Lou Hamer, Rosa Parks, and Coretta Scott King Voting Rights Advancement Act, which became public law on July 27, 2006.

I also authored H.R. 745 in the 110th Congress, which added the legendary Barbara Jordan to the list of civil rights trailblazers whose memories are honored in the naming the Voting Rights Act Reauthorization and Amendments Act.

This bill strengthened the original Voting Rights Act by replacing federal voting examiners with federal voting observers—a significant enhancement making it easier to safeguard against racially biased voter suppression tactics.

In the 114th Congress, I introduced H.R. 75, the Coretta Scott King Mid-Decade Redistricting Prohibition Act of 2015, which prohibits states whose congressional districts have been redistricted after a decennial census from redrawing their district lines until the next census.

Prejudiced redistricting, or gerrymandering as it is more commonly known, has been used for decades to weaken the voting power of African Americans, Latino Americans, and other minorities since the Civil Rights Era.

Immediately after the Shelby County ruling, which lifted preclearance requirements for states with histories of discrimination seeking to change their voting laws or practices, redistricting became a favorite tool for Republicans who connived to unfairly gain 3 congressional seats in Texas.

In the 110th Congress, I was the original sponsor of H.R. 6778, the Ex-Offenders Voting Rights Act of 2008, which prohibited denial of the right to vote in a federal election on the bases of an individual’s status as a formerly incarcerated person.

The Ex-Offenders Voting Rights Act sought to reverse discriminatory voter restrictions that disproportionately affect the African American voting population, which continues to be targeted by mass incarceration, police profiling, and a biased criminal justice system.

To this end, I have been persistent in my efforts to protect the rights of disenfranchised communities in my district of inner-city Houston and across the nation.

Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. OLSON).

Mr. OLSON. Mr. Chairman, back home, all Texans agree the 10 most terrifying words and the biggest lie people can hear is "I’m from the Federal Government, and I’m here to help you.

On that viewpoint, H.R. 1, which is called the For the People Act, should be called the "For the Big Government Act"; or, more accurately, the "Big Lie Act."

Texas 22 does not want to have $6 of Federal tax dollars given to subsidize small donors and match every dollar they raise. They prefer that $6 of their money be used for new roads, deeper ports, Border Patrol, safe schools, and hurricane prevention.

Texans are coming for jobs, a low State income tax—zero—and a friendly environment for businesses. Just like we don’t want a tax on plastic straws, Texans sure as heck don’t want to follow California’s same-day registration. They are coming for jobs, a low State-by-State basis; and the Constitution says to read a portion of the Constitution. According to our Constitution—for elected officials, of course, says that Congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations. It will also restore the vote to those who have paid their debt to society and should have a voice in their representative government.

This legislation builds on the important bipartisan work we did in 2002 when we passed, as I pointed out, the Help America Vote Act. It reauthorizes the Election Assistance Commission, which, very frankly, my Republican friends tried to eliminate on a number of occasions and transfer their authority to the finance commission, which oversees campaign finance—not election laws, campaign finance. It was a way to, in effect, undermine and kill, in many ways, the Election Assistance Commission designed to make sure that our elections are secure and fair. It reauthorizes the Election Assistance Commission, which is critically important to ensuring modern, accessible, and secure elections.

In addition, H.R. 1 will make campaign finance more transparent, requiring super-PACs to disclose their donors. Again, I want to congratulate my colleague. We are very proud of John SARBANES and his dad in Maryland. He has been indefatigable in his work in trying to make sure that it is the people’s interest and not the financial interests that control our elections.

This bill will end the era of massive amounts of dark, unaccountable money funding ads and campaigns.

The For the People Act will also impose higher ethical standards on America’s highest elected officials. There is only one person in government who can do something on his own. It is not the Senate. It is not the House. It is not us. We need collective action. But the President can make substantial decisions on his own and, in fact, has. He has done so over the wishes of the Congress of the United States just recently, so the people ought to know what his interests are and whether he is acting for his interests or the people’s interests.

Among other new requirements, Presidents and Vice Presidents would
Mr. PERRY. Mr. Chair, I thank Mr. LOUDERMILK for the time, and I, too, thank the majority leader for his comments. But I don’t think it should be removed from history that the Governor of Alabama at that time ran on segregation; that he ran on open segregation. It was the Republicans in this House, the majority percentage of Republicans, that carried the day for the Voting Rights Act.

Mr. Chair, this bill, among other things, forces States to count votes cast outside of assigned precincts. Just think about that. I am going to vote for you over here even though I don’t live there. That is going to be great. That is what we all want. People who don’t live in our neighborhoods voting for the people who decide our fates and our policies.

Mr. Chair, the For the People Act, that is what it is called, but I wonder: Which people? Is it the people here or the people out there?

It seems like it is for the people here when powerful voices on the left and the right oppose this bill, voices like the ACLU, voices like the NRA and Planned Parenthood, because, Mr. Chair, while you might want to contribute to those of organizations that you believe in their cause, you don’t want the protest to show up on your doorstep. It is bad enough that it shows up, the protest, at Planned Parenthood or the NRA or the gun show or whatever, but now the protest is going to show up at your door—because the people who are opposed to the things you believe in are going to find out you sent your 5 bucks in. They are going to come to your door and say: Well, I don’t agree with you. I don’t like you. And I don’t think you should be spending your money on those things.

Is that what we want in America? That is what this bill does. Mr. Chair. Essentially, it is giving the power to the Federal Election Commissioner to carry out the actions of Lois Lerner and the IRS during the last administration in an attempt to silence opposition to the politicians in the swamp, in this place, regardless of which side you are on. I urge a “no” vote for this bill, Mr. Chair.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Rhode Island (Mr. Langevin), who has served with the majority leader. We do have the ability, according to the Constitution, to make modifications. But H.R. 1 is not a modification. It is a sweeping takeover of the election system, leaving the States with very little authority or power over their own elections, as well as the Federal elections.

I also would like to say that I heard that this bill has had extensive hearings. The Committee on House Administration, the only committee which had a hearing on this bill. The hearing lasted 5 hours, and the only reason it lasted that long was because the Republicans submitted 28 amendments to the bill. Otherwise, this bill would have gone right in and right out of committee, with probably less than an hour of a committee hearing, and come to this floor.

It has committees of jurisdiction. It has not gone before those committees, so I submit it has not followed regular order.

Especially with something of this magnitude, the American people have the right to hear, they have the right to understand, what is in this bill. They have not been afforded that opportunity.

Mr. Chair, we have 50 States, 50 State Governors, 50 secretaries of state, and I know my Governor and secretary of state have not been involved in this process. It has a drastic impact, not only upon the voting rights of the people in Georgia, but also on the budget of Georgia.

Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. Perry), my good friend.
Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. LOUDERMILK. Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. SMUCKER).

Mr. UPTON. Mr. Chairman, I have long been a supporter of campaign finance reform. I voted for motor voter. I voted for McCain-Feingold the year in the House it was Shays-Meehan. I supported the Help America Vote Act in 2002.

There are plenty of flaws in the current system. That is for sure. And we need to fix it. But you know what? We have a Democratic House, and we have a Republican Senate, and the only way that we are reasonably going to fix this issue is with a bipartisan bill.

I am the only Republican here today who was here in 1993 when we passed the motor voter bill. This was a bill that was patterned after what Michigan has had for decades. When you get your driver’s license, you are asked to register to vote. It works.

This bill, H.R. 1, is not bipartisan. One of our big objections is truly the taxpayer-financed campaign element of this bill.

If you do a poll today across the country, you are going to find that most voters are going to say that campaigns are too expensive; they are too negative; and, yes, they are too long.

We have—have thousands—thousands—of candidates running for Congress. They are all going to be eligible for this match from the Treasury for any contribution under $200, with a 6-to-1 ratio, so we are going to have more money in politics, and we are not going to have the transparency that I think all of us want.

If we are going to fix the problem, let’s sit down, let’s have regular order, let’s have all the committees with some jurisdiction sit down and have Republicans and Democrats work together on a committee process that we can pass in a bipartisan vote that will get the attention of the Senate, and maybe we can do something about the problems today.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. SARBAZENES), the one person who probably has worked harder than anyone else on this bill.

Mr. LOUDERMILK. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding.

Mr. Chair, last year, in the 2018 election, a powerful message was sent to this Congress that the public wants us to clean up our politics, fight corruption, unrig the system, and make sure that voting rights are protected.

I think part of the reason the message was so strong is that, for the last 8 years under a Republican Congress, there has been no progress made on any of those priorities, so there is this pent-up demand out there among the public. They want their voice back. H.R. 1 is our opportunity to give them their voice back.

The message they are sending is very simple. The first message is: Make it possible for us to get to the ballot box without running an obstacle course.

It is inconceivable, it is incomprehensible, that more than 50 years after John Lewis was bloodied on the Edmund Pettus Bridge protesting for voting rights, we still can’t get it right in America when it comes to voting.

That is ridiculous. We need to make it more possible for our registered and vote in this country so that people can get to the ballot box and their voices can be heard. That is one thing they are saying to us.

The other thing they are saying to us is, when you get to Washington, if you are a lawmaker, if you serve in an office of public trust, behave yourself, abide by ethics, be accountable to the people, remember who sent you there, and be transparent. We have provisions in H.R. 1 that strengthen ethics and accountability, as we should.

The third thing they said to us, loud and clear, was, when you get to Washington, don’t get tangled up in the money, don’t let the special interests and the insiders call the shots on priorities, on decisions that are for the people, who sent you, and fight for us. So we have measures in here to clean up the campaign finance system, create more disclosure, transparency, so we know where that secret money is coming from, building a new system of funding campaigns in America that is not owned by the special interests and the big money.

The Acting CHAIR (Mr. BUTTERFIELD). The time of the gentleman has expired.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chair, I yield an additional 1 minute to the gentleman from Maryland.

Mr. SARBAZENES. Let’s build a new system of funding campaigns in America that is not owned by the special interests and the big money.

Let’s build a system that is owned by the American people, where they call the shots; where, with small donors, they can have their contributions matched so that their voice is amplified, so they are the ones who run the show, so candidates go to them and listen to what they have to say instead of hanging out with the lobbyists and the big-money crowd.

That is what this bill offers. My colleagues on the other side keep talking about how this is going to be taxpayer money for this system. Find me the provision. There is no provision in this bill that says that any taxpayer money is going to go to this system, because it is not from them.

We have come up with an elegant solution where we go to the lawbreakers, the people who are leaning on our system and breaking the law, and we ask them, with a small surcharge, to contribute to this fund. That is where the match comes from. We are going to the people who aren’t playing fair with our system, and we are asking them to underwrite a clean election system. That is how it should work.

Let’s restore the voice of the people. Let’s pass H.R. 1.
This bill blatantly violates our own constitutional rights as well as the rights of our higher education institutions.

The Acting CHAIR. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. LOUDERMILK. Mr. Chairman, I yield the gentleman from Pennsylvania an additional 30 seconds.

Mr. SMUCKER. As the Republican leader on the House Education and Labor, Higher Education and Workforce Committee, we should be focusing on making colleges more affordable and helping more students complete their degrees, not subjecting them to electioneering efforts.

I cannot support a Federal overreach into places where students should be free to learn without the influence of politics. We must reject this overreach. We must speak now and stand up into places where students should be.

We must speak now and stand up into places where students should be more affordable and helping more students.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from California (Ms. Lee), a leader for civil and I urge my colleagues to do the same.

I will be voting against this measure, and I urge my colleagues to do the same.

Mr. LINS. As the Republican leader on the House Education and Labor, Higher Education and Workforce Committee, we should be focusing on making colleges more affordable and helping more students complete their degrees, not subjecting them to electioneering efforts.

I cannot support a Federal overreach into places where students should be free to learn without the influence of politics. We must reject this overreach. We must speak now and stand up against this power grab before it is too late.

I will be voting against this measure, and I urge my colleagues to do the same.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from California (Ms. Lee), a leader for civil and I urge my colleagues to do the same.

Mr. SMUCKER. As the Republican leader on the House Education and Labor, Higher Education and Workforce Committee, we should be focusing on making colleges more affordable and helping more students complete their degrees, not subjecting them to electioneering efforts.

Look, an illegal vote negated the vote of a legal voter. This bill, my colleagues across the aisle, you are getting ready to vote for a bill that actually could negate legal voting.

I could go on for days. This is why I want to start by saying thank you to Congressman SARBANES for his important work on leading this legislation.

I am proud that we are bringing forward the legislation to restore faith in the legislative branch, because right now Congress is less popular than head lice and colonoscopies. That is because every time my constituents see a bill that is written behind closed doors, or see a gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. BARR).

Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Washington (Mr. KILMER).

Mr. KILMER. Mr. Chairman, I want to start by saying thank you to Congresswoman McBATH from Georgia (Mrs. TRIPP), who is my respects, who said that “the public has an opinion, who are voting to take the American hard-earned taxpayers and puts it straight in the pockets of politicians. Let me be abundantly clear: This bill that the Democrats have proposed provides taxpayer funding for Federal campaigns, Mr. Chair.

By voting for this bill, the Democrats are voting to take the American hardworking taxpayers' money and actually give it back to be used for their own campaigns. By voting for this bill, the Democrats are saying, “We deserve to stay elected.”

This is a money grab for politicians.

This unfairly benefits elected incumbents. It protects career politicians. Under the guise of campaign finance reform and dark money reform, this 600-page bill does nothing but fill the campaign coffers of people who have already been elected.

Not only that, this bill now includes a tax stuck in last night as a manager’s amendment in Rules. Yes, they are wanting to tax American citizens to make sure that they get reelected and put money back in their own campaign coffers.

Mr. Chair, if this is how the majority party believes that we are going to get transparency in Congress, it is not doing it. It is not living up to that.

I find it even interesting, because it seems to trample on our First Amendment rights to speak freely and voluntarily participate in the process that we hold as a privilege of electing our elected leaders. To top it off, Mr. Chair, they want you and every hardworking American taxpayer to pay for it.

Now, I can see it coming up, because it is going to come very soon, and they may talk about all the wonderful virtues of this particular bill, but when they vote for it, they are actually voting to ups the cost of security for the already very costly election equipment. That is important to be mindful of.

So I look for a vote可能发生 when we say: Republicans balking at the $1.8 billion cost in context, the $3.5 million to deflect the Freedom Caucus chairman.

I do think that that is what America is all about.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois, Mr. Chair, before I reserve, may I inquire as to how much time is remaining.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman from Illinois has 24 minutes remaining. The gentlewoman from California has 37½ minutes remaining.

Ms. LOFGREN, Mr. Chair, I yield myself as much time as I may consume.

Mr. Chair, before yielding to the chairperson of the Homeland Security Committee, I would just like to say that saying it is tax money does not make it so. We have prohibited appropriations into the freedom from influence fund. The total source of funding is a self-regulated assessment on people who have committed tax crimes or corporate malfeasance.

Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. Thompson), the chairman of the Homeland Security Committee.

Mr. Thompson of Mississippi. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentlewoman from California for giving me the time.

Mr. Chair, I rise today in strong support of H.R. 1. Last Congress, House Democrats sought to address Russia’s meddling in the Presidential election. Unfortunately, the then-majority would not prioritize the issue, so Democrats formed a Congressional Task Force on Election Security, which I co-chaired.

In February of 2018, after a series of public meetings with experts in national security, cybersecurity, and election administration, the task force released a report charting a course for how we could better protect our election infrastructure.

I am pleased that H.R. 1 includes the Election Security Act, legislation I introduced to implement the task force’s recommendation. Under the Election Security Act, States are provided surge funding to replace decades-old, outdated election equipment with more modern, secure technologies.

Additionally, to move the Nation off the crisis-to-crisis model we have been on, it provides grants, ongoing maintenance, and security. It also improves transparency with election infrastructure vendors and provides cybersecurity training to election officials.

Last month, at my committee’s hearing on election security, some of my Republican colleagues balked at the bill’s price tag. Mr. Chair, to put the bill’s cost in context, the $1.8 billion provided here to secure our elections from the Russians and other foreign adversaries is half of what Congress provided in response to the hanging chads.

For the sake of our democracy, we cannot leave State and local election officials to fend for themselves against sophisticated adversaries like Russia. We have to help.

The Acting CHAIR. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Ms. LOFGREN, Mr. Chair, I yield an additional 15 seconds to the gentleman.

Mr. THOMPSON of Mississippi, Mr. Chair, I thank the gentlewoman from California (Ms. LoFgren) for yielding.

Mr. Chair, before I close, I would like to thank Speaker PELOSI, Chairwoman LOFGREN, and Mr. SARBANES for all the work they and their staffs have done to bring this important measure to the floor.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. Bacon).

Mr. BACON, Mr. Chair, today I rise in opposition to this effort to conduct a hostile takeover of our elections by Washington, D.C.

H.R. 1 is nothing less than an attempt by the majority party to federalize and strip all authority from the States, and create government-funded political campaigns. All of this will increase the election system’s vulnerability for fraud and restrict free speech.

The legislation we consider today will have a long-lasting, devastating impact on our elections: H.R. 1 will create a 6-to-1 government match for all small donor contributions. This means government funds will be going to help pay for more campaigns, more TV, more radio ads. Americans will be compelled to bankroll candidates they don’t support.

My sister, a staunch Republican, shouldn’t have to have her hard-earned money go towards Democratic candidates. Her son, a staunch Democrat, shouldn’t have his hard-earned money go towards a Republican.

If H.R. 1 is to become law, it will place limits on freedom of speech, putting vague standards on groups who wish to advocate for any legislative issue. This is why even the ACLU does not support H.R. 1. And when the ACLU doesn’t support a Democratic election bill, you know it is wrong.

Our Nation was built on individuals advocating for their beliefs. It is our right to advocate the way we wish for a cause we believe in.

If a survivor of domestic violence wishes to quietly donate to a cause dedicated to fighting domestic violence, should the Federal Government be able to come in and publicize their donation? In some States who have done this recently, we have seen donors of advocacy groups be harassed and chased out of their jobs.

H.R. 1 is another example of the Democrats saying Washington knows best. Not one secretary of state was consulted in the drafting of this legislation. In the Constitution, our Founding Fathers give the authority to the States to regulate their own elections. Simply put, this is a power grab, a power grab by Democrats.

Mr. Chair, for these reasons, I urge my colleagues to not support this legislation.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chair, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chair, before yielding to the gentleman from New Jersey, I would like to just address a couple of simple points.

The DISCLOSE Act really pivots off the Supreme Court decision in Citizens United. And as the Court’s decision: Disclaimer and disclosure requirements impose no ceiling on campaign-related activities and do not prevent anyone from speaking.

Concern has been expressed about the ability of policymakers to provide for in this bill. It is simple. If you don’t want to be disclosed, note that your donation is not for campaign purposes, and you will not be disclosed.

Moreover, there is an express protection provided for any donor who fears that they may face threat of harassment or reprisal. So we have thought of this, and this was dealt with in our markup.

Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. Pascrell).

Mr. PASCRELL. Mr. Chairman, the legislation on the floor today contains within it the Presidential Tax Transparency Act, a bill that is the brainchild of our prime sponsor, Representative ANNA ESHOO from California. This legislation requires sitting Presidents as well as future Presidential and Vice Presidential candidates to release 10 years of their tax returns.

The manager’s amendment is right to add disclosure of returns of any business in which the candidate is a prime owner.

These commonsense transparency measures will codify into law the precedence of Presidential candidates releasing their tax returns, a precedent that goes back to Richard Nixon.

President Trump broke with more than 40 years of this precedent when he declined to release his tax returns, despite promising to release them. He has yet to do so, and recent polls show 64 percent of Americans support their release.

Thanks to the Oversight Committee, we now have on-the-record testimony in evidence that this President may have committed crimes as President. Michael Cohen received reimbursement for illegal campaign contributions from Trump directly. If President Trump wrote these payments off as a business expense, that would constitute fraud, and his returns will show that.

In addition, The Trump Organization allegedly inflated their revenue in financial documents to obtain loans. The business’ tax returns would show whether their profits were accurate or if they filed fraudulent documents.
The President’s conflicts of interest and finances must be investigated.

With H.R. 1, we are setting down a marker that we expect standards of ethics and transparency for all Presidents going forward. With norms and precedents that are agreed upon, the American people must have confidence that every aspect of our Federal government is transparent, and places a partisan majority does not control the process and places a partisan majority in control of every aspect of our Federal government. It imposes limits on free spending by candidates, and the FEC must codify certain norms into law. The law is on our side, 6103.

The Acting CHAIR. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chair, I yield an additional 30 seconds to the gentleman from New Jersey.

Mr. PASCRELL. Mr. Chair, I support H.R. 1 for taking needed steps to get dark money and foreign money out of our politics; restore voting rights that are under assault in States around the country; improve our election security, as you heard the last gentleman say, BENNIE THOMPSON; and restore integrity to our democratic process.

In 2016, this bill clock is turning back on voting rights and election integrity. Voter suppression has become a scourge in our democracy. For anybody to deny it on this floor, they haven’t been in the country.

Mr. Chair, these reforms are long overdue. I urge my colleagues to vote “yes.”

The Acting CHAIR. Members are reminded to refrain from engaging in personal attacks toward the President.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Chair, I support H.R. 1 because it's time for the American people to have safe voting and fair elections.

Mr. MCLINTOCK. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentleman for yielding.

Mr. Chairman, consent of the government is the cornerstone of our democracy. In America, the people are sovereign, and we govern through the votes that we cast. At the very core of this process are fair and free elections. Every citizen should be free to express themselves and to vote, and no citizen should ever be muzzled or have their legitimate vote canceled out by a fraudulent one.

By definition, one side is always going to be disappointed with the outcome. That is why it is essential that both sides are confident that they were treated fairly.

Democracies die when one party seizes control of the elections process, eliminates the safeguards that have protected the integrity of the ballot, places restrictions on free speech, and seizes the earnings of individual citizens to promise candidates that they may abhor.

That is precisely what this bill does today. It destroys the bipartisan composition of the Federal Election Commission and places a partisan majority in control of every aspect of our Federal elections. It imposes limits on free speech, and that has earned the opposition of the American Civil Liberties Union. It matrixes a contribution of $200 given to a candidate with $1,200 taken from others who may oppose that candidate.

Worst of all, it undermines the integrity of the ballot and opens the floodgates to fraud. The purpose of registration periods is to allow parties to canvass the rolls and challenge improper registrations, while ensuring candidates know exactly who is going to be voting.

The reason we require election day voting at a polling place is to ensure voters cast their ballots in secret after they have heard the entire debate and have known the process and their neighbors. This bill sweeps away these few remaining vestiges of ballot integrity.

Democrat lives die by suicide, and we are now face-to-face with such an instrument.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, I am honored to yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from New Jersey (Mrs. WATSON COLEMAN).

Mrs. WATSON COLEMAN. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding to me.

Mr. Chairman, I rise in strong opposition to H.R. 1, the For the People Act. America is a Democracy if we don’t protect the right to vote. We should be expanding voter rolls and making every single American voice heard at the ballot box, and that includes currently and previously incarcerated voters. A mistake made and paid for should not strip your constitutional rights and silence you for life.

I offered an amendment to this bill that would have included those Americans in our reenfranchisement for these Americans.

Mr. Chairman, I close by noting that this bill represents a paradigm shift in our approach to voting rights, and it is a reflection of the priorities of Democratic leadership in this body. It is long overdue and exactly the type of legislation that went overlooked until Democrat rereected the Chair.

Mr. Chairman, I urge all my colleagues to support our democracy by voting for its passage.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chairman, it gives me great pleasure to yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. SCALISE), the most courageous Member of Congress that I know, the man who bleeds tiger blood.

Mr. SCALISE. Mr. Chairman, I thank my colleagues, however, for those kind comments. Go Tigers.

Mr. Chairman, I rise in strong opposition to this bill that instead of being called For the People Act should be called “For the Politicians Act.” Let’s take a look at some of the provisions of this bill that involve a Federal takeover of the elections process.

First of all, section 5111 of the bill will allow billions of dollars of taxpayer money to be funneled into political campaign accounts. That is your hard-earned dollars, in many cases, going to fund a candidate for office that you oppose. Think about that.

Now let’s look at section 1402 of this bill. Mr. Chairman, where they allow felons to vote. Let’s take, for example, a State that might have a law against felons voting, heavily debated in the State, where they are allowed that they have to set their law by the Constitution. Here comes the Federal Government telling a State, for example, that if somebody went to Federal prison for voter fraud, they now have to let them be involved in the political process and through their own State law prohibits that person who was a felon for voter fraud.

One thing we can’t even get an answer on—and there are many, unfortunately—we can’t even get an answer on the cost of this bill. Many estimates are that it will be billions of dollars, but nobody can truly tell you because they continue to make changes after changes without even going through the normal committee process that should have been done.

If you look at the felons who can vote, think, for example, Mr. Chairman, a State—and many States have laws against felons who are child molesters going to public schools. In many places, the polling location is a school. Under this bill, if someone who is convicted as a felon of molesting children and is banned by that State from going into the school, if those laws are now, under this law, they have a hall pass. They can go into the school because of this new Federal law where the State said that child molester shouldn’t be allowed in the school.

It goes on and on, the kinds of things you can’t even get clear answers on.

What would the cost be? Because they tell you the felons would be able to vote in the Federal election, but if your State law says they can’t vote, then you have to have multiple ballots. If somebody shows up to vote, the State is going to have to try to figure this out at what cost to the State, not to mention the billions it costs the taxpayers?

This bill enshrines voter fraud in so many different places. Many States have voter integrity laws to make sure that the person who votes is the person who is the name on the roll. This system says you don’t even have to have an ID if the State has a voter ID law. You can show up and just sign your name. You can say this is who I am, and you can vote. The Federal law overrides the State law in this case.

The Acting CHAIR. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chairman, I yield an additional 30 seconds to the gentleman from Illinois.

Mr. SCALISE. Mr. Chairman, I yield additional 30 seconds to the gentleman from Illinois. rights of American citizens and public interest organizations.

National Right to Life: Enactment of H.R. 1 “would not be a curb on corruption, but itself a type of corruption, an abuse of the lawmaking power, by which lawmakers empower the threat of criminal sanctions... to reduce the amount of private speech regarding the actions of the lawmakers themselves.”

This is a bad bill. It ought to be rejected.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, how much time remains on both sides?

The Acting CHAIR. The gentlewoman from California has 30% minutes remaining. The gentleman from Illinois has 16% minutes remaining.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from New Mexico (Ms. HAALAND).

Ms. HAALAND. Mr. Chairman, I rise today in support of H.R. 1 because I want America to live up to its democratic principles, and that means having a government that really is for the people and not just for those with the means. This bill is about ensuring that all voters, regardless of ZIP Code, race, or party, can participate in our democracy.

I am proud that H.R. 1 includes a bill I introduced, the Same-Day Voter Registration Act, which will increase access to the ballot box across the country.

Same-day registration already exists in 17 States and the District of Columbia. In those locations, more people, not fewer, participate in elections. I spent nearly two decades organizing to make sure New Mexicans, including those in Indian Country and in rural America, have access to our democracy.

This commonsense provision gets rid of arbitrary registration deadlines, which often fall long before the real time needed to process voter registration applications. Same-day voter registration is one of many provisions in H.R. 1 that will make elections more accessible.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chairman, this has been a long debate. I am enjoying the discussion, enjoying the debate. This is why we all came here to Washington.

Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. JORDAN), my good friend.

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman for yielding.

Mr. Chairman, it is bad enough that this bill is going to tell States how to run elections, bad enough this bill is going to require taxpayers to finance the elections of politicians who created the swamp so they can get back to the swamp, but what is most egregious about this legislation is the attack on free speech.

As the whip mentioned, the ACLU has said we should vote no on this bill because it unconstitutionally burdens free speech and association rights. Let me tell you how it does it. It uses our old friend the IRS.

Remember just a few years ago the IRS systematically targeted people for their political beliefs. They went after conservatives.

Now think about your First Amendment liberties, your right to practice your faith the way you want to, the right to assemble, the right to petition your government, freedom of the press. What is the most fundamental liberty we have under the First Amendment? Your right to speak and particularly to speak in a political fashion, a political nature. That is what the IRS went after.

This bill does this. It gets rid of the schedule B protections that are currently in law. It says the reason the protection of schedule B information is important has nothing to do with vast conspiracies on the right or left related to so-called dark money. Rather, it dates back to the Supreme Court’s 1958 decision NAACP v. Alabama. The Supreme Court formally recognized First Amendment protection of the freedom of association that prevented the NAACP from being compelled to turn over information about its members.

What this bill will do today is, when this information has been leaked, as it has already, everyday Americans will continue to receive death threats, mail containing white powder, all because someone disagrees with what they believe.

This bill should be defeated for one simple reason: It attacks our First Amendment liberties, our most sacred rights. This bill goes after it. That is why we should vote it down, and that is why I urge a “no” vote.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, I yield 5 minutes to the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. CUMMINGS), the chairman of the House Oversight and Reform Committee.

Mr. CUMMINGS. Mr. Chairman, I rise in strong support of H.R. 1, the For the People Act.

Mr. Chairman, I thank my friend, Congressman JOHN SARBANES, for his vision and for his tenacity in introducing this bold and historic reform package. He has given his blood, his sweat, and his tears, and I thank him.

This sweeping legislation would clean up corruption in government, fight secret money in politics, and make it easier for American citizens across our great country to vote.

I have heard this bill dismissed as a “power grab.” In fact, it is a power restoration. H.R. 1 would restore power to the American people and break the hold of special interests.

For example, title VIII includes a bill that I introduced, the Executive Branch Ethics Reform Act, which would ban senior officials from accepting bonuses and other payments from private-sector employers in exchange for their government service. H.R. 1 would also prevent Gary Cohn, President Trump’s former economic adviser, from receiving more than $100 million in accelerated payments from Goldman Sachs when he left to lead the Trump administration’s efforts to slash corporate taxes.

Title VIII also includes another bill that I introduced, the Transition Team Ethics Improvement Act. This legislation would require Presidential transition teams to disclose to Congress the team members they submit to receive security clearances and which team members receive security clearances.

This legislation also would require transition teams to have ethics plans in place and to publicly disclose those plans.

H.R. 1 gives people the power to freely exercise their right to vote. I have said quite often that when my mother died, at 92 years old, her last words were not, “Elijah, I love you.” This former sharecropper, her last words were: Elijah, don’t let them take away our right to vote.

I believe that we should be doing everything in our power to make it easier, not harder, for American citizens to exercise their constitutional right.

Unfortunately, some oppose our efforts. They think we should make voting more difficult by cutting back on early voting, eliminating polling places, and taking other steps to reduce the number of people who do vote.

In some cases, they have even engaged in illegal efforts to suppress the vote and target minority communities. Just look at what happened in North Carolina.

In 2013, State legislators requested data broken down by race on how residents engaged in a number of voting practices. They then used that data to enact legislation that restricted voting and voter registration in five different ways that disproportionately affected African Americans.

You do not have to take my word. The Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals found that this legislation was enacted with discriminatory intent. In fact, the Fourth Circuit said that in North Carolina legislation targeted African Americans with—they said this—“almost surgical precision.”

We are better than that.

In Georgia, we saw actions just last year by officials to remove people from the voter rolls and prevent them from registering in the first place. H.R. 1 would establish procedures to automatically register people to vote, extend early voting, absentee voting, and give additional funding to States to maintain polling sites so that they can do their job.

This legislation would help make it easier for hardworking Americans to find the time to vote by making election day a Federal holiday and encouraging the private sector to follow suit.

Federal court after Federal court, there are ongoing efforts to stop people from voting. So I will fight until my death to make sure citizens, whether they be Republican, Democrat, Independent, Green Party, or whatever, has the right to vote.
The American people gave this Congress a mandate to restore our democracy, and we will clean it up.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Florida (Mr. Posey), my good friend.

Mr. POSEY. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentleman for yielding the opportunity to speak about H.R. 1.

You have heard it called the "Welfare for Politicians Act"; you have heard it called "the Democratic Politician Protection Act"; and you have heard it called a very partisan proposal to hijack elections. I think it may be all those things.

Historically, elections are based on three principles: number one is fairness to everybody who votes, number two is that every vote counts, and number three is that every voter should have the assurance or the confidence that their vote was counted equally and was not compromised in one way or the other. There's none of those three things. If it did, and if it was at all fair, it would have bipartisan support.

In 2000, after the contentious election between Bush and Gore, I was chairman of the elections committee in the Florida Senate charged with reforming the election laws.

Working with the minority leader at the time, Steve Geller, we did some historic things. We pioneered the provisional ballot. We pioneered early voting. We got rid of punch cards and went to precinct-based optical scanners that they said would cost Republicans 100,000 votes statewide. It seems like the Republicans knew how to vote and the other side didn't.

We did those things because it was fair and it was the right thing to do. And as a result, for the past 19 years, our elections have worked very well down there, except for two counties, very highly partisan counties who didn't like the rules.

The measure of credibility for election bills is whether or not you have bipartisan support. Our legislation passed nearly unanimously, if not unanimously. Here, this is very one-sided. It is not fair. If it were fair, you would have a lot of support from this side.

And so I am for the other side to try and consider fairness a little bit in this process so we don't go from one regime to another, back and forth. It will be forced to contribute 6.

You heard it right, a 6-to-1 match. Whether you support a candidate or not, whether you support their positions on life, the Second Amendment, immigration, taxes, or anything else—6 to 1.

The bill would also require same-day registration, nationwide. States already have the right to determine for themselves if they want same-day registration. My home State of Illinois has it. But with it, can come challenges in ensuring the accuracy of a voter's registration information.

I believe that every single legitimate vote needs to be counted—every single legitimate vote—but it must be a single vote. And we are not just talking about one State. Multiply that by 50.

With this bill, my colleagues are leaving the States less capable of managing their voter systems. That is a big problem. This is a bad bill.

Mr. Chair, I urge the House to vote "no."

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. Sarbanes), the prime author of this bill.

Mr. SARBAÑES. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding and for all her hard work on this bill. I am concerned that there is a collective delirium that seems to have infected part of this Chamber. I keep hearing our colleagues on the other side say that the public financing system, the 6-to-1 matching system that we want to set up, is taxpayer funded. Hear this: It is not taxpayer funded. It is not taxpayer funded. It is not taxpayer funded.

It is lawbreaker funded.

We are setting up a fund, called the freedom from influence fund, because we don't want the big money and the special interests to raise influence in our campaigns anymore.

The freedom from influence fund will be filled with dollars that come from putting a surcharge, an assessment, on people who break the law: corporations who have engaged in criminal activity or are subject to civil penalties. Corporate malfeasance, that is where the dollars will come from. The people who are breaking the law, they are going to fund the freedom from influence account that will be there to match small donations.

Now, let me tell you why it is so important that small donors be the ones that have the power. If you are a candidate and you have to raise money for your campaign, right now, in order to raise the money you need, you have to go to the deep pocket and the PACs and the lobbyists. And here is what happens: You start to think like the company you keep. If so if you are hanging around with those folks because that is where you are raising your money, you are going to start putting their priorities first, not the public's priorities.

If we have a 6-to-1 matching system funded by lawbreakers, not taxpayers.

The ACTING CHAIR. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chair, I yield the gentleman from Maryland an additional 1 minute.

Mr. SARBANES. Mr. Chair, if we have a matching system that gives power to small donors, now the candidate is going to say: I want to raise money from my campaign and power my campaign. I am going to spend time with real people in my district. I am going to go to a house party where somebody can give $25 or $50, and then that 6-to-1 match will come in and I can power my campaign.

So instead of hanging out with the lobbyists on K Street or with the big money donors or with the PACs and super-PACs, I am going to spend time with people in my district. They are going to tell me what their priorities are, and then I am going to go to Washington and I am going to fight for them.

That is why we are creating this system: to take power away from the PACs and the big money and the insiders who are calling the shots now and give it back to the people. That is why this bill is called the For the People Act.

So let's restore their voice, give them back the power that they deserve, and give them their rightful ownership of their own democracy.

Mr. Chair, I yield the gentleman from Florida.
Mr. Chair, let’s support H.R. 1.
Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, it is great to have the author of the bill here on the floor.
I guess if I had a chance to ask a question, it would be why, then, was this new corporate malfeasance fund put in the manager’s amendment that was given to me 30 minutes before our Rules testimony last night?
There are many concerns with this bill, and a lot of those concerns hinge upon the new matching program that, in the end, is a new mandatory spending program that will have to be funded, have to be funded by the taxpayers to make up the difference if corporate money that is now going to be used—that we can’t take right now, as congressional candidates—is going to be used to fill the coffers of the campaigns that this author talked about.
I had no idea that the Democrats’ solution to getting corporate money out of politics was to put more corporate money into campaign coffers of every Member of Congress. It doesn’t make sense to me, which is why this bill doesn’t make sense to me.
Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Arizona (Mr. BIGGS), my good friend.
Mr. BIGGS. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. RODNEY DAVIS) for yielding me time.
Let me just tell you that this really is a monstrosity of a bill, the “Democratic Politician Protection Act.”
You see, H.R. 1 was referred to 10 committees, but only one marked it up; 100 pages of this bill fell within the jurisdiction of the Judiciary Committee. We had a hearing but we didn’t get to mark it up, which I think was designed—who knows why it was designed, but we couldn’t expose all the flaws of this bill.
Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Arizona (Mr. BIGGS). I have no idea what he is going to fund this.
Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Alabama (Mr. PALMER).
Mr. PALMER. Mr. Chair, H.R. 1 is yet another case of Democrats attempting a power grab from the States with no regard for the Constitution and States’ powers. The bill completely disregards the fact that most States have successfully adopted their own process for a fair and honest and constitutional election.
Thirty-eight States, including my home State of Alabama, have already implemented some type of online voter registration, most with safeguards to protect against fraud. Each State is different and has unique circumstances and challenges that only the State and local legislators can effectively address.
For instance, in Alabama, where we require voter identification, our election officials were required to register every voter and have taken steps to ensure that every person has a form of ID, which is required to vote. Alabama accepts seven different types of ID, including a student or employee ID. They can get a voter ID card for free. The State even goes so far as to have a mobile ID unit that will pick people up and take them to an ID center at no expense.
That is why a Federal judge recently threw out the ID law as unconstitutional and has taken the ID law because, in the judge’s words: There is no person who is qualified to register to vote who cannot get a photo ID.
One of the most important requirements for eligibility to vote is citizenship—H.R. 1 requires States to maintain online voter registration with no safeguards. They can simply upload an electronic signature without any validation through a DMV database.
Many officials from States that have implemented online voter registration with no safeguards will tell you that a huge obstacle is cybersecurity. Any time parts of the process are connected to the internet, it opens it up to hacking attempts.
My Democratic colleagues have spent the better part of 2 years alleging there was Russian influence in the 2016 election. Now they want to invite China to the party? What about Iran and North Korea?
Just this week, FBI Director Wray was asked if China’s digital threat was even greater. He responded: There is nothing like it.
Voter fraud and registration fraud are real threats to elections.
The Acting CHAIR. The time of the gentleman has expired.
Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, I yield an additional 30 seconds to the gentleman from Alabama.
Mr. PALMER. Mr. Chairman, the Texas Attorney General indicted four people as part of a vote fraud ring funded by the Texas Democratic Party. Under the new automatic registration scheme in California, they admitted to registering 25,000 ineligible voters, including non-citizens. This bill even allows felons to register to vote, even those who are felons for voter fraud.
Each State is unique, with their own circumstances and challenges. Elections are a State matter, not a Federal matter. We should continue to allow the States to act on their own and implement policies that work best for their State rather than cede the fundamental base of our liberty: our right to choose our leaders in honest and fair elections.
Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.
Mr. Chair, I just want to make a couple of observations and perhaps corrections.
It has been alleged that somehow the assessment on tax crimes and corporate malfeasance has been transformed into taxpayer money—I think that is clearly incorrect—but that if the money is insufficient, then the taxpayer will have to fund a candidate before an election.
When we marked up the bill in the House Administration Committee, we outlined how the money would be reduced if there were not enough money in the fund; and in section 510(c)(9), it talks about mandatory reductions of payments in the voucher program. In 511(d)(2), it talks about mandatory reductions in the congressional program and Presidential and so on, if there were insufficient funds.
There is no way under the terms of this bill that the taxpayers could ever be on the hook for these funds, and I think it is important to know that.
I want to talk a little bit about the concern about free speech.
I am an advocate of free speech. I think we all are and honor our Constitution here in the House of Representatives. But the ACLU has a storied history of litigating constitutional issues. They have done good work, but they have also tried to pervert the campaign finance law, particularly on how to shine a light on secret, dark money in elections.
The ACLU has opposed applying disclosure laws to organizations spending money on electioneer communications, which are paid ads that mention candidates in the days leading up to the election.
As we have mentioned earlier, the Court, in Citizens United, said the public has an interest in knowing who is speaking about a candidate before an election and pointed out that disclosure does not prevent speech. I think that is one of the reasons why we have gotten a marvelous letter from the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the NAACP, which I include in the RECORD.

Dear Representative: On behalf of the NAACP, our nation’s oldest, largest, and most broadly-recognized grassroots-based civil rights organization, I would like to urge you, in the strongest terms possible to support through passage H.R. 1 and to oppose any weakening amendments. This legislation will expand Americans’ access to the ballot box, reduce the discriminatory influence of big money in politics, prevent voter fraud, and strengthen ethics rules and accountability for public servants. H.R. 1 is supported and celebrated by the NAACP; since our founding in 1909, free and unfettered access to the ballot box for all eligible Americans and the assurance that our vote has been counted, has been a critical driver behind all that we do.

H.R. 1 represents a coordinated effort to protect and promote the voting rights of all Americans. This vital legislation includes many of the NAACP’s recommendations throughout our nation as improving voter turnout and successful voter participation: it includes provisions to establish on-line and automatic voter registration. H.R. 1 would require early voting in all states; voting would have to start at least 15 days before an election, including weekends. H.R. 1 would also require voter registration on election-day and during early voting. Under a provision in H.R. 1, states would be prohibited from restricting an individual’s ability to vote by mail. H.R. 1 would require that “provisional ballots” be counted and provides assistance to states and localities in improving the provisional ballot process. The measure would prohibit voter caging, voter deception and voter intimidation. H.R. 1 also promotes voter registration via the internet and establishes a strict code of ethics for elected and appointed officials, including the President, the Vice President, his cabinet, and every Member of Congress, so we are not constantly distracted by the scandal of the day.

H.R. 1 would also re-enfranchise ex-felony offenders who have served their sentence and have been released from prison. Because voting is such an integral part of being a productive member of American society, the NAACP has advocated strongly to allow felons who are no longer incarcerated to re-integrate themselves into society and vote in federal elections.

H.R. 1 also begins to fix the damage done to the Voting Rights Act by the 2013 Supreme Court decision in Shelby v. Holder. The legislation specifically states that Congress is committed to reversing the effects of the 2013 Supreme Court decision which effectively invalidated a requirement that certain states and jurisdictions receive federal preclearance on changes to voting procedures. Prior to the Shelby decision preclearance was required for states and local jurisdictions that had a history of voter discrimination.

The measure would state that Congress should respond by modernizing the electoral system to improve access to the ballot, enhance voting integrity and security, ensure greater fairness, and restore protections for voters. Finally, but no less importantly, H.R. 1 contains strong provisions to bring about genuine campaign finance reform measures which will withstand the scrutiny of the Courts.

The NAACP strongly supports H.R. 1. This is not a partisan issue: the right to vote should be supported by all Americans who believe in democracy. We should be making voting and involvement in the democratic process easier, not harder, and any barriers which may seem insurmountable to whole groups of eligible voters. Should you have any questions or comments, please do not hesitate to contact me at my office.

Sincerely,

HILARY O. SHELTON, Director, NAACP Washington Bureau and Senior Vice President for Policy and Advocacy.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chair, I will not read the entire letter, but it does say this:

“Dear Representative,

On behalf of the NAACP, our nation’s oldest, largest, and most widely-recognized grassroots-based civil rights organization, I would like to urge you, in the strongest terms possible to support through passage H.R. 1 and to oppose any weakening amendments.”

It goes on to say: “This legislation will establish on-line and automatic voter registration, reduce the discriminatory influence of big money in politics, prevent voter fraud, and strengthen ethics rules and accountability for public servants. H.R. 1 is supported and celebrated by the NAACP.”

I would urge you to support this bill and listen to the advice that we have received from the NAACP on this, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. ROYDEN DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chairman, it is interesting, my colleague, Chairperson LOFGREN, mentioned the NAACP, because the next gentleman that I am going to introduce, he and I both share Springfield, Illinois, which is known, after the 1908 race riot, to be somewhat of the birthplace of the NAACP.

Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. LAHOOD), my good friend.

Mr. LAHOOD. Mr. Chairman, I want to thank my colleague, Congressman ROYDEN DAVIS, my good friend, for his strong leadership on this bill and his strong leadership on the Committee on House Administration for leading the way on this.

Mr. Chairman, I rise today strongly opposed to H.R. 1. Among the numerous, egregious provisions of H.R. 1, I am here to shed light on one proposal that has increased vulnerabilities in our election system in our home State of Illinois.

Under H.R. 1, Democrats are proposing a blanket, nationwide mandate for States to adopt same-day registration practices with no safeguards. Once again, my colleagues across the aisle are advocating a Big Government solution, but, in fact, they are threatening the integrity of our elections at every level of government.

Coming from Illinois where same-day registration and other lax election laws have been passed by our Democrat-controlled legislature, uncertainty has followed. The practice of same-day registration has caused confusion for our election administrators and has opened the door to fraud.

Under same-day registration in Illinois, an individual can arrive at their polling place with a copy of their utility bill and cast a full ballot without being fully verified thanks to same-day registration.

Election officials are having difficulty verifying residents in a timely manner, particularly on college campuses where students have been told that they can use a receipt from Jimmy John’s sub shop to confirm their voting domicile.

Under H.R. 1, these vulnerabilities and problems will be seen across the country and exacerbated by provisions that will allow individuals to use sworn statements in place of government IDs when registering to vote.

H.R. 1 fails to respect issues our States and others have seen with same-day registration. We need stricter standards for same-day registration, but H.R. 1 fails to provide any sufficient enforcement mechanisms to verify voter registration.

The Acting CHAIR. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. ROYDEN DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, I yield an additional 30 seconds to the gentleman from Illinois.

Mr. LAHOOD. Mr. Chairman, further, H.R. 1 fails to deter bad actors from taking advantage of the system by not criminalizing fraudulent registrations.

Mr. Chairman, Republicans want more registered voters. We want more Americans to fulfill their civic duty, but we can’t simply push legislation that jeopardizes the integrity of our election process and potentially undermines our democracy.

H.R. 1 unconstitutionally mandates a one-size-fits-all Federal approach to voter registration, fails to adequately address vulnerabilities in our registration system, weaponizes the Federal Election Commission, and, as the left-leaning ACLU says, infringes on Americans’ free speech right.

I strongly urge a “no” vote.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from California (Ms. PELOSI), the Speaker of the House, representing San Francisco.

Ms. PELOSI. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman for yielding, and I commend her and congratulate her on her success in bringing this important legislation to the floor of the House.

I want to salute our colleagues from Maryland, Congressman JOHN SARANES, for being a relentless and persistent advocate, for honoring the Constitution of the United States and giving people confidence that their voice and their vote count as much as anyone in this country.

That is what H.R. 1 is about: giving people confidence that we can do what we say without the influence of big,
Act. It is part of H.R. 1, but it will be again, and restore the Voting Rights spring of this legislation, the Voting technics.

government will work for the people tance—restores the people's faith that H.R. 1 because it is of primary importance to the people of the United States, honoring the sacrifice of our men and women in uniform for the sacrifices that they make for our freedom and freedom throughout the world, and worthy of the aspirations of our children. We can only do this if we have a government that is committed to transparency, to as much bipartisanship as possible, and to being unifying for our country.

In the legislation, the American people voted for just that. They voted for a Congress that would restore transparency, bipartisanship, and unity and be unifying in Washington, D.C., so that the government would again—I can't say it enough—work for the people.

On day one, reflecting the priorities of our outstanding freshman class, our new Democratic majority honored the people's trust by introducing H.R. 1, the For the People Act.

Again, let me salutate Congressman JOHN SARBANES, the chair of our De-ocracy Reform Task Force, who was the godfather of this bill.

Today, we are proud to be bringing this transformative legislation to the floor of the House, H.R. 1—and it is H.R. 1 because it is of primary importance to the people's faith that government will work for the people and not the special interests.

We are ending the dominance of big, dark, special interest money in politics. We are ensuring clean, fair elections with Congressman JOHN LEWIS, our hero, with his Voter Empowerment Act, to increase access to the ballot box.

Democrats or Republicans who are Independent, who do not register with a party, should want everyone to be able to vote without obstacles. This legislation will remove obstacles to participation. Whether obstacles of closing polling places in certain neighborhoods, obstacles of reducing hours that those polling places are open, reducing the number of days for early voting, and the rest, it will reduce those obstacles.

We also are protecting the sacred right to vote through Congresswoman TERRI SEWELL's H.R. 4, which is an offspring of the legislation, the Voting Rights Advancement Act, to secure, again, and restore the Voting Rights Act. It is part of H.R. 1, but it will be taken up separately because of the need to establish the constitutional basis in an ironclad way as we go forward.

I am so pleased, Mr. Chairman, and I thank the chairwoman of the House Administration Committee for reinstatement of the House Administration Subcommittee on Elections led by Congresswoman MARCIA FUDGE which began its out-of-Washington hearings in Brownsville, Texas just last week, and people were delighted that Chairwoman FUDGE's subcommittee came there to hear the stories of voter suppression that exists throughout the country, especially among people who by the last name that may sound foreign to some and questionable therefore to them, but who are American citizens eligible to vote.

We are cleaning up corruption and ensuring that public officials again put their work for the people.

We must pass this legislation so we can break the grip of special interests. We talk about obstacles to participation and the suffrage vote, and we talk about what we talked about earlier, whether it is voting, number of polling places, number of hours, number of days, degree of identification that is required in some areas more than in others and different surnames and the rest, but one of the biggest suppressors of the vote is the suffocation of the airwaves by big, dark, special interest money. There are some people in our country—I hope none of them in this body—who think that the only way to win an election is to suppress the vote one way or another, and bombarding and suffocating the airwaves with information that is not factual, by disrupting elections and by injecting fear, by can't say it enough, Mr. Chairman. We must pass this legislation so we can break the grip of special interests.

Or do we say: Honoring your vision, Mr. Chairman, if the gentleman would like to wrap up, I will also wrap up.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois, Mr. Chairman, I have no further speakers, and I am ready to close.

I reserve the balance of my time, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. But before I do, Mr. Chairman, may I inquire how much time is remaining.

The Acting CHAIR (Mr. SCHRADE). The gentleman has 2½ minutes remaining.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois, Mr. Chairman, I yield myself the balance of my time and that is not nearly enough to talk about all the bad provisions in this bill once again.

There are so many provisions in this bill that many of my colleagues graciosously came down to the floor to talk about them. As a matter of fact, I have with me a file of letters from groups like the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, the ACLU, the National Right to Life, and all others that have been outspoken in their opposition to this behemoth partisan piece of legislation.

March 6, 2019  CONGRESSIONAL RECORD — HOUSE H2047

Let me remind everybody once again: we Republicans—there are only three of us on the House Administration Committee—were not consulted at all by anyone who wrote this bill, nor by any of the groups who were pointed out at the press conference announcing this piece of legislation that they helped to write this bill. Make no bones about it, this shell game, this nebulous freethinkers or whatever fund you want to call it, the CBO estimates they don’t even have enough information on it. They are estimating the taxpayers will be on the hook for at least $1 billion, and that goes in addition to the over $2 billion that the rest of the bill is going to cost the taxpayers of this country.

Now, it is interesting, I just read a tweet—I never met the gentleman, Dan McLaughlin, but it is a pretty good explanation of what I think this bill is. His tweet says: ‘Professional politicians do unethical things that they've written the rules to allow.’

This bill has written the rules to allow Members of Congress to enrich their own campaign coffers that will eventually be on the backs of government and the taxpayers. This is not why we should be here.

I am for the American voter. I support every eligible voter have easier ways to register to vote and get easier access to the polls. What I am not for is for Washington, D.C., taking over elections and enriching the campaign coffers of the people who sit in this room.

I know what difficult elections look like. It is the worst of partisan politics, and it is personal to me. I know what it looks like when people take well-intentioned laws and use them to their political advantage. I don’t want that to happen, and I believe H.R. 1 will allow that to happen.

We have had disagreements. I respect the fact that my colleagues have come here to debate this bill, but this is the furthest thing from a bipartisan bill. I can’t say it enough how opposed to this bill I am.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Chairman, this is an important bill for many reasons. We have seen all over the United States efforts to prevent Americans from being able to vote, from moving polling places out of a jurisdiction without any public transportation so voters can’t get there, to reducing early voting, to voter ID requirements that have a disparate result and disadvantage young people. For example, in Texas you can show your hunting license but not your University of Texas ID. I think there is a rationale behind that.

We have had enough. We believe that American citizens ought to be able to vote and that we should do everything in Federal elections as the Constitution provides to allow those American citizens to vote.

That is why this bill provides for at least 15 days of early voting for Federal elections, no-excuse absentee ballots, that provisional ballots are treated uniformly so a voter in one State is treated the same way as a voter in another State when they are voting for the House of Representatives. We want to improve access for voters with disabilities and for overseas and military voters.

We know that we are vulnerable to hacking. We have voting machines that are using software that is no longer even updated. They are vulnerable to hacking. We have got to have paper ballots that are subject to a recount.

Much has been said about elements of this, but one of the things that I think is very important is the Federal congressional redistricting provisions. If there is one thing that makes Americans upset it is politicians manipulating the districts so that even if they don’t get the votes, they get to win the seats. That is Gerrymandering. This bill does away with it for the House of Representatives.

It requires all States to establish independent redistricting commissions for the purpose of developing and enacting congressional redistricting plans. It exempts States that meet the minimum requirements, including the State of Arizona, contrary to one of the comments made earlier here today.

There has been a lot of discussion about money, but I will include in the Record the preliminary report we have received from the Joint Committee on Taxation.

The estimate of the proposed 2.75 percent special assessment on criminal fines and civil penalties is that it would raise $1.948 billion between 2019 and 2029 and that it would reduce the deficit by $83 million because people would be deterred by the additional penalty. That is from the Joint Committee on Taxation. I didn’t make that up.

So this bill has a lot of sound provisions in it. It discloses big money so that there is transparency, as the court in Citizens United suggested that we do. It empowers small donors so the big money guys don’t own the government. It reforms the ethics process for the President, the Congress, and for the judiciary.

I am sorry to say that some candidates win only when they suppress the vote, and we have seen that happen across the United States. We are not going to allow that to happen. Every American has a right to vote, to have their vote counted and let the chips fall where they may. That is what H.R. 1 will do.

Mr. Chairman, I urge its passage, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Mr. Chair, I rise today in strong support of H.R. 1, The “For the People Act of 2019,” which expands access to the ballot box, reduces the influence of big money in politics, and strengthens ethics rules for public servants.

I am proud to be one of 226, co-sponsors, and one of the original co-sponsors, of H.R. 1, which will increase public confidence in our democracy by reducing the role of money in politics, restoring ethical standards and integrity to government, and strengthening laws to protect voting.

Specifically, the For the People Act will:

1. Make it easier, not harder, to vote by implementing automatic voter registration, requiring early voting and vote by mail, committing Congress to reauthorizing the Voting Rights Act and ensuring the integrity of our elections by modernizing and strengthening our voting systems and ending partisan redistricting.

2. Reform the campaign finance system by requiring all political organizations to disclose large donors, updating political advertisement laws for the digital age, establishing a public matching system for citizen-owned elections, and revamping the Federal Election Commission to ensure there’s a cop on the campaign finance beat; and

3. Strengthen ethics laws to ensure that public officials work in the public interest by extending conflict of interest laws to the President and Vice President; requiring the release of their tax returns; closing loopholes that allow former members of Congress to avoid cooling-off periods for lobbying; closing the revolving door between industry and the federal government; and establishing a code of conduct for the Supreme Court.

H.R. 1 expands access to the ballot box by taking aim at institutional barriers to voting.

This bill ensures that individuals who have completed felony sentences have their full rights restored and expands early voting and simplify absentee voting; and modernize the U.S. voting system.

Mr. Chair, this legislation and this hearing is particularly timely because more than half a century after the passage of the Voting Rights Act of 1965, we are still discussing voter suppression—something which should be a bygone relic of the past, but yet continues to disenfranchise racial minorities, immigrants, women, and young people.

The Voting Rights Act of 1965 was a watershed moment for the Civil Rights Movement—it liberated communities of color from legal restrictions barring them from exercising the fundamental right to civic engagement and political representation.

But uncaged by Supreme Court’s infamous 2013 decision in Shelby County v. Holder, 570 U.S. 529 (2013), which neutered the preclearance provision of the Voting Rights Act, 14 states, including my state of Texas, took extreme measures to enfranchise voting restrictions before the 2016 presidential election. It is not a coincidence that many of these same states have experienced increasing numbers of black and Hispanic voters in recent elections.

If not for invidious, state-sponsored voter suppression policies like discriminatory voter ID laws, reduced early voting periods, and voter intimidation tactics that directly or indirectly target racial minorities, the 2016 presidential election might have had a drastically different outcome.

Mr. Chair, H.R. 1 must be passed because many of the civil rights that I fought for as a student and young lawyer have been undermined or been rolled back by reactionary forces in recent years.

To add insult to injury, the Trump Administration issued an Executive Order establishing a so-called “Election Integrity” Commission to investigate not voter suppression, but so-called “voter fraud” in the 2016 election. Trump and his followers have been unceasing in their efforts to perpetuate the myth of voter fraud, but it remains just that: a myth.

Between 2000 and 2014, there were 35 credible allegations of voter fraud out of more than 834 million ballots cast—that is less than 1 in 28 million votes.

An extensive study by social scientists at Dartmouth College uncovered no evidence to support Trump’s hysterical and outrageous allegations of widespread voter fraud “rigging” the 2016 election.

Just for the record, Mr. Chair, the popular vote of the 2016 presidential election was: Hillary Clinton, 65,853,516. Donald Trump, 62,884,824.

Trump’s deficit of 2.9 million was the largest of any Electoral College winner in history by a massive margin, and despite the allegations of the current Administration, there have been only 4 documented cases of voter fraud in the 2016 election.

The Voter Fraud Commission, like many of Trump’s business schemes, was a massive scam built on countless lies that do not hold up to any level of scrutiny.

As Members of Congress, we should be devoting our time, energy, and resources addressing Russian infiltration of our election infrastructure and campaigns, along with other pressing issues.

Instead of enjoying and strengthening the protections guaranteed in the Voting Rights Act—people of color, women, LGBTQ individualists, and immigrants—have been given the joyless, exhausting task of fending off the constant barrage of attacks levied at our communities by Trump and other conspiracy theorists.

Not only are we tasked with reversing the current dismal state of voter suppression against minorities, we are being forced to refute the blatant, propagandist lie of voter fraud.

To this end, I have been persistent in my efforts to protect the rights of disenfranchised communities in my district of inner-city Houston and across the nation.

Throughout my tenure in Congress, I have cosponsored dozens of bills, amendments, and resolutions seeking to improve voters’ rights at all stages and levels of the election process.

This includes legislation aimed at:
1. Increasing voter outreach and turnout;
2. Ensuring both early and same-day registration;
3. Standardizing physical and language accessibility at polling places;
4. Expanding early voting periods;
5. Decreasing voter wait times;
6. Guaranteeing absentee ballots, especially for displaced citizens;
7. Modernizing voting technologies and strengthening our voter record systems;
8. Establishing the federal Election Day as a national holiday; and
9. Condemning and criminalizing deceptive practices, voter intimidation, and other suppression tactics.

Along with many of my CBC colleagues, I was an original cosponsor of H.R. 9, the Fannie Lou Hamer, Rosa Parks, and Coretta Scott King Voting Rights Act Reauthorization and Amendments Act, which became public law on July 27, 2006. I also authored H.R. 745 in the 110th Congress, which added the legendary Barbara Jordan to the list of civil rights trailblazers whose memories are honored in the naming the Voting Rights Act Reauthorization and Amendments Act.

This bill strengthened the original Voting Rights Act by replacing federal voting examiners with federal voting observers a significant enhancement that made it easier to safeguard against racially biased voter suppression tactics.

In the 114th Congress, I introduced H.R. 75, the Coretta Scott King Mid-Decade Redistricting Prohibition Act of 2015, which prohibits states whose congressional districts have been redistricted after a decennial census from redrawing their district lines until the next census.

Prejudiced redistricting, or gerrymandering as it is more commonly known, has been used for decades to weaken the voting power of African Americans, Latino Americans, and other minorities since the Civil Rights Era. Immediately after the Shelby County ruling, which lifted preclearance requirements for states with histories of discrimination seeking to change their voting laws or practices, redistricting became a favorite tool for Republicans who connived to unfairly gain 3 congressional seats in Texas.

In the 110th Congress, I was the original sponsor of H.R. 6778, the Ex-Offenders Voting Rights Act of 2008, which prohibited denial of the right to vote in a federal election on the basis of an individual’s status as a formerly incarcerated person.

The Ex-Offenders Voting Rights Act sought to reverse discriminatory voter restrictions that disproportionately affect the African American voting population, which continues to be targeted by mass incarceration, police profiling, and a biased criminal justice system.

Those of us who cherish the right to vote justifiably are skeptical of Voter ID laws because we understand how these laws, like poll taxes and literacy tests, can be used to impede or negate the ability of seniors, racial and language minorities, and young people to cast their votes.

Voter ID laws are just one of the means that can be used to abridge or suppress the right to vote but there are others, including:
1. Curtailing or Eliminating Early Voting;
2. Ending Same-Day Registration;
3. Not counting provisional ballots cast in the wrong precinct on Election Day will not count;
4. Eliminating Teenage Pre-Registration;
5. Shortened Poll Hours;
6. Lessening the standards governing voter challenges used by vigilantes, like the King Street Patriots in my city of Houston, to cause trouble at the polls;
7. “Voter Caging,” to suppress the turnout of minority voters by sending non-forwardable mail to targeted populations and, once the mail is returned, using the returned mail to compile lists of voters whose eligibility is then challenged on the basis of residence under state law; and
8. Employing targeted redistricting techniques to dilute minority voting strength, notably “Cracking” (i.e., fragmenting and dispersing concentrations of minority populations); “Stacking” (combining concentrations of minority voters with greater concentrations of white populations); and “Packing” (i.e., over-concentrating minority voters in as few districts as possible).

Mr. Chair, we must not allow our democracy to slide back into the worst elements of this country’s past, to stand idly by as our treasured values of democracy, progress, and equality are poisoned and dismantled.

I urge all members to join me in voting to pass H.R. 1, the “For the People Act of 2019.”

The Acting CHAIR. All time for general debate has expired.

Pursuant to the rule, the bill shall be considered for amendment under the 5-minute rule.

In lieu of the amendment in the nature of a substitute recommended by the Committee on House Administration, printed in the bill, the amendment in the nature of a substitute consisting of the text of Rules Committee Print 116-7, modified by the amendment printed in part A of House Report 116-16, shall be considered as adopted. The bill, as amended, shall be considered as an original bill for purpose of further amendment under the 5-minute rule and shall be considered as read.

The text of the bill, as amended, is as follows:

H.R. 1

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the “For the People Act of 2019”.

to the greatest extent practicable any unauthorized access to information provided by individuals using the services made available under subsection (a).

(2) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—(A) by striking “(and)” at the end of subsection (d); and

(b) USE OF ADDITIONAL TELEPHONE-BASED SYSTEMS.—A State shall make the services made available online under subsection (a) available through the use of an automated telephone-based system, subject to the same terms and conditions applicable under this section to the services made available online, in addition to making the services available online in accordance with the requirements of this section.

(i) NONDISCRIMINATION AMONG REGISTERED VOTERS USING MAIL AND ONLINE REGISTRATION.—In carrying out this Act, the Help America Vote Act of 2002, or any other Federal law, State or local government, or an agency or political subdivision of a State or local government, shall treat a registered voter who registered to vote online in accord-ance with this section in the same manner as a registered voter who registered to vote by mail.

(ii) SPECIAL REQUIREMENTS FOR INDIVIDUALS USING HANDICAPPED SERVICES.—(1) TREATMENT OF INDIVIDUALS REGISTERING TO VOTE BY MAIL FOR PURPOSES OF FIRST-TIME VOTER IDENTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS.—Section 302(b)(1)(A) of the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (52 U.S.C. 21083(b)(1)(A)) is amended by striking “by mail” and inserting “by mail or online under section 6A of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993.

(2) REQUIRING SIGNATURE FOR FIRST-TIME VOTERS IN JURISDICTION.—Section 303(b) of such Act (52 U.S.C. 21083(b)) is amended—

(A) by redesignating paragraph (6) as paragraph (7); and

(B) by inserting after paragraph (4) the following new paragraph:

“(5) SIGNATURE REQUIREMENTS FOR FIRST-TIME VOTERS USING ONLINE REGISTRATION.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—A State shall, in a uniform and nondiscriminatory manner, require an individual to meet the requirements of paragraph (B) if—

“(i) the individual registered to vote in the State online under section 6A of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993;

“(ii) the individual has not previously voted in an election for Federal office in the State;

(B) REQUIREMENTS.—An individual meets the requirements of this subparagraph if—

“(i) in the case of an individual who votes in person, the individual provides the appropriate State or local election official with a handwritten signature; or “(ii) in the case of an individual who votes by mail, the individual submits with the ballot a handwritten signature:

“(C) INAPPLICABILITY.—Subparagraph (A) does not apply in the case of an individual who is—

“(i) entitled to vote by absentee ballot under the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act (52 U.S.C. 20302 et seq.);

“(ii) provided the right to vote otherwise than under section 303 of the Voting Accessibility for the Elderly and Handicapped Act (52 U.S.C. 20302(b)(2)(B)(i)); or “(iii) entitled to vote otherwise than in person under any other Federal law.

(2) IN GENERAL.—(A) by striking “and” at the end of subsection (d); and

(B) by redesigning paragraph (6) as paragraph (7); and

(C) by inserting after paragraph (6) the following new paragraph:

“(7) ABILITY OF REGISTRANT TO USE ONLINE UPDATE TO PROVIDE INFORMATION ON RESIDENCE.—Section 8(d)(2)(A) of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 (52 U.S.C. 20507(d)(2)(A)) is amended—

(1) in the first sentence, by striking “return the card” the following: “or update the registrant’s information on the computerized statewide voter registration list using the online method provided under section 303(a)(6) of the Help America Vote Act of 2002”;

(2) in the second sentence, by striking “re- turned or if the registrant does not update the registrant’s information on the computerized statewide voter registration list using such online method.”;

(3) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—

(1) TIMING OF REGISTRATION.—Section 8(a)(1) of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 (52 U.S.C. 20507(a)(1)) is amended —

(A) by striking “and” at the end of sub- paragraph (C);

(B) by redesigning paragraph (D) as sub- paragraph (C); and

(C) by inserting after subparagraph (C) the following new subparagraph:

“(D) the individual performs an online update through the official public website of an election official under section 6A, if the valid voter registration application is submitted online within the period provided by State law, before the date of the election (as determined by treating the date on which the application is sent electronically as the date on which it is submitted); and”;

(2) INFORMING APPLICANTS OF ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS AND PENALTIES.—Section 6A of the Help America Vote Act of 2002, or any other Federal law, shall include a space for the applicant to provide, at the applicant’s option, an elec- tronic mail address, together with a statement that, if the applicant so requests, instead of using regular mail the appropriate State and local election officials shall provide to the applicant, through electronic mail sent to that address, the same voting information (as defined in section 302(b)(2) of the Help America Vote Act of 2002) which the officials would provide to the applicant through regular mail.

(3) PROHIBITING USE FOR PURPOSES UNRELAT- ERED TO OFFICIAL DUTIES OF ELECTION OFFIC- IALS.—Section 9 of such Act (52 U.S.C. 20508) is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

“(c) PROHIBITING USE OF ELECTRONIC MAIL ADDRESSES FOR OTHER THAN OFFICIAL PURPOSES.—The chief State election official shall ensure that any electronic mail address provided by an applicant under subsection (b)(5) is used only for purposes of carrying out official duties of election officials and is not transmitted by any State or local election official (or any agent of such an official, including a contractor) to any person who does not require the information to carry out such official duties and who is not under the direct supervision and control of a State or local election official.

“(d) PROHIBITION OF OTHER INFORMATION BY ELECTRONIC MAIL.—Section 302(a) of the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (52 U.S.C. 20507(b)) is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

“(1) PROHIBITING USE OF ELECTRONIC MAIL ADDRESSES FOR OTHER THAN OFFICIAL PURPOSES.—The chief State election official shall ensure that any electronic mail address provided by an applicant under subsection (b)(5) is used only for purposes of carrying out official duties of election officials and is not transmitted by any State or local election official (or any agent of such an official, including a contractor) to any person who does not require the information to carry out such official duties and who is not under the direct supervision and control of a State or local election official.

“(2) REQUIRING AUTHORIZATION TO USE ELECTRONIC MAIL ADDRESSES.—The chief State election official shall ensure that any electronic mail address provided by an applicant under subsection (b)(5) is used only for purposes of carrying out official duties of election officials and is not transmitted by any State or local election official (or any agent of such an official, including a contractor) to any person who does not require the information to carry out such official duties and who is not under the direct supervision and control of a State or local election official.

“(3) PROHIBITING USE OF OTHER INFORMATION BY ELECTRONIC MAIL.—If an individual who is a registered voter has provided the State or local election official with an electronic mail address for the purpose of receiving voting information (as described in section 9(b)(5) of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 (52 U.S.C. 20507)) the election official, through electronic mail transmitted not later than 7 days before the date of the election for Federal office involved, shall provide the individual with information on how to obtain the following information by electronic means:

(A) The address of the polling place at which the individual is assigned to vote in the election.

(B) The hours of operation for the polling place.

(C) A description of any identification or other information the individual may be required to present at the polling place.

SEC. 1004. CLARIFICATION OF REQUIREMENT REGARDING NECESSARY INFORMATION TO SHOW ELIGIBILITY TO VOTE.

Section 8 & Section 3013, National Voter Registration Act of 1993 (52 U.S.C. 20507) is amended—

(1) by redesignating subsection (j) as subsection (k); and

(2) by inserting after subsection (j) the following new subsection:

"(j) REQUIREMENT FOR STATE TO REGISTER APPLICANTS PROVIDING NECESSARY INFORMATION TO SHOW ELIGIBILITY TO VOTE.—For purposes meeting the requirement of subsection (a)(1) that an eligible applicant is registered to vote in an election for Federal office within the deadlines required under such subsection, the State shall consider an applicant to have provided a "valid voter registration form" if—

"(1) the applicant has substantially completed the application form and attested to the certification the reasons for the failure to meet the requirement of paragraph (2) are extraordinary circumstances and includes in the certification the reasons for the failure to meet the requirement of paragraph (2); and

"(2) in the case of an applicant who registers to vote online in accordance with section 6A, the applicant provides a signature in accordance with subsection (c) of such section.".

SEC. 1005. EFFECTIVE DATE.

(a) In General.—Except as provided in subsection (b), the amendments made by this part (other than the amendments made by section 1004) shall take effect January 1, 2022.

(b) Waiver.—Subject to the approval of the Election Assistance Commission, if a State certifies to the Election Assistance Commission that the State will not meet the due date referred to in subsection (a) because of extraordinary circumstances and includes in the certification the reasons for the failure to meet the requirement of subsection (a)(1), such State shall apply to the State as if the reference in such subsection to "January 1, 2022" were a reference to "January 1, 2022".

PART II—AUTOMATIC VOTER REGISTRATION

SEC. 1011. SHORT TITLE, FINDINGS AND PURPOSE.

(a) Short Title.—This part may be cited as the "Automatic Voter Registration Act of 2019".

(b) Findings and Purpose.—

(1) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

(A) the right to vote is a fundamental right of citizens of the United States;

(B) it is the responsibility of the State and Federal Governments to ensure that every eligible citizen is registered to vote;

(C) existing voter registration systems can be inaccurate, costly, inaccessible and confusing, with damaging effects on voter participation in elections and disproportionate impacts on young people, persons with disabilities, and racial and ethnic minorities; and

(D) voter registration systems must be updated with 21st Century technologies and procedures to maintain their security.

(2) PURPOSE.—It is the purpose of this part—

(A) to establish that it is the responsibility of government at every level to ensure that all eligible citizens are registered to vote;

(B) to enable the State and Federal Governments to register all eligible citizens to vote with accurate, cost-efficient, and up-to-date procedures;

(C) to modernize voter registration and list maintenance procedures with electronic and Internet capabilities; and

(D) to protect and enhance the integrity, accuracy, efficiency, and accessibility of the electoral process for all eligible citizens.

SEC. 1012. AUTOMATIC REGISTRATION OF ELIGIBLE INDIVIDUALS.

(a) REQUIREING STATES TO ESTABLISH AND OPERATE AUTOMATIC REGISTRATION SYSTEM.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The chief State election official of each State shall establish and operate a system to automatically register eligible individuals to vote for elections for Federal office in the State, in accordance with the provisions of this part.

(2) DEFINITION.—The term "automatic registration" means a system that registers an individual to vote in elections for Federal office in the State if the individual is eligible to be registered to vote in such elections.

(b) REQUIREMENTS FOR CONTRIBUTING AGENCIES.

(1) In General.—Congress finds that—

(A) the right to vote is a fundamental right of citizens of the United States;

(B) it is the responsibility of the State and Federal Governments to ensure that every eligible citizen is registered to vote;

(C) Voter registration is voluntary, and

(D) Voter registration is voluntary, and

(E) instructions for correcting any erroneous information or for providing any additional information which is listed in the mail voter registration application form for elections for Federal office prescribed pursuant to section 9 of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993; and

(2) treatment of individuals under 18 years of age.—A State or agency has the right to treat an individual as an eligible individual for purposes of this part on the grounds that the individual is less than 18 years of age at the time a contributing agency transmits information with respect to the individual, so long as the individual is at least 16 years of age at such time.

(c) CONTRIBUTING AGENCY DEFINED.—In this part, the term "contributing agency" means, with respect to a State, an agency listed in section 1013(e).

SEC. 1013. CONTRIBUTING AGENCY ASSISTANCE IN REGISTRATION.

(a) In General.—In accordance with this part, each contributing agency in a State shall assist the State’s chief election official in registering to vote all eligible individuals served by that agency.

(b) REQUIREMENTS FOR CONTRIBUTING AGENCIES.—

(1) INSTRUCTIONS ON AUTOMATIC REGISTRATION.—With each application for service or assistance, and with each related recertification of address, or, in the case of an institution of higher education, with each registration of a student for enrollment in a course of study, each contributing agency shall inform the student of the right to register to vote, of the conditions under which the student is eligible to register to vote, of the consequences of false registration, and a statement that the individual should decline to register if the individual does not meet all those qualifications; and

(2) In General.—Unless that individual declines to register to vote, or is found ineligible to vote, the individual will be registered to vote or, if applicable, the individual’s registration will be updated.

(C) In the case of the State in which affiliation or enrollment with a political party is required in order to participate in an election for Federal office, the requirement that the individual must affiliate or enroll with a political party in order to participate in an election for Federal office, the requirement that the individual must affiliate or enroll with a political party in order to participate in an election for Federal office. to vote will in any way affect the availability of services or benefits, nor be used for other purposes.

(2) OPPORTUNITY TO DECLINE REGISTRATION REQUIREMENT.—Each contributing agency shall ensure that each application for service or assistance, and each related recertification, renewal, or change of address, or, in the case of an individual entering higher education, each registration of a student for enrollment in a course of study, cannot be completed until the individual is given the opportunity to decline to vote.

(3) INFORMATION TRANSMITTAL.—Upon the expiration of the 30-day period which begins on the date the contributing agency informs the individual of the information described in paragraph (1), each contributing agency shall electronically transmit to the appropriate State election official, in a format compatible with the statewide voter database maintained under section 303 of the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (2 U.S.C. 21083), the following information, unless during such 30-day period the individual declined to be registered:

(A) The individual's given name(s) and surname(s).

(B) The individual's date of birth.

(C) The individual's residential address.

(D) Information showing that the individual is a citizen of the United States.

(E) Any additional information pertaining to that individual was collected or last updated.

(F) If available, the individual's signature in electronic form.

(G) Information regarding the individual's affiliation or enrollment with a political party, if the individual provides such information.

(H) Any additional information listed in the mail voter registration application form for elections for Federal office prescribed pursuant to section 7 of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993, including any valid driver's license number or the last 4 digits of the individual's social security number, if the individual provided such information.

(4) PROCEDURE FOR CERTAIN CONTRIBUTING AGENCIES.—With each application for service or assistance, and with each related recertification, renewal, or change of address, any contributing agency that in the normal course of its operations does not request individuals applying for service or assistance to provide by direct designation by the individual the information described in subparagraph (A), the information described in subparagraph (B), the information described in subparagraph (C), the information described in subparagraph (D), or the information described in subparagraph (E), shall provide the information to the election official in accordance with section 1013(b)(3). For such a contributing agency, but only if the State election official in accordance with section 1013(b)(3) not later than the effective date described in section 1012(a), or later than 180 days after the effective date described in section 1012(a) (but who was not listed in a contributing agency's records as of the date of enactment of this Act), and for whom the agency has the information listed in section 1013(b)(3), the agency shall promptly transmit that information to the appropriate State election official in accordance with section 1013(b)(3) not later than 6 months after the effective date described in section 1012(a).

SEC. 1014. ONE-TIME CONTRIBUTING AGENCY ASSISTANCE IN REGISTRATION OF ELIGIBLE VOTERS IN EXISTING REGISTRATION SYSTEMS.

(1) INITIAL TRANSMITTAL OF INFORMATION.—For each individual already listed in a contributing agency's records as of the date of enactment of this Act, and for whom the agency has the information listed in section 1013(b)(3), the agency shall promptly transmit that information to the appropriate State election official in accordance with section 1013(b)(3) not later than 180 days after the effective date described in section 1012(a).

(2) PUBLICATION.—Not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act, each contributing agency shall publish on the public about voter registration under this part.

(a) PROTECTIONS FOR ERRORS IN REGISTRATION.—An individual shall not be prosecuted under any Federal or State law, adversely affected in any civil adjudication concerning immigration status or naturalization, or subject to an allegation in any legal proceeding that the individual is not a citizen of the United States or any of the following grounds:

(1) The individual notified an election official of the individual's automatic registration to vote under this part.

(2) The individual is not eligible to vote in elections for Federal office but was automatically registered to vote under this part.

(3) The individual was automatically registered to vote under this part at an incorrect address.

(4) The individual declined the opportunity to register to vote or did not decline an affirmation of citizenship, including through automatic registration, under this part.

(b) LIMITS ON USE OF AUTOMATIC REGISTRATION.—The ability to register an individual or the fact that an individual declined the opportunity to register to vote or did not make an affirmation of citizenship (including through automatic registration) under this part may not be used as evidence against that individual in any State or Federal legal proceeding, and an individual’s lack of knowledge or willfulness of such registration may be demonstrated by the individual’s testimony alone.

(c) Protection of Election Integrity.—Nothing in subsections (a) or (b) may be construed to prohibit or restrict any action under color of law against an individual who—

(1) knowingly and willfully makes a false statement to effectuate or perpetuate automatic voter registration by any individual; or

(2) casts a ballot knowingly and willfully in violation of State law or the laws of the United States.

(d) Contributing Agencies’ Protection of Information.—Nothing in this part authorizes a contributing agency to collect, retain, transmit, or publicly disclose any of the following:

(1) An individual’s decision to decline to register to vote or not to register to vote.

(2) An individual’s decision not to affirm his or her citizenship.

(3) Any information that a contributing agency, pursuant to section 3013(b)(3), except in pursuing the agency’s ordinary course of business.

(4) Election Officials’ Protection of Information.—Subject to subparagraph (B), with respect to any individual for whom any State election official receives information from a contributing agency, the State election officials shall not publicly disclose any of the following:

(i) The identity of the contributing agency.

(ii) Any information not necessary to voter registration.

(iii) Any voter information otherwise shielded from disclosure under State law or section 8(a) of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 (52 U.S.C. 20507(a)).

(iv) Any portion of the individual’s social security number.

(v) Any portion of the individual’s motor vehicle driver’s license number.

(vi) The individual’s signature.

(vii) The individual’s telephone number.

(viii) The individual’s email address.

(b) Special Rule for Individuals Registered With Respect to Any Individual for Whom Any State Election Official Receives Information From a Contributing Agency and Who, on the Basis of Such Information, Is Authorized to Vote in the State Under this Part, the State Election Officials Shall Not Publicly Disclose Any of the Following:

(i) The identity of the contributing agency.

(ii) Any information not necessary to voter registration.

(iii) Any voter information otherwise shielded from disclosure under State law or section 8(a) of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 (52 U.S.C. 20507(a)).

(iv) Any portion of the individual’s social security number.

(v) Any portion of the individual’s motor vehicle driver’s license number.

(vi) The individual’s signature.

(vii) The individual’s telephone number.

(viii) The individual’s email address.

(c) Notice to the Individual.—Each State shall maintain for at least 2 years and shall make available for public inspection (and, where available, photocopying at a reasonable charge in electronic form and through electronic methods, all records of changes to voter records, including removals, the reasons for removals, and updates.

(d) Changes to State Law.—The Director of the National Institute of Standards and Technology shall, after providing—the public with notice and the opportunity to comment—

(A) establish standards governing the comparison of data for voter registration list accuracy from a contributing agency, and the matching rules used, and how a State may use the data to determine and deem an individual ineligible under State law to vote in an election, or to deem a record to be a duplicate or outdated;

(B) ensure that the standards developed pursuant to paragraph (A) are uniform and nondiscriminatory and are applied in a uniform and nondiscriminatory manner; and

(C) not later than 45 days after the deadline for public notice and comment, publish the standards developed pursuant to this paragraph on the Director’s website and make those standards available in written form upon request.

(d) Security Policy.—The Director of the National Institute of Standards and Technology shall, after providing the public with notice and the opportunity to comment, publish privacy and security standards for voter registration information not later than 45 days after the deadline for public notice and comment. The standards shall require the chief State election official of each State to adopt a policy that shall specify—

(A) each class of users who shall have authorized access to the statewide voter registration list, specifying for each class the permission and levels of access to be granted, and setting forth safeguards to protect the privacy, security, and accuracy of the information on the list; and

(B) security safeguards to protect personal information transmitted through the information transmission processes of section 1013 or section 1014, the online system pursuant to section 1017, any telephone interface, the maintenance of the voter registration database, and any audit procedure to track access to the system.

(e) State Compliance with National Standards.—

(A) Certification.—The chief executive officer of the State shall annually file with the Election Assistance Commission a statement received—

(i) The National Institute of Standards and Technology that the State is in compliance with the standards referred to in paragraph (2) and (4). A State shall submit the previous sentence by filing with the Commission a statement which reads as follows: thereafter certifies that it is in compliance with the standards referred to in paragraphs (2) and (4) of section 1015(c) of the Automatic Voter Registration Act of 2015.” (with the blank to be filled in with the name of the State involved).

(B) Publication of Policies and Procedures.—The chief State election official of a State shall publish on the official’s website the policies and procedures established under this section, and shall make those policies and procedures available in written form upon public request.

(C) Pursuant to STANDARDS.—If a State does not timely file the certification required under this paragraph, it shall not receive any payment under this part for the fiscal year.

(D) Compliance of States that Require Changes to State Law.—In the case of a State that requires State legislation to carry out any standard established by any certification submitted under this paragraph, for a period of not more than 2 years the State shall be permitted to make the certification notwithstanding any provision of law that has not been enacted at the time the certification is submitted, and such State shall submit an additional certification once such legislation is enacted.

(f) Restrictions on Use of Information.—No person acting under color of law may discriminate against any individual or use for any purpose other than voter registration, election administration, or enforcement relating to election crimes, any of the following:

(1) Voter registration records.

(2) An individual’s declination to register to vote or complete an affirmation of citizenship under section 1013(b).

(3) An individual’s voter registration status.

(g) Disclosure on the Use of Voter Registration Information for Commercial Purposes.—Information collected under this part shall not be used for commercial purposes. Nothing in this subsection may be construed to prohibit the transmission, exchange, or dissemination of information for political purposes, including the support of campaigns for election for Federal, State, or local public office or the activities of political committees (including committees of political parties) under the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971.
section. In determining the amounts of the grants, the Commission shall give priority to providing funds for those activities which are most likely to accelerate compliance with this Act. In the case of an exempt State, which are most likely to enhance the ability of the State to automatically register individuals to vote throughout the territory of the State (serial or automatic voter registration program), including—

(1) investments supporting electronic information transfer, including electronic collection by means of transfer of signatures, between contributing agencies and the appropriate State election officials;

Subsection 1918c Voter Caging and Other Questions

SEC. 1201. VOTER CAGING AND OTHER QUESTIONABLE CHALLENGES PROHIBITED.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Chapter 29 of title 18, United States Code, as amended by section 1071(a), is amended by adding at the end the following:

“§ 613. Voter caging and other questionable challenges.

“(1) the term ‘voter caging document’ means—

“(A) a nonforwardable document that is returned to the sender or a third party as undelivered or deliverable despite an attempt to deliver such document to the address of a registered voter or applicant; or

“(B) any document with instructions to an addressee that the document be returned to the sender or a third party but is not so returned, despite an attempt to deliver such document to the address of a registered voter or applicant, unless at least two Federal election cycles have passed since the date of the attempted delivery;

“(2) the term ‘voter caging list’ means a list or record compiled from voter caging documents; and

“(3) the term ‘unverified match list’ means a list or record compiled from information of registered voters or applicants for voter registration to a list of individuals who are ineligible to vote in the registrars’ jurisdiction, by virtue of death, conviction, change of address, or otherwise; unless one of the pieces of information matched includes a signature, photograph, or other unique identifying number ensuring that the information from each source refers to the same individual.

“(b) Prohibition Against Voter Caging.—No State or local election official shall prevent an individual from registering or voting in any election for Federal office, or permit in connection with any election for Federal office in a normal State law, to an individual’s registration status or eligibility to vote, if the basis for such decision is evidence concerning—

“(1) a voter caging document or voter caging list;

“(2) an unverified match list;

“(3) an error or omission on any record or paper relating to any application, registration, or other act requisite to voting, if such error or omission is material to an individual’s eligibility to vote under section 2004 of the Revised Statutes, as amended (52 U.S.C. 10101(a)(2)(B)); or

“(4) any other information so designated for purposes of this section by the Election Assistance Commission, except that the election official may use such evidence if it is corroborated by independent evidence of the individual’s illegibility to register or vote.

“(c) Requirements for Challenges by Persons Other Than Election Officials.—

“(1) Requirements for Challenges.—No person other than a State or local election official shall submit a formal challenge to the eligibility of one or more individuals to register or vote in an election for Federal office unless that challenge is supported by personal knowledge regarding the grounds for ineligibility with a good faith factual basis for purposes of this paragraph.

“(2) Prohibition on Challenges on or Near Date of Election.—No person, other than a State or local election official, shall be permitted—

“(A) to challenge an individual’s eligibility to vote in an election for Federal office on Election Day, or

“(B) to challenge an individual’s eligibility to register to vote in an election for Federal office on an election day less than 10 days before the election unless the individual registered to vote less than 20 days before the election.

“(d) Penalties for Knowing Misconduct.—Whoever knowingly challenges the eligibility of one or more individuals to register or vote or knowingly causes the eligibility of such individuals to be challenged in violation of this section with the intent that such or more eligible voters be disqualified, shall be fined under this title or imprisoned not more than 1 year, or both, for each such violation. Each violation shall be a separate offense.

“(e) No Effect on Related Laws.—Nothing in this section is intended to override the protections of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 (52 U.S.C. 20501 et seq.) or to affect the Voting Rights Act of 1965 (52 U.S.C. 1973 et seq.).

“(b) Clerical Amendment.—The table of sections for chapter 29 of title 18, United States Code, as amended by section 1071(b), is amended by adding at the end the following:

“§ 613. Voter caging and other questionable challenges.”.

SEC. 1202. DEVELOPMENT AND ADOPTION OF BEST PRACTICES FOR PREVENTING VOTER CAGING.

(a) BEST PRACTICES.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Election Assistance Commission shall develop and publish for the use of States recommendations for best practices to prevent and deter violations of section 613 of title 18, United States Code, as added by section 1201(a), including practices to provide for the posting of relevant information at polling places and voter registration agencies, the training of poll workers and election officials, and relevant educational materials. For purposes of the purpose, the term “State” includes the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, Guam, American Samoa, the United States Virgin Islands, and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands.

(b) INCLUSION IN VOTING INFORMATION REQUIRED.

(1) by striking “and” at the end of subparagraph (F);
(2) by striking the period at the end of paragraph (G) and inserting ‘‘; and’’; and (3) by adding at the end the following new subparagraph: ‘‘(H) Information relating to the prohibition against voter caging and other questionable challenges (as set forth in section 613 of title 18, United States Code), including information about how individuals may report allegations of violations of such prohibition.’’.

Subtitle D—Prohibiting Deceptive Practices and Preventing Voter Intimidation

SEC. 1301. SHORT TITLE. This subtitle may be cited as the ‘‘Deceptive Practices and Voter Intimidation Prevention Act of 2019’’.

‘‘(4) HINDERING, INTERFERING WITH, OR PREVENTING VOTING OR RegisterING TO VOTE.—No person, whether acting under color of law or otherwise, shall intentionally hinder, interfere with, or prevent another person from voting, registering to vote, or aiding or abetting another person to vote or to register to vote in an election described in paragraph (5).‘‘

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.— (1) In General.—Subsection (c) of section 2004 of the Revised Statutes (52 U.S.C. 10101(c)) is amended— (A) by striking ‘‘Whenever any person’’ and inserting the following: ‘‘(1) Whenever any person; and (B) by adding at the end the following new paragraph: ‘‘(2) Any person aggrieved by a violation of subsection (b)(2), (b)(3), or (b)(4) may institute a civil action for preventive relief, including an appointment in a United States district court or in the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia for a permanent or temporary injunction, restraining order, or other order. In any such action, including any appeal in its discretion, may allow the prevailing party a reasonable attorney’s fee as part of the costs.’’. (2) CRIMINAL PENALTIES.— (A) PROHIBITION.—It shall be unlawful for any person, whether acting under color of law or otherwise, within 60 days before an election described in section (e), by any means, including by means of written, electronic, or telephonic communications, to communicate or cause to be communicated information described in subparagraph (B), or produce information described in subparagraph (B) with the intent that such information be communicated, if such person— (i) knows such information to be materially false; or (ii) has the intent to mislead voters, or have not taken adequate steps to promptly communicate accurate information to correct the materially false information, the Attorney General shall, pursuant to the written procedures and standards under subsection (b), communicate to the public, by any means, including by means of written, electronic, or telephonic communications, accurate information designed to correct the materially false information. (B) INFORMATION DESCRIBED.—Information is described in this subparagraph if such information is regarding— (i) the time, place, or manner of holding any election described in section (e); or (ii) the qualifications for or restrictions on voter eligibility for any such election, including— (I) any criminal penalties associated with voting in any such election; or (II) information regarding a voter’s registration status.

SEC. 1303. CORRECTIVE ACTION.

(a) CORRECTIVE ACTION.— (1) IN GENERAL.—If the Attorney General receives a credible report that materially false information has been or is being communicated in violation of paragraphs (2) and (3) of section 2004(b) of the Revised Statutes (52 U.S.C. 10101(b)), as added by section 1302(a), and if the Attorney General determines that State and local election officials have not taken adequate steps to promptly communicate accurate information to correct the materially false information, the Attorney General shall, pursuant to the written procedures and standards under subsection (b), communicate to the public, by any means, including by means of written, electronic, or telephonic communications, accurate information designed to correct the materially false information. (2) COMMUNICATION OF CORRECTIVE INFORMATION.—Information described in subparagraphs (A) and (B) of paragraph (1) shall be fined not more than $100,000, imprisoned for not more than 5 years, or both.

(c) PENALTY.—Any person who violates paragraph (1) shall be fined not more than $100,000, imprisoned for not more than 5 years, or both.

‘‘(d) ATTEMPT.—Any person who attempts to commit any offense described in subsection (a), (b)(1), or (c)(1) shall be subject to the same penalties as those prescribed for the offense that the person attempted to commit.

‘‘(e) ELECTION DESCRIBED.—An election described in this subsection is any general, primary, run-off, or special election held solely or in part for the purpose of nominating or electing a candidate for the office of President, Vice President, presidential elector, Member of the House of Representatives, or Delegate or Commissioner from a Territory or possession.’’.

(2) MODIFICATION OF PENALTY FOR VOTER INTIMIDATION.—Section 594(a) of title 18, United States Code, as amended by section 1301(a), is amended by striking ‘‘fined under this title or imprisoned not more than one year’’ and inserting ‘‘fined not more than $100,000, imprisoned for not more than 5 years’’.

(3) SENTENCING GUIDELINES.— (A) REVIEW AND AMENDMENT.—Not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the United States Sentencing Commission, pursuant to its authority under section 994 of title 28, United States Code, and in accordance with this section, shall review and, if appropriate, amend the Federal sentencing guidelines and policy statements applicable to persons convicted of any offense under section 594 of title 18, United States Code, as amended by this section.

(B) AUTHORIZATION.—The United States Sentencing Commission may amend the Federal Sentencing Guidelines in accordance with the procedures set forth in section 21(a) of the Sentencing Act of 1987 (28 U.S.C. 994 note) as though the authority under that section had not expired.

(4) PAYMENTS FOR REFRAINING FROM VOTING.—Subsection (c) of section 11 of the Voting Rights Act of 1965 (52 U.S.C. 10607) is amended by striking ‘‘and voting, or for not voting”’.

SEC. 1304. CORRECTIVE ACTION.

(a) CORRECTIVE ACTION.— (1) IN GENERAL.—If the Attorney General receives a credible report that materially false information has been or is being communicated in violation of paragraphs (2) and (3) of section 2004(b) of the Revised Statutes (52 U.S.C. 10101(b)), as added by section 1302(a), and if the Attorney General determines that State and local election officials have not taken adequate steps to promptly communicate accurate information to correct the materially false information, the Attorney General shall, pursuant to the written procedures and standards under subsection (b), communicate to the public, by any means, including by means of written, electronic, or telephonic communications, accurate information designed to correct the materially false information.
(1) be accurate and objective;
(2) consist of only the information necessary to correct the materially false information that has been or is being communicated; and
(3) to the extent practicable, be by a means that the Attorney General determines will reach the persons to whom the materially false information has been or is being communicated; and
(B) shall not be designed to favor or disfavor any particular candidate, organization, or political party.

(b) WRITTEN PROCEDURES AND STANDARDS FOR TAKING CORRECTIVE ACTION.—
(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Attorney General shall publish written procedures and standards for determining when and how corrective action will be taken under this section.

(2) INCLUSION OF APPROPRIATE DEADLINES.—
The procedures and standards under paragraph (1) shall include appropriate deadlines, based in part on the number of days remaining before the upcoming election.

(3) CONSULTATION.—In developing the procedures and standards under paragraph (1), the Attorney General shall consult with the Election Assistance Commission, State and local election officials, civil rights organizations, voting rights groups, voter protection groups, and other interested community organizations.

(c) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—
There are authorized to be appropriated to the Attorney General such sums as may be necessary to carry out this subtitle.

SEC. 1408. EFFECTIVE DATE.
This subtitle shall apply to citizens of the United States voting in any election for Federal office held after the date of the enactment of this Act.

Subtitle F—Promoting Accuracy, Integrity, and Security Through Voter-Verified Permanent Paper Ballot

SEC. 1501. SHORT TITLE.
This subtitle may be cited as the “Voter Confidence and Increased Accessibility Act of 2019.”

SEC. 1502. PAPER BALLOT AND MANUAL COUNTING REQUIREMENTS.
(a) In General.—Section 301(a)(2) of the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (52 U.S.C. 2001la(a)(2)) is amended to read as follows:

“(2) PAPER BALLOT REQUIREMENT.—
(A) VOTER-VERIFIED PAPER BALLOTS.—
(I) BALLOT REQUIREMENT.—(I) The voting system shall require the use of an individual, durable, voter-verified paper ballot of the voter's choice that shall be marked and counted by hand; and
(II) COUNTING AND VERIFICATION.—By the voter before the voter's vote is cast and counted, and which shall be counted by hand or read by an optical character reader or other counting device. For purposes of this subclause, the term ‘individual, durable, voter-verified paper ballot’ means a paper ballot marked by the voter; a paper ballot marked through the use of a nontabulating ballot marking device or system, so long as the voter shall have the option to mark his or her ballot by hand.

(II) THE VOTING SYSTEM.—The voting system shall provide the voter with an opportunity to verify their accuracy on the paper ballot before the permanent paper ballot is preserved in accordance with clause (i).

(III) THE VOTING SYSTEM.—The voting system shall not preserve the voter-verified paper ballots in any manner that is not available, and the time the ballot has been cast, to associate a voter with the record of the voter's vote without the voter's consent.

(b) CERTIFICATION AS OFFICIAL RECORD.—The individual, durable, voter-verified paper ballot used in accordance with clause (i) shall constitute the official ballot and shall be preserved as the official ballot for purposes of any recount or audit conducted with respect to any election for Federal office in which the voting system is used.

(c) MANUAL COUNTING REQUIREMENTS FOR RECOUNTS AND AUDITS.—(1) Each paper ballot used pursuant to clause (i) shall be suitable for a manual audit, and shall be counted by hand in any recount or audit conducted with respect to any election for Federal office.

SEC. 1503. ACCESSIBILITY AND BALLOT VERIFICATION FOR INDIVIDUALS WITH DISABILITIES.
(a) In General.—Section 301(a)(3)(B) of the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (52 U.S.C. 2001la(a)(3)(B)) is amended to read as follows:

“(B) SPECIAL RULE FOR TREATMENT OF DISPUTES WHEN PAPER BALLOTS HAVE BEEN SHOWN TO BE COMPROMISED.

“(1) IN GENERAL.—In the event that—

“(I) there is any inconsistency between any electronic vote tallies and the vote tallies determined by counting by hand the individual, durable, voter-verified paper ballots shall be the true and correct record of the voting system, and

“(II) it is demonstrated by clear and convincing evidence (as determined in accordance with the applicable standards in the jurisdiction involved) in any recount, audit, or contest the result of the election that the paper ballots have been compromised (by damage or mischief or otherwise) and that a sufficient number of the ballots have been so compromised that the result of the election could be changed.

“(2) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of clause (1), the paper ballots deemed compromised, if any, shall be considered in the determination of the appropriate remedy in accordance with applicable State law, except that the electronic tally shall not be used as the exclusive basis for determining the official certified result.

“(3) RULE FOR CONSIDERATION OF BALLOTS ASSOCIATED WITH EACH VOTING MACHINE.—For purposes of clause (1), only the paper ballots deemed compromised, if any, shall be considered in the determination of the appropriate remedy.

“(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT CLARIFYING VOTER ACCESSIBILITY.—Section 301(a)(4) of such Act (52 U.S.C. 2001la(a)(4)) is amended—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Section 301(a)(4)(A) and paragraph (2)(A) by using a system that—

“(I) allows the voter to privately and independently verify and cast the permanent paper ballot through the presentation, in accessible form, of the printed or marked vote selections from the same printed or marked information that would be used for any vote counting or auditing; and

“(II) allows the voter to manually handle the paper ballot;

“(2) APPLICABILITY OF ALTERNATIVE LANGUAGE ACCESSIBILITY.—Section 301(a)(4) of such Act (52 U.S.C. 2001la(a)(4)) is amended—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—Section 301(a)(4)(A) and paragraph (2)(A) by inserting ‘counted’ and inserting ‘counted, in accordance with applicable State law, except in election that would be used for any vote counting or auditing; and

“(B) SPECIAL RULE FOR TREATMENT OF DISPUTES WHEN PAPER BALLOTS HAVE BEEN SHOWN TO BE COMPROMISED.

“(1) IN GENERAL.—In the event that—

“(I) there is any inconsistency between any electronic vote tallies and the vote tallies determined by counting by hand the individual, durable, voter-verified paper ballots shall be the true and correct record of the voting system, and

“(II) it is demonstrated by clear and convincing evidence (as determined in accordance with the applicable standards in the jurisdiction involved) in any recount, audit, or contest the result of the election that the paper ballots have been compromised (by damage or mischief or otherwise) and that a sufficient number of the ballots have been so compromised that the result of the election could be changed.

“(2) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of clause (1), the paper ballots deemed compromised, if any, shall be considered in the determination of the appropriate remedy in accordance with applicable State law, except that the electronic tally shall not be used as the exclusive basis for determining the official certified result.

“(3) RULE FOR CONSIDERATION OF BALLOTS ASSOCIATED WITH EACH VOTING MACHINE.—For purposes of clause (1), only the paper ballots deemed compromised, if any, shall be considered in the determination of the appropriate remedy.

“(c) CONFORMING AMENDMENT CLARIFYING VOTER ACCESSIBILITY.—Section 301(a)(4)(A) and paragraph (2)(A) by inserting ‘counted’ and inserting ‘counted, in accordance with applicable State law, except in election that would be used for any vote counting or auditing; and

“(d) APPLICABILITY OF ALTERNATIVE LANGUAGE ACCESSIBILITY.—Section 301(a)(4)(A) and paragraph (2)(A) by inserting ‘counted’ and inserting ‘counted, in accordance with applicable State law, except in election that would be used for any vote counting or auditing; and

“(3) IN GENERAL.—In the event that—

“(I) there is any inconsistency between any electronic vote tallies and the vote tallies determined by counting by hand the individual, durable, voter-verified paper ballots shall be the true and correct record of the voting system, and

“(II) it is demonstrated by clear and convincing evidence (as determined in accordance with the applicable standards in the jurisdiction involved) in any recount, audit, or contest the result of the election that the paper ballots have been compromised (by damage or mischief or otherwise) and that a sufficient number of the ballots have been so compromised that the result of the election could be changed.

“(3) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of clause (1), only the paper ballots deemed compromised, if any, shall be considered in the determination of the appropriate remedy.

“SEC. 247. STUDY AND REPORT ON ACCESSIBLE PAPER BALLOT VERIFICATION MECHANISMS.
“(a) STUDY AND REPORT.—The Director of the National Science Foundation shall make grants to not fewer than 3 entities to study, test, and develop accessible paper ballots, verification mechanisms and enhanced mechanisms and devices and best practices to enhance the accessibility of paper ballot voting systems for individuals with disabilities, for voters whose primary language is not English, and for voters with difficulties in literacy, including best practices for the mechanisms, their use, and the processes through which the mechanisms are used.

“(3) ELIGIBILITY.—An entity is eligible to receive a grant under this part if it submits to the Director (at such time and in such form as the Director may require) an application containing—

“(I) certifications that the entity shall specifically investigate enhanced methods or devices, including non-electronic devices, that assist such individuals and voters in marking voter-verified paper ballots and presenting or transmitting the information printed or marked on such ballots back to such individuals and voters, and casting such ballots;

“(2) a certification that the entity shall complete the activities carried out with the grant not later than December 31, 2020; and

“(3) such other information and certifications as the Director may require.

“(b) AVAILABLE TECHNOLOGY.—Any technology developed with the grants made under this section shall be treated as nonproprietary and shall be made available to the public, including to manufacturers of voting systems.

“(c) COORDINATION WITH GRANTS FOR TECHNOLOGY IMPROVEMENTS.—The Director shall carry out this section in coordination with the grants carried out with the grants made under subsection (a) are coordinated with the research conducted under the grant program carried out under the Commission under section 271, to the extent that the Director and Commission determine necessary to provide for the advancement of accessible voting technology.

“(d) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There is authorized to be appropriated to carry out subsection (a) $5,000,000, to remain available until expended.''.

(2) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of contents of such Act is amended by striking paragraph (2) and inserting after it the following new paragraph:

SEC. 1705. REVISIONS TO 45-DAY ABSENTEE BALLOT TRANSMISSION RULE.

(a) REPEAL OF WAIVER AUTHORITY.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Section 104 of the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act (52 U.S.C. 20306) is amended by striking subsection (g), and by redesignating subsection (h) as subsection (g).

(2) EFFECTIVE DATE.—This subsection applies on the date of the enactment of this Act.

(b) EXCEPTION FOR VOTERS CHANGING REGISTRATION.—Section 105 of such Act (52 U.S.C. 20308) is amended by inserting after subsection (a) the following new subsection:

"(b) EXCEPTION TO VOTER REGISTRATION REQUIREMENT.—If a voter has registered to vote in another State or is otherwise no longer eligible to vote in the State, the State shall provide an absentee ballot to the voter for each such subsequent election.

(c) PROHIBITION OF REFUSAL OF APPLICANT ON GROUNDS OF EARLY SUBMISSION.—A State may not refuse to accept or to process, with respect to any election for Federal office, any otherwise valid voter registration application or absentee ballot application (including the postcard form prescribed under section 101) submitted by an absent uniformed services voter or overseas voter on the grounds that the voter submitted the application before the first date on which the voter otherwise would be a qualified elector.

SEC. 1801. GRANTS TO STATES FOR POLL WORKER RECRUITMENT AND TRAINING.

(a) GRANTS BY ELECTION ASSISTANCE COMMISSION.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Election Assistance Commission (hereafter referred to as the "Commission") shall make available appropriations to each eligible State to pay for the recruitment and training of individuals to serve as poll workers on dates of elections for public office.

(b) CONTENTS OF APPLICATION.—In carrying out activities with a grant provided under subsection (a), a State shall use the manuals prepared by the Commission on successful practices for poll worker recruiting, training, and retention as an interactive training tool, and shall develop training programs with the participation and input of experts in adult learning.

(c) REQUIREMENTS FOR ELIGIBILITY.—(1) APPLICATION.—Each eligible State desiring to receive a payment under this section shall submit an application for the payment to the Commission at such time and in such manner and containing such information as the Commission shall require.

(2) CONTENTS OF APPLICATION.—Each application submitted under paragraph (1) shall—

(A) describe the activities for which assistance under this section is sought;

(B) provide assurances that the funds provided under this section will be used to support the recruitment and training of individuals to serve as poll workers after recruitment and training with the funds provided under this section; and

(C) provide assurances that the State will furnish the Commission with information on the number of individuals who served as poll workers after recruitment and training with the funds provided under this section; and
(D) provide such additional information and certifications as the Commission determines to be essential to ensure compliance with the requirements of this section.

(2) In general.—The amount of a grant made to a State under this section shall be equal to:

(A) the aggregate amount made available for grants to States under this section; and

(B) the voting age population percentage for that State.

(2) VOTING AGE POPULATION PERCENTAGE DEFINED.—In paragraph (1), the ‘‘voting age population percentage’’ for a State is the quotient of—

(A) the voting age population of the State (as determined on the basis of the most recent information available from the Bureau of the Census); and

(B) the total voting age population of all States (as determined on the basis of the most recent information available from the Bureau of the Census).

(d) Reports to Congress.—

(1) Reports by recipients of grants.—Not later than 6 months after the date on which the final grant is made under this section, each recipient of a grant shall submit a report to the Commission on the activities conducted with the funds provided by the grant.

(2) Reports by commission.—Not later than 1 year after the date on which the final grant is made under this section, the Commission shall submit a report to Congress on the grants made under this section and the activities carried out by recipients of the grants, and shall include in the report such recommendations as the Commission considers appropriate.

(e) Funding.—

(1) Continuing availability of amount appropriated.—Any amount appropriated to carry out this section shall remain available without fiscal year limitation until expended.

(2) Administrative expenses.—Of the amount appropriated for any fiscal year to carry out this section, not more than 3 percent shall be available for administrative expenses of the Commission.

SEC. 1802. STATE DEFINED.

(iii) The political party with which the individual is affiliated, if any.

(iv) The reason or reasons the individual desires to serve on the independent redistricting commission, the individual's qualifications, and information relevant to the ability of the individual to be fair and impartial, including, but not limited to, the individual's financial support of, professional, social, political, religious, or community organizations or causes; and

(v) The individual's employment and educational history.

(vi) An assurance that the individual shall serve the individual's duties under this subtitle in an honest, independent, and impartial fashion, and to upholding public confidence in the integrity of the redistricting process.

(vii) An assurance that, during the covered periods described in paragraph (3), the individual has not taken and will not take any action which would disqualify the individual from serving as a member of the commission under paragraph (2).

(B) DISQUALIFICATIONS.—An individual is not eligible to serve as a member of the commission if any of the following applies during any of the covered periods described in paragraph (3):

(A) The individual or (in the case of the covered periods described in subparagraphs (A) and (B) of paragraph (3)) an immediate family member of the individual holds public office or is a candidate for election for public office.

(B) The individual or (in the case of the covered periods described in subparagraphs (A) and (B) of paragraph (3)) an immediate family member of the individual serves as an officer of a political party or as an officer, employee, or paid consultant of a campaign committee of a candidate for public office or of any political action committee as determined in accordance with the law of the State.

(C) The individual or (in the case of the covered periods described in subparagraphs (A) and (B) of paragraph (3)) an immediate family member of the individual is an employee of an elected public official, a contractor with the government of the State, or a donor to the campaign of any candidate for public office or to any political action committee as determined in accordance with the law of the State.

(3) COVERED PERIODS DESCRIBED.—In this subsection, the term “covered period” means, with respect to the appointment of an individual to the commission, any of the following:

(A) The 10-year period ending on the date of the individual's appointment.

(B) The period beginning on the date of the individual's appointment and ending on August 14 of the next year ending in the numerical one.

(C) The 10-year period beginning on the day after the last day of the period described in subparagraph (B) for the individual's family member defined.

(i) The term “immediate family member” means, with respect to an individual, a mother, father, son, stepmother, stepfather, daughter, stepdaughter, brother, stepbrother, sister, stepsister, husband, wife, father-in-law, or mother-in-law.

(ii) DEVELOPMENT AND SUBMISSION OF SELECTION POOL.—(1) In General.—Not later than June 15 of each year ending in the numeral zero, the nonpartisan agency established or designated by a State under section 2414(a) shall develop and submit to the Select Committee on Redistricting for the State, or the nonpartisan agency in developing the selection pool under section 2414(b), after consultation with the members of a minority category, consisting of 12 individuals who are affiliated with the political party whose candidate received the most votes in the most recent statewide election for Federal office held in the State.

(B) A minority category, consisting of 12 individuals who are affiliated with the political party whose candidate received the second most votes in the most recent statewide election for Federal office held in the State.

(C) An independent category, consisting of 12 individuals who are not affiliated with either of the political parties described in subparagraph (A) or subparagraph (B).

(3) INTERVIEWS OF APPLICANTS.—To assist the nonpartisan agency in developing the selection pool under this subsection, the nonpartisan agency shall conduct interviews of applicants under oath. If an individual is included in a selection pool developed under this section, all of the interviews of the individual shall be transcribed and the transcriptions made available on the nonpartisan agency’s website contemporaneously with releasing the report under paragraph (6).

(4) DETERMINATION OF POLITICAL PARTY AFFILIATION OF INDIVIDUALS IN SELECTION POOL.—For purposes of this section, an individual shall be considered affiliated with a political party only if the nonpartisan agency is able to verify (to the greatest extent possible) the information the individual provided in the application under section 2414(a)(1)(D), including by considering additional information provided by other persons with knowledge of the individual’s history of political activity.

(5) ENCOURAGING RESIDENTS TO APPLY FOR INCLUSION IN POOL.—The nonpartisan agency shall either or both of the following:—

(A) PROVIDE PUBLICITY IN RELATION TO THE REDISTRICTING.—The nonpartisan agency shall use available resources to publicize the redistricting plan development process, including the online availability of the redistricting plan development database and of the redistricting plan itself.

(B) ENCOURAGE APPLICATIONS.—The nonpartisan agency shall use available resources to encourage applications to serve on the redistricting commission, including the development of a website to provide information about the redistricting process and the work of the commission.

(6) DEVELOPMENT OF SECOND REPLACEMENT SELECTION POOL.—At the time the nonpartisan agency submits the selection pool to the Select Committee on Redistricting under paragraph (1), it shall develop and submit to the Select Committee on Redistricting immediately after the expiration of such 14 days a second replacement selection pool.

(7) PUBLIC COMMENT ON SELECTION POOL.—During the 14-day period which begins on the date the nonpartisan agency publishes the report under paragraph (6), the agency shall accept comments from the public on the individuals included in the selection pool. A copy of all such comments and any accompanying submittal shall be available to the public on the agency’s public website a report describing the process by which the pool was developed, and shall include in the report a description of how the individuals in the pool meet the eligibility criteria of subsections (a) and (b) of section 2411(a)(1) and not later than 21 days after receiving the replacement selection pool.

(8) ACTION BY SELECT COMMITTEE.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Not earlier than 15 days and not later than 30 days after receiving the selection pool submitted under paragraph (1), the Select Committee on Redistricting shall—

(i) approve the pool as submitted by the nonpartisan agency, in which case the pool shall be considered the approved selection pool for purposes of section 2411(a)(1); or

(ii) reject the pool, in which case the nonpartisan agency shall develop and submit a second replacement selection pool in accordance with subsection (d).

(B) INACTION DEEMED REJECTION.—If the Select Committee on Redistricting fails to approve or reject the pool within the deadline set forth in subparagraph (A), the Select Committee shall be deemed to have rejected the pool and the selection pool under subsection (c), so long as at least one of the individuals in the replacement selection pool was not included in such rejected pool.

(C) EFFECT OF REJECTION.—If the Select Committee on Redistricting rejects the second replacement selection pool from the nonpartisan agency under paragraph (1), the Select Committee on Redistricting shall—

(i) approve the pool as submitted by the nonpartisan agency, in which case the pool shall be the approved selection pool for purposes of section 2411(a)(1); or

(ii) reject the pool, in which case the nonpartisan agency shall develop and submit a third replacement selection pool in accordance with subsection (d).

SEC. 2413. CRITERIA FOR REDISTRICTING PLAN BY INDEPENDENT COMMISSION; REPORT ON ESTABLISHMENT OF SELECTION POOL

(a) DEVELOPMENT OF REDISTRICTING PLAN.—

(1) CRITERIA.—In developing a redistricting plan of a State, the independent redistricting commission shall designate single-member congressional districts using the following criteria as set forth in the following order of priority:

(A) Districts shall comply with the United States Constitution, including the requirement that they equalize population.

(B) Districts shall comply with the Voting Rights Act of 1965 (52 U.S.C. 10301 et seq.) and all applicable Federal laws.

(C) Districts shall provide racial, ethnic, and language minorities with an equal opportunity to participate in the political process and to elect candidates of choice and shall not dilute or diminish their ability to elect candidates of choice whether alone or in coalitions.

(D) Districts shall respect communities of interest, neighborhoods, and political subdivisions to the extent practicable and after compliance with paragraphs (A) through (C). A community of interest is defined as an area with recognized similarities of interests, including but not limited to geographic, social, cultural, geographic or historic identities. The term communities of interest may, in certain circumstances, include political subdivisions such as counties, municipalities, or school districts, but shall not include common relationships with political parties or political candidates.

(2) NO FAVORING OR DISFAVORING OF POLITICAL PARTIES.—Except as may be required to meet the criteria described in paragraph (1), the redistricting plan developed by the independent redistricting commission shall not, when considered on a Statewide basis, un- duly favor or disfavor any political party.

(b) PUBLIC NOTICE AND OPPORTUNITY TO COMMENT.—In developing the redistricting plan for the State, the independent redistricting commission shall notify the public of the commission’s activities, including all communications to or from members, including contact information.

(d) DEVELOPMENT OF SECOND REPLACEMENT SELECTION POOL.—

(1) GENERAL.—If the Select Committee on Redistricting rejects the replacement selection pool submitted by the nonpartisan agency under paragraph (1), the Select Committee on Redistricting shall—

(i) approve the pool as submitted by the nonpartisan agency, in which case the pool shall be the approved selection pool for purposes of section 2411(a)(1); or

(ii) reject the pool, in which case the nonpartisan agency shall develop and submit a second replacement selection pool in accordance with section 2411(a)(1) and not later than 21 days after receiving the replacement selection pool.

(2) ACTION BY SELECT COMMITTEE.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Not earlier than 15 days and not later than 30 days after receiving the selection pool submitted under subsection (b) or the second replacement selection pool submitted under subsection (c), the Select Committee on Redistricting shall—

(i) approve the pool as submitted by the nonpartisan agency, in which case the pool shall be the approved selection pool for purposes of section 2411(a)(1); or

(ii) reject the pool, in which case the nonpartisan agency shall develop and submit a third replacement selection pool in accordance with section 2411(a)(1).

(B) INACTION DEEMED REJECTION.—If the Select Committee on Redistricting fails to approve or reject the pool within the deadline set forth in subparagraph (A), the Select Committee shall be deemed to have rejected the pool and the selection pool under subsection (c), so long as at least one of the individuals in the replacement selection pool was not included in such rejected pool.

(C) EFFECT OF REJECTION.—If the Select Committee on Redistricting rejects the second replacement selection pool from the nonpartisan agency under paragraph (1), the Select Committee on Redistricting shall—

(i) approve the pool as submitted by the nonpartisan agency, in which case the pool shall be the approved selection pool for purposes of section 2411(a)(1); or

(ii) reject the pool, in which case the nonpartisan agency shall develop and submit a fourth replacement selection pool in accordance with section 2411(a)(1).

(d) DEVELOPMENT OF THIRD REPLACEMENT SELECTION POOL.—At the time the nonpartisan agency submits the selection pool to the Select Committee on Redistricting under paragraph (1), it shall develop and submit to the Select Committee on Redistricting immediately after the expiration of such 14 days a third replacement selection pool.

(2) ACTION BY SELECT COMMITTEE.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Not earlier than 15 days and not later than 30 days after receiving the selection pool submitted under subsection (b) or the second replacement selection pool submitted under subsection (c), the Select Committee on Redistricting shall—

(i) approve the pool as submitted by the nonpartisan agency, in which case the pool shall be the approved selection pool for purposes of section 2411(a)(1); or

(ii) reject the pool, in which case the nonpartisan agency shall develop and submit a fourth replacement selection pool in accordance with section 2411(a)(1) and not later than 21 days after receiving the replacement selection pool.
submitted by individuals included in any section pool, except that the commission may redact from such applications any financial or other personally sensitive information.

(B) SEARCHABLE FORMAT.—The commission shall ensure that all information posted and maintained on the site under this paragraph, including information and proposals submitted by the public, shall be maintained in an easily searchable format.

(C) DEADLINE.—The commission shall ensure that the information posted and maintained on the site under this paragraph is operational (in at least a preliminary format) not later than January 1 of the year ending in the numeral one.

(2) PUBLIC COMMENT PERIOD.—The commission shall solicit, accept, and consider comments from the public with respect to its duties, objectives, and procedures at any time during the period:

(A) which begins on January 1 of the year ending in the numeral one; and

(B) which ends 7 days before the date of the meeting at which the commission shall vote on approving the final redistricting plan for enactment into law under subsection (c)(2).

(3) MINIMUM DETAILED ANALYSIS PERIOD.—Not less than 7 days prior to the date of each hearing held under this paragraph, the commission shall provide the members of the commission with a detailed analysis regarding the potential contents of redistricting plans for the State and the process by which the commission will develop the redistricting plan under this subsection.

(B) MINIMUM PERIOD FOR NOTICE PRIOR TO HEARINGS.—Not fewer than 14 days prior to the date of each hearing held under this paragraph, the commission shall post notices of the hearing in on the website maintained under subsection (b)(2), and shall provide for the publication of such notices in newspapers of general circulation throughout the State. Each such notice shall specify the date, time, and location of the hearing.

(C) SUBMISSION OF PLANS AND MAPPINGS.—Not fewer than 14 days prior to the date of each hearing held under this paragraph, the commission shall provide the members of the commission with a preliminary redistricting plan for the State under this subsection.

(A) IN GENERAL.—The commission shall post the preliminary redistricting plan developed under this subsection, together with a report explaining the commission’s reasons for selecting the plan as the final redistricting plan, including responses to any public comments received under subsection (b)(1), on the website maintained under subsection (b)(2), and shall provide for the publication of such notice in newspapers of general circulation throughout the State.

(B) MINIMUM PERIOD FOR NOTICE PRIOR TO PUBLICATION.—Not fewer than 14 days prior to the date on which the commission posts and publishes the preliminary plan under this paragraph, the commission shall notify the public through the website maintained under subsection (b)(2), as well as through publication of notice in newspapers of general circulation throughout the State, of the pending publication of the plan.

(C) SEARCHABLE COPY.—The commission shall search the website maintained under subsection (b)(2), and shall provide for the publication of such notices in newspapers of general circulation throughout the State, of the pending publication of the plan.

(4) PROCESS FOR ENACTMENT OF FINAL REDISTRICTING PLAN.—(1) IN GENERAL.—Prior to developing and publishing the preliminary redistricting plan under this paragraph, the commission shall hold not fewer than 3 public hearings at which the members of the commission shall provide for the publication of such notices in newspapers of general circulation throughout the State.

(A) 3 HEARINGS REQUIRED.—After posting and publishing the preliminary redistricting plan under paragraph (3), the commission shall hold not fewer than 3 public hearings at which the members of the commission may provide input and comments regarding the preliminary plan.

(B) MINIMUM PERIOD FOR NOTICE PRIOR TO HEARINGS.—Not fewer than 14 days prior to the date of each hearing held under this paragraph, the commission shall provide the public through the website maintained under subsection (b)(2), as well as through publication of notice in newspapers of general circulation throughout the State.

(C) REGULATIONS.—The nonpartisan agency established or designated under this subsection shall provide the members of the commission with a written evaluation that the agency’s report on the criteria set for the nonpartisan agency under this subsection shall be considered to be nonpartisan if under law the agency—

(A) is required to provide services on a nonpartisan basis;

(B) is required to maintain impartiality; and

(C) is prohibited from advocating for the adoption or rejection of any legislative proposal.

(3) TRAINING OF MEMBERS APPOINTED TO COMMISSION.—Not later than January 15 of a year ending in the numeral one, the nonpartisan agency established or designated under this subsection shall provide the members of the commission with training in randomization procedures that the agency will follow in fulfilling its duties under this subsection, including the procedures to be used in vetting the qualifications and political affiliations of applicants and in creating the selection pools, the randomized process to be used in selecting the initial members of the independent redistricting commission, and the processes used in selecting the members of the commission, including obligations under the Voting Rights Act of 1965 and other applicable laws.

(4) REGULATIONS.—The nonpartisan agency established or designated under this subsection shall adopt and publish regulations, after notice and opportunity for comment, establishing the procedures that the agency shall carry out in selecting the members of the commission, including obligations under the Voting Rights Act of 1965 and other applicable laws.

(5) DESIGNATION OF EXISTING AGENCY.—At its option, a State may designate an existing agency in the legislative branch of its government to appoint the members of the independent redistricting commission for the State under this subtitle, so long as the agency meets the requirements for non-partisanship under this subsection.

(6) Termination of agency specifically established for redistricting.—If a State does not designate an existing agency under paragraph (5) but instead establishes a new agency to serve as the nonpartisan agency under this section, the new agency shall terminate not later than May 15 of a year ending in the number zero.

(7) Preservation of records.—The State shall ensure that the records of the nonpartisan agency remain in the appropriate State archive in such manner as may be necessary to enable the State to respond to any civil action brought with respect to congressional redistricting in such State.

(8) Deadline.—The State shall meet the requirements of this subsection not later than each October 15 of a year ending in the number nine.

(b) Establishment of select committee on redistricting.—

(1) In general.—Each State shall appoint a Select Committee on Redistricting to approve or disapprove a selection pool developed by the independent redistricting commission for the State under section 2412.

(2) Selection Committee on Redistricting for State.—The Select Committee on Redistricting for a State under this subsection shall consist of the following members:

(A) 1 member of the upper house of the State legislature, who shall be appointed by the leader of the party with the greatest number of seats in the upper house.

(B) 1 member of the upper house of the State legislature, who shall be appointed by the leader of the party with the greatest number of seats in the lower house.

(C) 1 member of the lower house of the State legislature, who shall be appointed by the leader of the party with the greatest number of seats in the lower house.

(D) 1 member of the lower house of the State legislature, who shall be appointed by the leader of the party with the second greatest number of seats in the lower house.

(E) 2 members of the State legislature appointed by the political party of the State whose candidate received the highest percentage of votes in the most recent Statewide election for Federal office held in the State.

(F) 2 members of the State legislature appointed by the chair of the political party whose candidate received the second highest percentage of votes in the most recent Statewide election for Federal office held in the State.

(3) Special rule for states with unicameral legislature.—In the case of a State with a unicameral legislature, the Select Committee on Redistricting for the State under this subsection shall consist of the following members:

(A) 2 members of the State legislature appointed by the political party of the State whose candidate received the highest percentage of votes in the most recent Statewide election for Federal office held in the State.

(B) 2 members of the State legislature appointed by the chair of the political party whose candidate received the second highest percentage of votes in the most recent Statewide election for Federal office held in the State.

(4) Deadline.—The State shall meet the requirements of this subsection not later than each January 15 of a year ending in the number zero.

PART 3—ROLE OF COURTS IN DEVELOPMENT OF REDISTRICTING PLANS

SEC. 2431. Establishment of plan developed by 3-judge court.

(a) Development of plan.—If any of the triggering events described in subsection (f) occur in a State under this section—

(1) not later than December 15 of the year in which the triggering event occurs, the United States district court for the applicable judicial district shall establish a 3-judge court convened pursuant to section 2284 of title 28, United States Code, shall develop and publish the congressional redistricting plan for the State; and

(2) the final plan developed and published by the Court under this section shall be deemed to be enacted on the date on which the Court publishes the final plan, as described in subsection (d).

(b) Applicable venue described.—For purposes of section 2284, the “applicable venue” with respect to a State is the District of Columbia or the judicial district in which the triggering event is located, as selected by the first party to file with the court sufficient evidence of the occurrence of a triggering event described in subsection (f).

(c) Procedures for development of plan.—

(1) Criteria.—In developing a redistricting plan for a State under this section, the Court shall adhere to any conditions or limitations applied (or that would have applied, as the case may be) to the development of a plan by the independent redistricting commission of the State under section 2413(a).

(2) Access to information and records of commission.—The Court shall have access to all information, data, software, or other records and material that was used (or that would have been used, as the case may be) by the independent redistricting commission of the State in carrying out its duties under this subtitle.

(3) Hearing; public participation.—In developing a redistricting plan for a State, the Court shall:

(A) hold one or more evidentiary hearings at which interested members of the public may appear and be heard and present testimony, including documentary evidence, in accordance with the rules of the Court; and

(B) consider other submissions and comments by the public, including proposals for redistricting plans that cover the entire State or any portion of the State.

(4) Use of special master.—To assist in the development and publication of a redistricting plan under this section, the Court may appoint a special master to make recommendations to the Court on possible plans for the State.

(d) Publication of plan.—

(1) Public availability of initial plan.—Upon completing the development of one or more initial redistricting plans, the Court shall make the plans available to the public at no cost, and shall also make available the underlying data used by the Court to develop the plans, including the evaluation of the plans against external metrics (as described in section 2413(e)).

(2) Publication of final plan.—At any time after the interval period which begins on the date the Court makes the plans available to the public under paragraph (1), and taking into consideration any submissions and comments by the public which are received during such period, the Court shall develop and publish the final redistricting plan for the State.

(e) Use of funds.—In the event that the Court is not able to develop and publish a final redistricting plan for the State with sufficient time for an upcoming election to proceed, the Court may make a payment to a State under this section to enable the State to develop and publish an interim redistricting plan which shall serve as the redistricting plan for the State until the Court develops and publishes a final plan in accordance with this section. Nothing in this subsection may be construed to limit or otherwise affect the authority or discretion of the Court to develop and publish the final redistricting plan, including but not limited to the discretion to make any changes the Court deems necessary to develop a fair redistricting plan.

(f) Triggering events described.—The “triggering events” described in this subsection are as follows:

(1) The State to establish or designate a nonpartisan agency of the State legislature under section 2414(a) prior to the expiration of the deadline set forth in section 2414(a)(5).

(2) The failure of the State to appoint a Select Committee on Redistricting under section 2414(b) prior to the expiration of the deadline set forth in section 2414(b)(4).

(3) The failure of the Select Committee on Redistricting to approve any selection pool submitted pursuant to section 2412(b)(2).

(4) The failure of the independent redistricting commission of the State to approve a final redistricting plan for the State prior to the expiration of the deadline set forth in section 2413(b)(1).

SEC. 2431A. Payments to States for CARRYING OUT REDISTRICTING.

(a) Authorization of payments.—Subject to subsection (d), not later than 30 days after a State receives a State apportionment notice pursuant to section 2401(c), the Election Assistance Commission shall, subject to the availability of appropriations provided pursuant to subsection (e), make a payment to a State in an amount equal to—

(1) the number of Representatives to which the State is entitled, as provided under the notice; and

(2) $150,000.

(b) Use of funds.—A State shall use the payment made under this section to establish and operate the State’s independent redistricting commission, to implement the State redistricting plan, and to otherwise carry out congressional redistricting in the State.

(c) No payment to States with single member.—The Election Assistance Commission shall not make a payment under this section to any State entitled to more than one Representative under its State apportionment notice.

(d) Requiring submission of selection pool as condition of payment.—

(1) Requirement.—Except as provided in paragraph (2), the Election Assistance Commission may not make a payment to a State under this section until the State certifies to the Commission that the nonpartisan agency established or designated by a State under section 2414(a) has, in accordance with sections 2412(b)(1), submitted a selection pool to the Select Committee on Redistricting for the State established under section 2414(b).

(2) Payment for States with existing commissions.—In the case of a State which, pursuant to section 2401(c), is exempt from the requirements of section 2401(a), the Commission may make a payment to the State under this section until the State certifies to the Commission that its redistricting commission meets the requirements of section 2412(b)(1).

(e) Authorization of Appropriations.—There are authorized to be appropriated such sums as may be necessary for payments under this section.

(i) The failure of the registrant to vote in any election.

(ii) The failure of the registrant to respond to any notice sent under section 8(d), unless the notice has been returned as undeliverable.

(iii) The failure of the registrant to take any other action with respect to voting in any election or with respect to the registrant’s status as a registrant.

(2) FACTORS NOT CONSIDERED AS OBJECTIVE AND RELIABLE EVIDENCE OF INELIGIBILITY.—For purposes of paragraph (1), the following factors, or any combination thereof, shall not be treated as objective and reliable evidence of a registrant’s eligibility to vote:

(A) The failure of the registrant to vote in any election.

(B) The failure of the registrant to respond to any notice sent under section 8(d), unless the notice has been returned as undeliverable.

(C) The failure of the registrant to take any other action with respect to voting in any election or with respect to the registrant’s status as a registrant.

(b) EXPEDITED CONSIDERATION.—In any action brought forth under this section, the following rules shall apply:

(1) The action shall be filed in the district court of the United States for the District of Columbia or for the judicial district in which the capital of the State is located, as selected by the person who brings the action.

(2) The action shall be heard by a 3-judge court convened pursuant to section 2281 of title 28, United States Code.

(3) The 3-judge court shall consolidate actions brought for relief under subsection (b)(1) with respect to the same State redistricting plan.

(4) A copy of the complaint shall be delivered promptly to the Clerk of the House of Representatives and the Secretary of the Senate.

(5) A final decision in the action shall be reviewable only by appeal directly to the Supreme Court of the United States. Such appeal shall be taken by filing of a notice of appeal with the district court and the filing of a jurisdictional statement within 30 days of the entry of the final decision.

(6) It shall be the duty of the district court and the courts of the United States to enforce the order of the Supreme Court of the United States. Such enforcement may be obtained by any person aggrieved by the failure of the State to meet any of the conditions described in this section, or in any other provision of this Act, to bring forth under this section, the court may allow the attorney who brings the civil action.

(c) ATTORNEY’S FEES.—In a civil action under this section, the court may allow the prevailing party (other than the United States) reasonable attorney fees, including litigation expenses, as may be reasonable to reach the greatest possible extent the disposition of the action and appeal.

(d) RELATION TO OTHER LAWS.—(1) RIGHTS AND REMEDIES ADDITIONAL TO OTHER REMEDIES.—The rights and remedies established by this section are in addition to all other rights and remedies provided by law, and neither the rights and remedies established by this section nor any other provision of this title shall supercede, restrict, or limit the application of the Voting Rights Act of 1965 (52 U.S.C. 10301 et seq.).

(2) VOTING RIGHTS ACT OF 1965.—Nothing in this title authorizes or requires conduct that is prohibited by the Voting Rights Act of 1965 (52 U.S.C. 10301 et seq.).

SEC. 2434. STATE APPOINTMENT NOTICE DEFINED.

In this subtitle, the “State appointment notice” means, with respect to a State, the notice sent to the State from the Clerk of the House of Representatives under section 22(b) of the Act entitled “An Act to provide for the fifteenth and subsequent decennial censuses to provide for an appointment of Representatives in Congress”, approved June 18, 1929 (2 U.S.C. 2a), of the number of Representatives to which the State is entitled.

SEC. 2434. NO EFFECT ON ELECTIONS FOR STATE AND LOCAL OFFICE.

Nothing in this subtitle or in any amendment made by this subtitle may be construed to affect the manner in which a State carries out elections for State or local office, including the process by which a State establishes the districts used in such elections.

(a) Short Title.—This title may be cited as the “Election Security Act”.

(b) Sense of Congress on Need to Improve Election Infrastructure Security.—It is the sense of Congress that, in light of the lessons learned from Russian interference in the 2016 Presidential election, the Federal Government should intensify its efforts to improve the security of election infrastructure in the United States, including through the use of individual, durable, paper ballots marked by the voter by hand.

Subtitle A—Financial Support for Election Infrastructure

PART 1—VOTING SYSTEM SECURITY IMPROVEMENT GRANTS

Sec. 2901. Grants for obtaining compliant paper ballot voting systems and carrying out voting system security improvements.

(a) Availability of Grants.—Subtitle D of title II of the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (52 U.S.C. 21001 et seq.), as amended by section 1061(a), is amended by adding at the end the following new part:

PART 5—GRANTS FOR OBTAINING COMPLIANT PAPER BALLOT VOTING SYSTEMS AND CARRYING OUT VOTING SYSTEM SECURITY IMPROVEMENTS

Sec. 2909. Grants for obtaining compliant paper ballot voting systems and carrying out voting system security improvements.

(a) Availability and Use of Grant.—The Commission shall make a grant to each eligible State—

1) to replace a voting system—

(A) which does not meet the requirements which are first imposed on the State pursuant to the amendments made by the Voter Confidence and Access to Modern Election Systems Act of 2019 with a voting system which does meet such requirements, for use in the regularly scheduled general elections for Federal office held in November 2020 and 2022 and each succeeding election for Federal office.

(B) which does meet such requirements but which is not in compliance with the most recent voluntary voting system guidelines issued by the Commission prior to the regularly scheduled general election for Federal office held in November 2020 and another system which does meet such requirements and is in compliance with such guidelines; and

2) to carry out voting system security improvements described in section 298A with such pro rata reductions in such amounts as may be necessary to ensure that the entire amount appropriated under this part is insufficient to ensure that each State, unit of local government, or any other entity which is not in compliance with the most recent voluntary voting system guidelines issued by the Commission, as amended, or the most recent voluntary voting system guidelines issued by the Secretary of Homeland Security, shall establish and publish, and shall include each of the following requirements:

(A) The vendor must be owned and controlled by a citizen or permanent resident of the United States.

(B) The vendor must disclose to the Chief Election Administrator and the Secretary, and to the chief State election official of any State to which the vendor provides any goods and services with funds provided under this part, of any security outside the United States for parts of the election infrastructure.

(C) The vendor agrees to ensure that the election infrastructure is secured and maintained in a manner that is consistent with the cybersecurity best practices issued by the Technical Guidelines Development Committee.

(D) The vendor agrees to maintain its information technology infrastructure in a manner that is consistent with the cybersecurity best practices issued by the Technical Guidelines Development Committee.

(E) The vendor agrees to meet the requirements of paragraph (3) with respect to any known or suspected security incidents involving any of the goods and services provided by the vendor pursuant to a grant under this part.

(F) The vendor agrees to permit independent security testing by the Commission in accordance with section 231(a) and by the Secretary of the goods and services provided by the vendor pursuant to a grant under this part.

(3) CYBERSECURITY INCIDENT REPORTING REQUIREMENTS.—

(A) In general.—A vendor meets the requirements of this paragraph if, upon becoming aware of the possibility that an election cybersecurity incident involving any of the goods and services provided by the vendor pursuant to a grant under this part—

(i) the vendor promptly assesses whether or not such an incident occurred, and submits a notification meeting the requirements of subparagraph (B) to the Secretary or the Chair of the Committee of the House of Representatives, as soon as practicable (but in no case later than 3 days after the vendor first becomes aware of the possibility that the incident occurred); and

(ii) the vendor provides increased technical support for any information technology infrastructure that the State or local election official chooses to replace a voting system or designates as critical to the operation of the State’s election infrastructure.

(B) Contents of notifications.—Each notification submitted under clause (i) or clause (ii) of paragraph (A) shall contain the following information with respect to any election cybersecurity incident covered by the notification:

(1) the date and time of the incident and a description of the incident,

(2) the vendor’s identification information,

(3) the description and location of the affected voting system,

(4) the vendor’s contact information,

(5) as applicable, the description of the voting system security improvements performed by the vendor,

(6) the description of any technical support provided by the vendor, including any updates provided to the election official,

(7) the vendor’s certification that the replaced voting system met the requirements of paragraph (2)(A) or paragraph (2)(B) of section 298A, whichever is applicable, of the rules and regulations issued by the Technical Guidelines Development Committee, and the date on which the vendor last certified its compliance with such requirements;

(8) any mitigation measures the vendor performed and the outcome of such measures; and

(9) any recommendations for improvement of the voting system or voting system security improvements.

(C) Grant funds.—The grant made to a State under this section shall be such amount as the Commission determines is necessary to ensure that the entire amount appropriated under this part is insufficient to ensure that each State, unit of local government, or any other entity which is not in compliance with the most recent voluntary voting system guidelines issued by the Commission, as amended, or the most recent voluntary voting system guidelines issued by the Secretary of Homeland Security, shall establish and publish, and shall include each of the following requirements:

(A) The vendor must be owned and controlled by a citizen or permanent resident of the United States.

(B) The vendor must disclose to the Chief Election Administrator and the Secretary, and to the chief State election official of any State to which the vendor provides any goods and services with funds provided under this part, of any security outside the United States for parts of the election infrastructure.

(C) The vendor agrees to ensure that the election infrastructure is secured and maintained in a manner that is consistent with the cybersecurity best practices issued by the Technical Guidelines Development Committee.

(D) The vendor agrees to maintain its information technology infrastructure in a manner that is consistent with the cybersecurity best practices issued by the Technical Guidelines Development Committee.

(E) The vendor agrees to meet the requirements of paragraph (3) with respect to any known or suspected security incidents involving any of the goods and services provided by the vendor pursuant to a grant under this part.

(F) The vendor agrees to permit independent security testing by the Commission in accordance with section 231(a) and by the Secretary of the goods and services provided by the vendor pursuant to a grant under this part.

(2) Grant funds.—The grant made to a State under this section shall be such amount as the Commission determines is necessary to ensure that the entire amount appropriated under this part is insufficient to ensure that each State, unit of local government, or any other entity which is not in compliance with the most recent voluntary voting system guidelines issued by the Commission, as amended, or the most recent voluntary voting system guidelines issued by the Secretary of Homeland Security, shall establish and publish, and shall include each of the following requirements:

(A) The vendor must be owned and controlled by a citizen or permanent resident of the United States.

(B) The vendor must disclose to the Chief Election Administrator and the Secretary, and to the chief State election official of any State to which the vendor provides any goods and services with funds provided under this part, of any security outside the United States for parts of the election infrastructure.

(C) The vendor agrees to ensure that the election infrastructure is secured and maintained in a manner that is consistent with the cybersecurity best practices issued by the Technical Guidelines Development Committee.

(D) The vendor agrees to maintain its information technology infrastructure in a manner that is consistent with the cybersecurity best practices issued by the Technical Guidelines Development Committee.

(E) The vendor agrees to meet the requirements of paragraph (3) with respect to any known or suspected security incidents involving any of the goods and services provided by the vendor pursuant to a grant under this part.

(F) The vendor agrees to permit independent security testing by the Commission in accordance with section 231(a) and by the Secretary of the goods and services provided by the vendor pursuant to a grant under this part.

(3) CYBERSECURITY INCIDENT REPORTING REQUIREMENTS.—

(A) In general.—A vendor meets the requirements of this paragraph if, upon becoming aware of the possibility that an election cybersecurity incident involving any of the goods and services provided by the vendor pursuant to a grant under this part—

(i) the vendor promptly assesses whether or not such an incident occurred, and submits a notification meeting the requirements of subparagraph (B) to the Secretary or the Chair of the Committee of the House of Representatives, as soon as practicable (but in no case later than 3 days after the vendor first becomes aware of the possibility that the incident occurred); and

(ii) the vendor provides increased technical support for any information technology infrastructure that the State or local election official chooses to replace a voting system or designates as critical to the operation of the State’s election infrastructure.

(B) Contents of notifications.—Each notification submitted under clause (i) or clause (ii) of paragraph (A) shall contain the following information with respect to any election cybersecurity incident covered by the notification:

(1) the date and time of the incident and a description of the incident,

(2) the vendor’s identification information,

(3) the description and location of the affected voting system,

(4) the vendor’s contact information,

(5) as applicable, the description of the voting system security improvements performed by the vendor,

(6) the description of any technical support provided by the vendor, including any updates provided to the election official,

(7) the vendor’s certification that the replaced voting system met the requirements of paragraph (2)(A) or paragraph (2)(B) of section 298A, whichever is applicable, of the rules and regulations issued by the Technical Guidelines Development Committee, and the date on which the vendor last certified its compliance with such requirements;

(8) any mitigation measures the vendor performed and the outcome of such measures; and

(9) any recommendations for improvement of the voting system or voting system security improvements.
“(i) The date, time, and time zone when the election cybersecurity incident began, if known.

(ii) The date, time, and time zone when the election cybersecurity incident was detected.

(iii) The date, time, and duration of the election cybersecurity incident.

(iv) Any planned and implemented technical measures to respond to and recover from the incident.

(v) Any additional material information relating to the incident, including technical data, as it becomes available.

“SEC. 298B. ELIGIBILITY OF STATES.

‘‘A State is eligible to receive a grant under this part if the State submits to the Commission, at such time and in such form as the Commission may require, an application containing—

‘‘(1) a description of how the State will use the grant to carry out the activities authorized under this part;

‘‘(2) a certification and assurance that, not later than 1 year after the grant, the State will carry out risk-limiting audits and will carry out voting system security improvements, as described in section 298A; and

‘‘(3) such other information and assurances as the Commission may require.

“SEC. 298C. REPORTS TO CONGRESS.

‘‘Not later than 90 days after the end of each fiscal year, the Commission shall submit a report to the appropriate congressional committees, including the Committees on Homeland Security, House Administration, and the Judiciary of the House of Representatives and the Committees on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs, the Judiciary, and Rules and Administration of the Senate, on the activities carried out with the funds provided under this part.

‘‘SEC. 3002. INCORPORATION OF DEFINITIONS.

‘‘(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 901 of the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (52 U.S.C. 21141) is amended to read as follows:

‘‘SEC. 901. DEFINITIONS.

‘‘In this Act, the following definitions apply:

‘‘(2) The term ‘election infrastructure’ has the meaning given such term in section 3051 of such Act.

‘‘(3) The term ‘State’ means each of the several States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, Guam, American Samoa, the United States Virgin Islands, and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands.

‘‘(4) The term ‘State election official’ means each person, as defined in subsection (d), who has responsibility for conducting an election in any of the several States, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, Guam, American Samoa, the United States Virgin Islands, and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands.

‘‘(5) The term ‘voter’ means each person registered to vote in an election in any of the several States, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, Guam, American Samoa, the United States Virgin Islands, and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands.

‘‘(6) The term ‘voter intent’ means the intent of a person to vote, as determined by a predetermined percentage chance that the voting outcome is incorrect, there is at least a predetermined percentage chance that the audit will replace the incorrect outcome with the correct outcome as determined by a full, hand-to-eye tabulation of all votes validated in that election that ascertains voter intent manually and directly from voter-verifiable paper records.

‘‘(7) The terms ‘voter-verifiable’ and ‘verifiable’ mean that the audit has been conducted in accordance with rules and procedures established by the chair of the election official of the State which meet the requirements of subsection (c); and

‘‘(8) The term ‘voter-verifiable and verifiable audit’ means an audit which meets the requirements of subsection (c).

‘‘(b) REQUIREMENTS FOR RULES AND PROCEDURES.—The rules and procedures established for conducting a risk-limiting audit shall include the following elements:

‘‘(2) The term ‘election infrastructure’ has the meaning given such term in section 3051 of such Act.

‘‘(3) The term ‘State’ means each of the several States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, Guam, American Samoa, the United States Virgin Islands, and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands.

‘‘(4) The term ‘State election official’ means each person, as defined in subsection (d), who has responsibility for conducting an election in any of the several States, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, Guam, American Samoa, the United States Virgin Islands, and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands.

‘‘(5) The term ‘voter’ means each person registered to vote in an election in any of the several States, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, Guam, American Samoa, the United States Virgin Islands, and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands.

‘‘(6) The term ‘voter intent’ means the intent of a person to vote, as determined by a predetermined percentage chance that the voting outcome is incorrect, there is at least a predetermined percentage chance that the audit will replace the incorrect outcome with the correct outcome as determined by a full, hand-to-eye tabulation of all votes validated in that election that ascertains voter intent manually and directly from voter-verifiable paper records.

‘‘(7) The terms ‘voter-verifiable’ and ‘verifiable’ mean that the audit has been conducted in accordance with rules and procedures established for conducting a risk-limiting audit shall include the following elements:
"(1) Rules for ensuring the security of ballots and documenting that prescribed procedures were followed.
"(2) Rules and procedures for ensuring the accuracy of ballot manifests produced by election agencies.
"(3) Rules and procedures for governing the format of ballot manifests, cast vote records, and other documents in the audit.
"(4) Methods to ensure that any cast vote records used in the audit are those used by the voting system to tally the election results as selected by the chief State election official and made public.
"(5) Procedures for the random selection of ballots to be inspected manually during each audit.
"(6) Rules for the calculations and other methods to be used in the audit and to determine whether and when the audit of an election is complete.
"(7) Procedures and requirements for testing any software used to conduct risk-limiting audits.
"(d) DEFINITIONS.—In this part, the following definitions apply:
"(1) The term 'ballot manifest' means a record maintained by each election agency that meets each of the following requirements:
"(A) The record is created without reliance on any part of the voting system used to tabulate votes.
"(B) The record functions as a sampling frame for risk-limiting audits.
"(C) The record contains the following information with respect to the ballots cast and counted in the election:
"(i) The total number of ballots cast and counted by the agency (including undervotes, overvotes, and other invalid votes).
"(ii) The total number of ballots cast in each data set administered by the agency (including undervotes, overvotes, and other invalid votes).
"(iii) A precise description of the manner in which the ballots are physically stored, including the total number of physical groups of ballots, the numbering system for each group, a unique label for each group, and the number of ballots in each such group.
"(2) The term 'incorrect outcome' means an outcome that differs from the outcome that would be determined by a full tabulation of all votes validly cast in the election, determining voter intent manually, directly from the verifiable paper records.
"(3) The term 'outcome' means the winner of an election, whether a candidate or a position.
"(4) The term 'reported outcome' means the outcome of an election which is determined according to the canvas and which will become the official, certified outcome unless it is revised by an audit, recount, or other legal process.
"(5) A certification that, after completing the audit, the State shall publish a report on the results of the audit, together with such information as necessary to confirm that the audit was conducted properly.
"(6) A certification that, if a risk-limiting audit conducted under this part leads to a full manual tally of an election, State law requires the election agency to conduct a full manual tally as the official results of the election; and
"(7) such other information and assurances as the Commission may require.

SEC. 299A. AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.
"There are authorized to be appropriated for grants in aid to States for fiscal year 2019, to remain available until expended.

(a) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of contents of such Act, as amended by sections 105(a) and 301(b), is further amended by adding at the end of the items relating to title II the following:

PART 9—GRANTS FOR CONDUCTING RISK-LIMITING AUDITS OF RESULTS OF ELECTIONS.

"Sec. 299A. Eligibility of States.
"Sec. 299B. Authorization of appropriations.

SEC. 3010. GAO ANALYSIS OF EFFECTS OF AUDITS.
"(a) ANALYSIS.—Not later than 6 months after the first election for Federal office is held after grants are first awarded to States for conducting risk-limiting audits under part B, the Comptroller General of the United States shall conduct an analysis of the extent to which such audits have improved the administration of such elections and the security and accuracy of election infrastructure in the States receiving such grants.
"(b) REPORT.—The Comptroller General of the United States shall submit a report on the analysis conducted under subsection (a) to the appropriate congressional committees.

PART 3—ELECTION INFRASTRUCTURE INNOVATION GRANT PROGRAM.

SEC. 3021. ELECTION INFRASTRUCTURE INNOVATION GRANT PROGRAM.

(a) In General.—Title III of the Homeland Security Act of 2002 (6 U.S.C. 181 et seq.) is amended—

(1) by redesignating the second section 319 (relating to EMP and GMD mitigation research and development) as section 320, and
(2) by adding at the end the following new section:

SEC. 321. ELECTION INFRASTRUCTURE INNOVATION GRANT PROGRAM.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—The Secretary, acting through the Under Secretary for Science and Technology, in coordination with the Chairman of the Election Assistance Commission (established pursuant to the Help America Vote Act of 2002) and in consultation with the Director of the National Science Foundation, shall establish a competitive grant program to make grants to eligible entities, on a competitive basis, for purposes of research and development that are determined to have the potential to significantly improve the security (including cybersecurity), quality, reliability, accuracy, accessibility, and affordability of election infrastructure.

(b) REPORT TO CONGRESS.—Not later than 90 days after the conclusion of each fiscal year for which grants are awarded under this section, the Secretary shall submit to the Committee on Homeland Security and the Committee on House Administration of the House of Representatives and the Committee for Governmental Operations and National Affairs and the Committee on Rules and Administration of the Senate a report describing such grants and analyzing the impact, if any, of such grants on the security and operation of election infrastructure.

(c) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There is authorized to be appropriated to the Secretary $5,250,000 for fiscal years 2019 through 2027 for purposes of carrying out this section.

(d) ELIGIBLE ENTITIES DEFINED.—In this section, the term 'eligible entity' means—

"(1) an institution of higher education (as defined in section 101(a) of the Higher Education Act of 1965 (20 U.S.C. 1001(a)), including an institution of higher education that is historically Black college or university (as that term is defined in section 322 of such Act (20 U.S.C. 1061)) or other minority-serving institution listed in section 371(a) of such Act (20 U.S.C. 1067(q));
"(2) an organization described in section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 and exempt from tax under section 501(a) of such Code;
"(3) an organization, association, or a for-profit company, including a small business concern (as such term is defined under section 3 of the Small Business Act (15 U.S.C. 632)), including a small business concern owned and controlled by socially and economically disadvantaged individuals as defined under section 8(d)(3)(C) of the Small Business Act (15 U.S.C. 637(d)(3)(C));
"(4) an organization, association, or a for-profit company, including a small business concern (as such term is defined under section 3 of the Small Business Act (15 U.S.C. 632)), including a small business concern owned and controlled by socially and economically disadvantaged individuals as defined under section 8(d)(3)(C) of the Small Business Act (15 U.S.C. 637(d)(3)(C)).

SEC. 3021. ELECTION INFRASTRUCTURE INNOVATION GRANT PROGRAM.

(a) In General.—Title III of the Homeland Security Act of 2002 (6 U.S.C. 181 et seq.) is amended—

(1) by redesignating the second section 319 (relating to EMP and GMD mitigation research and development) as section 320, and
(2) by inserting after paragraph (5) the following new paragraph:

(b) REPORT TO CONGRESS.—Not later than 90 days after the conclusion of each fiscal year for which grants are awarded under this section, the Secretary shall submit to the Committee on Homeland Security and the Committee on House Administration of the House of Representatives and the Committee for Governmental Operations and National Affairs and the Committee on Rules and Administration of the Senate a report describing such grants and analyzing the impact, if any, of such grants on the security and operation of election infrastructure.

In order to promote the timely sharing of information on threats to election infrastructure, the Secretary may—

(1) help expedite a security clearance for the chief State election official and other appropriate State personnel involved in the administration of elections, as designated by the chief State election official; and

(2) sponsor a security clearance for the chief State election official and other appropriate State personnel involved in the administration of elections, as designated by the chief State election official; and

(3) facilitate the issuance of a temporary clearance to the chief State election official and other appropriate State personnel involved in the administration of elections, as designated by the chief State election official, if the Secretary determines classified information to be timely and relevant to the election infrastructure of the State at issue.

SEC. 3104. SECURITY CLEARANCE AND VULNERABILITY ASSESSMENTS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Paragraph (6) of section 220(b) of the Homeland Security Act of 2002 (6 U.S.C. 1189), is amended by inserting "(including by carrying out a security risk and vulnerability assessment)" after "risk management support".

(b) PRIORITIZATION TO ENHANCE ELECTION SECURITY.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 90 days after receiving a written request from a chief State election official, if the Secretary determines, based on the extent practicable, commences a security risk and vulnerability assessment (pursuant to paragraph (6) of section 220(b) of the Homeland Security Act of 2002, as amended by subsection (a)), on election infrastructure at the State at issue.

(2) NOTIFICATION.—If the Secretary, upon receipt of a written request, referred to in subsection (1), determines that a security risk and vulnerability assessment cannot be commenced within 90 days, the Secretary shall expeditiously submit a written request to the chief State election official who submitted such request.

SEC. 3105. ANNUAL REPORTS.

(a) REPORTS ON ASSISTANCE AND ASSESSMENTS.—Not later than one year after the date of the enactment of this Act and annually thereafter through the fiscal year 2026, the Secretary shall submit to the appropriate congressional committees the following:

(1) efforts to carry out section 203 during the prior year, including specific information on which States were helped, how many officials were assisted in each fiscal year, and how many temporary clearances have been issued in each State and;

(2) efforts to carry out section 205 during the prior year, including specific information on which States were helped, the dates on which the Secretary received a request for a security risk and vulnerability assessment pursuant to such section, the dates on which the Secretary commenced each such request, and the dates on which the Secretary transmitted a notification in accordance with subsection (b)(2) of such section.

(b) REPORTS ON FOREIGN THREATS.—Not later than one year after the end of each fiscal year (beginning with fiscal year 2019), the Secretary and the Director of National Intelligence, in coordination with the heads of appropriate Federal agencies, shall submit a joint report to the appropriate congressional committees on the extent to which the United States, including physical and cybersecurity threats.

(c) INFORMATION FROM STATES.—For purposes of preparing the reports required under this paragraph, the Secretary shall consider information and comments from States and election agencies, except that the provision of such information and comments by a State or agency shall be voluntary and at the discretion of the State or agency.

Subtitle C—Enhancing Protections for United States Democratic Institutions

SEC. 3201. NATIONAL STRATEGY TO PROTECT UNITED STATES DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than one year after the date of the enactment of this Act, the President, acting through the Secretary, in consultation with the Chairman, the Secretary of Defense, the Secretary of State, the Attorney General, the Secretary of Education, the Director of National Intelligence, the Chairman of the Federal Election Commission, and the heads of any other appropriate Federal agencies, shall issue a national strategy to protect against cyber attacks, influence operations, disinformation campaigns, and other activities that could undermine the security and integrity of United States democratic institutions.

(b) CONSIDERATIONS.—The national strategy required under subsection (a) shall include consideration of the following:

(1) The threat of a foreign state actor, foreign terrorist organization (as defined pursuant to section 1122 of the Intelligence Authorization Act, Fiscal Year 2019 (8 U.S.C. 1189)), or a domestic actor carrying out a cyber attack, influence operation, disinformation campaign, or other activity aimed at undermining the security and integrity of United States democratic institutions.

(2) The extent to which United States democratic institutions are vulnerable to a cyber attack, influence operation, disinformation campaign, or other activity aimed at undermining the security and integrity of United States democratic institutions.

(3) Potential consequences, such as an erosion of public trust or an undermining of the rule of law, that could result from a successful cyber attack, influence operation, disinformation campaign, or other activity aimed at undermining the security and integrity of United States democratic institutions.

(4) Lessons learned from other Western governments and the institutions of which were subject to a cyber attack, influence operation, disinformation campaign, or other activity aimed at undermining the security and integrity of such institutions, as well as actions that could be taken by the United States to counter such a threat, in coordination with foreign partners to detect, deter, prevent, and counter such activities.

(5) Potential impacts such as an erosion of public trust or a loss of democratic institutions as could be associated with a successful cyber breach or other activity negatively affecting election infrastructure.

(b) IMPLEMENTATION PLAN.—Not later than one year after the date of the enactment of this Act, the President, acting through the Secretary, in coordination with the Chairman, shall issue a national strategy and implementation plan for Federal efforts to implement such strategy that includes the following:

(C) Section 405 of the Bipartisan Campaign Reform Act of 2002 (52 U.S.C. 30101 note) is repealed.

(c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall apply to actions brought on or after the date of the enactment of this Act.

Subtitle C—Honest Ads

SEC. 4201. SHORT TITLE.

This subtitle may be cited as the “Honest Ads Act”.

SEC. 4202. PURPOSE.

The purpose of this subtitle is to enhance the integrity of American democracy and national security by improving disclosure requirements for online political advertisements, to uphold the Supreme Court’s well-established standard that the electorate bears the right to be fully informed, and by amending the Federal Election Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30101) to read as follows:—

``SEC. 4203. FINDINGS.

Congress makes the following findings:

(1) On January 6, 2017, the Office of the Director of National Intelligence published a report, “Russian Information Operations and Influence Activities in Recent U.S. Elections,” noting that “Russian President Vladimir Putin ordered an influence campaign in 2016 aimed at the presidential election. Moscow’s influence campaign followed a Russian messaging strategy that blends covert intelligence operation—such as cyber activity—public efforts by the Russian government agencies, state-funded media, third-party intermediaries, and paid social media users or ‘trolls’. On November 24, 2016, The Washington Post reported findings from 2 teams of independent researchers that concluded Russians ‘exploited American-made technology platforms’ in a broadly effective strategy of sowing distrust in U.S. democracy and its leaders.”

(2) On September 6, 2017, the nation’s largest newspaper published an exposé that between June 2015 and May 2017, Russian entities purchased $100,000 in political advertisements, publishing roughly 3,000 ads linked to fake social media accounts through the Internet Research Agency, a pro-Kremlin organization. According to the company, the ads purchased focused on ‘amplifying divisive social and political questions that facilitate manipulation of public opinion through social media in ways that are difficult to detect. A Russian messaging strategy that blends commercially or socially inflammatory, or materially false political communications is accessible to the press, fact-checkers, and political opponents; this creates strong disincentives for a candidate to disseminate materially false, inflammatory, or contradictory messages to the public. Social media platforms can, in contrast, target portions of the electorate with direct, ephemeral advertisements often on the basis of private information the platform has on the user’s online political advertisements that are contradictory, racially or socially inflammatory, or materially false.”

(3) In a study from the Brookings Institution, the reach of a few large internet platforms—larger than any broadcast, satellite, or cable television broadcast in United States history—was over 160,000,000 of them on a daily basis. By way of contrast, the largest cable television provider has 22,430,000 subscribers, while the largest satellite television provider has 21,000,000 subscribers. And the most-watched television broadcast in United States history had 118,000,000 viewers.

(4) The increase in broadcast television, radio, and satellites ensures a level of public political advertising. These communications are accessible to the press, checkers, and political opponents; this creates strong disincentives for candidates to disseminate materially false, inflammatory, or contradictory messages to the public. Social media platforms can, in contrast, target portions of the electorate with direct, ephemeral advertisements often on the basis of private information the platform has on the user’s online political advertisements that are contradictory, racially or socially inflammatory, or materially false.”

(5) According to comScore, 2 companies own 8 of the 10 most popular smartphone applications as of June 2017, including the most popular social media, news, and email services which deliver information and news to users without requiring proactivity by the user. Those same 2 companies accounted for 99 percent of the growth in digital advertising in 2016, including 77 percent of gross spending. 79 percent of online Americans—representing 68 percent of all Americans—use the single largest social network, while 66 percent of these users are most likely to get their news from that site.

(6) In its 2016 rulemaking, the Federal Election Commission noted that only 18 percent of all Americans cited the internet as their leading source of news as their leading source of news about the 2016 presidential election, by contrast, the Pew Research Center found that 65 percent of Americans identified an internet-based source as their leading source of information for the 2016 election.

(7) The Federal Election Commission, the independent Federal agency charged with protecting the integrity of the Federal campaign finance process by providing transparency and financial accountability, failed to take action to address online political advertised.
(B) in clause (iv), by striking “on broadcasting stations, or in newspapers, magazines, or similar types of general public political advertising” and inserting “in any public communication.”

c) Disclosure and Disclaimer Statements.—Subsection (a) of section 318 of such Act (52 U.S.C. 30120(a)) is amended—

(1) by striking “financing any communication by a broadcasting station, newspaper, magazine, online advertising facility, mailing, or any other type of general public political advertising” and inserting “financing any public communication”; and

(2) by striking “solicits” any contribution through any broadcasting station, newspaper, magazine, online advertising facility, mailing, or any other type of general public political advertising” and inserting “solicits any contribution through any public communication.”

SEC. 4208. POLITICAL RECORD REQUIREMENTS FOR ONLINE PLATFORMS.

(a) In General.—Section 304 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30120) is amended—

(1) by striking ‘‘any broadcast, cable, or satellite’’ before subsection (e)(3)(A)(i) and inserting ‘‘any broadcast, cable, or satellite, or qualified internet or digital communications’’; and

(2) by striking ‘‘satellite, or qualified internet or digital communications’’ each place it appears in clauses (i) and (ii) and inserting ‘‘satellite, or qualified internet or digital communications’’.

(b) Qualified Internet or Digital Communications.—Paraphrase (3) of section 304(f) of such Act (52 U.S.C. 30104(f)) is amended by adding at the end the following new subparagraph:

‘‘(D) QUALIFIED INTERNET OR DIGITAL COMMUNICATION.—The term ‘qualified internet or digital communication’ means any communication which is placed or promoted for a fee on an online platform (as defined in subsection (c)(3)).’’

(c) Nonapplication of Relevant Electioneering Communications.—Section 304(c)(3)(A)(i)(II) of such Act (52 U.S.C. 30104(c)(3)(A)(i)(II)) is amended by inserting “any broadcast, cable, or satellite’’ before ‘‘communication’’.

(d) News Exemption.—Section 304(f)(3)(B)(i) of such Act (52 U.S.C. 30104(f)(3)(B)(i)) is amended by inserting “(A)” before ‘‘(ii)’’.

(e) Modification of Additional Requirements for Certain Communications.—Section 318(d) of such Act (52 U.S.C. 30120(d)) is amended—

(1) in paragraph (1)(A)—

(A) by striking ‘‘transmitted through radio’’ and inserting ‘‘which is in an audio format’’; and

(B) by striking ‘‘By radio’’ in the heading and inserting ‘‘Audio Format’’;

(2) in paragraph (1)(B)—

(A) by striking ‘‘which is transmitted through television’’ and inserting ‘‘which is in video format’’; and

(B) by striking ‘‘By television’’ in the heading and inserting ‘‘Video Format’’;

(3) in paragraph (2)—

(A) by striking ‘‘transmitted through radio or television’’ and inserting ‘‘made in audio or video format’’; and

(B) by striking ‘‘through television’’ in the second sentence and inserting ‘‘in video format’’.

SEC. 4209. SPECIAL RULES FOR QUALIFIED INTERNET OR DIGITAL COMMUNICATIONS.

(a) In General.—Section 318 of such Act (52 U.S.C. 30120) is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

‘‘(o) SPECIAL RULES FOR QUALIFIED INTERNET OR DIGITAL COMMUNICATIONS.—

(1) Special Rules with Respect to Statements Made by Any Broadcast, Cable, or Satellite.—In the case of any qualified internet or digital communication (as defined in section 304(f)(3)(D)) which is disseminated through a medium in which the provision of the information required under subparagraph (II) is not possible, the communication shall, in a clear and conspicuous manner—

(A) state the name of the person who paid for the communication; and

(B) provide a means for the recipient of the communication to obtain the remainder of the information required under this section with respect to such communication, and without requiring or viewing any additional material other than such required information.

(2) Safe Harbor for Determining Clear and Conspicuous Manner.—A statement in qualified internet or digital communication (as defined in section 304(f)(3)(D)) shall be considered to be made in a clear and conspicuous manner as provided in subsection (a) if the communication meets the following requirements:

(A) ‘‘TEXT OR GRAPHIC COMMUNICATIONS.—In the case of a text or graphic communication, the statement—

(i) appears in letters at least as large as the majority of the text in the communication; and

(ii) meets the requirements of paragraphs (2) and (3) of subsection (c).

(B) AUDIO COMMUNICATIONS.—In the case of an audio communication, the statement is spoken in a clearly audible and intelligible manner at the beginning or end of the communication and is maintained for at least 4 seconds.

(C) VIDEO COMMUNICATIONS.—In the case of a video communication which also includes audio, the statement—

(i) is included at either the beginning or the end of the communication; and

(ii) is made both in—

(A) a written format that meets the requirements of subparagraph (A) and appears for at least 4 seconds; and

(B) an audible format that meets the requirements of subparagraph (B).

(D) ORAL COMMUNICATIONS.—In the case of any other type of communication, the statement is at least as clear and conspicuous as the statement specified in subparagraph (B), if applicable.

(2) Nonapplication of Certain Exceptions.—The exceptions provided in section 110.11(f)(1)(i) and (ii) of title 11, Code of Federal Regulations, or any successor to such regulations, shall have no application to qualified internet or digital communications (as defined in section 304(f)(3)(D)) which is disseminated on an online platform to comply with the requirements of subparagraph (A).

(3) CONTENTS OF RECORD.—A record maintained under paragraph (2) shall—

(A) a digital copy of the qualified political advertisement;

(B) a description of the advertisement targeted by the advertisement, the number of views generated from the advertisement, and the date and time that the advertisement is first displayed and last displayed; and

(C) information regarding—

(i) the average rate charged for the advertisement;

(ii) the name of the candidate to which the advertisement refers and the office to which the candidate is seeking election, the election to which the advertisement refers, and the national legislative jurisdiction in which the advertisement refers (as applicable);

(iii) in the case of a request made by, or on behalf of, a candidate, the name of the candidate, the authorized committee of the candidate, and the treasurer of such committee; and

(iv) in the case of any request not described in clause (iii), the name of the person purchasing the advertisement, the name and address of a contact person for such person, and a list of the chief executive officers or members of the executive committee or of the board of directors of such person.

(4) ONLINE PLATFORM.—For purposes of this subsection, the term ‘‘online platform’’ means any public-facing website, web application, or digital application (including a social network, ad network, or search engine) which—

(a) sells qualified political advertisements; and

(b) has 50,000,000 or more unique monthly United States visitors or users for a majority of the previous 12 months.

(5) QUALIFIED POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT.—For purposes of this subsection, the term ‘‘qualified political advertisement’’ means any advertisement (including search engine marketing, display advertisements, video advertisements, native advertisements, and sponsorships) that—

(A) is made by or on behalf of a candidate; or

(B) communicates a message relating to any political matter of national importance, including—

(i) a candidate;

(ii) any election to Federal office; or

(iii) a national legislative issue of public importance.

(6) TIME TO MAINTAIN FILE.—The information required under this subsection shall be made available as soon as possible and shall be retained by the online platform for a period of not less than 4 years.

"(6) SAFE HARBOR FOR PLATFORMS MAKING BEST EFFORTS TO IDENTIFY REQUESTS WHICH ARE SUBJECT TO RECORD MAINTENANCE REQUIREMENTS.—In accordance with rules established by the Commission, if an online platform or the platform uses best efforts to determine whether or not a request to purchase a qualified political advertisement was subject to the requirements of this subsection and the platform shall not be considered to be in violation of such requirements.

"(7) PENALTIES.—For penalties by online platforms or the platform to purchase a qualified political advertisement on online platforms, to comply with the requirements of this subsection, see section 309.

"(b) RULEMAKING.—Not later than 120 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Federal Election Commission shall establish rules—

"(1) requiring common data formats for the record required to be maintained under section 324 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (as added by subsection (a)) so that all online platforms submit and maintain data online in a common, machine-readable and publicly accessible format; and

"(2) establishing search interface requirements relating to such record, including searches by candidate name, issue, purchased date and

"(3) establishing the criteria for the safe harbor exception provided under paragraph (6) of section 309(j) of such Act (as added by subsection (a)).

"(c) REPORTING.—Not later than 2 years after the date of the enactment of this Act, and biannually thereafter, the Chairman of the Federal Election Commission shall submit a report to Congress on—

"(1) matters relating to compliance with and the enforcement of the requirements of section 309(j) of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as added by subsection (a);

"(2) recommendations for any modifications to such section to assist in carrying out its purposes; and

"(3) identifying ways to bring transparency and accountability to political advertisement distributed online for free.

SEC. 4309. PREVENTING CONTRIBUTIONS, EXPENDITURES, INDEPENDENT EXPENDITURES, AND DISBURSEMENTS FOR FUNDING COMMUNICATIONS BY FOREIGN NATIONALS IN THE FORM OF ONLINE ADVERTISING.

Section 319 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30121), as amended by section 4301(a)(2) and section 4301(b), is further amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

"(e) RESPONSIBILITIES OF BROADCAST STATIONS.—In the case of a communication transmitted in a text or graphic format, the disclosure statements required under paragraph (1) shall be provided by placing a hyperlink to such statement in a clear and conspicuous manner.

Subtitle D—Stand By Every Ad

SEC. 4301. SHORT TITLE.

This subtitle may be cited as the “Stand By Every Ad Act.”

SEC. 4302. STAND BY EVERY AD.

(a) EXPANDED DISCLAIMER REQUIREMENTS FOR CERTAIN COMMUNICATIONS.—Section 318 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30120), as amended by section 4307(b)(1), is further amended—

(1) by redesigning subsection (e) as subsection (f); and

(2) by inserting after subsection (d) the following new subsection:

"(e) EXPANDED DISCLAIMER REQUIREMENTS FOR COMMUNICATIONS NOT AUTHORIZED BY CANDIDATES OR COMMITTEES.—

"(1) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in paragraph (6), any communication described in paragraph (3) of subsection (a) which is transmitted in an audio or video format (including an Internet or digital communication), or which is an Internet or digital communication transmitted in a text or graphic format, shall include, in addition to the requirements of paragraph (3) of subsection (a), the following:

"(A) The individual disclosure statement described in paragraph (2)(A) (if the person paying for the communication is an individual) or the organizational disclosure statement described in paragraph (2)(B) (if the person paying for the communication is not an individual).

"(B) If the communication is transmitted in a video format, or is an Internet or digital communication which is transmitted in a text or graphic format, and is paid for in whole or in part with a payment which is treated as a campaign-related disbursement under section 324—

"(i) the Top Five Funders list (if applicable); or

"(ii) in the case of a communication which, as determined on the basis of criteria established in regulations issued by the Commission, is of such short duration that including the Top Five Funders list in the communication would constitute a hardship to the person paying for the communication by requiring a disproportionate amount of the content of the communication to consist of the Top Five Funders list, the name of a website which contains the Top Five Funders list (if applicable) or, in the case of an Internet or digital communication, a hyperlink to such website.

"(C) If the communication is transmitted in an audio format and is paid for in whole or in part with a payment which is treated as a campaign-related disbursement under section 324—

"(i) the Top Two Funders list (if applicable); or

"(ii) in the case of a communication which, as determined on the basis of criteria established in regulations issued by the Commission, is of such short duration that including the Top Two Funders list in the communication would constitute a hardship to the person paying for the communication by requiring a disproportionate amount of the content of the communication to consist of the Top Two Funders list, the name of a website which contains the Top Two Funders list (if applicable).

"(2) DISCLOSURE STATEMENTS DESCRIBED.—

"(A) INDIVIDUAL DISCLOSURE STATEMENTS.—The individual disclosure statement described in this subparagraph is the following: 'I am , and I approve this message.', with the blank filled in with the name of the applicable individual.

"(B) ORGANIZATIONAL DISCLOSURE STATEMENTS.—The organizational disclosure statement described in this subparagraph is the following: 'The organization , and approves this message.', with—

"(i) the name of the applicable individual; or

"(ii) the second blank to be filled in with the title of the applicable individual; and

"(iii) the fourth blank to be filled in with the name of the organization or other person paying for the communication.

"(3) METHOD OF CONVEYANCE OF STATEMENT.—

"(A) COMMUNICATIONS IN TEXT OR GRAPHIC FORMAT.—In the case of a communication to which this subsection applies which is transmitted in a text or graphic format, the disclosure statements required under paragraph (1) shall appear in letters at least as large as the majority of the text in the communication.

"(B) COMMUNICATIONS TRANSMITTED IN AUDIO FORMAT.—In the case of a communication to which this subsection applies which is transmitted in an audio format, the disclosure statements required under paragraph (1) shall be made by audio by the applicable individual or the organization in voice-over form.

"(C) COMMUNICATIONS TRANSMITTED IN VIDEO FORMAT.—In the case of a communication to which this subsection applies which is transmitted in a video format, the information required under paragraph (1)—

"(i) shall appear in writing at the end of the communication or in a crawl along the bottom of the communication in a clear and conspicuous manner, with a reasonable degree of color contrast between the background and the printed statement, for a period of at least 6 seconds; and

"(ii) shall also be accompanied by an unsecured, full-screen view of the applicable individual or by the applicable individual by placing a clearly visible photograph or similar image of the individual, except in the case of a Top Five Funders list.

"(4) APPLICABLE INDIVIDUAL DEFINED.—The term ‘applicable individual’ means, with respect to a communication to which this subsection applies—

"(A) if the communication is paid for by an individual, the individual involved;

"(B) if the communication is paid for by a corporation, the chief executive officer of the corporation (or, if the corporation does not have a chief executive officer, the highest ranking official of the corporation); and

"(C) if the communication is paid for by a labor organization, the highest ranking official of such organization.

"(5) TOP FIVE FUNDERS LIST AND TOP TWO FUNDERS LIST DEFINED.—

"(A) TOP FIVE FUNDERS LIST.—The term ‘Top Five Funders list’ means, with respect to a communication which is paid for in whole or in part with a campaign-related disbursement (as defined in section 324), a list of the five persons who, during the 12-month period ending on the date of the disbursement, provided the largest payments of any type in an aggregate amount equal to or exceeding $10,000 to the person who is paying for the communication and the amount of the payments each person provided.

"(B) TOP TWO FUNDERS LIST.—The term ‘Top Two Funders list’ means, with respect to a communication which is paid for in whole or in part with a campaign-related disbursement, a list of the persons who, during the 12-month period ending on the date of the disbursement, provided the largest and the second largest payments of any type in aggregate amount equal to or exceeding $10,000 to the person who is paying for the communication and the amount of the payments each person provided. If two or more persons provided the fifth largest and the second largest payments, the person paying for the communication shall select one of those persons to be included on the Top Five Funders list. shall select one of those persons to be included on the Top Two Funders list.

“(C) EXCLUSION OF CERTAIN PAYMENTS.—For purposes of subparagraphs (A) and (B), in determining the amount of payments made by a person to a person paying for a communication, there shall be excluded the following:

“(1) any amounts provided in the ordinary course of any trade or business conducted by the person paying for the communication or in the form of investments in the person paying for the communication;

“(ii) Any payment which the person prohibited, in writing, from being used for campaign-related purposes, but only if the person paying for the communication agrees to follow the prohibition and deposited the payment in an account which is segregated from any account used to make campaign-related disbursements.

“(6) SPECIAL RULES FOR CERTAIN COMMUNICATIONS.—

“(A) EXCEPTION FOR COMMUNICATIONS PAID FOR BY POLITICAL PARTIES AND CERTAIN POLITICAL COMMITTEES.—This subsection does not apply to any communication to which subsection (d)(1)(B)(i) applies.

“(B) TREATMENT OF VIDEO COMMUNICATIONS LASTING 10 SECONDS OR LESS.—In the case of a communication to which this subsection applies and is transmitted in a video format, or is an Internet or digital communication which is transmitted in a text or graphic format, the communication shall meet the following requirements:

“(i) The communication shall include the individual disclosure statement described in paragraph (2)(A) (if the person paying for the communication is an individual) or the organizational disclosure statement described in paragraph (2)(B) (if the person paying for the communication is not an individual).

“(ii) The statement described in clause (i) shall appear in writing at the end of the communication, or in a crawl along the bottom of the communication, in a clear and conspicuous manner, with a reasonable degree of color contrast between the background and the printed statement, for a period of at least 4 seconds.

“(iv) To the extent that the format in which a communication is made provides the use of a hyperlink, the communication shall include a hyperlink to the website address described in clause (ii).

“(B) APPLICATION OF EXPANDED DISCLOSURE REQUIREMENTS TO PUBLIC COMMUNICATIONS CONSISTING OF CAMPAIGN-RELATED DISBURSEMENTS.—Section 318(a) of such Act (52 U.S.C. 30120(a)) is amended by striking “the communication which is subject to subsection (e) which is a telephone call consisting in substantial part of a prerecorded audio message”.

“(B) TREATMENT AS COMMUNICATION TRANSMITTED IN AUDIO FORMAT.—

“(1) COMMUNICATIONS BY CANDIDATES OR AUTHORIZED PERSONS.—Section 318(d) (such Act (52 U.S.C. 30120(d))) is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:—

“(3) PRERECORDED TELEPHONE CALLS.—Any communication described in paragraph (1), (2), or (3) of subsection (a) (other than a communication which is subject to subsection (e)) which is a telephone call consisting in substantial part of a prerecorded audio message shall include, in addition to the requirements of such paragraph, the audio statement required under subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1) or the audio statement required under paragraph (2) (whichever is applicable), except that the statement shall be made at the beginning of the telephone call.”

“(2) COMMUNICATIONS SUBJECT TO EXPANDED DISCLAIMER REQUIREMENTS.—Section 318(e)(3) of such Act (52 U.S.C. 30120(e)(3)), as added by section 4302(a), is amended by adding at the end the following new subparagraph:

“(D) PRERECORDED CALLS.—In the case of a communication to which this subsection applies which is a telephone call consisting in substantial part of a prerecorded audio message, such communication shall be considered to be transmitted in an audio format.”

SEC. 4304. NO EXPANSION OF PERSONS SUBJECT TO DISCLAIMER REQUIREMENTS ON INTERNET COMMUNICATIONS.

Nothing in this subtitle shall apply with respect to communications made on or after January 1, 2020, and shall take effect without regard to whether or not the Federal Election Commission has promulgated regulations to carry out such amendments.

“(i) any gift, subscription, loan, advance, or deposit of money or anything of value made by any person to the committee; or

“(ii) the payment by any person of compensation for the personal services of any other person which are rendered to the committee without charge for any purpose.

“(2) The term ‘donation’ does not include the conversion of a donation to personal use if any part of the donated amount is used to fulfill a commitment, obligation, or expense of a person that would exist irrespective of the responsibilities of the Inaugural Committee under chapter 5 of title 36, United States Code.

“(3) NO EFFECT ON DISBURSEMENT OF UNUSED FUNDS TO NONPROFIT ORGANIZATIONS.—Nothing in this paragraph or any provision thereof may be construed to prohibit an Inaugural Committee from disbursing unused funds to an organization which is described in section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 and is exempt from taxation under section 501(a) of such Code.

“(b) LIMITATION ON DONATIONS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—It shall be unlawful for an individual to make donations to an Inaugural Committee which, in the aggregate, exceed $500,000.

“(2) INDEXING.—At the beginning of each Presidential election year (beginning with March 6, 2019), the amount described in paragraph (1) shall be increased by the cumulative percent increase in the Consumer Price Index since the previous Presidential election year. If any amount after such increase is not a multiple of $1,000,000, it shall be rounded to the nearest multiple of $1,000,000.

“(c) DISCLOSURE OF CERTAIN DONATIONS AND DISBURSEMENTS.—

“(1) DONATIONS OVER $1,000.—

“(A) A committee shall file with the Commission a report of the amount and purpose of each donation of money or any other item of value made to the committee in an aggregate amount equal to or greater than $200.

“(B) The total amount of all disbursements, and all disbursements in the following categories:

“(i) disbursements made to meet committee operating expenses;

“(ii) repayment of all loans;

“(iii) donation refunds and other offsets to donations;

“(iv) amounts of any other disbursements;

“(C) The name and address of each person to whom a disbursement in an aggregate amount or value in excess of $200 is made by the committee to meet a committee operating expense, together with date, amount, and purpose of such operating expense;

“(D) who receives a loan repayment from the committee, together with the date and amount of such repayment; or “(E) who receives a donation refund or other offset from donations from the committee, together with the date and amount of such disbursement;

“(F) to whom any other disbursement in an aggregate amount or value in excess of $200 is made by the committee, together with the date and amount of such disbursement.

“(d) DEFINITIONS.—For purposes of this section:

“(1) (A) The term ‘donation’ includes—

“(i) any gift, subscription, loan, advance, or deposit of money or anything of value made by any person to the committee; or

“(ii) the payment by any person of compensation for the personal services of any other person which are rendered to the committee without charge for any purpose.

“(2) The term ‘donation’ does not include the conversion of a donation to personal use if any part of the donated amount is used to fulfill a commitment, obligation, or expense of a person that would exist irrespective of the responsibilities of the Inaugural Committee under chapter 5 of title 36, United States Code.

“(3) NO EFFECT ON DISBURSEMENT OF UNUSED FUNDS TO NONPROFIT ORGANIZATIONS.—Nothing in this paragraph or any provision thereof may be construed to prohibit an Inaugural Committee from disbursing unused funds to an organization which is described in section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 and is exempt from taxation under section 501(a) of such Code.

“(b) LIMITATION ON DONATIONS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—It shall be unlawful for an individual to make donations to an Inaugural Committee which, in the aggregate, exceed $500,000.

“(2) INDEXING.—At the beginning of each Presidential election year (beginning with March 6, 2019), the amount described in paragraph (1) shall be increased by the cumulative percent increase in the Consumer Price Index since the previous Presidential election year. If any amount after such increase is not a multiple of $1,000,000, it shall be rounded to the nearest multiple of $1,000,000.

“(c) DISCLOSURE OF CERTAIN DONATIONS AND DISBURSEMENTS.—

“(1) DONATIONS OVER $1,000.—

“(A) A committee shall file with the Commission a report of the amount and purpose of each donation of money or any other item of value made to the committee in an aggregate amount equal to or greater than $200—

“(i) the amount of the donation;

“(ii) the date the donation is received; and

“(iii) the name and address of the individual making the donation.

“(2) ADDITIONAL INFORMATION.—

“(i) the date the donation is received; and “(ii) the name and address of the individual making the donation.

“(b) CONTENTS OF REPORT—A report filed under subparagraph (A) shall contain—

“(i) the amount of the donation;

“(ii) the date the donation is received; and

“(iii) the name and address of the individual making the donation.

“(c) CONFORMING AMENDMENT RELATED TO STATUS OF COMMITTEE.—Section 510 of title 36, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

“§ 510. Disclosure of and prohibition on certain donations

“A committee shall not be considered to be the Inaugural Committee for purposes of this chapter unless the committee agrees to, and meets, the requirements of section 325 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30104) is amended—

“(1) by striking subsection (h); and

“(2) by redesignating subsection (i) as subsection (h).

“(d) CONFORMING AMENDMENT RELATED TO REPORTING REQUIREMENTS—Section 304 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30104) is amended—

“(1) by striking subsection (b); and

“(2) by redesignating subsection (i) as subsection (b).

“(e) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this Act shall apply with respect to Inaugural Committees established under chapter 5 of title 36, United States Code, for inaugurations held in 2021 and any succeeding year.

The American Republic was founded on the principle that all people are created equal, with rights and responsibilities as citizens to vote, be represented, speak, debate, and participate in self-government on equal terms regardless of wealth. To secure these rights and responsibilities, our Constitution protects the equal rights of all Americans but also provides checks and balances to prevent corruption and prevent the subversion of the integrity of the political system as subsidiaries of foreign-based corporations, representing tens of millions of organizations, including by prohibiting such artificial entities from spending money to influence elections. Outside spending increased nearly 90 percent between the 2008 and 2016 Presidential election years. Indeed, the 2018 elections once again made clear the overwhelming political power of wealthy special interests, to the tune of over $5,000,000,000. And as political entities adapt to a post-Citizens United, post-McCutcheon landscape, these trends are getting worse, as evidenced by the experience in the 2018 midterm congressional elections, outside spending more than doubled from the previous midterm cycle.

The torrent of money flowing into our political system has a profound effect on the American people. Americans, whose voices and policy preferences are increasingly being drowned out by those of wealthy special interests. The more campaign cash from wealthy special interests can flood our elections, the more policies that favor those interests are reflected in the national political agenda. When it comes to policy preferences, our Nation’s wealthier states tend to have fundamentally different views than do average Americans when it comes to issues such as unemployment benefits, access to mental health care, and other personal use services as authorized campaign expenditures.

The Constitution has prevented truly meaningful regulation or reform of the way we finance elections in America, a constitutional amendment is needed to achieve a democracy for all the people. Since the landmark Citizens United decision, 19 States and nearly 800 municipalities in the States may regulate and set limits on the raising and spending of money to influence elections and make contributions in connection with Presidential campaigns, and created the Federal Election Commission to oversee and enforce the new rules.

In the wake of Citizens United and other damaging Federal court decisions, Americans have witnessed an explosion of outside spending in elections. the first day after the program operation period.

(f) REIMBURSEMENT OF COSTS.—

(1) REIMBURSEMENT.—Upon receiving the reports under section 510(a) with respect to an election cycle, the Commission shall transfer moneys to the State for such period as the Commission determines that the amount necessary to make such payments has been received by the State from the individual to whom the My Voice Voucher was issued.

SEC. 5102. VOUCHER PROGRAM DESCRIBED.

(a) GENERAL ELEMENTS OF PROGRAM.—

(1) ELEMENTS DESCRIBED.—The program shall consist of a payment program under which the Commission shall be entitled to make payments to States under this part for such period as the Commission shall determine that the amount necessary to make such payments has been received by the State from the individual to whom the My Voice Voucher was issued.

(b) FRAUD PREVENTION MECHANISM.—In addition to the elements described in subparagraph (a), a State operating a voucher pilot program under this part shall submit a report to the Commission analyzing the operation and effectiveness of such program to the extent that such information is available to the Commission.

(c) REPORT BY COMMISSION.—Not later than 6 months after the end of the program operation period, the Commission shall submit a report to the Congress analyzing the operation and effectiveness of the voucher pilot program, and including such other information as the Commission may require.

SEC. 5104. DEFINITIONS.

(a) ELECTION CYCLE.—In this part, the term ‘election cycle’ means the period beginning on the day after the most recent regularly scheduled general election for Federal office and ending on the date of the next regularly scheduled general election for Federal office.

(b) PROGRAM PREPARATION PERIOD.—The term ‘program preparation period’ means the first 2 election cycles which begin after the program operation period.

(c) PROGRAM OPERATION PERIOD.—The term ‘program operation period’ means the first 2 election cycles which begin after the program operation period.

PART 2—SMALL DOLLAR FINANCING OF CONGRESSIONAL ELECTION CAMPAIGNS

SEC. 5111. BENEFITS AND ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS FOR CANDIDATES.

The Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30101 et seq.) is amended by adding at the end the following:

"TITLE V—SMALL DOLLAR FINANCING OF CONGRESSIONAL ELECTION CAMPAIGNS"

Subtitle A—Benefits

SEC. 501. BENEFITS FOR PARTICIPATING CANDIDATES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—If a candidate for election for the office of Representative in, or Delegate or Resident Commissioner to, the Congress is certified as a participating candidate under this title with respect to such office, the candidate shall be entitled to payments as provided under this part.

(b) AMOUNT OF PAYMENT.—The amount of a payment made under this title shall be equal to 60 percent of the amount of qualified small dollar contributions received by the candidate during the most recent election cycle, without regard to whether or not the candidate received any of the contributions before, during, or after the Small Dollar Democracy qualifying period applicable to the candidate for section 5111(c).

(c) LIMIT ON AGGREGATE AMOUNT OF PAYMENTS.—The aggregate amount of payments made to a participating candidate with respect to an election cycle under this title may not exceed 50 percent of the average of the greatest amount of contributions made by the authorized committees of any winning candidate for the office of Representative in, or Delegate or Resident Commissioner to, the Congress during the most recent election cycle, rounded to the nearest $100,000.
SEC. 502. PROCEDURES FOR MAKING PAYMENTS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Commission shall make a payment under section 501 to a candidate who is certified as a participating candidate for the campaign of the candidate for a request for a payment which includes—

(1) a statement of the number and amount of qualified small dollar contributions received by the candidate since the most recent payment made to the candidate under this title during the election cycle;

(2) a statement of the amount of the payment the candidate anticipates receiving with respect to the request;

(3) a statement of the total amount of payments the candidate has received under this title during the election cycle which ends on the date the candidate submits the statement; and

(4) such other information and assurances as the Commission may require.

(b) RESTRICTIONS ON SUBMISSION OF REQUESTS.—A candidate may not submit a request under subsection (a) unless each of the following applies:

(1) The amount of the qualified small dollar contributions in the statement referred to in subsection (a)(1) is equal to or greater than $5,000, unless the request is submitted during the 30-day period which ends on the date of the election;

(2) The candidate did not receive a payment under this title during the 7-day period which ends on the date the candidate submits the statement; and

(3) TIME OF PAYMENT.—The Commission shall, in coordination with the Secretary of the Treasury, make a payment under this title, including payments provided with respect to a previous election cycle which are withheld from remittance to the Commission in accordance with section 526(a)(2), only for making direct payments for the receipt of goods and services which constitute authorized expenditures (as determined in accordance with title III in connection with the election cycle involved).

(c) RESTRICTION ON SUBSEQUENT CONTRIBUTIONS.—

(1) PROHIBITION OF DONORS MAKING SUBSEQUENT QUALIFIED CONTRIBUTIONS OR SUBSEQUENT NONQUALIFIED CONTRIBUTIONS DURING ELECTION CYCLES.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—An individual who makes a qualified small dollar contribution to a candidate or the authorized committees of a candidate with respect to an election cycle may not make contributions to such candidate or the authorized committees of such candidate with respect to the election cycle which is not a qualified small dollar contribution.

(B) EXCEPTION FOR CONTRIBUTIONS TO CANDIDATES WHO VOLUNTARILY WITHDRAW FROM PARTICIPATION DURING QUALIFYING PERIOD.—Subparagraph (A) does not apply with respect to a contribution made to a candidate who, during the Small Dollar Democracy qualifying period described in section 511(c), submits a statement to the Commission under section 513(c) to voluntarily withdraw from participating in the program under this title.

(2) TREATMENT OF SUBSEQUENT NONQUALIFIED CONTRIBUTIONS.—If, notwithstanding the prohibition described in paragraph (1), an individual who makes a qualified small dollar contribution to a candidate or the authorized committees of a candidate with respect to an election cycle makes a subsequent contribution to such candidate or the authorized committees of such candidate with respect to the election which is prohibited under paragraph (1) because it is not a qualified small dollar contribution, the candidate may return the subsequent contribution to the individual. In the case of a subsequent contribution which is not a qualified small dollar contribution because the contribution fails to meet the requirements of paragraph (3) of subsection (a) (relating to the aggregate amount of contributions made to the candidate or the authorized committees of the candidate during the election cycle by the individual making the contribution), the candidate may return an amount equal to the difference between the amount of the subsequent contribution and the amount described in paragraph (1)(B) of subsection (a).

(B) The candidate may retain the subsequent contribution, so long as not later than 2 weeks after receiving the subsequent contribution, the candidate remits to the Commission for deposit in the Freedom From Influence Fund under section 541 an amount equal to any payments received by the candidate under this title which are attributable to the qualified small dollar contribution made by the individual involved.

(2) NO EFFECT ON ABILITY TO MAKE MULTIPLE CONTRIBUTIONS.—Nothing in this section may be construed to prohibit an individual from making multiple qualified small dollar contributions to any number of candidates, so long as each contribution meets each of the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (3) of subsection (a).

(d) NOTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS FOR CANDIDATES.—

(1) NOTIFICATION.—Each authorized committee of a candidate who is a participating candidate under this title shall provide the following information in any materials for the solicitation of contributions, including any internet site through which individuals may make contributions to the committee:

(A) A statement that if the candidate is certified as a participating candidate under this title, the candidate will receive matching payments in an amount which is based on the total amount of qualified small dollar contributions received.

(B) A statement that a contribution which meets the requirements set forth in subsection (a) shall be treated as a qualified small dollar contribution under this title.

(C) A statement that if a contribution is treated as a qualified small dollar contribution under this title, the individual who makes the contribution may not make contributions to any other candidate or the authorized committees of the candidate during the election cycle which is not a qualified small dollar contribution.

(2) ALTERNATIVE METHODS OF MEETING REQUIREMENTS.—An authorized committee may meet the requirements of paragraph (1)—

(A) by including the information described in paragraph (1) in the receipt provided under section 512(b)(3) to a person making a qualified small dollar contribution; or

(B) by modifying the information it provides to persons making contributions which is otherwise required under title III including information it provides through the internet.

Subtitle B—Eligibility and Certification

SEC. 511. ELIGIBILITY.

(a) IN GENERAL.—A candidate for the office of delegate or Resident Commissioner to the Congress is eligible to be certified as a participating candidate under this title with respect to an election if the candidate meets the following requirements:

(1) The candidate files with the Commission a statement of intent to seek certification as a participating candidate.

(2) The candidate meets the requirements of subsection (a) of section 512.

(3) The candidate files with the Commission a statement of intent to seek certification as a participating candidate.
“(3) The candidate files with the Commission a statement certifying that the authorized committees of the candidate meet the requirements of section 504(d).

“(4) If the last day of the Small Dollar Democracy qualifying period, the candidate files with the Commission an affidavit signed by the candidate and the treasurer of the candidate’s principal campaign committee declaring that the candidate—

“(A) has compiled and, if certified, will comply with dollar contribution and expenditure requirements of section 521;

“(B) if certified, will run only as a participating candidate for all elections for the office that the candidate is seeking during that election cycle; and

“(C) has either qualified or will take steps to qualify under State law to be on the ballot.

“(b) General election.—Notwithstanding subsection (a), a candidate shall not be eligible to be certified as a participating candidate under this title for a general election or a general runoff election unless the candidate’s party nominated the candidate to be placed on the ballot for the general election, or the candidate is otherwise qualified to be on the ballot under State law.

“(c) Small Dollar Democracy Qualifying Period.—The term ‘Small Dollar Democracy qualifying period’ means, with respect to any candidate for an office, the 180-day period (during the election cycle for such office) which begins on the date on which the candidate files a statement of intent under section 511(a)(1), except that such period may not continue after the date that is 30 days before the date of the general election for the office.

“SEC. 512. QUALIFYING REQUIREMENTS.

“(a) Exemption from Small Dollar Contribution Requirement for the Office of Representative in, or Delegate or Resident Commissioner to, the Congress meets the requirement of this section if, during the Small Dollar Democracy qualifying period described in section 511(c), each of the following occurs:

“(1) Not fewer than 1,000 individuals make a qualified small dollar contribution to the candidate.

“(2) The candidate obtains a total dollar amount from all individual contributions which is equal to or greater than $50,000.

“(b) Requirements Relating to Receipt of Qualified Small Dollar Contribution. Each qualified small dollar contribution—

“(1) may be made by means of a personal check, money order, debit card, credit card, electronic payment account, or any other method deemed appropriate by the Commission;

“(2) shall be accompanied by a signed statement (or, in the case of a contribution made online or through other electronic means, an electronic equivalent) containing the contributor’s name and address; and

“(3) shall be evidenced by a receipt that is sent to the contributor with a copy (in paper or electronic form) kept by the candidate for the Commission.

“(c) Verification of Contributions.—The Commission shall establish procedures for the auditing and verification of the contributions received and expenditures made by participating candidates under this title, including procedures for random audits, to ensure that such contributions and expenditures fit the requirements of this title.

“SEC. 513. CERTIFICATION.

“(a) Deadline and Notification.—

“(1) In general.—Not later than 5 business days after the date on which the candidate files an affidavit under section 511(a)(4), the Commission shall...

“(b) Deemed Certification for All Elections in Election Cycle.—If the Commission certifies a candidate as a participating candidate with respect to the first election of the election cycle involved, the Commission shall be deemed to have certified the candidate as a participating candidate with respect to all subsequent elections of the election cycle.

“(b) Revocation of Certification.—

“(1) In General.—The Commission shall revoke a certification under subsection (a) if—

“(A) a candidate fails to qualify to appear on the ballot at any time after the date of certification (other than a candidate certified as a participating candidate with respect to a primary election who fails to qualify to appear on the ballot for a subsequent election in that election cycle); or

“(B) a candidate ceases to be a candidate for the office involved, as determined on the basis of official announcement by an authorized committee of the candidate or on the basis of a reasonable determination by the Commission; or

“(C) a candidate otherwise fails to comply with the requirements of this title, including any regulatory requirements prescribed by the Commission.

“(2) Existence of Criminal Sanction.—The Commission shall revoke a certification under subsection (a) if a penalty is assessed against the candidate under section 399(d) with respect to an election cycle for the office involved.

“(3) Effect of Revocation.—If a candidate’s certification is revoked under this subsection—

“(A) the candidate may not receive payments under this title during the remainder of the election cycle involved; and

“(B) in the case of a candidate whose certification is revoked pursuant to subparagraph (A) or subparagraph (C) of paragraph (1)—

“(i) the candidate shall repay to the Freedom From Influence Fund established under section 541 an amount equal to the payments received under this title with respect to the election cycle involved (at an interest rate determined by the Commission on the basis of an appropriate annual percentage rate for the month involved) on any such amount received; and “(ii) the candidate may not be certified as a participating candidate under this title with respect to the next election cycle.

“(4) Prohibition in Future Elections for Candidates with Multiple Revocations.—If the Commission revokes the certification of an individual as a participating candidate pursuant to subparagraph (A) or subparagraph (C) of paragraph (1) a total of 3 times, the individual may not be certified as a participating candidate under this title with respect to any subsequent election.

“(c) Voluntary Withdrawal from Participating During Qualifying Period.—At any time during the Small Dollar Democracy qualifying period described in section 511(c), a candidate may withdraw from participation in the program under this title by submitting to the Commission a statement of withdrawal (without regard to whether or not the Commission has certified the candidate for the program under this title as of the time the candidate submits such statement), so long as the candidate has not submitted a request for payment under section 502.

Subsection (a) of section 9005 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 is amended to read as follows:

(a) IN GENERAL.—In order to be eligible to receive any payments under section 9006, the candidates of a political party in a Presidential election cycle shall meet the following requirements:

(1) PARTICIPATION IN PRIMARY ELECTION SYSTEM.—The candidate for President received payments under chapter 96 for the campaign for nomination for election to be President.

(2) AGREEMENTS WITH COMMISSION.—The candidates, in writing, shall agree to keep and furnish to the Commission such evidence as it may request of the qualified campaign expenses of such candidates,

(a) automatic reduction on pro rata basis.—If, on the basis of the audit described in paragraph (1), the Commission determines that the amount anticipated to be available to pay any amounts required to be paid under such section.

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—The Commission shall—

‘‘(A) determine the amount that shall be reduced or not to be reduced, as the case may be, in the case of such candidate, and the amount that shall be paid to such candidate under such chapter by such pro rata amount as may be necessary to ensure that the aggregate amount of payments anticipated to be made with respect to the cycle will not exceed the amount anticipated to be available for such payments in the Fund.”

‘‘(C) NO USE OF AMOUNTS FROM OTHER SOURCES.—In any case in which the Commission determines that there are sufficient amounts in the Fund to restore the amount by which such payments were reduced or any portion thereof, to the extent that such amounts are available, the Commission may make a payment on a pro rata basis of such aggregate amount of payments anticipated to be made with respect to the cycle in the amount by which such candidate’s payments were reduced under subparagraph (A) or (B) for any portion thereof for the same cycle.”

‘‘(D) TERMINATION OF RELATIONSHIP WITH COMMISSION.—The candidate shall—

(1) the candidate to stop accepting payments and make any disbursements with respect to a prior election for such office in accordance with subparagraph (A) of paragraph (4); and

(2) by striking ‘‘20 States’’ and inserting the following: ‘‘20 States (disregarding any amounts from any candidate to the extent that the total of the amounts contributed by such resident for the election exceeds $200).’’

(1) the candidate will comply with the personal expenditure limitation under section 9035."

SEC. 5209. MODIFICATION OF ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS FOR PUBLIC FINANCING.

Subsection (a) of section 9005 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 is amended to read as follows:

(a) IN GENERAL.—In order to be eligible to receive any payments under section 9006, the candidates of a political party in a Presidential election cycle shall meet the following requirements:

(1) PARTICIPATION IN PRIMARY ELECTION SYSTEM.—The candidate for President received payments under chapter 96 for the campaign for nomination for election to be President.

(2) AGREEMENTS WITH COMMISSION.—The candidates, in writing, shall agree to keep and furnish to the Commission such evidence as it may request of the qualified campaign expenses of such candidates,
(3) Prohibition on joint fundraising committees.—

(A) Prohibition.—The candidates certifies in writing that the candidates will not establish a joint fundraising committee with another political committee other than another authorized committee of the candidate.

(B) Status of existing committees for prior election candidates.—A joint fundraising committee established by a joint fundraising committee described in subparagraph (A) with respect to a prior election for which the candidate was not eligible to establish a joint fundraising committee, and the candidate does not terminate the committee, the candidate shall not be considered to be in violation of subparagraph (A) so long as the joint fundraising committee does not receive any contributions or make any disbursements with respect to the election for which the candidate is eligible to receive payments under section 9006.

SEC. 5212. REPEAL OF EXPENDITURE LIMITATIONS AND USE OF QUALIFIED CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS.

(a) Use of qualified campaign contributions to defray expenses.—

(1) In general.—In order to be eligible to receive payments under section 9006, the candidates of a party in a Presidential election shall certify to the Commission, under penalty of perjury, that—

(A) such candidates and their authorized committees have not and will not accept any contributions to defray qualified campaign expenses other than—

(i) qualified campaign contributions, and

(ii) contributions to the extent necessary to make up any deficiency payments received out of the fund on account of the application of section 9006(c); or

(B) such candidates and their authorized committees have not and will not accept any contribution to defray expenses which would be qualified campaign expenses but for subparagraph (C) of section 9002(11).

(2) Timing of certification.—The candidate shall make the certification required under subparagraph (A) at the same time the candidate makes the certification required under subsection (a)(3).

(b) Definition of qualified campaign contribution.—

(1) In general.—The term ‘qualified campaign contribution’ means, with respect to any election for the office of President of the United States, a contribution from an individual to a candidate or an authorized committee of a candidate—

(A) does not exceed $1,000 for the election; and

(B) with respect to which the candidate has certified in writing that—

(i) the individual making such contribution has not made aggregate contributions (including such qualified contribution) to such candidate and the authorized committees of such candidate in excess of the amount described in subparagraph (A), and

(ii) and the authorized committees of such candidate will not accept contributions from such individual (including such qualified contribution) aggregating more than the amount described in subparagraph (A) with respect to such election.

(c) Conforming Amendments.—

(A) In general.—Section 9007(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 is amended by striking paragraph (2) and redesignating paragraphs (3), (4), and (5) as paragraphs (2), (3), and (4) respectively.

(B) Conforming Amendment.—Paragraph (2) of section 9007(b) of such Code, as redesignated by subparagraph (A), is amended—

(i) by striking ‘‘a major party’’ and inserting ‘‘a party’’;

(ii) by inserting ‘‘qualified contributions and’’ after ‘‘contributions (other than’’; and

(iii) by striking ‘‘other than qualified campaign expenses with respect to which payment is required under paragraph (2)’’.

(3) Criminal penalties.—

(A) Liability for excess expenses.—Section 9012 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 is amended by striking subsection (a) and inserting the following:

‘‘(13) Qualified campaign contribution to defray qualified campaign expenses. —The term ‘qualified campaign contribution’ means, with respect to—

(A) any election in which the candidate has participated and

(B) any election for which the candidate has qualified to participate, a contribution by an individual to a candidate for a Presidential election for which the candidate has certified in writing—

(i) by striking ‘‘a major party’’ and inserting ‘‘a party’’;

(ii) contributions to the extent that the total of the amount of each matchable contribution received by such candidate or by the candidate’s authorized committees (disregarding any amount of contributions from any person to the extent that the total of the amount of such contributions for the election exceeds $200), except that total amount to which a candidate is entitled under this paragraph shall not exceed $250,000,000; and

(2) Repeal of separate limitations for candidates of minor and new parties; in-proclamation adjustment.—Subsection (b) of section 9004 of such Code is amended to read as follows:

‘‘(b) Inflation adjustment.—In the case of any applicable period beginning after 2028, the $250,000,000 dollar amount in subsection (a) shall be increased by an amount equal to—

(A) such dollar amount, multiplied by—

(3) Rounding.—If any amount as adjusted under paragraph (1) is not a multiple of $10,000, such amount shall be rounded to the nearest multiple of $10,000.’’.

(3) Conforming Amendment.—Section 9005(a) of such Code is amended by adding at the end thereof the following sentence: ‘‘The Commission shall make such additional certifications as may be necessary to receive payments under section 9006.’’

(B) Matchable contribution.—Section 9002 of such Code, as amended by section 5212(b), is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

‘‘(14) Matchable contribution.—The term ‘matchable contribution’ means, with respect to the election to the office of President of the United States, a contribution by an individual to a candidate or an authorized committee of a candidate with respect to which the candidate has certified in writing that—

(A) the individual making such contribution has not made aggregate contributions (including such matchable contribution) to such candidate and the authorized committees of such candidate in excess of $1,000 for the election;

(B) such candidate and the authorized committees of such candidate will not accept contributions from such individual (including such matchable contribution) aggregating more than the amount described in subparagraph (A) with respect to such election; and

(C) such contribution was a direct contribution (as defined in section 9004(c)(3)).’’.

SEC. 5214. INCREASE IN LIMIT ON COORDINATED PARTY EXPENDITURES.

(a) In general.—Section 316(d)(2) of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30116(d)(2)) is amended to read as follows:

‘‘(2)(A) The national committee of a political party may not spend any expenditure in connection with the general election campaign of any candidate for President of the United States who is affiliated with such party which exceeds $15,000,000.

‘‘(B) For purposes of this paragraph—

(i) any expenditure made by or on behalf of the national committee of a political party and in connection with a Presidential election shall be considered to be made in connection with the general election campaign of any candidate for President of the United States who is affiliated with such party; and

(ii) any communication made by or on behalf of such party shall be considered to be made in connection with the general election campaign of a candidate for President of the United States who is affiliated with such party if any portion of the communication is in connection with such campaign.’’

(C) Any expenditure under this paragraph shall be in addition to any expenditure by a national committee of a political party serving as the principal campaign committee of a candidate for the office of President of the United States.

(2) PURPOSES AMENDMENTS RELATING TO TIMING OF COST-OF-LIVING ADJUSTMENT.—

(a) Section 9005(c)(1) of such Act (32 U.S.C. 30116(c)(1)) is amended—

(A) in subsection (B), by striking “(d)” and inserting “(d)(2)”; and

(B) by adding at the end the following new subparagraph:

“(2) In any calendar year after 2028—

“(i) the dollar amount in subsection (d)(2) shall be increased by the percent difference determined under subparagraph (A); and

“(ii) the amount so increased shall remain in effect for the calendar year; and

“(iii) if the amount after adjustment under clause (i) is not a multiple of $100, such amount shall be rounded to the nearest multiple of $100.”.

(i) by striking “(d)” and inserting “(d)(3)”;

(ii) by striking “and” at the end;

(B) in clause (ii), by striking the period at the end and inserting “; and”;

and

(C) by adding at the end the following new clause:

“(iii) for purposes of subsection (d)(2), calendar year 2027.”.

SEC. 5215. ESTABLISHMENT OF UNIFORM DATE FOR RELEASE OF PAYMENTS.

(a) DATE FOR PAYMENTS.—

(1) In general.—Section 9006(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 is amended to read as follows:

“(b) PAYMENTS FROM THE FUND.—If the Secretary of the Treasury receives a certification from the Commission under section 9005 for eligible candidates at the end of a political party, the Secretary shall pay to such candidates out of the fund the amount certified by the Commission on the later of—

(A) the last Friday occurring before the first Monday in September; or

(B) 24 hours after receiving the certifications for the eligible candidates of all major political parties.

Amounts paid to any such candidates shall be under the control of such candidates.”.

(b) TIME FOR CERTIFICATION.—The first sentence of section 9006(c) of such Code is amended by striking “the time of a certification by the Commission under section 9005 for participants and inserting “the time of making a payment under subsection (b)”.;

(c) TIME FOR CERTIFICATION.—Section 9006(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 is amended by striking “10 days” and inserting “24 hours”.

SEC. 5216. AMOUNTS IN PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN FUND.

Section 9008(c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 is amended by adding at the end the following new sentence: “In determining whether there are insufficient moneys in the fund for purposes of subparagraph (A), the Commission shall take into account the balance of the fund for a Presidential election year the Secretary estimates the amount of monies which will be deposited into the fund during the year, except that the amount of the estimate may not exceed the average of the amounts deposited in the fund during the previous 3 years.”.

SEC. 5217. USE OF GENERAL ELECTION PAYMENTS FOR GENERAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN COMPLIANCE.

Section 9002(11) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 is amended by adding at the end the following new sentence: “For purposes of subparagraph (A), an expense incurred by a candidate or authorized committee for general election legal and accounting compliance purposes shall be considered to be an expense to further the election of such candidate.”.

SEC. 5218. USE OF FREEDOM FROM INFLUENCE FUND AS SOURCE OF PAYMENTS.

(a) In General.—Subsection (d) of section 9007 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

“(c) ADDITIONAL USE OF FREEDOM FROM INFLUENCE FUND AS SOURCE OF PAYMENTS.

“(1) In General.—Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, effective for the Presidential election held in 2028 and each succeeding Presidential election, all payments made under this chapter shall be made from the Freedom From Influence Fund established under section 541 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971.

“(2) MANDATORY REDUCTION OF PAYMENTS IN CASE OF INSUFFICIENT AMOUNTS IN FUND.—

“(1) ADVANCE AUDIT BY COMMISSION.—Not later than 90 days before the first day of each Presidential election cycle, the Commission shall—

“(A) audit the Fund to determine whether, after first making payments to participating candidates under title V of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 and then making payments to candidates under chapter 96, the amounts remaining in the Fund will be sufficient to make payments to candidates under this chapter in the amounts provided under this chapter during such election cycle; and “(B) submit a report to Congress describing the results of the audit.

“(2) REDUCTIONS IN AMOUNT OF PAYMENTS.—

“(A) AUTOMATIC REDUCTION ON PRO RATA BASIS.—Beginning in the Fund will be sufficient to satisfy the full entitlements of candidates to payments under this chapter for such cycle, the Commission shall reduce each amount which would otherwise be paid to a candidate under this chapter by such pro rata amount as may be necessary to ensure that the aggregate amount of payments to candidates participating in the Presidential election cycle will not exceed the amount anticipated to be available for such payments in the Fund with respect to such cycle.

“(B) REDUCTIONS IN CASE OF INSUFFICIENT FUNDS DURING ELECTION CYCLE.—If, after reducing the amounts paid to candidates with respect to an election cycle, the Commission determines that there are sufficient funds in the Fund to restore the amount by which such payments were reduced (or any portion thereof, as the case may be),—

“(i) No payments from other sources.—In any case in which the Commission determines that there are insufficient moneys in the Fund to make payments to candidates under this chapter, such payments shall not be made available from any other source for the purpose of making such payments.

“(ii) No effect on amounts transferred for purposes of chapter 95.—This section does not apply to the transfer of funds under section 9008(1).”.

“(4) PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION CYCLE DEFINED.—In this section, the term ‘Presidential election cycle’ means, with respect to a Presidential election, the period beginning 90 days after the previous Presidential general election and ending on the date of the Presidential election.”.

(b) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of sections for chapter H of such Code is amended by adding at the end the following new item:

PART 3—EFFECTIVE DATE

SEC. 5221. EFFECTIVE DATE.

(a) In General.—Except as otherwise provided, this subtitle and the amendments made by this subtitle shall apply with respect to the first diesel engine family covered under section 541 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 and each succeeding Presidential election, without regard to whether or not the Federal Election Commission has promulgated the regulations necessary to carry out this part and the amendments made by this part.

Subtitle D—Personal Use Services as Authorization and Funding

SEC. 5301. SHORT TITLE; FINDINGS; PURPOSE.

(a) Short Title.—This subtitle may be cited as the “Help America Run Act”.

(b) Findings.—Congress finds the following:

(1) Everyday Americans experience barriers to entry before they can consider running for office to serve their communities.

(2) Current law states that campaign funds cannot be spent on everyday expenses that would exist whether or not a candidate were running for office and paying for food. While the law seems neutral, its actual effect is to privilege the independently wealthy who want to run, because given the demands of running for office, candidates who must work to pay for childcare or to afford health insurance are effectively being left out of the process, even if they have sufficient support to mount a campaign.

(3) Thus current practice favors those prospective candidates who do not need to rely on a regular paycheck to make ends meet. Those who work in professions that have first-hand knowledge of the importance of stable childcare, a safety net, or great public schools are less likely to get a seat at the table. This is antithetical to the democratic experiment, but most importantly, when lawmakers do not share the concerns of everyday Americans, their policies reflect that.

(4) These circumstances have contributed to a Congress that does not always reflect everyday Americans. The New York Times reported in 2019 that 45% of representatives cite blue-collar or service jobs in their biographies. A 2015 survey by the Center for Responsive Politics showed that the median net worth of lawmakers was just over $1 million in 2013, or 18 times the wealth of the typical American household.

(5) These circumstances have also contributed to the governing body that does not reflect the nation it serves. For instance, women are 51% of the American population. Yet even with a record number of women serving in the One Hundred Sixteenth Congress, the Pew Research Center notes that more than three out of four Members of this Congress are male. The Center for American Women and Politics found that third of women legislators surveyed had been actively discouraged from running for office, for instance... often by political professionals. This type of discouragement, combined with the prohibitions on using campaign funds for domestic needs like childcare, burdens that still fall disproportionately on American women, particularly disadvantages working mothers. These barriers may explain why only 10 women in history have given birth while serving in Congress, in spite of the prevalence of working parents in other professions. Yet working mothers and fathers are best positioned to create policy that reflects the lived experience of most Americans.

(3) Working mothers, those caring for their elderly parents, and young professionals who rely on their jobs for health insurance should have the freedom to run for office without the burden of being unelected of the United States. Their networks and net worth are simply not the best indicators of their strength as prospective public servants. Their networks and net worth are simply not the best indicators of their strength as prospective public servants.

FIDEHOLDERS.—Paragraph (1) does not apply with respect to an authorized committee of a candidate for that purpose).

The personal use services described in this paragraph are as follows:

(A) Child care services.

(B) Elder care services.

(C) Services similar to the services described in subparagraph (A) or subparagraph (B) which are provided on behalf of any dependent who is a qualifying relative under section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

(D) Health insurance premiums.

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall take effect on the date of the enactment of this Act.

(a) REDUCTION IN NUMBER OF MEMBERS; REMOVAL OF SECRETARY OF SENATE AND CLERK OF HOUSE AS EX OFFICIO MEMBERS.—

(i) an individual who served a 3-year term under subparagraph (B) may also be appointed to serve a 6-year term under subparagraph (A); and

(ii) for purposes of this subparagraph, an individual who is appointed to fill a vacancy under subparagraph (D) shall not be considered to have served a term if the portion of the unexpired term the individual fills is less than 50 percent of the period of the term.

(b) SPECIAL RULE FOR INITIAL APPOINTMENTS.—Of the members first appointed to serve terms that begin in January 2022, the President shall designate 2 to serve for a 3-year term.

(c) NO REAPPOINTMENT PERMITTED.—An individual who served a term as a member of the Commission may not serve for an additional term, except that—

(i) an individual who served a 3-year term under subparagraph (B) may also be appointed to serve a 6-year term under subparagraph (A); and

(ii) for purposes of this subparagraph, an individual who is appointed to fill a vacancy under subparagraph (D) shall not be considered to have served a term if the portion of the unexpired term the individual fills is less than 50 percent of the period of the term.

(d) VACANCIES.—A vacancy occurring in the membership of the Commission shall be filled in the same manner as in the case of the original appointment. Except as provided in subparagraph (C), an individual appointed to fill a vacancy shall not be considered to have served a term if the portion of the unexpired term the individual fills is less than 50 percent of the period of the term.

(e) LIMITATION ON SERVICE AFTER EXPIRATION OF TERM.—A member of the Commission may continue to serve on the Commission after the expiration of the member’s term for an additional period, but only until the earlier of—

(i) the date on which the member’s successor has taken office as a member of the Commission; or

(ii) the expiration of the 1-year period that begins on the last day of the member’s term.

(f) QUALIFICATIONS.—Section 306(a)(3) of such Act (52 U.S.C. 30106(a)(3)) is amended to read as follows—

(3) QUALIFICATIONS.—Section 306(a)(3) of such Act (52 U.S.C. 30106(a)(3)) is amended to read as follows—

(3) QUALIFICATIONS.—
“(1) IN GENERAL.—Prior to the regularly scheduled expiration of the term of a member of the Commission and upon the occurrence of a vacancy in the membership of the Commission whose term is expiring, or upon the expiration of any term, the President shall convene a Blue Ribbon Advisory Panel, consisting of an odd number of members selected by the President from among Federal judges, former law enforcement officials, or individuals with experience in election law, except that the President may not select any individual to serve on the panel who holds any public office at the time of selection.

“(ii) RECOMMENDATIONS.—With respect to each individual recommended by the President to the advisory commission whose term is expiring or each vacancy in the membership of the Commission (as the case may be), the Blue Ribbon Advisory Panel shall recommend to the President at least one but not more than three individuals for nomination for appointment as a member of the Commission.

“(iii) PUBLICATION.—At the time the President submits to the Senate the nominations for individuals to be appointed as members of the Commission, the President shall publish a notice in the Federal Register of the President’s recommendations for such nominations.

“(iv) EXEMPTION FROM FEDERAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE ACT.—The Federal Advisory Committee Act (section 307 of such Act (52 U.S.C. 30106(a)(5))) is amended to read as follows:

“(C) FORMING AMENDMENT TO OTHER BUSINESS OR EMPLOYMENT DURING SERVICE.—A member of the Commission shall not engage in any other business, vocation, or employment. Any individual who is engaging in any other business, vocation, or employment at the time of his or her appointment to the Commission shall terminate or liquidate such activity no later than 90 days after such appointment.”

SEC. 6003. ASSIGNMENT OF POWERS TO CHAIR OF FEDERAL ELECTION COMMISSION.

(a) APPOINTMENT OF CHAIR BY PRESIDENT.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Section 306(a)(5) of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30106(a)(5)) is amended to read as follows:

“(5) CHAIR.—

“(A) APPOINTMENT OF CHAIR BY PRESIDENT.—

“(1) INITIAL APPOINTMENT.—Of the members first appointed to serve terms that begin in January 2022 (as well as any individual who is appointed to fill a vacancy if such member does not serve a full term as Chair) shall serve as Chair of the Commission.

(1) ASSIGNMENT OF CERTAIN POWERS TO CHAIR.—Section 307(a) of such Act (52 U.S.C. 30107(a)) is amended to read as follows:

“(a) POWERS ASSIGNED TO CHAIR.—

“(A) ADMINISTRATIVE POWERS.—The Chair of the Commission shall have the powers, duties, and responsibilities of the chief administrative officer of the Commission and shall have the authority to administer the Commission and its staff, and (in consultation with the other members of the Commission) shall have the power—

“(1) to appoint and remove the staff director of the Commission, to make the budget requests to the President, and to make budget requests to the Commission with or without reimbursement; and

“(2) to request the assistance (including personnel and facilities) of other agencies and departments of the United States, whose heads shall be designated by the President for the purpose of making the budget requests to the President, the Director of the Office of Management and Budget, and Congress.

“(B) OTHER POWERS.—The Chair of the Commission shall have the power—

“(1) to appoint and remove the general counsel of the Commission with the concurrence of at least 2 other members of the Commission;

“(ii) to require by special or general orders, any person to submit, under oath, such written reports and answers to questions as the Chair may prescribe;

“(iii) to administer oaths or affirmations;

“(iv) to require by subpoena, signed by the Chair, the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of evidence in the same manner as authorized under clause (i); and

“(v) to pay witnesses the same fees and mileage as are paid in like circumstances in the courts of the United States.

“(C) FORMING AMENDMENT TO OTHER BUSINESS OR EMPLOYMENT DURING SERVICE.—A member of the Commission shall not engage in any other business, vocation, or employment. Any individual who is engaging in any other business, vocation, or employment at the time of his or her appointment to the Commission shall terminate or liquidate such activity no later than 90 days after such appointment.”

(2) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—Section 306(c) of such Act (52 U.S.C. 30106(c)) is amended by striking “The Commission shall have the power” and inserting “The Chair shall have the power”.

(c) CHAIR.—(A) The general counsel, upon receiving a complaint filed with the Commission under paragraph (1) or upon the basis of information ascertained by the Commission in the normal course of examining, the general counsel shall initiate an investigation of the matter or that the complaint should be dismissed. The general counsel shall promptly provide notification to the Commission in carrying out the investigation and the reasons therefore, together with any written response submitted under paragraph (1) by the person alleged to have committed a violation. In the event of the expiration of the 30-day period which begins on the date the general counsel provides such notification, the general counsel’s determination shall take effect, unless during such 30-day period the Commission, by vote of a majority of the members of the Commission who are serving at the time, rules as provided under the previous sentence, the general counsel shall initiate an investigation of the matter on behalf of the Commission.

“(B) If the Commission initiates an investigation pursuant to subparagraph (A), the Chair, through the general counsel, shall promptly notify the subject of the investigation of the alleged violation. Such notification shall set forth the factual basis for such alleged violation. The Commission shall make an investigation of such alleged violation, which may include a field investigation or audit, in accordance with the provisions of this section. The general counsel shall promptly notify the Commission of any intent to issue a subpoena or conduct any other form of discovery pursuant to the investigation. Upon the expiration of the 15-day period which begins on the date the general counsel provides such notification, the general counsel may issue a subpoena or conduct the discovery, unless during such 15-day period the Commission, by vote of a majority of the members of the Commission who are serving at the time, prohibits the general counsel from issuing the subpoena or conducting the discovery.

(3) Upon completion of an investigation under paragraph (2), the general counsel shall promptly submit to the Commission the general counsel’s recommendation that the Commission, whether or not the evidence is deemed insufficient to justify a belief that a violation has occurred or is about to occur, may file a petition with the United States District Court for the District of Columbia:

(ii) In any proceeding under this subparagraph, the court shall treat the failure to act on the complaint as a dismissal of the complaint, and shall determine by de novo review whether the agency’s failure to act on the complaint is contrary to law.

(2) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by paragraph (1) shall apply—

(a) to the case of complaints which are dismissed with respect to complaints which are dismissed on or after the date of the enactment of this Act; and

(b) in the event of complaints upon which the Federal Election Commission failed to act, with respect to complaints which were filed on or after the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 6005. PERMITTING APPEARANCE AT HEARINGS ON REQUESTS FOR ADVISORY OPINIONS BY PERSONS OPPOSING THE REQUESTS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 308 of such Act (52 U.S.C. 30108(b)(3)) is amended—

(1) by striking the period at the end of paragraph (1) and inserting the following:

"(A) by providing an opportunity for a person opposing the request (or counsel for such person) to appear before the Commission to present testimony in support of the request, and the person (or counsel) accepts such opportunity, the Commission shall provide a reasonable opportunity for an interested person who submitted written comments under subsection (d) in response to the request (or counsel for such interested party) to appear before the Commission to present testimony in response to the request;"

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendment made by subsection (a) shall apply with respect to requests for advisory opinions under section 308 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 which are made on or after the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 6006. PERMANENT EXTENSION OF ADMINISTRATIVE PENALTY AUTHORITY.

(a) EXTENSION OF AUTHORITY.—Section 305(a)(3) of such Act (52 U.S.C. 30105(a)(3)) is amended—

(1) in the case of complaints which are dismissed with respect to complaints which are dismissed on or after the date of the enactment of this Act; and

(2) by striking the period at the end of subsection (b) and inserting the following:

"(b) REQUIREMENTS.—A payment for a communication made by a candidate, or a political committee of a candidate, a political party, or a political committee of a political party, or agents of the candidate or committee, as defined in subsection (a), for an expenditure (as such term is defined in section 301(8)(A) which is not otherwise treated as a coordinated expenditure under clause (i) or clause (ii),".

(2) by adding at the end of subsection (a) the following new paragraphs:

"(2) EXCEPTION FOR PAYMENTS FOR CERTAIN CAMPAIGN MATERIAL.—(A) In general.—Any payment made by a candidate, political committee, or political party for a communication (including a covered communication described in subsection (b)) which is made in cooperation, consultation, or concert with, or at the request or suggestion of, any candidate, or an agent of the candidate or committee, shall be treated as a coordinated expenditure under this subsection if—

(i) the communication appears in a news story, commentary, or editorial distributed through the facilities of any broadcasting station, newspaper, magazine, or other periodical if the publication, unless the owner or controlled by any political party, political committee, or candidate; or

(ii) the communication is broadcast or re-broadcast at the request or suggestion of any candidate, political committee, or political party.
“(B) the communication constitutes a candidate debate or forum conducted pursuant to an order of the Commission pursuant to section 388(f)(3)(B)(iii), or which solely for purposes of subsection (a) or another order of the Commission, is made by or on behalf of the person sponsoring the debate or forum.

“(b) FUNDING DESCRIED.—(1) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of this section, a payment is made ‘in cooperation, consultation, or concert with,’ or at the request or suggestion of, a candidate, committee, or any agent of the candidate or committee, if the payment, or any other thing of value for which the person pays, is made by or on behalf of the person, independent of the candidate, committee, or agent. For purposes of the previous sentence, a payment or communication made independently of the candidate or committee includes any payment or communication made pursuant to any general or particular understanding with, or pursuant to any communication with, the candidate, committee, or agents about the payment or communication.

“(2) NO FINDING OF COORDINATION BASED SOLELY ON SHARING OF INFORMATION REGARDING LEGISLATIVE OR POLICY POSITION.—For purposes of subsection (a), a payment or any other thing of value is not considered to be made by a person in cooperation, consultation, or concert with, or at the request or suggestion of, a candidate or committee, if the person, or the person’s agent engaged in discussions with the candidate or committee, or with any agent of the candidate or committee, regarding that person’s position on a legislative or policy matter (including urging the candidate or committee to adopt that person’s position), so long as there is no coordination between the person and the candidate or committee, or any agent of the candidate or committee, regarding the candidate’s or committee’s campaign advertising, message, strategy, policy, polling, allocation of resources, fundraising, or other campaign activities.

“(3) NO EFFECT ON PARTY COORDINATION STANDARD.—Nothing in this section shall be construed to affect the determination of coordination between a candidate and a political committee of a political party for purposes of the first sentence of paragraph (1).”

“(c) Payments by Coordinated Spenders for Covered Communications.— (1) IN COOPERATION, CONSULTATION, OR CONCERT WITH CANDIDATES.—For purposes of subsection (a)(1)(A), if the person who makes a payment for a covered communication, as defined in subsection (d), or a coordinated spender under paragraph (2) with respect to the candidate as described in subsection (d)(1), the payment for the covered communication is made in cooperation, consultation, or concert with the candidate.

“(2) COORDINATED SPENDER DEFINED.—For purposes of this subsection, the term ‘coordinated spender’ means, with respect to a candidate or an authorized committee of a candidate, a person (other than a political committee of a political party) for any of the following purposes:—

“(A) During the 4-year period ending on the date on which the person makes the payment, the person was directly or indirectly formed or established by or at the request or suggestion of, or with the encouragement of, the candidate (including an individual who later becomes a candidate or an authorized committee of a candidate), or agents of the candidate or committee, including with the approval of the candidate or committee or agents of the candidate or committee.

“(B) The candidate or committee or any agent of the candidate or committee solicits funds, appears at a fundraising event, or engages in any activity on the person’s behalf during the election cycle involved, including by providing the person with other lists to be used by the person in engaging in fundraising activity, regardless of whether the person pays fair market value for the names or other lists provided. In the case of a communication which consists of a payment for a coordinated expenditure in an amount exceeding the applicable contribution limit under this Act, 300 percent of the amount by which the payment made by the person exceeds such applicable contribution limit; or

“(C) any communication which consists of a payment for a coordinated expenditure in an amount exceeding the applicable contribution limit under this Act, with respect to which the amount of the payment made by the person providing the professional services used in the communication is not paid by the person providing the professional services for the coordinated expenditure shall be jointly and severally liable for any amount of such penalty that is not paid by the person providing the professional services for the coordinated expenditure.”

“(d) Covered Communication Defined.—For purposes of this section, the term ‘covered communication’ means, with respect to a candidate or an authorized committee of a candidate, a public communication (as defined in section 301(22)) which—

“(1) expressly advocates the election of the candidate or the defeat of an opponent of the candidate (including an individual who later becomes a candidate or an authorized committee of the candidate); or

“(A) the date on which the person makes the payment, or (B) with respect to a candidate or an authorized committee of a candidate, the 60-day period which ends on the date of the election, or (C) with respect to an election for an office other than President or Vice President of the United States, the 60-day period which ends on the date of the election or convention or caucus.

“(2) SPECIAL RULES FOR COMMUNICATIONS INVOLVING CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATES.—For purposes of this subsection, a public communication shall not be considered to be a coordinated communication with respect to a candidate for election for an office other than the office of President or Vice President unless publicly disseminated or distributed in the jurisdiction of the office the candidate is seeking.

“(e) Penalties.—(1) DETERMINATION OF AMOUNT.—Any person who knowingly and willfully commits a violation of this Act by making a contribution which consists of a payment for a coordinated expenditure which exceeds the applicable contribution limit under this Act, 300 percent of the amount by which the payment made by the person exceeds such applicable contribution limit; or

“(2) JOINT AND SEVERAL LIABILITY.—Any director, manager, or officer of a person who is subject to a penalty under paragraph (1) shall be jointly and severally liable for any amount of such penalty that is not paid by the person prior to the expiration of such period which begins on the date the Commission imposes the penalty or the 1-year period which begins on the date of the final judgment following any judicial review of the Commission’s decision which affirms the finding of a violation of this Act; or

“(3) EFFECTIVE DATE.—(A) REPEAL OF EXISTING REGULATIONS ON COORDINATION.—Effective upon the expiration of the 90-day period which begins on the date of the enactment of this Act—

“(A) the amendments made by this Act to each of the Federal Election Commission’s regulations adopted by the Federal Election Commission which are in effect on the date of the enactment of this Act (as set forth in the Federal Register published under the heading ‘Coordination’); and “(B) the Federal Election Commission shall promulgate new regulations on coordinated communications which reflect the amendments made by this Act.

“(B) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this Act shall apply with respect to communications which consist of a payment for a coordinated expenditure in an amount exceeding the applicable contribution limit under the 120-day period which begins on the date of the enactment of this Act, without regard to whether or not the Federal Election Commission promulgate new regulations on coordinated communications in accordance with paragraph (1)(B) as of the expiration of such period.
SEC. 6103. CLARIFICATION OF BAN ON FUND-RAISING FOR SUPER PACS BY FEDERAL CANDIDATES AND OFFICEHOLDERS.

(a) In General.—Section 323(e)(1) of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30123(e)(1)) is amended—

(1) by striking “or” at the end of subparagraph (A);

(2) by striking at the end of subparagraph (B) and inserting “; or”; and

(3) by adding at the end the following new subparagraph:

“(C) solicit, receive, direct, or transfer funds to or on behalf of any political committee with respect to donations or contributions that do not comply with the limitations, prohibitions, and reporting requirements of this Act (or to or on behalf of any account or a payroll of a political committee which is established for the purpose of accepting such donations or contributions), or to or on behalf of any political organization under section 527 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 which accepts such donations or contributions (other than a committee of a State or local political party or a candidate for election for State or local office).”.

(c) Disclosure of returns of Presidents and Vice Presidents and certain candidates for President and Vice President.—

(1) In general.—Section 6103(i) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

“(2) Disclosure of return information of Presidents and Vice Presidents and certain candidates for President and Vice President—

(A) Candidates for President and Vice President.—Not later than the date that is 15 days after the date on which an individual becomes a covered candidate, the individual shall submit to the Federal Election Commission a copy of the individual’s income tax returns for the 10 most recent taxable years for which a return has been filed with the Internal Revenue Service.

(B) President and Vice President.—With respect to an individual who is the President or Vice President, not later than the due date for the return for each taxable year, such individual shall submit to the Federal Election Commission a copy of the individual’s income tax returns for the taxable year and for the 9 preceding taxable years.

(C) Transition rule for sitting Presidents and Vice Presidents.—Not later than the date that is 30 days after the date of enactment of this section, an individual who is the President or Vice President on such date of enactment shall submit to the Federal Election Commission a copy of the individual’s income tax returns for the 10 most recent taxable years for which a return has been filed with the Internal Revenue Service.

(2) Failure to disclose.—If any requirement under paragraph (1) to submit an income tax return is not met, the chairman of the Federal Election Commission shall submit to the Secretary a written request that the Secretary provide the Federal Election Commission with the income tax return.

(3) Publicly available.—The chairman of the Federal Election Commission shall make the tax return publicly available by making it publicly available, under the provisions of section 6103(i)(23) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as added by this section.

(4) Treatment as a report under the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971.—For purposes of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, any income tax return submitted under paragraph (1) or provided under such paragraph shall, after being submitted under paragraph (1) or provided under such paragraph, be treated as a report filed under the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971.

(d) Disclosure of returns of Presidents and Vice Presidents and certain candidates for President and Vice President.—

(1) In general.—Section 6103(i) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

“(2) Disclosure of return information of Presidents and Vice Presidents and certain candidates for President and Vice President—

(A) Candidates for President and Vice President.—Not later than the date that is 15 days after the date on which an individual becomes a covered candidate, the individual shall submit to the Federal Election Commission a copy of the individual’s income tax returns for the 10 most recent taxable years for which a return has been filed with the Internal Revenue Service.

(B) President and Vice President.—With respect to an individual who is the President or Vice President, not later than the due date for the return for each taxable year, such individual shall submit to the Federal Election Commission a copy of the individual’s income tax returns for the taxable year and for the 9 preceding taxable years.

(C) Transition rule for sitting Presidents and Vice Presidents.—Not later than the date that is 30 days after the date of enactment of this section, an individual who is the President or Vice President on such date of enactment shall submit to the Federal Election Commission a copy of the individual’s income tax returns for the 10 most recent taxable years for which a return has been filed with the Internal Revenue Service.

(2) Failure to disclose.—If any requirement under paragraph (1) to submit an income tax return is not met, the chairman of the Federal Election Commission shall submit to the Secretary a written request that the Secretary provide the Federal Election Commission with the income tax return.

(3) Publicly available.—The chairman of the Federal Election Commission shall make the tax return publicly available by making it publicly available, under the provisions of section 6103(i)(23) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as added by this section.

(4) Treatment as a report under the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971.—For purposes of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, any income tax return submitted under paragraph (1) or provided under such paragraph shall, after being submitted under paragraph (1) or provided under such paragraph, be treated as a report filed under the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971.

(e) List of reports.—As soon as practicable after the date of enactment, the Commission shall submit to the Congress a list of the reports required to be submitted under this subsection, including such other reports as the Commission deems appropriate.

(f)丛转发cning or removal of the requirement under this subsection from the submission or report.

(g) Structure of submitted report.—The chairman of the Federal Election Commission shall ensure that each congressionally mandated report submitted to the Director to review congressionally mandated reports from the previous calendar year, in consultation with the Clerk of the House of Representatives.

(h) Relationship to the Freedom of Information Act—(1) In general.—Nothing in this subtitle shall be construed to—

(1) require the disclosure of information or record from the reports online portal only may be changed or removed, with the exception of technical changes, by the head of the Federal agency concerned;

(2) the head of the Federal agency consultations with each congressional committee to which the report is submitted; and

(3) be updated and provided to the Director, as necessary.

Sec. 10002. Presidential and Vice Presidential tax transparency.

(a) Definitions.—In this section—

(1) the term “covered candidate” means a candidate of a major party in a general election for the office of President or Vice President;

(2) redact information being withheld under this subsection from the submission or report, and identify the exemption under which each such redaction is made.

(b) Disclosure to the public.—(1) In general.—The chairman of the Federal Election Commission shall make publicly available each income tax return which is so requested to officers and employees of the Federal Election Commission whose official duties include disclosure or redaction of such return under this paragraph.

(2) Effective date.—The amendments made by this subsection shall apply to disclosures made on or after the date of enactment of this Act.

The Acting CHAIR. No further amendment to the bill, as amended, shall be in order except those printed in part B of House Report 116-16 and amendments en bloc described in section 3 of House Resolution 116.

Each further amendment printed in part B of the report may be offered only in the order printed in the report, by a Member designated in the report, shall be considered as read, shall be debatable for the time specified in the report equally divided and controlled by the proponent and an opponent, shall not be subject to amendment, and shall not be subject to a demand for division of the question.

It shall be in order at any time for the chair of the Committee on House Administration or her designee to offer amendments en bloc consisting of amendments printed in part B of the report not earlier disposed of. Amendments en bloc shall be considered as read, shall be debatable for 20 minutes equally divided and controlled by the chair and ranking minority member of the Committee on House Administration. Each amendment shall not be subject to amendment, and shall not be subject to a demand for division of the question.

AMENDMENT NO. 1 OFFERED BY MR. SUOZZI

The Acting CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 1 printed in part B of House Report 116-16.

Mr. SUOZZI from New York, as well as Mr. GOTOHERM from New York, Mr. GOTTHEIMER from New Jersey, Mr. MCGOVERN and his staff on the Problem Solvers Caucus, chaired by my friends Mr. REED from New York, Mr. GOTTHEIMER for the Republicans, and Chairman GOTTHEIMER for the Democrats.

I would also like to commend Chairman MCGOVER and his staff on the Rules Committee—and the entire Rules Committee—for making our amendment order and for working with the Problem Solvers Caucus and other pragmatic Members to foster an inclusive process.

Our bipartisan amendment No. 1 to H.R. 1, with 24 Democrats and 20 Republican cosponsors, would require the Federal Election Commission to conduct an audit after each Federal election cycle to determine any incidence of illicit foreign money in the election.

The reason we have such a bipartisan-supported amendment is because of the hard work of the Problem Solvers Caucus, chaired by my friends Mr. REED for the Republicans and Chairman GOTTHEIMER for the Democrats.

In January, our colleagues on the Problem Solvers Caucus worked with the leadership to negotiate the 20–20 rule as part of our Break the Gridlock proposal. This amendment is the first amendment to receive preferential treatment under the 20–20 rule by the Rules Committee, and we are happy to see our addition to the package passed last week.

Mr. Chairman, campaign finance law has loopholes, leaving the American electoral process susceptible to illicit funding from individuals, corporations, and governments. Foreign money easily influences our elections by passing funds through shell corporations, U.S. subsidiaries, investments, trade associations, and shell companies. Under our proposed amendment, within 190 days of an election, the FEC will submit to Congress a report containing audit results and recommendations to address the presence of illicit foreign money.

I urge the members of this Congress to continue to utilize the 20–20 rule and gain some muscle memory of working in a bipartisan way to work for the American people.

Confidence in our electoral process is essential to faith in our government institutions. I urge the passage of this bipartisan amendment to H.R. 1.

Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. REED. Mr. Chair, I seek the Republican amendment time.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman from New York is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. REED. Mr. Chair, I would like to start by thanking my colleague, Mr. SUOZZI from New York, as well as our Republican colleague, Mr. FITZPATRICK, who led the charge on this amendment process in this amendment before you.

I would also take a moment to thank my co-chair on the Problem Solvers Caucus, Mr. GOTTHEIMER from New Jersey.

Though we may disagree on the fundamental bill before us, Mr. Chairman, I am pleased to be able to report to the American people today that there are still Members here that are looking to find common ground.

In the amendment before you that has been put forward in this new mechanism in the Rules Committee to encourage bipartisan debate, we have found that common ground in regards to the transparency and the requirements that this amendment calls for in regards to making sure that, if foreign money is in our election process, we do not worry about the ability of foreign money to spend to influence. I know nefarious actors are out there. I know they are tireless in their commitment to target our foundational institutions, including our voting process.

The American people shouldn’t have to worry about the ability of foreign governments or corporations to influence our elections and our citizens, but senseless loopholes in our campaign finance system have left our electoral process vulnerable to spending by foreign governments, corporations, and foreign nationals. These foreign entities should not have the ability to exert influence over the issues that impact Americans most, including the national defense, healthcare, and our financial services sector. That is why I am proud to cosponsor this much-needed bipartisan amendment.

This amendment would strengthen the integrity of our elections by encouraging our government to ensure... that our campaign finance system is not falling prey to signs of foreign money in our politics. It would require the FEC to conduct an audit to look for foreign money in our elections and then require the FEC to report its findings.

Mr. REED. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1½ minutes to the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. GOTTHEIMER), Democratic co-chair of the Problem Solvers Caucus, in the spirit of bipartisanship and in this effort to find common ground.

Mr. GOTTHEIMER. Mr. Chairman, I thank my co-chair of the Problem Solvers Caucus, Tom Reed, for his leadership.

Mr. Chair, thank you for allowing me to speak on behalf of this important bipartisan amendment to H.R. 1. I also want to thank Congresswoman Lop- gren and Congressman Sarbanes for their leadership on this legislation. And strengthening the rights in our amendment, my very good friend Congressman Suozzi and Congressman Fitzpatrick, I thank them for their work on this bipartisan Problem Solvers Caucus initiative, which I know will further help improve H.R. 1 by stopping the flow of foreign money into our elections.

This amendment was developed with strong support from the bipartisan Problem Solvers Caucus, utilizing the new Break the Gridlock rules reforms that the caucus helped put in place in the new Congress.

This is the first time the 20–20 rule is being utilized for broad, bipartisan support legislation. And an amendment like this sends exactly the right signal to the American people that we can work together to move legislation.

I am proud to be a cosponsor of H.R. 1, the For the People Act, which will help strengthen the voting rights in our country, help clean corruption out of our politics, and protect free and fair elections, which is the bedrock of our democracy.

Civil rights means everyone in our great Nation has equal rights and, therefore, equal speech. Dark money in our politics flies in the face of that American ideal, from wherever it comes. Even worse is dark foreign money.

Loopholes in our campaign finance system have left our electoral process vulnerable to unlimited spending by foreign governments, corporations, and foreign nationals in our elections. We have seen that foreign entities are able to spend undisclosed amounts of money to influence U.S. elections by using subsidiaries, shell corporations, or advocacy groups to hide their influence.

In 2016, American Pacific International Capital, a company owned by Chinese nationals, distributed these loans to donate $1.3 million to a super-PAC in the Presidential election.

The Acting CHAIR. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mr. REED. Mr. Chair, I yield the gentleman an additional 15 seconds.

Mr. GOTTHEIMER. Even in this most recent election in 2018, Iran, China, and Russia all attempted to influence American voters and policy.

Americans on both sides of the aisle agree this is a critically important issue that we must do something about. The adoption of this amendment will further codify the intent of Congress to end unchecked foreign spending, which is the scourge of our democracy.

Mr. Chair, I look forward to more support for 20–20 legislative amendment.

Mr. SUOZZI. Mr. Chair, I reserve the remainder of my time to close.

Mr. REED. Mr. Chair, I have no other speakers and am prepared to close.

Mr. Chairman, as we wrap up the debate on this amendment, I hope we have demonstrated that there is common ground to be found in this Chamber.

I would like to take a moment to thank, again, my colleagues, but also the Rules Committee, Mr. McGovern, and my friend Chairman Fitzpatrick, a Republican from Pennsylvania, who have worked very hard on this, as did the other colleagues who have spoken here already.

I encourage all Members on both sides of the aisle. Utilize this new rule path to bring forth ideas that benefit the American people in a bipartisan way.

At the end of the day, this amendment is something we should all support for the reasons articulated by my colleagues on the other side and as articulated, hopefully, by myself today in regards to supporting this reform that goes at the issue of foreign money in our elections.

Mr. Chair, I encourage our Members to support this amendment, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. SUOZZI. Mr. Chairman, I want to applaud my colleague on this bill, this bipartisan effort. Mr. Chairman, Mr. Fitzgerald, a Republican from Pennsylvania, who couldn’t be here today, but he worked very hard on this, as did the other colleagues who have spoken here already.

The people of America are hungering for bipartisanship. They are hungering for people to work together to try and solve the problems in this country.

We hope that the use of the 20–20 rule and this amendment, with 21 Democrats and 20 Republicans, is one small step in the process to demonstrate that people can work together to solve problems.

Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from New York (Mr. SUOZZI).

The amendment was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 2 OFFERED BY MR. BUTTERFIELD

The Acting CHAIR (Mr. CÁRDENAS). It is now in order to consider amendment No. 2, printed in part B of House Report 116-16.

Mr. BUTTERFIELD. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment at the desk.
Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chairman, I claim time in opposition to this amendment.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chairman, I appreciate my good friend and colleague from North Carolina’s assertion that we have to be cognizant of what is happening in rural America and how, maybe, a top-down approach from Washington may not be the best approach when we might not have public transportation opportunities in many of the rural areas that he and I both serve.

But, as Mr. BUTTERFIELD is a member of the House Administration Committee, I would have hoped that this amendment would have been offered during the committee markup, the markup, the only markup that was held on this 622-page bill. We offered 28 amendments on the Republican side and not a single one was accepted.

These are the types of amendments I would have loved to have seen have bipartisan support in the committee process because I am from a rural area. I understand sometimes it is difficult for people in rural areas to vote.

But we have got to leave it up to the States and localities to be able to determine where these polling places are going to go, especially in the rural areas.

We have a hard enough time having somebody here in Washington figure out where everybody is going to be in an office every 2 years. Can you imagine somebody in a concrete building out here in Washington, D.C., determining where a polling place should or should not be in a town that I represent in central Illinois?

That is my problem with this bill; it is an approach that takes away the ability for locals to really truly get polling places in areas that are accessible for every voter to be able to cast their vote.

Mr. BUTTERFIELD. Mr. Chairman, I want every single American to be able to vote. Every vote, every single vote in every American vote deserves to be counted and protected.

I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. BUTTERFIELD. Mr. Chairman, the gentleman from North Carolina would remember that at the subcommittee markup, or the full committee markup, we did have a very healthy discussion about this topic. I acknowledge that no amendment was offered at the committee, but I felt a consensus, Mr. Davis, when we discussed it at the committee, and I thought that it would be accepted by the other side.

But I am here to say that rural communities deserve to have polling locations that are convenient to all of its citizens. We are talking about Federal elections, not local elections, so I would ask my colleagues to reconsider and support this amendment.

Mr. Chairman, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. SARABANES).

Mr. SARABANES. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman for yielding, and I want to thank him for his work on House Administration. I know, as well, that Congressman ANTHONY BROWN helped with this particular amendment.

This is really critical. This is all about, and H.R. 1, in large part, is about the journey to the ballot box, and how do we make that journey easier for people; how do we make sure that they can get there without too much of an undue burden; and that is what this would do for rural voters.

This would require that States ensure that the polling places are located in rural areas. So this idea that somebody in Washington is going to be deciding where the location is, that is preposterous. We are just saying make sure that the State figures it out; and so each State can decide what makes the most sense in terms of placing these voting places for rural voters.

So it is a commonsense amendment. I want to thank the gentleman for introducing it and, definitely, I support it.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chairman, my colleague from North Carolina is right; we had a good, healthy discussion on how rural voters could be adversely impacted by the original language that was in the bill that would have required polling places to be next to areas of mass transit.

Well, as I said, there are many areas we serve that don’t have access to mass transit. My problem is not with what this amendment does. My problem, again, is with the process.

My problem is how are we going to determine—and my biggest fear is that if Washington is determining where polling places should go, maybe we are not allowing the locals to determine best how to ensure that voters get easiest access to being able to cast their vote.

I want to work with the gentleman from North Carolina to address many rural needs, especially when it comes to our oversight responsibility of elections. And I certainly hope—I do believe this amendment will pass—and I certainly hope, if it becomes a law, which I don’t believe H.R. 1 will become law, but I would really encourage us to be able to work together after this is done and maybe work in a separate fashion, Democratic, Independent, or other political party candidates and political committees’ needs. And I look forward to working with the gentleman.

Mr. Chairman, I know we have a lot of amendments, so I will go ahead and yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. BUTTERFIELD. Mr. Chair, let me thank the gentleman for his comments and thank him for his friendship. The gentleman is right; we do serve on the House Administration Committee together. He is the ranking member of the committee and Ms. Lofgren and I have many opportunities to work together, and I look forward to working with the gentleman and all of the committee on very important issues as we go forward.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. BUTTERFIELD).

The amendment was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 3 OFFERED BY MR. RASKIN

The Acting CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendments No. 3 printed in part B of House Report 116-165.

Mr. RASKIN. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment at the desk.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

SEC. 106. ASSESSMENT OF SHAREHOLDER PREFERENCES FOR DISBURSEMENTS FOR POLITICAL PURPOSES.

(a) ASSESSMENT REQUIRED.—The Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (15 U.S.C. 78a et seq.) is amended by inserting after section 304 a new section 304:

"SEC. 304. ASSESSMENT OF SHAREHOLDER PREFERENCES FOR DISBURSEMENTS FOR POLITICAL PURPOSES.

(a) ASSESSMENT REQUIRED BEFORE MAKING A DISBURSEMENT FOR A POLITICAL PURPOSE.—

(1) REQUIREMENT.—An issuer with an equity security listed on a national securities exchange may not make a disbursement for a political purpose unless:

(A) the issuer has in place procedures to assess the preferences of the shareholders of the issuer with respect to making such disbursements; and

(B) such an assessment has been made within the 1-year period ending on the date of such disbursement.

(2) TREATMENT OF ISSUERS WHOSE SHAREHOLDERS ARE PROHIBITED FROM EXPRESSING PREFERENCES.—Notwithstanding paragraph (1), an issuer described under such paragraph with procedures in place to assess the preferences of its shareholders with respect to making disbursements for political purposes shall not be considered to meet the requirements of such paragraphs if a majority of the number of the outstanding equity securities of the issuer are held by persons who are prohibited from expressing partisan or political preferences by law, contract, or the requirement to meet a fiduciary duty.

(b) ASSESSMENT REQUIREMENTS.—The assessment described under subsection (a) shall assess:

(1) which types of disbursements for a political purpose the shareholder believes the issuer should make;

(2) whether the shareholder believes that such disbursements should be made in support of, or in opposition to, Republican, Democratic, or independent party candidates and political committees;

(3) whether the shareholder believes that such disbursements should be made with respect to elections for Federal, State, or local office; and

(4) such other information as the Commission may specify, by rule.

(c) DISBURSEMENT FOR A POLITICAL PURPOSE DEFINED.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of this section, the term ‘disbursement for a political purpose’ means any of the following:

(A) A disbursement for an independent expenditure, as defined in section 301(t) of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30101(t)),

(B) A disbursement for an electioneering communication, as defined in section 301(f) of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30104(f)).

"(C) A disbursement for any public communication, as defined in section 301(22) of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30101(22)—

(ii) which expressly advocates the election or defeat of a clearly identified candidate for Federal office, or in any other election or political purpose unless the corporation has in place procedures to assess the preferences of its shareholders with respect to making such disbursements, as provided in section 10E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.;

(d) OTHER DEFINITIONS.—In this section, each of the terms ‘candidate’, ‘election’, ‘political committee’, and ‘political party’ has the meaning given such term under section 301 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30101).

(b) PROHIBITED DISBURSEMENTS BY CORPORATIONS FAILING TO ASSESS SHAREHOLDER PREFERENCES.—Section 301 of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (52 U.S.C. 30101) is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

(1) PROHIBITION.—It shall be unlawful for a corporation to make a disbursement for a political purpose unless the corporation has in place procedures to assess the preferences of its shareholders with respect to making such expenditures, as provided in section 10E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

(2) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall apply with respect to disbursements made on or after December 31, 2019.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 172, the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. RASKIN) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

Mr. RASKIN. Mr. Chair, I yield myself such time as I may consume, and I rise to offer this amendment to H.R. 1.

For decades, the law prevented business corporations from engaging in campaign spending. But the Supreme Court destroyed that prohibition with its watershed decision in 2010, in the Citizens United case, which, for the first time, defined for-profit business corporations as political membership associations and, thereby, unleashed billions of dollars in corporate treasury money into our political system. Since then, corporations have taken advantage of this newfound constitutional identity and political freedom by investing hundreds of millions of dollars, perhaps billions, in campaign expenditures and the torrent of ‘dark money’ now coursing through the political system.

But who are these corporations speaking for? Well, according to the court, they are speaking for the shareholders. Writing for the majority, Justice Kennedy took the position that corporate political campaigning is on behalf of the shareholders, an association of individuals who have taken on the corporate form. But, in reality, we know that CEOs engage in political spending without the knowledge, much less the consent of the shareholders whose First Amendment rights are allegedly being exercised.

Anyone who has a retirement fund with money invested in corporate equities will know that they have never been asked whether they want a portion of their retirement money invested in Republican or Democratic or other campaigns. The CEOs just do it without their participation.

What can be done to stop shareholders’ money from being spent on campaigns without their knowledge or consent? Most Americans want a constitutional amendment to reverse Citizens United and restore the definition of corporations as economic entities barred from politics. But there is something that we can do right now, short of that, simply by enforcing Citizens United on its own terms. Justice Kennedy said the main check against abuse of this new right would be exercised by the ‘shareholders through the procedures of corporate democracy.’

Justice Kennedy said the main check against abuse of this new right would be exercised by the ‘shareholders through the procedures of corporate democracy.’

Mr. Chair, again, as I mentioned earlier, I would have liked to have seen these amendments offered during our House Administration markup as my good friend from Maryland is also a member of the House Administration Committee.

There was some discussion on issues like this and I was under the impression, during that markup process, that provisions like my opponent put into this amendment were already part of the bill.

But let me add, this amendment would turn businesses and corporations into partisan political entities and shareholder meetings and votes into political events.

It would require corporations to poll their shareholders on whether the corporation’s political spending should be... made in support of, in opposition to Republican, Democratic, Independent, or other political party candidates and political committees. Business decisions drive corporations’ political spending. This would inject political considerations into corporate political spending.

And let me remind the American people, corporations are banned by law currently to be able to give directly to candidates or to organizations that will directly support or oppose candidates during an election cycle. This is going to further polarize our political environment.

This amendment also relies on unconstitutionally vague and intent-based standards for what corporate spending is covered by the shareholder preference assessment requirement. It is going to encourage the current practice of activists taking hold of proxy advisory firms to socially engineer public policies through proxy shareholder votes. There is no transparency to proxy advisory firms. I am opposed to this amendment because it is vague and impractical, and would, again, infringe upon free speech. It is not clear what speech is covered under this amendment and that is, perhaps, the worst part.

The practical effect of this amendment would be that the companies would not have shareholder elections under this standard. Many would probably stop paying dues to these organizations because the language might be construed to cover that. That would be a bomb on many of the largest and most important trade groups. No similar requirement for other organizations as part of this bill, of course.

Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. RASKIN. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentleman for those thoughtful comments. The ranking member of the House Administration Committee contends that we talked about this in the House Administration Committee which, indeed, we did, and it was precisely that discussion which led to the formation of the amendment.

I am afraid there he is just protesting against the character of the legislative process. We have a discussion; we learn things; we develop new amendments. And for a moment there it sounded like he wanted to vote for it, but then he turns around and makes the point that what he is really concerned about is that corporate money go directly to candidates. I don’t take corporate dollars. Frankly, I am probably one of the ones standing in this institution tonight who had many of these super-PAC dollars spent against me in the last election. They can’t take corporate dollars. But the issue at hand is, in another part of the bill where this new Freedom From Influence Fund is put together, they are now going to use corporate dollars to create a fund that is flowing through the Federal Treasury that is perhaps billions of dollars to create a fund that is flowing through the companies. That would protect voters’ due process rights when it comes to signature matching, would protect voters’ due process rights when it comes to signature matching laws, would de novo effectuate the right to vote. And it would protect voters’ due process rights when it comes to signature matching laws, would de novo effectuate the right to vote because of penmanship. In the wake of the 2018 midterms, Florida’s signature matching law was deemed unconstitutional because it allowed county election officials to reject vote-by-mail ballots for mismatched signatures, with no standards, an illusory cure process, and no process to challenge the rejection. Ballots being rejected because of perceived signature mismatch heavily affect voters already at the margins: trans and gender-nonconforming people, people for whom English is a second language, military personnel, and women. I am very pleased to see that H.R. 1 would protect voters’ due process rights when it comes to signature matching laws by requiring proper notice and an opportunity to cure.

My amendment, amendment No. 4, builds on that by requiring States to submit a report to Congress after the end of a Federal election cycle regarding the number of ballots invalidated due to a discrepancy in a voter’s signature. The amendment, amendment No. 4, builds on that by requiring States to submit a report to Congress after the end of a Federal election cycle regarding the number of ballots invalidated due to a discrepancy in a voter’s signature. The attempts to contact voters to provide notice that a discrepancy exists between the signature on the ballot and the signature on the official list of registered voters, and the cure process and results. I am very pleased to see that H.R. 1 would protect voters’ due process rights when it comes to signature matching laws by requiring proper notice and an opportunity to cure.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment. The text of the amendment is as follows:

MR. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, I urge a “yes” vote, and I reserve the balance of my time.
Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, while I appreciate my good friend from Florida's amendment, this amendment doesn't go far enough. It does nothing to stem the practice of ballot harvesting.

Ballot harvesting is a practice of States allowing any person to collect any number of absentee ballots and then deliver them to the polls. It could be even after election day.

This practice, of course, is ripe for fraud, most notably in North Carolina how it can be abused to the advantage of political campaigns.

In North Carolina's Ninth District, the individual who harvested ballots for a Republican, where we will now have a special election, was caught because the practice is illegal. It is unlikely that he would have been caught in a State like California, because the practice is perfectly legal.

Take the current law in California. A signature is invalid if the ballot turned in by a harvester doesn't match a signature in the voter file, but the campaign can cure this by getting the voter in question to submit an affidavit that they voted. Then that signature only has to match the signature in the voter file, not the signature on the ballot.

A harvester could theoretically take a bunch of ballots, submit them with forged signatures, and then collect signatures afterward, since the campaigns would have no record of the signatures that were rejected.

Loose standards relating to providing notice to voters whose signatures were mismatched, as well as a lengthy cure process without any safeguards, disenfranchise voters who showed up and cast votes before or on election day.

Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. HASTINGS. Mr. Chairman, I appreciate my good friend's suggestions, but the amendment, as written, could have anything to do with ballot harvesting, and I imagine that there are others who are going to address that particular subject.

Mr. Chair, I yield the balance of my time.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chair, I would just note that the ballot harvesting issue, I think, has very little to do with the amendment offered by Mr. HASTINGS and that the remedy that has been suggested by my friend, Mr. DAVIS, was to use the system that was in place in North Carolina. Obviously, that didn't work. The remedy to fraud is prosecution, which is what is happening in North Carolina. I would note that, as we mentioned at the Rules Committee last night, in California, you can give your ballot that is sealed not only to your son, but to your next-door neighbor. You might be an elderly person who doesn't have family around.

There has been no credible allegation of fraud, and we had monitors from both the Republican and Democratic parties, people from House Administration. There was no credible allegation of a problem.

Mr. Chair, let's not compare apples and oranges. Let's support Mr. HASTINGS' amendment.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. HASTINGS. Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Florida (Mr. HASTINGS). The amendment was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 5 OFFERED BY MR. COLE
The Acting CHAIR. The amendment is in order to consider amendment No. 5 printed in part B of House Report 116-16. Mr. COLE. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment at the desk.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Chairman, I rise today in support of my amendment to H.R. 1.

Mr. Chairman, this is a commonsense amendment that will maintain current law. Beginning with the National Defense Authorization Act of 2012 and continuing to appropriation processes for every fiscal year since, I sponsored an amendment that barred the government from requiring Federal contractors to disclose campaign contributions as a condition for submitting a bid on a Federal contract. The amendment was adopted by the House on at least four occasions, it passed on a bipartisan basis and was signed into law by President Obama.

Since H.R. 1 would remove this prohibition, I offer this amendment today to ensure that this ban remains in law. I have strong concerns that H.R. 1 attempts to repeal this provision. If the Federal Government would require contractors to disclose campaign contributions, it is only human nature that information like that would influence the bidding decisions. The Democratic proposal will do just that.

Mr. Chairman, it has never been a good idea to mix politics and contracting. The danger of that is obvious. The information that could be required of contractors in the absence of this protection is not necessary to evaluate a bid made by a Federal contractor. It raises legitimate fears of political retaliation. If the information isn't necessary for the bid or the evaluation of the bid, then it is not necessary for the government to have it in the first place and run the risk that it might be misused.

All that I am asking, Mr. Chairman, is that we leave the law as it is, the disclosure requirements as they are, and ensure that political contributions do not become a litmus test to receive a government contract.

Mr. Chair, for those reasons, I urge adoption of the amendment, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chair, I claim the time in opposition to the amendment.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman from California is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chair, I yield myself as much time as I may consume.

The gentleman's amendment to H.R. 1 would keep in place a provision of law that was inserted into must-pass pieces of legislation over the past few years. It makes it harder for voters to follow the money when it comes to government contractors and political spending.

The amendment is anathema to the purposes of H.R. 1, which is to bolster confidence and trust in the American Government and shine a light on secret spending in elections. The gentlemens' amendment would further the status quo of dark money in our elections, exacerbate the pay-to-play culture as part of the contracting process and curb any appearance of corruption. The amendment is anathema to the purposes of H.R. 1, which is to bolster confidence and trust in the American Government and shine a light on secret spending in elections. The gentlemens' amendment would further the status quo of dark money in our elections, exacerbate the pay-to-play culture as part of the contracting process and curb any appearance of corruption. government contractors enter this web, it poses the exact type of threat to the integrity of our democratic system that our campaign finance laws are intended to protect against.

While Federal law prohibits contractors contributing to political candidates and parties, their directors, officers, and other affiliates could still give unlimited sums of dark money to groups that do not disclose their campaign-related donors, and that is why H.R. 1 would repeal the restriction on disclosure.

The court held 8 to 1 in Citizens United that “The First Amendment protects political speech; and disclosure permits citizens and shareholders to react to the speech of corporate entities in a proper way. This transparency enables the electorate to make informed decisions and give proper weight to different speakers and messages.”

The public has a right to follow the money, including money from government contractors to dark-money groups that did not disclose their spending.

H.R. 1 ensures disclosure and transparency, both of which are critical to open and responsive democracy that protects the public interest. And this amendment, although I am sure well-intentioned, takes us in the wrong direction.

Mr. Chairman, I urge a “no” vote on this amendment, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from South Carolina (Mr. Norman), my good friend.

Mr. NORMAN. Mr. Chairman, I am a contractor. We build business and we build projects. If you want to see something that is going to skyrocket cost, the fact of asking what party and where they donate money has nothing to do with transparency. It just has to do with what political affiliation you have and it could weigh heavily in who is selected for a job, which has nothing to do with the job that you are doing.

Mr. Chairman, I rise in support of Congressman Cole’s amendment to maintain the status quo and prevent the government from using politics as a litmus test when evaluating bids from contractors.

When the government buys goods or services, the only concern should be getting the best job at the best price, not who the company did or did not donate to in the last election. Companies should compete on value, not party loyalty.

We see what happens when politics influences who receives government money. Let me give you an example.

In December 2011, The Washington Post released a bombshell report finding “Obama’s green technology program was infused with politics at every level.”

The Post found, through its review of thousands of memos and emails, that “Political considerations were raised repeatedly by company investors, Energy Department bureaucrats, and White House officials.”

Do you know what the result was? $500 million of taxpayer money went to a company called Solyndra, which went bankrupt. We can let that happen again, but that is what requiring companies bidding on contracts to disclose their political activity as part of the bid process would lead to.

All contracts of the kind this provision of H.R. 1 is that it repeals something we all just agreed to less than 1 month ago. If this amendment isn’t adopted, H.R. 1 will repeal a provision of the funding bill we just passed.

Two hundred and thirteen Democrats voted for the funding bill. I know this is a town of evolving political positions and flip-flopping, but I think that might just set up a new record. I can’t believe this body would vote for something like this and a month after to repeal it. Back home they call that a bait and switch.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, I would just note that when a rider is added to the appropriations bill, you have to vote for the whole package to keep the government open.

Mr. Chairman, I yield the remainder of my time to the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. SARBANES).

Mr. SARBANES. Mr. Chairman, as you know from the discussion today, we obviously feel very strongly that there needs to be as much disclosure as possible and transparency and accountability when it comes to how money flows into the political arena. I think the public has a particular apprehension about how insidious spending can be when it has to do with government contractors. The public deserves to know who is spending in their politics and, particularly, if contractors—who are the ones who are going to get these government contracts—are spending in a way that could potentially influence the contracting decisions.

In a sense, what is happening is people are leaning on the government potentially using money and influence in a way that cuts against what the public interests might be.

That is why prohibiting the executive branch from even considering—what is this rider does. It actually prohibits the executive branch from even sitting down and considering whether there should be certain rules that should govern what happens in the contractor space in terms of political spending. That doesn’t make any sense. That doesn’t make common sense that the executive branch ought to be able to figure out some rules so that that transparency is in place.

That is why we want to repeal it. That is why we have that in H.R. 1. I oppose this amendment that would strike the repeal.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Chairman, may I inquire how much time I have remaining.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman from Oklahoma has 1 minute remaining.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Chairman, I want to disagree very profoundly with my friend.

Frankly, what this amendment does is keep politics out of contracting. My friends want to put politics back into contracting. The decisions, as my friend, Mr. Norman, mentioned, on contracts, ought to be made on the basis of the quality of the bid and the quality of the job. There is no reason to ask for political information when you are evaluating whether or not a bridge should be built or whether or not a road should be paved and who should do that.

Frankly, what we are going to do is inject politics by requiring the list of political contributors. If you don’t think that will matter, I think you are being painfully naive.

Mr. Chairman, I urge support of the amendment, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Oklahoma (Mr. Cole). The question was taken, and the Acting Chair announced that the noes appeared to have it.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Chairman, I demand a recorded vote.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to clause 6 of rule XVIII, further proceedings on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Oklahoma will be postponed.

Amendment No. 6 offered by Ms. Scanlon

The Acting CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 6 printed in part B of House Report 116-16.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment at the desk.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Page 311, insert after line 8 the following new subtitle and conform the succeeding subtitles accordingly:

Subtitle F—Election Security Grants Advisory Committee

SEC. 3501. ESTABLISHMENT OF ADVISORY COMMITTEE.

(a) In General.—Subtitle A of title II of the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (52 U.S.C. 20921 et seq.) is amended by adding at the end the following:

PART 4—ELECTION SECURITY GRANTS ADVISORY COMMITTEE

SEC. 225. ELECTION SECURITY GRANTS ADVISORY COMMITTEE.

(a) Establishment.—There is hereby established an advisory committee (hereinafter in this part referred to as the ‘Commission’) to assist the Commission with respect to the award of grants to States under this Act for the purpose of election security.

(b) Duties.—

(1) In General.—The Committee shall, with respect to an application for a grant recommended by the Commission—

(A) review such application; and

(B) recommend to the Commission whether to award the grant to the applicant.

(2) Considerations.—In reviewing an application pursuant to paragraph (1)(A), the Committee shall consider—
“(A) the record of the applicant with respect to—
“(i) compliance of the applicant with the requirements under subtitle A of title III; and “(ii) adoption of voluntary guidelines issued by the Commission under subtitle B of title III; and “(B) goals and requirements of election security as described in title III of the For the People Act of 2019.

(c) MEMBERSHIP.—The Committee shall be composed of 15 individuals appointed by the Executive Director of the Commission with experience and expertise in election security.

(d) NO COMPENSATION FOR SERVICE.—Members of the Committee shall not receive compensation for their service, but shall be paid travel expenses, including per diem in lieu of subsistence, at rates authorized for employees of agencies under subchapter I of chapter 57 of title 5, United States Code, while away from their homes or regular places of business in the performance of services for the Committee.”

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 172, the gentlewoman from Pennsylvania (Ms. SCANLON) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Pennsylvania.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Chairman, my first amendment is amendment No. 6. This straightforward amendment would establish a committee of election security experts to review grant requests to ensure that funds for election security infrastructure are best spent.

This committee would be established under the Election Assistance Commission, the EAC, and act alongside the three existing Federal advisory committees that were created under the Help America Vote Act.

Currently, the three existing boards have advisory and oversight responsibilities to assist the EAC in carrying out its duties under the law and reviewing voluntary voter system guidelines. There is not, however, enough expertise within these three committees to properly determine how funds related to election security grants are best spent.

Electoral security is one of the critical pillars of H.R. 1, and my amendment would help ensure that the EAC has everything it needs to properly vet grants to help improve and secure voting systems across the United States.

Mr. Chairman, I urge a “yes” vote, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SCHWEIKERT. Mr. Chairman, I rise in opposition to the amendment.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman from Arizona is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. SCHWEIKERT. Mr. Chairman, having read over the amendment, there are a couple of concerns I want to walk you through. And please understand, I am one of those—I co-chair the Blockchain Caucus—I have a fascination with could we ever move to encrypted blockchain security of these levels of information.

But if you actually walk through this amendment, it is a little hollow in its details. The executive director gets to appoint a 15-member, we will call it, committee. Tell me that those 15 members in this amendment can’t have relationships to security as a firm, or with a certain vendor, or with certain things. I will argue that you are creating now functionally a fourth committee within the commission and handing an awful lot of power to the executive director. A lot of details. The gentlemen who argued against the last amendment was suggesting that it would be too intrusive to interject too much specificity in the amendment, so I guess we have a flip situation here. In parallel to the three existing commissions and have the 15-person committee appointed using the same processes.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SCHWEIKERT. Mr. Chairman, the intent of the amendment is to establish a committee that parallels the three existing committees and, therefore, would use the same properties as those established, saying here is how, cetera.

The gentleman who argued against the last amendment was suggesting that it would be too intrusive to interject too much specificity in the amendment, so I guess we have a flip situation here. In parallel to the three existing commissions and have the 15-person committee appointed using the same processes.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SCHWEIKERT. Mr. Chairman, I appreciate and I love the concepts of technology. I am really concerned. This should actually be a bipartisan concern, because at some point is that executive director going to be one party or another, or demonstrate certain political bias?

But if you hand sole authority to the executive director to appoint a 15-member commission that is going to determine where the grants are going, I am going to review these grants and what sort of grants and direction, I am sorry, but you are creating all sorts of both policy leakage here, potentially a favoritism to certain technologies or security vendors or firms. I don’t have a problem with the attention. I think it is actually an authority that should have been given to one of the other committees instead of creating a fourth one, because we have this tendency, as Members of Congress, to sort of create bureaucracies on top of bureaucracies.

But please understand—and I am being as genuine as I can—I fear that it may happen now, it may not happen for a few years, but you are creating, as technology changes, as there will be a time in our future where I may be voting through a blockchain technology on my phone, have you just created the environment that actu- ically said: Hey, here is the security mechanism. Oh, by the way, our security mechanics favor the seven people who actually have a relationship to this particular security encryption who have a friend who is a friend? I am sorry; it is just not designed with enough comfort when this is about our voting system.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Chairman, I appreciate the fact that we share a common concern about our election security and an interest in using the best technology to protect our democracy.

The intent here is to make sure that we are spending congressional dollars wisely as there are these grants being awarded. The amendment was devised, after hearing from interested parties, that there was not sufficient expertise on the three existing committees. And I would suggest that if the dangers, which the word the gentleman has suggested, were to come to pass, that that would be an excellent opportunity for congressional oversight.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SCHWEIKERT. Mr. Chairman, how much time do I have remaining?

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman from Arizona has 2 minutes remaining.

Mr. SCHWEIKERT. Mr. Chairman, having been here for a little while, be very concerned when people often bring those issues and bring those—be careful. You may have good intentions. And the intentions of often those who bring us a thought or an attitude until we create whether they have particular potential economic interests—I am just sharing my concern—the amendment, just as it is designed right now, our side is going to have to vote no because we create a fourth level. We don’t create enough definitions. We hand so much power to the executive director.

Mr. Chairman, I would love to talk to the gentlewoman about election encryption and my personal fixation on blockchain technology. But for this one, I think we may miss the mark.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentlewoman from Pennsylvania (Ms. SCANLON) for yielding, and I thank her for her amendment.

I would just say very quickly, this is a good amendment that actually improves the bill. And to the point of the gentleman from Arizona (Mr. SCHWEIKERT), it is because technology is changing quickly all the time and one has to kind of keep ahead of the curve on that to make sure the decisions are made in a sensible way, that having a committee that can assemble the kind of expertise that you need to bring to bear on a decision like this fourth level, seems. It can allow the EAC to function better.

Evaluating these security grants, I think, makes a lot of sense, and they can keep up-to-date on what the changing technology is so that the EAC can be responsive to that.

So I think it is an outstanding amendment. I want to thank the gentlewoman from Pennsylvania (Ms.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Chair, I urge a "yes" vote on the amendment, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentlewoman from Pennsylvania (Ms. SCANLON).

The amendment was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 7 OFFERED BY MS. SCANLON

The Acting CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 7 printed in part 4 of the report 116–16.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Chair, I have a second amendment at the desk.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

SEC. 5114. STUDY AND REPORT ON SMALL DOLLAR FINANCING PROGRAM.

(a) STUDY AND REPORT.—Not later than 2 years after the completion of the first election cycle in which the program established under title V of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as added by section 5111, is in effect, the Federal Election Commission shall—

(1) assess—

(A) the amount of payment referred to in section 50A(a)(1) of such Act; and

(B) the amount of a qualified small dollar contribution referred to in section 50A(a)(1) of such Act; and

(2) submit to Congress a report that discusses whether such amounts are sufficient to meet the goals of the program.

(b) UPDATE.—The Commission shall update and revise the study and report required by subsection (a) on a biennial basis.

(c) TERMINATION.—The requirements of this section shall terminate ten years after the date on which the first study and report required by subsection (a) is submitted to Congress.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 172, the gentlewoman from Pennsylvania (Ms. SCANLON) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Pennsylvania.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Chair, my next amendment is Amendment No. 7.

The amendment would require the Federal Election Commission to conduct a study to specifically assess whether the small donor match cap and the 6-to-1 ratio contained in H.R. 1 is appropriately scaled for both House and Senate elections.

H.R. 1 will empower everyday Americans through each of these systems by bringing more and more people into the political fold.

This system of small donor campaign funding is relatively new to the Federal system but has been tried in States and localities nationwide to great effect. New York City has had a matching funds program in place since the 1980s, and over 80 percent of the 2015 Connecticut State Legislature was elected under the Citizens’ Election public financing program.

It is important and necessary to study these issues at the Federal level, and my amendment would ensure that the Federal Government has all of the relevant information it needs when proceeding with any future changes to these programs.

Mr. Chair, I urge a "yes" vote, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SCHWEIKERT. Mr. Chair, I rise in opposition to the amendment.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman from Arizona is recognized for 2 minutes.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Chair, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. SARBANES).

Mr. SARBANES. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding.

The gentleman is right. There are examples of these systems across the country. Actually, Maryland has, now, two jurisdictions that have embraced public financing.

You are worried about the moderates being wiped out. In fact, what is happening is the moderates are fleeing the political town square because they feel like their vote doesn’t matter and their engagement doesn’t matter because they support people who then go to places where laws are made, and those folks are getting taken hostage by the big money and the special interests.

So the point is this: What is the point? I am going to opt out of the political system.

And when they vacate the political town square, then the extremes run in, and that’s where—what happened? You had to go knock on a door. You had to ask someone for a couple hundred dollars. You had to listen to them. They would look you in the eye, and if they thought you weren’t worthy, you walked out the door without anything. It turns out asking for money is part of the vetting process.

Well, a few years later—so we have had it for 25 years in Arizona—here is what happened:

You are part of the group over here on the right or you are part of this group on the left. In Arizona, you get a couple hundred dollars. You had to listen to them. They would look you in the eye, and if they thought you weren’t worthy, you walked out the door without anything. It turns out asking for money is part of the vetting process.

So, actually, if you want to bring moderates back in, if you want to bring citizens across the political spectrum back into our system, create something that makes them feel empowered. That is what this small donor matching system is all about. Then you will get these people who have run up into the hills and have said: My democracy doesn’t respect me anymore.

So this is a very important amendment because it will give us a retrospective on how the system is working. We can collect that data, and then that will inform any improvements we want to make going forward.

Mr. Chair, I congratulate the gentlewoman on her amendment, and I support it.

Mr. SCHWEIKERT. Mr. Chair, how much time is remaining?

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman from Arizona has 2½ minutes remaining.

Mr. SCHWEIKERT. Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance.

Ms. SCANLON. Mr. Chair, I appreciate the thoughtful queries from the gentleman from Arizona, and that is precisely what this amendment is driving towards. It is an amendment to H.R. 1 which sets up a small dollar financing program, and this will allow us to assess how it is working forward.
Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SCHWEIKERT. Mr. Chair, I accept this as—and I don’t mean this in a mean fashion, but I accept this as one of the tenets of faith on the Democratic side.

Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

The gentleman from Maryland—wonderfully articulate—that isn’t what happened. I mean, you have 25 years in other States and other communities, particularly in legislative bodies. I thought the same thing.

But the fact of the matter is, what you do in this fashion is the person who is part of a certain leftist group, right group: I just need these folks to write me enough checks so that I get enough matching, or a good direct mail vendor who hits the ideological extreme so I get those dollars.

Those aren’t the facts. And on occasion, we have to take a step back and take a look at some of the incubators of democracy and experience, which is our State legislatures, and understand the reality of what has happened.

I am a conservative. It worked out fine for my view of the world, but understanding—at least in my State legislature—within 4 years, this type of plan completely changed the character of the population that was representing the people in Arizona.

Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SCANLON. Mr. Chair, I would just close by saying, once again, the intent of this is to study and make sure we have the best possible system going forward.

I know that Representative SARBANES and others have studied the existing mechanisms out there to try and implement this kind of small donor matching system. I am sorry it didn’t work out in Arizona, but I think we have a great plan here going forward.

Mr. Chair, I urge a “yes” vote, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. SCHWEIKERT. Mr. Chair, wishes and hopes and optimism are not public policy. Be careful what you are asking for here. There are real-life examples across our country with what this did to our democracy. Understand the damage you are about to do.

Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from New York (Mr. MORELLE) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from New York. Mr. MORELLE. Mr. Chair, I rise today to offer an amendment intended to make it easier to register to vote by ensuring the deadline does not fall on a public holiday.

Millions of registration applications are handled through the mail and through local Departments of Motor Vehicles. Current Federal law requires States to accept registration forms postmarked or submitted 30 days before an election.

However, Mr. Chair, it just so happens, in some years, 30 days before election day falls exactly on Columbus Day, Indigenous Peoples’ Day, or another public holiday. This results in a shorter window for pre-election registration, and many Americans may not even realize the holiday could disrupt their plans to register. Without Postal Service or DMV hours on the holidays, some voters have been unable to get their registrations in on time.

My amendment makes a simple change. The deadline to postmark your ballots, register online or visit a government office to submit your registration will be changed from 30 days to 28 days prior to election day.

This provides voters simply more time to submit their registration without burdening local election officials with rapid turnaround time and ensures that the deadline never falls on a holiday.

Every day leading up to election day is an opportunity for thousands of Americans across the country to update their registration or register for the first time. By ensuring the cutoff for advanced registration is only 28 days before an election and ensuring that date doesn’t fall on a public holiday, we can give more Americans the chance to participate in their election.

Now, H.R. 1 already allows for same-day voter registration in every State—a policy I strongly support—as it will make it easier for every citizen to exercise their franchise. But H.R. 1 still provides for a period of time to register in advance if they so choose; and when they choose that option, this amendment will give them enough time to do so, making certain that their paperwork is not rejected for being postmarked or submitted on a public holiday.

This is a simple change, but it is one that can make voting a little easier for Americans across the Nation, and I hope we can all agree that is a change worth making.

Mr. Chair, I ask my colleagues to support this amendment, and I thank the ranking member for his extraordinary work, as well as the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. SARBANES), the sponsor of the bill.

Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from New York (Mr. MORELLE).

The amendment was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 8 OFFERED BY MR. MORELLE

(a) In general.—Section 8(a)(1) of the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 (52 U.S.C. 20507(a)(1)) is amended by striking “30 days” each place it appears and inserting “28 days”.

(b) Effective date.—The amendment made by subsection (a) shall apply with respect to elections held in 2020 or any succeeding year.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 172, the gentleman from New York (Mr. MORELLE) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from New York. Mr. MORELLE. Mr. Chair, I rise today to offer an amendment intended to make it easier to register to vote by ensuring the deadline does not fall on a public holiday.

But H.R. 1 still provides for a period of time to register in advance if they so choose; and when they choose that option, this amendment will give them enough time to do so, making certain that their paperwork is not rejected for being postmarked or submitted on a public holiday.

This is a simple change, but it is one that can make voting a little easier for Americans across the Nation, and I hope we can all agree that is a change worth making.

Mr. Chair, I ask my colleagues to support this amendment, and I thank the ranking member for his extraordinary work, as well as the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. SARBANES), the sponsor of the bill.

Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from New York (Mr. MORELLE).

The amendment was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 9 OFFERED BY MS. SHALALA

The Acting CHAIR (Mr. CARTWRIGHT). It is now in order to consider amendment No. 9 printed in part B of House Report 116–16.

Ms. SHALALA. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment at this time.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

In section 8022 of title VIII, insert after subsection (c) the following (and redesignate subsection (d) as subsection (e)):

(d) Report to Congress.—Not later than 45 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Director of the Office of Government Ethics shall submit a report to Congress on the impact of the application of subsection (b), including the name of any individual who received a waiver or authorization described in subsection (a) and who, by operation of subsection (b), submitted the information required by such subsection.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 172, the gentlewoman from Florida (Ms. SHALALA) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Florida. Ms. SHALALA. Mr. Chairman, last year, we learned that of the 59 EPA hires, roughly a third worked as registered lobbyists or lawyers for fossil fuel producers, chemical manufacturers, or other corporate clients. Several of these EPA hires have gotten waivers, allowing them to participate in actions involving their former clients. This directly impacts my district.

In my district, climate change and sea level rise aren’t debated. These are not partisan issues because, for Miami, climate change is life or death. There are no climate deniers in south Florida. This is a real-life example of why these ethics waivers matter, and they matter to my constituents.

I am very pleased that H.R. 1 mandates that the executive branch promptly disclose waivers of executive branch ethics rules to the Office of Government Ethics.

My amendment will maximize transparency by highlighting who is now captured by the upgraded ethics waiver regime. We need to know who is now getting these waivers, why they are getting it, and what are the implications. We need to know the impact so that we can simply uphold our constitutional duty as Members of Congress and hold this administration accountable and hold future administrations accountable.

Whether it impacts climate change policy, foreign policy, health policy, or any of the American people deserve to know who is working behind closed doors in their government.

Mr. Chair, I urge a "yes" vote, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Chairman, I rise in opposition to the amendment.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman from Ohio is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Chair, H.R. 1 as currently drafted requires the Office of Government Ethics to make ethics waivers issued to executive branch employees publicly available. The bill goes even further to mandate ethics waivers issued prior to the enactment of this legislation must also be made publicly available.

This amendment requires OGE to submit a report to Congress within 45 days of enactment regarding the implications of the retroactive applications of the ethics waiver process.

H.R. 1 already gives the Office of Government Ethics vast new authorities and vast new responsibilities. This amendment would just place an additional burden on OGE, and I would urge, Mr. Chairman, that all Members oppose the amendment from the gentlewoman from Florida.

I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. SHALALA. Mr. Chair, I do not believe that this is an undue burden on the Office of Government Ethics. It is simply a request for us to apply the new waiver to see what the explanations are for the number of ethics waivers that have already been given. It is simply a transparency issue, and it is perfectly appropriate for Congress to request this information.

Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. SHALALA. Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The Acting Chair understands that amendment No. 10 will not be offered at the desk.

AMENDMENT NO. 11 OFFERED BY MR. BIGGS

The Acting CHAIR. The Acting CHAIR. The Acting Chair is now in order to consider amendment No. 11 printed in part B of House Report 116–16.

Mr. BIGGS. Mr. Chair, I have an amendment at the desk.

The Acting CHAIR. The Acting CHAIR. The Acting Chair will designate the amendment. The text of the amendment is as follows:

PART 8—VOTER REGISTRATION EFFICIENCY ACT

SEC. 1082. REQUIRING APPLICANTS FOR MOTOR VEHICLE DRIVERS LICENSES IN NEW STATE TO INDICATE WHETHER STATE IS PREVIOUS STATE OF RESIDENCE FOR VOTER REGISTRATION PURPOSES.

(a) REQUIREMENTS FOR APPLICANTS FOR LICENSES—Each State under the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 (52 U.S.C. 20504) is amended—

(1) by striking "Any change" and inserting "(1) Any change"; and

(2) by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

"(2)(A) A State motor vehicle authority shall require each individual applying for a motor vehicle driver’s license in the State—

"(i) to indicate whether the individual resides in another State or resided in another State prior to their license, and, if so, to identify the State involved; and

"(ii) to indicate whether the individual intends for the State to serve as the individual’s residence for purposes of registering to vote in elections for Federal office.

"(B) If pursuant to subparagraph (A)(ii) an individual indicates to the State motor vehicle authority that the individual intends for the State to serve as the individual’s residence for purposes of registering to vote in elections for Federal office, the authority shall notify the chief State election official of such State that the individual intends for the new State to serve as the individual’s residence for purposes of registering to vote in elections for Federal office.

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by subsection (a) shall take effect with respect to elections occurring in 2019 or any succeeding year.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 172, the gentleman from Arizona (Mr. BIGGS) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Arizona.

Mr. BIGGS. Mr. Chairman, since the United States has a very mobile population—roughly 40 million Americans, or 14 percent of the United States population, move each year—voters rarely remain in just one place. If they move, and voters can often be on the voter rolls in two or even more different States at one time. Unless States have an efficient way of communicating with one another, it is possible that they may not be able to identify an individual who is on the rolls in two different States.

This bill, H.R. 1, makes it more difficult for States to use systems provided for under the National Voter Registration and HAVA. Under current law, States can send out cards and go through a process, which was upheld by the Supreme Court of the United States in Ohio in 2018.

What my amendment does, simply, is require that new State residents apply for a driver’s license notify the State if they intend to use their new residency for the purpose of voting; and if so, the amendment would mandate that the new State notify the applicant’s previous State of residence so its chief election official can update voter lists accordingly.

The amendment protects voters who are only making temporary moves to another State, while enabling States to more efficiently manage the voter registration file for the vast majority of applicants who are making a permanent move to a new State.

Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent to claim the time in opposition, although I do not oppose the amendment.

The Acting CHAIR. Is there objection to the request of the gentlewoman from California?

There was no objection.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentlewoman from California is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chair, this amendment would require applicants for motor vehicle licenses to indicate whether they previously resided in a different State and which State the applicant intends to be their residence for the purpose of voter registration. I think it could be helpful in terms of preventing registrations in two States. However, it is potentially redundant with other provisions in H.R. 1.

When all States implement automatic voter registration, States will transmit change of address duplicate license information electronically and wouldn’t need to collect this information from individuals.

Further, States are able to use a reliable set of data for sharing information on registered voters, called the Electronic Registration Information Center, established originally by the Pew Charitable Trusts, currently utilized by 26 States—by the way, including Arizona—so it has a very high accuracy rate.

Nevertheless, redundancy is our friend, and I certainly do not oppose this amendment.

Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. BIGGS. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentlewoman, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Arizona (Mr. BIGGS).

The amendment was agreed to.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chair, I move that the Committee do now rise.

The Acting CHAIR. The Acting CHAIR. The Acting Chair is now in order on the motion that the Committee rise. Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Chair, I withdraw motion for the Committee to rise.

The Acting CHAIR. Without objection, the motion is withdrawn.

There was no objection.

AMENDMENT NO. 12 OFFERED BY MR. TED LIEU OF CALIFORNIA

The Acting CHAIR. The Acting CHAIR. The Acting Chair is now in order to consider amendment No. 12 printed in part B of House Report 116–16.

Mr. TED LIEU of California. Mr. Chair, I have an amendment at the desk.

The Acting CHAIR. The Acting Chair will designate the amendment. The text of the amendment is as follows:

After subtitle G of title VIII, insert the following (and redesignate subtitle H as subtitle I):
Eliminating waste, fraud, and abuse has long been a bipartisan mission of the U.S. Congress, and I can think of few more obvious candidates than paying for private jets for Cabinet officials to travel across the country. As every Member of Congress knows, you can reach any district of the U.S. just flying commercial.

I think it is disturbing I even have to introduce this amendment, but let me just walk folks through some of the corruption we have seen in the last 2 years.

Former HHS Secretary Tom Price spent more than $400,000 in travel on private jets.

Former Interior Secretary Ryan Zinke spent over $30,000 of taxpayer funds on a helicopter tour of national monuments in Nevada. He then spent an additional $12,000 of taxpayer funds on a private jet to go to Las Vegas, Nevada, to speak to a hockey team owned by a major donor.

Former Veterans Affairs Secretary David Shulkin spent over $122,000 in taxpayer funds to go with his wife to Europe for the primary purpose of sightseeing.

Then we have got former EPA Administrator Scott Pruitt, who spent at least $58,000 on chartered flights. I could go on.

If this had been law, they would not have been able to do this. Hardworking Americans deserve better. A vote against this amendment is really something that taxpayers would not appreciate.

Mr. Chairman, I urge my colleagues to vote “yes” on this commonsense amendment, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Chairman, I rise in opposition.

The Acting CHAIR. The Acting CHAIR. Mr. Chairman, I rise in opposition.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is ordered to the amendment offered by Mr. Chair.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Insert after section 8005 the following:

SEC. 8006. GUIDANCE ON UNPAID EMPLOYEES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 120 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Director of the Office of Government Ethics shall issue guidance on ethical standards applicable to unpaid employees of an agency.

(b) DEFINITIONS.—In this section—

(1) the term "agency" includes the Executive Office of the President and the White House; and

(2) the term "unpaid employee" includes an individual occupying a position at an agency who is unpaid by operation of section 3110 of title 5, United States Code, or any other provision of law, but does not include any employee who is unpaid due to a lapse in appropriations.

ethics rules as everyone else is simply basic common sense. It is not a Democratic issue or a Republican issue, but it is core to our democracy and our national security.

The purpose of ethics rules, Mr. Chairman, is to ensure that conflicts of interest do not interfere in the operations of our government. This is critical so that the American people trust that the people guiding our country’s laws and policies are acting with the best interests of our country and the American people at heart and not for personal or business interests. But President Trump’s hiring of his daughter Ivanka Trump, and son-in-law, Jared Kushner, as unpaid advisers has raised serious concerns.

Shortly after the 2016 elections, Ivanka Trump participated in her dad’s meeting with the Japanese Prime Minister as her namesake clothing brand, Ivanka Trump Marks LLC, was simultaneously negotiating a licensing deal with the brand. As she also mentioned, this is clearly to go after Jared Kushner and Ivanka Trump. It seems to me this is not the kind of thing that the average person out there could understand why you would make that kind of distinction. So this is a very logical thing to do. Just because you are not paid doesn’t mean you might not have a conflict of interest.

So this is an amendment that simply directs the Office of Government Ethics to come up with some rules to make sure that senior administration officials who are not paid, who draw no salary, are still going to abide by the ethics laws.

Again, if the job here of all of us is to meet the expectations of the public in terms of how things should function up here in Washington, abiding ethics standards and observing conflicts of interest rules, then this means that expectation directly. I think it is a good amendment.

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. JAYAPAL. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, once again, I just reiterate that what we are saying is whether you are paid or unpaid, you have to go through the same security clearances and standards you would if you are paid or unpaid, you have to deal with the same ethics regulations. Particularly when unpaid employees are put into serious positions where national security clearances are required and where they have access to top secret information, we need to make sure that those ethics rules apply to everybody.

Now, frankly, we didn’t see this as a loophole in the past because it hasn’t been exploited in the same way, but, unfortunately, that is what is happening now.

Mr. Chairman, I think that this should raise serious concerns for anybody. We need to make sure that the people in our government are facing the same transparent ethics rules whether you are a relative of the person in the Oval Office or not.

We have ethics laws for a reason. The United States is not a despotic country built on nepotism, and we need to make sure that it is in everyone’s best interest when all of these employees are subject to ethics laws, including laws that prohibit employees from participating in matters in which they have a financial interest or from misusing their official positions.

Mr. Chairman, I strongly urge my colleagues to support this amendment, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentlewoman from Washington (Ms. JAYAPAL).

The amendment was agreed to.

Amendment No. 14 offered by Ms. JAYAPAL.

The Acting CHAIR. It is now in order to consider in part B of House Report 116-16.

Ms. JAYAPAL. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment at the desk.
Mike Pompeo has certified that the country has been protecting civilians just last year. Most recently, Saudi Arabia murdered U.S.-based journalist Jamal Khashoggi while President Trump rejected the evidence from his own intelligence agencies that Saudi Arabia’s crown prince ordered the murder.

How does Saudi Arabia maintain its relationship with the United States? It shouldn’t surprise anyone that Saudi Arabia spent about $27 million on U.S. lobbying and public relations in 2017 alone.

Individuals affiliated with the Trump administration like Paul Manafort and Michael Flynn have also taken substantial sums of money from foreign countries to lobby the American Government.

Paul Manafort lobbied on behalf of pro-Russian forces in Ukraine in 2005, and prosecutors allege that Mr. Manafort was working on Ukrainian politics well into 2018, even after Special Counsel Mueller indicted him. He didn’t even report the payments he was receiving for his lobbying efforts, in flagrant violation of current law.

Though not charged with lobbying illegally, Manafort has still had a long history of lobbying on behalf of the world’s most brutal dictators, including Mobutu Sese Seko, Ferdinand Marcos, and Jonas Savimbi. He is rumored to have accepted a bribe from a Marcos affiliate with $10 million in cash to give to the Reagan campaign.

Finally, Michael Flynn, President Trump’s former National Security Advisor, worked on a $15 million plan to kidnap a political enemy of Turkish President Erdogan and fly him to an island prison. Mr. Flynn was paid at least $530,000 for lobbying on behalf of the Turkish Government between August and November of 2016. Mr. Chair, he did not retroactively register as a foreign agent with the Justice Department until March 7, 2017.

This is a commonsense amendment that brings transparency and ensures that we protect our system from this type of lobbying from those countries that have gross human rights violations.

Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Chair, I reserve in opposition to the amendment.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman from Ohio is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Chair, another bad amendment to a bad bill. This amendment suffers from the same defects as the underlying bill. It continues the same regrettable trend by our colleagues on the other side of the aisle of trying to silence speakers they don’t like.

Portions of this bill are so radical that, as we have said several times already, even the ACLU came out today and asked Members of this body not to vote for it. The ACLU said H.R. 1 would unconstitutionally burden free speech and associational rights. This amendment is more of the same tactics that caused the ACLU to oppose the underlying legislation.

As I said, a bad amendment to a bad bill. Put that all together, it makes everything worse.

The Lobbying Disclosure Act, which this amendment would seek to change, is about disclosure and increasing public awareness, not preventing people from undertaking a lawful profession. The decision of whether to undertake representation of a client is a personal and professional matter, not one for central government planning.

What my friends on the other side of the aisle seem not to understand is the answer to speech that they view as undesirable is more speech. It is called the First Amendment. It is called democracy. It should not and cannot constitutionally prevent the people it does not like from speaking.

And we know it has tried. Just a few years ago, it did it. And I will continue to bring this up as long as the good folks in the Fourth District will have me in Congress.

A few years ago, the IRS systemically, for a sustained period of time, went after people for their political beliefs—it happened; they did it—for the most fundamental liberty we have, our right to speak.

Think about the First Amendment, freedom to practice your faith the way you want, freedom to petition your government, freedom of the press. All those are critically important.

But your right to speak is fundamental, and your right to speak in a political speech zone supposed to be in this college campus be at the same location?

This amendment goes to restrict it just like the bill does, and that is why the ACLU is against it. That is why I am against it.

This is a bad idea to a bad piece of legislation. I mean, think about what is going on, on college campuses today: safe spaces, free speech zones, bias response teams. If you say something politically incorrect today on a college campus, you get harassed.

In the last Congress, I asked a question in committee to a professor from one of these colleges that are taxpayer subsidized. I said: Can a free speech zone and a safe space on a college campus be at the same location? He kind of chuckled. That is sort of the joke, because where is the free speech zone supposed to be in this country? Everywhere. It is called the First Amendment.

I asked this one professor: Professor, in a safe space on a college campus, could I say this sentence: "Donald Trump is President"?

Think about this. Think about this. The professor began his response with this: Well, Congressman, it depends.

I interrupted him, which I will sometimes do if I think the witness is saying something stupid.

I said: It is a fact. There is no “it depends” about it. He got elected on November 8, 2016. He is President of the United States. He lives at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue. It is a fact.

The idea that on some college campuses you can’t say that because you are in some safe space is crazy. This is the absurd level that some on the left want to take us to. That is what we are talking about the First Amendment.

Thank goodness—thank goodness—the ACLU sees it for what it is and says vote “no” on this bill.

Heck, yes, I am opposed to this amendment, just like I am opposed to the underlying legislation.

Mr. Chair, I would urge a “no” vote, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. JAYAPAL. Mr. Chair, I hope my colleagues on the other side who are just quoting the ACLU tonight are with us on everything else that the ACLU supports. I look forward to seeing that.

I got a little distracted in the last speech, so I wanted to remind people what we are talking about in this amendment, which is that we would not allow lobbyists that are working on behalf of foreign governments with gross human rights violations to actually pay a bunch of lobbyists and hide behind highly paid K Street lobbyists to get their agenda.

They should just use the diplomatic process. It is not like they are not going to have a voice. They can use their diplomatic process.

That is all this amendment is. It is a smart amendment, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentlewoman from Washington (Ms. JAYAPAL).

The amendment was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 15 OFFERED BY MS. JAYAPAL

The Acting CHAIR. The question is now in order to consider amendment No. 15 printed in part B of House Report 116-16.

Ms. JAYAPAL. Mr. Chair, I have an amendment at the desk.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Insert after section 8014 the following:

SEC. 8015. LEGAL DEFENSE FUNDS.

(A) the term “Director” means the Director of the Office of Government Ethics;

(B) the term “legal defense fund” means a trust—

(A) that has only one beneficiary;

(B) that is subject to a trust agreement creating an enforceable fiduciary duty on the part of the trustee to the beneficiary, pursuant to the applicable law of the jurisdiction in which the trust is established;

(C) that is subject to a trust agreement that provides for the mandatory public disclosure of all donations and disbursements; and

(D) that is subject to a trust agreement that prohibits the use of its resources for any purpose other than—
(i) the administration of the trust;

(ii) the payment or reimbursement of legal fees or expenses incurred in investigative, civil, criminal, or other legal proceedings relating to or arising by virtue of service by the trustee's beneficiary as an officer or employee, as defined in this section, or as an employee, contractor, consultant or volunteer of the campaign of the President or Vice President; or

(iii) the distribution of unused resources to a charity selected by the trustee that has not been selected or recommended by the beneficiary of the trust;

(E) that is subject to a trust agreement that prohibits the use of its resources for any other purpose or personal legal matters, including tax planning, personal injury litigation, protection of property rights, divorces, or estate probate; and

(F) that is subject to a trust agreement that prohibits the acceptance of donations, except in accordance with this section and the regulations of the Office of Government Ethics;

(3) the term “lobbying activity” has the meaning given that term in section 3 of the Lobbying Disclosure Act of 1995 (2 U.S.C. 1602).

(4) the term “officer or employee” means—

(A) an officer (as that term is defined in section 2104 of title 5, United States Code) or employee (as that term is defined in section 2105 of such title) of the executive branch of the Government;

(B) the Vice President; and

(C) the President.

(5) the term “relative” has the meaning given that term in section 3110 of title 5, United States Code.

(b) LEGAL DEFENSE FUNDS.—An officer or employee may not accept or use any gift or donation for the payment or reimbursement of legal fees or expenses incurred in investigative, civil, criminal, or other legal proceedings relating to or arising by virtue of the officer or employee’s service as an officer or employee, as defined in this section, or as an employee, contractor, consultant or volunteer of the campaign of the President or Vice President except through a legal defense fund that is certified by the Director of the Office of Government Ethics.

(c) LIMITS ON GIFTS AND DONATIONS.—Not later than 120 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Director shall promulgate regulations establishing limits with respect to gifts and donations described in subsection (b) which shall, at a minimum—

(I) prohibit the receipt of any gift or donation described in subsection (b);

(A) from a single contributor (other than a relative of the officer or employee) in a total amount of more than $5,000 during any calendar year;

(B) from a registered lobbyist;

(C) from a foreign government or an agent of a foreign principal;

(D) from a State government or an agent of a State government;

(E) from any person seeking official action from, or seeking to do or doing business with, the agency employing the officer or employee;

(F) from any person conducting activities regulated by the agency employing the officer or employee;

(G) from any person whose interests may be substantially affected by the performance or nonperformance of the official duties of the officer or employee;

(H) from an officer or employee of the executive branch;

(I) from any organization a majority of whose members are described in (A)–(H); or

(J) require that a legal defense fund, in order to be certified by the Director only permit distributions to the officer or employee;

(d) WRITTEN NOTICE.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—An officer or employee who wishes to establish or has a legal defense fund or has a representative accept funds from a legal defense fund shall first ensure that the proposed trustee of the legal defense fund submits to the Director the following information:

(A) the name and contact information for any proposed trustee of the legal defense fund;

(B) a copy of any proposed trust document for the legal defense fund;

(C) the nature of the legal proceeding (or proceedings), investigation or other matter which gives rise to the establishment of the legal defense fund;

(D) an acknowledgment signed by the officer or employee and the trustee indicating that they will be bound by the regulations and limitations under this section.

(2) APPROVAL.—An officer or employee may not accept any gift or donation to pay, or to reimburse any person for, fees or expenses described in subsection (b) of this section except through a legal defense fund that has been certified in writing by the Director following approval of the information submitted under paragraph (1) and approval of the structure of the fund.

(e) REPORTING.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—An officer or employee who establishes a legal defense fund may not directly or indirectly accept distributions from a legal defense fund unless the fund has been certified by the Director a quarterly report for each quarter of every calendar year since the establishment of the legal defense fund that discloses, with respect to the quarter covered by the report—

(A) the source and amount of each contribution to the legal defense fund; and

(B) the amount, recipient, and purpose of each expenditure from the legal defense fund, including all distributions from the trust for any purpose.

(2) PUBLIC AVAILABILITY.—The Director shall make publicly available online—

(A) each report submitted under paragraph (1)

(1) in a searchable, sortable, and downloadable form;

(B) each trust agreement and any amendment thereto;

(C) the written notice and acknowledgment required by subparagraph (A); and

(D) the Director's written certification of the legal defense fund.

(f) RECUSAL.—An officer or employee, other than the President and the Vice President, who is the beneficiary of a legal defense fund may not participate personally and substantially in any particular matter in which the officer or employee knows that a donor of a gift or donation to establish the legal defense fund, including all distributions from the legal defense fund, has a direct or indirect interest, other than the indirect interest which one has by virtue of being an owner of the legal defense fund.

(g) TRUSTEE.—The name and contact information for any proposed trustee of the legal defense fund shall be submitted to the Director and the Office of Government Ethics under the Acting Director, David Apol, who was appointed by—you guessed it—President Trump.

(h) TRUST AGREEMENT.—Former Trump campaign staffer Rick Gates and former National Security Advisor Michael Flynn have also set up legal defense funds.

(i) AMENDMENT.—

According to a political report from House Resolution 172, the gentlewoman from Washington, Ms. JAYAPAL and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Washington. Ms. JAYAPAL. Mr. Chair, this amendment cleans up the so-called legal defense funds.

Many Americans don’t know this, but it is perfectly legal for government employees to accept gifts and donations from contributors to help them pay their legal bills when they are in trouble with the law. Amazingly, they can pack this slush fund with unlimited donations from wealthy individuals and large corporations.

In other words, employees in the White House can fund their legal defenses with contributions from the President’s campaign backers or people who want to influence the President’s decisions.

Not surprisingly, this President’s team has set up a legal defense fund, the Patriot Fund, to help staffers pay for their legal fees related to the Russia investigation. The Patriot Fund was cleared by the Office of Government Ethics under the Acting Director, David Apol, who was appointed by—you guessed it—President Trump.

The fund is flush, Mr. Chair. It is no wonder that one of Trump’s former campaign staffers who has been interrogated by the House Ethics Committee referred to the Patriot Fund as “a real blessing.’’

Trump lawyers have said that decisions about which staffers’ legal funds are paid out of the Patriot Fund will not be related to whether those individual in question defends the President. But since the fund manager has sole discretion over who will benefit from the fund, it is almost impossible to know whether access to Patriot Fund dollars will be used to reward those who might be loyal to the President. That creates an extraordinary conflict of interest for any President, not just this one.

It is time to put a stop to this in perpetuity. That is why I have offered this amendment to direct the Office of Government Ethics to promulgate regulations on basic requirements to ensure transparency of donations to legal defense funds in the executive branch and to ensure that Federal employees cannot obtain money from prohibited sources. These regulations will be similar to rules that are already established for Members of Congress, and I think that that is just common sense. My amendment closes loopholes and eliminates conflicts of interest in these legal defense funds in several ways.

First, it limits the gifts and donations that can be made to legal defense funds to no more than $5,000 per person per year.

Second, it prohibits registered lobbyists, foreign governments, and individuals involved in activities that are regulated by the agency that is employing the individual who will receive the legal defense fund dollars from contributing to the Patriot Fund.

Third, it clarifies that employees may not accept gifts and donations outside of legal defense funds to pay for legal fees and expenses from civil or criminal proceedings.

And, fourth, it makes legal defense funds public by requiring that the source of contributions and the amount of those contributions be publicly disclosed.

Mr. Chair, this is a sensible amendment, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Chair, I oppose the amendment.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman from Ohio is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Chair, the Office of Government Ethics already consults with legal defense funds when prompted. OGE already published two legal advisories around legal defense funds that define gifts according to current U.S. Code and the “Standard of Ethical Conduct for Employees of the Executive Branch.” Any legal defense fund reviewed by OGE bars the trustee from accepting donations from already prohibited sources.

Mr. Chair, I urge that Members oppose this bad amendment to an already terrible underlying piece of legislation, and, respectfully, I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. JAYAPAL. Mr. Chair, in conclusion, I would say this bill, H.R. 1, is about reclaiming our democracy, ensuring transparency and accountability for the American people. For evidence of obstruction of justice, public corruption, and abuses of power for any President and the people surrounding him, we believe that this bill is essential, and this amendment is essential.

Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentlewoman from Washington (Ms. JAYAPAL).

The amendment was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 16 OFFERED BY MR. CONNOLLY

The Acting CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 16 printed in part B of House Report 116–16.

Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment at the desk.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Page 617, insert after line 2 the following (and redesignate the succeeding subparts accordingly):

(d) SURPLUS APPROPRIATIONS.—If the amount appropriated for grants authorized under section 298D(a)(2) exceed the amount necessary to meet the requirements of subsection (b), the Commission shall consider the following in making a determination to award remaining funds to a State:

(1) The record of the State in carrying out the following with respect to the administration of elections for Federal office:

(A) Providing voting machines that are less than 10 years old.

(B) Implementing strong chain of custody procedures for the physical security of voting equipment and paper records at all stages of the process.

(C) Conducting pre-election testing on every voting machine and ensuring that paper ballots are available wherever electronic machines are used.

(2) Evidence of collaboration between relevant stakeholders, including local election officials, in developing the grant implementation plan described in section 298B.

(3) The plan of the State to conduct a rigorous evaluation of the effectiveness of the activities carried out with the grant.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 172, the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. CONNOLLY) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. CONNOLLY).

Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. Chair, H.R. 1, the For the People Act of 2019, of which I am an author, is based on the promise to reform American democracy by protecting voting rights and our elections, improving the transparency of campaign finance, and promoting ethical conduct.

Key to safeguarding voting rights is ensuring that our voting system is secure and free from interference by foreign actors.

My amendment to H.R. 1 would help States implement voting system security improvements in order to enhance the integrity of our Federal election infrastructure.

Adapted from the FAST Voting Act, the plan and the State’s plan to evaluate the grant implementation plan and the State’s plan to evaluate the effectiveness of its grant activities.

We now know that Russia directly targeted State voter databases and software systems in 39 States during the 2016 Federal elections. That effort by Russia and additional foreign entities to conduct robust influence operations persisted, sadly, in the 2018 midterm elections, and the U.S. intelligence community expects such attacks to continue through the 2020 Federal elections.

Numerous witnesses before the Homeland Security Committee testified on the ongoing need for investments to protect us from such attacks.

The need to strengthen the integrity of our voting system is crystal clear. Mr. Chairman. We have a moral obligation as Members of Congress to protect the sacred nature of the results of every election, and it is urgent.

Mr. Chair, I urge my colleagues to support this simple but, I think, helpful amendment to move us toward voter security in the next election and enhance cybersecurity for all of our Federal election infrastructure.

Mr. Chairman, I am delighted to see there is no opposition here on the floor, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. CONNOLLY).

The amendment was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 17 OFFERED BY MS. FOXX OF NORTH CAROLINA

The Acting CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 17 printed in part B of House Report 116–16.

Ms. FOXX of North Carolina. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment at the desk.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

Subtitle E—Reports on Outside Compensation Earned by Congressional Employees

SEC. 9401. REPORTS ON OUTSIDE COMPENSATION EARNED BY CONGRESSIONAL EMPLOYEES.

(a) REPORTS.—The supervisor of an individual who performs services for any Member, committee, or other office of the Senate or House of Representatives for a period in excess of four weeks and who receives compensation therefor from any source other than the Federal Government shall submit a report identifying the identity of the source, amount, and rate of such compensation to—

(1) the Select Committee on Ethics of the Senate, in the case of an individual who performs services for a Member, committee, or other office of the Senate; or

(2) the Committee on Ethics of the House of Representatives, in the case of an individual who performs services for a Member (including a Delegate or Resident Commissioner to the Congress), committee, or other office of the House.

(b) TIMING.—The supervisor shall submit the report required under subsection (a) with respect to an individual who

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD—HOUSE

H2495

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 172, the gentlewoman from North Carolina (Ms. FOXX) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from North Carolina.

Ms. FOXX of North Carolina. Mr. Chairman, I rise to speak on behalf of my amendment, co-authored by Representative HARLEY ROUDA of California, which seeks to bring badly-needed transparency to sources of compensation for certain individuals staffing the legislative branch.

I would like to start by thanking my colleague from California (Mr. ROUDA) for working together in this bipartisan fashion. I am always willing to work across the aisle to find common ground, and I am glad to have found a partner in him on this issue.

I want to be clear, however, if I did not mention the missed opportunity for doing so on the underlying bill. This underlying legislation ran afoul of the legislative process, having gone through only one markup, despite 10 committee referrals.

Democratic leaders also rejected many Republican amendments that I support, amendments that would have terminated Congressional pensions, prohibiting pay for Congressmen when the government shut down, and other commonsense reforms.

Reformers need to start with our own Congress. Luckily, Representative ROUDA and I are doing just that through our amendment. Our amendment codifies a Senate rule that requires legislative branch offices to disclose the source of funding for Congressional fellows.

While the general public understands the need for strict regulations on campaign contributions, gifts, and other methods of influence, many Americans would be shocked to learn that the influence of personnel is escaping public notice.

The Congressional Fellows program is a great contribution to this institution on the whole, as it offers direct exposure and experience in the legislative process to people outside of the Beltway. That exposure is great for our democracy and great for the American public.

However, it goes without saying that fellows being paid by industry groups, advocacy groups, or for-profit industries shouldn't be creating any undue advantage by way of their access to this body.

In fact, there is an old saying around Congress that personnel equals policy. If that is so evident to Members of Congress, then surely we can understand the potential conflicts of interest that could arise from this influence.

It is troubling some Congressional Fellows are working on legislation pertaining to the very interest group they are being paid by to support their work in Congress. The public would rightfully be outraged to learn that even some of the largest social media firms in this country are retaining fellows on Capitol Hill, and yet, the average citizen outside the Beltway has no way of knowing about it. This situation lacks a reporting requirement to expose conflicts of interest.

Our amendment would fill this gap by mandating that legislative offices disclose the rate and source of compensation for Congressional Fellows to their Chamber's respective Ethics Committee.

The taxpayers have a right to know about the funding, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Chairman, at this time, let me yield to the gentleman from California (Mr. ROUDA), my cosponsor for the amendment.

Mr. ROUDA. Mr. Chair, I rise today in support of this bipartisan amendment, which would codify disclosure requirements for paid Congressional fellowships sponsored by nongovernment sources.

It has been a privilege to work with Congresswoman FOXX and her office on this amendment to enhance transparency in Congress, and I thank her for her attention to this matter.

I look forward to continuing to work with Congresswoman FOXX and my other colleagues across the aisle to advance bipartisan initiatives.

I am eager to work with Democrats and Republicans to find common ground and deliver practical, commonsense solutions for the American people.

By passing this bipartisan amendment, we can show our constituents that we are serious about improving transparency and accountability in the people's House.

I ask my colleagues to join me in supporting this amendment.

Ms. FOXX of North Carolina. Mr. Chairman, could I inquire as to how much time is remaining?

The Acting CHAIR. The amendment was agreed to.

Ms. FOXX of North Carolina. Mr. Chairman, if personnel equals policy, then the general public should have access to knowledge about the influencers in our legislative body.

Again, I am glad to have been a partner with Congressman ROUDA in this bipartisan initiative. I ask my colleagues to support our amendment to uphold transparency, accountability, and the integrity of our legislative process. And I urge all Members to vote for the amendment. It is a very commonsense amendment.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentlewoman from North Carolina (Ms. FOXX).

The amendment was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 10 OFFERED BY MRS. LAWRENCE

The Acting CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 10 printed in part B of House Report 116–16.

Mrs. LAWRENCE. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment at the desk.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 172, the gentlewoman from Michigan (Mrs. LAWRENCE) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Michigan.

Mrs. LAWRENCE. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, this week, Congress has an opportunity to restore the American people's faith in our political system. H.R. 1 is a comprehensive set of democratic and anti-corruption reforms that work for the people, as opposed to those privileged enough to game the system.

My amendment is simple. It adds Cabinet members to the list of individuals who cannot benefit from an agreement with the United States government.

By ensuring the President, Vice President, and Cabinet members are not able to benefit from agreements with the government, individuals in a position to use their authority for their own personal gain will be prohibited from doing so.

The American people expect their government to act in their best interest, not in the best interest of their bank accounts.

When a department issues a ruling, the American people should not have to consider whether a Cabinet member will benefit from that action.

The President, the Vice President, and Cabinet members all have tremendous power and decision-making authority within our government. That power comes with great scrutiny and the need for oversight. This commonsense amendment will eliminate that confusion.

Aside from providing essential oversight for our government, H.R. 1 addresses serious issues that have plagued our country for decades. For years, Americans’ access to the ballot box has been under attack, and millions of voters have been removed from voter rolls across the country.

Democrats are committed to ensuring that voting is free, fair, and easy for all citizens, and that every vote by an eligible voter is counted as cast.

H.R. 1, the For the People Act, codifies that oversight, and seeks to shed a... light on any corrupt actions being taken by our elected officials and Cabinet members.

Mr. Chairman, Cabinet members should be held to the same standard as the President, Vice President, and Members of Congress, and should not be able to benefit from agreements, policy, and their actions while serving the U.S. Government. I urge my colleagues to support this commonsense amendment that will help provide important oversight of our government.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentlewoman from Michigan (Mrs. Lawrence).

The amendment was agreed to.

The Acting CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 19, printed in part B of House Report 116–16.

AMENDMENT NO. 19 OFFERED BY MR. ROUDA

The Acting CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 20, printed in part B of House Report 116–16.

Mr. ROUDA. Mr. Chair, I have an amendment at the desk.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

SEC. 1505. PAPER BALLOT PRINTING REQUIREMENTS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 301(a) of the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (52 U.S.C. 21081(a)), as amended by section 1504, is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

“(8) PRINTING REQUIREMENTS FOR BALLOTS.—All paper ballots used in an election for Federal office shall be printed on recycled paper.”.

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall apply with respect to elections occurring on or after January 1, 2021.

Page 128, line 4, strike “subparagraphs (B) and (C)” and insert “section 1505(b) of the For the People Act of 2019 and subparagraphs (B) and (C)”.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 172, the gentleman from California (Mr. ROUDA) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from California.

Mr. ROUDA. Mr. Chair, the people of Orange County sent me to Congress because they were disillusioned with the nature of our politics, whether it is the toxic partnership or the vice grip of special interest money on our political system.

If our amendments today to improve this landmark bill by regulating political ads and restore voters’ confidence in our elections.

Our government has, for too long, preferred to shield special interests instead of our constituents; and that ends by getting out of politics and passing the For the People Act.

In an age of advanced cybersecurity threats, more States are looking to one of the oldest technologies in existence, paper. Currently, the majority of States utilize some form of paper ballot for elections, with more taking steps to adopt paper-only systems.

My amendment would require the use of recycled paper for Federal elections, a crucial step to increasing the sustainability of our elections. Recycled paper production emits 40 percent fewer greenhouse gases, uses 26 percent less energy, and creates 43 percent less water waste than non-recycled paper.

The impact of requiring the use of recycled paper for ballots is significant when you consider the amount of paper used in the United States. In fact, Americans use approximately 85 million tons of paper a year, about 680 pounds per person per year.

Recycling just 1 ton of paper can save 17 trees, 7,000 gallons of water, 380 gallons of oil, 3.3 cubic yards of landfill space, and 4,000 kilowatts of energy, reducing greenhouse gases by 1 metric ton of carbon emissions.

As security concerns continue to inspire moves to replace electronic voting methods with paper ballots, we must be mindful of the environmental impact.

Using recycled paper for our ballots would improve not just our right to vote, but also save the environment.

Mr. Chair, I urge adoption of my amendment, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. ROUDA. Mr. Chair, I appreciate the gentleman’s willingness to show awareness and concern over climate change and our environment. Maybe this amendment is better suited for when the New Green Deal is called up on the floor for all of us to cast a vote upon, but this is an issue that goes a long way in supporting environmental health across our great country and continuing to fight climate change.

SEC. 1505. STUDY AND REPORT ON OPTIMAL BALLOT DESIGN.

(a) STUDY.—The Election Assistance Commission shall conduct a study of the best ways to design ballots used in elections for public office, including paper ballots and electronic or digital ballots, to minimize confusion.

(b) REPORT.—Not later than January 1, 2020, the Election Assistance Commission shall submit to Congress a report on the study conducted under subsection (a). The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 172, the gentleman from California (Mr. ROUDA) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from California.

Mr. ROUDA. Mr. Chair, every election, hundreds of thousands of votes are not counted simply because of bad ballot design. These citizens fulfill their patriotic duty, but their voices are silenced by confusing voter instructions and poor ballot design. This cannot continue.

Although most Americans associate bad ballot design with the 2000 Presidential race and hanging chads, unnecessarily complex and misleading ballot issues still plague our elections today. Confusing ballot design has a significant and well-documented effect on our elections, disproportionately affecting low-income and elderly voters. You shouldn’t need a magnifying glass to read a candidate’s name and you shouldn’t need a Ph.D. to understand voter instructions. My amendment simply directs the U.S. Election Assistance Commission to study the best ways to design both paper and digital ballots. By reviewing uncounted vote data and conducting usability tests, the U.S. Election Assistance Commission can provide States with better ballot design guidelines. This study, which would be due in January 2020, is a commonsense way to ensure that more Americans’ votes are counted next election and in every election to come.

Mr. Chair, I ask my colleagues to join me in supporting this amendment, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, I rise in opposition to the amendment.

Mr. Chair, I ask my colleagues to join me in supporting this amendment, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, I appreciate the gentleman’s intention, and I appreciate his willingness as a new Member of this institution to come down here and participate in the amendment process. We need folks who come to this institution and they want to legislate, they want to be on the floor, they want to offer amendments. My biggest problem with this amendment is we don’t know how much this amendment is going to cost. We have not had the opportunity to see the analysis on the costs of this amendment. This is an opportunity to remind my colleague from California (Mr. ROUDA) that we have the EAC perform another study that is going to cost the taxpayers of this country.

Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. ROUDA. Mr. Chair, I thank the gentleman for his comments.

It sounds like we are in agreement, because he supports studies that have made these ballots improved over time. As we just saw from the most recent election cycle, it is clear that we still have work to do. So we have agreement that we want better ballots at all locations, and I am glad Mr. DAVIS is joining me in support of that.

I also would recognize that this does not require States to follow the suggested potential improved ballot, but makes it clear that there are better ways to do it.

Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, I appreciate the gentleman’s intention, and I appreciate his willingness as a new Member of this institution to come down here and participate in the amendment process. We need folks who come to this institution and they want to legislate, they want to be on the floor, they want to offer amendments.

My biggest problem with this amendment is we don’t know how much this amendment is going to cost. We have not had the opportunity to see the analysis on the costs of this amendment.

Now, I am glad that my colleague mentioned the H.R. 1 of the last Congress. I learned my lesson not to yield back, as he just did, because now I get the last word.

This is an opportunity to remind my colleague, my new colleague, that it has already been reported that the Congressional Budget Office estimated that our tax cut bill that put dollars in the pockets of middle-class families, it has already paid for itself by 80 percent. In less than a year, we changed this. This is why H.R. 1 of the last Congress actually helped families put more money in their pockets.

H.R. 1 this year is going to actually cost taxpayers billions and put more money in the pockets of Members of Congress.

This is a travesty that is no comparison, and that is exactly why this bill is terrible. And no offense to my colleague, I just oppose his amendment because I think it is redundant.

Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from California (Mr. ROUDA).

The amendment was agreed to.

AMENDMENT NO. 22 OFFERED BY MR. ROUDA

The Acting CHAIR. It is now in order to consider amendment No. 22 printed in part B of House Report 116–16.

Mr. ROUDA. Mr. Chair, I have an amendment at the desk.

The Acting CHAIR. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

SEC. 1052. USE OF POSTAL SERVICE HARD COPY CHANGE OF ADDRESS FORM TO RECORD CHANGE OF ADDRESS TO RE-MIND INDIVIDUALS TO UPDATE VOTER REGISTRATION.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 1 year after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Postmaster General shall modify any hard copy change of address form used by the United States Postal Service so that such form contains a reminder that any individual using such form should update the individual’s voter registration as a result of an change in address.

(b) APPLICATION.—The requirement in subsection (a) shall not apply to any electronic version of a change of address form used by the United States Postal Service.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to House Resolution 172, the gentleman from California (Mr. ROUDA) and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from California.

Mr. ROUDA. Mr. Chair, each year, too many Americans lose their voter registration status when they move without updating their voter registration address.

My amendment is a commonsense measure which directs the Postmaster General to include a notice on the Postal Service’s hard copy change of address form simply reminding voters to update their voter registration following a change of address.

The online change of address form on the Postal Service's website already includes a reminder to reregister with your new address. This amendment would simply ensure that voters who use the hard copy change of address form also get a reminder to update their voter registration.

No one should be denied the right to vote simply because they forgot to update their voter registration address following a move.

Mr. Chair, I urge adoption of this amendment, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, I claim the time in opposition to the amendment, even though I am not opposed to it.

The Acting CHAIR. Without objection, the gentleman is recognized for 5 minutes.

There was no objection.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, I appreciate the opportunity.

I am not necessarily opposed to this amendment, and if the gentleman is willing, I am ready to move towards closing. I am ready to close on this debate, so I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. ROUDA. Mr. Chair, if my colleague is ready to yield back and proceed to a vote, then I am certainly willing to do so. I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. RODNEY DAVIS of Illinois. Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. ROUDA. Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from California (Mr. ROUDA).

The amendment was agreed to.

Ms. LOFGREN. I move that the Committee do now rise.

The motion was agreed to.

Accordingly, the Committee rose; and the SPEAKER pro tempore (Ms. MUCARSEL-POWELL) having assumed the chair, Mr. CARTWRIGHT, Acting Chair of the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union, reported that that Committee, having had under consideration the bill (H.R. 1) to expand America’s access to the ballot box, reduce the influence of big money in politics, and strengthen ethics rules for public servants, and for other purposes, had come to no resolution thereon.

REMEMBERING ANTHONY RIOS

(Mr. ESPAILLAT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. ESPAILLAT. Madam Speaker, the Dominican Republic lost one of its brightest stars this week, with the passing of singer and composer Franklin Antonio Jiménez, known in the artistic world as Anthony Rios. Rios’ ascent was rapid due to his remarkable work ethic, perseverance, and an undeniable God-given talent. Even as a child, Rios demonstrated a unique ability to intertwine music into his life.

As a young shoeshine boy in the city of Hato Mayor del Rey, Rios would serenade his customers. During Christmas season, he sang Christmas carols door to door. The Dominican Republic has lost a true talent.

May he rest in peace and may God comfort his friends, family, and all those who knew and loved him dearly. He will be missed. ‘Rest in peace,’” “De descansan en paz.” Anthony Rios.

COMPREHENSIVE IMMIGRATION REFORM

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker's announced policy of January 3, 2019, the gentleman from New York (Mr. ESPAILLAT) is recognized for 60 minutes as the designee of the majority leader.

Mr. ESPAILLAT. Madam Speaker, as the whip of the Congressional Hispanic Caucus, I am pleased to lead our second monthly Special Order hour.

Last month, my colleagues and I spoke about the importance of comprehensive immigration reform. Since then, the Congressional Hispanic Caucus Immigration Task Force, led by Congresswoman LINDA SANCHEZ of California, drafted a set of immigration principles, which our caucus has now adopted. We plan to use these as a guide as we work on developing a comprehensive immigration reform proposal. Chief among these principles is a timely path to citizenship for Dreamers and a permanent solution for those with temporary protected status and deferred and forced departure.

Democrats made an important commitment to these communities. After a failed attempt at a bipartisan solution for Dreamers and TPS recipients last year, and again a few weeks ago, we said that if we regained control of the House, we would move quickly to fix this. Democrats have spent the last few weeks working just on that.

In particular, two of our CHC colleagues, Congresswoman LUCILLE ROYBAL-ALLARD and Congresswoman NYDIA VELÁZQUEZ, along with Congresswoman YVETTE CLARKE, have been putting together a proposal that will provide overdue needed relief. Their Dream and Promise Act, H.R. 6, will be introduced next week. We are also grateful for the time and effort they have put into this critical legislation.

That is why we wanted to take this month’s CHC’s Special Order to focus on Dreamers and TPS recipients. These are unique groups within our broader immigration community and their current plight—the uncertainty of their status—is entirely the fault of President Donald Trump and actions he took against them. Dreams and Dreamers, the American people have heard us talk about them for many years, but I think it serves reminding just who those folks are. Dreamers are mostly young adults whose parents brought them to this country when they were minors. They do not have legal immigration status in the United States. They are undocumented, just like I was once. They came here through no fault of their own. For the vast majority of them, the United States of America is the only country they have known. A good number of them grew up not even knowing they were in immigration limbo and at risk of being deported.

Some only found out when they applied to college. Just think about that, Madam Speaker. You are a young high school student with your whole life ahead of you. You have dreams and aspirations for future careers and you are excited to take on a new chapter of your life. Then one day you find out that you are one of those undocumented folks you have been hearing about. There is now a barrier to your ability to get a higher education, to get a good job, to establish yourself in our society.

President Obama recognized this injustice and he created a program that would give Dreamers relief from deportation, known as the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals, or DACA. This gave them some sense of certainty, and most importantly it gave them the legal status they needed to pursue an education and career, to buy a home, and begin raising a family.

Nearly 800,000 individuals across the country receive DACA, and thousands more were still eligible. But President Trump abruptly chose to end the program as part of his anti-immigrant policies. Not only is this cruel and unjust, it is economic malpractice.

According to the Center for American Progress, ending DACA will cost our GDP $460 billion. Let me say that again, Madam Speaker. Ending DACA will cost our GDP $460 billion. That is because it will mean removing 685,000 workers out of the workforce.

If President Trump wants to promote economic growth, as he says, then why would he make such a horrible decision? I leave it up to the American people to sort out that mystery. Perhaps they can do it at the ballot box in a couple of years.

Ms. LOFGREN. Now, what is worse, Madam Speaker, is that Dreamers aren’t the only group President Trump has decided to throw into legal limbo.
Over the course of his 2 years in office, the President has ended also temporary protected status. I know you know that very well, Madam Speaker, because you represent the State of Florida.

For thousands of individuals, the temporary protected status has been attempted to end. TPS is an incredibly important program. It allows individuals to stay and remain in the United States for an extended period of time if some emergency erupts in their home country, prevents them from being able to return. TPS has been using cases of severe natural disasters, as well as armed conflict.

Only a few countries have been granted TPS. The program is so important because it allows these people, who would otherwise be in limbo for an unknown amount of time, to live their lives here in the United States, giving them the ability to work and establish themselves. Some countries have been designated TPS for many, many years and are still not safe for individuals to return back home.

That is why it has been routinely extended by Presidents of both parties. This is not a Republican or a Democratic program. Presidents of both parties have extended TPS.

TPS holders are established members of our communities. They are workers, they are homeowners, they are our neighbors and they have children and families that have built their lives here. They deserve to stay, Madam Speaker.

And the truth is our economy really needs them. More than 300,000 individuals are currently beneficiaries of TPS, but they account for more than $10 billion in spending power in our economy according to CAP. They pay local, State, and Federal taxes. Once more, so many TPS holders are the parents or relatives of thousands of U.S. citizen children, children who deserve to have their families stay together.

In conclusion, Madam Speaker, families here are protected. Whether they have been separated at our border, whether they came here with a young child who only recently learned he or she was undocumented, whether they cannot return to a nation that is not able to receive them, they deserve to stay together, and they deserve to remain here in the United States, the place they now call home.

During the rest of this hour, you will hear from a number of CHC colleagues from across the country about how important Dreamers and TPS recipients are to their respective districts, how these hardworking individuals are part of the very fabric of communities they represent. I look forward to hearing from sharing their stories with you, Madam Speaker.

Madam Speaker, I yield to my colleague from the State of Illinois (Mr. García) whose State is home to nearly 3,000 TPS holders and more than 42,000 DACA recipients. The GDP law, if DACA were to be removed, is $413 million, and TPS spending power in that State is $91.7 million.

Mr. GARCÍA of Illinois, Madam Speaker, I thank my colleague, Representative ESPAILLAT, for organizing this important hour to share the stories of those living in fear as a result of the actions of this administration.

As a proud immigrant and representative of a Chicago district that is over one-third foreign born, I know and understand the need for a permanent solution to the status of immigrants in this country. We are long overdue for legislation that provides a path to citizenship for those with uncertain status.

Madam Speaker, there are more than 11 million individuals, including children, living in the U.S. who are currently undocumented. Of those, there are over 3.6 million Dreamers, children who entered the U.S. before their 18th birthday, and over 1.8 million children eligible for deferred action because they were brought to the U.S. before their 16th birthday.

So many are in constant fear as a result of the cruel policies of this administration.

In Illinois alone, there are almost 40,000 individuals enrolled in the deferred action program, but this issue affects entire families, including those in mixed-status families.

There are about 800,000 people in Illinois alone in families with at least one undocumented family member. I want to share a story of a Dreamer, like Beatriz, who is a constituent in my district, who came to this country at the age of 6.

Like many, her parents brought her seeking refuge from hunger, poverty, and the violent drug wars ravaging Mexico and Central America. Despite the toughest odds, Beatriz graduated from the Illinois Institute of Technology with no financial aid and working a full-time job.

Dreamers like Beatriz, if given the opportunity, are incredible assets to our country, not a drain. We should welcome hardworking immigrants like Beatriz and not make it harder for them to succeed and, in turn, grow our economy and enrich the cultural riches that makes America great.

In Beatriz’s own words: “While I am always in fear of deportation, I am not afraid to work or to study.”

An immigrant myself, I empathize with Beatriz and her story.

Let me be clear: Putting Dreamers and TPS beneficiaries on a pathway to citizenship is just one of the many steps that we must take to undo the damage the Trump Administration has done.

The current legal immigration system is broken, creating decades-long delays for family reunifications and exacerbating workforce gaps that harm our economy.

We must continue to turn a blind eye to over 11 million undocumented people in our country who live and work in fear and in the shadows.

Immigrants—many of them are undocumented—are our teachers, engineers, your law enforcement officers. We are your firefighters, your plumbers, and your doctors. In some lucky instances, we are even your Representatives in Washington.

These are the people who contribute every day to our country, and it is time we act now to reasonable pathways to citizenship for these hardworking people.

Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman from New York for yielding in order to share Beatriz’s story.

Mr. ESPAILLAT. Madam Speaker, let me just share some numbers with you from respective States across the country.

The number of TPS holders, for example, in the State of California, over 50,000 of them; in your home State of Florida, Madam Speaker, over 41,000 of them; in Illinois, close to 3,000 of them; in Massachusetts, over 5,000 of them; in New Mexico, over 46,000 of them.

And the children living with these TPS recipients are, in California, over 49,000; in Florida, again, over 37,000; in Massachusetts, over 3,000; in New York, over 25,000 of them; in Texas, over 46,000 of them.

So these are huge numbers for people who are so important to the fabric of our country, and that is why we are here to support them, because families that stay together are stronger together. When a family is divided, our Nation is weaker; when our family is together, our Nation is stronger.

Mr. ESPAILLAT. Madam Speaker, I yield to my colleague from Florida (Ms. MUCARSEL-POWELL), whose State is the home State to 45,000 TPS recipients and nearly 33,000 DACA recipients.

Ms. MUCARSEL-POWELL. Mr. Speaker, DACA recipients are our neighbors. They are entrepreneurs, college graduates, educators, and healthcare providers.

DACA recipients are helping our country lead in science, technology, and medicine. Jorge Cortes is one those DACA recipients.

Jorge came to the United States from Colombia when he was a teenager. Despite his undocumented status, Jorge worked hard. He contributed to his community and eventually graduated from Florida International University.

After graduating, he quickly established himself as an entrepreneur in Miami’s technology and social innovation sector, eventually employing upwards of 15 people. For his entrepreneurship and leadership, Jorge was awarded the keys to both Miami-Dade County and the city of Miami.
A path to citizenship for DACA and TPS recipients like Jorge, would add $1.2 billion, annually, to Florida’s economy.

In our discussions about DACA, immigration reform, and the economy, it is easy to forget that DACA recipients and TPS beneficiaries also are people. DACA isn’t just the right thing to do for our economy, it is the moral thing to do. It is time that our immigration system treats all of these people as people.

Mr. ESPEY. Mr. Speaker, as has been said here tonight, bringing relief, permanent relief to DACA recipients and TPS beneficiaries must not be delayed. Comprehensive immigration reform cannot continue to be delayed.

That is why I am so happy, as I mentioned earlier, that in a week or two, H.R. 6, the Dream and Promise Act, which promises to bring about comprehensive immigration reform in many ways, will finally be reported out. Recipients and TPS recipients and other immigrants, will hit this floor.

We are hoping that all our colleagues from both sides of the aisle will recognize that this is an important effort to finally bring to the United States 800,000 young people permanently to the United States, young people who are teachers, nurses, police offers, members of our Armed Forces. They are business owners. They purchase their own homes. In many cases, these are important members of our communities across the country, and we must allow them to stay in the United States of America.

TPS recipients, many of them cannot return back to dangerous settings in their homeland. Many of them, their countries are reeling from natural disasters. It would be a travesty if we send them back home. They must be allowed to stay here in the United States of America.

This is an important moment in our time.

Families that stay together are stronger; families that are divided are weaker. Our country is made stronger when a family is together. That is why I am proud of this Chamber from both sides of the aisle, next week, to support H.R. 6, the Dream and Promise Act, which will finally bring relief to many, many young people and undocumented people from this Nation, as well as TPS recipients which will finally breathe some fresh air and be able to stay here in this great Nation.

Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

FIVE Pillars of WHAT WE BELIEVE SAVES US

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Ms. MUCARSEL-POWELL). Under the Speaker’s direction, Mr. SCHWEIKERT of Arizona is recognized for 60 minutes as the designee of the minority leader.

Mr. SCHWEIKERT. Madam Speaker, and to my friend, thank you for standing.

What we are doing tonight—and we will try to do it somewhat efficiently—so you don’t have to spend too much time in the Chair—is every week we have been taking a half an hour or so—tonight we may do something less—and sort of walking through what we believe is actually an idea that actually saves this country. And not to be too melodramatic, but let’s actually walk through some of the mathematical realities.

We have 74 million baby boomers moving into retirement. The peak of the baby boom is just a couple years away from retirement. So baby boom, 74 million over an 18-year period.

If you look at Federal spending, the growth in Federal spending from 2008 to 2028 as CBO has calculated—2008 to 2028—94 percent of all the growth in Federal spending is interest, Social Security, healthcare entitlement.

I know this doesn’t sort of fit the mantra that you so often hear around here from Republicans and Democrats, but it is math.

We have a demographic issue. We are getting old much faster than almost anytime—anytime, I think—in our society, and our birth rates have substantially collapsed.

So one of the things we have come to is saying: How do you maximize economic vitality in our society so we can keep our promises, those promises of earned benefits like Social Security or promises such as earned benefits of Medicare?

We believe we have five pillars, so we always start with this chart, and you can do them in any fashion you want.

Last week, we actually did 30 minutes—which I am sure was riveting for anyone who was willing to watch—on labor force participation, but it is important.

If you go back over the last couple years and look at some of the CBO reports, repeatedly there are sections in there that talk about: What is the barrier to economic expansion in our country?

They will often talk about two things: capital stock, basically, savings rates, money to be lent into the economy to multiply, to build things, to grow things; and the second thing is population, labor force availability.

Well, it turns out, since tax reform, the capital stock numbers have been much better than almost any of us had expected in the modeling. So our restraint on economic expansion turns out to be substantially labor force.

Okay. So that is what we talked about last week. How do you draw in millennial males? How do you add incentives to those who are older to stay in the labor force? So that was last week.

We have also actually talked about what we will have to do—and every week we are going to do one of these—dealing with the earned benefits. Are there things we can do in those earned benefits to add some competition for when someone is buying their medical benefits through Medicare? Can we add certain incentives?

Say I am healthy. I wish to work longer. Can we give you certain incentives to either of those programs in the Tax Code to stay in the labor force as long as you are healthy?

And we actually see other societies around the world—you know, look at Japan and countries that are actually having to work through this concept as their demographics get older. How do they actually keep as much of their population still within the labor force so the economy continues to stay stable and grow?

Economic growth, we are going to do a whole presentation on everything you do from designing a Tax Code that stays competitive in the world, somewhat like we did a year-plus ago, that incentivizes capital formation, incentivizes investment in plant and equipment and technology, because we had gone functionally almost two decades with very little productivity growth.

Do you want to pay Americans more? Well, what is the formula? Do we all remember our high school economics mantra that you so often hear around here today: bring relief, to get into typical growth in someone’s salary? Well, it is inflation. If you get an inflation adjustment, you are not getting any further ahead. You are just sort of holding steady. It is productivity.

When we look at the formulas that end up organically, systematically thought through, when businesses pay their workers more, here is the inflation adjustment. By the way, we bought a new plant; we bought new equipment; we bought new technology. We are able to make this many more widgets now. Our productivity has gone up. We can pay more. That is the key reason.

We functionally have gone a couple decades with very little wage growth because we didn’t have productivity growth.

As we start to talk about economic growth, it is going to be everything from designing a Tax Code that maximizes that type of growth, to trade policy that maximizes economic expansion in our country, all the way down to how you design a rational regulatory environment.

Some people like to come behind the microphones and talk about de-regulation or re-regulation. I want to make the argument that we should be, as a society, talking about smart regulation.

You have a supercomputer in your pocket or your purse, that phone you have. Why aren’t we using much more technology to be the driver of our regulatory environment?

A simple example: What would happen if you could crowd source data on the environment? You could have a few thousand people that are in a large urban area or other areas that have a sensor on your phone that says, hey, I am going to help crowd source ozone, or crowd source volatile organics, or whatever, our environmental regulator is no longer a file cabinet of paperwork where we put paper and document more, document more. Instead, it is almost like a quick reaction for us of: Hey, the sensors are saying there is a hot spot over here. Let’s go deal with it.
March 6, 2019

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD—HOUSE

I think it is time we revolutionize what we consider financial, environmental, health types of regulations, realizing we have technology today that would make us healthier, more prosperous, more efficient, and, at the same time, the time between a bad act and something getting fixed could be minutes, not years.

An example is, if you had certain types of technology, a Bernie Madoff could never happen because you would instantly know his accounts don’t match his bank accounts.

We are going to bring in a whole series of healthcare technologies that is a true disruption. What happens if you could go home and, in essence, you have this thing that looks like a large kazoo? You could blow into it, and it instantly tells you if you have the flu or not and then instantly could order your antivirals. A couple hours later, those antivirals could go to your home. How much healthier would you be?

That technology, if we do the adoption, if we remove the barriers, could be an amazing disruption in the price of healthcare because this body—let’s be brutally honest—for a decade, we have been having the wrong debate. We have the ACA over here, which, functionally, just moved around who got to pay. Of our Republican alternatives that we believed would add some competition and those things, but it was, essentially, who got to pay.

It is time the Republicans and Democrats got together to understand there is a technology revolution out there that could be, that can be, that will be the price disrupter on healthcare, if this body is willing to remove those barriers to that technology.

Imagine being able to have certain wearables, whether you are the type of person who walks around with a smartwatch or the type of person who has the patch that can read your blood oxygen and these types of things, or the autonomous healthcare clinics that are being experimented with in the Phoenix-Scottsdale market.

There is a revolution happening out there. We need more of it. We need to adopt it faster. We need to remove the barriers and stop having these crazy conversations of little, incremental changes. We need the disruption.

As we walk through, part of the premise is, if you look at this slide, and I brought this slide in previous discussions. 91 percent of the spending growth between 2008 and 2028, interest, Social Security, healthcare, and functionally the healthcare entitlements.

When you look at that, you start to realize, this one here. If we are right here, and I bring this slide in previous discussions, the nondefense portion is green. Yellow is defense. Their percentage of the growth and spending is substantially flat. A little growth here, a little growth there, but the explosion in the green bar is something going up, is interest, Social Security, and healthcare entitlements.

Why doesn’t this place, why don’t we as Members of Congress, have the honest conversation that, if you care about the debt, if you care about retirement security, if you care about these things, this is the honest conversation?

Take a look at this slide. Between 2018 and 2048, a 30-year period, and this slide is not adjusted for inflation, you see the green bar, the far end? That is the rest of the Federal budget. That is the non-Social Security, non-Medicare. It is actually $16 trillion to the positive. How do you end up with $84 trillion in the negative over those 30 years?

It is functionally the interest and the spending on Social Security, the interest and the spending on Medicare. I believe we have a moral obligation to protect these earned entitlements. But is it protecting them by avoiding the subject, and that is what this place has become famous for doing.

Let’s talk about this concept we refer to in our office as sort of population stability. Remember, this is just one of our five pillars. In 9 years, our society, and its driven by demographics, will have two workers for every one person in retirement. Think about that for a moment.

Programs like Social Security and Medicare, there were four or five, five-plus workers for every one in their benefits. In 9 years, we moved 2-to-1. What also happens in 9 years? It is the end of the baby-boom cycle, so the end of the spiked years.

If this slide doesn’t make you go “wow, maybe we should take this seriously,” because we should have taken it seriously a couple of decades ago because we knew people were going to turn 65 from the baby boom for how many more years? It is going to be a real threat when you start to see these sorts of numbers and understand what that means.

Do you pay-as-you-go? Programs, which are Social Security and Medicare, have that vitality, and this is a real threat when you start to see these sorts of numbers and understand what that means.

We do you reach a level of population stability? This is a brand-new slide for us. We are going to do a little more on what is happening population-wise. Once you substantially look at, we will call it the green line, the second one down, do you see that precipitous fall?

If we are right here, that was sort of our last time of being in the positive, a bit before 2010. Since then, we have continued to fall, and fall, and fall. Apparently, this trend is all over the industrialized world. A lot of the great writers and thinkers on demographics are saying the next prized asset in the world isn’t going to be lithium for batteries or petroleum products. It is going to be people, smart people.

You are starting to see that around the world, other countries right now are even starting to change some of their immigration rules to say, if you have talent, you are given a much faster path to enter our country. We are going to have to have that very honest conversation of a major change in our immigration system.

You do understand, as a nation, we are now well below replacement rates in our population. This one I particularly like because it is from my home State of Arizona, but the trendline is almost identical. We will go through some of that.

If I asked you right now which State had the largest fall in birth rates, how many of you would have said Arizona? We are now by far the largest fall in birth rates. It is a little complicated. You have to read through the data, but Native Americans and Hispanics, their birth rates fell substantially and are looking much more like the mean of the rest of our society.

As we walk through, part of the premise is, if you look at this slide, and What do you do for population stability? Okay, back to family formation. Are there things we can do that will work? We have spent about a year in our office reading literature from around the world, what they have done in other countries, what they are doing right now in Hungary, what has been done in a province in Canada, trying to promote native births. Small, incremental changes—no one has found the magic formula.

Many people in society have to have this discussion. What works? What can we do? Is it something you do in the Tax Code? Is it something you do in family friendly policies? What do we do to maximize family formation in our society?

Right now, when you start to look at the cost, I have only one beautiful little girl, and you realize, children are the greatest thing that ever happened to my wife and I, but it is expensive.

The idea of that population stability discussion is, if you are ever here working on family formation and making sure society understands the blessing of children in our society, are there immigration policies that if you are bringing in populations into the United States that maximize the economic vitality? Yes, 2015

So part of this thought experiment, based on the actual numbers in the last 10 years, the U.S. fall in births functionally equals 4 million children that we expected with the fallen births will not be part of our society. You do realize that over 10 years that is functionally 4 full years of legal immigration.

So let's say we actually were effective in being serious about family formation here, and we actually started to have an honest discussion of as a society do we start to do the things such as New Zealand, Great Britain, Australia, Canada, and others are doing where substantially it is a talent-based immigration system?

What do you want to fixate on that? It is an immigration system that actually has the elegance of we don't care about your gender, we don't care about your religion, and we don't care about your race. But what we care about as a society is we care about the vitality, the energy, and the talent you bring to our society to maximize the economic growth so we can keep our promises, particularly on Social Security and Medicare.

Remember, demographics are really the biggest issue we as a society are facing, except it is really hard to talk about it because the math is complex.

So are we as a body willing to take on complex issues and understand you can't just do one of them?

There was a time here a decade ago or so people would come to the micro-phone and say: Well, if we do entitlement reform, then we get this.

We have missed that window.

Now my argument to this country, to my brothers and sisters here in Congress, is we have to actually reach out to at least the five pillars we have laid out of maximizing economic growth, and that is everything from tax policy to trade policy to regulatory policy, and labor force participation.

How do you design programs, everything from Social Security Disability to TANF to food stamps to this and that, saying we want you in the labor force?

What can we do so you have your safety net, but we have to get you into the labor force?

What do you do for population stability as we have talked about right now?

What do you do for dramatic disruptive technology adoption, particularly for healthcare, but it can also be for environment?

We are going to actually do that in the coming weeks.

Then we will have to step up and have an honest conversation of as the promised earned benefits, we call entitlements, how can we adjust and refine them so they incentivize to stay in the labor force, but they incentivize efficiencies of how healthcare is purchased?

We need to do this as an entire society. Once again, remember, in 9 years, two workers, one person in retirement, one person 65. Over the 20-year period, 2008 to 2028, 91 percent of all the growth in spending will be interest, Social Security, and healthcare entitlements. In 9 years—the CBO report that came out last month has a beautiful graph in there—in 9 years, 50 percent of all the noninterest spending coming from Washington, D.C. will be for those who are 65 and older.

So if you care about keeping our promises, if you care about this country being able to maintain its place in the world, it is math. It is demographics. There is a path for us to succeed, but it no longer works. The math no longer works by just doing one thing or these little, incremental, petty things I see happening around here where it is political power grabs instead of the things that stabilize and grow our country and protect my 3-year-old daughter and her economic future and her opportunity to actually live the American Dream.

Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. SCHWEIKERT. Madam Speaker, I move that the House do now adjourn.

The motion was agreed to; accordingly (at 8 o'clock and 19 minutes p.m.), under its previous order, the House adjourned until tomorrow, Thursday, March 7, 2019, at 10 a.m. for morning-hour debate.

EXECUTIVE COMMUNICATIONS, ETC.

Under clause 2 of rule XIV, executive communications were taken from the Speaker's table and referred as follows:

322. A letter from the Assistant Secretary, Special Operations/Low Intensity Conflict, Department of Defense, transmitting the Department's report and certification for FY 2019 to the Committee on Armed Services.

323. A letter from the Director, Regulatory Management Division, Environmental Protection Agency, transmitting the Agency's final rule — Air Plan Approval; Ohio; Ohio Permit Rules Revisions (EPA-R05-OAR-2018-0121; FRL-9990-44-Region 5) received March 1, 2019, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 801(a)(1); Public Law 104-121, Sec. 251; (110 Stat. 868); to the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

324. A letter from the Director, Regulatory Management Division, Environmental Protection Agency, transmitting the Agency's final rule — Air Plan Approval; Tennessee; North Carol and CAIR (EPA-R04-OAR-2018-0031; FRL-9990-32-Region 4) received March 1, 2019, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 801(a)(1); Public Law 104-121, Sec. 251; (110 Stat. 868); to the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

325. A letter from the Director, Regulatory Management Division, Environmental Protection Agency, transmitting the Department's report and certification for FY 2019 to the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

326. A letter from the Director, Regulatory Management Division, Environmental Protection Agency, transmitting the Department's final rule — Air Plan Approval; Michigan (EPA-R05-OAR-2007-1092-0028; FRL-9990-43-Region 5) received March 1, 2019, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 801(a)(1); Public Law 104-121, Sec. 251; (110 Stat. 868); to the Committee on Energy and Commerce.

327. A letter from the Chief Operating Officer and General Counsel, Office of Science and Technology Policy, Executive Office of the President, transmitting an action on nomination, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 3349(a); Public Law 105-277, 115(b); (112 Stat. 2681-614); to the Committee on Oversight and Reform.

328. A letter from the Assistant Secretary, Office of Enforcement and Compliance, Office of Enforcement and Compliance, Office of Regulatory Affairs, Office of Hazardous Materials Safety, Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration, Department of Transportation, transmitting the Department's final rule — Hazardous Materials: Oil Spill Response Plans and Information Sharing for High-Hazard Flammable Liquid and Gas Service Stations (49 CFR 195.1494), received March 1, 2019, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 801(a)(1); Public Law 104-121, Sec. 251; (110 Stat. 868); to the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure.

PUBLIC BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

Under clause 2 of rule XII, public bills and resolutions of the following titles were introduced and several referred, as follows:

By Mr. LANGFORD (for himself, Ms. TUTTLE, and Mr. COE): H.R. 1549. A bill to protect the rights of passengers with disabilities in air transportation and for other purposes; to the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure.

By Mr. KIND (for himself and Mr. SENGKHAMNEUE): H.R. 1550. A bill to support State and tribal efforts to develop and implement management strategies to address chronic wasting disease among deer, elk, and moose populations, to support applied research regarding the causes of chronic wasting disease and... methods to control the further spread of the disease, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Agriculture, and in addition to the Committee on Natural Resources, for a period to be subsequently determined by the Speaker, in each case for consideration of such provisions as fall within the jurisdiction of the committee concerned.

By Mr. ENISTEIN (for himself and Mr. STIVERES):

The Senate met at 10 a.m. and was called to order by the President pro tempore (Mr. GRASSLEY).

Pledge of Allegiance

The President pro tempore led the Pledge of Allegiance, as follows:

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Dr. Barry C. Black, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

O God our shield, the giver of victory and honor, shine on us with Your kindness that brings a rich harvest of joy.

Today, guide our lawmakers with Your spirit and lead them by the power of Your prevailing Providence. May they trust You completely and permit You to remove obstacles from the road ahead.

Lord, train them in Your school of humility so they will walk safely and never stumble. Help them to remember that all efforts to defend themselves will fail without Your grace and mercy. May they not trust in their own strength and ingenuity but instead lean on You the God of might and miracles.

We pray in Your Holy Name. Amen.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Under the previous order, the Senate will proceed to executive session to resume consideration of the following nomination, which the clerk will report.

The bill clerk read the nomination of Chad A. Readler, of Ohio, to be United States Circuit Judge for the Sixth Circuit.

Mr. GRASSLEY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to speak for 1 minute as in morning business.

Mr. GRASSLEY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to speak for 1 minute as in morning business.

Mr. GRASSLEY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to speak for 1 minute as in morning business.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. GRASSLEY. Mr. President, yesterday, I came to the floor to speak about the Green New Deal. I compared it to the New Deal of the 1930s. I mentioned before that the New Deal of the 1930s is not something that we ought to be emulating.

The National Recovery Administration of the 1930s was a key feature of that New Deal. It was designed to eliminate competition, with industry, government, and labor all working together.

Mr. Murphy is a graduate of Miami University and the University of Chicago Law School and now serves as the State solicitor of Ohio. He has held two prestigious clerkships on our Federal courts, including for Justice Anthony Kennedy on the U.S. Supreme Court.

So I hope our colleagues will join me in advancing another wise choice for our Nation’s judiciary.

RESERVATION OF LEADER TIME

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. Cramer). Under the previous order, the leadership time is reserved.

CONCLUSION OF MORNING BUSINESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Morning business is closed.

Mr. McCONNELL. I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, the Senate confirmed one of President Trump’s well-qualified nominees to the federal bench and advanced the nomination of another.

That is what we will do today. With Allison Rushing’s nomination confirmed, we will vote later today on the nomination of Chad Readler and then turn to consideration of Eric Murphy to join him on the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals.

Mr. Murphy is a graduate of Miami University and the University of Chicago Law School and now serves as the State solicitor of Ohio. He has held two prestigious clerkships on our Federal courts, including for Justice Anthony Kennedy on the U.S. Supreme Court.

Let’s review a few of the greatest hits in this particular proposal.

Democrats have decided that every building in America needs to be either overhauled or replaced altogether. They are putting homeowners and small business owners on alert. The all-knowing central planners here in the Nation’s capital are raring to remodel the entire country.

Up next: ending all fossil fuel and nuclear energy production. Forget about coal and all of the jobs it supports in my State of Kentucky and around the country. Forget about the oil and natural gas industry and all of those jobs as well. The list goes on.

Oh, by the way, forget about nuclear, too—proving that this proposal doesn’t even intend to be a serious effort to reduce carbon emissions. It is just a statement of what sounds trendy in New York and San Francisco.

Anyone seriously concerned about carbon would know that nuclear power generates a majority of America’s carbon-free electricity. You would think the carbon police would be glad that from 1995 to 2016, American nuclear power met the emissions equivalent of keeping 3 billion cars off the road.

Let me say that again. You would think the carbon police would be glad that from 1995 to 2016, American nuclear power met the emissions equivalent of keeping 3 billion cars off the road.

Oh, but alas, these Democrats will not let facts get in the way of what is fashionable.

Besides, why should America bother being a net exporter of energy when we could leave all of that economic potential to competitors like China? Naturally, as background documents explained, this means eliminating all combustion engines—cars, lawn mowers, commercial airliners. Everything must go. Everything must go.

By the way, the background really helps clarify another goal behind all of this. It is providing “economic security,” even those who are “unwilling to work.”

All of this and more can be ours for the low, low price of a staggering expanse of centralized government and—wait for it—upward of a mere $93 trillion. Ninety-three trillion is more than every dollar our Federal Government has spent in its entire history to date—combined. It is more than the combined annual GDP of every nation on Earth.

As our colleague Senator BLUNT and the policy committee have pointed out, this amount of money could rebuild the entire Interstate Highway System every year just for the heck of it—for 250 years, and you would still have a little left over—a little left over.

Or maybe Americans would rather have something nicer to drive on the roads we already have. For the comparatively cheap price of just $66 trillion, I am told the government could buy every American a Ferrari. What a great idea. For the comparatively cheap price of just $66 trillion, the government could buy every American a Ferrari. By the way, everyone would have to get their driving in before Democrats ban the internal combustion engine.

To be clear, $93 trillion is just one number and one attempt to estimate the pricetag of this fantasy novel. The proposal is so lacking in details and math that it is almost impossible for analysts to even know where to begin trying to connect it to the real world.

Let’s talk about where this money would come from. That is always a question worth asking.

If we spread that $93 trillion out over 10 years after every American household, we get about $65,000 per household—$65,000 every year for every household. The median income in this country is around $60,000. So, like any good socialist plan, I am sure we would hear a lot about soaking the rich.

We always do. We would hear that wealthy Americans could pay for this whole thing, if only they were sufficiently civic-minded, but, of course, that is not even close to accurate. A huge share of the bill would land at the feet of the American middle class.

There are not enough billionaires—there are not enough billionaires to pay the trillions needed for this massive government plan.

Even if Warren decided the IRS should grab every single cent of adjusted gross income above $1 million, all of it taken, it would only bring in a little over one-tenth—one-tenth—of what the Green New Deal is estimated to cost every year. Take all the money away from the millionaires, it would only bring in a little over one-tenth of what the Green New Deal is estimated to cost every year.

In fact, in order to break even on this proposal alone, the Federal Government would have to take $9 of every $10 that every single American earns. The Federal Government would have to take $9 out of $10 of everything every American.

You had better believe that families’ last dollar would need to go toward keeping the lights on. By one analysis, middle-class families could see their power bills jump by more than $300 a month under the Green New Deal. That would take up the last dollar they had left.

I know Senator ERNST and several of our colleagues will be speaking at this hearing just for the heck of it—for 250 years, and you would still have a little left over—a little left over.

The long, bloody legacy of anti-Semitism is spread out over the pages of history, but, regrettably, this scourge is not confined to history.

Long common across the Middle East, violent, hateful acts of anti-Semitism have been increasing throughout Europe. Less than a lifetime after the Holocaust, 9 out of 10 European Jews say anti-Semitism has increased—increased—in the past 5 years.

Eighty-eight percent of French Jews say they actively worry about targeted anti-Semitism have provoked offensive, anti-Muslim comments in response. That is hateful and completely inexcusable as well.

So now the House of Representatives seeks to distance itself from this Member’s remarks and will apparently soon vote to condemn anti-Semitism for the second time in just a few weeks. I hope this time the message is clear.

Support for Israel isn’t about the “Benjamins.” It is about the hearts and minds of the American people. It is unconscionable for any Member of the U.S. Congress, even less a Member of the House Foreign Relations Committee, to repeatedly traffic in base stereotypes.

The long, bloody legacy of anti-Semitism is spread out over the pages of history, but, regrettably, this scourge is not confined to history.
In France, in 2006, a Jewish man was kidnapped for ransom because criminals assumed his Jewish family had to be rich. When their plan failed, they tortured and killed him. A memorial tree was planted in his honor. Earlier this year, that tree was found chopped down—anti-Semitism on top of anti-Semitism.

Trends here in America are troubling too. Every year, hundreds and hundreds of anti-Semitic incidents take place in America, everything from vandalism to harassment in schools, college campuses, and other public places, to targeting Jewish institutions.

This racial and religious hate-mongering deserves swift condemnation—swift condemnation. So I am glad the House is at least taking up this short, symbolic resolution and rejecting the anti-Semitic tropes this Democratic Congresswoman keeps peddling, but at the end of the day, it is just a symbolic resolution.

If House Democrats wanted to, they could pass real legislation to take action against anti-Semitism and shore up America’s relationship with Israel. I know they could because last month the Senate did just that. We did that in the Senate in February. The House should take up and pass S. 1, the bipartisan foreign policy legislation that the Senate passed last month, 77 to 23. That legislation walks the walk. It supports Israel and gives local communities the flexibility to combat the so-called BDS movement, which is a kind of anti-Semitic economic warfare that opponents of Israel are trying to wage against the Jewish State.

The bill also attends to other critical priorities, such as renewing U.S. commitments to Jordan’s security and providing for the Assad regime’s butchers to be brought to justice.

S. 1 is not just about combating anti-Semitism or bolstering the U.S.-Israel relationship. It speaks about standing with an Arab partner like Jordan and providing justice for the Syrian people. So my point is this: Resolutions are fine, but the House could do something that mattered by taking up S. 1 that we sent them last month that deals with the BDS boycott against Israel.

Words are one thing. Meaningful action is another. House Democrats should walk the walk and pass S. 1 without any further pointless delay.

I suggest the absence of a quorum.

RECOGNITION OF THE MINORITY LEADER

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Democratic leader is recognized.

(The remarks of Senator SCHUMER pertaining to the submission of S. Res. 97 are printed in today’s RECORD under “Submitted Resolutions.”)

NOMINATION OF CHAD L. READER

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, now on Reader, later this afternoon, the Senate will vote on the confirmation of Chad Reader to the Sixth Circuit. As this Chamber by now is no doubt aware, Mr. Reader was our own coök and both visitors of the Trump administration’s decision not to defend the healthcare law in court. In a brief submitted to the court on behalf of the Department of Justice, Mr. Reader said that protections for the 130 million Americans with preexisting conditions are unconstitutional.

I say to my Republican friends: Do you want to vote for a judge who says that protecting preexisting conditions, which affect 130 million Americans, is unconstitutional?

Well, that is what you are going to do if you vote for Reader.

Even my Republican colleague Senator ALEXANDER, who oversees the committee that created these protections, calls his arguments “as far-fetched as I have ever heard.”

Can you imagine the lack of compas- sion it takes to argue that 130 million Americans with cancers, respiratory ailments, and all the way down to asthma and diabetes won’t have access to affordable healthcare? Can you imagine voting for a man who is so cold-hearted that he doesn’t protect a mother who has a daughter or a son with cancer and the insurance company cuts them off, and they have to watch their child suffer?

Can our Republican colleagues actually vote for a nominee who feels that way not just in his words but in his action? This vote is going to be remem- bered for a long time—a long, long time.

Can you imagine sitting at your desk on an average workday and arguing for a policy with such catastrophic con- sequences for a third of our country? I, for one, cannot. That is what Reader did.

The very next day, after he wrote that brief, he was nominated for this lifetime appointment on the bench. Go figure. Only in the Trump administration could a person be rewarded for ef- forts to take healthcare away from av- erage Americans. That is exactly what happened.

Yesterday, regrettably, the Senate proceeded to Reader’s nomination over the opposition of one of his home State Senators, Senator SHERROD BROWN. Re- publican leaders are so eager to confirm judges that they are willing to break the blue-slip tradition even when the nominee is the literal encapsula- tion of their party’s most heartless pol- icy. I might add—a policy that helped them lose the House and could help them lose future elections, if they only care about that.

Republican Senators still have a chance to reject this clear violation behind Mr. Reader’s nomination. They have a chance to stand up for healthcare. I would ask my colleagues, is the con- firmation of one circuit judge really worth endorsing the position that our healthcare law should be repealed and Americans with preexisting conditions should not be protected? The answer to that question ought to be obvious.

I urge my Republican colleagues to vote no on Mr. Reader’s nomination this afternoon.

I yield the floor.

I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The bill clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. THUNE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

THE GREEN NEW DEAL

Mr. THUNE. Mr. President, the more you look at the Green New Deal, the worse it looks. Last week, one think tank released a first estimate of what the Green New Deal would cost. Here is the answer: between $51 trillion and $93 trillion over 10 years. Between $51 trillion and $93 trillion. That is an unfathomable amount of money. The 2017 gross domestic product for the entire world, for the whole planet, came to $80.7 trillion. That isn’t even $10 trillion less than what Democrats are pro- posing to spend on the Green New Deal.

Mr. President, $93 trillion is more than the amount of money the U.S. Government has spent in its entire his- tory. Since 1789, when the Constitution went into effect, the Federal Govern- ment has spent a total of $83.2 trillion. That is right—it has taken us 230 years of American history to spend the amount of money the Democrats want to spend in 10 years. Look at it this way: $93 trillion is enough money to buy more than 7,000 Ford-class aircraft carriers. To put that in perspective, guess how many aircraft carriers the Navy currently has in its entire fleet. Eleven.

It is like the Democrats are playing pretend. It is like they are on a road trip, and they are trying to pass the time, and they say, “What would you do if you won the lottery?” or “What would you do if you had all the money in the world?” It is a fun game to play for a few minutes, but this is not a game. The government doesn’t have all the money in the world. That $93 trillion is going to have to come from somewhere.

Democrats like to suggest that we can pay for it and pay for just about anything simply by taxing the wealthy, but the truth is, taxing the wealthy or even the merely well-off isn’t going to pay for this proposal. Taxing all the millionaires in the United States at a 100-percent tax rate for 10 years wouldn’t add up anywhere close to $93 trillion. Taxing every household making more than $200,000 a year at a 100-percent tax rate for 10 years wouldn’t add up anywhere close to $93 trillion. Let’s take it a step further. Taxing every family making more than $100,000 a year at a 100-percent tax rate for 10 years would still leave Democrats far short of $93 trillion.

The Green New Deal is not a plan that can be paid for merely by taxing the rich. Actually implementing the Green New Deal involves using the money not just from the well-off but from working families—and not a little bit of money either. Ninety-three trillion dollars breaks down to over $850,000 per household over 10 years. That is more than $85,000 per household, or 20 percent of the median household income in the United States. In other words, the cost per household for just 1 year of the Green New Deal is more than the yearly income of 50 percent of American households.

Let’s leave aside the stratospheric cost for just a minute and talk about the other consequences of the Green New Deal.

Democrats’ Green New Deal would put the government in charge of a large portion of the economy and significan- tly shrink Americans’ freedom. Under this bill, the government will impose new and stringent regulations on your appliances, your car, your house, and your place of business. It will limit your electricity options. It will put the government in charge of your healthcare. I know that is not really energy-related, but the Green New Deal’s authors went beyond energy to include a full socialist wish list.

Your options for travel may be limited. A fact sheet released—and later deleted—by one of the authors of the Green New Deal called for a plan to “build out high-speed rail at a scale where air travel stops becoming necessary.” Well, that might work between DC and Boston, but it is not going to work so well if you have family in Hawaii. I don’t think the high-speed rail is going to reach that far. I wouldn’t want to make the trip by passenger ship, but, of course, we don’t know whether ships as we know them would exist under the Green New Deal. After all, the plan’s authors want to eliminate fossil fuels, which power ships, as well as your car and your home.

Incidentally, while we are on the subject, it is worth mentioning that the Governor of California recently scaled back California’s high-speed rail project. Why? Because it was costing too much money.

Under the Green New Deal, if you like your car, you probably won’t be able to keep it. If you like your healthcare, you probably won’t be able to keep it. If you like your house, you may not be able to keep that either. That same fact sheet from one of the Green New Deal’s authors says that we need to “upgrade or replace every building in [the] U.S.”

There is no question that we need to protect the environment. There is no question that we should be developing clean energy sources and building on our existing clean energy technologies.

I would tell the Chair that my home State of South Dakota is leading the way on this issue. In fact, my colleagues may be surprised to know that according to the U.S. Energy Information Administration, South Dakota generates an average of two-fifths to half of its electricity from hydroelectric facilities along the Missouri River. Combined with our abundant wind generation, which provides roughly 30 percent of our electricity, South Dakota’s net utility-scale energy generation is renewables.

I am proud of South Dakota’s renewable energy achievements, and I think we should be encouraging improved domestic energy production, increasing America’s renewable energy supply, and reducing consumption through improved efficiencies. What we should not be doing is adopting a wildly irresponsible, completely unworkable, and utterly unrealistic proposal that would drive taxes through the roof, reduce America’s standard of living, and perma-

We are going to be voting on the Democrat’s Green New Deal proposal in the coming weeks, and it will be interesting to see where all of my colleagues stand on this issue. In fact, my colleagues have cosponsored. He doesn’t want to vote on a piece of legislation that is put forward by 11 Demo-

Well, I think it is important for the American people to know. I think it is important for Members of the Senate to go on record on whether they think this is a good idea or whether they think it is socialist fantasy. If they would believe, this is a crazy idea that would wreck the economy, cost Americans’ jobs, and punish working families in this country with higher costs for literally everything they face in their daily lives.

For the sake of our economy and for working families, I hope that when this vote comes, at least some Democrats will slow their party’s headlong rush to become the Socialist Party and not what we are known as the Democratic Party in this country. I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. SASSE). The Senator from Ohio.

NOMINATION OF CHAD A. READLER

Mr. BROWN. Mr. President, judges are making decisions around the country right now on voting rights, on civil rights, on women’s rights, on LGBTQ rights, decisions that could limit those rights not just for a year or for a decade but for a generation. They make decisions on the death penalty; they make decisions on sentencing; and they make decisions on corporate power. We have seen judge after judge, especially on the Supreme Court, put their thumbs on the scales of justice by favoring corporations over workers, by favoring Wall Street over consumers, and by favoring health insurance companies over patients. That is, fundamentally, why in Ohio we cannot afford to have Chad Readler on the bench.

Look at an op-ed he took upon himself to write as a private citizen, which reads we should allow the execution of 16-year-olds—kids, children who are 16 years old.

This is at a time when we are taking important, bipartisan steps forward on sentencing reform, and this Senate doesn’t come together very often. This Senate, under Senator McConnell’s leadership, actually came together in a bipartisan way. After all of the mostly unworkable pieces of legislation he has written that always help the rich, the President of the United States signed a bill, in this case, in which we did the right thing by taking bipartisan steps forward on sentencing reform.

How do you turn around and put someone on the bench for life who supports executing children? That is what a 16-year-old is—still a teenager, still a child under the law. Yet he thinks it is something we should do to execute children who are found guilty.

During his nomination hearing, it was pretty unbelievable that Readler stood by his op-ed and refused to disavow his support for using the death penalty on high schoolers and, possibly, on even younger children. I guess I give him credit for consistency.

His record on voting rights is equally despicable. He worked on behalf of a far-right group and argued for the elimination of Golden Week, something passed by Republicans that had been in effect for more than a decade, which means he was limiting the amount of time people can vote early, and he defended restrictive voter ID and provi- sing ballot laws. We know exactly whom those laws target—people of color, the elderly, young voters. They are the same people, in many cases, who face literacy tests and poll taxes. They are the people John Lewis and the foot soldiers of Selma were marching for 54 years ago tomorrow across the Edmund Pettus Bridge.

It is shameful that, half a century later, we are fighting that same fight. Chad Readler again is on the wrong side. We can’t afford another judge on the bench who works to undo Selma’s legacy.

We can’t afford another judge who has made it his mission to take away Americans’ healthcare. Chad Readler’s work threatens the healthcare coverage of 20 million Americans who have preexisting conditions. Last summer, Readler did what three career attorneys did not: He filed a brief that challenged the law that protects Americans’ rights. He filed a brief nobody else was willing to file. They all recused themselves. They all refused to do it. They thought it was something improper and unconstitutional. One of them, I believe, resigned.

Do you know what happened then? The next day, he was nominated for this very judgeship.

So the message is loud and clear from the administration. If you go after pre-existing conditions under consumer protections, if you attack workers’ rights, if you attack voters’ rights within any job you hold—and there is a real incentive to do this from this administration—you may get a good, lifetime Federal judgeship. The arguments he made in his brief were unprecedented. As I said, three attorneys withdrew from the case. One resigned altogether in his objections to the Department of Justice’s unprecedented actions.

One of our Republican colleagues, Senator Alexander, who works with Senator Murray to run the HELP Committee, called Readler’s argument as farfetched—Senator Alexander’s words are conservative Republican from Tennessee—as he had ever seen. Yet, in December, a partisan Texas judge decided to go along with Readler’s opinion, and he handed down the decision that undermines pre-existing condition protections for all Americans.

Right now, judges are deciding the future of Americans’ healthcare every day. We can’t afford to put another extreme—and he is way out of the mainstream—on the unappointed, unelected judges the American public depends on. We can’t afford to put another extreme judge on the court who will not defend Americans’ right to healthcare.

We know there have been a number of times this body has refused to take away the consumer protections for pre-existing conditions. We remember the decision that undermines pre-existing condition protections for all Americans.

Again, these are people who are worried about and who are doing everything right. They didn’t ask to be sick. They didn’t ask for their healthcare costs to go up. Are we going to put somebody on the court who wants to take away the consumer protections for people like this lady from Hillboro?

These Americans work hard. They pay their premiums. Many of them deal with all that comes with caring for a child or a family member who has a chronic condition. How does Congress and how can this President—all who have good insurance paid for by the taxpayers—stand by and allow activists, partisan judges to dismantle these protections that Americans rely on.

It is bad enough that so many Members of Congress want to take away these consumer protections. Now it is unelected judges the American public really doesn’t know, and this body is about to appoint one to the court, even more extreme and younger than so many other of these judges.

We can’t afford another judge on the courts who will vote to take away Americans’ healthcare, who will vote to take away Americans’ voting rights, who will vote to take away Americans’ civil rights.

I ask my colleagues to vote no on Chad Readler for the Sixth Circuit.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Washington.

Mrs. MURRAY. Mr. President, I thank my colleague from Ohio for his statement and his concerns, and I am here today to join him on the floor to oppose Chad Readler’s nomination to the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals. I call on every Republican who said they were going to fight for families’ healthcare coverage, protections for people with pre-existing conditions, to prove they meant it by joining us. them say they want to tackle those skyrocketing healthcare costs. I have heard them say they want to help people get the care they need, but when push comes to shove, I have yet to see them join Democrats and actually vote to make that happen. In fact, they have a long track record of working to move us in exactly the opposite direction.

People across the country have not forgotten how they had to speak up and stand with Republicans from jamming through that awful TrumpCare bill, which would have spiked premiums and gutted Medicaid and put families back at the mercy of big insurance companies that could jack up prices for people with preexisting conditions.

Those people also will not forget if Republicans decide to ignore them again and rally around this judicial nominee, who wants to do the same damage.

Let’s be clear. Chad Readler’s nomination is the latest test of whether Republicans are serious about fighting for people’s healthcare, and every Republican who supports him is failing yet again.

Make no mistake—Chad Readler has not only championed some of President Trump’s most alarming steps, such as his travel ban, his family separation policy, his efforts to undermine protections for LGBTQ people and more; he has also been President Trump’s right-hand man when it comes to undermining healthcare for people in this country.

When the Trump administration decided to abandon protections for people with preexisting conditions in court and throw its weight behind a lawsuit that would strike them down, Chad Readler signed on to the brief defending the decision. It is a brief that three other Justice Department officials refused to sign, and one even resigned over it. But Chad Readler led the Trump administration’s legal argument for striking down protections for people with preexisting conditions, which will increase costs and throw healthcare for millions of people into utter chaos.

It was an argument one of my Republican colleagues, as you just heard, called “as far-fetched as any I’ve ever heard.” I agree. It is farfetched, which is why it is also farfetched for any Republican who votes to confirm Readler to continue pretending they care about protecting people for people with preexisting conditions or helping families get affordable healthcare.

The choice, to me, is pretty simple and straightforward. You cannot be for protections for people with preexisting conditions and for making someone who wants to strike them down a circuit judge. You cannot fight for families’ healthcare and vote to empower the very people who have been leading the charge to undermine it. You can’t vote for Readler and stand with those families.

People across the country are watching this vote closely. They know, despite Republicans’ promises to fight for their healthcare, when it matters as it does here, when the care they need is truly on the line, Republicans have not come through for them.

I hope that changes today. I hope, instead of breaking their word and voting once again for President Trump’s agenda of chaos and healthcare sabotage, they will live up to the promises and join us and people across the country and oppose Readler’s nomination.

Before I wrap up, I want to talk about the role of the Justice Department—defending the laws of the United States. It is a quaint idea, but that is the role of the Justice Department—defending the laws of the United States in that court.

Later this week we expect a vote on Eric Murphy. He is another nominee who has taken extreme positions on women’s healthcare, from endorsing misinformation by signing on to briefs that cite false—false—claims about women’s health to standing in support of laws that were found to unconstitutionally infringe on reproductive rights and against laws to increase access to contraceptive care.

People across the country have been absolutely clear that they do not want to see our courts lurch to the far right. They have said it is a threat to women. It is a threat to women. It is a threat to our workers and our families and our environment and so much more.

So Democrats are here. We are going to keep standing up and fighting back every time President Trump and Senate Republican leaders try to move us in that direction, and I hope some Republicans will do the right thing and stand with us.

I yield the floor.

I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. WYDEN. I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. WYDEN. Mr. President, today, the Senate considers the nomination of yet another, far-right nominee—Chad Readler, who is up for consideration for a seat on the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals.

Let me just say at the outset that any whiff of credibility this nominee might have had as a judicial nominee disappears the minute he puts his name on the Trump administration’s absurd legal argument that protections for preexisting conditions are unconstitutional.

To get a sense of how ridiculous this argument is, you have to look at a bit of recent history.

In 2012, the Supreme Court ruled that the individual mandate was a tax, that it was constitutional, and that the Affordable Care Act would stand. For millions of Americans, particularly the ones who wouldn’t have to go to bed at night fearing that when they woke up, they could get discriminated against for a preexisting condition—a key protection in the ACA—they wouldn’t have to worry about that anymore—it was a joyful day when the court ruled that the Affordable Care Act would stand, but it was a tough day for the Republican strategists who had put so much time and effort to bring down the law at any cost.

Next, in the process of jamming the Trump tax law through Congress, in late 2017, many Republicans said: Let’s bring out our old attacks on the Affordable Care Act. They passed an amendment that said there would be no penalty for those who failed to sign up for health insurance, even though everybody understands that those who have coverage often pick up the bills for those who don’t.

Then, in 2018, Republican Governors and attorneys general in 20 States made what was really the silliest legal challenge to the Affordable Care Act yet, and that was in the case of Texas v. United States.

Here, they said they were going to stipulate that the Supreme Court upheld the Affordable Care Act’s individual mandate only because it was a tax. Then they said: We establish that the Trump tax law dialed the penalty associated with violating the individual mandate down to zero. At least that had a kernel of accuracy.

Let me describe how they got into the backbreaking legal acrobatics next. They argued that because there is no penalty associated with violating the individual mandate, it is no longer a tax and somehow it has become unconstitutional. Finally, they argued that since the individual mandate is unconstitutional, the Affordable Care Act is unconstitutional and ought to be thrown out the window.

My own take is that if you were a first-year law student, you would get a failing grade for that kind of work on constitutional law, but let’s stick to the history.

The Justice Department has an obligation to defend the laws of the United States. It is a quaint idea, but that is the role of the Justice Department—defending the laws of the United States in that court.

The Trump administration, however, said: Who cares? It doesn’t matter. And they sided with officials who shared their view.

In fact, the Trump Justice Department focused this attack specifically on the Affordable Care Act protections for preexisting conditions. It said that the mandate was inseverable from two key protections in the law, which therefore ought to be struck down: the rule that bars insurance companies from denying coverage due to preexisting conditions and the rule that bars insurance companies from jacking up premiums based on preexisting conditions.

Here is a little bit of a recap. A group of officials on the far right, who were out of good cases to bring against the Affordable Care Act, said: Hey, let’s try bringing this case. So, in the President’s direction, the Trump Justice Department decided not to fight but, rather, to take part in this preposterous attack on the law of the land.

To the incredible distress of millions of Americans who walk an economic tightrope because they have a preexisting condition, somehow the Trump people got a Texas judge to rule in their favor. Fortunately, the ACA protections remained in place while the case worked its way through the courts.

There are colleagues here in the Senate, on the other side of the aisle, who have objected to what the Justice Department did. Our friend Senator ALEXANDER, a Republican from Tennessee, who alluded a little bit of healthcare, said: “The Justice Department argument in the Texas case is as far-fetched as any I’ve ever heard.”

Senator LAMAR ALEXANDER is a Republican from Tennessee, chair of a key committee, and works with us on the Finance Committee. The Justice Department’s argument, according to Senator ALEXANDER, is just light years from a reasonable and rational position.

Then the Trump administration went ahead and threw out centuries of Justice Department tradition—honored by Republicans and Democrats—of defending laws as long as there is a nonfrivolous argument in their favor. They didn’t decide to throw out that vital legal tradition in a case involving some obscure, out-of-date statute. In effect, they chose to debase the Justice Department and undermine the rule of law in order to attack protections for preexisting conditions.

Chad Readler is the Trump appointee who stepped up and said: Sure, you can put my name on that legal brief. So what Chad Readler was essentially saying is that it was just fine with him to go back to the days in America when healthcare was for the healthy and wealthy. That is really what you had if you allowed discrimination against those with preexisting conditions again. If you are healthy, there is nothing to worry about. If you are wealthy, you will have a check and cover the payments for a preexisting condition and the health services you need.

Make no mistake about it—by putting his name on that legal brief, what Chad Readler was interested in doing was taking America back to yesteryear when the insurance companies could beat the stuffing out of somebody with a preexisting condition and find every manner of reason not to get them affordable care.

People were stuck in their jobs because of something called job lock, where they couldn’t move to another company, even when they got a pre-existing condition, because they wouldn’t be able to get coverage. That is what Chad Readler wanted to inflict on Americans.

The case he worked on was so obviously political and meritless that three career Justice Department attorneys withdrew from it. One senior official, an individual who had been praised for 20 years of extraordinary service, actually resigned. Mr. Readler said that was OK with him too.

He said that he would take America back to the days when healthcare was for the healthy and wealthy. I don’t really much care that senior officials—non-political officials in the Department—are leaving because this was such an extreme way to handle this case. Mr. Readler said that all of this was OK and that he would be the public face of attacking basic protections for 133 million Americans with preexisting conditions.

On the very same day, the President announced his nomination to sit on the powerful Sixth Circuit. That is a lifetime appointment on the Federal bench, an extraordinarily important position.

If there is somebody following the nomination at home, you just might ask yourself: Doesn’t that sound look a quid pro quo?

I am the ranking Democrat on the Senate Finance Committee, where we pay for much of American healthcare—Medicare, Medicaid, the children’s health program, tax credits available under the Affordable Care Act, and we have to have tax credits available to employers. On that committee, on which the Presiding Officer is a new member, you get a chance to review the credentials of lots of individuals who are involved in these decisions in which the Finance Committee is really faced with the question of how to make the best use of what is really $2 trillion, or thereabouts, of healthcare spending, and I will tell you, in this area, it is so important to protect people with preconditions.

The Trump administration just seems to have, with one nominee after another, an inexhaustible supply of far-right pretenders—persons who claim they will be for protections for preexisting conditions, only to turn around quickly and flight to take them away. So it ought to be clear that this isn’t a routine nomination. Chad Readler thinks insurance companies should be able to deny care with people with preexisting conditions.

Colleagues, if you vote for Chad Readler, you are casting a vote to endorse the position of turning back the clock and rolling back time to the days that insurance companies could discriminate against those with a preexisting condition.

If Mr. Readler’s history began and ended with the legal brief attacking preexisting protections, in my view, that would be disqualifying, but there is more.

He signed the Trump Justice Department legal brief green-lighting discrimination against LGBTQ Americans in the Masterpiece Cakeshop case. He defended the transgender military ban. He defended the Muslim ban. He defended family separation at the border.

I am just going to close by way of saying this: I think this nomination is a byproduct of what happens when the Senate abandons a long-held practice of consulting with home state Senators on nominees.

Since the early 1900s, it has been a tradition for the Judiciary Committee to seek input from Senators on judicial nominees from their home States. Lower court nominees traditionally don’t move forward until those home State Senators give the green light. They do so with what are called blue slips.

In this case, the nominee is from Ohio, and the majority leader, MITCH MCCONNELL, is in the process of blowing up that tradition and moving this nominee over Senator BROWN’s objections.

In 2009, when Republicans were in the minority, MITCH MCCONNELL and all of his colleagues fought to protect the blue-slip tradition. They wrote everybody in sight to protect it—President Obama, Senator LEAHY. They wrote: “We hope your administration will consult with us as it considers possible nominations to the Federal courts from our states.”

They made it clear a few years ago that they strongly supported this, but here they are blowing up a century-old tradition of bipartisanship on judicial nominees after defending it.

This issue came to a head last year, when the Senate took up the nomination of Ryan Bounds to the Ninth Circuit, despite objections from my Oregon colleague, Senator MERKLEY, and me.

We were able to block that nomination. It was the right thing to do. This nominee we felt had not been straight with our judicial selection committee. As Oregon’s senior Senator, I had been dealing with these nominees—Democrats and Republicans—for years, but our judicial selection committee had never felt so misled. Senator MERKLEY and I led the fight, and we were successful in defeating that nominee.

Now the White House still wants, apparently, this body to act as a rubber stamp and just approve one nominee after another without any questions.

I want my colleagues to understand that by moving this nomination forward, they are going to be responsible for creating a new reality—in effect hot-wiring the process for considering judicial nominees in a way that will take us back again to a more partisan approach.

The bipartisan blue-slip process has worked for over a century. What is going on now would be a breach of a bipartisan protocol that has further driven the judiciary to a partisan extreme.
Following these actions by the Trump administration and the majority, I seriously question, if you continue this, whether the current structure of the courts is going to survive.

Colleagues, Chad Readler does not deserve a lifetime appointment to the Sixth Circuit. The moment he put his name on the Trump administration’s absurd legal attack on protections for preexisting conditions, he revealed that he was going to be partisan all the way and, on top of that, that he was going to exercise poor judgment. He has been a defender of discrimination in multiple forms. He has defended the indefensible abuse of vulnerable migrant families at our border. At this point, he cannot claim to be close to the standard of impartiality and evenhandedness that a Senator ought to expect from any judicial nominee.

I intend to vote against Chad Readler. I urge my colleagues to join me.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. LANKFORD). The Senator from New Jersey.

Mr. MENENDEZ. Mr. President, today I rise to oppose the nomination of Chad Readler to the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals.

I remember the 2018 campaign season, when so many Republicans suddenly became the world’s most passionate defenders of patients with preexisting conditions. They told voters that never ever could they even imagine doing anything that would weaken the protections that stop health insurance companies from discriminating against people with preexisting conditions.

Whether they be breast cancer survivors or children born with birth defects or any of the tens of millions of Americans who manage chronic conditions like diabetes or depression or high blood pressure, well, Americans are about to find out whether my American colleagues meant a word of what they said on the campaign trail. Americans will soon see whether Republicans stand up for patients with preexisting conditions or vote to confirm Chad Readler to the Ohio Sixth Circuit Court.

This nominee’s record of threatening patients with preexisting conditions is not up for debate. Chad Readler was the mastermind behind the Trump administration’s effort to strip away the core of the Affordable Care Act—the principle that health insurance companies cannot deny coverage or kick a patient off their policy just because of their medical history.

On the campaign trail, President Trump spoke of protecting Americans with preexisting conditions, but we now know that was just another lie.

Apparently, it wasn’t enough for this administration to stop defending the Affordable Care Act in court; the President sought to attack it in court. Initially, the Trump administration struggled to find someone at the Department of Justice willing to take on this cause. In fact, three separate career attorneys at the Justice Department refused to argue the administration’s position in court. One employee even resigned.

Chad Readler, the nominee we are voting on today, was more than happy to take on this cruel and unjust cause. He became the chief architect of the Trump administration’s legal brief, challenging the very constitutionality of the Affordable Care Act’s protections for preexisting conditions. In other words, Chad Readler’s legal brief took the Trump administration’s effort to sabotage the Affordable Care Act to a whole new level, threatening to bring us back to a time when health insurance companies didn’t have to cover cancer survivors, or individuals with substance abuse disorder, or anyone who has ever faced, ever confronted a health challenge in their life. How does President Trump reward Chad Readler for this assault on patients and their families? Well, the day after he filed this reckless and morally repugnant legal brief, the President nominated him to serve on the Sixth Circuit.

Now, let me tell you, I spent a lot of time crisscrossing New Jersey over the past year, and I don’t think I met a single constituent who came up to me and said: Senator, what my family really needs you to do is once again let health insurance companies deny us care. On the contrary, I heard from and continue to hear from New Jerseyans who depend on these protections. They can’t even believe this is still an issue.

Last summer, I spoke with a woman from Highland Park named Ann Vardeman who told me she was diagnosed with PTSD after surviving a sexual assault. Ann told me that health insurers shouldn’t be able to “charge me more for something that is a horrible thing that happens to millions of people in this country absolutely no fault of their own.” Indeed, without the Affordable Care Act, there would be no Federal health protections for survivors of sexual violence like her.

Perhaps one of my constituents—Anne Zavalick of Middlesex, NJ—said it best when she wrote about her battle against bladder cancer. She wrote:

‘It is crucial that I continue to receive scans to make sure there is no recurrence of the cancer for lack of coverage for preexisting conditions, I will go bankrupt. . . . Then I will probably die. So, yeah, this is kinda super important to me, personally.’

It should be personal to all of us. Everyone in this body should take it personally when this administration attacks protections that 130 million Americans rely on for their health and financial security.

People remember what it was like before the Affordable Care Act, and they remember how they remember how a woman could be denied coverage for maternity care or charged higher premiums simply for being a woman. Today, being a woman is no longer a preexisting condition. They remember how infants born with heart deformities could hit lifetime caps within days of being born. Today, families don’t have to worry about lifetime limits.

The American actions speak louder than words, and it is action that we need right now. We need every Member of this body to stand up for the right of all Americans to get quality healthcare coverage. We need every Member of this body to stand up for the proposition that Americans cannot be discriminated against in their healthcare coverage because of a preexisting condition. We need every Member of this body to vote against the nomination of Chad Readler for the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals.

I yield the floor.

I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

Mr. DURBIN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

DECLARATION OF NATIONAL EMERGENCY

Mr. DURBIN. Mr. President, if you ask the Trump administration about their highest spending priority in terms of their budget, it is pretty clear—national defense. Over and over, the President has asked and Congress has voted for more money for America’s military for operations, readiness, and investment across the board. I ask the Trump administration about their highest spending priority in terms of their budget, it is pretty clear—national defense. Over and over, the President has asked and Congress has voted for more money for America’s military for operations, readiness, and investment across the board. that spending dollars today to train our men and women, to equip them properly, and to make sure they live in the best circumstances is in the best interests of America’s future. We have done that year in and year out, but this year we are facing quite a challenge from the Trump administration.

This notion of building a $5.7 billion wall is going to be paid for at the expense of the U.S. military. It is the military that will end up surrendering projects that are already underway and investments in our troops that are underway so that the President can build this almighty wall of his that was supposed to be paid for by the Mexicans, right? I heard him say that—only 100 times, but I heard him say it. Now he is off of that. It will not be the Mexicans paying for the President’s wall. It will be our military.

So we ought to be very honest about the vote that is coming up. President Trump has decided to declare an emergency that disregards the Constitution’s giving authority to Congress to appropriate funds, he wants to take on that responsibility to decide where funds will be spent. That will be challenged in court. I am sure, as it should be. Those Members of the Senate who in a few days will be asked to vote, I would like them to reflect on two things. Their vote supporting the President’s approach is basically giving the authority of this branch of the government away to the Executive. Make no mistake, that is at the heart of it, and a number of Republican Senators—a handful—have stood up and said: We wouldn’t have allowed this under a Democratic President; why would we allow it under a Republican President?

Yet others have said they are prepared to look the other way. If this President is popular back in their home States, the Constitution comes in second. That is a misreading of the Constitution’s giving authority to Congress to appropriate funds, he wants to take on that responsibility to decide where funds will be spent. That will be challenged in court. I am sure, as it should be.

Secondly, though, Members of the Senate, before they cast this vote giving this President the authority to take money out of our military to build this wall, ought to stop and take a look at where the money is coming from within our military.

I am in the fortunate position to be the ranking member on the Defense Appropriations Subcommittee. It is the biggest appropriations job on Capitol Hill, and I have to have a special regard for SHELBY, a Republican from Alabama, as my chairman of the subcommittee. I am the ranking Democrat on that committee. We have the biggest appropriation bill when it comes to discretionary spending—some 60 percent of the Federal discretionary budget. We know how important it is to get it right. America never wants to come second in a war, and we certainly never want to be in a position where we are mistreating or ignoring the needs of our men and women in uniform.

Each year we go through their requests and try to make sure the most important things are funded. The military will tell us: There are certain things that are essential and timely, and we need you to spend money on them. And we have responded, not just in the subcommittee and in the full committee but in the Senate and in the House.

Now comes the President and says: Not so, we are going to take the money that we told you was so critically important this year and spend it on the Mexican border to extend the wall—$5.7 billion worth of it. As I hold meetings with the heads of the branches of our military service, we have asked basic questions. I did that yesterday to several generals and Secretaries who came before me. I said: Has the administration sat down with you in terms of your branch of the military and told you where they are going to take the money to build the wall?

Consistently, the answer is no, they don’t know. We are days or weeks away from that. This money can be subverted, and that is exactly what the President intends to do.

What we have done is to prepare a chart through the Military Construction Subcommittee, which is chaired by Senator BOOZMAN, the Republican from Arkansas, and Senator SCHATS, a Democrat from New York. I asked them: Where are the unobligated projects? These are projects that have been authorized but haven’t been started. They may have had basic engineering and preliminary estimates done and so forth. They are ready to let a contract. The money is sitting there ready to move forward, and these are the projects that are on the target list for President Trump when it comes to cutting the military to pay for his border wall.

We have a long list here. The list includes almost every State—certainly, every State that has anything near a military facility. The State of Illinois has several key projects that we cannot lose, and the Marine Corps in Peoria, IL. It is a fire crash and rescue station that needs to be upgraded for the safety of the men and women who work there and those who use that important airport, and there are other things within our State.

As I said, hardly any State is omitted from this list. Any Senator who is voting to give this President the authority to cut military projects and to stop the spending on military projects should realize that it may come home and require an explanation.

The Presiding Officer is from the State of Oklahoma. I tell him that four of the projects are in Oklahoma that are on the target list—the hit list—for cuts if the President decides to cut those projects or Illinois projects to fund this wall.

I have two or three specific ones that I would like to highlight today because they came to my attention. I thought it would be a shame—in fact, it would be just plain wrong—for us to cut the spending on these projects. Let me tell you about one of them that struck me first.

The Commandant of the U.S. Marine Corps came to see me. He is a no-nonsense man. You can understand that if you come to be a four-star general in the Marine Corps, you get down to business in a hurry. We talked about some of the damage done at the premiere rebuilding for the U.S. Marine Corps. Last year, Hurricane Florence tore through the State of North Carolina. The Marine Corps happened to be one of the victims of that violent storm. The hurricane damaged many buildings on base, including those at Camp Lejeune, New River, and Cherry Point.

Here is an overhead shot that is not as graphic because it was taken after the hurricane, but the blue coverings on the tops of these roofs are an indication of the structural damage that was done to these buildings.

As I mentioned, 800 buildings on these bases were impacted and damaged by this hurricane. This overhead shot taken last month indicates the work that needs to be done before these buildings can be inhabited by the Marine Corps and their families.

I have a photo of the Camp Lejeune chapel, too. There is not much left of it. That is an indication of the damage that was done there. This is a worker walking outside of the chapel. That is what is left of the chapel. Insulation is falling from the ceiling. There is no good reason to prolong the cleanup.

The Marine Corps said they want to get down to work as quickly as possible and restore this training facility for the good of the Marine Corps and for our Nation, but this is on the hit list for the President for the wall at the border.

What else needs attention this year? The U.S. Air Force needs $750 million to begin cleaning up Tyndall Air Force Base, which was leveled by Hurricane Michael. The Army leaders need $1 billion for everything from more training to jump-starting new technology to keep our troops safe and effective in the battlefield. The Navy has asked for hundreds of millions of additional dollars for unexpected ship maintenance. We can’t afford to shortchange the men and women in the Navy. We saw what happened not that long ago with the fatal accidents involving Navy maneuvers and exercises. We never want that to happen again.

The National Guard has 2,100 personnel on the border, but it is starting to run low in its pay account. So it was hoping some of these unobligated funds, at least a small part of them, might be used so they can continue their border mission today, but after President Trump takes half of that—$2.5 billion to pay for his border wall—which priorities will get cut?
The President has also decided to cut or delay $3.6 billion in military construction projects. The President might not think these projects are timely or important, but it was just weeks or months ago when the administration said just the opposite and asked Congress for $3.6 billion. For example: $800 million for essential training facilities like the National Guard readiness centers, simulators and firing ranges in the States of Alaska, Arizona, Colorado, and Montana, to name a few. $1 billion worth of tenancy-related projects such as aircraft hangars and vehicle maintenance shops in Arkansas, Indiana, Missouri, and Oklahoma, not to mention many other States affected; $1 billion worth of projects for medical and dental care facilities for the men and women in uniform; schools for military families, military barracks, and other essential facilities in Arizona, Missouri, Texas, and beyond.

Fort Bragg, NC, to provide top-notch training for our troops, to prevent injuries among our Special Forces. They are using an old warehouse right now, and they want a modern facility. If it were your son or daughter serving our military at Fort Bragg, you would give them nothing less. The list goes on and on.

Are we really going to tell our military—the very people who are protecting and defending this Nation—that the needs they have identified and we have appropriated money for are going to be cut, put on hold because President Trump made a campaign promise that he can’t keep—that the Mexicans were going to build the wall?

Republicans and Democrats in the Senate should join the House in rejecting the President’s emergency declaration. The Senate should reject any effort by the President to take money from our troops, from the military—from the Marines, from the Air Force, the Navy, the Army, the National Guard—to build this wall. The Senate should join the House in rejecting any effort by the President to extend this emergency designation and to try to assume constitutional responsibilities beyond what is already written.

We are a branch of government—Article I of our Constitution. Our responsibility is to appropriate funds. When we give away that responsibility, we walk away from the reason we were elected. I hope that Members on both sides of the aisle will consider that as we face this historic vote.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Michigan.

NOMINATION OF CHAD A. READLER

Mr. PETERS. Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the nomination of Mr. Chad Readler to the U.S. Sixth Circuit Court.

There are certainly many reasons to oppose Mr. Readler’s nomination. His track record paints a very clear picture of what he values and what he does not. Mr. Readler fought to uphold President Trump’s travel ban that targets people because of their religion. He has argued in favor of a business turning away customers simply because they are LGBT. He worked to unravel programs and roll back protections that would ensure low-income workers would actually receive their hard-earned benefits. Of the things that Mr. Readler values, protecting Americans from wrongful acts of discrimination is clearly not among them.

Yet it still remains difficult for me to understand why Mr. Readler—and any of my colleagues who choose to advance his nomination today—would support going back to an era where health insurance companies are allowed to discriminate against people with preexisting health conditions. I have heard plenty of my colleagues from across the aisle make public statements in favor of preexisting coverage protections. That is probably because they hear, like I do, from people all across my State who fear losing coverage as a result of having that preexisting condition.

What are preexisting conditions? Well, it is things like diabetes, asthma, or even high blood pressure, and they are a reality for over 4 million Michiganders. This range of fairly common to fairly complex conditions is experienced by one in every four children, over half of the female population, and 84 percent or more in their late fifties and in their sixties.

Today, there is a broad consensus that we need a Federal law in place that prevents insurance companies from denying coverage or jacking up prices based on someone’s health status, their age, or their gender. We have a law on the books right now that protects people with preexisting conditions, but this law must be defended, not undermined.

I worked hard to pass this important coverage during my first term in the Senate, and I have fought to preserve it every day since then. Although this fight has been successful so far, it is based on the premise that the laws passed and upheld by Congress will be defended in court. Yet the Department of Justice Civil Division, under Mr. Readler’s leadership, decided not to do so.

His actions fit into the story of the Trump administration’s ongoing partisan efforts to sabotage our healthcare system and dismantle strategies that would lower premiums and expand quality, affordability, and coverage, generally. The President is constantly looking for ways to step on Congress and attack legislation that has brought health insurance to over 20 million Americans and cut Michigan’s uninsured rate in half.

We should not be advancing a Federal court nominee whose disregard for the rule of law comes at the expense of the health and the financial stability of millions of Americans. I urge my colleagues to vote no on Mr. Readler’s nomination and his track record of promoting discrimination.

Thank you, Mr. President. I yield the floor.

I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The bill clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. GRASSLEY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. BOOZMAN). Without objection, it is so ordered.

THE GREEN NEW DEAL

Mr. GRASSLEY. Mr. President, I appreciate my colleague from Iowa, Senator ERNST, for organizing this opportunity for several of us in the Senate to discuss the Green New Deal and to do it this week.

To put it mildly, the Green New Deal is ambitious. To frame it more accurately, it is an unworkable, pie-in-the-sky attempt to reshape every aspect of everyday Americans’ lives.

First, let me say that I am proud of my record in successfully advancing the availability and affordability of renewable energy. Many have called me the father of the Wind Energy Incentives Act. I suppose after—what?—probably 26 years, that makes me the grandfather of the Wind Energy Incentives Act. My legislation sought to give this alternative energy source the ability to compete against infinite, finite energy sources. At that time, we never knew about fracking for natural gas and for oil. We thought we were going to be completely dependent upon Saudi Arabia for our energy. Now we know that is not true, but back in 1992 and before, we did everything to think up every alternative energy we could in order to be less dependent upon the Saudis. One of those acts that I was involved in was wind energy.

The wind energy bill—now law—has been extremely successful. Iowa supplies more than 35 percent of its own electricity from wind. We were the first State in the country to generate more than one-third of its electricity from wind. Wind energy employs approximately 7,000 Iowans, and the nearly 3,000 wind turbines in Iowa generate millions of dollars in economic activity. So I want to make it very clear that I am speaking as someone who has a very checkered record of advancing clean energy.

S1680

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD — SENATE

Think about what the Green New Deal is about. Presumably, they don’t know we have been this successful because the Green New Deal, on the other hand, is more than a lab of vague aspirations. In fact, the Green New Deal was initially introduced in the House and Senate by its authors as a nonbinding, symbolic resolution—indeed, in other words, a lot of hot air. That means that even if it were to pass as introduced, it would not become law. I am glad that Senate Majority Leader McConnell reintroduced the text in a format that could become law so we Senators could go on record as to whether we want to make this the policy of the United States.

It would be one thing if the policy and goals remained on topic—namely, reducing pollution and cutting our nation’s carbon emissions. Those are worthy goals. Yet the resolution reads like a utopian manifesto that seeks to implement every liberal policy priority from the past many decades.

We have seen extreme leftwing agendas that rely on the power of the State and that usurp the role of individuals. How will those policies turn out? We have plenty examples. Look at the former Soviet Union. Look at Cuba over the last 60 years. Look at what has happened to Venezuela in the last 15 years. It has gone from the richest country in South America to a destitute country in which they die of malnutrition and people can’t get medicine. In more instances than in the three I have just given you, these utopian ideas never turn out very well.

Supposedly the Green New Deal includes goals that are related to energy and the environment, but for the most part, they are wholly unrealistic. For example, their calling for the upgrading of all existing buildings or, in another statement, their meeting 100 percent of the power demands of the United States through clean, renewable, zero-emission energy sources—all within the next 10 years—is simply not feasible.

Of course, no concrete proposals are put forward on how this is to be achieved. The Green New Deal just leaves us scratching our heads thinking about how all this would work.

There are a lot of questions. Would it require the government to mandate that every building owner in the United States make costly building improvements to meet national standards set here in Washington, DC? Another question is, wouldn’t every homeowner decide to submit to government inspection to ensure that his or her home meets the standards dictated by the government?

Another question is, what government expenditures would have to be made, assuming all of this is even technologically possible, to go from about 17 percent of U.S. electricity generation coming from renewables today to a total 100 percent in 10 years? The last question is, are the backers of the Green New Deal willing to support nuclear energy as a means to reach their goal? On this last point, I would conclude that a summary of the Green New Deal initially put forth in the House suggests a lack of support for nuclear energy.

As I have said before in my remarks today, I have been a leader on renewable energy production for decades, not just wind, as I have said, but geothermal, solar, biofuels, et cetera. So I am not just talking about being the author of the wind energy production tax credit.

During my leadership of the Senate Finance Committee in the 2000s, when I was chairman there, I oversaw the establishment, the enhancement, and renewal of numerous tax incentives that promote everything from wind and solar to renewable fuels like biodiesel, to energy-efficient homes, buildings, and appliances.

Unlike the unrealistic goals of the Green New Deal, these initiatives I just read are not only law, but they are real, proven, bipartisan actions that I shepherded into law to make the United States more energy independent and also, at the same time, improve our environment. Unfortunately, many of these key energy incentives I just mentioned are currently expired, and some of them have been expired for more than a year.

We had a real opportunity to extend these energy incentives as part of the appropriations deal reached earlier this month, but that was ultimately blocked by House Democrats—probably by some of the same people who are promoting the Green New Deal. They seem overly focused on the lofty goals of the Green New Deal or, as Speaker Pelosi called the Green New Deal, “The green dream or whatever they call it, no one knows what it is.”

The House Democrats could not be bothered a month ago with extensions of existing and successful provisions that incentivize the type of investment they claim to have blocked and not only tend to incentivize, actually have incentivized alternative energy over the last two and one-half decades—provisions that support millions of jobs for people who are actually willing to work.

Perhaps this just shows that the Green New Deal is less about tackling energy and environmental issues and more about remaking America into a dreamy new progressive paradise.

No, the American economy is left unchecked by the Green New Deal—make no mistake about thinking otherwise. The authors of the Green New Deal are intent on reshaping every aspect of American life through a “national, social, industrial, and economic mobilization,” and those last six words are in quotations.

Shaping American life through “national, social, industrial, and economic mobilization” that coincides with the 5-year plans of the former Soviet Union or of the Great Leap Forward under Chairman Mao of China. Even the family farmer is not spared from its grand plans. The Green New Deal authors want to regulate all pollution and greenhouse gas emissions in agriculture through sustainable farming and building a more sustainable food system that ensures universal access to healthy food. Now, I am not against farmers taking actions to prevent soil erosion and minimizing pollution because we farmers do that already. We have been doing it for decades.

The recently passed farm bill invests money in conservation programs than any farm bill before. I trust that farmers know more and have more common sense about how to take care of their land than some bureaucrat in Washington, DC, or politicians from New York City. We all know Washington, D.C., is an island surrounded by reality. So you put forth legislation like this, and it is just like 535 Members of Congress have all the knowledge in the world to tell 310 million other people what they ought to be doing.

I don’t believe all those smarts rest in the Congress of the United States or even the bureaucracy of this government. Over the last several years, when it comes to farming, we have seen farmers readily adopt the use of cover crops to prevent nutrient runoff and to sequester carbon in the soil through what we call minimum or no tillage.

Today farmers may go down as the first group in history to leave the land better than they found it for future generations. The true indication is that these calls for sustainable farming and a sustainable food system go well beyond farmers being good stewards of our natural resources. It appears to be intent on changing everything from how we farm to what we farm.

A fact sheet released by the House author, shortly after introduction, made this perfectly clear. It notes a desire—now, listen to this—it notes a desire to rid the dirtiest, most water- and air- and greenhouse gas-emitting cows. In case the authors are unaware, all cows and all people emit methane. It is part of the natural digestive process. The only way to stop these emissions is to ban animal agriculture. That proposal couldn’t be more disconnected or out of touch with Americans.

That is what makes the taxpayers feel there is nobody in Washington, DC, who has any common sense, but don’t worry. According to the authors of the Green New Deal in the House, it is not to say you get rid of agriculture or force everybody to go vegan. This doesn’t instill much confidence in the
I rise to speak in opposition to the nomination of Chad Readler to the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals. This nomination, if confirmed, would be advanced without the support of one of his home State Senators, and it deliberately ignores Senate precedent that has historically respected Senators’ ability to identify nominees that best fit the needs of their State.

In his current position at the Department of Justice, Chad Readler led the legal briefs for some of the Department’s most extreme positions. He defended President Trump’s travel ban, led efforts to end DACA, supported the inclusion of a citizenship question on the 2020 census, suggested that the structure of the CFPB was unconstitutional, and argued that businesses should be able to refuse services to same-sex couples.

Mr. Readler also led the DOJ’s legal brief for the Texas v. U.S. lawsuit, arguing against the Affordable Care Act’s protections for people with preexisting conditions, even while three other career attorneys at the DOJ refused to do so.

Think about that for a second. This nominee took up his pen and drafted a legal opinion at the Department of Justice that stated it was fine for his Department not to defend the law—a law that protects millions of Americans’ access to the critical healthcare they need.

If that weren’t enough to shock the conscience, Mr. Reader’s nomination to the Sixth Circuit judgeship was announced the same day the brief was filed.

Is that a coincidence? Maybe, but since three other career lawyers at the Department of Justice resigned rather than draft this brief and violate their duty to the law, I think it is fairly obvious.

This administration has made it crystal clear that Mr. Reader was chosen because of his willingness to dismantle the ACA and completely eliminate critical protections that ensure seniors, kids, and families in Nevada and across this country are able to get health insurance, regardless of whether they have a previous medical condition. It is cruel to many Americans, denying vital healthcare protections and access to care is truly a matter of life and death.

President Trump and Republican leaders have promised to sabotage our healthcare from day one, and this nomination alone is part of a long line of legislation, nominations, and Executive actions aimed at ripping away healthcare coverage from hardworking families in Nevada and across the country.

The Affordable Care Act is, quite simply, the law of the land. Its patient protections have wide bipartisan support, as evidenced by Congress’s inability to pass ACA repeal. Since its inception, over 400,000 Nevadans have gained healthcare, including 158,000 children. Tens of million more Americans across the country have gained access to affordable health insurance, prescription drug coverage, mental health services, and preventive care.

The ACA’s provisions have also guaranteed that over 1.2 million Nevadans with preexisting conditions will not be denied coverage because insurance companies deem them “too risky” to cover.

We cannot go back to the day when women, veterans, cancer survivors, and children with disabilities were charged more for healthcare or were flatout denied coverage.

Americans need us to work together to defend their access to quality and affordable healthcare, not just in Nevada but across this country. Yet Mr. Readler has shown us that he would instead take us backward, unravelling more than a decade of progress and wreaking potential havoc on our economy.

This nominee has demonstrated that he is willing to carry water for this President’s political interests and not serve in the best interest of Americans. I oppose Mr. Reader’s nomination because Americans deserve a judge who respects the rule of law and interprets the law based on statute, not the political needs of this or any administration.

I want my colleagues to know that a vote in support of his nomination is a vote in support of unleashing chaos on the American health system, eliminating preexisting condition protections, and one that would result in millions more uninsured.

Mr. Reader is a dangerous choice, who has a long track record of supporting the most extreme legal positions, which makes him unfit to sit on any court, much less one whose decisions will impact millions of Americans.

Thank you. I yield the floor.

I suggest the absence of a quorum. The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

Ms. CORTEZ MASTO. Mr. President, I rise today to join over 10 colleagues to speak in opposition to the so-called Green New Deal.

Merriam-Webster defines a deal as “a negotiation or an agreement for mutual advantage.” By its name, you would think that Americans are going to derive some benefit from it, but this couldn’t be further from the truth.

The truth is that this proposal is a raw deal for America, especially our rural communities.

As many of you know, every month I give out a Squeal Award, which draws attention to outrageous examples of wasteful and reckless spending of taxpayer money.

With a $93 trillion—trillion with a “T”—pricetag, which is roughly $10 trillion more than the entire recorded spending of the U.S. Government since 1789, this month’s Squeal Award goes to the Green New Deal, which, again, I think is kind of a raw deal.

Just think about that number—$93 trillion. To fund this radical government takeover, every American family would have to pay about $65,000 annually. Folks, that is more than most Iowa households bring in in a year.

The ideas presented in the Green New Deal used to garner support only from the furthest fringes of the political left—fringe fringe. Concepts like rebuilding every building in the country, outlawing fossil fuels, and guarantee jobs would never have made their way into mainstream discourse just a few years ago. Now our Democratic colleagues are trying to make them mainstream.

In fact, 100 of the 282 Democratic Members of the House and Senate have signed on to support this plan. This is the creep of socialism into America.

If you work in a part of the energy industry that has fallen out of favor, your job has no place in the country. That is what is envisioned by the Democrats.

The Green New Deal states that one of its goals is to meet “100 percent of the power demand in the U.S. through clean, renewable, and zero-emission energy sources.”

Don’t get me wrong, folks—don’t get me wrong—increasing our reliance on renewable resources is a good goal and one that I support, but we have to be realistic about our current energy capabilities and our needs.
Private sector investment and innovation, coupled with government support and incentives, have contributed to significant advances in renewable energy.

I am proud to say that my home State of Texas is one of the Nation’s leaders in renewable energy, with wind providing nearly 40 percent of our electricity. That is more than any other State in the Nation. With more wind coming online, coal went from producing 76 percent of our electricity in 2008 to 3 years, 80 percent of our electricity will come from wind energy, and it didn’t take big government or socialism to put it into place.

Now, with the new wind energy field that is being put in by MidAmerican Energy in the western part of the State, where I am from, in the next 2 to 3 years, 80 percent of our electricity will come from wind energy, and it didn’t take big government or socialism to put it into place.

So thank you very much.

I yield the floor to Senator CORNYN.

Mr. CORNYN. Mr. President, I understand.

Mr. SCHUMER. Excuse me, Mr. President. May I ask a followup question through the Chair?

Mr. CORNYN. Mr. President, regular order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Iowa has yielded the floor to Senator CORNYN.

Mr. CORNYN. Mr. President, I understand.

Mr. SCHATZ. Excuse me, Mr. President. I just would like to get clarification. She did say climate change is real, but my question is whether—

Mr. CORNYN. Mr. President, regular order.

Mr. SCHATZ. Manmade climate change is real, and I did not get an answer.

Mr. CORNYN. Regular order.

Mr. SCHATZ. If she’s unwilling to answer that question, I understand.

Mr. CORNYN. Regular order, Mr. President.

Mr. SCHATZ. I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Texas.

Mr. CORNYN. Mr. President, last week, I spoke on the Senate floor about the perils of socialism. I never thought in my entire life that I would have to do something like that, but given the rise of democratic socialists, which obviously I am a contradiction in terms, I think it is important to remind the American people about the failures of socialism, as well as radical policies like the ones the Democrats are trying to push off on the American people.

If you want to know what command and control economics is and what it would mean to our freedom and our liberty, all you need to do is look at the Green New Deal. This is really nothing more than an attempt to mask this power grab by the Federal government in Washington, DC, thinking they know better than what my constituents know about.

Mr. SCHUMER. Will the Senator yield for a question and say what he is for?

Mr. CORNYN. I will not yield.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Texas.

Mr. SCHUMER. Will he yield for a question stating what he is for, not what he’s against but what he is for?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator will yield. The Senator from Texas has the floor.

Mr. CORNYN. Mr. President. I am not for socialism. I am not for Washington, DC, thinking they know better than what my constituents know about.

Mr. SCHUMER. Will the Senator yield for a question and say what he is for?

Mr. CORNYN. I will not yield.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Texas.

Mr. SCHUMER. Will he yield for a question stating what he is for, not what he’s against but what he is for?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator will be in order.

Mr. CORNYN. Mr. President.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Texas has the floor.

Mr. CORNYN. Mr. President, if the Democratic leader will just be quiet—

Mr. SCHUMER. Will the Senator yield?

Mr. CORNYN. If he will be quiet for a minute, I will tell him what I am for, if he will quit interrupting.

So what this is is an attempt—is purely a power grab here in Washington masked as a feel-good environmental policy, mixing ideas like Medicare for All and guaranteed jobs with wildly unrealistic and radical environmental policies like zero net emissions transportation systems and guaranteed green housing.

Since this resolution was proposed, it has gained the ire of people on both sides of the aisle, something we don’t see that often, and something that I don’t know that I have ever seen. One of this bill’s authors refers to the majority leader’s intent to bring this resolution to the floor as sabotage.

Ordinarly, when you introduce an idea to the U.S. Congress, you are begged by the majority leader to just put it on the floor—the committee chairman to put it through committee so you can advance your idea. When the majority leader said he would do that for the Green New Deal. It was called sabotage.

Since the Green New Deal was rolled out, things in Washington have gotten increasingly wacky and, believe it or not, even more extreme.

We recently put a price tag on the Green New Deal. You heard the Senator from Iowa talk about the $93 trillion. That is so much money that I doubt most of us can wrap our brains around. It is kind of like when somebody tells you the Earth is 140 million miles from Mars. How do you conceptualize that? You have no point of reference to understand just how far that really is.

Let me put it this way: If you combine the gross domestic product of every single country in 2017—every single country on the planet in 2017—the price of the Green New Deal would be higher than that.

If you total up how much the United States has spent—the U.S. Government, since the Constitution went into effect in 1789, the price of the Green New Deal would still be higher.

If you take the value of 1 year’s worth of oil and gas production in Texas, it would take almost seven centuries of production to pay for the Green New Deal.

Margaret Thatcher, who had a gift for words, said: “The problem with socialism is that you eventually run out of other people’s money.” Well, in this case, you don’t even have the money to begin with, but that is what this is really about.

This is the antithesis of what our Founders believed in when they founded the United States of America. They believed that checks and balances and separated powers were protections of our individual liberty and our right to make decisions for ourselves and our families.

They viewed the concentration of power that would be necessary to do something like the Green New Deal as the opposite—antagonistic to individual liberty.

Mr. President, things like eradicating air travel clearly aren’t the answer, and the Senator from Hawaii would say that wouldn’t work very well if you tried to get to Hawaii from Washington, DC.

No matter what your perspectives on energy are or the environment, I think every one of us can single out something we can agree on; that is, smarter policies that will not bankrupt our country.

The solution is not the Green New Deal or another government power grab. It is all about innovation—

Mr. MARKEY. Mr. President.

Mr. CORNYN.—the creativity of Americans—

Mr. MARKEY. Mr. President.

Mr. CORNYN.—doing research and science to come up with—

Mr. MARKEY. Mr. President.

Mr. CORNYN.—innovations.

Mr. MARKEY. Will the Senator yield for a second?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Texas has the floor. He has declined to yield.

Mr. MARKEY. I would just seek to be recognized and just ask the Senator if there is.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator has not yielded.

Mr. MARKEY.—$93 trillion number comes from a Koch brothers-funded organization.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Massachusetts will suspend. The Senate will be in order.

The Senate from Texas has the floor.

Mr. CORNYN. Mr. President, I notice one thing: When people around here—colleagues across the aisle—don’t like what they are hearing, they try to suppress or drown out dissenting voices.

I think the American people need to hear this debate because our ability to innovate is critical to the success of our economy and our competitiveness in the global economy.

Investing in science and technology and increasing our ability to innovate is an important part of keeping our economy strong. Rather than the government’s seizing control of nearly every industry, overregulating their activities as you would under the Green New Deal, we should harness the power of the private sector to drive real, affordable solutions, and that is how we find cutting-edge solutions to our biggest challenges.

A lot of folks try to paint with broad strokes about energy. You are either on the side of innovation and new technologies or you are in favor of traditional oil and gas development.

Well, I am proud to come from a State that believes truly in an “all of the above” approach. We generated more electricity from wind than any other State in the country, and we believe in all of the above. You don’t have to pick one or the other.

Not only do we lead the Nation in oil and gas production, we also lead, as I said, in wind energy production too. We are proof that you can implement policies that get government out of the way and leave industry experts to do their jobs. You can be pro-energy, pro-innovation, and pro-growth.

The Green New Deal is not the answer to our problems. It is a solution in search of a problem, and it is a naked power grab by Washington, DC, seeking to impose on each and every American how we should run our lives.

It is the opposite of the individual liberties and freedoms that our Founders believed our country would be based on. I hope in the coming months we will take steps to promote freedom and not more government control and ideas that lead to innovation, not socialist policies.

With that, I yield to my friend from Indiana.

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. President.

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, my colleague said he would yield to a question after he finished debating. I would like to ask him a question.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Indiana is recognized.

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. President, I rise today in opposition to the so-called Green New Deal. This unaffordable, unrealistic proposal is bad for all Americans, but it is especially bad for the people who live in my home State of Indiana.

I would appreciate an answer.

Mr. CORNYN. Mr. President, I will say to my friend from New York that I know what their talking points are now, but I don’t believe what we ought to do about the environment is impose a travesty like the Green New Deal. This is a government power grab. It is unaffordable. It is unrealistic. And, really, this reflects the most radical ideology and fringe of the Democratic Party today.

I would ask my colleague, once again, not what he is against, but what he is for. We have not heard from the other side of the aisle anything they are for about climate change or whether they believe it is real and caused by humans.

I would ask my colleague, once again, not what he is against. We know what he is against. What is he for?

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, will he yield? He didn’t really answer my question.

What will he do about climate change? I ask my colleague to please answer not what he is against but what he is for. We have not heard from the other side of the aisle anything they are for about climate change or whether they believe it is real and caused by humans.

I would ask my colleague, once again, not what he is against. We know what he is against. What is he for?

Mr. CORNYN. Mr. President, there is a great book called “SuperFreakonomics” written by some Chicago economists who talk about the threat to the environment of horse manure back when we had horse-drawn buggies in our cities because the internal combustion engine had not been created. They point out that that environmental hazard went away almost overnight because the internal combustion engine was created.

Likewise, when I was growing up, a scientist named Paul Ehrlich from Stanford wrote a book called “The Population Bomb.” He said that millions of people would starve across our country and across the world unless we basically quit having children. What he miscalculated is the impact of a gentleman by the name of Norman Borlaug and the Green Revolution that he began due to research and development of an innovative plant gene research.

So we were able to basically defeat the population bomb, and we were able to deal with the environmental hazard of horse manure by innovation. That is what I am for, and that is what I said, and that is what I would say again to my friend from New York.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Indiana is recognized.

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. President, I rise today in opposition to the so-called Green New Deal. This unaffordable, unrealistic proposal is bad for all Americans, but it is especially bad for the people who live in my home State of Indiana.
Indiana is the most manufacturing-intensive State in the country, and my Hoosiers are rightfully proud of that distinction. We make America’s planes, our trucks, our recreational vehicles, our boats, and our pipelines. We produce the aluminum and steel that don’t go into the ground. We mine the coal that makes it affordable to power all of those factories.

Indiana is home to those respectable, high-paying jobs because of the highly skilled Hoosier workforce, our world-class infrastructure, and yes, our low energy costs. But the Green New Deal would crush Indiana’s affordable energy prices, forcing the cost of doing business to skyrocket for Hoosier manufacturers and farmers alike and eliminating jobs in the process.

What would this Green New Deal mean for American families?

Over the next decade, the so-called deal would cost up to $65,000 per American household per year. That is roughly 50 percent—47 percent more than the median Hoosier household income.

Yes, America must continue to support an ‘all of the above’ energy strategy, and I look forward to working in a bipartisan way to get that done. We must develop renewable energy sources like wind and solar, but we must also continue to utilize our important baseload energy sources—that is your coal, your natural gas, your nuclear power. We simply cannot afford to eliminate these critical sources from our Nation’s energy mix, and that is what the Green New Deal would call for.

In Indiana, approximately 92 percent of our electricity is generated by coal and natural gas—92 percent. Wind and solar account for just 6 percent of Indiana’s electricity, and they cannot reliably and affordably produce the electricity Indiana needs.

So instead of turning a blind eye to coal and natural gas—energy sources that power America—let’s continue to incentivize research and development. Instead of promoting job-killing legislation like the Green New Deal, we should be promoting proposals like theUSE IT Act. This is bipartisan legislation put forward by my colleague from Wyoming that would promote carbon capture research and development.

We agree on the need to incentivize market-based carbon capture systems.

Mr. BLUMENTHAL. Mr. President, would the Senator from Indiana yield for a question?

Mr. YOUNG. I would like to continue until I complete my remarks. I thank my colleague.

We really need to incentivize market-based carbon capture systems and ensure America can continue to cleanly and affordably produce baseload energy. By my reckoning, this is just one of many areas in which Republicans and Democrats can find common ground to work together to protect God’s green Earth.

Indiana is an environmentally conscious State. We continue to expand solar and wind production each year. We love to protect our important natural resources, such as the Indiana Dunes and Hoosier National Forest, but we cannot support a proposal like the Green New Deal that would endanger tens of thousands of Hoosier jobs. The Green New Deal would go far beyond just the energy components of the Green New Deal to other aspects of the Green New Deal that just don’t make sense.

So $93 trillion is not something I can get my head wrapped around. I know that is the number we are talking about. But I think we can get to the household impact and recognize that it is not sustainable, right? So why are we having this discussion?

Mr. MARKEY. Would the Senator yield and tell us—

Mr. TILLIS. I do not yield.

Mr. BARRASSO. Regular order.

Mr. MARKEY—who he got that bogus number of it from? That is a completely made-up number by the Koch brothers.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Massachusetts will suspend. The Senate is out of order.

The Senator from North Carolina has the floor.

Mr. TILLIS. Thank you, Mr. President.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from North Carolina has made it very clear that he will not yield until he is finished.

Mr. TILLIS. I will state for any other Members who come in that I have no intention of yielding. And in my time, in the 4 years I have been here, it has never occurred to me to interrupt in the way that we have been interrupted here, but maybe that actually gets to the point. This bill, as proposed, doesn’t work.

I want to go back and tell you, as a Member of the North Carolina House, when I was in the minority as a Republican, I supported the renewable portfolio standard. I went to my colleagues on the other side of the aisle and said: What you are proposing is not sustainable. Let’s work together and do something different. And we did. That gave rise to almost 13 percent of all the energy generated in North Carolina today being generated from renewable sources. It gave rise to a sustainable electric bill that is one of the most competitive in the country.

What has happened with the Green New Deal is that the people at the extreme left are preventing those of us who actually want to make progress from having a reasonable discussion instead of shouting over each other.

I don’t care if it is $93 trillion, $43 trillion, or $33 trillion. It is unsustainable. We can sit here and question the sources, but at the end of the day, we all know that this was the other. This was something that people wanted to pitch. They wanted to win an election. But it was a dishonest promise that could never be fulfilled.

If you take a look at the other provisions of this bill—guaranteed jobs. I mean, it is reading like some sort of a socialist manifesto. As somebody who grew up in a trailer park and didn’t get a degree until I was 36 years old, I want an America that gives me an opportunity, not an America that tells me what my job is and how much money I am going to make.

So I ask if this is a realistic discussion about the Green New Deal. We are pushing people into corners and not having a good discussion about things we should be making progress on.

By the way, just out of levity, we even had some people go so far as to say that maybe we should reduce the number of cows we have on the planet because they create methane gas. I will not get into the gross reasons as to why. So maybe the chicken caucus is in favor of cutting cows or eating more cows.

Why don’t we lower the temperature, recognize we have a proposal that doesn’t work, and recognize it was generally motivated by politics. And when you have extreme positions, you should expect the other side to come to the floor, just as we are doing today, and make it real.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Missouri.

Mr. BLUNT. Mr. President, we had a lot of discussion about the energy parts of the Green New Deal, but it goes into lots of other areas. There are many frequently asked questions.

I would say on the energy costs—and President Obama’s energy adviser says you couldn’t reach the goal—one thing we need to remember on the energy costs is that families pay those utility bills.

We just avoided a clean power regulation that in my State would have doubled the utility bill in 10 or 12 years. During the 3 years or so we were debating that because the court cases kept saying there really is no authority to do this, I kept reminding the people I work for, for the next time you write your utility bill, just write out your check one more time, because if this goes into effect, within a decade, that is what you will be doing. See what happens when you pay that bill by writing your checks.

Some of the questions on this have been about other things as well. The fact that we love a challenge—this Green New Deal creates that. It talks about Medicare for all. At least in the talking points, it talks about job guarantees for all, a vacation in every job guaranteed by the government, and I think maybe even a vacation in the government program if you choose not to work.

There are lots of things here for people to be concerned about. There are estimates of cost, but even if they were three times the cost, it would be pretty extraordinary. In fact, $36 trillion would rebuild the entire Interstate Highway System every year for 100 years. When you are talking about $93 trillion, $80 trillion is the entire gross domestic product of the world. These are big numbers. It is a big bill.

Surprisingly, a dozen Senators are supporting this plan. They have cosponsored the bill. Whether it is the guaranteed jobs number or the universal healthcare number or the all-renewable electric grid system number or the guaranteed green housing number that individually, I would say to you with, this is an amazing step in a different direction. It is one that the country clearly will not take. It is one that I believe even the sponsors have some concerns about.

We will have a chance to vote on it here in the next few days or weeks, and we will see what the American people have to say about it.

I yield my time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from West Virginia.

Mrs. CAPITO. Mr. President, I would like to thank my colleague from Iowa for organizing this discussion on the Green New Deal resolution.

The public doesn’t usually pay a whole lot of attention to nonbinding resolutions here in the Congress, but that is not the case with this one. The sponsors of the Green New Deal in the House and the Senate certainly deserve recognition for the profile they managed to create so quickly. Of course, that is a double-edged sword because now people are beginning to pay attention to what is actually in the Green New Deal.

Leader MCCONNELL has proposed bringing the resolution to the floor, which has created, in my view, sort of a baffling response. The planned sponsor of the resolution is claiming that it is a “cynical” and meant to “disrupt” their “movement.” You and I both know that every Member of this body would clamor to have their bills brought up for floor consideration. Most of us here live in the land of realistic and practical solutions.

The Green New Deal is very vague, but it does include enough detail to know that it proposes radical solutions that, in my view, are neither practical or realistic. It is a list dressed up as environmental policy.

We knew it was going to be expensive. We knew the goal was to eliminate coal and gas industries, along with a lot of other good-paying jobs that support lives like mine. This isn’t the first salvo in the war on coal, for sure. We knew all the economic harm they would be proposing, but this is a massive shift to the left that goes far beyond anything the Democrats have proposed before. This plan doesn’t stop at eliminating the use of coal and natural gas for electricity. The plan also ends nuclear electricity and severely curtails the commercial air industry.

The environmental and energy components of this proposal are estimated to cost $8.3 to $12.3 trillion over the next decade, which averages out to about $32,000 to $71,000 for every American household.

We will be left with possibly an energy grid that lacks affordability and reliability to make the American manufacturers competitive around the globe and meet the basic needs of our families. Right now, coal, natural gas, and nuclear energy account for 83 percent of all the electricity produced in the United States. It is neither practical nor realistic to believe that we could phase all of that capacity out of the left that goes far beyond anything the Democrats have proposed before.

Unbelievably, this is just one piece of the Green New Deal. The sticker shock continues with tens of trillions of dollars to fund guaranteed jobs for people unwilling to work, eliminate private healthcare for 170 Americans in favor of a government-run system, replace or retrofit all housing stock for environmental compliance, and guaranteeing it to everyone American and putting food on everyone’s table. Altogether, it could cost possibly $93 trillion over a 10-year period of time. We could liquidate all the wealth in the entire country and maybe just cover that tab, but we wouldn’t have anything left.
The Green New Deal sponsors claim the government will be making investments. They claim that the returns will pay for everything and make a profit for the people. Is this realistic or practical? I think not. And if it fails, then what do we do?

Some say the Green New Deal, even if it is a disaster of a policy that would destroy our economy, at least has Congress finally talking about climate change. We have heard from my colleague. We serve on the EPW Committee together. It is a huge disservice, I think, to us. We have been working in a bipartisan fashion to deliver real solutions since before anyone had ever heard of the Green New Deal.

In the EPW Committee, Senators from coal States, such as Senator Bar- rassos from Wyoming, who is here, and Senator Whitterhouse from Rhode Island, and Senator Carper, and myself have been working for market-driven solutions to the challenge of atmospheric CO2.

Members of both parties have worked and will continue to work on these important policies to meaningfully address carbon challenges while also protecting and creating jobs. We do not need a $93 trillion turn that fundamentally alters the foundations of this country. We are capable of making investments in technology and infrastructure to address our Nation’s challenges in a commonsense and bipartisan way.

The Green New Deal is not practical. It is not realistic, and it is a bit scary that so many Democrats are embracing it. The American people deserve to know where each of us stands on this policy. That is why we are going to have a vote. I am glad that we will have the opportunity to take a vote on this resolution in the coming months, and I hope that all of my colleagues will join me in opposing this utterly unfathomable and unworkable resolution.

I yield the floor.
The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Indiana.

Mr. BRAUN. Mr. President, although I had prepared my remarks to address what many of my colleagues have just covered—and that would be the prepos- terous proposal of the Green New Deal—I want to take a little different angle.

I think there is a point where so often those of us on the conservative side of the ledger, I think, get overwhelmed by the conversation being dominated by the other side. It is a ter- rible ground to want to try to use a better environment to parlay that in- ternalmental way into more government.

I think what we have here is just like addressing healthcare costs. We had ObamaCare—the Affordable Care Act— which turns out to be the “Uncom- fortable Care Act,” but there were issues that were valid. In my own company years ago, I was worried about it. I drafted a plan that was proactive, addressed high healthcare costs, and made the pledge that you should never go broke because you get sick or have a bad accident. I crafted a plan through the real world that cut costs, and my employees have not paid a premium in- crease in 8 years. I want to talk about the Green New Deal. I am a conservationist, and I am a member of the Nature Conservancy, as a business and an individual. We cannot let the other side co-opt the issue and preempt it because they think the answer is on their side. I am not going to belabor the point that I think it is preposterous. I want to make the point that if you think any of that can be done—whether it is $50 trillion or $93 trillion—keep in mind that we are running nearly trillion-dollar deficits. We are $22 trillion in debt. Does that sound like anything that the Federal Government could actually solve in a sustainable way when we are in a pickle like we are currently in?

Until we change the dynamic here and get individuals who know how to do things where it works, in States like Indiana and in many states, and maybe let States have a bigger hand in the equation, where their budgets are balanced, where their bal- ances, and where it is not a false hope.

Let’s look at the particulars of what the Green New Deal is supposed to do in addition to cleaning up our environ- ment, which we have made great strides with. It is being spun as an eco- nomic argument. It is the exact oppo- site of that. I want to challenge folks on our side of the ledger, from the practical side, to where we generally lose out on the general argument, and, to tell the metric, things change against us over time.

We just had legislation pass in 2017. I want to tell this little story of what we did in our own special way. I am going to challenge enterprisers and I am going to challenge businesses across the country to think about this as a way to avoid that.

In 2017 we had, in my opinion—for enterprisers, small businesses, and farm- ers; and I have been involved in both—the biggest opportunity that has come along in years. We are keeping more of our own resources and not sending it here to a broken institution that has given us all of these deficits and debt, but we have to do something with it.

Back in my son, who is one of my three kids now in my business, said: Dad, let’s take tax reform and share the benefits with employees. That is a great idea. I didn’t think it would have a bigger political meaning until he said it. Hey, let’s put it in the company memo that it is due to tax re- form. We have taken, in my mind, the biggest thing we could do—whether you want to return the dividends into the environment, into higher wages, or into whatever you want to do—and we have played incremental and run with it. All I know is that like many compa- nies in Indiana, we lowered healthcare costs and flattened them for 9 years.

We raised 401(k) benefits. We started quarterly bonuses instead of just an- nual ones.

We are doing what I think this country needs to do—quiet looking to the Federal Government to solve all of our problems, even when an ar- gument like that we need to further improve our environment, that we need to avoid what could possibly be a cata- strophe down the road, where we do stick our head in the sand. I am going to this resolution to do it because I don’t think you can credibly say that you can do anything in the context of the product that has been delivered over the last decade or two. States, individuals, businesses, organiza- tions—but especially businesses, be- cause we have reaped the benefits, in my opinion, of the biggest legislation that has occurred in decades—must put our money where our mouth is, where my company’s is. Invest in your em- ployees and change the system from the bottom up, not from the top down.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Sen- ator from Alaska.

Mr. SULLIVAN. Mr. President, first, I want to thank my colleagues for coming down here and having this impor- tant discussion. I want to thank my Democratic colleagues, for whom I have a lot of respect, for being here and having this debate. I am sure it is not going to be the first time that we are going to be doing this on the Green New Deal or other elements of pro- posals coming from the House or the Senate. This is a big issue happening in the House and what is going to happen over here with some of our colleagues.

I think, in many ways, it is an issue that focuses on the future and where the country is going. As the majority leader recently said in an interview, “I can pretty safely say this is the first time in my political career that the es- sence of America is being debated . . .

Socialism and democratic cap- italism.”

OK. Let’s have that debate. We are having that debate. What is the essence of America? I believe it is freedom and liberty. That is what we are founded on, and that is what I think proposals like the Green New Deal would under- mine. To be clear, some people are jok- ing about it—like banning hamburgers or airplanes or returning to the horse and buggy, but I actually think there are many people who are looking at this very seriously, and so we should.

Some of these kinds of ideas can be funny until they are not funny. What we are trying to do here is to talk about this proposal in a serious man- ner. In my State, the great State of Alaska, this is a deadly serious matter. There is so much that is in this idea, the Green New Deal—government take- over, healthcare, free housing, and free food, and the list goes on and on. The costs, as have been pointed out, are very high.

Today what I want to do is to talk about one aspect that would be par- ticularly detrimental to my State and to many other States—my colleagues from West Virginia and North Dakota are here on the floor—and that is this proposal to ban hydrocarbons produced in America within a decade. This is not a joke.

There are many Members in this body—some are on the floor right now, and some are in the House—who think this is a serious proposal and would like to do it. I want to talk about that. I want to stipulate that I am certainly something of a fan of "all of the above" energy. The fact that America is now producing more oil, more gas, and more renewables than any other country in the world is good for all of us, Democrats and Republicans. My colleague from Rhode Island is here. He and I have worked on a whole host of issues together involving oceans. I think the technological advances with regard to hundreds of years of supplies of natural gas with technology and with renewables provide huge opportunities for Democrats and Republicans to work together to bring down greenhouse gas emissions. This is enormous. We are just scratching the surface.

I look forward to working with him and the Senator from Massachusetts on these kinds of ideas because I think they are exciting, and I think, when you are burning natural gas at very high temperatures, you almost have very little greenhouse gas emissions. Combine that with technology and renewables. We have hundreds of years of these supplies. It is a great opportunity, and it is exciting. I want to work with him.

Let me get back to the proposal on the Green New Deal on natural resources.

In my opinion, we do not spend enough time on this floor talking about the positive societal benefits of natural resource development in America—oil, gas, renewables, fisheries. These industries don't just fuel our power generation and transportation and our homes; these industries literally lift people out of poverty. They lengthen life expectancy. They literally save lives. There is a strong correlation between poverty, the lack of economic opportunity, and the health of our citizens.

I am going to show a few charts here. This correlation is strong in my State, particularly with our Alaska Native population. In 1954, the Interior Department, the help of the University of Pittsburgh, conducted a study of the health of Alaska Natives. Here is a quote from 1954: "The indigenous people of Native Alaska are the victims of sickness, crippling conditions, and premature death to a degree exceeded in very few parts of the world."

Some of the poorest people on the planet were my constituents in Alaska—in America—in 1954. More than 10 years later, in 1969—just 50 years ago—the situation was still dire.

Here is what Emil Notti, the president of the Alaska Federation of Natives, told Congress 50 years ago, in 1969:

The native people in rural Alaska live in the most miserable homes in the United States. The life expectancy of the average Native Alaskan was compared to 69 years old for the rest of the country.

So what happened after that?

We had a big change. We are not there yet, but we had a big change, and I want to explain. This was a chart that was studied just last year in the Journal of Internal Medicine. It is a study that was published in 2018 about the life expectancies of Americans.

Where you see blue and purple is where Americans' life expectancy increased the most. The State with the greatest change in the entire country was in my State. By the way, that is a pretty important statistic—life expectancy. It doesn't get more important than that. Are you living longer? Look what happened in Alaska. The North Slope of Alaska, the Aleutian Islands, and the Southeast of Alaska all experienced huge increases in life expectancy from these very low levels, some of the lowest in the world.

Why did that happen?

On the North Slope of Alaska, this Congress passed the Trans-Alaska Pipeline Authorization Act to develop Prudhoe Bay, to develop oil and gas—some of the biggest fields in the world. At the same time, we also had a very large zinc mine that came into production. Because of this body's Magnuson-Stevens Act, we had a huge increase in our fisheries.

The bottom line is that natural resource development happened in Alaska, in America, and people's lives increased. That is a remarkable thing, and we don't talk about it enough. The average life expectancy increase in Alaska was almost between 8 and 13 years. That is a measure of success because we were developing our resources of oil and gas. That is why I am taking this Green New Deal literally deadly seriously because we have done in our State and in our country by producing resources is we have created the ability for people to actually live longer, and I challenge my colleagues to come up with a better statistic and a more important statistic than that.

I am going to end with a quote from a gentleman who came down here and testified in front of the Senate, Matthew Rexford—a proud Alaska Native leader from Kaktovik, AK, which is in the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge. He testified that Congress should give his small community the opportunity to develop the resources near his village. We did that in 2017 after a 40-year debate.

He spoke firsthand about his knowledge as to what resource development did for America, for Alaska, and for his community:

"The oil and gas industry supports our communities by providing jobs, business opportunities, infrastructure, investments. It has built our schools, hospitals. It has moved our people from Third World living conditions to what we expect in America. We refuse to go backward in time."

That is what he said. I believe the Green New Deal—certainly, its ban on hydrocarbon production—would take us back in time. For the sake of Matthew Rexford and all of these Alaskans who have done so well by responsibly developing our resources, we are not going to allow that to happen.

I yield the floor to my colleague from North Dakota.

Mr. MARKEY. Will the Senator yield?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Alaska will be in order.

Does the Senator from Alaska yield for a question?

Mr. SULLIVAN. I yield my time to the Senator from North Dakota.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. That is not possible.

Mr. MARKEY. Would the Senator from Alaska yield for a question?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Massachusetts cannot pose a question. He has the floor.

Mr. MARKEY. Mr. President, I would pose a question to the Senator from Alaska.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Massachusetts has the floor.

Mr. MARKEY. I thank the Presiding Officer.

Mr. President, I would pose a question to the Senator from Alaska.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Alaska has the floor.

Mr. MARKEY. Mr. President, through the Presiding Officer, I pose a question to the Senator from Alaska.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Alaska does not have the floor. Therefore, he cannot respond.

The Senator from Massachusetts has the floor.

Mr. MARKEY. I thank the Presiding Officer.

I will just make this point through the Presiding Officer, which is that the words "fossil fuels" are not in the resolution. No. 2, airplanes are not banned in the resolution. No. 3, there is no guarantee for healthcare for everyone in America in the resolution. No. 4, there is nothing that provides for those who are unwilling to work in the resolution. None of this is true.

We know the Koch brothers paid for this $93 trillion study, and all we are hearing from the Republican side is of a Koch brothers-produced document that is absolutely inaccurate. There is no banning of airplanes. There is no guarantee of Medicare for all. Neither of those is in the resolution. This entire discussion is based upon a completely fraudulent, bogus report that the Koch brothers produced.

What we are trying to say to the other side is we should have a debate about the science, that we should have a debate about the human activity, that we should have a debate about what the solutions are, and that we should bring it out here as a great deliberative body.
Right now, we are debating the Green New Deal, but the Republicans haven’t given us any hearings. They have given us no scientists, no witnesses, and no debate. They are just doing this because the Koch brothers have produced a report—the $93 trillion that is completely and totally inaccurate. In fact, with regard to the accusation of the banning of airplanes, PolitiFact has looked at it, examined it, and said it is completely and totally inaccurate. I think it is difficult to have a debate when facts here are those which we cannot submit to committees, witnesses, debates. Instead, all we are subjected to is a representation of the Green New Deal that is completely inaccurate. For that matter, the words “fossil fuels” don’t even appear in the Green New Deal.

This is not right. If the Republicans want to, they should set up a debate. Then we could have it out here on whether the planet is dangerously warming, whether human activity is principally responsible, whether this body should take action in order to deal with that problem, and whether, economically, we can unleash a technological revolution to solve the problem. That should be talked about here this afternoon, not a whole group of bogus facts that have been produced by the Koch brothers, have been paid for by the Koch brothers, and that are being repeated over and over again on the other side without any Republican saying he actually believes the planet is dangerously warming, that he actually agrees with the U.N.’s scientists who say it is an existential threat to us, that he actually agrees it is largely caused by human activity, and that we, the greatest deliberative body in the world, should have a robust debate. If the Republicans believe it is serious, they should present their own plan for debate on the Senate floor.

Mr. SCHUMER. Will the Senator yield?

Mr. MARKEY. I yield to the leader.

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, we thank our friends on the other side of the aisle for helping to make our case. The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is the Senator asking a question?

Mr. SCHUMER. Yes, I am asking a question.

If the Senator from Massachusetts has the floor, I ask a question of the Senator from Massachusetts for a question?

Mr. MARKEY. I yield to the leader for a question.

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, we have been making the case for the last several weeks that our Republican colleagues love to get up and rant about what they are against even though they exaggerate and tell mistruths about the bill Senator MARKEY has sponsored. We have been asked repeatedly, haven’t we, three questions: Do you believe climate change is real? Do you believe it is caused by human activity? Most importantly, what would you do about it?

Here we have had an hour of debate, haven’t we, with our Republican colleagues, and there have been a lot of mistruths and a lot of “here is what we are against,” but not one single thing they are for.

So isn’t it true, my friend from Massachusetts, that they have helped to make our case? We are glad they are finally talking about climate change, but we have to do something about it. Isn’t it true we haven’t heard a single positive response about what they would do?

Mr. MARKEY. Mr. President, the leader has put his finger right on it. We want a debate. We want to see their plan. We want to know if they agree with the science of the entire United Nations and 13 of our own Federal Agencies that produced an identical report at the end of 2018—that being, it is dangerous and a great threat to our country, and we have to do something about it.

So where is the Republicans’ plan? What is their answer? Of course, they don’t have one. They want to bring out the Green New Deal with no hearings, no witnesses, and no science when they should be bringing out their own plan. The leader is right. It is just, basically, a condition they have, and the number they are using—the $93 trillion in terms of the cost of the Green New Deal—is a Koch brothers-produced number. It is their group that put it together. So how could we possibly be having a serious debate about something the Koch brothers have produced, in terms of dealing with global warming, since they are central players in this dangerous warming of our planet?

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, I pose a second question. Isn’t it true that our Republican colleagues have been in the majority for 5 years that during that time, more and more Americans believe global warming is a serious problem? I think it is above two-thirds. It is at 70 percent. It is a significant percentage of Republicans and a majority of Democrats and Independents. Isn’t it true that in those 5 years, the Republican leader, our friend, hasn’t brought a single piece of legislation to the floor that would deal with climate change in any way? Is that correct?

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, the leader is correct. No solutions, 5 years, and it is more dangerously warm on the planet. Four hundred billion dollars’ worth of damage was done to our country in the last 2 years. We had fires out in the West, flooding, $400 billion worth of damage, and the conclusion among scientists is that it is only going to grow worse as each year goes by—and still no answers. Nothing on the floor from the Republicans, nothing that would deal with the problem, and no admission that they are using the Koch brothers and that we can do something about it.

Mr. SCHUMER. Finally, we have not heard a single answer from any of the Senators on the floor or any who spoke about what their plan is. So I would ask you to repeat and ask them three questions that they still haven’t answered—simple questions with no predisposed answers.

A. do any of our Republican colleagues—this is a question—believe climate change is real?

Mr. MARKEY. We don’t know the answer.

Mr. SCHUMER. Second, do any of our Republican colleagues over there believe it is caused by human activity?

Mr. MARKEY. We don’t know the answer.

Mr. SCHUMER. And, C, do they have any plan, proposal, suggestion as to how we deal with the issue?

Mr. MARKEY. We don’t know the answer.

Mr. SCHUMER. And I would ask my colleague to ask our Republican friends—if they have an answer to any of these questions, to yield the floor to them.

Mr. MARKEY. And I would be glad to yield the floor to any of them who would be willing to be recognized, but, through the leader, the problem is that they keep talking about the $93 trillion cost, which is a report from the American Action Forum, a partisan, right-wing group funded by the Koch Brothers and Karl Rove as a sister group to his Crossroads USA 501(c)(3). That is what we are now debating out here on the floor and not the science.

Mr. SCHUMER. Can you ask them to not repeat the same talking points about what they are against and finally say something about what they are for?

Mr. MARKEY. I would yield to any of my friends on the other side of the aisle who have concrete, positive proposals for dealing with the crisis of climate change in our country and on the planet.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Wyoming.

Mr. BARRASSO. Mr. President, I appreciate the opportunity to come to the floor to answer those specific questions, and I would point to an op-ed that I wrote for the New York Times last year. Perhaps the Senator from New York doesn’t read his hometown newspaper, but there is an editorial in the New York Times of December 18: ‘‘Cut Carbon Through Innovation, Not Regulation.’’

Mr. SCHUMER. It is a plan. Cut carbon through innovation, not regulation.

The question is, Do we believe the climate is changing? Do humans have an impact? The answer is yes to both. As a matter of fact, I wrote: ‘‘(The) climate is changing, and we, collectively, have a responsibility to do something about it.

It is right here in the New York Times from December 18.

Second, the United States and the world will continue to rely on affordable and abundant fossil fuels, including coal, to power our economies for decades to come.

We need to also rely on innovation, not new taxes, not penalizing global agreements. That is the ultimate solution.

I will point out that this is something that I had written and submitted and published long before the so-called Green New Deal was ever introduced into Congress either in the House or in the Senate.

I go on to say: People across the world are rejecting the idea that carbon taxes and raising the cost of energy is the answer to lowering emissions.

Because we know, as I go on:

In France, the government just suspended a planned fuel tax increase after some of its citizens took to the streets in protest.

It was every story on the news.

And in the United States, the results of the November elections showed that these plans and other government interventions are just as unpopular.

Voters in Washington State rejected the creation of an expensive tax on carbon emissions. In Colorado, a ballot measure to severely restrict drilling was defeated. And in Arizona, voters rejected a mandate to make the state's utilities more dependent on renewable energy by 2030—regardless of the cost to consumers.

I would point out that all three of those States elected liberal Democrats to Congress on election night.

In further answer to that question, I would point to USA TODAY, March 4, 2019. Today is the 6th, so we are talking Monday. Today is Wednesday. This is this week's paper, front page:

To a warming planet’s rescue: Carbon Capture.

To the rescue of a warming planet.

In the race against climate change, scientists are looking for ways to pull CO₂ out of the Earth’s atmosphere and store it away.

And what they point to is bipartisan legislation passed by this body, passed by the House, and signed into law by President Trump focusing on carbon capture and sequestration. It talks about CO₂. That is the FUTURE Act. One of the cosponsors from the other side of the aisle is on the floor right now. His name is mentioned, my name is mentioned in finding the solution.

There are Republican solutions and ideas that are focused on innovation, not regulation, not taxation, focused on freedom and the innovation that we have had.

So I just come to tell you, Mr. President, that there are solutions, and the Republican Party is not going to offer them. We had a hearing most recently just last week on something called the USE IT Act—again, to capture carbon and to sequester it. We have been working on new-age nuclear power, working with leaders around the world. We passed that, and it was signed into law—an innovation bill for nuclear power, new-age nuclear power that will be in small reactors, safer reactors, cheaper to use, no carbon whatsoever.

So there are absolute solutions, and Republicans are in the business of trying to continue to come to the floor, but we are not going to support something that would bankrupt the country, something that would raise the cost of energy for families, something that would drive people to the point of having to spend money they don’t have, having our country borrow money we don’t have, all at a time when you say, what is the cause? There are suggestions and numbers that have been raised, I haven’t heard any numbers from the other side of the aisle.

So I come to the floor to tell you that Republicans have continued to offer solutions, and I have been offering some of those same solutions. It took us a while to get these into law, but they are working. They are working and have been identified as working. Even President Obama’s former Secretary of Energy, Ernie Moniz, who came and testified to the Energy and Natural Resources Committee, said there are two things that would make a big difference. One is the new-age nuclear work that we are doing, and the other is carbon capture and sequestration. Those are large-scale products that work.

I see other colleagues on the floor. Do I have the floor right now?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Wyoming has the floor.

Mr. BARRASSO. The American as long as I continue to have the floor, I would like to point out that we have a booming economy in this country. In just over a year, tax relief has helped create 3 million new jobs. Manufacturing jobs have increased for 10 straight months. There is the fact that we have more jobs available than there are people looking for jobs. We have a booming economy. I want to do nothing that is going to harm these people all across the country who are working to have an opportunity in such a strong, healthy, growing economy.

This Green New Deal—this Big Government takeover of the economy—it is masked as an environmental program. Senator Markey, the presiding officer from the Laborers’ International Union of North America calls it a “bad deal.”

Take a look at America. We are leading the world in reducing carbon dioxide because of the technological and innovative techniques we have had. We know from what we hear about the Green New Deal that it is prohibitively expensive, with predictions of up to $93 trillion. The entire net worth of the United States and all the homes and all the families and everything—is only $12 trillion, and this alone would cost $93 trillion. You can go by how much it is going to cost each individual family. It is completely unaffordable. It is not something that is workable. But it is far out on the fringes, even if it were affordable.

So what we have seen here is the Democrats are going to another hard left turn. Under this Green New Deal, in just 10 years, the Nation’s energy system would undergo a Washington makeover. The Green New Deal would end the use of energy resources that currently provide power for three out of five homes and businesses in the United States. Think about the harm that would cause the economy. This Green New Deal mandates the use of expensive power sources that can’t keep the lights on. Wind and solar are important. We need more renewable energy for this country. But right now, wind and solar provide less than 8 percent of our electricity.

Should we increase the use of renewables? Absolutely. But eliminating affordable coal and natural gas would be a huge mistake. And what we then see is that it is impossible to do. The electric grid can’t handle it.

Last month, there was an op-ed in the Wall Street Journal titled “The Green New Deal’s Impossible Electric Grid,” written by Robert Blohm of the North American Electric Reliability Corporation. He writes that if the electric grid relies solely on renewable energy sources, “the grid itself may collapse.”

That is not all we lose if the grid collapses. Our transportation system is in the crosshairs. The Green New Deal seeks to transform how Americans travel. It calls for an extensive and expensive national, high-speed rail system to replace its buses.

The State of California attempted to build a high-speed rail line between Los Angeles and San Francisco. It turns out the price was too high for California. The Governor, Gavin Newsom, just recently canceled the line between San Francisco and Los Angeles. Why? He said because of the massive cost. But it is all part of the Green New Deal. The question is, if California can’t afford to build high-speed rail between two major cities, how can we afford to build a system that crisscrosses the country? We can’t.

The Green New Deal doesn’t stop at energy and travel; it extends to every building in the country. People are going to be forced to retrofit their houses, and businesses would have to do the same.

This is what massive government overreach looks like.

The rest of the world is going to continue to pollute even if the country were to adopt something as extreme as the Green New Deal. It would cancel all of the gains we have made in the United States by the fact that our emissions continued to go down. In 2017, we produced just 13 percent of global emissions here in the United States—just 13 percent. China and India together—33 percent. And they are rising over there. Without dramatic changes from India and China, global emissions are going to continue to climb. So even if all the Green New Deal’s costly mandates went into effect, with the punishment to our country and our economy, there would still be no real effect on the Earth’s temperature.

So I am not surprised that the Democrats are trying to dupe this big green bomb. Senate Democrats may even decide to vote present to avoid voting for their own extreme proposal that a dozen of them have either signed on to or cosponsored, including just about every Democratic Senator who is running for President. They have all signed on. They are all cosponsoring it.

This green dream is unreachable, but there really is a way to reduce our emissions, which is why I talk about what we are wanting to do in a positive way with nuclear energy, with carbon capture, things that have gathered the attention of the New York Times and were on the front page of USA TODAY on Monday.

So we are going to continue to work with the FUTURE Act and with the USE IT Act. The committee is going to continue to work in a bipartisan way because Republicans are committed to finding solutions through innovation, not taxation, not regulation—solutions that do not hurt our strong and healthy, growing economy.

I yield the floor to the Senator from North Dakota.

Mr. CRAMER. Mr. President, I rise to join my colleagues, first of all, in, yes, opposing this Green New Deal, this joint resolution, that is full of so many dangerous policies and positions. But before I get into my reasons for that, let me also join my colleague from Wyoming in saying I am for the things he is for and even more—carbon capture, utilization, and storage, refined coal, all kinds of ways that we can accomplish the same goals together, with realistic proposals, not fantasies.

Let me also say something that should warm the heart of our colleagues from Massachusetts. The Koch brothers strongly opposed my candidacy and my election to the U.S. Senate. I owe them nothing, and I am grateful.

You know, I wasn’t always this pessimistic about the possibilities in this Chamber. I believe, in fact, that divided government presents an opportunity for the parties to come together to find common ground and to have legislative victories based on shared goals and shared values. I hope we can get back to that.

I had hoped for it even on controversial issues, like immigration and healthcare, and I certainly hoped for it on energy policy, but when I heard that the Democrats were proposing this Green New Deal, I didn’t view it as an opportunity. It was a political maneuver. I viewed it as an opportunity to find common ground, to compromise, to find balance, and to negotiate the way that I believe our founders intended it.

I don’t think killing innovators with something like a Green New Deal is how we accomplish the goals they say they are for in their Green New Deal.

You can imagine my disappointment when I read the contents of this joint resolution. This is the Green New Deal serious policy. It is a fantasy. I am personally disappointed to see so many of my colleagues on the other side of the aisle cosponsor this—especially those who are seeking higher office—and ignore the realities.

Someone earlier mentioned that the Green New Deal never talks about airplanes. No, but it does say that we want to transition to 100-percent renewable energy by 2050. Well, I don’t think that by 2050 we will be having airplanes without having fossil fuels.

As the Presiding Officer may have seen, in my State of North Dakota, we are having a really, really cold winter. In fact, those of us in the Midwest are. The National Weather Service referred to a stretch of this really cold weather earlier this winter as a polar vortex. We call it winter.

Polar vortex or whatever you want to call it, it has been a rough winter. Rough winters aren’t rare or new to us, but this one has been particularly cold. We were well below zero several days in a row. In fact, during the polar vortex, one day the wind chill was well below 50 degrees below. By the way, for those of you who are from the South, 50 below is below zero—zero. It is a really low number.

But I believe there are some facts that have been left out related to how this will affect human health.

On February 18th, 2019, in Grand Forks, ND, it reached 42 degrees below zero without wind chill. That is real temperature. Again, that has happened in many communities throughout the State.

During these low temperatures, guess what does happen. Wind doesn’t blow, and when the wind doesn’t blow, windmills stop providing energy, and they actually start consuming it. When I was a regulator, I cited a couple thousand megawatts of wind turbines in North Dakota.

When the energy can’t be produced by wind turbines, it turns to gas, and, then, guess what happens. Natural gas providers have to ask their customers to curtail their gas consumption because we obviously need the gas for a more firm supply of electricity that backs up the wind turbines.

Again, I was a utility regulator. I saw this happen a lot, and it happened just a couple of weeks ago in the Midwest. Can you imagine that when temperatures drop below minus 22 degrees and wind turbines stop working? That means that many North Dakotans, like my mom and my grandchildren, have to rely on intermittent electricity to fill their oil heaters or to heat their homes or to heat their homes with natural gas. Do you see the cycle of this? It is a circle. One bad thing leads to another bad thing.

In this situation, it is when—not if—an electric outage occurs during a polar vortex, it would be disastrous for the people of my State and many others. This is a serious health risk, and I do not want my friends and family to ever wonder if they will be able to warm their homes when they need it the most.

Even if the Green New Deal were to pass, we could never afford it. You have heard a lot of statements today from Members about the expected cost of up to $93 trillion. You can argue that it is not $93 trillion—that it is only $90 trillion, it is only $80 trillion, or it is only $50 trillion. It is too much. It is unfathomable. And $93 trillion is more than 90 percent of the combined wealth of all—I said “all”—American households.

This green dream is unreachable, but there really is a way to reduce our emissions, which is why I talk about what we are wanting to do in a positive way with nuclear energy, with carbon capture, things that have gathered the attention of the New York Times and were on the front page of USA TODAY on Monday.

We are here because the majority leader has indicated that the Senate will be considering this misguided proposal in the coming weeks. You would think our colleagues on the other side of the aisle would be concerned about the idea of a Senate vote on a resolution that essentially compasses their party’s entire platform. Instead, the minority leader is scrambling to conceive ideas that will give... his caucus members cover instead of embracing a plan. I can see why.

The Green New Deal didn’t quite receive the celebration Democrats were expecting when it was announced. Its release was greeted with a combination of bewilderment, amusement, and confusion, which have way to anger by eliminating their jobs, outlawing their vehicles, and demanding they essentially build their homes to whatever standards Democrats in Washington decide.

If you ask most Americans if government control over almost every aspect of their lives is the direction they want to see the Nation take, the answer is an overwhelming no. Yet that is exactly what the Green New Deal seeks to do under the pretense of ending climate change.

The authors of the Green New Deal and its accompanying memo suggest their plan is the cure for all of society’s ills. They cast themselves as saviors who will end global warming, income equality, and depression in one fell swoop. The Green New Deal will guarantee every American free healthcare, college tuition, and a job with a “family-sustaining” wage.

That last part isn’t even required to receive the benefits promised by the Green New Deal. If an able-bodied person is unwilling to look for work, the government would provide “economic security” under the plan.

What supporters can’t say is how they will implement this, what impact it will have on the average American, and where the trillions of dollars it will cost will come from. These details are important when you are asking for support of a plan that is estimated to cost up to $93 trillion and dramatically expands the Federal Government’s reach into the daily lives of every American.

Single moms, seniors, and those living on fixed incomes—the very people whom the Green New Deal supporters purport to help—will be the most negatively impacted by this proposal.

Getting the majority of our Nation’s energy from renewable sources is certainly a worthy goal. However, you cannot brand a $93 trillion, all-encompassing plan and expect it to be embraced with no questions asked.

Only a fraction of this plan deals with climate change, but its energy mandates are entirely unworkable. The Green New Deal dictates that the Nation will have 100% of its energy from renewable power within a decade. Experts say it is impossible to accomplish this by 2050, much less within a constricted 10-year timeline.

The way forward to solve our environmental challenges should be driven by positive incentives, research, and development, not heavy-handed regulation.

The uncomfortable truth for the Green New Deal proponents is that the United States is already leading the charge on reducing carbon emissions. We can continue to build on that progress and encourage change within the international community without mandating a government takeover of nearly every sector of our economy.

As a member of the Environment and Public Works Committee, I have long advocated for an “all of the above” approach to energy security. This strategy includes wind, renewable biomass, hydroelectric and solar power, and it absolutely needs to include the expansion of nuclear power, which the Green New Deal mysteriously leaves out.

These are the right ways to responsibly address our energy needs. The Green New Deal—which makes undeliverable promises, proposes to dramatically drive up costs for every American, and eliminates thousands of jobs in the energy sector—is not the way to go. The Green New Deal will result in a staggering loss of jobs. It redistributes wealth on a scale our Nation has never seen before. It calls for a massive government takeover of our Nation’s economy and culture. Worst of all, it hides all of this in a fanciful energy modernization scheme that can’t be achieved in the manner it is written.

The Green New Deal is not a serious plan. The Senate should wholeheartedly reject it when it comes before us.

With that, I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Michigan.

Ms. STABENOW. Thank you, Mr. President.

Mr. President, I am here on the floor to ultimately speak regarding Mr. Readler’s nomination, but I do want to respond to my colleagues. It is hard to know where we begin because so much is said that doesn’t make any sense. It is made up.

What I wanted to address as my colleague was speaking was where it said in the Green New Deal that we couldn’t have ice cream. I have looked everywhere. I like ice cream, and I was shocked that we weren’t going to have ice cream. Sure enough, there is nowhere where it says that they are outlawing ice cream.

For people who like cheesburgers and milkshakes, I don’t see anything in there. I was a little bit surprised. As a member of the Agriculture, Nutrition, and Forestry Committee, who works with farmers every single day and appreciates the great work they are doing to stop carbon pollution, I would just have to say that it is pretty silly, if it weren’t so serious, how the Republican majority and the Republican leader are mocking what is something in its place that addresses what is actually happening in terms of the threats to all of us, our families, our States, and our economy.

This is real. This subject is real. It must be a real discussion. We have differences. We will have differences on how to address it, and that is fine—but to mock the whole subject of what is happening right before our eyes. We have to make up new names now for weather events in Michigan. Not only do we have polar vortexes where the cold is rolling down because of the warming in the Arctic, but we have cyclone bombs or bomb cyclones—I am not sure which it is—but it is weather, wind events, that come at 60, 80 miles an hour into a community like a cyclone bomb. We are having to make up new terms for what is happening right in front of us.

So if the majority leader or others want to say that we are declaring a war on the weather and climate change, that we would put aside the games, stop making stuff up, and have a serious discussion about how we can come together, create new jobs, move the economy, stop carbon pollution, and make sure our kids and grandkids actually have something to be proud of.

NOMINATION OF CHAD A. READER

Mr. President, I now want to speak about the Readler nomination. I have often said that healthcare isn’t political. It’s personal. Take your child to the doctor when they get sick is not political; it is personal. Being able to manage chronic conditions such as diabetes, heart disease, and high blood pressure with quality medical care and prescription medicine is not political; it is personal. Being able to count on your medical insurance to cover you if you get sick is not political; that is personal.

That is why, when the Trump administration nominates people for powerful positions who are on healthcare—you want to talk about somebody going to war. We have someone who waged war on healthcare—who we are about to vote on, on the Senate floor. I take that very personally, and the people of Michigan take it personally too.

I will be voting no on Chad Readler, President Trump’s nominee for the U.S. Circuit Court for the Sixth Circuit. I want to take a moment to explain why.

The Sixth Circuit covers Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, and my own State of Michigan. As a career lawyer and former judge, Mr. Readler stands out. It is not just that he defended restrictive voting laws in Ohio or that he voiced support for giving minors the death penalty—young people the death penalty. It is also that he saw fit to tell State and local governments that they shouldn’t be able to pass laws to protect our LGBTQ friends and neighbors from discrimination, no, Mr. Readler’s appalling views, if implemented, would touch every single family in Michigan.

At the Department of Justice, Mr. Readler has led efforts to dismantle the Affordable Care Act, including protections for people with preexisting conditions. In the argument of the Sixth Circuit in Texas v. United States, the architect of the argument, Mr. Readler, ensured that the requirement that people have health insurance is found unconstitutional, but, more importantly, that people with preexisting conditions are also unconstitutional, unless they have health insurance. That is the wrong word, given that architects build things, and Mr. Readler is solely devoted to tearing them down. His argument is, of course, nonsense. It is also twisted, and I hope Michigan families will not allow him to touch our children with diabetes, asthma, or cancer. Parents could find themselves with no insurance coverage for a child who needs treatment. Families could once again run up against lifetime limits that mean a child with complex medical issues could reach her lifetime limit by age 2 or 3. Parents could spend a lifetime worrying about a child who would never be able to qualify for health insurance as an adult.

Of course, moms and their daughters would be charged more if being a woman was once again treated as a pre-existing condition. All of these things routinely happened to Michigan families during the bad old days when insurance companies were in charge of our healthcare prior to the Affordable Care Act. Now Mr. Readler wants to bring back the bad old days back. However, is that not the end of Mr. Readler’s noxious views. He is just as toxic when it comes to education.

In my State, Education Secretary Betsy DeVos has been underdramatizing our public education system. Well, you can call Chad Readler the Betsy DeVos of Ohio. Mr. Readler, as chair of the Ohio Alliance for Public Charter Schools, pushed school privatization and fought oversight of Ohio’s troubled charter schools. He fought oversight of the troubled charter schools.

He fought to eliminate the part of Ohio’s Constitution that guarantees Ohio students will receive “a thorough and efficient” education. In short, he would eliminate the right to public education in Ohio.

He proposed a change that would exclude LGBTQ students from discrimination protections in Ohio schools, and while at the Department of Justice, he defended Betsy DeVos when she delayed implementation of rules aimed at helping students who are victims of illegal or deceptive practices by colleges. They were victims of illegal or deceptive practices by colleges, and he supported stopping that relief.

Michigan families who have children with preexisting conditions deserve better than Chad Readler. Michigan students who have been targeted by unscrupulous colleges deserve better than Chad Readler. Michigan folks who have business before the U.S. court of appeals certainly deserve better than Chad Readler.

In my judgment, he has no business being a judge with a lifetime appointment, and I know a whole lot of Michigan families who agree. I am voting no, and I encourage my colleagues to do the same.

Thank you. I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Vermont.

MR. LEAHY. Mr. President, as the longest serving Member of the Senate and also the former chairman of the Judiciary Committee, I feel compelled—and I normally don’t come down and speak about these things—but I want to warn about the destruction of long-held norms and traditions that have protected the Senate’s unique constitutional role with respect to lifetime judicial appointments.

This is an extraordinary responsibility on the part of the U.S. Senate. The Constitution allows any President to nominate whomever they want for a lifetime position on our Federal courts, but as our Founders said, the Senate has to give advice and consent because of the effect of this person’s lifetime position. They go way beyond the term of the Senators who vote for them and the term of the President who nominates the person.

In fact, until recently, and certainly during the years I have served here, Members of the Senate knew well they had a say when it came to who serves in the Federal courts in their States. It didn’t matter whether you had a Republican or Democratic President or a Republican or Democratic majority in the Senate; blue slips protected the prerogative of home State Senators and gave meaning to the constitutional requirement of advice and consent. It ensures fairness but, more importantly, I think it also ensured comity in the Senate. That now is fast becoming history; blue slips are gone. This part is going to do lasting damage to the Senate.

What is happening is a disingenuous double standard. When I was chairman of the Judiciary Committee at the beginning of the Obama administration, every single Senate Republican, including many serving today, signed a letter. They made the case for the importance of the blue-slip tradition. They said it was absolutely imperative that the Senate give advice and consent, the Obama administration.

The Republicans said: We must do this. Well, I didn’t need any reminder because under my chairmanship during both the Bush Republican administrations and the Obama Democratic administration, I respected the blue-slip tradition without exception, even when it was not politically expedient to do so. I respected Republicans and Democrats alike. Regardless of who was in the Oval Office, under my chairmanship, not a single judicial nominee received a hearing without first receiving both home State Senators’ positive blue slips.

I defended the blue slips, and that was unpopular in my own party on occasion. But I believed in both the constitutional and institutional importance. I also believed in the prerogatives of home State Senators and the need to ensure that the White House works in good faith with those Senators. I believed then, and I still believe now, that certain principles matter more than party. Something that, unfortunately, some, probably because they are new here, don’t understand.

All of us, whether Democratic or Republican, should care about good-faith consultation when it comes to nominees from our home States. The reasons are principled and pragmatic. We know our State better than anybody else. We know who is qualified to fill lifetime judicial seats. They are going to have a tremendous impact on our communities. We know the men and women who are qualified. Without blue slips, nothing prevents our State selection committees from being completely ignored by the White House. Nothing would even prevent a New York or California lawyer from being nominated to a Texas court or vice versa.

Yet the Senate is abandoning this protection. Senators of the Republican Party who promised they would uphold it, gave their word they would uphold it, asked me to uphold it, have suddenly broken their word. That bothers me.

Last week, for example, for the first time in the history of this body, a nominee was confirmed to a seat on the circuit court over the objections of both home State Senators. That is the first time in our history that has happened. That meant my friends on the other side of the aisle had to break their word from what they agreed to before.

This week, we are voting on two additional nominees, Chad Readler and Eric Murphy, who are opposed by an additional Senators of the Republican Party. In the beginning of the Obama administration, every single Senate Republican, including many serving today, signed a letter. They made the case for the importance of the blue-slip tradition. They said it was absolutely imperative that the Senate give advice and consent.
House on these two Sixth Circuit vacancies, but the White House was not interested.

The White House knew the Republicans would not keep to the position they expected Democrats to keep when we were in the majority, and because they knew they could rely on Members of their own party not to follow tradition for the first time, they didn’t even try. The White House didn’t even try to consult. Even superficial consultation is an afterthought.

Senator Brown then attended the confirmation hearings. He spoke against these nominations. He cited, among other things, Mr. Readler’s unprecedented actions attacking healthcare protections while serving in the Trump Justice Department.

Mr. Readler was willing to reverse Justice Department policy and sign a brief undermining protections for pre-existing conditions when career Justice Department officials—career officials who have been there in both Republican and Democratic administrations—refused. They refused to reverse their well-established Justice Department policy. He, however, was perfectly willing to throw it away in court. Nobody we expect to be fair on the court?

Senator Brown cited Mr. Murphy’s longstanding support and advocacy for restrictive voting laws in Ohio. He knows that his constituents will have to live with the ramifications if these nominees are confirmed. It will directly affect the State. He expressed his concerns about their records, and his voice, in this process as a U.S. Senator, was ignored.

These votes come on the heels of the Senate’s confirming a 37-year-old nominee for the Fourth Circuit who has practiced law for less than 10 years—a grand total of 9 years. She now holds a lifetime judgeship on an appellate court, just one step below the Supreme Court. Her confirmation hearing made a mockery of the Senate’s duty of advice and consent.

It marked the first time in the Judiciary Committee’s history—the first time ever that a nomination hearing was held during the October recess over the objections of the other party. We found out why.

Only two Republican Senators attended the hearing, and the questions lasted only 20 minutes for someone who demonstrated no abilities to serve on the Fourth Circuit. They knew it didn’t make any difference whether she had the abilities or knew what she was doing. All they knew is that this White House had nominated her, and so rubberstamp this.

Frankly, the Senate should never function as a mere rubberstamp for nominees seeking lifetime appointments to our Federal judiciary. We shouldn’t do it. Whether there is a Republican or a Democrat in the White House. That is exactly what we are doing with a Republican President and a Republican majority. No matter whether the person is qualified, if the name comes up, rubberstamp it. When I chaired the Judiciary Committee, many Senators—Republican Senators—expressed both publicly and privately their appreciation for the fact that the White House had protected their rights and gave meaning to advice and consent. Many told me this is the way it must always be, whether Republicans or Democrats are in the majority.

Well, their about-face, now that they control the Senate, is unbecoming, and it basically says that the Senate will just bow down to the executive branch. We will give up our responsibility, we will give up our authority, and we will just be rubberstamps. We might as well not even bother to show up: just do whatever we are told. It is deeply disappointing.

I know the pressure because many of my Republican friends have told me to rubberstamp President Trump’s nominees. He, however, did not fall on many deaf ears, even for those who promised me they would not do this.

I have served in the Senate long enough to know that political winds tend to change direction. Inevitably, the White House changes hands, and the White House changes hands. I suspect that many of my Republican colleagues who care about this institution, as do I—and there are many—are going to live to regret many of these actions.

The further down this path the Senate goes, the harder it is going to be to unring this bell. A vote for Mr. Readler or Mr. Murphy is a vote to say that we abandon our abilities as home State Senators to serve as a check not just on this President but any future President, Republican or Democrat. Basically, we are saying that we don’t believe in advice and consent. Basically, we are saying that we don’t believe in the conscience of the Senate, the conscience of the Nation. Basically, we are saying that we don’t believe the Founders of this country knew what they were doing when they said the U.S. Senate—this body of 100 people—has to represent 325 million Americans and that we don’t believe they should have any responsibility, have any say in lifetime appointments.

If we abandon longstanding traditions and chase partisan expediency, I remind everybody that provides only fleeting advantage. It inflicts lasting harm on this body. It is within our power to stop it right here and right now.

I urge all Senators to ensure that this President, Republican or Democrat, say that we are not a rubberstamp to any President. We don’t take our orders from any President. We don’t bow and scrape for any President. Let’s act like Senators, not like a rubberstamp.

I yield the floor.

I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Delaware.

Mr. COONS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

TRIBUTE TO FRANZ WUERPMAHNSDOBLER

Mr. COONS. Mr. President, I come to the floor today to recognize a true public servant, a man I want to thank him for being by my side since my first year as a Senator, someone who will be dearly missed, not only in my office but by this institution as a whole as he moves on to his next chapter this week: my deputy chief of staff and senior policy advisor, Franz Wuerpmannsdobler.

Franz has had a great impact on this institution, on the staff members who served here over the last two decades, and on me. His sage advice, his patience, his incredibly calm demeanor, his willingness to mentor and guide others, his respect for this institution, and his knowledge borne out of 20 years of experience in the Senate have contributed in countless ways to the meaningful work we have been able to do here for the people of Delaware and our country.

Today, I want to recognize and thank Franz for his remarkable and selfless career. I want to thank him for what he has done for me, for my office, for the people of Delaware, and pay tribute to the legacy he leaves.

It is a remarkable legacy. He has been at the forefront of events and policy battles that have quite literally shaped the history of our country over the last two decades—from 9/11 to the passage of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act, from energy and appropriations efforts to sustained concerns and engagement around bipartisanship.

Franz’s career in the Senate began in 1998 when he served as a legislative assistant for the late, great Senator Robert Byrd of West Virginia, who was himself a giant of this body. For 8 years, Franz handled issues from energy to environment, to climate change and natural resources. It was also in Senator Byrd’s office that Franz cut his teeth on the complex appropriations process, learning from the master appropriator himself.

Franz’s career then took him to the office of former Senator Byron Dorgan of North Dakota, where he was a trusted senior energy policy advisor, and finally to my office as deputy chief of staff and senior policy advisor, Appropriations Subcommittee before finally joining my own office in March of 2011.
Franz’s list of legislative accomplishments is long and impressive and reflects his deep grasp of policy and the mechanics of politics. He helped to shape elements of the Energy Policy Act of 2005 and the Energy Independence and Security Act of 2007. He was central to establishing reformed fuel economy standards for our Nation’s automobiles and played a key role in the Recovery Act, a massive effort that helped pull our Nation out of the depths of a recession.

Franz is a person of ideas and vision. His vision for our country has led to policies that have made our Nation cleaner, more innovative, and more secure. Likewise, his vision in my Senate office has made our team more efficient, more effective, and more successful. Franz has played a key role in shaping my office early on, helping to create a team-based structure and the positive culture of our legislative staff.

He also introduced me to the valuable concept of having an office built around and relying on expert legislative fellows, including, in particular, fellows from the American Association for the Advancement of Science, whose incredible expertise and deep knowledge of science matters has been invaluable in advancing technology and science policy in my last 8 years. In total, Franz has mentored more than 15 fellows during his time in the Senate—13 of them are AAAS fellows in my own office. These fellowships have attested individually and collectively to the reach, scope, and power of his guidance and mentorship to them.

Franz is also a master of appropriations—an arcane process that even the most seasoned legislative veterans should admit that they don’t completely understand. He brought his wealth of experience to our team, taking the reins of the Federal budget and appropriations process and building from the ground up the complex and detailed appropriations system that we use to this day. There is no question that Franz’s expertise and the time he dedicated to building this meticulous system has made me a more effective member of the Senate Appropriations Committee and led to countless wins for the State of Delaware—from funding for critical transportation improvements and investments in our first responders to support that has helped to establish the Delaware Nano Institute, a manufacturing institute of the University of Delaware and to fully fund science and R&D projects around the country and in my home State.

Beyond Franz’s technical expertise, nothing better exemplifies his character than the patience and dedication with which he has taught others about the appropriations process. Each year, Franz hosts “Appropriations Bootcamp 101” to teach new staff members the ins and outs of this riveting and complex area of legislation. It makes me think of the time he explained it, to get it into the weeds, and to answer question after question. Franz has also taken his show on the road in my home State of Delaware, meeting with State, local government, and community stakeholders to explain the appropriations process and help to secure more funding for our State. He has even developed a legendary method for teaching staff about appropriations by using bags of marbles to explain funding allocations for each Appropriations subcommittee. For the record, the legislative branch gets just one marble.

Franz’s patience extends far beyond the annual appropriations process. He is deeply committed and has a striking and calming presence, even in the most trying of circumstances. One of those more trying circumstances occurred at a staff outing just a few years ago. Franz had driven a couple of other members of our team, and on their way home, his car broke down. The group decided to push start the car, going down a hill to get momentum, while a junior staffer manned the wheel. Unfortunately, the lack of power steering made it impossible for the wheels to lock. After a good strong push, the car rolled right down the hill and into a tree. Franz very calmly said: Don’t worry about it. It is not a problem; it is all going to be fine—even when the front end of his car was unrecognizable. Franz’s response to that situation, his cool and calm demeanor, is characteristic of the grace he has imparted on all of us, even in some of the most tumultuous times here in the Senate.

One of the unique things about Franz is that whenever somebody who knows him or has worked with him, they talk about the ways in which he has gone out of his own way to help them and mentor them over the years. So many people in the Senate view Franz not just as a friend or colleague but as someone who they know has helped them in their careers and someone who has shown them the ropes and invested time in supporting them and helping them succeed. One member of my team described his character and approach this way:

Franz has an uncanny ability to take the time necessary to help. He enables us to do our jobs and do them well. We get meaningful things done, and that’s because of the wisdom Franz has imparted.

In an environment here in the Senate that is at times fast paced, Franz takes the time to invest in younger people. He sees potential in staff and imparts knowledge and experience, even when they are externs who are trying to see what they can help him busy just meeting his own commitments. For example, Franz took it upon himself to create a manual for the new fellows who work in my office every year. The manual, which should be required reading for every new Senate staffer, describes how to write a bill and important things about the process of working in the Senate.

He also maintains the Capitol Hill Urban Dictionary, which he shares with new staff and Interns to help them decode internal Senate jargon, including phrases like “en bloc” or “move the needle.” It explains, for example, what to do when asked: Do you have language on that.

Franz embraces the importance of teaching the next generation of Capitol Hill staff how to do their job well. I think that is truly his greatest legacy. Franz has helped many of our younger staff members to learn, to grow, and to develop, and he has done it with patience and grace. He has helped us to create a more effective and more successful team.

Each year, Franz and his wonderful wife Lisa host an annual gathering at their home for a growing community of current and former fellows and, literally, dozens of colleagues—folks who share the stories, experiences, and wisdom Franz has imparted, and who enjoy helping each other and developing and sustaining each other’s careers.

That is just the kind of person Franz is. He has impacted people—something that was never more evident than at his wedding to Lisa a few years ago, which I was deeply honored to have the chance to officiate. In addition to their friends and family, guests that day included former Senator Dorothea Raskin, who worked closely with Franz early in his career, dozens of individuals he mentored himself, and people from all walks of life who support Franz and Lisa and care about them. It was a testament to the community of people Franz cared about, both inside and outside the Senate.

Franz cares deeply about this institution. He cares about policies, and he cares about people. He is always looking for ways to bridge the partisan divide and make this broken process work better. It hasn’t always been easy. Like many of us, Franz has struggled with the slowing pace of legislative progress in the Senate in recent years and its increasingly divisive nature. It says so much about him and about his faith in us and in this institution that he is leaving his Senate career to go work on these very issues, helping to lead the Bipartisan Policy Center in advancing bipartisan policy solutions to address the challenges facing our Nation and the institution of the Senate.

He has made such a mark that he is known throughout this institution by a single name. Few people are known by just one name—Bono, Noah, Cher, Barack. When people think of Franz, they use just one name—Bono, Noah, Cher, Barack. When I think of Franz, I always think of Franz and Lisa and care about them. It is just the kind of person Franz is.

He has made such a mark that he is known throughout this institution by a single name. Few people are known by just one name—Bono, Noah, Cher, Barack. When people think of Franz, they use just one name—Bono, Noah, Cher, Barack. When I think of Franz, I always think of Franz and Lisa and care about them. It is just the kind of person Franz is.

In addition, Franz has worked on for Congress after Congress legislation that will level the tax playing field for clean energy, which Franz has worked on for Congress after Congress as long as I have been here—work that I intend to finish.

While I am sad today to see Franz leave my office in the Senate, he will be deeply missed by everyone on my staff and everyone who has benefited from his wisdom, but I am also excited to see the inspiring things he will accomplish in his next chapter.

I want to thank Franz for his dedication, his leadership, and his expertise. I want to thank his family for sharing him with us these past 8 years in my office and these 2 decades here in the Senate. He inspires me every day to be a better and more thoughtful, more careful, and more caring legislator. He leaves a deep and positive impact on all of us that we will not soon forget. Thank you, Franz. You will be deeply missed.

Thank you, Mr. President.

I yield the floor.

JUDICIAL NOMINATIONS

Mrs. FEINSTEIN. Mr. President, I rise today in opposition to three circuit court nominees who will receive votes on the floor this week: Allison Jones Rushing, nominated to the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals; Chad Readler, nominated to the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals; and Eric Murphy, also nominated to the Sixth Circuit.

I want to begin by addressing how these nominations were handled and the ongoing disregard for Senate norms and traditions by Republican leadership. It's the change in how blue slips are treated. Blue slips work. The blue slip ensures that the interests of home state senators are respected when it comes to judicial nominees from their States.

However, blue slips help guarantee that the White House nominates well-qualified, mainstream individuals to key seats on the circuit and district courts, and it prevents the selection of nominees who do not reside in the circuit in which they are slated to serve.

In the past century, before President Trump took office, only five judges had ever been confirmed with only one blue slip; two were by a Democratic chair over the objection of a Republican, then in the minority. The other three instances occurred when a Republican chairman overruled a Democratic senator.

In fact, Democratic chairs have never moved a judicial nominee to confirmation over the objection of a Republican senator. Let me say that again: Democratic chairs have never confirmed a judicial nominee without a blue slip from a Republican senator.

However, since President Trump took office, 10 circuit court nominees have received hearings, and four have been confirmed over the objection of Democratic home state senators. In just over 2 years, Republicans are on their way to doubling the number of judges confirmed over the objection of home state senators than have been confirmed in the last 100 years.

This week we are considering both Ms. Rushing and Mr. Murphy who lack blue slips from Ohio's Senior Senator, my friend and colleague Senator Brown.

Senator Brown's opposition was not unreasonable; in fact, Senator Brown worked with the White House for weeks in an effort to find consensus picks for the Sixth Circuit.

But the White House refused to cooperate, and he was left with no choice but to withhold his blue slip. In doing so, Sen. Brown could not support nominees who have actively worked to strip Ohioans of their rights. Special interests already have armies of lobbyists and lawyers on their side; they don't need judges in their pockets.

Further, when the majority did move forward on the nominations of Mr. Readler and Mr. Murphy, the two appeared on the same panel at the same hearing. With 5-minute rounds of questioning, these stacked circuit court hearings make it all but impossible for senators on the committee to thoroughly vet judicial nominees, and that, in turn, makes it impossible for this body to fulfill its obligation of providing advice and consent.

Ms. Rushing's nomination is also the product of a departure from Senate norms. Then-Chairman GRASSLEY held Ms. Rushing's hearing on October 17, 2018, during an extended Senate recess. Only two senators questioned Ms. Rushing. No Democrats were present to question the nominee.

These process violations matter. They matter because they impact the quality of the nominees we are considering and the ability of the nominee to reflect the state and community to which they are being nominated.

We have already seen several nominees who have had no judicial experience, and others with no trial experience whatsoever. We have seen nominees who have been rated unqualified for lack of experience and also for lack of judgement, ethical problems, and issues with impartiality and temperament.

This isn't a partisan issue. This is an issue that should concern senators from both sides of the aisle. At a time when Americans increasingly distrust the institutions of our government, we should not be degrading the federal judiciary with unqualified and ideological nominees.

Turning to the nominees themselves, I first want to discuss Allison Rushing. Ms. Rushing is only 36 years old. In fact, she has practiced law for only 9 years. She has never tried a case in the Fourth Circuit until 2017; yet she is being nominated to serve on a federal circuit court.

Even in her limited experience, Ms. Rushing has demonstrated strong ideological views. For instance, in 2013, Ms. Rushing spoke before the Supreme Court’s decision to strike down a key provision of the Defense of Marriage Act. She claimed that Justice Kennedy’s opinion was an opinion in a unique way that calls it bigotry to believe that homosexuality does not comport with Judeo-Christian morality.”

Ms. Rushing also demonstrated her hostility to the rights of employees in a brief she submitted in a 2018 Supreme Court case. Ms. Rushing argued that employment agreements requiring employees to waive their rights to go to court as a condition of employment should be allowed because most people don’t have a choice to turn down a job.

Ms. Rushing’s position risked leading to the under-enforcement of federal and state statutes designed to advance the well-being of vulnerable workers.”

I next would like to address the nomination of Chad Readler. Mr. Readler previously headed the Justice Department’s Civil Division. In that position, he defended some of the most troubling policies this administration has implemented. He defended the President’s decision to end the DACA program, the policy to separate immigrant children from their parents, and the President’s Medicaid travel ban.

Most concerning, however, is that Mr. Readler led the administration’s efforts to overturn the Affordable Care Act. Mr. Readler argued that the healthcare law’s protections for pre-existing conditions should be struck down. Even Senator LAMAR ALEXANDER called the arguments made in Mr. Readler’s brief “as far-fetched as any I’ve ever heard.”

Finally, the Senate is voting on Eric Murphy to the Sixth Circuit. As the chief appellate lawyer for the State of Ohio, Mr. Murphy led the State’s defense of its law banning same-sex marriage, which was struck down by the Supreme Court in Obergefell v. Hodges. Mr. Murphy, contrary to the Court’s opinion, was frequently saying: “Barely four years ago, Mr. Murphy made a forceful argument that my marriage was unconstitutional. As the attorney tasked with defending Ohio’s discriminatory ban on same-sex marriage, he used dog-whistles . . . [If] Murphy had been successful, [my husband] and I, and tens of thousands of couples like us, would have been denied the right to marry and forced to live as second-class citizens.”

Murphy also opposed Ohio’s defense of restrictive voting laws, including the Ohio law allowing the State to purge eligible voters if they missed voting in just one Federal election, and he has amassed a troubling record on women’s reproductive rights, arguing for instance in support of a 20-week abortion ban, which he claimed would create “at most, an incidental burden” on a woman’s right to make her own reproductive health care decisions.

The three nominees before the Senate exemplify the Trump administration’s efforts to stack our courts with nominees who are far outside the judicial mainstream. I believe they will not protect the rights of all Americans and should not be confirmed. I will vote no on each of these nominees, and I hope my colleagues will do the same.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Ohio.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. President, I rise to speak on the judicial nomination coming up and the cloture vote on the other nominee.

With both nominees, I offered the White House cooperation to choose two more moderate nominees for Ohio, both of whom had been vetted by a bipartisan commission Senator PORTMAN and I had, and the White House said they would rather pick these two extremist judges—these two young, far-right judges who have attacked America’s healthcare and have attacked the consumer protection on preexisting condition.

Judges are making decisions right now—very fortunately. As Members of the Senate, we all have good coverage and health insurance—that try to take insurance away from millions of Americans and several thousands in my State, even as they have tried to eliminate the consumer protections for those people who have preexisting conditions. There are millions of Americans who are anxious about holding onto their insurance because they get sick a lot and it is expensive to take care of them. They are afraid of losing their insurance, or if they have it, of being canceled, and they can’t get insurance because of a preexisting condition, and this Congress tried to repeal that law and it failed.

Now, Senator MCCONNELL has turned to the Federal Judiciary, and the President of the United States seems to think the only way to eliminate the consumer protection for those with preexisting conditions is through the Judiciary. Judges are making decisions right now. They are deciding rights, on civil rights, on women’s rights, LGBT rights, on healthcare, on sentencing, and on corporate power—decisions that could limit those rights for a generation.

We know that the Federal Judiciary already puts its thumb on the scales of justice to support corporations over workers, to support Wall Street over consumers, and to support insurance companies over patients. We know that the Pryor and the Robart and the White House have done that dozens of times. We know that the Federal Judiciary, increasingly, is looking like a group of far-right, young, detached people who never go out and get their public opinion pass, as Lincoln said. They never consider what the public wants in this country.

Chad Readler, the nominee whom we will vote on in a moment, took it upon himself as a Jones Day lawyer—one of the largest law firms in the country, headquartered in Cleveland—to write an op-ed as a private citizen saying we should allow the execution of 16-year-olds. He actually wasn’t that specific.

He implied it could be even younger than that. He said we would allow the execution of teenagers. At a time when this body—something we should be proud of—took important bipartisan steps forward on sentencing reform that was supported by the White House, supported by a lot of Republicans, and supported by virtually all Democrats, how do we turn around and put someone on the bench for life who supports executing children? How does that compute? How can we do that?

He argued that it was fair right think tank for the elimination of “Golden Week” in Ohio, a period where people can vote early. They can register and vote early. It was passed by a Republican legislature. It has bipartisan support, but not by this right-wing nominee who thinks it is OK to eliminate people’s right to vote and restrict it. He defended restrictive voter ID. He defended the squeezing of provisory ballot laws.

On the eve of the 54th anniversary tomorrow of Bloody Sunday in Selma, AL, it is shameful to put on the bench another judge who will rubberstamp modern-day literacy tests and poll taxes. Fundamentally, it is the same purpose. You find ways to suppress the vote. You find ways to take people’s voting rights away. You find ways to disqualify people who want to vote.

Chad Readler’s record on healthcare is clear. He has been a ringleader in the Republican effort to take away the protections on preexisting conditions for all Americans. He wrote the White House’s brief. We all know that now. He wrote a brief that nobody else above the Court or the Justice Department was willing to do. Three people refused to write it. One actually resigned. The next day, he was rewarded by this lifetime appointment as a Sixth Circuit Federal judge. Remember that. The White House rewarded him after suggesting that we block the consumer protections for preexisting conditions for millions of Americans and for hundreds of thousands in Virginia, Arkansas, and in Ohio. Millions of Americans would lose their consumer protections under his views, and the next day the White House decided to reward him with a judgeship.

As I said, three career attorneys withdrew from the case. One resigned altogether in objection to doing this. Senator ALEXANDER, our friend from Tennessee, who sits near where Senator KAINES is sitting, said this was just amazingly awful language that Chad Readler had suggested.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator’s time has expired.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to speak for an additional 2 minutes.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. President, judges are deciding the future of America’s healthcare right now, the right to vote right now, civil rights right now, LGBTQ rights right now, women’s rights right now. Judges around the country are deciding that. We can’t afford to put another out-of-the-mainstream judge on the court—and he is clearly out of the mainstream among Ohio lawyers, among Ohio judges, among Ohio citizens—who will not defend America’s right to healthcare.

I ask my colleagues to think about the families you promised to vote for. If any of you in your campaigns, if any of you in discussions you have had with your constituents if any of you in your public statements, and if any of you running for office committed that you would support consumer protections for preexisting conditions, the only way you can prove you actually believe that is by voting no on Chad Readler in about 1 minute from now. If you really believe in preserving preexisting condition consumer protections so you don’t see in your State—in Tennessee, in Virginia, in Arkansas, and in Ohio—millions of Americans lose their insurance, then you only way you can support what you promise is to vote no on Chad Readler.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mrs. BLACKBURN). Under the previous order, all post cloture time is expired.

The question is, Will the Senate advise and consent to the nominee?

Mr. KAINES. Madam President, I ask for the yeas and nays.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there a sufficient second?

There appears to be a sufficient second.

The clerk will call the roll.

The bill clerk called the roll.

Mr. DURBIN. I announce that the Senator from West Virginia (Mr. MANCHIN) is necessarily absent.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Are there any other Senators in the Chamber desiring to vote?

TRIBUTE TO DON YOUNG

Mr. SULLIVAN. Mr. President, it is Alaskan of the Week time on the Senate floor, my favorite time of the week to talk about someone who has made a difference in my State. As you know, and as all the pages know, I try to come down to the floor every week to talk about someone who is in Alaska doing a great job for America, for their community, for the State, and what I believe is the best State in the country. I know we can all debate that.

Some of you might take issue a little bit with the characterization of the best State, but we certainly have some bragging rights on some elements that make us the best State in America. For example, right now, the Iditarod, the Last Great Race, is underway, with 52 mushers and their dog teams—up to 14 dogs—barreling for well over 900 miles across the State of Alaska toward Nome in some of the most harsh, difficult, and rugged terrain in the world. That is just one of the many things that makes us unique.

We have the Iditarod, the Northern Lights that dance in the sky, communities that still hunt whales to feed their villages, which they have been doing for centuries. We have the most fish and the longest coastline. As a matter of fact, our coastline is longer than the rest of the lower 48’s coastline combined. We have the tallest mountain in the world, and we have a mountain of a Congressman named DON YOUNG.

Usually, Alaskans of the Week are reserved for people who aren’t so visible, who aren’t legends, who maybe are serving for people who aren’t so visible, who aren’t legends.

We have the tallest mountain in the world, and we have a mountain of a Congressman named DON YOUNG.

Usually, Alaskans of the Week are reserved for people who aren’t so visible, who aren’t legends, who maybe are doing something in their community that not a lot of people are noticing. Today, March 6, 2019, I couldn’t resist because DON YOUNG, the Dean of the House, has officially become the longest continuously serving Republican in the Congress in U.S. history. Let me repeat that. Today, DON YOUNG has become the longest, continuously serving Republican in the Congress—Senate or House—in the history of the United States of America. He was already here when every single member of Congress was sworn in. Think about that. For every Member who has been sworn in, in the Senate or in the House, DON YOUNG was here. In fact, according to Roll Call, there are at least 75 Members of Congress who were not even born when DON YOUNG came to Washington. That is an amazing achievement.

He has served Alaska and our country so well for 46 years that it was only right to feature him as the Alaskan of the Week and to make a special Alaskan of the Week poster with the young DON YOUNG and President Ford and many others and Don in uniform. We just love DON YOUNG in Alaska. Congrats to Don.

Where do we begin to talk about Congressman YOUNG and the enormous impact he has had on Alaska and America? Let me start in Central California, where he was raised on a small ranch.

He began the hard work of ranching. "My dad was a good man," Don said, "but he believed that when you turned 7, you became a hired man." So he worked sunup to sundown. It was hot, riddled with snakes, and poison ivy. When he was still young, his dad read him the book "The Call of the Wild" by Jack London. Alaska sounded really good to DON YOUNG. It was cold, not hot, and there were lots of dogs. He loved dogs. There were no snakes and no poison ivy.

After he got out of the Army in 1959, the year Alaska became a State, he headed the call of the wild and headed up the Alcan—much of it was still unpaved—in a brandnew Plymouth Fury. Alaska would never be the same.

He fought forest fires. He owned a skating rink for a short time, but the BIA school needed a teacher in Fort Yukon, way up in the Interior on the Yukon River—a place he still, to this day, calls home and has a home there. In fact, he jokes that he is the only Congressman who uses an outhouse when he goes home. Anyway, he went to coach and teach fifth grade. He became a trapper, a gold miner, and a tugboat captain. Eventually, he met Lou, his wife, who stayed by his side for 46 years until he died in 2009.

Now he has found another partner in Ann. Thank you, Ann, for continuing to share him with all of us.

DON, with Lou’s prompting, caught the political bug. He served in the State House in Alaska. He served in the State Senate in Alaska. He learned some good lessons there; namely, that his time in the State Senate taught him that he was more of a House guy, where bills move fast, where elections are right around the corner. He was more of a House guy, where bills move fast, where elections are right around the corner. He was more of a House guy, where bills move fast, where elections are right around the corner. He was more of a House guy, where bills move fast, where elections are right around the corner. He was more of a House guy, where bills move fast, where elections are right around the corner.
the most important things in his life. Then Lou talked him into running for Congress, and with the help of people like myself and his grandmother who was an avid Don Young supporter, he began to introduce himself to a wider audience. During this period, he served on the House Committee that took the life of then-Congressman Nick Begich. Don Young was appointed to his seat in 1973. He won the next special election, and because he has been so effective for our State—he passed more legislation than most people know about. He was just recently ranked the most effective legislators in Congress since 1973, he has been reelected every year since then. He never lost a race, he has never lost his fundamental goodness, sense of fair play, honor, and his willingness to reach across the aisle to help another Member.

He has never forgotten who he works for. He works for the people of Alaska, and has been the voice of the people since he was elected. He has never, not for a second, lost his love for our great State. He could have done anything, and he chose to stay, year after year, decade after decade, to serve the people of our State and the people of America. He will tell you:

Every day I try to do something for somebody in some group. And every day I try to learn something new. We all go into the ground the same way. The only thing we can leave behind [here on this Earth] are our accomplishments.

Well, he has notched numerous accomplishments, and he is far from finished. If I had my guess, I would also say he is far from finished with some of his famous theatrics too: brandishing walrus parts and steel traps on the floor of the House, maybe an altercation or two with colleagues that may or may not involve a sharp weapon, and campaign commercials that border on the humorous. Don Young is notfinished speaking his mind and giving us Alaskans his heart.

It has been an honor to serve our great State next to this historic figure. So Congressman Young, for your service, for your mentorship, and friendship with me, thank you for all you have done for all of us in Alaska and in America.

Congratulations on being the longest serving Republican in the Congress in U.S. history today, and even more importantly, thank you and congratulations on being our Alaskan of the Week.

Yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Delaware.

Mr. CARPER. Mr. President, before I was elected Governor of Delaware in 1992, I served in the House of Representatives for five terms. We have one congressional seat. Alaska is one of those States, as the Senator from Alaska knows that also has one congressional seat.

I got to the House on January 3, 1983, and one of the first people I met there was Don Young. We ended up on the same committee together, not the Environment and Public Works we serve on today but the Merchant Marine and Fisheries, which has a lot of the same jurisdiction as the Environment and Public Works Committee.

So I remember going to Alaska with him and a bunch of our colleagues and just going through Prudhoe and just seeing all kinds of places around the Senator’s beautiful State and going back with my family years later. I clearly recall one of the members in the Senate, I call him “colonel.” He knows that John Barrasso and I like music and that every now and then, we will find some way to work some music lyrics into what we have to say. In listening to the Senator talk about Don Young, it reminds me of a great song by Bob Dylan, called “Forever Young,” which is a classic song. You can find anything on the internet these days, and someone was nice enough to pull the first verse of the lyrics of “Forever Young” by Bob Dylan.

It goes something like this:

May God bless and keep you always
May your wishes all come true
May you always do for others
And let others do for you
May you build a ladder to the stars
And climb on every rung
May you stay forever young
Forever young, forever young
May you stay forever young

Don Young, congratulations from your Delaware buddy and former colleague, Thank you.

What I really think we need to do is to join hands here in the Senate and sing “Kumbaya” and get our act together now that things have calmed down a little bit from earlier today.

CLIMATE CHANGE

Mr. President, I rise to speak this afternoon on the need for Congress to take some bold action in addressing climate change.

Earlier today, a number of our Republican friends were here on the Senate floor to chastise the Green New Deal, which is a resolution that was introduced by my good friend, the junior Senator from Massachusetts. I came down and listened for a bit. For a moment there, the conversation got a little bit heated, as our Presiding Officer may recall and, I am certain, as our staff recalls. I listened as several of our Republican friends denounced the resolution and claimed it would bankrupt the country and, in almost the same breath, claimed that they supported climate action without having provided a whole lot of tangible details about what actions they do support.

On several occasions, I have heard our friends on the other side of the aisle suggest that the Green New Deal is somehow preventing the Senate from doing work to produce results on climate action. If you had watched my Democratic colleagues during that debate, you would have noticed a little bit of frustration because we have long been eager to work with Republican colleagues on climate solutions, and we would gladly welcome the reality of how we could work in a bipartisan way on meaningful climate actions.

As the adage goes, actions speak louder than words and for my part, over the past two decades, the Democrats have tried to put forth different climate solutions. Some of them have employed market forces, which is usually my favorite approach. Some have employed investing in technology. I like that on a lot too. Some have also set more strict standards, and sometimes that is part of the solution. Yet, when it comes to generating support for these policies, we don’t seem to get much support from our friends on the other side of the aisle. At least we didn’t today. I know this because I have sponsored quite a bit of legislation. I have sponsored pieces of legislation that have enacted many of these policies that I am talking about.

Despite these setbacks, I remain ready; I remain willing; and I remain eager to work with our Republican colleagues to find approaches that work for them and that work for our planet. I am going to keep trying. I am going to find people who don’t give up, and I am not going to give up in this instance either.

To say that a nonbinding resolution of bold ideas and ambitious goals is somehow keeping Congress from taking real action on climate change, with all due respect, is just not true. What is true is that my Democratic colleagues and I and, quite frankly, I think, the American people just don’t see the urgency and the passion from our Republican friends to act on climate change. What is also true is that our country can no longer afford political leaders to give lip service to the growing climate crisis. We need real action, and we need it now.

I have a poster here that talks about extreme weather. I live in a little State, and we have seen wildfires not in my State but on the other side of our country, where one of our sons lives. We have seen wildfires in California, Oregon, Washington, and Montana that have been as big as Delaware—maybe that have been bigger than Delaware—just in the last year. We have had a GDP loss. This is the loss in the GDP from the great recession of about a decade ago, and this is the forecast for the GDP loss by 2100 if we stay on the course that we are on. Basically, it will be twice as big a hit to the GDP because of climate change than what we suffered in the great recession.

Earlier today, there was a common news release that we put out, and I am going to share it with you: "Neither global efforts to mitigate the causes of climate change nor regional efforts to adapt to the impacts currently approach the scales needed to avoid substantial damages to the U.S. economy, environment, and human health and well-being over the coming decades."

Think about that. I am going to read that again: “Neither global efforts to mitigate the causes of climate change nor regional efforts to adapt to the impacts currently approach the scales needed to avoid substantial damages to the U.S. economy, environment, and human health and well-being over the coming decades.”

There are millions of jobs that are provided in that sector—millions of good-paying jobs. As folks are displaced, whether they happen to be coal miners or other folks who are displaced because of a loss of employment opportunities in that industry, we have a moral obligation to make sure that those men and women are retrained and retooled so they can do some of these jobs in which there happen to be millions of people who work in the solar panel industry—or in offshore wind or in energy conservation buildings. There is a

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD — SENATE

I have a piece of paper that reads for me to end with this, but I am not going to end with this. I am going to say this now and lead into something else. Calls to take climate action should not divide us. This is an issue that should unite us. Senator John McCain, Senator John Kerry, Senator John Warner, not just the Congress, not just the Federal Government, but our country and our world.

In Isaiah, in the Old Testament, it says: “Come now and let us reason together.”

We have a robust and an innovative economy. That is a blessing. We should row, about climate change, Mike E. We should work together to make sure that policies we put in place harness the talents of the American people, provide good jobs and wages, and create economic opportunities, especially in communities that have been affected by this. It is not a time for political theater. Let’s come together and debate solutions. Our children and their children are depending on us to chart a responsible path.

I want to say something to our Presiding Officer. When I was new here, I remember sitting up there and watching a couple of guys who had been here for a while: a guy named Ted Kennedy—my chair and his desk were right back there—a very liberal Democrat, maybe the most liberal Democrat we had in the Senate at the time—and a fellow on the Republican side in like the second tier, Mike Enzi. They would come to the floor sometimes when I was presiding as a new Senator, and I couldn’t believe that day after day, week after week, month after month, they would come to the floor and get stuff done.

You had Ted Kennedy, who was maybe the most liberal Democrat, and you had Mike Enzi, who was arguably one of the most conservative Republicans we had and that, together with the Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions Committee, they got a ton of stuff done.

I once asked Mike Enzi—one day, I was presiding while he was speaking, and we talked about the 80/20 rule. When he talked about the 80/20 rule, I didn’t know what he was talking about. After he finished talking, I asked him to come up to where you are sitting, Mr. President.

I was presiding, and I said: Mike Enzi, what is the 80/20 rule?

He said: That is the secret. That is why Ted Kennedy and I get so much done.

I said: What is it?

He said: Ted and I agree on 80 percent of this stuff, and we disagree on 20 percent of this stuff. We focus on the 80 percent where we agree and set aside the other 20 percent to come back to at a later date.

I said: Ah, the 80/20 rule. I will close with this. I remember that when I was new here, like the Presiding Officer, some of the people in the Senate were people whom I had served with in the House. I knew them. I had served with some of the people when I was Governor, and I knew them. But there were a bunch of people here I didn’t know. So I got here, and I would just ask the people I didn’t know if I could come to their office and have a cup of coffee with them and just talk for a while. People were very nice to do that.

He said: Fine. We will do better than that. Come to my hideaway. We will have lunch together.

I was blown away. Here is this guy who is a legend, and he is willing to invite me to his hideaway to have lunch. I went, and I will never forget it. His hideaway was about three times the size of mine, and it was like a Kennedy museum. It was just incredible.

I said: Why is it that many Republicans want you, Ted Kennedy, a very liberal Democrat, to be their cosponsor and to be their dance partner on legislation that needs a Democrat? Why do so many people want to work with you?

He said: I think this is the reason, Tom. I am always willing to compromise on policy; never willing to compromise on principle.

That is what he said.

I would say the lesson for us today is this: We have a problem on this planet. I think most of us realize this is a real problem. Our planet is getting hotter, warmer. We are seeing vestiges of that every day with this crazy weather we live with.

DAN SULLIVAN was just on the floor talking about the Iditarod. It was only about 2 years ago that they had to truck snow in to be able to actually have the Iditarod dog race in Alaska.

There is crazy stuff going on with our weather. I think some of the policy and the principle here is that—our planet is getting warmer, we have something to do with that as human beings, and I think we have an obligation here in the Senate to do something positive about it. The great news is that we could actually create a lot of jobs by doing that, by responding to this challenge.

My hope is that here in the tumult of today’s debate and maybe the debate going forward, that we will all keep in mind Mike Enzi’s words on the 80/20 rule and that we will keep in mind the words of Ted Kennedy: always willing to compromise on policy; never willing to compromise on principle. Maybe, given their way of working, find a middle ground and do something good for not just this body, not just the Congress, not just our country, but good for our planet and our kids.

I yield the floor.

I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.
The legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.
Mr. MERKLEY. I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The majority leader.
Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that all postcloture time on the Murphy nomination expire at 12:30 p.m., Thursday, March 7; further, that if confirmed, the motion to reconsider be considered made and laid upon the table and the President be immediately notified of the Senate's action; further, that following disposition of the Murphy nomination, the Senate resume consideration of the Fleming nomination, the cloture motion on the nomination be withdrawn, the time until 1:45 be equally divided in the usual form, and the Senate vote on the nomination at 1:45, finally, that if confirmed, the motion to reconsider be considered made and laid upon the table and the President be immediately notified of the Senate's action.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?
Without objection, it is so ordered.

LEGISLATIVE SESSION

MORNING BUSINESS
Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate proceed to legislative session for a period of morning business, with Senators permitted to speak therein for up to 10 minutes.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

VOTE EXPLANATION
Mr. HEINRICH. Mr. President, on March 4 and 5, 2019, I was unavoidably absent due to illness during rollcall votes Nos. 34 and 35. Had I been present, I would have voted nay.

ADDITIONAL STATEMENTS

TRIBUTE TO SAM MAMET
Mr. BENNET. Mr. President, I rise to honor the career of Sam Mamet, who recently announced his retirement as the executive director of the Colorado Municipal League. Sam spent the better half of his adult life working to empower communities and local governments across Colorado. It is an understatement to say that every corner of the State is incredibly grateful for his work.
Sam joined the Colorado Municipal League in 1979, when he spearheaded the organization’s advocacy in the State capitol. After 26 years in that position, Sam would go on to spend the rest of his time in the organization as its executive director. There, he worked tirelessly to foster partnerships across the State and the country that have benefited Colorado’s 270 towns and cities. He also spent time as an adjunct professor of political science at CU Denver.
Throughout my time in public service, I have always appreciated Sam’s thoughtful approach to policymaking, his collaborative spirit, and his unwavering advocacy for our local communities. When I worked in local government, I always knew I could count on Sam to ensure that our perspective would be heard at the State and Federal level. After joining the Senate, I have had the benefit of his advice across issues, ranging from infrastructure to tax policy.
Going forward, I will miss Sam’s wit, humility, and sense of humor—attributes in short supply in our politics today.
Although Sam is retiring from the Municipal League, I suspect he will continue to serve the State of Colorado with the same passion that has characterized his career. We wish Sam well in retirement and extend our deepest thanks for his lifetime of public service.

200TH ANNIVERSARY OF WASHINGTON PARISH
Mr. CASSIDY. Mr. President, today I wish to acknowledge the 200th anniversary of the founding of Washington Parish in my home State of Louisiana. It is a parish filled with determined and patriotic citizens who work day in and day out to better our State and our Nation.
Washington Parish, named in honor of our first President, is located in the section of Louisiana known as the Florida Parishes. The parish government was founded on March 6, 1819, and a few years later, the town of Franklinton would become the permanent parish seat. The parish covers 676 square miles with the Mississippi State line serving as the eastern and northern borders.
The area is rich with American history. In 1814, Andrew Jackson marched with his soldiers across the Pearl River and recruited many of the local citizens to join them in the Battle of New Orleans. The “Military Road” constructed by Andrew Jackson crossed the Pearl River into present-day Bogalusa. Records from the War Department show the future President and his troops made camp in the area on November 28, 1814.
As one of the most rural parts of the State, the parish is known for its pine forests, rolling hills, and many farms. The people who call Washington Parish home are incredibly proud of their local heritage, good food, and for hosting the Washington Parish Free Fair, the Nation’s largest free fair.
I would like to wish the citizens of Washington Parish a very happy bicentennial and thank them for their many contributions over the last 200 years to our beautiful State and to our Nation.

TRIBUTE TO BRIGADIER GENERAL COLLEEN MCGUIRE
Mr. DAINES. Mr. President, I have the honor of recognizing BG Colleen McGuire, Retired, of Missoula, MT, for being inducted into the U.S. Army Women’s Foundation Hall of Fame on March 7, 2019.
Colleen has stayed true to her Montana roots, spending her childhood and collegiate years in Missoula. As a student at the University of Montana, she excelled in the Reserve Officer Training Corps, ROTC and began her distinguished career with the 279th Engineer Company at Fort Missoula. Upon graduation, she continued to serve her great country as she earned a commission as a second lieutenant with the Military Police Corps. Her academic achievements continued as she earned a master’s of arts and science from the Command and Staff College and a master’s of strategic studies from the Army War College.
Colleen’s highly accomplished journey through the U.S. Army consists of a multitude of leadership roles as exemplified by her command of troops. Early in her career, her inspirational leadership skills were evident as she led a platoon in Germany and later taking command of the Bravo Company within the Law Enforcement Command of Fort Lewis, WA. Success continued as she was hand-selected to command the 705th Military Police Battalion, Fort Leavenworth, KS.
One notable chapter in Colleen’s career came in the fall of 1993, when she was selected as the first female Army Black Hawk helicopter pilot. In early October, two U.S. Army Black Hawk helicopters were shot down during a covert operation, which launched a 2-day battle that later became known as the Battle of Mogadishu. In the months that followed, Colleen played a pivotal role in telling the United States’ story that would later inspire several books and the movie “Black Hawk Down.”
Perhaps Colleen’s most notable achievements came as she shattered glass ceilings along the Army. Epitomizing the Montana pioneer spirit, she was the first female to assume command of the U.S. Army Criminal Investigation Command, CID, serve as the provost marshal General of the Army, and take command of the U.S. Disciplinary Barracks in Fort Leavenworth KS. Not only did she command but she opened the door for aspiring women to follow in her footsteps. It is fitting that Colleen should be inducted into the U.S. Army Women’s Foundation Hall of Fame, and I am pleased that her accomplishments will be memorialized as an example for generations to come.
During her military service, she earned numerous awards. Colleen’s awards include the following: Legion of Merit with two oak-leaf clusters, the Bronze Star Medal, the Defense Meritorious Service Medal, the Meritorious Service Medal with four oak-leaf clusters, the Joint Service Commendation Medal, the Army Commendation Medal with two oak-leaf clusters, the Army Achievement Medal with three oak-leaf clusters, the Iraqi Campaign Medal, the Senior Parachutist’s Badge, and the Senior Staff Identification Badge.

After 32 years of dedicated service, Col. Richard Banks retired in Kalsipell, MT. She continues to serve as an inspirational leader in the community. On behalf of our grateful Nation, I thank her for her courage and selfless dedication to others as a hallmark for generation to come.

RECOGNIZING JOPLIN HIGH SCHOOL ROTC

Mr. HAWLEY. Mr. President, today I wish to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the Joplin High School Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps, one of the oldest such programs in the United States.

At a time when our Nation faces extraordinary challenges at home and abroad, preparing the next generation is paramount. The future lays in the hands of our youth. Since 1919, Joplin High School JROTC has been developing outstanding citizens for Missouri through leadership development, discipline, and service.

Today, less than 1 percent of Americans serve in the military; yet, Joplin High School JROTC has 120 cadets who are part of the program’s historic legacy under the leadership of Lt. Col. (Ret.) Joshua Reitz and 1SG (Ret.) Richard Banks. Some of these cadets will go on to put the lessons and leadership training they received into practice through service in the U.S. Armed Forces. Military service is not only a career, but a lifestyle full of continuous reward and knowledge. For those that choose the path of Military Service, we should thankful.

To the members of Eagle Battalion, I urge you to uphold your school’s core values of truth, honor, and loyalty. These values may be no guarantee of popularity, comfort, or success, at least not as the world defines success; yet, a life of integrity characterized by these values is a life of which you can be proud.

The path of leadership is a difficult one and often lonely. America needs strong servant-leaders in the next generation willing to confront the challenges we face with courage, rooted in the principles that make our Nation great.

As your Senator, I have been given the solemn responsibility to nominate young women and men for placements at our military academies, the Army is a duty I do not take lightly, knowing that these future leaders will be on the frontlines of securing American freedom. I encourage those of you who have been a part of Joplin High School JROTC to seriously consider applying for one of these highly selective spots. The program’s legacy of excellence demands that I give your candidacy the consideration it deserves.

I want to thank Joplin High School JROTC with the dedication to their school, to Joplin, to Missouri, and to our country. Congratulations on the first 100 years of service, and here is to the next century of service.

REMEMBERING KATHLEEN “MIKE” DALTON

Ms. MURKOWSKI. Mr. President, she was a mentor, communicator, historian, volunteer, role model, and a friend with an incredible memory of Alaska history, a journalist, public servant, a Republican, a woman who had strong opinions and was not afraid to express them, a pillar of the community, a legend.

This weekend, the Pioneers of Alaska Fairbanks Igloo will remember Kathleen “Mike” Dalton who passed in January at the age of 93. I rise today to speak in memory of my friend, this woman named Mike, an oracle of Alaska history, the first female member of the H. H. Bennett family, the first of the children named Patricia. The second, who turned out to be a girl as well, was named Kathleen, but that stubborn Irish father would have nothing of it. Kathleen was “Mike” from the very beginning.

Mike grew up in Arizona. Her father worked on the Navajo Reservation as a carpenter and construction worker. She moved to Tucson to attend Catholic school at age 10 and graduated with a degree in English from Northern Arizona University in Flagstaff. She followed a friend and schoolmate to Alaska, and as they say, the rest is history.

Mike acclimated well to the north and was quickly introduced to the sport of dog mushing. She met Jim Dalton, the son of a pioneer and Klondike gold rush legend and married him in 1950. Jim was an engineer who played a major role in development of the naval petroleum reserve on Alaska’s North Slope. Jim and Mike lived in Barrow, now the community known as Utqiagvik, and had two children. They bought 30 acres in Fairbanks and built a loghouse. Jim continued to work on the North Slope. Mike stayed in Fairbanks to raise the children, but very ingenious, she found ways to hitch a ride to see Jim. She made 12 trips above the Arctic Circle during the winter of 1968.

Mike chose to live a full life in Fairbanks. She was a reporter for the Fairbanks Daily News-Miner, writing the first draft of Alaska’s post-Statehood history. She covered all of the big events: the 1964 earthquake, the 1967 Fairbanks flood, the discovery of oil at Prudhoe Bay, and the construction of a 500-mile haul road that made oil production possible. That road is today known as the Dalton Highway, in acknowledgment of Jim Dalton’s pioneering work on the North Slope. Jim died in 1977.

While Mike’s writing endeared her to Alaskans, her greater contribution may be her decision to rescue all of the News-Miner’s World War II era photo archives from a dumpster, an editor new to Alaska determined that they lacked historic value. Waiting until dark, she dove in, dusted the photos off, and preserved them.

She was recruited to stuff envelopes and lick stamps for Republican candidates, the stepping stone to a half century of leadership the Fairbanks Republican Women’s Club. Her email list was envied by all.

In 1964, the Fairbanks North Star Borough, a regional government for interior Alaska, was formed. Mike ran for a seat on the borough assembly, which is the borough’s legislative body. She was the top vote getter. Turning to a career in government, Mike managed Senator Ted Stevens’ interior Alaska field office from 1971–1978. She worked for another legend, who recently passed. Alaska State Senator Jack Coghill, and during the administration of Governor Jay Hammond, she relocated to Washington, DC, to manage Alaska’s Washington office.

Returning to Alaska, she devoted her life to community service. In 1991, she worked for the city of Unalaska and helped organize the 50th commemoration of the Japanese occupation of the Aleutians. She helped organize the first American delegation visit to the Russian Far East and the Kamchatka Peninsula, hoping to improve ties between Russia and Alaska as the USSR collapsed. Activists of Alaska, Mike recorded oral histories of Alaska’s pioneers for the University of Alaska archives. She repatriated 24 paintings by Alaska’s most famous artist, Sydney Laurence, back to Alaska. She was active in the campaign to settle Alaska Native land claims and was one of the first non-Natives to be honored by the Fairbanks Native Association.

Mike was about service to others, not glory to herself. She would drive 50 miles out of town to give a ride to a sourdough who needed it, deliver her prized oatmeal cookies to the seniors, chase after a dog gone astray. She went out to fix the culverts that collapsed under the weight of Alaska winter to prevent spring floods, and she raised money for the hospital. She was generous to newcomers who experienced difficulties in acclimating and a mentor to young women.

Upon Mike’s induction to the Alaska Women’s Hall of Fame in 2016, it was... remembered that Mike refused to attend an event honoring her 90th birthday because she was so adamantly opposed to self-aggrandizement.

The Alaska Women’s Hall of Fame recognized Mike as a “seemingly tireless activist whose efforts have made waves since her arrival in Alaska from Arizona in 1949 . . . As for Fairbanks, her home base for more than half a century Mike played a major part in shaping its social, political and economic future, as well as the state, while preserving a valuable part of our history.”

I thank my colleagues for the opportunity to share a brief glimpse into the extraordinary life of Mike Dalton in the U.S. Senate today.

STATEMENTS ON INTRODUCED BILLS AND JOINT RESOLUTIONS

By Mr. CARPER:

S. 674. A bill to amend title 23, United States Code, to establish a grant program for the installation of electric vehicle charging infrastructure and hydrogen fueling infrastructure along the National Highway System, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Environment and Public Works.

Mr. CARPER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the text of the bill be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the text of the bill was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

Mr. CARPER. Mr. President, Today I am introducing the "Clean Corridors Act of 2019." This legislation authorizes $3 billion in grant funding to public entities for installing electric vehicle charging infrastructure and hydrogen fueling infrastructure along designated corridors.

Earlier this week, Chairman Barrasso and I sent a letter to the full Senate requesting Senators’ priorities for a surface transportation reauthorization this Congress. The surface transportation bill is the primary authorizing legislation for the programs of the Federal Highway Administration at the U.S. Department of Transportation, among other programs related to surface transportation.

As the Ranking Member on the U.S. Senate Committee on Environment and Public Works, this legislation is a reauthorization priority of my own.

Nearly two years ago, the Rocky Mountain Institute published a report that said re-installing electric vehicle charging infrastructure should be, quote, an “urgent priority in all states and major municipalities. Getting it right will require unprecedented cooperation by many stakeholder groups. The time to act is now.”

I agree. This legislation would provide grants for the installation of electric vehicle charging infrastructure and hydrogen fueling infrastructure along the National Highway System. This bill is the product of remarkable collaboration between stakeholders, and it will take us one step forward in reducing emissions, improving air quality, and enhancing energy security and fuel choice. This legislation is endorsed by stakeholders from across the electric vehicle supply chain, including the National Electrical Manufacturers Association, Electric Drive Transportation Association, Edison Electric Institute, Auto Alliance, the American Association of State Highway and Transportation Officials, and the American Highway Users Alliance.

As I have stated before, the threat of climate change is greater than any one state, or region or country—we all have to do our part, and the federal government has a role to play. By deploying necessary electric and fuel cell vehicle charging infrastructure, and supporting growth of these needed technologies, doing so will help us lower the rate of emissions of carbon into our atmosphere.

Even better yet, this legislation will help us in our efforts to put the United States back in the driver’s seat of the world’s clean energy economy, while also ensuring manufacturing jobs here at home. This legislation is a true win-win for our environment and our economy, and it is my hope that the Senate will support this legislation and that it will be enacted this Congress.

S. 674

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the “Clean Corridors Act of 2019”.

SEC. 2. GRANTS FOR CHARGING AND FUELING INFRASTRUCTURE TO MODERNIZE AND RECONNECT AMERICA FOR THE 21ST CENTURY.

(a) PURPOSE: PROVISION.—

(1) PURPOSE.—The purpose of this section is to establish a grant program to strategically deploy electric vehicle charging infrastructure and hydrogen fueling infrastructure along designated alternative fuel corridors that will be accessible to all drivers of zero emission vehicles.

(2) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

(A) greater adoption of zero emission vehicles will help—

(i) reduce emissions and improve air quality;

(ii) enhance the energy security of the United States by expanding the use of zero emission fuels;

(iii) enhance fuel choice and utilization of electric vehicle charging infrastructure and hydrogen fueling infrastructure in order to benefit consumers;

(iv) ensure that the transportation infrastructure of the United States is equipped to manage the demands and anticipated future needs of the economy; and

(v) develop a new economic sector in the United States that will create middle class jobs;
CONGRESSIONAL RECORD — SENATE
March 6, 2019

(B) consumer and business adoption of zero emission vehicles depends in part on the availability of reliable and convenient fueling and charging infrastructure;

(C) electric vehicle charging infrastructure and hydrogen fueling infrastructure must be strategically deployed to ensure the deployment and adoption of zero emission fuels;

(D) infrastructure owners and operators should prepare to meet the charging and fueling needs of electric vehicles and hydrogen fueling infrastructure proposed to be funded with a grant under this subsection, including—

(f) GRANT PROGRAM.—Section 151 of title 23, United States Code, is amended—

(1) ESTABLISHMENT.—Not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of the Clean Corridors Act of 2019; and

(2) ELIGIBLE ENTITIES.—An entity eligible to receive a grant under this subsection is—

(A) a State or political subdivision of a State;

(B) a metropolitan planning organization;

(C) a unit of local government;

(D) a special purpose district or public authority with a transportation function, including a port authority;

(E) an Indian tribe (as defined in section 4 of the Tribesini Title II of the Native American Rights and Education Assistance Act (25 U.S.C. 5304));

(F) an agency, or instrumentality of, or an entity owned by, 1 or more entities described in subparagraphs (A) through (E); or

(G) a group of entities described in subparagraphs (A) through (F).

(B) consumer accessibility of charging or fueling infrastructure proposed to be funded with a grant under this subsection, including—

(i) charging or fueling connector types and publicly available information on real-time availability; and

(ii) payment methods to ensure secure, convenient, and predictable charging and fueling;

(B) collaborative engagement with stakeholders (including automobile manufacturers, utilities, infrastructure providers, technology providers, metropolitan planning organizations, States, Indian tribes, and units of local government, fleet owners, fleet managers, fuel station operators, fueling infrastructure providers, component parts suppliers, and multi-State and regional partnerships); and

(C) location of the location or station, such as consideration of—

(I) access in compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (42 U.S.C. 12101 et seq.); and

(II) on-premises signs to provide information about electric vehicle charging infrastructure and hydrogen fueling infrastructure and hydrogen fueling infrastructure acquired, installed, or operated with the grant; and

(II) in general.—Subject to this paragraph and paragraph (6)(B), an eligible entity that receives a grant under this subsection may use a portion of the funds to acquire and install—

(I) traffic control devices located in the right-of-way to provide directional information to electric vehicle charging infrastructure and hydrogen fueling infrastructure acquired, installed, or operated with the grant; and

(III) INCLUSIONS.—Operating assistance under this subparagraph shall be limited to costs associated with operating and maintaining the electric vehicle charging infrastructure and hydrogen fueling infrastructure and service, including costs associated with labor, marketing, and administrative costs.

(III) LIMITATION.—Operating assistance under this subparagraph may not exceed the amount of a contract under subparagraph (A) to acquire and install publicly accessible electric vehicle charging infrastructure and hydrogen fueling infrastructure.

(IV) USE OF FUNDS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—An eligible entity receiving a grant under this subsection shall only use the funds to contract with a private entity for acquisition and installation of publicly accessible electric vehicle charging infrastructure and hydrogen fueling infrastructure that is directly related to the charging or fueling of a vehicle in accordance with this paragraph.

(B) LOCATION OF INFRASTRUCTURE.—Any electric vehicle charging infrastructure or hydrogen fueling infrastructure acquired and installed with a grant under this subsection shall be located along an alternative fuel corridor designated—

(1) in the Manual on Uniform Traffic Control Devices, if located in the right-of-way; and
(7) FEDERAL SHARE.—The Federal share of the cost of a project carried out with a grant under this subsection shall not exceed 80 percent of the total project cost.

(8) FUNDING.—There is authorized to be appropriated to carry out this subsection $300,000,000 for each of fiscal years 2019 through 2028.

By Mr. CARDIN:
S. 696. A bill to amend the Higher Education Act of 1965 to provide greater access to higher education for America's students, to eliminate educational barriers for participation in a public service career, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions.

Mr. CARDIN. Mr. President, today, I am introducing the Strengthening American Communities (SAC) Act of 2019. My bill seeks to expand access to debt-free public service career pathways for Americans who want to serve in their communities, States, or our Nation. No one should be denied the opportunity to serve their community as a law enforcement officer, public health practitioner, social worker, or educator based on their ability to afford the rising cost of an undergraduate education. As Congress moves towards reauthorizing the Higher Education Act this year, I intend for my bill to be a first step towards correcting public sector workforce disparities by enabling people to serve their communities without being hobbled by massive student loan debt, and by providing current public servants with the financial freedom to continue to heed their calling to serve.

Every city, town, and rural community in the United States relies on individuals who choose to utilize their talents for the betterment of others while accepting the lower pay of public service careers. The foundation of our civil society is based on these public servants making such sacrifices. Far too many individuals who feel drawn to public service do not pursue such careers—or they are forced to abandon such careers prematurely—due to the high cost of obtaining their college educations. When I had the opportunity to hear directly from a student at an Historically Black College and University (HBCU) in my home State of Maryland, I was saddened to hear from a successful sophomore who was planning to drop out of school because she feared further indebting herself and her family. She said that while she appreciated the financial assistance she did receive, it simply wasn't sufficient to cover her cost of attendance. While this student had aspirations to serve in her own community, she could not bear to burden her family with the cost of her education. As a result, my home City of Baltimore missed out on the talents of an emerging public servant.

Our current system of indebting individuals at the onset of their careers has led to minority underrepresentation in the public sector workforce. First generation college students and students from low-income families cannot afford to take on student loan debt and enter into lower-paying public service careers. As a result, our Nation is deprived of the talents and perspectives of individuals who want to serve their communities but simply cannot afford to do so. As a result, our workforce is less representative of the people it serves. We must find new ways for people to succeed they need to meet our community needs. I believe that students who make a commitment to public service should be afforded a debt-free pathway to the baccalaureate degree they need to start their public service career just as those individuals who have already made the decision to choose service over salary should not have to wait for ten years in a lower-paying public service career before seeing any reward in the form of federal student loan forgiveness.

The Strengthening American Communities Act I am introducing today offers a new path for future public servants to earn their baccalaureate degree. Through a new partnership between the Federal Government, States, and public and private, non-profit institutions of higher education, students will have the ability to receive the first two years of their education at a community college. Minority Servicing Historically Black College or University tuition and fee-free. Colleges would be required to commit to ensuring student success, and students would have to meet certain academic standards and complete their education within two years. Once students start their junior or senior years or transfer into a four-year institution, those who commit themselves to at least three years of public service and meet certain academic standards will receive a National Public Service Education Grant that covers a significant portion of their college’s tuition, fees, and room and board costs. Universities must provide students with opportunities to engage in public service commitments, academic counseling and student support services, and the opportunity to earn to finish their degree in fewer than two years. Depending on a student’s financial need, under the Strengthening American Communities Act, they may be able to graduate with a baccalaureate degree debt-free before embarking on their chosen path to become a public servant.

For those individuals who have already answered their calling to public service, my legislation would assist more public servants continue serving their communities by accelerating the existing Public Service Loan Forgiveness program. Under current law, these dedicated workers must work for 10 years in a public service career and make 120 monthly payments on their student loans before they may see a dime of federal student loan forgiveness. Economic, family, and other reasons can cause individuals to leave the public sector workforce and despite their years of service, the service these workers provided are not taken into consideration. I propose to accelerate the Public Service Loan Forgiveness program to provide more immediate student loan relief. For every two years an applicant has served and corresponding monthly Federal student loan payments, hard-working public sector employees will receive a percentage of their federal student loans forgiven, with 100 percent of the federal student loan balance being forgiven at the end of 10 years of service. With 99 percent of the initial round of PSLF applicants being rejected last year for loan forgiveness due to administrative barriers and misunderstanding of the rules of the program, Congress should work to accelerating Public Service Loan Forgiveness, therefore encouraging additional individuals to stay in the public sector workforce despite the lower-paying salaries, reduce their cost of borrowing for home and auto loans, and set aside additional money for their own retirement.

As Congress moves forward with an overdue reauthorization of the Higher Education Act, I urge my colleagues to join in this effort to help individuals who are wholly committed to public service. By supporting the Strengthening American Communities Act, no individual willing to serve his or her community in a public service career should be held back from that calling due to the high cost of obtaining a college education. No one should be forced to leave public service because of financial hardship.

By Mr. KAINE (for himself and Mr. YOUNG):
S.J. Res. 13. A joint resolution to repeal the authorizations for use of military force against Iraq, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

Mr. KAINE. Mr. President. I am pleased today to introduce in the Senate, with my colleague Senator YOUNG, a bipartisan resolution to repeal the 1991 and 2002 Authorizations for Use of Military Force (AUMF) against Iraq. This legislation will formally end the authorizations for the Gulf and Iraq wars—28 and 17 years, respectively, after these AUMFs were first passed, reasserting Congress’ vital role in not only declaring wars, but in ending them. The repeal of these authorizations also recognizes the strong partnership the United States now has with a sovereign, democratic Iraq.

The United States is no longer at war with Iraq and our legal frameworks should reflect this reality as much as our policy frameworks, to include the Strategic Framework Agreement that Iraq and the United States signed in November 2018 that sets the establishment of a long-term relationship of cooperation and friendship, based on the principle of equality in sovereignty and the rights and principles that are enshrined in the United Nations Charter.

Since 2014, U.S. troops have been in Iraq, alongside Iraqi forces, at the Government of Iraq’s request for assistance in combating the Islamic State of Iraq and Syria (ISIS), current Administration officials, including Secretary Pompeo, Acting Secretary Shanahan and Commander of the United States Central Command, General Votel, have routinely emphasized that United States military forces remain in Iraq at the invitation of the Government of Iraq and in respect to its sovereignty. Recent presidential administrations have maintained that the 2002 AUMF only serves to “reinforce” any legal authority to combat ISIS provided by the 2001 AUMF and is not independently required to authorize any such activities. As such, repealing the 1991 AUMF and the 2002 AUMF would not affect ongoing United States military operations. It would however, prevent the future misuse of Iraq War authorities and strengthen Congressional oversight over war powers.

It is past time to repeal both AUMFs and formally mark the end of the Iraq War that resulted in a devastating loss of life and wounded tens of thousands of our troops. It makes no sense that two AUMFs remain in place against a country that is now a close ally. They serve no operational purpose, run the risk of future abuse by the President, and help keep our nation at permanent risk of future abuse by the President, Congress, and the courts.

I am proud to join Senator Young in introducing a bill to repeal these outdated and unnecessary authorizations. I hope we can continue to find bipartisan compromise on these tough war power issues to include revising and replacing the 2001 AUMF.

SENATE RESOLUTION 96—COMMENDING THE GOVERNMENT OF CANADA FOR UPHOLDING THE RULE OF LAW AND EXPRESSING CONCERN OVER ACTIONS BY THE GOVERNMENT OF THE PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF CHINA IN RESPONSE TO A REQUEST FROM THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT FOR THE EXTRADITION OF A HUAWEI TECHNOLOGIES CO., LTD. EXECUTIVE

Mr. RISCH (for himself, Mr. MENENDEZ, Mr. GARDNER, Mr. COONS, Mr. ROMNEY, and Mr. CRUZ) submitted the following resolution; which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations:

Resolved, That the Senate—

(1) commends the Government of Canada for upholding the rule of law and complying with its international legal obligations, including those pursuant to the Extradition Treaty Between the United States of America and Canada, signed at Washington December 3, 1971;

(2) whereas, on January 24, 2019, the United States filed a superseding indictment in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of New York against Huawei Technologies Co., Ltd. ("Huawei"), Huawei Device USA Inc., Skycom Tech Co. Ltd. ("Skycom"), and Meng Wanzhou;

(3) whereas the January 24, 2019, indictment charges two counts of bank fraud; two counts of conspiracy to commit bank fraud; one count of conspiracy to commit wire fraud; two counts of bank fraud; one count of wire fraud; one count of conspiracy to defraud the United States; two counts of conspiracy to violate the International Economic Sanctions Act; two counts of violations of the International Emergency Economic Powers Act; one count of money laundering conspiracy; and one count of conspiracy to obstruct justice;

(4) whereas the January 24, 2019, indictment charges that "Huawei operated Skycom as an unofficial subsidiary to obtain otherwise prohibited U.S.-origin goods, technology, and services, including banking services, for Huawei’s Iran-based business while concealing the link to Huawei";

(5) whereas the United States Government is seeking the extradition of Meng Wanzhou;

(6) whereas Canadian authorities granted Meng Wanzhou consular officials, and she was able to engage a lawyer of her choice and was released on bail pending the outcome of the extradition hearing;

(7) whereas the Chinese Ministry of Foreign Affairs strongly urged Canada "to immediately release" Meng Wanzhou and threatened that otherwise "it will definitely have grave consequences, and [Canada] will have to bear the full responsibility for it";

(8) whereas the Government of the People’s Republic of China detained Canadian diplomat Michael Kovrig on December 10, 2018, in apparent retaliation for the arrest of Meng Wanzhou;

(9) whereas Michael Spavor and Michael Kovrig have faced harsh conditions while in detention that include limited consular access, no access to a lawyer, being unable to turn off the lights at night, and lengthy interrogations, including in the case of Mr. Kovrig, about his official activities during his previous tenure as an accredited Chinese diplomat in the People’s Republic of China, potentially in violation of the Vienna Convention on Diplomatic Relations, done at Vienna April 18, 1961;

(10) whereas, on January 14, 2019, a third Canadian, Robert Schellenberg, in Chinese custody for drug smuggling, had his case reviewed and his 15-year sentence changed to the death penalty; and

(11) whereas the Department of State’s Country Report on Human Rights Practices for 2017 stated that arbitrary arrest and detention remained serious problems in China and that Chinese judges “regularly received political guidance on pending cases, including instructions on how to rule, from both the government and the CCP [Chinese Communist Party], particularly in politically sensitive cases”; Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate—

(1) commends the Government of Canada for upholding the rule of law and complying with its international legal obligations, including those pursuant to the Extradition Treaty Between the United States of America and Canada, signed at Washington December 3, 1971;

(2) expresses concern over the Government of the People’s Republic of China’s apparent arbitrary detention and abusive treatment of Canadian nationals Michael Spavor and Michael Kovrig in apparent retaliation for the Government of Canada’s detention of Meng Wanzhou; and

(3) joins the Government of Canada in calling for the immediate release of Michael Spavor and Michael Kovrig and for due process for Canadian national Robert Schellenberg.

(2) SEPARATE REPORTS.—If the Select Committee is not able to agree to a report described in paragraph (1) by a majority vote, each Co-Chairperson may submit to the Senate and any relevant committee of the Senate a report of members of the Select Committee appointed by the Senate leader that appointed such Co-Chairperson regarding the results of the investigations and studies conducted by the Select Committee.

(3) PUBLICATION.—Not later than 30 days after the date on which a report under this subsection is submitted, the Select Committee shall make the report publicly available in widely accessible formats.

(g) TERMINATION.—The Select Committee shall terminate on October 1, 2020.

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. President, maybe Leader McConnell doesn’t realize this, but because of the political stunt vote he is planning on his version of the Green New Deal, for the first time in a long time, the Senate is finally debating the issue of climate change, and if you ask me, it is about time.

Climate change is an urgent crisis and an existential threat to our country and to our planet. The last 4 years have been 4 years on record, sea levels are rising, Marine life and fishing communities are being destroyed. Wildfires have roared against the West. More powerful hurricanes have murdered people. Over the next few decades, climate change will affect every part of American life—our health, our economy, our national security, and even our geography. So if there were ever an issue that demanded particular focus from this Chamber, it is climate change.

That is why today I am introducing a resolution to create a new committee demands progress. So I will introduce a resolution to create a new committee to carry out its duties.

Maybe a lot of Members think they can get away without having to answer the question. They will not. They will not.

Democrats believe this is an issue of surpassing importance. What do our Republican colleagues believe? We sincerely hope that our Republican friends will come around and view it the same way we are. We are still meeting. However, we must demand that they can’t even answer a simple question that is one of the leading questions of our time when two-thirds of all Americans believe that climate change is real and urgent.

We are not trying to lock our Republican friends into any one or two solutions. We are not saying: Let’s do it our way or the highway.

As a first step, we want Republicans, particularly their leader, to agree with us that climate change is a problem that must be addressed. And what do we get from our Republican friends? Either silence or a floor bill that a majority vote will pass without debate. That doesn’t say anything. That doesn’t address the problem. That is a stunt. That is all they can do. They can’t come forward with a single positive thing to say or do. So they vote against a floor bill they will not vote for—what a ruse. What a mocking of the way the Founding Fathers wanted democracy to work—it is a disgrace.

That is why we need a committee. At least let them go forward with a committee where Democrats and Republicans can discuss the issue, debate the issue, and perhaps come up with some bipartisan solutions. That is what we hope to achieve when we come to the floor and ask our friends, sincerely, if they agree with those three items, because climate change will not wait for the partisanship, which so often defines this Chamber, to ebb. It will not pause while one party is in power. Its impacts will not discriminate between red States and blue States.

It is time to ask our party affiliations aside and agree that we face a major crisis that is caused by humans and that we have an immediate and glaring need to address it.
The Committee on Finance is authorized to meet during the session of the Senate on Wednesday, March 6, 2019, at 10 a.m., to conduct a hearing entitled “The economic benefits of highway infrastructure investment and accelerate project delivery.”

COMMITTEE ON FOREIGN RELATIONS

The Committee on Foreign Relations is authorized to meet during the session of the Senate on Wednesday, March 6, 2019, at 10 a.m., to conduct a hearing on the following nominations: John P. Abizaid, of Nevada, to be Ambassador to the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, and Matthew H. Tueller, of Utah, to be Ambassador to the Republic of Iraq, both of the Department of State.

COMMITTEE ON HOMELAND SECURITY AND GOVERNMENTAL AFFAIRS

The Committee on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs is authorized to meet during the session of the Senate on Wednesday, March 6, 2019, at 9:30 a.m., to conduct a hearing entitled “Recommendation to reduce waste, fraud, and mismanagement in Federal programs.”

COMMITTEE ON THE JUDICIARY

The Committee on the Judiciary is authorized to meet during the session of the Senate on Wednesday, March 6, 2019, at 10 a.m., to conduct a hearing entitled “Oversight of customs and border protection’s response to the smuggling of persons at the Southern border.”

COMMITTEE ON RULES AND ADMINISTRATION

The Committee on Rules and Administration is authorized to meet during the session of the Senate on Wednesday, March 6, 2019, at 10:30 a.m., to conduct a hearing entitled “Oversight of the Library of Congress.”

COMMITTEE ON SMALL BUSINESS AND ENTREPRENEURSHIP

The Committee on Small Business and Entrepreneurship is authorized to meet during the session of the Senate on Wednesday, March 6, 2019, at 2:30 p.m., to conduct a hearing entitled “Small business and the American worker.”

COMMITTEE ON VETERANS’ AFFAIRS

The Committee on Veterans’ Affairs is authorized to meet during the session of the Senate on Wednesday, March 6, 2019, at 10 a.m., to conduct a joint hearing.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON AGING

The Special Committee on Aging is authorized to meet during the session of the Senate on Wednesday, March 6, 2019, at 9:30 a.m., to conduct a hearing.

SUBCOMMITTEE ON PERSONNEL

The Subcommittee on Personnel of the Committee on Armed Services is authorized to meet during the session of the Senate on Wednesday, March 6, 2019, at 2:30 p.m., to conduct a hearing. government reform issues, campaign finance reform, and rules reform—some very, very important issues that face the country.

Today, in this country, there is a deep disconnect between what the American people want and what the President and the Congress have been giving them. Poll after poll shows that the American people want affordable healthcare. Yet the Republican leadership has refused to take this seriously and to take up healthcare reform. The President has let it fall to the wealthiest individuals and the biggest corporations.

Poll after poll shows that the American people want clean air and clean water. Yet the Republican leadership has refused to take any action whatsoever on even the most basic safety laws, like universal background checks.

Poll after poll shows that the American people want Dreamers to stay in our country. They don’t want children to be separated from their parents. They want comprehensive immigration reform to fix our broken system. Yet the Republican leadership has opposed these priorities for many years, and now they’re trying to make it easier, not harder, to vote. It is no wonder that trust in government is so low. According to a recent survey, just 38 percent overall trust the government to do what is right. Famously, root canals have a higher approval rating than Congress.

We are a representative democracy. Yet the people are not being represented. Their will has been stymied. The situation has gotten dramatically worse under this President. There is no doubt about that. But these problems precede this President, and they will live much longer than his time in office, unless we act.

To put it bluntly, some of our most basic, democratic institutions are broken—our voting rights system, our campaign finance system, and our ethics rules.

The American people know in their gut that this system is rigged. That is why the drug companies get what they want, and people pay through the nose. That is why the millionaires and billionaires get more tax cuts, and the working people get left behind. That is why the polluters get off scot-free, and the rest of us get dirty air and contaminated water.

Unrigging this system requires reform—real reform—so that we bring power back to the everyday Americans and out of the hands of the special moneyed interests that rule Washington.

Let’s talk about how we do that. For years, I have stood with others in this Chamber to call for a constitutional amendment to overturn Citizens United, for an independent, nonpartisan drawing of House districts, and for closing the revolving door in Washington.

In the past, some Senate Republicans were independent of their leadership and supported these ideas. The President had even promised to “drain the swamp.” As we all know by now, unfortunately, that promise was empty.

But with the change in leadership in the House of Representatives, Congress is now making progress to enact the reforms that the American people want.

The House will soon pass H.R. 1, the For the People Act—a comprehensive set of reforms that will fix our broken system. It will be up to the Senate to follow suit. Next week, my Senate colleagues and I will introduce our own “For the People Act”—a comprehensive set of reforms that will move this effort forward. I hope we will have bipartisan support, but I was disappointed to hear the Republican leader deride this essential reform bill as “the Democrat Politician Protection Act.”

This is not only a warped political comment, but it is also cynical and totally misses the point, especially when you consider that the American people overwhelmingly—across party lines—support these kinds of reforms. It is the special interests who oppose them because they are threatened by them.

If the Republican leader feels the same way about this bill as the special interests do, perhaps the bill is not the problem.

Every Member of the Senate will have a choice. Do they support reform, where our ideas and policies can compete on a level playing field, or do they choose to side with the special interests to do their bidding in return for their protection and money during election season?

I have known plenty of Americans who oppose this system. John McCain was one of them. Senator Alan Simpson is another. Senator Cochran was a cosponsor of my constitutional amendment.

No party has to side with the big money and special interests. It is a choice. It is a choice we must make together to return our democracy to the people and to rid our system of corruption.

This bill will do just that. It will make it easier, not harder, to vote. It will bring an end to the dominance of big money and politics, and it will ensure that politicians actually serve the public interests.

First, on voting rights, for 50 years our leaders have demanded from their leaders and what the President and the Congress have been giving them. Poll after poll shows that the American people want affordable healthcare. Yet the Republican leadership has refused to take this seriously and to take up healthcare reform. The President has let it fall to the wealthiest individuals and the biggest corporations.

Poll after poll shows that the American people want clean air and clean water. Yet the Republican leadership has refused to take any action whatsoever on even the most basic safety laws, like universal background checks.

Poll after poll shows that the American people want Dreamers to stay in our country. They don’t want children to be separated from their parents. They want comprehensive immigration reform to fix our broken system. Yet the Republican leadership has opposed these priorities for many years, and now they’re trying to make it easier, not harder, to vote. It is no wonder that trust in government is so low. According to a recent survey, just 38 percent overall trust the government to do what is right. Famously, root canals have a higher approval rating than Congress.

We are a representative democracy. Yet the people are not being represented. Their will has been stymied. The situation has gotten dramatically worse under this President. There is no doubt about that. But these problems precede this President, and they will live much longer than his time in office, unless we act.

To put it bluntly, some of our most basic, democratic institutions are broken—our voting rights system, our campaign finance system, and our ethics rules.

The American people know in their gut that this system is rigged. That is why the drug companies get what they want, and people pay through the nose. That is why the millionaires and billionaires get more tax cuts, and the working people get left behind. That is why the polluters get off scot-free, and the rest of us get dirty air and contaminated water.

Unrigging this system requires reform—real reform—so that we bring power back to the everyday Americans and out of the hands of the special moneyed interests that rule Washington.

Let’s talk about how we do that. For years, I have stood with others in this Chamber to call for a constitutional amendment to overturn Citizens United, for an independent, nonpartisan drawing of House districts, and for closing the revolving door in Washington.

In the past, some Senate Republicans were independent of their leadership and supported these ideas. The President had even promised to “drain the swamp.” As we all know by now, unfortunately, that promise was empty.

But with the change in leadership in the House of Representatives, Congress is now making progress to enact the reforms that the American people want.

The House will soon pass H.R. 1, the For the People Act—a comprehensive set of reforms that will move this effort forward. I hope we will have bipartisan support, but I was disappointed to hear the Republican leader deride this essential reform bill as “the Democrat Politician Protection Act.”

This is not only a warped political comment, but it is also cynical and totally misses the point, especially when you consider that the American people overwhelmingly—across party lines—support these kinds of reforms. It is the special interests who oppose them because they are threatened by them.

If the Republican leader feels the same way about this bill as the special interests do, perhaps the bill is not the problem.

Every Member of the Senate will have a choice. Do they support reform, where our ideas and policies can compete on a level playing field, or do they choose to side with the special interests to do their bidding in return for their protection and money during election season?

I have known plenty of Americans who oppose this system. John McCain was one of them. Senator Alan Simpson is another. Senator Cochran was a cosponsor of my constitutional amendment.

No party has to side with the big money and special interests. It is a choice. It is a choice we must make together to return our democracy to the people and to rid our system of corruption.

This bill will do just that. It will make it easier, not harder, to vote. It will bring an end to the dominance of big money and politics, and it will ensure that politicians actually serve the public interests.

First, on voting rights, for 50 years the Voting Rights Act of 1965 has stood as a bulwark against voter suppression practices and enfranchised millions of voters, but in 2013 the Supreme Court eviscerated it in its Shelby County v. Holder decision, unleashing a torrent of State laws designed to suppress the vote among minorities.

Congress’s 5-to-1 decision rendered the Voting rights Act’s pre clearance provisions ineffective and cleared the way for States to engage in voter suppression. Since Shelby, nearly 1,000 polling places have been closed across the country, many in southern Black communities. Voter ID laws have been tightened, and early voting has been slashed. Voter rolls have been purged, and House districts have been redrawn to dilute the minority vote.

One of the many egregious examples is North Carolina. Less than 2 months after Shelby, that State enacted far-reaching voter suppression requirements. North Carolina’s law was struck down by a Federal court of appeals, finding that the law targeted African Americans “with almost surgical precision.”

Just this last midterm, we saw voter suppression tactics surge. For instance, in North Dakota, the State legislature passed a law right before the November election that took aim squarely at the Native vote. The law required voter IDs to list physical addresses—an impossibility for many Native American voters living on reservations. A Federal court found that 5,000 Native American voters did not have the necessary identification.

We have no choice but to respond and to restore the Voting Rights Act so States are stopped from closing off the franchise. That must also include the Native American Voting Rights Act to address voter suppression tactics in Indian Country and to make sure the Native vote is counted, not discounted.

Bills to restore lost voting rights protections have been introduced in both Chambers. I hope we will have a majority will work in a bipartisan way to restore this landmark legislation.

We should make it easier for voters to register, not harder. In a healthy democracy, automatic voter registration, online voter registration, and same-day voter registration for eligible voters would be noncontroversial.

Voting should be easy. Too often, for too many, it is hard. It is our duty to fix that, and this bill will do that.

Extreme political gerrymandering continues to skew State and congressional elections. Results from legislative races don’t reflect the proportion of each party’s voters. Voters should choose their representatives, not the other way around.

Congress must direct nonpartisan, independent line drawing in each State to draw congressional districts, and congressional districts must fairly reflect States’ racial compositions so our representatives, government truly represent the electorate.

There is no other way to put it. Our campaign finance system is broken. The Supreme Court’s 2010 Citizens United decision opened the floodgates for unlimited contributions and dark money, and this Congress’s negligence has allowed the flood to drown out regular people’s voices. Super PACs can raise and spend unlimited sums on candidates. The super wealthy can and do try to buy elections. Dark money groups can receive unlimited amounts of money from big corporations and wealthy individuals, spend their unlimited sums to influence elections, and never declare how much they spent or what they wanted in return for their investment.

There was $1.4 billion spent on the last Presidential race in 2016. This midterm’s outside expenditures topped a billion dollars. The system is rigged right before our eyes.

How do we reverse course and return elections to the American people? For starters, Congress needs to shine a light on the dark money and require real-time disclosure. Close loopholes that allow for foreign money, and create a small donor, public matching fund system for everyday contributions. Most critically, we must overturn Citizens United and related decisions. Close loopholes that equates big money with speech puts campaigns for sale to the highest bidder.

Once again, I will offer an amendment to the Constitution to overturn Citizens United, as I have since 2013. Congress and the Senate are too tied to donors and need to work together to protect our democracy. We need to tighten lobbying disclosure laws, and we must require Presidential and Vice Presidential candidates to disclose their tax returns.

Beyond Presidents and Vice Presidents, all public servants should not reap huge personal profit from their public positions. We need to tighten the revolving door. We need to tighten lobbying disclosure laws, and we must require Presidential and Vice Presidential candidates to disclose their tax returns.

We also need comprehensive ethics reform. Elected officials and public servants should not reap huge personal profit from their public positions. We need to tighten lobbying disclosure laws, and we must require Presidential and Vice Presidential candidates to disclose their tax returns. We need to tighten lobbying disclosure laws, and we must require Presidential and Vice Presidential candidates to disclose their tax returns.

Candidate Trump promised to disclose his tax returns. He didn’t. He then lied about having paid taxes. He then claimed he paid millions in taxes after that war, a strategy was devised to continue to strip the right to vote from African Americans by taking African-American men, arresting them as felons, and then saying that felons could not vote. That circle isn’t that large. It is a small percent of our population, but they use their great wealth and their great leverage to continue to corrupt our Constitution because the last thing they want is a government that serves the people.

What they are invested in, they fight for is government by the powerful few and for the powerful few. If anyone doubts that, they should watch this point of huge corruption in this country, look simply at what happened in this Chamber in 2017 when the majority party said that we have two missions: Mission one, take down healthcare for 20 to 30 million Americans; mission two, raid the national Treasury for $1.4 trillion and give it to the very richest Americans and largest corporations.

That is what happens in a corrupted government by and for the powerful rather than by and for the people. That is what happens in dictatorships around the world where the elite raid the National Treasury and steal the money for themselves. We have to tell you what else happens. They don’t invest in “we the people.” They don’t invest in the foundations for families to thrive. We know what those foundations are: good public education, debt-free college, employment programs that include apprenticeships and career technical education, a healthcare system that is simple and seamless and is there when your loved one is sick or injured, and it doesn’t send you into bankruptcy, a system that makes the government indifferent because you pay little or nothing, and raise their prices dozens or even a hundredfold because the laws were written to let them do it, a system that invests in affordable housing so every family can have a decent home in a decent community, investment in infrastructure, rural broadband, repaired highways, expanded transit systems, all kinds of infrastructure that enable our economy to thrive and our people to do well.

Did we see what this corrupted system now in place of government by and for the powerful, did we see an investment in healthcare or housing or education or infrastructure or living-wage...
We oppose caps on donations, but we support disclosure. It is the sunshine that disinfects the system. Suddenly, when the bill that provides disclosure was up before this body, the individuals who said that said: "Oh, I was wrong; I don’t want sunlight in the system," and voted against it. So the House is saying: Let’s do it. Let’s create transparency.

There is an honest ads component that says people need to be able to know who is funding the ads they are seeing. I have seen in my campaigns, attack ad after attack ad, after attack ad funded by front groups. Wouldn’t it be better for America if the folks behind those ads actually have to disclose that they are behind those ads?

We have in this bill a small-dollar match so individuals who seek to run for the House or the Senate with small-dollar donations, donations up to $200, get a 6-to-1 match, encouraging breaking up the dark money and the money that comes from the most affluent in large chunks, leveling the playing field for participation by regular Americans, freeing our elections from the grip of dark money.

This bill says let’s improve the ethics. Let’s reduce or try to eliminate the conflicts of interest that haunt this Chamber and haunt the House Chamber down the hall.

JOHN LEWIS stood on that bridge on Bloody Sunday. Congressman John Lewis, long before he was a Congress—man, in 1965, stood on that bridge. He stood, and he was the very first person in line as the troops approached to beat up the protesters. They shoved him, they pushed him down, they struck him in the head, and then they proceeded to beat up and terrify the other protesters on that bridge.

Those protesters were standing for the vision of our Constitution, were standing for voting rights, the most powerful instrument, as Lyndon John—son said.

They went back to that bridge the following Tuesday, and they marched up and were stopped, and they agreed to turn back—"Turn Back Tuesday." Then they reorganized again and more people joined. They came back a third time and they marched over that bridge and they marched all the way to Montgomery, AL, to fight for voting rights because it is the heart and soul of an individual’s ability to participate in our democracy. JOHN LEWIS has said this:

There is still work to be done. Get out there, push and pull, until we redeem the soul of America.

The For the People Act that the House will pass and that we will introduce here in this Chamber is the fight to redeem the soul of America. Let’s stand together—boldly—among the Members of the Senate, those who sit on the left of the aisle and those who sit on the right of the aisle, those who come from blue-collar communities and those who come from circles of power—to stand behind the vision of our Constitution, the “we the people” vision, so this Chamber will do the work of the people. Let’s restore the soul of America together.

I yield the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Massachusetts.

NET NEUTRALITY

Mr. MARKLEY. Mr. President, I rise in defense of the internet. This is a fight for innovation, for entrepreneurialism, for the American economy, a fight to protect the cornerstone of our democracy—a fight for the most powerful platform for commerce and communications in the history of the planet. This is a fight for net neutrality.

Today nearly every Member of the Senate Democratic caucus introduced a bill, the Save the Internet Act, to put net neutrality rules back on the books. Congressman MIKE DOYLE is leading the same effort over in the House. In the Senate, we have already successfully passed the proposal. The newly introduced Save the Internet Act and the Congressional Review Act together will have the same effect—overturning the Trump administration’s FCC’s wrongheaded decision and restoring the open internet order.

May 17, in a historic, bipartisan CRA vote of 52 to 47, in the Senate on this floor, we sent a message to President Trump about what a free and open internet means, free of corporate control, open to all who want to communicate, engage, and innovate. We made clear this Congress will not fall for President Trump’s special interest agenda and his broadband baron allies.

This bill does what the American people want. It restores the rules so people are not subject to higher prices, slower internet speeds, and even blocked websites because the big broadband providers want to pump up their profits. With this bill, we will do right by the people who sent us here to fight to protect the internet as we know it.

This is a fight which we can win. There is tremendous power on this issue. Republicans and Democrats alike agree we need net neutrality so the sky is the limit. Support for our position will only continue to grow.

The critics claim the sky hasn’t fallen since the FCC repeal, so why do we need net neutrality at all?

The answer is simple. There is pending litigation right now in the DC Circuit Court challenging the FCC’s repeal. So there is every reason in the world why they would not change their practices until the legal matter is set—tied in court. Any prudent business would act cautiously when there is an issue pending before a court, but once the issue is resolved in court, there are no limits. They can do what they want.

In fact, I attended the court hearing and listened to 5 hours of oral argument. I saw firsthand how the FCC and broadband industry used tortured logic to defend the repeal of net neutrality and reclassification of broadband.

I also organized an amicus brief with 100 other Members of the Senate and House in defense of the net neutrality rules. I am confident we will prevail in court. Net neutrality is just another way of saying nondiscrimination, just another way of saying big companies can’t discriminate against small companies; that big companies can’t discriminate against small individuals; that they have equal access to the internet. They don’t have to pay extra to gain access. Net neutrality means nondiscrimination. Those are the rules we need for the internet in order to see explosive economic growth because of the new ideas that are able to be introduced and at the same time so democracy can flourish because every voice is treated equally on the internet.

So whether it is in the Halls of Congress or in the courts, we will not stop fighting until net neutrality is fully restored. We are on the right side of history, and we will not give up this fight until we have won.

I thank you for the time.

At this point, I yield the floor.

HON. JESSICA LOPEZ
OF COLORADO
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. TIPTON. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the Pueblo East High School Eagles wrestling team for its first ever 4A State Championship win.

The Eagles finished first at the Colorado State Wrestling Tournament in Denver, Colorado, with 200 points. Pueblo County was runner-up with 181.5 points, while Centennial was in the top five with 76.5 points.

The Eagles performed well as a team, with every single wrestler scoring at least one point during the tournament. The team had three overall state champions, including Andy Garcia, Dominic Robles, and Zion Freeman. All three of these young men won their weight classifications.

Andy Garcia accomplished a first for the team, earning a 4–3 decision over his opponent and becoming the team’s first three-time champion, despite having an injured knee on competition day. Dominic Robles had a phenomenal performance, getting a pin at 1 minute and 36 seconds in the first period against an opponent from Canon City. Zion Freeman was the first Eagles wrestler to win a title at the tournament, ultimately scoring a perfect 38–0 record for the season.

Madam Speaker, we are proud to have these incredible students representing Pueblo and the people of the Third Congressional District. They have proven themselves to be individuals with sportsmanship, tenacity, and perseverance. I offer them my sincere congratulations and wish them luck in their future endeavors. I am eager to see what they will accomplish going forward.

HON. ED PERLMUTTER
OF COLORADO
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. PERLMUTTER. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize and applaud Jessica Lopez for receiving the Arvada Wheat Ridge Service Ambassadors for Youth award.

Jessica Lopez is a student at Jefferson Jr/ Sr. and received this award because her determination and hard work have allowed her to overcome adversities.

The dedication demonstrated by Jessica Lopez is exemplary of the type of achievement that can be attained with hard work and perseverance. It is essential students at all levels strive to make the most of their education and develop a work ethic which will guide them for the rest of their lives.

I extend my deepest congratulations to Jessica Lopez for winning the Arvada Wheat Ridge Service Ambassadors for Youth award. I have no doubt she will exhibit the same dedication and character in all of her future accomplishments.

HON. HON. PAUL COOK
OF CALIFORNIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. COOK. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize and congratulate the Big Bear Fire Department and Mercy Air on a successful year of Emergency Air Medical Services for the Big Bear Valley.

The mountain communities of my district are uniquely rugged, and ground-based responses are oftentimes too slow or limited by terrain to provide lifesaving medical care in a timely fashion. Air ambulances have the ability to rapidly transport patients to treatment centers, and emergency air medical services improve the survival and recovery rate of those in need. On February 14, 2018, Big Bear Fire Authority (BBFA) and the BBFA Critical Care Medical Air Ship crew undertook their first flight. Over the past year, arrival times have decreased, lives have been saved, and over 300 missions have been safely and successfully flown.

I applaud the BBFA and the BBFA Critical Care Medical Air Ship crew, and their partners Mercy Air, Big Bear Valley Community Healthcare District, and Big Bear Airport District for their commitment and dedication to bringing this lifesaving service to the Big Bear Valley. I wish them many years of safety and success ahead as they work to keep our community safe.

HON. RICHARD HUDSON
OF NORTH CAROLINA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. HUDSON. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor and congratulate Bill Hedgepeth with Select Bank and Trust and Select Bancorp Inc. for receiving the 2019 Realtor Cup award from the Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce.

Bill has served as the President and Chief Executive Officer of Select Bank & Trust and Select Bancorp Inc. since 2008. This includes 19 branches in North Carolina and South Carolina. Bill is known for not just his exemplary work in real estate, but his commitment to lead in the community.

Throughout his career, Bill has been recognized for his effort and natural talent. He has been named a Paul Harris Fellow by the Rotary Foundation of Rotary International and in 2015 received the Business of the Year Award on behalf of Select Bank & Trust and Select Bancorp Inc.

Not only is Bill dedicated to seeking excellence in his career but he currently serves as the Board Chair of the United Way of Cumberland County, the Greater Fayetteville Chamber board Treasurer, the Fayetteville and Cumberland County Vision 2026 Board, the Highland Country Club Board of Directors and the Fayetteville Technical Community College Board of Trustees.

Bill is very deserving of this award, and I couldn’t be prouder of the example he set for our county and beyond.

Madam Speaker, please join me today in congratulating Bill Hedgepeth on receiving the 2019 Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce Realtor Cup.

HON. ROB BISHOP OF UTAH
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. BISHOP of Utah. Madam Speaker, my apologies for my absence. During the roll call numbers listed below, I was at the Utah State Capitol addressing the state legislature. Had I been present, I would have voted “yea” on Roll Call No. 104, and “yea” on Roll Call No. 105.
Mr. PERLMUTTER. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize and applaud Jessie Martinez for receiving the Arvada Wheat Ridge Service Ambassadors for Youth award.

Jessie Martinez is a student at Jefferson Jr/Sr. and received this award because her determination and hard work have allowed her to overcome adversities.

The dedication demonstrated by Jessie Martinez is exemplary of the type of achievement that can be attained with hard work and perseverance. It is essential students at all levels strive to make the most of their education and develop a work ethic which will guide them for the rest of their lives.

I extend my deepest congratulations to Jessie Martinez for winning the Arvada Wheat Ridge Service Ambassadors for Youth award. I have no doubt she will exhibit the same dedication and character in all of her future accomplishments.

INTRODUCTION OF THE OUTPATIENT MENTAL HEALTH CARE ACT OF 2019

HON. ALCEE L. HASTINGS
OF FLORIDA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. HASTINGS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to introduce the Outpatient Mental Health Care Act of 2019.

Medicare Partial Hospitalization Programs (PHPs) provide a structured and clinically intensive alternative to hospitalization for patients who otherwise might require sustained inpatient psychiatric hospitalization. PHP psychiatric patients typically receive four to six hours of treatment per day, five to six days a week in hospital-based settings and community mental health centers. However, the severity of a patient's illness often prevents that individual from obtaining or seeking transportation to a PHP facility, or from accessing high quality food. Additionally, some psychiatric medications that are prescribed to the patient cannot be safely administered without food.

Currently, Medicare does not cover the costs of nutritional planning, meals or transportation for patients who receive psychiatric treatment in PHP programs. Therefore, PHP facilities are responsible for the cost of providing food and transportation. This exacerbates financial burdens that many PHPs and counties are experiencing in these difficult economic times.

Medicare also does not provide for vocational counseling. However, this counseling provides a direction for patients that they might not find on their own. Therefore, vocational counseling is vital for individuals while they work through their treatment allowing them to set employment goals and develop a plan to meet those goals.

Madam Speaker, my bill will require Medicare to reimburse PHPs for providing transportation, food, nutritional services and vocational counseling. The bill also establishes a Behavioral Health Advisory Committee in which a diverse group of behavioral health stakeholders would examine and provide recommendations on how to address the persisting challenges of access, stigma, quality and operability in the mental health delivery system.

PHPs are a cost effective alternative that can prevent mentally ill individuals from facing expensive inpatient care, incarceration, or institutionalization. The growing role of mental health PHPs in our health care system requires that we amend the law to assist PHPs in delivering the services, care and support to those who are living with severe and chronic mental illness.

Madam Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support this critically important legislation.

HON. RICHARD HUDSON
OF NORTH CAROLINA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. HUDSON. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor and congratulate Gary Rogers for receiving the 2019 Ambassador of the Year award from the Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce.

Gary is a Senior Marketing Consultant with the Beasley Media Group that represents many of our local radio stations. He has an esteemed passion for radio and an unmatched drive that makes him a sound resource for our community.

This prestigious honor is not the first for Gary. He was included in the Fayetteville 40 Under 40 Class of 2018, Ambassador of the Year in 2016, and was the recipient of the Chairman’s Award in 2017. He continues to serve his community by investing and volunteering with non-profit organizations such as the Media Team and Children’s Ministry at Breezewood Church.

While he is dedicated to his career and service in the community, it is clear his real drive is his marriage to his wife and being a father to his three year old, Charlie. In his efforts to set a wonderful example for his son, he serves as an ambassador with the Greater Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce and has been for the last four years.

Madam Speaker, please join me today in congratulating Gary Rogers on receiving the 2019 Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce Ambassador of the Year award.

RECOGNIZING KRISTINE PETERSEN IN HONOR OF WOMEN'S HISTORY MONTH

HON. MARIO DIAZ-BALART
OF FLORIDA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. DIAZ-BALART. Madam Speaker, in recognition of Women's History Month, I rise today to honor Kristine Petersen, whose long-term service in law enforcement has had a significant impact on Southern Florida.

Over thirty years ago, Kristine, a single parent, moved to Hendry County and worked as a waitress and secretary. In 1986, she began her career in law enforcement as a dispatcher with the Hendry County Sheriff's Department. After successfully completing the Southwest Florida Criminal Justice Academy, Kristine was appointed as a Sheriff's Deputy for Hendry County, making her the second female to do so. Through this role, Kristine helped build Hendry County's Drug Abuse Resistance Education (D.A.R.E.) Program, an important initiative that teaches middle schoolers the dangers of substance abuse. During this time, she dedicated her evenings to working as an instructor with the Criminal Justice Academy for the Lee County School Board. Her passion for community service is of the highest caliber, and her selfless character is truly demonstrated in her work for public safety.

In 1998, Kristine began working as a detective for the City of Clewiston's Police Department. In 2003, she became the Assistant Police Chief where she served in this role until 2012. Her honorable work ethic and determination has extended beyond law enforcement. Kristine was appointed to Clewiston's City Commission where she won consecutive four year terms in 2014 and 2018. She also served as Vice Mayor from December of 2014 to December of 2016. Currently, Kristine is employed by the Hendry County School Board to serve as Clewiston High School's Public Safety Academy Teacher. In addition to this role, Kristine also participates in the City of Clewiston's Chamber of Commerce.

Madam Speaker, I am honored to know Ms. Petersen and it is a privilege to acknowledge the dedicated work she has done for Hendry County. I ask my colleagues to join me in recognizing this remarkable individual.

OF COLORADO
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. PERLMUTTER. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize and applaud Adrena Rocha for receiving the Arvada Wheat Ridge Service Ambassadors for Youth award.

Adrena Rocha is a student at Arvada High School and received this award because her determination and hard work have allowed her to overcome adversities.

The dedication demonstrated by Adrena Rocha is exemplary of the type of achievement that can be attained with hard work and perseverance. It is essential students at all levels strive to make the most of their education and develop a work ethic which will guide them for the rest of their lives.

I extend my deepest congratulations to Adrena Rocha for winning the Arvada Wheat Ridge Service Ambassadors for Youth award. I have no doubt she will exhibit the same dedication and character in all of her future accomplishments.

HONORING ANA MARIA RODRIGUEZ IN HONOR OF WOMEN’S HISTORY MONTH

HON. MARIO DIAZ-BALART
OF FLORIDA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. DIAZ-BALART. Madam Speaker, in recognition of Women’s History Month, I rise today to honor Ana Maria Rodriguez, who has faithfully served the City of Doral and the wider Miami region for over a decade.

Born and raised in South Florida to Cuban exiles, Ana Maria has been heavily involved in the Southern Florida community since graduating from Florida International University in 1999 with a Bachelor’s degree in communications. In 2009, she furthered her education by gaining her Master’s degree in leadership from the H. Wayne Huizenga School of Business at Nova Southeastern University.

Ana Maria worked for a number of years in public relations and the governmental affairs sector, and her character is truly a privilege to the City of Doral.

Her passion for community work goes beyond elected service. In 2007, Ana Maria launched the Southeast Region for Connect Florida, a leadership development program, and in 2009 served as Statewide Chair.

Over a decade, she has been a dedicated and active member of the Doral Business Council and also served as Vice Chair for the City of Doral’s Parks & Police 4 Kids Advisory Board.

It would be remiss to honor Ana Maria without touching on the number of awards she has received for her ongoing commitment to her community. In 2011, she was selected as Humanitarian of the Year by the March of Dimes and in 2015 she received Advocate of the Year by the Miami Association of REALTORS.

In 2017, Ana Maria was presented the Public Service Award by the South Florida Hispanic Chamber of Commerce, and most recently, in 2018, the Salute to Miami’s Leaders Government Award by the Greater Miami Chamber of Commerce.

I urge passage of this common-sense, bipartisan bill.

VETERANS-SPECIFIC EDUCATION FOR TOMORROW’S HEALTH PROFESSIONALS ACT

SPEECH OF
HON. STEVEN C. WATKINS, JR.
OF KANSAS
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Tuesday, March 5, 2019

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 1271, the Vet HP Act.

The Vet HP Act would be a significant advancement for two critical issues burdening Eastern Kansans.

My district, being both rural and home to tens of thousands of veterans, is a medically underserved district. With both VA and rural hospitals lacking the trained line of health professionals, access to quality health care is not guaranteed for many of these folks back home.

Secondly, aspiring health professionals from underserved areas are not afforded the same opportunities for clinical observation hours as medical school applicants in major cities, putting them at a disadvantage during the admissions process.

The Vet HP Act would provide an opportunity for health students to gain clinical observation hours at VA hospitals, prioritizing students in underserved areas, including first-generation college students, students referred by minority-serving institutions and veterans, and, importantly, students who wish to train and stay in health professions experiencing staff shortages.

This is a true two-birds-one-stone approach. Across the country we have aspiring health professionals who lack opportunity, and we have VA and rural hospitals desperately in need of health professionals. The Vet HP Act is a massive step forward for both issues.

RECOGNIZING ANA MARIA RODRIGUEZ IN HONOR OF WOMEN’S HISTORY MONTH

Madam Speaker, please join me today in honoring Ana Maria Rodriguez, an extraordinary woman who has faithfully served the City of Doral and the wider Miami region for over a decade.

Born and raised in South Florida to Cuban exiles, Ana Maria has been heavily involved in the Southern Florida community since graduating from Florida International University in 1999 with a Bachelor’s degree in communications. In 2017, Ana Maria was presented the Public Service Award by the South Florida Hispanic Chamber of Commerce, and most recently, in 2018, the Salute to Miami’s Leaders Government Award by the Greater Miami Chamber of Commerce.

These accolades are just a small testament to Ana Maria’s determination and character. It is an honor to know that she will continue to make a significant difference in the community she serves and the people that she touches.
Madam Speaker, I am honored to recognize Ana Maria Rodriguez and have the opportunity to acknowledge her amazing work for Southern Florida. I ask my colleagues to join me in recognizing this outstanding individual.

ESMERALDA ROJAS

HONORING SHARON MOYER, THE 2019 ATHENA AWARD WINNER
HON. RICHARD HUDSON
OF NORTH CAROLINA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019
Mr. HUDSON. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor and congratulate Sharon Moyer for receiving the 2019 Athena Award from the Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce. The Athena award is highly coveted and is presented to the individual that represents the greatest support for the goals of professional women. Recipients of this award demonstrate excellence, creativity, and initiative in their profession and provides valuable service by contributing time and energy to improve the lives of others in the community.

Sharon Moyer has proven worthy of this award time and again with her innovative thinking, natural leadership, and ability to meet competitive deadlines. She inspires others with her personable attitude and her willingness to work hard and invest in the growth and success of others around her. Sharon has been an active part of the Partnership for Children program and initiated “Historic Hauntings: A Ghostly Ghost Tour” to help children learn the history of Fayetteville. I have personally attended one of her annual soirees for the Partnership for Children and have seen the product of her leadership firsthand.

There are many children in our community more prepared to reach their full potential due to Sharon’s philosophy “perseverance beats resistance.” Our community is better because of Sharon and I am thrilled she is being recognized for her talent and dedication.

Madam Speaker, please join me today in congratulating Sharon Moyer on receiving the 2019 Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce Athena Award.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION
HON. BILL POSEY

HONORING REPRESENTATIVE WALTER B. JONES, JR.
SPEECH OF
HON. JERRY McNERNEY
OF CALIFORNIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Tuesday, March 5, 2019
Mr. McNERNEY. Madam Speaker, I rise today to mourn the passing of our colleague, and my dear friend, Congressman Walter Jones.

Walter was a man of principle and patriotism. Who was dedicated to serving his District and his country. He was especially concerned about the state of our nation’s politics. Especially the growing inequities within our campaign finance system.

I had the distinct privilege of working closely with Walter over the past three years.

As co-founders and co-chairs of the Bipartisan Campaign Finance Reform Caucus. And throughout our work together, I witnessed firsthand his willingness to reach across the aisle and put people before politics.

Walter was a model public servant who held tightly to his passions and his unyielding faith. His independence in this chamber demonstrated his relentless devotion to doing what he believed was right.

It’s no surprise that he was widely respected and admired throughout these halls. His independence in this chamber demonstrated his relentless devotion to doing what he believed was right.

HONING SANDY AMMONS, THE 2019 FAYETTEVILLE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE CHAIRMAN AWARD WINNER
HON. RICHARD HUDSON
OF NORTH CAROLINA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019
Mr. HUDSON. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor and congratulate Sandy Ammons for receiving the 2019 Chairman’s Award from the Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce. Sandy has been a constant positive force in the community when it comes to the world of business development and marketing services. She currently serves as the Director of Business Development and Human Resources for Highland Construction and Restoration where she oversees marketing and communication, business development, and administrative functions including human resources and recruitment.

Sandy is a highly valued and trusted resource who is always generous in offering guidance to others. She has been conquering all aspects of this industry since 1999 and owned her own successful marketing firm for 14 years. Her ability to capture elegant and innovative design is only part of her unmatched talent. During her time with Methodist University she was able to provide unparalleled guidance as the Vice President for Advancement and University Relations. She continues to serve the community with her fierce work ethic and amazing attention to detail.

Madam Speaker, please join me today in congratulating Sandy Ammons on receiving the 2019 Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce Chairman’s Award.

IN REMEMBRANCE OF DOUGLAS CORBIN

HON. MARK DeSAULNIER
OF CALIFORNIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. DeSaulnier. Madam Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Douglas Corbin for his dedication and service in the Bay Area.

Born in Rochester, New York, Douglas attended St. Lawrence University before receiving a law degree from George Washington University. After working as a patent attorney in Washington, D.C., his work brought him to San Francisco.

In San Francisco, Douglas became involved in local politics and eventually transitioned to public defense. In his new role, Douglas defended the Bay Area’s LGBT community from harassment and submitted bids on houses on behalf of African American families who had seen their own bids unfairly rejected.

After meeting his wife Rosemary, the couple moved to Richmond where Douglas was named Contra Costa County’s first Juvenile Court Referee. In addition to this new role, Douglas co-chaired the effort to designate Pt. Pinole as a regional park. His wife Rosemary Douglas co-chaired the effort to designate Pt. Pinole as a regional park. Mr. HUDSON. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor and congratulate Hanna Britt for receiving the 2019 Young Professional of the Year award from the Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce.

I have a profound respect for successful individuals taking the time and patience to offer mentorship to other aspiring young professionals. Hanna has been with H&H Homes since 2013 and is currently serving as the Corporate Director of Marketing.

After receiving a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration in Marketing from Appalachian State University, Hanna taught English in South Korea. She came back to Fayetteville in 2013, and has been passionate about supporting the community. She is a member of the Fayetteville Young Professional program and served on the leadership committee for two years. Additionally, she is a past member of the Junior League of Fayetteville.

Hanna is well deserving of this award and provides a wonderful example for other young professionals in our community. Her passion is shown in all that she does and it is with great pride that I acknowledge her achievements today.

Madam Speaker, please join me today in congratulating Hanna Britt on receiving the 2019 Young Professional of the Year award from the Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce.

HON. RICHARD HUDSON
OF NORTH CAROLINA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. HUDSON. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor and congratulate Bob Camacho on his 34 years of public service.

Mr. SAN NICOLAS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor a genuine public servant and friend, Chief Robert “Bob” D. Camacho on his retirement from the Antonio B. Won Pat Guam International Airport Authority (GIAA) police department after 34 years of service to Guam and to the nation.

Bob has a long history in public service. After serving 11 years in the United States Army, where he received numerous awards and decorations, Bob began his civilian career as a parole officer in the Guam Department of Corrections, eventually advancing to the post of Director of the Department. As Director, Bob’s innovations included making the Department of Correction a tobacco-free environment and effectively restructuring prison food services. These changes significantly reduced health-care costs for employees as well as inmates and saved millions of dollars in food costs and wastage for the government of Guam.

Bob served in other senior executive positions within the law enforcement field including in the Guam Customs and Quarantine Agency and the Guam Police Department. It is no surprise that Bob also excelled in these other positions, constantly exemplifying the definition of a public servant.

Appointed to the Chief of the Guam International Airport Authority police department in 2009, Bob effectively responded to the increased security risks imposed by the tragedy on September 11, 2001. Bob continued to ensure that the GIAA and his department kept pace with new and constantly changing U.S. Department of Homeland Security and Transportation Security Administration mandates as well as keeping pace with the constantly growing passenger and freight workload. He was instrumental in promoting and securing funding for “Project Hula,” a much needed, and significant increase, in services, operations, and security for the airport, which has become a major Pacific hub for both domestic and international travel and freight.

Bob continued to trailblaze in the Guam law enforcement community when he served as Chairman of the Peace Officer Standards and Training Commission, setting appropriate training, ethical conduct, and retention of peace officers throughout the territory of Guam. Bob has dedicated his life serving our community, exemplified the best in leadership qualities, and has continued inspire those around him. Madam Speaker, I rise on behalf of the People of Guam, offering my greatest appreciation for Bob’s commitment to public service. I congratulate him on his retirement and offer him best wishes on his well-earned retirement.

RECOMMENDING THE RECRUIT CLASS 2018–02 OF THE PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF FIRE AND RESCUE

HON. GERALD E. CONNOLLY
OF VIRGINIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. CONNOLLY. Madam Speaker, I rise today to congratulate the recent graduates of the Prince William County Public Safety Academy. These men and women will soon join the ranks of those who have served and continue to serve in the Prince William County Department of Fire and Rescue.

Since its inception in 1966, the Department of Fire and Rescue has led the way. In 1967, Prince William County became the first jurisdiction on the East Coast to implement the 911 System. That same year, Prince William became the first county in the Commonwealth of Virginia and the National Capital Region to implement a physical ability exam for career firefighters. In 1994, Mary Beth Michos was hired as Chief and became the first female fire and rescue chief of a metro-sized department. The Prince William County Department of Fire and Rescue continues to maintain one of the most forward-thinking combination fire departments in the country, and its legacy of “firsts” continues. It is one of only three jurisdictions in the Commonwealth of Virginia with delegated training authority, granted by the Virginia Department of Fire Programs.

It is one of only three jurisdictions in the Commonwealth of Virginia with delegated training authority, granted by the Virginia Department of Fire Programs.

As the newest members of the Department of Fire and Rescue, these graduates join the department as integral parts of the emergency response and community safety team.

Madam Speaker, I ask that my colleagues join me in congratulating the newest members of the Prince William County Department of Fire and Rescue. I am confident that recruit class 2018–02 will serve the residents of Prince William County with honor and distinction. In the tradition of their new firefighting family, I say: “Stay safe.”

RECOGNIZING PAUL RECKLAU ON THE OCCASION OF HIS RETIREMENT FROM THE GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION

HON. GERALD E. CONNOLLY
OF VIRGINIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. CONNOLLY. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize Paul Recklau on the occasion of his retirement from the General Services Administration following a 40-year career in the federal government. I thank him for his life-long dedication to public service to our nation.

Paul Recklau was born and raised in Feasterville, Pennsylvania. He graduated from Pennsylvania State University in 1978 with a degree in Accounting. He began his career in civil service in January of 1979 in a 16-month training program at the Savannah Army Depot in Georgia. He graduated from the Improved Ballistic Armor (IBAS), a Quality Assurance Specialist, Ammunition Surveillance, which is the oldest career program in the Department of Army. Paul then got his... first duty assignment at the Pueblo Army Depot in Colorado continuing to gain experience as an ammunition inspector and an explosives safety expert. After serving a couple of years there, he received his second assignment at the Lone Star Army Ammunition Plant in Texas. He was transferred to Longhorn Ammunition Plant in Karnack, Texas to act as a GS–11 level QUASAS.

Paul then spent 6 years at the Sunflower Army Ammunition Plant in Kansas, south of De Soto. In 1988, only 9 years into his career, he was promoted to a GS–12 and acted as Chief of Quality Assurance at the plant. In 1990, he moved into a new role as an Industrial Specialist for the Defense Logistics Agency in Columbus, Ohio. For 9 months, Paul commuted to Dayton, Ohio and performed his duties at the Defense Electronic Supply Center. Upon returning to Columbus he became a Contract Specialist. In 1999, he was promoted to a GS–13 as an Acquisition Specialist for the Military Traffic Management Command in Northern Virginia. Then, Paul started at the General Services Administration in 2002 working for the Systems Integration and Management Center (FEDSIM) as an IT Specialist. Approximately 2 years later he was promoted to a GS–14 Senior Project Manager. After 10 years at FEDSIM, Paul moved to the Office of Strategy Management within GSA and finally in 2014, ended up in the Office of General Supplies and Services as a Program Analyst where he ended his career on March 1, 2019. Throughout his career, Paul successfully worked with other federal employees as well as outside contractors to complete projects and keep day to day processes running smoothly. Civil servants like Paul are vital to the continuous operation of the government and I am grateful to Paul for spending the entirety of his career in service to our country.

Paul resides in Woodbridge, Virginia with his wife, Maureen, who has been a reading tutor at a local Prince William County public elementary school for 15 years. Their daughter, Jean Recklau, is a junior at the University of Virginia studying Public Policy. In retirement, Paul plans to travel and complete home improvement projects around the house. In addition, he will serve on his local homeowner’s association board of which he has been a member for 18 years, including 4 years as president.

Madam Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in congratulating my constituent, Paul Recklau on his retirement and in wishing him all the best in the future.

HONORING THE LIFE OF JOHN D. JENKINS

HON. GERALD E. CONNOLLY
OF VIRGINIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. CONNOLLY. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the 136th anniversary of Ebenezer Baptist Church.

The Ebenezer Baptist Church was founded by Reverend Lewis Henry Bailey. After being separated from his family in Alexandria, Virginia, Lewis Henry Bailey was sold into slavery and was enslaved in Texas throughout his youth and early adulthood. Once Bailey was freed, he walked from Texas to Virginia to rejoin his family. He found employment with a railroad company and later graduated from Wayland College. In 1882, he was ordained as an itinerant minister at Ebenezer Baptist Church in Alexandria. With aspirations of sharing his faith with others, he founded Ebenezer Baptist Church.

HONORING THE 136TH ANNIVERSARY OF EBENEZER BAPTIST CHURCH

HON. GERALD E. CONNOLLY
OF VIRGINIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. CONNOLLY. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the 136th anniversary of Ebenezer Baptist Church.

The Ebenezer Baptist Church was founded by Reverend Lewis Henry Bailey. After being separated from his family in Alexandria, Virginia, Lewis Henry Bailey was sold into slavery and was enslaved in Texas throughout his youth and early adulthood. Once Bailey was freed, he walked from Texas to Virginia to rejoin his family. He found employment with a railroad company and later graduated from Wayland College. In 1882, he was ordained as an itinerant minister at Ebenezer Baptist Church in Alexandria. With aspirations of sharing his faith with others, he founded Ebenezer Baptist Church.
the community provided land for a church and a place for Reverend Bailey to live. The Clerk of the Court for Prince William County approved the deed on March 8, 1883, and Ebenezer Baptist Church celebrates its anniversary on the first Sunday of March in recognition of that occasion.

Today, the church began as the New School in Occoquan, serving as a precursor to the establishment of the New School Baptist Church, which later became Ebenezer Baptist Church. The cornerstone of the church was laid on the first Sunday in May 1883 and the building was dedicated in 1885. Reverend Bailey, who had long been the inspiration and driving force for the establishment of this church, led the congregation from 1885–1891.

The church has endured setbacks and faced community challenges during its 136 year history. After the original church structure burned to the ground in 1923, Ebenezer Baptist Church was rebuilt in 1924 where it remains today in the same historical site. The church was also instrumental in the integration of the county’s public schools in the 1960s, as well as several other Civil Rights accomplishments. I was honored to include the oral histories of three members of Ebenezer Baptist Church in my Northern Virginia Civil Rights Archive project.

Throughout its history, Ebenezer Baptist Church has been led by pastors who have served the church and the congregation faithfully. Their most recent pastor, Reverend Charles A. Lundy, was called to the pulpit to lead the church and has done so righteously since June 23, 1990. Under Reverend Lundy’s leadership, Ebenezer Baptist Church has flourished and its membership has expanded from 120 members to more than 800 today. To accommodate this growing church family, weekly worship at Ebenezer Baptist Church has been relocated to Telegraph Road. Ebenezer Baptist Church has been and remains a monumental, historical, and spiritual structure in our community.

Madam Speaker, I ask that my colleagues join me in celebrating the 136th anniversary of Ebenezer Baptist Church and in thanking the church and congregation for their contributions to our community.

HONORING THE LIFE OF GEORGE WILLIAM “BILLY” ELLIS

HON. GERALD E. CONNOLLY
OF VIRGINIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. CONNOLLY. Madam Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to the life of George William “Billy” Ellis, former Chief of the Vienna Volunteer Fire Department. Chief Ellis recently passed away at the age of 81 following a brief illness, surrounded by his friends and loved ones.

My congressional district includes the town of Vienna, Virginia, a vibrant and active community of 16,000 residents. In 2013, Money Magazine ranked it the third best place to live in the nation. If you were to ask the residents of Vienna, they would unanimously say that it should have taken first place.

There are many reasons why residents of Vienna take such pride in their town—the annual town festivals and concerts, the incredible

Vienna Youth sports program, the outstanding schools and services, and even a local restaurant that serves the best chili dogs. Perhaps the most important reasons are the community spirit that is so prevalent, and the willingness of the residents to work together for the betterment of all. This next course includes the men and women who protect the town as members of law enforcement and the Vienna Volunteer Fire Department.

Chief Ellis joined the Vienna Volunteer Department at the age of 18. For more than 50 years, he epitomized the spirit of volunteerism, devoting his time and energy to serving his community. In 1980, he became the chief of the department, a position he held until 2001 when he and his wife, Joan, decided to move to Culpepper County where he lived up until his passing. But even a move to a quieter community couldn’t keep Chief Ellis away from a fire station. Following the move, he quickly joined the Salem Volunteer Fire Department and spent many more years driving apparatus to emergencies. Serving others was in his DNA.

Chief Ellis was preceded in death by a son, Charles, He leaves behind a wife of 58 years, Joan Scott Ellis, his sons David (Jennifer) and Robert (Lori), his daughter Jennifer, and his four grandchildren, Alison, Jacob, Ashley and Hunter. He also leaves behind an incredible legacy of charity, commitment and dedication in a community that will be indebted to this great man for years to come.

Madam Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in commending the selfless dedication and commitment to serve of Chief George William “Billy” Ellis, and in extending my deepest condolences to his family. May you rest in peace, Chief Ellis.

Mr. SAN NICOLAS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize Guam’s Autism Community Together (ACT) as they celebrate their 12th annual Autism Awareness Fair, appropriately themed “Get Your Blue on Guam, Support Autism.” During Autism Awareness Month, ACT and organizations across the country work together to provide every individual with autism spectrum disorder with the opportunity to achieve the highest possible quality of life.

This year, ACT and their partners want to do more than just promote autism awareness. They want to motivate friends and collaborators to become active partners in the movement towards acceptance and appreciation. As the father of an autistic child, I am aware of the impact that autism has on parents, family, and friends. It is imperative that the whole community becomes involved. Although much has been accomplished, much more remains to be done to raise worldwide awareness of these issues.

ACT is an organization based in Guam as a support group for families with autistic children. It is one of Guam’s principal organizations leading the efforts to increase autism awareness across our community. ACT is dedicated to helping individuals and parents find resources, support, and training while making diligent efforts to increase the awareness of autism spectrum disorders. ACT advocates for effective services to meet the unique needs of individuals with autism and their families.

Madam Speaker, I further commend Autism Community Together as it continues to host the 12th Annual Autism Awareness Fair World Autism Day. The Autism Awareness Fair is the largest event hosted by ACT throughout the year and brings together government agencies, non-profit organizations, service providers, and support vendors with the intent to provide information and resources on the various disability-related programs and services available on Guam. Madam Speaker, on behalf of the people of Guam, I thank Guam’s Autism Community Together and all government agencies and community partners for their assistance in spreading autism awareness and acceptance. I look forward to future contributions by Autism Community Together to provide more opportunities for those in community living with autism.

CONGRATULATING THE ELECTED OFFICERS OF THE FAIRFAX COUNTY FEDERATION OF CITIZENS ASSOCIATIONS

HON. GERALD E. CONNOLLY
OF VIRGINIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. CONNOLLY. Madam Speaker, I rise to recognize the Fairfax County Federation of Citizens Associations (the “Federation”) and to congratulate its recently elected officers who will serve in leadership positions for the 2018–2019 term.

Founded in 1940 and re-incorporated in 1995, the Federation is a coalition of civic and homeowners associations who work together to promote and support initiatives that will benefit the community as a whole. The Federation realized early in its existence that by joining with other civic and homeowners associations from every corner of the county and speaking with one unified voice, its influence and contributions would be far more powerful and effective.

The Federation is comprised of thousands of volunteers who actively participate in matters of local and state government that impact their communities. Individual members serve on countless task forces, boards and commissions to help preserve the quality of life that is enjoyed by all who call Fairfax County home. As a former two-term President of the Federation, I understand that those who volunteer their time, energies, and talents to civic activities play a vital role in making Fairfax County one of the best places in the nation in which to live, work, and raise a family.

The Federation would not be nearly as successful and effective without the leadership of its officers. It is my great honor to include in the Record the names of the following newly elected Federation officers:

President: William S. Barfield. Bill resides in the Braddock District and has an extensive history of civic engagement including serving as President of the Country Club View Civic Association, Chairman of the Braddock District Council of Community Associations, founding member and vice-chair of the Braddock District Land Use and Environmental Committee, and 2nd Vice President of the Federation.

First Vice President: Matt Dunne. Matt and his family live in the Mount Vernon District. He is active in the Stratford Landing Citizens Association as well as serves as the Educational Liaison to the Mount Vernon Council of Citizens’ Associations.

Second Vice President: Alejandro Mattiuzzo. Alejandro and his wife live in the Mason District and he is an accounting professional by trade. He has served as Treasurer for the Federation and is committed to using his skills to best suit the mission of the organization.

Treasurer: Leslie Braun. Leslie resides in the Sully District and has served on the Franklin Farm Community Association Board and the Foxfield Community Association Board. In addition, Leslie served for more than two years as Treasurer of the Northern Virginia Section of the American Society of Quality.

Recording Secretary: Flint Webb. Flint resides in the Providence District and is a member of the Dunn Loring Gardens Civic Association. In 2011, he received the Providence District Council’s Community Service Award. In addition, he has served as Chair and Co-chair of the Environmental Committee of the Federation and has represented it on the Metropolitan Washington Air Quality Committee Technical Advisory Committee.

Corresponding Secretary: Erica Yalowitz. Erica resides in the Providence District and serves on the board and various other committees of the Rotunda Condominium Association where she is currently Vice-President of the Providence District Council and a member of the Emerging Leaders Council of the Tysons Partnership.

Madam Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in thanking all of the individual members of the Fairfax Federation of Civic Association and in congratulating the 2018–2019 officers on their efforts on behalf of the community. I commend them for their efforts on behalf of the community and wish them continued success.

RECOGNIZING THE 30TH ANNIVERSARY OF ANTIOTCH BAPTIST CHURCH

HON. GERALD E. CONNOLLY
OF VIRGINIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. CONNOLLY. Madam Speaker, I rise to recognize Pastor Marshall L. Ausberry and the congregation of Antioch Baptist Church on the occasion of their 30th anniversary.

Founded on January 8, 1989 by Pastor John Q. Gibbs, Antioch Baptist Church has been a thriving member of the Fairfax County community. Pastor Gibbs was responsible for many of the significant milestones in the church’s history, including the purchase of the land where the current building now stands, as well as the construction of the building that would become the new and expanded sanctuary.

Just as the physical presence of Antioch Baptist Church has expanded over time, so too has their presence in the community. The congregation provides witness to their faith through a variety of missions, including programs assisting the homeless population, the elderly, those suffering from illness and those who are incarcerated. The congregation has also participated in international relief efforts, such as the aftermath of the devastating earthquake in Haiti in 2010.

As someone who attended seminary and seriously considered entering the Catholic priesthood, I can attest that being called to ministry is a special responsibility. The burdens and rewards that are represented by this calling are neither widely understood nor appreciated, but they are uniquely enriching.

I have often found a pastoral aspect to my constituent service work as a Member of Congress and I trust that Antioch Baptist will continue to be a pastoral force in the community for many years and decades to come. I am confident that Antioch Baptist Church will continue to prosper and provide the community with the spiritual guidance so needed in today’s complex world. Their dedication to ministry and to their faith is to be commended, and I thank them for their dedication to their congregation and our community.

On behalf of the 11th Congressional District, I again congratulate Pastor Ausberry and the entire congregation on this momentous anniversary. I ask my colleagues to please join me in offering their congratulations to in wishing Antioch Baptist Church continued success in all their future endeavors.

RECOGNIZING NACHA—THE ELECTRONIC PAYMENTS ASSOCIATION, ONE OF THE 2019 BEST PLACES TO WORK IN VIRGINIA

HON. GERALD E. CONNOLLY
OF VIRGINIA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Wednesday, March 6, 2019

Mr. CONNOLLY. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the nominees for the 2018–2019 Prince William County Public Schools Principal of the Year Award. Principals who meet the criteria for the award are those who effectively manage, demonstrate, and encourage creativity and innovation, foster cooperation between the school and community by maintaining an open dialogue with students, parents, faculty, and staff, and exemplify commitment to providing a quality education for all students to learn and develop. The selected winner will be named the Prince William County Principal of the Year.

As the second largest school division in the Commonwealth of Virginia, Prince William County Public Schools educates 90,000 students in ninety-eight schools. The efficiency and impact of these teachers is apparent as PWCS ranked the highest in the entire state with their on-time graduation rate.

I extend my personal congratulations to the following nominees for the 2018–2019 Prince William County Public Schools Principal of the Year Award: Neil Beech, Osbourn Park High School; Mary Jane Boynton, Parkside Middle School; Hamish Brewer, Fred Lynn Middle School; Kathryn Forgas, Coles Elementary School; Latesha Green, Potomac View Elementary School; Sheila Huckenstein, Saunders Middle School; Richard Nichols, Stonewall Jackson High School; Jennifer Perilla, Tyler Elementary School; Amy Schott, Rockledge Elementary School; Jennifer Perilla, Tyler Elementary School; Amy Schott, Rockledge Elementary School; Aerica Williams, River Oaks Elementary School.

Madam Speaker, I ask that my colleagues join me in commending the nominees for 2018–2019 Prince William County Public Schools Principal of the Year Award and in thanking them for their dedication and leadership to the students, teachers, and faculty to ensure a bright future for all who pass through the doors of their schools. Their continued service is truly commendable and worthy of our highest praise, and their efforts ensure that our Prince William County students are provided a world-class education in a vibrant learning community.
CONGRESSIONAL RECORD — Extensions of Remarks

Mr. CONNOLLY. Madam Speaker, I rise to recognize the recipients of the 2019 Prince William County Human Rights Commission Awards.

The Prince William Board of County Supervisors (BOCS) implemented the Human Rights Ordinance January 15, 1993, formally establishing the Human Rights Commission. Two years prior, the BOCS formed the Human Rights Study Committee to explore the needs of a community that was growing in population and diversity. An exhaustive effort that included numerous committee meetings and public hearings identified a strong community desire for a human rights ordinance and an agency to enforce it. The Human Rights Ordinance prohibits discriminatory practices based on race, color, sex, national origin, religion, marital status, or disability, as well as in the consideration of employment, housing, public accommodations, education, and credit, in Prince William County.

The BOCS approved the ordinance in September 1992 to ensure that “each citizen is treated fairly, provided equal protection of the law, and equal opportunity to participate in the benefits, rights, and privileges of community life.” Residents enlist the services of the commission if they feel their rights have been violated in the areas of employment, fair housing, credit, education and public accommodation.

In celebration of Universal Human Rights Day, the Human Rights Commission recognizes individuals and organizations that promote the principles of human rights in Prince William County. It is my honor to include in the RECORD the recipients of the 2019 Prince William County Human Rights Commission Awards: Phyllis Aggrey, John Harper, The National Coalition of 100 Black Women—Prince William County Chapter, Potomac Health Foundation, Graham Park Middle School, Minnieville Elementary School’s Family Engagement Team.

Madam Speaker, I ask that my colleagues join me in commending the recipients of the 2019 Prince William County Human Rights Commission Awards. We owe a deep debt of gratitude to these honorees for their efforts to safeguard our most basic rights and remind us of our common humanity. Let us use their example to rededicate ourselves to the fight against inequity and injustice.

SENATE COMMITTEE MEETINGS

Title IV of Senate Resolution 4, agreed to by the Senate of February 4, 1977, calls for establishment of a system for a computerized schedule of all meetings and hearings of Senate committees, subcommittees, joint committees, and committees of conference.
